WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders reportedly favor a post-Labor Day nominating convention in 1968 to shorten the campaign in which President Johnson is expected to seek reelection.

Kelley Replies to Governor

Says Call for Probe Is Politically Motivated

By WILLIAM HEATH Associated Press Writer
LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley accused Gov. George Romney Wednesday of seeking a grand jury probe of the State Highway Department for "personal, political considerations."

Kelley issued a 12-page statement in which he charged that Romney's request for a grand jury investigation "was motivated solely by personal, political considerations arising out of an attack by the Chicago Tribune on his presidential ambitions."

The statement comprised the latest round in a week-old furor which saw Republican Romney and Democrat Kelley exchange charges Wednesday as to what the other had or had not done in seeking to clear up allegations of wrongdoing in the highway department.

SCHEDULED TO MEET

They were scheduled to meet today in an effort to resolve their differences over the investigation.

The meeting was set for 4:30 p.m.

Romney charged Wednesday that Kelley "sat on his hands" when asked to investigate the department, Romney said he repeatedly asked for probes of over-payments and other irregularities in the department in 1963.

The controversy grew out of a request by Sen. Steve High for Commission last Thursday that Romney take steps to cause a grand jury investigation of the department.

The commission asked Romney to support its efforts to clarify allegations of wrongdoing and that they occurred before the present commissioners took office in 1965.

Romney supported the commission request, saying it should be made clear that nothing has impugned the character and integrity of the present commission.

Ford Dealers in Sales Pinch

UAW Studies Offers on Apprenticeships

DETROIT (AP) — Feeling the pinch of a United Auto Workers' strike against their supplier, some Ford dealers are seeking bigger profits on 1968 left in their dwindling inventories.

A check of dealers in half a dozen cities around the country did not turn up anyone who was asking more than the sticker price.

A check of Ford dealers in several cities showed some were clearing showrooms and heading up efforts in the used car field.

But some dealers say they have only a one-way supply, and Chrysler later will be last up to two months, at current selling rates.

The strike by 160,000 UAW members began Sept. 7 when the old three-year contract expired at Ford, General Motors and Chrysler. Today is the 28th day of the strike keeping Ford from producing cars.

GM, CHRYSLER LATER

Only Ford was struck in an attempt to win a settlement GM and Chrysler later will be asked to match or better.

There was some movement, but only a little, in yesterday's bargaining at Ford. Both sides said no settlement was developing.

Ford put forward proposals in response to a union demand for changes in the apprenticeship program — the first time Ford had responded directly to union proposals since Aug. 29.

On Aug. 29, Ford made its economic counteroffer, the only other proposal in direct regard to the union demands. The union rejected it as inadequate.

OFFERS STUDIED

"It is the first movement we have gotten," said UAW President Walter P. Reuther of the apprenticeship proposals. Talks lasted only briefly Wednesday and recessed so the UAW could study Ford's apprenticeship program offers.

The union and Ford plan to meet a government request that Ford supply truck parts "in view of the situation in Vietnam."

A plea for parts came Wednesday from American Motors Corp., which buys from Ford.

Ken Bannon, UAW Ford Department director, said the union would keep plants running needed to supply parts to AMC.

Fines, Jail in Meat Case

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Heavy fines and jail terms have been handed down in the west Michigan meat scandal of last year.

Circuit Judge John T. Letts and John H. Vanderwall today sentenced 15 individuals and companies who had been indicted by a one-man grand jury investigating alleged sale and transportation of unwholesome meat and meat products in violation of state laws.

Roy Cooper, 62, of Rockford, operator of a tankage firm, was sentenced to from 18 months to 5 years in prison. William Peterman, 33, of Rockford, a Cooper employee, was fined $250 and ordered to pay costs of $100.

John G. Rausser Jr., 33, of Grand Rapids, was sentenced to from 1 to 5 years in prison. His firm, Rausser Quality Meat Products, was fined $1,000 and ordered to pay costs of $250.

Gerhard Ritsma, 31, of Holland; Wayne Arendsen, 38, of Rockford; and Jay Zandbergen, 42, of Grand Rapids, all were sentenced to 6 months in the county jail and fined $500 each plus $250 costs.

To Decide Rights Unit's Power

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court has agreed to rule on whether the State Civil Rights Commission has the power to outlaw racial discrimination in the sale of private housing.

Gov. George Romney in August asked the court to take over consideration of an Oakland County Circuit Court case involving whether bias in housing transactions is legal.

The court granted Romney's request and took jurisdiction over the case, but only, it said, to rule on this question:

"Is the Civil Rights Commission possessed of jurisdiction, absent enabling legislation, to entertain complaints of discrimination because of religion,

Talks Set on Message of Riots to Suburbs

BIRMINGHAM — Top speakers, including Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman of the New Detroit Committee, are scheduled for a series of five community meetings at the Birmingham Community House beginning Oct. 18.

"What the Inner-City Riots Are Saying to the Suburbs," is the theme of the meetings.

Birmingham-Bloomfield Council on Human Relations is sponsoring the weekly meetings. The group has come out in favor of the open occupancy legislation stand taken by the New Detroit Committee.

It is undoubtedly will be one of the major points of discussion during the meetings.

"The meetings will be open for discussion, and we are not trying to brainwash anybody on open housing," said council chairman William King.

According to King, the series will cover different aspects of today's crisis in race relations, topped by the destructive Detroit riots this summer. Each speaker will discuss the riots from his own viewpoint and experience, he added.

Speakers scheduled to appear are: Rev. Robert Potts, executive director of the Citizens Committee for Equal Opportunity, Oct. 18; Joseph L. Hudson Jr., Oct. 25; Ray Ferrier, director of Adult Education for the Detroit Public Schools, Nov. 2; Dr. John Dorsey, Wayne State University professor and former chairman of the Department of Psychiatry, Nov. 8, and a fifth speaker yet to be named for Nov. 16.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Paintings and sculpture of Michigan artist Robert B. Sibbison are on exhibit this month at the Unitarian Church, 651 Woodward.

The exhibit is open Sundays during worship hours and by appointment during the week. Sibbison is studying toward his Fine Arts Masters at Cranbrook Academy of Art. He has had many one-man shows, and recently his work was on display at the Detroit Institute of Arts' Michigan Artists Exhibition.

Kellogg Speaks to the 'Enemy'

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

WOLVERINE LAKE — Walled Lake's Mayor Wendell J. Kellogg Jr. strolled into the "enemy" camp last night as he met with village residents to explain the virtues of a projected "City of Lake-Lake Hills."

"There will be more efficiency and more services at a lower cost if the areas are combined," asserted the mayor.

Applause came from about a third of the some 275-person audience of mostly village residents.

Other in the Walled Lake High School gym last night just listened to the mayor talk about his city's annexation plans, finances, sewer and water programs. The mayor appeared on invitation from the village citizens committee.

WEEK BEFORE

The week before, the committee chairman and chief village administrator, Clifford Cottrell, gave a sales talk on the village's incorporation plans, finances, sewer and water programs.

The exchange of information before residents was prompted by the overlapping plans each municipality has for its own growth.

Petitions signed by residents of the village and parts of Commerce Township to the north and northeast of the city propose annexation to Walled Lake.

Counter petitions circulated by the village citizens committee propose incorporation for the village and parts of the township to the north and west of the village. Some portions of the township are the same included on Walled Lake's annexation petitions.

FILED WITH CLERK

The annexation petitions have been accepted by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Boundaries Committee. The incorporation petitions were filed with the county clerk Monday.

The public hearing on the annexation issue is set for Oct. 12 and will be conducted by the boundaries committee.

The mayor last night aired the possibility of calling the combined city and annexed Village-Township area Lake-Lake Hills — and with an initial tax levy of 7½ mills.

Perhaps the second year the millage could be reduced to six mills, Kellogg added.

PRESENT EVALUATION

He explained that this projected tax is based on the present assessed evaluation of the area.

Although Kellogg admitted that he didn't know of any instances when taxes were reduced after annexation, he assured, "It is realistic to anticipate a decrease."

City residents are now assessed 10.5 mills and village residents 11.88 mills including 1.38 mills to the township and 2 mills to the county for roads, said Kellogg.

"Just because annexation would triple the size of the city, services don't have to increase three times," said Kellogg. He stressed that combining the surrounding areas would increase government efficiency and decrease government duplication.

Cottrell last week had reported:

On the present tax basis, "If the village is annexed, residents will pay more taxes."

The future Walled Lake sewer program was another point of difference. Cottrell has said that the city program has no extra taps and couldn't even provide sufficiently for its own residents.

Cottrell said that "if the city wanted to add other service areas, it would have to renegotiate the contract."

Walled Lake Attorney Howard I. Bond reported last night that the city — working with the village of Novi in the sewer program — is limited to 400 taps, but can use these taps outside of the present city boundaries.

Kellogg further stated that the future sewer system "covers everyone presently located in the city."

In response to strong concern from village residents, Kellogg said he believed the city has "a plan to assure that only those people within the present city limits will pay for this sewer program."

RENEGOTIATION

The city officials did agree that the contract would have to be renegotiated to allow for additional taps.

The water system has become an other base for comparison of the two municipalities.

Kellogg explained that the planned operation of city wells would amount to "twice the anticipated (water) requirement of the present city."

The city is expecting to sell bonds shortly for the water system, said City Manager Royce Downey. The sale is awaiting the completion of engineering for the Novi part of the sewer system.

Kellogg explained that the city will be installing water concurrently with the sewers, for practical and economic reasons.

Walled Lake's presentation included an array of about a dozen charts, mimeographed copies of Kellogg's talk, and the promise to send transcripts of answers to questions to residents who had made signed inquiries.

The rate hike will not be felt by the large users until they get their bills after Jan. 1, but the rate will be for all water used since Oct. 1 of this year.

Industrial users will qualify the hike.

Water Board Supt. George Crombe said that the reason for the hike is a 15 per cent rate increase by Detroit for water supplied to the township. This rate will also be for all water used after Oct. 1, he said.

"We spread the Detroit increase out by charging the larger users a 20 per cent hike and the smaller users none," said Crombe.

Previously the township had paid the same rate as areas closer to Detroit such as Warren or Sterling Township, he added.

The board has met a second time with Fire Chief Clyde Schmidt and again refused to go along with his personal salary request of $12,000.

Schmidt said that the board essentially offered him the same package as it had at a meeting Monday night — $11,200 retroactive to July 1.

Schmidt had no comment.

In other recent action the board has accepted Ulice Dodge's bid for three new police cars at about $2,500 apiece to replace the present ones.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board recently denied a rezoning request for apartments on five acres of Lot 6 of Supervisors Plat No. 8 on Eight Mile.

Also at the board meeting, the hiring of four police officers was approved. The new officers are Charles Archambeau, Phillip Schulz, William Hoelt and John Jay Williams.

The police department will be hiring one more officer within the next week, said Chief Irving Yakes.

The board also approved the Elks turkey shoot Nov. 12 at Eight Mile and Tuck roads. However, targets, not turkeys, will get shot, a township official pointed out.

Clarkston Man to Fill School Board Vacancy

CLARKSTON — President R. A. Weber of Clarkston Board of Education has announced the appointment of Fernando Sanchez, 43, of 5173 Sasahaw to fill a board vacancy.

He replaces Melvin Pohikotte who resigned due to a transfer in job. Pohikotte was reelected for his second term last June.

Sanchez will serve until the next regular election in June 1968. He is an employee of Pontiac Motor Division.

Fire Fighters Plan Parade, Display in Farmington

FARMINGTON — The Farmington fire fighters are promising about 40 fire engines dating back to 1851 for Saturday's parade.

The event is Farmington's observance of Fire Prevention Week starting Sunday.

The parade, including both antique and modern fire equipment, about 10 floats, bands and clowns, begins at noon on Money Street and Grand River.

It will end at the City Hall where, at 2 p.m., government officials will speak and award parade trophies. Congressman Jack McDonald, R-19th District, will be appearing, said Sgt. Jay Harrison, Farmington fire marshal.

At 2:30 p.m. the fire and police department will demonstrate fire-fighting techniques south of the City Hall. Afterwards, the fire equipment will be on display until 6:30 p.m.

The departments will hold open house from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

30 COMMUNITIES

Harrison expects about 30 communities to be represented. This is the fifth consecutive year for Farmington's Fire Prevention Week parade.

PARADE PREPARATION — The 100-pound lotem pole will stand on the Farmington Historical Society's float in the Farmington Fire Prevention Week parade Saturday. Adding finishing touches are (from left) Mrs. Robert Kostuck and Mrs. George Checketts of the society and Sgt. Jay Harrison, who has organized the parade.

Commerce Official Keeps Eye on Annexation Moves

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — How does a government official feel when some of his municipality has a good chance of disappearing?

He at least wants to make sure the legally required number of signatures of his residents are on the petitions proposing the new boundaries.

Robert H. Long, Commerce Township supervisor, recently tried to assure this requirement when he voiced the only dissenting vote of the boundaries committee acceptance of petitions requesting annexation of parts of the township to Walled Lake.

As a member of the five-man boundaries committee, Long will be considering still other petitions filed Monday and proposing incorporation of other and same parts of the township with Wolverine Lake Village.

Both neighbors want chunks of township lands.

AT LATER DATE

Although the petitions for annexation now have at least 10 township resident signatures, the original petitions were lacking the signatures, Long stated.

The supervisor explained that he is questioning Walled Lake's right to make the township signatures part of the original petitions, but at a later date.

Long strongly advocates the incorporation of the whole area, including the rest of the township, into one city. He further has expressed his opposition to a "cut up" township.

"Each city wants its own industrial, business and residential areas," said Long.

He said he believes a better living environment can be provided best by a large city with large sections.

He brought out that the village incorporation plans include making an industrial area of some township land near the railroad tracks.

In Walled Lake's possible future is a new downtown area east of Pontiac Trail between 14 Mile and 15 Mile.

Better services at lower costs are other advantages of one incorporated area, Long said. Also, larger areas can be more self-sufficient, said the supervisor.

MASTER PLAN

Long reported that the Township Planning Commission has spent $10,000 to secure a master plan for the township. Draker Associates, Birmingham, has been working with the commission since last April.

Questionnaires will be sent to residents asking how they envision the future of the township.

After consideration of these comments, the commission will complete the master plan, said Long, who has been supervisor since last May.

He added that the Township Planning Commission was formed March 1966 for the purpose of drawing up a comprehensive plan for the township's future.

Two LEADERS — Wolverine Lake Village Manager Clifford Cottrell (left) and Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey are spearheading opposing plans for the future growth of each municipality. They heard the Walled Lake mayor last night as he presented the city's possible future.

City Needs Equitable Housing Laws

Increasingly, "Open Housing" has become a local issue calling for resolution.

The Constitution, it is true, implicitly guarantees the rights and privileges for which American Negroes have campaigned during the past 15 years—school desegregation, admission to public facilities, unfettered exercise of the ballot—but their gains in these areas of citizenship were limited until spelled out by explicit legislation. Open Housing legislation now assumes priority for the racial minority.

Open Housing laws and ordinances have been passed or are under consideration in many states and urban centers. It behooves Pontiac to trail in this sector of social progress.

We believe the issue has hung in suspension long enough and that the City Commission should pass forth with an equitable Open Housing ordinance.

Children Grade Up to Expectations

Nothing compares with the power of positive thinking — except negative thinking.

A study conducted in a California school has disclosed that if teacher expectancy of a pupil's intellectual growth is raised, "startling improvements can be achieved in pupil I.Q." reports the National Education Association.

On the other hand and on the other side of the Country, in New Jersey, another study has found that students who fail have teachers who think they are dumber than I.Q. tests indicate them to be.

In the California study, teachers were deliberately misled to believe that about 20 per cent of the children in their classes had revealed "unusual" potential in a special test. Eight months later, these "unusual" children, who had actually been selected at random, showed significantly higher gains than the kids who hadn't been selected — nearly 25 I.Q. points in one first-grade class.

By contrast, the New Jersey study found that very little was expected of the failures — by their teachers, their parents and themselves. It was also noted that the school had discouraged parent participation in the education of the failures and that four-fifths of them had a record of health deficiencies, including poor vision, bad teeth and excessive weight.

The worst thing that can be done to a child is to saddle him early in life with the conviction that he's under par. Excessive pressure to perform is not a good thing either, and heaven knows there is enough pressure in — and on — schools today. Pushing children toward goals beyond their capabilities can work actual harm.

But an attitude and an atmosphere of great expectations, at home and in school, can apparently work wonders.

'Tower To 365: Your Guess Is As Good As Mine!'

Bobby's Ghetto Plan Is Realistic

WASHINGTON — Senators are often classified as "liberals" or "conservatives" or "moderates," but such generalizations become meaningless as viewpoints vary with the issues from day to day.

Thus, it may be debated at length in just what category Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., should be placed.

His latest speech, however, about how to encourage business to make investments in the "ghetto" areas is of a realistic and practical nature. It came just a few days after President Johnson's announcement of a test plan for the creation of jobs in areas of greatest unemployment.

Kennedy went further, and declared that business must have incentives.

The New York senator has introduced legislation which is cosponsored by Sens. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., and James B. Pearson, R-Kan. These bills would provide tax credits, accelerated depreciation and other deductions for firms which "locate new industry in or near areas of high unemployment, and create 20 or more jobs," to be filled mostly by residents of the area. Similar benefits would be offered to companies constructing low-income housing in "ghetto" communities.

SIGNIFICANT FACTS

As the subject is studied intensively, the significant facts are plainly revealed. During the last seven years, for instance, as Sen. Kennedy points out, the percentage of adult men from "ghettos" in the labor force dropped by 9 per cent, while the rest of the nation showed hardly any decline.

Meantime, the rise in family income has bypassed the slums.

Negroes not only constitute a large proportion of the population of cities today but have a higher rate of unemployment than whites.

President Johnson's plan for job-training programs and loans to be made through the Small Business Administration is endorsed by the New York senator, but he declares that "we still need to devise a system on which a businessman can rely and plan — not just in this year of crisis but in the years ahead."

CONGESTED SECTIONS

Most American cities have lost many of their middle-income inhabitants not merely because of the unsatisfactory social conditions but because the residential sections become congested.

Traffic difficulties in the cities are one of the factors that has prevented business expansion. Small plants which cannot get their supplies and materials delivered and unloaded without long delays hesitate to locate in the cities.

Sooner or later municipal governments will have to do more than ever before to separate industrial from residential sections, build throughways, improve transportation facilities and encourage large as well as small businesses to take advantage of locations made more accessible than heretofore.

Bob Considine Says:

East Africa Can't Miss as Next 'In' Spot to Visit

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania — East Africa hardly can miss being the next "in" place to visit. For the jaded tourist who has escalated from name - dropping to place-dropping it is here with high recommendation.

Tanzania, a nation distilled from Tanganyika and Zanzibar, offers the tourist in search of something new a dizzying assortment of sights and experiences as old as man. Older, in fact.

Nutcracker Man (Zinjathropus boisei) was unearthed in Olduvai Gorge. He would have been 1.75 million years old if he had lived. And unquestionably have voted for President Julius Nyerere.

The tourist who beats his way to a place like this will have an easier time than Hemingway and Ruark did, let's say, and more creature comforts than their predecessors, Livingstone and Stanley.

The roads to some of the enchanting wonders of Tanzania may well have been laid out by Natty himself. But at day's end the dust - caked and bone-chattering tourist can mull over the day's sights and sounds in some of the most delightfully civilized hotels, camps and lodges to be found on the continent.

Whatever and wherever, these lands have good plumbing, clean sheets, good bars, excellent food, cheerful service, reasonable rates, and water you can drink without trepidation.

Assembling these goodies in a land where you can still be devoured by a leopard or reduced a size or two by a boa constrictor or rammed by an elephant took extraordinary ingenuity, patience and dough.

Much more of same is going to be poured on Tanzania because the day is not too distant when TWA, BOAC, Air India, Sabena and the other carriers which have staked out routes to Dar will be coming in here with their Boeing 747's — each carrying somewhere between 400 and 500 passengers.

There will always be enough scenery to take care of the mob which sooner or later will discover this part of the world.

Soviets Use War to Gain Trade

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Soviet salesmen, with Premier Kosygin in the lead, are working overtime to use the Israeli - Arab war and its aftermath of hate, fear and distrust in an attempt to wrest profitable trade deals from a number of countries in Western Europe and Asia.

In their proposals, the Russians play upon the fears of these customer countries that in future crises their oil or other essential supplies could be endangered if they depend too heavily upon Mideast Arab sources or on the Suez Canal being open.

Note that Moscow, after secretly baiting the Arabs into war by telling Nasser's men that Israel was planning to attack Syria, are taking advantage of the Arab defeat to steal customers from the Arabs.

Voice of the People:

'Disagree With Editorial on Small Craft Control'

As an ex-sailor on the ocean and the Great Lakes, and having been associated with small craft seamanship as long as I can remember, I was shocked by the severity of your editorial regarding all small craft. Because seven fishermen drowned, you advocate absolute control of the movements of all small craft by the U.S. Coast Guard. We already have enough unenforceable laws.

Why didn't you advocate tough laws when the S.S. Carl D. Bradley was lost and the lives of 33 men? Or when the S.S. Daniel J. Morrell was sunk with the loss of 29 men? Neither ship should have been where it was with the weather information available. These ships are inspected by the U.S. Coast Guard at the beginning of each season, according to law. Were they seaworthy?

The real need is not more laws but a system of education for owners of small craft. Let's not chastise all boaters because of the ignorance of a few, nor all steamship lines because their ship captain may have made a wrong decision.

We at Division Printing, an avid group of nonsectarian sports fans, are wondering if we have lost our minds. As regards the "Black Monday" list in The Press, what in the world have Purdue and Notre Dame got to do with the four disheartening losses of our Michigan teams?

Why not the results of the Skyknight, Washington, school team? We view it as just about as important.

Question and Answer

Every time a different five-cent stamp is issued by the Post Office, how much does it cost to have the design changed? How often is this done? What's the purpose of this unnecessary expense? What is the total cost of this operation?

TAX CONSCIOUS

REPLY

The cost of preparing the master die and roll and printing plate is about $5,500 for each design. Approximately 15 commemorative stamps are issued each year. The stamps are issued to focus attention on historical places, events or persons, and widespread use is encouraged so our ideals, progress and heritage are carried throughout the world. Many commemorative stamps are bought by collectors who don't use them for postage, bringing additional revenue. During 1966, the Department issued 23.5 billion postage stamps at a cost of $9 million; the selling value of those stamps is over a billion dollars, according to George King, assistant director of philately of the Post Office Department.

Pioneer Physicist Honored by Call of Fame

The electronics industry is putting Hertz in the seat of honor.

A leading manufacturer of depth sounders, radio-telephones, radars and related products, has announced it will no longer use the traditional designations based on "cycles." Instead, it will adopt the new standard nomenclature in which a cycle becomes a hertz, a kilocycle (1,000 cycles) a kilohertz, a megacycle (a million cycles) a megahertz and a gigacycle (a billion cycles) a gigahertz.

The values remain the same. Only the name has been changed to honor the German physicist Heinrich Rudolf Hertz, whose discovery of electro-magnetic waves 80 years ago set the stage for the development of radio, television and radar.

Hertz joins a select company of pioneer scientists whose names are used as electrical and electronic terms, including: ampere, joule, maxwell, ohm, volt(ia) and watt.

Key Viet Issue: U.S. Security

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — In his explanation to the nation about the war in Vietnam, President Johnson put great emphasis on one point which for a while did not get much attention.

This was it: the basic reason for American involvement in the war is defense of this country's national security, or put more simply, to stiff-arm communism so it can't eventually endanger the United States itself.

Most of the arguments so far have skipped over this key question about American involvement and, instead, have taken several different directions such as these: that American bombing should be intensified, slowed down or stopped.

