Neutrality Is Only Hope for Laos Crisis—France

PARIS (AP)—France declared today the only solution for the crisis in Laos is guaranteed neutrality, and urged this be extended to all Southeast Asia as its only assurance of peace and independence.

Game Ends in Death for 2-Year-Old

Playing in the imaginative world of "construction man" brought death to a 2-year-old Shelby Township boy yesterday when he drowned in a water-filled basement foundation hole.

After two hours of mouth-to-mouth respiration, resuscitation attempts and heart massage, Paul Michael Weishaar was pronounced dead at Avon Center Hospital, Avon Township.

Paul lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Weishaar, at 53225 Tundra.

Holes and mounds are plentiful in their new subdivision.

Gregory Boal, also 2, was building, digging and designing with Paul in the Weishaar's back yard. Gregory is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Boal, 53237 Tundra.

Noticing the two playmates missing, Mrs. Weishaar checked with Mrs. Boal. They both remembered the toy wheelbarrow, the shovel and the game.

Across the road, in five feet of water, they found Gregory screaming, hanging in the water from a tree root.

U. S. Aid in Asia Pledged by Adlai

U. S. force to patrol the border.

This was the first time the United States had proposed a role for the world organization in Southeast Asia.

Stevenson asserted that the United States had often come to the aid of countries attacked from the outside and said it will do so again "unless the lesson is learned once and for all by all aggressors that armed aggression does not pay—that it no longer works—that it will not be tolerated."

The council debate originally was sparked by a Cambodian charge that the United States and South Viet Nam had committed aggression in recent border incidents.

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville told a Cabinet meeting:

"There is no other solution to the problem of Laos than the respect of neutrality guaranteed by the interested powers."

"A true and sincere solution of neutrality must extend to all of Southeast Asia. It is the sole guarantee of the peace and independence of the states."

In extending the call for neutralization of all Southeast Asia the foreign minister was restating the stand of President Charles de Gaulle, who also contends the only solution for the Vietnamese war is neutralization.

The French stand came as the British government announced its support for a call by Premier Pierre Souvanna Phouma of Laos for a meeting in Vientiane, the Laotian capital of the 14 nations who signed the agreement in Geneva in 1952 setting up Laos as a neutral nation.

POSITIVE RESPONSE

A British Foreign Office statement said the British government earnestly hopes Souvanna's proposal "to stop the fighting in Laos and to restore the situation there will meet with a positive response from all concerned."

Board Will Inspect Junior High Bids

Bids for construction of the Mason Junior High School in Waterford Township will be opened at 8 p.m. today by the school board.

The proposed $2.5 - million school facility will be located between Loon Lake and Walton Boulevard.

Construction is scheduled to start next month, and completion is slated by September, 1965.

The junior high school is the largest single phase of the school system's $6.25 - million building program now in progress.

In other business at the meeting, board members will certify election officials for the June 8 school election.

Also slated for board attention are superintendent's recommendations pertaining to new teacher contracts and requested leaves of absence.

THIS IS AN ALLEY?—No, it's a new in Birmingham. But only last week it was an alley, complete with trash cans and other unsightly objects. Now Knowles Smith (left), executive director of the Chamber of

Major Crimes Rise in Pontiac

Major crimes in Pontiac during the first quarter of 1964 increased by 26 per cent over the same period last year, according to figures released by the Pontiac Police Department.

At the same time, however, 30 per cent or 341 of the 1,144 crimes committed during the first four months of this year were cleared by arrest.

Of the 906 offenses through April, 1963, only 192 or 21 per cent had been cleared by arrest.

Last month, crimes increased slightly over the same month in 1963, 280 compared with 271, a gain of nine.

Sixty-nine of the crimes last month were cleared by arrests, including six of 12 robberies. In April 1963, 59 were cleared.

LARCENIES INCREASE

Larcenies over $50 were responsible for the biggest increase last month, 15 more than the 49 committed in April of 1963.

Robberies, aggravated assaults and auto thefts rose slightly last month while burglaries and larcenies under $50 declined.

There were no criminal homicides last month while in April, 1963, there were two.

During the first three months of the year there were five criminal homicides (murders and negligent manslaughter).

Collegians Claim New 'Bed Record'

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—There were groans—and some complaints from the anchor men—but 56 University of Oklahoma students claimed a record Wednesday for piling onto a mattress.

Sunday Dumping Scheduled by City

City Manager John F. Reineck today announced that the Pontiac City Dump, located on the northside of Kennett, east of Oakland, will be open Sundays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. beginning May 24.

The Sunday hours will remain in effect through July 31, Reineck said. At that time, city officials will discontinue the additional hours unless continued use of the dump by residents necessitates Sunday operations.

Until now, the city dump has been closed Sundays. Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson suggested the Sunday hours might be of service to persons currently engaged in spring cleaning and remodeling.

Alleys Get Beauty Treatment

BIRMINGHAM — An outdoor cafe, window boxes full of brightly blooming flowers, colorful wall murals . . .

The image of Birmingham alleys is in the process of drastic change.

The old one is being hauled away with the trash cans, refuse and other odd objects which cluttered the passageways formerly frequented only by delivery trucks.

The first experiment in the Chamber of Commerce's alley beautification program was attempted in conjunction with the city's centennial celebration now in progress.

So take another look at the Maple - Willis alley. It's now known as Twink's Mews, after the city's first woman mayor and centennial chairman, Mrs. G. Howard (Twink) Willett.

The alley is the first to be refurbished under the 10-point program recommended by the chamber's civic design subcommittee.

WIDE USE

Merchants made wide use of flowers, canopies and coats of paint in sprucing up their back entrances. The city also aided in the project with new rubbish containers and a sign directing the attention of Maple pedestrians to the spot.

With this pilot project as a successful example, other merchants are getting ideas of their own.

Now being revamped is the alley between Pierce and Merrill on the west side of Woodward, to be called Roberts Row.

Pontiac State Hospital to Pioneer 'Unit Plan'

Supported by a $300,000 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, Pontiac State Hospital will this fall pioneer a new concept—the Unit Plan—of treatment for the mentally ill.

Under it, patients are housed in a separate ward and receive treatment throughout their hospitalization from the same set of staff therapists and doctors.

The present system permits but a comparatively short period of intensive treatment. The patient then may be transferred to various wards as he progresses.

Pointing out that traditional wards are often thinly staffed, Medical Superintendent Dr. DONALD W. MARTIN announces that special personnel will be added to the hospital staff to implement the Unit Plan Program.

Since the institution already provides specialized treatment for children and geriatric patients, the innovative care will be restricted to those in the 18-to-65 age range.

With mental disability among Americans becoming an increasingly grave national problem, any promising development in the treatment of it is to be welcomed with wholehearted approbation. This we unreservedly give, with high hopes for the efficacy of the experiment.

Peter J. Tsatsanis

A widely-respected citizen and former businessman is lost to Pontiac with the death of PETER J. TSATSANIS.

Although living in retirement for several years, he was known to an older generation of local residents through his identification with the restaurant business spanning a third of a century.

Mr. TSATSANIS was active in fraternal and civic affairs, and an enthusiastic worker for the betterment of the community. He gave unstintingly of his time and talents, and no call on him in furtherance of a worthy cause went unanswered.

A genial and sympathetic personality had won Mr. Tsatsanis a host of friends. His passing is deeply mourned by all who knew him.

Foreign Aid Awakening Ahead for Soviet Boss?

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV breezed through Egypt last President Johnson took Atlanta.

According to reports, not since ANTONY barged up the Nile to meet Cleo have the Egyptians given a foreign visitor such an enthusiastic welcome.

Small wonder, since Russian loans to Egypt currently totaling $1.3 billion, are making possible the all-important Aswan High Dam, upon which the economic future of Egypt depends.

Western, particularly U. S., prestige is at low ebb along the Nile. It was not helped any by the vote of a House committee—which we heartily approve—the other day not to give any more money toward rescuing the ancient Abu Simbel temples, which would be submerged by the dam.

It could be argued that the United States is being penny-wise and rube-foolish again, as we were when we fudged out of the Aswan project.

All is not black, however. We have learned through sad experience that money does not buy friends. Some of those we have helped the most seem to resent it the most.

Premier KHRUSHCHEV may someday find that out, if he ever makes the mistake of reminding the Egyptians how much they are in his debt.

Wallace Race Proving Point

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Alabama's segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace has proved his point: There is wide opposition to President Johnson's civil rights bill to give Negroes equal treatment in many spheres of American life.

This is what he said he wanted to prove when he entered the presidential primaries in Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland, where a victory would have let him capture their delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

He lost in all three in running against stand-ins for Johnson: In Wisconsin to Gov. John W. Reynolds; in Indiana to Gov. Matthew E. Welsh; and Tuesday in Maryland to Sen. Daniel R. Brewster.

But—in Wisconsin he got about 34 per cent of the Democratic vote, in Indiana about 30 per cent and in Maryland nearly 45 per cent.

His main appeal was against the civil rights bill—now stuck for 11 weeks in the Senate because of a Southern filibuster against it.

TOO SOON TO SAY

It is too soon to say what effect his showing, particularly in Maryland, will have on the bill. But it will fortify the Southerners who can say now with good evidence that they're not alone in wanting it killed.

If the supporters of civil rights can take solace from the results of Wallace's three campaigns it is this: In all three states the majority of the voters were against him.

Wallace combined his attack on civil rights with an appeal to those who see, or think they see, the encroachment of socialism in American life.

He said at one rally: "This bill would take over every home, farm, business, and labor union in your state. The left-wingers want to drive this country straight to socialism."

CONSERVATIVE RACIST APPEALS

Knowing that liberals, favoring civil rights legislation, were against him, Wallace's appeal was to conservatives and racists. He said he expected to get a vote which would knock the liberals' "eyeteeth" out.

Always he argued the civil rights bill is an invasion of states' rights. Putting equal treatment for Negroes in double harness with states' rights was probably especially helpful to Wallace in Maryland.

That state has been up to its neck in the states' rights issue.

One of the cases in which the Supreme Court ruled out official prayers in public schools came from Baltimore. The Maryland House of Delegates has been reappointed by court order. And a federal court has ordered the state's congressional districts redrawn.

STATE RIGHTS PROVISION

Last March, the Maryland Legislature passed a public accommodations law—the Senate's civil rights bill has a somewhat similar provision—prohibiting racial or racial disturbances on Maryland's eastern shore, especially in Cambridge, where National Guardsmen last week used tear gas to disperse demonstrating Negroes.

It did not apply to bars, taverns or cocktail lounges.

On top of all this, there had been severe racial disturbances on Maryland's eastern shore, especially in Cambridge, where National Guardsmen last week used tear gas to disperse demonstrating Negroes.

All these factors had Maryland steamed up before Wallace ever got there.

Drowning Out A Whole Band

Rights Issue Arouses Discontent

WASHINGTON—Control of the House of Representatives by the Democratic party after the November election has suddenly been placed in doubt as a result of the surprisingly large percentage of the vote obtained by Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in the Maryland presidential primary contest.

Apparently there is a sizable voter discontent on the civil rights issue not only in Maryland but in other states in the North.

This could mean a big "cross-over" vote away from the party in power. Many of the seats in the House of Representatives were won in 1962 with narrow margins by Democrats.

It would take a net shift of not more than 5 per cent of the votes to bring about the defeat of a number of incumbent Democrats who support the civil rights legislation.

NOT ONLY STATE But Maryland is not the only state where the whites apparently have used a primary election contest, such as was held this week, to register their objection to the civil rights legislation.

It now has been disclosed by the Indiana Civil Rights Commission in a formal report that the biggest protest vote on the civil rights issue in the recent state presidential primary balloting came from "white suburbia."

The statistics just made public show that in 25 of Indiana's 92 counties Gov. Wallace got a vote above his average for the state.

In Marion County, where about one-third of Indiana's 3,000,000 Negroes live, the Wallace vote was 30.7 per cent of the Democratic vote.

SURROUNDING COUNTIES But in the surrounding counties in Indiana, Gov. Wallace got from 32 per cent to 45 per cent of the vote.

Actually, the Alabamian got more than 50 per cent of the vote in many counties in Maryland and ran strong in most areas except the city of Baltimore and a Montgomery and Allegany counties.

A protest vote of large proportions, moreover, in particular districts can affect many a congressional contest without reference to how a state's electoral vote may be cast.

The Maryland contest is an eye-opener to Congress. Very few members will say for publication that the results will influence their attitude in the future, but the more they learn about the latest developments in their own constituencies, the more they will discover that a substantial discontent has been aroused which has not been offset by any new political support.

Basically, the problem for many members of Congress has been complicated by the fact that the leaders in both the Republican and the Democratic parties in the North have come out in favor of the civil rights legislation. So there has been no way of offering the voter as yet to express discontent between parties.

What Gov. Wallace has done is to afford an opportunity to the voters inside a party to speak their minds.

It is an indicator of future trends in the final election.

A few months ago hardly anyone would have predicted that the governor of Alabama—whose state is a hotbed of opposition to forced desegregation—would come into the North and poll more than 40 per cent of the vote inside the Democratic party in some counties in such states as Indiana and Wisconsin and more than 50 per cent in 16 out of Maryland's 23 counties.

The current contests in the primaries are initial evidence that the United States will go through a political upheaval in the next several years as a consequence of the civil rights issue.

Far, since it touches the home and family relationships, the neighborhood, the public schools and private business, the problem can produce an impact far more extensive than any single political issue has hitherto furnished for many a decade in American history.

Bob Considine Says:

Catholics Are Responding to Fresh Wind of Change

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . things . . .

The nation's 40-million Roman Catholics are beginning to feel for the first time the fresh winds blowing through the stained-glass windows of John XXIII opened, and Paul VI and a majority of the church's Fathers have kept raised.

At Maryknoll, N. Y., and elsewhere, altars have been redesigned in order to permit the Mass to face the congregation throughout the ritual, instead of keeping his back turned to the flock the great portion of the time.

Next Nov. 29, the first Sunday of Advent, English will replace Latin in much of the Mass.

There will be an increase in the taking of bread and wine at communion in place of the consecrated water. Most of the sacraments will be administered in English.

St. Peter's 2,000 Fathers, meeting in ecumenical assembly with observers from sects separated from the Roman church as many as eight centuries, will be voting into church law many new departures.

Among the "schema" to be acted upon are permission for deacons to marry, new independence for bishops, simplification of the Mass, and study of birth control methods beyond the permissible rhythm system.

If academical Tupolev and fellow Russian aeronautical engineers suddenly unveiled a $50-ton, 2,800-mile-an-hour bomber easily capable of flying nonstop from Moscow to New York and dropping a hydrogen bomb on our city, and we had no such bomber, this nation would be in an all-out tizzy to build one in just a few days.

Tizzy is probably not the word. Panic is more apt.

But our B70, which can achieve all those astonishing feats, had to sneak out of its hangar at North American like a thief in the night.

On orders from Secretary McNamara's office, the Air Force was forced to keep the roll-out as secret as possible.

No Air Force base of any glitter was on hand for the world's first look at a plane that will lead the U. S. plane industry into the realm of supersonic passenger flight.

A sister ship will be completed, and that will be the end of the B70 program, no matter how much the Air Force and Congress gripe.

Wonder what the shade of John Foster Dulles was thinking when it looked down on mobs of Egyptians cheering ecstatically for Nikita Khrushchev as he touched the button that rechanneled the Nile and brought the Soviet-backed Aswan High Dam project closer to completion?

President Johnson would have been the button-toucher, and the cheers would have been for the United States, if Dulles had not pulled the U. S. out of its pledge to build the dam.

He dared Khrushchev to make good on his threat to step in if we stepped out.

Safety Worker Against Drag Strips for Youths

With the tremendous increase in traffic fatalities, it seems inconsistent that groups professing safety are encouraging drag racing as a sport. Safety experts agree that the use of a car as a game without the realization of its serious consequences is a major cause of fatal accidents.

The statement that young people who have a drag strip will not speed on the highway is a myth. Racing is not restricted to a strip or track. Drivers with well-engineered, fast, "hot" cars must show them off, the public roads being the best showplace. Most drag-racing organizations restrict their membership to qualified persons, which is good. But the many youngsters not qualifying for membership have an increased desire to show their racing ability, with our open highways being their track.

I'm sure people who encourage drag racing mean well, but it is necessary that authorities consider the experience and research of experts; and the effect it can have on a worsening condition in our state—traffic fatalities.

A FULL-TIME PROFESSIONAL SAFETY WORKER

Pontiac has a good drag strip. International Raceway Park, located 20 miles northeast of Pontiac, is one of the finest drag strips in the country. It costs money to build a strip like IRP, and I doubt if this group from Pontiac can come up with about $250,000 to build a good one. They should support a "proven" drag strip instead of a far-fetched dream.

DAG RACE FAN
BARRY BURELL
ORCHARD LAKE

"Because we need it badly" is a very poor answer as to why teen-agers need a drag strip. It's a good thing our dear children weren't born in the horse and buggy days—they would have driven the horses to death. I won't accept that jazz either about cars being made to drive fast. Seventy miles per hour is plenty fast. It will get you where you want to go quickly enough, and driving any faster may not get you there at all.

One can hear car motors racing from Waterford to Clarkston. What must it sound like to those residing within a mile of a racing strip? I believe some attitudes would be changed by parents who now favor a strip, if it were to be located in their own area and they and their children were trying to sleep.

I am puzzled as to Elder C. L. Carrier's thoughts on acceptance of a departed Christ and the born again experience.

Fundamental Christians' universal understanding is that a man is born again when in childhood faith he acknowledges his innate sinful nature before a holy God and believes Christ's vicarious sacrifice—not one's own good works—is the efficacious means to eternal life.

Cannot faith be considered "acceptance" of Christ? And though "I . . . gone back to Heaven," does not Jesus abide among us still as the Trinity's Holy Spirit—the comforter, to be "accepted" by those who will? He said, "I will not leave you comfortless; I will come to you."

Answers Editorial About Negro Vote

The Press states: "Negroes should give serious thought to the identity of the state which has buttered their political bread, and vote accordingly." What side, Mr. Editor?

The Republicans controlled the government for seventy-two years after the Civil War, except for sixteen years under Cleveland and Wilson. The Democrats ruled for twenty years until Eisenhower held it for the next eight years. Tell me what progress in civil rights was made in seventy-two years? Twenty years? Eight years?

Voting must be guarded zealously. Negroes are still trying to enjoy the right (since there are many of us who do not enjoy this privilege). History shows it was not Lincoln's idea to free the slaves if the Union could be saved. In 1858 Mr. Lincoln gave his "house divided against itself" speech.

In his inaugural he assured the South that he would respect its rights: "My paramount object in this struggle is to save the Union, it is not either to save or destroy slavery." It was only after all hope was gone that Mr. Lincoln took the steps that led to freeing the slaves.

President Eisenhower had the power to stop the turmoil in Arkansas before it began, but he did not. When the eyes of the world were on us, Mr. Eisenhower sent troops into Arkansas.

The world looks to us for leadership. We have preached equality from all parts of our country. We have preached it, but have we practiced it?

When you can prove that either party has championed the Negroes' cause I will vote accordingly. Voting belongs to all and no man has the right to tell another how.

(Editor's Note: Every citizen has the right to urge others to vote as he would like to have them. The fact still remains that stubborn, blind and unreasoning opposition to Negro rights is led by the Democrats in Congress.)

British Teen-Age Cults Battle in Streets

LONDON (AP) — The Mods and Rockers, Britain's rival teen-age cults, battled in main streets of at least 10 London suburbs Wednesday night. More than 50 youngsters were arrested.

Police used 40 dogs to break up a battle in Peckham.

Fighting between the Mods—short for moderns—and Rockers began during the Easter weekend and erupted in full force at South Coast resorts during last weekend's three-day Whitsun holiday.

The Mods won the battle of the beaches, and the Rockers are looking for revenge.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon's foreign ministry has barred the U.S. research ship Pioneer from Trincomalee Harbor, former headquarters of the British East Indies Fleet.

