BERLIN (AP) — Two American men today were reported sentenced to eight years in an East German prison for helping refugees escape to West Berlin. A Tennessee woman is being held in East Berlin apparently on the same charge.

Moses Reese Herrin, 24, of Akron, Ohio, and Frederick Matthews, 23, of Ellwood City, Pa., were convicted yesterday in a Potsdam district court on nine counts of helping East Germans flee to West Berlin, their West Berlin lawyer, Juergen Stange, told newsmen.

Stange said she was being held on suspicion of "aiding flight from the East German Republic."

NEW DUTIES—U.S. Army Spec. 4 Theodore Renne, home for the holidays, handles a more pleasant duty than the grim task of fighting the Viet Cong, his assignment for 15 months in Viet Nam. Trimming the family Christmas tree is a more recent chore assigned by his mother, Mrs. Anthony Renne, 19 Baycrest, Waterford Township.

Home on Furloughs

Area Soldiers Recall Viet Days

By L. GARY THORNE

To the returning GI, Viet Nam is three things — hot, humid weather, mosquitoes and the Viet Cong.

Home for the holidays, a trio of Pontiac area servicemen convey this three-sided picture of the faraway war that for them was as close as the corner drugstore.

The three are Army Spec. 4 Theodore Renne, Ronald W. Dickerson and Donald E. Swan. Gravel-voiced from a cold, Renne is back from 15 months in Viet Nam.

Renne, 23, of 19 Baycrest, Waterford Township, spent seven of his 15 months as crew chief on a single-engine aircraft, flying resupply missions on an average of seven to eight hours daily.

"It was my job to keep the plane flying," said the boyish-looking soldier. "I flew on all flights. We carried everything from pigs and chickens to dead bodies."

Renne once came within 10 inches of a serious wound or death.

SITTING DUCKS
As he landed on dirt runways in deep valleys, snipers were often stationed higher than the plane, giving the VC (Viet Cong) good shot at the plane.

In one such landing, VC snipers on nearby ridges blasted the rear of the small aircraft, ripping holes in the plane's tail section just inches from Renne's back.

"The first time I got shot at, my legs went numb and my stomach fluttered, but you get used to it," he said in retrospect.

"I'm more scared of going down..." (crashing or getting shot down).

However, he added, "We got some real fine pilots over there."

Because of the jagged terrain and the always-present snipers, Renne's aircraft is forced to imitate a helicopter.

Instead of landings with a gliding descent over a long runway, the plane comes over the field, banks sharply and descends in a spiral pattern.

Because of the air drafts caused by the mountains, this type of flying is tricky, according to Renne.

The added danger is provided by the snipers located on the ridges. They use rifles and machine guns to attempt to down the airplane.

"When we flew Vietnamese," said Renne, "they would get sick every time."

ON CHINA SEA

Renne, as a crew chief, was stationed at a base at Da Nang in South Viet Nam. For eight months prior to that, he served as a mechanic at an air base at Nha Trang, located 230 miles north of Saigon on the China Sea.

The young Waterford Township soldier said some of the VC suicide squads had youngsters in them as young as 12 and 13 years old.

He cited infiltration as a big problem, making it hard to trust the Vietnamese people.

Commenting on the Viet Cong, Renne said, "They're so fanatical, they'll never quit."

Officers Must Make Decision on Yule Truce

Reds Are Reported
Set to Halt Shooting for Christmas Eve

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas White House said flatly today that any Christmas pause in bombings of North Viet Nam would be decided in Saigon — not by President Johnson.

Joseph Laitin, assistant press secretary, was asked at White House press headquarters here whether Johnson was considering a holiday pause in bombings.

"That's a matter to be decided in Saigon, as the secretary of state has already said," Laitin replied.

Reminded that Secretary of State Dean Rusk's statement two weeks ago applied to a possible on-the-ground truce, Laitin said Rusk referred to "firing of any kind."

Laitin obviously was prepared for a question on the subject. His reluctance to elaborate was equally evident.

PLANNING LULL

The United States and South Viet Nam were reported planning a Christmas lull in the war to the extent that the Communists are willing to go along and refrain from shooting on their side.

The Communist forces broadcast two weeks ago a suggestion for a truce in the fighting on the night before Christmas. If both sides stop shooting, there could be an effective truce even though no formal cease-fire agreement is likely.

The Communist call was for a 12-hour cease-fire beginning on Christmas Eve and lasting until Christmas morning.

Apparently the United States and South Viet Nam plan a 24-hour cessation of hostilities on the side provided that the Communists do not initiate offensive actions.

Winter Arrives, Keeps 'Arsenal' Under Wraps

Oh! Man Winter arrived last night for a stay of three months, but he didn't tell us when he expects to unpack his gifts of fluffy white snow and blustery winds.

The weatherman reports tonight will be fair, and tomorrow will be sunny and mild with temperatures reaching 40 to 45. Lows will register 30 to 35 tonight.

Today's low recording prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 28. The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 41.

DECORATING FOR DENNIS — Mr. and Mrs. William McDowell watch as their 9-year-old son Michael trims the family's Christmas tree in preparation for his brother's Christmas Day at home. Baby Cheryl also is fascinated by the project. Dennis McDowell, 6, will make his first trip outside Pontiac General Hospital since the Jan. 22 fire which destroyed the McDowell home, killed three family members and burned 70 per cent of Dennis' body.

Joys of Christmas to Ease Boy's Pain

By PAT MCCARTY

Just like any other 6-year-old boy, Dennis McDowell will spend Christmas at home with his family.

But the "home" will be one he's never seen before and the family—well, that will be a bit different too.

Dennis will be allowed to go home for just a portion of Christmas Day.

It will be the first time he has left Pontiac General Hospital since the fire 11 months ago today which burned more than 70 per cent of his body and took the lives of his sister, a brother, their uncle and the family dog.

Another newcomer is a sister, Cheryl, born Aug. 15.

GET ACQUAINTED

She and Dennis have gotten acquainted during her monthly visits to the hospital.

The McDowells' other child is 9-year-old Michael, who was confined for months while receiving treatment for severe burns on his hands. He now is attending Della Lates Elementary School.

Cause of the fire officially is listed as "unknown."

Looking for an answer, Mr. and Mrs. McDowell still stroll through memories of the moments of terror as the flames enveloped their home Jan. 22.

ASK QUESTIONS

They also are anxious to build a new life for Dennis, who has undergone countless skin graftings and faces many more.

Christmas Day, they hope, will give him encouragement — a glimpse of the home that awaits him.

Ice Ball Water Found Impure

Warns Against Using
Brand of Plastic Cube

Tests completed yesterday on Austrian-made artificial ice cubes being sold in Oakland County showed that the water contained in the cubes is impure, Oakland County Health Director Dr. Bernard Berman said.

Sold under the name, "Thermostatic Ice Cubes," the plastic-covered products actually are round and slightly smaller than a golf ball.

After finding that the water was impure, the County Health Department sent samples to Lansing for further testing to determine the nature of the impurity.

No disease producing organism was found, according to Dr. Berman, but he recommended that the Austrian artificial cubes not be used.

THE COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT was alerted that the cubes were being sold when a prospective purchaser called to inquire if they were harmless.

SIMILAR PRODUCTS

Similar cooling products made in Hong Kong previously had been branded as potentially harmful by the State Health Department and ordered not to be sold.

The Austrian-made balls are similar in appearance to those made in Hong Kong, Dr. Berman said. The former are all white, however, while those made in Hong Kong are various colors.

A claim that the Austrian balls contain sterilized water is printed on their containers, Dr. Berman said.

Last-Minute Gift Ideas

By JEANNE NELSON

Gift seekers don't despair. Pontiac area stores have a fine selection of those last-minute gifts.

Soap on a rope for shower lovers comes in these shapes: Tigrr, Wackey Wabbit and Pistol Pete. The price on each is about $1.

Another $1 item would be a Madras plaid snake bracelet. Men's Initialed Irish linen handkerchiefs come three in a box for about $1.50.

For HER are matching sets of evening bags and gloves trimmed with sequins and pearls and lined in satin. They run about $8.

Another feminine gift is a folding razor complete with blades in a leather case about the size of a key holder. This runs about $1.25.

NESTED ASH TRAYS

Three nested ash trays in a hobnail glass design will cost about $4 while a set of eight coasters can be bought for about $3.50.

"Terribly British" are the black nylon umbrellas for men. Their cost is about $7.

For the traveling hypochondriac there are five bottles (each with a different colored cap) to hold medication in a smart leather case. It's price is about $8.

Cashmere ear warmers run about $2.50. Another warm gift for a man is one of the new scarf-vests in wool. Colors are black and red at $2.50.

Last but not least are holiday-wrapped boxes of candy. Depending on the size, they will cost from $2 to $6.

Jesus Played, Worked in His Youth

(EDITOR'S NOTE — What was Jesus like as a boy? The scriptures don't say. AP Religion Writer George Cornell reconstructs the boyhood of Jesus from noncanonical accounts in this, the third in a series of five articles on the hidden years of Jesus.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

A warm hearth... a big outdoors, the scampering, tumbling, the duties to do, a school, the budding questions, a dependable father and a tender mother. These are the hallmarks of a boy, as they were to Jesus.

He always cherished the perspective of childhood. ... to such belongs the kingdom of God," He later described it.

His family, after being harried the first and you for at least the first three years of his life, finally gravitated back to tribal territory, the rustic village of Nazareth in the northern uplands of Galilee.

This wasn't what Joseph had intended, considering the past tension he had faced there over his marriage.

Herod, was Rome's new ruler in southern Israel, "he was afraid to go there," as scripture turns.

TURMOIL RAGED

Turmoil raged in that region, with occupation legions executing rebellious Jewish throngs en masse, including 3,000 at a riot in the Jerusalem temple.

Resistance also smoldered in Galilee, but it was more remote from reprisals.

This was particularly so of Nazareth, a little town of plowmen, shepherds, field hirlings and sheep raisers, situated on a curving mountainside overlooking the Plain of Esdraelon to the south.

There, as he related in primitive Christian writings not accepted in the church's later compilation of the gospels, the boy Jesus roamed the hills and wooded draws, gathered firewood, drew water, squatted by a brook and moulded toys of wet clay, rumped in the pastures.

He took falls, once from a thatched roof; He helped a man who sliced his foot with an axe, pranked mixed colors in a dyer's vat, scuffled with other children and got hit by a stone hurled by one of them, the acclimated Jesus knew the whirling prevision of a slingshot Himself.

Joseph at times reprimanded Him, once for talking back to a cranky woman who objected to His wading on the Sabbath.

"For thy sake," Jesus assertedly responded to Joseph, "I will hold my peace." The boy had sinned, but as scripture observed, He remained obedient to His elders.

His native tongue was Aramaic, a common Hebrew dialect, and as He grew older, He may have acquired some Greek and Latin from the foreign influx. Whenever orange-caped soldiers of "Edom" rode by, His schoolmates spat on the ground.

rendered, I thought, just to get a shower. "I don't see the war ending soon."

What about antiwar demonstrations here at home?

"Pretty disgusting! Nobody enjoys war. We soldiers in Viet Nam) think it's a public display of cowardice."

On a 30-day leave, Rene reports back to the Army Jan. 12. He is in his second stint in the Army, having served from 1959-62.

Dickerson and Swan are members of a Radio Research Unit attached to a U.S. Air Base near Saigon.

The two Pontiac youths have had a year's tenure in Viet Nam.

Dickerson, 22, of 37 Matthews said South Viet Nam, especially Saigon, is mostly French, with the educated people speaking that language.

AFTER MONEY
"The higher class of Vietnamese respect us (U.S. soldiers), but the working classes are just after your money," according to Swan, 19, of 370 Second.

He added that about one out of 15 Vietnamese are with the Viet Cong or sympathetic to that cause.

Admitting that their living conditions are better than those that face soldiers in the field, the two Pontiac servicemen said that Viet Nam has a power problem and cold showers result most of the time for GIs.

Dickerson is a 1962 graduate of Pontiac Central, while Swan graduated last year from Pontiac Northern High School.

Both Pontiac soldiers report back to the Army next month for reassignment.

Crash Is Fatal to Farmington Twp. Coed

A 19-year-old Oakland University coed from Farmington Township was killed in a head-on auto collision about 8:30 last night in Southfield while on her way home.

Karen L. Aronson, 30218 N. Stockton, was dead on arrival at Southfield's Providence Hospital. She had been riding in a car driven by Ronald T. Kendrick, 20, of Royal Oak.

Kendrick's car, traveling west on 10 Mile west of Northwestern, collided with a car driven by Dr. William D. Sharpe, 51, of Detroit, who was admitted to the hospital with multiple bruises.

Police said Sharpe's east-bound auto crossed the center line and that Kendrick unsuccessfully attempted to pull into the ditch beside the road.

Atom Smasher Plans Still On

AEC Denies Report That Program Is Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atomic Energy Commission officials said today they are still discussing the Budget Bureau's matter of asking funds to start construction of a $380-million atom smasher.

But they told a reporter this would not necessarily delay the initial plans to begin building the device in calendar year 1968 provided Congress formally authorizes the project.

They denied reports that the Budget Bureau had ordered the AEC to drop from its 1967 budget request for $7.5 million for initial architectural and engineering work on the project because of the Viet Nam war.

The Detroit Free Press said the Budget Bureau had ordered the initial request dropped—an action he said could delay a start of construction by at least a year.

STILL COMPETING
Communities in 43 states are still competing for location of the proposed 200-billion electron volt particle accelerator. The AEC has been busy trying to pick a site, although the project has not been authorized by Congress.

"We still plan to proceed — we are still on the track," one official said, adding that future plans would depend to a large degree on when the site for the proposed device is finally selected.

But the officials said discussions with the Budget Bureau now going on revolve around whether to put in the request in January — with spending of it contingent on when a site is selected — or wait until a site is selected and then ask for funds.

Meanwhile, they said, they expect that in the next several weeks they should get a recommendation from a National Academy of Sciences committee concerning the selection of about five or six sites from which the AEC would make a final selection. But they added that it "may take some months after that" for the AEC to pick the final site.

One official said the cost of the Viet Nam war is involved in many governmental budgetary discussions — but that he did not know that there was any such discussion related to the atom smasher project specifically.

Jesus Had an Ordinary Childhood

relatives there in Nazareth. Scripture mentions sisters and four brothers, terms often meaning cousins. Noncanonical literature also lists four brothers and two sisters, describing them as older children of Joseph by a previous marriage, most of them grown up.

It is said that the youngest of them, James, was brought up by Mary, along with Jesus, and the two boys worked together with Joseph, their muscles toughening as they wielded the axe, adze and chisel.

Other kinpeople also lived nearby, including the more prosperous Zebedee, who of Galilee 15 miles away. Their two highstrung sons, James and John, eventually became apostles of their cousin, Jesus.

The house in Nazareth was lean in possessions, but abundant in devotion.

It was dug into the limestone mountains, with niches in the walls for oil lamps and utensils chests for clothing, a griddle, fire pit, and floor mattresses of rushes.

DOORPOST SIGN
Fixed to the doorpost was a Mezuzah, symbol of Jewish guardianship over all divine homelands. It contained a folded parchment bearing the great Shema:

"Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord."

They ate kosher foods — mostly barley bread, cheese, spiced vegetables, fruit, fish and poultry, and on festival days, mutton. Like most women, Mary usually did the grain grinding and cooking in an outdoor courtyard.

In devout Jewish households, every meal and every action, no matter how ordinary, evoked praise to God and thanksgiving, beginning with the cock's crow in the morning.

Faith permeated living. The rabbinical sages set about 100 benedictions to accompany every sort of pleasure, work and activity, as commonplace as tying on a belt. The earth and all its functions were considered sacred, natural and supernatural combined.

SINGLE SPARROW

Not a single sparrow falls, nor hair grows, without God's active concern, Jesus would later emphasize. And he gleaned his parables — teaching lessons — from his boyhood surroundings, sowers, sprouting seeds, shepherds and workmen.

His exemplar as a "Father," the sturdy old Joseph, of calloused hands and dauntless heart, gave the boy a new, vivid term for expressing the intimacy of the divine relationship. "Our Father . . ."

As a woodworker and joiner, Joseph would have earned about a drachma 20 cents or two a day. Jesus must have gone with him regularly to find timber and drag it back to the shop to be shaped into yokes and plowshares.

But the chief parental responsibility was to impart God's truths.

FORMAL STUDY
There also was the more formal study, and Jesus' probing questions. "And the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom and the favor of God was upon him," scripture says. It also notes that there was a common saying about his scraggly homework:

"Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" Nor normally, evidently. (Next: The baffling adolescent.)

New Junior High to Be Unique

BIRMINGHAM — Board of education members, who last week awarded a $2.7-million contract for construction of Covington Junior High School, last night received a report on the unique program planned for the facility.

Covington Principal George Dexter explained the plans he is developing for organization of the school, scheduled to open in September 1966.

In introducing Dexter, Schools Supt. Dr. John B. Smith noted elementary education has been improved through team teaching and that senior high draws its strength from departmentalization.

Covington will make an initial attempt at improving the junior high program.

Nothing that will be done there hasn't been tried somewhere else, but officials are convinced Covington will be the first school in the nation constructed for a totally unique program keyed toward individualized instruction.

FLEXIBLE SCHEDULE
It will involve flexible scheduling in 25-minute modules and grouping techniques similar to those used for team teaching at the elementary level.

Each pupil will have a team of teachers who are specialists in their respective subject areas.

Each youngster will spend the amount of time he needs in studying in a specific area.

The program will be geared to capitalizing on the strength of teachers, while developing specific programs for each child, tailored to his needs, interests and abilities.

CD Official Opposes Program Cuts

Curtailment of Oakland County's civil defense program at a time when the entire world is in turmoil makes little sense, a CD official said yesterday.

Speaking before the 8-member Oakland County Board of Supervisors, Victor Woods, a supervisor from Pontiac and chairman of the supervisors' civil defense committee, pleaded the case against curtailment of the county CD program.

For the past four years, some county officials have been advocating either a cut-back of the CD budget or merging of the unit with another county department.

Woods pointed out that "in these troubled times it is imperative that the civil defense operation have the faith and understanding of all county citizens."

He told the supervisors that national and state officials stand firmly agreed on the need for civil defense organizations.

Woods urged the supervisors to study the annual report of the county CD department issued to them yesterday prior to the January meeting of the board of supervisors.

A recommendation from the supervisors' ways and means committee is expected to be presented then on the future of the CD operation.

Alternatives are to cut the present budget of approximately $40,000 for the four-employee department, merge CD or maintain the status quo.

