Legislature Awaits Reshuffle Verdict

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's legislature marked time today awaiting a verdict on whether the State Senate must be reappointed by Aug. 20.

Lawmakers decided yesterday to recess over the weekend and come back Tuesday night.

By that time, a ruling may have been handed down on a request for row.

LEAVE FOR HEARING — Republican Senators Frank Beidle of St. Clair, John Carlson Morris of Kalamazoo, Frank Beidle of St. Clair, John Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge, and Paul Younger of Lansing board a plane in Lansing for Littleton, N. H., they plan to attend tomorrow's hearing on the reappointment case appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Kennedy, Rusk Will Map New Berlin Action

Secretary of State Expected to Report Reds Standing Fast

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk face today the task of mapping a new move in the diplomatic dispute with the Soviet Union over Berlin.

The U.S.-Soviet exploratory talks have gone full circle without agreement.

Rusk returned Wednesday night from Geneva and a group of meetings with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. He was expected to tell Kennedy that the Soviet attitude on Berlin seems to be toughening but that there is no indication of imminent crisis.

During the next few days Kennedy, Rusk and other administration policymakers will be occupied with another issue of great urgency—deciding what new proposals the United States may make for reducing inspection requirements for a nuclear test ban treaty with the Soviet Union.

TO MEET TODAY

Rusk and other Cabinet members meet today for a discussion of this problem based on new scientific information recently announced by the Defense Department. Kennedy will meet at the White House with 10 or 12 key advisers in the hope that a final decision can be reached quickly.

In London, British officials said Wednesday that the new proposals will be presented to the Geneva Disarmament Conference within two weeks. U.S. officials thought the action might be taken even more quickly.

Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the British Parliament terms for a nuclear test ban accord may be eased, but he said on-site inspections still will be needed.

Meanwhile, the U.S. disarmament chief, William C. Foster, discussed atomic test ban safeguards at a closed session of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee.

The chairman, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., reported that Foster had said the United States has not yet decided whether to modify the safeguard proposal and still believes on-the-spot inspections are needed to prevent cheating.

The court pointed out that the population of some senate districts was 12 times the size of others.

This makes the presently-elected senate unconstitutional, the court ruled. But to provide for necessary legislation, the lawmakers were allowed to remain in office until the end of the year until a new senate is being elected.

Before deciding on the weekend recess, the legislature held a joint session to hear Gov. Swainson outline his suggestions for drawing up a reappointment plan.

The governor's speech, as expected, met with warm approval from Democrats.

At least five GOP senators boycotted the joint session, remaining at their desks when the Senate pressed to move into the House chamber to hear the governor.

The Supreme Court justices failed to appear because they were on vacation and many were out of town.

Swainson, who has the power to veto any legislative plan he doesn't like, urged the lawmakers to come up with a plan based on population and which meets other tests of the state court.

THE COURSE OF ACTION is clear, he declared. "To delay where there need be no delay brings confusion where none need exist."

Swainson said he is opposed to electing the Senate on a statewide basis, and explained:

"I have always believed in the essential sanity of the plan under which each elected official represents a specific constituency and is directly responsible to the constituency."

Half-Millionth '62 Pontiac

MILESTONE VEHICLE — Pontiac Motor Division's half-millionth 1962 model car came off the assembly line early this afternoon at Pontiac's main plant. It marked only the second time in Pontiac's history that the half-million production milestone was reached in a single model year. Total production of 1962 Pontiacs

And They're Sick of It 'Invasion Force' All at Sea

Somewhere in the unaddressed waters of Lake Huron are 20 sick sea scouts trying to duplicate the British capture of Mackinac Island during the War of 1812.

No far, the "invasion" is three days overdue.

Members of Pontiac Ship No. 5, Sea Explorer Scouts, under the leadership of their skipper, T. Boice Purdy of 208 Linden St., left Port Huron last Sunday morning about two 35-foot cruisers.

Their strategy called for landing following the historic route of the British force and raising the scout flag over Ft. Mackinac before dawn.

"The boys were an enthusiastic—full of the spirit of adventure when they left," said Mrs. Purdy today.

The group ran into high winds and rough seas early.

They put in at Port Austin Sunday morning and began a steady all-day march, fully uniformed, to the nearest drug store for seasick pills. Purdy told his wife via telephone.

"They won the hearts of Port Austin residents," Purdy said. "The boys spent the day helping people move boats out from docks, saving many from damage in the bad weather."

Still a bit uneasy amidst the Pontiac lads, ranging in age from 14 to 17, struck out again for Mackinac.

"I've never seen weather so bad," Purdy told his wife Tuesday night when he phoned from Oscoda.

They anchored in Oscoda because one scout was so sick he had to return to Pontiac.

That was the last word heard from the sailward scouts.

"I don't know if they've made it yet, but at least they're well supplied with seasick pills," Mrs. Purdy said.

"They left with about $200 worth of canned food. They worked a year to raise funds for supplies. I never saw so much food."

"I'll bet they've hardly made a dent in it."

Chilly Temperatures Predicted Tonight

Better take a top coat along if venturing out tonight as temperatures will cool off again to near 50 degrees.

Friday will be warmer and fair with sunny skies warming the atmosphere to a high of 78. Partly cloudy and warmer is the outlook for Saturday.

Northerly morning winds at 12 miles per hour will become light variable tonight and Friday.

Temperatures dropped to 51 at 8 a.m. today. The forecast for 2 p.m. is 69.

News Flashes

Ben Bella Has Upper Hand in East and West

Split Shalters Tries by Provisional Chiefs for Stable Regime

ALGIERS (AP) — A power struggle that threatened civil war moved toward a climax today in this newly independent nation. A fractional split shattered attempts by provisional Algerian leaders to establish a stable regime.

Administrative work appeared to be at a virtual standstill. Thousands of Europeans who stayed on through months of terror before independence, converged on docks and airports to get out. Two passenger liners came to carry refugees to France.

Although the situation was marked by confusion and in some cases fragmentary reports, there were the highlights.

President Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella appeared to have the upper hand in western and eastern Algeria. Ben Bella returned to Oran, western Algerian metropolis, after a triumphant trip Wednesday to Taret, 150 miles southwest of Algiers.

IN CONTROL

Forces loyal to him were assembling in control of Constantine and Bone in eastern Algeria. Bloody clashes were reported Wednesday in Constantine.

Deputy Premier Belkacem Krim, a Berber leader and signer of the peace accords with France, held forth in the Kabylie Mountains east of Algiers. He denounced Ben Bella and called for a massive rallying of support across the nation.

A communiqué from Krim's headquarters in Tizi Ouzou claimed that troops had moved to back the gates of Constantine to back the resistance of anti-Ben Bella forces within the city. The Constantine prefecture said at noon the city was calm.

In Algiers, there was no sign of the distinguished provincial governor of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedja, which had moved in after independence July 3 to take control of the country.

Algiers was quiet, despite the outward movement of Ben Youssef. The executive is charged with organizing elections for a Constituent Assembly and regular government, and meanwhile to administer the nation. But the executive appeared to have completely lost its grip on the country.

IN ORAN, a spokesman for Ben Bella said Mohamed Khider, one of Ben Bella's chief supporters, would head for Algiers soon to study the situation.

Khider is a member of a seven-man political bureau which Ben Bella set up last week, in defiance of the Ben Khedja regime, to assume over-all leadership.

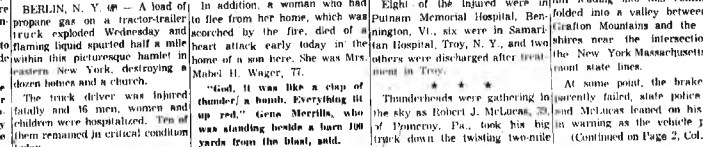

TOPP IS BOUND OVER ON MURDER CHARGE

Seventeen-year-old Sheldy W. Topp today was bound over to Circuit Court on a first-degree murder charge by Pontiac Township Justice of the Peace R. Grant Graham.

Topp, whose Justice Court examination was held over by bench hearings, is scheduled to be arraigned in the higher court Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Four of the psychiatrists who examined the Pontiac State Hospital mental patient adjudged Topp sane and able to stand trial for the May slaying of Charles A. May, Oakland County's first assistant coroner counsel.

Gas Truck a Fiery Torch in Valley

BERLIN, N. Y. (AP) — A load of propane gas on a tractor-trailer truck exploded Wednesday and flaming liquid spurted half a mile within this picturesque hamlet in eastern New York, destroying a dozen homes and a church.

The truck driver was injured fatally and 16 men, women and children were hospitalized. Two of them remained in critical condition today.

In addition, a woman who had fled from her home, which was scorched by the fire, died of a heart attack early today in the home of a son here. She was Mrs. Isabel H. Wager, 77.

"God, it was like a clap of thunder," a hush. Everything lit up red," Gene Merrill, who was standing beside a barn 100 yards from the blast, said.

Eight of the injured were in Putnam Memorial Hospital, Berlin, N.Y., six were in Samaritan Hospital, Troy, N.Y., and two others were discharged after treatment in Troy.

Thundereheads were gathering in the sky as Robert J. McLucas, 39, of Piquette, Pa., took his big truck down the twisting two-mile

Baker and Nagle GOP Opponents

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is another in a series of articles published by The Pontiac Press to aid voters in the Aug. 7 primary. Only those offices in which there is a contest will be covered.)

REP. RAYMOND L. BAKER

Two Republicans who turned to politics at opposite stages of their careers are opposing each other in the GOP primary for 4th District state representative.

Incumbent Rep. Raymond L. Baker, who made good in 1960 on his first political try after retiring as a pharmacist and druggist owner, is matched against Terrence E. Nagle, a 27-year-old manufacturer representative seeking his first public office.

Baker, 45, of 2644 Cumberland Road, Berkeley, made his political debut two years ago with two tight decisions over opponents.

In the GOP primary he whipped John A. Tius after first unofficial returns showed. Tius the winner in the general election he beat incumbent Democrat S. James Clarkson by only about 1,000 votes.

EX-COUNCIL MEMBER

Baker, a former member of the Berkeley City Council, is a graduate of Lake Orion High School and the Detroit Institute of Technology's College of Pharmacy.

Baker and his wife are the parents of four children.

Nagle and his wife Loretta have five children, ranging in age from 10 months to 5 years. The young family lives at 1756 Birchwood St., Southfield Township.

Active in the Republican party for about three years, Nagle has served as precinct captain in his community.

He is a graduate of St. James High School in Detroit and attended Jordan College, Highland Park Community College and the University of Detroit.

Nagle operates his own sales firm.

State High Court Eyed by Francis, GOP Senator

MIDLAND (AP) — Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, said today he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Supreme Court Justice.

The GOP will select its candidates for the nonpartisan court at the party's convention Aug. 26.

"I am profoundly disturbed and I think the people are aroused at seeing the legislative process in Michigan upset by judicial edict," Francis said. "The facts speak for themselves that some of the current justices are beholden to special interests."

Francis had decided to return to private law practice after four successful Senate campaigns that saw him win the leadership of the Senate.

He said it was a rash of personal calls, telegrams and phone calls "from responsible citizens from all parts of Michigan" that convinced him he should seek a high court seat.

3 Judges Rule Against Soblen

English Panel Nixes Request for Freedom; Israel Out Also

LONDON (UPI) — Convicted Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen lost a plea for freedom before Britain's three-judge high court of appeal today, shortly after Israel rejected his request for permanent asylum there.

The last known legal resort left to the ailing, 61-year-old psychiatrist to avoid being returned to the United States and life imprisonment is a pending application to the British government for political asylum.

The asylum decision is up to Home Secretary Henry Brooke.

A Home office spokesman said Brooke could act "in five minutes" or at his discretion.

Israeli Interior Minister Moshe Shapiro meanwhile today rejected Soblen's plea for permanent asylum in Israel.

Soblen took the rejection of his appeal with passive resignation, almost as if he had expected it.

Soblen's chief counsel, F. Elwyn Jones, asked for permission to appeal to the House of Lords.

Appeal Planned in Fraud Case

Attorney for 2 of 6
Convicted in Trial to Petition High Court

The result of the longest criminal trial in Oakland County Circuit Court history — with the conviction last night of the convicted six men for a $127,000 fraud — will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

George Fulkerson, attorney for two of the defendants, said today the appeal would be made on Sept. 17, the scheduled sentencing date for the six men.

After deliberating 6 1/2 hours, a Circuit Court jury of seven men and five women returned the guilty verdict at 8:30 p.m. Gian Ronchetti, 34, Garden City, and Peter Lasteros, 28, 3400 Baldwin Ave., Troy.

The four other defendants, who were convicted a jury trial, were convicted by visiting Bay County Circuit Judge Leon R. Dardas.

ALSO CONVICTED

They are Ivan D. Batten, 47, of 2940 Fall River Road, Southfield; Frank Benoit, 46, of 1229 W. Lake Ave., Farmington Woods; and William C. Tres, 39, and Robert Levine, 22, both of Detroit.

All six were convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses, which carries a maximum 10-year prison sentence, and conspiracy, a charge with a five-year maximum.

The trial was the longest criminal case in circuit court history and possibly the biggest commercial fraud prosecution in the state, said Senior Asst. Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr.

According to Barry, more than 60 witnesses and 153 exhibits were presented at the trial which began June 5.

Barry and Asst. Prosecutor John O'Brien had charged during the trial that the men obtained lists of bad credit risks, forged their names or tricked them into signing loan contracts and sold the worthless contracts to the General Public Loan Co., branch at 22848 Woodward Ave.

The merchandise, sold through one of three stores operated by the firm in Madison Heights, Royal Oak and Ferndale, would be priced at three to five times its normal value, Barry said.

Ronchetti was manager and Levine an office worker at the loan company office when the alleged fraud took place in 1960, Barry said.

The other four operated the furniture and appliance stores, he said.

The Day in Birmingham

Experimental Road Signs Installed on Woodward

BIRMINGHAM — Two new experimental traffic signs have been installed on Woodward Avenue in Bloomfield Hills that are intended to reduce accidents at the Long Lake Road intersection.

The signs are a refinement of those set up a year ago when a driver was killed when his car hit a truck whose brakes failed on the hill north of the intersection.

The old signs, removed this week to make way for the more modern signs, indicated to drivers that the traffic light at the intersection was about to change by the flashing of amber lights.

The new devices, in addition to a flashing amber light, has lettering appearing reading "Prepare to Stop" when the traffic light at the bottom of the hills is about to change to red.

Motorists traveling the speed limit will find it is impossible to make the green light once the lettering and flashing lights appear.

The lettering fades out when drivers have ample time to move through the intersection.

The signs were installed by the Michigan State Highway Department. They are installed on both sides of the southbound lane.

ONE OF MANY

Samuel Levine, district traffic engineer for the highway department, said the signs were devised by the research division in Lansing "and are just two of the many things we are trying to do to cut accidents."

"This is first time this type of sign has been used in the state," Levine said.

The new signs are near the Woodward Avenue intersection, as were the former signs.

Bloomfield Hills High School has been accredited by the state on Michigan for a four-year period, following a recent survey made by the University of Michigan.

The four-year term is the longest period for which a school may be accredited.

They are Philip Skillman, president; John R. Chapman and T. W. Hay, vice presidents; William G. Secretary; and Richard Craig, treasurer.

N-Tipped Thor Is Blown Up

Deliberately Exploded on Pacific Launch Pad
Due to Malfunction

HONOLULU (AP) — A Thor booster rocket tipped with a nuclear device was deliberately blown up on its Johnston Island launch pad last night — marking the third failure in four tries to explode another high-altitude shot.

Joint Task Force 8 and the Atomic Energy Commission announced that, although the missile destruction caused pad fires, no one was injured and the blast caused no hazard from radioactivity.

Their statement said:

"A check of Johnston Island disclosed no injuries to personnel and no hazards from radioactivity as a result of the deliberate destruction and burning of a Thor booster and a nuclear device on the launch pad last night."

The AEC said "all missile fire have been extinguished."

Joint Task Force 8 in the test zone confirmed the Thor and the nuclear device was intended to lift and land deliberately destroyed, and that no one was injured.

Other than to say that there had been a malfunction, no information was made available as to what went wrong. If task force and AEC officials knew.

This was the first time in the high-altitude test series that a missile had been blown up on the launch pad itself.

Unit to Decide Classification of Hospital

The State Labor Mediation Board will investigate whether the Bloomfield Hospital is really a convalescent home.

The Hospital and Sunlighting Hospital Guild made the charge to law in Detroit during a hearing at which it was to challenge the hospital's status as a convalescent home.

The election was held at the Hospital property, 1200 Woodward Ave., Bloomfield Township.

The ballots will not be counted until after the investigation since different procedures apply to hospital and convalescent home elections, said mediation representative Hyman Parker of Detroit.

A new vote may be set if the hospital is really a convalescent home, he said.

Two Homes, Two Wives, Three Children

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—William E. Cobb, North Carolina's fishing, 40-year-old Republican state chairman, was exposed Wednesday night as a man who has been leading a double life.

The Charlotte Observer and the Roanoke (Va.) Times revealed in copyrighted stories that Cobb, a Morganston lumber dealer, maintains a home in Roanoke for a common-law wife and two children, while living in Morganston with his legal wife and an adopted son.

Cobb dictated a statement to Observer Editor C. A. (Pete) McKnight in which he admitted the double life, and said he would resign his party post immediately and withdrew as a GOP candidate for the state senate.

"All men make mistakes, and I would not want to say if this didn't happen, I made my mistake, and I'm responsible," he told the Observer.

YALE GRAD

Cobb, a dapper, dark-haired Yale graduate and Marine veteran of World War II, was elected chairman of the state GOP four years ago and promptly put party into a position of real challenge in an otherwise predominantly Democratic state.

Under his hard-driving leadership, the Republicans polled the highest vote for state candidates in its history in the 1960 elections.

Investigation by the two newspapers showed Cobb maintained a home in Roanoke under the name of W. Edward Cobb. There, he kept a girl identified only as Linda and two sons by her.

Finds Skin Diving Great Way to Relax

Ad Man Goes Down Under to Get Away From It All

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — Every now and then, every human being has the urge to get away from it all. Just what "it all" means varies from man to man. All it (it all) means is that some phase of the world is too much with you, and for this special weary or tense or angry moment, the condition most devoutly desired is aloneness.

Just when you feel that way, there is only one direction to go," said an expert on worldly disenchantment. "It is down."

The expert, John Tassos, was an advertising executive who learned that the best way to forget his problems was to emerge from Madison Avenue and submerge below the nearest body of water. In skin-diving gear, of course, he contended that skin diving is known as a sport for the adventurous and the bold, whereas it is in reality a paradise for the world-weary and the cynical.

"Underwater, you can just lie there amused and refreshed among the gentle monsters of the deep," he said, "making fools of the less gentle monsters of the human race."

Tassos began skin diving as a down again hooked with coach. The fish, frankly, were bored. Presently, the lines went up again and came down with silvers of mullet. I think by this time the fish were plain disgusted, having to duck the bait as they swam around."

Tassos grinned. "It was great fun, in my mood, visualizing the frustrations in the upper world when the anchor and lines were raised, and the fish and I were left alone — at last!"

FOUND TREASURE
As he gradually recovered from his lassitude about the world, Tassos began to get off his rocks and try new tricks. He uncovered a sunken treasure, collected shells, played audaciously with the patience of sharks, made friends with porpoises and often speared the lines were raised. They came his own dinner.

But then, after he went back to the advertising game and thought he was completely adjusted to business — as usual, he made the mistake of doing what all executives away from the office do — he had a short-wave phone system hooked into his headgear.

A grave mistake.
The world caught up with him again, and he stopped adventuring and now leads the sedentary submerged life: same phone, same short-fighting, same all but lovely rest.

"Now, once again, I just lie there," he said pleasantly. "I don't even have to knock myself out to look at fish, because they're curious by nature. Sooner or later they'll swim up to look at me."

Tassos conceded there was only one danger with the lovely underwater life, and that is it occasionally gets lonely. Until the scientist train porpoises to talk gooding his 3-year-old daughter to wear a mask and flippers in the bath. English, it'll always be so. But our boy has a solution. When tub.

U.S. Officials See Mounting Red Drive in S. Viet Nam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer
WASHINGTON — U.S. officials anticipate a mounting Communist guerrilla offensive in South Viet Nam in the next 60 or 80 days.

Informants said today Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was told at his Honolulu conferences that it is highly possible the Red Viet Cong will step up their attacks to counter increasing pressure from U.S.-supported government forces. American authorities, it was learned, also believe the Communists may become more aggressive as part of a drive to establish a rump regime in South Viet Nam.

OFFICIALS WORRIED
High U.S. officials are worried that the Communist North Vietnamese may try to follow a pattern like that which worked so successfully in neighboring Laos.

There, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels seized control of a portion of the country and organized a regime which challenged the pro-Western government in Vientiane. Ultimately, the pro-Western government of Laos was ousted and replaced by a neutralist regime believed to lean leftward.

Informants familiar with the discussions in Honolulu early this week said the South Vietnamese forces will do their best to prevent the Communist Viet Cong

U.S. Caribbean Units Will Be Beefed Up

BALBOA, Canal Zone (AP)—U.S. military forces in the Caribbean will be beefed up by approximately 1,400 men over the next eight to ten months, command headquarters announced yesterday.

Officials declined to discuss reasons for the increase or reveal the present strength of U.S. forces in the Caribbean.

The announcement said about 400 of the new recruits will be assigned to the Army, 400 to the 15th Naval District and 150 to the Air Force.

from consolidating in any sector. Admittedly, officials said, this will be difficult even with South Vietnamese troops being flown by U.S. helicopters into jungle and mountain areas where the Communists long have had free rein.

Garbage Men on Strike

Turkey's 1st in 30 Years
IZMIR, Turkey (AP)—Three hundred street cleaners and garbage men stopped work today in Izmir in Turkey's first formal strike in more than 30 years.

Despite a ban on strikes and lockouts, the sanitation men said they'll stay out until they get a raise and an eight-hour day. They claim they now work 16 hours for 40 cents a day.

The South Vietnamese army, it was reported, has increased its patrols along the jungle-covered Laotian border in recent months.

