Strikes Halt Milk Deliveries in Pontiac Area

Drive Against Vice Unceasing—Straley

By MAX SIMON

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley today said he has insisted on a strict enforcement policy against vice during his seven-year reign as head of the department.

Straley's comment came on the heels of a report by the head of the vice squad, Detective Richard Evans, in which Evans told Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, "I am unable to explain a policy where there is no policy."

Evans' report charged that vice conditions in the city are "deplorable" and that gambling, narcotics and prostitution operations are wide open.

Straley said he has often told officers there was never to be a letup in vice enforcement.

"I didn't write out any directives on it," the chief said. "I spoke to the officers verbally and time and time again stressed that we must enforce the law as it should be enforced. Written communications have a way of getting shelved."

Perhaps a lack of communication existed between uniformed patrolmen and vice officers, he said.

It has been reported that uniformed patrolmen have complained that their observations on vice conditions were reported to superior officers, but that in many instances no action was taken.

"If this is true," the chief said, "the superior officers have been lax and negligent and should be taken to task."

Straley denied that he made assignments to the vice squad for disciplinary reasons. He said the claim was made by "persons trying to create a disfavorable atmosphere in the department."

Asked of the possibility of police officers leaking information to vice interests, Straley said, "I won't talk about that—I don't care to talk about it."

One Pontiac patrolman, Jess W. Quick, 43, is awaiting examination on charges of bribery and conspiracy to obstruct justice. Quick is accused of trying to bribe an officer to supply advance information on future vice raids.

"There's always that danger in any department," Straley said. "A small favor from a criminal may eventually reach the point where a police officer feels he is obligated."

Few raids on organized and syndicated vice operations have been conducted, Straley said, because of the complicated nature of the operation.

"There's a lot of work to be done in cases of that type," he said. "Commercial vice interests try hard to learn when an investigation is on, and the walls have ears. These people have their spies and observers hanging around police departments."

He said that many times the vice detail has been on the verge of cracking a ring, only to have the culprits fold up operations and disappear.

Size of the vice detail was increased from five to seven persons after State Police conducted a raid on a horse-bet ring Aug. 29, Straley pointed out.

"With the small amount of men working on vice, we've kept it pretty well under control," Straley declared.

"When vice goes down, the crime rate goes down, and that's what happened in Pontiac," the chief stated.

Eastman three weeks ago, took charge of the vice squad when he relieved Straley of command in the department.

Juke Box Probe Gets Under Way

Senate Rackets Group to Investigate Industry for Gangland Inroads

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rackets Committee was set today to pry the lid off the nation's multibillion dollar coin-operated machine industry.

It was particularly interested in any racketeer inroads into labor and management in the industry.

In preparation for possibly sensational new hearings starting Thursday, the committee disclosed it has subpoenaed about 100 witnesses including some of the nation's "top hoodlums" for questioning.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said initial testimony will concern at least seven states — New York, Florida, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, California and Indiana. Other witnesses have been subpoenaed from Colorado, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Louisiana.

Included in their ranks will be some of the participants in the gangland meeting at Apalachin, N.Y., Nov. 14, 1957, which was broken up by police.

McClellan said the new hearings will cover "the extent of racketeer inroads into both labor unions and management in this field."

"The focal point in the investigation," he said, "will be an attempt to determine whether or not labor unions in this field have been formed and operated for legitimate union aims or whether in many cases they have been formed as an adjunct to and enforcement arm for management, acting in collusion to allegedly monopolize the industry."

The senator, who estimated the hearings would run about four weeks, said they were the result of more than a year's work by committee investigators.

He said there are more than a half million "juke boxes" in commercial operation in the country today. In addition to these and other coin-operated amusement devices, he said, the industry distributes more than two billion dollars worth of goods and services annually.

"We are endeavoring to discover the extent of racketeer infiltration into the multibillion dollar industry," McClellan said.

De Gaulle Rules France Today Without Dispute

Reds Blitzed, Routed in Election; Leaders of 4th Republic Ousted

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Charles de Gaulle ruled today as France's undisputed strong man, swept to a pinnacle of power and prestige by a tidal wave of votes in run off elections yesterday for parliament.

In doing so the nearly 20 million French voters:

1. Blitzed and routed the once powerful, Moscow-controlled French Communist Party, turning it into a tiny, impotent group that can no longer sway French parliamentary politics.

2. Ousted in a mass wave of national contempt the men of the Fourth Republic whom they blamed for dragging France to the brink of civil war. Former premiers and cabinet ministers were dumped in wholesale lots.

3. Elected a parliament in which De Gaulle was ensured of a crushing majority backed by the rightwing and military elements who raised him to eminence in a near-revolution last May.

This was the third straight massive confidence vote for De Gaulle in two months. He is expected to get an even bigger edge on Dec. 21 when 100,000 "grand electors" meet to name a president with greater powers than modern France has known. De Gaulle is the overwhelming favorite.

2ND BIG VICTORY

He received his first landslide victory Sept. 28 when 80 per cent of France voted for his new constitution. His second came a week ago when the first round of parliamentary balloting inflicted the worst defeat on his Communist foes in 20 years.

The third straight vote yesterday tore the Communist parliamentary party to shreds and left

Dairy Trucks Idled at City Creamery

MILK FLOW HALTS — Idle trucks at Detroit Creamery testify to the complete halt of milk deliveries to Pontiac homes and stores today. In a wildcat strike over the retail store price of milk, truck drivers and plant production workers stayed off the job today, idling all of Pontiac's milk processing plants.

Big Year Forecast for Auto Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — Dun & Bradstreet today predicted continued business recovery next year paced by a strong upturn in automobile production.

"Spurred by a marked rise in the automobile industry, total physical industrial production will move up substantially in the next few months," the agency said in a study by its business economics department.

After this rise the rate of expansion will slacken "somewhat," the agency said.

Pre-recession peaks will be matched during the first six months of 1959 and a general business rise then will level out, Dun & Bradstreet said. It said nothing of boom proportions is in sight.

The report said much of the increase of the first six months of 1959 will follow from a rise in manufacturers' new orders. It said these in turn will reflect a "slow but steady improvement" in capital spending and consumer buying.

Consumer buying, the report said, will be spurred by record levels of personal income. It said this trend will be of particular benefit to manufacturers of home appliances, furniture and cars.

Employment will increase but won't reach its former peak until the second half of 1959, according to the prediction. The forecast said that unemployment will continue higher than it was before the recession.

Mercury to Drop to 15 Tonight, Snow Expected

November's closing Sunday left its mark on Pontiac residents by dropping to four degrees above zero, the coldest temperature on record since last winter, when on Feb. 18 the thermometer registered a low of two above.

Partly cloudy and colder with scattered snow flurries is the weather man's outlook for tonight. The low will be near 15.

The sharp drop to sub-freezing daily high temperatures began Nov. 26 when a reading of 29 was recorded, as compared to a moderate 50 for Nov. 25. Prior to the 26th, the city's high temperatures had been hovering in the 40 and 50 degree range.

Tuesday will be partly cloudy and cold with a high of 22 expected.

This morning the Automobile Club of Michigan reported the major roads in the southern half of the state are clear but side roads remain slippery and snow covered.

In an extended forecast the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts temperatures will average near the normal 34-38 high and 20-27 low for the next five days with a gradual warming trend to be noted. Light snow or snow flurries are possible.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 15. At 2 p.m. the temperature downtown was 25.

Tieup Intended to Force Stores Into Price Hike

Dairy Workers, Drivers Fail to Show Up for Work This Morning

Milk deliveries to homes and stores were halted in the Pontiac area today by a work-stoppage by dairy workers and drivers.

Wildcat strikes, aimed at forcing the retail store price of milk into line with the delivered price, hit dairies throughout the Detroit area, Mt. Clemens, Port Huron and Monroe.

Strikers reportedly hoped to tie up daries as far north as Saginaw and Bay City.

There was no immediate indication of how long the strikes would last.

Milk ceased to flow here as process workers failed to show up at the city's major and minor processing plants at midnight.

Approximately 100 route salesmen failed to report to work at the city's two major creameries, Borden's and Detroit Creamery, at 6 a.m. to pick up milk for home delivery.

Some picketing was reported at the Detroit Creamery milk division plant, 408 Auburn Ave., between 7 a.m. and 10 a.m.

Two independent dairies, Nye and Mapleleaf, were also closed in the same way, but small independent dairies without union employes were still operating.

Twin Pines deliveries were also halted. Police reported three or four cars of men at the Twin Pines depot at M59 and Elizabeth Lake road early today, apparently stationed there to prevent route salesmen from picking up milk from tankers out of Detroit.

But no route salesmen or tankers showed up.

The Pontiac shutdowns affected homes in a wide area around the city, as far as Utica to the east, Birmingham to the south and Walled Lake to the west.

DELIVER TO HOSPITALS

Although all home, store and school deliveries were halted, milk was delivered today to Pontiac General Hospital by Nye Dairy and to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by Nye, Borden's, Mapleleaf and Detroit Creamery.

Some Pontiac schools were obtaining milk by picking it up themselves at the strike-bound dairies.

Carl F. Burger, spokesman for the Detroit Milk Producers Assn., said he had been unable to contact union officials.

Burger said the producers have had no labor trouble. He said the Association has a no-strike clause in its contract with the Milk Drivers Union Local 83.

The strike, called unexpectedly by union leaders, cut Detroit area deliveries to a trickle.

Strike leaders said 1,500 of the Detroit area's 2,000 drivers went on strike with the backing of workers who process milk at dairies.

A spokesman for United Dairy Workers Local 83 said most of the rank and file members in the Detroit area joined in the work stoppage and that members of Teamsters Local 155 here were refusing to deliver milk.

Drivers for Twin Pines voted to make deliveries. But their deliveries were delayed because hooting strikers from other dairies ringed Twin Pines plants and milk depots.

Twin Pines is a co-operative whose drivers own their milk routes.

John H. Stewart, Twin Pines president, said the company's drivers support the principle of the strike but did not want to go along with the strikers "because our men could not see anything to be gained from striking."

The retail price for milk here has been varying 2 to 5 cents per quart between store-sold and home-delivered milk.

Deliverymen have been charging customers 24½ cents per quart for the first 30 quarts each month, then taking 3 cents off each quart for the rest of the month's supply.

Spokesmen for the strikers said most dairies pay deliverymen about $30 a week plus commissions based on sales of dairy productions. They said price cutting in stores has cut off most of the commissions for many drivers.

Strikers made no effort to halt bulk milk coming into Detroit from farms but producers said dairy firms were canceling orders pend-

Winston Churchill Celebrates 84th Birthday at Home

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill celebrated his 84th birthday Sunday with a huge cake and his children and grandchildren around to help him cut it.

Churchill and his family spent the day at Chartwell, his country home south of London. Hundreds of congratulatory telegrams poured in, including messages from Queen Elizabeth II and President Eisenhower.

In a statement to the press, the old man said the flood of messages had given him and his family great pleasure.

"There is such a large number," he continued, "that I cannot, unfortunately, acknowledge each one. But I should like to express my warm thanks to all who have so kindly thought of me."

3 Die, 2 Injured as Car Hits Tree

Troy Mother, 2 Children Killed on Way Home From Church

A Troy mother and two of her children were killed Sunday returning from church as their auto skidded out of control and hit a tree.

Two other children in the auto were critically injured.

Dead are: Mrs. Marion R. Mach, 30, of 5570 John R Rd.; her son Eric, 7; and daughter Claudia, 3.

Injured were Janet, 10, and Karen, 8. St. Joseph Mercy Hospital listed Janet in "poor" condition and Karen in "critical" condition this morning.

Troy Police said Mrs. Mach was driving north on John R. just south of 17 Mile Rd. when her auto apparently went out of control on the slippery pavement.

There were no witnesses to the accident but skid marks showed the Mach auto skidded sideways off the road and struck a tree to the right.

The mother and son were pronounced dead at the scene by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. J. Donald Green, of Birmingham. Claudia was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at 1:45 p.m.

The five were returning home from Mass at Guardian Angel Church in Clawson.

The woman's husband, Floyd, was at home with a younger son.

'Most Valuable' Gorilla Dies in His Zoo Cage

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Phil, a gorilla rated as one of the world's most valuable animals, died today in his cage at the St. Louis Zoo, apparently the victim of an intestinal parasite.

The big animal, which normally weighed about 600 pounds, had been on a hunger strike since mid-October and was down to less than 500 pounds when found dead by an attendant.

Despite his fearsome appearance, Phil was a good-natured and even playful animal. One of his favorite tricks was to pretend to be asleep and then suddenly splash water through the bars of his cage on any spectators within range.

"He was one of my great pals," said George P. Vierheller, the zoo director who claimed the gorilla was the world's most valuable zoo animal. Vierheller refused to place a price tag on Phil, saying he was irreplacable.

Auto-Lite Co. Strike Called in Six Cities

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union today called a strike against Electric Auto-Lite Co. plants in six cities. Some 8,500 workers are affected.

Richard Gosser, a UAW vice-president, said the strike is against plants in Lacrosse, Wis.; Fostoria, Ohio; Syracuse, N.Y.; Vincennes, Ind.; Bay City and Owosso.

Some 2,200 UAW members have been on strike since Nov. 18 in Toledo, idling four Auto-Lite plants in that Ohio city.

Gosser said Auto-Lite plants not affected by the strike call at Hazleton, Pa.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Allentown, Pa.; Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Oakland, Calif.; and Sarnia, Ont. About 1,300 are employed in those plants.

Famed Explorer Dies

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — Sir Hubert Wilkins, famed explorer of the North and South poles, was found dead today in his hotel room. He was 70.

Reds to Rest Saturdays

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union's day of rest has been changed — by official decree — from Sunday to Saturday.

The stack of letters to Santa Claus delivered to The Pontiac Press for forwarding to the North Pole is growing daily, as Christmas draws nearer.

Santa called long distance the other day to say that he had received the letters we've mailed on to him by special reindeer messenger service, and he is working hard to fill all the orders.

The jolly old gentleman asked us to remind kiddies in the Pontiac area to hang their stockings with care, and mind their behavior for the next few weeks.

The Press will continue to forward letters to Santa and will publish the names of the writers from time to time.

McElroy Highly Skeptical of Report

Reds Flying Atom Plane?

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON—Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said today he is "highly skeptical" of reports that Russia has flown the world's first atom-powered plane.

He concluded that Soviets may have a "slight lead" over the United States in ultimate development of a nuclear aircraft.

The magazine "Aviation Week" reported that the Soviets recently flew successfully the first prototype atomic plane in the Moscow area.

McElroy said he does not know if the report is true or not, but added that "I am highly skeptical of it."

"But if it is true," he said, "it would be a tremendous jolt to us in this country."

A key senator has promised that U.S. scientists will get all the funds they need to put in the air an atom-powered airplane.

Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-NM) of the senate military appropriations subcommittee, declared yesterday that Congress would give President Eisenhower all the money he wanted to build such a plane.

He made the pledge shortly after Aviation Week reported that the Soviets are flying the world's first nuclear-powered aircraft, a huge experimental bomber, and may be planning to fly it several times around the world non-stop.

Some Defense Department officials said there appeared to be "some element of truth" in the story. But they added they would have to study it thoroughly before they could say for sure.

However, a top Pentagon official may already have paved the way for an official announcement of the reported Soviet advance.

Maj. Gen. Donald J. Keirn, chief of the U.S. Atomic Plane Project, said Nov. 20 that he would not be surprised if Russia had a nuclear plane airborne before the end of this year.

Aviation Week said the Russian success gives them a four-year lead over the United States.

The magazine said the Soviet bomber was completed six months ago and has been flying in the Moscow area for at least two months.

SAW TEST FLIGHT

Its test flights there have been watched by observers from both Communist and non-Communist countries, the magazine added.

The nuclear-powered plane is a military prototype, not just a conventional plane fitted with an experimental nuclear power plant for test purposes, the report said.

The nuclear power plant was described as the simplest kind of an atomic engine, a direct air cycle design similar to that being developed by this country.

Ike Pledges Berlin Aid

Says Big Three Safeguard Sure

Reassures West Zone as East Sector Hears Boltz 'No Pact' Talk

From Our News Wires

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Communist threatened West Berlin has a new pledge from President Eisenhower that its freedom will be safeguarded by the United States.

The pledge that the United States intends to meet that responsibility, shared by Britain and France, was reaffirmed by the President after he and Secretary of State Dulles discussed the Berlin situation at an hour-long conference Sunday.

They talked at the Augusta National Golf Club as Eisenhower made plans to end his working vacation Tuesday and fly back to Washington. His 13-day visit started Nov. 20.

In a brief statement after the meeting Dulles said: "The President reiterated our government's firm purpose that the United States will not enter into any arrangement or embark on any course of conduct which would have the effect of abandoning the responsibilities which the United States, with Great Britain and France, has formally assumed for the freedom and security of the people of West Berlin."

That in effect was a fresh rejection of the Soviet Union's Thanksgiving Day proposal for creation of a demilitarized "free" city of West Berlin. Moscow at the same time declared void the four-power occupation agreement for Berlin which was reached after World War II.

In Berlin East German foreign minister Lothar Bolz today denied agreements exist giving the western powers the right to travel to isolated Berlin.

Bolz in a speech to an East Berlin meeting of the national council of the Communist-run "National Front," went far beyond previous eastern statements questioning western use of air and land routes through East Germany in six months when the Soviet abrogate four-power occupation agreements.

He said no agreements on use of the lifelines to the West ever were made and none exist now.

"Berlin was a part of the Soviet occupation zone and today is a part of the German Democratic Republic," he said.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today held one of his rare meetings with political enemy, Socialist Erich Ollenhauer, to discuss the Berlin situation.

They met in Bonn while a U. S. military train running to West Berlin was delayed for an hour by what Communist East German officials called a broken rail.

The U. S. Army accepted the Communist explanation — mindful that the incident was similar to those used by the Soviet Union before imposing the 1948-49 blockade of West Berlin. At that time, all land routes to the isolated city were closed for "technical reasons."

Heavy Snow Sends Death Toll Soaring

National Holiday Deaths
Traffic	443
Fires	51
Miscellaneous	116
Total	610

By The Associated Press

More than 600 Americans were killed in accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend, nearly 450 of them in traffic crashes.

The toll of traffic deaths was higher than that counted in a non-holiday period of identical length two weeks ago. It was not as high as the 470 estimate made by the National Safety Council for a 102-hour non-holiday weekend at this time of year.

The season's first major snowstorm was regarded as a big factor in a number of deaths on the highways. The cold weather also added to the number of violent deaths as a series of destructive fires took the lives of several persons, including many children.

LANSING (AP)—Eighteen traffic deaths over the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend jumped Michigan's November highway death toll to 150—highest for the month in three years.

There were 134 traffic deaths in November a year ago and 145 in the same month of 1956. The November, 1955, toll was 208.

Snow-slicked roads were blamed for at least six of Michigan's 18 traffic deaths over the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

But the toll was down, compared with a similar, but non-holiday period two weeks ago.

The Associated Press holiday death count began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The holiday traffic death toll was only about half that for a comparable period two weeks ago when the Associated Press tallied 33 traffic deaths.

It also was under the toll for short weekends in November. A week ago Michigan had 19 traffic deaths between 6 p.m. Friday and Sunday nidnight. Twenty-four died in traffic over a similar period the previous weekend and 22 the weekend before.

BELOW AVERAGE

Although the traffic death toll for the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday to midnight Sunday was high, it appeared the total was below the average for a comparable period.

No preholiday estimate of the traffic death toll was made by the National Safety Council but it said that 470 deaths on the highways could be expected in a 102-hour nonholiday weekend at this time of year.

The nation's traffic toll last year was 38,500, an average of about 105 a day. The Associated Press, for comparison purposes, made a survey in a 102-hour non-holiday weekend earlier last month and counted 394 traffic deaths.

Other violent deaths for the period showed 32 in fires and 121 in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 547.

Blizzard-like weather gripped the state over the Thanksgiving weekend, making motoring hazardous throughout the state. Figuring in the traffic deaths were 11 single-car accidents, two collisions involving more than one car and three train-car collisions. Two pedestrians were killed.

Over the weekend, below zero temperatures were recorded in Upper Michigan and near-zero in the rest of the state. The cold wave came after a heavy snowstorm.

Killed in Michigan were:

Lloyd F. Blonshine, 64, of Lowell.
John Roelens, 22, Port Huron.
Marvin J Smith, 25, of Flint.
Mrs. Collen Kay Hoevemery, 20, of Monroe.
Leona Murphy, 68, Detroit.
Edna Towle, 75, of Detroit.
Barbara Harbuin, 64, Detroit.
Jeffrey Garbinski, 6, Detroit.
Paul Hrncharik, 61, Bannister.
Leslie Hartley, 53, Freeland.
Joseph C. Woloszyk, 24, Detroit.
William H. Goebel, 61, Route 1, White Cloud.
Paul Horn, 35, Ypsilanti.
Mrs. Marion Ruth Mach, 30, of Troy, and two of her four children, Eric, 7, and Claudia, 3.
Wilbert T. Evans, 45, of Sumpter Township.
Lloyd C. Densmore, 41, of Jonesville.

Meeting Set to Protest Tax Hike

A public meeting to protest a proposed hike in Bloomfield Hills School District taxes has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday in Bloomfield Township Hall.

Arthur J. Picotte, who heads a citizens committee that opposes the school-sponsored extra millage, today announced the time of the meeting. He repeated his charge that the school administration unfairly denied his group the use of a schoolroom for the protest session.

Picotte, 4019 Quarton Rd., Bloomfield Township, refused to fill out a written application for use of a room, saying this was a "delaying tactic" on the part of Superintendent of Schools Eugene L. Johnson.

Johnson has said a written application was the School Board's policy in this case, since Picotte's group was newly formed and the school administration did not know who belonged to it.

He denied that the schools were trying to interfere with citizens' right to use schools for public purposes.

William J. Emerson, county superintendent of schools, said the school administration was acting legally.

"The statute is quite specific that the School Board can require a reasonable showing from groups that want to use school buildings," he said.

De Gaulle Emerging Stronger Than Ever

De Gaulle in the driver's seat backed by a parliamentary majority such as this nation has seldom seen.

The voting began last Sunday to elect 465 deputies in metropolitan France and 10 in the overseas department. Because only 39 candidates won the necessary majority, run off elections were held yesterday with candidates needing only a plurality.

Three days of voting in Algeria to elect 71 candidates was expected to swell De Gaulle's parliamentary strength. Ten more delegates were being elected in overseas territories.

BITTER VOTE

If the vote was a smashing defeat for the Communists it was a bitter vote of no confidence for the former deputies who snarled French politics from the day the Fourth Republic began after World War II.

Only 146 former deputies were re-elected; 338 were beaten and 58 did not run for re-election.

Among those going down to defeat were two former premiers, a dozen cabinet ministers and two of the Communist Party's big guns in the old National Assembly.

Roger Duchet, independent party leader and a De Gaulle backer, said "They were atomized."

Former premier Edgar Faure and white goateed Socialist Paul Ramadier were defeated yesterday. Former premiers Pierre Mendes-France and Joseph Laniel were knocked out a week ago. Former premier Edouard Daladier quit after the first ballot because his defeat was certain.

Royal Oak Attorney Seeks Doty's Place

Maurice A. Merritt, Royal Oak attorney, today announced he will seek to succeed Judge Frank L. Doty on the Oakland County Circuit Court bench.

Judge Doty, who because of his age cannot by law seek re-election, will officially step down from the bench Dec. 31, 1959.

Merritt, 43, of 1721 Bonnie View Rd., Royal Oak, is circulating nominating petitions in hopes to landing a place on the April 6 judicial ballot. Petitions must be returned to the Secretary of State's office in Lansing by Dec. 29.

The candidate has held a temporary position as Royal Oak city attorney and attorney for Royal Oak Township. He presently represents the township in the 12-Towns drain fight in the courts.

He has been commissioner on the State Bar of Michigan and is currently chairman of the State Bar Conference Committee of Lawyers and Certified Public Accountants.

Moore's Group, Governor to Talk

To Discuss Emergency Plans for Mentally Ill at Dec. 3 Meeting

Gov. Williams is scheduled to meet Wednesday with the committee of probate judges, headed by Oakland County Judge Arthur E. Moore, seeking emergency steps to ease the lack of hospital facilities for the mentally ill.

The meeting is scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Union Building on the Michigan State Unniversity campus in East Lansing.

Judge Moore arranged the meeting with the governor after his committee at first received a thumbs down from the State Mental Health Commission on its suggested steps to ease this problem.

However, the commission delivered the first bit of good news to Judge Moore's committee shortly afterwards when approval was given to the use by mental patients of excess beds in state tuberculosis sanatoriums.

In order for this to take place, the Legislature must approve it, according to a letter from the Governor to Judge Moore. "Necessary legislation is in the draft stage," promised Williams.

Encouraged with this assurance, the committee will discuss with Williams and the Commission what will be the next step in finding space for some 500 persons seeking admission to institutions in the state.

Judge Moore will be armed Wednesday with a 10-point agenda of suggestions from the committee on how this could be done.

Major theme of the recommendations hinges around a proposal to return many patients, "whose primary problem is not psychiatric care but arises through senility, medical or physical infirmity and need of custodial care," to the counties for further care.

3 Hurt as Cars Collide at Maple, Middlebelt

Two Detroiters and a Birmingham man were injured in a two-car collision Sunday morning at W. Maple and Middlebelt roads, West Bloomfield Township, according to Pontiac State Police.

Both drivers, Al Matthews, 49, of 2224 Blaine St., Detroit, and Harold Roberts, 46, of 5050 Maple Rd., were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Matthews was described in fair condition with chest injuries today. Roberts was treated and released.

A passenger in Matthews' auto, Robert Peoples, 43, of the same address at Matthews, was listed in poor condition with head and internal injuries.