CD Director Wallace Crane said that some county officials had proposed curtailment of the civil defense operation because they consider it an "unnecessary expense."

4 Card Burners Are Indicted

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted four men on charges of burning their draft cards at an anti-Viet Nam demonstration last month.

The four participated in a pacifist rally Nov. 6 in Union Square during which they burned what they said were their draft cards.

Three days later a sympathizer in the audience, Roger LaPorte, 22, set himself afire in front of the United Nations headquarters to protest the war in Viet Nam. He died later of his burns.

The men who will face federal prosecution are Thomas C. Cornell, 31, of New York, a substitute public-school teacher; Marc P. Edelman, 20, a Mount Vernon, N.Y., cabinetmaker; Roy Lisker, 27, of New York, described as a novelist and teacher; and James E. Wilson, 21, of Chatham, N.J., on the staff of the Catholic Worker pacifist movement.

MAXIMUM SENTENCE

The four, along with David J. Miller, 22, of Syracuse, N.Y., who was indicted earlier, face a maximum five years each in prison if convicted.

Miller also is a member of the Catholic Worker, as was LaPorte. The group has an official connection with the Roman Catholic Church.

The grand jury inquiry into the card burning has been criticized by the New York Civil Liberties Union which contends the government is seeking to determine the political beliefs of jury witnesses.

Government officials denied the accusation.

Romney Gets Complaints on Renewal

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney listened to nearly three hours of complaints Tuesday from Detroiters who said urban renewal was for the benefit of the rich, but said he was powerless to stop the bulldozers.

The governor asked state officials and members of the protesting West Central Organization (WCO) for specific figures on how many displaced families still face relocation problems.

A major point of concern, he said, was why planning should not include planning for relocation.

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh or one of his representatives had been invited to the meeting by Romney, but none came.

ABSENCE INDICATION

The Rev. Richard Venz, WCO president, said communication with the Cavanagh administration has been impossible and "it seems to me their absence here is a perfect indication of this."

"I'm not interested in putting anyone on the spot," Romney replied.

Federal Grant Near for Oxford Library

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — The Oxford Public Library has virtually been assured of a $27,300 federal grant to cover one-third of the cost of a new building.

The blueprints and outline specifications of the proposed new library have been approved by the State Library Board and are now waiting routine approval by the U.S. commissioner of education.

The library is to be part of a proposed civic center complex containing the township offices and the Oxford Village offices.

The total cost of the library, about $81,000, is to be met with the grant, with the sale of the present building on Mechanic Street and by donations.

The Library Board is negotiating for sale of the present building. Mrs. L. J. Kamm, president, said the board hopes to realize about $20,000 from the sale.

Christmas Eve Service Is Set

TROY — The traditional Christmas Eve candlelight service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Northminster Presbyterian Church.

The program is a family worship service featuring carols, scripture, anthems and folk music, sung by both adult and children's choirs. The hand bell choir will also participate.

Following the 11 a.m. service Sunday a tea will be held for all college students home for the holidays.

Services Scheduled for Christmas Eve

ROCHESTER — St. Paul's Methodist Church will hold special Christmas Eve services Friday.

The first service at 7 p.m. will be a family service with music by the Galleian Choir and the Christmas stars.

The second service at 9 p.m. will feature music by the Epworth Choir with a sermon by Rev. J. Douglas Parker.

The third service at 11 p.m. will be a traditional Christmas worship service with the Chancel Choir singing and a sermon by Rev. Parker.

determined by the township or the village.

Township Supervisor Lee B. Valentine said the township will use a building fund, but about $20,000 will have to be raised to make up the estimated $50,000 total.

Village Manager Robert Smalley said the village may have to ask voters to approve a tax levy to cover its $50,000 share of the project.

"We may make a decision at our Dec. 28 meeting," he said. "We're going to have to come up with something pretty soon."

PONTIAC ARCHITECTS

The colonial-style complex, to be built at 18 and 22 W. Burdick, was designed by Harry M. Denyes Jr. Associates, Inc. and Bruce Lafer, Pontiac architects.

It is designed to "fit the atmosphere of Oxford" according to Mrs. Kamm, yet be functional, economical and provide for the expansion of the township, village and library units.

To Study School Needs

Pick Citizen Unit Chief

MILFORD — Mrs. Frank W. Prather, 701 E. Liberty, has been appointed chairman of the 39-member Huron Valley Citizens School Study Committee.

The committee was organized last week to study school district building needs in preparation for a June bond issue election.

Working with the committee are Dr. Ray Kehoe and Dr. Daniel Cooper of the University of Michigan's Bureau of School Services.

The group's meetings are open to the public. The next session will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Milford High School cafeteria.

Condemning 50 at Meeting on Rezoning

TROY — The City Commission has authorized its attorney to start condemnation proceedings against the owners of 3 1/2 acres of land it wants to turn into a neighborhood park.

The land is located north on 14 Mile and west of Stephenson in a residential area which is isolated from other park facilities.

The owner of the land is Fruehauf Trailer Co.

In other action Monday night, the commission instructed attorney Stanley Burke to set up a public hearing on renewal of an amusement license for Hanson's Picnic Park on Rochester Road, south of Wattle.

The park license is one of 13 which expire Dec. 31. Under the ordinance the establishments must be inspected and recommended for renewal.

A public hearing on the matter will be held Jan. 19.

Federal Funds Sought Plan OK'd for Educationally Deprived

FARMINGTON — The board of education has approved the general outline of a $112,760 program to help educationally deprived children here.

The board authorized school administrators to file an application for federal funds to support the program, provided under Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Developed by the school system's staff, the program was studied by a citizens' committee which recommended that it be approved by the board.

Working with the eight citizens were Schools Supt. Gerald V. Harrison and consultant Dr. Harry T. Hahn, professor of education at Oakland University.

The federal act is aimed at providing additional academic tools for educationally deprived children in low-income areas.

SMALL INCOMES

These youngsters are designated as coming from families whose total income is less than $2,500 a year.

Money for the program is made available on the basis of the 1960 census, with Farmington School District's quota based on 478 students.

Participants selected "probably" but at least one year behind their grade level as far as reading skill is concerned, Harrison said.

Staff members still are working on details of the program.

MORE DETAILS

"There will be certain refinements in the budget as we get more details on costs of equipment," he noted.

The superintendent said he is hopeful of filing the application with the State Department of Education before the first of the year.

Target date for starting the program is Feb. 1, the beginning of the school system's second semester.

Funds would be used to provide:

- More personnel to assist in individualizing the instruction of academically handicapped children.

- Additional equipment, books and other resources for enriching the basic curriculum.

- Tutorial services through individual or small group instruction after school hours and during the summer months.

- Greater involvement of children and teachers in a broad language experience program at the kindergarten and first grade level.

- Use of innovations in instruction at the secondary level in academic subjects for young people with limited language skills.

- Extensive in-service education for teachers designed to provide a better understanding of practices, materials and procedures for guiding and directing the educational programs of academically handicapped children.

- Medical and dental care where needed.

- Target area for use of the funds includes Shiawassee, Gill and William C. Grace elementary schools and the two junior highs and one high school that serve that area.

LAPEER — Truman Smith is bringing happiness to a lot of Lapeer area youngsters merely by answering his telephone.

It all started when Smith, who lives in Imlay City, took his 3-year-old daughter Renee to see Santa Claus at a Lapeer shopping center.

When they got there, Santa was gone.

Renee cried, and her father didn't want her to be disappointed. So he put through a make-believe phone call to Santa, and Renee was happy.

That same night, Smith decided if a phone call to Santa could make his daughter happy, it could make a lot of other kids happy as well.

TELEPHONE CALL

He put an advertisement in the Lapeer County Press saying that if kids would call a certain number they could talk with Santa.

It so happens the number is the same as his office number at Delta Memorial Estates, the Elba Township cemetery which Smith manages.

And they call . . . and call . . . and call . . .

VARIED REACTION

Some of the kids call and tell him everything they want. Others just listen. Still others giggle.

Smith knows Santa well on account of his 19 children and 23 grandchildren, and he answers each call personally.

He grins and his blue eyes twinkle.

"Santa is getting hoarse from saying ho, ho, ho," he said.

Kidney Is Donated to Long-Time Patient

DETROIT (AP)—The death of a little boy may bring life to a longtime hospital patient. Jeffrey Van Newkirk, 11, and his brothers, Gregory, 9, and Bradley, 7, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Karl Van Newkirk of suburban Plymouth, were hit by a truck Monday night at an intersection near their home. They were on their way to a school play. Jeffrey was dead on arrival at a hospital. Bradley died several hours later. Gregory suffered minor injuries.

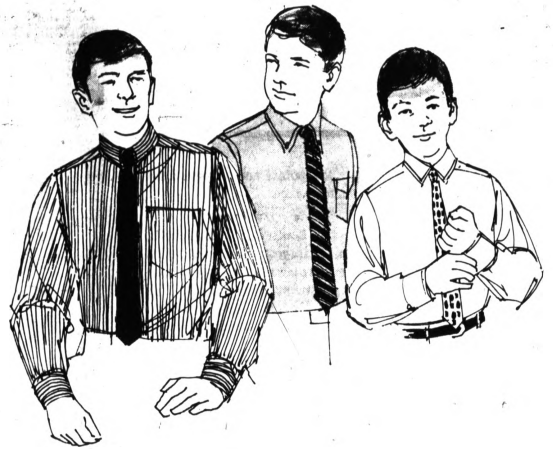

When Dr. Newkirk was told Bradley would not live he gave Wayne County General Hospital doctors permission to take a kidney from his son and transplant it to a 27-year-old long-time male patient at the hospital.

"If my son could be saved and his kidney can be used to save another human, that's what should be done," Dr. Newkirk said.

Dr. Herschel Wells, general superintendent at the hospital, declined to identify the patient who received the kidney. "It does take time to see whether the recipient's body will reject the donor's kidney," he said. "It's a matter of time before the final outcome will be known."

He said that if the kidney was rejected, the patient would be returned to the artificial kidney which has been keeping him alive.

The Newkirks also have a daughter, Judy, 4.

Bleak Season's Ahead for Heedless Drivers

Ahead lie two joy-filled weekends—Christmas and New Year—for millions of Americans. But for hundreds, the specter of death—death on the Nation's highways—is grimly looming his victims.

Is one of them you?

Motoring statistics have been paraded endlessly, seemingly with little effect, in efforts to cut the steadily-mounting highway toll now at the rate of 50,000 deaths annually.

But of all the statistics circulated as authorities wage war on roadway slaughter, the most significant is represented by the figure "1."

You are that "1." Your precaution against driving a vehicle not in top condition, your care in operating it, your alertness in avoiding sudden danger arising from miscalculation on the part of others—all this is embodied in that one statistic.

Whether it will continue to include you as a living statistic or, tragically, as one added to the highway death roll, is pretty much up to you.

Winter, as everybody knows, is the most hazardous time of year for driving. There are more hours of darkness, and snow and ice can tax the skill of the best drivers.

The Michigan State Safety Commission points to three top causes of winter driving accidents and safeguarding action:

- Don't drive "snow blind." Before starting out, clear snow and ice from all car windows and the windshield.

- Don't overlook snow and accumulated grime on headlights, taillights and turn signals. Be sure your heater-defroster system is in top-notch condition and replace streaking wiper blades.

- Insure adequate traction at all times. Icy or snowy roads calls for reduced speed, good tires and brakes, and the use of intermittent braking rather than the "grand slam" technique.

Nature will decide whether your Christmas will be white. You can prevent its being blue.

Vandalism Hidden Tax on Public Education

Students in Boston in 1963 didn't get 53,000 textbooks. They didn't get 400 sound projectors, or 525 television sets, or 1,230 tape recorders.

The money that would have paid for any of these items—$160,000—was the cost of vandalism in the public school system that year.

The children were not necessarily deprived, of course. That $160,000 was part of the school system's overhead that year, and the taxpayers just had to dig that much deeper into their pockets if they wanted these tools and materials.

But in Boston, as in many other cities all over the Nation, this particular wasteful kind of overhead is becoming an increasingly large and intolerable factor in the total cost of education.

Insurance is not an answer because the premiums have grown so costly that many school systems can no longer afford them. In some cases companies refuse to handle this type of insurance at all and have even canceled previously issued policies.

A number of schools are turning to burglar alarm systems, which are designed to detect attacks against protected points and automatically summon police.

In the Louisville public schools, in the first year after installation of such protection, the cost of vandalism attributed to intruders fell dramatically from $23,583 to $5,347. In the second year it dropped to under $2,000.

Louisville's experience indicates that not until chronic vandals begin to be apprehended does the message get across to potential vandals that the schools are not built to be sitting ducks for their vicious acts.

"The American woman is getting taller," reports an insurance statistician. This may help explain why more and more of the American woman is sticking out below her skirt.

Look for News of Peace Talks

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—President Johnson has a number of reasons, besides what it would mean in lives saved, for working out an agreement with North Viet Nam to talk about a peace settlement.

No president in this century matched him in the amount of important legislation he got through Congress in this one year. But he probably faces a stormy time with Congress next year if the war continues.

In addition, 1966 is a congressional election year when the Republicans will try to make issues of anything they can latch onto. The war would be No. 1.

Since Johnson is an active, driving, imaginative man, and a very dramatic one, it would not be surprising if sometime fairly soon he announced some kind of progress toward talks with the North Vietnamese.

Johnson never rests when caught in a dilemma, and he has never been caught in one like this.

So it can be assumed he has been working hard to make his efforts more convincing, at establishing contact direct or otherwise with North Viet Nam's president, Ho Chi Minh.

SHAPER OF EVENTS

Because Johnson is a vigorous man who tries to anticipate and shape events himself, instead of negatively letting chance control the future, what happened recently seems a little odd.

In the past few weeks two Italian professors who visited North Viet Nam returned with word of a peace feeling after talking with Ho Chi Minh. The word got to Johnson in a roundabout way. The whole thing got mixed up.

The public got its first news of this through a story leaked to a newspaper, which was before the State Department acknowledged anything about the professors' efforts.

Its response was far from hearty. It was full of reservations. As the story developed, U.S. planes bombed a power plant in North Viet Nam near Haiphong. The Hanoi radio called the whole business "pure fabrication."

NUDGE TOWARD PEACE

This seemed to end it. But the bombing of the power plant could be taken as a Johnsonian nudge to the Communists that worse was to come unless they began to show some willingness to discuss peace.

This hasn't visibly impressed them yet. But Johnson knows it would be considered a tremendous achievement, here and abroad, if he could get peace talks going.

And, if there was a cease-fire—or just peace talks—much of the steam would be taken out of the Republicans and Johnson, with renewed prestige, could look forward to a happier congressional year than other-wise looks likely.

David Lawrence Says:

Only Type of War Has Changed

WASHINGTON—The world is in a mess. But it's not a new mess. It's just different in the extent and nature of American participation today as compared with past troubles arising in Asia, the Middle East, Africa and Latin America.

The little LAWRENCE wars and revolutions eventually involve the major powers. History shows that, in the 20 years prior to 1914, similar instances of international friction developed the basis for World War I.

Again, in the 20 years between 1919 and 1939, the clashes on various continents—the struggles for self-determination and against imperialism—resulted in the outbreak of World War II.

A 20-year interval now has elapsed since World War II, and the current crises are serious enough to provoke a third world war.

This time, however, there is a major deterrent—nuclear strength. In previous instances the wars were confined to huge land armies. This type of military effort is today called "limited war"—really a synonym for nonnuclear war.

'LIMITED WAR'

Thus, in Viet Nam, the United States is engaged in a "limited war" but with the prospect once more of a heavy involvement of manpower such as happened in Korea only five years after World War II ended.

History repeats itself also in the attitude of European peoples as well as of the American people.

There is today in the United States, for instance, the same kind of counsel being offered as three decades ago—that the troubles in Asia or Europe are other people's affairs and that America had best keep out.

But such advice could, if followed, bring about the very situation everyone wants to avoid—namely, a third world war.

STILL ALIVE

To keep the peace is an obligation which, it was believed 20 years ago, would be effectively undertaken by the newly formed United Nations. Just as it had been hoped in vain that a similar objective would be attained by the League of Nations, created in 1919.

The concept of an international organization to maintain peace is still alive, but the formula for achieving a stabilized peace has not yet been found.

Certain unpalatable facts need to be considered.

The United Nations is a forum of fallen hopes. It has been rendered impotent by the Soviet Union and by an alliance of Asian and African nations which are playing the same old game of politics, often motivated by passions arising out of racial or religious differences or territorial ambitions.

FAITH IN IDEALS

It would be a different world if the Soviet Union were a democracy and had some faith in the ideals that mankind cherishes but finds itself at present unable to fulfill.

It would be a different world if China could be given the help needed to develop a system of free government that today could advance the lot of 700 million people.

It is not too late to begin. This is why American military strength has been committed not only to help save South Viet Nam but, even more, to save all of Asia from a dangerous autocracy that could again drag peaceful nations into a world war. For the threat is there.

Those who talk about pulling out of Viet Nam or accepting some kind of patched-up peace agreement which really amounts to surrender may not realize it, but they may find themselves unwittingly responsible for bringing on the same tragic circumstances that forced World I and World War II on the American people.

Bob Considine Says:

Rumors of Peace Cause Defense Stocks to Dip

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . paradoxes . . . The heurtening report that North Viet Nam was in a mood to holler "uncle," as in Uncle Sam, caused a disconcerting reaction on the Pacific Coast Exchange.

Not a cheer was heard. Not a hat was thrown. Not a cork popped. "A deluge of sell orders hit the market here after reports of peace feelers circulated," a dazed Exchange official said. "We were swamped."

Boeing, Lockheed, North American General Dynamics, United Aircraft, Ling-Temco-Vought, Fairchild, Flying Tiger and Litton Industries and Rohr Aircraft were down.

To many sellers, the threat that peace might break out meant we would stop building warplanes, missiles, Polaris subs, reconnaissance cameras, computers, inertial guidance systems, transport planes (and services) and jet engines.

Even Zerex skidded, off 3 1/2 points at the horrifying effect that peace might have on paperwork. QUESTION: Can we afford peace?

Capt. Walter Schirra, USN, now considered the "first among equals" so far as the 27 other astronauts are concerned, had the most difficult job of the four on the rendezvous in space.

The ticklish question of just how close the two spaceships would come to touching was left to his judgement alone. He was burdened with most of the mating-in-space maneuvering. The success of the $100 million experiment resolved mainly on this rugged guy.

NO BOOST

But he's the only one of the four who will not get a pay and rank raise out of the great achievement.