"But," Johnson said in his talk last Friday night, "the key to all we have done is our own security." And he quoted former President Dwight D. Eisenhower as saying the loss of South Vietnam "would have great consequences for us."

Johnson settled nothing, as the Senate showed when it exploded in long debate Tuesday. Much of it was along the same old lines on bombing, but Johnson's point got some attention without changing his critics' minds.

UNWAVERING DEFENDER First Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader of the Senate and an unwavering defender of Johnson's policies, in a dramatic, arm-waving speech, told the Senate defense of South Vietnam is essential to American security.

If Vietnam falls, he said, the shadow of communism will hang over all Asia and "then the whole Pacific coastline of the United States is exposed."

Up jumped Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, a Democrat and one of Johnson's most constant critics. "I don't agree at all," Fulbright said. The security of this country, he said, lies at home and elsewhere.

And he argued that continuing the war will weaken the United States at home and lessen its ability to defend its own security.

SQUAD-SCUFFLE

The Senate broke up Tuesday into the usual squad-scuffle in which it debated bombing and, as usual, got into an argument on various reservations about the bombing.

For example: Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., proposed that the United States should go beyond a mere halt in bombing North Vietnam and suspend all military operations in both North and South on a fixed date.

Then, he contended, if the Communists did not respond with similar action and an offer to talk, this country would be free to "pursue this war in any manner of its own choosing."

Then Fulbright backed Symington's call for a stop in all American military action on a fixed date but disagreed with the second part of his proposal.

OPPOSING STAND

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, assistant leader of the Senate Republicans took a stand completely opposite that of Symington and Fulbright.

He opposed any one-sided halt by the United States that would leave the North Vietnamese free to hustle to improve their military position at the expense of the standard Americans.

About all this accomplished was to take up most of the Senate's day.

New GI Bill Expands Widow, Children Benefits

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press News Features

WASHINGTON — The new GI bill that went into effect Oct. 1 provides bigger benefits for over one million widows and children on the Veterans Administration's pension rolls and makes a large number of others eligible.

My mail is running heavy with questions asking what the bill means to these women and children, so let's take a closer look than the brief one I gave this in an earlier column.

The rates remain the same, however, for the nearly 37,000 widows of men who died of service-connected causes and who are receiving dependency or indemnity compensation. That's $120 plus 12 per cent of the current monthly base pay for the rank and service of her husband.

BAULCH

One of the big rule changes in the new law was to reduce from five years to one year the time a widow must have been married to a veteran to be eligible for a pension. And she may even qualify sooner if a child was born to the couple either before or during the first year.

Another big change was to make widows of veterans who served in Vietnam eligible for pensions based on need. These are widows of veterans who survived military service but later died for reasons not related to service.

RATE RISES

The monthly rate for pensions based on need goes up $6 to $70 for widows whose annual income is below $600, up $3 to $51 for those with incomes between $600 and $1,200 and up $2 to $29 for those with incomes between $1,200 and $1,800.

The $16 monthly rate for each child in the custody of a widow is raised to $17.

The rate for a veteran's children, where there is no widow, goes up $2 a month to $40 for one child and up $1 to $16 for each additional child. This generally ends at age 18 unless the child goes on to a VA approved school.

Eligibility age for the War Orphan's Educational Assistance program was raised. It is now age 18 to 26 instead of 18 to 23. This program provides up to $130 a month for the college education of a youngster whose father was killed or totally disabled as a result of war service.

SPECIAL PENSION

A special pension of $50, in addition to the benefits already available, was created for widows if they are patients in a nursing home or the VA determines they need regular attention.

The pensions for Spanish-American war veterans, who are in a separate category from later war veterans, was raised from $65 a month to $70.

And in determining the measure of a widow's need for a pension, there is a more liberal interpretation of taking into account the expenses of a veteran's last illness and funeral expenses.

Summer Strike Is Blamed for Snow Tire Shortage

By United Press International

Snow tires may be an ideal Christmas gift this winter — if you can lay your hands on them.

From Boston to Bismarck, Hartford to Harrisburg and Denver to Des Moines, snow tire dealers report shortages.

"Our initial order was reduced by 60 per cent and there is no encouragement we are going to get any more snow tires this season," said Edmond Audet, sales manager of the Boston General Tire Store.

"The supply will probably be back to normal by January but this will be too late," he said.

Distributors blame a record-long, summer strike against the nation's top producers for the snow tire shortage.

PEAK SEASON

Summer is the peak period for making snow tires because the demand from Detroit for 21 million snow tires last year new car tires is slow. The had been expected to buy strike, which at various times 22.6 million this year.

involved all five major producers, ended Aug. 30, just when the demand for new car tires picked up again.

"We ordered 10,000 mud and snow tires . . . we have received 360," said Bob Burns, sales manager for a wholesale firm in Louisville, Ky. "I went to the Carnegie Co. Warehouse at Dayton, Ohio, and they had just 250,000 tires, only about 5,000 of them mud and snow. They usually have millions."

A United Press International survey turned up dealers complaining of shortages in 20 states.

Many predicted it will be a big sales year for recapped tires, tires turned out by small producers not affected by the walk-out, and, in some areas, imports.

Silicones May Be Oil Pollution Answer

Science Service

LONDON — The British government will soon receive a report telling it how to avoid the needless slaughter of sea birds and marine life if there is ever another tanker sinking like that of the "Torrey Canyon."

It will reveal that those who, in expediency, dumped nearly two million gallons of toxic detergent into the sea after the "Canyon" broke up off the coast last spring, had no regard for the birds, fish or in-shore creatures.

The mass slaughter - by - detergent has led to a thorough investigation and to the discovery of toxic fractions in detergents. This identification has led to research towards less poisons.

The study also reveals that no detergent will ever provide the answer to marine oil pollution. It shows that detergents are equally unsuited for cleaning out the tanks of seagoing vessels.

In combating any problem as

SILICONES

Research work at Cardiff University has developed a scheme which appears to have all the advantages called for, without any serious weaknesses. The answer is "use silicones."

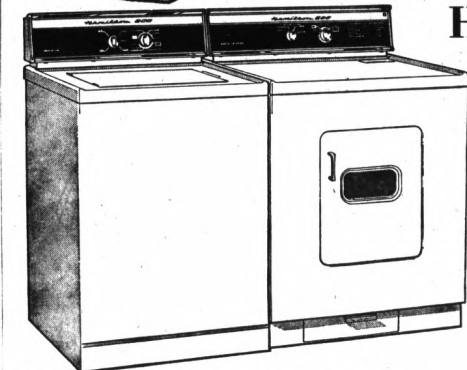

The word "silicones" covers a range of chemistry second in complexity only to the chemistry of carbon. Silicones can be, and are, tailored to requirements, and their full usefulness is only beginning to be realized.

Migration to Slums Battled

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Administration, set up two people to places where there are no jobs," he added.

government-business program years ago as part of the Commerce Department, still isn't looking for overnight success.

EDA's Office of Policy Coordination said the flow of migration from rural areas must be redirected to the medium and small-size cities where most new jobs are being created.

It tries to guide them to areas where work is available and visualizes a national job placement service.

The Economic Development tide of migration that takes present federal-state employment service inadequate.

They want a network of employment services where jobs can be pinpointed throughout the nation and persons trained and directed to them.

This, officials said, will require a basic restructuring of the present employment service to provide data on jobs available not just locally but in many areas in the country.

EDA officials described as startling the projections it made for the growth of jobs in metropolitan areas.

Very small and very large areas, they said, will produce comparatively few new jobs in the future. The major growth will come in counties with a population ranging from 50,000 to 500,000 persons.

But unemployed persons from rural areas tend to concentrate in the big cities, officials said, where they feel the number of job alternatives are larger.

Rumblings Greet NY Sentence

Teacher Union Readies Appeal

NEW YORK (AP) — Albert Shanker and his New York City public school teachers' union prepared today to appeal penalties levied against them for their recent 17-day strike amid rumblings of discontent from some union members.

Union President Shanker was fined $250 Wednesday and sentenced to 15 days in jail for contempt, while his AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers drew a $150,000 fine under the state's new Taylor law which bans strikes by public employees.

The union's headquarters later reported receiving many calls from UFT members indignant over the jailing order and said some teachers voiced readiness to renew the walkout that crippled the 1.1-million pupil system.

But Shanker said: "I hope they won't do that. I am urging teachers not to take any precipitate action."

GRANTS APPEAL TIME

Justice Emilio Nunez who pronounced the sentence suspended its execution of 10 days so the union could launch an appeal. Nunez termed the teachers strike "a rebellion against the government."

The justices upheld the constitutionality of the new law, but just because it's legal does not necessarily make it workable. Nunez himself said during the strike: "The law won't settle this strike. People will."

Nevertheless, Frederic S. Nathan, first assistant New York City corporation counsel, told the court the penalties invoked against Shanker and the UFT should "deter future violations."

But union spokesman Dan Sanders said the jailing order "serves no useful purpose. This type of vindictive action pursued by the corporation counsel and the board of education serves only to aggravate relations between the UFT and the board at a time when improvement of relations is urgently needed."

'Crippling War Blow Blocked'

Military Chiefs Claim Opportunity Missed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. military chiefs claim they could have virtually paralyzed North Vietnam's war machine in 1965 if they had been given authority for massive air strikes against 94 key targets.

They told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee civilian bosses vetoed their plan for a sudden air blitz. This gave the Communists time to build up their antiaircraft defenses, the chiefs said in testimony disclosed yesterday.

The testimony by Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, and Adm. T. H. Moorer, chief of naval operations, added fuel to the congressional furor over the Vietnam war.

McConnell said the Joint Chiefs originally suggested that the United States put the squeeze on North Vietnam "with a very severe application of air power."

"In fact, our first target list was 94 targets which we intended to destroy in a total of 16 days," McConnell testified.

'DISAPPROVED'

"It was the 2nd of March, 1965 and we recommended what we call a sharp, sudden blow which would have, in our opinion, done much to paralyze the enemy's capability to move his equipment around and to supply people in the south."

But, McConnell said, "That was disapproved as a concept."

If it had been accepted, North Vietnam would have had no defenses, and targets could have been hit with greater accuracy and without the antismissile and anti-MIG tactics now required, he added.

"I believe that if we had gone in in 1965 and really pounded them when they didn't have any defenses that we would have been better off today," McConnell testified.

EFFECTS OFFSET

Moorer said he thought the United States "would have been in a better situation, because the approach that we made enabled the North Vietnamese to build up air defenses and to develop a reconstruction capability and things of that kind to offset the effects of the bombing."

In the heavily censored testimony given in August, McConnell and Moorer joined other subcommittee witnesses in urging attacks on more North Vietnamese targets — in addition to the 44 approved by Johnson last month. They also favored action to curb shipping through Haiphong Harbor.

Their testimony also disclosed skepticism within the Joint Chiefs of Staff about construction of a barrier to slow infiltration from the north into the south.

McConnell said the Joint Chiefs were "not enthusiastic" about the obstacle and "did not support it" until Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara declared it had been undertaken.

Flint Man, 21, Is Arrested in Shooting

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 21-year-old Flint man, charged with attempting to kill a police informer at a suburban Pittsburgh motel last month was arrested Wednesday in Cleveland, the FBI said.

Flint officials and a Secret Service agent were in a room less than 100 feet away when the informer, Charles Thomas, 49, was shot Sept. 3.

An indictment was returned against Loren L. Jolly four days later, charging him with assault with intent to kill.

HIS STORY

Thomas, who was hospitalized for several days, said he had gone to Pittsburgh to get some information on counterfeiting. He said he and Jolly had talked for more than an hour and he was washing his face when the shots were fired.

Parents Unite to Hire Sleuth to Trace Dope

PALOS VERDES, Calif. (AP) — Alarmed parents in the exclusive Palos Verdes area near Los Angeles plan to pay for a sheriff's deputy to find out who is supplying marijuana to their children.

The number of narcotics arrests, among teen-agers especially, has grown sharply.

The parents have worked out a plan by which Los Angeles County and the coastal cities that make up the Palos Verdes area will share the cost of hiring a plainclothes narcotics officer from the county.

"We have to find out how this stuff is getting to the children so quickly and so cheaply," said Mrs. Doris Dana, one of the founding parents in the council.

SECRET TRANSACTIONS

"They get narcotics to the children right under the eyes of school authorities and everyone else," she said.

Robert Curry is chairman of the group, called Peninsula Council for Youth. He said Wednesday night that 70 juveniles were arrested on narcotics charges in the area during the first six months of this year.

"My children tell me there are a lot of kids at school that use marijuana all the time and think it's the greatest," Mrs. Dana said. She has a son 15, a daughter 14, and 11-year-old twin girls.

JC Pumpkin
Sale Oct. 21

The Waterford Township Jaycees will hold their third annual pumpkin sale Oct. 21 on a door-to-door basis through several township subdivisions.

James McIntosh, project chairman, said the Jaycees have a large truckload of pumpkins to sell.

They hope to raise $700 to support various Jaycee-sponsored community projects.

The pumpkins will sell for $1 each, according to McIntosh. Halloween candy also will sell at $1 a bag.

McIntosh said about 25 or 30 Jaycees are expected to participate in the project.

5 in Masks
Rob duPonts

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Five armed men, wearing cloth masks and gloves, escaped with $534,000 in rare coins, jewels and cash from the palatial Willis Harrington duPont estate on Biscayne Bay early today, police said.

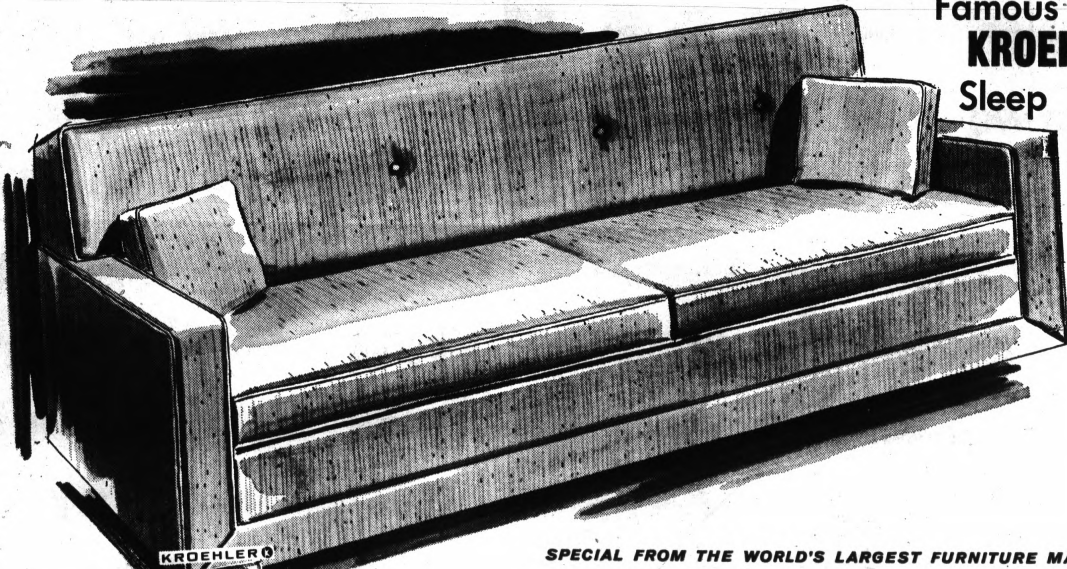

The five men bound duPont, his wife, their 4-year-old child and the butler and his wife during their two-hour looting of the huge estate which contains nine bedrooms and 19 bathrooms.

An elaborate burglar alarm system was not connected when the bandits hit, L.T. Eugene Gunn said. Gunn said he was unaware of earlier reports that the burglar detection system included closed circuit television.

Bond Asked for Convicted Army Doctor

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals was asked yesterday to free Army Capt. Howard Levy on bond pending appeal of his conviction by a court-martial for disobeying orders and making statements critical of U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Levy, a doctor sentenced to three years at hard labor, was accused of refusing to teach Green Beret medics how to treat skin diseases encountered in Vietnam.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Wistar Stuckey said the Army has confidential information that Levy would flee to a Communist country, denounce the United States, and then hope to return home, noting the government's leniency on defectors, if he were released on bond.

Stuckey also argued there was no constitutional right to bond in the military, but acknowledged that if bond were allowed Levy would be assigned to normal duties.

Negro Mayor Candidate Hopes to Avoid a Runoff

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—[tion in local elections here. The State Rep. A. W. Willis, seeking to become the first Negro mayor of this Old South city, pegged his hopes on a quick victory today that would preclude a runoff.

Willis, first Negro elected to the Tennessee legislature since the Populist period early in the century, faced six white candidates in today's voting and has been given a mathematical chance of receiving a majority of the votes cast.

But unless he does, the odds are slim that he will become the first popularly elected mayor of a major Southern city.

If no candidate receives a majority of the votes today, the top two will meet in a runoff Nov. 2, and there the mathematics would run strongly against the 42-year-old Willis.

REGISTRATION FIGURES
Final figures from the board of elections showed 155,270 registered white voters and 80,833 Negroes registered to vote.

Polls opened at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Moon Rocket Trouble Stalls Key Rehearsal

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Frustrated launch crews must wait until at least tomorrow before trying to restart a tricky countdown rehearsal for the firing of the first Saturn 5 moon rocket.

Tests, which already have taken more than twice the time planned, were halted last night after coming within 30 minutes of ending the 83-hour rehearsal for the 363-foot space machine.

The delay, latest and more frustrating of a long series of interruptions dating back to last week, was caused by the repeated failure of a ground computer that was needed to help engineers keep tabs on the nearly one million gallons of fuel aboard the rocket.

A space agency spokesman said there would be no attempt to resume the exercise until tomorrow at the earliest.

As soon as the decision was made to halt the test, technicians turned to the task of draining 757,000 gallons of supercold liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen from the rocket's three stages.

OK Likely for Poverty Bill, Minus Job Rider

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill, the long-debated measure would be sent to the House today after the Senate Labor Committee stripped of its $2.8 billion emergency job provision, is expected now to win final Senate passage.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., wants to strike from the bill an extra $198 million for the Office of Economic Opportunity added by the Senate Labor Committee to President Johnson's $2.06 billion request for this budget year.

Much of the extra money was put in for programs sponsored by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

JOB PLAN NIXED

In the most important vote on the legislation so far, the Senate knocked out of the bill Wednesday the $2.8 billion emergency job plan for unemployed and low-income persons.

This rider, added in the labor committee under sponsorship of Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., was designed to produce 200,000 jobs this year and 300,000 next year.

Clark said he would renew his fight in separate legislation to be introduced soon.

The Johnson administration opposed the plan.

COMPROMISE REJECTED

The Senate turned down 47 to 42 a compromise job plan which would have cost $925 million.

One amendment adopted would require that $50 million of the more than $1 billion in the measure for community action projects be spent to improve rural economic opportunities.

Another would put a 15 percent limit on administrative expenses of all community action programs.

County Firm Among 13 Indicted

Bakery Price-Fixing Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted 13 companies, 13 individuals and a trade association Wednesday on charges of conspiring to rig the prices of baked goods in Michigan, the Justice Department announced here.

The department said a grand jury in Grand Rapids, Mich., charged that the defendants violated the Sherman Antitrust Act by conspiring, between January 1964 and October 1966, to rig wholesale and retail prices and bids to schools, hospitals and public agencies.

If convicted each company could be fined up to $50,000; each individual could draw a one year prison term and a $50,000 fine.

BAKERIES LISTED

Those indicted were:

American Bakeries Co. of Chicago and its regional manager, Norman V. Cleton;

Continental Baking Co. of Rye, N. Y., and its plant manager, Ray W. Moore;

Dutch Treat Bakers, Inc., of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Vice President Walter Henley Jr.;

Delay Forced in Road Dept. Bid Opening

LANSING (AP) — Failure of the State Administrative Board to adopt new procedures for letting contracts held up the State Highway Commission Wednesday to postpone an Oct. 11 bid opening until Nov. 1.

The board deferred action this week on the resolution on contract letting pending study by a three-man committee.

Henrik E. Stafseth, acting state highway director, said he hopes the board adopts a new resolution at its next meeting, Oct. 17, so the bid letting may be held Nov. 1.

The commission said it already has advertised for bids on highway construction projects totaling $25 million and expects to advertise nearly $15-million in additional projects for the Nov. 1 letting.

The postponement was the third in six weeks, Stafseth said. Lettings had been set for Aug. 23 and Sept. 7, but were postponed pending approval of the resolution and settlement of a wage dispute between contractors and their unions which resulted in a short strike in early September.

'M' Is Seeking Larger Budget

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan has sent its tentative 1968-69 budget of $75.8 million to the Legislature.

This is $12.2 million above this year's request and $16.6 million over the university's appropriation.

Because the current appropriation was less than anticipated, the university has increased fees, tightened enrollment controls and postponed a variety of plans "designed to keep this institution in the top rank of teaching and research," said Allan F. Smith, vice president for academic affairs.

Portugal's latest six-year economic development plan aims to raise the growth rate in this area from the present 6.1 per cent to 7 per cent a year.

Sunken Navy 'Bomb' Refuses to Explode

Service Science

WASHINGTON—A two-kiloton "bomb" is being abandoned by the U.S. Navy on the ocean floor just southwest of Amchitka Island in the Aleutians.

The "bomb," a World War II Liberty ship loaded with 2,000 tons of obsolete weapons, was deliberately sunk there by the Navy on Aug. 10. It was to have provided a mighty blast for a check of the Defense Department's nuclear test detection network.

Instead, it has resisted all attempts to detonate it, including the explosions of 24, 2,000-pound bombs dropped directly on it Sept. 19.

The Navy has now concluded that the pressure-sensitive fuses aboard have succumbed to the corrosion of the sea and are completely inoperative.

New research on the fuses, the Navy says, reveals that they are rendered inert within a few weeks after submersion in the sea.

TO BE ABANDONED

Thus, the ship's position will be marked on charts for the interest of passing mariners, and she will be entirely abandoned to rust in peace at 465 fathoms (2,790 feet).

The former SS Robert Louis Stevenson was towed out to a position 32 miles southwest of Amchitka on Aug. 10 with her load of old bombs, mines and torpedo warheads. Fuses were set to go off at a depth of 4,000 feet, her seacocks opened and the ship was left to sink—a process that was expected to take no more than four hours.

The Stevenson finally did sink 19 hours later after having drifted in the thick fog to a point 16.5 miles southwest of Aleut Point on Amchitka.

Special Christmas Coffee Recipes Introduced in Yuletide Setting

Pontiac Press Food Editor

CHICAGO — Today we celebrated Christmas. The Pan American Coffee Bureau previewed its special holiday recipes in a typical yuletide setting complete with tree, fat red candles and a string ensemble playing carols.

I'm bringing back several new coffee beverage recipes.

And speaking of MRS. ODELL coffee... Kenneth W. Burgess, executive director of the Pan American Coffee Bureau, declared in his talk to the food editors that no electric percolator on the market today makes a good cup of coffee. He believes that only the drip method results in an acceptable cup of coffee.

NEW PRODUCT

A new coffee maker — "A Brewolator" — has been invented and will be on the market sometime early in 1968.

This is a special kind of drip coffee maker which, Burgess claims, will brew three or eight cups equally well and in the same length of time.

Manufacturers now in the business will be licensed to produce the "Brewolator" which will be manual or automatic.

From England, Germany and Australia came directors of Kraft Kitchens to speak at this noon's luncheon hosted by the parent Kraft Company. They told of the increase in convenience foods used in their respective countries and the differences between their food habits and ours.

The table settings at this party were particularly interesting. Each round table was covered with black shiny vinyl edged in ball fringe. Napkins were black and white checked.

The centerpiece was a yellow rose with Texas illusions — made of paper, each one stood about four feet tall and measured at least three feet in diameter. Each grew out of a yellow pot also trimmed with ball fringe.