DEFINITE GAIN

Under this program, peasants are removed from areas where they are vulnerable to Communist coercion and resettled in protected towns within reach of South Vietnamese forces.

Authorities said there has been a definite gain toward greater political freedom for the peasants and that this has undercut a major Communist propaganda ploy.

Other Promising Signs Reported

McNamara was told the strategic hamlet program is moving ahead. Up to date, 2,000 of these new settlements have been built.

Many of them heavily fortified to stand off Communist attacks. The goal is to have 1,000 of these villages started by Jan. 1.

South Vietnamese forces are out looking for the Communists, where before they stayed close to fixed positions.

New South Vietnamese army units should be ready by Sept. 1, while drilling of the militia-like civil guard is ahead of schedule and the basic training of village self-defense units will be completed by the end of this year.

Confirms Two Judges

Peronists Plan to Honor Eva

Torchlight Parade Set Tonight to Mark 10th Anniversary of Death

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Followers of Juan D. Peron plan a torchlight parade to begin at 8:25 tonight, just 10 years from the moment when Eva Peron, one of the most powerful women of modern times, died of cancer.

The anniversary also will be marked with a round of masses and visits to the family plot in a Buenos Aires cemetery, but not to Eva's own grave. For the whereabouts of her body is a military secret.

BODY DISAPPEARED

Eva's body disappeared in the hectic days of the 1955 revolt, when the presidential mansion was razed as Peron fled into exile. Revolutionaries later found the coffin in a garret of the headquarters of the General Confederation of Labor, where Eva had wielded vast power over Argentina's workers.

The rebels whisked the coffin away, and to this day only a handful of military men know what was done with the remains. Ever since, Peronists have clamored for a return of the body for public burial.

DYNAMIC BLONDE

Eva, a dynamic blonde, was 33 years old when she died. In her few years beside Peron she had reigned as the dazzling half of one of history's most remarkable man and wife political teams.

Few of the weaker sex ever evoked such hatred for themselves or received such idolatry. In 1947, she made a grand tour of Europe, was received by Pope Pius XII and heads of government, and was hailed by the crowds.

Many now say that Juan Peron's fortunes began to slip with the death of "Evita"—Little Eva—as he called her.

Parachute Took Him Up

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Charles R. Nobava, 13, took out a war surplus parachute he had bought to let it fill up in the breeze. A gust of 30 to 35 miles per hour caught it and lifted him 20 feet to the roof of his house, then dragged him in to electric power lines where he hung suspended before dropping to the ground. He was treated for electric shock in the Naval Hospital at Portsmouth.

U.S. Giveaway Plan Now Extended to U.N.

It seems to us that the role of Santa Claus increasingly played by the United States in all sorts of domestic and foreign situations is now being extended to the United Nations.

That august body, born of high ideals in San Francisco in 1942, was then composed of 50 nations. At the beginning of 1962 it numbered 104; and of that total a sizeable number are nations in name only, poverty-stricken offshoots of once larger dominions or liberated mandates of established and dependable nations. Most are as yet in no way qualified for the responsibility and obligations of U.N. membership.

Since 1951, there have been 26 newly made nations from Africa alone admitted to the international organization, with two more awaiting the convocation of the next General Assembly to apply for membership—on which favorable action undoubtedly will be taken.

Neither country is self-supporting, and the per capita income is about $5—that's right, $5—per year. Until they were recently given their freedom from Belgium, that country had been contributing some $40 million annually to keep these impoverished countries in business.

With the United States contributing the lion's share of the administrative cost of United Nations and similarly underwriting its far-flung functions and commitments, it is plain folly that the two new candidates for membership should immediately acquire all the privileges thereof with respective voting rights equaling our own.

When, in addition, it is considered that 70 member nations have not bothered to pay their share of operations to the Congo and the Gaza Strip—largely supported by our funds—it seems most pertinent to wonder whether the abbreviation, "U.S." as related to our U.N. partnership shouldn't stand for Universal Sapi

Mass Confusion Reigns in Investigation Cases

With all the investigating going on in Washington, we wonder how identification of who is investigating whom is maintained. Maybe badges styled to distinguish between investigators from those being investigated should be adopted.

A case in point is the long-run Senate investigation of Billie Sol Estes and the fact that Senator John McClellan's investigating Subcommittee seems presently less concerned with the peccadilloes of the Texas adventurer than with the ineptitude and confusion coming to light in certain areas of the Department of Agriculture.

Counsel for the subcommittee asserts that programs have been added piecemeal to the department over its 100-year existence with no overall organization plan, and that they have been administered in the same way, adding apropos the Estes case, "A system that permits inefficiency encourages dishonesty, and some of the facts developed are hard to explain merely on the basis of inefficiency."

One glaring example uncovered is the inadequate, or even lack of, communications among the Department's Washington, state and county offices—even within national headquarters itself.

Internal audit groups to the number of eleven stumble over each other in compounding confusion, each reporting to a different agency head, with little interest in what goes on outside their own narrow spheres. And two separate investigations of Estes went on for weeks without either knowing of the activity of the other.

Material relative to the case was found in 16 different Department offices, with one of the investigative team commenting wearily that at that point it was doubtful if all the documents pertinent to BILLIE SOL ESTES had been uncovered.

It appears that the Department of Agriculture believes not only in not letting its left hand know what its right is doing, but in keeping hidden what both hands are doing.

The Man About Town

Not Fur Fetched A New Look in Tails Brings Squirrel Tales

By HOWARD W. HELDENBRAND
"Tails are really flourishing on the squirrel-tail front—or back, if you're going to split hairs. Not long ago, a lady on the west side reported a squirrel with an all-white tail that had emerged from the squirrel, talking to themselves. Now comes further addenda to the tale from

Mrs. Eunice Harroon of 59 McKinley Drive—in fact, two different tails. One was that she had a half dozen pictures of a young but fully grown squirrel that also had an all-white tail—17 to 18 running inches of it. It has been around for a couple of weeks and seemed to have emerged from nearby Oak Park Cemetery. Probably things were too quiet for him there. . . . Anyhow, a few days later, she saw another squirrel with an old-colored tailpiece. This one was about the same length as the first, but was white only at the tip and close to the chinch.

The MAT thought it was just the same squirrel, probably a lady squirrel, with a different taildo, but my informant says NO—two squirrels.

All this sort of recalls one of Burl Ives' old ballads—"The Blue-Tailed Jay." In fact, he was going to suggest it as sort of theme song for the white-tailed saga—until a better idea hit. Since the original report came from the west side and the latest from the east, why not "East Side, West Side, All Around the Town?"

From Old Farmer's Almanac on weather for rest of month:
Sky's high, sky's low.
Horizons are near.
Means rain, dear.

John G. Lewis of 145 Oswego Drive, wondered if anybody has noticed that Washington Junior High School is a replica of Independence Hall.
The MAT took a look at Washington Junior, but it is so long since he's seen Independence Hall a comparison isn't easy. . . . It is a man's opinion that The Press might well dispatch him to Philadelphia for a fresh look—even though there's nothing very fresh to look at in Philadelphia.

There has been some little interest among column readers on early Pontiac city directories. One of 1898 was reported, and a prior one covering 1870-71. Now comes a blockbuster (for those who came in late, a "blockbuster" was considered the ultimate in destructive bombs) from John D. Millie of 205 Chippewa Road. His is an 1860-61 book covering both Pontiac and Flint and was published by Loomis & Talbot.

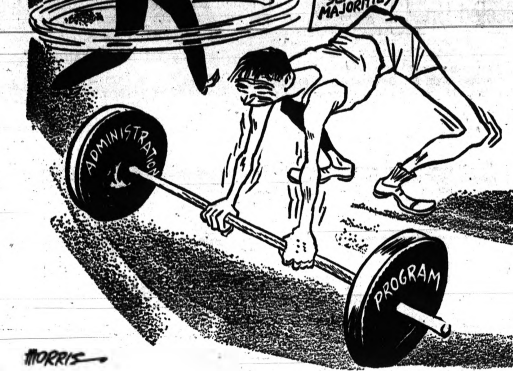

An added bit of interest is contained in a newspaper clipping pasted inside the cover that Henry Ford had acquired it—thought to be the only one in existence—at an auction near Flint. Henry's high bid, sent in by mail, was for $25. (Gosh! You could have bought one of his cars for that. . . . And who remembers when the old Model-Ts were dubbed "The Lixies"?)

Says a Press staff member who insists on anonymity, an amusing thing about the recurring remark of friends "that you look ten years younger," is that you didn't think you looked ten years older!

Leading into a talk on advertising based on a luncheon club recently, the speaker asserted that the former awareness of a child of five has increased to one of eight. . . . Good heavens! That's more awareness than grownups have.

David Lawrence Queried:

Sees No Chance for Disarmament

WASHINGTON — The "Soviet News Bulletin," which is published in each country by the Soviet embassies and legations, has now made public various replies sent out by the Moscow "Literary Gazette," in which this question was asked:

"Do you believe that general disarmament is possible now or in the nearest future?"

This writer received a request for his views on this question. It LAWRENCE was quoted in full:

"Replying to your request for my opinion as to whether disarmament is possible now or in the near future, I regret to say that I do not think it is. I say this because, to achieve any international agreement, it is necessary to have good faith on both sides.

"Unfortunately, the record of the Soviet government in breaking agreements repeatedly makes it possible now or in the near future that a disarmament agreement would not be worth the paper on which it is written.

"We in America also find it difficult to accept the word of a government which does not believe in God, and which, in our judgment, doesn't believe in morality.

"Disarmament will be achieved only when there is good faith, and this cannot happen until there is a decided change in the attitude of the Communist government toward its pledges and written words.

"We believe that if the people of the Soviet Union had a free government and elected their officials in free elections, progress could be made toward the establishment of good faith and mutual trust."

Here is the verbatim comment as distributed by the "Soviet News Bulletin":

"The answer of David Lawrence, an opponent of disarmament, deserves the attention of broad sections of readers—even though it is permeated with fierce malice against our country. Indeed, it is the frank statement of the position of U.S. influential circles. They are against disarmament.

"They are for the preservation of international tension and the armaments race, which not only brings tremendous profits to the United States monopolies, but help them to enslave the underdeveloped countries in Latin America, Asia, Europe. . . .

"Rejecting the idea of general disarmament, Mr. Lawrence advances 'conditions' on which he believes disarmament is possible. 1. No total brushing. 2. Gentle washing of mouth with warm solution of boracic acid—level teaspoonful to the pint of water. If this is not agreeable, use warm soap solution, plain toilet soap and water, twisted around and between the teeth.

3. Touch the sore with mild (2 per cent) tincture of iodine once a day.

Good sores, fever blisters, and herpes begin with tingling or burning and, after an hour or two, an eruption of minute vesicles or blisters on a fleshy area of the lip, cheek or other location. The vesicles break and form a crust. Under this crust healing occurs without scar.

Voice of the People:

Writer Clarifies Her Stand on Keeping Patients Alive

In reading the letters by Mary Ann Kitt and "L.D." I feel that I must defend myself.

The controversy was whether a doctor has the right to keep a patient alive, with an incurable disease in a coma, when the doctor knows there is no hope. Should the patient live another two or three weeks in a coma or should he keep the patient as comfortable as possible until the end?

I never said that any doctor should have the right to "put a patient to sleep" and I would not be a good nurse for 25 years if I had any such idea. I do not believe that God lets people suffer "for a reason." I wonder how many patients suffering pain and agony Mary Ann has stood over and how much help she gained by it.

God does not take us quickly at all times. I do not believe that when a patient has an incurable disease and is in a coma with no hope, that they should not be given intravenous feedings just to keep them alive a few more weeks.

I believe in using drugs, dying patients to test that drug but not to keep the patient alive in order to test that drug. I want it distinctly understood I do not believe in mercy killing, just in keeping a patient comfortable until the end.

Dems Cheer, GOP Blasts Swainson's Speech

LANSING, Mich. — Democrats jumped to their feet and applauded lustily after Gov. Swainson finished delivering his special message on Senate reapportionment to a joint session of the legislature yesterday.

Republican lawmakers rose reluctantly out of respect for the office.

Minutes after, the GOP senators and representatives were tearing apart the speech in which Swainson urged fast compliance

AMBASSADOR LOEB

Envoy to Peru Returns to U.S.

Will Report to Kennedy; Accused of Heightening Misunderstanding

LIMA, Peru (AP)—U.S. Ambassador James Loeb took off for Washington today to report on the military seizure of power, and the junta made it clear it was glad to see him leave Peru.

A statement labeled semi-official but emanating from the foreign ministry said Loeb's departure would tend to ease "existing tension between the two countries." It accused him of helping to create "a climate of misunderstanding in Washington," which cut off aid to Peru after the military's coup last week.

Asked about the charges, Loeb told newsmen at the airport, "I have heard about the statement and the foreign ministry will deny it." He said he hoped to return to Lima after he reports personally to President Kennedy.

DEMONSTRATION
Police Wednesday night broke up a demonstration of 500 students protesting the overthrow of President Manuel Prado and shouting "down with dictatorship." The rally was addressed by speakers identified as members of the leftist, but anti-Communist, American Popular Revolutionary Alliance.

In Caracas, the Venezuelan foreign ministry said eight nations out of a required 11 have now asked for a hemisphere meeting of foreign ministers to protest the coup in Peru. The ministry said Ecuador and Salvador have joined Venezuela, Colombia, Costa Rica, Honduras, Panama and the Dominican Republic in demands for the meeting. It added that Guatemala was seriously studying the proposal.

In Rio de Janeiro, however, a spokesman for the Brazilian foreign ministry said Brazil opposes the hemisphere meeting because it would smack of intervention in Peruvian affairs.

with the State Supreme Court directive to redistrict the Senate.

"That was Gus Scholle's No. 1 puppet telling the people what Scholle told me to say — that the only districting he will approve is one based 100 per cent on a population basis," was a typical part comment.

This was from Sen. Paul C. Younger, R-Lansing, one of the group of three senators appealing the ruling of the Michigan court to the U.S. Supreme Court.

At least five senators ignored the governor's address completely. Those remaining in their own chamber during delivery of the special message yesterday afternoon were Sens. Charles R. Feenstra of Grand Rapids, Clarence F. Gruebner of Saginaw, Clyde H. Geertings of Holland, Kent T. Lundgren of Menominee, and Elmer E. Porter of Blissfield, all Republicans.

The Democratic ovation, the polite patter of applause from Republicans and a good hand from visitors in the gallery added up to an impressive volume of sound in the House chamber.

"Some people might be disgruntled about the Supreme Court decision, but this shows the governor's great personal popularity," said Sen. Joseph J. Kowalski, House Democratic leader.

"He was very forthright," said Kowalski, "in pointing out the situation was based on an order of the U.S. Supreme Court — not on a whim or a fantasy of our court."

COURT ABSENT

Members of the State Supreme Court, who generally attend a governor's message in a body wearing black robes when the court is in session, were absent.

The usual invitation was extended but it was explained the justices did not appear because the court was not in session.

"I led the applause when I was announced," said Rep. Harry J. Phillips, R-Port Huron.

"One thing I'd like to ask is why the governor didn't introduce redistricting legislation while he was in the Senate. Or didn't he have the word from Gus Scholle then?"

"All we did was provide a forum for the governor to try to persuade the people," said Rep. Allison Green, R-Kingsford, House majority leader. "I don't think he did a very good job."

"It was a purely defensive speech," said Green. "There was nothing constructive. All he did was put forth some very weak arguments on why his political associates on the court have usurped the voice of the people of Michigan."

Sens. John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge and Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, the other two Republicans protesting the ruling to the federal court, also were unimpressed.

"The governor told us what he will approve, not necessarily what he will support," said Sen. J. D. Lancaster, gave Long a pleasant surprise — the ball from a no-hitter Long pitched in 1930.

Long's long of the replacement member: "I'm flabbergasted."

The average United States population per Congressional district is 400,000. This compares with 34,587 in 1950 and 122,614 in 1960.

"There was no need for the court's action and the governor gave no justification."

Rep. Don R. Fears, R-Buchanan, House speaker, said the governor was incorrect when he stated the court decision is now the law of the state.

Swainson did not take into consideration that the ruling is still subject to reversal by a higher court, he said.

"The reference to irresponsible attacks on the court might better not have been said," he added.

Several television stations taped the talk for later showing. The publicity given, the governor seemed to link several lawmakers.

"The governor called the session for the publicity he could get out of it," charged Sen. Harry Lilowich, R-Benton Harbor.

"He didn't make any proposals — just threatened a veto," objected Rep. Carroll C. Newton, R-Delton. "It just gave him a forum for television."

At least one Republican had a few kind words.

"It was a pretty good speech," appraised Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, R-Delton, chairman of the powerful House Taxation Committee. "There wasn't much in it you could quarrel with. You can't quarrel with a judicial decision."

Doctor Absolved in Child's Death

Canadian Jury Rules N.Y. Physician Did Best for Girl With Snake Bite

BRIDGEVILLE, Ont. (AP)—A five-man coroner's jury has absolved a visiting doctor from Scottville, N.Y., of any blame in the death last week of Nora Jean Armistead, 10, after she had been bitten by a rattlesnake.

The jury deliberated 45 minutes last night in deciding that the Greene Pointe, Mich., youngster died "due to the effects of a toxic poison contained within the fangs of the snake and the failure of the effects of those sustained by the bite of a rattlesnake," and adding:

"We attach no blame to any person or persons. Dr. Murphy is clearly vindicated, and we feel that his actions were taken in the best interests of the patient."

Dr. Gerald William Murphy of Scottville near Rochester, who was vacationing near the Armisteads in the Georgian Bay resort area, testified at a nine-hour hearing that he decided against treating the child with antivenom because he doubted whether she had been bitten by a snake.

The jury proposed that the antivenom serum—considered possibly dangerous by some doctors—should be administered even if there is some doubt about whether the patient has suffered a rattlesnake bite.

On the action of Dr. Murphy, who examined the girl twice in the 10 hours between the time she was bitten and her death, the jury stated:

"In view of press reports which may have left the impression that Dr. Murphy Jr., placed the consideration of his legal liability of practicing in Canada without a license above that of the patient, we wish to clearly vindicate his action."

"In our opinion, his every action was taken in the best interest of the patient as he diagnosed her condition."

Dr. Murphy testified during the hearing that he "honestly wasn't convinced that she had been bitten." He said his lack of a Canadian medical license did not hamper his efforts.

Seek Safe Rear Power Car Windows

By BEN FETZER

DETROIT — Power-operated tailgate windows for station wagons — convenience or menace?

This question was brought into sharp focus in Michigan this month when one child was strangled and another was rescued after being choked unconscious when his head was caught in the window.

Dr. Albert E. Howells, the state health commissioner, promptly issued an order mandating station wagons with automatic windows a potential child-killer and warned families against regarding station wagons "as a sort of mobile playpen."

The two Michigan accidents came within six days. First, Christopher Cavanagh, 2½-year-old son of Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, was found unconscious, his head jammed between the window glass and the upper frame in the rear of the family's new station wagon.

Young Cavanagh was revived and recovered after hospitalization, but medical authorities said the rescue occurred at almost the last possible moment.

Later the same week 3-year-old Terry Rohm of Lawrence died in a similar accident when help came too late.

She apparently had been playing alone in the rear of the wagon when she pushed or bumped the switch which brought the glass upward against her throat.

The problem, as pointed out by Dr. Howells, is that in most station wagons with automatic tailgate windows the ignition key is not required to operate the window.

ON 17 MODELS
Seventeen car lines include station wagons on which these automatic rear windows are optional equipment. On all but two (Oldsmobile and Olds 88) the window can be operated regardless of whether the ignition is on or off.

Some models have a single control for the window, located on the dashboard.

Thus, a child alone is not in danger.

danger. But, Dr. Howells says, "If two or more children are allowed to play in such a car, the window can become a blunt guillotine for one of them."

Other models, usually limited to nine-passenger wagons which use three seats, have a second window control located near the rear compartment.

Lawrence Nagler of American Motors Corp., chairman of the vehicle safety committee of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, said his group considered the problem the same week the accidents occurred.

"Each committee member agreed to go back to his own company for possible solutions," Nagler said. "Each came a little different system so it has to be worked out on an individual basis."

Neither American Motors nor Studebaker uses the rear power window.

Most auto manufacturers have agreed to feature as a convenience.

Nagler said one answer might be a type of clutch which would cut off the motor when force was applied against the window. "It has to be strong enough, however, to work the window when ice forms," he added.

The National Safety Council says fatal accidents involving the windows are rare enough that it does not keep statistics on them. "We have heard of three or four," a spokesman said.

Dr. Howells had this suggestion: "If you have little children, to be really safe, buy the model with hand-crank windows. The hazard is eliminated and the elbow grease may even do you some good."

Agree Nikita Should See Wall

West Berliners Don't Expect Invitation to Be Accepted

BERLIN (UPI)—The West Berlin press and the man-in-the-street today endorsed the suggestion by two American newspaper executives that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "come and have a look" at the city's antirefugee wall.

Berliners did not expect Khrushchev to accept the invitation, but they considered it a good idea that the man who ordered the wall constructed last Aug. 13 inspect his handwork.

Walker Stone, editor in chief of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, and Paul Miller, president of the Gannett Newspapers, sent Khrushchev an open letter Tuesday urging that he visit the Communist wall dividing Berlin.

They were among representatives of the American Society of Newspaper Editors who interviewed the Soviet Premier July 13 at the Kremlin.

West Berlin newspapers splashed the story on front pages.

"Visit Berlin, Americans Write Khrushchev," said one banner. "Khrushchev should look at the wall himself," read another. "U.S. Demand: Khrushchev on the Wall," was the headline in a third newspaper.

"Open Letter to Khrushchev: Go to the Wall!" was another banner. A fifth newspaper headlined: "Khrushchev to the Wall."

The newspapers reported Berliners interviewed by Miller and Stone said "Nein" to Khrushchev's proposals to remove American, British and French troops from West Berlin.

"Hats off to the Americans who invited Khrushchev to come," said Paul Kersten, 36, a salesman.

Ursula Marbach, 19-year-old waitress, said the Russian premier "probably will ignore the whole thing but there's a bare chance he might come."