Lt. Col. Frank Borman, USAF, is jumped to full colonel. Cmdr. Jim Lovell, USN, to captain. Maj. Tom Stafford, USAF, to lieutenant colonel. Schirra, who made captain because of his previous contributions to the space effort, has gone as far as he can in the astronaut league.

The government is grateful, and all that, but it won't promote a spaceman above captain in the Navy or colonel in the Air Force or Marines.

Voice of the People:

'Americans Are Fighting to Keep Our Democracy'

In reply to Mr. Keel's statement that to suppress anyone who has something to say is the Communist way may be true but we already have a democracy and are fighting to keep it. The Communists are allowed to roam free and easy in a country that is free. If they are allowed to hold office and have demonstrations against the government and our way of life, how long will it be free?

If a person does not like a free life, he has no reason to be in the United States. Let him go and live in a country which suits him and leave free people in peace. True, freedom of speech is our way, but where is the line that separates freedom of speech from a double-cross?

MARGARET MARTIN
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

Mr. Thomas A. Keel states that he would not trade his freedom for anything. When you do not suppress the enemy during war you are not trading your freedom, you are giving it away! What sense does it make to send our boys to a slaughter fighting communism and while they are fighting we give the enemy a free run of things here. We should have a taste of war—a taste of what our sons are going through here on our soil—then we would not be so quick to defend communism or the suppression of it. We are indeed double-crossing our soldiers in Viet Nam.

'School Boards Should Eye Federal Trends'

Throughout this country we have competent, dedicated people in various communities serving on Boards of Education. These are people who are deeply interested in discharging the responsibilities.

We are turning out teachers in far greater numbers than ever—teachers who are better qualified than ever before. Child psychology courses are among the more demanding requisites for a degree in education. It would be a grave mistake to permit bureaucrats to numb the individual abilities of these people through planned federalization of social attitudes and standards.

The school boards and administrators who believe in the American system—a system that has provided the highest standards of education of any nation in the world—had better give a close, hard look at these trends of Federal intervention into the school systems and without delay tell their representatives in the Congress how they feel about Washington's bureaucratic attempts to control education.

Comments on Action of Area School Board

The "progressive" Avondale School Board has done it again. Yes, George Shackelford resigned of his own free will, but what other man could take what he has taken this long. The only reason they could give him for not renewing his contract were of a personal nature. When are the voters in Avondale going to wake up to the fact that this board does not have our children's interest at heart?

Replies to Letter on Adequate Qualifications

In answer to Diane Richmond, yes Stevens T. Mason, the first governor of Michigan, had very little formal education. Similarly a doctor in those days practiced medicine with little formal education. Imagine such a man in today's operating room or doctor's office. Would you place your life in his hands? Abraham Lincoln "read" law in the office of a lawyer. This was customary at that time and was adequate for the period. One certainly couldn't pass the bar exam that easily today.

In the days of Stevens T. Mason the qualifications for teaching were minimal. I hope Diane Richmond has no teachers without a college degree. Today we demand high qualifications for jobs ranging from barbers and pharmacists to pilots and engineers. I don't believe that a background that was adequate for public officials in 1937 is adequate today either.

The Israeli Digest

Among the dozens of overseas countries to which American university students go for continued studies, small Israel ranks as their 11th choice. Owing to its heritage and historical significance to the three great religions of the world, Israel offers unparalleled studies in various fields, which may be one reason why it attracts more American students than countries like Italy, Denmark, and the Netherlands.

The largest number by far are studying at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Apart from its high academic standard, a major attraction of this 40-year-old University is its modern, $40-million 236-acre campus.

The United States contingent numbers 230 more than any other group from abroad. This total number of overseas students enrolled during the current academic year is close to 700, of whom 500 arrived this year, giving us some 50 different countries.

For students from the United States and Canada, the Hebrew University offers a special 12-month study framework. This special program, which began in 1955, now has an enrollment of 87 (including 50 co-eds) from more than 30 universities and colleges throughout the United States.

The majority are Jewish, but each year the group includes several non-Jewish students, mainly theology and archaeology majors.

The problem of taking lectures in Hebrew is not unsurmountable. The answer is a 10-week, 6-hour-a-day language course, the so-called ulpan, which during the summer months helps prepare the students for their D-day in the lecture hall.

Flame Used to Produce Intense Sound

MENLO PARK, Calif. — A flame can be used as an amplifier to produce intense sound. Scientists at Stanford Research Institute here have used such a "pyroacoustic" loudspeaker to amplify a human voice to a loudness many times over what is possible with electrodynamic loudspeakers of the same power.

According to theory, a flame should be able to increase sonic energy from 10 to 100 times. To verify the theory, a small prototype pyroacoustic loudspeaker was built at Stanford Research Institute under the direction of James Arnold.

A stream of combustible gas is modulated as it passes through an opening formed by a metal block and the diaphragm of a conventional electromagnetic loudspeaker. The modulated gas stream expands through a throat and passes through a wire mesh flame holder.

The variation of the flame caused by the variations in gas flow gives differing mechanical energy to the gas molecules of the combustion products. Since large changes in molecular motion follow those of the loudspeaker, sound is amplified many times.

LEGENDS OF CHRISTMAS

At that lovely moment, Peter's dad came home. "I have hard work," he said, "and things will be better now."

They were a happy threesome as they walked to church through sparkling snow.

They sat together and sang Christmas carols. To Peter it seemed as if the angels themselves were singing.

"Silent Night" had always thrilled him, and "O, Little Town of Bethlehem" made his heart full of joy.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Pilonidal Cyst Develops During Puberty

There is so much misunderstanding about the pilonidal cysts that form at the lower end of the spine that I will attempt to clear the air.

During your growth before you are born, your right and left sides come together in the midline and form an imperceptible seam.

In a few persons some of the skin cells become buried below the surface at the midline near the base of the spine.

BRANDSTADT

This constitutes a pilonidal dimple which remains inactive until puberty when, along with a generalized stimulation of growth throughout the body, it may grow into a small cyst.

This cyst contains sweat glands and may contain hair, but it produces no trouble until a bump or some other trauma causes it to become infected.

A small painful abscess then forms which must be opened and drained.

This relieves the pain but, from that day on, the cyst will either discharge pus regularly or form a series of abscesses until the cyst is completely removed.

This operation requires great skill because if any of the skin lining the cyst is left in place there will be a recurrence of the cyst.

One reader asks whether a pilonidal cyst can cause indigestion or aching pains in the thighs. Some other cause for these complaints should be sought.

Another asks whether standing on one's feet most of the day would aggravate a pilonidal cyst. The answer is: No, but bouncing around in the seat of a truck or a tractor would.

Q—When fruits that contain acids are put up in tin cans the inside of the can sometimes looks black. Isn't it dangerous to eat the fruit from these cans? Is it safe to keep food in opened cans in the refrigerator?

A—Canned meat, beans or corn (but especially meat) contain small amounts of sulfur which cause a black deposit of tin sulfide on the inner surface of the can.

This is in no way a health hazard but, because it is considered unappetizing, these products are now usually put in cans with an enamel finish.

Acid fruits and vegetables or their juices after a time may cause deliming of the surface with the exposure of a darker metal layer underneath.

This change is also harmless. The chief things to watch out for are cans with bulging ends or those that have sprung a leak.

Keeping food in cans in your refrigerator after the cans have been opened is not only safe but desirable.

Project Mohole—3

Professorial Pipe Dream Launched Idea

By JOHN HALL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In March, a group of scientific cronies sat down to a "wine breakfast" at the home of Oceanographer Walter Munk in La Jolla, Calif.

They were a jolly bunch. All were members of an organization called the American Miscellaneous Society (AMSOC), which was formed to speed the proliferation of alphabetical science organizations.

AMSOC's meetings usually were held at cocktail time in Washington's famous Cosmos Club. It had no by-laws, no publications, no roll calls and no red tape.

With feigned seriousness, AMSOC's members professed to maintain relations with "The Committee for Cooperation with Visitors From Outer Space" and "The Society for Informing Animals of Their Taxonomic Position."

One of the expeditions they delighted in discussing was the drilling of a hole into the bowels of the earth to find out what was there.

DISCUSS SUCH HOLE

For years, Munk, a University of California Professor, and Dr. Harry Hess of Princeton had been discussing the possibility of such a hole.

They were at least half-serious, although both admitted the idea was their own way of rebelling against the deluge of routine scientific proposals they were called on to review.

In any case, the Mohole Project was launched on that spring morning in La Jolla eight years ago. AMSOC adopted Mohole as its own and appointed a 39-year-old geologist, Gordon Lill of the office of Naval Research, as chairman.

Lill, a crew-cut six-footer, is still running the Mohole project—but full time now for the government's National Science Foundation (NSF).

LARGEST EVER

Mohole has grown from a professional pipe dream into the largest research effort in submarine geology ever undertaken.

And the days of wine and roses are over. Project Mohole has become the center of a controversy that has split geologists into two hostile camps.

One faction, led by Princeton Geologist Hollis Hedberg, contended that a small, intermediate vessel should be built to drill dozens of holes in the earth's crust before the venture to the mantle was begun.

The other, led by National Science Foundation (NSF) Director Leland Haworth, agreed that a number of holes should be drilled in the crust before the attempt to reach the mantle. But they insisted that one vessel be constructed to drill all the caves.

The dispute raged after project Mohole, using a borrowed drilling barge equipped with makeshift parapphrasia, drilled a hole 560 feet into the ocean's floor near Guadalupe Island. The ocean floor at that point was beneath 3,140 feet of water.

That experiment was carried out at a cost of about $1.5 million, underwritten by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The results of the 1961 drilling were astonishing to many scientists. They proved the engineering feasibility of drilling in the deep sea with a non-anchored vessel held stationary by large outboard motors.

Mohole was now becoming important—and institutionalized. The AMSOC committee decided it should continue supervising the program, but that the operational end should be entrusted to someone else.

DEVELOP PLATFORM

The National Science Foundation hired Brown & Root, Inc. of Houston, Tex., as the prime contractor. In 1963, the firm decided to develop a drilling platform capable of driving a shaft down to the earth's mantle.

At this point, geologists stopped chipping their rocks and began chucking them at each other.

Hedberg, in testimony to the House Subcommittee on Oceanography and in magazine articles, charged that the project had become a "fiasco" because of "some amazingly inept administrative handling and the irresponsible attitude of a few scientists who were willing to sacrifice a sound scientific approach to expediency and to the false fruits of temporary popular appeal."

Here are the basic arguments of scientists opposed to the drilling platform:

• There is no certainty the mantle can be reached by drilling.

• The same information to be garnered by a super hole might be obtained by intermediate drilling in the crust.

• There is some evidence that the mantle already protrudes through the crust at St. Paul's Rocks in the Mid-Atlantic and near Cardenas in Cuba. Rocks have been found there of the same density that seismologists predict will be encountered in the mantle.

• The cost of constructing the drilling platform—in time and dollars—is enormous. Hedberg estimated a dozen moderate-depth holes could be drilled at much less risk and no greater costs.

Lill, in a 1969 article for Science magazine, has guessed that the "Mohole" could be penetrated for $5 million. Brown & Root's original cost estimate was $35 million.

BIDS COME IN

The Budget Bureau twice has ordered the Mohole office to suspend all expenditures pending a review. The latest review was ordered last August shortly after bids came in for the platform.

The lowest of four — $29.6 million — was $10 million higher than the Mohole office's prior estimates.

After a month, however, the Bureau gave the Science Foundation a go-ahead, and the contract was awarded. From there on, there was no turning back.

Most scientists now accept the decision made — although Hedberg and others once deeply interested in project Mohole now have nothing to do with it.

Congress, once up in arms over the costs, also now seems reconciled to the project.

Lill says he is "more convinced than ever" that the plans are sound.

General Leads Dahomey Coup

Climaxes Weeks of Unrest in Africa State

COTONOU, Dahomey (AP) — Gen. Christophe Soglo, chief of Dahomey's armed forces, took control of this little West African country today for the second time in two years.

In paratroop uniform, accompanied by a number of officers, Soglo went to the radio station at 6:15 a.m. to tell the nation, "It is up to the valiant army to resolve the crisis."

Dahomey has been in a state of political unrest for several weeks. President Sourou Mignan Apithy was forced to resign Nov. 29 and the president of the National Assembly was installed at the head of the government.

Constitution SUSPENDED
Soglo announced that the constitution was suspended, municipal and regional councils dissolved, and political parties banned.

He said that all international commitments would be respected and that Dahomey's participation in various African organizations would continue as before.

Apithy had been kept under house arrest. So had former President Hubert Maga, who was forced out of office by Gen. Soglo in 1963, and Justin Ahomadegbe, former vice president and premier, who was forced to resign with Apithy.

Following Soglo's new coup, the three men were reported to have disappeared from their residences.

Navy Jets Smash Bridge in North Viet Heartland

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy jets smashed a key railroad bridge 18 miles west of Haiphong today in another heavy bombardment of North Viet Nam's heartland.

U.S. spokesmen reported, while Air Force planes carried the air war in the South within 800 yards of Cambodia.

As U.S. fighter-bombers hammered round the clock at the Communist North with 174 tons of bombs, the Viet Cong struck three times on Saigon's doorstep during the night and killed a village chief.

Ninety Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs, F4C Phantom and F100 Super Sabres and 30 carrier planes took part in the night and day assaults on North Viet Nam, hitting 10 bridges, main routes and storage areas, U.S. spokesmen reported.

In the South, Air Force Sky-raidiers slammed into an old Viet Cong stronghold on the Cambodian border in the marshy Plain of Reeds, 35 miles northwest of Saigon. Acting on information from a Viet Cong defector, the Air Force ordered a strike on a three-mile square area that spokesmen said had been used for years as a hideout by the Communists and a marshaling point for supplies drifting in from Cambodia.

WENT ON MISSION
Associated Press photographer Richard Merron, who flew with the mission, said:

"We hit some buildings only 800 yards from the border itself. You could see the border as very well defined by some old Vietnamese fortifications which still are there. At least 30 or 40 huts and other buildings were hit hard."

In all the air activity, only one plane was reported lost in the past 24 hours, and that was announced Tuesday. The pilot was rescued after bailing out. In the previous 24-hour air activity, four U.S. planes were reported lost.

Planes from the carrier Kitty Hawk used radar delivery system to zero in on the railroad bridge near Haiphong, North Viet Nam's largest port. The area, part of the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial complex, has been hit by U.S. planes daily in the past week.

LULL IN ACTION
On the ground, military action against the Communists seemed almost at a standstill.

U.S. spokesmen announced the number of Americans killed in combat last week declined to 10 compared with 91 dead, the second highest toll of the war, in the previous seven-day period. The number of Americans wounded dropped to 126, compared with 316 in the Dec. 12-18 period, and 6 were listed as missing in action, one less than the previous week.

South Vietnamese losses for the week were 239 killed in action, 425 wounded and 77 missing, the spokesmen said. Communist losses were given as 320 killed and 89 wounded. This established by the government to gave the allies a 3.6-to-1 kill ratio over the Viet Cong.

An American spokesman said the lower U.S. casualties were the result of a decision by the Viet Cong "not to become decisively engaged."

ATTACK HAMLET
A guerrilla band attacked the "new life" hamlet of Tan Thuan Dong, less than two miles south of the city, and murdered the hamlet chief, his son and another youth.

Other terrorists threw a grenade and planted a mine at a U.S. military transportation compound three miles north of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport. There were no injuries.

Two Viet Cong platoons hit a government militia company south of Saigon Tuesday night and inflicted some casualties.

The Communist toll was unknown. The deputy chief and another villager were wounded in the Communist attack on Tan Thuan Dong, established by the government to provide new homes for villagers from Viet Cong areas. The hamlet lies between Saigon and Nha Be, South Viet Nam's biggest fuel and munitions dump.

YWCA Gone, but Franklin Manor Still Bustles

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Once again the house at 22 Franklin Boulevard is a home. Now it shelters 15 young women who attend area colleges or work in Pontiac.

For 20 years, Franklin Manor was the home of the Pontiac YWCA. When the Y moved into the Beaudette home across the street, its former quarters were sold to a group of businessmen headed by Dr. Dennis Carmichael of Royal Oak.

The intention was to provide residence for young women attending the Pontiac Business Institute. They found that others were as happy to make application as the FBI girls.

When we went to visit the new occupants of Franklin Manor recently, we had 12 hostesses to show us around the house.

FIRST ONE IN

Harlene Hill, 18, of Peck, Mich., was the first girl to move in last September. She is a PBI student. The only other student from the business college is Sophie Jurek, 18, of Romeo.

Jane Treadway, 23, has a home in Birmingham. But she prefers to live at Franklin Manor and commute a shorter distance to Oakland Community College where she is taking a course in nursing.

Nancy Frazer, 18, of Traverse City; Barbara Luck, 23, of Brown City; Elizabeth Teal, 29, Madison Heights; and Lana Taylor, 21, of Newberry all work at local hospitals as nurse, nurse's aide or practical nurse.

Elaine Frazer, 20, Nancy's sister, works for the Bureau of Social Aid. Marcie Fox, 20, whose folks have moved to Kansas works in the local Boy Scout office, as does Betty Dunn, 20, of Clarkston. Sharon Detvov, 19, works at Community National Bank.

HOUSE MOTHER

Mrs. Elizabeth Watson who is a LPN at Pontiac General Hospital is housemother. Mrs. Betty Carmichael, Dr. Carmichael's mother, represents the board of trustees at the home and spends many hours there.

Coming together from many diverse backgrounds and living in close proximity might make for tensions. But the girls agree that they get along very well.

They like having someone to talk to when they're home in the evening. They go out together. They share meals.

They're planning a Christmas party tonight and Mrs. Watson will have Christmas dinner for any who are here Saturday.

There is no age limit for residents. Rent is a flat $50 a month which pays for a bed in a dormitory room and kitchen privileges.

In addition to the kitchen on the first floor, there is a small one in the basement. This makes it easier for, say 10-12 different girls to get 10-12 different dinners.

NO LINE

Fortunately their working hours are not all the same so traffic in the bathrooms doesn't jam early in the morning.

Residents must sign out and in. Curfew is 10:30 p.m. on week nights, midnight on weekends. But anyone planning to come in later need only indicate her intention.

There have been no structural changes in the building. The YWCA had removed a wall between two upstairs bedrooms years ago to make a large meeting room. This now has half a dozen beds in it.

The former living room is also a bedroom. Here, wardrobe closets were installed. After a coat of paint covers the walls of the former nursery on the lower level, the girls will have a fine recreation room. They have their own plans for redecorating and equipment.

Eventually the old garage which housed the Y's craft program will be remodeled into a four-room apartment.