For an appetizer we had jellied consommé layered in a parfait glass with avocado puree and topped with cream cheese and caviar. The main course was a large green salad made with Kraft's new Green Goddess dressing. Dessert was a cheese mousse and fresh fruit.

Young modern homemakers, especially those in the west where living is gay, informal and colorful, want brighter colors in their home.

PAPER

Makers of paper products, like Scott Paper Company, are answering this request with napkins and placemats in deeper tones and even paper towel holders in the same stronger shades.

There's a new diet food on the market, one with more protein and fewer calories — "Slender" by Carnation. First they showed us fall clothes on skinny models. Then they let us sample "Slender." Do you suppose there's any connection?

McIlhenny Company, producers of Tabasco Sauce, brought a jazz combo from the South who filled the great Gold Coast Room in the Drake with New Orleans sounds for a couple of hours. They stopped only when it was time to go to dinner down the street in the new Continental Plaza Hotel.

Here, Standard Brands gave a dignified, leisurely black tie dinner in honor of the 50th anniversary of Mr. Peanut. Tall, gold and crystal eggnogs held white candles. Fragrant gardenias spilled down the sides with green velvet ribbon entwined in the bouquets. It was a southern dinner with oysters, Smithfield ham and southern peanut pie.

During this party, Roy H. Fishman, director of publicity for Standard Brands, announced three 1000-dollar scholarships in honor of the newspaper food editors.

These will be available at Cornell University, Iowa State University and San Jose State College in California for junior or senior women who are majoring in and or minoring in home economics and journalism.

They are the first scholarships of their kind to be offered.

It's Correct to Celebrate in This Way

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My son will be getting married next month. He is stationed at Camp Pendleton in California and is marrying a girl from there. Many of my friends think I should give them a shower here since no one but myself will be going to the wedding.

It would be just relatives and very close friends. I would like to know if it would be all right. — Rita.

Dear Rita: Yes, indeed. Since your friends will not be invited to the wedding and therefore will not necessarily send wedding gifts, a shower for your future daughter-in-law would be fine. Why not give a "recipe shower" at which each guest provides a favorite recipe and a kitchen gadget used in preparing the dish?

You may pack all the gifts into one or two boxes and forward them with their cards to the bride in California.

Volunteers Honored for Work

By JUNE ELERT

What is a volunteer? Studies have been made on the motivations of men and women who donate part of themselves to bettering the lives of others.

Some have said a volunteer uses service to break down social barriers. Or that a volunteer suffers from guilt feelings and strives to work them out through self-imposed penance.

Conversely, some would say they serve in obedience to the Biblical injunction to love their fellowman. Or from the necessity of keeping occupied. Perhaps because they find greater richness in life that is shared.

The exploration of these motives highlighted a keynote address of Joseph

McCall, public information director for the Michigan Department of Mental Health at a tea Wednesday in Pontiac State Hospital.

MOTIVES

He concluded that the motivation to serve is probably as varied and complex as the personalities of the 1100 persons who were being honored for the 39,469 hours of volunteer service donated to patients and staff at the hospital throughout the past year.

Medical superintendent Dr. Donald W. Martin officially welcomed the gathering and briefly summarized the year's operations. He outlined some of the services provided by the hospital in both in-patient and out-patient areas, such as the sheltered workshop and the Mental Health Center whose program includes services to 14 townships.

Coordination of volunteer efforts is handled by Ted Panaretos, director of Community Relations.

Time spent by the volunteer ranges from a few hours a month to as many as 40 hours a week. Teen-agers serve as well as men and women of retirement age.

Services performed include ward work, patient parties, recreational programs, transportation, library duties, donated clothing distribution, gift shop operation and so forth.

In addition, many hours of work are put in by persons working outside the hospital, raising funds, collecting clothing, making toys, knitting. Garden clubs and other women's organizations plant flowers and trees and develop garden areas.

No estimate of these hours of effort is available.

The success of Pontiac State Hospital's volunteer program seems to involve a number of inter-related factors.

Enrollments Open at Will-O-Way

There are a limited number of openings left in the pre-school communication arts program at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre. This program is especially designed for the four to six-year-old child.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Ernest Savio of Birmingham or the theatre on Long Lake Road.

Applications are also being accepted for age groups seven through adults. Enrollment is limited and classes will be set up according to age and experience.

Will-O-Way is a recognized trade school in theater arts and is qualified to award junior, senior, and master certificates. Celia Merrill Turner, artistic director of the theatre, will be teaching these classes scheduled to begin Oct. 14.

Keynote speaker at the Volunteer Tea, Joseph McCall, enjoys a laugh with Red Cross volunteer Mrs. Richard Ecker of Warwick Street (left) and Oakland County Citizens Committee member Mrs. Anna Wurm of LaSalle Street. McCall, public information director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, told of services performed last year by 50,000 volunteers in nine state resident-patient hospitals.

"Winners all" is indicated by the smiles on these two husband-wife teams as they view the success of this year's "Hemlines and Horsepower '68" sponsored by the Alumnae and Parents Associations of Convent of the Sacred Heart. The smashing event with fashions from Hudson's and automobiles from General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, took place in Bloomfield Open Hunt Wednesday afternoon and evening. In foreground are the James J. Byrnes of Chisholm Drive and behind them the S. Gerard Conklins of Detroit (Mrs. Conklin is this year's chairman.)

Personals

Mrs. Frank A. Anderson of Oneida Street left Tuesday for Fort Wayne, Ind. to see her new grandson, William James Ruth IV, who was born Sept. 29.

Parents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. William James Ruth III, nee Lynne Anderson.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Ruth Jr. of Geneva, Switzerland, formerly of Pontiac.

Former Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Walls, have moved to Utica. The Walls, who have lived here for 21 years, moved out of state while he was on assignment for General Motors.

He is now manager of the General Motors training center in Warren.

They are joined by her mother Mrs. Erwin Weaver, formerly of Sylvan Lake.

While en route to California, the John Ingrams and their daughter, Mary Ann, spent several days with her mother, Mrs. William White of Woodland Street, West Bloomfield Township.

The Ingrams, who are traveling from Virginia, will make their new home in Santa Barbara.

Alvin H. Warren of Russell Street has left for a week at the annual horse sales and trot races at Lexington, Tenn.

Sweater Variety

Sweaters come in all lengths for the younger set. There's the skinny, mini-sweater, packed alongside the maxi-sweater, with great bulk and length almost to the knees. Sweaters zip, sweaters button, sweaters are belted. Long cardigans go with a matching knit skirt or dress for the '67 ensemble.

Area Women Attend Cancer Confab

Some 13 area women returned Wednesday from the annual volunteer Leadership Conference at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center.

The conference, which is sponsored by the Michigan Cancer Foundation, featured several speakers including Dr. Michael Brennan, president of the Foundation, E. W. Tiescher, director of the United Health Foundation and Edward L. Cushman executive vice president of Wayne State University.

WORKSHOPS

The three day session featured workshops in the areas of serv-

Attending from this area were Mesdames H. O. Asbury, Thomas Seavey Sr., George McCorkle, M. D. McLintock, Sol Newhouse, Arthur M. Noell, Walter E. Lentz, and Herman Schelp.

Also present were Mrs. Harry Slater, Mrs. Raymond Baber Jr., Mrs. Dan Abbey, Mrs. Louisa McDonald, and Mrs. Katherine Svetcos.

MRS. J. C. CERANO

Northern Trip for Couple After Vows

Newlyweds, the James C. Ceranos, are honeymooning in upper Michigan. They exchanged vows in an afternoon ceremony Saturday in the Community United Presbyterian Church.

Following the ceremony, the bridal couple and their parents, the Dewey D. Spurlucks of Warren Drive and the Alexander Ceranos of Buckingham Street, greeted guests in the church parlors.

A reception later that evening was held at Fortino's.

EMPIRE GOWN

Honor attendants were Mrs. William D. Shirley and Craig Hanson. Other members of the wedding party were bridesmaids Sherri Morse and Mrs. Roy Hoskins. Robert Higgins, Elmer Cerano and Gary Currier were ushers.

The engagement of Sharon Marie Bragan to Lyman Lee Cowley has been announced by her parents, the John W. Bragans of Portage Street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman C. Cowley of Blaine Street. Vows are slated for Feb. 17.

Miss Smith Speaks Vows

A reception at the American Legion Hall Saturday followed vows in the Free Methodist Church for June Lynett Smith and Alfred Lee Krueger.

For the afternoon ceremony, the bride chose a white satin gown with a lace bodice. Her shoulder length veil was secured with a crown of pearls, and she carried white and red roses.

Janet Scott was maid of honor with Marvin Krueger as best man. Other members of the wedding party were bridesmaid Mary Ann Smith and flower girl Barbara Roerick. Randy Cornell ushered.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in northern Michigan. Parents of the couple are the Phil Smiths of Forester Street, Pontiac Township and the Alfred Lee Kruegers of Greenwood Street, Avon Township.

Mrs. Greenawalt Talks to Women

Mrs. Samuel Greenawalt, as were Mrs. Bradley Scott and society staff member for the Continuum Center of Oakland University, addressed the Pontiac Round Table Club Tuesday at Devon Gables. Her topic was "What's Going On in the World of Women."

Cobhostesses for the annual luncheon and business meeting were Mrs. R. E. Spurgeon. Members voted a contribution to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

Officers were installed for the 1967-68 season: Mrs. R. E. Spurgeon, president; Mrs. Adeline Hook and Mrs. David Gilpin vice presidents; Mrs. Wallace

M. Morgan, recording secretary and Mrs. Leon V. Belknap, treasurer.

Sorority Slates a Special Event

Committee assignments for the Founder's Day program, which is given in April, were made at Monday's meeting of the Pontiac Area Council of Beta Sigma Phi.

Representatives from 16 chapters attended the evening gathering in the Riker building. Members of Phi Gamma Chi served refreshments.

Useful for Hunters

Hunting season opens soon and one worthy addition to the duffle bag is a tube of petroleum jelly. It does windbreaker duty for areas exposed to chill winds and also effectively lubricates several types of firearms.

Guest for the meeting was Mrs. Joseph Jurkiewicz. Mrs. A. Byron Barnes of Zeta Eta chapter was appointed recording secretary.

Immerse Aluminum

When soaking aluminum utensils in hot, sudsy water before washing, make sure that each piece is completely immersed to avoid a dark line.

Avoid Discard Hazard

When throwing away any hazardous materials, be sure to throw where children cannot rummage in them.

Christmas Card Design Contest for Adult Artists

A Christmas card competition open to all adult artists in the eight surrounding states will be conducted by the Kenosha Public Museum of Kenosha, Wis.

This competition is sponsored by Gibson Greeting Cards, Inc. of Cincinnati, Ohio for the purpose of encouraging good design in Christmas card manufacture and choice by the public.

Original design in any graphic media may be submitted by any adult artist working in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Each artist may submit one design only, and no entry fee is required.

Judging will be done by Gibson Greeting Cards, Inc. who will award a first prize of $75, a second prize of $50, a third prize of $25, and three honorable mentions.

All entries must be received at the Kenosha Public Museum no later than Nov. 10.

An exhibit of all entries will be held in the Kenosha Public Museum from Dec. 4 to Jan. 2, 1968.

Any artist interested in the competition may secure a sheet

Mr. and Mrs. David Lee Price of Matthews Street announce the engagement of her daughter, Carol Gene Wilson, to Donald Lee Balkwell. Miss Wilson's fiancé, a student at Oakland University, is the son of the William M. Balkwells of Hillcrest Court, West Bloomfield Township.

Slate Talk on Flowers to Group

A demonstration on basic flower arrangement will be given by Mrs. Arthur B. Wright at Tuesday's meeting of the Rochester branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Members and guests will gather in the First Congregational Church of that city at 1 p.m.

Plans for the group's "telephone bridge" will also be discussed.

This event will be held on Nov. 8 at various members' homes. Cochairmen are Mrs. F. Miller, third national vice-president from Saginaw, and members from various southern Michigan communities.

Benefit Sale

The annual fall rummage sale at First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, West Maple at Chesterfield began Allen, Dr. Sarah Van Hoesen today. Sale will continue to 6 p.m. and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow.

Attending from Pontiac were Mrs. Harry Going, Mrs. Frank Jones, Alice Serrell and Mesdames John Ball, Allan Monroe and E. G. Clark.

Brown City Nuptials

Former Resident Weds

The Ronald E. Johnstons of Brown City, formerly of Pontiac, announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Karen Lee, to Robert James McPhail. The bridegroom is the son of the Glenwood McPhails also of Brown City.

The bride wore a traditional gown of white bombazine silk. Her fitted Chantilly lace bodice featured a sabrina neckline, matching lace-bordered panels accented her full skirt.

A Swedish crown of pearls and crystals held her bouffant shoulder length veil. The bride's bouquet was in a cascading arrangement of white Cypripedium orchids with yellow rosebuds.

A reception at the VFW Hall followed the vows, which were exchanged in the Methodist Church, Brown City.

Stiles Unit Talk

"Redbud and Magnolia Trees" will be the topic presented by Mrs. Charles Dodson at the upcoming meeting of Stiles branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association Monday.

The group will gather at 11 a.m. at the Hazlett Street home of Mrs. Amelia Hoffman.

Cervical Cancer Test Developed

Cancer of the cervix is being detected earlier and treated more successfully through a new technique which causes precancerous and early cancerous cells to disclose their presence.

Women suspected of having early cancer are given an injection of hematoporphyrin, a substance derived from blood, that localizes in rapidly multiplying cells and makes them fluoresce under ultraviolet light.

A test requiring only a few minutes can pinpoint the dangerous cells, and their extent, so the best treatment can be chosen to destroy them all. The method is still being developed by researchers at the Vermont General Clinical Research Center at Burlington, Vt.

Mrs. William McCurry, on furlough from the Philippines, was the guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society.

The meeting, which was held in the First Baptist Church, followed a luncheon.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

Can you tell me about a new zipper that makes a lovely closing because it is completely concealed?

Mrs. T. K. McW.

Dear Mrs. T. K. McW.:

I guess the thought of a zipper application is the most frightening experience many women have to face. There is no need for further frustrations. Ready-to-wear has been using this zipper for some time. Now it is available to the home sewers. It is not a new concept, but I have waited to tell you about it until it has really been perfected.

Now you can get a brand new separate attachment that fits all machines. It makes allowances for machines that are slightly out of alignment, as well as left needle machines. This lateral adjustment also makes it possible to sew closer for sheer fabrics and slightly further away for heavier fabrics. This latest foot eliminates the need of removing the foot and replacing it with your standard zipper foot to complete the seam after zipper has been installed.

One of the greatest improvements is the unique hidden stitch protector, molded right into each tooth and prevents the stitches from breaking, through wear and tear as zipper is opened and closed. The slide is designed to prevent fraying of the fabric as well.

As you can see, I'm sold on it, even though I didn't think the zipper application was too difficult. Be sure and read your instructions carefully before proceeding as they are completely different than those for the conventional zippers. Let me know how you like it gals!

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. P. S. McQueen, Chula Vista, Calif., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

When using carbon paper markings on any sort of material, trace the markings inside the lines and when sewing, sew outside the lines. This will prevent any of the markings from showing on the right side.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I bought a pattern without carefully looking it over, and now I find that it is cut on the bias. Can I use the same pattern and cut it with the straight grain?

Mrs. E.A.B.

Dear Mrs. E.A.B.:

This doesn't always work unfortunately. A pattern that is cut on the bias, depends on this for shaping since the bias will cling to the body and fit closer to your own body contours. A pattern that is cut with the straight grain depends on darts and seaming for the fitting. Consequently, a pattern with no darts or obvious fitting lines will not mold too well when cut on the straight grain.

Eunice Farmer gives you tips on what size pattern to buy for yourself in her illustrated booklet "Your Pattern and You." For your booklet send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Health Field Shortage Felt

nation must attract 10,000 recruits a month to the field of health services over the next 10 years, the U.S. Department of Labor reports.

The critical need for health service workers is underscored in "Training Health Service Workers," a report released by Secretary of Labor W. Willard
Wirtz and John W. Gardner,
Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

In 'Doghouse' With Pals

DEAR ABBY: To get right to the point, I do not care for dogs in my house. This goes for big dogs, little dogs, and even the hairless kind that are not supposed to smell, but do. They are all dogs to me. We reared our children and had dogs for them, but they were never allowed in the house. They slept in doghouses or out in the garage.

My problem: We have relatives who are dog-crazy. They love their dogs more than some people love their children...
These relatives have visited us, and brought their dogs along - knowing how I feel about them, and have even taken them into their beds!

Abby, we have just redecorated our home, installed new carpet, and re-covered our furniture, and I do not want dogs on it.

These relatives are coming again. How can I let them know they are welcome but not their dogs, without having them think
I am an old crab?

NO DOG LOVER

DEAR NO DOG LOVER: You can TELL them before they arrive that they are welcome, but their dogs are not. But don't be surprised if you get the "love me - love my dog" bit. They WILL think you are an old crab, but you'll have kept the dogs out of your home, and that's the object, isn't it?

DEAR ABBY: The other day
I was jolted by a flaw in an otherwise stunning 21-year-old blonde. On my first approach to her, I noticed that her teeth badly needed brushing. I realize that this could happen to anyone occasionally, but with this girl, it is a habit.

The idea of kissing a girl with noticeable food particles between her teeth is utterly revolting. Someone should tell her, but I am not the one. How about you?

DEAR STUNNED: Since I consider it a kindness to offer constructive criticism, I'll do it: Girls, look at your teeth after you've eaten, and, if necessary, slip away and privately use a bit of dental floss. P.S.
You, too, fellows.

DEAR ABBY: An interesting question came up in your column: Are men and boys cleaner than women and girls?
For whatever this is worth,
I have been a custodian in a public school for many years, and I have found that the boys use about three times as much soap and paper towels as the girls.

PASSAIC, N.J.

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours recently had a golden wedding anniversary, so several weeks before that date I telephoned a local florist and asked him to send them two dozen long-stemmed yellow roses.
(Cost $24).

The daughter of this couple had planned a party for her parents, and she used the same florist I called. She learned of my order so she told the florist they wouldn't be needing any extra bouquets, so to just accept my money and to deduct it from HER bill.

Since she is well-known and respected in town, I don't blame the florist for doing as she requested, however, I am very hurt to think that I paid part of HER bill rather than to have sent my own flowers.

The daughter did tell her parents about my order, however, because I received a nice thank you note for my "intentions."
Am I wrong to feel hurt?

HURT
DEAR HURT: No. But the florist with whom you placed your order is every bit as guilty as the daughter who dreamed up that chintzy scheme.

I can't imagine a reputable florist going along with such a suggestion without your approval. As I see it, you owe that florist NOTHING!

Silver Picture Brightens

DENVER (UPI) — Colorado still is conspicuous by its absence. On July 14, 1967 the Treasury decided it had replaced enough of the silver coins with nickel-copper "sandwich" coins to make it safe to lift the $1.29 lid it was keeping on the price of silver by sales from rapidly dwindling reserves. The price of the metal shot through the roof. Top for the first upward swing was about $1.75 per ounce. It has been pulled down to about $1.66 since because of a speculative shake-out, a euphemism for profit-taking, but mining industry spokesmen maintain it eventually will get up to $2.50 before it stabilizes.

Silver has become too expensive to use as money, which is why the Treasury Department took the silver out of new coins last year and launched a race with speculators to get back as many of the silver coins as it could to melt down for their silver content.

The department had a nationwide coin shortage on its hands then, but this has eased a bit since, although the half dollar 4,180-621.

Doctors Move to Ban Boxing

Scandinavians See Perils Besides Death

By Science Service
GENEVA — Leading Scandinavian physicians are campaigning to outlaw boxing. Dr. Karl Evang, director of Norway's Health Services, is in the forefront. He's concerned about the social and psychological consequences of the sport as well as about fighters' lives.

Dr. Evang, interviewed here during one of his frequent visits to the World Health Organization, has been a successful champion of liberalized abortion laws, family planning and other socio-medical causes in Scandinavia.

He reports that he and colleagues have gotten the boxing protest to the high Nordic Council, parliamentary and advisory body for the five Scandinavian countries.

"Of course the sports physicians present a united, militant front against us," Evang says.

"We are surveying the problem in its widest scope. If we obtain sufficient evidence that boxing is an unhealthy sport — psychologically, sociologically and medically — the Council should recommend that member governments pass appropriate laws." Iceland already has, leading Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland.

Twins Get Same Scores on 4 Tests

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — Identical twins scored identical grades on four separate college board exams in a million-to-one freak during the past school year, it was reported this week.

The College Board of Review said the twins got identical grades on the verbal and mathematical sections of the college boards in December and posted the same scores in English composition and level I mathematics achievement in January.

College board tests are graded in about 600 categories, making identical scores on even two tests unlikely.

Educational testing service officials said the chances are at least a million to one against two students having identical scores on four separate tests.

The principal of the twins' high school said he believed that either some extraordinary mechanism was at work or that cribbing might have been involved.

However, investigations showed that although the twins got the same number of questions correct in each of the four tests, they did not answer all the same questions correctly. They made individual mistakes but still wound up with the same scores.

144 FACET DIAMONDS

For over 65 years, fifty-eight has been the standard number of facets on a round diamond. Today, an exclusive, patented process permits the grinding of 144 cuts — 86 more reflecting planes. This means more natural fire intensity and less chance of chipping or damage!

Admired by world's foremost gemologists as the most brilliant diamond in the world — with 28 times more reflecting power, the HANDICRAFT "144" is priced no higher than ordinary cut diamonds. COMPARE!

Antique Village Springs Up in Orion Township

By JEAN SAILLE

A cluster of tenant houses, a row of barns.

What does one do with an old, unplanned community in the heart of a city of the future?

Brookside, Bloomfield Hills—take over.

And voila! What was once the working core of the late William E. Scripps Wildwood Farms in Orion Township becomes an authentic antique village.

Considering that zoning approval for the village was obtained only last spring, it is amazing what Mrs. Burton has been able to accomplish with her Joslyn Road enterprise.

GRAND CONCEPT

Set in the vast area of Keating in Orion Township, the village is an inheritance from the past. It serves as an historical anchor for Keating's grand concept of a self-contained planned community containing high-rise apartments, modern homes and shopping facilities grouped around common recreational land.

The village is already drawing the curious from points throughout southeastern Michigan.

Visitors come looking for antiques (of which there are plenty) and wind up luxuriating in the unhurried atmosphere of Scripps' 1920s.

A fat cat suns in the window. Men await their women shoppers on sunny sidewalk benches. The aroma of newly baked delicacies floats from the Auld Lang Syne Bakery. The smell of the sawdust floor emanates from the village butcher shop.

ANTIQUES CRAFTS

And inside the shops a collection of antiques and crafts, gathered from all over the East, await the scrutinizing eye of discovery.

Work is still going on at the village. Plans include a beef buffet restaurant, an old car service garage, weekly auctions, and even square dancing.

Meanwhile children are finding the village has something to offer them as well. There are pony carts and boating on Voorheis Lake in season with skating and tobogganing planned for later.

Mrs. Burton, who says she's always been an antique collector, has adhered faithfully to the concept of the 1920s.

Nigeria: Rebel Capital Taken

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Nigerian troops have claimed capture of breakaway Biafra's capital at Enugu, the biggest victory in their three-month civil war, but federal sources indicated today the battle for the city may be continuing.

The military source said that even after the capture of the rebel capital, "We have to go through 99 per cent hostile country" to bring down the government of Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, who led Nigeria's Eastern region into secession as the result of violent tribal disputes.

A member of the federal command staff said he believed government troops held the Enugu airport and radio transmitter, but that Biafran elements were possibly concentrated in the vicinity of Milliken Hill, which controls the city's main north-west highway.