Slippery pavement was listed as the cause of the collision.

City, Hills Post Offices Set for Christmas Rush

BIRMINGHAM — Postmasters Roland Reese and Wayne Mortimer are marshalling their forces to be ready for the annual rush of holiday mail in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills post offices respectively.

Reese said parcels would be received and stamps sold in the Birmingham office from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Dec. 8 through 11; 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Dec. 12 through 19; 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Dec. 20 through 22; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 23 and 24. Sunday hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

An annex has been established at the southeast corner of Coolidge and E. Maple Rds. It will begin handling parcels and stamp sales Dec. 12. Reese said hours would be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and added that the location provides ample parking space for all.

In Bloomfield Hills, Mortimer has started the mounted city routes with mail delivery at each home rather than in sectional clusters along main streets. This will now be a regular service.

He said an annex for the Christmas mail is being set up in the old Kingsley Inn building, but will not be open to the public.

Mailing and stamp purchases will be handled at the main post office on West Long Lake road near Woodward avenue.

Both postmasters urge early mailings and ask that particular attention be made to wrapping parcels and clearly addressing all mail.

Another Birmingham commissioner ill or out of town tonight will put a quick stop to the scheduled meeting. The mayor and mayor protem, Carl Ingraham and Harry Denyes, and Commissioner William Roberts are attending the conference of municipal leaders in Boston, leaving only four commissioners for tonight's meeting.

The short agenda includes a request from the Colonial Court Apartments on Colonial court for the construction of an access drive for their tenants.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley will recommend continuing the 30 mile per hour speed limit on West Maple avenue until the pavement is widened from Westchester Way to Cranbrook road.

A request was made sometime ago by residents to increase the speed to 35.

Temple 94, Pythian Sisters, will hold a white elephant sale at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Community House as a part of its regular meeting.

The Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club will meet at Republican Headquarters, 351 N. Woodward Ave., at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Plans for the Lincoln banquet, Feb. 9, will be completed.

SERVERIN TUREL

Service for Serverin Turel, 52, of 384 Pierce St., will be held at 9:15 a.m. tomorrow at the Miller Funeral Home, 9222 Joseph Campau Street, Hamtramck. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Turel, a concert pianist and composer, died of a heart attack which he suffered Friday evening while performing at the Birmingham Community House.

A native of Poland, he served five years as a German prisoner of war and, while there, began his now famous "Polish Rhapsody" which he completed after coming to this country.

Surviving are a sister and nephew in Paris, France.

Cold Gripping Northeast

The season's coldest weather blanketed the Northeast and sent an icy chill deep into the South today. The Midwest got a brief respite from the near-zero cold and snow.

The Northeast was hit by the frigid blasts in the wake of the heavy snowstorm which swept the region over the weekend after leaving near record early season falls in the Rockies and Midwest.

Temperatures dropped below zero in northern New England and near zero in parts of New York state. One of the lowest readings was -14 at Mt. Washington, N.H.

The mercury edged toward the zero mark in areas southward across western Pennsylvania into West Virginia. The freezing line extended southward toward the mid-Gulf Coast, including northwestern Florida.

Subzero marks were in prospect from the eastern Great Lakes to the mountain regions of eastern West Virginia and through the interior sections of New England. Snow was in prospect during the day in the north Atlantic states.

After several days of cold, snow and strong winds, a warming trend developed throughout most of the Mississippi Valley, the eastern Plains and the West Great Lakes.

Unless Action Is Taken

Says Traffic to Kill 50,000

CHICAGO (AP) — A safety expert today predicted traffic accidents will cost 50,000 lives in 1966 unless effective action is taken.

Henry J. Hoeffer, assistant general manager of the National Safety Council, also stated that the annual toll eight years hence could include 1,900,000 injuries and an economic loss of seven billion dollars.

Hoeffer noted, for comparison, that traffic fatalities numbered 38,500 last year.

"You will be shocked to hear," he said, "that 1,081,600 people lost their lives as traffic fatalities between Jan. 1, 1925, and Jan. 1, 1958."

Hoeffer spoke at a meeting of Midwestern legislators sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety and the Council of State Governments. It is being conducted by the Traffic Institute of Northwestern University.

Hal Boyle Quotes Ogden Nash:

Humorist Must Step on Sore Toes Today

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "There is an awful lot of tightrope walking in the world today," said Ogden Nash.

"There are so many sore toes that a humorist can't help stepping on a few."

When he was 10 and his older sister was about to be married, Nash composed an ode long cherished by his family. It began:

"The beautiful spring at last is here,
And has taken my sister I sadly fear."

Some 46 years, 50,000 published lines, and a million chuckles later, Nash is widely rated as America's most successful writer of light verse.

His 13 books—the latest is, "You Can't Get There From Here" — have sold nearly two million copies. With the possible exception of Robert Frost, he probably is the only well known American author who has made a living in the last quarter century from verse.

"I'm something of a freak," he admitted. "I've been lucky."

But even Nash has found it advisable to toil part-time in other vineyards. He lectures, has done two stints in Hollywood, written lyrics for Broadway shows, appeared as a TV panelist.

His latest television assignment was to write the lyrics for six songs for "Peter and the Wolf," starring Art Carney and presented Sunday over the ABC-TV network.

"The only love song was sung by a near-sighted dog to a duck under the impression she was a water spaniel," he said.

This kind of chore delights the offbeat mind of Nash, master of the kind of outrageous rhymes that tickle modern readers but give traditional poets a desire to beat their heads against a wall.

"I think in terms of rhyme, and have since I was six years old," he said.

Although he has strong doubts his verses have enduring literary quality — "fashions in humor change as in everything else"— he believes "anything that is to last more than five years has to be more than merely clever.

"I like to think that behind my work there is a consistent individual point of view toward life —something more than just jokes and odd rhymes."

MEDC Outlines Plans for State

Board Hopes to Attract New Industries, Get Regulars to Expand

DETROIT (AP)—A plan to attract new industrial firms to Michigan and encourage the expansion of existing industry has been reported by the Michigan Economic Development Commission.

MEDC Chairman William M. Day said an inventory is being made of the state's research facilities and talent and the results of the census will be published in a brochure.

Day, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., outlined the plan in a report to Gov. Williams. The report, prepared in cooperation with the governor's science advisory board, listed among the groups' objectives:

1—Winning recognition from government and industry of Michigan's scientific and technological facilities.

2 — Improving the state's research centers and increasing the number of research associated firms.

Establishment of industrial research parks near Michigan's large universities also was urged in the report, which explained this should attract industry which needs close relationship with such institutions.

Wayne Unions Merge Friday as Delay Ends

DETROIT (AP) — The long-delayed merger of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor and the Wayne County CIO Council is expected to take place at a two-day convention opening Friday.

The merger of some 500,000 union members has been held up by disputes over job rights and rivalries between local union leaders. Mergers on the national and state levels already have been completed.

AFL-CIO President George Meany and United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther have been invited to address the convention. Reuther is an AFL-CIO vice president.

Fifty-one officers will be elected at the convention. They will include a president at $12,500 a year, a secretary-treasurer at $12,000 and two vice presidents at $11,500 each.

3 Children Die in House Fire

Missouri Town Rallies to Aid of 8 Survivors, 7 of Them Hurt

CAMERON, Mo. (AP)—Flames destroyed the four-room home of a garbage collector Sunday, killing three children.

This northwest Missouri town of 3,500 rallied quickly to the aid of 52-year-old Josh Jackson and eight other survivors. Seven of them were injured.

Dead are two of Jackson's sons, Josh Ewell, 11, and Francis, 9, and a grandson, Anthony Ginn, 10 months. Anthony was killed by a falling beam as his mother, Mrs. James Ginn, 19, carried him out of the house. The other two perished in the flames.

Cause of the fire was not known. Sixteen women reported to the hospital to help care for the injured. Ministers had mimeographed lists of the survivors' clothing sizes by the time church services began. Churchgoers gave $250 and quickly rounded up furniture to equip a vacant house.

Costly Fire Destroys Jackson Sport Store

JACKSON (AP) — A fire that swept swiftly through log-type construction destroyed a sporting goods store yesterday.

Damage from the blaze was estimated at $160,000 to $200,000 by the owner, Loren Gibson. Firemen fought the blaze in 4-degree weather. The store was on U.S. 12 a half mile east of here.

A state police cruiser spotted the blaze. In the five minutes it required for township firemen to arrive the building became a mass of flames.

An adjoining concrete block building used for a motor repair shop did not burn.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

UAW Ratifies Pact Ending S-P Strike

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker-Packard's strike-ending agreement was ratified by United Auto Workers Local No. 5 yesterday.

The 7,500 employes had returned to work Friday after a three-day strike which led to a Thanksgiving Day settlement.

The union said the agreement follows the pattern of the auto industry, including a 7 cents an hour pay increase for production workers and 16 cents an hour for skilled workers.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It Seems to Me . . . .

If City's as Bad as Reported, We Need Wholesale Cleanup

Somehow, I'm slow to accept all of Public Safety Director GEORGE D. EASTMAN's appraisal of Pontiac. In his opinion, this is a vile and wicked city.

Judging from his indictment and that of RICHARD G. EVANS, we are shot with fraud and corruption.

The main charges include these:

A—Three Numbers rackets (and maybe a fourth).

B—A floating card game that attracts thugs and gamblers from Flint, Saginaw, and Detroit.

C—Houses of prostitution flourishing without fear of the law.

D—Street walkers that prowl our boulevards and accost the citizens.

E—Wide sale of narcotics.

F—Large sale of bootleg liquor.

G—Appointment of vice squad officers who lack merit.

H—No law enforcement policies in the Pontiac Police Department.

I—Lack of cooperation between vice squad men and uniformed police.

J—Definite collusion between vice lords and Pontiac police.

K—Bribery and conspiracy blocking law enforcement.

L—Failure of those above to "do anything" when violations have actually been reported.

M—Only one major vice raid seven years and that by State officers with Pontiac inactive.

N—Straley's refusal to turn in a vice report to Safety Director Eastman.

O—Operation of a horse betting ring with city employes assisting.

There may be other "lesser indictments" of Pontiac police, but this list will suffice for the present.

I am frankly torn between two thoughts. First, I can hardly believe that the Pontiac police force is the worst there is. I can hardly believe that general vice conditions are worse in Pontiac than they are in Pasadena, Puducah, or Portland.

On the other hand, if this report is true, we face the need of an absolutely revolutionary turnover in the Police Department. I would grant NO ONE a clean bill of health in the light of these horrendous charges. If conditions are half as bad as Eastman paints them, EVERYONE should be under direct suspicion from the newest man on the force up through all ranks and levels.

All of the honorable officials should INSIST on a sweeping investigation to clear themselves and assure the public they aren't personally consorting with the burglars, the thieves, the whores, the gamblers, the hoods, and the crooked personnel that may make up so much of our local government.

Let's demand ALL the facts.

NO ONE should be shielded.

And — in the light of these charges of wholesale slime and filth, The Press would expect a weekly list of accomplishments on the part of the new Safety Director. Every week a whole horde of gamblers, out of town hoods, local prostitutes and cheating policemen should be fired, arrested, convicted and paraded for public inspection.

Privately, I'd like to think the new man was mistaken, but if he isn't, cleaning the Aegean stables will look like a church social in comparison.

In any event LET'S GO.

Pontiac wants ALL THE FACTS.

Birthday, Christmas Card Shower for Oldest Resident

December: What brings winter, but it also brings Christmas.

Today this column launches its annual drive for a combined birthday and Christmas card shower for who celebrates her 109th birthday on Dec. 16. She is Oakland County's oldest resident and, as far as I have been able to determine, also Michigan's oldest.

Mrs. Eliza Beaumont Taylor

Living at Highland, within a few miles of the place of her birth, this grand old woman was a girl in her teens when the Civil War was in progress. She was teaching school when Lincoln was assassinated.

With keen faculties and good physical health, she will peruse and appreciate every greeting that she receives. Her address is Highland, Michigan. Let's give that post office the biggest mail it ever received.

Former President of the Detroit Housing Commission, the only woman among its 25 members, and for many years that city's top woman realtor, whose funeral was held Saturday, spent the early years of her life in Oakland County, going to Detroit from Holly. She was 75, the former Harriett Wright.

Mrs. Harriett D. Kelly,

"Reading your items about blue jays," phones

of Waterford, "I find them to be intelligent birds. My parakeet escaped and was gone several days, until a pair of blue jays chased it home."

After blaming their neighbor's chickens for nibbling at their vegetables all summer,

Mr. and Mrs. Everly Atkins of Clarkston now find deer tracks in their garden.

Swedish-born sculptor and artist,

Miss Svea Kline,

who lives at Birmingham, has created for the children's room in the new Flint Public Library a six-panel mural depicting children's legends, poems, folk and fairy tales. She has taught at the Flint Institute of Arts for 13 years.

A Christmas cactus in the home of

of Milford is rushing the season, now with over 60 blossoms and buds, the earliest in many years.

Former Pontiac resident,

Miss Hazel Roscoe Block,

has been teaching at Anchorage, Alaska, the past five years. Letters from her to a shut-in, of 148 South Parke St., are filled with news of that far north post. She would appreciate letters from Pontiac friends. Her address is in care of the Territorial School, APO 949, Seattle, Wash.

William McClain

Verbal Orchids to—

Mrs. Isador Lanpher

of 603 LeBaron St.; 92nd birthday

Mr. and Mrs. William Kreklow of 11 O'Riley St.; 58th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beemer of Clarkston; 56th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leonard of Groveland Township; 58th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bryant of Imlay City; 53rd wedding anniversary.

Containment Policy

David Lawrence Says:

Allies Could Use 'Free City' Plan

WASHINGTON — Berlin's crisis provides the opportunity of a lifetime. The Communists demand that Berlin be made a "free city."

LAWRENCE

The key word is "free," but the idea back of that word is too good to be limited to just one city. Why not an "all-free Europe"?

To make only one city "free" is no solution. It only compounds existing problems.

The Communists sit up late at night thinking up schemes with which to worry the Western Allies. Mostly these are adventures in propaganda. The Soviets even boldly pose among their own people as "liberators" in other lands.

In America there still is a certain timidity about using the word "liberation." John Foster Dulles mentioned it in his speeches during the 1952 presidential campaign and has not been forgiven since by his critics.

He insisted that he meant "peaceful liberation," but the Soviets managed, with considerable assistance from certain partisans in America, to make it appear that America planned to use military force to effect "liberation."

But notwithstanding the vicissitudes that the concept of "liberation" has experienced in circles where the word betrays a sense of fear, there is merit in urging the abandonment of the "status quo" in eastern Europe.

This theme has been championed in various pronouncements of policy by the United States government, but the secret of successful propaganda is iteration and reiteration, especially at the psychological moment.

Today, for instance, when the Soviets have so deliberately, even if hypocritically, put the accent on Berlin as a "free city," the time is opportune for a broad discussion of freedom for eastern Europe.

If a four-power conference can get the limelight on this issue, so much the better. It would be an impressive way to remind the people of the Soviet Union itself that freedom is still something they, too, may hope for some day.

Certainly the Western Allies are in a position to insist now that not only East Germany but Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania be given the status of "free cities."

There could be a transition period during which, under United Nations auspices, a plan for withdrawal eventually of all foreign troops could be offered. The peoples of each country could be given the chance to conduct free elections and decide for themselves what military aid they need.

If countries which are truly free want foreign troops to remain on their soil, as the people of West Germany have chosen, this can be accepted as a basic principle.

But everyone knows that not one of the "satellite" states has had uncoerced voting and that each country in the Soviet orbit has against its will been occupied by military forces commanded by Moscow.

The importance of western ground troops in central Europe to ward off an attack by the Soviets has lately been minimized by those who think long-range missiles will make land forces unnecessary anyhow.

But with the emphasis coming nowadays from Moscow on avoiding the use of nuclear weapons altogether, ground troops take on added military value.

The whole problem, if approached from the standpoint of extending the principle of a "free city" in Berlin to encompass all of eastern Europe, would put the Soviets on the defensive in the propaganda battles of the day.

The Country Parson

"Faith on a full stomach may be simply contentment—but if you have it when you're hungry, it's genuine."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Victims of Arthritis Need Advice on Good Nutrition

"Rheumatiz" is my term for insidiously developing, gradually increasing joint disability, commonly called "chronic rheumatism," "chronic arthritis," osteoarthritis or "rheumatoid arthritis."

DR. BRADY

The other day a physician and medical author, who evidently almost understands what I'm driving at, told me: "You are correct in stating that the arthritis of older people is associated with a degenerating or aging process. . . "

It seems to me the doctor quibbies when he speaks of "the arthritis of older people" (his words, not mine) being "associated with" a degenerating process.

This well meaning and courteous physician apparently harbors the same vague notion that most physicians do — that arthritis signifies joint trouble. It is unfortunate that victims of chronic joint disability are so easily satisfied with the dubious diagnosis of "arthritis." The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation admits that none of the new "wonder" drugs has proved of any particular value in the treatment of the trouble.

I advise every medical student, intern and medical practitioner to dig up Osler's Practice, preferably an edition published when the great teacher was in his vigorous 50s, and read his description of the "morbid anatomy," that is, the pathology of "chronic rheumatism." If it isn't a lucid description of degeneration of joint tissues, I'll go along quietly when the attendant comes to take me to the asylum.

Having drawn the fine distinction between osteo-arthritis and rheumatoid arthritis or arthritis deformans, at least on paper, doctors who still regard degeneration as inflammation have no better remedies for chronic joint disability than doctors had in Osler's day.

In Little Lesson No. 12, Chronic Joint Disability (free to physicians, 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope otherwise) I maintain that most so-called "arthritis" is not joint inflammation but degeneration of joint tissues; that the cause is nutritional deficiency through the years from childhood up to the present time; and I specify what particular nutritional factors one with rheumatiz should use to supplement his or her everyday diet from now on.

I submit that this is better health advice than victims of the "arthritis" usually receive.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Davisburg Man Discusses Inequitable Farm Prices

There are no push button answers to farming, but penalty for failing to find them is more severe than ever before. We only know that survival, both physical and spiritual, depends on the will to know the nature of this world and it's this enterprise of exploration that farmers should be committed to. Farmers must have equal opportunity for equal rewards.

This country can't afford to let farm income slide. Farmers' inequitable income opportunities are the result of evils of the "present kind of farm price support program." But to expect farmers to prosper if left to the mercies of free competition would be disastrous.

The present voting on corn referendum is a choice between new and old evils. The new program abolishes completely the principle of keeping supply in balance with demand. It contains seeds of destruction to the entire farm program.

'Pontiac's Luckier Than Detroiters'

When you consider how much Detroit taxpayers will be asked to shell out in the years ahead, you can be thankful that you live in Pontiac.

Probably some such program faces us here, but it will only be a fraction of the total amount. The Pontiac school board has done a fine job over the years and kept expenses paid up as we went along. Thus we don't face a huge deficit as Detroit does.

The nation can't do without schools or we would be selling out to the Russians.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city.—Hosea 11:9.

Nixon Wins Press Praise in British About-Face

LONDON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has taken on a new look for many Britons.

"When Mr. Richard Nixon arrived here a few days ago he was highly unpopular," says the London Evening News.

"Nixon has gone a very long way toward destroying the image. It is a remarkable achievement and a very important one."

Other British newspapers often had made Nixon the target for anti-American cracks. Now they have joined in the praise.

What has brought the change? Nixon himself—and his wife Pat—are largely responsible.

When fog disrupted their arrival, the Nixons took it in the best chin-up tradition.

There was another outflow of warmth for Nixon when the newspapers reported the game of hunt-the-dinner-jacket that was played out at the U.S. Embassy Thursday night.

After the dedication of the American Memorial Chapel in St. Paul's Cathedral—main item on Nixon's four-day program—the newspapers were full of favorable comments.

Said the News Chronicle: "A subdued, almost self-effacing Vice President Nixon stood in St. Paul's. Beneath the vice president's firm composed exterior one could detect the awe of the village boy who had come such a long way in such a short time."

Mrs. Nixon had a tea party at the embassay residence for the ladies of the press. They agreed she won their stony hearts.

The Daily Express praised Nixon as "the first high American official to laud us over our colonial achievements."

Nixon, it said, turned his back on the hostile criticism in the United States about "British colonialism."

A Daily Telegraph editorial described Nixon as an ambassador of friendship.

Randolph Churchill, writing in the London Evening Standard, said he thought Nixon "is 'on our side.' With such a lot of bloody-minded people who are against us, it is nice to have someone 'on our side.'"

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Psychology Technique Helps Girls

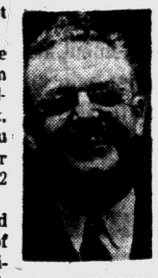

Mrs. Hollar is a very progressive Girl Scout Leader. Notice how effectively she employs modern psychology with the girls. And all of you readers who teach classes or lead youth organizations, can profitably use the technique described below. If you are a middle aged "worry wart," it can change your whole outlook.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-391: Mrs. H. S. Hollar is an active worker in the Girl Scouts at Anderson, Indiana.

"Dr. Crane," she said, "our Girl Scout Troop No. 251 wishes to join your Compliment Club.

DR. CRANE

"We want to use it in connection with our Hospitality Badge Work, so could you please have your office forward 12 copies?"

It was done and after the end of the 30-day Compliment Club project, Mrs. Hollar sent back 10 completed applications.

Of her 12 girls, 10 had faithfully finished the plan of offering honest praise to each of three different people every day for the full 30 days, without a break.

"The girls were very enthusiastic," Mrs. Hollar later informed me, "and they gained a rich experience from the daily thoughtfulness toward others."

PRACTICAL PSYCHOLOGY

In this daily column I offer you readers very practical advice on psychology as well as psychiatry.

The Compliment Club is one such example. It lends itself beautifully to Sunday Schools, as well as Camp Fire Girls, Scouts and public or parochial schools.

And you middle aged folks who are withdrawing from life or are magnifying your aches and pains till you become chronic "worry warts," can improve your mental health astoundingly by trying the Compliment Club.

For it is just a simple experiment in putting the Golden Rule into effective daily action.

Meanwhile, you turn your attention off your "innards," for you must focus on others in order to size them up for a merit or virtue on which to pay them a word of sincere praise.

And compliments are not flattery! Instead, they are evidences of sincere admiration for virtues that are really present and which merit commendation.

PRAISE ENEMIES

"But I dislike my boss," you may say, "so wouldn't it be insincere to praise him?"

Not at all! We doctors may dislike certain patients but that does not stop our using the latest scientific techniques in removing their appendix or tonsils!

Compliments are "tools" of psychology, just as scalpels are tools of surgery!

You can employ them on friend or foe with equal precision and success.

Oh, you may not like to praise an enemy. Indeed, you will often find it necessary to grit your teeth to do so.

But if you will brush the bias from your eyes, you will find that everybody has something good about him.

It may be an attractive hat, tie or suit, or a new frock. Or pretty teeth, a school girl complexion, artistic fingers or a melodious voice.

So pick out some virtue; then resolutely commend it, even if you must do so to an enemy.

Soon you will find that your supposed foe begins to look with pleasure on you, and ultimately he will pay you a compliment in return.

Before long, you will become real friends. If your ages and romantic conditions are favorable, you may actually fall in love with your former enemy.

Tomorrow I'll give you an actual case in point, but meanwhile send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It is widely used in colleges, too, to help students gain poise and more social assurance for public speaking.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Wally's 2nd Husband Simpson Dies at 62

LONDON (AP) — Ernest Simpson, who lost his wife to King Edward VIII, died Sunday after a long illness. He was 62.

Simpson was the second husband of Wallis Warfield, the duchess of Windsor, who divorced him in 1937 and then married Edward VIII after he abdicated.

A successful and wealthy shipping broker, Simpson kept out of the limelight after his divorce from "Wally" Simpson and refused offers of up to 100,000 pounds ($280,000) to publish his memoirs.

He had suffered from a throat ailment for more than a year and had been hospitalized two weeks ago. His fourth wife, the former Mrs. Avril Leveson-Gower, was with him when he died in London's Middlesex Hospital.

Ex-Cabinet Member to Be Buried Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP)—A private funeral service will be held Tuesday for Roy Owen West, secretary of the interior in 1928 and 1929 under Calvin Coolidge, and an elder statesman of the Republican party.

West died Saturday in Presbyterian Hospital after a long illness. He was 90.

Boy, 14, Admits Slaying Aunt

Stocky Eighth Grader Says He Had 'Sudden Urge' to Kill

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y. (AP) —A stocky eighth-grader has admitted the frenzied slaying of his 23-year-old aunt, mother of two children.

Police said Richard C. Mazziotti, 14, told them he killed Mrs. Mary Lou Wright, a slender brunette, "because of a sudden urge I can't explain."

The boy's father Novie Mazziotti, brother of the slain woman, found Mrs. Wright's body late Saturday night in her basement apartment, which showed signs of a terrific battle. Her children Robert Jr., 5, and Michael, 3, were asleep and unharmed.

Authorities said Richard had battered Mrs. Wright with a large soda bottle, a lamp, a power paint sprayer and a large jar with an electric cord. Then, they said, he stabbed her repeatedly with a carving knife and twisted the cord around her neck.

Mrs. Wright's husband Robert, 26, was on a weekend hunting trip. He is employed by the sanitation department of this Long Island community.

Richard was picked up Sunday at his home, which is close to the Wrights'. Police said they recovered his bloodstained clothes.

Richard was charged with juvenile delinquency because of his age, and was held for an arraignment today.

New Hospital Built in Shape of Circle

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI)—The first circular-shaped hospital in this section of the country will open here soon. Built at a cost of $1,500,000, it will be known as Brookline Hospital.