The ship's chief scientist, Harrison B. Stewart, said "security" was given as the reason for the ban.

Stewart said the Pioneer wanted to enter Trincomalee to study the mouth of an underwater canyon which the ship's scientists had discovered off Ceylon's coast. He said it was the first deep canyon to be found with its mouth close to land.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria's ruling Baath Socialist party Wednesday night proposed the establishment of a Palestinian Arab state with sovereignty over the west bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

The Arab-held old quarter of Jerusalem was proposed as the capital.

The United Arab Republic occupies the Gaza Strip, while the Kingdom of Jordan has held the west bank of the river and the old quarter of Jerusalem since the Palestine War. Israel separates the two territories.

The Syrian party also proposed formation of an independent Palestinian army on a basis of equality with the armies of the Arab nations.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—A group of university students stole U.S. Gen. Hailton H. Howze's cap Wednesday night while he attended a reception with Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake at Wellington University College.

The students tore the crown and braid from the cap, dined the frame, attached an obscene note to it and threw it into the U.S. Embassy grounds.

The Student Association caught the offenders promptly. The culprits paraded sheepishly to the embassy today to apologize.

Howze, commander of U.S. forces in Korea, is representing the United States at the annual commemoration of the Battle of the Coral Sea.

LBJ OKs Study of Supersonic Airliner

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has given the green light for detailed studies of the air frame and engine—and development of some engine parts—for the proposed American supersonic airliner.

His approval yesterday of what he called "a program for action designed to move the supersonic aircraft closer to realization" came 20 days after the original May 1 deadline for deciding the airliner's basic design and selecting a contractor to build it.

The United States entered the supersonic plane race after a British-French combine announced plans for a 1,400-mile-an-hour plane.

The U.S. plane is expected to be in the 1,800-2,000-mile-an-hour class, and its development is considered vital to this nation's global aviation position in the 1970s.

Still undecided is the key question of who will pay for the giant plane.

The government has proposed that it undertake 75 per cent of the estimated initial $1 billion cost, with plane manufacturers shouldering the rest.

But airlines and plane makers want the government to pay the entire cost of development.

The White House announcement gave no estimate of the plane's ultimate cost, and no recommendation as to how the cost might be shared.

The companies that received a go-ahead were:

On the air frame — Boeing Co., Seattle, and Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif.

ENGINE WORK
Engine — General Electric Co., Cincinnati, and Pratt & Whitney Division of United Aircraft Corp., East Hartford, Conn.

Johnson approved the selection of these companies on the basis of preliminary recommendations by the FAA, and a subsequent review by a specially appointed cabinet-level advisory committee headed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The FAA said it was unable to indicate how soon the actual contracts would be let, or the amount of funding that might be required at this time.

However, it was indicated that the new contracts would call for detailed design and evaluation, and that completion of a further selection procedure would precede the decision to go ahead with construction of an actual prototype or test airplane.

UP Legislators Back Gas Pipeline Proposal

LANSING (AP)—Upper Peninsula legislators Wednesday endorsed a proposal by Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, Neb. to construct a pipeline to supply natural gas to 26 communities in the Upper Peninsula.

Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, speaking for the legislators following a meeting with gas company representatives at Lansing, said they fully supported the project.

Sonic Boom Tests Bring Court Protest

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A group of Oklahoma City citizens whose attorney said they were being used as guinea pigs without their consent went into federal district court today in an attempt to halt the nation's supersonic boom program here.

"This is the first time in history that a bureau of the government, with absolute impunity and without the consent of the community, has imposed tests on the people as guinea pigs," said lawyer George Miskovsky prior to the court hearing.

His clients claim personal and property damage.

Dist. Judge Stephen Chandler was to hear arguments on a dismissal action he took against a state court-issued restraining order which halted for one day the Air Force jets that create the eight-day booms.

The tests, conducted by the Federal Aviation Agency as part of the nation's supersonic transport aircraft development program, are to learn the effects of the shock waves on people and property.

B. Andrew Potter, U.S. attorney, had the case transferred from state to federal court.

OBJECTIVE LOOK

FAA administrator Najeeb Halaby said yesterday in Washington the National Academy of Sciences, through its research council, will make an objective review of the experimental boom program here.

He also said he had refused to cancel the testing.

"What Mr. Halaby is fostering," said Miskovsky outside of court, "is constitutionally illegal."

"He is, of course, like others of the federal bureaucracy, willing to sacrifice the individual welfare and property rights for the thing that he has in mind."

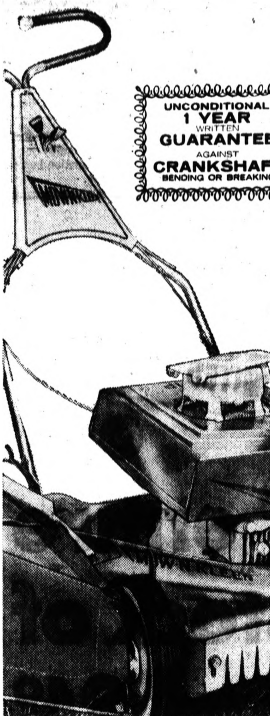

"The supersonic testing program is important but the personal rights of the people are paramount to the property rights of the FAA."

Freight Train Derailment Kills Crewman, Injures 4

LANDOVER, Md. (AP)—At least one crewman was killed and four others were injured early today when 17 cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train carrying inflammable liquid nitrogen derailed near this Washington suburb and caught fire.

Although a tank car carrying the liquid nitrogen ruptured, a team of 75 to 100 men from 15 fire companies brought the fire under control some two hours after it started.

Traffic on nearby highways, halted at the time the fire broke out, resumed as soon as the danger of the nitrogen catching fire had passed.

A spokesman for the Prince Georges County Police Department said one crewman was dead and that four had been injured, but that only one of the injured was hospitalized.

IDENTIFIED

The Pennsylvania Railroad's office in Philadelphia identified the dead man as H. W. Edwards.

Prince Georges General Hospital in nearby Cheverly had no immediate word on the condition of those injured.

Cause of the crash, which police said occurred about 3:50 a.m. was not immediately known.

Army chemical experts at Andrews Air Force Base, to the south of the derailment, were consulted about the nitrogen but advised that there was no danger, a spokesman for the Prince Georges County Fire Department said.

Police said they had been advised the liquid nitrogen was combustible only when subjected to extremely heavy pressure.

Landover is located about one mile from the northeast boundary of the District of Columbia and about five miles south of the University of Maryland campus at College Park.

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller accused the Democratic administration today of "bankruptcy" in its policies in Southeast Asia.

Such bankruptcy, he contended, may be blamed for recent Communist successes in jungle warfare.

Rockefeller accused the Democrats of "temporizing, neutralizing, tranquilizing and rationalizing" in the face of the crisis marked by the Communist push in the strategic Plain des Jarres in Laos.

The New York governor, in a statement in the midst of a campaign tour for support in California's fast-approaching primary, warned that if Laos falls, Thailand will be next and it may shake Malaysia's ties with the West.

Rockefeller urged these steps:
1. That the United States insist the neutrality it negotiated for Laos be respected by all signatories, and that it should no longer tolerate the use of that country as a sanctuary for guerrilla action in South Viet Nam.

THAILAND INTEGRITY

2. That the administration should make it clear it will support the territorial integrity of Thailand and should be prepared, if necessary, to offer U.S. military aid.

3. That if the Communist advance continues, the U.S. should move to secure the Mekong River Valley, the border between Laos and Thailand.

4. The U.S. should give "all practical support" to end the use of Laos as a sanctuary for the war in South Viet Nam.

Rockefeller said these actions might include immediate warnings that South Vietnamese planes would bomb Viet Cong supply lines in Laos unless that country quits allowing guerrillas to operate from there.

HIGH TIME

"It is high time," Rockefeller said, "the Democratic administration in Washington learns that the aggressor will never choose a point of attack where it is most convenient for us to respond."

It is time, too, he said, to "close the leadership gap in Washington and to end the retreat of freedom in the world."

Rockefeller, commenting that you fight a little harder when you're behind, continued his charging drive today to pull off another Oregon victory in California.

Rockefeller himself shied away from outright predictions. All he said is that he has faith the voters will choose his self-styled brand of political moderation in his June 2 presidential primary showdown with Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

MOOD BRIGHTENS

But it's evident the entire mood of his campaign has brightened since the New York governor won in Oregon balloting last week. Rockefeller managers are openly optimistic for the first time over his chances here.

They were particularly elated by the turnout for a reception Wednesday night in Anaheim, in conservative Orange County, widely considered a Goldwater stronghold.

Rockefeller, using smiles and small talk, stood for three and a half hours to shake hands with a crowd estimated as upwards of 5,000. Goldwater supporters distributed an anti-Rockefeller booklet called "Choice, Not An Echo" but there were no incidents.

The reception capped a day in which Rockefeller delivered three speeches in Riverside and San Bernardino, appeared on a half dozen radio and television programs, submitted to questions from several audiences and pumped hundreds of hands in an unscheduled visit to Disneyland.

LOT OF VOTERS

"There are a lot of voters down there," he remarked to newsmen as he rode in Disneyland's monorail.

Many of the people he greeted were out-of-staters, but this same personal campaigning is credited with helping Rockefeller beat both Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Goldwater in Oregon.

Answering questions at San Bernardino Valley College, he was asked what happened in Oregon after political experts and pollsters gave him up weeks before the election.

"You don't pull out," he said, "you just fight a little harder."

SIPHON OFF WATER

In San Bernardino, where water is a precious commodity, the campaigning governor accused Goldwater of trying to siphon off water from Southern California's main supply for Arizona.

He called attention to the Goldwater-Hayden bill, which would divert 1.2 million acre-feet of water out of the Colorado River annually for the central Arizona project, and said Goldwater used it as "a narrow, self-interest, one-state approach to a major regional problem."

Rockefeller said the central Arizona project would require a billion-dollar federal outlay. In contrast, he said Goldwater has proposed that the Tennessee Valley Authority be sold by the federal government for $1.

Exam Waived in Death Case

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two Grand Rapids men, charged with murdering a 15-year-old boy, waived examination Wednesday and were held for arraignment in Superior Court. Bernard Lightfoot and Eugene Johnson, both 24, are held without bond in the drowning of Willie Kilgore. Arraignment date was not set.

The men, arrested Tuesday in Indiana, were returned here Wednesday. Officers said the boy may have been pushed off a railroad trestle from which he had been fishing in the Grand River. A witness, police said, told of seeing two men run from the bridge after the boy's fall.

Western Embargo Holds Firm, but Trade With Reds Rises

An AP Special Report
By HARVEY HUDSON
PARIS (AP)—Western trade with Communist nations is slowly and steadily rising, but the Western embargo on exports of strategic items is holding firm, according to the international watchdog group which keeps a close eye on the exchanges.

Exports to the Soviet bloc and China made up 4.2 per cent of the West's total exports in 1961, the last full year for which figures are available.

Imports from the Soviet bloc and China made up 3.9 per cent of the Western world's total in 1961. Both these figures are almost double the comparative 1952 figure.

Sources close to the 15-nation Coordinating Committee for East-West trade — COCOM — say that the controls over exports to the Communist nations are not intended to dampen international commerce.

NO ECONOMIC WAR

"We are not waging economic warfare. The principal objective is to prevent the flow of strategic materials which could add to the ability of the Communist powers to wage war," one informant said.

The hitch comes in the definition of strategic materials. For some items there is immediate unanimous agreement. For others, long and heated technical arguments consume days every year before a compromise is reached.

"If you wanted to carry it to the extreme, you could say that buttons are a strategic item," explained one man who follows the work of the yearly review of the embargo lists.

"If the Russians didn't have any buttons, the soldiers might not be able to keep their pants up. But we aren't trying to prevent the export of buttons. We're aiming principally at slowing down the development of industries with a war potential."

SALE TO CUBA

The United States has been rankled by the sale of British buses and French locomotives to Cuba.

But Cuba is not on the list of Communist nations — Russia, China and the Eastern European satellites — covered by the COCOM export lists.

Nevertheless, the COCOM nations—all the North Atlantic Treaty Organization members except Iceland but plus Japan—have agreed not to ship arms or implements of war to Cuba.

Most of them have also taken measures to prevent transshipment of American goods to Cuba. But there has been little inclination to go any further in clamping down on Cuba trade.

The COCOM controls are in four categories:

1. Items of a military nature and atomic energy materials—totally banned:

2. Specified forms of many industrial items, banned except for agreed dispensations:

3. Items on which quantitative controls are imposed to prevent any expansion of export trends:

4. The "watch list" where checks are made to detect any sharp changes in existing export trends.

When COCOM was organized in 1960, there were about 200 items on the embargo list.

To meet changed conditions, this was reduced to about 170 in 1964 as part of a wide review of the lists. At the same time, the number of items on the quantitative control list was reduced from about 90 to about 20, and the types of goods on the "watch list" went down from about 100 to about 60.

These figures have remained approximately the same, although the annual reviews make deletions, additions and changes within categories.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —Southern Baptists were set to vote for a second round of debate over closer ties with other Baptist groups and over the explosive racial issue.

Heated argument erupted Wednesday before messengers—delegates—to the Southern Baptist Convention, largest of the seven Baptist groups, voted narrowly against joining a proposed committee on North American fellowship.

Backers of the proposal did get a motion before the convention to authorize a temporary committee to explore the proposal, but consideration was delayed until today.

Close behind this on today's program was a report of the Christian Life Commission, which recommended the convention approve an open-door racial policy adopted by "hundreds of Southern Baptist churches" and pledge support of laws "designed to guarantee the legal rights of Negroes."

It called for Southern Baptists to "give themselves to the decisive defeat of racism." It also urged opposition to capital punishment.

A resolution from the floor urged the convention to oppose forced integration of public schools, but this might not be voted on until Friday.

Actions of the convention are not binding on member churches, whose 10 million members make up the largest Protestant denomination in the United States.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

Dr. W. Wayne Dehoney, 45, of Jackson, Tenn., was elected president of the Southern Baptists. Dehoney, considered to be a theological moderate, defeated a more liberal theologian, Dr. Theodore F. Adams of Richmond, Va., in a runoff election after 11 nominees were eliminated in the first ballot. The vote was 4,024 to 3,223.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., told the Northern group church leaders should move to expand "the frontiers of opportunity for all Americans."

He urged the Baptists to do all they could toward bringing the civil rights bill to a vote in the Senate, predicting it would pass.

The American Baptists approved without debate the fellowship committee proposal, a move toward closer cooperation of all Baptist groups.

But in the Southern Baptist session, some opponents assailed the plan as a move toward merger of Baptist conventions.

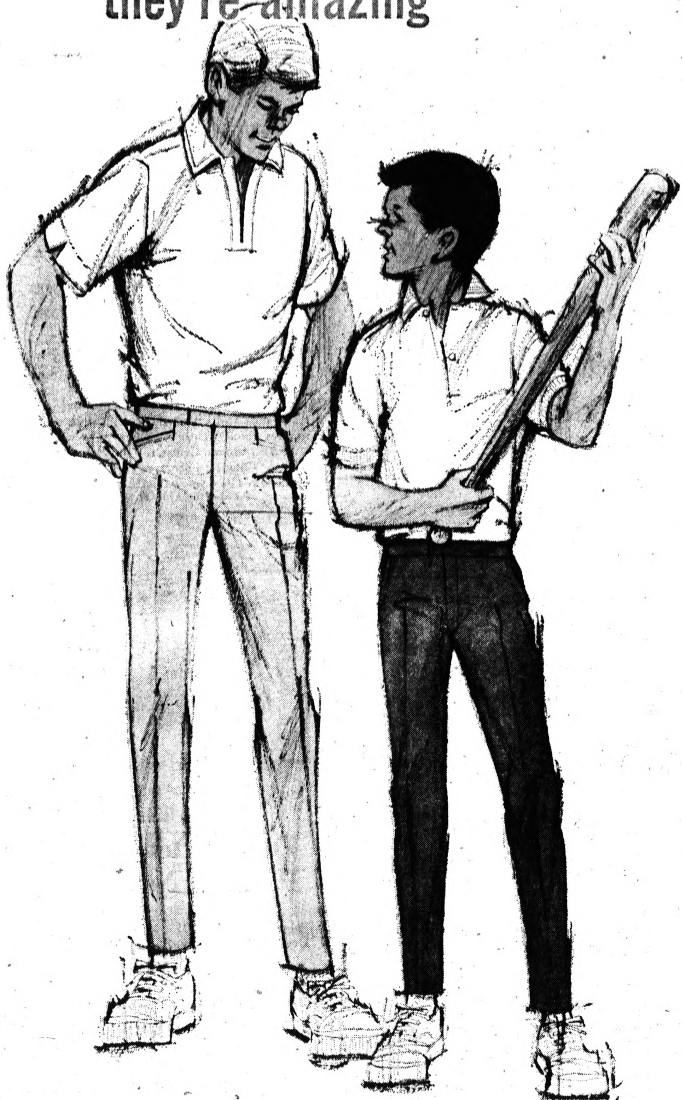

"Everyone says that there's no unity of Baptist groups involved, but in effect that's what is being proposed," said the Rev. James O. Mathenia of Joliet, Ill. He was among those opposing the move because of doctrinal differences between Northern and Southern Baptists.

Dr. C. C. Warren of Charlotte, N.C., leader in the Baptist jubilee advance program, pleaded to the messengers not to "throw Southern Baptists into isolation."

CLOSE VOTE

Needing a two-thirds majority, the proposal failed 2,771-2,738 on a written ballot after a close vote on a show of hands.

Washington Township's Famed Farmhouse

WSU Sells Area Landmark to Warren Investment Firm

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP—The unique eight-sided farmhouse on Van Dyke has changed hands again, possibly for the last time.

Wayne State University, 19-year landlord of the eye-catcher, has sold it for a reported $165, 000 to a Warren investment firm, the Syracuse Co.

Two years ago university officials agreed maintaining the structure in its near-perfect condition was too costly. So they decided to sell it and the 322 acres of land surrounding it.

In August 1963, 46 acres of the parcel was chopped off by the State Highway Department for use in the relocation of M-53.

When the house was first put on the market, the Romeo Historical Society made a futile bid to have Macomb County preserve the property as a permanent tourist attraction.

PLANS FOR FARM

The purchasing firm is a partnership headed by Stanley Kaczmarek of Warren.

Wayne officials said the owners will either subdivide the property or reactivate the dairy operations.

History of the octagonal house dates back to 1866, when Loren Andrus, the original owner, almost went bankrupt trying to outdo three other township residents building unique homes.

Andrus made the bricks of the house with clay taken from the property.

FOLLOWING YEAR

More than $83,000 was pledged. With Robert Brower as building chairman, construction was begun the following year.

The consecration was held in December 1961 by Bishop Marshall Reed, but the dedication could not be held until the building was completely free of debt.

Serving on the original committee, in addition to Marshall and Brower, were Mrs. L. J. Kamm, cochairman, the late George Wood and Mrs. Wood, Harry Hall, Gordon Mathie, Kenneth Acheson, Mrs. Vennice Rossman and Mrs. Bill Conner.

With the completion of this project, future steps in the master plan are being studied by a committee headed by Earl Irwin.

SHORT RITUAL

Following the worship service in the sanctuary and procession to the educational building, a short ritual is planned. Next on the agenda will be a cooperative dinner to be served in the Fellowship Hall.

Former ministers of the local church, Rev. Hadley Bennett, Rev. George Woomer, Rev. Karl Patow, Rev. Ellis Hart and Rev. Alfred Eddy, have been invited as honor guests.

Eick-Mann Rites

Pair Wed in Oxford

OXFORD TOWNSHIP—The Oxford Methodist Church was the setting for the recent marriage of Phyllis Marie Mann to Charles Leonard Eick.

Daughter of the Kenneth Manns of 2278 Baldwin, the bride chose an Empire gown of silk organza over taffeta. Lace medallion appliques accented the bodice and chapel train.

