Oakland University

Fall 2007 Commencement

December 15, 2007

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY MOTTO

The motto of Oakland University, "Seguir Virtute E Canoscenza," which is incorporated in its seal, has a distinguished origin, Canto XXVI, line 120, of Dante's Inferno.

These are the final words of Ulysses' great speech to his men urging them to sail on and on in pursuit of knowledge and experience of the world—even beyond the pillars of Hercules, traditionally the frontier and limit of legitimate exploration.

This is the three-line stanza:

Considerate la vostra semenza
Fatti non foste a viver come bruti
Ma per seguir virtute e canoscenza

Consider your birth
You were not made to live like brutes
But to follow courage and knowledge

Message from the President

It is my honor and privilege to congratulate the class of 2007. On behalf of the entire Oakland University community, we share in the pride that your family and friends feel as we celebrate your achievements at commencement. In addition to your graduation year, 2007 also marks the celebration of Oakland's 50th anniversary and five decades of innovation and opportunity.

The goal of higher education is to prepare graduates to meet challenges and make the most of the opportunities the world has to offer. The education you received at OU is among the finest you can get from any university. From academics to athletics, and from research to cultural experiences, you were immersed in high-caliber learning and growth opportunities. As you know, Oakland's distinctive undergraduate experience, which focuses on providing a unique combination of liberal arts and professional study, prepares students to be tomorrow's leaders --- at home and globally. And, our wide range of masters and professional doctorate programs meet critical demands of our society --- in the state, region and nation. As an Oakland graduate you're prepared to lead today because you have the tools to make your mark, achieve your goals and succeed in life.

As you move on to the next set of exciting challenges and experiences that await you in the world, I am confident you will continue to support Oakland University by staying in touch with friends and mentors who have been instrumental in your personal and professional growth. From the moment you came to Oakland's campus and for the rest of your life, you are a member of the Oakland family and always welcome here.

Congratulations on your great achievement!

Gary D. Russi

Message from the Provost

Commencement is a time to recognize and celebrate the accomplishments of our students. You have worked long and hard to reach this important milestone in your life. Your experience at Oakland University has prepared you to meet the challenges of a global society that is constantly changing.

The diversity of our world will provide you with continuous learning opportunities to further your professional growth and development. In your quest for personal growth and enrichment, take advantage of all the world has to offer. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the founding of Oakland University. The pride and joy of the institution's accomplishments reside in your ambassadorship as you make this transition. Remember the Oakland University motto "to follow courage and knowledge." Do so with a passion for helping humanity.

My sincere congratulations to you on your noteworthy accomplishment!

Virinder K. Moudgil
Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost

ABOUT OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

Oakland University was created in 1957, when the late Alfred and Matilda Wilson donated $2 million and their 1,500–acre estate to Michigan State University to begin a new college in Oakland County.

Named Michigan State University-Oakland, the new campus enrolled its first 570 students in 1959. In 1963, its name changed to Oakland University as the first class graduated with 146 students receiving diplomas. In 1970, the Michigan Legislature recognized the maturity and stature of the university by granting it autonomy and the governor appointed Oakland University's first Board of Trustees.

From its beginnings, the university has emphasized academic quality, concentrating on providing a dynamic, student-focused learning environment with integration of liberal and professional studies by a faculty of dedicated scholar-teachers. The natural beauty of the campus, much of it still wooded and undeveloped, is enhanced by comprehensive recreational facilities and modern buildings that house the university's many academic and public service programs as well as more than 1,700 residential students.

Dedicated to preparing graduates to make meaningful and substantial contributions to the workplace, society and academia, the university is organized into six academic units: the College of Arts and Sciences; and the Schools of Business Administration, Education and Human Services, Engineering and Computer Science, Health Sciences, and Nursing; and The Honors College.

Oakland has 127 bachelor degree programs and 98 graduate degree and certificate programs. Doctorates are offered in education with concentrations in educational leadership and counseling; in the biomedical sciences with specializations in medical physics, and health and environmental chemistry; biological communication; reading education; systems and mechanical engineering; physical therapy; in music education; and applied mathematical sciences.

The university is continuously adapting to meet the changing needs of students and the marketplace. New programs delivered online and on campus include master degree programs in nursing, biology, training and development, software engineering, an Executive MBA program in health care management and innovative Honors College courses. Business and industry partnerships provide unprecedented opportunities for advanced, hands-on learning.

Now, more than 18,200 students attend classes at Oakland University each year and the number of OU alumni has increased to more than 75,000 people.

