4 Royal Oak Twp. Youths Face Murder Charge

Area Mayor Elected Head of State Group

New Municipal League President Hails From Huntington Woods

David R. Calhoun, mayor of Huntington Woods, was elected president of the Michigan Municipal League at the climax of the organization's 58th annual convention in Grand Rapids last night.

The 43-year-old president, a salesman for a Chicago auto parts firm, has been mayor of the Oakland County community for four years. He succeeds Claude Verduin of Grand Haven.

Although the election officially ended the three-day meeting, one of its highlights is expected today when Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Albert E. Cobo, Republican gubernatorial candidate, will meet to address 400 delegates on "the proper relationship among the state, cities and villages."

During the business sessions of the parley, delegates shelved a city income tax proposal and approved a seven-point legislative program.

League trustees earlier voted 34-21 against a municipal income tax proposal putting the league on record for legislation similar to Ohio and Pennsylvania municipal tax plans.

BLOCKS PROPOSAL

Louis C. Marianni, Detroit Council President, helped block the proposal, saying, "We should give this problem more attention as it hits the suburbs . . . I think it needs more study."

The league favored legislation for:

A new highway aid formula; more favorable representation for municipalities on county boards of supervisors; a study of governmental finances on state and local levels; state technical assistance for local tax assessing officials.

The so-called "Virginia Plan" for judicial rulings on annexations of outlying areas to municipalities; state emergency aid for rapidly growing communities; and permission from voters to order general obligation bonds sold to provide special assessment revolving funds for municipalities.

The league also named four new trustees. They are Petoskey Mayor Chester Crego; Lincoln Park Mayor George Barber; Marquette City Manager George Meholick and Ionia City Attorney Douglas Welch.

Marilyn Flunks Highbrow Test at German Play

LONDON (INS) — Marilyn Monroe's claim to being an intellectual was put to a severe test last night.

Marilyn let her playwright husband, Arthur Miller, a bonded intellectual, talk her into attending a German language play given by the highbrow Berliner Ensemble Co.

She proved her love for Arthur by holding hands with him throughout the performance, even though the stage goings-on obviously were painful to her.

Mrs. Ruotolo Faints at Burial

Kidnap Victim's Mother Collapses at Graveside, Misses Rites

NEW HAVEN, Conn (AP) Tiny Cynthia Ruotolo was buried today, but her grief stricken parents saw only part of the brief, simple ceremony at the grave.

Eleanor Ruotolo, mother of the 6-week-old child, collapsed at the grave before the casket, encased in a plain pine box, was lowered.

The baby's father, 33-year-old Stephen, caught his wife as she started to fall. Burial was in St. Barnard's Cemetery, about seven miles from the Hamden department store where Cynthia was taken from her baby carriage one week ago today.

Mrs. Ruotolo sobbed quietly as she and her husband, accompanied by a state policewoman, arrived at the grave. She gave a small cry as she stood to the left of a praying priest, the Rev. Gerald Mullins.

Her husband, an $80-a-week salesman, picked up his wife and carried her to an automobile and left the cemetery.

There had been some question as to whether Ruotolo would attend the baby's funeral. Coroner James J. Corrigan had said that Ruotolo had refused to believe that the body recovered from Lake Whitney Thursday was that of his baby.

Work Progressing on General Hospital Addition

HOSPITAL WING — Things around the city hospital haven't been too quiet lately as workmen move ahead with construction of the new addition. Footings have been 80 per cent completed and work has begun on erecting forms for the first floor, Robert Pullar, on-the-job architect for Leo J. Heenan, said. Pullar added that crews will work through the winter and will be pouring concrete for the next three to four months. You are looking south in this picture. Pullar said he expected that a new temporary ambulance entrance would be opened next week. The structure should be enclosed by April, he added.

Wayne Boy, 14, Dies of Beating With Tire Iron

Prosecutor Office Says Warrant Almost Sure in Fairgrounds Attack

A possible murder charge was hanging over the heads of four Royal Oak Township youths, one a juvenile, today following the death last night of a 14-year-old youth from Wayne.

Gerald Rondeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rondeau, of 184 Hix Rd., died in the Wayne County General Hospital of brain injuries said to have been caused by an unprovoked attack with a tire iron.

Held for investigation of felonous assault by Detroit police are: Tommie Rollins, 19, of 10582 Foxton; Horace Collier, 18, of 21405 Parkside; Odell Gray, 18, of 21423 Garden Lane, and a 16-year-old youth.

A murder warrant is almost certain to be issued against Rollins, according to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Roman S. Gribbs. Gribbs said Rollins has admitted he clubbed the Rondeau boy Tuesday night near the State Fairgrounds "to teach him a lesson."

The brutal attack reportedly took place shortly after Gerald had refused an offer to ride with the four while standing on the corner of Eight Mile road and Woodward avenue with two brothers and an uncle.

Gribbs quoted Rollins as saying: "We asked the four boys standing on the corner if they wanted a ride. They said no, so we circled around and came back. The boys were still standing there.

"I asked them if they wanted a ride again, and when they refused, I got out and hit one of them with a lug wrench."

Rondeau's injuries did not appear to be serious at first. He was taken home by his parents the same night following treatment for a head gash. But he went into a coma Wednesday and remained unconscious until his death.

The boys were arrested yesterday by Detroit police after their car was traced to Gray's father. When questioned, Gray admitted his guilt and implicated his three companions.

Prosecutor Gribbs said Rollins and his companions admitted they had three fights with other youths, two of them on the Fairgrounds, before the attack on Gerald.

Cool Snap to Linger; Low Last Night 42

Mostly fair and cool weather is predicted for tonight. The low will be around 46 to 50.

The forecast for tomorrow is mostly fair and a little warmer with a high of 71 to 75.

The low last night in downtown Pontiac was 42. The thermometer reached 63 at 2 p.m. today.

Theater Train to Leave Monday

Broadway-Bound 100 Pack, Wait

"All aboard . . ."

Readers with tickets to seats on The Pontiac Press Theater Special could almost hear the conductor's call today . . . their long-anticipated trip to New York City is that close.

The 100 who will gather in Monday's cool, gray dawn to begin the first leg of their journey face a Sunday of packing, one of the few serious aspects of the next six days.

"But even packing for such a trip is exciting," one traveler said this morning as he surveyed a pile of belongings which, besides clothing and personal articles, included a camera with 15 rolls of film and a thick bundle of sight-seeing folders.

Members of the group will meet each other for the first time at 6:45 Monday morning when they will board chartered busses in front of The Press building in downtown Pontiac for a fast trip to Detroit's Michigan Central train station.

Fifteen minutes after their arrival at the terminal, the "junketing 100" will head down the rails toward New York City aboard the swift Empire State.

The hours between departure time (8:30 a.m.) and arrival at Grand Central Station at 9:30 p.m. are expected by planners to be among the most exciting of the five-day excursion.

While green fields and towns flash by, travelers are expected to experience the first of a series of happy events—that of getting acquainted.

Remembering names will be no trouble for our excursionists for, besides being able to identify a new friend by his or her name badge, each will have a list of traveling companions and the seats they will occupy on the reserved chair cars.

The group will again board a

7 Are Indicted in Acid Attack

Men Are Charged With Conspiracy in Assault on Victor Riesel

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi and six others have been indicted on a charge of conspiracy in the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

A federal grand jury yesterday handed up a one-count indictment against the seven men charging:

"The defendants conspired by causing acid to be thrown on the face and person of one Victor Resel, to influence, intimidate and impede the said Victor Riesel and other prospective witnesses from testifying "before a federal grand jury.

The grand jury had been investigating racketeering.

Dioguard, 42, was named by the FBI as the man who masterminded the acid assault on Riesel last April 5 on a Manhattan street.

A new person indicted in the case was Leo Telvi, picked up by the FBI Aug. 17 in Monticello, N.Y. Telvi, who has been held in $100,000 bail as a material witness, is the brother of Abe Telvi, found shot to death more than a month ago on a Lower East Side street.

The FBI says Abe Telvi was the acid thrower and that he was paid $500 for the job. Later, the FBI said, Telvi upped his price for the assault to $50,000 when he learned who his victim was. The price hike plus tell-tale acid on Telvi's face, the FBI contends, led to his slaying.

* * *

Others named in the indictment beside John Dioguardi and Leo Telvi were: Charles Tuso, 44; Charles Salvatore Carlino, 43; Domenico Bando, 47; Joseph Peter Carlino, 43 (no relation to Charles Carlino), and Gondolfo Miranti, 37.

No date was set for arraignment. If convicted each faces a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Headon Crash Kills Newlywed Husband

Robert C. Evans, 31, of Ferndale, was killed yesterday afternoon in a headon collision on Northville road, near Seven Mile, in Northville Township.

Evans was dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital. Clarence Stratton, 43, Northville, driver of the other car, is in fair condition in the hospital today with head and chest injuries.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. said the Evans car went off the road and came back on, crashing into the Stratton car.

"He (Evans) was apparently traveling at a high rate of speed," a Sheriff's Department spokesman said. Evans, an electrical supply salesman, was married only a week ago.

U.S. Army Base Hit Hard.

Typhoon Socks Okinawa

FT. BUCKNER, Okinawa (AP)—Screaming Typhoon Emma, its winds last clocked at 140 m.p.h., cut a swath of damage across Okinawa today and churned toward Japan, Korea and Red China after causing extensive damage to U.S. Army headquarters here.

The first meager details announced by the Army said there had been "one death by electrocution."

The 400-mile-wide storm "caused extensive damage to the Ryukyus Command Headquarters" of the U.S. Army here, smashed wind velocity measuring devices and turned over numerous cars, the announcement said.

All personnel were warned to remain inside headquarters because "36 vicious sentry dogs" escaped during the height of the storm.

Who'll Be Miss America? Judges to Decide Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Who will be the next Miss America?

It's down to the wire tonight, after a week of excitement-packed judging, when the beauty to reign as the nation's queen for the next year will be picked from five finalists.

A nationwide audience will watch the suspenseful moments when the girl judged most talented and beautiful in the land steps forward to the stage of a crowded Convention Hall for the coveted honor.

The final hour and a half (9:30 to 11 p.m. Pontiac time will be televised over ABC-TV (Channel 7 in Detroit).

Which of the 50 gorgeous contestants will win the laurels was awaited anxiously by thousands in this convention city.

How many points each has won in preliminary judging was not divulged. The 10 semifinalists will be announced first and then narrowed to five.

In the talent judging, these girls were named the best:

Miss Nebraska—Diane Knotek, 21, Lincoln, a coloratura soprano with seven years of voice training. She won last night.

Miss Arkansas—Barbara Banks, Conway, 18, the graceful ballerina who scored with the judges on her varied ballet in a coral leotard with a filmy net skirt.

Miss Alabama — Anne Ariail, Birmingham, who won the talent contest the first night with a singing and dancing sequence from "Oklahoma!"

Parading down the runway with grace and beauty to capture the swimsuit honors were the following:

Miss Chicago — Sandra Stuart, 22, who dazzled audience and judges last night in her white checkered swimsuit. She measures 36-24-36.

Miss Hawaii—Jere Wright, Honolulu, 20, a blue-eyed brunette of average height who measures 35-24-35.

Miss California — Joan Beckett, Sacramento, 18, a shapely entry who amply filled a white swimsuit with halter straps with a 36-24-36 form.

Those were the leaders going into the final evening in the quest for $50,000 in prizes, a whirlwind year-long tour of this and other countries, and the national spotlight toward a future career.

Tension Mounts in South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A weekend of watchful waiting settled over the South today after widely scattered racial flareups bitterly protested school integration.

It was touch and go in the troubled areas of western Kentucky, Clinton, Tenn., and Mansfield, Tex., as National Guardsmen and state police quieted mean - tempered mobs after week-long demonstrations.

Less violent resistance to Negro attendance at white schools flared in numerous other spots.

Sturgis, a town of about 2,500 in western Kentucky, is a "minute's notice" away from martial law as reinforced guardsmen moved in to meet increased tensions. Bayonet packing troops had ramrodded a path through jeering mobs to escort nine Negroes to school.

Kentucky's troubles spread to nearby Clay, a mining community. Members of a mob there turned back a car bringing two Negro pupils to the elementary school. Then they chased newsmen and photographers from a racial demonstration and escorted them out of town with warnings not to return.

At Frankfort, Gov. A. B. Chandler said he will order military law in Sturgis on a minute's notice, if necessary. Don Sturgill, acting commissioner of public safety predicted "Monday will be the showdown."

About 500 guardsmen were being mustered over the weekend for standby duty if needed when school resumes next week.

Sturgill said FBI agents had moved into Sturgis to determine if civil rights of Negroes had been violated.

He quoted threats of loss of jobs for the Negoes if they persisted in trying to get their children into the all-white high school.

A National Guard force in Clinton dwindled from 633 to 200 as the city prepared for complete withdrawal of troops.

School attendance at the 800-pupil Clinton High School edged upward from Monday's low of 266 at 419 youngsters including 12 Negroes reported for class yesterday.

Plans Discussed for Civic Center

Auditorium for City's Centennial in '61 Still in Blueprint Stage

Further steps were taken by the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce Centennial Committee yesterday to get suggested drawings of a civic auditorium before the public.

Dr. I. E. Gordon, chairman of the architectural subcommittee, conferred with representatives of an architectural firm about a possible meeting to present drawings.

The Centennial Committee met yesterday for a luncheon meeting at the Waldron Hotel. It was the second meeting of the group formed recently to make plans for the auditorium to be erected by Pontiac's 100th anniversary in 1961.

Last month, members of the committee traveled to Flint, Grand Rapds, Mdland, and Lansing to study civic centers.

Yesterday, the committee, under the direction of Ralph T. Norvell, discussed "three challenging sections" which the group is striving for answers.

They were: possible site, type of architecture, and means of financing the building. Subcommittees have been formed for each.

The group came to a "temporary conclusion" that there was a need in Pontiac for a multi-purpose building to provide for cultural, educational, and entertainment use.

Pontiac Attorney Clarence K. Patterson urged the group to study a goal to determine the purpose of the structure based on the primary needs of the community.

Norvell called for committee members to act as "emissaries" in the city and attempt to get suggestions from other citizens.

Final Services Held for Nixon's Father

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Final rights for Frank A. Nixon, father of the vice president, were held yesterday in a little Quaker church banked high with flowers and filled with his friends and family.

A cross of white carnations from President Eisenhower was among the floral tributes, as were modest bouquets from the townspeople who knew Frank Nixon as a service station owner, a storekeeper, and a friendly, vigorous man.

The vice president, along with other members of the family, sat behind curtains in a separate part of the church during the services.

Frank Nixon, who was 77 when he died Tuesday night, was buried in nearby Rose Hills Memorial Park.

Arrangements were by the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home.

Ford Dealers Given Peek at '57 Models

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 1,300 Ford dealers from 12 eastern states yesterday got their first look at the company's 1957 models.

The dealers met at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel for a preview of the new cars, which will be introduced to the public early in October, and for sales conferences.

The all-day session provided a chance for detailed inspection of the cars and discussion of the company's sales program.

Attending the sessions were dealers from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Ohio.

Advance showings of the new cars for dealers' salesmen are scheduled for next week in sales district headquarters cities of New York, Boston, Buffalo and Pittsburgh.

Testing of Water Again Delays School's Opening

Opening of the Linda Vista Elementary School has been delayed again, school officials said, to insure a supply of pure drinking water.

* * *

City Sanitarian Charles Cohen said he hopes water will flow at the school Monday after a final test of mains leading to the new Pontiac Knolls subdivision.

If the water is pure Monday, classes for 420 pupils will start Tuesday, said Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools.

He said the $339,613 building is ready otherwise.

Cohen explained the city is required to test water in all new mains until a series of satisfactory results is obtained.

Orchids for each of the train's feminine members are expected to brighten up the business-like act of registering.

And then, after the group has unpacked and gotten a look at their home-for-five-nights, it's off to the Village Barn in Greenwich village.

Here, amid music and rustic furnishings, the 100 will watch a floor show at an arrival party planned to strengthen friendships made on the train.

Later, when the travelers have gone to bed, they will be able to look ahead to a Tuesday that will include a three-hour boat tour around Manhattan Island, an afternoon of free time and an evening performance of "No Time for Sergeants."

Tickets for the trip and the play are enclosed in a special plastic folder that also includes all of the other tickets to be used during the stay.

The folder, badge and a smile are all each passenger will need for a week of fun and excitement as a member of The Pontiac Press Theater Special.

Hospital Head Denies Beating Up Patient

Clyde Marshbanks, owner of the Bloomfield Osteopathic Hospital, yesterday denied that he had beaten a 56-year-old patient who since has been committed to Pontiac State Hospital.

Marshbanks, 40, of 100 Square Lake Rd. said in a statement to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem that he had accidently struck Russell Peters, 56, in the face when Peters started to hit him following an argument Aug. 14 on the hospital grounds at 2100 Woodward Ave. in Bloomfield Township.

Peters followed Marshbanks out of a hospital ward, Marshbanks told Ziem, after the patemt was told to quiet down because he had been making a nuisance.

"I saw the blow coming out of the corner of my eye," Ziem quoted Marshbanks as saying, "and threw my arm up to ward it off. I hit Peters in the mouth and he fell down—he may have tripped."

Peters resisted attempts by Marshbanks to lift him up, Ziem said, which may account for the impression of two employes that Marshbanks was hitting the man.

Marshbanks stated that Peters was flailing his arms. He said he took Peters indoors, washed blood from his face and made him go back to bed.

Red Cross Openings for Nurses Available

A Red Cross class in home nursing has three openings available. The class will consist of seven 2-hour sessions beginning Monday at 7 p.m. and will run on consecutive Mondays.

Loot Vending Machines at Station, Warehouse

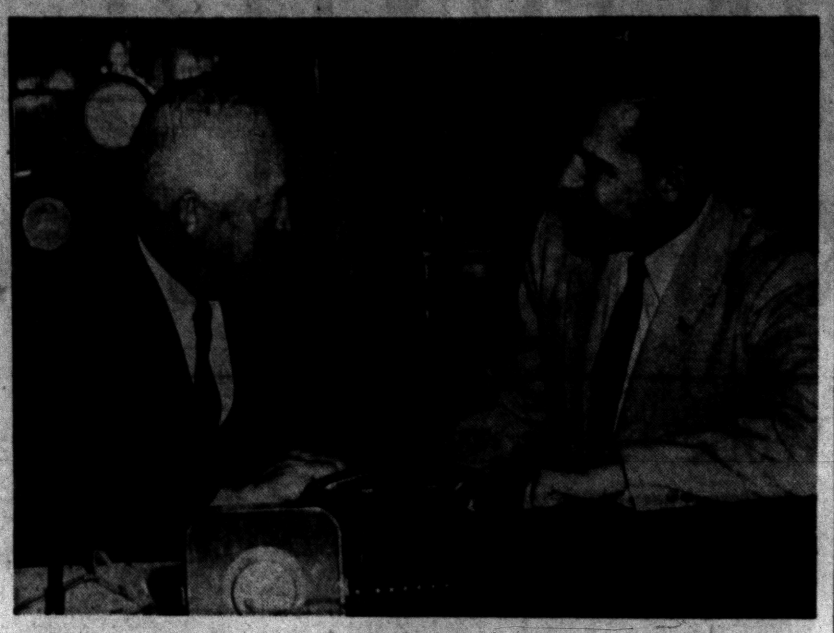

Loose change from vending machines at a gas station and warehouse was stolen Thursday night according to Pontiac police.

The breakins occurred at the Sears Roebuck & Co. warehouse at 50 Osmun St., where a basement door was forced open, police said, and at a gas station at 435 Auburn Ave., where a rear window was broken.

Boy, 4, Survives Fall From Car in Traffic

A four-year-old boy fell out the rear door of his mother's car yesterday afternoon, landing on his head in the midst of Orchard Lake road traffic, Pontiac Police said.

William McBee, son of Mrs. Betty I. McBee, 25, of Walled Lake, escaped the wheels of other cars and ended up with only minor head bruises, authorities at Pontiac General Hospital said.

CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT — William S. Broomfield (right), Republican candidate for U. S. Representative from the 18th District, discusses the coming election and campaign with President Eisenhower during a trip to Washington, D. C., this week. Broomfield said the President spoke at great length of the necessity of spreading interest among citizens in their voting duties.

Visit With Ike Inspires Broomfield To Stage Area Vote Registration Drive

Inspired by a visit with President Eisenhower this week, State Senator William S. Broomfield said he would stage a countywide campaign to encourage voters to register for the Nov. 6 election.

Broomfield is seeking the congressional seat on the Republican ticket left vacant by retiring Congressman George A. Dondero.

While meeting Eisenhower Tuesday for the first time, the chief executive questioned how registrations were progressing in Oakland County and when the deadline to register was.

Broomfield assured Ike that his acceptance speech in San Francisco provided "great inspiration" for voters to get out and register.

"I am most certainly going to urge the general public to register in their localities if they haven't already done so," Broomfield said.

While in Washington, Broomfield also visited many Cabinet members who inquired about local situations in the state.

"I am sure the President will conduct a vigorous campaign because he is anxious to have a GOP-controlled Congress so he can get his program through," Broomfield declared.

Court to Study Judge Ballots

Pontiac Lawyer Claims He Got Write-In Votes, Belongs in Race

County primary ballots cast Aug. 7 will be produced Monday in a Circuit Court squabble over write-in votes for circuit judge.

* * *

Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday ordered the County Board of Canvassers to bring in the ballots. Then he adjourned a hearing pitting the board, election officials and the county clerk versus Pontiac Lawyer Milton R. Henry.

Henry has petitioned the court to have his alleged write-in and sticker votes counted and his name placed as a nominee on the ballot in the November election.

The write-in votes, Henry says, were placed on the partisan ballot for county, state and national offices, because there was no nonpartisan ballot distributed at the primary.

Yesterday, State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery testified nonpartisan ballots weren't distributed because only one candidate had filed for circuit judge. He is Judge Clark J. Adams, who is up for re-election in November.

Ferndale Mayor Denies Claim of Irregularities

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) Ferndale Mayor Bruce D. Garbutt said today any claim of irregularities reported in his city was "entirely incorrect."

Circuit Court Judge Theodore H. Bohn yesterday said his one-man grand jury investigation of graft and corruption in Downriver communities could not be extended beyond Taylor Township and Ecorse.

Garbutt, attending the Michigan Municipal League convention here, said "We have nothing whatsoever to hide," in answer to agitation seeking an investigation into affairs of Inkster, Ferndale and other communities, following the Ecorse-Taylor probe.

Employment in Pontiac Area Remains Static

Employment changes in the Pontiac area labor market were few in the 30-day period preceding Aug. 15, Frederick A. Hanses, acting branch manager of the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported.

Unemployment in August made up 9.7 per cent of the total labor force 82,100, compared to 10.6 per cent in July, and 3.1 per cent a year ago.

* * *

Non-farm employment was 70,700 or 400 less than July. Losses were recorded in the auto industry while gains of 100 each were made in machinery, miscellaneous manufacturing and construction.

At mid-August employment was 9,900 less than a year ago, Hanses said. The largest decrease was in manufacturing plants, down by 9,400 due chiefly to a loss of 8,800 in motor vehicle plants, Hanses added.

During August, the Pontiac branch office issued 20,636 unemployment insurance checks with a monetary value of $740,706 compared with 21,367 checks for $798,502 in July. In August, 1955, 2,166 checks worth $62,193 were issued.

Injuries Fatal to Man Crushed by Machine

Randolph Stewart, 35, of Detroit, died Friday in William Beaumont Hospital of severe injuries suffered when he was crushed under a giant washing machine Thursday.

He was rushed to the hospital after the accident at the Wolf Sanitary Wiping Cloth Co.

Stewart had climbed into the machine to clean it. He apparently touched a switch with his foot causing the machine to lower quickly and crush his chest, according to Lt. Harry Doench of the Ferndale Police Department.

Judge Just Won't Buy That Reverse Chivalry

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP)—Reverse chivalry backfired yesterday for a 23-year-old girl.

Irene Matulis, of Freehold told Monmouth County Judge John C. Giordano she had been driving when her boy friend Frederick Du Bois, Tennent, N.J. led police on a 100 m.p.h. auto chase.

The judge said her story was "unbelievable and inconceivable."

He upheld the $80 fine and license revocation for Du Bois, and ordered his girl friend to surrender her license too.

12th Year in Pontiac

Boys Club Doors Opened for More New Members

The Pontiac Boys Club is off on its 12th year of combating juvenile delinquency by means of leadership and wholesome activity.

Registration for the fall program began last week. Executive director William V. Coulacos said the regular schedule will start Monday.