She wore a crown of pearls and crystals and a veil of silk illusion. White roses and Stephanotis topped her mother's white prayer book to complete her outfit.

Sharon Mann was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Diane Wilkey and Cynthia Holtz.

Joy Skinner and Brian Schallau were the flower girl and ring-bearer at the evening ceremony performed by Rev. Fred Clark.

Edward Eick assisted his brother as best man. They are the sons of the Gerald Eicks of Metamora Township.

Groomsmen were David Strong and Donald Kerns with the guests being seated by Gary Mann, brother of the bride, and Dallas Smith.

A reception followed in the educational building of the church.

After a honeymoon through the Southern and Eastern states, the couple will live in Lake Orion.

Target Date for Charter July 1

ORCHARD LAKE—The City Charter Commission has set July 1 as the target date for completion of the document's first draft.

In a letter sent to residents today, commission members noted they "are pleased with the progress that has been made and hope to complete the task in the not-too-distant future."

The nine commissioners were elected March 3 when voters decided by a 204-124 margin that they wanted their village to be a city.

The commission was charged with drafting a charter for the residential community which has a population of about 1,200.

It was given a 90-day deadline.

"We were told that was a rough guide, and now that we've gotten into it we can see why," Chairman S. P. Leahy said today.

AMPLIFY PROVIDE

Objective of the group is to rewrite a charter that will "amplify provide for the needs of our community in the same informal manner that has characterized Orchard Lake as a delightful place in which to live."

However, commissioners are using the present document as a guide and found it to be "bulky and in many instances, outdated."

Work on simplifying and revising the language has been time-consuming.

Tentative plans call for a public review of the first draft of the charter. Final draft will be submitted to voters at a special election.

Meanwhile, the charter writers will step up their meeting rate. With 11 sessions behind them, they will convene every week during June.

They are urging residents to make suggestions regarding desired changes or items to be kept in the charter.

A form for submitting recommendations was sent with the letters to citizens today. They can be mailed to the Village Hall or taken to a Charter Commission meeting.

The next session is scheduled for 8 p.m. June 1.

The City of Orchard Lake will grow within present village boundaries. Its area is bordered on three sides by Cass Lake, Orchard Lake Road and the railroad tracks south of Pontiac Trail.

Keego Harbor Itches to Dig Some Ditches

KEEGO HARBOR—They're going to do some ditch-digging in Keego Harbor.

Ditching along city roads is "badly-needed," according to City Manager Gordon B. Hunter. He said work on them will begin June 1.

"We'll get as many as we can this construction year," he said.

Purchase of a tractor to handle the project has been authorized by the City Council.

To cost $6,300, the tractor is equipped with a front-end loader, a back hole digger and side arm for mowing weeds. The city will buy the vehicle from Pontiac Tractor and Equipment Co. of Pontiac, lowest of three bidders.

Lake Orion 'Looking Back'

Drive On to Convert Site Into Village Park

LAKE ORION—The village may be on the brink of gaining the simple pleasures of times gone by—in a village park, just like the ones in the "Old Days."

Larry Giddings, 460 Hauxwell, is spearheading a drive to convert the village property on South Broadway into a leisure time haven for young and old alike.

Now he and his handful of helpers are looking for community backing.

They've already overcome the biggest obstacle, obtaining a site.

"There's a lot of room on that piece across from the post office," Giddings said. He and Lake Orion Methodist Church's Rev. Robert J. Hudgins, visualize a band shell, checker boards on picnic tables, a shuffleboard court and other recreational facilities.

VILLAGE HALL

In order to see how village residents feel about the project, they have set up a public meeting in the village hall at 7:30 p.m. today.

Interested individuals, as well as representatives of local organizations, have been urged to attend.

Over 46 per cent of the nation's milk supply is used as fluid milk and cream.

Beauty Tips to Be Offered at Meeting

ROCHESTER—Representatives of two firms offering aids to beauty will put on demonstrations at tonight's meeting of the Newcomers Club at Avon Township Hall.

Using models from the club, Mrs. C. Allen Bartlebaugh of Fashion Two Twenty Studio will show how to achieve the "natural" look with makeup.

The latest fashions in wigs and how to use them effectively will be the subject of an illustrated talk by a representative from Geon's, new local beauty salon.

Also at the 8 p.m. session, Mrs. Robert Scolaro will announce final plans for the Newcomers dance set for May 30 at the Rochester Golf and Country Club.

Traffic Toll Hits 720

EAST LANSING—Traffic accidents have killed 720 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 570.

Oxford Church to Dedicate Its Educational Building

OXFORD—The Oxford Methodist Church will celebrate the dedication of its educational building Sunday when Rev. Merton Stevens, superintendent of the Port Huron district, will conduct the regular 11 a.m. worship service and ritual.

The church will also commemorate the 95th anniversary of the original dedication of its sanctuary, although the present building had to be remodeled extensively following the 1934 cyclone.

Before the present sanctuary was built in 1869, the Methodists had first organized in Oxford in 1837 and worshipped in two other buildings.

With the recent growth of the church school membership and other fellowship activities of an enlarged congregation, additional facilities were needed, and a master plan for future

Exam Slated in Car Death on Troy Road

TROY—A June 8 examination date was set yesterday for the Forensic man charged with negligent homicide in the traffic death of Mrs. Charles Aldrich of Avon Township.

Arraigned before Municipal Justice Charles Losey, Arthur H. Smith, 47, stood mute. He was released on $500 bond.

Mrs. Aldrich, 49, of 919 Teiken died shortly after 7 a.m. yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Pontiac.

Less than an hour earlier her car collided with Smith's on Rochester Road at Lovell.

Troy police said Smith's north-bound car was across the center line at Lovell. They said he was preparing to turn left and pulled in front of Mrs. Aldrich's car. Smith claimed he did not intend to turn. He was not injured.

Orchard Lake Talk by Author of Book

ORCHARD LAKE—The author of a novel on the transition of Polish immigrants into American citizens will discuss her work tonight at St. Mary's Preparatory.

The informal talk by Mrs. Ruth Tabrah is sponsored by the Preplaker, official school publication, as its contribution to the Polish Millennium celebration.

Mrs. Tabrah will speak on "The Genesis and Production of Pulaski Place" at 7:30 p.m. in the campus auditorium.

School to Light Up at Lady Bird's Touch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson throws a switch today to bring electric light for the first time to a one-room schoolhouse in eastern Kentucky.

The Little Lick Branch School, with 25 students in grades 1 through 8, has been operating with no lights at all.

On cloudy days, the pupils usually are sent home because they cannot see to do their lessons.

Today, though, it will be different, and the First Lady will celebrate the occasion with the youngsters in the mountain area of Breathitt County, Ky., where she is making a one-day tour to look over government-local projects aimed at overcoming unemployment and improving education.

ACCELERATED PLANS

Mrs. Johnson's visit accelerated plans for electrifying the schoolhouse, her press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, explained.

The project had been under way as a community contribution from the Sylvania Electric Co., a small private power company of Winchester, Ky., she said. The timetable was moved up so Mrs. Johnson could throw the switch during her visit.

The First Lady planned to sit down to the 10-cent hot lunch provided for the youngsters with the aid of Agriculture Department surplus products.

Mrs. Johnson and an official party are following the route covered 26 years ago by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt where she visited poor areas of Kentucky. Mrs. Johnson will dedicate a new gymnasium at Breathitt High School in Jackson, where Mrs. Roosevelt took part in dedication of the high school on her 1938 visit.

Asks Study of Lotteries

LANSING (AP) — Rep. E.A. FitzPatrick, D-Detroit, long an advocate of legal lotteries for Michigan, introduced a resolution Wednesday asking for a committee to study procedures for setting up lotteries, sweepstakes and off-track betting.

Aid to Management

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Hospital Association has announced plans for a program to bring the benefit of the most modern management engineering techniques to Michigan hospitals. The management engineering firm of George Kaufman and Associates of New York City has been retained to assist the state's hospitals.

Africans Have a Word for It

Timely Tips for Father of the Bride

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just in time for the June wedding season comes this tip for the financially harassed father of the bride: Be like the African tribesman, dada, and make the bridegroom help finance the wedding.

The word comes from the National Geographic Society, faithful recorder of odd and not-so-odd customs the world over.

Telling of the African tribal custom of "Lobola"—or bride payment—the society says in a news release inspired by the imminence of the June wedding season: "Before consenting to the engagement, the father of the prospective bride squeezes every possible cent out of the would-be bridegroom and uses part of the booty to help meet expenses."

But apparently some of the prospective bridegrooms are too shiftily for their future fathers-in-law because the society also says: "Even in primitive societies of Africa and Asia, the father of the bride often runs himself into near-bankruptcy to pay for a lavish wedding and feast."

WEDDING DATA

Here's some more wedding data to pass on as you wait your turn in the reception line: The term bridegroom comes from Anglo-Saxon. It was the custom for the husband to wait on the bride at the wedding feast, and so he was called the "groom" or "servitor."

The still-popular custom of tying old shoes to the honeymoon car is a carry-over from ancient Egypt where the father, in giving away the bride, would hand the bridegroom one of his daughter's sandals, signifying that from this day forward she was in the young man's care.

GOOD LUCK DRINK

The term honeymoon derives from a custom of the Norsemen. Each day for a month after the wedding the newlyweds took a sip of mead, a fermented drink made of honey, to bring them good luck and health.

Rice throwing is a legacy of the custom of the ancient pagans, who brought grain to the wedding ceremony to invoke fertility.

Negro May Be Elected to Head Presbyterians

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—The 17th general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. opens today with the possibility the first Negro ever to head the national body will be elected moderator.

He is the Rev. Elder G. Hawk, pastor of St. Augustine Presbyterian church in the Bronx, New York City.

In 1960 he failed to win election to that position by only two votes.

The other candidate endorsed for the position is the Rev. Alva Ray Cartledge, pastor of the Church of The Covenant, Erie, Pa.

IN AFTERNOON

Election will be at the afternoon session at about 4:30 p.m. The man elected then will preside over the week-long meeting and represent the assembly throughout the next year.

Controversial problems as well as routine matters are to come before the assembly.

One deals with racial discrimination, another with church-state relationship and a third with the nature of the ministry in the light of contemporary society.

CHURCH STRUGGLE

The retiring moderator, the Rev. Silas G. Kessler, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hastings, Neb., said in a sermon prepared for the opening morning session: "Our church is struggling today as our nation is struggling with the sin of omission in terms of our relations with the Negro. During the century since his emancipation we have not loved our neighbor as ourselves. Here it is imperative that we should bring forth fruits meet (proper) for repentance."

Church union also will be considered, particularly with the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. This really is reunion for the two branches split because of the Civil War a century ago.

London Skeletons Plague Victims?

LONDON (UPI)—Partial skeletons of what were believed to be victims of the great plague of 1666 were found buried under a London street yesterday.

A police spokesman said an inquest probably would be held. He said it was difficult to determine how many bodies were found since no whole skeletons were unearthed.

The skeletons were dug up by workers excavating a shaft.

"There used to be a plague pit underneath Finsbury Circus (intersection) and they are probably victims of the plague of 1666," the police spokesman said.

Mustang leads the stampede the big Ford started. This has been the hottest sales year in Ford Division history. We have a winner in the Super Torque Ford, a car so well built, so predictably tough, that competition-modified Fords took eleven of the last twelve NASCAR 500-mile races. Ford sales are up 17% this year. We have a luxury car that's taken off like a skyrocket: Thunderbird, with sales up 68%. Falcon is selling almost as many cars as Valiant and Chevy II combined. Fairlane continues to be a favorite in its own field. Now comes Mustang... turning the trend to Ford into a downright stampede. Mustang, by any measure of sales or excitement, is the most successful new car ever introduced in America—ever. When you see a stampede, it makes sense to find out what started it. Irish Earl Faces Demonstration at Music Festival

CORK, Ireland (AP) — The Earl of Rosse, stepfather of Princess Margaret's husband, arrived at Cork's city hall to open a musical festival and found himself the object of a hostile demonstration.

University students, chanting "Go home, Rosse!" carried banners saying "We are sick and tired of aristocracy."

The Earl lives in a mansion near Cork, where Margaret's husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, spent his boyhood.

The Earl got an ovation from the audience inside city hall. He told them the demonstrators apparently were inspired by his supposed British ancestry, and added:

"My family came here first about 20 years before the Mayflower went to America and if I am not Irish there is no American who is not a red Indian."

Rightists Face Arms Charge

CLINTON, Ill. (AP) — Two members of an anti-Communist organization were trying to raise bail funds today after their arrest in connection with the government's seizure of a cache of weapons.

Richard Lauchli, 37, Collinsville, Ill., former Illinois leader of "The Minutemen," and Donald Sturgis, 36, Fairmont City, Ill., were seized Tuesday by Treasury agents who posed as middlemen for an unnamed foreign power and allegedly paid the two men $17,000 for the weapons.

Lauchli and Sturgis were charged with possession of unregistered automatic weapons and bond was set at $20,000 each.

FOUND IN BARN

The arms, found in an abandoned barn near Clinton, included at least 100 submachine guns, five 50-caliber machine guns, several mortars, automatic pistols and aerial bombs, plus a flame-thrower, agents said.

Agents said Lauchli led detachments of "The Minutemen" through guerrilla warfare maneuvers three years ago and has been convicted once for illegal possession of automatic weapons.

French Guiana, known for its Devil's Island prison, been held 1820 had a longer reign than any other English king.

So That's Why He's the 'Good Humor Man'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The friendly ice cream man—dubbed by police as the "ding-a-ling bootlegger"—has been arrested for dispensing too much cheer.

Police said the vendor, Andrew W. Townsley, 22, sold not only frozen goodies but also alcoholic beverages.

Authorities in nearby District Heights, Md., said they had been hearing about Townsley's dual merchandising role for two weeks.

They said a 16-year-old youth, who admitted he previously had purchased liquor from the ice cream man, was given marked money and told to make another "buy."

Last night as two police officers watched from a parked car, the youth purchased a half-pint of bourbon from the vendor.

MAN ARRESTED

Townsley was arrested and charged with selling alcoholic beverages to a minor and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was held in jail in lieu of $1,000 bond on both charges.

Policeman Charles R. Gray, one of the arresting officers, was moved to make this comment: "Pints and pop-sicles don't mix."

White House Gets 1st Spring Salmon

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Atlantic salmon, the first taken by tackle in Maine waters this spring, was offered today for the White House table.

The 14-pound, 2-ounce silver-sides, 35½ inches long, was caught by Harry C. Davis of Cherryfield, Maine, at stillwater pool on the Narragansett River in Washington County.

The presentation revived a custom started about 60 years ago and carried on until 1955.

Rep. Clifford G. McIntire, R-Maine, was selected to make the presentation on behalf of the state's congressional delegation, with John J. McNally Jr., presidential aide, receiving the fish for the White House.

The shortest reign of an English king was that of Edward V who ruled from Apr. 9, 1483 to June 26, 1483.

Invade Home of Korea Judge

Soldiers Ask Arrest of Protest Leaders

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Armed paratroopers invaded the home of a Seoul judge at dawn and tried to persuade him to sign warrants for the arrest of leaders of antigovernment demonstrations yesterday.

Opponents of President Chung Hee Park charged he was attempting to return military rule to South Korea. Premier Chung Il-kwon held an emergency cabinet meeting and ordered an investigation.

The paratroopers stayed at the home of Judge Yang Han for more than an hour, protesting the judge's refusal to issue warrants requested by the national police against 11 of 14 students suspected of leading the rioting.

Yang said he asked the soldiers, "Would you listen to me if I gave you commands for a military operation?"

A government spokesman said the paratroopers were angry over the death of a soldier during the rioting.

NONSTUDENTS

He said 182 persons were arrested. Of these, about 100 were nonstudent youths and adults.

Twenty-one policemen were reported seriously injured while another 258 suffered light injuries. Nine trucks, two buses and 11 police jeeps were damaged in the clash between police and rock-throwing demonstrators.

The demonstrators protested talks aimed at restoring normal relations with Japan. Korea's longtime overlord. They also accused Park's regime of being corrupt and incompetent.

The minority Democratic party called the invasion of the judge's home "an unprecedented blot in the history of our judiciary." The Civil Rule party, another opposition group, said the incident indicated Park wanted to resume his strongman role.

Park came to power in a military coup in May, 1961, but was elected president last December.

Park's Democratic Republican party called the soldiers' action regrettable.

Students to Visit Cuba, Defying Ban by U. S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Student Committee for Travel to Cuba says more than 100 persons will defy a State Department ban and visit Cuba one to two months this summer as guests of the Communist government.

The committee said Wednesday it wants to "reestablish a basic civil liberty" to travel without penalty. About 60 students who made the trip last year face permanent loss of

18th Bomb Rocks Madrid

MADRID, Spain (AP)—A small bomb exploded in a rubbish bin in front of the Justice Ministry today. It caused no damage or casualties.

It was the 18th bomb to explode in Madrid in two weeks. Two persons have received minor injuries, and damage has been slight.

No arrests have been reported. The bombings reportedly are the work of groups trying to keep tourists away from Spain.

The last three days of the week account for about 73 per cent of all food store sales, a survey has disclosed.

County Board of Health OKs Food-Handling Code

Regulations to govern the handling of food for public consumption were adopted yesterday by the Oakland County Board of Health.
The regulations establish a uniform sanitation code and a $10 permit fee for all food establishments in the county.
The fee is intended to cover the cost of hiring more public health inspectors to enforce the regulations.
Until now, inspection has been limited to several municipalities in the county where local sanitation ordinances are in effect.
The board of health's action is subject to approval by the County Board of Supervisors.
Acting as the supervisors' health committee, the board of health has recommended approval when the board of supervisors next meets June 22.
Food sanitation is required by state law, but the law does not specify what comprises safe conditions.
The board of health regulations define these conditions and assure regular inspection of all food-handling establishments.
Defined in the regulations are such things as disease control, adulterated food, personal cleanliness, safe temperatures to prevent spoilage, and proper cleaning of utensils.
The regulations require medical examinations of all food handlers, clean rest rooms, a safe water supply, and proper ventilation, food protection and waste disposal.
All food establishments are to be inspected at least once a year. Permits will be good for one year or less from the time of issue.

Lovellorn Nassau Contractor

Man Runs Amok, Kills 6, Wounds 6

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI)—A Lovellorn building contractor ran amok with a shotgun here last night, killing six persons and wounding six others before he finally turned the gun on himself.

Reuben Rolle's slaughter also claimed a 14th victim—a man who collapsed and died, apparently of a heart attack, after seeing Rolle shoot a 2-year-old girl.

The police riot squad turned out with firearms and tear-gas bombs to hunt down the killer, but he was dead before they located him.

The emergency staff at a hospital here worked all night tending Rolle's injured victims.

"It looks like a battlefield," a hospital spokesman said.

Rolle had been brooding since his wife left him a week ago. Last night, he told friends he would kill his wife "and a lot more" unless she returned to him.

FIRST VICTIMS

His first victims were the five members of the Sweeting family, against whom Rolle had an unexplained grudge. When they laughed at his threats, he started shooting.

He killed 14-year-old Carlton Sweeting and wounded the other four members of the family, including Carlton's 2-year-old sister Betty.

Then Rolle climbed into his car and went to call on his wife, Eloise, who was living with her sister, Winifred Ferguson. He killed his wife, wounded her sister, and tried to shoot another couple who escaped when the gun misfired.

From the Ferguson home, Rolle ran down the street, shooting at random. He killed a passing ice cream man and three men in a bar, and wounded a man who was getting out of a car.

FLED IN CAR

He fled from the scene in the car, but soon abandoned it and continued his flight on foot. Police eventually located him in his home. He was dead, his chest riddled by a blast from the gun which lay at his side.

Final Burial Held in Dixie Section of U.S. Cemetery

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—The Confederate section of the National Cemetery in Springfield will be closed permanently Friday following the burial of Martha Ann Hadden.

She was the last person eligible for burial in the Confederate section.

