Senior Citizen Housing Project Gets Boost

ONE COLOR

Pontiac's planned 234-unit Auburn Hills housing project for senior citizens moved a step closer to reality yesterday as Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced federal approval of a financial assistance contract.

★ ★ ★

The contract guarantees that the federal government through the Department of Housing and Urban Development will pay off the cost of the project over a 40-year period.

The complex, to be developed and constructed by Charles L. Langs, is expected to cost $3,593,044.

Pontiac Housing Commission Director Roy B. McAfee said the federal approval is "a significant step."

The approval ensures that the city will not have to wait for a more involved type of approval and allows the housing commission to deliver a "letter of intent" to Langs.

PROCEED WITH PLANS

This, McAfee said, will enable Langs to proceed with detailed architectural drawings and plans for construction of the project.

Development of the project is under a system called "turnkey" whereby Langs will finance construction and then sell the entire project to the city through the city housing commission.

Langs is scheduled to receive $3,365,924 for the sale. The difference between that and the $3,593,044 is expected to go for architectural fees, inspection costs, some operating costs and costs of appliances.

★ ★ ★

A formal contract between the developer and the city, through the housing commission will likely be signed in early winter with construction starting as soon after that as conditions permit.

It is estimated that the entire project will be finished one year after construction starts.

Plans call for the site—located on Auburn, east of Clifford—to contain a 12-story multisided high rise building containing 114 units and 120 scattered units. Eight will be two-bedroom units, the rest will have one bedroom.

Eligibility standards now require that tenants be over 62 years old with incomes less than $3,800 for two and $2,800 for one. Rent is geared to income, currently 21.8 per cent of net income.

★ ★ ★

McAfee said that the city will likely have to issue bonds to cover the entire cost of the project. The bond and interest would then be paid off by the federal government through the annual assistance contract over a 40-year period.

Involvement in Vietnam Was Mistake—Romney

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney said today that United States involvement in Vietnam was a "mistake" and that the U. S. buildup has placed the fate of all of Southeast Asia at stake.

"I think it's tragic we ever got involved in this conflict in South Vietnam . . . and I think it would have been better if we had never become involved," the Michigan governor and GOP presidential prospect told a news conference.

"But we did become involved. We then proceeded by our involvement to create a situation of the type we have been talking about before we became involved—namely, we got Thailand involved, Laos involved, certainly Cambodia is at stake—the whole of Southeast Asia is at stake today," Romney said.

"It wasn't initially, in my judgment. It wasn't before we built this thing up."

★ ★ ★

Romney said that unless the United States and the South Vietnamese can defeat the guerrillas in the South, the war cannot be won by the allies.

ONLY ONE WAY

"I know of only one basic way to bring this conflict to the negotiation table under limited military conflict and that is to demonstrate you can destroy the guerrilla infra-structure," Romney said.

Romney reiterated his disenchantment with the strategy of heavy bombing of North Vietnam targets, particularly in view of recent strikes near the Chinese border.

He said "the possibility must be kept in mind at all times" that China would retaliate.

★ ★ ★

"I think from the beginning there has been an excessive expectation of what bombing can do," Romney said. He said it was "unrealistic" to believe such bombing would bring about peace negotiations.

SUPPLY ROUTES

"At best it affects only supply routes and infiltration," he said. "Bombing does not directly affect the guerrilla infra-structure."

Romney said the South Vietnamese must do more to end the war.

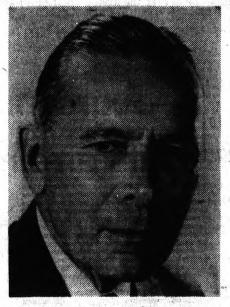
★ ★ ★

"As we increase our effort, they seem to do less and this concerns me greatly," he said.

★ ★ ★

Romney said the coming elections in Vietnam will be important as an expression of what the South Vietnamese people want.



LOUIS H. SCHIMMEL

City Financial Expert Drowns in Waterford

Prominent Pontiac financial expert Louis H. Schimmel, 69, of 509 W. Iroquois drowned yesterday in a canal off Otter Lake in Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

His body was recovered in about six feet of water at 7:48 p.m. by divers from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

A rope weighted by two cement blocks was wrapped around the body, according to deputies.

An autopsy is being performed today by Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Two young brothers earlier found a canoe Schimmel apparently had been using submerged in the canal, according to Pontiac State Police.

NEAR PROPERTY

The spot where the body was recovered was near the seven-acre Otter Lake frontage property owned by the Schimmel family. A cottage and boathouse are on the land.

Schimmel, director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan, left his home in Pontiac about 1:30 p.m. yesterday, police said.

State Police were summoned by Schimmel's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Louis H. Schimmel Jr. of 2776 Woodbine, Waterford Township, at 6:18 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Service for Schimmel will be 11 a.m. Thursday at St. Vincent de Paul Church.

ROSARY TOMORROW

The Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Surviving besides his wife, son and daughter-in-law are two daughters, Mrs. Jack H. Cvengros of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Bradley Stoutt of San Marino, Calif.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Marie Duffy of Pontiac, and four grandchildren.

2 Track Officials Indicted by Jury

Indictments charging three persons, two of them connected with the Hazel Park racetrack, were handed down today by Oakland County grand juror James S. Thorburn.

The indictments came on the last day of the grand jury. The grand jury was initiated a year ago to investigate alleged crime and corruption surrounding the Hazel Park racetrack.

The indictments today were the first concerning the track.

Additional warrants were expected to be released by Thorburn later in the day.

One of those indicted, Peter J. Bellanca, is a director and general counsel for the Hazel Park Racing Association.

ACCUSED OF PERJURY

The Detroit attorney is accused by Thorburn of committing perjury when he appeared to testify before the grand jury Aug. 10.

The indictment indicates that Bellanca allegedly lied when he said that he had never solicited any business from persons called before the grand jury.

In another indictment, Andrew J. Mavros, a trainer at the track, is charged with two offenses, resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty and obstructing justice.

Thorburn charges Mavros with resisting two State Police investigators, John Aird and Lawrence Birch, while they were serving a subpoena on Anna M.

Cave-In Is Fatal for Father of 4 in Orion Township

A 38-year-old Orion Township man—the father of four—was killed by a cave-in yesterday while digging in a neighbor's yard.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Hubert D. Powell of 2262 Hammerslea was pinned to the side of a house at 3460 Waldon, Orion Township, by two large sections of cement sidewalk when the mishap occurred.

Powell's wife told investigators she was at home when the Powell children came into the house and said, "Daddy is gone."

She discovered the accident and called for help.

Two persons, neither identified, dug Powell's face clear and one applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, deputies said. A wrecker was required to remove the cement blocks.

HALF AN HOUR

It took rescuers nearly half an hour to free Powell completely, deputies said.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

OCC Officials Find Site for 4th Campus

Oakland Community College officials have found an undisclosed 80-acre site for a fourth college campus in southeastern Oakland County, it was revealed today by President Dr. John E. Tirrell.

Dr. Tirrell disclosed that purchase of the 10 parcels of land for $495,000 would probably be finalized at Thursday's Board of Trustees meeting. Twenty-seven owners are involved.

Tirrell explained that he and the OCC trustees were bound not to discuss the location of the land until Thursday.

He did say that the site was south of 14 Mile Road, east of Coolidge, north of 8 Mile Road and west of Dequindre and that it would mainly serve students from Hazel Park, Royal Oak, Madison Heights and the Berkley area.

★ ★ ★

College officials have been searching for a site in the populous section of the county for nearly two years.

'ON-AND-OFF'

The college president reported that negotiations were "on-and-off" with the owners for some time.

He emphasized that the site was not Royal Oak's 167-acre Red Run Golf Course which was once considered but later dropped because the club's members did not want to sell it.

Sites in Royal Oak have been prominently mentioned as possibilities but a Royal Oak City Planning Commission spokesman said today he did not know of a site there that fits the description.

★ ★ ★

Other municipalities located within the "target area" are Madison Heights, Clawson, Hazel Park, Oak Park, Berkley, Huntington Woods, Pleasant Ridge and Ferndale.

THREE CAMPUSES

OCC, which will celebrate its second anniversary this fall, has three campuses and could well have five or six by 1980 if funds are available.

OCC opened its doors on two campuses — Auburn Hills in Pontiac Township and Highland Lakes in Waterford Township—to 4,000 students in September 1965, the largest initial enrollment for a community college in the nation.

An estimated 6,000 students are expected this fall with the partial opening of the new Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington Township for 2,000 students.

★ ★ ★

Tirrell said the acquisition of a fourth campus — the smallest of the four — will probably mean the Highland Lakes campus will not be expanded in the near future as planned.

An $11-million project will begin at Auburn Hills this fall to construct the campus' first permanent buildings.

Protests Open Housing Defeat

Flint Mayor Will Resign

FLINT (AP)—Mayor Floyd J. McCree of Flint, the only Negro in the nation heading a city of 200,000 or larger, declares he is resigning because the city commission rejected an open occupancy housing law.

"I'm not going to sit up here any longer and live an equal opportunity lie," the 44-year-old mayor said last night after the commission voted down the law, 5-3.

★ ★ ★

The pipe-smoking auto plant foreman, elected in November 1966, said he will resign Monday.

McCree said he also will resign as commissioner of Flint's heavily-Negro Third Ward. He had represented the Third Ward for eight years when he was elected mayor by his fellow commissioners. About 25 per cent of Flint's 200,000 residents are Negroes.

"I can no longer serve in good conscience on a commission which does not represent the needs of all citizens," McCree said.

DRAFT RUSHED

Commissioners rushed to prepare a final draft of the ordinance last week, just two weeks after violence spread to Flint and a number of other Michigan cities after Detroit erupted in the worst civil outbreak in recent American history.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance would have banned discrimination in housing and home financing. It would have established machinery for investigating of discrimination complaints.

Dirksen, Eisenhower Defend LBJ Decision to Bomb Near China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen joins former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in defending President Johnson's decision to bomb North Vietnam targets only 10 miles from Red China.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower, commander of allied military forces in Europe in World War II, and Dirksen said separately but in almost identical words that military targets were involved and the air attacks should be continued.

The White House, meanwhile, declined any comment on the latest U. S. air assaults.

Eisenhower and Dirksen said they do not believe such near-border raids risk bringing Red China into the conflict—a contention made in the Senate yesterday by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and echoed by Republican Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky.

★ ★ ★

In face of this split of Republican opinion, Eisenhower told a news conference, as he left Walter Reed Army Hospital after a 10-day stay, that he hopes the conduct of the war does not become an issue in next year's presidential campaign. He said he doesn't want to be one among those who might make it one.

'MUST USE FORCE'

"What do politicians know about conducting a war?" he asked. "We must use force and get done with it."

Eisenhower said he believes the war should be pursued, "with the idea of winning it."

He added: "You should get everything you can, and get it over with as quickly as possible because war is a nasty thing."

★ ★ ★

Dirksen said in an interview he is satisfied legitimate military targets were hit in the raids to within 10 miles of the Red China border.

He said he is certain American flyers have been instructed thoroughly in avoiding Red Chinese Air space.

★ ★ ★

"I think it's necessary and I don't think it's dangerous," he said. "I havn't heard of any protest from China."

Tax Panel Undecided on Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the House Ways and Means Committee told administration officials today they still have not made a case for the 10 per cent income tax surcharge President Johnson seeks.

During their second day of testimony before the tax-writing committee, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and Chairman Gardner Ackley of the Council of Economic Advisers were pressed for an explanation that would make sense to the voters.

★ ★ ★

"We're going to have to satisfy the people on two counts," Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., said. He said taxpayers will have to be convinced that they are better off now than they were five years ago and that even after the surcharge is added they will pay less tax than they had before the 1964 tax reduction.

★ ★ ★

Ullman said that, taking into account increases in state and local taxes, he is not sure this would be the case.

'INCREASE JUSTIFIED'

"My judgment is that a tax increase is justified, but I believe I am in a minority on this committee," Ullman added.

He also indicated he has yet to be convinced that the same rate of increase should be applied to both individuals and corporations. Johnson has proposed adding 10 per cent to the tax liability of each.

★ ★ ★

Joining Ullman in predicting a tough fight for the bill was Rep. James A. Burke, D- Mass., who said, "I doubt that any members of this committee are committed to it and many of us have many reservations about it."

Meanwhile Republicans planned to press Johnson's first-string fiscal team about the extent of administration budget-cutting Congress can expect if it approves the surcharge.

Skilled Tradesmen Picket NLRB Office

DETROIT (UPI) — More than 1,000 members of the International Society of Skilled Trades (ISST) yesterday picketed around the block where the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has its local offices.

★ ★ ★

An ISST spokesman said the pickets, by about 1,200 union members, were because of the "CIO-inspired rulings of the NLRB."

The spokesman said the march came after NLRB rulings that favored the AFL-CIO over the ISST.

Substitute Judge Plan OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners last night adopted a new ordinance permitting the hiring of a substitute judge in the absence of the city's two municipal judges.

In recommending the approval of the act, John F. Saefke, assistant to the city manager, said that substitute judges have presided over Municipal Court in the past, but without compensation from the city.

"It would seem proper that the code authorize and provide a controlled method of reimbursing a substitute judge," Safeke said.

Commissioners made one change in the ordinance proposed by the administration in regard to compensation.

Under the adopted ordinance, a substitute judge will be paid $30 an hour, rather than $100 for each court session as suggested by the administration.

4 PER YEAR

The city will pay the salary from the general fund providing there are not more than four such sessions a year.

If a substitute judge is required more than four times in one year, the cost will be deducted proportionately from the salaries of the municipal judge and the associate judge.

Saefke said it only recently was available for a regularly scheduled court session.

John M. Rady of 367 Suffield has been elected treasurer of the Great Lakes Gas Transmission Co.

The American-Canadian firm is laying a 1,000-mile pipeline across Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Damage Is Heavy in Fairbanks Flood

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Floodwaters surged through this interior Alaska city of 30,000 Tuesday, forcing evacuation of most of the downtown area and causing heavy damage.

Mayor H. A. Boucher reported the situation to Gov. Walter Hickel from the only telephone line still open.

"At this point," he said early Tuesday, "there isn't a home in the city not flooded, and 80 per cent of our businesses have suffered major damage. Obviously the damage will run well into the millions. It is the worst flood in anyone's memory here."

Many persons were reported stranded but there were no reports of injuries.

HOSPITAL CLEARED

St. Joseph's Hospital had been evacuated and at least 62 patients moved to Bassett Army Hospital at nearby Ft. Wainwright. Those evacuated from their private homes were taken to schools in higher areas of the city.

The city lies on a generally flat plain with the Chena River, one of the three rain-swollen rivers in the area, looping through the center.

★ ★ ★

Boucher estimated the water on the Chena was five to six feet above flood stage at 3 a.m. Alaska Standard Time Tuesday and still rising as rain continued to saturate the area.

He said there was an average of one to five feet of water throughout the downtown area.

Man Innocent in Murder Case

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury yesterday found Michael J. Hamlin of Pontiac innocent of murder in the shotgun death of a Utica man June 12.

During the two-day trial which began Thursday before Judge Clark J. Adams, defense attorney Donald Brown of Royal Oak aurged that Hamlin had acted in self-defense when he killed Clement C. Berger, 30, of 7090 24 Mile.

Pontiac police accused Hamlin of killing Berger outside Hamlin's home at 446 Orchard Lake.

Hamlin testified, however that he fired as Berger was attempting to break into the house through a window.

Berger's body was found in a driveway about 12 feet from the home, according to Asst. Prosecutor Denis Donohue.

A doctor testified that it was possible that Berger could have staggered that far after being shot.

Hamlin had been charged with first-degree murder but when Judge Adams instructed the jury he told them they had only three choices, second-degree murder, manslaughter or innocent.

The jury deliberated about four hours yesterday. They had started deliberation late Friday and then were sent home for the weekend.

Judge Squelches Wiretap Facts in Hoffa Hearing

CHICAGO (UPI) — A federal judge yesterday squelched some wiretap evidence against jailed Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, but said he would be "more liberal" with other evidence.

Hoffa and his attorneys were scheduled to appear today for the second day of the hearing ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court to determine if wiretapping evidence was used illegally to convict Hoffa and five others of mail fraud in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Defense attorneys won one round when Judge Richard B. Austin refused a government request to limit the consideration of evidence to one conversation that took place Dec. 2, 1963.

The judge ruled against the defense when it requested that all other wiretapping evidence be admitted as evidence and that the government prove that no other evidence besides that presented exists.

Prison Ordered for City Youth

A 4-to-10-year prison sentence was ordered yesterday for a Pontiac youth who shot a teenager outside the GMC Truck and Coach Division plant April 22.

David M. Leonard, 20, of 470 Fildew, was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Leonard, who had been charged with attempted murder in the shooting of David Bradley, 17, of 4621 Fiddle, pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm on July 18.

Bradley suffered two bullet wounds when he attempted to run into the plant for help.

He told police that he was waiting in a car for his father to get out of work at the plant when two youths jumped into the car and ordered him to drive away.

The youths were arrested the next day at their homes on information given to police by a tipster. Leonard's companion was later released.

Hearing Postponed in Fluoride Case

A Circuit Court hearing questioning the legality of adding fluoride to Pontiac's water supply was postponed yesterday.

A new hearing date is tentatively scheduled for Aug. 28, but according to Pontiac attorney John Rogers, it may be heard before that time.

Rogers represents six Pontiac residents who are asking for an injunction which would halt the City of Detroit from placing the chemical into water it sells to Pontiac.

Guardsman Testifies at Patrolman's Trial

DETROIT (AP) — A National Guard warrant officer testified today that he saw Detroit Police Patrolman Ronald August carry a shotgun into a room where the bodies of two slain Negro youths were found later.

August is one of two white policemen charged with first-degree murder in the double slaying which took place during last month's riot.

★ ★ ★

He is accused of shooting Aubrey Pollard, 19. Patrolman Robert Paille is charged with the slaying of Fred Temple, 18. The death of the third youth, Carl Cooper, 17, is still under investigation.

The warrant officer, Theodore Thomas, testified at the preliminary examination that an unidentified officer gave a shotgun to August.

'OUGHT TO KILL'

Someone said to August "you ought to kill one" of the Negroes who had been ordered out of their rooms at the Algiers Motel, the scene of reported sniping, Thomas said.

★ ★ ★

August then selected one of the Negroes lined up in a hallway, Thomas testified, and escorted him into a nearby room.

★ ★ ★

Thomas said he heard a shot and a thud. At this point, he said, he left the motel with a private police guard, telling the Detroit police officers "this is strictly your business."

The warrant officer said that before the incident involving August, he himself took someone into a room and fired one shot into the ceiling to frighten those in the hallway into telling the officers where guns might be found in the motel.

BETTER TECHNIQUE

Thomas testified that he believed this technique was better than beating someone to get information.

The warrant officer's testimony came after a Michigan state police trooper and three Negro youths testified that men in blue uniforms forced a number of persons to line up against a wall and told them to pray.

★ ★ ★

Trooper John Fonger, sent to Detroit from his normal assignment at Houghton, 200 miles north of the city, told of being sent to the Algiers Motel because of reported sniper fire in the vicinity.

Ex-Official Purges Self of Contempt

With one day remaining for the Oakland County grand jury, a former Madison Heights councilman yesterday purged himself of contempt of court and was given a reduced sentence and fine.

The ex-councilman, Roman Nowicki, 390 Kendry, Bloomfield Hills, appeared voluntarily before one-man grand juror James S. Thoburn to answer a subpoena issued July 10.

Nowicki was found guilty of contempt a week later and stentenced to one year in jail and fined $1,000.

Thoburn reduced the sentence to 90 days and the fine to $500 when Nowicki came before him yesterday.

In addition to the contempt, Nowicki has been indicted three times by Thorburn on bribery charges. The cases are all pending in lower court.

NEW INDICTMENTS

Before the grand jury investigation ends today at midnight, new indictments are expected to be issued by Thorburn.

Since Thorburn succeeded Judge Philip Pratt June 22, he has issued a half-dozen indictments, one of them against State Rep. Bill S. Huffman on a charge of soliciting a bribe when he was mayor of Madison Heights.

Pratt was disqualified by the Michigan Court of Appeals because he was investigating matters that he had probed during an earlier inquiry.

Man Seeks Hearing in Drug Case

★ ★ ★

Harry J. Smith of 212 Central is charged with possession of narcotics.

The preliminary examination for Smith was set for 2 p.m. Sept. 26 by Kollin who was acting for Waterford Township Justice Kenneth Hempstead.

The suspect was released from custody after posting $1,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

The narcotics sample, believed by police to be marijuana was sent to the Michigan State Police Crime Laboratory in East Lansing for testing.

DISORDER ERUPTED

Following Smith's arrest, disorder erupted at the Rolladium. Fights broke out, two minor fires were set and windows of nearby buildings were broken, according to township police.

About 40 policemen from nine departments were called to the scene.

Ecorse Man Faces Exam in TV Theft

A 28-year-old Ecorse man, accused of stealing a television set from the Sherwood Motel, 2460 Dixie, Waterford Township, is slated to face preliminary examination at 2 p.m. Aug. 24.

George H. Smith stood mute on the larceny from a building charge at his arraignment yesterday before Avon Township Justice Arthur Kollin, acting for Waterford Township Justice Kenneth Hempstead. Bond was set at $1,000.

★ ★ ★

Smith was arrested early yesterday by township police who had stopped him on Dixie Highway at Telegraph because the rear license plate on his car was not illuminated.

Police said the television set was in the suspect's car.

City to Consider Purchase of Crystal Beach Housing

A bid to sell the Crystal Beach housing project will be considered by city commissioners at their meeting tonight.

The 72-unit complex located near Crystal Lake in the southwest section of the city has been a focal point for grievance filed recently with city commissioners by a Negro group.

The owners, who say the project is being run at a loss, have offered to sell the housing units — built as emergency quarters during World War II — at one-half of the appraised value.

The offer is contingent upon the owners being able to claim a tax deduction on half the cost. Officials from the Internal Revenue Service earlier this week gave tentative approval to considering that half as a tax deductible gift.

★ ★ ★

If purchased the city will attempt to phase out the project and demolish the structures within three years.

NO NEW TENANTS

Joseph A. Warren, city manager, indicated that no one will be asked to leave the projects, but new tenants would not be taken as others left.

In other action, the commission will:

- Receive reports on the operation of the two municipal parking systems.
- Receive a report from the director of public works and service discussing the need for acquiring additional right-of-way for the construction of the Galloway Creek trunk sewer.
- Consider an offer to purchase urban renewal land in the northwest corner of Orchard Lake Avenue and West Wide Track for construction of an office building.
- Reconsider a request by Charles Gersten, owner of Central Bar, to reinstate a dance permit. The City Commission declined to renew the permit earlier this year.

Mao Arms Civilians in Power Struggle

HONG KONG (UPI) — Chinese communist party leader Mao Tse-Tung for the first time is arming civilians to battle his foes in the nation's wracking power struggle, a Japanese newsman in Peking reported today.

The Tokyo Sankei Shimbun reporter said orders went out Thursday for the arming of pro-Mao civilians in south central Kiangsi Province in Roder to smash rebellious forces and "restore order."

Mao's regime at the same time fired the militant commander in the province, Wu Jui-Shan, for siding with anti-Mao forces.

The Japanese report said the start of arming civilians in the year-old power fight may indicate the makings of a full scale civil war in Communists China.

★ ★ ★

Across Kiangsi runs the main transport and communication lines from Peking to Canton where, according to Hong Kong newspapers, foes of Mao have freed 100,000 political prison camp inmates.

TERRORIZE CANTON

The newspapers said the ex-prisoners are raping, burning and robbing in Canton.

Quoting travelers from South China's largest city, the newspapers said the former labor camp inmates have pledged a citywide bloodbath if attempts are made to halt their wave of terror.

Arrivals from the city, 70 miles from here, said Canton's municipal authority has vanished in days and nights of violence with the ex-prisoners, army troops and fanatic pro-Mao red guards battling in the streets.

★ ★ ★

Canton was reported a major center of the power struggle being waged by Mao against established leaders in the party, government and army.

LIU SHAO-CHI

Mao's chief press organ today accused his arch foe, president Liu Shao-Chi, of seeking "friendly relations with America" even during the current Vietnam war.

The attack on Liu in Red Flag magazine, theoretical journal of the Communist Party Central Committee, marked a new peak in Mao's campaign to humiliate, disgrace and purge the old comrade who has come to symbolize national opposition to him and his regime.

Liu earlier had been accused of being "soft" on America but not during the Vietnam war.

★ ★ ★

Red Flag revived a long list of accusations, saying Liu helped Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-Shek, sabotaged communist economic plans, cooperated with Russian "revisionists" and tried to install a capitalist regime in Peking with himself at the top.

FLEE CITY

Earlier reports said at least 300,000 terrified residents have fled Canton. Reports said anti-Mao factions seized two shiploads of arms bound for North Vietnam.

The travelers today said anti-Mao factions brought in the prison camp inmates throughout surrounding Kwangtung Province.

The ex-prisoners began hunting down the communist officials who sent them to the "reform" camps, the reports said.

★ ★ ★

The ex-inmates disarmed police, began terrorizing railways and highways, started pirating ships on the city's waterways and pasted up "large character" posters reading:

"If you interfere with our movements, we would bloodwash the city."

★ ★ ★

The travelers said the prisoners, the Red Guards and the troops skirmish throughout the city. Each group furnishes its own roaming bands, even pro-Mao groups fighting among themselves.

Cause for Revolt

The United States government spends more money each year fighting the Hessian fly, which was said to have come to America during the Revolutionary War, than it spent on the entire revolution.

Brown Indicted in Arson, Rioting

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — The Dorchester County grand jury, meeting in special session has returned indictments charging Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown with arson and inciting to riot in a racial disturbance in Cambridge July 24.

★ ★ ★

The grand jury also charged Monday that Brown, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, acted in concert with others "for a disturbance of the public peace."

Business Zoning Meets Strong Opposition

By ED BLUNDEN

CLARKSTON — A proposed new zoning plan for the village came under sharp attack at a hearing last night before about 80 persons who appeared to divide into two camps.

The plan was prepared by a citizens committee and was explained by Edward Thomson, chairman.

It contains two major changes in policy from the present ordinance — elimination of high-rise building zoning and expansion of the business area.

It was labeled by some in the audience as a move to "save the downtown merchants."