Advantages of a circular hospital include: Rooms will be shaped like pie wedges, providing maximum space around the patients bed; only two nurses' stations will be required on each floor; and no nurse will have to walk more than 50 feet to reach a patient's bedroom, compared with 80 to 90 feet in the conventional hospital.

8 Billion Meteors Hit Atmosphere Every 24 Hours

WASHINGTON — Some eight billion meteors enter the earth's atmosphere every 24 hours. The space travelers are pieces of matter, ranging in size from tiny grains to enormous bodies of metal and stone.

Most burn up in racing through the atmoshpere, and their dust sifts invisibly to earth. Occasionally large meteors strike the earth, in which case they are called meteorites. On very rare occasions they wreak enormous damage. A meteor that crashed into central Siberia in 1908 broke windows 50 miles away and leveled trees for about 15 miles around the place of impact.

State Holds Off Buying Autos

Protests New Policy Increasing Cost on Quantity Orders

LANSING (AP) — A moratorium on new car purchases in a dispute over auto maker pricing policies on quantity orders was declared today by State Controller James W. Miller.

Miller said the new policy would increase the cost per car to the State of Michigan an average of $544 a unit. The state purchases 400 to 600 cars annually.

The controller said the hold up was to allow time for the National Assn. of State Purchasing Officials to attempt dissuading auto companies from their new position on sales to state and local governments.

"The auto companies continue to give fleet prices to the federal government and other quantity purchasers of automobiles," Miller said.

"They have denied this treatment to the states and local governments, apparently because one or two states disposed of their surplus used cars in a manner that upset the local used car markets.

"Michigan always has been extremely careful to dispose of its used cars only through authorized dealers.

"It seems to me that penalizing the taxpayers of Michigan for the mistakes of purchasing departments in one or two other states is not fair."

Miller said he has ordered the State Motor Transport Division to hold up all bids on new cars until the purchasing officials association has presented its case to the manufacturers.

Byrd Supporting Ike in Drive on Spending

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) is preparing to give President Eisenhower some encouragement in budget-cutting activities with a fresh attack on nondefense spending.

Byrd, who will address a business group in Chicago Dec. 11, expects to document the contention that increases in civilian outlays are far outstripping stepped-up military spending.

The senator heads the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of non-essential Federal Expenditures. Studies by that committee show that while military spending jumped 699 million dollars in the first four months of the current fiscal year which began July 1, Agriculture Department outlays increased by 787 million dollars in the same period.

Eisenhower and Byrd were reported in close agreement on the need for some substantial cuts in civilian spending when they canvassed the financial situation together several months ago.

Byrd shares Eisenhower's view that there is grave danger of runaway inflation unless some drastic cuts are made in government spending.

Both the President and the Virginia senator were said to feel, however, that the world situation makes it difficult to pare defense expenditures. Instead of cuts, there have been indications that Eisenhower may have to ask for a billion-dollar increase above the current $40,800,000,000 level of defense spending.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon has predicted that the new Congress which preceded it and much more than the President and the administration feel should be appropriated."

In reply to this, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, assistant Democratic leader, predicted that Congress will cut Eisenhower's foreign aid request if the President asks for an additional billion in that field above the $3,300,000,000 available this year. Tentative plans to ask such an increase have been reported.

COMEBACK FOR THE OO-MING-MACK — The oo-ming-mack is no longer in danger of extermination. Better known as the musk ox (oo-ming-mack is the Eskimo word), the animal is on the increase in experimental herds in Alaska and Canada. A few years back, the much-hunted animal was believed to have found its last home in Greenland. Efforts to establish herds in northern Europe and Iceland have failed. One drawback remains. Neither the wool nor the meat have any commercial value.

Twin Nuclear Subs Named Lincoln, Lee

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — The illustrious names of Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee have been assigned to twin nuclear powered ballistic missile submarines now under construction, the Navy said Saturday.

One 100-million-dollar submarine is being built at the Portsmouth Shipyard and will be named Abraham Lincoln. It is expected to be launched in the spring of 1960.

A sister ship being constructed at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. will be called Robert E. Lee.

The Abraham Lincoln will be able to hurl the Polaris Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile on a target 1,500 miles away. Her displacement will approach twice that of the Nautilus, and the Navy said she'll "make the Nautilus look like a Model T."

Crystal Gazing Is Denied by British Royal Family

LONDON (AP)—The royal family has denied a newspaper story that Queen Mother Elizabeth has been getting tips on the future from an Irish crystal gazer.

The Sunday Pictorial said the soothsayer was Tom Crobett, 41, from Tipperary, who used to do his gazing in night clubs. The story said he regularly visited the Queen Mother's residence, Clarence House, to read the crystal ball for her.

The paper speculated that the 58-year-old Queen Mother wanted to know about Princess Margaret's future, particularly her marriage prospects.

". . .The story concerning the crystal gazer visiting Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother at Clarence House is untrue," said the denial from Buckingham Palace.

Royal denials formerly never were issued and still are extremely rare. The last was in May, when the palace denied that Princess Margaret would become engaged to Peter Townsend, the divorced air hero whose love she renounced in 1955.

Callers at Corbett's apartment in the Westminster section of London were told he was away and it was not known when he would return.

The Sunday Pictorial said he had refused to comment on the reported sessions with the Queen Mother or on hints that he has "an even more important client."

"Crystal gazers, like doctors, have a code of ethics," he was quoted as saying.

Douglas Warns South on Filibuster Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said recently public opinion would turn against the south if Dixie senators tried to talk to death his proposal to curb filibusters.

Douglas told newsmen there was an excellent chance the new Senate would change the rule which requires the "yea" vote of two-thirds of all senators to cut off debate. He forecast that if the filibuster were not curbed now, it would be eventually.

He said some senators who formerly opposed a limit on Senate talkathons now have switched to his proposal. He said a number of newly-elected senators also would vote for the proposed curb.

Empty-Handed Burglar Leaps Through Glass

DETROIT (AP) — A cut-up burglar has his f r e e d o m, and empty pockets.

Surprised by a watchman, the burglar escaped from a downtown department store yesterday by crashing through a plate glass window after taking nothing. Police said he doubtless cut himself.

Harold Kretschmer, 47, of East Detroit, the watchman, said the man fled down a stairway from the second floor and leaped through a big window facing on the street.

Learn How in 3-Week Diet Series

Teeners Can Have Clear Skin, Fine Figure, Health

TEENAGERS: Ruth West's latest diet book, the only one ever written especially for teenagers, is just off the press, and here is the start of a three-week series condensing it for you. If you want to be slim and stay slim and to enjoy health and a clear complexion you should not miss a single installment. The book has been approved by some of the outstanding authorities in this field.

By RUTH WEST

Have you tried dieting and decided you're the only one in the world with your set of problems?

Cheer up. Here are some questions and answers that will make you feel better:

"Am I somehow different?"

No. The fact is you're an American and very much like three out of five other Americans — overweight. We're the second fattest nation in the world, and our fat is our No. 1 national health problem.

At some time in his life, practically every American has to fight fat. Most of your friends who aren't overweight now, will be, sooner or later. So, if you learn how to lick it now, you're ahead!

TIMES CHANGE

"Why are we fat?"

Well, think for a moment how living has changed in less than a hundred years. From horses and buggies to jets.

As machines move faster, you move less. You spend hours sitting at a desk, in the library, in classes, watching TV, doing homework. Chances are you ride, not walk, most places you're going.

But our cookery, our recipes are still the recipes of America's strenuous early days, when people walked, worked physically from before dawn to dark, only sat down at mealtimes and a little while before they went to bed.

We grew up as a nation of pioneers on fatty, starchy food.

You and I are caught in the middle of what the sociologists call "a cultural lag"! Because nobody has given them new patterns, our mothers are still following the recipes and cooking procedures of their mothers.

However, at clinics, in hospitals, and in universities such as Harvard, Cornell and Minnesota, the younger people studying this subject are changing all this. But until cookbooks and cookery are updated, you're going to have to take special measures to help yourself.

WHOSE FAULT?

"Is it my family's fault?"

It's nobody's "fault"! But—is your mother a wonderful cook? Does she love to fix you special sweet treats? Did she used to get upset when you didn't clean your plate, finish your milk?

Are one or both of your parents overweight? Then probably their parents were, too. Were they?

If you've answered "yes" to all these questions, it only means that your family circumstances (as well as the country you were born in) tend to encourage habits of overeating.

"Is there a clue in my past?"

Almost certainly. Try to look at your life, your family's life, your own attitudes, as objectively as though you were a psychologists. The first thing you'd do would be to try to discover any special emotional factors that might lie behind the overweight.

What irks you? At school . . . in your relationship to your brothers and sisters . . . in your relationship to the parents? Watch for the occasions when you go on eating "benders" (like exam time, or when you and your best friend quarrel) and see if they give you a clue to the kind of specific "intolerable" situation that sets you off

Doctors say that a young person will usually give far more honest and intelligent answers than an adult to the question, "Why do you overeat?" And this important self-exploration is a therapy in itself—a step toward a cure.

What qualities will help you most to lick overweight? "The same qualities that are of most help to an adult," says Ann Delafield. "A good healthy vanity and a high IQ."

(Condensed from "The Teenage Diet Book" copyright 1958, by Ruth West, published by Julian Messner, Inc.)

Tomorrow: How to start..

FIVE TABLE TRICKS FOR TEENS

1. An hour before dinner, fill up on your favorite decalorized soft drink.
2. Place a mirror so that you can see yourself eat. Also put a clock on the table and time your bites. Try chewing more slowly and longer. Dr-a-ag a meal out for at least 30 to 40 minutes. Fat people eat too fast.
3. Eating alone? Play records, look at TV, read a book. Anything to slow yourself down.
4. Eat your soup with a teaspoon. (Takes longer.)
5. Save your dessert and have it an hour after the meal. Tell the child within you that it will taste better a little later. It will!

She watched her diet. You can watch yours, too. Follow this series beginning in today's Pontiac Press.

You May Celebrate Holiday

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband died quite suddenly two weeks ago and I dread the thought of the coming Christmas season as I know it will be a very unhappy time for me. However, my children are too young to realize the tragedy of their father's death and are looking forward eagerly to Christmas. For their sakes, I would like to make it as gay as possible.

"Will you please tell me how far I can go without being thought heartless by my friends? In other words, would it be proper to have a Christmas tree, exchange presents, etc.?"

Answer: Certainly you may have a Christmas tree for the children and exchange presents and make it just as gay as you can for them. It would be very unfair to them to spoil their Christmas because of your own unhappiness, and I am sure everyone will understand why you are doing it. You would naturally not give any parties for your own friends.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married soon and, although he has many friends, he wants his fourteen-year-old brother to be best man. I think he is too young. What is your opinion?"

Answer: Unless the boy looks several years older than he is, I agree with you he is too young.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend and I had lunch together the other day and we both ordered a fresh fruit salad. It was served in a dish lined with lettuce. My friend ate hers with a spoon, while I ate mine with a fork. Who was right?"

Answer: You were.

The annual bazaar will be held at First Congregational Church Thursday. Displaying some of the articles to be featured are (left to right) Mrs. L. C. Barner, Mrs. Charles H. Hawn and Mrs. W. W. Edwards.

St. John Church Slates Bazaar, Penny Supper

St. John Lutheran Church will hold its annual bazaar Thursday. Luncheon will be served from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., with a penny supper from 5 to 7 p.m. Coffee will be served all afternoon.

Chairmen for the affair are Mrs. John Fillipi, baked goods, and Mrs. Hans Michkelsen, kitchen. Mrs. Thomas Casey is serving on the kitchen committee.

New Trend in U.S.

Switching of Homes Creates Problems

Have you noticed?

We, the great American consumers, are demonstrating the most insatiable desire to boost our living standards that perhaps has ever been seen.

Strongest of all perhaps is the current desire to upgrade our dwellings. This is posing a sticky problem for mortgage men, builders and realtors alike. They call it the trade-in house problem and the current higher mortgage rates have little to do with the situation.

Contrary to tradition, an increasing number of families are becoming home-switching minded. There are several reasons for this. The trek to suburbia, exurbia or back into the city is a factor. There is a definite trend toward larger families. Finally, the most frequent reason for home switching is to upgrade.

Ten years ago the returning veteran had little to choose from in the way of a home. He was lucky to find a $20,000 house. He got an $18,000 mortgage. He settled for any neighborhood.

CAN AFFORD CHANGE

Today, he can afford a $35,000 house in a locale of his choice. He has knocked $5,000 off his original mortgage and discovered his $20,000 house is now worth $25,000.

A check with the Internal Revenue Service assures him that if he buys another house within a year, tagged at $25,000 or more, he has no capital gains tax to pay on his $5,000 profit. What's stopping him from buying the new home?

What is stopping him is the $12,000 equity on his old dwelling that he needs in order to swing the new purchase—$12,000 he can't put his hands on until he sells his old house.

To a certain extent he can be aided by his banker. Banks, active in the mortgage field, report that in such instances they have sometimes upped a client's mortgage on his old house back to the original figure in order to help him accumulate sufficient cash to buy another home before selling his first house.

In some instances the FHA has tried to help. If a builder or realtor will buy a client's old house, the FHA might allow that builder or realtor more liberal mortgage terms than usual, provided the builder or realtor can satisfy the government agency of his reliability and his program for renovating the older dwelling. Such arrangements, however, have not been frequent.

2-HOME NIGHTMARE

Not by a long shot have these assists obliterated the nightmare of simultaneously owning two houses. A friend recently confessed that after upping the mortgage on his old house, he lost heart and spent his cash remodeling rather than risking the prospect of owning two homes.

Countless realtors and builders are convinced they have lost sales because clients are unwilling to gamble on selling their old abodes. They are hard at work on possible solutions.

Older homes, like popular priced apparel and the stripped model car, are hard to sell. Today's buyer is discerning. He wants what he wants and though he may fret over price, he usually pays.

Institute Reports Busy Year

Robert T. Hatt, director of Cranbrook Institute of Science reports the institute had an especially active year this year with an increased load of community service.

Employed part time as curator of education to meet the new demand was James A. Fowler.

Robert C. McMath replaced L. James Bulkley, who died in June, as chairman of the board of trustees. Re-elected to the board were Fred L. Black, Douglas Dow, H. Lynn Pierson and Chester B. Slawson.

Dear Abby . .

Voices Buzz Like Angry Bees Over Sack, Chemise, Trapeze

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: Thank heavens somebody had the nerve to say something about the ridiculous new styles we women are being forced into buying. I bought a new outfit and when I put it on to go out my husband took one look at me and said I looked like Cinderella's stepsister with my rococo buckles, pointed shoes and balloon skirted-dress. (He was right, too!)

"He told me if I didn't take it off and put on something sensible he wouldn't take me out. But what are we women supposed to do when we want a new outfit that LOOKS new?"

STUMPED

"DEAR ABBY: Our Women's Club met last week and there were about 100 women there. I counted only four women in the chemise, trapeze and sack dresses. Three were pregnant and the other one I am not sure about. I don't think the American women are falling for those silly fashions."

"DEAR ABBY: What kind of a stunt do you think the fashion experts are trying to pull on the American women? I went into one of the most exclusive dress shops in town to buy a new dress. The saleslady showed me one horrible shapeless dress after the other, but she herself was wearing a stunning tight-fitting sheath. Naturally, I bought nothing, but went home and got out last year's dress."

NO FOOL

"DEAR ABBY: I work for a large concern which employs many females. Most girls who wear the sack type dresses look positively terrible and the few who look good in them would look much better in something else."

ONE MAN'S OPINION

ESTHER

"DEAR ABBY: Since you had the courage to come out and declare yourself anti-new styles, why don't you organize a club for all the women who feel the same way? There's strength in numbers and maybe we can get the fashion dictators to wake up and put something on the market that will make us look like women again. We could call it the W.W.F.S. (WON'T WEAR FREAKISH STYLES) and simply refuse to buy any thing that is not becoming to us. How about it, Abby?"

RUTH A.

DEAR RUTH: Wonderful idea! Any woman wishing to protest the new styles is eligible to join Abby's W.W.F.S. postcard with your name (or initials) and you automatically become a member.

Use Yellow Cake Mix for Holiday Loaves

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We found the following fruit cake recipe in our letter file. Mrs. Maude S. Martin of Metamora had sent it to us almost a year ago, too late for the 1957 holiday season. Here it is, in time for the 1958 festivities.

Mrs. Martin uses packaged yellow cake mix as the basis for her fruit cake. She says it keeps several months if foil-wrapped and refrigerated; or several weeks on the pantry shelf in an air-tight box.

GOLDEN FRUIT CAKE

By Mrs. Maude S. Martin

½ cup flour
1 pound chopped candied fruit
¾ pound raisins
1½ cups nuts, coarsely broken
1 cup dates, cut in large pieces
¼ pound candied cherries, cut in halves
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 package yellow cake mix
½ cup milk
¼ cup orange juice
3 eggs

Coat fruit and nuts with flour in large bowl. Add grated rinds. Prepare cake mix, using ½ cup milk, ¼ cup orange juice and the eggs for the liquid. Blend one minute; beat 4 minutes. Pour batter into fruit. Mix well.

Turn into two 9x5 pans which have been well greased and lined with waxed paper. Set pan of hot water on bottom rack of oven. Bake cakes on rack above at 325 degrees for 70-80 minutes.

Cakes are done when wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool thoroughly; remove from pans. Wrap tightly to keep moist.

Relieve Child's Fear of Your Rejection

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. E. writes, "Though I haven't lived with my husband for years, I always speak kindly of him to our 6-year-old boy. Recently the child found out about my divorce. Since then he gets very upset if I go out at night, complaining of nightmares and ghosts. I don't understand. . ."

Do you remember anything of what it was like being six years old, Mrs. E?

It was a dreamy time. We ate the food we were served, wore the clothes we were given, felt astonishment but not real curiosity on a birthday morning when we saw the shiny new doll carriage. We accepted, questioning little. Mrs. E. For we were children and trusted everything that the grown-ups we called Mother and Daddy did.

Now suppose that you, in this state of trustfulness suddenly "found out" that your mother had divorced your father? That she'd not only got rid of this person she spoke so "kindly" about — but had kept this final abandonment a secret from you?

Would you have been pleased when she went out at night? Been able to lull yourself peacefully to sleep?

I think not, Mrs. E. I think your dreamy world of childhood would suddenly have become filled with menace instead of trust. You wouldn't know what to do about the mother who spoke so kindly about the Daddy she'd been rid of.

You would have been scared to death that, despite her kind words to you, she might any minute take it into her unreliable head to get rid of you, and divorce you as she had divorced your Daddy.

You would not express this fear to her lest it make her angry — and precipitate the very desertion you dreaded. So you'd start to express it in complaints of nightmares and ghosts to make your need of comfort sound inoffensive and appealing.

The comfort is this, Mrs. E.: "Mothers don't leave children. Sometimes they leave Daddies. But this is only because Daddies are grownup and can take care of themselves.

"Children like you can't care for themselves. So mothers don't leave them. If they ever have to go out, they always come back."

I hope that these words your littl boy needs to hear have already occurred to you.

Marjorie Stuk Becomes Bride of Daniel Siegman

Wearing a floor length gown of taffeta, Marjorie Stuk became the bride of Daniel L. Siegman Saturday morning at St. Michael Church.

Parents of the couple are Walter J. Stuk of Richwood street and Mrs. Helen Siegman of Waterford.

The bride's gown featured a scoop neckline outlined with iridescent sequins. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins and she carried a bouquet of white calla lilies.

Annabell Vaverek was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Horace Horton of Davisburg and Mrs. Jeanette Larson.

They wore ballerina length, princess style dresses of apricot colored peau de soie. Their flowers were burnt orange pompons.

Michael Siegman was best man. Ushers were Ronald Bartell and Richard Gorman, both of Waterford.

An evening reception was held at VFW Hall. Before the couple left for a honeymoon to San Francisco, Calif., the bride changed to a navy blue wool dress with matching accessories. The couple will live in Waterford.

Mrs. Siegman wore a brown princess dress with beige accessories for the wedding.

Blouse Styling Accents Shift, Empire Design

Today's relaxed line in women's fashions has given a new look and a wider scope to that fashion staple of the working girl—the blouse. This year, the important shape in blouses is the shift.

This line follows the body but stands away from it like a shadow. The Empire line, also popular, is defined by a tiny drawstring or band just underneath the bustline.

The adaptation of these flattering new silhouettes should provide a happy solution to the perennial problem of what to wear to the office that is also appropriate for an after-five date.

Fashion Hint

The shaped stole in fringed wool jersey is a sound fashion buy for the girl who freezes all winter long. It's back in great style this winter.

Try a New Lip Shade for a Lift

Some women are devoted to a certain lipstick shade. By experimentation, they have found that it's the shade that does the most for them.

So they wear it year after year, comfortable in the knowledge that it is flattering.

And they fail to find out that trying out a new shade, even if they don't stay with it, can be a real lift to the spirits.

It's something like buying a new hat or trying out a new hairdo. It will bring comments for good or bad which show that people notice what you wear.

Three Likely Ages

Stress May Bring Mental Illness

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

During my interview in Vienna this summer with Professor Doctor Hans Hoff, famous psychiatrist and New President of the World Federation for Mental Health, I asked him why some people become victims of mental confusion or disease while others do not. I wanted to know what some of the factors are which lead to this condition.

Of course there are many and I will mention only a few today. In the first place, the individual's natural equipment plays an important part. In other words some persons are just naturally tougher or better balanced emotionally. They are able to "take" more.

However, the triggering factor is also of the greatest import. Even those who are of less tough fibre may go along forever unless there is a triggering factor.

A great grief may hit them, or some drastic change in their circumstances may occur, or the last of a long series of the blows from fate may send them into deep depression. This is much more apt to happen to the individual who has a strong sense of insecurity.

It is interesting to know that the time of life when this triggering occurs is also important. The times when pressure and strain are most likely to prove too much are at teen-age, middle age (50-60) and in old age. The same pressures, occurring at some other time in life, might not have the same effect.

Middle age (50-60) is one of the pressure periods of life and one should carefully guard his or her mental health during this time.

CONFUSED TIME

We can readily see why this is true. Teen-age is a time of confusion anyway. The young man or young woman is growing rapidly and is meeting new situations constantly. He or she is on the bridge between childhood and maturity. Along with their great need for love and a feeling of security and help, there is also a tremendous urge toward independence and a dislike of guidance.

At middle age a woman may lose her sense of personal identity when her children leave home and she has lots of leisure time. She may become depressed. At this age she may also experience some strain from menopause. However, change of life has nothing to do with insanity.

This is the age when a man looks back long enough to evaluate his accomplishments and happiness. He may feel frustrated because time is running out and his plans and dreams have not materialized. He also probably has some of the minor physical trouble which many middle-aged folks have. He may begin to dread retirement.

Of course we all know about old age; energy has lessened greatly, the arteries have hardened to some extent, and most of all, usually the whole environment and situation in life is different.

RULES

What are the rules? Well, it seems to me that there are a few vital things to remember. In the first place, it is just as important that we take care of and develop good mental or emotional health as physical health. We should try to break the worry habit and develop a sense of humor. We should take care of our emotional health at middle age in order to prepare for old age.

Maybe most of all, we must keep a sense of personal identity. It is not good to live through others alone. If you do not lose sight of yourself as an individual through the middle years, you probably will develop many personal interests and activities which will stand you in good stead later on.

Also recognize the three times of strain and take it a little easy during these times.

Your Children Can Be Embarrassed Too

By RUTH MILLETT

It's just as easy for parents to embarrass their children as for children to embarrass their parents.

So remember:

Not to call a small boy by an endearing name in front of his friends—if you don't want to make him squirm and wish you wouldn't.

Not to talk about how terrible today's teenagers are in front of your own teenager and his contemporaries. You're not including them, of course, but they'll feel on the defensive just the same.

Not to repeat the confidences of your child when talking to your own friends. There's always the possibility they'll repeat what you've said to their children. The conversation may get back to your own child, and he will feel that you have betrayed his confidence.

To keep your voice low and quiet when you are correcting your child and the playmates he has brought home with him. Any child is embarrassed to have his mother scream at him or lose her temper or bawl out his friends.

To keep your promises to your child. After he has bragged that you are going to let him do a certain thing, he loses face if he has to say you've changed your mind. If you aren't sure in the first place, say so and give yourself time to make up your mind.

To refrain from discussing your child in front of him—whether you are talking about his good qualities or his failings. Either will embarrass him and you'll be lucky if he doesn't start in to show off or act rude and embarrass you.

Don't criticize your teenager in front of others. If you want to correct his grammar, his manners, or comment on the fact that he needs a hair cut get him alone to have your say.

Mexicans Disobey Call to Whistle

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexicans mostly ignored Communist pleas for derisive whistles to greet U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on his arrival for the inauguration of Adolfo Lopez Mateos as Mexico's 57th president.

Dulles arrived Sunday at the head of a 16-member delegation. Among the others are President Eisenhower's brother Milton and Gen. Curtis LeMay, deputy chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force.

The Communists had asked all Mexicans to whistle—an expression of derision in Mexico—whenever Dulles appeared. But the only whistlers at the heavily guarded airport were a group of youngsters on top of a building. Others cheered as the U.S. military air transport landed.

Milton Eisenhower said he brought special messages from his brother to Lopez Mateos and outgoing President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines. President Eisenhower, he said, "desires fuller, more sincere and closer relations with Mexico."

John Wayne Wins Tough Battle of Natchez

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NATCHEZ, Miss — It could have been the war between the states all over again, when John Wayne and William Holden hit Natchez.

This ante-bellum town was bellicose indeed at the idea of so-called "celebrities" shooting a film here.

They had had their experiences with Hollywood, suh, and they didn't go for that jazz. Not long ago an unserene "sirene" named Elizabeth Taylor, and a high 'n mighty Cliff called Montgomery had moved into Natchez to make "Raintree County."