Miller and Stone told Khrushchev "you have to see it (the wall) to believe it."

Monroe to Mark 150th Year Since War of 1812 Hit Area

MONROE (AP) — The battle cry "Remember the Raisin!" will be heard again Saturday as Monroe commemorates the 150th anniversary of the War of 1812.

Here, where in January 1813 at least 200 men were killed in battle or were massacred by the Indians and where 227 Americans were taken prisoner by the British, will be held an afternoon historical parade and program and a luncheon for invited guests.

Most of the troops who fought here Jan. 22 and 23, 1813, were Kentuckians and Adj. Gen. Arthur T. Lloyd of Louisville, Ky., will represent Kentucky's Gov. Bert T. Combs, a descendant of Gen. Leslie Combs who took part in that fatal battle of the River Raisin. Dr. Lewis Beeson, chairman of the Michigan Historical Commission, will represent Gov. Swalm.

Wayne C. Lockwood of Detroit, an authority on the War of 1812, will give the principal address in St. Mary's Park following the parade. Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., will pay tribute to Capt. John Simpson, a member of Congress from Kentucky who resigned his office in 1812 to take up arms against the British. Simpson died here.

One of the distinguished guests at the luncheon will be G. Glenn Clift, executive director of the Kentucky Historical Society and author of the book "Remember the Raisin."

TO BE WELCOMED

Barbara Smoot of Wyandotte, who has offered to swim the 20 miles or so from Fort Malden, Amherstburg, Ont., to Monroe, will be welcomed about a mile out in Lake Erie by Mayor Lawrence A. Frost.

The victorious British has driven their prisoners over the ice from Frenchtown (Monroe) to Fort Malden. Miss Simpson, who has been trained for a Detroit to Toledo swim in August, plans to follow this route in reverse Saturday. She will enter the Detroit River last night to arrive here at 10 a.m.

Highlights of the parade, scheduled to begin at 2 p.m., will be historical floats, a display of 122 replicas of famous flags and military marching units. Visitors will be taken on morning tours of the Enrico Fermi atomic power plant and the Historical Markers Trail and to the Monroe County Historical Museum and log cabin.

Saturday's observance is under the direction of the mayor's ceremonial commission headed by Herman Gertz.

The cigarette lighter is one of the largest users of electricity from the battery of a car.

PUMKIN HEAD — Five-year-old Paul Fuenning stands in the middle of his family's pumpkin patch in Phoenix, Ariz. The pumpkin patch containing some 350 square feet of vines happens to be in William Fuenning's front yard. Paul secretly planted some pumpkin seeds a teacher gave him and the 3-foot-high plants have engulfed the yard.

Pope John Lauds Telstar as Step in Peace Progress

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope John XXIII yesterday praised the Telstar satellite, saying it is an important step in peaceful scientific progress.

The head of the Roman Catholic Church spoke to 8,000 persons attending a general audience at his summer residence. He did not specifically name Telstar, but his reference was clear.

"Two days ago you heard voices from several countries and in several languages," he said. This, he added, was both a peaceful scientific advance and a proof of fraternity among peoples.

Pope John reportedly watched the telecasts exchanged between Europe and America Monday night.

Many of the forms and rules in parliamentary procedure in Britain date to the beginning of the 16th century or earlier.

New Laotian Premier Due in U. S. Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist premier of the new coalition government of Laos, arrives this afternoon for talks with President Kennedy and other officials on the future of his country.

Souvanna Phouma, chosen to preside over a cabinet of Communist, pro-Western and uncommitted officials, was flying from Geneva where representatives of 14 nations last Monday signed a pact guaranteeing the independence and neutrality of the tiny kingdom.

U.S., Russia Still Stalled on Disarmament After 15 Years

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — After 15 years of talking, hailing and squawking about disarmament, the result for the United States and Russia is still hash.

The nations seem to think this prolonged, fruitless and often tortured discussion is better than no discussion on the theory that as long as they're talking they're not fighting.

The trouble is that other events now unforeseen could put a critical end to this international gab-fest because, like the argument which began in a barroom and ended in a hospital, one thing led to another.

President Kennedy meets Friday with top advisers to see whether this country could soften its terms for a nuclear test ban treaty with Russia because it's a little easier now to detect a nuclear blast than it used to be.

Unless there's some agreement the end of testing is not in sight. Last fall the Russians broke a voluntary test ban and resumed testing. Not to be outdone, the United States some weeks ago resumed testing and is still at it.

Now the Russians say they must have some more tests.

This week at Geneva Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko talked again about a Berlin settlement and again sound up with nothing to show except a repetition of their unyielding positions. Yet there seems to be a feeling in the West that the Russians may soon create a new crisis over the German city which they literally split in half last August with a wall between East and West Berlin.

Premier Khrushchev has been on a get-the-boys-home kick, meaning he wants the Western powers to get their troops out of West Berlin. The American position can be summed up in two words: Fat chance.

Two American editors, who recently interviewed Khrushchev, trudged around West Berlin asking people how they felt about withdrawal of Western troops. Then they wrote Khrushchev a letter about it. They told him the people said no.

This isn't likely to influence the Russian but it is one more part of the long Berlin dialogue, a word, by the way, which is currently very popular in Washington and covers discussions on all kinds of things.

And while all this was going on there was another meeting in Geneva. This was the 17-nation disarmament conference, just as unproductive as anything else because the disputes which never get settled revolve around this: Inspection or no inspection.

The big nations which have been inhabiting the same planet for generations — and probably just because they have — don't trust one another.

LACK OF TRUST

None of them can feel particularly affronted by such mutual suspicion since there isn't one of the big nations whose own citizens trust the good sense and good intentions of one another. That's why they all have cops. When it comes to something like agreement on disarmament and nuclear test bans the American position toward Russia is and always has been: Let us see to make sure.

In short, the United States insists, before there's any disarmament, the big powers should have teams of inspectors on each other's territory to be sure there's no cheating.

The Russians have taken the position that foreign inspectors on Russian soil are just a bunch of peeping toms and want no part of them. That's the short of a long story which diplomats have been tormenting themselves with.

The United States doesn't need inspectors in Russia to detect above-ground nuclear explosions.

But until now the United States has been uncertain—unless it had inspectors there to check—how it could tell the difference between an earthquake and a Soviet underground blast on the sly.

Recently this country—through development of a project called Vela—has indicated a little more confidence in being able to distinguish at great distance the difference between an earthquake and a blast underground.

This is what Kennedy and his advisers are to talk about Friday, this and some other things, to decide whether this country could afford, in order to get a test ban agreement, to modify its inspection demands.

Approves 1st Translation of Luther's 'Catechism'

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — The American Lutheran Church has approved the first translation in contemporary English of Martin Luther's 430-year-old "Small Catechism," which is used in Lutheran Sunday Schools.

The new translation is called "A Handbook of Basic Christian Instruction for the family and the congregation."

Meteor Shield Sought for Spacecraft

By The Associated Press
Scientists and engineers are concerned with the cosmic shooting gallery, the earth's atmosphere, and insect perils:

BROODING GALLERY

Space is a great shooting gallery, what with meteors and cosmic debris zipping around at speeds up to 150,000 miles an hour.

A hit on a space ship could kill its occupants. So at McGill University in Montreal, scientists are reporting submitted by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council.

space shield which wouldn't crack under such impacts, and which also could withstand the hot gases generated if a meteor struck at such force and disintegrated.

They'll work with a special steel vacuum chamber, firing bullets into experimental shields at speeds of 20,000 to 50,000 miles an hour.

ATMOSPHERIC SECRETS

In the next 10 years, this country's research in the atmosphere sciences should be tripled, says a report submitted by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council.

It urges a bigger effort to understand atmospheric processes adequately, for therein lies the basis of sounder weather forecasts, and potentials for control of weather and man's environment.

The report to the Office of Science and Technology calls for a three-fold increase in scientific manpower and research funds at the universities' output of doctorates in the atmospheric sciences.

It also calls for a strengthened program in key universities, and more vigorous research and educational programs by government agencies.

INSECT ENEMY

The black widow spider has dropped out of the list of the top ten public enemies of the insect world, says the National Pest Control Association.

Some 25 years ago, this spider caused more human illness and deaths than now. The improvement is due largely to better sanitation and pest control methods.

Advances in medical treatment.

ment. The bite is fatal in about 5 per cent of untreated cases.

Black widow spider hangouts include basements, window wells, underneath lawn benches or porches, and garages, tool sheds, culverts, and rock and trash piles.

Stands Out in the Crowd

BIG CEDAR, Okla. — When President Kennedy visited this crossroads community, Mr. and Mrs. Jim London attended with their young daughter. To keep her from getting lost in the crowd they tied a gas-filled balloon to her belt so they could locate her if she wandered away.

PONTIAC, MICHIGAN

PROPOSED SCHOOL.—Construction of the East Farmington Junior High is expected to begin late next month and to be ready for occupancy by September, 1963. The Farmington School District facility will have an enrollment capacity of 630 students. It will be built on a 23-acre site on the east side of Middle Belt Road between 10 and 11-Mile roads. The $1.1-million school was designed by the Birmingham architectural firm of Linn Smith Associates, Inc., and will be financed with funds approved by voters last November.

Black, White Show to Open Tomorrow

ANN ARBOR 10 — Billed as the largest of its kind in the nation, the annual Michigan State Black and White (Holstein cattle) Show will open near here tomorrow.

More than 300 of Michigan's top Holstein breeders will converge on the Farm Council Rural Activities Center south of Ann Arbor. The show is sponsored by the American Dairy Association and the Michigan Holstein-Friesian Association.

Oakland County's Black and White showmanship champion, Bill Hutchins, 19, of Avon Township, plans to enter his winning heifer in the state event. Hutchins won the showmanship award in the county last Saturday, along with three other top prizes.

Couple Lives in Ypsilanti

Vows Said at St. Patrick

UNION LAKE — Reading in Ypsilanti following their recent exchange of vows at St. Patrick's Catholic Church are Mr. and Mrs. William Bosmer. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Raymond Schlinkert.

The bride, the former Sally Elma Rothli, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Rothli of 1221 Williams Lake Road.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bosmer of Dearborn.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of nylon organza with draped train, featuring short gathered sleeves. The bodice and front panel was trimmed with Alençon lace.

Her short bouffant veil was attached to a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of white roses, chrysanthemums, Stephanotis and fern.

Linda Faust of Ypsilanti was the maid of honor and the bridesmaid was Sandra Wilcox of Dundee. Junior bridesmaids were Anne-Lise Persson of Union Lake, cousin of the bride, and JoAnn Bosmer of Dearborn, sister of the bridegroom.

The best man was Larry Liberty of Dearborn. The 300 guests were seated by Michael Lamb of Dearborn and Michael Bosmer of Dearborn, the bridegroom's brother.

JC Seat Belt Project Successful in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — The recent seat belt clinic sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce was termed highly successful and a second clinic may be scheduled.

School Planner Quits

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Anthony Antonicelli resigned Wednesday as planner of Detroit's $30-million school building program to become director of Planning and Architecture for the University of the State of New York Construction Fund Authority.

'MSU's Future Bright in Agricultural Field'

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State University agricultural spokesmen marked the centennial of the land grant institution this year by predicting a strong future for its participation in the field during the coming decade.

Thomas K. Cowden, MSU's dean of the college of agriculture, said the university unit he heads will become one of the nation's foremost training and research centers for agricultural science in the next 10 years.

"Michigan State should rank not only with the good ones in land grant institutions but be among the very best two or three in the country," Cowden said.

The local institution's work in the past, especially its concentration on agricultural research and extension programs, has been "unique," the MSU dean said.

"Less than one-fifth of our (college) funds are used for instruction in degree programs," he said. Research and the off-campus program of the cooperative extension service reaching into every Michigan county give MSU the only college activities aimed at rural degrees and seventh in doctoral degrees awarded.

Cowden cited the university's short-course program and the annual Farmer's Week as other major contributions to the state.

Looking ahead, Cowden forecast an even greater agricultural dependence on education and scientific research. "Fewer farmers with even greater efficiency may give us short-run surplus, but short-time adjustments should not bring about a crusade to curtail a dynamic agriculture."

"Our ability to produce is one of our greatest assets — one which may help insure world leadership," Cowden said.

The MSU dean said the future will see college programs take on more emphasis beyond producing food and fiber. "This does not mean, however, that we will abandon our obligations to provide answers for efficient production."

Cowden suggested that the areas of conservation, forestry, forest products and who use of the state's natural resources will be in the spotlight.

New facilities are planned in the near future for students in the areas of forestry and conservation. MSU figures showed these departments account for more than 10 percent of the undergraduate enrollment in agriculture.

The firm name was derived from the first names of Fruehauf, his wife and their three children, all of which begin with "R." Fruehauf is a member of the Detroit truck-building family.

Gardner, formerly head of C.L.C. Trucking Co. which the new firm has taken over, is a graduate of Purdue University. Smith formerly owned the general contracting firm of Charlebois and Smith, Birmingham.

Monroe Youth Battles Waves

Swims to Get Help for Others Clinging to Overturned Boat

MONROE 10 — A 14-year-old boy swam more than five miles through rough Lake Erie waters yesterday to bring help for a fishing party clinging to an overturned boat.

James Bonis Sr., 32, his son, James Jr., 11, William Monday, 21, James R. Laney, 31, and Dennis Churchill, 14, all of Monroe, went on a fishing trip yesterday.

Their 14-foot boat was upset in a sudden squall in mid-afternoon.

Young Churchill, wearing one of the life preservers in the boat, fought his way toward shore through waves sheriff's deputies said reached four feet high.

Dennis, a member of the swimming team at his school, made it to shore after hours in the water. He was seen dragging himself ashore at the mouth of the Raisin River here. The Coast Guard was notified and a boat from Toledo went out to get the others.

ONE MISSING — The Bonis and Monday were found clinging to the boat, but Laney was missing. Survivors said he had left the boat shortly after Dennis and set out for shore.

Police said a passing motorist picked Laney up around 2:30 a.m. today. Laney was in good condition.

Still a Wilderness, Tired 10 Found Out

By The Associated Press — At least ten persons became lost in Michigan's forests Wednesday night.

All were found without harm. Five vacationers went for a walk near Maple Ridge Township in Alpena County. When they failed to return at dusk, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wyant of Arcadia, Ohio, went to look for them.

The Wyants found the missing five, but discovered that made seven lost.

State Police found them this morning.

Gypsy King Pays Over 3 Counties

IONIA (AP) — The self-styled "king of the gypsies" rescued three of his band from the clutches of the law yesterday, but had to pay out more than $1,000 in three counties to do it.

The king, Joe Miller of Toledo, arrived at Municipal court here for the trial of three "faith healers" accused of larceny against 83-year-old Chauncey Oiger of Belding.

Miller arranged for an attorney for the defendants, Koste Johnson, 31, and her parents, Pete and Nancy.

Oiger said the Johnsons bilked him of his $500 in life savings. Miller then paid Oiger that amount, and Oiger dropped his complaint.

Then the three were charged with assault and battery. They pleaded guilty to the assault charge and were fined $100 and costs. Miller stepped up and paid the fines.

At that point state police took the Johnsons to Barry County Jail in Hastings. Miller appeared there and reportedly paid more than $100 restitution in a case similar to Oiger's.

Then the Johnsons were taken to Charlotte, where Eaton County sheriff's officers said Miller made $125 restitution to an 84-year-old man whose complaint also was similar to Oiger's.

Little Lamb to Be Prize at Benedictine Festival

ADDITION TOWNSHIP — A small, Lake George Road owned by Mr. James festival featuring a prize of a 2-month-old lamb to someone who on sale at a booth. Proceeds will go toward support of the Benedictine monastery.

Scheduled for noon to 8 p.m. on the grounds of the Benedictine monastery at 2111 E. Draughton Road, the festival also will offer free hayrides, booths, games, races, refreshments and an Italian spaghetti dinner.

The lamb, named "Chuckle," was donated to the Benedictines for the festival by Rev. Arthur Krenthofer of the St. Augustine Lutheran monastery across the road.

Wagons for the hayrides will be provided by C. E. Webster, owner of Upland Hills Farm, 481 Lake George Road.

see, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Jesse, 735 Seymour Lake Road.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Arthur Mohrly of Richmond, Ky., and the late Hagan Lawson.

Rev. A. J. Baughy of Pontiac and Rev. Leslie D. Wilcox of Cincinnati officiated at the evening ceremony in the Madonnville Pilgrim Holiness Church.

The bride wore a floor length gown with a Peter Pan neckline and a lace bodice over tulle with sequined pearls scalloped at the waist line.

A chapel train extended from the tulle skirt and she carried a white orchid and Stephanotis on a white Bible.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ruby Bauer of Denver, Colo., the bride's sister.

Bridesmaids were Ellen Jesse, also a sister of the bride, and Virginia Hutchings, both of Oxford, and Mrs. Jack Dimber of Cincinnati.

Serving his brother as best man was Robby Lawson of Richmond, Ky. Seating the guests were Arnold Lockwood, Meredith Armour and Jack Dimber, all of Cincinnati.

Gets 90 Days in Jail for Attempted Theft

LEONARD E. SCHULTZ, 49, of 300 Shadywood St., Avon Township, was sentenced yesterday to 90 days in the Oakland County Jail for an attempted theft from the coin box in a Hazel Park laundromat.

Hazel Park Municipal Judge Robert C. Baldwin's sentence also included a $50 fine and $10 costs. Schultz, who has a landlady of his own in Ferndale, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to rob the Clean-Coin Laundromat July 14.

Council Slates Special Session

Wednesday Meeting Called to Hear From Engineers, Attorney

NOVI — Additional engineering and financing data will be provided the Village Council at a special meeting Wednesday before it makes a decision on the purchase of a privately owned water system.

Unless the village has established a water system, Detroit has informed officials it will not be able to provide water for the entire village in the future.

The private water system, which serves 350 houses in the Willowbrook subdivision has been offered to the village for $150,000 by developer Paul LeBost.

Village Manager Harold Ackley said the special meeting has been called to receive information from the village's consulting engineers, Johnson and Anderson, and Village Attorney Howard Bond in regards to financing methods.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Village Hall.

LeBost made his offer to the council earlier this month.

OFFERED FOR FREE — The water system has served the subdivision in the 10 Mile-Meadowbrook roads area since 1955.

Ackley said the system was offered free to the township years ago but it had to be turned down because the township did not have the facilities to operate and maintain it.

When the township refused to take over the system it was necessary for LeBost to establish his own water company, Ackley said.

He said that LeBost recently received permission from the state to expand the water system to serve 720 houses, providing that an overhead storage tank is used.

Once Novi gets Detroit water the Willowbrook wells would be abandoned and only the lines used, according to the Village manager.

Gets 90 Days in Jail for Attempted Theft

LEONARD E. SCHULTZ, 49, of 300 Shadywood St., Avon Township, was sentenced yesterday to 90 days in the Oakland County Jail for an attempted theft from the coin box in a Hazel Park laundromat.

Hazel Park Municipal Judge Robert C. Baldwin's sentence also included a $50 fine and $10 costs. Schultz, who has a landlady of his own in Ferndale, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to rob the Clean-Coin Laundromat July 14.

To Borrow for Schools

OAK PARK — The board of education here has received permission from the state Department of Public Instruction to borrow $400,000 against anticipated state school aid.

CAN ACCOMMODATE 1,000 STUDENTS — Clarkston High School shown in this aerial photo was built two years ago to accommodate 1,000 students. The four-grade high school is already nearing its capacity. An estimated 500 to 825 will be enrolled this fall. The school contains 40 classrooms, an auditorium, gymnasium, library and cafeteria. Facilities also include three laboratories, chemistry, biology and physics and a two-station shop for both wood and metal working instruction. The building is located on a 11-acre site bounded by Walden Road on the north and subdivisions on the three other sides. Also located on the large site are Clarkston Elementary School and the Board of Education building. Milford Mason is principal of the high school and Terry Thomas, assistant principal. The school has a total of 42 faculty members.

TV Star Files Suit in Arizona to Abort Pregnancy

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The pretty star of a children's television program filed suit Wednesday in the hope of gaining court permission to abort her three-month pregnancy.

Mrs. Robert L. Finkbine, 29, a Scottsdale, Ariz. resident, was laid up as a complication along with her husband and Good Samaritan Hospital.

Mrs. Finkbine is better known here as Sherri Chenen of station KTAR-TV's show, "Romper Room."

She discovered last week that she had taken in the early stages of her pregnancy had been linked with the births of thousands of malformed babies around the world.

MRS. ROBERT FINKBINE

PLAN HEARING

The suit, filed in Maricopa County Superior Court, stated "the total health of the plaintiff is such that the termination of her pregnancy is necessary for the preservation and saving of her life."

If the plaintiffs can prove this, an abortion would be legal. Arizona law allows abortion only when required to save the life of the prospective mother.

The suit also declares Mrs. Finkbine has taken a drug which will "adversely affect the development of the fetus and which will cause a child born of such pregnancy to be misshapen."

County Atty. Charles N. Roman, Arizona Atty. Gen. Robert Pickrel and Judge R. C. Stanford said they would try to hold a hearing on the matter by Friday. Roman and Pickrel are defendants. Hospital authorities said that if the case is delayed too long, and an abortion is approved, it might have to be by cesarean section.

Mrs. Finkbine, who appeared daily on her show until Wednesday, had been scheduled to enter the hospital Tuesday. But the hospital canceled the surgery until the question of its legality is settled. The suit also seeks to make it clear that the hospital's part in the operation would be legal.

Mrs. Finkbine said Wednesday she doesn't know how much more of the strain she can take. "I'm right on the verge of breaking down," she said. "I don't think I could stand up another six months of wondering about the baby."

Mrs. Finkbine, married to a high school teacher, has four healthy children. Her name had been kept secret until filing of the suit made it a matter of public record.

It was only five days ago that she read a newspaper article telling of the effects of thalidomide on thousands of infants in Germany, England, Canada and Australia. Then she remembered the music she had taken some sleeping pills has been withdrawn from the market in Europe.