The club will be open at 530 E. Pike St. from 3:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays There will be a co-ed dance Saturday nights for boys 16 years or older and their dates

There will be three game rooms this year, Coulacos said, with appropriate fun for boys 7 to 13, 14 to 16 and 17 and over.

The club also features a wood and hobby shop, a library with a homework nook, and facilities for gym, photography, printing and special programs.

Supported by the United Fund, the club has 11 staff members whose leadership has been helpful in reducing East Side juvenile delinquency, Coulacos said.

"The club activities cater to the natural inclinations of boys, and make it possible for boys to work with capable leaders, who guide them away from delinquency and towards wholesome activities," Coulacos said.

BOYS CLUB OPENS — A crowd of Pontiac Boys Clubers watch as Director William V. Coulacos, above, gives an identification tag to John Cosgrove, 9, of 739 E. Pike St., the first member to register last week for the fall program.

The Day in Birmingham

City Officials Take Part in State League Confab

BIRMINGHAM—Municipal problems were discussed by L. R. Gare and Howard K. Schone at the Michigan Municipal League convention at Grand Rapids in two panels yesterday and Thursday.

City Manager Schone, who managed the city of Oak Park and continues to be active on Board of Supervisor committees since coming to Birmingham in mid-August, was on a panel Thursday night on "the manager's role in planning city activities."

His discussion dealt with such topics as the initiative a city manager takes in planning.

Director of Public Works Gare joined other city officials in a round table on municipal problems yesterday afternoon.

Also attending the Thursday session were the newly-appointed assistant city manager, Robert Kenning and recreation director Robert Girardin. City Clerk Irene Hanley called off her attendance planned earlier.

A welcoming luncheon for all new teachers in Birmingham and Bloomfield will be given next Saturday by the Birmingham branch of the AAUW at the Methodist Church here.

Mrs. George Mosher heads the committee planning the event, and an aide is Mrs. Jack Berno, new chairman of the education committee.

* * *

The city tallied 54 accidents last month, says Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley, who again says that "following too closely" caused the highest number. A total of 50 violations were indicated in the 54 accidents, he says.

* * *

Plans are in progress for the 29th AAUW booksale, set for Oct. 22 to 26 at the Detroit Edison office, with Mrs. John S. Judd as general chairman and Mrs. T. J. LaFontaine, co-chairman.

Proceeds from the sale are used for scholarships and educational purposes, including "Cranbook Project," sending local students to visit Cranbrook Institute of Science with free guide service.

Busy collecting books all summer, Mrs. William K. Gisman and Mrs. William H. Younger have been aided by 45 members. Their pick-up service is still available.

Books are still needed, and they and Mrs. Howard Schweppe may be called for service.

Hopes Renewed for Suez Mission

Expect 5-Nation Group to Meet Nasser Again Sunday

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — A Menzies mission spokesman, contradicting an announcement of the mission's press officer, said today discussions with President Nasser on Suez are still under way.

"I wish to state specifically that talks with President Nasser have not yet reached the final stages and are still going on," said the spokesman, Noel Deschamps. "The five-nation delegates met two hours this morning and will meet again on Sunday before seeing President Nasser again."

The spokesman declined to say whether prolongation of the talks, originally expected to end today, is the result of any new instructions received from governments represented on the mission.

Deschamps said the next meeting with the Egyptian leader — the mission's first since Wednesday — probably will be held tomorrow.

Asked whether it would be the last, he said:

"I cannot answer that question."

Deschamps said members of the mission "have not yet made definite plans for departure from Cairo."

His statement reversed a picture of the situation given newsmen Friday night by the press officer, Hugh Dash.

Dash had indicated a stalemated finish, saying:

"I have just come from the Premier (mission chairman Robert G. Menzies of Australia) and can tell you the talks have come to a complete end."

Order Soldier Held in Death of Son, 3

A soldier from Washington, Mich., who is accused of fatally beating his 3-year-old son, was ordered held without bond for Tennessee's Montgomery County Grand Jury yesterday.

Specialist 3-C Robert A. Haldeman, 21, is charged with first degree murder in the death of his son, Robert Jr. The youngster was hospitalized at Ft. Campbell last month and died two days later of a concussion and severe bruises.

Haldeman first told officers that the boy had been injured in a fall. Military authorities said later the soldier told of beating the boy because he had wet in his bed.

Counselor to Talk at Waterford Church

WATERFORD—The Rev. George Hawk, counselor at the Oakland County Children's Home, will speak at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services tomorrow at the Waterford Community Church.

A Pop Investigation

Oakland County deputies today are investigating the theft of 10 cases of pop from a truck parked in a building at the 4-H Fairgrounds. The pop was reported to have been taken sometime between Thursday night and Friday morning.

Expert Predicts Lunar Landing by Century's End

LONDON (AP) — An American rocket expert told a British audience tonight man will land on the moon before the end of this century.

Addressing the British Interplanetary Society, F. C. Durant III, a staff member of a firm of consultants to the United States Defense Department, said:

"Within 10 years the scientists will have man flying into space in a man-made satellite."

Durant, president of the International Astronautical Federation and director of engineering at the Naval Air Rocket Test Station in Dover, N.J. from 1948 to 1951, said the first man to explore the great spaces beyond the earth can weigh as much as 200 pounds and take 400 pounds of equipment with him.

"Within 25 years man should be flying around the moon."

He said that the next logical step would be landings there.

"I confidentely predict that the first lunar landing from the earth will be achieved before the end of this century."

Segregation Groups Continuing Flareups

Rangers moved in and calmed tensions earlier in the week after a mob threatened to harm an Episcopal priest who had shamed them for trying to keep Negroes from enrolling at the high school.

A protest demonstration by 50 to 60 persons was broken up by police at Rockville, Md. A group, mostly youths in their late teens, formed for a parade to protest the integration of 14 Negroes at the Poolesville school. Its members were dispersed in about five minutes.

* * *

Other segregation developments included:

GREENWOOD, Miss. — White Citizens Councils distributed a bulletin noting "practically all agitation for integration in the South comes from states which have no Negro problems," offered to set up agencies to speed migration of the state's Negroes to Northern states.

MIAMI, Fla. —A federal judge denied the city's motion to dismiss a suit brought by a group of Negroes for integration of the golf course at Miami Springs Country Club.

* * *

MATOAKA, W. Va.—A protest boycott against racial integration dropped attendance sharply at four schools in the area.

TEXARKANA, Tex. —A picket line of about 50 persons turned away three Negro students attempting to register at the Texarkana Junior College.

* * *

ALEXANDRIA, La. — Crosses were burned near two Negro schools and one white school although no school integration has been attempted.

There were 56 million idle acres on the occupied farms of the United States as of April in 1940.

Cables Half-Finished on Mackinac Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority said Friday stringing of suspension cables on the huge bridge across the Straits of Mackinac is 46 per cent complete.

Prentiss M. Brown said the cable-stringing operation should be complete by Nov. 1 if favorable weather holds up.

Workmen are paving the bridge floor between the shore and the north and south anchorages on both sides. The work is proceeding on schedule and the bridge should be ready for travel by the fall of 1957.

Security for You

Amount Never Changes Once You Draw Benefits

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

From Mrs. J. R. C. of New York City: "I will be 63 years old in October and intend to apply for Social Security benefits based on my own work and not on my husband's. I understand that my payments will be less than if I waited until I reached 65. Will my payments increase at 64 or will they stay the same?"

Once you start drawing your Social Security payments as a working woman before you reach 65, the size of the payments will remain the same no matter what age you might reach.

From Mrs. E. M. of Newark, N. J.: "I'm a widow of four months. Although I have never worked or had a Social Security number, my husband was receiving Social Security payments when he died. I'm now 63 years of age and would like to know if I'm entitled to payments. We were married for 33 years.

As the widow of a deceased worker, you appear to be eligible under the new retirement age for women. Payments under this new retirement age may start with the month of November. Your payments should be three-quarters of the amount your husband received.

From M. N. S. of Pittsburgh, Pa.: "Is there a booklet or pamphlet available which lists the current literature on aging, retirement, etc.?"

Yes. The Committee on Aging, of the Health, Education and Welfare Department has put together such a booklet. It's available through the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. Ask for: Selected references on Aging—1955. The price is 30 cents.

From J. K. of Monroe, La.: "I read in the paper recently where certain disabled persons over 50 may now be eligible for Social Security payments if they can't make enough to live on because they can't work. I believe I might be eligible. Does the fact that I'm drawing a Veterans Administration pension as a veteran who is considered permanently and totally disabled have any bearing on my eligibility?"

Yes. Any Social Security payment you might be eligible for because of your disability will be reduced by the amount of your veteran's pension.

* * *

From Mrs. R. T. Y. of Parsons, Kan.: "My husband died about 19 months ago. Through reading your column I've just discovered that I might be eligible for a lump sum payment from his Social Security. Is there any time limit with which I must apply?"

Under normal circumstances, the lump death payment must be applied for within two years after your husband died.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of The Pontiac Press about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Ike Slates Speech at World Peace Rally

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will speak informally here next Tuesday at a meeting called by him to promote people-to-people contacts throughout the world in the interest of peace.

* * *

The White House announced that the President will meet at the District of Columbia American Red Cross headquarters with the chairmen of 40 committees representing various spheres of interest in American life.

Secretary of State Dulles also will address the group.

UAW to Meet in Detroit, Consider Political Stand

DETROIT (INS) — A special national United Auto Workers election year conference of the International Executive Board of the UAW will be held in Detroit Sept. 15.

The UAW said the conference has been called "to consider a presidential endorsement and other related issues."

An estimated 500,000 matches are lighted every minute in the United States.

Where, Oh Where, Is My Picture?

While consumers don't sing it, we hear a refrain these days from those who have ordered pictures (usually of children) from itinerant photographers and are anticipating early delivery. Some will report that they thought there was a local studio—until they tried to find it. And others will express disappointment in the work and state that the photograph delivered is not like the sample. Satisfaction in photographs depends upon the skill of the operators—and you leave a lot to chance when money is handed out to a floater—before you see the finished work. INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU INVEST—and don't make advance deposits on orders to unknown people.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

OLD WHALING DAYS — 6
"A Dead Whale or a Stove Boat"

After the whalers had launched their boat, the battle with the whale began. Sometimes a line would be fouled as the harpoon was heaved and a man would be swept overboard. Sometimes the whale with a harpoon deep in its side dived and pulled the boat down with him, or rammed the boat and smashed it. Hence the harpooner's cry: "A dead whale or a stove boat."

When at last the great beast was killed it was towed to the ship, its blubber hacked off in strips, hauled aboard and boiled in great kettles on the open deck. The oil thus obtained was barreled and stored in the hold.

Use your crayons to color this picture, making the whale a dark gray. Then paste it down on cardboard and cut out the parts carefully.

Put the tab on the bottom of the whale down through the heavily outlined opening and fasten it with a bent pin or brass fastener. Then the whale can float on the sea, rocking gently, or dive into the water with his big flukes standing straight out. Slip the air spout into his head at the opening. Put the small boat in the water by putting the tab through the indicated hole.

(Michael Lange, Norfolk, Va., wins the Junior Editors award for submitting this first. If you have a suggestion, send it in care of this newspaper and it may be worth $10 to you. Violet Moore Higgins; AP newsfeatures.)

Lists Close Sept. 15

LANSING (AP) — The State Economic Development announced deadline for listings of factory building for sale or lease is Sept. 15. The annual plant survey is mailed to some 6,000 industrial realtors, manufacturers and others who might be interested in locating in Michigan.

Of approximately 70 million licensed drivers in the country, some 20 million were given traffic violation tickets.

Williams to Stump UP After Opening Campaign in Ypsi

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams will head toward the Upper Peninsula after he opens his campaign for re-election in Ypsilanti Monday, his office announced.

* * *

Monday's schedule includes the campaign kickoff at Ypsilanti and a talk over a Detroit radio station. Williams will stop for a brief appearance in Ottawa County, then have dinner Tuesday with Table Top Licensees Congress at Mackinac Island.

The remainder of the week's schedule includes:

Wednesday—Visits to St. Ignace, Newberry, Munising and Marquette with a regional rally planned for the last stop.

* * *

Thursday—Stops at Ishpeming, L'anse, Baraga, Houghton and Ontonagon and evening dinner at Ironwood with the U.S. Logging Congress.

* * *

Friday—Visits to Gogebic County, Iron River, Crystal Falls and Iron Mountain, then by plane to Grand Rapids and return to Lansing.

More Social Security

MONROE (AP) — Monroe's City Commission has moved to place some municipal employes under Social Security coverage, as approved by voters last month. The commission also proposes to raise pay scales of some city workers.

Know Difference in Lumber Sizing

Some do-it-yourself enthusiasts are confused by the difference between "nominal" and "actual" lumber sizes. If you buy what the building trade refers to as a "two-by-four" and measure it, you're likely to find that its dimensions are somewhat less.

* * *

This is because the original "two-by-four"—the "nominal" size—has been reduced by seasoning and surfacing operations. Temperature, humidity and other conditions in the retail lumber yard also have an effect on size.

* * *

Hoever, the "nominal" dimensions—2 inch by 4 inch—are carred through all phases of sales and bookkeeping. Standards have been established to insure that dressed lumber—lumber that has been surfaced and seasoned—meets certain requirements of thickness and width. A dressed "two-by-four," for instance, will be at least 1⅝-inch by 3⅝-inch.

About 14 million pounds of lamp black, used chiefly in paint, lacquer and ink pigments, are produced annually in the U.S.

SCHOOL BELLS RING

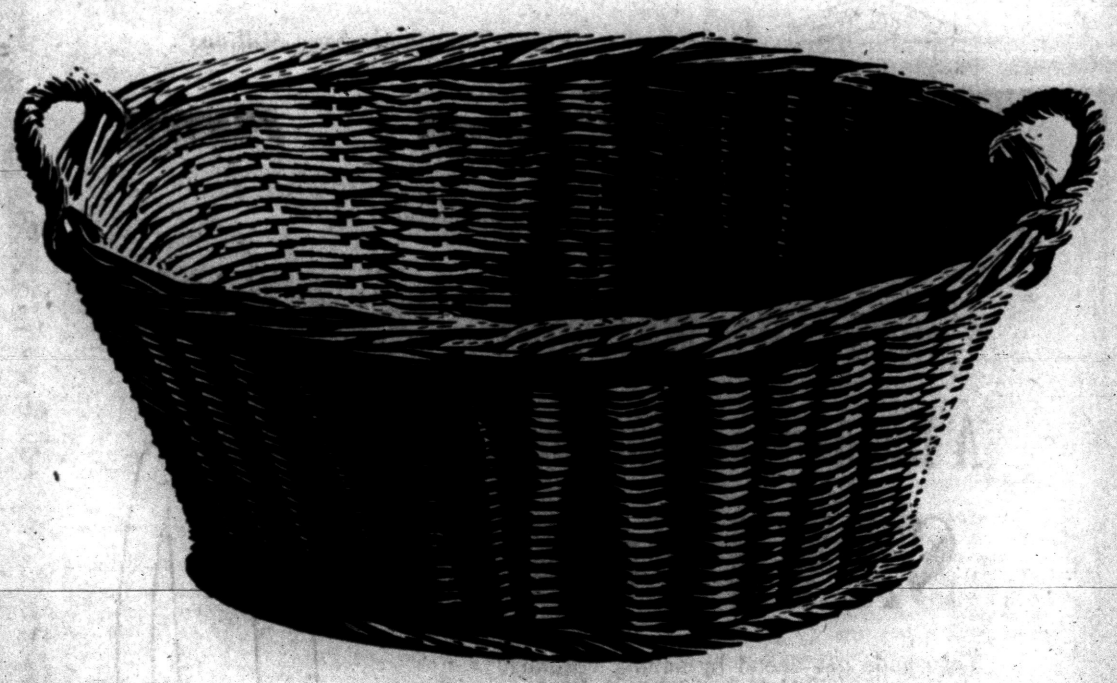

With sunburned noses, healthy bodies and lagging feet our children are going back to the one institution that makes America different; our schools are not only free but we insist that all children attend them. To bring those schools to the highest point of effectiveness requires teachers.

M. E. SIPLE

The personnel of our schools have trained themselves for their career; some have been teaching our children most of their lives—a few are strangers; it is them we should bring into our society. We think Pontiac is a friendly city, let's give these teachers a sample of our hospitality; invite them into our homes, churches, and make them part of our social fabric. They will not only appreciate this but be better teachers, more satisfied when they feel at home.

Steer Captures Honors — with Patched-Up Tail

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Judy Horst, 15, had a Hereford Steer, sleek, fat and haughty of mien.

A sure winner, she knew, at the Nebraska State Fair—except for one thing. Bob, the steer, had been born with only half a tail and such a deficiency could be a show ring burden.

* * *

Judy fixed that. She obtained the end of a tail off a slaughtered Hereford and with a foot of adhesive tape gave Bob a full tail.

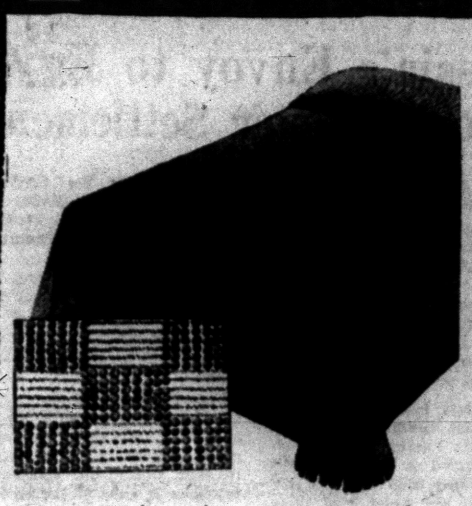

Bob today has three purple ribbons, highest awards at the fair.

Link Lots of Tots to Lack of Schooling

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Census Bureau reports women with less than seven years of schooling have more than twice as many children as those with college degrees.

The bureau said analysis of 1950 population data shows, however, the difference in fertility rates by educational level has tended to diminish over the past several decades.

While the average birth rate in 1950 was 1,964 children for every 1,000 married women, the number varied from 1926 per 1,000 women with college educations, up to 4,186 per 1,000 women with less than seven years of schooling.

The Census Bureau points out an average of 2,500 children per 1,000 women is needed to maintain the population at a constant level.

The 1950 data also shows couples in upper economic groups tend to postpone somewhat longer the birth of their first child and to have their last child after fewer years of married life than persons in lower economic groups.

Extra Strong Spinach

DAVIS, Calif. (AP)—This won't be good news for Johnny or Mary. There's going to be more spinach. A new variety, Califlay, has been developed that is completely immune from downy mildew, or blue mold, the California College of Agriculture reports. Epidemics of this plant disease have plagued growers and processors of spinach in California and nearly all other spinach growing areas for years.

He Served Well His Fellow Men

Death of Dr. Robert H. Baker Thursday closed the career of a man whose contribution to the well-being of his fellowmen can be fully known only to the thousands he served during 40 years of unselfish devotion to his profession.

A surgeon by specialization, he at times followed general practice, and his interest in the broad field of medicine led his inquiring mind into many projects. He early became interested in insurance plans for health and hospital care; he was vitally interested in health and social problems of the aged; and as president of the Michigan State Medical Society he carried on a campaign for more adequate distribution of medical facilities to the rural areas and smaller communities.

★ ★ ★

In 1927 his ability was recognized by his colleagues when he was made a Fellow in the American College of Surgeons.

★ ★ ★

He served in all the offices of the county medical society before taking up important posts in the state society. He had a prominent voice in building the present General Hospital and was at one time chief of staff there.

★ ★ ★

A colleague, writing a tribute in a recent issue of the Oakland County Medical Society Bulletin said of him: "This soft spoken, unpretentious colleague has kept his ideals high, and with steadfastness and thoughtful perseverance has made a record to command profound respect and the thanks of every doctor in Michigan."

★ ★ ★

In recent years Dr. Baker became somewhat of an authority on cancer and considerable of his surgical work was to combat this disease.

Ironically, Bob Baker died of cancer.

★ ★ ★

During his final years when he knew that the disease in his own body could not be checked, he continued to battle for the lives of others, and closed his office and practice only in July of this year.

He truly gave a full measure of service to his fellow men.

Ford Joins AMA

The Ford Motor Company is now a member of the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

★ ★ ★

This act, simple enough in itself, marks the final step in the transformation of a huge industrial concern which is almost as thorough going as if black had been turned into white.

When Henry Ford headed the Ford Motor Company it was not only a one-man company. It was a lone wolf in the automobile industry. Henry Ford didn't play ball with his rivals.

Following Henry Ford's death, and since his grandsons have taken over management of the company, great changes have taken place. One at a time customs established by the company's founder have been discontinued.

★ ★ ★

Decentralization of authority has been one of the most noteworthy of these changes. A second has been the sale of Ford stock to the public. Ford no longer is strictly a family concern.

These were among the many changes which were dictated by the passage of time and the steadily increasing competition in the experience of General Motors and Chrysler.

Ford's entrance into the Manufacturer's Association has far less intrinsic importance than these earlier changes. It is noteworthy rather in symbolizing the completion of a cycle. It is a final step in the transformation of a huge company from being the creature of one man to a well rounded, modern industrial organization.

Ford's membership means that it will join with the other automobile companies in sponsoring the annual automobile show in New York, and in other, similar, industrywide activities. To the industry it means that the Ford transformation is complete.

If you have $2,500 surplus and can't think of anything else to buy with it, you might be interested to learn that for this amount you can buy a choice Siberian tiger.

Jobs, Politicking

Solons Unlikely to Revise Unemployment Law

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—To date, the legislative and outright political sparring on the question of changing the unemployment compensation law has produced no concrete results.

★ ★ ★

And, although the special session called to consider the subject resumes Sept. 19, it appears unlikely that anything will be done before the first of the year.

The fury of the infant campaign will be building up and the atmosphere will not be conductive to accomplishment.

Borrowing the words of Otis Cook, executive vice president of the Michigan Retailers Assn., "A highly explosive political time such as we have now is no time to be considering a question like this."

★ ★ ★

Cook was addressing the House Labor Committee on proposals for granting tax relief to small businessmen, employers of four to seven workers, who were brought under the act last Jan. 1.

WILLIAMS 'SINCERE'

This subject matter was an offshoot to the original business of the special session, which was called by Gov. Williams to raise the level of jobless pay benefits and extend their duration.

★ ★ ★

Cook had something else to say. He commended the committee for the time and effort it has spent studying unemployment compensation problems.

He had a good word for Gov. Williams, too, calling his proposals "sincere."

Out of all the crossfire on the issue raised, much of it heavily flavored with politics, there might develop some constructive ideas that will win approval in the calmer environment of the next regular legislative session starting in January.

★ ★ ★

Fore example, Labor Committee members seemed impressed with the arguments of small business people who argued that some features of the present law fall unfairly upon them.

PART-TIME WORKERS

There was complaint about the provision, founded in federal law, that requires a pharmacist, florist or grocer with two or three steady employes to remit payroll tax as well for part-time high school youngsters hired Saturdays or seasonally.

★ ★ ★

The existing provision is that tax must be paid if the youngster works at least one day a week for 20 weeks in a year.

The youngsters drift on to other employment after a year or two, or go away to college. Others take their place. There is no expectation that any will draw benefits of the sort their employers are contributing to support. They are not even legally qualified to do so.

On this particular point, State Rep. George Van Peursem (R-Zeeland) explained, the state is powerless to act, since Congress would have to make any change.

Naming of Mary Commemorated

BY DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Jewish male babies are given their names when they are eight days old, in the ceremony of circumcision. Baby girls may be named any time in the first few days after they are born.

Wednesday the Roman Catholic Church, in its festival of the Holy Name of Mary, commemorates the naming of the girl child who grew up to become the mother of Jesus. Of course, no one knows exactly when the ceremony took place, but when Sept. 8 was agreed upon as Mary's birthday it was logical to assume that she must have been named sometime within the following week.

This festival started locally in Spain early in the sixteenth century, where it was held on the Sunday after Sept. 8. In 1683 Pope Innocent XI extended it to the whole Roman Church as an act of thanksgiving for a military victory at Vienna, and established its date as Sept. 12, the date of the victory.

The name really given to the child was Miryam—the Hebrew form from which we get Mary. Scholars are not agreed as to what the name means; the prevalent view is that it means "wished-for child."

FAR-REACHING REQUEST

Sept. 14 in 1607 was the birthday of John Harvard, a Congregationalist preacher who lived only to the age of 31 and was in no way remarkable, but whose name is known wherever Harvard University is heard of, which takes in pretty much the whole world.

John Harvard did not even take any active part in the founding of the university. In fact, he was dead when it finally got under way. All that happened was that the young minister, dying in Charlestown, Mass., left 260 books and half his $4,000 cash estate to a proposed school that some of the colonists were trying to start.

