City May Hike Property Taxes to Meet Budget

Commissioners Fight to Keep Expenditures at Minimum in '62

By DICK SAUNDERS
Pontiac residents may find a tax rate increase in 1962 of at least 26 cents per $1,000 of assessed property value — and maybe more.

City commissioners and administrators are fighting to keep the 1962 budget at a figure that can be financed by less than a 14-mill tax rate—or $14 per every $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The present rate is 13.60 mills on a total assessed valuation of $200-million. Administrators believe that a revised budget, to be placed before the commission Nov. 28, will require at least a 13.86-mill tax rate.

Some $200,000 has already been trimmed from original budget requests and still more trimming will be needed.

There are several reasons for the dilemma now facing city commissioners and administrators, according to Assistant City Manager Robert A. Siler.

REASONS FOR DILEMMA

1. Higher basic operating costs.
2. Forecasts of a possible drop in the city's total assessed valuation.

3. Increasing payroll and fringe benefit demands for city employees.

Administrators explain that operating costs rise somewhat each year as material costs go up, but the largest increase comes from a need for more services.

As a city such as Pontiac grows, and new subdivisions spring up, there is a corresponding increase in the need for sewage and water services, drainage, snow removal and other related services.

With a corresponding increase in property value, the city usually breaks even. But this is a year of great upheaval downtown, administrators and city assessors point out.

Urban renewal has left many bare spots on the assement

'Disaster Alert' Calls 'Em

CD Workers on the Job

Many city employees who have finished a course in civil defense rescue training got their first shot at practical experience Wednesday.

A "disaster" took place at East Boulevard and Featherstone Road at 8:45 a.m.

It was a surprise civil defense exercise set up by city administrators under the direction of David S. Teet, administrative assistant.

Not everything went smoothly. In fact, there were several small "disasters" within the big one.

A huge bonfire blazed away for more than an hour while firemen tried vainly to pump water from the nearby Pontiac Creek.

A SLIGHT PROBLEM

There was a "slight communications problem" for a short time. Someone had the morgue mixed up with the emergency medical aid area.

The administrators expected a few mixups.

"We're almost glad they happened. The whole purpose was to find out what would go wrong. We found out and can keep it from happening next time," said Teet.

It was the first big exercise for Pontiac's auxiliary police unit. Some 19 auxiliary policemen left jobs to assist with traffic control.

DISASTER ALERT

The whole thing was triggered by a patrol car calling in a disaster alert. Immediately, firemen, city department heads, police and sheriff's deputies were ordered to the area.

All over in city, early 100 employees dropped whatever they were doing and went to the area.

Police arrived first and blocked off the area to traffic. Then firemen from Station No. 1 arrived.

A big stack of fuel-soaked debris was already blazing.

Firemen couldn't use hydrants. They were off limits. Administrators figure that in a real disaster, water lines might well be ruptured.

The firemen worked fast. In less than 15 minutes from the first alarm, they had a hose run from the fire several thousand feet to the creek.

However, water was low and they couldn't get enough pressure to pump until the fire.

Then the Oakland County Sheriff Department's emergency rescue ambulance arrived with Sgt. Donald Kirk at the wheel.

A Midwest ambulance arrived moments later. Then the Pontiac Police Department's mobile communications unit rolled in, trailed by a civil defense rescue unit.

The parks and recreation and public works departments furnished two rescue teams each. Other teams were made up of employees in the water and cemetery departments.

The entire exercise was completed by about 10:30. The city will plan similar tests from time to time, hoping that each one will work a little smoother than the last.

Young Deer Play It Cagey

Few Spike Horns Taken by Hunters During 1st Day of Season

By DON VOGEL

Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press
WEST BRANCH — There should be plenty of bucks left for hunters waiting until the weekend before heading toward deer country.

Unfortunately for those nincompoops who passed up the opener, the majority of large bucks harvested each season may already be hanging from meat poles.

Very few spike horns were taken during Wednesday's opening. Most of the bucks tagged carried good racks and were 2½ to 4 years old. The shortage of young bucks from one and a half to two and a half years is puzzling conservation men.

"I can't quite figure it," said Louis Ruch, conservation game specialist. "Most of these young bucks would have been half-grown deer last season with the mild winter and plenty of food available. Since then, more should be turning up."

Ean Greenhoe, 2077 Banks St., Union Lake, was one of two successful Oakland County hunters to connect the first day. He downed a four-pointer weighing 112 pounds in the Rifle River area northeast of here.

'NEEDED 3 SHOTS'

"I missed one before finally connecting," said the veteran hunter. "The one I got needed three shots before he would stay down." Greenhoe was hunting with his wife Genevieve. This was the third straight year he has succeeded in the same place.

John Moir of Royal Oak dropped a four-point buck that weighed out at 112 pounds Wednesday morning while hunting the Lupton Hills in Ogemaw County. He and Rene Hall, Clawson, reported four "large bucks" taken from the same area and several other deer sighted.

Other Oakland County hunters in the Rifle River area were not as fortunate. In fact, few even saw deer.

W. F. Wilkie and his wife Ella Mae, 63 N. Johnson St., Pontiac, said they heard one crashing through the underbrush. John Olson, 373 Radok, Pontiac, and his brother Floyd Olson, 5644 Harrel, Drayton Plains, failed to see or hear a deer.

Larry Shelmach, John D. Diech and John J. Diech, all of Clarkston, spotted several does. Ed Farro and Bob Matheson, both of East Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills, saw no deer while hunting the Boyer property near Rose City.

Temperature Dip Will Turn Rain to Snow Tonight

More than half an inch in showers fell on the Pontiac downtown area early this morning.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said temperatures will turn colder late this afternoon with rain becoming mixed briefly with snow by evening and then changing to snow flurries tonight.

Temperatures are expected to plunge to a freezing 30 tonight and rise to a high of 35 Friday. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy but Saturday will find skies clearing and temperatures a little warmer.

Morning winds easterly at 10 miles per hour will shift to south to west to northwest tonight.

Forty-four was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p.m. was 62.

Doctor Says Death Came Very Easily for Speaker

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn, who served longer as House speaker than any man, died today in the home town he loved.

Cancer and its complications caused his death. He would have been 80 on Jan. 6.

The White House was notified immediately. So was Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader of the House.

McCormack was the man Rayburn chose to serve temporarily as speaker when Mr. Sam had to leave Congress before it closed because of what he called lumbago.

But even then, his doctor believes, he knew he had cancer. The physician, Dr. Joe A. Risser, and members of the speaker's family and staff stood by the bedside in Risser Hospital as Rayburn faded away. "It was a very easy death for a very great man," Dr. Risser told reporters.

Asked about the immediate cause of death, Risser said simply that "he just quit breathing."

Then, in more formal language, he put it this way: "At 6:30 this morning Mr. Sam passed away. He died quietly. His respirations stopped."

"The heart continued to beat for four minutes after the cessation of respiration. He showed no evidence of pain lines in the face. He seemed to be at one in sleep."

Dr. Risser added that death was "an apparent result of diminished function of the respiratory center of the brain, which controls the respiration of the individual."

Rayburn had been unconscious for about 26 hours before his death. The doctor and family had spent two near-sleepless nights at the hospital.

Rayburn had lost nearly 30 pounds in the months that cancer had ravaged his body. His normal weight was 176. Dr. Risser said he had dropped to about 120.

Authorities said the funeral will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Bonham.

The body will lie in state from 9 a.m. Friday until 9 a.m. Saturday in the Sam Rayburn Memorial Library.

The burial will be in the family plot perhaps three-quarters of a mile from the center of this northern Texas town of 1,000, where Rayburn was the outstanding citizen.

A large, simple granite marker inscribed "Rayburn" stands at the family plot. Smaller stones are at the heads of the graves of eight other Rayburns who preceded the speaker in death.

We've Lost a Friend: Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy said today the death of Speaker Sam Rayburn has cost the United States "a devoted servant and the citizens of this country an unfading friend."

Sorrow over the Texas' death of cancer erased all political animosities as Republicans and Democrats alike eulogized the veteran legislative leader.

The nation's three living ex-presidents, cabinet members and congressional colleagues joined in a bipartisan tribute. Another expression came from old friends and neighbors in his home town of Bonham, Tex.

Kennedy, in a statement issued by the White House, said Rayburn had "an instinctive understanding of the American system and was a loyal counselor and friend of presidents of both parties on the great issues that were so distinctive of national interest and security."

Recalling his own service with Rayburn in the House, the President praised him as "a strong defender of constitutional responsibilities of the Congress."

Kennedy said he and his wife joined the nation in mourning Rayburn's death.

He said: "His public service stretched from the administration of Woodrow Wilson to the present day. But it was the quality of that service more than his length that was so distinctive."

Former Presidents Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower voiced similar tribute.

Republican leaders expressed personal sorrow and praise of Rayburn's service to the nation.

'EFFECTIVE LEADER'

House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said Rayburn's death was "a great loss to the Congress and to the country." He called the Texas Democrat "a patriot respected and admired by all."

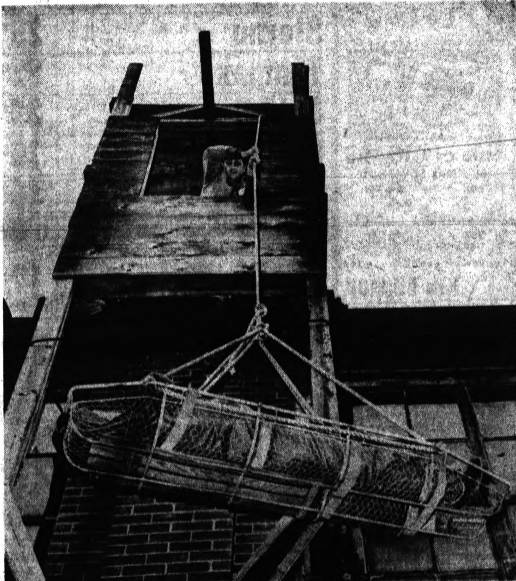

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, last year's Republican candidate for the presidency, said Rayburn was "one of the most effective political leaders the nation has produced in this century."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said of Rayburn: "A great leader has passed from the scene... and America is poorer for his loss. As a result of his leadership, untold millions throughout the globe will lead lives of greater opportunity."

Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, an old Texas friend, said: "He was a true patriot—teaching us that though one may be a partisan in politics, he must, as he did, place devotion to country first."

Bonham, one of his grieving friends paid him this Texas tribute: "As a fisherman, he was pretty good. As a man, he was good as they come."

Kennedy's statement was misquoted to the White House by radio. The President had been notified of Rayburn's death a few hours before his departure.

LOWERING 'VICTIM' — An unidentified member of one of Pontiac's civil defense rescue crews lowers Thomas Courville, a public works employee, from the roof of the parks and recreation service building during an exercise yesterday. Volunteer "victim" Courville had been given first aid on the roof before the stretcher-pulley rescue operation began.

Reds Halt U.S. Convoy on Autobahn

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet border guards today delayed a U.S. Army convoy traveling from West Berlin to West Germany along the autobahn in an apparent haste to obtain travel documents, but finally permitted it to continue, an American spokesman said.

The U.S. Army spokesman reported that the vanguard of the convoy of seven jeeps and 10 trucks with an infantry company of 20 men was held for a "minor delay" at the Soviet highway checkpoint opposite Hainstadt, on the East-West German border, 110 miles from the divided city.

He said the Army attached no importance to the temporary delay.

"The important thing is that it was cleared to enter West Germany," the spokesman said. "Such minor delays often take place. There probably was a hassle about the convoy's travel documents. Sometimes there is a dispute about a misplaced comma."

The convoy maintained radio contact with U.S. Army Headquarters in Berlin during the 110-mile trip on the super highway.

The company, which is engaged in a training exercise, was expected to return to Berlin Sunday.

The troops, commanded by Capt. Roy Atkins of Fort Worth, Tex., will train for two days in a platoon and squad exercise near Hildesheim in the British sector of West Germany.

HOLLY TOWNSHIP — A local deer hunter suffered a fatal attack near Milersburg in Presque Isle County yesterday when he and companions were climbing into a blind.

Dead is Clyde M. Johnson, 66, of 4118 Grange Hall Road. He was a member of the 6th Schwartz American Legion Post in Holly and the Holly Oddfellows.

Funeral service will be 2 p.m. Saturday at the Dwyer Funeral home, Holly, with burial in Lakeside Cemetery.

Surviving besides his wife Rebecca are two sons, Elmer of Fenton and Earl of Flint; a stepson, Robert Zank of Fenton; a daughter, Mrs. Clair Munn of De Witt; a brother, Dr. H. J. Johnson of Milford; and 12 grandchildren.

Pupils Demonstrate at French Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — About 2,000 foreign students attacked the French Embassy today, breaking windows and throwing banners from the front hallway. They were demonstrating against the imprisonment of Mohammed Ben Bella and other Algerian nationalist leaders.

The students marched from "Friendship University" and other student centers carrying banners saying "Liberate the internees," "Down with the groovy diggers," "Down to the gallows." Some of the students were Algerians.

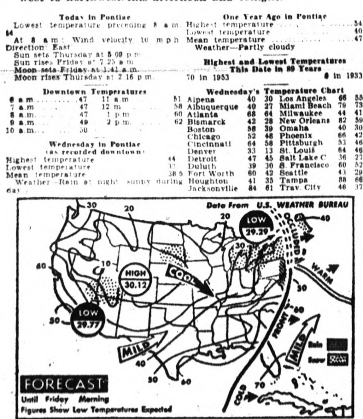

They planted an Algerian national flag on the flagpole of the French Embassy and fought off police efforts to tear it down.

Relatively few police were present during the early part of the demonstration.

Gibson Refrigerator,
UAW Reach Agreement

GREENVILLE (AP) — Gibson Refrigerator Co., the city's largest employer, and United Auto Workers Union Local 137 reached agreement Wednesday on terms of a new one-year contract.

Gibson, a division of Hupp Corp., employs approximately 1,500 persons. It operates plants at Greenville and Belding.

Speakers said terms of the new pact will come before the membership of Local 137 for a vote next Tuesday.

Divorces Mate for Job
at Her Acting Ability

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Theda Bara, who acted in movies under the name of Lynne Roberts, says she didn't mind her husband watching old films on television—she was in them.

testified Tuesday, when her husband, Hyman B. Samuels, 52, made fun of her acting and then fell asleep in front of the set.

Mrs. Samuels, 38, was granted a divorce from Samuels. They were married in 1933.

Government Competes With Private Lenders

Current news releases seem to point out that our Government is hard up for money. They mention our $7 billion deficit and the fact that the "New Frontier" can't even consider needed tax reform next year.

Yet, there are situations that make most of us wonder at times just who's kidding whom. Take for example the Community Facilities Administration. This outfit, one of the lesser known agencies of our Government is under Dr. Robert Weaver's Housing Administration. They are in the loan business and are empowered to lend up to $650 million for public improvements to communities which can't borrow from private sources at reasonable rates of interest.

This all sounds fine, but what actually happens doesn't make much sense.

An example is Charleston, W. Va., where they needed a new sewer system, and they called for bids on $4 million worth of bonds to finance it. A number of lenders bid on the bonds, and the lowest bid was 3.945 per cent interest.

Along with the Charleston city officials the Community Facilities Administration decided this wasn't reasonable. So in turn they decided to loan Charleston the $4 million for its sewers at an interest rate of 3.375—about six-tenths of a cent less.

Naturally, the decision for Charleston was easy. They threw out all the bids of private lenders, and grabbed the Federal money.

This is all well and good. We are happy to see Charleston get a break. But what about the rest of us?

The money that the Federal Government borrows now costs more than 4 per cent, which means that the Community Facilities Administration is carrying this bond issue at a loss. Plus, of course, all the high housekeeping costs.

So, as things stand, Charleston's new sewer system will be paid for in part by millions of Americans who will never pull the plug of a bathtub in Charleston.

High Schoolers in D.C. Object to New Drama

The American theater is sensibly acclaimed as one of the last refuges of realism in art. But the heavy usage of plays dealing with sex and its abnormalities suggests that some of our playwrights may have their realistic lens out of focus.

The other night in Washington, D.C. at a signal from an evidently startled high school principal, 146 students marched out in the middle of a new play about sex. The protest of their shuffling feet even interrupted the drama.

Perhaps the writers, too, should perk up their ears. They have a right to press their quest for truth wherever they wish, but "realism" does not demand that they always find it in a dirt heap.

If the theater doesn't soon set a cleaner trend, the adult theater goes may also start marching out in protest.

John Kelly Had His Say About Lawyers' Terms

Officials, the tangled, stuffy language of government, gets plenty of well-deserved barbs. But did you ever ponder for a moment the language of the lawyers, which usually is far worse, yet often escapes censure?

One brave soul took the bull by the horns and called a spade a spade. The late JOHN B. KELLY, millionaire father of Princess Grace of Monaco, used a legal document—his will—to give the legal lights an overdue friendly poke in the ribs.

He wrote the thing himself, and set the tone in the preface which went: "Kids will be called kids and not issue and it—the will—will not be cluttered up with parties of the first part, per stirpes, perpetuities . . . and a lot of other terms I am sure are only used to confuse."

Copies of this will are in heavy demand and are selling at $7 plus postage. They should hang in every law office and law school in the land.

Road to ruin: A highway where all the traffic lights turn green when they see a foot coming.

This family marathon, as concerns great-grandchildren, accumulates further interest every day. But it now appears to have surely reached its zenith.

First, an Indiana woman broke into the national headlines with 50 great-grandchildren. Then a Saginaw woman, with many Pontiac relatives, reported 70.

And now the neighbors of a Pontiac suburban Oakland County village couple write me that they have 123 great-grandchildren.

Celebrating their 66th wedding anniversary last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schihl of Rochester have eight living children, 51 grandchildren, 123 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. Four of their family of 12 children are deceased.

Mr. and Mrs. Schihl, who are 88 and 84 respectively, moved here from Canada a few years ago; both are in good health, and a kinder or more genteel pair you'll never find. Their children live close by or in neighboring towns.

He phones that a car with a deer on a fender stopped for gas at 6:30 Wednesday morning, and the driver told him to fill 'er up in a hurry, as he was trying to be the first Detroit to return with a deer. The season then was only 30 minutes old.

Guarding His Monopoly

David Lawrence Says:

Neutrals Must Butter U.S. Up

WASHINGTON — What do all these foreign dignitaries—Prime Minister Nehru, among others—really mean? Of what value is the artificial "friendship" with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, and what do the lengthy conferences here with several heads of state in recent weeks amount to? What is lack of it? These questions are in the minds of many people in this country as they wonder whether the visits of high officials from abroad and the platitudinous professions of lofty purpose do any good, and whether the United States is being "played for a sucker" by the so-called "neutrals" or "nonaligned" countries.

But the truth is that it is a game with high stakes. While mistakes have been made, the United States, under the leadership of Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, has actually proceeded with self-restraint, caution and common sense in handling most of the many delicate situations involved.

Take, for instance, the problem of India. President Kennedy knows as well as anybody else in the West that India's delegation to the United Nations has been aiding the maneuvers of the Soviet Union, and that Krishna Menon, the minister of defense in Nehru's cabinet, plays close to the Moscow regime. If, indeed, he isn't a Communist himself, as has been widely reported.

American public opinion lately, moreover, has gotten a bit fed up with Marshal Tito, who also has been going along with the Soviet Union in the United Nations though accepting all the American money and military planes he can get. Several members of Congress have become aroused over this.

The furor helps to impress the Yugoslav dictator—as it does Nehru—with the fact that, while the Washington administration can speak in the freest terms and promise help, the money has to come from the American people and be voted by the Congress.

So what has happened lately is that some recipients of foreign aid, who have been cuddling up to the Communists have been getting the criticism they deserve, and have become so worried about it that they have begun to see that something must be done to ally suspicion in this country.

It's the United States, therefore, that's now getting around to "battering up," though these most recipients of aid from America do not fail to send their emissaries to Moscow soon thereafter, presumably to reassure the Communists.

The editorial page faced the announcement, and in my column, smack dab in the middle of the page was a statement that—well, I need say any more. You know me.

Between that day and the next, I got out of Boston, and stayed out for 15 or 20 years. Then I had another go at it, and lasted for three or four years. I never learned the cause of my second demise in Boston.

I met sudden death in half a dozen communities when I said it was absurd to imagine chewing gum aids digestion. I chew gum because I enjoy it—even though I know it has no particular effect on digestion.

Now that he has caught up with me, J. W. R. buttonsholes me to tell me about his remedy for war. He has never known an instance where it has failed to remove the wart. This reminds me of the two-term practitioner in Penn Yan away back when Tokpy was a colt.

He constantly assured the 5,000 residents in the village and the 2,000 Yates County farmers that he had never lost a case of pneumonia.

Well, maybe he had relinquished some patients to other doctors when death was imminent, and now, when a patient succumbed to heart failure, but by golly no patient of his died of pneumonia! And many Penn Yan or Yates County residents believed him—that's why he was a two-term practitioner.

J. W. R.'s remedy is simple enough: "Every night before retiring wet the foot (not the sunburn, leg skin) with oil of clove, and by dipping up a drop or two on a toothpick and wiping it on the wart."

In a week or two the wart will crumble into small pieces that fall off, leaving the skin unscathed and smooth.

"Some warts crumble and disappear quickly. You may have to work a little longer on others."

Khrushchev are far more onerous than the requests for "cooperation" made by this country.

There was a time when the recipients cried out indignantly against any "strings" being attached to financial aid, but they had to drop that line of talk when they came to realize that Moscow itself insisted on some very substantial conditions.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Boston Story Sad One, Advertisers Won Out

"Women may not like the remedy, as it turns the wart a deep orange color before the wart disappears."

J. W. R. closes his letter with a repetition of his gratitude for the health lessons he learned from my column before I was banned in Boston and promises that if I come to Boston he will arrange for me to see a movie just released, titled "The Young Doctors."

I appreciate the kindness of this offer, but I'll come to Boston only if I should run out of interesting places to visit.

Shouldn't admit, and more than one page of his long letter pertaining to diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by two or three lines, and addressed envelope is sent in The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Older Child Usually Introverted

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-452: Jeffrey and Tommie, aged 5 and 3, are brothers.

"Dr. Crane, they are so entirely different in their personalities, their mother informed me."