Twin Brothers Parallel in High School Activities

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Kenneth and Dennis Robinson are twins, newly elected president and vice president of the senior class at McKinley high school where they are quarterbacks on the varsity football team.

The twins also play basketball and baseball. They wear similar clothing to school, but in different colors.

Empress Expects 2nd Child

By The Associated Press

Empress Farah of Iran is expecting her second baby next March, a royal court spokesman said Wednesday.

Her first child, Crown Prince Reza, will be 2 years old Oct. 31. He is the first son and heir to the throne of the shah.

ACCUSE PORTUGAL

The Ethiopian delegate to the United Nations, Teshaye Gebreyegzi, has accused Portugal of destroying "the soil and people of Mozambique," the Portuguese East African territory.

Speaking to the U.N. special committee on colonialism, Gebreyegzi said Wednesday that it should recommend immediate independence for Mozambique.

RECOGNIZES REDS

The New China News Agency quotes Pheng Phosav, Savan minister of interior of Laos, as saying his government "recognized the People's Republic of (Communist) China and there is only one China, not two."

The official Red Chinese agency dispatch, monitored in Tokyo, said the minister made the statement in a talk with leftist leaders in the former Laos rebel headquarters at Khang Khay.

RETURNING TO ENGLAND

The British Ambassador, Sir David Omsby-Gore, an old friend of President Kennedy, was a White House caller Wednesday.

The envoy is leaving Friday for home for a visit of several weeks and will consult with Prime Minister Macmillan and other British leaders.

He spent an hour and a quarter with the President and said afterward, "We discussed all the normal world problems."

NOTE OF WARNING

The dean of the Institute of Psychiatry at London University, Dr. David Davies, had a note of warning Wednesday for the jovial, cheerful fellow who is a good minister.

This type, he told the annual meeting of the British Medical Association in Belfast, Northern Ireland, "is more prone to alcoholic addiction because his habits take him more often to parties and bars."

India Seeking to Buy MIG21s

Also Desires Approval From Russians to Build Jets in Own Nation

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India has decided to open formal negotiations with the Soviet Union to buy and manufacture MIG21 jet fighter planes, authoritative sources said today.

Reports of the negotiating team will be reviewed by Prime Minister Nehru's cabinet before a final decision is made to close the deal, the sources added.

The negotiations will involve the possible purchase of two squadrons of the supersonic fighters and licensing to build more in India. The sources said the government has decided to send representatives to Moscow in August to discuss technical and financial aspects of the proposed deal.

Nehru and his chief ministers reportedly decided to open negotiations with the Soviets after another team had examined the supersonic jet fighter offered for sale by Britain in an effort to block an Indian-Soviet deal. The British fighter was considered unsuitable

Method Has Produced Many Successes

Group Projects Aid Mental Adjustment

By EDWARD J. MAREK (No. 2 of a 3-Part Series)
GRAND RAPIDS—Ten women of various ages from mid-30s to early 60s sit in a small makeshift classroom and watch a program of projected slides on current events.

"Who knows how to spell Canada?" asks a man operating the projector.

A grandmotherly type—with the enthusiasm of a schoolgirl—spells it without hesitation.

"Very good," is the man's compliment. "You have quite a file on Cape Canaveral and the astronauts, haven't you?" he asks, calling her by name.

In response, she smiles and produces a sheaf of newspaper clippings from a worn purse. The activity soon changes to an open discussion of dreams. The man is the moderator. One by one, four women discuss their dreams of the previous night, or of recent nights.

The talk switches next to gardening as a future group project, the date to be decided at their next meeting. Only a few declined to take part in the discussion.

The moderator is Herbert Start, adjunctive therapy director at Pine Rest Christian Hospital. His charges are long-term patients, many up to 20 and 25 years.

Their meetings are part of a rehabilitation program. The responses of some mark their first breakthrough in years.

"Our objective," says Start, "is to improve their hospital adjustment and life in general."

WHAT IS SOUGHT? Pine Rest's adjunctive therapy department was organized two years ago by Dr. Geline van Noord, superintendent. It has seven major goals toward utilizing the therapy of activities to the fullest.

Adjunctive therapy seeks: To afford the patient opportunities for the expression or sublimation of emotional needs and drives.

To provide an opportunity to assist in diagnosis and personality evaluation.

To establish a feeling that living with others is a less threatening, who suffer from emotional distress and forbidding experience. To develop tolerance and respect for individual needs and differences.

To facilitate normal interests and relationships.

To create an awareness that new patterns of behavior and relationships can be learned and to support and contribute to the effects of the total hospital staff in carrying out therapeutic objectives.

That's the technical answer. Adjunctive therapy is a way to gear the total 24-hour hospital environment to the needs of the patient. It ranges from hospital sessions to off-grounds activities.

Mental health experts see activities as a powerful force in rehabilitating those fishing, they attend concerts and in a niche in the wall built in 1891 has just been completed.

Speaking of the group of women whose meetings opened about 10 weeks ago, Start says:

"The current class might lose some because of dropouts. But in general, they seem to get a lot out of it. The next step is a move to a group help around the hospital."

"Their garden talk, for instance, is a step in the right direction."

Adjunctive therapy differs somewhat from occupational therapy which Start explains as "diversionary—or keep them busy" therapy.

For example, Start explains, members of the current group, despite their status as mental patients, "have gone to the Tulip Festival (at Holland), they've gone of four sidewalk gaslights plus one in a niche in the wall built in 1891

It's a sign of progress to note that they pass unnoticed in crowds or gatherings outside of Pine Rest.

The Whisky Came First
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The whisky industry in Kentucky is older than the state. Gen. George Rogers Clark "impressed a keg of whisky" for his soldiers in 1788. Kentucky gained statehood in 1792.

Just Getting Gaslight

Drowns in Jordan Lake

LAKE ODESSA (AP)—Elizabeth Ann Rush, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bush of Sumner, drowned in Jordan Lake near here after the apparently tell off a dock. Police said the girl had been vacationing with her family at a cottage in this Tonia County village.

Britain supplies over 50 per cent of all New Zealand imports.

Ecuador City Shaken by Earth Rumbles

QUITO, Ecuador (U-Ambato)—Capital of the Andes province of Tungurahua, was shaken earlier this week by a sharp earthquake followed by subterranean rumblings related dispatches from the city said yesterday. The quake was followed by two lesser shocks. Ambato's police headquarters was damaged but there were no reports of casualties.

Still Had Some Bugs

BALTIMORE (U)—In a famous Baltimore hospital, the eccentric behavior of a complex scientist machine had researchers puzzled. Then they found a cockroach in it.

American Team to Try Assault on Mt. Everest

WASHINGTON (U)—An attempt to plant the U.S. flag atop Mt. Everest, the world's mightiest mountain, is being planned for next year.

An 18-man team will carry out an extensive scientific research program in making the assault on the forbidding 29,028-foot peak, the National Geographic Society has announced.

The expedition next spring will be led by Norman G. Dyhrenfurth, Santa Monica, Calif., a participant in five other Himalayan and Alaskan explorations. Plans for the effort to scale Everest, conquered only once, were announced by Melville Bell Grosvenor, president of the society which will be a major backer of the expedition.

Seven major expeditions were defeated by the peak on the Nepal-Tibet border before the 1953 conquest by a British expedition led by Sir Edmund Hillary and Tenzing Norgay.

The American team is to make a two-week trial climb on Mt. Annapurna in Washington next September to test equipment and instruments and get in condition for the Everest assault.

The expedition will leave for Nepal next January where it will pick up some 30 Sherpa guides and 300 porters for the 175-mile march from Katmandu to the base camp.

Dr. William E. Sirt, a physiologist at the University of California at Berkeley, will be deputy leader of the expedition.

Ten tons of equipment must be carried to the base camp to back up the climbers as they climb Kumbur Glacier, traverse the high valley of the western cwm on the way to Everest's south col.

Along with research on glaciers, geology, meteorology and solar radiation, the team members themselves will be under study.

Men engaged in climbing the highest Himalayan peaks are a unique subject for a study," said Dr. Sirt.

"The state of stress induced by hypoxia (oxygen deficiency), and further aggravated by fatigue, cold, and dehydration, is probably more severe and sustained than the encountered in any other form of deliberate endeavor short of intensive combat," he added.

Challenges Tax on Road Building by Michigan

LANSING (U)—A Lansing contractor engaged in state and federal highway construction has filed suit in Ingham County Circuit Court seeking to halt a $24,000 use tax levy against his firm by the State Revenue Department.

L. A. Davidson of Lansing contends in the test case that the state assessment is illegal.

Davidson contends that since the federal government pays 90 per cent of interstate highway costs, a use tax against equipment and materials used in the work amounts to a tax by the state on the federal government in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

The tax sought by the state covers the years from 1955 through 1961.

Appointed by Governor to Compensation Board

LANSING (U)—Gov. Swainson yesterday announced the appointment of George H. Cholak of Detroit to the Workmen's Compensation Appeal Board to succeed Theodore P. Ryan of Lansing, resigned, for a term Feb. 1, 1967. Cholak, 36, is an attorney and a graduate of Wayne State University and the University of Michigan Law School. The appointment requires Senate confirmation.

Airline Dispute Seen— Precedent-Making Row

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Whenever technology makes possible manpower savings, it usually means one of two things—a breakdown in the flight between workers

News Analysis and the boss, or an accommodation to the change through compromise.

A choice as to which course to take is currently being made in the labor controversy plaguing major airlines—a perfect example of the pangs of progress.

It has puzzled some observers that Secretary of Labor Arthur J.
Goldberg and his aides have dropped practically all other duties and concentrated every day and many nights for weeks on the airline labor problem. They were on the job until 2 a.m. yesterday, when Goldberg announced an agreement between Pan American World Airways and its flight engineers.

BIG PRECEDENT

The answer is that President Kennedy's administration regards the airlines problem—as reflected in the present dispute—as a precedent-making situation, making the dispute the most important since Kennedy took office.

If other disputes over technological change are the airlines or the airlines' unions emerge a victor in a showdown fight over technological change, it is reasonable to assume others will try the same.

Triplets Boost Family Total to 12 Boys, 2 Girls

BOSTON (AP)—Triplets born last night to Mrs. Eileen Ruth Donaghy, 36, of Quincy, wife of a safety engineer, raised the number of their family to 12 boys and 2 girls.

"I was hoping for three girls," said the father, James E. Donaghy, 41, "but what can you do?"

The triplets were born at St.
Margaret's hospital in the Dorchester section of Boston at 10 p.m., 10:02 and 10:19. In order of arrival, they weighed 3 pounds 15 ounces; 4 pounds 6 ounces, and 4 pounds 3 ounces.

The hospital reported the triplets' condition today was good.

Similarly, if the airline differences can be successfully compromised—that is, if everyone involved shares the consequences as well as the benefits of reduced passenger requirements—that, too, can be an object lesson.

Much the same problem is involved in the so-called featherbed-ding problem on the railroads, wherein some 40,000 locomotive firemen face layoff as no longer necessary workmen.

MORE PROBLEMS

The rail situation could erupt in a major strike in October. Administration officials foresee a locomotive manpower displacement problem down the line.

That's the reason for the administration's preoccupation and settlement still is in doubt.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Now you're going to get yours!" screamed the suspected dope peddler, pointing a revolver at a federal narcotics agent and two city detectives in the back yard of a Spanish
Harlem tenement.

But the agent fired first Wednesday night, and Luis Rodriguez, 23, fell dead, a bullet in his heart.

Police said Rodriguez had a long record of narcotics arrests, and several packets of heroin were found on his body.
He was shot by federal agent John Gallagher, who had posed as a narcotics addict.

Three presidents of the United States have died on July 4. They were John Adams and Thomas Jefferson on the same day in 1826 and James Monroe in 1831.

Swim-at-Homes Are Increasing

By RAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

A sign of continuing prosperity is the fact that about one in every 100 U.S. homes now has a swimming pool.

If you are afraid of being poisoned, the safest foods you can eat are said to be hard-boiled eggs and coconuts in the shell.

Longevity tips: A healthologist suggests we would all probably live longer if we would break into tears more often in stead of suppressing our griefs and anger.

No wonder milk furs are so expensive. Furrier Mike Forest estimates it takes four tons of groceries to produce the pelts for a single coat.

Why doctors are so busy: The average American now sees a doctor about five times a year, almost twice as often as he did 30 years ago.

Our quotable notables: "When you have got an elephant by the hind legs and he is trying to run away. It's best to let him run."

There are about 26 trillion cells in the human body.

TOP TIPS: Somehow we doubt this: Jerome Riker of the Hotel Stanchape here says that, contrary to what you may have heard, women tip more than men do.

But we do believe this one: Middle-aged husbands, considering the miles they drive, have fewer accidents than middle-aged wives.

Household hint: A dab of cologne or perfume on an electric light bulb will sweeten the air of a room when you turn on the light.

Travel may broaden the mind—but it narrows the pocket book: The American Automobile Association now estimates the average couple on a motor trip spend $31 a day for food, lodging and fuel.

Brevity: A man living in Neuilly-Plaisance, France, is reported to have the shortest name in the world—Monsieur O.

An autumn or winter vacation now is the latest status symbol among top business executives.

More go on holiday than in summer.

The good old days: At the 1951 World's Fair in England the most popular exhibits from the United States featured chewing tobacco and false teeth.

High cost of government: It now costs taxpayers more than a million dollars an hour merely to pay the interest on our federal debt.

The Japanese have had more success in keeping down prices: Phone calls are three cents, but fares in Tokyo are four cents. And you can get a full-course steak dinner aboard a crack express train for about $1.35.

A lost convenience: Until the early 1900s, city directors here listed widows as such. Some be-

State Native to Rule on Reapportionment Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question is whether the Michigan Legislature must meet — or may ignore — the State Supreme Court's rigid Aug. 20 deadline for reapportionment of the State Senate.

The answer rests with U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart, a native of Jackson, Mich., who at 47 is the youngest member of the nation's highest tribunal, and whose background provides few clues to how he may rule.

Taking time out from his vacation, Justice Stewart will convene court Friday in a small upstairs room of the federal courthouse at Littleton, N.M.

There he will hear arguments on a motion, filed by Republican state senators who oppose Senate reapportionment, to stay execution of the State Supreme Court order which overturned existing Senate districts and ordered that they be revamped by Aug. 20 or an alternate election be held in November.

Stewart was appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court in 1958 by former President Eisenhower. He is generally considered a conservative but spurns the label of either major party, Republican or Democrat.

In his career as a jurist — which includes four years on the U.S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati before the high court appointment — he has been known as a "swing man" who may vote either with the conservative or liberal element on any given issue.

He is termed by his admirers as a "lawyer's judge," and he has described himself by saying, "I don't really know what I am; except that I'm still a lawyer."

Stewart is recognized as a firm believer in reliance on legal precedent in making decisions, but in two major rulings this year — both having to do with reapportionment — he has departed from established court precedent.

TENNESSEE CASE
One of these was the so-called Tennessee case, in which the U.S. Supreme Court held that state courts have the power to rule in cases concerning alleged malapportionment of legislatures.

Prior to this case, the high court had steered clear of what fellow Justice Felix Frankfurter described as "a political thicket."

In the Tennessee decision (which opened the way for the Michigan Supreme Court to consider and rule on state AFL-CIO President August Schoelle's reapportionment petition), Stewart wrote a concurring opinion.

In it, he made clear that the high court was not saying anything, as yet, about the merits of reapportionment disputes, but was simply taking the position that such issues are within court jurisdiction.

Justice Stewart was born in the Jackson home of his grandfather, N. S. Potter, former president of the Jackson City Bank & Trust Co. His wife, the former Mary Bertles, is a Grand Rapids native.

Stewart's father, James Garfield Stewart, was a prominent attorney in Cincinnati after the family moved there, served as mayor of that city and subsequently on the Ohio Supreme Court.

Potter Stewart attended Yale University, graduated cum laude and later studied international law at Cambridge University in England. In World War II, he spent three years as an officer aboard many ships.

BACKED TAFT, IKE
In Ohio politics, Stewart supported the late Sen. Robert A. Taft and backed him for the presidential nomination in 1948 and 1952. He ardently supported Eisenhower following his nomination by the GOP in 1952.

When appointed to the high court to succeed another titan, Justice Harold H. Burton, who retired, Stewart was described as a "political thicket."

Pay $225,000 to Free Four Captive Cubans
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban Prisoners F.A.M.I.L.I.A. Committee says $225,000 has been sent to Fidel Castro to ransom four men captured in the unsuccessful Bay of Pigs invasion.

The cash fines were paid to the Royal Bank of Canada in Montreal for transfer to the Cuban government's account, the group said last night.

Enrique Llausa, director of the committee, said his group acted as go-between for the four private families involved and that the families posted the ransom money demanded by Castro.

The committee is still seeking to raise approximately $60 million to free all of the captives.

JFK Pondering Cruise in Maine, Trip Out West

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy still is considering a cruise along the Maine coast the weekend of Aug. 11 and a "non-political" trip to the far West the following weekend, the White House said yesterday.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said that if there is a cruise, it will be only for the weekend, and "We are not going to remain until Aug. 15."

Aug. 15 is the date Kennedy has been invited to take part in the dedication of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Bridge between Lubec, Maine, and Campobello Island, New Brunswick. Salinger said, however, that there is some discussion of dedicating the bridge early on the morning of Aug. 13—a Monday.

Rush Agreement on Congo Issue

U. S. Officials Seek Early Move on Effort to Reunite Country

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration sought today to rush conclusion of agreement on a joint-European effort to force reintegration of mineral-rich Katanga into the central Congolese government.

Authorities said that on the basis of talks in Europe by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other U.S. leaders with European officials there was general agreement on the fundamental need for a unified Congo—but no full settlement on method.

"A few chinks remain to be filled before there is a united front," one source said.

President Kennedy held strategy talks late yesterday with Asst. Secretary of State for African Affairs G. Mennen Williams, and U.S. Ambassador to the Congo Edmund Gullion, who was revealed for consultations in connection with the move toward a show-down on the breakaway province.

Kennedy was reported to have been urged not to let remaining differences with Europeans deter application of economic pressures on Katanga President Moïse Tshombe's government.

But it was understood that any decision by Kennedy would hinge on a report from Rusk on his talks with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

Pint Box of Blueberries Goes Far

Pontiac Press Home-Editor

Blueberries seem to get bigger every year. There are some people who long for the old-time wild blueberries that they once used to pick. For us, we're satisfied with commercial growers and Mother Nature have joined forces to produce.

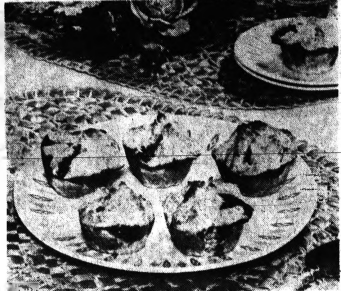

Blueberries can appear at any meal of the day. Serve them for breakfast as a fruit with milk or cream or with cereal. Serve them at lunch in a salad or in muffins. Serve them at dinner in the fruit cup, over ice cream or in pie. Serve them in any one of a multitude of ways.

Keep your blueberries in the refrigerator and don't wash them until you are ready to serve them. A pint will give you 4 to 6 servings.

Later on, you may want to freeze some of the local berries. In that way you can enjoy them all year. Right now let's talk about some new recipes.

Blueberry muffins are favorites whenever they are served. We have to ration the Teen-Agers when we make them or no one else would get any. Blueberry Pockets will probably make just as much of a hit. Biscuit dough is folded over a yummy blueberry filling to make little individual blueberry cobbles.

Blueberry Pockets
1 cup blueberries
2 tablespoons a and 1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 cup sifted enriched flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2/3 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/3 cup shortening
1 cup bite-size shredded wheat biscuits crushed to 1/2 cup

BLUEBERRY POCKETS — In the cool of a summer evening, serve delicious crunchy Blueberry Pockets while they are still warm. They're a very subtle extra flavor is due to crumbs of multi-flavored bite-size shredded biscuits.

BLUEBERRY CHERRY PIE FILLING — This may look like a strange way to bake a pie, but read on. This is a new method for freezing fruit pie fillings that promises convenience now and later, as well as delicious baked fruit desserts in the middle of winter.

1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
2 1/2 cup milk

Heat oven to (450 degrees).
Butter 12 muffin cups. Combine blueberries and 3 tablespoons sugar. Let stand.

Sift together flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, salt, baking powder, cinnamon and allspice. Mix in shortening until uniform. Stir in cereal crumbs and lemon peel. Add milk. Stir until mixture holds together. Knead lightly ten times on floured board. Roll or pat 1/4-inch thick. Cut into 3-inch squares.

Place dough squares over muffin cups. Fill with a heaping 1/2 teaspoon filling. Bring corners together. Press edges together lightly, letting biscuits gently drop into cups. Bake 20 minutes or until brown and bubbly. Yield: 12 pockets.

Most of you will make blueberry pie some time this summer. Here is a brand new way to serve blueberry pie filling in your freezer so that making a pie takes little time and no thawing. You freeze the filling in a foil lined piepan and store it wrapped in foil. When ready to bake, just insert the frozen filling into your pastry lined pan. Both cook at the same time.

With Michigan's bumper crop, you'll have plenty of cherries for this recipe. Make up a dozen while you're at it.

Freeze Blueberry-Cherry Pie
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca for a 9-inch pie, using favorite recipe. Roll half of pastry less than 1/4 inch thick. Line a 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge of rim. Roll remaining pastry 1/4 inch thick and cut several 2-inch slits or a fancy design near center.

Take filling from freezer. Remove lining from filling and set the frozen block of fruit into the pastry-lined pan. (Do not thaw.)

Dot filling with 1 tablespoon butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust. Quarter top crust on filling and trim, letting pastry extend 1/2 inch beyond rim. Press top and bottom crusts together on rim; then fold top crust under bottom crust. Flute edge.

Dot filling with 1 tablespoon butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust. Quarter top crust on filling and trim, letting pastry extend 1/2 inch beyond rim. Press top and bottom crusts together on rim; then fold top crust under bottom crust. Flute edge.

