Supreme Court Considers 5th Districting Plan

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Supreme Court decided today it will permit a new "one man, one vote" legislative redistricting plan to be added to the four plans it already has under consideration.

The new plan was submitted to the court two days ago by Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids, and Richard Austin of Detroit, Democratic members of the Legislative Apportionment Commission.

They described it as an "alternative" drafted in anticipation the U.S. Supreme Court ultimately will establish a guideline saying both houses of a legislature must be apportioned on a strict population basis.

Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh said today the court has agreed to let the new plan be considered along with others, despite the fact that the deadline for submitting them to the court has long since passed.

Kavanagh said he "assumed" Republican members of the apportionment commission would be able to file formal objections to the new Austin-Kleiner plan.

He said, however, there are no plans for oral arguments such as those held by the court on the four schemes presented earlier.

The court took over the job of selecting which plan "most nearly complies" with provisions of the constitution after the eight-member, bi-partisan commission ended up in a deadlock.

DELAYED ACTION

The court has delayed its own action, however, while awaiting guidance from the U.S. Supreme Court, on how state legislatures should be apportioned.

The new plan adheres more closely to the standard of equal population for both Senate and House districts than did the first Austin-Kleiner plan submitted to the court.

But it crosses county lines in numerous places to meet the demand for equal population.

★ ★ ★

Neither of the plans submitted by the two Democrats meets the constitution's requirement for Senate districts based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area.

NEW PLAN

Meanwhile, a break in the legislative stalemate over congressional redistricting appeared possible—but still far from a certainty—as the result of Senate adoption of a new plan.

On a vote of 29-4, the Senate late yesterday passed and sent

New Treatment of Mentally Ill to Begin Here

Hospital in Pontiac Gets Program Grant for Coming Autumn

A new approach to treatment of the mentally ill will be inaugurated this fall at Pontiac State Hospital with funds from a $300,000 grant, it was disclosed today.

Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent, revealed that the hospital had received a coveted grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, a federal government agency.

The grant, $100,000 a year for three years, will finance a pioneer effort in Michigan of the Unit Plan, a specialized process of treatment.

Under the Unit Plan, according to Dr. Martin, patients are housed in a separate ward and receive intensive treatment throughout their hospital stay from the same set of staff therapists and doctors.

He explained that present system calls for only a relatively brief period of intensive treatment. The patient then may be transferred to several wards as he progresses.

SLIMLY STAFFED

"The traditional wards are often slimly staffed," the medical superintendent said, "and treatment is not quite as intense."

Dr. Martin expected the new plan to get underway this fall. He said that the grant would enable 100 patients to be placed in the Unit Plan.

He said that two wards in the geriatric building would be renovated for the experimental project.

Special personnel, including two psychiatrists, four graduate nurses, a psychiatric social worker and three attendant nurses, will be added to the hospital's staff to provide treatment for the Unit Plan patients.

PATIENTS

Dr. Martin said a random selection of patients would be made for the project. The plan, however, will be restricted to adults in the 18-65 age group.

The reasoning behind this stipulation, he said, is that specialized programs are already provided for children and geriatric patients.

The federal grant overcomes, at least in this one unit, the biggest problem in state institutions, Dr. Martin said. This is the need for more staff.

Two Early Leaders of Area Paid Honor at City Meeting

Shortly after the turn of the century, a young man took a job as teller at the Citizens Savings Bank in Holly.

About the same time, a young engineer was tinkering with a couple of two-cylinder gasoline engines in Pontiac.

These "youngsters" — now with a total of 165 years, nine months and five days behind them — were given standing ovations by City Commissioners and administrators in a moving ceremony last night at City Hall.

The bank teller, R. Clare Cummings, went on to build a multimillion dollar savings and loan institution, First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Oakland.

★ ★ ★

John E. Linabury, the young engineer, put those two engines together and came up with the four-cylinder engine that powered the first Oakland automobile in 1908.

★ ★ ★

Both men were honored as they stepped down from long terms serving the city.

Cummings, who celebrated his 80th birthday today, had been a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors for 27 years.

Linabury, who will be 86 in August, had been on the City Planning Commission since 1952.

★ ★ ★

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. read citations honoring both men, and presented them with keys to the city.

VETERAN MEMBER

Linabury, of 81 E. Iroquois, is also a veteran member of the City Zoning Board of Appeals.

He mechanized the first General Motors Corp. foundry in Saginaw and engineered the Buick, Cadillac and Pontiac Motor Division foundries.

Linabury retired from GM in 1947 and turned much of his interest to public service. He is a native of Pontiac and both his parents were born in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Cummings, of 205 E. Iroquois, is a native of Franklin. Linabury graduated from Pontiac High School in 1898 and Cummings was a member of the class of 1903 at Birmingham High.

BOTH DEVOTED

Both have devoted much time to the Oakland County Historical Society.

Cummings was chairman of the board of supervisors two years, a long-time member of the county ways and means committee and its chairman in 1959.

He has served on the county planning commission since its inception in 1949 and was on the Oakland County Board of Education for six years.

★ ★ ★

Cummings is the only living pioneer in the development of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, and has been chairman of the authority's board of commissioners for the past six years.

SCOUT WORKER

An active Boy Scout worker since 1917, Cummings holds the coveted Silver Beaver Award for outstanding service to scouting.

He was president and director of First Federal Savings from 1934 through 1961 and currently serves at chairman of the board of directors.

New Proposal Splits County

Oakland County would be split a new way under a congressional apportionment plan finally passed last night by the State Senate.

The 18th District would take in the south county communities of Royal Oak, Troy, Southfield, and Avon, Oakland, Bloomfield and Pontiac Townships.

The City of Pontiac would be part of the 19th District including the rest of Oakland County and extending deep into Wayne County in two places to take in Redford Township and the cities of Livonia and Northville.

Republicans and Democrats generally agreed the GOP would probably win a 10-9 margin in the fall congressional election with the 19th District being a "swing district."

Senate Democratic floor leader Raymond Dzendzel, Detroit, called insertion of Livonia, Redford and Northville in the Oakland County district an outright gerrymander.

'PLAN C'

Under "Plan C," adopted by a House majority April 24, the new 19th District would contain Pontiac, western Oakland County, Livingston County, and a part of northwest Wayne County.

The 18th District would be made up of the townships of Pontiac, Avon, Addison and Oakland, along with the county area south of 20 Mile and east of Inkster Road.

The House arrangement presumably would keep the 18th in the Republican column and maintain a slight GOP majority in the 19th.

★ ★ ★

The Senate version would have a population disparity of 13,911 between its largest 18th District and the smallest 10th, compared to 13,656 for Plan C.

Both figures, however, are above the 10,000 maximum "rule of thumb" set informally by Gov. Romney, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelly and others.

Write-Ins Mar Barry's Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barry Goldwater was the top vote-getter in yesterday's Nebraska Republican presidential preference primary, where he was the only candidate listed.

But he ran into a strong tide of write-in votes for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and others.

The Arizona senator barely scored the majority of votes his supporters had predicted before the election.

He had just over 50 per cent of the vote while Nixon—who in 1960 had the presidential nomination that Goldwater seeks this year — had about 31 per cent.

Goldwater's major announced rival for the nomination, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, polled a sizable vote in the uncontested West Virginia preference primary.

Rockefeller had no write-in competition because such votes are not counted in West Virginia.

★ ★ ★

In West Virginia, with 1,501 of 2,664 precincts reporting, Rockefeller had 62,438, about 64 per cent of the total vote cast in a lackluster Republican gubernatorial primary.

There were no Democratic preference contests in either state, but President Johnson rolled up a substantial write-in vote in Nebraska. With 1,494 precincts reporting, he had 38,776 votes, Gov. Frank Mor-

Rocky's Hopes Soar in Oregon

Campaign Is Paying Off, Polls Indicate

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller entered the closing phase of his campaign in the Oregon presidential-preference primary today reporting he was "encouraged and optimistic" by polls reporting he is gaining ground.

But the governor agreed with most other observers there was no way of telling whether his newly gained momentum would carry him to victory in the voting Friday.

He commented in an hour-long television show last night.

The Rockefeller forces attributed his gains largely to the fact he is the only active, on-the-scene candidate of the six Republicans whose names will appear on the ballot. That point is made repeatedly in all campaign activity.

There was 11th-hour activity by committees working for Sen. Barry Goldwater, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

CALIFORNIA EYED

The major candidates worked at the Oregon primary with one eye on the California presidential primary June 2. California will have 86 delegates to the mid-July Republican National Convention, compared with Oregon's 18.

Both Rockefeller and Goldwater hoped for a clear-cut victory to bolster their chances in California. Lodge and Nixon partisans hoped to head off Goldwater, thereby diminishing his chances of winning in California.

While Rockefeller moved about the state, Goldwater's campaign was conducted by volunteer workers that included his two sons, Barry Jr. and Michael.

From the Nixon headquarters came a statement that he would do well in the primary as a result of a telephone campaign now under way.

LODGE'S SON

George Lodge, son of the Ambassador, called a news conference today for what most observers saw as a trouble-shooting effort to try to halt erosion of his father's political strength.

Miserable Weather to End by Friday

Cloudy and cool with a chance of more rain is the weatherman's prediction for tonight.

Temperatures will fall into the high 30s and rise to 59 to 66 tomorrow. Friday's forecast is fair and warmer.

Fifty-two was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury recording was 52 at 2 p.m.

Area Salute to State Starts This Sunday

Michigan Week — that time set aside annually to give the people, products and resources of the state special recognition — will begin Sunday.

Events are planned in most Oakland County communities on Monday, Mayor's Exchange Day, a highlight of the week-long activities.

Birmingham will celebrate its centennial anniversary in conjunction with Michigan Week.

On Wednesday, an open house will be held at Dodge State Park No. 4 on Cass Lake to allow visitors to view new facilities built at a cost of $295,000.

Pontiac Mayor William E. Taylor will travel to Union City, northwest of Coldwater in Branch County, to trade places for a day with Mayor Harvey MacDonald, who is expected to arrive in Pontiac at 11 a.m. Monday.

GUEST MAYOR

MacDonald will tour the city and the GMC Truck & Coach Division plant, meet with city and county officials and be honored at a dinner at the City Club in the Waldron Hotel.

Anti-Castro Group Attacks Big Sugar Mill in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A "very successful" commando-type attack on a sugar mill in the eastern Cuba province of Oriente was reported today by an anti-Castro action group here.

The Revolutionary Recuperatin Movement (MRP) headed by Manual Artime said the attack occurred on a big sugar mill at Puerto Pilon, on the southern coast of Oriente Province, the easternmost in Cuba.

Details are coming in on the attack and will be made public at a news conference here at 4 p.m. EST and in San Juan, Puerto Rico at 3 p.m. local time, MRP said.

Headquarters of Artime's group here said it did not know his whereabouts. It added the attack on the sugar mill was by members of the MRP group who recently landed in that area.

Exiles have vowed for several months they would resume this month active efforts to harass Fidel Castro's economy and strive for eventual overthrow of his regime.

★ ★ ★

The extent of damage to the mill and the nature of the weapons used to attack it were not announced by MRP. It said it hoped this could be made known later.

FIRST OF SERIES

"This is the first of a series of attacks to come immediately," said a spokesman at MRP. "Our immediate objective is to liquidate targets vital to the hangman Castro. Later on we shall go in for establishment of large scale guerrilla forces in our homeland.

"Eventually we shall carry big scale war to Cuba against Castro and his Communists."