"Jeffery is more quiet and shy, while Tommie is a friend to everybody."

"Jeffery is also very possessive and may have his candy for later, while Tommie gobbles his down and then takes the whole Jeffery into sharing with him."

"Surely these differences must be inherited, don't you think? For the boys have the very same home environment."

HEREDITY VS. ENVIRONMENT. Now these boys have entirely different home environments! For the older child came on the family state with no competitors present.

Thus, he learned to monopolize things. And when his paragon wasn't playing with him, he amused himself with his toys. This is silent play.

And his "silent" playmates didn't talk back. They didn't scratch and fight with him, even if he angrily threw them on the floor.

Moreover, they didn't cry lustily for Mamma to come and take their part. For immature toys like building blocks or a teddy bear or a tricycle, stay put. They have no will of their own.

Jeffery thus held full and unchallenged sway over his nursery kingdom, at least till he was about 4 years old.

Voice of the People:

'Have We Forgotten How Pilgrims Built America?'

How much federal aid did the Pilgrims get? That is the question asked in an advertisement by the Cleveland, Ohio, firm of Warner & Swasey. Here is their answer:

"They were in a depressed area. No one guaranteed them high prices. Their only roads and schools were built by themselves. All they had was character. All they did was work. All they wanted was self-respect. The sum of these traits became America."

"But what's going to be the sum of the traits you see today—the traits that demand more money for less work, put second-class self-respect, parade self-styled criminals instead of punishing them, give away resources we desperately need to protect ourselves, listen to weaklings that want government to take care of them when they should take care of themselves?"

"Long years of early American self-respect and work built America, but the traits you see today can destroy it in half the time."

'Big Improvement in Business Page'

Your "Market, Business and Finance" column has recently become more informative to those readers who are interested in the business world. I feel that The Pontiac Press will increase its circulation because of this.

A large number of people that are now taking outside papers are doing so because of the New York Stock Exchange. I feel that if The Pontiac Press completes its coverage of the "Big Board" it will eliminate a large part of its Detroit competition.

What to do with the old courthouse seems to be the question of the day. It might provide a much needed place to hold meetings for the many civic organizations. Its central location provides easy access to those without cars.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday, Nov. 16, the 320th day of the year with 45 more to follow in 1961. Today is Oklahoma Statehood Day.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

On this day in history:

In 1864, Gen. William Sherman started his celebrated "March to the Sea" during the American Civil War.

In 1914, the 13 Federal Reserve banks were opened formally in accordance with the Glass-Steagall bill passed in 1913 to establish a more effective supervision of banking in the United States.

In 1950, the first reinforcements for British and American troops reached Berlin, together with the first small arms shipment from West Berlin police.

In 1960, former President Dwight Eisenhower ordered all federal agencies to cut their foreign spending to a minimum in a move to halt the drain on U.S. gold reserves caused by a deficit in the U.S. balance of payments.

Believes Holidays All Mixed-Up

Why isn't Thanksgiving Day on the day it is supposed to be? It is the last Thursday in the month which would be Nov. 30, not the 23rd. Why don't they leave our dates as they have been for years? We might as well change Christmas and a few other holidays if we can't get them straight.

Why? Why?

'Why Did The Press Change Its Stand?'

Several weeks ago a Press editorial described the need for fall-out shelters and recommended that everyone take action. An address for detailed information was included.

Without stating that you had changed your mind the editorial of Nov. 11 was a complete reversal of your previous stand.

Why?

Mrs. F. R. Felix

Drayton Plains

(Editor's Note: The answer is very simple. Publisher Fitzgerald doesn't propose to build a shelter. Managing Editor Reed has one already constructed. Therein lies the everlasting glory of a democracy and a free country.)

Older Child Usually Introverted

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

But the oldest child is an introvert. He has learned to think to himself and deal with himself. He has learned to deal exclusively for his first few years. So he may become the engineer, scientist, musician, or machanic.

For a fuller test of "Introverts vs. Extroverts," send for my "Vocalization Guidance Booklet," which contains this material. Enclose a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

You parents will then see that your children have a very different home environment although they sleep under the same roof and have the same father and mother.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. I will send you a booklet, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover return postage, when you send for my psychological charts and I will be glad to mail them.

THEY'RE APPRECIATED — Representing the young people of Pontiac, two high school seniors were honored yesterday at a National Youth Appreciation Week Luncheon in Detroit, to which surrounding communities in a five-county area sent 46 young delegates. At left is Ed Bradley, 17, of 108 Spokane Drive, a senior at Pontiac Central High. Flanked by Pontiac Optimist Club President Wayne Gabert and Pontiac Mayor Philip Rowston is Suzanne Polmer, 17, of 1175 Bamford St., Waterford Township, a senior at St. Frederick's. Gabert is reading nomination of the two delegates. The week is sponsored nationwide by the Optimists.

Will Ask CD Radios for Pontiac Schools

A request to provide civil defense radios for all 24 Pontiac public schools is on the agenda for today's board of education meeting. Cost for 23 of the battery-operated radios would be $730. Eleven schools already have similar radios.

The request comes out of the last meeting of the safety and civil defense committee of the Pontiac-Administrators Association.

Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant schools superintendent who heads the committee, asked in his request that the radios be provided immediately.

"In any emergency," he said, "people can work most intelligently and face disaster best, if they know what is occurring. A battery-operated radio in each school would meet this need."

One Out of Nine Births in London Illegitimate

LONDON (AP) — One out of every nine babies born in London in 1960 was illegitimate, the country medical officer reported today.

Dr. J. A. Scott said in his annual report there were 37,388 births, 6,530 of them to unmarried women.

He said 1,426 of the unwed mothers were non-British, including 813 from Ireland, 134 from European countries, 35 from the West Indies and 94 from other foreign countries.

Commuters...

You still can't beat it...even on price!

For speed, comfort, convenience and cost, you still can't beat Grand Trunk commuter service to Detroit. Even with our recent increase in fares, you still save big money over the cost of driving and parking your car (remember: auto costs are going up, too!). Most important, GTW gives you priceless freedom from road and weather problems, a chance to ride relaxed. Tired of the strain? Try the train!

Stab Wound Fatal to Detroit Cabbie

DETROIT (AP) — Cab driver George L. Hauck, 50, was stabbed fatally Wednesday night as he apparently tried to fight off a robber. Hauck's body was found on the porch of an east side home where he had run from his cab to seek help. Police said he was stabbed in the chest and apparently bled to death.

Officers said they found only $8.47 in Hauck's pockets. They said the slayer apparently took a cigar box with more money in it from the front seat of the cab.

Fire Fighters Forced to Fight Fog to Fight Fire

LAWRENCE, Mass. (AP) — Police say the fog and visibility were worse than ever Wednesday night.

It was so bad, they reported today, a fire truck had to be led down the street by a fireman toting a hand lamp.

16th Gang Slaying Reported in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — A plumber with a long record as a burglar was fatally shotgunned in front of his home early today, the 16th gangland-style assassination in Chicago in a year and eighth in the area in a week.

The body of John Hennigan, 43, was found sprawled half out of his 1956-model yellow and black car, parked across the street from his home. He had been shot twice with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Swainson Reappoints 2 to Corrections Posts

LANSING (AP) — Reappointment of John W. Rice of Houghton and Clarence J. Farley of Grand Rapids to the State Corrections Commission was announced by Gov. Swainson Wednesday.

Both appointments are for terms expiring Oct. 1, 1967, and require Senate confirmation.

Break Up Numbers Ring

DETROIT (AP) — Police said they broke up a numbers ring doing a $5,000 daily business with the arrest of 17 persons Wednesday night. Forty officers raided six homes and a carpet-cleaning shop. They said they confiscated 11 autos, $4,400 in cash, 20,000 bet slips and six pistols.

Should Have Broken Wall, Goldwater Says

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says the United States should have pushed over the Berlin dividing wall "when it was only one brick high" and then backed off to see what would happen.

Military men have told him nothing would have happened, Goldwater said.

"Now it's too late," he said in a lecture at Holy Cross College Wednesday night.

Stranger Has Trouble With That New York Lingo

By BUD SPRINGER

NEW YORK (AP)—A stranger in this town can run into trouble trying to order breakfast.

"Friend, of mine from the South-west couldn't get a doughnut. They kept handing him something with jelly in the middle—where the hole is supposed to be. Finally he found out that in this spot the word for doughnut is cruller."

Arriving from San Francisco, I made the mistake of asking for a small, with my coffee. The dudes turned west of green before I could get that to "buttermilk. They figured that out but told me in the future to ask for Danish.

Other translations are not quite as difficult. Almost any tourist can figure that hotcakes on the menu are pancakes. And there is nothing quite as difficult here as in Boston where they say frappe when they mean milkshake.

By and large these folks speak English pretty well, but they do have a lot of trouble with the word bring. They hand you something and say "bring it over there." Apparently the teachers around here don't drill their kids on the verb take.

And when they wait to get into a place, these folks say they are waiting on line, while everybody else is waiting on the line.

But you can get mixed up in the names of meals. In the Midwest, Southwest, West and South we say supper for the last meal of the day, but around here it is the rest of the country waits in line for dinner. And so they won't get con-line.

fused, they say lunch when they mean dinner.

And, oh yes, around here they call a waitress Miss, not Mam, as hard here. I don't know.

You never hear of them going to the city, either. Just about everybody in Northern California goes to the city when they go to San Francisco, which they pronounce San Francisco. But here suburbanites say they are going to New York, and those that live in boroughs other than Manhattan say they are going to town.

Clothing can cause you trouble, too. I wanted a pair of Levis the other day and some clerk was trying to be helpful. After I had tried out overall pants and jeans on him, he finally convinced me that what I wanted was a pair of dungarees. Turned out he was right.

After that sad experience, I sure didn't try out Chesterfield at the furniture store. I asked for a sofa and eventually got a couch.

Maybe the trouble here is the schools. The kids around here don't get grades. No, sir. What they get are marks.

And although that bring and take thing floors them, the Eastern kids go to grammar or elementary schools instead of grade schools.

When they go to a grocery, they haul home a bag of food when they should be getting a sack. Or, as they say in Tennessee and Kentucky, a poke.

Honeymoon in Contract SINGAPORE (AP)—Workers at the Kwangtung Provincial Bank who marry are now entitled to two weeks honeymoon leave. The clause was written into a new two-year working agreement signed Wednesday.

School Health Men Choose Chairman

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. C. Adele Brown, Grosse Pointe, school physician, was elected chairman Wednesday of the school health section of the American Public Health Association.

Dr. Brown was honored Monday night with a distinguished service award of the American School Health Association for outstanding service in school health on a national and local level.

Dr. Brown is known for a nationwide survey on hearing in the school-age child completed some two years ago.

Haiti is the most densely populated in the Western Hemisphere.

Pair Comes Out Short After Going to Court

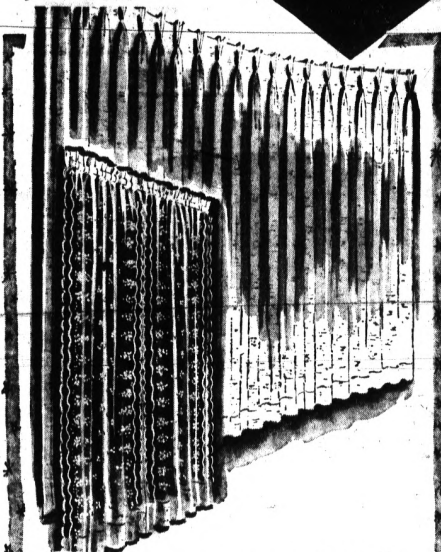

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—When the government offered a Hardinsburg couple $17,500 for about 30 acres of their land, they went to court. It cost them $500.

A federal district court jury Wednesday awarded Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jarboe $17,000 for the land, needed by the federal government for use in construction of the Rough River reservoir flood control project.

Negro-U.S. Official Refused Service

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Carl Rowan, deputy assistant secretary of state, was refused service at a Kansas City night club for an hour Wednesday night. Then the manager learned his identity.

"It's not particularly embarrassing to me," Rowan said. "I've been in hundreds of incidents like this. I've been a Negro for a long time. It is disgusting, though, that these things happen."

Rowan was here to address the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities. Rowan and four companions, all white, went to the Eighty-Eight Keys after his Negro combi, led by pianist-organist Baby Lovett, had been recommended as one of the best shows in town. They sat at a table for an hour before the management decided to serve them.

Soviet Envoy Discusses Germany With DeGaulle

PARIS (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov visited President Charles de Gaulle for 45 minutes Wednesday and said he discussed the German problem for a good part of the time.

Vinogradov told newsmen he explained also developments at the 22nd Soviet party congress in Moscow from which he has just returned.

Teaching Experiment Goes Up in Smoke

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Substitute teacher Ernest Bury, 30, thought the most scientific way to demonstrate the evils of tobacco to eighth graders would be to let them puff a cigarette.

Bury, who doesn't smoke, borrowed a cigarette from a student at Jonas Salk School and suggested each child take a puff.

About half the class of 30 tried it. One girl got queasy and complained to the principal, who called the superintendent, Fred J. Kiesel. He fired Bury.

"Allowing youngsters to smoke that marriage. Maxine Culhane of is certainly contrary to the teaching of morals to children and is deeply regretted," said Kiesel. "I was simply thinking as a scientist," Bury said.

Will of Late Chico Marx Leaves Estate to Widow

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The will of the late Chico Marx of the famed Marx brothers comedy team was filed for probate Wednesday.

The document disclosed an estate listed only in excess of $10,000, which was left to Marx's widow, Mary Di Vito Marx.

Marx, 74, died last Oct. 11. The will made no bequests to any of his brothers nor to a former wife, Betty, or a daughter by that marriage. Maxine Culhane of New York City.

Says Outer Space to Be Won With Nuclear Engines

DETROIT (AP)—Nuclear engines will permit man to conquer outer space, the Engineering Society of Detroit was told Wednesday.

John W. Simpson, vice president of Westinghouse Electric Corp. and general manager of its atomic power division, said atomic power is a must for space exploration, but said development will require a massive technical effort.

"He said large chemical rockets, such as the Saturn, are being evolved, but that for manned lunar missions and interplanetary travel they will be inadequate in-less there are a large number of seeming difficult orbital rendezvous.

"The scientists have almost shown the way, but we (engineers) have the job of developing and improving the engines and the power sources which alone will make more meaningful space exploration possible," Simpson said.

Reds to Build Refinery

MOSCOW (AP)—Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported today that Soviet technicians soon will begin construction of an oil refinery for Ethiopia at the Red Sea port of Asaba. The news agency said the refinery would have a capacity of 500,000 tons a year.

Indonesian Bombers to Go on Maneuvers

JAKARTA, Indonesia, (AP)—The Indonesian air force announced today that three new Soviet-built TU16 long-range jet bombers would soon go to East Indonesia for maneuvers near the border of Dutch-held West New Guinea.

The bombers, received from the Soviet Union under an arms deal, have just concluded an operational exercise in North Sumatra.

Two bomber and fighter wings already are patrolling off West New Guinea, which Indonesia claims.

NASA Planning New Space Labs

Hope to Have a Dozen Units at Universities Within a Decade

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A plan to establish space science laboratories at universities in the United States was disclosed today by an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Willnot N. Hess, deputy chief of the theoretical division of NASA, said: "The program has not been completely worked out but the general ideas are known."

Hess told the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities:

"I fully expect that more than a dozen space science laboratories will be operating at universities within a decade."

He mentioned the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA), the University of California at Berkeley and the University of Iowa as possible sites.

Hess said in a prepared address that NASA wants to utilize university personnel without weakening the universities by recruiting these people into government service.

Filtration Plant Contract Given by Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Grand Rapids construction firm of Owen-Ames-Kimball has won a $1,567,800 contract to start work on the city's $5-million Lake Michigan shore filtration plant in Ottawa County.

The plant is scheduled to start operations by early 1963.

The firm was low among nine bidders for the job which is part of a $2.65-million revenue bond program to boost the city's water production facilities.

McNeeley's Pilot Gets $1 Million 'Go-Ahead'

TORONTO (AP)—The Ontario Athletic Commission assured Peter McNeeley, manager of heavy-weight challenger Tom McNeeley, Wednesday that it's OK for Fuller to post a cool $1 million as a guarantee of a "return" match should McNeeley beat champion Floyd Patterson.

The assurance indicated the commission's unreserved approval of the proposed Dec. 4 fight. Such approval was Fuller's condition for posting the guarantee.

In a normal year the United States output of edible vegetable oils adds up to 7.5 billion pounds. About 2.5 billion pounds are exported.

Eye Surgeons Aid Refugees

50 Near-Blind Escapees From Red China Given Chance to See Again

HONG KONG (AP)—American eye surgeons following up a project of the late Dr. Tom Dooley have given 50 near-blind refugees from Communist China a good chance of recovering their sight.

The favorable outlook was reported today by one of the team, Dr. Charles Bliff of Johns Hopkins University. He said that although the success of the operations may not be finally determined for months, most of the patients will be able to have "good vision."

TEACHING SURGEONS

Dr. Bliff, Dr. John Harry King of Georgetown University and Dr. John McLean of Cornell University were sent to Hong Kong by Mexico, a private American medical aid group supported by public contributions. They have been demonstrating the latest techniques of corneal transplanting to local eye surgeons trying to treat thousands of blind refugees from Red China.

Dr. Dooley, medical hero of Laos, formulated the project before his death from cancer.

Dr. Bliff praised the American people for the "genuine concern" they have shown for the blind refugees in this British colony off the China coast.

He said that since the team's arrival here two weeks ago more than 50 "fresh" corneas have been sent from Buffalo, N.Y.; Seattle, Wash., and Denver, Colo., by jet planes.

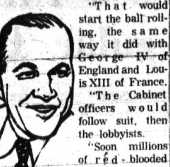

They Have Solution to World's Woes, Says Manufacturer

Wants 'Wigs' to Make Political Comeback in Style

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Max Miller has a simple goal.

"I want President Kennedy to wear a fashion wig," he said.

BOYLE

He would start the ball rolling, the same way it did with George IV of England and Louis XIII of France.

"The Cabinet officers would follow suit, then the lobbyists."

"Soon millions of red-blooded American men would be wearing beautiful high-fashion wigs. Their wives would fall back in love with them. The wholesome loving atmosphere in all those homes would put an end to juvenile delinquency, alcoholism and the television habit."

Miller, at 43 the owner of a flourishing mop of hair that makes him his own worst customer, is the dynamic head of one of the oldest and largest wig firms in the world.

OVER 5 MILLION

The hairpiece business is now about a $50-million-a-year industry in this country, and getting bigger all the time.

The bald truth of the matter, according to Miller, is that some three million American women have now worn fashion wigs and some 400,000 to 600,000 men protect their scalps from sunburn, rain, snow and ill-natured laughter with toupees, also known in the trade as "toppers."

Miller feels sure that in another 5 to 10 years these figures will be trebled or quadrupled.

It is his opinion—well, anyway, his hope—that the fashion wig again will become a status symbol among men, as it already is among many women.

"George Washington wore a fashion wig," he said. "So did Ben Franklin and Thomas Jefferson. Would you call them sissies?"

"Actually this is the second era of American history when the wig has been a status symbol.

STATUS SYMBOL

"In Colonial America wigs were symbols of status—but as worn by husbands not wives. You could gauge a colonist's station in life by the repertoire of wigs he owned.

"The wealthy landowner might possess a dozen. The shopkeeper would have two—one for every day, one for Sundays. The blacksmith probably owned but one while the indentured servants and field hands had nothing to hide their hair from the contemptuous regard of their bewigged betters."

According to Miller, people have been wearing wigs for 10,000 years or so. He says both Hannibal and Nero wore them for purposes of disguise, and that the first Queen Elizabeth of England, whose hair was scant and thin, had 80 wigs in her wardrobe.

A modern woman's wig today costs from $200 to $700, a man's topper from $185 to $250. They last from two to three years, and can be sent out to be cleaned and dressed for $4.50.

Feminine wigs contain from 250,000 to 300,000 hairs, male toupees about 140,000.

FROM SICILY

The world hair buying center is Palermo, Sicily, and the greatest source of supply is the Italian woman peasant. The price ranges all the way from $30 a pound for straight black hair to $400 a pound for pure white or red hair, the colors in scant supply.

So far, Miller's letters to the Ebo-

White House suggesting that President Kennedy launch a new fashion in male wigs have gone unanswered. He is considering whether Soviet Premier Khrushchev might be a more interested prospect, and would be glad to furnish the premier with a free hairpiece as a starter.

"A nice crewcut toupee might help him get rid of his inferiority complex and give him more self-confidence," said Miller. "Any way, it's worth a try."

Assures Investors

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Public assurance to overseas investors that their capital in Nigeria is safe from nationalization was given in the Parliament Wednesday by Finance Minister Festus Okotie-Eboh.

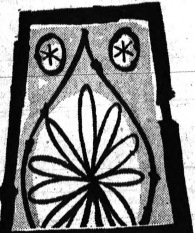

Gives Natives Hot Foot

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The U.S. destroyer Jonas Ingram had a hot problem to handle when it touched the Seychelles Islands near Madagascar on a good will tour.

Hundreds of barefoot natives came aboard as guests—and the steel decks were scorching hot from the sun. The Navy solved the problem by having the visitors dash from one shaded spot to another.

Special Meat Prices Vie With Popular Turkey

Let us give thanks for bountiful food supplies. There is no question of what we eat. Our question becomes, "Which of the many choices will we select this Thanksgiving?"

Beef, pork and poultry will be given store emphasis this week reports the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawler. Although whole-sale beef prices are about as they have been, many stores are marking steaks, standing rib, blade chuck and ground beef at special prices.

Hams, Boston butt (the lean shoulder roast), steaks (cut from the Boston butt), and spareribs are pork cuts receiving special emphasis. Turkeys are hard to check! Turkey prices vary according to size with the large size about ten cents per pound less than the small size.

If you choose turkey this Thanksgiving, you will find a bird far different than that available 20 to 25 years ago. Today's turkey has 50 per cent more meat than the type grandmothers could buy. The current model has short legs and more white meat. And birds of all sizes are tender and juicy.