They were booed out of town.

Now along came Wayne and Holden, with their temperamental genius director John Ford, to disturb the tranquility and give the back of their ballpoints to the local shavers with autographs books. They brought also a few hundred horses and riders, a mobile catering unit with their own food. And a technical staff of maybe 60 in Truman-type sport shirts.

"It could've been," as one local man put it, "the carpetbaggers all over again."

Then a sort of miracle happened. This large, lumbering gent name John (Duke) Wayne — the only man out of Hollywood who can cuddle a horse as lesser men cuddle girls — began signing autographs. All the tykes in town loved him, he'd get caught stepping out of a car, and he'd use the roof of the car as a writing table, for endless signatures — accompanied by big grins — for the kids.

At one autographing session, in which dozens clammored outside his room at the Belle Mont Motel, a more blase hollywood aide snarled, "This is getting sticky. You'd think these kids' have something better to do."

Duke withered him. "It's better than slicing tires, bud," he said.

Despite his gruff manner and exalted status (Hell, I've been a star for 30 years") Wayne has a soft streak. It runs down the middle where it doesn't show often. Just sneaks out from under the quips and bluster when he's tired.

He is very tired at this moment. Having led battalions of soldiers through swamps and jungles from dawn to sundown for weeks, for his new film "The Horse Soldiers," he groans at a 10-minute break. Co-producer Marty Rackin asks how he'd like his coffee. "Black as heart," Duke says and adds "How about a friendship stick?" He explains that to professional cigarette-bummers, this is a smoke.

Equipped with caffeine and nicotine, he settles down to discussing wearily how he feels about movies.

"The greatest are the westerns. This, being a Civil War movie, is a western in blue uniforms. But you know the reason they're the greatest? Because above all movies need action, and the greatest medium for action is a horse.

"A train gives you a feeling of power. A plane gives you a feeling of speed. But a horse is pure action."

"There's another thing. In a western there's no phoniness. Cowboys — and soldiers — have simple basic reactions. They look at somebody they love like they loved 'em, and somebody they hate like they hate 'em, and people with normal healthy reactions can feel that.

"They're honest. You can't fool around with 'em. Can't kid 'em. The public subconsciously knows if you do, and feels cheated. It's like kidding your mother and father, and you don't like it."

Thugs Terrorize Windsor Family

2 Hooded Men Beat Up Father of 4, Take $6,300 From Home

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Two armed and hooded robbers terrorized a Windsor family in stealing $6,300 in a weekend holdup.

Nicholas Stumpilich, 39, father of four children, was beaten with a blackjack after he had seized a shotgun from one of the men.

The two robbers, wearing hoods with eye-slits, entered the home while the family was celebrating the 17th wedding enniversary of Stumpilich, a sausage factory owner, and his wife, Helene.

Stumpilich said the shotgun discharged as he wrestled for it. No one was harmed by the shot.

He got the gun away, Stumpilich said, but then was beaten on the head by the other man with the blackjack and forced to give up two money bags.

Stumpilich needed 14 stitches for his head wounds.

Race-Betting Tax Up

NEW YORK — A record $216,700,000 in taxes was collected in 1957 off horse-race-betting operations in 23 states, nearly 5 percent higher than the year before, the National Association of State Racing Commissioners reports. About 1½ percent of all State tax revenue in 195 came from horse-race levies.

Husband Being Held in Fatal Stabbing

DETROIT (AP) — A husband was held for murder and his wife as a material witness today in the weekend slaying of a seaman in their apartment home.

Detective Paul Montgomery of the Police Homicide Department said Melvin E. Collins, 28, admitted stabbing Clarence Swykert, 31, to death upon finding Swykert with Mrs. Jenny Collins, 22, early yesterday. Swykert had no permanent address.

Collins, employed as a meat cutter in a market, said he found the two together in the apartment and that a fight resulted. Swykert was stabbed several times in the chest with a boning knife.

IN TUNE FOR TOUR — Joel Beam of Milford and Kathy Olmstead of West Bloomfield are getting set for a summer tour of Europe as part of a 75-member senior-pupil singing group flying from New York to Amsterdam, Holland, June 26. Communities throughout southern Michigan are represented in the group.

75 Young Singers Prepare for Europe Concert Tour

Seventy-five young singers from various townships in southern Michigan are getting set to present concerts in Europe during a two-month tour next summer.

Included in the group are Joel Beam of Milford and Kathy Olmstead of West Bloomfield Township.

Under the direction of University of Michigan's Musical Society Conductor Lester McCoy, senior high school pupils with outstanding musical ability are attending two-hour practice sessions each Saturday night at Ann Arbor in preparation for the tour which begins June 26.

Supported by the Michigan Council of Churches, schools, communities and scholarships from special sources, this will be the second year Michigan will send a young people's singing group to Europe.

The group will present all types of music in scheduled concerts throughout Ireland, England, Germany, Denmark and Holland.

Each of the 35 numbers to be presented will be memorized and include Catholic, Protestant and Jewish sacred music. Some American show hits are also among the selections now being rehearsed.

The youths will live as guests for one-week periods in private homes, and will attend the Salsburg Music Festival in Austria during the summer. They will be accompanied by 10 adult chaperons.

The pupils were selected from more than 200 applicants. Each was required to present a written biography of their life, have a good scholastic record, and was thoroughly screened according to personal adaptability.

Before leaving the United States, the good will singing ambassadors will present several concerts locally in the spring. A string quartet and a brass sextet will also accompany the group on the tour.

Boldin-Wade Ceremony at White Lake Saturday

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Carole Sue Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wade of 2082 Kingston Dr., became the wife of Charles Donald Boldin Saturday at a noon ceremony at St. Patrick Catholic Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Boldin of 2260 Kingston Dr. His uncle, the Rev. John A. Mailhot of Wisconsin, officiated.

The bridal gown was floor-length white lace and tulle over satin with a round neck trimmed in sequins. A veil of French illusion was held by a seed pearl tiara. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book with stephanotis attached to ribbon streamers.

Judy Wade, sister of the bride, of Pontiac Lake, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Anne Thorp and Judy Hackney, both of Pontiac Lake. Mary Lynn Wade, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

Best man was Gerald Smolarek of Hamtramck. Jack Schoonfield of Detroit and Martin Caspers and James Wade, both of Pontiac Lake, were ushers. David Wade, brother of the bride, was the ringbearer.

The breakfast was held at the Northwood Inn for 40 guests. Maplewood Club House was the site of the reception for 350 guests.

Following their honeymoon in Niagara Falls, the couple will live at 1761 Cass Lake Rd.

Area Newlyweds Taking West Coast Honeymoon

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Honeymooning in San Francisco and Palm Springs, Calif. this week are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Willard Myers who were married by the Rev. G. Bartol at Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake.

The bride, the former Mary Gail Gallivan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Gallivan of 2460 Union Lake Rd., Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Myers of Jackson.

The floor-length bridal gown was fashioned in a princess style of white satin with re-embridered Alencon lace. The back fell in unpressed pleats. A seed pearl crown held a finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. John McInnis was the matron of hopor and bridesmaids were: Mrs. R. George of Jackson, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. J. Fenske of Pontiac and Beatrice Lawhorn of Detroit.

Best man was Maurice Noel of Detroit. John Myers, brother of the bridegroom of Jackson, Dr. Ralph Keller of Williamston and Joseph Conely of Jackson seated the 300 guests.

The reception followed the noon ceremony at Morey's Golf and Country Club, Union Lake.

The bride is a graduate of Marygrove College, Detroit, and the bridegroom was graduated from the University of Detroit. They will reside in Detroit.

MRS. DONALD MYERS

Greater Snow Goose Comes From Arctic

WASHINGTON — The greater snow goose, whose scientific name hyperborea means "beyond the north wind," flies once a year from Arctic islands to salt marshes of the mid-Atlantic coast.

The entire population of greater snows always takes the same route down the Atlantic flyway, the National Geographic Society says. The first landfall is a preserve at St. Joachim on the St. Lawrence River in Quebec. The geese feed there until all their numbers are assembled.

Then, as freezing waters force them out, they take to the sky in high, ragged ballet lines of flight. Their graceful white bodies, offset by jet-black wing tips, drive southward ahead of winter storms to the music of melodious honking.

Big Snow Goose Firm Believer in Monogamy

WASHINGTON—The huge greater snow goose mates for life; the ganders are fiercely protective. Langdon Gibson, ornithologist on a Peary expedition to Greenland in 1891-92, wrote of unwittingly killing a nesting female. He left the gander to cope with six goslings.

"When again passing through the valley," Gibson reported, "I was happy to see the male proudly marching at the head of his family of six, at least 10 miles from the nest."

Barring accident, the mothers and young remain at inland lakes until the goslings can swim and dive well. Then they all take to the sea. In the moulting season, however, the geese again retire to remote, isolated lakes while their flight feathers are renewed for the migration.

Brickworks Automatic

ILANDA, Sweden — A fully automatic brickworks, designed and built by Swedes, is now in operation at Ilanda, near Stockholm. Not a single brick is touched by human hands, and even the drying laths are laid automatically before the brick load passes into the firing kiln. When the bricks emerge from the drying furnace they are carried away and piled neatly, all automatically.

Your PTA Is Planning

Joint Meeting and Dinner

The following are highlights of area Parent Teacher Assn. meetings scheduled for this week.

Rochester

The third annual Family Pot Luck Dinner will be held Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Baldwin School, according to Mrs. Walter Reuther, president of the Baldwin PTA.

Attending the dinner will be parents, teachers and the students. Mrs. Loretta Ferguson and Mrs. Maryanne Ayres are co-chairmen of the planning committee.

Orion Township

A joint meeting of the Lake Orion Community High School PTSA, the Lake Orion Junior High School PTA and the Blanche Sims Elementary School PTA will be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the Sims School cafeteria.

A. A. Reed, superintendent of Orion Township schools, will be the moderator of a discussion designed to acquaint parents, teachers, students and interested area residents with the problems and strengths of the local schools and Michigan's educational system.

Mrs. Stuart Drahner is general chairman of the meeting.

Those attending will have the opportunity to fill out an opinionaire concerning a study of Michigan schools which PTAs throughout the state are conducting.

Ruth Ann Johnson Weds Carl R. McClure at Novi

NOVI—Baskets of white gladioli and mums decorated the altar of the Novi Methodist Church for the wedding of Ruth Ann Johnson and Carl R. McClure.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson of Novi road. Mr. and Mrs. Vester McClure of Endwell St., Walled Lake are the bridegroom's parents.

For the candlelight ceremony the bride chose a gown of blush pink bridal satin under white nylon tulle. The floor length overskirt covered a second skirt of pleats which was appliqued with blush pink flowers.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of stephanotis and white orchids.

Margaret Wixom, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were June McClure, Betty Lipke, and Mary MacDermaid, all of Walled Lake and Marian Dailey of Farmington.

Best man was Wayne McClure, brother of the bridegroom. Seating the 100 guests were LeRoy Wixom, Charles Burchim, Gerald Stoddard and Morey Lipke.

The couple will reside at 303 Duana St., Walled Lake.

MRS. CARL R. McCLURE

Culver Club Honoring Gen. Spivey at Dinner

The Culver Club of Greater Detroit will honor Maj. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (ret.), superintendent of the Culver Military Academy, at a dinner Thursday in Detroit.

Dr. Luther R. Leader, of Bloomfield Hills, has arranged the dinner to be held at the "Stockholm," 1014 E. Jefferson Ave., along with Leonard V. Pylkos, president of the Culver Club.

Gen. Spivey will speak on "Culver's Preparation for Leadership."

Army Library Serves

WASHINGTON — The Army's world-wide library service has 148 main libraries at military installations and 189 branches. During 1957 the service rolled up a 25,000,000 circulation figure.

Plan Open House in Holly to Fete Newlyweds

HOLLY — Open house will be held Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Martin Weaver of 12435 Fish Lake Rd., who were married Nov. 8.

The bride is the former Betty Elnora Eaton, daughter of Mrs. David Lowe of White Lake and the late Ross Eaton.

Mrs. Milton Weaver of Holly and the late Milton Weaver are the bridegroom's parents.

The party, from 2 to 6 p.m. will be held at the home of the bridegroom's mother, at 12435 Fish Lake Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carey of Drayton Plains were best man and matron of honor at the wedding in which the Rev. William Lankton of the First Presbyterian Church officiated.

Marines Are Warned of Green Hair Danger

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — U. S. Marines at this training camp have been warned about the danger of green hair.

The camp special service office said the high concentration of chlorine in camp swimming pools could turn brown or blond hair green.

Lakeville Man Hurt Badly in Auto Mishap

ROMEO — A Lakeville man was seriously injured yesterday afternoon when his car slid on slippery pavement and hit a tree on West St. Clair street just west of the Romeo Village limits.

Lewis A. Myres, 31 of 431 Rochester Rd., was listed in "critical" condition at St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens.

Romeo State Police said Myres, who was alone in the car, suffered serious chest injuries and broken ribs.

Cattle Egrets Migrate From Asia to America

WASHINGTON — Cattle egrets, natives of Asia, Africa, and southern Europe, may be the only birds within historic times to have emigrated to the American mainland without human aid. They are believed to have been helped by winds across the 1,770 miles of ocean between Africa and South America.

Establishing a new home in British Guiana and Surinan, they spread to the United States and have now colonized the southeastern seaboard. Individuals have ventured as far north as Newfoundland.

Big Land, Few People

OTTAWA — Although Canada has a land area of 3,846,000 square miles and is the second largest country on earth (Russia is the largest), Canada's population of about 17,000,000 scarcely exceeds New York State's.

Surrenders Pants Fast

ROYAL, Neb. (AP) — John Gilroy's pants leg got caught in the pulley of a hoist he was operating and he quickly surmised that if he didn't free himself, he would be drawn into the hoist. He got out of his difficulty by getting out of his pants, which went fluttering up the hoist without him.

Take Trip West After Wedding

UNION LAKE — Honeymooning in Los Angeles, Calif., this week are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas C. Frazier following their wedding at Trinity Methodist Church, Keego Harbor.

The bride, the former Betty Norraine Baylis, is the daughter of Mr. and Ms. Merle Baylis of 1536 Malcom St. Mr. and Mrs. William Frazier of Paddock street, Pontiac, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Robert H. Benedict officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

A ballerina-length white lace and taffeta dress with a scoop neckline was worn by the bride. The fingertip veil was trimmed with seed pearls. A corsage of white roses was attached to her wrist.

Mrs. James Faust, of Pontiac was matron of honor and her husband was best man. Robert Kugler and David Terry, both of Pontiac, seated the 50 guests.

The bridegroom is stationed in Port Hueneme, Calif., with the Sea Bees.

TB High in City Areas

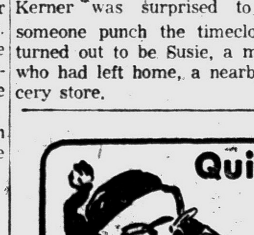

GENEVA — World Health Organization studies show that in the urban centers of the world's underdeveloped areas there are four times as many tuberculosis victims as in the cities of Western countries.

Strike Continues at Booth Papers

Tieup in 9 Cities Enters 8th Day; Negotiations Not Scheduled

DETROIT (AP) — A printers strike against the nine Michigan daily newspapers of Booth Newspapers, Inc., entered its eighth day today.

No negotiations were scheduled. However, federal and state mediators continued efforts to bring together management and the striking International Typographical Union.

The union's 500 printers at nine papers in eight cities went on strike last Monday in a contract dispute.

ITU officials met privately yesterday in Lansing. Carl Linder, ITU international representative from Des Moines, said the union wanted to "take a new look at the situation."

Linder expressed willingness to meet with the publishers. He did not say whether the union had changed its position.

Earlier, the publishers said no arrangements had been made for a resumption of negotiations. The negotiations were broken off just before the strike.

Union and management agreed that they were about 15 cents apart in hourly wage and fringe benefit proposals.

The ITU asked a 13 cents an hour increase on a one-year contract or 15 cents and 10 cents on each year of a two-year contract. The publishers would assume all fringe costs except for pensions.

Booth said it offered nine and 10 cents on a two-year contract. A spokesman said the difference on wage proposals was six cents and nine cents an hour on fringes.

The publisher spokesman also said the union made a "wasteful and very costly" demand with regard to a printing reset procedure.

Reset is a printer term usually applied to the setting of type for advertisements which come to the paper fully prepared for printing.

Booth's spokesman said the present printer hourly wage is $3.17 at the Flint and Grand Rapids papers and $3.12 at the papers in the other six cities. He said this is 12 to 17 cents above the wages at comparable cities throughout the country.

Shut down in the strike have been the Grand Rapids Herald and Press, the former a morning newspaper, and the Bay City Times, Saginaw News, Flint Journal, Jackson Citizen Patriot, Ann Arbor News, Muskegon Chronicle and Kalamazoo Gazette.

Bridge Master Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Charles A. Hall, about 65, of Cincinnati, a director of the American Contract Bridge League, died of a heart attack yesterday at the fall championships. Hall had the rating of a life master in the game.

Red Chinese Again Firing on Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Communists peppered Quemoy with a light token shelling today, resuming their odd-day firing.

Nationalist defense headquarters said 23 shells landed on the offshore island group before daybreak and sporadic shelling continued after dawn.

The Nationalists took advantage of the silenced Communist guns Sunday to send a large supply convoy to Quemoy. The supply vessels unloaded their cargo without interruption.

In Taipei, the U.S. defense command said it had no knowledge of alleged intrusion by American jet planes into Red China's air space.

The Communists charged that two F104 Starfighters trespassed three times Saturday over Fukien province. The Peiping Foreign Ministry issued its "43rd serious warning against continued U.S. military provocations."

Grosse Pointe Plans Pier

DETROIT (AP) — A 449-foot steel pier, costing an estimated $100,000 will be built at Grosse Pointe Park's waterfront park. It will provide a harbor for future development as a marina.

Free World and Russia Poles Apart Over Berlin

Soviet Union Wants Demilitarized State

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

What next for Berlin, the world wondered last week. The Soviet Union had its idea on the matter with a Thanksgiving Day proposal for granting West Berlin the status of a "free city." The proposal came in a Russian note handed to the U. S. ambassador in Moscow.

Here is the full text of the Reds' proposal, as broadcast by Moscow Radio:

"The Soviet government is prepared to begin talks with the governments of the U. S. A. and other interested states on assigning to West Berlin the status of a demilitarized city. If, however, this proposal is not acceptable to the U. S. A., no subject for talks among the former occupying powers on the Berlin questions will remain.

"The Soviet government strives to achieve that the necessary change in the position of Berlin should take place in a quiet atmosphere, without haste or unnecessary frictions, with the maximum consideration for the interests of both sides.

"It is obvious that a certain amount of time will be needed for the powers who had occupied Germany after the rout of the Hitlerite wehrmacht to come to an agreement to declare West Berlin a free city, if, of course, the western powers show due interest in this proposal.

"It must also be taken into account that the necessity may arise for talks between the municipal authorities of both parts of Berlin, as well as between the GDR (German Democratic Republic) and the Federal German Republic (FGR) for the settlement of questions arising.

"In view of this, the Soviet Union proposes not to introduce changes in the present order of military transports of the U.S.A., Great Britain and France from Western Berlin to the GDR for half a year.

It considers this period quite sufficient to find a sound basis for the settlement of questions connected with the changes of the position of Berlin and to avert the possibility of any complications whatsoever, if, of course, the governments of the western powers will not deliberately strive for such complications.

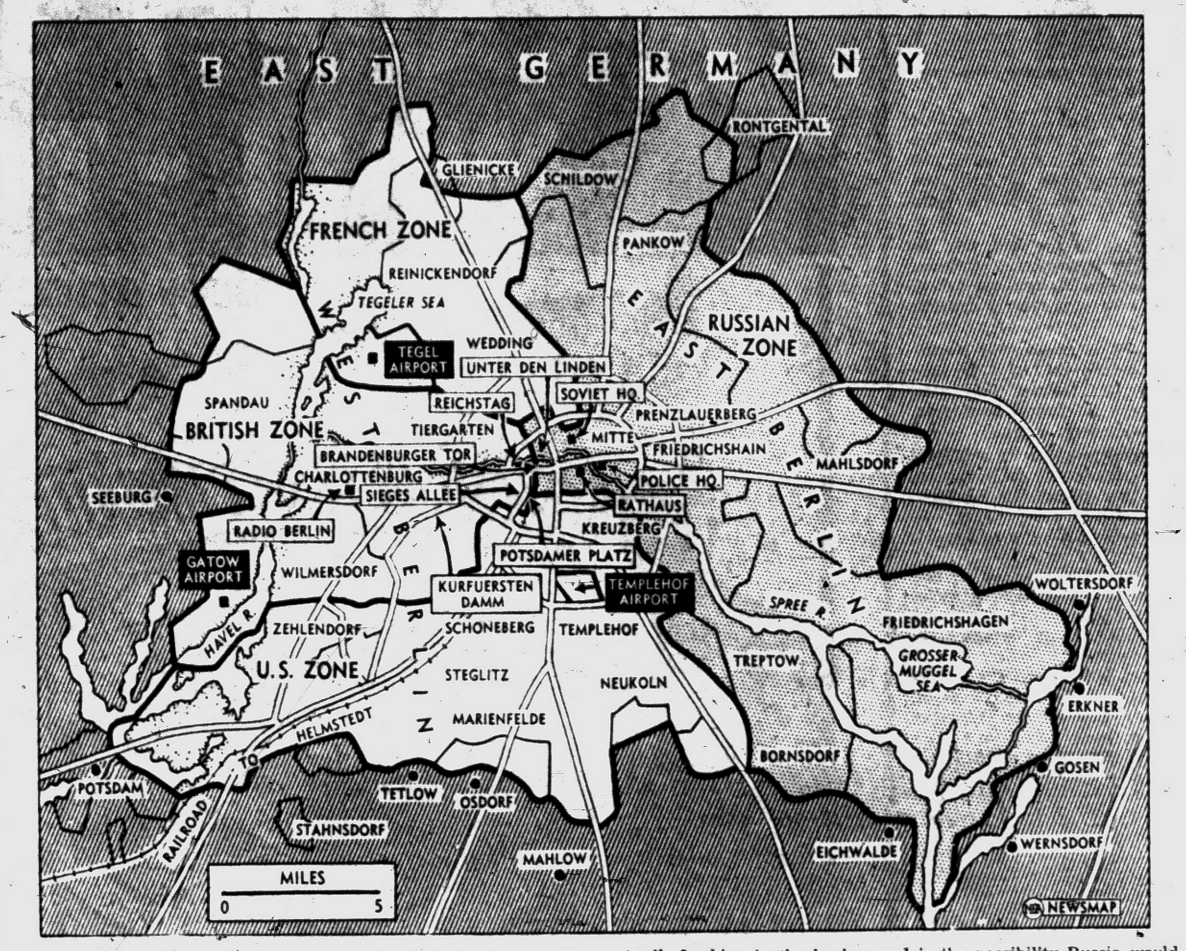

"During this period, the sides will have the opportunity of proving in practice, in the settlement of the Berlin question, their desire for a relaxation of international tension.

"If however the stated period is not used to achieve a relative agreement, the Soviet Union will, by agreement with the GDR, put the outlined measures into effect.

"It is here born in mind that the GDR, like any other indepenednt state, must be in complete charge of the questions concerning its space, i.e. it must effect its sovereignty on land on water and in the air.

"At the same time all existing contacts between representatives of the Soviet Union in Germany with the respective representatives of the armed forces and other officials of the U.S.A., Britain and France on questions concerning Berlin, will cease.

DIVIDED CITY — This is Berlin, a city divided within itself and enclosed in East German Communist territory. Russia's efforts to force withdrawal of American, British and French forces in the Western Sector have included the proposal for a "free city." Lurking in the background is the possibility Russia would permit the East German Reds to control air, road and rail routes linking the city with West Germany, 110 miles away.

Allies Quick to Note East Berlin Excluded

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The West, and the United States in particular, had a few ideas of its own on West Berlin.

Here is the text of the U. S. State Department answer on the Russian proposal to demilitarize West Berlin also issued Thanksgiving Day:

"The Soviet government has today handed the United States ambassador in Moscow a communciation relating to Berlin. Apparently similar notes have been received by the ambassadors of France, the United Kingdom and the Federal Republic of Germany. The communication is a very long one and will, of course, receive careful study.

"The Soviets seem to be proposing that while they keep their grip on East Berlin, the three western allies abandon their rights in West Berlin and retire in favor of what is called a 'free city.' Their 'free city' proposal is limited to West Berlin. The Soviet government indicates that unless the three western allies accept this Soviet proposal within six months the Soviet Union will consider itself free of its obligations to them in relation to Berlin.

"It is clear that a number of fundamental considerations are raised which will have to be kept in mind while we study the Soviet note.

"One of these is that the United States, along with Britain and France, is solemnly committed to the security of the western sectors of Berlin. Two and a quarter million West Berliners in reliance thereon have convincingly and courageously demonstrated the good fruits of freedom.

"Another consideration is that the United States will not acquiesce in a unilateral repudiation by the Soviet Union of its obligations and responsibilities formally agreed upon with Britain, France and the United States in relation to Berlin. Neither will it enter into any agreement with the Soviet Union which, whatever the form, would have the end result of abandoning the people of West Berlin to hostile domination.

"The western allies have for years sought to negotiate with the Soviets for the freedom of all of Germany, of which Berlin is part on the basis of free elections by the German people themselves. Indeed, the three western powers are still awaiting a reply to their latest proposals on Sept. 30, 1958, to the Soviet goverment.

"The United States government will consult with the British and French governments as well as with the Federal Republic of Germany and NATO in regard to the new Soviet note."

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Allies Consider Pushing Unification of Germany

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers may use the six months Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has given them to give up West Berlin in renewing demands for the unification of Germany by free elections.