★ ★ ★

The village has a row of small stores running down its main street, a grocery, hardware, barber shop, drugstore, etc.

In the proposed plan adjacent streets to the east would be zoned commercial thus in theory allowing the present business to expand into the neighboring block or for new businesses to locate.

Many residents on the neighboring streets opposed the move as a danger to their property, but others in the community voiced disapproval and fear a large shopping center would develope in the primarily quiet, residential town.

In defending his group's plan Thomson said some 18 months had been spent in a lot-by-lot study.

★ ★ ★

He said the object was to preserve the residential nature of village and to prevent abuses by building of apartments or undesirable spot zoning.

ALL DEVELOPED

He pointed out that almost all the land in the village was presently developed and that a zoning ordinance could not, in itself, cause any resident to be forced to move.

★ ★ ★

Taking an opposing view was Jerome S. Wilford of 91 S. Main who submitted a letter read to the hearing.

Rather than favoring expansion of the business area, Wilford was in favor of "shrinking" it to "enhance the residential character" of the village.

★ ★ ★

Wilford, a former village trustee, proposed "phasing out" the downtown businesses, leaving a bank and post office and turning the rest of downtown into a mall.

NEIGHBOR SPEAKS

Opposition was voiced by Milton F. Cooney of 56 E. Washington, who lives adjacent to the area proposed commercially zoned.

He said he didn't want a business operation in his "back yard" and said he preferred to have a high-rise apartment development (eliminated in the zoning plan).

Near the conclusion of the meeting, a councilman revealed why village officials had taken "a sudden interest in zoning."

Dave Leak said village officials had been approached by both the bank, Pontiac State, and the post office with requests to expand their facilities.

★ ★ ★

At the rear of these two properties the land drops sharply in a semi-cliff, making expansion difficult on their sites.

Leak said hopes were to relocate these enterprises on the eastern side of Main, in the area where it is proposed to change zoning to commercial.

He said there was real danger that the village would lose both these institutions if they were not allowed to expand.

★ ★ ★

He said other merchants were being cramped in their present facilities and would enlarge their present locations "for the good of the village as a whole," if allowed to.

PETITION CHANCE

The proposed zoning will next be officially advertised giving residents exact details and a chance to petition the zoning board of appeals in specific cases.

After board of appeals study, the proposed ordinance will go to the Village Council for possible adoption.

Novi City Rule Decision Near

NOVI TOWNSHIP—A decision on Novi Village's right to incorporate as a home rule city is due in about a week, the Township Board heard at its meeting last night. Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer yesterday heard the case. The trial was the result of a suit filed early this year by a village citizen's committee.

It was seeking a ruling to uphold a judgment of Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn. He ruled early this year that as an already incorporated entity, the village is not bound by a state statute requiring 500 persons per square mile to incorporate as a home rule city.

Novi Township officials had sought an injunction to stop the village's incorporation vote, formerly set for April 4.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the Township Board decided to accept bids for blacktopping around the township hall. With the contract to be awarded Sept. 5, the work is expected to be completed by October, said Township Supervisor Hadley J. Bachert.

The board also discussed the possibility of a dog ordinance, but took no action because of the expense in enforcing it. Residents of Willowbrook subdivision had several months ago complained about dogs, said Bachert.

32.4-Mill Levy Is Approved

FARMINGTON — The board of education approved last night a 32.4-mill school tax levey for this year.

Of the total 9 mills will go for debt retirement. The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission recently approved this allocation.

The state commission had initially opposed it because it would leave too much in reserve. The $1.3-million reserve now has commission approval.

Declared legal is a reserve of up to one year's debt retirement fees. The school district's bill for these fees this year is $1.6 million, said Schools Superintendent Roderick Smith.

The remainder of the total tax levy — 23.4 mills — is set for operations. The levy includes 8.4 mills from the county and 15 extra voted mills.

POSTS OPEN

Supt. Smith also reported that about 25 vacancies remain to be filled before the opening of school Sept 7. "This year, we have more vacancies than ever before," Smith said.

Administrators are continuing to interview prospects, Smith added.

Increased, Balanced

Farmington Twp. OKs Budget

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board approved a balanced budget of $889,400 after a public hearing last night at which two township residents showed up.

Last year's budget, also balanced, was $772,800. Higher assessed valuation results in the increased budget, explained Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall.

★ ★ ★

Police department benefits, salaries and more offices account for the largest increases — $60,000 more than last year. The next largest increase at $40,000 goes for road improvements, said Hall.

The approved budget covers the period from April 1, 1967, to March 31, 1968.

The board also reset two public hearings. The public hearing on the necessity for public water on Stockton, lots 25 through 34, will be Aug. 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

The public hearing for the water system for Forestbrook Subdivision was set for Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

Study to Suggest Streetlight Plan

MILFORD — The Village Council last night asked the Planning Commission to study and make recommendations of street lighting for Fairview Hills.

The council had earlier voted down a special assessment totaling $900 per year for ornamental lighting in the area.

It would have amounted to about $10 per home owner for nine years, Brophy said.

Avon 'Public Safety Corps' Nearer Reality

By JEAN SAILE

AVON TOWNSHIP—The Public Safety Corps took another step toward formal organization last night, despite objections from about half of the 70 people present at a hearing.

A statement of purpose was prepared by some 20 to 25 subdivision residents meeting with Supervisor Cyril Miller following the public portion of the meeting.

It reads, "The Purpose:

"To assist our proper authorized authority in extreme civil disorder or disorder from natural causes.

★ ★ ★

"To implement this assistance through a director who is responsible to the township board and who initiates action only on the recommendation of the sheriff."

RETIRED OFFICER

Henry A. DeLooff, 530 W. Third, a retired State Police officer, was recognized as Miller's choice for the directorship of the group. Miller was recently given authority by the Township Board to appoint such a man.

Said DeLooff after the meeting, "It kind of surprised me. I'd told them I'd help, but no one formally appointed me to the job."

He continued, "I think in the same channels as the sheriff. I am not entirely in favor of such a group. But I figure if it's going to be, I'd better go along with it to see if I can exercise some control."

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Frank Irons was present at a committee meeting last week. He spoke of a curfew as more effective than an armed guard in quelling civil disturbances, and he was noncommittal on the help that might be offered by the county to such a group.

DEEP-SEATED FEELINGS

DeLooff remarked on the deep-seated feelings evident at last night's meeting.

It was an exchange of views marked by racial overtones, while at one point the issue of communism was raised and the discussion dissolved at times into the fielding of insults for various residents present.

Questioned as to the legality of such a group, Miller said he based the right to organize the contemplated 1,000-man citizens' riot group on Article II of the Bill of Rights — the right to bear arms.

He admitted that no legal advice had been sought.

PUBLIC VOTE

When asked if a public vote would be held to determine residents' feelings, he said, "No. Such a vote costs $2,000 to $3,000."

"And," he continued, "for those of you who talk about a larger police force, you must remember you've got to pay for it."

He said the township now has six men in its auxiliary police force.

★ ★ ★

Citizen fears that the Public Safety Corps, though limited in powers at first, might be the first step to a police state were echoed by various members of the audience.

IMPROVE SERVICES

Points that the township would do better to concentrate its efforts in improving services rather than in forming an armed guard met with varied reaction.

"What are you going to do, when there's no one available to help?" Brooklands Fire Chief Al Rouse asked.

"I don't want to live in a township that needs this kind of group," said a member of the audience.

★ ★ ★

Ronald Scott of Tienken Manor, one of the original organizers, read a letter stating his withdrawal from the group unless a formal plan of action were conceived.

"Not many people are interested in a long-range general police activity," he said.

★ ★ ★

"We need a minimum organization with a minimum function."

Hospital Starts Work on Annex

A lot of patients have passed through the doors since Pontiac General Hospital completed its last major building addition in 1959. Of those patients, more and more each year have been emergency room cases.

In 1960, for example, 24,897 persons were treated in the hospital's emergency area, according to Hospital Administrator HAROLD B. EULER. That patient case load has nearly doubled since then.

There were 41,762 persons treated in emergency at Pontiac General last year and currently the case load is 2,500 ahead of last year's pace at this time.

While the number of patients steadily increased, the emergency room facility remained the same. The only difference was that it got more crowded.

★ ★ ★

In view of this, it came as welcome news last week when hospital officials and Mayor WILLIAM H. TAYLOR JR. broke ground for a new $920,187 annex to the hospital at Seminole and West Huron. The new building will be designed primarily for treatment of emergency cases.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac General currently operates one of the largest emergency room services in the State, in terms of volume.

The new addition should be a great asset to both the hospital and the community.

Merchant Marine Has Vital Role in U.S. Defense

Hardly a day goes by that stories of the decline of the American merchant marine do not appear in the Nation's press. Such stories are truly alarming to those with memories long enough to recall the crisis and costly crash program of construction when the United States was caught with virtually no merchant marine of its own in the critical days of two world wars.

For all arguments to the contrary, the nuclear age has in no way lessened the necessity for a first-class merchant marine so long as this Country remains a world power with global, commerical and military commitments.

★ ★ ★

Back in the 1930s, a law was passed under which the government participated in the costs of constructing and maintaining the nucleus of a first-class U.S.-flag merchant fleet operating on regular schedules over worldwide routes.

In the ensuing years, this merchant fleet, under the operation and management of leading steamship lines has managed to preserve a small hard core of modern ships.

As private enterprises, these lines have aggressively developed the trade and market for American goods overseas. They have upheld U.S. prestige and have more than justified the dollars spent by the taxpayers in putting the contract shipping lines on a reasonably equal footing with foreign competitors.

★ ★ ★

Modern merchant ships plying the sea-lanes working for their owners and providing a substantial source of tax revenue, yet instantly available in a war emergency, are far preferable to a fleet rusting away in mothballs and rapidly approaching obsolescence.

For anyone haunted with the desire to visit scary old England, this sounds like just the ticket.

The New York Committee for Investigation of Paranormal Occurrences has announced that the first organized tour for Americans of houses and castles in Ireland and the British Isles featuring resident ghosts will take place this fall.

★ ★ ★

The fee of $1,500 for the 21-day tour covers all transportation, meals and accommodations and includes visits to such places as Renvyle House, County Galway, Ireland, where the ghost of poet William Butler Yeats is reported to roam; and Sawston Hall, near Cambridge, where plenty of natives will be available to swear they have seen Mary Queen of Scots wandering around.

Members of the tour will travel air fright, of course.

Viet Election Adds to LBJ Worries

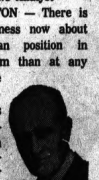
By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — There is more uneasiness now about the American position in South Vietnam than at any time since President Ngo Dinh Diem's ouster and assassination in 1963, with solutions looking less easy.



MARLOW

In the closing days of Diem's regime it became clear to the Kennedy administration, that he was more hinderance than help to resistance against the Communist push.

He lived in his own little world, running a dictatorship, unmindful of the thoroughly undemocratic masses of the peasantry jealous of his power.

As a result of his isolation from the people and their needs the Vietcong helped themselves to the countryside, a position from which they have not been dislodged since.

★ ★ ★

After his death there were a number of successors as the Vietnamese generals maneuvered among themselves for power. This country managed to do business with all of them.

Finally Nguyen Cao Ky as premier and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu as chief of state emerged and managed to repress some of the internal disorder.

This gave the impression of stability although the country was being run by a military junta. But the United States claimed to be fighting the war, so the people could determine their own future.

The best evidence that the people were moving toward some semblance of self-determination would be elections. They have been arranged for next month.

★ ★ ★

Thieu is running for president and Ky for vice president on the same ticket. There are other candidates for the presidency, 11 in all, and hundreds of candidates for other offices. This makes it all look democratic.

But now there are serious doubts about it, with complaints about rigging and fears that if Thieu and Ky don't win, the military junta will throw out the election victors anyway — or undercut them until they are meaningless.

If the elections turn out to be a farce the American government will have less 'excuse for staying involved than it did at the time of Diem's death. That time this country could argue the people had no chance to choose a government.

★ ★ ★

There can't be that excuse now if the elections are fraudulent although it could be argued this might be expected in a country which never had a freely chosen government and was still stumbing in that direction.

HOW LONG?

There's an answer to that: How long will the United States have to defend South Vietnam before its people learn to act responsibly and legitimately?

But there is something else adding to American discontent and uneasiness. The South Vietnamese are making at this time a sorry contribution to their own defense and future. As time proceeds, this country is bearing most of the burden.

All this hangs over the head of President Johnson. Until the elections are over next month, the best he can hope for now is that they won't be a mess. If they are, he will have more problems about Vietnam, and more American discontent, than he has faced since he took office in 1963.

Resort Town Ban Is Logical

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

VIRGINIA BEACH — The State Department, while easing its U.S. travel restrictions in some areas, has decreed that this resort town is still off - limits to Soviet diplomats. The ruling seems faintly ludicrous at first glance, but the more we muse on it, the more logical it becomes.

Ruth Montgomery

In a cold war battle for men's minds, it is essential that we put our best foot forward to the world: but here at our favoirte summer resort, many of the best American feet go unshod from June to September.

It is conceivable that in the privacy of their $38-a-day motel rooms, some tourists may don sneakers or bedroom slippers, but this is not what the Russian comrades would see.

All day long, whether on the sandy beaches or public streets, tar-stained toes wriggle in plain view — callouses, corns and all. How can we claim that democracy has brought us bountiful living, if our people are without shoes?

Moreover the attire is so scanty, and so many touring campers pitch tents on sand dunes that we are obviously a nation of ill-housed and ill-clad, even if some bulging waistlines dispel the notion that we are ill-fed.

And take the little matter of economic development. We claim to be the world's most highly industrialized nation, and Virginia Beach advertises itself as "the world's largest resort city," but except for summer tourism the chief industry within the city limits is agriculture.

Virginia Beach arrived at its "largest" status by incorporating all of Princess Anne County, with its farms, forests, primeval swamps and sand dunes. If the garden spot of the aristocratic Virginia tidewater country can rig its statistics in such fashion, what of our credibility as a nation?

Then, although we property owners don't like to talk about it, we have a real problem here with wildlife. Not wild living on the public beaches, mind you, but mallards which claim squatters rights to our private swimming pools and boat docks, thus zeroing in on our claims to being the most sanitary of nations.

And take the touchy question of class consciousness.

Here on our inland waterways, bays and lakes, 50-foot yachts cruise majestically past hundreds of smaller motor boats and sloops owned by the natives. How would that look if reported in the Communist press?

Liquor is sold only by the bottle at state liquor stores, a dirty capitalistic trick to make a visitor drink in his motel room, which may be bugged, rather than in crowded bars.

Yes, it is far wiser to keep the Russians out of Virginia Beach than to let them discover the beauty of our subtropical foliage, the richness of the soil, and the waters abounding in fish.

The first landing of the Jamestown settlers occurred here at Virginia Beach, and the Soviets would certainly wonder why Americans ever bothered to push westward from this verdant paradise. They think we're dumb enough already!

Bob Considine Says:

Sonic Booms Imperiling the Boom in Air Travel

NEW YORK — The newest sound known to man is the sonic boom.

He doesn't like it.

CONSIDINE

Inventor of the boom can be said to be Col. Chuck Yeager, first man to fly faster than the speed of sound. His Bell X-1, now in the Smithsonian, flung down a carpet of booms as it streaked over Edwards Air Force Base in the California desert. With introduction of production model supersonic fighters and the B-58 Hustler the booms blossomed.

Weather and altitude regulate intensity of a sonic boom. At times the sound is like distant thunder; under other conditions the boom can be a combination of a thunder-clap and an exploding 500-pound bomb.

The Air Force put a damper on criticism of racket it made at the dawn of the jet age with a public relations program which replaced the word "noise" with "The Sound of Security." Nobody has come up with any slogan or plan to get people to regard the boom as comforting.

The residents of Oklahoma City and London are the leading authorities on the boom. Oklahoma City was hit with 1,253 sonic booms during a six - month boom - tolerance study in 1964. London recently underwent a more modest ordeal to familiarize its people with the kind of sound the first supersonic airliner, Concorde, will make as it comes in from overseas or the continent.

★ ★ ★

Ferdinand Mount, writing in the current National Review, states:

LIKE A BLITZ

"Like Londoners during the Blitz, the people of Oklahoma City can take it, but few of them learned to stop worrying and love the boom. With a median boom level of 1.13 pounds per square foot, 37 per cent reported serious annoyance.

"During the first 11 weeks of the study, less than 10 per cent felt they could not tolerate the eight daily booms indefinitely. After six months, 25 per cent 'felt they could not learn to accept the booms.'"

Mount adds that America's entry in the supersonic transport race, now taking shape at Boeing and hosts of subcontractors, would "inevitably" produce some booms of three or four pounds per square foot."

Hence the present all-out effort to "do something" about the boom before the boom bursts the boon of supersonic air travel.

There is a strain of optimism running through the bleak boom news, however, Aeronautical engineers figure that if man can learn to fly 1,800 miles an hour, and can feel certain he'll get to the moon in a couple of years, he can certainly take the bang out of the boom.

Promise---Real Hope Gap Is Wide

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some veteran observers here are presently faulting President Johnson not only for trying to do too much on too many fronts but for trying to persuade the American people that everything is possible at once.

BIOSSAT

He is specifically charged with not establishing needed priorities, as among the Vietnam war, the racial struggle and antipoverty effort, foreign aid, and so on.

The complaint ought to be lodged not against Johnson alone but against what might be termed the American syndrome.

For the fact is that no president nor any other kind of leader has ever spoken forcefully for a system of priorities in this country, with or without emergency situations.

★ ★ ★

Almost no influential elements in U.S. society are exempt from the spell of the American syndrome. Liberals who want to make it a sin peculiar to Johnson should review their own history.

For more than three decades they or their earlier counterparts have been trying to invest particular pieces of legislation with the special magic of the "ultimate solution."

★ ★ ★

A perfect example is the area redevelopment program, a scattershot, only partly effective assault on the problems of "distressed areas." In the late 1950s, its loud exponents portrayed it as a virtually sure means of lifting the curse of distress.

Americans are an impatient people. Being rich in resources, they learned long ago that, for the most part, they did not have to be patient. From this history arose the notion that they would not be patient, that they want only the optimistic word and cannot take bad news.

In sector after sector of U.S. life, the idea hardened: Americans must be promised the world tomorrow if they are to get through today.

★ ★ ★

But as gigantism has increasingly afflicted the nation's life, the gap has widened steadily between overstated promise and the glacial pace of real change.

A terrible irony it is, that rising numbers of U.S. Negroes should begin urgently imitating the impatience of established white society at a turn in history when the gap between easy promise and real hope has become so huge.

This country may be overextended, trying to do more than it should or it can. But if President Johnson is guilty of velling that fact, he is hardly different from critics who propose laying out hundreds of billions to remake U.S. cities in quick, sweeping strokes — with no genuine attention to how it can be achieved or paid for. They are caught up in the syndrome they attack.

In answer to a recent letter regarding the illustrious record of service of President Johnson's family, I am one in millions with just as good a record of service to our country. I strongly resent and protest the method employed by the splinter group known as I.S.S.T. in obtaining my signature to the petition presented to our UAW Local 653. This petition, as I recall reading it, simply stated that we as skilled tradesmen did not want a contract containing a guaranteed annual wage clause and that we would reject same if presented. # Bounty Crew's Progeny Find Island Life Too Quiet

NEW YORK (AP) One hundred seventy-eight years after the mutiny on the Bounty, life on Pitcairn Island among the descendants of Fletcher Christian and his men is without taxes, crime or alcohol. It's quiet and almost enough to drive the young people away.

★ ★ ★

From the 150 residents who lived a few years ago on Pitcairn's two square miles in the South Pacific—the smallest colony in the British Empire—the number in 1967 has fallen to about 90.

★ ★ ★

"A lot of our young people feel too isolated on Pitcairn and they leave," explained Thomas Colman Christian, 31, a great-great-great grandson of Fletcher Christian.

Now in New York studying broadcasting techniques, Christian said, however, "I think the emigration has tapered off and we won't be losing any more of our people."

RUNS STATION

Christian, who runs a small radio station at home, is a mixture of British and Tahitian stock, as are the other Pitcairn people whose ancestors were the nine British mutineers from the Bounty, their Tahitian wives and a few Tahitian men who came to the uninhabited island in 1790. It is now self-governing, but under the over-all administration of Fiji.

Leisure activities, Christian said, consist mainly of movies twice a week in the meeting house and gardening. The average yearly income is $600, enough to live on, he said, but not enough to allow much saving. Besides, there are no banks on Pitcairn.

"We have no monetary taxes, but all the men from 16 to 65 have to do some work for the island, such as keeping our boats in repair. The island makes quite a lot of money selling its postage stamps to collectors."

MOOD AUSTERE

But Pitcairn's mood is austere, one where grass skirts and moonlight revelry would not seem to fit in.

"All of us on the island are Seventh-day Adventists," Christian said. "No alcohol is allowed on the island. There is no dancing or gambling or anything. There hasn't been a murder on the island since 1897 and we don't have any crime there now at all."

★ ★ ★

When the young people feel the urge to leave, where do they go?"

"Some go to Australia and New Zealand, usually as carpenters, because most of our people are expert wood carvers," he said.

2 Stations to Defy Decree

Britain Bans Radio Pirates

LONDON (AP) — Britain's radio pirates appear to have been outgunned and outmaneuvered by government legislative firepower.

But two of the five buccaneer broadcasters plan to defy the Marine Broadcasting Offenses Act which became law Monday by operating outside British territorial waters.

★ ★ ★

The act bans Britons from operating a pirate station or supplying it with advertising. It upholds the monopoly of the state-owned British Broadcasting Company.

Radioes Caroline North and Caroline South weighed anchor near the Isle of Man in the Irish Sea, 35 miles off the English coast, and sailed to a safe station off Holland.

FACE ARREST

From there the pirates plan to continue beaming music and commercials at Britain. But if the Caroline British disc jockeys enter England, they face arrest.

The other radio pirates succumbed to the decree and sent their disc jockeys home. A mob of 800 screaming teen-agers gave a frenzied welcome to seven disc jockeys from one pirate, Radio London, as they returned to London upon the station's closing.

★ ★ ★

The departure of the Caroline pirates was a big disappointment to the Isle of Man. The pirates gave the Manx isle, famed for tailless cats and motorcycle racing, free plugs and helped keep the English and Scottish tourists coming.

On Aug. 9 the Lower House of the Manx Parliament voted to appeal the British ban on pirate radio to the commonwealth, after a motion to take the matter before the United Nations was voted down.

BBC POPS

The new broadcasting act hands back to the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) its monopoly on broadcasting to England. Softening the blow of losing their pop pirates to British teens, the BBC planned to open a pop service next month, a new image for the staid "auntie" of the airwaves.

The Caroline pirates hope to pay their way with advertising from continental Europe and the United States. Right now, however, the Carolines have just seven advertising accounts, as compared to 170 in the pop pirate heyday.

★ ★ ★

Caroline "Admiral" Robbie Dale said defiantly from his ship, "I might be a pirate, but out here I am a free Englishman. And I shall not go back to England until I can be free there, too."

Radio London was believed to have taken $1.4 million in advertising profits up to Monday, when it hoisted its anchor.

★ ★ ★

In Glasgow, Scotland, 3,000 teen-agers wearing black arm bands packed a ballroom to weep over Radio Scotland's final pirate broadcast at midnight. The station signed off with a rendition of "Auld Lang Syne."

Cincy Blackout Traced to Squirrel

CINCINNATI (AP) — A squirrel touched off a power blackout for about half an hour Monday in part of the Mt. Lookout section.

The brown, furry animal landed on a transformer bushing of a 7,200-volt power line, Cincinnati Gas & Electric officials reported.

★ ★ ★

Power was restored shortly afterwards, but the squirrel lost its life.

Viet Civilian Hopeful Sees Military Vote Fraud

SAIGON (AP) — Tran Van Huong, considered the leading civilian candidate for president of South Vietnam, implied today that soldiers would be able to vote twice for his military opponents—once at their bases and once at home.

At a news conference, the former premier charged that soldiers had been issued voting cards from both their home district and their base district.

* * *

He also charged the current military regime with intimidating his representatives in the provinces and said unless his warning led to reform, "we shall be compelled to reconsider our participation in the election."

But he said he would be with the other nine civilian candidates when they go to nearby Bien Hoa to start a campaign tour for the Sept. 3 election in which the military ticket—Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu for president and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky for vice president—is expected to win.

SEEN AS CONTRACT

"We view this election as a contract between ourselves and the nation to see if democracy will be established," Huong said. "For that reason we will make every effort to continue to campaign and we shall only adopt a different attitude when we are completely convinced there is no other way out."

Huong's news conference included statements from persons he said were his representatives in the provinces. Some told of "friends of friends" who supported Huong but allegedly had been warned to support Thieu and Ky instead.

One said he had been asked to report to the deputy chief of police in his area but declined to go, apparently afraid he was going to be intimidated.

Neither Thieu nor Ky was immediately available for comment on the charges, but a spokesman for them said, "I am sure the government will answer the charges."

REFUSED NAMES

The representatives at Huong's news conference refused to give their names because, they said, their lives would be in danger.

"Since they are making the charges, do you really think there is any threat to them?" the government spokesman asked.

* * *

Although he said the government would answer the charges later, the spokesman added: "If we put on a show every day of slugging it out with the other candidates for the American public opinion to watch, it would serve no purpose." Huong's charges also included allegations that representatives of Thieu and Ky were using government transportation and communications facilities for the campaign. He said even American helicopters were being enlisted.

The U.S. Embassy has issued strict orders that no Americans or American equipment will be in any way associated with political events.

PLACES DATES

Huong named places and a few dates of what he called incidents of harassment, intimidation and other unfair campaign practics, but no names were reported and there was no immediate way to confirm the charges.

Thieu and Ky have said repeatedly that provincial officials have been told not to do anything that might be considered putting pressure on candidates or voters.

But thousands of local officials and military men owe their jobs to the central government and might act on their own in efforts to keep their jobs.

The start of the civilians' campaign trip to the provinces comes about halfway through the officially proclaimed campaign period. It will cover only 11 of the 22 communities originally on the itinerary.

The tour was to have started Aug. 6, but when adverse winds diverted the tour plane from Quang Tri to Dong Ha and no Vietnamese officials were waiting to greet the candidates, they angrily returned 425 miles to Saigon and began accusing the government of sabotaging their campaign.

