Highway Bill Moves to Conference Committee

Cancer and Leukemia Virus Discovered by VA Research

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Veterans Administration physician has isolated a virus that has caused cancer and leukemia and can be transmitted from one generation to the next, Congress has been informed.

The Veterans Administration, reporting this "rather startling" discovery to a House Appropriations Committee, said another VA researcher has developed a sort of sonar device which, through electronic soundings into deep body tissues, "may prove most effective" in early diagnosis of cancer.

Dr. William S. Middleton, chief medical director of the veterans agency, said the virus finding of Dr. Ludwik Gross, of the Bronx, N. Y., Veterans Hospital, could prove "one of the greatest advances" yet made in the search for a cancer cure.

In closed-door testimony made public today Dr. Middleton listed the two cancer developments among a dozen accomplishments of VA's research program. Subcommittee members had questioned whether the program was worth what it cost.

"If it is true," said Dr. Middleton of Dr. Gross' finding, "it is the best expenditure of money the government has ever made."

In a prepared statement the Veterans Administration said Dr. Gross had made two important discoveries.

"One is that certain types of cancer and leukemia are caused by a virus, and two, that the virus may be transmitted from parent to offspring in whom cancer or cancer-like diseases later develop," the agency said.

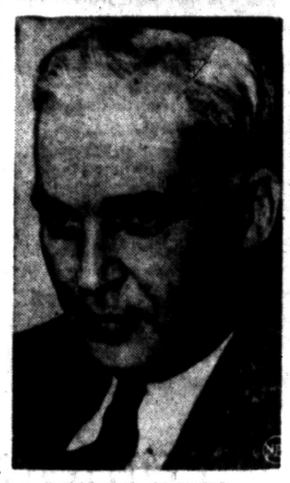

"This is of fundamental importance because it opens a whole new avenue of approach, not only to an understanding of the causes of cancer, but as well to their treatment. This is one reason that there is much optimism today in regard to the possibility of the successful treatment of cancer with chemicals and other drugs."

Under questioning Dr. Middleton emphasized that Dr. Gross' research must be carried "much further." Once the findings are fully established, he pointed out, a way to combat the virus still must be found.

A VA physician at Denver, not otherwise identified in the testimony, came up with the sounding device, VA reported.

Dr. R. A. Wolford, deputy chief medical director, said the device "is much on the order of an X-ray, but it works on supersonic sound."

Career Ends Paul V. McNutt, Ex-FDR Aide, Succumbs at 63

PAUL V. McNUTT

Loyal Democrat, Once Indiana Governor, Dies at New York Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul V. McNutt, 63, former governor of Indiana and ex-envoy to the Philippines, died here today.

McNutt, ill about six months, was flown home from Manila about two weeks ago, interrupting an around-the-world cruise with Mrs. McNutt.

Both his wife and his daughter, Louis, were with him when he died at his Fifth Ave. apartment about 8:30 p.m.

Cause of death was not disclosed.

McNutt had not been active in public affairs in recent years but maintained his interest in Democratic party affairs.

His business interests were mainly in the insurance field and he was counsel to several international insurance agencies.

McNutt first came into national prominence in 1928 when chosen commander of the American Legion. From that springboard he went into politics, became governor of Indiana and a presidential aspirant.

His White House ambition, which he harbored from early boyhood, glowed the brightest prior to the 1940 Democratic national convention.

McNutt toured the nation then, expounding his theories of government. But his candidacy was conditional on Franklin D. Roosevelt's not seeking a third term.

McNutt, who had been high commissioner to the Philippines in 1937-39 and again in 1945-46, was appointed first American ambassador after the islands gained their independence. It was he who hauled down the American flag at the independence ceremony in 1946. He held the ambassadorship for about a year, resigning in the spring of 1947.

He then entered private law practice in New York City and Washington. Insurance was his major law interest.

Dust Cloud Erupts in New Bomb Test

New 'Pocket' A-Bomb Carries Punch That's Equal to 33 Freight Cars of TNT

LAS VEGAS (UP) — The United States today added another tactical weapon to its atomic arsenal, a small, highly-portable A-bomb which can be planted by demolition crews to wipe out bridges, dams and troop concentrations.

Army engineers buried one of the newly developed pocket bombs in the Nevada desert yesterday and touched it off at 12:30 p.m. (3:30 p.m. EST).

The earth erupted with volcanic force and a bright red fire ball winked briefly over the proving grounds.

A dirty brown cloud, much wider than usual, boiled up to 10,000 feet before its own weight caused it to settle back, blanketing a 10-mile area.

It would have required 33 freight cars to carry the TNT necessary to approximate the yield of a pocket bomb.

It was the first underground shot since 1951. The AEC announced the bomb was assembled and planted by the Army Corps of Engineers and ordnance troops, rather than AEC scientists. Some 280 troops watched the blast.

Observers on Mt. Charleston, 45 miles from the test site, did not feel a shock wave or hear the explosion. They estimated the "satchel" bomb was equivalent to 1,000 tons of TNT, considerably smaller than previous shots in the 1955 test series.

The detonation was postponed several times during the morning because of unacceptable surface winds. An underground blast throws up heavily radioactive dust and debris, and the AEC did not want any part of the cloud blown over Las Vegas or other communities.

Meanwhile, during combined Army-Navy war games along the California coast, "Operation Surfboard" troops went ashore equipped with simulated "satchel" bombs with which to wipe out an enemy guided missile station.

House Vetoes All Amendments Made by Senate

Concession to Northern Counties May Iron Out State Road Hassle

LANSING (AP)—The Senate sent the embattled highway bill into conference today after the House rejected all of the Senate's amendments.

A strong House force retreated yesterday after pressing for discussion of the Senate amendments on the floor of the House.

Following a Democratic caucus, Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit), minority floor leader, agreed to reject all the amendments and send the bill back to the Senate immediately.

Carey and his followers had hoped to knock out objectionable amendments on the floor and save the bill from burial in a conference committee.

When the measure hit the Senate floor late yesterday, a motion was made to delay action on it until today.

This was seen as a bid for time in which to engineer a House-Senate trade.

Legislators said a move was afoot to end the dispute between the two chambers by giving northern Michigan counties one million dollars annually for snow removal.

In return for House support of this plan, the Senate would agree to delete the controversial "Roy Amendment," which gives 68 sparsely populated counties the lion's share of a gas tax increase at the expense of 15 heavily populated counties.

Opposition to the amendment, which was introduced by Sen. Leo H. Roy (R-Hancock), is strong in both chambers. Opponents say the Wayne County Road Commission would lose one million dollars annually if the amendment becomes law.

The amendment calls for distributing the counties' share of a 1½ cent per gallon gas tax increase on the basis of primary road mileage.

Under the present system, the counties' share is split up according to road mileage, population and car registration.

In the House, there is plenty of sentiment against the Roy Amendment, and strong support for a 15 per cent truck license increase.

Carey also favors a provision of the Senate bill that gives 75 per cent of the gas tax increase to the state and 25 per cent to cities and counties.

Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City), chairman of the House Highways Committee, is violently opposed to the 75-25 breakdown, however.

Peltz, a strong power in the House, wants the additional revenue to be distributed according to the present formula—44 per cent for the state, 37 per cent for counties and 19 per cent for cities.

French Senate Smashes Red Attempt to Kill Pacts

PARIS (UP) — The French Senate, protected from Communist demonstrations by cordons of police, smashed a surprise Red attempt inside the Senate today to defeat ratification of German rearmament on a snap vote.

Communist Sen. Jean Chaitron launched the Reds' surprise blitz with a demand for an immediate vote on an amendment that would have killed the arms treaties—the same kind that killed the European Defense Community last summer.

Only a few senators were present to vote against it, but after a brief exchange of arguments Deputy Speaker Yves Esteve ruled the motion be voted upon only at end of the general debate—when it can be easily defeated.

The amendment asked France to hold up ratification and press for a Big Four meeting to set up a Soviet-type European collective security system.

President Eisenhower's suggestion for exploratory Big Four talks already had given a sharp boost to ratification chances.

Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay goes before the Senate today to add his voice to ringing assurances given yesterday by Premier Edgar Faure.

The Communist opposition appeared to be weakening rapidly as the Senate, or Council of the Republic, met for the second day of a three-day debate. No major setback appeared in the making.

The Communist newspaper L'Humanite proclaimed "the battle isn't lost" but proponents of ratification said the only question now was the size of the winning majority.

George Seeks Western Unity

Knowland Agrees That Big 3 Talks Advisable Before Meeting Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) called today for new efforts to achieve free world unity as a prelude to a possible Big Four meeting this year on world peace.

Agreeing such unity is needed, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said in a separate interview it might be well to hold a preliminary "Big Three" conference to iron out policy differences before any full-dress talks with Russia.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has advocated a top-level meeting of the United States, Russia, Britain and France as soon as the West European defense setup is ratified and the way cleared for Germany to rearm.

He said he feels President Eisenhower's news conference comments yesterday indicate the President is willing to meet with the chiefs of other governments "if there is a reasonable hope of getting something done."

"After the Paris agreements for arming Germany have been ratified, I hope that work can be started on an agenda for a high-level conference," George said. "I would hope that such an agenda could be developed by fall.

"To my mind, it would be of tremendous value to ascertain how we and our friends are standing. I am afraid we don't know enough about what Great Britain is thinking or what the French are thinking. A conference with them would help us."

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he interpreted Eisenhower's remarks as indicating the President always is willing to meet with the Russians but wants some advance indication such a session would be fruitful.

"We had better get some unity among the free world allies before we have any such conference," he said. "There also should be a canvass of congressional sentiment about what American representatives would be prepared to discuss with the Russians."

Men's Breakdowns Blamed on Women

VIENNA (AP)—A prominent Austrian professor blamed women today for some—but not all—nervous breakdowns among business executives.

Prof. Erwin Stransky said in a lecture that women "drive men to earn more and more money to satisfy their desire for luxury." This, he declared results in nervous disorders among businessmen, known in Austria and Germany as "manager's sickness."

The professor added that another cause of nervous ailments is male vanity which prompts men to ruin their health in seeking success.

Struck by Auto, City Man Dies

Traffic Mishap Results in Fifth Fatality of Year Here

A 51-year-old Birmingham mail carrier died in Pontiac General Hospital today after Pontiac Police reported he had been struck by an auto on Oakland avenue near Clark street.

Lt. Joseph Koren, head of Pontiac's traffic and accident bureau, said the death of Ralz Capling of 203 N. Cass Ave., is the fifth so far this year resulting from a traffic mishap.

The city experienced five traffic deaths for the entire year in 1954, according to police records.

Hugh R. Ambler, 18, of 40 Lorraine Ct., a produce clerk, was quoted by police as saying he was unable to stop his car in time to avoid the accident. He told Sgt. Robert Cole that Capling seemed to "jump in front of my car, only 10 or 15 feet away. I was going south about 30 miles an hour."

Police have asked for an autopsy to determine the cause of death, according to Sgt. Clayton Randolph.

Service is scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday from the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham, with graveside service at Verona Hills Cemetery in Huron County near Bad Axe at 2 p.m.

He is survived by his wife, Isabel; a daughter, Mrs. Nolan Epley of Galesville, Texas; two sons, Charles R., with the U.S. Army in Australia, and William J. at home; a brother, Grant of Birmingham and two grandchildren.

Mr. Capling had been a member of the Evangelical Church and the Birmingham-Bloomfield Township Metropolitan Club, Spirit No. 6.

Absentee Voter Ballots Ready at City Hall

Absentee voter ballots for the spring election are now available at City Hall, City Clerk Ada R. Evans announced today.

Voters unable to be at the polls April 4 may either pick up the ballots and return them by mail, or mark them immediately at City Hall, Mrs. Evans said.

Only the voter himself may obtain the ballots. Otherwise a request for absentee ballots must be mailed to Mrs. Evans' office.

A form will be sent the applicant. Upon return by the voter of the signed form, the clerk's staff will mail the absentee ballots.

Deadline for obtaining the absentee forms is 2 p.m. April 2. They must be returned to the clerk's office by voting day.

Pontiac Weather to Stay Chilly for Day or Two

Although bright, sunny skies gave the weather a deceiving spring-like appearance today, temperatures remained in the chilly 30's and promise to remain there for the next day or two.

The forecast is for partly cloudy skies tonight and tomorrow with a mercury drop tonight and continuing tomorrow, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau. The low will be from 22 to 26 tonight with a high of 36 to 40 tomorrow. Tomorrow night will be mostly fair but continued cold with a low of 24 to 28.

Yesterday in downtown Pontiac temperatures ranged from 25 to 44. This morning at 8 o'clock the mercury stood at 30 degrees, rising to 35 by noon and dropped to 33 at 2 p.m.

Volunteers Aid in Bonus Work

Korean Veterans May Obtain Help in Filing Application Forms

A small army of volunteer workers has been stationed in strategic spots throughout Pontiac and Oakland County to aid Korean War veterans fill out bonus applications.

The Cook Nelson American Legion Post, 206 Auburn Ave., Disabled American Veterans Post, 199 Auburn; The VFW Hall, 396 S. Saginaw St.; Marine Corps League and Amvets Post 86½ N. Saginaw and the Amvets Post Home on Oakland Avenue.

All will remain open until 10 p.m. nightly until the rush is ended.

Officials at the Oakland County Red Cross Chapter, 118 Franklin Blvd., and at UAW-CIO locals have offered their assistance in filling out applications.

Veterans organization headquarters and posts throughout the county also are manned, Cremer stated. He said his office at 1 Lafayette St., also will assist veterans' survivors in filling out forms.

Cremer warned that veterans must bring the original DD form 214 (separation from service) as well as a photostatic copy.

Find No Trace of Bank Bandits

FBI and Police Hunt for 2 Who Took $30,000 to $40,000 in Livonia

DETROIT (AP) — An FBI and police search failed to turn up a trace today of two armed men who took between $30,000 and $40,000 from a suburban loan office.

The pair held four employes and a federal bank examiner at gunpoint in the robbery of the Livonia branch of the First Federal Savings & Loan Assn.

One of the two men fitted a description of two other robbers who held up a branch of the National Bank of Detroit just across the street from the loan office two years ago.

Both of yesterday's pair were described as dark complexioned, between 35 and 40 years old and heavy set. One wore a red hunting cap and one a blue one.

NEW YORK (AP)—Preliminary estimates show that losses totaling 10 million dollars were caused by Tuesday's wind and snow storm that swept Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky, the National Board of Fire Underwriters said today.

The estimate was made on the basis of surveys made in the affected areas during the 24 hours following the storm.

Man's Body Found on Road at Brighton

BRIGHTON (AP)—A man's body, with a stab or shot wound in the breast, was found today at the edge of U. S. 16 three miles east of Brighton.

State Police at the Brighton post said papers on the body carried the name of John Philip Ortiz, about 33, of Detroit.

Officers said a passing motorist found the body at about 7 a. m. and that it apparently had been thrown from a car.

Investigation was under way into circumstances of the death.

Anti-Fluoridation Claims Answered; Pediatrics Group Approves Program

Dr. John D. Monroe, director of public health for both Pontiac and Oakland County, today made public two telegrams he received today.

Tuesday evening, Dr. Campbell Harvey stated at an anti-fluoridation meeting that at a recent meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics, a session devoted to dental caries established by resolution that it would approve fluoride treatment of teeth—but not fluoridation of water supplies.

One of the telegrams Dr. Monroe received today was from Dr. E. H. Christopherson, M.D., executive secretary of the American Academy of Pediatrics. The telegram follows:

"Here is complete text of resolution adopted at Academy annual meeting October 1953: Whereas, no harmful effects of water containing one part in a million of fluoride have ever been demonstrated, and whereas, the addition of up to one part in a million of fluoride to communal water supplies has reduced dental caries in children from 55 to 65 per cent, and whereas, the American Medical Association, the American Dental Association, the U.S. Public Health Service and the National Research Council have all gone on record as recommending the fluoridation of communal water supplies, be it therefore resolved, that the American Academy of Pediatrics, in annual session, approve the addition of up to approximately one part in a million of fluoride to communal water supplies in order to reduce dental caries in the children of our nation."

At the same Pontiac meeting Tuesday evening, Dr. George Waldbott of Detroit stated that public health officials have ignored the causes of alleged fluorine poisoning he has cited.

The second telegram Dr. Monroe received today was from Dr. Howard Cadwell, director of the Wayne County Health Department. It stated:

"Wayne County Medical Society is expected officially to study soon the claim of Dr. Walbott of fluoride poisoning in the Grosse Pointe area. Long term, extensive studies elsewhere have shown no injury from proper fluoridation of water."

Schools Will Close

Oakland County Teachers to Attend Annual Institute at Birmingham Friday

Oakland County public schools will close Friday while teachers attend their annual institute in the Birmingham High School auditorium.

Speakers for the event will be the United States Treasurer, Ivy Baker Priest, and Lawrence Spivak, news commentator from Washington, D. C.

William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, will act as chairman for the morning meeting, which will present a panel discussion on current national and international political affairs. Moderated by Spivak, "The Press Meets the Professors," will have four speakers from Michigan's schools of higher education.

Dr. N. M. Efimenco and Dr. George Peek will participate from the University of Michigan; Dr. Joseph LaPolambara of Michigan State College and Dr. Ira Polley of Wayne University. These men are political science specialists.

IVY BAKER PRIEST

Music for the morning session will be provided by the Hazel Park High School Band under the baton of A. B. Clute, band director for Hazel Park schools.

At the afternoon session, The Honorable Mrs. Priest will deliver an address on "Federal Monetary Policies and Their Effect Upon Domestic Economy."

Musical prelude will be furnished by the Bloomfield Hills Senior Mixed choir with Clarence Luchtman doing the directing.

A committee composed of 30 members from the larger school districts of the entire county did the planning for the 1955 teachers' institute. William J. Emerson, Oakland County superintendent of Schools, annually assists with the program development.

Youth Stabbed in School Here

Knife-Wielding Student Is Scheduled to Appear at Hearing Today

A 16-year-old Pontiac Senior High School pupil was scheduled to appear for a preliminary hearing this afternoon after police learned the youth had stabbed another boy in class yesterday.

Sgt. Henry O. Hoyt, head of the juvenile department, said the youth, Larry Tunny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Tunny of 35 Oak Hill St., would be accompanied by his parents during the hearing in Oakland County Juvenile Court.

According to police, the victim of the stabbing, Bruce Crager, 16, of 53 Euclid St., required five stitches in the left groin. Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of detectives, said Crager at first reported to school and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital authorities that he had been hurt while working with machinery.

Police learned of the stabbing, which occurred at 10:15 a.m. in Room 156, about 5 p.m. yesterday after Patrolmen Robert Hellner and Leroy Hartman picked up Tunny and Herbert Hay, 15, of 575 Rosewood St., who had been fighting in an alley behind Saginaw and Huron Sts. Crager and several other boys witnessing the fight also were questioned by Hoyt who then learned of the stabbing.

Hoyt, conducting an investigation of the incident today, quoted Crager as saying "Tunny got mad during a spit-ball fight when the teacher was outside the room and he stabbed me with the knife."

Police said they confiscated the 3½-inch blade knife from Tunny. Wheaton today advised parents to strip their children of pocket knives before sending them to school. He said several stabbings, involving youths, had occurred here recently.

Death of Factory Worker 'Accidental'

The death of a 21-year-old Southfield Township factory employe was ruled accidental today and a co-worker, who had been held for investigation of manslaughter, was released.

Harold B. McGee, 21, of Detroit, collapsed about 15 minutes after a snowball fight led to a scuffle with Lavon Lowe, 21, of Detroit, who worked on the same stamping machine at the Walway Products Co., 19270 Southfield Rd.

McGee was dead on arrival at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital. A doctor's examination yesterday showed a steel sliver 2½-inches long had pierced the victim's chest and punctured his heart. He apparently pressed against the sliver during the scuffle.

Lowe was found blameless after being held yesterday in Oakland County Jail.

Returns to Canada Via Normal Route

DETROIT (AP) — Jean Claude Simard, who risked his life in a daring attempt to enter the United States, is back in his native Canada today.

He went home yesterday the normal way, via the tunnel connecting Detroit with Windsor, Ont., and with him went a sharp word of caution from the U. S. government.

Jean, 23, is the French-Canadian who tried to cross into the United States Monday night on a catwalk of the 155-foot high Ambassador Bridge spanning the Detroit River. Police and firemen had to rescue him.

He pleaded guilty in Federal Court to attempting to enter at a "place not designated by the immigration service." Judge Thomas P. Thornton gave him a six-month suspended sentence and a warning.

Jean, son of a Quebec prison guard, said he didn't mind his two-day stay in jail because "they serve good food."

Wing Lake School Plans Varied Summer Program

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — An innovation is the recreation program starting here this summer. Co-sponsored by the Board of Education and Wing Lake School PTO, the six-week program of varied activities will begin June 27 and end Aug. 5, at Wing Lake School.

Kindergartners through sixth graders may attend activities from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Mrs. Max Miller, co-president of the PTO, said the response has been overwhelming. "We had planned originally to limit the program to 100, but we already have an enrollment of 75," she said. However, if the number swells to much more than 100, Mrs. Miller said they hope to get extra teachers to accommodate everyone.

Enrollments will not be accepted after April 1, but Mrs. Miller said board members will take registrations from 1 to 3:30 p.m. next Tuesday at the school.

The program will be directed by William McGuire, fifth grade teacher at Wing Lake, plus an art teacher, with parents also assisting.

Children will be given an opportunity to take part in those things which interest them, but a varied program will include baseball, badminton, tennis, a nature club, music, picnics, story telling, carpentry, ping pong, arts and crafts.

Superintendent of Schools Eugene L. Johnson called the program, "a pilot course in what we hope to see expanded to include teenagers and adults. This is just the beginning of a plan to make our schools a year round facility for the community," he said.

Another step toward increasing summer use of school facilities, in the form of summer school programs has also been announced by Johnson. The first, set up on both an enrichment and academic scale, will be held for four weeks beginning June 27.

Small classes will meet for two hours a morning to study reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling, and similar subjects. While some remedial work will be offered, the session will also include supervised recreation and art and crafts.

For junior and senior high school students, a four-week personal typing course is being offered for two hours each morning. Small tuitions will be charged for all programs. The board will release further details soon.

McNutt Aspired to Top U.S. Job

Faithful FDR Follower Never Quite Managed to Become President

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That epitaph is perhaps most apt for Paul Vories McNutt, long-time high federal official and faithful follower of President Roosevelt, who died today in New York.

When he was over 50 years old, he added the heavy responsibilities of America's first Manpower Commissioner to those of Federal Security Administrator with the assurance of a man who had felt destiny calling him to the presidency for nearly all his life.

Law and war furnished the foundation of his career, although political opponents described him as "a lawyer who never tried a case, a soldier who never fired a gun."

He got a law degree from Harvard in 1916 after graduating from Indiana University, became a major during the first world war as an instructor in training camps.

In 1932 he was elected Indiana's first Democratic governor in 16 years. His administration previewed or paralleled Franklin D. Roosevelt's "New Deal" in all except spending He reorganized the state government, consolidating 169 departments into eight and gave himself the power to hire and fire all employes, except chief deputies of elected officials. He claimed his administration erased a $7,000,000 deficit and left a surplus of $10,000,000.

When he left the governorship, President Roosevelt made him high commissioner of the Philippines. Many thought this would eliminate him from the public eye but dramatic events kept his name before the public back home.

Meanwhile, the McNutt - for-President movement had been given substance by the organization of clubs in Indiana in 1938. In February of that year he returned to Washington to report and Indiana boosters gave him a large tea and cocktail party to launch his campaign for the nomination in 1940.

When the President was renominated for a third time and Henry A. Wallace was named as Vice Presidential candidate, McNutt yielded his ambitions gracefully saying, "I am loyal to the man who is my chief."

The President made him Social Security Administrator in 1939 and Manpower Commissioner in 1942. He was a prodigious worker at both jobs.

He was born at Franklin, Ind., July 19, 1891, the son of John Crittenden and Ruth (Neely) McNutt.

He was married April 20, 1918, to Miss Kathleen Timolat, Minneapolis-born daughter of a family of French ancestry. They had a daughter, Louise, born in 1921.

Pontiac Deaths

William Potter

William Potter, 59, of 15 Grande St. died suddenly yesterday afternoon while at work at the Baldwin Rubber Co. He had been ill three months.

Born April 19, 1895 in Watson, Ill., he was the son of Charles and Lockerbie Jennette Potter. On May 14, 1923, he was married to the former Mary Daight in Sanford, Maine.

Coming here from Watson 25 years ago, Mr. Potter was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society, and was a veteran of World War I.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Josephine Martin of Watson and a brother, James F. Potter of Detroit.

Arrangements will be announced later by the Brace-Smith Funeral Home.

Knowing When to Laugh Important for Secretary

CHICAGO (INS)—One of the most important qualities of a secretary is to know when to laugh, according to Wilbert E. Scheer, of the Office Management Association of Chicago.

Scheer said a clever secretary will laugh at her boss' jokes, funny or not.

On the other hand, he advised, "Never laugh except with him or at yourself, not at him."

William Jernick Plans to Visit Here Tomorrow During State Tour

Grand Exalted Ruler William J. Jernick of Nutley, N. J., national leader of the Elks, will visit Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810 tomorrow afternoon on a tour of Michigan units.

He will officiate at groundbreaking ceremonies about 2:30 p.m. for the new $325,000 addition to the Elks Temple at 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

Officials of the local lodge, along with state officers, will be on hand for the ceremonies. Jernick will be accompanied here by Grand Leading Knight Benjamin Watson of Lansing, the Elks' second highest ranking national officer.

Jernick, a corporation executive and former mayor of Nutley, was elected to the Elks' top office last year. This will be his first visit to Michigan.

Health Service Set to License Salk Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service says it will move quickly to license use of the Salk anti-polio vaccine if the official report on field trials is favorable and contains satisfactory technical data.

The results of the study are to be announced at a scientific meeting in Ann Arbor, Mich., April 12.

"We are keenly aware of the short time interval between now and the start of the polio season," Asst. Surgeon Gen. David E. Price said yesterday.

"We will do absolutely everything we can toward licensing as expeditiously as possible, assuming the reports are favorable."

The project was set up by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It contracted with the University of Michigan to make the field study to evaluate effectiveness of the vaccine on 440,000 school children in this country last year.

Ike Nominates Two for Advisory Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Joseph S. Davis of Stanford, Calif., and Raymond J. Saulnier of New York, both professional economists, to be new members of his Council of Economic Advisers.

Davis, 69, would succeed Walter W. Stewart whose resignation, effective April 30, was accepted by the President today.

Saulnier, 46, would succeed Neil H. Jacoby whose resignation became effective Feb. 16.

The nominations are subject to Senate confirmation.

Marines Due in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The transport Gen. William M. Black was scheduled to arrive today with 2,673 men of the 1st Marine Division, returning home from Korea.

American Motors Corp., Union Will Meet April 13

DETROIT (AP) — Exploratory talks between American Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers preparatory to actual contract negotiations will start April 13.

Similar talks already have been completed between the union and General Motors and Ford.

The UAW is expected to push its demand for a guaranteed annual wage first at either GM or Ford. But it has announced plans to demand a GAW plan throughout the auto industry.

A contract covering 18,000 UAW workers in American Motors' Wisconsin auto plants expires May 31, about the same time as contracts with GM and Ford run out.

The Day in Birmingham

Extra Town Hall Series Promised Ticket Seekers

BIRMINGHAM — An added Town Hall Series has been announced by St. Anne's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church, to accommodate the many ticket seekers who would otherwise have been left out of the 1955-56 season.

Because of overwhelming response to advance sales, the sponsors today announced a Thursday morning duplicate series in addition to the usual 11 a.m. Friday programs. These will begin in October.

A spokesman for the guild said that applicants whose checks were received after seats for the Friday lecturers were sold out have been notified, giving them the first chance to subscribe to the Thursday series.

Celebrity luncheons will follow on both days at Birmingham Country Club.

Under the expanded program, Pontiac residents can now be accommodated. Tickets may be obtained by writing to the Birmingham Town Hall. (A subscription blank also will be found on page 47 of today's Press.)

Sponsors have completed arrangements for the six lectures and said today that Madame Wellington Koo will open the series on Oct. 20-21. Wife of the Chinese ambassador to Washington, she will speak on "What Is Really Happening in China."

"What to Do Until the Psychiatrist Comes," will be the topic of Dr. Murray Banks, author, professor, practicing psychologist and humorist. He will speak on Nov. 10-11.

On Dec. 1-2, Anna Russell, international concert comedienne and star of Broadway, symphony, cinema, opera, records and television will be the guest.

Richard Gump, president of Gump's store of imports in San Francisco, will explain that "Good Taste Costs No More" when he appears Jan. 26-27.

Aubert Lavistida will present his widely known films on South America Jan. 12-13. Closing the series on Feb. 9-10 will be Virgilia Peterson, moderator of the TV panel, "Author Meets the Critic." She will lecture on books and plays.

* * *

First general meeting of the newly-formed PTA group at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Catholic School will be held at 8 tonight.

* * *

Final Lenten Family night at Embury Methodist Church will begin at 6:30 tonight, with the Rev. Emil Kontz, pastor of the First Baptist Church, as guest speaker.

Frederick P. Rheinfrank

Service for Frederick P. Rheinfrank, 66, manufacturers' representative handling industrial machinery, will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Entombment will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Mr. Rheinfrank, who made his home in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., in the winter and at 19481 Beverly Rd., during the summer, died yesterday at his Florida residence. His body will be brought here tomorrow.

He is survived by his widow, Alva; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Hartner of Birmingham, Mrs. Robert Hawkes of Grand Island, N.Y.; his mother, Mrs. Louise Rheinfrank of Detroit; two sisters; and seven grandchildren.

Formosa is only 90 miles distant from the China mainland.

Audit of Books Starts

State auditors this week began the audit of Oakland County's books for 1954. Assistant Treasurer Lloyd Sibley said preliminary figures on last year's receipts and expenditures would be ready within a week or ten days.

MSC Bill Wins Senate Test

Solons Agree to Send Measure to Committee in Favor of 'MSU'

LANSING (AP)—Advocates of university status for Michigan State College won the first test of strength in the Senate yesterday.

Twenty of the 34 senators—two more than a majority—joined hands to send the bill to the friendly Judiciary Committee rather than to the Senate Education Committee which was reportedly hostile to naming Michigan State College "Michigan State University."

The bill passed the House Tuesday by a big majority.

Backers of the bill in the Senate said they considered the test vote on the bill's committee assignment an augury of victory.

They said they believed there were five votes among the seven Judiciary Committee members to report the bill back to the floor. The committee is headed by Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing), MSC's "home senator."

The move to keep the bill out of the Education Committee, headed by Sen. Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont), was made by Sen. Donald E. Smith (R-Owosso).

Smith and Hittle dolled the move up in constitutional arguments, but senators said privately they feared Vander Werp's committee would have killed the bill. It was in the Education Committee in the House.

Smith said there were "constitutional questions" involved in renaming MSC and that he thought the seven attorneys on the Judiciary Committee could consider the bill better than the education committee, which has two attorneys on it.

Michigan Senators to See CD at Work

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Senate will visit the new federal Civil Defense Headquarters at Battle Creek this afternoon.

The senators planned an 11 a.m. session today so that they could get away about 1 p.m. and travel by private autos to Battle Creek.

They will hear talks by federal Civil Defense officials, tour the headquarters, watch a mock alert test and see last minute Civil Defense films.

April Is Cancer Education Month

"Modern cancer treatment is now saving one out of every three patients," states Dr. Fred Alexander of Columbia University. But do YOU know the seven danger signals of cancer?

That is the aim of the American Cancer Society . . . to see that you do.

* * *

April is designated as Crusade Month, from an educational standpoint.

Two hundred persons were saved from cancer deaths in Oakland County during 1954, according to the Southeastern Michigan division of the American Cancer Society. The society wants to make it many more in 1955.

Frederick C. Ziem of Pontiac, Oakland County prosecutor, has been named chairman of the Crusade for North Oakland County. Ziem received both his A.B. and law degrees from the University of Michigan. He belongs to various organizations, and is a past commander of the Jimmy Dey Post 12 Amvets and the Pontiac Council of Veterans.

Mrs. Edward W. Williams of Rochester will be his co-worker and assistant. She has been a teacher in the Michigan public schools, graduating from the University of Michigan in 1929. Mrs. Williams is well known for her evaluation of books for the Michigan Educational Association Journal, and is a consultant by various schools on children's literature.

The North Oakland County Unit is part of the Southeastern Michigan Division of the Cancer Society. The Pontiac area receives a portion of its funds through the United Fund.

During April the society wants to urge that each and every one of you learns more about cancer . . . for the lives of thousands of persons can be saved by early diagnosis and treatment.

Bloomfield Hospital Men to Attend N.Y. Institute

The first Eastern Institute of the American Osteopathic Association in New York Friday and Saturday will be attended by Clyde Marshbanks, Bloomfield Hospital administrator and Dr. William Kolbe, secretary-treasurer, staff of physicians, Bloomfield Hospital.

Theme of the Institute is to be "Better Hospital Administration."

Liquor Credit Bill Horrifies Sponsors

LANSING (AP)— Horror-stricken senators said today they had no intentions of sponsoring legislation allowing package liquor and beer dealers to sell to the customers on credit.

Such a bill was introduced yesterday but Sens. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) and John Minnema (R-Traverse City), two of the sponsors, said it was all a mistake.

A bill drafter was at fault, they said.

Both men said the bill was supposed to allow package beer-wine dealers (SDM) and package liquor dealers (SDD) to "buy" liquor on 30-days credit—not "sell" on credit.

"We'll certainly fix that bill up in committee," Minnema said.

George Washington's home was named Mount Vernon by Lawrence Washington in honor of Admiral Vernon, his former commander in the British Navy.

House OKs Sale of Rubber Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House yesterday gave its approval to the sale of 24 government synthetic rubber plants to private interests for 310½ million dollars.

By a clear margin, it defeated a resolution by Rep. Doyle (D-Calif) that would have vetoed the sale of three of the plants, all in California, as a "package deal" to the Shell Chemical Corp. for 30 million dollars.

The House yesterday approved all the sales by a 283-132 roll call. That vote was on a resolution by Rep. Patman (D-Tex) to block the whole deal. Today's action was required by a separate resolution affecting only two plants in Los Angeles and a third in Torrance.

The Senate is considering a proposal by Sen. Morse (D-Ore) to veto the sales. They automatically go through Friday unless the Senate disapproves them.

New Hours Announced for Health Department

Beginning tomorrow, new office hours for the Oakland County Department of Health will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office will be closed Saturday.

Immunization clinic scheduled tomorrow evening has been cancelled, and shots will be given instead from 9 to 1:30 a.m. each Tuesday.

Easter Chicks in Rainbow Hues Illegal in State

LANSING (AP) — Easter chicks colored pink or other gay hues may be colorful, but they're not legal, the State Agricultural Department reminded today.

With the approach of Easter, the Bureau of Foods and Standards of the department warned that it is illegal to sell artificially colored animals in Michigan.

Nearly every year, Miles A. Nelson, head of the department said, there are reports of violations through the selling of artificially colored chicks or rabbits.

Merchants also were warned that a close check is being made on the sale of Easter candy.

Nelson said three chain stores in Escanaba recently were fined for displaying Easter candy under unsanitary conditions.

Fined $200 for Refusal to Let Dog Be Checked

ST.LOUIS (AP)—Marvin Stringer was fined $200 yesterday when he refused to turn over his tiny Chihuahua dog Pancho to city health authorities for a 10-day rabies check. Pancho is accused of biting an 8-year-old boy, who already is undergoing antirabies treatment.