Turkey marketing methods have changed too. Almost all turkeys now come ready-to-cook. Most are frozen. A strengthened overwrap for frozen turkeys was recently developed. This means less chance for a tear in the wrap, less chance of drying and loss of moisture.

THAWING

Allow 1 to 4 days for thawing a frozen turkey in the refrigerator. For example, turkeys in the 4 to 10 pound range require 1 to 2 days to thaw; those in the 20 to 24 pound range, 3 to 4 days. If you buy a frozen-stuffed turkey follow the directions on the bird, for it goes into the oven while frozen.

Grapefruit is the traditional meat accompaniment, and prices are at their seasonal low at holiday time. However, many shoppers will select Michigan's processed cherry sauce or the newer sauce made with grape and cherry juice.

Both broccoli and Brussels sprouts are in good supply and reasonably priced report the produce buyers in this area. New cabbage supplies are arriving from Arizona and these, added to the cabbage in storage, mean very low prices for food shoppers.

Notice that some Florida oranges are lower in price due to the adjustment to the greater volume of fruit. There is also good volume of grapefruit from Florida and Texas.

Celery and lettuce supplies have been small compared to the usual customer needs. You will notice increased prices on

Gay Pumpkins Are 'Cheesey'

Thanksgiving and other harvest time dinners call for extra special touches such as "Little Cheese Pumpkins" atop a gelatin mince meat pie — the perfect finale for a festive dinner. These decorative, delicious miniatures are easy to make from a mixture of crushed cheddar cheese, cream cheese, sour cream, paprika and salt. Stems are easy to make by cutting strips from green gum drops, or use parsley or watercress and serve pumpkin as party snacks. Make it this easy way:

"Little Cheese Pumpkin"
1 6½-oz. package cheese crackers
1 8-oz. package cream cheese, at room temperature
½ cup sour cream
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon salt
3 or 4 green gum drops

Roll crackers into very fine crumbs between two sheets of waxed paper. Blend cream cheese, sour cream, paprika and salt together. Add all but about a quarter cup of crumbs to the cheese mixture, mixing well (this will make a stiff dough).

Mold cheese-crumbs mixture into little pumpkin shapes about 1½ inches in diameter. Then roll in the reserved quarter cup of crumbs. Make lines down sides of balls with side of fork. Roll lightly in crumbs again.

Top each pumpkin with a tiny stem cut from green gum drops. Refrigerate until needed. Use as garnish for holiday pies. Yield: About 24 pumpkins.

Toasted Oats Crust Has Nutty Flavor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rolled oats get party treatment in a crunchy, cinnamon spiced pie crust.

Toast 1 cup of uncooked, quick or old-fashioned rolled oats in a 350-degree oven 10 minutes. Mix with ½ cup of firmly-packed brown sugar blended with ½ teaspoon of cinnamon. Stir in 1/3 cup of melted butter or margarine.

Pat into bottom and sides of 8-inch pie plate. Chill, then fill with your favorite pudding or chiffon pie filling.

Fudge Gets Extra Shot of Nutrition

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rushed for time in holiday meal-planning? Make this speedy version of fudge for dessert or snacktime.

In a medium saucepan, combine 1½ cups of sugar with ¼ teaspoon of salt, 3 tablespoons each of peanut butter and butter or margarine and 7 tablespoons of milk. Bring slowly to a rolling boil, stirring constantly. Cook 1 minute without stirring.

Remove from heat. Let stand until cool. Stir in ¼ cup of quick rolled oats and ¼ teaspoon of vanilla. Beat until thickened. Pour onto greased plate and chill until set. Cut into squares.

Follow Rules for Perfect Waffles

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI) — For golden brown waffles at breakfast, lunch or dinner, Marion MacNab, a home economist at the New York State Extension Service at Cornell University, suggests the following rules:

—Season waffle iron properly.
—Heat to proper temperature.
—Always leave iron open while cooking.

—Never wash iron with water; use a stiff-brush to remove baked-on batter.

To season the iron, Mrs. MacNab said, brush cold grids with unsalted, melted fat or shortening. Close cover. Heat the iron to baking temperature. Then open it and allow it to cool.

Warm Gingerbread Gets Fruit Cocktail Topping

Spicy squares of gingerbread, with a gay fruit topping, make a perfect family dessert on cool fall days. Drain syrup from canned fruit cocktail, reserving 1 cup syrup. Combine syrup with 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¼ cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons each cornstarch and butter and ¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Bring to boil and cook, stirring until thickened. Add fruit cocktail and heat lightly. Serve warm over gingerbread.

Booklet on Venison Offered to Readers

Venison is a highly prized game meat and makes an appetizing dish if it is properly prepared.

The Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service pamphlet "Venison," offers serving suggestions ranging from "deerburgers" to venison pot roast.

The booklet also includes instructions for bleeding and dressing out the deer and cutting and preserving the carcass.

You can obtain a copy of "Venison" (Extension Bulletin E-253) at the Oshkosh-County Cooperative Extension Service office, 1330 West Boulevard, Pontiac.

Yogurt Can Be Used Like Sour Cream

Although centuries old, yogurt is the newest dairy favorite with diet-conscious homemakers. High in nutrition, low in calories and delicious in flavor, yogurt is enjoying a new popularity in today's weight-reducing menus, reports Dr. Stephen Gaymont of Chicago, one of the pioneers in the commercial development of yogurt in the United States. Americans will eat more than 30 million cartons of yogurt this year as a result of the new enthusiasm for yogurt.

"One of the reasons for its popularity is simply that so many Americans have discovered that yogurt, the twin of sour cream in looks, taste and use, has only one-sixth the fat calories that sour cream has. In addition, yogurt has the wonderful ability to appease appetites — thus making it easier to keep off unwanted pounds," points out Dr. Gaymont.

A versatile and refreshing dairy food, yogurt can be used in a variety of ways — as a dessert snack in itself, with fresh or canned fruits and berries as well as a delicious addition to vegetables, cereals, pastries, soups, salads and carried meats. With meats it acts as a marinade, smoothly blending spices in sauces and gravies.

Yogurt is truly an international favorite as proven by its popularity at the United Nations where the cafeteria sells dozens of containers daily. The U.N. members from the Balkan countries stir it with a spoon and drink it while Frenchmen usually eat it as a dessert, sprinkling their yogurt with sugar. American delegates, including Adlai Stevenson, usually eat yogurt as a snack in mid-afternoon for added energy.

Kraut Casserole
1 cup yogurt
2 lbs. sauerkraut (drained)
1 lb. pkg. wieners
1 onion, minced or grated
1/2 cup tomato paste
3 tablespoons brown sugar
Combine sauerkraut, yogurt, onion, tomato paste and brown sugar. Mix well. Spoon into a two quart baking dish. Top with wieners. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 minutes or until bubbly.

Cheeseless Cheese Cake
2 cups yogurt
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup non fat dry milk powder
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup cold water in top of double boiler. Stir in sugar and yogurt. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until sugar and gelatin are dissolved. Chill until mixture reaches the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Combine 1/2 cup cold water, lemon juice, vanilla and non fat dry milk powder. Beat until stiff. Fold in gelatin-yogurt mixture.

Sprinkle 1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs on the bottom of an ungreased spring form pan. Pour in mixture. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Remove sides of spring pan before serving and sprinkle an additional 1/2 cup of chilled cake.

CHEESELESS — It's cheese cake all right, except for one thing — no cheese. This tempting dessert is a cheeseless cake, made with yogurt, and not even an expert could tell that the recipe calls for no cheese at all unless he looked over the cook's shoulder while she was preparing it. Cheeseless cheese cake, an example of one of the many varied ways calorie-conscious homemakers are using yogurt to turn out rich-tasting, yet diet-wise dishes, is one of special recipes offered by Dr. Stephen Gaymont, who introduced yogurt commercially to the U.S.

Get Artistic With Marzipan

Last spring, hundreds of thousands of soft pink flowers bloomed in California. And the end result of this floral display was intended for you, Mrs. Homemaker, as creamy-colored almonds. A native of the Orient, almonds were first brought to America by Franciscan friars. Today, America's harvest is expected to be the second largest on record and is listed as "plentiful" by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Almonds, like the "Arabian Nights" tales, can be traced back to antiquity. The Old Testament speaks of "spices and myrrh, nuts and almonds." They were the main ingredient in many Far East foods for centuries and a good example is the well-known confection, Marzipan. Treat your family or guests to this delight of sultans soya.

Beat 1 egg white and mix with 1 cup almond paste (1/2 pound). Add 1/4 tsp. salt and about 2 cups confectioners' sugar (enough to make mixture stiff enough to handle). Knead 10 to 15 minutes and place in covered earthenware or glass dish.

After about 24 hours the marzipan is ready to mold. Color with vegetable colors and mold into small shapes of fruits or vegetables, using angelica for stems. You may also dip small pieces in a coating of egg marzipan to stuff dates.

Monosodium Glutamate Points Up Turkey Flavor

This Thanksgiving, let your turkey be the best bird you ever served; the secret is in the seasoning. When you season your turkey with salt and pepper, add MSG in this fashion: Use 2 1/2 teaspoon MSG per pound of turkey, sprinkle one half the amount inside the cavities and over the skin. Divide the remainder between the stuffing and gravy. MSG does wonders for turkey by bringing out all the subtlety of flavor and moisture as the bird roasts. And MSG points up the individual flavors in gravy and stuffing, combining all into a harmonious whole.

Fig Dumplings Are Different

A quick, but most interesting sweet dumpling made from package mix and figs.
1 cup pancake mix
1/2 cup chopped dried figs
1/2 cup water
1 egg
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup milk
2 cups brown sugar
2 cups water
1/2 cup butter
1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
Combine pancake mix with figs and nuts. Beat egg with 1/2 cup brown sugar, vanilla and milk.

Add to dry ingredients, stirring to blend.
In large fry pan, simmer 2 cups brown sugar, water, butter and lemon peel. Drop in batter, a spoonful at a time. Cover and simmer 25 minutes. Serve hot with remaining sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Top Broccoli Casserole With Biscuits

This casserole main dish makes service easy.
Broccoli-Egg Casserole
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons plus 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 1/2 cups (about) milk
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1 can (4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli (cooked and drained)
1/2 cup dried sharp cheese (diced)
4 hard-cooked eggs (diced)
Make a white sauce of the butter, 2 tablespoons flour and 1 cup milk.
Stir together the 1 1/2 cups flour, baking powder and salt; cut in shortening; add remaining 1/2 cup (for a little more) milk; make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll into rectangle 8 by 10 inches. Spread with deviled ham. Roll up, starting with short end; seal edges. Slice into eight 1-inch plumbloths.

In a buttered 2-quart casserole, alternate layers of broccoli, cheese, eggs and white sauce twice. Top with plumbloths. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 4 large servings.
Note: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder and salt.
Steam vents are necessary in the top crust of a fruit pie; cut the vents in attractive fan shapes.

Plan Fish Dishes to Vary Menus

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Ever since summer ended we have been talking about and giving you recipes for "economical" pork, "heart" beef, "abundant" chicken, "in-season" lamb. This month we've talked turkey often.

We think it's time for something new.

Take fish, for instance. And seafood? Aren't they an excellent source of variety in your meal planning? We think so and have hunted up some recipes that may provide a change from other main dishes. Save these recipes, if they appeal to you and use them during the whole holiday season.

One of the old reliable fishes that has been packing tuna for years now has two new varieties. One is packed in 100 per cent corn oil; the other comes in a clear vegetable broth. Weight watchers and those concerned with cutting their fat intake will welcome these packs.

Use either kind to prepare fat little tuna cakes for dinner. Serve them with peas and boiled onions.

Pancake Sea-Prime

2 cans tuna
2 eggs
1/2 cup cracker crumbs
Chopped dill
Salt

Drain tuna. If tuna in corn oil is used, save corn oil for frying. Beat eggs slightly. Break up tuna and add to eggs with cracker crumbs, dill and salt.

Shape into 4 or 5 thick patties and fry in corn oil until golden on each side. Makes 4-5 servings.

Halibut steak make a fine main course. To vary its taste a bit, broil it with an herb-flavored crumb topping. A choice of four different herbs is given in the recipe.

Halibut Steaks With Herb-Crumbs

2 lbs. halibut steaks, fresh or frozen
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon thyme, rosemary, basil, or oregano
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, optional

Thaw halibut on refrigerator shelf, if necessary. Sprinkle steaks with salt and pepper and broil 3 to 4 minutes on each side.

Make herb-crumb mixture by melting butter or margarine over low heat in a small frying pan and adding dry bread crumbs; toss gently with fork until butter or margarine is absorbed. Add preferred herb and garlic salt, if desired.

When halibut is cooking on second side and fish begins to flake when tested with a fork, remove from the broiler and top each steak with herb-crumb mixture. Slide under broiler again briefly to brown crumbs. Makes 6 servings.

who put tomatoes in their clam chowder and those who don't. We'll just pass along this recipe for a quick clam chowder made with tomato vegetable soup mix and canned minced clams. A hearty soup, it can serve as the main course any chilly night.

Manhattan Clam Chowder

1/2 cup diced bacon
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 cup diced raw potatoes
6 cups boiling water
2 envelopes Tomato Vegetable Soup Mix and Noodles
1/4 teaspoon thyme
Dash of pepper
1 10-ounce can minced clams
In a squat saucepan, fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Add onion and celery to bacon fat and saute 5 minutes. Stir in potatoes and 2 cups of water. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add remaining water, soup mix, thyme and pepper. Re-cover and simmer an additional 10 minutes. Stir in clams and bacon and reheat. Makes 6-8 servings.

PANCAKE SEA-PRISSES — Tuna takes on new importance when it is mixed with eggs and crumbs and shaped into little cakes. The new tuna canned in corn oil is delicately flavored. Drain off the oil and use it for browning the patties. Serve with your favorite sauce.

Corn on Cob Has Longer Season

NEW YORK (UPI) — Corn on the cob has a longer season than most vegetables. Reports from Florida and California indicate that a large harvest of fresh corn is on its way to market.

The fall crop is expected to be 10 per cent more than 1960 and 28 per cent above average.

The 10,000 acre harvest in the Sunshine state, which began in the Everglades area on Oct. 2, is increasing in volume and will remain at its peak until Thanksgiving. California's production is coming from the Arvin-Wheeler-Ridge area and the Coachella valley.

Hot sub-tropical sunshine in Florida and California makes it possible to grow fall and winter corn in the first place, but it becomes the enemy of the crop the moment the corn is picked.

Successful shipping to far-off places depends on the ability of growers to pick their crop and get it to a cooler before the sugar in the kernels turns to starch.

Keep Soda to Fight Fire

Do you know how to save the steak if it suddenly bursts into flames? The formula for salvaging hubby's dinner is first, don't panic; second, reach for the baking soda; and third, use the soda-right at the base of the fire.

Soda, in case you don't know it is one of the chief ingredients of most commercial fire extinguishers. And for good reason. The high heat from flames almost instantly turns the millions of tiny soda particles into carbon dioxide gas which smothers the flames by cutting off their oxygen supply.

Be sure, when tossing the soda, to stand back and away from the fire so that your hand doesn't get into that red, hot area directly above the fire. And it's a good idea for the sake of easy dumping, and to be sure that you always have enough soda on hand to expel the next time you go to the store.

So well thought of is soda for this particular phase of fire

Cook Beef Loaf With Beans

Vegetables are "built" right into "Tucson Skillet" to make it an easy-to-do entrée for the family. Salad, dessert and beverage added for an entire meal. Seasoned and browned ground beef leaves and catsup top blue lake green beans and corn in a skillet while this meal-one simmers away. Blue lakes—pole beans grown in water-rich Washington and Oregon especially for canning—are ideal accompaniments for meat dishes.

Tucson Skillet

1 pound ground beef
1/4 cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1/4 teaspoon crushed marjoram
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

1 egg
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 (1-lb.) can cut blue lake green beans
1 (1-lb.) can whole kernel corn
1/4 cup catsup

Combine beef, crumbs, onion, seasonings and egg. Shape meat mixture into 12 small loaves, brown in butter in skillet. Remove meat and all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Drain green beans and corn, place in skillet. Top with meat loaves and catsup. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Make Up Exciting Relishes With Jam, Fruit, and Nuts

You may serve chilled vintage Concord Grape jellies, jams and preserves just as they are with your Thanksgiving poultry, beef or game. Fresh from a beautiful autumn harvest they bring a unique deep flavor and a sparkling color accent to your holiday table.

You may use home made or the fine commercial Concord grape jellies, jams, preserves now on the market. Just remember to chill them well before serving.

But if you'd like to get into the act yourself, and hear your guests sing far and wide, use these delicious beauties as a base for exciting new poultry and meat relishes. Here are three piquant ones designed to bring glitter and delight to your Thanksgiving feast. Each is quick, easy and economical to make.

Quick Concord Relish

1 10-ounce jar Grapeleade or Grape Jam
1 tablespoon ground whole orange
1 tablespoon drained crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Mix well, season and chill in refrigerator for a few hours, serve. (Because of the raw fruit content of this relish it should be kept under refrigeration, and used within a few days.)

Feasting "Purple"

1 20-ounce jar Grapeleade or Grape Jam
1 cup orange marmalade
1/2 cup seeded raisins
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped walnuts or pecans

Cook all except walnuts together over medium heat to desired thickness. Remove from heat, add walnuts. Cool, store in refrigerator to season and chill. Serve.

Cherry-Concord Jubilee

1 20-ounce jar Concord Grape Jam, Grapeleade or Fruit of the Vine
1 cup canned pie cherries, well-drained
2 tablespoons ground whole orange
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Mix all except walnuts into sauce pan. Cook over medium flame to desired thickness. Remove from heat. Add chopped walnuts. Cool, cover, store in refrigerator for a few hours before use to season and chill.

Red China Tries to Recoup With 'Great Step Backward'

(Second of Four Dispatches)
BY JOHN STEINHEIM

MACAO (NEA) — There have been charges that Red China's government wanted to starve off millions of her people so that there would be fewer mouths to feed. But this year Peking already has spent $200 million of its shrunken treasury to buy about 5.7 million tons of foreign wheat, flour and other grains.

This food, primarily from Australia and Canada, will provide 25 million persons with 2,000 calories a day for a year. Without this food, 10 to 20 million Chinese might have died.

Deep as China's trouble was early this year, it promises to be worse this winter because of another bad crop in '61, and a suspicious peasantry that won't be so easily enthused or driven by Communist exhortation next time.

Having been given some concessions, the canny peasants, who have seen warlords come and go, may hold out for more concessions with a slowdown of deliveries.

"The Red Chinese food situation is so critical that slowing up grain deliveries from the farms by two or three months can result in millions starving," says one American observer in the Far East.

The Red rulers already are taking steps to meet the crisis.

First, they're negotiating with Australia and Canada for another six to eight million tons of wheat for delivery starting in January. That will keep 30 million persons alive for a year—60 million until the new harvest comes in next May.

They'll need half a billion dollars in cash or credit to pay for this grain—plus another $125 million that remains unpaid for this year's purchases.

SEEK EASIER CREDIT

Red Chinese have been in Canada and Australia trying to get easier credit terms. Also, gold and silver bullion is being sold in London to finance these purchases. It probably came from old coin hoards confiscated from murdered landlords and liquidated businessmen in the early days of the revolution.

Second, the Communist bosses have abandoned almost everything about the agricultural commune except the name. (They might have gotten rid of that if Khrushchev had not ridiculed Mao's masterpiece in a scathing speech at Warsaw in which he gave four reasons why the communes were sure to fail.

(The Chinese press responded with a stinging four-point editorial citing the same reasons why the communes would succeed. Khrushchev's round.)

The Great Step Backward—the Chinese double talk explanation—goes like this:

After forcing the peasants into communes (2,000 to 10,000 persons) on the grounds that they would have more efficient utilization of manpower, the authority has been given back to the production team (usually 10 or 20 families)—for the same reasons.

Private garden plots, abolished under the commune system, because "the commune can make wiser use of land and labor resources," are now given back to the peasants with the explanation they "will produce more food."

RETURN PIGS
Pigs, which the communes tried to raise in large collective herds, because there would be "better management, less disease, and more production," are once more returned to private peasants. That's because the "peasant will take better care of them, will have less disease problems, and will raise more pigs."

Sideline occupations, which were discouraged on the grounds they smacked of "capitalism," are now encouraged because it is good to have "little freedoms within the large collective."

But what went sour—why is food so short? Why was the Great Step Backward necessary? There were several reasons:

WEATHER. Disastrous droughts in various sections cut yields three years in a row.

One qualified observer thinks floods destroyed 60 per cent of the amateurishly engineered irrigation structures. (Three years ago, I saw millions of Chinese "volunteers" at work on these jerry-built dams, carrying baskets of dirt on shoulder poles.)

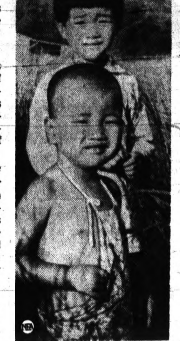

LACK OF INCENTIVE. The peasants' land, their pigs, their private garden plots were taken from them. Although the communes promised to pay peasants wages based on performance, none of the commune workers I talked with had received anything except their food and cloth rations for the past three years of labor.

The Communist edict "He who does not work does not eat!" keeps the sullen peasants at work in the rice fields. I talked with a mother holding a tiny 3-week-old baby, who said:

"They told me I had to go to the fields the day after I had my baby if I wanted my regular food rations." She escaped a week later.

POPULATION IS GROWING. Every day there are 40,000 new mouths to feed in Red China—12 to 15 million more a year.

FORGET HUNGER—Refugee children stand in the productive grain field their father now cultivates in Hong Kong.

In 1948, the Red Chinese had 470 million people and 771 million acres of arable land. Today they have an estimated 700 million people and only 261 million acres of land.

MISMANAGEMENT. Bureaucrats wasted manpower on such silly practices as "plowing 10 feet deep" to outshine another commune.

One farm admitted they planted rice so close they decreased their yields by 30 per cent.

The bureaucrats begged so much about the tractors they were going to get from Soviet and Chinese factories that the peasants stopped raising draft animals—but they ended up pulling the plows themselves.

INDUSTRIALIZATION DRIVE.

The headlong attempt to become a 20th Century industrial power overnight led to a tremendous diversion of manpower and materials that dislocated agriculture.