The bequest supplied the necessary stimulation. The college began in 1689 and was named in Harvard's honor. Also, the town in which it was established was named Cambridge, in honor of Harvard's own university back in England.

DAY OF ATONEMENT

On Friday, Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement set by Moses nearly 30 centuries ago, brings to an end the Jews' High Holidays.

Ten days before, on Rosh Hashonoh (New Year), the Book of Life was opened in heaven and God prepared to write in it the names of those who were worthy of a good year. But in His mercy He did not make the final decision then, but allowed ten more days in which those who fell short might repent and attain merit. Today that extension comes to an end and every man's fate is finally sealed. No wonder, then, that today is the holiest, most solemn day of the Jewish year.

It is a day of penitence and prayer, to be spent in the synagogue, where services will be continuous.

It is a day of rest. No Jew will work or transact business on Yom Kippur.

It is a day of absolute fast. Not even water may be taken from sundown to sundown. The only persons excused from this severe fasting are the sick (and only if they ask to be excused) and children less than nine years old. The child of nine will not fast for the entire 24 hours, but he will begin today to learn to fast, by going without food a few hours beyond his regular eating time.

It is a day of reconciliation, between those who during the past year have done injury to each other, for no man can expect forgiveness from God if he hardens his heart against his fellow man.

And it is a day of charity, of giving to the needs of those less fortunate. Traditionally, Yom Kippur is the time of appeals for founds for the synagogue, for Jewish institutions and for organized charities.

Memorial services are a feature of the day—partly because the dead need atonement, too, and partly because the remembrance of death breaks the pride and humbles the heart of man.

Republican Sees Rainbow After Gloomy Labor Day

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

After a very gloomy Labor Day for me, what with Ad-a-li and his union supporters hovering over southeastern Michigan like a rampaging tornado (one of those big winds of the Paul Bunyan type), life suddenly became worth living again: Two headlines in the Press appeared to me as a golden sunset at the end of a very dark day, or as one of those glorious horizon-to-horizon rainbows after one of these big storms, you know, lots of wind, not much rain.

The two headings were "GOP Puts Van Dusen, Martin on Ticket" and "Buryin's Called Off—Pot-O-Gold to Go On."

Please note the GOP reversed in P-O-G (Pot-O-Gold). So we are told that the "buryin's called off" and the GOP "to go on." Cheer up, girls and boys of the GOP . . . our probation is being extended for four years more. Whoopee!

Russia's Envoy to Egypt Tries to Deter Settlement

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The man in the wings at the Cairo talks on the Suez Canal dispute is Soviet Ambassador Evgeny Kisselev.

Ever since Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal Company last July the Soviet envoy has been busily conferring with Nasser.

And just before the current five-nation committee began its talks with Nasser the Soviet official issued a statement that Egypt must have absolute control over the canal, that there could be no infringement of the nation's sovereignty, etc.

This statement was a propaganda splurge and tended to substantiate U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' charge that the Russians were trying to prevent Nasser from accepting the Western plan for international control of the canal.

Moscow radio has kept up a steady broadcast barrage intended in the American official opinion to inflame the Arab world to such an extent that Nasser will not be able to compromise in his dealings with the Western allies.

MILITARY EFFECT

French and British "military precautions" in the Mediterranean are having their effect on the Arab world, but in just what way it is difficult to determine at this stage.

Anger has swept not only the Egyptian press at the troop movements to Cyprus, 250 miles from Egypt. The wave of Arab nationalism also has mounted in Syria.

Syrian political leaders of various shades in fact seem to be competing to appear to be more Egyptian than the Egyptians themselves in acclaiming the seizure of the canal company and defying possible Western intervention.

Like Egypt, Syria is organizing a people's resistance movement to train civilians in the use of firearms. Like Cairo, the capital of Damascus has had a mock air raid.

The Damascus press is busy smelling out alleged foreign plots and is also the center of inspired rumors about the activities of extremists who would sabotage oil pipelines in case of hostilities.

FEAR THE FRENCH

Some Syrians, remembering the former French mandate in the Levant, believe that the French troops would move on Syria and Lebanon instead of Egypt in case of war.

It is not clear just how much material support the Russians would give Nasser in case of an Anglo-French landing. But Nasser certainly can count on the moral support of the Communist world and that of many Asian nations.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Determined Daughter Is Problem

I am 78 and I worry about what will become of my daughter when I am gone. She is 42. Some years ago she dieted (no meat, no bread, no fats, no cooked vegetables) till she was skin and bone. She was put in a rest home and regained some weight. They gave her electric shock treatment . . . She wants to do everything I don't want done . . . seems strong in the muscles but thinks it would belittle her to accept money for work . . . so I have to take care of the home, feed, and clothe her . . . (Mrs. C. M.)

Answer — For your daughter's welfare and your own, you should ask your doctor to help you apply to the court to appoint a commission to determine your daughter's condition. The court will commit her to a state hospital or other suitable hospital for care and treatment. She will have good care there and be happier than she would be in the average home. Do not let prejudice based on "mad house" fiction rob your daughter of this benefit. Visit a state hospital and see what a pleasant environment the patients have there.

Son has suffered from hay fever and asthma for years . . . (L. E.)

Answer — Send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlets on Asthma, Hay Fever, Allergy.

You have a right to rave about the beauty of Canandaigua and Canandaigua Lake, but it seems a little unfair of you to ignore the vast number of lakes in Wisconsin and Minnesota . . . (Mrs. H. W. D.)

Answer — All right, Wisconsin and Minnesota have more lakes than the Empire State, I see by Hammond's Continental Map of the United States. They have 14 lakes; New York, only 7. But I notice this map doesn't even mention three of the Finger Lakes in New York, so it is possible the map-makers missed a few in your country too.

We want you to know that our doctor, my husband, and I agree 100 per cent with your common sense advice pertaining to health childbirth, cri, vite . . . . (Mrs. E. H.)

Answer—Maybe you and your husband do, but a complimentary set of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health (regularly $7.50) will be yours if you can show me the doctor does.

Commercial preparations work all right for all except two of our family. Please send your pamphlet on Excessive Sweating. We wish to thank you again for all the help you have given us in the years we have read your column and followed your suggestions—parents, children, and grandchildren. (Mrs. R. J. A.)

Answer — Pamphlet mailed in stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Please send in the inclosed stamped, self-addressed envelope your pamphlet on Dermatophytosis —and it would be kind if you would cut that word down to something like C R I. (Mrs. F. C. E.)

Answer—Other names for it are athlete's foot, foot itch, ringworm, fungus infection. I'm afraid most distributors don't know what C R I means.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Paper Routes Excellent Training

Mac will very likely be listed in WHO'S WHO in another 25 years, not just because he comes from an ideal type of Christian home, but because he is learning phychology and business methods. He thus will be a man 10 years ahead of others of his calendar age. You can't bequeath success to a child. He must earn it. Carrying a newspaper route gives boys a 10-year head start in life.

By R. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-360: Mac Frampton, aged 12, is a very successful newspaper carrier in Anderson, South Carolina.

His father, Dr. W. M. Frampton, is a popular Presbyterian clergyman and radio pastor.

* * *

One night when Mac was only 11, he said his prayers and added:

"Thank you, God for helping me find all my customers at home so I could make my collections."

Dr. Frampton said he hadn't previously had his attention called to the importance, to the newspaper carrier, of having people answer their doorbells cheerfully and pay their newspaper boy on schedule.

Mack is a smart lad and is obtaining the very best type of business training that any youth in America ever obtains.

For a newspaper carrier operates his own independent business. He buys his papers at wholesale.

* * *

Then he must "merchandise" them, which includes smiling and being diligent in placing the papers on the front porch out of rain and wind.

In winter blizzards and summer heat, the newspaper boy faithfully carries on.

He learns valuable lessons in business psychology and becomes far more adept in dealing with people than any playboy husbands who are 30 years old, but who are still living on papa's indulgence.

Newspaper carriers also obtain practical training in the credit side of American business, for they must collect from their customers and balance their books.

They soon learn the meaning of that crucial phrase in our "free enterprise" system, namely, Net Profit.

BRAVO, NEWSBOYS

Suppose a playmate should accompany Mac on his weekly collection trip.

"Gee, Mac has $27.00 to spend," such a thoughtless pal might exclaim, failing to realize that the gross collected income is not a profit by a long shot.

For example, Mac must pay the wholesale price for all the papers he has delivered throughout the week.

He must also pay for any damage if he should accidentally break a window by a bad throw of the paper.

If he uses a bicycle, its wear and tear must likewise come out of the gross collection.

Then, and only then, can the newspaper carrier subtract all his costs against his $27.00 of collections and find what his net profit amounts to.

* * *

Would that every American could serve an apprenticeship of a year or more as a newspaper carrier!

For former newspaper boys make Who's Who literally bulge! Such young fellows become self-reliant men long before the average non-newspaper carrier does.

For manhood is not a matter of your calendar age or your height and weight. True manhood is a matter of experience and self sufficiency.

MEN VS. BOYS

Carrying a newspaper route successfully for a full year quickly weeds out the men from the boys.

If a young fellow can make his deliveries on schedule and keep his account books in perfect order, he is a man.

If he can't get on the job on time or if his parents must carry the route for him because of his frequent lapses, then he is still a boy.

Carrying a newspaper route is ideal preparation for a solvent home in later life. Newspaper carriers obtain the equivalent of an Eagle Scout award in practical matters.

And the circulation managers of American newspapers deserve a compliment, too, for their splendid training of 500,000 boys each year in our "free enterprise" system.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Confident Living:

Most Fears Blown Up Way Out of Proportion in the Mind

Knowing God Is Present Helps to Bolster Boldness

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

After my wife and I were married, a friend in Syracuse, N. Y., where I then lived, offered us his cabin in the north woods for a honeymoon. We certainly appreciated this kindness, for we had very little money.

* * *

We drove up there right after the wedding. On the way we stopped in Utica and bought a newspaper. In it was a big black headline telling of the escape of an insane murderer from the state hospital. It stated he had been reported at large in the area toward which we were headed. I said nervously to my bride, "Maybe this isn't the place for us to go on our honeymoon."

"Why, you aren't afraid, are you?" she asked, surprised. She had read my writings and listened to my speeches on overcoming fear, and now that she had married me I had to show her I could practice what I preached. "We'll go right on up there," I insisted stoutly, but not without some inward perturbation.

So we drove on and got there after dark. If you've ever been in the woods, you know how dark it can be.

PREPARE FIRE, DINNER

Our host had said there was a key under the mat. We found it and opened the cottage. I built a fire and Ruth made dinner. My fire was not nearly as good as her dinner. After a delicious meal we sat in the living room before the fire.

"This place has more cracks and noises in it than I ever heard before," I remarked apprehensively. Just then I heard on the front porch what sounded like a step. I looked out the window and thought I could see a face in the darkness. "You don't suppose that murderer could be around here, do you?" I asked.

"I'm sure not," Ruth said. "Let's just sit here and enjoy this cheery fire."

* * *

But the chills were going up and down my back. And I had to prove to my bride that I wasn't a coward, so I said, "Whatever it is on the porch, I'm going to find out." I walked to the door, acting bravely, but trembling in my shoes, and flung it open. And what do you think? There sat a tiny chipmunk looking at me from his beady little eyes.

I said to Ruth, relieved but disgusted, "Nothing but a chipmunk," and I could see the lovelight in her eyes. She knew she'd married a courageous man.

This taught me a needed lesson that our fears are often just as baseless as this experience proved. I don't mean to say everything we have to face in life is as insignificant as a chipmunk. But I do think all of us tend to build up the thing we fear out of all proportion to its real size. A New England physician once wrote me at least half the illnesses of his patients could be traced to fear and anxiety. Once the patient learns to cut his fears down to size, the illness often vanishes.

SUMMON BOLDNESS

Basil King wrote a famous book many years ago. It was called simply "Fear" and it teaches the profound principle that if you act boldly, "mighty powers will come to your aid." When I opened that door in that cabin in the woods, I was acting boldly. If the insane man had been standing there, I am sure I would have found a way to cope with the situation, because the very act of boldness calls up from within us the great forces we need to carry on.

But the basic antidote to fear is a deep consciousness of the presence of God. "I will fear no evil," the Bible says, "for Thou art with me." Get this truth deeply fixed in your subconscious mind, then boldly stand up to your fears. You will find they are not as formidable as you think.

This is the twenty-ninth successive year he has preached each Sunday morning during August in the little Presbyterian Church of Omena, located in the Grand Traverse Bay region.

Originally it was the Old Mission Church and stood on what is now Old Mission peninsula. Established June 3, 1843, for the Chippewa Indians by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, it had its beginning in a log schoolhouse.

Later under the leadership of the Rev. Peter Daugherty, the Indians crossed the eight-mile stretch of Grand Traverse Bay to Omena. Here a school for Indian boys and girls was established.

Poorest Farm Years

DES MOINES — The low point in total farm income and in percentage of national income came in 1934. Between extremely depressed 1934 and prosperous 1952, per capita net income from all sources to persons living on farms increased from $150 to $905—about sixfold—while in the same period per capita net income from all sources to persons not on farms rose from $467 to $1,842—a little less than fourfold.

City Resident to Attend Baptist Parley

"Interpreting the Baptist Student Movement" is the task facing more than 600 college students registered for the National Baptist Student Conference at the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Wis., September 3-8.

Included in the group is Frederick W. Foss, graduate student at the University of Minnesota, member of Bethany Baptist Church.

Serving as worship leader is Dr. Herbert Gezork, Newton Centre, Mass., president of Andover Newton Theological Seminary and a member of the team of churchmen which represented the National Council of Churches in Russia last March.

Burma Baptists Help Agricultural Economy

Eighty or 85 per cent of Burma's people dwell in rural areas. Contrasted with 276 large towns, there are 50,000 country villages. The importance of the agricultural economy in such a land is obvious.

* * *

High on Burma's recovery program is the reclaiming of two million once-productive acres which reverted to jungle during the war.

* * *

The Burma Baptist Convention program includes five agricultural centers where better farming methods are taught in a church-centered atmosphere. A sixth is planned.

EVANGELIST DON LONIE

Youth Leader Baptist Speaker

Evangelist Don Lonie to Discuss Problems of Young People

The Silvercrest Baptist Church will hold special services from Sept. 9 through the 16th. Evangelist Don Lonie, nationally known youth leader of Detroit, will be the speaker.

Mr. Lonie was a pioneer in the present day Bible Club movement in high schools. Under the sponsorship of the High School Assembly Service of Chicago, he speaks in over 150 high school assemblies during the year.

He also is asked to be on programs by Civic Clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations and church groups on youth problems.

The answer to juvenile delinquency is summed up in one statement by Mr. Lonie, "Teach a young person how to live and he will know how to make a living."

While here he will speak to young people and their parents on youth problems.

U.S. Baptists Operate 4 Hospitals in Burma

The Union of Burma, concerned for the good of its people, supports welfare services including hospitals.

Yet only a Christian hospital can heal for Chirst. Patients feel the difference. This prompted Rangoon Christians to expend time and money to establish Kemmendine Christian Hospital for the poor. Nationals direct and support the interdenominational venture. Dr. Ba Than Chain, Baptist layman, gave his services as Kemmendine's first medical director.

Installation and Reception Scheduled Sunday P.M.

The Installation Service for the Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer as pastor of Grace Lutheran Church will be held at 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

The guest speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Ihno A. Johnson Jr., executive secretary of stewardship and parish education for the mission board of the English District.

The Rev. John C. Streit of Covenant Lutheran Church, Detroit, will serve as liturgist and the Rev. Ralph C. Claus of St. Trinity Lutheran, Pontiac, will be the lector.

The officiant will be the Rev. Enno L. Woldt of Lansing, circuit visitor for the district.

Pastor Stuckmeyer was born Jan. 12, 1908 in Indianapolis, Ind., where he attended St. Paul Lutheran elementary school.

He was graduated from Concordia College, Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1928 and from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., in 1932.

He also attended Butler University in Indianapolis, majoring in English with minors in speech and philosophy.

His Masters and Doctors degrees were received from the American Theological Seminary in Delaware. He has also done graduate work at the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary.

The Rev Mr. Stuckmeyer has taught Church History at Concordia Teachers' College in River Forest, Ill., and has served as pastoral advisor to the student teacher training group with his parish.

He is currently a reader for the literature board of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

After serving as vicar in Indianapolis, he was pastor of his first parish in Brazil, Ind. From there he was called to Maysville, Ky., then to Redeemer Church in South Bend, Ind.

He was pastor of Christ Church, Chicago, from 1947 until August of 1956 when he came to Pontiac.

In November 1934, Pastor Stuckmeyer and Bertha L. Haynes were united in marriage. They have three children, David, Phyllis and James.

Immediately following the Installation Service, a reception for the Stuckmeyers will be held in Fellowship Hall to which all members and friends of Grace Church are cordially invited.

Sunday School, Church Officers to Be Elected at Council Meeting

At the special council meeting tonight at 7:30 in the First Church of the Brethren, all Sunday School and Church officers will be elected for the coming year. The Rev. LeRoy Shafer, pastor, will preside.

Sunday School will convene at 10 a.m. Sunday and the morning message will be given at 11 by Ernest R. Johnson, district executive secretary of Mt. Pleasant.

Following this service, the yearly Sunday School picnic will be held around 1 p.m. at Oakland Park.

The evening service at 7 o'clock will be under the direction of the Rev. and Mrs. Lyle Legg who have been missionaries to Nigeria, South Africa, for the past eight years.

Ike Greets Nation's Jews at Rosh Hashana Season

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower extended greetings this week to all persons of the Jewish faith on the occasion of Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year.

* * *

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty made public this statement by the President:

"At this season when men and women of the Jewish faith sit in judgment on themselves, reviewing their personal practice of moral and religious precepts during the year just ended, I join with my fellow Americans of all faiths in cordial greetings to them.

"Rosh Hashana is significant to every American for, in the deepest spiritual sense, we are all of the seed of Abaham and Isaac. Our moral code, the ideas that animate us, faith in God that strengthens us—all these most clearly and most inspiringly proclaimed many centuries ago by men of Jewish blood.

CONTRIBUTED GREATLY

"There decendants, in race and in faith, have contributed greatly to the knowledge and the skills and the culture of America.

"In war, they have freely given their lives for the preservation of the republic. In peace, they have contributed greatly to the advancement of the general welfare.

"At this Rosh Hashana, I know that all Americans join with me in the best wishes to other fellow citizens—their friends and neighbors—of the Jewish faith."

Africa Minister to Teach in U. S.

Returning to America for 3 Years to Instruct in Islamics

A Methodist pastor and teacher who has been a missionary to North Africa since 1927 will return to the United States in September to head the Islamics department of the Kennedy School of Missions at Hartford, Conn.

* * *

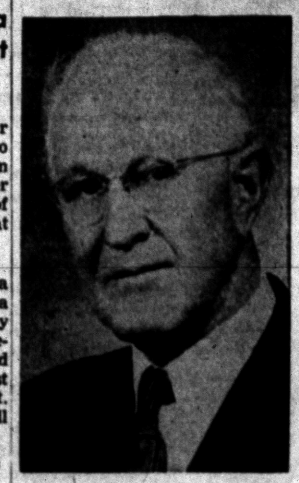

The Rev. Elmer H. Douglas, a native of Kingston, N. Y., and a Ph.D. graduate of the Kennedy School, has been granted a three-year leave of absence by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church to accept the new post. As an associate professor, he will teach Islamics and Arabic.

The Kennedy School is one of three schools comprising the interdenominational Hartford Seminary Foundation. It is a place of study for many new missionaries before they go to their fields, and for missionaries on furlough.

In recent months, Douglas has been serving in strife-ridden eastern Algeria as district superintendent and as pastor of the Methodist church in Constantine.

* * *

Douglas has been active in translating Christian literature into the Arabic language and has translated for such groups as the British Bible Society. Work in the literacy field has included being president of the Inter-Mission Literacy Committee of North Africa.

REV. LUTHER E. ADDINGTON

Friend's Church Services in Hall

Rev. Luther Addington to Organize Members of Group

Coming to Pontiac early this month to organize the First Friend's Church was the Rev. Luther E. Addington. Services are presently being held in the K. P. Hall, 962 Voorheis Rd. at 7:30 p.m. Sunday with Sunday School at 2 p.m.

* * *

He received his ministerial training in Cleveland Bible School and the Cleveland Bible College of Ohio. After several years in evangelistic work, he was called to the First Friend's Church of Cleveland.

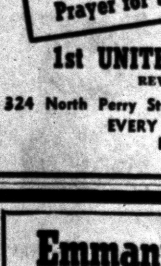

He later served the Second Friend's Church in Indianapolis and the Greenleaf Friend's Church in Idaho. Here he built a new church.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Addington pastored the Friend's Church in Kokomo and Marion, Ind., then two rural congregations before coming to Pontiac.

With his wife, he makes his home at 27 Miller St. The Addington children are grown and married.

19 Confirmands in Adult Class

Rev. George Mahder Will Preach Sermon at St. Paul Lutheran

The largest adult class since the church was started in 1950 will be confirmed at the 10:45 morning service in St. Paul Lutheran Church Sunday.

* * *

The service will be conducted by the Rev. George J. Mahder, pastor. The theme of his sermon, "Building a Christian Life," is found in Matthew 7:24.

The members of the class include Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd, Laverne Brunneier, Roland Folk, Robert Freeman, Phyllis Gray and Robert Locker.

Others in the class are Robert Lucas, Patricia and Larry Peterson, Wilfred Stephens, Eleanor Trotta, Howard Van Camp, Luella Wagner, Donald Wilcox and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harroun.

The confirmands have taken instruction the past four months from the pastor and had their examinations Thursday evening in the presence of the elders of the church.

The group will receive Holy Communion on Sept. 16 at the morning service.

Lutheran Pastors Parley to Open Sept. 2 at MSU

EAST LANSING—Lutheran pastors, coming to the Michigan State University campus for a two-day educational program Sept. 12-13, will hear an outstanding speaker on psychiatry.

Miss Ester Middlewood, chief of mental health education, Michigan Department of Mental Health, will speak to the 25 Michigan ministers, Sept. 13, at Kellogg Center.

The conference also will hear specialists discuss church music, public relations and an explanation of the expanding MSU program for church-related groups.

The Lutheran Pastors Conference last held at MSU in 1954, is sponsored by the Northern Michigan District of the American Lutheran Church and the university's Committee on Church-Related Programs.

'Christ Is the Way,' Topic of Unity Church Sermon

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, Mrs. Blanche Joki of Algonac will speak at the Unity Church of Oakland County. Her topic will be "Christ Is the Way."

The service will be held in the church rooms at 71½ N. Saginaw St. with Sunday School at the same time.

15,000 Baptists Attend 76th Annual Convention

DENVER (INS) — Some 15,000 delegates opened the 76th annual National Baptist Convention in Denver this week with a musical featuring a 1,000-voice interracial choir.

