Judge Tells Teamsters to Obey Reform Orders

Would Free Courthouse Funds

Suit Could Erase Deficit

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Some good could come if the Michigan Supreme Court rules against Oakland County in the lawsuit appeal tying up the proposed new courthouse.

"The county wouldn't get a new courthouse but the money in question could then be used to erase the deficit facing the county," declared Charles A. Sparks, county treasurer.

Sparks was examining county financial statements yesterday in an effort to find means to cut a forecast $1,500,000 deficit which one county official said was in the offing due to a mammoth social welfare load this year.

A county building fund of $1,653,188, most of which is now tied up in the courthouse suit before the Supreme Court, would be transferred back to the county's general fund should the high court upohld Harrisville Circuit Judge Herman C. Dehnke's decision.

The visiting judge said this fund, bolstered by $260,761 since the suit was filed by allotted millage and interest receipts, had been accumulated illegally by padding annual budgets and transferring surpluses to this fund.

Opinion from the Supreme Court is expected shortly.

Sparks, county treasurer since 1933, predicted "real financial trouble" for Oakland County should the high court reverse Judge Dehnke's ruling and should the welfare burden still mount into next year.

"The citizens will have the new courthouse," said the veteran county official, "but we will then have to sit down and devise methods to fight off a greater deficit."

One way, and one which undoubtedly would meet strong opposition from townships, schools and taxpayers, would be to put the $1.5 million overdraft in the 1960 budget and ask for a higher county tax rate to provide the money to erase the deficit.

Sparks cited another alternate, that of asking the people for a voted increase, which he said probably would also raise loud shouts of protest from many corners.

Move to Unsnarl 12-Town Drain Legal Tangle

Epidemic Danger Spurs Appeal to Top Court for Ruling on Code

Warned of the possibility of epidemics in southeastern Oakland County because of drainage problems, the state attorney general's office moved today to cut the legal entanglements of the Twelve-Town Storm Drain.

Joseph B. Bilitzke, deputy attorney general, said the State Supreme Court would be asked "to resolve all doubts in favor of the constitutionality of the drain code" because of imperative need to protect public health.

It was this question of constitutionality which led the cities of Troy and Southfield, the townships of Southfield and Royal Oak, and the village of Westwood to appeal Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland's ruling of last year.

In a lengthy opinion, Judge Holland ruled that special legislation creating the $44,500,000 Twelve Town project was constitutional. The five areas claim, in their appeals, that the proposed assessment plans are not consitutional.

Bilitzke said a motion would be filed sometime today in the name of Attorney General Paul L. Adams asking that the state become an intervenor and appellee in the appeals of Judge Holland's ruling.

The motion "simply urges the court to eliminate all technical and legal questions which are not necessarily involved," besides asking that the constitutionality of the drain code be upheld.

Action by the state came after Donald M. Pierce, state sanitary engineer, warned of the danger of serious health hazards if Oakland and other counties continued to grow without adequate sewage facilities.

"The whole situation is like a time bomb that hasn't gone off—and no one knows just when it will," said Pierce. "It could go off anytime. When it does, we'll have tremendous epidemics."

Union Is Barred From Holding 2nd Convention

Complaints by Monitors on Lack of Good Faith Upheld by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal district judge today ordered the Teamsters Union to comply with reform orders of court-appointed monitors.

The union was barred from holding a second scheduled convention next March.

U.S. Dist. Judge Dickinson Letts upheld complaints of a two-man majority of the three monitors that the union under President James R. Hoffa had failed to comply in good faith with reform recommendations.

Judge Letts, noting that the monitors are officers of the court and subject to the court's supervision, said they have all powers reasonably necessary to bring about a cleanup of the union.

"The Teamsters are obliged to comply with such orders of recommendation and in good faith cooperate with the monitors," he said.

Letts, an 83-year-old former Republican congressman from Iowa, rejected a contention that the role of the monitors is merely advisory.

"The court does not subscribe to the view that the duties and privileges of the monitors are merely advisory," he said.

Letts said in his 12-page memorandum opinion that the Teamsters, without the knowledge and consent or approval of the court-appointed monitors had issued a call for a convention in the early part of March 1959.

He ordered Hoffa and the Teamsters to cancel all plans for the scheduled special convention — a session Hoffa frankly arranged to seek to end the monitorship.

EXPANDS POWERS

The judge further expanded powers of the monitors so that their approval must be secured before a new convention can be held. A convention date was also made subject to approval by the court.

Another federal district judge, James C. Connell of Cleveland, ruled only last week that the monitors' powers are purely advisory and that under a consent order signed last January by Letts, Hoffa could do as he pleased subject to the Teamsters Union constitution.

Connell's ruling is being appealed.

The issues in the case before Letts go back to the Teamsters' 1957 convention at which Hoffa was elected president to succeed Dave Beck Sr.

Beck and Hoffa both had been named in testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee that large sums of union funds had been mishandled.

A group of New York area rank-and-file Teamsters members brought suit here seeking to block Hoffa from taking over the union presidency on grounds he and Beck had rigged the election of delegates to insure Hoffa's victory.

SUIT COMPROMISED

That suit was compromised, with an agreement that Hoffa and other newly elected union officers could take over provisionally with the monitors named to police a union cleanup.

Martin F. O'Donoghue, a lawyer who helped defend the Teamsters in early stages of the case, eventually became chief monitor.

After eight months of trying out the novel monitor arrangement, O'Donoghue and Godfrey P. Schmidt, another of the monitors filed complaints with Letts contending that Hoffa was giving them the runaround and ignoring their suggestions for reforms Schmidt was chief attorney for the original rank-and-file plaintiffs.

The third monitor, L. N. D. (Nat) Wells, is a Teamsters attorney and has regularly dissented from policies of O'Donoghue and Schmidt.

Meanwhile, in Miami Beach, Fla. the Teamsters Union plans to start an organization drive early next year among the na-

Mental Health Men Move to Gain Contagious Hospital

By PETE LOCHBILER

Oakland County mental health officials today renewed efforts to gain the county contagious hospital as an emergency care center.

Members of the county chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health were circulating resolutions to local governments in hopes they would be adopted and forwarded to the Board of Supervisors, which controls future use of the unoccupied hospital.

"We are not lobbying, but want to show the supervisors that people throughout the county want the contagious hospital used for mental health purposes," said Elmer E. Hartwig, chairman of yesterday's annual public officials luncheon of the chapter at Devon Gables.

Need for more mental health facilities in the county was outlined by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore. Statewise, the problem was described by William H. Kelly, assistant director of the Department of Mental Health.

Dr. James G. Miller detailed the activities of the new Mental Health Research Institute at University Hospital in Ann Arbor. He is the director.

The society wants to turn the contagious hospital into an 80-bed psychiatric center for diagnosis and short-term treatment at an estimated per-patient cost of $13 to $15 a day, or an annual cost to the county of about $250,000.

Kelly said there are 900 mentally retarded children throughout the state waiting to get into a state institution. In addition, there

Romeo Chief Is Victim of Auto Theft

Somebody stole the Romeo police chief's car in Detroit last night.

Police Chief Edgar Welsch and his wife were Christmas shopping and had parked their car in a lot across from the Michigan Theater on Bagley street. When they returned at about 8:50 p.m. their car was gone.

Welsch said the keys had been left in the car and the attendant didn't know it had been driven away before the couple returned to the lot.

They called a relative who lives in Detroit. He drove them back to Romeo.

School Enrollment Reaches Record High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Census Bureau reports school enrollment rose to an all-time high of 42,900,000 this autumn.

The bureau said that brings the increase to nearly nine million in the last five years. The October enrollment total was 1,700,000 higher than in October 1957.

Elementary grades passed the 30 million mark for the first time. High school enrollment hit 9,482,000 and the number of persons attending college, graduate or professional schools was estimated at 3,242,000.

$100 Million in Red Forecast for State

LANSING (AP) — A legislative fiscal expert last night forecast Michigan will plunge 100 million dollars into the red by June 30, underscoring the growing gravity of the state's financial plight.

The prediction came from Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), house taxation chairman. He said only a "sudden and sharp reversal" of tax collection trends would change the picture materially.

★ ★ ★

A few hours earlier another top-level authority on state finances warned that within a few months teachers in public secondary schools and colleges and state employes may face payless paydays.

★ ★ ★

From another source came word that the state school aid installment due next Monday will again be paid at only 75 per cent of the formula amount, putting the state 28 million dollars in arrears to local school districts since July 1.

Local school districts already have resorted to short term borrowings of more than 50 million dollars to keep operating. Some face an exhaustion of credit.

6 in Ohio Family Burn to Death

Ironton Area Man, Wife, Four Small Children Die in Flash Blaze

IRONTON, Ohio (UPI) — Six members of a family burned to death today when an oil cook stove apparently exploded in their small three-room frame home near here.

The victims were Elmer Littlejohn, 29, his wife, Betty, 25, and their four children, Gary, 7, Gail, 5, Dorothy, 3, and another son about three months old.

Lawrence County Deputy Gene Smith said the alarm was turned in by Mrs. Nellie Blankship, a school teacher, who lived across Ohio 141 from the Littlejohn house 14 miles northeast of Ironton. She said she saw flames spurting from the small bungalow when she arose to go to work.

Smith said when he and Chief Deputy John Drake arrived at the house it had collapsed in a blazing inferno. He said it appeared that all were asleep in one bedroom when the blaze broke out. The bodies were found close together.

Smith said no fire equipment was sent. He said the Lawrence County Sheriff's Office does not have fire equipment, but it would have been of no use since flames engulfed the house before the alarm was received.

City Shivers as Cold Hangs On for 7th Day

TODAY'S TEMPERATURES

2 a.m.	7	10 a.m.	11
4 a.m.	9	Noon	13
6 a.m.	9	1 p.m.	15

Pontiac shivered today through its seventh straight day of below normal temperatures and the Weather Bureau said the end is not yet in sight.

The possibility of zero temperatures was predicted again for tonight, although last night the mercury managed to stay 7 to 9 points above the zero mark.

For those with chilly feet there was some consolation—in Pellston it was 7 below this morning. Sault Ste. Marie and Kinross Air Base were 5 below and Escanaba 3 below.

In Flint, 34 miles northwest of Pontiac, the mercury dived to 1 below.

The Weather Bureau said this has been the coldest December since 1945, with temperatures averaging 10 to 15 degrees below normal. Winter is still 10 days away officially, and the cold wave is expected to usher it in without abating.

It may warm up to about 20 degrees today, with some snow—but no more than one or two inches at the most in the Pontiac area.

Northwest winds should average 10-15 miles an hour tonight, but if they become heavier the mercury will drop further.

There will be snow flurries tonight and tomorrow, the Weather Bureau says, with tonight's low ranging from zero to 8 degrees and tomorrow's high reaching 18.

One death was attributed to the weather yesterday. A 75-year-old Harper Woods resident, Robert Coy, collapsed while shoveling snow.

Late season shipping was continuing in the upper Great Lakes, despite a giant ice field in the St. Marys River below the Sault locks.

Coast Guard cutters managed to keep shipping lanes open in the St. Marys River and in western Lake Erie, which is also ice clogged.

Nine southbound ships cleared the locks yesterday, another 18 are expected today and about 20 other ships left in Lake Superior are racing to clear the locks before they close at midnight Monday.

Earthquake Jolts San Francisco

50-Mile Area Shaken but Damages Minor, No One Injured

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An earthquake jolted San Francisco and an area in a radius of up to 50 miles early today, but damage appeared to be minor. Broken dishes and a cracked wall or two, were reported, but no injuries.

The jolt hit at 1:52:33 a.m., and triggered a flood of calls from startled residents to newspapers and police and radio stations.

It was a fairly strong shake and probably centered southwest of Daly City, a southern suburb of San Francisco, said Dr. Don Tocher, University of California seismologist.

★ ★ ★

Buildings shook for several seconds in downtown San Francisco, with the rolling motion of the quake.

Tape Recordings Bombing Clues

Indicate 2 Ex-Cultists Set Off Blast to Bring Leader 'to Justice'

CHATSWORTH, Calif. (AP)—Tape recordings discovered near the dynamited wreckage of the Fountain of the World monastery point to two former cult members as the bombers, police say.

Nine persons, possibly 10, were killed in Wednesday's earth-jarring explosion. The two dynamiters are believed to have shared the fate of their victims.

Detectives said the blast apparently was touched off by Ralph Muller, 33, and Peter Kamenoff, 42, both of Joshua Tree, Calif.

Tape recordings made by the pair the night before the dynamiting indicate they were angry at the leader of the cult, Krishna Venta, and wanted to "bring him to justice," officers said.

The tapes, an hourlong recital of grievances against Krishna and the cult, also were described as farewell messages and detectives believe the men deliberately blew themselves up.

Venta, a barefooted, self-styled mystic, five of his flock and two children were killed in the explosion. One and perhaps two other bodies have also been recovered. The violent explosion and the fire that followed made identification nearly impossible.

Muller and Kamenoff were seen in an argumnt with Venta about an hour before the blast. Details of the quarrel were not known.

The tape recordings were found in Muller's pickup truck, parked near the cult's 29-acre colony in Box Canyon, about 30 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

She Recovers Everything but Ability to Shop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intent on Christmas shopping, Mrs. Dorothy Moore and her son Dale, 8, stepped from a bus.

Then she realized she had left her purse—with $90—on board.

She raced after the bus, caught it and retrieved her money.

Then she remembered her son, left eight blocks behind. Back she hurried. When she reached him, he was window shopping.

"I was so glad to see him I was no good after that," said Mrs. Moore.

"We just took the next bus home."

Pontiac Not City of Sin -- Eastman

By MAX E. SIMON

"Pontiac is not a sin city," Public Safety Director George D. Eastman said last night.

"I never said it, implied it, nor do the facts warrant such a charge," he declared.

★ ★ ★

Eastman's comment came in a speech before the Pontiac B'nai B'rith lodge at Temple Beth Jacob. It was the first time the public safety director has addressed a city organization since coming here two months ago.

Newspapers have given the impression that the vice situation is worse than it actually is, Eastman said.

"I admit that I've made a mistake in handling the situation. I provided a chance for a subordinate officer's report to be quoted.

"I should have given the facts out in my words, basing my statements on the findings of those under me."

★ ★ ★

Eastman Nov. 27 released a report by Detective Richard G. Evans, head of the vice squad, in which Evans called the Pontiac vice situation "deplorable."

The report also said gamblers, prostitutes and dope peddlers are operating on a wide-open basis.

There is too much vice in Pontiac presently, Eastman said, but much of it can be stamped out quickly.

He said that prostitution and illegal liquor sales in the city are not being run by any syndicate, and that rigid enforcement policies would put a halt to these actvities shortly.

Calling Pontiac "extremely sensitive" to bad publicity, Eastman said:

"Unfortunately, there will be more of that in the next four to eight months. But the police force is being rejuvenated. In about six months, the progress we've Having Trouble Choosing Present for Aunt Matilda?

By JANET ODELL

Aunt Matilda is still with us this year and the Shopping Snooper has hunted all over town for appropriate gifts for her.

If she reads mystery novels in bed every night, give her a book-light that goes off automatically when she falls asleep and drops the book. She might like book plates for her cherished volumes, too.

We're sure Aunt Matilda appreciates beautiful craftsmanship. That's why we think she'd like a handwoven shawl from Berea's Churchill weavers. It would look handsome on her Victorian loveseat.

Should your purse be flatter than usual, give dear Auntie a tall lamppost candle. It's most attractive and just as inexpensive.

Many Aunt Matildas are glamor girls at heart. They would love a set of gold mesh purse accessories or similar sets in black mesh. A tiny needlepoint chair that is a pincushion also would appeal.

Or send Aunt Matilda a big box of flowers. And put in one of the new long narrow needle holders for her to use in arranging them.

For her holiday entertaining, wrap up a pair of tiny silver sugar tongs or a large plastic punch ladle. Italian dishes made in the shape of flowers would be perfect for her to serve candy to all guests.

★ ★ ★

If money is no problem, choose a pair of earrings carved from genuine crystal or some of the breathtaking colored stone jewelry available in one store.

But do remember Aunt Matilda.

ROBERT S. NELSON

Manufacturers Pick President

Robert S. Nelson Is Pontiac Association's Choice for 1959

Robert S. Nelson, general manager of Universal Oil Seal Co., last night was elected 1959 president of the Pontiac Manufacturers' Association.

Nelson has been acting president since the resignation this fall of E. R. Pettengill, former director of coordination, manufacturing and distribution at Pontiac Motor Division. Pettengill was transferred to New York City.

The board of directors also elected Russell L. Norris, comptroller of Pontiac Motor Division, as vice president, and Thomas Mair, office manager of Jig Bushing Co., as treasurer.

James F. Spence was re-elected secretary-manager.

The association, holding its annual meeting at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club, elected three new members to two-year terms on the board of directors: Goodloe H. Rogers, president of American Forging and Socket Co.; Paul J. Ziegelbaur, vice president of Pontiac Varnish Co.; and Buel E. Starr, general manufacturing manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Still on the board for another year are Nelson, Norris and Earl A. Maxwell, personnel manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Nelson appointed a five-member finance committee, comprised of Mair as chairman; Norris; Thomas F. Weithorn, resident manager of Fisher Body Division; Frank Arnoldi, secretary-treasurer of Pontiac Varnish Co.; and M. D. McLintock, president of Baldwin Rubber Co.

Suit Against County Could Erase Deficit

Sparks was asked if the fiscal picture of the county is as gloomy as some officials paint it? "It's going to be bad in the coming year," he answered.

He said he was at a loss for a sure means to pull the county out of this financial quandary.

The rapid growth of the county and the demand for more services were some of the reasons Sparks cited as putting Oakland County in its critical financial situation.

The official said 57 per cent of the county's 1959 budget of $12,285,723 is "give-away" money from which the county can expect nothing in return.

"Makes you quiver sometimes wondering where the ceiling is going to be," Sparks said.

Although the Legislature has granted no building funds for mental health in the past two years, he said, there will be a need for 4,000 beds in Michigan in six years.

The Ann Arbor institute needs a state budget of $500,000 a year if research is to continue, Dr. Miller said.

Although the program is supported mainly through federal funds, $600,000 in matching state money must be forthcoming in order to complete construction of a headquarters building, he said. Allocated state funds will only carry construction through February, according to Dr. Miller.

Operating in makeshift quarters, the institute is probing causes of mental illness, with its studies ranging from isolated brain cells to social activities of mentally ill persons.

Dr. Miller was optimistic that continued financial support would be available.

County legislators attending the luncheon were Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson and Representatives-elect Arthur J. Law, John Hitchcock and William Hayward.

"I believe all Americans save the right to representation," said Hoffa.

Hoffa would not estimate the length of the drive among government workers. He said there is "tremendous opposition from politicians."

Henry Feinstein, president of New York's Teamster Local 237, said some 3,000 New York City policemen have signed checkoff cards and one policeman will present a card to the Police Department next week as a test case.

POSES QUESTION

Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy posed a couple of rhetorical questions for New Yorkers:

"Do they ((the people of New York) want to turn the police department over to Jimmy Hoffa?

"Are the people of New York City aware that those in the Police Department who seek a so-called grievance machinery are wittingly or unwittingly playing into the hands of Jimmy Hoffa and his ilk?"

"As far as I am concerned our mandate comes from the people and not from any labor boss or any weak immitation of one," Kennedy said.

Put Policemen at Busy Corner; Replace 'Voice'

The voice blaring instructions from a loudspeaker will not be directing holiday pedestrians at the intersection of Saginaw and Huron streets this year.

Instead, extra police officers will be on duty at busy downtown corners to assist pedestrians and direct traffic, according to Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

At the peak of the holidays, as many as four men will be stationed at the Huron-Saginaw intersection. Approximately 10 officers will work extra hours, Eastman said, but will not receive overtime pay.

Additional officers will also be posted at the Saginaw-Lawrence intersection.

Eastman said that the loudspeaker was abandoned this year because many citizens complained of its monotony.

Waterford Boy of 3 Sets $7,500 Blaze

A fire causing $7,500 damage in Waterford Township yesterday was started by a 3-year-old child playing with a cigarette lighter, according to Waterford Township firemen.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Moshere at 1053 Sarena St., burned for more than two hours before 25 firemen from three stations could bring the blaze under control.

Mrs. Moshere told firemen she and two of her three children were in the living room when her son took her lighter from her purse and went into a bedroom.

Clothes in the closet caught fire and the blaze quickly spread through the frame building as Mrs. Moshere rushed the three children outside.

Union Lake firemen assisted the Waterford department.

Eastman said two numbers rings still operate in Pontiac.

Both will be put out of business soon, he promised.

When the crackdown comes, Eastman said, the officers will concentrate on capturing ringleaders of the operations.

"I'm the first to admit that we made mistakes last Friday," Eastman said. "We have already held a staff meeting to correct our errors so they don't happen again."

The police administrator was referring to last Friday's raids in which police smashed an alleged $2,250,000 numbers ring and arrested more than 50 persons.

NO ENCOURAGEMENT

Asked why the police force did not actively suppress vice before his coming, Eastman said:

"The men were not encouraged to deal aggressively with the problem."

Of his relationship with Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, Eastman commented: "It's awkward."

He declined to discuss Straley's future in the department. "I'm not prepared to do so at this time," he said.

Requests for Applications, Information Flood MSUO

Michigan State University Oakland's opening is still nine months away, but requests for applications and information about the new school continue to pour in each day.

"We are getting mail inquiries not only from the Oakland-Macomb area, but from other Michigan cities as well," reports Roy J. Alexander, MSUO director of student affairs.

More than 20,000 of the new MSUO brochures have been distributed to interested students and parents in 38 Michigan cities, Alexander estimates.

★ ★ ★

"We have also answered inquiries from California, Florida, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, South Carolina and Texas," he adds.

To better acquaint students, teachers and administrators with the merits of MSUO, Alexander is now visiting public high school officials in Oakland and Macomb counties.

Information brochures and applications are being left with high school counselors for student use.

MSUO will open in the fall of 1959 for a freshman class only.

"Sister" school to Michigan State University with its own administration and faculty, the college will offer four-year undergraduate programs in engineering science, teacher education, business administration and liberal arts.

That was the policy announced today by Municipal Judges Cecil McCallum and Maurice E. Finnegan as they warned drinkers not to get behind the wheel of their cars.

Declaring they've always been tough on intoxicated motorists, the judges promised even stiffer penalties during the next 30 days.

The judges also rapped hosts who allow persons drinking at their parties to find their way home on their own.

★ ★ ★

"They're as much to blame for an accident as the drunk driver," the judges said. Party-givers should make sure their guests are transported home safely, the magistrates said.

Seeking Court Ruling on Drain Case

cilities has been the southern part of Oakland County.

Today's action by Adams might find a solution here in that the Supreme Court might possibly eliminate appeals of the five areas blocking the huge drain project.

The state had entered into the lower court lawsuit in Oakland Circuit Court at the request of the State Health Department.

The suit was started in 1956 by Troy and Southfield Townships, but not tried until the following year.

The Day in Birmingham

New Ski Club Formed by 25 Charter Members

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Ski Club formally adopted its constitution last night with about 25 charter members.

The first trip will be planned for sometime next month.

Jerry Monod and Henry Gleisner, professional skiers associated with local ski shops, will instruct the group and assist in plans.

The entire project is under the sponsorship of the Birmingham Recreation Board. Membership will be limited to adults living in the Birmingham school district.

Another meeting for ratification of the constitution and to receive new members will be held at the Community House at 8 p.m. next Wednesday.

Forestry Department crews have Shain Park ready for its role in the holidays.

The "Don Egbert Tree" has been decorated with lights for the first time, recalling the old tree removed last summer from the center of the park. This year will also see a newly purchased Nativity scene erected in the park.

On Christmas Eve, under the sponsorship of the Birmingham Musicale and its junior groups, a community sing will be held at 5:30 p.m. in Shain Park. William Spence will again lead the singing and a brass ensemble from the high school will play.

Mrs. O. R. Peters, 756 S. Adams Rd., is taking reservations tomorrow for the Christmas luncheon and party of the Past Matrons' Club of Birmingham, Chapter 220 OES. The party will be held Dec. 16 at 12:30 p.m. at Mrs. Peters' home. Gifts will be exchanged.

It's one-way traffic again on Martin street, between Bates and Chester streets. Signs were erected yesterday permitting only westbound traffic on the block occupied by the Post Office. The restrictions will continue through the Christmas mailing period.

Acts on Wildlife Area

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne Board of Supervisors is going ahead with plans for a $1,445,000 wildlife preserve in Nankin Township provided for in the will of a Wyandotte farmer. Arthur J. Richardson, the donor, who died in 1938, stipulated that his estate go to the county upon the death of the last of 17 friends and relatives who were beneficiaries. The last one died in 1956.

Construction Soars

DETROIT (AP) — Future construction contracts for the month of October were 59 per cent greater than for October last year, F. W. Dodge Corp. said Wednesday. Dodge, construction news and marketing specialists, said the total was more than $160,000,000.

U.S. Rubber Awarded Million Dollar Contract

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Air Force today announced the awarding of almost 26 million dollars worth of contracts.

Among them was one to U. S. Rubber Co., Detroit, for $1,768,564 to make tubeless tires for B52 bombers.

Burns Up Over Africa

Saw Moon Rocket Die

FORT LAMY, French Equatorial Africa (UPI)—A Frenchman and an African believe they saw the end of the U. S. moon missile Pioneer III.

It burst like a Christmas star over this remote jungle outpost Sunday night.

Pierre Stoeckel, 33, Air France representative here, said it was 7:55 p. m. (2:55 p. m. EST) when he and the African, also employed at the airfield, saw the flames.

Stoeckel said he had been alerted to watch for the possible end of the Army's first moon rocket which was returning to earth after soaring 66,000 miles in one more attempt by man to reach the moon and beyond.

★ ★ ★

"We were scanning the wide open sky—it seems immense here in Africa—when suddenly we saw an intensely bright white ball followed by a white luminous trail," he said.

"It was about 60 degrees to the left of the main runway of the airport and about 30 degrees above the horizon line.

"It was a marvelous sight, like a new star appearing in the sky, and both of us were breathless.

★ ★ ★

"The colors changed from white to yellow and then from yellow to orange.

"Suddenly, it was over, and the new star had finished its race and died out about 50 degrees to the right of the runway.

"The whole show lasted no more than three seconds."

★ ★ ★

Stoeckel said the disintegration was northeast of Fort Lamy and must have occurred over the treeless plain, with only wild animals to watch it.

Total area of the earth contains more than 197 million square miles.

British Labor Minister Successful Statesman

IAIN MACLEOD, Britain's Minister of Labor and National Service in the Conservative Government has been an interesting guest in this country.

The 46 year old cabinet member, a wounded war veteran, cricket player and bridge expert, is a dynamic Conservative with a flexible approach to current problems. Last year when Britain was threatened with crippling shutdowns of shipyards and railroads, Mr. MACLEOD won praise from both sides for his impartiality.

In obtaining settlements more in keeping with increased productivity, he is credited with helping the Macmillan government keep down the cost of living. Wage disputes were treated as economic questions, not political problems.

★ ★ ★

Touching on Communism in an interview Mr. MACLEOD gave a down to earth illustration of Russia's strategy in world affairs when he compared it to a thief who goes down a hotel corridor trying every door hoping to find one unlocked. "And when the bear finds a room open and unprotected and gets a foot inside . . . well . . ." Looking back it is easy to visualize KRUSHCHEV trying the doors of the Middle East, Formosa and now Berlin to see if the free world has left them unlocked.

★ ★ ★

The Cabinet Minister has been meeting and interviewing leaders of both labor and industry as well as Government officials. It is safe to say that this able and articulate young man will take back to the British and their government a more complete and sympathetic understanding of the United States.

Someone Was Bound to Try It Sometime

Recently things became a little boring for the boys at the Naval Academy and what happened? Up popped "cadette." In no uncertain terms this slight departure from the norm really shook up our Navy Department.

★ ★ ★

Girls have been spirited aboard ships in the United States Navy, but never has such an engaging event been recorded at the Naval Academy at Annapolis. That is, until last week.

All hands were silent as to how this was accomplished, but it was agreed she had help. The Academy would only say that the brigade commander and two other brigade officers had been demoted.

★ ★ ★

In Baltimore, the girl's mother said she was confined to quarters for the holiday weekend. This sprightly young (17-year-old) high school senior proved once again that you cannot compel "off limits" on the dis-staff side of our race.

You may try, but it will not stick.

Positive U.S. Action Could Worry Reds

Chairman ERIC JOHNSTON of the Committee for International Economic Growth says he is tired of all the talk about stopping Communism. It's time, he says, to do something to make Communists worry about stopping us.

Through proper conduct of our aid programs he believes a lot of uncommitted nations could be kept away from Communism and put on the road to freedom and independence. Perhaps the most important thing for us to do, the chairman says, is to show the world that we believe in and live up to our ideals.

Speaking on the same theme TURNER CATLEDGE, managing editor of the New York Times, points out that fear and dubious slogans are no guide for proper relations with other peoples. We must act positively and constructively and clear our minds of negative thinking.

To make our talk about democracy, freedom and justice effective we must show that they mean something in the United States. We must practice what we preach and be willing to apply to others the rights we hold dear for ourselves.

★ ★ ★

We rightly blame Communists for most of the troubles in the world today. But perhaps we devote too much of our energy on denunciation and retaliatory moves and not enough on positive action.

Let's take the initiative and put the Reds on the defensive.

"What Kind of Fuel Are THEY Using?"

David Lawrence Says:

Judge Rules Against Georgia Union

WASHINGTON — Compulsory membership in a labor union where dues and other fees are used, without the consent of union members, to aid in the election of public officials is a violation of the Constitution of the United States according to a decree formally issued this week by a superior court in the state of Georgia.

LAWRENCE

Judge O. L. Long, after presiding at a trial involving 9 railroads and 15 unions, issued his written opinion on Dec. 8. He writes:

"Said exaction and use of money and said union shop agreements and their enforcement are contrary to the Constitution, the law and public policy of this state, and are contrary to the statutes or laws of other states in which the defendant railroads operate.

"Said exaction and use of money, said union shop agreements and Section 2 (11th) of the Railway Labor Act and their enforcement violate the United States Constitution which in the First, Fifth, Ninth and Tenth Amendments thereto guarantees to individuals protection from such unwarranted invasion of their personal and property rights—including freedom of association, freedom of thought, freedom of speech, freedom of press, freedom to work and their political freedom and rights—under the cloak of federal authority . . .

"The labor union defendants, by their commingling of funds used for collective bargaining purposes and activities and those used for the complained of purposes and activities set forth above have made it impossible to segregate the amount of dues collected from plaintiffs and the class they represent which are and will be used for collective bargaining purposes from those which are and will be used for the complained of purposes and activities set forth above."

The court further decreed that the unions should pay back to the employes the dues they had paid under protest and under threat of loss of their jobs.

The facts in the case were "stipulated" in advance by both sides, so there is no question but that money collected in some manner from union members has been used for political purposes.

The issue of whether this violated the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, which prohibits labor unions and corporations from contributing to political campaigns for the election of federal officials, was not involved in the case.

The court merely said it could not differentiate between the sums collected for strictly union purposes and those "exacted from the plaintiffs" for political campaigns and came to the conclusion that the consent of the contributors had not been obtained.

One way out for the unions, of course, is to segregate their funds in such a way that union dues are not used for political purposes and only voluntary contributions are employed in campaigns.

Basically, it is questionable whether the Federal Corrupt Practices laws are constitutional, for they interfere with the right of a citizen or group of citizens to express political views through contributions.

The Georgia case does not concern the right to contribute voluntarily but only the forced contribution and the penalty imposed—loss of a job unless union requirements are fulfilled.

The Country Parson

"Never explain your behavior to others—behave so you don't need to."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Expect New Climate to Cure Your Rheumatism

One of the most highly prized books in my library is a comparatively late (sixth) edition of Osler's Practice of Medicine, published in 1906.

In it Dr. Osler really harped on his favorite etiology — exposure to cold and damp. Everything from diarrhea to pneumonia, from rheumatic fever to arthritis deformans, from acute nephritis to laryngitis, everything except malarial fever and hydrophobia.

DR. BRADY

Thus the pre-eminent medical authority of his day — or of ours, for that matter — established the cold and dampness hokum as standard medical practice, and it serves the doctor today as well as it did the doctor of old, when he really doesn't know what ails the patient.

As nearly as I can determine, medical authorities today recognize three types of chronic joint disability, namely chronic "arthritis," rheumatoid "arthritis" (sometimes called arthritis deformans) and osteoarthritis.

★ ★ ★

Osler recognized only arthritis deformans (rheumatoid arthritis) and chronic rheumatism. He ascribed both to exposure to cold, wet and damp. Unfortunately he made chronic rheumatism unpopular with snobs when he said it is "most common among the poor, particularly washer-women, day-laborers and those" (others) "whose occupation exposes them to cold and damp."

Everyone who felt a cut above washer-women and day-laborers changed doctors, if his old doctor didn't learn to call the trouble "arthritis."

What I have to say about it is in Volumette XII of the Pocket Cyclopedia — titled "Chronic Joint Disability," for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope. But before you squander the money, let me warn you that, in my pathology, exposure to cold, wet, damp, bad weather, changeable weather or this or that climate has nothing whatever to do with chronic joint disability.

There's no question but that exposure to cold gives one partially disabled by degeneration of joint tissues more discomfort that it gives a normal person. That's the only cogent reason why one with rheumatiz should move to a milder climate.

Yah, cried a Chicago reader, it's easy for you to preach such stuff, living as you do in Southern California . . . Well, now, I wish my Chicago reader would come with me to the bowling green and listen for a while to the complaints of the inhabitants. In that respect, things are bad all over.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Asks Tax Date Extension, Support for Lower Taxes

I've been wondering for some years about the interest which our City gets from overdue taxes. What is it used for? We taxpayers have been hard hit this year, but the City of Pontiac is right on the job — "pay up or give me more." In Avon Township we can't extend payment of taxes as in the past without paying interest.

★ ★ ★

Now that State fellow tells us we're in trouble and need more money, so he wants a state income tax. As I understand it, the luxury tax was needed in World War II but was to be done away with as soon as the war was over.

★ ★ ★

If taxpayers let them get away with it, you're in for higher taxes and more interest. It's nice to have money to go ahead with the many things our State wants and needs, but remember, if you need a coat or your child needs something like milk, and you don't have the money, they tell you to save for it. I suggest the City of Pontiac and Avon Township give taxpayers a chance to extend tax time now and in future hard time years. To the State of Michigan, we say save your money of today for future use.

Fed Up

Back Deliverymen in Milk Controversy

In regards to the milk strike, let's not be too hasty to judge. Isn't there enough unemployment in Michigan without big business trying to take over the milk business and throwing thousands more out of work?

★ ★ ★

Without competition the chain stores will put milk up and up. They get a large rebate from creameries, while small stores suffer. The spiteful letters in this paper only spell ignorance of the whole situation. It goes deeper than milk prices and salaries and unions.

★ ★ ★

Let those who know settle it without small talk from housewives. Even the farmers have had to strike. Buy your milk where you please but don't condemn the milkmen, because they have absolutely nothing to do with setting prices.

M.T.

These articles I've read in The Press are disgusting. You people should look into the trouble, not just on the surface.

This wasn't brought on to take blood from anyone. They didn't strike to take milk from your children. They don't care what price milk is, as long as there isn't a big differential in the price between home delivery and the store price. The milkmen would be satisfied with a two cents difference, so don't blame your milkman.

And store managers shouldn't use such as essential item as milk as a drawing card. If you drive the milkman off the streets, you'll be at the mercy of the stores, which will charge any price they see fit. Then they won't use milk as a drawing card.

'Union of Schools May Be Solution'

It would seem to me that if the South desires to hold on to the tradition of segregated schools, the best and most simple way would be to form a union of schools and vote to see if they would have open or closed "shops." Kinda seems to me it's six of one and half a dozen of the other, the way the North and South differ on the Civil Rights of a state.

Says 'Finlandia' Is Not a Masterpiece

I don't know what source your music critic derives his authority, but I feel compelled to question his description of Sibelius' tonepoem, "Finlandia," as a masterpiece.

★ ★ ★

Most high school bandsmen are infinitely bored with this trite piece of music after two playings, and all major orchestras ignore it as a matter of course.

★ ★ ★

Jean Sibelius has shown a certain talent in some of his work, but by no stretch of even Mr. Walrod's imagination can Sibelius be termed "one of the greatest musical giants of this century."

Tells Animal Lover to Call Society

In answer to Animal Lover's letter, if you know of such a person who would treat an animal that way and is going to let it happen again, all you have to do is call the Humane Society (FE 5-9290) and they will give you a number to call and report it. The Society will come out in any kind of weather to prevent cruelty to animals.

Has Suggestions for School Safety

The Chicago school fire should be of utmost concern to all of us. It seems credulous that such a holocaust should take place here in the 20th century. With over 90 lives lost, some drastic action should take place in and adjacent to our schools.

I suggest the following: Rigid enforcement of the no-smoking rule on school property, closing of all doors in passageways at all times, burning of papers, etc., by authorized personnel only, frequent checks of all fire equipment, escapes and places where fire could start easily, fire drills more frequently, and immediate installation of sprinkling systems in all houses of learning.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells Couples to Enter Contests

Nora realized that her marriage was in a dangerous condition. So she used the "prize contesting" remedy. And it worked like a charm. Scrapbook her interesting comments and be sure to send for the booklet below. You don't need a college education or even a typewriter to win big contest prizes.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-388: Nora S., aged 38, offers us a very exciting personal case.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, my husband and I were growing stodgy and beginning to get on each other's nerves," she began.

DR. CRANE

"It was largely due to the fact our homelife had degenerated into a boresome routine. We had no mutual hobbies of an exciting sort.

"Then I happened to read your column a year ago when I was visiting my parents.

"You suggested prize contesting as a dandy hobby for married couples, as well as invalids and men in the Veterans Hospitals.

"I clipped out your column and stuck it in my purse. As I was going home on the train, I re-read the column en route.

★ ★ ★

"It so happened that I had bought a magazine to help while away my time on the trip and two prize contests were announced in that very issue.

"Well, I tore those pages out of the magazine so I'd have the coupons to use.

"When I reached home, I started to work on a 2-line jingle. My husband said I was just wasting my time.

"But first prize was a choice of $25,000 cash or an interest in a producing oil well, and he had always had a desire to have an oil well.

"So he began to grow interested. And before the week was over, we were composing so many riming jingles you'd have thought we were budding poets.

★ ★ ★

"All we had to do to qualify, was send in a soap wrapper with each entry, so the cost was negligible. And it was a good soap that we used, anyway, so we just bought a dozen bars and employed the wrapper to qualify 12 entries.

CONTESTING IS CONTAGIOUS

"Since it was to be 3 months before the final winners were announced, we decided to try some other contests, just to kill time.

"We hardly expected to rate the top prize, but it was fun shooting at it. And there were many other cash prizes ranging from $1,000 down to $10.

"To make my story brief, we won $100 and a $10 price in that contest. Our appetites were whetted and we kept on.

"It might interest your readers to know that in the past 9 months, my husband and I have won $2,375 in cash, plus dozens of merchandise prizes, ranging from towels and bath mats to cases of fruit or canned goods.

"But far better than the money, has been the great fun my husband and I now have as we settle down each night to our mutual hobby.

"And it keeps us so keyed up to see what the postman may bring us tomorrow, that we don't even like to go away for a vacation.

"Tell your readers contesting is a wonderful hobby for binding a husband and wife together."

CULTURAL HOBBIES

Prize contesting is just one of many cultural hobbies which you can find which will educate your brain while it helps fill your purse.

Thomas Collins, a talented Chicago newspaper man, has written a dandy book on the "Golden Years," and urges everybody to plan ahead to the time when he may retire at 65.

For you millions of folks on Social Security, contesting is ideal. And it is just as valuable to young married couples and invalids.

★ ★ ★

It is zestful, remunerative and mentally stimulating. And you don't need a college education or a typewriter to win. Clever ideas are what count the most.

So send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit).

It contains a section on prize contesting. Nora and her husband used it to help win their prizes.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Admits Killing Vice Crusader

Convict Says He Shot Phenix City Cleanup Leader in Robbery Try

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A Virginia convict has confessed to the 1954 slaying of vice crusader Albert Patterson, Gov. James E. Folsom's office said Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

"There appears to be a degree of truthfulnss" in the signed statement of Calvin W. Pruitt, 28, who said he shot the attorney general-elect in a robbery attempt while a debt-ridden soldier stationed at Fort Benning, the governor said.

★ ★ ★

Folsom said he asked Atty. Gen. John Patterson to join in an investigation of the confession concerning the murder outside his father's Phenix City law office the night of June 18, 1954.