House Set to OK Bill Protecting Civil Rights Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, fresh from pushing through legislation aimed at preventing riots and punishing some riot leaders, now appears poised to move toward protection of civil rights.

A civil rights measure, part of the rights bill which last year passed the House but died in the Senate, comes up in the House today with strong bipartisan support. Sponsors predicted passage by late in the day.

Major controversy may center on a states rights amendment to be offered by Rep. Basil Whitener, D-N.C. It would specify that nothing in the bill would preempt state laws, so long as the state laws do not conflict with federal law.

★ ★ ★

The bill provides federal criminal penalties of up to life imprisonment for persons convicted of interfering with citizens exercising specified actions protected by federal law.

Antiriot legislation, attached last year by the House to this part of the civil rights bill, already has been passed by the House this year. And further antiriot provisions were added last week when the House rewrote President Johnson's anticrime bill.

★ ★ ★

Members of the House Judiciary Committee said enactment of these measures make unnecessary addition of further antiriot provisions to the new bill, which faces an uncertain future in the Senate if passed by the House.

The bill is intended to strengthen the government's ability to meet civil rights violence in such areas as voting, public accommodations, public education, public services, employment, jury service, use of common carriers and participation in federally assisted programs.

Any person convicted of interfering with such activities could face maximum penalties of a $1,000 fine and one year in prison. If injury results, the penalties could go up to $10,000 and 10 years and, in the event of death, could reach life imprisonment.

'Reply Sped A-Bomb Use'

NEW YORK (AP) — President Harry S. Truman's decision to use the atom bomb on Japan was hastened by a poor choice of language in Japan's reply to Potsdam peace terms, a magazine article says.

★ ★ ★

Truman "reacted predictably" when informed that Premier Kantaro Suzuki's reaction was "mokusatsu," meaning "treat with silent contempt," the article by William Craig in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post said.

Suzuki's intended reply was to withhold comment, the article said.

★ ★ ★

It also reported that a band of Japanese army officers attempted a coup d'etat to block surrender in World War II after the bombs were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

The article said the coup attempt Aug. 15, 1945, resulted in the invasion of Emperor Hirohito's palace and the death of the head of the Imperial Guard, but dissolved when a search of the palace failed to turn up a recording by Hirohito of a surrender speech to be broadcast the next day.

Mayor Asks; Lawyer Quits Lansing Post

LANSING (AP) — City Attorney C. Wanger Monday resigned effective immediately at the request of Mayor Max Murningham and the city council.

★ ★ ★

Wanger, 34, said he was given no reason for the resignation request.

★ ★ ★

"I can only conclude that what they (Murninghan and the council) want in their city attorney is a 'yes' man who will give legal advice in accordance with what is politically expedient for them," Wanger said in his letter of resignation.

Wanger siad the "foremost evidence" of his charge concerned a city franchise for CATV (community antenna television) to be granted to Gross Telecasting, Inc.

REFUSED TERMS

"I have refused to recommend franchise terms for a city franchise to be granted to Gross which did not contain important legal protections for the citizens of Lansing," he said.

Bear Victim's Friends Tell of Terror

WEST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — Four terror-stricken young people who saw one of their friends killed by a grizzly bear in a Glacier National Park say they tried everything they knew to drive away the marauding animal.

They built a bonfire, but it didn't scare the bear.

They lay motionless in their sleeping bags, but the bear attacked anyway.

★ ★ ★

One youth even punched the bear with his fist, he said, but the grizzly kept coming.

Paul R. Dunn, 16, a high school junior from Edina, Minn., screamed: "He's got her in the sleeping bag and he's dragging her up the hill!"

The students, who had come to the scenic park for a working vacation, told their story Monday after escaping from the maddened bear, which threatened them for hours before finally attacking and killing Michele Koons, 19, of San Diego, Calif., early Sunday.

SECOND KILLING

Twenty miles from the campsite where Michele died, another 19-year-old girl, Julie Helgeson of Albert Lea, Minn., was killed in her sleeping bag by another park bear during the same night. One of her companions, Roy Ducat, 18, of Perrysburg, Ohio, was seriously injured.

A hunt continued today for the killer bears after park rangers shot and killed two grizzlies Monday in the area where Miss Helgeson was slain. Tests were being made on those bears to try to determine whether one was the killer.

★ ★ ★

With Dunn and Miss Koons were Denise Huckle, 19, of Sam Manuel, Calif., and a junior at the University of Arizona and Ronald A. Noseck, 21, and his brother, Ray T. 23, both of Oracle, Ariz. The Nosecks are dental students at the University of Louisville.

Saturday they had hiked to Trout Lake in a wild area in the western part of the park for a campout.

CHASED UP TREE

Two campers they met on the trail told of being chased up a tree by a grizzly.

They pitched camp and caught some fish. Then while cooking hot dogs, the wind blew their campfire smoke into the trees and Michele said, "there's a bear."

The bear invaded the camp and the four ran 50 yards down the lakefront. It ate their food and left with Michel's travel bag in its teeth.

"We discussed whether to stay where we were or try to go back," Dunn said. "It was dark and we weren't sure of the trail, so we built a big bonfire."

They they saw the bear again standing on a logjam in the lake.

"None of us really slept," Ray Noseck said. "We just kept putting wood on the fire."

"About two o'clock my little dog, Squirt, started growling and I heard something in the water," Denise Huckle said. "I knew there was a bear near us."

CAME CLOSE

"We stayed real close to the fire," Dunn said. "My feet really got hot."

"A couple of times the bear came very close to the fire," Dunn said. They got in their sleeping bags and covered their heads with blankets.

Between 2 a.m. and 4:30 a.m., the bear stayed at the edge of the area lit by the campfire, moving about in the brush.

★ ★ ★

"When the attack started, I was the first to see the bear," Miss Huckle said. "Squirt started to squeal. I looked over a log and the bear was loping straight toward the camp. The fire was big and I could see his face and the upper half of his body. Then about four or five feet from me, he stopped.

"By that time I was back under the covers," she said. "All of a sudden he grabbed one of the packs and we could hear him ripping the pack. Then he stopped and I could hear him breathing. I kept Squirt very quiet."

"Then he came toward me," Dunn said. "I could hear him come. I remained perfectly still and he just sniffed. It was kind of hard because I could hear him right above me, breathing. Then I heard a crunch into my sleeping bag. He bit half my shirt right off. I lifted up the covers and hit him. He reared back on his hind legs. I climbed a tree 30 feet high in 10 seconds. I saw the bear turn toward Ron."

"I yelled to Denise that we had to get out of there," Ron said.

★ ★ ★

"No, I can't," she replied. "I've got to undo the collar around Squirt's neck." The dog was tied in the sleeping bag with her.

"I kept watching," Ron said, "and the bear took several steps back and started for Michele. Denise and I jumped out of our bags and ran 50 yards down the beach."

"Ron shoved me up a tree," Denise said, "and tried to throw the dog up. I finally caught him."

STAKING HIS CLAIM — Warren File (right) and a sympathizer put the finishing touches on one of two fences File built to dramatize his claim that he owns 273 feet of Asbury Street in Greenville, Ill. File started putting up his fences Friday night. A judge decides today whether he can leave them up. File said he has a legal deed to the land which the city refused to buy from a previous owner. He feels he may be able to beat city hall because he won a parking ticket case two years ago.

Board Considering Boat Law

The Waterford Township Board last night referred to its attorney for study a recommendation by the Michigan Department of Conservation that the board enact a local ordinance relating to watercraft controls on Pontiac Lake.

The White Lake Township Board received a similar request. Pontiac Lake lies in both townships.

The ordinance, if adopted, will require persons operating vessels on the lake to maintain a distance of 100 feet from the shoreline and from any island except when proceeding at a "slow — no wake' sped and except when pick- ing up or dropping of water skiers.

The exceptions are contingent on the operation being conducted with due regard to the safety of persons and property and in a line perpendicular to the shoreline insofar as it is reasonably possible and in accordance with the laws of the state.

★ ★ ★

Persons navigating, steering or controlling themselves while being towed on water skis, water sleds, surfboards or similar contrivances also would be required to maintain a distnce of 100 feet from the shoreline and from any island, raft, buoyed or occupied bathing area or vessel moored or at anchor with the same exceptions.

FINES SET

Violators of the ordinance would receive a fine up to $100 or a maximum of 90 days in jail, or both, if convicted.

Existing laws are being enforced, but the new ordinance is deemed necessary because of the heavy use of the lake.

Two public hearings May 22 and Aug. 2 preceded the proposed ordinance.

★ ★ ★

In other business last night, the board authorized the township attorney to draw up a resolution of consent to allow the Donelson Park Civic Association to proceed with improvements on lot 288 in the subdivision.

Legal title to the lot is held in trust by the township for the use and benefit of lot owners in the subdivision.

A proposal that elected township officers receive mileage compensation when on official business was refered to the attorney for review.

The rate would be 10 cents a mile.

Approved by the board last night was an annual pay rate of $6,698 for a dispatcher the police department plans to hire.

★ ★ ★

Also approved was a lot split request by Harlan Thayer for property in Eysters Woodhull Lake Subdivision on Meigs Street.

A resolution was passed thanking the township's volunteer firemen and reserve policemen for their assistance in the recent Pontiac disturbances.

Murder-Suicide Claims State Pair

ST. JOHNS (AP) — Mrs. Alice Shivley, 31, was shot to death and her husband, Russell, 32, fatally wounded Monday in what police said was an apparent murder and suicide.

The two were estranged and Shivley failed to appear for a scheduled court hearing Monday.

Mrs. Shivley was shot when she entered their former home upon returning from the hearing. Her mother, Mrs. Ruth Patterson, summoned police from a nearby telephone. When police arrived, a second shot was heard in the Shivley garage. Shivley was found there, shot in the head.

State GI's Die

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Monday two Michigan soldiers were listed among 26 servicemen killed in action in Vietnam fighting. The victims were identified as Spec. 5 Andrew C. Conrad Jr., husband of Barbara A. Conrad of Flint, and Pfc. Donnie W. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waymon Young of Detroit.

Coed Cyclists Injured by Car

CADILLAC (UPI) — Two college coeds riding bicycles on their way to Expo '67 via Ann Arbor, were in Mercy Hospital here yesterday after a traffic accident.

They are Naomi Baer, 21, rural Lake Park, Minn., a student at Moorhead College in Iowa, and Bonnie Tinker, 19, of Des Moines, Iowa. They were injured early yesterday when struck in the rear by a car while riding their bicycles.

Waterford Twp. Board Eyes Ordinance to Restrict Bees

An ordinance restricting the owning, raising and keeping of bees in Waterford Township was introduced by the Township Board last night.

If adopted at next Monday's board meeting, the ordinance will become effective 30 days from then.

Prepared by Township Attorney Calvin Patterson, the ordinance would prohibit any beehive used or occupied by bees in any area of the township other than an agricultural area.

The ordinance also would make it unlawful to own, keep, raise or harbor bees in any area other than an agricultural area.

The "nuisance" ordinance is aimed at protecting the public health, safety and welfare of the township and to provide penalties for violators.

PENALTY

Violators, upon conviction, would receive a fine not exceeding $100 or a jail term up to 90 days, or both. Each day a violation occurs would constitute a separate offense.

Patterson defines an agricultural area as an open area in the township where farming, dairying and other general agricultural and farming activities are permitted.

COMPLAINTS OF BEES

The drawing up of the proposed ordinance was prompted when a group of citizens and a businessman lodged complaints about a bee-keeping operation on North Winding.

Unique Drug May Combat Viral Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists for a drug firm believe they have found a new way to prevent viral infection which also could be used to fight any types of cancer found to be of viral origin.

Five researchers for Merck Sharp & Dome said Monday they discovered how to stimulate the human body to produce a natural germ-fighting chemical called interferon. This is a protein produced by the body but sometimes not enough is produced to overcome virus attacks.

A Merck spokesman said if it's established that some types of cancer are of viral origin, the new discovery could have significant implications.

The researchers have used three interferon-inducing substances in animal tests and say the results were promising. They said the medication may be tried on humans.

Interferon slows the spread of infection by preventing viral reproduction in cells and works against several types of viruses. Consequently, if the research is fully successful, the use of a single interferon-inducing medication could replace the variety of vaccinations now given to prevent several diseases.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPARK PLUGS

QUESTION: How does a spark plug make power to run an engine?

ANSWER: A spark plug, just by itself, does not provide power for an engine. What it does is to provide a spark inside the cylinder of a gasoline engine.

A mixture of air and gasoline is drawn into the engine's cylinder and is compressed by the up-stroke of the piston to a point where it is very explosive.

Just at this point, the spark plug is timed to produce its spark. This sets the air-gasoline mixture afire. The burning gases expand violently, and this expansion pushes the piston down (upper right) and provides power to operate the engine.

How does a spark plug in a car produce a spark? An electric current leads from one pole of the car's battery. Its voltage is increased and it flows by a wire into the top of the spark plug (upper left). The current passes through the plug by an insulated metal electrode which sticks out at the bottom.

Another electrode comes out close by, but does no touch the first one; it is connected with the other pole of the battery. When electricity is sent to the plug, the current jumps the gap between the two electrodes; this makes the spark.

70,000 Students Earning as They Are Learning

CHICAGO (UPI) — A program sponsored by the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) is giving 70,000 high school and community college students earn-while-you-learn training in the burgeoning fields of retailing, marketing and management.

The program has attracted wide support from major retail chains throughout the country. It combines classroom study with on-the-job experience, plus an incentive to reach management status as quickly as possible. An estimated 2,000 of the nation's 12,000 high schools are participating.

Giant retail firms such as Montgomery Ward, employing more than 100,000 men and women in retail outlets throughout the nation, are solidly behind the plan.

Ward outlets in 150 cities cooperate with local public schools in the training and employment of students registered in the program.

"The success of the program demonstrates that today's young people are interested in business generally and in retailing and marketing specifically," said Robert V. Guelich, a Montgomery Ward executive and chairman of DECA's National Advisory Board.

James Bliss, executive vice president of the National Retail Merchants Association, said: "The retailing industry is going to need more talent in the next five years than it has recruited in the past 20."

Riot Reactions Were Similar in '43 and '67

LANSING (AP) — "We have the situation well under control. Our next step is to find out who the guilty ones are, to punish them and see that things of this kind don't happen again in the state of Michigan."

It sounds like a statement that could have been made by any public official in the aftermath of riots which swept Detroit and spread outstate almost three weeks ago, leaving 43 dead in their wake.

But it was spoken more than 24 years ago, on June 23, 1943, by Gov. Harry F. Kelly, following a two-day riot which killed 34 persons in Detroit.

The 1943 riots made front page news across a nation otherwise occupied with winning a war in which Detroit and Michigan played a major supply role.

★ ★ ★

Many of the newspaper stories describing the 1943 riot and the statements and actions of state officials in its immediate aftermath bear a not-so-surprising resemblance to the accounts of last month's rioting.

U.S. TROOPS ASKED

In both instances State Police and National Guard troops were ordered into the riot areas and both Gov. Kelly and Gov. George Romney asked for federal troops.

In both cases, the riots had hardly been quelled when charges began to fly in an attempt to establish responsibility and investigations were demanded.

★ ★ ★

In the days immediately following the 1943 riots, newspaper stories told of the variety of speculation over the causes.

Among the suggested causes was friction between the large numbers of both Negroes and whites coming to Detroit from the South to work in war plants, the South to work in war plants, faulty police work and fifth columnists seeking to disrupt the war effort.

COMMITTEE NAMED

Others said the riots grew out of white injustices to Negroes, Negro maladjustment and economic inequality.

Gov. Kelley appointed a four-man committee composed of Atty. Gen. Herbert J. Rushton, State Police Commissioner Oscar C. Olander, Wayne County Prosecutor William E. Dowling and Detroit Police Commissioner John H. Witherspoon to investigate the riot causes.

The Army was invited to participate in the investigation. Washington took an active interest in the Detroit riots in 1943 as in 1967.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Martin Dies, D-Texas, chairman of a House committee investigating un-American activities, said his group had uncovered evidence that Japanese agents, working through established organization, had promoted racial prejudice in the area to interfere with war production and break down home front morale.

KKK ACTIVE

Dies said he also had evidence that the Ku Klux Klan had enrolled many members in the Detroit area.

He announced that his committee's hearings were being broadened to inquire into the matter of racial disturbances, but Detroit Mayor Edward Jeffries asked Dies to refrain from investigating the Detroit riot, saying it would "only add to the confusion."

Saks Fashions Aim to Cover All Occasions

By JEANNE NELSON

Major names in fashion lead a colorful parade throughout the newly opened Saks Fifth Avenue store located in Somerset Mall Shopping Center, Troy.

Carried over from summer patio parties, the "at home" formal hostess ensembles continue strong for the season ahead.

Whatever they style, kaross, pajama, culotte or simple sheath, exciting sounds are made with the use of bold color and unforgettable prints.

A lighter more carefree note is distinct along the daytime and sportswear arches that sing-song their fasion score.

Career girl and suburban homemaker alike will step with a sense of purposefulness through these stylish aisles.

RESPORT WEAR

Leading off the sportswear aisle, a charming boutique pipes harmonious attention with total seasonal displays for resorts, ski and summer. Saks, with practical intent, has overlapped these with fashions for the college bound.

Close by, and as an intregral part of the style parade, the Young Elite Shops join the orchestration with a highnote of youthful verve.

Up the gracefully winding staircase, "the beat" continues into a young juniors section.

★ ★ ★

Joel Rath, general manager of the new store, is hopefully looking forward to establishing both teen and college boards now existent in the Detroit store.

The younger-than-teen down through infancy has not been overlooked in the scheme of things either.

Developing an early interest in the fashion sphere is apparently one of the main objects in this chain of 27 noted stores.

On this same second level, another unmistakable sound can be heard. The gift boutique. Fine crystal and exquisite silver is featured.

Downstairs again, just across from famous fashion maker's design rooms, is the men's department. Truly masculine, a distinct bass predmoniates in an array of suits and leisure wear.

In keeping with the unique proposed enclosed mall, Saks has no showroom windows and, according to Rath, will be scheduling a number of both formal and informal fashion shows within the store to compensate.

Millionaire-Hobo Husband Wins Prize as One of Abby's Strangest Cases

DEAR ABBY: I've read about a lot of strange characters in your column, but I think my husband takes the prize. He gets a lot of pleasure out of going around looking like a hobo. Why? Because of all the sympathy he gets from his friends who think the poor man's wife is neglecting him. I know all his tricks.

ABBY

Abby, my husband is a millionaire! You heard me. He paid taxes on an income of $175,000 last year. He wears his suits for two months without cleaning or pressing them. He will wear a white shirt for three and four days.

He buys the cheapest socks, underwear, shoes and clothing because they get to looking shabby faster. If I don't patch and mend he goes around with holes! Now, what would you do with a problem like mine? HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I'd throw a butterfly net over him. And fast. Next thing you know he might think it would be nice if people felt sorry for him because he "lost" his wife. And then he might think up ways to "lose" her.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Our son wanted to enlist in the navy, so he went down for his physical and he didn't pass it. He felt so ashamed and hurt because all his buddies made it, and he didn't. He's not going to college, so he feels sort of all alone and blue.

The problem is the people around here. They are very inquisitive. Someone is always asking him how come he's not in service. He's ashamed to tell them he couldn't pass the physical. Is there something else he can say when he's asked? HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: He should tell them the truth. There are many reasons why a young man can be "4-F," ranging all the way from a heart murmur he didn't know he had, to a burn knee suffered in a football game.

If your son is letting something like this bother him, he has a battle at home he'd better start working on.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am employed as a secretary in a large office. One of the senior partners is semi-retired and comes in only a few days a week for two or three hours.

Last winter he came in just before noon and asked me to type a letter for him, which I gladly did. Then out of the blue, he asked me to have lunch with him. I was surprised because none of the bosses has ever taken any of us girls to lunch. I accepted.

★ ★ ★

I don't know what I did to charm this man, but he certainly seemed to enjoy my company. Don't misunderstand me, he didn't make any out-of-the-way advances to me, he just told me about his early life, which I found fascinating.

I am 29, unmarried, and he is over 65, with an invalid wife. My problem: He invites me to lunch frequently now. But he leaves envelopes with $50 and $100 bills enclosed for "extras."

Now, I know it's no financial strain on him as he is very wealthy, but I am adequately paid for any work I do at the office, and I feel guilty accepting this money.

Am I taking advantage of an elderly man by accepting his gifts and giving him nothing but a smile and a pleasant lunch hour by just listening?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: As long as he asks nothing, and you promise nothing, you have no reason to feel guilty. (P.S. But don't accept any more money, just in case.)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 10 years and have three small children. We purchased a three-bedroom house last year, and we are still in the process of furnishing it. Recently some friends who live in another city came to visit us.

Not having a guest room, we gave them our bedroom and we prepared to sleep in the family room on the couch that makes into a double bed. It's an old wreck of a couch and not very comfortable.

Our guests insisted that they sleep on that old wreck of a bed and we stay in our own bedroom. They said they never give up their bedroom for guests and wouldn't permit anyone to do it for them. We felt just terrible, Abby, for they wouldn't listen to reason.

It is our policy to make our guests as comfortable as possible. Weren't they rude to refuse the accommodations we offered them?

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: If it's your policy to make your guests as "comfortable" as possible, you should have let them sleep where they wanted to without a fuss. Many a guest (including this columnist) would feel much more "comfortable" standing up all night in a broom closet than displacing the host and hostess.

★ ★ ★

Confidential to "Summer Romance": Forget him. He's a cheat. Even if he were to divorce his wife he would make very poor husband material.

★ ★ ★

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, California. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

She Can't Yawn During Ceremony

LONDON (AP) — As Jacqueline Rainbow, 17, prepared for her wedding and honeymoon her doctor warned, "Remember now, don't yawn."

Twelve hours before she was due to wed Stanley Flynn, 20, Jacqueline did yawn — and her mouth stayed open.

★ ★ ★

"She came downstairs and couldn't say a word," explained her mother, Mrs. Iris Rainbow.

"With her mouth still open, we hurried her to the hospital by taxi where they diagnosed a dislocated jaw."

TWO HOURS

After two hours of injections and treatment Jacqueline was able to close her mouth.

That was last Friday. On Saturday she married.

Today she commented: "Not that I want to yawn. It's just that it feels funny when you know you can't. But at least the doctor didn't tell me not to smile."

Sonoma Methodist Church, Battle Creek, was the site of recent vows uniting Mr. and Mrs. Mark James Watson (nee Nancy Jane Nunn).

The bride wore a gown of white linen over taffeta with mantle cape train. Motifs of Venise lace trimmed the bodice, skirt, sleeves and train.

A petaled cap held her illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white carnations.

Ellen Joann Nunn was her sister's maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Pat Sawyer and Mrs. Robert Heuer of Battle Creek.

Nelson D. Watson was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mrs. David O. Watson of Milford and the late Mr. Watson.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Howard G. Nunn of Battle Creek and the late Mr. Nunn.

Ushers were Robert Long of Hartland and Henry Goeman of Anaheim, Calif. Junior ushers were the bride's brothers, David and Stephen.

Following a reception in the church social rooms the couple left for a Florida honeymoon.

Betty Furness Repeats Vows Third Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Betty Furness, given the task by President Johnson of helping the nation's housewives and other consumers, became a working wife today when she married television producer Leslie Midgley.

Miss Furness, 51, the President's special assistant for consumer affairs, and Midgley, 52, executive producer of news for the Columbia Broadcasting System, exchanged vows in a civil ceremony at noon at the Hotel Regency on Park Avenue.

The brown-haired, green-eyed grandmother and Midgley met three years ago at CBS.

Miss Furness was the hostess on several CBS radio and television programs, including "Ask Betty Furness."

The bride began her career as a model, then went to Hollywood where she made more than 30 movies.

★ ★ ★

In 1949, she joined Westinghouse, beginning an 11-year association that gained her fame as a demonstrator of refrigerators, stoves and other appliances for television commercials.

Miss Furness was sworn into the consumer job last April. She readily agreed with critics who said she lacked experience but promised she would start doing her own shopping and would try to see that the consumer got "an honest shake" in the marketplace.

The marriage is the third for Miss Furness and the second for Midgley.

Miss Furness wore a black and brown polka-dotted silk print on white by designer James Galanos, one of several figures from the fashion world on the guest list of more than 100.

★ ★ ★

Her only attendant was her daughter, Mrs. Denton Snyder of Northampton, Mass.

The best man was Midgley's son, Jedediah. State Supreme Court Justice Owen McGivern performed the ceremony.

She "Skirts" Problem With a Real Flare

LONDON (UPI) — It was a smashing cherry red pants suit. Especially the top half, all the lithe 23-year-old brunette was wearing in the veddy, vedy proper Claridges Hotel dining room.

Susan Jane Griffiths, also known as dress designer Lady Jane, was shocked when the hotel's head waiter Luigi told her she couldn't wear her pants suit in the dining room.

An angry Miss Griffiths shed the pants in full view of waiters and Monday noon diners.

RECOVERY

Then she and her date walked nonchalantly to their table in the posh hostelry where Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin stayed during his February visit to Britain.

An astonished waiter carefully draped the pants over one arm and took them to the only place they were allowed — the cloakroom.

"The manager looked very surprised," Miss Griffiths said later. 'But he let me in. I think he was so astonished he didn't know what to do.'

The suit jacket was fairly decent length for a London miniskirt, about one-third up the thigh. Claridges has bowed to the miniskirt craze despite its anti-pants policy.

The first button, however, was at the waist.

★ ★ ★

A cooperative breeze revealed Miss Griffith was wearing only stocking tights.

"I arrived to be told that I couldn't wear trousers," she said.

"At the time I was too angry to be embarassed but I rather wished I hadn't done it now."

Said the waiter who had packed off the pants:

Woman, 88, Gets Divorce

RED BLUFF, Calif. (AP) — When an 88-year-old woman was unable to climb the stairs to the second floor of the Superior Court, Judge Curtiss E. Wetter, wearing his judicial robe, went down to the rear of the courthouse.

There he listened as the woman made her complaints in a divorce action request against her 65-year-old husband. The judge granted the divorce as she sat in her car.

J. L. Whittens Repeat Vows on Saturday

Sonja Paulette Teague and John Larence Whitten were wed in the First United Missionary Church.