Informants in the Communist-surrounded city said diplomats in the Western capitals were discussing a proposal to call for a big East-West conference, either on the summit or the foreign ministers level, to reopen the whole German problem.

This would include not only Berlin but German unification and a German peace treaty.

In his Thanksgiving Day note to the Western powers, Khrushchev himself said the unification of Germany would be the best solution of all for the Berlin question. But he again insisted on the Soviet terms—a neutralized federation of the two Germanys, with the Sovietized part getting a say in the Western part.

The Western Allies contend that a peace treaty can be negotiated only with a sovereign all-German government freely elected. East Germany has never had a free election and for that reason is not recognized by the West.

The possibility of a high-level conference on Germany was raised further when Khrushchev declared at a Moscow reception Saturday that he would like to drink a toast again with the Soviet Union's wartime allies and discuss peacefully a Berlin solution at a "round table."

The British, French and Americans already have made clear they will turn down Khrushchev's proposal that West Berlin be made a demilitarized free city—which would be open to a Communist grab as soon as the 9,000 Western troops had withdrawn.

Alert to the possibility of a renewal of the blockade tactics of 1948-49, the U.S. Army reported one of its two daily military trains to Berlin was delayed for over an hour today.

East German officials said a broken rail was the cause of the delay, and American officers said they were satisfied the delay was not caused deliberately.

Engines on the military trains are manned by East German crews but there is an American commandant. West Berlin's rail, road and water links with West Germany cross 110 miles of East German territory and would be subject to East German control if the Soviet Union drops its duties as one of the four occupation powers in Berlin.

Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's Communist party boss, said in an interview with the New York Times over the weekend that the Western powers would be in for "unnecessary difficulties" if they tried to use these supply lines without East Geramny's permission.

Gerhart Eisler, deputy information chief, chimed in that a Western airlift without East German permission would be regarded as a military threat.

The West has agreed it would not negotiate for such permission with East Germany except possibly by treating the East Germans as agents of the Russians.

Germans Fear Deal With Reds

Say Wrong Allied Move Would Be First Step to Breakup of NATO

By HERB ALTSCHULL

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Adenauer government expressed some alarm last week that the Western Allies might decide to deal with Communist East Germany as agents of the Russians.

But the West Germans themselves have had semiofficial dealings with the East Germans for sometime.

Why then the alarm if the Western Allies do the same thing once the Russians turn over control of the routes to West Berlin to the East German regime?

The answer lies in emotional reasons and in legal distinctions.

The West Germans regard their trade with the East Zone as help to their oppressed brethren under Communist rule. But they hold that any Allied concessions over access to Berlin would chip away at the NATO shield against Soviet aggression.

Chancellor Konrad Adenaeur's government regards the East German regime as a mere puppet of Moscow which does not express the will of the people. The Western Allies hold the same view and do not recognize the legal existence of the East German government.

The prevailing view here—shared by many top-ranking Western diplomats—is that to permit East German border guards to stamp documents of Allied convoys moving to Berlin is to give silent recognition to the East German regime.

In this view, such recognition would be but the first step toward surrender of Berlin to the Communists and the ultimate collapse of NATO.

Stands by West Berlin

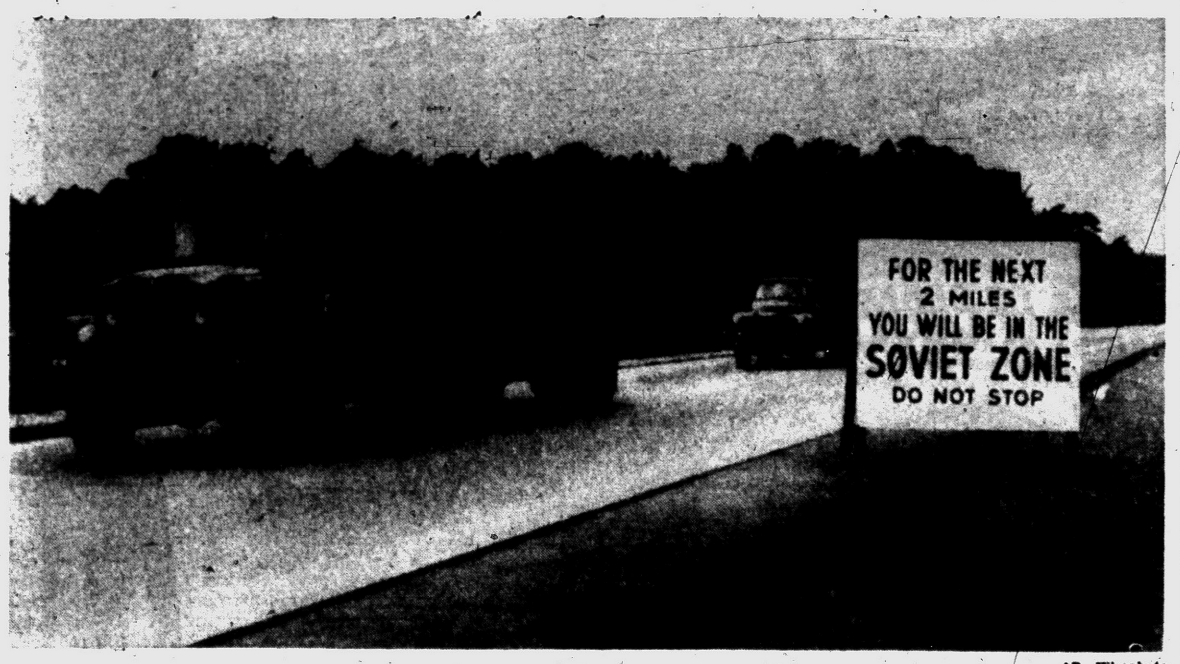

Britain Upholds Position

LONDON (AP) — Britain will stand by its obligation in Berlin, but is willing to discuss an over-all German settlement with the Soviet Union. A foreign office spokesman says:

"The view of Her Majesty's government is that the international agreements over Germany, and those on Berlin in particular, cannot be unilaterally repudiated."

FOOD — Trying to keep the hunger pangs out of the stomach's of Berlin residents in the 1948-49 airlift called for tons and tons of foodstuffs, winging in regularly despite weather complications. Perhaps they were short of jelly-rolls some mornings, but the essentials came through, and residents knew that the droning in the sky meant they wouldn't have to tighten their belts another notch.

SIGN MEANS BUSINESS — Many road signs in the U. S. are read casually by passing motorists. But anyone passing this sign in Germany will obey it with no questions asked. U. S. Army trucks waste little time going through the zone at the West Berlin Dreilinden checkpoint. The East German Communists may have to repaint the sign if they rule the area.

West Berliners Wondering What Next

People, big and small, play roles in the Berlin crisis.

West Berlin Lord Mayor Willy Brandt serves 2,200,000 citizens. He has told them to stand fast in the face of coming hardships involved in the Soviet attempt to end the occupational status of the city. Brandt declared that the U. S., Britain and France had pledged themselves to defend the city.

And in the light of Russian Premier Khrushchev's offer of a six-month breath'ng spell, those 2,2000,000 saw a period of uncertainty ahead.

The commander of U. S. forces in Berlin had some encouraging words for them. Maj. Gen. Barksdale Hamlett declared his small Army force is ready for any eventuality. Hamlett is the sixth officer to hold the twin civilian-military responsibility in the city.

Chiming in for the Communists is Soviet Ambassador to Germany Andrei Smirnov who has said Russia intends to "liquidate" the occupational status of Berlin.

The 2,2000,000 citizens of West Berlin may not understand all the implications of the political and diplomatic manipulations. But many of them remember only too well the blockade of their city 10 years ago.

They can only wonder, "What will the big men do next?"

Gerhart Fisler Says June 1 Deadline

BERLIN (UPI)—East German propaganda chief Gerhart Eisler, a fugitive from U. S. justice, says next June 1 will be the deadline for a Berlin showdown between East and West.

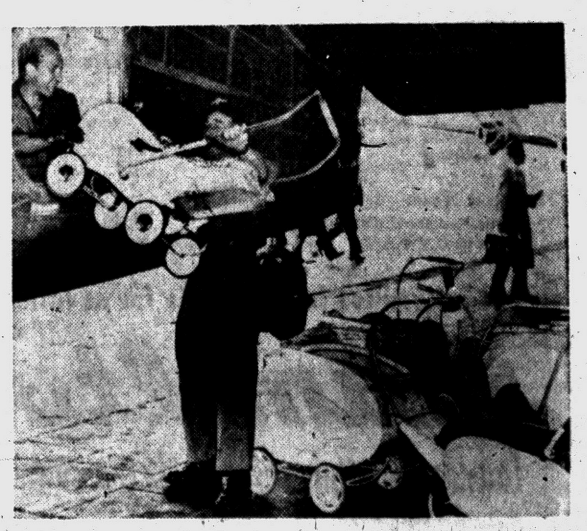

West Berliners are intrigued by unconfirmed reports that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev himself might fly to East Berlin shortly to lend his presence to the East German campaign to drive the Western Allies from free Berlin.

In Moscow, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia says Russia has a "straitjacket" for any "madmen" who try to maintain the Four Power occupation status of Berlin after Russia hands over its occupation powers to the East Germans.

IF BLOCKADE COMES—Could the West turn to the same airlift tactics it used in 1948-49 if isolated West Berlin were totally blockaded by the Communists? This sketch shows the three main supply sources used 10 years ago.

THINGS — From essential can-openers to baby carriages, the goods piled up at the Berlin airports, during the mighty airlift of 1948-49. At the beginning, only the most essential food and fuel items could be shipped in. But as the effort grew, there was enough space to begin attempts to solve morale problems, by shipments of not-so-essential material.

Noted Space Physicist Sees Likelihood

Sun Particles Cause Northern Lights?

CHICAGO (AP)—Charged particles from the sun which leak a soft radiation into the earth's auroral zone may be the direct cause of the Northern Lights, a noted space physicist said here recently.

Dr. James A. Va nAllen, 44-year-old State University of Iowa expert who heads up the radiation studies in the nation's earth satellite program, told the American Physical Society of radiotion reports from Explorers I, III and IV, and Pioneer I.

He described the doughnut-shaped "Van Allen radiation belt" which encircles the earth. He called this belt reservoir of charged particles which work their way into the outer reaches of the earth' magnetic field and are trapped.

These particles, he said, drift systematically. Protons move west and electrons move east, both corkscrewing back and forth from the northern to southern hemisphere.

Electrons in the belt are lost mainly by atmospheric scattering and most protons are lost by collisions with atmospheric constituents.

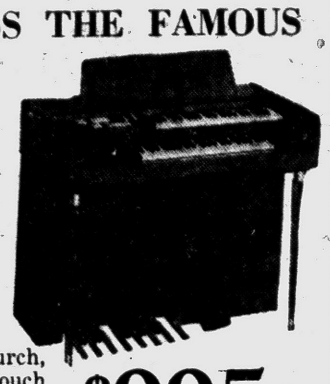

As well as causing the Northern and Southern Lights, he suggested, this leakage may also contribute to general heating of the atmosphere.

It also is probable, he said, that plasma surrounding the sun occasionally replenishes this reservoir. Arrival of this solar plasma, he added, may be directly responsible for magnetic storms.

Dr. Van Allen emphasized that labelling of the charged particles in the belts as electrons and protons is thus far only "a reasonable supposition."

He said definite answers on such points as the radiation belt's origin, spectrum and all the types of radiation, must await further flights of more elaborate detection systems.

Colts Gallop to Chance at NFL Title

Trample 49ers, 35-27, to Grab Division Honor

Erase 20-Point Deficit in 2nd Half; Cleveland Improves East Lead

United Press International

The Colts, Baltimore's biggest sports find since Babe Ruth, have won their first pro football division title and will play the Cleveland Browns or New York Giants for the National League championship Dec. 28.

The Colts proved their class Sunday by scoring 28 points in the second half to erase a 27-7 San Francisco Forty-Niner lead and clinch the western division title with a 35-27 triumph. Each N. F. L. club has two more games and no team has won the Western race so easily since the league assumed its current setup in 1950 with the Browns, Forty-Niners and Colts entering from the All-America conference.

Such stars as John Unitas, Lenny Moore and Alan Ameche probably could be elected mayor of Baltimore this week but the Colts and their rabid rooters also owe a vote of thanks to the league's hottest current club, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Steelers, playing in 11-degree weather at Pitt Stadium, were as hot as a blast furnace while whipping the Chicago Bears—only club that had much hope of catching the Colts, 24-10. The victory, the first the Steelers ever scored against the Bears in 14 tries, enabled the Colts to boost their margin to three games with only two to play.

Cleveland put basketball shoes on quarterback Milt Plum in the final period and maintained its one-game margin over New York in the Eastern race. Plum's passes, plus the receiving of Ray Renfro and Lew Carpenter's running, enabled the Browns to rally and defeat the Washington Redskins, 21-14, while the Giants defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 24-10.

Billy Wade's two touchdown passes to Leon Clarke in the last 20 minutes gave the Los Angeles Rams a 20-14 victory over the Chicago Cardinals in the other game. The Detroit Lions scored a 24-14 victory over the Green Bay Packers Thursday and those two clubs did not play Sunday.

Ruth went on from Baltimore to become baseball's greatest slugger but it's doubtful if even the mighty Babe ever caused as much sports excitement in the Maryland city as the frisky Colts. Things looked black Sunday when Y. A. Tittle, the bald-headed quarterback who once played for the Colts, scored twice to spark the Forty-Niners to a 27-7 halftime lead. But coach Weeb Ewbank's Colts reacted like thoroughbreds in the last 30 minutes.

Passes by Unitas set up two one-yard scoring blasts by Ameche and cut the Forty-Niner lead to 27-21. Then the sellout crowd of 57,557 in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium got its big chance to cheer. Moore raced 73 yards to score. The dazed Forty-Niners appeared to have him trapped at least four times as he galloped down the sideline, then cut back to midfield en route to the fourth period touchdown that climaxed the rally. Steve Myhra's conversion made it 27-27. Unitas followed with a short pass to Ray Berry for Baltimore's last touchdown.

Washington held Jim Brown, Cleveland's record-busting rusher, to a season low of 12 yards on 11 tries and took a 14-7 lead into the final period after Eddie LeBaron's third-period touchdown toss to Sid Watson.

12 NFL Teams Take 48 Collegians From Grab Bag

Packers Open Player Draft

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League held its player draft today.

The 12 pro clubs drafted a total of 48 players from the 1958 college grab bag after Comissioner Bert Bell gavelled the annual session into order at 9:30 a.m. EST.

Green Bay, last in the league with a 1-8-1 record, selected first under the system whereby the teams draft according to their standings after yesterday's games, last to first.

The Green Bay Packers made Iowa's quarterback Randy Duncan the No. 1 choice in the annual National Football League's player draft today.

The Detroit Lions took Notre Dame's fullback, Nick Pietrosante.

The Chicago Bears took Don Clark, Ohio State back; San Francisco, using a choice obtained from Pittsburgh, selected Dan James, Ohio State center; Los Angeles picked Paul Dickson, Baylor tackle; New York named Lee Grosscup, Utah quarterback; Cleveland grabbed Rich Kreitling, Illinois end, and Baltimore selected Jackie Burkett, Auburn center.

Second choice was made by the Los Angeles Rams who took the nation's total offense leader, halfback Dick Bass of the College of the Pacific. The Rams get Bass with a choice obtained from the Philadelphia Eagles in last winter's deal which sent quarterback Norm Van Brocklin to Philadelphia.

The Chicago Cardinals, third in line, took Bill Stacy, Mississippi State's star and one of the outstanding backs in the Southeast Conference.

Washington selected Don Allard, Boston College's passing quarterback.

San Francisco selected Dave Baker, Oklahoma back.

In the event of ties in the standings, a toss or draw determined which team selected first with the tied clubs then alternating in succeeding rounds.

There was no bonus choice this year. Congress told Bell the bonus — an out-of-hat draw entitling the winner to draft rights to any one player of its choice before the regular draft began — bordered on a lottery. So the owners voted it out at their annual meeting last winter.

Following the draft the owners scheduled an executive session at which Bell was expected to discuss with them the ever increasing cost of operating a pro franchise. The commissioner has expressed great concern over this facet of the business. There also may be a discussion of the latest threat by the players association to take "extreme measures" if their demands are not given prompt consideration.

Also slated for the day-long sessions were arrangements for possible playoffs in the Eastern Conference in the event of a tie for first place between New York or Cleveland. Here too, a toss or draw determines sites for the playoffs. The league title game is scheduled for Dec. 28 in the home of the Eastern champion.

The big item on the agenda was the draft. Who, in the eyes of the pros, were the top 1958 college football players? While some of the potential All-Americas were sure to be picked, so too, were so-called "sleepers" from lesser known institutions. Also available were some players with college eligibility remaining, but whose original class had graduated making them eligible also for the pro draft. The latter are known as "redshirts" and are taken for future delivery.

Each team is entitled to four choices. But previous trades whereby veterans were dealt for future draft choices have created a situation where Los Angeles gets nine picks, Detroit seven and Cleveland five in today's meeting. Pittsburgh, on the other hand, will step aside on each of its four draft picks in favor of the teams to which it traded them. The balance of the annual 30-round draft will be held at the league's annual winter meeting in January.

Baker Bows in Mexico

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Young Alfredo Zuany of El Paso, Tex., gained a unanimous decision over Bob Baker, Pittsburgh, in a 10-round heavyweight battle before 5,000 fans in Monumental Bull Ring Sunday. Zuany weighed 198, Baker 217.

Kentucky, Tulane, Tulsa in '59

3 New Grid Foes for U-D

DETROIT (UPI) — Kentucky, Tulane and Tulsa have been added to the University of Detroit's 1959 football schedule, the Titans announced today in revealing their nine-game schedule.

Kentucky will be one of Detroit's three home night game opponents and it will be the first meeting of the two schools in football. Detroit will play Tulane and Tulsa away.

Holdovers from the 1958 schedule are George Washington, Marquette, Xavier, Boston College, Dayton and Villanova.

Detroit vice president John R. Mulroy said it hasn't been decided yet whether or not the Nov. 20 Villanova game will be played at night or in the afternoon. Titan attendance averaged better than 20,000 for three night games this season while three day games averaged four to five thousand less.

Detroit last played Tulane in 1921. The 1959 game with the Green Wave will be played Oct. 9 in New Orleans at night. The last meeting with Tulsa was in 1956.

The complete schedule:

Sept. 18 George Washington, night; Sept. 26 at Marquette; Oct. 2 Kentucky, night; Oct. 9 at Tulane, night; Oct. 17 Xavier; Oct. 24 at Tulsa; Oct. 30 Boston College, night; Nov. 7 at Dayton; Nov. 14 open; Nov. 20 Villanova.

City Teams Open Tuesday

Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern and St. Frederick will all be in action for tomorrow night as another hoop season begins for city schools.

Central will debut at Edsel Ford while Northern travels to Lake Orion to meet its 1st opponent in any sport. St. Frederick will be the only team at home as the Rams meet Detroit St. Elizabeth.

Cranbrook at Walled Lake, Romeo and Troy and Milford at Rochester headline the remaining games scheduled Tuesday. Royal Oak St. Mary meets Madison and Country Day goes to Oak Park in others.

Brighton, Imlay City, Berkley, Millington and South Lyon are also swinging into play tomorrow.

Steelers 'Bomb' Bears Led by Tracy, Layne

By BRUNO KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH — Literally speaking, the Chicago Bears "got bombed" in Pitt Stadium yesterday afternoon. It was Detroit Lions' castoff Tom "The Bomb" Tracy, the pride of Birmingham who warmed the hearts of 22,000 fans sitting in 11 degree temperatures by leading the Steelers to a 24-10 victory.

Another former Lion, quarterback Bobby Layne, played an equally important role with his pin point passing. Tracy and Layne combined for a total of 358 of the Steelers total of 396 net yards. "It was Layne's best game," said former Lions coach Buddy Parker, "he is still pro football's greatest quarterback." Tracy raced 30 and 18 yards for touchdowns and in the first half he picked up 131 of the 158 yards rushing including a beautiful 64 yard dash which set up a first period field goal.

Pittsburgh's defensive line held the vaunted Chicago offense to a mere 25 yards in the first half.

Pittsburgh held a 10-0 lead going into the fourth quarter when the Bears came to life and tied the score. Ed Brown passed 13 yards to former Michigan State end Bob Jewett for a TD to make it 10-7 with George Blanda's point. Blanda then tied it a moment later with a field goal.

Layne then teamed with Jimmy Orr for a 48 yard scoring play to put the Steelers in the lead. The final TD came when Tracy bounced off three tacklers into the end zone for an 18 yard scoring play.

It was the first time in 14 years the Steelers had beaten the giants of the Midway and the loss knocked Chicago out of contention for Western Division honors as the Baltimore Colts sewed up the divisional title.

Win Over Navy Climax for Army

Coach Blaik Compares 22-6 Victory With Top Grid Achievements

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Earl "Red" Blaik, savoring "one of the finest hours in Army football," had bad news for future opponents today. The Cadets have just begun to exploit his revolutionary lonesome end offense.

Army defeated Navy 22-6 last Saturday for its first unbeaten season since 1949 and capped Blaik's 25th year as a head coach.

While Capt. Pete Dawkins went into the game as Army's top ball carrier, fellow halfback Bob Anderson was the outstanding back on the field. He scored twice and pounded out 89 yards in 29 tries with 102,000 looking on.

"We had no special advance plans for giving Anderson heavy work," Blaik explained. "We did figure to let Anderson keep them honest while we passed to Dawkins. But we didn't hit Dawkins as much as planned. Anderson was doing too well on his own."

"The achievements of this team must be rated right along with our 1944 victory over Navy 23-7 and the 1953 comeback from the 1951 cribbing incident which wiped out the squad. They all are extreme highlights."

2 Over Par, Ace All on 1 Hole

DALLAS (AP) — Ray Barker slammed his first ball into a creek on the par 3 fifth hole yesterday.

Then he knocked his second tee shot into the creek. Laboring under a four-stroke penalty, he banged his next tee shot all the way to the green and it went in for a hole in one and a double bogey all at once.

Van Pelt Top Star in Grey Cup Victory

VANCOUVER (AP) — Jimmy Van Pelt, the 23-year old rookie quarterback of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, was still the hottest topic of conversation here today after his spectacular show in leading his team to the Grey Cup championship last Saturday.

The former University of Michigan star passed, ran and kicked the Bombers to a stunning 35-28 win over the defending champion Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the playoff for Canada's pro football title.

Van Pelt scored two touchdowns kicked a pair of field goals and four conversions for 22 points, best individual effort in Grey Cup history.

Billy Casper Takes Havana Golf Tourney

HAVANA (AP) — Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif. Sunday won the top prize of $2,400 in the Havana Invitational Golf Tournament with a 278 total for 72 holes.

CONTRAST IN PASSES — There was plenty of contrast on these two pass plays in the National Football League games yesterday. At left, defensive back Erich Barnes of the Bears tries unsuccessfully to take a Bobby Layne flip away from Steeler Ray Mathews in the game won by Pittsburgh. At right, Del Shofner (29) of the L. A. Rams is all by himself waiting with open arms for a pass thrown by Bill Wade. It was one of three flips on which the pair collaborated in pacing the Rams to their 1st touchdown against the Chicago Cardinals.

Dawkins Named to All-East 11

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Dawkins of Royal Oak, Mich., was named today to the Associated Press All Eastern football team.

Dawkins was one of three members of the Army team picked by the selection board. One of the others was Bob Anderson, his halfback running mate.

The board said "neither could be given a distinct margin over the other and both outclassed virtually every other halfback in the East."

Dawkins, a senior, was Army's leading ground gainer and scorer.

Among players receiving honorable mention from the selection board were Frank Finney of Royal Oak, a star back at Brown University, and guard Don Chomicz of Detroit who plays for Navy.

LSU in 5th Attempt to Win Sugar Bowl

By The Associated Press

Bowl-bound college football teams began pointing toward their post-season games today. But one couldn't blame Louisiana State, California and Syracuse for showing more determination than the others.

LSU, the nation's only major undefeated and untied team, will make its fifth appearance in the Sugar Bowl. The Bayou Tigers have yet to win a bowl game. This will be their sixth bowl trip, fifth to the New Orleans classic. Clemson, LSU's opponent, will be playing in the Sugar Bowl for the first time, but has a 3-2 record in other bowl competition.

California is 2-4-1 in the Rose Bowl. Iowa, the Bears' New Year Day foe, has a 35-19 victory over Oregon State in 1957 to show for its only outing in Pasadena.

Syracuse, which meets Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl, has had only one previous experience in that game. And the upstate New York University emerged with a 61-6 pasting at the hands of Alabama in 1953. Oklahoma has won its last three in the Miami Jan. 1 game after losing to Tennessee in 1939.

Clemson was one of five teams to help fill the major bowls as a result of Saturday's action. The others were the Air Force Academy, Mississippi and Florida.

The composite record for the 10 teams in the major bowls is 80 victories, 15 defeats and three ties.

Among the minor bowls, Hardin-Simmons (6-4) won the Border Conference title Friday and was named to oppose Wyoming (7-3), the Skyline champ, in the Sun Bowl. The Blue Grass Bowl is expected to name its teams today.

Clemson earned a shot at Louisiana State by defeating Furman 36-19 Saturday. The Air Force Academy accepted a Cotton bowl bid after whipping Colorado 20-14. Mississippi blanked Mississippi State 21-0. Florida edged Miami 12-9.

Army, which frowns on post-season competition, put away its first unbeaten season since 1949 by licking Navy 22-6.

Auburn, second to LSU in the current Associated Press rankings but banned from bowl play, nipped Alabama 14-8; Southern Methodist beat Texas Christian 20-13; Oklahoma defeated Oklahoma State 7-0 and Notre Dame came from behind to beat Southern California 20-13 in other games Saturday.