Dr. H. C. Chapman built the home that is now Franklin Manor. The last individual to live in it was Dr. Arthur Young.

Her Age Is No Secret

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson family pauses Wednesday in the midst of Christmas preparations to observe the First Lady's 53rd birthday.

Born Claudia Alta Taylor on Dec. 22, 1912, in the little town of Karnack in East Texas, she never uses the formal name her parents gave her.

She's known now throughout the world by the name of Lady Bird, given her by a childhood nursemaid.

There's no formal party planned for Mrs. Johnson. As usual, the family will give her personal gifts, not usually disclosed to the public.

At 53, Mrs. Johnson is 5 feet 4, and still maintains a trim size 10 figure.

As First Lady, she presides at numerous White House social events and now devotes considerable time to the beautifying of the nation's capital and a campaign to make America more beautiful.

Oldsters Name New Officers

Mrs. Laura Steinheiser is the newly elected president of the Pontiac chapter No. 7, American Association of Retired Persons.

Others elected include Howard Harbaugh, first vice president; Mrs. J. M. Snow, second vice president; Mrs. Earl Lydy and Mrs. Doris Beardslee, secretaries; Mrs. Fredonia Bourdon, treasurer and Frederick Kline Sr, publicity.

How to Be Popular

What's Magic Formula?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please answer two questions for me.

Can you, in your own brief but to-the-point style, give teenagers the key to being popular with both sexes?

Am I dreaming, or have I seen a book by you called "DEAR TEEN-AGER?" And if so, where may I get one?

MOTHER OF THREE
IN KEENE, N.H.

DEAR MOTHER: The "key" to being popular with both sexes is: Be kind. Be honest. Be tactful. If you can't be beautiful (or handsome), be well-groomed, tastefully attired, trim of figure, and keep a smile on your face. Be clean in body and mind.

If you're not a "brain," try harder. If you're not a great athlete, you can be a good sport. Try to be a stand-out in something. If you can't dance, sing or play an instrument. Think for yourself, but respect the rules. Be generous with kind words and affectionate gestures, but save the heavy artillery for later.

You'll be glad you did. If you need help, ask God. If you don't need anything, thank God.

You aren't dreaming. Any wide-awake book store can get it for you.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please enlighten me about the custom some women have in offering their cheek when greeting another woman? Do they expect the other woman to kiss it, or merely to brush it with her own?

Why don't they simply kiss the other woman's cheek rather than put her in the position of having to do the kissing? Is it a case of who offers her cheek first? I have a relative who never kisses me, but always offers me her cheek.

To me this seems rather presumptuous and having an offer of bestowing a privilege. Isn't she in effect saying, "You may kiss me!" What is your thinking on this? I'd also like to hear how other women feel about it.

DEAR PUZZLED: All sincere greetings are spontaneous. This goes for kissing on the lips, cheeks, brushing the cheek, the hearty handshake and the bear hug.

To analyze a presumably affectionate greeting is to question its sincerity. Most women offer a cheek for the other party to press to her own. This leaves the impression of affection without the impression of lipstick.

DEAR ABBY: I am desperate for some help. My husband doesn't realize that our children are human beings with thoughts and feelings. At dinnertime he harps constantly for them to hurry, hurry — as though mealtime were some unpleasant chore to get rid of as quickly as possible.

If they aren't finished with every crust of bread by the time he's shoveled in his dinner, he spansks them and sends them straight to bed. The children are 3, 5 and 7. They watch him out of the corner of their eyes like frightened little animals, hoping he won't hit them for chewing too loudly.

He says he is teaching them

table manners they will never forget. He is a good, sober, church-going man outside of this. What can I do?

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Your husband is teaching the children something they will "never forget" — but it's not table manners. Unless he, himself, is not mentally deranged, your husband should be taught something about patience, kindness and rearing children.

Since you are "desperate," he's obviously bullied you, too. This "good, sober, church-going" man should take a tip from his friendly neighborhood clergyman.

DEAR ABBY: I liked your answer to HEARTSICK MOTHER, who discovered through some letters she shouldn't have read that her 22-year-old daughter was having pre-marital relations with her boy friend.

She said, "She has repeatedly condemned girls who have had to get married, but her sin is worse because we are Catholics and do not believe in birth control, which she apparently has been practicing."

Abby, I wish you would clarify that one sentence to your readers. Catholics ARE allowed to practice birth control, but not by artificial methods. It requires sacrifice on the part of both partners, but isn't that what love is based on?

Problems? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Have You Tried This?

Two for Chanukah

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

During this time of the Jewish Chanukah celebration, our readers might enjoy trying some traditional holiday recipes.

These were sent to us after a food demonstration at a meeting of the sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel.

VEGETABLE BORSCHT
1 quart borscht
1 can vegetarian vegetable soup, undiluted
1/2 cup sour cream
Combine ingredients, chill and serve in chilled bowls. Sprinkle with chopped chives or parsley.

If you have a blender, combine all ingredients at high speed for 1/2 minute and serve in chilled glasses.

MATZO CHEESE KUGEL
6 matzos, broken into large pieces
5 eggs
1 cup milk
1 pound cottage cheese
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons melted butter

Beat eggs with milk. Combine thoroughly with cottage cheese, salt, sugar, cinnamon and melted butter.

In a greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish, arrange half the matzos. Pour half the cheese mixture over them. Repeat these layers.

Bake in 350-degree oven 40 minutes or until set. Serve with sour cream if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Chemicals Yield Color in Fireplace

Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service Evergreen cones, small blocks of wood or kindling, wood chips and sawdust, or even one-inch diameter rolls of tightly wrapped newspaper or magazines, tied at both ends, soaked in chemical solutions and dried, will give off flames of various colors when they are burned in the fireplace to add to Christmas cheer.

The following chemicals will produce the colors indicated:

- Copper sulfate green
- Calcium chloride orange
- Copper chloride blue
- Lithium chloride carmine
- Potassium chloride purple

Do Not use chlorates or nitrates, or potassium permanganate. Chemicals should be kept away from children and pets.

To avoid storage, obtain only sufficient amounts for treatment. This job should be done out-of-doors.

Rubber gloves should be worn and care used not to spill the chemicals or solutions. The chemicals should be dissolved in a wooden pail or earthen crock, since the chemicals will ultimately destroy metal containers.

TRY PAINT BUCKET

A discarded 5-gallon paint bucket serves admirably as a treating vat, mixing in it no more than a couple gallons of solution at a time.

No need to cleanse it thoroughly for a change of chemicals. The ratio is one pound of chemical to one gallon of water, using one chemical per batch.

The materials to be treated may be placed in a mesh or a porous bag, and submerged in the solution. A stone can weight the material down in the solution.

A day or so of soaking should be adequate. Lift out and drain over the container and spread the treated materials out to dry.

rector of the Bell Chorale, the featured group. With him is Mrs. Huevon Peery, Kuhn Street, representing the sorority.

GOP Women Elect Heads

Mrs. Thomas Hollis of South Genesee Street opened her home for the annual Christmas party and election of officers for the Pontiac Republican Women's Club Monday.

New officers are Mrs. Ab Leddick, president; Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite, vice president; Mrs. Howard Simmons and Mrs. Hollis, secretaries; and Mrs. L. E. Sundahl, treasurer.

Mrs. Irons and Mrs. Leddick presided while assisting the hostess were Mrs. Nelson Hunter, Mrs. C. M. Pelican, Mrs. Gorman and Mrs. Duncan McVein.

The January meeting will be in the Wayne Street home of Mrs. Irons.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice:

I have just finished one of those easy-to-make shift dresses out of a double knit. It fits beautifully and only took a few hours to make — but, I can't press out the crease at the center front. What can I use to get rid of this? It spoils the appearance of my dress and makes it look homemade.

Janet C.

Dear Janet C.:

Unfortunately, there isn't much you can do about this now. If it will make you feel any better, I have also noticed this crease on some ready-made clothes. However, I still don't like the way it looks.

When working with any type of knitted fabric, it is best to refold the fabric so that you don't have to use the crease or fold on your garment. This fabric is usually quite wide, simply fold each side over to the original fold, giving yourself two folded edges instead of one. This works on everything except a garment with raglan sleeves.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Joseph A. Siebert, St. Genevieve, Mo., wins a Tailor Trix pressing board for the following suggestion.

"To get another year's wear out of a coat that is too short, make a 3/4-length coat. Cut off the extra length from the hem and use it to make false cuffs in order to lengthen the sleeves. These jacket-coats are very popular today on the younger set. If the coat is not a tailored classic style, would be best to try to coordinate the colors of your girl's dresses or skirts with the coat."

May I take this opportunity to personally thank you for reading SEW SIMPLE and taking the time to write me. I wish I could personally answer all of your letters, but since I can't, I shall always try to answer most frequently asked questions.

I am interested in all of your problems and complaints and would like to continue to be the go-between for the manufacturers and pattern companies and you, the customers. Have a happy holiday season and look forward to the new and exciting sewing we will be doing in '66.

You may be too busy to sew for the next week or two, however, you will probably be thinking of your sewing projects that will be started soon. Be sure to jot down little notes about the questions you want answered and send me a card or letter so that I can answer them in time.

I will be thinking of new ideas to give your wardrobe a real lift. The best time of the whole year to sew is right after Christmas. You won't have that let-down feeling we experience after the holidays. We're all spending more time indoors, and just the thought of having something new and exciting to wear for Easter will be all the stimulant you need.

Shopping Is One Time Queen Isn't Thronged

LONDON (UPI). — When it comes to Christmas shopping Queen Elizabeth II may be the most privileged of all women. Or then again, she may not — depending on the point of view.

If the Queen has a secret yen to join the throngs in the stores, at Christmas, the wish is denied. If on the other hand she likes to browse and buy solo, that is her privilege and the way it usually is.

PRETTY POSH

The queen, for example, always does at least part of her personal Christmas shopping at Harrods, the Knightsbridge department store generally regarded as the poshest of its kind in London.

But she doesn't rush in like the rest of us and fight with other customers for attention by the salesgirls and men.

Harrods get a phone call from Buckingham Palace that the queen is coming, at some time when the store is closed to the public. When she arrives she is greeted by the manager who escorts her through the various departments and sees to it that her orders are taken carefully.

PRIVACY IS MUST

Privacy about the queen's purchases is a must. Every one involved goes to great lengths to prevent any leaks about what the queen has bought, and for whom.

There was a real dustup some years ago within the palace when Prince Charles, now 17, was still at the toy age. The queen ordered trains for him and somehow the news got out and was printed in one of London's evening newspapers.

SET HER STRAIGHT

Charles was at the age of just learning to read the news about the toy trains mother had bought him. He wasn't pleased and informed his mother he didn't want trains — he wanted a pushmobile.

When you are a queen, and at the same time one of the world's richest persons, some rules about gift giving need to be observed.

One firm rule the queen follows when buying gifts for adults is — never give ties to men or cosmetics to women. She favors gloves, handkerchiefs, bath luxuries, books and records.

And she believes in exchanging only modest gifts, to avoid embarrassing the receiver.

Who can really swap presents with a queen who has everything.

Welcome Rebekah to Exchange Gifts

Members of the Welcome Rebekah Lodge No. 246 will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Pythian Hall on Voorheis Road. There will be an exchange of gifts and qualifications of new officers will be given.

MRS. R. L. NELSON

Newlyweds Are Wed by Candlelight

A candlelight ceremony and reception in the Walled Lake Methodist Church marked the recent marriage of Rae Jean Spengeman to Raymond LaVerne Nelson.

Their parents are the Alfred H. Spengemans of Cookville, Tenn. and the L. Raymond Nelsons of Walled Lake.

White satin-backed taffeta with alencon lace applique on the Empire bodice fashioned an A-line gown and train for the bride. A matching pillbox capped her illusion veil.

She carried white gardenias and Stephanotis for the double-ring rite performed by Rev. Ellis Hart.

Gale Murray of Orchard Lake was honor attendant along with Kathy Nelson and Susan Sybeld, bridesmaids.

With best man Michael Barnes of East Grand Rapids were the ushers Jack M. Hylop of Saginaw and Kenneth Spengeman, the bride's brother.

The couple will resume their studies at Western Michigan University.

Goes to Debut

Laura Marie Freville, daughter of the C. Stanley Frevilles of Hillwood Street, White Lake Township will attend the debut of her University of Michigan roommate, Lynda Haggis in Washington, D.C. tonight.

Elegant Pearls Endearing Gift

MPB—Most women, according to a new survey, see cultural pearls as symbolic of sophistication and elegance, as symbols of warmth and love. Mitsuo Kikuchi, who reported on the survey, is a Japanese government official in New York and connected with the U.S. pearl market for Japan's cultured pearl industry.

The real purchasing power of the average American family is 15 per cent greater now than in the predepression year of 1928.

County Authorizes Options to Buy Land for Park Use

HERMAN W. STEPHENS

Equalization
Post to Deputy

Pick 13-Year County
Employee as Director

Herman W. Stephens, deputy director of Oakland County's Equalization Department, yesterday was named director by the County Board of Supervisors effective Jan. 1.

A county employee for 13 years, Stephens, 42, became acting director of the department two months ago when director Edwin C. Sage announced his retirement effective Jan. 1. Sage has been on sick leave.

Stephens, of 1210 W. 11 Mile, Berkley, was nominated for the job yesterday by Vance C. Fouts, supervisor from Hazel Park and chairman of the board of supervisors' equalization committee.

The nomination, however, was challenged by Clark Hagstrom, supervisor from Birmingham and a member of the equalization committee.

Hagstrom contended that the job, with a top salary range of $14,500, should have been advertised outside the county.

QUESTIONS PROCEDURE

He said he didn't question Stephens' abilities but rather the procedure of filling the job on the recommendation of the equalization committee.

At a meeting of the committee Nov. 16, five of seven members voted to recommend Stephens.

Hagstrom and Harold J. Remer, supervisor from Royal Oak, were the dissenters.

Stephens' appointment was overwhelmingly approved by a voice vote of the supervisors.

Owosso Man on Probation
in Car Deaths

An Owosso man was placed on two years probation yesterday for negligent homicide in the traffic deaths of a Troy woman and two of her children last March.

Erwin F. Meiers Jr., 35, also was ordered by Circuit Judge William J. Beer to observe an 11 p.m. curfew and was prohibited from driving and drinking during the probation period.

Meiers pleaded guilty to the charge in September and was to have been sentenced in October, but Beer delayed the sentence for two months.

Mrs. Warren E. Davids, 42, of 825 E. Square Lake, and her daughters, Melody, 6, and Carmen, 18 months, were killed when Meiers collided with their car March 29. Another daughter, Tessie, 5, was seriously injured.

The accident occurred at the Troy intersection of Crooks and Long Lake. Meiers suffered a knee laceration in the accident.

Mother Sentenced in Fatal Shooting

A Pleasant Ridge mother of four was sentenced to five years probation yesterday in the fatal shooting of her estranged husband Sept. 21.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer instructed Mrs. Judith Ann Tillman not to remarry without the permission of the court. She was also ordered not to drink and to observe an 11 p.m. curfew during probation.

Mrs. Tillman pleaded guilty Dec. 14 to manslaughter in the killing of her husband Walter, 39. He was shot five times.

Options to buy two parcels of land in Springfield Township totaling 66 acres adjacent to the Oakland County-owned Davisburg Park were authorized yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The property, plots of 14 and 52 acres, would be used for future park expansion and possibly as a location for 4-H activities.

Total cost of the land is $27,000 which would be shared equally by the county and federal government if the options are used.

A $1,500 expenditure was authorized for the options.

CONFIRM APPOINTMENT

In other business yesterday the board confirmed the appointment of James R. Nichols as retirement effective March 1.

deputy drain commissioner for the county.

An assistant project coordinator for the drain office for the past four years, Nichols was appointed to the new post effective Jan. 1 by Daniel W. Barry, county drain commissioner.

Nichols will succeed Robert J. Evans who has announced his retirement effective March 1.

Cost of the work will be financed by general obligation bonds to be repaid through a special tax assessment to Pontiac taxpayers on their county tax bills.

The board voted to table action on a proposed project to improve Wolverine Lake pending the outcome of proposed amendments to existing legislation.

This action was requested by Commerce Township Supervisor Thomas Tiley who objected to a prepared resolution presented to the supervisors which recommended that action on the project be dropped because a bond issue could not bear the full faith and credit of the county, according to Act 140.

Residents of Wolverine Lake had petitioned for the estimated $1-million improvement project through the county drain office in 1962 with financing planned through a special assessment district.

Parent-Teacher groups had their origin in a national congress of mothers which convened for the first time in Washington in 1897.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: None of the Voodoo man's magic works on Mr. D and the boy. He thinks they are Santa and the Princess and finally admits their power is greater than his.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN AP News Features

The little boy waved the coat hanger around his head. He tried to think of some magic words that would frighten the Voodoo man.

All he could think of were nursery rhymes, and he didn't think they would sound too impressive.

He turned to Mr. D and said, "Santa, will you kindly cast a spell over this wicked creature? I will wave the wand."

Mr. D was taken by surprise. He couldn't think of a single magic word.

But suddenly the names of all the streets he had called out during the years he had driven his bus down Main Street came crowding into his mind.

"Dunrobin, Dalonega, Wapakineta, Walhonding, Wisomining."

FRIGHTENED

He shouted out the names of the streets in his fine old bus driver's voice. The little boy waved the coat hanger wildly. The Voodoo man was frightened nearly out of his wits.

"Stop it! Stop it! I'll tell you my secret. What good is it now anyway?"

He sat down on the floor in front of the throne.

Mr. D stopped shouting. The little boy put down the coat hanger. They leaned over the Voodoo man and hardly dared to breathe.

MUST KNOW

This was the secret they had

Find Wrong Body in Livonia Grave; Exhuming to Halt

DETROIT (AP)—A grave at Brookdale Cemetery in Livonia held the wrong body Tuesday and further exhumations were ordered halted.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph Rashid said he would permit no further grave openings until cemetery officials can properly identify the graves.

The cemetery, in receiver-ship and on the auction block, is under investigation for allegedly improper burials.

Survivors of deceased persons buried at Brookdale have requested nine exhumations. Eight have been conducted or given up.

The Fiercest Ghoul In Witchdom to know. Until they did neither Santa Claus nor the Princess nor any fairy creature was safe.

The Voodoo man slowly drew the shoe off his right foot. Then he drew off the sock. On his long big toe there was a ring of woven hair.

"There it is," he said sadly. "It is made of hairs taken from the beard of the fiercest ghoul in witchdom. I lived with him in the bottom of a well, and plucked his whiskers one by one while he slept."