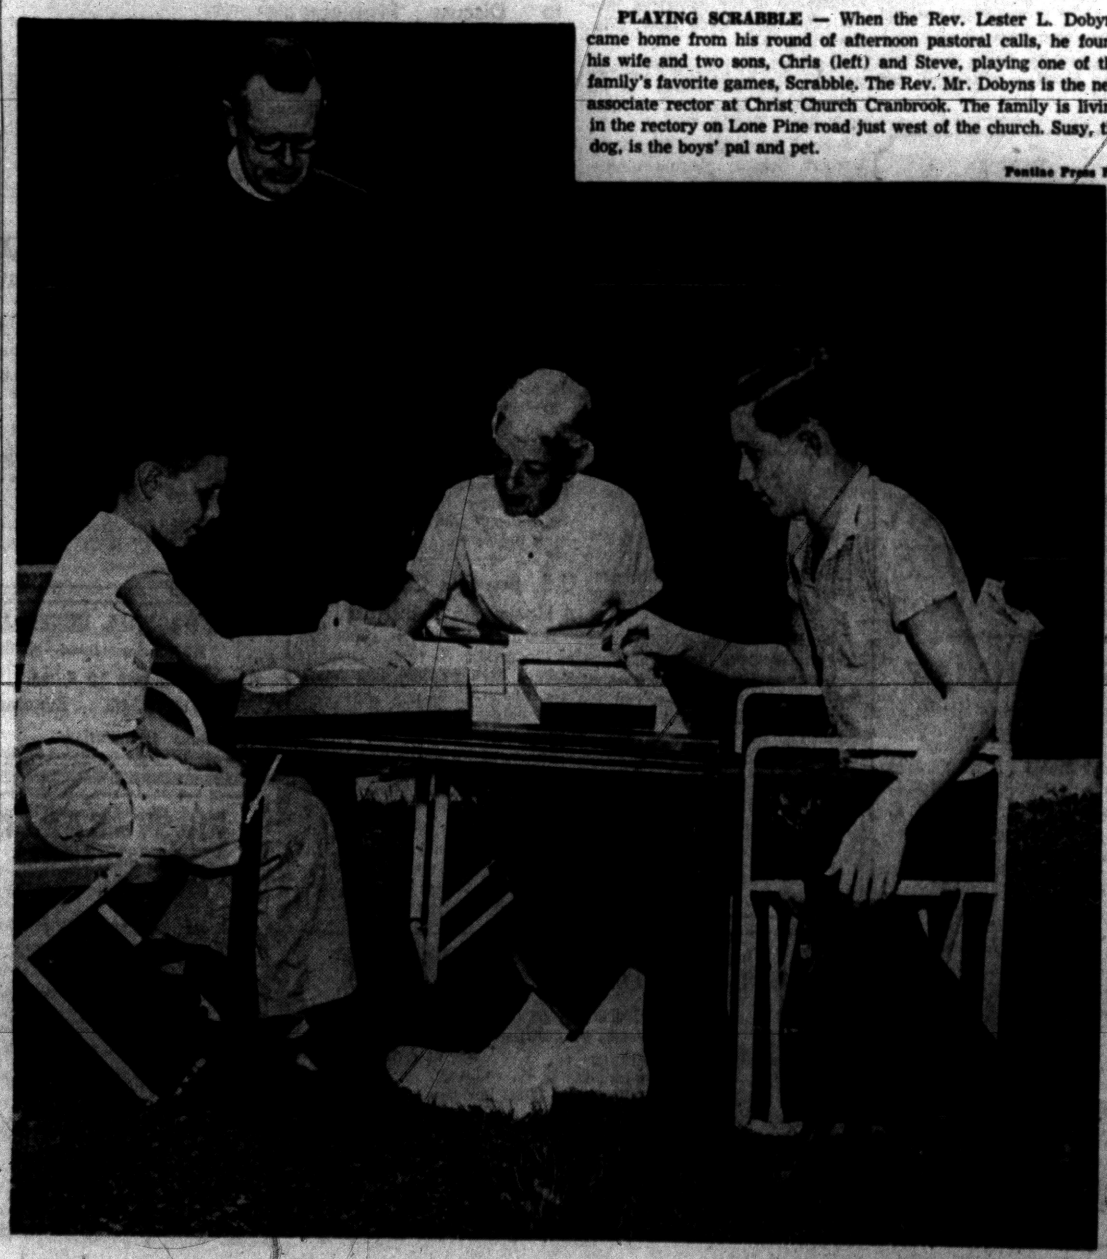

* * *

The delegates, representing 25,000 churches in the nation, will meet through Sunday. The convention is expected to disclose the trend of Negro thinking on political and segregation issues.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., unofficial leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, was to be one of the featured speakers.

* * *

The convention plans to study records of political candidates.

PLAYING SCRABBLE — When the Rev. Lester L. Dobyns came home from his round of afternoon pastoral calls, he found his wife and two sons, Chris (left) and Steve, playing one of the family's favorite games, Scrabble. The Rev. Mr. Dobyns is the new associate rector at Christ Church Cranbrook. The family is living in the rectory on Lone Pine road just west of the church. Susy, the dog, is the boys' pal and pet.

Burma Baptists Guide, Assume Responsibilities

In early years American Baptist missionaries largely guided the work in Burma. Though the years, however, the Burma Baptist Convention, dating back to 1865, has assumed more and more of the responsibilities carried by the Mission in pioneer times.

* * *

Today the Burma Baptist Convention is the coordinating body for all work, directing the program, handling funds, recruiting missionary and national personnel, holding more and more of the property. The American Baptist Burma Mission has a mother status within the Burma Convention.

Airport Costs a Lot

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic—The Dominican Republic is planning a $9,000,000 international airport, the first in Latin American airport, the first in Latin America designed for the jet-transport age. It will be at Punta Caucedo on the Caribbean shore, less than 15 miles from the capital, Ciudad Trujillo.

Former Major Comes to Ohio

Church World Service Obtains Employment for Refugee

Danilo Bjordjevic, a 49-year-old former major in the Royal Yugoslav Air Force who preferred be a refugee in Austria to pursuing a military career in a Communist country, is carving out a new life for himself in South Euclid, Ohio.

Thanks to the help of Church World Service, in obtaining assurances of employment and housing in this country, Bjordjevic came in on the special visa offered under the Refugee Relief Act.

He arrived by air recently along with some 69 other European passengers admitted under the act. He is now working as an automobile mechanic for his American sponsor.

In 1941 the Yugoslavian air officer was captured by German troops. For four years he was interned in a POW camp in Germany and later sent to Austria.

There he refused repatriation to Yugoslavia, declaring that his greatest desire was to find a decent job and live in freedom, away from Communist threats.

Without the aid of the relief organization, his hopes would have been dim, for he had no relatives in America.

Kuwait Is Oil Leader

LONDON—Eighty per cent of Great Britain's crude-oil imports came from the Middle East in 1955, and 60 per cent of them from one country—the British-protected Sheikdom of Kuwait, biggest producer in the area.

WAS MARY THE MOTHER OF GOD?

Mary, the virgin mother of our Lord Jesus Christ, has always held an important place in the thinking of the Christian Church.

Mary was indeed "blessed among women," as we read in the Bible. But there is no Scriptural basis for assuming that she possesses any power or influence over the Lord Jesus Christ in the exercise of His divine power.

The gospels clearly state that Mary, a virgin, became the mother of our Lord. It was from Mary that Jesus derived His humanity—but not His deity. Jesus respected Mary. On the cross He took thought for the welfare of His aging mother and committed her to the care of His disciple, John.

Yet Mary needed a Saviour. In the Bible we read that Mary said, "My spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour." (Luke 1: 47)

The Bible never refers to Mary as "the Mother of God." In the history of the Christian Church she was never called "the Mother of God" until the middle of the fifth century A. D.

The truth of the Gospel is centered in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, not in Mary His mother. The Bible says: "Thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins." (Matthew 1: 21)

Bible-believing Protestants have preserved the Bible emphasis in giving supreme place to the person and work of Jesus Christ. Jesus alone has made possible our salvation. The Bible says that "if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." (Romans 10: 9)

Weddings, Engagement Steal Limelight

MELINDA FARR BOOTH

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scripps Booth today are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Melinda Farr, to Jon Holmberg Henrikson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Henrikson of Delray Beach, Fla., formerly of Middleton, Conn. The betrothal news is being told at a buffet supper at "Thornlea," their home here. Guests are family members and close friends as well as Jon, who is a houseguest of the Booths. Miss Booth is a graduate of Kingswood School and attends Stetson University in DeLand, Fla., where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Jon also attends Stetson and is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. No date has been set for the wedding.

Margaret Lawless and Thomas Duross were married this morning at a Nuptial High Mass at St. Benedict Church. She is the daughter of Patrick J. Lawless of Pioneer drive and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis P. Duross of Marquette street.

MRS. THOMAS DUROSS

Margaret Jean Lawless Weds Thomas P. Duross

A floor-length gown of Italian silk was worn by Margaret Jean Lawless for her marriage to Thomas P. Duross this morning at St. Benedict Church.

The boat neckline of her gown was of embroidered Alencon lace, and a pleated cummerbund formed a bustle. An illusion veil of fingertip length fell from her pearl-trimmed Juliet cap of lace.

* * *

The bridal bouquet was of fugi chrysanthemums in a cascade arrangement.

The 10 a.m. Nuptial High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Richard Thomas in the presence of 250 guests. Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar for the service.

Margaret is the daughter of Patrick J. Lawless of Pioneer drive and Tom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis P. Duross of Marquette street.

SISTERS TAKE PART

A street-length dress of turquoise faille with a matching hat was worn by matron of honor, Mrs. Louis Fairbrother for her sister's wedding.

Janet Lawless, sister of the bride, and Honore Duross, sister of the bridegroom, wore princess style gowns like the matron of honor's in a toast color.

They carried baskets of yellow shasta daisies and bronze chrysanthemums with croton leaves.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Thomas Buchanan of Dayton, Ohio, served as best man. James Niebauer and John Bookie seated the guests.

For the wedding breakfast, served at Devon Gables for members of the bridal party and the immediate families, Miss Kathleen Lawless, aunt of the bride, wore a silver blue dress and velvet hat with navy blue accessories. Her flowers were rapture roses.

Mrs. Duross chose a taupe nylon lace dress with a pink velvet hat and brown accessories, and a corsage of rapture roses.

An afternoon reception was held at the home of the bride on Pioneer drive.

When the couple leave for Springfield, Ohio, the bride will wear a charcoal dress with a coral feathered hat and black accessories. A corsage of coral glamellias will complete her ensemble.

No Reason for Couple to Skip Film

Ailing Friend Had Hubby's Company on Trip Home

By EMILY POST

"The other evening my husband and I and another couple went to the movies. During the picture, the other woman felt ill and had to leave. My husband and I remained until the movie was over.

"I have heard indirectly that she was quite put out about our not leaving with them, and thinks we showed very little concern for her health.

Answer: Since her husband was with her and went home with her, I can't see what use there would have been in your also leaving the movie. Had you let her go out into the night alone, then I agree that you would have shown very little concern.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How wrong would it be for my mother to go back to her first marriage name? She was married many years to my father and several years after he died she married again, but this marriage lasted only a year."

Answer: It is not unusual for a mother to take back the name of her children's father under the circumstances you describe.

In a double-ring ceremony this afternoon Virginia A. Wagner became the bride of Robert Alan Farmer. The Albert P. Wagners of Bloomfield Hills are her parents, and he is the son of Mrs. Raymond Podvin of Birmingham and Clifton Farmer of Farmington.

MRS. ROBERT ALAN FARMER

Wagner, Farmer Vows Said

Pair to Spend Year Completing Studies at MSU

At 2:30 this afternoon in First Methodist Church, Birmingham, Virginia Alice Wagner and Robert Alan Farmer exchanged their nuptial vows.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Wagner of Bloomfield Hills, are parents of the bride. Robert's parents are Mrs. Raymond Podvin of Birmingham, and Clifton Farmer of Farmington.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Duopioni silk. The bodice, appliqued with Alencon lace, was fashioned with a portrait neckline and short sleeves. She wore guantlets of lace.

The bouffant skirt, appliqued with lace, extended into a formal train. Her triple-tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of sequins and pearls.

BOUQUET WITH ORCHID

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lillies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

A ballerina-length gown of apricot-colored summer satin was worn by matron of honor, Mrs. Vernon Knight of Hillsdale. Bridesmaids Wynifred Wagner and Grace Wagner of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Albert W. Wagner of Birmingham, and Marsha Farley of Parma, wore similar gowns in a mint green color.

Tiny matching bands of velvet formed their headpieces. They carried beige velvet rings with apricot-colored bird of paradise, stephanotis and ivy.

* * *

Marsha Farmer of Farmington, wore white organdy for her duties as flower girl. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Best man was Curt Dempster. Ushers were Albert W. Wagner and Fred Beck of Birmingham, Rex Morin of Whitehall, George Alexander of East Lansing, and Vernon Knight of Hillsdale.

For the garden reception held at the Wagner home, Mrs. Wagner wore a rose beige lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Podvin wore a delphinium blue chiffon dress with matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orhcids.

After a honeymoon in Pennsyvania, the couple will live in East Lansing were both are seniors at Michigan State University.

For traveling, the bride changed to a black sheath dress with red accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Birminghamites Return From Summer at Lakes

BIRMINGHAM—Mayor and Mrs. James Allen will entertain friends at their West Maple home next Saturday night in honor of Robert G. Campbell and Grace Mack.

Campbell and Miss Mack plan to wed Oct. 19, and the cocktail party will include many localities, since both are Birmingham residents.

Planning a New York trip Sept. 20 is Mrs. Walker A. Williams, who is just back at their Glengarry home from Lake Vermillion, Minn., where she spent the summer.

Mr. Williams, and their sons, John and Forrester spend much time at the northern lake, as well, with John entertaining several school friends.

The Williams have vacationed for 20 summers there, where a lodge is headquarters for numerouc cottages for summer tenants.

* * *

A full week of opera-going is in store for Mrs. Williams, who likes to speak with authority when she boosts for the late fall opera season in Detroit. She'll see the opening night show of the New York City Opera company, and succeeding nights' shows.

While Suffragen Bishop Archie Crowley attends an Episcopal church conference at Nashotah, Wis., his family at home at 1986 Northlawn are preparing sons Larry and Danny for schooldays.

Danny, just back from Camp Owatka, will go to Cranbrook School, while Larry, who worked all summer in a Yellowstone Park lodge, will attend Olivet College.

A Platte Lake summer ended Tuesday for the Robert L. Spencer family, and on Thursday, Sharon, Bob, Bill and Jack were back in Birmingham Schools.

"It was cool up north, but wonderful," say the family, which included Mr. Spencer on three-and four-day weekends at the Spencer cottage at the Northern Michigan lake.

* * *

Summer's end meant realization of a new interest for the John Cooper family, with daughter Maud being captain of an equestrian team that competed in five shows including last weekend's at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

* * *

Maud will be entertaining two of her team, Barbara Irvine and Susan Sauer, at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club tonight. Other member of the team, whose membership changed frequently as summer progressed, was Larry Turnere, who left this morning for University of Virginia.

They represented Outland's, and the girls rounded out the summer with the third of their unumber, Sue, become owner of her own horse on Wednesday.

'High Hat' Is Top Style for Autumn

PARIS—Paris has gone "high hat." Height is by far the leading trend in the fall hat collections but to be attractively hatted in the latest Paris fashion your hat should also be soft in feeling and moderate in size.

The Paris designers have created hats that are pretty and wearable.

The hats or their copies would look at home any place in America, in fact Paris milliners seem to have taken some of their ideas from American milliners who showed tall soft hats for fall weeks ago.

Among the interesting hats in Paris which are making fashion news are the tall black fur cossack hats at Fath and the boat hats with upturned brims at Svend.

But everyone in Paris from Dior on down agrees with our own talented American milliners that the fall style trend is toward tall, medium-sized and softened hats.

Central Church WSCS Presents .. Program, Goals

"The Spirit of Christ for All of Life" and the seven quadrennial goals of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was the program presented by real life pictures when the WSCS of Central Methodist Church met at the church Thursday.

Participating in the program were Mrs. Allen Palmer, the Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Rice, Susie Sayers, Mrs. George Dietrich, Mrs. Robert Byrnes, Mrs. Donald Tryon, Mrs. Frank Davis and Mrs. Lyle Saum.

Mrs. Garth Sayers directed the program narrated by Mrs. P. G. Latimer, Mrs. Ralph Robinson, Bessie Carpenter and Mrs. Frank Gray.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. William MacDonald, Mrs. Frank Gray and Mrs. Harold Srigley. Luncheon was served by the Marion Shaw Circle with Mrs. Roy Kibbey as chairman. Assisting were Mrs. Lean DeLand, Mrs. William Mustard, Mrs. Glen Behler, Mrs. G. R. Jarvis, Louise Haskell and Mrs. Noah Batten.

Presides at Meeting

Mrs. Orra Schram presided as Queen Esther at the Wednesday meeting of the Corinne Sisterhood, 184, Dames of Malta. A family night for Sir Knights and Dames and their friends, to be held in October, was among the fall activities planned at the meeting held at Malta Temple.

Recruitment Time Set

Central Volunteer Bureau serving Pontiac, Birmingham and Waterford areas, has designed September as recruitment month. The Bureau has set a goal of 300 additional volunteers to help tax supported and social service organizations.

From McAuley School

Area Girls to Graduate

Two Pontiac girls will graduate Sunday from the McAuley School of Practical Nursing, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Graduation exercises will be held at 3 p.m. at Mercy College in the McAuley Auditorium.

Receiving their degrees from the Rev. T. L. Marcero of St. Vincent de Paul Church will be Leona Mae Abbe of Melrose avenue and Janice Shirley Senum of Ferry avenue. The Rev. John Trese will speak and Dr. J. M. Markley will present pins to the graduates.

Preceding graduation exercises the class will attend a ten o'clock Graduation Mass in the chapel at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, followed by a brunch at the school.

Graduation activities began Friday with a Day of Recollection conducted by Father Marcero followed by a prom in the evening in the school auditorium.

* * *

This evening, the class will be guests of the faculty at a banquet being held at the school. Mrs. Ruth Endelson, principal of Mt. Sinai School of Practical Nursing will speak on the "Future of the Practical Nurse". The class history and prophecy will be read at this time.

To reside in Mt. Pleasant are Mr. and Mrs. G. Howell Johnson who were married today in St. James Episcopal Church in Birmingham. The bride is the former Charlotte Ruth Branion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Branion of Birmingham. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Tregent street.

MRS. G. HOWELL JOHNSON

Johnson-Branion Nuptials Read in Birmingham Rite

Charlotte Ruth Branion became the bride of G. Howell Johnson this afternoon in St. James Episcopal Church in Birmingham. The Rev. Harold E. Towne performed the 3 p.m. ceremony in the presence of 125 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Branion of Birmingham and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Tregent street.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of organdy over taffeta accented with embroidery on the bodice and at the hemline. Her double-tiered veil was secured by a tiny organdy cap.

Completing her bridal costume was a strand of pearls given her by her great aunt.

ATTENDANTS IN GREEN

Princess style gowns of pale green in ballerina length were the choice of the attendants. They wore matching colored hats with nose veils, and carried arrangements of autumn flowers.

Mrs. J. S. Dill Jr. served her cousin as matron of honor. Betty Morris and Janet Adams were the bride's other attendants.

Serving his brother as best man was Russel Johnson. Ushers were Wallace Johnson, brother of the bridegroom, Robert Duff, and Wallace Harris.

* * *

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Branion chose a light blue dress accented with darker blue sequins. Mrs. Johnson wore a light blue dress with matching accessories. Both wore pink corsages.

A dinner was held at Huck's Redford Inn following the ceremony.

For traveling to Northern Michigan the bride changed to a printed sheath dress with black duster coat and black accessories.

The newlyweds will make their home in Mt. Pleasant where they attend Central Michigan College.

Stork Shower Fetes Mrs. Donald Deeter

Mrs. Donald Deeter was the honoree at a pink and blue shower Thursday evening given by Mrs. John Gibson at her home on Ascot street.

A white lamb shaped cake flanked by pink, white and lavender asters and pink and white tapers was the centerpiece for the lace-covered buffet table.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Branton Dennis, Mrs. Howard Deeter, Mrs. George Dennis, Mrs. Fred Millis, Mrs. William Aebersold, Mrs. James G. Aldrich, Mrs. Robert Dustan, Mrs. Donald Kobman, Mrs. Robert Irwin, Edwinna Brown, Mrs. James Adams and Mrs. Steven Napier.

Zontas to Resume Fall Activities

Fall activities of Zonta Club will be resumed Sept. 13 with a luncheon at Hotel Waldron. The announcement was made at an informal luncheon Thursday at the Waldron.

New committees for the year will be named at this meeting, according to Mrs. Fotis Takis, president. Mrs. Takis announced Sept. 28-30 as the dates for the fall conference of District Five, Zonta International, being held in Saginaw.

Carol Jean Cooper Becomes Bride

Dr. H. H. Savage of First Baptist Church officiated at the wedding of Carol Jean Cooper and Raymond F. Fleisher. One hundred and fifty guests attended the four o'clock ceremony today.

The Ray Coopers of Pontiac Lake road are parents of the bride. Raymond resides on Owego drive.

The gown of lace and tulle featured a sabrina neckline on the fitted bodice of lace. A small flounce of lace at the waistline fell over her bouffant skirt of tulle. Her long sleeves came to points at the wrists.

* * *

A sequin and pearl-trimmed bandeau held her fingertip-length veil. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls and pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. A white Bible with white glamellias, sweetheart roses and ivy comprised her bridal bouquet.

Judith Ingamells, maid of honor, wore a tangerine colored dress and carried a bouquet of matching flowers. Bridesmaids Sharon Beaubein and Judy Cooper wore mint green.

Raymond's brother, Leroy Fleisher was his best man. Jay Cooper and Bruce Lewis acted as ushers. Melvin Cooper was ringbearer.

An evening reception will be held at the Union Hall on Baldwin avenue.

* * *

The bride will change to a cocoa brown knit suit with brown accessories for traveling on their wedding trip to Milwaukee, Wis. She will also wear the sweetheart roses from her bridal bouquet.

MRS. RAY FLEISHER

Palms decorated the altar of First Baptist Church for the marriage of Carol Jean Cooper and Raymond F. Fleisher. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooper of Pontiac Lake road and he resides on Owego drive.

OES Group Meets With Mrs. Couzens

Mrs. William Couzens opened her home on Delaware drive Thursday evening to members of the Griffen Proficiency Club, OES, 228. Mrs. John Burnia was a guest at the gathering.

Following a brief business meeting members enjoyed an evening of games. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Holland.

Thomas McAndrew Claims Bride

Two hundred guests witnessed the wedding this morning of Rita Nord and Lt. Thomas J. McAndrew Jr. The Rev. T. L. Marcero of St. Vincent de Paul Church celebrated the ten o'clock Nuptial Mass.

* * *

Rita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nord of Ferry avenue and Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McAndrew of Bradford, Pa.

* * *

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a velvet redingote with a sweeping train. A bouffant tulle dress was worn underneath. Cut velvet leaves trimmed with rhinestones accented the tulle dress and the long sleeves of the redingote ended in points at the wrists.

A lace crown trimmed with iridescent sequins held her fingertip veil of illusion.

* * *

A peacock and aqua trimmed princess style dress of crystalette was worn by Kathleen Currier, maid of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of peacock carnations and a matching band of flowers served as a headpiece.

* * *

Mrs. Floyd Stanton and Mrs. Merle Hanel, sisters of the bride, wore coral dresses with a pink trim like the maid of honor's.

Deborah Nord, niece of the bride, wore a frock similar to the bridal attendants' for her duties as flower girl.

Thomas asked James Colligan of Bradford, Pa., to serve as his best man. Also assisting the bridegroom were Paul Nord, Jr., of Warren, brother of the bride, and John Nord of Utica, also a brother of the bride.

When Mrs. Nord greeted her guests at the afternoon reception held at Rotunda Inn, she was wearing a rose lace dress with Dior blue accessories and a corsage of white glamellias.

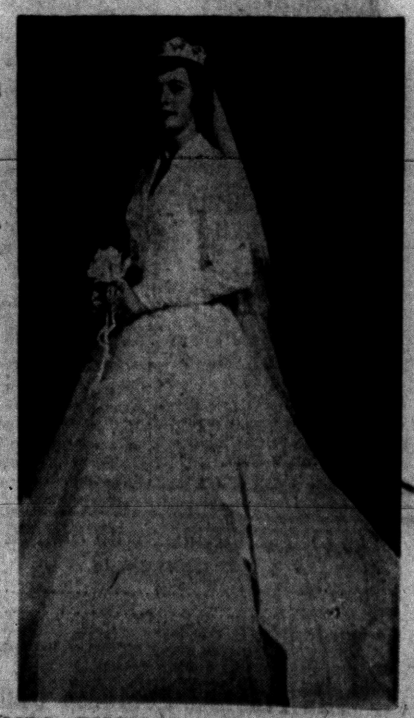

Mrs. McAndrew wore an Areo blue dress with matching accessories. Her flowers were also white glamellias.

* * *

Following their wedding trip, the couple will make their home at Fort Riley, Kansas, where he is stationed with the U.S. Army.

Hitchcock Design Grows Popular

RIVERTON, Conn. (INS) — The popularity of the Hitchcock chair has produced a whole series of "Hitchcock" type furniture—in different colors.

* * *

The familiar ladder-back black chair with its cane seat and painted back design now has bedroom and window furniture cousins.

There are whole bedroom sets being made in "Hitchcock" style, as well as ornamented window cornices in several widths.

* * *

The new furniture, and the standard Hitchcock chair too, is available in such colors as yellow, red green, blue and white in addition to the regular black or natural maple and cherry.

Theater Offers New Scholarship

A newly instituted Work Scholarship is being offered this fall by the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater.

The scholarship is open to any man, 15 years or older, with an interest in the theater, theatrical experience and the need for financial assistance.

Applications for the scholarship for fall term, beginning Sept. 17, are now being taken. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner, director of the theater. The applicants will be screened by Mrs. Turner and the board of directors.

Coming Events

Dora B. Whitney group, WCTU, will meet Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Mark Cheney, 51 Dwight Ave.

Survey Shows 2 Dates Week, Little 'Necking'

Here's Lowdown on Normal Conduct of Teenagers

BY EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Young people from smaller American communities are more sophisticated today in many ways than their city cousins.