Exiles here recalled that after Castro and his little band of invaders landed in Cuba, one of his first attacks, in 1956, was against a military outpost near the same sugar mill.

★ ★ ★

MRP spokesmen here said the mill is close to the Sierra Maestra where Castro and his forces carried on guerrilla warfare against a preceding dictator in Cuba, Fulgencio Batista. The Batista government fell Jan. 1, 1959.

AF Answers on Viet Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force, replying to questions from a congressional committee about use of obsolete planes in South Viet Nam, said today that of 72 planes in operations, two may have crashed because of structural failure.

It said the cause of some other crashes was not known definitely.

The Pentagon made public a letter from Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert to chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee, in reply to a letter from Vinson to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on May 5.

TWO TYPES

The 72 planes are of two types and were sent to South Viet Nam since 1962.

They were carefully inspected and improved before they were sent abroad and "have performed outstandingly ever since assignment there," Zuckert told Vinson.

The planes involved are the T28, designed originally as a trainer, and the B26, a World War II design light bomber. Both are propeller-driven.

The two types are being replaced by about 75 A1 "Skyraider" Navy planes, which also are propeller driven. Zuckert said the first of these are on the way and should arrive in South Viet Nam early next month.

ORDERED GROUNDED

The B26s were ordered grounded in April after investigation of losses.

Here is the summary of plane losses and causes given the committee by Zuckert:

"During the 4,500 sorties flown in 1962, four strike aircraft were lost to hostile action; during the 9,000 sorties flown in 1963, nine strike aircraft were lost. Due to increased effectiveness of the Viet Cong antiaircraft fire, six aircraft have been lost to hostile action so far this year.

"In three of these cases, one in 1963 and two in 1964, the precise cause of loss is not known, but it is possible that structural failure may have been a contributing factor. However, there is no positive evidence of T28 structural failure within design limits.

"In one case, structural failure in a wing may have occurred as a result of extremely high stress, in excess of design limits, during pull-up by a T28 in an attack on a heavily defended target.

"In the other two cases, it was impossible to determine the specific cause because efforts to obtain the entire wreckage were not successful, but ground fire was experienced in both cases.

"In addition, five aircraft, two B26's and three T28's, were lost to causes other than hostile action. Of the two B26's, one indicated structural failure. The aircraft had been repaired for control difficulties.

"Investigation indicated the aircraft was overstressed in flight. The other B26 went down on a photo mission in deep water and the cause is unknown. The T28 noncombat instances were not attributal to structural failure."

City Bars Expansion of Project

The City Commission made it official last night—there won't be any expansion of Pontiac's lone public housing project, Lakeside Homes, Inc.

An amendment passed about a month ago, which would have allowed the project to add four- and five-bedroom units, was repealed by a unanimous vote of commissioners last night.

The National Association for Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Oakland County Chapter, had requested that the expansion amendment be repealed last week.

Commissioners had indicated they probably would grant the NAACP request and similar requests from other Negro groups in District 1, where the project is located.

Negro leaders argued that public housing was being misused by some present tenants. It is designed for low-income families.

STRONGLY URGED

Commissioner T. Warren Fowler strongly urged last night's action saying, "You can't convince me that all the tenants are poor when I've seen some come out wearing furs and driving Cadillacs to church Sundays."

Negro leaders felt more public housing would eventually be used by persons who actually could afford better housing, and that public housing in only one district tended to foster segregation.

Last night's action leaves a 1955 ordinance prohibiting further public housing anywhere in Pontiac in full effect.

The expansion amendment has been requested by the Pontiac Housing Commission, which claimed there is a need for more multibedroom units.

Physicists Will Attend Dedication

Five physicists will highlight a symposium at Oakland University next Tuesday in a daylong dedication of the Kettering Magnetics Laboratory.

The laboratory has been moved from Dayton, Ohio, to the Oakland campus under terms of a $120,000 grant from the Kettering Foundation.

Participating in the physics symposium will be Gilford G. Scott, senior research physicist in the physics department at General Motors Corp.; John H. Van Vleck, professor of mathematics and natural philosophy at Harvard University; Sherwood K. Haynes, chairman of the physics department at Michigan State University.

Also, William M. Fairbank of Stanford University and Alexander J. Dessler of Rice University.

The symposium will get under way at 9:30 a.m. in the OU science building. Chancellor D. B. Varner will welcome the physicists.

LABORATORY TOUR

A tour of the laboratory, which has been operating since last fall, will precede a noon luncheon.

The laboratory was reconstructed at Oakland University to enable Scott, a coworker of the late Charles F. Kettering, to carry on his and Kettering's experiments in magnetism.

The experiments were begun some 15 years ago. Kettering was director of the GM Research Laboratories.

The laboratory has been erected with nonmagnetic materials in order that the earth's magnetic field would be uniform in the area of the building. This field can be canceled out almost completely.

Experiments must be done in a very low magnetic field.

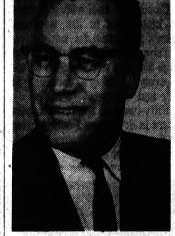

Lawyer to Run for Prosecutor

Waterford Township attorney Anthony Renne yesterday announced as the first Democratic candidate for Oakland County prosecutor in the fall elections.

Renne, 50, of 19 Baycrest served as an assistant prosecutor from 1958 until 1962 when he returned to private practice.

Formerly a Republican, Renne said he left the party when a fight developed two months ago on the appointment of a successor to former prosecutor George F. Taylor.

"I never heard of a party endorsing a candidate before the primary," he said, referring to Republican urgings that Robert L. Templin, one of three senior assistants seeking the office, get the job.

"I don't vote for a party, I vote for a man," Renne stated in explaining his switch to the Democrats.

ACTIVE PRACTICE

Active in civil and criminal law practice for 23 years, Renne graduated from Wayne State University Law School in 1940.

He went on to serve in the Marine Corps during World War II, being discharged as a sergeant in 1946.

Renne has served as past commander of Disabled Americans Veterans Pontiac Chapter 101, Oakland County Council of Veterans and Marine Corps League of Pontiac, and as past state judge advocate of the Amvets.

He is a member of Pontiac Elks Lodge and is past president of Pontiac YMCA Toastmaster Club.

Tornado Relief Fund Goal Lowered After New Check

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney said late yesterday the target figure for public contributions to aid Macomb County tornado victims has been cut by three-fourths — from $1 million to $250,000.

He said the reduction was made by officials of the American Red Cross.

The original estimate of $1 million had been made by Federal officials hours after the tornado struck Chesterfield Township, Macomb County, resulting in the death of 10 persons.

"Since then, Red Cross and public officials have looked more closely at the number of homes destroyed and damaged, extent of coverage by insurance and other contributory factors," the governor said.

"While the extent of damage remains at the $8 million level, it now appears that need for contributions from the public will be $250,000."

* * *

Red Cross officials based their revised estimate on a comparison of the Macomb County damage with similar disasters elsewhere.

ADMINISTRATION

The tornado relief fund is being administered by the Red Cross and collected by a five-member board of trustees named by Macomb County Circuit Judges.

A $2,000 contribution to the fund was announced by the Michigan Fraternal Order of Eagles and its auxiliaries.

Macomb County officials said more than 1,000 contributions ranging from $1 to the Detroit Edison Co.'s previously announced $10,000 had been made.

* * *

VICTIMS WARNED

County authorities, meanwhile, warned tornado victims against what they called unscrupulous persons trying to exploit them by various illegitimate means, including phony home repairs.

Carl Brandenburg, supervisor of Chesterfield Township, said "sharpies" had descended on the stricken area in efforts to bilk people.

All township roads were open again yesterday. Some had been closed to all but residents.

Had 2 Homes, Miles Apart, Both Were Hit

The swirling wind which swept across southeast Michigan Friday brought double disaster to a Pontiac Township family.

* * *

Twisting along its erratic course, the tornado dropped on the Sylvester Cudnohufsky house at 3650 Lapeer.

It lifted, moved east, then descended again and ripped off the second story of the family's new colonial brick home in Chesterfield Township, 32 miles away.

Cudnohufsky, an engineer at Detroit Broach and Machine Co., Avon Township, was at work when the whirlwind first appeared.

* * *

His wife Pauline, 48, saw the black funnel approaching Lapeer Road. She was on her way down the basement stairs with three of the couple's five children, Kathy, 17, Sandra, 11, and David, 12.

DEADLY CALM

The disastrous winds hit.

Returning upstairs in the deadly calm, Mrs. Cudnohufsky saw the clock with its hands stopped at 4:30 p.m.

She also saw the shredded awnings, the broken windows scattered inside the house and the garage, pulled off its foundation.

Later Friday night the family drove to Chesterfield Township, near Anchor Bay.

* * *

They looked at what was left of the home they had just purchased and partially furnished.

* * *

The top half was gone. The garage door was 200 yards out in the lake. Only parts of the first floor walls were standing.

BOTH INSURED

"I guess we'll rebuild in Chesterfield Township," Cudnohufsky said. Both homes were insured.

* * *

"I hope it never happens again, because we might be in there the next time . . . We would have been there the next morning."

Library Unit Elects Slate of Officers

Friends of the Kresge Library at Oakland University elected new officers last night.

Carl F. Ingraham, 940 Harmon, Birmingham, was elected president, while Leonard T. Lewis, 1450 Pilgrim, Birmingham, was elected vice president, and Mrs. W. Edwin Mosher Jr., 1369 N. Glenhurst, Birmingham, secretary - treasurer.

The group also presented a color portrait of Sebastian S. Kresge to the university.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were elected to the board of directors.

Re-elected to the board were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, 341 Mead, Oakland Township; Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Gordon, 1099 Cranbrook, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Yntema, 3950 Franklin, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald, 320 Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. C. Allen Harlan, 3535 N. Adams, Birmingham and Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Kresge, 665 Apple Hill, Avon Township.

Unanimous OK Given to Name of Jones Center

The City Commission last night unanimously approved naming Pontiac's new recreation facility and swimming pool the Hayes Jones Community Recreation Center.

The new center, under construction since last summer, is slated to officially open next month.

It is located at Wessen and Walnut on the old city water works property.

Jones, the U.S. Olympic hurdles star, was raised in Pontiac where he was a track star at Pontiac Central High School. He now is employed in Detroit.

* * *

The City Planning Commission had recommended at their May meeting that the center be named after him.

A resolution approving the move was offered by Commissioner T. Warren Fowler last night.

* * *

Commissioners said they felt "Jones has brought honor to Pontiac and the United States both as an athlete and in his private life . . . and is a model for American youth to look up to."

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — City commissioners last night gave tentative approval to a $472,200 budget which would require a tax increase of about 1 mill for fiscal 1964-65.

* * *

Hearing on the figure, up some $23,200 from this year's, was set for 5:30 p.m. May 28 at the City Hall.

Commissioners added some $15,200 to the proposals of City Manager Elmer Kephart, thus needing to add another mill to the tax rate.

Tentatively set at 22.44 mills, the rate marks a nominal decrease from the current 26.8-mill levy.

* * *

However, Kephart noted, city appraisals this year went up by 21 per cent, balancing the ratio of the decrease in levy.

PROPERTY VALUE

This year's appraisal program set the value of property in the city at $15,529,600, compared to $12,414,600 last year.

Kephart said $660,350 of the increase in appraisals is in new buildings, the rest coming from the adjusted increment.

Roughly, then, Bloomfield Hills residents would pay about $1 more per $1,000 of assessed valuation under the proposed budget.