Only two games remain on the regular season schedule. Boston College meets Holy Cross and Oregon engages Miami this Saturday.

Football Bowls At A Glance

Rose at Pasadena, Calif.—Iowa (7-1-1) vs. California (7-3).
Sugar at New Orleans—Louisiana State (10-0) vs. Clemson (8-2).
Orange at Miami—Oklahoma (9-1) vs. Syracuse (8-1).
Cotton at Dallas—Texas Christian (8-2) vs. Air Force Academy (9-0-1).
Gator at Jacksonville, Fla.—Florida (6-3-1) vs. Mississippi (8-2).
Sun at El Paso, Tex.—Wyoming (7-3) vs. Harrin Simmons (6-4).
Junior Rose at Pasadena, Calif.—Santa Monica City College vs. Eastern team to be named.

Draft, Texas Realigning Mark Minors' Gathering

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Major Leagues' annual draft and the expected realignment agreement between the American Assn. and the Texas League highlighted the opening of the annual Minor League convention today.

Another event that may have a more telling effect was the scheduled meeting of the Major League player representatives to plan their campaign to obtain a percentage of television and radio fees for regular season games.

Because of the new rule requiring a big league club to shell out $25,000 for a selectee, little draft activity was expected.

There could be even less than last year when only 11 Minor Leaguers were purchased, at a cost of $135,000. Only three of the players selected then — Kansas City's Harry Chiti, Cleveland's Gary Geiger and the Chicago Cubs' Tony Taylor—remained in the big leagues all year.

The biggest need of the majors, besides pitchers, appeared to be second basemen. That seemed to indicate that one of the clubs might pick Curt Roberts, who batted .298 at Denver, Wayne Terwilliger, who hit .269 with Charleston, or Foster Castleman, who finished the season at Miami.

Other possible draft choices were outfielders Gordon Windhorn, who led American Assn. hitters with a .328 average at Denver; Jim Pisoni of Richmond; Eric Rodin, a .320 hitter with 26 home runs at Corpus Christi; Bill Taylor, .298 and 12 homers at Charleston, and Jim Pyburn of Louisville. Another likely prospect was Bob Hazle, former Milwaukee outfielder, now with Charleston.

Pitchers rated a good chance to be selected included Chris Nicolosi, who had a 15-12 record at Victoria; Bob Darnell, 16-13 with Fort Worth and Montreal; Howard Nunn 11-9 at Houston; Gene Fodge of Denver; Don Kaiser of Wichita, and Bob McDermott of Charleston.

This marks the first year that the rule providing for an unrestricted draft of players with four years in organized baseball is in effect. A brand new draft proposal, one that would make all players eligible after only one year of pro ball, is on the agenda.

Perhaps more eagerly awaited than the player draft was the announcement of a deal that would transfer the franchises of the Double A Texas league's Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth clubs to the Triple A American Assn.

The two leagues, after weeks of negotiation, finally reached a point where only a matter of $35,000 stood between them.

The AA, anxious to stabilize its circuit which now constitutes only seven clubs, offered to pay $50,000 indemnity to the Texas League for its three top clubs. The Texas League countered with a request for $85,000 after originally demanding $120,000. The two leagues were scheduled to meet again today to settle the difference.

'Y' Swimmers Get Early Start on New Season

With a 13-date schedule already set up, starting Dec. 6, the Pontiac YMCA swimming squad gets away to a month's early start this winter.

Home opener (Dec. 6) brings Flint Northern YMCA here for a 3 p.m. meet. Other meets are set with Bay City, Saginaw, Port Huron and Lansing, besides participation in district and state YMCA events and the Glass City (Toledo O.) championships.

'Y' swimmers have a new division of competition. It is for "midgets," boys 10 and under, who will swim seven events, 25-yard freestyle, breaststroke, backstroke and butterfly, diving and 100-yard freestyle and medley relays. State lists have a new team, in Port Huron, it's first entry.

John J. Moreau, "Y" coach, says most of last winter's swimmers are back and the club should "be a little better than last year."

College Cagers Go Into Action Tonight

By The Associated Press

The rah-rah dribble boys open the college basketball season with a bang tonight.

No longer are many warmup games scheduled as was the custom a generation ago.

Kentucky, the National Collegiate (NCAA) champion, and West Virginia, ranked No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll last season, take the floor to top the action on opening night.

These are but two of the nearly 50 games scheduled Monday night. Other attractive tilts find Cincinnati and its famed Oscar Robertson pitted against Indiana State, Indiana's defending Big 10 champs against Drake, Pitt at Michigan, Penn State at North Carolina State, Gettysburg at Temple, Rice at Kansas, Colorado at Iowa, Purdue at Kansas State and Western Michigan at Northwestern.

The week's competition builds up to the usual Saturday night program when virtually all major teams will be in action.

Along with doubleheaders in New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco the boys waste no time getting into the swing of the ever popular holiday tournaments. Both the Kent State and Idaho State invitationals start Friday.

Tennessee meets Michigan and Kent State battles Wyoming in the first round of the Kent State tourney. It's Utah State vs. Idaho State and Portland vs. Montana in the first of the Idaho State affair. The two winners in each tourney battle for the championship Saturday night.

Robertson, who will appear in New York's Madison Square Garden, on Thursday against St. John's, is expected to dominate the headlines during the season along with Pitt's little Don Hennon.

Robertson, a 20-year-old Negro was a whiz last year and made the Associated Press All-America as a sophomore. His fans believe he will rise to even greater heights this season and make followers of the collegiate game forget the departure of 7-foot Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, Elgin Baylor of Seattle and Guy Rodgers, the sparkplug of the Temple team which nearly beat Kentucky for the NCAA crown.

Kentucky, the surprise of last season, is expected to get stiff opposition for the Southeastern Conference title this year from Mississippi State and Auburn. Northwestern and Purdue are the early favorites in the Big 10 while Texas A&M, Texas Christian and Texas Tech are doped to battle it out for the Southwest Conference title.

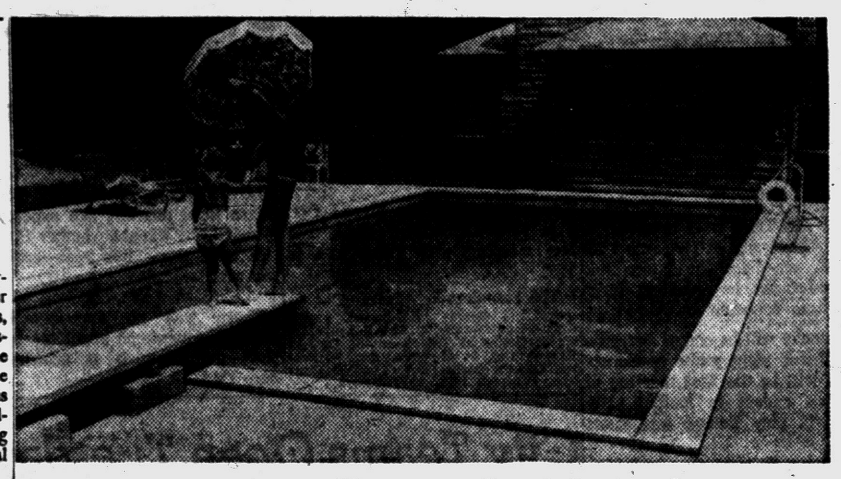

Dartmouth is rated high in the Ivy League and Kansas State is rated the choice in the Big Eight. Cincinnati, of course, is favored in the Missouri Valley, with the Atlantic Coast Conference race between Duke, Maryland, North Carolina and North Carolina State. West Virginia, as usual, is expected to retain its Southern Conference crown.

Starting Dec. 13 there will be a game of the week on national television, NBC. The first of the series pits St. Louis against Kentucky.

ESTHER WILLIAMS TO ESTABLISH DISTRIBUTORSHIP IN PONTIAC

1959 Distributor Appointment Program Just Starting

The International Swimming Pool Corporation, world's leading manufacturer of home and motel swimming pools, has just launched the largest new distributor appointment program in the Company's history. International is the exclusive manufacturer of the famous Esther Williams Pools and is expanding manufacturing, service and training facilities in order to serve an additional 500 communities.

Backed by the biggest swimming pool publicity and advertising campaign ever announced in the industry, the new distributor appointment program is scheduled to be completed within six weeks.

This market has been selected by International's Marketing Committee for one of the new distributorships. An Esther Williams marketing executive will personally consult with home owners and motel owners and consider applications for the Esther Williams distributorship in this area (see box below).

DISTRIBUTOR QUALIFICATIONS

Good character, a successful business background and a desire to build your own business are the prime qualifications for an Esther Williams distributorship.

The home and motel swimming pool business has become one of America's fastest growing new industries. The Esther Williams Pool is the undisputed leader in this new industry, accounting for 30 to 40% of all the permanent-type pool business.

Industry sales have more than doubled every year for the past three years. Trade experts, however, point out that pool sales have not yet reached boom stage. Sales on a gigantic scale are expected to begin in 1959 and continue for many years to come.

No franchise fee is required of a new Esther Williams distributor. Distributor appointed will be expected to make a modest investment in self-liquidating inventory with big profit potential. Construction experience is not a requirement.

ATTENTION HOME OWNERS

If you have an acquaintance who is interested in the exclusive Esther Williams distributorship in this area, contact the Division Marketing Manager at the address or telephone in box at right. If your recommendation is appointed, you will be entitled to an Esther Williams Family Swimming Pool at dealer cost!

America's Largest-Selling Family and Motel Pool To Be Available In This Area

Esther Williams, glamorous president of International Swimming Pool Corporation and world famous authority on swimming and swimming pools.

At a recent distributor conference, Esther Williams observed that, "It is truly amazing how quickly a community becomes swimming pool conscious following the appointment of the distributor for our complete line of family and motel pools."

Many swimming pool authorities credit Miss Williams as being the major influence in speeding up the trend to family swimming pools—a trend that is sweeping across America and making the backyard family pool a sound investment, as well as the new and accepted adjunct to American family living.

At the same conference Miss Williams also explained, "I believe there are four basic reasons why the Esther Williams Pool is outselling all others by a wide margin.

"First, it's the safest pool with the exclusive safety walk all around, the flat play area and the safety cover. These features give parents peace of mind. Being the mother of three energetic children, I can assure you these wonderful features give me peace of mind.

"Secondly, an Esther Williams Pool is built to last because of the rigid construction standards established by our Engineering Department—poured concrete, steel reinforced throughout and covered with exclusive Perma-Seal Poolskin which eliminates costly painting expenses.

"The third basic reason is that an Esther Williams Pool is complete in every respect for convenience, maximum family fun and the most economical maintenance—everything including filter, underwater light, stainless steel ladder, laminated diving board and 10 other items. There are no hidden extras to buy.

"And, the fourth reason more people from coast to coast are buying this complete pool than any other is the integrity on the part of Esther Williams distributors to provide the finest possible pool at lowest cost."

The Division Marketing Manager for Esther Williams Pools, is in Pontiac to consult with home owners interested in home pools and to talk with distributor applicants for this area. For an appointment call or write him at the address or number below:

Mr. BILL WALTER

Rosenbluth Clicks in Pinch

Late Points Trip Knicks

By The Associated Press

Lennie Rosenbluth, the lanky former college All-America from North Carolina, hasn't been of much help to the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn. until yeterday.

In his first pro season a year ago, he averaged only 4.4 points a game. The latest release of NBA statistics for the current campaign showed him with a 3.0 points average and five minutes of playing time for each game.

Yesterday, however, Rosenbluth came through when the Warriors need him. He scored four points in the final 37 seconds to help Philadelphia nail down a 103-100 victory over the New York Knickerbockers.

Rosenbluth was sent into the game with two minutes left after Woody Sauldsberry had fouled out. He dropped in a long one-hander and two free throws to enable the Warriors to snap a two-game losing streak. Sauldsberry paced the Warriors with 25 points while Richie Guerin led New York with 28.

In the only other game, Elgin Baylor, an All-America last year at Seattle, paced a fourth quarter drive that carried Minneapolis to an 84-77 triumph over Cincinnati last night.

Baylor tied the score at 68-all with a jump shot and a basket by Boo Ellis put the Lakers in front for good with less than nine minutes remaining in the game. Baylor finished with 21 points. Dave Piontek had 22 points for the Royals, who have lost 15 of 18 games.

It Was a Long Weekend for Red Wings

Canadiens Blast Terry 13 Times in Two Contests

3 Goals by Geoffrion Lead Montreal to 7-0 Win Sunday at Olympia

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — At last report, the Detroit Red Wings were rough-and-tough members of the National Hockey League.

There is a rumor circulating now, however, that the Wings have formed an ice skating ballet troupe and will periodically present graceful demonstrations of the flashing blades at Olympia.

The Detroit troupe, which doesn't require music for its ice ballet, staged a dress rehearsal Saturday night at Montreal, then made its debut here Sunday night...

As a graceful skating unit, the Wings were probably successful. From the standpoint of hockey, they were miserable flops.

Apparently the Detroiters couldn't stand the prosperity and the publicity of being in 1st place in the NHL standings when they invaded Montreal Saturday.

Jean Beliveau performed the three-goal hat trick and the Canadiens powered their way to a 6-2 triumph in the forum. But that was only the beginning.

The largest crowd of the season — 13,177 — jammed into Olympia Stadium last night for the return match of the home-and-home weekend series and saw the Redshirts suffer their worst home defeat in three years.

Montreal turned in another hat trick—this time by Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion—and the Canadiens raced to a 7-0 shutout victory over the waltzing Wings.

The humiliating double defeat over the weekend shoved the Wings into 3rd place with a 12-11-1 record and 25 points, four behind the league-leading Canadiens and one behind the runnerup Boston Bruins, who visit Olympia this Thursday evening.

Montreal's first three goals were power plays and after that, the Wings became so lifeless and disorganized that they could have had a dozen skaters on the ice and it wouldn't have made much difference.

Dickie Moore and Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard each scored two goals to go along with the three by Geoffrion and complete the rout as the Olympia patrons booed, hissed, threw debris on the ice and eventually cheered lustily for each Montreal score.

The Canadiens tallied twice in the 1st period, twice in the 2nd stanza and three times in the finale to hike their weekend scoring total to 13 goals aginst Detroit netminder Terry Sawchuk who was a "man against the world" in this series.

Aside from a handful of spectacular saves, it was almost a nonchalant, carefree shutout for Montreal goalie Jacques Plante. It was his 3rd shutout of the season and his 2nd against the Wings, who now have been blanked four times this year.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard and Moore each picked up three assists last night while Geoffrion, Don Marshall and Tom Johnson got one apiece and rookie Ralph Backstrom received credit for two.

The Wings drew five of the seven penalties called and Montreal capitalized on three of them for goals, two by Geoffrion and the other by fiery Moore.

Sawchuk, who had no defense in front of him, was credited with 23 saves and only some sensational stops from point blank range kept the Canadien total from running higher. Plante had 21 saves for his night's work.

AP Wirephoto

WINGS THREATEN? — This site of the Red Wings threatening to score was an unusual one at Olympia last night as Montreal blasted the locals 7-0. Goalie Jacque Plante, shown about to put a glove on the flying puck, looked like the "lonesome goalie" as the Canadiens completely dominated the action.

Promoter Seeks Floyd to Defend in London

LONDON (AP)—Boxing promoter Harry Levene leaves for New York Monday to negotiate for a world heavyweight championship fight in London next summer.

Levene, a close friend of Cus D'Amato, who manages world champion Floyd Patterson, said he hoped to return to Britain "with everything settled for Patterson to defend his title here next year against the best we have got."

He said D'Amato invited him to New York and that he did not know how long he would remain."

Jones Backs Up Kramer's Acts

Davis Cup Captain Says He's Proud That Jack Is Team Counsellor

SYDNEY (AP)—Perry Jones, U. S. Davis Cup captain, stuck stoutly behind his aide, Jack Kramer, today amid a rising tide of criticism of the pro promoter's role with the American team.

"I am proud to have Jack as chief counselor of our squad," Jones said. He took the job at my request and at great sacrifice to himself. His contribution has been tremendous.

"I have discussed the matter with Australian officials. I have told them Jack's professional activities are a separate matter entirely. They assured me that how we ran our team was our own private business."

Kramer, who is at odds with Australian amateur tennis authorities over venues for pro matches, is beginning to draw some fire for his unique dual operations in this tennis mad country.

One leading official of the Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia told The Associated Press "resentment of Kramer's position with the team runs deep in the organization, but we prefer to keep quiet in order to avoid discord."

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

Although I call the backswing and forward return of the arm a pendulum swing, there are two basic differences between the swing of the arm in bowling and a true pendulum swing.

First, the forward swing of the arm is a bit faster than the backswing. This is natural as the swing is accelerated smoothly. The second phase of the swing (forward swing) is bound to be faster than the first phase (backswing). Because, as the speed of the footwork increases, the armswing will have to increase its speed to keep coordination.

Second, the forward swing of the arm is not a perfect pendulum movement. As the arm comes forward, it replaces the right leg at the foul line. The right leg is extended back and behind the bowler for both balance and braking effect. Often I can feel the ball brush lightly against my left pants leg as I bring it forward.

My purpose in calling the armswing a pendulum motion is to impress you with its chief characteristics. The arm takes the ball straight back and starts it straight forward. In these respects, the armswing does resemble a pendulum. As the illustration today shows, the arm is fully extended in the backswing as it is about to drop into the forward motion.

LaStarza Tries Ring Comeback

One-Time Heavyweight Contender vs. Zernitz Tonight at St. Nick

By The Associated Press

Roland LaStarza, one-time leading heavyweight contender, joins the growing comeback brigade tonight.

The handsome, 31-year-old New Yorker faces rugged, streaking Larry Zernitz of Springfield, Mass., in a ten-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

LaStarza has been inactive since Oct. 8, 1957, when he outpointed Al Anderon, an obscure foe. In all he has had only five fights (losing three) since he was rocked into oblivion by Rocky Marciano in the 11th round of a heavyweight title fight.

Zernitz has won all five of his fights this year. His record is 20-4-1 including 12 knockouts. LaStarza's record is 55-7-0 including 25 kayos.

Roy Harris, the school teacher-fighter from Cut and Shoot, Texas, also returns to action tonight. He defends his Texas heavyweight crown against Donnie Fleeman, of Dallas, at Dallas. Fleeman recently knocked out former heavyweight ruler Ezzard Charles.

Harris was stopped by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in the 12th round at Los Angeles, Aug. 18. He hasn't fought since but still is ranked eighth contender by the NBA.

Hamtramck Netter Loses Junior Final

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chuck McKinley of Pattonville, Mo., beat Francisco Castillo of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-2, 6-0, 6-2 for his second successive National Indoor Junior tennis championship.

Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis beat another St. Louisan, Jim Parker 6-2, 6-1 for the boys crown which Castillo won last year.

Top-seeded doubles teams defeated their second ranked rival in the final round.

McKinley and Ray Senkowski of Hamtramck downed Rod Susman and Bill Beinbecker of St. Louis 8-6, 6-4, 6-0 and Parker and Claude Bakewell of St. Louis beat Buchholz and Ron Johnson of St. Louis 6-4, 6-4.

New Opponent Tests Rams Tuesday

By H. GUY MOATS

Basektball takes over with a rush this week for members of the Suburban Catholic League. All clubs will be in action, with the loop-title chase getting under way Friday and Saturday. The Saturday scrap holds the biggest local significance, pitting Shamrocks and Rams for one of those unpredictable, top-interest encounters.

Two SCL fives get in non-league tests today and Tuesday.

The Orchard Lake St. Mary crew, last winter's SCL runners-up, opens the curtain tonight with its sixth season's opening tilt with Detroit St. Stanislaus, a tall, capable East Side First Division club. Eaglets have won all previous encounters against this traditional opponent.

St. Frederick may run into a tough opening foe on Tuesday at St. Thomas hall. East side Second Division St. Elizabeth will provide the opposition. The Elizabethan club last Friday defeated Benedictine HS 37-25.

Eaglets' opponents tonight will present a quintet that averages six feet in height, led by 6-2 Bob Strzypinski, high scoring center, one of only two lettermen back. Tom Butowski, forward, is another capable scorer for the club that last year finished in 2nd place in its league with an 8-2 record.

But St. Mary's has most of its 1957-58 lettermen back, including top point-getter Chet Wlodkowski, Bill Votruba, Mike Witkor and the fast Glenn Hass. All Eaglets are good scorers, but lack somewhat around the boards.

Probable starters for tonight's setto at Orchard Lake include:

For Eaglets — forwards, Chet Wlodkowski and Don Duszynski; guards, Mike Wiktor and Glenn Hass; center, Bill Votruba.

For St. Stanislaus — forwards, Tom Butowski and Don Kotek; guards, Bob Griffin and Ron Schemanski; center, Bob Strzypinski.

Starting lineups for Tuesday's Ram-St. Elizabeth game will probably include:

For Rams—forwards, Phil Bieri and Phil Landry; guards, Joe Keller and Mike Fraser, or Jim Kennedy; center, Tom Derocher (captain).

For St. Elizabeth — forwards, Mike Teasley and Elcery Wade; guards, Paul Durak, Tony Campana, or Jim Stephenson; center, Ralph Head.

Neji Named Third Time as Top Steeplechaser

Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Neji, considered by many to be the greatest jumper of modern times, was today named champion steeplechase horse for the third time by the TRA board of selection. Neji had captured top honors in 1955 and again in 1957.

Neji's 1958 campaign was short and in a word, backbreaking. Starting but five times, Neji carried weights from 162 pounds to 176 pounds, winning twice, was second once and third twice.

Although Neji failed to win the Temple Gwathmey Steeplechase, richest test in the world for jumpers, his effort under the record impost of 176 pounds stamped him as one of the greatest ever to race through the field. Conceding 29 pounds to Benguala, the winner, Neji ran him to a diminishing head margin in the two-and-a-half mile event over the 13 fences. As a tribute to Neji's gameness, the crowd gave him a standing ovation as he was unsaddled in front of the stands.

During his career Neji has started 43 times, winning 17, has been second 10 times and third eight times, earning $267,684, a record for jumpers.

Tailend Leafs Help Canadiens

Stop Boston, 2-1, as Blackhawks and N. Y. Wind Up in 2-2 Tie

By The Associated Press

The last place Toronto Maple Leafs gave front-running Montreal a boost by downing Boston by a 2-1 count last night while Chicago was coming from behind to tie New York 2-2 in hard-fought National Hockey League contests.

First period goals by Barry Cullen and Frank Mahovlich stood up for the Leafs. Vic Stasiuk got the lone marker for the Bruins, who had won four previous games.

Chicago's tying goal against New York, at 12:47 of the final period, was a fluke. Ted Lindsay fired a shot which Goalie Gump Worsley blocked. But the disc bounced off Ranger Dean Prentice and bounced back into the cage. It was only Lindsay's second tally of the season. Andy Bathgate got his 16th and 17th goals for New York.

The Hawks, who defeated last-place Toronto 2-1 Saturday night, remained in fifth place—one point behind the Rangers.

After Searching for Lost Angus, Man Kills Bear

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — There was some bull in the story told today by Jack Barbrick, but he was able to display a bear and a buck to friends who heard the tale.

Barbrick and two other Grand Haven men were on a hunting trip last Sunday in the Newberry area. They met a farmer who said one of his black angus bulls had escaped and asked that it be shot.

Shortly after the three men split up on their hunt, Barbrick spotted a black animal in a cranberry bog. One shot from his 30-30 rifle hit the beast—a bear—which rose on its hind legs and stared at the amazed hunter.

Barbrick said his second shot went wild, but he calmed and pumped two more bullets which felled the 300-pound prize. He downed his buck the following day. The three men failed to spot the bull.

Texas Welter King Wants Title Fight

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Pat O'Grady manager of Texas welterweight champion Mel Barker, sought a world's title fight Sunday and is willing to pay $25,000 to get it.

O'Grady sent wires to the managers of Virgil Akins, the world's champion, and Don Jordan, who challenges Akins at Los Angeles Friday night, with the offer, asking that the winner meet Barker here for the championship early next year.

Barker, 23, has been fighting four years and has a 24-7-4 record. He has been Texas welterweight king for two years and recently fought an 8-rounder in Madison Square Garden in New York, decisioning Danny Russo of Brooklyn.

Barker met Akins in 1956 at East St. Louis and was ahead on points when the fight was stopped in the eighth round because Barker had received damaging cuts.

2 Records Set for State AAU Weightlifters

Two state AAU weightlifting records were set Saturday, in the Southeastern Michigan championships at Pontiac YMCA.

Norbert Schemansky, former Olympic and world champion, pressed (military) 340 pounds for a new mark. He also snatched 300 pounds, and effected a 375-pound jerk for a total of 1015 pounds in three lifts.

Gary Lewis of Ann Arbor set a record for the 132¼-pound division with a 205-pound military press.

Pontiac's only representative, Gary O'Neill, was 2nd in 148¼ class with a 590-pound total. Bill Posey of Pontiac was 4th in physique competition, won by Ernie Sprader of Detroit, who also was winner of the Mr. Southeastern Michigan contest. Sprader received the "most muscular" trophy.

Luke Adams, Detroit, 1958 "Mr. Michigan," presented a posing exhibition as the tourney's finale.

Other winners included — 123¼, Fritz Wilkins (475); 132¼, Gary Lewis, Ann Arbor (605); 148¾ (600), John Buss, Ann Arbor; 165 (715), Rory Lipanski, Detroit; 181¼ (705), Vincent Orlando; 198 (775), Art Lappin, Detroit; heavyweight, Schemansky (195).

Neder of Chile Wins Auto Race

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Sergio Neder of Chile won the annual Satiago-Lima Grand Prix auto race Sunday, covering 2,147 miles in 30 hours, 41 minutes and 51 seconds.