The Patterson slaying sparked the Phenix City vice cleanup which he had promised in winning the Democratic nomination for attorney general shortly before.

John Patterson was sent into the attorney general's office in his father's place and was elected governor this year. He takes office in January.

★ ★ ★

He was unavailable for comment.

Former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller of Phenix City was convicted in the Patterson murder and is serving a life term.

Of the two others charged, former Solicitor Arch Ferrell was acquitted and ex-Atty. Gen. Si Garrett never stood trial. Garrett underwent a year of mental treatments in a Texas hospital after the killing.

★ ★ ★

Pruitt, a native of Hayeville, Ala., is serving Virginia sentences of 30 and 20 years. He was convicted last May of robbing two service stations.

Bureau Winds Up Convention

Farm Platform Due

By OVID A. MARTIN

BOSTON (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation prepared to wind up its annual meeting today with adoption of a platform placing it on what is regarded to be the conservative side of most major issues facing the nation.

* * *

The big farm group's four-day convention, which drew upwards of 5,000 visitors, featured speakers who put themselves in such a political and economic category.

It roundly applauded U.S. Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, conservative Arizona Republican, when he characterized the farm bureau as the most active defender of the free enterprise system in the country.

* * *

The platform, as drafted by a members from each of the 48 states, called for strong legislation to curb powers of organized labor, for sharp reductions in federal spending, and for laws to re-establish powers of the states which, it said, have been usurped by the federal government.

* * *

The resolutions voiced opposition to federal aid to education and to expansion of the federal highway system. It insisted upon a balanced federal budget.

In the area of farming, the platform — tentatively approved by the voting delegates late Wednesday — called for a virtual withdrawal of the government from control of agriculture as soon as present surpluses can be disposed of. The government itself was blamed for the oversupplies.

* * *

Perhaps significant was the fact that at no time during the first three days of the convention was a speaker or delegate heard to criticize Secretary of Agriculture Benson and his policies. Benson has been a target of congressmen who classify themselves as liberals.

Hostess With Mostest on Parties for Pets!

NEW YORK (AP)—Mary Simpson, who is known as "the Elsa Maxwell of the pet world," has an odd professional ambition. She wants to throw a beach party for horses.

"A beach is an ideal place for such a party," she explained. "Horses love the surf, but most of them rarely get to visit a beach."

Throwing parties for animals is now a career for this pretty, blue-eyed blonde.

* * *

Miss Simpson, an employe of the Hess Bros. department store in Allentown, Pa., is the world's only pet party consultant — at least as far as she knows.

But Mary, a college graduate who majored in Far Eastern history, doesn't think of her job as odd. She has loved animals all her life, enjoys catering to them.

"People have been throwing parties for their pets for some time," she said, "but it has been on a rather haphazard basis.

* * *

"People enjoy doing special things for their pets on special occasions — such as their birthdays. But many don't know how to make a party come off."

Miss Simpson does. If possible, she likes to go over the animal guest list in advance — just as a professional Washington social hostess might.

"Animals don't differ much from human beings at a party," she observed. "They catch the air of excitement. They have their showoffs and their wallflowers. You have to be sure the guests will get along.

* * *

"So far I haven't supervised a party where we mixed canaries, parakeets and cats and dogs. But we've had a number of cat and dog mixed parties that came off very well."

"The fact a dog chases a cat outside the home has no bearing on how they will get along at a party. After they get to know each other, they behave very well. Cats and monkeys also get along well at parties," she said.

Jealousy arises only when the guest pet of honor gets all the presents—or when two dogs want to show off at the same time.

* * *

"As at a children's party," cautioned Miss Simpson, "it is important that all the guests receive a favor. And it is better if the favors are identical. This keeps down envy."

Naturally, the pets put on their best attire for a party. Here Miss Simpson feels owners often err. They often dress their pet to please themselves rather than the animal.

"A boxer looks just right in a light green flannel car coat," she said. "But a sport jacket wouldn't do at all for a fashion-conscious poodle. He needs something simply elegant—such as a black leather collar with pearls — that doesn't detract from his own looks."

* * *

The doggy sport jackets cost a few bucks each. The pearl-trimmed collars are $29. Also available are such winter luxuries as a set of our fur-lined canine galoshes at $5.95, or imported mink jackets at $100.

Pets like to play games at parties just like people. Their favorite games, Mary said, are "bone scramble" and "hide the meatball."

What should you give a pet as a birthday party present?

* * *

"The best present for a bird is another bird," said Miss Simpson. "The best way to surprise a cat or dog is to get it another toy like the very first one it ever had. It will remember—and be pleased.

"You can also get it a copy of some object it likes around the house but has been forbidden to play with — such as a slipper, lady's hat, rubber, or braided rug. But it is essential that you first use the object yourself, so that the pet will associate it with you. Otherwise he won't care for it."

People are so interested today in seeing their pets are happy that Mary feels comfortable sure her new specialty will develop into a personal gold mine.

"After all," she pointed out, smiling, "even the supermarkets now sell more dog food than baby food."

GIFT OF TIME — Luring mother out of the house long enough to install new automatic dishwasher is Santa's job. Meanwhile, back in the kitchen a 30-inch undercounter model is being set in place. Oak panels such as on this General Electric model add warmth to kitchen decor.

Egypt on Big Road Job

CAIRO — Egypt is starting its biggest road-construction job, a four-year, $67,000,000 undertaking. Included in the improvements are the Cairo-Aswan highway and the road between Port Said and Mansura.

Young man feels grownup with a fine wool flannel robe. Lightweight, solid color with tasteful piping.

Crack Down on Yule Trees

State Fire Laws Will Be Strictly Enforced This Year, Says Metz

Strict enforcement of state fire laws pertaining to Christmas trees was promised today by Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz.

* * *

"In the past few years," Metz said, "we've let the spirit of Christmas guide us where we discovered minor violations.

"But after what happened in Chicago, we're going to crack down. Minor violators will be punished."

In schools and public buildings — including hotels, theaters and shops — Christmas trees cannot be set up earlier than 10 days prior to the holiday, Metz pointed out.

* * *

Trees in schools must be dismantled 24 hours after the start of the holiday vacation, according to state law.

Metz also warned that all trees must be treated with flame-proofing material and kept in water. Trees must be so located so as not to block any exits.

In schools, no trees are permitted in halls or corridors, and only small trees are allowed in classrooms. These must be put against windows as far as possible from exits.

All electric lights must have the underwriter's label on them.

When extension cords are used, care must be taken so that they are not put down where persons might walk on them.

Legislator to Push National Lottery Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Paul A. Fino (R-NY) announced he would re-introduce in the new Congress his bill to have the government conduct a lottery to raise money for the government.

Previous congresses have ignored his proposal. The treasury has opposed it as undignified.

Fino issued a statement urging all taxpayers who favor the idea to "write their Congressmen and demand support of this painless and voluntary revenue raising measure."

He said a national lottery would bring more than 10 billion dollars a year into government coffers. The money could be used to grant income tax cuts to the nation's "hard-pressed taxpayers" and to start paying off the national debt, he said.

Combine grain threshers which move north with the U.S. grain harvests follow much the same route of the famous Chisholm trail in the early days of cattle thief outlaw gangs.

2 Ex-Presidents Later Became Congressmen

NEW YORK (AP)—Two former presidents of the United States served in Congress after leaving the presidency.

They were John Quincy Adams, who spent eight terms in the House of Representatives; and Andrew Johnson, who was elected to the Senate but died after brief service.

Another president, John Tyler, sat in the Provisional Confederate Congress and became a member of the Confederate House but died before it met.

★ ★ ★

President William Howard Taft became chief justice of the United States, following his presidency and former President Herbert Hoover has held a number of appointive posts under both Democratic and Republican administrations.

While a few birds have become extinct and many others have dwindled in numbers since the discovery of America, some varieties have greatly increased.

Just Ask Audubon Society

Strictly for the Birds

By MEL OPOTOWSKY

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I had a starling that I raised. It used to fly against the window. I think it was trying to commit suicide, don't you?"

"Does the roadrunner eat the weed huaco, the sure cure remedy for snakebite, or does the bird corral the rattlesnake with spines of cholla cactus, causing it to worry itself literally to death?"

"Is there a bird fancier's club interested in training birds to sing or whistle certain tunes?"

★ ★ ★

These are the sort of questions that Andrew Bihun of the National Audubon Society receives — and tries to answer — every working day. They come from Arizona (roadrunner query), Michigan (fancier's club), New York (starling), in fact, from all over the nation. They show that not all the bats are in the belfry. Some seem to be buzzing around inside people's heads.

"We've been asked for solkwork eggs, passenger pigeons and rattlesnake fangs," Bihun said. "One man suggested we soak oats in alcohol to help catch pigeons in the city and then release them in the country.

"A woman called one time to say she was driving with her husband when she saw a large bird, a bird that looked like a plane," Bihun related. "She said it had a wingspread of 25 feet and was headed toward the airport."

Bihun concluded it was a plane and told her not to worry.

The Audubon Society of Canada told Bihun it had sent its magazine to a small backwoods school, and after asking whether the magazine was wanted regularly, received this reply:

"We have had a very unfortunate year so far and have been unable to spare the time for extra teaching and reading. Since our teacher has been murdered we have been unable to secure a permanent one. Then our school burned in September and we were without a school until October. Although we have been unable to make use of your book so far, we would certainly appreciate receiving them."

One case involved a New York woman who lived in an apartment with 16 parakeets, 6 canaries, 6 iguanas and 2 java birds.

She complained that her suitor refused to marry her because "he got full of bugs and black crawling things" every time he went to visit her.

Bihun advised the woman that the birds may have had lice or mites, and that she should spray them. But the woman protested that she could not get at the birds because they were free in a large room.

"Then she said that I had her all mixed up," Bihun said. "Now she didn't know whether to marry the man or not. She didn't like the things he said about her beautiful little apartment being buggy. She wanted to know what I would do."

★ ★ ★

But the most puzzling letter came addressed to "Nashunal Audobon Society," it said;

"Dear Friend: I don't know why I'm writing this letter but maybe you can help me to remember what I got this address for. I wrote it down for some reason or other and I have forgotten what for, so I'm just writing. I must have wanted something."

Estrogen Found in '33

NEW YORK — Estrogen, the basic female sex hormone, was discovered only 25 years ago. It is now known to be not one, but actually six hormones, each having a different effect on uterine growth.

France Keeps Schools

PARIS — About 6,600,000 children attended elementary schools in France during the 1957-58 year, 957,500 were in secondary schools, and 180,000 in colleges and universities. France is spending $1,280,000,000 a year on education — more than 10 per cent of the national budget.

Spending for New Factories and Equipment Expected to Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Business spending for new factories and equipment will increase slightly in the first quarter of 1959 but will still be below the 1957 levels, the government reported today.

It also revised earlier estimates of 1958 total spending downward. Business spending is now expected to total $30,527,000,000 in 1958, or 17 per cent below the historic high of 1957.

First-quarter 1959 spending for new plants, machines, mills and other production equipment was anticipated to rise slightly to an annual rate of $30,510,000,000, up about 58 million dollars from the expected fourth-quarter rate.

Economists keep a close watch on plant and equipment spending trends because these outlays are considered "high powered dollars," money that might not otherwise enter the spending stream.

The sharp break from the 1957 pace figured heavily as a cause of the recession and the rise in unemployment earlier in the year.

★ ★ ★

While the outlook from January to March 1959 did not suggest capital spending would give the economy much added lift, it did lend weight to forecasts of price stability for the coming months.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday's report was issued jointly by the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The agencies survey business spending plans on a sample basis.

★ ★ ★

Their report, noting the downward revision of earlier plant and equipment spending projections, commented that underfulfillment of initial spending plans has characterized the investment picture all year. But the agencies said they have improved statistical techniques, which may help compensate for this.

The report said that the expected January-March 1959 rate, if realized, would be nearly a billion dollars above the recession low of last summer, but some 7 billion dollars below the 1957 peak.

It also showed that railroads made the biggest slash, on a percentage basis, in 1958 expansion spending. They cut back 46 per cent from 1957 outlays, compared to 31 per cent for durable goods makers and 26 per cent for mining firms.

Public utilities, construction and commercial firms cut back the least.

★ ★ ★

The report estmates 1958 outlays by manufacturing firms at $11,500,000,000, off 28 per cent from 1957. An additional drop of 4 per cent was expected for the first three months of 1959.

★ ★ ★

Mining and railroad firms' spending was also foreseen as dipping further but some other major groups were expected to increase their spending. Planned purchases of jetliners accounted for most of a projected 15 per cent hike in the non-rail transportation group.

★ ★ ★

For all non-manufacturing lines, plant and equipment spending was estimated at a rate of $19,400,000,000 in the first quarter of 1959 compared to $18,800,000,000 in the third quarter of 1958.

Invite Teenagers to Come Over for Decoration Party

If you have teenage friends or teenagers in your family let them entertain their friends with a Christmas decoration party.

★ ★ ★

Provide them with a large table and plenty of materials such as red oilcloth, pasteboard boxes, Christmas balls, candles, glue, scissors, wrapping paper and the like.

Invite them to come up with any sort of Christmas decoration or arrangement they can think of. You may be surprised how well they do.

★ ★ ★

Have on hand red apples, bottled soft drinks, Christmas cookies and candy. Then leave them alone.

Burt to Lose Job on Welfare Board

George H. Burt, for 19 years the state appointee on the Oakland County Social Welfare Board, will not be appointed to another term, The Pontiac Press learned yesterday.

W. J. Maxey, director of the State Social Welfare Dept., said Burt would not be reappointed as part of a state policy to make all state appointees on county welfare boards "policy making members instead of working members."

At the same time it was learned that the Oakland County Democratic Committee has endorsed Howard M. Arnold, a pipefitter with Pontiac Motor Division from Royal Oak, as Burt's successor on the board.

Burt, 69, of 69 Monroe St., was first appointed by the state Dec. 1, 1939. A Democrat, he has been serving as director once that time.

Maxey said the Social Welfare Commssion will meet Dec. 19 to possibly discuss Burt's successor. He said he had not heard any recommendation that Arnold be considered.

Although he said the move "doesn't set too well with the entire county official family," Burt said he didn't believe he was being politically maneuvered out of a position.

He said he hoped that the three-member Oakland board would rename him as director, a preference Maxey said led the state department to move for a new face on the board in the light of their state policy.

Maxey said only Oakland and Sanilac counties had state appointees on their social welfare boards who were fulltime working members of the county welfare departments besides.

Other members of the Oakland board are John A. Mac Donald, chairman, and Thomas J. Leonard, secretary.

Burt served as vice chairman. His state term on the board expired Oct. 31, Maxey said.

MacDonald and Leonard were appointed by the Board of Supervisors.

'Please Ship Snow'

TWINBRIDGES, Calif. (UPI)—Two winter resort owners today telegraphed the mayor of snowbound Oswego, N.Y., for help: "Hey, save some of that snow for California," said the telegram signed by innkeepers Ken Cotton and Bill Di Cristina. "Ski resorts bare—worst snow drought in 100 years. Advise if you can ship snow and how much."

10 Offer to Help Handicapped

Ten men volunteered to serve as directors to organize a shelter-workshop for handicapped adults in the county, at an organizational meeting last night.

The group, which met at the Moose Lodge, 350 Mt. Clemens St., set 1 p.m. Jan. 7 at the Waldron Hotel, as the time and place for its next meeting. Named temporary chairman was Dr. Harold Bussie.

★ ★ ★

Volunteering to serve on the board were Ralph E. Cummins, assistant district supervisor of the Michigan Office of Vocational Rehabilitation; Verne L. Haskin, woodshop instructor of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium; and R. C. Jewell, veteran's employment representative of the Pontiac office of the Michigan State Employment Security Commission.

★ ★ ★

Others were Norman D. Dunn, public relations representative of Pontiac Motor Division; John Baxter of 571 Third Ave.; Louis K. Smartt of 72 Parkdale St.; Donald Diller of 68 Hilldale Dr., and Larry Payne of radio station WPON.

This group and the Pontiac Mayor's Committee on Rehabilitation will be asked to serve on the board when the group meets in January.

Goldfine Case Postponed Until Dec. 19

WASHINGTON (AP) — The arraignment of Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine on an 18-count contempt of Congress indictment was formally postponed today until Dec. 19. It had been scheduled for Friday but informal agreement had been reached earlier to put it off.

The delay was asked by defense counsel and granted by U.S. Dist. Judge John J. Sirica.

Board to Let Bid for School Stage

Building contracts for the Square Lake School and Bagley School stage will be awarded when the Pontiac Board of Education meets at 7:30 tonight in the board office at 40 Patterson St.

★ ★ ★

The board also will receive the completed preliminary brochure for the addition to Washington Junior High and will decide whether to authorize the Detroit architectural firm of Eberle M. Smith Associaties, Inc., to proceed with detailed drawings.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the Board will receive a report on the financial status of the school system, which will be presented to all interested community groups.

Strike Slashes Chrysler Output

Dodge Main, Ex-Cell-O Walkouts Idling More Than 36,000 Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Spreading effects of a strike at a key parts plant here today cut into Chrysler Corp.'s car production across the nation.

The Chrysler dispute, coupled with a long strike at Ex-Cell-O Corp. plants in two states idled over 36,000 workers.

Almost half Chrysler's national operation was down with 31,140 United Auto Workers members off the job in 19 plants. Another 5,000 UAW workers at Ex-Cell-O were idle for an eighth week in Michigan and Ohio plants.

The production standards dispute at Chrysler's Dodge Main installation in Detroit cut the company's auto assembly line operations to a trickle. The only passenger car coming off the line was the luxury model Imperial produced here.

The Dodge Main strike, which Chrysler says can idle 50,000 if it continues, involves 7,100 workers.

Man Found Guilty

Felix Garcia, 49, of 74 E. Cornell St., was found guilty of drunk driving yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and fined $100.

'We Got Married'

Bridges Wins Fight to Wed Nisei Girl

RENO, Nev. (AP) — "We got married," said Harry Bridges. And that seemed to cap the hectic two days in which he went to court and successfully challenged Nevada's 94-year-old statute banning weddings between Orientals and Caucasians.

The 58-year-old west Coast Longshore leader and 35-year-old Noriko Sawada, a Nisei, were honeymooning today after convincing a Nevada district judge that the statute is unconstitutional. It was patterned after a California law dating back to the gold rush days. The California law was declared unconstitutional in 1948.

★ ★ ★

Said Judge Taylor Wines, "Marriage isn't a privilege. It is a right of a free and equal individual." And he ordered the county clerk to issue a license.

"To my wife, who had a rough go getting here," said Bridges after the private marriage ceremoney performed by Justice William Beemer. It was a champagne toast. The wine was provided free by Bridges' hotel host.

Their romantic trip came to an abrupt and embarrassing interlude Tuesday when they learned—to their surprise and obvious discomfort—of the old Nevada statute.

★ ★ ★

Three times Bridges and Miss Sawada were denied a marriage license. After the second turndown the Australian born labor leader announced he would fight the law. Then he went to the hotel where he had registered himself and Miss Sawada as "Mr. and Mrs. H. Bridges" and reregistered his fiancee under her maiden name. They took separate rooms.

Newsmen and photographers, who had kept close tabs on the couple for two days, were barred from Justice Beemer's chambers.

★ ★ ★

Bridges, harried on this elopement to his third marriage, told the cameramen: "No this is private. It's my marriage and my last one, I might add, because I'd never live through another like that."

He emerged smiling, lipstick-smeared and congenial and poured champagne while photographers took pictures.

That contrasted with his wrist-wringing over Tuesday's legal merry-go-round.

Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehouseman's Union, said:

1958 DOLLS FASHION, FAMILY MINDED — This is the year of wandering waistlines in the doll, as well as adult, fashion world. These new dolls (left) model a variety of silhouettes. Emphasis this year also is on the family. Mother doll (right) takes daughter and baby for a stroll.

Just Like Paris

Waistlines Wander Even in Toyland

Dolls will be dressed in the height of current fashion this Christmas season.

★ ★ ★

Fascinated by the possibilities of the wandering waistline, doll couturiers have produced the widest variations in miniature fashions toyland has ever witnessed.

This fascination of doll designers should push fashion awareness among young America to a new high.

The fashionable teenage doll may have an all-out Empire wardrobe with high rising waistline and graceful back drapes. Or she may be smartly turned out in knee belted chemises or free swinging trapeze styles.

Figure emphasizing silhouettes with the waistline where nature intended it have elegant representation, too, according to the Toy Guidance Council. Doll skirts are generally knee revealing and the pointed - toe, elaborately - strapped shoe is favored for the older doll.

★ ★ ★

Accessories follow the trend. Festoons of beads to compliment chemiserie, fur and velvet headache bands for coiffures, thin chemise hand bags and arm loads of charm bracelets are prominent in new doll wardrobes.

Even the popular darker shades in stockings are in evidence in the doll fashion parade.

The development of synthetic furs has been a bonanza for the elegantly outfitted doll. Mink-like stoles jackets and three-quarter length coats are practical for everyday doll wear.

The 1958 world of dolls puts new emphasis on the family. New features include a trio of dolls, representing mother, school-age daughter and a babe in arms — all fashionably attired.

Doll families with baby, toddler, kindergartner, and teenager will provide a broad span of wardrobe interest for the make-believe mother.

Speaking of the make-believe mom — the little girl who is getting the dolls — she will get a short course in motherhood with her new dolls.

★ ★ ★

Some dolls are accompanied with instructions on the advantages of anti-colic nipples and pinless diapers.

Doll baby hygiene follows the latest precepts of pediatricians. Baby-doll's safety gets special consideration for car travel with a folding bed that latches on to the car seat.

Tip-proof, draft-proof doll carriages assure safe promenading.

Iowa Governor Wants to See Farm, Not Paris

PARIS (UPI) — Gov. Herschel Loveless of Iowa said he wants to get away from Paris for a while and visit the countryside to find out what French farms are like.

★ ★ ★

Loveless said on his first night in Paris that his feet hurt from a shopping spree here with his wife, Amelia, yesterday, and added:

"Tomorrow, if the weather is reasonable, we will try to take a sight-seeing tour. Before we leave, I hope to make a trip outside the city to ge an idea of what French farms are like.

"The main thing is to get this shopping business over with."

The Democratic governor said his wife "bought a lot of Christmas presents and also a coat for herself that set me back quite a lot." He described it as a cloth coat with a "fur gizmo" at the collar.

Loveless and his wife arrived here after a swing through Israel and Italy.

"I was in Israel as a guest of its government," the governor said. "The Jewish people of Iowa have given hundreds of thousands of dollars for reforestation work in Israel. They have planted a whole new forest there and have named it after me—which of course makes me very proud."

He said a Bedouin chief in Beersheba wanted to give him a camel as a gift and "I had to explain I would have trouble taking it home with me."

Gov. and Mrs. Loveless are planning to fly to London today and leave for home Sunday morning aboard a Pan American Boeing jet.

"Say, where do you go for a cup of coffee in this town?" he asked. "I will not be sorry to get back to my office in Des Moines, either, back where the coffee break is a national tradition."

Research Centers Aid Plans of French Farms

PARIS—To help raise the productive level of French agriculture, regional research centers have been set up and technical experts sent into the countryside.

Since the war 530 Centers of Technical Agricultural Studies have been organized, each with a membership of 15 to 20 farmers who meet regularly to study and discuss their common problems. If they need help, they call in an expert.

Plan Uranium Plant in Western Sweden

STOCKHOLM—A large uranium extraction plant will be built at Ranstad in the western Swedish province of Vastergotland.

★ ★ ★

It will use the shale deposits of Mount Billingen. From 900,000 tons of shale to be quarried annually, 120 tons of uranium will be taken. The factory is scheduled for completion in 1962. Sweden already has one such plant, at Kvartorp, in the central province of Narke. In 1957 it produced 10 tons of uranium.

Don't Overdo Them

Christmas Decorations Should Have Personality

Home decorations with personality give guests something to talk about and the house a distinctive air. But a key to effective decorating, even with so many ornaments to use at Christmas, is not to overdo it.

All it takes for individual decorations is a way with a sewing machine, and a little time.

Some suggested items to sew this season are appliques, family-sized stockings, mobiles, a giant Santa or a wall hanging for cards.

Martha Blair, director of a national sewing institute, suggests that if you aren't an artist, buy applique patterns of Santa, reindeer, snowmen and angels.

Cut the figure desired from felt or pellon scraps and decorate them with embroidery. Then zigzag stitch or paste them to living room draperies or lamp shades.

A different santa is made from a giant five-pointed star cut from one yard of red felt. Two points will be Santa's arms, two his legs, and the other his head.

Sew black bits to points for boots and gloves, and a black strip across Santa's middle for a belt. Satin-stitch eyes, nose and mouth on Santa's head and paste or sew a cotton ball to his hat. Fashion a beard for his face and hang him above a fireplace or on a wall in a child's room.

Rebuff for Reuther

2 Miami Beach Meetings Scheduled by AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two AFL-CIO departments will conduct winter meetings in Miami Beach, Fla., next month in an apparent rebuff to United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther vigorously oposes holding labor conclaves in the Florida resort city. However, leaders of the former AFL made a habit of going there every February.

The UAW chief recently made an issue of Miami Beach in the AFL-CIO executive council and the 29-member group switched its winter meeting to San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Reuther would have preferred meeting in Washington. But George Meany, AFL-CIO president, rallied the labor leaders under the San Juan banner.

* * *

Meantime, executive councils of the building trades and metal trades departments, fearing that Reuther would succeed in having the AFL-CIO council meet here, voted to go to Miami anyway.

Leaders of Reuther's industrial union department, consisting mainly of the old CIO unions, are in Washington for their winter gathering.

The department's councils usually hold their meetings in the same city as the AFL-CIO leadership since many union officials are members of more than one group.

Reuther and his supporters contend there are too many diversions —golf courses, swimming pools and racetracks—to conduct a successful session in Miami.

They also believe that it is bad public relations for the labor movement to have its policy-makers enjoying the sun while dues-payers shiver in wintry weather elsewhere.

Avoid Monotony There

WHEAT RIDGE, Colo. (UP)—The county commissioners voted to name a street in this Denver suburb in honor of an early settler named Bolsom. Street signs along the thoroughfare are spelled variously Balsam, Balsom and Bolsam. But no Bolsoms.

Ice Still Thin on Local Lakes

Sheriff Irons Warns: Oakland Water Bodies Are Slow to Freeze

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons today warned residents to stay off area lakes until they have had time to freeze over solidly.

Deputies have reported seeing both children and adults fishing or playing on several ice-covered county lakes in the past week or so.

"This is an extremely critical time of the year," said Irons. "By midwinter, with cold weather the lakes should be safe, but too many people jump the gun in mid-December.

* * *

"Any good fisherman knows that most of the Oakland County lakes are spring fed, and spring fed lakes are the slowest to freeze over."

Irons pointed out that, from scattered reports, the cold temperatures thus far have resulted in only about 2½ inches of ice on most lakes.

"This is not enough for a lake to be considered safe," Irons said. "We are urging all parents to keep their children off area lakes until they are safe to walk on."

The minimum ice thickness safe for walking is three inches, but for ice fishing the thickness should be five or six inches, the sheriff said.

Burglar Plot Backfires

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Police said burglars set fire to the Better Brands Co. office to cover up the fact there had been a break. The fire brought firemen, who called police, who discovered the break immediately.

Big Wine Cellar Is Being Blasted Out of Mountain

STOCKHOLM—A huge wine cellar is being blasted out of a mountain's solid granite bedrock on the outskirts of Stockholm for the Swedish Liquor Monopoly. When completed in 1959 at a cost of about $4,000,000 it will be capable of storing 24,000,000 quarts of wine.

Offices and reception rooms, all underground, will be included. The wine will be imported in tankers—which will tie up at a nearby pier—and be pumped into plastic-lined concrete cisterns deep in the mountain.

Uncovered Bones Belonged to Indians

ROMEO — In a report received yesterday by Romeo State Police from their crime detection laboratory in Lansing, the bones of skeletons unearthed in a Washington Township gravel pit Nov. 24 were found to be "undoubtedly from an old Indian burial mound."

* * *

These bones, found by Elmer Alward of Washington Township were those of four different persons and apparently had been buried for several decades, the police report said.

"There was a male Indian skull accompanied by arm and leg bones of a person about five feet, four inches in height. There was also a female Indian skull and bones of a person about four feet, eight inches tall.

"There was also part of a pelvis and bones of a female child about two or three years of age and some bones of an infant probably about a year old who was decidedly bow-legged and suffered from rickets," according to the report.

Park to Help Caracas

CARACAS—A new national park, the fourth, has been established in Venezuela. Its exact area has not been determined, but it will include a large watershed in Miranda State. While other national parks have been created for their scenic beauty or recreational possibilities, the chief purpose of Guatopo Forest National Park is to conserve a dependable water supply for the capital, Caracas.

He Plays Santa All Year Long

Marian Dowers Busy Bringing Season's Joy to Children 'Alone'

CINCINNATI (AP) — To Marion Frank Dowers, 68, every day is Christmas Day, and his only regret is that he cannot make it so for everyone. For this humble man, who "never had any money or wanted any," has done much for the youngsters here, although his health is poor and he is able to work only three days a week.

★ ★ ★

It was not enough for him to expend his energies on his 26 grandchildren, so 12 years ago he started a campaign to bring Santa Claus to children in institutions and elsewhere. Not only has he given Christmas parties at the usual time of the year, but he has promoted them in the summer time.

"Parties such as these given at Christmas time should be continued throughout the year," Dowers says. 'that's why I collect money, toys, candy, food and other things for parties at other times."

A widower with six children, Dower began his work by collecting spools. He dyed or painted them, put them on strings and sent them to Children's Hospital.

★ ★ ★

"Then I expanded," he recalls. "I began soliciting contributions for a Christmas party. I asked for cast-off toys; I asked factories for materials they did not want; I appealed to prominent businessmen to help—and they did.

"I got, and still get, ends of materials which are sent to the orphan home, where they are made into good looking skirts for the girls. Shoe leather, pillows, socks, musical recordings, dishes, dish pans, toasters, irons, overalls and even bedspreads come my way and are sent to institutions."

Dowers also brought about free admission to the Cincinnati Zoo for children in institutions, and campaigned for the same thing at theaters.

CHRISTMAS THE YEAR AROUND — The man in the Santa suit is Marion Frank Dowers of Cincinnati, whose hobby is bringing happiness to underprivileged youngsters. Dowers pursues his hobby not only at Christmas, but the year round.

Revolt Against Reds Rumored in Tibet

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A revolt larger and more powerful than the Hungarian uprising is under way in Red China's southwestern territory of Tibet, a member of the Chinese Nationalist cabinet said today.

★ ★ ★

Li Yung-Hain, chairman of the Mongolian and Tibetan Affairs Commission, told Parliament that more than 300,000 Tibetans are in revolt. He said the Nationalists were in touch with the revolutionists and were supporting them but he did not specify how, or when the revolt began.

Chinese Communist troops invaded Tibet in 1950.

Travel Spending Rises

WASHINGTON—Americans spent more than 1.9 billion dollars on foreign travel during 1957, more than $100,000,000 above 1956. Such expenditures in 1950 totaled little more than a billion dollars.

Pope's List Varies From 260 to 263

ROME — Pope John XXIII is generally listed as the 262d pope, but whether this is his exact number is unknown. Some sources place the number between 260 and 263. Old documents have been lost through invasion, fire, and other hazards. The formative years of the Roman Catholic Church are especially shadowy.

For instance, it was discovered that Anacletus and Cletus, once listed as two popes, were names of the same person. There is some confusion about the names of some of the other early popes also.

There are other difficulties, too. Some lists do not include Stephen II, who died two days after his election in 752. Stephen was a layman who died before his ordination as a priest, and at that time the beginning of a pontificate dated from the ordinary day in the case of laymen elevated to pope.

A British manufacturer has come out with what it calls a "flip-flop" lifeboat. If capsized, it rights itself within 6 seconds.

Asks Court Reversal on GM Diesel Tax

DETROIT (AP) — Redford Township asked the State Supreme Court to set aside a state tax commission ruling which reduced the suburb's assessed valuation of a General Motors Corp. plant by $7,268,696.

The township accused the commission of error and preferential treatment. The plant is GM's Detroit Diesel.

★ ★ ★

Supervisor Richard E. Manning said other appeals would be filed against $1,661,204 in reductions granted Ford Motor Co., Detroit Edison Co., and Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Engineers' Costs Cut by Models

Plants on Small Scale Reproduce Conditions of Real Thing

CINCINNATI (AP) — Chemical engineers are learning how to build models these days — small pilot plants that do everything the biggest ones would do, but on a tiny scale.

It's all a matter of money, says John H. Walker of the Columbia-Southern Chemical Corp., Corpus Christi, Tex.

He said, "As equipment costs and construction costs go higher and higher and with competitive positions being drawn tighter, the need for developing and installing high efficiency low cost processes is evident."

Walker's comments came yesterday in an address prepared for the annual congress of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

He said the small experimental plant gives engineers the data needed to map out production on a large scale, in a method called "scale-up."

He said the type of pilot unit, its operations, the process and equipment used "all have a direct bearing on the competitive position of the company in manufacturing the chemical under consideration."

In another meeting, R. T. Mathews, Du Pont chemical engineer, said his colleagues had better look closely at cooling with air instead of water in their plants.

He said supplies of usable water are shrinking and its costs are climbing. The chemical industry, he said, uses about 24 per cent of water used by U.S. industry and about 82 per cent of this is used for cooling.

$232,400 Paid for Manuscripts by Book Dealer

LONDON (AP)—New York book dealer H. P. Kraus paid $232,400 for medieval manuscripts at Sotheby's auction rooms.

The auction of the collection of the late C. W. Dyson Perrins yielded almost a million dollars.

* * *

Kraus paid $109,200 for 12th century illuminated manuscripts of the Latin gospels. They were in Romanesque writing on 168 leaves of vellum, with initial letters in red, and the work decorated throughout in gold and silver.

* * *

Kraus paid $102,200 for a 13th century illuminated bestiary, written in France.

Kraus also paid $21,000 for a levtionary written in France in the 9th century.

Man Keeps Promise to Spend Year in Jail

MONROE, La. (UPI) — To prove he is a man of his word, D. O. Vines is going to spend a year behind bars.

Several weeks ago when Vines was in court on a drunk charge, he asked for leniency and promised Judge William M. Harper that if he should be apprehended again on that charge he would serve a year.

Yesterday Vines was back in court, charged with being drunk. "Are you a man or a mouse? Are you going to keep your word?"

The answer was yes, and the judge ordered Vines to serve 12 months, instead of the usual sentence of $20 or 25 days in jail.

Red Germans Abolish Branch of Parliament

BERLIN (AP) — The East German Parliament is abolishing its upper house, the Laenderkamer. The Communist Parliament's lower house, the Volkskammer, approved the abolition law Monday.

The law's preamble said recent ordinances providing for closer cooperation between Parliament and state and local authorities "had unified and centralized the mechanism of state organs in East Germany" and had made the upper house redundant.

British Unemployment Highest in Eleven Years

LONDON (UPI) — Britain last month had the highest unemployment total in 11 years.

The labor ministry said the number of jobless climbed to 536,000 in November, a 22,000 increase.

In November 1957, 1.5 per cent of the total labor force was unemployed, compared with 2.3 per cent last October.

About one-half the people of Formosa are farmers.

Hula Hoop Stabs Girl

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (UPI) — Joyce Cookson, 11, was stabbed by her hula hoop. A joint in her cane hoop parted when another girl bumped her and one end was driven deep into her thigh. Firemen cut off the hoop and the end was removed in a hospital.

Nine million tons of fill were dumped to form the 4,200-foot-long causeway across which automobiles and trains pass from Nova Scotia to Cape Breton Island.

SMALL COOKS shape mince meat tarts into trees, wreaths, bells or stars. Form pattern with quilted broiling foil, shape dough inside. Fill with meat, trim with hard sauce.

Mince Tarts Really Just 'Kid Stuff'

Little girls who like to cook will get a thrill by helping mother with the Christmas baking. With a little imagination and a roll of quilted foil, they can make individual mince tarts in a wide variety of shapes.

One package prepared pie mix, 1 9-oz. package condensed mince meat, 1½ cups crushed pineapple or 1½ cups raisins soaked in ¼ cup orange juice, 3 tablespoons sugar, broiling foil, prepared hard sauce.

Follow directions on package for making pie dough. From a roll of 14-inch quilted broiling foil, cut rectangular strips about 8x6 inches. Roll out enough dough for each tart until ¼-inch thick. Place on foil strips.

Cup foil and dough together into desired shape. Trim excess foil and dough. Make a standup edge of dough and foil about an inch wide to contain mince meat filling. Prick bottom of tart with fork to keep from blistering.

Bake in oven according to package directions. Cool the shell and remove foil. Break mince meat into small pieces in saucepan. Add water and place over heat. Stir until lumps are broken thoroughly. Boil briskly for one minute. Add sugar and crushed pineapple or raisins. Cool and pour into tart shells.

Congress Called by Red Hungary

'59 Meeting Will Be First Since '56 Revolt Against Russia

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary's Communist party is going to call its first full Party Congress since the 1956 revolt against the Soviet Union. It will be held in the second half of 1959.

More than 1,000 delegates are expected to attend, representing more than 400,000 members. The last Congress was held in 1954.

★ ★ ★

Plans for the Congress were announced by Party First Secretary Janos Kadar at a three-day meeting of the Central Committee which ended Sunday. Nepszabadsag, the party newspaper, reported on the meeting today.

The committee accepted the 1959 econoic plan and made decisions on farm policy. The decisions were not announced.

★ ★ ★

Agricultural matters have been causing some worry among Hungary's rulers. Leaders differ on how hard to push the collectivization of farms. This year's crop also was not up to expectations, largely due to unfavorable weather.

Many collectives broke up in the 1956 revolt. A start has been made on reorganizing them, but this has not gone too fast.

Market Debut Made by Space Age Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — Common stock of Thiokol Chemical Corp., a leading manumacturer of rocket and missile engines, made its debut on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday.

The first sale, 100 shares, traded at $97.50 a share, up $2.25 from yesterday's closing on the American Stock Exchange and an all time high.

Joseph W. Crosby, president of Thiokol, bought the first 100 shares.

The company's business has had a meteoric rise since World War II. Sales in 1948 totaled $1,139,662 — by 1957 they had jumped to $30,947,457. Thiokol earned $1,451,551 or $2.81 a share last year, compared with $52,371 or 17 cents a share in 1948.

There are about 1,203,794 shares of common stock outstanding following a two-for-one split in January.

Tops Housing Record

STOCKHOLM — Housing construction in Sweden set a new record last year with 64,000 units, 7,000 more than the average for the three previous years. But housing shortages in the larger cities are still critical.

Cotton Carnival Insures Rainfall

LAS CRUCES, N.M., (AP) — This Southwestern New Mexico town doesn't need to hire professional rainmakers, the Lions Club of the community takes care of the problem adequately.

★ ★ ★

An annual Cotton Carnival which the club holds to raise funds has been rained out the past three years. Even a change of dates hasn't helped.

Oddly enough the dates selected usually come during cotton picking season and the wet weather at this time of the year doesn't make the cotton farmer very happy.

STRICTLY FABULOUS—This is the look for holiday festivities this year. The luxurious greatcoat of Norwegian blue fox is equally effective for gala evenings or sportswear. The gown is a long, slinky sheath of black sequins, designed for drama after dark.

Key to Elegance

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Woman's Editor

It looks like the most brilliant holiday season in years, what with the new mood of elegance sweeping the country.

The ultra-casual look of the knee-length chemise and three yards of beads won't do for this year's Christmas festivities. Now women look like ladies once more.

The predominant silhouette for after-five fashions this winter is, of course, the graceful, high-waisted Empire line, reminiscent of Empress Josephine.

You'll be seeing full-length evening gowns of chiffon, velvet and soft silks cut on slender, floating lines, sashed or belted just beneath the bust, the skirt falling in soft folds, close to the body.

The slender sheath, embroidered all over in sequins or made of rich metallic brocade, floor length or ankle length, is the choice of women with good figures and a flair for drama.

In the short evening and dinner dress lineup there are a number of choices. Full skirts are available in several versions, the most important of which is the "bubble" silhouette, in which a balloon-shaped skirt makes a pouff below a fitted bodice, tapering in at the short hemline.

Often this effect is achieved by harem draping, and the harem hemline is seen again and again, worked in a variety of ways.

Many cocktail, dinner and evening gowns have long, tight sleeves this season, providing more dramatic contrast for the revealing necklines, which tend toward width rather than depth.