Mrs. Hadden, 92, will be buried beside her husband, Thomas Henry Hadden, a Texas cavalryman who died in 1939.

The cemetery was started during the Civil War. Of the 501 persons originally buried there, 238 were killed in the Battle of Wilson's Creek Aug. 10, 1861, and 263 others died of wounds or illness.

It was designated as a national cemetery about 1911.

Cash Registers Jingling

Survey Shows New Car Dealers Doing Well

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer
DETROIT — Cash registers jingled a happy, profitable tune in the vast majority of the nation's 22,000 new car dealers in the first three months of 1964. That was shown today by a business management survey which the National Automobile Dealers Association conducted among its members to find out how they were faring in this year of booming auto production and sales.

Ninety-two per cent of the dealers reported they made money in the first quarter of this year. The eight per cent who reported a loss compared with 8.4 per cent in the first quarter last year and 12 per cent in the first three months of 1962.

NADA said the first quarter profit averaged $108 per new car for all its members, or was about 2.2 per cent pretax profit. The comparable 1963 first quarter figures were $111 and 2.3 per cent.

SLIGHT INCREASE

The NADA breakdown showed that dealers who averaged less than 400 new car sales a month showed a slight increase in their first quarter profits this year due to careful expense-control programs.

Dealers who averaged over 400 cars a month settled for a slightly smaller profit margin this year as their first quarter expenses went up.

For the industry as a whole, dealer expenses averaged $12.76 for each $100 taken in by dealers in the first quarter of 1964. A year earlier, the figure was $13.12.

Dealer expenses included such items as preparation and delivery of new cars, warranty and policy, employee bonuses, tools and supplies, rent and expenses in lieu of rent, local advertising, insurance and employee salaries.

FIRST QUARTER

NADA members sold 1,801,000 domestic and foreign cars in the first three months of this year, a healthy jump over the 1,672,000 sold in the similar period of 1963.

The strength of the used car market continued to be one of the bright spots of the industry as the average sale price of used cars climbed to a three-year high of $866. This compared with $832 in the first quarter of 1963 and $807 in the comparable period of 1962.

Dealers sold 1.39 used units for each new car sold in the first quarter, a tiny drop from the 1.40 mark set in the first quarter of last year. Dealers across the country reported used cars were moving well and prospects for booming second-quarter sales of the used vehicles appeared bright.

NADA, summing up the market outlook, said:

A FAIR START

"For the third straight year, the dealers are off to a fair start. Too many factors are involved to permit more than a guess as to how it will finish.

"If, at year-end, dealers expect to look back at a reasonably successful 1964, this is the time to start watching expenses. It's a big order, but those who keep their expenses controlled and flexible will profit most and will be in position to adjust to any changing situations."

NEW JOB FOR TANK CARS — Engineers constructing foundation for a new 30-story Illinois Bell Telephone Co. building have found a unique use for 80 old railroad tank cars in solving a problem. A layer of silt, encountered 95 feet below surface, made it necessary to use steel linings to be sunk to bedrock for caissons. With ends cut out and welded together in pairs, the old cars were lowered into holes and filled with concrete to form 100-foot foundation pillars.

Commitment to Life Urged at OU Conference

Some agreed — others disagreed — but all were interested in what the speaker at Oakland University's conference on "Woman's Choices in This Confusing Century" Wednesday said. Some 400 women attended the all-day session, sponsored by the division of continuing education and directed by Priscilla Jackson.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Women are wasting their brain power and not living up to their potential, three speakers at Wednesday's second conference on women at Oakland University told an audience of some 400.

Dr. Gertrude Z. Gass of Merrill Palmer Institute said that the way women use their leisure time is revealing. Often they disguise it with "busyness" because they do not know how to use it.

Women dislike making choices and committing themselves. This impoverishes their lives.

"Excitement and adventure awaits the woman willing to move out into the world."

Four hundred women and one telephone! After a short speech by Betty Friedan, author of "The Feminine Mystique," heard over direct phone hook-up from New York City, the audience questioned Mrs. Friedan.

COMMIT SELF

She, too, encouraged women to commit themselves to some important activity outside the home after the children have grown.

A fourth dimension is emerging, a real commitment in sociological terms. Women are on the move again.

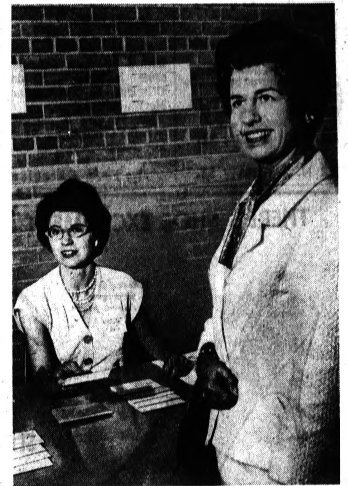

Dr. Robert O. Blood, associate professor of sociology, University of Michigan, noted two important, but deplorable trends in modern life: premature marriage and early childbearing.

It is not best for parents to be as young as possible when they have their children. Children fare better, as do marriages, when the parents are more mature.

GET DEGREES

Dr. Blood would like to see more women educated to use their brain power and join forces with men in the important technological and scientific problems of the day.

Other women who do not wish to work in paid jobs should volunteer their talents in crucial work like political action and social reforms.

Mrs. Erwin Bartel, Motorway Drive (seated) acted as hostess-registrar at Wednesday's conference. Mrs. Robert A. Carter, Orchard Lake, waits her turn to sign in.

Ignored Abby's Advice; Regrets It 4 Babies Later

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In November of 1958 I wrote asking your advice about my husband, who cheated on me, beat me up and refused to take the responsibilities of a husband and father.

At the time I had only one child. Today I have five and I am kicking myself because I didn't take your advice.

You said, "Don't take him back until he has proved that he can stay away from other women, treat you with respect and hold a job."

Well, each time I took him back I got pregnant. He continued to cheat on me and slap me around, pregnant or not.

Print my letter to let other women know what can happen when they take a man back before he improves.

KICKING MYSELF

DEAR ABBY: Who is supposed to give the corsage on Mother's Day? The husband or the children?

I married a widow, and on the first Mother's Day after our marriage I sent her a lovely corsage.

Her son sent one too. (This happens to be the first thing this son of hers ever gave her besides trouble.)

Well, she must have thought more of her son's corsage than she did of mine because she wore HIS, and left mine home in the icebox.

I was very hurt although I didn't say anything, but the next year on Mother's Day I didn't send her a corsage and neither did her son.

She was sulking all week. Do you blame me for not sending her a corsage after what happened last year?

HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: Posies on Mother's Day mean less than understanding and love the other 364 days of the year.

Mrs. Wendell Kellogg (left) and Mrs. Charles Duff, both of Walled Lake, seated their conference day with coffee and doughnuts.

Tales of Travels West

By MARY ANGLEMIER

"All too often letters, diaries and records in homes are looked upon as of no value whatever. But don't throw them away."

"My talk tonight concerns letters saved by the Judd family of Waterford Township," were the opening remarks of James Renfrew at Devon Gables Wednesday evening.

Mr. Renfrew, a Royal Oak attorney, spoke to more than 200 persons at the 90th annual dinner meeting of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society on "Dan Judd's Way West, Its Why and How."

According to seven letters given to the society by Jean Judd Vignalis of Drayton Plains, Dan Judd took off from Waterford for Oregon April 15, 1847 with a wagon and two horses. He returned in 1848.

LETTERS HOME

The letters written to his wife, who remained at home on the farm with the children, describe his joining a wagon train, the meeting with Indians, a wedding on the trip and just one death. The worst trouble, he wrote, was losing oxen.

At that time 1,100 wagon trains were on their way to California and Oregon.

In summing up his adventure Judd wrote to his wife, "No one is going to better himself by leaving Michigan, Waterford Center or Oakland County. Have a clean shirt and my razor ready for me, and tell the boys their father is coming."

Richard C. Poole reported on the progress of the root cellar and improvements made on the Moses Wisner Home on Oakland Avenue.

MICHIGAN HISTORY

William K. Alder, new director of the Historical Society of Michigan, said he came bearing gifts for everyone. Copies of a new publication, "Brief History of Michigan," were on hand for those interested in the state's history.

The books are free to anyone writing to the state society in Lansing, he said. White dogwood, lilies of the valley and violets were used in table arrangements by the Senior Trail Blazer Troop of Girl Scouts No. 280.

Covered wagons which the girls made at camp centered the speaker's and registrar's tables. The girls carried the wheels and axles from a spinning dead pine tree.

COMMITTEES

Mrs. Allan H. Monroe was in charge of dinner arrangements; and Mrs. Marion H. Benter, reservations.

Heading the hospitality committee were Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, Miss Emma Howard, Mrs. James W. Huttenlocher, Dr. Sarah Van Housen Jones, John Linabury and Mrs. Earl A. Mastick.

Others greeting guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Selden, Miss Alice Serrell, Miss Adah Shelly, J. S. Sibley, William Whitfield and Mrs. John E. Windiate.

Out of Hats: Memories

"This Hat I Remember" was the theme for the Tuesday luncheon meeting at which members of the Junior Child Study club wore hats depicting events in their lives.

The meeting was held in the Watkins Lake home of Mrs. Donald Newman with Mrs. George Ross, Mrs. Frank Antrous, Mrs. Allan Denham, Mrs. George Tremper and Mrs. Dean Field as co-hostesses.

Officers for 1964-65 were installed by Mrs. Howard Powers.

D. Maxine Davison, Atkinson Street (right) holds the golden gavel won by Tipacon chapter, American Business Women's Association, at Wednesday evening's annual dinner of Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs. At the left is Mrs. Henry J. Healy, Rosewood Drive; newly installed president of the federation and Mrs. Franklin J. Mills, Bloomfield Hills, hospitality chairman.

LINDA UNDERHILL

SANDRA HILDERLEY

Two Continue Tradition of University and Career

Environment and family traditions played a part in the career selections of two girls graduating Friday from the University of Michigan.

Both are the granddaughters of William S. Downes of Opdyke Road.

Linda Underhill and Sandra Hilderley, both former Pon-

tac Central High School students, graduated from Pontiac Northern High School.

Both were also on the combined Central-Northern swimming team.

LINDA

Linda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Underhill of Lake Angelus will graduate as a medical technician.

Her brother, Dr. William Underhill of Saginaw, inspired her career in the medical field.

SANDRA

Sandra will be the fourth generation teacher in her family. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hilderley of Joy Road, she also attended Hawaii University last summer.

Sandra's great-grandmother began the succession of teachers, followed by a great-aunt and an aunt.

Before settling down, Linda plans a European trip.

Sandra will teach English and physical education in Southfield Junior High School this fall.

These two girls bring to four the total number of grandchildren the 'Downes' have seen graduate from the University of Michigan.

Burdened Parents Can Confuse Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: If I had not met my husband, my mother would have succeeded in wrecking my life. She brought me up to hate men.

She and my father split up when I was 5. For years after, all she ever talked about was how he had never loved us and what rats men are.

Now she is getting on in years and wants to come and live with my husband and me. Her letters are one long complaint about her aches and pains and how lonely she is.

ANSWER: It's certainly in-

Two Students Plan Wedding for Mid-June

The Richard H. McChurges of Green Lake announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Ellen, to Robert Frederick Garrels. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garrels of Orchard Lake.

The bride-elect, a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, will graduate in August from the University of Michigan where her fiancé is working on his master's degree in music literature.

He holds a degree in music education from U. of M. and member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. In 1961, he toured Russia and the Near East with the U. of M. Symphonic Band.

The June 18 wedding will be in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Orchard Lake.

interesting to know that she tried to make you hate men.

But hating men isn't your problem right now, is it? Your problem is: Do I or don't I invite my aging mother to live with me?

It is always interesting to know how our parents confused us as children. But the knowledge only becomes useful when we can see how the confusion is still in control of us — right now, this very minute.

So I am suggesting that the knowledge you may now need to resolve your problem is the knowledge that you fear the prospect of living with your mother, not because she tried to make you hate men but because she tried to make you experience everything she experienced.

You remember how as a child she tried to make you feel her anguish as a lonely and deserted wife.

You are terribly afraid that if she comes to live with you, she will try to make you feel all the aches and pains which belong to her as an aging woman.

DRAW YOU

You wonder how close to the edge of her death she will try to drag you.

That's the real fear, isn't it? There's no sense in my telling you that it is unreasonable; that as a person belonging to a different generation from your mother's you can't possibly undertake to feel her aches and pains with her any more than

as a little girl, you could feel what she felt as an unloved woman.

Reason is never enough to clarify the kind of confusion we develop as the result of childhood association with parents who have insisted that we try to experience all their grownup feelings with them.

INVITE REJECTION

Parents of little boys and girls who demand sympathy for their grownup feelings from them invariably invite rejection in their old age.

As the children cannot experience their grownup feelings, they have no sympathy to give.

Like you, they retain the memory of agonized helplessness imposed by the parents.

When the passing years bring the time that should entitle their aging parents to their help, they are compelled to refuse it, feeling themselves to be as helpless and inadequate as they felt as overburdened little boys and girls.

Placed on the face, 2ND DEBUT with CEF 600 immediately penetrates the outer layer of the skin and carries into millions of tiny loads of pure water that skin has lost during the natural aging process. Let's Knit

Cape Is Feminine

The stunning versatile cape has a wide soft swing in the back and knitted - in hem. It is knitted in one piece and therefore very easy to make. For the interesting collar with its pleated effect, a straight piece was knitted which was then doubled and pleated to fit against the neck.

The graceful lines of the cape will be a boon to your femininity. It is excellent for day or evening wear.

It can be worn with equal success over a shift dress, capris, or a cocktail dress.

We used a silver gray yarn with a slight mohair blend and had the garment lined with a brilliant gold material. The approximate yarn cost for this cape is $15.00.

Instructions for this cape come in one size.

As one of the chapter's service projects for the year, members voted to contribute funds for library books for the Oakland County Children's Center.

A picnic will be held June 17. Margaret and Virginia Luther assisted the hostess.

This Is The Way to Clean the Child

It may take more time, but it's much more fun: when daughter finishes scrubbing in her bath, use a spray from the garden watering can to sprinkle away those bubbly soapuds.

This gay "shower" is sure to perk up any lagging interest in cleanliness, once a little girl — or boy — graduates from the infantile stage of floating toys in the tub.

Federal Pay Raise Bill OK'd by House Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

PAY RAISE: The House Rules Committee approved Wednesday a new federal pay raise bill. Like one defeated earlier in the session by the House, it includes a salary increase for congressmen.

The new bill, which was cleared for the floor by a 9-3 vote, would boost congressional salaries $7,500 from $22,500 to $30,000. The defeated measure would have authorized a $10,000 raise.

Over-all the bill calls for increases totaling $533 million, compared with $668 million in the earlier bill.

Amendments will be permitted during the four-hour House floor debate.

FISHING - JAPAN: President Johnson signed a law Wednesday to regulate fishing by foreign vessels in American waters. He said the United States would try to work out enforcement procedures in advance with the foreign countries involved.

The law was proposed originally to cope with illegal Cuban fishing operations in U.S. territorial waters. But Japan said another section is aimed at Japanese king crab fishing operations off Alaska and it has threatened to ignore the new law.

The section, which provides authority for the United States to exercise jurisdiction over resources of the U.S. portion of the continental shelf, implements terms of an international treaty to which Japan is not a signatory.

FAIRM APPROPRIATION: The House passed Wednesday and sent to the Senate a $5,182,665,000 agriculture appropriation bill after reversing a previous decision to spend $1.6 million for a peanut research laboratory.

By a roll call vote of 198 to 181, the House voted against the peanut lab, which had been approved Tuesday in a non-record vote.

The laboratory would have been located in Dawson, Ga., in the district of retiring Rep. E. L. Forrester, a Georgia Democrat who has long sought it.

In another key action, the house voted down 187 to 186 a move to forbid subsidy payments on farm exports—such as wheat—destined for Communist nations and defeated 101 to 56 an amendment to curb the Agriculture Department's market news wire.

AIRCRAFT DISPLAY Half the 32 planes will land at Dallas for an aircraft display. Navy spokesmen said that excluding the Soviet Union, 90 percent of the remainder of the world where limited conflict is most likely is within 500 miles of the sea.

U.S. exports would be the best cure for the dollar drain.

The recommendation was presented Wednesday by the Republican Critical Issues Council, a citizens group headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

It charged that the administration had used temporary bookkeeping devices to make the U.S. balance of payments deficit look smaller than it really is.

MASS TRANSIT: After a delay of more than one year, the House Rules Committee cleared the way Wednesday for floor action on the administration's mass transit program.

The measure would authorize $300 million in grants over a three-year period to help cities revitalize their mass transit systems.

The Rules Committee vote was 8 to 4, with three members absent. The House Banking Committee had approved it on April 9, 1963.

When the measure is called up for House action—probably in June—four hours of debate and amendments will be permitted.

Garlic Powder for a Salad

Considering the fact that Americans are now eating more than twice as many green salads as they did a quarter century ago, it is obvious we love well-dressed salads and every day in the year.

To remember a successful salad, it has been said, is generally to remember a successful dinner. Not only should the salad ingredients be crisp, fresh and unblemished, but perhaps even more depends on the salad dressing.

The Spanish have a saying that it takes four men to make a good dressing: A spendthrift for oil; a miser for vinegar; a counselor for salt and a madman for mixing. We would put a fifth man on this shift — an artist, a virtuoso for garlic. A fleeting whiff of garlic adds tantalizing aroma to a good salad — as it does to so many other dishes.

While every good cook and salad maker prefers to season to taste, you can gauge your additions of instant garlic powder by this instant recipe from the test kitchens of the American Spice Trade Association.

Calico Salad
1/4 medium head lettuce
1/4 medium head romaine

CALICO SALAD—What makes it calico? What gives it savor? Just a wee bit of The mixture of green and red ingredients. instant garlic powder.

2 cups diced, unpeeled red apples
2 cups finely shredded green cabbage
1 cup finely shredded red cabbage
1 1/2 teaspoons instant minced onion
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon instant garlic powder
1/4 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon cider vinegar

Wash salad greens and dry thoroughly. Place in a salad bowl. Arrange apples, green cabbage and red cabbage in rows over the salad greens. Combine instant minced onion, celery seed, salt, instant garlic powder, oil and vinegar. Beat with a rotary beater and pour over the salad just as it is being served. Toss lightly. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings.

If you roasting that turkey without stuffing (for a buffet party) it's a good idea to serve hot buttered cornbread with the bird and whatever trimmings you're setting forth.

Shred Fruit, Carrots for Spring Salad

Want the quickest of refreshing salads? Combine 1 cup each of freshly-shredded Winesap apples, carrots, and canned pineapple. Mix the juice of 1 lemon with 5 tablespoons of honey and pour over the salad mixture.

Mound on crisped romaine leaves, circle with unpeeled apple crescents, top with chopped nuts.

Serve Cookies With Sundaes

Thin as butterfly wings with crispy lace edges, these Lemon Crisps make a perfect accompaniment to simple desserts. The nut-like flavor of rolled oats will make this a delicate summertime favorite, but you will find uses for it all year around. It's easy to please your guests when you serve these with a variety of sundaes.

Lemon Crisps
1/2 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup shortening, soft
2 eggs
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

Sift together flour, salt and sugar into bowl. Add shortening, eggs, flavoring and lemon rind. Beat until smooth, about two minutes. Lightly stir in rolled oats.

Drop from a teaspoon onto greased cookie sheet, allowing about 2 inches between cookies. Flatten with a knife dipped in cold water. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes or until cookies are golden brown around the edges. Remove from cookie sheets immediately. Makes 4 dozen.

Eat Well With Michigan Foods

BY JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

How do you choose which foods to emphasize for Michigan Week? Our state has such a wealth of agricultural products that something is bound to be neglected.

Shall we concentrate on fruit? Which one? National production figures put the state first in red tart cherries and hothouse rhubarb; second in blueberries and plums; third in apples; fourth in grapes, peaches, pears, strawberries and sweet cherries; sixth in cantaloupe.