The Chilean's average speed over a dangerous road that runs along the Andes Mountains was nearly 61 miles per hour. He drove a modified stock Ford.

Rains Push Bahama Race Ahead One Day

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Speed Week will be opened with a 112.5-mile Nassau Tourist Trophy auto race tomorrow as a result of rain squalls that lashed the Bahamas yesterday.

Officials pushed the program ahead because the rain created hazardous conditions on the winding race layout on Oakes Field.

Raise, Long-Term Job for Air Force Coach

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col. (AP) —Coach Ben Martin has been rewarded with a new 5-year contract and a healthy pay raise for his success this season with the Air Force Academy football team.

Martin came to the academy last winter from the University of Virginia under a 3-year-contract. The Falcons won eight games and tied their ninth—with Iowa. They complete their season tomorrow at Boulder against Colorado of the Big Eight Conference.

Col. George Simler, academy athletic director, announced Martin's 3-year contract was torn up yesterday. Simler wouldn't disclose the details of the new contract but said it included a pay raise.

WANTED!
MEN — WOMEN

from ages 18 to 51. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings in this area during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay as high as $350.00 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service helps thousands prepare for these tests every year. It is one of the largest and fastest growing privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

Townships Planning MSUO Community

A planned university community is the goal of a unique program being studied by officials of Pontiac and Avon townships for a 22-square mile area surrounding the Michigan State University Oakland campus.

The university community project will be, to a major extent, the primary responsibility of local citizens, according to D. B. Varner, MSU vice president in charge of off-campus affairs and chairman of the coordinating committee.

"This responsibility includes making an inventory of the present area, analyzing the inventory in terms of trends and the present development of the community, and ultimately making projections for the future plans of the community," he said.

Serving on the coordinating committee with Varner are Leroy Davis, Pontiac Township supervisor; Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; C. E. Miller, Avon Township supervisor, and Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press.

To assist in carrying out the program, the help of staff members of the MSU Institute for Community Development and Services has been enlisted. Robert H. Hotaling, a specialist in urban planning from the institute, has been appointed study director by the committee.

In addition to the five-man steering committee, six working committees composed of 30 citizens are involved in the study. Each of these committees will be asking other citizens in the university community to assist in the study.

The university community will includes the areas bounded on the north by Dutton road, on the east by Livernois road, on the south by the Grand Trunk railroad and Auburn road, and on the west by the proposed Walter P. Chrysler expressway, presently planned to be located in the vicinity of Opdyke and Lapeer roads.

Immediate pressing problems, resulting from the location of MSUO and other development trends in the area, are those of land subdivision, sewage disposal, and traffic circulation.

Expected to Get Heat Inspector

Waterford Board Will Pick 5-Member Group at Tonight's Meeting

The Waterford Township Board is expected to appoint a heating inspector and a five-member board when they meet at 7:30 tonight, according to James Seeterlin, township clerk.

A newly-approved heating ordinance makes it mandatory that the township establish a new board whose services will be donated. However, the inspector's salary will be $2.25 an hour, Seeterlin said.

The board will be made up of two elected township officers, two businessmen, and one citizen at large who is required to be a heating engineer.

With the approval of the ordinance by the Detroit Reciprocal Heating Council, local heating contractors may now work in surrounding communities, and outside contractors may work in the township.

In other business, board members will discuss a "green-belt" agreement regarding Burt Smokler's real estate development on M59 at Airport road.

Before the issuance of any commercial permit, Seeterlin said, the township board will require the Smokler company to install a fence and a planting screen around all commercially-zoned areas.

It is expected that Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson will present a report on his meeting today with Detroit bonding attorney Claude Stevens regarding the proposed library to be built on the Frank Steere property.

Johnson, Stevens and attorney Donald E. Adams have been appointed to find some way of raising $200,000 for the first unit of the proposed cultural center on 17 acres of land on M59 and Pontiac Lake road.

After the appointed committee has decided whether to have a bond issue or build the library on a pay-as-you-go plan, the project will be placed in the April 6 ballot for residents' approval.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Bob Considine Says:

Payroll of Plane Staggering Total

NEW YORK—The passing show . . .

Under their agreement with Eastern Air Lines, senior pilots flying the companys' international routes may average about $30,000 a year. The average work month will consist of 85 hours, or 2.8 hours a day. There will be about 18 days off each month.

The American carriers with overseas flights complain that they are being caught in a jurisdictional squeeze involving the Airline Pilots Assn. and the Flight Engineers International Assn. Both are AFL-CIO affiliates.

The pilots now have three of their members in the cockpits of Pan Am 707s and wish to add a fourth for safety purposes. His duties, as outlined, would seem to conflict with those of the flight engineer.

The union suggests that a way out of this would be for the airlines to train their flight engineers to be pilots, to boot. Eastern agreed, but then the flight engineers balked, and struck.

There's no question in the writer's mind that a good pilot is worth his weight in uranium-235. But the average plane passenger isn't hep to the payroll of the crew that takes him to and fro and feeds and waters him en route.

On an average transatlantic jet flight, let's say, if the fourth pilot is added, the plane would hold a $30,000 a year aircraft commander, an experienced co-pilot earning about $18,000, two other pilots in the $10,000 class, a flight engineer at perhaps $15,000 and six stewards and stewardesses at about $5,000 a year each.

A year ago in Moscow we were invited to a wonderful party given by the 11 U. S. Marines who guard the American Embassy. They had saved all year to put on their best possible fete. We wrote a little piece about it, and among those who read the bit was Lt. Col. Bob Kriendler, of Cornell and "21." He did something about it. I am now in receipt of a copy of a letter sent to him by Walter C. Roman, 1st Sgt., USMC, Moscow:

After thanking him for his "splendid contribution," Sgt. Roman wrote:

"We held the ball in the ballroom of our ambassador's residence and hosted 244 people of all Western nationalities. The ball was a candlelight affair, with Chianti bottles used as candelazra. The tables were covered with white, red and green tablecloths. Champagne glasses and silverware were arranged before the guests arrived. When the candles were lighted, the sight was most impressive.

"The buffet served was a gourmet's delight. It included roast beef, baked ham, roast turkey, baked beans, potato salad, cole slaw, hot rolls and, of course, cake for dessert.

"During the course of the evening we consumed 198 bottles of chaampagne, in addition to three cases of whisky and a lot of frozen orange juice. In summation, the ball was a resounding success."

Old Khrushy should have been invited, to see how the Marines of the free world operate.

Bob Christenberry, acting postmaster of New York City, notes:

"During the month of December the employes of the New York post office will be engaged in processing approximately 1,000,000,000 pieces of mail; of which a large percentage represents the concentrated deposit of Christmas parcels and cards destined for delivery during the Yuletide season.

"You can understand, I am sure, that if the public postponed the mailing of gifts and greetings until the last few days before Christmas, the tremendous volume of mail would seriously tax the facilities and various operations of the post office to the point where it would be extremely difficult to effect delivery prior to Christmas Day.

"May I, therefore, request your participation in our 'Mail Early for Christmas' campaign by conveying our message to the readers of your newspaper column."

Unemployment Pay Pressure Eases Off

DETROIT (UPI) —A back-to-work trend in Lansing, Saginaw, Grand Rapids and Flint has eased the pressure on Michigan's recession-hit unemployment compensation fund, MESC director Max M. Horton has reported.

Horton said the state fund came closer to balance in October than in any other month since August, 1957, and was expected to be in balance shortly after the first of the year if the present trend continues.

The state director said auto industry callbacks and an impending increase in payroll taxes were primarily responsible for the improved outlook for the fund.

Hollywood Headlines:

Argentinian Is Worried About American Males

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Do American men need more time among themselves?

Fernando Lamas thinks so, if they are not to be dominated by their wives.

This could stir up a hornets nest of female indignation, but the Argentine actor doesn't mind. He feels it is important for American males to be the victors in the age-old battle of the sexes.

"In Latin America, we have a very fine custom—the after-work cafe," Lamas declared. "When the men finish their jobs for the day, they drop by for a drink or some coffee. They talk against their employers and their wives and get it out of their systems. Then they go home happy.

"In this country, men have little opportunity for fellowship with each other. They go directly home to their wives. Because of this, they are in danger of losing their masculinity."

Lest the ladies leave our discussion in a huff, let me hastily add that Fernando is all for the American woman. He has demonstrated by marrying one, a gorgeous redhead named Arlene Dahl.

"Many foreigners tell me they cannot stand American women because they are too bossy," he remarked. "I think such men are cowards. They prefer foreign women because they are willing to be subservient. To me, those women are too docile. After centuries of trying, they have given up trying to reach equality with men. Living with them might be easier for men, but it would also become a bore.

"I like American women because they know how to fight."

Some American males, he lamented, aren't willing to fight back. And so they wind up being assistant housewives, washing dishes, changing diapers and wearing aprons as badge of their defeat.

"A man shouldn't enter the kitchen unless he really likes to cook as a hobby," Fernando stated positively. "When he comes home after being away for 10 hours at work and on the highway, he shouldn't be required to do housework."

About 93 per cent of Sweden's farms are privately owned.

JEREMY CHRISTMAS — A Yuletide Story — BY WALT SCOTT

County Sheriff's Department Well Armed With New Rifles

By DICK SAUNDERS

Lawmen of the Old West knew a fast draw was a necessity, but they also knew that with a six-shooter, no matter how fast on the draw, you just "never mess around with a man with a rifle."

This rule still holds true with modern lawmen, and due to recent events, the phrase could be stated more simply: "Never mess around with an Oakland County sheriff's deputy."

The Sheriff's Department arsenal has been swelled by the addition of nearly a dozen .30 caliber carbines, issued to the department by the Michigan Civil Defense through its Oakland County Department.

The new rifles are a welcome addition to deputies who have been limited mainly to the use of revolvers and sawed off shotguns.

Although the new guns presently are slated for emergencies only, it is expected they'll be standard equipment by the end of this year.

As soon as deputies have been thoroughly trained in the use of the new firearms, the rifles will replace shotguns in patrol cars.

"These rifles will increase our accuracy and efficiency more than it is easy to imagine," Sheriff Frank W. Irons says.

"Although our arsenal was by no means 'weak,' it now contains guns which are specialized in their uses and gives us a better choice of weapons with which to handle nearly any conceivable situation."

The department's official keeper-of-the-guns, Sgt. Marion Bauman, said, "We have a dozen .12-gauge sawed-off shotguns used primarily for riot control due to their wide range.

"In the event we were hunting a suspect or escaped convict in an outlying area, a shotgun would limit our firepower and range."

This would also be true of an armed man holed up in a house, or in the event of chasing him in a car at more than 50 yards range, buckshot would bounce off his auto," Bauman said.

"The carbines are all-around weapons. From long range we can pick our targets and call our shots with increased firepower and accuracy.

"Shotguns are excellent for several types of situations, but they generally are looked on as riot guns."

Bauman added that no deputy would be without a revolver in any case, but that the new carbines would "outdistance and outshoot any type of gun already in the arsenal, with exception of the .45 caliber submachineguns.

"The new rifles are also extremely flexible, being small, compact and easy to handle," Bauman pointed out. "One clip holds 15 rounds, which is considerably better than the half-dozen rounds fired by our shotguns before reloading."

Just how well one can call his shots is decided by a deputy's knowledge of his gun, according to Bauman. Picking-off an armed criminal through a second story window would not pose a very rigorous test for the carbines. They are that accurate.

When asked about hitting a criminal escaping while holding another person in front of him for cover, Bauman put it this way:

"You've got to know your gun. Know exactly how it fires. I wouldn't attempt to shoot a man in this type of situation with a gun I had only fired once or twice.

"But I have a rifle of my own. I know it and its peculiarities like a personal friend. And I know I can light matches with it."

Sheriff's deputies won't be using their newly-aquired firearms for lighting matches — that's for sure.

But before long they'll be completely equipped to offer the community even better protection than in the past.

CALL YOUR SHOTS — That's what these new .30 caliber carbines will enable Oakland County sheriff's deputies to do. While the deputies have revolvers (limited in range) and sawed-off shotguns (limited in range and accuracy) at their disposal, these new rifles will offer greatly multiplied firepower and accuracy. They are especially useful when chasing or tracking down criminals, in car or on foot, and "flushing" armed criminals from hideouts. Looking over the newly-acquired rifles are Sheriff Frank W. Irons (left) and Sgt. Marion Bauman.

Douglas Tests New Jetliner in California

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Douglas Aircraft Company's new DC8 jetliner capable of carrying 135 passengers and cargo at speeds up to 585 miles an hour made a 55-minute test flight over the weekend.

The large white, blue-and-red-trimmed jet described by Douglas officials as the most powerful and fastest jet transport ever flown took off at Long Beach Municipal Airport Saturday, circled out over the Pacific Ocean and landed here nearly an hour later.

Test Pilot A. G. Heimerdinger, who tested the DC8 on its initial flight last May, flew the swept-wing craft.

Kill Farm Control, Urges Sec. Benson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fate of government machinery to control farm production is hanging in the balance.

Whether to junk this machinery, used on and off for many crops since the early Roosevelt New Deal days—may well become a major issue in Congress.

There are solid signs that various agricultural forces are lining up for a battle.

Controls were put on to bolster farm income but, says Secretary of Agriculture Benson, they do not work. Abandon them and free the farmers to produce as they wish, he urges. Lower farm price supports to allow farm products to become fully competitive in domestic and foreign markets, he advises.

The secretary argues that under such conditions farmers would be able to sell products that now pile up in government warehouses as surpluses.

Benson has the support of the influential American Farm Bureau Federation.

Certainly big surpluses have accumulated despite use of controls and payment of subsidies to farmers holding land out of production.

Critics of control measures got an important assist when growers voted overwhelmingly in a referendum last Tuesday to end acreage restrictions on corn, the nation's largest single crop.

But the National Grange—generally regarded as a moderate in farm issues—raised a challenging hand at its recent convention at Grand Rapids, Mich.

In an obvious reply to Benson, the Grange said in resolutions that "unless effective ways are devised to adjust production to effective market demand, the prospect of the future is that total available supplies will consistently exceed effective demand under normal conditions, even at lower prices."

Takes Letter 31 Years to Reach 60 Miles

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — It took 31 years for a letter mailed in Omaha to reach Lincoln, 60 miles away.

When first mailed, the letter needed only two cents postage. By the time it was delivered, the rate had climbed to four cents.

The letter from James M. Johnson, mailed in 1927, was addressed to George G. Zellers, then an employe of the Nebraska Supreme Court. After it turned up at the statehouse recently, the letter was forwarded to Zellers at Columbus, Neb., where he now is a district court reporter.

College Officials Seek Equal Sign Treatment

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (UPI) — There are signs on Westchester parkways pointing out directions to a trotting track, a shopping center, a cemetery and many other places.

Therefore, county officials were asked by an official of Sarah Lawrence College, why aren't there any telling how to get to Sarah Lawrence?

RAF Fighter Group Wants Rattlesnake

LONDON (UPI)—An RAF fighter squadron has appealed for a rattlesnake—live or stuffed.

Fighter squadron 66 at Acklington, Morpeth, Northumberland, has had a rattlesnake emblem for 20 years, but no mascot to go with it.

Flying officer K. W. Hayr said the squadron wanted one for its very own. Live will do. Or stuffed.

Americans in rattlesnake territory could take this as a hint. The London Zoo has a rattler but won't give it up. Pet shops in London do not stock them

Official Regrets Short-Sighted Skunk Policy

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI) — Marin County, overpopulated this year with pesky varmints, offered a $1 bounty for tails of skunks and raccoons.

Some 38 tails later, County agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam wasn't sure it had all been worth it.

Twice claimants walked into his office with skunk tails and both times he was unable to use the office for the rest of the day.

Denver Members of Legion Forced to Eat Crow

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI)—Fifteen American Leagion officials from Denver, Colo., will eat crow here Friday to pay off a lost bet.

Shreveport won a contest between the two cities for the largest chapter in the nation.

While the second-place Denver officials, including Mayor W. F. Nicholson and former Gov. Dan Thornton, dine on roast crow, their Shreveport hosts will be dining on roast beef.

'Monkey Trial" Prosecutor Notes New Finds

Sees No Religion-Science Conflict

(Written for UPI

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — I feel that eventually, when the full truth of everything is known, Science and Religion will go hand in hand.

I dislike anything that may have a tendency to keep back from mankind any discovery that will shed light on these mysterious things. I feel sure that man will continue to search for the truth, and if there be such a thing as the "missing link," he will find it.

Like Thomas Edison, I do not see how anyone could question that there is a tremendous and completely over-awing intellect behind the creation of this world and the cosmic scheme of things.

I believe that this intellect is divine.

I think that the decisions of the courts of Tennessee in th now famous "Monkey trial" at Dayton, Tenn., in July, 1925, would still stand regardless of recent discoveries, including that of a skelgeton in Grosseto, Italy, by soft coal miners in a shaft 600 feet down.

STATUTE STANDS

The Tennessee statute remains today unchanged and a new trial, if brought in the lower courts today, would have to be tried as was the case of John Thomas Scopes in 1925.

The law was passed in 1925 when a member of the legislature by the name of Butler introduced an act and persuaded the members of the legislature to support it. This act made it unlawful "to teach any theory that denies the story of the divine creation of man as told in the Bible, and to teach instead that man descened from a lower order of animal."

Mr. Scopes had taught in the public schools of Rhea County that man was created by an evolutionary process and that he had evolved from one cell and probably had descended from the monkey, as I recall it.

It was not a case of whether the theory of evolution was right or wrong. The law said it could not be taught and that anyone who undertook to teach such a theory would be guilty of a misdemeanor.

KEEP TRIAL FAIR

As district attorney general in the trial of this case, it was my responsibility to see that the case was legally and fairly tried and kept entirely within the bounds of law and rules of evidence.

The only thing that might have been affected by the discovery of the Italian miners in Grosetto, Italy, insofar as the Tennessee volution law is concerned, would have been a psychological or persuasive effect upon the members of the legislature at the time they passed such a law—assuming that such discoveries had been made prior to passage of the act. It might in the long run have the effect of creating sentiment for the repeal of such a law.

I have often wondered about the wisdom of this law. Our state constitution admonishes us to "cherish science."

It seems to m there cannot be any actual conflict between the Bible and Science and I think recent discoveries in the Holy Land have caused people to believe this. Certainly, many of these late discoveries have sustained the authenticity of many Bible stories.

The mind of man is anxious to know the truth about anything that exists in the world and none of us should have any desire to suppress the truth or to hamper these investigations and this research.

Progress Made on Test Ban

Delegates Finally Agree to Draw Up Treaty for Controls

GENEVA (AP)—East-West negotiators have agreed to start drafting a treaty on a controlled nuclear test ban even though they are still far apart on the main issue.

After four weeks of sparring on which must come first, the ban or a system to enforce it, the British, American and Soviet delegates agreed Saturday to being their first real negotiations of the conference.

Each side gave in a bit. The West temporarily dropped its demand that the Soviet Union first commit herself to the details of a control system to detect sneak tests. Instead, the British and Americans proposed that the conference discuss a test ban which they said would be linked inseparably with the control system.

The Soviet Union agreed to the discussion, after having previously held out for a permanent ban as the first step.

But Western delegates saw no chance of ultimate agreement on a treaty if the Soviets remain adamant against accepting an international system to detect tests.

The 10-nation conference on preventing surprise attacks remained deadlocked, with the Soviets refusing to discuss Western technical papers and the West refusing to take up political questions on disarmament and the cold war that the Soviets have proposed.

Grain Futures Trading Slow

CHICAGO (AP)—Early grain futures transactions on the Board of Trade today were at their slowest pace in several weeks, with prices narrowly changed from previous closes.

Unusually light cash receipts for a Monday were credited with steadying the market, even though commercial demand was virtually absent. Dealers said the market appeared to be stalled until some rather significant influences appear to force it out of its recent restricted trading ranges.

At its present position, they said, there is no incentive to buy or sell.

Prices were mostly irregular near the end of the first hour. Wheat was ¼ cent a bushel higher to ¼ lower, December $1.94⅞; corn ⅞ higher to ⅛ lower, December old type contract $1.13⅞; oats unchanged to ½ higher, December $.63⅞; rye ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, December $1.30½; soybeans ¼ to ⅞ higher, January $2.15⅛.

Dodge Strike Talks Scheduled Today

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. officials and United Auto Workers Union leaders meet today in an effort to settle a dispute before a Tuesday morning strike deadline at the Dodge assembly plant in suburban Hamtramck.

Some 8,500 UAW members are scheduled to walk off their jobs at 10 a.m. tomorrow if no agreement has been reached by that time. The dispute involves working conditions.

C. Patrick Quinn, president of UAW Local 3, said Chrysler had stepped up production schedules and eliminated relief time for workers. The company denied the charge.

Nabbed for Bootlegging

Leroy Phumphrey, 53, of 117 Bagley St., was arrested at 1 a.m. today for investigation of maintaining and operating an illegal liquor establishment.

Hot Cross Bun to Poor

Hot cross buns originated in England. A group of 14th century monks are said to have started the custom, making the rolls themselves and handing them to the poor on Good Friday morning.

Burst of Buying Boosts Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — An early burst of buying sent stock prices whirling fractionally to about 1 point higher today. It also helped throw the ticker behind floor transactions.

Several big blocks crossed the tape, invariably at higher prices. There were 10,000 shares of Studebaker-Packard up ⅜, 12,000 American Standard up ⅜, 10,500 Combustion Engineering up 2¼ and 11,000 Armour up ¾.

Favorable news included higher construction contracts in October, reports of climbing automobile sales as dealers get more cars into showrooms, a reduction in unemployment for October and November and expectations of a pickup early next year in the steel operating rate.

Most aircraft manufacturers were in heavy demand. General Dynamics ran up 2 points, North American Aviation 1 and Douglas ½. But United Aircraft lost ⅝.

A block of 12,000 shares of Fairchild Engineering crossed the tape at 12½ up ⅝. A 10,000 share block of Siegler was up 1⅛ at 27⅞.

Among higher stocks were such blue chips as American Telephone & Telegraph, U.S. Steel, Du Pont, Kennecott, Eastman Kodak, Goodrich, Texas Co., and Johns Manville.

Ortonville Man Shoots Self in Freak Mishap

An Ortonville man is listed in fair condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after accidentally shooting himself with a .22 caliber rifle Saturday night.

Charles H. Allen, 28, of 460 Jossman Rd., told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies that he had come in from hunting and when he set the rifle down it accidentally discharged.

The bullet evidently ricocheted off the ceiling and a wall and struck Allen in the back of the head said detectives.

Settlement Near in TWA Strike

By The Associated Press

Air travelers had cause for optimism today. Quick settlement of a 10-day-old machinists' strike against Trans World Airlines, one of two major lines immobilized by labor disputes, was expected.

Whether the optimism would grow or take a sour turn depended upon developments in Kansas City and New York City.

At a dinner hour recess of negotiations in Kansas City Sunday night, Cliff Miller, chairman of District 142, International Assn. of Machinists, said: "It's not a question of 'if' in getting this thing settled any more. It's a question of how soon."

The bargaining session ended at midnight and was scheduled to resume today. The machinists struck TWA last Nov. 21.

Eastern Air Lines, struck by the machinists and the Flight Engineers International Assn. last Monday, offered to submit many of its differences with the engineers to arbitration. The proposal was rejected.

Representatives of two other carriers, American Airlines and Pan American World Airways, appear in court in New York City today in labor disputes.

American, the nation's biggest airline, is seeking to make permanent a temporary federal injunction against a strike by the Air Line Pilots Assn.

Pan American is seeking an injunction in State Supreme Court forbidding its employes to refuse to work overtime. The workers, 8,000 ground and flight service employes, are members of the Transport Workers Union.

A weeklong strike of 30-odd stewardesses continued against the Lake Central Airlines. Negotiators failed to reach agreement in Indianapolis Sunday. The line serves Ohio, Indiana, and parts of Pennsylvania, Illinois and Michigan.

The snarled airline situation jammed trains, buses and planes of operating airlines as the long Thanksgiving weekend closed and the back-to-school-or-home movement reached a peak.

Brown Accepts Job With Ziem

Recent GOP Candidate to Be Prosecutor's Aide in Royal Oak

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today announced that Donald A. Brown, unsuccessful candidate for Michigan lieutenant governor last month, has been hired as an assistant prosecutor attached to the Oakland County office's Royal Oak branch.

The 34-year-old Brown returns to the Prosecutor's Office after an absence of two years. He resigned his assistant prosecutor's job in May of 1956 to go into private law practice and run for state representative on the Republican ticket.

Brown, of 900 Lexington St., Royal Oak, represented Royal Oak, Clawson, Huntington Woods and Pleasant Ridge (District 5) in the Michigan House of Representatives for two years. While he was finishing out his first two years, he joined forces with GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul D. Bagwell to form a governor-lieutenant governor team for the Nov. 4 election.

Ziem said Brown will take over a new $5,900-a-year post in the southend office to help ease the unusually heavy load down there since Assistant Prosecutor LeRoy W. McEntee has been in the county sanatorium with tuberculosis.

The new post, which brings to a total of 12 the number of assistants Ziem's office has, was approved by the Board of Supervisors in July.

Although Brown might take over his new duties sooner, Ziem said the effective date of the appointment is Jan. 1.

Ice Crystals in Fuel Said Crash Cause

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The crash of a Stratofort bomber last February has led to investigations revealing that tiny crystals of ice in the fuel system might have caused 37 Air Force jets to crash during the past two and a half years.

Marvin Miles, space-aviation editor of the Los Angeles Times, yesterday reported that investigations of a crash at Ellsworth Air Force Base near Rapid City, S. D., found ice in the fuel pump strainer and wing-tip of a Stratofort.