Stringer claims turning the dog over would amount to a death sentence, that "Pancho is shy and will not accept food from anyone but me." He plans to appeal.

Experts Disarm Nuclear 'Duds'

Army Volunteers Have Grim, Dangerous Task of Bomb Disposal

FT. NIAGARA, N. Y. (UP)—A small group of Army volunteers here specializes in the dangerous art of disarming nuclear 'duds'—or A or H-bombs that fail to explode.

These "duds" are considered one of the grim and dangerous possibilities of atomic warfare.

While much of the bomb-disposal work is secret, it is known that ordnance disposal units have been designated to disarm nuclear duds and have been stationed near "target" cities.

The 40th Ordnance Detachment of the Second Antiaircraft Artillery Group is standing by here to render inert any Nike duds, as well as the 90mm shells now being used by the group.

The group will operate the Nike guided missile bases being built on the Niagara frontier.

Unlike conventional bombs which often were exploded in place in World War II and in Korea, nuclear duds would have so much destructive potential that they must be disarmed.

Also, a dismantled nuclear bomb would tell U. S. experts the status of the enemy's atomic progress.

The danger of the work explains why the ordnance men must be volunteers and get extra pay. The men must have a disregard for danger that lets them tinker with a bomb that may blow them up.

Lt. Walter Korsgaard, commander of the unit, sees some rewards.

"Not many people can tell us how to do our work," he said. "And there's the pride in doing something everyone can't do."

Glider Fliers Find Private Sky Highways

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP) — Glider pilots have discovered their own private highways in the sky.

Scientists say these "highways" make it possible for the gliders to whip along at 100 miles an hour for distances that range from 20 to 100 miles.

There's only one trouble, according to the Air Force's Cambridge Research Center. These extra-high highways last only about an hour before deteriorating or disappearing.

The highways are formed by cumulus clouds—cauliflower-like formations caused by rising warm air. The clouds form parallel lines with their axis in the general wind direction.

Thus, they make excellent avenues for non-powered aircraft. Soaring along on these highways, the glider pilot will find updrafts aplenty to keep him aloft and moving fast.

But if a highway does lose its glider-enticing qualities, there's usually another not too far away, if the pilot will fly cross wind.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Ratification Spotlight Turns Toward France

With the approval of German rearmament and other Paris agreements by the upper house of parliament at Bonn, the ratification spotlight turns toward Paris.

The Bundesrat vote on the key agreement ending Allied occupation and approving rearmament was 29 to 9. In the absence of any objections, three other pacts were approved without a vote.

These would permit Allied troops to remain in West Germany and admit the Bonn Republic to NATO and to the new West European Union. The agreement internationalizing the coal rich Saar but leaving it linked economically to France, was approved 21 to 17.

Inability of the Socialists to get enough signatures on petitions to take the Saar agreement before West Germany's Constitutional Court is a good omen. It means that West Germany probably will be the ninth Nation to complete ratification. Only the signature of President Heuss now is needed.

He is withholding that action until he can estimate the chances for early completion of French ratification. Debate in the Council of State in Paris is scheduled for this week with final vote possibly by Friday.

If, as expected, the council follows the example set by the National Assembly, the way will be cleared for ratification by several other powers. These include Denmark, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and the United States.

★ ★ ★

Once these Nations act, materialization of the grand plan for Free Europe's military defense against Communism will be as assured as anything can be in this troubled world.

Senate Belatedly Votes Confirmation of Harlan

Needlessly delayed though it was, Senate confirmation of John Marshall Harlan of New York to be a U. S. Supreme Court Justice was approved overwhelmingly.

As a result of the 71 to 11 vote, the Nation's highest tribunal now can begin consideration of cases put aside because of confirmation delay. When it came to the showdown only two Republicans, Sens. Langer and Welker, joined nine Southern Democrats in opposing the New York jurist.

As Washington dispatches have shown since the nomination was sent to the Senate last November, opposition arguments were far from convincing. Sen. Langer's objections were based on the fact that Judge Harlan didn't come from his State or six others that never had been represented in the Cabinet or Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

Undoubtedly some Southerners objected because of a desire to delay the Supreme Court's action to implement its desegregation decision. Mississippi's Sen. Eastland opposed Harlan because he comes from a State whose people Eastland said "possess views and philosophies which are different from the viewpoints" of the rest of the Nation.

We think it fortunate for the country and for the court that so many Senators considered Judge Harlan eminently fitted for his work on the Supreme bench.

"The average man can tell you all he knows in two hours," says an educator. Not if we see him first.

Detroit's Red Wings Seven Times Champions

Unprecedented professional hockey history was written at Olympia when Detroit's Red Wings captured their seventh consecutive NHL championship.

This achievement was more remarkable because for much of the 70 game season the Red Wings were in second place behind Montreal's Canadiens. In fact the Detroiters had managed to gain first place eight different times only to be pushed back by their higher scoring rivals.

The Wings' victory in the game marked by the riot in Montreal put them on top by two points. The Canadiens' defeat of New York made the two teams all even again with only Sunday night's contest left to decide the issue.

From the outset there was little doubt about the result. The keyed up Wings whitewashed the demoralized visitors, scoring once in the first period and five times in the second with Ted Lindsay doing the hat trick.

Incidentally, Wings' Goalie Terry Sawchuk, by shutting out the Canadiens, won the Vezina trophy and $1,000 for the third time in six years.

It takes real championship caliber to come from behind the way Jack Adams' boys have done this season.

Even habitual sinners have to fight temptation — they are continually being tempted to do right.

You have to get up every morning with determination, if you are going to go to bed that night with satisfaction.

This Week's Storm Only a Mere Zephyr in Comparison

"Never did so little snow cause so much trouble," phones

Jake Vandewalker,

the Pontiac Trail veteran weather watcher in speaking of this week's storm. That blizzard of his boyhood days, on the first Monday in April, 1886, he says was the worst in his 80 years observation. Three feet of snow fell in 24 hours, and the drifts reached the tops of the show windows on Saginaw Street. All railroad and highway travel was paralyzed for several days. A tunnel was made through the snow to enter the old brick courthouse. "But we stayed at home and enjoyed it," says Jake, who continues, "Perhaps we now ought to have such a blizzard, so we could get acquainted with our own families."

The Exception to the Rule

David Lawrence Says:

Reds Trying to Discredit U. S. Security Program

WASHINGTON—When the attorney general of the United States discloses publicly how the present security system recently caught a federal employe who was stealing some of the highest secrets of the United States government and turning them over to an agent of a foreign government, it would seem to be news.

Yet little or no attention has been given to a certain paragraph in a speech delivered in Boston on Monday of this week and issued to the press corps in Washington that same day. The attorney general says:

"An example of the effectiveness of the employe security program is the case of Joseph Sidney Petersen Jr. He was a trusted employe of the National Security Agency, one of our most sensitive agencies. In the course of a security check, allegations arose which could have led to his dismissal under the executive order.

"In the ensuing investigation, information was obtained indicating Petersen might have illegally in his possession certain highly classified documents. Under the order, the investigation immediately was referred to the FBI.

"Petersen admitted having stored such documents in his apartment, where they were recovered, and also admitted furnishing contents of the documents to representatives of another government. He was arrested and indicted on three counts of the espionage laws. He finally entered a plea of guilty to one count and was sentenced to seven years in prison."

This is the first time it has been disclosed by the Department of Justice how Petersen was detected.

It is apparent that those who are trying to weaken the present security program by arguing that it is ineffective, or that it might hurt innocent persons, are not taking into account a case like that of Petersen, who was caught with the goods. To this day it has not been disclosed what other governments obtained the secret documents after they got into the hands of one foreign government that was not entitled to receive them.

Yet one editorial writer recently claimed that all this wasn't so bad after all because it was not proved that Petersen was a Communist or that he did what he did because of any Communist connections—as if it matters whether the motive can be clearly established when a security risk is proved to have betrayed his own government.

There is a widespread attempt to create a smokescreen around the security procedures so that a lot of steps can be interposed which will hamstring the detection process. One of the favorite methods of attack is to argue that all informants should be required to identify themselves in government proceedings—something that would dry up many sources of information for the FBI.

Some well-meaning persons believe in the theory that all confidential information should be disclosed in government procedures with reference to security risks. They are mistaken, of course. But, although many of the critics have no connection with Communists or communism, their criticism does not suddenly become valid for that reason.

For the aim of the Communists is to discredit the government's security program and impair the FBI, and they will win a big victory if government personnel hearings can be forced to adopt all the dilatory and obstructive procedures which were exhibited in Judge Medina's court when the eleven Communists were on trial. The attorney general in his Boston speech touched on this point when he said:

"It is becoming increasingly clear that the current violent attack against government witnesses and against the FBI's confidential sources of information has many of its roots in a Communist effort to stem the successful campaign against subversion."

The case of Harvey Matusow is pertinent. He now has been ordered to jail by a federal judge for contempt of court because the judge held he had lied in his attempt to reverse earlier testimony which had been corroborated by six other witnesses. The conspiracy by which Communists paid Matusow money to write a book that could be used in the plot to discredit government procedures in handling security risks now has been fully exposed and is a matter of record in a federal court in Texas.

But those left wing writers and cartoonists who hailed Matusow's alleged change of heart with enthusiasm haven't apologized to their readers. Some have merely continued to argue that, after all, the FBI should have known Matusow wasn't truthful in the first place. But the original testimony he gave in this case was corroborated at the time, and the principal person he then accused of being a Communist has since refused to deny under oath that he was a Communist.

What the FBI and the government didn't anticipate was that the Communists would win Matusow over and that a lot of people would swallow the claim that he now was telling the truth and didn't tell the truth before.

The Communist menace will not be defeated in this country unless all Americans, irrespective of their political inclinations, recognize the techniques of communism, especially when they dupe innocent people with their propaganda.

For Fluoridation Advice Ask Your Doctor or Health Department, Recommends R. S.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

When you have a severe pain in your abdomen, do you go to your next door neighbor to see what she thinks is wrong with you? When your children have a very high temperature and appear quite ill, do you go to the grocer on the corner to see what he thinks is wrong with your child?

From some of the letters I have been reading in this paper, I feel some people are not going to the proper source for information regarding fluoridation of their supply.

Ask your dentist, ask your family physician, ask your local health department. They have the factual information on this program.

R. S.

The Pontiac car is a leader in the automotive field. Why not help the city which bears the same name to continue to be outstanding in keeping its reputation for progress in the field of public health?

We progress only by adopting new ideas which have been proven beneficial by experts. Adding fluoride to our drinking water is just one more step in the direction of progress in the field of dental health.

Let's follow the lead of Grand Rapids and the 1,040 other communities that have adopted fluoridation for the protection of their children's teeth.

A. F.

A tip to the City of Pontiac. If the proposal for fluoridation of the city's water supply passes, it can get four tons of fluoride from Saginaw which was caught with a surplus after voters there decided they didn't like it.

Also Grosse Pointe votes April 4 on a proposal to discontinue fluoridation.

A Taxpayer

Previous to coming to Pontiac we lived in an area where fluoride was added to the drinking water. No one suffered any ill effects from drinking this water. One of the first questions we asked when we arrived here was whether the drinking water had sufficient fluoride in it and the answer was "no."

Having lived in an area where this program was in effect and having read many reports on other areas where the program has been in operation I believe Pontiac should add fluoride to its drinking water.

By adding fluoride you reduce future dental bills for filling teeth, cut bills for extractions and replacements.

Remember, if you wish to back your City Commission in its effort to provide a substantial protection against tooth decay, you must vote "No" on the proposal that would prevent your city commission from providing a fluoride-bearing water of one part per million.

Rocking Chair Contest Silly, Charges Reader

Will the rocking chair contest strike Pontiac? We have the polesitters, the marathon dancers, the pancake eaters and hamburg stuffers and many others and now a rocking chair contest held in a store window with a three minute recess every three hours. What will they contrive next?

What intelligent person cares who wins such a silly affair? If there are such beings as Martians or inhabitants on Venus and they should visit us and run into a rocking chair contest, or some other competitive affair like a bologna eating contest, wouldn't they decide that we were a silly world!

Some people love an innovation but who cares how many pies or doughnuts one can eat? We say again, who cares?

They have not added one gram to the world's betterment and if their contribution to humanity is chair rocking or some such effort, they deserve little of the world's thanks and no great wonder that they receive its ridicule. May God save Pontiac from such foolish crazes.

Foster Dulles probably doesn't care a squeak in a loose board what we think of him. He's been up and down in our book like teacher's thumb.

Now he's batting a fence-busting thousand on our scorecard for his speech on Formosa. The Democrats don't see eye-to-keyhole with Foster on the mootable subject. And Senator Morse is positively foaming at the upper lip.

Women Absolutely Wrong in Thinking They Lose Physical Appeal After 40

Miriam's story should be a challenge to all of you readers of detective tales. Hunting for buried motives in human behavior is just as fascinating as hunting for buried treasure and far more profitable in human happiness.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-382: Miriam D., aged 41, has an unusual complex.

"Dr. Crane, I can't go for more than a day or two without having a strong compulsion to patronize a beauty parlor," Miriam began.

"For example, two days ago I had my hair shampooed and set, but this morning I went back because I felt I simply had to have it done again. My hair dresser was insulted at my even thinking of repeating the work she did just two days ago.

"So she refused to touch my hair this soon. As a result I had to go to a different beauty parlor. But even this operator wouldn't set my hair again, for she saw it had only recently been done.

"My husband growls and yells at me for wasting so much money. I know I shouldn't need such beauty parlor work so often, yet something inside me drives me on till I feel I'll go crazy. What is wrong?"

In our childhood we are often figuratively branded or tattooed with the causes for later adult complexes.

And that was exactly what had happened in Miriam's case. As a child of 8, she had taken over the housework and the care of a 6-year-old sister when her mother had a new baby.

The baby was born so unexpectedly that the mother didn't have time to get a relative to look after the household. So the first day Miriam served as chief cook and housekeeper.

That afternoon a couple of neighbor women came over to see the new baby. When they learned that Miriam had shouldered the full responsibility of the home, one of the ladies said:

"Mariam certainly has an old head on her shoulders."

This was intended as a compliment, for it is an old saying in our language when we wish to indicate a child is precocious or unusually talented.

But Miriam didn't realize that this was intended as a compliment. She interpreted it as a comment about her looks.

Subconsciously, therefore, she tucked away the idea that "I have an old head on my shoulders." And to a youngster, an "old head" suggests wrinkles and a grandmotherly look. But the intervening duties and excitement of high school and early marriage problems, kept that idea buried in her subconscious.

When she passed her 40th birthday, however, she began to feel the uncertainty that has troubled millions of women.

For most women from the time of Eve clear down to the present day, have absorbed the idea that women are "on the shelf" at the menopause.

They think they then lose their physical appeal to their husbands. That idea is as fallacious as the thought among the contemporaries of Columbus that the earth was flat.

But as long as an idea is fully believed, even though it is entirely false, the resulting havoc is tremendous.

Miriam thus became unduly critical of her appearance. And this old idea about having an "old head" began to make her desperate. Which accounts for her unnecessary visits to beauty parlors every 48 hours.

It wasn't till our lengthy personal interview that I dug out of her subconscious mind these facts.

Send for my booklet "Menopausal Complexes of Men and Women," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. It will help you banish menopausal worries.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Be Sure Meat and Fish Are Thoroughly Cooked

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A correspondent says that for the past five months she has craved and eaten a good deal of raw carrot, raw string beans and parsley.

She is 32, has one child (as she puts it) and feels bored being at home so much with nothing to do—she can't afford art hobbies she likes. . .oh, yes, of course, she wonders what vitamin or mineral she lacks. Some day, I hope, I'll find such a query without this helpful suggestion. (If I'm more sarcastic today than ordinarily, let me explain that I just couldn't get up the nerve to do my rolls this morning.)

Come, come, now, madams, the correspondent's physician states that she is not pregnant.

That's unfortunate.

The correspondent seems noncommittal about everything but the "art hobbies" she can't afford.

The "child" she mentions so casually seems unwanted and unloved.

Whether unusual fondness for raw potato, carrot, turnip, celery, cabbage, lettuce, peas, beans, oatmeal, wheat, milk, eggs, oysters or other fish, beef, ham, ever indicates lack of this or that mineral or vitamin, no one knows.

Provided the food is fresh, clean, uncontaminated, and, in the case of fish, beef or pork, free from the eggs or larvae of parasites. Fish tapeworm (called broad tapeworm or Bothriocephalus in the larval stage may be present in pike, salmon, perch, trout. If man eats infested fish raw or inadequately cooked the larvae develop into tapeworms in the human intestine.

Beef tapeworm (called Taenia saginate), may be present in the larval stage in beef, and if such meat is eaten raw or very rare the larvae will develop into tapeworms in the human intestine.

Both fish and beef tapeworms are undesirable parasites but their presence rarely if ever causes any serious injury to health.

Raw or uncooked ham, pork or tongue, even though federal inspected, may contain the larvae of Trichinella (coiled in cysts visible only with microscope). When such raw or underdone ham, bacon, sausage is eaten the cysts dissolve, the parasites mature to adult worms barely 1-16th of an inch long, which get into the lymphatics and travel to all parts of the body. Trichinosis is a painful, sometimes fatal condition.

This is not an argument against meat eating, or against eating fish. It is just a reminder to be sure your meat or fish is thoroughly cooked.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Hannah Leaves on Arctic Trip

MSC President Heads U.S. Group Inspecting Installations in North

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State College president Dr. John A. Hannah will leave today on an inspection tour of defense installations in the Arctic.

Dr. Hannah is chairman of the U. S. section of the U. S.-Canadian Joint Board of Defense, which is arranging the trip.

Before returning around April 1, the party will have flown across the top of the continent from Thule, Greenland, to Point Barrow, Alaska, and will have made a number of stops at defense installations en route.

The purpose of the trip is to acquaint members of the Defense Board and others connected with the project with the progress made to date on the string of radar installations being constructed as a warning line against potential enemy air attacks on Canada and the United States.

The schedule calls for the party to assemble at Ottawa Thursday and to fly to Churchill, Manitoba, that day. The homeward flight March 30 will originate from Ladd Air Force Base in Alaska.

"I regret leaving the campus at this time amid our centennial celebration and when so many matters of importance to Michigan State are pending in the Legislature," Dr. Hannah said.

"However, this inspection trip has been in the process of planning for many weeks so I could not reasonably ask for a postponement."

All's Well Out Here

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UP)—Kern County claimed a world's record with completion of a 2,750-foot irrigation well near Edison. The well, located on the Guimarra brothers ranch, was reported to be the deepest irrigation well in the world.

They'll Give a Hoot

CONCORD, N. H. (UP)—Fifty-one OWLS will legislate in New Hampshire in 1955. The state's 399-member House of Representatives is graced by 49 women, and two other members of the Order of Women Legislators sit in the Senate.

Humane Society Plans Education Program Friday

Junior members of Oakland County Animal Welfare Society, Inc. have been invited to attend the group's first educational program of the year, scheduled tomorrow at 2 p.m. in LeBaron School.

Marion LeFaive, president, said girls and boys who join the organization now would be eligible to enter the spring and summer pet shows as well as other activities of the society.

The program will feature Patrolman Edison Storing of the Detroit Police Dept. and his trained doberman pinscher, Safety Girl. Speakers will include Charles Mortenson, Birmingham Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Burton Ross, Pontiac veterinarian; Dr. Frank R. Bates, head of the county animal welfare division, and Albert Sundell, county humane officer.

Dr. Joseph Zecchello to Speak Here Friday

The Rev. Joseph Zecchello, D. D. will speak Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Donelson-Baptist Church, 2227 Elizabeth Lake Road. He is editor of Convert Magazine published in Clairton, Pa.

The Rev. Mr. Zecchello speaks at seminaries, colleges and universities throughout the country. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Lee LaLone invites the public.

Didn't Quite Make It

BARRINGTON, R. I. (UP)—Barrington post office missed becoming first class last year by a few sacks of mail. It was $107 short of the $40,000 in receipts needed for a first class rating.

TRANSPARENT ADVANTAGES — An eyeful in or out of the hammock is Joan Brown, who is testing a new plastic at Cypress Gardens, Fla. The transparent hammock is only 10/1000 of an inch thick, yet it's strong enough to hold both Joan and Betty Bland, who looks good just standing there. Best thing about the hammock is that Joan can see everybody on the beach — and everybody can see her.

Gen. Van Fleet Goes to Korea to Trace GIs

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who lost his only son in the Korean War, returned today in civilian clothes seeking information about missing or captured men who served under him in Korea.

"I feel it is a sacred duty that mothers of those captured men should know the truth," the retired general said.

* * *

Although he has never said so, friends say the 61-year-old Van Fleet never has given up hope that his own son may still turn up alive.

Lt. James A. Van Fleet Jr., a B26 pilot, was reported missing after his first flight over North Korea in April 1952.

The general led the 8th Army from April 1951 to February 1953.

Officially 10,634 men are listed as missing and captured.

Fountain pen sales were about a million in 1920 and grew to 42 million in 1953, but still lagged behind the ball points which topped 122 million.

Under New Management

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A group of 85 Grand Rapids high school and junior college students ran departments and executive officers Wednesday at Wurzburg's Department Store as part of a business course project. Officials said the students work with regular store personnel in the one-day event.

Fugitive From Reds Gets Light Sentence

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A Copenhagen court gave a six-month suspended sentence yesterday to chauffeur Ion Cimpu, who fled the Romanian legation here six weeks ago with $850 government funds. He was placed on three years probation.

The court found him guilty of stealing. He said he had taken the money "due to the confusion." He turned most of it over to the Danish Foreign Ministry, which returned the full amount to the legation.

Cimpu has been granted political asylum over bitter Romanian protests.

Reds Condemn Black Market

Russia, Already Short of Food, Plagued More by Illicit Trade

MOSCOW (AP)—Black marketing in food is being sharply condemned in the Soviet press, especially in these days when the government is making great efforts to give Russia's millions more to eat.

There is a double market system in the Soviet Union. Prices in the state stores are fixed. Frequently you can't find certain meats, vegetables or other foods in the state stores. So you go to the free market, where peasants can sell their surplus. There you pay up to 200 per cent more for meat, for instance. That explains why some of the collective farmers have so much folding money.

* * *

Beyond these legal markets, there is also a black market. Its operators are frequently thieves, and always profiteers.

The newspaper Soviet Latvia, published in Riga, recently told how the women director of a state food department section was caught in "dirty profiteering affairs."

This director lined up a black marketing ring which made off with a ton of sugar, 200 pounds of butter and other foodstuffs from state stores. They peddled the sugar for 10 rubles (officially $2.50) a pound, and other produce at similar prices.

The police caught the profiteers with large stocks of stolen goods and 12,000 rubles (officially $3,000) in cash. They were handed over for prosecution.

Mull Strawberry Crop

PETOCKEY (AP)—Strawberries, a possible new profit for Emmet County farmers, will be discussed at a general meeting Thursday in the 4H Center Building. Three Michigan State College specialists will outline the area's possibilities for producing good strawberry crops and point out the best way of handling large scale plantings.

Ionia Farmer Honored

Decorating Hints by Louise Parrish

"Look into Every Nook and Cranny . . ."

Yes, look into . . . take note of every nook and cranny in your home. What do you see there? Empty forgotten corners? A hide-out for unattractive pieces of furniture? A catch-all for sundry knick-knacks?

Then take note and take a lesson from the above picture. See how this small space is attractively furnished with quaint ruffle-cushioned chairs and matching table. The cut flowers add a garden charm and freshness to the setting. And see the little shelf on the wall at the right. Here is an example of "know-how" with knick-knacks.

Yes, cozy corners, interesting furnishings, well-chosen period pieces (no matter what period), charming touches all make a home. But none of these can be shown off to their best advantage without just the right Rosenberger wallpaper. It's true —Rosenberger wallpaper really sets the setting. And notice the perfect paper here. It enhances the furnishings . . . sets them off and shows them off.

You can work the same wonders in your home with attractive wallpaper—from your most spacious room to all your "nooks and crannies". And you'll find just the right wallpaper at your Martin Rosenberger Wallpaper Store. All patterns from woodgrains to florals are constantly arriving at Rosenberger's. Imagine papering an average 12 x 14 ft. room for as little as $1.60.

So visit your Rosenberger Wallpaper Store for decoration ideas. Then select the perfect paper to carry out your decorating plans and complement your furnishings. Your Rosenberger store is located at 34 South Saginaw St.—at the Head of Water St.

U.S.-Nationalist Talks Resumed on Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Senior American and Chinese Nationalist officers responsible for the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores began a new series of conferences today on Nationalist military requirements.

U.S. officers taking part were Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet; Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, head of the Military Assistance Advisory Group; and Rear Adm. Frederick N. Kivette, commander of the Formosa Strait patrol.

* * *

On the Nationalist side were Defense Minister Gen. Yu Tai-wei; the acting chief of the general staff, Gen. Peng Meng-chi; and the commanders of the army, navy, air force and combined service forces.

Col. Hsiung En-teh, Defense Ministry spokesman, issued a statement saying a Nationalist-American combined command or staff "has not been planned."

Pesos Rain on Factory

MANILA (AP)—Pesos from heaven dropped on the strikebound E. R. Squibb and Sons plant today. Pickets yesterday refused to allow an armored car to enter the company compound with money needed for operating expenses. Today a small airplane flew over and dropped the cash.

Americans spend 1.2 billion hours each year playing various card games.

Ex-Red Captive Leaves Japan Friday for U.S.

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — Mrs Adele Austin Rickett starts the last leg of a journey from a Chinese Communist prison to the United States tomorrow.

She spent 3½ years in a Red jail. Her husband, Walter, 33, is still there.

Now, four weeks after her release, the 35-year-old schoolteacher refuses to talk about her husband or the Reds.

She told newsmen in Hong Kong the Reds had treated her "wonderfully."

Did she hope by her Hong Kong statements to speed the release of her husband? She smiled sadly, and refused to answer.

Slaying Suspect Thanks Officer

Youth Says He Wishes He Had Heeded Chief's Good Advice

MARSHFIELD, Wis. (UP) — A 20-year-old Marshfield man, awaiting trial on charges of murdering his grandfather, wrote a letter of thanks to the police chief of his home town who once tried to straighten him out.

Rodney W. Herman fled the state and lived for two years under the alias of Steven Bannon, but he was arrested in Illinois where he had been working.

Police Chief Walter Wohlfahrt said he had talked with Herman many times when the youth was in trouble.

Wohlfahrt recently received the following letter from Herman who was being held in jail at Phillips, Wis., for trial for the 1953 slaying:

"Dear Chief,

"Now I'm sitting in a cell in Phillips waiting for a possible life in prison. I was too smart to listen to you and now it's too late. I want to thank you for what you tried to do for me.

"I regret the grief I have given my mother and I hope that maybe someday I can make it up to her. I wish there was some way I could warn other kids who have already started like I did, but they would have the same attitude—'it won't happen to me.'

"In the last two years I had to learn to work with other people and understand what I had to do to live in this world. But I learned too late. But wherever I go, or get, I will do my best.

"I still might get the satisfaction of living a right kind of life. I wish I would have listened to you and at least tried to understand what you were trying to say. In the last year, I did.

"I made some wonderful friends, honest and hard-working. I tired hard to be like them at the last. I think I was.

"But you can't live on lies forever. Steve Bannon was found out to be Rod Herman, and so here I am.

Soviets Propose New Atom Ban

Pravda Reveals Move Made by Red Delegates at Secret Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda said today Russia has made a new proposal for banning nuclear weapons, reduction of conventional arms and international inspection to ensure compliance.

The Comunist party organ said the proposal was made to the five-nation U.N. disarmament subcommittee at the secret talks now being held in London.

As explained by Pravda, the plan largely parallels the proposal Russia put before the U.N. General Assembly last fall, except that it goes more fully into the disputed question of a control organ to guarantee that disarmament is carried out.

The plan calls for all nations to sign a convention agreeing to arms reductions in two stages:

1. A 50 per cent cut in conventional arms and destruction of all atomic, hydrogen and other "mass destruction" weapons within six months of the signing.

2. A second 50 per cent cut during the ensuing six-month period.

The signers also would agree not to produce mass detruction weapons.

Pravda casually outined the plan in an editorial denouncing alleged war mongering by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

* * *

The paper accused the Western Powers of using the London talks "as a screen for concealing an untrammeled arms drive and atomic war preparations."

Pravda said Russia's plan would call for a permanent international organ empowered to carry out inspections."

"The international control organ will keep staff inspectors permanently in all countries signing the convention," the article said, "and these inspectors in functions alloted them would have at any time free access to all object of control."

The article did not specify whether this control board would come under the authority of the U.N. Security Council, where Russia has veto power. It was not immediately apparent whether this was an oversight or a policy shift.

In the Assembly debate last fall, Russia asserted that the control agency should not have anything to do with punishment of violators but should merely report them to the Security Council for punitive action.

The Western Powers have insisted enforcement of any disarmament treaty should be kept outside the council.

The secret talks by representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Russia and Canada began Feb. 25.

IT'S THE RASPBERRIES — Gone are the days when medicine was forced down the throats of unwilling children, thanks to modern research and the children themselves. Youngsters like five-year-old Susan Shoemaker, above, have been helping researchers at Pfizer Pharmaceutical Laboratories determine which flavors children prefer for their medicine. Susan, of Long Island, N. Y., samples a spoonful of flavored medicine (left) and gives her verdict — apparently it's delicious — at right. Researchers conducting these tests have discovered red to be the favorite color, with raspberry topping the flavor choice.

MSC to Keep Watch Over Whitman Material

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State College authorities said they will be on guard against any possibility of theft when a collection of Walt Whitman manuscripts is shown at the college Saturday.

A Whitman diary, valued at more than $25,000, was stolen from a showcase in the Detroit Public Library the last time the collection went on public view early in March.

The collection, owned by Charles E. Feinberg of Detroit, will be shown at the MSC Union Building in connection with the 59th annual meeting of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters.

Washington U. Rapped by 7 Scientists Because of Oppenheimer Ban

SEATTLE (AP)— Seven scientists, holding that the University of Washington has placed itself "outside the community of scholars" by banning Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer from the campus, have forced cancellation of a scientific conference.

The university department of biochemistry announced yesterday a "Symposium on the Molecular Basis of Enzyme Action" would not be held here April 7-8 as planned. More than 200 scientists were to attend. The seven were scheduled as guest lecturers. An announcement by the department said, "Speakers for the symposium have expressed unanimously their unwillingness to participate in any official action of the university" as a result of the Oppenhemer ban.

* * *

Oppenheimer had been scheduled to appear at Washington this spring as a guest lecturer in physics. Dr. Henry Schmitz, university president, announced his appearance would not be in the best interests of the university.

Oppenheimer was denied access last year to atomic secrets on security grounds.

The seven lecturers expressed the hope the university administration "can make arrangements to prevent similar violations of academic freedom in the future and thus restore the University of Washington to its rightful and respected position in the academic world."

* * *

Signers of the letter of refusal were Robert A. Alberty, University of Wisconsin; Konrad Bloch, Harvard; David E. Green, University of Wisconsin; Arthur Kornberg, Washington University, St. Louis; Henry A. Lardy, University of Wisconsin; William H. Stein, member, the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research; and Bert L. Vallee, Harvard.

Bachelor Gives $120,000 to Girls' School in Texas

BELTON, Tex. (AP)—A 75-year-old real estate broker has presented Mary Hardin-Baylor College for girls here with a $120,000 gift which the college will use for a recreational building.

What made the gift unusual was M. T. Goodman's status as a confirmed bachelor. He told officials of the girls' school he though the country needed more Christian mothers.

Korean Police Capture 7 in Rhee Death Plot

SEOUL (AP)—Korean police today announced the arrest of seven Communists who, they hinted, were plotting to assassinate President Syngman Rhee.

Police said the seven had been preparing for an assassination attempt on "the highest government official" since July, but had not made any attempt. They declined to give details.

There were only about 12,000 students enrolled in U.S. colleges in 1850 and the number has grown to more than two million.

Liberace Shuns Costliest Piano

Mammoth Instrument Is Priced at $100,000, but It's the Wrong Make

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — The world's most expensive piano is for sale, but Liberace can't buy it.

The piano can be had for $100,000, but unfortunately for Mary Kay Van Voorhees, who is vending the colossal knick-knack, it was built by Steinway.

"Mr. Liberace's manager, Seymour Heller, was terribly interested in it until he found out it was a Steinway," she said a trifle sadly.

"You see, Mr Liberace has endorsed another make of piano (Baldwin) and he just couldn't buy a Steinway."

Nevertheless, Mrs. Van Voorhees is confident she can sell the instrument.

"It's the only one of its kind in the world and it's a real bargain," she said.

The bargain measures some 15 feet in length and is slightly larger than the standard concert grand piano.

Its magnificent rosewood case is inlaid with walnut, ebony and tulip wood, as well as mother-of-pearl and tortoise shell. All hinges and pedals are gold-plated.

Designed by Cottier and Co. of New York, the Renaissance case of the instrument was begun in 1895 at the order of Mrs. Henry Payne Whitney, one of the leaders in New York society. The piano was delivered to Mrs. Whitney some 15 years later.

Around the sides of the instrument are hand-painted ministures of nine composers, including Bach, Beethoven, Haydn and Wagner. On the topside of the piano are ornate inlays of crossed violins and a 22-word motto.

On the underside of the lid is a painted woodland scene complete with nymphs, ruined temples and swirling mists.

The present owner, a retired businessman in Santa Barbara who asks that his name be kept secret to avoid crackpot offers for the mammoth instrument, acquired the piano by swapping his yacht for it.

McArthur Raps Allowing Reds to Fight Japan

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur has stated he was not consulted about the Yalta conference, but if he had been he would have recommended "emphatically" against bringing Russia into the Pacific war "at that late date."

"The imminent collapse of Japan was clearly apparent several months before Yalta when we seized the Philippines," the former Far East commander said in a statement. "All of my dispatches clearly enunciated this viewpoint."

MacArthur said the time for Russia to have entered the fight against Japan was after the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1951.

He said he recommended this "most urgently" in a message to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, but got no reply.

The Yalta conference took place in February, 1945.

MacArthur said today:

"Had my views been requested with reference to Yalta, I would most emphatically have recommended against bringing the Soviet into the Pacific war at that late date. To have made vital concessions for such a purpose would have seemed to me fantastic."

To Sell Centennial Stock

LUDINGTON (UP)—Mason County centennial stock certificates will be offered for public sale this week to Ludington residents. Funds from the sale will finance the city's centennial celebration, including the Pere Marquette pageant. Certificates will be redeemed in July, centennial committee members said.

With 600,000 motor cars, 350,000 motorcycles, and 250,000 motorbicycles, Sweden claims to be the most motorized country in continental Europe.

Bob Considine Says:

Turbo-Prop Airliner Starts Service

NEW YORK-MONTREAL-NEW YORK (INS) — If that's confusing, remember this is the air age. A year ago, John Daly and a few of us had a 1-day date-line that read "New York-San Francisco-Honolulu," thanks to United's dawn-to-dusk flight from Idlewild to Waikiki. The leap to Montreal for lunch is like walking around the corner. The New York-Montreal-New York bit is the work of Trans-Canada Air Lines, first carrier on this hemisphere to receive the Vickers Viscount. The Viscount is the jet-with-propeller plane that has heartened the British jet aviation industry after the heavy losses of face caused by the first batch of Comets and some of the more highly touted RAF jets.