For example:

"We lost some of our rice in the fields, because at harvest time our commune cadres had a campaign on to build 1,000 small steel furnaces and we went four days without sleep to do the job."

This backward steel campaign led to great losses of materials and labor, fouled up transportation and netted nothing.

FERTILIZER SHORTAGE. One big reason for America's record breaking crop yields in 1961 was application of 110 pounds of fertilizer per crop acre.

China, according to the best estimates, had only 15 pounds of chemical fertilizer per acre.

For 2,000 years the Chinese have used manure to replenish their fields. But Communist bureaucracy forbade peasants to raise private pigs and chickens.

Result: 50 per cent less manure.

The Great Step Backward is the Communist answer to the chaos created by the Great Leap Forward. Is this enough to maintain the Communists in power, or is there the possibility of an overthrow?

Practically no chance of unseating the Communists in the foreseeable future is the informed consensus, as I measure it. The candid view of a top American economist is:

"The Chinese rulers show signs they are not going to be as stupid getting themselves out of this mess, as they were getting into it."

Viet Nam Get 12 Planes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. Embassy confirmed today that eight advanced T-28 light-bomber trainers and four C-47 transports have been assigned to South Viet Nam under the U.S. Air Force program to build up the aerial strength of this Communist-ruled nation.

"HANG" OFFICIALS—Opponents of a Senate bill to establish a national recreation area in the Sleeping Bear Dunes region demonstrated their displeasure by hanging effigies of Interior Secretary Udall and Michigan Senators Hart and McNamara at Traverse City where a Senate subcommittee held a meeting Monday. Hart and McNamara are cosponsors of the bill and Udall recommended the proposed area be expanded.

Plan N-Blast on Quake Belt

AEC Aims at Improving Methods of Detecting Foreign Explosions

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission may explode a five-kiloton nuclear bomb underground on a Northern Nevada earthquake belt next year.

Sawyer said an AEC delegation from the Southern Nevada test site told him the purpose of the test in a program called "vela uniform" is to improve methods of detecting and identifying atomic explosions by other nations for use in an international control system.

The proposed test site is in Churchill County's Dixie Valley, about 28 miles southwest of Fallon.

The chronic earthquake region, about five miles west of U.S. 50 in the northern Sand Springs range, is required by technical criteria, the AEC officials told Sawyer.

The seismic test would be touched off deep underground in rock strata. The AEC said the test would not be conducted unless there is full assurance of public safety.

Further exploration and site preparation will take about 28 weeks, the AEC said, and is expected to cost $300,000.

Judge Charged With Misuse of Funds Retires

PLINT '06—Genesee County Probate Judge William E. Doran, who last September was charged by the state auditor general's office with misusing court funds, Wednesday said he had submitted a letter of resignation to Gov. Swainson, effective Jan. 15, 1962.

In his letter of resignation, Doran, 60, said "Having served for over 20 years in the juvenile division (of Probate Court) and having reached retirement age I am now desirous of spending the remaining years of my lifetime free from, exerting tensions and pressures."

The state auditor general's office said last September that an audit of Genesee County Juvenile Court records showed Doran had used court funds to cash $50 in personal checks, some of which had been returned because of insufficient funds, and had also taken $1,619.17 from the court cash register, leaving his personal 10 U.S.

The auditor general's office said full reimbursement was made last May 3, a State Supreme Court study of the case was ordered.

Diplomat Appointed to Replace Molotov

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Soviet Union today appointed Alexander I. Alexandrov to replace former Soviet Foreign Minister, V. M. Molotov temporarily at the East-West International Atomic Energy Agency.

This was regarded as a strong indication that Molotov would not return to Vienna. He was Soviet IAEA representative until his denunciation by Soviet Premier Khrushchev at the Moscow Communist party congress. He returned to Moscow Sunday.

The Soviets told the agency Alexandrov would head the agency mission for the time being. He had been Molotov's deputy since July 1960.

33 Drivers Lose State Licenses

County Residents Either Have Permits Revoked or Suspended

Drivers' licenses of 33 Oakland County motorists were either suspended or revoked during the past week by the Michigan Department of State.

Ordered to prove financial responsibility following one or more convictions of drunken driving were:

- Richard Lee Nield, 14 Dakota Drive, Pontiac; Leslie I. Brown, 4410 Lawwood Drive, West Bloomfield Township; Donald W. Dempsey, 904 Ridgeland St., Birmingham; Raymond G. Gilchrist, 211 Point St., Royal Oak; and Frank E. Kerr, 3119 Reservoir St., Farmington.

Unsatisfactory driving records resulted in the loss of licenses for the following:

- Donald B. Wiegley, 255 State St., Pontiac; Robert J. Barker, 219 W. 15th St., Royal Oak; James J. Reed, 621 Mendocino Ave., Farmington; Mike J. Bernal, 123 Main St., Troy; Robert J. Birkhall, 11 327 E. Kenwood St., Royal Oak; Thomas G. Bittick, 2100 W. 15th St., Royal Oak; Raymond R. Bider, 27 Oxford Road, Farmington; William C. Crawford, 2414 Westland Ave., Farmington; Donald W. Kestel, 117 15th St., Farmington; Donald A. Kestel, 117 15th St., Farmington; Richard K. Martin, 1807 Cherokee St., Farmington; and Frank E. Weyant, 20348 Scott St., Farmington.

Ordered to show financial responsibility due to unsatisfactory financial judgment were:

- Little Henderson, 46 Branch St., Pontiac; Lawrence E. Hill Jr., 1615 Eastport St., Troy; Leonard Periville, 3418 Chrysler St., Waterford Township; Joseph M. Talar, 212 Franklin Ave., Farmington; and John W. Ridgway, 1383 Woodland St., Farmington.

Ordered off the roads for violation of license restrictions or for unsatisfactory driving records were:

- Robert W. Gorr, 2314 Springbrook Road, Farmington; Francis C. Horne, 2318 Shaker Drive, Royal Oak; and Billie Dean White, 14 Sheridan Ave., Farmington.

Failure to appear for re-examination caused the following drivers to lose their licenses:

- Thomas A. Alamo, 4000 Kenilworth Ave., Pontiac; Charles Lee Butler, 220 N. Main St., Farmington; and Jerry A. Shapiro, 2070 York St., Royal Oak.

Losing his license because of physical reasons was Willis B. Harding, 384 Predmore Road, Oakland Township.

One out of every five people working in Canada depends on export trade for his livelihood.

Census Bureau Releases U.S. Divorce Figures

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Census Bureau reported Wednesday that 2.1 per cent of American men and 2.5 per cent of women are divorced persons who have not remarried.

No figures were available on divorced persons who had remarried.

Nevada had the highest proportions of divorced men and women of any state — 6.1 per cent and 5.9 per cent, respectively.

California was third in divorced men (3.7 per cent) and second in divorced women (5.1 per cent).

South Carolina had the lowest Ratio of divorces among its women, 1 per cent. It 1.3 per cent ratio for divorced men was topped only by North Dakota's 1.2 per cent.

Auto Registrations Increase in State

LANSING (UP) — The number of cars was up but weight tax revenue was down in the vehicle license plate year that ended Oct. 31, Secretary of State James M. Hare reported today.

Car registrations moved up from 3,705,222 a year ago to 3,756,940 at the end of last month, Hare said. In the same period, license tax income dropped from $67,174,000 to $66,837,000.

The decline reflects the increasing impact of the compact car on the auto sales market, Hare said. When his role in a recent "Gun-smoke" episode (Saturdays, 10-11 p.m.), called for a song, John Dehner came up with an authentic West Virginia mountain tune taught to him as a small boy by his father, who had learned it from his father. The song's title has been lost over the years.

Love Crosses the Iron Curtain

Radio Messages Illustrate the Tragedy of Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — The small stark tragedies of thousands of separated families, lovers and friends — spring sharply alive when the cool jazz cuts out and a message leaps the Iron Curtain here.

"Mother, you should not cry," it said.

It was the final farewell of a birthday party that could have happened perhaps only in Berlin.

A recording of a song titled "You Come Back" is followed by the reassurances that a West Berlin man still loves and will continue to love his fiancée who lives in East Berlin. All this is aired on a popular disc jockey program.

Sons and daughters in West Berlin send birthday greetings to mothers in Eastern Germany.

Two West Berlin boys send their love with a record request to two East Berlin girls they have not seen since the Communists sealed the city's East-West border Aug. 13.

"I love the moon, the sun and the stars," the singer croons.

The above easily heard in East Germany are broadcast from West Berlin radio stations which Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has said he wants silenced.

The stark simplicity of a Helga singing a message to her parents in the East, an Alfred repeating his love for Gerta, and a Klara and Willie sending birthday greetings to their 76-year-old Mother strikes too close to the heart strings of too many persons the Communists want to control.

On a recent broadcast a Canadian identified only by his first name broadcast a re-affirmation of love and fidelity for a girl living in the East, even though they are separated by several thousand miles — and the drab, gray Berlin wall.

The broadcasts, carrying the messages are transmitted by the "radio in the American sector" and "Radio Free Berlin," two Berlin stations. Khrushchev wants throttled on grounds they broadcast "propaganda" and "lies."

But the details included in the message from the West German to his absent fiancée and the record of "Their Song" he asked to be broadcast seem too intimate to be anything but truth. Recently a woman journeyed 15 miles from East Germany to celebrate her 6th birthday in Berlin.

SEPARATED BY CANAL

Her son and daughter-in-law who live in West Berlin also completed plans to attend. They bought the old lady a pot of Alpine violets and a wreath carrying ten candles.

When the candles had burned to nothing, the couple left their violets and wreath on the canal's western bank and waved farewell.

They went home and drafted the message later transmitted by "Radio Free Berlin."

"Mother, you should not cry."

CONGO TROUBLE SPOTS—Underlined are today's trouble spots in the Congo. At Kindu, Kivu provincial town north of secessionist Katanga province, more than 2,000 Congo government troops were reported by the U.N. command to have revolted against central government authority Wednesday. At Albertville, in Northern Katanga, the U.N. said, nearly 100 Congolese soldiers entered the city Tuesday where they arrested Europeans and Africans, looted houses, erected a roadblock and tried to extort money from passers-by.

Bonn May Send 'Erring' Envoy Back to Moscow

BONN, Germany (AP)—Hans Kroll, ambassador to Moscow repudiated by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer for making unauthorized proposals to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, probably will return to his post, Foreign Office sources said today.

"The final decision will not be made until the chancellor's return from the United States," the sources said. "Apparently Adenauer wants first to find out how angry the Americans are about the affair."

The sources said it has been established that Kroll was innocent of any connection with press dispatches from Moscow saying the Russians had made new proposals for solving the Berlin crisis. There had been some reports hinting that Kroll told newsmen about the Soviet proposal.

Rat Traps Housewife

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Robert R. Osborne, police dispatcher, sent a prowler cat to the aid of a housewife in distress Wednesday with this poster: "If the lady doesn't answer your knock on the door, she says it will be because the rat is between her and the door."

The family dog or cat may well be a carrier of diarrheal disease, recent tests indicate.

Reds Warn Finland on German 'Threat'

MOSCOW (U)—The Soviet Union warned Finland today it considers the threat of West German aggression even worse now than it did Oct. 30 when it asked Helsinki for joint defense consultations.

Western diplomats wondered if this was intended as a Soviet reply to Tuesday's announcement of early parliamentary elections. In calling for elections in February, five months ahead of schedule, Kekkonen said international tensions demanded decisions that could not wait for a summer vote.

Vessel Rescues Child Believed Yacht Survivor

MIAMI (UPI)—A merchant vessel found a blonde, green-eyed girl adrift on a life raft today and the Coast Guard said she might be a survivor of a sailboat that sank Sunday with seven persons aboard.

The Coast Guard had been about to cut back its search for survivors of the ketch Blue Bell when it received a terse report from the ship.

The Coast Guard said it received a brief radio report from the 322-foot-merchant vessel Captain Theo en route to Houston, Tex. The message said the vessel had picked up a female child with blonde hair and brown eyes from a small white raft about 120 miles northeast of Miami.

The report said the child was suffering from shock and exposure.

Says Industry Deserves Hand in Mach Transport

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A top airline official Wednesday criticized the federal government for trying to develop a supersonic transport (SST) without the help of private industry.

William Littlewood, vice president in charge of equipment research for American Airlines, made the charge in a speech before the Aviation Space Writers Association.

Littlewood said he had no quarrel with the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) which is administering the SST program, nor with the fact that the project includes representatives of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Defense Department and Air Force.

But he said the SST task force "embodies no user representation in strategic or policy-making roles."

Slate First Hearing on Reapportionment

LANSING (U)—The first public hearing on the controversial issue of legislative reapportionment was scheduled for Nov. 28 by a constitutional convention committee today after a partisan wrangle over where hearings should be held.

A proposal calling for hearings in Detroit, Flint and other areas was defeated in an 11-4 vote, which followed mainly along party lines.

The committee, headed by Michigan State University President John A. Hammah, decided that all public hearings would be held in Lansing or East Lansing. Site of the Nov. 28 meeting will be decided later.

Republicans opposed conducting hearings around the state on grounds that it would become a traveling state show, involving too much time.

Tshombe Rejects U.N. Report on Lumumba's Death

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (U)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga today described as "completely false" the report by the U.N. commission which investigated the death of former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Lumumba was killed — with two of his followers — in Katanga last January or February. The Katanga government claimed villagers killed them after they escaped from custody.

The U.N. report alleged that Lumumba was murdered, possibly in the presence of Tshombe, and the actual killing involved two Belgians.

Tshombe denied all the points in the commission report.

He said "why didn't the commission come to Katanga and do their investigations instead of staying in Geneva all the time? They couldn't have got the truth that way. We could have told them just how he died."

South Korean Leader Says U.S. Economic Aid Won't Be Thrown Away

WASHINGTON (U)—Gen. Chung Hee Park, South Korea's revolutionary leader, pledged today that there will be no further waste of U.S. economic and military aid under his military regime.

In a speech prepared for a National Press Club luncheon he declared that as a result of the May 16 military coup he led "We stand today with a nation more firmly on your side than ever before."

He said President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk had expressed "new confidence" in South Korea.

Park said that Koreans do not like military governments any more than Americans do and that he was not here to vindicate any military government, including his own.

"We shall prolong it no longer than is absolutely necessary," he said.

Trujillo Brothers Return, Says Report

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (U)—A report that two brothers of the late Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo have returned after a brief exile has ended a period of relative calm in this troubled Caribbean nation.

A terse announcement by the Voice of Dominica Radio said that Gen. Hector Trujillo and Jose Arizmendi Trujillo who owns the station—arrived by special plane Wednesday.

A government spokesman professed to have no knowledge of their return. President Joaquin Balaguer announced Oct. 25 that both had departed in self-imposed exile, bowing to opposition demands that the Trujillo family clear out pending a reorganization of the government.

U.S. Sends Note to Reds Urging N-Test Ban Talks

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States left it to Russia today to accept a new, 20-nation negotiating committee to work out a disarmament agreement by next June.

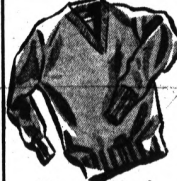

Seizing Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin's challenge to join in new talks in an effort to draft a disarmament treaty to a special session of the General Assembly by June 1962, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson sent the Russian Wednesday night a resolution calling for resumed negotiations.

The disarmament debate of the assembly's main political committee was in recess until Friday morning.

Garden Group Displays Unique Holiday Tables

Pouring at the holiday tea sponsored by the Pontiac Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association is Mrs. William McCallum of Birmingham, national extension chairman. Mrs. Parker P. Rockwell, general cochairman, (at left); Mrs. J. Standish Sibley, social cochairman; and Mrs. William B. Hartman, president of the association, are choosing Christmas cookies and candy.

By MARY ANGLEMIER

"Holiday Table Settings" for various occasions and seasons throughout the year were on display Wednesday afternoon at the 13-14 annual holiday tea sponsored by the Pontiac Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. The festive affair was held in the auditorium of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland Building.

AT THE TEA TABLE

Pouring at the tea table were National Extension Chairman Mrs. William McCallum of Birmingham, Mrs. Walter K. Willman, Mrs. Dora Dawson, Miss Georgia Hoyt, Mrs. Frederick L. Ward and Mrs. Edward M. Buckley.

A smiling popcorn snowman with gumdrop eyes and a mouth of licorice stood stately on holly leaves and berries at the Children's Christmas table designed by Mrs. Robert M. Glenn and Mrs. John H. Patterson. Popcorn balls held red tapers. The cloth of Christmas red was edged with white ball fringe. Pictures of Santa Claus were on the paper plates and cups.

White lilacs, lilies of the valley, blue violets and tiny white roses formed the holders for the white candles encircling the spring table laid with a grape-colored cloth. Ivy was entwined at the base of the holders. Arrangements were by Mrs. R. S. Nelson, Mrs. E. P. Barrett and Mrs. B. J. Annett.

A New Year's Eve table was the handiwork of Mrs. R. J. Isgrig. The heads of red carnations formed the hour circle centered on the buffet supper table laid with a white pointe de Venise cloth, an import from France. Crystal candleholders held tall white tapers.

A gilded coffee urn was set for serving with white china edged with gold. Flatware was gold.

Brass candleabra holding mahogany candles with a turkey place in the midst of low chrysanthemums formed the end arrangement of a Thanksgiving table by Mrs. Charles Wood. Service plates were decorated with pheasants. The cloth was a soft sage color.

Red felt place mats edged with silver were in place for the first course of the Christmas table by Mrs. Arthur R.

Young. A china sleigh filled with small wrapped packages was the center-of-attraction. Sprigs of holly trimmed the white reindeer at the table end.

FOR THANKSGIVING

A huge turkey tureen placed in the center of a Thanksgiving table was on a cloth of sunny yellow. Chrysanthemums and nuts were mingled at the base of the turkey with fall leaves. Brass candleabra were at each end of the table. China bore pictures of turkeys.

A table in tatarian was the work of Mrs. C. R. Gately and Mrs. Young. The round table covered with a floor length cloth of early spring green was overlaid with a shorter covering of sky blue tatarian. The crystal compote centering the cloth held violet statice and coral geranium blossoms. The crystal plates and goblets were a delicate lavender.

A Paul Revere bowl holding sprigs of holly with bright red berries centered the Christmas table by Virginia Ward. White china plates bordered with green and gold were placed on a dainty white linen embroidered cloth.

A table in various tones of oak leaf brown was by Mrs. C. R. Gately. Clusters of grapes hung to the side of the copper container filled with sunny gold chrysanthemums. Gourds and leaves were at the base.

Miniature china pheasants in brilliant coloring added to the fall setting placed on the set table covering made by Mrs. L. Warren Gately of Lahser Road.

Mrs. Gately had applied a horn of plenty filled with squashes, apples, carrots and nuts made out of felt on the fall of the cloth just above the border.

Jaunty squirrels, berries and leaves also were along the border of felt.

A white network cloth over Christmas red covered the holiday table by Mrs. J. Alfred Hubbard. The twigs gilded gold formed the tree centerpiece. Ornaments were egg shells covered with velvet ribbon, sequins and tiny beads in shades of blue, green, red, gold, pink, coral turquoise and lavender.

Among the wall wreaths and hangings was one made from old stove pipe rings tied together with green bows and tiny pine cone eaves.

UNUSUAL WREATH

A wreath causing much comment was one made from dried hydrangeas blossoms interspersed with clusters of grapes, peaches, lemons and plums. Gilded paper dollies formed the edging. Silk bows with streamers in shades of gold completed the wreath.

Mrs. W. R. Thompson displayed a Japanese arrangement backed by a Japanese screen. The exotic red anturium from Hawaii on a usubata antique base was placed on a black lacquered prayer stool.

Mrs. C. T. Ekelund displayed an arrangement of roses made from corn husks on twigs of evergreen. Bright blue and green Christmas tree ornaments were placed among the greens. Mrs. Ekelund placed her offering on a blue, green and gold runner woven by her.

An unusual table tree was one by Mrs. E. M. Buckley. Old strands of beads, ear rings, pins, and other costume jewelry long discarded covered the tree. Tiny flowers mingled with the gems, all forming a gay and colorful trimming. The base was a gold mesh basket.

THE TEA TABLE

Glycerin tea leaves from India and bronze chrysanthemums filled copper bowls in the end arrangement for the tea table laid with a gold cloth. The fall tapers were green.

Mrs. John H. Patterson and Mrs. Parker P. Rockwell were cochairmen of the annual display. Mrs. Robert J. Alton was in charge of ticket sales. Serving as social cochairmen were Mrs. J. Standish Sibley and Mrs. Lucius E. Houlett. Proceeds will be used for the Grace Fitzgerald Scholarship Fund.

You Need a Friend, Says Abby

Have a Heart-to-Heart Talk!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Please don't tell me to go to a doctor because we owe every doctor in town and I'm not kidding. What's wrong with me? When someone asks me a question I start to tell the truth, but end up telling a lie. I lie about little things, like where I buy my clothes and who cuts my hair. I am 15 and don't get an allowance, so when the kids ask me to go with them, I never say, "I can't" — I say, "I don't want to."

I have a quick temper and tell all the wrong people off and am sorry the next minute. Sometimes I think I'm going crazy. Is there any hope for me?

nopolizes me. How can I get rid of him without hurting his feelings?

DEAR TENDER-HEARTED: Here is a case where age can learn from youth. Enlist the help of a friend. She can subtly let other interested parties know that you are not attached to this "over 70" gent by choice, and would appreciate being "rescued" occasionally.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have a Love Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, The Pontiac Press.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were engaged four years before we were married. He was away in service most of this time. He wrote me beautiful love letters. I have kept all of them and they run into the hundreds.

Now he has asked me please to destroy them because he doesn't ever want anyone else to read them. I doubt if anyone could get to them in our home. Do you think there is any harm in keeping them?

DEAR SENTIMENTAL: It all depends on what's in the letters. If they are inflammable — you'd be wise to burn them.