Fur coats, of course, go with elegant evening gowns, and the most sensational new arrivals in this gilt-edged family are the full-length coats of long-haired fox — Norwegian blue, silver, golden or white. They look as new as tomorrow's newspaper.

Are You 6 Ft. 6? Weigh 239 Lbs.? Join Air Force

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—There never has been an Air Force Academy cadet who stands 6-feet-6, weighs 239 pounds, and wears glasses. But there may be in the future.

The academy announced yesterday it is relaxing its physical standards for admission.

* * *

The academy has increased cadet height limits from 6-feet-4 to 6-feet-6, and weight from 226 pounds to 239 pounds.

Applicants also may be accepted with distant and near vision in both eyes of 20-50, correctible to 20-20 with moderate refractive error, and with minor defects of color vision. Failure to pass depth perception tests no longer will disqualify an applicant.

* * *

Applicants with histories of minor allergies or mild seasonal hay fever also will be acceptable as cadets.

The academy also eliminated a requirement that cadets have a sitting height of 38 inches or less. This was to allow pilot head clearance in air force planes.

Phone Network Ready If Enemy Hits U.S.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Frederick R. Kappel, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. says arrangements had been completed to bypass the 50 critical target areas so the nation's telephone network could still work in case of an enemy attack.

Kappel told a businessmen's luncheon recently that "under our present arrangement we can dial from New York to San Francisco without going through a single major city."

'Smokers Anonymous' Starts to Work Jan. 1

LONDON (UPI) — "Smokers Anonymous," a society patterned after Alcoholics Anonymous to help people stop smoking, will begin its work Jan. 1, it has been announced.

One society member, a London doctor whose name was withheld in accordance with the society's rule, said the group was being founded to fight cancer. He said it would accept only people who seriously want to stop smoking.

Baby Trout Carry Food

DENVER—Trout, like salmon, generally go upstream to spawn and their eggs hatch in six weeks. Each baby trout is equipped with a large yolk sac for nourishment; when it gives out, the trout is on its own. When food is abundant, the trout grows rapidly, sometimes, as with cutthroat trout, reaching a weight of 40 pounds, although this is extremely rare.

ICC Examines Ferry Capacity

Wisconsin Rail Company Wants Ann Arbor Firm to Give Ship Service

WASHINGTON (UP) — An Ann Arbor Railroad official says his company doesn't have the ferry capacity to handle freight car interchanges at Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

D. J. Carrau, superintendent of the Ann Arbor line, told an Inter-State Commerce Commission examiner yesterday "We wouldn't have the ships available, we just can't take on more work."

The Annapee & Western Railway, the city of Sturgeon Bay, Door County, Wis., industrial firms and a number of Door County municipalities are asking the ICC to order Ann Arbor to put the proposed car interchange system into effect.

Ann Arbor operates ferries across Lake Michigan between Frankfort, Minn., and Menominee, Mich. The ferries pass through the Sturgeon Bay ship canal but don't stop there.

Ann Arbor has declined to interchange freight at Sturgeon Bay in the past on grounds that Sturgeon Bay traffic is insufficient.

Vernon Bushman, president of the little, 34-mile-long A&W which serves the Door County peninsula, testified earlier that A&W would spend $237,000 on docks and other facilities at Sturgeon Bay if a freight interchange with Ann Arbor could be arranged.

A&W also has asked ICC for permission to establish its own 222-mile ferry route on Lake Michigan if an arrangement cannot be worked out with Ann Arbor.

U. S. Alcoholism Costly

NEW YORK — Alcoholism's direct cost to industry exceeds a billion dollars a year, according to the National Council on Alcoholism, an independent health group. The American alcoholic population now stands at about 5,000,000, an increase of 1,000,000 in the past five years, the council reports.

About 1,000 ships sail from New York port each month.

Psychologist Behind Eddie Fisher Speaks Up

Hollywood Fame Just as Hard to Live With as Failure

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — A psychologist who helped Eddie Fisher and Ava Gardner adjust to success says that fame in Hollywood can be as hard to live with as failure.

Dr. Michael Browne said that Fisher might have fallen flat on his face if he had not learned self-confidence after he hit the big time.

Ava's problem was that she didn't think she measured up to her star billing, he said. It was his job to convince her she really had talent.

The problems of Fisher and Miss Gardner are typical in Hollywood as Browne found it. Fame comes too suddenly to some, bringing them overnight riches and admiration, he said. In order to survive, he said, they must learn to live with their new selves.

Browne, who learned self-confidence for himself by earning five college degrees, is head of the Institute of Creative Communication. He deals mainly with insurance executives and salesmen who want to learn how to get along better with their customers and each other.

★ ★ ★

But every once in a while, someone such as Ava or Eddie comes along, he told United Press International in an interview.

His greatest individual triumph, he said, was crooner Fisher, who was sued for divorce last week by actress Debbie Reynolds, reportedly so he could marry actress Elizabeth Taylor.

"All of a sudden, Eddie was a million-dollar property, but he wasn't up to the image of a million-dollar property," Browne said. "He was a boy who started out at the bottom and all of a sudden found himself at the top.

"I was called in to make him appear to himself to be as good as he appeared to be to others. I gave him aggressiveness and acting ability, a belief in himself, a feeling of affirmative self-reliance.

Browne said that for six weeks, he followed Eddie wherever he went and studied everything he said and did. He read his fan mail and got him to read it, too.

"Then I made my first approach," Browne said. "I told him I had a problem, that he was making a million dollars a year and my income was nothing, and yet how could I tell him how to adjust to success when I wasn't exactly one myself."

That made an impression on young Fisher, Browne said. He began to take a good look at himself and to realize that he really was important.

"I taught him not to be self-conscious," Browne said.

He was asked whether he thought Fisher's self-reliance would be impaired by his current marital difficulties.

"He's bigger than ever," Browne replied.

As for Ava, her problem was more difficult for Browne to handle.

"She did not quite believe that she was up to what she was receiving in material rewards," he said. "She still thought she was a barefoot girl from the Carolinas. She still feels a bit that way, but I helped her in her movie career by giving her a better sense of self-acceptance.

"This was a girl that was Socratic. She never presupposed being anything that she was not, yet she stereotyped herself into an image, and what an image it is!"

Venezuelan Spent 20 Years in Exile

Betancourt Never Quits

By United Press International

Romulo Betancourt, the probable next president of Venezuela, has spent nearly 20 of his 50 years as a refugee and has served numerous jail terms because of his unremitting fight against dictatorship.

He was barely 21 in 1929 when he had to flee the country for the first time because of his participation in student activities protesting the dictatorship of Gen. Juan V. Gomez.

He was within a month of his 50th birthday when he returned most recently from voluntary exile following the overthrow of Gen. Marcos Periz Jimenez last January.

Throughout his adult life, Betancourt has been closely associated with Romulo Gallegos, a noted Venezuelan writer and teacher under whom he studied at Caracas college 30-odd years ago.

He says that Gallegos exerted "the greatest influence on the formation of his intellect," while Gallegos says Betancourt is "the student who profited most" from his teaching.

In 1947, when Betancourt was provisional president of Venezuela, his Democratic Action Party nominated Gallegos for president and saw him through to victory in one of the country's few really free elections.

In less than a year, however, the army had overthrown Gallegos and Betancourt was once again a refugee.

Betancourt was born Feb. 22, 1908, in the provincial town of Guatire. He earned his bachelor's degree at Caracas College and had gone on to Central University to study law when he got in trouble with the Gomez administration and began his foreign travels.

He lived in Colombia and then in Costa Rica for seven years before Gomez' death in 1936 made it possible for him to return to Venezuela.

He immediately resumed political activity. The magazine Momento says it was at this time that he gained fame as a "fiery agitator in the streets . . . and a newsman whose prose could be measured or cutting as the circumstances required."

He had to flee the country in 1938 because of his activities as a labor organizer, but soon slipped back secretly to Caracas. He played an active part in founding the National Democratic Party, which has since been reorganized under the name Democratic Action.

When it became safe for him to emerge from hiding, he took an active part in the 1943 presidential campaign, in which Gallegos was Democratic Action's unsuccessful candidate.

Gen. Isaias Medina Angarita became president. In 1945, Betancourt played a leading role in the army uprising that deposed Medina, and he became president of the junta which succeeded the deposed dictator.

He governed the country until 1948, when Gallegos was installed as president only to be overthrown by the military coup d'etat which paved Perez' path to power.

Betancourt met and married Carmen Valverde, a Costa Rican schoolteacher, during his first days as a refugee. Their daughter Virginia—an only child—is now in the United States with her husband.

Life in Captivity Turns Scarlet Ibis to Pale Pink

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad—The scarlet ibis, with its vivid scarlet plumage, is considered one of the world's most beautiful birds when it is in its natural habitat.

But in captivity it becomes pale pink and dispirited. Males and females are the same blazing color, with four black feathers at the tip of each wing, and long legs and bills of pink. Ten thousand of them live in a bird sanctuary seven miles from Port of Spain.

Spray Adds Glitter to Holiday

Light up your house around the holiday season with gold and silver this year. These two colors give a majestic look to decorations in keeping with the dignity and happiness fo Christmas.

They also can be used to sparkle the synthetic snow sprayed on Christmas trees, holly and other seasonal trappings.

The elegant touch to Christmas comes easily. Simply spray snow in pink, blue or white, or use gold and silver (chrome) spray enamel in combination on items or lightly sprinkled over the snow.

★ ★ ★

There are several things you can do in a jiffy and easily because the spray cans are light and easy to manipulate.

You might spray an old metal tray with gold and put your Christmas cards on it. The gilded tray is a pleasant background for the colorful cards.

Or the intriguing shapes of lemon leaves and other greens may be sprayed silver or gold. For an antique effect, spray very lightly so the green shows through in places.

Then arrange branches in a vase. A pretty centerpiece for the Christmas feast is a round bowl sprayed and filled with gold, silver, and colored Christmas balls. This is also attractive on the mantel or on your buffet.

When doing decorating projects, first have a good place to spray, perhaps the floor in a corner. Put newspapers on the walls, extending about five feet to either side, if you are spraying larger items.

U.S. Pays $5 Million to Civil Retirees in '58

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal government paid out $507,606,149 in annuities to more than 312,000 retired civil servants in 1958, it is reported.

The Civil Service Commission said 51,840 new retirees were added to the rolls for benefits under the government's retirement program under which particpants contribute about 6½ per cent pay.

Horses in the world have declined 22 per cent since 1940.

Winston Churchill Sports Modern Hearing Device

LONDON (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill appeared in public yesterday wearing a small, modern aid, one of his few concessions to advancing age.

★ ★ ★

The 84-year-old elder statesman used to wear an old-style hearing aid in Parliament, with a hand microphone. He had beeen known to turn it off when an opposition Laborite rose to speak.

★ ★ ★

Today, he was wearing a tiny, modern device, when he emerged from a lunch with Prime Minister Harold MacMillan at 10 Downing street.

Churchill's secreetaary said she did not know how long he had been using the device.

Doctor Will Lecture

ANN ARBOR (UP) — The University of Michigan Medical Center's third annual Carl V. Weller lecture will be delivered Saturday by Dr. E. T. Bell, professor emeritus of pathology at the University of Minnesota. The Weller lecture was established in 1956 as an honor to the late chairman of Michigan's department of pathology.

Plush Animal Sure to Please Toddler Set

The stuffed animal kingdom is full of cuddlesome surprises this Yuletide.

New developments in textile finishes mean high pile, lightweight plush fabrics. The resulting cashmere feel will make tots happy with new pooches, bears and pandas.

The hound dog still is top dog with the playroom crowd. Its newest talent for pouty pooches is a tear-embellished expression.

And the musical stuffed toy features a zipper pocket for the music box so that it can be removed on wash day.

Lightweight synthetic stuffing makes the very large bear, pooch and zoo animals practical for the toddler set to cuddle.

Device Charts Neutrons' Flow

Tiny Detector for Use on Reactors Developed by Westinghouse

DETROIT (AP) — The world's smallest device for detecting the flow of vital neutrons deep in the heart of nuclear reactors has been developed by Westinghouse Electric Corp., a meeting of the American Nuclear Society has been told

A scientific paper prepared by Dr. K. H. Sun, Westinghouse physicist, said the tiny size of the detector permits measurement of neutrons in tight, out-of-the-way spots, such as the spaces between close-fitting fuel plates of a reactor core.

Measurements under these conditions have been impossible with any direct-reading instrument, Dr. Sun added.

Slow-moving neutrons cause nuclear fire alive in a reactor. The pattern of their flow, or the "neutron flux," is necessary for proper reactor design.

Dr. Sun said the detector consists of a slice of silicon or germanium no larger than the head of a pin. About one millionth of an ounce of uranium is deposited on the surface of the slice. Hair-thin copper wires are soldered to the detector and it is sealed inside a thin aluminum tube about the size of a piece of spaghetti.

Slow-moving neutrons cause fission of the uranium. Fission fragments upset the electrical balance of the detector, giving an accurate count of their number.

Dr. Sun said the new detector is not affected by gamma rays, which are produced in great abundance inside a nuclear reactor and which previously have seriously interfered with measurements of neutrons.

4 Million Get Psoriasis

CHICAGO — More than 4,000,000 Americans are victims of psoriasis, making it the most common single skin disease. Its cause is still unknown. Although the disease is not contagious, 150,000 new cases occur each year.

Gleason Begs Sugar Ray to Quit Singing

NEW YORK — Jackie Gleason, genius, made a trip to Harlem to talk to Sugar Ray Robinson after watching the classic middleweight champion of the world make his singing debut on Steve Allen's program Sunday night.

"Please give it up," the large man pleaded. "Please. You're destroying a legend. Gain 30 pounds and fight Floyd Patterson. That's what you should do. What you shouldn't do is ever sing another note."

Bob Hope does a wonderful job each Christmas time. He gives up his own holiday at home with his kids and troops overseas to play, for zero, before men marooned in the far places of the world in the interests of national security.

This time his tour will be through the Azores, Madrid (where he'll film a TV show), Naples, Malta, Frankfurt, Berlin and Iceland. Another great trouper, Hedda Hopper, will accompany the Hope group as usual.

Congress ought to strike a medal for that fellow.

Jack Denton Scott, writing in the January "Catholic Digest," poses the terrible question of whether we should pay the cops or pay the robbers. To wit:

"One night last summer a heavy truck careened off the highway in a midwestern village. It crashed into a tree and toppled it.

"Although the driver was in a state of near shock and suffered contusions, he wasn't seriously hurt. Two of the men who helped him out of the smashed truck recognized him.

He was a well-liked policeman from a neighboring town. When his rescuers asked him why he was driving a truck, he answered bitterly: "I've got three children who need the proper clothing for school, and my pay as a policeman isn't enough for me to buy even the necessities.

"I've been holding down two jobs almost since the first day I joined the force. I ran into that tree because I fell asleep. I haven't had more than three hours' sleep a night for the past week. This will do it, though. When the department hears about it, I'll have to hang up my uniform."

Mr. Scott gives us some grim statistics. Worth reading. Worth doing something about.

We're flying to Miami on a National Airlines Boeing 707 in a little over two hours. Along with us are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Anderson, my wife's parents. They celebrate their 57th wedding anniversary next Monday. They had been married two years and two days before man for the first time flew in a heavier-than-air machine.

The historic flight by Orville Wright at Kitty Hawk, N.C., on Dec. 17, 1903, lasted 12 seconds and covered a distance not quite equal to that of the swept wing which supports the four Pratt and Whitney jet engines which power the 707.

It seems incredible that such progress could be made in the married career of a couple. Yet, here it is, and among those who would have found it hard to believe would have been Orville himself, who died 10 years ago.

He and his brother, Wilbur, though they sold the first military aircraft (a biplane which the U.S. Army Signal Corp bought with some reluctance for $25,000 in 1909) developed many misgivings about military (and even commercial) aviation in later years.

Indignant because the Smithsonian Institution insisted that S. P. Langely's steam-driven plane should be regarded as the first successful heavier-than-air machine to fly, Orville in 1928 gave the original plane to the South Kensington Museum in London.

It came back 20 years later, at his request, and now hangs in the old Smithsonian Institution aviation building in Washington, along with Lindbergh's and the Bell X1, first supersonic job.

Maybe the world will find a peaceful use for the H-bomb after all. Gerald W. Johnson of the University of California Radiation Laboratory told the Atomic Industrial Forum, Inc., that a one megaton bomb, touched off in the Athabaska tar sand region in Canada, would free 60,000,000 barrels of oil.

School Child Costs Public 33c Per Hour

DETROIT (AP) — Lynn M. Bartlett, state school chief, approached public education costs in a new way in a talk to a PTA group.

"Let us think of it as being paid for on an hourly basis," he said.

"It was estimated last year that the cost, under a university or college trained teacher, in a planned program of learning, came to about 33 cents an hour, including teacher salary, equipment, supplies and building costs."

Care of a child by an untrained, teenaged baby sitter with limited activities and no program runs 50 cents an hour," he said.

"And you provide the furniture, TV, radio, telephone, transportation and food," he added.

Going 60, You Are Driving 2 Tons at 88 Feet a Second

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—At 60 miles an hour you ride a two-ton projectile at 88 feet a second.

In 1948 at prevailing speeds you could stop your car in 126 feet if you were alert; today no matter how alert you may be that stopping distance has been doubled.

★ ★ ★

All the control you have over your car is exerted through the four small areas of rubber where your car contacts the road.

These facts are emphasized in a United States Rubber Co. report on what has happened to the average automobile in the last decade. The survey was designed to evaluate safety factors in car design, highway construction and vehicle operation.

Today's average automobile, the report says, is 14 inches longer; five inches wider; seven inches lower; 375 pounds heavier and packs 150 more horsepower than the average 1948 vehicle.

"What has happened to the family car in the last decade has never happened before in any 10-year period of automotive progress," it says.

"Everything has been re-engineered for higher speeds—engine, chassis, springs, brakes, steering, lights and roadway—everything except the man behind the wheel. You and every other driver on the road remain with the same original equipment, the same eyes, ears, reflexes—no better or faster than before."

Of the tire contact with the road, the survey says the average car "has a 125-square inch 'footprint'—barely larger than your own two feet."

★ ★ ★

"Turnpike hypnosis" is described as an ever-present driving hazard. It results "primarily from subconsciously listening to the drone of your tires against the road while staring fixedly ahead at an unchanging highway," the report continues. . . . "It produces drowsiness and impairs your judgment of speed and distances.

"Your best defense is constantly to sweep your eyes over the entire scene; talk with your passengers; or, if alone, sing loudly to yourself; vary your speed, shut off your heater; open a window; chew gum; wear sunglasses whenever necessary; make frequent rest stops; change to tires with quieter treads."

A tire that whines or hums at thruway speeds is not only unpleasant, says the report; it helps to induce "turnpike hypnosis."

A final admonition to the car driver is "be sure your tires are equal to the safety demands of the car you drive, the roads you travel."

The rubber industry has made great strides in tire improvement over the last 10 years—probably just as great as the design improvement in automobiles. Long talked about has been the tire that would last the life of the car.

★ ★ ★

The tire completely protected against blowouts and punctures and capable of withstanding the abuse of high speed and hard braking for the entire life of the car probably will come some day.

The enduring properties it would require woulld make it a high priced casing. Whether it would attract a profitable market is debatable.

Tailored for sleeping are all-cotton, drip-dry fabric pajamas. They're good for traveling men.

State Highway Contracts Reach All-Time High

LANSING (AP) — Michigan highway construction placed under contract reached an all-time high in November, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said.

He said $13,500,000 in new construction was let during the month compared with a previous high of 10 million dollars during November of 1957.

Total contract awards for new highways thus far in 1958 total approximately 141 millions.

Williams Sticks to Traditions

Only Banquet Missing at 6th Inauguration of Governor Jan. 1

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams will stick close to tradition when he is inaugurated for a sixth two-year term Jan. 1.

The only thing absent in Williams' ceremonies this year is an inaugural dinner, heretofore a part of a day-long program.

As in the past, Williams will attend 7 a.m. services in St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral at Detroit with his family. His staff and members of the all-Democratic state administrative board also will attend.

He will take the oath, as five times before, on the east steps of the state capitol in Lansing at 11 a.m. Neil Staebler, Democratic state chairman, will be master of ceremonies.

John Swainson, beginning his first term as lieutenant-governor, and four other administrative board members who won re-election also will take oaths.

Board members are Swainson, Secretary of State James M. Hare, Attorney General Paul L. Adams, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown and Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski.

Other events, announced by the Democratic State Central Committee, include a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the Lansing Civic Center, a reception from 3 to 4 p.m. in the governor's capitol office, and an inaugural ball at 10 p.m.

Home Building Costs May Rise

Contractors Also See 5 Per Cent Increase in House Starts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A group of home builders, representing all parts of the nation, predict new houses will cost more next year.

They also forecast a 5 per cent spurt in housing starts, but qualified this prediction by saying in housing starts, it depended on government action to counteract an expected tightening of credit.

About half of the 36 builders at an outlook symposium, sponsored by the National Association of Home Builders, said they expected 1959 prices to be at least 5 per cent higher than in 1958.

They said costs would go up even more. But they added that they expected to absorb some cost increases.

Many delegates said Congress should make GI loans (mortgages guaranteed by the Veterans Administration) more competitive with conventional financing by raising or abolishing the 4¼ per cent interest ceiling.

The famed Palace of Fine Arts in Mexico City is known as "the sinking opera house." Built of heavy white marble, it has sunk some 12 feet since it was built in 1934 on Mexico City's soft subsoil, a former lakebed.

More Goods for Less Work Is American Goal

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Getting more goods for less work has long been an American goal. It is increasingly pressing in today's mounting costs and rising prices.

Many manufacturers and service firms try for it by upgrading their plant and machinery, by getting a mechanism to do what used to take elbow grease.

Many try for it by enlisting employe enthusiasm through letting them share in the profits. Theoretically at least, the more the workers produce, the greater the profits to share after the goods are sold and the books balanced.

The Council of Profit Sharing Industries estimates that 20,000 employers have some such program affecting perhaps two million workers.

Many firms try for increased productivity by tieing the wage itself directly to increases in output per man hour of labor. Increase your productivity above what is determined to be the norm and your take home pay goes up accordingly.

How effective have these wage incentive plans been in increasing productivity, in cutting unit labor costs for industry, in increasing the earnings for employes?

To find out, a study was made of 2,500 such wage incentive plans in 29 different industries as set up by 17 management consulting firms, three fourths of them since 1948. Just completed by the George Elliott Co., New York consulting firm, reports show productivity rose by anywhere from 39 to 100 per cent, with an average of 63.55 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Companies using these plans cut unit labor costs by anywhere from 9 to 59 per cent for an average saving of 25.91 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Workers under the plans found take home pay higher by anywhere from 9 to 39 per cent for an average of 20.6 per cent.

Wage incentive plans were set up by the consultants in this fashion:

★ ★ ★

Basework measurements through time studies or predetermined time systems set performance standards considered acceptable by managements and the unions for employes to be able to earn their base rate of pay. Then incentive bonuses were offered for extra productivity above the determined standard performance.

Some standards were updated from time to time to take into account changes in methods, equipment or products.

The survey reveals the dollar and cents value to the firms adopting them: for every 1 per cent increase in wages earned by the worker, the companies on average increased productivity by 3.1 per cent and cut unit costs 1.25 per cent.

Increases varied widely among industries.

Railroad employes involved in such plans had the best earnings increase, 39 per cent; followed by chemical workers, 34.46 per cent; transport equipment workers other than autos, 31.71 per cent; services allied to transportation, 31.5 per cent; and stone, clay & glass products, 31.22 per cent.

Tobacco workers had the smallest increase, 9 per cent, although the tobacco industry led all the rest with a 100 per cent increase in productivity, while autos and auto equipment had the lowest productivity gain, 39 per cent.

The railroads had the best luck in cutting unit costs, 59 per cent. Tobacco was second in cost cutting benefits, 49 per cent; followed by state & local government enterprises, 39 per cent; metal rolling & extruding, 39 per cent and the stone, clay & glass group, 37.89 per cent.

Golden Marker Center

ROME — The Golden Milestone, erected by Caesar Augustus in approximately 14 A.D., marked the center of the Roman Empire. It was about 15 feet high and stood in the Roman Forum. Its shaft was completely sheathed in gold. Other milestones throughout Italy often marked distances from the Golden Milestone. Only fragments of the golden marker exist today.

Army Chief Says Selective Service Should Stay

Taylor Doesn't See Draft Reduction

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, states that he does not foresee any reduction in the draft for the armed forces.

Taylor said "under present world conditions the Selective Service Act should remain in force." He also said he was satisfied with the division last week of scientific personnel between the Army and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

He said the army felt "a nostalgic loss concerning scientists of the jet propulsion laboratory at Pasadena who were transferred to NASA jurisdiction."

But he added, "I think both space administration and Army interests are protected. There will be good liaison."

Taylor made his remarks at an afternoon press conference. He was to speak later at a meeting of the World Affairs Council.

In his prepared speech, Gen. Taylor said the U.S. forces must speed up their reaction time in combating limited warfare outbreaks and joint planning and training should be laid down to attain this end.

★ ★ ★

The problem, he said, includes surmounting logistical bottlenecks and having the most modern equipment available on short notice.

Taylor noted that many of America's most powerful weapons such as nuclear bombs were not suitable to limited war, such as the Korea action, since they were too destructive.

"The sober thought that both sides have the capability of destroying each other should nuclear weapons be used without restraint is a hard fact of life with which we are going to have to live for the indeterminate future," he explained.

"Meanwhile, the communists are well aware of the very material gains they have made in the past through the more limited forms of aggression. Therefore, under the cloak of fear imposed by mutual atomic capabilities it would appear quite likely that they may henceforth undertake to kick us harder and higher on the shins than they have done during the period of our atomic monopoly."

★ ★ ★

Taylor pointed out that America's assets for limited warfare have little to do with continental defenses and civil defense preparations since these would not be involved.

"Indeed," he said, "most of our present atomic weapons systems may be of doubtful use in limited war, the doubt increasing in proportion to their destructiveness. In such wars, our normal role has been and probably will continue to be the provision of assistance to a friendly nation resisting some form of aggression.

Under such conditions it will be important to rescue our friends with minimum damage to their homelands."

He said the Marines came under the category of a "definite limited war asset in their amphibious role" recently demonstrated when they moved quickly into Lebanon to quiet the revolt-torn nation.

Poodle Fancier Sought by Hopping Mad Army

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) —The U.S. Army is hopping mad at the officer who used a helicopter to go shopping for a poodle and just wishes it knew his name.

The story of the shopping expedition was told by Hans Bohrmann, a shopkeeper in the village of Lautershein, who said it began when two Army Bell H-13 helicopters landed on the Lautershein soccer field.

An Army captain stepped out of one of the machines and strolled over to Bohrmann's store where he asked to buy a poodle. Bohrmann had none and the officer promised to return the following week.

Sure enough he did—but this time with three helicopters.

While the captain made the purchase the helicopter crews gave the Lautershein villagers—and above all the kids—free five-minute flights over the village.

When the shopping and sightseeing were over the helicopters flew back toward Mannheim where the captain allegedly is stationed.

At that point everybody was happy. The captain had his poodle. Bohrmann had made a sale and the villagers had their first ride in a chopper. Then the Army heard about it.

"All Army aircraft, including helicopters, may land only on authorized and preselected areas," a spokesman said with some heat. "Giving a ride to anyone, unless permission is given beforehand, is also prohibited."

The spokesman said the captain, when he is finally found, could be court martialed and certainly will be disciplined.

Bohrmann meanwhile said he was getting tired of telling his story. He said he had been telephoned and questioned for a week and that German police and Army authorities even took him to the scene of the crime, collecting evidence from joy-riding villagers.

Foreign Ships Race for Sea Before Winter Locks Door

MONTREAL (AP)—A fleet of foreign ships, its last-ditch fight to escape an icy and profitless winter berth in Canada almost won, faces fresh obstacles as winter's cold jaws close on the mouth of the St. Lawrence River.

The ocean freigsters steadily cut and hammered their way through the narrow, ice-choked Lachine Canal yesterday and moved into the comparatively open Montreal Harbor.

But between them and the sea lay more ice, forming rapidly and clogging the narrower parts of the St. Lawrence River between here and Quebec City.

★ ★ ★

It had been feared the premature spell of near-zero weather that iced up the Lachine Canal would trap the ships in Canada's inland waterways until spring.

Most now have passed through the canal—their only route to the open river—but they may face an equally hazardous passage on the St. Lawrence.

Thirteen salt-water ships cleared the canal yesterday and only five were left, one of them already in the canal system.

CONDITIONS 'VERY BAD'

But at Quebec City, even the help of a transport department icebreaker couldn't get three freighters through pack ice as they tried to get to Montreal. The department said ice conditions were "very bad."

★ ★ ★

The icebreaker D'Iberville escorted the freighters Transtream and Novaport but the trio had to turn back to Quebec after making only about 20 miles.

The Fredorg tried a long run at the pack, but couldn't get through the pileup at the narrows under Quebec Bridge.

Monday, the D'iberville and Montcalm broke a path through to Trois-Rivieres for five freighters headed for Montreal. They were the last to get through.

More ice is forming at the narrow neck of Lake St. Peter, 50 miles east of Montreal.

Knowing this, some of the ships that successfully cleared the Lachine Canal have speeded up their schedules.

The Swedish freighter Ragenborg, due to have stopped at Quebec City to pick up 2,000 tons of cargo, changed plans and announced she will dash straight down the river past Quebec to reach the sea as soon as possible. She is bound for Halifax.

Yesterday, despite a frozen hinge that cracked at Lachine's Cote St. Paul Lock, workers moved ships through at a steady clip. The last two foreign ships cleared into the harbor within an hour and five minutes of each other.

The broken lock—it was the third one to break within two days—held up movement for nine hours. Stuck behind it was the German freighter Leada and seven Canadian canallers.

Pushing their way into the canal from Lake St. Louis to the west was a fleet of four foreign ships and three Canadian ones.

World War I Benefits

Vets Can Get Social Security

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

This is an explanation of what you World War I veterans should know about three major government benefits to which you may be entitled—medical benefits, disability pensions and burial benefits.

To claim them, you must, of course, meet certain eligibility requirements.

One requirement common to all three benefits is that you must have had some military duty during wartime. For burial benefits and disability pensions the requirement is a total of at least 90 days' active duty, some of it during wartime. For medical benefits, any active duty during wartime is sufficient.

There are further requirements for all three, but they're peculiar to the benefit. Take them separately:

★ ★ ★

Medical benefits—If you meet the necessary requirements, you can claim full medical care—at no cost to you—at one of the 173 Veterans Administration hospitals.

For this free care, the VA has established a priority system for giving it because the VA doesn't have enough hospital beds to give immediate care to all veterans applying for it.

First priority goes to veterans with disabilities resulting from wartime service and all veterans who need emergency care. Second on the list are veterans with disabilities resulting from peacetime military service.

On the tail end of the list are wartime veterans who need hospital care for ailments which have no connection with military service and who are unable to pay for hospitalization elsewhere. Often veterans in this group can't get care immediately, but must go on a waiting list.

You must have a discharge from your military service which was given under other than dishonorable conditions.

★ ★ ★

Disability pensions — This benefit provides for a monthly payment from the Veterans Administration. Besides the active duty requirement, three others must be met for a veteran to draw a pension. You must:

1. Be disabled from a disability having no connection with your service. The disability must be considered by the VA as total and permanent.

2. Have a yearly income of less than $1,400 — if you have no dependents—or less than $2,700—if you have one or more dependents.

3. Have a discharge under other than dishonorable conditions.

★ ★ ★

The monthly payments are $66.15 if you're under 65. But, if you've drawn the pension for 10 years, or if you're over 65, the payment is $78.75. If you're blind or need the regular aid and attendance of another person, the payment it $135.45 a month.

Burial benefits — These are a burial expense allowance, a burial flag, burial with military honors in a national cemetery and a free headstone or grave marker.

The burial allowance is up to $250 toward the most of your burial. It must be applied for through the VA by your survivors.

A burial flag to drape your casket will be provided by any VA office upon request. The burial plot and services with military honors may be claimed through any one of the 82 national cemeteries.

★ ★ ★

A headstone or grave marker will be furnished without application if you're buried in a national cemetery. Markers to be placed in private cemeteries must be applied for through the Memorial Division, Quartermaster General, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C.

To be eligible for a burial allowance and a burial flag your discharge must have been given under other than dishonorable conditions. An honorable discharge is required for burial in a national cemetery and to get a grave marker or headstone.

Hot, spicy drinks like buttered rum predate central heating. Some New Englanders like theirs with apple juice or cider.

Buttered Rum for Yule Cheer

Champagne With Meal Also Is Bell-Ringer as Holiday Drink

Traditional Yuletide treats like hot buttered rum are as popular today as they were 200 years ago.

HOT BUTTERED RUM

Scald a mug or cup and mix two ounces of Puerto Rican rum with a teaspoon of sugar. Add a pinch of grated nutmeg and a pinch of cinnamon or a stick of cinnamon and fill with boiling water (or apple juice or cider). Drop in a pat of butter and serve hot.

★ ★ ★

You can have a "bell ringer" of a Christmas dinner simply by serving it "au champagne," says famous gourmet, James A. Beard.

French champagne can be served throughout any meal, he points out, and it goes just as well with the plum pudding as with the turkey.

Best cooling system is to place it in a bucket half full of water, with floating ice, half an hour before serving. Wipe the bottle off. Remove the wire guard holding in the cork, hold the cork and twist the bottle so as to ease the cork out without a big "pop."

Popping is great fun, but don't forget it means you will lose a good deal of the precious wine as it froths out of the bottle neck. So keep the explosion down to a minimum.

★ ★ ★

Pour liquid slowly, filling glasses only half way. A bottle serves about eight drinks. Hold the glass by its stem so as not to warm the wine with your hand. Sniff the bouquet and sip it slowly.

Cemetery Vandals Hit

BOSTON (UPI) — An epidemic of cemetery vandalism has caused the Massachusetts legislature to crack down on this form of delinquency. Under a new law, defacing cemeteries or monuments is punishable by 2½ to 3 years behind bars and a fine of up to $2,000.

Wants to Avert Slump

Legislator Says Housing Needs More U. S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top congressional housing spokesman said home building will need more federal aid to avert a construction slump next spring.

The speaker yesterday was Rep. Albert Rains, (D-Ala), chairman of the housing subcommittee of the House. He called for a hike in government funds used to support low and moderately priced home mortgages.

In a talk prepared for a meeting of the U.S. Savings and Loan League in Kansas City, Rains cited tightening of interest rates, widening discounts on mortgage loans, and exhaustion of federal aid authority to support his contention. Excerpts from his speech were distributed to newsmen here.

"It does not take any particular acumen to see where all this is leading," Rains said. "In my judgment, housing production will turn down considerably more than seasonally in January and February, and we may well face the danger of a serious slump in housing production next spring."

Rains' statement pointed toward early Democrat-sponsored moves in the next Congress to enact new housing legislation.

This would be almost certain to stir up floor fights. The Eisenhower administration opposes extensive new spending for home building aids in the light of present high-level construction activity and a prospective 12-billion-dollar budget deficit.

Administration opposition was instrumental in defeating a wide-ranging housing bill at the last session of Congress.

But with the new Congress more firmly under Democratic control, it is now expected that legislation will be offered on an emergency basis immediately after Congress convenes in January. This would seek to increase the basic authority of the Federal Housing Administration to insure home mortgage loans.

The last Congress voted an additional four billion dollars in mortgage insurance authority. It also voted one billion dollars to a special assistance fund for the purchase of FHA and GI home loans.

★ ★ ★

The special assistance fund was exhausted Sept. 16, and FHA basic mortgage insurance authority is now reported nearing the rationing stage.

Marquess Gets Bad News—He's Still Married

LONDON (AP) — A British divorce judge told the Marquess of Milford Haven today that he may be divorced in New York and Mexico, but he is still married to his American wife in Britain.

The 39-year-old marquess, best man at the wedding of his cousin, Prince Philip, to Queen Elizabeth II, sought a ruling that his wife's Mexican divorce was also valid in England because New York State recognizes it. Britain recognizes New York divorces, but not Mexican quickies.

★ ★ ★

The marchioness, American divorcee Romaine Pierce Simpson, went to Bravos, Mexico, and filed for divorce on May 21, 1954. She got her decree on the grounds of incompatability the next day. She and the marquess had been married in Washington, Feb. 4, 1950.

★ ★ ★

The marquess originally asked to be declared a free man in Britain when his name was linked with Hungarian movie star Eva Bartok. Friends indicated he wanted to clear up his marital status in order to marry Miss Bartok. But seven weeks ago, Miss Bartok found herself a new boy friend—Indian Prince Shiv of Palitana.

3 Groups Campaign for Car Safety Belts

CHICAGO (AP) — A campaign for wider use of seat belts in automobiles has been announced by three health and safety organizations.

The backers said the seat belt is a major means of reducing deaths and injuries of drivers.

The campaign will be conducted by the National Safety Council, the American Medical Assn. and the U.S. Public Health Service.

They said they are inviting other groups and business organizations to encourage installation of seat belts in the cars of their members and employes.

The joint announcement yesterday said none of the sponsoring organizations is approving any specific brand of seat belt. But they are urging motorists to use belts that are manufactured and installed in accordance with recommendations of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Drivers' Strike Halts 4 New York Papers

NEW YORK (AP)—Four New York City newspapers temporarily discontinued publication today as a strike by delivery truck drivers entered its second day.

The strike against nine city dailies has swept newsstands clean of major newspapers. Five planned to continue, but were restricted to over-the-counter sales at the plants.

The Times, the Herald Tribune and the Post suspended publication.

The Times and Herald Tribune, morning newspapers, shut down after their editions had rolled. The Post is an afternoon newspaper.

The Daily News, a morning paper, skipped all editions today after composing room workers defied their union president and refused to cross picket lines.

Crew of Nuclear Sub Will Be Reassigned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The crew of the nuclear submarine Seawolf, which established a record by staying submerged two months, will be dispersed and the individuals assigned to other submarines within the next two months when the submarine is withdrawn from service for installation of a new power plant.

★ ★ ★

The Seawolf, second nuclear submarine built, will go into the yards of the Eectric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. early next year for installation of the new atomic power plant. The 20-million-dollar job will require from 11 to 13 months.

A few of the officers and men in her crew may be in the new crew formed when the Seawolf is recommissioned sometime in 1960.

Capt. Richard Laning, skipper of the Seawolf since she joined the fleet in 1957, has been ordered to duty in the office of chief of naval operations here.

★ ★ ★

Leakage in part of the heat exchange equipment of the present liquid sodium reactor resulted in the Seawolf operating at only 80 per cent of maximum power. The Navy decided to replace the sodium reactor with the standard pressurized water sysytem used in other nuclear submarines.

Calculating Errors on Moon Rocket Due to Different Methods Used

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Errors in computing the speed and altitude of America's lunar rocket are attributed to the fact that there were three different calculating methods that didn't always agree.

Space agency scientists also said there is always a percentage of error in any single method or in the computations of a single tracking station. Results take on an assured character, they said, only when there are many stations verifying each other's results.

The statements were made in explanation of the fact that the maximum altitude of the Army's Pioneer III robot, which fell back to earth over the weekend, was given as 66,654 miles "plus or minus 2,000 miles."

The explanation applied equally to the Air Force's Pioneer I lunar probe, launched Oct. 11, which also burned up in the atmosphere after climbing to an altitude given at the time as 79,212 miles.

Nearly two months later, the maximum altitude of the Pioneer I was revised downward to 71,300 miles.

The Air Force's Pioneer II, launched Aug. 17, ended in failure when the first stage to the powerful Thor-Able rocket exploded shortly after launching.

Defense officials said yesterday the Army's next attempt to send a rocket toward the moon—probably around Feb. 1—may be this country's last lunar exploration effort until at least mid-1959.

Scientists said the three methods for determining speed and altitude are these:

—THE "TRAIN WHISTLE" OR "DOPPLER" METHOD. Just as sound waves are lengthened when a train is receding so that the train's whistle sounds high and shrill, radio waves from a receding space vehicle are elongated. This can be recorded on an instrument and translated into the speed and, by multiplying speed and time, the "distance" the space vehicle has traveled.

—RADAR. A pulse radar beam can be sent up when the space rocket's position is known approximately, and the time required for the radar beam to bounce back to the transmitter can be measured.

This gives the space vehicle's distance, and two such measurements, together with the elapsed time, gives the vehicle's speed. The same method is used by radar-equipped police cars to determine when vehicles are exceeding the speed limit.

—TRIANGULATION. This is the oldest and most accurate method. When the speeding vehicle's position is determined, a triangle can be constructed with the earth's horizontal diameter as the base and the two arms reaching up to the robot as the sides of the triangle.