First U. S. line to get delivery of these 4-engined 40-passenger planes that are vibrationless, almost noiseless and have a top speed of 385 m.p.h. will be Capital Airlines. It has 60 of them on order. The manufacturers have $112,000,000 worth of additional orders from Air France, Aer Lingus, and lines in Australia, Israel, Venezuela, Iraq, Hong Kong, Central Africa and the West Indies.

The Viscount, first turboprop passenger plane in production and the first British commercial craft to be purchased by an American line, is powered by the Rolls Royce Dart, a jet of modest power and proven efficiency and (most important) economy. It burns kerosene, its taste never having been spoiled by guaffing 100 octane.

Capital Airlines inadvertently briefed us for the trip with Trans-Canada by issuing, in advance of the delivery of its own Viscounts, an interesting booklet on the jet and what makes it purr:

The pure jet engine (non-propellor) operates on much the same principal of a child's balloon which, when inflated with air that is suddenly released through the nozzle, goes soarding about the room until the air pressure inside the rubber is the same as outside. In the jet the air pressure is maintained and enormously intensified by fire and whirling turbines and compressors.

The gases that squirt out of the back of a jet plane are not solely responsible for pushing it forward, any more than the air escaping from the nozzle of a balloon causes it to fly about. In 1687 Sir Isaac Newton decreed that every action produces a reaction which is equal in force and opposite in direction.

The air escaping from a balloon nozzle, or the tail of a jet, causes an oppose reaction in much of the mechanism itself. Those forces push against the unopened wall of the balloon or the jet engine and muscle it forward.

The main problem of the pure jet in aviation has been its voracious thirst, which makes it a poor risk for money-pinching airlines. Another rub is that it cannot stack up over a shrouded airport as do conventional planes during traffic jams. The pure jet consumes a bit less bug-juice with each improvement, but it may be years before a commercial company can operate one without a heavy government endowment.

The turbo-prop or jet-with-propeller is something else. As the gases streak out they brush over the buckets of a turbine and spin it. A drive shaft attached to the turbine reaches forward into a reduction gear, which turns over the propeller.

The 4-bladed propellers of the Viscount turn over once for every ten revolutions of the turbines behind them. Within its speed range it is a more maneuverable plane than a pure jet (though pure jet action provides about 20 per cent of the power of the Dart engine.) It is capable of slower landing speeds than a jet, and can stack up overhead with the regular fellows — thus giving passengers a chance to engage longer in the first game of the jet age: standing a quarter on its edge in the vibrationles craft.

More anon about what it is like for the jet age passenger.

Divorce Bill Killed by Canadian Senate

OTTAWA (AP)—Adultery is still the only ground on which most Canadians can get a divorce.

The Senate voted 37-20 yesterday to kill a bill that would have made cruelty, incurable insanity and desertion for three years as bases for marriage severance suits.

Of Canada's 10 provinces, seven grant divorces only for adultery. Parliament generally adheres to the same rule in handling divorce cases for Quebec and Newfoundand, which have no divorce courts. The other province, Nova Scotia, recognizes cruelty also as a ground.

Scots Heeding Call in Graham Crusade

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Another 317 Scots made their "decision for Christ" last night as Billy Graham's great revival crusade wound up its third day.

"The record for decisions has passed 1,000 in three days," said Jerry Beavan, the American evangelist's executive secretary. "We never have had such success so early in a crusade."

A capacity 15,000 jammed Glasgow's great Kelvin Hall for the third straight night. Later Graham spoke to the 317 privately.

Crash Bodies Recovered

HONOLULU (AP)—The last of 66 bodies were removed last night from the wreckage of a Navy plane which crashed Tuesday, killing all aboard. Two Air Force identification experts arrived from Wright-Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio, to try to identify the remains.

Pontiac Doctor Says

'Fears of Fluorine Have Not Been Borne Out'

"Do the residents of Pontiac want the growing children in this area to have better teeth?" asks Dr. John Marra.

"If they do, they should recommend that the officials of this city take without delay, the necessary legislative and administrative steps to authorize and initiate a program of water fluoridation." Dr. Marra is pathologist at Pontiac General Hospital.

"This program can be started with the conviction that such a step will constitute a most significant contribution to the public health of this community," Dr. Marra continues.

"Fluorine, as has often been disclosed here and throughout the world, is one of nature's elements and therefore, is part of God's plan for the universe. As such, it logically could not have been intended to harm when taken as the Creator planned.

"Fluorine is known to naturally exist widely in food and water and is often found in the latter in amounts far in excess of the concentration suggested for a water fluoridation program. The use of water containing the recommended concentration of fluorine has been shown absolutely to be without hazard in the industrial use of such water.

"There is much testimony and evidence to this effect by the scientists of brewers, bakers, food canners, bottlers and many others. Fears that have occasionally been expressed have not been demonstrated and are contrary to observed facts.

"Perhaps no other public health measure has had more thorough study prior to adoption than the proposal for fluoridation of the community water supply where the concentration of fluorine is deficient.

"In the amount suggested for a fluoridation program, it has been repeatedly shown that no storage of fluorine occurs except in the teeth. Yes, and in communities where the natural content of fluorine in the water is many times that of the recommended fluoridation program, storage of the element has not been demonstrated elsewhere in the body.

"There has been no demonstrable ill effect on persons taking water containing as much as eight to ten times the amount of fluorine suggested in a fluoridation program. These findings have been further substantiated from experimental studies on man and animals, and confirm the evidence of the safety of a community fluoridation program.

"An impressive roster of persons and organizations of recognized standing have endorsed the efficiency and safety of fluoridation. Millions of pepole live in areas where natural water supplies contain fluorine far in excess of the amounts recommended for fluoridation of Pontiac's water supply. Hundreds of communities have had fluorine programs for from four to ten years with great benefit to their growing children.

"Such widespread adoption of any program of preventive medicine determined upon at the local level after a long and careful study, has profound significance as to the sound merits of the proposal. Let it not be said that Pontiac has no interest in the teeth preservation program of its growing children. Citizens of Pontiac, adopt fluoridation now!"

Waterways Head Praises New Port Bill

Lauds Seaway Preparations

Legislature Will Vote on Measure to Pave Way for Facilities

LANSING (UP)—The acting director of the State Waterways Commission praised the efforts of the Legislature today in preparing for the St. Lawrence Seaway after the House Marine Affairs Committee approved a measure last night paving the way for construction of port facilities.

The measure enlarges the power of port districts by giving them authority to condemn land for waterfront developments.

Fred B. Lifton, successor to Bert Robb as director of the commission, said a bill approved by a 5-0 vote of the House committee would allow port districts to begin development of harbor facilities this summer if passed by the entire Legislature.

Lifton denied the Legislature is in a "vacuum of inactivity"—a charge made by Robb when he announced March 10 he was quitting the commission.

Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville), chairman of the House committee and sponsor of the port bill, said the measure would allow "Port Huron, Bay City, Muskegon, or any other city, to create strong port districts."

Floyd Fischer, Bay City commissioner, told the committee "this bill is all we need to get going."

Lifton's only criticism of the bill was that it is "too restrictive," but Wyandotte Mayor William Kreger said "certain restrictions are necessary to preserve home rule."

Power of the port districts would be subject to two-thirds vote of county boards of supervisors under Clements' bill. Port authorities would be able to recommend zoning, condemn and acquire property, regulate structures to be built, fix and collect tolls, and make rentals and other charges necessary to meet revenue bond costs.

The right to issue revenue bonds is provided but supervisors have final power of approval.

Although the bill primarily is aimed at development of facilities in the Detroit area, Rep. Harry Litowich (R-Benton Harbor), said other shoreline communities have a "great interest in port development."

"People are waiting all along Lake Michigan for the Queen Mary to come sailing in," Litowich said.

Students at PHS Win Recognition

National Honor Society Membership Is Awarded to 54 Seniors

Fifty-four students from the Pontiac High School June graduating class have been chosen for membership in the National Honor Society.

Selected on the basis of scholarship, service, leadership and character, this group is picked by vote of faculty members from the upper third of the class. Membership must not exceed 15 per cent of the graduating seniors.

Included in the group are Russell Anderson, Nancy Austin, Fred Barger, Karen Barling, Alice Bego, Burton Belant, William Bell and Norma Bloodworth.

Also among them are Carol Ann Borsvold, Stuart Choate, Ann Coombe, Marlene Crocker, Elizabeth Davie, Helen L. Davis, Ponnie Davis, Judith Dickstein and Esther Diem.

Others are Caroline Dimaya, Ruth Duse, Marilyn Glennie, Joel Goldberg, Marilyn Goode, Marion Greenlee, Robert Gustavson, Bruce Hathaway, Walter Hodge, Karen Hoff, Sharon Janter, Marilyn Kizer, Kurt Lauckner and Phyllis Law.

Leah Mae MacNutt, Constance Mapes, Dougald McColl, Bernice McLean, Elaine Miller and James North are still others.

Also on the list are Greta Phipps, Norma Prutow, Marilyn Reinhardt, Harold Richards, Sharon Savedge, Bruce Serwin, James A. Smith, Mary E. Smith and Jacqueline Spratt.

David Tarr, George Thrasher, Marijane Vollmar, Mary Ellen Wait, William Ware, Gerald Winkley, Carol Wray and Karen Yeager complete the memberships.

PLAN RETAIL SURVEY—Discussing the planned retail survey of Oakland County yesterday were William J. Carey, of the University of Michigan Bureau of Business Research; Charles Mortensen, of Birmingham; Paul Schalm, superintendent of Clawson schools; and Lin Enders, of South Lyon. A 15-man committee met in the County Office Building to begin work on the project.

Retail Shopping Survey Planned Here

A 15-man committee was organized yesterday in the Oakland County Office Building here as the first step toward launching a retail shopping survey aimed at supplying data helpful to Oakland's growth and prosperity.

The men, one from each county elementary school attendance area, were called together by County Planner Nolan R. Heiden to work with the plan commission, school superintendents and University of Michigan in the project.

The study is part of a larger economic base study being conducted by the plan commission which has been explained by Commission Chairman J. Robert F. Swanson.

"Every community carries on numerous economic activities all of which play their part as job and tax base providers . . . Not all are equally important as basic supporting elements of the community.

"Some serve as foundations upon which the others are dependent for their continued existence. The base study is designed to find and evaluate these factors and estimate what possible changes may occur so the county can better plan future growth."

The retail survey is important because "in spelling out of any future land use needs it is necessary to know where the retail trade areas are, why they are there, and where to expect new ones."

The retail committe will meet again Monday to work out questionnaires to be distributed sometime in May by school superintendents to all families with children in grades from kindergarten through the ninth in both public and parochial schools.

The University of Michigan Bureau of Business Research, which offers the survey as a community service, will tabulate and print the data along lines worked out in previous surveys done in 30 smaller communities.

Parents will be asked questions covering their buying habits pertaining to at least 24 types of merchandise, 11 types of stores in the various communities, plus length of residence in the county, place of employment and size and age of the family.

The material is expected to answer such questions as:

Where are the major retail shopping centers in the county and what are the market areas served by them?

Why do people make their purchases where they do? What role do parking and road conditions play in shaping public buying habits? What percentage of Oakland residents work outside the county?

The University will compile the figures and write a report this summer with results available to the plan commission and local units next fall.

Although the data will be analyzed on a county-wide basis, much will pertain to local conditions and a particular community can get a detailed report on its own area written following the main report, said William J. Carey, of the Bureau of Business Research.

Cost to the county for labor, materials and printing will be $2,500.

The committee elected Charles Mortensen, manager of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce, as chairman and Lin Enders, of South Lyon, vice chairman. Superintendent of Clawson Schools Paul Schalm represents the school administrators.

Other committee members are Edward Sawyer, representing Berkley and Oak Park; Keith Hallman, Clarkston; Philip Thomas, Farmington; John J. Collins, Ferndale; Jack Johnson, Holly; George Richardson, Milford; Richard Prince, Oxford; and Richard L. McPartlin, Pontiac.

The rest are Robert Warren, Rochester; Roland Powers, Royal Oak; John Clark, Union Lake; and Larry Gilliam, Walled Lake.

Record Number of Prisoners Reflects Ills of Modern Society, Says Warden

A record number of 6,616 convicts now confined in the State Prison for Southern Michigan at Jackson reflects the ills of modern society, Warden William H. Bannan said here yesterday.

Speaking before the Pontiac Lions Club in the Hotel Waldron, Bannan charged that prisons throughout the nation are bursting at the seams due to a lack of moral training in schools and religious teaching in the home.

Drawing a contrast of public funds appropriations, he declared that public education is suffering monetarily while the prison's forthcoming budget will soar to nearly $8 million. The institution's present budget is $6,850,000.

Bannan, who heads the world's largest prison, said 400 convicts, from ages 17 to 26, are held in the prison.

"Normally, they're supposed to be in the Ionia State Reformatory, but they're a backwash because of the crowded condition at Ionia."

The prison, which has 4,900 cells, 230 tuberculosis patients, 187 criminal sexual psychopaths and 85 homosexuals, keeps the 17-26 age group separated from the rest, fearing their "contamination by the hoodlums in the prison."

Claiming the prison has no facilities for the various abnormal groups, he said the institution also "care for 400, old senile inmates—some of them so feeble-minded—they are clad in diapers." However, he explained, the prison's trouble is usually started by the violently insane and homosexuals, who are in need of treatment.

Accusing some of the modern techniques for the rise in the prison population, Bannan said the lack of control of the inmates in their younger years is the problem underlying their conviction and imprisonment.

"First we must have control of these individuals before they get into trouble," he said. "Why should kids in the streets and convicts in prison do as they please?"

An advocate of morals training in schools, Bannan said the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule should be taught to juveniles. Youths' lack of this understanding, he added, "gets them in trouble."

Bannan contended that modern whims of society has caused some marriages to be separated from the church and the sacred precepts, thereby producing greater number of divorces, broken homes and juvenile delinquency.

He concluded by saying that 80 per cent of the prison's inmates "would have been good citizens, had they received moral and religious training."

Eye Multiple Uses for Sugar Detergent

COLUMBUS (AP) — A new detergent, made from sugar, promises to wash all the sand out of restaurant spinach and do a hundred and one other jobs, a scientist reports.

Dr. H. B. Hass, president of the Sugar Research Foundation, Inc., said in a paper prepared for a National Farm Chemurgic Council meeting, recent discoveries indicate sugar can be used as a basic material for manufacturing many synthetics.

He added that it is possible sugar may become a "cheap and abundant raw material" upon which a whole new industry will be built.

He said the sugar detergents apparently can be eaten without harm, giving them an advantage over some other washing compounds.

Throat Surgery Patient Victim of Complications

DENVER (AP)—Edsel Scroggs, 16, died at Colorado General Hospital yesterday of complications resulting from a 13-hour throat operation March 13.

Surgeons transplanted a section of his intestine to his throat, which had been badly scarred when the boy accidentally drank liquid potash.

Tourist Council Plans Institute Next Month

LANSING (UP)—Workers in the state's vast tourist industry will brush up on the latest techniques for the coming season at the third annual tourist and resort institute at Michigan State College April 4-6, Robert J. Furlong, Michigan Tourist Council executive secretary, announced today.

Furlong said the three-day program is designed to aid all persons connected with the tourist industry in improving resort facilities and will feature speakers, panel discussions, exhibits and special conferences.

Resort operators from Ohio, New York and Canada are expected to attend along with Michigan representatives.

Heading the list of speakers is Chester C. Wells, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will speak at the final luncheon when certificates will be awarded to conferers, Furlong said.

Actress Plans Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Movie actress Ruth Roman says she intends to divorce radio executive Mortimer Hall, alleging cruelty. Hall is president and general manager of Los Angeles radio station KLAC.

No A-Tests Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — There was no nuclear shot today. Testers said that a big, 500-foot tower blast which has been delayed by weather conditions since March 14, will not be attempted until tomorrow, at the earliest. Yesterday's underground blast was the 38th in the series.

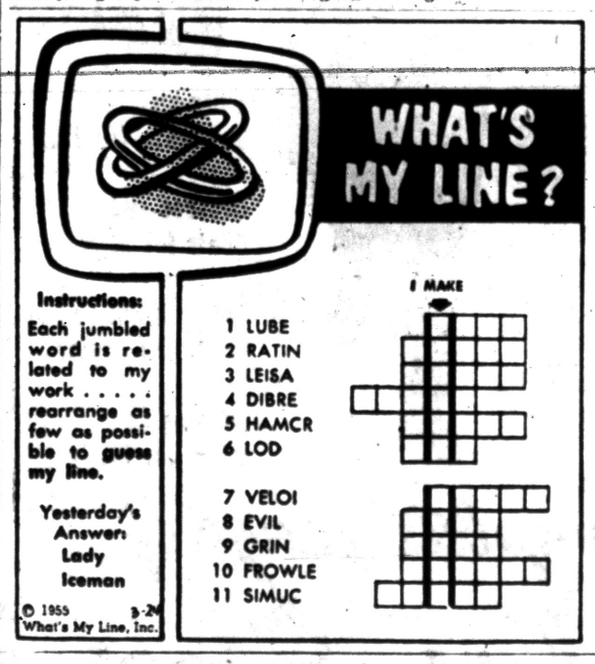

City-County Building Snafu Being Probed

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit officials today launched another investigation into the latest snafu in the $26 million City-County Building.

Yesterday, a breakdown in electric controls knocked five of the building's six self-operating elevators out of order. The breakdown left scores of passengers stranded on various floors for as long as ten minutes.

Charles G. Oakman, manager of the City-County Building, said he was becoming aroused over the matter because the same thing happened three weeks ago. Oakman said the growing number of persons using the building will heighten the problem if the breakdown is repeated.

The structure will have 16 elevators and one "reversible" escalator when it is fully occupied this summer.

It May Be a Dog's Life, but It's Colorful

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a red dachshund in northwest Washington that likes to wander.

Sure, most dogs do. But the difference is that this particular pooch often comes home by taxi, collect.

His name is Noodle and he belongs to 12-year-old Elizabeth Sher. He has his favorite spots, over a wide area, and has become so well known that many people who see him don't even have to read his dog tag to know where to send him.

Once a park policeman routed him home. Many times he shows up at WMAL radio-TV station and gets home by taxi or the Sher family car. The Bureau of Standards is almost always good for a taxi ride home.

Arrangements for a photograph were a bit difficult.

"He isn't here," the voice at the Sher residence said. "May I tell him who called?"

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A scraggly pup limped into the accident ward of Einstein Medical Center. An intern found a large splinter in one of the dog's front paws and removed it. The pup wagged its tail and walked out.

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Five-year-old Dale Holmen got bored flying his kite yesterday. He passed it over to his brother Mark, 3.

There was a stiff breeze, and Mark got tired.

He passed the job on to Penny, their dachshund puppy. Penny got distracted. He just dropped the stick on the end of the string. Off went the kite.

Dale's shouts, Mark's wails and Penny's barks promptly brought out the boys' folks, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Holmen.

* * *

They piled in the family car and finally found the kite snagged high in a tree five blocks south.

But they were slow. As they discussed recovery strategy, the tugging kite snapped the string and off it sailed again.

The chase started anew. As the boys' harassed father describes it: "The family was watching the kite and I was watching traffic. We didn't know which was going to land first. Everyone was yelling directions. Mark, of course, was just yelling."

* * *

Away they dashed, two blocks, four blocks, across the railroad tracks. Finally, a mile and a half away, they found the kite in a field.

Peace, comparative at least, holds forth in the Holmen home today, and Mom and Pop have suggested a moral: dachshunds are just too close to the ground to fly kites.

New York Critic Praises Pontiac Pianist in Debut

The following article on the March 20 Town Hall recital of Vivian Scott, Pontiac artist, appeared Monday in the New York Times:

Vivian Scott, who made her debut yesterday afternoon in Town Hall, gave the piano recital as the seventh award winner of JUGG, Inc., an organization that sponsors Negro artists.

Miss Scott's program, an ambitious and difficult one, consisted of the Bach-Busoni Prelude and Fugue in D, Howard Swanson's Piano Sonata and "The Cuckoo." Schumann's "Carnival" and the twelve etudes of Chopin's Op. 25.

Generally speaking, JUGG's confidence was not misplaced, for Miss Scott proved to be a pianist of real talent. And this despite some technical sloppiness and several bad musical habits that must be corrected.

The important thing is that Miss Scott has temperament and brings a quality of musical excitement to the pieces she is playing. She also never lets the rhythm become lost. Despite some dropped notes and several phrases of sheer carelessness, Miss Scott also has a serviceable technique—and it could be an impressive one when she works on it a little longer.

In short, Miss Scott remains in the process of development. But this was an extremely interesting debut recital, and it clearly demonstrated that Miss Scott has the stuff of which pianists are made. Here is a career that will be watched with interest.

The Life of Christ—16

Soul as Well as Body Involved in Marriage

By BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

(Those who would escape the impact of the Beatitudes say that Christ was a creature of His time, not ours. But Christ was not of His day any more than of Our day. In yesterday's installment Bishop Sheen also said that the key to the Sermon on the Mount was the way Christ used two expressions: "You have heard" and the word "but . . . Also "if it is wrong to do a certain thing it is wrong to think about that thing," contended Our Lord. Prevent the sowing of evil seed. Repent. Purge. Don't wait until your hidden sins come out as psychoses, neuroses and compulsions.)

Looking forward to our nation, with one divorce for every four marriages, Christ affirms that when a man marries a woman, he marries both her body and her soul; he marries the whole person. If he gets tired of the body, he may not thrust her body away for another, since he is still responsible for her soul. So He thunders: "You have heard."

In that expression, He summarized the jargon of every decaying civilization. "You have heard—Get a divorce; 'God does not expect you to live without happiness'." Then came the BUT: "But I tell you, that the man who puts away his wife, makes an adultress of her, and whoever marries her after she has been put away, commits adultery."

"What matters if the body is lost? The soul is still there, and that is worth more than the thrill a body can give, more even than the universe itself. He would keep men and women pure, not from contagion, but from desire; to imagine a betrayal is in itself a betrayal. So He thundered: "What God then, has joined, let not man put asunder." No man! No judge! No nation!

Next Christ laid hold of all those social theories which say that sin is due to environment, to Grade B milk, to insufficient dance halls, to not enough spending money. Of them all, He says: "You have heard." Then comes the BUT: "But I tell you." He affirms that sins, selfishness, greed, adultery, crime, theft, bribery, political corruption comes from man himself.

The offenses result from his own will, and not form his glands; he cannot excuse his lust because his grandfather had an Oedipus complex, or because he inherited an Electra complex from his grandmother. Sin, Christ says, is conveyed to the soul sometimes through the body, and our body is moved by the will.

In war against all false self-expressions, He thunders out His recommendations of self-operation: "Cut it off." "Cut it out." "And if thy right eye is the occasion of falling, cut it out and cast it away from thee; better to lose one part of thy body than to have the whole cast into hell . . . And if thy right hand is the occasion of falling, cut it off and cast it away from thee; better to lose one of thy limbs than to have the whole body cast into hell."

Men will cut off their legs and arms to save the body from gangrene or poisoning. But here, Our Lord transfers circumcision of the flesh to circumcision of the heart. He advocates letting out the life blood of our beloved lusts and hewing our passions to tatters, rather than be separated from the love of God which is in Him, Christ Jesus.

Next, Christ talks of our modern attitude of revenge hatred, violence, expressed in those sayings of everyybody: "Get even," "Sue him," "Don't be a fool," He knows them all, and of all of them He says: "You have heard that it was said, 'an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth'."

Then comes the awful BUT: "But I tell you, that you should not offer resistance to injury. If a man strikes thee on thy right cheek, turn the other cheek also towards him. If he is ready to go to the law with thee over thy coat, let him have it and thy cloak with it. If he compels thee to attend him on a mile's journey, go two miles with him of thy own accord."

Why turn the other cheek? Because hate multiplies like a seed. If a Communist commmissar preaches hate and violence to ten men in a row, and tells the first man to strike the third, soon the hatred will eventually envelop all ten. The only way to stop this hate, would be for one man, say the fifth in line, to turn his other cheek. Then the hatred ends. It is never passed on. Absorb violence for the sake of your Saviour, Who absorbs your sins and dies for them. The Christian law is that the innocent shall suffer for the guilty.

To Be Continued.

House OKs New Rules Aimed at Protection of Probe Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—House committees found themselves operating today under a new set of rules which some members said might curb future public investigations.

Known as a "code of fair play," the new rules were embodied in a resolution adopted by the House yesterday.

The code is designed to afford protection to witnesses and to put an end to one-man investigations. It provides that no subcommittee may consist of fewer than two members if evidence or testimony is to be received.

It gives witnesses the right to bring their own attorneys. It also requires the chairman of an investigative committee to "announce in an opening statement the subject of the investigation."

The most controversial provision makes it mandatory to receive in closed sessions evidence or testimony which the committee "determines . . . may tend to defame, degrade or incriminate any person."

Unless the committee approves, such evidence could not be made public or used later in a public session.

Rep. Hardy (D-Va) said a committee would have no option but to close its hearings to the public and press the moment any derogatory information is received.

"This will hamstring every important investigation," he said.

Pavlova Was Right About Russia

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It's generally considered anti-American to talk animatedly pro-Russian—but in the case of 71-year-old Dunya Mironowa, the fragile, 5'1" wardrobe mistress for the New York City Ballet, you have to understand.

Dunya was once personal maid, companion, and dressmaker for the great Pavlova, and she thrives on memories of her country as it was before 1914 and the Russian Revolution.

"Oh, sweety heart," she said to me, in an accent soft and thick as cream, "you should but seen the beautiful ballet we have then in Russia, with so many very beautiful dances and Pavlova—the great one, the wild one—what a joy and terror to work with her!"

When the revolution came, Dunya remembers, she and the most famous ballerina of the century were on concert tour in Venezuela. Dunya, then a young woman who had never been away from home, wanted to rush back to Petrograd to see what had happened to her family.

"But Pavlova, she scream 'No' —we can never go back now."So though they had been good friends, Pavlova and her maid fought and finally, with storm sounds that rent the Venezuelan countryside, they parted company.

Unable to speak a word of English, Dunya spent her savings to go to New York, hoping eventually to return from there to her home. Pavlova continued her tour and ultimately died, dramatically waving her arms in the gestures of her "Dying Swan" dance, in Europe.

"Poor, poor thing," says Dunya. "I never have the chance to tell her she is right. She knew what terrible change would come over Russia after the revolution—but she didn't take the trouble to tell me. She was too sick in the heart."

Dunya still hoped to return to Russia when she took her first American position, as wardrobe mistress with the Chicago Opera Ballet. But by the time she was hired by the newly-formed New York City Ballet 20 years ago, the yearning had died to an occasional ache.

"I still have a longing to see Russia, but now I'm afraid I never see it again. Those Commies! If I get back in, I never get back out, I fear." Three sisters in Russia have not answered her letters for eight years, she says. The last word she received came to her after she had sent the last of many gift parcels to them.

"My sisters wrote 'Don't send us anything anymore. We have everything we need.' Then they stopped sending letters. Queer, isn't it? I greatly fear they are dead."

Despite her venerable age, Dunya keeps too busy to be lonely. Her best friends and worst enemies, she says, are the nearly 800 costumes which she must keep cleaned, fitted, and in good repair for the N. Y. City Ballet Group.

The large company, which leaves April 9 for its annual tour of Europe, has never given a performance without her. She works about 12 hours a day, from 11 a.m. till after the evening performance. And all Dunya asks in return for her loyalty is $100 a week and the privilege of distributing small pieces of her mind to the ballerinas. They love it.

"Most important," she says, "I try to tell them to dance with feeling, and forget the technique. That is the trouble with much American ballet—" and Dunya flings out her small arms passionately—"not enough emotion."

Secondly, she gives them the Dunya dickens when they gain weight. "You think I don't have enough to do without slipping seams?" is her frequent squeal. "You don't get so fat again—or I can be as temperament' as you."

(Tomorrow: Miss Battelle previews the amazing new pencils for '55 and observes—they have their points.)

PARKING THE BURRO — Folks in Niles, O., looked and smiled as Wilbur Drake stepped up to a parking meter, paid to tie his burro to the post and went about his shopping.

Dem Says Secrecy Important at Times

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Discussing with reporters the policy of releasing such documents as the Yalta papers, National Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler said there are times when secrecy might be in the public interest.

"Why not release the Potsdam documents or the private notes of Gen. Eisenhower, or understandings he might have had with Russian generals in World War II" Butler asked yesterday.

He told the newsmen there is a need for a four-power conference and that if the Democratic candidate is elected he might go to Formosa in the interests of peace.

OPEN THURS., FRI. AND SAT. TO 9 This Week Only

Hal Boyle Says:

Everyone Has a Fear of Something

NEW YORK (AP)—Do flutes fighten you? Are you afraid of harboring tapeworms? Does snow fill you with panic?

If not, why not?

Perhaps you are letting your life get cluttered up with the same old dull, boring fears that have worried mankind for ages. Why not pep up your existence by getting a new and interesting fear nobody in your social set knows about?

There is a long list to choose from. I have a medical dictionary which indexes more than 300 phobias, all available to anyone who is seriously looking for something to worry about that will make him stand out from the common herd.

* * *

Some of these phobias are highly useful. And they all have wonderful names.

For example, people might be tempted to laugh at you if you confided that you were terrified by flutes, snowflakes and the possibility that you might be invaded by a prowling tapeworm.

But imagine the awed respect in their eyes if you merely remarked offhand:

"My doctor says I've got a triple case of aulophobia, chionophobia, and taeniophobia. But he thinks with a little luck he'll pull me through."

* * *

Suppose your wife bawls you out because your income is low.

"Don't pick on a sick man, honey," you can tell her. "Most people suffer from chrematophilia, or love of money. I've simply been struck down by an even rarer disease—chrematophobia, or fear of money. If only you could catch it, too, then we'd both be happy."

Incidentally, if your wife is hammering at you to buy her a mink coat, you might try to infect her with doraphobia, the fear of touching animal fur. It's hard to do, but it's worth trying.

* * *

The teen-age boy seeking to wheedle the use of the family car might gain some parental sympathy by throwing in this clincher, "Dad, I didn't want to tell you, but I'm a victim of basiphobia."

Actually, basiphobia is very widespread among teen-agers today. It is the fear of walking. Many also suffer from stasiphobia, or the fear of standing upright. But few seem stricken with kathisophobia, the fear of sitting down.

Perhaps it is against public policy for me to do anything to encourage bachelors. However, if a young man wants to escape a snare set for him by a girl he knows would make him miserable, he might break off the romance by saying:

"Baby, you're too healthy to be married to a guy with all my ailments. I hate to admit it but I've got gamophobia, gynephobia, micrometallophobia, hypengyophobia, amychophobia, merinthophobia, domatophobia and toxicophobia."

Naturally the young lady won't want a husband with all those strange-sounding maladies. She won't know that they are chronic complaints with practically every rascally, freedom-loving bachelor.

All they mean is that the guy has a fear of marriage, a fear of women, a fear of touching small metal objects (such as wedding rings), a fear of responsibility, a fear of being clawed, a fear of being tied down, a fear of living in a house with another human being, and a fear of being poisoned—as, for instance, by a girl who doesn't know how to cook.

* * *

Political campaigns would reach a new level if every statesman suddenly caught mythophobia, the fear of telling untruths. But no politician has ever been known to suffer from phonophobia—the fear of his own voice. Politicians are much more likely to have tetanophobia. This is fear of lockjaw.

Everybody is more or less afraid of the hydrogen bomb. This is ballistrophobia, the fear of missiles or projectiles. However, this doesn't cover the guy who is merely afraid that a lady with an umbrella will stick him in the eye. He has aichomophobia, the fear of pointed objects.

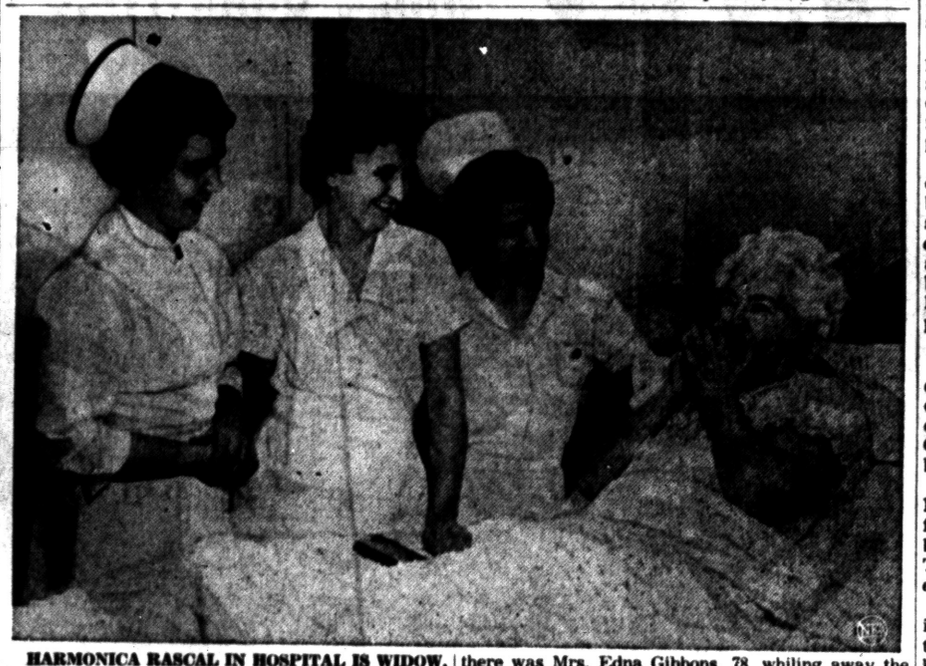

* * *

Maybe none of these fears interest you. You want a more unusual one? Well, how about auroraphobia or fear of the northern lights? Chances are none of your neighbors can brag he's got that one.

But there is a fear for everyone. If you don't like shopping around for fears, you can win the jackpot by coming down with pantophobia. That means you have a fear of everything.

How about a man who boasts he is without fear? Well, the truth is there really is no such fellow. He has a secret fear all right. It is called phobophobia—the fear of being afraid.

California farmers grow one-third of all U.S. fruits and one-quarter of all U.S. vegetables although they actually cultivate only about 2 per cent of the nation's total cropland.

HARMONICA RASCAL IN HOSPITAL IS WIDOW, 78 — Nurses, doctors and patients alike pricked up their ears when they heard the strains of "Nellie Grey," played on a harmonica, come wafting along the second-floor corridors in a suburban Cleveland, Ohio, hospital. Then came "Sailor's Hornpipe," and "Irish Washerwoman." "How come?" they wondered. "Is Larry Adler a patient here?" So they stuck their heads in the doorway of Room 206 and, lo and behold, there was Mrs. Edna Gibbons, 78, whiling away the time with a few favorite tunes. The pretty, white-haired widow explained that she has "been playing since I was five." She even confessed she used to wire the harmonica to her mouth so she could strum her guitar at the same time. "I don't play as well as I used to," she modestly confessed. "I used to play like Herb Shriner does on television. I'm a Hoosier, too."

Denies F.D.R. Was Ill at Yalta

Roosevelt's Physician Insists President Was 'Strong Man'

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice-Admiral Ross T. McIntire, personal physician to to the late President Roosevelt, asserted today that FDR was the "strong man" of the Big Three conference at Yalta in 1945.

McIntire denied in an interview reports that President Roosevelt was sick both mentally and physically during the meeting and therefore a pawn in the hands of the late Premier Stalin of Russia.

* * *

In Chicago to take over as the new executive director of the International College of Surgeons, McIntire said:

"President Roosevelt was completely responsible for his acts at Yalta. He was physically tired but as mentally alert as I had ever seen him."