Since he slept only one night a year it took me 70 years. But it was worth it, for when I had made the ring the ghoul was my slave and I had the power to conquer all of fairyland.

STONE, MICE

"I have turned the Santa Land workers to stone. I have put the Fairy Queen to sleep. I have turned all her subjects into mice."

"I have been to the bottom of the sea and changed the mermaids into sardines."

"There is no spell I could not cast. Now I find your power is greater than mine, after all."

He began to pull his sock back on. Mr. D and the boy looked at each other.

MUST GET RING

They had to get the ring. As long as it stayed on the Voodoo man's toe, his power remained even though he did not know it.

"Wait," said Mr. D. "Let us look more closely at the ring."

He reached down and took the Voodoo man's foot. The boy leaned over and grasped the toe.

Mr. D's whiskers and the boy's

Father, Son Turnabout

ODJACI, Yugoslavia (AP)—Some 25 years ago Radivoje Djordjevic took his young son to school for the first time, calming the little boy's fears.

Now the 53-year-old Radivoje has gone back to school himself to take tests for a high school diploma he never received as a youth.

The father's nervousness was calmed by his son, now the examining professor at the school.

8th Arrested in Heroin Smuggling Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight arrests have now been made in the smuggling of millions of dollars worth of heroin into the United States.

In the latest arrest, French police seized a retired U.S. Army major Tuesday at his home at St. Jean le Blanc, 60 miles from Paris.

The major was identified as Samuel Desist, 42, a native of Virginia and the former information officer at the U.S. installation at Orleans, France. Police said they found no drugs in Desist's home but discovered correspondence with several members of the gang they said smuggled the 209 pounds of uncut heroin.

RECENTLY TRANSFERRED

CWO Herman Conder, 35, was arrested Monday at Columbus, Ga. He was recently transferred to Ft. Benning, near Columbus, from Orleans. Federal agents said they found the heroin in a freezer shipped with Conder's household goods.

Next, federal men arrested Frankie Dio, brother of under-

In New York, U.S. Atty. Robert Morgenthau said four French nationals and a Brazilian had been arrested in the same case.

Two Houses Burn in City; Baby Hurt

Two house fires broke out within an hour yesterday in Pontiac. A six-week-old baby was hospitalized with third-degree burns and the rear of a home at 442 Harvey was gutted.

Reported in satisfactory condition is Edward J. Ringgold Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Ringgold of 397 Branch.

He was burned on the head and face when curtains in his home were ignited by a hot radiator.

The child was taken to Pontiac General Hospital by his mother as firemen arrived at the fire just after 2 p.m.

The blaze, which caused $500 damage to the building and destroyed $150 in contents, was extinguished in about 30 minutes.

SECOND BLAZE

Two engines and a ladder unit which fought the fire were returning to the station when called to the second blaze.

Capt. John S. Luxon — who directed Pontiac firemen at both fires — said an overheated space heater started a fire in a first-floor wall at the home owned by Elizabeth Jones.

Flames then spread to the second floor and roof, causing an estimated $4,000 damage to the house, according to Luxon.

Loss of contents was put at $100.

Thief Takes Mink Cape

Mrs. William J. Wottowa of 6483 Alden, West Bloomfield Township, reported to Pontiac police yesterday the theft of a mink cape valued at $900.

Mrs. Wottowa said the fur piece was taken from her car — thought to have been locked — while parked at a medical building at 880 Woodward.

Patrolman said the left rear door lock on the car was defective.

4 Formally Added to Downtown Unit

Four persons were formally added to the city's Liaison Committee last night.

Added to the group were Charles F. Brown, Theodore B. Bloom, Kenneth S. Miller and Monroe M. Osmun.

The committee is made up of city officials and businessmen to investigate and advise on problems of downtown redevelopment.

Brown is outgoing president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, while Bloom is past president and Miller is the 1966 president.

Osmun, who has served on the committee in an unofficial capacity, is past president of the Downtown Pontiac Business Association.

Santa Wears Silver Badge

Members of two Pontiac police organizations said today they are sending a check for $77 to a 52-year-old woman whose rent money and Christmas savings were taken by pursenatchers yesterday.

The $77 was taken from Mrs. Bethel LaCroix of 67 Norton — presently receiving welfare relief from the county — by two youths who knocked her to the sidewalk.

Raising the money were the Pontiac Police Officers Association and the Fraternal Order of Police.

Two Robberies in Pontiac

A "shaky" bandit, armed with a 38-caliber revolver, took dog followed the bandit's path to a nearby spot where a car had been seen waiting just before the holdup.

$260 from a service station owner and an 83-year-old Pontiac man was tied up and robbed at knife-point in his home in armed thefts reported to Pontiac police yesterday.

Morris Hoolihan, owner of Morris Gulf Service at 1556 Baldwin, said a gunman masked with a white handkerchief and wearing a black wool cap came into the station about 8 p.m.

The bandit, said by Hoolihan to be "very shaky," emptied the cash register and then told Hoolihan, "I should blow your leg off for not having more money."

The thief fled the station on foot. A State Police tracking

Edwin F. Floyd of 425 Orchard Lake, who told police he lives alone, said two men armed with knives broke into his home, tied him up, slashed his phone line and looted his bedroom.

The bandits took a 25-year service watch given Floyd by Pontiac Motor Division and valued at $60, a bolt-action 22-caliber rifle and $15 in cash.

Floyd called police after working his way free. He was uninjured.

Man Is 'Fair' After Crash

A 69-year-old man was reported in fair condition today in Pontiac General Hospital after sustaining injuries in an automobile accident on Cooley Lake near Westlawn in Waterford Township.

Peter A. Merisino of 290 Blind Trail received multiple lacerations and fractured ribs when his car sideswiped another vehicle and crashed into a tree.

The driver of the other car, Linda L. Barton, 18, of 1819 Thorndale Commerce, was uninjured. Two passengers were not injured.

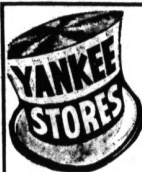

Police Group Elects Officers

Birmingham Police Detective Lt. Merlin L. Holmquist has been elected president of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association. He succeeds Pontiac Police Lt. Clayton Randolph.

Other new officers are Detective Harry Jones of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, first vice president; Carl Carter of the Legal Department of Detroit Edison, second vice president; and Lionel Silverman, co-treasurer of Security Services, Inc., Southfield, secretary-treasurer of Wolverine Lake Police Commission.

Experience Lacking

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Police concluded the burglars who attacked an office safe in the state building over the weekend lacked experience. They made their futile assault with two spoons and a can opener.

AF Team Probes Data on Failure of Titan 3's Upper Stage

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—An Air Force investigative team probes through mountains of data today to learn why the upper stage of a Titan 3 rocket flubbed a final critical maneuver, failing to drive four satellites into their proper orbit.

At stake is a possible delay in the next Titan 3 launch, now scheduled to spread eight military communications satellites at various locations in space sometime in February.

"We'll want to take a long, hard look at the problem," an official said.

He said that technical troubles in readying the eight satellites might give the Air Force U. S. 131 freeway. It would an extra month or so beyond the end of a complex six-hour flight and marred what otherwise had been a perfect mission.

hoisted its 954-pound bundle of satellites into a looping orbit ranging from 120 to 20,000 miles above the earth.

Slightly more than six hours after the 9 a.m. EST lift-off, however, the upper stage — called a transtage — was supposed to restart and make the orbit a 21,000-mile-high circle. Instead, the transtage failed to restart, and three of the four satellites went into the wrong orbit.

The Air Force said it did not know whether a fourth satellite, which was supposed to study the sun, had been released or not. At any rate, it wasn't working. It marked the second consecutive time that the upper stage had failed. In October the transtage broke apart when one of two engines did not shut down.

The boat siren on the liner Queen Elizabeth can be heard for a distance of 10 miles.

Agency Approves Segment of Freeway

LANSING (AP)—The Highways Department Tuesday announced approval of a route location engineering report for north of Howard City. Total estimated cost is more than $14.8 million.

LBj Pardons Ex-Lawmaker

Boykin Hopes to Get
$40,000 Fine Back

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Former Rep. Frank Boykin, joyful over his pardon by President Johnson, says he now hopes to recover the $40,000 fine he paid when convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States in violating conflict of interest laws.

"I thought all along that right would prevail," the 30-year-old Boykin said Tuesday. "And now it has. I was not worried, because I knew I had done nothing wrong. I'm very happy."

Boykin was fined $40,000 and sentenced to six months probation after he was convicted on eight counts in the U.S. District Court in Baltimore, Md., Oct. 7, 1963. He had been accused of attempting to influence the Justice Department in handling mail fraud charges in a savings and loan case.

Boykin, now active in the lumber and land business in Mobile after a 28-year career in Congress, was not given a prison sentence in view of his age and physical condition. The effect of the pardon, disclosed Tuesday, is to clear his record and restore the civil rights he lost when convicted.

IN POOR HEALTH

The pardon was signed by Johnson last Friday and made effective as of Monday. The Justice Department said the former Democratic congressman has a serious heart condition and high blood pressure.

Boykin said he first heard the news when he received telephone calls from Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., and Reps. Armistead I. Selden Jr. and Bob Sikes of Alabama informing him of the pardon.

He said they read parts of letters that had been sent to them by the government describing a "full and unconditional pardon."

Three senators and 34 representatives, comprising most of the delegations from Alabama, Florida, Mississippi and South Carolina, wrote supporting a pardon for Boykin.

Boykin, now board chairman of the Tensaw Land & Timber Co., said his four sons now do most of the work in running the business. He said business had doubled since he left Congress and that his plans were to build it even bigger.

Detroit Grant OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Economic Opportunity has approved a $39,600 grant for an antipoverty program in Detroit. The money will be used to help operate a maternity center on Detroit's east side.

Ford Praises Yank GIs

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
WASHINGTON — "The American GI is proving again that he is the best soldier in the world, past and present," Congressman Gerald Ford, 5th District, says.

The House minority leader is a top military expert with long service on the House Defense appropriations subcommittee.

"The record being written in Viet Nam by our troops is a proud one," he said, adding it makes no difference whether on land, sea or in the air, our men do their job with courage and effectiveness.

Increased enlistments since the buildup of military activity in Viet Nam underline the responsibility and loyalty of America's young people, he reports.

Ford makes clear that it is proper that youth with plans for the future, such as finishing college, stick to their program until convinced the country is in need of their services.

CARRYING BURDEN

"The Vietnamese soldier has been carrying the burden of the fighting in South Viet Nam for the past 20 years, and he was getting tired and discouraged until that day a few months back when the American GI said: 'Come on—Let's go—You no longer have to carry the burden alone!'"

"The added confidence of ultimate victory has made the Vietnamese soldier an even better soldier."

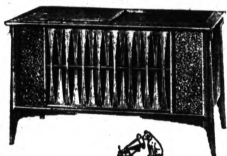

It's an unbeatable team, predicts Ford.

RICE SALAD — You can have a red and green salad for holiday entertaining. Try this unusual combination of cooked rice, diced picked beets and minced green pepper—all coated with a smooth sour cream dressing.

Rice Salad Gets Garnish of Beets

Here's a recipe that will appeal to the modern cook — one who is intrigued by the wise assortment of packaged mixes available on the grocers' shelves today.

Chiffonade Rice Salad makes use of one of the newest packaged mixes available — sour cream sauce mix — and one of the oldest foods known to man — rice. The two are blended to form the base of a delightful piquant salad.

Finely chopped green pepper and salt are mixed with the sour cream sauce and rice which is then spooned into crisp lettuce cups. The final filling — diced pickled beets and chopped hard-cooked eggs — is added just before serving.

This is the kind of a salad that is best served well chilled.

Refrigerate the rice — sauce-green pepper mixture separately from the remaining ingredients for the pickled beets have a tendency to bleed and the lettuce will lose its crispness if filled too long before serving.

Use any kind of cooked American — grown rice for this salad — regular milled white, parboiled, brown, or precooked rice. Cook it according to package directions and be assured of tender, fluffy rice no matter which type of rice was chosen.

Chiffonade Rice Salad
2 packages (1½ oz. each) sour cream sauce mix
1 cup milk
3 cups cooked rice
½ cup minced green pepper
¼ teaspoon salt
6 lettuce cups

1 cup diced pickled beets
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
Blend sour cream sauce mix with milk to a smooth sauce. Stir rice, green pepper, and salt into sauce. Spoon onto lettuce leaves and top with beets and eggs. Makes 6 servings.

English Muffin Holds

Sauced Ham, Eggs

Dress up your ham-and-egg breakfast by serving a gourmet favorite, eggs benedict. To prepare, place a broiled slice of ham on half a toasted English muffin, top with a poached egg, then cover with a creamy hollandaise sauce. Serve for breakfast or brunch and delight your guests. It's a glamour way to use ham leftovers, too.

Use Ginger Ale as Gelatin Liquid

The ladies will like this!

Molded Grape Salad
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup orange juice
1 bottle (7 ounces) ginger ale
Juice of 1 lime (2 tablespoons)
1 cup halved seedless grapes
Salads Greens and Mayonnaise
In a small saucepan over very low heat, stir together the gelatin and orange juice until gelatin dissolves; remove from heat.

Open the room-temperature ginger ale bottle and allow foaminess to subside; stir into gelatin mixture with lime juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in grapes. Turn into four ½-cup size molds; chill until set. Turn out and garnish with greens and mayonnaise. (Salad is on the tart side.)

Bit of Relish in Meat Loaf

Relish meat loaf is extra good. Thoroughly combine 1½ pounds of ground beef with ¾ cup of quick or old-fashioned uncooked rolled oats, ¼ cup of sweet pickle relish, 1½ teaspoons of salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper, 1 egg and ¾ cup of milk. Pack firmly into an ungreased 8½ by 4½ by 2½-inch loaf pan. Bake 1 hour and 15 minutes in preheated 350-degree oven. Makes 6 servings.

Holiday Idea

Add one cup of finely-diced, fresh Delicious apple and one-half cup crushed peppermint candy to a package of prepared pudding mix. Top with a sprig of mint for a colorful holiday dessert.

Report Received on First Phase of Tree Planting Program

A sizable step toward a more beautiful Pontiac was reported to the City Commission last night.

The commission received a report on the planting this fall of 803 trees as the first phase of a citywide tree planting program.

The report was submitted by Kenneth W. Harris, city forestry supervisor, and David R. Ewalt, director of the Department of Parks and Recreation.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the costs of the program were shared by the city's capital improvement fund and the two urban renewal projects.

Warren said $8,000 was appropriated in the 1965 improvement fund. He hoped the appropriation could continue every year.

DOWNTOWN AREA

Some 478 flowering trees and shrubs were planted in the downtown area around Wide

Track, while 325 shade trees were planted in other parts of the city.

In other business last night, the commission approved contract documents for the revised R20 urban renewal plan.

Planning and Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates reported that the city's noncash credit for work on the Clinton

The Press seeks to lease the land from the state for added employe parking.

The commission approved the transfer of a class C liquor license from escrow to 856 Oakland. The transfer was sought by Paul Spadafore who previously operated a tavern at that location.

In other business, the commission approved the sale of property at 165 Cedarale to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for $13,031.

ACQUIRED LAND

The city had acquired the land during construction of the Murphy Park trunk sewer.

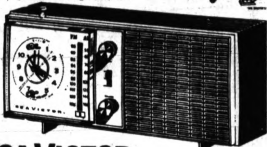

An exchange of two small pieces of land south of Mount Clemens along the Clinton River was also approved. The exchange between the city and Meltz, Inc. is in connection with river improvements slated for that area.

Final approval was granted last night to the vacating of an alley east of East Boulevard, each to fill two posts on the Board of Canvassers. Two terms on the board expire Dec. 31.

River tunnel had not been as much as previously reported.

However he said the R20 project still has an excess of "credits" totaling $221,525. Thus the city will not have to lay out urban cash to pay its share of urban renewal costs.

TUNNEL WORK

Previously, Bates said it had been thought that the revised plan gave the city an added $1 million credit for the tunnel work.

In fact, the R20 budget documents show federal officials Only about $282,800 in additional credit for the tunnel project.

This represents about 25 percent of the work done outside the urban renewal project on the river.

The commission last night formally indicated that state-owned land along West Wide Track, south of Carter and north of West Huron, probably would not be used by the city in the next three years.

FIRST OPTION

The city has the first option to buy the land. The Pontiac Press asked the city to indicate its intentions in reference to the land.

Warren and Police to Air Pay Request

City Manager Joseph A. Warren indicated last night that he would meet this afternoon with representatives of the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA).

The PPOA is seeking a pay raise and longevity pay for its members.

The police group has rejected the city's offer of a pay boost recommended in a survey by the Michigan Municipal League.

How would you play the hand from then on?"

Oswald: "I would win that second diamond and run off four spades. Assuming that spades broke 3-2, I would note that all spade declarers would be able to take the club finesse with complete safety and would make four-odd if it worked. I would also note that a great many would have reached four spades instead of three and that the safety play of refusing the club finesse would give me a bad match-point score."

Jim: "So far you have said nothing. Now how would you play the hand?"

Oswald: "Well, if you're going to pin me down, I would run off four spades and three hearts and study my opponents' discards. It might turn out that West would discard a diamond and I could end-play him with a diamond throw-in."

Jim: "Suppose West held all his diamonds and when you came down to the final play you would know that he was sitting with one club and three diamonds. Now what?"

Oswald: "I would have to lead the jack of clubs and take the finesse."

2 Stores Bombed Following Threats

PACIFICA, Calif. (AP) — Twice within two days bombs have exploded in San Francisco Peninsula groceries after managers were threatened by extortionists on the telephone.

A clerk was struck on the leg by flying metal Tuesday in Pacifica. No one was injured in a blast at Daly City's Mayfair market Monday.

In both cases, directions were given to leave money in a designated place. Police were called both times. Shortly afterward, in each case, the makeshift bombs went off.

Police Expose Torture House

Charge Woman Ran Thrill-Seeker Haven

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Authorities have exposed a "house of torture" which they say catered to a nationwide clientele of masochistic thrill-seekers in a fashionable section of the city. While sheriff's detective Arthur Massugno posed as a customer inside the 18-room mansion Tuesday, Sheriff Leroy D'Aloia and police detectives entered and arrested Miss Marianna Von Clef, a pretty, 39-year-old blonde, and Albert J. Beard, 36.

The woman, dressed in a leather suit and high-heeled boots, was accused of operating the house. Beard was described as her assistant.

Police said they found torture racks, whips and straps, leg irons, manacles, straitjackets, and mirrors so customers could watch themselves being beaten.