* * *

Allocation for city administration would be jumped from $47,400 to $53,100. Commissioners last night added $1,500 to the figure to include salary raises for the city manager, city clerk and two office employes.

CONTINGENCY FUND

They also increased Kephart's recommended contingency fund by $13,700. The proposed figure is $41,500 compared to $34,800 this year.

* * *

Other amounts are police, up $5,000 to $98,600; fire, up $1,100 to $40,700; highway, down $1,900 to $91,000; municipal building, remains at $5,600; retirement and Social Security, remains at $14,000; planning commission, down $3,000 to $1,000; and sewers, up $4,800 to $122,500.

Kephart estimated property taxes would bring in $346,800. He also expects a $50,000 surplus from this year's budget.

* * *

The rest of the city's income will be from state refunds, various fees and miscellaneous sources.

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the commission set for July 13 a special franchise election for Consumers Power Co.

* * *

The firm's present franchise expires Sept. 12 and the proposition on the ballot will seek renewal for 20 years.

The franchise ordinance, if approved, would grant Consumers the right and authority "to lay, maintain and operate gas mains, pipes and services on, along, across and under the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local gas business in the City of Bloomfield Hills for a period of 20 years."

Schools in Pontiac and Waterford Township have planned programs with special emphasis on Michigan history.

BREAKFAST

Two Waterford Township schools will serve breakfast featuring Michigan food products.

The Pontiac post of the Michigan state police will open its doors to the public Tuesday from noon to 9 p.m. The post is at 1295 N. Telegraph.

A full schedule of activites is planned for the dual celebration in Birmingham.

Week-long events include exhibits and tours of utility offices.

Playground equipment will be installed at Shain Park in the downtown business district. There will also be a children's barnyard with live animals.

* * *

On May 22, Heritage Day, there will be a morning tour of historic sites and homes.

The centennial parade will be held the following day, beginning at 1:30 p.m. It is being coordinated by the Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Immediately following the parade Gov. Romney will give a speech at Shain Park.

This will be followed there with a fashion show sponsored by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

BAND CONCERT

A 30-minute concert will be given in the park at 3:30 p.m. by the Michigan State University band.

The crowning of a centennial king and queen will follow.

Dodge Park manager Carl Althoff said that visitors will be allowed into the recreation area free of charge on May 20.

Among the improvements, he said, is a $99,000 circular building which houses the concession stand, bath house and toilet.

Cost of the entire project will be paid through vehicle permit fees.

Parkway Road off Cass-Elizabeth is the entrance to the recreation facility in Waterford Township.

Consider Plan on Districting

to the House a modified compromise version of the so-called "Plan C" which the House approved earlier.

This compromise plan, most lawmakers said, would either retain the present ratio of 11 Republicans to eight Democrats in Congress, or possibly, give the Democrats one more seat, based on past voting trends. The compromise would cut only one outstate county line by including two townships of Clinton County in a neighboring district.

It set the stage for new efforts in the House today toward bipartisan agreement that could send the plan to Gov. George W. Romney for signature and immediate effect.

Such action could meet a full day of closed-door negotiations involving Republicans who drafted the plan and Democratic leaders.

It passed the Senate with no apparent strings attached. But there remained the prospect that House Republicans would insist on adoption of other legislation as a condition for approving the congressional plan.

Await Federal Decision on Merger

Bright Future Seen for Two Rail Lines

CHICAGO (AP)—Bright prospects beckon the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads as the nation's economy rolls along in a major and prolonged expansion.

But lasting prosperity hinges on fulfillment of Pennsy-Central merger plans set in motion 30 months ago. The proposal still awaits a preliminary decision by federal authorities.

★ ★ ★

This was the message to stockholders as owners of the Pennsylvania, the country's largest rail carrier, met Tuesday for the 117th time in Philadelphia, and Central shareholders met in Chicago.

Stuart T. Saunders, conducting a first stockholder session since taking over as Pennsy board chairman last October, called union of the rail giants "indispensable."

AT STAKE

Saunders said the stake for the riding and shipping public, as well as for shareholders, was tremendous. On Pennsy-Central union, he said, depends achievement of three strong and healthy rail systems in the East.

★ ★ ★

Alfred E. Perlman, president, told the Central session, the company's first in 112 years away from Albany, N.Y., that the Central has "pulled itself up by its own bootstraps."

Although he specified no figure, Perlman indicated the road might more than double 1963s $7 million profit in 1964.

"Our position is more solid and potentially more profitable than it has been during any of the past 10 years," he said.

Saunders termed the outlook for the rest of the year as "very bright," despite April's failure to live up to expectations. The Pennsy cleared $9.6 million in the January-March quarter.

Both rail executives made it clear optimism was concentrated in the freight sector, rather than in passenger carriage.

★ ★ ★

Saunders, acknowledging a public need for good passenger service, coupled a promise of improvement with a resolve to eliminate unneeded and financially losing operations.

In Chicago, a woman stockholder donned a widow's veil in mock mourning of what she called the "murder of passenger and Pullman service" through neglect by the Central management.

★ ★ ★

She was Wilma Soss, president of the Federation of Women Shareholders in American Business, a professional meeting-goer.

Wayne M. Hoffman, Central executive vice president, patiently defended Central efforts to attract business through World's Fair travel promotions, but said results so far were disappointing. Hoffman said chronic losses on dining car service were especially frustrating.

Perlman said passenger train mileage had been reduced 45 per cent in the last six years. As a result, he said, the Central's passenger deficit fell from $52 million in 1957 to just over $14 million in 1963.

Trial Date Set for Viet Aide

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The government announced today that Dang Sy, a former major whose troops fired on Buddhist demonstrators in Hue last year, will go on trial May 18 before a revolutionary court in Hue.

The bloodshed that resulted from the Hue incident precipitated the Buddhist crisis that helped topple the government of the late president Ngo Dinh Diem.

Dang Sy's trial will be the third major trial following Diem's overthrow. Ngo Dinh Can, Diem's brother and viceroy in Hue, and Phan Quang Dong, a Can aide, were executed last Saturday following their conviction on charges of murder, extortion, corruption and misuse of office.

Charges against Dang Sy were not immediately announced.

Episcopalians Reject Prayer Amendment

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York yesterday defeated by a wide margin a resolution supporting proposed constitutional amendments to invalidate the Supreme Court's ruling against compulsory Bible reading and prayer recitation in public schools.

The convention was attended by about 900 delegates representing 136,000 Episcopalians in the metropolitan area.

To Spend $14,000 More

Oxford OKs New Budget

OXFORD—The Village Council last night agreed to spend some $14,000 more during 1964-65 than it paid out this fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

Council adopted a record budget of $157,257, which compares to this fiscal year's proposed expenditures of $143,251.

In addition to okaying the financial statement, the council also honored three of its former members, Allen E. Valentine, Wayne Converse and Lionel (Mike) Kamm.

Although the new budget is higher, the 20-mill tax levy okayed last year will remain in effect. The rate is now at Oxford's charter limit.

AREA NEWS

★ ★ ★

Increases in revenue from higher assessed valuation and additional state funds permitted the increased budget.

"One significant expenditure in the budget is a raise in city employes' pay," Village Manager Michael Kilgore said.

Spendings for several of the village departments are upped next year, including the police department from $36,606 to $40,476 and the fire department from $14,977 to $16,460.

In the public works category, the expenditures are increased from $34,463 to $39,026.

★ ★ ★

Kilgore said one of the main public works programs will be a street resurfacing project covering about 2¼ miles of roadway in the southwest portion of the village.

STREET REPAVING

Included in the work will be repaving of Hovey, Moyers, Park, Dennison and Pontiac streets.

Also called for in the 1964-65 financial plans are the addition of 29 new street lights in the downtown area and six lamps on residential corners.

Another significant expenditures is $3,000 toward purchase of a new fire truck, which the council hopes to pay cash for in 1965.

★ ★ ★

A $1,200 allotment will complete payments on the village hall mortgage this next year.

WORK FINISHED

Anticipated spendings in the water department were reduced from $23,475 to $20,649 in 1964-65. Kilgore said reason for the cut was that water tower maintenance work has been completed.

"It's a sound budget and very workable," he said. "With it, we will be placing before the citizens things they'll be able to see."

He said a tree stump removal program, additional fire-fighting equipment and funds for firemen's training classes are also included in the new budget.

★ ★ ★

After adopting the financial plan, council discussed methods of acquiring a new clerk to replace Mrs. Patricia Tyrrell, whose resignation is effective Friday.

CITED FOR SERVICE—Oxford's Village President Edmund Unger (left) honored former President Allen E. Valentine for work of the "highest integrity" at last night's council meeting. Sharing the pleasure of the occasion was Mrs. Valentine. Her husband was given a formal citation and a plaque with a president's gavel mounted on it. Also awarded citations for their work in the past years were former Councilmen Wayne Converse and Lionel (Mike) Kamm.

Limits Put on Streets in Romeo

ROMEO — Persistence has paid off for residents in the Sisson Street area.

★ ★ ★

The Village Council passed an ordinance prohibiting commercial vehicles over 5,000 pounds from traveling on Sisson between W. St. Clair and Benjamin, and on other neighboring streets.

★ ★ ★

Council's action was the third step in a program to please area home owners. For several years the neighborhood residents have argued Sisson is too narrow to handle big trucks without endangering the lives of youngsters.

Remedial action began in October, when the council took a first step to appease the upset citizens. Council members reduced the speed limit to 15 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

The village fathers were prodded into enforcing the speed cut when a score of neighbors set up law chairs and wooded sawhorses in the road and dared truck drivers to pass.

MATERIALS PLANT

Majority of the heavy vehicles using the road travel to or from the Romeo Building Materials Co. which has a plant on Sisson.

★ ★ ★

Second deterrent step taken by the council was in November, when it passed a general nuisance ordinance.

Residents presented a series of complaints against the company, saying it produced hazards to public health and safety.

★ ★ ★

Under terms of the ordinance controls were placed on heat, light, vibration, glare, air pollution, soot, and ashes and litter.

But residents continued to press for a weight limit on the street.

★ ★ ★

At Monday's meeting of the council they were granted one.

PACK DRUGS FOR PROJECT—Members of the International Affairs Department of the Rochester Junior Woman's Club place drugs in cartons for delivery to a warehouse in Detroit, home of World Medical Relief, Inc. Getting ready for yesterday's bimonthly delivery were (from left) Mrs. E. Thomas Sturner, department chairman, and members Mrs. Edward A. Mullin, Mrs. Carl A. Olin and Mrs. James E. Foley.

World's Poor, Sick Aided by Volunteer Drug Program

ROCHESTER — Early one morning, every other month, several cars leave Rochester loaded with sample drugs donated by local physicians.

Drivers and passengers are members of the International Affairs Department of the Rochester Junior Woman's Club and the Rochester Woman's Club.

Destination is a crowded, ancient warehouse in the heart of Detroit, the home of World Medical Relief, Inc.

These women do more than simply deliver drugs to this nonprofit organization, founded in 1953 by Mrs. Lester G. Auberlin when she and her husband answered a plea for help from a Korean orphanage.

★ ★ ★

When they enter the building, passing the now-familiar sign, "Our Work Is Dedicated to the Service of God's Sick Poor," they will spend a hard but rewarding day of volunteer service.

LARGE AMOUNTS

Drugs, medical and surgical supplies, office and operating equipment accumulate here in large amounts.

It is the job of volunteers like the Rochester Juniors to sort and label, repair, recopip and paint, package and crate these life-saving materials.

Volunteer chemists and registered pharmacists provide supervision.