Parents of the couple exchanging vows in the Saturday evening ceremony are Mrs. Olpha Teague of VanZandt Street, Howard Teague of South Edith Street and the Larence Whittens of Eastway Drive.

An A-line gown with fitted bodice and full length skirt of Chantilly lace and sequins was worn by the bride. Her veil was attached by a petal cap.

She carried carnations and a white orchid as a wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Gordon Teague was matron of honor.

Cynthia Whitten, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Woman Minister Holds Pastorate

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — An ordained minister for 35 years, the Rev. Miss Florence Stevens is the only woman in the state with a pastorate.

Recently appointed pastor of Warren Methodist Church, she believes that women can not only do the job just as well as men, but in some respects, sympathetic and often find it easier to talk with people," she points out. "Visitation is an important pastoral duty and though some men find it uncomfortable, it's usually easy for a woman."

Dress for Honeymoon

In dressing for your wedding trip, try not to look as if everything you have on is new.

Avoid pastel suits, tiny hats, lace blouses.

Serve Guests Chipped Beef

When unexpected guests arrive, reach for a can, jar or package of dried beef.

With a can or two of milk, you can make well-seasoned, chipped beef, served on toast.

Tips for Campers

DEAR POLLY — I have a suggestion for families who may be planning camping vacations. Camping means three meals a day, often cooked on a camp stove. So I used to have an awful time planning a day-to-day variety.

Now I anticipate this by saving recipes all year-round that I think can be prepared on a camp stove. By vacation time I have a two week's supply of "one-pan" meals. Several meals are planned completely with canned foods so that finding a grocery store is not a daily crisis. I also buy most of the canned goods we will need before leaving home, which saves time and money when traveling.

Before we leave camp in the morning I check my recipe cards, put things I need in a hamper, note whatever I may have to buy and am ready for the day. Noon and evening meals can be prepared without any last minute problems or shortages.—MRS. R. J. L.

DEAR POLLY — My electric outlets are all a tan color and are very soiled. I wonder if anyone can tell me how to clean them. — LILLIAN

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Mrs. E. M. that her plastic dish pan probably gives way in the center bottom because the drainage part of the sink causes the trouble. I keep a rubber mat underneath my dish pan to cushion this vacuum and have no such trouble. — MRS. C. C.

DEAR POLLY — After having several plastic dishpans break in the center, I began to wonder if the weight of the water and the dishes pressing against the little gadget that holds the water in the sink had caused the trouble.

I bought a round rubber suction cover, such as is used over a sink drain to hold the water in when there is no turn off, and put this under my dishpan. These little covers usually have a small extra handlelike piece at the top, which must be shaved off so the pan can set flat against it. — MRS. R. E.

DEAR POLLY — To repair a torn plastic dishpan, take a red hot screwdriver and run across the break, or cut a piece off the top, put the hot metal on it and melt it. Be sure to repair both the inside and outside with the hot screwdriver. — WILLIAM

Polly's Note — This takes a bit of patience. Do be careful handling the hot screwdriver.

DEAR POLLY — If you keep your ball point pens, marking pens and so on with the points DOWN they will always be ready to write instead of having to scribble to get them started. — THELMA

Avoid Hazards to Your Health on Trip Abroad

NEW YORK — A good strong dose of common sense, plus the usual shots, plus a small traveling medical kit can do much to ensure that the trip abroad will be trouble free. So believes Kevin M. Cahill, M.D., Director of the Tropical Disease Center at St. Clare's Hospital here.

Among the common sense rules: Wherever water is not known to be safe, drink only hot coffee or tea, or boil water with a portable immersion heater, or drop halazone or globaline tablets in proper proportion in cool water.

★ ★ ★

Avoid bottled soft drinks since these can be rebottled under unsafe sanitary conditions — and the saccharine or sugar make excellent mediums for bacterial growth. Bottled beer or bottled water are safe so long as the seal is unbroken, Dr. Cahill told Women's Medical News Service.

Avoid salads where sanitation is poor and eat only those raw fruits that can be peeled.

An all-purpose medical kit might include an anti-diarrheal; a topical antiseptic, aspirin, insect repellent, remedies such as Dramamine for motion sickness and a pocket-size first-aid book.

Lace also trimmed the edge of her floor length mantilla for the St. Benedict's Catholic Church rite.

Effect of Colors on Temperature

Keep cool with color! Research has proven again and again that the psychology of color works. Air-condition your room with lime-sherbet green, filmy curtains in a non-iron, non-fade fabric.

If a lemon-ice shade is your dish, fling it through your room — in bedspreads, pillow covers and pretty summer dresser scarves. Surf-white will lower your temperature, and stitching white ball fringe along the hem of white draperies can while away a hot summer afternoon when you can't get to the beach.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, for that drafty room that never seems to warm up in winter, the Textile Dye Institute suggests you play with hot colors — reds and oranges — and you'll find the other side of the coin is a winner, too: You can keep warm with color!

Well---On to the Next Creative Job

By BETTY CANARY

As everybody knows, women are supposed to DO something with all the spare time they have, so most of us take up a hobby or two. I've had a go at quite a lot of things, including knitting and ceramics.

However, I am done with all that small stuff and have gone on to self-expression in a big way. I paint. Walls.

It is an ideal solution. One of the best things about it is that after you have finished one you do not have the problem of where to put it.

And, frankly, my taking up walls has been a relief to my relatives also, mainly because I don't give them one for Christmas.

The knitting didn't work out at all. I started out a long time ago with argyle socks and went through three boy friends before finishing one sock. Although I lacked the courage to start the second sock, the result of my patience with the needles paid off anyway. The sock I finished made a dandy dusting mitt.

CERAMICS

I turned to ceramics when a friend asked me in scathing tones what I did all day. So, I got a baby sitter for the kids (I only had three at the time, slacker that I was) and went to class. I was astonished when the instructor wheeled a cart up to my table and dumped this enormous mass of wet gray clay before me.

"Gee," I said, "I just was going to draw a flower on a little bud vase or something."

"My dear, no! You are going to create!" he informed me.

Well, I thought I had done enough of THAT, so I asked, "Where's the kiln? All I want is to bake a little bud vase or something."

★ ★ ★

Looking quite ill, he shouted, "You will use the raw material! You will sculpt! You will begin at the beginning!"

I told him how I had knitted this sock once and how nobody suggested I spin the wool or anything, and he showed me where the ceramics class was meeting right down the hall.

After Bob Honey built the third set of shelves for my bud vases, he delicately suggested I turn my artistic energies elsewhere. As a matter of fact, his exact words were, "Stop bringing home these damned bottles!"

★ ★ ★

I discovered painting. I did a few still lifes before I took on walls. And a friend took a photograph of me which he entered in a contest and it won first prize. He called it: "Girl With Latex Rollers."

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Brignac Jr. loved their old house with its high ceilings and huge rooms, but with five children they needed something more functional.

So when they built their new home, they incorporated as much as possible from the old one in it.

Can a wig's color be changed? Yes, but only once. Repeated recoloring of a wig will damage the netting and shorten it's life. However, temporary color rinses are not harmful and can be used often.
What color wig is a wise buy? Most women are happier when the first wig matches their own hair coloring, because they can add wiglets to complement both their own hair and their wig. After their initial purchase, however, they can go as madly glamourous as they wish and add to their wig wardrobes any color they please. If you are uncertain about color selection and do not want the same shade as your own hair, we help you decide by the following manner.
We select as light a blond or auburn shade as possible that will look natural with your skin coloring, keeping in mind our temporary color rinses, (for changing shades from time to time). Again every product from our shampoo, permanent waves and colors are specially made for wigs.
Soon the client finds she has decided on the shade she most enjoys wearing. She will usually have her wig reverse custom frosted or tinted in a permanent shade. To do these special custom services, we have special equipment to protect the wig base. There are at least fifty rust proof pins used to secure our hand tied wigs to the form, when shampooing, permanent waving, tinting, or bleaching. This is why the cost varies from the machine weft wig services.

Teachers Hinder Integration

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Some school superintendents in Alabama say Negro as well as white teachers are reluctant to transfer to schools now predominantly of the opposite race.

Because of that, school boards, particularly in counties where Negroes have a population majority, say they are finding it difficult to comply with federal court desegregation orders.

* * *

In rural Lowndes County, where Negroes outnumber white residents 4 to 1 and where the board has been directed to "take affirmative steps" toward faculty integration, every white teacher has resigned except at one school. But in Selma, in adjoining Dallas County, school authorities say proportionately more white than Negro teachers have volunteered for desegregation assignments.

Negro leaders attribute the reluctance within their race to fear of reprisals, and as one of them expressed it, possibly the belief that the superintendent wants them to display an unwilling attitude.

One spokesman, Executive Secretary Joe Reed of the Negro Alabama State Teachers Association, said school boards invite a regative response by asking for volunteers, as some have done.

* * *

He said Negro teachers in a potentially hostile atmosphere feel more secure if they are ordered to transfer than if they volunteer.

Most Alabama school systems already have experienced some pupil integration, but when classes reopen next month for the fall term, they will be under statewide court orders to begin quickening the pace. And in most instances, faculties will be desegregated for the first time.

TWO IN A SCHOOL

The immediate goal under a far-reaching federal court decision handed down last March 22 is a minimum of two teachers of the minority race (white or Negro) in every school "insofar as it is administratively feasible."

Lowndes County wasn't directly affected by that decree because it was already under another court order. But every white teacher in the county has resigned except those at Fort Deposit.

* * *

Unless Supt. Hulda Coleman can find other white teachers to replace them, every school in the county except Fort Deposit will have an all-Negro faculty and probably an all-Negro student body.

White pupils will attend a privately operated school. Fort Deposit will have about 14 Negro and almost 300 white pupils and no Negro teachers this fall.

NEEDED ELSEWHERE

The board has not assigned Negroes to the Fort Deposit faculty because they are needed at the other schools.

Supt. Joseph A. Pickard at Selma says, "There is a reluctance on the part of some teachers to transfer. This is both ways (white and Negro). We are not making transfers arbitrarily; we are talking to the teachers instead. We hope we don't have to make it arbitrary."

* * *

Pickard said the white teachers willing to transfer to Negro schools are mostly college students seeking master's degrees, and wives of servicemen at Craig Air Force Base.

Success Spoiled Early Chavalier Love

FLINT (AP) — It was 3 p.m. in a ninth-floor suite in the Flint Voyager Inn. Maurice Chevalier sat back and talked about the things which have most affected his life—his childhood, his wife, his loves and his work.

"I seldom go as deep as what I am telling you," he said softly, his blue eyes tinged with melancholy.

"I married once, with a girl who used to be my partner on the stage. It was not a big love affair, not like Mistinguett, she was a very, very big love affair — but I thought my marriage was something that could have been sweet and solid.

* * *

"So I married her and we were not very, very happy. We tried for 10 years and then we had to part. No, there were no children. We had to part and after I was frightened of ever being married, you see.

"It is a very grave thing if you miss. Sometimes I think in America it doesn't frighten anybody. Some people marry five and six times. But once I missed in a thing like that, I don't dare do it again."

MARRIED IN '26

Chevalier's wife was Yvonne Vallee. They were married in 1926 and divorced in 1935. His earlier love affair with Mistinguett, the French music hall star, is well known. Mistinguett, a star for 50 years whose legs were once among the world's most famous, died at age 82 in 1956 in a Paris suburb.

* * *

"Mistinguett was not my first love. I had been in love once or twice before—seriously. But we were very much in love when I was a very young man, when I was 22.

* * *

"I was much younger than she was, but she was great. I learned some things from her. She was a more womanly woman than I had met before. She was like a mistress and a little motherly, too, it was a wonderful combination.

"Mistinguett was probably my most solid love. I have had passions five of six times in my life, but passion is big and doesn't last. With Mistinguett there was a passionate affair that lasted, you see we were working together on the stage.

CAREER CONFLICT

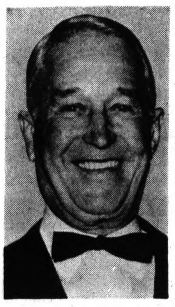
"Then something happened. At first she was very big and although I was the best young fellow in Paris at the time, she was bigger than me in reputation and standing. And then I was going up, and going up made her feel she was going down. She was not going down, but my popularity was going up, and up, and then I became bigger than she was.



MAURICE CHEVALIER

"At that moment her love was not real enough to hate me after that, so we had to part. Sometime later we became friends again. She had become old—she was 18 or 20 years older than me—but there was a tenderness and she was very attractive. She showed that you can grow old, even as a woman, and still be attractive in your 50s and 60s."

* * *

Chevalier was asked about his life as a child.

"My father left us very soon. We were working people and my father drank He left us when I was 8 or 9. I had two brothers and my mother left, and we organized our lives so we didn't need our father anymore. And when out father wanted to come back, we told him no."

Maurice has one brother, five years older, living in France, and now supports him.

"He was a very good workman and not a good entertainer, but I made him become an entertainer.

Campaign Spending Law Within Sight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress has inched forward with all the speed of a glacier toward reform of federal election laws written before television, air travel and computers caused inflation in the cost of political campaigns.

It has now reached the point that a new law covering campaign spending and contributions is possible in the foreseeable future, even this year.

The Senate Rules Committee approved a bill last week substantially in line with proposals which came from President Johnson May 25. This bill, however, does not cover Johnson's much more controversial recommendations to use money from the federal treasury to help finance presidential campaigns — a subject with which the Senate Finance Committee is still struggling.

By itself, the Senate committee action would not mean much. The Senate has passed three bills in the past 10 years to rewrite the laws controlling campaign spending and contributions only to see them get lost in the House.

★ ★ ★

But last year, the House elections subcommittee, under Rep. Robert T. Ashmore, D-S. C., held hearings and wrote a bill, too late for further action. That bill is scheduled to go before the parent House Administration Committee Wednesday.

PASSAGE ANTICIPATED

Ashmore says he hopes, and Chairman Omar Burleson, D-Tex., of the administration committee says he believes, that the House will pass an election reform measure this year.

There are more similarities than differences in the Ashmore bill and the one approved by the Senate committee. Both would eliminate the present meaningless ceilings on spending by national political committees and candidates for Congress. Both would depend on requirements for fuller reports on spending and contributions to guard against abuses.

The bills would apply to state primaries for members of Congress and for presidential candidates, and to campaigns in states choosing national convention delegates or nominating senatorial candidates by convention.

★ ★ ★

Now-exempt committees functioning within a single state would have to file reports on contributions and spending for campaigns involving candidates for the presidency or Congress.

A POSSIBLE CURB

One check on congressional action this year could develop if the updated corrupt practices bill is tied to whatever comes from the Senate Finance Committee about public financing or tax incentives to raise campaign money.

★ ★ ★

A row over those issues tied up the Senate for six weeks in the spring. If they are combined now with the corrupt practices measures, Congress might shrug off the whole subject again.

Waterford Tries to Cope With Rapid Growth

By HUDSON WILLSE JR.

A burgeoning population, which could soar to 140,000 by 1990, and the multiplying problems that are attendant to rapid growth characterize Waterford Township.

With an estimated 60,000 residents living within its 35 square miles, Waterford is among the largest townships in Michigan. Its 31 lakes, a prime attraction to the home buyer, also rank near the top in number.

Its central location in Oakland County, proximity to Pontiac, and Detroit, good transportation facilities, good school system and nearness to colleges and universities also are contributing factors to the township's mushrooming population and development.

From the time it was organized in 1834 through 1940, when the population was a comparatively meager 12,010, the township did not experience a heavy influx of new residents.

★ ★ ★

However, the population doubled during each of the next two decades, increasing to 24,275 in 1950 and 47,008 in 1960.

COMPARES PAST

Planning Commission Chairman Carlos G. Richardson, who served as township clerk consecutively from 1922 to 1947, except for parts of two years, and as supervisor from 1947 to 1951, compared the past with the present:

"Conditions now are so much different," Richardson said. "You didn't have the problems then," he said. People didn't live right next to each other.

"When we had board meetings," said Richardson, "no one was there, not even the press. We had no complaints. We never had an audience."

★ ★ ★

However, Richardson recalled one serious problem township officials were confronted with during the Depression.

2,500 ON WELFARE

"We woke up one day in the Depression and found out we had about 2,500 people (about one-fourth of the population) on welfare who couldn't afford groceries. They didn't have any money and neither did the township.

"We went to Lansing to the State Welfare Department and they handed us $1,500. That's the first time (and the last) I ever saw a $1,000 bill."

Waterford Township today is essentially a "bedroom community," as most of its residents are employed elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

A predominance of single-family housing prevails in the township which has relatively little industrial and commercial land use.

TAX BURDEN

Consequently, with the lack of an industrial tax base, the burden for local support falls primarily on the homeowner.

Tax revenue is below par, forcing township departments to operate on modest budgets.

"I doubt whether there is 20 per cent industrial and commercial tax base," estimated Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson.

"When we hire four policemen, the home owner has to pay for three of them," he said. Other tax sources pay for the fourth policeman, explained Johnson.

The 1966 property tax rate was $36.03 per $1,000 assessed valuation of which $69.79 was for schools, $18.03 for the county and $8.21 for the township.

It cost the average homeowner about $354.

Prior to 1961 when Waterford became a charter township, the township didn't have the authority to levy taxes. The millage, which never exceeded 1.32 mills, was apportioned out by the County Tax Allocation Board.

Charter townships can levy up to five mills. Waterford Township last December levied 3.6 mills.

STATE SHARE

The township also receives state-shared taxes, but the amount is based on the 1960 census when there were 13,000 fewer residents.

When Johnson won his first term as supervisor by defeating Louis Barry in 1957, the township operated on a budget of less than $500,000. Now it is more than $1.2 million.

Before the population boom in Waterford Township, public services offered by the community itself were limited. Consequently, many services are relatively new.

★ ★ ★

For example, firemen from neighboring communities were called on to put out fires in the township prior to the formation of a fire department in the early 1940s.

PATROL ROADS

The sheriff's department was contracted to patrol township roads and answer complaints from residents before the inception of the police department in 1954.

It wasn't until 1961 that the township planning commission and planning department were begun. Zoning of property in the township was unheard of until 1949.

Because of insufficient funds, township departments generally are lacking in manpower and equipment. However, they somehow manage to do a commendable job.

★ ★ ★

The police and fire departments have made unsuccessful bids for millage in recent years. A combined police-fire millage proposition was voted down by township electors in 1964. The firemen also were rejected last fall.

1ST FIRE TRUCK

The fire department was formed in 1941, the same year the township hall was built for $25,000. The first fire truck was bought following a 1941 special election in which voters authorized the purchase of apparatus and equipment.

Presently, there are 20 full-time firemen and 20 volunteers. Professional fire fighters also serve as volunteers on their days off.

Current needs include three additional fire halls, more equipment and more men.

★ ★ ★

The turnover rate is remarkably low, despite wages that cannot parallel industrial jobs.

Assistant Fire Chief Russell See said he can recall only two resignations in his 14 years with the department.

8-MAN FORCE

The police department consisted of a chief and seven patrolmen shortly after its formation 14 years ago.

Original members still with the department are Chief William Stokes, Capt. Frank Randolph and Sgt. Merrille Finkle.

The force now consists of 24 full-time policemen, one per every 2,500 citizens. The national average, by comparison is 2.0 police employes per 1,000 residents.

★ ★ ★

The average suburban police department, however, has 1.4 employes per 1,000 residents.

27 AUTHORIZED

The department's authorized complement is 27 men.

In addition, there are 20 reserves who, last year logged a combined 5,883 work hours.

"I don't know how the men do it with the amount of work they have," said Stokes, "but they do an outstanding job.

"We're very fortunate to have the type of men who will respond when called on," he emphasized.

VARIED FACILITIES

Waterford Township benefits from many facilities.

Its residents are served by 41 churches, 34 public schools, a few parochial and private schools, a community college, clubs, stores and businesses.

Beaches, two state parks and other recreational facilities also dot the community which has been labeled a lake-land paradise.

No Letup in School Enrollment

There is no letup in the rapid growth rate experienced by the Waterford Township School District.

The projection this fall calls for an enrollment of 17,610 students. And school enrollment projections almost without fail are on the light side.

Five years ago, at the beginning of the 1962-63 school year, by comparison, 14,191 students were enrolled in the district.

The 3,419 increase itself is more than the number of students in many Michigan school districts.

In 1962-63, Dr. Don O. Tatroe's first year as superintendent of schools (he started in January 1963), the teaching staff numbered 528. The district then operated on a $5,098,998 budget.

737 TEACHERS

This September, 737 teachers will be employed in the district. The budget, uncertain until a master contract with teachers is negotiated, is estimated at $9.7 million.

When Tatroe took over, there were 29 schools in the district. Since then, four elementary schools (Silver Lake, Riverside, Manley and Cherokee Hills) and Mason Junior High School have been completed, escalating the number of school buildings to 34.

Two new schools, Crescent Lake Elementary and Waterford-Mott High, have been authorized and will be completed in the near future. However, two elementary schools — Lambert and Waterford Center—are being phased out.

★ ★ ★

Two voter-approved bond issues, totaling $10,775,000, authorized the new schools and widespread alterations to all but four of the existing buildings.

EXPANSION PLANS

Elementary school projects alone will amount to 20 new gymnasium-multipurpose room complexes, 26 new classrooms and 26 library-instructional materials centers through room expansion, combining two existing rooms or by constructing a new facility.

Encompassing an area of 42 square miles in the townships of Waterford, White Lake, West Bloomfield and Independence, the district was formed in 1942 when six districts and parts of three others were consolidated.

The district today is regarded by many as outstanding.

★ ★ ★

It has its own data processing center and two federally-funded programs are under way.

COMPUTER PROJECT

Indicom, a three-year experiment in individualized instruction through the use of a computer, and an exemplary program at Crescent Lake Elementary School, where the stress likewise is on the individual pupil, are both considered top-notch projects.

Indicom will cost the federal government $1,285,000.

The board of education, which is the policy-making and decision-making body, generally meets twice monthly, but this spring was forced to meet more frequently to expedite the district's current construction program.

★ ★ ★

Headed by President Eldon C. Rosegart, the board consists of seven members. In addition to Rosegart, the members are Treasurer Donald W. Porter, Secretary Mrs. Virginia Ross and trustees Robert E. Field, Michael G. Patterson, Lewis S. Long and John D. Boardman.

FINANCIAL PROBLEM

The district's most crucial problem is financial. Where does the operating money come from? The township has very little industrial tax base. Most of the property tax burden, consequently, falls on homeowners.

★ ★ ★

State aid this school year will be less than hoped for. A millage election may be forthcoming this fall.

Many Natural Attractions Lured Early Settlers to Waterford

Beauty Characterizes Highland Lakes Campus Of Oakland Community College

Like today, Waterford Township had the natural attractions to lure persons to its soil years ago.

★ ★ ★

In a history of Oakland County published in 1877, the township was described thusly:

"It has great diversity of surface — lake, stream, hill and valley, marsh and swamp and beautiful plain — and as an agricultural township ranks high.

"The improvements are of a high order in most localities and fine residences, good substantial barns and outbuildings and well-kept fields are seen in all directions."

★ ★ ★

Today, the strong selling points are the many lakes that dot the townships 35-square miles, the fine homes and residential atmosphere and centralized location in respect to Pontiac, Detroit and Oakland County.

FIRST SETTLER

Some 148 years have elapsed since the first white settler, Maj. Oliver Williams, arrived in the township.

An officer in the War of 1812, Maj. Williams settled his family on the shores of Silver Lake in 1819.

A party of six, including Maj. Williams, his wife and a married sister had journeyed on horseback from Detroit to what is now Oakland County in late 1818.

The women were believed to have been "the first white women to have voluntarily visited the region known as Oakland County."

'ALIVE WITH GAME'

"The party found the country very beautiful from Royal Oak to the present limits of Waterford Township and literally alive with all kinds of game — beast, bird and fish.

"This charming locality which he selected as his future home is where the sheets of water now known as Loon, Silver and Upper Silver lakes come together."

The party returned to Detroit. Maj. Williams, his wife and eight children set out for their new home in early 1819, arriving in the town of Pontiac March 6.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac then consisted of a little log house sheltering three families and a few workmen.

FIRST CLASSROOM

It was on Maj. Williams' property, in a sheep house, where the first classroom in the township was set up in the fall of 1821. The class consisted of a teacher and seven pupils. A schoolhouse was built in the Williams' settlement a year later.

Other early settlements in Waterford Township were in Waterford village, Drayton Plains and the now extinct towns of New Philadelphia and Clintonville.

A dam, a gristmill, a hotel, a post office and homes went up in Waterford village and Drayton Plains.

A post office also was established on the north shore of Elizabeth Lake in 1834-35. Known as the Lake Elizabeth Post Office, it was abolished in about 10 years.

VILLAGE DESCRIBED

In 1912, Waterford village was described as "a post office in the northwestern part of the township, around which is clustered a settlement of about 300 persons. It has two or three good general stores which draw their trade from the farmers and fruit growers of the surrounding district.

"Livestock is raised to some extent. A modest flouring mill is the only industry."

The name, Drayton Plains, originated with Daniel Windiate who, along with his son-in-law Thomas Whitfield, built a dam and gristmill there. Windiate had operated the Drayton Mill in England.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Township, as can be expected, derived its name because it contained such a large area of water surface. The name was proposed by Shubael Atherton, who settled in the township in 1825.

INTERESTING ORIGINS

Two of the township's lakes, Elizabeth and Maceday, had interesting origins for their names.

Elizabeth Lake was named by Lewis Cass, Michigan's second territorial governor, in honor of his wife. Neighboring Cass Lake was named after the governor.

Maceday Lake was named after a man called Mason Day who was also known as "Mase."

★ ★ ★

A former livery-stable owner in Pontiac, Mason Day was reputedly a great hunter and fisherman who also "was fond of his rations of the extract of rye."

COLORFUL HABITS

In the history of Oakland County published in 1877, Day and his habits were colorfully described:

"Whenever he felt a spree beginning to enfold him in its meshes, or was caught with a desire to go on a hunting or fishing excursion, he almost invariably went to the shore of the lake which bears his name to engage in his favorite pastimes.

"On these occasions, he provided himself with provisions and camped on the lakeshore, generally staying several months. He probably went so far because the place was quiet and both fish and game were plentiful."

★ ★ ★

Originally a part of Oakland Township and then Pontiac Township, Waterford Township was organized in 1834 as a separate civil and political body.