MISSION

Oakland University has a four-fold mission. It offers instructional programs of high quality that lead to degrees at the baccalaureate, master's and doctoral levels as well as programs in continuing education; it advances knowledge and promotes the arts, through research, scholarship and creative activity; it renders significant public service; and it facilitates student development. In all its activities, the university strives to exemplify educational leadership.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

An edifying note contributed by a certain anonymous doctor of philosophy.

On at least two solemn occasions during the academic calendar—spring and fall commencement—the faculty of the university publicly displays its full academic regalia and participates in the liturgy of processional and recessional, that curious coming and going that symbolizes the ceremony of commencement. The purposes of commencement are well known, but the reasons for the peculiar garb of the celebrants and their odd order of march are often as obscure to the audience as they are, in fact, to the faculty itself. This note may serve to explain academic dress and the professional pecking order it costumes.

Contemporary academics are descendants of clerical schoolmen in the universities of medieval Europe. Like the clergy, members of the bench and bar, and other learned professions, medieval scholars were clothed in heavy robes to stay warm in unheated stone buildings. Like all members of a hierarchical society, the medieval faculties rejoiced in visible insignia of rank. These outward signs of accomplishment and authority were tailored into robes. Although the need for such voluminous garments to keep the scholar from freezing is long past, the use of them as emblems of dignity remains. You will observe that all caps and gowns worn by our faculty are black, with certain disturbing exceptions. Black was the color adopted by mutual agreement among American universities at the end of the 19th century. In Europe, each university has its own distinctive gown, varying in color and cut from all others. A European academic assemblage is a far gaudier occasion than its counterpart in America. Recently, certain universities in this country rashly broke the agreement and authorized robes in their own colors: for example, the crimson of Harvard and green of Dartmouth may be seen in our ranks. This unsuitable spontaneity has been frowned on by sister institutions, yet the mavericks not only persist in their madness, but gain adherents to their ranks with each passing year.

There are three basic academic degrees: the baccalaureate or bachelor's degree, the master's degree, and the doctorate. A special style of robe is prescribed for each. The bachelor's gown is sparsely cut, neat, but a bit skimpy and unadorned, as befits apprentices. The master's gown is still simple, but fuller, sports a sleeve of extraordinary design impossible to describe, and has a hood draped from the shoulders down the back. Once used to keep the frost from the tonsured heads of medieval clerks, the hood is solely a badge of a degree of scholarly achievement. The master's hood is small and narrow, but displays the colors of the institution that awarded the degree. If you knew the colors of American universities, you could easily identify whence came our masters. The doctoral robe is the most handsome of academic raiment. Generous of cut, of fine aristocratic stuff, it is faced with velvet chevrons on the ample sleeves. You will note that most of the velvet facings and chevrons are black, but that some are of other colors. According to personal taste, the doctor may display the color of his or her doctoral degree on the sleeves and facings: light blue for education, pink for music, apricot for nursing, orange for engineering, and many more. The royal blue of the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) is the most commonly seen in liberal arts institutions such as Oakland. The doctor's hood is the most elegant of all academic appurtenances. Large and graceful, it is lined in satin with the colors of the university that awarded the degree and is bordered with the color of the degree itself. Most academic costumes include the square cap called a mortarboard; the doctor's tassel may be either black or gold — tassels of all other degrees are black and stringy.

To instructed eyes, the order of march in the processional and recessional reveals the standing of individuals in the institution's formal hierarchy. In the processional the order of entrance into the hall is, quite fittingly, from most junior to most senior. The baccalaureate candidates enter first, followed successively by the masters and doctoral candidates with the whole separated from the faculty by a decent interval. In the faculty order, the instructors precede the assistant professors that in turn are followed by the associate professors. The august full professors bring up the rear. After a respectful distance come the deans who in turn are separated by a significant space from the awful majesty of the platform party, the vice president, the president, and the members of the board of trustees. All remain standing until the board is seated. After the ceremony, the order of recessional is the reverse of the processional. The greatest dignitaries stream out first, with the artfully organized ranks of priority wallowing in their wake.

It is hoped that these notes may make more intelligible the spectacle you are witnessing today. A discerning intelligence may detect in it many clues to an understanding of the academic profession as it confronts the ambiguities of the future with ancient wisdom and dignified confidence.