★ ★ ★

Special care is taken to remove all outdated or recalled (harmful) drugs. These are destroyed with Federal Food and Drug Administration supervision.

The scope of this around-the-world operation is hard to believe until one visits the warehouse at 479 W. Columbia.

Heart-touching requests for supplies with such origins as Africa, Borneo, Central and South America, Korea, Pakistan, Hong Kong and India fill clipboards in "Mrs. A's office.

Seventeen hundred tons of supplies, valued at over $63 million have been sent to 86 countries.

★ ★ ★

Getting to know Mrs. Auberlin and her small but enthusiastic staff is one of the greatest rewards for volunteers, many of them retired persons, some with specialized medical backgrounds.

FAITH INSPIRES

Her inspiring faith that "God will find a way to help us," has seen WMR through countless financial crises.

The necessary economy of the operation shows all around the warehouse.

Pliofilm bags, labeled "Canadian bacon" donated by a meat company are filled with drugs.

★ ★ ★

Coffin boxes are "broken down" to be reassembled as packing crates. Shipments are made to medical missionaries by the armed forces.

SEEKS FUNDS

At present, Mrs. Auberlin is actively seeking funds which will enable WMR to move to a larger, more modern building.

Extra room will mean that more volunteers can be put to work to speed drugs and supplies on their life-saving way.

The Rochester Juniors were able to contribute $130 and over 240 volunteer hours this year to help "Mrs. A" with her never-ending person-to-person mission.

★ ★ ★

Initial contact with WMR was made when the Juniors donated syringes used at their first Polio Clinic in April, 1959.

Volunteer service was begun four years ago when Mrs. Joseph A. Watson Jr. was International Affairs chairman and has been continued by the present chairman, Mrs. E. Thomas Sturner.

Confab Set at MSU on Law Policy

Ways in which police and community leaders can work together for the common good will be explored in a Michigan State University conference May 17-22.

★ ★ ★

More than 170 have already registered for this 10th annual National Institute on Police and Community Relations at the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education.

A host of top speakers will base their talks on the general institute theme, "Achieving Ordered Liberty and Justice for All."

Presenting the keynote address Sunday evening will be Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

★ ★ ★

General sessions will consider such topics as the implications of population trends for urban communities, a rationale for racial demonstrations and challenges in contemporary law enforcement.

TEAM DISCUSSIONS

In addition, participants will divide into teams to discuss police - press relations, the police role in labor - management disputes, the nature of prejudice and other special problems and projects.

The institute is sponsored by the MSU School of Police Administration and Public Safety with the cooperation of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and with the endorsement of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, Michigan Department of Corrections, Michigan Sheriffs Association and National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

Weed Session Set in Shelby Township

Home owners and farmers in the Utica, Romeo and Rochester area will be able to learn how to clean out their ponds or lakes by going to Switzer Elementary School in Shelby Township May 20.

★ ★ ★

"Aquatic Weeds and Their Control" is the topic to be discussed by specialists in the field, according to Macomb County Extension Agent Jack Prescott.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting is sponsored by the Macomb County Cooperative Extension Service.

Educators Set Area Session

MILFORD — "A Complete Year Completed" will be the theme of tomorrow's 5 p.m. meeting of the Michigan Education Association's Region 7 Council at Milford High School.

Region President, Charles H. Lemke, principal of Bloomfield Conant Elementary School, said operating rules for the Metropolitan Action Committee (MAC), would be a major item on the agenda.

MAC, made up of educators in Wayne, Oakland, St. Clair and Macomb counties, has been formed to coordinate action on urban education problems.

The June 8 Oakland County community college election and amendments to the council bylaws will be other important business items.

The meeting is expected to attract some 125 Oakland County educators. Donald Glese is the MEA field representative to the area.

Ex-Chief Returns in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — Arthur T. Graham has returned to the fire department as its chief.

Graham's appointment was announced yesterday afternoon by City Manager Frank C. Derby, who revealed the veteran fire fighter had been serving as chief on a tentative basis for a week.

"We wanted to see how it would work out first," Derby said.

Graham, 47, of 1560 Ladd heads 20 volunteers in a department now undergoing reorganization.

★ ★ ★

He was a volunteer and chief for more than 10 years before resigning about a year ago because of his work, Derby said.

NEAR HALL

The manager noted Graham works at a service station only half a block from the fire hall.

"He'll be available at all times," Derby said. "We'll have 24-hour coverage."

Walled Lake's Volunteer Firefighters Association resigned last week, taking about nine volunteers with it.

The move was made in protest to the way the department was being reorganized under Police-Fire Chief James A. Decker.

18 MORE MEN

With four of the volunteers remaining, the city enlisted 18 more men qualified to varying degrees to fight fires.

The association quit May 5.

"On the next morning we had 14 volunteers who were not in this association," Derby said. "These present volunteers have from two to 20 years experience. Of the 22 men, 12 have had from five to 20 years experience in our system of fighting fires."

★ ★ ★

The manager noted he would like to keep a complement of 24 men ready for emergencies.

NINE QUALIFIED

"We now have nine qualified fire fighters who are available day or night," Derby said.

The department now consists of 20 volunteers and two full-time men.

Decker will be in charge of the two full-time men at the station—Graham will head the volunteers.

★ ★ ★

"The police department will do police work and the fire department is going to do fire work," Derby said.

Pastor to Talk About Living

DAVISBURG — An Abundant Life Campaign conducted by Dr. Henry H. Savage, pastor emeritus of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac, will begin tonight at the First Baptist Church of Davisburg.

Tonight's 7:30 p.m. service will be the first of four.

Dr. Savage also will speak at the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. worship services Sunday.

Pastor of the Pontiac church for 38 years, Dr. Savage has traveled to Bible conferences throughout the country since his retirement from the active pastorate.

Lake Orion Church Scene of Wedding

LAKE ORION — St. Joseph Catholic Church was the setting Saturday noon for the wedding of Emily Louise Bass and Thomas Harry Brown.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fred Gibb, 704 Buena Vista, and the late Norman James Bass. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, 120 N. Shadbolt.

For the ceremony the bride chose a floor - length gown of white silk taffeta featuring a decolette neckline trimmed with Alencon lace and full skirt ending in a chapel sweep.

An Alencon lace pillbox with pearl accents held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white butterfly roses, Stephanotis and ivy.

Start Abortion Trial in Oakland Court

The nonjury trial of two men charged with abortion began yesterday before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt.

The men are Melvin O. Springer, 45, of 447 E. Montcalm, former manager of a Pontiac store, and ex-car dealer from Flint, Kenneth Redwitz, 41.

★ ★ ★

Redwitz was arrested in an elaborate police trap at a Waterford Township motel in May 1963, and Springer was arrested later the same day. They waived their rights to a jury trial.

★ ★ ★

State Police accuse Springer of acting as local contact man for Redwitz, who they say performed abortions here and as far away as Colorado.

City Kindergarten Registration Schedule

Registration of Pontiac children for fall kindergarten sessions will begin today and continue through the first week of June.

★ ★ ★

Although registraton will be open again in the fall, parents are urged to register their children now.

Any youngster who will be 5 years old on or before Dec. 1 may be registered at the nearest elementary school, said Gerald E. White, director of elementary education.

Two schools — Whitfield and Whittier — have already held their registrations.

Another two schools — Bailey and Wisner — were to hold their registrations today. Most schools plan to register their new pupils the first week of June.

SCHOOL DATES

On May 26, Cottage Street Elementary School will hold its roundup, while on May 27 McCarroll School will register new students from 9-11 a.m. and 12-3:30 p.m.

Central Elementary School will operate between 9-11:30 a.m. and 12:15-2:30 p.m. on May 28, while Alcott, McConnell and Wilson Schools will register kindergarten youngsters during the school day on May 29.

On June 1, Bethune School will sign up its new students.

★ ★ ★

Also, on June 2 Bagley, Emerson, Franklin, Hawthorne, LeBaron, Twain and Willis Schools will enroll their new pupils.

FOUR SCHOOLS

Four Schools — Baldwin, Crofoot, Malkim and Owen — have set June 3 as their registration day. LeBaron School, since only afternoon registration will be held on June 2, will also hold morning registration on June 3. Webster School will split its registration time also, allowing it in the morning on June 4 and in the afternoon on June 5.

★ ★ ★

Other schools registering on June 4 are Herrington, Irving, and Longfellow.

★ ★ ★

Registration at Wever School is slated for June 5, while at Rogers School it is scheduled for June 10.

Cityhood Backed for Royal Oak Twp.

Royal Oak Township has moved a step closer to having an election on whether to incorporate as a home rule city.

The County Board of Supervisors' boundaries committee recommended board approval of the proposed township election.

No election date was included in the recommendation.

In making its recommendation the committee went against the recommendation of County Corporation Counsel Robert Allen.

★ ★ ★

He suggested that no action be taken because of a legal question regarding petitions for the election.

AREA IS SPLIT

The township's supervisors, Edward Kennedy claimed that the petitions were illegal because the described area for incorporation as the City of Medgar Evers is split by Oak Park.

According to Kennedy a city cannot be split in this fashion, but must be one contiguous area.

Part of the township is at 10 Mile and Greenfield, completely removed from the major portion along Base Line, on either side of Wyoming.

★ ★ ★

The two separated areas are what was left when the rest of the township incorporated as the City of Oak Park several years ago.

LAW NOT CLEAR

Allen said state law is not clear on whether two separate areas can be incorporated as one city.

He wanted the committee to wait for legislative action or a court decision to settle the issue.

He admitted that a court decision is likely to be forthcoming now anyway.

★ ★ ★

Allen said he expected the county will be sued if it proceeds to set an election date in Royal Oak Township as recommended by the committee.

UNCERTAIN POINT

"I would rather see the county sued for failing to act where the law is unclear than for proceeding from a point of uncertainty," he said.

Leash Law Crackdown Nabs Town's Mayor

KELSO, Wash. (AP)—The reddest face in town belongs to Mayor Don Talley.

Talley, who is also a state senator, is the latest person to violate the city's leash law which requires dogs to be tied from April 1 to Aug. 31. He posted $10 bail.

More than 50 persons have been cited since April 1.

Union to Open Its Talks With Detroit Schools

DETROIT (UPI) — Negotiations open tomorrow between Detroit Public School Superintendent Samuel M. Brownell, and the Detroit Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO union.

★ ★ ★

The union won the right to bargain collectively for the city's 10,000 teachers in a special election Monday.

The DFT defeated the rival teacher organization, the Detroit Education Association.

In Thursday's meeting with Brownell, the teachers will be represented by Mrs. Mary Ellen Riodan, president of the DFT, and Helen Bowers, executive secretary of the union.

★

They will discuss formal arrangements for further bargaining between the school system and an 11-member team to be appointed by the DFT.

Hospital Week Marks Medical Advancement

This is Hospital Week.

The area's superb therapeutic institutions stand as monuments to the progress of medical treatment and advanced care for the ailing.

It is interesting to note that of the drugs used today to cure everything from a sore throat to a heart infection, 80 per cent were unknown only 15 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Although to some extent automation has come into hospitals and a wealth of new equipment and technology been introduced, caring for the sick is still predominantly a service function.

In 1952, it took 205 employes to care for every 100 hospital patients. Today, it takes 246 to care for the same number. Approximately 62 per cent of hospital income goes for salary and wages.