Resistance was reported heavier than the federal troops expected since they began intensive shelling of the capital last Wednesday. "We thought Enugu would fall two days ago," the source said.

The drive on the capital appeared to be the Lagos government's most successful thrust toward ending the secession that has devastated the economy of Nigeria, once considered black Africa's richest and most stable nation.

A compact machine has been made that can recognize 10 spoken words with an error of less than 1 per cent.

Royal Letdown

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, made a forced landing at Edinburgh airport last night and drove on the rest of the way to Balmoral Castle after one engine failed on his two-engine turboprop Andover airliner.

High Court to Hear Guard Firing Case

LANISING (AP)—Former state adjutant general, Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, plans to take the question of his dismissal from the post to the State Supreme Court today.

The state's highest court has set a hearing on an Appeals Court ruling that Gov. George Romney fired McDonald May 20, 1965, after a 83-hour hearing about activities of Michigan's military establishment. Charges a military office, he should set a hearing on an Appeals Court ruling that Gov. George Romney had the constitutional power to dismiss McDonald. He had been suspended Nov. 8, 1964, after an auditor general's report on the military.

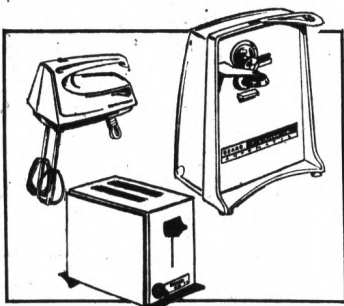

The Appeals Court rejected McDonald's argument that, as a military officer, he should have been given a military court-martial.

Daydream Goals Make Life Worthwhile

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Goals are a necessary part of life. If you have no goals, you rust to death.

BOYLE

If you have too few goals, or goals too easily gained, you wind up bored and cranky. Of course, it is also possible to have too many goals, so many that they leave you confused and frustrated, undecided which to pursue and which to abandon. Therefore it's a good idea to have two kinds of goals: real goals and daydream goals. Real goals are the ones you sweat to make true. Daydream goals are more fun. They are the fantasies that tease the mind, things you've never done and probably never will. Some of them are so wild and weird you wouldn't really want them to come true. But they do hold a kind of half-serious, half-ridiculous, sometimes wistful fascination.

THINGS TO DO

Looking over my own list of unwon daydream goals, I find that I have yet to—Hypnotize a charging rhinoceros with a single glance.
Eat a bird of paradise under glass.
Get the girl who brings coffee around our office to let me open a charge account.
Wallow in a European spa.
Beat my wife three times in a row at gin rummy.
Make a hole in one at golf.
Pick an Alpine edelweiss and present it to a pretty hippie in Greenwich Village.
Become the first man to paddle a canoe from Coney Island to Ireland.
Rent a real live gorilla as a subway bodyguard.
MUD IN THE PALACE
Track mud on a rainy day into the main drawing room of Buckingham Palace.
Finish a book written by Proust, Thomas Mann, James Joyce or Kathleen Windsor. Get anything back for a box-top that was worth the quarter I also enclosed.

Receive a written apology from an Internal Revenue agent for the honest mistakes I made while following the advice of my barber on how to fill out my 1948 income tax.
Attend a testimonial dinner to a gallbladder surgeon given by his grateful patients.

Receive a standing, 10-minute ovation for any speech I've made to our local PTA.
Permanently fix any leaky faucet.
Lose an ounce while on a "quick, easy diet, guaranteed to melt pounds away as if by magic."
"THAR SHE BLOWS"
Go on a whale hunt and be the first to call, "Avast, mates, thar she blows."

Make a martini dry enough to satisfy all the hydrophobes who come to any cocktail party I throw.
Play a solo on the bongo drums at Carnegie Hall.
Buy something—almost anything—that doesn't require a down payment, or a first payment.
Yep, there's no doubt about it—it's the daydream goals of life that make living really worthwhile.

what to look for when you select a diamond or how to make certain your investment is sound as well as sentimental

Most people buy diamonds for sentimental reasons: an engagement ring, a wedding band, a gift for the most important man or woman in your life. But because a diamond is an infrequent purchase, most people buy diamonds without adequate knowledge and experience. Yet a diamond—intelligently selected and properly priced—is not only a thing of beauty, but also an investment that maintains value. So we've prepared the following guide to help you make your selection wisely.

DON'T BE AFRAID TO ASK QUESTIONS. Any reputable jeweler will be happy to answer your questions. The first fact you should know is that a diamond's value is based on a number of factors: • size • color • clarity • cutting • proportion.

Let's examine them separately.

size Many people believe that size is the most important measurement of a diamond's value, but this is not necessarily true. For example, a half-carat diamond may be priced anywhere from $150 to $750. What determines its value is the quality of the stone: its color, its clarity, and how it is cut.

color The highest-grade diamonds are usually colorless, or blue-white. The gradations toward yellow decrease the value of the diamond in most cases. Actually, very few stones fall into the colorless or blue-white category.

There is virtually no such thing as a "flawless" diamond. Because a diamond is formed by nature, imperfections (or "inclusions") are inevitable. The term "flawless" is applied to diamonds which have no visible inclusions when examined by the trained eye at 10-times magnification. Most inclusions however, are not apparent to the naked eye. Many beautiful stones are not flawless, but are nevertheless of high quality and value because of their color, cutting, size and proportion. For example, A blue-white diamond with a small inclusion may be worth far more than a "flawless" stone of poorer color. By the way, an inclusion in no way impairs the "wear" or hardness of a diamond. It is simply a tiny portion of the diamond which did not crystallize many thousands of years ago . . . which will appear as a speck, line or bubble under magnification.

cut The art of cutting a diamond requires not only great technical skill, but also great artistic judgment. The rough stone is examined carefully, until the cutter has determined what the best shape might be (round, marquise, emerald, pear, oval, heart, etc.). Polishing also plays an important part. For many years (and even now) the "girdle"—or outside perimeter—of the stone was left unpolished. At Rose, we favor a technique of polishing this girdle so that an added dimension of brightness is attained. Our Halo of Light diamonds are polished in this manner.

This is one of the most important, and most overlooked, qualities. For even a flawless stone of superb color can lose much of its brilliance—and value—if it is not correctly proportioned. If the stone is too shallow or too deep, light is not properly refracted—as it should be—from facet to facet within the stone and back through the top. This refraction gives the stone its depth of brilliance. It is not infrequent to see diamonds which have a large top surface area, but which have very little sparkle. This simply reveals poor judgment on the part of the cutter, who sacrificed the "life" of the stone to make it look bigger or to weigh more.

If it is properly designed and finished, the mounting can greatly enhance the beauty of the stone; just as a poor mounting can diminish it. Ideally, the mounting should allow as large an area of the stone as possible to be exposed to the light. Thus most diamonds today are set in open mountings—sometimes held by four prongs as high above the band as possible. (Quite often, when an antique diamond is reset, it takes on much more brilliance—because the old setting smothered many of the stone's light-refracting facets.)

Equally important, however, is the comfort of wearing the diamond—especially a ring. For this reason, it is our policy at Rose to suggest that you wear your diamond ring for two or three months while you decide whether or not you like it. If, during this 90-day trial period, you discover that the ring is not comfortable, or if it displeases you in any way, we will exchange it, alter it, re-set it, or adjust it to your satisfaction—at no additional charge. We don't believe you should have to decide in a few minutes—or even in two or three weeks—whether you like a ring you will probably wear for the rest of your life.

price All of the things we've discussed influence the price of the diamond. How much you spend is purely a matter of personal preference. Where one person will insist upon a diamond that is flawless and perfect in color, another will prefer, perhaps, a larger stone whose color is less fine and whose quality is less than flawless. Both diamonds, however, have very definite value—and a reputable jeweler will be happy to explain the difference in price and to point out the difference in quality. The most important fact to remember is that diamonds represent a constant value—just as gold represents a constant value. Large "discounts" are suspect, for it is as unlikely that you will find a diamond priced far below its market value as you would expect to find gold bars at a reduction.

Perhaps the most important advice we can give you is this: because no two diamonds are alike, and because evaluating the quality of a diamond requires years of experience—if you don't know diamonds, know your jeweler. At Rose, the largest part of our business—by far—is in diamonds . . . as it has been for more than fifty years.

Canada Probe of UFOs Slated

By Science Service
TORONTO, Ont. — Flying saucers are finally getting the official nod from Canada. The University of Toronto is planning the country's first major study of unidentified flying objects, or UFOs.

The investigation will be the counterpart of a U.S. study directed by Dr. Edward U. Condon of the University of Colorado, now being carried out for the U.S. Air Force and due to be completed in the summer of 1968.

The U.S. Air Force, says Dr. Gordon Patterson of the University of Toronto's Institute of Aerospace Studies and head of the Canadian study, has adopted the attitude in the past that unexplained UFO sightings were the product of hoaxes, hallucinations or mistakes.

Not all such sightings can be explained away so easily, Dr. Patterson says.

At a seminar held by the institute to help determine the scope of its investigation, Dr. Patterson said that his researchers will be mostly concerned with finding a way to study UFOs scientifically, rather than with whether they are visitors from outer space.

It ought to be possible, he said, for responsible observers to apply a standardized set of observing techniques in order to obtain specific information. Dr. Patterson noted that the Institute already has equipment that could be used to provide useful scientific measurements of UFO sightings, and indicated that the institute might even set up a specially equipped UFO-truck which could be sent to the site of UFO sightings.

Deadline Near for GM Chief

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors directors met in regular monthly session Monday without announcing any change in the auto maker's top-echelon offices.

Chairman Frederic G. Donner reaches the retirement age of 65 today.

GM bylaws call for the retirement of an executive at the end of the month in which he becomes 65, which raises the possibility of a special directors meeting later this month. But there was no announcement of this, either.

If Donner retires, some observers have speculated that GM President James M. Roche will become chairman, leaving the board the task of picking a new president.

In one executive change, the board named Reuben R. Jensen, general manager of GM's Allison Division, as a vice president of the corporation, effective Nov. 1.

The intrinsic charm of far-away places has been captured here in a unique collection of imported wares. Our buyers shopped the marketplaces of the world to select items which truly reflect the craftsmanship of distant lands... and presented here is just a sampling of the large selection assembled for Impto/67.

The coterie and cheer of a rathskeller in West Germany is represented here in two smart items for bar, den or study: (A) musical liquor lantern decanter, at $12; (B) earthenware beer steins; 1/2 liter at $7.

The Italians, who know all there is about knits, styled pure wool in two handsome, long sleeve knit shirts: (A) double-knit cardigan with cable design, 22.50; (B) mock turtleneck pullover with contrasting trim at neck and waist, $18.

Shades of frothy ale in a crowded pub: an authentic pewter beer mug with sturdy handle imported from England. The design and construction is accurate in every detail... priced at $10.

Austria's renowned tailors designed this all-cotton terry robe (A), and we price it at $29. (B) The end-on-end cotton pajamas, at $25, are from the enchanting country of Switzerland.

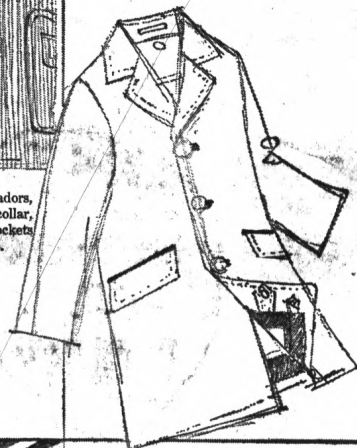

Who could resist the fine Italian craftsmanship in these fall time favorites: (A) pullover sweater with mock turtleneck and contrasting V-cable, at $7.50; (B) Fisherman knit of pure virgin wool in a crewneck model, at $25.

From Spain, the land of mountains and matadors, comes this midvale corduroy coat with mouton collar, warm wool lining, and suede detailing on the pockets and buttonholes. Regulars at $50; longs at $55.

The Spanish influence is readily evident in this handsome raincoat cut in the new shorter length. It's highlighted with a removable 1/4 belt at the back, wool button-in liner, and contrasting trim. $50.

For proper overnight care of clothing and accessories, who could resist this good-looking floor valet from Italy? In the design of a bedroom chair, it's sturdy and durable... and priced at $25.

The classic elegance of pure Italian silk in a paisley tie and handkerchief set. Color-keyed to co-ordinate with the new fall wardrobes... 7.50.

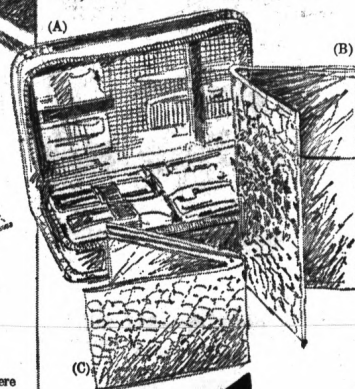

The British may drive on the wrong side of the road, but they're on the right track with these driving gloves with leather palms. Priced at just $5.

The historical sea power of Italy is represented here in this genuine horn sailing ship. Beautifully hand-carved and accurately detailed... $5.

Where else but in Europe could you find such exquisitely-detailed merchandise? (A) fitted travel case from West Germany, at $9; (B) genuine alligator pocket secretary from Italy, at $35; (C) genuine alligator billfold from Italy, at $25.

Changes Are Pleasant in Spud Cooking

Surely the pioneers of early Western history who sometime had nothing but potatoes to eat and therefore grew weary of them, would have welcomed this new idea of sparking that bland flavor with zesty fresh lemon.

Simple boiled potatoes are simply transformed by adding a light touch of chives and fresh lemon.

These best dressed potatoes are ever so easy to prepare and serve, good complement to almost any kind of meat.

What's more, that tangy fresh lemon dressing, quickly prepared by busy homemakers, makes canned potatoes taste like fresh ones.

Lemon-Chive Potatoes
2 pounds cooked, peeled, white potatoes, cut into 2-inch OR

2 15-ounce cans small whole new potatoes, drained
¼ cup butter or margarine
4 teaspoons chopped chives or green onion tops
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

If using fresh potatoes, cook as usual in boiling salted water.

Melt butter in large frying pan; blend in chives, lemon peel and juice, salt and pepper. Add well.

freshly cooked or canned potatoes; stir gently to coat with butter mixture. Cover and simmer gently until heated through. Makes 4-6 servings.

LEMON-CHIVE POTATOES — As a change from the usual parsley buttered potatoes, prepare a dish of potato chunks or canned whole potatoes with lemon butter and chopped chives.

It's Hot Spiced Cherry Sauce

4 pound ham in round can
1 pound can sour pie cherries
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard

1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup wine vinegar
5 lemon slices
20 whole cloves
2 cinnamon sticks

Open both ends of round can and remove ham. To heat, place in a rack in an open shallow pan. Heat in a slow oven (325 degrees) about 2 hours or to an internal temperature of 130 degrees on a roast meat thermometer.

Place on platter for slicing either upright or on its side depending upon preference of person doing the carving.

To Make Sauce: Drain cherries, reserving juice. In a large saucepan mix sugar, salt, mustard, and cornstarch. Add enough water to cherry juice to make 1 cup.

Combine cherry juice and wine vinegar and add to dry ingredients. Stir until thoroughly blended. Bring mixture to a boil, stirring constantly for 5 to 7 minutes.

In each lemon slice insert 4 cloves. As cherry mixture is bubbling add cloved lemons, cinnamon sticks, and cherries.

Pour into a chafing dish and keep hot until ready to serve on ham slices.

SPICED CHERRY SAUCE — A new canned hostess ham is ideal for a buffet or brunch menu. It will be even more appealing when served with hot spiced cherry sauce.

PUMPKIN FLUFF PIE — Fluffiest pumpkin pie ever... and just the ticket for the family meal, company buffet or as a snack with coffee when friends drop by.

No Need to Sacrifice Top Quality

Food editors attending the Newspaper Food Editors Conference in Chicago learned ways of how both a company and a homemaker can help to cut down rising food costs.

From the company's Test Kitchens came an inspiration for using ground beef that can save the homemaker money and kitchen preparation time as well.

Called Planked Hamburger potatoes; stir gently to coat with butter mixture. Cover and simmer gently until heated through. Makes 4-6 servings.

Planked Hamburger Steak — 2 pounds ground beef 2 envelopes (¾-oz. each) brown gravy mix ¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs 2 eggs 3 strips bacon 1 package frozen string beans, cooked Canned whole onions 8 servings prepared mashed potatoes Melted butter

Paprika Mix together ground beef, gravy mix (directly from the envelope) bread crumbs, and eggs. Place on shallow baking pan and shape into form of T-bone steak. Press bacon strips around edge of steak. Bake in 375 degree oven 40 minutes.

Place steak on a platter or oven proof platter. Arrange beans and onions around meat and pipe or spoon potatoes around edge. Drizzle melted butter on potatoes and vegetables; sprinkle with paprika.

Broil 5 minutes or until potatoes are lightly browned. 8 servings.

A finishing touch is provided by the Quick Herb Bread.

Looking and tasting like a long-baked loaf, the bread is actually refrigerator dinner rolls baked separately in a melted butter, herb seasoning and garlic salt mixture and baked, close together, for about 25 minutes.

Quick Herb Bread
2 to 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine 1 teaspoon herb seasoning ¼ teaspoon garlic salt 2 packaged refrigerator 1 layered dinner rolls

Combine butter, herb seasoning, and garlic salt. Separate rolls and dip each into butter mixture. Stand rolls on sides in 9 x 5 inch loaf pan fitting them tightly together. Bake in 350 degree oven 20 to 25 minutes. 8 to 10 servings.

Combine two cups bite-sized pieces of mixed fresh fruit with a 12-ounce jar pineapple sundae topping. Heat to a boil, then stir in ¼ cup walnuts. Spoon ¼ cup rum or brandy over surface of fruit and flame. When flame burns out, stir and ladle over ice cream.

Right Kind of Pie Fits Diet

Today, at the Food Editors' Conference, members attended a reception hosted by the Foods Division of Anderson, Clayton & Co. of Dallas (makers of Chifon margarine).

The event, which was attended by some of the most distinguished food experts in the country, presented a collection of new recipes featuring easy and delicious ways to modify fat in the daily family diet.

The homemaker who keeps her family's physical welfare firmly in mind plans every meal from two points of view — fine nutrition and fine taste.

She knows that bodily health to a large extent is determined by the quality of food she serves — and one of her basic nutritional concerns today is with reducing the amount of saturated fats in her family's diet and substituting polyunsaturates.

possible on a modified fat diet if made right.

PUMPKIN FLUFF PIE
Baked Pastry Shell
1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour ½ teaspoon salt ½ cup soft-type margarine containing liquid safflower oil 2 tablespoons cold water

Measure flour and salt into mixing bowl. Mix well. Cut in soft-type margarine with pastry blender or fork until mixture resembles coarse meal. Sprinkle with water, lightly stirring with a fork until all the flour is moistened.

Gather dough together and press firmly into a ball. Place on lightly floured cloth or surface. Flatten dough slightly, keeping edges free from cracks. Roll from center out to edge, keeping a circle 1½ inches larger than an inverted 8-inch pie pan.

Fit loosely into pan. Fold overhang under, pressing in place to form a rim. Flute edge. Prick all over with a fork. Bake in a 450 degree oven, 10 to 12 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Filling
1 envelope unflavored gelatin ½ cup cold water 1 can (1 pound) pumpkin

Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form and sugar is dissolved. Fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour into cool pastry shell. Chill until firm, about 3 hours.

Makes one 9-inch pie, 220 calories per piece, 8 servings.

Fix Sweet Rolls for Breakfast
Raisin roll-ups for breakfast. Separate one package refrigerated crescent rolls and spread one side with softened butter. Sprinkle with California seedless raisins and cinnamon sugar.

Roll up as directed and place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until golden.

Planked Hamburger Steak — Convenience foods make this recipe for Planked Hamburger Steak an excellent choice for the hostess with one eye on the clock and the other on her pocketbook.

Party Cheese Dip — Party Cheese Dip highlighted with Tabasco liquid red pepper sauce garnished fresh vegetables at an informal reception Wednesday evening, honoring editors attending the 25th annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference in Chicago's Drake Hotel. The occasion was hosted by the McIlheny Company, makers of Tabasco.

Cheese Dip Is Perfect for Raw Vegetables

Southern hospitality in the old New Orleans tradition of "Jules and Jazz" was the theme for an informal reception held Wednesday evening, October 4, in Chicago's Drake Hotel.

The occasion was hosted by the McIlheny Company, maker of famous Tabasco sauce.

Guests delighted to the musical renditions of "Papa Celestine's," a jazz band featured at New Orleans' famed Preservation Hall. The seven piece combo consists of old-time jazzmen devoted to the traditional soul sound of the Southland.

One of the favorites of the evening was a collection of fine vegetables highlighted by this Party Cheese Dip. It's a delicious mixture of deviled ham, onion soup mix, cream cheese and sour cream.

WHEAT GERM BURGERS — Enrich hamburger mixture with wheat germ. Stuff the patties with a bread dressing to make a delectable hearty main course. Good broiled inside or grilled outside. Serve with cheese sauce.

Cheese and Apples on Top

Buttermilk Corn Bread Below

Probably the oldest and most traditional food Americans still enjoy is corn bread, especially this buttermilk version. It's made into a cobbler created with shredded old-fashioned Cheddar cheese and pie-sliced apples.

But the making is modern.

Just unwrap the cheese and it's ready for shredding; the apples come ready-to-use right from the can.

Hasty Cheese Cobbler
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup yellow cornmeal
¼ cup sugar

2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
2 eggs
1 cup buttermilk
¼ cup soft shortening
2 cups shredded (one 8-oz. pkg.) Cheddar cheese
2½ cups (1 lb. 4-oz. can) sliced apples, drained
¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar

In a medium-size bowl, sift together flour, cornmeal, sugar, baking powder, salt and baking soda. Add eggs, buttermilk and shortening; beat with rotary beater about 1 minute, or just until dry ingredients are well moistened.

Do not overbeat.

Pour mixture into a greased 9x9x2-inch baking pan. In a medium-size bowl, lightly mix cheese and apples together. Gently spread over corn bread mixture. It is important to spread mixture to sides of pan. Sprinkle brown sugar evenly over cheese mixture.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven, 40 minutes or until firm and golden brown. Makes 8 servings.

Chocollasses Cake

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup sugar
½ cup shortening
¾ cup milk
2 eggs
1 cup unsulphured molasses
1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, melted and slightly cooled

Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and sugar into large bowl of electric mixer. Add shortening and milk; mix until blended. Add eggs, molasses and melted chocolate. Beat two minutes longer on low speed.

Turn batter into 2 well greased 9-inch pans. Bake in 350-degree oven 25 minutes. Frost as desired.

Today's hostess enjoys the simplicity of packaged ingredients.

A popular favorite served for special occasions was Chocollasses Cake, a family tradition in the days when traditions were being set. The whole family loved the sweet goodness of mo-

Put Tasty Dressing Between Two Patties

Ground beef by any other name is still ground beef, but there are so many ways to prepare it into sumptuous yet inexpensive main course dishes that we can fool the family, and even honored guests.

A good example is this new recipe for stuffed wheat germ burgers with a creamy cheese sauce, which can be truly called delicious, hearty and nutritious. The burgers are delicately spiced with celery, onion, parsley and mustard, and wheat germ, adding its nutlike crunch-ness, also contributes its fine bonus of vitamins and minerals.

The cheese sauce is optional, but it gives a gourmet touch and lots of eye- as well as taste-appeal.

STUFFED WHEAT GERM BURGERS

3 cups (1½ lbs.) ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup finely chopped celery
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup soft bread cubes
½ cup wheat germ

1 tablespoon chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon water

Prepare Cheese Sauce (below). Cover and set aside until ready to serve.