The conclusion was that the ice produced a power loss, causing the plane to crash.

Looking back, Miles said Air Force officers reported the ice buildup could explain crashes of other jets, including the B47, B57, B66, F84, F86, F100 and T33 trainers.

Miles said the similarity of weight of water and jet fuel made the presence of water difficult to detect. Once in the cold air at high altitudes, however, the ice crystals could stop pumps, clog fuel lines and cause flame outs (loss of power), he said.

News in Brief

Lawrence McLeod, of 210 S. Jessie St., reported to Pontiac Police Sunday that someone had illegally entered his home and had stolen $70 from a dresser drawer.

A break-in at the Motor Mart, 121 E. Montcalm St., in which burglars escaped with five hub-caps valued at $23 and a tire valued at $27, was reported by Pontiac Police Sunday.

Caterpillar Strike Ends for 12,000

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Ending a seven-week strike, 12,000 United Auto Worker (UAW) union members returned to work today at the Caterpillar Tractor Co.'s East Peoria, Morton and Mossville works.

They ratified a new wage contract yesterday. Its basic provisions provide for general wage increases ranging from 8 to 17 cents an hour this year, a one-cent cost of living boost, increases of 6 cents and 7 cents an hour effective in October 1959 and 1960 and increased pension and vacation benefits. Wages under the old contract, which expired in July, ranged from 2.04½ to $3.16½ an hour.

Caterpillar and UAW officials also reached agreement yesterday on a new wage contract for the 2,000 workers at Caterpillar's Decatur works. The striking workers will vote on ratification tomorrow. About 600 workers are on strike at the company's York, Pa., plant and negotiations still are in progress there.

28 Hunters Dead, Deer Season Ends

By The Associated Press

Another deer hunting season in Michigan has passed into the record. The 1958 season ended Sunday with a toll of 28 hunter deaths.

Eleven persons were killed by accidental gunfire in the 15 days of the season. The other 17 died of heart attacks.

The last gunfire death was that of Mrs. Claudette Allen, 24, of East Lansing.

Mrs. Allen was killed Saturday north of Cadillac when a gun in the hands of her husband, David, 28, a Michigan State University student, discharged accidentally. State Police said Allen was cleaning snow from the barrel at the time.

Businessmen Look Around, Predict Better Days Ahead

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Just as June is the month of brides December is the month of those who read tea leaves to foretell the future of business.

And already the predictions are for better days ahead — perhaps because the days behind weren't notably too good.

The Agriculture Department is out on the limb with a forecast that everything will be better in 1959 except farm income. This limb is a bit shaky because farm income depends on many things, but a major one is weather. And even Washington isn't too confident when predicting weather.

Most corporate executives now holding forth think business will be better — particularly for their own firms.

They're counting heavily on the consumers. And the Prudential Insurance Co. of America says that consumers will spend 16 billion dollars more next year for a record 307 billion dollars.

The share that will go for consumer durables — autos, household appliances and the like — will rise from this year's 36½ billion dollars to 40 billion dollars next year and 46 billion in 1960, according to the economists of Mc-Graw-Hill, business publication firm.

Dun & Bradstreet says all but a handful of 109 corporate executives it queried expect business to be better next year, although none predicts an out and out boom until the 60's.

F. W. Dodge Corp., which keeps a watchful eye on construction contract awards, reports that they've been setting monthly records the last six months, and that should mean plenty of activity in the months ahead.

Prudential economists spread their optimism over more territory than almost anyone else. They predict: 1. A substantial increase in employment, 1½ million more jobs; 2. A rise in wages although maybe at not quite so fast a rate as in the past; and 3. Gains in corporate profits although not much change in dividend payments.

Business will reverse its 1958 policy of living off inventories and will start adding to them again in 1959. This should add 7½ billion dollars to national output, say the insurance men. They also think business will spend more on plant and equipment, some two billion dollars more.

On perhaps surer ground, they predict that federal government spending will rise by 3½ billion dollars, state and local spending by four billion dollars.

F. W. Dodge also reports contracts for residential building so far this year are 10 per cent ahead of last year. And the insurance boys think 1959 should see home buyers shelling out one billion dollars more this year, with housing starts rising by 50,000 to 1½ billion units.

But prices of most consumer goods, the Prudential economists say cheerfully, will be restrained from rising much during the first half of 1959 because of "the temporary excess in the labor force, together with increased productivity per manhour and an excess in plant capacity."

Plan for Auto Supermart Saves Money for Buyers

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — A new plan for selling automobiles in a supermarket fashion, which may become a reality in Detroit next summer, poses a threat to auto dealers but holds promise for auto buyers.

Robert W. Orlick, an enterprising young man who formerly served as district manager for three auto companies and assistant to the vice president of a fourth, has announced plans to build an automobile supermarket in the world's largest shopping center, right in the motor capital.

Orlick, who was connected previously with General Motors, Chrysler, American Motors and Kaiser-Frazer, is convinced that present methods of selling automobiles "have become antiquated and obsolete."

His plan for an automobile supermarket will bring automotive selling back into pace with new techniques of production, he said.

The plan is this:

First a large building, capable of displaying 600 automobiles and providing office space for numerous dealers, insurance companies, loan agencies and license plate agencies, would be constructed.

Then dealers in various lines of cars would be invited to lease space in the building to display their cars. Space also would be leased to the other agencies so all transactions can be completed quickly.

A service agency would lease space in the building and assume service responsibilities for all cars sold in the center under a contract with the dealers.

This would not only make it easier for a person to buy a new car quickly and compare all various lines of cars under one roof, but it would save the car buyer money, Orlick claimed.

Because the dealers' overhead costs and service costs would be reduced under the supermarket setup, greater savings could be passed along to the customer, he said.

Actually, the supermarket idea of selling new cars was proposed several years ago. But at that time it ran into difficulties because it called for all lines of cars to be handled by one dollar. The auto companies were reticent about franchising a dealer who planned to handle a competitor's lines of cars too.

Dealers themselves were not in favor of the idea because it would have meant fewer dealers would be needed and many would be forced out of business.

The new variation, which Orlick plans to start in Detroit's Northland Shopping Center next summer, will still threaten to eliminate some dealers but not as many as the old plan. And Orlick says 13 dealers will open for business when his new automobile supermarket opens.

This would mean these dealers would be able to undersell other dealers in the area because their overhead would be lower. Those who can't meet the competition would be forced out of business.

But for the customer, it might mean a saving of up to $60, although Orlick refused to specify what the saving might be.

A Ford Motor Co. survey showed about $80 of the cost of a new car could be attributed to dealer overhead alone. This figure might be cut to as low as $20 if several dealers shared the same building.

Part of this saving might be retained by the dealers, many of whom feel their margin of profit is too low now. But reduced service costs through the use of a single service agency for all the dealers would result in further savings which could be passed along to the customer and could bring the total saving to the customer to at least $60.

Exports Lobster Tails

CANBERRA — Australia exported $5,10,000 worth of lobster tails in 1957, an increase of 20 per cent the first time the industry's earnings have topped the $5,000,000 mark. Exports totaled 4,950,000 pounds, or 254,000 pounds above 1956.

1,200 Without Water in Waterford Sunday

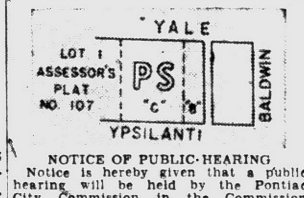

About 1,200 householders in Waterford Township were without water for three hours yesterday after the pumping station in Huron Gardens Subdivision broke down, according to Township Clerk James Seeterlin.

A fuse in the main control mechanism blew out, shutting off power to the station. Because of the breakdown, the water system became rusty, forcing the water department to flush the system today, Seeterlin said.

Certain Danger Spots

Certain areas in your home may well be regarded as "danger spots." Unless these places are fully protected from wind, rain and weather by good coatings of paint they may prove the beginning of an expansive repair job. The areas are the sills, thresholds, porch floors and steps, joints of porch railings and palings, bases of pillars, edges of eaves, flashings, roof gutters and down-spouts.

About 3,500 children under age 15 die of cancer yearly.

Parents Can't Believe It

Youth, 18, Admits Killing 3

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP). — "I've never spanked him more than once or twice," said the father of Nearvel Moon, 18, charged in a triple slaying.

The youth was a respectful, obedient son, W. V. Moon said. "He always said 'Yes, sir' and 'No, sir.'"

"I just don't believe he did it," the father, a welder said. "It doesn't make sense to me."

Nearvel told police he robbed two Houston men and shot them and one man's son Saturday. He said he stumbled across them shooting at tin cans about 15 miles west of here.

He signed a written statement. The youth later told newsmen he robbed the men to get money to have his mother's teeth fixed. The holdup netted $40.

"They must have misunderstood what Nearvel said," the mother replied.

Felled by a burst of .22 rifle shots were Bertram J. Appleton, 38; his son Steven, 11; and Lee Hanson, 40.

A young woman in a party of horseback riders, Gail Gillaspy, 17, found the bodies after she and the others followed an armed, masked man through brush country when they heard gunfire.

Moon told police he hadn't planned to kill anyone but that Appleton suddenly started running and yelling.

"I shot him and he fell into the creek. . . . In just a second the other guy — the middle-aged one—ran at me I shot him twice and he fell. The little boy went to running aawy from me and hollering that he would do anything I wanted him to do if I wouldn't shoot him. But I shot him in the chest as he turned toward me."

Demand for Slag Rises

GARY, Ind. — Slag, the by-product of steel-plant blast furnaces, is widely used in concrete making, roofing, road building, home insulation, and sewage-filtering processes. It is made up largely of lime, silica, alumina and magnesia, and small quantities of sulphur, manganese oxide, and iron oxide. Sales of the material now run about 35,000,000 tons a year compared with 30,000,000 five years ago.

Over 180-Mile Area

Quakes Jolt West Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five earthquakes jolted Southern California Sunday night from Los Angeles to the Mexican border 180 miles away.

Only one of the quakes did any damage but the series of sharp jolts shook up thousands of residents in three counties.

Hardest hit was Calexico, on the Mexican border in Imperial County. Plaster fell from the ceiling of a market, windows were shattered and canned goods tumbled from the shelves. No one was injured.

Ten minutes later a much lighter quake was felt in Los Angeles. Over the next few hours three aftershocks from the border quake set the earth trembling along the geological faults running through the area. More aftershocks are expected.

Coastal communities from San Diego to San Clemente—a 60-mile stretch—felt the tremors.

Hamburger, Hot Dog Invade Paris Cafes

PARIS — The hamburger and hot dog have invaded this gastronomic gateway. Establishments, dispensing these all-American favorites, have sprung up, according to a large airline, across the city from the cobbled courtyards of the Left Bank to the elegant Champs-Elysees.

Gourmets need not, however, sound the alarm for "le snack" is not about to push Tournedos Rossini or Coq au Vin off the menu. The lack of rivalry between these two schools of cooking is, in fact, a shining example of culinary coexistence.

The French, confident that the Americans are no threat in the kitchen, offer the hamburger all the liberty, equality and fraternity enjoyed by the escargot or the truffle.

Parking Meter Ruling May Be Unenforcable

The state attorney general ruled that the state has no jurisdiction over the parking lot since it is leased from the Northern Pacific railroad and is not public property.

Who Started Rumor Film Making's Fun?

By EARL WILSON

NATCHEZ, Miss.—The wife and I were down here in the beautiful Southland covering a Whisky Rebellion of John Wayne's and Bill Holden's which never got gurgling.

This Hollywood director guy, John Ford, licked them.

He is an old-timer, 63, white-haired, with a black eye-patch, and he had three other guys sniffing Wayne's and Holden's breaths for traces of alcoholic beverage.

(It is not true that the sniffers fainted from the fumes.)

WILSON

"The Old Man"—he was a rear admiral in World War II—had to get them to bed nights before they got ornery. He was shooting a Civil War cavalry picture, "Horse Soldiers."

They had to roll out at 6 o'clock and at that hour around there it was colder than a bus driver's grunt. They would do something cheery—such as ride horses through an icy creek—then shiver into the Bellemont motel, gulp some scalding coffee, and announce that John Ford is a dictator.

"The Old Man," Duke Wayne snorted, "got us to make a two-drinks-a-day pact. I never take two drinks a day. Twenty, maybe, not two. Two I find a very uninteresting number."

There was this hint of mutiny in his voice.

The new blonde beauty, Connie Towers, looked interested.

CONNIE

She had to gallop through the brush in one scene escaping from Holden who thought she was a Confederate spy. "I think to myself, 'I must be out of my mind, running from Holden,'" she said. "'Why don't I let him catch me?'"

Bill Holden sniffled eloquently. He said the Old Man has blank airline tickets. Catching anybody napping, or nipping, he says, "You want to go home?"

"You don't want to go home!" Bill sniffled again. "Like when the Old Man told me to swim that creek.

"I said, 'There might be alligators and moccasin in that soup and I'm just over the flu and nobody can make me go in.' That's what I told him. Then I went in."

"Yeah, and no other director ever capped six Oscars," Duke Wayne said. "I quite college to work for this guy as a prop boy."

Duke glanced at Producer Marty Rackin who was trying to shoo everybody to bed and was as nervous as a spinster at a nudist convention.

"I don't think a short brandy would hurt me." He looked around for Ford's eye-patch. It wasn't in view.

"He's got that weak eye but he sees everything he should" —Duke tossed down the drink — "and a lot of things he shouldn't!" Then Wayne, the Hollywood high-liver, arose to his 6-feet-4 and lumbered off to bed—at a fast 9:30 P.M.

Singing Star Bounces Back

Native Detroiter Busy in Musical and Straight Dramatic Roles

NEW YORK—Johnny Desmond may well be rated the "comeback star of the year." Besides his co-starring role with Dorothy Collins on "Your Hit Parade," Desmond is star of the Broadway musical, "Say, Darling," and has a forthcoming motion picture, "China Doll." To Desmond, it seems a long way since he sprang to stardom during World War II as the featured vocalist with Maj. Glenn Miller's famous Air Force Band.

Born in Detroit, Desmond is the youngest of four children. His real name is Giovanni Alfredo de Simonne. At Northeastern High in Detroit, he was a member of the school's glee club.

When he was not working in his father's grocery store, young Johnny diligently studied voice, piano and tap dancing. He sang as a soprano, and then, "one day," he calls, "Bang! I was a baritone. The whole thing was frightening."

It was in radio that Desmond got his professional start. At 11, he sang on a Detroit station children's program, and later, in his teens, his voice was heard on "The Lone Ranger" and "The Green Hornet" serials.

Forming a teenage vocal group, he auditioned for Bob Crosby, who signed them and named them "The Bob-O-Links." The featured vocalist of the group, Ruth Keddington, was particularly a hit with Desmond. She soon was Mrs. Desmond.

After marriage, Desmond soloed with the Gene Krupa band, leaving only to enlist in the Air Force. Assigned to the Miller aggregation, Desmond was a smash with both GIs and Europeans. The French dubbed him "Le Cremair," which is, roughly translated, the love-song balladeer.

Upon his discharge from service, Desmond was in great demand for night club dates and radio. But success was short lived. As he explains it: "I was young, fresh out of the service, inexperienced, and most important of all, I didn't know how to handle my career."

The descent was meteoric; the comeback was slow. A big factor was the offer, in 1948, of a three-month stint on "Don McNeill's Breakfast Club" that stretched into a six-year stand. Regaining confidence, he decided to widen his range to include acting.

He was a hit in a straight role in the "Danger" series on the CBS Television Network and then on other drama programs, which led to Hollywood and such movies as "Calypso Heat Wave" and "Escape From San Quentin."

In this era of sock-and-buskin success, he also was waxing hot on records, scoring big hits with "C'est Si Bon," "The Yellow Rose of Texas" and "The High and the Mighty."

The Desmonds, who have two daughters, Diane (12) and Patti (9), live in Manhasset, Long Island.

MSUO Now Accepting Applications for Classes

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University is accepting applications for its first freshman class at the branch college at Rochester, Oakland County.

But it's up to the Legislature whether the branch opens for business in the fall of 1959 as planned.

About 150 letters of inquiry have been received to date. They are coming in at the rate of 8 to 10 a day. Tentative plans are for a freshman class of 600.

In its budget for the new branch, MSU is asking for an $84,000 deficiency appropriation and an appropriation of $590,000 to operate for the first year.

It is hoping to obtain a commitment for the first appropriation from the Legislature some time in February. This would be used to employ a dean to head the academic setup temporarily, a registrar, a librarian, some books for the library and a start on recruiting a faculty.

The second appropriation, for the 1959-60 fiscal year, would pay salaries of the first members of the faculty—about 30 full time professors — for maintenance and expenses of administrative machinery.

The new campus will be located on the 1,400-acre Meadowbrook Farms estate given to the university by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson. The estate and the sprawling Meadowbrook Hall manor house, crammed with art treasures are valued at 10 million dollars.

The Wilsons also gave two million dollars for construction of the first academic building. This will contain 39 classrooms, two lecture halls, four elementary and advanced chemistry and physics labarotories, a library and facilityand administrative offices.

A student center for food service and social activities also is being planned for the fall opening.

Degree programs are being offered in business administrati engineering, liberal arts and teacher education.

Martial Law Lifted by Jordan's King

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Martial law was lifted today and Jordan's citizens resumed almost normal living after 19 months under the military restrictions.

The order ending the martial regime was issued Saturday night by King Hussein, who clamped on the iron rule in April 1957 during a crisis created by alleged efforts of Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic to smash the Jordan monarchy.

Military rule was intensified at the time of the coup in Iraq last July when Hussein's cousin King Faisal was murdered and a similar plot against Hussein uncovered.

Green and Gold Here to Stay on Michigan Plates

DETROIT (AP) — Any critics to the contrary, the colors of Michigan's 1959 auto license plates are to stay green and gold for three years.

Secretary of State James M. Hare says that despite complaints the state department has no intention of changing the colors.

"We can't please them all," he said.

Hare said there always has been some criticism that the plates were either "too drab or too vivid." He said complaints have been especially heavy since the standard grey and black was abandoned in 1954.

The secretary said that the sale of tags for 1960 and 1961 will permit a saving of $250,000. The tags are to be attached to the corners of the 1959 plates.

Woman From Thailand Studies State Accounting

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's highway department is getting a going over by a woman accountant with the royal highway department in Thailand.

Miss Pacherin Pachotigarn has begun a nine-month study of the department's accounting system in preparation for taking over as head of a new statistical section in the Thailand department.

Miss Pachotigarn, the first accountant from Thailand sent to the U.S. to study financial systems, was assigned to calculating her department's entire expenditures for the last four years.

She will study all phases of statistical and cost accounting procedures during her stay here.

Fine Serves Purpose

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. (UPI) — Franklin Billings Jr. paid a $20 fine for a road violation and told the court: "This makes me more aware than ever of highway hazards and I am confident it will give me more insight into traffic problems both as an individual and a traffic court judge."

An adequate water system for a modern farm must be able to deliver 300 to 600 gallons per day.

Temple Blast Case Trial Starts Today

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Five men charged with dynamiting a Jewish temple in Atlanta are scheduled to go on trial in Fulton Superior Court today.

The five are Wallace H. Allen, George Allen Bright, Kenneth Chester Griffin, Robert and Richard Bowling. They have been held in jail without bond since their arrest.

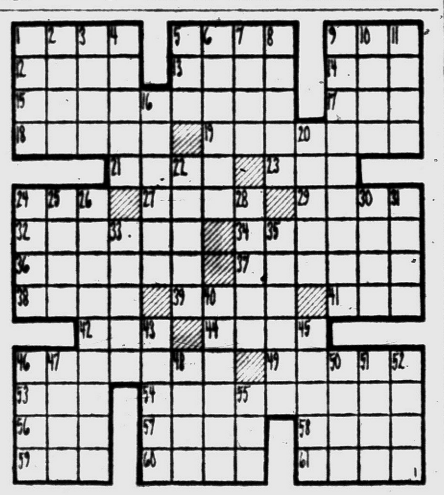

The five men were indicted on charges of participating in the dynamiting of the temple Oct. 12. The blast caused damage estied at $200,000. The structure was empty at the time.

About 75 per cent of Connecticut's total population is concentrated in three of the state's eight counties, pointing to urban trends.

U.S. Designer Declares American Cars Vulgar

LONDON (UPI)—U.S. industrial designer Henry Dreyfuss, writing in the British business and industry monthly "Scope," let it be known that he does not approve of American automobile design.

"American cars are bular and monoton9us. They're like the legendary brassy blonde. She's pretty dazzling for the first five minutes, but then you're embarrassed to be seen with her," he said.

Hunters Survive Ordeal on River

One Oar Saves 2 Men After 6½ Hours Adrift in Sub-Zero Cold

DETROIT (AP) — Clifton Evans, 25, and Kenneth Wagel, 20, anchored their outboard in the lee of Celeron Island near here and set out their decoys. They were hunting for ducks.

When the wind shifted, they decided to move. Then a pin on the shaft of their propellor sheared.

As they drifted down the Detroit River in sub-zero cold, they repaired the break. But when they tried to start the motor, they found it had frozen fast.

It was getting dark and the water grew rough. It threatened to swamp their open boat. They began to row toward shore. Then an oarlock broke.

As the boat neared the wind-whipped open waters of Lake Erie and almost certain disaster, the two paddled with one oar against the wind. The sun went down. In the darkness and at the last point before the open lake, they managed to beach their boat on the Canadian shore after 6½ hours adrift.

Evans collapsed exhausted on the ice and Wagel had to roll him the last few yards to shore.

Today, recovering from severe frostbite in a hospital, Evans said: "It's a miracle we ever got in. I'm never going hunting again."

Red Politician Elected President of Bulgaria

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Dimiter Ganev, a member of the Politburo and a secretary of the Bulgarian Communist party, is the new president of Bulgaria.

Radio Sofia announced his election by the Soviet satellite's one-party National Assembly. President Georgi Damianov died Thursday at the age of 66.

The new President has been a member of the Central Committee of the Bulgarian Communist party since 1931 and has served as ambassador to Budapest and to Prague.

Bagwell Back on MSU Payroll With Some Political Freedom

EAST LANSING (AP) — Paul D. Bagwell, defeated Republican governor nominee, officially returned today to the Michigan State University payroll as director of scholarships, a $14,200-a-year post.

He arrived as titular head of the state Republican Party and a possible repeat GOP candidate in 1960.

How restrictive these wraps are and whether they will dampen his future political prospects only time will tell.

MSU has rules governing political and other extracurricular activities of faculty members, but they are written in broad strikes.

"As citizens, the staff members of MSU have the same rights and responsibilities of free speech, thought and action as all American citizens," begins the policy statement on the subject.

"Their position, however, imposes special obligations, such as emphasizing they are not institutional spokesmen, and exercising appropriate restraint.

"Obviously, staff members have a binding obligation to discharge instructional and other regular duties, and performance of these duties may be impaired by any private activity requiring a large portion of time."

Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, MSU vice president for academic affairs and as such Bagwell's superior, said "it's going to be a difficult problem. I'm sure Paul will approach it in good faith."

"Obviously, the university can not be identified with any political party," he added.

Bagwell was at Fort Bragg, N.C., visiting his paratrooper son, Tim. He is on a two weeks vacation, planning to return to East Lansing Dec. 1?.

That is the date set by friends, including important Republican Party figures, for a $10- to $15-a-plate dinner in Lansing saluting Bagwell for his showing in the election last month.

The MSU policy statement is by no means entirely negative, and clearly will not handicap Bagwell in many of the usual chores expected of a party leader and his new post lends itself to travel about the state.

The statement concludes:

"This policy is intended to safeguard the freedom of speech, thought and action of staff personnel, and to avoid impairment of the significant contributions they are capable of making towards improved local, state and federal government."

Bagwell already has had experience with the MSU directive, on two previous occasions bowing to its requirements in taking leaves of absence to campaign for statewide office.

The last time was in April, when he resigned his position as head of the MSU department of communications skills.

Faculty members are not required to take leaves to run for temporary or part-time public offices, such as membership on a school board or some municipal offices.

Man Drives to Hospital With Broken Arm, Leg

MENOMINEE (AP) — Joseph Hugon, a 60-year-old bachelor-farmer, was recovering in a hospital here today after the painful experience of crawling 100 yards to his car with a broken arm and leg.

Hugon suffered his injuries in a fall from a hay mow. He pulled himself into the driver's seat of his auto and drove 30 miles to Menominee. Doctors said he had a fracture and dislocation of the left arm and a fracture of the left leg.

Sweden's population is equal to those of Norway and Denmark combined.

Civilian Pulls Wrong Lever

Tries to Steal AF Jet

BOSTON (AP)—A civilian who never before piloted a plane was charged today with trying to steal an Air Force jet to fly it to India.

Donald L. Lutman, 35, unemployed, of Bound Brook, N.J., was arrested Sunday at Hanscom Air Force Base, Bedford, when he pulled a wrong lever and set off an explosion which knocked the canopy off the jet.

FBI agents quoted Lutman as saying he wanted to take the plane to India so he could be at the bedside of Thakur, ailing Hindu religious leader.

Lutman was quoted by the FBI as saying he became a follower of the Hindu religious leader when he was serving in India with the American Field Service during World War II.

The FBI said Lutman strode to the plane—a T33 jet trainer—entered the cockpit and then fiddled with the controls in an attempt to get it off the ground.

A lever he pulled, the agents said, sent the plane's canopy flying. The Air Force said the same lever was supposed to eject the seat and its occupant but mechanical trouble prevented that, thus possibly sparing Lutman's life.

Air Force personnel rushed to the plane from nearby hangars. They quoted Lutman as asking if the plane was "gassed up and ready to go."

A military spokesman said the question led to Lutman's arrest because "no one who knows anything about jets would ask a question like that . . . A tremendous amount of ground equipment is needed to start a jet."