The following recipe for Fruit and Vegetable Slaw includes not only apples but other important Michigan foods.

Since the invention of controlled atmosphere storage, we have harvest-fresh apples the year round.

Fruit and Vegetable Slaw

- 1/4 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 envelope onion salad dressing mix
- Juice of 1/2 lemon
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups shredded cabbage
- 1 can (11-oz.) mandarin oranges, drained
- 1 large red apple, diced
- 2 raw carrots, shredded
- 3 tablespoons chopped dill pickle

Combine sour cream, mayon-

Please Don't Eat Rhubarb Leaves!

Rhubarb stalks make good eating—but not the leaves! Eating large amounts of rhubarb leaves which contain the poison oxalic acid, can produce such symptoms as burning of mouth and throat, thirst, nausea, difficulty in swallowing, recurrent vomiting, abdominal pains and diarrhea. Deaths in children have been reported and parents should be alerted to the potential hazards. First-aid measures include use of milk, cheese, milk of magnesia or lime water.

CORNY BEEF PIE.

naise, salad dressing mix, lemon juice, and salt; blend well. Toss with remaining ingredients. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Our state is well known for its dairy products. In the following recipe you'll find milk, eggs, cheese and butter. In addition, the onions, beef and corn could be home grown.

A heartier version of its French cousin, "Quiche Lorraine", this corn-filled main dish will satisfy the hungriest guest.

Corny Beef Pie

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 pkg. (3 1/2 oz.) smoked sliced beef
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1/2 lb. sharp Cheddar cheese, shredded
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 can (12 oz.) Mexican corn
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 9-inch unbaked pastry shell

size skillet. Add smoked sliced beef and onion and cook over medium heat until onion is transparent. Remove from heat.

Mix cheese and flour lightly with a fork. Drain corn well.

Place 1/2 of cheese mixture in bottom of unbaked pastry shell. Top with half of the beef and drained corn.

Repeat layers of 1/2 cheese and 1/2 beef and corn, topping with remaining cheese.

Beat eggs well. Blend in evaporated milk and seasonings. Pour over mixture in pastry shell.

Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees) for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 325 degrees, cover pie lightly with aluminum foil and bake an additional 30 minutes. Remove from oven and cool on a rack at room temperature for 10 minutes before cutting and serving.

Anyone who has ever visited the great cereal facories in Battle Creek learns why Michigan is famous for her cereals. Here is an unusual bread made with hot wheat cereal.

Golden Wheat Sticks

- 1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 3/4 cup hot whole wheat cereal, instant, uncooked
- 1 egg, beaten
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup melted shortening or cooking oil

Sift flour, sugar, salt, and baking powder into mixing bowl; blend in cereal. Stir in egg, milk and shortening or cooking oil just until dry ingredients are moistened.

Fill hot greased cornstick pans 3/4 full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) until done and lightly browned, 12 to 15 minutes.

If no heavy cornstick pans are available, bake in greased muffin pans until done, 18 to 20 minutes. Yield: 12 to 14 wheat sticks.

The tall corn and hogs may flourish in Iowa, but Michigan stands 17th in the raising of hogs and pigs. Here's an elegant ham loaf you'll enjoy eating.

Glazed Ham Loaf

- 1 1/4 pound ground ham
- 3/4 pound ground pork
- 1 1/4 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 teaspoons dry mustard

Combine ham, pork, bread crumbs, onion, eggs, milk and catsup; mix well. Shape into a loaf on a lightly greased baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour.

Combine brown sugar, vinegar and mustard in sauce pan; bring to a rolling boil. Spoon 1/2 of the glaze over the ham loaf and return to oven; bake 30 minutes longer and glaze at the end of each 10 minutes. Yield: About 6 servings.

Wieners Given Hot Treatment

Mom thinks the versatile frankfurter is pretty wonderful, too. She knows that thrifty all-meat franks are ideal for a family dinner, a school day lunch or a snack any time of the day.

She knows, too, that frankfurters are among the most economical of all meat because there's no shrinkage and no waste.

A good main dish for down-to-earth budgets is barbecued franks.

Barbecued Frankfurters

- 1 pound frankfurters
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 4 teaspoons vinegar
- 1/2 cup water

Cook onion in fat until tender. Add other ingredients and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Add franks and simmer 15 minutes longer. 5 servings.

Small Portions Help Children Eat Better

There are several ways to help your child enjoy his meals. Make sure, first of all, that he can handle the meat servings you give him. If you're having beef patties make several tiny patties for him.

A preschooler can easily handle meat loaf, crisp bacon, tiny braised meat cubes, canned luncheon meat cut into cubes or thin strips and chopped leftover meat spread on bread or crackers.

Here's another point to remember. When you're serving your child's plate give him a small portion. If he wants more to eat let him ask for a second helping.

A colorful centerpiece such as spring flowers or a small pot of tulips can be a conversation piece at the table. Bright place mats and napkins lend a gay touch to meal time also.

Occasionally why not let your youngsters join the grown-ups for a candlelight dinner? This can be a fascinating experience for the preschooler.

Canners Use Great Care in Packing

Why aren't all cans of food filled to the top?

Each can of food you buy is backed by over fifty years of scientific research in heat processing and sterilization, reports the Research Laboratories of the National Canners Association. Before any food is packed into a can, the individual canner must consider painstakingly all aspects of the procedure.

The amount of heat processing the product requires will affect the shape of the container. Each can is actually a miniature "pressure cooker." Heat will penetrate to the center of a tall, thin container faster than it will through a short, squat one.

Headspace, the space inside between the top of the product and the top of the can, allows the food to expand during cooking in the can. This headspace must be figured, if need be, to exact fractions, and the product and the can coordinated accordingly.

Without the proper fraction of headspace, metal cans would be permanently distorted in processing, and the lids of glass jars would be forced off. Too much headspace could result in discoloration of food or the can interior.

Precise measures are worked out for the best possible reasons—to give the consumer the highest quality food in the best possible container.

An example taken from an official canner's manual concerned with exact measurement might serve. A quarter of an inch can make a decided difference in the fit of a tailor-made garment. The canner's fraction of an ounce reflects a custom-tailored product.

Mustard Sauce for Fish Steak

The devilfish may be an ugly fellow, but not so these devil fish—halibut steaks with a spicy cream coating, served with a peppery sauce. The peppery piquancy of the "devil," in contrast to the delicate flavor of halibut makes a zippy main dish that'll spark lively conversation at the dinner table.

Halibut Diablo With Nippy Sauce

1 pound halibut steaks, fresh or frozen
½ cup corn oil
1 tablespoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon dry mustard
Pinch cayenne pepper
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup dry bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup minced onion

If halibut is frozen, let stand at room temperature 30 minutes. If steaks are large, cut in half for easier handling. Combine corn oil, Worcestershire, dry mustard, cayenne pepper and salt.

Then in a wide, flat dish combine bread crumbs, chopped green pepper and onion. Brush one side of halibut with oil mixture, then dip in crumbs, coating evenly. Place steaks, crumb side down, in a greased shallow baking pan.

Brush tops of steaks with oil mixture and spoon remaining crumbs over. Bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes until halibut flakes easily with a fork. Serve with Nippy Sauce (recipe below). Makes 3 servings.

Nippy Sauce

Combine ½ cup mayonnaise, ½ cup sour cream and ¼ teaspoon dry mustard.

Inexpensive Chili Can Be Made in Minutes

Chili con carne is a specialty of the South West but loved by Americans everywhere.

In heavy skillet or saucepan, cook ½ pound ground beef, ½ cup chopped celery, ¼ cup onion, 2 teaspoons chili powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, dash each pepper and sugar until celery and onion are tender.

Stir in 1 cup canned tomatoes, 1 can (15½ ounces) beef gravy, and 2 cans (1 pound each) kidney beans, drained; simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until desired consistency. Serve to 4 hungry people.

If you make that confectioners' sugar frosting stiff enough, you can use it in a pastry tube for decorating.

Split Ring Cake Into Three Layers

Showers prompt the fanciest of desserts. Tiers and tiers of rich cake, layers of cloud-like whipped cream, dollops of this sweet or that—mmm, just a bit per serving but what a joy!

Next time you're shower hostess, consider this ring-shaped dessert. Here's how you can make it and have it tucked in the refrigerator ready to serve.

Begin with a spongy, golden cake that's especially quick to get it begins with your favorite pancake mix. Eggs make the cake golden in color and coconut adds its unique chewiness and sweetness.

For the frosting, marshmallow creme and whipping cream are beaten together until they're billowy.

Then melted chocolate, confectioners' sugar and instant coffee for a hint of mocha flavor are folded in.

The cake is split horizontally in three layers, the bottom and middle layers are spread with frosting and then the entire ring is frosted.

Small flower dollops of whipped cream circle the top for added decoration.

CHOCO TORTE

Cake:

¾ cup sugar
4 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup pancake mix
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup flaked or shredded coconut

Filling and Frosting:

1 pint jar marshmallow creme
1 cup whipping cream
2 sq. (2-oz.) unsweetened chocolate melted and cooled
¼ cup instant confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon sifted coffee powder

Heat oven to moderate 350 degrees. For cake, gradually add sugar to eggs, beating constantly until thick. Add vanilla, pancake mix and salt, blending thoroughly. Stir in coconut.

Pour batter into greased and floured 1½-cup ring mold. Bake in preheated oven 350 degrees 25 to 30 minutes. Immediately loosen edges and turn cake out of pan. Cool on rack.

For filling, beat together marshmallow creme and whipping cream until soft peaks form. Fold in chocolate, confectioners' sugar and coffee. Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon.

Split cake horizontally into 3 layers. Place bottom layer on serving platter; spread with whipped cream mixture. Place middle layer on top; spread with whipped cream mixture. Place middle layer on top; spread with whipped cream mixture. Add the top layer; frost sides and top of cake with remaining whipped cream mixture.

Decorate with frozen whipped cream flowers.

Note: To make frozen whipped cream flowers, place sweetened whipping cream in pastry or decorating tube. Using star tip, make flowers on a cold cookie sheet. Freeze.

Unmolding Custard

In unmolding a large chilled custard, you may wish to set the dish in a shallow pan of hot water for a few minutes before you turn out the custard. But be sure to run a spatula around the edge of the custard to loosen it after you've given it the hot water treatment.

Chicken Salad Gets Glamour Touches

This spring salad is worth its weight in gold because it's good the summer through.

Core a head of iceberg lettuce; rinse in cold water; drain well. Separate outer leaves to line bowl; shred remainder and heap in center. Blend ½ cup real mayonnaise with 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and ½ teaspoon salt.

Combine 2 cups diced, cooked chicken (or 12-ounce can boned chicken); 1 cup orange segments; ¾ cup sliced celery; 1 can (5 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and sliced. Toss lightly with mayonnaise; heap on lettuce; surround with slices of canned cranberry sauce, if desired. Serves 6.

Good combination of spreads for an evening party refreshment: deviled ham mixed with pickle relish and grated cheddar cheese; cream cheese mixed with drained canned clams and seasonings; and liver pate—the real thing or made with liverwurst.

Sweet Treat Full of Cereal, Chocolate

You can take it from the teens, most any party refreshments are fine so long as they're chocolate. And when they're easy to eat and filled with crunchy goodness as well you know you're the Mom with the "most."

Platter party squares are just as compatible with lunch boxes as they are with parties to make sweet treats the whole family will enjoy. Three kinds of cereals are mixed, mostly for fun, to give a tasty crispness to the finished squares.

Platter Party Squares

2 cups sugar
½ cup evaporated milk
½ cup water
½ cup corn syrup
½ cup butter
¾ squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate
4 cups ready-to-eat cereal
4 cups oven-toasted rice cereal
4 cups bite size shredded wheat cereal

Mix sugar, evaporated milk, water, and corn syrup in a medium size saucepan. Add butter and chocolate. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved, then increase heat to medium and bring to a boil. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches soft ball stage (232 degrees F.), about 10 minutes.

Pour over well mixed cereals in a buttered baking pan (2½x10x15 inches). Mix lightly with two forks to coat well.

Let stand 5 minutes to cool slightly, then press mixture firmly into an even layer. When cold, cut into approximately 3 dozen squares.

Soften Leaves

Preparing stuffed cabbage rolls? Soften the loose outer leaves of the cabbage before using by letting them stand in boiling water or giving them a brief boiling. Cut away the heavy rib at the bottom of each leaf before rolling up the stuffing.

3rd Largest in Michigan

State Library Is Open to All

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of five stories on the attractions of Michigan. The features will appear throughout the remainder of Michigan Week.)

The State Library of Michigan, located in Lansing, was known as the Territorial Council Library in 1828 when it was established in Detroit, then capital of Michigan. Primarily a law library with about 131 volumes for use by the governor and legislature, the library was moved in 1847 by excart to Lansing.

Today, the Michigan State Library ranks as the third largest library in Michigan with a collection of more than one million volumes.

Locations in Lansing include the main library and the Library for the Blind at 735 East Michigan Avenue, a law library and information center in the capitol and a branch in the Lewis Cass State Office building. An Upper Peninsula branch is located in Escanaba.

The State Library collection, which is largely a specialized, scholarly collection of books, newspapers, periodicals and documents not available in most libraries, may be borrowed by all citizens of the state, public libraries, school libraries, schools without libraries and college, university and community college libraries.

Elementary or secondary school students may borrow from the State Library through their local school or public library. Students wishing to borrow materials directly in Lansing or Escanaba should present a reference slip from their teacher, school or public librarian.

BORROW IN PERSON

All other citizens may use the reference resources and borrow materials in person both in Lansing and in Escanaba. Citizens are encouraged to explore the resources of their local public libraries first and then request mail service through them.

Citizens without local library service (Michigan has over one million) and blind people outside Wayne County should request materials directly from the State Library.

As the administrative arm of the State Board of Libraries, the State Library is organized into four divisions and three major departments.

The divisions include the Law Library, serving state departments, legislature, Supreme Court and judges and lawyers throughout Michigan; Reader Services Division, which has responsibility for general reference service, state documents and Michigan history and genealogy collections; Consultant Division, which is responsible for administering state and federal aid to public libraries and guidance and promotion of public and school library service throughout the state; and a Technical Services Division, responsible for ordering, cataloging and processing books.

The three departments include the State Library for the Blind, the branch at Escanaba and public information services.

For additional information about the services and resources of Michigan's State Library, write for the brochure, "Facts about Michigan's State Library," Public Information Services, Michigan State Library, 735 East Michigan Avenue, Lansing.

Space Suits to Be Tested

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Manned Spacecraft Center said today all space suits will be given comprehensive tests by the Air Force at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, Ohio.

Tests will include placing the suits in lunar gravity—one-sixth that of earth—and in zero gravity—the weightless condition encountered in outer space.

The gravity is simulated by a KC135 airplane making steep dives.

Fishermen Beware—Mullet With Mallet

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A Mobile city detective insists this fish story is true—and he has a black eye as proof.

Charley Nail said he was proceeding in his boat through nearby Challoochee Bay Sunday when a mullet leaped from the water and smacked him right between the eyes.

Scranton to Get LBJ Briefing, Urge Appalachia Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania gets a secret briefing on world affairs from the Johnson administration today and goes to Capitol Hill to urge Congress to assist poverty-stricken Appalachia.

In between, he sandwiched plans for a luncheon meeting with William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, although Scranton has insisted time and again he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Miller called the luncheon meeting "just a friendly get-together."

ON AGENDA

As Scranton's agenda was a breakfast meeting with all Pennsylvania members of Congress and a late afternoon reception arranged by Pennsylvania Republicans.

Scranton was the only witness scheduled this morning by the House Public Works Committee in its investigation of the Johnson administration's $228-million 10-state Appalachia program.

It was at Scranton's request that Johnson added $10 million to the program to help mining regions of Appalachia, which includes West Virginia and parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, North Carolina, Alabama and Georgia.

Scheduled to brief Scranton in mid-afternoon were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and John A. McCone, chairman of the Central Intelligence Agency.

President Johnson has offered the world situation briefings to all announced and potential GOP candidates. New York

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was briefed last week. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and former Vice President Richard M.

Nixon declined the offer. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Harold Stassen accepted, but have yet to receive their briefings.

Although he has said he is not a candidate for the nomination, Scranton has stated he would accept a sincere and honest draft. Elected were: Ralph Crego, Lansing, president; John May-

Bias Claim Breaks Up Rights Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — As the foreman was about to read a civil rights trial jury's decision Wednesday, one of two Negro jurors stood up and shouted, "I was assassinated and crucified in the jury room because I am a Negro."

The charges touched off a near-riot in the courtroom and caused Judge Andrew J. Eymann to declare a mistrial.

One courtroom spectator, William Bancroft, 20, was arrested for hitting a court bailiff.

Jurors Geraldine Earp and Josephine Nichols made their charges after the jury had deliberated 25 hours following the two-week trial of 14 defendants.

ASKS RELEASE

"I want to be excused. I put myself on trial the minute I walked into the jury room because I am a Negro," Mrs. Earp said.

White members of the jury said the Negro women disregarded the evidence and the judge's instructions and decided the case on a civil rights basis.

Eighty-six persons have been tried in groups on charges stemming from sit-in demonstrations at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel and various auto agencies in March and April. In all, 509 were arrested.

Twenty-three were convicted, 45 acquitted and 14 pleaded no contest. Charges against four were dropped.

89 Are Told to Report for State Police School

EAST LANSING (AP)—State police have told 89 trooper candidates to report to East Lansing headquarters June 1 for the start of a new recruit school.

The school will be the largest since June 1957, when 62 recruits completed training. The new school will be one of several needed to bring state police to an authorized strength of 1,250, which includes 100 more troopers authorized by the current legislature.

Head-On Crash Kills 2

GARDEN CITY (AP) — A head-on auto crash today killed Mrs. Bernice E. Nelson, 40-year-old mother of six, and Ernest Tucker, 45, both of Garden City. The two were passengers in a car which, police said, was hit by an oncoming auto that swerved over the centerline.

Offer Reward in Hillsdale

HILLSDALE (AP) — The city is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of 15 masked men who raided the municipal power plant.

The raiders attempted to force plant employees to shut down electricity last week to the struck Essex Wire Corp. plant here.

State Income, Outgo

LANSING (AP) — State Treasury income during the past week was $36 million and outgo was $405 million. The treasury balance at the end of the week was $138.2 million.

70 Years an Actor

Hollywood Looks to 'Patriarch'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "With actors like Charles Coburn and Edmund Gwenn gone now, people look to me as a patriarch," said Ernest Truex.

"But I don't feel like a patriarch."

For proof, he patted his flat stomach and flexed the muscles of his calf.

"Exercise is what does it," he said.

"I'm not about golf, I love to fish, and I work among my avocado trees. I'm good for a few more years."

So impressed was Universal that the studio wanted Truex to mark his 70 years as an actor by riding a lion. Truex is appearing in "Fluffy," with Tony Randall, Shirley Jones and an overgrown tabby named Zamba.

The script called for Truex to demonstrate the lion's gentleness by riding it down a trailer ramp.

"You'll have to get yourselves another boy," said Truex. A stunt man was ordered, and his leg was scraped badly on the door of the trailer.

Truex is known to movie audiences as the fussy, often henpecked character of dozens of film comedies. The typing is unfair and unfortunate, since he is one of the theater's most versatile actors.

CAREER STARTED

He reminisces telling the story of how his career started. How his doctor-father treated a ham actor stranded in Kansas City.

How the ham paid his fee by teaching young Ernest soliloquies from "Hamlet."

"I made my debut in 1894 at the age of 5—the youngest Hamlet in the American theater," he said.

After his parents' divorce, his mother took him and a girl on tour as a pint-sized Romeo and Juliet. At 11, he had graduated to the Elitch's Garden Playhouse in Denver and by 17 he was ready to assault Broadway.

That was his starvation period, but in 1905 he landed a role as a jockey in "Wildfire" with Lillian Russell.