Combine beef and 1 tsp. salt. Shape into 8 thin patties. Melt butter in skillet. Add celery and onion. Sauté until onion is soft.

Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Mound stuffing on 4 patties. Top with remaining patties and press meat edges together over stuffing.

Broil burgers 4 inches from heat for 10-12 minutes, or until done as desired, turning once. Serve hot with Cheese Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Cheese Sauce

1 can (10½ ounce) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
¼ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Combine ingredients; mix well. Heat and stir until sauce is hot and cheese melted.

It's not a diet tuna. It's real tuna. Empress uses only the plumpest filets of white Albacore. We call it skinny tuna because of the way we pack it. Most tuna comes packed in oil. Fatty oil. You can pour off the oil but not the calories. Skinny tuna, packed in water, has only half the calories of the oil soaked kind. And with no oil to disguise the taste, Empress has a fresher, more natural flavor. Serve your family a tuna that tastes like tuna. Empress, the skinny tuna. Half the calories of the oil-packed kind. You don't need a weight problem to love it. Empress, the skinny tuna.

TUNA ACORN SQUASH BAKE — Hand-some, green acorn squash halves hold a filling of canned tuna, the meat from the squash, nuts and honey. For garnish and tang, a slice of lemon does wonders.

Add Walnuts, Too

Fill Baked Acorn Squash With Tuna

Fall shows her colors in a number of ways, but nowhere are they more magnificently displayed than in the fruit and vegetable stands scattered throughout the countryside. Here, sturdy wooden crates and baskets overflow with red and gold apples, multi-colored gourds, orange pumpkins and a variety of yellow and green squash.

And speaking of squash, have you stuffed one lately? If the answer is "no," then treat yourself to some acorn squash... easily recognized by its "acorn" shape and deep green skin.

Make the stuffing from the flesh of the squash plus canned tuna, and a hearty main course is yours.

Tuna is a fine food for all kinds of main courses ranging from chowders to salads, and though you may not realize it, it is an excellent source of protein.

While cans of tuna are usually a staple item in the American home, we owe much to the Japanese fishermen for keeping it there. These industrious people are responsible for providing about 40 per cent of all tuna packed by American canneries. So cherish that tuna and enjoy it with fall vegetables in dishes such as these:

Tuna Acorn Squash Bake
2 acorn squash, halved
1 Tablespoon butter or margarine

¼ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons honey
½ cup chopped walnuts
2 cans (6½ to 7 ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked
2 lemon slices, halved
4 sprigs parsley
Remove seeds from squash and place in shallow pan. Dot with butter; surround with ½ inch water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes or until centers are soft.

Remove from oven; scoop out centers and reserve shells. Mash squash with salt, lemon juice, honey and brown sugar. Stir in walnuts and tuna. Heap tuna mixture into reserved shells; place ½ lemon slice atop each. Return to oven 20 to 25 minutes or until heated through. Garnish with parsley.

Why Not Try Fish Fillets at Breakfast

Fish and eggs for breakfast? "Why not?" asks the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. Nothing is more appealing in the early morning than a platter of fried fish fillets and eggs, the Bureau says in announcing its June "recipe of the month" — breakfast fish fillet.

BCF points out that breakfast should contain from ¼ to ½ of daily nutritional requirements and that fish is a high-quality protein food abundantly supplied with vitamins and minerals.

BCF suggests rounding out a fish fillet breakfast with an egg and orange juice.

Breakfast Fish Fillet
2 pounds fish fillets, fresh or frozen
¼ cup lemon juice
3 eggs, beaten
1½ teaspoons salt
1 cup flour

Thaw frozen fillets. Cut into serving-size portions. Place fish in a shallow baking dish. Pour lemon juice over fish and let stand 10 minutes, turning once.

Combine egg and salt. Roll fillets in flour and dip in egg. Fry immediately in hot fat at moderate heat until brown on one side; turn carefully and brown the other side.

Cooking time approximately 6 to 8 minutes depending on thickness of fish. Serves 6.

For further breakfast seafood suggestions, the Bureau suggests that persons write for the Bureau recipe booklet, "Top O' the Mornin' With Fish and Shellfish."

Lawlessness and the Public—4

Police Chief Hanger Offers Steps to Fight Crime

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is or at least part of the answer, to the crime problem? Political analysts express doubt that either major political party will come forth with a concrete anticrime program in 1968.)

By MEL NEWMAN

Once the average citizen becomes convinced that criminal activity has in fact gotten out of hand and that specific action must be taken to reverse this trend, he must be given a choice of action.

Crime will be a major campaign issue, it is agreed, but probably will be dealt with only in the vague terms of slogans similar to "crime in the streets" and "lawless elements" used in the presidential election of 1964.

What steps are the answer, the presidential election of 1964.

On the national political level, the concepts of law and law enforcement and violence as a result of recent racial unrest have become associated emotionally.

FEAR LISTENS

Neither party, as a result, is anxious to become labeled the party of bigotry or the party that allows conditions which foment civil disorder.

But suggestions have been made, and a choice of steps has been offered, at least on the local level.

Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger has recommended a review of all criminal laws for the purpose of deciding which of these need to be reorganized, overhauled and updated to serve the needs of modern society and assure their clarity of meaning.

"These laws," said Hanger, "have been formulated and implemented over a period of a great many years and, in many instances, are found to be archaic and ineffective in solving modern problems."

PROPOSALS LISTED

Several changes, he said, should be legislated:

- Attorneys should not be provided at public expense to indigent persons charged with a criminal offense until such persons have been arraigned.

- There should be a return to the practice of setting high bonds on criminals proved dangerous, for the purpose of isolating them from society.

- The threatening or harassment of complainants or witnesses by defendants or persons acting in their behalf should be regarded by the courts as a serious breach of the law.

- Resisting arrest or interfering with a law enforcement officer should be considered equally serious.

- The county prosecuting attorney should be given an adequate staff of highly trained assistants to assure a better balance of qualifications on the part of defense and prosecution attorneys.

- The practice of permitting persons charged with felonies to enter pleas of guilty to lesser charges for no other purpose than to dispose of the case should be stopped.

- Persons who are charged with serious crimes of violence and are subsequently committing to mental institutions for the criminally insane should not be released directly into society merely upon the conclusion that they may be cured.

With the legislation of these changes and an easing of the relatively new restrictions on police officers' freedom of investigation and interrogation, Hanger and others believe, the balance of justice will be swung from in favor of the guilty.

The suspected, they maintain, will continue to be protected. Only the influence of public opinion on legislators and the courts will bring these changes, or any other course of action deemed necessary by the concerned citizenry.

But a choice, not of slogans, but of actions, must be made.

Students Get Aid

LANSING (AP)—Some 1,951 students have been awarded state competitive scholarships for the 1967-68 academic year. The total is in addition to 5,731 freshman awards announced last April. The newly named winners were not included in the earlier awards but do qualify now, said Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction. Some have completed applications, had different financial circumstances or changed college preference, he said. Polley said about 30,000 applications are expected before the Oct. 14 deadline for 1968-69 scholarships.

Canadians Are Nervous

Showdown on Quebec Feared

MONTREAL (AP) — Judy premier, Daniel Johnson, the central government to tell us. Heft watches a dust-bomb fight question comes down to now. The statements can be between her Richard and some "equality" — both a genuine body else's Jean-Jacques, fig-lingual government in Ottawa ures they're just kids, and goes and a better fiscal arrangement on greeting the neighbors on for his province, among other things — or "independence."

Invariably, she says "Bon-It is for us to dictate our con-jour, madame," "part of the bil-lingual pyrofool she has learned, stricken federal government in living in the Montreal suburb of vites us to begin a deaf man's Notre Dame de Grace. The dialogue and open avenues that French-Canadian women on the it has already carefully sealed block still call back "Hi, Judy," off," said Jean-Noel Tremblay, but she thinks things in the Johnson's cultural affairs minis-neighborhood have changed dur-ter, presumably with the pre-ing the last two months. There mier's approval.

"We were at a party Saturday and it was the only thing any body talked about. It's all going to come down on our heads."

She is not certain what-violence, Quebec's independence from Canada, or language laws that will make her hus-band struggle with his tax forms in French.

After 200 years of dealing with Quebec on their own terms, many people of English background are nervous. The French-Canadian nationalism they hoped was quieted, after a few years of threats and bombings, has revived with the visit of French President Charles de Gaulle and the end of Expo euphoria.

SHOWDOWN SENSED

This time, it is with a broader, more respectable political base, English Canada senses a showdown. French Canada, pleased by the notion, is trying urgently to capitalize on it.

An official confrontation comes in November when Canada's provincial premiers gather in Ontario to discuss writing a new constitution for the nation. Quebec demands special status and acknowledgment of its role in the country's future as "the national home of one of its two founding peoples."

STEEL TRUCKS BURNED — Four trucks used to haul steel were set afire early yesterday as the violence-marked steel haulers' strike continued. Robert Wise, owner of Bob's Trucking Service at Poast Town, Ohio, said the two big rigs were a total loss and estimated the damage at more than $40,000. Butler County sheriff's deputies said the trucks were drenched with gasoline, then set on fire.

BIG BROOD — Candy, a 2½-year-old St. Bernard, takes it easy in the middle of her brood at her mistress's home in Knoxville, Tenn. The canine, owned by Jackie Ford, 18, University of Tennessee medical technology student, gave birth to 16 pups last week. Two were stillborn and two died. The average litter size for the breed is eight to 10 puppies. Miss Ford feeds the pups about seven quarts of milk daily, because they are not taking to their mother's.

TRAIN WRECK IN BELGIUM — This was the scene yesterday near Liege, Belgium, after three passenger trains crashed, killing 10. Police reported that 80 persons were injured in the wreck.

Twenty of the injured were listed in serious condition. The trains involved were an express going to Brussels and two slower trains bound for Liege.

U.N. Seabed Debate Called Sleeper of Deep Importance

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations, which has refereed some colossal battles over tiny prizes, addresses itself this session to the disposition of the richest treasure house on earth: the sea.

Amid the smoke of debate on Vietnam and the Middle East, the enigmatic subject of the sea and its wealth evokes little outright passion. But many delegates believe the "seabed debates"—starting this month and ending in a treaty perhaps years away—may prove to be the long-term sleeper of the 22nd General Assembly session.

Debate will hinge on a treaty, proposed by Malta, under which the seabed and ocean floor beyond any nation's territorial waters and continental shelf would be controlled by the United Nations, with exploitation of its resources devoted solely to peaceful uses and the development of poor countries.

STAGGERING RESOURCES

Those resources, not yet precisely gauged, are already known to be staggering.

For a penny a day, every person on earth could be fed, nutritiously if not temptingly, by meal ground from a fish called hake.

Under the continental shelf alone there exist more than a trillion barrels of oil—several hundred times the world's current annual consumption.

HIGH-GRADE ORE

Scattered all over the ocean floor are chunks of high-grade minerals—manganese, nickel, cobalt, copper, phosphorus, limestone, magnesium, potassium, boron, sulphur, aluminum and others—which apparently have been concentrated by the sea's action, almost as in a chemical retort. These unusually high-grade minerals can be mined from the sea at a fraction of the cost of land mining.

Why have these untold riches gone untapped for so long?

Because of the limits of man's technology. For centuries it was considered impossible ever to conduct undersea operations beyond the relatively shallow depths of the continental shelves, where fisheries, pearl and sponge divers and crab and lobster fishermen had already staked their claims.

SCIENCE PROGRESSES

The science of oceanology has made impressive strides in this century, partly aided by adaptations of technology developed for exploration of outer space. Scientists have already drawn rich samples of oil, gas and mineral reserves from some ocean depths.

Where U.N. debate is expected to flourish—and perhaps wax hotter as years go by—is on the subject of jurisdiction.

The high seas, and whatever lies beneath, have always been regarded as the common property of all mankind. So they would remain, treaty proponents believe, if they were under control of this international organization. While there is legal precedent for the United Nations to be a property owner, there is no precedent for establishing ownership of the world's oceans. The subject simply never has come up before. The United Nations' 122 members would have to agree, although not unanimously, to moving into this legal vacuum.

CONCEPT OF JURISDICTION

Then, or perhaps before, they would have to turn to the currently accepted interpretations of national jurisdiction over territorial waters and continental shelves.

In 1945, sensing the future importance of the continental shelves' wealth, the United States laid down the so-called Truman Proclamation, simply declaring that it owned the shelf along its ocean boundaries.

Many other nations followed suit, and Chile, Ecuador and Peru even claimed the shelves 200 miles out to sea.

In subsequent diplomatic maneuvers, a generally accepted definition of continental shelves came to be the undersea land out to a depth of 200 meters—650 feet—"or, beyond that limit, to where the depth of the waters admits of the exploitation of the natural resources."

In the light of new technology, that definition appears due for reappraisal.

In a thesis widely read here and in Geneva, I.L. Cmdr. Richard J. Grunawalt wrote: "Man's destiny may be in the stars, but it is submitted that his very survival is locked beneath the sea. It is the conquest of inner space rather than outer space that will provide mankind with the food, the fuel and the minerals necessary to free the world of want and famine."

MOVIE BILLBOARD MAN — Heinz Drude, 44, who paints the massive movie billboards that dominate walls and rooftops in New York's Times Square, stands in front of his latest creation. It's a six-story, block-long spectacular for "Dr. Dolittle" which towers over Broadway from 45th to 46th Streets.

Giant Creations Unsigned

Most-Exposed Artist Unsung

NEW YORK (AP) — The artist whose paintings probably get the greatest exposure in the world never gets to sign his creations and he has never met any of his subjects.

He is Heinz Drude, who paints the massive movie billboards that dominate building walls and rooftops in Times Square, where more than 10 million people pass every week.

His latest creation is a six-story high, block-long spectacular for "Dr. Dolittle" in which a giant Rex Harrison sits astride a giraffe. The billboard, which towers over the west side of Broadway from 45th to 46th Streets, is said to be the world's largest.

Drude, 44, a small, blond native of Hamburg, Germany, came to this country in 1956. A few months later he joined Artkraft Strauss, the company that erects many of the billboards in Times Square.

8-FOOT EYE
"I once painted Rita Hayworth and just her eye was nine feet long," he said. Julie Christie's head is 37 feet high in another advertisement for "Far from the Madding Crowd." Sometimes his paintings get quick results. When he painted a rear view of Jane Fonda in the nude, people complained. "So we covered up part of it with canvas and let it go like that," he recalled.

Another time, for the movie "Naked Maja," he had just gotten the made painting up when the police drove up and told him to cover it. It was almost a reenactment of what happened more than a hundred years ago when Spanish artist Francisco Goya painted the original "Naked Maja" using the Duchess of Alba as his model.

The duke objected to the painting of his wife and demanded that Goya paint on some clothes. Goya substituted a clothed copy and preserved the original. But Drude spent the rest of his day painting on a diaphanous gown.

COPY SQUARES

Drude has never met any of the hundreds of movie stars he has painted. He generally works from a small picture. For "Dr. Dolittle" he used a record jacket as his guide. He draws squares on the small picture to make it easier for him to copy in large size. The lettering and backgrounds for the billboards are done by other artists.

He often paints the pictures in the shop of Artkraft Strauss, but sometimes he has to do it on a scaffold high above Times Square.

"That's when it's difficult," he said. "You're too close to judge your work and you can't step back. You've got to go down and look from across the street."

SEVEREST CRITIC

Drude said his severest critic is his wife, who comes in about once a month from their home in Port Washington on Long Island. "She'll look at one and say, 'That's a good job.' Or she'll say, 'Heinz, you didn't do so well.'"

At home his hobby is—what else?—painting. He does portraits, but his favorite subject is horses.

Is he bothered by the fact that his creations never last beyond the run of a movie? "Well, not really," he said, "but sometimes when they take down the ones on glass and wash them off, I think it's a shame."

Quittings Halt Mexican Excavation

By Science Service
MEXICO CITY—Excavations at the Cholula Anthropological Project, among the most ambitious archaeological explorations on the American continent, have been suspended by the sudden mass resignation of 300 scientists and workers.

Over signatures ranging from the director down to watchmen, the disgruntled workers accuse the National Institute of Anthropology and History of "habitual inactivity and malvergence." "The Institute seems to have as its policy a do nothing, produce nothing, and don't let anyone do anything policy," the Cholula project workers say.

Workers are also upset by what they term attempts by the Institute to turn the Cholula ruins into a "showcase for tourists." Their work, they say, was hampered by "interference, stubborn resistance and fighting of any new ideas presented, and persistent sabotaging of the work of young archaeologists."

Secretary of Education Augustin Yanez has been approached by a worker's committee to investigate the charges. Meanwhile there is a total work stoppage.

RECURRING SQUABBLES

Differences of opinion between archaeologists in the field and higher-ups have been a recurring theme in Mexico. The Institute is hard pressed for funds, has a limited budget and at last count there were some 70,000 archaeological sites listed in Mexico.

Another problem the institute and Mexican authorities have been unable to contain is the pillaging of archaeological sites.

In recent years a good many smart and unscrupulous Americans, sniffing big money as demand for Mexican archaeological items grows in the world market, have been buying up pieces and smuggling them out of the country.

Some get caught, but the traffic goes on since pieces can bring anywhere from $100 or so for a clay figure or vase up to many thousands.

Some big operators use yachts and private planes in smuggling this, but lack a police force large enough to clamp down. Mexican law prohibits the export of archaeological items.

Surge by Rocky-Reagan Ticket Seen

By the Associated Press

Politicians continue to announce tallies indicating politicians who say they don't want to be President have the best chance of being elected.

Here is a roundup of poll statements, trial balloons and grass-roots pulse-taking in current presidential politics:

—The Polls: The Gallup Poll reports 55 per cent of those responding would vote for a Republican ticket headed by New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller with Gov. Ronald Reagan of California in the second spot. Only 44 per cent favored President Lyndon B. Johnson and Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Both Republicans say they will not seek nomination to either position.

—An Assessment: Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., can win the Democratic presidential nomination from President Johnson, Gov. John Connally of Texas reportedly has told close friends. Connally says he is disturbed by prospects for "stability of the party," but would not comment on the report. Kennedy says he isn't interested in the nomination.

—Response to an Ad: A Los Angeles clothier who, in a full page ad in the New York Times urged President Johnson to give up hopes for reelection, says he received 5,700 responses, 82 per cent of which were favorable. Harry Roth, who urges a quick end to the Vietnam war, says he also received $71,508 in financial pledges and the promises of 1,594 persons to work to help defeat Johnson and nominate another Democratic candidate.

NOT PUBLIC

—Draft Reagan: An Oklahoma Republican leader says three groups are working in his state to gain the GOP nomination for Reagan. And he says Reagan has endorsed their efforts but won't say so in public. Al Snipes, former Oklahoma County GOP chairman, said if Reagan is a candidate "he will be nominated on the first ballot at the convention. At this very moment he is 5 million to 10 million votes stronger nationally than Richard Nixon."

—More on Brainwashing: One of George Romney's present foreign policy advisers helped present the 1965 Vietnam briefing during which Romney now says he was brainwashed into endorsing the war, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, declared Wednesday. Hays says the adviser, Jonathan Moore, was a State Department official assigned to escort Romney and nine other governors during a Vietnam tour.

—Rockefeller on Vietnam: New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he won't comment on reports he no longer supports President Johnson's Vietnam war policy except to say "that I share the hope an honorable settlement can be reached."

—Democrats on Rockefeller: John Bailey, national Democratic chairman, says he is convinced Rockefeller really has changed his mind on Vietnam and takes it as a "clear sounding bell" of Rockefeller's intention to seek the GOP nomination after all. "If he plays politics with Vietnam he will live to regret it," Bailey said and added: "Rockefeller's appetite for the Republican nomination obviously has been whetted by Romney's blundering, Nixon's wondering and Reagan's thundering."

—Another voice: Campaign workers for George Wallace, former Alabama governor, reportedly have begun organizational meetings aimed at getting his name on the primary ballot in Ohio. Wallace, who tours California later this month, says he will run unless one of the major parties backs his drive to "return control of the schools to the states."

Senators Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Republican Robert A. Griffin voted with the majority Wednesday as the Senate approved a motion to eliminate from the anti-poverty bill a proposed $2.8 billion program to provide emergency employment. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., voted to retain the program. The vote to dump the proposal was 54-28.

ON THE WAY — A school bus owned and renovated by Fleet Carrier Corp., 508 E. South Blvd., was donated recently to the St. Joseph Home for Children in Jackson and will be used by the orphanage there.

Abe's Era to Echo Again on Ford's Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford's Theater, its stage empty since President Abraham Lincoln was fatally shot while watching a play there 102 years ago, soon will echo anew the sounds of live theater.

The Interior Department said Wednesday that 1860-era plays will be presented at Ford's beginning early next year. The Ford's Theater Society, a non-profit group, hopes to have a repertory group presenting a nine-month season beginning next Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday.

Announcement of the undertaking, helped along by a $250,000 grant from Lincoln National Life Insurance Co., came from Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall at a news conference in the partially refurbished theater six blocks from the White House.

$2.7-MILLION FIX-UP
Ford's has been closed to tourists since the Interior Department began in 1965 a $2.7-million restoration.

Backstage is still a tangle of scaffolding and wiring, but the theater interior already exudes the aura of that day—April 14, 1865—when Lincoln was shot by actor John Wilkes Booth.

Separate cotton lace and damask curtains decorate the box where Lincoln and his wife sat

SAME KINDS OF SEATS
On the orchestra floor are replicas of the cane-bottomed chairs used at the time. Two curving balconies are partially equipped with the type of long benches on which patrons sat.

Ornate carvings on the balcony facades, winding staircase and wall and balcony candelabra—all reproduced from photos taken after the assassination—also are in place.

There also are some differences.

The theater will seat only 600 instead of the 1,700 it did in Lincoln's day. Udall explained the cutback involved stricter fire regulations and "the fact we found that people of this age require broader seats."

ACOUSTICS CHANGED
Also changed—and hopefully improved, said Udall—will be the theater's acoustics and backstage equipment.

Frankie Childers Hewitt, an officer of Ford's Theater Society, said plays to be presented will include many from the 1860s which Lincoln, an avid theatergoer, attended, along with modern plays about Lincoln or his era.

Grant, Site for Cell Study

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The Tissue Culture Association announced Wednesday it had received a grant of $1.8 million and 32 acres of land at Lake Placid, N.Y., for a teaching and research facility devoted to the problems of cell culture.

Dr. Donald J. Merchant, professor of microbiology at the University of Michigan and president of the association, said the institution would house a small, permanent staff of scientists. He said it would be the first such facility devoted exclusively to the problems of cell culture.

The 20-year-old association has about 1,500 members throughout the world, mainly in the Western Hemisphere.

Atlanta Again Welcomes 'Gone With the Wind'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — There were tears again on the faces of Atlantans, clad in black ties and fabulous gowns, Wednesday night as Sherman's troops laid siege to their town in the new premiere of "Gone With the Wind."

The applause, like the audience of 20 years ago, was spirited again when Scarlett O'Hara drew a revolver from the pocket of her skirt and shot the Yankee soldier who invaded her home, Tara.

The film classic of the South during Civil War days was a smashing success at its original premiere here in 1939 and it was a success again Wednesday. But there was a difference.

Olivia De Havilland, now surviving top star of the epic motion picture, and still strikingly beautiful, reigned as the undisputed queen of this premiere.

BROTHERS REGRET
"I only regret that Margaret isn't here to see how long her book has lasted," Mitchell said.

Wednesday marked the sixth release of the movie, bringing it to a new generation, and, for the first time, in a wide screen version.

But it is the same spellbinding three hours and 40 minutes of the cotton, slave and carpetbagger era, gone forever.

At the original premier, 300,000 persons lined the streets and traffic was virtually at a standstill. The state declared a holiday.

The crowds were fewer Wednesday night. About 3,500 persons watched as celebrities entered the theater.