He said FDR left the February 1945 conference with his aims accomplished: To bring Russia into the war against Japan, a promise that Russia would back Chiang Kai-shek and full sovereignty for Poland.

* * *

What FDR didn't know then, McIntire added, was that he was "dealing with an ally who from the moment he signed the agreements had no intention of keeping them."

The physician said FDR's wan appearance in the last year of his life was due to loss of weight following an attack of influenza and bronchitis.

He said nothing was found in an examination of the President prior to his leaving for Warm Springs, Ga., to forewarn physicians of his death on April 12, 1945.

Automobile Loses Bout With Horse on Highway

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (UP) — Two men were slightly hurt and plenty puzzled when their auto collided with a horse near here.

Louis Rivetti and Donald Putnam of Portland, N. Y., said the horse was standing in the middle of the road. The horse was bounced onto the roof of the automobile where it lay stunned for several minutes. Then the animal scrambled off the car and ambled back to pasture. The car suffered the most damage.

About 4,060,000 babies were born in the U.S. in 1954, a record.

Bill Toll Road Cheaters Right From Beginning

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — The New York State Thruway Authority is having trouble getting everybody to pay tolls on the super-highway.

A spokesman said side access roads, being used temporarily for construction, make perfect exits for "toll jumpers," who shoot on and off the highway without using the interchanges.

But those who are caught get quite a jolt — they're billed all the way back to the first entrance, which is near New York City.

All in a Day's Drive

CHESTERFIELD, N. H. (UP)— Neither of the two occupants was seriously injured when an automobile here went out of control, ripped out 10 guardrail posts, somersaulted repeatedly, tore out utility lines, went down an embankment, landed on its roof and rolled over to halt on its wheels.

Lad Was Just Starting

HYANNIS, Mass. (UP)—When an 82-year-old banker died here recently, a suburban weekly headlined the story — "Career Cut Short."

Mine Very Productive

LEAD, S. D. (UP) — Nearly one-fourth of all the gold produced in the United States and Alaska comes from the Homestake gold mine here. The mine, which has been producing gold since 1877, gave up more than 534,000 ounces of gold in 1953 when the entire production of the United States and Alaska was 1,958,291 fine ounces.

About four million kilowatts of hydro-electric capacity were installed by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation during its first 50 years of operation.

Trucker Faces Court

PRINCETON, Ind. (UP)—M. H. Hall of Birmingham, Ala., should consider himself lucky to appear in court today on speeding charges. Hall was charged by state police with speeding in a truck loaded with 21,000 pounds of dynamite. Hall's truck overturned in a ditch and the dynamite didn't explode.

Old Brewery Renamed

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—The Fox Brewery building, a landmark recently purchased by the city as a proposed alcoholics clinic, now is known as the Michigan Hill Annex. The City Commission officially changed the name Tuesday. The new title was suggested in a contest among high school students.

America's top executives spend 15 to 20 hours a week reading reports of their various fields, including correspondence and trade journals.

Needs Lessons Himself

OMAHA (UP)—Carl A. Crause, Sidney, Neb., schoolteacher, paid a $10 fine in County Court for driving a car with expired license plates. The car was a student driver education vehicle.

Hairdo Artistry Needed

By MARGARET LATROBE

"Where's the nearest beauty shop?"

That's usually the first question women ask, at the end of a trip. And the last thing they do before leaving home for any engagement worth having? Cinching the appointment. Not at the dentist's not at the doctor's — right there in Booth Three at the Salon de Beaute. No appointment—no go.

Princess Margaret on her triumphal West Indies visit was accompanied by the appropriate entourage — and her hairdresser. The Duchess, the maharanee, the ballad singer and opera star, roughing it with only 82 pieces of luggage, make very sure their pin curl genius is free to travel before booking a visit too far from home.

This deep-seated compulsion of the little woman's to pop her head under a hair drier was observed during the depression by a sharp-eyed but bankrupt husband. Down to his last five bucks, he handed this sum over to his wife with instructions to spend it where it would do the most good. She spent every cent of it at a beauty shop.

Now he's a millionaire owner of a chain of shampoo-and-set emporiums. And his reasoning was as sound then as it is now — if a woman, any woman, will spend her last dollar at the hairdresser's, why should he fret further about what business to open?

But according to hair stylist Louis Feder, in a trade journal article advising shop owners how to increase profits, "Some of the most popular stars on the stage and screen are wearing styles that are bad for the industry . . . The main objective of the industry should be to kill these non-profit styles."

He has specific reference to the "rag-mop" of Italian origin, which requires no tender ministrations other than garden snippers and unsteady hands to achieve its hacked-off horror.

Well, gee, Mr. Feder — we thought you folks were in business primarily to make us beautiful, not just for the cold, hard realities of profit. However, it seems to me the industry can quit worrying about what hair styles Arlene and Lana and Debbie are wearing. Even the straightest, plainest nothing of a trend can't hurt business if you just stress oone thing — that there is "beauty" to be found in a beauty shop. We want to look less like Ana Pauker. Then business will always boom.

Poodle cuts, airedale bangs, upsweeps and down-grades — it matters little to us, just so we look better instead of worse. How about advising beauty operators to become artists, so skillful at creating individual styles for individual customers that women would beg for weekly appointments? How about fewer frizzly permanent waves, less rubber stamp styles which "they are wearing"? How about some real competence to build confidence?

Duelists Exchange Swords for Forks

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Two Monarchist politicians who pinked each other in a sword duel prepared today to have dinner together. Both nursed minor wounds on the right forearm.

The duel was fought yesterday by Sen. Gaetano Fiorentino, a member of the Popular Monarchist party, and Attilio Romano, an official of the rival National Monarchist faction. Fiorentino said later it was over an article he wrote in a Naples newspaper.

"The Duel settled the issue," the senator said, announcing that he and his opponent were dining together tonight.

Acquit MP's Wife in Counterfeit Case

MONTREAL (AP) — A jury last night freed Mrs. Harry Pursey, wife of a British Parliament member, of a charge of possessing counterfeit U. S. currency. It was her second trial.

The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty through lack of evidence." Her first trial ended Nov. 30 when a jury was unable to reach a verdict.

She was arrested Sept. 20 after negotiating with a downtown Montreal furrier for the purchase of two coats costing $1,110. Police testified they found $1,730 in counterfeit U. S. currency, $733 in genuine U. S. money and jewelry worth $25,000 in her purse. She said she did not know the money was bogus.

Pursey is a Labor member of Parliament. The couple—she is 41 and he is 64—were married in Trenton, N. J., last September. She was arrested while they were honeymooning.

Peron, Catholics End Four-Month-Old Feud

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Peron's government and the Roman Catholic Church reportedly have agreed to end their four-month running battle.

High church sources said last night a truce was reached in long conferences this week between Peron and Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello, Argentina primate.

The informants said the agreement will lead to settlement of all causes of tension. During the feud, at least 13 priests were jailed for terms ranging up to 30 days.

Toronto Dentist Urges Delay in Fluoridation

Following is an article published in the Toronto Star March 14. The Rev. Robert Garner, president of the Citizens Fair Government League, asked the Press to publish it as a part of the league's campaign prior to the April 4 election. A special issue on the ballot will decide whether Pontiac should fluoridate its water supply. The following article from the Toronto Star describes a public meeting held in Toronto March 13:

The public has been "grossly oversold" on what it can expect from the fluoridation of Toronto's drinking water, Dr. J. H. Johnson, a professor in the dental faculty, the University of Toronto, told a forum meeting at Bathurst Street United church last night.

"It is a cruel deception to imply to people that for 10 cents a year they will get the same dental protection which now costs them an average of $26 a year."

Dr. Johnson was speaking as a member of a four-speaker panel presenting the argument for not adding fluorides to Toronto's water at the present time. Last Sunday those favoring fluoridation gave their views.

Evidence so far indicates fluoridation of water only benefits children up to eight or nine years of age, Dr. Johnson said. "It appears that from eight to 80 the fluorine does no good and simply stores in the system.

"There is no getting away from the fact its chief use today is as a rat and roach poison." He said there was no known safe dosage for fluorine.

Fluorine, he said, tended to harden the teeth. "It is quite possible this could lead to an increase in pyorrhea and an increase in the loss of teeth in adults." Persons over 40 lose more teeth from pyorrhea than tooth decay, the dentist said.

"I am not anti-fluoridation," he said, "nor am I for it with our limited scientific knowledge. I don't know how any thinking person can endorse it at present."

He said many well-informed scientists were dubious of fluorine's value while it is supported by "Johnny Jump-ups and self-appointed scientists. Let's put fluorine back in the research laboratory until we can speak of it with more assurance and confidence," he said.

Dr. Johnson said some of his colleagues won't speak to him because of his stand on fluoridation. "And I have scarcely opened my mouth yet," he added.

Dr. F. A. J. Zeidler, Toronto chemist, warned that fluoridation could be "a grave mistake and a dangerous folly." Research has shown, he said, that fluorine tends to deprive the body of calcium, weakening various organs. "We have ample proof and absolute evidence of damage fluorine has done to health in many cases."

Tolerance of fluorine varies from individual to individual, the chemist said. "Older people seem more sensitive to it. The chief hazard is in his biological variance," he said. "Many persons may be harmed by fluorine while the majority will not."

He said it seemed foolish and expensive to add fluorine to water when it may harm many and could only benefit young children—one-eighth of the total population.

Dr. Zeidler said there was considerable difference between the fluorine found naturally in some water and that added by men. "Natural fluorine is in an inactive state," he said. "Added fluorine is very active and more toxic."

The chemist warned that treated water used in cooking could contain much more fluorine than the recommended minimum of one part in a million.

Dr. W. J. McCormick, a member of the American Academy of Nutrition, told the meeting there was no conclusive evidence that fluorine serves a useful purpose in animal life. "This has never been demonstrated," he said.

In Massachusetts, a brewer was fined for adding fluorine to his beer, Dr. McCormick said. "The court called it 'a foreign non-nutritive substance.'" He told of a baby food manufacturer who recently reduced the fluorine content of his product from 11.2 to .2 parts per million.

Dr. McCormick told of an experiment conducted at a Texas university in which mice were given fluoridated water while a control group was given normal water.

"The mice receiving untreated water developed 21 per cent less cancer and their average life span was 10 per cent longer," he said.

There is still much experimentation to be done, the doctor stated. "The full adverse effects of fluorine on mankind may not be known for many years."

E. C. Fetzer, Toronto lawyer, criticized those advocating fluoridation of water as "too far in advance of public opinion. For a group to impose on the majority their view of what should go into our stomachs is sheer dictatorship and not democracy," he declared.

He suggested the question should be put to a vote. "You can trust the people," Mr. Fetzer said. "The common sanity is what is needed—the common morality. We should be given the opportunity to vote on fluoridation before our right to a good cold glass of water is interferred with."

Appointed by the king, the job of a sheriff in Old England was to ride circuit across the countryside collecting levies and fines and holding court.

UPS AND DOWNS OF FAKIR — Meet John Harris of Glasgow, Scotland, who had enough rope for the Indian rope trick, but not enough patience. Fancy turban and all, the 9-month-old laddie gets off to a bonnie start (left) as the rope begins its snake-like climb to the tune of a mysterious Oriental melody. But the fascinating sight taxes wee Johnnie's patience, and he stops his tooting to gaze at the undulating rope (center). At right, the magic spell broken, Johnnie is paying for his curiosity with tears.

Youth Bureau Asked of State

Schools Head Claims New Agency Would Aid in Cutting Delinquency

LANSING (AP)—State Sup. of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor today asked the Legislature to set up a youth bureau in his department to aid in the fight against juvenile delinquency.

The bureau, he said, would work out programs to "prevent trouble before it happened."

Taylor told a meeting of the Future Farmers of America yesterday that Michigan "has the finest boys and girls in the country."

But there are problems of children leaving school before graduation, and of children who can't seem to fit into the normal pattern of life, he said.

"There have been too many programs dealing with youth after they are in trouble and insufficient attention for the others," Taylor said. "This must be a program strictly of prevention."

While it costs $1,000 a year to keep a person in prison, a preventive program would cost only a few dollars a year, Taylor declared.

The youth bureau, he said, would be advised by youth organizations such as the FFA and the Boy Scouts. In addition, high school principals and church groups would be asked to offer help.

"I feel certain that the program should be tied to the schools and should not be a newly created agency of government," he added.

Rep. John J. McCune (R-East Lansing), chairman of the House Education Committee, said such a bureau would be a "tremendous public service."

McCune said he plans to introduce a bill to set up the bureau next week.

Senate Moving to Tighten Ban on School Clubs

LANSING (AP)—Steps were taken by the Senate today to tighten the state's long-standing ban on high school fraternities and sororities.

Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) said there was widespread violation of the law forbidding public school pupils to belong to secret societies.

The law now specifies pupils may not join secret organizations "wholly or chiefly" composed of other juveniles. Ryan said the word "chiefly" permitted organizations to enroll 49 per cent pupils with a "dummy" list of 51 per cent adults.

The Senate accepted Ryan's amendment to forbid membership in any secret society "wholly or in part" composed of other students.

He attempted to work out an amendment which he said would protect pupils' rights to belong to such semi-religious organizations as the Order of De Molay, but other senators objected his amendments would weaken the bill, instead.

Williams Signs Bills on Welfare Funds, Guns

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today signed into law bills to:

Give five million dollars to the State Department of Social Welfare as a deficiency appropriation.

Crashes in Landing

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A B50 bomber landing at Biggs Air Force Base yesterday rammed and set fire to a B26 target tow plane. One airman, A 2. C. Merle A. Talbott, San Lorenzo, Calif., was killed and four others seriously injured.

About 21,000 persons in the U.S. die of accidental falls annually, most of them in the home.

State Urges Caution in Garden Bargains

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Department today warned buyers against "bargain" nursery stock.

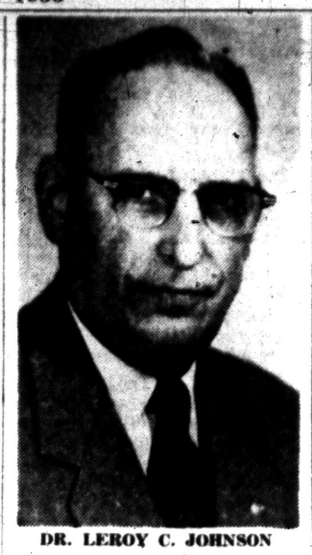

C. A. Boyer, chief of the department's Bureau of Plant Industry, said purchasers of landscape materials should be careful to determine if they are dealing with legitimate operators and that they are being furnished with the grade and quality of stock they think they are purchasing.

Boyer said the safest method is to make sure the dealer is licensed by the State Department of Agriculture. This will assure that the nursery stock has been properly inspected and is free from dangerous insects and plant diseases.

Foresees No Troubles in Integration of Unions

LOS ANGELES (AP)—David J. McDonald, head of the CIO United Steelworkers, says he anticipates no difficulties in the integration of AFL and CIO state and local bodies after a merger of the parent organizations.

He said in an interview yesterday that he thinks it would be possible for some bodies of both groups to retain their identities. Merger plans have been approved by executive committees of the CIO and AFL. The memberships will vote on the proposal at conventions later this year.

DR. LEROY C. JOHNSON

Dr. Johnson Remains Society President

Dr. Leroy C. Johnson of Pontiac was re-elected president of the Michigan Osteopathic Society of Proctology at a meeting in Lansing Sunday.

Dr. E. E. Ludwig of Rochester was named vice president of the unit, which was incorrectly identified in a story Monday as the Michigan Osteopathic Society.

Lives of Mothers Show Amazing Parallel of Detail

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two mothers took their babies home from the hospital yesterday, ending a series of astonishing coincidences.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bosshard and and Mrs. Jacqueline Luscher, each 28, were both born in Biel, Switzerland. They didn't know each other during girlhood.

But they were married on the same day, July, 22, 1950, in different parts of the world, Elizabeth to Hans Bosshard, an electrician, and Jacqueline to Werner Luscher, also an electrician.

Both couples came to Los Angeles. They met in August 1953 at a Swiss national holiday gathering in Swiss Park in nearby Azusa.

Both women learned that they were expectant mothers last summer. They were patients of the same obstetrician. Both entered the Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital maternity ward last Saturday.

Mrs. Luscher gave birth to a 7-pound, 5-ounce girl, Cinthia, at 9 o'clock that night. Mrs. Bosshard had a 7-pound, 5-ounce girl, Linda, at 11 o'clock.

It was the first child for each couple. The mothers were placed in the same room in the ward and left the hospital at the same time.

LET'S HAVE A PICNIC—4
Setting the Table

For the picnic in the park, Kathy helps set the table with paper plates and a paper tablecloth and napkins. After lunch all she will have to do is gather up all the waste paper and put it carefully in the park's trash basket.

Color the picture any way you wish and paste it on stiff paper. Cupt it out along the outside dark lines. Fold the left side with Kathy on it forward, and the table top backward along the dotted lines. Now the table will stand up and Kathy can set her table.

Tomorrow: A walk in the woods.

Son's Snake Collection Wins Approval of Mom

ELYRIA, O. (UP) — Mrs. Steve Jarzemba is certainly an understanding mother.

Her son, Richard Bates, 12, has acquired a 4½ foot baby boa constrictor to add to his menagerie of a blue racer, two garter snakes, a decoy snake, 11 turtles, two guinea pigs and a dog.

He has been working on the reptile collection since last summer. All are non-poisonous, but the boa constrictor presents a problem. Or, rather, it will when it fully matures, since it will then measure at least 12 feet in length.

Mrs. Jarzemba accepts her son's collecting propensities, feeling a parent should not "interfere with her children's hobbies."

Gunman Meets Match

SPRAGUE, Conn. (UP) — After knocking a gun out of a bandit's hand and saving $200, Saul Rothstein told police he didn't want to hand over the money because the bandit "didn't earn it."

FLYING FIRE TRUCK — Something different in fighting fires is the aim of the Piasecki Helicopter Corp. of Morton, Pa. As an artist has illustrated the idea above, a specially designed 'copter could reach burning planes downed on mountainsides, in swamplands, forests or other places inaccessible to wheeled equipment. Rescue workers would be lowered to the ground while the flying fire truck hovers over the fire spraying an extinguisher from its crane-like front. Flames would be kept away from the 'copter by its whirling rotors. The manufacturer says it could be used in fighting fires in upper stories of high buildings. Note truck bogged down in swamp.

Motor City Honors Rotterdam, Holland

DETROIT (UP) — Flags of the Netherlands waved over Detroit City Hall today as the motor capital of the world turned out to honor the city of Rotterdam.

Today's program climaxed a week-long observance of Detroit-Rotterdam week, which began Monday by proclamation of Mayor Albert E. Cobo.

Throughout the week, Detroit cultural centers and commercial firms displayed samples of Dutch culture and industry.

Highlighting today's program was a Detroit visit by Dr. J. H. Van Roijen, Netherlands ambassador to the United States, and a concert by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra honoring Dutch composers, with Van Roijen as guest of honor.

Mayor Cobo called for the international salute to honor Rotterdam on the 10th anniversary of the World War II liberation of the Dutch city and its phenomenal rise from the ashes of buildings leveled by bombs of both the Axis and the Allies.

At a reception in City Hall, the Detroit mayor presented Dr. Van Roijen with a gavel carved from wood of the original old Ft. Detroit, one of the first settlements in the Middle West.

Some medical experts have stated that up to one and one-half per cent of the people of the world have conditions which cause cross-eyes.

Doctor's Attorneys Seek Commitment

McALESTER, Okla. (UP) — An attorney for Dr. Ben T. Galbraith, charged with murder of his wife and three children, said last night that a letter found in the fire-swept home where they died will be the basis today for an order seeking his committal to a mental hospital.

Atty. Willard Smith, a brother-in-law of the 34-year-old heart specialist, said an application to send the defendant to Eastern State Hospital at Vinita will be filed in District Court.

Galbraith pleaded innocent at his arraignment yesterday and waived preliminary hearing.

The letter was not addressed to anyone but said in part:

"Despair, frustration, restlessness. All this haunts and tantalizes me. I have sudden yearnings to be alone, away from everything that moves, feels or reacts. I would like to kill myself but I retreat from this."

Bridge Plans Win OK

GRAND HAVEN (UP)—City Council has approved state Highway Department plans for a double lift bridge, three blocks long, to carry the new US 31 over the Grand River. The new bridge, 100 feet west of the present span, will connect the cities of Grand Haven and Ferrysburg in place of the present span.

Eddie and Debbie Flying to London This Weekend

NEW YORK (UP)—Crooner Eddie Fisher and the girl he plans to marry, movie star Debbie Reynolds, are flying to London together this weekend, his agent said today.

The trip is both for work and pleasure—work for Fisher and a pleasure jaunt for Miss Reynolds. Her mother is going along.

Immunization Winding Up

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—The last of a series of county-wide public school immunization clinics has been scheduled for today. The program, sponsored by the Kent County Parents-Teachers Assn., includes immunization against diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox for pre-school children.

You Can Force Flowering Shrubbery to Blossom Early Right in the House

ANN ARBOR (UP) — You can force spring to appear indoors, and there's a woman here who knows how to do it.

Elzada Clover, associate professor of botany at the University of Michigan, says you can force flowering shrubs and trees to bloom right in your own home.

All you have to do is cut a few branches from your favorite shrubs and trees in your yard. She says:

"The branches should be cut after the buds have begun to swell but before they show signs of blooming. Some people suggest crushing the ends with a hammer or cutting them diagonally with a knife, but this is not essential."

For then on, the job is even easier. Just find a spare bedroom or use the basement. Make sure the air is moist and cool. Put the branches in rather deep, lukewarm water in a bucket-sized container.

The buds need light, Prof. Clover says, but it must not be too intense or direct.

"First to come out will be forsythia with its much-loved brilliant yellow flower, and the silky gray pussywillow," she says. "The silver maple with its small clusters of reddish flowers growing close to the stem also has fine decorative value.

"Cottonwoods and other poplars may be enjoyed for the novelty effect of their brilliant red or greenish-colored catkins. The adler's long tasseling catkins, consisting of many minute brownish flowers, may be used to add a touch of the whimsical."

But, Prof. Clover thinks the most beautiful are the scented, delicately colored blossoms of the flowering fruit trees. The most easily forced, she says, are the apricot, plum, apple, peach, pear and Japanese quince.

No matter what you choose, she adds, it should give you flowers within a week or 10 days and through that time, the fun of watching nature in action "on almost any blossoming branch."

'Working' Wife Holds Down 2 'Jobs' at Once

NEWPORT, England (UP)—Evelyn Anthony, 35, appeared for a preliminary hearing on a bigamy charge yesterday.

Husband Cecil Anthony said Evelyn told him last March she had taken a night job in a hospital. She left him and their five children at 7 each evening and returned at 7:30 each morning.

Edward J. Jenkins said he went through a marriage ceremony with her last March. She told him she worked days. Leaving the Jenkins house at 7 each morning, she returned at 7:30 each night.

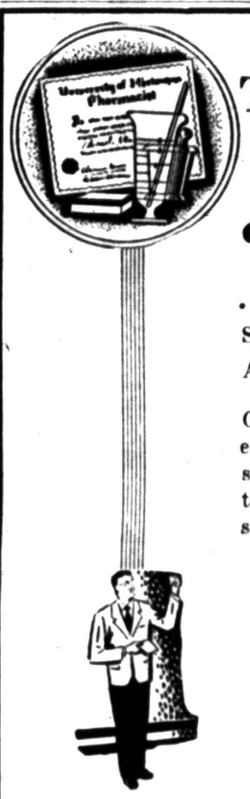

* * *

Anthony said he finally forbade his wife to go on working because "she looked tired and run down." Jenkins investigated her subsequent disappearance and the bigamy accusation followed.

Anthony, who put up bail for Evelyn's release until her trial, told the judge "she had been a good wife and mother."

For Soldiers Only

JERUSALEM (UP)—Something not required for a Cabinet minister in Israel is demanded of the lowest buck private in its army. A soldier is the only person on the government payroll who must be legally married if his wife is to qualify for pension after his death. The regulation for all other persons drawing government pay says "or woman generally regarded as his wife."

Is 3 Cent Stamp on Its Way Out?

1st Class Postage Hike Would Close Era for Post Office Department

WASHINGTON — The 3-cent stamp may soon step out of its role as intimate little necessity in the American's everyday life.

The Post Office Department wants to substitute a 4-cent stamp for use on first class mail. If that happens, 3-centers will be plucked for the last time from the dark recesses of dainty hand-bags and ferreted from the worn folds of wallets and the dusty corners of office desks and home bureaus all over the letter-writing United States.

No other denomination has a history as diversified as the 3-cent stamp, says the National Geographic Society.

The first 3-center appeared in 1851, four years after the government started issuing adhesive postage stamps. Brick red, it carried a profile of Washington designed from a bust by Houdon.

From then until now, 3-cent stamps have provided more revenue than any other denomination. In the fiscal year 1954 alone, 10,174,398,000 were run off, bringing in some $300,000,000. Three regular issues (1938's Jefferson, 1952's NATO and 1954's Statue of Liberty) accounted for nearly 9,000,000,000. The 1938 stamp — printed 16 years—was probably the most used stamp on record. The Liberty stamp came out in June, 1954, the first 3-cent issue inscribed with "In God We Trust."

The 3-cent stamps have composed a gallery of leading Americans and a chronicle of epic events.

At least 14 have honored Washington, from early profiles through commemoratives marking his birthday bicentennial, the end of the Revolution, his first inauguration and the battle of Brooklyn. Washington's effigy appeared on a Mount Rushmore stamp and on the Washington and Lee University 200th anniversary commemorative in 1949.

Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln and both Roosevelts have adorned the 3-cent stamp—also William Penn, Webster and Generals Lafayette, Sherman, Grant, Sheridan, Goethals and Stephen W. Kearny.

Still others were: Edgar Allen Poe, Luther Burbank, Victor Herbert, Augustus Saint-Gaudens, Al Smith, Edison, Joseph Pulitzer, George Washington Carver, Clara Barton, Juliette Low (Girl Scout leader), Will Rogers, Moina Michael (founder of the memorial poppy), Joel Chandler Harris, Samuel Gompers, Betsy Ross, George Eastman, Harlan F. Stone and "Casey" Jones of railroad fame.

Most by far were printed in purple ink. Out of the total of more than 175 regular and commemorative issues, blue, green, and maroon tinted fewer than 50. Some were brown, yellow, lilac, black, and gray.

Commemoratives flourished in the 1930's and early 1940's under Franklin D. Roosevelt, stamp-collecting president. The peak, however, was reached in 1948 with 27 new 3-cent stamps.

Issues memorialized Byrd's second Antarctic trip, baseball's centennial, the Smithsonian Institution's 100th anniversary, dedication of Palomar Mountain observatory, the GAR's final encampment and state admissions to the union. This year two commemoratives hail the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts and the first land-grant colleges.

Should 4-cent postage win approval, the Post Office could keep the 3-centers' design, merely changing the denomination. It could use the 1954 lavender Lincoln 4-center or devise a whole new stamp.

Plane's Fuel Shortage Gives Birth to Airport

TOLEDO, O. (UP)—This city's first successful airport was established because an Army sergeant ran out of gas while flying in this area.

During the spring of 1920, while workng in his cornfield, farmer Fred J. Reutheringer saw a plane in distress and signalled for it to land.

The plane, piloted by a man remembered now only as a Sergeant pomeroy, landed safely.

The sergeant told Reutheringer that there were numerous flights and that Army planes often ran short of fuel in the Toledo area.

The farmer, with an eye to business, suggested the Army lease his cornfield as an emergency landing field.

The next day the Army moved in with three officers, 130 enlisted men and 30 truckloads of equipment to set up what became the first successful airport here.

Birth rate of the U.S. in 1954 was 25.2 per 1,000 of population.

Senator Moves to Protect Squirrels at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) said today he is counting on support from wildlife lovers all over the country for his campaign to save the squirrels at the White House.

While Democrats shook with laughter, the solemn-visaged Neuberger yesterday told the Senate:

"Presidents might come and Presidents might go, but the White House squirrels presumably could go on forever. That is, until they began scratching Dwight D. Eisenhower's favorite putting green."

The senator read news reports saying the squirrels had been caught in box-traps and carted many miles away from the White House because they have been scratching his putting green."

"It seems likely, under this program of banishment," he said, "that many squirrel families are being torn apart—mothers and fathers separated from their off-spring."

Neuberger offered "$25 from my own pocket" to start "a save-the-White House-squirrels fund." He proposed it be used to erect a fence "to protect the President's golf green from any ravages or depredations by marauding squirrels."

He listed one condition: "That the trapping and deporting of the White House squirrels cease immediately."

"A little piece of the White House belongs to me, as it does to every American. I don't want my piece of the White House to be without the White House squirrels."

Sen. Barkley (D-Ky), the former vice president, interrupted Neuberger to observe that maybe the squirrels, "according to their habit, are busy seeking to bury some of the nuts which have been brought to Washington recently."

Barkley paraphrased a biblical verse (Matthew 8:20):

"Foxes have holes, the birds of the air have their nests, but the son of man hath no where to putt."

To clean playing cards, apply spirits of camphor lightly with cotton, then wipe off and polish.

LOST 67 POUNDS

You May Be Worth Your Weight In Gold

Yes, but not if you are overweight. Insurance companies would consider you a poor risk because your life expectance is diminished in proportion to the number of pounds you are overweight. Top flite thinking leads overweight men and women to action. A wise choice will lead to Rennel. Mr. Rudolph A. Schmidt, 327 S. Madison, Marshall, Mich. lost no time correcting his problem. He writes, "At a consultation with an insurance doctor I was told that my weight was way above the normal and that I would have to reduce or else. Quietly I tried about everything on the market but without results. Finally I consulted my reliable local druggist in Marshall who advised me to use Rennel. I began to lose weight with the first bottle and have now gone from 272 to 205 pounds. I aim to go to 180 lbs. and feel confident that Rennel will help me to get there."

You too can save time, money and disappointment if you will try Rennel first. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Rennel accepts the challenge. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back.

Europe's Movie-Makers Planning to Pool Efforts

ROME (UP) — Europe's movie-makers are setting up a united Europe with more movie fans in it than Hollywood could ever hope to find in the United States.

The project, designed to share film costs as well as stars, is a European film community. It will have a whopping box-office potential of 280,000,000 cinema-goers, more than double the United States potential of 130,000,000.

"The result is going to be more films at a cheaper cost to everyone," said Eitel Monaco, spokesman for Italian producers whose current film output is second only to that of America on the world market.

In a United Press interview, Monaco, chief of the National Association of Motion Picture Producers, Distributors and Laboratory Owners (ANICA), explained the latest move to turn the continent into one big movieland.

"Our industry," he said, "has found that co-produced pictures pay off. They split investment risk and speed up the pay-back by being released onto more than one market."

This led, in the past, to Italian co-production pacts with France, Germany, Spain and Argentina.

Now the plan is to bundle up these separate co-production pacts into a European community of producers—a widening of the field everywhere somewhat along the lines of the European coal and steel pool.

"I recently signed an agreement in Paris with the French Producers Association creating a committee to look into this," said Monaco.

The new association, technically known as the Committee of Study and Liaison for a European Film Community, included at first only French and Italian producers.

"But we invited German and Dutch producers to come in with us," said the ANICA chief, adding, "the group is open to everyone."

The 52-year-old industry leader explained the committee currently is working at an industrial level, with inter-governmental talks to come later.

As an example of the fruits of co-production he cited Italian and French producers who, over the past five years, have made jointly 120 films.

"They are favorites in France and include some of the best movies to come out of Europe in these last years," said Monaco, citing "Fan Fan Tulipe" with Gina Lollobrigida and "Theodora, Slave Empress" with Gianna Maria Canale, both successes in the United States.

"There is no reason why a European film community should harm Hollywood," added Monaco, stating that recently in New York he attempted to show American producers it would be to their advantage to sign an accord with Italy for co-production as distinct from current practice of major studios making 100 per cent American films in Italy.

The ANICA chief admits that film-making for a common European market will alter somewhat the character of films.

Expressively localized stories, appreciated only in their own country, "will not be encouraged," he said.

"But remember," he added, "a film is essentially a spectacle, not an effete intellectual statement. Its purpose is to entertain in any or all countries."

Commies Set Up Phony Frontiers

VIENNA (UP)—The Communists have set up a fake "frontier" east of the Iron Curtain to trap escapees seeking freedom in the West, according to officials of the United States Escapee Program (USEP).

Phony border markers, customs posts, barbed wire entanglements and other stage settings delude refugees into thinking they have reached their goal, USEP spokesmen charged.

They said that near the border of Czechoslovakia and West Germany, Czech secret police have been fitted out with West German police uniforms.

"Thinking that he has crossed the border, the escapee approaches a guard wearing a West German uniform and asks for asylum, only to find that he has turned himself over to the authorities from whom he was fleeing," USEP said.

Ohio Farmer Unearths Tree From Ice Age

LEBANON, Ohio (UP)—A tree that might be 200,000 years old was uncovered here recently when a farmer started to dig a new farm pond.

Ohio State University geologists, examining the find, thought it was felled by an ancient glacier which moved down from the north and covered the state.

The tree, almost perfectly preserved was found in a vein of blue-gray clay which the experts began testing for radioactivity to confirm its true age.

Morals Trouble Plagues Britain

Officials Ponder Action Against Horror Comics and Other Blights

LONDON (UP) — Britain's 18-month-old moral clean-up campaign has moved into the political arena.

Parliamentarians, church and civic leaders and even members of the Cabinet are weighing legislation to wipe out prostitution, homosexuality, pornography and obscene literature.

The Churchill government lately has been so plagued with demands to ban the sale of so-called horror comics that two Cabinet ministers have hinted at the introduction of laws to keep them off Britain's bookstalls.

The government also is faced with what has been described as "intensified activity" by prostitutes and perverts, while variety theaters are being scored for presenting "nude" shows to the exclusion of what is called "traditional British variety."

The comics at issue are those whose central characters are ghouls or vampires, the "crime often pays" type, and others that exploit excesses and amoral acts.

The storm against this type of children's "entertainment" has reached such proportions that already the largest firm producing "horror" comics here has announced that it will cease publication and devote its energies to better-type products.

But there are still horror comics in circulation and so much concern is felt over their influence among children that the leader of the Anglican church, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, recently led a deputation to discuss the problem with the home secretary, Maj. Lloyd George.

Lloyd George promised the deputation the "most careful consideration by the government" of the whole horror comics question.

Soon after he announced a full government inquiry into the matter and hinted that legislation would be introduced into the next session of Parliament to ban "horrors" altogether.

Recently the Bishop of Coventry, Dr. Neville Gorton, condemned the way in which sex is being commercialized in Britain in some films, books and newspapers, and his attack received much support.

Dr. Gorton said that the commercialization of sex was the most destructive influence with which he had to deal, and it had contributed to the breakdown of the Christian principle of marriage and "formed the greatest disintegrating evil of the day."

Then there is the fight in the vaudeville theaters over the nude and "strip" shows. Vaudeville artists asoctations claim that girls with no stage ability whatsoever are crowding out real performers. Theater managers reply that today's customers want to see nudity.

A 14-member committee representative of all classes and interests in the country is at present sitting as a government inquiry into the existing laws relating to homosexual offenses and prostitution.

On the committee's finding the government will judge what new legislation will be necessary to combat the increase in prostitution and homosexuality in Britain in recent years.

Finds the Lost Chord

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—When Mrs. Don Spinks pushed down on the organ pedal during church services, out came a loud peal of notes—and a squeak. Mrs. Spinks looked down in time to see a mouse dart for cover.

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks!