UNUSUAL THRILLS

D'Aloia said Miss Von Clef, who described herself as a model, made about $1,000 a week by administering 450 treatments to men and women seeking unusual thrills.

Files listing names and addresses of 4,000 clients from all parts of the country were confiscated. Police said the files detailed the clients' likes and dislikes.

Miss Von Clef, who police said came to the United States from Holland three years ago, was charged with maintaining a disorderly house, soliciting for acts of perversion, possession of indecent literature with intent to sell and possession of barbiturates.

Beard, a self-styled hair dresser, was charged with aiding and abetting and being an inmate of a disorderly house.

The shorelines of Norway and its islands are rising at a rate of about one foot to each 10-year period.

PACIFICA, Calif. (AP) — Twice within two days bombs have exploded in San Francisco Peninsula groceries after managers were threatened by extortionists on the telephone.

A clerk was struck on the leg by flying metal Tuesday in Pacifica. No one was injured in a blast at Daly City's Mayfair market Monday.

In both cases, directions were given to leave money in a designated place. Police were called both times. Shortly afterward, in each case, the makeshift bombs went off.

Youngest Professor

Is Man on the Move

NEW YORK (AP) — A young chemist who graduated from college only eight years ago has been appointed a full professor at the age of 28.

Dr. Harry B. Gray, now the youngest full professor at Columbia University, has risen through the academic ranks from assistant professor to associate professor to full professor in just four years.

Arraigned in Knifing

LANSING (AP) — Mrs. Luvenia Allen Lee, 22, of Lansing, demanded examination Tuesday at her arraignment on charges of murder in the fatal stabbing of her husband, Edwin, 23. Lee died Monday night of stab wounds.

BEN CASEY

EARLY MORNING, BEN HAS JUST COMPLETED A SIX AND A HALF HOUR OPERATION ON HANS EMBARD.

HOPE I NEVER SEE A SKULL LIKE THAT AGAIN.

"EX-MAXI PRISONER" "GAGGED EX-MAXI" YESTERDAY DAVID BEG ALLEGEDLY...

THE OPERATION WENT PRETTY WELL AND YES, I READ IT, DAVE, BUT I DON'T BELIEVE IT.

WELL, IT'S TRUE, BEN, EXCEPT THAT I DIDN'T TURN ON THE GAS, HANS DID. I LEFT IT ON. BECAUSE I GOT TO SEE HANS.

HERE'S THAT NEWSPAPER YOU WANTED TO SEE FIRST THING, DR. CASEY!... AND THERE'S A PHONE CALL WAITING FOR YOU, MR. DAVID BEG.

THE BERRYS

I QUIT! YOU CAN BEAT THE REST OF YOURSELF!

I'M GOING OUT AND READ THE REST OF YOUR PAPER!

I WAS ONLY KIDDING, DEAR. IS THERE ANYTHING ELSE YOU WANT TO SAY TO ME BESIDES TAKING THE GARBAGE OUT?

TURN PAGE FOR KROGER LOW GROCERY PRICES

Potato Chip Processors Are Looking for Interesting New Recipes in Current Contest

Those easily made culinary most delicious chip dip recipes, the tasty chip dips, is under way, offering the following awards as a tempting lure: First Prize — is a $1,000 government bond; Second Prize — a $500 government bond; Third Prize — a $100 government bond.

The delightful thing about the search is that a chip dip is so easy to make and a very simple one can be a winner. For example, here's one of last year's winners:

Beets All Chip Dip
1 cup sour cream
4 tablespoons finely chopped green onions
4 tablespoons finely chopped pickled beets
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
Mix well and serve with chips

Anybody can enter the Search except professional cooks. No bags, box tops or labels need be sent in. Just your chip dip recipes which, of course, must be original.

The consistency must not be too thick or too thin. The dip must adhere to the potato chip. You can use any ingredient you wish in your recipe, sour cream, mayonnaise, cream cheese, ground meats, chopped nuts, minced vegetables or fruits, spices, etc. Each recipe should be on a separate sheet of paper accompanied by your name and address. You can send in as many recipes as you wish in one envelope.

Send your creation to the 1966 Chip Dip Search, 327 Madison Avenue, New York 17, N. Y. Don't wait until the last minute to enter your recipe. Do it now! Closing date for submitting entries is February 1, 1966. The prizes will be awarded in March.

Apples and Cheese Are Natural Twosome for Holiday Guests

APPLES AND CHEESE

Food ideas that make the holiday easier and merrier are welcome indeed at this busy time of the year. With guests arriving, often unexpectedly, the clever hostess is one who serves something both festive and adaptable.

And what is more adaptable, more acceptable to the tastes of young and old alike, than the traditional combination of fresh apples and cheese?

Cater to your more sophisticated guests with today's delightful Coeur a la Creme tree, a holiday version of the French shaped cheese, served with Red and Golden Delicious apple slices.

Or greet your guests with a handsome tray petaled with apples and an array of cheeses.

Coeur a la Creme
1 lb. cream cheese
¼ cup cream
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
1 tablespoon finely-chopped ginger

Apples, washed, cored, and sliced thin

Bar-le-due or strawberry preserves

Mix cream cheese with the cream, salt, sugar, and ginger.

Line a heart-shaped coeur a la creme basket (or mold) with wet cheesecloth, pour in the cheese mixture and chill.

Turn out on a dish, surround with thin slices of apple and bar-le-due; serve with butter biscuits. Serve up to 12.

3 C's Dip for Delicious Slices
½ oz. pkg. cream cheese
½ cup Roquefort (or Blue) cheese

3 tablespoons sour cream
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon curry powder

1 teaspoon caraway seeds

Salt and pepper to taste

Cream the two cheeses together, further softening them with the sour cream. Add lemon juice, then remaining seasonings. Let stand until well-blended. Serve in a decorative bowl in the center of a large platter, surrounded with fresh Golden Delicious apple slices.

Ice Fishermen Watch Lakes

Ice fishermen will be keeping a close watch on the thermometer and their favorite lakes this weekend.

They will be itching to try out some of those Christmas presents and the favorite, well-used gear that they have been impatiently fingering since serious hunting ended.

If the mercury continues to hover around the freezing mark the next few days, some of Oakland County's multitude of lakes will have sufficient ice. Others, however, will be far from safe.

Extreme caution should be used this early in the season. Some of the better lakes that usually freeze over first include Pontiac for pike, Stringer for bluegills, the Holly millpond for panfish and pike and Lake Louise for bluegills.

Veteran ice fishermen always like to get out on first ice because they maintain this is when the best results can be obtained. Pike, particularly, seem to be very active at this time.

HUNTING, TOO

Hunting activity on rabbits is picking up steam and will continue through February. The Southern Michigan grouse season is open until the end of December, but there has been little activity.

Fox hunting with hounds is moving into high gear, and a d crow can be lured very well with good calling this time of year.

Conservation officers report checking 85 deer in Oakland, 85 deer in Oakland, Macomb, southern St. Clair and Wayne counties during the regular firearms season. The majority were taken in Oakland.

The officers generally agree that the number checked could be doubled for the actual result. All told, they checked 828 deer hunters.

Other game bag counts reported by the officers were 629 pheasants, 206 geese, 885 ducks, 60 quail, 113 rabbits, 83 squirrels and 10 woodcock.

Officers made 181 arrests during the small game and deer seasons.

Violations included over-limits of ducks and squirrels, h pheasants, quail during the closed season, unsealed deer tags, killing of doe in bucks only area, loaded guns in the car, no hunting licenses and carrying slugs during deer season without a deer license.

Hooker also figured prominently in pooling the department's research programs and facilities into one centralized unit.

In stepping down from the commission, Hooker will create the second vacancy on the seven-member policy-making body of the Conservation Department.

Another commission post, formerly held by Dr. Stanley A. Cain, has been unfilled since he left to become Assistant Secretary of the Interior for fish and wildlife.

Gov. Romney is expected to announce soon his selections for a new five-member commission which, under state reorganization, will replace the present one and drop two posts from the commission's existing structure.

Organization Setting Sights on Any-Deer Ban

A group of Oakland County hunters has formed a committee that will work toward ending antlerless deer hunting.

As yet unnamed, the committee is headed by Edward Whipple, 6780 Ratalee Lake, Independence Township. Robert L. Jones, vice president of the Clarkson State Bank, is treasurer and Paul Kemp of Pontiac, head of the finance committee.

The committee, in its press release, stated that it was organized "to form the nucleus of a state-wide organization to work for abolishment of the present any-deer law."

Deer Hearing Set for Flint Monday

A public hearing on the antlerless deer hunting controversy will be held in Flint next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The second in a series being conducted by Sen. Carl W. O'Brien (D-Pontiac), it will be at Ainsworth High School, 1400 W. Maple.

The first hearing was in Pontiac 11 days ago. O'Brien, chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee, said a third hearing probably will be held in Manistee. No date has been set.

DUCK HUNTERS' DREAM — Duck hunters may long for sights such as this, but few get a chance at so large a gathering of waterfowl. Dark birds in the foreground are mallards and pintails. The white birds are snow geese. The picture was taken at the Gray Lodge waterfowl management area in California's Upper Sacramento Valley.

Must Stick It Out

By BOB VOGES

LANING (AP) — The official start of winter at 8:41 p.m. yesterday was the start of hard times for the Michigan birds and mammals that stick it out in their home state during the cold months.

Like the retirees and people of means, the migratory wildfowl — ducks and geese — and many of the small birds go south for the winter.

Some waterfowl winter in Michigan, feeding in open water and along rivers.

So do the winter feeders, those able to feed on seeds or insects in the bark of trees.

There always are a few "first robins," upholding their honor as the official state bird, that manage to survive in the lowlands and along river bottoms.

Every year, every newspaper knows, sweet little old ladies and other amateur bird-watchers will report an unusually early "first robin." What they don't know is been here all the time.

The woodchuck, the ground squirrel and jumping mice are and mammals that stick it out in their home state during the cold months.

The groundhog always is good for another annual newspaper story. According to legend, the groundhog comes out to check weather conditions on Feb. 2 every year and if he sees his shadow goes back to sleep for another six weeks.

NOT TRUE

Not true, say the experts, it has something to do with body temperature.

Bear, according to game experts, are not true hibernators. They will semi-hibernate for long periods but will occasionally get up to prowl in the winter months.

All the predator animals, fox, wolves, coyotes, weasels and mink, are active all the winter, scouting for food.

Beaver also are on the move but will spend long hours in their houses, feeding on the winter store of aspen.

Deer have the hardest time among the mammals. Deep snow crusted with ice and a long winter can mean a major kill when they are unable to range out food.

Commercial timber cuttings near feeding areas and cuttings by the State Conservation Department can help. Feeding surplus government corn also is tried in extreme emergencies.

Pheasants are rugged and survive all but the severest winters.

Michigan's recently planted wild turkeys, it has been found, are a hardy lot and can scratch for food through the winter with few losses.

Attempt Will Be Made to Transplant Turkeys

Efforts will be made early this go and Oscoda-Ogemaw county winter by the Conservation Department to spread wild turkey flocks to Benzie and Barry counties in lower Michigan.

Starting in January, department field workers will attempt to live trap up to 50 birds in the Allegan state game area where flocks still show good numbers after being hunted there last November under Michigan's first modern-day turkey season.

"Capturing these birds won't be any cinch but if things work out according to our plans, the first 20 turkeys we get will be transplanted in the northern part of Benzie County," reports Victor S. Janson, the department's turkey specialist.

The remainder, if any, will be released on public lands in the Barry state game area and Yankee Springs recreation area which adjoin each other in western Barry county.

Both the Benzie and Barry county sites are seen by game men as likely spots where wild turkeys have a good chance of taking hold. The one in Barry county offers much the same kind of cover conditions as the Allegan area, one of the strongholds for turkeys in this state.

Department plans call for completing the trapping project in mid-February if possible so that turkey-netting equipment can be used by the U.S. Forest Service.

Federal workers hope to trap a maximum of 50 birds from the Lake-Newaygo flocks for restocking on national forest lands in central Manistee County.

BETTER CHANCE

Efforts to expand turkey flocks into new suitable areas of Michigan have shown that transplanted wild turkeys stand a far better chance of becoming established than is true of birds raised on game farms.

Through the restocking projects, the state's wild turkey population has grown to an estimated 3,000 or more birds since the mid-1950's.

Besides the Allegan area's good-sized turkey population, other major flocks, numbering about 900 birds each, have been established in the Lake-Newaygo area.

Commercial timber cuttings near feeding areas and cuttings by the State Conservation Department can help. Feeding surplus government corn also is tried in extreme emergencies.

Pheasants are rugged and survive all but the severest winters.

British Chief Victorious in Debate

LONDON (AP) — A foreign policy debate in the House of Commons ended in triumph for Prime Minister Harold Wilson Tuesday night and split the Conservative opposition.

The Tories divided over the Labor government's Rhodesia policy. And Wilson's announcement that he plans to meet Soviet leaders in Moscow in February silenced critics of his own party who accuse him of too much support for the American stand in Viet Nam.

By a vote of 299-272, the House defeated a Conservative motion to restrict economic sanctions against Rhodesia. Seven Conservatives abstained and the nine Liberal party members voted with the government, increasing its normal majority from 2 to 27.

Then 50 Tory members defied Conservative leader Edward Heath and forced a vote against oil sanctions. The majority of the Tories abstained and the motion was crushed 276-50.

BITTER DEBATE

The votes followed a bitter and often noisy two-day debate on the government's foreign policy. They brought an end to the bipartisan unity which the Commons had so far maintained on the Rhodesia issue.

Heath and former Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home accused Wilson of seeking a blank check that would permit the use of force against the white minority regime of Rhodesia Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Wilson denied this and hinted that he was ready to lay down terms for negotiations with Smith, who declared independence from Britain Nov. 11. He said there were signs that Smith's regime was losing support and that it may lose even more when the breakaway colony begins to feel the full impact of economic sanctions.

Man Charged in Break-In

Rings Stolen at Home in Bloomfield Hills

A 22-year-old Garden City man yesterday was arraigned on a charge stemming from a weekend break-in in Bloomfield Hills.

Keith E. Stough Jr. waived examination before Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Alice Gilbert and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for a Jan. 6 hearing.

Stough is being held in the Oakland County Jail on a $5,000 bond.

Bloomfield Hills Police Chief Walter Sluiter said he recovered from Stough two diamond rings valued at $350 stolen from the Robert E. Schultz residence at 110 Denby Street Sunday night.

Sluiter said he was convinced Stough had not broken into another Bloomfield Hills home which was entered Saturday night.

The two break-ins were among five reported in the city and Bloomfield Township Saturday night.

Man Hit by Car Is Listed as Fair

John Siner Sr., 57, of 278 Bondale is reported in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being struck by a car on Franklin Road last night. Siner received a broken right leg, lacerations and a possible skull fracture when hit as he crossed Franklin at the intersection of Luther.

Preston L. Schiller, 22, of Detroit, driver of the car, told Pontiac police Siner ran in front of him.

Schiller was not held.

Man Found Hanged in Waterford Home

The body of Arthur H. Chambers, 57, of 140 Coleman, Waterford Township, was found hanging from a rope tied to a pipe in his home yesterday, according to township police.

The coroner's report listed cause of death as asphyxiation by strangulation.

FBI Probes Letters on JFK's Death

DETROIT (AP)—Letters accusing former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Federal Bureau of Investigation Director J. Edgar Hoover of responsibility in the death of President John F. Kennedy were under investigation Tuesday by FBI agents.

The letters, bearing the typewritten signature "AFL-CIO" and the return address of the Macomb County AFL-CIO Council, were received by more than 15 unions in the Detroit area, said Jack Wood, secretary-manager of the Detroit Building Trades Council.

Joseph Zach, secretary-treasurer of the Macomb County AFL-CIO, said the letters were "a complete mystery to us and a completely unauthorized use of our address."

The letters said presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald "is innocent," and said Kennedy was slain by two brothers who are part of a gang of 10 men.

Wood said the letter appeared to be the work of a mentally deranged person.

Burglary Suspect to Get Exam in Avon Break-In

James R. Nolan, 22, charged with breaking and entering in a burglary broken up by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and Rochester police, demanded examination at his arraignment yesterday.

Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green set examination for Dec. 28 and ordered Nolan held in lieu of $500 bond.

Nolan, of 3265 Rockhaven, Avon Township, was arrested about 3 a.m. yesterday inside the A & A Auto Supply Co. at 3760 Auburn, Avon Township.

Found next to Nolan was a box filled with automobile accessories.

Sheriff's Detective Fred L. Pender said interrogation of Nolan and an admission by the suspect had officially cleared car on Franklin Road last night. Siner received a broken right leg, lacerations and a possible skull fracture when hit as he crossed Franklin at the intersection of Luther.

Preston L. Schiller, 22, of Detroit, driver of the car, told Pontiac police Siner ran in front of him.

Schiller was not held.

Dominican Violence Flares

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—A threat of violence has been sufficient to keep most private businesses closed down. Gunfire echoed through the streets of the strife-torn Dominican Republic last night and early today on the fourth day of an outbreak of sporadic violence which has taken a toll of at least 29 lives.

There was no immediate report of new casualties or of heavy fighting. So far as was known, no U.S. troops were involved in the overnight fighting.

Union leaders agreed yesterday to postpone a threatened "general strike" for 72 hours to give Provisional President Hector Garcia Godoy time to investigate the air force attack on rebel leaders in Santiago Sunday.

The unions are demanding the dismissal of the military leaders they blame for the Santiago attack and the withdrawal from the country of the U.S. and other foreign troops who have been policing the nation.

Twenty-six persons were reported killed in the Santiago fighting, and two policemen were shot and killed by mobs here that same day. A teenager was killed in renewed rioting in Santo Domingo Monday.

BUSINESS CLOSED

Mob action has been reported here daily since Sunday. There have been no major riots since about noon Monday, but the

Fatal Shooting Sentence Due

A Pontiac teen-ager will be sentenced Jan. 13 in Oakland County Circuit Court for the fatal shooting of his brother-in-law in September.

The youth, Luther Curry, 16, of 317 Hughes was convicted of manslaughter Monday by a jury which deliberated two hours.

Curry was tried as an adult for the slaying of Hastings Martin, 25, of 459 Highland.

Martin was found dead the morning of Sept. 11 on the roadway in front of 357 Branch. He had been shot in the chest.

Curry was charged with second degree murder but Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn instructed the jury to rule only on manslaughter.

Local Woman Hurt in Head-On Crash

Listed in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured kneecap is Genevieve M. Coulter of 371 W. Brooklyn.

Mrs. Coulter's 11-year-old daughter, Joan, a passenger in her car, was treated and released from the hospital. The other driver, David M. Kosiba, 24, of 4830 Retek, was not hurt.