Township to Shun Federal Aid for Sewage Disposal

FREELAND (AP) — Tittabawassee supervisors have voted to attempt to build a $600,000 sewage disposal system without any help from the federal government.

The supervisors voted to seek approval of the project by local petition. Signatures of 51 percent of the 800 property owners in this Midland suburb are required.

Michael J. Plesko, a member of the board of supervisors, said the township decided to go it alone because "funds are not available through government agencies at this time."

OTHER CELEBRITIES
Other celebrities were Ann Rutherford, Eve Keyes and Victor Jory, all of whom starred in "GWTW."

There was a haunting nostalgia, however, for Clark Gable and Vivian Leigh, whose glittering presence at the original premiere caused the most excitement since Sherman marched through Georgia.

But Gable and Miss Leigh live on in the vital and indestructible roles they created in "GWTW" and are as real to southerners as any historical figures.

Also missing was the author of the book, Margaret Mitchell.

Change of Heart Brings Dismissal of Draft Charge

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Joseph R. Cruciani obtained an indictment after Yates S. Bridges, 22, failed recently to report for induction in the Army.

But Cruciani asked federal Judge Wilson Warlick Wednesday to dismiss the charge because in the interlude Bridges had a change of heart and reported to the induction center.

Bridges flunked the physical examination.

Said Judge Warlick in dismissing the case, "Obviously the prosecution ends if he failed the test."

Thug Makes Sure Woman Is 'Busted'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A Toledo woman was stopped near the city's downtown area Wednesday by a man who demanded her money.

She replied that she didn't have any. The man searched her pockets and found out she was telling the truth, she told police.

He kissed her, said "I'm sorry" and departed.

Aid to Flint Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has announced increase of a grant by $86,000, to a total of $1,086,550, to Flint, Mich. The money is for the Dewey and Homedale code enforcement areas in Flint.

She Didn't Lose Her Shirt at the Fair

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Wallace White, secretary of the Kansas State Fair, asks with an impish grin: "Did you forget your pants at the fair?"

Among other items that have turned up in lost and found following the close of the fair are shoes, socks, a pair of white spats, a pipe, and more than a half dozen wallets.

The pants?

White describes them as red petti-pants with a fringe on the bottom.

Trading Is Moderate

Stock Mart Advance Narrows

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced narrowly in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The margin of advances over declines among individual stocks shrank to a handful of issues.

Brokers said the performance was due in part to two factors: reduced activity because of the Jewish religious holiday and signs that the Ford strike was beginning to pinch the economy.

Mail order-retails stood out as an advancing group with Sears Roebuck up nearly 2 points. Steels, electronics, chemicals and airlines were mainly lower. Most other groups were mixed.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few ranging to a point or so.

McDonnell-Douglas was heavily traded and advanced more than 3 points.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 2.48 at 923.77.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had edged up 0.3 to 338.8 with industrials up 1.1, rails off 2 and utilities unchanged.

fractions were Reeves Industries, Ramer Industries, Mead Johnson, Allied Artists and H&B American. Small losses were taken by Rusco Industries, Warner Bros., Seven Arts and Goldfield.

Euromart Bid

British Party Gives Support to Wilson

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) — Britain's Labor party today decisively endorsed the bid by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government to lead Britain into the European Common Market.

A move by some big unions to lay down new conditions for British entry into the Euromart was voted down by the party's annual convention by a 2-1 margin.

In a series of four separate ballots it became clear that the party's members as a whole were ready and eager to meet the challenges posed by British entry into the six-nation European Economic Community (EEC).

Results of the four votes:

● A long statement by the party's leadership detailing Britain's approach to EEC was approved 4,147,000 to 2,032,000.

● A resolution sponsored by ex-Cabinet minister Frank Cousins' huge Transport and General Workers' union was opposed by party leaders and voted down by the convention somewhat less substantially, 3,356,000 to 2,539,000. Cousins had urged that three precisely formulated conditions be imposed upon Britain's negotiations.

● A shorter resolution submitted by another union was supported by the leadership and approved by the convention as a whole, 3,359,000 to 2,697,000. It merely welcomed the government's decision to seek entry into the EEC.

● A shorter resolution submitted by a leftist party group flatly opposed the Labor government's attempt to enter EEC. Its arguments, couched in doctrinaire, near-Communist terms, were thrown out overwhelmingly, 4,559,000 votes to 229,000.

Most of the 6,000 delegates to the party convention are employed by the members of the EEC groups, they were sent to cast block votes in their names. The various counts, totaling millions, reflect the size of the full, or affiliated, membership of the labor movement.

France's NATO Pullout Seen

ANN ARBOR (AP) — "I will stick my neck out and say that France will pull out of NATO in a matter of months," former Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Wednesday.

Acheson, speaking at an informal question-and-answer session at the University of Michigan, did not elaborate.

In a reference to the war in Vietnam, Acheson said, "May be we overdid this concentration in European policies following World War II. Perhaps we are now overcompensating for the earlier neglect of the Far East."

With Acheson was former U.S. ambassador to Japan Edwin O. Reischauer. Both spoke earlier in the week in the university's Voices of Civilization program celebrating its 150th anniversary.

Fisher Body to Expand Warren Plant

Construction of a 401,600-square-foot addition to the Fisher Body Central Engineering building in Warren was announced today by Kenneth N. Scott, general manager of Fisher Body Division and a vice president of General Motors.

The new facilities, a two-story engineering addition and a one-story shop, are outlined by the dotted lines.

LBJ's Thrift Signal Awaited

While House now may have to devise some new plays if it seems like a good thing. Most people might be taking home bigger pay checks and the disillusionment sets in only with the realization that prices are higher, too.

Speaking here this week, Charles Zwick, assistant director of the Budget Bureau, indicated the administration would resist cuts that threatened to undermine its domestic programs.

The results of this impasse, if it persists, could be very dangerous to the economy, for the signals of rapid expansion seem to be flashing from many directions.

There is no such thing as a free lunch, and there is no such thing as a free lunch.

Clearly, voters are concerned about what they feel is an absence of old-fashioned American thrift on every level of government from their own local affairs to Washington.

They have watched their Social Security taxes rise. They have watched their state legislatures this year add close to $2.5 billion to taxes, according to the Tax Foundation, a nonprofit research organization.

New sales taxes make every shopping trip a reminder that life is expensive. Nine states this year raised gasoline taxes, 10 states raised tobacco taxes, four raised alcohol taxes and seven states added really transfer taxes.

Although one of the big offensive plays by tax advocates was that 10 per cent surtax on incomes would merely bring taxes up to about where they were in 1964, the defense already has routed that strategy.

Pierre Rinfret, a private economist, commented recently that if we were paying taxes today at merely the 1964 rate, "our actual taxes paid would be approximately $10 billion less than they now are."

Several surveys have shown that during the past two years American consumers have become agitated about the state of the economy and have, perhaps defensively, cut their spending and added to savings.

What is surprising is that this uncertainty occurred during a period when the economy was expanding during a period that followed immediately after a cut in income taxes.

CHANGE IN PATTERN

This was quite a change of pattern for the American consumer, who had run up debt in recent years at a rate faster than the much-chastised federal government.

Now the latest figures show that the consumer added $344 million to his installment credit during August, a sizable jump, with much of the total coming in personal loans and loans for furniture, appliances and clothing.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

"We have held Chicago Title & Trust for nine years and England Telephone or Consolidated Edison might be a good move, since Title doesn't seem to do much. Would you advise this? Also, should we make a change with our Monsanto stock?" H.H.

A) Unless you require more income, I don't believe you would gain anything by switching your stock into U.S. Tel. or Consolidated Edison. Chicago Title is of excellent quality but earnings in the title insurance business have been rather static in recent years. Early in 1967 the company acquired Halsey, Stuart & Co., one of the biggest investment banking firms in the country and this move should diversify earnings. Your shares have risen recently to their best level since 1964 and seem headed higher.

Consolidated Edison and N.E. Telephone are good, slow growth issues which have gone nowhere for a long time and seem unlikely to improve your capital position. Early in 1967 they were hurt by lower prices for synthetic fibers, but the shares have been acting better lately and I would hold for further recovery.

Q) "I would like to know how to go about buying $10,000 of tax-exempt bonds. How much would they cost and who would I talk to about this?" J.B.

A) Tax-exempt bonds are sold by most major banks and security dealers. Their price and yield depend on their credit standing — as measured by the ratings assigned to them — and on their coupon rate and maturity date. I would avoid 2½ or 3 per cent bonds selling at a discount. These offer a relatively high yield but a low current return and the possibility of a capital gains tax when they mature. There are presently available Jacksonville, Fla., electric Revenue 4s due annually, Saturday, October 7, 9-11 a.m. and AA and offered at 100% and you can buy State of California 4½ per cent, also rated AA, due March 1, 1991 at 100.

Junior Editors Quiz on— JUMPING BEANS

Question: Does a Mexican jumping bean really jump?

Answer: It seems impossible that any bean could jump, but Billy and Margie are watching some beans which every now and then roll over or actually jump.

They are beans of the spurge family of shrubs and are found in South and Central America. Mexicans call them leapers. In the U.S. they are usually called Mexican jumping beans; although in the Southwest they are known as bronco beans, because they seem to buck.

Inside these beans is the larvae of one variety of gypsy moth whose Latin name is Carpocapsa Saltiana.

The caterpillars of this moth grow up inside the bean. When they are full grown they begin, as many caterpillars do, to spin a cocoon inside of which they can change to the moth stage.

While spinning the cocoon, the larvae often grasp the inner walls of the beans with their legs. Then they snap their bodies — and it is this jerky movement which makes the beans buck or jump.

'Listening Ear' Helps Callers Solve Problems

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — two, maybe three, calls a week. You're on the telephone and you get angry. You tell someone off.

As a rule, you don't scream at people. But talking on the telephone made a difference. It made you brave. This quirk in human nature is playing a key role in a rapidly growing service intended to aid and comfort troubled people.

Seven Lutheran ministers who started the service have discovered that distressed people talk more honestly and bravely over the telephone—especially when they don't know the person to whom they are talking.

"The telephone is becoming as much a confessional booth as the church confessional," said the Rev. Elmer Klein, one of the founders.

The Listening Ear, started nine months ago, grew out of a conference of the seven ministers. They were looking for some way to help people "in the immediate time of crisis" and hit upon the idea of a telephone service.

SURPRISING NEED
How much the service was needed has amazed even its organizers. Established to serve four Pittsburgh suburbs—Whitehall, Pleasant Hills, Brentwood and Carrick — the number of The Listening Ear wasn't even listed in the telephone book. Instead, it was circulated on printed cards and in church publications.

The ministers expected to get

There are many similar telephone services, but most of them are designed to handle specific problems, such as helping alcoholics trying to stay sober. The Listening Ear well comes calls from anyone, no matter what the problem is, and the Rev. Mr. Klein believes this may make it the first service of its kind in the country.

DEPENDENT NURSE
"One call came from a nurse working the night shift," she said. "Her patient was a young boy who was slowly dying. She was dependent—and who else could she talk to at 2 o'clock in the morning?"

"Then, we got a call from a man and a wife who were in a violent argument. They wanted advice from a neutral third party."

BROKEN MAN
"There was also a man who came home from work and found his wife had left him. We had no idea the need was so great."

Global production of meat in 1966 was about 21 billion pounds up about five million from 1965.

Tetanus Death Toll: One Million in 10 Years

By Science Service
GENEVA — Tetanus has killed a million people in 10 years; more than 50,000 deaths are formally counted each year, according to a worldwide survey by Dr. Boris Bytchenko, a Russian member of the World Health Organization's Bacteriology Unit.

"Tetanus kills more people than smallpox, rabies, plague, anthrax and polio," he says, "yet it receives less attention by public health authorities and medical science than any of these."
Paradoxically, he notes, lockjaw is easy to prevent by vaccination. But once a victim gets it, chances are he's done for. The fatality rate in the United States is surprisingly high. Up to 78 per cent of the patients die, according to published figures, despite good antibiotics, muscle relaxants and tranquilizers.

Europe, Asia and Africa reportedly enjoy a bit of extra immunity; only half the cases are fatal.
MORE VULNERABLE
"In all parts of the world," Dr. Bytchenko explained in an interview with Science Service, "men appear more vulnerable to the toxin than women, and tetanus strikes hard at newborn children and people over 50."
In some tropical areas, as many as 80 newborns per 1,000 get tetanus and die. (Most of the world's babies are still delivered by midwives or without help; a survey sponsored by the International Federation of Obstetricians and Gynecologists finds it about 75 per cent. These people use bamboo shoots, glass and even cow dung in their ritualized procedures.)

New Prep Leader

3 Scorers Stay Close

The race for scoring honors among Oakland County's prep football players shapes up as a tight one for 1967.

With the season only three games old, there have been two leaders already.

Mike Phillips of Rochester, who held a one touchdown lead with 36 points last week, slipped to second as Doug Meadows of Madison took the top spot with 43 markers.

Phillips is a point off the pace at 42, while Greg Roche of Bloomfield Hills Andover occupies the No. 3 spot with 38.

Cranes Take Harrier Crown in OU Meet

Cranbrook sped home with a one-two finish Wednesday to retain its Oakland University Class B Invitational Cross Country title.

Defending champ Mike Koerner led the Cranes with a 10:28 clocking, six seconds off the "B" record pace he set last fall, and teammate Charlie Craig was 28 seconds behind him in second place.

Detroit St. Anthony was the runner-up to Cranbrook. The Cranes had 34 points and St. Anthony 50. Oxford was a distant third with 106.

Doug Bass placed eighth to lead Oxford's entries. Cranbrook also won the junior varsity meet.

More than 120 boys competed in the two runs over the two-mile course.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Cowboy football play book, stolen Tuesday night when quarterback Don Meredith was dining in a Dallas restaurant, was found Wednesday at Madisonville in Southeast Texas.

Meredith's car, parked in front of the restaurant, was stolen along with the play book and other personal possessions of the Dallas quarterback.

The car was found abandoned near Madisonville and the play book was in it. Cowboys officials breathed a sigh of relief — also Meredith.

Meredith had estimated the value of the play book at $500 — the Cowboy line if one is lost or allowed to be stolen.

St. Andrews No Pushover, Say Sanders, Bill Casper

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Doug Sanders warned 10 of his fellow Americans today that "watch this course of St. Andrews, playing conditions change by the minute."

Of the field of 19 chasing the first prize of $55,000 in the Alcan Golf of the Year Tournament, starting today, Sanders is the only American who has played the Old Course.

Sanders of Tulsa, Okla., played in the British Open here in 1964 and found it a tough course to tame.

"It doesn't matter how much you play this course in practice," he said. "Conditions change so quickly to be unbelievable."

Billy Casper, of Peacock Gap, Calif. — the 4-1 favorite to take the first prize — agreed with Sanders.

"I played this course only in practice," Casper said. "But the wind changes so quickly that it's almost impossible to chart the course correctly."

Casper pointed to one example — the short 11th. "One day in practice I reached the green with a six iron," he said. "The next day I had to use a full blooded two iron."

Gay Brewer, reigning United States Masters Champion from Dallas, Tex., was 7-1 second favorite with Bobby Nichols, Louisville, Ky., and Sanders bracketed at 9-1.

Other Americans in the 72-hole tournament that ends Sunday are George Archer, Gilroy, Calif.; Miller Barber, Sherman, Tex.; Homero Blancas, Houston, Texas; Gardner Dickinson, Lost Tree, Fla.; Mason Rudolph, Leigh Acres, Fla.; Dave Stockton, San Bernardino, Calif.; and Bert Weaver, Beaumont, Tex.

Browns' Kelly Tops Rushers on NFL List

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns moved from third place to the top of the National Football League's rushers, gaining 120 yards last week, according to official statistics released by the NFL Wednesday.

Ernie Koy of the New York Giants, a newcomer to the rushing leaders, took over Kelly's No. 3 spot, gaining 160 yards in 14 attempts against Washington. Koy has a total of 202 yards for a 7.5 average. Kelly has 262 yards and a six-yard average.

In passing, Baltimore's Johnny Unitas maintained his lead with a $3.1 passing completion average. He has hit on 65 of 103 passes for 1,021 yards and six touchdowns.

Charley Taylor of the Washington Redskins took over first place in pass completions with seven catches for a total of 18. Willie Richardson of Baltimore dropped to second place with 17 catches.

In scoring, Jim Bakken remains the leader with 38 points on 10 field goals and eight extra points. Homer Jones of the Giants remains second with six touchdowns and 36 points.

Gary Player Leads 3-Round Match

NGOYA, Japan (AP) — Gary Player shot a two-under par 68 Thursday, maintaining a six-stroke edge over Jack Nicklaus in the second round of a three-round tournament here.

Player's two-round total is 137, with Nicklaus at 143 and Arnold Palmer at 144. Nicklaus shot a 68 Thursday, making up for an opening-round 75, but Palmer's score on the second day was 74.

The first round was played at Saitama and the third round is scheduled for Osaka.

The final round will be played today with the winner receiving $25,000. Second-place money is $15,000 and the third-place finisher gets $10,000.

Major Hoople Returns to 'Sanity' Selections

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE, Original Wizard of Odds

Egad, friends, with the favorites falling faster than autumn leaves, the 1967 season will surely go down in football history as the Year of the Upheaval.

The season has barely reached the toddling stage, but already the ranks of the undefeated have been thinned.

to slightly more than a corporal's guard. And the schedule makers have fixed it so several more unsullied records will be tarnished this Saturday.

However, we can expect a return to sanity on the nation's college gridirons this weekend as most of the favored eleven will emerge victorious.

The Old Boy Himself

Conference play gets underway in earnest as Alabama meets Mississippi in the Southeastern loop, Purdue, "Never-say-die" conqueror of the Fighting Irish, takes on Northwestern in Big Ten play, and rugged Southern California enters Stanford in Athletic Association of Western Universities competition. (Jove, I'd better have the boys in the Owls Club work on shortening that name!)

I predict Alabama will prevail, 22-10. Purdue by a 28-12 count and the Trojans by a 37-21 score — um-khum!

No Hoople Forecast would be complete without some surprises, so I've saved the best for the last.

NY Withstands Pistons' Surge

DETROIT HOOPSTERS Lose at Ypsilanti

YPSILANTI (AP) — The Detroit Pistons came storming back from a 19-point deficit in the last quarter last night to tie the New York Knicks with 3½ minutes remaining, but when the buzzer sounded Detroit had lost its sixth straight NBA exhibition, 115-114.

The Pistons scored 28 points to New York's eight within 8½ minutes to tie the game at 105-104 on a basket by 1967-68 rookie of the year Dave Bing.

SCORE TIED

After the rally, the score was tied three more times but with 69 seconds remaining, New York's Willie Reed gave the Knicks a 113-111 lead and the Pistons never caught up again.

At the end of the first quarter, Detroit led 30-22. Then New York came back to score the first 17 points of the second quarter and took a 57-55 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, led by rookie Phil Jackson's 18 points, New York took a commanding 95-78 advantage. Dave DeBusschere led the Pistons with nine points in their 8½-minute fourth quarter spree.

Terry Dischinger's 27 points paced the Pistons attack. He was followed by Dave Bing with 26. The Pistons, still seeking their first victory of the exhibition season, will play the Boston Celtics tonight at Moline, Ill.

NORTHFIELD, N. J. (AP) — Marge Mason, Englewood, N. J., took a two-stroke lead over Mrs. Hulet Smith, Pebble Beach, Calif., in Wednesday's first round of the U.S. Senior Women's Amateur Golf Championship at the Atlantic City Country Club. She posted a four-over-par 77 to 79 for Mrs. Smith.

WINS METRO PGA TITLE

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP) — Terry Wilcox of Bronxville, N. Y., won the Metropolitan PGA Golf Championship Wednesday with a final round 70 for a 72-hole total of 277, three-under-par.

Luck Helped Purdue Uncover Football Star

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue's Leroy Keyes may be the best all-around football back in the country but he's with the unbeaten Boilermakers almost by accident.

Bernie Miller, Purdue assistant coach, a native of Portsmouth, Va., heard about Keyes' prowess at George Washington Carver High School in Newport News, Va.

Miller arrived at Purdue in 1965 from Iowa State, late in the recruiting season and Coach Jack Mollenkopf told him, "just get one outstanding player out of Virginia or The Carolinas."

LOOKS AT MOVIES

Miller looked at a movie of a

Carver game and after just two minutes he shouted, "Keyes is it."

The 6-foot-3 198-pounder also attracted a gang of other recruiters, including Illinois, Iowa and Penn State.

Keyes finally chose scholastically tough Purdue, explaining, "I want to prove to young men around my area that when a boy gets a chance he'd better take advantage of it."

Keyes played primarily as a defensive back in 1966, his sophomore year. He got his hands on the ball only 21 times on offense. He rushed 12 times for 101 yards and two touchdowns and hit three of three passes for 47 yards and two touchdowns.

On defense, Keyes intercepted four passes for 141 yards and plucked a fumble out of the air to race 85 yards for a touchdown against Notre Dame.

Against Michigan State he ran back seven kickoffs for 183 yards, including a 52-yard return.

DOES EVERYTHING

Purdue opened this fall against Texas A&M, Keyes handled the ball 15 times for 143 yards on rushes, passes and a kickoff return. He plunged for one touchdown and passed 14 yards for another.

In Purdue's 28-21 upset of No. 1 ranked Notre Dame last Saturday, Keyes was in 72 offensive plays and worked 10 minutes on defense. He also kicked, made two kickoff returns, one punt return and a key pass interception.

The muscular Keyes belted the Irish with nine pass catches for 108 yards and one touchdown and knocked down three opponents' passes in addition to the one he stole.

MSU Putting Conference Win Streak on Line

Spartans Host to Wisconsin

Both Teams Sporting
0-2 Marks for '67

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State will defend one of the longest winning streaks in Big Ten football history Saturday when the Spartans begin conference competition with a home game against Wisconsin.

Duffy Daugherty's Spartans, losers of two nonconference games this season, have won their last 14 Big Ten contests.

The second-longest streak in the conference was 15 straight victories by Michigan in 1946-48. Ohio State won a Big Ten record 17 consecutive games in 1954-56.

Michigan State looks like the favorite in Saturday's encounter. Both the Spartans and the Badgers are 0-2 for the season, but State has played tougher teams and yielded No. 2-ranked Southern California only a four-point victory margin.

NO VICTORIES

MSU has lost 37-7 to Houston and 21-17 to Southern Cal. Wisconsin was defeated by Washington 17-9 and by Arizona State 42-16.

Michigan State, in its two losing efforts, has compiled 27 net yards rushing and 405 in the kicked off, made two kickoff returns, one punt return and a key pass interception.

Tough Buckeye Boosts Firebirds' Title Hopes

"If he had a broken leg, he'd want to play with a splint on."

That's what coach Tom Tracy said about Jon Izer, the 245 pound middle linebacker of the Pontiac Firebirds who have a big return engagement with Dayton Colts Saturday night at Wisner Stadium.

Izer, who came to the Firebirds at the recommendation of a Detroit Lions' fan who is a member of the Ohio state legislature, is a product of the Mansfield, Ohio area football hotbed.

"We really wanted to win that game," said Izer, "and the home folks enjoyed the game so much there's a couple bus loads coming to Pontiac for some of the home games."

BEATEN BY BUCKEYES — "That's a heck of a note," said Dayton coach Ed McCracken after the 19-13 loss to Pontiac last Saturday, "to have an Ohioan help knock the heck out of us."

"He and Fry really tore into our running attack," McCracken added.

The two Buckeyes get another chance at Dayton Saturday night, and with the addition of former Lion Dan LaRoe to the defensive unit, the Firebirds won't be considered underdogs for the first time this season.