Even here, however, a certain amount of error is involved when great altitudes are reached, because the diameter of the earth is comparatively small — only 8,000 miles, compared to the more than 70,000 miles reached by Pioneer I.

Dr. Homer Joseph Stewart, chief of the planning section at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), said all three methods are used in conjunction with mechanical "brains" — computers — to give the most accurate results possible.

He said the mechanical computers reduce the amount of manpower required to some extent, but their chief effect is to reduce the time required to give a result.

He said results are obtained in minutes and half a dozen mathematicians might need several days to duplicate them.

Road Sign Plan Up to State

Legislature Must Vote New Billboard Control, Says Mackie

LANSING (AP) — Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said it will be up to the Legislature to decide whether Michigan takes advantage of a new Federal program to control roadside billboard advertising.

He said he has written chairmen of appropriate legislative committees that Michigan cannot qualify under existing state law.

The Federal enactment applies only to the national interstate networks. States which adopt the control program will get a cash bonus of one-half per cent of the cost of the roads affected.

The states have until July 1, 1961, to reach a decision.

Mackie said he has not made up his own mind on the controversial Federal plan which has been opposed by outdoor advertising interests and favored by auto clubs, conservation groups and temperance advocates.

"It has some very complicated features," Mackie said, "and even if the Legislature should pass legislation to qualify Michigan, an Attorney General's unfavorable opinion still could prevent participation."

To make the program administratively feasible here, Mackie said, would require an act authorizing the state to acquire easement rights on land bordering expressway right-of-way by condemnation.

The Highway Department now may do this only on a negotiated basis.

Many Mention Big 4 Meeting

Believe It Could Ease East-West Tension Over Berlin

B JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Big Four foreign ministers conference next spring is being mentioned by many diplomats as a means of easing East-West tensions over Berlin.

Some officials are predicting, however, the three Western Allies wil propose that such a meeting deal with the entire problem of Germany's future as well as Berlin.

★ ★ ★

American, British and French diplomats are reported giving increasing thought to the advantages of a new round of talks with the Russians. This prospect has been weighed carefully in considering a reply to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that West Berlin be turned into a free city.

The feeling that such new talks would be desirable appears to be gaining ground among Western diplomats. But a decision is being delayed until after the 15-nation Atlantic Pact Council meeting which starts in Paris next Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now hospitalized by an intestinal ailment, is planning to attend the Paris conference, assuming he recovers in time. The State Department reported that Dulles is doing some work in his hospital suite in preparation for the meeting.

Fire Destroys Resort Hotel

Blaze in Massachusetts Coast Town Reduces 'Oceanside' to Ashes

MAGNOLIA, Mass. (AP) — A general alarm fire early today reduced to ashes the fashionable 400-room Oceanside Hotel, three guest cottages and three shops — all unoccupied during the winter in this Atlantic seaside summer resort.

No casualties were reported.

Fire fighters from more than half a dozen communities fought the blaze in near-zero weather.

At least half a dozen residences and about a dozen other shops were damaged.

★ ★ ★

Fire Chief Loring B. Blatchford of nearby Gloucester said he could not estimate the damage immediately, but townspeople ventured estimates up to a million dollars.

They said the five-story wooden hotel occupying an entire block had catered for nearly 50 summers to many notables from all parts of the United States. Some suites, they said, rented for as much as $80 to $100 a day.

★ ★ ★

Fire fighters from as far as Lynn, 20 miles away, poured tons of water on adjoining homes and stores to keep the flames from spreading.

Blatchford said two maintenence men are employed by the hotel during the winter months but no one was in the building when the fire broke out.

Magnolia is about 30 miles from Boston on Massachusetts' north shore.

New Alarm Sounded by Revenue Official

State Deficit Million Dollars a Week, Treasury Being Emptied, Says Lock

HASTINGS (AP)—A dramatic new alarm on the state's deteriorating financial condition was sounded yesterday by Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner.

Lock said that the state now is running deeper into the red at the rate of one million dollars a week, counting its commitments for state aid to local schools which soon will be 28 million dollars in arrears.

"All available cash resources of the state treasury are being rapidly depleted," he said in a talk prepared for a Civic Club luncheon.

"Unless new revenues are quickly provided public school teachers, state employes and state college and university professors face the prospect of payless paydays within a few months.

"Thus while all of us deplore the impact of the new taxes suggested by the Citizens Advisory Committee, yet those who oppose the program have the unpleasant task of offering an alternative which would prove more palatable."

Lock observed that the state deficit is snowballing toward a probable 80 million dollar total by June 30 despite an austerity state budget voted by the 1958 legislature.

The legislature went so far as to make major cuts in spending on mental health and higher education, which together account for nearly 50 per cent of the general fund budget, he said.

The assistant revenue chief recalled that before the recent state tax study was undertaken there was nearly universal agreement on the necessity for an overhaul.

"Well, the report of the committee does just that and of course any such overhaul will result in a shifting of the tax burdens which will be viewed unhappily by those whose contribution is increased," he said.

At Grosse Pointe, Rep. Robert E. Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe) proposed in the event of a new state income tax that special concessions be granted parents of school children.

Waldron said he would press for an amendment providing that any school tuition payments be made an "offset" against income tax liability.

"This will apply at all levels of education — grade school, high school and college," he said.

A proposed new graduated personal income tax with rates ranging from three to eight per cent was the core recommendation of the Citizens Advisory committee tax package.

Man, 73, Wakes Up With Cold, Million Dollars

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Charles C. Binkley, 73, woke up today with a cold, a headache and a million dollars.

How does it feel?

"Not much different, son," replied the twinkle-eyed grey-haired little man. "I haven't seen the money yet."

A Superior Court jury deliberated 3½ hours Wednesday and then awarded Binkley half of a fortune left by a half-sister he never met—or had ever heard of before about three years ago.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Cora Nidever died in 1955 at the age of 85. She left an estate of $3,126,488 but no will was ever found.

Binkley, a retired glass blower from Montpelier, Ind., first heard of Mrs. Nidever when he was shown a clipping in an Indiana newspaper.

He began what he calls a "little investigation" that included a check of Civil War pension files.

★ ★ ★

Then he announced his father, a Union Army veteran named Joseph Binkley, had been the father of Mrs. Nidever. He said his father married Anna Miller Lewis in Indiana in 1880 after leaving Mrs. Nidever's mother Hester Binkley in Ohio in 1878.

Eight nieces and nephews of Mrs. Nidever contested Binkley's claim but the jury was unanimous in determining his right to half the fortune.

★ ★ ★

Noncommittal before the judgment was announced, Binkley was still silent about his fiscal plans today.

"I've lived in the same house in Montpelier for years," he said, "and there's no reason to move now.

"I don't need any clothes. I really don't have any plans. I don't expect to change my mode of living."

He has a daughter, Mrs. Glenoma Saunders, and five grandchildren in Weiser, Idaho.

His biggest interest is his horse, a 7-year-old pacer named Grand Ripple Mite. He races the horse at Indiana county fairs.

3 Americans in Rome to Become Cardinals

ROME (AP) — Three Roman Catholic prelates from the United States arrived in Rome today to receive the red hats of cardinals.

Archbishops Richard Cushing of Boston and John O'Hara of Philadelphia, and Msgr. Amleto Cicognani, Vatican delegate to the United States, flew from Boston in a chartered airliner.

They will become cardinals Monday at a consistory called by Pope John XXIII.

Would Likely Be Used in 'Fishy-Back' Service Carrying Truck-Trailers

LANSING (AP)—With one Mackinac Ferry due for conversion to a potato bin, three others appear likely to wind up in "fishy-back" service as carriers of big truck-trailers on the Great Lakes.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said a Detroit steamship operator has shown interest in acquiring the Straits of Mackinaw, the City of Petoskey and the City of Munising for the "fishy-back" operation.

He said he asked Troy Browning, head of Browning Lines, Inc., to reduce his offer to writing. It will receive serious consideration, he said.

Last week the City of Cheboygan, first of the five straits ferries retired in November 1957 with opening of the Mackinaw Bridge, was sold by the state for $25,000 to a Chicago produce man.

If a deal is consummated for the units sought by Browning, only the $4,745,000 Vacationland, 345-foot queen of the ferry fleet, will remain in the state's possession.

Mackie did not say what Browning was willing to pay, but obviously it was much more than the "ridiculous" nibbles that answered a call for bids on all five units last May.

★ ★ ★

At that time, aside from the Vacationland, the highest offer was $15,000 for the Straits of Mackinac, or $23,000 under an appraised value regarded by some state officials as far too low.

Browning said the proposed new service would shuttle the ferries, after some conversion work, between Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Buffalo. It would be comparable to the "piggy-back" offered by railroads in which cargo truck-trailers are hauled on flat cars.

He said "fishy-back service had been offered before, but only haphazardly and not in the manner we intend." He declined to talk further about what he had in mind.

Youth's Happy Dreams Snuffed Out by Death

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Barry Seibert, 17, had been offred a part-time job selling popcorn. That meant cash to buy holiday gifts.

His school principal gave him permission to take the job and he was walking on air as he left the school office for his gym class.

An hour later he collapsed while dressing in a locker room.

At Pottstown Hospital, a team of 11 physicians took turns massaging the boy's heart. His parents watched anxiously. Several hours later he was dead.

Looking for Date? Trip the Boys With Sock-Bait

Belle with beau wears steady dating tag on her durene cotton knee socks when she goes to informal holiday parties.

Lively teenagers like festive touches that get attention—conversation-makers.

★ ★ ★

With comfortable cotton knee socks, a pretty teenager can let her school friends know she is steady-dating by adding a special Christmas bell and bow to her knee-highs.

★ ★ ★

To make this, use a small Christmas bell and enough ribbon for a small bow. First sew the bell to the bow. Dip some cotton swabs in bright poster paints, sew them in place, then pin the decoration to the sock.

Another teenager, not steady dating, can add a different kind of conversation-maker to her socks. Highlight them with time-on-hands decoration, for example.

To make this design use cut-outs of tiny felt hands in bright Christmas colors surmounted with a half-dollar size clock.

This time-on-hands decoration can be made with scraps of felt. Small beads sewed to the face of the clock cut-out can mark the hours. Make hands of black thread.

4 Fishermen, Wives Homeward Bound

GRAND RARAIS, Minn. (AP)—Four Lake Superior commercial fishermen and their wives were homeward bound today after being subjects of a Coast Guard search Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

When their 48-foot craft was delayed en route from Isle Royale, Mich., the cutter Woodrush was asked to look for them.

★ ★ ★

Aboard are Milford Johnson, Two Harbors, Minn. and his son Frank, and Edward Holte, Grand Marais, and Peter Edison, Two Harbors, all with their wives.

Possible Through Space Research

Is Longer Life Coming?

NEW YORK (AP) — Space research may lead to a better and even longer life for man.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, said this today in a speech prepared for a convention of the Life Insurance Assn. of America.

Johnson said space projects involve almost a billion dollars this fiscal year, with 700 million dollars of it devoted to research.

Aside from the contribution to national defense, he said, the programs produce knowledge and techniques permitting still further increases "in our national productivity, our standard of living, and our way of life."

★ ★ ★

"Our manned satellite programs can lead to better health and life for all Americans," Johnson said.

"We shall have to develop foods and vitamins of great energy content, packaged and capsuled to efficiently and safely preserve the life of man in space. We may need drugs to perform new and wonderful missions for the space travelers.

★ ★ ★

"There is no reason to assume that such foods, vitamins and drugs will not also benefit those of us who remain behind on our globe. . . .

"In the vacuum of outer space, we may find environmental cures for the diseases of earthman; we may even discover means to directly increase the human life span."

45 Days of Power Requested by Batista

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — President Fulgencio Batista planned to try again today to push a bill through Congress to give himself virtually unlimited powers for 45 days.

★ ★ ★

A walkout by opposition senators prevented a quorum and a vote Wednesday night on the government's request for a 45-day stay of emergency.

★ ★ ★

The House of Representatives already had approved the bill to allow Batista to rule by decree. Some sources believed the President would order economic measures to support the costly campaign against Fidel Castro's rebels. New taxes were expected.

The rebel radio claimed capture of two towns in southeast Cuba's Oriente province, where Castro has his greatest strength.

Generosity Lands Man in Tangle With Law

HIGBEE, Mo. (AP) — Barkeep Hugo Torri spread the word: free rabbit feed during the holidays for his customers.

★ ★ ★

Dave Wilder, a state conservation agent, got the message.

He arrested Torri for failure to have a hunting license, which is required for possession of any game. Wilder also confiscated 25 rabbits, 15 more than the legal limit.

Torri faces trial Dec. 20.

Ex-Wife Says Purdom Owes Her $37,000 Now

LOS ANGELES (AP) — British actress Tita Purdom says she is penniless and that her divorced husband, actor Edmund Purdom, owes her $37,000 in support and alimony.

She asked the court to find Purdom in contempt. Her lawyer Ralph Rosenstock said Purdom has earned more than $100,000 a year in the last two years but has sent Mrs. Purdom nothing for support of their two children.

Expect Support on U.S. Edict

Strong U.N. Backing for Hungary Execution Condemnation Seen

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— The U.N. Assembly was expected to give overwhelming approval today to an American resolution condemming Hungaray's Communist rulers for executing former Premier Imre Nagy and other insurgent leaders.

The proposal, supported by 36 other nations, called again on the Soviet Union and the Red Hungarian governments to end repression.

★ ★ ★

It denounced both for "continued defiance" of the Assembly's repeated appeals for an end to repressive measures.

The resolution named Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, former General Assembly president, to replace Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand as special representative to report vital developments in Hungary.

Munro was expected to follow Prince Wan's example and seek talks with the Soviet and Hungarian governments. Diplomats doubted he would fare any better than his predecessor, who was rebuffed by both Red regimes.

"O LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM, how still we see thee lie . . ."

Though Bishop's Efforts Many:

His Fame Lies in Hymn

Episcopal Bishop Phillips Brooks was a talented giant of a man, the most dynamic, exciting clergyman of his time.

And yet Brooks is best remembered, not for his great sermons, his writings, his lectures, but for a simple Christmas hymn he wrote as a young man for the children of his Sunday school.

"O Little Town of Bethlehem, how still we see thee lie . . ."

Brooks wrote it just 90 years ago — in 1868 when, at the age of 33, he was rector of Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia and just beginning the distinguished career which made him an international figure.

★ ★ ★

The tune to which it is usually sung was originally called "St. Louis," and was written at about the same time by Lewis H. Redner, Holy Trinity's organist and superintendent of its Sunday school. One night, so goes the story, Redner awakened with the musical theme in his ears.

On Christmas Day Brooks' multi-stanzaed poem, set to Redner's music, was sung by children of the Holy Trinity. But it was years before it became a recognized hymn.

Brooks, descendent of prominent New England families, preached such stirring sermons that his fame spread. By 1869 he was called back to his native Boston to become rector of its famed Trinity Church. Ultimately he was made a bishop, traveled widely, and on request preached a sermon before Queen Victoria in London, a most unusual honor in his time.

Bishop Brooks died in 1893—a year after his church had finally decided to include his Christmas poem and Redner's music in its hymnal.

★ ★ ★

Although "O Little Town of Bethlehem" still is a hymn of many stanzas, one of them is rarely seen. Bishop Brooks himself left it out of later copies of the poem. The missing stanza goes:

Where children pure and happy
"Pray to the blessed Child,
"Where misery cries out to thee,
"Son of the Mother mild;
"Where Charity stands watching
"And Faith holds wide the Door
"The dark night wakes, the glory breaks
"And Christmas comes once more."

SAC Sharpshooters Train to Direct Nuclear Missiles

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — The Strategic Air Command is grooming a crew of sharpshooters — to fire not pistols but ocean-spanning rockets toting nuclear noses.

The 544th Reconnaissance Technical Group, stationed at SAC headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base here, is sifting intelligence and plotting trajectories for United States Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles.

★ ★ ★

When the Air Force's first ICBMs are ready to be added to the nation's arsenal and perched on their launching pads, their trajectories — the routes they would take to enemy targets — will be figured out in advance.

All of the "aiming" for the Air Force's ICBM's at launching sites from Presque Isle, Maine, to Cooke Air Force Base, Calif., will be done here, according to Lt. Col. Francis R. Cappelletti, deputy commander of the 544th.

A new wing will be built shortly on the SAC headquarters building and the Reconnaissance Technical Group, known in Air Force slang as a "rechy-tech" unit, will occupy the major portion of this new area.

Cappelletti said the new wing would be necessary because of the increase in personnel and electronic equipment needed as the nation builds up its missile inventory.

FORCE TO DOUBLE

The group, commanded by Col. Donald H. Ainsworth, has a present complement of 500 officers and airmen. This figure will be more than doubled in the next few months.

Cappelletti described the group's job this way:

"We just tell the missile, in missile language, where it is and where it is going. Then, its guidance system takes it to the target."

Intelligence sections of the group identify targets and fit missile missions into SAC's overall strategy. The trajectory section, electronically and manually, considers such factors as gravity and astronomic observations to figure out how to get the missile to the target.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere at headquarters, in a war room three stories underground, are the controls for SAC's vast armada of manned bombers.

Cappelletti, a balding veteran of 18 years in the Air Force who refuses to be awed by the space age, said, "Things are a little different, but it's nothing mysterious.

"People now think of missiles the way they thought of airplanes back in 1903. I don't think that it's warranted.

"In some ways, these missiles are much simpler than our high-performance airplanes. Of course, in other ways, they are more complicated because we must have a guidance system which compensates for the lack of a pilot."

Silverton Train Earns $ as View Thrills Tourists

DURANGO, Colo. (UPI) — High in the Rockies of western Colorado, the last remnant of a technicolor era still lives.

It is the Silverton train, the last regularly scheduled narrow gauge passenger train in the world.

* * *

The train travels on a three-foot-wide track built 80 years ago as a path to the rich silver lodes in the San Juan Basin. It is as successful today as it was in the best of the boom times.

Tourists from every state and many foreign countries come to ride the train on its dangerous course back into the early America of the silver-digging days.

The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Co., which owns the Silverton, said the little train makes more money per mile than any other train in the country.

Every morning of the summer, the train highballs out of the Durango switching yard and careens through 45 miles of some of the roughest country in the world.

SPECTACULAR VIEW

Leaving Durango, the Silverton clatters over a girdered iron bridge and climbs through the steep Rockies until it reaches the spectacular Canyon del Rio las Animas Perditas.

It travels through the craggy canyon for 27 miles, often slithering along an eight-foot ledge.

* * *

Below, the turgid Animas River rushes toward the surging Colorado.

This country has never seen an automobile and probably never will.

The narrow gauge wouldn't be here either, except for a wild dream of early railroaders who chiseled a road be through the rock.

The seemingly impossible became the very probable when the reward was $500 million in silver and gold. They built the road.

The train finally reaches its destination, the town it was named after—Silverton, the roaring city of the '80s.

Silverton lives today on money from tourists who ride the train, and on income from movie companies that use the ghost town atmosphere as sets for their films.

* * *

Seventy years ago, Silverton was the capital of Colorado's mining industry. It was owned by the powerful silver kings, and it entertained such diverse persons as Oscar Wilde and Wyatt Earp.

The Denver and Rio Grande decided to abandon the Silverton line 10 years ago. Most other narrow gauge operations died long before.

INVITE TOURISTS

But the company was swayed by its traffic manager, H. F. Eno of Denver, a passionate man on the subject of railroad antiquity.

"Abandon the Silverton? Ridiculous! Turn it into a tourist attraction and make money with it," Eno argued.

The train began living up to Eno's hopes in 1954. Its schedule was changed from one run to three runs a week.

* * *

Now the Silverton runs every day all summer.

The 10 gold and black cars accommodate 380 passengers, and it's a rare day when all seats are not sold far in advance.

Many people ride more than once, enchanted with the old West flavor, the potbellied stoves and the kerosene lamps. Not to mention the signs that warn against spitting on the floor.

Steel consumption in the United States amounts to more than 1,000 pounds per person per year.

Navy Proposes Missile Area

Vast Pacific Testing Ground for Practice Space Launching

POINT MUGU, Calif. (UPI)—The navy today revealed a proposal for turning much of the Pacific Ocean into a vast space testing area where missiles and space vehicles would be launched and recovered.

* * *

Included in the proposal, which has been made to the Department of Defense, is a million square nautical mile area bordering on Johnston, Tarawa and Christmas Islands in the South Pacific.

Cmdr. Joseph Pace, resources and facilities officer at the Pacific Missile Range here, outlined the region he called a polar orbit recovery area (PORA) where satellites would be recovered.

Included in the Navy outline was the recovery area for Project Dinosaur in which a man would be orbited around the earth and then recovered.

* * *

Pace said Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., also was regarded as a good place for recovering the space man in Project Dinosaur because of its nearly unlimited runways.

The Navy plan described Manus Island, now under trusteeship of the United Nations, as the best location for launching an equatorial orbit satellite.

An equatorial satellite would be valuable because it could be made to travel at the same speed as the earth and could remain over one spot on the globe, Pace said. He said three or four such satellites, along with other ground installations would make a complete worldwide communications network.

Robber Writes: 'Prevent Tragedy, Give Me Money'

NEW YORK (AP)—"Due to ill health, I don't care about dying. Do you?"

That was only part of the potently worded note received by Marguerita Barone, a clerk who was alone Wednesday night in the eighth-floor office of Gimbel's department store on Herald Square.

The note and a paper bag were handed to her by a silent, mild-mannered Negro. The rest of the missive read: "Understand me. Do not get excited. I have a gun. I am desperate . . .

"Put into the bag fives, tens, twenties. Hand it back to me. Don't be the cause of a holiday tragedy. Don't sound the alarm until I clear the building.

"T-h-i-n-k!"

Miss Barone opened the cash drawer, filled the bag and passed it back. The man bowed and walked out. The bag held $1,180.

Temple Blast Case Declared a Mistrial

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A hopelessly deadlocked jury and physical exhaustion of defense attorneys have delayed proceedings in the case of George Bright, charged with bombing a Jewish temple.

Judge Durwood T. Pye Wednesday declared a mistrial after the jury said it still couldn't agree on a verdict after 26 hours of deliberation.

Immediately after the mistrial, the state started preparing for selection of a new jury to try Bright. But James R. Venable, defense attorney, sought and received a postponement on grounds that he and his associate Esley B. Burdine were physically unable to proceed at this time.

After Pye granted the postponement, Solicitor General Paul Webb said Bright would be retried "as early as his case can be put on the January-February term calendar."

Bright was indicted along with four other Atlanta men—Wallace H. Allen, Kenneth Chester Griffin and Robert and Richard Bowling—in the Oct. 12 bombing of The Temple. The others are also awaiting trial.

U.N. Issues Demand

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command demanded today that North Korea free 48 South Korean fishermen and their eight boats. South Korea claims they were captured in international waters. The chief North Korean delegate told the Joint Military Armistice Commission the incidents were still being investigated.

STRIPPED — Christmas tree goes to final resting place — a spot in the yard. Pop and Junior sled white spruce to prepared hole, mulched to keep hole from freezing. They center earth-balled tree in place, fill around ball with good soil and water.

You Can Plant It Later

Why Not Get Live Tree?

Like picking a Christmas tie, selecting a bargain Yuletide tree can hit a discordant note.

Especially for a family who plans to plant it after the gift-unwrapping scramble ends.

A living Christmas tree may either grace or disgrace the home landscaping for a long time, according to M. W. Staples.

As field supervisor of the Davey Tree Expert Co., he points out the double-duty holiday tree should be a desirable ornamental kind — not a fast-growing monster that soon will dwarf the house.

Even the better evergreens need considerable living space. Pick a suitable planting site and perhaps even prepare it in advance, he advises. The six-to-eight-foot Christmas tree will grow to be a major specimen.

In searching for a living tree avoid the fly-by-night dealer. Hunt out the legitimate merchant or nurseryman who offers freshly dug, honestly balled and protected trees.

And avoid trees with earth balls that are thoroughly frozen. These make survival difficult.

At home keep the ball moist. Store the tree until needed in a cold but not freezing location. The north side of a building may be the best answer.

Use straw, peat moss or other mulching materials to cover the ball to keep out frost.

Enzyme Aids Bread

KANSAS CITY — Bread will stay fresh longer if an enzyme called bacterial amylose is added before baking, according to researchers. They report that they've found the enzyme breaks into smaller molecules the starch crystals that harden as bread grows stale, and through its use the bread tends to stay soft as it ages.

Two Most Powerful Democrats Not Members of Advisory Council

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest weakness in what the Democratic Advisory Council recommends is that the two most powerful Democrats in Congress — Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson—are not members of the council.

★ ★ ★

The council includes some of the very top Democrats—like former President Harry S. Truman, Adlai Stevenson, New York's Gov. Averell Harriman — but when it was created two years ago Rayburn and Johnson, both of Texas, refused to join.

★ ★ ★

If they had accepted membership, they would have committed themselves to follow through on what the council recommended. By standing aloof they can pretty well pick and choose what they want to push or fight for.

Since the Democrats lost the presidential election in 1956, the party was left without any real, single head for the next four years. The council attempts to assert some leadership.

Thus the program it outlined Sunday for Democrats in Congress to follow in 1959 was a statement of goals, hopes and intentions. It's been called the Democrats' "State of the Union message."

★ ★ ★

Next month, a usual at the beginning of each session of Congress, President Eisenhower will present his own State of the Union message, outlining his programs and ideas for 1959.

Both houses of Congress will listen attentively and then suit themselves about what they will accept, reject, modify or expand from all the proposals Eisenhower makes.

★ ★ ★

The same will be true of the congressional attitude towards the Democratic Advisory Council's ideas.

Members of Congress, and this certainly goes for their leaders, are very jealous of the rights, privileges and prerogatives of the legislative branch of the government.

They reserve to themselves the right to make the final decisions on any proposals from the executive branch, headed by Eisenhower, or from any outsider or group of outsiders, like the Democratic Advisory Council.

Rayburn, boss of the House Democrats, and Johnson, leader of the Democrats in the Senate, are both conservative. The Democratic Advisory Council's recommendations were both more liberal and more far-ranging than anything being talked about by Rayburn and Johnson.

★ ★ ★

For example: The council suggested making the law tougher to give the government a stronger hand in protecting civil rights; it suggested the Senate soften its rules to make it easier to smash filibusters.

Again and again the Southern Democrats have used the filibuster—which, under present Senate rules, gives them the right to almost unlimited debate—to block civil rights legislation.

But the fact remains the new Congress, where the Democrats have an overwhelming majority, will have to look to Rayburn and Johnson for leadership.

★ ★ ★

Both men in the past have shown an amazing ability to get from their fellow Democrats and even from many Republicans cooperation and approval on the various pieces of legislation they wanted to see get through.

For both men next year the job of shepherding the legislation they want may be tougher, if only because there will be more Democrats in Congress.

Nevertheless, Rayburn and Johnson will be key men. Therefore in large measure the program produced by the Democratic Advisory Council will depend on Rayburn and Johnson.

Army's Next Try for Moon May Be Last Till Mid-1959

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense officials said today the Army's next attempt to send a rocket toward the moon—probably around Feb. 1—may be this country's last lunar probe effort until at least mid-1959.

No further moon shots have been scheduled or authorized for the Army or Air Force after the next long-distance U. S. space vehicle is fired.

Informed sources said the Army was planning to wait at least two months before trying to send its next rocket, "Pioneer IV," soaring toward the moon and possibly beyond.

The Army's Pioneer III, second U. S. moon rocket to reach enormous altitude while falling short of its goal, fell to a flaming death over Africa Sunday after having reached a height of 66,654 miles. The Air Force's Pioneer I, launched in October, climbed 71,000 miles.

Pioneer IV will be the second and final Army shot authorized so far by the administration. The Air Force already has made three attempts to shoot a rocket to the vicinity of the moon.

One authority said the Air Force might schedule a moon shot later in 1959 but that plans at this point were "very nebulous." Even if one were contemplated, it would take several months to prepare for the launching.

Officials said the Defense Department's advanced research projects agency (ARPA) has transferred two mighty Thor-Able missiles to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) which is in charge of the lunar probes.

This was a possible indication of future Air Force attempts to reach the vicinity of the moon, since the Air Force used Thor-Ables in its three past lunar shots.

An NASA spokesman said plans for using the two Thor-Ables are still under consideration. If not used for a moon probe, they would have the thrust to carry large earth satellites of about 300 pounds into space.

Meantime, there were these other developments:

—In Detroit, Dr. Hubertus Strughold, known as the father of space medicine, said the 38-hour flight of the 13-pound Pioneer III was worth two shots to him because it passed through the radiation band going down as well as up.

He said it therefore gave him twice as much data on the man-killing poisons in the band which is one obstacle in the path of manned space travel.

★ ★ ★

—Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, Army chief of research and development, said about three years have been cut from the time formerly required to get U. S. missiles off the drawing board and into the air. He said the current time of five years and eight months is "a very significant improvement" but he called for cuts in red tape to further speed up the program.

About one-tenth of the world's people live at altitudes of 1,500 or more feet.

Nostalgia ticks away, more or less, from a school days wall clock. Fruitwood finish case fits early American or contemporary room decor.

HIGH FIDELITY GIFT — A lower cost method of adding a second speaker for stereophonic sound is the "Stereon" unit by Electro-Voice. Small size appeals to those who have a space problem with a large main speaker. Interior is pictured at right.

Hi-Fidelity Attractive to All Members of Family

High fidelity components, either as a beginner's monaural sound set, or to convert a monaural system to stereophonic, make a Christmas gift attractive to the entire family.

★ ★ ★

But before buying a "hi-fi" gift, distinguish between the packaged phonographs, whether single or dual speakered, and the often higher fidelity components which make up a custom made outfit.

The former can be bought for $100 and up. The latter may run $20 to $100 or more for each component.

Before buying, you must decide whether this is a gift for a casual record fancier or a genuine hi-fi addict.

SEPARATE SPEAKER

A monaural system for a beginning hobbyist includes a separate speaker and enclosure; an amplifier; a record changer or turntable, and a quality cartridge and stylus.

Supplemental equipment can be a preamplifier, a radio tuner, or tape playback.

Most of the components are made by members of the Institute of High Fidelity Manufacturers. Some of these also make quality packaged systems.

★ ★ ★

If a monaural system is in operation, a gift of a supplemental unit or substitution of a higher quality unit will be appreciated by the sound fancier.

★ ★ ★

The advent of stereophonic records in the fall of 1958 makes the gift of a supplemental speaker or amplifier or a stereo master control unit very timely.

★ ★ ★

Stereo sound is two-channel instead of one. Thus two speakers and two amplifiers are needed to convert a monaural system to stereo along with a stereophonic cartridge and stylus.

The first step in conversion to stereo is substitution of the cartridge and stylus.

Egyptian Lion Won't Budge From Prison

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI)—"Bolbol," a lion at the Cairo Zoological Gardens, is a stubborn lion. Stubborn like a mule.

And that's why "Bolbol" — (his name means nightingale)—is still at the Cairo Zoological Gardens.

★ ★ ★

When zoo officials decided to move him to the Alexandria Zoo they didn't reckon with "Bolbol's" strong attachment to his Cairo home. The lion plainly refused to leave his cage.

★ ★ ★

They tried persuasion but failed miserably. They tried to prick him out of the cage with iron spears. The guards waved revolvers menacingly. They opened up on him with water hoses. They starved him and tried to lure him into a waiting truck by placing meat outside the cage.

After six hours of resistance, "Bolbol" was triumphant. Wet, hungry and annoyed, but triumphant. The zookeeper decided to send another lion to Alexandria. The second choice went along without complaint.

Rep. Bentley Eyes Outside Income

He'd Revise Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) says he will seek to raise to $1,800 the present $1,200 limit on outside earnings allowed persons receiving social security benefits.

Bentley also wants to change the present definition of outside earnings to include such presently excepted items as rentals, stock dividends, and bond interest.

He said he would introduce a bill to accomplish his objectives when the new Congress convenes in January.

★ ★ ★

"I feel that our elderly citizens are being severely discriminated against when they are limited to outside incomes of $1,200," Bentley said.

"When you think about the small amounts some of them actually receive under social security, it is a shame to restrict them so on outside earnings."

"It seems to me," he added, "that we are penalizing the chap who needs the extra income most while letting the landlords, and owners of stocks and bonds, receive full benefits without any restriction."

Out they Go.

Christmas on Farm Was Joyous Game

(This article is condensed from one written originally for the St. Louis Post Dispatch.)

By CARL BALDWIN

Children of the Sputnik age live in a world that would have seemed a fantastic dream to kids raised on a Missouri farm in the years just before World War I.

And yet — well, let's take a long look back to Christmas on one of those farms two miles from Leasburg by a rutted wagon road.

★ ★ ★

December was a happy month on the farm. The loft of the high red barn was bulging with hay. Corn was fermenting in the tall silo. Leisure time was available to the farmer, when he was not milking cows, slopping pigs, tending the chickens or chopping firewood.

The farmer and his hard working wife used many of these contemplative hours preparing for Christmas. It was a game to them.

Part of the game was getting the children to write letters to Santa. Contents were duly noted by the parents and the family group gathered in the kitchen for the letter burning rite. The letters were "posted" by dropping them in the roaring wood fire in the kitchen range.

The guileless boy and girl ran outside and watched as pieces of the charred paper sailed from the chimney, headed, of course, for the North Pole.

Mother and father made the next move in the Christmas game. By close figuring they determined how much was available from the year's farm profits for Yuletide gifts.

That done, they went through the mail order catalogue and sent to Chicago for as many of the presents requested by the youngsters as they could afford.

The gifts usually arrived by parcel post a week or two before Christmas and were hidden under the hay in the barn. Father always had a home project or two for his son, one year a sturdy desk, another a wagon. Mother had her projects for daughter, too, including a rag doll stuffed with sawdust.

The moment arrived for selection of a Christmas tree. Father sharpened his best ax at the hand-operated grindstone. He headed for the thickest woods with his son trotting beside him. Father and son discussed the relative merits of many evergreens before the perfect one was located.

In the high-ceilinged parlor it stood plain and unadorned but still giving off the living sweetness of the forest, as Christmas Eve came and went. The youngsters would see no mortal hands decorate this tree!

On most Christmas Eves, the excited children stayed up as late as possible and then retired after hanging long black cotton stockings over the backs of chairs placed near the tree in the parlor.

Mother and Father always waited until the children were sleeping soundly before starting the next phase of the Christmas game. The toys were brought in from the cache in the barn. The tedious job of trimming the tree began.

There were candles for illumination (for brief periods), a few glass ornaments, colored paper chains, strings of popcorn and bright red cranberries, and as many small presents as could be tied to the branches.

It must have been quite late when the labor of love was completed. But father was up before daybreak on Christmas morning. He had roaring fires going in both the parlor stove and the kitchen range by the time the excited children tumbled out of bed.

★ ★ ★

How that parlor had changed overnight! The tree looked so wonderfully bright in the early morning darkness as father lit the candles. Half the room was covered with strange and wonderful things in the flickering light.

The gifts had been requested in the letters to Santa, but they had been seen in the mind's eye as black-and-white pictures in a catalogue.

The boy didn't know where to look first. He found such items as a tinny wind-up toy, a bucking bronco and rider; a musical top; an amazing gyroscope that balanced on a string; a steam engine that whistled shrilly when the spirit fuel heated the water tank; a homemade threshing machine with a belt that turned on spools.

The girl hardly knew which way to turn either. She clasped the inevitable rag doll to her bosom and loved with equal enthusiasm the more delicate store-bought doll with the flaxen hair.

There were toy dishes, a kitchen range, combination games — and there on the sidelines, watching happily, the two people who had brought this thing to pass.

The rest of the day was a delectable dream. None of the other 364 days of the year aroused such ecstasy.

Throws Out $65,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Anna Kidansky put her $65,000 life savings instead of the trash in the hallway of a lower east side tenement in which she lives. Benjamin Troeger, 84, found it while sweeping the hall and turned it in to police.

Italians Open Museum Just for Spaghetti

PONTEDASSIO, Italy (UPI)— Italy has for ages been a land of museums and spaghetti.

No wonder that one day someone should think of creating a spaghetti museum.

This is now done.

A recent congress of humorists from all over the world officially inaugurated in this tiny northern village the "Spaghetti Historical Museum."

Political, municipal and church authorities attended the occasion together with humorists and cartoonists, who took the day off from their annual congress at nearby Bordighera.

On the initiative of a well-known spaghetti manufacturer who offered his home here, everything that tells the story of spaghetti-making has been collected for exhibition.

On exhibit are ancient and modern poems, paintings, etchings and photographs dealing with spaghetti; cook books with thousands of recipes for spaghetti, government decrees dating back to 1602 which fixed the price of spaghetti, and one decree providing up to 10 years in jail for anyone employing harmful ingredients for the manufacture of spaghetti.

'Slayer' Can't Live Down Past

'I Killed Santa Claus!'

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — A strapping young man strode into a newspaper office here one day and stared at the editor, John McPhee.

Can I help you?" McPhee asked.

"No," answered the visitor. "I just wanted to get a good look at the man who killed Santa Claus."

There have been many such incidents in the 28 years since McPhee, now working as administrative assistant for the Navaho tribe, made the mistake that led to his reputation as a Santa-killer. Here is what happened:

Trying to whip up interest in a 1930 pre-Christmas parade, McPhee hired a barnstormer to dress as Santa Claus and parachute from an airplane.

★ ★ ★

On the day of the parade, the barnstormer proved too full of holiday spirits for the task. The ever resourceful McPhee hurried to a clothing store and dressed a window dummy in Santa's clothing. Then he hauled the dummy to the airport and ordered his pilot to parachute it onto a field near Mesa. McPhee figured he could reach the dummy in time to switch clothes so that he himself could head the parade.

Excited parents and youngsters filed the streets and saw Santa in the plane. They waved and clapped as Santa started down, but then fell silent. The parachute had failed to open.

When McPhee got back to town, children were crying. White-faced women shook fingers at him and men stared straight ahead. Although he insisted the parade go forward, even without a Santa, there were more marchers than spectators.

Afterwards he left town for three days, but the incident has lived in the community's memory until this day.

CHRISTMAS ANGEL — At least she looks the part in Helen Lee's "tent" pinafore of eyelet embroidered organdy worn over a dress of pink cotton satin for pint-sized glamor.

New Styles Are Charming

Dress Her Up for Santa

What's Christmas without a new dress, for a girl of any age?

This year little girls will look as if they stepped out of a Louisa May Alcott book as the quaint styles of a generation ago come back, more charming than ever, for the youngest glamor set.

Helen Lee, prize-winning designer of children's dresses, goes in for pinafores, frothy satin-sashed party dresses and long-waisted frocks with skirts no bigger than a ruffle, in her holiday collection.

In addition to her fairy-tale party dresses, she has a group of light-hearted small-fry styles which she calls "little but loud," and shows with bright contrasting leotards, or colored tights, instead of socks.

★ ★ ★

All the major trends of adult fashion are reproduced in miniature — Empire, trapeze, chemise and long-waisted silhouettes.

Helen Lee's pet, however, is the "tent" silhouette for the very young. This flares straight out from the shoulders, with no belt, and is shown in both pinafores and dresses.

Space Interview Request Made

Communications Firm Asks FCC for 'Scoop' From First Man

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A communications firm has asked the government for a special permit to set up communications with the first space man—whether American or Russian.

The request was filed with the Federal Communications Commission by Press Wireless, Inc., of New York. It sought special temporary authority for its New York and Belmont, Calif., stations to make contact with outer space.

The company hoped to communicate with space ships or missiles under the control of both the U. S. and Russian governments.

It said it felt it had a "public service responsibility" to provide news and information from outer space to its client newspaper, press agencies and broadcast stations.

Press Wireless told the commission that press and broadcast organizations "will obviously wish to interrogate the first man to be placed into outer space in order to ascertain his reactions, his experiences and his well-being."

A few months ago, the company asked the commission whether its present communications authority covered contact with outer space. The commission ruled that the firm would have to ask for special permission.

About one-quarter of New York residents over 21 were foreign born. In North and South Carolina only about six-tenths of one per cent of the people were foreign born.

Riverview Has Big Heart

Funds Raised for Youth

DETROIT (UPI) — "Riverview is small, but a big-hearted community," says Mrs. Helen Vollmar.

She is co-chairman of the Gary Boggs Benefit Fund Committee, a group dedicated to collecting enough money to help Gary who was once a handsome 190-pound sports star at Riverview Community High School.

For more than three months, the 19-year-old boy has been oblivious to the world around him and may be an invalid for life, according to his doctors.

Gary was riding in a car with five other teenagers who were traveling a little too fast to make a turn. They crashed. The others escaped with minor injuries, but Gary was tossed out on the pavement and struck his head.