Fifty-three plays followed over the years, including two-year runs in such shows as "Lysistrata," "Six-Cylinder Love" and "Very Good Eddie." He took "The Fall Guy" to London in 1925 and stayed five years in a variety of plays.

50 YEARS AGO

His movie career started 50 years ago. He had been playing on Broadway in "Good Little Devil" with a girl named Mary Pickford. They were offered a chance to make it as a film for Adolf Zukor's new company.

He made a few other early films, but devoted himself mostly to the theater. Later he returned to talkies and he counts that period the low point in his career.

"My first wife had died and I married a younger girl, which was a mistake," he said. "I stayed here too long, taking whatever parts I could get. It was the first time I hadn't been a star."

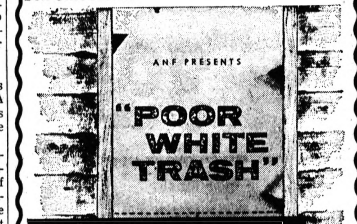

TELEVISION HELPED HIM TURN THE CORNER

he said. Now he picks and chooses, spending his non-working time at the avocado ranch he shares with third wife Sylvia Field at Fallbrook, Calif.

The 1960 census showed that more than half the women 65 and over were widows, but only a fifth of the men in that age group were widowers.

VIENNA (AP) — Romania's Communist regime, in a show of independence from the Soviet Union, is telling its people for the first time that they must go their own way to make communism work. Diplomatic reports today said that "Away From Russian Domination" rallies which have been held for about a month in factories and universities often result in anti-Soviet demonstrations protesting Moscow's influence and criticizing Premier Khrushchev. The meetings have the full support of the party, the reports said. The reports said the campaign is being staged to familiarize the Romanian people with the contents and aims of the April 22 party declaration in which the Bucharest regime pledged a policy of economic independence from Moscow and closer ties with the West. However, diplomatic observers stress that the atmosphere in Romania is far from open hostility toward the Soviet Union. They rule out the possibility of political ferment that could lead to an uprising similar to that in Hungary in 1956. For one thing, Romania is not occupied by Soviet troops. On the other hand, the regime has to live down its Stalinist past and openly encourages a Com-

Compact, Friendly

Side Trips Added Bonus to Fair Visit

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This article, "Side Trips," is another in a series of articles on the New York World's Fair.)

Michiganians who visit the World's Fair and also plan a side trip are taking advantage of a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, according to Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

"Many of the estimated 400,000 Michigan residents who have never toured this nation's east coast, vacationed in the Caribbean or visited Europe will be closer to making these trips reality than ever before," says Fisher.

New York can be the starting point for anywhere in the nation or world.

Those who travel by air can depart from either Kennedy or International air terminals.

"The port of New York—one of the finest in the world—has more than 5,000 yachts a year clear this harbor and tourists with a desire to travel on water can make arrangements to go anywhere," Fisher adds.

170 COACHES
For those who want to travel by bus, Greyhound alone has an average of 170 coaches leaving New York City daily for all points on the continent.

Since more fair visitors are expected to travel by car than by rail, automobile touring is expected to be heavy this summer, according to AAA.

"And the motorist has a distinct advantage over other methods of transportation because he can travel at his own pace and be more selective in the sights he sees," states Fisher.

One of the first stops the Michigan motorist should plan if traveling the Pennsylvania Turnpike is Gettysburg, and then Lancaster, the hub of Amish, Mennonite and Brethren activities in the Pennsylvania Dutch country.

HEAD SOUTH
"After New York and the fair are seen, the Revolutionary and Civil War enthusiast would do well to head south," says Fisher, "with the first stop at Philadelphia, a storehouse of history."

Just outside of Philadelphia is Valley Forge State Park, and if time allows, follow the Delaware River south and discover the famous Henry Francis du Pont Winterthur Museum just six miles north of Wilmington, Del.

Washington is the next major stop, and it abounds with memorials of the Civil War.

History unfolds further at Fredericksburg, Va., where four key battles took place. Their sites are contained at Spotsylvania National Military Park.

GREAT BATTLES
The route goes on to Richmond for a step back to pre-Revolutionary days and sites of great Civil War battles.

"Directly east of Richmond is Williamsburg, well worth a visit for those interested in the Colonial period, for this city is restored as nearly as possible to its 18th Century appearance," states Fisher.

The Colonial theme continues west of Richmond, where just three miles southeast of Charlottesville is Monticello, the home designed and occupied by Thomas Jefferson and now a national shrine.

"Scenery unlimited becomes the theme for those heading home through the Blue Ridge Mountains and back to the Pennsylvania Turnpike," says Fisher.

FOLLOWS BORDER
Another route (New York 17), for the time-pressed motorist, follows the Pennsylvania-New York border. Two of the many noteworthy stopoffs on this highway are Corning and Montour Falls.

A highway traveling north (Interstate 87) leads to the Catskill Mountains, only one-half day's drive from New York. Here all forms of recreation are available.

If time is not pressing at this point, US-20, below the west-bound New York Thruway, is worth the venture. Along it are colorful Cherry Valley and Cooperstown, the home of baseball's Hall of Fame.

After Cooperstown, one can go on to Buffalo, the gateway to either Niagara Falls and Canada or Cleveland around Lake Erie.

TOUR MONTREAL
If time is of no concern, a trip north from Albany through the Adirondack Mountains and along Lake Champlain leads to Montreal.

The traveler can tour Montreal and follow the St. Lawrence Seaway to Lake Ontario, which in turn can be followed to the shoreline of Lake Erie.

"Opportunities are unlimited for travel before or after the tourist leaves the World's Fair," says Fisher. "All he needs is the foresight to use his time and money to best advantage."

AAA estimates that the budget for tourists who drive 300 miles daily will be $31 per couple.

This budget includes $10.50 for meals and snacks, $11 for lodging (higher in New York and surrounding areas), $7 for gas and oil, and $2.50 for tips and miscellaneous.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHESS

QUESTION: Why are people so absorbed when they play chess?

ANSWER: The word "chess" comes from the Persian "shah" meaning "king," and it is thought the game was invented by Asiatic kings, who liked it because it resembled warfare in miniature.

In chess, you pit your own wits against your opponent's; there are no chance developments.

Chess players are absorbed because they are planning their strategy of attack and at the same time guarding themselves against the carefully laid plans of the other player.

One player has the white pieces, the other the black. We show the lineup of the blacks, on top, as the game starts, with a king and queen, two bishops, two knights, two rooks or castles and eight pawns.

Each type of piece has a different way of moving. The queen is the most powerful, combining the moves of the bishops and the rooks. The knight is the only piece which can jump over others while moving.

In the picture, Bob, left, had a strong attack going against Margie's king, but he forgot to watch what Margie was doing and now she is slipping her queen up against his king and calling "checkmate!" which means she has won. It's a thrilling finish, both for the players and the spectators.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you don't know chess, get someone to show you the moves and explain the situation in lower right, which shows why Bob's king was checkmated.

Bill to Block Enrollment

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The State Senate quickly approved a bill Wednesday which would throw a legal roadblock in front of a 17-year-old Negro's application for admission to the University of Mississippi.

The House may act today on the "emergency" bill hustled through the Senate. It would authorize youth courts to make records available to colleges and universities.

The applicant has a youth court record of arrests for participating in civil rights demonstrations. An arrest record could be used to oppose his application to Ole Miss.

The young Negro is a student at Tougaloo College, a predominantly Negro school near Jackson. His advisers withheld his name as a protective measure.

TWO KILLED
Twenty months ago the enrollment of James H. Meredith at the university in Oxford touched off a night of rioting. Two persons were killed and hundreds injured.

The Army sent 22,000 troops into the Oxford area to restore order.

Meredith received his bachelor's degree from Ole Miss last August. U.S. marshals guarded him throughout his stay at the university.

Sees Storage in Great Lakes

'Natural Reservoir for Desalinized Water'

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — The Great Lakes could become a reservoir for the entire mid-section of the North American continent, a Michigan State University geographer said Wednesday.

"Pro. Allen Philbrick, said the available water supply of the Great Lakes could be doubled by adding to the lakes 20 billion gallons of desalinized sea water a day. A year's supply of water for the region could be stored with less than five inches of rise in the level of the lakes, he told the Canadian Association of Geographers at the University of Western Ontario.

Seawater should be considered a natural resource to be "mined," he said, adding: "Within a decade it will be economically feasible to remove the salt from great amounts of seawater and store the fresh water product for future use."

Experiments by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission point to the possibility of producing fresh water from seawater for as little as five cents per thousand gallons. Nuclear reactor plants could deliver a billion gallons of desalinized water a day, he added.

The Great Lakes, he said, "is not only the world's largest single fresh water supply, but is also the world's largest storage reservoir—available for free use without building a single dam."

Found Guilty of Maiming Area Man

DETROIT (AP) — Charged with maiming, a crime seldom tried in modern courts, Charles William Cashion, 27, of Detroit, was convicted by a Recorder's (Criminal) Court jury Wednesday of deliberately trying to blind a former policeman.

The jury took an hour and a half to convict Cashion of trying to blind Jack Williams, 38, of suburban Farmington, in a Detroit bar fight last December.

The state claimed Cashion tried to gouge out Williams' eyes and doctors testified Williams may be permanently blind as a result of it.

CLAIMS SELF-DEFENSE
Cashion pleaded self-defense and claimed Williams had insulted Cashion's wife. The state contended the attack on Williams was without provocation and argued Cashion dug his thumbs into Williams' eyes after knocking him to the floor.

Maximum punishment for maiming is 10 years imprisonment.

Visiting Circuit Judge Edward H. Fenlon of Petoskey set sentencing for June 19. The jurist said it was his first trial in which maiming had been charged.

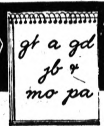

Is it proper to call for Gordon's by name in English Pubs?

It's not a matter of being proper. It's unnecessary. For when most Englishmen ask for gin, they expect to get Gordon's. After all, its distinctive dryness and delicate flavour have been a part of English life for 195 years. Americans, however, have been enjoying Gordon's for a somewhat shorter span of time. So it is wise (and proper) to specify Gordon's by name. Your first sip of a Gordon's martini will tell you why it's the biggest selling gin over here as well as in England and the rest of the world.

'Latin Alliance Falling Short'

Salinger Says Plan Not Up to JFK Hopes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Alliance for Progress "has not lived up to President Kennedy's high hopes or to the enthusiasm which greeted its birth," says Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary.

Speaking to 500 students in the San Fernando Valley Wednesday, the candidate for the Democratic Senate nomination said "we have fallen short of this ambitious plan" to develop Latin-American nations.

"In the first two years of the alliance," he said, "the U.S. government distributed $1.5 billion dollars in loans and grants instead of the planned $2.1 billion. And one fourth of what was spent went for currency stabilization in countries with runaway inflation. But that money, of itself, cleared no jungles and cleaned up no slums," he added.

NEW TREATY

The Senate hopeful also said he favors renegotiation of the Panama Canal Treaty to recognize what he termed the inequity of a document agreed to 60 years ago.

Salinger also said he thinks that the American government should not recognize regimes immediately following military coups, but that they should be given time to prove they mean to hold democratic elections.

The national average of prices asked of buyers of homes rose in 1963 from $12,400 to $12,800, and for renters from $56 to $61 per month.

Among Egypt Women

Mrs. K Starts 'Revolution'

CAIRO (AP) — Nina Khrushchev, matronly, gray-haired wife of the Soviet Union's No. 1 revolutionary, has started a revolution of her own in Egypt. She has brought the wives of the United Arab Republic's leaders out from behind the veil of Moscow society.

Since the Khrushchevs came to town, Egyptian newspaper readers have been startled to see a profusion of pictures of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's boxom wife Tahia taking a leading role at official functions instead of staying home where most Arabs believe women belong.

The first ladies of the Soviet Union and the U.A.R. have been visiting museums, cruising the Nile, making other tourist excursions and appearing on stage for their husbands' speeches.

This is routine for Mrs. Khrushchev, but not for Mrs. Nasser, who is 40. In the past the Egyptian first lady made a few public appearances to greet visitors, but never before have Egyptians seen so much of her.

VEILS ARE OUT

Though most women in Egypt no longer wear veils, the business of state is an all-male affair. Usually Mrs. Nasser devotes her time to being an anonymous housewife and mother to the president's five children.

One female member of Nasser's family has been absent from the festivities, but by her own choice. Nasser's daughter Hoda, 19, visited the Soviet Union last year as the guest of Khrushchev's daughter, Rada Adzhubel. The Soviet Embassy passed the word that Rada wanted Hoda to accompany her throughout her stay in Egypt, but Hoda said she was too busy with her university exams. Nasser couldn't change her mind.

FIRST LADIES — Nina Khrushchev (left), gray-haired wife of the Soviet premier, walks arm-in-arm with Tahia Nasser, wife of the UAR president, through the streets of Port Said earlier this week. Following Mrs. Khrushchev's example, Arab women have been taking a larger part in public affairs than has been traditional.

The Soviet entourage includes a bevy of women. For some of them the trip is a shopping spree.

Planked by interpreters and a small police escort, the Soviet ladies have been combing Cairo's shops and the vast maze of the old bazaar.

Despite Nasser's socialism, which drastically reduced the variety of consumer goods, Soviet residents say the Cairo shops are bulging with goodies unknown in the Soviet Union.

LBJ in State, Accompanied by Staebler

DETROIT (AP) — President Johnson will be accompanied to the University of Michigan for his commencement address Friday by Rep. Neil Staebler, D-Mich., a U. of M. alumnus, among others.

Staebler's office here said the Democratic congressman and candidate for his party's nomination for governor will be aboard the Presidential jet plane from Washington and also will ride with Johnson on the helicopter flight from Detroit to Ann Arbor.

Other congressmen also may accompany the President.

DUE TOMORROW

Johnson is due at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 9 a.m. tomorrow. He returns to Washington after his 11 a.m. stadium speech in Ann Arbor.

Detroit municipal workers — those who can be spared — will be excused to greet President Johnson at the airport on his arrival. Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh gave his permission Wednesday.

Report Copper Discovery

Smelting Firm Spurs Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—A big leap by U.S. Smelting reported that it has made a major copper ore discovery in New Mexico resulted in a delayed opening for the stock which was swamped by buyers.

It soared 104 points to a new high of 130 on a block of 26,000 shares and held that price in later dealings.

This touched off renewed trading eagerness for stocks with known or possible mineral and oil discoveries, both on the New York and the American Stock Exchange.

Meanwhile, rails lost the steam that propelled them into market leadership yesterday. Profits were taken in a number of leading carriers.

Big Three motors were fractionally higher. Selective gains by blue chips resulted in somewhat higher stock averages but the market had many dead spots.

The Associated Press average of 90 stocks at noon was up 6.37, with industrials up 1.5, rails up .5 and utilities off .3.

Prices rose in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed with rails higher. U.S. Government bonds were irregular in slow trading.

Grain Market Firm in Active Dealings

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market was generally firm in fairly active dealings today on the Board of Trade with both wheat and soybeans gaining a cent or so in spots.

Brokers said a good deal of the support for wheat was linked with reports that producers are complying heavily with acreage controls in order to be eligible for government benefit payments.

Shortly before the end of the first hour wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 cent a bushel higher, July sold at $4.49 1/4, corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, July $2.14 1/4, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, July 62 1/2 cents; soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 higher, July $2.49 1/4.

POPPLY SALEMEN—American Legionnaires Charles N. Foote (left) of the Cook-Nelson Post and Thomas J. Tanning of the Chief Pontiac Post are heading teams of volunteers selling poppies on Pontiac streets today through Saturday. Contributions go into the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of the Legion. About 17 million poppies produced by more than 5,000 disabled war veterans have been distributed for nationwide sale.

Ailment Cures Boredom in Humans, Dogs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping at conclusions:

Dogs eat better and live longer than they did a generation ago, but they have less fun out of life—just like many people.

They have the same problem, too—boredom.

The quickest way to cure a human being of boredom is to give him an ailment of some kind, even if it is only a stomach ache. The quickest way to cure a dog of boredom is to put a single flea on him. It may keep him busy for days.

In literature, the business man is often portrayed as a cliché-ridden, near-literate. In actual fact the average successful industrial executive can use language more effectively than the average college professor.

The real reason a wife likes to send her husband's clothes to the cleaner isn't to make him look neat. It's because this gives her a good excuse to go through his pockets.

One of the reasons we look forward to going to heaven is that no one has to ride on subways there.

Most pickpockets are skinny. Confidence men, on the other hand, often tend to be overweight—perhaps because most people unconsciously tend to trust fat men.

When a warden picks a convict to work around his home, he usually chooses one under sentence for murder. Why? Murderers are usually more trustworthy. They rarely steal. It's the lady with the biggest diamond on her finger who often puts the smallest coin in the church collection basket.

Receptionists read more long historical novels than any other class of people. They feel cheated if a book has less than 400 pages.

The safest man to lend money to is a fellow with an ulcer. He generally will pay you back on time because if he doesn't, his conscience pangs will make his ulcer flare up. This isn't true, however, of a guy with gallstones.

The bigger the attaché case a man carries, the smaller is his office authority.

If everybody carried out his daydreams for a single day, everybody in America would be in jail by nightfall.

Fame and fortune wait today on the genius who can figure out some economic use for old hula hoops. Isn't there some way we can fit them into our foreign aid program?

The worst brag to put up with is the guy who not only kicked the cigarette habit—but boasts he did it without putting on a single pound.

Bette Davis is Sued

by Paramount Studio

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Paramount Pictures Corp. has sued actress Bette Davis for $7,000 damages, claiming she has refused to report for filming one added scene for the picture "Where Love Has Gone."

The suit asked that Miss Davis be restrained from working in any artistic endeavor.

Jacob on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

Here is a hand from the Charity Challenge Cup that illustrates the one great weakness of the old-fashioned forcing two bid.

When South Africa held the North-South cards in a match against England, South did open two spades, North responded two no-trump. South raised him to three and East made the inspired lead of a low heart. Down two.

Strangely enough South Africa gained on the hand. The British South opened an artificial two clubs and North responded with an artificial two diamonds. Then they staggered into six diamonds and worked out a play for down three.

Unless South is using an artificial two club opening, he should open with either a very conservative two no-trump or a slightly optimistic three no-trump.

North might decide to raise three no-trump and South might

Breaks Ground for Federal Law

Major Attention Focused on Job Title in Rights Bill

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In the 11 weeks of the Senate civil rights debate, scores of amendments have been proposed to clarify, strengthen or weaken various parts of the bill. The following article, the second of a three-part series on the bill's provisions, explains the equal opportunity title and the voter rights provisions as they stand now and some of the proposals for changing them.)

By JOE HALL.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the 11 weeks of Senate debate and cloakroom bargaining on the civil rights bill, much of the attention has focused on the equal employment section.

It has attracted a large share of the scores of amendments proposed to change the bill.

The equal opportunity section, known as Title Seven, is one of two provisions which break ground for federal law. The other is the public accommodations provision aimed at discrimination in hotels and motels, restaurants and amusement places.

Republican and Democratic Senate leaders and administration officials have accepted a number of amendments to the job title as part of a whole package of changes. They hope the proposed changes will win the bill the two-thirds majority needed to break the Southern filibuster.

NOT IN JFK BILL

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, chief author of the compromise package of amendments, is fond of pointing out there was no equal employment provision in the original civil rights bill submitted to Congress last year by the late President John F. Kennedy.

But Dirksen has said he can support its retention if his suggestions for changing it are accepted.

As the bill cleared the House, it would ban discrimination in any phase of employment or membership on the part of employers, unions or employment agencies on grounds of race, color, religion, national origin or sex.

It would apply to companies and unions with 100 or more employees or members in the first year, 75 or more in the second, 50 or more in the third, and 25 thereafter.

COMMISSION CREATED

A five-member Equal Employment Opportunity Commission would be created to receive complaints.

The commission is directed to try to settle any complaint by conciliation and persuasion. But if those methods fail, it may bring an injunction suit to end the discrimination.