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps I am too tender-hearted. I belong to an OVER SIXTY club. I am 62 and have been widowed 3 years. Another widow and I go to their Saturday night dances. The minute I walk in, a man who is over 70 immediately meets me at the door and I never leave him the entire evening. He seems to like me but he never asks me out. Other men appear interested in me but they don't have a chance because this man mo-

PTA Group Sponsors Blood Bank

The Pontiac Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will sponsor a Red Cross blood bank at Crofoot School Friday. Some 156 donors are scheduled for the open bank, and walk-in donations will be appreciated, according to Mrs. Earl Olesky, the group's publicity chairman. "Since the PTA blood bank was started, there have been many requests for blood, and much is needed to keep up the good work," she added. Hours are 2 to 5 and 6 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Theodore Figa, general chairman, is being assisted by the council's health chairman who are Josephine Seely, Mrs. William Simpson and Mrs. Purvis Hunt. Mrs. Simpson will be chairman of the day. Mrs. Thomas Battle, appointment chairman; and Mrs. Conrad Burdison and Mrs. Howard McConnell, hospitality chairman.

In charge of registrations are Mrs. Evelyn Christie, Mrs. William White, Mrs. Russell Brown, Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. R. H. Gorsline, Mrs. Leslie Hochstetler, Mrs. Thomas Fowler and Mrs. Cameron Clark. Nurses donating their time are Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Rich and Chappell, Mrs. Leaton Ferguson, Mrs. John Kay, Mrs. Thomas Gillette and Miss Seely.

Mrs. Raymond Pardo, Mrs. Victor Wallace and Mrs. Lawrence Nichols will take care of laboratory sheets.

Canteen chairman will be Mrs. Russell Bell, Mrs. Thomas Henson, Mrs. Fred Goines, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Gordon Pallen, Mrs. Earl Olesky and Mrs. Denver Rome.

Personal News

The Max E. Traxlers of Elizabeth Lake Road, honored their son Pvt. Robert Traxler at a family dinner-party on Sunday. He completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and is en route to Aberdeen, Md.

Attending the dinner were the Donald Traxlers and daughter Kathy of Midland, the Jack Traxlers with sons Ricky and Randy of Union Lake, the Charles Longs with daughters Jeanne, Shirley and Joanne of Walled Lake, Janet Schmittling, Farmington and Carol Traxler.

The birth of a son John Frederic, Nov. 2 in Pontiac General Hospital, is announced by the Theodore F. Cohassey (Nancy Aldrich) of Rochester, formerly of Pontiac. The Lee A. Kremers of Dwight Avenue and the Fred Cohassey of Exmoor Drive, Waterford Township, are the baby's grandparents.

Returned by plane from Newton, Iowa are Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Pearce of Garland Avenue, Sylvan Lake. The couple spent 10 days visiting Mrs. Pearce's two sisters and two brothers.

Area members of the Detroit Women's Writer's Club attended a poetry workshop and luncheon Tuesday at the Women's City Club, Detroit.

The Larry A. Bowens (Sharon Halvorsen) of Drayton Plains announced the birth of a son, Mark Scott, Oct. 27 in Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents are the Gerhard J. Halvorsens of Elizabeth Lake Road and the Arthur M. Bowens of Drayton Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Craighead of Calgary Street have returned from a brief trip to Alliston, Ont., where they attended a wedding.

Staff Sgt. and Mrs. David T. Galloway (Nancy Dusenbury) announce the birth of a son, James David, Nov. 3 in William Beaumont Army Hospital, El Paso, Tex.

The baby's grandparents are the Lyle B. Dusenburies of Ellwood Avenue and the Logan Galloways of Permdale.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Dearing (Mary Ellen McKibben) of Kent, Ohio, are announcing the birth of a son, Hugh Elliott, Nov. 8 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Grandparents of the infant are the B. W. McKibbens of Beach Street and Harold H. Dearing of Oxford.

Admiring the framed Christmas tree at the holiday tea Wednesday are (from left) Mrs. Lucius E. Houlett of James K Boulevard and Mrs. Glenn H. Griffin of Ogema Road. The green felt tree covered with articles symbolizing important incidents in the family is the work of Mrs. John Chamberlain of Birmingham.

WCTU Unit Has Luncheon and Program

Frances Willard Unit of the Women's Christian Temperance Union met for a luncheon Wednesday at the Church of the Brethren's parsonage. Devotions from the Book of Jude and prayer were offered by Rev. Mrs. Lola P. Marion. Mrs. Dorothy Hardenburg of the First Baptist Church presented a flannelgraph lesson, "Thoughts on Being Broken for God."

The meeting was closed with the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and prayer by Mrs. LeRoy Shaffer.

Tuesday afternoon 34 friends from Durand, Mrs. Shaffer's hometown, surprised her with a chicken dinner and devotional meeting. Mrs. Grace Hatt offered scriptural readings, and Mrs. Fred Pape and Mrs. Ernest Frowant presented musical selections.

Two readings were given by Mrs. LeRoy Brown. Mrs. George Johnson closed the affair with prayer.

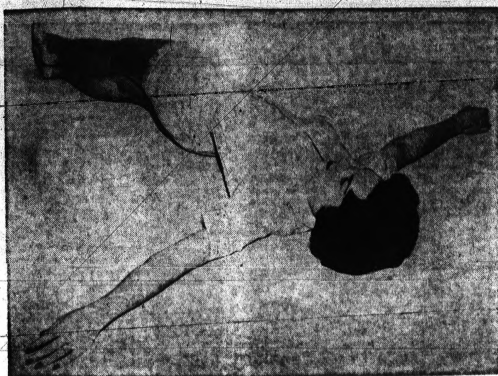

Soroptimist Club Plans Party, Bazaar

Mrs. Howard Decker, president, Soroptimist Club of Pontiac, attended the president's council Wednesday evening at the Women's City Club, Detroit. Mrs. Richard Paschke and Mrs. Frances Coons were also present.

Paul R. Slayton and Marguerite Parrish. Mrs. Arnold Hillerman is guest chairman. Mrs. Leon A. Glyn and Mrs. Bud Holmgren, door prizes; Talmie Surala, favors and cards; Mrs. Roy Maxwell and Mrs. Coons, card tables; Mrs. Harmon Laywer, Mrs. Erna Arnold and Mrs. Madeleine Doeren, refreshments.

The group will assist the Soroptimist Club of Lima, Peru, in sponsoring a young Peruvian woman to this country for a major heart operation. Local recipients of donations are the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and the USO and Nike base for draperies.

Presiding at the bazaar booth will be Mrs. Karl Schultz, Mrs.

This is a double-duty exercise, good for the thighs and the waist. Simply roll from side to side, going as far in each direction as possible.

Measurements Are Factor

Exercise Depends on You

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The following excerpt is typical of the things many women ask.

"I have a beauty problem. I wish you would write about it in your column. I am thin and certainly cannot afford to lose any weight, yet my thighs are much too large. I would appreciate it if you would recommend some exercises, and also tell me if there is any sport which is especially good for this."

Thigh problems are due to two factors: muscle slump and the accumulation of fatty deposits. Horseback riding is excellent for tightening the thigh muscles, and the following exercises are corrective to this condition.

Lie on the floor on your back. Arms extended straight out from the shoulders and palms face the floor. Legs straight. Lift both legs a few feet off the floor—halfway to a position which would form a right angle to the body. Hold at this angle and separate the legs. Swing them toward one another, crossing the right leg over the left. Swing them apart again, and this time cross the left leg over the right, separate and continue. Keep the knees stiff.

Stand tall. Contract the hip muscles. Hold while you count to eight slowly. Relax and continue.

Lie on the floor on your left side, placing your right hand on the floor to brace yourself. Make large circles with the right leg. After a while, turn onto the right side and make circles with the left leg. Keep the knee stiff while you circle and make the circle complete.

Lie on the floor with your arms extending out from the shoulders and the knees straight. Roll from side to side, going as far in each direction as possible. This is a good waist exercise, too.

If you would like to have my exercises for slimming the hips, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Nurses Will Hear Talk on Research

Registered nurses from Michigan will meet Friday at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Saginaw County Hospital to hear Virginia H. Walker, R.N., speak on "Research Mindset—An Attitude of All."

Sponsors of the program are the East Central Michigan League for Nursing and the Educational Administrators, Consultants and Teachers section of the Michigan State Nurses Association.

Miss Walker, is director of nursing services, Indiana University Medical Center and associate professor, Indiana University school of nursing, Indianapolis. She is a graduate of the Rush Infirmary School of Nursing, Meridian, Miss., and holds a B.S. degree from the University of Tennessee and a master's degree in nursing administration from the University of Chicago.

A former associate executive secretary with the American Nurses Association, New York, N.Y., the speaker's nursing experience includes work in public health and occupational health nursing. She was also a research assistant at Tulane University in New Orleans.

Bowling's a Real Ball

BY SHARON KAY RITCHIE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Don't be in too much of a hurry to start rolling.

This is one of the first things professional bowlers tell you. Get set properly before you start. That's the reason for stressing the importance of the stance.

The word stance is defined as "mode of standing, or being placed." In other words, getting the feet and arms in position. In bowling, it's how you stand and the position of the arms before you begin the approach.

A good stance is natural and comfortable. Usually one stands with the knees bent slightly, feet close together with one foot a little ahead of the other. Tall bowlers often will bend slightly at the waist. Shorter bowlers are inclined to stand more erect.

The weight of the ball should rest on the nonbowling hand while in the stance position. Elbows should be close to sides.

(Miss Ritchie, a former Miss America, is Director of Women's Activities for American Machine & Foundry Co.)

Say Often: 'I Didn't Understand'

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I have recently taken a position as a stenographer with a fairly large company. I do not work for any one particular man but take dictation from several of them. One man from whom I have to take dictation quite frequently has a habit of dictating with a cigar stuck in the corner of his mouth, making it very difficult for me to understand what he is saying.

Is there any way I can tactfully bring this to his attention without running the risk of losing my job?

A: Say to him as often as necessary, "I'm sorry, Mr. Jones, but I didn't understand that word." He may after a while realize that it is because of his cigar that you can't understand him, and eliminate it.

Q: My daughter is to be married soon and she has asked my nephew to be an usher at her wedding. She also asked his fiancée to be one of her bridesmaids. Her parents are complete strangers to us and I do not feel that it is necessary to invite them to the wedding.

My daughter feels differently and thinks that it would be discourteous not to ask them. Will you please tell us what is proper in this situation?

A: Very definitely, they should be asked to the church and, unless the wedding is so small that the guests are limited to the immediate families and a few intimate friends, they should also be asked to the reception.

Q: When friends come in for a visit and we are watching television, is it not the polite thing to turn the set off? This has been a source of great argument in our home for a long time and we would like you to settle it once and for all.

A: Ordinarily you would turn the set off as soon as visitors arrived, unless, of course, they urge you to leave it on. If unexpected visitors arrive while you are watching a program of special interest to you, you might ask your guests if they minded your seeing the finish of that particular program.

For the correct procedure of a "Second Marriage," send 10 cents in coin to cover cost of handling, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of the Pontiac Press.

Dupioni lace sheath. Another outfit (at right) features the same designer's brushed mohair sweater with sleeves slashed in the oriental manner, lavishly bound in white satin and encrusted with crystal drops and pearls.

Some Claim Personal Experience With ESP

Many Teen-Agers Believe in 'Sixth Sense'

BY EUGENE GILBERT
Frequent Ghost Youth
Research Co.
Bob Meth, 17, of Pennsauken, N.J., tells this story:
"About five years ago I dreamed that I would run into a Gulf Oil truck and be injured. It happened."
And Lora Schlesinger, 16, of Hollywood, Calif., gave us this tale:
"My brother moved in to an apartment which I'd never seen and I told my mother that I was afraid because I felt he was going to have a fire. A week later he did."
"Also, my brother was late in joining us for dinner one evening and the telephone rang and before my father answered it, I stated that it was going to be my brother calling to tell us that his car had broken down. It was."

Comments among those who said yes followed along the lines of statements by Marge Miller, 17, of New Ross, Ind., and Sheila Abrams, 16, of Philadelphia.
"I don't believe God's purpose was to make us live on earth without some good life after death," said Marge.
"I try to make myself believe that the ones dear to me have a better, restful life in heaven," said Sheila.
Henrietta Davis, 16, of Newton, Mass., reflected the views of many of those who said no. She commented:
"Man is mass; when the cells are dead nothing's left except a memory."
Boys, by far, claimed greater familiarity with the subject of ESP. When we asked what was meant by ESP, we also asked for definitions, we got affirmative replies from 71 per cent of the boys, compared with 50 per cent of the girls.
"It's a sixth sense," explained David Williams, 18, of Delaware, Ohio. "Being aware of something, perceiving something but not knowing why."
Roger Simon, 18, of Haddonfield, N.J., defined ESP as "the ability of one person to perceive the thoughts of another without physical communication."

young people seem fairly tame. So we asked what you thought about TV programs dealing with ESP, and whether you believed any of them.
It's clear that you are fairly skeptical because only 29 per cent of the group said yes, while 54 per cent flatly said they did not believe such programs.
Judith Johnson, 16, of Bellefonte, Pa., said she believed such programs, and gave this reason:
"Because nothing is absolutely impossible and while the exact thing in the program may not have really happened, I believe it, or something similar dealing with ESP, really could happen."
A demurring opinion was stated by Karen Goldberg, 16, of Newark, N.J., who said:
"I don't really think that it is possible and I think the TV programs are fakes—they are fun to watch but the public should not be fooled by them."

Diced Apples in Cake
Keep It Moist for Days

Pontiac Press Home Editor
More apple recipes keep coming our way which is fine. There seems to be no end to the apple supply. Today's recipe is for a cake that will keep for several weeks — if well hidden.
Mrs. Wallace Bailey of Rochester is our cook. Reading, cooking and traveling are her chief interests outside her family. If her plans materialized, she should be on a trip at this writing.
APPLE CHIP CAKE
By Mrs. Wallace Bailey
2 cups sugar
1 cup butter or margarine
4 eggs
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon clove
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
2 teaspoons baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins
3 cups diced apples
1 cup nutmeats
Beat together sugar, butter or margarine and eggs. Add coffee. Stir flour with other dry ingredients. Stir into first mixture. Add raisins, apples and nuts.
Bake in 8x13 greased pan at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

Are Often Appalling

BY RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
News story with a London date line: "English girls should make a thorough investigation of American before they marry one," says the father of a GI bride. "They might be shocked at American table manners."
The father of the GI bride just quoted is chairman of the Transatlantic Brides and Parents Assn., with a membership of 15,000.
Instead of being lauded by the Britons' charge that the table manners in even the better type of American homes are often "appalling" by British standards, maybe we ought to take his criticism to heart.
It's certainly true that the interrupted family dinner hour doesn't even exist in many homes today.
Instead of a leisurely dinner in a dining room, with lively conversation and no outside interruptions, all too often the dinner hour is turned into a quick-snack time in the kitchen or at the TV table.
It is even unusual in many homes for the whole family to eat at the same time. Junior has to eat early because of football practice. Sis gets a dinner by British standards, maybe we ought to take his criticism to heart.
And if there are dinner guests and the meal is to be a leisurely occasion the children are fed ahead of time and sent to their rooms, instead of having dinner with their elders.
So, perhaps, today's young people have been short-changed in the matter of gracious dining. Perhaps, in many homes their table manners have been neglected. If so, maybe what we need is the return of the old-fashioned dinner hour.
More thoughts on young folks are in Ruth Millett's new booklet, "Tips on Teen-Agers." Mail 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, care of The Pontiac Press.

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING CAN FIT PERFECTLY!
Many men feel that the only way to have clothing fit properly is to have it custom-tailored. Kuppenheimer customers have learned differently, for this matter of fit is as basic to all Kuppenheimer clothing as style.
At Kuppenheimer, the fit of each individual suit starts with buying the world's finest fabrics—for the material must hold its shape to hold its fit. Many other elements, of course, contribute to good fit—the pitch of the shoulders... the cut of the collar... the set of the sleeve, the busting and stitching... even the pocket lines.
Then we take over and fit your suit to you. When you walk out in your new Kuppenheimer, you can be sure not only are you wearing one of America's finest suits, but that it fits you perfectly. Suits from $95.00

Researcher Aims Heart Disease

Asserts No-Fat Diet No Cure-All

By RALPH P. HUMMEL

Keeping fat out of a patient's food won't necessarily keep it out of his bloodstream and save him from heart disease, a doctor-researcher told 150 doctors assembled at yesterday's Clinic Day at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

High fat levels in the blood have been linked with hardening of the arteries and in turn to heart attacks, strokes, and other coronary heart diseases.

The speaker was Dr. Chris J. D. Zaratoneis, who reported on research done on several substances which either raised or lowered the amount of fat in a patient's general bloodstream.

Dr. Zaratoneis is professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan and director of the Simpson Memorial Institute in Ann Arbor. His report was based on research done by his group at Temple University Medical School.

Dr. Zaratoneis agreed that there was "considerable evidence" linking fat in the bloodstream to hardening of the arteries and subsequently to heart disease.

However, he said, there is a great difference between the amount of fat taken in through food and the amount of fat actually present in the blood.

STILL SYNTHESIZES

"You can take fats away from a heart patient, but his body will still synthesize fats," he said.

Another physician present described this as a "built-in error" in the body which has nothing to do with how much of a fatty diet is consumed.

Dr. Zaratoneis said research had shown that an excess of fat in the blood could be due to two causes:

1—An excess of fat produced by the body under stress.

2—Inability of the liver to filter all the fats, passing some into the general circulation.

Reporting on this research, he described a hormone which apparently comes from a small gland (the posterior pituitary) in the back of the head.

He said this hormone is released under stressful states and produces an outpouring of fats from body depots into the bloodstream.

CARRIED TO LIVER

The blood then carries the fats to the liver.

"Whether or not there is an increase in blood fats in the general circulation, depends on the capability of the liver to handle the fats," he explained in layman's terms.

"This mechanism is brought into action in the stress of operations, bone fractures, starvation and other influences," he said. An excess amount of fats in certain individuals, who have a constant elevation of blood cholesterol and fat components of blood.

Dr. Zaratoneis explained he hoped that "continued research of this and other mechanisms, dealing with various ways in which the body handles fats, will lead to a better understanding of hypercholesterolemia—the state of having too much fat in the blood and its treatment."

However, before attributing these changes (such as hardening of arteries) to diet alone," he warned, "many other factors and various stresses must be taken into consideration."

Sam Rayburn Plotted His Life, Then Lived It

How Will They Get Along Now?

Contrary to the popular impression about politicians, Rayburn never told off-color stories or willingly submitted to one. In public he rarely told a joke of any kind. He did get an occasional laugh with a dry, mild little crack.

One day Mr. Sam was running late for a speaking engagement. His car got tied up in traffic and Rayburn was starting to fume. However, before the red flush had climbed from his neck all the way up over his bald head, he sighed and relaxed back into his seat.

"I just don't think about a farmer I knew back in Bonham," he told a friend riding with him. "He was due to get married on a Saturday afternoon. All Saturday morning he was out chopping cotton. He finally went in, had long lunch, took a bath, and lay down to rest. One of his groomsmen got fidgety finally and took him to task. 'If you don't hurry up, you're going to be late to the wedding,' he said. But this fellow couldn't

Bonham Weeps for Its Lost Son

Little Texas City Loved Its 'Principle Product,' Sam Rayburn

BONHAM, TEX. (AP) — The principal product of Bonham was "Mr. Sam."

And Sam Rayburn has died of cancer. A pall hangs over Bonham, and the people who knew him, loved him and honored him in his lifetime. That takes in just about everybody in Bonham—except the babies who have been born in the small yellow-brick hospital where the life of the speaker of the House ebbed away.

This is a busy little city of 7,000, without anything to distinguish it from other little Western or Midwestern cities other than the fact that it was the home town of Rayburn. Where Bonham is known around the nation, that is what it is known for.

The most impressive buildings are the First Baptist Church and beautiful, white marble Rayburn Library. The library is tucked into a 4-acre park on a small rise at the west edge of town. It houses the papers and mementos Rayburn has gathered in half a century of public service. Friends and admirers paid for it. The cost was a half million dollars.

TYPICAL COUNTRY SEAT

Bonham is a typical country seat town, built around the courthouse square. The homes are mostly frame, mostly white, mostly of turn-of-the-century vintage, give or take a few years. But there is a growing colony of modern ranch-house type homes that echo the modern mode of the two bands and the imposing First Baptist Church.

A standpipe — a huge silver water tank on six spindly legs — looks down on the town. "Bonham" is painted big and black on the tank — and scarlet with "Seniors '60," which last year's high school graduates left behind.

Top Job Came Close, but Others Won Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sam Rayburn came close twice to a chance to become President.

In 1940 Rayburn seemed to have the inside track for the vice-presidential nomination, but at the last minute President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked him as a personal favor to make a second speech for Henry A. Wallace.

Then in 1948 Sen. Harry S. Truman boosted Rayburn in several speeches but Roosevelt chose Truman himself as a running mate.

Flag Already Lowered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — They couldn't lower the capital's flag for Speaker Sam Rayburn. It was too early. The flag was lowered only after his death on Nov. 16, 1961.

Marital Bliss and Rayburn Didn't Mix

Mr. Sam was married for a few months in his youth, but the marriage didn't take. In later years he seemed to have forgotten it. As had most everybody else—including society writers who always called him a bachelor.

On one recent birthday a reporter had pressed for a story about Rayburn's bachelorhood. As part of his preparation for a long happy life, Rayburn, who had seen enough birthdays to have lost some of his enthusiasm for them, scowled and replied that this question was about as silly as a controversy then current about the merits of birth control. And that, he said, was about the silliest controversy he ever saw.

"Birth control is an individual matter," averred Mr. Sam. "And so is marriage."

As one of the country's most publicized unmarried males, Rayburn got not only more invitations that he could handle but occasional proposals of marriage. He also was visited in his office regularly by Miss America candidates and winners, and queens of cotton, corn, tobacco and just about everything else, most of whom got a kiss on the cheek.

Not too long ago in his hospital room Rayburn called for John Holton, his administrative assistant, who was just outside the door. Holton peeped in, preceded by three sharp-looking nurses.

"John, where are you?" growled Rayburn as the group surrounded his bed.

"Right here, Mr. Speaker, behind all the girls," Holton answered.

"Well, it's like I always told you, John," Rayburn said. "With women you either have got it or you haven't. I've got it."