Base-Building Delay Is Accepted Quietly

By the Associated Press
The Defense Department's half-million dollar freeze on Air Force Base construction in Michigan brought only mild reaction.

Following the previous big cut-back, including the ordered deactivation of Upper Michigan's Kincheloe AFB by late 1970, Tuesday's economy move was anticlimactic.

Secretary Robert McNamara said $499,000 million safety of community resources of the tri-county (Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce) area to utilize facilities of the Kincheloe base.

A total of approximately 500 military construction projects across the nation's being held up.

At Kincheloe, vital to the Sault Ste. Marie area, $189,000 in projects is affected. These include a $104,000 base library, $45,000 in a blast defectors addition, and $40,000 in storage facility.

The Soe heard the worst only about two weeks ago when it was decided to eliminate Kincheloe entirely.

Mayor David E. Foster, though not happy, implied an endorsement of the new action. "Inasmuch as Kincheloe Air Force Base has been earmarked for abandonment," Foster said, "it would be foolish to pour more tax money into construction that will in short time be standing idle."

HOPE AND PRAY
Foster said the Soe could "only hope and pray" that some source of revenue other than the air base could be found to aid the area's economy.

Construction suspension orders also affect K. I. Sawyer AFB near Marquette, Selfridge AFB near Mount Clemens, and Wurtsmith AFB near Oscoda.

At Sawyer a total of $148,000 in construction is deferred, at Selfridge $117,000 and at Wurtsmith $45,000.

Marquette's economy is thriving in the wake of a strong pickup in mining operations. Also, Marquette has been much less dependent on its neighbor, air base than the Soe.

The Army Corps of Engineers' Chicago district office, in charge of all military construction in Michigan since Nov. 1, said it had received no orders yet as to Kincheloe. The office said orders could be expected soon, however.

RISING CONCERN

Just prior to Tuesday's announcement, Democratic Congressman Ray Cleveland of Sault Ste. Marie had called for future planning to make use of the facilities which Kincheloe will be giving up.

Cleveland used old Camp Lejeune.

His New York lawyer, Lee Steiner, said, "They asked me to say they will get married as soon as they possibly can and I don't anticipate this in weeks or even months."

NEW YORK (AP) — Producer Carlo Ponti received a French divorce from his first wife yesterday, but he and actress Sophia Loren said they had no plans for an early marriage.

Legal complications still stand in the way of their union, including a bigamy case pending against them in their native Italy.

The Paris divorce decree followed by almost a year the pro and Mrs. Eszter Cogan, 44, both of whom were naturalized as citizens of France.

It was the latest step in his fire officials said the blaze started to burn Miss Loren, who was believed to have started in the kitchen on the building's first government, which doesn't recognize divorce.

GI Insurance Decision Due

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration is expected to decide early next month whether to continue the practice of paying out GI insurance dividends in January.

Under the GI insurance program, the Veterans Administration has paid about $250 million a year in rebates to policy holders. Originally, the payments were made on the anniversary date of each policy.

But in 1961 the late President John F. Kennedy, in an anti-inflation move, ordered all dividends paid in January.

Brother Is Offered as a Holiday Present

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Sheree Hoffman wants this letter to Santa:

"I read where a little girl or boy wanted a little brother."

"I am 8 years old and have a 5-year-old brother whose name is Nathan."

"He or she can have him."

Ice Ball Water Found Impure

Warns Against Using
Brand of Plastic Cube

Tests completed yesterday on Austrian-made artificial ice cubes being sold in Oakland County showed that the water contained in the cubes is impure, Oakland County Health Director Dr. Bernard Berman said.

Sold under the name, "The Ice Cubes," the plastic-covered products actually are round and slightly smaller than a golf ball.

After finding that the water was impure, the County Health Department sent samples to Lansing for further testing to determine the nature of the impurity.

No disease producing organism was found, according to Dr. Berman, but he recommended that the Austrian artificial cubes not be used.

The County Health Department was alerted that the cubes were being sold when a prospective purchaser called to inquire if they were harmless.

SIMILAR PRODUCTS
Similar cooling products made in Hong Kong previously had been branded as potentially harmful by the State Health Department and ordered not to be sold.

The Austrian-made balls are similar in appearance to those made in Hong Kong. Dr. Berman said. The former are all white, however, while those made in Hong Kong are various colors.

A claim that the Austrian balls contain sterilized water is printed on their containers, Dr. Berman said.

Reds Sentence Americans for Aid in Escapes

2 Face 8-Year Term
in E. German Prison;
3rd Yank Is Held

BERLIN (AP)—Two American men today were reported sentenced to eight years in an East German prison for helping refugees escape to West Berlin. A Tennessee woman is being held in East Berlin apparently on the same charge.

Moses Reese Herrin, 24, of Akron, Ohio, and Frederick Matthews, 23, of Ellwood City, Pa., were convicted yesterday in a Potsdam district court on nine counts of helping East German flee to West Berlin, their West Berlin lawyer, Juergen Stange, told newsmen.

A U.S. spokesman announced last night that Mary Helen Battle, 25, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was arrested in East Berlin Nov. 24.

Stange said she was being held on suspicion of "aiding flight from the East German Republic."

Stange said that five of the escape incidents of which the two men were accused were successful but the other four were not.

TRIED TO LEAVE
The pair was arrested at midnight Sept. 19 by East German border guards as they tried to return to West Berlin.

They were reported trying to bring a 12-year-old East Berlin girl, hidden in their car, to her parents in West Berlin.

Stange said the sentences of the two men were recorded as having started on Sept. 20.

Miss Battle had been teaching in West Berlin and studied theology for two years at the city's Free University.

Winter Arrives, Keeps 'Arsenal' Under Wraps

Ol' Man Winter arrived last night for a stay of three months, but he didn't tell us when he expects to unpack his gifts of fluffy white snow and blustery winds.

The weatherman reports tonight will be fair, and tomorrow will be sunny and mild with temperatures reaching 40 to 45. Low will register 30 to 35 tonight.

Today's low recording prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 28. The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 36.

NEW DUTIES—U.S. Army Spec. 4 Theodore Renne, home for the holidays, handles a more pleasant duty than the grim task of fighting the Viet Cong, his assignment for 15 months in Viet Nam. Trimming the family Christmas tree is a more recent chore assigned by his mother, Mrs. Anthony Renne, 19 Baycrest, Waterford Township.

Home on Furloughs

Area Soldiers Recall Viet Days

By L. GARY THORNE
To the returning GI, Viet Nam is three things—hot, humid weather, mosquitoes and the Viet Cong.

Home on the holidays, a trio of Pontiac area servicemen convey this three-sided picture of the faraway war that for them was as close as the corner drugstore.

Gravel-voiced from a cold, Army Spec. 4 Theodore Renne is back from 15 months in Viet Nam.

Renne, 23, of 19 Baycrest, Waterford Township, spent seven of his 15 months as crew chief on a single-engine airplane, flying resupply missions an average of seven to eight hours daily.

"It was my job to keep the plane flying," he said, the boyish-looking soldier. "I flew on all flights. We carried everything from pigs and chickens to dead bodies."

Renne once came within 10 inches of a serious wound or death.

SITTING DUCKS
As he landed on dirt runways in deep valleys, snipers were often stationed higher than the plane, giving the VC (Viet Cong) a good shot at the plane.

In one such landing, VC snipers on nearby ridges blasted the rear of the small aircraft, ripping holes in the plane's tail section just inches from Renne's back.

"The first time I got shot at, my legs went numb and my stomach fluttered, but you get used to it," he said in retrospect.

"I'm more scared of going down... (crashing or getting shot down)."

However, he added, "We got some real fine pilots over there."

Because of the jagged terrain and the always-present snipers, Renne's aircraft is forced to imitate a helicopter.

Instead of landings with a gliding descent over a long runway, the plane comes over the field, banks sharply and descends in a spiral pattern.

Because of the air drafts caused by the mountains, this type of flying is tricky, according to Renne.

The added danger is provided by the snipers located on the ridges. They use rifle and machine gun to attempt to down the airplane.

ON CHINA SEA
Renne, as a crew chief, was stationed at a base at Da Nang in South Viet Nam. For eight months prior to that, he served as a mechanic at an air base at Nha Trang, located 220 miles north of Saigon on the China Sea.

The young Waterford Township soldier said some of the VC suicide squads had youngsters in them as young as 12 and 13 years old.

He cited infiltration as a big problem, making it hard to trust the Vietnamese people.

Commenting on the Viet Cong, Renne said, "They're so fanatical, they'll never quit."

"There were a few that sur-

May Accept Red Plan for 12-Hour Peace Proposal Broadcast on Cong Radio Is Not Considered Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials say the Johnson administration is considering acceptance of a Communist suggestion for a 12-hour Christmas Eve lull in Viet Nam fighting.

Publicly, they are making no statements. Only last night, assistant White House press secretary Joe Laitin said, "I don't have anything on that."

But privately there is talk that the Communist proposal might be accepted by simply refraining from any action during the period of a practical cease-fire also is observed by the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas and North Vietnamese troops.

Sources said that a formal acceptance would be highly unlikely since the Communist proposal came in a radio broadcast, rather than through diplomatic channels.

The temporary truce was proposed two weeks ago in a Red radio broadcast in South Viet Nam. The Communists offered to stop attacks from 7 p.m. Christmas Eve until 7 a.m. Christmas.

A REAL PEACE
A State Department spokesman said then that the real Christmas present for the world would be peace negotiations on Viet Nam. At the same time, U.S. officials showed no desire to foreclose a break in the fighting.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said last week that the whole affair was up to U.S. and South Vietnamese authorities in Saigon.

However, the matter of advice or instruction to U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. William C. Westmoreland has been under consideration for several days.

Acceptance of the Communist proposal has been urged both inside and outside the United States.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., suggested Washington seize the initiative and urge extension of any truce to make it "open-ended."

Last-Minute Gift Ideas

By JEANNE NELSON
Gift seekers don't despair. Pontiac area stores have a fine selection of those last-minute gifts.

Soap on a rope for shower lovers comes in these shapes: Tigrrr, Wackey Wabbit and Pistol Pete. The price on each is about $1.

Another $1 item would be a Madras plaid snake bracelet. Men's initialed Irish linen handkerchiefs come in a box for about $1.50.

For HER are matching sets of evening bags and gloves trimmed with sequins and pearls and lined in satin. They run about $8.

NESTED ASH TRAY
Three nested ash trays in a hobnail glass design will cost about $4 while a set of eight coasters can be bought for about $3.50.

"Terribly British" are the black nylon umbrellas for men. Their cost is about $7.

For the traveling hypochondriac there are five bottles (each with a different colored cap) to hold medication in a smart leather case. It's price is about $8.

Cashmere ear warmers run about $2.50. Another warm gift for a man is one of the new scarf-vests in wool. Colors are black and red at $2.50.

Last but not least are holiday-wrapped boxes of candy. Depending on the size, they will cost from $2 to $6.

Jesus Played, Worked in His Youth

(EDITOR'S NOTE—What was Jesus like as a boy? The scriptures don't say. AP Religion Writer George Cornell reconstructs the boyhood of Jesus from noncanonical accounts in this, the third in a series of five articles on the hidden years of Jesus.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
A warm hearth... a big outdoors, the scampering tumblers, the duties to do, a school, the budding questions, a dependable father and a tender mother. These are the bulwarks of a boy, as they were to Jesus.

He always cherished the perspective of childhood, "...to such belongs the kingdom of God," He later described it.

His family, after being harried hither and yon for at least the first three years of his life, finally gravitated back to tribal territory, the rustic village of Nazareth in the northern uplands of Galilee.

This wasn't what Joseph had intended, considering the past tension he had faced there over his marriage.

On returning from exile in Egypt, he had planned to take his family back to Bethlehem, but when he learned that Archelaus, a rapacious son of Herod, was Rome's new ruler of southern Israel, "he was afraid to go there," as scripture says.

TURMOIL RAGED
Turmoil raged in that region, with occupation legions executing rebellious Jewish through on mass, including 3,000 at a riot in the Jerusalem temple. Resistance also smoldered in Galilee, but it was more remote from reprisals.

This was particularly so of Nazareth, a backwater little town of plowmen, shopkeepers, field hewers and sheep raisers, situated on a curving mountain overlooking the Plain of Esdraelon to the south.

There, as he related in primitive Christian writings not accepted in the church's later compilation of the gospels, the boy Jesus roamed the hills and wooded draws, gathered firewood, drew water, squatted by a brook and moulded toys of wet clay, romped in the pastures.

He took falls, once from a thatched roof; He helped a man who sliced his foot with an axe, pranked his mixed colors in a boy's vats, scuffled with other children and got hit by a stone hurled by one of them, the accounts say; He knew the whirling provision of a slingshot of Himself.

Joseph at times reprimanded Him, once for talking back to a cranky woman who objected to His wading on the Sabbath.

"For thy sake," Jesus assertedly responded to Joseph, "I will hold my peace." The boy had spunk, but as scripture observed, He remained obedient to His elders.

His native tongue was Aramaic, a common Hebrew dialect, and as He grew older, He may have acquired some Greek and Latin from the foreign influx. Whenever orange-caped soldiers of "Edom" rode by, His schoolmates spat on the ground.

He was part of a big clan of Himself.

U.N. Assembly Ends Session

U.S.-Soviet Dispute Mars Closing Hours

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly concluded its 20th session early today after a U.S.-Soviet clash on Viet Nam marred its closing hours.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko accused the United States of escalating the Viet Nam war, using toxic substances and stepping up "sabotage bombings."

Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg called the charges unwarranted and unfounded. He accused Fedorenko of "violating the most elementary good taste" by injecting cold war issues into the final hours of the three-month session.

"I believe many delegations share my feelings of outrage," he said.

FEDORENKO RETORTS

Fedorenko retorted: "You are offended by words while peoples are being bathed in blood."

The clash followed approval of a resolution calling on all countries to refrain from intervening in the internal affairs of other nations, either directly or by subversion and terrorism. The vote was 109-0. Britain abstained.

This proposal, originally advanced by the Soviet Union, was aimed at U.S. policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. The references to subversion were written in by Western supporters, and Goldberg said the proposal had backfired on the Russians.

Cuban delegate Ricardo Alarcon Quesada said in a statement that the resolution should have specifically condemned the United States and "cut the claws of the aggressors."

In closing the session, Assembly President Amintore Fanfani of Italy referred briefly to the Southeast Asia conflict and appealed for prayers for an early return of peace.

County Board Acquires Land

Vote for Judge Set; Boat Law Reviewed

Purchase of 6.7 acres of state-owned land on Telegraph was approved by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors at the State Tax Commission appraisal price of $33,750. The board also authorized an election next November for a third probate judge and referred a proposed boat control ordinance to its legislative committee for further study.

The state property, located south of the County Service Center, will be used for future expansion of county facilities and as a buffer area to protect the entrance to the Service Center.

The parcel contains about 600 feet of frontage on the east side of Telegraph and is next to the existing county property.

The sale had been approved by the state legislature.

LAND SECTION

The property is on a section of land west of Pontiac State Hospital.

The third judge was requested by the two present judges, Donald Adams and Norman R. Barnard, because of the increasing population of the county.

COUNTY CLERK-REGISTER

Deeds John A. Murphy was requested to take the necessary steps to place the proposal on the ballot in the general election.

Nearly 100 citizens attended a public hearing in conjunction with the board meeting on the proposed boat control ordinance recommended by the state boating control committee.

IS OPPOSED

Some 15 persons spoke at the hearing and all opposed the ordinance which regulates the speed of motorboats and sets time limitations for water skiing.

A general objection to the ordinance was that it restricts lake front owners from using lake facilities as they wish.

Another objection is that sufficient boating controls already have been enacted but are not being fully enforced.

Christian Powell, the justice of the peace in West Bloomfield township, said the ordinance is aimed at appeasing one group-fishermen.

"It is not in the best interest of the general public and may be unconstitutional," said Powell.

ORDERS GIVEN

Dennis has given orders for the dinner he wants: candied ham, baked sweet potatoes, coleslaw, apple pie and cookies.

He also has a Christmas list of toys, which he hopes Santa will deliver while he's home.

His father is attempting to arrange the visit and supply Dennis' most-wanted items.

McDowell currently is supporting the family through Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed checks.

He is participating in a training program administered by the Oakland County Bureau of Social Aid.

McDowell hopes eventually to become a barber.

But now he is looking forward to the day when his son will be back with the family for good—maybe in the spring.

Still ahead of Dennis are months of skin grafting, corrective surgery and occupational therapy.

If everything goes well, Christmas Day will provide a memory to keep him going through the ordeal ahead.

relatives there in Nazareth. Scripture mentions sisters and four brothers, terms often meaning cousins. Noncanonical literature also lists four brothers and two sisters, describing them as older children of Joseph by a previous marriage, most of them grown up.

It is said that the youngest of them, James, was brought up by Mary, along with Jesus, and the two boys worked together with Joseph, their muscles toughened as they wielded the axe, adze and chisel.

Other kinspeople also lived nearby, including the more prosperous Zebedees, who of Galilee 15 miles away. Their two highstrung sons, James and John, eventually became apostles of their cousin, Jesus.

The house in Nazareth was lean in possessions, but abundant in devotion.

It was long into the limestone mountainside with niches in the walls for oil lamps and utensils, chests for clothing, a griddle fire pit, and floor mattresses of rushes.

DOORPOST SIGN

Fixed to the doorpost was a Mezzuz, symbol of divine guardianship over all Jewish homes. It contained a folded parchment bearing the great Shema:

"Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord."

They ate kosher foods — mostly barley bread, cheese, spiced vegetables, fruit, fish and poultry, and on festival days, mutton. Like most women, Mary usually did the grain grinding and cooking in an outdoor courtyard.

In devout Jewish households, every meal and every action, no matter how ordinary, evoked praise to God and thanksgiving, beginning with the cock's crow in the morning.

Faith permeated living. The rabbinical sages set about 100 benedictions to accompany every sort of pleasure, work and activity, as commonplace as tying on a belt. The earth and all its functions were considered sacred, natural and supernatural combined.

SINGLE SPARROW

Not a single sparrow falls, nor hair grows, without God's active concern, Jesus would later emphasize. And he gleaned his parables — teaching lessons — from His boyhood surroundings, sprouting, sowing seeds, shepherds and workmen.

His exemplar as a "Father," the sturdy old Joseph, of callused hands and dauntless heart, gave the boy a new, vivid term for expressing the intimacy of the divine relationship, "Our Father..."