★ ★ ★

Since Sept. 1, there has been an around-the-clock struggle to keep him alive accompanied by staggering hospital and doctor bills. Gary's father, Willard Boggs, is a factory worker.

Mrs. Vollmar said the citizens of Riverview have joined in an effort to raise funds to meet present and future medical bills. They have a goal of $5,000. Gary's medical bills have already neared the $2,500 mark.

High School Athletic Director Ernest Mayoras has arranged for an "all-star" basketball game between members of the Detroit Lions football team and Riverview players.

The Riverview Varsity Club has plans for a teenage benefit dance. Treasurer Robert Gorman said the benefit fund has already collected $1,100 in contributions, and village businessmen have begun pledging merchandise and ads for the benefit programs.

Banana Stalks Have Fire-Retarding Factor

MADISON, Wis. — Researchers at the United States Forest Service's laboratory here have found that banana stalks contain a fire-resistant material.

They hope it may lead to the production of a new fire retardant for building materials. The banana-stalk fire retardant has been found to be largely potassium carbonate.

Cold Alters Properties

BOSTON—At temperatures near absolute zero, sapphires transfer heat 60 times better than copper does at ordinary temperatures, lead coils become as springy as coiled steel wire, and low carbon steel is five times stronger than at room temperature.

More Aussies Get TV

CANBERRA — Australians had 357,780 television receivers licensed at the start of September. During August 17,700 new licenses were issued in Syndney and 12,500 in Melbourne, currently the only two Australian cities having TV stations.

RUSHING SEASON — In some parts of the country, Santa leaves some swim fins for speedier underwater maneuvers. Until the water thaws, though, lad probably will be shooting basekts with a new official basketball.

Simple Test Discerns 'Dark' Seeing Ability

NEW YORK — Just be turning out the lights in your living room you can test your "visual purple," the ability of your eyes to adjust to the dark.

If you can't see objects within 2 sectonds, you are too deficient in vitamin A to be assured of your safety when driving at night, according to ophthalmologists.

State May Carry Detroit Welfare

If City Funds Run Out Jan. 13, Burden Falls on Michigan Board

LANSING (AP) — It appears that the state will have to take over Detroit's entire welfare burden on Jan. 13, W. J. Maxey, state welfare director, claims.

Maxey said he was told the city welfare commission has a statement in the mail indicating that welfare funds will run out Jan. 13.

★ ★ ★

The statement has not been received yet and he can only offer conjecture until it is, Maxey said.

But he said an agreement was made last May that the state would take over the city welfare load when the city had spent one and one half mills of it's state equalized valuation.

This represents about $8,250,000, Maxey said.

"When they run out of money, we'll have to take over," Maxey said. "We'll take care of the load until we run out of funds. But it looks now as if we'll have to ask for a 12 to 15 million dollar deficiency appropriation to continue operations."

Maxey estimated the city's welfare cost at about two million dollars a month. But he pointed out that the state now pays 30 per cent of the total to make some cut in the extra funds that will be needed.

"MELE KALIKIMAKA" — That's how they say "Merry Christmas" in Hawaii, where the celebration begins with the arrival of the Christmas Tree Ship from the Pacific Northwest. Santa, who arrived with the trees, is greeted by two Hawaiian beauties.

Hawaii Yuletide Much Like Ours

However, Santa Claus May Use Outrigger Canoe, Not Reindeer

HONOLULU (AP) — About the only thing Hawaiian about Christmas in Hawaii this year will be the greeting: Mele Kalikimaka.

Even that is a Westernized version of the English "Merry Christmas."

Hawaii got a comparatively late start in celebrating Christmas — the first recorded celebration was in 1786 when the English ship Queen Charlotte was at anchor in the Sandwich Islands.

Staid New England missionaries who arrived a short time later frowned on Christmas festivities and it wasn't until 1862 that it became a public holiday. King Kamehameha IV decreed it so.

WELCOME IMPORTS

Since it has a near-tropical climate, Hawaii has few evergreens. It has to import them from the Pacific Northwest. The arrival of the "Christmas Tree Ship" has always been a big thing in Honolulu. Tens of thousands of firs pour from the ship's holds and are quickly placed on sale at supermarkets, garden supply shops and Christmas tree stands.

Merchants decorate their stores with crepe and gay tinsel just as they do back in Belleville, Ill. Arches of similar decorations hang over the streets.

Santa Claus looks just the same as in the States, but he may travel in an unusual fashion.

TOUGH ON SANTA

One Christmas he arrived aboard an outrigger canoe. Another time he came via helicopter. He has no snow so a sled is out. A large flatbed truck comes in handy for getting about town so he can dispense free candy to thousands of eager youngsters lining the streets.

Christmas carols sound over television and radio stations and on loudspeaker trucks.

Salvation Army women ring bells at street corners and fill their kettles with donations.

Sweating postal clerks labor over mountains of Christmas cards and packages which pour off the arriving ships and planes.

A tourist who misses the snow back home finds that everything is possible in Hawaii — thanks to enterprising businessmen. They fly in snow from the crest of mighty Mauna Loa, build a snowman on Waikiki beach and pose a pretty girl alongside in a bathing suit.

Junior marksmen will get a bang out of air-operated gun. Produces ack-ack sound when firing plastic balls at target.

Popcorn Creates Fine Ornaments for Yule Season

You can do wonderful things with popcorn at Christmas time.

★ ★ ★

For an old fashioned tree decoration, string popcorn in long strands. Before doing so, let it stand until it loses its crispness so it will be less likely to break.

Popcorn balls are a favorite in many homes. To make two dozen balls, pop enough corn to make four quarts, leaving it unsalted.

Then make a taffy glaze by combining a cup of unsulphured molasses, a cup of sugar, and a tablespoonful of butter in a sauce pan. Stir over a low flame until the sugar dissolves.

★ ★ ★

Then cook over medium heat until the syrup, dropped in very cold water, separates into hard but not brittle threads.

★ ★ ★

Pour over popped corn, stirring to coat each kernel. When cold enough to handle, shape into balls with lightly buttered hands.

A popcorn snowman is a chewy favor for a children's party. Form three sizes of balls and stack them before the syrup hardens.

★ ★ ★

Make the eyes, nose and mouth out of bits of gum drop.

16 People Occupy 1 Car

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (UPI) — After State Trooper V. J. Caggiano halted an automobile for being overloaded, 16 persons got out of the vehicle. Six had been occupying the front seat and 10 the rear.

In San Francisco's Bohemia

'Fuzznicks' Nip 'Beatniks'

(UPI reporter Peter J. Hayes, who wrote the first national story on San Francisco's "beat generation" last April, tells in the following dispatch how the "beatniks" have fared since then).

By PETER J. HAYES

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco's so-called beat generation is crying the blues these days — the "fuzznicks" are putting the heat on the "beatniks."

A spate of violence and vandalism in the North Beach haunts of the sandals-and-beards set touched off increased night patrols of the "fuzz," beatnikese for the police. It's a rare night that a few of the beatniks don't wind up at the Greystone Hotel, otherwise known as the city prison.

★ ★ ★

Police also are cracking down by enforcing limitations of these 1958-style Bohemians in such hangouts as the Co-existence Bagel shop, The Place and The Teahouse and Coffee Gallery.

The drive began last June after a beat generation playgirl, Connie Lewis Sublette, 22, was strangled and left naked except for a black bra in a dingy alley.

Although the crime was confessed by a non-beatnik civilian troopship crewman, Frank Harris, 32, it spotlighted the sordid life led by at least one representative of the non-conformist beat generation.

LONG RECORD

Connie had been arrested several times for drunkenness and vagrancy. When killed she had just come from a mortuary where she had sobbingly viewed the body of a friend, Paul Swanson, taxi driver, saxaphonist and aspiring poet who a few days earlier fell to his death from the roof of the Party Pad, a bring-your-own-bottle club.

★ ★ ★

The Party Pad was run by Eric Nord, 43, six-foot, seven-inch, 300-pound "big daddy of the beat generation." He closed it and moved out recently, at the request of his landlord, following the Swanson incident and a series of somewhat lively parties.

Many of the beatnik beer and wine bistros along upper Grant Ave. are enjoying unprecedented prosperity as tourists and curious localites flock in. At the same time, many of the actual producing writers and painters are moving out of North Beach to other neighborhoods.

REAL ARTISTS OPPOSED

An explanation is offered by Jack Langan, until recently bartender at The Place and non-beatnik authority on the new bohemianism.

"The real artists put down the beatnik symbolism," he said. "They don't mind sandals and beards, but they want nothing to do with the present scene of delinquents flaunting disregard for authority and rebellion against the 9-to-5 life.

"Most of these so-called beatniks are viewers, hangers-on, emulators of the scene without any real talent. They come from all over the country, jumping on the bandwagon so they can say "I was a beatnik in beatnikland back in 1958."

San Francisco Mayor George Christopher suggested that some means should be found to separate the beatniks from the "true artists" and to get psychiatric care for the former.

Meanwhile, reaction to the beatniks is setting in. A newly-opened eating place in the heart of beatsville calls itself "The Square's Lair" and proclaims "No Beatniks Allowed."

Bake Frozen Vegetables in Oven With Meat

Frozen vegetables are delicious cooked in the oven at the same time the rest of the dinner is baking. Turn undefrosted vegetable into a greased casserole, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and dot with butter or margarine. Cover and bake at moderate temperature (350 degree F.) for 45 minutes.

This time is right for cut and French style green beans, broccoli spears, chopped broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cut corn, peas and carrots, sliced crookneck squash and succotash. Stir once during baking so that all of vegetable cooks evenly.

Vienna has about one-fourth of Austria's population.

Serve Green Devil Dip for Holiday Snacks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Green devil dip goes well with potato chips at snacktime.

Blend thoroughly ½ cup each mayonnaise and chopped, cooked, drained spinach with juice of 1 lemon, ¼ teaspoon cayenne, 2-3 green pepper seeds, and 1 tablespoon each of the following chopped vegetables and herbs: Green pepper, celery leaves, scallion tops, horseradish and fresh tarragon. Two teaspoons dried tarragon may be substituted for fresh.

Allow plenty of time when you scramble eggs; low heat helps make them creamy.

Two Reasons to Use It

Whipped evaporated milk has two distinct advantages for holiday meals: It is lower in calories and contains more minerals and protein than whipped cream. Chill the milk overnight in the refrigerator or chill it in the freezing compartment until crystals form around the edge of the bowl. Beat with a rotary beater until soft peaks form, then add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice for each cup of milk.

Get Meals Out of Rut With Fresh Broccoli

Looking for a dark green vegetable to brighten winter meals? At 29 to 39 cents for a pound and a half bunch of broccoli, this is about 7 to 9 cents a serving.

Broccoli is so good tasting that it is usually served plain, but have you tried serving it in other dishes, asks the Marketing Information Agent?

You can prepare a casserole with layers of fresh broccoli, ham and sharp cheddar cheese, covered with white sauce.

Or, take stalks of cooked broccoli, let them stand in French dressing to absorb flavor. Then drain and arrange with lettuce for salad.

Combine Soups, Sausage for Quick Chile Meal

Cut ½ pound of link pork sausage into 1-inch pieces. Cook over medium heat until brown. Add ½ cup chopped celery and 2 tablespoons minced sweet red pepper. Cook 5 minutes.

Add one can of tomato soup and one can of bean soup and 2 cans of milk or water. Cook over low heat for 20 to 30 minutes. Serve steaming hot with a garnish of parsley, chives or scallions. Serve with wedges of cornbread and crisp relishes. Serves 4 to 6 hungry people.

After a baking session, wait until your oven is cool before cleaning it.

Add Frozen Fruit

Make your quick-mix coffee cake twice-as-good and just-as-quick by arranging frozen fruit on the batter just before you add the spicy-brown topping. For one package coffee cake mix, defrost one package frozen peaches. Bake 5 to 10 minutes longer than directions on package indicate. Reserve juice from peaches for extra flavor in punches and ades.

SPICED SCOTCH FANS — Homemade spiced cookies make a warmly personal gift for a friend of any age. In these flavorful, picture-pretty Christmas cookies, nutmeg is the highlighting spice.

Spices Spell Christmas

Spiced cookies are the sweethearts of Christmas merrymaking—as much a part of back-to-childhood memories as the scent of pine and the jingle of sleigh bells.

So, what more warmly personal gift for a friend of any age than a batch of homemade cookies, savory with spices and picture-pretty in design?

★ ★ ★

Such palate and eye-delighting cookies are Spiced Scotch Fans, agleam with snowy icing and "cooky jewelry;" jaunty Gingerbread Men, and Almond Christmas Cookies, crispy, sugar-frosted half moons.

Each of these attractive morsels owes its old-fashioned flavor deliciousness to its spicing, particularly to the highlight given it by the heady, pungent sweetness of nutmeg. Even the Gingerbread Men are made tastier by the addition of nutmeg because this spice blends the tang of the ginger.

Nutmeg, with its alluring flavor and aroma, has long been associated with festive occasions. In ancient Rome, the route of a visiting dignitary was strewn with crushed nutmegs so that the air would be filled with "friendly fragrance." Mentions of feasts in England's feudal days almost always include a dish spiced with nutmeg.

★ ★ ★

Today's American homemaker counts nutmeg's versatility a strong ally for impromptu holiday parties as well as for planned presentations. A cake from the bakery takes on homemade personality when topped with nutmeg meringue or cream sauce. Packaged ice cream becomes a hit sundae if the nutmeg grater is passed so that guests can sift on their own spicy topping. This grate-your-own-nutmeg is a sophisticated idea that is rapidly gaining popularity—and the freshly grated is really fine in flavor.

The American Spice Trade Association wishes you happy holiday treats with nutmeg.

Spiced Scotch Fans

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon ground ginger
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 cup light brown sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
1 egg, beaten lightly
2 tablespoons water
Confectioners' sugar and water icing

Sift flour with next 6 ingredients into mixing bowl. Add butter or margarine and cut into crumb consistency. Stir in egg and water. Chill until dough is stiff enough to roll. Roll out to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut into 5-inch circles. Cut each into 4 fan-shaped cookies. Bake on greased cooky sheets in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees) 15 minutes or until done. Cool on wire racks. Decorate as desired with confectioners' sugar and water icing. YIELD: Approximately 3½ dozen.

Gingerbread Men

1 cup mild light molasses
1 cup butter or margarine
4¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon soda
2½ teaspoons ground cinnamon
2½ teaspoons ground ginger
2 teaspoons ground nutmeg
1 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg

Heat molasses slowly in a saucepan large enough for mixing cookies. Remove from heat, add butter or margarine and stir until melted. Cool. Sift together next 7 ingredients. Mix with brown sugar and stir into the mixture. Add egg. Chill 1 to 2 hours or until stiff enough to handle. Roll ¼ to ⅛-inch thick on a lightly floured board. Shape with a gingerbread man cooky cutter. Place on lightly greased cooky sheets and bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes. Decorate as desired with raisins, currants or frosting. YIELD: 4 dozen gingerbread men, 6 inches tall.

Almond Christmas Cookies

2 cups blanched almonds
1½ cups (¾ pound) butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
4½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
Sifted confectioners' sugar

Put almonds through a food chopper using a coarse blade. Soften butter or margarine and gradually blend in sugar and nutmeg. Stir in ground almonds and flour. Roll dough to ½-inch thickness on a lightly floured board. Shape with crescent cooky cutter. Place on ungreased cooky sheets. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Transfer to wire racks. Roll in confectioners' sugar while hot. Cool and roll in sugar again.

YIELD: Approximately 8 dozen cookies.

Date Filled Spice Bar

1 cup chopped pitted dates
½ cup sugar
¼ cup fresh orange juice
½ cup water
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup milk
1⅛ cups quick-cooking rolled oats

Combine first 4 ingredients in a saucepan. Cook until thick. Cool and set aside. Sift flour with salt, soda and spices into a mixing bowl. Blend in brown sugar and lemon rind. Add butter or margarine and mix with the dry ingredients. Stir in milk and mix until smooth. Add oats. Put half the dough into a buttered 8x8x2-inch baking dish. Cover with fruit mixture. Roll remaining dough between 2 sheets waxed paper to fit top of pan. Remove paper and place dough over filling. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool and cut into bars. Yield: 16 bars.

Canned Peas a Help to Busy Homemakers

Actually, canned and frozen peas are a homemakers delight, because they're so easy to prepare and serve. However, for the best flavor, appearance and nutritive value, remember to prepare only enonugh for one meal, cook them quickly in small amounts of boiling liquid, and serve promptly.

★ ★ ★

Of course, there are many other ways of using peas, especially in creamed dishes, and they're all relatively simple. Here's one for creamed turkey and peas to adorn the top of a waffle—one to delight the entire family:

★ ★ ★

Cook frozen green peas according to instructions on the package, draining the peas after cooking. Prepare a medium thick white sauce and season with dry mustard, salt and pepper, then adding grated cheddar cheese. Stir until the choose is melted, then add the drained peas and diced cooked turkey to the white sauce. Serve hot over cdispy, golden brown waffles and garnish with hard-cooked egg circles.

When you are using a cake mix, read the directions carefully and use the size of baking pan called for.

Tells of Christmas in Estonia

Pontiac Press Photo

MOTHER DRESSES UP — Mrs. Walter Lange of Pontiac drive dresses in her native Estonian costume and shows it off for the Press photographer and the two Lange children. Margaret who's 11 was born in Germany and Eric who's three was born right here in Pontiac. Mrs. Lange, in an interview, painted a vivid word picture of Christmases she had known in her homeland.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Christmas is endowed with magic, especially for children. It is these childhood memories that set the stage for all our Christmases to come.

Mrs. Walter Lange of Sylvan Lake City spent her childhood in Estonia. She stayed there until she was of college age and an art student in an academy. Then political pressures forced many to leave their homes and take sanctuary in Germany.

For five years Mrs. Lange was in Germany; she met and married her husband there and their daughter, Margret was born. Nine years ago the Langes came to Pontiac and are now one of the four Estonian families in this area. Three years ago, blue-eyed blonde Eric was born. He's an attractive, intelligent, friendly child.

We asked Mrs. Lange to tell us something of Christmas in Estonia as she remembers it. She was brought up in the country where at midnight on Christmas Eve everyone fed the animals. There was always lots of snow.

Estonians celebrated for three days, the 24th with their families, the 25th and 26th with friends. It was a happy time but also one of peace and dignity.

All business ceased at noon on December 24 and after that time a great silence descended. The only sound was that of church bells. Housewives had done their work ahead of time and did no cooking on this holy night.

First everyone went to the Sauna or Finnish bath. In rural areas whole families would bathe together. It was so dark and steamy in the Sauna that nothing could be seen anyway. Then came church.

After church there was a big dinner of rich and heavy foods. Always there was blood sausage cooked in hot water, then fried. Head cheese which Mrs. Lange makes in her American home was always on the table. Some had goose; others had a whole little pig roasted. Apples or sauerkraut were put in the stuffing.

VARIETY OF FOODS

There were lots of cold dishes including fish, molded salads and liver paste. Homemade beer accompanied this. For dessert there were all kinds of cookies and saffron raisin bread. Estonia food is a mixture of German and Russian foods.

One of the cookies Mrs. Lange remembers is Pffefferneusse. This was made days ahead and allowed to ripen on the top of the tile stove that heated the house.

Mrs. Lange prefers to cook by touch rather than by recipe. She just knows when something is right. She obligingly translated her recipe for Holiday Saffron Bread for us. Later on we shall give you another of her recipes for a fabulous salad.

Mrs. Lange is an artist and hopes someday to complete her training in America. But that must wait until her American son goes to school. Yes, she likes America and Americans whom she thinks are easy to please.

HOLIDAY SAFFRON BREAD
By Mrs. Walter Lange

1 cup lukewarm water
6 teaspoons sugar
1½ teaspoon salt
2-3 eggs
2 cakes yeast (or 2 packages)
3-4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon saffron
Raisins and candied fruit as desired

Soak saffron in ¼ cup hot water, mash it, cover it and let it continue to soak. Mix yeast with ½ cup warm water, ½ teaspoon of sugar and let stand. Mix salt, sugar, eggs, dissolved saffron and yeast into 1 cup lukewarm water. Add flour to make mixture thick as gravy. Let stand 5 minutes.

Add more flour, mixing first in bowl, then putting dough on board or pastry cloth and kneading in rest of flour. Divide dough into 3 pieces. Roll piece thin and brush with melted shortening. Sprinkle on raisins and candied fruit. Roll up dough and twist it. Do the same with the other two pieces.

Braid the three rolls together. Let rise to double on greased pan. Brush with egg yolk, sprinkle with sugar. Bake 30 minutes at 375 degrees.

* * *

Note: If you have a vanilla bean, let it stand 24 hours in the sugar you use to top the braided rolls.

Larger Supplies of Pork Mean Lower Prices

You deserve a good management medal when you choose foods that are presently in ample supply and priced within your weekly food allowance.

Since most pork comes to market during the winter months, a good manager will check pork cuts each week. Those listed as features may be several cents less per pound than usual. If the family can use these cuts, check them when you shop, suggests the Marketing Information Agent. Look at quality and appearance before deciding whether or not they go into your basket.

Winter is also the citrus season. Since supplies are increasing, notice that prices are moving downward. But since supplies are smaller than last year and customer demand is great, don't expect the low prices you found before the Florida freeze last winter.

MEATS AND OTHER PROTEINS

Spareribs are listed at special prices this week, but price per pound is only one guide when buying. The amount of bone and the number a pound will serve are other guides. A pound of spareribs will make 1 1/3 servings. So, spareribs at this week's prices average about 30 cents per serving.

A wide price range is found in rib end and loin end pork roasts. Rib end roasts vary from 12 to 21 cents a serving; loin end roasts from 16 to 25 cents a serving.

Wish to serve ham this week? You will find cost averaging between 25 to 30 cents per serving, depending upon the kind you choose. The large canned hams are less per pound than the smaller sizes. Many porkers mean plenty of bacon and sausage. Retail prices continue at low levels.

If Swiss steak is in your week's plan, which cut of beef will you buy? A blade chuck roast will be 25 to 35 cents a serving; round steak will be 26 to 33.

Lamb supplies are slightly larger, but retail prices remain about the same as last week. A leg roast will be about 23 to 27 cents a serving; a shoulder roast 24 to 28. If you wish a leg of veal it will cost 26 to 34 cents per serving.

Prices of large size eggs decreased slightly again this week. They are now about the same price per pound as the medium size.

Mild cheddar cheese is a protein "buy" at about 50 cents a pound. Three ounces or ten cents worth yields the same amount of protein as a serving of meat.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Citrus is gaining favor. Quality continues to improve and supplies grow larger.

When buying citrus, size is one reason for price differences. The larger the size, the higher the price tag. Florida grapefruit marked 36s, 46s or 54s are extra large or jumbo size. Large sizes are called 64s, medium sizes are 70s and 80s. Small size grapefruit are 96s. The numbers indicate the number of grapefruit packed in the box for shipment.

Apple supplies are still abundant, quality is outstanding and prices are low. A record crop of 2.6 million bushels made McIntosh the leading apple variety for the state for the first time since 1948. Shoppers will find plenty of Jonathans, Northern Spies and Delicious apples also.

Heavier supplies of bananas and slightly lower prices will be good news for most families.

A break in the weather and heavy production is bringing lettuce from warmer climes at 19 to 29 cents a head.

The balance of Michigan's large crop is in storage, but even with this added cost you can serve potatoes for pennies per meal. Some buyers report that quality is the best in years.

CANNED AND FROZEN

December sales of canned and frozen foods continue. Canned meats, juices, soup, peaches and sauerkraut, frozen meat pies, peas, corn and spinach are among those offered this week.

YULETIDE CANDY — Gay packages with semisweet nut roll chunks and pieces of English toffee make appropriate gifts. You can find interesting containers that are inexpensive to hold the candy. Keep some for your own use too.

Candy Will Please a Sweet Tooth

Among "do it yourself" Christmas gifts, delicious candies are tops. We found a semisweet nut roll and an easy English toffee that anyone can make at home—and make well.

Semisweet Nut Roll

Combine and bring to a boil: One cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed; ¼ cup light corn syrup; ¼ cup evaporated milk. Boil 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add and beat until smooth: One teaspoon vanilla; 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semisweet chocolate morsels. Add and mix well: One and one-half cups nuts, coasely chopped.

* * *

Shape on waxed paper in two 12-inch rolls. Roll up and chill. Cut in ½-inch slices. Note: Or you may shape this increscents, logs, etc Roll in coconut, sugar, finely chopped nuts, etc. Then chill. Makes about 1½ pounds.

English Toffee

Combine: Two tablespoons instant coffee, 2 tablespoons water, 2 cups sugar, 1½ cups butter. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Continue cooking over low heat, without stirring, to 280 degrees F.—medium crack stage. Remove from heat. Fold in quickly 1½ cups blanched, toasted almonds. Spread thinly on greased cookie sheets. Cool.

Melt over hot (not boiling) water 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semisweet chocolate morsels. Spread over cooled toffeer. Sprinkle over semi-sweet chocolate ½ cup blanched, toasted almonds, finely chopped. Let stand until sweet chocolate hardens. Break in irregular pieces. Makes about 2¼ pounds.

Dieters Will Welcome Sugarless Pudding

A steamed pudding at Christmas-time may at first seem an old-fashioned idea, but then the reading of Dicken's "Christmas Carol" might be so classified. And who could consider the holiday season complete without hearing once again the plight of Tiny Tim.

This recipe for Steamed Cranberry Pudding, however, has a modern twist. Calories have been streamlined for the benefit of those trying to keep an eye on the scale during the holiday festivities.

Just with the help of Sucaryl, the non-caloric sweetener, one-fourth of the total calories normally found in this recipe have been whittled away. And yet the results are just as sweet and rich-tasting as any that grandmother ever produced.

So here's to happy, low-calorie holiday feastings!

STEAMED CRANBERRY PUDDING

½ cup butter
2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution
1 cup skim milk
3 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well beaten
2 cups cranberries

Cream butter and Sucaryl together; gradualy add milk, then dry ingredients, blended together. Stir in eggs. Fold in cranberries. Pour into a buttered 1-quart mold. Cover with aluminum foil and steam for 1¾ hours.

Makes 15 servings. Each serving contains 157 Calories; 4 grams protein; 7 grams fat; 19.5 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 208 calories.

Spaghetti Sauce Topping

Snacks of hot and cold are good go-togethers. We suggest a hot sandwich and cold drink. Try this sandwich . . . make an open face sandwich by placing 1 slice cheese on each of 4 slices of bread. Arrange on baking sheet and broil until cheese melts. Pour 1 can (10¾ ounces) spaghetti sauce with meat (which has been heated in a saucepan) over the sandwiches. Makes 4 servings.

Mandarin Oranges Accent Pudding

Prepare this dessert in the morning; serve at suppertime.

Double Orange Pudding

1 package orange coconut tapioca pudding mix
Milk
1 can (about 11 ounces) Mandarin oranges
Flaked coconut

Make up pudding mix according to package directions, using amount of milk called for. Chill. Drain oranges; reserve 10 of the sections.

* * *

Fold remaining drained sections into chilled pudding; spoon into serving dishes; garnish with reserved orange sections and flaked coconut. Cover and refrigerate until serving time. Makes 5 servings.

TURKEY ALMOND CROQUETTES — Best croquettes you ever tasted, and better yet, they take most any shape your fingers want to fashion. Here, for a child's plate, it's a Christmas tree — the crisp Nabisco cracker meal crust studded with bright carrot rings and set on a base of green spinach.

Many Nationalities Eat Fish on Christmas

Do you eat fish on Christmas? Many families do. Depending on the part of Italy whence they come, Italians will eat on Christmas eve fried eels, dried cod, squid, razor clams, conch, small snails.

Those of Spanish, Greek or Portuguese origin are likely to have cuttlefish, squid or pulpo. These are of the octopus family. Austrians and Poles will eat carp. Swedish families will have their lutfisk.

Tree Shaped Croquettes

You may have some turkey in the freezer that you don't know how to use. What could be better at this season of the year than to serve turkey croquettes made in the shape of Christmas trees?

These are made with mayonnaise instead of a cream sauce and are baked rather than french fried. Keep the recipe and serve it in appropriate shapes at other holidays.

Turkey Almond Croquettes

2 cups finely chopped turkey
20 saltine crackers, finely rolled (about 1 cup crumbs)
⅔ cup mayonnaise
½ cup almonds, chopped
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Cracker meal

Combine all ingredients except cracker meal. (If too dry, add a little milk.) Divide into 4 portions and mold into any shape you wish —or follow our tree pattern. For that, shape into triangles, and press with fingers to make indentations for boughs.

Coat gently with cracker meal and decorate with small carrot rounds. Bake in hot oven (426 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Serve on base of chopped spinach. Makes 4 trees.

Chop Walnuts for Holiday Food

Nero, if he were alive, would probably look with a mischievous eye at the big supplies of walnuts these days. Legend has it that he used to sit in the theater gallery and toss nuts down on the heads of those below.

It's probably just as well too that folks aren't as superstitious about walnuts as they were in days gone by. People would use walnuts to ward off thunderbolts, fevers and spells.

No one today, of course, recommends walnuts for the uses that Nero or superstitious people made of them. Nowadays, walnuts are widely used in recipes that require a sweet, less-oily nut meat.

English walnuts are flavor favorites. The large, wrinkled nuts have a sweet, creamy interior that blends flavorfully with many other foods.

Coarsely chopped walnuts are more appealing in finished dishes than those finely chopped. Add coarsely chopped walnuts to muffin batter, basic white cakes and waffle batter to vary your menus.

* * *

Sprinkle frosted cakes with chopped walnuts. Interesting designs are easily made by cutting paper to the size of the cake, then cutting out a star, name or other design. Place paper cut over over frosted cake and sprinkle chopped walnuts into the open area. Press nut means into the frosting with fingers before removing the paper.

Green Rice Ring Is Made With Spinach

A rice ring for creamed turkey or to serve with a cheese sauce takes on color and added nutritive value when it's made with frozen chopped spinach.

Allow an hour for this: Bring 2 cups water to boil in top part of double boiler. Add 1 package frozen chopped spinach (undefrosted); 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup unprocessed white rice, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons minced onion, and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Place over boiling water and cover. Cook 1 hour or until rice absorbs water, stirring several times.

Press hot rice mixture into well greased ring mold (5½-cup size). It will make a firm mold on warm chop plate when turned out of ring while hot.

Keep a can of chow mein noodles on your pantry shelf. They dress up creamed ham, chicken or eggs.

Let Prepared Soup Save Time in Pre-Holiday Rush

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Do you realize what a wonderful help canned soups are in planning meals? Not only are they excellent served by themselves but they also are a fine ingredient in other dishes. At this busy season of the year most of us welcome convenience foods.

★ ★ ★

What we ever did without mushroom soup, I don't know. At our house it rarely appears as soup. But it does get on the table as a sauce for ham or salmon loaf.

It is wonderful to pour over browned pork or veal chops before they go into the oven for slow baking. It can be used undiluted instead of thick cream sauce when you make croquettes. You may use it for quick scalloped potatoes.

Slice potatoes in a buttered casserole as for any escalloped dish. Salt and pour over them a can of mushroom soup thinned with milk. Top with bread crumbs, dot with butter and bake at 350 degrees until potatoes are tender.

When you get down to that last cup of chicken or turkey after Christmas, serve it with style as a jellied salad. Cream of chicken soup makes the salad smooth and rich.

Jellied Cheese and Chicken Salad

1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
1 cup water
1½ envelopes unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 cup diced cooked chicken
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper and nutmeg
½ teaspoon worcestershire sauce

Heat soup and 1 cup of water. Add gelatin, softened in the half cup of water. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add gelatin mixture gradually to the cream cheese, blending until smooth. Chill until slightly thickened.

Blend into the mayonnaise or salad dressing. Add chicken, celery, lemon juice, salt, pepper, nutmeg and worcestershire sauce. Pour into 1½ quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold on large plate and surround with lettuce. Makes 8-10 servings.

Some of the newer soups comes in packages, just ready for water and heating. Onion Soup Mix has been a hit because it is delicious in so many different ways. You all know about using it with sour cream, yogurt or cottage cheese as a dip.

This new recipe, Skillet Corn Bread with Sausage, is really two-faced. It is a meal-in-one dish and also a stuffing. Try the main dish version on one of these cold nights.

Skillet Corn Bread

1 pound bulk sausage
1½ cups all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons sage
1 teaspoon thyme
1½ cups cornmeal
1 package onion soup mix
1½ cups chopped celery
¼ cup chopped pimento
3 eggs, beaten
1½ cups milk
½ cup salad oil

Saute sausage until partially browned. Sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt into bowl. Add sage, thyme, corn meal, soup mix, celery and pimento. Stir to blend. Combine eggs, milk, salad oil and sausage then add to flour mixture; stir only to blend.

Line 10 to 11-inch skillet with heavy aluminum foil, pour mixture into foil. Bake in a moderate oven, 400 degrees F., 35 to 40 minutes. Serve as a main dish with gravy or use as a stuffing for turkey or chicken.

NOTE: This may be prepared with 2 boxes corn muffin mix.

Add 2 eggs, 1-1/3 cups milk, 1 package onion soup mix, 1½ cups chopped celery, 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning, ¼ cup chopped pimento and 1 pound sausage which has been sauteed until partially browned.

Stuffing

1½ cups butter
2 quarts crumbled corn bread with sausage
1 cup boiling water
½ cup chopped parsley

Melt butter in a large saucepan or kettle, add bread crumbs and water, then cover. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes until bread is moistened and water is absorbed. Add parsley and toss lightly.

Marry Cheese, Shrimp Finish With Flourish

The flavor of the sea comes into your soup bowl when you make up this recipe: Combine 1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup with 1 soup can milk; heat until thawed. Add ½ cup shredded mild process cheese. Continue heating until melted; stir frequently. If desired, add a dash of Worcestershire sauce to the soup. Makes 4 servings.

HONEY CRANBERRY RELISH — Ginger and honey are new ingredients in this kind of relish. Raisins add their own flavor. If your family doesn't gobble it up immediately, this relish will keep in the refrigerator indefinitely. Use it also in molded salads.

Spicy Fruit Relish Excellent With Meat

It has often been said that relishes make the meal. This one is sure to. It is called Honey Cranberry Relish. Read it; you'll be sure to try it.

Honey Cranberry Relish has all the traits that make a relish a relish—it is tart, attractive, easily served, easily kept, and has the fine feature of pointing up the flavors of the foods it accompanies.

Don't restrict its use to meals of poultry. Both cranberries and honey can be purchased the year around and make excellent fare with roast beef or veal.

And here's a new angle on the Honey-Cranberry Relish. Use it in lemon gelatin in place of any other fruit. Simply add the relish to the gelatin after it has thickened slightly. Then let set. You might also add a little finely diced celery and apple to the simplest of salads to make, but one which looks as if you have spent hours preparing it.

Keep a tightly covered jar of Honey Cranberry Relish on hand for immediate use. It will keep and keep and KEEP! That is, providing your family will let you keep it.

Honey Cranberry Relish

4 cups (1-lb.) fresh cranberries
1 large orange, quartered (remove seeds)
½ cup honey
1 cup raisins
10 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons ginger

Put cranberries and orange through food chopper. Mix with raisins, honey, sugar, ginger. Chill in refrigerator several hours to allow flavors to blend. Makes 2 pints.

Soup Will Fill the Void

Christmas morning, when the small fry are too interested in opening presents to sit still at the breakfast table, keep soup ready in the bright new chafing dish which Santa brought down the chimney the night before. The nourishing soup (tomato made with milk is a good choice) will prevent their spirits from lagging . . . start the day brightly for all. Serve warm date-nut bread and butter with this rosy eye-opener.

Colorful Punch Has Spicy Touch

Please the guests who come to your house for a party during the Christmas season with some delicious refreshments. A sparkling cranberry punch, served from an attractively decorated bowl, and some festive holiday cookies are sure to appeal to your friends.

The punch is an easy one to fix. The ingredients can be readied ahead of time for last minute mixing before the guests arrive. Lemon-lime carbonated beverage adds tangy flavor as well as sparkle to this punch. The flavoring of this beverage comes from the natural oils of lemons and limes and makes it a tasty addition to any holiday punch. Spicy cinnamon accents the flavors of cranberry, orange and lemon juices.

Cranberry Holiday Punch

2 cups water
1½ cups sugar
4 cinnamon sticks
3 cups cranberry juice
2½ cups orange juice
1 cup lemon juice
6 7-ounce bottles lemon-lime carbonated beverage

Simmer water, sugar and cinnamon 10 minutes. Set aside for several hours or overnight to develop the spice flavor. Remove cinnamon from mixture and combine with chilled fruit juices in a large punch bowl. Slowly pour in lemon-lime carbonated beverage. Garnish with orange and lemon slices. Makes about 30 8-ounce punch cups.

Good Planning Saves Dollars for Food

"Sit down and save" is a good rule if you want to cut dollars off the food bill, says the Marketing Information Agent.

Sit down and plan. Plan meals for at least a week ahead and make the shopping list at the same time. Check the cupboards and the refrigerator. What do you have on hand that will fit future menus?

Check prices of fresh, frozen and canned foods. Check the size of packages and cans. Do you know how many servings to expect from each package and can?

It takes time and it may take some study, but it is worth the effort if you can cut dollars off the food bill.

Melted butter or margarine blended with salt, ground black pepper and ground nutmeg adds up to a perfect seasoning for hot cooked green beans.

Homemade Salt Sticks Right With Casserole

Informal entertaining so often calls for a casserole dish and a salad. French bread, crusty hard rolls or salt sticks are the perfect accompaniment because they're so crisp and chewy. Select these appetizing breads at your bakers, or bake bread and rolls at home.

Delicious home-baked Salt Sticks are fun to prepare and eat. After shaping the bread sticks, sprinkle each with coarse salt and caraway seeds as a finishing touch.

Salt Sticks

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
1 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
½ cup undiluted evaporated milk
¼ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons melted shortening
4 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
1 egg white, slightly beaten
Coarse salt
Caraway seeds, optional

Soften yeast in water. Add milk, sugar and shortening. Add enough flour to make a thick batter. Mix well. Add more flour, enough to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until doubled (about 1½ hours).

When light, punch down. Divide dough into small portions and shape into balls. Let rest 10 minutes. Roll each ball under palms of hands to form "sticks," about ½ inch in diameter. (Or divide dough into four portions, shape into balls and let rest 10 minutes.

(Roll each ball of dough into circular shape about ⅛ inch thick. Cut into pie-shaped pieces. Roll up tightly beginning at wide end.) Brush with egg white. Sprinkle with coarse salt and caraway seeds, if desired.

Place on greased baking sheet and let rise until doubled (about 30 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Makes about 3½ dozen rolls.

Dress Up Beef Broth

Dress up your next can of condensed beef broth like this: In covered saucepan, cook ¼ cup finely chopped carrots, ¼ cup finely chopped celery, and 1 tablespoon finely chopped green onion in 1½ cups water until tender. Add 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef broth. Heat and serve to 2 or 3.

Woman, 104, Cheerful, Alert

OXFORD — Mrs. Lottie Findon greets each new day with a song. Although confined to her bed now, she still maintains her cheerful outlook on life. Mrs. Findon is 104 years old.

The sprightly centenarian was born Sept. 21, 1854, in Birmingham, England, and came to Oxford at the age of 10. When she was just 18, she was married to William Findon, and settled in a home across the street from the New York Central Depot.

Mrs. Findon lived there until 14 years ago when she moved into the Bliss Convalescent Home. She and her husband, who died in 1902, started a brewery in Oxford, and Mrs. Findon achieved quite a reputation as a cook among the groups who ate there occasionally.

Although bed-ridden now, Mrs. Findon still cares about her looks. She combs her own hair and primps when she expects company.

Her eyes twinkle when she recalls the years she spent as a dressmaker. "I had a good position making dresses for the ladies in town. Anyone who wanted any repair work or patching done would bring it to me," Mrs. Findon said.

"I was kept busy all the time," she recalled.

Mrs. Pearl Hodges, supervisor of the home, says, "Mrs. Findon is remarkable for her age. She is slightly hard of hearing and wears glasses, but she doesn't miss much that goes on around her.

"Even before she gets her breakfast in the morning, she is singing, and she looks forward to company, so she can visit with them about the good times she has had and the full life she has lived."

7 Townships Respond to Library Invitation

Replies from the seven townships in Oakland County without library service, have indicated favorable action on the invitation to join the North Oakland Library Project, according to director Jean Johnson.

The township boards, expected to make their decision sometime this month, are Addison, Groveland, Oakland, Rose, Springfield, Pontiac and White Lake Townships.