It's the largest and finest fleet of trucks ever built by the nation's No. 1 truck builder. Whatever your task or trade, there's a new Chevrolet truck to make or save you money on the job. Come and look 'em over!

Now Chevrolet introduces "Work Styling"—an exclusive development in truck design. Plus new engines—new capacities—new Overdrive and Power Steering—new features and advantages throughout!

Here's what happens when America's leading truck builder pulls out all the stops! Here are trucks that are new from the drawing board out! And they have a whole truckload of new advantages for you!

New styling in trucks

Fleet, functional styling that fits your job! For the first time in any truck line, two distinctly different styling treatments are offered—one in light- and medium-duty models, another in heavy-duty. Your handsome new Chevrolet truck will be a profitable advertisement-on-wheels for you and your business!

A new outlook for the driver

Truck driving was never like this! The completely new Flite-Ride cab is everything a driver could wish for, from its big Sweep-Sight windshield to its concealed Safety Step that keeps clear of mud or snow! The new seat is softer and more comfortable . . . new instrument panel and controls are the last word in convenience!

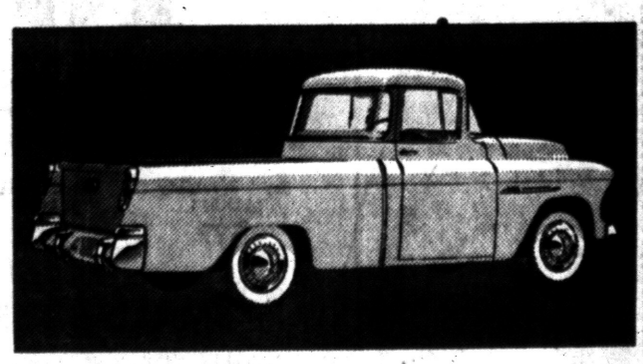

Six new "high-voltage" engines

With a new 12-volt electrical system for quicker, surer cold-weather starting and increased generator capacity! Plus more efficient cooling and lubrication systems, an improved fuel system, and completely redesigned engine mountings. They're the smoothest, quietest, most powerful Chevrolet truck engines ever built!

And much more that's new

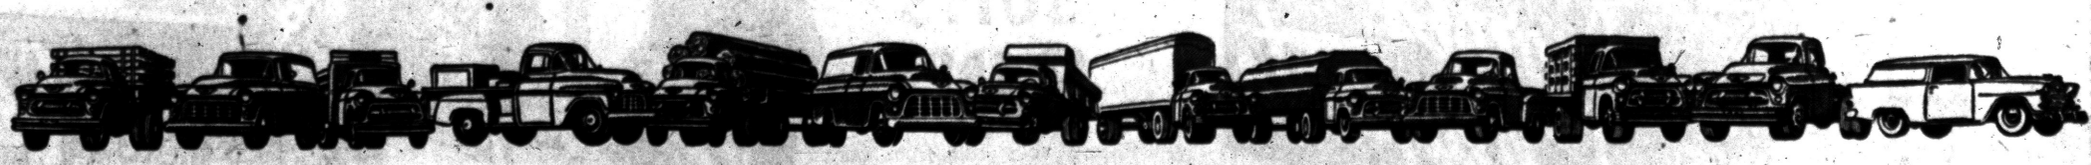

Like the smoother, load-steady ride . . . new High-Level ventilation . . . tubeless tires, standard on ½-ton models . . . new, more durable frames of standard width . . . Power Brakes* for all models, standard in 2-ton models . . . new 18,000 lb. max. G.V.W. in 2-ton models. And there's a new choice of transmissions, including new Overdrive* and Hydra-Matic*. New Power Steering* for all models. Come in and see the newest things in trucks!

New Cameo Carrier

Here's a truck like no other truck you've ever seen! It's the "flagship" of the handsome new Chevrolet truck fleet . . . the first truly beautiful truck ever built. Come in and see this dramatic departure in truck design!

Dietitian Suggests Lenten Dishes

Hospital Menus Stress Variety

Mrs. Ada Heckert of St. Joseph Plans About 500,000 Meals Yearly

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

So you think it's a chore to plan several meatless days each week during Lent? How would you like to plan 40,000 meals each month and include a meat alternate every single day?

Mrs. Ada Heckert, head dietitian at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, accepts this part of her job as calmly as if she were planning meals for her own family of three.

Her six years at the hospital, plus her experience as a commercial dietitian and her master's degree in home economics from Wayne University have given her plenty of material to work with.

You don't need Mrs. Heckert's education or experience to plan adequate, interesting Lenten meals. You can use some of her ideas and your own imagination to feed your family well, even with a restricted diet.

Since January all patients in the hospital for more than two days get a selective diet. Every morning, menu slips are passed out for the patients to check their choices for the day. A meat and a meat alternate are listed for both noon and evening meals.

What are some of the most popular Lenten dishes? Eggs, of course, rate high on the list. Egg cutlets with tomato sauce, eggs a la goldenrod, creamed deviled eggs, tuna deviled eggs — these dishes appear often on the general menus.

"Lent comes at a good time of the year," Mrs. Heckert explained. Eggs are lower in price than they usually are in the winter. The fishing season starts again as the waters warm up. Cheese and milk are always available.

How about fish dishes? We were a bit surprised to learn that fillets are less popular than creamed fish dishes. Shrimp wiggle with creamed peas, tuna a la king and a tuna noodle casserole are well liked.

Salmon is not too popular. Creole shrimp (that's with a tomato sauce, you know) over curried rice is enjoyed; also finnan haddie rarebit. Cheese rarebit and baked macaroni cutlets complete the list of meat alternates Mrs. Heckert gave us.

When she was doing her graduate work at Wayne University Mrs. Heckert worked out the recipe for a salad that has proved very popular. For want of a better name, she called it Aunt Helen's Salad. She gave us the recipe, reduced to family size.

AUNT HELEN'S SALAD

1 package lime gelatin
½ cup hot water
½ cup pineapple juice
½ cup cream
3-ounce package cream cheese
1 small can crushed pineapple

Dissolve gelatin in hot water, add pineapple juice and let chill until thick and syrupy. Beat the cream and cream cheese together until thick. Add to the congealed gelatin and fold in the crushed pineapple. Let chill

PLANNING LENTEN MEALS—Mrs. Ada Heckert, head dietician at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, checks her menus for the week. In the course of a year's time she plans about 500,000 meals, many of which have to include a meat alternate.

Refrigeration Keeps Coffee Fresh, Savory

Want to have your coffee taste better, fresh and savory for days?

The secret: Keep the coffee tin in the refrigerator after you open the can. It stays fresh right down to the makings for the last brew.

The reason why is that the low degree of cold in modern automatic refrigerators causes the millions of tiny bubbles of carbon dioxide gas locked inside the unbroken coffee particles to contract, making it much more difficult for them to escape.

Preventing escape of these tiny "flavor guards" helps protect that sensitive flavor you enjoy in your coffee. On the other hand, allowing coffee in the tin to stand at room temperature expands the carbon dioxide bubbles, helps them escape. And with them go coffee freshness.

Dr. Samuel C. Prescott of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who made the discovery some time ago after a three-year study of coffee, says that most people don't know that carbon dioxide gas is what makes the bubbles in soft drinks—yes, and in champagne, too. And it's just as true for coffee.

The gas, held in the soft structure of the coffee granule is heavier than air. And so, it has a tendency to protect the coffee from contact with oxygen which causes staleness.

Loss of carbon dioxide gas from ground coffee is, therefore, closely associated with the loss of coffee flavor.

Allow at least 30 minutes for browning a pot roast. When meat is browned slowly and thoroughly this way, the color is not likely to wash away when the braising liquid is added.

Egg Croquettes Help the Budget

Thrifty homemakers are serving more eggs this month, cooperating with the government's plea to eat more of this nutritious food, now in over-supply.

Here is a recipe for delicious egg croquettes. Golden-brown on the outside, the croquettes have a creamy, soft consistency on the inside that makes for delicious eating. A sauce is optional.

Savory Egg Croquettes

4 tablespoons homogenized shortening
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup finely diced celery
3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
5 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 cup milk
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
Fine bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten with 2 tablespoons water

Melt shortening in saucepan. Add onion, celery and green pepper and cook until tender. . .Add flour and seasonings and blend. . .Add milk gradually and cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. . . Stir in eggs.

Spread mixture in shallow pan about 7x11 inches and chill until stiff. Cut into rounds with 2½-inch biscuit cutter. . .Coat each round with crumbs, dip in egg mixture, and again coat with crumbs. . .Fry in deep hot fat (375 degrees) until golden brown.

Drain on absorbent paper. . . Makes six servings.

Use Junior Lamb for Smooth Spread

Have you tried junior lamb? Perhaps you missed out the first few times you asked for this much-demanded chopped meat, but it should be on your grocer's shelves right now.

Like other strained and junior meats, it is prepared by special equipment to assure low fat content. Good tip for dieters.

This delicate meat has a happy way with spreads or dips as well as on Junior's tray.

In fact, once your pride and joy is fed, the balance of the container—plus mayonnaise or a touch of catsup—makes a smooth spread for the school lunchbox.

Lamb-Olive Spread

⅔ cup (two 3½-ounce containers) junior lamb
¼ cup finely chopped ripe olives or stuffed olives
1 tablespoon mayonnaise

Combine ingredients. Chill. Makes about 1 cup.

Eggplant Sandwiches

Substitute slices of parboiled eggplant for bread, the next time you want a delicious luncheon sandwich. Place a slice of Cheddar cheese on a slice of eggplant. Add a sprinkling of chopped onion and salt and pepper. Top with another slice of eggplant. Fasten together with toothpicks. Dip in a thick egg and flour batter and fry until crispy in deep fat. 'S wonderful!

Taste surprise: Add a little horseradish to mayonnaise and serve it over Waldorf Salad.

Strained and Junior Food Brightens Oldsters' Diets

Appetite frequently suffers because exercise is cut down in later years. Suggestions to encourage appetite and mealtime interest are:

1. Eat in pleasant, comfortable surroundings . . . near a window, fireplace, radio or TV. Use bright mats, colorful dishes on table or tray.
2. Plan the big meal for midday, a light supper at night. If heavy meals are a problem, see if the doctor approves 4 or 5 smaller meals a day, at regular intervals. No nibbling between meals.
3. Take a short daily walk in the fresh air. Relax a bit just before eating.
4. Small servings help the reluctant eater.
5. Remember taste and eye appeal. A bit of red jelly, a new flavor help to make mealtime different.

Many oldsters who live alone, with limited cooking and storage facilities, do have difficulty in satisfying their nutritional needs. Here canned foods are valuable, particularly the strained and junior baby foods.

The size is a great asset, since each container holds only one or two adult portions, thus eliminating storage problems. The small containers take little shelf space, require no refrigeration until opened.

The ready-to-serve angle means a lot, too, for strained and junior foods are readily heated on a small hot-plate.

Baby foods are necessarily bland, but it's simple to add favorite seasonings, if the diet permits. These foods also solve chewing difficulties, a limiting factor in diets among the elderly.

Recipes given here show how well baby foods combine with other foods in nourishing dishes that provide variety with a minimum of effort.

Creamed Veal and Egg

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup warm milk
1 can junior (chopped) veal
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped fine
Salt to taste

Melt butter over low heat, add flour, stirring and blending well. Gradually add milk. Cook and stir until thick.

Add chopped veal and egg. Season to taste. Serve on toast, fluffy rice or baked potato halves. Yield: 2-3 servings.

* * *

Rusks With Hot Applesauce

2 rusks or toast
½ cup junior applesauce
Butter for spreading

Butter and heat rusks. Heat applesauce and pour over buttered rusks. Serves two.

* * *

Quick Sweet Potato Custard With Bacon

½ cup strained sweet potatoes
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon butter or margarine, melted

Crisp, cooked bacon, chopped, for topping

Combine all ingredients except the bacon. Pour into two greased custard cups and place in a pan of gently simmering water. (Be sure that water does not boil vigorously.)

Cover and cook 5-7 minutes or until a knife inserted into the custard will come out clean. Sprinkle the chopped bacon over top before serving. Serves two.

* * *

Cream of Chicken and Pea Soup

½ cup strained vegetables and chicken
¼ cup strained peas
½ cup whole milk
Salt

Combine ingredients, heat and serve. Yield: One large or two small servings.

Easy Easter Breakfast Will Please Friends

Do plan an Easter breakfast for friends this year. Make it simple — you won't want or need to spend a lot of preparation time in the kitchen.

Chilled canned fruits and warm breakfast rolls served with hot coffee will make a fitting prelude to the Easter ham. Serve the fruit in your prettiest glass bowl and mound the rolls on a platter or maybe in an Easter basket.

You'll find there will be as much interest in this breakfast buffet as in the Easter bunny himself.

Blend Tangy Spread

Blend soft blue cheese with a little mayonnaise and add minced parsley and finely-grated onion (pulp and juice) to taste. Serve as a spread for crackers with a tomato or vegetable juice cocktail. Makes a delicious first course when company is coming.

Valencias

Sweet... Juicy... almost seedless!

This time every year, the sweetest, juiciest oranges in the whole world come rolling in from Florida. They're the famous FLORIDA VALENCIAS. And you'll say they're well worth waiting for.

Like all Florida oranges, Valencias are full of healthful Golden Vitamin C—one vitamin each of us needs every day. They are extra thin-skinned and practically seedless, too. That means more room for juice. Valencias are the sweetest, juiciest oranges a tree can grow.

"Juice up" a dozen Valencias today. Or score them and peel them for eating. They are a wonderful health buy! So buy 'em by the bagful!

Deviled Halibut Uses Leftovers

There's no finer fish than halibut. The National Fisheries Institute's report that supplies of frozen halibut are almost six million pounds above the average—and that prices are down—is good news indeed.

Halibut is such a delicious-tasting fish it really needs little seasoning and can be eaten "as is" without elaborate sauces.

Because halibut steaks are such a good buy right now, you might like to purchase enough for two meals, broil or bake all of it, serve the steaks the first meal, and flake the leftovers for this Deviled Halibut recipe. This is an ideal way to make use of pretty scallop - shell baking dishes or individual ramekins.

Deviled Halibut

1½ cups cooked halibut, flaked
½ cup dry bread crumbs
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Mix flaked halibut with rest of ingredients. Pile into buttered scallop shells or individual baking dishes. Bake in hot oven until brown and bubbly, 10 to 15 minutes. Makes three to four servings.

Top With Bright Gelatin

Break strawberry or raspberry-flavored gelatin into fine flakes with a fork; use as a topping for applesauce and watch how your small fry go for this pretty and nutritious dessert.

Heavenly Treat Features Wine and Pineapple

Sherry Pineapple Squares

2-3 cups milk
1 pound marshmallows (halved)
16 single graham crackers (rolled fine)
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ cup butter or margarine (melted)
1 9-ounce can crushed pineapple (well drained)
¼ cup cooking sherry
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 cup heavy cream (whipped)

Scald milk in top of double boiler over direct heat; add marshmallows. Place over boiling water and heat, stirring often, until marshmallows are melted. Cool thoroughly.

Meantime, mix graham cracker crumbs, brown sugar and melted butter; set aside.

Add pineapple, sherry, lemon juice and almond extract to cooled marshmallow mixture; fold in whipped cream.

Spread half of crumb mixture over bottom of 9-inch square pan; pat it down firmly and spread filling over this. Top with remaining crumb mixture, again patting it down gently but firmly.

Chill in refrigerator overnight, or at least eight hours.

Six 'Musts' for Menus

Here are points to keep in mind when making menus. 1. Appearance; 2. color; 3. texture; 4. flavor; 5. staying quality; 6. caloric value.

Serve Stuffed Steak

Good meat dish: Spread bread stuffing over a scored flank steak; roll the steak and tie securely. Brown in hot fat, add about one-quarter cup of water, cover and bake in a moderate oven for 1½ hours or until the meat is tender. Serve with scalloped tomatoes and soccotash.

Hot potato salad, topped with frankfurters that have been covered with boiling water and simmered until heated through, makes a fine dish for a family supper.

About 35 per cent of sugar is made from sugar beets.

New Products Compete for Housewife's Favor

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Food processors are constantly vying with each other to turn out better products. This not only attracts more customers but makes our job as homemakers easier.

Frozen minute steaks aren't exactly news; we all know how convenient they are for spur-of-the-moment meals. However, a Detroit company has just put out a new brand of these steaks. For fifty-nine cents you can get a whole pound of steak—six of them—which makes each individual steak cost only ten cents. That's good news. You'll find these steaks in a great many stores in the Pontiac area.

What kind of vegetable oil do you use? There's olive oil for the gourmets; there's cotton seed oil; there's corn oil for those who are allergic to cottonseed; and there's peanut oil. The latter is highly recommended for cooking. It won't smoke or scorch, even at the highest cooking temperatures. It has no taste of its own and doesn't absorb other food tastes or odors. At refrigerator temperatures it does cloud up and thicken, but this isn't harmful. If you've never thought of using peanut oil for salads and cooking, why not give it a trial the next time you need vegetable oil?

The cake mix shelves are so loaded with a variety of boxes that one almost has to say, "eeny, meeny" in order to choose one. However, women who cook for just themselves or for a small family will appreciate the new Pre-Creamed cake mixes. Each box contains two packs of mix, making it easy for you to bake a single layer or a full-size cake. Another bonus offered by this particular company (long famous for dates and a gingerbread mix) is a specially treated paper pan liner. The pre-creamed feature means less beating for the cook.

Do you keep a can of powdered cream on your shelf? It's good to have if you suddenly run out of regular cream. It's good to have for cooking purposes. Weight-watchers like it because it has fewer calories, one teaspoonful containing only 12-15 calories, in contrast to 30-40 in liquid cream.

For a creamy dessert that's easy and inexpensive to make try the following recipe.

Molded Fluff

2 cups hot water
1 package your favorite gelatin.

Dissolve powdered cream in hot water. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. The cream may separate from the gelatin but it blends perfectly when beaten after chilling. Chill until mixture begins to set. Place in bowl of ice and water and beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until thick and fluffy. Turn into individual molds and chill until set. Makes 6 servings.

Buttered Crumbs Top Off Asparagus

Delicious Asparagus

1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) green asparagus spears
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 slices bread
2 tablespoons butter, paprika.

Heat asparagus; drain and place in serving dish; sprinkle with lemon juice.

Meanwhile cut bread in tiny cubes; do not remove crusts. Melt butter in small skillet; add bread cubes and stir often over low heat until lightly browned; sprinkle over asparagus; dust with paprika and serve at once.

Blue-Cheese Lends Zing to Applesauce

Blue Cheese Applesauce

6 medium-sized apples, peeled, cored and sliced.
¾ cup water
½ to ⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces)

Combine apples and water. Cook, covered, over medium heat until apples are tender, about 20 minutes. Add sugar to taste, cinnamon and nutmeg. Cool. Add cheese an mix well.

Pears With Meringue

Company dessert: Top baked pear halves with a meringue and brown in a very hot oven until the meringue is tipped with brown. Serve with a rich custard sauce made from the leftover egg yolks, light cream, sugar and vanilla.

PRIZE COOK—Mrs. Eva L. Doss of Garland avenue prepares the cassorole dish that won her Honorable mention and a check in the reecnt canned corn recipe contest.

Pontiac Woman Wins Prize With Corn Recipe

An air mail letter last week brought the good news that Pontiac's entry in the canned corn recipe contest had won honorable mention. Mrs. Eva L. Doss of 2271 Garland Ave. received her prize from New York about the same time we announced in the Market Basket that she had won the local contest.

We went out to see Mrs. Doss, to take her picture and to find out more about her. Years of feeding boarders gave Mrs. Doss an excellent knowledge of food. She does creative cooking, trying new ideas with food. Her recipe for Corn Delight is one she invented years ago, one that proced very popular with her family of boarders.

At the present time Mrs. Doss lives alone. She is assistant superintendent of a Sabbath School. Her hobbies include playing the piano and working in pastels. A night school course started her interest in art, and she does both portraits and landscapes.

CORN DELIGHT

1 egg, slightly beaten.
1 can whole kernel or cream style corn.
3 tablespoons cream or evaporated milk.
1¼ tablespoons sugar.
6-8 crackers crumbled, or ½ cup bread crumbs.
1 tablespoon butter or margarine.
1 tomato sliced thick.
1 slice medium cheese, quartered.

Break egg into mixing bowl and beat with fork. Add corn, 1 tablespoon of the sugar, cracker or bread crumbs and cream. Season with salt and pepper. Pour into greased baking dish. Lay slices of tomato over top of corn and sprinkle with remaining sugar. Place a quarter slice of cheese over each slice of tomato. Sprinkle with paprika, add a few pieces of green pepper if desired. Dot with butter. Bake ½ hour in 350-degree oven. Makes 4-6 servings. Serve steaming hot.

Shrimp Canapes Will Vanish Swiftly

Hot canapes are the sophisticates of the hors d'oeuvres. Haven't you noticed how fast they disappear from canape trays served at clubs and hotels?

Here's a shrimp and cheese spread for your favorite brand of crackers or toast round that, although simple to mix up, will rival the most tempting hot tidbits made by hotel chefs or caterers.

Hot Shrimp Canapes

Soften one-half pound cheese and one-fourth pound butter at room temperature three to five hours. Blend with one-fourth cup minced onion, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire, one-fourth cup lemon juice and one-half teaspoon paprika. Stir in 2 cups finely chopped or ground cooked or canned shrimp.

Spread on crackers, toast rounds or split finger rolls. On each canape place a tiny whole cooked shrimp (if desired). Broil 3 inches from heat until cheese is brown and bubbling.

Soup is at its best the second day when the all-inclusive flavor has mellowed.

Serve a Greek salad! To make it, cut up green peppers, tomatoes and onions. Add minced parsley and salt to taste. Now add olive oil and a little wine vinegar. Garnish with anchovies.

Note for the church supper committee: Three 1½-pound loaves of bread and 1½ pounds of butter will serve 50.

Fill center of individual sponge cakes with sliced fresh oranges. Top each with lemon or lime sherbet.

Local MSC Alumni Hear Hannah

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College says that by 1970, enrollment in colleges and universities throughout the country may be double what it is today.

He spoke at the centennial banquet of Oakland County Michigan State College Alumni Club held in Birmingham Community House. The event closed the club's activities for the season.

Dr. Hannah warns that the state school versus private school problem is a big one. Privately run schools limit enrollment while state supported schools cannot refuse those who qualify for admission.

It is necessary to expand state schools to such an extent that efficiency of operation is dangerously reduced.

The solution lies in persuading private schools and junior colleges to ease the burden.

A general history of colleges and universities including the idea behind the organization of Michigan State College was given by Dr. Hannah. The purpose was to provide a practical rather than a purely academic education.

Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, a member of the State Board of Agriculture also spoke at the Tuesday evening meeting. Mayors from five communities or their representatives were present.

The guests were Mayor Arthur Kuhn and Mrs. Kuhn of Pleasant Ridge; Mayor Albert J. Weinburger and Mrs. Weinburger of South Lyon; Mayor Richard W. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall of Oak Park and Mayor James Beresford and Mrs. Beresford of Bloomfield Hills.

William Roberts, city commissioner of Birmingham and Franklin D. Webster, city engineer of Berkley represented their respective cities.

Bud Carrigan of the club reviewed the year's work and told of future plans. Harold Gasser, past president of the advisory council of Michigan State College was master of ceremonies.

Starr Keesler, Director of Alumni Relations at Michigan State College was a guest.

Organization Honors Member at Meeting

Mrs. Ferman Huston was honored this afternoon by Women of the Moose at a luncheon given in the Spokane drive home of Mrs. Michael Blahut.

Speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Thomas Naubert, member of the grand council of Women of the Moose.

A meeting of all committee chairmen has been called for Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Moose Hall. Pontiac Chapter has been invited to attend the academy of friendship chapter program on April 2 in Lincoln Park.

Sewing for American Cancer Society will be the activity for the April 13 meeting and luncheon.

April 26 is the date for a public penny supper to be held at Moose Hall at 6 p.m. and a mother-daughter banquet is scheduled for May 19. Mrs. Richard Rohrer is chairman.

BEVERLY LESLIE

The Emerson Leslies of South Francis street announce the engagement of their daughter, Beverly to Joseph A. Isabell. He is the son of Mrs. Chester Beauregard of Auburn Heights and Joseph A. Isabell of Dearborn. He is serving with the United States Navy in Corpus Christi, Texas. No date has been set for the wedding.

The most graceful way to walk is with your feet parallel, about three or four inches apart, with toes pointed straight ahead.

U. of M. Slates Oratorio Friday

A performance of St. Matthews Passion Oratorio by Bach will be presented by the Faculty and University of Michigan Choir and the University of Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Maynard Klein, Friday at 8 p.m. in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor.

The nine chorales will be sung from the balcony by 1450 high school students. Eighty members of the a capella choir from Pontiac High School, under the direction of George Putnam, will be a part of the group.

The concert is open to the public.

Walk Correctly

In walking, place one foot directly in front of the other. Keep the weight on the balls of your feet, toward the outer edges.

Coming Events

Child Culture Club will hold annual Dad's Night at Westacres Country Club this evening.

Ladies Auxiliary to FOE 1230 will meet this evening at 8 in the hall, 289 W Montcalm St. for the monthly birthday night.

Maple Leaf Luncheon Club will meet Friday at 12:30 in YWCA on Franklin boulevard for a cooperative luncheon.

Booster Class of First Methodist church will meet at the church Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Hawthorne PTA Elects Officers on Wednesday

Mrs. Ronald Carr is new president of Hawthorne PTA. She was elected at the annual program put on by the fathers' group Wednesday evening.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Carl Vallad, vice president; Mrs Thomas Turner, teacher vice president; William Hill, father vice president; and Mrs. Melvin Norberg, recording secretary.

Mrs. Robert Grant is corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter Schmitz treasurer and Mrs. Kenneth McQueen, historian. Mrs. Alton Madden and Mrs. Thomas Johnson are auditors.

Council delegates are Mrs. Raymond Fay, Mrs. Irwin Mills and Mrs. Charles Kern.

On the program were a pantomime skit called "Oh, Woman, Oh Woman" by sixth grade students; a dialogue by Arnold Simpson and Carl Narberg called, "Football and Watermelons" and a skit called "Boners' Schoolroom," given by fathers' group members.

Rev. Charles Race Speaks to WCTU

Pontiac WCTU met Tuesday in First Presbyterian Church to hear the Rev. Charles D. Race of Central Christian Church speak on "Value of Visual Education."

His devotional topic was "Awaken and Watch." The Rev. Mr. Race led the group in singing accompanied by Mrs. Bertha Locke. WCTU 18th district meeting will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in First Methodist Church in Royal Oak.

Attended Funeral

Mrs. M.C. Beaudoin of South Shirley street and the George Gerlachs of South Wedding drive have returned to their homes from a trip to Norwalk, Ohio, where they were called due to the death of Mrs. Thomas M. Carrigan, Mrs. Beaudoin's aunt.

Parents of Boy With Sales Talent Trying to Force Him Into Other Field

Refuse College Financial Aid Unless Exceptional IQ Used in Professions

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Our son is in junior year at high school," a mother writes, "and they tell us he has a very high IQ. We want him to go to college and be an engineer, or a lawyer, or even a doctor, but he has his heart set on selling.

"Don't you think that is a mistake? After all, anyone can sell, and it doesn't take any intelligence to speak of.

"We have argued and argued, but he is very stubborn. He has had all kinds of after-school and summer jobs, always selling, and he makes a lot of money. But we are absolutely heartsick.

"We have told him that if he will go into a decent field, we will send him to college, but if he insists on selling, he can go to work right after he finishes high school. After all, we haven't got money to burn!

"Have you any suggestions?"

Well, in the first place, just anybody cannot sell. It takes real skill, and a good understanding of people.

In the second place, if the boy really loves it, and has been doing it after school, there isn't a chance of him getting over it. It's in his bones, and any effort to jam him into another field is likely to destroy him completely.

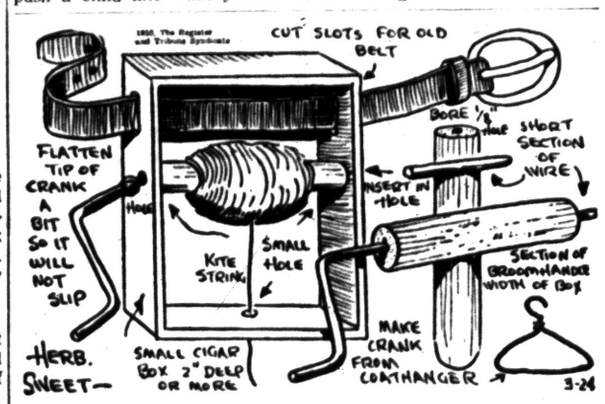

Moreover, these parents shouldn't ignore the big opportunities for advancement in the sales field. They evidently think of it as pounding the pavements forever. But the truly talented salesman often ends up as vice president and sales manager, and frequently, president of the firm.

Finally, I think college is very much indicated, if the boy is really bright. A good cultural background is of tremendous help in the sales field, and he could probably defray much of the cost of his education by his selling-skill.

Let him work his way through, which he probably would love doing. But don't—and this goes for all parents—don't think you can blatantly ignore a real talent and push a child into what you think is a more impressive destiny. If you do he'll end up with no destiny at all!

Get Nourishment

Don't eat when you're tired or upset, it will upset your digestion and you won't get the nourishment you need. Try to calm down before eating.

Try It

Make String Winder Box

Here is a new kind of kite string winder which will make your kite flying more fun.

It is made in a small cigar box. You will need the box, a wire coat hanger, a section of broom handle, and a belt. Make two slots near the top of the box to run the belt through. This is so that you can strap the winder around your waist.

Cut a section of broom handle the width of the inside of the box, and drill a one-eighth inch hole in both ends of the handle. Fit the handle in the box, and drill two more holes in the box sides. Insert in these holes a wire crank and another wire pin on the opposite side.

Wind your kite string on the winder and bore a "guider" hole in the bottom of the box. Michael Cartwright of Springfield says that this is his favorite winder.

If you have more suggestions for kites, send them in to me in care of this paper.

Be Cheerful, Put Fellow at Ease

Broken Engagement Made Him Leery of Girls' Interests

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

He smiles timidly, then looks away. Now and then he manages a weak hello, but usually words stick in his throat. He seems nervous when you come around? There's nothing hail-fellow-well-met about him?

He's shy, that's all. And you suspect that it would take a team of wild horses to drag some enthusiasm out of him.

If you like him, a guy who's shy can be baffling. You wonder how you can make him stop being so shy, when you should put your brain to work on not being so terrifying. That would work in this girl's case.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 18 and very fond of a fellow who works in my office. He's 23.

He broke his engagement over a year ago, and I guess it has left him with some kind of complex as he hasn't dated any girls that I know of, since. We don't say very much to each other, yet I always think he feels embarrassed when he comes into my office.

As I like him very much I would really like him to notice me. Have you any suggestions?"

Answer: You suspect that he feels embarrassed when he's near you and I suspect that you feel embarrassed yourself. Your interest in him makes you churn inside. So you say little enough to him. You've kept your smiles under control. You've done nothing to put him at ease and make him notice you.

Perhaps he is a bit leery of girls. You could disarm him by being brightly businesslike as a starter. Your work is a common bond already, so capitalize on that to melt his fright of you.

From now on brighten up noticeably when he comes into your office. Have a cheery greeting ready for him. Follow it up with some gay chatter about his errand.

Ask a few cheerful questions about his job or his department. Get him talking. All about busines, of course. Keep up this routine until it has developed a pattern of comfortable back-and-fourth conversation. By that time he'll be feeling quite at ease when he sees you.

Then casually bring out-of-the-office topics into your conversations. The show you saw or are going to see. Ask his advice about places to eat lunch. Comment on his new tie. Touch lightly on a bit of office gossip. All the while smiling, laughing and showing him how very much at ease with him you are.

Then, one of these days, he'll surprise you by falling in step beside you as you leave work. That can lead into where you live, where he lives, and how easy it is to get between those places when you have time. That time might be sooner than you think.

Frankfort, Germany brings news of a bright fad to those who don't like to think that the skiing season is over. This is the plaid pouch, the darling of every ski loving fraulein. The bright plaid blankets with zippered openings for the head and fringed hems are worn with a matching belt. They also pinch hit as auto robes on trips to and from the ski slopes.

Prize Belongs to One Who Has Ticket

Original Owner Gave Away Rights to Substitute

By EMILY POST

A young woman explains: "The other evening my aunt gave me two tickets to a card party to which she could not go. The holder of each ticket was entitled to a chance on a door prize.

My ticket was one of the lucky ones to be drawn and I won a very lovely prize. My mother feels that since I won the prize on my aunt's ticket that she is entitled to it and that I should turn it over to her. Will you please tell me what is proper in a situation of this kind?"

Answer: Your aunt gave you the ticket and thereafter had no further rights to it, and under the circumstances you may quite correctly keep the prize.

Dear Mrs. Post: Our son will be sailing soon for Holland where he will be married to a young woman he met there while in the army.

I would like to know if it would be proper for us, his parents, to send out engraved announcements of his marrieage to our many friends and relatives here, and if so, how should they be worded?

Answer: In this situation it would be entirely proper for the bridegroom's parents to send out announcements of their son's marriage. The wording would be as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones have the honour to announce the marriage of Miss Frieda Van der Goes to
John Henry
etc.

Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to lunch in a restaurant with a friend, whose place is it to suggest leaving after they have finished eating—the hostess or the guest?

Answer: The hostess is usually the one to suggest leaving—unless the guest has some reason to wish to leave before she does this.

Baffles Will Boost Heat to Rooms

By HUBBARD COBB

It seems that a good many homes in this land of ours are heated by gravity warm air furnaces.

It also seems that a good many people, in order to make these units more efficient, have installed or plan to have installed, a blower and filter on the furnace to make it, in effect, a forced warm air system.

This is a very good idea especially if some of the far off rooms in the house don't get all the heat they deserve.

The thing to remember, however, is that hitching in a blower and filter is not always enough because the furnace itself was made to heat a large amount of air moving slowly over the heating surfaces.

When you hitch in a blower the air is pushed rapidly over the heating surface of the furnace and in many cases it moves so quickly that it doesn't become sufficiently heated.

This means that the warm air delivered through the room registers may not be as warm as you would like it to be.

The solution to this problem is to remove the jacket from the furnace and install some baffles. These baffles increase the amount of heating surface of the furnace and they also slow down the passage of air through the heating zone.

When you increase the amount of heating surface and also slow down the passage of air, you naturally are able to heat the air to a higher temperature and this means it will be at a higher temperature when it reaches the room register.

The job of installing the baffles on the furnace is not much of a job for someone who is familiar with heating equipment and it's not expensive. If you have it done when the heater is given a general overhaul your service bill won't be very much and you'll have a much more efficient system come next winter.

Bedroom Decor Turns to Heart, Flower Theme

NEW YORK (INS) — In spring a young girl's fancy often turns to hearts and flowers — so why not her bedroom decor?

"Hearts and flowers" is a theme that's pretty, feminine and youthful for the teen-age boudoir, and it's a motif that can be achieved without a great deal of expense.

A New York department store is showing a room setting with this title that offers some good decorating tips.

The ruffled bedspread and matching pillow sham are pink and white gingham, topped with tiny red tufts. On top of the sham is tossed a plump red heart-shaped scatter pillow. The window is hung with gingham cafe curtains and underneath the window are a row of bright red geraniums in white pots.

While Doing Household Tasks

Leaders Tell How to Conserve Energy

BY JEANNE LUDTKE

Did you know that a circular motion is less tiring when you're tackling the household task of rug cleaning?