Dirksen's agreed-upon package of amendments would modify this so that the commission could call on the attorney general to bring a suit only if a pattern of discrimination existed.

In individual cases, the aggrieved person would have to file suit, although the attorney general would be allowed to intervene.

LOCAL AGENCY

Under the House bill, the federal commission could allow a state or local agency to handle a complaint if it found that the agency was functioning effectively.

Dirksen's amendments would strengthen power of the states by giving them exclusive jurisdiction of any case for a specific period. Thirty-one states now have fair employment practices laws of some type.

Southern senators simply want Title Seven eliminated.

They argue that it would give the federal government far too much power to interfere in hiring, firing and promotions.

The voting rights section of the House bill, Title One, would extend the federal powers in this field contained in the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

It would require that identical standards be applied to all voters in elections for federal officials, provide that immaterial errors on registration forms must be disregarded, and require that literacy tests must be in writing unless the individual agrees to an oral test.

The attorney general is allowed to request that a three-judge court be set up to hear such suits.

Southern senators bitterly attack the latter provision, contending it would allow the attorney general to shop around for a favorable court.

They also insist that the title constitutes an additional interference with the right of states to control their own elections.

Softball Play Thicker in Local Rec Leagues

A five-run rally in the top of the seventh inning carried Local No. 653 to a 12-8 triumph over Bud and Lou's Bar in a National League softball game at Northside Park last night.

In the first game at Northside, Pontiac's Merchants rallied off 16 hits in trouncing Lippell-Colegrove, 16-4.

In games at Beaudette Park, Orchard Lanes squeezed by G & M Construction, 8-7, and Bob and Larry's Bar downed Berry Doak, 10-2.

Local No. 654 and Bud and Lou's were tied at 7-7 going into the final inning, and the winners broke it up with four hits that produced the five runs.

Dewey Rice paced the union nine with five hits in five trips, two doubles and three singles.

Jim Patrick collected four hits and Jim Fish came through with three in the Merchants' easy victory.

Orchard Lanes scored three runs in the last of the sixth to break a 5-5 tie and then cut short G & M rally in the final inning.

Bob and Larry's came up with eight runs on six hits in the second inning and coasted to victory. Yarnold Morris sparked the attack with a pair of hits.

WATERFORD PLAY

In Waterford Township softball, Dixie Bar won its first game of the season, a 7-4 decision over Pink Poodle Lounge, and Haskins Chevrolet ran its record to 2-0 with a 12-11 triumph over Huron Bowl.

Jim Brown and Ray Jergovich came through with singles in the fifth that produced the lead runs for Dixie Bar. John Meilenbach went the distance for the victory. He fanned nine.

Huron Bowl outlast Haskins, 19-11, but the losers couldn't put the safeties together. Don Ostrander collected five hits in five trips for Huron.

Albion Thinclads Win

ALBION (UPI) — Albion's track team tuned up for its clash with co-favorite Calvin in Saturday's MIAA championships here by defeating the Knights, 71-55, in a dual meet Wednesday.

Harris Leads PNH Triumph

John Harris had another good day as Pontiac Northern whipped Waterford, 72-37, yesterday in a dual Inter-Lakes League track meet.

Harris, who qualified for the state meet in three events, piled up 16 1/2 points against the Skip-pers.

He won the broad jump, high jump, 100-yard dash and ran a leg on the winning 800 relay team.

The victory gives PNH a 5-2 record.

Jeff Hipses set a Cranbrook track record in the 440, but the British Face Dilemma Over Yacht Challenger

By JOHN FARROW
GOSPORT, England (AP) — The British today found themselves in a dilemma about which yacht should represent their country in the America's Cup racing against the Americans in September off Rhode Island.

The first set of trials between Sovereign and Kurrewa V ended with Sovereign ahead. Immediately afterwards the millionaire owners of the two British yachts—Owen Aisher of Kurrewa V and Tony Boyden of Sovereign—went into secret talks to discuss the trials.

"Kurrewa V is superior to Sovereign on windward legs—but is lower downwind," said the millionaire owners of the two British yachts.

"Kurrewa has been showing a tendency to swing to port. When this trouble is cured—probably by adjusting the rudder—it is expected she will be faster downwind."

The second set of trials between the two yachts will start Sunday. Another series will follow before the yachts are shipped to the United States late in June for the final trials in August to decide the British representative.

Slightholme said: "At this stage Kurrewa has only a modest wardrobe of sails still being developed."

He added: "In the near future Kurrewa will have, in addition to her American hood suit, two to three other mainsails, four spinnakers and about five genoa.

"Once she has evaluated these sails properly in various winds, new sails will be made by using the specially developed sailcloth which is estimated to be the equal of, or better than, the American cloth."

No details were given of the new cloth.

Sovereign was launched about nine months ago and her crew has had more time for training than that of Kurrewa, launched only a month ago.

Favor Purdue in Golf Play

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)

—The Purdue Boilermakers are the odds-on favorites to gain a sixth Big Ten golf championship in the past 10 years this weekend at the University of Minnesota course.

A field of 60 golfers will play on the 6,330-yard, par 71 course.

Purdue, which has won 20 of its 21 matches this season, boasts a co-favorite for individual honors in junior Terry Winter, who last year was chosen to the golf coaches association All America squad.

Each school will enter a six-man team with the low five players in each of the four rounds counting towards the team score.

Wolverines Win Twice From U-D in Baseball

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Michigan's baseball team defeated Detroit, 11-6, in a completed April contest and then rallied to edge the Titans, 5-4, in a regularly scheduled game here Wednesday.

The opener was a continuation of a game which had been called because of darkness in Detroit. Michigan was at bat in the top of the 12th inning leading 6-5, with runners on first and second and one out.

TIED IN 12TH

Detroit got out of the jam Wednesday and tied the score, 6-6, in the bottom of the 12th on Don Deplula's RBI single. But Michigan erupted for five

Your Heart Has Nine Lives—IV

Lower Cholesterol in Blood and Reduce Chances of Attack

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of articles condensed from the new book, "Your Heart Has Nine Lives.")

By ALTON BLAKESLEE and JEREMIAH STAMLER, M.D.

You can easily eat your way into a high risk of a heart attack as measured by high blood cholesterol.

But with knife and fork and spoon and glass, you can also lower blood cholesterol in a short time, and keep it down.

The change required is moderate — not a drastic surrendering of all the foods that tempt you, not a starvation diet, not a monotonous restriction to just a few things so typical of many crash diets.

It involves primarily a change in the amount and type of fat — and the amount of cholesterol — you eat. And it does work, as dozens of scientific tests have shown.

One example is the Anti-Corony Club, started in New York in 1957, in which middle-aged men voluntarily adopted diet changes.

SAFER LEVELS

Blood cholesterol fell to safer levels in about 80 per cent of these men, and about half who had been chubby lost weight.

Their rate of heart attacks has been one-fifth the rate expected for men of this age, on the basis of other studies.

It is premature to credit the diet change with actually having prevented many heart attacks. But we can be cautiously optimistic.

There is good reason to expect that a 15 to 20 per cent reduction in cholesterol level among middle-aged men could reduce heart attacks by 25 to 50 per cent.

MAIN CHANGE

The main diet change required is in emphasis upon the kinds of foods and "goodies" you eat — more emphasis on some, less on others. You can still be a gourmet.

The rules are simple:

REDUCE the share of calories or "fuel" coming from fats, in favor of other foods you like.

Put LESS emphasis on foods high in saturated fats.

Put MORE emphasis on foods high in polyunsaturated fats.

TOTAL INTAKE

CONTROL total caloric intake to achieve and then hold to desirable weight. Don't expect this to happen in a quick week or so.

The key is to SUBSTITUTE for present habits.

SUBSTITUTE low-fat or non-calories from fats down to 25 to 30 per cent of calories supplied by everything you eat.

SUBSTITUTE more polyunsaturated fats for the saturated kind. Don't just ADD polyunsaturated fats to what you are eating now. That would merely add to your total fats and calories.

USUALLY SOLIDIFY

Saturated fats, the kind that tend to raise blood cholesterol, generally but not always come from animals. They usually solidify at room temperature, like the fat in gravy or stew.

Polyunsaturated fats generally, but not always, come from vegetable or fish oils, and tend to remain liquid at room temperature.

If you reduce your intake of saturated fats and cholesterol, blood cholesterol comes down. If you substitute some polyunaturated fats for the saturated kind, you get a further moderate decrease in blood cholesterol.

DAIRY PRODUCTS

Emphasize those low in fats and cholesterol — such as skim milk, buttermilk, cottage cheese, other low-fat cheeses.

De-emphasize high-fat products such as sweet cream, sour cream, ice cream, fat-rich cheeses, butter.

De-emphasize. Egg yolks are very high in cholesterol and contain considerable amounts of saturated fat.

The white of eggs is essentially a protein, albumen, and you can eat as much of that as you like. Reduce egg consumption to two or three yolks a week.

MEATS

Emphasize trimmed cuts of lean meat. Trim off all the visible fat on a steak or roast before you eat it — or before you cook it.

Cook so as to get rid of fat, and keep the portions down to moderate size.

POULTRY

Emphasize lean poultry, especially white meat of chicken, turkey, and broilers.

Avoid the skin because fat is concentrated under the skin. Ducks, geese and stewing hens are relatively high in fat.

FISH AND SEAFOOD

Emphasize favorite fish and seafoods which are high in protein content, and much lower in saturated fats and higher in polyunsaturated fats than are meats.

VEGETABLES AND FRUITS

Emphasize all of these. They are low or moderate in calories, and rich in essential nutrients, vitamins and minerals.

The small amounts of fat in most vegetables are polyunsaturated.

Use oil and vinegar on salads, or prepared dressings containing polyunsaturated fats, or mayonnaise and mayonnaise-type salad dressings low in saturated and high in polyunsaturated fats.

PASTRIES AND BAKERY PRODUCTS

De-emphasize these foods, especially since most commercial sweet rolls, cakes, cookies, doughnuts, rich crackers, pies and pastries are not only high in calories, but are generally made with highly saturated shortenings.

For dessert, you can more frequently substitute fruit, fresh or compote, for pie a la mode or shortcake, for example.

BREADS, CEREALS AND PASTAS

Perfectly acceptable are white bread, whole wheat and rye bread, plain rolls, low-fat crackers, all cereals (use skim milk with them), all pastas such as spaghetti, macaroni, and noodles — and potatoes too.

In cooking, use oils, not solid shortenings.

SPREADS AND OILS

De-emphasize solid spreads, cooking fats, butter and margarine high in saturated fats. New margarine now are available made with corn or safflower oils which are higher in polyunsaturates and lower in saturated fats.

With bread or toast, try using jelly, jam or honey or marmalade rather than a thick layer of butter.

Space out your meals over the day, rather than count on one meal and semistarvation at breakfast or lunch. The great banquet type of supper or dinner tends to raise blood cholesterol.

Remember, most of the fat, particularly the hard fat, comes from five big sources in the American diet — meats, fat-rich dairy products (whole milk, cream, cheeses), eggs, solid fats (butter, lard, shortenings and margarine) and commercial baked goods (pastries, cakes, cookies, pies). Make a significant dent in all of these, and it's hard to miss the target.

Sing Me a Silly Song of Suburbia

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vast numbers of Americans have moved to the suburbs in recent years and sociologists have had a field day trying to explain the migration. Actually, the explanation is quite simple. Most people move to the suburbs to get away from folk singers.

In suburbia, it is still possible to frequent public places without having some loud in need of a haircut twang a guitar at you.

Folk singers naturally resent being shunned in this manner, and they recently struck back with a scornful ditty depicting the suburbs as a collection of little boxes made of ticky-tacky.

I'll admit that we suburbanites are vulnerable, but the folk singers have failed to nick our vital spot. The curse of suburbia is not conformity, as they imply.

CLOYING NAMES
That makes suburbia so repelling are those cloying names that real estate promoters give to the developments and subdivisions where the little boxes are located.

With few exceptions, suburban names are either revoltingly cute or nauseatingly pretentious or utterly ridiculous.

I personally am domiciled in a suburb known as "Sleepy Hollow," for Pete's sake. What kind of a name is that to plaster on an adult residential community? It sounds like something that belongs in Disneyland.

SENSELESS NAME

You can wander through a good part of suburbia without encountering a single "burg" or "ville" or any other sensible suffix for a place name.

The little boxes are all sit-

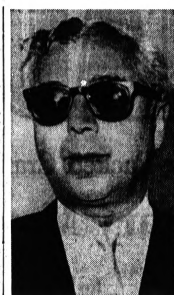

Soviet Trawlers Cruising Near San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two Soviet trawlers are cruising off the San Francisco coast but the Navy says it has them under surveillance.

The vessels were sighted Wednesday near the Farallon Islands, 26 miles west of San Francisco.

A Navy spokesman said the craft have been tracked since May 10 when they were first seen near San Clemente Island off Southern California.

The trawlers are the Barograph and the Amter, each a 165-footer.

ARRESTED—Murray Helwitz, ticket office manager of the Shubert Theaters, was arrested in New York yesterday, charged with overcharging for tickets. Helwitz was said to have forced nine brokers to pay more than $70,000 above box office prices last year.

"I'm going on a polar bear hunting expedition to the North Pole on June 5."

His bride, he said, will join him July 12 in New York City.

Broadway Sunday Nights Change From Mild to Wild

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—Sunday night used to be sort of restful around Broadway . . . but now the "legit" Broadway theater mob . . . maybe as part of the new late trend . . . is making its night off also a night to go swingin' and dancin' . . . and Lord help us reporters!

Take the other Sabbath-into-Monday dawnin'.

Tammy Grimes (planning to marry Harvey Presnell, we hear) was dancing with Sammy Davis at Mark Twain's Riverboat . . . Richard Burton was dancing with Josephine Premice . . . Lee Remick was celebrating a tonsil operation talking to Jack Lemmon . . . all at 11 p.m. party that proprietor Jan Mitchell gave for Burton and Liz Taylor after an Actors' Guild "Hamlet" performance.

"Don't say where you heard it," an authentic news source said, above the orchestra, "but this is the last year for the famous 'Tony' awards."

"This Sunday night will be the last . . ."

The Friars' Man-of-the-Year toast of Joey Bishop kept going until midnight, Roastmaster Jack E. Leonard being especially sharp.

"George Jessel can't be here as he's in Israel planting trees. He's off to Mexico City to play El Patio and look for a site to film 'Paint Your Wagon.' . . . Irving Berlin caught trout in his own stream in the Catskills. Irving Hoffman arranged for him to have them pan-grilled lusciously at Trader Vic's."

Johnny Carson's giving his "impressions" of Jack Paar and Steve Allen—his predecessors—"Tonight—in his upcoming cake act at the Las Vegas Sahara . . . Nancy Berg looked so pretty and provocative in 'Fail Safe' that Sam Spiegel asked Producer Max Youngstein to see more film on her. He wants to test her for 'The Chase.' Big chain hotels are considering Las Vegas, because their foreign customers want to go there . . . Japanese, for example, wild about their peckin' games, are frantic to see the really big gambling capital.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Getting a word in edgewise while some women are talking is like threading a sewing machine with the motor running."

EARL'S PEARLS: A lecturer at the Fair's DuPont exhibit described nylon: "It has affected the lives of all of us, and the legs of half of us."

Tote Fields defines happiness: "When you get a brown stain — on your brown dress . . . when you lose a $2,000 diamond—that's insured for $5,000 . . . when you speed past a state trooper's car—that has a flat tire . . . that's happiness! That's earl, brother."

Turk Cypriots Blamed for Killing Finn U.N. Soldier

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Turkish Cypriots were blamed today for the first fatality in the U.N. peace force on Cyprus.

U.N. headquarters announced a Finnish radio operator, Juhani Matikainen, 27, was killed last night in a two-hour battle between Turkish Cypriots and Finnish patrols.

A U.N. statement said Matikainen was hit by three bullets while sitting in his patrol car in fields near the Turkish village of Kanli, six miles northwest of Nicosia.

The car had accompanied a recovery team to aid another Finnish vehicle that broke down while providing an escort for farmers bringing in their harvest.

Turkish positions fired about 20 shots at the Finnish vehicle, the U.N. statements said.

PLEA FOR HELP

Lt. Col. U. Kettinen, commander of the Finnish battalion, rushed to the area with a platoon and two armored personnel carriers in response to a radio plea for help.

Though the Finns called out their identities, the shooting continued. The Finns returned the fire.

Matikainen was struck once in the head and twice in the chest. The firing stopped after he was hit.

Umit Suleyman, a representative of Turkish Cypriot leader Fazil Kuchuk, expressed "deep regret" at the incident.

He said he would conduct a full investigation and report to the U.N. force.

Troops of the peace force have been fired on a number of times since they took up their task on Cyprus in late March, but heretofore the few casualties have only been wounded.

There were 1,374,421 Americans living abroad when the 1960 U.S. census was taken, 80 per cent of them members of the Armed Forces and their families.

Adlai Vows U.S. to Defend SE Asia

Accused Agent Claims He Is Being Framed

'Government Knew of Planned Testimony Against JFK Guards'

CHICAGO (AP) — A Secret Service agent, accused of soliciting a $50,000 payoff, has charged the government with framing him because he planned to reveal the "over-all general laxity" of agents guarding the late President John F. Kennedy.

Abraham Bolden, 29, the first Negro to serve on the White House Secret Service detail, said yesterday that agents guarding President Kennedy drank heavily before and after tours of duty at Washington and Hyannis Port, Mass.

He also said they often reported half-drunk for duty or missed their assignments completely.

Bolden was suspended Tuesday after he was charged with attempting to sell a top-secret government file to a defendant in an alleged crime syndicate counterfeiting operation.

Officials said Bolden's arrest was the first hint of its kind in the Secret Service.

NEWS CONFERENCE

In a news conference called in his home yesterday, Bolden denied the accusations against him.

He said the government trumped up the charges because it knew he was planning to tell the Warren commission of the drinking.

"I'm not trying to speculate what happened in Dallas," Bolden said, "but I intend to tell the Warren commission what I know."

He was assigned to the White House during periods in June and July of 1961. He said that at one point he told James J. Rowley, head of the Secret Service, of the drinking incidents but no action was taken.

U.S. Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan branded Bolden's allegations as "fantastic."

"The accuracy of these charges should be judged by the fact that the man who made them was silent about his observations from 1961 until after he was arrested," Hanrahan said.

2 Problems Cloud Districting

LANSING (AP) — The dual problems of selecting a plan and finding votes for immediate effect faced Senate Republicans today as they renewed efforts to ward settling Michigan's congressional redistricting crisis.

A key decision on which of two plans to accept — a House-approved scheme favoring the GOP or a more bipartisan Senate version — was expected in a morning caucus.

In addition, GOP leaders hoped to scrape up the one or two votes they apparently would need to give immediate effect to a bill pushing the Aug. 4 primary back to Sept. 1.

One idea was that adoption of the Senate apportionment plan might bring Democratic support for the election date bill.

VOTE REQUIRED

Requiring a two-thirds vote, immediate effect is necessary to avoid a 90-day waiting period that would make the bill effective after the Aug. 4 date, thereby nullifying its value.

The time shortage means either the congressional redistricting plan or the bill to postpone the primary must be given immediate effect.

The primary bill slipped through the Senate on a 21-11 vote. But the attempt to give it immediate effect failed because Democrats balked and two of the Senate's 23 Republicans were out of their seats.

of amendments of the civil rights bill at the second party caucus in two days in Washington.

Road Program Set by County

$3.5-Million Plans Include New Garage

A $3.5-million construction program was unveiled yesterday by the Oakland County Road Commission.

The program includes 20 primary road projects and 17 local road jobs the commission plans to complete by next winter.

Included also is completion of a new road construction garage near Lake Orion for $216,000.

Major among the primary road projects are:

- Three miles of two-lane concrete pavement on Cooley Lake Road between Elizabeth Lake and Cass-Elizabeth. This is expected to cost about $465,000 when bids are taken June 10 in Lansing. The federal government is sharing the cost.