★ ★ ★

Highlighting the week devoted to hospital recognition is a program of events planned for local facilities:

- On Friday, Pontiac General Hospital will stage a full-scale mock disaster drill, with some 800 volunteers and employes participating.
- St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will offer a weekend exhibition, with displays delineating careers in nursing, pharmacy, physical and occupational therapy, laboratory and X-ray technology and medical records.
- At Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, open house after 3 p.m. will be held every afternoon.
- A health fair on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Pontiac Northern High School is being sponsored by the Professional Committee for Cooperative Community Service in Pontiac in conjunction with the Oakland County Medical Society.

During the week, various employe teas and award ceremonies will be held at the several institutions.

★ ★ ★

The PRESS renders a laudatory salute to our fine hospitals, their efficient and dedicated staffs and personnel and the medical profession that so effectively employs the facilities offered.

Disregard to Imperiled a Growing Attitude?

It is to be wondered whether the deepening materialism of the age, as noted by many sociologists, is drying up the well of human kindness and mutual protectiveness among mankind.

Several shocking incidents, of recent occurrence, might indicate it. Three of them took place in the East, the other closer to home.

★ ★ ★

Recently a crowd of 40 stood apathetically at the entrance of a Bronx office building paying no heed to the screams for help from a young woman pursued to the threshold by her rapist. Fortunately, a patrolman appeared in time to rescue her from further harm.

About the same time, 50 persons watched as two 9-year-old boys drowned at Atlantic City. One man was attempting to save them but his lone efforts were unavailing. His desperate calls for assistance were ignored by the onlookers.

Last March, New York police said at least 38 neighbors peered out apartment windows offering no assistance as another young woman was stabbed to death in a prolonged attack.

★ ★ ★

In a comparatively minor hotel fire in Detroit a short time ago, two guests are in critical condition because bystanders indifferently withheld aid, which at no risk to themselves, could have rescued the victims.

The degree of humanity evidenced by the spectators in these four grim episodes closely parallels that of the ancient Romans who found diversion in the Colosseum watching Christian martyrs being devoured by lions.

Such callousness and inhumanity on the part of Americans, long celebrated for their spirit of dauntlessness and succor toward the imperiled, is indeed revolting. Let us hope that these displays of it are not symbolic of a new spirit of America.

As Threat Eases, NATO Quivers

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — NATO, born in peril quivers in comfort.

The foreign ministers of the 15 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meet at The Hague today to discuss their problems, of which they have plenty, and mostly of their own doing.

They have splits just at a time when—because the Soviet Union is occupied by its split with Red China — they might be solidifying themselves for the future.

MARLOW

But NATO has had an uneasy history: fright created it and, when it wasn't tormented by problems from the outside, it manufactured them from the inside.

Scared by the fear of Soviet power—after the Communists took over Czechoslovakia—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxemburg formed an alliance for mutual defense. They wanted the United States in, too.

That was in March, 1948, three months before Stalin tried to grab Berlin with a blockade. It took the United States a year to smash the blockade with an airlift. By then this country had decided to cast its lot with Europe.

MARVELOUS UMBRELLA

NATO was formed April 4, 1949. The United States had a marvelous protective umbrella over Western Europe then because it alone had the atomic bomb.

This meant the Allies' ground troops could hold off a Soviet attack, if it came, until American planes went to work with the bombs.

This kind of thinking had to be altered, for by August 1953 the United States and the Soviet Union both had nuclear bombs. But ground troops were still needed.

★ ★ ★

It was agreed NATO would have 50 divisions for defense. But the United States was the only member which ever lived up fully to its commitments.

A FORCE FOR DISUNITY

Even in these early years, although he was then in retirement, Gen. Charles de Gaulle was a force for disunity. He complained the identity of French troops would be lost in the combined armies of NATO.

NATO suffered an internal convulsion in 1956 when Britain and France, without telling its partners, invaded Egypt. The Russians jolted the West, but good, by warning they would hit Birtain with missiles, although no one was sure the Soviet Union, had missiles then.

The United States turned on Britain and France, told them to quit in Egypt. They did.

On May 31, 1958, de Gaulle returned to power as premier and within a month began dismantling the unity of NATO by telling the United States France would make its own nuclear weapons.

Then he had a new idea: that the United States, Britain and France should be the bosses of NATO. The idea was a "directorate." The United States wouldn't buy it, saying this would mean less participation for the smaller countries.

Meanwhile, two other NATO partners have developed bitterness toward each other, Greece and Turkey, over the fighting in Cyprus.

It is against this background that the foreign ministers meet, consumed with their own splits at the very moment when the Communist world is split.

Making Like Viet Nam

David Lawrence Says:

Firms Need Rights Act of Own

WASHINGTON—Citizens may begin to wonder whether there is any protection for the civil rights of those employers who undergo severe financial losses because of the arbitrary acts of persons engaging in wildcat strikes or walkouts.

LAWRENCE

★ ★ ★

Within the last few days, unions have had to call on their members to obey a federal court order which prohibits wildcat strikes that have arisen in some railroads over the terms of an arbitration award.

★ ★ ★

Also, there are wildcat strikes on construction projects in different parts of the country.

And in the nation's capital a group of printers caused suspension for four days of the normal editions of the Washington Evening and Sunday Star, resulting in losses not only to the owners but to the merchants of the city who depend to a large extent upon day-to-day advertising for their sales.

The Constitution forbids Congress to pass any law that would abridge the freedom of the press but it does not prevent a labor union organization or its members from accomplishing virtually the same purpose.

★ ★ ★

The fact that a walkout occurs without the authorization of the national union and in violation of a contract, as happened in the case of the printers here, and that an effort publicly was made by the union officers to persuade the workers to go back to their jobs, does not erase the loss.

IS THERE REMEDY?

Is there a remedy under existing laws?

The right to strike is recognized in the National Labor Relations Act.

Redress, however, can be sought when individuals conspire with each other and engage in a walkout.

★ ★ ★

In the Washington case, the walkout by the employes was not sanctioned by the national union.

UNION RESPONSIBLE

But the statute makes is possible to hold the labor union itself responsible nevertheless for breaches of contract.

What happened in the current instance was that the foreman of the composing room discharged a shop chairman of the printers union for allegedly violating the rules of the company.

The contract between all Washington newspapers and the printers union provides that such disputes must be submitted to arbitration.

★ ★ ★

The union argued that the employe should first be reinstated without prejudice, and it was the publisher's refusal to do this which led other employes to walk off the job.

When the strike was finally settled, with the issues to be submitted to arbitration if necessary, the shop chairman was reinstated as demanded by the strikers but with the loss to him of one day's wages.

But who will pay the employer's financial losses incurred?

This question has arisen many times before, and customarily when a strike is settled there is a tendency to let bygones be bygones.

This has led to the impression that wildcat strikes are never going to be punished, and that hence no risk is taken by those who start them.

Whatever penalty there is thus remains on the side of the employer whose property is damaged.

The civil rights controversy has properly emphasized individual rights where there are discriminations due to race or color or religion.

But there are many other forms of discrimination which have not yet been covered by law.

★ ★ ★

One of them appears to be that exercise of arbitrary power by a conspiracy of individual citizens to tie up a plant or a factory or a railroad without themselves undergoing any substantial penalty.

Bob Considine Says:

Crime Coverage Change Sought by Top Lawyer

OMAHA — Walter E. Craig, president of the American Bar Association, told Midwest members of the association gathered here, exactly how he would like to see crime stories covered by the U. S. press, radio, TV.

CONSIDINE

"The fact that a crime has been committed is news," he conceded.

"But who did it, and how, should not be disclosed until the person charged with the crime has had his case presented to the court.

"All that the news media should cover prior to the trial is a description of the crime and notice that a person is being held in connection with it.

"Further details should not be covered until the trial is in session.

"When this is not the case, we have the unfair situation of a pretrial trial by the news media.

"When that's the case, it's difficult to find prospective jurors who aren't aware of the crime and have opinions.

"This is an area that needs more study by both the news media and legal profession."

Republican Nebraska has a big, rawbone, free-swinging Democrat for its governor, Frank Morrison.

But he's not too much like the prototypes of his party, when the chips are down.

Here's what the Republican Omaha World Herald had to say about Big Frank editorially:

"Governor Morrison was at his best in encouraging and counseling Nebraskans who were victims of the tornadoes.

"His words at Wolbach, the town hardest hit, brought a standing ovation, and the sympathy he expressed when his helicopter sat down at various farmsteads struck a responsive note everywhere.

"The governor might easily have promised the tornado victims that he would storm Washington for federal aid, but this he did not do.

"Instead, he made it abundantly plain that the job of digging out and rebuilding is primarily that of the Nebraskans affected.

"He told the townspeople and farmers that he was not promising a government handout, but he pledged himself to work with them."

'Kennedy Family Skipped Daughter's Wedding, Too'

In a recent Monday column The Press jeered Queen Juliana for not attending her daughter's wedding.

Do you know how many of our "royal" family attended Kathleen Kennedy's marriage to a Protestant? Did Mother Rose, Father Joe, or any of her numerous brothers and sisters? I think Joe Jr. was the only one of the so-called close family who did join his sister on her most important day.

Let's Be Fair

(Editor's Note: If the Kennedy clan snubbed the wedding as you relate, we toss them into the Monday jeer box with all haste and dispatch. Thanks, pal.)

Comments on Conflict at Walled Lake

I have subscribed to The Press for 20 years and have always enjoyed it. I have lived in Walled Lake for 50 years.

The conflict between city council, manager, fire department and the police department is the laughing stock of the whole county. It seems our police chief, Albert Decker, is in complete control of all departments.

Let him stick to the police department and control the work he is hired for and let the other departments perform their own duties. Let's clean up the whole city and go back to being a "one horse" town if it will get rid of some of the politicians.

Says Lord Left Only Two Ordinances

As I attend church more and read letters in the VOP, I am amazed to find how little people know about our Saviour. Our Lord left two ordinances: water baptismal and communion. He is at the right hand of God making intercessions for the believers. Read your Bible, meditate on God's word, pray and approach it with an open mind.

Disagrees With Editorial on Negro Vote

Congratulations on another distorted Republican editorial. The amazing thing about the Negro support of the Democratic party has been that the vote was not 90 per cent. The Press refers to a Republican president who emancipated Negroes. Lincoln was not an abolitionist. He issued the proclamation to hurt the South economically during the war; the only Negroes emancipated were in states in rebellion.

★ ★ ★

The significant move came when Truman ended discrimination in the armed forces. The only thing creditable to Eisenhower was that he enforced a decision of a bipartisan Supreme Court. Negro voters will also take note of those Indiana Republicans who crossed party lines to cast their vote for Gov. Wallace. And The Press neatly neglected to mention John Kennedy who drafted the comprehensive civil rights bill.

Gives Reason for Not Attending PTA

Letter writer G. Spangler appeared concerned because of the lack of support for the Elmwood PTA. I don't attend because at the first PTA meeting we were told not to discuss our children with the teachers at any PTA Meeting. If we wanted to know how our children were progressing we were to go to the school between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. I'm employed from 8:15 a.m. to 5 p.m. and it's impossible for me to visit the teachers at the hours specified.

PTA has many functions beyond this but it seems the children should be number one. Those of us who are unable to visit school during the day would like to depend on PTA as our link between the school and our children.

'Trying to Bankrupt Waterford Citizens'

It appears an attempt is being made to bankrupt Waterford Township taxpayers. The librarian is to get a salary increase even before the library (which the voters didn't want) is built. A crash program is in process to lay the mains for a "city-type" water system. The reported "tie-in" charge and estimated yearly cost appear excessive. And we are to have a new fleet of police cars of a kind that does not have a dealer in the township.