This is but one of the time and energy savers being passed on to home demonstration leaders this month by Oakland County Home demonstration Agents Mary Hixon and Frieda Bennett.

Leaders will in turn share their new-found knowledge at individual area group meetings.

Latest of the sessions was held Wednesday when Mrs. Hixon and Mrs. Bennett offered housecleaning tips to Pontiac homemakers.

Not SPRING cleaning advice, for that's what they're trying to eliminate.

It's their belief that with planning, schedule and a little know-how, Mrs. Housewife can do away with those dreaded semi-annual cleanings, when homes are torn apart from stem to stern and milady is almost ready for an institution.

And so to take the chore out of chores, the county demonstration agents have come up with some simplified cleaning processes.

Take rug cleaning—they disapprove of beating rugs, something grandma would have done as a matter of course, even if it did leave her without full use of her shoulder muscles for a few days.

Mrs. Hixon added that a Michigan State College bulletin published by the home economics extension service is available to those wishing further information on the care and cleaning of rugs and upholstery. They may be secured through the Oakland County Extension Service, on West Blvd.

Mrs. B rsvold Heads Voters

Mrs. John Borsvold was elected president of Pontiac League of Women Voters at the annual meeting Wednesday evening held in the Quarton road home of Mrs. Harry Aten.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Harry Killian, first vice president and Mrs. Roy MacAfee, secretary.

Elizabeth Halsey is one year director and two year directors are Mrs. Aten, Mrs. Claire Hinckley and Mrs. Frank Hillebrand.

Serving on the nominating committee for 1956 will be Mrs. George Wyman, Laura Belz and Mrs. Harry Riggs.

The league voted to support state proposals one, two and three and four in the April 4 election.

Decor Idea Makes Trio Successful

Young Men Inject Smart Styling Into Do-Yourself Items

NEW YORK (NEA) — Around its antique shops cluttered with crystal chandeliers, three young men are happily watching a good idea grow into a business.

Do It Yourself Decorating lures the 50th Street passerby with its yellow brick facade that's as smooth and clean as a Danish chair. In the window, a checkerboard rug, a marble-like coffee table and a canvas chair — all with modest prices attached — proclaim the owners' theory: a home can be beautiful and comfortable with little cost and some extra work.

Partners in the shop are John Connelly and Henry Knowlton, who started with ideas Connelly had evolved for his own apartment. They added the help of Bill Seike, who had been turning out lamps in White Plains, and opened their business.

They moved into a building that had been constructed to their requirements of informality and beauty. There is no "back of the store." The entire first floor is open all the way back to the tiny cell of a garden beyond the back door. On the floor or on their desks (their own design and construction) they evolve and test the ideas that are their merchandise.

Carpets, they felt, were the big problem. A home needs them, but the cost ban be high. They bushwacked the carpet market and found a famous manufacturer who would sell them unwashed and undyed squares of a luxurious bushy viscose carpet at a tiny price.

With the carpet squares, they sell iron-on tape and the dye. They demonstrate joining the squares into a whole carpet with the tape and an iron, on the floor. They explain the dying: in the bathtub or automatic washer, with plain fabric dye.

The lamp kit is a product of the same ingenuity. The base they fondly call "the Gibson Girl." It's heavy white hydracal in an hourglass shape. With it go paints, a shade frame, shade paper, cord, fixture and directions. Homework turns it all into a lamp whose cost is below ready-made.

Informal Living Given Boost by New Wallpaper

NEW YORK (INS) — Wallpaper these days is being designed in patterns that are witty as well as pretty.

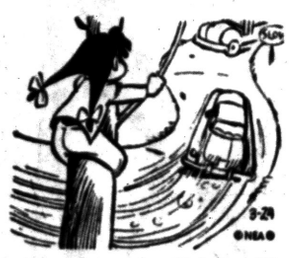

A new collection of wallpaper has a "tongue in cheek" attitude suited for today's trend toward informal living.

A kitchen, dining alcove or breakfast nook paper that's particularly handy for homes containing weight-watchers is called "calories."

The dieter's special consists of squares. Inside of each black outlined square is the drawing of a food, its name and calory count. Backgrounds are either white or yellow, and special foods are pictured in large boxes with colored ground.

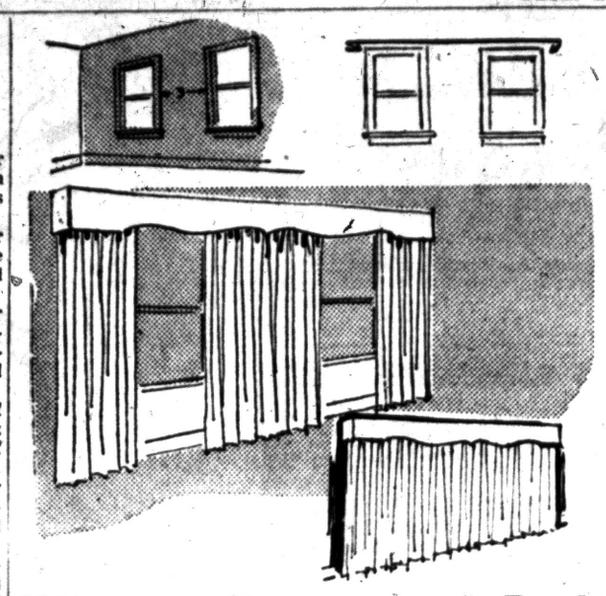

Cartoon fanciers might be interested in playroom wallpaper called "promendade." This consists of pencil sketches of a man, woman and several children which imitate the style of a well-known cartoonist.

Efficient Rigging of Rods Solves Window Problem

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Traverse rods can be rigged so the draperies open any one, or two or three, of a number of places.

Just tell the man in the drapery hardware department, or the man who measures for the draperies, what you'd prefer. The right rigging of the rod often solves the window problem, as it does here.

Mrs. M. F. wrote, "The only windows in my living room are on one wall with three feet of space between them.

I'd like traverse draperies and a valance to make the two windows plus the wall look like one wide window. Would this work if I doubled the drapery width in the center?"

The way to do it, Mrs. F. is this: Measure the two windows and the whole space between as if the whole thing were one window.

And it would be wise to extend the rod on the wall beyond both windows so as much of the glass as possible would be uncovered when the draperies are open.

Add the extra to take care of the extension and the depth of the returns of the rod to the other total and figure how much fabric is needed. Make draperies so they open only over the glass, and the rod can be rigged to draw in just this way.

Emphasize Torso

And they're right, Petunia—so always make a BIG dishful. Then, next day, heat 'em briefly in butter, in a skillet, and they're more delicious than ever.

BISHOP-BUECKEN

Living Room Furnishings Are Gayer

Because Modern Wife Doesn't Keep One Set Always

NEW YORK (NEA)—There was a time when the bride, proudly surveying the three-piece overstuffed set in her living room, rightly assumed that this trio would keep her company for a lifetime.

But no more. Recent surveys made by the people who make surveys show that the little woman is inclined to toss out the old living room furniture every ten years and replace it with completely new pieces, to her husband's complete and ineffable delight.

The bride of the 1920s chose, of course, nice, heavy, drab pieces that were ultraconservative in design and would'nt show soil. After all, if you're going to have the stuff around for a long time, what you want is practicality, not glamour.

Today, women are color-conscious to the extent of demanding lush turquoises, sooty blacks and even pale pinks. They want fabrics in lighter weights and they don't really care how the living room is going to look ten years from now because they're going to change it around anyway.

If, however, the homemaker has a practical streak in her nature and her husband is doing his best to encourage this, there are things for which she might look when she shops for furniture.

Quality upholstered pieces should, according to furniture stylist Morris Futorian, have heavy frames of kiln-dried hardwood put together with dowel pins and animal glue. (You can't really tell yourself if it's animal glue but you can force the salesman to confess.) Corners in the frame should be reinforced with fitted corner blocks for extra strength. (Get down on your hands and knees and peer. You may not find out anything but the salesman will think you have and other shoppers will be impressed.)

Coil springs, our expert says, should be made of high carbon steel (these go boing when you twang them, like a harp) and they should be attached to the frame with steel wire. And be sure you get those cushions in foam rubber or quality rubberized hair.

A bewitching buckle steals the show on city pavements this spring, as evidenced by this terrifically trimmed town pump in supple, sophisticated calf.

Paris Shoes Point Back to 1900 Look

Slender and Neat Pumps Lead Off in Style Parade

PARIS (INS) — The latest 1955 Paris shoe styles point back to 1900.

The smartest new shoe models are slender and neat pump shapes with frankly pointed toes and heels which are comfortable for walking yet graceful enough for dancing. Paris fashion news is in the bi-color and bi-material.

Shoe stylists here give even two-inch heeled daytime shoes a modish touch by combining two different sorts of leather or two contrasting colors.

A smart combination, brown suede and brown crocodile skin, looks new. Combining red box calf with black suede is equally modish. Even the universal black suede court-shoe gets a new Paris touch through a narrow black satin edging around the decollete.

For sportswear Paris shoe designers are showing fur shoes with the toes and heels covered by leather. Ocelot shoes for instance, have a longer life if combined with brown box calf. Broadtail and patent leather go well together. One pair of high Winter booties are all covered with Persian lamb except the high slender heel sheathed in black suede.

Some special Paris shoe models are noticeable for a striking detail. On a black suede afternoon shoe the part which covers the heel ends in a leather tongue pointing high up to prevent stockings being splashed with mud.

One pair of black suede pumps has the real "1900 Gay Paree" look. Very pointed in front, they are trimmed with large gold-metal buckles and have amusing gold rings around the narrowest part of the curved Louis XV heels.

For girls who always wear out their heels first a Paris shoe designer has come up with a genius idea: A classic black court-shoe has half-an-inch of the heel bottom made of lightweight, silvery metal. No need to be down at the heels any longer.

Also for dance and theater shoes the latest Paris styles combine materials and colors. A charming low-cut pump shoe is made of old-rose velvet. Heels and edgings are in silver kid.

Patent leather treated to a new light shade with a mother-of-pearl shimmer is used for a very chic and special theater shoe. A black patent leather edging sets off the new pale shade.

McBride Was Too Busy

Wrong Idea Expressed, Bad Timing Starts Feud

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

This too will pass. That's what I kept saying to myself all day Friday. It was one of those crammed-to-bursting days. Mrs. D. bustled in early full of business—checks to be signed, mail to be read and answered.

There was a business luncheon at noon, a broadcast in the afternoon and a speech — which still had to be thought out — at a dinner in the evening.

I had awakened with an anxious feeling about all there was to do. My neck got stiffer and stiffer with tension. I waded through the checks, finished the mail and had just settled down to worry about the broadcast when the telephone rang.

It was my friend Anne. She had the MOST exciting news. The first magazine her agent had braced with her manuscript had accepted it. They wanted a few revisions — did I think it might make the piece a little more dramatic if she rewrote the heroine from a really serious-minded widow into a wise-cracking divorcee?

I kept one eye on the clock and murmured non-committally but cordially as she poured out ideas. Those finished at last, she switched subjects and told me, occasionally pausing for excited laughter, about her daughter Jane's first date — and she didn't miss a detail.

I'm fond of Anne — Jane, too —but by this time I was frantically trying to figure out how I could get off the telephone without sounding abrupt. My preoccupation finally penetrated, but instead of winding up fast, Anne turned hurt and reproachful.

She'd thought I'd be interested in her news, she said, and you could tell she was deciding I was simply jealous of her good fortune. She finally rang off and I'll bet turned from the telephone with a "Well, of all the cold, self-centered creatures!"

As for me, I was muttering, "Of all the bad timing . . ." I am sincerely interested in Anne's writing and Jane's beaux, but not on a day when I have two speeches to make.

"My wife has a sadistic streak in her," Jim remarked not so jokingly the other night, apropos the same subject. "She knows I'm never hungry in the morning — I have trouble even facing a glass of orange juice before 10 o'clock.

"Yet almost every a.m. when I'm trying to choke down a piece of toast and get off to the 8:18, Betsy asks briskly, 'Now, what do you want for dinner tonight?' At that point I don't want anything for dinner — and when I say 'Whatever you like, dear,' she accuses me of being difficult or uninterested.

"If she really craves to know what I'd like for dinner, the best time to ask is when I come home at night and am hungry enough to eat my brief case. I could make out a wonderful menu then for the following night."

"How can he expect me, busy getting dinner, to start thinking about what to cook for tomorrow night!" exclaims Betsy bitterly.

Wonder how many family rows are started, how many pleasant friendships smashed, how many business deals squashed by bad timing.

If Anne had called me Saturday morning with her confidences, she would have found an enthusiastic, responsive friend. The trouble is, of course, that Anne, with wonderful news, wanted to tell it then.

Betsy with a dinner to plan for that day found breakfast a perfect time to try to discover her husband's preferences. For as in everything else involving human relationships, there are so many sides to the question as there are humans involved.

Difference Between Dyeing, Tinting

There is a difference: Tinting calls for water as hot as possible from tap or teakettle.

In dyeing the water must be held at a simmering temperature. Tinted garments are not absolutely colorfast.

When a young woman is calling on a friend her own age, and the friend's mother walks into the room, it is gracious for the young visitor to rise to greet her.

300 Attend Installation of Pontiac White Shrine

Three hundred members and guests of Pontiac White Shrine, 22, gathered Wednesday evening at Roosevelt Temple for a formal installation of officers. Mrs. Frank Payne was invested with the office of worthy high priestess and Wayne Scott with the office of watchman of shepherds.

Mrs. Payne was escorted by her niece, Yvonne Anderson, and Mr. Scott was escorted by Mrs. Scott and officers of Pontiac Lodge 21 F&AM.

Mrs. Charles Jones was mistress of ceremonies. She was escorted by inviting herald, Catherine McCrindle. Mrs. Victor Bodamer gave the address of welcome and introduced guests.

Officers assuming duties with Mrs. Payne were Mrs. Russell Marion, noble prophetess; Mr. Marion, associate watchman of shepherds; Mrs. Bessie Howell, worthy scribe; Mrs. Earl V. Hoskins, worthy treasurer; and Mrs. Catherine Quick, worthy chaplain.

Other officers are Mrs. Wayne Scott, worthy shepherdess; Mrs. Mary McCurdy, worthy guide; Mrs. Samuel Smith, worthy herald; Mrs. Gladys Holliman, first handmaid; Mrs. B. J. Hansen, second handmaid and Mrs. Lloyd Wait, third handmaid. Miles Frusher was first wiseman; Clifford Mossey, second wiseman; and William Cousins, third wiseman.

Still other officers were Wayne Reaves, king; Mrs. Earl Ross, queen; Lewis Hanoute, worthy organist; Mrs. Margaret Crew, worthy guardian and Mrs. Myrtle Kath, worthy guard.

Members of the queen's court were Mrs. Arthur Augustine, Mrs. Alfred Martini, Mrs. Robert Snyder and Gladys McVean. The queen's attendants were Mrs. Finley Fulkerson, Mrs. Dorothy Clark, Mrs. William Isaacson, Mrs. Robert Jackson, Mrs. Howard Cooley and Mrs. Jack Gries.

The King's guards included Christian Jorgensen, Wallace Morgan, Pierre Shaver, William Harrison, O. J. Loomis, Harry Taylor, Roy Conrad, Charles Jones, Finley Fulkerson and Arthur Sharpe.

Flag bearers were Mrs. Jack Barton, Mrs. Richard Skarritt, Analdine Stevens, Mrs. Pansy Wolfe, Mrs. Wallace Morgan, Mrs. Edward Pritchard and Mrs. August Vought. Other officers were Mrs. Earle V. Hoskins, Russell Marion, and Mrs. E. B. Wallace.

The officers were installed by Mrs. Bernice Cover, Mrs. Percy Lowery, Mrs. Howard George, Mrs. Olive Burgess, Mrs. Ernestine Thompson, Catherine McCrindle, Mrs. F. R. Alspaugh, Mrs. Meta McIlroy, Jane Martini and Beverly Marion.

The tribute to the flag was given by Mrs. John Yungk and James A. Curry was guest soloist. Mrs. Harold Inch of Flint was a distinguished guest. Past officers' jewels were presented to Mrs. Bodamer by Mrs. Lloyd Wait and to Mr. Jorgensen by Miss Fusher.

Mrs. William Baker and Mrs. Roy Wright presided at the refreshment table. Assisting were Mrs. Burton McNally, Mrs. Roy Conrad, Mrs. Glen Johnson, Mrs. William Ainsley, Mrs. William Studt and Mrs. Velma Taylor.

Watch Posture

Abandon Gesture

Keep Yourself Cool

On hot days or during hot work keep your skin lotion, freshener or astringent in the refrigerator. You'll find it cooling.

Three Clubs Combine Efforts for "Kat Kick" Dance

Award Winning Design Items Told by League

NEW YORK (INS)—A refrigerator that hangs on the wall and a self-sticking plastic paper today topped the list of home furnishings products that won 1955 Trail Blazer Awards from the national home fashions league, held recently.

Eleven products received honors as the designs of last year which were most original in styling for the contemporary home. It was the fifth annual competition for the Trail Blazer Awards.

This year's winners include the wall refrigerator which is designed to hang on the wall like a cabinet and "con-tact," the self-adhesive plastic which can be applied without tools.

Also, the rounded-corner, molded color plastic storage units can be washed like dishes, and the first 100 per cent wool tufted carpet put on the market.

Other winners were pre-cut vinyl tile floor covering called geometiles, wrinkle-resistant twill "custom cottons" fabrics, and the man-made "tussore" casement cloth, a combination of dynel, saran and fortisan.

Also, table flatware, an eight-light floor lamp designed by Richard Kelly. The stain-resistant "sylmer" finish for upholstery fabrics and the "color-flecked" finish for steel kitchen cabinets.

Judges Selected by Boys' Club

Friday evening's program at Pontiac Boys' Club will be dedicated to members' little sisters.

A queen will be selected from a group of young ladies from 2 to 6 years old. Five attendants will be chosen to make up the queen's court.

Judges for the evening will be Mrs. Judith L. Clemence, Mrs. Wilma Greenway, Mary Ellen Wyngarden and Mrs. Margaret Dernberger. The program will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Patricia Murphy Is Good Example for Housewives

Housewives who get panicky when company comes to dinner should take note of Patricia Murphy, a New Yorker who feeds more than 4,000 people every day.

When the stock market crash wiped out her family reserves, Pat had a total capital of 26 cents, which she has turned into a fortune, built on the basic need of the human race for good food.

With her husband, James E. Kiernan, Pat operates two huge and thriving restaurants—one in Manhasset, Long Island, the other in suburban Westchester County.

She serves 1½ million meals a year, and likes it, although she got into the restaurant business by accident.

Pat first came to New York to study piano. In order to eat, she managed to get a job as a lunchroom cashier. This lasted three days, owing to Miss Murphy's impression that the only change you could make for a 70-cent check was three dimes.

Higher mathematics of this type is still a problem with her but she has an instinctive knowledge of how many customers can be served from five pounds of potatoes.

This was followed by all sorts of odd jobs, including selling soap door-to-door. One day in Brooklyn she passed a closed tearoom.

On an inspiration, she talked the owner into giving her credit for rent. She took $60 whe had saved and bought groceries. She found a cook who would gamble on a percentage. Because the place was so ill-lighted, she stuck candles at the tables.

"We had 24 cups, and we seated 36," she recalls. "I'd try to hurry customers out so we could get the china washed for those at other tables."

When she sold the place a few months ago, she had pushed through to the next building and was seating 250 diners several times a day. Meanwhile she had bought a midtown Manhattan restaurant which seated 60. When she sold it last summer, the capacity was 225.

The Kiernans work from 10 a.m. to midnight each day, commuting between their restaurants.

Gold Star Mothers Enjoy Luncheon

Mrs. Zelphia DeWitt, Mrs. Marian Collom and Mrs. Raymond Carlson were guests when American Gold Star Mothers Chapter Nine met at the home of Mrs. Anne Minnick on Hovey street Tuesday.

A luncheon was enjoyed by the group after which they sewed for the American Cancer Society.

Chapter Nine recently held a St. Patrick's Day dinner and bazaar with 70 members and guests attending. Among those present were members from the Royal Oak Chapter. The next meeting will be held April 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion Home on Auburn avenue.

Oscar Schmidt Represents Club

Mrs. Everett Russell played selections on a 100 year old melodeon for Pontiac Music Guild members who met Wednesday evening.

The Russells were hosts in their West Iroquois road home. Mr. Russell showed colored slides of western and Canadian trips.

Oscar Schmidt was elected to represent the group at the Michigan Music Teachers' annual spring conference to be held April 11 in Saginaw.

Appointed to serve on the nominating committee were Mrs. Hazel Gessinger, chairman, Mrs. Everett Harris and Charles Wilson. Mrs. Carl Clifford is auditor for the election.

Israel Requests Peace Pledge

Say Permanent Treaty Would End Incidents on Egyptian Border

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — The U.N. Security Council has delayed action until next week on Egyptian-Israeli border clashes. It heard a plea by Israel yesterday for Egypt to join her in a pledge not to use force along the frontier.

The plea was made by Israel's Ambassador Aba Eban in his country's first formal statement to the council on the Feb. 28 Gaza clash, in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis were killed.

Eban restated Israel's contention that the Gaza Strip attack was in retaliation for numerous Egyptian acts of aggression against Israel

He said if Egypt would agree to convert the six-year-old armistice agreement into a permanent peace, Israel would guarantee its people would not carry out hostile acts against Egypt.

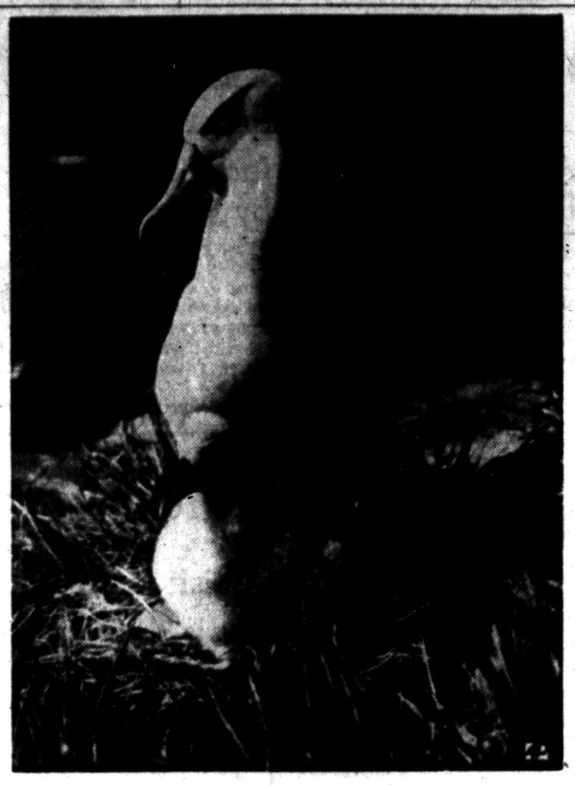

Egyptian Delegate Omar Loutfi said he would answer Eban's list of alleged Egyptian aggressions later. But he insisted that the council deal only with "that odious, brutal attack in the Gaza strip," the basis of the Egyptian complaint on the council agenda. He accused Eban of trying to "drown" the item by calling for a general peace agreement.

Barbershoppers to Meet

BOYNE CITY (UP)—The community will become the "barbershop harmony capital of the state" March 26 and 27 when more than 200 persons attend the ninth annual bush league barbershop quartet singing contest. The contest is an unofficial activity of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

Ferguson Drops Political Plans for the Present

WASHINGTON (UP) — Former Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), newly confirmed U.S. ambassador to the Philippines, said today he has no present intention of returning to Michigan politics.

Ferguson, 66-year-old former chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said in an interview he is going to Manila with "high hopes and great enthusiasm."

"I'm looking forward now to going to the Philippines and continuing the task of my predecessor. I realize it is an important post and I not only hope but pray I'll be able to carry on and do a good job for my own country and the Philippines."

Asked about his future political aspirations, Ferguson replied: "I have no present intention of returning to Michigan politics but one never knows what might happen. I'm a Michigander."

Ferguson, who is facing an intensive briefing on Philippine affairs, said he intends to leave for Manila in a few weeks, but left the date flexible. Accompanied by his attractive wife, he is expected to leave about March 30.

Ferguson is taking along two sets of golf clubs and his 16-gauge shotgun. He is an avid sportsman, with a fondness for duck hunting. He hopes to do some shooting on Minodoro Island if time permits and play golf. He has golfed with President Eisenhower but would not discuss scores.

Ferguson is resigning as one of the 12 commissioners on the Hoover commission and has given up his consultant work with the Defense Department.

"I'm starting a new life," he remarked with a friendly beam. "I'm very happy about the task I have before me."

Man to Find Out How Burros Keep Adding Up

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — Rabbits may be good at multiplying, but William Cissell is going to learn that burros are pretty good at addition.

Cissell asked a friend for two and got 22.

It all started three years ago when Cissell got the idea a burro might make a nice pet. He wrote to Phillip Voss, a friend in Albuquerque, N.M., and asked him to line up a couple.

The job wasn't as easy as it sounded. Fact is, Voss made expeditions into the Jemez mountains for more than two years before capturing a pair of burros.

By that time, word had gotten around of Voss' interest and Mexicans and cowhands began flooding him with animals.

Pretty soon Voss found himself with 22, more than he could handle and still attend to his business affairs. So the other day, he loaded them into trailers and brought them all here.

Cissell is in Florida. A neighbor is keeping four of the animals for the time being and the others are being sheltered at the state fairgrounds until Cissell returns.

Leafs' Boss Tosses Compliments as Series Resumes

DETROIT (AP) — It is a significant day, indeed, when the brass of the Toronto Maple Leafs tosses orchids in the direction of the Detroit Red Wings. Or vice versa, for that matter.

But Hap Day, general manager of the Maple Leafs, paid a handsome tribute to Dutch Reibel, Detroit center, by calling him "the most valuable player in the league."

"Right now he's the best player on the Wings—and that includes Gordie Howe," Day said as his Leafs prepared to meet the Red Wings in Olympia Stadium tonight in the 2nd game of their Stanley Cup playoff series.

"Reibel has been a brilliant player in the 2nd half of the season—the most valuable in the league," Day continued.

"If we're going to get even against the Wings, we're going to have to stop Reibel and his two buddies, Howe and (Ted) Lindsay. Nobody has been able to do it yet, but we're still trying."

With the Reibel-Howe-Lindsay line clicking for five goals, Red Wings trounced Toronto, 7-4, in Tuesday's opener to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven semifinal series.

Reibel, a 24-year-old trickster from Kitchener, Ont., has been the Wings "money" player, the spark behind the sizzling late-season surge which carried them to their 7th straight National Hockey League championship.

In the final games of the regular season, Reibel scored 17 goals and 31 assists for 48 points.

The sudden surge lifted the crew-cut youngster from 21st place in the scoring race to 4th.

Reibel's late season spurt also enabled him to vacate Jack Adams' "dog house," of which he had been a tenant since last season. Now Adams, the Red Wings' general manager, points with pride to Reibel.

From here on in, the Boston Bruins hope to have their minds on the game and not the Montreal fans.

The Bruins, a little jittery in their 2-0 defeat by the Canadiens Tuesday, are one down now in the best-of-seven (B series) elimination.

Boston coach Milt Schmidt says his Bruins will be a different club now. "With all the commotion that's been going on recently, the boys actually thought something might happen to them in Montreal. They didn't have their minds entirely on hockey."

He was referring to last week's riot at the Montreal Forum, when Canadien fans, angered by the suspension of Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, went berserk.

Boston will have a few lineup changes for tonight's 2nd game. Lorne Ferguson will be out—perhaps for the rest of the series because of a groin injury. Murray Costello will sit this one out too.

A pair of farmhands from Hershey have been brought up by Schmidt to fill in. Norm Corcoran will replace Ferguson in the Cal Gardner-Doug Mohns line and Gordon Wilson will work with Fleming Mackell and Ed Sandford.

Maple Leafs will be reinforced by Rudy Migay, their top penalty killer. He's been out of action for 10 days with glandular condition.

McLane U.S. Double Winner

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Action filled finals in six events kept the Pan-American swimming and diving scene humming today, with the United States far in front in points and continuing its domination in the overall picture of these 1955 Little Olympics.

Mexico's superb Joaquin Capilla was favored to capture the 10-meter platform diving crown to go with his 3-meter title, and Patricia McCormick of the United States was expected to duplicate the feat in the women's diving.

The United States also held strong candidates in the women's 200 meter breaststroke, 100 backstroke and 400 freestyle relay and in the men's 100 freestyle.

* * *

The unofficial points for the swimming and diving competition, including victories in the 400-meter freestyle and 100-meter backstroke yesterday, stood:

The United States 106, Argentina 40, Mexico 29, Canada 23, and Brazil 12, to list the major teams. This was for nine events, with nine to go.

* * *

The story was even more resounding for the games as a whole. The count: U. S. 1,260½, Argentina 523½, Mexico 337.

* * *

Swimming and diving competition occupied most of the international interest. These events wind up late tomorrow.

Determined Jimmy McLane of the U. S. Army and an ex-Olympic hero, became the first U. S. double gold medal winner when he won the 400 meter freestyle yesterday, beating out teammate Wayne Moore, and Argentina's Oscar Kramer, and breaking the games' record.

McLane, who may or may not point for a place in his third Olympics next year, swam the distance in 4:51.3, beating the 4:52.4 made by Tetsuo Okamoto of Brazil in 1951.

Previously McLane kicked off the Latin-American challenge in winning the 1,500 meter freestyle. inaries by Baarcke at 1.07.1.

Sixteen-year-old Frank E. McKinney Jr., Indianapolis high school star, upset Pedro Galvao of Argentina and his U. S. teammate, Buddy Baarcke, in the 100-meter backstroke. He tied the games' record set in the prelim-

* * *

The girls' Stewart-Warner finish provoked some debate. Miss Warner was first declared the winner, but the judges eventually gave the nod to the 16-year old Canadian miss for the 100-meter free-style event.

Gold medal went to Canadian Helen Stewart, although she was clocked in the same time as Wanda Warner of U.S.

The U. S. men's basketball team defeated Venezuela, 72-29. This clinched a tie for the title and a probable clear win.

The U. S. men's volleyball team won the championship. It beat Cuba 15-7, 15-11, 15-8, for five straight wins.

The U. S. water polo team and Argentina are tied for first place. The United States swamped the Dutch West Indies 17-2, and Argentina defeated Brazil 5-3.

'Generally Unhappy'

Ex-Huskie Completes Transfer to Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Talented Bobby Cox was ready to embark on a new football career at Minnesota today with the hope that his controversial exit from Washington had left no damaging rift between the schools.

The sophomore quarterback arrived here last night, declaring his "general unhappiness" at Washington was the only reason for his sudden transfer, and that there was "nothing ulterior about it."

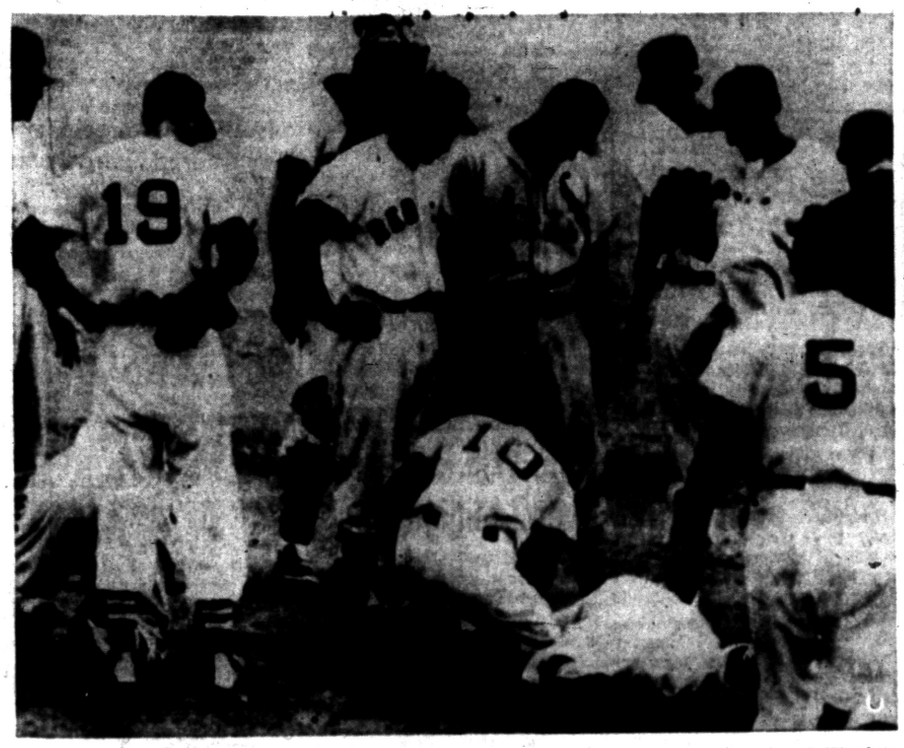

* * *

"No one on the Minnesota staff had anything to do with my decision," the handsome six-footer said. "It was done at my own volition because I was unhappy at Washington and wanted to continue my education at Minnesota."

While he is not eligible to compete at Minnesota until 1956, there was little doubt here that Cox's arrival plopped an impressive windfall into the Gopher football picture.

Minnesota used the same split that Cox was handling as No. 1 quarterback at Washington last season. He was considered one of the finest high school players ever developed in Washington.

Cox's arrival coincided with an announcement by Washington Vice President H. P. Everest in which the official said he was convinced Minnesota authorities had nothing to do with the incident.

Grid Writers Gather

Oosterbaan, Grandelius Talk Football, Crisler Talks TV, Parker Not Worried

DETROIT (AP)—Despite what the weatherman says, it's spring. And what does spring mean? Why—football, of course.

Showing a keen disdain for the calendar, the Michigan Football Writers' Assn. held a meeting last night. It semed just like the fall, too.

All the familiar faces were there. All the familiar speeches, too.

No, Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan isn't certain how his Wolverines will do this fall. Yes, athletic director Fritz Crisler admits the TV situation is a complicated mess.

No, coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions isn't worried over the Canadian football league.

And so it went.

Sonny Grandelius, assistant coach at Michigan State, offered a bit of news, however.

"We plan a change of policy at State this year," said the former Spartan star. "We're going to try to field the 11 best players, instead of trying to fill out two full teams. We're depending on our freshman crop. We had an average frosh team last fall—not great, but one with promise."

Oosterbaan said he has "fairly good material" at Michigan. "But you never know what will happen," added the cautious coach. "There are too many intangibles to consider.

"We lost five regulars from last year's team. I think we can replace them."

Crisler, an influential figure in the Big Ten-NCAA TV hassle, said the situation was still "very complicated.

"I think, however, that rather than compromise, it would have been better to have either one or the other; regional or national TV."

Parker said he wasn't perturbed over the raids made on the Lions by the Canadian football league. But with the loss of No. 2 quarterback Tom Dublinski, Parker said he probably would alter his offense in the 1955 season.

"We'll have to give Bobby Layne, our only quarterback, some more protection. Bobby probably won't run as much as in the past," Parker said.

Saxton, Tony in Final Drills

Pair Meet in Boston April 1, With Welter Title at Stake

BOSTON (AP)—Champion Johnny Saxton of New York and Challenger Tony DeMarco of Boston have started final tuneups for their April 1 15-round welterweight title fight at Boston Garden.

"I figure Johnny will stop DeMarco in the 10th, 11th or 12th rounds," Saxton's manager Frank Palermo said yesterday as he and his charge arrived in town. "Those body shots will slow DeMarco down to a walk."