His Pate Forecast Mood

By United Press International

Sam Rayburn's scalp served as a barometer of the mood he was in. Normally it displayed a cool, clean gleam, slightly tanned and somewhat fringed. When he was mad, the flesh climbed up the back of his neck and encompassed his head. Nobody in his right mind took up any business with Rayburn when this storm warning was showing.

KITCHY-KOO — In one of the lighter moments of his long tenure as Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn flashes an itchy twinkle as a young visitor gets playful last December. The youngster is 8-month-old Marty Grove, son of newspaperman Larry Grove.

Staunch Democrat, He Was Fair With All

By The Associated Press

Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House more than twice as long as any predecessor, was the beloved "Mr. Sam" to legions of Democrats—and to Republicans, too.

Though such a fiercely loyal partisan party man that he was called "Mr. Democrat," the rugged Texan won a reputation for being fair in his rulings and for getting politics when he handled the gavel. Opposition leaders of Congress repeatedly praised him for his fairness.

Rayburn attributed his longevity in political life and his rise to an exalted position to knowing how to get along with people.

"My advice to any new member who wants to stay here a long time," he would say, "is to keep in mind that he has two constituencies: the people who sent him here and the colleagues with whom he must serve."

"You must please the people of your district if you want to stay here," he would say.

Charm, Subtlety Were His, but He Could Be Rough

In his job, Sam Rayburn was never at a loss for methods.

If the situation required tact, subtlety or charm, he had it ready. He always tried to lead rather than to push, for congressmen can be a balky breed. But when tougher tactics were required, he was ready with them, too.

Once, faced with the need for decisiveness, he bunched down his gavel with such force that it splintered.

He Tended the Store When They Were Out

By United Press International

President Kennedy—who went to the House as a youngster at time when Speaker Rayburn had long been a fixture—told of the time when as President he was in Canada, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson in Asia, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk at Geneva. A high-level call came into the White House switchboard, for each of the three in his turn.

"Then who is keeping the store?" Kennedy said the frustrated caller demanded.

"The same man who's always kept it — Sam Rayburn," the operator was supposed to have answered.

Mr. Sam, at 75, Viewed 1st Warships in Review

WASHINGTON (U) — Sam Rayburn, who presided over a House of Representatives that appropriated billions upon billions for defense, never saw a warship until he was 75 years old. Then he saw more than 100 of them all at once.

here; and if you want to be in a position which enables you to help and please the people of your district, you must also please your colleagues in the House."

By that, he explained, he meant that a congressman who couldn't make friends with his colleagues would find it difficult to win support for legislation he was interested in. His favorite advice to new members was: "Be reasonable. Be fair."

He believed that in legislation, as in everything else, a "little applied Christianity" went a long way.

RECORD WAS PROOF

If any proof of the efficacy of Rayburn's formula for staying in Congress was needed, his record supplied it. He went to Congress on March 4, 1913, at the beginning of Woodrow Wilson's administration and served without interruption during the terms of eight Presidents.

He was in the House longer than any contemporary and for more than a quarter of the House's entire history. During his long career he calculated he had seen 5,000 members come and go.

The House Speakership represented the pinnacle of his aspirations. Asked once why he never chose to run for the Senate, he replied: "I'd rather be speaker than 10 senators. I never had the slightest ambition to be a senator or governor. I love the House."

During the Harry S. Truman administration, the law of succession to the presidency was changed to put the speaker of the House next in line to the vice president. Previously the secretary of state had been in that position.

Rayburn was next in line to the presidency during Truman's first administration when there was no vice president.

He might have been president instead of Truman had he not withdrawn his name from consideration as his party's nominee for vice president at the 1944 Democratic National Convention. His name had been prominently mentioned. The convention chose Truman as President Franklin D. Roosevelt's running mate.

WERE TOGETHER

Truman and Speaker Rayburn were together in the latter's hideaway nook in the Capitol on the late afternoon of April 12, 1945, when word came of Roosevelt's death. Vice President Truman went from there to the White House.

Rayburn had served in the House for 27 years when he became speaker for the first time at the age of 38. That was on Sept. 8, 1910. Then the majority leader, he was chosen to fill out the term of Speaker William B. Bankhead of Alabama, who had died.

On Jan. 20, 1951, Rayburn ended the record set more than a century earlier by Henry Clay for service as presiding officer of the House. Clay held that office for eight years, 1395 days.

When he opened the session of the House on June 12, 1961, Rayburn had been speaker twice as long as any other man in history—36 years and 273 days.

On that occasion his fellow representatives kept prate, applause and sentiment flowing for nearly two hours. President John F. Kennedy joined in the tribute by letter. He wrote that service

HE Knew What Was Man's Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn probably wouldn't have cared much for all the tears that were shed over his illness. As he had told the House of Representatives shortly before going home for the last time, he'd had a fully, happy life.

On the other hand Mr. Sam wouldn't have minded some reminiscing about his long public career. In fact he no doubt would have reached for the Scotch and water and told a few on himself. (No matter what you have heard, in recent years Mr. Sam rarely touched bourbon.)

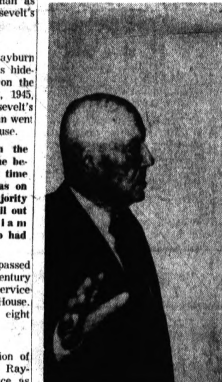

Take the time not long ago when President Kennedy's lady doctor advised Rayburn, at age 73, how a man should put on his pants. Rayburn was having back trouble — he thought then it was nothing much but lumbago — and after Dr. Janet Travell gave him a shot in the obvious place he teetered first on one foot and then on the other while getting back into his britches.

Dr. Travell gave it as her reproving professional view that this was one reason so many men had back aches. She said they ought to sit down to pull on their pants, and avoid all that strain on the muscles.

Rayburn, according to reports he declined to deny, let Dr. Travell know he appreciated her help, but that yutting on pants was man's work, and that anyway it was too late in life for him to learn a new way to do it.

records may be measurable, but "immeasurable is your devotion to cause and country."

While he worked well with his Republican colleagues, Rayburn was a Democrat to the core. "The longer I serve in Congress and the more actions of the Republicans I see," he said at a party dinner, "I am proud and prouder that I am a Democrat."

SEE HERE, MR. PRESIDENT — Sam Rayburn was an outspoken man, even with the President. Here he holds an impromptu discussion with President Kennedy. Neither knew at the time that it would be one of the last, Rayburn and Kennedy, both staunch Democrats, have had little time to work together.

Mr. Speaker' Attained Everything He Desired

EDITOR'S NOTE — Sam Rayburn's life was an era in American politics. Here is an in-depth dispatch on the man, his methods, his friends, his influence and his achievements.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — He planned his future in a cotton field when he was a young boy. Then he went out and lived it.

Not long ago he said: "My life has been satisfactory to me entirely. I've attained everything I ever hoped I would."

Most people know him as "Mr. Sam." His party officially proclaimed him "Mr. Democrat." Some who loved him called him "Mr. Everything."

But Sam Rayburn probably was addressed most as "Mr. Speaker." He certainly was called that far more times than any man ever to preside over the House of Representatives.

Rayburn was speaker of the House more than twice as long as any other man. He served in the House longer than any member ever did, and broke any number of other longevity records.

These Were the Milestones

By United Press International

Highlights in the career of House Speaker Sam Rayburn:

Born Jan. 6, 1882 in Roane County, Tenn.

Educated East Texas Normal College, graduate with a teacher's certificate.

First office came when elected to the Texas Legislature in 1906 at the age of 24.

Became the youngest speaker of the House in the Texas Legislature 1911 at 29.

Elected to Congress in 1912. Named speaker of the House in 1910.

Permanent chairman of the Democratic National Conventions of 1918, 1952 and 1956.

By June 12, 1961, he had served as House speaker twice as long as any other man.

Returned to Texas in August complaining of back pain. His trouble diagnosed in Dallas as cancer on Oct. 5. Transferred to hometown of Bonham Oct. 31 to die.

Died Nov. 16.

An old friend and mentor, former Vice President John Nance Garner, once said of him: "Sam stays hatched." The remark was both appropriate to Rayburn's rural background and true of his unswerving honesty and loyalty.

There was a political fence between Rep. Joseph W. Martin, R-Mass., and Sam Rayburn, but they got on like life good neighbors. In recent years when colleagues paid lavish tribute to the speaker on his birthday, Martin, the only man to interrupt Rayburn's tenure as speaker, led the way.

BORN TO GREATNESS

On the last occasion, this past Jan. 6, Martin said Mr. Sam was born to greatness — "One of the great figures in American history."

As usual, Sam Rayburn put up a glum front and restated his basic philosophy: That any man can go places if he decides early what he wants to accomplish and then sticks to it.

Rayburn chose his career before he was 10, working in that Texas cotton patch. He called it then just the way it happened — to college, to the state legislature, and up to the speakership; to Congress, and speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives.

He was elected to the House by the 4th district in Texas in 1912, when he was 30. He reached his ultimate goal on Sept. 16, 1961, on the death of Speaker William B. Bankhead.

His colleague, re-elected him as speaker 10 times — every time, that is, that his party held control of the house.

Mr. Sam had to be tough, because he had a tough job. But he couldn't hold back the tears on April 16, 1955, when top figures in the party threw a $100-a-plate dinner for him and bestowed upon him the title of "Mr. Democrat."

ABLE TO FIX THINGS

If there was something Mr. Sam didn't like, he usually was able to do something about it, one way or the other.

If a president suggested legislation he didn't like, he often would arrange to let the thing just die on the vine.

He married Miss Metze Jones of Amarillo, Tex., in 1927. They broke up three months later, and were divorced the following year.

There are some things a man can't do anything about, much as they smart. In Mr. Sam's case, it was loss of hair.

For as long as anyone on Capitol Hill can remember, the Rayburn pate has been bare except for a square patch behind the ears. Because of its tendency to reflect light, he never cared much for photographers and has never been too popular with them.

THROUGH THE YEARS — House Speaker Sam Rayburn is shown at various stages of his long career. From left, in 1911, after he became speaker of the house in the Texas legislature; in 1939 as House majority leader in Washington, after his election as speaker of the House in 1949 and as he appeared earlier this year before he was hospitalized.

State to Enter Bus Lines Row

Says Will Go to Court in Attempt to Force Intertown to Operate

LANSING (AP)—The attorney general's office says it will go to court in Wayne County to try to force Intertown Suburban Bus Lines, Inc. to resume service. The bus firm serves some 30,000 commuters in 30 Downriver Detroit and Western Wayne County communities.

The State Public Service Commission had ordered the bus company to resume service at the end of a strike by drivers. The drivers voted earlier this week to return to work and the commission demanded compliance of the order within 24 hours. K. E. Totten, regional manager of the American Transit Co., parent company of Intertown Suburban, wired back that Intertown has determined not to resume operations. "Union decision to terminate

Mrs. Norwood was taken to Mercy Hospital at Bay City, where she was reported in good condition with a bullet wound of the right shoulder. Norwood had been drinking, Kolar said.

Con-Con Asked to Reword Parts on Handicapped

EAST LANSING (AP)—A Wayne State University professor wants the constitutional convention to eliminate a section of the present constitution which defines some of the inhabitants of charitable institutions as deaf, dumb, feeble-minded and insane.

Dr. John J. Lee, chairman of the university's department of special education and vocational rehabilitation, asked a convention committee on education to make the change.

He recommended that in place of the deaf and dumb clause the new section read: "For the care, treatment, education and rehabilitation of those inhabitants who are physically, mentally and socially handicapped."

He also proposed a change in the wording of the constitution to include a pledge of state support for programs and services—as well as institutions—for the handicapped.

Hands Over $1,500 to Bandit at Bank

WAYNE (AP)—A bandit robbed a National Bank of Detroit branch Wednesday of $1,500 and then escaped on foot. Mrs. Patricia Muncy, 32, a teller, said the man handed her a note which read: "Keep quiet. Don't make any noise for five minutes. Give me the money." She said she gave him a handful of bills and he fled out of a rear door. The woman sounded the alarm after the bandit disappeared. Mrs. Muncy said the man kept his hand in his pocket as if he had a gun. She said he was about 40, 5-feet-8 and 150 pounds. She said the man wore glasses, a light brown jacket, a cap and needed a shave. Two areas in Ghana's capital have been set aside as public parks.

Rembrandt Painting Sells at $2.3 Million

By MILES A. SMITH
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — Rembrandt's masterpiece "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer" shortly will go on exhibition at New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, which Wednesday night bid it in for $2.3 million—the highest known price for a single painting.

The artist got 500 florins for it, the modern equivalent for that being $7,800.

And the National Gallery in Washington, which broke the record for auction prices for the second time in the evening, will dis-

U.S. to Send Men, B26s to Help South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported to have decided to go ahead with some of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's recommendations for strengthening South Viet Nam against a growing Communist onslaught.

"We're beginning to get off the ground," a high official told a reporter.

Secrecy still obscures details of what Taylor recommended to President Kennedy after returning two weeks ago from a fact-finding mission to Southeast Asia. Taylor is Kennedy's personal military adviser.

Macapagal is pledged to wipe out graft.

With perhaps 85 per cent of the returns in, the unofficial count gave Macapagal 3,188,132 votes and Garcia 2,529,756.

ESTIMATE HEAVY VOTE

Estimates of the total vote ranged from 6.5 to 7 million.

In the vice presidential race, Macapagal's running mate, Emmanuel Pelaez, led with 2,017,556 votes. His closest rival, independent Sergio Osamea Jr., son of the late President Osamea, had 1,819,086. Gil J. Puyat, Garcia's running mate, had 1,479,532.

Garcia, 65, the Nationalista standard bearer, was silent as his Liberal rival issued a statement saying the campaign is over, that the task of building the nation will now begin.

Macapagal's supporters had been calling him a winner since Wednesday night.

Sen. Ferdinand E. Marcos, president of Macapagal's Liberal party, said today: "There is no longer any doubt as to the outcome of the presidential election."

Namesake Grandchild Makes Disney Happy

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movie maker Walt Disney has a new grandchild—the first named for him—and he says he would have traded all his awards to insure such a namesake.

Walter Elias Disney Miller was born Tuesday night to Mrs. Ron Miller. The Millers have four other children. She is the former Diane Disney.

loads of supplies from the Philippines to airfields near Saigon. The supplies were said to include helicopters capable of carrying troops and mounting guns for low-level strafing.

There also have been reports that the Air Force is assigning several officers and men to give added instruction to the small Vietnamese air force.

Some members of the Taylor mission are known to have felt Vietnamese air power wasn't being used to its fullest advantage, even though it included only about a dozen single engine propeller-driven fighter planes and a handful of elderly transport aircraft.

To bolster this small force, it was understood a few World War II vintage B26 bombers were being assigned to the Vietnamese.

Pentagon officials who have talked with members of the Taylor mission received an impression of something less than optimism about prospects for pulling Viet Nam out of the fire.

There was a feeling in some Pentagon quarters that the mission of the U.S. Military Advisory Group in Viet Nam should be changed, that fewer members of the group should stay in Saigon and more get out in the country to work alongside the troops and local officials at the lowest possible level.

Some officials, calling the Vietnamese communications a command and control apparatus primitive, suggested Americans might have to step in and more directly control these functions rather than standing to one side as advisers.

Mission Board Makes Plans for Church Merger

CLEVELAND (AP)—The board of National Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church adopted a record budget of more than $1 million at a three-day meeting which ended Wednesday. Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Schmichen of St. Paul, Minn., board president, announced.

Rev. Dr. Furd E. Deitz, St. Louis, general secretary, said the board made plans for merging its staff and programs with that of the Congregational Christian Churches before becoming part of the Board for Homeless Ministries of the United Church of Christ next January.

The United Church of Christ was formed by a union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches. Dr. Deitz will serve as general secretary of the division of church extension of the United Church Board for Homeless Ministries.

Justice Dept. Eyes Reds as Deadline Draws Near

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has drawn a bead on Communist party leaders as deadlines for registering with the government near.

The party has until Sunday to register with the department as an arm of the Soviet Union. If the party doesn't register, its officers must by Nov. 30.

Both deadlines are apt to be ignored by Communist party leaders, who have fought the issue in the courts since passage of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950, which prescribed the registrations. The Communists have vowed to go to jail rather than comply.

In the face of the defiance, Justice Department officials have begun mapping plans to prosecute. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy indicated in Dallas Wednesday the steps his department would take if the deadlines are ignored.

If the Communist leaders fail to register "as they have indicated," Kennedy told a meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors convention, they will then be subject to a $10,000 fine and a five-year imprisonment. We will also move in that area."

Both the party and its leaders

Reds 'Won't Comply' With Subversion Act

NEW YORK (AP)—The Worker, Communist newspaper, says that neither the party nor its leaders will comply with a law, effective Monday, requiring them to register as an arm of the Soviet Union.

U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy said in St. Louis Tuesday that "we will prosecute" unless the leaders comply.

The issue was brought to a head when the Supreme Court, after 10 years of litigation, sustained section 13 of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950.

Filter to Protect Sailors From Fallout Material

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadian sailors serving in 22 of the Navy's most modern warships will be protected against radioactive fallout material or chemical or bacteriological agents, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The defense research chemical laboratories at nearby Shirley Bay has perfected a filter apparatus to screen out radioactive particles at the ship's air intakes, officials said.

The machine can be manufactured for about $2,500. Two are required for each modern destroyer and at least four for the aircraft carrier Bonaventure.

Says Family Must Protect Itself

Fallout Is Individual Care

DETROIT (AP)—It is up to the individual to provide fallout protection for his family in the event of a nuclear disaster, an administration official said Wednesday.

"With certain obvious exceptions it is the view of the federal government that people should provide fallout protection for their families," said John E. Cosgrove, Cosgrove, assistant director of the Office of Emergency Planning, addressed a session of a White House regional conference, which concluded Wednesday night.

NOT IN FAVOR

He added that the government's position did not rule out community, neighborhood or state action in providing fallout protection. Asked if a person should arm himself to prevent a neighbor from getting into his shelter, Cosgrove said "the federal government does not favor shooting one's neighbor. Experience in war and disasters has shown that people are very cooperative."

Lake Grain Shipments Highest in 16 Years

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Lake Carriers' Association says October grain shipments over the Great Lakes were the highest for that month since 1945.

Shipments totaled 1,931,566 net tons, but only 17.8 per cent of that tonnage moved in United States ships, said Oliver T. Burnham, association vice president and secretary.

Swainson Urges Aid Plan Tied to Social Security

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Swainson Wednesday called on Michigan's elderly citizens to put pressure on Congress next year to adopt a medical care plan tied to the Social Security system.

"The best way to meet the problems of medical care for the aged is through systematic contributions of employee and employer while the employee is part of the labor force," the governor told a rally of senior citizens.

President Kennedy endorsed the concept of Social Security financing of medical care this year but Congress did not pass the legislation to put it into effect.

Enactment of the bill would strengthen voluntary health insurance plans by removing the higher cost of insuring the aged, Swainson said.

Allies Seeking Unity on Berlin

Adenauer, JFK to Meet Prior to Conference of Foreign Ministers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Western Allies made plans today to consolidate their Berlin strategy at a foreign ministers' meeting in Paris next month.

But U.S. officials said this did not mean any new Western overture would be made to Russia.

The State Department announced Wednesday that Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the British, French and West German foreign ministers had agreed to meet in Paris at about the time of the NATO ministerial meeting there Dec. 13-15.

Officials said a major purpose of the Big Four meeting would be to further work out a common Western position for possible Berlin negotiations with Russia.

An earlier step in this process will be West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's visit to Washington next week.

The State Department also has announced that Walter Dowling, U.S. Ambassador to Bonn, and Gen. Lucius B. Clay, President Kennedy's personal emissary in Berlin, have been recalled for consultations this weekend and will be here during Adenauer's visit.

While past foreign ministers' meetings have been held in an atmosphere of imminent East-West negotiation, this time the attitude in Washington and other Western capitals was extremely wary.

Margaret and Son 'Fit' After Birth 13 Days Ago

LONDON (UPI) — Princess Margaret and her 13-day-old son are "fit and well," according to Clarence House sources.

The princess and the boy are expected to leave Clarence House where the birth took place, and return to her Kensington Palace home within two weeks, the sources said.

Con-Con Looks at Proposal to Enlarge Supreme Court

LANSING (AP) — A plan for an 11-member state Supreme Court and substitution of county court judges for justices of the peace is up for consideration at the constitutional convention.

Frank G. Millard, R-Flint, former Michigan attorney general, said he submitted the proposal in behalf of Probate Judge Frank L. McAviney of Genesee County, its author.

The new judicial system would add three members to the present eight-man Supreme Court bench and increase their elected terms from 8 to 10 years.

All but the chief justice, elected by his fellow judges, would be divided into two five-member appellate courts. The court would sit as one body only to hear questions involving the state or federal constitutions, "the welfare of the state" or cases in which the two appellate divisions could not agree.

OTHER PROPOSALS

The convention's judiciary committee currently is considering other proposals to set up an intermediate appellate court to relieve the Supreme Court's work burden.

The Millard-McAviney plan would do away with justices of the peace and create at least one judgeship in every county to dispose of civil cases involving $2,000 or less.

Another new Court of Domestic Relations would handle all cases dealing with divorce, juvenile delinquents and dependents, easing the case load of other existing courts. Each county would be directed to provide for at least one judge to be elected for a four-year term.

Delegate Lee Walcott, D-Madison Heights, came up with three proposals designed to make sure that deliberations of the legislature are open to public scrutiny. It would prohibit any standing committee from holding a closed meeting without approval of the legislature.

Hubert Baker to Take Heart Association Post

FLINT (AP) — Hubert H. Baker, associate executive secretary of the Council of Social Agencies of Flint and Genesee County since September of 1960, will become program director of the Michigan Heart Association—Dec. 1.

A Detroit native, Baker was in the mental health field in Pennsylvania before coming to Flint last year. The heart association, an agency of Michigan United Fund, has headquarters in Detroit.

4 Hunters Dead; Guns Not Guilty

Heart Attacks Strike 3, Traffic Kills Another as Season Is Launched

By The Associated Press
Michigan's 15-day deer hunting season opened Wednesday and before the first day ended at least three hunters died of heart attacks and another in a traffic accident. There were no reports of gun-shot victims.