FIRST VOTE

The first election of officers was held April 6, 1835.

Isaac I. Voorheis was elected as the township's first supervisor. Altogether, Voorheis served eight years as supervisor from 1835 to 1852.

In the first election, it was resolved that the supervisor use his influence to raise the county bounty on wolves to $5.

Area Tries to Cope With Rapid Growth

The township has more than 309 miles of roads and streets. The daily traffic volume is heavy, particularly on the community's 59 primary roads.

SHOPPING CENTER

Pontiac Mall, a 980,000-square-foot enclosed shopping center located at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Road, especially stands out.

"It is terrific for the township," said Johnson, citing its importance as a tax source, attraction and place of employment.

When expansion is completed, the Mall will have 60 stores and services. The present employment force is 1,500.

★ ★ ★

Not quite six years old, the Mall is situated on a 70-acre piece of property.

BUILDING BOOM

Construction in the township has been on the upswing. In 1964, 1965 and 1966, the building department granted 1,061 permits for new home construction alone.

During the same period, an upsurge in apartment construction also has been evidenced in the township.

"The Fontainebleau Apartments (995 N. Cass) really started it," said Johnson, who added that the new apartment buildings are of good quality.

★ ★ ★

A $7½-million internal water system has been completed and planning is under way for a townshipwide sanitary sewer system which would be connected to the proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System.

1969 TARGET

The Clinton-Oakland hopefully will be completed in late 1969, and several township residents should be benefiting from sewers by the early 1970s, according to Johnson.

Internal sewers will be built in the most critical areas and centers of high population first, township officials say.

Officials believe sewers should provide the potential for the industrial development the township direly needs.

★ ★ ★

"You can't compete with an area that has sewers and water there waiting for them," said Johnson.

AGAINST CITYHOOD

Some people believe the township would be better off if it became a city. A cityhood campaign launched a few years ago was culminated by a smashing defeat in the November 1963 election when 7,091 voted against the incorporation proposal compared with only 2,124 in favor.

A fear of higher taxes was cited as the main reason the proposal was defeated.

Advocates of the cityhood drive argued that municipalities are in a more favorable fund-borrowing position than townships and that lower interest rates are available to cities on loans for sewer and water construction, the township's foremost needs.

★ ★ ★

Some officials also feared that the City of Pontiac might annex the Mall if the township didn't become a city.

AFFIRMATIVE VOTE

Led by Democratic Supervisor James E. Seeterlin, the township board in 1963 unanimously endorsed an affirmative vote for cityhood.

Johnson contends the advantages of cityhood are "the pride of being a city" and that it would make the township not quite as susceptible to annexation.

★ ★ ★

However, he said, because city services are more numerous "it could be kind of expensive."

BETTER TAX BASE

"I would like to see us get a little better tax base first," Johnson said.

Waterford Township includes two communities with post offices — Drayton Plains and Waterford — and part of another — Union Lake.

None is incorporated.

In the 1930s, Drayton Plains reportedly was the hub of the community because the highest concentration of people lived there then.

POPULATION FIGURES

According to the Life Pictorial Atlas of the World, the population of Drayton Plains in 1960 was 6,000. Union Lake numbered 2,000 residents and Waterford 1,000.

"I've always felt the citizens of Waterford Township have been a little better than average citizens," said Johnson. "It's strictly a bedroom community."

NATURE CENTER OCCUPANT — Ginger, a fox puppy, gets plenty of attention from Herley Moore and Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler at the Drayton Plains Nature Center in Waterford Township. Mrs. Windeler is president of Drayton Plains Nature Center, Inc. Moore is summer program director of the 140-acre outdoor educational facility.

Waterford Township Is Home Of Oakland County Airport

Water Department Is Situated At 50-Acre Civic Center

GENERATIONS APART — Mrs. Mary Lenhart, one of the township's eldest residents, entertains one of the youngest, Angela Marie Villarreal, her 9-month-old great-great-granddaughter. Mrs. Lenhart, 102, lives at 2395 Mann. Angela is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Villarreal of 3449 Alco.

Opening lead—♥2

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

The higher the contract the fewer choices declarer and defenders have. A one no-trump contract gives both sides every chance to do well or badly.

JACOBY

Jack Blair of Tulsa looked over dummy and didn't think much of what he saw. The heart lead did look encouraging and he played the eight from dummy. East took his ace and returned the suit.

Jack ducked and West was in with the queen. West, playing safe, led a third heart. Jack cashed two heart tricks and discarded two clubs from dummy while East let the deuce of clubs go.

At this point Jack had two tricks in and could have played his ace and king of spades to see if the queen would drop.

Then he could play the ace and another diamond. This would get him out for down one if he played dummy's king or down two if he finessed unsuccessfully.

★ ★ ★

An alternate play would have been to play a third spade and hope that East and West would not cash their clubs but Jack decided to give the opponents the maximum chance to go wrong.

Jack led his jack of clubs. West won with the queen. If he had let the club ride around to his partner the hand would have been surely set but West just didn't think his partner held the king of clubs.

West went into a long huddle and came out with the worst possible play. He led his queen of spades. Jack proceeded to run off four spade tricks and East had to make two discards.

He solved his problem by getting rid of two clubs. South took his ace of diamonds and led the nine of clubs. West could have hopped up with the ace of clubs and led his last diamond but West completed the bad defense by playing low.

East was in with the king and had to lead up to dummy's king-jack of diamonds.

Chair Extracts Past, He Says

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Do you go back to your childhood days when you sit in the dentist's chair?

★ ★ ★

After all, you are up in a high chair, you're made to wear a bib, someone stands over you and your role definitely is passive.

The possibility was mentioned by Prof. Ian Waterhouse in a paper delivered to the Australian Dental Congress here. He is a professor of psychology in Sydney.

Prof. Waterhouse said the situation could trigger an unconscious feeling of the patient's childhood and color his reactions which might be all the more powerful because the patient was unaware of the situation.

In his lecture on the psychological aspects of dentist-patient relationships, Prof. Waterhouse said reactions to the feeling of helplessness and passivity affected the sexes in different ways.

★ ★ ★

The study had shown that to women the resentment of being passive was not as great as their dislike of the drill and injections.

For men the fact that they were kept in a passive role was frequently the key to their objections to going to the dentist.

Pontiac Man Is Arrested in Stabbing

A Pontiac man accused of knifing a city woman yesterday will be arraigned today on a charge of attempted murder, according to police.

* * *

Officers said a warrant charging Joseph L. Hodge, 44, of 49 Harris with the stabbing of Alice Harper, 43, of 280 Crystal Lake was obtained this morning.

She is in fair condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with at least 10 wounds, according to a hospital spokesman.

Police said Hodge was arrested when he walked into police headquarters about 11:30 a.m., shortly after the Harper woman was stabbed in the Bagley-Wesen area.

Investigators said they impounded a hunting knife at the scene.

Sneezy Driver May Be Jailed

Hay Fever Sufferers Must Report in London

LONDON (AP) — Hay fever can get a guy jailed.

"Quite true," said a "Transport Ministry spokesman, "and under certain conditions a driver suffering from hay fever can also be fined 100 pounds ($280)."

"But these would be extreme cases, and the driver would not be punished for having hay fever, but for not reporting it," he added.

The ministry says an attack of hay fever sneezing causes split-second loss of control of a car.

The spokesman said chronic hay fever sufferers who fail to report this when applying for a driving license could be jailed for four months or fined.

He explained this comes under the heading of failure to report a disability.

"In most cases, however, we would not expect people to declare it. People who suffer mildly should not bother, but we suggest that everyone who suffers from hay fever who drives should consult a doctor," the spokesman said.

If the doctor says the ailment is severe, it should be reported to the Transport Ministry, the source of driving licenses.

The ministry spoke out after a hay fever sufferer appeared in a Haverford West court last week. During an attack he drove the wrong way around a traffic intersection circle.

Cinerama Spectacular Excites Director

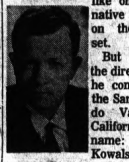
By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

MADRID — The dark, unassuming young man rattled Spanish with fluent ease and seemed like one of the native workers on the movie set.



But he was the director, and he comes from the San Fernando Valley in California. His name: Bernard Kowalski.

THOMAS The director was rehearsing a climactic scene for "East of Java" with his principal players: Maximilian Schell, Diane Baker, Rossano Brazzi, Sal Mineo and Barbara Werle. Speaking in quiet tones, he drilled them in their lines again and again until he was satisfied. Then he released them for lunch.

Bernie Kowalski sat in a corner of the set and mused about the massive change in his career as a film maker:

"Until this time I have been dealing with the small screen. Now for my first feature I've got the biggest screen of all."

A television veteran, Kowalski now faces the challenge of the limitless possibilities of Cinerama, in which "East of Java" is being filmed. Having titillated the public with everything from roller coaster rides to speed-car racing, the Cinerama people are going all-out in this one. Everything is included, from hurricanes to underwater exploration to balloon ascension, ending with the explosion of the volcano Krakatoa, right there on the big curving screen.

You might think that all this would overwhelm Bernie Kowalski, who trained in "Perry Mason" and "Rawhide." Not at all.

"I've been in the picture business for 32 years," he reckons. "So I'm ready for anything that comes along." Bernie was born in Brownsville, Tex., a true American, being of Polish, German, French, Mexican, Indian and Jewish parentage. His father moved the family to Los Angeles and became an assistant director in the studios.

* * *

After leaving Loyola University in Los Angeles, he worked in almost every studio department, later became a director during the explosion of TV series filming. He developed into a specialist in pilot films and scored an amazing 1,000 batting average in his last four: "Mission: Impossible," "Rat Patrol," "The Monroes" and next season's "N.Y.P.D."

"That seemed to impress the Cinerama people, who were looking for a young director who could handle what looked like a pretty difficult picture," said the director.

So he moved his wife and four children to Madrid to prepare for what did indeed turn out to be a difficult picture. Miniatures of the Krakatoa explosion have already been filmed in Italy. Kowalski began principal photography aboard a 100-year-old freighter called the Batavia Queen in the Mediterranean.

"We had more than our share of problems, because you can't control such varying conditions of weather, sea, children and animals," said Kowalski. "But nearly everyone bore up under very trying circumstances. My life was threatened only four times."

He found that his television background proved invaluable for improvising under pressure. It also helped that he could communicate immediately with the Spanish crew; he spoke Spanish at home during his childhood.

How does he make the artistic transfer from small to big screen?

"I am treating the Cinerama screen with great respect," he remarked. "I think Frankenheimer did a fine job with 'Grand Prix,' using quick cuts to heighten the drama. The tendency in Cinerama has been to employ wide-angle shots that show everybody in the scene.

"I'm not doing that. I'm cutting quickly from one shot to another so things happen. I'm also devoting much care to the characters. I think if you have a bunch of people the audience cares about, then you can build up to the big scenic effects with no difficulty."

Hong Kong Unrest May Make It off-Limits to GI Tourists

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — There is a definite possibility that Hong Kong, one of the favorite rest areas for combat-weary Vietnam GIs, soon may be placed "off limits."

Continuing unrest in the British Crown colony has endangered the safety of furloughing servicemen and the Department of Defense is "naturally watching the developments there very closely."

At present, DOD refuses to speculate on any such action, claiming that loose opinions can serve no useful purpose and only aggravate an already sticky situation.

But there is little doubt officials are worried.

* * *

And they should be. As many as 5,000 GIs are on the island on a given day and even out of uniform they stick out for the masses like tempting targets.

NO INJURIES

According to official guess, no soldiers have been injured in any of the riots thus far. But hundreds of verbal threats have been recorded and it is known that several troopers have engaged in brief, bloodless scuffles with Chinese activists.

The odds are against such a safety record continuing for long. Hong Kong is too crowded (more than three million people) and U.S. military personnel are too vulnerable.

"One of the days," says a Pentagon pessimist, "some trooper is going to get shot between his hotel and the bar. Or at least he'll get pounced on by the Red Guards and have the hell kicked out of him.

* * *

"And when that happens, we'll have to shut the doors to the place. It's bad enough taking risks in Vietnam . . . but in Hong Kong, on vacation, it's absurd."

MAJOR SETBACK

Presumably, nothing short of a U.S. casualty would prompt American withdrawal from the Oriental spa. Such an action would be a major setback for everyone concerned . . . including in many respects the Chinese Communists themselves.

The United States would lose both face and influence in one of the few remaining bridges between the Western and Chicom societies.

So would the British who thus would be acceding to Red pressures and assuming a distasteful subservient role.

The individual GIs would also lose heavily. A five-day leave in Hong Kong's glitter is about the only enjoyable thing that evolves from the Southeast Asian war.

COMMUNISTS LOSE

But the biggest losers in any island quarantine would be the Chinese, either Communist or not.

The reason is that they have a sizable financial stake in the American military tourists, some four million hard green dollars a month.

This money is one reason so many HK citizens are hoping the demonstrations will abate before irreparable damage is done. The prospect of losing the trade has not endeared the Red Guard activists to these residents.

According to reports from the colony many of the natives are even openly offering aid and comfort to the U.S. visitors.

Humanitarianism has little to do with their actions, of course. It's simply that an attack on an American soldier is bad for business.

GIs are being snatched from the streets by shop owners who insist that safety awaits inside. Meanwhile, the owners suggest, why not glance over the merchandise?

All the commercial establishments are straining, of course, to continue business as usual.

* * *

Souvenir shop windows still advertise welcome to "Brave Yanks." American rockabilly still blurts from hotel lobbies. Tailors still churn out $32.50 tuxedoes.

ILLEGAL JADE

And, to date anyway, no service has been curtailed. A soldier can still buy an illegal jade necklace made in Peking.

The Peking duck is still succulent. So, they say, are the Peking prostitutes who are so bold they knock on hotel doors at random.

All this, however, is largely window dressing.

* * *

The situation is potentially disastrous, and everyone knows it. Commanders in Vietnam are privately discouraging troop trips to Hong Kong.

NOT ALLOWED

Navy ships docked in Repulse Bay are often crammed with sailors not allowed to venture ashore.

In short, GI tourism has all but had it.

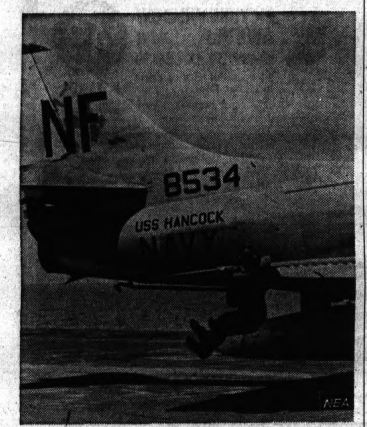
"It's just a bad place now," says a Vietnam veteran who returned home by way of the island. "I spent 12 months in Saigon and it didn't faze me. I spent 48 hours in Hong Kong and I was never so damned frightened in my life."



HITCHHIKER — Hitching a ride on the wing of a Navy Skyhawk attack bomber may not seem the safest way to get somewhere, but it's one way to put the plane in the right place. This member of the flight deck crew on the aircraft carrier Hancock off Vietnam was helping maneuver the plane to its parking place after landing, since the nose wheel is not controllable from the cockpit.

Lions Overjoyed by New Running Attack

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward R. Noble

Rookies Star in 19-17 Win Over Buffalo

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Detroit Lions got a sneak preview of their future running attack and they were overjoyed at what they saw last night.

"In all my years with this club I can't recall seeing two rookies make an auspicious debut as Nick Eddy and Mel Farr in the same game," said head coach Joe Schmidt after the Detroit Lions got by the determined Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, 19-17.

★ ★ ★

A crowd of 43,503 gave vocal support to the two rookies who scored the first two touchdowns in the first period of the game.

Farr, the No. 1 choice of 1967, gained 43 net yards running, one more yard than the entire Buffalo rushing attack netted, and he took five passes for 72 yards, including a 38-yard touchdown strike from Milt Plum.

This touchdown came at 6:21 in the first quarter and Garo Yepremian's conversion attempt was blocked.

Less than three minutes later, after Buffalo was forced to punt, Eddy's debut was spectacular.

He went back almost 10 yards to take Paul Maguire's punt over his shoulder.

He weaved, waited for blockers on the right, cut to the left and raced 75 yards for the touchdown, and a 13-0 lead, bringing the crowd to its feet with a thunderous ovation.

It appeared that the Lions were ready to shuffle the AFL Bills back to Buffalo in a rout, but the AFL Eastern Division champions fought back with a defense that certainly warranted respect from NFL die-hards.

Probably the big factor in the game was the punting which kept the Lions in poor field position most of the game and had the pressure on the Detroit defense as poor Lions' punts kept Buffalo in striking distance.

Bill Malinchak, one of the bright future stars of the Lions' pass receiving corp, was called upon to do the punting with Pat Studstill nursing a sore ankle and rookie Lem Barney excused because of family illness.

PUNTING DAYS OVER

Malinchak, who said he punted just a few times in college, also jested, "I guess my punting days are over here."

"It was a tough spot to put him in," said Schmidt. "He was nervous about punting."

Malinchak provided a little razzle dazzle of his own which stunned the crowd and nearly gave Schmidt heart failure.

On the opening series of the game after three plays failed, Malinchak stood back on his own five yard line waiting for the snap to punt.

Instead, he ran around his left end for 13 yards giving the Lions a first down on the 33, since the line of scrimmage was the 20.

He made the necessary yardage by less than a yard, but this kept the drive going and seven plays later came Farr's TD pass from Plum.

"I don't know why I did it," said Malinchak. "I guess I shouldn't have. I made up my mind to run and there was no turning back."

No one, not a single lineman nor coach Schmidt, knew what Malinchak had in mind.

Schmidt wiped his brow in the locker room and said, "I don't think I'm over the shock."

Tight AL Race Continues

Tigers Play 3 Tilts in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, riding the crest of a three-game winning streak, moved into Boston today for a three-game series with the slumping Red Sox.

Only three games separate the first five teams in the tightest American League pennant race since 1948 when Cleveland nosed out Boston and New York, taking the pennant in a playoff with the Red Sox.

Minnesota leads Chicago by one game, with Detroit 1½ games out in third, California 2½ behind in fourth and Boston fifth, three behind.

Joe Sparma pitches for Detroit in tonight's opener with Boston against Dave Morehead.

"It's been so close all year, the team that gets hot will win it," says Detroit Manager Mayo Smith.

"I think it will take 95 victories to win," he added. "Some say 85 or 90, but give me 95 and I'll just sit back and relax."

Hank Bauer, whose Baltimore Orioles dropped three of four games to Detroit over the weenend, estimates 90 victories could win the flag.

"Everybody says it's a five-team race," said Bauer.

"But Washington is the hottest club in the league right now and I wouldn't even count them out."

Washington, playing .500 ball with a 58-50 record, is 6½ games off the pace.

Smith, whose team was in first place with a 31-18 record June 6, fell into a slump and has played at a 31-34 clip since.

BULLPEN HELP

"Our starters are coming around again," he said. "And with John Hiller and Fred Lasher in the bullpen, our pitching has been pretty good."

Joe Sparma, Earl Wilson and Denny McLain appear to be back on the beam, with Wilson winning six of his last seven starts and Sparma three of his last four. Mickey Lolich snapped a 10-game losing streak by beating Baltimore 5-2 last week.

McLain had a streak of eight straight starts without giving up a home run, but has allowed three in his last two games, both wins.

Hiller, up from Toledo, has three straight saves, all over Baltimore, Lasher pitched two shutout innings when Detroit nipped the Orioles 3-2 Sunday.

Lightweights Both Predict Victories by Knockouts

NEW YORK (AP) — Both lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz and challenger Ismael Laguna have predicted they will unleash knockout lightning bolts in their title fight Wednesday night.

They didn't even score a single knockdown in their two previous 15-round title bouts so their boasts may just be psychological warfare or sticks for the ballyhoo drums.

But you can bet on one thing — there will be noise aplenty at Shea Stadium.

There will be thousands of Panamanians on hand to root for Laguna, the Tiger of Panama, and many more thousands of Puerto Ricans to whoop it up for Ortiz, the blue-eyed Puerto Rican-born New Yorker.

Laguna's handlers say 2,000 Panamanians came here over the weekend to watch the flashy, 24-year-old challenger make his bid to regain the title he held briefly in 1965.

Several hundred of them, carrying flags and banners, escorted Laguna in a parade from his midtown hotel to Madison Square Garden Monday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The tall, slender challenger went through a leisurely-paced six rounds of boxing and then punched the bags. His supporters cheered him as if he already was fighting for the title.

"Laguna campeon (champion)," they shouted. Laguna flashed a wide smile.

HAPPY AS LARK

"This is all Ismael needs," said his manager, Hector Tato Valdez, a young Panama millionaire who was educated at Villanova and New York University. "Look at his grin. He's happy as a lark. He really means to flatten Ortiz."

"I still say I'm going to stretch him out," said Ortiz, who let Laguna have the spotlight.

Charger Coach Wants to Teach Grid Wives

ESCONDIDO, Calif. (AP) — There probably isn't much anyone can do for golf widows, but Sid Gillman is trying to do something for football wives.

With the help of a psychologist, the coach and general manager of the San Diego Chargers wants to teach them how to be wives.

"A friend of mine, Dr. Bruce Ogilvie, is going to talk to the players' wives on how to be a wife of a pro football player," Gillman said.

★ ★ ★

Then, explaining, the 32-year husband of Esther Gillman, added:

"I think a woman knows how to be a wife to a newspaperman, say, or a wife to a coach, but it's tough being a wife to a football player. A good wife who understands a pro athlete can enhance his career and lengthen it. Or she can shorten it.

"She can make him great or ruin him. She can encourage him, know how to react to a great game, how to react to a loss, adjust to what takes place in the mind of an artist.

"She's dealing with a guy who's in the public eye. Some wives become jealous of that. Some can bask in the glory. She can hurt him by constantly nagging him.

"She can nag him about a man playing the same position making more money than he does, which might not be true at all."

The Chargers, however, aren't stopping there. They have something for the husbands of those wives as well.

"We're doing things for our players that other teams aren't," Gillman said. "We have an investment counselor who is going to talk to them about budgeting. We want to educate them on these matters."

Bill Monbo Helps Yankee Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Steve Barber and Joe Pepitone each drove in two runs and Barber combined with Bill Monbouquette to help the New York Yankees to a 5-4 victory over Baltimore Monday night.

Barber's one-out double in the fifth scored Jake Gibbs who had reached base on an infield single, the first hit off rookie Bill Dillman, and Ruben Amaro who had walked. Barber advanced on an infield single and scored on Roy White's sacrifice fly.

* * *

After the Orioles had closed to 3-2, Pepitone clinched it with a two-out, two-run triple in the seventh. It scored Horace Clarke, who had singled, and White, who had walked.

Monbouquette relieved Barber, 8-13, after the veteran left-hander walked two men with two out in the seventh, forcing in the Orioles' second run.

Monbouquette got the final out, but then had to weather a rugged eighth when Baltimore scored twice on triples by Frank Robinson and Paul Blair and a sacrifice fly by Dave Johnson.

Golf Greats Pay Haig Tribute

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — "You're only here for a short visit. Don't hurry. Don't worry. And be sure to smell the flowers along the way."

Exactly when golfing great Walter Hagen made that statement is lost in the mists of time.

But to Hagen, now 75 and almost muted by three operations for throat cancer, the flowers probably never smelled sweeter than Monday night.

Some 250 people, including Arnold Palmer and former Masters and U.S. Open champion Cary Middlecoff turned this remote, northern lower Michigan resort into the golf capital of the world, attending a testimonial dinner for "The Haig."

And despite the fact that Hagen, father of modern professional golf and only man ever to win five PGA titles and four British Opens, could not amuse them with the antics and tales that made him as famous off the links as on, he obviously enjoyed himself.

A good bit of the praise for Hagen, who has lived in this area for some 10 years, was good natured ribbing that concentrated not so much on how he became the first man in history to win $1 million swinging a club, but how he spent it.

Hagen, besides being the only man to ever to win five PGA titles, is also the only one ever to have won four of them in a row. He quit playing competitive golf in 1939 and stopped playing social golf in 1945.

Until a year ago he used to hit iron shots off the 50-foot lakeside bluff that borders his 20-acre estate, 10 miles west of here. Sickness and the complaints of water skiers have ended that.

The testimonial was the brainchild of Gordon Turnquist, a local real estate man, and Dr. Creighton Wagener, a Traverse City physician, who are friends and admirers of The Haig.

"Walter is getting on and we thought it would be a terrible thing to wonder after he is gone why we hadn't done this sort of thing," Turnquist said.

* * *

Among the great names in golf who attended were former PGA champs Johnny Revolta and Walter Burkemo.

Hagen was presented with a book containing regrets from former President Dwight Eisenower, the Duke of Windsor, who watched him play even before ascending the throne of England, Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, and dozens of others, who couldn't attend.

The sentiments of all were summed up best perhaps by Palmer when he said, "tonight might have been downstairs in the pro shop and not the ballroom if it hadn't been for Walter Hagen."

Bad Breaks Hit Angels' Pitcher

ANAHEIM (AP) — Anyone who doubts that George Brunet is an unlucky pitcher should consider what happened to the California Angels' veteran left-hander Monday night.

Brunet hard, Minnesota shut out on four hits, 1-0, with two out, and none on in the eighth inning when weak-hitting Hank Izquierdo hit a routine grounder to shortstop.

* * *

Jim Fregosi fielded the ball and overthrew first for a two-base eror.

That brougrt up utility infielder Jackie Hernandez, who spent all last season with the Angels and collected one hit in 23 at bats. Hernandez rolled a grounder through the left side of the infield for a single.

REACHED SECOND

The tying run was scored as Hernandez reached second. That brought up Ted Uhlaender a .224 hitter. Angels manager Bill Rigney and his coach didn't notice until it was too late that Cardenal and center fielder Roger Repoz had left too much of a gap in left center.

Uhlaender lobbed a fly ball into the opening and it ticked off Cardenal's glove for a gamewining double. The 2-1 loss was merely the latest in a series of frustrating defeats for Brunet (11-4). Of his last four loses, two were 1-0 decisions against Chicago and New York, while two others were 2-1 heartbreakers against Detroit and Minnesota.

* * *

"I'm getting darned tired of losing like this," said Brunet, who has fought back heroically since June 4, when he was sadded with a 1-9 record.

"With any luck, I could have won 20 games this year."