- Two miles of two-lane bituminous concrete on South Boulevard between M24 and Adams, expected to cost about $300,000. The contract is to be let June 25.

- Widening 1.48 miles of 14 Mile Road between John R and Rochester Road from two to four lanes of concrete for an estimated $230,000. Contracts are to be let in July.

LET CONTRACTS

- Widening a mile of Crooks between 14 Mile and Maple from two to four lanes of concrete. This is expected to cost about $257,000 when contracts are let June 25.

Other primary road projects for this year are:

- Nearly three miles of Baldwin, between Seymour Lake Road and Oakwood to be paved with asphalt for $69,893. Contracts already have been let, and this job is slated for completion in two weeks.

- Four miles of Bogie Lake Road, from Commerce to M59 now being graded for $101,000, to be paved in asphalt for another $100,000 this summer.

- A mile of Crooks, between Long Lake Road and Wattles, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Enough Votes Claimed for Rights Bill in June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic and Republican leaders claim enough votes are in sight to halt the Southern filibuster and pass the civil rights bill next month.

The optimistic forecast came from Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader and floor manager for the bill, and Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader and chief architect of a package of amendments designed to win over undecided senators.

With the showdown put off until early June, the leadership called on the Senate Appropriations Committee and others to catch up on their big backlog of bills until the civil rights fireworks start again.

The Senate is no longer being called in two hours early, and Saturday sessions may be abandoned.

JUNE PETITION

Humphrey told reporters, "We will most likely file a cloture petition early in June."

"As we see it," the Minnesota added, "we will have enough votes to obtain cloture on the package."

Dirksen, in a separate interview, said he too hopes that once the cloture petition is offered there will be enough votes to limit debate. But, he added, "I must acknowledge the margin will be narrow."

Cloture is a device for choking off debate in the Senate. It requires a two-thirds majority of the senators voting — 67 if all 100 are on hand.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Dixie forces fighting the bill, told a reporter: "Pressure is increasing daily on senators to support the bill. Pressure also is increasing for the gag rule."

UAW Runoff Is Completed

Johnson New Chief at Fisher Body Local

A runoff election ended this morning with Don H. Johnson picked as new president of Fisher Body UAW Local 596.

Johnson, 39, of 540 Auburn, emerged as winner in a runoff race with Raymond Norman, 58, who had served as top local union executive 1949 to 1951.

He takes over leadership of the 3,800-member local from incumbent Gerald W. Kehoe, who lost his bid for a fourth two-year term when he was defeated in the regular election last week.

Results of a second runoff showed Leo A. Fisher, 35, of 5809 Berkley, Waterford Township, defeating incumbent Tom Clarkson for election as financial secretary.

Neither Johnson nor Fisher previously held executive posts in the UAW, but both have served on committees, and Johnson as a shop committee man.

An employee in the materials department in the Fisher Body plant, Johnson said his campaign platform included support of better pension benefits and plant working conditions in upcoming contract negotiations.

Vote totals have not yet been announced, but it is believed he won by a wide margin over Norman, of 380 Brandt, Orionville, a journeyman millwright in the plant who has also served two terms as financial secretary.

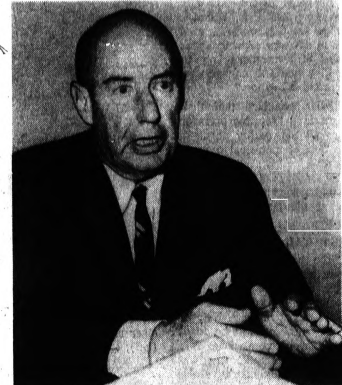

Executive board members earlier declared winners were Lyman Cowley as vice president, and Bill Hartman as recording secretary.

Other winners were Gene Harden, sergeant-at-arms; Ernest Berry, guide, and Daniel Stough, chairman of the shop committee.

Fisher Body Local, smallest UAW auto plant unit in Pontiac, is the only one holding a major election this year.

Neutrality Sole Hope for Peace—France

PARIS (AP) — France declared today the only solution for the crisis in Laos is guaranteed neutrality, and urged this be extended to all Southeast Asia as its only assurance of peace and independence.

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville told a Cabinet meeting:

"There is no other solution to the problem of Laos than the respect of neutralization guaranteed by the interested powers."

"A true and sincere solution of neutralization must extend to all of Southeast Asia. It is the sole guarantee of the peace and independence of the states."

In extending the call for neutralization of all Southeast Asia, the foreign minister was restating the stand of President Charles de Gaulle, who also contends the only solution for the Vietnamese war is neutralization.

The French stand came as the British government announced its support for a call by Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos for a meeting in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, of the 14 nations who signed the agreement in Geneva in 1962 setting up Laos as a neutral nation.

Charges Reds Want Control of Indochina

Chief U.N. Delegate Says Crisis Getting Extremely Dangerous

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson pledged today that the United States will continue to defend Southeast Asia against Communist attacks as long as the people of the area are determined to preserve their independence.

The chief U.N. delegate charged that the clear aim of the Indochinese Communist party and the Communist leadership of Viet Nam "is to take over control of all Indochina."

Stevenson, who rushed back yesterday from a European tour, told the U.N. Security Council that the United States has consistently come to the aid of peoples attacked from the outside.

And it will do so again, he said, "unless the lesson is learned once and for all by all aggressors that armed aggression does not pay—that it will not be tolerated."

He asserted that the crisis in Southeast Asia "has taken a turn for the worse."

"My government takes a very grave view of these events," he added. "Those who are responsible have set foot upon an exceedingly dangerous path."

ORIGINAL SPARK

The council debate originally was sparked by a Cambodian charge that the United States and South Viet Nam had committed aggression in recent border incidents.

Both the United States and Viet Nam replied that the violations were accidental and that they wanted to settle the matter peacefully.

'Ask SEATO to Consider Maneuvers'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is sounding out its Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) partners on the possibility of holding military maneuvers in northeast Thailand as a deterrent to Communist advances in Laos, the Washington Post reported today.

The Post said the State Department had called representatives of such members as France, Thailand, Australia and New Zealand about the possibility of repeating last summer's SEATO maneuvers which brought some 25,000 SEATO troops into the area near the Thailand-Laos border.

The representatives, after conferring with Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs William P. Bundy, were conferring with their home capitals, the Post said.

The United States, in statements issued the past two days by State Department spokesmen, has warned it is "not ruling out any measure which may be necessary" — military or otherwise — "to preserve the neutrality and independence of Laos."

The Post said it was understood that any new exercises in Thailand just across the Mekong River from Laos without actually getting involved directly in the Laotian situation.

Commitment to Life Urged at OU Conference

Some agreed — others disagreed — but, all were interested in what the speaker at Oakland University's conference on "Woman's Choices in This Confusing Century" Wednesday said. Some 400 women attended the all-day session, sponsored by the division of continuing education and directed by Priscilla Jackson.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Women are wasting their brain power and not living up to their potential, three speakers at Wednesday's second conference on women at Oakland University told an audience of some 400.

Dr. Gertrude Z. Gass of Merrill Palmer Institute said that the way women use their leisure time is revealing. Often they disguise it with "hastiness" because they do not know how to use it.

Women dislike making choices and committing themselves. This impoverishes their lives.

"Excitement and adventure awaits the woman willing to move out into the world."

Four hundred women and one telephone! After a short speech by Betty Friedman, author of "The Feminine Mystique," heard over direct phone hook-up from New York City, the audience questioned Mrs. Friedman.

COMMIT SELF

She, too, encouraged women to commit themselves to some important activity outside the home after the children have grown.

A fourth dimension is emerging, a real commitment in sociological terms. Women are on the move again.

Dr. Robert O' Blood, associate professor of sociology, University of Michigan, noted two important, but deplorable trends in modern life: premature marriage and early childbearing.

It is not best for parents to be as young as possible when they have their children. Children fare better, as do marriages, when the parents are more mature.

GET DEGREES

Dr. Blood would like to see more women educated to use their brain power and join forces with men in the important technological and scientific problems of the day.

Other women who do not wish to work in paid jobs should volunteer their talents in crucial work like political action and social reforms.

Mrs. Ervin Bartel, Motorway Drive (seated) acted as hostess-registrar at Wednesday's conference. Mrs. Robert A. Carter, Orchard Lake, waits her turn to sign in.

Ignored Abby's Advice; Regrets It 4 Babies Later

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In November of 1958 I wrote asking your advice about my husband, who cheated on me, beat me up and refused to take the responsibilities of a husband and father.

At the time I had only one child. Today I have five and I am kicking myself because I didn't take your advice.

You said, "Don't take him back until he has proved that he can stay away from other women, treat you with respect and hold a job."

Well, each time I took him back I got pregnant. He continued to cheat on me and slap me around, pregnant or not.

Print my letter to let other women know what can happen when they take a man back before he improves.

KICKING MYSELF

DEAR ABBY: Who is supposed to give the corsage on Mother's Day? The husband or the children?

I married a widow, and on the first Mother's Day after our marriage I sent her a lovely corsage.

Her son sent one too. (This happens to be the first thing this son of hers ever gave her besides trouble.)

Well, she must have thought more of her son's corsage than she did of mine because she wore HIS, and left mine home in the icebox.

I was very hurt although I didn't say anything, but the next year on Mother's Day I didn't send her a corsage and neither did her son.

She was stinking all week. Do you blame me for not sending her a corsage after what happened last year?

HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: Posies on Mother's Day mean less than understanding and love the other 364 days of the year.

Mrs. Wendell Kellogg (left) and Mrs. Charles Duff, both of Walled Lake, started their conference day with coffee and doughnuts.

Tales of Travels West

By MARY ANGLEMIER

"All too often letters, diaries and records in homes are looked upon as of no value whatever. But don't throw them away."

"My talk tonight concerns letters saved by the Judd family of Waterford Township," were the opening remarks of James Renfrew at Devon Gables Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Renfrew, a Royal Oak attorney, spoke to more than 200 persons at the 90th annual dinner meeting of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society on "Dan Judd's Way West, His Why and How."

According to seven letters given to the society by Jean Judd Visagalis of Drayton Plains, Dan Judd took off from Waterford for Oregon April 15, 1847 with a wagon and two horses. He returned in 1848.

LETTERS HOME

The letters written to his wife, who remained at home on the farm with the children, describe his joining a wagon train, the meeting with Indians, a wedding on the trip and just one death. The worst trouble, he wrote, was losing oxen.

At that time 1,100 wagon trains were on their way to California and Oregon.

In summing up his adventure Judd wrote to his wife, "No one is going to better himself by leaving Michigan, Waterford Center or Oakland County. Have a clean shirt and my razor ready for me, and tell the boys their father is coming."

Richard C. Poole reported on the progress of the foot cellar and improvements made on the Moses Wisner Home on Oakland Avenue.

MICHIGAN HISTORY

William K. Alderfer, new director of the Historical Society of Michigan, said he came bearing gifts for everyone. Copies of a new publication, "Brief History of Michigan," were on hand for those interested in the state's history.

The books are free to anyone writing to the state society in Lansing, he said.

White dogwood, lilies of the valley and violets were used in table arrangements by the Senior Trail Blazer Troop of Girl Scouts No. 280.

Covered wagons which the girls made at camp centered the speaker's and registrars' tables. The girls carved the wheels and axles from a spinning deep pine tree.

COMMITTEES

Mrs. Allan H. Monroe was in charge of dinner arrangements; and Mrs. Marion H. Benter, reservations.

Heading the hospitality committee were Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, Miss Emma Howard, Mrs. James W. Huttelocher, Dr. Sarah Van Housen Jones, John Linabury and Mrs. Earl A. Mastick.

Others greeting guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Selden, Miss Alice Serrell, Miss Adah Shelly, J. S. Sibley, William Whitfield and Mrs. John E. Windiate.

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Meadow Brook Hall, Rochester, was elected national president of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, at the 50th annual national meeting in Pittsburgh this week.

Out of Hats: Memories

"This Hat I Remember" was the theme for the Tuesday luncheon meeting at which members of the Junior Child Study Club wore hats depicting events in their lives.

The meeting was held in the Watkins Lake home of Mrs. Donald Newman with Mrs. George Ross, Mrs. Frank Antrous, Mrs. Allan Denham, Mrs. George Tremper and Mrs. Dean Field as cohostesses.

Officers for 1964-65 were installed by Mrs. Howard Powers.

Two Continue Tradition of University and Career

Environment and family traditions played a part in the career selections of two girls graduating Friday from the University of Michigan.

Both are the granddaughters of William S. Downes of Ophrye Road.

Linda Underhill and Sandra Hilderley, both former Pon-

tac Central High School students, graduated from Pontiac Northern High School.

Both were also on the combined Central-Northern swimming team.

LINDA

Linda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Underhill of Lake Angelus will graduate as a medical technician.

Her brother, Dr. William Underhill of Saginaw, inspired her career in the medical field.

SANDRA

Sandra will be the fourth generation teacher in her family. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hilderley of Joy Road, she also attended Hawaii University last summer.

Sandra's great-grandmother began the succession of teachers, followed by a great-aunt and an aunt.

Before settling down, Linda plans a European trip.

Sandra will teach English and physical education in Southfield Junior High School this fall.

These two girls bring to four the total number of grandchildren the Downes have seen graduate from the University of Michigan.

Burdened Parents Can Confuse Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: If I had not met my husband, my mother would have succeeded in wrecking my life. She brought me up to hate men.

She and my father split up when I was 5. For years after, all she ever talked about was how he had never loved us and what rats men are.

Now she is getting on in years and wants to come and live with my husband and me. Her letters are one long complaint about her aches and pains and how lonely she is.

ANSWER: It's certainly in-

Two Students Plan Wedding for Mid-June

The Richard H. McClurgs of Green Lake announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Ellen, to Robert Frederick Garrets. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garrets of Orchard Lake.

The bride-elect, a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, will graduate in August from the University of Michigan where her fiancé is working on his master's degree in music literature.

He holds a degree in music education from U. of M. and member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. In 1961, he toured Russia and the Near East with the U. of M. Symphonic Band.

The June 18 wedding will be in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Orchard Lake.

interesting to know that she tried to make you hate men.

But hating men isn't your problem right now, is it? Your problem is: Do I or don't I invite my aging mother to live with me?

It is always interesting to know how our parents confused us as children. But the knowledge only becomes useful when we can see how the confusion is still in control of us — right now, this very minute.

So I am suggesting that the knowledge you may now need to resolve your problem is the knowledge that you fear the prospect of living with your mother, not because she tried to make you hate men but because she tried to make you experience everything she experienced.

You remember how as a child she tried to make you feel her anguish as a lonely and deserted wife.

You are terribly afraid that if she comes to live with you, she will try to make you feel all the aches and pains which belong to her as an aging woman.

DRAG YOU

You wonder how close to the edge of her death she will try to drag you.

That's the real fear, isn't it? There's no sense in my telling you that it is unreasonable; that as a person belonging to a different generation from your mother's you can't possibly undertake to feel her aches and pains with her any more than

as a little girl, you could feel what she felt as an unloved woman.

Reason is never enough to clarify the kind of confusion we develop as the result of childhood association, with parents who have insisted that we try to experience all their grownup feelings with them.

INVITE REJECTION

Parents of little boys and girls who demand sympathy for their grownup feelings from them invariably invite rejection in their old age.

As the children cannot experience their grownup feelings, they have no sympathy to give.

Like you, they retain the memory of agonized helplessness imposed by the parents.

When the passing years bring the time that should entitle their aging parents to their help, they are compelled to refuse it, feeling themselves to be as helpless and inadequate as they felt as overburdened little boys and girls.

Mr. and Mrs. David St. Dennis of Boston Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Margaret Ann to Donald R. Corey, son of the Gail Coreys of East Walton Boulevard. She attends Mercy School of Nursing in Detroit.

Parents Honor School Athletes

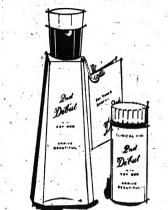

St. Frederick's Parents' club will honor high school athletes at a buffet supper Saturday at 6:30 p.m. in the parish hall.

Ted Lindsay, sports broadcaster, will speak. Head coach Gene Wright and assistant coaches Bud Duff and George O'Neil and Mrs. Leonard Dougherty will present awards and trophies to the athletes and cheerleaders.

Al Peoples is general chairman of the affair. Assisting him are Grover Schatz, John Hunkle, Mrs. Schatz, Mr. Wright, Carl Staszewicz, Cliff Schmanský and Armand Maloney.

The stunning versatile cape has a wide soft swing in the back and knitted - in hem. It is knitted in one piece and therefore very easy to make. For the interesting collar with its pleated effect a straight piece was knitted which was then doubled and pleated to fit against the neck.

The graceful lines of the cape will be a boon to your femininity. It is excellent for day or evening wear. It can be worn with equal success over a shift dress, capris, or a cocktail dress.

We used a silver gray yarn with a slight mohair blend and had the garment lined with a brilliant gold material. The approximate yarn cost for this cape is $15.00. Instructions for this cape come in one size.

Breaks Ground for Federal Law

Major Attention Focused on Job Title in Rights Bill

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In the 11 weeks of the Senate civil rights debate, scores of amendments have been proposed to clarify, strengthen or weaken various parts of the bill. The following article, the second of a three-part series on the bill's provisions, explains the equal opportunity title and the voter rights provisions as they stand now and some of the proposals for changing them.)

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the 11 weeks of Senate debate and cloakroom bargaining on the civil rights bill, much of the attention has focused on the equal employment section.

It has attracted a large share of the scores of amendments proposed to change the bill.

The equal opportunity section, known as Title Seven, is one of two provisions which break ground for federal law. The other is the public accommodations provision aimed at discrimination in hotels and motels, restaurants and amusement places.

Republican and Democratic Senate leaders and administration officials have accepted a number of amendments to the job title as part of a whole package of changes. They hope the proposed changes will win the bill the two-thirds majority needed to break the Southern filibuster.

NOT IN JFK BILL

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, chief author of the compromise package of amendments, is fond of pointing out there was no equal employment provision in the original civil rights bill submitted to Congress last year by the late President John F. Kennedy.

But Dirksen has said he can support its retention if his suggestions for changing it are accepted.

As the bill cleared the House, it would ban discrimination in any phase of employment or membership on the part of employers, unions or employment agencies on grounds of race, color, religion, national origin or sex.

It would apply to companies and unions with 100 or more employees or members in the first year, 75 or more in the second, 50 or more in the third, and 25 thereafter.

COMMISSION CREATED

A five-member Equal Employment Opportunity Commission would be created to receive complaints.

The commission is directed to try to settle any complaint by conciliation and persuasion. But if those methods fail, it may need to bring a suit to end the discrimination.

Dirksen's agreed-upon package of amendments would modify this so that the commission could call on the attorney general to bring a suit only if a pattern of discrimination existed.

In individual cases, the aggrieved person would have to file suit, although the attorney general would be allowed to intervene.

eral commission could allow a state or local agency to handle a complaint if it found that the agency was functioning effectively.

Dirksen's amendments would strengthen power of the states by giving them exclusive jurisdiction of any case for a specific period. Thirty-one states now have fair employment practices laws of some type. Southern senators simply want Title Seven eliminated.

They argue that it would give the federal government far too much power to interfere in hiring, firing and promotions. The voting rights section of the House bill, Title One, would extend the federal powers in this field contained in the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

It would require that identical standards be applied to all volunteers in elections for federal officials, provide that immaterial errors on registration forms must be disregarded, and require that literacy tests must be in writing unless the individual agrees to an oral test.

In voter discrimination suits brought by the attorney general under the 1957 law, the presumption is created by the 1964 bill that a sixth-grade education is sufficient to meet the literacy test.

The attorney general is allowed to request that a three-judge court be set up to hear such suits.

Southern senators bitterly attack the latter provision, contending it would allow the attorney general to shop around for a favorable court.

They also insist that the title constitutes an additional interference with the right of states to control their own elections.