This rather startling conclusion can be drawn from a series of studies undertaken recently by our organizations, and involving more than 15,000 interviews.

Take the institution of dating.

Youngsters in large centers like New York and Chicago have dates only 1½ times a week on the average.

In smaller towns of 2,500 to 50,000 population the figure is nearly two a week. Also, girls there start dating at the age of 14, which is more than a half a year earlier than for city girls.

Small town youngsters tend to date in twosomes; in the city they date a lot in groups. And while city kids spend more money on their dates, the money doesn't go as far.

HOW MUCH KISSING?

How about necking?

In big towns or small, girls seem to agree that a goodnight kiss is about as far as they should go for at least the first three dates.

After that, country-bred teens concede they approve of necking, in moderation, between young people who are going together.

But the city girls apparently do not feel that necking is a must. And a large percentage of them, even at 17, tell us they never have necked and do not expect to until they have gone steady for quite awhile.

* * *

"Even if I wanted to neck," one New York girl commented, "where would I go? The city is overcrowded and the park isn't safe after dark."

Now about this business of going steady. Differences crop up here also.

* * *

In the larger cities, youngsters say that a couple should at least be seniors in high school before they refuse all dates except with each other. Outside those areas, they think it all right to go steady at 15 or 16.

There's a difference, the city teens made clear, between going steady and going steadily. Going steadily, a boy or girl will see one person most of the time but accept occasional dates from others.

This seems more sensible to the big city youngster because it keeps him in circulation and gives him a chance to broaden his horizon while still seeing a lot of the object of his affections.

It could lessen the chances of too early and eventually unsuccessful marriage—something that city youngsters, who have seen a lot of divorce, have in mind.

MARRIAGE AGE

For, although the city girls are just as interested as the country girls in early marriage, their definition of "early" is a bit different. They put the ideal age at 19, and many of them think that a year in college should come first. Girls in smaller places think of 17 or 18 as good times for marriage.

The city girls, moreover, feel they should wait at least two years after the wedding before they have their first child. Their country cousins think that a year is long enough.

Youngsters living in small towns are more influenced by religious activity than their city neighbors. They join youth groups and clubs in their churches more often.

* * *

City teens seem limited in many instances to commercial entertainment. Yet they frequently have a problem of finding interesting recreation and many say they would welcome the planned activity of a church club.

Still, they boast of their independence, even when time hangs heavily on their hands.

Teens in cities are not as interested in hobbies as those in most places. A surprising number of boys told us that hobbies are a waste of time. And they participate in fewer sports than young people elsewhere.

All in all, young people everywhere want much the same out of life. They have high hopes and aspirations for the future, but most of all they want to have fun now while they are still young.

Small town teeners have a definite edge over city boys and girls when it comes to privacy on dates.

Former Pontiac residents, they have 5 children, 17 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren. Their children are Mrs. Samuel Ranzilla of Voorheis road, Mrs. Helen Arnold of Detroit, Mrs. Samuel Dodero of Bloomfield Township, Mrs. Thomas Harris and Mrs. Charles Gottschalk of Royal Oak, Mrs. William Mahar and Ernest Campanaro of Walled Lake, Joseph Campanaro of Huntington Woods and Albert Campanaro of South East boulevard.

Two Teachers Join Faculty at Will-O-Way

Celia Merrill Turner, director of the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre, announces two appointments to her staff. Richard J. Perry will offer special courses in fencing and Jim Robertson will teach the techniques of scenic design to the fall theater classes.

Perry has been associated with the theatre since 1940. Well known in Detroit as a fencing instructor, Perry is beginning his fourth year as fencing coach at the University of Detroit.

Robertson directed the construction of the stage and scenery when the apprentice theater was originally built. He is well known in theater circles for his knowledge of stage design, and has handled the lighting and scenery at several Detroit theaters.

Iraq Caldron Meets, Names Delegates

Mrs. Fred Crossman presided at the Wednesday evening meeting of Iraq Caldron 70, held at Grotto Hall.

Elected delegates to the annual supreme session to be held in Canton, Ohio, Sept. 26-29 are Mrs. Crossman and Mrs. Albert Kugler. It was announced that all committee reports are to be in for the Oct. 3 meeting.

Buckets, Barrels Move Indoors

CHICAGO (INS) — Buckets and barrels, often used as a rustic note in outdoor settings are coming inside the house.

Decorators at the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago used them as accent touches in ultra-modern settings.

* * *

Old wooden buckets were lacquered black and trimmed either with brass or gold paint. They were used as waste baskets; planters or magazine catchalls.

Shiny brass barrels were grouped around cocktail tables in living room arrangements for impromptu seats.

St. Benedict Church Plans Annual Dinner

Plans for the annual fall dinner of St. Benedict Parish were made when members of St. Benedict's Guild met Tuesday evening in the parish hall. Mrs. Ralph Cotcher and Mrs. Allen Neville will serve as cochairman for the dinner.

Following reports of the various units, the Rev. Richard Thomas outlined plans for a Caria Conference for married couples to be held on Sept. 23. Details of the conference are being handled by Mrs. Michael Glisky with the assistance of Mrs. Cotcher and the church units.

ESA Chapter Hears Reports, Plans Projects

Mrs. Ben Sweeney of Linden road, presided at the Thursday evening meeting of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. The sorority held this first meeting of the fall season at the YMCA.

Mrs. Elmer Johnson, vice-president, announced her rushing committee for the fall season and reported the first rush party would be Sept. 27.

A report on two meetins, held during the summer by Dr. James McHugh, was given by Mrs. Ralph Wilson. Topic of the meetings was the Child Psychiatry Program at Pontiac State Hospital, the group's philanthrophic project. The chapter will donate a three-speed phonograph to the girls ward at the hospital.

An October project will be a money-making project and Edna Parker, ways and means chairman, announced a toy demonstration is planned for November.

Other plans discussed were for the Christmas dance under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry Woodman.

A report on the International Convention held in Albuquerque was heard from Mrs. Frank Jalosky, delegate.

Hodge Conspirator Given 4 to 5 Years

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Edward A. Epping, office manager for former state auditor Orville E. Hodge, has been sentenced to four to five years in state prison on charges of conspiring with Hodge to steal more than $637,000 in state funds.

* * *

The sentence came on the eve of Epping's birthday. He was 38 today. He will join his ex-boss in the Menard branch of the state penitentiary. Hodge drew a 12 to 15 year term for his 1½ million dollar swindle.

Epping's plea leaves 46 other state charges of forgery, conspiracy and confidence game still pending. Asst. State's Atty. J. Waldo Ackerman said these will be prosecuted in the course of the court's ordinary business.

Epping was remanded to the custody of the Sangamon County sheriff with the court's suggestion that he be taken Monday to U.S. district court in Chicago. He previously drew a five-year prison term on federal charges growing out of the swindle.

Balloon Climbs Almost 27 Miles to Claim Record

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—University of Minnesota scientists claimed a balloon record yesterday, by nearly 20,000 feet. A plastic bag they sent up soared 142,900 feet, or about 26 4-5 miles.

* * *

The record was set by a pyramidal-shaped balloon 180 feet long. It was constructed of mylar, a new plastic, and its skin, one-thousandth of an inch thick, held a million cubic feet of helium.

Edward P. Ney and John R. Winckler, university physicists working under the Office of Naval Research, said the balloon carried 48 pounds of instruments, cameras, ballast and timers.

Previous altitude mark for unmanned balloons, 125,000 feet, was set last year by a bag sent aloft by Winzen Research, Inc., Bloomington, Minn., in a separate military project.

* * *

Ney said the experiments are being carried out to study cosmic rays and meteorology in the upper atmosphere.

5½ Million More Voters Eligible Than in 1952

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau estimated today there will be around 5½ more Americans of voting age this November than for the presidential election in 1952.

The bureau said the number of persons of voting age will total between 104½ and 105 million by election day. This compares with 99 million and 1952. It also will be an increase of 3½ million or more over the 101 million of voting age at the time of the congressional elections in 1954.

The estimate applies to all persons 21 years of age or older and includes those between 18 and 21 who meet voting age requirements in Georgia.

The number eligible to vote by age compares with a total population expected to reach 169 million by Nov. 1.

All persons who meet age requirements to cast ballots are not necessarily eligible to vote for various reasons.

Hollywood Headlines

Elaine Stewart Decides to Paint Filmland Silver

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elaine Stewart is going to restore some glamor to Hollywood, even is she has to get silverplated to do it.

* * *

You'll remember Elaine as the red-haired beauty who vamped Kirk Douglas in "The Bad and the Beautiful." After a few more film roles, she languished at MGM almost two years. In her last year under contract, she didn't even visit the studio. She did no work at all, though she was being paid "more than a United States Senator."

So she pulled the paper doll caper. With the guidance of a hotshot press agent, she hired an ad in one trade paper displaying her admirable figure. In another trade paper was printed a dress, with the invitation to cut it out and apply to the Stewart figure.

* * *

The stunt plus other persuasions managed to get the gal out of stir. She landed immediately at Universal-International with a two-picture-a-year deal starting with "The Tattered Dress."

"Oh, it felt so good to be out" she rhapsodized over cottage cheese in the U-I commissary. "I just felt wonderful, so I decided I'd like a whole new change."

* * *

So what did she do? Change her agent? Her boy friend? Her telephone number?

No—her hair!

Gone are the auburn tresses. She is now a quicksilver blonde.

* * *

"I feel wonderful—like a whole new person," she said. "It's amazing what a new color of hair can do for you.

"Now I'm adjusting my whole life to a new motif—silver. Everything is going to be silver. All my jewelry is silver. I have a new silver Mercedes to drive and a silver poodle named Cliquot. I use silver nail polish and eat off silver dishes."

* * *

With what kind of utensil

"Silver, silly," she chided. "And I sleep in a silver bed."

* * *

But the spectacular part of the whole campaign is her new wardrobe, she remarked.

"Oh, you should see it," she enthused. "I've had a designer whip me up lounging pajamas of silver lame. They are cut very low, with a big collar I can pull up and fasten around my neck with a silver mink.

* * *

"It is very form-fitting and then flares out at the bottom with lots of material. You know—like those outfits in the '20s. If they can bring back the cloche hats and other things, I can do this."

IN PROPORTION—Lina Mancel, recently elected beauty queen of Monaco, takes on a more expansive title as queen of the whole Cote d'Azur. She's shown at Nice, France, after assuming the new title.

South Americans Build Their Tallest Structure

SANTOS, Brazil — The tallest building in South America and the highest structure to be erected or reinforced concrete in the world is being constructed in the seaport city of Sao Vicente, near here.

The 43-story, 520-foot-high, multi-purpose structure will have 130 apartments, yachting facilities — including mooring space for 100 vessels—a yacht club, and quay frontage of 275 feet.

Lions Whip Graham-Less Browns, 17-0

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — One thing has become more apparent with every game for the Cleveland Browns. They miss Otto Graham.

At Briggs Stadium last night, quarterback Vito Parilli tried gamely to fill the big shoes of the retired Graham, but a determined Detroit Lions' defense repelled everything he threw to whip the Browns, 17-0, before 48,105 fans.

It was the third pre-season victory in four games for the Lions and marked the 4th straight defeat in as many pro exhibitions for the World Champion Browns.

The offensive units of both teams sputtered for three quarters, with an occasional short march around midfield, until the final period when the running of Jug Girard and Gene Gedman perked up Lions' attack.

Actually it was the defensive unit which set up the three scores for Detroit.

In the first period, Harley Sewell fell on a loose ball on the Brown 22 yard line when Preston Carpenter fumbled Yale Lary's punt. Don McIlhenny then got to the eight, but Bobby Layne failed on a sneak and a pass play and he then kicked a field goal from the 16-yard line to give the Lions a 3-0 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff, Carpenter, the younger brother of Detroit's Lew Carpenter, streaked down the sidelines 60 yards to the Lion 36.

Lary ended the threat by intercepting Parilli's pass on the 3rd down.

Except for Detroit's march from the 18 to the Brown 24, there was no serious threat by either team in the second quarter, and Layne's 3-pointer stood up at intermission.

Late in the third period the Browns moved from their own 14 to the Lion 19, aided by two 15-yard penalties against Detroit and a 43-yard pass play from Parilli to Dante Lavelli.

Parilli tried to pass from the 10 and it was intercepted by Jimmy David in the end zone.

Lary's punting often kept Cleveland within the shadow of its own goal line forcing Parilli to gamble on passes within his own 20 yard marker.

One of Parilli's passes was intercepted early in the 4th quarter by Sonny Gandee, who went unmolested 14 yards into the end zone for the score. Layne converted and Detroit led 10-0.

Failing to move after the kickoff, the Browns were forced to punt. Lary took the kick and raced 30 yards to Cleveland's 30 to set up the march for Detroit's final tally.

On the 5th play from scrimmage in the drive, Girard took a pitchout from Harry Gilmer and went 18 yards around left for the TD.

Gilmer, who replaced Layne early in the game when he suffered an injury, displayed his best effort to date for Detroit. The Alabaman completed 9 of 19 passes for 91 yards and was able to move the ball more effectively. Parilli hit on only five of 24 attempts.

A big factor to go with the fine defensive line play of Gil Mains and Ray Krouse, was the outstanding defensive work turned in by Yale Lary. Lary had a beautiful 93-yard punt return for a touchdown called back because of a clipping penalty in the 4th quarter.

Next Saturday, the Lions and Browns tangle again in the Rubber Bowl at Akron, Ohio.

Trim Kansas City, 12-8

Tigers Reach .500

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Detroit Tigers, sassily sitting on a .500 percentage, retained a slim chance today of overtaking 4th-place Boston after sweeping the 2nd game in a row from lowly Kansas City last night, 12-8.

Boston, six games ahead of the 5th place Tigers in the American League standings, split a double header with Baltimore.

Harvey Kuenn drove in four runs with a triple and a double to lead Detroit's 13-hit assault on last - place Kansas City. Billy Hoeft took his 17th victory, but was yanked in the seventh.

Lou Kretlow, who started for Kansas City, was retired in a 3rd inning outburst which saw Detroit score five runs.

Tigers meet the Athletics again tonight with Paul Foytack (11-12) facing Tom Gorman (8-8).

Before Hoeft left the mound, the A's socked him for four runs in the first and single runs in the sixth and seventh. Walt Masterson and Al Aber preserved Detroit's lead.

Tigers came up with a 2nd 5-run rally in the eighth after Kansas City drew within one run of a tie.

Bobby Shantz relieved Kretlow, but before it was over the Tigers got to Shantz and Jack McMahon before Jack Crimian ended it.

Detroit took advantage of a break, scoring two runs when Al Kaline's potential double-play ball to Hector Lopez bounced over his head in the first. But the A's came back with four in the bottom of the inning.

Kuenn fired his triple to right center in the third and Wayne Belardi and Bob Wilson added doubles.

Hoeft, after his shaky start, held the Athletics until the sixth, when Smith hit his 2nd triple, a 400-footer to center. Smith scored after Johnny Groth's fly.

Detroit Racer Defends Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit's Ray Lenk will defend his 1955 championship Sunday as 150 drivers take off in the 57-mile annual outboard motorboat marathon twice around Manhattan Island.

Seven classes of racing boats are entered in the biggest outboard event in the east.

Lenk, a 30-year-old factory foreman, beat out a field of 74 drivers last year in a class DU boat. He won in 1 hour, 33 minutes, 5 seconds for an average speed of 36.8 m.p.h.

Carter Scores Unanimous Win

Summerlin Is Beaten Easily in One Sided Bout on TV

NEW YORK (AP)—One of these nights Hammerin' Harold Carter and Hurricane Tommy Jackson are going to battle it out and the referee won't have to bother to get in the ring.

* * *

Referee Mark Conn had nothing to do but score last night when Carter, hustling and bustling in Jackson's style, ran over Detroit's Johnny Summerlin in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Jackson is tied up for a Sept. 26 fight with Bob Baker in Pittsburgh so young Carter, now the No. 8 heavyweight, hoped to get next crack at Chicago's Johnny Holman, the No. 7 contender. The International Boxing Club may put that one on in Chicago since the Garden has no dates for more than a month. That winner may get the Jackson-Baker victor.

Carter, a 22-year-old, 192½-pound 6-footer from Linden, N.J., looked very impressive in racking up his unanimous, one-sided decision with his new non-stop punching style. The win evened his score with Summerlin, having dropped a decision last May 23.

AAU Basketball Champs on Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — The Buchan Bakers of Seattle, Wash., National AAU basketball champions, leave New York today for a European tour, which will take them to five countries.

The opening game will be played in Orleans, France, Sept. 11. Other games are scheduled in Blois, Angers, Bordeaux, Perigueux and Paris, France before the team moves on to Warsaw Sept. 21.

Lines Could Decide Race

Title in I-L Up for Grabs

(This is the fourth of a series of articles dealing with area high school football league prospects. Monday we scan the setup in the Wayne-Oakland Conference.)

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

All the ingredients that go into making a red-hot title race are present in the Inter-Lakes Conference this season.

* * *

Van Dyke is eager to defend the title; Southfield is ready to challenge it; Walled Lake has the veterans to make it tough; Waterford has the potential to offer surprise; Farmington is satisfied with its prospects and Berkley is hungry enough to stop one of the other school's bid.

* * *

With all of the conference schools showing veteran strength in their backfields, the battle for the crown could very well be told in forward walls this year.

Defending champion Van Dyke has four backfield returnees and only two lettermen returning to the line. Halfback Tom Thorpe and fullback Orba Underwood, both 2-year veterans, will carry the brunt of the Abes' attack.

* * *

Berkley, which scored only one touchdown in nine games last year, has a seasoned backfield to go with a spotty line. Coach Howard Bailey is building up front around guard Gary Price and end Larry Werschky.

* * *

Waterford has some bulk in the line with 235-pound Jim Larkin and 225-pounder Rod Evans and 190-pound end Clayton Roth.

Coach Dave Freeman lost two important backs in Tom Bryce and Norm Probert, from the I-L runnerup team of 1955, but the Skippers have the potential in Terry Kaines, Stan Jones and Warren Miksch.

Lindy Salathiel, 175-pound senior, is back to lead the Skipper offensive machine.

* * *

Walled Lake has a new coaching staff, and a nucleus of 12 lettermen with which to make its bid for the conference crown.

Coach Dave Smith begins his first season at the helm and he will center his split-T variations around fullback John Walker, a 180-pound senior who is rated as one of the finest backs in the league.

Walker will co-captain the Vikings with tackle Mike Beebe this year. Larry Dion is at the quarterback slot and Dick Greig, another senior, at halfback.

* * *

Monte Charles at Southfield may have the key to conference race this year. The Jays are healthier on the line with big Bernie Miscovich, a 190-pound guard, Bob Decker, a 180-pound center transfer from U of D high and Jay Fraser, a 190-pound tackle in the middle.

Fred Rankin and Ron Brewer, his best runners of last year, are also back.

Farmington could be the spoiler and even the darkhorse with its 12 lettermen. Quarterback Bob Brewbaker and Tom Kosty at half lead the returnees for coach Jack Hayes.

Palmer Leads Akron Tourney

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Arnold Palmer, hoping to celebrate his 27th birthday with a new title, led a trimmed-down field of 90 pros and 10 amateurs into the third round of the sixth annual Rubber City Open Golf Tournament today. He held a two-stroke lead.

A score of 68 yesterday gave Palmer a nine-under-par 135 for his first 2-days' efforts in the $19,000, 72-hole medal event which winds up tomorrow.

* * *

A victory in the 4-day test over the 6,620-yard, par-72 Firestone Country Club course would give him $3,000 in prize money for his birthday.

Bunched behind Palmer with 137s were Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., and Ed Furgol of St. Louis.

Walker House Gets New Face and a Bedroom

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

In the eleven years that the Lloyd R. Walkers of Drayton Woods have lived in their home, Mr. Walker has almost completely remodeled it. This summer saw the final touches put on two projects in the Walker household. Mr. Walker completed his garage and Mrs. Walker completed requirements for her college degree.

We first saw the Walker home when we were on the trail of interesting outdoor eating sites. At that time, after talking with Mr. Walker, we decided to return and get more pictures for a home story.

The only actual addition to the house is a new bedroom 26x15 feet. However, Mr. Walker put a new exterior on the original house, made planter boxes, patios and devised numerous storage units both inside and outside.

Mr. Walker is a man who does things in a big way. Not for him was a small order of cut stone. He ordered a third of a freight carload of stone in the beginning, then used a second carload later. Furthermore, he cut the stone himself to fit the building he was doing.

This rock which forms the front and side of one end of the house, as well as eight planter boxes, is a mixture of Tennessee ledge-rock, Vermont marble and Indiana limestone. In addition there is some Colorado pink sandstone. The blending of colors is very pleasing.

The exterior of the house is siding painted deep red. The garage is made of reused brick with sandstone trim in front.

Starting right from the front hall, some remodeling took place. Vermont slate was put on the floor. One wall was converted to closets.

Mr. Walker did an ingenious thing with a door in that spot. He covered an old painted door with knotty pine, fitting it into he wall so well that it defies detection. To open it, you give it just a slight push.

The living room is an L-shaped room with space for the dining room table. In the doorway there is a Persian prayer rug; in the middle of the room a larger Persian rug. The floor itself is oak parquet with a sealer finish.

A large window overlooks the back patio and the garden. Here and on the smaller front windows are gold draperies.

An enormous desk stands in front of the windows. Solidly made of oak, it is a roomy piece of furniture with pull-out shelves, and wine cupboards. President Roosevelt and Gov. Happy Chandler are supposed to have had similar desks. The Walkers collect antique school bells. One shelf of the desk is devoted to them.

The fireplace is framed in knotty pine. The hearth is cut marble. Mr. Walker did this latter work with a diamond saw. Next to the fireplace is a built-in bookcase. The back of shelves is papered in the same plaid paper as the wall around the dining room table.

The kitchen is the one room in the house the Walkers have not remodeled. That is scheduled for some future time.

In what was once the utility room the Walkers have the most amazing collection of storage cupboards. All are made of aromatic cedar planking and present a solid front. We regret we could not get a picture of this room that would show its versatility.

First of all, they store the washer, dryer and laundry tubs. Above the dryer is a fruit cupboard. Above that fishing tackle is kept.

Over the hot water heater is a drying rack for dish towels. Under the deep freeze the outboard motor goes; above it blankets are stored. The water softener and furnace share the same compartment. All in all, there are over three dozen separate storage units in this room.

In the hall leading to the bedrooms there is a striking hooked rug made by Mrs. Walker. It has a diamond design with flowers in alternate diamonds.

The bathroom off this hall has a two-tone gray tile floor. Wall tile is pink with dubonnet trim, while upper walls are blue. There is a glassed-in shower.

The guest room has oak floors and blue walls. Braided rugs and maple furniture go well together The bedstead is a wagon wheel design. Draperies are flowered.

The den has a built-in wall magazine rack. Here the floor is ranch-style pegged oak. A wall closet offers more storage space.

The new bedroom has a floor-to-ceiling window looking out on the back patio. On the opposite side of the room, above the beds, there are high windows.

This side of the room has a fifteen - inch gray brick wall. Plants are set on the top of it, under the windows. The walls are painted deep orchid.

At the far end of the room there are twin closets, with space in between for a high chest of drawers. All the furniture is walnut. Draperies are beige.

A hooked rug in a deep red poppy design is the showpiece in this room. It was made by that versatile man, Mr. Walker. For inspiration he used a painting that hangs in the den.

When the Walkers first moved to their part of Drayton Woods, they were alone on their street. Now they have numerous neighbors. However, their property is an acre in size and includes the only black dirt garden in the area.

Both the Walkers are blessed with the green thumb. The planters are blooming in great profusion. You should see their sweet potato vines!

They have flower beds near

FROM THE LIVING ROOM — This picture was taken from inside the living room and shows some of the large back yard that the Walkers keep up. There are fruit trees around the patio, shade trees and the garden beyond. Brightly colored lawn furniture makes this a pleasant spot in which to relax. Marcus Reynolds, his son James and Mr. Walker enjoy a cool drink.

IN DRAYTON WOODS — Mrs. Lloyd R. Walker and her sister, Mrs. Fred W. Morgan of Greensburg, Pa., pose for the Press photographer in front of the Walker home on Edgevale. The planter box at the right is thirty-five feet long. In the background on the porch sides can be seen some of the rocks the Walkers have collected. In front of the garage they have mounted an old school bell on a post. There is a weather vane on top of the garage. All the rock in this picture was cut by Mr. Walker to fit the place for which it was intended.