U. S. Saylor, 45, of Eto. 3, Midland, was found dead in a woods in Jerome Township near Sanford in Midland County.

Frank Flowering, 71, of Rogers City, collapsed and died while hunting with his wife near Rogers City.

George E. Weaver, 55, of Flint was found dead near a buck he had shot near Escanaba in the Upper Peninsula. Weaver apparently collapsed while trying to haul the carcass out.

Norman E. Borders, 73, of Detroit, was killed when he was struck by a car as he crossed U.S. 10 in the village of Branch. Borders was on a deer hunting trip in Lake County.

Silent Film Star Dies

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—Elsie Ferguson, 78, a star of the stage and silent movies in the first quarter of the century, died Wednesday.

Hunter Bags Buck in Zoo; $100 Reward

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Michigan's first day of the 1961 deer hunting season ended Wednesday with Justice of the Peace Dewey Jaarsma of suburban Byron Township knowing there was one person who couldn't be too proud of his kill.

Jaarsma reported to the Kent County Sheriff's department someone had gone behind a 9-foot high fence at his farm to slay and carry off an eight-point, 4-year-old buck kept as a pet.

A neighbor discovered the place where the "hunter" had dressed out his kill. Jaarsma is offering a $100 reward for information leading to the arrest of the trespasser.

The deer was one of a number of animals Jaarsma keeps in a small zoo. Besides the buck there are 18 other deer, all does and illegal to kill during the season, antelope, llamas and wild fowl.

Potoskey Man Will Head Ionia County Schools

IONIA (AP) — Bruce T. Blanchard of Potoskey takes office Jan. 1 as Ionia County school superintendent.

He succeeds Elwood M. Brake who is retiring after 38 years service. Blanchard has served the past 16 years as Emmet County school superintendent.

Ivy League kegler Bob Brown carried a pen and pencil set for topping 240 in a 685. He did it twice with 245-247.

Bowling Loop Loses Omaha

Officials Don't Think
 New NBL Will Disband
 as a Result

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Commissioner Dick Charles and founder Curtis Sanford of the National Bowling League said Wednesday they did not think their organization would fold because of the withdrawal of Omaha.

Owner Bill Russell of Omaha turned his franchise back to the league Monday.

Charles said the league was letting everyone in free for the next two days to see if the people of Omaha want a team.

"If they don't we'll decide this weekend what to do with the franchise," Charles said.

At least one city is known to be wanting the Omaha franchise—
 Oklahoma City will be represented at the league's meeting in Chicago this weekend.

"Attendance was building at Omaha," said Charles. "It was just a matter of money with Russell. He ran out of funds. It came as a jolt to the rest of the league but we're still convinced that we have a good thing."

The Dallas Times Herald said even if the Omaha problem is solved, the league may soon run into trouble. Another franchise owner is reportedly reaching the bottom of the cash box.

Red Arrow Division Adds Gordy to List

FORT LEWIS, Wash. — John Gordy, offensive guard for the Detroit Lions, is the latest addition to the Red Arrow Division's collection of professional football players.

Gordy arrived Tuesday night to be assigned as an officer. Lt.
 Gordy began his Army life yesterday as the Wisconsin National Guard contingent marked its first month in active service.

Other football players who came in as reserves and were assigned to the 32nd Red Arrow Infantry Division are Ray Nitschke and Boyd Dowler, linebacker and end for the Green Bay Packers, and fullback Doug Meryberry of the Minnesota Vikings.

An Army spokesman said it was doubtful if Gordy, Nitschke and Dowler will be able to join their teams for the Thanksgiving Day game between Detroit and Green Bay. The training schedule is expected to keep them busy until late in the previous afternoon.

World's Match Game Tourney Starts

CHICAGO (AP) — A field of 128 men and 64 women will warm up tonight in a "Parade of Champions" for the fifth annual World's Invitational Match Game Bowling Championship.

The 10-day tourney, with a distribution of $48,200 in prize money, starts Friday morning with the entry list representing 25 states and Canada and Mexico.

The meet, for the first time, will be held on 16 alleys built in the north end of the main exhibition floor at McCormick Place. Chicago's $34 million exposition center on the Michigan lakefront. It previously has been in Chicago's Coleman.

A record attendance is expected for the 20 tournament sessions and a special grandstand seating 2,600 has been installed. The preview in-tonight's special contest will cost $3,000 in prizes will be followed by day and evening sessions for nine days and a climactic single daytime session on Sunday, Nov.
 26.

After the first four days, the fields will be shied to 48 men and 24 women, a double round Tuesday, Nov. 21, will send 15 men and 15 women into the match-play finals along with defending champions Don Carter, Lou and Marion Ludwig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Among top challengers are Dick Weber of St. Louis and Shirley Garms of Chicago, both 190-61
 "bowlers of the year."

The field includes winners of every tournament on the 1961 tour of the Professional Bowlers Association of America and the 59 top stars from the 10 teams of the new National Bowling League, which has suspended play for a week in deference to the world meet.

Stroh's Beer increased its lead in the Home's Series Classic while
 H. L. McLaughlin Co. ousted
 Cameo from 1st in the Farmington Major Classic in recent outings. Sylvan Lanes reports a big mixed doubles success.

Stroh's made its gain by taking top competitor Colonial Lumber 3 to 1. First Haupt Pontiac rolled a new season high of 2,803. He was topped by Silver Lake Golf hit 2,808. Mick Monroe rolled the best series with an even 600 featuring a 21. Let Samuel Fred 213 in 303,
 Bill Wood 212-222-500. There were 19,206 led by Hank Ferguson's
 236.

McLaughlin totaled 1079-3,051 to make it big move. Haggerty Lumber had 3122. Dick Bond paced the Farmington men at 279-556. Otis
 Lackey had 245-654. Luke Leach
 232-640 and Chuck Bullock 233-635.

Two husband-wife combinations came up with a 756 at Sylvan. Joe Gaive hit 231 and his wife, Jean, 212. Ben and Ruth Gorman had scores of 219 and 134, respectively.

Pistons Add to Strife of Clipped Hawks, 127-122

DETROIT — The St. Louis
 Hawks, five times Western Division champions of the National Basketball Association, are showing signs of strife in a season that has been filled with nothing but frustration.

The Hawks, whose entire team was on and off the trading market in less than 12 hours, slipped into fourth place of the five-team Western Division last night, bowing to 127-122.

It was the Hawks' fifth loss in six games. They now stand 6-9 for the season.

Coach Paul Seymour created a stir before the game when he announced the whole team was on the trading block.

"I'm here to trade," he said in Detroit. "I'm not talking about my 10th man. I'd trade any of our top players. They tell me I've got three of the best players in the world. Well, I'm ready."

That position, however, was quickly reversed by owner Ben Kerner in St. Louis.

"Let's just say they are no longer on the market," Kerner snapped. "No Hawk players are on the market until they are put there by this office."

The Detroit victory moved it past St. Louis into third place, in the other games, Philadelphia snapped Cincinnati's six-game winning string 145-133. Syracuse dumped New York into the Eastern Division cellar 114-102 and Los Angeles toyed with Chicago 133-118.

DETROIT popped in eight straight points early in the last quarter, pleton at the YMCA, FE 5-616.

Two more entries are needed to round out the Senior Men's Basketball League at the YMCA. League play will be Monday evenings starting December 4th. Information can be obtained by calling Jim Tempton at the YMCA, FE 5-616.

'M' Groomed for Hawkeyes

ANN ARBOR — Michigan guard Lee Hall has fought his way to the top of the heap by the simple expedient of spending a lot of time on the bottom.

Seldom mentioned as a standout in pre-season appraisals of the Wolverines, Hall has emerged in recent games as a top candidate for all-Big Ten honors.

"He has turned into a first-rate guard," said coach Bump Elliott of the 210-pound Charlette senior who is one reason why some "seers" are picking Michigan to upset powerful Iowa here this weekend.

"Nobody had a tougher job than Lee. He started out at left guard, had to switch to right guard in the middle of the year after Joe O'Donnell got hurt, and at the same time was moved from middle guard to linebacker on defense."

"For a player to make all those changes and still play as well as Lee is quite an accomplishment."

Hall was a first-stringer from the beginning but had his job snuffed out for him after injuring devastating Elliott's guard corps, reuniting the able O'Donnell and six others from the scene.

Hall has gone both ways in all of Michigan's games, including the Minnesota and Duke games when he was suffering from a stomach ailment.

"If anybody deserves to be honored, it's Hall," said Joe O'Donnell, the man he replaced.

"He's done a better job than I could have done."

EAST LANSING — Two frustrated football teams will try to take out their ire on each other when Michigan State and Northwestern meet here Saturday.

"The Spartans slid down to ninth in the national ratings after losing two away games to Minnesota and Purdue. MSU now has a 3-3 conference record.

Northwestern is 2-3 in the Big Ten but feels it should be higher. The Wildcats complain they fumbled away the touchdowns in a 10-3 loss to Minnesota and held Ohio State until the last few minutes before losing 10-0.

Northwestern can't be demoralized after beating Notre Dame 13-10. The visitors also have a double of giving Michigan State good games. They lost 21-10 in 1959 and 21-13 last year.

MSU fullback George Saines and Bill Swingle of Northwestern are both high among the gushers in the Big Ten. Saines is third with 322 yards and Swingle, a sophomore from Grand Haven, is fourth with 250.

Michigan State is expected to do more passing this week with sophomore quarterback Dick Probst scheduled to take an increasingly important throwing role.

Two key Spartan linemen are doubtful starting Michigan State games. Offensive guard Ed Budde and defensive specialist Wayne Fontes still are limping from the hard hitting in the loss to Purdue.

Birmingham Boy Part of NFL Grid Contest

Five regional winners in the National Football League Punt, Pass and Kick Contest will vie for national honors in Tiger Stadium, Thanksgiving Day, November 23.

Five boys, age 6 to 10, will participate in PP & K events both preceding the kickoff and as part of the half-time activities.

The youthful participants will be competing against representatives from 13 other NFL areas in their Tiger Stadium appearance. Results will be recorded and forwarded to National Punt, Pass and Kick Headquarters.

The five national winners will receive valuable prizes as well as a proposed trip to the White House and a meeting with President John Kennedy as part of America's Youth Physical Fitness Program.

The five regional winners who will compete in Tiger Stadium are: Ronald Zein, 1958 Trinity, Detroit; James Cameron, 117 Wayne Street, Montpelier, Ohio; Robert Brown, 2308 Auburn Drive, Birmingham, Michigan; Charles Berg, 3530 Harper Road, Mason, Michigan; Timothy Robinson, 2586 Terry, Trenton, Michigan.

These boys will be honored with a banquet Wednesday night, November 22, at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel. During their stay in Detroit, they are guests of the Ford Motor Company, sponsors of the Punt, Pass and Kick Contest throughout the country.

2 Area Gridders Lauded by MIAA

OLIVET — Unbeaten champion Albion continued its dominance in MIAA football today by taking nine of the 22 spots on the 1961 all-conference team.

Joe Shurmur, Albion's guard and linebacker, was the only player to be picked for both the offensive and defensive eleven.

The offensive line ends, Gary Wendell of Albion and John Parsons of Kalamazoo; tackles, Dave Wendell of Kalamazoo and Bill Feddeler of Olivet; guards, Gil Nannery of Adrian and Shurmur; center, Ken Bartley of Kalamazoo; quarterback, Frank Gould of Albion; running backs, Tom Neffelt of Olivet, J. B. Elzy of Albion and Ray Hoag of Albion.

The defensive team ends, Ken Renard of Alma and Larry Spencer of Olivet; tackles, Doug Brumbaugh of Albion and Terry Member of Albion; guards, Duane Kaiser of Adrian and Matt Moore of Albion; linebackers, Shurmur and Sherwood Vanderwoude of Hope; defensive halfbacks, Bob Forrist of Albion, Van Mulligan of Alma and Jim Harkema of Kalamazoo.

Harriers Meet for Big 10 Title

Defending Champion MSU Threatened by 5 Other Good Teams

CHICAGO — A close race for team honors for the first time since 1953 is expected Friday in the Big Ten cross-country championship meet, dominated in recent years by Michigan State.

The defending champion Spartans, winner of nine of the last 10 titles, is threatened seriously by Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin. Illinois, Northwestern and Ohio State also will enter full teams, while Michigan and Minnesota each will have three men competing for the individual title.

A four-mile course at Washington Park will be the scene of the Big Ten meet as well as the Central Collegiate Conference harrier run the same day. Western Michigan will be favored in the CCC meet which will include teams from Notre Dame, Loyola of Chicago, Drake, and Bowling Green.

Notre Dame's Frank Carver, Maryland, Pa., sophomore and winner of the recent Notre Dame Invitational, is among top threats for the individual CCC crown.

MSU's monopoly of the Big Ten title in the last decade was cracked only by Michigan, in 1954. But the Spartans have been beaten 22-50 by Wisconsin this season and the Badgers, in turn, were defeated by Iowa, 27-31. Low score wins in cross country.

The Hawkeyes are unbeaten so far while Indiana, MSU and Wisconsin each has one loss.

Jerry Young of Berkeley, leads the Spartans. He seeks to repeat as the individual winner. He runs the double-loop, four-mile course in 19:53.3 last year.

Iowa's Jim Tucker is undefeated in two dual meet seasons and finished second to Young last year.

Rolf Nielsen is Wisconsin's hope, and Rush Lash and Charles Harris lead Indiana.

Grid Program in Trouble at Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Hardin-Simmons University faces de-emphasis or discontinuance of football as the result of a big deficit that has piled up in the athletic department within the last eight years.

The board of trustees has decided that all present contracts including athletic scholarships will be honored but that no new scholarships will be issued until a thorough review has been made.

Dr. Evan A. Reis, president of Hardin-Simmons, indicated that some decision should be reached by Jan. 1 and he hoped it would come earlier.

Nine Dogs Ousted in Annual Trials

SMYRNA, Del. (AP)—Nine dogs were eliminated from a field of 50 Wednesday at the opening of the 21st annual National Championship Stake of the National Retriever Field Trial Club.

The dogs went through the required minimum of 10 tests, and further eliminations will be held Thursday. Of the 41 dogs still in competition, 38 are field trial champions.

The competing dogs include Spirit Lake Duke, national champion in 1957 and 1959, owned by Mrs. George Murnane of Syosset, N.Y.; Queenie of Redding, 1960 amateur champion, owned by Roland Watt, of Redding, Calif.; and Ace's Sheba of Artyon, owned by Dr. Bliss L. Finlayson, of Seattle. Another Seattle entry, Popper's Zigzag, is also still in competition.

Rossiers Back at Armory

Wrestling is back at the Pontiac Armory Friday night after a week's absence and a tag team match between Larry Chene and Wee Davie Duncan versus The Brute Bernard and Bull Bernard is the feature.

Perceval Pringle versus Don Jardine and Pepper Martin versus Gene McArthur meet in the 400-pounders. Starting time is 8:30.

Defensive Back Added to Pro Giants Roster

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants acquired defensive halfback Gene Johnson on waivers Wednesday. They made room for him on the 36-man roster by placing injured defensive halfback Dick Nolan on the reserve list.

In addition to Nolan, the Giants have lost Bill Stits, another defensive back, for two or three weeks with a similar shoulder dislocation. Rookie Allan Webb is expected to replace Nolan in the starting defensive backfield against Pittsburgh Sunday.

But He Remains Hard Character to Capture in Words

Biographies Springing Up About Film King Gable

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Clark Gable, who died a year ago today, already is the subject of four printed biographies.

The authors are his widow, his ex-secretary and two professional biographers.

"Clark Gable: A Personal Portrait" by Frances Preston Hall, $3.50, tells the by-line of Kathleen Gable, last of the star's five wives. It is indeed personal, perhaps too much so for some readers. Others will find it rewarding for a view of Gable's final years.

The tone is set on the first page: "I needed all of Clark's courage and strength that night I left his hospital room that last time. They had told me he was gone. But, of course, I tried to hold onto him. Heartbreakingly, I wouldn't let go. For two hours I held him in my arms."

"Finally, I did what my husband would have expected me to do—I faced up to it. He was gone. I touched his cold face with my hand, in a last farewell, and I walked out of the room."

Another intimate view is offered in "Dear Mr. Gable" (Little, Brown, $4.50) by Jean Garreau with Inez Coker. Miss Garreau was employed by Gable for 21 years, and her book proves that a man can be a hero to his own secretary.

She had been Clark's couch and attractive green chintz secretary, and it is in the Lombard marriage to Gable that she is most illuminating.

CLARK'S BEDROOM
"Clark's bedroom was done in beige and brown, with quilted beige wallpaper, a large green curtain, the finish of the woodwork did not suit Clark so she had it removed and antiqued until it had just the right patina."

"The bed was of brown tufted leather. He had bookcases built above the desk and a dictionary stand installed. Clark never tried to hide his lack of formal education. I'm just a guy trying to learn," he'd say."

"The King: The Story of Clark Gable" (Coward-McCann, $4.50) is the work of Charles Samuels, as-told-to author of the excellent memoir of Elia Kazan. Already serialized, the Gable book is to be published in January.

Samuels takes a more external and perhaps more objective view of Gable. Much of the book is necessarily twice-told tales. But there are also some disclosures that may surprise readers.

Among them: That Gable was a close man with a truck; that he was estranged from his father for many years; that he hated the "Adventure" ad line; "Gable's back and Gable's got him"; that he was obsessed with cleanliness.

"Clark Gable" (Pyramid, 50 cents) is a workmanlike job by newspaperman George Carpozi Jr. of the major events of the actor's life.

These and the multitude of other accounts of Gable's life make him seem strangely distant on this anniversary of his death. The facts are there, but where is the man?

The fact remains that Gable was and is hard to capture in words. His set-jaw look and his crackling voice were known by everyone, but few claimed to understand him. Even close friends — there were few — admitted he was an enigma.

Therein lay much of his greatness.

When an operator said, "Please deposit 10c," he replied, "It's O.K., operator. I just inserted 10c in stamps in the coin box."

Miss Lee Venora's one of the eye-poppers in the Alfred Drake show, "Kean"; she has something unusual for an opera-type: a 24-inch waist. The Every Brothers, bound for the Marines, remembered that music publisher Don Kirshner's weakness is peanuts — so they sent him a 90-lb. bag.

Society to Send Bibles Overseas to Balance Reds

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Bible Society has been asked to set aside $400,000 to buy and distribute Bibles to overseas areas where communism, atheistic literature is being pushed out.

The society's council, at the close of its annual meeting Wednesday, urged the expenditure, adding: "All over the world, people are choosing either atheism, materialism, or the Gospel."

State Man Arrested on Money Charge

ALPENA (AP)—A St. Clair Shores man who police said had $46,200 in counterfeit $20 bills in his car when he was seized here, was to be arraigned today on a charge of possessing counterfeit money.

William A. Carlson, regional director of the Secret Service, said William A. Vearcy, 37, would be arraigned before a U.S. Commissioner at Bay City.

Vearcy, married and the father of three children, was arrested by Alpena police Wednesday as he drove through the city.

Police Chief Lorenzo Walker said three officers stopped and searched Vearcy's car after they were alerted by state police.

Walker said the officers found the counterfeit money and a loaded revolver in the car. He said Vearcy was carrying $487 in good money.

Future Looks Favorable for King's TV Series

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Alan King will probably be the next comedian to get rich with his own TV series. CBS is hot for "The Alan King Show," produced by Bob Banner, and written by Coleman Jacoby and Arnie Rosen, and is negotiating, hoping to start it in February, or next fall.

King, who's been given a testimonial by the Friars Monastery, has sent plane tickets to Eddie Davis, his ex-boss at the old Leon & Eddie's, who now lives near Miami. "Eddie fed me pretty good in the days when I was hungry," says King, who now has a Rolls-Royce and the old Hammerstein estate at Great Neck.

Alan likes to spoof the telephone company. At a dinner honoring Secret Service Chief James Rowley, he said he got even with the phone company for trying to mail him 10c in stamps instead of returning his dime.

Seaway Toll Hit for Raising Cost of Canada Goods

TORONTO (AP)—Tolls on the St. Lawrence Seaway were denounced as a factor increasing the prices of goods in Canada and abroad, reducing Canadian imports and cutting business in Great Lakes ports.

E. Rollo Mainguy, general manager of the Great Lakes Waterways Development Association, said Wednesday there is an enormous school of thought that most of the seaway business is in United States or foreign ships. In fact, he said, the tolls are a major burden on Canada.

A former vice admiral in the Royal Canadian Navy, Mainguy said that while Canada tries to stimulate the tourist trade seaway tolls boost the cost of traveling the waterway for small pleasure craft by $30 for the boat and $7.50 for each passenger.

Recognizing the difficulty of reducing the tolls from the lower portion of the seaway, he saw no reason why they could not be dropped at once from the Welland Canal locks.

Local Board No. 65 (Pontiac) has November quota of 20 men while Local Board No. 67 (North Oakland County) will call 35 men.

The quotas for this area are not significantly higher than previous months' totals, according to officials at the two local boards. The 65 draftees from these two boards will report for induction Dec. 1.

Quotas for South Oakland County include eight men from Local Board No. 66, 13 from Local Board No. 321 and 12 from Local Board No. 323.

The last time 1,500 draftees were called in a single month from Michigan was in May 1953 near the end of the Korean conflict.

Except for those who volunteered for the draft, all inductees who report next month will be at least 22 years of age.

All the inductees will take place by Dec. 15, prior to the holiday season, according to Selective Service officials in Lansing.

Profit Taking Responsible

Stocks Decline in Slow Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—Profit taking trimmed stock market prices early this afternoon as the trading pace fell off to the week's slowest. Key stocks took losses of fractions to a point or more along a broad front. The market was settling down from the record highs reached in a prolonged autumn rally.

Process Seen Normal

Analysts saw the process as a mildly depressing item and the market in the long run was a further sign of the international situation. The market decline was not tied directly to any particular news item.

Chrysler was adversely affected by news of lower sales and reacted sharply. Most auto, steel, chemicals, copper, electrical equipments and oils were lower.

Prices moved irregularly on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading. Seaman Brothers rose about 2 points while gains of around a point were posted for Gaitheuer Power, Jeannette Glass and Mead Johnson. Gulf American and Land fell about a point. Other losers included Microways Associates, Great American Industries, Creole Petroleum and Desilu.