DeMarco has been working on body punching too to handle Saxton who favors fighting at close range. Tony would prefer to stand back and belt his opponent with his harder blows.

The fight will be Saxton's 1st title defense since winning the crown from Kid Gavilan in Philadelphia last October. He's defeated Raymond Fuentes and lost to middleweight Ron Delaney in 10 round decisions since then.

DeMarco, unbeaten in his last 15 bouts, drew with lightweight champion Jimmy Carter his last time out last month.

The championship bout will not be televised or broadcast.

Strike Causes Dodgers to Cut Nine Players

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have sliced nine men off their roster—because of a railroad strike.

Vice-President Buzzy Bavasi explained, "We can't take all of the players along on the trip North because of travel difficulties. The trains aren't running and we've been unable to charter a large plane."

Infielder Charlie Neal, likely to get a recall later, was the most notable of the nine discarded.

Senators Cut Squad

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The Washington Senators have started to cut their squad.

Pitchers Ed Bagdonovich and Bill Barclay, along with infielder Curt Hardaway, were sent to the Nationals' Charlotte farm club. None of the three had seen much action in spring training.

Elks 723 Wins Inter-City 'D' Cage Tourney

Pontiac Team Edges Dearborn, 48 - 42, in Finale at PHS

Pontiac's Elks 723, city champions in Class D, added the Inter-City Recreation Association Class D tournament title to its seasons honors Wednesday night in the Pontiac High School gymnasium by beating Warren Lumber of Dearborn, 48-42.

Elks trailed, 17-13, at the first quarter, but took a 27-22 halftime lead as Lawrence Peet and Felix Brooks began to hit in the 2nd quarter. Pontiac had a 14-8 advantage in the 3rd period, but lagged, 12-7, in the finale.

Peet set the scoring pace with 17 points. Brooks and Willie Wilson totaled 17 between them. Joe Mifsud had 12 for the Dearborn crew.

Final recreation tourney game in this area is slated tonight at 8 p.m. at Waterford Township's Crary Junior High as Drayton Drug, Township league champion, meets Roseville in a Class B Michigan Recreation Association district game. Winner will advance to the tourney proper at Marshall.

Shaw's, city Class A kings and winner of the MRA district here last week, will be in Grand Rapids Friday for state tournament play.

Tribe's Bonus Beauty Is Hit by Bursitis

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' $60,000 bonus beauty, pitcher Herb Score, has turned up with bursitis in his left knee, and has been ordered to rest it until the inflammation subsides.

"This is one year I didn't want anything to happen," moaned the young southpaw, who already this spring has had a torn fingernail on his pitching hand and a sprained ankle. He's missed as many exhibition game turns through injury as he has pitched.

Cards Plan to Be 'Interesting' Club

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — "The Cardinals figure to be one of the most interesting teams in the major leagues."

This was the comment of August A. Busch Jr., president of the St. Louis team and the Anheuser-Busch brewery, yesterday in an annual report to stockholders. The report was issued in St.Louis but Busch is here with the club.

Pastrano Outboxes Andrews in Chicago

CHICAGO (INS) — Youthful Willie Pastrano of New Orleans, who finds it necessary to get his mother's written consent before he can fight a main bout in most states, has battled his way right into the middleweight picture through a victory over Al Andrews.

Unranked Willie, only 19 years old and a 2 to 1 underdog, gained a unanimous decision in a 10-round bout last night at the Chicago stadium.

He outboxed the agressive Andrews by a decisive margin, ripping the St. Paul boxer with left jabs through most of the fight and rocking him with hard rights to the head and jaw in the 8th and 10th rounds.

Santee, Sowell Best Bets for Kaycee Records

Dalzell Will Pace Wes in Mile at Cleveland Indoor Meet

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rated the best chance to put new records on the books for the 15th annual Knights of Columbus track meet at the Arena tomorrow night are two newcomers to that meet—Wes Santee in the mile and Arnold Sowell in the 1,000-yard run.

Both are national indoor champions.

Santee, tall and talkative Kansas, smashed the world indoor mile record at Boston Jan. 29 with a 4:03.8 clocking that Gunnar Nielsen bettered the following week. So the 4:08.5 local meet mark Gil Dodds of Ashland, Ohio, set here eight years ago ought to be within Santee's reach.

Sowell equalled a world record for the 1,000 with 2:08.2, which means the University of Pittsburgh junior is capable of bettering the local meet record of 2:11.1 that Joe Deady of Georgetown posted in 1951.

Art Dalzell, University of Kansas miler, will be on hand at Santee's request to serve as "rabbit" in the mile.

"I'm anxious to crack that meet record, but somebody will have to set a fast early pace," Santee said. "I know Art's the fellow to do it."

Two other national indoor champions will perform in Friday's competition—Harrison Dillard of Cleveland, seeking his 10th straight triumph in the local meet's 45-yard high hurdles, and the Rev. Bob Richards in the pole vault. The meet mark is 15-3¼.

Five 1954 champs won't be back this year—Ron Mitchell in the high jump, Gene Maynard in the 1,000-yard run, Mal Whitfield in the 600, Len Truex in the mile and Horace Ashenfelter in the two-mile.

World Outboard Title Tests Open Saturday

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—The Division IV outboard motorboat world championships will open here Saturday and continue through Monday. More than 500 boats will race.

The championship races will be Saturday and Sunday with speed trials on Monday. All races are over Sunset Lake. The lake is a man-made salt water lake north of Nueces Bay.

Wally Tied for 8th

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., tied for 8th place yesterday in the $1,500 Miami Beach Pro-Amateur golf tournament.

Burkemo fired a 68 to tie with five other golfers.

Over 66,700 Deer Killed Last Season

Post Card Poll Shows Nearly 25,000 Taken in U. P. Area

LANSING (AP)—The annual post card poll showed that firearm hunters took 66,730 deer in Michigan last fall, the state conservation department reported today.

The department said 9,637 of the 10,287 hunters asked to participate in the poll returned cards—a percentage of better than 96 per cent.

Statisticians say the poll is almost always within five per cent of the actual kill.

The post card total was close to the conservation department estimate of a kill of 66,500 made shortly after the close of the season.

A breakdown of the poll showed that 111,000 hunters bagged 24,190 der in the upper peninsula.

Touring Pros Head for Miami

Rich Invitation Test Lures Top Stars; Erie Man Wins Pro-Am

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The touring pros tee off today in first round play of the $12,500 Miami Beach Invitational golf tournament and several comparative unknowns are expected to show well in the 72-hole event.

First of the pros and amateurs were scheduled to tee off at 8 a.m. over the 6,577-yard par-72 Bayshore Gulf Club course.

Senators Get Rookie—36-Year-Old Cuban

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The Washington Senators have a new rookie outfielder — 36 years old.

Alex Crespo, a Cuban, joined the team yesterday after spurning repeated offers from the majors during a heavy-hitting career in various Latin American leagues.

Calvin Griffith, Senators' vice president, said, "We've been trying to land him for 10 years."

Gophers at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG—The Blue Bombers of Winnipeg have signed Bud Grant, an end, Stavros Canakes, tackle, and Bob McNamara, back, all former Minnesota Gophers to play in the pro season of 1955.

Young Pitchers Must Carry Load if Bosox Are to Make Strong Bid in 1955 AL Pennant Race

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The youth-minded Boston Red Sox count heavily on kid pitching to help carry the load in the American League race as they await the expected return of Ted Williams.

Everytime the phone rings in the clubhouse, the boys expect to hear the news that Ted is on the way. Almost to a man they think their top slugger will be back, once he has straightened out his personal affairs.

* * *

* * *

The Red Sox embarked on a youth movement several springs ago. Some of the kids began to click for Lou Boudreau late last summer when they managed a fourth-place finish, 42 games back on the final day of the season. The youngsters weren't coming fast enough, however, for owner Tom Yawkey who called in Higgins, his top farm manager, shortly after the close of the season.

Since he helped the Sox win the '46 pennant, Higgins has been working his way up in the farm system through Roanoke, Birmingham and Louisville, where he won the Little World Series last fall. Most of the Boston club has played for him at one time or another.

* * *

Frank Sullivan (15-12), a 6-6 righthander, took over as ace of the staff in his first full season in '54 when Mel Parnell (3-7) was sidelined for months with a broken forearm. Although Sullivan didn't get a starting chance until May 21, he wound up the top winner on the ball club. Tom Brewer, another young righthander, finished with a fine 10-9 rookie year. Willard Nixon (11-12), a four-time winner over the New York Yankees, is the other definite starter in Higgins' plans.

Dick Brodowski, just back from service, may take over a starting job. He impressed by pitching some brilliant ball in '52 before he left for military service. Ike Delock (17-10) for Higgins at Louisville and Russ Kemmerer (5-3) probably will make it.

* * *

Bob Smith (13-5 at Shreveport) might grab the left-handed job behind Parnell because Leo Kiely (5-8) is underweight and Bill Henry (3-7) has had arm trouble.

Old reliable Ellis Kinder (8-8) is still around at 40 to handle the bullpen with help from Tom Hurd (2-0), Hershell Freeman (7-5 at Louisville) and Sid Hudson (3-4).

If Williams, 36, returns, he'll be in left.

Higgins has decided to stick with Jim Piersall (.285), his acrobatic fly catcher, as the full time center fielder. Last year Boudreau switched Jackie Jensen and Piersall. In addition to Throneberry and Olson, also available are Sam Mele (.268) and Gene Stephens (.286) a lanky young left-handed hitter who can't be optioned again.

The Sox have infield problems, no quesion about it. The slick fielders can't hit and they have been moved around so often they don't know which end is up.

* * *

Harry Agganis (.251) a left-handed batter, has been sharing first with big Norm Zauchin, who hit .289 at Louisville. Agganis' failure to hit consistently last year gives Zauchin a great chance at the job if he can learn to pull the ball to left.

The first string catcher for many years to come is Sammy White (.282) who hit 14 homers and drove in 75 runs last season.

Milt Bolling Lost to Bosox for 6-8 Weeks

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Milt Bolling, slated to open the regular season at shortstop for the Boston Red Sox, will be sidelined from six to eight weeks with an elbow injury.

X-rays yesterday revealed Bolling got a chip fracture in his left elbow in a collision with St. Louis Cardinal catcher Dick Rand. St. Louis won the exhibition game 5-4.

"I'll play (Owen) Friend and (Billy) Klaus at shortstop," Manager Mike Higgins said after the game, "and see how they come along."

Orioles Take Day Off Prior to Road Trip

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, after a day off, left this morning for West Palm Beach and the start of a five-game exhibition road trip.

Manager Paul Richards said he would pitch rookies Bob Alexander, tall righthander from Portland and lefty Don Ferrarese with an otherwise veteran lineup when the Birds play Kansas City today.

Anderson Grid Memorial to Honor Maple Players

The John D. Anderson Memorial award has been established for competition among Birmingham High School football players.

Installed by the class of 1947 and friends, including Michigan Bell employes, the award will honor the memory of John D. Anderson, who died last month in a jet crash while on a cross-country flight from Detroit to Alabama.

He was flying with the Air National Guard after completing pilot training with the U.S. Air Force.

Anderson, an outstanding athlete at Birmingham, was captain of the Maples' 1947 golf team and co-captain of the 1946 football squad.

It is hoped that the award will be an incentive and goal for all Maple varsity players. The selection will be made of the player "whose spirit, ability, leadership and improvement represents the ideal of good sportsmanship."

Competition for the award will begin with the 1955 Birmingham High School football season and continue at least until 1979.

County Athletes Among Spartan Letter Winners

Two Oakland county area athletes were among the letter winners for basketball and swimming at Michigan State College this winter. Announcement of the awards today listed Pat Wilson of Lapeer with the cage award winners and Lanny Johnson of Royal Oak with the letter winners on the swimming squad.

Roberts Working on New Changeup Pitch

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Robin Roberts is working on a new pitch.

The Philadelphia Phillies' No. 1 pitcher, considered one of the best in baseball, engaged in a lengthy and unusual warmup yesterday after the game with the Milwaukee Braves was rained out.

He concentrated on the new pitch, a change-up. In the past, Roberts has relied on his fast ball and assortment of curves.

Much Research Helps Perfect Fishing Lures

When you hold a small and brightly colored fishing lure in your hand, you can have a healthy respect for the scientific research and manufacturing know-how that have gone into its development.

The more elaborate lures often represent the talents of naturalists, engineers, wood artisans, metallurgists and machinists. In addition, chemists of the paint, varnish and lacquer industry are called upon to formulate special coatings for these barbed sirens.

Such coatings must be able to withstand prolonged submersion in fresh or salt water and to travel through the water at trolling speeds. They must also be able to resist abrasion and impact from dragging on sand and hitting rocks.

The teeth of some fish are also a real threat to a protective coating. Since the colorful markings play so important a part in attracting fish, the finishes are formulated so they can withstand such punishment.

Andrea Lawrence Leads U. S. Olympic Ski Team

STOWE, Vt. (AP) — Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence, a double winner in the last Olympics, and Brooks Dodge of the U.S. Army, another ex-Olympian, head a group of 13 skiers chosen Sunday night to represent the United States in the 1956 Olympics in Italy.

Mrs. Lawrence, 22, is a former Rutland, Vt., resident now skiing for the Aspen, Colo., Ski Club. Dodge is from Pinkham Notch, N.H.

PARRY O'BRIEN WEDS — Parry O'Brien, winner of the Pan-American games shot put championship, and his bride, the former Sandra Cordrey of Palm Springs, Cal., toast each other after their marriage in Mexico City March 16. They were wed in a civil ceremony by Prospero Olivares Sosa, known as the marrying judge of Mexico City.

Possums Give Benefactor Problems by the Pouchful

DALLAS (AP)— When the cook found a sick possum in the garbage can last spring, Mrs. Ted Mayborn brought the animal inside and cared for it.

And that was the start of the possum problems on Cherokee Trail.

The Mayborns—he's an oil publications executive—live in a big house on Cherokee Trail, a winding street in a wooded and high-priced Dallas neighborhood.

* * *

Mrs. Mayborn admits a fondness for animals (her pets include two squirrels, a talking crow, a dog and several cats), but possums were a new experience.

She kept the sick animal several days before she found out why it was ill. Then nine small possums came, kangaroo-style, out of the pouch on mama possum's stomach.

* * *

Before they grew up, another sick possum arrived with seven offspring.

The mothers weren't the devoted kind, however—they ran off shortly and left Mrs. Mayborn with 16 small possums. Then one of the neighbors brought in another hurt possum and she had 17.

* * *

One by one, she was able to place the young ones with "children who would give them good homes" until she had only four left. Two were females she could not place, one was the hurt one and the other—his name's Slob—needed an operation.

* * *

Slob's getting better, she says, and the hurt possum is improving too, all of which makes for four good pets. "They're really very interesting," Mrs. Mayborn said. "When you pick them up, they wrap their tails around your arm or sometimes around your waist for a feeling of security.

"They've got long, sharp teeth, but they're really not vicious like a lot of people think. They just look vicious when they yawn."

Dutchman May Become Tiger Relief Artist

Holland Hurler Shows Fine Form to Redlegs, Tigers Win, 5-1

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — George Zuverink's zide-arm zinker ball apparently is still in good working order, and that may be the best news to come out of the Detroit Tigers' training camp this spring.

It's no secret that the Tigers are in desperate need of relief pitching. Zuvvy's zinker may be the answer.

Manager Bucky Harris hopefully talks of using the big right-hander from Holland, Mich., as his No. 1 fireman. He says Zuverink's low-and-away sinker ball would be perfect for late-inning work.

Zuverink made his 2nd appearance of the training season yesterday and stopped the hard-hitting Cincinnati Redlegs with one hit for three innings as the Tigers took a 5-1 decision from the National Leaguers.

In two turns on the mound, Zuverink has worked five innings. He has allowed only four hits and one walk. The 6-foot-4, 200-pound hurler is a willing worker and says he will pitch wherever Harris needs him.

Zuverink was used primarily as a starter last season, winning nine games and losing 13. His record wasn't brilliant but he showed an abundance of fight in the pinches. With youngers Frank Lary and Bob Miller slated for starting assignments, Zuverink would be available for bullpen duty.

Tigers backed up Zuverink and two other hurlers with a nine-hit attack to top the Redlegs. The winner went to Ned Garver, who allowed five hits over the 1st five innings and looked impressive.

Harris playd his "varsity" for the 1st time this spring. Ray Boon, bothered by a sore arm, was at 3rd; Harvey Kuenn, troubled by a pulled leg muscle, was at short; Fred Hatfield was at 2nd and Ferris Fain at 1st base.

Outfield consisted of Bill Tuttle, Al Kaline and J. W. Porter. Bob Wilson and Frank House shared the catching.

Tigers clinched the game with three runs in the 3rd inning. Porter knocked in one run with a single, while Wilson batted across two others with another single.

Tigers meet the New York Yankees today for the 1st and only time of the training season. Steve Gromek was to start for Detroit.

Lakers, Pistons Still in 'Last Stand' Fight

DETROIT PITCHERS — Five pitchers with the Detroit Tigers pose at Lakeland, Fla., spring training camp. From left: Ned Garver, Ray Herbert, Leo Cristante, Steve Gromek, and Al Aber.

Old-Timer Backs Return of Legalized 'Spit Ball'

AURORA, Neb. (AP)—"Those hitters have been getting too frisky."

That, said Clarence Mitchell, the former major league pitching star, is a sound reason to be behind the suggestion of baseball Commissioner Ford Frick that the spitball be reinstated as a stock in trade of pitchers.

* * *

Mitchell pitched almost 20 years in the majors and he used the spitball as his No. 1 pitch. There were a handfu of pitchers still permitted to use it when Mitchell retired and as long as they lasted they got most of their Slippery Elm chewing bark from Mitchell. He got it from a grove of trees along a Nebraska creek.

* * *

Lanky Mitchell lounged in his tavern here yesterday and commented the spitball is the easiest pitch of all on a hurler's arm.

"You never heard of a spitballer with a sore arm. It's no harder on the arm than a fast ball," he said.

But if the pitch is legalized again, fans and pitchers shouldn't expect startling results immediately through its use, Mitchell went on.

* * *

"Some of those pitchers would be surprised. There's more to throwing the spitter than just wetting your fingers. It takes practice. And today's pitchers are going to have to have time to develop the pitch."

Oriole Infielder Joins Happy Ex-Yanks List

Jim Brideweser Batted Only 49 Times in 3 Years With Bombers

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Jim Brideweser, rangy infielder the Chicago White Sox landed in a deal with Baltimore, thinks it's great to be an ex-Yankee.

"I just didn't get a chance to play when I was a New York Yankee," he said.

Brideweser was on the Yankee roster three years and appeared in only 51 games, and then only as a pinch hitter or a late-inning fill-in. He was at bat only 49 times.

When Yankee General Manager George Weiss wanted to farm out Brideweser last year, the Californian rebelled.

"I refused to report and demanded to be traded," said Jim. "They finally did deal me to Baltimore and I got into 73 games."

He hit .265 for the Orioles.

"Knowing what I do now, I don't think I would sign with the Yankees if I had it all to do over again," Brideweser said.

Former Major Leaguer Buys Hot Springs Club

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—George (Mickey) O'Neil of St. Louis, former major league baseball player has purchased the Hot Springs Bathers of the Class C Cotton States League.

The last place club which finished the season in poor financial straits was sold yesterday by Charlie Williamson of Hot Springs. The purchase price was not announced.

O'Neil, 59, formerly played with the New York Giants, the Boston Braves and the Brooklyn Dodgers. He managed Jackson, Miss., in the Cotton States League in 1935-37.

State Will Release Over 2 Million Trout

LANSING (AP) — More than two million trout will be released in Michigan lakes and streams this spring, the conservation department said.

Of the 2,200,000 total, 1,500,000 will be of legal length.

The department said it expects a record number of trout fishermen out this year. The season opens April 30.

Michigan Likes Idea of International Treaty

LANSING — Michigan's conservation commission recently went on record favoring an international fisheries treaty for the Great Lakes.

President Eisenhower recently handed the treaty to the senate and asked that it be ratified. Under its terms eight states and Canada will be able to program fish research and sea lamprey control on the lakes. Until now, this work has been handicapped by a lack of coordination.

More Pine Martens Released in U.P.

LANSING (AP) — Three more pine martens will be released in the Porcupine Mountains this week, the conservation department said Tuesday.

Four of the mink-like animals were released in the same area two weeks ago.

'New Red Grange' Says He's Entered Notre Dame

CHICAGO (AP) — Halfback Bob Zeman, hailed as the "new Red Grange" during his prep career at suburban Wheaton High School, has announced he will enroll at Notre Dame next fall.

Zeman is regarded as the greatest football star to come from Wheaton High since Grange more than 30 years ago. The 6-1, 185 pounder is a near straight-A student and plans to major in engineering at Notre Dame.

The Chicago Daily News said that more than 15 schools sought the Wheaton star and that Zeman "revealed he will receive a $1,750-a-year scholarship for four years" at Notre Dame.

Dons NCAA Title Might Win Them New Gym

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Dons' National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Basketball Championship will be parlayed into a $700,000 gymnasium for the school. That is the confident prediction of a committee raising the money.

Fund drive directors said Sunday night $300,000 is already in the kitty for an 8,000-seat USF gym.

The Dons practice on a high school court. They play their few "home" games at Kezar Pavilion

Casualty Rate Lower

NEW YORK — High school football in the U.S. accounted for 12 deaths in 1954, an average of 1.9 per 100,000 participants. The nine year average is somewhat lower with 1.4 football fatalities per 100,000 participants.

Big Inning Wins for Yankees

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Them Yankees, suh, are at it again. They still carry that old trademark—the big inning.

The New Yorkers, who got some extraordinary charity from Washington pitchers, romped through an eight-run eighth inning to knock off the Senators 10-4 yesterday.

Maury McDermott, who finished only 11 of the 26 games he started for Washington last season, tried to go all the way for the first time this spring. Until he ran afoul in the eighth, he was doing a good job.

* * *

He had the Yanks nibbling through the first seven innings, setting them down on four singles. The Yanks got a pair of runs, one of which was unearned, but trailed 4-2 after seven. Then Washington's stringbean lefty walked three of the four men he faced in the eighth, giving up a single to the other, Mickey Mantle.

A youngster named Bob Ross, up from Chattanooga and also a southpaw, came on then and forced in a run by hitting Bill Skowron. He pushed another home by walking Bob Cerv.

The Yanks took over in their old style. Gil McDougald cleared the bases with a triple and Billy Hunter singled before a double play was accomplished by the Nats. Joe Collins closed the sniping with his first spring home run.

The first serious injury of the exhibition season showed up when Boston shortstop Milt Bolling suffered a chipped bone in his left elbow in a second-base collision with St. Louis catcher Dick Rand. Bolling, whom Manager Pinky Higgins had installed as the Red Sox No. 1 man at short, will be out from six to eight weeks.

* * *

Owen Friend replaced Bolling and committed three errors that gave the Cardinals three unearned runs in their 5-4 victory.

Murry Dickson and rookie Jim Owens handcuffed the Milwaukee Braves on two hits for a 3-1 victory by the Phillies. It was 1-1 until the ninth when Del Ennis drove in the tie-breaker with a triple and scored himself on an error.

Brooklyn clobbered the Kansas City Athletics 15-4. Don Newcombe looked good pitching five strong innings for the Brooks while Carl Furillo, Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella contributed heavily to 17-hit support. Furillo got four hits, Reese drove in four runs with two safeties and Campanella hit a pair of doubles and a single.

* * *

Pittsburgh got over a three-run hump in the ninth to beat the Chicago White Sox 7-6. Preston Ward drove in the crucial three runs with a homer.

Out West, the New York Giants evened their spring series with the Cleveland Indians at 5-all, smacking Bob Lemon for six runs in the second and third innings for a 9-4 decision.

OCSC Celebrates 12th Anniversary

Senior Golfers Assn. Honors Veteran Evans

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Charles (Chick) Evans, National Open and amateur golf champion in 1916, is the American Seniors Golfers Assn.'s "senior golfer of the year."

Evans received the award last night from Fred L. Riggin of Port Huron, Mich., president of the association for golfers 55 and older. Evans was chosen for "sportsmanship, generous friendship, integrity and for advancing the interest of golf."

Writers Name Dann

DETROIT (AP) — Marshall Dann of Detroit yesterday was elected president of the Michigan Football Writer's Assn.

Elected as vice presidents were Jerry Hagan, of Kalamazoo, and Tom Mercy of Flint.

UM Battles Buckeyes in NCAA Swim Meet

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—While their unattached counterparts are striving for Pan-American glory, the nation's top collegiate swimmers tonight begin their own campaign for 1956 Olympic consideration.

The occasion is the 32nd National Collegiate Athletic Assn. championhip meet which will keep 200 athletes from 5 schools churning Miami University's pool in high-powered competition through Saturday.

What the Army and Navy didn't have in Pan-American action at Mexico City this week, the NCAA event does display in top United States Aquatic talent..

* * *

Tonight's opening event is the 1,500 meter freestyle in which Ford Konno not only seeks to retain his championship but also launches defending team titlist Ohio State's bid for a ninth NCAA crown.

The Big Ten champion Buckeyes again stacked with talent, once more face the challenge of their perennial rivals, Michigan and Yale. Michigan, last year's runner-up, is a six-time winner since the award of team titles began in 1939. Yale has taken four crowns.

As far as the United States is concerned, the NCAA meet, which gets into full swing tomorrow with six more of the 14 final events, figures to offer more Olympic comparisons than the current Pan American Games.

* * *

No fewer than eight foreign countries have representation in the collegiate meet and their swimmers will be competing against the United States in the 1956 Olympics.

Hawaii, strongly represented on Ohio State's team, has three lads in this meet who swam for the United States in the 1952 Olympics. They include Konno, NCAA 1,500 meter and 440 yard freestyle champion and 220 free-style world record holder; Yoshi Oyakawa, also of Ohio State, world's fastest backstroker; and Indiana's Bill Woolsey, who has whipped Konno four times at varying distances.

* * *

The strongest foreign array is concentrated in imported students from the British Empire, headed by Michigan's superb Scottish twins, Jack and Bert Wardrop. Jack has bested Konno and his 2:04.7 current world 220 mark.

After tonight's 1,500 meter event in which Konno is favored to retain his crown, Friday's schedule includes preliminaries and finals in the 50 and 220 freestyle: the 200 backstroke; 200 orthodox breast-stroke; one-meter diving; and 400 free style relay.

Saturday night championships will be settled in the 100 backstroke; 20 butterfly stroke; 100 and 440 freestyle; 150 individual medley; three-meter diving; and 300 medley relay.

OCSC Archers Plan Registered Shoot April 3rd

First registered field shoot of the season has been set for Sunday April 3 at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, Waterford. The OCSC Archery Club has received sanction from the National Field Archery Association for the event. All archers in the area are invited to take part. Registrations may be made at 9 a.m. with shooting set for 10 a.m.

Events are listed for both men and women, from the archery bowman class to the EBAA, top rating. Last event, however, is for men only.

First night shoot for the club takes place April 1, and bowmen should have flashlights as part of equipment. Archers fire at luminous targets, lighted only by the flashlights. Registry must be made before dark.

This weekend offers the regular archery golf rounds at OCSC.

For the first time trophies will be given for all match and shoot winners by the OCSC club. This plan for awards will be carried out at all future meets. It applies to all classes in every event. Bill Carland of the club announces.

Lions Get Paul Held Back From Steelers

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions, trying to recover from Tom Dublinski's desertion to the Toronto Argonauts of Canada, today brought back a football quarterback prospect from the Pittsburgh Steelers.

He is Paul Held, 6-foot-2, 190-pound former San Diego State star whose football career was interrupted by Navy service but who played last year with the Steelers.

Adams Denies McCarthy Claim

Army Counselor Says He and Ike Aides Didn't Conspire to Block Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—John G. Adams, the Army's chief counselor, denied today a charge by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that he and top White House aides "conspired" at a Justice Department meeting to block Senate investigation of the Irving Peress case.

Adams, testifying before the Senate Investigations subcommittee, said the Jan. 21, 1954, meeting attended also by Atty. Gen. Brownell and others high in the government, "was not a conspiracy."

* * *

"The meeting was not a conspiracy with reference to calling off the Peress hearings," Adams said. "It was not a conspiracy to call off the Ft. Monmouth hearings. It was not a conspiracy to attack Sen. McCarthy.

"It was exactly as I describsd it (in the McCarthy-Army hearings last spring) and nothing else."

* * *

Adams said his testimony at that time was that he and the others discussed only two other subjects —what he termed McCarthy's "ultimatum" demanding the right to quiz Army loyalty board members about security cases, and Adams' own charges that McCarthy and others had sought special treatment in the Army for Pvt. G. David Schine.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee is seeking to pinpoint responsibility for Army actions advancing Peress to major and giving him an honorable discharge after he had been tabbed as a security risk.

Senator Probes Sponge-Buying Habits of Nation

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla) is holding an investigation into the government's sponge-buying habits.

Smathers, chairman of the military procurement subcommittee of the Senate Small Business Committee, said a shift in the market and in government buying policies has killed off the only industry of Tarpon Springs, Fla., and has threatened to make the city a ghost town.

Smathers said that Tarpon Springs' troubles can be traced back to a blight which hit the sponge beds in the Gulf of Mexico several years ago.

By the time the disease was eradicated the public had turned to Mediterranean markets and the government was buying synthetic sponges.

Solons Renew Request to Condemn the Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP)— Six members of a special House committee, including two from Michigan, have renewed a request that the United Nations brand Soviet Russia as an aggressor against her satellites.

The committee members yesterday introduced identical resolutions which, if passed, would put Congress behind a request for Secretary of State Dulles to take "immediate steps" to get a condemning resolution on the U. N. agenda. The congressional resolution would not be binding on Dulles.

The congressmen are Reps. Machrawicz (D-Mich), Bentley (R-Mich), Madden (D-Ind), Feilhan (D-Ohio), Dodd (D-Conn) and Hillings (R-Calif).

Historical Group to See Blue Sky Law Records

LANSING (AP)—An opinion covering the destruction of records by the State Corporations and Securities Commission was released today by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Kavanagh held that list of records accumulated under the blue sky law and more than 15 years old must be first submitted to the State Historical Commission to determine if they have historic values before they can be destroyed.

SADDLED UP — Betty Jane Wheeler is about to holler "Head 'em off at the pass, boys" as she gets a sample of the pony rides scheduled for the Hudson Covert School PTA "Covert Carnival" to be held from 5-8:30 p. m. Friday at the school. Bud Williamson, left, and Chuck Wheeler await their turn. Other attractions planned include a dining room, baked goods and candy sale, a cake walk, white elephant sale, a needlework booth, and a country store. Mrs. Donald Jacobs is general chairman, with Mrs. Gerald Nienstead assisting her.

20 Americans Enrolled

Brainwash School Tells Inmates How to Hate West

BONN, Germany (AP)—Allied officials say about 20 Americans are in a Communist indoctrination camp at Bautzen, in East Germany. They described the camp as a brainwashing center where the inmates are taught to hate the West.

Details of life in the camp were disclosed by the officials after recent statements by a Communist youth leader who escaped to Frankfurt. He said 45 Americans and 75 British subjects, both men and women, were in the colony.

The officials scaled down the total of Americans in Bautzen after a check of authoritative records. They said they included both civilians and military defectors. Most of the latter were said to have fled the West to escape mental and emotional problems. Their names were not disclosed.

Among the details given in what the officials said was the real inside story of the camp were:

Inmates who rebel against the brainwashing are tried as spies. One Westerner who complained about conditions is now serving a 25-year hard labor sentence at Vorkuta, near the arctic circle in the Soviet Union. Others have been sentenced to prison terms in various East German cities.

* * *

Inmates live in rent-free hotel rooms and get 80 east marks (about $5) a week. Allied officials consider that hardly enough to cover living costs. They are given food cards.

All inmates must attend school at a "foreigners club." Communist propaganda is pumped into such subjects as geography and mathematics.

Says They Are Trying to Turn Famed Sisters Against Family

NEW YORK (INS) — The father of the Dionne quintuplets charged today that "outsiders" are still trying to turn the four surviving sisters against their family.

Oliva Dionne, in a magazine article published today, said: "I know of several times recently when outsiders told the girls that their brothers and sisters ought to be grateful to them for the money which provided their educations.

"The girls were told that if it had not been for them and their money, we would all have been much worse off.

"Obviously these were attempts to make the quintuplets feel better than the rest of us. What I don't understand is why. Is it the quintuplets' money they are interested in, or only their fame?"

The article states that almost everyone connected with the famous sisters—who will be 21 years old May 28—"proved unable to resist the temptation to capitalize on them personally."

When the four sisters—Yvonne, Cecile, Marie and Annette — reach 21, they will become eligible to take charge of more than one million dollars accrued from various sources since infancy.

"I can't say they've become everything I wanted them to be, because I always hoped they'd remain close to the family—be part of it. There's not a wide separation between them and the rest of the family, but they could be closer."

Father Dionne blames the "separation" on the decision to move the quints away from the family when they were 4 months old. He added that "everything would have been all right if they had only let us see them whenever we wanted to."

City Planners Call for Survey

Council Also to Erect No-Parking Signs Near Dangerous Intersections

WALLED LAKE — A complete survey of the existing sewage and water facilities within the city has been proposed by the Planning Commission.

The City Council has accepted the resignation of Mrs. Elvina Moss as clerk, and applications for the post are now being accepted.

No parking signs are being erected near dangerous intersections, to increase the visibility of drivers, the council said.

City Attorney Albert Herzog was sworn into office.

In other action, the council asked that prefabricated homes being erected within the city be checked to insure that they are meeting the city specifications. Assessor E. V. Mercer also was instructed to check the trailers in the area, and give the owners notice to move.

Engineering Studies Begun on Interceptor

DETROIT—The firm of Pate and Hirn has begun engineering studies for the Farmington interceptor, Oakland County Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main said today.

At a meeting in Farmington yesterday, the advisory committee for the drain voted to push ahead on the project, with completion scheduled for 1956.

Present at the session were Main, Farmington City Manager James O. Tennant, and Township Supervisors Ernest V. Blanchard, Farmington; William Roeser, Southfield; Lloyd L. Anderson, Waterford, and Hiland M. Thatcher, West Bloomfield.

The proposed drain would carry sanitary sewage from the participating areas into the Detroit sewage system.

Declare Television Set Necessary as Four Hogs

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — The California assembly's judiciary committee has indicated its awareness that household needs change with the times.

To an old law stating that the necessities of life include three cows, four hogs, bed, bedding, washing machine, stove, furniture, shotgun and rifle, the committee added the words: "One television receiver."

Weekend Specials Feature Bargains in Pork, Beef Cuts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Looking for a bargain in food this weekend? You'll find some good buys in beef chuck roast, pork and veal at many markets, and lower price tags on fish, canned vegetables and eggs.

In the beef category there are widely advertised reductions on chuck steak and boneless chuck potroast. But the plushier sirloin and rib roast cuts are mostly unchanged to a little higher.

Pork is still the outstanding buy. Loin roasts and centercut pork chops are down a few cents a pound in several cities. Also featured by many stores as weekend specials are veal rump and shoulder of lamb.

Poultry prices are up a shade in some parts of the country, and fairly steady just about everywhere else. Supplies at wholesale have been somewhat tight lately. But ducks and turkeys should be getting more plentiful soon, and in a week or two broilers and fryers should be coming to market in greater numbers.

At the produce counter the bargain - conscious housewife should find some excellent buys this week in potatoes, onions, escarole and dandelion greens. Also plentiful and moderately priced are carrots, celery, cabbage, broccoli and iceberg lettuce.