Townships that join the project will have bookmobile service for a three month period next spring, participation in the NOLP area meetings, and speakers and film showings for organizations within the townships.

Supervisors and other officials of these townships are now exploring public opinion within their areas before making their decision to join the NOLP, Miss Johnson said.

A report from four townships participating in the project indicate that Oxford pupils have increased their appreciation of music through library reading material, according to librarian Lillian Crawford.

Milford's librarian, Mrs. Alta Tripp has been swamped with requests for new cards since special book exhibits and inspection invitations were in progress during National Book Week.

Older girls in the Independence Township Library Club of America are helping the smaller girls rehearse for a Christmas play, according to their leader Mrs. Donald Stackable. The group meets each Saturday morning.

A treat is in store for younger patrons of the Holly Township Library. A Christmas story hour is being planned for them, and prizes will be awarded to the two best Christmas posters to be on display, according to librarian Mrs. Hulda Anderson.

A new plan now under consideration by public library boards in north Oakland County, will result in extension of library privileges to residents of all townships participating, if the boards decide to put it into operation.

Libraries that agree to the proposal will be entitled to an extra quota of book loans from the project collection, to compensate for the sums they might otherwise collect from non-resident fees, Miss Johnson concluded.

Group Formed to Fight Costs

Opposes 'Out-of-Line Apportionment' Placed on Eight-Mile Drain

SOUTHFIELD—An organization called the Eight-Mile Road Storm Drain Special Assessment District Tax Paying Assn. has been formed to fight the "out-of-line apportionment of cost of the Eight-Mile drain."

★ ★ ★

Clarence Toonder, 18776 Nadol Rd., who started the movement, will be technical advisor. Howard Coleman, 21200 Telegraph Rd., a member of the Southfield Zoning Appeals Board is chairman; Herbert L. Eleven directors have also been elected.

Toonder, a consultant engineer, said the group has three attorneys on the committee from the the drainage district who will select a legal consultant to represent the people.

Petitions are already being circulated on a house-to-house basis asking support for a court hearing on the unfairness of the apportionment taxpayers in the area will have to pay, Toonder said.

★ ★ ★

He added that normal taxes for the average home owner in the area represent $172 per year in city and county levies.

The special assessment already approved by the county would cost the home owner an additional $460 per year for the next 30 years.

The board of directors will meet again Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Walter Rumkel, 19368 Midway Road.

Farmington Boy Receives Award

Wins Motor Scooter as Best Student at Special School

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A shiny new Cushman motor scooter was presented to Delbert Patterson, 14, of 28505 Middlebelt Rd., last night for graduating at the head of his class in the Farmington Township Police Motor Scooter School. He was one of 62 students enrolled.

The course was designed to train youths in the proper handling of motor scooters so that they will not pose a threat to themselves and others on the road.

Classroom discussions were followed by field tests which included driving on straight and curved surfaces, over an obstacle course and under simulated traffic conditions.

It was on the basis of points earned in driving that Patterson won the motor scooter. It was donated by Dr. Sylvan Broadman, township health officer, along with the Anderson Cushman Scooter Dealers and other merchants in Birmingham.

Fifty-one students received their graduation diplomas last night in ceremonies held at the Wheeler Fire Hall in Farmington Township. The school has been under the direction of Patrolman Earl Teeple of the township force.

He reports that a survey of the students' parents indicates a desire for this type of school and a general feeling that the training being given is ideal.

Teeple added that several police departments in the state have contacted him to learn how they might start a motor scooter school in their own area.

Students who attended the course in Farmington Township came from Orchard Lake, Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham as well as from the township.

Sell Yule Trees Where They Grow

LAKEVILLE—About eight years ago Herbert A. Beyer, 61, sold his coal business in Detroit to take up residence and start raising Christmas trees in this small community in Addison Township.

Beyer and his wife Patricia, 51, say they have "always loved evergreens," so it was only natural for them to select a location which had a large planting of pine and spruce trees to build their new home.

The following spring the Beyers made their first planting of Christmas tree seedlings. They have continued these plantings every year since on their property located at 620 Brewer (33-Mile) Rd.

★ ★ ★

"This Christmas we have our first major crop—about 1,000 trees — which we are selling directly to the customer," Beyer said.

FAMILY AFFAIR

"There are still parents who believe that picking out a Christmas tree should be a family affair. It always delights us to see youngsters go out in the field and choose the one they like best," he added.

Row upon row of spruce and pine trees, planted five to eight feet apart, cover the 46 acres at the rear of the Beyer home.

The trees range from five to eight feet tall and were recently called "the finest trees in Michigan" by a State Department of Agriculture inspector after making a round of nurseries throughout the state.

★ ★ ★

Beyer has hardly had a spare minute to grab a bite of lunch any Cars filled with eager-eyed children turn into the Beyer driveway in a steady stream these days as the festive holiday approaches.

'WE'LL BE SWAMPED'

"The extreme cold doesn't seem to stop people from coming out, and I bet next weekend we'll be swamped," Beyer said.

The former coal dealer has a stalwart right-hand man to help him every weekend. He is his son-in-law, Gerald Lawrence — six feet, eight inches tall, who is an engineer at Continental Motors in Detroit.

weekend since early in November.

Between the two of them—and their wives—they have been able to handle their customers, cut the trees on the spot or tag them for future pickup.

★ ★ ★

The Beyers have three daughters, a son and six grandchildren. One daughter, Mrs. Lawrence, who is a Detroit school teacher, and her husband are building a home of their own behind the Beyers' and are living with her parents until it is finished.

ALSO STAMP DEALER

Besides raising Christmas trees, Beyer is a stamp dealer. He used to sell stamps at his coal office in Detroit. Now he does 95 per cent of his business by mail from his home.

Referring enthusiastically to his Christmas tree business, the Lakeville nurseryman said, "We think people appreciate trees that have received individual care and attention like our trees have."

"My wife and I put in a lot of hard work and love in bringing these trees to maturity. And it's worth every minute when we realize what joy they will bring area families at Christmas time."

RAISES CHRISTMAS TREES — Herbert A. Beyer, 620 Brewer (33 Mile Rd.), Lakeville, beams proudly as he finishes sawing down a pine Christmas tree which will delight some area family during the coming holidays. Beyer, a former Detroit coal dealer, began raising evergreens about eight years ago, and has his first major crop — 1,000 trees — this season.

Man Confesses Beating Clerk

Seeking a Motive

BERKLEY — Although William H. Budry, 25, has confessed the pistol-whipping Tuesday of a woman clerk at the Piggy Bank Cleaners, 2829 Coolidge Highway, Berkley police are still trying to establish a motive.

★ ★ ★

Budry, who lives at 3665 Oakshire, admitted beating Mrs. Marguerite Baker, 37, of 2130 Highland St., Ferndale, late yesterday afternoon after telling police he threw a pistol away in the Walled Lake Amusement Park area. Police are still searching for the weapon.

Mrs. Baker is recovering from multiple lacerations today at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Police are holding Budry, a bottler for the Brown Creamery of Royal Oak. Officers say Budry entered the cleaning shop Tuesday night, threatened to kill Mrs. Baker, beat her with a pistol and tied her up.

★ ★ ★

Her screams attracted the attention of Walter Knopka who operates a real estate office two doors down from the cleaners. Knopka ran into the store and grabbed the assailant's wrist as he was leaving.

The man got away but Knopka was able to obtain the license number of his car and furnished a description to Berkley police.

Budry was arrested a few hours later by Novi police when he appeared at a general maintenance shop of Walled Lake Amusement Park with blood on one hand and on his shirt-sleeve.

Everyone Adores Praise

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I attended a lecture recently given by an important South American woman. There were roughly 200 people present. I enjoyed her topic, and her, so much that after the lecture I wanted to try to meet her and tell her how much I enjoyed her interesting talk. But several friends who were with me said it would be incorrect at such a large gathering.

"I still maintain that it would have been not only correct but that she would probably have appreciated the gesture. What do you say about this?"

Answer: I agree with you that lecturers are always pleased to receive approving comments from members of their audience—and the more the better.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband owns a restaurant and very often I go there for meals. I would like to know if I am supposed to tip the waiter who serves me."

Answer: A tip from the proprietor's wife will hardly be expected, but if you give a waiter much extra war; it would be kind to give him something. This might be a Christmas present.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When should passengers in a crowded elevator give an indication that they intend to get off? Certain ones standing in the back of the car never seem to do anything about it until the door opens and then they all but knock everyone down in their haste."

Answer: If back in the car, you should announce your intention as the operator closes the door on the preceding floor.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me which would be the proper date to celebrate a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in this situation: The couple were married and divorced and remarried after a few years. Would it be proper to disregard the years they were divorced and celebrate their original wedding date?"

Answer: They should celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the date of their first marriage.

Work's Easier When Moving Body Properly

Use your body properly when you do your housework. It not only makes work easier but you'll look and feel better, too, says a home management specialist at Michigan State University.

Think of your body segments as building blocks. If each block is set directly over the other, balance is good and the blocks readily stay in place. Your body is much the same.

If the segments are in line, there is little strain. But if one part of the body sags out of line, other parts are strained to keep it in balance. So for comfort and grace try to stand or sit with back straight and shoulders relaxed while working.

Hypnotism Suggested to Reduce

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — If you're overweight and have tried 10-day diets, pills and fads without success, a Phoenis, Ariz., psychiatrist has a suggestion:

Get yourself hypnotized!

President of the American Society of Clinical Hypnotists, the doctor made that suggestion at a clinical symposium.

The advice is aimed at persons whose plumpness stems primarily from inability to control the urge to overeat.

He did not say that hypnotism will cure all obesity. The brand of hypnotism he talked about is "medical hypnotism" —not stage or purely entertaining hypnotism.

When the hypnotic power of suggestion is used on susceptible overweight persons they will "respond to the command to eat smaller portions."

"They'll do it automatically, after hypnosis, and feel just as full as ever," said the psychiatrist.

Culture Program Hits Delinquency

NEW YORK (UPI)—If children grow up to love their city, they won't tear it to pieces as delinquents, says a dramatics teacher.

Working on this theory, Miss Laura King founded a unique cultural-civic program for grade-school and junior-high students.

The junior theater forum and allied arts program is designed to give children a balance of music, art, drama, the dance and civic affairs, plus a chance to know their community.

Children of all races and creeds meet after school to visit New York's museums, libraries, newspaper plants, city hall, the New York City Ballet in rehearsal and the Metropolitan Opera.

As many as 200 children have made the trip at once, but most places request only 20 or 25 at a time. Youngsters from 9 to 16 can participate.

★ ★ ★

"This is not training for Hollywood, it's for daily living. We have the actors, but we need more audiences," Miss King said.

"I started the program because I think children should have a place of dignity in the world. The trips build character, good citizenship, and gracious living. The earlier children realize they are citizens, with a place of significance in the community, the sooner they will feel themselves a part of it and take an interest in preserving its beauty," said Miss King.

She recruits children from public schools and settlement houses, gets help from parents and teachers. But funds are limited. Miss King often walks miles in the rain to save a 10-cent phone call.

"It was hard at first. I went along each day as God willed. I don't know how we'll continue, but we've certainly grown—like sputnik," she said.

The results?

MANNERS IMPROVE

"The children are so much better behaved — regular little ladies and gentlemen. In the Bronx, one group got so excited about the theater that the children formed their own drama group. They follow up the tours by reading, listening to records and looking at paintings at home.

"And it's wonderful for the grownups who go along. We see the world fresh again through a child. You know how adults struggle to find some deep meaning in art? Well, we were looking at one painting and I asked the children for their interpretations.

"One child said: 'A goat laying an egg.' And that's just what it did look like."

Presbyterian Group Has Installation

New officers of the November Group of First Presbyterian Church were installed Wednesday evening at the meeting of the group held at the Pioneer drive home of Mrs. Leslie Ellis.

They are Mrs. Lester Carlson, chairman; Mrs. Robert Pritchett, vice chairman; Mrs. Clyde Herring, secretary and Mrs. Lowell Armstrong, treasurer.

Mrs. Robert Boggs told a Christmas story.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Wallace Schlorke, Mrs. Kenneth Carlson, Mrs. Philip Proud, Mrs. William Nesbitt, Marilyn Main, Mrs. Robert Davis and Mrs. Richard Marsh.

Diet for Teenagers

'Quickie 999' Is Filling, Flavorful, Effective!

By RUTH WEST

Surely everyone in America has found out by now, from frustrating experience, that dieting as a way of permanently taking off pounds is for the birds.

But diets have a place, nevertheless. If one gets too discouraged, one gets demoralized, hopeless. Or worse—off on a despairing eating binge. One has to have hope.

★ ★ ★

Anyway, when that time comes when you feel you've just got to drop a few pounds in a hurry, I am going to give you two quick diets that will do it. They're both ridiculously simple.

EASY, FAST

I don't think you'll find these diets tiresome, because they're so good, and so good-looking. You may even want to go back to them for a meal or a day at a time, every so often.

However, don't do the whole two days more than once every few weeks. No limited diet is desirable for mroe than a few days, except under a doctor's close supervision. And, as you'll discover, limited diets don't work, as a way of getting slim and staying slim.

But as a morale-builder, an encourager, this 999 Diet is spectacular. You take in 144 grams of protein per day and only 999 calories for all three meals.

That amount of protein is almost twice the amount your body needs for its care-and-repair job, which may be why that 999 calories actually takes weight off faster than if you ate nothing at all. Hard to believe? Well, see for yourself!

8 Ounces of cottage cheese	215 calories
1 Medium-size sliced orange	70 calories
4 Whole rye crackers (with a miniature marshmallow melted on top of each, if you like)	48 calories
Plain tea or coffee	00 calories
Total per meal	333 calories

That's breakfast. Also lunch and dinner. Breakfast and dinner are easy. Take lunch to school if you can. A wide mouthed vacuum jar will keep the orange and cheese cool. Take your crackers with you in a little box. Eat your marshmallows for dessert or at recess, untoasted.

Take them with you if you're eating out; and order two orders of cottage cheese, or three—or however many it takes to approximate a cupful. The orange is always easy—and if it isn't sliced, you'll live.

You can make six meals of the 999 Diet by dividing each in half, if you prefer.

SUBSTITUTE TOMATOES

You can substitute two big sliced tomatoes for the orange. You can munch on raw carrots, celery, or green pepper sticks between meals. You can chew gum.

★ ★ ★

But you'll be surprised at how un-hungry you are. That's because cottage cheese, being milk in solid form (minus most of its fat) is such a powerhouse of energy. You're taking in the protein equivalent of 24 frankfurters, so it's not odd that you feel amazingly well-fed.

★ ★ ★

The more you exercise, the more you'll lose. But even if you don't do anything much these two days, you'll lose not less than two pounds, and quite likely more: three, four—even five pounds!

Eat everything in the diet. Everything's there for a good weight-losing, pleasure-giving, skin-clearing reason.

With the creamy, bland-tasting cottage cheese, the combination of the orange's fresh sweetness and the crisp fragrant crackers is so good it's habit-forming. You'll get so you'd rather be eating it than anything else.

You may want to sweeten your orange, or make it wetter. For this, I suggest liquid Sucaryl. Or ¼ of an envelope of sugarless gelatin dissolved in half a cup of hot water. That's three calories more, but you won't get fat on that.

★ ★ ★

Try this 999 Diet one day. When you weight yourself the morning of the second day, you may find you've lost two or even three pounds; it's not unusual. Some people do their big losing the second day.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, if this kept up, you'd be down to zero in three months! So you see, this is the time to stop—while you're ahead!

And carry on with your life problem of learning to lose weight steadily, while eating along with your family and friends. Because, like all reducing diets, the 999 Diet has the disadvantage of making you eat what other people aren't eating.

Results of the room contest were Mrs. Nettie Fout's room, first; Mrs. Elizabeth Wood's room, second; and Mrs. Cora Scott's room, third. Mrs. Wood's room also won the attendance prize for the evening.

Mrs. Phillip Muttersbaugh gave the school a decorated cart made by her husband.

Cake Pan Size Is Important

Cake bakers learn from experience that the size of the cake pan is important. If it is too small, the batter usually runs over the edges.

Or even, worse, a cake may fall in the center. A too-large pan causes the cake to be small, and also the crumbs will be dry.

DRESS RIGHT — When you look your best, you do your best.

Otherwise, Remove Distractions — Abby

Let Them Study With Radio Blasting on Condition They Get All-A Grades

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: I have two teenage youngsters who study with the radio, TV and sometimes the record-player going full blast. They say all the kids do it and they can study better with it on. Do you think I should put a stop to it?" AVERAGE MOTHER

DEAR AVERAGE: If the children bring home all "A's" . . . by all means let them study any way they choose, BUT, if their grades could be improved—help them by removing all distractions.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My boy friend has a terrible habit of swearing every time he gets mad. Whenever I correct him he says he will stop swearing when I stop smoking. He doesn't smoke. Have you any suggestions?" SUSY

DEAR SUSY: Make a deal with him. Tell him you won't smoke in his presence if he won't swear in yours.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with an eight-year-old son. I met a very attractive man where I work (I am a waitress) about a year ago and we started going out together. He wants to marry me. The only thing I have against him is that he was married twice and divorced twice.

"Two of his children by his second marriage go to the same school my son goes to and these children bear his name. I have explained this relationship to my own son. He says, 'Mommy, if Billy and Bobby's Mamma couldn't stay married to him, why don't you call her up and ask her why?' Do you think I dare? I have never met her." TEMPTED

DEAR TEMPTED: "From the mouths of babes . . ." What have you got to lose?

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who comes from a well-to-do prominent (please don't use my name) family. I make friends easily and enjoy mixing with people and going places. I am in love with a fellow who is exactly the opposite in every way. He comes from very poor, uneducated people and their reputation is quite bad. He doesn't want to meet or be with people. I know he loves me, Abby, because I understand him. We can't stay away from each other. They say 'opposites attract.' What are our chances for a happy marriage?" JANE DOE

DEAR JANE: Opposites attract—trouble! The more you have in common, the better your chances are for a happy marriage.

"DEAR ABBY: Regarding brides in white gowns and veils. I think you are wrong, Abby. Many girls are pure in heart but have made one mistake. If the color WHITE is the symbol of chastity, no wonder so many men wear dark suits." "VI"

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: A very good friend of ours (whose name I won't mention) talks about nothing but her aches and pains, but in great detail. We are so sick of hearing about her kidneys, liver and heart that we don't know what to do. Is there any subtle way of telling her that her friends are not interested in all that stuff?" HER BEST FRIEND

DEAR BEST: When she's in a good mood, get her aside and tell her that the only place for an "organ recital" is in church.

With Husband's Blessing

Claudette Moves House, Winds Up in Hit Play

NEW YORK (NEA) — Some wives move heaven and earth to win over their husbands. Claudette Colbert merely moved her rambling Georgian home — 100 feet.

With this her spouse of 26 years threw up his hands in mock despair and said, "For heaven's sake, Claudette, do a Broadway play and get it off your chest."

So, with her doctor-husband's blessing, Miss Colbert this fall faced a New York opening night audience for the first time since 1929, when, with Wall Street crashing around everyone's ears, she had packed her bags and headed for Hollywood.

WON OSCAR

Once there, she picked up an Oscar and was named a top money-earner several times.

Although Dr. Joel Pressman, professor of surgery at UCLA, has called her Mrs. for 26 years, Miss Colbert has had a series of debonair and often delinquent "screen husbands."

★ ★ ★

Among them, of course, is her present stage husband, Charles Boyer. This is their first time together on the stage, and the sophisticated comedy "Marriage-Go-Round" is tailored to their special talents.

★ ★ ★

The Leslie Stevens play revolves around an urbane Frenchman who also is a professor of cultural anthropology, his wife who is dean of women, and a Swedish miss who stalks the professor with eugenic union on her mind.

★ ★ ★

The professors are very adult and smug about how to have a perfect marriage, until theirs is threatened. All turns out well in the end, however, and everyone has a good laugh.

"Which," Miss Colbert says, "proves it takes humor to make a good marriage. There should be more of it in more marriages and more understanding on the part of wives. Of course, it works both ways.

★ ★ ★

"I don't consider myself a marriage expert, but I really don't believe American men are suffering because their wives work, for example.

"In fact, a working wife is glad to get home after a day at the office. Whereas, a woman who stays home all day would love to get out of the place.

"I run my home and would get down and scrub the floors . . . if I had to."

GOT RESTLESS

She explains the house moving with:

"I was restless. I hadn't made a movie in three years and my television appearances didn't fill the gap. I got this idea that if I moved the big house to one side of our lot, we might sell it and live in the guest house. But after I had moved the house, Joel decided that after living in it for 23 years, he didn't want to move out."

The former Lilly Chauchoin of France has opened the doors of so many homes during her movie career that her fans would feel at home if she opened a door for them to her Park Avenue apartment. The throaty laugh, trim figure and shadow of bangs framing her face haven't changed.

★ ★ ★

Moving about in green slacks and a brown chiffon blouse, she pooh-poohed the idea that a switch from before a camera to a live audience was difficult.

"After all, I was on the stage five years before going to Hollywood.

★ ★ ★

Besides, it was a great joy. "In movies you do scenes by bits. It was such a relief to start talking on stage—and not have to stop."

There isn't a movie role set to follow "Marriage-Go-Round" but that doesn't bother her at all.

"I never plan anything anymore because nothing I've planned ever worked out. Everything good in my life came on the spur of the moment."

Creaming and Sleep Aid Eyes

The circles and puffiness which detract from eye beauty are real problems to many women. They can, of course, be concealed by make-up to a degree.

To some extent, both seem to be hereditary and both seem to become more noticeable with the passing years. The reason for this, of course, is that the skin becomes looser around the eyes.

★ ★ ★

While surgery can sometimes be used to remove the puffiness, this is a method most women will not contemplate. But there are two very practical things to be done about both dark circles and puffiness: enough sleep and a tender creaming of that thin skin around the eyes. Both will help.

★ ★ ★

Cold water helps, too, because it acts as a bracer for the skin. And finally, the right diet and careful make-up will be further helps. Make-up in this area should always be applied with care. Use the end of the little finger and put on make-up lightly.

Still 'Man's World'

Fair Sex Takes Trimming on Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In spite of the growing number of states with equal-pay laws for women, the fair sex still takes a trimming in pay checks, compared with males holding similar jobs.

A Labor Department report showed that women clerical workers, who make up 30 per cent of all women workers, came closest to matching males in salaries. But the ladies' median earnings were only about three fourths that of pay received by men in the same occupational category.

SALES JOBS LOWEST

Women sales workers, 7 per cent of all women workers, were at the bottom of the ladder in the job-pay comparison, earning only about two-fifths as much as men in similar jobs.

★ ★ ★

The study, based in part on intensive surveys conducted in 1956, also showed that while education is an important determinant of income for both men and women, men with the same amount of education as ex-coeds came off better in post-school salaries.

For example, the median income for women with four or more years of college and full-time jobs was $3,809, compared with $6,980 for men of comparable schooling and working full time.

★ ★ ★

The Labor Department booklet notes that many women are concentrated in traditionally low-paying occupations and relatively low wage industries. When men and women have similar jobs, women are usually in the lower-pay brackets.

LOSE SENIORITY

"Since many women leave the labor force for marriage and family reasons, and return when their responsibilities decrease, they often lack job seniority and work experience needed to qualify them for advancement," the booklet said.

★ ★ ★

Figures on women in the federal government seem to bear this out.

Of 533,802 women working for the government — 25 per cent of all federal employes — 85 per cent ranked in grades 5 and below, and less than 3 per cent in grades 12 and above.

★ ★ ★

The average length of service was 11.3 years for men and 7.6 for women. Employes with less than 5 years of service included 41 per cent of the women and 16 per cent of the men.

MICHIGAN PIONEERED

Michigan and Montana adopted equal pay laws in 1919, but were alone in the field for nearly 25 years until World War II. California and Nebraska took the step in 1957 and brought the roster to its present number — 17 states.

But the Labor Department reports that women "consistently" have lower average earnings than men in each of the major retail trade groups.

The greatest difference is in department stores, where women average $1.15 an hour and men $1.74; and in drugstores, where women average 95 cents and men, $1.54.

★ ★ ★

Some consolation, however, is offered by the report of a New York Stock exchange survey. The survey noted that almost 52 per cent of the individual shareholders of publicly-owned corporations were women—underpaid or not.

What Young People Think

Parents Relying on Teeners' Aid in Old Age

By EUGENE GILBERT
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Even more than you young people may realize, parents are counting on you as pillars of their old age.

★ ★ ★

In another one of our turn-about surveys, we have discovered that nine out of ten of them expect their children to pay their bills if necessary when they are old.

One reason (and this may come as a shock also) is that a majority of parents regard their children as more sophisticated, better educated, more secure than they were at the same age. They even expect them to become better parents.

The parents we talked to were very blunt about the children's "duty" to pay the bills for Mom and Dad, and to open their homes.

Eight out of ten parents are ready to move right in with their children if it becomes necessary. "I think all older folks should live with their married children," says Mrs. Thomas Gerhart, of Chicago.

Mrs. Nancy Breckenridge, of Atlanta, wants to live "surrounded by my grandchildren."

SOME INDEPENDENT

But the minority who want no part of this shared home are equally vehement.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't give birth to three children to try to make their lives unpleasant," says Mrs. Louise Watson, of Salem, Oregon. "So I don't plan ever to move in on them in my dotage."

Sensitive to this problem of three generations in one house is Mrs. Edgar G. Healy, Chickisaw, Ala., who comments,

"Families are better off alone—everyone will be happier if grandmother lives away from them, and visits when it is convenient."

★ ★ ★

While voting by a majority of 56 per cent that today's young people will make better parents than they themselves, the parents gave an 80 per cent majority nevertheless to the proposition that the teeners are more in need of parental control—perhaps a commentary on today's confused living as much as on the youngsters' ability to handle their own lives.

The breakdown runs like this:

Seventy per cent say their children are more sophisticated; 98 per cent, more secure; 52 per cent, more mature; 91 per cent, better educated; 60 per cent, more selfish; and 8 per cent, more unruly.

Seventy-seven per cent feel their children are less demonstrative, but in spite of this think they are close to their children—in terms of understanding.

They reiterated the feeling of Mrs. Florence Rankin, Norwood, O., who said, "We understand each other—we are companionable and compatible."

★ ★ ★

The parents think improved education will enable the youngsters to be still more successful parents when their turn comes.

Frank discussion within the family group is invaluable in preparing teenagers for parenthood, say their fathers and mothers. Robert Loffert, of Los Angeles, Calif., who has three children, asserts,

"They are participating in our parental problems and can gain understanding."

Mrs. Carl Carlson, of Fergus Falls, Minn., has a different slant. She feels marrying at a younger age helps make for better parenthood. "They are having children younger and are growing up with them," she comments.

Parents are willing to confess that they have made mistakes, and many express the conviction that their children will profit by them.

★ ★ ★

But the minority group don't hold to this optimistic view. Parents will be parents, and kids, kids, no matter what. "No one can tell me human nature ever changes," is the comment of John Cottswold, Butte, Mont.

Consider Opinion's Source

By ALICIA HART

At a gathering of women the other day, a friend who had just successfully shed 15 pounds on a diet became upset at remarks made by another friend.

★ ★ ★

The second woman remarked that she couldn't see why she had bothered to lose all that weight since she had looked much better before she dieted. What the dieter failed to take into account was that her friend is about 40 pounds overweight herself and therefore not a reliable source of opinion.

★ ★ ★

In dieting or changing a hairdo or switching to a new fashion color, it doesn't pay to lean too heavily on the opinion of friends. Often, they are colored by personal feeling. The fatty was made uncomfortable by the fact that her friend had disciplined herself sufficiently to take off weight while she herself was still waddling about.

But she couldn't bring herself to say so. Rather, she took out her discomfort in criticism.

When a girl buys a dress she isn't worried about the hemline as much as she is about the Hmmmmmline . . . Some of the new cars have so many dashboard buttons that if anything goes wrong you don't send it to a garage—you send it to a tailor. —Earl Wilson.

Large roses in blended shades of red, purple and white give a festive air to this black silk twill afternoon dress from the holiday collection of Suzy Perette. There is a fringed bow at the sweetheart neckline and the long torso swings into the rounded wide skirt.

Preserve Precious Perfume

Preserve your precious perfume from waste by being on guard against light, heat and air, says Max Factor the well-known Hollywood beauty authority.

★ ★ ★

After applying perfume, return the bottle to the dark package in which it came. Keep your excess perfume in a clothes closet or some other spot where excessive or changing room heat does not reach it. To make it impossible for air to sneak into the bottle, lock the stopper by gently twisting it into place.

Do not be satisfied until the ground surfaces or "threads" are lined up with the grooves in the bottle's neck. To loosen the grip, tap the stopper lightly against glass. The vibration will release the stubborn grip, which is your best insurance against evaporation.

Stress Good Grooming on Job

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many housewives land jobs in their local retail stores to help with the Christmas rush. These temporary jobs are fun because they are a change of pace, and of course they also provide some extra Christmas money. It is stimulating for a woman who spends much of her time at home to meet the public.

It is just as well to give a thought, however, to the extra demands upon the homemaker who must suddenly turn herself out neat and trim on time. Good grooming is absolutely essential in order that she be a credit to the store and have self-confidence in herself.

Whatever beauty and grooming routines she has been following should be stepped up, but most of all, they must be planned. There will be even less time for them than usual and the routine will be less flexible. A shampoo cannot be postponed from one evening to the next morning. Nails must get even more attention than usual. Carelessness in such matters will be inexcusable.

You may find this job much more tiring than your housework because you probably will be on your feet for longer hours, without rest, than usual. Then, too, standing is much more tiring than walking about. Attractive but comfortable shoes are of the greatest importance.

If you have been addicted to showers, you should switch for the time being because there is nothing more restful than a warm, soapy soak in a tub. If you find that you do not have time for a long, leisurely bath before dinner, a ten minute foot soaking will do wonders for your tired underpinnings. You can use the tub or a basin. Have the water warm and soapy. This soothes and softens the feet.

If you have an extra Christmas job, you will have to be efficient in the care of your clothing. Clothes should be brushed and hung up the minute you take them off. Blouses and lingerie should be put in the washing machine or to soak in suds immediately. If you must invest in some new garments you will find the drip dries a great help.

It also will help if you delegate certain household cuties to the various members of your family. One might make up beds, another wash the dishes and so forth. If the whole family pitches in, mother can handle the outside job without too much fatigue for a while.

—Tomorrow: "Teen-Ager's in Trouble; She Lost Her Figure."

Early Steady Dating Still Is Dynamite

By RUTH MILLETT

"Go right on telling parents how foolish they are to let their teen-agers go steady," writes the dean of girls at a large city high school.

"So far this school year six of OUR senior girls have dropped out because they had to get married. Every one of them is from a good home. Every one is a smart, attractive girl without personality problems.

"They are the kind of girls it 'just couldn't happen to'—but it did. Needless to say, their parents are heartbroken and are asking themselves, 'Where did we fail?'

"I think I can tell them where they failed, but it is too late to help them. They failed when they went against their better judgment and let their daughters start going steady at 14 or 15.

"They failed when they refused to take these teen-age crushes seriously enough to foresee what might happen.

"Next year more girls will make the same tragic mistake that these girls made—and for the same reason, that their parents have let them try to handle emotional situations they aren't old enough to handle wisely.

"When are parents going to wake up? Why do they stick their heads in the sand and think that all they can do is hope their daughter has more character and more sense than the girls who have to drop out of school each year?

"I can tell them that they ought to do more than hope for the best. They ought to protect their daughters by refusing to let them make one boy their whole life.

"I know parents say they can't buck the trend of the times. But I think they are underestimating themselves. All they need to do is stick together and they could put a stop to this too-early steady dating.

"Keep telling them that—and maybe it will finally sink in."

Philathea Class Has Yule Party

Seventeen members were present at the meeting of the Metro Missionary Circle of Emmanuel Baptist Church, held at the home of Mrs. Thurman Floyd on Cameron avenue.

The group rolled bandages for a leprosarium in Ethiopia at the Tuesday gathering.

Consider Tot's Nerves as You Plan His Room

If you get baby off to a good start, you'll find he'll be easier to handle as he grows older.

It's a good idea to make sure that his play room is away from house traffic, the telephone and street distractions.

Rugs or sound muffling flooring material like rubber tile are good choices for the nursery, and shades or other blinds help keep out the early morning light from the window.

To "blanch" a food, dip it in boiling water and then plunge it into cold water.

An all-purpose dress — good for work or play — is this bright red wool jersey with a soft pleated skirt. The sweater top has a high neckline and the waist is trimmed with a self-belt.

Ever add grated orange rind to package lemon pudding-and-pie filling mix? Nice flavor change!

Bad Times Don't Really Outweigh Good

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

John is 4. Mike is about 2 years old.

Soon after their parents introduced us, they invited me to inspect their treasure chests. Mike leaned against my arm while John filled my lap with airplanes, toy autos, train tracks and conductor's cap. Mike gazed meditatively and tolerantly upon us, as his brother interpreted their merits to me.

When John, finally exhausting his toy box, said, "Mike's got a frog that squeaks," his younger brother trotted over to his box, and hauling out his frog, started his parade of books, stuffed animals and old pot lids.

Twenty minutes later we rejoined the grownups, John brandishing a pistol to which he is especially attached.

As I sat down, Mike made a lunge for it. John knocked him down. As their mother rushed to Mike, she looked to me over his head to ask with mingled anxiety and embarrassment, "What do you do about that? It goes on all the time."

Now, we really resent people who give us the answers to our problems. So in social situations, I evade questions like this. But this time I answered.

I said, "How can that be so? It can't go on all the time. I've just finished watching a 20-minute display of your little boys' respect and tolerance of each other."

Our hostess treated me with an awe for the rest of the afternoon that made me horribly uncomfortable. For in my observation of her children there had been nothing remarkable. It just seemed remarkable to her because she has no eyes for their respect and tolerance.

For reasons which have to do with our anxieties about ourselves, we are often blind to the respectful tolerance which children mix with their jealousy of each other.

We use their happy times of mutual acceptance to fret about ourselves. So we don't register these times as happy and good.

We only register the yelling moments because they force us out of our preoccupation — and invest them with the importance of the fears and resentments we have been feeling ourselves. We say helplessly to anyone who'll listen, "This goes on all the time."

★ ★ ★

But where it does go on all the time is in ourselves.

Indian Legend Foretold Bridge

'Big Mac' Not New Idea

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The dream to link Michigan's two peninsulas is not new.

Although it came true just last year, the Mackinac Bridge dream dates back deep into ancient Chippewa Indian lore.

The legend, as recreated by University of Michigan historians, told of an Indian brave who would someday chop down a huge pine tree. The Indian, the story goes, would bridge the five-mile gap across the Straits of Mackinac with his timber.

When the dream finally came to life, it wasn't a tree, but concrete and steel that made it reality.

The new bridge, built at a cost of about 100 million dollars, was voted the leading sightseeing attraction in the state by the University of Michigan faculty.

Prof. Charles Davis, head of the university's geography department, attributed the bridge's newness to its popularity and first place finish in the poll.

"People in the state followed the bridge episode from the first bond issue to its dedication," said Davis, "and they're still going up to eye the structure in great numbers.

"It's true that the bridge is a great engineering triumph in its own right. But it's a one-shot sort of thing. When you've seen it, you've seen it. It isn't like the Grand Canyon where one can spend days.

"After having crossed on the ferries, the trip by bridge is really carefree. But I think the ferries, too, were a major tourist attraction. And certainly persons crossing by ferry or airplane now would get a better idea of Big Mac's magnificence."

Senators Against New Labor Party

George Meany's Hint About Politics Rapped by Dems, GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany's statement that the American labor movement may launch its own political party drew critical comment today from senators of both major parties.

Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, told a New York state labor convention Tuesday that organized labor will form its own party "if we have to do that to lick the people who want to drag us back to the past."

★ ★ ★

Senators commented generally in interviews that labor would do better to work through the present two-party system, and that formation of a special-interest party would be undesirable and wrong.

Some of their criticisms paralleled that of Walter Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president and head of the United Auto Workers, who told a news conference he thought Meany had been misundrstood.

"The American labor movement is committed to work within the framework of the two-party system," Reuther said. "I think a labor party is wrong in terms of America's social structure. It only would further fragmentize our society."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) hoped no labor party movement would be started, but added that "it is up to us in the two major political parties to have a broad enough base" to offer organized labor adequate representation.

Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb) said he thinks both the Democratic and Republican parties already have a broad enough base for the purpose. He said he is opposed in general to forming "political parties with occupational or class distinction."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) contended the two party system has proved itself, and said that countries with multiple parties wound up with "government by a minority — it has not worked out in the interests of the public." He cited France as an example.

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) said he would regard a labor party movement as undesirable.

Couple Wed 80 Years Has Said Daily Prayer.

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP) — All the days of their married life have started with a prayer, and today—their 80th wedding anniversary—was no exception for Peter and Celestia Peterson.

He is 98 and she is 97.

This central Utah town honored the couple with a testimonial dinner Wednesday night. A tape recording was made and will be played to them today because they couldn't make it to the dinner. Both are hard of hearing.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Otis Nielsen and Apostle LeGrand Richards of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church called their lives and marriage a shining example of love and devotion.

They were married Dec. 11, 1878, in St. George, Utah, 25 miles southwest of here.

"My wedding dress had ribbons on it, but Peter took them off," recalls the silver-haired Mrs. Peterson. "He said, 'You're pretty enough without those.'"

★ ★ ★

Peterson, then a strapping 18-year-old farmer, had driven a wagon load of grain eight days to get to St. George from here. The grain was sold to pay for their wedding journey, another eight-day trip by horse-drawn wagon through rugged mountainous country only recently cleared of hostile Indians.

Peterson credits their longevity to plain living and the fact that neither he nor his wife ever smoked or drank.

★ ★ ★

"We have always lived congenially," he said.

They have 253 blood descendants. Adding those related by marriage, the family tree numbers 326.

"I gave birth to 10 sons and daughters and only had a doctor for one of them," says Mrs. Peterson. Seven of the 10 survive and are among those honoring their parents today.

Why Did Man Become Santa?

A 'Good Guy' Banker Gives Nearly $1 Million With Worthless Checks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What made banker John Petersen become the Santa Claus of Sun Valley?

Investigators probing the tangled records of the Sun Valley National Bank haven't found the answer.

Fourteen persons got nearly a million dollars from the suburban bank with worthless checks because of Petersen's "good guy" approach to banking, a prosecutor said Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

"Petersen hasn't told us his whole story yet," U.S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters said. "The incredible thing is why he did it."

One depositor is accused of having cashed checks totaling $296,067 on an account containing $131. Another assertedly cashed more than $129,000 with 301 checks on an account overdrawn $43.50.

Petersen, 49, a mild-mannered former vice president and cashier at the bank, assertedly paid off the worthless checks and then hid them around the bank so they would not be charged.

Petersen cashed 151 checks totaling $7,880 for himself from an account that showed $6.74, Waters said.

"Without excusing Petersen," Waters said, "I'd say he was a victim of circumstances. When others learned that he was a good guy to his friends they demanded he hold checks for them, too, and before long he was enmeshed in an avalanche of uncovered checks."

★ ★ ★

Arraigned on charges of aiding and abetting Petersen were the bank's president, assistant cashier and chairman of its loan committee, and a dozen San Fernando Valley businessmen.

Petersen is charged with making a false bank record.

Dog Still There After 6 Weeks in Traffic Circle

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Mongrel dogs don't usually attract very much attention.

But one has here. He's medium-sized, reddish brown, not especially distinctive — and he sits quietly in a grassy strip, surrounded by roaring traffic.

He's been there for about six weeks.

"The dog," as he is now called by workers in the area, was abandoned at the New Brunswick traffic circle by his master. He is apparently waiting for his master to return.

★ ★ ★

Food has been no problem. Employes of a nearby drug manufacturing firm have taken to feeding the animal.

But the dog hasn't gotten friendly towards people. He isn't vicious, but he won't let anyone get close to him. When they try, he moves off.

Nor has a representative of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals been any more successful. The animal eluded the man Wednesday and returned to the grassy strip afterwards.

★ ★ ★

The dog sometimes trots across Route 1 to a gas station for food. If he does so today or anytime later, he may never return to his lonely vigil.

The SPCA representative left some doped meatballs at the station, designed to make the dog slow enough so that he can be captured.

Then, the SPCA hopes to find a new home for the mongrel, far away from the noisy traffic circle.

Navy Tries Out 'Bird' Launcher

Tests Firing System for 1st U.S. N-Powered Missile Submarine

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — The silhouette of a ship that could have been a submarine slipped silently through the morning mist.

Midway along the foredeck of the ship, a circular hatch some 15 feet across swung open and a shiny metal bird with folded wings crawled up into the light along a slanted track.