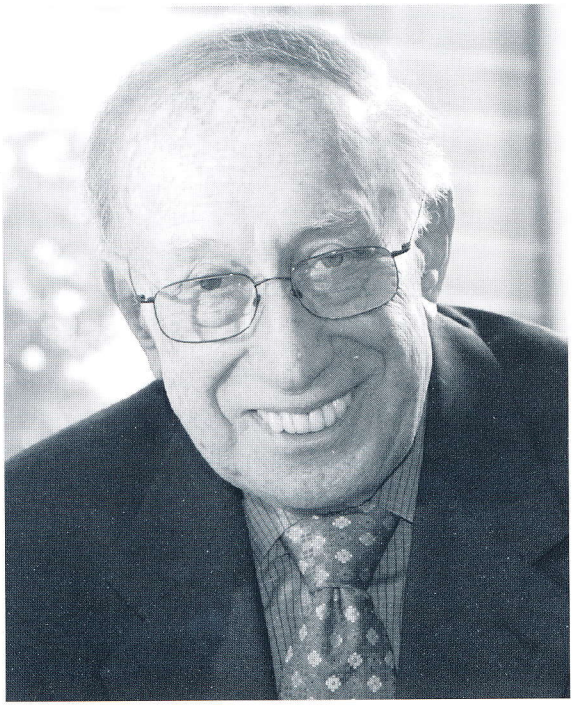

THE MACE AND PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

In medieval times, a Mace was used in warfare. The Mace is one of the oldest traditions in academe dating back to the early 1400's when it transitioned from warfare to ceremonial use. Considered a symbol of the university itself, the scepter Mace is carried by the university marshal during commencement, convocation and other ceremonial events to signify the arrival of the faculty processional. Oakland's Mace, created in 1994, was crafted by jeweler and OU alumnus, Paul Haig and designer Robert Dobbie of P.R. Haig Jewelers in Rochester.

The 30-inch long, approximately 8-pound mace has a white oak handle trimmed with sterling silver ribbon. A black obsidian disk on top is ringed with silver and is inscribed with the university motto. Obsidian is a natural black glass formed by the earth. On each side of the obsidian disk, there is a 14k yellow gold sail. On the base of the handle, a gold oak tree was modeled after a live tree on campus. The clean, straightforward design of the mace reflects the fact that Oakland University is a contemporary institution.

The President's Medallion, also created in 1994 by the same jeweler, is six inches in diameter and reveals the university sail, hangs on a silver chain and is worn by the President at ceremonial events. It is a permanent part of the university's president's academic regalia.

Stephan Sharf

Doctor of Science

Stephan (Steve) Sharf, who receives an honorary doctorate degree of science from Oakland University, is a former Chrysler executive and board member who was instrumental in bringing the company's corporate headquarters to Auburn Hills. A visionary business leader, Mr. Sharf identified opportunities for Chrysler to draw from the university's expertise and to partner with it to give students a broader understanding of the business world. Since 1981 he has generously contributed time and personal resources that have helped Oakland grow into a world-class university.

Mr. Sharf was an Oakland University Trustee from 1987 to 1994; he served as its vice chairman from 1992 to 1994. Sharf was a member of the OU Foundation from 1985 to 2006, serving on the executive, gift development, budget and appropriations and capital campaign committees. Since 1996, he has been a member of OU's School of Engineering and Computer Science Advisory Board. Sharf's long-time philanthropic support of OU is recognized through his membership in the University's Golden Oaks Society. He also is a life member of the University's President's Club. Currently, Mr. Sharf is a member of the President's Campaign Council. In this important capacity, he and other Council members are helping to build an even stronger university that will prepare graduates for success in work and in life now and in the years to come.

Born in Berlin, Germany, Mr. Sharf earned a degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Berlin in 1947; he immigrated to the United States in the same year. Sharf joined the Ford Motor Company in 1950, leaving in 1958 to work as a master mechanic at a Chrysler plant in Ohio. From 1958 until his retirement in 1986, Sharf's career blended the worlds of engineering and business. He served as a plant manager for ten years and was a vice president with Chrysler from 1978 to 1986 in the power train division, engine and casting, manufacturing and international business development and component business operations. Upon his retirement from Chrysler as executive vice president of the international business development group, Mr. Sharf took his retirement gifts and matched them with his own funds to create a scholarship for Chrysler employees and their children. This scholarship, named the Stephan Sharf Endowed Scholarship for Engineering Students, along with the Stephan and Rita Sharf Scholarship in the School of Business have provided opportunities for countless students to follow OU's guiding principal -- "seek virtue and knowledge."

Mr. Sharf married Rita Schantzer in 1951. In 1998, they received Oakland University's Spirit Award. She was a member of the Meadow Brook Theatre Advisory Board and the Music Festival Women's Committee. Mrs. Sharf passed away in 2001.

Steve Sharf is probably best known for his very generous gift in 2000 to establish the R & S Sharf Golf Course. The 12th hole was designed as the course's signature hole; it bears the name of the founding donors, Rita and Steve Sharf. Mindful of the need for ongoing efforts to prepare the University for continued growth, Mr. Sharf established a significant charitable gift annuity to support scholarships and other university needs that he will designate during his life time.