A PLACE IN THE SUN — The Walkers had company from out of town the day the Press took pictures of their home. In this picture they are shown enjoying the sunshine on the back patio. The floor of this patio is an interesting combination of slate, marble and ledge rock which has been varnished. The large window is the living room window. At the rear, to the left of the picture, part of the bedroom wing can be seen. The glass brick is the lavatory window. From left to right are Mrs. and Mr. J. L. Reynolds of Barberton, Ohio, Mrs. Fred W. Morgan of Greensburg, Pa., J. Marcus Reynolds, also of Barberton, Mrs. Lloyd R. Walker and Mr. Walker. In the afternoon this patio is shaded by the trees in the back yard.

NEW BEDROOM — This 15x26 room has been added on to the Walker home. The wall at the right is gray brick, fifteen inches thick. Colonial type bedspreads are used on the walnut twin beds. Twin closets at the end of the room flank the walnut chest of drawers. The hooked rug in front of the beds was designed and made by Mr. Walker.

NEW SPLIT-LEVEL — This new split-level house offers extra rooms. The house is one story in front, two story behind. Bay windows, brick veneer, wood siding and low roof lines blend charm.

THE LOWER LEVEL — A long two-car garage, a large recreation room, a study and a laundry occupy the space under the bedrooms. The cellar is optional in this plan. The garage has door to both the back yard and the recreation room.

TWO MAIN FLOORS — This plan shows the two main floors. Half a flight up from the living room a wrought iron railed balcony connects the bedrooms. There are two baths on this upper level. The kitchen can be entered from the dining room, the living room or from the outside.

Nine Fine Rooms Offered in Press House of Week

A house with a one-story front and two-story rear to give the homeowner the greatest number of rooms for his building dollar is shown in Design HW-16 for The House of The Week.

Nine rooms, two bathrooms, extra lavatory, separate laundry room and a two-car tandem garage are included in this house that covers only 1,195 square feet. That is the area of the living and bedroom levels. Under the bedroom level are a large recreation room—often called a "free" room in construction of this type—a study suitable for use as a fourth bedroom, laundry, lavatory and three closets.

The tandem garage built into the house parks one car behind the other and keeps the width of the house at 45½ feet. This allows side yard space on a 60-foot lot. Even for one-car use, a garage of this length — 36 feet—is an asset. It not only adds value to the house, but also provides space for storage, workbench or guest car.

This plan is especially advantageous for either sloping or flat land. On a slope it conforms readily to the terrain. You can fit the house to a slope to either side by reversing the plan. On flat land it calls for a minimum of excavation and grading. It can be built with or without a basement and can be equipped for heating or air conditioning in any climate.

It represents the latest trend in split-level planning, breaking away from the pattern of one-story and two-story houses in collision. Yet it retains the convenience of half-flights of stairs.

The reason builders often call the recreation room in this style of house a "free" room is that it occupies space that might be devoted to a basement if all main rooms were on one level ranch-style.

LOT OF GLAMOR

There's a lot of glamor in this plan. Bay windows grace both the dining room and the big living room, which is almost 20 feet square. A corner fireplace in the living room is designed for brick facing in smartly stacked courses. A wrought iron railed balcony runs along the far end of the living room where the ceiling rises studio-style to a story and a half in height. Some people call this a cathedral ceiling, but it's not arched or pitched. It just slopes up with the natural roof line to give the room a gradual, gracious and dramatic height.

Another nicety about the plan is a private sitting room adjoining the master bedroom. This provides an ideal place for a baby's crib, removing it from your bedside, yet keeping it within hearing distance in your own apartment.

The private bathroom for the master chamber has a corner shower stall. The main bathroom at the end of the balcony has a bathtub in an alcove. Both bathrooms have built-in vanity top lavatories, one of which is double. Even the lower level lavatory is equipped for such a vanity counter.

DINETTE SPACE

* * *

Generous dinette space in front of a wide window is included in the large kitchen, which can be entered from living room, adjacent to the lower level steps, from a side service door, and of course from the dining room.

Upon entering the front vestibule you find a guest coat closet at hand. A room divider, which can be either a planting box or book shelves, screens the vestibule as well as dining room from living room view. Straight ahead are steps to the balcony as well as down to the recreation level.

* * *

The recreation room noticeably is well planned for family room use. It has an outside entrance across a back corner of the garage and could have sliding glass doors in place of its picture window facing the rear garden.

Alfred Ryder, the architect of this house, specifies quality, but economical construction throughout. Asphalt shingles are recommended for the roof and dry walls are suggested, although they may be plastered if preferred.

YOU DON'T NEED A BASEMENT HERE

A basement is optional with Design HW-16. The entire lower level of this house, including garage, recreation room, study and laundry, is on the grade. This keeps excavation and grading at a minimum.

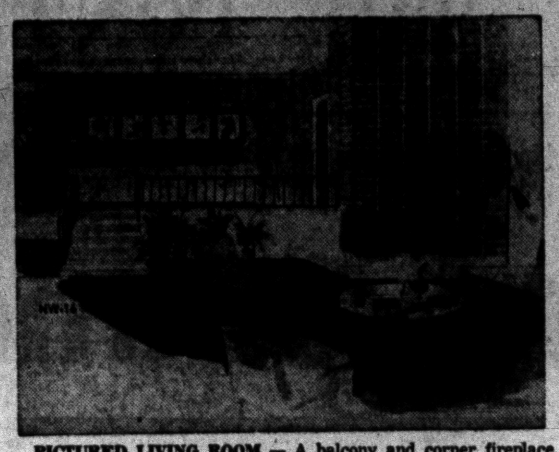

For construction without a cellar, a small heater closet can be placed in the corner of the recreation room adjoining the chimney, or a modern cabinet type heating plant can be located in that room.

Storage space is generous throughout the house and the 36-foot garage is adequate to provide additional storage space for the average family.

GUESS-TIMATING BUILDING COSTS

Building cost vary widely depending on local labor and material rates, transportatoin, contractor's overhead and the quality of materials you prefer.

Architect Alfred Ryder estimates that this house could be built for about $23,000 in New Jersey. But the best way to get a rough estimate is to show yur study plan to a builder of houses of similar size in your neighborhod.

PICTURED LIVING ROOM — A balcony and corner fireplace glamorize this living room. The ceiling rises studio-style to a story and a half in height.

ACTION (American Council to Improve Our Neighborhoods) is doing a really tremendous job in influencing citizens to improve and maintain American neighborhoods. Its slogan — Good Neighborhoods Are Our Nation's Strength—is an apt one.

Your contribution can be through improvement of your own house and property. Painting the entire exterior of your house—or even just the trim and fence—will tone up your neighborhood and give incentive to other residents of the community to go into ACTION.

Paint Always in Vogue

Painted furniture is no new fad. Throughout furniture history some of the most beautiful and artistic pieces have been color-painted. Examples of this have come to us from the time when French furniture styling was at its height; others, from the flourishing period of the Italian Rennaissance; and still others, from the days of the Pharaohs in Egypt. So, romantically speaking, your own paint brush acts as a sort of "torch of continuity" for beauty and brightness.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

PLAN H-250AP

A SMALL FAMILY or retired couple would find this plan both economical and luxurious. Sliding glass doors open on a garden patio which has a barbecue fireplace as shown in the sketch. One massive chimney serves the barbecue, the living room fireplace and the main heating plant, whether you place the latter in a basement or a crawl space.

You can build this house with or without a basement. Space used for the stairs can provide extra storage. The two-car garage also has extra storage closets. Still the garage can be omitted if you choose.

The house alone covers 1,265 square feet, a size that is economical to build and gives you a sound investment. An extra large kitchen allows for ample dinette space in front of its windows. The bathroom has both tub and shower.

This is plan H-250AP by the Homograf Co., 11711 East Eight Mile Rd., East Detroit, Mich.

Tables Are Big, Smartly Plain

The big news in occasional tables is that they're big. It's nothing to see a 54 inch one. There's been a growing demand for these in homes which want an uncluttered look. One big table—excellent for serving buffets—is often sought instead of a lot of little ones.

* * *

These big tables, in turn, are influencing lamp design. Lamps must be bigger to set on such tables. Marquetry, mosaic, glass inlays do much to give new decorative interest to today's tables.

There's a straw in the fashion wind in the new low dining tables. Some of them are only 25 inches high with chairs, of course, scaled down to fit them. These are for the more casual type homes, especially the low ceiling ones.

Dinette tables have moved way out of the kitchen with advanced styling. Today, with their formality and sophistication they are at home in the best of dining and living rooms.

* * *

There's a new restraint to the tailored types of designs being shown. Less trimming, less bright accents, more plain edged tables instead of scalloped aprons are evidences of the trimming down and smartening up taking place in this field.

Other living room touches include the use of regular upholstery fabrics on the chairs; box seat cushions and even parquetry inlays on table tops. A trend to watch is in the new sprayed metal finishes in pastel colors.

To Banish Ugly Stains

Ugly stains on white painted exterior walls often come from corrosion of screens, gutters, flashings, down-spouts, nails, hinges and other outside hardware on your house.

Dream Home Now Realized

If you're under the impression that your "dream" home will have to be built to order and is therefore out of your reach, cheer up.

* * *

The fact is your chances today are greater than ever before of finding a floor plan in a "development" that comes pretty close to what you have in mind. You won't find it overnight; but if you keep looking around and studying the display "ads" of new homes in the real estate sections, you'll hit the jackpot sooner or later, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

The reason for GAMA's optimism is that nowadays builders try to satisfy buyers who have widely varying requiremens; and you get the benefit of this something-for-everybody philosophy. It gives you a choice of three or four basic interiors, as a rule, and each of these, in turn, lends itself to changes with little or no additional expense. And if you've signed on the dotted line after selecting one of the "model" houses, your chances are even greater of getting what you want, though the cost may run a bit higher than the advertised price, as your house has yet to be built.

Let's say you're looking for a low-cost ranch-type house with play space just off the kitchen so that you can keep an eye on the children without having them under your feet. You haven't found the right thing yet, but there's a house you're considering because it's excellent value for the money, even though it doesn't meet your demand for play space.

The salesman has pointed out that the third bedroom just off the kitchen, may be used for that purpose, but your objection is that the wall between separates you from the children and you know they'll be running into the kitchen all day long to be close to you.

Before you rule out an otherwise desirable house, advises GAMA, discuss the possibility of building your house with the wall between removed. "Openness" is the modern trend, anyway, and having a "token" partion will give you not only a playroom for the children, but a family room, and at a pinch, a guest room.

Admittedly, it isn't always easy to find a house that solves a special problem. For example, you may be looking for a place with a private suite on the first floor to accommodate your aged parents who can't climb stairs yet need more peace and quiet than the average floor plan affords.

Impossible to find? Not at all. There are indications that builders have been confronted with this problem enough to experiment this past year with a few houses that featured an "island" on the main floor, entirely separate from the other rooms, yet close enough to give the parents a sense of being part of the family group at all times.

* * *

After you're satisfied with the construction and layout of the house, take a good look at the kitchen appliances that are a part of the deal. Naturally, the price determines whether the equipment is minimum or maximum; but that doesn't mean you have to accept the range or refrigerator or washing machine in the "model" house. If your heart is set on a particular gas range or a combination washer and gas clothes dryer that costs more or embodies more features than the one provided by the builder, you'll be able to work it out with the builder by paying the difference or asking him to allow the price of the equipment he proposes to install so that you can buy your own. Be sure, however, this is agreed upon before you buy the house—not after—as that's the time to iron out all details, advises GAMA.

Greatest Carpet Featured Gems, Precious Metals

The greatest carpet of all time was Behar I Kisra—the Spring of Chosroes. The Arabs captured it from the magnificent white palace of the Persian kings in Ctesiphon in 637 A.D., and took it to Caliph Omar, in Medina.

The colossal rug was woven of silk, gold, silver and precious stones, and represented a pleasure garden in the spring. The soil was imitated by yellow gold.

"Running" brooks were formed by emeralds and other gems that gleamed like rippling water; it had pearls for gravel on its interlacing paths, and was abundant with flowers made of sapphires and rubies.

The Arabs estimated its worth at what would probably be $200,000,000 in modern money.

Surpassing anything described in the Arabian Nights, it gave the illusion of perpetual spring and before its capture was spread in the huge vaulted hall of the palace when royal receptions and festivities were held indoors because of inclement weather.

Caliph Omar ordered that it be cut. He took one fifth of it; the next largest piece went to Ali, the Prophet's son-in-law, and the rest was divided among 60,000 loyal warriors, who rushed off to the jewelers' markets in Baghdad and sold their shares for sizable fortunes.

Housing and hotel accommodations being short in Fiji, owners are getting rents of from $100 to $200 a month for a reasonable house or flat in Suva.

BOY'S ROOM — Nautical theme of a room planned for an active boy combines neat, sturdy and colorful furnishings that are easy for Mom to keep spic and span.

Mariner's Decor Theme Will Delight Lad's Room

Few autumn decorating plans are entertained with as much enthusiasm as fixing up a youngster's room.

His delight in "special effects" is contagious. There's not likely to be critical comment on your taste or color choice and there is a wealth of wonderful merchandise to choose from.

Without sacrificing anything to care, it's easy to put together a gay and inviting room.

With the boom in boating capturing the imaginations of small, would-be sailors as well as their parents, special interest in a bedroom as spic and span as a captain's cabin and as easy to keep clean as soap and water can make it. Simple, sturdy, basic furniture will last for years. The trappings with a nautical theme are bright and inexpensive and take a minimum of upkeep.

Bunk beds complete with ladder are shoved into an alcove papered with plastic-coated wallpaper. This, printed with sailing ships and maps, is bound to spark some imaginary voyages but pencil marks and other evidences of charting the seas can be scrubbed off. It has been learned from experience that it's a smart idea to have wall surfaces next to children's beds washable because this area usually gets more than its share of wear and soil.

The bunks could be ranged side by side as twin beds, a wise move for very young children. Neat and square-cornered bedspreads are wrinkle-resistant ribbed cotton and zippered pillow coverings are washable corduroy.

A desk, which matches the styling of the beds, has a plastic top—another boon to long and tough wear. The companion captain's chair and a lamp with fresnel lens base and a light plastic shade might possibly encourage the captain to buckle down to homework.

A canvas-covered deck chair for visitors is inexpensive and lightweight. There's no need to worry about spots on the upholstery, canvas can take almost endless washing. This is a good time to buy "outdoor" furniture at substantial savings during the summer-end sales.

Curtains are in the same spirit. Heavy fiberglas printed with bold ships doesn't actually match the wallpaper but like so many patterns in today's papers and fabrics it carries a similar theme and "feeling" without being a carbon copy.

The fabric is home-sewn into tailored pinch-pleated curtains with the help of the special pinch-pleating tape and pins. When washday arrives, curtains are swished through suds, rinsed and line-dried with no ironing.

Because this room is planned for an active boy, the floor covering takes into account the boisterous games and projects which will be played on its surface. Over the resilient tile flooring, a low-cost natural-colored sisal rug is used.

USEFUL SMALL BOOKCASE: That set of shelves you need for some odd corner can just as well be the attractive piece of furniture shown here. Pattern 460, which gives you actual-size cutting guides and directions for making it, will be mailed for 25c. This pattern is one of five included in the packet, Shelves and Stands for the Handy Man to Make, price $1. Pontiac Press, Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

Judah Lake Estates Slated for More New Homes

This weekend will see the opening of another unit of National Homes in the Judah Lake Estates. Friday afternoon Avon Investment Co. was host to Orion Township officials, including Ferris Clark, Supervisor, and Harold Maphis, building inspector. Representatives from local utility companies and the abstract company were also present.

R. R. Zisette, district sales representative of National Homes, Inc. was among the guests. National Homes will produce its 100,000th home early next week.

There are to be 161 lots in this new section. Four houses are completed, eleven more are under construction. They offer a variety of floor plans and exterior designs. Any floor plan may be enlarged by the addition of a four-foot extension on the end of the home.

Kitchens are compact with storage and work areas in easy reach. Kitchen units are made by Youngstown. Bedrooms will take twin beds and have cross-ventilation.

Judah Lake Estates is located just three miles north of Walton boulevard on Joslyn road. Lots are a quarter of an acre in size. Streets are paved, and city water, fire hydrants and adequate drainage are provided. There is a school on the property.

* * *

The models will be open Saturday and Sunday from noon until nine in the evening.

Stained Wood Retains Tones

One of the special advantages of wood windows, panel doors and kitchen cabinets is that they can be stained to retain warm natural wood tones and the attractive figuring of the wood grain.

A panel door of ponderosa pine, for example, can be finished to look like an antique door from an old Colonial mansion or to harmonize with modern styling. Interior window frames and sash can be finished to add richeness to the color scheme of a room.

Ponderosa pine is the wood of which most windows and panel doors are made. It adapts readily to stains of all kinds. Here are a few rules to get the best results:

* * *

1. Obtain a small board of ponderosa pine at your lumber yard to use as a test panel and apply several large spots of oil stain to the board with a soft brush.

2. Wipe off the stain from the first spot immediately, using a soft cloth. Then wipe off the rest of the spots at two to three minute intervals.

3. Select the spot the shows the shade you want. The longer the stain is allowed to penentrate, the darker the color becomes.

* * *

4. Apply the stain and wipe it off after it has been on the wood exactly the length of time required for the test spot you selected.

Wood Curbs Noises in Plants and Homes

Manufacturing industries, following the lead of home builders, are turning to wood to control noise levels. An example of how industry has put wood to work to curb noise and improve worker efficiency is found in the LaCrosse, Wis., plant of the Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co. There, wood benches have been substituted for metal ones and the chutes for metal castings have been lined with oak and softwood.

Interlocking Shingles Will Defy High Winds

Homes and farm buildings in high wind areas often are roofed with interlocking asphalt shingles made to lock together tightly. Each shingle is held in place by the one on each side of it, as well as by nails.

There are numerous recorded cases in which an entire roof structure has blown off — rafters and all—but in which all the shingles have stayed in place.

Walkers Remodel in Drayton Woods

the back patio, a rock garden around a tree and a large vegetable garden out in back. In addition, there are over 100 trees on the lot, including fruit trees.

"Then we gather as we travel
Bits of moss and dirty gravel;
And we chip off little specimens of stone . . ."

In their travels the Walkers have collected rocks. They have large pieces of pink and white quartz, petrified wood from Arizona, and other large rocks from all over the country.

One cherished stone has traveled with Mr. Walker since he was five years old. He pulled it out of the Susquehanna river in Pennsylvania, lugged it home, and has carted it around ever since. It is almost a perfect sphere.

The Walkers get a great deal of enjoyment out of their home. They have fixed it exactly the way they want it and it suits their way of life.

Both the Walkers are school teachers. Mrs. Walker is in the Waterford system and Mr. Walker teaches in Farmington.

SPOON RACK — The little Spoon Rack pictured here with NBC's television actress, Ann Palmer, is a dandy article. An old box or scrap lumber is all you need to make it, when you have the full size pattern. You can build it to hold as many spoons as you desire. The bottom shelf may be used for knick-knacks or a small planter of ivy. Send 50c in coin to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif. for your Spoon Rack Pattern.

Say Latex Paint Will Kill Germs for Two Years

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—Now you can cover your walls with decorative paint which has been proven sure death to germs for at least two years.

* * *

A Texas manufacturer has come out with a latex wall paint to which a special germ-killing reagent (anti - pathogenic reagent) has been added.

Manufacturers claim that the odorless, non-poisonous additive, originally processed in England, creates a reaction in paint that for a period of two years or more will kill on contact germs and organisms which cause strep throat, nephritis, tonsillitis, typhoid fever, food poisoning and many others.

Laboratory tests conducted by the Texas paint plant showed that after two full years of exposure, with repeated washing, the APR was still positive death to germs.

* * *

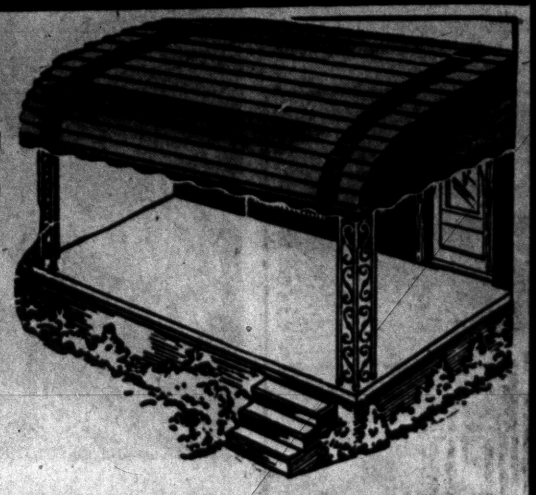

The germ-killing action of the paint and the additive takes place during formatio of the film of the paint.

For Smooth Patching

Spackling material is used when holes and cracks in new wood are to be filled. The filling material is carefully smoothed before brushing on the finishing coats. A good trick to know, when you're applying spackling material, is that a paint brush dipped in water can be most helpful in smoothing out the patching material before it starts to dry.

New Furnace Solves Problem

Modern Equipment Is Solution to Meet Space Troubles in Cellar

One of the problems in building or moderninzing a small basementless house is that there often doesn't seem to be any place to put the furnace without sacrificing expensive floor space that's badly needed for family live.

The problem can be solved with modern equipment, however. These three ways of doing it are suggested by Sheldon Coleman, a heating equipment manufacturer:

1. Use a specially designed, space-saving type of furnace so trim and compact it will fit in a small closet.
2. Install a horizontal furnace in a crawl space.
3. Install a horizontal furnace in an attic.

Some models of the first type measure as little as 14 inches wide and 28 inches deep. The closet need be little larger, for this is a "zero clearance" unit approved for installation with its sides and back touching closet walls. In remodeling work, if a suitable closet doesn't exist, one can usually be made by boxing off a corner of a room.

The Coleman Company president says the horizontal furnace in a crawl space of a shallow attic doesn't take up any living area at all. Instead of standing upright, it lies on its side. The ducts that carry warm air to the rooms can fan out through the crawl space to terminate in outlets in the floor, walls, or baseboard, or through the attic to outlets in the ceiling.

Egypt's borders enclose a land area equal to that of New Mexico and Texas combined.

BOOT SCRAPER — The only dog you welcome on your lawn may be "Doxie" — a novel shoe and boot scraper that guards your home against tracked-in mud and snow. Upright head and tail permit scraping of shoes sides as well as bottoms. Finished in "dachshund red" (brown) or black, "Doxie" has extruded chest, ears and eye of pressed steel, giving her added strength while preserving an ornamental 3-D effect. Large diameter washers slip over the wrought iron legs to prevent the scraper from being pushed into the ground past the desired depth, and paint is a special rust-resistant preparation for long life.

Dont drive a nail through a knot if it can be avoided; if it can't, drill a small hole through the knot to lessen the chance of splitting it.

Examine Roof Before Costly Leaks Develop

Most people don't examine a raincoat for leaks every time they put it on. If the coat leaks, they generally find out about it during a downpour when rain soaks through to their skin.

But your home doesn't have the instant warning system your skin provides. Rain or melting snow and ice can seep through a worn-out roof and cause costly damage long before you are aware of it.

Late summer or early fall is a good time to check the roof for leaks so that any faults can be corrected before cold weather sets in.

After a rainstorm, go into the attic and look for tell-tale dark areas water makes when it soaks into wood. Or feel along the decking and rafters for dampness.

If you find even one spot, and if the roof is old, chances are you'll need complete new roofing. Roofs wear out uniformly, and one leak usually means you'll have more.

A new roof of asphalt shingles is economical, since the colorful shingles usually can be laid right on top of the old roof, saving the cost of removing it, and retaining the insulating value of the old covering.

The wisest time to re-roof is before leaks start. You can keep a check on the condition of your roof by having it inspected periodically by a reliable roofing contractor.

How much more cheerful and attractive the U. S. mail boxes and trucks look since they've been patriotically painted in red-white-and-blue.

Lanterns, Camp Stoves Handy if Power Fails

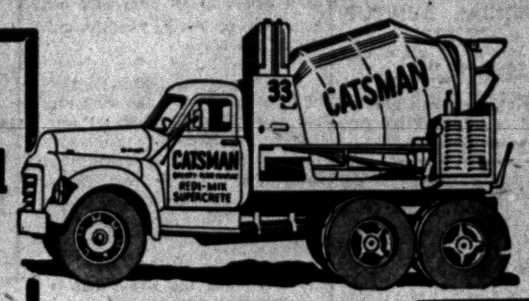

Power failures caused by hurricanes, blizzards and other bad storms will cause relatively little inconvenience to families who have Coleman lanterns and camp stoves.

A portable camp stove will cook hot meals throughout the emergency. The light from a lantern will be equivalent to as much as that given off by a 300-watt electric bulb.

Outdoor Living Lots More Fun With Lighting

One of the first steps in lighting up a yard for outdoor living after dark is to install either permanent or adequate portable wiring.

If you're considering portable wiring until you can have a permanent system installed, remember not all rubber-covered wire is suitable for outdoor use. Be sure to choose from weatherproof cord sets designed especially for temporary outdoor use.