★ ★ ★

It came to rest in a cradle of steel girders, straightened its stubby wings and swiveled into launching position.

The great bird, as long as a five-story building is tall, began to scream louder and louder as submariners remote in the bowels of the mother ship opened the throttle of the missile's powerful turbo-jet engine.

★ ★ ★

Wham! A rocket-like blast broke the straining bird loose from its moorings and hurtled it toward an inland target with 100,000 pounds of thrust.

The shot was a shakedown of the missile firing system of the USS Halibut, the nation's first nuclear-powered missile submarine, which will be launched at Vallejo, Calif., next month.

★ ★ ★

For this test the forward hull of a tank-loading ship had been converted to duplicate the Halibut.

The missile used in the test, a 57-foot-long Regulus II, sped 250 miles from its launcher to Tonopah, Nev. The 1½-million-dollar bird was recovered intact and will be returned here for another launching early in January.

Arabs Deny New Plot Against Jordan's King

CAIRO (AP)—A spokesman for the United Arab Republic today denied Jordanian charges that Egyptian arms had been smuggled into Jordan for use in a new plot against King Hussein.

★ ★ ★

Jordanian authorities said a patrol found 1,000 rounds of Egyptian ammunition, other equipment and two camels in a cave in southern Jordan. An Arab from Egyptian-governed Gaza was arrested.

★ ★ ★

Saad Afra, director of the U.A.R. Information Department, called the Jordanian charge "pure invention."

Georgia Judge Hears Parade of Witnesses

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A parade of Negro witnesses has told a federal judge that state officials erected one barrier after another to keep Negroes out of Georgia State College.

★ ★ ★

Judge Boyd Sloane is hearing the suit of three Negro women who claim entrance requirements at the college discriminate against their race. There is no jury.

Edward Jacob Clements, an Atlanta insurance underwriter, said in U.S. District Court Wednesday that his application was endorsed by two white ministers. It was rejected, he testified, because the ministers were not alumni of Georgia State.

★ ★ ★

One was the Rev. James L. Weldon, Decatur, Ga., and the other a Rev. Jordan, not otherwise identified. Both were identified as graduates of the University of Georgia.

Getting Used to It

SIENA, Italy (AP) — People in Siena are getting used to the jitters. Three more undulating earth shocks were felt overnight. That brought to 37 the number of tremors recorded in this old walled city in seven days. No damage or casualties have been reported.

Eleven states and Alaska are sources of pumice.

Born in Mediterranean Seaport, Nicholas Grew to Become Saint

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE

Some 270 years after the birth of Christ, in a thriving Mediterranean seaport, was born a child whose name and deeds have lived—like the life and teachings of Jesus—in the minds and hearts of Christians.

He was both a precocious and pious child. But unlike Christ, this boy was born to parents of great wealth.

The parents died while the boy was still young, and his frequent and selfless gifts of his inherited wealth made him a popular saint in Christendom.

Named Nicholas and later appointed bishop of Myra, he remains nearly 17 centuries after his birth a happy symbol associated with Christmas, the birthday of Christ.

To children, young and old, he is generally and kindly known in this country as Santa Claus.

LEGENDS ABOUND

Nicholas was born in the city of Patara, located in what is now known as the southern coast of Turkey on the Mediterranean sea.

★ ★ ★

The history of Nicholas is obscure. He apparently was about 72 years old at the time of his death, but the year of his death is not known exactly.

There seems to be no question, however, that he died on a Dec. 6, now celebrated as the feast of St. Nicholas.

Legends about Nicholas abound. The earliest concerns the day of his birth.

One apocryphal tale relates that a nurse was bathing the infant Nicholas. The child suddenly stood upright in the basin, raised his arms to heaven and said:

"I thank Thee, God, that I am permitted to live upon this, Thy earth."

★ ★ ★

The fame of St. Nicholas comes from his legendary gifts.

His presents of gold to an impoverished Patara nobleman and his three daughters are said to have originated the custom of giving presents in secret on the eve of St. Nicholas.

The custom subsequently was transferred to Christmas Day, hence the association of Christmas with "Santa Claus," which is an American corruption of the Dutch form "San Nicolaas."

The custom was brought to America by the early Dutch colonists.

In Patara, the desperate nobleman, a neighbor of Nicholas, had made plans to sell his daughters into slavery. Nicholas heard of their plight and threw a ball of gold into the house at night through an open window.

CHOSEN BISHOP

Nicholas was still a young man when he was chosen bishop of Myra, a city visited twice by St. Paul in his travels.

Nicholas' selection as bishop came under unusual circumstances.

It was his custom to worship at church each morning at an early hour. One morning he was surprised to find all the clergy gathered. As Nicholas entered, the holy men rushed forward and greeted him:

"Hail to our new bishop."

The spokesman of the clergy explained that there had been sharp division between them on the selection of a new bishop and they had decided to pray throughout the night. During the night, the spokesman added, a voice was heard, saying:

"Choose as your new bishop the first man who shall enter this church tomorrow morning."

St. Nicholas was imprisoned and tortured during the persecution of Christmas by the Roman emperor, Diocletian. Little is known of his activities from this time until his death.

In the year, 1087, after Myra had fallen into Moslem hands, the body of St. Nicholas was spirited away to Bari, Italy, where it now rests under a basilica constructed over his crypt.

Cigar Store Indian Gets Honored Post

ASHLAND, Wis. (UPI)—Sitting Bull has finally been given a prominent place in the Ashland courthouse lobby after standing for 65 years.

Sitting Bull is a wooden cigar store Indian, carved by Herman Kruschke in 1893. Soon after, Robert W. Parsons bought the statue and it became a familiar sight outside Parsons' cigar store.

The store was sold in 1938 and Sitting Bull was presented to the Old Settlers' Association of Ashland. Now, he's been installed in the courthouse lobby.

Swedish Dailies Drop

STOCKHOLM — Total circulation of the Swedish daily press increased from 3,470,000 copies in 1950 to 3,740,000 in 1957, while the number of papers declined from 240 to about 200. Newspapers in the three largest cities—Stockholm, Gothenburg, and Malmoe—account for 49 per cent of the country's total circulation.

HE'S HAPPY — Dad rolls a perfect score in the gift department, when the family comes up with complete bowling outfit — ball, hand-tooled leather bag and sleek shoes. And for his outdoor mood there's good reading (inset) in fish and gun digests.

Otto Graham for a long time has been a "big name" in football.

When he ended his days with the Cleveland Browns three years ago his name became highly controversial among the pros, but today the name Graham is still a magnet among the younger set in grid ranks.

This is the "big name" which top U. of D. alumni feel is needed to guide the Titans into bigtime football.

How the school's administration reacts toward the desires of the alumni remains to be seen, but there seems to be only two courses out of which a decision can be made.

★ ★ ★

U. of D. can get who it feels is a top flight coach, most likely an unknown, and continue its struggle in the recruiting sphere. Or it can hire a "big name" like Graham, taking the risk that his magnetic influence will draw the horses to offset what he lacks in coaching experience.

Critics have lashed out at the U. of D. football formula. Couple years ago these critics said, "Put some money into the football program, get a few attractions on the schedule and things will brighten."

Money? The Gus Dorais Memorial Foundation led by powerful alumni laid down a five-year plan which encompasses nearly a half-million dollars.

Schedule? As was exclusively mentioned in this column long time ago, these are the teams included on the schedules right through 1964—Tulane, Kentucky, Tulsa, Michigan State, Holy Cross, Army, Navy, Pitt, Iowa State, Miami.

★ ★ ★

Like any other coaching job where football failed to reach expectations, Wally Fromhart got the axe. Just in the past few weeks the same took place at Michigan, Marquette, Maryland, Baylor and other schools where pressures eliminated the coach.

It's not unrealistic for any of these schools, including U. of D., to want winning football teams. The unfortunate thing is that in every case it is the coach who is first to walk the plank, and no school can claim or be accused of being exclusive in this respect.

The case for U. of D. is now a matter of urgency. The money is being pipelined and the schedules are pending in short order. The big factors lie in recruiting and coaching.

★ ★ ★

Everyone in football admits you must have the horses to win. Many outstanding coaches have fallen without the horses and by the same token many mediocre coaches have been successful because the stables were filled with material.

★ ★ ★

For a school like U. of D. the "big name" has to be of utmost importance. It surprises many that Graham would change his mind about coaching and talk to U. of D. about the job and even though his coaching abilities have not been proven, one almost has to admit publicly, he has the name which could fill the stable.

Old Man Moore Eyes 3 Lucrative Fight Chances

DURELLE DOWN — Canadian challenger Yvon Durelle goes down in the 11th round after being hit by champion Archie Moore in Montreal last night. Referee Jack Sharkey moves in to end the fight which ended in a kayo for Moore. Durelle went down four times in the fight.

Moore 'Awfully Rocky' Up to Fourth Round

MONTREAL (AP)—Ancient Archie Moore grinned happily in his dressing room after retaining his light-heavyweight crown by knocking out Canada's Yvon Durelle in the 11th round Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

"I knew I had him after the fourth round, but before that I was awfully rocky," said Moore, who was felled four times, three times in the first round.

"Durelle is one of the toughest light-heavyweights I have ever fought," the old ring master said as reporters and photographers ganged around him.

"I have to feel sorry he lost. But of course I have to look out for myself."

★ ★ ★

Moore, of San Diego, Calif., said he would like to meet the 29-year-old fisherman again and wouldn't mind doing it here. He said he also wanted another crack at heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Moore said every knockdown was clean and fair. "He caught me clean every time he caught me." He added he used jabs and a pivoting motion to keep away from the husky Canadian while his head cleared.

Moore was reminded he had set a knockout record of 127, beating the late Young Stribling's mark by one.

★ ★ ★

Moore said he had waited for a big fight "so that the record would be legitimately broken by Archie Moore."

Across The Forum, the Canadian sat in his dressing room, drying his tears.

★ ★ ★

"I was trying too hard, that was my mistake. I was too eager," Durelle said.

Asked if he thought he had the agile Archie after the first round, he said:

"I was never sure of anything of that sort. He was really smart in that round. He covered himself so well right after coming back after each count that I never had a chance for a follow-through after my best blows.

★ ★ ★

"I have fought smart men before, but never anyone as smart as that fellow. He's looking straight at you all the time as if trying to guess what blow you'll come up with next."

★ ★ ★

Durelle—whose only visible injury was a cut lower lip—said he was never badly hurt, except for the last flurry that finished him.

Ageless Archie Retains Crown With Knockout

Wants Sugar, Patterson or Durelle Again After 11th Round Kayo

MONTREAL (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, more amazing than ever, today set his sights on three lucrative possibilities — a return fight with Yvon Durelle and royal jousts with middleweight king Sugar Ray Robinson and heavyweight ruler Floyd Patterson.

Of the three title tilts, a summer ball park clash here with Durelle seemed the most likely following their thriller-diller at The Forum last night.

Old man Moore's tremendous comeback to knock out the fired-up Durelle in 49 seconds of the 11th round capped one of the most exciting fights of the last ten years. If any scrap deserved a repeat, this one does.

The ancient ring warrior hit the deck four times, three times in a pulse-pounding first round, and then rallied in the last six rounds to drop his wild-swinging young rival four times including the picture-punching finale in the 11th.

Moore was full of praise for Durelle, a 3½-1 underdog who put up a great battle.

★ ★ ★

"Durelle is one of the very top light heavyweights I have ever fought," he said. "I knew I had him after the fourth round but before that I was awfully rocky. Every knockdown was clean and fair."

Referee Jack Sharkey, the former world heavyweight champion, thought otherwise. He ruled that Moore's trip to the floor in the first round was from a push and not a punch. He'll get an argument on that one from many of the 8,484 fans in the chilled Forum and the television viewers in the United States and Canada.

★ ★ ★

It looked like a legitimate left hook felled Archie that second time in the hectic first round when it seemed all of Moore's years caught up to him at once. Archie, who will be 42, 45 or 49 on his birthday Saturday, appeared on the way out in his seventh title defense.

A left and right to the jaw first sent the stunned master to the canvas for a nine count. He was dazed and reeling when the controversial second knockdown occurred.

The aroused pro-Durelle fans yelled for the fighting fisherman to "get him Yvon, finish him."

The 29-year-old challenger from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., who weighed 172 pounds, tore after Moore in an effort to put him away for keeps. A left and right to the jaw sent Archie down again for seven. The roar of the crowd was so loud that it was almost impossible to hear the counts.

Archie, at 173¾, got out of that hole and several others in the next few rounds. In the fifth the crude, strong challenger again brought a blood-thirsty howl from the fans when he sent Moore crashing to the canvas with a thumping right to the jaw. This time the crafty veteran had command of his senses and, after getting up at five, held on desperately as Yvon tried to put over the crusher.

★ ★ ★

Then suddenly Archie lashed out with a right and left to the jaw that shook Durelle from head to toe. That was the beginning of the end for the Canadian and British Empire champion although you couldn't tell it then.

From sixth round on, Archie was the boss. He kept off his eager and now wild-swinging foe with a stream of left jabs to the face and short jolting left hook and right cross head combination.

Moore's steady volleys drew blood from the husky Canuck's nose and mouth and took some of the steam out of his charges.

★ ★ ★

The tide turned completely in the seventh. A right to the jaw rocked Yvon and a jarring left and right to the chin sent Durelle to the floor for the first time. He was up at two and managed to stagger through the round.

Now the old master was in his glory. Through the eighth and ninth he gave Yvon a methodical pasting while he blocked off most of Durelle's punches with his arms. In the tenth Archie battered his weakening rival all over the ring. A six punch volley sent the reeling challenger to his knees and apparently finished. But the bell sounded when the count reached eight.

★ ★ ★

Moore wasted no time in the 11th. Looking like he had dipped himself in the fountain of youth, Archie stormed across the ring and slammed Durelle to the canvas for nine with a left and right to the jaw. Then a perfect left and right combination to the jaw, shot over like a matador delivering the coup de grace to a bleeding bull, put the gallant Canadian down for keeps.

County Grid Ace Accepts 'Heisman'

Dawkins Is Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Dawkins, Army's All America halfback who received the Heisman Trophy last night, was more concerned today with how the West Point hockey team would do against Brown Saturday than how his gridiron career looked in retrospect.

★ ★ ★

The Cadet senior, acknowledged as the best all-around college football player in the country, fretted a bit about missing two days of hockey practice during the week asked if he couldn't possibly make it up before the team leaves for Providence, R.I. Friday.

"We have a 1-1 record so far," he explained, and with football taking up part of the practice season, I sure do need the work. My legs are just getting used to the transition from football. You use different muscles skating than you do running.

Someone asked if a quick switch back to the gridiron for five days in prepping for the North-South All Star game in Miami Christmas night would not bother him. Dawkins refused to be concerned.

Nor would he show any concern, pro or con, over a fabulous football career he concluded by leading the Cadets to a 22-6 victory over Navy Nov. 29. It capped Army's first unbeaten season since 1949, marred only by a 14-14 tie with Pitt, and made Dawkins the first West Point Heisman winner since 1946 when Glenn Davis took the award. Army's Doc Blanchard won it in 1945.

"I really haven't had time to think about which was my biggest play or who really was the best player I saw or played against.

"I guess the Navy victory was the biggest thrill I can think of offhand, and I was mighty impressed by that John Guzik, Pitt linebacker. Unfortunately, I couldn't play against him that day but from the bench it sure looked like he had a great day against us.

Dawkins missed the Pitt game with an injured leg.

Other than hockey Dawkins said his thoughts are mostly of what he will do after he graduates in June.

★ ★ ★

"I'll probably choose the infantry as my branch of service," he said. "We have to make our choice in February but I like the infantry because it gives me a good chance to work with men."

Someone asked the well built, blond thatched cadet leader, known as Mr. Everything at the Academy, if he'd thought far enough into the future to get married.

"Oh no," the 21-year-old replied, "no marriage yet. Heck, I'm too young for that.

WELCOME WEIGHT — Pete Dawkins of Royal Oak received the nation's highest honor to a football player, the Heisman Trophy last night. The huge trophy was a welcome weight to Dawkins, selected as the nation's outstanding football player. He is a Cranbrook School product.

Howe Stalled Again Trying for 400-Goal

Delvecchio Gets Key Shot to Provide 2-1 Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gordie Howe still hasn't cracked the 400-goal barrier but his linemate Alex Delvecchio is making a habit of firing key goals for the Detroit Red Wings.

Howe, stalled for the third time in getting his 400th regular season goal, set up Delvecchio for the score that gave the Wings a 2-1 victory over the New York Rangers last night.

Delvecchio, who last Sunday triggered a goal with 10 seconds to go that enabled Detroit to tie Chicago, wasn't quite as dramatic this time.

He scored at 6:54 of the final period, picking up a rebound shot and flicking the puck over New York goalie Gump Worsley.

★ ★ ★

Howe started the play when he intercepted a shot by Ranger defenseman Lou Fontinato. Howe went deep into Ranger territory and fired the first shot. Worsley blocked it and a subsequent shot by Ullman but was in no position to stop Delvecchio's follow-up drive from close range.

The win was the Wings fifth straight over the Rangers this season and extended their unbeaten streak to four games. It moved them to within two points of the idle first-place Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League.

Terry Sawchuk, season-long nemesis to New York, played a fine game in the Detroit net and the only goal scored against him was both lucky and controversial. It came at 9:43 of the first period when the disc trickled out of a pile up in front of the net, passed him and was credited to Ranger captain Red Sullivan.

Red Wing captain Red Kelly protested for almost two minutes, apparently claiming that the puck had ricocheted into the net off linesman Art Skov.

The Wings tied the score at 18:25 of the first period when Marcel Pronovost beat Worsley on passes from Howe and Delvecchio.

Royal Oak Boy Finney Best in New England

BOSTON (AP) — Frank Finney, Brown's All-Ivy quarterback from Royal Oak, Mich., last night was presented the George Bulger Lowe award as New England's outstanding college football player in 1958.

The honor is presented annually by the Gridiron Club of Boston in memory of a late Fordham star.

Finney played a lot of football for the Bruins in his three years of varsity competition. He started 27 consecutive games after a lackluster freshman year in which he was third string and used only defensively.

Finney, tied for fourth nationally in scoring with 74 points, had a hand in Brown's 13 touchdowns in its last four games. He scored seven of them and passed for the other six.

Tris Speaker Buried Today

No Eulogy Is Planned for 'Gray Eagle' Who Made Baseball History

HUBBARD, Tex. (AP) — Tris Speaker, one of baseball's greats, was to be buried here today on a cedar shaded hill not far from the spot where he first entered professional ball.

The "gray eagle" of some of baseball's finest days died Monday at the age of 70 of a coronary occlusion just as he finished a fishing trip at Lake Whitney in central Texas.

★ ★ ★

There was no eulogy planned for the man who wrote his own in the record books of baseball with screaming base hits and fantastic catches in centerfield where he knew no peer.

Speaker spent 22 years as a major league player and ranked with Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth as one of the greatest outfielders of all time. He reached his peak with Cleveland and Boston but also played a year with Washington and another with Philadelphia.

Many of baseball's greats were expected here today to pay homage to Speaker. Others sent floral tributes.

Pistons Upset Hawks With Defense, 89-82

BOSTON (UPI) — Fine defensive play last night enabled the Detroit Pistons to upset the league-leading St. Louis Hawks, 89-82.

The Pistons get another shot at the Hawks tonight when the two teams meet in the opener of a doubleheader in Philadelphia.

Detroit, with its best defensive performance of the year, handed the Hawks only the second loss in 11 games since easy Ed MacAuley took over as coach from Andy Phillip.

The Pistons, who have won 7 of their last 10 games, have held their opponents under 100 points in seven games.

★ ★ ★

Walter Dukes scored six points in each of the first two quarters to pace the Pistons to a 38-30 lead at halftime. In addition to helping Detroit's offense, the former Seton Hall star held Bob Pettit to just six points through the opening 22 minutes.

The Pistons' Chuck Noble registered six points in six minutes of the third quarter to help Detroit to a 52-40 lead.

Veteran Earl Lloyd and rookie Shellie McMillan each followed with a pair of baskets to enable the Pistons to widen the gap to 64-47 going into the final stanza.

★ ★ ★

Al Ferrari hooped four baskets in a four quarter St. Louis threat found the Boston Celtics defeating the Philadelphia Warriors, 100-97.

At Cincinnati, the Syracuse Nats strengthened their hold on third place in the Eastern Division by downing the Cincinnati Royals for the fourth time. The score was 97-94 and left the Nats within three games of the division leading New York Knicks, who were idle.

County Gridders, Coaches Honored at MSU Banquet

Twenty-six young football players, the "cream of the crop" in Oakland County grid circles in 1958, and their coaches were honored royally Wednesday night —and deservedly so.

The occasion was the 3rd annual Michigan State University football banquet at Devon Gables under the auspices of the MSU Alumni Club of Oakland County.

Honored guests at the MSU bust were the 13 members of the 1958 Pontiac Press All-County grid team, 13 other prep gridders who gave them stout competition for their positions and the coaches of all the boys involved.

Personable Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, head football coach at MSU, was the guest speaker. Several members of Duffy's coaching staff accompanied him here, including Lou Agase, Gordon Serr, Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, Buck Nystrom and John Poloncheck.

Highlights of the evening were the presentations of the Player-of-the-Year and Coach-of-the-Year awards to West Bloomfield's John Lucadam and Avondale's Frank Crowell, respectively, and the awarding of Press trophies to the 13 members of the All-County team.

Bill Cornwell of The Pontiac Press sports department presented the awards on behalf of the Press sports staff. Bruce Martyn, sportscaster for radio station WCAR, was the toastmaster.

Previous winners were John Walker of Walled Lake (1956) and Lou Pavloff of Hazel Park (1957). Lucadam received his award last night at the MSU grid bust in Devon Gables.

Lions Begin Shuffle for Bears

DETROIT (AP) — "If we get any more injuries," said coach George Wilson, "I may have to call on some of the assistant coaches to suit up."

Wilson's Detroit Lions will face the rough-and-ready Chicago Bears at Wrigley field Sunday with a makeshift lineup that will include a host of rookies.

★ ★ ★

"I've never seen a club in such bad shape," said the coach. "our big problem is one of fielding 11 men on offense and 11 more on deense. Then we'll start thinking about our chances to win."

The coaches were well pleased, however, with the work of several rookies who played most of the way last week in the loss to the New York Giants.

★ ★ ★

"Considering everything," said Wilson, "they held up pretty well. I can't complain about them. They made mistakes, and a couple of costly ones. But they made some fine plays, too. And the experience is good for them."

★ ★ ★

The Bear-Lion game is for prestige and experience, only. The Bears, pre-season favorite in the National Football League's western division, are out of the race. But they like to beat the Lions, and are favored to do it Sunday.

Latest NFL statistics show fullback Rick Casares of the Bears is the fifth leading ball carrier in the league with 643 yards on 169 carries for a 3.8 average.

The Bears' passing attack, however, has been more impotent even than the Lions. Tobin Rote of the Lions is ranked 13th and is followed by the Bears' Ed Brown.

British Fight Promoter Sure He'll Get Floyd

NEW YORK (AP)—British promoter Harry Levene said Wednesday he was "most optimistic" about his chances of signing heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson for a title defense in London next year.

★ ★ ★

"I have had a very satisfactory series of conferences with Cus D'Amato (Patterson's manager) and based on these I am most optimistic," Levene said.

★ ★ ★

D'Amato said, "I have nothing to add. If and when a British heavyweight meets Patterson for the heavyweight title it will be under the promotion of Harry Levene."

Patterson has not fought since Aug. 18 when he stopped Roy Harris.

New York's Howell Named East Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants Wednesday was named to guide the Eastern Conference All-Stars against the West's best in the annual Prow Bowl football game here Jan. 11.

★ ★ ★

The announcement was made by Comissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League in Philadelphia and Game Director Paul J. Schissler here.

Howell, who coached the Easterners in 1957 and was defeated, was named regardless of the outcome of the title scramble Sunday between his Giants and the Cleveland Browns.

Baltimore Coach Weeb Ewbank has already been named the Western coach, with his aide, Herman Ball, as an assistant.

'M' Athletic Director Against Round Robin

Crisler Opposes 10 Games

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The proposed 10-game football schedule in the Big Ten hasn't caused much cheering at Michigan.

The Wolverines, who've stumbled through nine-game campaigns the past two seasons, believe that's plenty.

"I'm unalterably opposed to the 10-game schedule," said Athletic Director Fritz Crisler, "It would mean the Big Ten probably would have a round-robin schedule and that would be too rough for any team."

Crisler and the other conference athletic bosses are meeting in Chicago this week. A 10-game schedule beginning in 1965 and the round-robin starting in 1969 are expected to come out of the huddles—despite Crisler's protests.

★ ★ ★

"Of course the round-robin would be a lot worse than playing 10 games," said Crisler. "But I don't like either idea.

"A 10-game schedule would mean schools on the quarter system would play twice before classes start. Those working on semesters like Michigan would play once before the students arrived.

"No, it wouldn't be mandatory to play 10 games. But if it goes through, you darn well better play them."

★ ★ ★

Crisler doesn't expect any final solution to the Big Ten's Rose Bowl problem at the current meetings.

"There shouldn't be anything final on that because the contract with the Rose Bowl is still good," he said.

The pact expires in 1960, a year after the Pacific Coast Conference goes out of business.

"What we do depends on what happens out there," Crisler said.

★ ★ ★

The PCC is trying to set up the administrative machinery to fulfill its obligation in the 1960 game when it will be a phantom conference.

★ ★ ★

There has been considerable talk on the West Coast that former PCC members California, UCLA, Southern California, Washington and perhaps Stanford would band together in a new alliance.

This proposed group could become the Big Ten's Rose Bowl partner.

★ ★ ★

Another possibility would be for the Big Ten to switch its New Year's attention to the Cotton Bowl. But Crisler said the Cotton Bowl never has been discussed by Big Ten athletic directors.

'60 Rose Bowl Will Be Final for Conference

Other Postseason Game Thoughts May Be Eliminated

CHICAGO (UPI)—Big Ten participation in future football bowl games has been jeopardized and possibly eliminated, faculty representative Bob Browne of Illinois indicated yesterday after the conference took official recognition of the end of the current pact for a team to go to the Rose Bowl annually.

Browne said that since the present continuing Rose Bowl agreement had been ended, any future bowl contract would require action by the member faculties of every institution. He said he was unable to predict whether another contract with any bowl ever would be accepted.

It was known that the Big Ten contract to send a team to the Rose Bowl every year never was approved by more than a minimum number of member schools and always was a "touch and go" matter.

The Rose Bowl game on Jan. 1, 1960, to be held with the Pacific Coast Conference athletic directors acting as trustees, will be the last under the current Big Ten-PCC agreement.

★ ★ ★

The contract had to be broken because of dissolution of the PCC. The matter of the Rose Bowl will not come before the conference until the faculty and athletic directors meet Friday. Then, no action is likely to be taken since the conference has no definite proposal for continued participation in the Rose Bowl or any other bowl.

There was no question that the conference would agree to playing in the 1960 game under the PCC proposal.

Football coaches met yesterday and suggested several rules changes for submission to the American Football Coaches Association and then to the football rulescommittee. They favored a more liberal substitution rule, turning towards the two platoon sstem, suggested a return to the 1957 rule permitting two-arm blocking, and said that teams scored upon by a touchdown or field goal should have an option of choosing the goal they defend.

The coaches also wanted to restore the loss of a down to the penalty for illegal players beyond the legal zone on pass plays and consideration of the possibility of designating as an illegal shift a change in position by one player.

Shamrocks, Eaglets Tangle; Rams Seek 2nd Win

Double Home Card for Parochials

By H. GUY MOATS

With all three Pontiac area parochial basketball teams busy on the home front Friday night, fans here will have a choice between two encounters. Most emphasis, perhaps, will be on the collision between St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary, at Pontiac Central High gymnasium. St. Frederick is host to Royal Oak St. Mary at St. Thomas hall.

★ ★ ★

Shamrocks' date with the Orchard Lakers is one of those "make-or-break" affairs.

The north siders dropped their opener last weekend, to cross-town rival, St. Frederick, and must come through with a good performance tomorrow, if they hope to stay in the new Suburban Catholic League title race. Their opponents, along with St. Frederick, St. James and St. Benedict have chalked up loop victories.

Coach Jim Niebauer said this morning his club was in good shape, had a proper attitude towards the Friday encounter and was hopeful for a win. Starters will be unchanged from those who opened against the Rams, and the same situation applies to the Eaglets.

Shamrocks meet an effective, fast-breaking quintet that also owns an all-around scoring threat. Every member of the Eaglet starting five can score well. Mikemen hope their scoring punch is sharpened over last week, when they had the chances, but just couldn't make the goals stick.

Gene Wright's crew shoots for its 2nd loop mark, to continue as one of the title favorites. The southenders, however, rated a possible "surprise" club in the race, could be troublesome, as they have height and several potential hot scorers. They were defeated in their opener by Eaglets, probably the leading title prospect at this time. Eaglets were runnersup, Rams 3rd in 1957-58.

★ ★ ★

Wright said he would use the same five to open Friday's tilt as started against Shamrocks, including Steve Pocs, a surprising 16-point producer.

Game times for both the Shamrock-Eaglet, and Rams-ROSM encounters are the same, preliminaries starting at 7 p.m. and varsity at 8:15 o'clock.

State Hunters Close Out Bad Waterfowl Year

LANSING (AP) — Michigan hunters closed out a rather miserable waterfowl season yesterday.

Thee weren't many on hand for the last day's shooting. Few dared brave the snow and near-zero cold.

★ ★ ★

Herbert O. Miller, waterfowl specialist with the state conservation department, summed up the season for the approximate 140,000 duck hunters as "one of the poorest in years."

"We haven't received reports from our field men yet," he said, "but we have little doubt the take will be down from last year."

★ ★ ★

Miller cited three major reasons for poor hunting — low water levels, poor hunting weather and "duck behavior."

Sam Boyd Resigns as Baylor Coach

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Baylor University started out to rebuild its athletic department today with Sam Boyd's resignation as head football coach completing a sweep of its two highest offices.

★ ★ ★

Boyd gave up the fight under pressure yesterday, handing in his resignation just before a meeting of the Baylor board of trustees at which a decision was to be made. Everybody knew what it would have been — Boyd would have been fired because of two losing seasons which saw his teams finish on the bottom of the Southwest Conference.

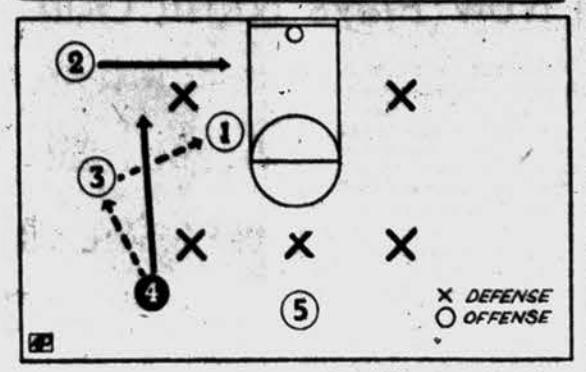
How to Beat A Zone Defense



(This is one of a series of articles explaining basketball plays to use against the zone defense).

By BUNNY LEVITT
Written for AP Newsfeatures

Beating basketball's zone defense still is a headache to high school and college coaches. An attacking team can best penetrate a zone by practicing against this type of defense.

The zone is the term used when the defense chooses to play certain areas near the basket rather than play the game on a man for man basis. Some teams station three defenders out in front of the foul line with two defenders up closer to the basket.

This is called the 3-2 zone.

The 1-2-2 overload offense often works well against this type of zone. The team's best shooter, for example, will be known as No. 2 and will be stationed in the left hand corner for a shot from outside or beneath the basket. Players No. 3 and No. 1 can be stationed to the left of the foul line with No 4 and No. 5 playing back.

No. 4 passes to 3 and runs straight ahead. No. 3 passes to 1. No. 2 cuts beneath the basket. No. 1 fakes and turns to the weak side and passes to 4 or 2. No. 1, who is a good shooter, too, can shoot or pass the ball out beyond the foul line.

However, once you penetrate the front line of defense the opposition is weak down the middle and on the sides where short set shots can be taken.

PGA Boss Given Vote of Support by Touring Pros

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—Touring players of the Professional Golfers Assn., Wednesday night gave their tournament director, J. Ed Carter, a vote of confidence and recomended a renewal of his contract, which expires next July.

* * *

Carter reportedly gets about $26,000 a year and other benefits and is asking a raise plus the privilege of continuing some outside activities such as getting out the programs for the National Open, National Amateur and National PGA tournaments.

* * *

Some of the golfers indicated to newsmen that the players committee, which will make an important recommendation on Carter's contract, is solidly behind him but thinks his salary demands can be reduced by negotiations.

The players are here for the $15,000 Sanford Open, which starts Wednesday. Carter is not here.

Ike Delock, Boston's ace pitcher, won 20 games for Scranton in 1951.

Chiefs in SVC Opener Friday at Arthur Hill

Lumberjacks 1st of 6 Straight League Tilts for Central Quintet

By BILL CORNWELL

With two non-league victories tucked safely away, the Pontiac Central basketball team opens Saginaw Valley Conference warfare Friday night on the road against Arthur Hill.

Tomorrow evening's clash with Arthur Hill will be the first of six consecutive Saginaw Valley games on Central's schedule.

Flint Central at home Dec. 19, Bay City Central away Jan. 9, Flint Northern here Jan. 16, Saginaw at home Jan. 23 and a return match with Arthur Hill Jan. 30 will follow in that order.

* * *

At Saginaw tomorrow the Chiefs of Art Van Ryzin are meeting a Lumberjack quintet which has broken even in two starts. The tipoff is slated at 8 p.m.

The Lumberjacks, coached by Chuck Fowler, dropped a 62-54 decision to Ann Arbor in their 1958-59 season opener last Friday, then nosed out Bay City Handy, 57-56, in an overtime thriller Tuesday.

Central will be protecting a spotless record in the upstate city. The Chiefs opened their season with an impressive 69-60 conquest of Dearborn Edsel Ford and looked even more impressive while conquering Detroit Catholic Central, 69-49, last Friday.

* * *

The ringleader to date of Central's all-winning surge has been guard Charlie Barge, a talented shooter and dribbler and clever floor artist who has collected 49 points in two contests.

Barge, a mid-year graduate, bagged 20 on the Edsel Ford court and zoomed to 29 points against Catholic Central. The diminutive sparkplug will be ineligible for further action after the Jan. 23 game here with Saginaw High.

* * *

Lanky John Bandy, who missed the Catholic Central game due to a foot infection after scoring 20 points at Dearborn, should be ready to go again in the Arthur Hill scrap.

The Chiefs received a 14-point performance from Amos Bailey against the Shamrocks last Friday and some strong rebounding help by big Bill Pritchett and they'll also be ready for duty, along with regulars Harrison Munson, Bill Hayward, Henry Robertson and Phil Rabaja.

Chief, Husky Swimmers in Action Here, Friday

Pontiac Central High's pool will be a busy aquatic spot, Friday, with two home meets, including the start of the Chiefs' Saginaw Valley campaign.

Coach Gene Norris' squad takes on one of the best swimming teams in state prep circles in the afternoon meet, starting at 4 o'clock. Arthur Hill, usually the SVC top squad, and current defending champion, will provide the opposition. The Lumberjacks are rated favorites, but will find some close competition, nevertheless.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m. Pontiac Northern will seek its first win in two starts against an unknown quantity in Warren Fitzgerald. Edwin Dauw's Huskies dropped their opener, first match for the area's newest Class A swim squad, to Ann Arbor University High, a week ago, but should go better Friday with the experience gained in that engagement.

Pontiac YMCA team invades Bay City "Y," Friday for its 2nd meet of the season, after tasting some hot competition against Detroit North last weekend. A number of records were set for the "Y" pool here, in that test.

Birmingham is host, Friday, to Southfield. Maples seek their 1st dual win of the season, after losing their opener to Grosse Pte. Loss snapped a 22-win string.

Syracuse Gridmen Hold Indoor Work

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Syracuse University's gridders worked indoors for the sixth straight time Wednesday, continuing preparations for their Orange Bowl date with Oklahoma.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder again placed emphasis on physical conditioning and defense against expected Sooner maneuvers.

After viewing films of Oklahoma games, Schwartzwalder said, "this is really a fine Oklahoma team. They have size and power as well as the usual speed."

Satisfying Thrill in Late Goose Hunt

By JACK PATTERSON

Maybe it was the snow flurries that did it. We were sitting around the other day considering the sad fact that this was the first season in 25 years, save for the war years, that we hadn't spent more time than we should tossing about offshore in pursuit of waterfowl. Redheads and cans were fighting for survival. The old guides were dead or retired. Waterfowling had fallen on evil days, no doubt about it.

PATTERSON

* * *

But it didn't seem decent, somehow, to let the season run out without running a few husks through the old 12.

Watching the snow came thoughts of geese and in a short time we reached a corn field that geese had been using for several days. A flock of some 70 or 80 birds settled in the field just as we arrived.

There was no way to approach them unobserved, so we just barged in and put them up at a distance and retired to a pine-covered ravine that edged up to the field.

* * *

The next half hour was devoted to an only partially successful attempt to keep warm in the 10 degree weather and the sharp west wind. We'd about decided to give it up when a mighty racket arose to the south, and suddenly it was a warm summer day!

On they came, a hundred strong, circling the field once, twice, then again, black necks swinging as they looked for danger below. The flock paid off down wind and the racket stopped abruptly.

* * *

Suddenly the gabbling commenced all around and one could hear the rush of wind through stiff-set wings as the flock sailed overhead on its final approach.

* * *

Wildfowling offers no greater thrill than the sight of a big flock of Canadas coming in for a landing. We fired at one bird and swung to a second, then noticing the first still going strong, let him have two more loads of magnum twos before he went to the ground.

Offer to Sugar Is 'Fabulous'

LONDON (AP) — Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson Wednesday was cabled a "fabulous" offer to defend his title against Britain's Terry Downes in London next summer.

* * *

The offer, believed to be around $150,000 was tendered by British fight promoter Jack Solomons. Solomons promoted Tuesday night's bout in which Spider Webb of Chicago stopped Downes in eight rounds.

In New York, George Gainford, Robinson's representative, said, "If Sugar fights next year, he might be receptive to such an offer. We will consider all offers and $150,000 is in the right neighborhood."

* * *

Robinson has been idle since last March when he regained the crown from Carmen Basilio in Chicago on a 15-round decision.

Chips Tip Alma, 84-78

ALMA (AP) — Central Michigan jumped to an early lead, led throughout the contest, and defeated Alma 84-78 in a non-conference basketball game last night.

* * *

Don Doorlag of Central Michigan captured individual scoring honors with 26 points. Jim Northrup had 23 for Alma.

Prep League Play Begins Friday

By CHUCK ABAIR

It's league play time all around the Oakland County area starting tomorrow night as every conference with the exception of the Eastern Michigan begins championship play.

Friday's 31-game schedule will be the biggest of the new season. It could very well be one of the best programs of the year with several good loop battles and some interesting non-league games on tap.

Waterford faces a rugged task early traveling to Southfield to meet the Inter-Lakes favorite while Walled Lake is at Farmington and defending champion Berkley is at home to meet Van Dyke.

The Skippers looked good in spots but lacked steady scoring in dropping their opener at Wayne. Walled Lake has two wins over Class B schools while Farmington and Southfield each took batterings from Livonia Bentley following victories. Berkley is 2-0.

* * *

Featuring a full Wayne-Oakland slate will be the West Bloomfield at Northville and Brighton at Bloomfield Hills clashes. Defending champ Clarkston goes to Clarin others.

Keego and Northville are both rated strong contenders with the Lakers' biggest drawback being the lack of a six-footer. Northville still has 6-9 Jeff Goodrich. Brighton was the pre-season pick to take all the marbles but is a question mark after bowing to South Lyon. Bloomfield Hills and Holly are rated highly while Clarkston and Milford could come along with more experience. Bloomfield is the only unbeaten team.

* * *

Troy starts its Oakland B title defense at Lake Orion in a battle of perfect record quintets. Fitzgerald goes to Madison and Clawson invades Avondale in other loop games.

* * *

The league is well balanced with all six doing some rebuilding. Troy could be on the way again with a big victory. The early winners will likely head the pack.

The South Central could come up with a title showdown right off the bat with Ortonville at Imlay City. Oxford is another power ready to unseat Imlay which has dominated the conference in recent years. The Wildcats have a warmup at Romeo tomorrow in one of the top local games. The other SCC tilt will have Millington at North Branch.

* * *

Also sporting a full slate will be the Southern Thumb. Brown City is at Almont, Armada at Capac, New Haven at Dryden and Anchor Bay at Memphis.