Next these public servants will probably condemn our wells so we'll have to connect with the water system, and then vote to put in a sewer system which will further add to expenses.

The Danville (Va.) Commercial Appeal

Running into debt isn't so bad. It's running into creditors that hurts.

Administrator Doing His Job

The Port Huron Times Herald

The chancellor of Oakland University was precisely right when he fired the editor of the student newspaper.

★ ★ ★

The editor's complaint that the chancellor was perpetrating a breach of editorial freedom is not valid. It is typical of the immaturity which brought about the whole business.

★ ★ ★

The controversy stemmed from a survey of sex habits conducted among students at the university. The chancellor, D. B. Varner, says that faculty members and parents appealed to him because they were upset about the questionnaires used in the survey. He learned, too, that some of the answers were being faked to make a colorful story. He ordered the survey discontinued.

★ ★ ★

Wolf Metzger, the 20-year-old editor, complied. Then he wrote a news article on the chancellor's order. He termed the action censorship.

Mr. Varner brought the matter to an abrupt end by ordering printed copies containing the story destroyed, about 1,500 of them. Then he had the type from which it was printed destroyed, ruled Metzger out of a job and permanently barred him from working on any of the university's publications.

★ ★ ★

This was not censorship. It was not a show of force against the freedom of an independent press. It was strong and just action of an administrator doing his job.

★ ★ ★

A student publication is not a private entity, divorced from the institution it serves. It is a training ground, a loosely connected part of the curriculum. It is a place where budding journalists can learn something of the responsibility that goes with the job.

★ ★ ★

A mature sense of responsibility would have told Mr. Metzger that the survey business is complex, even when it is in the hands of experts. It would be highly questionable at best. At worst it would be unvarnished sensationalism.

It would have warned him of the danger, not only that he might do wholesale harm to reputations, but that he might leave his publication open to just criticism.

Mr. Varner is to be commended for careful supervision of the students under his charge. Anything less would have been dereliction of duty.

But Accent's on Youth

Congressman, 25, Not Against Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William J. Green, D - Pa., the youngest member of Congress, believes in an accent on youth in America's legislative halls. But he hopes that age will not prove a barrier to any qualified older man.

★ ★ ★

Green, administered the oath of office Tuesday by Speaker John W. McCormack, is 25 — just making the constitutional requirement on age.

"Of course I like seeing other young men take office, too," he told a newsman. "But I don't want to see age used against any other man."

★ ★ ★

Tall, lithe and handsome, Green succeeded his late father, Rep. William J. Green Jr., who served for years as Philadelphia Democratic chairman.

ELECTION VICTOR

Young Bill, victor in a special election April 28, will fill his father's unexpired term, running again for a full two-year term in November.

About 100 of Green's relatives and friends were on hand for the swearing-in ceremony. They included former Pennsylvania Gov. David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh Mayor Joseph M. Barr, Philadelphia Democratic Chairman Francis R. Smith and a host of other political figures in addition to Green's mother and five brothers and sisters.

★ ★ ★

Does his youth mark him as man of little experience: Not so, says Green. Throughout his school and college years he helped his father in campaigning, beginning by helping distribute literature when he was 6.

"My 10-year-old brother Patrick helped me out in this campaign the same way I did with my father," said Green.

CONGRESS FRIENDS

He said that he had become acquainted with most of the members of Congress during the almost 20 years that his father served on Capitol Hill.

Green said he has no particular choice for a committee assignment.

★ ★ ★

"It is not my prerogative to make a choice," he said. "And anyway, I can get only one of the vacancies that now exist."

Elected at so young an age, does he have any other ambitions politically? Say senator? Governor: Or even president?

BEST PROCEDURE

"I believe the best procedure is to do a good job where you are," he said. "And that means to serve the people in your district."

Green, who is a senior in Villanova University's Law School, will marry Miss Patricia Anne Kirk in Philadelphia, June 13.

★ ★ ★

With his new career in Congress beginning, he is uncertain about when he will be able to take his law degree, but he hopes to be able to get in some swimming and sailing at the Green family summer home at Longport, N.J.

STRUGGLE FOR LIFE — Rescuers work to revive 19-month-old Cynthia Ann McDowell in Salt Lake City yesterday. The girl fell into her grandmother's swimming pool and was pulled out by the woman bending over her, Mrs. Jess H. Bjorkman, a neighbor. The girl was reported better today but still critical.

Demand for oil in the non-Communist world outside the United States reached a record 12.6 million barrels daily in 1963. This is a one million barrel increase over 1962.

Aviatrix Finishes Flight Using Route of Earhart

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — "This is a helluva way to lose weight."

With these words, Joan Merriam of Long Beach, Calif., wrote the end to a chapter of aviation history that began 27 years ago when aviatrix Amelia Earhart disappeared in the Pacific in her attempt to be the first woman to circle the globe by air.

Miss Merriam, 27, landed safely at Oakland International Airport yesterday after a trouble - plagued 27,750-mile solo flight that traced most of the origianl route charted by Miss Earhart in 1927.

The mechanical difficulties that troubled her twin - engine Piper Apache along most of the globe - circling flight remained to endanger her until she landed at 9:12 a.m. PDT (11:12 a.m. Pontiac time.)

★ ★ ★

One of the red and white plane's engines began running rough while she was still 250 miles off the California coast, and she required a Coast Guard plane escort into Oakland.

SHE LAUGHED

"I thought I'd never see Oakland again," she laughed as she stepped down from her plane to the congratulations of some 400 people.

A congratulatory wire from Najeeb E. Halaby, Federal Aviation Agency administrator, said her feat "places you in the forefront of those brave Americans whose names are immortalized in the world book of aviation achievements.

"The fact you deliberately chose one of the more difficult routes to circumnavigate the earth makes your accomplishment even more worthy."

The weary but smiling Miss Merriam had this advice for anyone considering duplicating her feat:

"Buy a ticket!"

Rights Unit to Get Aide

DETROIT (UPI) — Arthur L. Johnson will resign July 1 as executive secretary of the Detroit branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to become deputy director of the new Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

Johnson has held his NAACP post since 1950. He is 38.

★ ★ ★

His appointment as second man on the Civil Rights commission was announced by Burton I. Gordin, director, and by two unpaid cochairmen, John Feikens and Damon Keith.

Johnson's new post pays $13,500 a year.

Detroit Crime in April Under 1963 Level

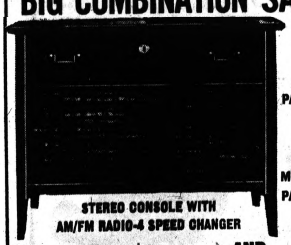

DETROIT (UPI) — For the first time since last November, total crimes in Detroit during April declined from the same month a year ago.

The figures show a 14.8 per cent drop. However, police said that for the first four months of the year, total crime was up 7.8 per cent compared with the corresponding period of 1963. Most of that stemmed from a big increase of 34 per cent during February.

Crimes during April totaled 7,926 compared with 9,302 in April of 1963. The biggest drop was in homicides, which showed a 27.3 per cent drop.

Other crime categories where reductions were recorded were rape, assaults, burglary and larceny. Auto thefts increased and so did robberies.

CHEDDI JAGAN

British Guiana Shuns Racism

Giving Less Backing to Marxist Leader

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — In the old days, "Apaan jhat" was a sort of political open sesame for Cheddi Jagan.

"What's your race?" it was the rallying cry of darkly handsome Jagan as he wooed—and won—British Guiana's East Indian voters on his way to the top of the colony's political heap.

But that was in 1953. Today's British Guianese don't seem to be reacting any longer to the vacant magic of "Apaan jhat."

Ten years ago when Jagan summoned sugar workers to a strike, the response was total. The call to another strike last January, however, drew results variously estimated at less than 50 per cent effective.

AT LOW POINT

The partial effectiveness of this walkout is regarded as solid evidence that the controversial Marxist prime minister has reached a low point of popularity in his stormy political career. It is also being taken as an early sign of a probable shift of emphasis away from racial bias as a factor in local politics.

Then, as now, the sugar strike summons was purely political. But the grimmer objective this time is Jagan's political survival.

★ ★ ★

His leadership is threatened by a new formula that will determine legislative representation in direct proportion to votes obtained in the forthcoming November elections.

Although his People's Progressive party won only 42.7 per cent of the 1961 election votes, it was given a clear majority of the 35 Assembly seats under the old system. It was felt this did not fairly reflect the fact that Jagan's opposition won 57.3 per cent of the vote and should therefore have received a majority of the seats.

NEW FORMULA

The British Colonial Office devised the new formula, hopeful it would neutralize Jagan and create political stable conditions regarded as a requisite to future independence.

Anxious for the colony's freedom, but not at the price of losing leadership, Jagan's party is attempting to block the November election.

The three-month-old strike by the predominantly Indian union is believed to be a part of the Progressive Party's strategy to obstruct voter registration. It touched off a still unchecked wave of bombings, shooting and fights between East Indians and Negroes that has claimed at least 13 lives.

The significant aspect of the labor front developments is Jagan's failure to muster massive support in a sector dominated by East Indians. This is regarded important, because of the racial—rather than political or ideological—nature of the British Guiana crisis.

RACE STRESSED

Although Progressive party leadership and policy are considered unquestionably Marxist-oriented, the predominantly Indian party has stressed race in its rank and file relations. As a result, signs of fissures—small but significant — have sprouted within the ranks, where a tiny Moslem party and an anti-Communist Hindu faction have emerged.

The more affluent Indian classes have been estranged from Jagan for some time.

IN POWERFUL POST — Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., moves up to the chairmanship of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, with the death yesterday of Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo.

Men Seize Power Firm in Hillsdale

HILLSDALE (AP) — After overnight investigation, police said today they had no leads to the 15 masked men who seized a city power plant Tuesday.

Three employes said the men, wearing stocking hoods over their faces, demanded they be shown the switch to the struck Essex Wire Corp. plant. The men left after a few minutes when told there was none, employes said.

* * *

City manager Orville Meyer declined to identify the employes. He said he feared there might be retaliation against them. He did not elaborate.

A tense condition has existed in the Essex Wire strike, now 2½ months old.

FIST FIGHT

Last week a group of plant workers and members of the striking International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) were reported to have engaged in a fight in Pulaski, south of Hillsdale.

The IUE pulled out its 180 production workers Feb. 28 in a dispute over an initial contract with the company.

* * *

The invasion of the power plant took place about 1 a.m. Tuesday but was not disclosed until hours later at a City Hall meeting. Mayor C. Audrey Paul met with Meyer, police and others.

The three power plant employes were unharmed.

* * *

Meyer said if a power switch had been pulled virtually all Hillsdale's electricity could have been shut off. He said homes, hospitals and utilities would have been affected.

Yale Unit Initiates 1st Negro Member

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Skull and Bones, Yale University's oldest and most prestigious senior secret society, has its first Negro member.

Orde Musgrave Coombs of St. Vincet, West Indies, was initiated into the society Tuesday night.

* * *

Levi Jackson, Yale's first Negro football captain, was tapped for Skull and Bones in 1949 but rejected the invitation.

Skull and Bones picks 15 juniors, usually leading athletes or scholars, each year for membership.

* * *

"I feel quite honored," said Coombs. "I think it will be a highly valuable experience."

Wreath Left by Mikoyan

MOSCOW (AP) —Anastas I. Mikoyan, first deputy premier of the Soviet Union, paused today en route to Japan to lay a wreath at a Siberian cemetery for Japanese prisoners of World War II.