Pretty and Pink Is Rosy Eggnog

A whirl of the electric blender will transform the season's best strawberries into Rosy Eggnog. As the name implies, milk, egg and sugar go into the glass container of the blender along with the berries. The ingredient that distinguishes this eggnog from all others is one cup of California Port, an unusually good partner for strawberries.

This is a not-too-rich eggnog to be served as a mid-afternoon pick-up, or a meal in itself when the weather becomes too warm to eat. It is also delightfully refreshing for drop-in company in the evening, or as the pre-meal beverage for company brunch.

Rosy Eggnog
2 cups fresh strawberries
1 egg
1 cup rich milk
1/2 cup port wine
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt

Use well-chilled ingredients. Wash and hull berries. Measure all ingredients into glass container of electric blender. Cover and run at Hi Speed until well blended. Pour into chilled glasses. Garnish with a sprig of fresh mint, if desired. Serves 5 or 6.

Avocados 'Spread'
As a delectable "sauce-spread" for broiled steaks, burgers or meat loaf, mash a California avocado with a fork and blend in a dash Tabasco, prepared horseradish and lemon juice. Spread on meat just before serving.

Filled Melon Salad
Mix diced chicken (or flaked tuna), sliced almonds, crisp green grapes and chopped celery with mayonnaise. Season to taste.

and heap a mound in center of cantaloupe ring for each luncheon salad. If preparing salad mixture early, add almonds just before serving so they will keep their crispness.

Foil Wrap Beef Patties to Keep Out the Sand

Are you planning a picnic at the beach? To make sure the sand won't "season" your foods, the American Meat Institute suggests you serve supper-in-a-package.

Shape thick patties of ground beef, arrange each on a square of aluminum foil, top with a thick slice of tomato and onion. Season with salt and pepper, then wrap securely in foil. Carry to the picnic — one for each serving — and cook the unwrapped packages over glowing coals about 15 minutes to a side, turning once. Sandwich the picnicburgers in buns which have been carried along in their store wrappers.

Shish-Kebabs Probably Cooked Outside Always

A meal of Armenian heritage is the shish-kebab dinner. While traditionally made with lamb, this versatile dinner on a spear also can be made of beef or pork cut in cubes and marinated ahead of time. Best equipment is a set of six metal skewers complete with metal rack.

Thread the skewers with meat, tomato quarters, marinated mushrooms, parboiled onions, green pepper squares and small canned beets. The all-in-one meal, then grills over wood charcoal briquets. A fine dessert is almond pastry. Serve with strong coffee, the thick Turkish brew or your own favorite brand.

Blueberry Doughnuts
1 cup fresh cultivated blueberries
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/3 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted butter
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Wash fresh cultivated blueberries and let dry thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Beat eggs and milk together and stir into flour mixture. Add in butter and lemon rind. Fold in fresh blueberries.

Knead dough lightly. Roll out lightly about 1/4-inch thick on well-floured board.

Cut with a doughnut cutter and fry in deep hot fat (360 degrees). When doughnuts come to the top (about 5 minutes), turn and brown on the other side. Drain on brown paper and let cool about 1 hour. Serve plain or dusted with powdered sugar. Makes about 2 dozen.

Experts Answer Questions About Sandwiches, Bread, Cake

Q—Can I freeze sandwiches and sandwich loaves?

A—Yes, but at a sacrifice to palatability. Even after 3 days of freezer storage, frozen sandwiches cannot compare with freshly made ones. Although all breads freeze satisfactorily, few fillings recover favorably from the frozen state. Some ingredients, used alone, can be recommended—cooked meat, peanut butter, and blue cheese. However, when mayonnaise or salad dressing is used, freezing is fatal to these fillings. Chopped, sliced or grated fresh vegetables do not freeze satisfactorily. Sandwiches for freezing should be wrapped, singly, in moisture-vapor proof paper, tightly sealed, and labeled as to variety.

Q—May I have a suggestion for a sandwich filling which does freeze satisfactorily?
A—Try this sweet-savory Pineapple-Ham Filling. For filling 12 sandwiches: Combine 1½ cups of 1 (12-ounce) can chopped ham, ground, 2½ cups of 1 (8-ounce) can drained, crushed pineapple, ¼ cup brown sugar, and 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish. Spread between slices of buttered bread of any variety. (A protective coating of any variety. (A protective coating of butter will prevent fillings from soaking into the bread.)

Q—Can stale bread be freshened by freezing?
A—No. Only the memory of a baker's fresh and fragrant loaf can linger on, once it has staled. When removed from the freezer, bread will be as fresh or as stale as when it was placed there. If stored at 0 degrees F., the ideal bread storage temperature.

Q—How can I estimate the number of bread loaves needed to make party sandwiches for a crowd?
A—It depends somewhat upon your guests and their appetites, but those who have made sandwiches say this: First divide the number of invited guests by 6. The answer is the number of loaves of 1-pound, sliced, baked bread needed. If sandwich loaves are to be used, multiply the guest list by 3, then divide by 32.

STORAGE STORY . . .
Q—Can bread be stored in the refrigerator?

A—Yes, but it is well to be aware of both the advantages and disadvantages. Refrigerating bread retards mold growth, especially during hot weather. But the longer the refrigeration period, the firmer the bread becomes. Refrigeration temperatures also step up staling. Whether stored in a bread box, refrigerator, or freezer, wrapped bread or packaged rolls should be left in original wrappers. Bread purchased unwrapped should be wrapped in a moisture-resistant bag before storing, with the exception of hard or crisp-crusted bread. These products are best when eaten fresh and do not refrigerate or freeze satisfactorily.

Q—What is the best way to keep a bread box clean?

A—All storage containers should be thoroughly washed, weekly. Baking soda dissolved in warm water is the preferred agent for odorless cleaning. The unit should be dried well, including all joinings, and it should be free of crumbs.

Any remaining moisture or crumbs may activate mold growth.

Q—What is the best way to cut a round, 3-layer wedding cake?

A—Proceed from the bottom layer up. To ease serving: With tip of knife, make a circular cut around the complete base of second layer, cutting through bottom layer. Cut vertically (from the circular cut outward) and remove servings (in modified wedge shape) from cake. Next, cut the second layer in the same manner as bottom layer—making a circular cut at the base of the top layer and cutting the slices vertically. When pieces from the second layer have been served, return to the bottom layer and proceed, in original manner, to cut the now-exposed portion of this layer. The remaining center of the tiers are cut into wedges, cutting one layer at a time. (The top layer is usually removed, as a memento for the bride.)

Q—Is there a preferred method for cutting a jelly roll?

A—Forgo a knife and use a heavy white bread to slice cake rolls. Place a 15-inch piece under the cake roll where you want to slice it. Bring ends together, over top, cross thread and pull it quickly to cut through cake roll.

Ascorbic Acid Product Has Number of Uses

Although the art of food preparation has progressed rapidly since colonial days, the classic motivation behind new recipes remains unchanged—convenience, economy and, of course, sound nutrition. One means to this end is A-C-M, a balanced mixture of ascorbic acid (vitamin C), citric acid and sugar, all found naturally in foods.

Until quite recently, A-C-M has mainly been used to protect flavor and to stop fruit salads and desserts from turning brown on exposure to air. For years it has enjoyed growing acceptance in home freezing and in canning fresh fruits. Now, however, new uses for this versatile product have been found.

At the request of Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc. Home Economics Consultant Mabel Stegner recently completed extensive research aimed at exploring wider uses for A-C-M in menu planning. Her kitchen studies have shown that A-C-M can improve flavor and appearance in meats, poultry, sea food, salads, desserts and other foods.

The best of these dishes and directions for their preparation are contained in the newly-published A-C-M Recipe Book now available from Pfizer, a company whose association with the food industry goes back more than a century.

The colorful, attractively designed booklet contains 20 easy-to-follow recipes for such tempting, time-saving dishes as Easy Chicken Divan, Braised Liver, Sea Bass with Savory Sauce, Shrimp Mandarin Style, Molded Summer Salad and a variety of salads and desserts that can be quickly prepared and attractively served as crisp summertime fare.

Mrs. Stegner found that A-C-M not only adds a pleasantly piquant flavor to many foods but also improves the color and texture. In a recipe for strawberry ice cream topping, for example, the berries kept their bright red color and retained their firmness and flavor for hours when A-C-M was used. Thus it's possible for the efficient housewife to prepare desserts and salads well in advance and still serve them with orchard-fresh taste and appearance, a blessing on party days.

For a free copy of the new A-C-M Recipe Book write to Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., Dept. GM, 71 Union Ave., Brooklyn 6, N.Y.

Seafood Cooked Over Charcoal Is Excellent

Excellent seafoods to cook on skewers are shrimp, frozen scallops and fish sticks. Whole lobster or rock lobster tails can be placed directly on the cooking rack, slit side up, then turned over during the last few minutes of cooking.

Fish which won't skewer can be cooked in various ways. Since the flesh is delicate and flaky when done, you don't want a bite of it to fall into the fire. If you have a fine mesh cooking rack, rub it with cooking oil and place the fish on it to grill.

Some hamburger racks with long handles have rods spaced closely enough to permit grilling of small whole fish.

A popular West Coast method is to grill fish on chicken wire which has been rubbed with cooking oil. The wire helps support the fish on the cooking rack.

Whenever the fish is cooked directly over the cooking rack, you can gain extra savor by putting dampened hickory or apple chips on the briquet fire. The wood aroma of both charcoal and chips adds up to a wonderful flavor.

Gourmet Way to Serve Fresh Mushrooms

These mushrooms give a fillip to any menu. Serve them warm as soon as you make them or chill them overnight or longer before offering.

Rosetta's Mushrooms

1 pound mushrooms
1/2 cup salad oil
1 clove garlic (crushed)
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons water
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1/2 cup olive oil

Wipe mushrooms with a damp cloth. Quarter small mushrooms; halve medium or large ones and slice medium-thin so caps and stems are attached.

In a large (at least 10 inches) skillet, heat mushrooms and 1/2 cup salad oil over low heat; toss mushrooms to coat with oil. Cover and cook, stirring a few times just until mushrooms lose their raw look.

Meanwhile in a small bowl beat together with a fork or whisk the garlic, salt, mustard, sugar, water, vinegar and 1/2 cup olive oil; pour over cooked mushrooms in skillet; remove from heat and mix well. Serve at once or chill in a covered container. Makes 8 servings.

Marinate Meat Before Cooking

Kebabs cooked and served out-of-doors have several advantages—appetite appeal, meat and vegetables combined, all ready to serve—no carving to do. Just let your guests help themselves. Kebabs can be cooked with a portable grill at the seaside, in the woods, in a park or in your own back yard.

Texas Kebabs

1 1/2 lbs. sirloin steak, about 1-inch thick
1/2 cup cooking oil
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Dash Tabasco sauce
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 can (1 pound) whole onions
2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet
Cut steak in 1-inch cubes and place in mixing bowl. Blend together and add oil, garlic salt, lemon juice, Worcestershire, Tabasco, pepper and mustard. Stir to coat all pieces evenly. Let soak for about 3 hours, stirring around occasionally.

Drain onions and steak cubes well and thread on 4 skewers. Brush cubes all over with kitchen bouquet. Place on rack over glowing coals and let broil for about 30 minutes. Turn and allow to broil about 5 minutes longer, or to desired degree of doneness. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Bacon Bits Enhance Creamed Spinach

Spinach tastes delicious with these savory additions.

Savory Creamed Spinach
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen chopped spinach
4 strips bacon
1 clove garlic (minced)
1 medium onion (chopped fine)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
Salt and pepper to taste
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Cook spinach according to package directions; drain well. Fry bacon until crisp; drain. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the bacon drippings from the skillet; cook garlic and onion in the 2 tablespoons drippings until softened.

Add butter to onion mixture; stir to melt. Add milk; cook and stir until mixture is thick and smooth. Add spinach, salt, pepper, lemon rind and juice; reheat. Garnish with crumbled bacon. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Evaporated Milk Toppings for Spuds

Substitutes Very Well for Traditional Glob of Sour Cream

Center stage at outdoor barbecues, of course, is the meat. But when you add potatoes, baked in foil on the hot coals, delightfully accented with zesty Grilled Potato Topping, you have a real scene stealer! The thick, fluffy dressing has that superb sour-cream flavor, yet it's made with handy evaporated milk, soured with lemon juice. Topped with snipped chives, parmesan cheese or parsley, the potatoes have a perfect partner.

The zesty topping is easily made. Simply soften cream cheese and add garlic salt, lemon juice and evaporated milk. Double-rich evaporated milk, soured with lemon juice, gives that sour-cream tang. Bits of crisply fried bacon add snuggly hot potatoes and offer guests a choice of chives, parmesan, cheese or parsley for the finishing touch.

Grilled Potato Topping
4 slices crisply fried bacon, (finely crumbled)
2 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 cup evaporated milk
4 medium sized baked potatoes. Have crumbled bacon ready. Put softened cream cheese, lemon juice and garlic salt into a 1-quart bowl. Add evaporated milk gradually, mixing until smooth. Each time. Stir in bacon. Spoon into slit, baked potatoes. Top with grated cheese, finely cut chives or parsley before serving.

Protect the Grill From Elements Year Around

Now that many families cook all year, experts recommend a number of simple methods for protecting the outdoor grill against rain or snow when not in use.

A waterproof canvas covering is one good method. Clear plastic coverings of the plexiglass type are lightweight and easy to handle; excess rain or snow should be shaken off.

A pre-fab utility building in the garden or patio can hold all winter barbecuing gear. These units are available in handsome finishes to blend with surroundings.

If outdoor cooking is in progress during a light drizzle or snow flurry, a length of foil over the cooking surface will shed moisture and retain the cooking heat of the wood charcoal briquet fire.

Chinese Food Moves Outside to Grill

A dinner in a Chinese mood is a welcome change from routine. Appetizers can be butterfly shrimp grilled over wood charcoal briquets. The main course is chicken grilled over charcoal and painted with a mixture of soy sauce and honey for deep color and flavor.

Rice cooked in the kitchen can be served in lacquer or china bowls on a tray near the hibachi or grill. Guests help themselves to a bowl of rice and servings of chicken, and add garnish from a platter of thinly sliced cucumbers, radishes, mushrooms and other salad foods. Melon and tea are a supremely good finale.

The lady dons the covered look for social dressing in Adele Simpson's "Invitation to Art" black tie collection for fall-winter 1962. The jewel necked waistline evening jacket of Brunori red velvet, trimmed in Spanish jet embroidery, tops a long black crepe evening sheath.

Dining with the "Tiffany" look of Evelyn Jablow's couture designs is exemplified in this chandelier comprised of chains and circles—stainless steel securing dangles of grey crystal.

Fall to Feature 'Precious' Look

Debut of fall '62 will spark a new "image" in the fashion whirl... the "precious" look...

An eye-opener in their own right, beaded hand embroidery on lavish ball gowns will dazzle even more, being set off by crystal chandeliers, like the ones by Evelyn Jablow, of the American Institute of Decorators.

As many grand fashion creations, the diminutive highlighters will lend an elegant new look to any room with their delicately dangling grey crystal drops.

Crystal beading against white chiffon creates quiet dazzle in this full-length white satin evening dress designed by Mollie Parnis for her fall

But Be Friendly — Abby

Tip Off Your Noisy Neighbors

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We live in a middle class neighborhood. We all own our own homes and work for a living.

We awaken about 6:30 or 7 a.m. except for one neighbor who lives next door to me. He is up watering his flowers or washing his car at 5:30. He moves into our property (right under my bedroom window) and sings or talks to his wife, who is in the house.

My husband works nights and doesn't get home until about 2 a.m. (which they know). What is the polite way to approach this problem? Or should we call in the law?

DISTURBED
DEAR DISTURBED: The "polite" approach is to call on them and tell them they are disturbing you.

If they are considerate, peace-loving neighbors like yourselves, they'll accommodate you and start their day an hour later.

If you want to "call in the law," you'll have to prove that 5:30 a.m. is an unreasonable hour to be up and at 'em. And that won't be easy.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is a 56-year-old widow. Dad left her comfortable but not wealthy. This past year she took a job to keep occupied. The past three months a married man ("family friend") has been coming by every morning to drive her to work. (His place of work is in the opposite direction.)

He also brings her home every evening. His name has come into her conversation frequently of late. Mother is a good woman but quite gullible.

I want her to keep her name clean. How can I tell her that even though there is probably nothing wrong, it looks bad?

MARRIED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: A mother-daughter talk is in order.

This time the daughter should recite the facts of life. Tell your mother that although the "family friend" may only furnish transportation, he could be taking her reputation for a ride.

DEAR ABBY: I'm surprised you didn't advise the girl who wanted so desperately to lose weight to join TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly). They have done wonders for me. Their pledge is:

"I am an intelligent person. I will control my emotions, not let my emotions control me. Every time I am tempted to use food to satisfy my frustrated desires, build up my injured ego or dull my senses, I will remember even though I occurred in private, my excess poundage is there for all the world to see what a fool I've been."

UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — The voice on the phone said, "This is Judy Joye. Want to know what I'm going to do next? Train whales."

"Train WHAT?" we asked. "Train whales. At the New York Aquarium," said Miss Joye, a successful skin diver and not so successful at the time when we first met a year ago when she was about to board feed to a shark for a television show.

She added that she also had just become the first woman ever permitted to go through the escape training program of the U.S. Naval Base at New London, Conn.

Later, Miss Joye, a tall, slim brunette in her 20s, came into the office to explain further about the whales and the submarine.

AT CONY ISLAND

It turned out she already had put on skin-diving equipment with an aqualing to supply her with oxygen while she was below the surface, and gone into a huge tank with three baby white whales at the aquarium at Cony Island.

It was all a part of a process of the aquarium's staff to condition the baby whales to the presence of people in the tank, said Dr. Carlton Ray, assistant curator. He said that Miss Joye was not a part of the regular staff training the whales; he and other aquarium personnel are doing that.

Miss Joye said that she understood some marine biologists believe that the whale is as intelligent, if not more so, than the dolphin. They've got a couple of pilot whales trained even to brush their teeth and then wash out their mouths.

It was at Marineland, near St. Augustine, Fla., that in March 1961 she fed a shark as part of a filmed television spectacular on life in the water. She expressed disappointment today that the act didn't come off quite as planned. Because of the hurry-up schedule of filming for the show, she didn't have time to spend several days in a tank getting sharks used to her presence.

SHARK NOT HUNGRY

She ended up on camera forcing a small shark to the "floor," holding a mallet under its nose only to find he wasn't hungry.

"So, I just pried his mouth open, shoved the mallet in his mouth," he got the idea. You might say I'm probably the only woman who's ever forced feed a shark."

She came away from the encounter with both hands intact.

Miss Joye, a native of Liberty, N.Y., has been skin diving since she first tried the sport on a vacation eight years ago at Acapulco, Mexico.

She has done some modeling, some acting in summer stock, on radio and television, and now has a panelist role on a late night radio network show. But increasingly, she devotes her time to skin diving, where the female competition is slim.

COLUMN ON DIVING

She writes a column on diving for Sportsman magazine, does free lance writing for other publications, and is in the midst of compiling a complete guide to diving to be published early next year by Prentice-Hall.

Research for the book took her first to Washington and the Pentagon to find how the military teaches survival in water. At the Pentagon, she asked for clearance for training at the Connecticut submarine base.

An admiral at the Pentagon wouldn't clear her, but he wrote the submarine base commander — "When an admiral writes another, it gets things done," she's decided.

She was accepted for classroom lectures and simulated emergency training, aboard a sub, provided she could pass the physical examination with accent on healthy lungs, would not interfere with regular training programs and would waive the U.S. government of all obligation for her safety.

She now has framed a certificate stating she was the first woman to have done the buoyant ascent — a means of that escape to the surface in case a submarine develops trouble — at the New London base.

Because of the air pressures to which the body is subject underwater, Miss Joye shows with pride — and a sense of humor — a letter from the commander of the U.S. Naval Medical Center at Groton, Conn., which cleared her medically for the training and added "the chest film has been reviewed here, with satisfactory findings . . ."

See Films of Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Herschovitz were guests of the Fashonette Club Tuesday evening in the Adah Shelly Library. Mr. Herschovitz showed films to the group. Mrs. Leslie Curtis, program helper, introduced the guests and arranged for the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Frank Reichert won the weekly trophy for losing the most weight which makes her the winner for the second week.

Mrs. Daniel Navarro will be in charge of next week's program. A ball game is planned along with other activities. The club, sponsored by Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation meets from 7 to 9 p.m. each Tuesday evening at the Adah Shelly Branch Library. Any woman who wishes to lose weight is eligible for membership.

Affection Takes Little Time

Wife Needs His Kisses

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE M-476: Bertha K. aged 51, has been married six years and has two youngsters. "I'm afraid we are headed for a divorce," she says sadly. "My husband and I are of such different temperaments. I come from a Southern family where affection and love were shown by kisses and embraces."

DR. CRANE

"For example, until I left home for college, I never failed to kiss mother and daddy goodnight. If relatives visited us, we always kissed."

"My father was very fond of my mother and held her on his lap on many occasions. I can well remember seeing him kiss her."

"Then I married my husband, who was a very successful young attorney. He had never been urgent about kissing me before marriage, but I thought that was due to his feeling that excessive petting should not occur before the wedding ceremony."

GRAVE AFFECTION
"Now, however, I have learned that he doesn't relish kisses. His home life was the very opposite of mine. He tells me, for example, that he can never remember seeing his father and mother kiss each other.

"Nor does he recall ever seeing them with an arm about each other. He says his mother only kissed him twice that he can remember."

"His this has grown up without developing what you call the habits of externalizing affection in kisses, embraces, and other symbolic evidences of love which wives desire."

"Dr. Crane, I can't live in this kind of environment. Either I must become cold and indifferent, which I'm afraid is impossible, or he must grow more affectionate. Do you think he is too old to change?"

EXTERNALIZED LOVE
If a man had grown up without learning the simple habit of brushing his teeth twice per day, would he then be too old to cultivate this excellent habit? Of course not!

Nor is a man of 30 or even 70, too old to realize that success in marriage depends upon cultivating those habits which promote harmony and in discouraging the others which disrupt it.

It is normal and natural for the average wife to crave affection from her husband, at least to the extent of kisses and fond embraces.