Since 1986 Mr. Sharf has been the president of SICA, Sharf International Consulting Associates, an automotive consulting firm. He also has been a columnist for Wards AutoWorld Magazine. In 2001, Sharf received the Gold Leadership Award from Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan where he is currently a board member. Sharf is a former member of the Board of Directors for the Detroit Council of Boy Scouts.

In the year of our 50th Anniversary, Oakland University is very pleased to recognize Steve Sharf, whose generosity and passion to help students achieve their dreams have contributed significantly to the advancement of our institution and have impacted countless people. We are very grateful for Mr. Sharf's commitment to give back to a community he loves.

UNIVERSITY AWARDS

UNDERGRADUATE DISTINGUISHED ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

The Undergraduate Distinguished Achievement Award was established in 1986 to recognize extraordinary academic accomplishement beyond superior grades. A student's scholarly publication in the arts, sciences, or a professional field; the creation of performance of an artistic work; or the construction of a device or instrument are representative criteria for this award. The 2007 recipient of the Undergraduate Distinguished Achievement Award is:

Nicole Donna Piggott
Medical Laboratory Sciences: Clinical Laboratory Sciences

HONORS COLLEGE

The Honors College has been established for highly motivated students who wish an unusually challenging undergraduate education. It provides a specially designed general education and additional requirements in conjunction with a departmental major in the College of Arts and Sciences or in one of the professional schools. Honors College graduates are identified by a white cord worn over academic regalia.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL AWARDS

MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT

This award is presented to an outstanding student in the College of Arts and Sciences who in his/her academic activities exemplifies the variety and scope of work in the Arts and Sciences. The 2007 recipient of the Meritorious Achievement Award is:

Lauren Elizabeth McIntyre

LEADERSHIP AWARD

The Leadership Award is presented to a graduating School of Health Sciences student who demonstrates valuable contributions to their profession through service, scholarship, campus and community involvement. The 2007 recipient of the Leadership Award is:

Yolanda M. Licari

UNIVERSITY AND DEPARTMENTAL HONORS

At each commencement Oakland University extends special recognition to those students who have attained outstanding levels of academic achievement.

The University Senate, acting on the advice of its Committee on Academic Standing and Honors, authorizes University Honors at three levels for those students who have completed 62 credits or more at Oakland, with cumulative averages as follows:

Summa Cum Laude 3.90 - 4.00
Magna Cum Laude 3.75 - 3.89
Cum Laude 3.60 - 3.74

Students who have earned University Honors wear a gold cord over their academic regalia.

Each student who has a record of superior achievement in a major field of study is awarded departmental honors and is identified by a red cord worn over academic regalia.

Conciliar Honors are awarded by the Faculty Council for General Studies to outstanding graduates of the General Studies program, who are identified by a red cord worn over academic regalia.

NATIONAL HONORS ORGANIZATIONS

An orange cord worn over academic regalia indicates membership in Beta Alpha Psi, the national scholastic and professional accounting society.

A green cord worn over academic regalia indicates membership in Beta Gamma Sigma, the honor society for schools of business administration accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business.

A purple cord with white tassels worn over academic regalia indicates membership in the Golden Key International Honour Society.

A madonna red and blue cord with multicolored tassels indicates membership in Phi Alpha Theta, the international honor society in history.

Graduates of the Master of Public Administration Program who earned membership in Pi Alpha Alpha, the national honor society of public affairs and administration, wear a gold medallion attached to a gold and peacock blue ribbon.

A double gold cord with royal blue and gold tassels worn over academic regalia indicates membership in Psi Chi, the National Honor Society in Psychology.

A brown cord worn over academic regalia indicates membership in Tau Beta Pi, the National Engineering Honor Society.

A royal blue cord worn over academic regalia indicates membership in Eta Kappa Nu, the National Electrical Engineering Honor Society.

Membership in Sigma Theta Tau, the International Honor Society of Nursing, is indicated by a lavender cord worn over academic regalia.

A cardinal and black cord worn over academic regalia indicates membership in Sigma Tau Delta, the International English Honor Society.

A kelly green and oriental gold cord worn over academic regalia indicates membership in the Human Resource Development Honor Society.

A royal blue and gold cord worn over academic regalia indicates membership in Omicron Delta Epsilon, the International Honor Society in Economics.

Graduates in the Master of Arts in Counseling program who earned memebership in Chi Sigma Iota, the international honor society for students, professional counselors, and counselor educators, wear the blue and white honor cords over their academic regalia.