The game is rated even and it is a "must" game for both teams to keep their title chances in the Midwest Football League alive.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. and advance tickets are on sale at Osburn's, Griff's and Bob-Kens downtown.

Favorite of Housewife

Few women like to be thought of as "average." But the typical woman bowler, according to a survey by WIBC, is a married housewife whose favorite hobby is tennies. She has been bowling about five years, is in her middle 30s, bowls mainly for sociability and fitness, wants to know more about rules, and averages about 130.

Navy Revamps Defense for 'M'

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy coach Bill Elias says his midshipmen are "ready to play as good as Navy can play this week," and he said Navy will revise its pass defense that faltered in their 21-7 defeat at the hands of Rice last Saturday.

"It will take a good football team to beat us this week," Elias told his weekly news conference.

The Midshipmen take on Michigan Saturday at Ann Arbor.

SHUFFLES DEFENSE — Elias said he has shuffled his pass defense to concentrate more on downfield protection and less on the blitz, which the Middies had been using almost constantly.

"There will be less rushing and more pass defense," he said. "We're going to blitz, but not as often and not in the same way as we have been."

And there will be other changes.

Senior Terry Murray, who entered the season as the Middies' principal ground gainer with 1,054 yards, has been replaced at fullback by junior Jeri Balsly.

Murray missed most of Navy's opener against Penn State because of a knee injury, but Elias said, "Murray will make the trip, but he won't start because Jeri Balsly has earned that position. It was not by default or injury."

Balsly has 200 yards on 48 trips to 11 yards for Murray. He had never carried a football until the Penn State game when he had to take over for the injured Murray.

"Jeri has been a very pleasant surprise. Everyone on the staff knew he had the potential to be a fine runner but good techniques usually come with experience," said Elias.

Michigan has split its first two games as well as Navy, downing Duke 10-7 in the opener, then dropping a 10-9 decision last Saturday to California.

But Navy scout John Kopka said, "They're a much better football team than the scores indicate—I rank them as a better football team than Rice."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If Zenon Andrusyshyn, UCLA's place kicking specialist, keeps it up, he'll be kicking field goals from outside the stadium.

The 6-foot-2, 206-pound sophomore kicked his longest of the season in a workout Wednesday. The distance was 65 yards; the NCAA record is 61 yards by Bill Shears of Cortland State last year.

Andy, a 20-year-old Canadian, already holds the UCLA single-season record for most field goals with six. His longest in the Bruins' formal competition is 39 yards. It was the last drill for the Bruins, who fly to University Park today for a game Saturday with Penn State.

116 From U.S. Due in Manila for Faith Cure

MANILA (UPI) — A total of 116 ailing persons from the Detroit area were due in Manila today in quest of a miraculous cure from a self-styled Filipino faith healer.

The object of their pilgrimage is Antonio "Dr. Tony" Agpoo, 28, who claims to have performed more than 30,000 "operations" with his bare hands. He is neither a surgeon nor a licensed doctor.

Philippine medical authorities immediately announced they were initiating a full investigation. They said legal action will be taken against Agpoo, if warranted.

The 116 pilgrims, each of whom paid $650 to make the trip, are scheduled to arrive in Manila aboard a chartered Caledonia Airways plane, according to Philippine Air Lines which services all foreign aircraft here.

The trip was arranged by Joseph Ruffner, 47, a former steel plant inspector from the Detroit suburb of Wyandotte who said he was cured by Agpoo of a spinal injury that afflicted him for 11 years.

NOT CONVINCED

Both the Philippine Medical Examiners said they were convinced Agpoo is not capable in any way of performing a miracle.

"As a medical man, I find it not only improbable but absolutely impossible to remove an organ from the body without any incision and without drawing blood as this fellow Agpoo claims," said Dr. Pacifico Marcos, FMA president and brother of President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Ferry in Service

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Grand Trunk Western Railroad car ferry, the "Grand Rapids," is back in service on Lake Michigan following adjustments for new larger railroad cars, the company announced Wednesday. The company also said it has put all three of its car ferries into freight service between Muskegon and Milwaukee, instead of just two at a time as before.

Society Reform Teach-In Topic

U.S. Presence in Viet, Rights Lack Draw Fire

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Guest speakers at a teach-in on the University of Michigan campus last night sharply attacked the U.S. presence in Vietnam and called for a dramatic restructuring of American society.

In crowded auditoriums through the campus, about 2,500 students quietly listened to some 20 speakers who advocated sweeping changes in establishment of a separate Negro state within the United States.

Prof. John Gerassi of San Francisco State College, who has recently visited Hanoi and Geneva, rejected reforms within the present structure of American society.

"A 'new internationale' composed of worldwide revolutionaries exists and is prepared to move against American imperialism at home and abroad," Gerassi said.

The Vietnam war came under fire from Straughton Lynd, a former professor of history at Yale University, and the Rev. Albert Cleage of the Central United Church of Christ in Detroit.

SAME ENEMY

Cleage, a black nationalist spokesman, said the "black man has no stake in the white man's Vietnam war. The Vietnamese are our friends since all nonwhites have the same enemy."

"There is no moral, legal, constitutional or international justification for U.S. presence in Vietnam," he said.

Cleage said a separate territory should be set aside within the United States solely for the Negro, and he termed any Negroes seeking integration "a museum piece."

Lynd, who has visited Hanoi, warned that the Vietnam war is not an isolated event.

RACIST SOCIETY

"We must realize that we happen to be born in a society which is racist, imperialist and pro-Fascist, and will go on producing wars until you or I stop it," he said.

Lynd called for a "firm, quiet confident and even humorous resistance" to the present domestic and foreign policies of the U.S. government.

The teach-in was arranged by a score of student groups opposed to the Vietnam war.

PCH Confirms Machine Theft

Five calculating machines discovered missing from Pontiac Central High School, 250 W. Huron, late last month were reported as stolen yesterday, according to city police.

Officers said school officials had not been certain whether the machines, valued at some $3,000, were out for repair when they were first missed.

An investigation later revealed burglars were apparently responsible.

No sign of forced entry was found at the scene of the burglary, a second-floor room, police said.

Grand Theft Charged

Check Error Gives Her a Spree

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Investigators say a suburban housewife took a $19,065 check to on Sept. 27, and investigators issued in error by a county computer and promptly spent the money in one big, wonderful weekend in Las Vegas.

Shea Shearer, 37, was jailed checks for $5,000 and $10,000 and on a grand theft charge and released Wednesday night on checking account.

The $19,065 was delivered to investigators as saying she didn't know what the check was for and, after she cashed it, she gave the balance of the money to her husband.

Shearer was quoted as saying only that he has none of the money now.

That day, they said, Mrs. Shearer and her husband Albert, a used car salesman, went to an automobile agency in La Habra and got a 1968 car for money to Los Angeles sent $3,700. The car was picked up the next day in return for a $5,000 cashier's check.

$1,300 IN CHANGE

A day later, the Shearers returned to pick up a $1,300 check representing their change.

The couple said they won the $5,000 at the races, a car salesman said.

Then Albert and Jayne Shearer went to Las Vegas, Nev., for the weekend.

Only $5,000 or so of the $19,065 could be recovered, the district attorney's office said Wednesday.

PAYMENT STOPPED

The county auditor's office discovered the computer's error and issued a stop-payment order. The car was confiscated with only 28 miles on the speedometer.

Mrs. Shearer was quoted by police.

Ray Girardin Successor Eyed

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh said Wednesday he is considering a "fairly well known Detroit" to succeed the city's police commissioner, Ray Girardin, who is resigning.

Girardin, who is 65 today, said he is leaving because of order. He said he will remain at his job for another two months or until his replacement is named.

Beyond saying the candidate was "almost nailed down," Cavanagh declined to comment on Girardin's successor.

Girardin's retirement was announced by Cavanagh at a joint news conference Wednesday with Girardin. Cavanagh said: "This is an announcement I am sorry I have to make."

'NO PRESSURE'

As in earlier statements, Cavanagh denied that he had received any pressure or recommendations to fire Girardin.

Referring to a recent grand jury investigation of the police department, Cavanagh said: "The findings were so negative that they amounted to a complete endorsement of Girardin's administration of the police department."

Youth Found Guilty of Oxford Break-In

A former Leonard youth was found guilty yesterday by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury of breaking and entering Industrial Machine Products, Inc., 32 Loucks, Oxford, last February.

Wesley S. Thomas Jr., 20, now living in Ann Arbor, will be sentenced for the offense Oct. 24 by Judge Frederick C. Zieman.

Thomas and an accomplice were apprehended in the building by Oxford police Feb. 8. The companion pleaded guilty in March and was sentenced to 60 days in Oakland County Jail.

Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kuhn said today he would appeal an Oakland County Circuit Court decision upholding the constitutionality of Michigan's new state income tax.

Judge William R. Beasley yesterday dismissed Kuhn's case on the grounds that the tax violated neither the Michigan nor U.S. Constitutions.

Kuhn said he would now attempt to have the decision reversed by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

According to Kuhn, he has been deprived of his right to vote on a referendum on the income tax because the language of the bill creating the levy prohibits an election on the issue.

Beasley, however, suggested in his ruling that Kuhn take steps to obtain signatures on a petition for a referendum vote and then, if the petitions were rejected, take the matter into court.

Human Errors Cause Rail Crash Fatal to 12

LIEGE, Belgium (AP) — A closing system, but jammed the series of human errors was whole automatic signal system blamed today as the cause of a fatal train crash to which it three-train crash that killed 12 and injured 75 in nearby Fexhe-Le-Haut-Clocher Wednesday.

Railways officials gave this explanation of the accident:

A car crashed through a level crossing gate in Monnaie, two miles from Fexhe, in the morning. This not only damaged the crossing's automatic signal and

This forced the signalman in Fexhe to operate manually both the Monnaie level crossing gates and signals and the signals at Fexhe station. In a matter of seconds he had to activate the crossing gates and signals, send a slow passenger train to a faster train to clear the way for a faster passenger train, while another faster passenger train was coming in the other direction.

Preliminary investigation showed the man let the first fast train go when the slow one had not yet cleared the way. There was a first minor collision but it sent the fast train on the tracks of the other fast train coming in the opposite direction at 75 miles per hour. Several cars of the oncoming train were ripped open. Eight people were killed in the last car. Most of the injured were also in that car, four of whom later died.

Kroger Strike to Cover State

Wage Dispute Closes

All but 2 Area Stores

The strike at Kroger stores, which has closed all but two of firm's stores in the Pontiac area, is expected to affect the chain's operations in the entire state by tomorrow, according to union officials.

The strike by the Retail Stores Employees' Union began Friday in Detroit and since has spread northward with strike votes taken at locals in Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo during the week.

Affected are more than 1,600 employees of Kroger and the affiliated Bi-Low markets. Union spokesmen said employees are asking a package that calls for an 80-cent-per-hour increase, including benefits, over a three-year period.

A strike vote has been approved by workers for A & P stores also, union sources said, and workers may go out at that chain sometime next week.

Area Clinic Broken Into, Ransacked

Vandals caused an estimated $500 damage during a break-in at the Pontiac Industrial Clinic, 3715 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, reported to Pontiac State Police yesterday.

The building's interior was completely ransacked, according to police.

Medical supplies, surgical instruments and papers were strewn over floors and a sealing material was poured on a desk, typewriter and telephone, police said.

Entry was gained by breaking a rear window.

Romney Report to Be Delayed

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said Wednesday he won't be able to get television time to make a report to the nation "as early as I wanted."

Romney, an undeclared candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, told a news conference the TV time probably would not be available until after the National Governors' Conference, which begins Oct. 16.

The governor said he would report to the nation on "a matter of national importance."

He said the report would include his findings on his recently completed tour of 17 major cities with urban problems, but added that he didn't know if it would "include anything political."

SKIRTS CANDIDACY

Asked if he would use the opportunity to announce his candidacy, Romney said again that he has not made a decision on whether he will seek the nomination.

He described as "interesting" recent polls which have ranked him substantially behind other potential GOP candidates. "I received following," he charged that he was "brainwashed" by U.S. military and diplomatic officials in Vietnam about a 2 to 1 in favor of his views, the governor said.

Soviets Vow Money, Arms Aid to Jordan

MOSCOW (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan flew home today with promises of economic aid from a new friend—the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union, which they indicated Jordan also would receive Soviet military aid.

Hussein's traditional sources of arms and economic aid have been Britain and the United States. But Jordanian-Soviet friendship grew after the Soviet Union supported the Arab nations in the war they lost to Israel last June.

The Soviets have sought since the war to increase their influence in the Middle East by offering arms to more Arab nations, and Hussein, his country impoverished by the conflict, was believed ready to accept Soviet offers of military help.

AID IMPLICATION

During Hussein's visit, the sources said, the Soviets promised to help Jordan eradicate the results of the war. This was not publicly spelled out in a communiqué expected to be released later, but, implied military aid.

Hussein, who brought his economic, army and air force experts with him, was taken Wednesday to see the kind of Soviet warplanes and tanks offered to the Jordanian tanks included the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Andrei A. Grechko.

The sources said details of the economic aid remain to be worked out, probably by Soviet officials visiting the Jordan, which lost much of its income when Israel captured its territory west of the Jordan River.

FORMAL TALKS

Hussein held several formal talks with Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Soviet officials who handle aid programs.

An official announcement said the talks were "marked by an atmosphere of frankness and friendly mutual understanding."

The word "frankness" indicated there was some difference of opinion but diplomatic observers believed the Soviets and Jordanians agreed on the need for moderation in the Middle East in an effort to reverse the situation created by the war.

The young king's three-day visit also produced the first cultural agreement between the two nations. It provides for cooperation in science, higher education, public health, tourism and communications.

Teen Finds $410

CHASSALL (AP) — Michael Bakalla, 15, was playing in a village dump when he found $410 in a cardboard box filled with receipts. Police traced the receipts to Walter Ruelle, 70, former co-owner of a Chassall bar. Ruelle gave Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bakalla, a $50 reward for returning the money, apparently lost when the bar's receipts were thrown out.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, now a Beverly Hills lawyer, returned to California's capitol in Sacramento to unveil his official portrait yesterday.

After the 10-minute ceremony, Brown walked upstairs to have his shoes polished by Earl Reeves, the capitol shoe shine man.

Reeves made $5 by shining the riding boots Tuesday of Gov. Ronald Reagan, Brown's successor. But he refused to take any payment from Brown.

"It's all right," he told Brown, "You're unemployed now."

'Wild Bill' Davison Recupercating

William "Wild Bill" Davison, widely known cornetist with the Louis Armstrong group, was listed in improved condition two days after collapsing at his Hollywood home.

Davison, about 60, was reported in critical condition after being admitted Monday to Midway Hospital. A friend said Davison suffered from a bleeding ulcer.

"He's in fair condition now," a hospital spokesman said. Davison has planned to leave Nov. 1 on his annual tour of England.

Court Asked to Force NBC Videotaping

Actress Carol Channing is seeking a federal court injunction to force the National Broadcasting Co. to videotape a show planned for later use at strike-bound American Broadcasting Co.

Miss Channing, who starred in "Hello Dolly" on Broadway, said yesterday that NBC canceled the planned taping last week of the "Carol Channing Show" because the network feared it would be picketed by the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians (NABET).

The actress also asserted, in her complaint lodged with the National Labor Relations Board in Los Angeles, that the striking union was guilty of an "illegal secondary boycott" in regard to her NBC taping.

'Letter to LBJ' Ad Draws Responses

Harry Roth says he has received 5,700 responses to his full-page advertisement, "Open letter to the President of the United States," in the New York Times.

In his ad, Roth, a Los Angeles clothier, criticized President Johnson's Vietnam policy and urged him not to run for reelection. He said today he has received $71,508 in financial pledges since the letter appeared last week. The ad cost $7,800.

Roth said 82 per cent of those who wrote him supported his position.

The advertisement urged the President not to seek another term because "there is no possible way" for him to end the war.

Roth told newsmen he felt the President would agree not to run, because "he is a Democrat, not an autocrat, and I can't see any other way to peace."

Joseph P. Kennedy at Series Opener

Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the late President John F. Kennedy, was one of the opening day fans at the World's Series in Boston yesterday.

But after four innings he left the ball park and was driven back to his summer home in Hyannis Port.

Kennedy had been sitting with his two sons, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts. They assisted him to a wheelchair and down a ramp to his car.

Kennedy long has been an avid sports fan. He can watch football almost anytime in the summer at Hyannis Port, and during the fall it's football on television.

Underfed Boy Gains Weight

MIAMI (UPI) — Little Kelly Puente, an underfed 4-year-old boy found in a gutter in a filthy playpen, is gaining weight. Kelly was taken to the hospital. His father, Demetrio Puente, 29, and his wife, Kathleen, 24, were charged on two counts of child neglect as Kelly was found Sunday in the makeshift cage with a bedspring lashed to the top.

Kelly weighed about 15 pounds — normally a 4-year-old weighs about 30 pounds — when he was taken to the hospital. He has gained about a pound since doctors report.

Puente said yesterday a doctor advised them nothing was wrong with their underweight son but that he should be "put on a high-protein diet so he could gain weight."

Woman Who Gave Birth in a Coma Dies

TEWKSBURY, Mass. (AP) -

A 36-year-old woman who gave birth to a child six months after she went into a coma has died without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Shirley May Sweeney of Somerville died Wednesday at Tewksbury State Hospital, where she was taken after the birth of a 6-pound daughter at Massachusetts General Hospital in July.

Mrs. Sweeney suffered a stroke in January and a cerebral hemorrhage two weeks later.

Doctors induced labor two weeks before the child was due and the birth was regarded as a medical phenomenon. The child, Mary Elizabeth, suffered no ill effects.

U.S. Viet Casualties Pass 100,000

ONE COLOR
MAKE OVER PAGES

SAIGON (U) — Heavy fighting, particularly around the besieged Marine base at Con Thien below the demilitarized zone, has pushed total U.S. casualties in the Vietnam war past the 100,000 mark, the U.S. Command reported today.

The command said 150 Americans were killed in action last week, 1,758 were wounded and three were missing in action.

This brought the over-all combined total of the war to 101,034, including 13,466 killed, 86,635 wounded and 756 missing in action, by unofficial count.

The figures released here could be revised slightly later based on fuller statistics carried by the Defense Department.

The killed and wounded figures now stand nearly four times as high as the 25,520 from the American Revolutionary War, War of 1812, Mexican War and Spanish-American War combined.

At the current rate of just over 6,000 casualties per month, the Vietnam war could pass the Korean conflict in about six months as the fourth bloodiest war in the nation's history.

The United States lost 33,629 killed in Korea and 103,234 wounded.

Both American and South Vietnamese casualties rose over those of the week before, when the U.S. Command reported losses of 128 killed, 1,434 wounded and four missing.

The government figures for last week were 114 killed, 461 wounded and five missing, compared with 96 killed, 390 wounded and 15 missing in the week before.

Other allies in Vietnam lost 33 killed and 53 wounded last week, down from 37 killed and 88 wounded the week before.

The U.S. casualties were overwhelmingly made up of Marines caught in the artillery siege around Con Thien where the Americans are guarding possible Red infiltration routes.

In one day alone, the Marines suffered more than 200 casualties at the base just south of the DMZ.

The artillery duel has died down in the last 10 days but has not halted.

Saturn Parts Flaws Rile Project Chief

WASHINGTON (U) — A congressman disclosed today that rocket scientist Werner von Braun's office complained in February that the huge Saturn rocket project he heads was plagued by poor-quality engines and other hardware which could cause a serious accident.

The Saturn rocket is to be used to propel American astronauts to the moon.

Rep. William F. Ryan, D-N.Y., told the House the Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation was told in the letter: "These are your engines which are going to cause us a serious accident if this situation is allowed to continue."

The letter was signed by Eberhard Rees for von Braun, head of the Saturn project at the Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

The letter to S.K. Hoffman, Rocketdyne president, did not specifically place blame for the alleged human error, saying either the engines are being delivered "in a very unacceptable condition" or "our stage contractors, in their work with these engines are introducing an unacceptable amount of human error."

The letter indicated von Braun believed poor-quality engines were the more likely cause.

CORRECTIONS URGED

The letter urged Rocketdyne and the Chrysler Corp. to coordinate plans for corrective action. A letter on the same subject went to Chrysler.

Ryan, a member of the House Space Committee, said that James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration told him in explanation that von Braun was only insisting on a rigorous standard of perfection.

The congressman quoted Webb as saying "small particles of foreign matter have been found in the engines after testing and clean-up." Ryan said the foreign matter apparently was lint.

SLAP AT NASA

Ryan, who made copies of his speech and the letter available in advance to news media, said NASA apparently "continues to evade the serious responsibility of candor" regarding problems which arise in the space program.

Ryan said it is natural that NASA experience difficulties and occasional failures but maintained a "realistic" picture of the space situation should be available to Congress and the public.

GORDON ERVIN CHARLES ERVIN

Canada failed Monday, is in custody in Watertown, N.Y., pending transportation to Jackson later this week.

FBI officials said Ervin, 52, has waived further extradition proceedings after having exhausted every legal prerogative since his capture July 25 in Hawkesbury, Ontario, by Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers.

He and his brother, Gordon, 41, escaped from Jackson Oct. 28, 1965. They were serving 50- to 60-year sentences for armed robbery after conviction in Washtenaw County in 1954.

Canadian police gave Charles over to FBI custody at Ogdensburg, N.Y., near the U.S.-Canada border yesterday afternoon.

Efforts in Hauler Strike Intensified

PITTSBURGH (U) — State government and industrial leaders intensified their efforts today to end the destructive strike of independent steel haulers in eight states.

But violence continued last night in troubled spots on Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana highways.

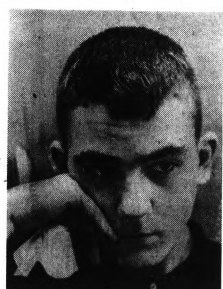

The president of Wheeling Steel Corp., Donald C. Duvaill, asked Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes and West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith to intervene in the strike which he said has reached "costly and critical proportions."

Smith, reacting to another plea, said he would send West Virginia's commissioner of labor to Pittsburgh next week. Gov. Roger D. Branigan said Indiana would be represented.

Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer has asked representatives of the eight affected states — Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania — to get together on finding a solution to the violence-ridden wildcat strike.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney said state police would give closer protection to trucks.

Forecasters said they expected the

RICKY THORNE

Retarded Boy Deserted Again

MIAMI, Fla. (U) — Abandoned by his mother at the Miami International Airport two years ago, a retarded teenager formerly from Troy again has been deserted by his parents.

"They've dumped him again," said Miami Juvenile Court Judge Sid Weaver.

This time, the judge explained, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Thorne abandoned their son Ricky, now 16, by refusing to pay for his upkeep in Miami and moving from their home at 2435 Dalesford, Troy, to a remote section of Canada where they cannot be readily reached.

His new home is on an isolated island called Sans Souci, French for "without care."

It was in September 1965, that Ricky was found wandering in the airport. He had three pennies in his pocket and half-eaten sandwich in the pocket of clothes that had the labels snipped out.

MOTHER STEPS FORWARD

Three days later, after Ricky had received national attention, his mother contacted authorities and admitted that she had left the boy in the terminal.

By court order, Ricky was put in a county home and finally taken into a school for the retarded. His parents were not charged with child neglect because Ricky's mother agreed to submit to psychiatric treatment, and because they agreed to pay for costs of treatment.

When Ricky's temperament changed from friendliness to hostility toward other children and attendants, the Thornes were told their son would have to be returned to them. They refused.

U.N. Talks Strongly Urge Bombing Halt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U) — In two weeks of debate, five of America's NATO allies and 18 other nations have urged a halt to the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam. Britain — reluctantly — was the only big power backing the U.S. raids.