Outdoor lighting specialists suggest disconnecting all circuits when inserting bulbs, extending cords or working on equipment whether portable or permanent.

Permanent wiring has so many advantages in safety and convenience that many new house buyers are demanding it.

For all installations consult your local qualified electrical contractor who is familiar with outdoor wiring requirements, both permanent or temporary.

Most Families Want One Room in Paneling

Current "dream houses" often include at least one room in paneling. Nothing makes a room pleasanter or more charming — whether it's living room, playroom or den.

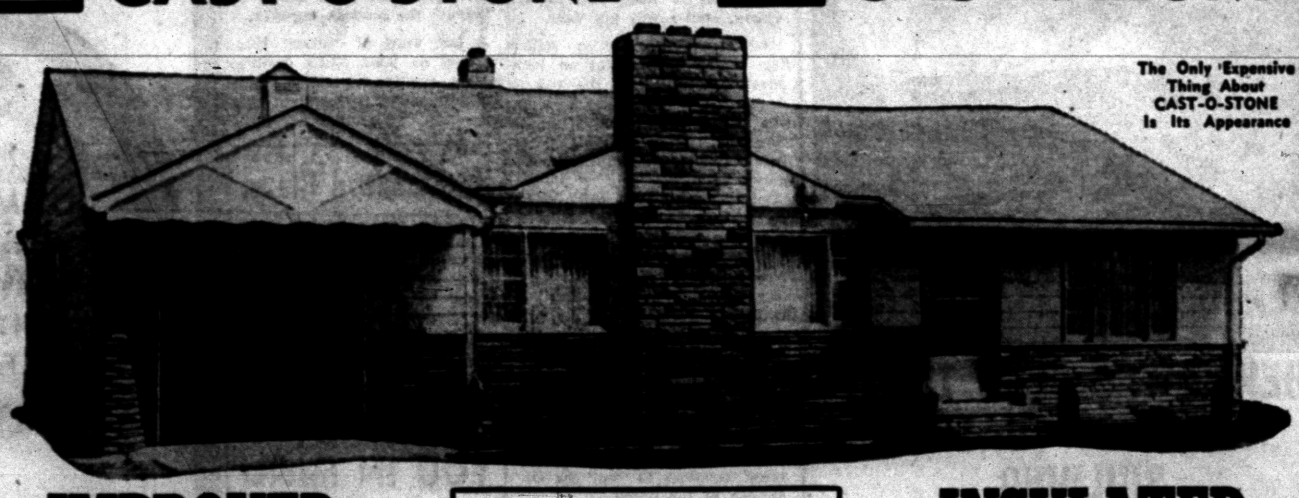

Paneling goes up quickly with today's ready-cut boards or plywood, and with easy-to-use wood finishes it can be tuned to modern or traditional interiors, in light or dark tones. Furniture and floors take on a rich, warm glow, too, with wax care. They can be maintained with liquid wax, and need never be rescraped and refinished.

Northern Hard Maple wood will take a high polish. It wears evenly, never shells, splinters or disintegrates from ordinary uses in any manner whatever. It is extremely durable.

Metal Shelf Sets Are Adjustable

Now you can get metal shelf sets in the popular decorator colors, gray and white, as well as the conventional green. This means, of course, that greater eye-appeal has been added to an item that has long since proved its worth in utility in the home.

* * *

A leading corporation in the metal furniture field is the maker of the new "Construct-a-Shelf" sets. These sets have five adjustable shelves that can be constructed into either a single unit, like a bookcase, or into two separate units—one with three and the other with two shelves.

The shelves are adjustable as to depth and the whole unit is easily handled by one person.

In the pantry, the shelves provide storage space for canned goods, staples and other necessities. In the playroom, the shelves may be used for books or toys and in the garage they provide a handy place to keep tools and spare parts.

* * *

"Construct-A-Shelf" is made of heavy gauge steel, and weighs 30 pounds. As a single unit, the size is 36x72x12 inches. The shelves are guaranteed to be rust resistant.

Keep House Painted

Your house probably represents the biggest lifetime investment you will ever make. Protect that investment—and at the same time add beauty to your neighborhood—by keeping it well painted with good quality paint.

REPAIRING GUTTERS — Of all operations in soldering metal, the first is most important. The surface to be soldered should be clean and bright.

Check Those Roof Leaks to Rid of Streaks on Home

If there are leaks in your home's roof drainage system, you are no doubt aware of them. Rain water which escapes through holes in the gutters instead of taking the downspout route may have made dirty streaks down the side of the house.

Or, it may have been blown in behind siding at the eaves and caused wet spots on inside walls, or dribbled through walls into the basement.

In states where winters are severe, water dripping from gutter leaks turns to icicles during the cold months. Unable to support the added weight, gutter brackets may bend or break. The stress is likely to split the gutters at soldered seams and result in more leaks. You can nip this chain reaction in the bud by soldering that one little bitty leak now.

When you've found the hole, bare both sides of the metal with a piece of sandpaper. "Bare" means brightly shining, clean and free of rust. If care is not taken to make the metal gleam, solder will not hold.

Next, apply paste-type solder flux to the bare metal on both sides of the gutter. If the leak is very small, a drop of solder may stop it. If the hole is larger, it should be patched with a piece of the same metal the gutter is made of.

Cut the patch several inches larger than the hole and bend it to fit the contour of the gutter. Use sandpaper to clean and brighten both sides of the patch.

An operation called "tinning" is the next step.

Using a propane torch, heat the gutter around the hole just enough to melt wire solder. In contact with the hot metal, solder should "flow" out in a thin, smooth layer over the surface surrounding the hole. Use the same technique to "tin" the underside of the patch.

Now, place the patch over the hole. Holding a strip of wire solder in your left hand and torch in your right, add more solder around the edges of the patch. When this is done, heat the gutter from below. Gutter and patch will "sweat" together.

Often leaks occur at seams of gutters and at joints with downspouts. Take a few minutes to resolder them. Wire brush or sandpaper the spots, apply flux, then melt solder into the joints.

To mend a seam which has come apart completely, it's necessary to take the gutter off the house. Melt old solder off the two connecting gutter sections; sand them bright and clean on both sides.

Since the two will overlap about two inches, flux and "tin" the outside of the top section and the inside of the bottom one where they will meet. Remember that the overlap should face the direction of water flow.

After tinning, temporarily lock the two sections together with C-clamps for final soldering. Add more solder to the inside of the joint and heat from below to "sweat" the sections together.

A last word of caution: When working on your roof's drainage system, don't rest a ladder against the gutters. The stress might damage their supporting brackets.

Indoor Video Antenna Has No 'Rabbit Ears'

For TV viewers who regard "rabbit ear" antennas as necessary but unsightly evils, here is welcome news. The Channel Master Corporation, world's largest manufacturer of television antennas, has introduced a new indoor antenna, the "Showman," a compact unit only 19 inches across and 6 inches high.

The new antenna has no long rods "poking" into the room, and it blends neatly and attractively into any decorating scheme. Comes in colors to match any decor. Equipped with a control knob numbered to correspond to all VHF channels (2-13). Tuning is convenient, as the antenna's tuning knob is merely turned to the same channel as the set.

New Summer Furniture Washes With Soap, Water

NEW YORK—Summer furniture—like any of the hardy perennials in your garden—will be bright and fresh as ever next year if you give it a little simple care before bedding it down for the winter.

"One of the beauties of most summer furniture today is that it is made for soap and water care," advises Alfred J. Siesel, executive secretary of the National Association of Summer Furniture Manufacturers, a group that includes some of the nation's leading furniture makers.

Whether you intend to store garden or patio furniture or convert it to the "hothouse" variety by using it indoors, the same rules for prolonging its life apply, Mr. Siesel points out.

A quick warm-water sudsing with a sponge, followed by rinsing with clear water, is sufficient for most pieces, whether frames are wood, rattan, aluminum, steel or wrought iron. Where dirt is deeply ingrained, heavier suds—made from the same mild soap—and scrubbing with a stiff brush will do the trick. Work outdoors in bright sunlight, if possible, to hasten the drying process.

If you're storing the pieces instead of using them elsewhere, the dryest possible place should be selected, Mr. Siesel adds.

Based on advice from manufacturers, Mr. Siesel suggests the following specific rules for each type of summer furniture:

Aluminum: Plastic tapes or backs that have stretched, cracked or faded can be replaced at the grommet points with fabric purchased by the yard. To remove scratches on aluminum, rub fine steel wool over the surface.

Rattan: Parts of rattan furniture are joined by either rattan peel or plastic binding. Where binding has cracked with age, rejoin the split parts with small brass tacks, or replace the old binding with new. New binding must be wetted first, so that it can be stretched before it is put on. It contracts in drying. For general cleaning of rattan, wicker or reed, a stiff brush or vacuum cleaner is best. Scuff marks can be removed from rattan by first sanding, then applying clear varnish.

Steel: Rust spots may develop when rust-resistant paints crack with time. Sand off these spots, then touch them up with a good outdoor furniture paint resistant to moisture and sunlight. If a complete repaint job is necessary, spraying is best. If painting is not needed, wash with a soft sponge rather than a stiff brush.

Wood: Eventually, wood will weather, but a coating of clear varnish once or twice a year, after sudsing, greatly increases its life.

Realtors were well represented at the national convention of both major political parties. Forty-two Realtors were delegates or alternates to the Democratic convention, and the same number to the Republican conclave.

IN COMMERCE — This weekend sees the opening of the Mt. Royal Subdivision in Commerce. The model shown above is known as "The King's Crest." This brick home is a three-bedroom, two-bath model with covered front porch, spacious rear patio, full separate dining room and attached garage. It is 54 feet long with over 1,100 square feet of living area. The price is $15,800. There is another model in the subdivision selling for $14,500. These homes are open for inspection daily and Sunday from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Bert Smokler of Detroit is handling the sales. Drive out Commerce road to the village of Commerce and follow the blacktop to the models.

Gals Pick the Colors

Seventy-two per cent of the paint used to bring color to the interior of homes is selected by the mother or daughter of the family. Father and son are way down the line with 18.7 per cent. The landlord and painting contractor account for the remaining 9.3 per cent.

A coat of wax on painted shelves will prevent oilcloth or shelf paper from sticking to the wood.

Mt. Royal Units Open Today

National Home Week sees the opening of a new subdivision west of Pontiac in the village of Commerce. Seventy homes, selling at $14,500 and $15,800, are planned for the first section of the Mt. Royal subdivision.

* * *

The three-bedroom homes are located near Commerce Lake. Blacktop roads, curbs, storm sewers and excellent drainage are provided. Schools are nearby—the Walled Lake system.

One of the advantages of Mt. Royal stressed by the developers is its strategic location. It is situated just a stone's throw from the route of the James Couzens (Northwestern) Highway Extension.

When this is completed—and the Lodge Expressway connected to it—residents can drive to Mt. Royal from downtown Detroit in just 45 minutes. It is about 25-30 minutes to Pontiac, via Commerce and Orchard Lake roads.

* * *

Bert L. Smokler & Company of Detroit is offering a "prevue" Saturday and Sunday. The homes will then be open for inspection daily and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Drive out Commerce road, through the village of Commerce, following the blacktop road to the models.

Paint Glamorizes Hotel

It took 150 painters, and cost $250,000, to apply the 13,000 gallons of paint and lacquer used to decorate the luxurious new $17,000,000 Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, Calif. More than 1,000,000 square feet of exterior and interior surfaces were painted —with glamor and protection.

The slow growth of the Northern Hard Maple tree packs the wood tightly and gives it a tough fiber and close-tight grain, making it strong and hard. The botanical name is Acer Saccharum.

OLD-TIME WEATHERVANES: This Indian weathervane design dates from Colonial times. The 16-inch figure is cut out of wood and painted in true Indian colors. Pattern 241 gives tracing designs for this figure, also a crowing cock and the direction letters. Method of mounting is clearly shown. The pattern will be mailed for 25c. It is included in the Windmill and Weathervane Packet which contains five patterns for $1. Pontiac Press, Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

Tests of Old House Prove Endurance

Recent studies by the Forest Products Laboratory of the U. S. Forest Service confirm what lumbermen have known for years—that age does not affect the str of wood. Typical of the way wood endures is the case of the historic Octagon Building in Washington, D. C., built in 1798.

Floor joists of the building, which served as President Madison's residence after the White House was burned in the War of 1812, were examined recently and subjected to mechanical tests.

There was no evidence of decay or other deterioration and the joists were judged to be as strong as strong as when they were installed more than 150 years ago. Since 1899, the building has been occupied by men who know the value of a durable construction material—the American Institute of Architects.

Total U.S. accident toll in 1955 amounted to 92 million.

Grains Enliven Wood

Grain patterns are to wood what prints are to fabrics. The many different species suitable for paneling, built-ins, furniture and flooring offer the homemaker an almost endless choice of texture, grain and color combinations. Such character markings as knots and bird pecks give paneling a personality and make a room seem more alive and interesting.

'Extra Skin' Provided

There's a cream on the market that you can rub on your hands, arms and face before you start to paint, do the gardening or car repairs, or wax the floors. When the job is finished, the grit-and-grime wash away with plain soap and water. The cream acts as an extra skin and does away with harsh detergents that may irritate your skin. Ask for it at the hardware store.

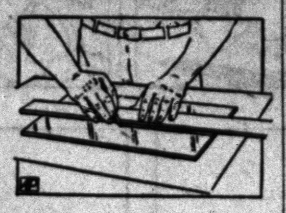

Keep Tongue Side Up

When installing tongue and groove siding on a house, keep the tongue side up. This will keep rain water from getting in the groove.

Do's and Don'ts for Cutting Plate Glass

DO . . . lubricate the wheel of the glass cutter witha household oil and wipe the glass clean with a lintless rag.

DO . . . rest the glass on several layers of newspapers placed on a flat surface and use a wooden yardstick as a cutting guide, ampening one side of it to hold it to the glass without slipping.

DO . . . hold the cutetr between the first and second fingers, with the thumb on the under side of the handle and draw the cutter towards you along the edge of the yardstick gently but firmly.

DO . . . make the cut in one continuous stroke, not stopping until the cutter slides right off the edge of the glass.

DO . . . break the glass by holding it firmly on opposite sides of the cut line and then snapping it with a quick, bending motion away from the cut.

DON'T . . . make the common mistake of holding the cutter at an angle; it should be held in an upright position while drawing it across the glass.

DON'T . . . allow a period of time to elapse between the cut and the break; the glass will break more cleanly if you do it immediately after making the cut.

DON'T . . . neglect the use of the tiny slots on the cutter for breaking a very narrow strip of glass from a large piece.

Color Revival Likely

An early American color revival—eventually to be known as Jamestown colors—is predicted for the 1957 celebration of the 350th anniversary of the first permanent English settlement in the New World at Jamestown in 1607. The Jamestown Festival of 1957 is sure to be inspirational to such members of the color world as paint manufacturers, men and women's fashions, and the automobile industry.

Why Not Light Up Outdoor Umbrella?

If you're lucky enough to own a sun umbrella, why not light it for additional hours of after dark enjoyment.

* * *

Most household handymen can rig up this gay lighting effect in just a few minutes. Simply attach a decorative lamp or even a reflector bulb in a clamp-on-holder to the shaft of the umbrella.

Be sure your light is atatched to the umbrella in an upward position, so that light is reflected softly on the table.

Lighting specialists remind you that weatherproof cords and sockets are recommended for all outdoor lighting.

For a nighttime sunshine glow inside your umbrella, use a 60-watt bulb or a 100-watt yellow lamp in decorative units. For reflector bulbs, you'll find tints of warm appearance to foods and people.

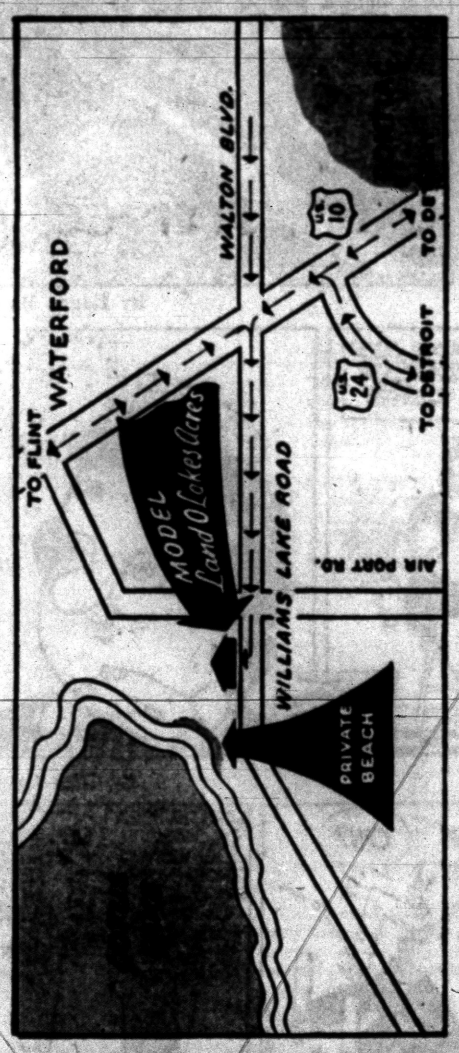

Underground Sprinklers

Sounds optimistic but it probably will not rain forever. In the meantime the ground is softened up, making it easy to install underground sprinklers.

See the remarkable pop-up sprinkler that will cover 1900 sq. ft. Also, a larger size that will cover 3200 sq. ft.

We will show you how simple it is to install it. Cost of materials, including automatic drain valve, as low as $18.00.

Pre-Hung Panel Doors Save Time and Money

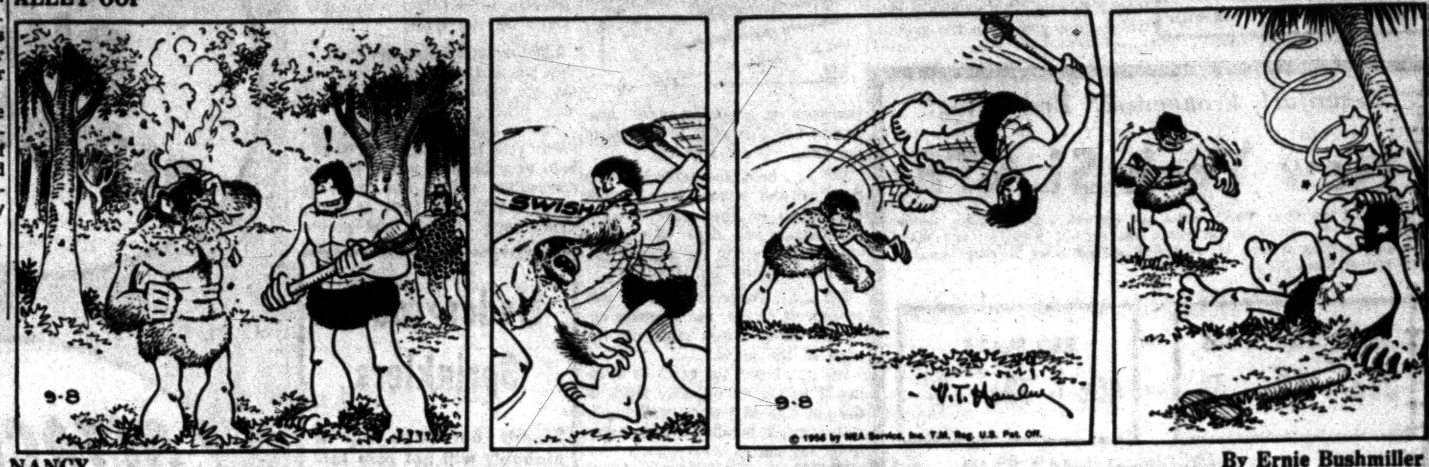

Whn a builder saves time on the job, he saves cash and can give you a better home for less. For this reason, many builders are installing pre-hung panel door units of ponderosa pine in their new homes.

The doors, complete with frame and hardward, go in place in minutes. Complete window units of ponderosa pine, with frame and sash factory-made to fit each other, are another time and money saver.

Call Tuesday Meeting on Consolidation

Parents Invited to Ask Questions

Voting on 12 District Union in Three Places Sept. 13

OXFORD The proposed consolidation of twelve area school districts and the three ballots involved will be the subject under discussion when the Daniel Axford PTA meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the grade school gym for its first meeting of the new year.

The regular meeting date has been advanced one week to precede the consolidation election which takes place Thursday.

R. A. Ambrose, superintendent of Oxford schools will explain the proposals. All parents in the area affected are urged to come with any questions they might have. Ambrose will be presented by John Ray, new president of the organization.

Voting on the consolidation will take place on Thursday, Sept. 13.

* * *

Oxford District No. 5 will vote at the high school auditorium. Rock Valley, Thomas, Oakwood and East and West Travis will vote at the Oakwood School. Rowland Hall in Leonard is the polling place for the other districts.

County Enrollments Increase With Class Space Still Short

Sizable increases in school population in towns surrounding Pontiac is indicated by tallies as schools opened this week and some school officials still face snags in providing classroom space.

Catholic schools showed enrollment total raises in the area, and consolidation of schools caused increases in rural areas.

Lake Orion

Classroom space is being supplemented with church basement rooms pending completion of new elementary rooms at Weber School in the Orion School District.

And teachers at the high school, where both junior and senior high students are being taught, have been assigned classes one or the other level, preparatory to the high school's moving into its new building. Its completion is expected in January, having been set back recently from October.

Enrollment figures are incomplete, but already 1,709 have been listed in Carpenter, Webber, Proper and Blanche Sims Schools.

Greatest increase was at Sims, but a total rise of 250 in the district is expected.

The high school will pen Monday, with about 1,100 expected, according to the superintendent.

That figure includes four sections of sixth graders to meet in the high school. Other sixth graders will meet in the Baptist Church Sunday School rooms until Webber addition opens.

Also waiting for Webber are two sections of kindergartners at the Baptist Church basement, from Lake Orion Village district, and two sections of kindergartners from another district, at the Community Bible Church basement.

Walled Lake

A total of 4,504 students are enrolled in Walled Lake school district, with 2,589 in elementary schools and 1,127 junior high, and 788 in senior high schools.

It is expected that when the Decker road elementary school is opened on Monday, another 500 elementary students will be enrolled there, according to indications in the superintendent's office.

West Bloomfield Township

School bells rang Thursday for students in the West Bloomfield district, with 901 in elementary grades and 607 in the high school enrolling.

Seventh and eighth grades are being included in the high school this year. Latin, personal typing, business English and driving training are being added to the curriculum this year.

John Jenkins will be instructor for the driving school.

Orchard Lake

St. Mary High School of Orchard Lake reports 198 boys registered for classes, an increase of 98 over last year.

Four additional teachers have been added to the staff. French, biology, typing and shorthand are new subjects offered.

* * *

Our Lady of Refuge Elementary school f Orchard Lake has tallied 565 students attending, from first grade through eighth.

There are seven new teachers this year, including some replacements on the 11-teacher staff.

Lake Orion

St. Joseph Catholic School has enrolled 325 students for this year, with classes starting Thursday. It was termed an increase over last year's enrollment.

North Branch

With the annexation of the students of the Mott, West Deerfield and Dodds districts to the North Branch Area Schools, the total enrollment has reached 1,003 pupils.

A total of 38 teachers and superintendant at the North Branch center, and three instructors retaining their posts at the annexed schools are on the faculty.

Students from annexed districts total 68, with 935 on the enrollment list in the parent school in North number 95, with 81 attending at North Branch, one at Mott District, West Deerfield, 2, and Dodds, 3.

Faculty list for the year includes Mrs. Ruth Fox as North Branch elementary principal, Albert Stickle, North Branch High School principal, Jack Vincent, assistant high school principal and athletic director.

Two kindergarten busses and 14 for other students are in operation.

Shirley Ann Bowers

Mr. and Mrs. Norm Bowers of 5200 Pontiac Trail, New Hudson, are announcing the engagement of their niece, Shirley Ann, to Jack Ellis, son of Mrs. Hazel Ellis of New Hudson and the late Mr. Ellis.

Donald Hills Live in Hadley

Couple Wed Recently With Bride in Lace for Church Rites

METAMORA — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jay Hill who were wed recently in Hadley Federated Church, will reside in Hadley.

The bride is the former Ada Marie Vilas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Vilas of Hadley, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Hill of Metamora.

The bride wore a full-length gown of net and Chantilly lace over taffeta. The bodice was of lace with a high collar and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried pink roses and white carnations in the shape of a heart.

Ann Barker, Goodrich, was maid of honor, and Marilyn Troyer of Goodrich, was bridesmaid. Flower girl was Gilda Hayes, a cousin of the bride and Bobby Hayes, also a cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Gilda and Bobby's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hayes.