The loss of the series opener against the league-leading Twins kept the Angels from moving within a half game of first place and it snapped their four-game winning streak. It was their first loss since last Tuesday night when the Yankees shaded Brunet, 1-0.

Bada Defends Crown in City

Golfers Can Register for Qualifying

Paul Bada will be trying to tighten his hold on the city golf championship in a couple of weeks at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

The 36-year-old Bada has won the title five times, and he's won it the last two times out, so he'll be gunning for a third straight in this year's event.

City course manager L. C. Barner is now taking registrations for the 18-hole qualifying round set for this Saturday, the prelude to the main event.

The leading scorers in the 18-hole round Saturday will join Bada and all former champions in the 36-hole finale Aug. 26 and 27.

Barner said golfers entering the tournament must fill out a registration form available at the course on Golf Drive. Golfer registering in advance will also receive prefered starting times.

USGA Ladies in Qualifying

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The second qualifying round for the USGA Women's Amateur Golf Championships gets under way today with Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash., in the lead.

Miss Conley, 20, a runner-up in the 1963 tourney, shot a 39-35—74 at the first qualifying round Monday-two-over-par on the 6,062-yard Annandale Golf Club.

Following her at 75 were two-time winner Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Martha Wilkinson, 18, of Fullerton, Calif., the intercollegiate champ, and Mrs. Claudin Cros Robin, former French and German champion, now from Caracas, Venezuela.

Joanne Gunderson Garner, 28, the defending champion from Seekonk, Mass., recorded 39-40—79 in qualifying.

Golf Champs Repeat

Pete Devany of Grosse Ile and Hunter McDonald of Oakland Hills won the Grosse Ile Invitational golf title for the second straight time by defeating Glenn Johnson and Mason Brown, 3-2, yesterday.

Pontiac Softball Teams Advance in State Tourney

Three Pontiac teams advanced in the Michigan Softball Association district tournament last night.

Ron Roost's dumped Warren No. 2 by a 4-1 score in Class B and will meet Spencer Floors tonight at 8 at Beaudette Park. Town & Country toppled Warren, 4-1, in Class C at Waterford and plays Jameson Lumber of Holly tonight.

Jameson advanced with a 2-1 win over Day's Sanitary.

* * *

Midget Bar of Waterford moved up in Class D with a 9-2 decision over Holly Hotel and will play Pontiac Local 594 tonight at 8 at Northside. The union team dumped Berkley into the losers' bracket, 8-2.

Warren No. 2 and Holly Hotel play at 9:30 tonight at Northside.

In Slow Pitch playoff action last night, MGM-Shales slipped past Sportsmen, 4-2, and The Press whipped Artco, 13-3.

Chalet plays Wagon Wheel in a winner's bracket game tonight at Northside at 6:45 and The Press takes on MGM at Beaudette at the same time with the loser dropping out of the playoff.

Al Howard pounded a two-run homer in the first inning to get Ron's Roost off to a fast start. Walt Travis scattered five hits to pitch the victory.

Roger Reynolds singled home a key run for Town & Country and also was the winning pitcher. Bob Reeves singled, went to third on a throwing error and scored the winning run on an infield hit for Day's.

* * *

A five-run third inning highlighted Midget Bar's win and Cy Green drilled three singles to lead Local 594.

The Press unleashed a 15-hit attack led by Dan Donnelly's double, triple and two singles and Sid Gregory's double and two singles. Bob Cheza's two-run triple in the last of the sixth gave MGM its margin of victory.

U.S. Holds Tennis Cup 7th Time

CLEVELAND (AP) — The United States has retained the Wightman Cup for a seventh consecutive year with a 6-1 victory so impressive there seems little chance Great Britain's women tennis stars will cart the silver vase across the Atlantic for some years to come.

The Americans swept all three matches Monday in the windup of the three-day, two-nation matches and now lead 33-6 in annual Wightman competition begun in 1923.

★ ★ ★

Miss Nancy Richey, 24-year-old Texan who ranks No. 2, won Monday's opening match against Virginia Wade 3-6, 8-6, 6-2 for the fourth and decisive U.S. point in the best-of-7 match series.

Then Mrs. Billie Jean King, 23, of Long Beach, Calif., over whelmed Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones, blonde left-hander who held the No. 1 British ranking. It took Mrs. King only 34 minutes to win 6-1, 6-2.

DOUBLES WIN

Bespectacled Billie Jean accounted for 2½ points of the U.S. total. In addition to her easy conquest of Mrs. Jones Monday, she defeated Miss Wade, No. 2 British player on Saturday 6-3, 6-2 and teamed with 19-year-old Rosemary Casals of San Francisco in a doubles victory Sunday. Miss Casals, in her first year of Wightman Cup play, and Miss King won over the Wade-Jones pairing 10-8, 6-4.

Miss Christine Truman, 26, scored the only point for the British by defeating Miss Casals Sunday 3-6, 7-5, 6-1.

Mary Ann Eisel, 20, of St. Louis replaced Nancy as Mrs. Carole Graebner's partner against the Scottish duo of Winnie Shaw and Mrs. Joyce Williams. The Americans won 8-6, 12-10.

Monday's attendance of 4,879 raised the three-day total here to 16,001, a record for Wightman Cup play in the United States.

WIGHTMAN CUP WINNERS — The U.S. team shown here won the Wightman Cup tennis matches in Cleveland yesterday from Great Britain, 6-1. It was the seventh year in a row that the United States won the three-day competition between the two countries. Mrs. Hazel Wightman, 80, of Chestnut Hill, Mass., who donated the silver trophy in 1923, is shown presenting it to non-playing captain Mrs. Betty Rosenquest Pratt. The players (left to right) are Rosemary Casals, Billie Jean King, Mary Ann Eisel, Carol Graebner and Nancy Richey.

NL Bulge Increases

Cards Still Rollicking

By the Associated Press

The New York Mets finally had their night, but for the St. Louis Cardinals, it looks more and more like their year.

The rollicking Red Birds, flying along with a 9½-game National League lead on the wing, reached their largest bulge of the season the hard way Monday night, scoring thrice in the last of the ninth to beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-5.

It's been going that way all year for the Cardinals, who haven't been out of the top spot since June 17. But the Mets haven't had a night like Monday's since the Fourth of July fireworks they lit under Juan Marichal.

★ ★ ★

This time, the Mets finally set off the long-burning fuse under Larry Jackson as they clipped the wings of the Philadelphia right-hander 8-3 for the first time in their history after 18 losses.

In the only other NL games, Mike McCormick won his 16th game, stopping Atlanta on seven hits as San Francisco won 6-2, and Willie Stargell's run-scoring single in a three-run eighth carried Pittsburgh by Cincinnati 4-3.

YANKEE CASTOFF

Once again, it was Roger Maris, the Yankee castoff, who sent the Cardinals soaring with an assist from Cubs' right fielder Ted Savage, an ex-Cardinal.

Maris, who tripled home two earlier runs and scored a third, singled in the tying run with one out in the ninth and the winning marker scored when Savage fumbled the hit.

Savage had been a hero until then after he capped Chicago's three-run fifth inning with a run-scoring safety. Ron Santo's 26th homer leading off the ninth made it 5-3 Cubs and they looked a good bet to replace Atlanta in second place and cut the Cardinals' lead to eight games.

But a walk and hits by Lou Brock and Curt Flood set up Maris, who finished the game hitting .275 with 43 runs batted in.

Jack Fisher, who ruined Marichal's 19-0 record against the Mets on July 4, again proved the stopper as he broke Jackson's spell with his third victory —and third by the Mets—over the Phillies this year.

"This is the night," Fisher's teammates told him before the historical night and a couple of Philadelphia errors in a four-run fourth inning helped make it so.

"I knew the law of averages would catch up with Jackson sometime," Fisher said. "He wasn't pitching bad, but his defense let him down."

Widget B Title Decided

Paced by Junior Alvavo's double and triple, Optimist Whiz Kids defeated Giants, 19-11, yesterday to win the Pontiac Widget B championship.

Schmidt 'Shocked' by Fake Punt

Eddy, Farr Sparkle for Lions

"Shocked, I was flabbergasted," said one lineman who was blocking for the punt. "All I knew he was running, and I was doing my damn best to give him some help. I thought it might have been a bad snap or something behind me."

A short punt put Buffalo in range to score early in the second period, after Dick LeBeau batted down a sure touchdown pass from Jack Kemp to Ed Rutkowski.

Booth Lusteg put the Bills on the scoreboard with a 37-yard field goal.

On the ensuing series, Jim Gibbons completed a great play after a Plum pass going to the six-yard line to complete a 40-yard play.

Farr helped the series momentum when he picked up 30 yards in three carries.

FELL SHORT

On third down, however, from the six, Plum was bumped by onrushing linemen and his pass for Farr, standing all alone in the end zone fell short.

Yepremian then booted a 12-yard field goal to make it 16-3.

Penalties then hampered drives of both teams, but with 3:57 left Malinchak grabbed a 35-yard pass from Plum, throwing out of his end zone, to the Lions' 40.

Another long pass intended for Eddy was intercepted on the Buffalo 21 by ex-Michigan Stater George Saimes who got it back to the 47.

Helped by a 15-yard interference penalty, Tom Flores at quarterback found end Charley Ferguson all alone and hit him with a 42-yard pass.

Bruce Maher caught him at the four-yard line, but two plays later, Flores passed to Paul Costa for the touchdown and a 16-10 game with 47 seconds left in the half.

Karl Sweetan came into the game in the fourth period and hit on five straight passes moving from the Detroit 20 to the Bills' nine-yard line. One was a 38-yarder to Malinchak, and others to tight ends Gibbons and Rom Kramer.

The Buffalo defensive unit stopped the drive and Yepremian booted a 16-yard field goal to make it 19-10.

Again, in the final two minutes, an 18-yard punt by Malinchak set up Buffalo's final tally.

Flores passed complete over cornerback Frank Marsh's head to Art Powell for a seven-yard touchdown and a 19-17 score with Mike Mercer's conversion.

"Buffalo's front four and linebackers are as good as those in the NFL," said Schmidt. "No one can take anything away from their defense."

"We've still got a lot of work to do on our offense, and a performance as we received from the two kids makes it encouraging," he aded.

Swede Leads in Pentathlon

NEWTON SQUARE — Pa. (AP) Sweden's Bjorn Ferm held the lead of the U.S. modern Pentathlon Championship with 3,048 points, but former LaSalle College swimmer Don Walheim was close behind.

Walheim's strong swimming performance Monday gave him a three-day total of 2,947 points, to move ahead of Boston Bob Beck, now with 2,850.

Mike Freshley of the U.S. Army had the fastest time of the 29 competitors in Monday's 300-meter swim, with a 3:41.2. He picked up 1,078 points to move from 23rd place to 16th.

Pentathlon rules award 1,000 points to a 3:54 time, three bonus points for each half second faster and three penalty points for each half second slower.

See the new Jaguar 420 Sports Sedan

When you drive this new sedan, you'll discover just how much of a sports car it really is.

The 420 is powered by a 4.2 litre engine, just like our XK-E. It has disc brakes on all four wheels, dual braking systems and all-around independent suspension.

Other features include Varamatic power steering, a new automatic transmission, an alternator, a padded dash, padded package shelf and the same luxurious interior appointments that all Jaguars have.

Jaguar. A different breed of cat.

Trading Active Today

Stocks Up After 3rd Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recovered early this afternoon after three sessions of decline. Trading was fairly active.

Gains outnumbered losses by better than 3 to 2.

* * *

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.51 at 920.83.

Analysts saw the market as rebounding from a support level of roughly 910 to 915 in the Dow industrials, an area which had stalled an upward drive a few times and therefore represented an area hard to penetrate either way.

The market was higher from the start and gradually gathered strength. A number of blue chips posted gains of a point or so.

The session was also noteworthy for the performance of several specially situated issues.

Encouraging background news included a sharp recovery in weekly steel production and the report that pre-tax corporate profits in the second quarter had increased above those in the first quarter.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 339.3 with industrials up 2.0, rails off .5 and utilities up .2.

Gains of a point or so were posted by Jones & Laughlin, Goodyear, Uniroyal, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Raytheon, Alcoa, International Nickel, du Pont, Polaroid, Westinghouse Electric and Pfizer.

Arsonist Blamed for Two Fires at WSU Library

DETROIT (UPI) — An arsonist has been blamed for a pair of fires at Wayne State University's General Library which destroyed about 9,000 books.

'Electric Car Could Have Gas Engine'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— An auto that combines a battery and electric motor with a small gasoline-powered engine might provide a suburban family's second car or a city dweller's only car.

That was the view of General Motors researcher Donald Friedman in a report to an engineering conference in Miami Beach.

* * *

Friedman said electric cars don't pollute the air with exhaust fumes as gas-powered autos do, but they might lack enough road power to sell competitively.

A combination car with a small internal combustion engine providing 10 per cent of peak power to recharge the battery and supply extra power while driving might be the answer, he said.

NO FUMES

Friedman said the great advantage of an electric car is that it does not give off exhaust fumes. But, he said, "The electric car must probably win a place for itself based on other potential advantages rather than on reduced air pollution alone."

He said an electric car with a small gasoline engine "appears to be the only type of electrified car that could possibly achieve widespread use anytime in the decade of the 70s."

Fire Hits Boat, Trio Escapes

A man and his two sons swam to safety yesterday after their motorboat caught fire about 500 yards off the south shore of Maceday Lake in Waterford Township.

James Duprey, 27, of 2815 Wisner, Waterford Township, and his sons, James, 9, and John, 6, also escaped injury, township police said.

They swam to a nearby boat and were taken to shore.

The outboard motor on the craft caught fire apparently from an overheated engine and leaking fuel line, police said.

Damage to the engine was estimated at $50.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

It was his 92nd birthday, but yesterday was a normal working day for Walt Mills of Greensboro, N.C.

How did he celebrate it. "Right down there," he replied, pointing to a manhole he had just emerged from.

Mills has been underground a great deal of his life, first laying cables when he worked for the Southern Bell Telephone Co. until he retired at 65, and since then, with telephone line contractors for 27 years. He says he has never been ill in his life, has never lost a day's work, and has never taken a vacation.

The hole he leaped nimbly from yesterday is one he built early this century. One of his colleagues, John Royal, commented, "I have known him 12 years and he has always been as active as a teen-ager."

Mills' who lives with his 68-year-old wife in a house he built himself, has much to say about his active old age. "I use my own medicine—no doctors. I don't smoke and I don't chew," he said.

Moscow Film Fest Participation Urged

Jack Valenti, the former adviser to President Johnson and now president of the Motion Picture Association of America, has recommended that the U.S. government assure "first rate U.S. participation" in future Moscow Film Festivals.

The way to do it, he said yesterday in New York, would be through "full support, including financial support." Valenti's recommendation was contained in a report to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Humphrey Visits Mother, Brother

HUMPHREY

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey paid visits yesterday to his 85-year-old mother in a Huron, S.D., nursing home and then to his critically ill brother in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Christine Humphrey will celebrate her 86th birthday Aug. 24. The vice president's brother, Ralph, who for years operated the family drugstore in Huron is critically ill with cancer.

Draft Dodger Has Air-Tight Excuse

David Allen Johnson didn't show up for an Army induction physical Aug. 7, as ordered by the Sparta, Wis., draft board, but his excuse will probably save him: he'd rather finish fourth grade.

David is the 9-year-old son of S. Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson, who moved recently to Milwaukee, and apparently received the draft notice intended for a 19-year-old Sparta youth.

Milkman Skims off Top

EXETER, England (AP) — A milkman has pleaded guilty to stealing a bottle of milk.

Said milkman William Humphrey: "I did it to counterbalance theft I have experienced.

* * *

"I have to pay for milk stolen from my customers' doorsteps and for milk stolen from my van."

Humphrey admitted removing a bottle of milk from the steps of a house five minutes after a milkman from a rival company delivered it.

PAY FOR LOSSES

Humphrey said he had to pay for losses out of a weekly salary of $35.

A magistrate dismissed the case Monday on the milkman's promise to steal no more.

Divers Seek Leaks in Sunken Tankers

AVON-BY-THE-SEA, N. J. (AP) — Deep sea divers are descending to the cold depths of the Atlantic Ocean in hope of unravelling a 25-year-old mystery of whether sunken oil tankers are seeping their cargoes to the surface.

President Johnson ordered the pilot project undertaken to determine whether any of the 103 tankers sunk off American shores — most of them victims of German submarines during World War II—pose an oil pollution threat to the coastline.

* * *

Divers, using underwater television cameras, went 90 feet to the ocean bottom Monday to examine the Gulftrade, a tanker sliced in two by a German torpedo in 1942. It sank with a loss of 18 lives and carried 4 million gallons of oil to the bottom.

Coast Guard officials said there was no apparent trace of oil. Today the divers investigate the R.P. Resor, which also was torpedoed off the South Jersey shore in 1942. Both ships are within 14 miles of the coastline.

TO SIPHON OIL

If any oil is discovered, officials said, it will be siphoned off.

"Little is known about what happened to the ships and their cargoes during their years at the bottom of the sea," said Donald C. Agger of the U.S. Department of Transportation which is supervising the project with the Coast Guard.

* * *

"This venture," he said, "is in many ways a mystery story."

Officials were unable to say if all 103 sunken tankers will be investigated.

POLLUTION LINK

Authorities speculated oil oozing from the tankers may have caused the oil pollution to Cape Cod beaches in Massachusetts and killed 6,000 wild sea ducks off the South Jersey coast.

Both incidents occurred last April, shortly after the tanker Torrey Canyon ran aground near Cornwall, England, leaving a slick of millions of gallons of thick black oil that coated British shores.

George "Tex" Koch of Dallas, a husky 26-year-old deep sea diver, reported after surfacing from the Gulftrade wreckage Monday that it was "all torn up."

He told newsmen aboard the Coast Guard cutter "Sweetgum" that only one-third of the wreckage jutted from the ocean floor, with the remainder covered by mud and silt.

New Water Plant

A new U.S. plant to desalt sea water through the use of nuclear energy will be able to process 150 million gallons daily. Ten years ago, the best-designed plant in operation could process only 50,000 gallons daily.

BANNED BY DAR — Folk singer Joan Baez, denied use of Constitution Hall in Washington, D.C., held her anti-war song concert on the Washington Monument grounds last night.

Baez Sings Near Capital Despite DAR's Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I want to thank the DAR for all the publicity," folksinger Joan Baez told an estimated 30,000 persons she entertained free at the grounds of the Washington Monument Monday night.

Then she sang songs of her antiwar philosophy which the Daughters of the American Revolution had attacked in banning her from their nearby Constitution Hall.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Park Police set the crowd size at 30,000—ten times Constitution Hall's capacity.

There was a scattering of beards and bare feet, but mostly it was a casually dressed, well-mannered crowd that could as well have been at a Fourth of July celebration.

ORANGE DRESS

Thousands who sprawled over the grass on a hill leading to the monument couldn't even see Miss Baez in her above-the-knee, gold and orange flower print dress. But that didn't keep them from shouting song requests or joining in an impromptu hand-clapping, body-swaying rendition of the civil rights song "We Shall Overcome."

★ ★ ★

Miss Baez would have been guaranteed her standard $10,000 for the concert at Constitution Hall. But the DAR barred her, saying there were reports she had refused to pay part of her income taxes as an anti-Vietnam war protest. So she announced the free program.

BAR MONUMENT

The women's group asked Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall to bar her use of the monument grounds. But he refused, saying the long-haired singer had not been charged, indicted or convicted of evading federal taxes.

And he said "We've made this facility available for a whole variety of people of all shades of opinion."

★ ★ ★

"The main point where the DAR and myself differ," Miss Baez told the crowd, "is they think the nation comes above all. But there are 123 nations who think the same thing."

As one of the many planes from nearby National Airport roared over, interrupting that comment, she looked skyward and laughed: "It's a plot."

PLANE OVERHEAD

When another craft flew over after one antiwar song, she observed: "I hope at least it's a passenger plane."

In one typical antiwar number—sung across just two streets and a stretch of grass from the White House—she told of a soldier saying: "I'm going out to stem the tide; "Some say it's yellow, some say it's Red; "It will not matter when we're dead."

★ ★ ★

She threw a few uncharacteristic words of Olde English at the crowd, inspired by the stage set of Hamlet's Elsinore castle behind her. It was used for a recent Shakespeare production on the grounds and policemen peered periodically at the crowd from its turrets.

Red Step-Up in Laos Is Told

N. Viets Reportedly Supporting Guerrillas

VIENTIANE (UPI) — Communist guerrillas, supported by North Vietnamese troops, are stepping up pressure on government strongholds throughout neutral Laos, a highly placed military source said today.

The reinforced units were reported "ready to launch major attacks on government positions" once the rainy season sets in and cuts the visibility of counterattacking government warplanes, the source said.

Premier Souvana Phouma reportedly told his cabinet last week that the military situation in this landlocked kingdom bordering North and South Vietnam was grave.

He was said to have warned that an increase in sabotage and terrorist campaigns was imminent.

★ ★ ★

The military source said the threat of attack from Communist forces is most serious in the rice-rich Mekong River valley of Nam Bac, 44 miles northeast of the royal capital of Luang Prabang.

N. VIET BATTALIONS

Two North Vietnamese battalions recently joined guerrillas of the Communist-led Pathet Lao in the valley, the source said.

Government troops reported a sharp increase in the number of skirmishes in the valley since the arrival of the North Vietnamese units.

★ ★ ★

More than 4,000 villagers have been warned to prepare for evacuation, and reports reaching Vientiane, the nation's administrative capital, said some villagers are already fleeing.

U.S. Chamber Sets Workshops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce is planning a series of labor law workshops throughout the nation in September to alert its members to what it called the need for curbing union power.

Allan Shivers, Chamber president, said yesterday the workshops would serve the dual purpose of discussing key labor issues before Congress and outlining the Chamber's labor law reform program.

Beatty Dodges Questions the Way He Eludes Altar

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — For an hour, Warren Beatty didn't talk about girls.

The uncatchable young movie star, who has romanced all the beauties without being led to the altar by the halter, is now so concerned with being a producer that I simply could not get him talking about the loves of a handsome Hollywood bachelor.

WILSON

"You seem permanently committed to bachelordom?" I asked.

"And you really did like my picture?" he answered, switching the subject.

We really did. And now he held aloft a fistful of clippings acclaiming "Bonnie & Clyde," which he produced and stars in . . . about the depression era outlaws, Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker.

"Sure, it's violent . . ."

He dug his first into his long hair. He paced the suite. He looked agitated, not at all like the brother of Shirley MacLaine some of us think of as frivolous.

"But not to deal with violence in a picture like this is wrong!"

★ ★ ★

I was wondering how I was going to sneak questions about Julie Christie and Barbara Harris into this artistic discourse.

"It starts out as fun and laughs but little by little the laughs fade away and it becomes very gruesome . . . and eye shot out . . . a head shot off . . ."

It was the familiar outlaw story of bank robbers who terrorized Platt City, Joplin, Oklahoma, Texas, parts of Louisiana, in the early 1930s. But Warren and Faye Dunaway enacted most of it around Dallas.

"Shirley," I said, "is quoted that she wants to do a picture with you, to see what all the yelling's about."

Warren looked pleased. "When I first got 'Bonnie & Clyde,' I wanted Shirley to play it. But she wouldn't believe me when I told her the title. I think it's better than a good title."

So all right, I would be serious, too. If he wasn't going to talk about any girls but his sister. "What's your next project?"

"Dinner," he grunted, busily making phone calls, pointing out things to me in clippings ("Best film of the year").

Just then a phone call came for me . . .

"Warren," I said, "believe it or not, but somebody phoned me to ask you if it's true that Julie Christie's given up her London guy for you. I told them I wouldn't think of it. Sitting in your suite with you, it wouldn't be polite, would it, Warren?"

"Well, if you don't think so, then I wouldn't do it, Earl," Warren said.

("Wherever Mary goes, this lamb is sure to go," says Bob) . . . Aging Frenchman Andre Maleraux left his 3rd wife for an 18-year-old.

Arson Suspected

FLAT ROCK (AP) — State Police said today they were investigating the possibility of arson in a fire which caused $150,000 damage at Krzycke Bros. Lumber Co. Monday. Troopers said an informant told them he saw a car leave the lumber yard about the time the blaze broke out. Nearby homes were evacuated because flames threatened to touch off a nearby storage area containing tanks of progas. No one was injured.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced today that the Wayne State University College of Nursing would receive a $275,760 training grant from the U. S. Public Health Service.

WHAT MAKES A LADY FAIR—Photographed from this angle, the metal "whatzit" by Picasso in Chicago's civic center plaza could be the artist's idea of woman's profile, some facial aspects, hair and shoulders. Talk with a detractor, and he'll tell you it is a pile of junk. The sculpture was to be dedicated today.

Picasso's 'Whatzit' Stirs Loud Debate

CHICAGO (AP) — It isn't what it is but "What is it?" that is creating the controversy in the Civic Center Plaza.

Even before the wraps are taken off Picasso's five-story rusty steel sculpture today, private and public debate is furious.

Those who like it say it's great art. Those who don't say it's a $300,000 piece of junk.

So far, it has been called a woman's head, the head of a long-eared dog, a dodo bird, a Trojan dove, a baboon, a Barbary ape and a bull—among other things.

THREATENING CALL

The intensity of feeling about the 50-foot, 160-ton sculpture was climaxed by an anonymous telephone call threatening to blow it up Aug. 1. It was a hoax.

There were, however, verbal fireworks in City Council after one alderman proposed that Picasso's gift to Chicago, which he called "a rusting junk heap," be sent to Paris.

★ ★ ★

He wanted it replaced with a statue of Ernie Banks, hero of Chicago Cubs baseball fans.

Fellow aldermen did not go along with the proposal and threatened to censure the alderman who proposed the action.

PUBLIC OPPOSITION

Mayor Richard J. Daley's director of special events, Col. Jack Reilly, also came out in public opposition to the sculpture.

"If it is a bird or an animal, they ought to put it in the zoo," he said. "If it is art, they ought to put it in the Art Institute."

★ ★ ★

His outburst followed a Filipino patriotic ceremony in the plaza at which Reilly represented the mayor. Questioned about his man's objection to the sculpture, Mayor Daley replied, "Oh, it was rather hot that day, you know."

★ ★ ★

The mayor hasn't said what he himself thinks of the sculpture. But since it obviously is prestigious for Chicago, the mayor isn't likely to say publicly that he doesn't like it—if he doesn't.