The Vietnam war is not on the General Assembly's agenda but it has overshadowed all other issues, including the Middle East. Forty-nine out of 55 speakers in the general policy debate have called for an end to the conflict.

The 23 calls for a bombing halt

'Snow Job' Tied to Romney Aide

WASHINGTON (U) — A congressman says a foreign policy adviser to George Romney helped to give the 1965 Vietnam briefing which the Michigan governor recently called a brainwashing.

Meanwhile, another prospective Republican presidential candidate, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, says he has not indicated withdrawal of his support for President Johnson's Vietnam war policy.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, said yesterday that Jonathan Moore, now a Romney adviser, was among U.S. diplomatic and military officials who briefed Romney in Saigon.

Romney labeled the briefing a brainwashing session which led him to endorse U.S. involvement in the war. He has since altered his position.

In 1965, Moore was a State Department official specializing in Far Eastern affairs and was official escort for Romney and nine other governors while they were in Vietnam.

'IMPORTANT PART'

Hays said Moore participated in "at least an important part of the briefing."

Hays said neither Romney nor Moore has answered an invitation to appear before his House Foreign Affairs subcommittee to discuss the brainwashing controversy.

Moore said in Lansing, Mich., "I don't think it becomes me to be commenting in public" on Hays' statement.

N.J. Stewardess Battles Union, Firm for Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Women's work is never done — especially in their efforts to get jobs customarily held by men.

Pauline Dziel, a stewardess aboard the Moore McCormack Lines passenger vessel Argentina, is fighting for the job of yeoman, which pays much better. The blonde Roselle, N.J., woman says a union official told her yeoman's work was men's work.

"They'll let us be waitresses, stewardesses and cabin attendants on passenger ships—and that's it," says Miss Dziel (pronounced Dziel). She is taking on the National Maritime Union and a steamship line in her battle to be certified a yeoman.

U.N. Talks Strongly Urge Bombing Halt

members of the Asian-African group and six from the Soviet bloc.

Another NATO partner, the Netherlands, called for peace talks but steered away from a direct plea to the United States to halt the bombing. Foreign Minister J. M. Luns, however, noted that the Dutch lower house adopted a resolution in August calling for a cessation of the bombing "to increase the possibility of peace negotiations."

Support for U.S. policy came today from Nationalist Chinese Foreign Minister Wei Tiao-ming. He said pressures on the United States to stop bombing the North and withdraw its troops can only prolong the war because they reinforce the Communists' belief that "they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by rejecting all proposals for a peaceful settlement."

He said appeals to North Vietnam are unlikely to help end the war because the Chinese Communists, seeking world domination, are the war's "prime movers."

Many of the U.N. nations who have spoken so far reflected a growing sympathy toward the U.S. approach to peacemaking in Vietnam. This was believed partly a result of the conciliatory tone of Goldberg's policy speech in which he stressed the need for a political solution and the advisability of convening the Geneva conference.

CLASS SQUEALER — This little piggie didn't go to market: this little piggie went to school. Third grader Deborah Wilson of Pontiac's Bethune School greets a new friend at an in-school "field trip." A room in the school was turned into a barn yesterday for a unique visit by cows, sheep, pigs and other animals from an area farm.

Animals Come to Children

City School Goes Rural

School children normally look forward to the day when they get out of school and go on a field trip.

But yesterday Pontiac's Bethune Elementary School children stayed in school and still had a "field trip."

The school was literally turned into a field with ducks, cows, sheep, pigs and a pony in attendance.

It was all part of a program sponsored by the school's Teacher Corps and three other donors to bring a farm to the school.

"We wanted to show the kids that farm products come from the farm and not the supermarket," explained Mrs. Annmarie Hayes, Bethune Teacher Corps leader.

Farmer Knight Webster of Upland

Hills Farm in Addison Township demonstrated how a cow is milked, a sheep is sheared and how butter milk is made.

Some of the children actually tried their hand in milking a cow, and many of them petted and fed a farm animal for the very first time.

"We brought the animals inside the school so the sounds would be more impressive in an atmosphere with no other distractions," said Principal Charles W. Townsend in explaining the barn-like multipurpose room.

Winds Will Carry Cooler Weather

This morning's northwesterly winds breezing in at 10 miles per hour will carry in cooler temperatures by tonight, the low slipping to 38 to 48.

The weatherman predicts fair and a little cooler tomorrow — just the right time to plant bulbs for flowering in the spring and evergreens.

The outlook for Saturday is cloudy with a chance of rain.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 20, tonight 10, tomorrow 5.

A mild 66 was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The 1 p.m. reading was 71.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders reportedly favor a post-Labor Day nominating

Says Call for Probe Is Politically Motivated

By WILLIAM HEATH Associated Press Writer
LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley accused Gov. George Romney Wednesday of seeking a grand jury probe of the State Highway Department for "personal, political considerations."

Kelley issued a 12-page statement in which he charged that Romney's request for a grand jury investigation "was motivated solely by personal, political considerations arising out of an attack by the Chicago Tribune on his presidential ambitions."

The statement comprised the latest round in a week-old feud which saw Republican Romney and Democrat Kelley exchange charges Wednesday as to what the other had or had not done in seeking to clear up allegations of wrongdoing in the highway department.

SCHEDULED TO MEET

They were scheduled to meet today in an effort to resolve their differences over the investigation.

The meeting was set for 4:30 p.m.

Romney charged Wednesday that Kelley "has asked the department, Romney said he repeatedly asked for probes of over-payments and other irregularities in the department in 1963."

The controversy grew out of a request by the State Highway Commission last Thursday that Romney take steps to cause a grand jury investigation of the department.

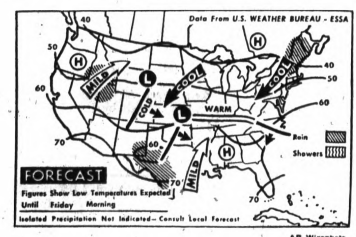

The commission also asked Romney to support its efforts to clarify allegations of wrongdoing and that they occurred before the present commissioners took office in 1965.

Romney supported the commission request, saying it should be made clear that nothing has impugned the character and integrity of the present commission.

Ford Dealers in Sales Pinch

UAW Studies Offers on Apprenticeships

DETROIT (AP) — Feeling the pinch of a United Auto Workers' strike against their supplier, some Ford dealers are seeking bigger profits on 1968 left in their dwindling inventories.

A check of dealers in half a dozen cities around the country did not turn up anyone who was asking more than the sticker price.

A check of Ford dealers in several cities showed some were closing showrooms and holding out efforts in the used car field.

But some dealers say they have only a one-week supply; others say their inventory will last up to two months, at current selling rates.

The strike by 160,000 UAW members began Sept. 7 when the old three-year contract expired at Ford, General Motors and Chrysler. Today is the 29th day of the strike keeping Ford from producing cars.

GM, CHRYSLER LATER

Only Ford was struck in an attempt to win a settlement GM and Chrysler later will be asked to match or better.

There was some movement, but only a little, in yesterday's bargaining at Ford. Both sides said no settlement was developing.

Ford put forward proposals in response to a union demand for changes in the apprenticeship program — the first time Ford had responded directly to union proposals since Aug. 29.

On Aug. 29, Ford made its economic counteroffer, the only offer of 704 more than last year's proposal in direct response to the union demands. The union rejected it as inadequate.

OFFERS STUDIED

"It is the first movement we have gotten," said UAW President Walter P. Reuther of the apprenticeship proposals. Talks lasted only briefly Wednesday and recessed so the UAW could study Ford's apprenticeship program offers.

The union and Ford plan to meet a government request that Ford supply truck parts "in view of the situation in Vietnam."

A plea for parts came Wednesday from American Motors Corp., which buys from Ken Bannan, UAW Ford department director, said the union would keep parts running needed to supply parts to AMC.

Blaze at Plant

DETROIT (AP) — A two-alarm fire Wednesday caused $25,000 damage to the Kelsey-Hayes casting plant in Detroit. The blaze, which firemen said started when an oil line ruptured, was confined to a pit under a vat of molten steel. It took firemen a half hour to put out the flames.

BAY CITY (AP) — The United Fund of Bay County has kicked off its 1967 campaign with a record goal of $25,000.

Severe Heart Patient Lost

STOCKBRIDGE (UPI) — A teen-aged girl who must have medicine daily to keep her alive has not been heard from for nine days, her mother said yesterday.

Mrs. Herman Fletcher said her blond, hazel-eyed daughter Wanda Raye, 17, disappeared last evening of Sept. 26 when she left on a date.

Police said they don't know if the girl met with foul play or whether she ran away from home. She was described by neighbors as a "good" girl who liked her parents.

Wanda has severe heart trouble, her mother said, "and she can go without it for a while, but she's a severe heart patient."

The girl suffered from rheumatic fever twice in her childhood and incurred incompetent heart valves as well as an enlarged heart.

"I'm sure she didn't plan to leave home. She's a sensible girl and wouldn't go without any clothing or medication," Mrs. Fletcher said.

Wanda was wearing a white pleated skirt and a yellow blouse with white and green stripes when she was last seen getting into a light colored car.

To Decide Rights Unit's Power

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court has agreed to rule on whether the State Civil Rights Commission has the power to outlaw racial discrimination in the sale of private housing.

Gov. George Romney August asked the court to take over consideration of an Oakland County Circuit Court case involving whether bias in housing transactions is legal.

Birmingham Area News

Talks Set on Message of Riots to Suburbs

BIRMINGHAM — Top speakers, including Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman of the New Detroit Committee, are scheduled for a series of five community meetings at the Birmingham Community House beginning on Oct. 18.

"What the Inner-City Riots Are Saying to the Suburbs" is the first topic.

Birmingham-Bloomfield Council on Human Relations is sponsoring the weekly meetings. The group has come out in favor of the open occupancy legislation stand taken by the New Detroit Committee. This undoubtedly will be one of the major points of discussion during the meetings.

"The meetings will be open for discussion, and we are not trying to brainwash anybody on open housing," said council chairman William King.

According to King, the series will cover different aspects of today's crisis in race relations, topped by the destructive Detroit riots this summer. Each speaker will discuss the riots from his own view point and experience, he added.

Speakers scheduled to appear are: Rev. Robert Potts, executive director of the Citizens Committee for Equal Opportunity, Oct. 18; Joseph L. Hudson Jr., Oct. 25; Ray Ferris, director of Adult Education for the Detroit Public Schools, Nov. 2; Dr. John Dorsey, Wayne State University professor and former chairman of the Department of Psychiatry, Nov. 8, and a fifth speaker yet to be named for Nov. 16.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Paintings and sculpture of Michigan artist Robert B. Sibbison are on exhibit this month at the Unitarian Church, 651 Woodward.

The exhibit is open Sundays during worship hours and by appointment during the week. Sibbison is studying toward his Fine Arts Masters at Cranbrook Academy of Art. He has had many one-man shows, and recently his works were on display at the Detroit Institute of Arts' Michigan Artists Exhibition.

Enrollment Rises 753 at Oakland U.

Oakland University has a fall term enrollment of 3,896, an increase of 753 students over last year.

Most of the increase is attributed to 3,650 Michigan undergraduates attending OU, an increase of 704 more than last year's enrollment according to Registrar Thomas H. Atkinson.

Michigan students represent 94 per cent of the student body. Oakland has 212 out-of-state students and 24 foreign students representing 18 countries.

The tricity area of Oakland, Macomb and Wayne account for 3,169 of the undergraduates. Oakland has 2,122 students, Macomb 559 and Wayne 468.

The action means a House-Senate conference committee must meet again to see if it can come up with a version satisfactory to the Senate and the economy-minded House.

Tuesday the House Ways and Means Committee set aside Johnson's bill for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge until there is concrete evidence that spending in this fiscal year will be slashed by $5 billion.

TEMPORARY FINANCING

The House did vote Wednesday for a temporary appropriations bill financing until Oct. 23 several agencies which haven't received their annual money allotments yet. House Republicans made clear that further temporary measures would be opposed unless the $5-billion spending cut is assured.

Many House members, especially Republicans, want Johnson to guarantee cuts before Congress appropriates. The administration argues Johnson can't cut until he knows exactly how much money he has to work with.

In Boston, Undersecretary of the Treasury Joseph W. Barr said in a speech the dispute amounts to this: "Does the President use his power to cut spending or does the Congress do it?"

Cut Spending, House Signals

$13-Million Money Bill for Labor, HEW Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has run up a new "cut spending" signal, addressed to the Senate and directed directly on the House demand that President Johnson make cuts before taxes are raised.

The House refused Wednesday, 226 to 173, to consider a $13-million money bill for the Labor Department and Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The reason: the Senate approved more spending than the President proposed for the two departments.

Volunteers Honored for Work

By JUNE ELERT
What is a volunteer? Studies have been made on the motivations of men and women who donate part of themselves to bettering the lives of others.

Some have said a volunteer uses service to break down social barriers. Or that a volunteer suffers from guilt feelings and strives to work them out through self-imposed penance.

Conversely, some would say they serve in obedience to the Biblical injunction to love their fellowman. Or from the necessity of keeping occupied. Perhaps because they find greater richness in life that is shared.

The exploration of these motives highlighted a keynote address of Joseph

McCall, public information director for the Michigan Department of Mental Health at a tea Wednesday in Pontiac State Hospital.

MOTIVES

He concluded that the motivation to serve is probably as varied and complex as the personalities of the 1100 persons who were being honored for the 30,469 hours of volunteer service donated to patients and staff at the hospital throughout the past year.

Medical superintendent Dr. Donald W. Martin officially welcomed the gathering and briefly summarized the year's operations. He outlined some of the services provided by the hospital in both in-patient and out-patient areas, such as the sheltered workshop and the Mental Health Center whose program includes services to 14 townships.

Coordination of volunteer efforts is handled by Ted Panaretos, director of Community Relations.

Time spent by the volunteer ranges from a few hours a month to as many as 40 hours a week. Teen-agers serve as well as men and women of retirement age.

Services performed include ward work, patient parties, recreational programs, transportation, library duties, donated clothing distribution, gift shop operation and so forth.

In addition, many hours of work are put in by persons working outside the hospital, raising funds, collecting clothing, making toys, knitting. Garden clubs and other women's organizations plant flowers and trees and develop garden areas.

No estimate of these hours of effort is available.

The success of Pontiac State Hospital's volunteer program seems to involve a number of inter-related factors.

Enrollments Open at Will-O-Way

There are a limited number of openings left in the pre-school communication arts program at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre. This program is especially designed for the four to six-year-old child.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Ernest Saviole of Birmingham or the theatre on Long Lake Road.

Applications are also being accepted for age groups seven through adults. Enrollment is limited and classes will be set up according to age and experience.

Will-O-Way is a recognized trade school in theater arts and is qualified to award junior, senior, and master certificates. Celia Merrill Turner, artistic director of the theatre, will be teaching these classes scheduled to begin Oct. 14.

Mrs. George E. Sullivan of West Avon Road, is part of a group from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church working with adult patients in the wards. Chatting with them is Ivan Cragcraft, the hospital's patient placement officer.

Keynote speaker at the Volunteer Tea, Joseph McCall, enjoys a laugh with Red Cross volunteer Mrs. Richard Ecker of Warwick Street (left) and Oakland County Citizens Committee member Mrs. Anna Wurm of LaSalle Street. McCall, public information director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, told of services performed last year by 50,000 volunteers in nine state resident-patient hospitals.

Special Christmas Coffee Recipes Introduced in Yuletide Setting

Pontiac Press Food Editor

CHICAGO — Today we celebrated Christmas. The Pan American Coffee Bureau previewed its special holiday recipes in a typical yuletide setting complete with tree, fat red candles and a string ensemble playing carols.

I'm bringing back several new coffee beverage recipes.

And speaking of MRS. ODELL coffee... Kenneth W. Burgess, executive director of the Pan American Coffee Bureau, declared in his talk to the food editors that no electric percolator on the market today makes a good cup of coffee. He believes that only the drip method results in an acceptable cup of coffee.

NEW PRODUCT

A new coffee maker — "a Brewolator" — has been invented and will be on the market sometime early in 1968.

This is a special kind of drip coffee maker which, Burgess claims, will brew three or eight cups equally well and in the same length of time.

Manufacturers now in the business will be licensed to produce the "Brewolator" which will be manual or automatic.

From England, Germany and Australia came directors of Kraft Kitchens to speak at this noon's luncheon hosted by the parent Kraft Company. They used in their respective countries and the differences between their food habits and ours.

The table settings at this party were particularly interesting. Each round table was covered with black shiny vinyl edged in ball fringe. Napkins were black and white checked.

The centerpiece was a yellow rose with Texas illusions — made of paper, each one stood about four feet tall and measured at least three feet in diameter. Each grew out of a yellow pot also trimmed with ball fringe.

For an appetizer we had jellied consommé layered in a parfait glass with avocado puree and topped with cream cheese and caviar. The main course was a large green salad made with Kraft's new Green Goddess dressing. Dessert was a cheese mousse and fresh fruit.

Young modern homemakers, especially those in the west where living is gay, informal and colorful, want brighter colors in their home.

PAPER

Makers of paper products, like Scott Paper Company, are answering this request with napkins and placemats in deeper tones and even paper towel holders in the same stronger shades.

There's a new diet food on the market, one with more protein and fewer calories — "Slender" by Carnation. First they showed us fall clothes on skinny models. Then they let us sample "Slender." Do you suppose there's any connection?

McLenny Company, producers of Tabasco Sauce, brought a jazz combo from the South who filled the great Gold Coast Room in the Drake with New Orleans sounds for a couple of hours. They stopped only when it was time to go to dinner down the street in the new Continental Plaza Hotel.

Here, Standard Brands gave a dignified, leisurely black tie dinner in honor of the 50th anniversary of Mr. Peanut. Tall, gold and crystal perogies held white candles. Fragrant gardenias spilled down the sides with green velvet ribbon entwined in the bouquets. It was a southern dinner with oysters, Smithfield ham and southern peanut pie. During this party, Roy H. Fishman, director of publicity for Standard Brands, announced three 1000-dollar scholarships in honor of the newspaper food editors.

These will be available at Cornell University, Iowa State University and San Jose State College in California for junior or senior women who are majoring and/or minoring in home economics and journalism.

They are the first scholarships of their kind to be offered. —J.O.

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My son will be getting married next month. He is stationed at Camp Pendleton in California and is marrying a girl from there. Many of my friends think I should give them a shower here since no one but myself will be going to the wedding.

It would be just relatives and very close friends. I would like to know if it would be all right. —Rita.

Dear Rita: Yes, indeed. Since your friends will not be invited to the wedding and therefore will not necessarily send wedding gifts, a shower for your future daughter-in-law would be fine. Why not give a "recipe shower" at which each guest provides a favorite recipe and a kitchen gadget used in preparing the dish? You may pack all the gifts into one or two boxes and forward them with their cards to the bride in California.

MRS. J. C. CERANO

Northern Trip for Couple After Vows

Newlyweds, the James C. Ceranos, are honeymooning in upper Michigan. They exchanged vows in an afternoon ceremony Saturday in the Community United Presbyterian Church.

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom, and their parents, the Dewey D. Spurlucks of Warren Drive and the Alexander Ceranos of Buckingham Street, greeted guests in the church parlors.

A reception later that evening was held at Fortino's.

EMPIRE GOWN

The former Kathryn Diane Spurluck chose a silk Empire gown which featured pearl and crystal beading on elbow length sleeves. She carried a cascading bouquet of Eucharis lilies centered with a corsage of yellow roses.

Honor attendants were Mrs. William D. Shirley and Craig Hanson. Other members of the wedding party were bridesmaids Sherri Morse and Mrs. Roy Hoskins.

Robert Higgins, Elmer Cerano and Gary Currier were ushers.

Shock Preventive

NEW YORK (UPI)—There's an easy solution for the static that builds in the body in winter and causes a slight shock when hands touch metal. Frank Roehrig, service manager for a national company cleaning and maintaining offices and hotels, suggested the simple method of touching a door knob or other metal with the door key first.

The engagement of Sharon Marie Bragan to Lyman Lee Cowley has been announced by her parents, the John W. Bragans of Portage Street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman C. Cowley of Blaine Street. Vows are slated for Feb. 17.

Miss Smith Speaks Vows

A reception at the American Legion Hall Saturday followed vows in the Free Methodist Church for June Lynette Smith and Alfred Lee Krueger.

For the afternoon ceremony, the bride chose a white satin gown with a lace bodice. Her shoulder length veil was secured with a crown of pearls, and she carried white and red roses.

Janet Scott was maid of honor with Marvin Krueger as best man. Other members of the wedding party were bridesmaid Mary Ann Smith and flower girl Barbara Roerink. Randy Cornell ushered.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in northern Michigan. Parents of the couple are the Phil Smiths of Forester Street, Pontiac Township and the Alfred Lee Kruegers of Greenwood Street, Avon Township.

Health Field Shortage Felt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation must attract 10,000 recruits a month to the field of health services over the next 10 years, the U.S. Department of Labor reports.

The critical need for health service workers is underscored in "Training Health Service Workers," a report released by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and John W. Gardner, Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

One way to keep rooms from becoming smoke-filled during a party is to burn a couple of candles; the candles will burn up the smoke.

In 'Doghouse' With Pals

DEAR ABBY: To get right to the point, I do not care for dogs in my house. This goes for big dogs, little dogs, and even the hairless kind that are not supposed to smell, but do. They are all dogs to me. We reared our children and had dogs for them, but they were never allowed in the house. They slept in doghouses or out in the garage.

My problem: We have relatives who are dog-crazy. They love their dogs more than some people love their children. These relatives have visited us and brought their dogs along — knowing how I feel about them.

Abby, we have just redecorated our home, installed new carpet, and re-covered our furniture, and I do not want dogs on it.

These relatives are coming again. How can I let them know they are welcome but not their dogs, without having them think I am an old crab?

NO DOG LOVER

DEAR NO DOG LOVER: You can tell them before they arrive that they are welcome, but their dogs are not. But don't be surprised if you get the "love me — love my dog" bit. They WILL think you are an old crab, but you'll have kept the dogs out of your home, and that's the object, isn't it?

DEAR ABBY: The other day I was jolted by a flaw in an otherwise stunning 21-year-old blonde. On my first approach to her, I noticed that her teeth badly needed brushing. I realize that this could happen to anyone occasionally, but with this girl, it is a habit.

The idea of kissing a girl with noticeable food particles between her teeth is utterly revolting. Someone should tell her, but I am not the one. How about you?

DEAR STUNNED: Since I consider it a kindness to offer constructive criticism, I'll do it: Girls, look at your teeth after you've eaten, and, if necessary, slip away and privately use a bit of dental floss. P.S. You, too, fellows.

DEAR ABBY: An interesting question came up in your column: Are men and boys cleaner than women and girls?

For whatever this is worth, I have been a custodian in a public school for many years, and I have found that the boys use about three times as much soap and paper towels as the girls.

PASSAIC, N.J.

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours recently had a golden wedding anniversary, so several weeks before that date I telephoned a local florist and asked him to send them two dozen long-stemmed yellow roses. (Cost $24).

The daughter of this couple had planned a party for her parents, and she used the same florist I called. She learned of my order so she told the florist they wouldn't be needing any extra bouquets, so I just accept my money and to deduct it from HER bill.

Since she is well-known and respected in town, I don't blame the florist for doing as she requested, however I am very hurt to think that I paid part of HER bill rather than to have sent my own flowers.

The daughter did tell her parents about my order, however, because I received a nice thank you note for my "intentions." Am I wrong to feel hurt?

HURT

DEAR HURT: No. But the florist with whom you placed your order is every bit as guilty as the daughter who dreamed up that chintzy scheme.

I can't imagine a reputable florist going along with such a suggestion without your approval. As I see it, you owe that florist NOTHING!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "S. O. S. IN SILVER SPRINGS": Sorry, but I don't buy that saying.