John E. Hill, Lapeer, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Dr. John W. Batdorf, Goodrich, Harold Coates and James Coates, Royal Oak, cousins of the bridegroom.

A reception followed at the town hall with about 300 guests present, before their honeymoon trip to northern Michigan.

Honeyed Shriek Wins 7th Title for Hubby-Caller

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Seidelman boomed that name over the Michigan State Fair Grounds again yesterday.

* * *

And for the seventh time the 40-year-old mother of seven won the husband-calling contest. Mrs. Seidelman put it this way: GGGEEEOOORRRGGGIIIEEE," and it came out with an awesome boom.

Her secret? "Take a little honey first," she says. "It does wonders for your throat."

But Georgie didn't hear her. He was 120 miles away working their farm at Ionia.

Eighty-seven-year-old Mrs. Sylvia Carlen of Detroit, was runner-up.

* * *

In sheep-shearing competition, Russell Stoker of Grass Lake, was named senior champion. Roger Brooks, 17, of Manchester, was junior champion, and Carl Hakes of Hanover, was sweepstakes winner.

Orion Church Annexes Home for School Space

LAKE ORION—The Lake Orion Methodist Church has annexed the house at the west of the church, formerly known as the Waite House for Sunday School purposes.

With the increased facilities a session to care for all infants through the second grade, will be conducted at 11 a.m. so that parents of younger children may attend the church service then.

Mrs. Dan Abbey, Mrs. Richard Beymer, and Mrs. Robert Hauxwell, Jr., will be in charge.

This new session is in addition to the regular Sunday School which convenes each Sunday at 9:45 a.m. with classes for all ages.

* * *

The Rev. Dr. Mont C. Oliver, pastor of the church, will return to his pulpit Sunday after a month's vacation.

Contest Starts to Name Royalty for Orion Event

LAKE ORION—A contest in conjunction with the Laff-O-Rama being planned for Sept. 22 and 23 by the Lions club, will begin on Wednesday.

* * *

It will name a prince and princess to reign over the 15-act shows both afternoon and evening.

Canisters for penny-votes will be placed before Wednesday after parents of children under six enroll their youngsters, along with a large and small picture of the child, with James Sheldon, chairman.

The small picture goes on a canister placed in a business of the parents' choice, and the larger ones in Sheldon's Restaurant, where a vote tally will be posted.

* * *

Winners will be announced during the show on the afternoon of Sept. 23.

County Jail Trusty Takes a Long Walk

Still missing from the County Jail today is trusty James A. Schuh Sr., 22, who walked away last night while working on a garbage detail.

* * *

The Southfield Township man disappeared shortly after 7 last night while working with five other trusties who were emptying garbage cans following the evening meal, according to Sheriff Frank Irons.

Schuh, who lives at 27375 Northwestern, had served 60 days of a 90-day sentence for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was reportedly wearing green trousers and a white "T" shirt when he left the jail.

Plowing Match Becomes Field Day for Politicos

NEWTON, Iowa (AP)—Each presidential year of late, something happens to the national plowing matches. The top political campaigners grab the spotlight.

* * *

The 1956 event will be held on the Henry Steenhoek farm here Sept. 20-21-22.

* * *

Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, has promised the field days committee that he will speak here Saturday, Sept. 22.

* * *

President Eisenhower yesterday announced he would speak at the field days Sept. 21.

Their coming would seem to rank the Newton gathering politically with the 1952 event at Kasson, Minn., where the same presidential candidates expounded their farm views; and with the 1948 field days at Dexter, Iowa, where President Truman made his major pitch for midwestern votes.

* * *

Far from being annoyed at the political overtones for their big show, sponsors of national field days—they are annual events—are overjoyed that they have become important political occasions every four years. That helps bring the crowds and 100,000 has become they say, almost standard for field days with presidential candidates as main speakers.

* * *

And like most midwesterners, the sponsors believe the farm issue will be one of the hottest of the campaign in their areas.

The field days committee remains non-partisan. It worked equally hard to land both speakers. Republican and Democratic state organizations swung behind the effort.

But politics isn't all at the field days. There are many other contests, shows, exhibits.

* * *

On the Steenhoek farm and adjacent acres — about 2,000 in all — a city complete will rise for the three day occasion. It will have post office, a daily newspaper, water and power systems, an airport for flying farmers and others, and a great array of exhibition pavilions and booths. It will be known as "Conservation City."

The important speaking will take place on the Steenhoek farm, in the open.

* * *

Asked if he was prepared to entertain the President and Stevenson if they stopped in his yard en route to the speaking rostrum, Steenhoek, 41, a grain and livestock farmer, replied:

"Well, I think we could scare up a cup of coffee or a meal such as us farmers have."

Steenhoek, his wife and three sons, live in an older house on the farm he bought three years ago, but they move into a brand new seven-room house after the field days.

* * *

Asked if he is Republican or Democrat, Steenhoek replied:

"Well, that all depends. . . ."

And, in his answer, some politicians say, he sums up the reason that both parties may fire their biggest farm salliea at the national field days.

Oxford Manager Starts Sept. 17

Ralph W. Precious Was Official at Glenview, Illinois

OXFORD Ralph W. Precious of Glenview, Ill., has been unanimously selected by the Oxford Village Council as its first village manager. He will assume his duties on Sept. 17.

Precious, a native of Michigan City, Ind., studied city management for three years at the University of Wichita, Kansas, and finished his work at Michigan State University in 1955, following an interval for military service.

He interned in the East Lansing city manager's office and the State Department of Economic Development in Lansing. Following graduation he served as assistant to the Village Manager of Glenview for the past eighteen months.

With his wife and two youngsters, Precious expects to move to Oxford next week.

Pontiac Woman Talks to Stars at Imlay City

METAMORA—Metamora Eastern Stars will give the gavel to new officers at the Lapeer County Association meeting at Imlay City tonight.

Experts Agree at U. S. Meet

Farmers Source Reliable

WASHINGTON (INS)—Five farm experts agreed yesterday that American farmers are influenced by facts from reliable sources, reject exaggerated claims and are skeptical of information from "untried" sources.

The panelists spoke at the opening session of the 23rd annual meeting of the National Agricultural Chemicals Association at Spring Lake, N. J.

William A. Haffert Jr., editor of the New Jersey Farm and Garden Magazine, said "there have been 13 official efforts in the past 30 years to study farmers' sources of information. As a general rule, the nation's 275 agricultural publications of all sorts have towered over the most potent media by at least 50 per cent."

Orion Sets New Lot-Line Rule

LAKE ORION — The Village Council has proposed an amendment to the zoning ordinance concerning the commercial districts to read, "Side and Rear lot lines—no building shall be constructed closer than five feet from the lot line when the line is adjacent to residential zoned property."

A public hearing will be held to discuss this amendment before it is in effect.

The council checked the deed of Edgar Barbar and, finding it in order, issued him a building permit for an addition to his house. Previously the property had been challenged as being part of a village street.

The council authorized the treasurer to extend the time for tax payment from September to October 1, with a 4 per cent rate.

The council will make a decision in the near future as to which of the three applications for assessor will be chosen.

The applicants are Charles Mikesell, Mrs. Margaret Stephens, and Mrs. Ellis Storey.

Execute Father of 8 for Blood Feud Death

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP) — Besalirez Martinez, 44, father of eight, was executed in the Colorado Penitentiary gas chamber last night for the 1954 "blood feud" slaying of a bar owner.

* * *

Martinez, stocky and greying, went to his death silently and impassively. He was the 69th person executed in Colorado.

Martinez was convicted of shooting to death Perfecto Cruz in Cruz' bar in the tiny mining community of Redcliff, Colo. Authorities said the slaying was the outgrowth of a blood feud that began when Martinez was convicted earlier of attacking Cruz with a knife.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP,
OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN
ORDINANCE NO. 46

An Ordinance to Regulate Sanitary Sewers in the Township of Bloomfield and to Provide Penalties for the violation thereof.

The Township of Bloomfield Ordains:

Section 1. Scope. This ordinance shall apply to all sewers in the Township of Bloomfield, which are so constructed or connected as to flow into the intercepting sewer or sewers of the North Evergreen Sewage Disposal Authority, either directly or indirectly.

Section 2. Type of Connection. No surface, roof or footing drains shall be permitted to flow into such sewers and no connection shall be permitted or maintained which permits other than sanitary sewage to flow thereinto.

Section 3. Permits. No such sewer shall be installed unless a permit therefor has been issued by the Plumbing Inspector and applications therefor shall be made upon forms furnished by him accompanied by such fee as the Township Board may from time to time determine, but which in the first instance shall be two dollars ($2.00).

Section 4. Inspection. No such sewer shall be placed in operation until approved by the Plumbing Inspector, and opportunity for inspection shall be provided after all pipe is in place and before the back filling of any trench or the covering of such pipe.

Section 5. Sanitary Sewer Construction. Every sanitary sewer shall be constructed of Orangeburg Sewer Pipe, or its equivalent.

Section 6. Penalties. Any person who shall violate any provision of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100.00), or by imprisonment for not to exceed ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day that such violation continues shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 7. Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect thirty (30) days after its publication.

Made and passed by the Township Board of the Township of Bloomfield, this 28th day of August, A.D. 1956.

ROBERT M. DUDLEY,
Township Clerk.

Knowland Rips Adlai's Charges

Candidate Uninformed, Misinformed on GOP Policies, Says Senator

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) says Adlai Stevenson is uninformed or misinformed and has used "careless facts" on United States H-bomb policy, the Taft-Hartley Act, and Republican congressional support for President Eisenhower.

In a speech to more than 2,000 women at the closing session of the convention of the National Federation of Republican Women yesterday, Knowland asserted that "Stevenson has demonstrated he is either uninformed on national matters or misinformed by his advisors."

Knowland quoted Stevenson as saying in an April 21 speech in Washington, D.C., that "prompt and earnest consideration" be given "to stopping further tests of the H-bomb." Knowland added that the Democratic presidential nominee should "show restraint in challenging the administration on H-bomb testing."

Knowland, Senate minority leader, referred to three recent nuclear bomb explosions in Russia and added:

"Stevenson's course of action, if carried out, would permit the Communists to get ahead of us in developing nuclear arms and thus endanger the life of every man, woman and child in the United States."

Integrationist May Lose Job

Georgia Teacher Fights for Post After Refusal to Back Segregation

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A seventh-grade teacher faced with the possibility of losing her job over the integration issue says she decided to fight for her position because "I love my profession and I love children."

Mrs. Colleen Marie Wiggins, 26, wife of a Methodist ministerial student, said yesterday she had refused to sign a statement stating that she does not believe in racial integration.

She said school Supt. R. S. Wilbanks of Gwinnett County asked her to sign the statement because of remarks she made to a class last May.

The former missionary to Hawaii added that she told the class she would not object to teaching mixed classes "if I was in a situation where there was integration." She said she expressed the opinion at that time that the South "is not ready for integration."

"I was asked if I would object to my little girl marrying a Negro," Mrs. Wiggins related. "I said that as long as she married someone she loved and respected and who was a good and honest citizen and all other things that go along with marriage, the race would not matter, Negro or otherwise.

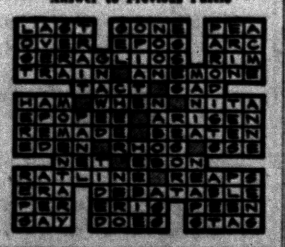

"But as far as saying I want my little girl to marry a Negro, I do not."

Mrs. G. W. Stephens, leader of a group seeking Mrs. Wiggins' ouster, said a petition to that effect is being circulated and at last count had 124 signatures.

They Won't Admit It

NEW YORK — Apparently men are becoming increasingly conscious of their waistlines, because one maker of women's foundation garments reports he sold more than 50,000 of these items to men last year — for themselves to wear.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Dagmar's New Hobby Is Fishing in Florida

By EARL WILSON

Dagmar was just cuttin' out of San Francisco to fly to Miami to go fishin'.

"Fishin'?" I asked in considerable surprise. "How did a lady of your, uh, talents, get interested in fishin'?"

"Sweetie," replied Dagmar, who calls everybody that, "I never did fish till I went to Florida. Then I met this famous underwater gal, Dolores Kippel. You know, honey, what she did? She punched a shark right in the nose. Well, that appealed to me!"

DANNY & DAGMAR

"Danny!" She called down the table to her husband, Danny Dayton.

"What was the name of that fish we harpooned in the water? Yeah, a ray fish. Two hundred pounds.

"I've been so well advertised as being dumb that I believe it myself," she added. "Anyway, this ray fish ran away with the harpoon in it. But we got it back and also the harpoon. You can't eat this fish or anything but it was fun."

"Here you are," I said, "a young Mae West . . .

"Are you goin to become a Hemingwayish Old Woman of the Sea or something?

"I don't know from one minute to the next where I'm going," giggled the former Jenny Lewis of Huntington, W. Va., who was the first big glamour gal of TV.

"We did three shows tonight at the Village and I was on a TV show. We'll go to that big bankers' convention. But you get down to Florida . . . ."

Dagmar held her pure white toy French poodle, "Shakespeare," up to her face.

"And you don't care whether school keeps. Havana and Nassau are so close. Let's face it, I just like to vacation . . . ."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Dodger fan Paddy Chayefsky heard his team had won and announced, "It's the greatest news since I won my Oscar!" . . . Maestro Meyer Davis celebrated his 25th year of playing at the swank Tennis Ball—by learning to play tennis . . . Charlotte Rae went on a strict diet to lose 40 pounds and get sexy roles. So—she'll play "Mammy Yokum" in "Li'l Abner."

A North Carolina furniture outfit called "Martin and Lewis" displays a sign: "We're together again!" . . . Coast Couple: Peggy Maley and actor Corey Allen . . . Ex-Marine Lt. Bill Reilly married Pretty Jean O'Brien . . . Singer Rosalind Courtright will build her own cafe here . . . The dance team of Danii and Genii Prior has a dog named—Shirlii.

Actor Richard Hildebrandt walked out on the lead in Mickey Mantle's TV biography; said he "just can't do it" . . . Myron Cohen and Eartha Kitt are co-starred for the seventh time.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Once you could fix a broken chair with a length of wire. Today the chair IS a length of wire."—Marjorie M. Stanley.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Woody Allen reports his wife has a green thumb: "She loves to work with money."

Al Fodor tells of the H'wood hypochondraic who lost his job. He appealed to his doctor: "Can you treat me for a cheaper ailment, in the $500-to-$1,000 class?" . . . That's earl, brother

High-Strung Violinist's Wife Wins Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Violinist David Rubinoff was "very high strung" complained his wife, Maxtrice, 42, in divorce court.

She was awarded a decree yesterday but said she will continue to serve as business manager and booking agent for the 59-year-old concert violinist.

* * *

Mrs. Rubinoff told the judge her husband was such a perfectionist it was impossible to please him.

She received title to their $150,000 home and $150 a month for support of their son, Rubin, 12.

Derailing Hurts 37 in Indiana

Pennsy's 'Trail Blazer' With 272 Passengers Jumps Track

WARSAW, Ind. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad's Trail Blazer, less than two hours out of Chicago on its turn to New York, jumped the track here late yesterday, injuring 37 persons but none of them seriously.

* * *

Witnesses marveled none of the 272 passengers was killed. Derailed cars listed at a 45 degree angle, but none fell over. Trainman said the cars were held up by a soft roadbed, which had just been worked over by section crews.

Only 13 of passengers and trainmen remained in McDonald Hospital and Murphy Medical Center today, 24 others having been treated and released. Others were treated for slight injuries at the scene.

A railroad spokesman said a defective journal on a wheel at the kitchen end of the diner caused the wreck. The journal is that portion of the axle which turns in a bearing.

The train broke in two, the locomotive and first two cars staying on track. Nine other cars left the rails and tore up a quarter mile of track, just a few blocks east of the station.

The Trail Blazer was not scheduled to stop in Warsaw, which is 40 miles northwest of Fort Wayne.

Wreckage blocked both main lines. The Pennsylvania rerouted the Broadway Limited and other trains by other tracks between Fort Wayne and Plymouth, Ind.

Chartered buses from Fort Wayne picked up passengers and took them to Fort Wayne. There the railroad made up another train to take them on their way.

Negro Still May Run Despite Gun Attack

PRICHARD, Ala. (AP)—A Negro preacher whose house was shot up says he hasn't decided whether he will withdraw from a political race for a seat on the Prichard Council.

But the Rev. Joshua Barney, 68, says he is ready to defend his home if the gunmen return. As for the political race, he said: "I need more time to think it over before I express my intentions."

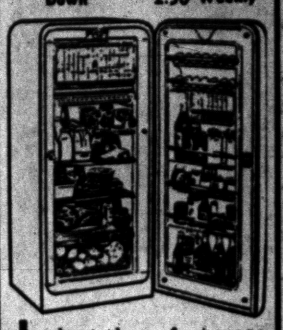

Barney told a reporter last night that a friend had brought him a .22 caliber rifle. Asked if it were loaded, he answered, "It's ready to go."

Police Chief E.C. Anderson ordered a continuous patrol by police radio cruisers in the vicinity of the Barney home. No arrests have been made in the case.

Strictly Off the Cuff

DALLAS (AP)—A maid confessed to police that she started a $10,000 fire in a fashionable home to cover the theft of a suit and a $150 pair of cuff links she gave to a boy friend. The boy friend, who was wearing the trousers of the stolen suit when questioned by police, said he couldn't return the cuff links. "I gave them to another girl friend," he said.

A Sliced Dollar Bill Is Still a Whole Bill

DENVER (AP) — No matter how thin it's sliced, a buck is still a buck.

Edward J. Reagan, 46, thought differently for a while. Police said he slit in halves a $10 bill and a $1 bill, then pasted them so that each bill had one side of the $10 bill showing.

Officers said Reagan tried to cash the bills at Pueblo, Colo., taverns. A bartender noticed the peculiar bill on the second try. Reaga pleaded guilty in federal district court yere yesterday, and faces up to 10 years in prison.

Driver training and safety education courses were first held in 1933 in Pennsylvania.

Senate Nomination on the Block

New York GOP Still Undecided on Javits

By JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Republicans in New York state face a dilemma and it's spelled Javits.

They must decide Monday whether to pick Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, a proven vote getter, as their candidate for United States Senator in the November election.

Javits is now fighting — and denying — charges of past Communist associations.

* * *

It was Javits, a four-term congressman, who upset the political aspirations of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., in 1954. Javits defeated Roosevelt for attorney general by 170,000 votes and was the only Republican to win statewide office that year when Democrat Averell Harriman was elected governor.

Republicans wondered as late as last week whether they could afford to nominate Javits at their state committee meeting in Albany in view of the attacks against him.

They are wondering now if they can afford not to.

* * *

These questions have been raised:

Would passing him over leave the party open to taunts it was intimidated by a "political smear?"

Would rejection of Javits be resented by New York's many voters of the Jewish faith?

These considerations will be on the minds of the 300 committee members at their Monday meeting.

Veteran Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman has announced he will not seek re-election. The Democratic nominee is almost certain to be Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, who has been endorsed by Lehman and other Democratic leaders. The Democrats will also pick their candidate Monday.

Javits, like Lehman, is a Jew. Wagner is a Roman Catholic.

J. Raymond McGovern, state controller under the administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, is an announced candidate for the GOP nomination and is considered Javits' strongest rival.

Javits, 46, balding and dapper, has had foes inside as well as outside his party.

Some GOP regulars regard him as a maverick because of his liberal political philosophy. For one thing, as a member of the House of Representatives, he upheld a veto of the Taft-Hartley Act by President Truman.

* * *

Democrats do not look with enthusiasm upon his candidacy, if only because he has defeated so many of their hopefuls.

By last week it appeared Javits faced a roadblock.

J. G. Sourwine, former counsel for the Senate internal security subcommittee, had declared in Nevada that Javits was "the protege of important Communists who had helped push him up the political ladder."

* * *

The charge was spread by word of mouth until it reached what Javits called a "rumble" at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Javits denounced the accusations as an attempt at "political assassination," voluntarily attended a senatorial hearing, and swore he never had any Communist connections.

President Eisenhower said at his press conference on Wednesday that "as of this moment" he thought Javits a "fine American" and would be "greatly astonished" if he were proved wrong.

Other Republicans leaders and even some Democrats took occasion to express their confidence in his patriotism and integrity. To top it off, the Communsts said they always had opposed him.

* * *

Javits, born in poverty on New York's lower east side, sees no contradition between his traditional Republican conservatism in economics and his new deal outlook on other matters.

He first was elected to Congress while advocating an extension of price controls, contrary to general Republican position.

In Congress, he voted against giving funds to the House Un-American Activities Committee and the Mundt-Nixon anti-subversives bill on the ground that both violated civil rights of the accused.

* * *

He demanded instead a liberalized Senate-House system of rules for subversive hearings. When this was adopted he voted in favor of funds.

North Carolina Voting on Plan Not to Integrate

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—North Carolina voters ballot in a special referendum today to decide whether they favor a plan aimed at guaranteeing that no child in the stat will be required to attend an integrated school against its will.

They vote on a "local option" plan backed strongly by Gov. Luther H. Hodges and his administration, but opposed by such agencies as the State Congress of Parents and Teachers and religious groups.

The plan involves an amendment to the state constitution. It would allow citizens of local school administrative units to vote to close their schools if integration moves caused "intolerable" situations.

It also would allow the use of state and local funds to pay private tuition for children whose parents objected to their attending an integrated public school.

Under the tuition grants portion of the amendment, the state would pay up to $135 a year toward the tuition of a child sent to a private school by his parents rather than allowing him to attend an integrated school.

Blast Levels School Open Only 4 Days

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The parkling new $190,000 addition to an elementary school at nearby Donnelsville, opened for classes just four days ago, was crumbled yesterday in an explosion that rocked the small community of 300.

* * *

Miss Emma Blackburn, 62-year-old teacher, said, "it happened all at once. The roof caved in, and everything started falling."

She was the only one inside the one-story brick structure when the blast caved in walls and roof one hour after the school's 400 pupils had left.

The teacher was hospitalized with rib and wrist fractures.

Cause of the blast was not known. But Ralph Harmon, school architect, said there apparently was "an accumulation of gasses over a wide area . . . centered around the kitchen." A gas company employe said there was no evidence gas was responsible.

Truman Raps Ike's Popularity

Says President Master of 'Passing the Buck' to His Assistants

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry S. Truman says Prsident Eisenhower is a master of the old Army game, tat of "passing the buck" to assistants and mintaining your own popularity.

* * *

The former President, in his customary vigorous style, accused Eisenhower of seeking personal responsibilities, and in the process perhaps endangering the national welfare.

* * *

Attacking both foreign and domestic policies of the Republican administration, Truman said "Peace must be built upon a firm foundation. He who undermines and destroys the foundation for the sake of temporarily preventing outbreaks on the surface does us no service whatever."

* * *

"I fer that there is an ominous parallel" Truman continued, "between what is transpiring now and the events of the 1920s, when the world drifted on and allowed the forces to grow and the pressures to be built up which eventually resulted in World War II."

Commenting later on Truman's remarks, GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall told a newsman: "As far as World War II o any other war of our lifetime is concerned, all of those wars happened under Democratic administrations."

Theater Group to Tour

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State University Players plan to send the play, "The Solid Gold Cadillac," on an entertainment tour of the state's communities during weekends in January and February.

Speedster Pulls Gun on Police, but Loses Out

STAUNTON, Va. (AP)—A motorist stopped for speeding pulled a gun on three officers in police headquarters here last night, disarmed them, took one shot at them that missed, then tossed his gun on the floor and was overpowered.

The officers, J. A. Dunn, R. D. Alexander and desk Sgt. W. P. Lloyd said the driver, identified as Martie Fletcher Barnette Jr., 25, Portsmouth, Va., would give no reason for his actions and declined to answer any questions.

Barnette was held on three counts of felonious assault.

Drop Murder Count Against 8-Year-Old

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—The Commonwealth has dropped murder charges against an eight-year-old boy who admitted kicking to death a nine-year-old girl because she had refused him a kiss.

* * *

The boy, Leroy Black, who was the youngest murder defendant on record in Pennsylvania, will go instead to the Lancaster County Juvenile Court, where he will be charged as a juvenile delinquent.

Leroy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Black of nearby Colmbia, has been held at Rotary Home for Boys, a detention house, since shortly after the death June 21 of Darlene Hougendobler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hougendobler of Columbia. The two families live on the same street.

* * *

Dist. Atty. William C. Strob filed a petition yesterday in Lancaster County Court to remove the murder charge. He said that, because of the boy's age, the state would not be able to prove "an intent to murder" when he kicked Darlene two days before she died in Columbia Hospital.

About two million persons in the U.S. are stricken anually by malaria.