GIANT STEP

Roger Stevens, chairman of the National Council on the Arts, said at ground-breaking ceremonies for the sculpture, "Chicago has taken a giant step forward aesthetically."

Edward C. Logelin, vice president of United States Steel Corp. and a member of the mayor's Picasso Day Committee, said "Foreigners will refer to Chicago as the home of Picasso rather than Al Capone."

★ ★ ★

Clair M. Roddewig, president of the Association of Western Railways and also a member of the committee, said, "This will be a great art attraction and the greatest piece of outdoor art in the United States."

"As for its meaning," Roddewig said, "it will have a different meaning for everyone."

STYLIZED HEAD

The opinion of most art critics seems to be that it is a stylized head of a woman. Several of Picasso's paintings of women's heads have been reproduced in newspapers to show the likeness.

Architect William E. Hartmann of the firm Skidmore, Owings & Merrill, a friend of the artist who was instrumental in arranging for the gift, shares that view.

★ ★ ★

Hartmann visited Picasso at his home in the South of France several times and arranged for the artist to design a sculpture for the plaza in front of the city's new Civic Center, the city's tallest building, made of rusty steel and glass.

Picasso presented the design as a gift to the city. His 42-inch iron model for the work was given to the Art Institute after the 50-foot sculpture was fabricated at the American Bridge Division of United States Steel Corp. in Gary, Ind.

★ ★ ★

The sculpture was paid for with gifts totaling $300,000 from private foundations.

Picasso hasn't said—and apparently won't say—what he had in mind in designing the sculpture, leaving it to viewers to decide for themselves.

Road Safety Talks Slated; One in City

Gov. George Romney today announced plans for nine regional traffic safety conferences in September and October including a Sept. 18 session in Pontiac.

Romney said the conferences are planned "as a means of promoting greater understanding and thereby greater action in this vital area of public concern."

Some 10,000 law enforcement officers, judges, local officials, safety council members and concerned citizens will participate, Romney said.

"The gains we have made in traffic safety must be measured against the continuing death, injury and property loss toll on our streets and highways," Romney said.

★ ★ ★

He added some progress has been made in safety legislation in education, engineering and law enforcement. "But we are still moving too slowly," he said.

Unusual Minister's Parish Is Las Vegas Strip

LAS VEGAS (AP) — When Rick Mawson came to Las Vegas six years ago he was a first-class square.

He didn't believe in drinking or smoking or gambling or going to see shows which featured girls who were practically nude.

Now Rick, 31, drinks one glass of wine a day. He puffs a pipe occasionally. He knows about gambling.

He's on a first-name basis with dozens of showgirls, many of whose names are in his little book. He drops backstage to chat with them.

SOUNDS ORDINARY, BUT . . .

This transition doesn't sound too unusual for a 31-year-old fellow who moves to a city like Las Vegas.

But Rick's a little different. He's a Congregational minister.

★ ★ ★

Even as a minister he's a little different.

Rick doesn't have a church. But he has a parish that keeps him busy until the wee hours of the morning.

The parish is small, only four miles long and two blocks wide — the Las Vegas strip.

SANCTIONED

Sanctioned as chaplain of the Strip by the National Council of Churches, his own denomination and a local advisory group, Rick describes his job as one of tracking down signs of God's presence in the four-mile stretch of neon and nudes.

★ ★ ★

Rick has a fourfold job: to be available when someone needs help, to listen, to counsel and to interpret all he hears back to his church and community.

★ ★ ★

The other night an off-duty change girl in a coffee shop rushed up to say her domestic troubles were working out.

The short, stocky porter in a men's room left his shoeshine stand to tell Rick about his concern for his teen-age sons, who are being recruited by Black Muslims.

SHOWGIRLS' PROBLEMS

A tall British showgirl with heavy makeup and a feathery costume waited for her cue and talked with Rick about the tragedies people encounter in their search for something of value.

But Rick wasn't always accepted by the Strip denizens.

★ ★ ★

During his first summer in Las Vegas, he tried to hold services for entertainers. The first week four persons showed up. The second week two of them returned. The third week only one came back. The fourth week he was faced with an empty meeting hall.

Rick has since learned some secrets of getting along on the Strip. But his drinking a little and smoking a pipe doesn't necessarily mean he condones his environment.

IDENTIFIES WITH PEOPLE

"In my job you have to identify with these people. I can't develop any real relationship with them unless I become a part of their world," he says.

He believes that if he never touched a drop of alcohol, the people he deals with would feel he had a "holier-than-thou" attitude.

Rick compares himself with a foreign missionary.

Dirksen, Ike Defend Border Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen joins former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in defending President Johnson's decision to bomb North Vietnam targets only 10 miles from Red China.

* * *

Eisenhower, commander of allied military forces in Europe in World War II, and Dirksen said separately but in almost identical words that military targets were involved and the air attacks should be continued.

The White House, meanwhile, declined any comment on the latest U.S. air assaults.

Eisenhower and Dirksen said they do not believe such near-border raids risk bringing Red China into the conflict — a contention made in the Senate yesterday by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and echoed by Republican Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky.

* * *

In the face of this split of Republican opinion, Eisenhower told a news conference as he left Walter Reed Army Hospital after a 10-day stay, he hopes the conduct of the war does not become an issue in next year's presidential campaign. He said he doesn't want to be among those who might make it one.

'MUST USE FORCE'

"What do politicians know about conducting a war?" he asked. "We must use force and get done with it."

Eisenhower said he believes the war should be pursued, "with the idea of winning it." He added: "You should get everything you can, and use it as fast as you can, and get it over with as quickly as possible because war is a nasty thing."

Dirksen said in an interview he is satisfied legitimate military targets were hit in the raids to within 10 miles of the Red Chinese border. He said he is certain American fliers have been instructed thoroughly in avoiding Red Chinese Air space.

* * *

"I think it's necessary and I don't think it's dangerous," he said. "I haven't heard of any protest from China."

'DANGEROUS EXTENSION'

Mansfield called the bombing raids "a very dangerous extension of the war." He said they "bring us that much closer to the brink of a possible confrontation with China."

Endorsing this contention, Cooper called for a move toward de-escalation and new efforts to get peace negotiations.

Percy said in a statement that by approving the air attacks, Johnson "not only has escalated the war but he has risked a widening of the war which could result in tens of thousands of additional casualties" by inviting Communist Chinese intevention.

* * *

Dirksen backed Eisenhower's contention that the fighting must be pursued vigorously. He opposed a proposal made earlier by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., former GOP national chairman, for a change in the policy of bombing the North. Morton once supported that bombing but said it had failed to bring Hanoi to the peace table.

WINNING ISSUE

Morton said if the GOP presidential nominee could come up with a program for "honorable disengagement" in Vietnam, he could win in 1968.

Dirksen said that might be true but added: "How are you going to get honorable disengagement? Are we just going to walk out on the South Vietnamese and leave all of Asia to China? I don't think the American people will want to do that."

At the White House, newsmen queried press secretary George Christian on the bombings and related matters. Asked to give any new thoughts on the war or on the air attacks in Vietnam, Christian said:

* * *

"I would only be repeating the President's previous statements on action in the North as it relates to our commitment to prevent aggression in the South. I don't have anything new to report to you on that general subject. The President has expressed himself numerous times, and, of course, feels that the bombing in the North is an essential part of our commitment in the South."

* * *

Christian said the near-border raids were in keeping with the President's earlier statement that the United States wants no wider war.

Tax Unit Aims at Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans plan to press President Johnson's first-string fiscal team about the extent of administration budget-cutting Congress can expect if it approves his proposed income tax hike.

The senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, laid the groundwork yesterday for this line of inquiry from the minority members. The panel's hearings continue today.

There was heavy empahsis yesterday on economy from the Democratic side, too. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., asked Budget Director Charles L. Schultz: "Is there any real possibility that, if taxes are increased, we can expect the rate of spending not to be increased?"

Schultze replied he couldn't answer for expenditures linked to the Vietnam fighting, but "as far as civilian expenditures are concerned there is a good possibility of getting even below the figures in the January budget — in fact we are aiming at this."

* * *

Schultze reminded the congressmen, however, that economy efforts depend in part on their action. He said he understands there is serious discussion in Congress of a goverment employes' pay raise bill that would cost $1 billion more than the 4.5 per cent increase the President has approved.

TRIO RECALLED

Schultze, along with Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler and Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, was recalled for a second day's appearance before the tax-writing committee.

Byrnes said in an interview he has a number of additional questions to ask, some aimed at administration statements that officials hope to cut, hold down and postpone spending by about as much as the tax increase.

* * *

Byrnes said he is not satisfied that defense spending not directly connected with the Vietnam war cannot be reduced.

Cave-In Is Fatal for Father of 4 in Orion Township

A 38-year-old Orion Township man—the father of four—was killed by a cave-in yesterday while digging in a neighbor's yard.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Hubert D. Powell of 2262 Hammerslea was pinned to the side of a house at 3460 Waldon, Orion Township, by two large sections of cement sidewalk when the mishap occurred.

Powell's wife told investigators she was at home when the Powell children came into the house and said, "Daddy is gone."

She discovered the accident and called for help.

* * *

Two persons, neither identified, dug Powell's face clear and one applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, deputies said. A wrecker was required to remove the cement blocks.

HALF AN HOUR

It took rescuers nearly half an hour to free Powell completely, deputies said.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

A Day for Showers

Clouds gathering over the Pontiac area late today and tonight will continue to hover over the city tomorrow bringing a chance of a few brief showers or thundershowers.

City Financial Expert Drowns in Waterford

Prominent Pontiac financial expert Louis H. Shimmel, 69, of 509 W. Iroquois drowned yesterday in a canal off Otter Lake in Waterford Township.

His body was recovered in about six feet of water at 7:48 p.m. by divers from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

A rope weighted by two cement blocks was wrapped around the body, according to deputies.

An autopsy is being performed today by Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

* * *

Two young brothers earlier found a canoe Schimmel apparently had been using submerged in the canal, according to Pontiac State Police.

NEAR PROPERTY

The spot where the body was recovered was near the seven-acre Otter Lake frontage property owned by the Schimmel family. A cottage and boathouse are on the land.

Schimmel, director of the Municipal Advisory Council of Michigan, left his home in Pontiac about 1:30 p.m. yesterday, police said.

State Police were summoned by Schimmel's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Louis H. Schimmel Jr. of 2726 Woodbine, Waterford Township, at 6:18 p.m.

Service for Schimmel will be 11 a.m. Thursday at St. Vincent de Paul Church.

ROSARY TOMORROW

The Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Surviving besides his wife, son and daughter-in-law are two daughters, Mrs. Jack H. Cvengros of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Bradley Stoutt of San Marino, Calif.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Marie Duffy of Pontiac, and four grandchildren.

Recognized as one of the nation's outstanding authorities on municipal and educational fiscal matters, Schimmel

President Dr. John Tirrell said he could not disclose the location until the meeting but said the purchase price is $495,000 for 10 parcels of land owned by 27 persons.

HUD Okay Boosts City Housing Project

Pontiac's planned 234-unit Auburn Hills housing project for senior citizens moved a step closer to reality yesterday as Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced federal approval of a financial assistance contract.

The contract guarantees that the federal government through the Department of Housing and Urban Development will pay off the cost of the project over a 40-year period.

The complex, to be developed and constructed by Charles L. Langs, is expected to cost $3,593,044.

Pontiac Housing Commission Director Roy B. McAfee said the federal approval is "a significant step."

* * *

The approval ensures that the city will not have to wait for a more involved type of approval and allows the housing commission to deliver a "letter of intent" to Langs.

PROCEED WITH PLANS

This, McAfee said, will enable Langs to proceed with detailed architectural drawings and plans for construction of the project.

Development of the project is under a system called "turnkey" whereby Langs will finance construction and then sell the entire project to the city through the city housing commission.

Langs is scheduled to receive $3,365,924 for the sale. The difference between that and the $3,593,044 is expected to go for architectural fees, inspection costs, some operating costs and costs of appliances.

* * *

A formal contract between the developer and the city, through the housing commission will likely be signed in early winter with construction starting as soon after that as conditions permit.

It is estimated that the entire project will be finished one year after construction starts.

Plans call for the site—located on Auburn, east of Clifford—to contain a 12-story multisided high rise building containing 114 units and 120 scattered units. Eight will be two-bedroom units, the rest will have one bedroom.

Eligibility standards now require that tenants be over 62 years old with incomes less than $3,800 for two and $2,800 for one. Rent is geared to income, currently 21.8 per cent of net income.

McAfee said that the city will likely have to issue bonds to cover the entire cost of the project. The bond and interest would then be paid off by the federal government through the annual assistance contract over a 40-year period.

Witness Purges Self in Charge

With one day remaining for the Oakland County grand jury, a former Madison Heights councilman yesterday purged himself of contempt of court and was given a reduced sentence and fine.

* * *

The ex-councilman, Roman Nowicki, 390 Kendry, Bloomfield Hills, appeared voluntarily before one-man grand juror James S. Thorburn to answer a subpoena issued July 10.

Nowicki was found guilty of contempt a week later and sentenced to one year in jail and fined $1,000.

Thorburn reduced the sentence to 90 days and the fine to $500 when Nowicki came before him yesterday.

* * *

In addition to the contempt, Nowicki has been indicted three times by Thorburn on bribery charges. The cases are all pending in lower court.

NEW INDICTMENTS

Before the grand jury investigation ends today at midnight, new indictments are expected to be issued by Thorburn.

Since Thorburn succeeded Judge Philip Pratt June 22, he has issued a half-dozen indictments, one of them against State Rep. Bill S. Huffman on a charge of soliciting a bribe when he was mayor of Madison Heights.

* * *

Pratt was disqualified by the Michigan Court of Appeals because he was investigating matters that he had probed during an earlier inquiry.

Flint Mayor Will Resign

FLINT (AP)—Mayor Floyd J. McCree of Flint, the only Negro in the nation heading a city of 200,000 or larger, declares he is resigning because the city commission rejected an open occupancy housing law.

"I'm not going to sit up here any longer and live an equal opportunity lie," the 44-year-old mayor said last night after the commission voted down the law, 5-3.

McCree said he also will resign as commissioner of Flint's heavily-Negro Third Ward. He had represented the Third Ward for eight years when he was elected mayor by his fellow commissioners. About 25 per cent of Flint's 200,000 residents are Negroes.

"I can no longer serve in good conscience on a commission which does not represent the needs of all citizens," McCree said.

* * *

He has been an avid supporter of the proposed open occupancy law since it was proposed last year.

DRAFT RUSHED

Commissioners rushed to prepare a final draft of the ordinance last week, just two weeks after violence spread to Flint and a number of other Michigan cities after Detroit erupted in the worst civil outbreak in recent American history.

* * *

The ordinance would have banned discrimination in housing and home financing. It would have established machinery for investigating of discrimination complaints.

Navy Jet Downed; B52s Raid DMZ; Key Positions Hit

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that the North Vietnamese shot down a U.S. Navy reconnaissance plane Sunday, apparently while it was photographing damage from a raid only 10 miles from Red China's border.

The RA5C Vigilante's two-man crew was listed as missing. The plane was the 642nd U.S. warplane announced as lost over the North so far in the war.

★ ★ ★

Navy planes raided the Lang Son railroad and highway bridge Sunday in what were the closest raids to Red China in the Vietnam war. They followed up with raids on nearby targets Monday.

U.S. B52 bombers raided the southern half of the demilitarized zone today, for the second time in three days and dumped tons of explosives on what the command described as extensive North Vietnamese artillery and antiaircraft positions.

RED BUILD UP

The stepped up raids by the eight-engine Stratofortresses, each capable of carrying up to 50,000 pounds of bombs, indicated that the Communists may be building up for another sustained drive on U.S. Marine outposts at Con Thien and Dong Ha just south of the zone.

Both outposts were heavily shelled in June and the first week of July, but shellings have been infrequent since tactical fighter-bombers gave the area a going over.

★ ★ ★

Monday's raids near the Chinese border were among 134 missions over North Vietnam logged by Air Force and carrier-based Navy fighter-bombers. The other strikes included a number on rail sidings, highway bridges, surface-to-air missile sites and fuel storage areas in the Hanoi-Haiphong areas.

The strikes around the North's two major cities were somewhat limited because of heavy thundershowers.

Ground action in South Vietnam was virtually at a standstill. The U.S. Command said there were no significant contacts reported in 34 allied operations of battalion size or larger.

These included the newly announced "Operation Portland," a multibattalion search and destroy operation by elements of the U.S. Army's 1st Division about 70 miles north of Saigon.

Draft Chief Ignores Army Paper Foul-up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman said today draft chief Lewis B. Hershey refuses to allow out of the Army a Pennsylvania National Guardsman wrongfully drafted through "a paperwork foulup."

Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., accused Hershey of "callous disregard for the individual" in refusing to recommend release of Leslie E. Brown, 23, Oreland, Pa., despite the Pennsylvania Guard's request.

★ ★ ★

Selective Service headquarters said it is investigating the allegations.

Brown was drafted and sent to Ft. Bragg, N.C., last March after his Guard unit mistakenly put him on a list of guardsmen delinquent in meeting attendance requirements and thus eligible for the draft.

DISGRACEFUL

Schweiker called Brown's plight "disgraceful evidence of a callous disregard for the individual and the inability of responsible individuals to unravel the red tape with which they have surrounded themselves."

The congressman said Hershey has turned down two appeals from the Pennsylvania Guard and Brown for the discharge.

The first refusal came last June, he said, on grounds Brown should have appealed before he actually was drafted.

★ ★ ★

The second, Schweiker claimed, came after Brown and his Guard unit commander explained Brown had appealed — but the appeal was processed too late through a second administrative foulup.

The Guard unit commander, Capt. William E. Brantley, explained in a letter the appeal did not come to his attention until the day after Brown was sent to Ft. Bragg.

Skilled Tradesmen Picket NLRB Office

DETROIT (UPI) — More than 1,000 members of the International Society of Skilled Trades (ISST) yesterday picketed around the block where the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has its local offices.

★ ★ ★

An ISST spokesman said the pickets, by about 1,200 union members, were because of the "CIO-inspired rulings of the NLRB."

The spokesman said the march came after NLRB rulings that favored the AFL-CIO over the ISST.

Judge Squelches Wiretap Facts in Hoffa Hearing

CHICAGO (UPI) — A federal judge yesterday squelched some wiretap evidence against jailed Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, but said he would be "more liberal" with other evidence.

Hoffa and his attorneys were scheduled to appear today for the second day of the hearing ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court to determine if wiretaping evidence was used illegally to convict Hoffa and five others of mail fraud in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Defense attorneys won one round when Judge Richard B. Austin refused a government request to limit the consideration of evidence to one conversation that took place Dec. 2, 1963.

The judge ruled against the defense when it requested that all other wiretapping evidence be admitted as evidence and that the government prove that no other evidence besides that presented exists.

Prison Ordered for City Youth

A 4-to-10-year prison sentence was ordered yesterday for a Pontiac youth who shot a teenager outside the GMC Truck and Coach Division plant April 22.

David M. Leonard, 20, of 470 Fildew, was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Leonard, who had been charged with attempted murder in the shooting of David Bradley, 17, of 4621 Fiddle, pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm on July 18.

Bradley suffered two bullet wounds when he attempted to run into the plant for help.

He told police that he was waiting in a car for his father to get out of work at the plant when two youths jumped into the car and ordered him to drive away.

The youths were arrested the next day at their homes on information given to police by a tipster. Leonard's companion was later released.

Hearing Postponed in Fluoride Case

A Circuit Court hearing questioning the legality of adding fluoride to Pontiac's water supply was postponed yesterday.

A new hearing date is tentatively scheduled for Aug. 28, but according to Pontiac attorney John Rogers, it may be heard before that time.

Rogers represents six Pontiac residents who are asking for an injunction which would halt the City of Detroit from placing the chemical into water it sells to Pontiac.

Exam of Patrolmen Calls 4 Witnesses

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan State Police trooper and three Negro youths testified Monday that men in blue uniforms lined people up against a wall in a midtown motel where three Negro youths were found slain during last month's riot.

The testimony came in the first day of preliminary examination of two white Detroit policemen accused of the first-degree murder of two of the youths.

Additional witnesses were to be heard when the trial continued today.

Trooper John M. Fonger said a number of persons were forced against the wall and "told to pray" by men wearing light blue shirts, dark blue trousers but no badges. The uniforms described are similar to Detroit police uniforms.

ACCUSED PATROLMEN

Patrolman Ronald August is accused of shooting Aburey Pollard, 19, and Patrolman Robert Paille is charged with the slaying of Fred Temple, 18. The death of the third youth, Carl Cooper, 17, still is under investigation.

Fonger, sent to Detroit from his normal assignment at Houghton, 200 miles north of the city, told of being sent to the Algiers Motel because of reported sniper in the vicinity.

★ ★ ★

He said he observed no sniping but heard shots "possibly coming from" an annex at the rear of the motel. The three bodies were found in the annex.

Fonger testified he saw two bodies upon entering the building. When he saw the people lined up in the hallway, Fonger said he went outside to get his immediate superior because he felt "the situation was out of hand."

DIDN'T SEE SHOOTING

Fonger said he did not see any shots fired, but testified he found a spent shotgun shell on the floor of the room where one of the bodies was found.

Another witness, Michael Clark, 19, a Negro, identified Paille and August as two of the men present in the motel. Clark admitted under cross-examination that he had been unable to identify August at a police lineup and that the first time he identified him was in the courtroom Monday.

★ ★ ★

Clark did identify Paille at the lineup.

In another development, a Negro accused of playing a major role in triggering the four days of rioting last month was charged Monday with three counts of inciting the riot and with rioting.

'U.S. Sought Viet Coalition Including VC'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A captured document apparently once used by North Vietnam's hierarchy claims the United States sought Soviet aid last year in establishing a South Vietnamese coalition government that would include Communists.

The paper, now circulating in U.S. quarters, says the North Vietnamese leadership in the spring of 1966 was ready for what it termed "tactical negotiations" while fighting in the South.

★ ★ ★

The South Vietnamese long have rejected inclusion of the National Liberation Front—Viet Cong—a Communist organ in South Vietnam, as a possible part of their government.

As for talks, the stated U.S. policy is to examine any and all proposals for negotiations toward a potential settlement.

DENIED CLAIM

A State Department spokesman, questioned about the document, denied the United States sought any arrangement which would involve Communist representation in a South Vietnamese government.

The South Vietnamese "do not view a coalition government as a viable solution," this spokesman said.

Substitute Judge Plan OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners last night adopted a new ordinance permitting the hiring of a substitute judge in the absence of the city's two municipal judges.

In recommending the approval of the act, John F. Saefke, assistant to the city manager, said that substitute judges have presided over Municipal Court in the past, but without compensation from the city.

"It would seem proper that the code authorize and provide a controlled method of reimbursing a substitute judge," Safeke said.

Commissioners made one change in the ordinance proposed by the administration in regard to compensation.

Under the adopted ordinance, a substitute judge will be paid $30 an hour, rather than $100 for each court session as suggested by the administration.

4 PER YEAR

The city will pay the salary from the general fund providing there are not more than four such sessions a year.

If a substitute judge is required more than four times in one year, the cost will be deducted proportionately from the salaries of the municipal judge and the associate judge.

Saefke said it only recently was available for a regularly scheduled court session.

Rain, 3 Swollen Rivers Imperil Alaskan Cities

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Rain continued to pour into this central Alaska city and nearby Nenana today as residents and Alaska National Guardsmen frantically tried to hold back flood waters from three swollen rivers.

Close to six inches of rain has fallen here this month, compared to an average August rainfall of 2.2 inches, causing widespread flooding that prompted Gov. Walter Hickel to declare both communities disaster areas Monday.

★ ★ ★

Hickel planned to tour this city and Nenana, 50 miles southwest of here, today to survey damage.

Weather forecasts called for continued rain today.

SITUATION SERIOUS

Adjutant Gen. C. F Necrason said the situation was "very serious."

More than 200 families were evacuated Monday in this city of 30,000. Helicopters were utilized to reach outlying residents as floodwaters made surface travel all but impossible.

The A-67 centennial exposition, situated on the banks of the Chena River, was flooding Monday night. Workers were attempting to control the water in the financially plagued centennial grounds.

Cranes were used Monday night in an attempt to clear debris from the base of several bridges to lessen the threat of collapse.

OVER FLOOD STAGE

The Chena, which winds through the downtown section, rose a foot and a half over flood stage. Two bridges were closed and another threatened.

★ ★ ★

At Nenana, where the Nenana and Tanana rivers join, the water level was nearly three feet over flood stage. Some 55 residents from the community of 300 were evacuated. Aircraft replaced buses in the operation but heavy rain and poor visibility hampered flights.

★ ★ ★

An amateur radio operator, in a broadcast monitored in Seattle, said 200 volunteers had filled 6,000 sandbags for a dike to hold the Chena River.

The operator said he was transmitting from a river steamer which was floating two feet above the river banks.

Man Seeks Hearing in Drug Case

★ ★ ★

Harry J. Smith of 212 Central is charged with possession of narcotics.

The preliminary examination for Smith was set for 2 p.m. Sept. 26 by Kollin who was acting for Waterford Township Justice Kenneth Hempstead.

The suspect was released from custody after posting $1,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

The narcotics sample, believed by police to be marijuana was sent to the Michigan State Police Crime Laboratory in East Lansing for testing.

DISORDER ERUPTED

Following Smith's arrest, disorder erupted at the Rolladium. Fights broke out, two minor fires were set and windows of nearby buildings were broken, according to township police.

About 40 policemen from nine departments were called to the scene.

Ecorse Man Faces Exam in TV Theft

A 28-year-old Ecorse man, accused of stealing a television set from the Sherwood Motel, 2460 Dixie, Waterford Township, is slated to face preliminary examination at 2 p.m. Aug. 24.

George H. Smith stood mute on the larceny from a building charge at his arraignment yesterday before Avon Township Justice Arthur Kollin, acting for Waterford Township Justice Kenneth Hempstead. Bond was set at $1,000.

★ ★ ★

Smith was arrested early yesterday by township police who had stopped him on Dixie Highway at Telegraph because the rear license plate on his car was not illuminated.

Police said the television set was in the suspect's car.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A graying, soft-spoken Soviet mathematician has expressed support for a long-sought technical exchange between United States and Soviet scientists.