One of the big nationwide chains is featuring tomatoes boxed in cellophane-covered cartons at sharply reduced prices. Fresh string beans are still plentiful and cheap, but in some areas the quality isn't quite as good as it was a week ago.

Citrus fruits are in great abundance. Specials are being widely offered on seedless grapefruit and Valencia oranges from Florida. Here and there you'll find good buys in strawberries and apples.

Department of Agriculture marketing specialists list canned sweet corn and canned snap beans as "food headliners" for this week. Snap beans should be seasoned lightly (minced onion, green pepper, parsley, horseradish, garlic, celery salt or mustard will do) to bring out the delicate vegetable ftavor.

The nation's dairymen are putting on a high-powered promotion campaign aimed at getting you to drink more milk. Specifically, they want you to sign a pledge that you'll drink three glasses of milk a day for a 30-day test period. Plans were announced this week at the annual meeting of the American Dairy Assn. in Chicago. The dairymen maintain that you'll feel a lot better after the 30-day milk diet.

Guizado Denies Hiding Activities

Accused Ex-President of Panama Says Remon Knew of Loan Requests

PANAMA (AP)—Former President Jose Ramon Guizado told deputies at his homicide trial last night that his slain predecessor knew about his attempts to raise a 50-million-dollar loan in the United States.

The prosecution, attempting to link the U.S.-educated Guizado with former President Jose Antonio Remon's assassination Jan. 2, has contended the defendant acted without Remon's knowledge in asking two individuals and a U.S. bank to help him raise the loan for Panamanian development.

* * *

Answering deputies' questions in the third day of the trial before Panama's National Assembly, Guizado denied the prosecution's assertion that Remon had distrusted him when he served as first vice president under the late executive.

Guizado said there was nothing secret in his asking Milton Diamond, identified as a Washington lawyer, and Brig. Gen. Julius Klein, a public relations adviser, for assistance in getting the United States to let Panama have 50 million dollars as a grant or loan. Nothing came of the negotiation.

Guizado, a wealthy, 56-year-old civil engineer who was educated at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., succeeded to the presidency on Remon's death. The Assembly impeached him Jan. 16 and ordered him to trial on a general charge of homicide after a 43-year-old lawyer, Ruben Miro, confessed he machine-gunned Remon at Juan Franco race track with Guizado's full knowledge.

Kelley, Carroll Head Cancer Crusades

Howard K. Kelley, Royal Oak mayor, has been named South Oakland County's Cancer Crusade chairman for 1955.

The announcement was made today by James A. Baubie, Chrysler Corp. executive who is general chairman for the American Cancer Society's drive in Southeastern Michigan.

Named to head the Macomb County unit in the crusade is Howard R. Carroll of Mt. Clemens.

The month-long drive, which begins April 1 throughout the nation, is aimed at teaching the vital cancer facts, in the hope of saving thousands of lives. The American Cancer Society program is supported primarily by the United Foundation.

Aruba Heading to Red Romania

Owners of Finnish Ship Confirm Destination of Jet Fuel Cargo

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — The owners of the Finnish tanker Aruba today confirmed that the vessel is sailing back to Communist Romania with her cargo of jet plane fuel originally earmarked for Red China.

"According to an agreement with the owners of the cargo of the tanker Aruba, the shipping company last Sunday ordered the ship to return to the part of departure because of obstacles which could prevent the completion of the journey," the Re-Be Shipping Co. announced.

* * *

The tanker picked up its load of 13,000 tons of high-grade kerosene at the Romanian Black Sea port of Constanza. It reached the Indian Ocean area before turning back.

Peiping radio complained in a broadcast earlier today that the ship had been forced to return to Constanza "as a result of Washington's highhandedness and intimidation."

* * *

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo, also accused Britain of "assisting this wilful disruption of high seas traffic" by refusing bunkering facilities for the Aruba at Singapore.

The voyage of the Aruba aroused violent protest from U.S. congressmen. Jet fuel is one of the strategic items embargoed for shipment to Red China under a United Nations' ban.

After the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa threatened to intercept the vessel, the Aruba's Finnish crew refused to sail the ship into "dangerous waters" beyond Singapore.

Angry Geisha Girls Win Repeal of New Tax Law

Britisher Believes War Would Be Accidental

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The British ambassador to the United States says that if war comes it will result from miscalculation rather than a deliberate decision by the Communists.

Sir Roger Makins told the Los Angeles World affairs Council last night that "in such a situation I am sure we are all aware that the struggle at the moment is primarily a struggle for men's minds . . ."

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I happened to be in England two years ago when Eddie Fisher sang at a benefit for Princess Margaret . . . and appeared to be almost smitten.

He's going back to England this weekend—with Debbie Reynolds—and Eddie just told me: "I've got my own princess now."

Six States Enact Laws Governing Party Line Use

CHICAGO (AP)—Here's a little earful for folks along party lines.

Gossips who refuse to give up such telephone circuits in an emergency can get into trouble in an increasing number of states.

They can be fined or jailed for yacking on and on when somebody wants to use the wire to call the police, firemen or a doctor.

A survey by The Associated Press showed today that statutes of that sort have been put on the law books of six states. Similar proposed laws have been introduced in the legislatures of nine other states.

* * *

A law enacted in New York last year makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a $50 fine or 30 days in jail, or both, to refuse "wilfully" to give up a party line when informed it is needed for an emergency call.

Similar laws were enacted last year in Michigan and this year in Massachusetts, Indiana, Arizona and Tennessee.

Bills have been offered in legislatures in Colorado, Maryland, New Hampshire, Kansas, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Vermon, Rhode Island and Ohio.

A U. S. farm worker in 1940 produced enough to feed himself and nine others. By 1952 through improved methods he was able to produce enough to feed himself and 14 others.

Freed Prisoner Raves of Spying

Brainwashed Student, Held 3 Years in China, 'Confesses' Espionage

NEW YORK (AP) — As relatives interrupted and tried to stop him, Malcolm Bersohn—jailed by the Chinese Communists — persisted yesterday in praising his captors and insisting he was guilty of spying.

Bersohn, a former student at Peiping Union Medical College, was held in prison by the Chinese Reds for 3½ years. He was described as "thoroughly brainwashed" after he was released from custody last Feb. 27.

* * *

"If I were willing to lie about the People's Republic, I would be paid a high price by the warmongers and capitalists who are plotting a new world war. . . ."

Bersohn was interrupted by his sister, who did not give her name. She told newsmen: 'this is obviously a sick boy."

"I want to tell the truth!" shouted the 29-year-old Bersohn.

Bersohn, with a man whom he described as "my twin brother Richard," told reporters he began to work in July 1945 "for the United States government espionage organization," adding:

"This was the beginning of my espionage against the Chinese people and the cause of peace and democracy everywhere."

* * *

Bersohn said he did "secret liaison work" for a Chinese whom he identified as "an American spy," and in 1951 "collected information against the Chinese people" and turned it over to another "American spy" in Peiping.

"Because of my crimes," he continued, "I was arrested on July 23, 1951, for espionage. I pleaded guilty and confessed right away. I also wrote out a confession."

Members of Bersohn's family called to him: "Keep your mouth shut. . . . You'll be sorry for saying all that."

Crying "I want to tell the truth," Bersohn was hustled into a car bearing a physician's license plate and was driven away.

Records show that Bersohn's father A. P. Bersohn is a New York attorney living at 860 5th Avenue. Bersohn's parents are divorced.

Jack Webb to Star, Direct 'Kelly's Blues'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After four years as the laconic cop of Dragnet, Jack Webb is making the jump into an entirely new character, a rugged cornet player of the Roaring '20s.

He will star in and direct "Pete Kelly's Blues," a big-screen movie for theaters. He is also producing, but he won't take the credit on the screen. He thinks the multiple credits are too ostentatious.

I caught up with the fast-moving Webb on a music stage at Warners, where he was recording one of the 38 numbers in the film. Peggy Lee was singing a dramatic song in which she breaks down. Webb was all over the place, giving directions until he got the record just as he wanted it.

* * *

Later I asked him about Pete Kelly. Who is he—Joe Friday with a cornet?

"No, not at all," he said. "It will be a complete change. I'm not the world's greatest actor; I'm not even one of the 1,000 greatest actors. But I think the characterization will come out differently. I play naturally. But that doesn't mean Jack Web is Pete Kelly, any more than I'm Joe Friday. I've always tried to leave the character behind when I walk out of the studio at night.

* * *

"I think Kelly will be different emotionally from Friday. Because of his job, Joe isn't allowed to show much emotion. But we'll show Kelly first as a confused individual wallowing in the era of the '20s. He gets in a jam and wavers through fear, but he ends up on the right side of the law.

"There'll be some violence, because you can't attempt to picture that era without violence. But I've always been careful with the amount of violence I have shown, because of the young following that Dragnet has. I'm not going to endanger that."

Blame City Folks for Higher Taxes

BOSTON (AP)—Spokesmen for Massachusetts farm groups say they suffer an added tax burden when city people move to the country.

Representatives of a dozen organized farm groups told a legislative committee yesterday that after city people move to the country they vote for huge sums to build new and bigger schools to accommodate their children.

* * *

Paula K. Lewellen, of Bedford, a poultry raiser, said:

"The young people who are moving into the developments in our town are more articulate than the farmers with the result that in two or three hours in town meetings they get $400,000 for a new school, move away in a few years, and leave the farmers to pay off the bond issue."

The arguments were on a pending bill to give farmers a $5,000 exemption from taxes on farm stock and equipment.

Husky Red China Stands as a Giant Among Nations

WASHINGTON — Red China, where history is old and Marxist rule is young, stands as a giant among nations in population, size and geographic diversity.

Close to half a billion people live within the Chinese borders that stretch from the big coastal bulge to the Asia heartland, says the National Geographic Society.

A flyer soaring westward from Shanghai to the farthest reaches of wild Sinkiang Province makes a journey of 2,740 miles, longer than from New York to San Francisco. Northward from Indochina to the top of the Manchurian loop into Siberia, he travels almost as far—and passes from the Tropics to a region 13 degrees from the Arctic Circle.

Only massive Russia spreads over more land than Red China's area, including Tibet, of roughly 4,200,000 square miles. No other country holds such a mass of humanity, not even teeming India. For each inhabitant of the South American continent there are at least four Chinese.

Nature, hostile and generous by turns, makes China a land of paradox and extremes. The diligent farmer tilling his "good earth" is a familiar symbol of the world. Yet less than ten per cent of the territory is arable. Approximately half the country rises to heights of a mile or more, and vast expanses of wind-swept, dust-choked steppes are useless for cultivation.

Contrasts are everywhere, from the humid forests and jungles of the south to the arid grasslands and desert wastes of the north and northwest. Green valleys streak brown eroded hills. Islands of lush fertility lie cradled amid perpetually ice-capped mountains.

In the rugged western ranges, peaks reach up into thin, gold air beyond 20,000 feet. The Turfan Depression in Sinkiang burrows to 940 feet below sea level. And flood and drought alternately plague the largest and most productive level region, the North Central Plain through which flows "China's Sorrow," the Yellow River.

The people are as varied as their terrian. Northern and southern Chinese, like eastern versus western, are different in appearance, dialects and customs. The sophisticated city dwellers are a world apart from the primitive rural groups, and even inhabitants of one mountain pocket may be strangers to those in the next.

One basic element, however, links the Chinese—their deep-rooted, age-old association with the soil. Some 80 per cent are farmers. Most spend their lives scratching a living from small subsistence plots and orchards pushed to the remotest limits of available land.

Great dividing line for crops is the central mountain chain that blocks off the southern moonsoon rains. South of it lie the wet rice-lands; north the dry wheat and millet country. Thus the notion that all Chinese eat rice is far from true. Over large parts of the country rice is a seldom seen luxury.

China's dense urban population is another surprise in this overwhelmingly agricultural nation. Three of its cities are jammed with well over two million people. One recent estimate gives Shanghai six million. Hundreds of thousands more live not on land but on water, in houseboats afloat on rivers and in harbors of big coastal ports.

Industry has made little headway in China against the combined handicaps of lack of transport, inaccessible raw materials, and shortage of skilled workmen and technicians.

According to information seeping from behind the bamboo curtain, an ambitious five-year plan for industrialization went into effect in 1953.

Coal is plentiful and iron reserves are available to support heavy industry. But a late figure rating China's annual steel output at 2,000,000 tons compared with 50 times as much for the United States indicates the lag.

Press Case Against Ex-Panama Chief

PANAMA (AP)—Former President Jose Ramon Guizado faced new testimony today in the prosecution's drive to link him by circumstantial evidence to the Jan. 2 assassination of his predecessor Jose Antonio Remon.

In eight hours of the trial of the former President before the National Assembly yesterday, special prosecutor Jose Lasso de la Vega charged him with a series of actions Lasso classed a incriminating. Guizado has pleaded innocent.

The wealthy 56-year-old civil engineer, who was educated at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., was Remon's first vice president. He succeeded to the presidency after Remon was shot.

The Assembly impeached him Jan. 16 and ordered him to trial before it on a general charge of homicide. A 43-year-old lawyer, Ruben Miro, confessed he shot down Remon at Juan Franco race track with Guizado's full knowledge. Miro later repudiated his confession.

Quick Frontier Justice Stifles Pioneer Spirit

CHICAGO (UP)—Daniel Gibson, 32, who smashed a tavern window with his fist, told the judge his pioneering spirit entitled him to change his name to Daniel Boone, one of his heroes.

Giant Jig Saw Puzzle

STERLING, Ill. (AP) — Postmaster Ronald Shawger had a giant jig saw puzzle on his hands and quickly put postal employes to work reassembling two bags of mail cut up when they fell beneath the wheels of a train. Most of the names of senders or receivers were determined.

Grains Puttering on Narrow Path

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains puttered along within narrow price limits on the Board of Trade today.

A little strength was shown at one time by soybeans but otherwise the market was only steady. Minor profit-taking appeared in wheat after the previous session's advance. Rye managed to stabilize following yesterday's drop to new seasonal lows.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅜ higher, May 2.12⅝; corn ¼ to ½ higher, May $1.46¾; oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May 69⅛; rye unchanged to ½ higher, May $1.03; soybeans unchanged to 1¼ higher, May $2.56; and lard 5 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $12.62.

Senators Start Market Report

Begin Sifting Records of Hearing to Determine What It Proved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now that the Senate has looked into the affairs of the stock market for the first time in 20 years, what does the inquiry add up to?

A Senate Banking Committee staff began wading through half-a-million words of testimony today in search of some answers to that question. The committee itself will meet in closed session next week to decide, among other things, whether to resume the hearings later.

One thing appeared pretty sure already, however: the market came through three weeks of hearings with few if any black marks against it.

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark), who started the inquiry and asked most of the questions in the public sessions that ended yesterday, said he found no evidence of any serious abuses such as manipulation of the market or other devices to fleece the unwary.

"I didn't expect to find any when we started," Fulbright told reporters. He said he thought the hearings had done a good deal to lay before the public the facts about the 18-month-old stock price boom and related matters.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) agreed no evidence of untoward activities was turned up.

The market itself had another rally yesterday, bouncing back still farther from the 10-billion-dollar price break that started early in the Senate inquiry. Some analysts said the end of the hearings might have influenced yesterday's upward surge.

Williams Lashes Out at Manufacturers

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams says the Michigan Manufacturers Assn. is trying to control the State Supreme Court.

In a campaign speech before the Polish Century Club in Detroit last night, Williams said the Republican Party has controlled Michigan's educational system and the Supreme Court for generations.

"Anyone who dared urge the election of a non-Republican Supreme Court justice or superintendent of public instruction or a regent of the university has been denounced for dragging the courts and the schools into politics," he said. "This year it's the labor unions who are the whipping boys for this technique."

"Let me tell you who is really trying to control the Supreme Court," Williams said. "It's not the CIO — it's the Michigan Manufacturers Assn."

Recovered Sen. Porter Returns to His Seat

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Elmer R. Potter (R-Blissfield), seriously injured in an auto accident more than a month ago, returned to his Senate seat yesterday.

Porter said he was not physically able to attend Senate sessions daily for a while but planned to be present occasionally until he recovers fully.

Flint Woman Injured in Auto Collision Here

Mrs. Ida M. Wodach, 75, of Flint was treated for scalp cuts at Pontiac General Hospital after the car in which she was riding was struck in the rear by another Wednesday on Telegraph road near Huron street.

The driver, Mrs. Lila M. Sampson, 52, of Flint, told Waterford Township Police that the accident took place when a funeral procession she was in halted. Driver of the auto which struck hers, Arthur J. Witlow, of 705 N. Perry St., said he was unable to stop in time.

Hike Ducktail Price

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (INS) — Birmingham barbers have raised the price for the popular teenage "ducktail" haircut to $1.25. A spokesman explained: "It's something like three haircuts rolled into one."

Mart Continues Rapid Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market raced ahead today in early dealings in its third straight recovery session.

Prices were up between 1 and 2 points in many areas and some issues rushed ahead around 5 points.

Best gains were among companies identified with atomic energy development—12,000 shares of General Dynamics up 2¾ at 72, Babcock & Wilcox 1,500 up 4¾ at 114, and Combustion Engineering 3,000 up 5 at 77½.

There were many other excellent gainers: Bethlehem Steel up 1⅜, Boeing 2, Kennecott Copper 1½, Homestake Mining 1¼, Santa Fe 1¾, and Kern County Land 1.

Also higher were U.S. Steel, Douglas Aircraft, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, New York Central, Texas Co., and American Airlines.

The market for the past two days has been climbing in a new phase of its recovery movement that started last week. Yesterday it made one of its best showings of the year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks yesterday was up $2.10 at $158.40, a level that represents a recovery of around 60 per cent of the sharp losses of two weeks ago.

The market was at its best at the close yesterday, and today at the opening buyers rushed in avidly. The tape soon fell behind in reporting dealings from the floor of the Exchange and didn't catch up until the latter part of the first hour.

Carnival Draws Large Crowd to Boys' Club Here

Nearly 700 youngsters attended the Pontiac Boys' Club giant carnival last night. The carnival was part of a week-long program of special events celebrating National Boys' Club Week.

A real carnival atmosphere prevailed at the club as barkers and booth attendants, attired in colorful derby hats, gave their "pitches." More than 700 prizes were given away during the carnival.

Tonight will feature magician Dave Norton. Lyn and Gary Nelson, Steven Thompson, Phillip Wells, Mike McNair and Dwain Brennan will appear in a talent show.

PLANNED FOR NAVY — This plexiglass model of a new type roll-on, roll-off cargo ship shows how military vehicles can be driven and stored on board without the use of cranes. The first ship of this kind, it was designed for special use by the Navy's Military Sea Transportation Service. Engineers estimate that more than 300 jeeps, tanks and mobile mounts can be parked in the two large holds of the five-decked, 405-foot ship. With the help of five entrances, two on each side and one in the stern, loading and unloading time can be greatly reduced. A traffic control system with lights also speeds up the operation. George E. Sharp, Inc., New York marine architects, designed the vessel. Only one prototype is now planned and it should be completed by late 1956.

March Good for Industry but Farm Prices Sagging

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — March is proving to be the best month for industry in general in well over a year. And the merchant too, in most advances, is reporting better sales volume than last spring.

But it's a difference story for the farmer. Prices on many crops continue to sag. Production is also dropping in some cases, such as milk and butter.

* * *

Farmers blame a number of things for their woes. Government price supports were lowered, for instance, on dairy products. The price of butter dropped and for a time consumption went up a little. But since the government warehouses had been among the dairy farmer's best customers, total demand was off with the lower prices. And a number of dairy farmers have sold their herds.

Milk production is lower than a year ago, and butter production is running around 13 per cent behind a year ago.

Egg prices have continued their decline during March. Price weakness plagued the broiler industry. Poultry farmers cut back some on their output and marketing and poultry in cold storage is now about 15 per cent below the average of recent springs.

* * *

Congress is doing some worrying about this. Legislators from the farm states point out that a recession in farm income in the mid-1920's proved to be a forerunner of the stock market crash of 1929.

* * *

The industrial story is entirely different this spring. Paced largely by booming auto factories and unexpectedly busy steel mills, the industrial production index of the Federal Reserve Bank is likely to show a substantial spurt for March.

The auto production boom has seen some buildup of stocks in new car dealers' hands, but sales have been unseasonally large too.

Steel mills are producing in the biggest volume since the spring of 1953. The early start on new-model auto production was initially responsible, but other manufacturers began pushings up orders. In recent weeks there are some signs of a return to building up steel inventories.

It should be a prosperous spring for large segments of the nation's economy.

Monroe Ford Idled by Strike

1,950 Workers Off Jobs After Wildcat Walkout Over Alleged Speedup

MONROE (AP)—Day workers refused again this morning to cross picket lines at the Monroe parts and equipment plant of the Ford Motor Co., shut down yesterday by a wildcat strike.

CIO United Auto Workers officials reportedly were trying to persuade strike leaders to call off the strike.

Plant gates were blocked by nearly 150 pickets late last night when part of the midnight shift reported for work. Police were called to keep entrances clear, but most workers already had returned home when police arrived.

Some 1,950 workers were idled by the strike, which was touched off at 5:30 a.m. yesterday when two employes in the plant's coil spring department quit work, complaining of a "speedup." They were joined by other workers and the plant was forced to halt production.

Both the company and Local 723 of the CIO United Auto Workers Union said the walkout was unauthorized. Tony Marchesi, president of the local, said the strikers had been told to report to work today.

Eye MSC Interest in Commercial TV

LANSING (AP) — Michigan State College may be asked to explain its interest in commercial television to the House Ways and Means Committee.

Rep. Joseph Warner (R-Ypsilanti), committee chairman, said he may call a special meeting of the committee to look into charges that the college wants to use state money to compete with commercial TV.

The education appropriations bill contains a request from MSC for $250,000 to help finance a new station in the Parma-Onandaga area, Warner said.

"We will probably wait until MSC officials are called in to explain their entire budget request," he said. "But if that isn't done in the next week, we will call a special meeting."

"I don't believe any educational institution should get involved in commercial television," the committee chairman declared.

Call Girl Turns Hostile Witness

Alleged Tutor in Sin Can't Recall Details of Jelke Dealings

NEW YORK (AP)—The prosecution in the Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke trial has given up attempts to pry information from a stubborn former call girl who proved a hostile witness.

The witness, Barbara Harmon, was called to the stand to back up testimony by Pat Ward, another ex-call girl, that Jelke recruited her for cafe society prostitution.

* * *

Miss Harmon yesterday answered key questions of Asst. Dist. Atty. Anthony J. Liebler by saying she couldn't remember. Called a "hostile witness" by both Liebler and Judge Francis L. Valente, she was excused after cross-examination by the defense.

* * *

Under grilling by Liebler, she agreed that Jelke asked her to go on dates for Miss Ward, but he declared, "I can't remember specifically" when asked whether she actually arranged any dates.

"I remember introducing her to people. I don't know what she did," said the 33-year-old witness, a divorcee and mother of two.

Specific answers that Miss Harmon gave at Jelke's first trial two years ago were read to her by Liebler. But she said they did not jog her memory.

* * *

The prosecution had better success with Richard Short, a talkative procurer whose testimony continues today. He was so loquacious that the judge cautioned him not to volunteer information that was not wanted.

* * *

Short, who had testified briefly Tuesday, said yesterday he asked Jelke in 1952 if he could use his alleged list of potential customers for call girls to aid Short's wife, call girl Pat Thompson.

Jelke, the witness testified, gave him some names and telephone numbers and instructed him to have his wife use Miss Ward's name.

* * *

Short also testified that there was a meeting among himself, Jelke, Miss Thompson and Marguerite Cordova, 26.

Jelke, 25-year-old oleomargarine heir, is charged with inducing Miss Ward into vice and with attempting to do the same with Miss Cordova. Both Miss Ward, 21, and Miss Cordova have testified for the prosecution.

Business Notes

Packard division, Studebaker-Packard Corporation, today announced plans to conduct a series of educational demonstration-display "clinics" in major cities to explain to students of technical, trade and vocational schools the principles of torsion bar suspension in American cars.

The first of the clinics opens in Boston Monday and sessions there will continue through April 9. In April and thereafter, it is planned to conduct clinics in several cities simultaneously.

The appointment of Ledyard Mitchell, Jr. as director of forward planning for Chrysler Division has been announced by E. C. Quinn, president, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

Ionia State Hospital Gets Addition of 220 Beds

IONIA (AP)—A 220-bed addition has been placed in use at Ionia State Hospital.

It is described by Dr. Perry C. Robertson, hospital superintendent, as one of the finest mental health structures in the nation.

A two-story building with four 50-bed units, it will shelter trusty patients who are given outside job assignments.

Opening of this structure will permit transfer to Ionia State Hospital of many mentally ill inmates of the state's three prisons, Dr. Robertson said. Corrections Department officials say they have 83 such prisoners now in inadequate quarters lacking facilities for mental therapy.

Cost of Living Remains Same

February Index Shows No Change, but Pay, Buying Power Are Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that February living costs remained unchanged from January but factory worker take-home pay and buying power rose to a record high.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said its living cost index for the third straight month was 114.3 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Food prices were slightly higher in some cities.

* * *

Average earnings less taxes for a factory worker with three dependents rose to $69.17 a week in February and to $61.91 for a single worker. This was 76 cents higher than in January for each type worker.

The purchasing power of the average factory worker has increased about five per cent in the past year because of higher take-home pay and a slight living cost decline.

* * *

Take-home pay last month was $2.87 a week higher than in February, 1954, for the factory worker with three dependents, $2.82 higher for the single worker. The increase was attributed to an average five cents per hour increase over the year in pay rates and to longer working hours and more overtime pay.

* * *

The February living cost index was down six tenths of one per cent from February last year. It has changed only slightly month by month despite seasonal ups and downs in many consumer items.

* * *

Retail food prices rose fractionally in February. Food costs averaged higher in 27 cities, lower in 17 cities, and were unchanged in 2 of the 46 cities on which data was collected.

Prices of eggs and poultry as well as of some fruits and vegetables were higher, but coffee, bacon and ham were lower.

Coffee prices declined more than 8 per cent in February, continuing a sharp decline from an average $1.23 cents a pound last August to 97 cents this February.

* * *

Prices of clothing and house furnishings were up slightly in February from their low January sales levels. Electrical appliances were down somewhat. Lower home ownership costs balanced small increases in rents and fuel.

Costs of new and used cars were a bit lower in February although prices for tires and gasoline were higher.

Mrs. Aryness Joy Wickens, acting labor statistics commissioner, said the bureau could see nothing in the wholesale market situation that spelled much change in retail prices in March.

GM's New Brougham to Compete With Rolls

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—General Motors Corp. is going into competition with Rolls Royce of England, Don E. Ahrens, president of the Cadillac Division said today.

Ahrens, here to open GM's Motorama Saturday, said the new car will go into production this year and output would be held to 1,000 annually.

The new car, which he said "will make people forget about the Rolls Royce" will be known as the El Dorado Brougham. Ahrens described it as a four-door, pillarless, custom-built car, 216 inches long and 54 inches high.

He said the price would be about $8,500 FOB Detroit.

Walled Lake Clinic Nearing Completion

WALLED LAKE—Members of the board of directors of the Dr. O. R. MacKenzie Memorial Clinic have reported that July 1 is the probable date for completing construction of the building, and that it should be opened shortly thereafter.

Walls are nearly completed at the present time, steel is in place, windows are ready to be installed, and roofing lumber is on the job. A work bee has been called for Saturday, and volunteers are asked to be present to put on the roof boards.

153 Inches of Snow Recorded in North

The severe blizzard that hit the Keweenaw Peninsula Monday and Tuesday left traffic on secondary roads at a standstill and hampered traffic on the major trunklines.

Train traffic in Houghton County was kept moving by the constant use of snowplows. However, activities at the Torch Lake Mill and seven mines in the area were suspended when the Calumet-Hecla rail line from Calumet Lake to Lake Linden was closed by the heavy snowfall.

Normal mining operations resumed yesterday morning when the snow had been cleared from the tracks.

'A TREASURE'

Inside this solidly constructed home of brick, combined with beautiful cut stone and glass block panel galore. Interior is a duplicate of an exclusive Bloomfield Hills home featuring many custom built touches seldom found at the price asked for this home. Hard to believe — so we won't describe the beautiful fireplace, brick planters, the dreamy dining room, wall to wall carpeting, too. Of course, there's 3 bedrooms, also a sun porch. All of this on a lot 150x325 with trees, a garden house and a dog kennel. You'll buy it if you see it—and you'll be sorry if you don't see it! All this for only $15,500, terms.

HILLTOP HOME

Near Clarkston, on the pavement. Over 2 acres. This custom built home is only a year old. First floor has 3 huge bedrooms, plus 3rd room for den or extra bedroom. 22 ft. living room. Large cheerful Youngstown kitchen with dishwasher. Also lovely dining room, 2 utility rooms. This home has beautiful oak floors plastered walls and is in excellent condition. Penestra windows with marble sills. Aluminum storms and screens throughout. 2nd floor has 2 extra large rooms and bath. Partly finished. An exceptional buy at $15,750. Terms.

Public Defender Need Seen After TV Role

Lawyer Played by Reed Hadley

Officials Commend the Show for Acquainting Public With Office

NEW YORK (AP)—Playing in Public Defender has been as informative to Reed Hadley as to his viewers.

"It has made me aware of the need for the office," says the tall, Texas-born hero of the weekly CBS filmed show.

* * *

Before he began the series a little over a year ago, Hadley knew little about law or the office of public defender — the man who represents defendants unable to employ their own legal counsel.

"Police officials, judges and attorneys in places that have public defenders say the show is a great thing to acquaint people with the value of the office," he declares.

"In communities where they do not have a public defender's office, I've had many attorneys say to me, 'I hope we get it here.'"

* * *

Hadley says that on a recent swing around the country he was told by many legal authorities that a full-time public defender can best represent those who cannot afford their own lawyer. The public defender can devote his entire attention to such cases whereas a private attorney appointed by the court often can't.

Publisher Buys Control of Old St. Louis Globe

ST.LOUIS (AP)—Samuel I. Newhouse, owner of a group of 10 newspapers, has bought stock control of the 103-year-old St.Louis Globe-Democrat for more than six million dollars.

E. Lansing Ray, 70-year-old publisher and editor, announced the sale of the morning newspaper yesterday. Ray, who also is chairman of the board, said he would remain in his present capacity.

He said Newhouse pledged himself to continue the present policies of the newspaper and to keep the present staff intact. The newspaper has more than 1,000 employes, including 100 in the editorial department.

Cherry Blossoms Due

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's famed cherry blossoms are expected to start popping out Tuesday—five days ahead of normal in the Tokyo area.

GIFT FROM JAPAN — Mr. and Mrs. Richmond W. Earnes, of North Smithfield, R. I., welcome their adopted daughter, Nancy, 4, on her arrival in New York City after a flight from Tokyo by way of Los Angeles. The youngster, a Japanese-American orphan, made the flight alone after her adoption had been arranged by Mrs. Earnes' brother, Sgt. Milton Gilmore, who saw the child in a Japanese orphanage.

Hatoyama Says Japan May Start Atomic Weapons

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama said today it was premature to assume Japan would never stockpile atom and hydrogen bombs.

"If atomic weapons are necessary for maintaining peace, we can't help it," he declared.

Hatoyama, answering questions before the new Japanese Diet, also said:

He would like to negotiate with the United States as soon as possible for the return of Okinawa and the Bonin Islands.

His government's basic policy of friendship toward the United States would not change, despite efforts to restore normal relations with the Soviet Union.

Stricken During Rescue

EAST WINDSOR, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. Hazel L. Vancour, 59, died of a heart attack while trying to rescue one of her 12 cats which had hanged itself by the collar in a tree.

The Japanese catch about one-fourth of the world's fish.

Radio Scramble Prepared to Confuse Enemy Pilots

In the event of any enemy attack by air, what part will radio stations play in our safety? Will they weaken our defense?

Authorities have feared that enemy planes could use the radio beams of commercial stations to guide them to their targets. To block this, radio stations are prepared with a plan known as "Conelrad."

What is Conelrad?

The word itself is derived from the phrase "CONtrol of ELectromagnetic RADiation."

Here's how it works.

Top officials of the United States have said this is possible. So have the Russians.

The planes would first be detected by radar. The radar operator notifies Filter Center. Filter Center warns the Air Defense Command.

As soon as Air Defense Command identifies the bombers as unfriendly, Civil Defense would be advised. Within minutes you would find regular broadcasting stations replaced by a queer tone on your radio, as the stations went off the air to make way for the "Conelrad alert."

* * *

Why take the regular stations off the air, when they might broadcast valuable information to civilians? Enemy bombers would be able to guide themselves to any city by the signals of the regular radio stations.

With Conelrad these signals are controlled. Pilots of enemy bombers would be handicapped by silence or a confusion of signals.

The only authentic, non-enemy broadcasts could be received in this area by tuning your set to 640 or 1240 kilocycles. Information would be broadcast only a few seconds at a time.

Through Conelrad, and through Conelrad only, you would be informed reliably as to what was happening, and what you could do during and after an attack—to save your life.

* * *

An editorial in the latest issue of "Detroit Defender," official civil defense publication, warned: "Surveys made after a recent Conelrad test indicated an appalling lack of knowledge about the defense system."

Station WJR has decided it is too dangerous for citizens not to understand the meaning of Conelrad, and has transcribed a program which will explain it, dramatize it, and serve as a Conelrad test.

The program, written by Jack Kesseler, is called "No Second Chance." WJR will broadcast it at different times on seven consecutive days and nights from March 28 to April 3.

Worth Kramer, vice president and general manager of WJR, believes this program will "contribute substantially toward making Michigan the best informed state in the country on Conelrad."

March 28—11:30 p. m.
March 29—12:45 p. m.
March 30—10 p. m.
April 1—8:45 p. m.
April 2—9:15 a. m.
April 3—11:45 a. m.

Recordings of the program will be offered to the Michigan Civil Defense Office which can distribute them to other stations, and to schools, churches, clubs and other civic groups.

There are about 40,000 post offices in the United States.

Senator Won't Hush Yalta Talk

To Continue to Discuss Papers Despite Ike's Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he is going to talk about the Yalta conference "whenever it is pertinent" despite President Eisenhower's statement such discussions gain nothing.

The President told his news conference yesterday he saw no advantage in going back 10 years and showing, in the light of after events, that somebody may have been wrong or right.

"President Eisenhower was expressing his personal opinion on this matter and I don't agree with him," said Knowland, the GOP leader. "I intend to continue to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it is pertinent."

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate GOP Policy Committee took about the same view, saying in a separate interview: "The best guidepost in looking forward lies in benefiting from the lessons of the past. Yalta was one of the sad lessons of history."

Many Republicans have contended that at Yalta President Franklin D. Roosevelt made concessions to the Russians which eventually put Eastern Europe and China behind the Iron Curtain. Democrats reply that Roosevelt was following the advice of his military advisers in trying to get Russia into the war with Japan.

Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) said he goes along with Eisenhower's contention that the way to approach the matter is to lay out the record dispassionately and not try to damage reputations.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said it was interesting to note Eisenhower's view on Yalta plus the President's assertion that he is as sincerely bipartisan and nonpartisan as he knows how to be in foreign policy matters.

"It's the same old story," Sparkman said. "The Republicans are trying to build a wall around Eisenhower to shield him from political criticism."

Says the Government Needs More Engineers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission said today the government needs more engineers.

It said it has taken steps to inform engineering students on every college campus that federal service offers them "unprecedented opportunities to participate in challenging work of vital importance."