Fractional gainers included Frisco Railroad at 66, Caterpillar Tractor 4 1/2 at 102 1/2 and Philadelphia Electric 4 1/2 at 100 1/2. Off fractions were Southern Rail at 104 1/2, Sears, Roebuck & Co. at 103 1/2 and Illinois Bell at 83.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices dipped at the opening of trading today. Activity was limited.

Over the counter securities in U.S. government securities quoted low and intermediate issues of 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 with one or two bonds long down slightly more.

Among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange, utilities and industrials led a list. Utilities held mixed.

Five Executives See Good 1962

DETROIT (AP)—Five of the nation's top industrial executives predicted today that 1962, in effect, will be a year of moderate growth without a boom.

The forecasts came at the 47th meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board in Detroit.

The consensus of the five executives was expressed in a speech by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who said that the economy is in a "moderate growth" phase.

Hoover said that the economy is in a "moderate growth" phase, and that the outlook for 1962 is "moderate growth without a boom."

Doctor Finds Healthy Oldsters Stay Alert

By The Associated Press
Intelligence, a new technique to avoid scars from burns, and healthy executives figure in the medical news:

INTELLIGENCE ENDURES
When older people stay healthy and vigorous, there does not appear to be any decline in their intelligence with the advancing years, says Dr. Robert W. Kleimier, Washington University psychologist.

He gave intelligence tests at intervals over a 12-year period to persons aged 65 to 90. He found no evidence for the idea there is a normal and steady intellectual decline with the years. But in those who were soon to die, regardless of age, the tests revealed a sharp drop in performance.

BURNS WITHOUT SCARS
For severe burns, a Belgian plastic surgeon uses a bold new technique which he reports avoids scars and deformities.

Under anesthesia, Dr. Jean Larthor of Brussels "sandpapers" the burned areas immediately with a high-speed abrasive drill to remove the dead tissue. After the skin has been restored, and in nearly all cases it eliminates any scarring, says Medical World News.

TELL-TALE HELMET
Head and neck injuries are causing an increasing percentage of the deaths occurring among football players.

Two Northwestern University faculty members plan to put tiny measuring instruments and a radio inside a player's helmet, to radio back data on what happens during impact, and what happens to the brain activity of a man in an actual game. The experiment is being devised by Dr. Stephen Reid, team physician and James A. Anderson, assistant professor of electrical engineering.

HEALTHY EXECUTIVES
Popularly, the business executive is thought of as a "harried and hurried man driven inexorably toward an early death."

But this concept is not supported by findings by Robert H. Thurner, M.P.H., and E. L. Crumpacker, M.D., of Washington, D.C. in a 10-year study of 61 male executives.

Irish to Be Exempted From Proposed Law

LONDON (AP)—The British government has decided to exempt the Irish from legislation to restrict immigration into the United Kingdom, parliamentary quarters reported today.

The proposed law for the first time in history would exclude Commonwealth citizens from entering the country freely.

Opponents of the law were aroused by the reported exemption of the Irish. They charged that what would be left of the law would amount to a color bar, aimed chiefly at restricting the influx of West Indians, Africans, Indians, and Pakistanis.

Your New Social Security

By William E. Larokc
Pontiac District Manager

Q. I have a maid who works only two days a week. Must I report her wages for Social Security since she does not work full time?

A. If you pay her $50 or more in cash wages in any three-month period ending March 31, June 30, Sept. 30, or Dec. 31, you should deduct Social Security taxes from her wages and pay an equal amount yourself. It is the employer's responsibility to make this return to the Internal Revenue Service. The return is due before the end of the month following the end of the calendar quarter. Tax return forms and information are available from the Internal Revenue Service.

'Tight Little Isle' Facing Genuine Whisky Drought

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—A severe whisky shortage—and this one for real—was reported today from the "tight little island" of Barra.

Cases are piled up on the Hebrides Island's pier, impounded because Calum MacLeod, owner of the only saloon, refuses to pay a pier charge of 3 pence—3 1/2 cents—a case imposed by the Inverness County Council.

"The cases reached here marked 'carriage paid,'" said MacLeod. "I see no reason why I should fork over a pier charge."

Barra was the scene of Sir Compton Mackenzie's novel "Whisky Galore," a tale of a wartime shortage of drink from which the movie "Tight Little Island" was made.

The thirty Barra men are calling the barman "Tight Little Calum."

Board May Pick Architect Firm

Farmington Twp. Hopes to Name Designer for New Hall Tomorrow

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Section of an architectural firm to design a new township hall may be made tomorrow night, according to Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall.

Hall said that the township board might possibly make a decision after interviewing representatives of three firms at 7 p. m. in the township hall.

Prospective candidates for the job, narrowed down from a field of 31, are Strickland and Strickland, Associates, and Charles Hannan, both of Farmington; and Crane, Kiebler and Kellogg, Detroit.

Tentative plans indicate that an adequate building to house the township offices could be built for less than $100,000, said the supervisor.

ALREADY HAVE MONEY
"It can be constructed without any increase in taxes. The township already has the money, a surplus from the general fund over a period of years," he explained.

The site for proposed building has been purchased for $18,000 on the southwest corner of Orchard Lake and 11 Mile roads. Funds to purchase the site also have been set aside during the last several years.

No date has been set for start of construction.

The township's present quarters are in an old building at 2375 Grand River Ave. in Farmington City.

Hall said the building, constructed about 1872, has served as the township hall since 1944.

DIANA LYNN HAWLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Omer J. Hawley of 339 Atwater St., Lake Orion, announce the engagement of their daughter Diana Lynn to Seaman William R. Raymond, U.S. Navy. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Raymond Jr. of 573 E. Flint St., Lake Orion. A Jan. 6 wedding is planned.

MEMBERS BUILD ADDITION — Except for the basement, the new Sunday School addition to the Gingsville Baptist Church was built by the members. It is the wing at the left in this picture that it has been estimated that there will be no need for a millage hike if the bond issue is approved, in a special election Monday by voters in the Farmington School District.

Approval of the millage request would provide a continuation of three mills voted in 1957 which expires the end of this year.

Extension of the three mills for five years would keep the total school tax levy at 29.11 mills for each $1,000 of assessed valuation, with possible lower rates as valuation increases in the school district, according to Harrison.

TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL
Funds from the sale of the bond issue would be used to finance the construction of a junior high school and a 20-room elementary facility or addition. Remaining funds would be used to purchase future school sites.

The junior high school, which would have a capacity enrollment of 650 students, would be built on a 25-acre site east of Middle Belt and between 10 and 11 Mile Roads. The property already is owned by the school system.

A decision has not been made as to where the proposed elementary school will be constructed or whether the new classrooms will be added to an existing school. About $600,000 would be used for this project.

Future purchases would be used for another junior high school and two elementary schools, Harrison added.

Enrollment projections show that a new junior high school and a new elementary school will be needed by the fall of 1965, he said.

And to assure completion of the buildings on schedule, it will be necessary to have the funds early next year since it takes 18 months to two years from the time the bonds are sold until the schools are ready for occupancy.

It is almost exactly two years since the last bond proposal and millage request were placed before voters in the school district.

On Nov. 23, 1959, a $3 million bond issue and a two mill tax hike were approved by voters by a margin of 12 votes.

Only property owners will be permitted to vote on the bonding proposal but all voters will be allowed to decide the proposed millage question.

WSU Governors Hear Protest Against Speaker

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne State University Board of Governors took no official action Wednesday on a protest against the appearance on campus of Herbert Aptheker, historian and editor of the magazine "Political Affairs."

A group, headed by Ann Byerlein, 33, appeared before the board to protest Aptheker's appearance today. He was to speak on "The Negro in the American Civil War" and was invited to do so by the Wayne Independent Socialist Club.

Mrs. Byerlein told the board, "We don't want tax dollars spent for Communist subversion. If Aptheker appears on campus, we have no other recourse . . . we're going to the legislature."

Leonard Woodcock, board chairman, told the woman he did not share her "worries about the republic."

Record Per-Acre Yield Seen for State Potatoes

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's fall potato crop is headed for a record per-acre yield, the Federal State Crop Reporting Service says. The indicated yield of 18,500 pounds per acre is 10 percent above the record set in 1958, the service reported.

The state production is expected to hit 758.5 million pounds — 6 percent above the Oct. 1 prediction, and 16 percent above average.

"OH NO, NOT THAT!" — "When I'm lookin' for a woman, she buys me a dot," groans Wormy, played by Jim Schank, in Brandon High School's production of "Bernadine." His mother, played by Carmen Miller, likes the idea and so does Vernon, played by Barry Young, who is obviously pleased about Wormy's new pooch. Performances of Mary Chase's comedy will be at 8 p. m. tomorrow and Saturday.

Brandon High Play Set

ORTONVILLE — "Bernadine," the first of two all-school plays to be staged at Brandon High School this year, will be presented at 8 p. m. tomorrow and Saturday nights in the school auditorium.

Director is Lee Moore, dramatic coach.

Written by Mary Chase, author of "Harvey," the play concerns a group of self-styled dead end kids. Beaumont, played by Arlen Pettit, leads them into the imaginary world of "Sneaky Falls, Minn."

When the sham hoodlums are forced or discouraged, Beaumont reminds them that things are different in Sneaky Falls, where the word 'no' is never spoken and mothers and sons aren't even in the same families.

The main attraction of Sneaky Falls, however, is Bernadine, the ideal female.

ONLY UNHAPPY MEMBER
The only unhappy member of the crowd is Wormy who can't succeed at being either the wheel or conquering male that he wants to be. His mother needs him constantly and he can't get any dates.

The solution? Bernadine.

The members of the cast include Mary Ann Kennedy, Carmen Miller, Cindy Bonnis, Kathy Burton, Linda Jones, Cynthia Burton, Karen Grappan, Carol Kelley, Jackie Williams, Dianne Groves, and Emily Wells.

Other players are Linda Metzger, Mary Atkins, Kathie Borst, Kathleen Hutchings, Marilyn Denton, Kathy Bryant, Gwen Hamilton, Judy Broecker, Nan Duman, Nancy Mills, Barbara Romeo and Ann Weeks.

Boys in the play are Arlen Pettit, Fred Beardsley, Harold Webb, Tom Parker, Jim Sherman, Jim Schank, Ken Perry, Gary Wollerman, Barry Young, Ken Weeks, Tim Theole and Roger Board.

Tickets are available at all professional calls totaling $3,497.

Tentative Plans Okayed for Disco Junior High

UTICA — Tentative plans for a proposed $1,185,600 Disco Junior High School, to house some 900 students, have been approved by the Utica Board of Education.

According to Neal Smith, board architect, the 98,000-square-foot building will cost about $12 per square foot. Fees for site development and built-in equipment will be an additional $157,000, he said.

The school will be built on the site behind the present Disco Elementary School on Van Dyke, just north of 23-Mile Road.

The school's gymnasium will be built below the level of the rest of the school, allowing for a higher ceiling. A cafeteria partition will make lectures and combined classes possible without disturbing those at lunch.

ROOM WITH LIBRARY
A room would be built with the library which could be used as conference rooms or as a classroom.

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Elaine M. McMaster appeared before a U.S. District Court grand jury Wednesday in a case involving her husband, Roland B. McMaster, secretary treasurer of Teamsters Union Local 229.

Mrs. McMaster appeared after U.S. District Judge Thomas P. Thornton refused a motion that she should not appear on grounds a wife should not be forced to testify against her husband.

Groups Study Problem Areas

Avondale Schools Look Toward Future

The Avondale Schools Citizens Study Committee currently is conducting a thorough survey of the school system to determine its current and future needs.

The central committee has been divided into five subcommittees which are studying specific problem areas.

A chairman, secretary and representative from each subcommittee serve on the central committee at its monthly meetings.

The areas being studied are finances, school plants, educational programs, community needs and public relations. Subcommittees meet as often as needed.

The central committee's first problem is to decide which of the older schools are in need of immediate repairs.

About 80 citizens are now on the citizens' committee, 15 of which serve as officers of the subcommittees and on the central body.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS
Chairman of the finance subcommittee is Jerry Kahl, 1286 Winchcombe Road. Bloomfield Township, secretary, McAllister Stock.

Orion Twp. Tops United Fund Aid

$2,200 Gift From Firm Puts Community Over $6,000 Goal

ORION TOWNSHIP — A $2,200 gift from Artco, Inc., put Orion Township over its $6,000 United Fund goal by 8.5 percent, Joseph Taylor, Orion campaign chairman, announced today.

"Artco's contribution represented over a third of our total goal," said Taylor.

"We are very grateful to Walter Schreiber, president of the corporation for his firm's generous gift. I am pleased to report that Orion has raised $6,200 enabling us to make our goal for the first time in several years," the drive chairman added.

Mrs. Alfred Ducey, Women's Auxiliary chairman, announced that 83.42 of the $2,400 goal had been raised putting the women over in their residential solicitation.

Area chairmen assisting Mrs. Ducey were Mrs. Ward Ship, Dan Abbey, Mrs. William Andrews and Mrs. Dale Ballard.

Industrial, commercial and professional calls totaling $3,497 were made by Walter Ship, P. Hammer, Arthur Wettsch and Joseph Taylor.

The Teacher's Club of Orion contributed $390.50. Junior High students raised $214.78.

Lake Orion Bands to Present Concert

LAKE ORION — The music department of Lake Orion Community High School will present its second annual band concert at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the school.

Featured will be the Variety of Bands playing a selection of classical and popular music.

The Junior Varsity and the Lake Orion Dixieland bands also will play. Music director is Peter H. Robinson.

Physician Hits Aid Linked to Social Security

DETROIT (AP) — The King-Anderson bill, which would finance health care for senior citizens through Social Security, is "the look-in-the-door" approach that would lead to a full blown nationalization of the medical profession," says a prominent Michigan physician.

Dr. Don W. McMaster, president of the Wayne County Medical Society, was only one of several physicians, politicians and public officials who debated the issue of health care for senior citizens here Wednesday.

McMaster's remarks were made to a panel discussing better health and welfare opportunities for senior citizens at final sessions of a two-day White House regional conference.

The health care plan also was a major issue in a rally Wednesday of nearly 7,000 anti-plant drivers who voted to join a national drive to push for adoption by Congress of the King-Anderson bill.

Under the King-Anderson bill the cost of financing the health care for retirees on Social Security would be raised through increasing the employer's and the employee's contribution to Social Security by one-quarter of 1 percent each and by increasing the base on which the Social Security contribution is paid from the first $4,800 of earnings per year to $5,200.

Traffic Toll Is 1,321

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 1,321 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by State Police showed today. The toll at the same date last year was 1,359.

Blood spots in chicken eggs are due to heredity, say Michigan State University poultry specialists.

Carol Stipcak Married in Orchard Lake Church

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Our Lady of Refuge Church in Orchard Lake was the setting Saturday morning for the marriage of Carol M. Stipcak and Lawrence Garagiola. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Michael O'Hara.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stipcak of 2900 14-Mile Road. The bridegroom is the son of the Mr. and Mrs. Louis Garagiola of West Bloomfield Township.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace, accented with sequins, pearls and crystal trim. Her fingertip veil was attached to a headpiece, adorned with crystal drops.

Mrs. Ralph Schuler of Bancroft attended her sister as matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Serita Nolasco of Farmington, Carolyn Grabner of Detroit and Judy Rifeberg of Royal Oak.

Martha Stipcak of Union Lake was the junior bridesmaid and flower girl was Maureen Thomas of Romeo.

Assisting as best man was Coleman DeConick of Orchard Lake. The 100 guests were seated by Ralph Schuler at Bancroft. A toastmaster was Donald Stipcak of Farmington.

PTA to Hear Expert in School Study Studies

CLARKSTON — Problems of school social studies will be discussed by an expert in the field at an 8 p. m. meeting of the Andersonville School Parent-Teacher Association today.

Miles Platt, a consultant for the Oakland County Board of Education social studies department, will speak for the group. A coffee hour will follow his presentation.

Rochester Plans Big Yule Parade

Santa Claus Will Stop to Join in Festivities on Dec. 9

ROCHESTER — Santa Claus has scheduled a whistle stop here Dec. 9 for the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce's 11th annual Christmas parade.

Clowns, floats, marching bands and high stepping strutters will be featured in this year's tribute to the holiday season.

Ten groups so far have asked to join in the festivities, including downtown merchants, and the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs. Three marching bands will come from the city of Rochester, Rochester High and Rochester Junior High schools.

The colorful hour-long parade will form at the North Hill Plaza Shopping Center and proceed south on Main Street. Swinging west on Third Street, the column will continue on to the American Legion Hall on University Street where it will disband.

About half of the floats and marching units needed have been volunteered. C. C. officials said today. Additional entries are invited, they added.

Find Charles O. Hohn Dead in His Home

A 63-year-old West Bloomfield Township man, Charles O. Hohn, was found dead in the bedroom of his home at 3105 Wellington Drive yesterday morning.

He had been shot through the head with a 38-caliber revolver, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies. Officers said the gun was found in his hand.

Two notes written by his son Charles G. Hohn were found on the dresser. The dead man had been dependent since the death of his wife last August, according to his son who discovered the body.

Avon to Submit Estimate of $1,500 for CD Budget

AVON TOWNSHIP — The township board today will submit an estimate of $1,500 for its 1962-63 civil defense budget to the state office in order to qualify for matching federal funds.

The estimate was made independently of any action the Rochester village council may take on the matter, despite the possibility that the two governments may form a joint civil defense organization.

Blood spots in chicken eggs are due to heredity, say Michigan State University poultry specialists.

You Can Survive Atomic Attack—No. 9

Community Shelters Most Sensible

A PROPOSED COMMUNITY SHELTER PLAN

(Editor's Note: A model prize winner who is America's best known shelter writer for The Pontiac Press is at the top of this page. This series is not intended to approve or disapprove of any particular shelter plan, but to show that a shelter can be built. This is the ninth installment.)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

The cheapest, most sensible shelter is the community or neighborhood type accommodating 50 to 100 persons or more.

You and neighbors can build one for about $100 per family member. This could well be five to 10 times as much as building an equally effective individual family shelter. The larger the community shelter, the cheaper it is.

Few people remember that just such a community shelter was actually tested in Nevada a few years ago, virtually under an A-bomb, with two dozen men inside.

The shelter "rocked like a ship," they said, but they and the shelter came through the blast and fall-out in perfect shape.

And few Americans realize that the Soviets are far, far ahead of us in building shelters, especially of the type for 100 persons or more.

Expert students of Russia's civil defense venture for this, despite Madame Khrushchev's statement that the Soviet Union was not building shelters.

To the contrary, the Soviet government even provides for compulsory training in defense and survival to make nuclear war less costly in human lives.

ACTUAL TEST MADE

The group shelter tested in Nevada — the only shelter ever subjected in this country at least to actual bomb test — was a quonset hut type of structure, a multiple corrugated steel arch set on a concrete slab, and placed in the ground.

Its top came about level with the edge of the hole; it was covered with several feet of dirt.

Atomic Energy Commission scientists and technicians stayed inside it while an A-bomb, about equal power to the one that fell at Hiroshima, was set off atop a tower about one mile away.

This community shelter was equipped with bunka (one bed for each two persons), dining and recreation room, toilets, an antenna and periscope, air intake and exhaust vent, water supply, a gasoline-driven electric generator, oxygen supply, and an emergency sand-filled chest, among other items.

Built for the AEC at a cost of $2,500, it was designed to withstand blast pressure of 35 pounds per square inch, and to reduce the intensity of fallout radiation about 10,000-fold from the immediate area above the shelter.

May Produce First Bomb in '62

Red China Pushing Nuclear Program

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Communist China, pushing relentlessly for status as a world-power, is reported speeding an independent nuclear program which may produce its first atomic bomb by 1962.

Diplomatic reports based on information from behind the Bamboo and Iron curtains cite strong indications that Peiping is making a determined effort to become a nuclear force.

The current signs are that the Peiping regime is going about it without Russian help and even growing opposition from Moscow.

The middle of 1962 has been mentioned as a likely date for Red China's first nuclear explosion, although other estimates say it will take up to two more years.

OFFICIAL SILENCE

Two years ago Red China's foreign minister, Marshal Chen Yi, told a news conference that Peiping intended to have the atomic bomb. Since then there has been official silence while Peiping's propaganda machines firmly denounced nuclear efforts of the West and supported proposals for a nuclear free zone in the Far East.

In 1959, Ho Chi Minh, president of Communist North Viet Nam, dropped a casual remark that the Chinese would have atomic bombs "in the not too distant future." Peiping said nothing.

In its ideological struggle with Moscow over interpretation of Marxist-Leninist doctrine, Red China has consistently taken a tough line toward the West against the softer line proclaimed by Moscow.

Some political observers believe that the recent explosion of a 50-megaton bomb by the Soviet Union was designed as much to impress Red China as to intimidate the West.

A ranking Asian leader told this correspondent recently that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev had told him Russia was not aiding Red China's nuclear weapons effort but that he (Khrushchev) thought Peiping "would have the bomb before long."

Republican Club Out for VIP for '62 Speaker

Planners of the 1962 Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club dinner are shooting for a top name for speaker.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has sent his regrets that a previous engagement would prevent him from attending the top GOP fund-raising dinner of the year. It usually is held in February.

A club spokesman said other inquiries will be sent to New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater and James A. Eastland, former secretary of labor in the Eisenhower administration and unsuccessful aspirant for governor of New Jersey.

What about former Vice President Richard M. Nixon? "I imagine he'll be too busy by that time," Theodore Koella, a director of the club, said. (Nixon has decided he'll try for governor of California.)

Will Help Food Bank

ROME (AP) — Canada Wednesday pledged an "initial" contribution of $5 million in cash and agricultural products to help get a world food bank started immediately.

Voters Approve Building of Junior High School

JENISON (AP) — Voters of Georgetown School District have given firm support to a $485,000 bond issue to finance a proposed new junior high school with no increase in a standard quart.

contemplated in the current six-mill levy. The vote was 350 yes to 99 no. District officials hope to start construction by early next spring. There are 215 pounds of milk in a standard quart.

The Humane Society of the United States says there is no such thing as a two-dollar dog or a free cat. It says a dog or cat that lives to be 10 years old will cost the owner $736 for the bare essentials.