After delivering a technical paper here Monday before 400 scientists, Dr. Alex M. Letov remarked: "I am hopeful that maybe I have initiated some steps in this area of exchange."

Indicating his appearance here might have been a trial balloon, he said: "I am completely satisfied with my presentation and the response of the American scientist. In my report I will reflect this."

Man Innocent in Murder Case

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury yesterday found Michael J. Hamlin of Pontiac innocent of murder in the shotgun death of a Utica man June 12.

During the two-day trial which began Thursday before Judge Clark J. Adams, defense attorney Donald Brown of Royal Oak aurged that Hamlin had acted in self-defense when he killed Clement C. Berger, 30, of 7090 24 Mile.

Pontiac police accused Hamlin of killing Berger outside Hamlin's home at 446 Orchard Lake.

Hamlin testified, however that he fired as Berger was attempting to break into the house through a window.

Berger's body was found in a driveway about 12 feet from the home, according to Asst. Prosecutor Denis Donohue.

A doctor testified that it was possible that Berger could have staggered that far after being shot.

Hamlin had been charged with first-degree murder but when the jury he told them they had only three choices, second-degree murder, manslaughter or innocent.

The jury deliberated about four hours yesterday. They had started deliberation late Friday and then were sent home for the weekend.

City to Consider Purchase of Crystal Beach Housing

A bid to sell the Crystal Beach housing project will be considered by city commissioners at their meeting tonight.

The 72-unit complex located near Crystal Lake in the southwest section of the city has been a focal point for grievance filed recently with city commissioners by a Negro group.

The owners, who say the project is being run at a loss, have offered to sell the housing units — built as emergency quarters during World War II — at one-half of the appraised value.

The offer is contingent upon the owners being able to claim a tax deduction on half the cost. Officials from the Internal Revenue Service earlier this week gave tentative approval to considering that half as a tax deductible gift.

★ ★ ★

If purchased the city will attempt to phase out the project and demolish the structures within three years.

NO NEW TENANTS

Joseph A. Warren, city manager, indicated that no one will be asked to leave the projects, but new tenants would not be taken as others left.

In other action, the commission will:

- Receive reports on the operation of the two municipal parking systems.
- Receive a report from the director of public works and service discussing the need for acquiring additional right-of-way for the construction of the Galloway Creek trunk sewer.
- Consider an offer to purchase urban renewal land in the northwest corner of Orchard Lake Avenue and West Wide Track for construction of an office building.
- Reconsider a request by Charles Gersten, owner of Central Bar, to reinstate a dance permit. The City Commission declined to renew the permit earlier this year.

Business Zoning Meets Strong Opposition

By ED BLUNDEN

CLARKSTON — A proposed new zoning plan for the village came under sharp attack at a hearing last night before about 80 persons who appeared to divide into two camps.

The plan was prepared by a citizens committee and was explained by Edward Thomson, chairman.

It contains two major changes in policy from the present ordinance — elimination of high-rise building zoning and expansion of the business area.

It was labeled by some in the audience as a move to "save the downtown merchants."

★ ★ ★

The village has a row of small stores running down its main street, a grocery, hardware, barber shop, drugstore, etc.

In the proposed plan adjacent streets to the east would be zoned commercial thus in theory allowing the present business to expand into the neighboring block or for new businesses to locate.

Many residents on the neighboring streets opposed the move as a danger to their property, but others in the community voiced disapproval and fear a large shopping center would develope in the primarily quiet, residential town.

In defending his group's plan Thomson said some 18 months had been spent in a lot-by-lot study.

★ ★ ★

He said the object was to preserve the residential nature of village and to prevent abuses by building of apartments or undesirable spot zoning.

ALL DEVELOPED

He pointed out that almost all the land in the village was presently developed and that a zoning ordinance could not, in itself, cause any resident to be forced to move.

★ ★ ★

Taking an opposing view was Jerome S. Wilford of 91 S. Main who submitted a letter read to the hearing.

Rather than favoring expansion of the business area, Wilford was in favor of "shrinking" it to "enhance the residential character" of the village.

★ ★ ★

Wilford, a former village trustee, proposed "phasing out" the downtown businesses, leaving a bank and post office and turning the rest of downtown into a mall.

NEIGHBOR SPEAKS

Opposition was voiced by Milton F. Cooney of 56 E. Washington, who lives adjacent to the area proposed commercially zoned.

He said he didn't want a business operation in his "back yard" and said he preferred to have a high-rise apartment development (eliminated in the zoning plan).

Near the conclusion of the meeting, a councilman revealed why village officials had taken "a sudden interest in zoning."

Dave Leak said village officials had been approached by both the bank, Community National, and the post office with requests to expand their facilities.

At the rear of these two properties the land drops sharply in a semi-cliff, making expansion difficult on their sites.

Leak said hopes were to relocate these enterprises on the eastern side of Main, in the area where it is proposed to change zoning to commercial.

He said there was real danger that the village would lose both these institutions if they were not allowed to expand.

★ ★ ★

He said other merchants were being cramped in their present facilities and would enlarge their present locations "for the good of the village as a whole," if allowed to.

PETITION CHANCE

The proposed zoning will next be officially advertised giving residents exact details and a chance to petition the zoning board of appeals in specific cases.

After board of appeals study, the proposed ordinance will go to the Village Council for possible adoption.

Novi City Rule Decision Near

NOVI TOWNSHIP—A decision on Novi Village's right to incorporate as a home rule city is due in about a week, the Township Board heard at its meeting last night. Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer yesterday heard the case. The trial was the result of a suit filed early this year by a village citizen's committee.

It was seeking a ruling to uphold a judgment of Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn. He ruled early this year that as an already incorporated entity, the village is not bound by a state statute requiring 500 persons per square mile to incorporate as a home rule city.

Novi Township officials had sought an injunction to stop the village's incorporation vote, formerly set for April 4.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the Township Board decided to accept bids for blacktopping around the township hall. With the contract to be awarded Sept. 5, the work is expected to be completed by October, said Township Supervisor Hadley J. Bachert.

The board also discussed the possibility of a dog ordinance, but took no action because of the expense in enforcing it. Residents of Willowbrook subdivision had several months ago complained about dogs, said Bachert.

32.4-Mill Levy Is Approved

FARMINGTON — The board of education approved last night a 32.4-mill school tax levey for this year.

Of the total 9 mills will go for debt retirement. The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission recently approved this allocation.

The state commission had initially opposed it because it would leave too much in reserve. The $1.3-million reserve now has commission approval.

Declared legal is a reserve of up to one year's debt retirement fees. The school district's bill for these fees this year is $1.6 million, said Schools Superintendent Roderick Smith.

The remainder of the total tax levy — 23.4 mills — is set for operations. The levy includes 8.4 mills from the county and 15 extra voted mills.

POSTS OPEN

Supt. Smith also reported that about 25 vacancies remain to be filled before the opening of school Sept 7. "This year, we have more vacancies than ever before," Smith said.

Administrators are continuing to interview prospects, Smith added.

Increased, Balanced

Farmington Twp. OKs Budget

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board approved a balanced budget of $689,400 after a public hearing last night at which two township residents showed up.

Last year's budget, also balanced, was $772,800. Higher assessed valuation results in the increased budget, explained Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall.

★ ★ ★

Police department benefits, salaries and more offices account for the largest increases — $60,000 more than last year. The next largest increase at $40,000 goes for road improvements, said Hall.

The approved budget covers the period from April 1, 1967, to March 31, 1968.

The board also reset two public hearings. The public hearing on the necessity for public water on Stockton, lots 25 through 34, will be Aug. 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

The public hearing for the water system for Forestbrook Subdivision was set for Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

Study to Suggest Streetlight Plan

MILFORD — The Village Council last night asked the Planning Commission to study and make recommendations of street lighting for Fairview Hills.

★ ★ ★

A report is expected in six months, said Village Manager Joseph S. Brophy.

★ ★ ★

The council had earlier voted down a special assessment totaling $900 per year for ornamental lighting in the area.

It would have amounted to about $10 per home owner for nine years, Brophy said.

FOR PUBLIC SAFETY — Avon Township Supervisor Cyril Miller makes a point at last night's Public Safety Corps meeting in Township Hall. Henry DeLooff, recognized as director of the group, and Mrs. Doris Ungier, township secretary, share the head table.

Avon 'Public Safety Corps' Nearer Reality

By JEAN SAILE

AVON TOWNSHIP—The Public Safety Corps took another step toward formal organization last night, despite objections from about half of the 70 people present at a hearing.

A statement of purpose was prepared by some 20 to 25 subdivision residents meeting with Supervisor Cyril Miller following the public portion of the meeting.

It reads, "The Purpose:

"To assist our proper authorized authority in extreme civil disorder or disorder from natural causes.

★ ★ ★

"To implement this assistance through a director who is responsible to the township board and who initiates action only on the recommendation of the sheriff."

RETIRED OFFICER

Henry A. DeLooff, 530 W. Third, a retired State Police officer, was recognized as Miller's choice for the directorship of the group. Miller was recently given authority by the Township Board to appoint such a man.

Said DeLooff after the meeting, "It kind of surprised me. I'd told them I'd help, but no one formally appointed me to the job."

He continued, "I think in the same channels as the sheriff. I am not entirely in favor of such a group. But I figure if it's going to be, I'd better go along with it to see if I can exercise some control."

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Frank Irons was present at a committee meeting last week. He spoke of a curfew as more effective than an armed guard in quelling civil disturbances, and he was noncommittal on the help that might be offered by the county to such a group.

DEEP-SEATED FEELINGS

DeLooff remarked on the deep-seated feelings evident at last night's meeting.

It was an exchange of views marked by racial overtones, while at one point the issue of communism was raised and the discussion dissolved at times into the fielding of insults for various residents present.

Questioned as to the legality of such a group, Miller said he based the right to organize the contemplated 1,000-man citizens' riot group on Article II of the Bill of Rights — the right to bear arms.

He admitted that no legal advice had been sought.

PUBLIC VOTE

When asked if a public vote would be held to determine residents' feelings, he said, "No. Such a vote costs $2,000 to $3,000."

"And," he continued, "for those of you who talk about a larger police force, you must remember you've got to pay for it."

He said the township now has six men in its auxiliary police force.

★ ★ ★

Citizen fears that the Public Safety Corps, though limited in powers at first, might be the first step to a police state were echoed by various members of the audience.

IMPROVE SERVICES

Points that the township would do better to concentrate its efforts in improving services rather than in forming an armed guard met with varied reaction.

"What are you going to do, when there's no one available to help?" Brooklands Fire Chief Al Rouse asked.

"I don't want to live in a township that needs this kind of group," said a member of the audience.

★ ★ ★

Ronald Scott of Tienken Manor, one of the original organizers, read a letter stating his withdrawal from the group unless a formal plan of action were conceived.

"Not many people are interested in a long-range general police activity," he said.

★ ★ ★

Bear Victim's Friends Tell of Terror

WEST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — Four terror-stricken young people who saw one of their friends killed by a grizzly bear in a Glacier National Park say they tried everything they knew to drive away the marauding animal.

They built a bonfire, but it didn't scare the bear.

They lay motionless in their sleeping bags, but the bear attacked anyway.

★ ★ ★

One youth even punched the bear with his fist, he said, but the grizzly kept coming.

Paul R. Dunn, 16, a high school junior from Edina, Minn., screamed: "He's got her in the sleeping bag and he's dragging her up the hill!"

The students, who had come to the scenic park for a working vacation, told their story Monday after escaping from the maddened bear, which threatened them for hours before finally attacking and killing Michele Koons, 19, of San Diego, Calif., early Sunday.

SECOND KILLING

Twenty miles from the campsite where Michele died, another 19-year-old girl, Julie Helgeson of Albert Lea, Minn., was killed in her sleeping bag by another park bear during the same night. One of her companions, Roy Ducat, 18, of Perrysburg, Ohio, was seriously injured.

A hunt continued today for the killer bears after park rangers shot and killed two grizzlies Monday in the area where Miss Helgeson was slain. Tests were being made on those bears to try to determine whether one was the killer.

★ ★ ★

With Dunn and Miss Koons were Denise Huckle, 19, of Sam Manuel, Calif., and a junior at the University of Arizona and Ronald A. Noseck, 21, and his brother, Ray T. 23, both of Oracle, Ariz. The Nosecks are dental students at the University of Louisville.

Saturday they had hiked to Trout Lake in a wild area in the western part of the park for a campout.

CHASED UP TREE

Two campers they met on the trail told of being chased up a tree by a grizzly.

They pitched camp and caught some fish. Then while cooking hot dogs, the wind blew their campfire smoke into the trees and Michele said, "there's a bear."

The bear invaded the camp and the four ran 50 yards down the lakefront. It ate their food and left with Michel's travel bag in its teeth.

"We discussed whether to stay where we were or try to go back," Dunn said. "It was dark and we weren't sure of the trail, so we built a big bonfire."

They they saw the bear again standing on a logjam in the lake.

"None of us really slept," Ray Noseck said. "We just kept putting wood on the fire."

"About two o'clock my little dog, Squirt, started growling and I heard something in the water," Denise Huckle said. "I knew there was a bear near us."

CAME CLOSE

"We stayed real close to the fire," Dunn said. "My feet really got hot."

"A couple of times the bear came very close to the fire," Dunn said. They got in their sleeping bags and covered their heads with blankets.

Between 2 a.m. and 4:30 a.m., the bear stayed at the edge of the area lit by the campfire, moving about in the brush.

★ ★ ★

"When the attack started, I was the first to see the bear," Miss Huckle said. "Squirt started to squeal. I looked over a log and the bear was loping straight toward the camp. The fire was big and I could see his face and the upper half of his body. Then about four or five feet from me, he stopped.

"By that time I was back under the covers," she said. "All of a sudden he grabbed one of the packs and we could hear him ripping the pack. Then he stopped and I could hear him breathing. I kept Squirt very quiet."

"Then he came toward me," Dunn said. "I could hear him come. I remained perfectly still and he just sniffed. It was kind of hard because I could hear him right above me, breathing. Then I heard a crunch into my sleeping bag. He bit half my shirt right off. I lifted up the covers and hit him. He reared back on his hind legs. I climbed a tree 30 feet high in 10 seconds. I saw the bear turn toward Ron."

"I yelled to Denise that we had to get out of there," Ron said.

★ ★ ★

"No, I can't," she replied. "I've got to undo the collar around Squirt's neck." The dog was tied in the sleeping bag with her.

"I kept watching," Ron said, "and the bear took several steps back and started for Michele. Denise and I jumped out of our bags and ran 50 yards down the beach."

"Ron shoved me up a tree," Denise said, "and tried to throw the dog up. I finally caught him."

Board Considering Boat Law

The Waterford Township Board last night referred to its attorney for study a recommendation by the Michigan Department of Conservation that the board enact a local ordinance relating to watercraft controls on Pontiac Lake.

The White Lake Township Board received a similar request. Pontiac Lake lies in both townships.

The ordinance, if adopted, will require persons operating vessels on the lake to maintain a distance of 100 feet from the shoreline and from any island except when proceeding at a "slow — no wake" sped and except when pick- ing up or dropping of water skiers.

The exceptions are contingent on the operation being conducted with due regard to the safety of persons and property and in a line perpendicular to the shoreline insofar as it is reasonably possible and in accordance with the laws of the state.

* * *

Persons navigating, steering or controlling themselves while being towed on water skis, water sleds, surfboards or similar contrivances also would be required to maintain a distnce of 100 feet from the shoreline and from any island, raft, buoyed or occupied bathing area or vessel moored or at anchor with the same exceptions.

FINES SET

Violators of the ordinance would receive a fine up to $100 or a maximum of 90 days in jail, or both, if convicted.

Existing laws are being enforced, but the new ordinance is deemed necessary because of the heavy use of the lake.

Two public hearings May 22 and Aug. 2 preceded the proposed ordinance.

* * *

In other business last night, the board authorized the township attorney to draw up a resolution of consent to allow the Donelson Park Civic Association to proceed with improvements on lot 288 in the subdivision.

Legal title to the lot is held in trust by the township for the use and benefit of lot owners in the subdivision.

A proposal that elected township officers receive mileage compensation when on official business was refered to the attorney for review.

The rate would be 10 cents a mile.

Approved by the board last night was an annual pay rate of $6,698 for a dispatcher the police department plans to hire.

* * *

Also approved was a lot split request by Harlan Thayer for property in Eysters Woodhull Lake Subdivision on Meigs Street.

A resolution was passed thanking the township's volunteer firemen and reserve policemen for their assistance in the recent Pontiac disturbances.

* * *

Mrs. Shivley was shot when she entered their former home upon returning from the hearing. Her mother, Mrs. Ruth Patterson, summoned police from a nearby telephone. When police arrived, a second shot was heard in the Shivley garage. Shivley was found there, shot in the head.

Waterford Twp. Board Eyes Ordinance to Restrict Bees

An ordinance restricting the wning, raising and keeping of es in Waterford Township was troduced by the Township oard last night.

f adopted at next Monday's ard meeting, the ordinance become effective 30 days n then.

Prepared by Township Attney Calvin Patterson, the inance would prohibit any beehive used or occupied by bees in any area of the township other than an agricultural area.

The ordinance also would make it unlawful to own, keep, raise or harbor bees in any area other than an agricultural area.

The "nuisance" ordinance is aimed at protecting the public health, safety and welfare of the township and to provide penalties for violators.

PENALTY

Violators, upon conviction, would receive a fine not exceeding $100 or a jail term up to 90 days, or both. Each day a violation occurs would constitute a separate offense.

Patterson defines an agricultural area as an open area in the township where farming, dairying and other general agricultural and farming activities are permitted.

COMPLAINTS OF BEES

The drawing up of the proposed ordinance was prompted when a group of citizens and a businessman lodged complaints about a bee-keeping operation on North Winding.

Bill Monbo Helps Yankee Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Steve Barber and Joe Pepitone each drove in two runs and Barber combined with Bill Monbouquette to help the New York Yankees to a 5-4 victory over Baltimore Monday night.

Barber's one-out double in the fifth scored Jake Gibbs who had reached base on an infield single, the first hit off rookie Bill Dillman, and Ruben Amaro who had walked. Barber advanced on an infield single and scored on Roy White's sacrifice fly.

★ ★ ★

After the Orioles had closed to 3-2, Pepitone clinched it with a two-out, two-run triple in the seventh. It scored Horace Clarke, who had singled, and White, who had walked.

Monbouquette relieved Barber, 8-13, after the veteran left-hander walked two men with two out in the seventh, forcing in the Orioles' second run.

Monbouquette got the final out, but then had to weather a rugged eighth when Baltimore scored twice on triples by Frank Robinson and Paul Blair and a sacrifice fly by Dave Johnson.

Golf Greats Pay Haig Tribute

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — "You're only here for a short visit. Don't hurry. Don't worry. And be sure to smell the flowers along the way."

Exactly when golfing great Walter Hagen made that statement is lost in the mists of time.

But to Hagen, now 75 and almost muted by three operations for throat cancer, the flowers probably never smelled sweeter than Monday night.

Some 250 people, including Arnold Palmer and former Masters and U.S. Open champion Cary Middlecoff turned this remote, northern lower Michigan resort into the golf capital of the world, attending a testimonial dinner for "The Haig."

And despite the fact that Hagen, father of modern professional golf and only man ever to win five PGA titles and four British Opens, could not amuse them with the antics and tales that made him as famous off the links as on, he obviously enjoyed himself.

A good bit of the praise for Hagen, who has lived in this area for some 10 years, was good natured ribbing that concentrated not so much on how he became the first man in history to win $1 million swinging a club, but how he spent it.

Hagen, besides being the only man to ever to win five PGA titles, is also the only one ever to have won four of them in a row. He quit playing competitive golf in 1939 and stopped playing social golf in 1945.

Until a year ago he used to hit iron shots off the 50-foot lakeside bluff that borders his 20-acre estate, 10 miles west of here. Sickness and the complaints of water skiers have ended that.

The testimonial was the brainchild of Gordon Turnquist, a local real estate man, and Dr. Creighton Wagener, a Traverse City physician, who are friends and admirers of The Haig.

"Walter is getting on and we thought it would be a terrible thing to wonder after he is gone why we hadn't done this sort of thing," Turnquist said.

★ ★ ★

Among the great names in golf who attended were former PGA champs Johnny Revolta and Walter Burkemo.

Hagen was presented with a book containing regrets from former President Dwight Eisenower, the Duke of Windsor, who watched him play even before ascending the throne of England, Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, and dozens of others, who couldn't attend.

The sentiments of all were summed up best perhaps by Palmer when he said, "tonight might have been downstairs in the pro shop and not the ballroom if it hadn't been for Walter Hagen."

Bada Defends Crown in City

Golfers Can Register for Qualifying

Paul Bada will be trying to tighten his hold on the city golf championship in a couple of weeks at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

The 36-year-old Bada has won the title five times, and he's won it the last two times out, so he'll be gunning for a third straight in this year's event.

City course manager L. C. Barner is now taking registrations for the 18-hole qualifying round set for this Saturday, the prelude to the main event.

The leading scorers in the 18-hole round Saturday will join Bada and all former champions in the 36-hole finale Aug. 26 and 27.

Barner said golfers entering the tournament must fill out a registration form available at the course on Golf Drive. Golfer registering in advance will also receive prefered starting times.

USGA Ladies in Qualifying

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The second qualifying round for the USGA Women's Amateur Golf Championships gets under way today with Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash., in the lead.

Miss Conley, 20, a runner-up in the 1963 tourney, shot a 39-35—74 at the first qualifying round Monday-two-over-par on the 6,062-yard Annandale Golf Club.

Following her at 75 were two-time winner Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Martha Wilkinson, 18, of Fullerton, Calif., the intercollegiate champ, and Mrs. Claudin Cros Robin, former French and German champion, now from Caracas, Venezuela.

Joanne Gunderson Garner, 28, the defending champion from Seekonk, Mass., recorded 39-40—79 in qualifying.

Golf Champs Repeat

Pete Devany of Grosse Ile and Hunter McDonald of Oakland Hills, won the Grosse Ile Invitational golf title for the second straight time by defeating Glenn Johnson and Mason Brown, 3-2, yesterday.

Pontiac Softball Teams Advance in State Tourney

Three Pontiac teams advanced in the Michigan Softball Association district tournament last night.

Ron Roost's dumped Warren No. 2 by a 4-1 score in Class B and will meet Spencer Floors tonight at 8 at Beaudette Park. Town & Country toppled Warren, 4-1, in Class C at Waterford and plays Jameson Lumber of Holly tonight.

Jameson advanced with a 2-1 win over Day's Sanitary.

★ ★ ★

Midget Bar of Waterford moved up in Class D with a 9-2 decision over Holly Hotel and will play Pontiac Local 594 tonight at 8 at Northside. The union team dumped Berkley into the losers' bracket, 8-2.

Warren No. 2 and Holly Hotel play at 9:30 tonight at Northside.

In Slow Pitch playoff action last night, MGM-Shalea slipped past Sportsmen, 4-2, and The Press whipped Artco, 13-3.

Chalet plays Wagon Wheel in a winner's bracket game tonight at Beaudette at 6:45 and The Press takes on MGM at Northside at the same time with the loser dropping out of the playoff.

Al Howard pounded a two-run homer in the first inning to get Ron's Roost off to a fast start. Walt Travis scattered five hits to pitch the victory.

Roger Reynolds singled home a key run for Town & Country and also was the winning pitcher. Bob Reeves singled, went to third on a throwing error and scored the winning run on an infield hit for Day's.

★ ★ ★

A five-run third inning highlighted Midget Bar's win and Cy Green drilled three singles to lead Local 594.

The Press unleashed a 15-hit attack led by Dan Donnelly's double, triple and two singles and Sid Gregory's double and two singles. Bob Cheza's two-run triple in the last of the sixth gave MGM its margin of victory.

Bad Breaks Hit Angels' Pitcher

ANAHEIM (AP) — Anyone who doubts that George Brunet is an unlucky pitcher should consider what happened to the California Angels' veteran left-hander Monday night.

Brunet hard, Minnesota shut out on four hits, 1-0, with two out and none on in the eighth lning when weak-hitting Hank Izquierdo hit a routine grounder to shortstop.

★ ★ ★

Jim Fregosi fielded the ball and overthrew first for a two-base eror.

That brougrt up utility infielder Jackie Hernandez, who spent all last season with the Angels and collected one hit in 23 at bats. Hernandez rolled a grounder through the left side of the infield for a single.

REACHED SECOND

Uhlaender lobbed a fly ball into the opening and it ticked off Cardenal's glove for a game-wining double. The 2-1 loss was merely the latest in a series of frustrating defeats for Brunet (11-4). Of his last four loses, two were 1-0 decisions against Chicago and New York, while two others were 2-1 heartbreakers against Detroit and Minesota.

★ ★ ★

"I'm getting darned tired of losing like this," said Brunet, who has fought back heroically since June 4, when he was saddled with a 1-9 record.

"With any luck, I could have won 20 games this year."

The loss of the series opener against the league-leading Twins kept the Angels from moving within a half game of first place and it snapped their four-game winning streak. It was their first loss since last Tuesday night when the Yankees shaded Brunet, 1-0.

In Case of War

Russia Not Bound to Aid China

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union is not committed automatically to come to the assistance of Communist China if she is attacked and has no obligation to help Peking if it starts a war, qualified Communist diplomats said today.

But the Kremlin is keeping all options open.

The issue is assuming increasing importance in light of the latest American escalation of bombing of North Vietnam and of mounting speculation on possible Chinese intervention.

Peking has termed a "dead letter" a treaty of friendship and assistance under which Moscow is committed to assist Peking if China is attacked.

Moscow has maintained careful silence since the signing of the treaty at the height of Sino-Soviet friendship before the present feud.

Technically, it is still in effect.

In the days of the Sino-Soviet alliance in the early 1950s, the Kremlin repeatedly stressed its unequivocal readiness to stand by Communist China, militarily as well as politically.

As the feud between the two Communist giants developed and progressed, these assurances became rarer and finally disappeared completely.

Moscow did not officially renounce the treaty of assistance with China. But its diplomats in private contacts have hinted strongly that, in light of growing Moscow-Peking differences, it has lost its meaning and validity.

Peking was more explicit, stating that it no longer relies on Russian assistance and fully realizes it would stand alone in the event of conflict.