She also likes flowers or candy, birthday remembrances and other symbolic evidences of a husband's high regard for his wife.

It may seem unromantic for me to liken the habits of kissing and embracing a wife, to another social habit like brushing one's teeth, but I have done so advisedly.

Not all races of mankind express their attraction to each other by kisses or hugs. Some rub noses, for example. Many modern husbands think the fact they give their wives the weekly pay check should be sufficient external evidence of their regard and devotion.

WANT WORDS
Repeatedly I have warned you husbands, however, that women want variety and are especially desirous of words of praise and affection!

A professional man, such as Bertha's husband, must deliberately cultivate the social habits which are necessary to the success of his home.

A daily kiss or two, plus a fond embrace and an honest compliment for her, need not consume a total of five minutes per day, yet they are excellent insurance for a happy home.

It is folly to jeopardize a marriage, tear children apart from their parents, and publicly advertise your marital bankruptcy, when five minutes per day will avoid it. That's no longer than it takes to brush your teeth night and morning.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent postage self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

ing and embracing a wife, to another social habit like brushing one's teeth, but I have done so advisedly.

Not all races of mankind express their attraction to each other by kisses or hugs. Some rub noses, for example. Many modern husbands think the fact they give their wives the weekly pay check should be sufficient external evidence of their regard and devotion.

WANT WORDS
Repeatedly I have warned you husbands, however, that women want variety and are especially desirous of words of praise and affection!

A professional man, such as Bertha's husband, must deliberately cultivate the social habits which are necessary to the success of his home.

A daily kiss or two, plus a fond embrace and an honest compliment for her, need not consume a total of five minutes per day, yet they are excellent insurance for a happy home.

It is folly to jeopardize a marriage, tear children apart from their parents, and publicly advertise your marital bankruptcy, when five minutes per day will avoid it. That's no longer than it takes to brush your teeth night and morning.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent postage self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Meet in Moose Home

The Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 360, met at the Moose Home Sunday. The meeting was then turned over to the college of regents.

The class was in honor of Mrs. Richard Dawson, a new member of the college. Mrs. Harold Finn received her red tassel after a year as a member.

Prior to the open meeting a short business meeting was held during which Mrs. Finn was elected recording secretary. She will be installed at the next meeting on Aug. 6.

Miss Plouhar Feted

The Raymond Plouhars of Lakeview Drive announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Barbara Anne to Lynn T. Ealy, son of the Kenneth Ealys of Boston Avenue.

Mrs. Donald Preston of Silver Valley Drive, Orion Township, honored the bride-elect Tuesday evening at a personal shower.

Mrs. Fred Warren of Amherst, Ohio, attended her granddaughter's party, besides Mrs. Plouhar and Mrs. Ealy, mothers of the engaged couple. Sisters of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Herbert Gaeth, Mrs. Russell Grover and Jean Ealy, together with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Ealy, all of Waterford, joined some 30 other guests from the Pontiac area.

The First Christian Church has been reserved for the Aug. 25 nuptials.

Berry-Cook Rite

Judy Kay Cook and Joseph D. Berry exchanged wedding vows and rings before Rev. Edward J. DeKeyser at a nuptial Mass in St. Lawrence Catholic Church, Utica.

After an evening reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall, the couple left for Reading, Pa., and New York City. They will reside on Hartung Court.

Daughter of the Verlin Cooks of Utica, Road, Utica, the bride appeared in white silk organza over tulle, styled with long-sleeved bodice of Chantilly lace. Fabric roses accented the chapel train. Her veil of imported silk illusion fell from a wreath of roses and she carried white carnations, Stephanotis and ivy.

Attendants wearing floor-length blue chiffon, included maid of honor, Mrs. Paul Wetshar, who carried a basket of yellow daisies and bridesmaids Mrs. Max Ordway, Judy Borkowski and Judy Lemanski, all of Utica who carried baskets of white daisies.

The bridegroom, son of the Merle Berrys of Kemp Street, had Paul Wetshar for his best man. Ushers included Max Ordway, and William Wagner of Utica, and Robert Petruska.

Among out-of-town guests were the Bruce Gildersleeves, Shillington, Pa., the John Scheitlers, Sandusky, Mrs. Mose Cooper, Boyne City, the Charles Sautmanns, Orchard Lake, the Dean Berrys, Monticello, Ill., Mrs. Nellie Woods and Lee Krieg, Chicago; the David Timbrooks, Northville; the Gerald Aligs, Madison Height; and the Don Stammers, Inkster. Mrs. John Lock, Keego Harbor, entertained the bride at a recent shower.

Edward Jenner, English physician and originator of the inoculation with the cowpox virus to immunize against smallpox, first demonstrated his method in 1796 on James Phipps.

Just Off Green? Try Your Putter

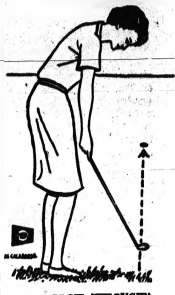

BY SANDRA HAYNIE
Written for NEA

When your ball is just off the green on a smooth approach or the approach, it usually is advisable to putt. It depends on your lie, the distance from the hole — and your own confidence.

If your ball is in deep grass or has an uphill lie, it probably would be best to chip or pitch. Undulations or hazards between the ball and the pin may rule out putting in favor of the air route to the cup.

FEEL CONFIDENT
After taking everything into consideration, if you have confidence you can reach the hole with your putter, use it.

If you do putt from off the green, some shoulder action-regulated by the distance your ball must travel — could prove helpful.

"FOLLOW THROUGH"

Tell Guests Mother Ill, No Smoking

By the Emily Post Institute
Q: Will you please tell me what I can say to people who come to our house and smoke in the presence of an ill person? My mother has lung trouble and smoke makes it very hard for her to breathe.

We do not disapprove of smoking and friends who came to the house before always smoked, but since my mother has become ill, smoke is very bad for her. Many of our friends do not know this and light cigarettes in her presence.

Will you please tell me how to tactfully handle this situation without causing hurt feelings?

A: Simply explain that since your mother's illness smoke affects her breathing and is very bad for her and ask them please not to smoke in her presence.

Q: If one declines an invitation to a party, may she call the hostess at a later date and accept the invitation? I was invited to a party at a friend's house and declined because of a previous engagement.

However, this engagement fell through and I find that I can now go to the party. May I call the hostess and tell her that I will be able to come to her party after all, or having regretted must I leave it that way?

A: If it is a general type of party and you know the hostess well, you could perfectly well call her and say that you find you will be able to come to her party after all and would love to do so, if she can still include you.

Q: In a restaurant where the captain takes your order for cocktails and dinner and after the food is brought to the table by the waiter, the captain serves the food, who should be given a tip, the waiter who brings the food or the captain who serves it?

A: You tip the waiter as usual and give an additional tip to the captain.

How to address and word invitations and announcements is described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Viewing one of his abstract paintings and critiquing it with Kate McLean of Oak Grove Drive, is D. Bruce Chapman of Clawson. The two are among the many art enthusiasts from such area groups as the Pontiac Society of Artists, the Clarkson Village Friends of Art,

'Gallery-Vanting' Grows

NEW YORK (UPI) — The newest way to spend leisure time is to go "gallery-vanting."

Museums and art galleries report attendance on a steady increase. The Metropolitan Museum, for instance, said last year it had 5,088,764 visitors, an all-time high and more than double the attendance of a decade ago.

To one woman shaping an unusual career in the art world, this "galloping enthusiasm" as she calls it is caused by a variety of factors.

"THING TO DO" Said Barbara Rex, "some gallery-vanters are there because this is the thing to do. Others have a sincere desire to see and enjoy and learn more about art."

And of course, there is more exposure to art than ever before because there are more painters and more galleries.

Miss Rex, a tall, striking brunette in her 30's, is an independent art lecturer and believes she is unique in the country.

She runs private group tours to galleries and museums. Each of the groups has a regular schedule of as many as 20 lectures during the course of a "school year," which begins in the fall.

So far, her adult tours have been all female. "That is because the lectures are held in the day when the galleries are open," she said. "The men are off making a living."

TO INCLUDE MEN But with increasing numbers of galleries open at night, she hopes to include men in the tours by fall.

"The way to get the most out of a painting is to look at it," she said. "Reading may give you a background, but in the end you must see again and again. It is incredible how the eye develops."

But her students are not ignorant about art: most of them already are knowledgeable, many have worked on museum committees, and several are collectors.

Miss Rex hit on her idea simply because of the number of galleries in New York alone — "More than 400," she said in an interview. "It is impossible for someone really interested in art to visit them all. Someone has to do some screening."

To enjoy gallery-going, Miss Rex suggested the observer take along an open mind — "No preconceived notion of what a painting should give you," she said, "see if you can tell what the artist wanted to do."

"If you judge art only by whether it pleases you, it means the painter is subject to what you're looking for. The artist is the adventurer. . . the spectator has to catch up."

Home Opened to Members of Bible Class

Mr. and Mrs. George Crissman of Middle Belt Road opened their home to 70 members and seven guests of the Fellowship Bible Class of the First Baptist Church for their annual picnic and class meeting Tuesday.

President Eno Prince conducted a short business meeting. Program chairman Basil Vernier introduced Robert White of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company of Birmingham who showed some pictures of Alaska where he spent 13 months.

The group heard selections from the violin and piccolo Murray Deighton closed the meeting with a prayer.

Bride Names Attendants for Wedding

Phyllis A. Upchurch of South Tilden Avenue has named Mrs. Richard Weir as matron of honor for her Sept. 1 vows to Edward A. Zaffina, son of the D. A. Zaffina of Henry Clay Avenue.

Mrs. Carl Widdle and Mrs. Donald Genevieve will be bridesmaids and Robin Spry, flower girl. The wedding color theme will be shades of lavender and purple.

Sandra Lawrence of South Tilden Avenue, Waterford Township honored the bride-elect at a recent personal shower.

Mrs. Frank Grosse of St. Joseph Road, West Bloomfield Township, was hostess at a shower and patio dinner, with Mrs. Phillip Peters and Mrs. Irene Snyder, cohostesses.

Miss Upchurch is the daughter of Mrs. E. D. Clubb also of South Tilden Avenue, and the late Mr. U. M. Upchurch.

Party for Jo Ann Ulligan

Bride-Elect Honored

Jo Ann Ulligan, bride-elect of Lee Apin, son of the Arnold Apin of Crestview, Fla., was honored Wednesday evening by Mrs. Robert J. Ensworth Jr. and the senior Mrs. Ensworth at the home of the latter on Starr Avenue.

Mrs. Charles Ulligan of Starr Avenue and daughter Sue attended the party with the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Hagopian and Mrs. Merlin Holmquist, both of Birmingham; Mrs. William Murray, Detroit; Mrs. John Wallace, Plymouth; Mrs. Wallace Schipperke, Ann Arbor and Mrs. G. H. Williams, Clarkson.

Other guests were Mrs. Robert Crandall, Mrs. George Arakelian, Mrs. Joseph V. Fox, Mrs. Arthur R. Perrin, Mrs. Ronald J. Hayward, Mrs. A. J. Latosa, Mrs. Emmett Buckley, Mrs. Bernard J. Stone and Mrs. Ford Padlock. Sue Ulligan will be maid of honor at the Aug. 11 wedding in the First Congregational Church. Mrs. Robert Crandall will serve as bridesmaid.

Class Has a Picnic

Mrs. John Bowden of West Huron Street was hostess Tuesday to the First Philatelic Class of the First Baptist Church for their annual picnic. Twenty-three members enjoyed a cooperative dinner at noon. The afternoon was spent visiting and a hymn sing was also held.

Also welcomed back were Mrs. Josh Wedge, Mrs. Anna Welch, and Minnie Truax.

Butterscotch Pie Is Best With Dark Brown Sugar

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Not long ago "Dear Abby" asked for recipes for Butterscotch Pie in her column. Not realizing that "Dear Abby" is syndicated, Mrs. Albert Kugler sent us her recipe for Butterscotch Pie. We'll hope Abby reads The Pontiac Press. We think our readers will like the recipe.

Mrs. Kugler enjoys membership in the Wolcott Re-bekahs, Arcene chapter OES, Amaranth and the White Shrine. She lists as her hobbies knitting, crocheting and cooking. Last year she baked 1,800 biscuits for a lodge at-fair.

BUTTERSCOTCH PIE
By Mrs. Albert Kugler
1 cup dark brown sugar

2 tablespoons butter
Pinch of salt
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons cold water
2 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 tablespoons sugar
1 baked 8-inch pie shell

Mix flour with cold water. Put brown sugar, butter, salt, milk and moistened flour in double boiler. Cook about 8 minutes, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks and stir into cooked mixture. Cook briefly, or until yolks are blended. Remove from heat and add vanilla.

When cool, pour into baked pie shell. Beat egg whites with sugar and cover top of pie with meringue. Brown in hot oven.

Wash Lingerie

"Heavy," humid air — especially sail air — can make clothes feel damp and clammy if worn more than once without laundering. That's why it's more comfortable to change often into the wash-wear underwear which is so easy to wash and rinse clean.

Unless lingerie (and other apparel) is clean, it can't absorb perspiration which serves to "air condition" and cool the body as it evaporates. New perspiration remains on the skin instead of being "blotted" by clothes, leaving a sticky feeling — so never wear anything "just one more time."

It is estimated that as many as four million Americans suffer from bronchial asthma.

But Few Are Real 'Addicts'

Majority of Teen-Agers Like to Read Books

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of The Gilbert Youth Research Co.

"There is no frigate like a book," wrote the poet Emily Dickinson, "to take us lands away, nor any courser like a page of prancing poetry."

"Books are good enough in their own way," wrote Robert Louis Stevenson, "but they are a mighty bloodless substitute for life."

Somewhere between Emily Dickinson and Robert Louis Stevenson stand most of the young people in the country.

In a nationwide poll our re-searchers found that an over-whelming majority of teen-agers like reading but few of them could qualify as real book lovers.

The survey was taken at the outset of the summer vacation when youngsters are more prone to read what they like rather than what's required in school.

Do you like to read?

This opening question evoked a resounding "yes" from 83 per cent of those interviewed. As might be expected, girls were slightly more enthusiastic readers than boys.

NOVELS FAVORITES

The margin between the sexes was not so great, however, when it came to the question of whether they read books not required in their schoolwork.

Girls, with an 89 per cent affirmative response, were only a shade ahead of the boys.

"I love to lose myself in a good book," said 16-year-old Jo Ann Smith of Cincinnati, expressing the majority sentiment. "I actually feel the way the people in the book feel."

"With a book in hand," exulted 15-year-old Susan Dorney of Bergenfield, N. J., "you can be in the past, present and future at the flick of a page."

Most of the antitook faction agreed with Jacqueline Loe-gan, 17, of Lynchburg, Va., that they just "couldn't sit still that long" but only a tiny minority added with 22-year-old Diana Walter of Columbus, Ohio, who wrote of reading as "a waste of my time."

As far as the forms of litera-ture go, the novel was the most popular with 47 per cent of the teenagers, followed by the short story (28 per cent), travel and adventure nonfiction (14 per cent). Poetry, with a 5.5 per cent vote, finished far down on the list. The main objection that most teen-agers had to it was in the area of comprehension, which might give young modern poets some pause.

"It's dull: I think it's dying out," was the verdict of 17-year-old George Lynter of Philadelphia.

SALINGER 80-80

Enthusiasts of the novel were about equally divided between the classics and best sellers.

At the moment a teen-ager's best seller list would have Harper Lee's "To Kill a Mockingbird" (Leon Uris), "Gone With the Wind" (Margaret Mitchell), "Hawaii" (James Michener), Rise and Fall of the Third Reich (William Shir-er) and "Advice and Consent" (Allen Drury).

Among the classics, Charles Dickens "Tale of Two Cities" was in top position, followed by "Jane Eyre," "David Copper-field," "Ivanhoe," "Tom Saw-yes," "Huckleberry Finn," "Mo-by Dick" and "Little Women."

One interesting sidelight of our survey was the extraordinary popularity of "Gone With the Wind."

The novel not only showed up as both a "best seller" and a "classic" on the survey, but also was undisputed champion in an-

Exercise Can Help Untie Knots and Relax

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here we are right in the mid-dle of the hot season! At this moment I am not thinking of re-ducing or improving my appear-ance, or becoming successful. I am not thinking of anything but just relaxing! Actually, I do not have to give much thought to that. I do it naturally.

But lots of people are not as naturally lazy as I am and not as much in love with life as I am, and so they get all tied up in knots of tension. Of course, we all have times of feeling drawn and tired. At such times, a few re-laxing exercises are most bene-ficial. Try these the next time you feel tense.

Stand with your feet com-fortably separated and your arms hanging limply at your sides. Let your head and trunk and arms drop forward. Lift your trunk and lower your head backward, arms hanging at sides, continue, in a rag doll manner.

Now sit or stand with your back straight, arms at sides. Circle backward with your shoulders. Continue, with smooth circles. Make the circles as large as you can and let your arms swing

They Have It Tougher Than U.S.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Latin American women do not have as much opportunity to enter the business world as women in the United States. But when they do get into business, they usually make as much money as their male co-workers.

This is the opinion of two Latin American women unan-imists — Miss Melinda Ruiz Sepulveda, editor of Inter-national and Sunday editions of El Panama American in Pan-ama City, and Mrs. Blanca Luz de Rodriguez, women's editor of El Imparcial in Guatemala City. They came here as part of a U.S. State Department tour.

South American women have an even tougher time getting into business than women in Central America, they agree.

"There are still many total-barrier fathers in some South American countries who do not let their daughters get an edu-cation or try a business," Miss Sepulveda says.

But times are changing, she adds. "No longer is it enough to stay in the home. Now we need to take part in commu-nity affairs."

Nicklaus Choice in Canadian Open

MONTREAL (AP)—U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus was the choice Wednesday of Gary Player in the $30,000 Canadian Open Golf in the U.S. PGA tournament last Sunday, said he expected a score in the 273 to 276 range to win the Open. "I'll take 273 and not play," he laughed.

Nicklaus, who played poorly in the British Open but snapped back to a third place tie in the PGA, appeared back on his game.

Defending champion Jack Cupit, Bob Goalby, second by a shot in the PGA, Gene Littler, Art Wall Jr., veteran Jim Ferrier, who won the tournament in 1959 and 1961, and Canadian Stan Leonard all showed well in practice rounds.

Arnold Palmer did not enter.

Scores Up High in City Softball

It was another night for high scoring in Pontiac softball Wednesday.

300 Lounge nipped CIO 853 16-9, Harry's Hideaway shelled St. Joseph Hospital 15-4 and Pontiac State Hospital paced C & M Construction, 10-4.

By scoring two in the 9th on a two-out, two-run double by winner Gene Hoffman, who allowed a homer to Jim Robinson but no other baserunners in the bottom of the inning, Ted Wharry had a homer and single and Ron Kind socked a double and triple in the win. Paul Miller slammed a double and two singles for CIO. Harry's needed only three innings getting 12 hits, two each by five men. Lou Vodry homered and tripled. Burt Ayles and Ben Keith cringing each had a triple and single. Ammon Martin had two doubles in defeat. State Hospital coasted after a six-run 1st.

Two big games on tap in Waterford Class B loop tonight at Drayton. Stroh's plays O'Neil Realty at 7 and Spencer vs. Sarkis Investment at 8:30. Stroh's and Spencer share lead. Rain washed out last night's action.

Stan Musial, who turned 41 last November, was playing major league baseball before his team, pitcher Tim McCarver was born.

Huron-Airway Romps; 'E' Hurler in No-Hitter

Huron-Airway won another easy one in Class A city baseball beating Don Nicholson 10-4 yesterday, featuring a two-hitter by Larry Demerick.

Elsewhere, Cranbrook whipped Pontiac Boys Club 11-1 and Pontiac Central took Pontiac Northern 10-3 in Class D. Mike Burklow fired a no-hitter as Auburn Heights Boys Club bombed St. Mike 17-0, Eastern Hi-Y defeated the Bearcats 8-5 and the Aztecs Juniors breezed past Cass Lake 15-1 in "E."

Also, Arnold Drugs downed Perry Drive U-4, the Yanks and Met Club won Widget title and the Pirates increased their lead in the Pontiac Boys Club NL by taking the Giants 7-2.

The H-A gang of Tony Stiel got 12 hits in pulling a little more away from the field. Stu Dell had a 340-foot homer and single and John Fleser had a single, double, sacrifice fly and walk to lead the attack. Demerick fanned 8.

PAYTON STAR
Bill Patton two-hit PBC and had a hit and two walks himself. Tom Arnold had a double and single. Central broke up a close one with seven in the 8th. Winners Farms got two hits. Birkwood whiffed 14 and walked four and had three hits and a walk himself. John Anderson had a two-run homer. Rog Hayward matched that and added two singles. Eastern's Bob Gibbs pitched a three-hitter and compiled 10 strikeouts but was hindered by walks and errors.

Three Aztecs combined for a three-hitter. Bill Brandt had a nine-hit effort with a homer and triple. Arnold had to hold off a late Perry threat after leading 10-1. Victor Bruce Weber homered. Ron Garret, whom Weber relieved, singled three times.

Harvey Bumpus chucked a four-hitter, fanning 10 in a 14-4 Yank romp over Pontiac Optimist No. 1. The Mets took the No. 2 Optimist unit 5-1 getting only one safety off two hurlers while Steve Bass won allowing two.

broke up a Pirate-Giant duel. Joe Ewald's solo blast had tied the count earlier. The losers stranded 10 runners in true Detroit Tiger style.

Hammer With A's as Knuckleballer

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Grady Hammer, one-time White Kid shortstop of the Philadelphia Phillies, is getting a trial as a pitcher with the Kansas City Athletics because his knuckleball has been effective in the minors.

Hammer, who has been the manager and most consistent pitcher of the Birmingham Triplets of the Class A Eastern League, will report to the Athletics in Baltimore Friday.

Asked if he felt he could make the grade, the 35-year-old right-hander, whose major league career was cut short in 1959 by injuries, replied: "I don't see why I couldn't if I get the chance. I'm throwing pretty good. I think I can if I get the knuckleball (this best pitch) over the plate, and so far this year I have."