* * *

Other outside action will have Davison attempting to halt Rochester's winning string at three on the Falcon court, Lapeer in its 2nd outing at Flushing, Cranbrook at Oak Park, East Detroit in its season lidlifter at home against Roseville, Royal Oak Kimball at Mt. Clemens, RO Shrine host to Redford St. Mary, South Lyon starting League of the Lake play at Manchester, Farmington Our Lady at home to meet Wayne St. Mary and Madison Lamphere meeting Grosse Pointe University School for the 2nd time in 10 days.

College Cage Powers in Action Tonight

United Press International

Three of last year's champions—Kentucky, West Virginia and Xavier of Ohio—put unbeaten records on the line tonight, and the odds-makers claim all should come out in "perfect" shape.

* * *

Kentucky's NCAA champs are solid favorites to make their record 4-0 in a game against Southern Methodist at Louisville.

West Virginia's defending national titlists will be shooting for their fifth straight victory when they take on a Duke team which hasn't won a game yet.

Xavier, the National Invitation king-pin, may have the toughest time of all in its game with little Iona of New Rochelle, N.Y., at Madison Square Garden. Xavier, however, is favored to score its third victory in a row.

Center Wilson Eison hit for 32 points to lead Purdue to an 89-71 win of DePaul of Chicago last night. Guard Bill Haig kept DePaul in contention through most of the game by sinking 10 of 14 free throws in the second half. Eison, however, scored 19 points in the second half and he was assisted by guard Willy Merriweather, who totaled 22 points.

Maryland overcame an early lead by Virginia to score its first triumph of the season, 63-56.

Utah State bottled up a hot-shooting West Texas State team 91-61, as center Bob Ipson of the winners collected 25 points, and Scranton defeated Seton Hall for the first time in 20 years, 61-58.

Dayton registered its fourth victory without a setback by nipping Miami of Ohio 54-50. Hank Josefczyk, hit for six points in the last four minutes to provide the Flyers with their margin of victory.

Princeton crushed Temple 90-54 with guard Jim Branigan scoring 32 points for the Tigers. Bill Kennedy, Temple's All-America candidate, was limited to 13 points by a four-man zone defense.

In other games last night, Army defeated Rutgers 81-60, Providence beat Brown 72-48, Syracuse trounced Columbia 90-59, Fordham stopped Yale 84-59, Harvard humbled Williams 80-70, Villanova breezed by Siena 73-74, Brandeis beat Tufts 72-68, Colgate nipped Alfred in overtime 67-65, Bucknell topped Lehigh 74-52, Holy Cross halted Amherst 65-43, Oklahoma State toyed with Texas 66-39, Montana State edged Montana 51-49, and Texas Christian nipped San Francisco 58-56 on a jump shot by Derrill Nippert with 20 seconds remaining.

Used to Lights

Former Yank Pitcher Now Plays Night Golf

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Allie Reynolds, former pitching great of the New York Yankees, played many years of night baseball and now he's been indoctrinated into night golf.

Reynolds, one-time baseball players' champion golfer, showed that his long experience under the baseball lights served him in good stead in a recent 9-hole match at the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club.

Using self-propelled lighting equipment supplied by Jim Walker, Portland, Ore., manufacturer, a sixsome teed off at 8 p.m. and played the nine holes in 2 hours and 20 minutes.

The only ball lost was one Reynolds hooked into a lake on the 16th hole.

Reynolds' playing companions were all topflight golfers. All agreed their games were about normal from tee to green but that it was a little difficult putting because it was hard to determine the exact roll of the green.

* * *

Best score was a 3-over-par 39. The players gave a small gallery a thrill on the 437-yard par 4 last hole by hitting the green with second shots—all with irons. A 15-foot putt gave one player his birdie while the others got regulation pars.

Reynolds, a steady 80 shooter but wild with his powerful wood shots, came through with several spectacular shots. He hooked his tee shot behind some trees on th first hole but smacked a 4 iron onto the green and got his par four.

On the second hole, he hit his tee shot almost into a lake but recovered nicely and missed a par only because of a muffed short-putt.

Teeing off on the third hole, Reynolds quipped: "I guess it was the experience I got playing night baseball that makes me play golf so good under lights." Then he rapped an 8 iron to the middle of the green and got a par three.

When Reynolds smashed one of his long drives, one galleryite remarked: "Why, you can see the ball better than in the daytime."

* * *

The lighting equipment was carried by a small gasoline car equipped with a 24-volt airplane generator, a flood lamp for lighting the immediate area and a powerful spotlight to provide illumination up to 250 yards. Two players rode in each machine.

It is estimated the cost of using the machine is $6 or $7 a player.

"That's a pretty steep price," admits owner Walker, "but right now players are paying $3 and $4 each to ride in a golf buggy."

Walker believes his price will appeal to office workers who find courses too crowded on weekends and will go a golfing under lights.

Montreal Sees NHL Lead Cut

By The Associated Press

Montreal's grip on first place in the National Hockey League wasn't quite so secure today. And neither was New York's hold on fourth place.

The Canadiens, who at times have threatened to make a runaway of the pennant race, held only a two-point advantage following the Detroit Red Wings 2-1 triumph over the Rangers last night. The Chicago Black Hawks were within a point of New York following a 2-2 tie with the cellar dwelling Toronto Mape Leafs.

Tod Sloane assisted on the Hawks' first period goal and fired the marken in the final session to give Chicago a tie. Brian Cullen and Dick Duff did the scoring for Toronto as the Leafs ran their undefeated string to five — three victories and two ties.

Booth Tops Century in City Cage Loop

Booth Homes cracked the century mark last night with a 106-37 massacre of Rex's Standard in a Class B City League basketball game at Pontiac Central.

Three Booth cagers bettered 20 points during the rout, with Jim Poteet meshing 28, Bernie Stafford 24 and Leo Folsom 21. Dean Hess added 16 points. Jim Robinson tallied 12 for the badly-mauled opposition.

In the other Class B game, Mike Haines scored 18 points to lead Griff's Grill to a 58-43 victory over Glenn's Motors. Class D action at Lincoln found the Lakeside Royals battering Pontiac Northern, 74-16, and Lee's Service defeating the Pledges, 37-32.

Potent Backs on Class B 11

DETROIT (AP) — If all the yards gained this past football season by the four backs who make up the Class B All-State backfield were strung together, they would extend for nearly two and one-half miles.

One of the most potent and versatile backfields in the 18-year history of the AP All-State selections includes:

QUARTERBACK JOHN LUCADAM OF WEST BLOOMFIELD, backs Joe O'Donnell of Milan, Craig Kortz of Grand Rapids, Godwin and Forrest Walpole of Cass City.

O'Donnell, a 6-feet-1, 195-pounder, gained 1318 yards rushing, for an 8.2 average, and scored 147 points. Also, he caught 7 passes for an additional 185 yards.

Walpole, sparkplug of an undefeated Cass City team, rushed for 1,239 yards and scored 110 points. All but two of his touchdowns were scored from outside the 30-yard line.

Kortz accounted for 105 points while running up 909 yards. His total amounted to nearly 1,700 yards, causing coach Dick Higgs of St. Joseph to call him "a truly great runner." Max Wisner, coach at Wyoming Park, said "Kortz is one of the best backs I have seen in the Grand Rapids area in years."

Lucadam beat out East Lansing's Doug Miller in a close race for the first team quarterback job. Lucadam scored 8 touchdowns, passed for 8 more and kicked 21 of 28 conversions. Another triple-threat performer, Lucadam gained 744 yards on the ground and 847 in the air, while doing West Bloomfield's kicking.

The other junior on the first unit is tackle Doug Hanlon from champion Grandville of the Grand Valley League. Hanlon, a unanimous choice among the league's coaches, even stepped in as a halfback and a guard when injuries cut into coach Rex Roseman's squad.

Paired with Hanlon at the other tackles is Bill Jennings, a transfer student credited with rebuilding football fortunes at Avondale.

Big man in the Class B line is Dave Behrman, 282-pound center from Dowagiac. The big fellow was the leading vote getter among the linemen as the AP polled every high school coach in the state to determine the finest players in each of the four classes.

Lubanski and Toepfer Pacing Invitational

Detroit Keglers Lead 'World'

CHICAGO (UPI)—A pair of Detroit bowlers, Ed Lubanski and Elvira Toepfer held the top spots today at the halfway mark in the finals of the World Invitational Bowling Tournament.

Lubanski, a notorious front-runner who has faded in the final day of match game competition, held his first place lead as the 16 men finalists last night finished 32 of the scheduled 64 games.

Mrs. Toepfer continued her blistering pace to ward off the other 15 finalists from taking the lead as the women shooters posted scores for 16 of the scheduled 32 games.

The men finalists shoot 16 more games today and the women have eight, with a similar program tomorrow winding up the big tourney. The final round will be televised nationally on the NBC network instead of the regular Friday night boxing bout.

Lubanski, who lives in Oak Park took over the lead by a formidable 3.44 Petersen points while winning 14 out of 16 games yesterday.

Eddie won his first 12 games of the day. He split with the first day leader Ray Bluth of St. Louis in his final match to take over the lead.

The stocky 28-year-old Lubanski shot a four-game series of 983, a new tournament record; 896; 863 and 801 in moving into the top spot. This gave him an average of almost 222 for the day.

★ ★ ★

Lubanski now has a total of 160.04 points, while second place Bluth has 156.48. Don Ellis of Chicago, who was blanked by Lubanski is in third place with 156.34. Defending champion Don Carter of St. Louis, the most feared man in the field, has 156.20 for the fourth spot.

High for the men on the second day of finals was Lubanski's 279 game and 983 series, which is the highest ever rolled in match game competition. In the 983, Eddie had games of 279, 244, 246 and 214 as he won all four games from teammate Bob Hitt of Detroit who checked in with a 755 series.

In the women's division, Mrs. Toepfer continued to blister the pins with a 3221 total. This left her a scant 45 pins or .45 points ahead of pharmacist Jeanette Grzelak of Rockford, Ill., who was second with 74.01.

★ ★ ★

Trailing the two leaders was Ann Setlock of Detroit who finishd with a respectable total of 73.06 points. Defending champion Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., was still in contention with 71.34 points which was good for sixth place at the halfway point.

TOP LADY—A 278 game rolled by Millie Anderson in league play at Motor Inn recently has been the top women's score reported this season. he 1957-58 high was 279.

11th Frame

By CHUCK ABAIR

The latest American Bowling Congress records published concerning sanctioned high games over the years show Oakland County has had ten 300 games since 1895—four of those by Pontiac keglers.

Not included yet on the list is Pontiac Motor worker Bill Furlong who rolled a perfect game a year ago at Huron Bowl. The only others reported since have been turned in during practice sessions.

Four 299 games and five 298s are also recorded for county keglers. The latter list does not include Lou Koprince. The Motor Inn recreation operator his his big score this year.

Pontiac's Arnold Heimbring, who hit 297 several years ago, also tallied 298 this year but it was at Jackson in a tournament.

★ ★ ★

The four perfect games in Pontiac prior to Furlong's feat were rolled by Bob Allen in 1935, Frank Bertrand 1934, Jerry Landry 1943 and Walt Rennhack 1957. Royal Oak has had two, Adolph Ripepe in 1939 and Don Kennedy 1950.

★ ★ ★

The others were by: Dick Sholtz (Birmingham—'49), Milt Haack (Berkley — '46), Lou Kremhelmer (Madison Heights —'56) and Bill Schnapp (Pleasant Ridge—'36).

Veteran Bill Bull of Pontiac owns two of the 299s. He just missed the charmed 300 in 1951 and again four years later. Joe Krantz of Pontiac got one in 1936 while Savio Angello of Hazel Park fired the last one in 1956.

★ ★ ★

George Smith and Bill Crisp Sr., are other city men who have hit 298. Smith did it in 1938 and Crisp in '52. Others belong to Weldon Culbertson (Ferndale—'44), Stanley David (Royal Oak—'49) and Walt Arsenault (Birmingham—'56).

★ ★ ★

Quite an impressive list. It is bound to grow considerably during the next few years the way new alleys are sprouting up around the area while the old ones keep packing them in day and night.

SKIPPING AROUND

Millie Anderson fired a 278 game in league play at Motor Inn the same night Bob Gormong rolled a practice 300. She will receive a high game award from WIBC. Her score is the highest reported here this season and just one pin short of bettering the top total for 1957-58. Millie's loop average for Ward's Furniutre is 157.

★ ★ ★

Fifty girls at Lake Orion High have a league going at Royal Recreation there . . . Alex Rabe fired a 183 triplicate in the West Side Recreation Businessmen's League recently . . . Don Williams hit 270 and 657 at Montcalm Centre . . . Twenty members of the Huron Classic averaging 200 or better. Another 11 are at 190 or higher.

Add impressive women's scores: R. Belanger 253, S. Gilson 634 and Oxford Plastics 2727 in Ladies Huron House League. W.K.C. 946 game and 2667 series in Pontiac Housewives loop. Gen Bradley 160 average in Elks Ladies league. Mary Reynolds 599 at Birmingham. Irene Blum 223 at Farmington Lanes.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Lanes has a Saturday morning junior league going for boys between 12 and 14. Fritz Stresne-Reuter got off to a big start by hitting 205 while carrying a 120 average . . . Only 33 openings still were available for the ABC Masters tournament as of Dec. 1 . . . Bob Cervin hit 243 at Farmington . . . Virginia Tallman, a 138-average kegler, made history at Clio with the city's highest series in 10 years—628.

Weighs U. of D. Job

'Serious' Says Graham

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Otto Graham, former star quarterback of the Cleveland Browns, said today he was giving serious consideration to acceptance of the post of head football coach at the University of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The job was vacated with the firing of Wally Fromhart last week.

"I've had a change of heart concerning coaching," Graham said after talking with members of the Gus Dorais Memorial Foundation in Detroit concerning the post at the University.

"I enjoyed coaching the college All-Stars last summer much more than I had expected," Graham added. "Naturally, I realize they wouldn't all be happy days like that one."

The Stars upset the pro football champion Detroit Lions in Chicago last August.

Graham's acceptance of the Detroit job apparently depends chiefly on two factors — a long term contract and the right to name his own assistants.

"I'd want to protect myself in football, not get into it and have to change locations every few years," said Graham. "Salary is relatively unimportant. They could offer me a mint and I wouldn't take it if I couldn't name men I knew personally could do the job with me."

★ ★ ★

Graham said that he would hold further talks with the University officials before making a decision. But he indicated that the University apparently agrees with his views.

Dick Bass Wins Top Grid Honor

COP Ace Captures Scoring, Rushing and Total Yardage Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Bass, College of the Pacific's hard-running halfback, amassed major college football's triple crown in 1958, winning the scoring title and the rushing and total yardage crowns.

★ ★ ★

Final statistics from the NCAA Service Bureau disclosed today that Bass accomplished a feat that was last performed in 1937 by Byron "Whizzer" White of Colorado. White captured the triple crown that season.

Bass accumulated 1,361 yards on 205 rushing plays—an all-time high of 6.63 yards per carry for 200 or more rushes. The 21-year-old junior collected 79 yards on 13 passes for a total offense of 1,440 yards. He scored 116 points on 18 touchdowns and eight extra points in 10 games.

W. Bloomfield Lad Honored by Dales

HILLSDALE (UPI) — Duke Davis, a junior center from Dearborn, Mich., last night was elected captain of the 1959 Hillsdale football team.

Hillsdale players voted Ed Tallman, a center from Mattawan, the 1958 team's most valuable player.

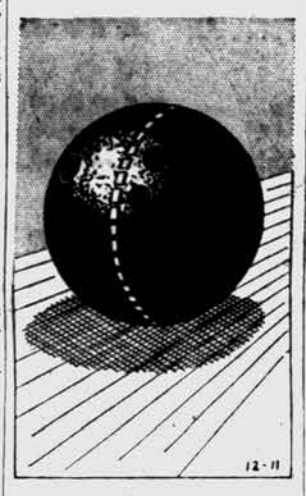
Gene McFadden of Flint, was named the squad's most outstanding freshman player, and Earl O'Shaughnessy of West Bloomfield was named the team's most improved player for 1958.

Short Workout for TCU

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The TCU Horned Frogs worked out only 40 minutes Wednesday in preparation for their New Year's Day meeting with the Air Force Academy in the Cotton Bowl.

"It was just too cold to get anything done," Coach Abe Martin said. The afternoon temperature was 39.

Strikes and Spares



By JOE WILMAN

Know what your ball track is? It's that dull ring around your ball. As the ball rolls down the alley, it picks up oil or dressing as well as any dirt on the surface of the alley. If your ball is consistent and rolls the same way each time, the ball track should be fairly narrow.

If your delivery is inconsistent, however, your ball track will be fairly wide as the ball will roll differently each time.

The ball track for most good bowlers should be from a spot just below the finger holes (as illustrated in the sketch) to a spot about two inches below the thumb hole. The ball track should not be over the finger or thumb holes — your ball shouldn't roll over these holes. When it does, it loses some of its gripping power on the alley surface, reducing its rolling and hooking action.

Check to see where your ball track is located; then work to make your ball track stay as narrow as possible.

3227 Series, Hook's 298 Huron Highlights

A smashing 3227 series by Humphries Real Estate enabled them to boost their Huron Bowl Classic lead to three and a half points. John Nickell had 224-217-227, 668 and Bill Leigh added 239-212-212, 668, as all five men topped the 600 mark.

★ ★ ★

Lisle Hook helped Montcalm Centre to three points over Spartan Air Conditioning with 649, which included the second highest single game of the season, a near-perfect 298. Hook's last ball was in the pocket, but failed to carry the 4-7.

Calbi Music fired a 3116 series to capture three points from Braumeister and climb into second place. Bill Bull was high for the music men on games of 224-211-232, 667, while Joe Foster was contributing 235-223-205, 663.

Third place Stroh's split with West Side Recreation, and Hazelton Lettering shut out Roth Lumber. East Highland dropped West Side Mobil into fourth as they took three points from the still-slumping Mobilmen.

Hollywood Headlines:

Sinatra Likes Florida; Will Buy House There

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Frank Sinatra loves Florida. He even plans to live there part of the year.

This is in the face of a report in Variety that Sinatra got the "treatment" during his recent visit in Miami Beach to film "A Hole In The Head." 'Twas said that the local press needled him by claiming he didn't want to work and had engaged in too much partying. Also that the film company had fled Florida after "an aborted two weeks of shooting."

* * *

Not so, says Frank.

"We got some wonderful stuff down there," he said. "The scenery is just fabulous and we've got a lot of it on film. I don't think it has ever been shown in a movie before.

"We came back to Hollywood early because we had finished nearly everything we wanted. The only thing left undone was a scene in a cafeteria. We didn't go through with it because we didn't have enough crowd control."

Far from hating Florida, Sinatra wants to go back there.

* * *

"I've got a couple of guys looking for a house for me there," he said. "In another two or three years, I'd like to slow down and arrange my schedule so I can spend at least two months of the year in Florida.

"I want just a small place like the one I have in Palm Springs, where I can turn the key and go away and leave it without a staff to keep it up."

* * *

Californians may not like this, but Sinatra does a rave about the Florida weather. He also argues that there's more sporting to be found down yonder, not just the golfing of California resorts.

If it's any consolation, he said he'll still make Hollywood his base of operations.

* * *

The ace hard-luck picture, "Porgy And Bess," somehow managed to complete its shooting this week, to the relief of Samuel Goldwyn, Otto Preminger and all hands. Preminger says it's the greatest film he ever directed, but confides that he could write a book about his relations with the fabulous Goldwyn. Somehow they managed to avoid open warfare . . .

* * *

You can't get away from Hollywood: As I was leaving for a speech at the Fresno Press Club, the next fellow in the ticket line was Clark Gable. He and the missus were flying to Stockton for some hunting.

Housing Probe Due in New York City

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A probe of housing problems in New York City by the Civil Rights Commission will be started in February, Robert G. Storey, commission member, says.

* * *

Storey, dean of the Southern Methodist University Law School, would not say whether the investigation concerned racial discrimination. He said the complaints received concerned the administration of housing facilities in New York.

He pleaded ignorance on the nature of the complaints. "We intend to find out," he said.

* * *

Storey also was close-mouthed on recent commission hearings into voting procedures in Alabama where it was alleged Negroes had been deprived of voting rights.

He termed the action of Alabama officials in refusing to testify as "regrettable and lamentable." He said he had no idea what action, if any, the Justice Department might take.

Radio's first loudspeaker was almost identical to the phonograph horn at that time except that it was generally secured in almost an upright position in early models.

Amateurs Steal Grace's Show

Rainier and Daughter Star in Documentary About Monaco

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Grace Kelly has let two amateurs steal the show from her in the first movie she's made since becoming Princess of Monaco.

The movie is "Invitation to Monte Carlo," a feature-length documentary about the tiny principality of Monaco. The two scene-stealing amateurs are her husband, Prince Rainier III, and their daughter, Princess Caroline.

* * *

Princess Grace's role is simply that of wife and mother, and it's obvious the Oscar-winning actress prefers it to the dramatic roles that made her a top Hollywood star.

Since early May, a British film crew has been secretly making the film. Rainier and his daughter are the only amateurs among the principals.

Even such an old pro as Frank Sinatra has a scene stolen by the toddling Caroline, not yet 2.

* * *

The movie has a story line about a 6-year-old girl from an English orphanage who takes a cat to Monaco as a gift from the orphan children.

French actress Nicole Maurey and British actor Leo Genn, as narrators, are the only other familiar names in the cast.

Besides beautiful vistas of the tiny but picturesque country, the movie gives a rare look at the Rainiers' home life. And Prince Rainer skin dives in some underwater shots that would do justice to an Esther Williams movie.

* * *

Another scene at the palace zoo has Rainier cavorting with a pet chimpanzee, a leopard and her cub.

London producer-director Euan Lloyd spent three months making the film.

The movie will be released to theaters next month.

American Entertainers Invade European TV

By EARL WILSON

PARIS — Seeing Broadway Comedian Henny Youngman swinging along the Champs Elysees, cracking jokes, in English, at the French motorists who like to drive down the sidewalks, was more than I expected. "To get to the other side of the sidewalk here, you've got to be born there," Henny shouted.

WILSON

"Honest," Henny said, "my wife and I wanted to go to a night club. We came to a doorman who didn't know much English. He said, 'Come right on in, this is absolutely the best clip joint in Paris.'"

Henny, who used to be afraid to fly, but is now in the Jet Set, is just one of the American entertainers invading Europe now to make a fast buck on TV.

"I work in London and come over here to get gypped out of money shopping," Henny explained. He's just done a spectacular in London. "I can't stay around Europe because I've got to open in Dayton, O., on Dec. 12," he said.

Jerry Lester made a comeback on TV in London. Chaz Chase, the baggy-pants comedian who eats lighted cigars and cigarets in his act at the Lido, was just leaving to do a TV show in Milan. Strangely though, the TV here in Paris doesn't titillate the Americans.

ANITA

"I don't know one person who has a TV set," a woman in the American colony told me. "The TV is so good here — that's probably why."

"So good that nobody watches it!" I said.

"Yes — it's primarily educational-type programs. So I've been told," she emphasized.

Peter Howard—who gave that much-front-paged party in Rome—is on the Queen Mary New York-bound for Christmas . . . very angry still at the State Dept. for asking him to leave Italy.

"And I help pay their salaries with my taxes!" he blazed, when I talked to him here. "When I heard they were saying I couldn't go back to Italy, I returned, then I called up the Embassy and said, 'To hell with you, I'm back.' I left my car and clothes there and I'll be back again after Christmas."

Howard exonerated Anita Ekberg of disrobing at the party at which a Turkish dancer took off her clothes. "The only thing she took off was her shoes," he insisted. "She's a little top-heavy so she took them off to keep her balance. I guess somebody thought she was stripping because she always looks like she's falling out of her things."

EARL'S PEARLS: No man is master in his home if his bedroom's done in pink.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: They tell of the penny-pinching boss who married his secretary because he didn't want to have to give her a Christmas bonus . . . That's earl, brother.

Hungary Revolt TV Presentation

Films Smuggled From Budapest in '56 Uprising to Be Shown Sunday

"Revolt in Hungary," a vivid chronicle of the heroic 1956 Hungarian uprising against the Soviet Union, most of it told in unique films never before viewed in this country, will be presented on "The Twentieth Century" series Sunday, Dec. 14 from (6:30 to 7:00 p. m.) on the CBS television network. CBS Newsman Walter Cronkite is the narrator.

"Twentieth Century" viewers will see the tragic revolt as recorded on-the-scene by courageous Hungarian cameramen who smuggled their dramatic films out of Budapest at the height of the fighting.

The films, uncovered by researchers for "The Twentieth Century" in Munich, also include shots of the Hungarian capital after its seizure by Russian armor.

The program traces the bitter struggle, from mid-October, 1956, when Imre Nagy formed a new government, through the bloody street-fighting which ends with the Soviet reoccupation of Budapest and the crushing of the revolt.

"Revolt in Hungary" was produced by Burton Benjamin. Associate producer is Isaac Kleinerman.

GOP Liberals May Get Boost

Expect a Compromise to Give Them Voice in Senate Decisions

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise giving Republican liberals a voice in GOP Senate leadership decisions appears to be in the making.

Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill), in line to become the Senate's new minority leader, has put his weight behind a move to expand the party command posts by addition of an assistant leader.

* * *

Dirksen, now the Senate whip, is expected to be chosen as floor leader to succeed Sen. William F. Knowland who quit the Senate for an unsuccessful race for governor of California.

Although Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) has opposed the plan to enlarge the leadership lineup, it has the strong backing of Dirksen and Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the party's Policy Committee.

* * *

Goldwater told reporters that in any event he is supporting Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California for one of the leadership jobs.

Dirksen also said he will support a move to give at least one important committee assignment to each of the Senate's three new Republican members Kenneth B. Keating of New York, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, and Winston L. Prouty of Vermont.

* * *

If the Democrats take 10-5 control of most committees, as their 64-34 ratio of Senate membership permits, there will be few choice plums for the Republicans.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) might be forced off the space committee.

Studious Crow Attends Classes With Master

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Blackie probably is the only crow in the world who attends a public high school.

It isn't that Blackie is scholarly. He attends school as the loyal pet of Jack McDermott, 15-year-old sophomore at suburban University City High School.

"He learned the way and now flies there ahead of me," Jack said.

* * *

Blackie lands on a window ledge and walks in sedately when a window is opened for him.

He is on friendly terms with biology teacher Rex Conyers. Blackie frequently attends his classes, confidently flying up to Conyers' desk.

Blackie has a penchant for stealing chalk and pencils, which he hides under leaves. Once he left with a student's mathematics notes. They were never found.

* * *

The crow sleeps in a tree outside his master's house. Every morning he taps on the door and is let in. Blackie, taken by Jack from a deserted nest before he could fly, has the run of the McDermott home and is considered part of the family.

With red paint on his toenails showing he's tame, Blackie has proved he is a most sociable crow. Occasionally he visits the home of Jack's grandmother several blocks away.

His most notable feat was a visit to one of Jack's former teachers at another school several miles away.

State Declares Emergency

Virginia Coal Miners Hard Hit

NORTON, Va. (AP) — "Southwest Virginia — frontier of the East."

Strange words to describe an area now bowed low with the humbling effects of mass unemployment in its lifestream — the soft coal industry.

Virginia officials yesterday declared the state's seven-county coal producing region as an "emergency area" and launched another in a series of stop-gap relief programs which date back to 1954.

* * *

An official of the United Mine Workers has set at 9,000 the number of men at work today in Virginia's mines. Five short years ago that number was over 14,000.

Two reasons can be listed for the decline:

1. Mechanization — Hand-loading of coal into the little mine cars has given way to modern machinery. As a result fewer men can produce more coal.

2. Loss of business — Coal is disappearing as a home heating fuel. The vital export market, now at a low point, fluctuates rapidly. Industrialists have been slow to develop new outlets for coal. Cheap foreign imports such as residual oil, have undercut domestic markets.

* * *

"It's hard to readjust a coal miner—once they get mining into their system, they seldom are happy doing anything else," said one state official.

A relatively new headache for already frustrated welfare workers are the returnees from the North.

With the first postwar cutoffs from mechanization in the early 1950's, many miners packed their families and belongings and headed for industrial centers of Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and neighboring states.

* * *

"Just as soon as the recession hit, though, and they got cut off at their factories, back home they came," bemoaned a welfare worker.

State officials estimate that now there are 18,000 families on one relief role or another in the region. For as hard times hit the mines, the effect is shattering on the rest of the area.

"In the coalfields there has been but one industry — coal," said one Chamber of Commerce executive.

* * *

A few small factories — mainly employing women such as garment-makers—have been established but more are needed.

The problem of the moment is how to feed and clothe families of the jobless until times get better.

Virginia's new funds released yesterday will provide counties with matching money to pay workers in the surplus food program.

Since 1954, federal surplus commodities have been distributed almost without stop in the seven depressed mining counties.

* * *

The bleak picture stands out more harshly against the prospects of cold weather.

"A slab of surplus cheese does not make a cheery Christmas dinner," one relief worker said.

Idaho farmers harvested 177,200 acres of potatoes last year. The Agricultural Marketing Service reports that Idaho plans are for 186,000 acres of potatoes in 1958.

Corn Is Steady, Others Weak

CHICAGO (AP)—Corn held about steady, but soybeans and other grain futures were a bit weaker today in the early activity on the board of trade.

There appeared to be too much of a temptation to cash the limit profits which accrued in yesterday's late strength. A scattered amount of hedge selling also met reluctant buyers on the weakness.

Commercial and processor demand was almost negligible.

Builder Faces Loss of License

Royal Oak Man Given Week to Untangle Tieup of 13 Homes

DETROIT (UPI)—A Royal Oak contractor has been given a week to untangle a mixup involving 13 $15,000 homes in suburban St. Clair Shores or face loss of his state license.

Joseph Milgrom, president of the Milgrom Building Co. of Royal Oak appeared at a hearing of the Michigan Corporation and Securities commission yesterday.

This picture unfolded during the two hours of testimony before MESC Deputy Commissioner Harold G. Groehn:

Saleem Metry, 60 of Grosse Pointe Park, said he agreed to sell eight acres of land in St. clair Shores to a firm owned by Milgrom for $55,575 in 1955.

Metry said he has been unsuccessful in efforts to collect the money still due him—some $23,000. He further charged that Milgrom had fraudulently gained claim to the acreage by filling out blank signed deeds.

Milgrom denied "changing, altering or recording anything in regard to these deeds."

Merty went to the Macomb County register of deeds to stop any mortgage proceedings on the land. This prevented purchasers of 13 $15,000 homes in the new subdivision from obtaining final mortgages even though they made down payments.

A lumber company executive said a firm owned by Milgrom, the Mark Land Co., owed a total of $169,000 to his firm, the F. M. Sibley Lumber Co.

Mail Station to Be Set Up at Miracle Mile

To aid residents in getting out their holiday mail early, a parcel post and stamp station will open tomorrow at the W. T. Grant Company store at Miracle Mile Shopping Center, Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster, announced today.

The station will be open from noon to 9 p.m. through Dec. 20, excluding Sundays.

Residents will be able to mail parcel post packages, cards and letters and purchase stamps.

Miller said approximately 220 more people have been hired for the holiday rush. This brings the total post office staff to 500.

Moore Seeks Change in Adoption Laws

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore said today he would fight for a revision of state laws which allow direct consent adoptions of babies.

The judge said he would take this action after disclosing what he said was a loophole in present state adoption laws which permit baby buying "on a wholesale scale."

He cited a case before his court in which an attorney reportedly paid an unwed mother $400 to give her baby to people she had never met. Judge Moore said he had turned this attorney's name over to the State Bar of Michigan. He would not disclose his name.

Practically every civilized state has based its calendar on that of the Romans.

Buyers Gobbling Up First Upjohn Stock

NEW YORK (AP)—The first public offering of Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., common stock at $45 a share headed for a quick sellout at retail today.

★ ★ ★

The stock was quoted at $49 bid on a when-issued basis by some over the counter dealers.

The secondary offering of 2,410,000 shares ($108,450,000) is being sold by a nationwide syndicate of 241 investment bankers for the account of certain stockholders.

These include several charitable institutions and descendants of Dr. W. E. Upjohn, founder of the big ethical drug company.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Morgan Stanley & Co., underwriting group manager, said investment demand was heavy and all syndicate allotments were being taken up. Wall Street observers predicted speedy over-subscription.

Area Students Back From European Tour

Four Oakland County area students have returned to the campus at Michigan State University after completing a nine-week tour of Germany and France entertaining U.S. military personnel.

As members of the MSU Players troupe they were included in a cast of 20 which presented "The Tender Trap." They are James S. Voorheis, 4911 W. Maple Rd., in West Bloomfield Township; Linda Kohlhof, 39186 Mayfair Lane in Birmingham; Paul Earl of Keego Harbor and Margaret Barton of 904 W. Oregon Street in Lapeer.

The troupe traveled nearly 3,000 miles by bus and train to play for approximately 10,000 servicemen. They presented 43 shows in all.

Stocks Nearing Record Heights

NEW YORK (AP) — Vigorous early trading pushed the stock market close to a record high today.

Key stocks rose fractions to about a point.

Most gains were small. Here and there small losses appeared.

The ability of the market yesterday to crash through the Dec. 1 recovery high in a burst of renewed confidence led to heavy buying which put the ticker tape behind transactions for a 12-minute period at the opening.

Industrials, rails and utilities moved ahead. Big blocks were traded in the more speculative issues.

The leading steels were up fractions to about a point. Motors gained fractions except for Chrysler which continued a bit lower as its labor troubles went on. Rails were narrowly higher, nonferrous metals and aircrafts up and oils irregular.

Lehigh Coal & Navigation dropped ⅞ to 10 on a 2,700-share block following a dividend omission. Zenith was up more than a point.

Gains of about a point were made by Phelps Dodge, Jones & Laughlin, General Dynamics, Youngstown Sheet and Eastman Kodak.

U. of M. Coeds Refuse to Eat

250 Stage Food Strike in 2nd Protest Over Dormitory Meals

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—University of Michigan coeds, 240 strong, stood outside Mosher's Hall dining room last night, listened to an 11-point grievance against U. of M. food preparations and refused to eat their evening meal.

It was the second major protest concerning Michigan dormitory food within a week.

Leonard Schaadt, residence halls business manager, said he hadn't been informed of the Mosher girls' complaints. But Mosher residents said they were tired of submitting complaints to committees and having them pigeon-holed without action.

Judy Hassenzahl, a sophomore from Dearborn, read a list of 11 specific complaints about the food to the girls as they stood outside the dining hall just before it opened.

She listed seven major complaints: "Greasiness," "small portions," "refusals to grant seconds on eggs for breakfast when there are some left," "repeated servings of unpopular dishes," "running out of food listed on the menus," "refusal to prepare more food until supplies are completely distributed and thus causing long delays in meal lines" and "dishes in appropriate to the weather," such as cold plates on cold days.

SHALL WE DANCE? — Ray Bolger is too shy to ask Gena Rowland to dance so he dances, instead, with a mannequin that looks like Miss Rowland, only to be embarrassingly caught in the act. The scene occurs in "The Girl With the Flaxen Hair," on the General Electric Theater, Sunday, December 14 from 9:00-9:30 p.m.

Hour of Science Returns Sunday

Chemicals That Impede Disease, Volcano Study to Be Presented

NEW YORK — "Conquest" will unveil remarkable new strides in two completely different fields of science — cancer research and the study of volcanoes — when the full-hour science series presents its second program of the season on Sunday, Dec. 14 from 5 to 6 p.m. on CBS-TV.

Eric Sevareid serves as host and narrator of the "Conquest" report on the exciting stories behind today's science headlines, which is produced for the Public Affairs Department of CBS News by Michael Sklar.

In its exploration of cancer research, "Conquest's" cameras detail for the first time how science's determined, painstaking search for a cancer cure has resulted in the discovery of certain chemicals which, although not the miraculous cure, actually do impede the spread of the dread disease.

"Conquest" will show what is being done in the laboratory, in the hospital and in field to develop a single chemical which will destroy human cancer cells on contact without harming healthy tissue.

The program will also take viewers to the Brooklyn Botanical Garden for a glimpse of the crucial and promising work being done there to find a mold which will produce the cancer-killing chemical.

Participating in "Conquest's" report on cancer research will be Dr. C. P. Rhoads, director of the internationally-famous Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York, and Dr. Paul Burkholder, Director of Research for the Brooklyn Botanical Garden, a bacteriologist recognized as one of the world's foremost authorities on molds and antibiotics.

"The Secrets of a Volcano," the second story to be shown on "Conquest," will take the television audience to an active volcano — Kilauea in the Hawaiian Islands — for an on-the-spot report on tremendously significant new discoveries about the composition of the earth.

These discoveries, uncovered by two leading geologists whose lives are devoted to probing the secrets of the volcano, literally revolutionize fundamental scientific beliefs about the interior of the earth, and explode long-accepted concepts in the field of geology. The two volcanologists are Dr. Gordon MacDonald of the University of Hawaii and Dr. Jerry Eaton, Director of the Hawaiian Volcano Observatory at Kilauea, where the special "Conquest" report was filmed.

"Conquest" is presented on the CBS Television Network in cooperation with the National Academy of Sciences and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Reckless Driver Gives Detroit Judge an Idea

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—George E. Gravlin led police of three suburban communities on a 10-mile chase at high speed over icy roads before his arrest on a reckless driving charge.

★ ★ ★

"A man who drives like that shouldn't be allowed on the road," Gravlin said at his arraignment in Traffic Court.

"I agree," said Judge John D. Watts. "Your license is suspended for two years."

★ ★ ★

Judge Watts also sentenced Gravlin to 10 days in jail and placed him on probation for two years.

Milton Eisenhower to Be on 2 Programs

"Gifts Without Wrappings," annual Johns Hopkins University Christmas party, with the 60-man Johns Hopkins Glee Club, host Lynn Poole and two seven-year-old friends, and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the famous old school in Baltimore, will be seen on "Johns Hopkins File 7" Sunday, Dec. 14 from 11:30 to 12 noon.

The program will answer in song and story such questions as: Is there a Santa Claus? If so, has there always been one? Why do we bring trees inside? Who sent the first Christmas card? What was the first Christmas Carol?

Dr. Eisenhower will also join Edward R. Murrow in an unrehearsed, intercontinental conversation about relations between the United States and its neighbor nations to the south on "Small World," from 6 to 7 p.m. on CBS-TV.

Says He Carries Razor to Open Sardine Cans

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — Anglo Foreman, Toledo, Ohio, had a ready explanation at his arraignment on a charge of carrying a concealed straight-edge razor.

★ ★ ★

"I use it to open sardine cans," he said.

Circuit Judge Rex Martin entered an innocent plea and remanded Foreman to jail to await legal counsel.

Swedish Deficit Rises

STOCKHOLM — Sweden's trade deficit rose from $263,000,000 in 1956 to $283,000,000 in 1957. In trade with the United States alone the deficit amounted to $208,000,000 last year, mainly as the result of large imports of liquid and solid fuels.

Second Ride in Cab Takes Thug to Jail

NEW YORK (UPI) — A tall, dark-haired young man in a dark suit and a trenchcoat signalled cabdriver Joseph La Rocca early one recent morning, hopped into his taxi, rode for a while, robbed La Rocca of $40 and then hopped out.

★ ★ ★

The cabbie quickly found a policeman and while they were prowling around the neighborhood looking for the bandit, a tall, dark-haired young man in a dark suit and a trenchcoat stepped out from between some parked cars and signalled to La Rocca.

Turned out to be the same guy, who was arrested by the policeman as he was about to step into the cab.

Japan to Construct Huge Trade Center

TOKYO — Japan's first major permanent international exhibition center will be built on Haruni Pier in Tokyo Bay. Work will start in March.

The $5,600,000 cost of the International Trade Center will be shared equally by Japanese industries and the City of Tokyo. The center will have four large exhibition halls and other facilities.

Japan has had two international trade fairs in recent years — 1955 and 1957 — and another is scheduled for 1959.

An illuminated fountain on the Place de la Concorde in Paris marks the spot where Louis XVI, Marie Antoinette, and Robespierre were guillotined.

Coral Blocks Favored

HAMILTON, Bermuda—Favored among building materials in Bermuda are coral blocks cut from hillsides. The blocks of soft coral consist of sand, mollusk shells, and coral skeletons that were ground fine by wave action many years ago, deposited on the beaches, and eventually cemented together by nature.

Natchitoches is the oldest town in the Louisiana Purchase. In 1721 French explorer Louis de St. Denis built Fort St. Jean Baptiste at what later became Natchitoches.