As a woodworker and joiner, Joseph would have earned about a drachma 20 cents or two a day. Jesus must have gone with him regularly to feel timber and drag it back to the shop to be shaped into yokes and plowshares.

But the chief parental responsibility was to impart God's truths.

FORMAL STUDY

There also was the more formal study, and Jesus' probing questions. "And the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom and the favor of God was upon him," scripture says. It is noted that there was a common saying about his scrappy hometown:

"Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" Nor normally, evidently.

New Junior High to Be Unique

BIRMINGHAM — Board of education members, who last week awarded a $2.7-million contract for construction of Covington Junior High School, last night received a report on the unique program planned for the facility.

Covington Principal George Dexter explained the plans he is developing for organization of the school, scheduled to open in September 1966.

In introducing Dexter, Schools Supt. Dr. John B. Smith noted elementary education has been improved through team teaching and that senior high draws its strength from departmentalization.

Covington will make an initial attempt at improving the junior high program.

Nothing that will be done there hasn't been tried somewhere else, but officials are convinced Covington will be the first school in the nation constructed for a totally unique program keyed toward individualized instruction.

FLEXIBLE SCHEDULE

It will involve flexible scheduling in 25-minute modules and grouping techniques similar to those used at the elementary level.

Each pupil will have a team of teachers who are specialists in their respective subject areas.

Each youngster will spend the amount of time he needs in studying in a specific area.

The program will be geared to capitalizing on the strength of teachers, while developing specific programs for each child, tailored to his needs, interests and abilities.

YWCA Gone, but Franklin Manor Still Bustles

A student at Oakland Community College, Jane Treadway of North Adams Road, lives in the new residence for women, Franklin Manor. She is shown here in the first floor dormitory room, the room formerly used for group meetings when the YWCA owned the building.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor
Once again the house at 22 Franklin Boulevard is a home. Now it shelters 15 young women who attend area colleges or work in Pontiac.

For 20 years, Franklin Manor was the home of the Pontiac YWCA. When the Y moved into the Beaudette home across the street, its former quarters were sold to a group of businessmen headed by Dr. Dennis Carmichael of Royal Oak.

The intention was to provide residence for young women attending the Pontiac Business Institute. They found that others were as happy to make application as the PBI girls.

When we went to visit the new occupants of Franklin Manor recently, we had 12 hostesses to show us around the house.

FIRST ONE IN

Harlene Hill, 18, of Peck, Mich., was the first girl to move in last September. She is a PBI student. The only other student from the business college is Sophie Jurek, 18, of Romeo.

Jane Treadway, 23, has a home in Birmingham. But she prefers to live at Franklin Manor and commute a shorter distance to Oakland Community College where she is taking a course in nursing.

Nancy Frazer, 18, of Traverse City; Barbara Link, 23, of Brown City; Elizabeth Tolson, 23, Madison Heights; and Lana Taylor, 21, of Newberry all work at local hospitals as nurse, nurse's aide or practical nurse.

Elaine Frazer, 20, Nancy's sister, works for the Bureau of Social Aid. Marcie Fox, 20, whose folks have moved to Kansas works in the local Boy Scout office, as does Betty Dunn, 20, of Clarkston. Sharon DeVoy, 19, works at Community National Bank.

HOUSE MOTHER

Mrs. Elizabeth Watson who is a LPN at Pontiac General Hospital is housemother. Mrs. Betty Carmichael, Dr. Carmichael's mother, represents the board of trustees at the home and spends many hours there.

Coming together from many diverse backgrounds and living in close proximity might make for tensions. But the girls agree that they get along very well.

They like having someone to talk to when they're home in the evening. They go out together. They share meals.

They're planning a Christmas party tonight and Mrs. Watson will have Christmas dinner for any who are here Saturday.

There is no age limit for residents. Rent is a flat $50 a month which pays for a bed in a dormitory room and kitchen privileges.

In addition to the kitchen on the first floor, there is a small one in the basement. This makes it easier for, say 10-12 different girls to get 10-12 different dinners.

NO, LINE

Fortunately their working hours are not all the same so traffic in the bathrooms doesn't jam early in the morning.

Residents must sign out and in. Curfew is 10:30 p.m. on week nights, midnight on weekends. But anyone planning to come in later need only indicate her intention.

There have been no structural changes in the building. The YWCA had removed a wall between two upstairs bedrooms years ago to make a large meeting room. This now has half a dozen beds in it.

The former living room is also a bedroom. Here, wardrobe closets were installed.

After a coat of paint covers the walls of the former nursery on the lower level, the girls will have a fine recreation room. They have their own plans for redecorating and equipment.

Eventually the old garage which housed the Y's craft program will be remodeled into a four-room apartment.

Dr. H. C. Chapman built the home that is now Franklin Manor. The last individual to live in it was Dr. Arthur Young.

Her Age Is No Secret

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson family pauses Wednesday in the midst of Christmas preparations to observe the First Lady's 53rd birthday.

Born Claudia Alta Taylor on Dec. 22, 1912, in the little town of Karnack in East Texas, she never uses the formal name her parents gave her.

She's known now throughout the world by the name of Lady Bird, given her by a childhood nursemaid.

There's no formal party planned for Mrs. Johnson. As usual, the family will give her personal gifts, not usually disclosed to the public.

At 53, Mrs. Johnson is 5 feet 4, and still maintains a trim size 10 figure.

As First Lady, she presides at numerous White House social events and now devotes considerable time to the beautifying of the nation's capital and a campaign to make America more beautiful.

Oldsters Name New Officers

Mrs. Laura Steinhilber is the newly elected president of the Pontiac chapter No. 7, American Association of Retired Persons.

Others elected include Howard Harbaugh, first vice president; Mrs. J. M. Snow, second vice president; Mrs. Earl Lydy and Mrs. Doris Beardslee, secretaries; Mrs. Fredonia Bourdon, treasurer and Frederick Kline Sr., publicity.

How to Be Popular

What's Magic Formula?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please answer two questions for me.

Can you, in your own brief but to-the-point style, give teen-agers the key to being popular with both sexes?

Am I dreaming, or have I seen a book by you called "DEAR TEEN-AGER?" And if so, where may I get one?

MOTHER OF THREE
IN KEENE, N.H.

DEAR MOTHER: The "key" to being popular with both sexes is: Be kind. Be honest. Be tactful. If you can't be beautiful (or handsome), be well-groomed, tastefully attired, trim of figure, and keep a smile on your face. Be clean in body and mind.

If you're not a "brain," try harder. If you're not a great athlete, you can be a good sport. Try to be a stand-out in something. If you can't dance, sing or play an instrument. Think for yourself, but respect the rules. Be generous with kind words and affectionate gestures, but save the heavy artillery for later.

You'll be glad you did. If you need help, ask God. If you don't need anything, thank God.

You aren't dreaming. A ny wide-awake book store can get it for you.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please enlighten me about the custom some women have in offering their cheek when greeting another woman? Do they expect the other woman to kiss it, or merely to brush it with her own?

Why don't they simply kiss the other woman's cheek rather than put her in the position of having to do the kissing? Is it a case of who offers her cheek first? I have a relative who never kisses me, but always offers me her cheek.

To me this seems rather presumptuous and having an air of bestowing a privilege. Isn't she in effect saying, "You may kiss me!" What is your thinking on this? I'd also like to hear how other women feel about it.

DEAR ABBY: I liked your answer to HEARTSICK MOTHER, who discovered through some letters she shouldn't have read that her 22-year-old daughter was having pre-marital relations with her boyfriend.

She said, "She has repeatedly condemned girls who have had to get married, but her sin is worse because we are Catholics and do not believe in birth control, which she apparently has been practicing."

Abby, I wish you would clarify that one sentence to your readers. Catholics ARE allowed to practice birth control, but not by artificial methods. It requires sacrifice on the part of both partners, but isn't that what love is based on?

Since you are "desperate," he's obviously bullied you, too. This "good, sober, church-going" man should take a tip from his friendly neighborhood clergyman.

Problems? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Campbell of Foxcroft will spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orley Hill in Oscoda.

With Dr. and Mrs. Lynn Allen Jr. of Wenonah Drive on Christmas will be his mother, Mrs. Lynn Allen of Argyle Avenue, and Mrs. Allen's parents and grandmother, the R. W. Faulmans and Mrs. Vina Mumbroe, of Augusta Avenue.

Their guests on Sunday will include Mrs. Allen, the David Warriolos, also the David Scrivens.

Dining with the R. A. Armstrongs of Cherokee Road on Christmas will be their son-in-law and daughter Dr. and Mrs. Robert T. Lyons of Bayou Drive, West Bloomfield Township and their children Michael, Stephen, Matthew, David, Mandy and Becky.

FROM THE WEST

Coming from San Francisco for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. George of Bloomfield Hills will be Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Pope Jr. (Julie Ann George).

The James W. Crawfords of Fairpark Drive, Avon Township, will be hosts on Sunday to his parents, the Charles H. Crawfords, the Max A. Millers, the Wesley J. Crawfords, and the J. Earl Crawfords.

Others will be the David E. Crawfords with Laurie and Lee and the Howard Sullivans and son of Hamtramck.

Former Pontiac residents, the Sam Bensons of Los Angeles, Calif. are here visiting their daughter and son-in-law, the Paul Mandels of Colrain Drive. Numerous parties have been held in their honor, including a dinner in the home of the Irving Steinmans of Chippewa Road.

Dr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Paul of Illinois Avenue are expecting daughter and new son-in-law, the John Landrys of East Lansing, on Christmas day.

FAMILY DINNER

The Gelston Pooles of South Shore Drive will be hosting a family dinner on Christmas day.

Among those expected are the Fred Pooles with Mary, Betsy and Amy; and the Richard Pooles with their children, Jane, David, Ruth and Bobby.

Completing the holiday picture will be Mrs. Allan Monroe, the Lyle Hoards and the Michael Bells.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Buck with twins Steve and Cathy and two-year-old Andy are celebrating Christmas with their immediate family.

They are hosts to his mother, Mrs. Myron Buck, West Iroquois Road, and Mrs. Buck's parents, the Herbert W. Codringtons of Moline, Ill., who will stay through the holidays.

Joseph Warren Jr. of Cherokee Road is home from Michigan State University to join his parents and sisters, Janet and Barbara, for Christmas day dinner, along with Douglas C. Warren of Detroit.

CHRISTMAS NIGHT

A Christmas night dinner will be hosted by the George Yansens of Chippewa Road for guests, the Walter Rices and Gaynell. Also coming will be the Brent Myotts.

It will be a late afternoon Christmas dinner at the Charles Coppensmith home on Woodland Avenue. Joining the couple with their son and daughter, Ross and Peggy, will be Mr. Coppensmith's mother, Mrs. Harry Pearce. Friends are expected later in the evening.

Mrs. Crossman Hosts Group at Yuletide

Mrs. Fred Crossman of Sylvan Lake played hostess to the Pontiac branch of American Association of University Women for a Christmas party Monday.

Following a cooperative dinner, Mrs. Robert C. Anderson presented two Christmas selections.

Cohostesses for the event were Mrs. Jerry Connors, Mrs. Robert Oliver II, Mrs. B. B. Roush, Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, Mrs. Leslie Purslow and Mrs. Homer McVein.

Guests included Mrs. Stanley Squires, Mrs. William L. Thomas and Mrs. Anderson. Mrs. Crossman will also host the Jan. 2 board meeting.

Ice Fishermen Watch Lakes

Ice fishermen will be keeping a close watch on the thermometer and their favorite lakes this weekend.

They will be itching to try out some of these Christmas presents and the favorite, well-used gear that they have been impatiently fingering since serious hunting ended.

If the mercury continues to hover around the freezing mark the next few days, some of Oakland County's multitude of lakes will have sufficient ice. Others, however, will be far from safe.

Extreme caution should be used this early in the season. Some of the better lakes that usually freeze over first include Pontiac for pike, Stringer for bluegills, the Holly millpond for panfish and pike and Lake Louise for bluegills.

Veteran ice fishermen always like to get out on first ice because they maintain this is when the best results can be obtained. Pike, particularly, seem to be very active at this time.

HUNTING, TOO
Hunting activity on rabbits is picking up steam and will continue through February. The Southern Michigan grouse season is open until the end of December, but there has been little activity.

Fox hunting with hounds is moving into high gear, and crows can be lured very well with good calling this time of year.

Conservation officers report checking 95 deer in Oakland, 95 deer in Oakland, Macomb, southern St. Clair and Wayne counties during the regular firearms season. The majority were taken in Oakland.

The officers generally agree that the number checked could be doubled for the actual result. All told, they checked 828 deer hunters.

All told, they checked 828 deer hunters.

Other game bag counts reported by the officers were 629 pheasants, 296 geese, 883 ducks, 60 quail, 113 rabbits, 53 squirrels and 10 woodcock.

Officers made 181 arrests during the small game and deer seasons.

Violations included over-limits of ducks and squirrels, hen pheasants, quail during the closed season, unlicensed deer tags, killing of doe in bucks only area, loaded guns in the car, hunting licenses and carrying slugs during deer season without a deer license.

Own Weapons Injure

Last year's hunting accidents in Michigan underscore an old truth: The biggest threats to sportsmen are their own weapons and those of their hunting partners.

Gov. Romney is expected to announce soon his selections for a new five-member commission which, under state reorganization, will replace the present one and drop two posts from the commission's existing structure.

Organization Setting Sights on Any-Deer Ban

A group of Oakland County hunters has formed a committee that will work toward ending antlerless deer hunting.

As yet unnamed, the committee is headed by Edward Whipple, 6780 Ratalee Lake, Independence Township. Robert E. Jones, vice president of the Clarkston State Bank, is treasurer and Paul Kemp of Pontiac, head of the finance committee.

The committee, in its press release, stated that it was organized "to form the nucleus of a state-wide organization to work for abolishment of the present any-deer law."

Deer Hearing Set for Flint Monday

A public hearing on the antlerless deer hunting controversy will be held in Flint next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The second in a series being conducted by Sen. Carl W. O'Brien (D-Pontiac), it will be at Ainsworth High School, 1409 W. Maple.

The first hearing was in Pontiac 11 days ago.

O'Brien, chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee, said a third hearing probably will be held in Manistee. No date has been set.

DUCK HUNTERS' DREAM — Duck hunters may long for sights such as this, but few get a chance at so large a gathering of waterfowl. Dark birds in the foreground are mallards and pintails. The white birds are snow geese. The picture was taken at the Gray Lodge waterfowl management area in California's Upper Sacramento Valley.

Must Stick It Out

Winter Is Problem for Wildlife

By DON VOGES

LANSING (AP) — The official start of winter at 8:41 p.m. yesterday was the start of hard times for the Michigan birds and mammals that stick it out in their home state during the cold months.

Like the retirees and people of means, the migratory wildfowl — ducks and geese — and many of the small birds go south for the winter.

Some waterfowl winter in Michigan, feeding in open water and along rivers.

So do the winter feeders, those able to feed on seeds or insects in the bark of trees.

There always are a few "first robins," upholding their honor as the official state bird, that manage to survive in the lowlands and along river bottoms.

Every year, every newspaper knows, sweet little old ladies and other amateur bird-watchers will report an unusually early "first robin." What they don't know is been here all the time.

The woodchuck, the ground squirrel and jumping mice are Michigan's only true hibernators. They fatten up, curl up and can sleep through most of the winter.

The groundhog always is good for another annual newspaper story. According to legend, the groundhog comes out to check weather conditions on Feb. 2 every year and if he sees his shadow goes back to sleep for another six weeks.

NOT TRUE
Not true, say the experts, it has something to do with body temperature.

Bear, according to game experts, are not true hibernators. They will semi-hibernate for long periods but will occasionally get up to prowling in the winter months.

All the predator animals, fox, wolves, coyotes, weasels and mink, are active all the winter, scouting for food.

Beaver also are on the move but will spend long hours in their houses, feeding on the winter store of aspen.

Deer have the hardest time among the mammals. Deep snow crusted with ice and a long winter can mean a major kill when they are unable to range out food.

Commercial timber cuttings near feeding areas and cuttings by the State Conservation Department can help. Feeding surplus government corn also is tried in extreme emergencies.

Pheasants are rugged and survive all but the severest winters.

Michigan's recently planted wild turkeys, it has been found, are a hardy lot and can scratch fer fer through the winter with few losses.

Attempt Will Be Made to Transplant Turkeys

Efforts will be made early this winter by the Conservation Department to spread wild turkey flocks to Benzie and Barry counties in lower Michigan.

Starting in January, department field workers will attempt to live trap up to 50 birds in the Allegan state game area where flocks still show good numbers after being hunted there last November under Michigan's first modern-day turkey season.

"Capturing these birds won't be any cinch but if things work out according to our plans, the first 20 turkeys we get will be transplanted in the northern part of Benzie County," reports Victor S. Janson, the department's turkey specialist.

The remainder, if any, will be released on public lands in the Barry state game area and Yankee Springs recreation area which adjoin each other in western Barry county.

Both the Benzie and Barry county sites are seen by game men as likely spots where wild turkeys have a good chance of taking hold. The one in Barry county offers much the same kind of cover conditions as the Allegan area, one of the strongholds for turkeys in this state.

Department plans call for completing the trapping project in mid-February if possible so that turkey-netting equipment can be used by the U.S. Forest Service.

Federal workers hope to trap a maximum of 50 birds from the Lake-Newagay flocks for restocking on national forest lands in central Manistee County.

BETTER CHANCE

Efforts to expand turkey flocks into new suitable areas of Michigan have shown that transplanted wild turkeys stand a far better chance of becoming established than is true of birds raised on game farms.

Through the restocking projects, the state's wild turkey population has grown to an estimated 2,000 more birds since the mid-1950's.

Area Changes

in FAA Plan

Municipal and Allen

Improvements Listed

Proposed improvements at two area airports were included in a $1.25-billion, five-year plan to update air travel facilities announced yesterday by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA).

Problems and uncertainties are piling up almost as fast as the good news about how well most things are going right now.

The federal budget, too short, is a big one, with most attention in the business world right now centered on the chance of new or higher taxes.

The plan also called for a helped in Southfield.

Inclusion of a project in the long-range plan is merely a preliminary step. Each job still depends on congressional appropriations of federal funds and the appropriation of local matching funds by local governmental units.

The FAA plan calls for construction of 87 new airport landing facilities and improvements at $2.19 existing airports across the country.

James Popp of Lansing, chief FAA airport district officer for Michigan, said the plan included 100 projects in the state, mostly as general aviation airports used for private airplanes only.

Popp said Detroit's Willow Run Airport might be converted from commercial to private flights or Grosse Ile airport might be switched to private plane use.