Takes Low Net Honors
Mrs. Robert Carpentier took low net honors in the Tuesday women's Silver Lake Golf League with a 58.

Mrs. Max Richardson was second with a 61. Mrs. Earl Weber had low puts, 15, and won the blind hole, No. 7, with a par putt.

LOSES RIVAL — Pontiac's Hayes Jones (left) was beaten three straight times by Jerry Tarr of Oregon, most recently in the 110-meter hurdles in the Soviet meet last weekend at Stanford, Calif. Tarr bettered Jones' former record with a 13.4 finish while Hayes finished 13.7. Tarr, however, will no longer be Jones' big rival for the 1964 Olympics as he signed a pro football contract to play with the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

ABL Threatens Suit Over Loss of Pipers

CHICAGO (AP) — Instead of rearing burial with brief rites, as generally expected, the infant American Basketball League today came out clawing at the long-established National Basketball Association.

ABL Commissioner Abe Saperstein, a quiet, but tough little basketball impresario for many years, not only rallied his sagging loop for a six-member try next season, but also hurled a lawsuit threat at the NBA with the Jerry Lucas-enriched Cleveland Pipers as big bone of contention.

After a two-day league session, Saperstein announced the ABL will try again next season with Denver as a new member. Hawaii, Beach, Calif., and Philadelphia and Kansas City, Pittsburgh and his own Chicago Majors holding over.

Last from last season's ABL seven-club array are the Pipers, whose bid to join the rival NBA gets formal consideration Monday when it is the fate of an NBA jump of its Philadelphia Warriors to San Francisco.

Saperstein, whose independent Harlem Globetrotters have hoisted him money all over the world, Wednesday sent bristling telegrams to NBA commissioner Maurice Podoloff and Cleveland pipe owner George Steinbrenner. The NBA's board of governors meets Monday ostensibly to accept a $100,000 performance bond from Cleveland.

Wills Doesn't Want to Play for All-Stars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Dodgers shortstop Maury Wills says he'd like to beg off playing in the All-Star game next Monday in Chicago against the Americans.

"I shouldn't even be in the Dodger line-up right now," said Wills. "My right leg pained me when I played the other All-Star game in Washington, and it has gotten worse. It's taped as high as it can be taped, so I can run, and I've been looking forward to two days' rest, which might help me get over these muscle spasms. My position probably will be misunderstood. It's an honor to play, and if Fred Hutchinson asks me I'll tell him how I feel."

Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers says he believes Wills will play at Chicago. Maury stole the first game in Friday's game against San Francisco, a team spokesman said Wednesday.

Twins' Hurler Has Surgery on Mouth

MINNEAPOLIS-St. Paul (UPI)—Minnesota Twins pitcher Jim Kaat of Zealand, Mich., who was hit in the mouth Tuesday night by a bad pop ground ball in the game with Detroit, underwent surgery yesterday.

Dr. Harold J. Panuska removed the roots of two upper teeth and took out a lower tooth. Four stitches were taken on the upper gum, three on the lower gum and four on the upper lip. Asked whether it hurts, Kaat, who was named to the American League All-Star team, said: "Only when I smile."

Kaat, despite the injury, was slated to work Saturday or Sunday and will be available for Monday's All-Star game in Chicago.

American Teens Set World Mark in Japan

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Donna de Varona and Sharon Finerman, two American teen-agers in Japan, bettered the world's record for the 400-meter individual medley at the All Japan swimming championships today.

Donna, a 15-year-old from Santa Clara, Calif., was timed in the outdoor Ogimachi 50-meter pool in 5:24.7 while Sharon, 16, of Los Angeles finished the preliminary race second in 5:27.4.

The pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds won 10 doubleheaders during the 1961 season, more than any other National League club. The Reds split seven and lost only two.

Jones' Closest Rival Signs Pro Contract

Pontiac's Hayes Jones, who decided to shun for the Olympic gold medal as his 1964 goal, suddenly found he had a competitor running the hurdles who could hinder his bid for the top spot in the event.

Jerry Tarr, 22-year old hurdler from the University of Oregon, who lives in the shadows from the fine track arena at Bakersfield, Calif. gave Jones some bad moments this spring.

After winning 31 straight indoor meets and 13 straight outdoor hurdles events since the 1960 world games, Jones appeared to be all alone on the hurdles throne.

THREE STRAIGHT LOSSES
Everyone knew of Tarr but no one expected the Oregon flash to take three straight victories in competition against Jones. Both hurdlers ran neck and neck recently and finished with equal times of 13.4, but Tarr got the judges decision.

Last weekend against the Russian team, Tarr pulled away from Jones again after the last hurdle, won the event in 13.4 as Hayes had to settle for a 13.7 runnerup spot.

Today, however, Jones can now forget about Tarr as his closest competitor. The Denver Broncos announced that Tarr, their 17th gold medalist, signed his pro contract.

This ends his amateur status and prevents him from making any bid for the '64 Olympics.

Young Area Netters Advance in Tourneys

From Our Wire Services
Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., advanced into the quarter-final round of the National Boys and Girls 14-under and 12-under tennis tourney yesterday while Detroit's Ray Senkowski was bowing out Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis play.

Peaches was No. 1 seeded in the 14-under class. Senkowski in Australian star Fred Stolle 6-3, 6-1. Former U.S. Davis Cupper Whitney Reed gained the quarters against South African Copper Cliff Drysdale. Deivier Sharon Fritula and Susan Dykes, Hamtramck, advanced to the quarters in different divisions at the Western Junior Girls meet.

"I'm not going to worry about competition," he said on a recent visit to Pontiac. "I'm shooting for time and if I can stay around 13.4 I know I can win the gold medal."

Watkins Lake Sailors
Race Tuesday Evening

The Watkins Lake Yacht Club held its first Tuesday night race this week with the "Captains" of the house teaming up with sons and daughters as crew members.

Norm Ledwin "adopted" Gary Jacobs as crewman and took the honors with Harm Gillen and daughter Betsy taking second and Chuck Morris and daughter Pam finishing third.

In Sunday's thistle results, Gillen was first, Don Zamoth second and Ledwin third. In the snipe race, Glem Fiedt took the honors, followed by Bruce Breda and Chuck Morris third.

Another Tuesday night race is planned for next week.

Prep Sculler
From Wyandotte
In Spotlight

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (AP)—A 17-year-old high school sculler from Wyandotte, Mich., stole the spotlight as the 80th Royal Canadian Henley Regatta opened in rain and high winds Wednesday.

Jeff Kreyer won two of the three finals on the opening program, the high school and junior 150-pound singles.

In Wednesday's other final, Tom Kietatsky of the Minnesota Boat Club of St. Paul won the junior 150-pound sculling title.

Despite the fact that no Detroit club sculler won a race, the U.S. rowing champions moved into the lead in the standings with 11 Wyandotte club and Kietatsky's Minnesota squad.

Best Advice in Disaster
'Don't Panic'

Sue Henry of Birmingham and Dick Wier of Bloomfield Hills start out for a pleasure ride (photo No. 1) on Orchard Lake. With lifeguard Bob Newman aboard for precaution, Jim Young, sailing instructor at Orchard Lake Country Club, deliberately upsets the boat (photo No. 2) to give Sue and Dick some experience on what to do if it should ever happen.

The important thing is to stay close to the boat and hang on (photo No. 3) until help arrives.

With some help the boat is back afloat and it is towed to dock by a powerboat (photo No. 4).

Water safety officials advise: Don't panic, don't dive yourself and don't try to swim long distances if you should run into such problems.

The 1964 U.S. Open golf championship will be played at the Congressional Country Club, Bethesda, Md., near Washington, D.C. The 1963 Open is set for The Country Club, Brookline, Mass.

COLD LUNCH is easy, but at least one meal should be hot.

YOUR BOAT

Meals Afloat

By TED JONES
Marine Designer

Light eaters develop big appetites afloat.

A cold lunch can be a blessing for the cook, but at least one meal a day should be hot.

Relatively inexpensive one or two-burner stoves which burn alcohol or canned heat can be packed to store in tight places.

Ice is important. A wide variety of coolers is available. Larger, heavy-duty types will serve as seats or benches.

One-dish meals, such as stews, are easy to fix. Prepared deserts and instant coffee eliminate the need for more cooking equipment and simplify clean-up problems.

Other equipment you will need includes plastic or paper dishes and cups, table ware, cooking utensils and food containers, paper towels, matches and a can opener.

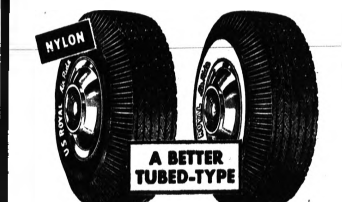

Take pure water for drinking and cooking.

Glamorous Policyholders Enhance Reputation

Lloyds of London Is Market Place of Insurance World

By BOB CONNIDINE
LONDON—Dropped by Lloyds of London today for a talk with a big, ruddy underwriter named Anthony Grover. I came away with a much clearer knowledge of the remarkable organization whose members have insured the world against practically every known calamity, including catastrophes suffered while doing the twist.

District's 1454. Durrant's nose, Paderewski's hands, Callas's voice and such formidable objects as the Titanic and the love barge (used in "Cleopatra") have done business with Lloyds, which derives its name and many of its practices from the origin of the plan in 1688 in "Lloyds Coffee House" on Tower Street.

But most of the policyholders are not very glamorous. For every glamorous item there's a cheese plant in Ipswich.

Mr. Grover first set us up straight on what Lloyds is not. It's not an insurance company. It's a market in which individuals, known as underwriters, accept insurance from accredited brokers.

The underwriters, so-called because when they form themselves into a syndicate to issue and guarantee a large risk they write their names one under the other, now number more than 5,000.

They have formed 300 syndicates, each of these specializing in that or that type of insurance.

Some 200 brokers who, in turn, have connections all over the world, bring the business to Lloyds.

MUST BE VOTED IN
In order to do business in the market place of Lloyds, an underwriter must have been voted into the lodge by the rest of the members and have passed muster on a strict set of rules laid down by the Corporation of Lloyds and the British government.

His credit must be such that he will never have to wobble on the gambles he makes individually or as part of a syndicate. It just isn't done at Lloyds, old chap.

"We'd catch him long before he got in," Mr. Grover said contentedly.

The Corporation supplies the building, which among other facilities has the largest air-conditioned room on the European continent, and provides information to the underwriters on worldwide movement of ships and other pertinent information.

"Lloyds list," which first appeared in 1734, is London's oldest (and dullest) daily newspaper, "Lloyds Shipping Index," issued daily in London and New York, reports on the tonnage, cargo, destination and position of about 14,000 vessels insured by Lloyds members.

Each day's "make over," as the newspaper term is, involves at least 4,500 typographical corrections.

ITEM OF INTEREST
A leading item of interest on the bulletin board the other day, for example, was a brief announcement, typed in large print on blue paper because it had to do with aviation, that a Comet 4 of the United Arab Republic Airways, flight MS888, due in Bangkok from Hong Kong on July 13, had crashed 62 miles short of the airport. "No sign of life," the announcement concluded.

"This means the payment by a Lloyds syndicate for the aircraft alone of about $3 million," said Mr. Grover.

"You, Boeing and Douglas jobs cost millions or more group here about $5 million if they crash. The premium runs about $100,000 a year."

Lloyds started with Tower Street merchants and bankers insuring ships and cargoes, many headed for the New World.

Today it is a marvel of efficiency, considering the fact that it is still basically a gambling place. Its premium income last year approached the billion-dollar mark. It will take a chance on anything it feels is assessable, including weather insurance on big outdoor sports events. It has already issued what amounts to insurance for voyagers into space.

Zanuck Urges Reforms for Ailing 20th Century-Fox

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran producer Darryl F. Zanuck began his first full day as president of financially ailing 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. today with a call for sweeping reforms to put the firm back in the black.

Zanuck, 58, a Hollywood executive and largest stockholder in 20th Century-Fox, was elected on Wednesday night to succeed Spyro Skouras, effective immediately.

Skouras, 69, announced his pending resignation last June 27 in the wake of bitter criticism by stockholders who saw their investments consistently lose money over the last several years. Skouras was named chairman of the board Wednesday night. He succeeded Samuel I. Rosenman, who was named chairman last April 25 and resigned because he said the post took up too much of his time.

Zanuck started his Hollywood career as a screen writer and later turned to production and executive duties with Warner Brothers before becoming vice president in charge of production at Fox.

"It has been claimed for many motion pictures, but 'Cleopatra' will be the greatest single entertainment achievement in any medium in theatrical history," he predicted.

The company also had poured about $2 million into production of "Something's Got to Give" before it was scrapped in a dispute with its star, Marilyn Monroe.

NO ILLUSIONS
"I have no illusions about the present plight of the company," Zanuck said in explaining losses in production and distribution over the last several years.

The loss from those activities, he estimated, will be about $10 million for the first half of this year.

"But the company also has great assets and even greater potentialities and I am determined to apply all my strength, resourcefulness and knowledge to restore 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. to preeminence."

Today's Actresses Dreary, Moans Veteran Director

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — George Cukor, who has directed the most glamorous dolls in pictures from Greta Garbo to Marilyn Monroe, is aghast at today's "dreary" actresses. "Actresses appear in cycles," Cukor said with some disdain.

"When I first began directing (Circa 1930), they were drowsy, perfumed and actressy in the old-fashioned romantic sense. They appeared to be fragile creatures might swoon at any moment.

"Then they were made to appear like the girl next door.

"That was bad enough until the 'method' was introduced, and they became the dirty girl next door."

Cukor, a sensitive individual whose elegant home is filled with great paintings, finds actresses have hit a new low in 1962.

"We are now in an aggressive cycle where the actresses are married to television directors and seem very proud of the fact they are aggressively simple and sincere.

"They are always busy studying something. Just what it is they are studying I have no idea.

"Most of them cannot speak a line of dialogue without knowing what the motivation is for the character they are playing. They spend so much time motivating they haven't time to act. Yet this is the dreary, earnest phase."

Cukor's disenchantment stems from his long association with the very best actresses of our time—Marie Dressler, Katharine Hepburn, Norma Shearer and Claudette Colbert.

He directed them all, including Joan Crawford, Joan Fontaine, Ingrid Bergman, Carolee Grey, Laraine Day, Judy Holiday, Ava Gardner and Judy Garland.

DOWN THE LIST
Of them he says: "Miss Shearer was marvelously dressed and romantic, as was Claudette Colbert. She was the movie star prototype and Miss Garson became great because of her enormous individuality.

"All these women knew what the scene was and had the common sense to keep their careers going beautifully. They were spirited disciplined."

He is devoted to Marilyn Monroe despite the fact that he was directing the picture when the blonde beauty was fired from "Something's Got to Give," next he will direct Audrey Hepburn in the movie version of "My Fair Lady."

A battle scarred veteran of almost 30 movies during the great feminine stars through the years has left Cukor with a philosophy that might disturb future glamour girls.

"Fundamentally all actresses are the same," he said recklessly. "They may be sweet or temperamental, but just try to change their billing and their artistry disappears."

People Rack to Lean On a Cocktail Party Boon

NEW YORK (AP)—Using one-inch steel tubing, a Chicago designer has created a "people rack"—a sturdy device eight feet high that can be leaned on, sat on or lugged at by means of bus-type overhead hand straps.

"Steel Facts," a publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, suggests the rack for use at bus stops or cocktail parties and calls it "the most humanitarian invention of the year."

Athletic Math Major Being Sought by Bar

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (AP)—The Normandy bar advertised for a cocktail waitress who could slide down a fire-house pole and was a college graduate.

Clyde Truss, owner of the place, explained that she would have to slide down the pole from her dressing room onto the bandstand.

But why the college education? "So she can make change," said Truss.

Some Firms Encourage Execs to Enter Politics

EDITOR'S NOTE — "Get into politics — and quick," former President Dwight D. Eisenhower recently advised businessmen. But the role of businessmen in politics raises questions of methods and goals. The following second of three articles covers this debate.

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — "When a corporation seeks to insert itself into politics, it does so for only one reason: because it has an ax to grind. The ax is in the wish to advance the business ideology of the corporation."

A labor union leader speaking? No, part of a speech by Chicago industrialist Arnold H. Marmont to the Association of Industrial Editors.

It illustrates the different opinions to be found in the business community on the subject of the businessman — in politics movement.

"Ever since the price battle between steel and President Kennedy, business leaders, some privately and others in public, have suggested that business could make its views effective only through political efforts."

Recently former President Dwight D. Eisenhower called on businessmen to become active in politics.

AS INDIVIDUALS
Despite Marmont's views on corporate politics, he strongly favors participation by businessmen as individuals.

"Actually, the business man does have a business concern in government and it would be naive to pretend that he doesn't," Marmont said.

"But there's a vast difference between going into politics to protect vested interests and becoming involved politically for human interests — as a human being, a citizen, an American."

Even before the steel price clash, a businessman-in-politics movement had been under way. Additionally, many corporations had, and have, been conducting public affairs programs of a political nature. Its spokesmen claim they are nonpartisan.

A leader in the business-in-politics movement was recently it if it aimed to balance gains in political influence made by unions, especially through labor's Committee for Political Education (COPE).

"There's nothing anti-union about this," replied Basil R. Barr, assistant to the president of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and board chairman of the Effective Citizens Organization.

The citizens organization, a non-profit corporation, with about 130 corporate members, is a leading agency dedicated to spreading the gospel of a more active role by business in public affairs.

"I think it was stimulated by the fact that the unions got in first and were so successful. I'd give the unions considerable credit for leading the way," Barr said.

SAME OBJECTIVES
Barr said business and union political activities have the same objectives: "a sound political system, a just and equitable society and a strong economy."

The routes to these goals may diverge, he added, "but I don't think one guy is any more intelligent or dedicated to these ideologies than the other."

Barr, himself a precinct committeeman in Matteson, Ill., suburb of Chicago, said independence among voters is growing steadily.

He doubted many are following the "dictates of any boss, corporate or union, except as they're persuaded by the arguments on the issues and personalities of the candidates."

Standard Oil conducts a low-key public affairs effort, occasionally reminding employees of their citizenship obligations — and that's about all. It goes easy on political education.

Generally, Barr said, companies are too reticent in talking to employees about issues, out of fear workers will interpret it as corporate aggrandizement.

Inland Steel Co. is proud of its public affairs record, particularly in Chicago and neighboring communities. Joseph L. Block, chairman, last year won the Loyola University Dames Award in this field.

As a company, Inland formally backed a Fair Employment Practices Commission in Illinois, and its executives helped obtain enactment of a fair employment law in 1961. The proposal had failed repeatedly in earlier legislative sessions after being fought by much of Illinois industry.

In the interests of the best work force possible, Inland said, no worker should be turned down or held back "because of race, color, creed, age or other artificial barrier."

Richard J. Nelson, an civic affairs manager, sparked Inland's fair employment role.

He takes a skeptical view of what he described as the "frenzied effort of the business community in general to stimulate management personnel to become more active politically."

Nelson, who was national president of the Young Democrats in 1951-53, said: "I doubt whether very much will come of this effort, for in many cases it is shallow in approach and partisan in nature even though lip service is given to the concept of bipartisanship."

"The main hope is for removal of inhibitions of company employees at all levels."

Nelson adds: "Big business and big unions should both stand indicted for curbing individual freedom of action and expression. There is a place for a Republican in the union and for a Democrat in business, and everybody ought to have the courage to speak up accordingly."

Inland welcomes Republican and Democratic candidates for major offices to its headquarters every campaign year. The office sectors separately eat lunch with top executives, and then are given about 30 minutes each to speak to a bigger audience in the employees' cafeteria.

Friday: Should all businessmen be Republicans?

Count on Pheasants for College Tuition

Birds Are Boys' Bread and Butter

BLOOMINGDALE, Ill. — While most youngsters feel that work is "for the birds", three Bloomingdale brothers have taken to raising birds with hopes that their venture will put them through college.

College is still a long way off for the trio—Michael, Terry and Douglas Sweet, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sweet. Michael, the eldest, is 14. Over the years, the boys earned $600 raising calves. Now they've sunk all their earnings into the time and energy-consuming task of raising pheasants.

The boys decided to buy a couple of hens to let them hatch a variety of pheasants in the neighborhood while hunting last year.

When they bought the hens from a Paw Paw raiser, the boys discovered his business was for sale. It didn't take long for them to convince their parents to let them buy the operation.

For their investment, the boys got 57 birds, and the incubators, hatcheries, pens and feeders necessary for serious production. The birds are of three varieties, the familiar ring-neck, and less widely known Mongolian and Mutant breed. Eggs are collected every day and given 24 days to hatch.

BUILDING UP STOCK

year. They are concentrating more on building up their flock than on immediate sales.

The boys have no trouble getting rid of the birds they are willing to part with. Some go to game farms where not-overly-ambitious hunters can pick them off at $5 a head. Others are fattened in the back yards of area gourmets who enjoy the year-around luxury of pheasant-under-glass.

But even as the profits get bigger, the boys already know where the hard-earned cash will go. All of it will be set aside for college educations. Mike already has his lights set on a doctor's career. Terry, 12, and Doug, 10, say they want to be dairy farmers.

until next year to start enjoying such luxuries. Right now they're concentrating on building up the flock to about 200 laying hens. They'll start realizing a profit then.

The boys will wait at least

Nation Remains Wary of Russia

'Neutral' Finland Leans to West

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
HELSINKI — There is a big popular joke which Finns sometimes tell in the privacy of their homes.

What do you think of that great Russian inventor, Prof. Repugnatoff the American visitor is asked.

When the visitor expresses his puzzlement, the laughing Finn translates it for him. The translation is: "What do you think of that great Russian inventor, Prof. Repugnatoff the American visitor is asked."

By law and in recognition of the facts of life, the Finn is determined to be neutral. But emotionally he is pro-Western, sometimes violently so.

It is also remarked in Finland that one can select one's friends, but he cannot select his neighbors. In this far northeastern portion of Europe, the Finn often feels terribly alone. Two recent wars against Russia have proven to some 450 thousand Finns voted Communist. Many of these Finns regard simply as protest votes. Guesses as to the number of hard-core Communists in the country run to about 35 to 40 thousand.

Finland's neutrality is a result of the fact that the Finnish foreign office has difficulty obtaining the Russian speakers it requires.

In Finland, even a young man's ability to speak Russian points the finger of suspicion against him. Most Finns speak Finnish and Swedish, but by far the most popular third language is English.

So limited is the knowledge of Russian among Finnish young people that the Finnish foreign office has difficulty obtaining the Russian speakers it requires.

It is no secret that after the last war, when the Finns were to surrender 600 thousand weapons to the Russians, only about 200 thousand appeared. The rest were underground and although many Finns went to prison, they were not recovered.

Twelve years after the war, a Soviet broadcaster appeared in Helsinki to do sidewalk interviews. A Finn speaking into the microphone said:

"It's good to see you again. The last time I saw you was over the lights of my rifle."

Propulsion Problem Shortens Titan Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U.P.) — The fourth test flight of the Titan 2 missile to fall far short of its planned 5,000-mile range on a test flight yesterday.

The Air Force reported that many of the best objectives were achieved but "preliminary data indicated a propulsion difficulty occurring during second stage, shortening the range."

The missile covered about half the intended distance.

This was the fourth test flight for Titan 2, most powerful military rocket now planned by the United States. Two of the previous three flights were successful over the 5,000-mile course.

Titan 2 also will be the booster for the two-man Gemini space capsule and for other space missions.

Eyes $10 Fee to Sell Smokes

Would Cut Bootlegging of Cigarettes, Claims GOP Representative

Rep. Einar E. Brundsen, R-Idaho, introduced the bill for this session but saw it killed in the Senate.

The bill would require that all cigarette retailers should be licensed and that they should pay a $10 fee for each license.

Rep. Brundsen said that the bill would cut bootlegging of cigarettes and that it would increase the revenue of the federal government.

They Attend His Revivals in Droves Graham Sees Hope in U.S. Youth

Editor's Note — Evangelist Billy Graham concluded an eight-day revival in Fresno, Calif., last weekend. Much of his crusade there was directed to young people and the problem of their future.

By Dr. BILLY GRAHAM (Written For UPI)

FRESNO, Calif. — I detect an encouraging trend among American youth.

During my four of various cities this summer, I have preached to the largest crowds in my career. The amazing thing is that these crowds are made up largely of young people under 25 years of age.

Night after night we have had more than 25 to 30,000, and almost invariably it is over 50 percent of the audience. Some say it is all a part of the youth revival that is going on in the United States.

Psychologists and sociologists have various theories about the cause of this youth revival. Some say it is a reaction to the materialism and hedonism of the 1950s. Others say it is a reaction to the social and economic changes of the 1960s.

Whatever the cause, I believe that this youth revival is a sign of hope for the future of the United States. It shows that young people are seeking meaning and purpose in their lives, and that they are willing to sacrifice for their faith.

Convicted Burglar Arraigned in Slaying

LANSING — A convicted burglar Willie Lee Lewis was arraigned yesterday in the murder of Mrs. Lucy Norris last Nov. 15.

Lewis was remanded to the custody of the Michigan Corrections Department after the charges were brought against him.

He was in Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson for escaping from Ingham County Jail where he was held after the burglary conviction.

Lewis, 42, lived in Lansing, less than a block from the rubbished back yard where Mrs. Norris' body was found.

The woman was murdered and criminally assaulted, according to police.

Pontiac Demos to Mix Politics and Picnic

Picknicking and picnicking will be held from noon to 7 p.m. Saturday when Pontiac Democrats gather for their annual picnic in Hawthorn Park.

The affair is to give party faithful a chance to see the party candidates for the Aug. 7 primary party headquarters announced.

The main speech will be given by incumbent State Rep. Arthur L. B. Pontiac, candidates for congressional and county offices also will attend.

Other activities will include a professional basketball game between the Pontiac and Detroit teams, and other sports contests.

In addition to the regular picnic menu, a barbecue will be available.

THE DEAL

The deal approved in court Wednesday, gave Miss Adams sole title to the California Real Estate Club, a 4½-acre property in an urban Palm Springs area.

Kovacs' estate was once given a paper value of $2.1 million in claims against it, now exceeding present assets, court records showed.

2 Mexican Pilots Prove Trip Was for Reason

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Two Ciudad Obregon, Mexico, men escaped injury when they crashed landed their light plane near the border town.

They said they didn't know why the engine failed. Purpose of the trip to the United States was to buy airplane parts.

HE SPILLED THE MILK — Edward King, 64, scans wreckage of his milk-hauling rig after a collision along Highway 50 near Kenosha, Wis. This was King's first accident in more than one million miles of driving in his 35 years as an employee of a Kenosha milk firm. The recipient of numerous safety citations was not injured in the mishap.

By FRANK CAREY Associated Press Science Writer MORROW — The odd distribution of a kind of tumor among children in a mosquito belt of tropical Africa supports the theory that at least some human cancers are caused by viruses. It was reported today.	African children," the doctor said, explaining that Asians and Europeans are not affected. HALF OF CANCERS These tumors comprise half the total childhood cancers seen in Kampala.	In another report on oddities in cancer, a group of Indian scientists from Bombay told about studies of "kangri" cancer. That is a malignancy of abdominal skin in Kashmiris, where the doctors said, "carry a basket	of burning coal (kangri) under their clothes to keep warm." * * * The "cool" is actually worn from a tree tilled the Chinese whose leave, the scientists said, grows up with having cancer producing powers.

Eye Settlement With Eastern

Airline, Engineers and Pilots Represented at Bargaining Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of Eastern Air Lines, its flight engineers and its pilots meet here today with Labor Department officials in an attempt to bring labor peace to a third major airline.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said Wednesday that Eastern's president, Malcolm MacIntyre, would attend the afternoon meeting.

Goldberg was expected to propose again the same settlement terms which MacIntyre rejected and the engineers accepted earlier this week. These terms led to settlement Wednesday of the dispute between Pan American World Airways and the Flight Engineers International Association — pending approval of Pan Am's pilots.

Earlier, engineers working for Trans World Airlines had accepted similar terms for solving the main problem in all three disputes—whether pilots or engineers will get first crack at the third seat in the cockpit when the airlines reduce jet crews from four to three men. The move is expected soon.

GENERAL TERMS
In general, the Pan American and TWA settlements gave currently employed engineers priority. But as attention wears away their ranks, pilots also will become eligible. The engineers agreed to take pilot training.

The second part of Goldberg's proposal called for binding arbitration of all economic issues. MacIntyre contended the Eastern strike, now in its 35th day, made it impossible for the company to accept arbitration of such items as pay scales and retroactivity of increases.

Eastern resumed limited operations on Monday, sending out two flights each day from Miami and New York.

Goldberg was reported hopeful that if Eastern would agree to the crew complement and economic proposals, a fourth major airline, American, might also swing into line. American's flight engineers already have agreed to settling the crew issue along the lines of the TWA proposal.

Algerian Struggle Hearing a Climax

ALGIERS (AP)—A power struggle that threatened civil war moved toward a climax today in this newly independent nation. A factional split shattered attempts by provisional Algerian leaders to establish a stable regime.

Administrative work appeared to be at a virtual standstill. Thousands of Europeans who stayed on through months of terror before independence, converted on docks and airports to get out. Two passenger liners came to carry refugees to France.

Although the situation was marked by confusion and in some cases fragmentary reports, these were the highlights:

Dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella appeared to have the upper hand in western and eastern Algeria. Ben Bella returned to Oran, western Algerian metropolis, after a triumphant Wednesday in Tinet, 100 miles southwest of Algiers.

IN CONTROL

Forces loyal to him were seen

ingly in control of Constantine and Bone in eastern Algeria. Bloody clashes were reported Wednesday in Constantine.

Deputy Premier Belkacem Krim, a Berber leader and signer of the peace accords with France, held forth in the Kabyle Mountains east of Algiers. He denounced Ben Bella and called for a massive rallying of support across the nation.

A communiqué from Krim's headquarters in Tizi Ouzou claimed that troops had moved to the gates of Constantine to back the resistance of anti-Ben Bella forces within the city. The Constantine prefecture said at noon the city was calm.

In Algiers, there was no sign of the disgraced provisional government of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, which had moved in after independence July 5 to take control of the country.

Algiers was quiet, despite the outward movement of Europeans. Most stores and business places were shut.

The European Secret Army Organization, which had led the fight against independence, sharply criticized the Algerian leaders and warned it may advise Europeans to move out en masse.

LOST ITS CLIP

The Provisional Executive, set up by the peace accords, remained in place in Fischer Noir, near Algiers. The executive is charged with organizing elections for a Constituent Assembly and regular government and meanwhile to administer the nation. But the executive appeared to have completely lost its grip on the country.

In Oran, a spokesman for Ben Bella said Mohamed Khider, one of Ben Bella's chief supporters, would head for Algiers soon to study the situation.

Khider is a member of a seven-man political bureau which Ben Bella set up last week in defiance of the Ben Khedda regime. He assume over-all leadership.

The spokesman said both Constantine and Bone were calm. He sought to minimize reports of the clashes in Constantine. He said the political bureau has forbidden any movement of troops between one zone and another.

The denunciation of Ben Bella by Krim was made in a communique issued at Tizi Ouzou. It said troops of the guerrilla army of National Liberation Front resorted to the appeal and violently reacted.

SWANSON TALKS, LESINSKI PUTS — While Gov. John B. Swanson was speaking on reappointment in an address to a joint session of Michigan's Senate and House of Representatives, John Lesinski, U.S. Supreme Court justice, was sitting in the audience.

State Legislature Waits for Verdict on Redistricting

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's legislature marked time today awaiting a U.S. Supreme Court hearing on whether the State Senate must be reapportioned by Aug. 20.

Lawmakers decided yesterday to recess over the weekend and come back Tuesday night.

By that time, a ruling may have been handed down on a request for a stay of a State Supreme Court finding that if Senate Districts are not revamped by the Aug. 20 deadline, senators will be elected on a statewide at-large basis.

Old arguments on the stay request will be given in Litchfield, N. H., before Justice Potter Stewart, beginning at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The appeal was filed by three Republican senators acting as it to court defendants — Sen. John Fitzgerald of Grand Lodge, Frank Biddle of St. Clair, and Paul Younger of Lansing.

Accompanying them was Sen. William Morris, R-Kalamazoo, chairman of the senate judiciary committee.

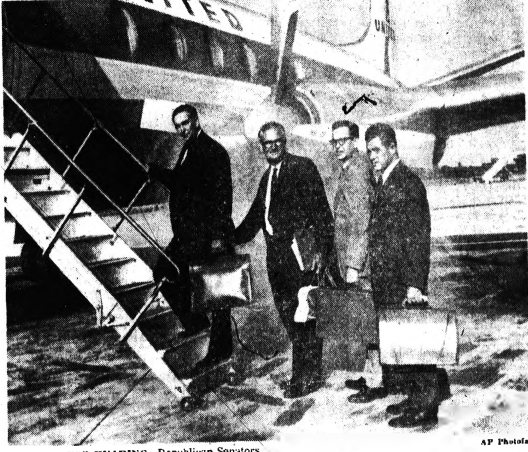

In a small upstairs room of the city federal courthouse at Litchfield, they still argue Justice Stewart to block the state court order on grounds that chaotic results would follow a reapportionment by then. They contend are "utterly unreasonable remedial provisions."

On Tuesday to oppose the request, they will be told by the U.S. Supreme Court that they have no case.

Swanson said he is opposed to the Senate on a statewide at-large basis, and explained that he has always believed in the essential genius of the plan under which each elected official represents a specific constituency and is directly responsible to the constituency.

Swanson said he would sign any bill which complied with the state court's requirements. It required and contiguous districts which do not breach county lines and the population size of which "must be as nearly equal as practicable to that of the Senate and House of Representatives."

Sen. Fitzgerald said the governor's action was not necessary. He said the people of Michigan are entitled to a representative government and that the people's representatives should be heard on the issue.

LEAVE FOR HEARING—Republican Senators (from left) Carlton Myers of Kalamazoo, Frank Biddle of St. Clair, John Fitzgerald of Grand Lodge and Paul Younger of Lansing board a plane in Lansing for Litchfield, N. H. They plan to attend tomorrow's hearing on the reapportionment case appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

JFK, Rusk to Map New Berlin Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk face today the task of mapping a new move in the diplomatic dispute with the Soviet Union over Berlin.

The U.S. State Department today is expected to announce a new round of talks between the two nations.

Rusk returned Wednesday night from Geneva and a new round of meetings with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. He was expected to tell Kennedy that the Soviet attitude on Berlin seems to be toughening but that there is no indication of imminent crisis.

During the next few days Kennedy, Rusk and other administration policymakers will be occupied with another issue of great urgency—developing what new proposals the United States may make for reducing inspection requirements for a nuclear test ban treaty with the Soviet Union.

TO MEET TODAY

Rusk and other Cabinet members meet today for a discussion of this problem based on new scientific information recently announced by the Defense Department.

Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the British Parliament today that a nuclear test-ban accord may be reached, but he said on-site inspections still will be needed.

Meanwhile, the U.S. disarmament chief, William C. Foster, discussed atomic test-ban safeguards at a closed session of the Senate disarmament subcommittee.

The chairman, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-Minn., reported that Foster had said the United States has not yet decided whether to modify the safeguards of atomic tests demanded by the Soviet Union as inspections are needed to prevent cheating.

And, in another nuclear development, the U.S. government kept a secretariat curtain around a U.S. House and Senate Survey report on a French atomic explosion in the Sahara Desert May 1.

DEFENSE DATA

The report contains technical data on detection of the distant blast, which forces on the current U.S. House and Senate Survey report that some details may be disclosed later.

Rusk flew to Geneva last week to sign accords on the neutralization of Laos. This provided the opportunity for the latest series of discussions with Gromyko on the Berlin dispute.

Rusk is understood to have stressed heavily the U.S. position that withdrawal of American, British, and French forces from West Berlin was demanded by the Soviet Union is completely negotiable.

Gromyko is understood to have argued that West Berlin constitutes a huge for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and that Soviet security interests there are involved.

Kansas Highway Crash Kills Four GIs, 3 Others

HIGHLAND, Kan., (AP)—Seven people were killed Wednesday night in a head-on collision on U.S. 26 a mile east of this northeast Kansas village.

The State Highway Patrol said that the victims were army men stationed at Fort Leavenworth near Denver, Colo.

Baker and Nagle GOP Opponents

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is another in a series of articles published by The Pontiac Press to aid voters in the Aug. 7 primary. Only those offices in which there is a contest will be covered.

Two Republicans who turned to politics at opposite stages of their careers are opposing each other in the GOP primary for 4th District state representative.

Incumbent Rep. Raymond L. Baker, who made good on his first political try after retiring as a pharmacist and druggstore owner, is matched against Terrence E. Nagle, a 27-year-old manufacturer representative seeking his first public office.

Baker, 44, of 304 Cumberland Road, Berkley, made his political debut two years ago with two tight districts over opponents.

In the GOP primary he whipped John A. Tins for after first unofficial returns showed Tins the winner and in the general election he beat incumbent Democrat S. James Clarkson by only about 1,000 votes.

EX-COUNCIL MEMBER

Baker, a former member of the Berkley City Council, is a graduate of Lake Orion High School and the Detroit Institute of Technology's College of Pharmacy.

Baker and his wife June are the parents of four children.

Nagle and his wife Loretta have five children, ranging in age from 4 months to 5 years. The young family lives at 11058 Birchwood St., Southfield Township.

Active in the Republican party for about three years, Nagle has served as precinct captain in his community.

He is a graduate of St. James High School in Detroit and attended Jackson College, Highland Park Community College and the University of Detroit.

Nagle operates his own sales firm.

Showers Drench Parts of Texas, Rockies, East

By The Associated Press

The day of showers and thunderstorms poured down on a section of the central Atlantic seaboard early today and the Southeast and Rocky Mountain areas.

Shortly after midnight, a heavy rain struck parts of Texas. About one inch of rain fell in an hour at Fort Worth, sometimes accompanied by winds up to 60 miles per hour.

The storm moved on to Dallas where more than 1 inch of rain fell in 15 minutes and nearly 3 inches fell in 45 minutes.

A funnel cloud was reported in the Dallas vicinity around midnight, but no confirmation or reports of injuries or damages were made.

Rain also fell over parts of Arizona, Colorado, eastern Washington, Montana, central New York state and over West Virginia.

Affection Takes Little Time

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE M-475: Bertha K., aged 31, has been married six years and has two youngsters.

"I'm afraid we are headed for a divorce, though," she spoke sadly. "My husband and I are of such different temperaments. I come from a Southern family where affection and love were shown by kisses and embraces."

DR. CRANE

"For example, until I left home for college, I never failed to kiss mother and daddy goodnight. If relatives visited us, we always kissed."

"My father was very fond of my mother and held her on his lap on many occasions. I can well remember seeing him kiss her."

"Then I married my husband, who was a very successful young attorney. He had never been urgent about kissing me before marriage, but I thought that was due to his feeling that excessive petting should not occur before the wedding ceremony."

CRAVE AFFECTION
"Now, however, I have learned that he doesn't relish kisses. His home life was the very opposite of mine. He tells me, for example, that he can never remember seeing his father and mother kiss each other."

"He thus has grown up without developing what you call the habits of externalizing affection in kisses, embraces, and other symbolic evidences of love which wives desire."

"Dr. Crane, I can't live in this kind of environment. Either I must become cold and indifferent, which I'm afraid is impossible, or he must grow more affectionate. Do you think he is too old to change?"

EXTERNALIZED LOVE

If a man had grown up without learning the simple habit of brushing his teeth twice per day, would he then be too old to cultivate this excellent habit? Of course not!

Nor is a man of 30 or even 70, too old to realize that success in marriage depends upon cultivating those habits which promote harmony and in discouraging the others which disrupt it.

It is normal and natural for the average wife to crave affection from her husband, at least to the extent of kisses and fond embraces.

She also likes flowers or candy, birthday remembrances and other symbolic evidences of a husband's high regard for his wife.

It may seem unromantic for me to liken the habits of kissing and embracing a wife, to another social habit like brushing one's teeth, but I have done so advantageously.

Not all races of mankind express their affection to each other by kisses or hugs. Some rub noses, for example. Many modern husbands think the fact they give their wives the weekly pay check should be sufficient external evidence of their regard and devotion.

WANT WORDS

Repeatedly I have warned you husbands, however, that women want variety and are especially desirous of words of praise and affection!

A professional man, such as Bertha's husband, must deliberately cultivate the social habits which are necessary to the success of his home.

A daily kiss or two, plus a fond embrace and an honest compliment for her, need not consume a total of five minutes per day, yet they are excellent insurance for a happy home.

It is folly to jeopardize a marriage, fear children apart from their parents, and publicly advertise your marital bankruptcy, when five minutes per day will avoid it. That's no longer than it takes to brush your teeth night and morning.

Meet in Moose Home

The Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 360, met at the Moose Home Sunday. The meeting was then turned over to the college of regents.

The class was in honor of Mrs. Richard Dawson, a new member of the college. Mrs. Harold Finn received her red tassel after a year as a member.

Prior to the open meeting a short business meeting was held during which Mrs. Finn was elected recording secretary. She will be installed at the next meeting on Aug. 6.

Miss Phouhar Feted

The Raymond Phouhars of Lakeview Drive announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Barbara Anne to Lynn T. Ealy, son of the Kenneth Ealys of Boston Avenue.

Mrs. Donald Preston of Silver Valley Drive, Orion Township, honored the bride-elect Tuesday evening at a personal shower.

Mrs. Fred Warren of Amherst, Ohio, attended her granddaughter's party, besides Mrs. Phouhar and Mrs. Ealy, mothers of the engaged couple. Sisters of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Herbert Gaeth, Mrs. Russell Grover and Jean Ealy, together with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Ealy, all of Waterford, joined some 30 other guests from the Pontiac area.

The First Christian Church has been reserved for the Aug. 25 nuptials.

Berry-Cook Rite

Judy Kay Cook and Joseph D. Berry exchanged wedding vows and rings before Rev. Edward J. DeGeyer at a nuptial Mass in St. Lawrence Catholic Church, Utica.

After an evening reception in the Knights of Columbus Hall, the couple left for Reading, Pa., and New York City. They will reside on Harting Court.

Daughter of the Verlin Cooks of Utica Road, Utica, the bride appeared in white silk organza over taffeta, styled with long-sleeved bodice of Chantilly lace. Fabric roses accented the chapel train. Her veil of imported silk illusion fell from a wreath of roses and she carried white carnations, Stephanolis and ivy.

Attendants wearing Jeon-length blue chiffon, included matron of honor, Mrs. Paul Weishaar, who carried a basket of yellow daisies and bridesmaids Mrs. Max Ordway, Judy Borkowski and Judy Lemanski, all of Utica who carried baskets of white daisies.

The bridegroom, son of the Merle Berrys of Kemp Street, had Paul Weishaar for his best man. Ushers included Max Ordway, and William Wagner of Utica, and Robert Petrusch.

Among out-of-town guests were the Bruce Gildersleeves, Shillington, Pa., the John Schiers, Sandusky, Mrs. Mose Cooper, Boyne City, the Charles Stutzmans, Orchard Lake, the Dean Berry, Monticello, Ill.; Mrs. Nellie Woods and Les Krieger, Chicago; the David Timbrooks, Northville; the Gerald Alligs, Madison

The Fair Way

Just Off Green? Try Your Putter

Written for NEA

When your ball is just off the green on a smooth approach or the apron, it usually is advisable to putt. It depends on your lie, the distance from the hole — and your own confidence.

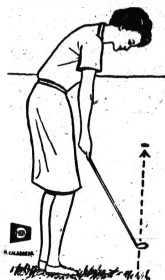

If your ball is in deep grass or has an uphill lie, it probably would be best to chip or pitch.

Undulations or hazards between the ball and the pin may rule out putting in favor of the air route to the cup.

FEEL CONFIDENT?

After taking everything into consideration, if you have confidence you can reach the hole with your putter, use it.

If you do putt from off the green, some shoulder action—regulated by the distance your