* * *

The Soviet news agency Tass reported that Mikoyan's party also visited "a monument to civil war heroes executed by the interventionists and the White Guards in 1918-1920."

Tass didn't elaborate.

Several countries intervened on behalf of the czar's White Russian forces against the Bolsheviks in the Khabarovsk area. One of them was Japan.

Abandonment of UP Line in Question

State Rail Fight in U.S. Court

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—U.S. District Court here was a sounding board today for a Michigan call to preserve railroad carferry and freight service for much of the state.

Judge Noel P. Fox presided over Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's suit for an injunction to force continued operations of the ferry, Chief Wawatam, beyond May 24 at the Straits of Mackinac. Mackinac Transportation Co. operates the ferry.

* * *

Kelley called the lawsuit "an important first step in our fight to keep the railroads running in our state."

He said "It is our view that continuance of this ferry service is a key element in our fight to prevent abandonment of hundreds of miles of Michigan's railroads."

REPAIR DEADLINE

The Coast Guard set May 24 as deadline for boiler repairs to be made on the Wawatam or stop its service.

Gov. George W. Romney entered the picture Tuesday with telegrams to President Johnson and the Coast Guard in Washington asking a deadline extension of six months.

* * *

The Wawatam links Michigan's peninsulas by serving as a railroad freight crossing of the straits between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace.

Its operators claim repairs would be too costly and have petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the service.

GROUPS OPPOSE

The attorney general represents the Michigan Public Service Commission and civic groups who oppose the petition.

Two previous requests to extend the vessel's operating certificate were rejected.

* * *

"If abandonment of this service is permitted," Romney's telegrams said, "Michigan's entire Upper Peninsula and much of northern Michigan will suffer economic loss. Michigan's humane and economic needs demand continuation of this service."

* * *

Three railroads—the Pennsylvania, New York Central and the Detroit & Mackinac — seek ICC permission to abandon some 343 miles of northern Michigan track if the carferry quits. They claim they would suffer financially without the straits link.

HEARING DATE

The ICC has set July 6 for a hearing at Cheboygan on all the petitions.

Mackinac Transportation Co. is operated jointly by the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Soo Line railroads.

CORE Chapter Head Incorporates His Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leader of the Washington chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) says he has incorporated the chapter, in effect pulling it out of the national body.

Julius Hobson revealed the move last night, after he was reelected without opposition. If the move is contested, Hobson said, he will take the entire local group into ACT, the newly formed committee of civil rights militants.

Teamsters Froth Over Beer Break

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The "beer break" is a secondary issue at stake in a contract dispute between California beer distributors and the Teamsters Union.

Bottlers in the warehouses now get a 15-minute beer break in the morning and again in the afternoon — and drivers who are out on the road all day can have "all the cold beer they can drink in half an hour after their run."

An industry spokesman said yesterday that "some of the wives have complained their husbands come home half-gassed at times, so we propose instead that we give them a six-pack each per week."

In place of the beer breaks, the employers propose the traditional coffee break.

The Teamsters have said they do not plan to strike over the issue.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Proper Conditioning Required by Tennis

Tennis, anyone?

Whether you answer yes or no should depend on your general physical fitness.

BRANDSTADT

Tennis, you see, is a strenuous game.

If you are over 40 there is no reason why you should not still enjoy this game if you take pains to build up your fitness by ob- serving a few basic principles.

Like handball and badminton, tennis is a game in which sudden bursts of energy accompanied by quick movements are alternated with periods of rest.

For the improperly conditioned player these short spurts often result in sprained ankles, twisted knees, torn calf muscles, shoulder and wrist injuries and tennis elbow.

* * *

It is advisable, therefore, to spend six or eight weeks before the season in walking, skipping rope, and general calisthenics.

WARM UP FIRST

When you finally step out onto the court ready to go, you should spend 15 or 20 minutes in a leisurely warm-up volley.

Avoid joint injuries by perfecting the technique of following through on each stroke and leave the violent cuts and smashes to the professionals.

Learn to let the out-of-reach shots go.

In other words don't try to be a hero at the expense of your heart and your joints.

PLAYING GAME

Remember, you are playing a game, not winning a war.

In this regard it is always better for your peace of mind, your health and your wallet not to bet on the outcome.

You're supposed to be having fun — not trying to make a place on the Olympic team.

At 40, it's better to be slightly seedy than seeded.

AVOID HAZARDS

As with all summer sports, sunburn and heat exhaustion are hazards to be avoided.

It is better to play a little every day than to save it up and play several hours on the weekend.

If you can't play every day, it is doubly important to get your walk and your exercise on the days when you don't play.

The former King of Sweden was still playing at 70 but then he played every day, using indoor courts in bad weather.

STROLL AROUND

When you finish playing it is better to stroll around a bit than to sit down or lie on the grass.

* * *

Take a tip from the trainers of race horses in this respect. After the stroll, a shower or a short dip in the pool will be most refreshing.

* * *

And don't forget — when you get too old for tennis, there's always ping pong.

Two Daughters Show Their Differences With Candy

By WICK TEMPLE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — This is a story of two blondes—a lady and a scamp.

Both are blue-eyed, lovely and affectionate.

Both are mine.

Ellen is 4, Carol, 3. They have similar gentle facial features, and the same last name. But there the resemblance ends.

Ellen is a lady—soft, discreet, feminine. Carol is tough as a tomcat, loud, funny.

The competition between them is furious. Ellen has taken charge of placing on a chair at night the clothes both shall wear the next morning. Carol always disagrees.

Ellen dresses herself early, then tries to dress Carol, who would rather remain in unbuttoned pajamas.

Ellen tries to brush both heads of hair. Carol likes hers matted.

CANDY EATERS

But the big difference is in how they handle their most precious commodity—candy. Carol wolfs it. Ellen is a saver. She saves every piece until after her sister has finished. Then she enjoys it desperately.

Last month, Ellen launched the Big Tea Party Campaign. The idea was to save every piece of candy until she has enough to hold a tea party for the children in the neighborhood.

★ ★ ★

She began squirreling her candy in a medium-sized bag atop a cabinet. She saved zealously, denying herself and smiling while Carol ate her candy, then licked her fingers for emphasis.

After two weeks Ellen had enough for a small tea party. The arrangements were made. Ellen was beside herself with pride.

HUNT SISTER

Then the carefully guarded bag disappeared. Ellen ran from the house, wisely seeking her sister. She found a trail of candy wrappers and happy urchins devouring lollipops and gum drops.

At the end of the trail was Carol, with the empty bag.

★ ★ ★

It was difficult to spank Carol. After all, she was only doing with the candy what was intended. But her sister was heart-broken. The tears flowed.

A large bag of candy brought from the store consoled her, and that was when Ellen proved she is a lady.

★ ★ ★

She dumped the new treasure into a shopping bag. The candy barely covered the bottom of the giant sack.

"What about the tea party?" I asked.

"When I get the sack full," she said.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Laws May Not Be Answer

Will Civil Rights Legislation Work?

By LYLE C. WILSON

Realistic contemplation of the civil rights problem now lowering over the nation turns up a fact that should alarm all concerned, white and black, North and South.

That fact is that the problem of civil rights does not respond readily if at all to legislative solutions. For example, in New York City, the capital city of civil rights, there have been threats and achievements of shocking civil disorder.

In his "EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK" published in the Knight newspapers, John S. Knight well stated the situation, like this:

"The irony of such rabble-rousing (by civil rights leaders) is that New York has done more to protect negro job rights, assure open housing, provide equal accommodations and use buses to transport children from segregated neighborhoods than any other city in the country."

★ ★ ★

New York has plenty of law. Moreover, the elected public officials of New York City and state are dedicated civil rights politicians, some of them because they need the negro bloc vote. Both state and city have civil rights laws.

CLOSE PROBLEM

These are administered by sympathetic public servants. Until the problem of civil rights plopped into the job market or the house next door, it was assumed that a great majority of New Yorkers aggressively believed in all-out civil rights laws and their enforcement.

In this friendly legislative and administrative environment, New York negroes still feel themselves to be so deprived and put upon that they must undertake all sorts of angry means of self defense. And this is what makes for more alarm.

If self-imposed state and municipal civil rights legislation supported by a majority of whites will not do the job in the friendly New York environment, what chance is there that federal legislation will be able to accomplish more in a resentful, unfriendly South?

★ ★ ★

The bleak answer to that is, not much.

POLITICAL PRESSURE

And if federal legislation falls far short in the South of achieving its objectives, what then? Then, of course, will come the overwhelming political pressure of northern whites and negroes for the federal government to enforce in the South a federal law.

The South will be ridiculed and condemned and, perhaps, its cities invaded and occupied by federal troops or marshals.

And all of this will be applauded by Northerners whose own states and cities enact but scamp the enforcement of civil rights legislation. A chilling prospect. There is a chill for the north, too.

On April 27 the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) complained that state fair employment practices laws had failed to bring about any basic change in the status of Negro labor in Northern states.

NAACP spokesman was Herbert Hill, labor secretary of the association. He said state fair employment commissions had been timid, reluctant to act. He warned that these attitudes must change, and fast.

"This is now especially important," Hill added, "as it becomes clearer each passing day that the next great crisis in American race relations will be in the north."

That is fair warning to those naive citizens and politicking statesmen who assert that enactment of the pending civil rights bill will bring racial peace to the United States.

It may, but probably won't.

Pontiac City Affairs

Developer Gains, Loses on Projects

Charles L. Langs, the city's major urban renewal redeveloper, gained some ground on his proposed urban renewal shopping center project last night, but lost his battle for a cooperative housing project outside the renewal area.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission unanimously approved several items designed to aid the redevelopment of renewal land, but denied rezoning a site for Langs south of Bethune School.

Langs of Waterford Township had asked that a 15-acre parcel be rezoned to Residential-3.

He proposed to build a town house - type development, up to 175 units in size, on the site. His estimated cost of the project, fully developed, was $1.3 million.

★ ★ ★

Many residents in the area protested the development, which Langs planned to finance under the federal government's 221-D3 program.

LOWER PAYMENTS

The 221-D3 program allows for lower - than - normal monthly mortgage payments and is restricted to low and moderate-income families.

The City Planning Commission had recommended that the land be rezoned for Langs' project. At that time, however, there was little or no protest from nearby residents.

Following a public hearing on the ordinance to rezone the land, commissioners voted 7-0 to deny the zoning change.

They indicated their decision was based on the feeling that Langs already has his hands full redeveloping urban renewal sites, as well as on the protests from residents.

UNANIMOUS OK

However, commissioners unanimously okayed four resolutions directly affecting an urban renewal parcel on which Langs has proposed to build an A & P Supermarket and shopping center.

The land is bounded by Orchard Lake Avenue, South Saginaw and Perimeter Road.

One resolution approves the vacating of Chase, Dawson Alley, an alley east of and parallel to Perkins, portions of Orchard and Alfred courts and Whittemore.

★ ★ ★

The resolution had been up for approval a month ago, but was tabled for more study at the request of former commissioners.

Dawson Alley and Chase lie in the parcel where Langs plans his shopping center. Both had to be vacated before any construction could take place on the site.

In other resolutions, commissioners deemed it a necessity to condemn Traicoff's Coney Island Restaurant, 160 S. Saginaw, and hired the legal firm of Travis, Warren and Nayer, of Detroit, to handle the job for the city.

★ ★ ★

The same firm was hired to perform legal services for the city in the acquisition of properties in the R44 urban renewal project.

NEW CONTRACT

Under the new contract, legal services which are charged for on an hourly basis, are limited to a maximum of $2,500.

Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates said the action "doesn't necessarily mean we'll condemn the property.

"We will still make one more attempt to buy the land for the high appraisal price. If the owners won't sell, then we'll be ready to proceed with condemnation."

★ ★ ★

The parcel lies on the corner of Jackson and South Saginaw, and is within the area marked for Langs' shopping center development.

AWARD CONTRACT

In another move, commissioners formally awarded a $40,341 contract for site improvements (water and sewer mains) on and around the site to Anderson and Ruzzin Construction Co. of New Baltimore.

In other business, final approval was given an ordinance to rezone land at 456 Mount Clemens for construction of a 15-unit apartment building.

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital proposes to build the structure to house interns and resident doctors. It is estimated to cost about $400,000.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners also okayed the sale of part of Lot 1, Assessor's Plat 102, on the northeast corner of Columbia and Joslyn, to Max A. Maxim for $9,530.

THREE BIDDERS

Maxim was the highest of three bidders for the parcel.

Action was also taken to discontinue the Community Relations Bureau at City Hall, which had been established a year ago. Commissioners unanimously voted to dissolve the bureau in an attempt to cut expenses in the 1964 budget.

★ ★ ★

The commission concurred with planning commission recommendations to deny requests for commercial zoning of property on the northeast side of Oakland, Blaine to Gerdon, and the northwest corner of Walton and Giddings.

★ ★ ★

Action on the Oakland zoning came after Frank Fortino, attorney for the persons requesting the change, argued that any zoning other than commercial along Oakland was illogical.

Although they denied the commercial zoning, commissioners indicated they felt the area would eventually go commercial and that the present problem fell into the classification of a neighborhood squabble.

COMPROMISE

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. asked both sides to meet and see if they could come to a compromise agreement.

Commissioners also ordered ordinances prepared for introduction on the following zoning changes.

- A personal service zoning for residential properties on the north side of West Huron, Prall to Henderson.
- A Residential-1 zoning on six commercial lots between 228 and 248 W. Columbia.
- A Commercial zoning of residential land on the east side of Oakland, Lounsbury to Northview.

★ ★ ★

All three zoning changes had been recommended by the City Planning Commission.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners also granted tentative approval to a request from Leamon S. Hunt to transfer his wholesale beer licenses from 85-87 N. Cass to 70-76 N. Cass.

To Pick Board of Canvassers

Selection of a four-man board of canvassers will be made tomorrow night by the Pontiac School Board.

Under the new State Constitution, the school district must have a board of canvassers to canvass the vote at all school elections.

Two Democrats and two Republicans are expected to be selected.

In other business, recommendations on replacement of three retiring principals is expected from Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

★ ★ ★

Glenn Husted, Wilson School; Irene Albright, Baldwin School and Dan Abbott, Owen School, are due to retire at the end of the current school year.

WORKSHOP DETAILS

Details of a community resources workshop in Pontiac this summer will also be outlined by school officials. The workshop is to be jointly sponsored by the school district and Michigan State University.

The school board meets at 7:30 p.m. at 40 Patterson.

Educational television is being used to teach more than eight million students in 800 school systems and 400 institutions of higher learning.

Academic Freedom Asked by ACLU

A plea for academic freedom in public school classrooms was sounded last night in Pontiac by an American Civil Liberties Union spokesman.

★ ★ ★

Ernest Mazey, executive secretary of the Michigan ACLU, spoke at the annual banquet of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, Local 417, AFT, AFL-CIO.

Mazey called on all educators to "defend the rights of teachers to speak and work for the ideals in which they believe without overt pressures of censorship or subtle on-the-job pressures of administrators."

Retiring teachers were honored at the annual banquet. Among those attending were Mrs. Amy Carlson of LeBaron School, Mrs. Marjorie Cotterman of Longfellow School, Mrs. Florence Pappert of Mark Twain School and Miss Phila Brown also of LeBaron School.

★ ★ ★

Mazey said, "In this year of 1964, while we are involved in an important move for civil rights, the teachers who give themselves fully to this struggle and who offer a moral stance for others in the community to emulate, are often the victims of subtle pressure."

ACLU spokesman also cited attempts to censor books and films in Michigan.

Canada Eying Recognition of Red China

THE HAGUE (AP) — Canadian Foreign Minister Paul Martin has told the NATO allies that Canada may recognize Communist China next year, Canadian sources said today.

★ ★ ★

Martin reportedly made clear to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's foreign ministers that Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's government is not going to make any sudden, rash moves.

But the sources said Ottawa believes the realities of international politics require a new look at Canada's relations with Red China.

The Canadian government, along with the United States, recognizes the Chinese Nationalist regime on Formosa, which holds China's seat in the United Nations.

Tax Relief Bill for Industry Awaits Romney Signature

Originally opposed by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, a bill to grant tax relief to industry was on its way to Governor George Romney's desk today for his signature.

The bill would extempt tools, dies, jigs and fixtures from personal property taxes.

The measure passed the Senate yesterday. On a vote of 20-12, the Senate approved an amendment which would allow the state to reimburse local units of government for some of their tax losses through 1969.

The amendment is intended to make the bill more palatable to the county board and other units of local government that otherwise would suffer a greater tax loss.

Without the amendment, the board's equalization committee estimated that the bill would have cost some $600,000 in taxes this year in Oakland County.

Under present terms of the bill the full tax would be collected in 1965.

Local units would be reimbursed 100 per cent in 1966, 75 per cent in 1967, 50 per cent in 1968 and 25 per cent in 1969.

No reimbursements would be made in 1970 or thereafter.

Chairman of the county board, Delos Hamlin, was never opposed to the bill. He said that it would more than compensate any tax losses by encouraging new industry to locate here and elsewhere in the state.

Opponents of the bill called it favoritism to industry at the expense of home owners and small businessmen.

The bill was sought by Chrysler Corp., which said it would expand in other states than in Michigan if the tax was not lifted.

Tools, dies, jigs and fixtures would be defined by the State Tax Commission under the bill.

Plans for Employes Total $66 Million

CHICAGO (AP)— Assets of employee welfare and pension benefit plans in 1963 totaled some $66 billion, one of the largest concentrations of investment holdings in the United States.

By 1970, at the present rate of growth, assets of such plans will be around $100 billion, according to the reported based on a U.S. Labor Department study.

More than 22 million persons are covered by welfare and pension benefit plans, not counting family beneficiaries.

Death benefits are a feature of four-fifths of the plans and retirement for disability is covered in nearly three-fourths.

Americans consumed 16.06 pounds of coffee per capita in 1961.

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Wesleyan University, which has revised curricula to put more emphasis on individual research and study, is starting a voluntary reading program on a 2½-year trial basis.

Each of the university's academic departments — normally in alphabetical rotation — will select a book of the month.

Students will be encouraged to read and discus it, and there will be panel discussions of some books. Because this is an election year the History, Politics and Government Department is making the initial selection.

Teaching Is Satisfying Work

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

"Where are you going, dear?"

"Out."

"What are you going to do?"

For Mrs. Fred Crossman (Muriel) the answer was easy. She teaches school.

Although she graduated from college with teacher training courses, Muriel went into a business office until she was married.

Pontiac Press Photo

Mrs. Fred Crossman, Sylvan Lake, sometimes has papers to correct for her junior high school pupils. But she loves teaching and takes the out-of-school work in her stride. Mrs. Crossman is but one of many Pontiac area women who have gone into teaching when their children are beyond the toddler stage and in school themselves all day.

Her children, Bruce and Barbara, are now 13 and 11. When Barbara was in school all day, her mother started doing substitute work in the Pontiac schools.

LIKES JUNIOR HIGH

During five years of classroom work in both elementary and junior high schools, Muriel found she liked the junior high level better. So when a contract was offered her for this year, she accepted.

★ ★ ★

She teaches foods and English at Washington Jr. High School. Her training was in home economics and that is her favorite subject. She enjoys a boys' food club that she sponsors after school once a week.

★ ★ ★

Before Muriel became a full-time worker she was extremely active in many civic and club affairs. It's amazing how many of them she has continued to carry. She's a good manager of her time.

★ ★ ★

She has had to take courses at Oakland University to change her teaching certificate from provisional to regular and now must continue for 10 more credits to make the certificate permanent.

ACTIVE IN GROUPS

She has been active in PTA work ever since her children entered kindergarten. She has teachers' meetings each week. And she is a member of the Pontiac Association of University Women.

Every day is full. But that's the way she likes it. In the summer when the Crossman children are home, so is their mother. During the school year they too are busy.

★ ★ ★

Next year, three out of four members of the Crossman family will take off in the morning for Washington Jr. High School. The senior member of the trio has found her answer to women's choices in this confusing century.

Less Painful That Way

Make One Clean Break

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am involved with a married man. We love each other deeply and have for many years.

We know our relationship is wrong, but we have always been very discreet as I wouldn't hurt his family for the world.

ABBY

★ ★ ★

In the beginning we agreed not to disrupt his family, but now he has started to talk of divorcing his wife to marry me.

Abby, I can't let that happen. His wife recently had a change-of-life baby, and she couldn't manage without him.

He is financially unable to support two families. How can I make him see that he has to stick with his family without losing him completely?

He's the only man I have ever loved.

DISTRESSED

DEAR DISTRESSED: As long as you continue to see him, you are encouraging him to leave his family for you.

It is more painful to cut off a puppy's tail an inch at a time. End the relationship in one clean break.

It will be painful to both of you, but if you allow this affair to continue on any basis, two innocent families could suffer from your selfishness.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 years old and I dress like a lady, act like a lady and expect to be treated like one.

Recently, while shopping in a supermarket, I pulled my cart into the first aisle when one smart checker snapped his fingers at me and said, "Next aisle!"

There was no checker there, so I asked, "Where is the checker?"

He barked, "KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON!" The checker never did come, so I was ordered back in the first aisle.

As I was emptying my basket, he snapped his fingers at me again and said, "Tax items first, sister."

Then he started throwing my food around, so I said, "Don't throw that food—we have to eat it." He asked who I thought I was, and I told him I was a cash customer, that's who I was.

Then a man who looked like the manager walked by and said, "Hold down the noise, please, Miss."

Do you think I should let it go, or should I go to the higher authorities and demand an apology? This is a big chain store market.

DEMANDS RESPECT

★ ★ ★

DEAR DEMANDS: No. There must be another market in your neighborhood where the service is more civil and super than at this one. Try it.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I had a serious falling out four years ago over some lies she spread about me, and I haven't spoken to her since.

I just learned that she has an incurable disease and can't last more than a year. Her husband plans to keep it from her as long as possible.

Abby, I want to make up with her, and help to make her last months happier by doing what I can for her and her family.

I am afraid if I suddenly go to her and offer my friendship, she will suspect the truth about herself.

Yet, I don't want her to leave this world thinking I never forgave her. What should I do?

TORN

★ ★ ★

DEAR TORN: Go to her and offer her your friendship. It is not unusual for relatives to "bury the hatchet" during times of illness.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Pontiac Nurses Are Honored at Annual Tea

Nurses of Pontiac General Hospital were guests of the Women's Auxiliary to the Pontiac General Hospital, Inc. this afternoon.

Occasion was a Florence Nightingale Tea honoring nurses. Held during the hospital week observance, it is an annual event to express the appreciation of the community to the nursing staff of the hospital.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fritzi Stoddard and Vera Bassett were cochairmen of the affair.

They were assisted by Mrs. William Bedard, Mrs. Franklin Mills, Mrs. Forest R. Wood, Mrs. John Voorheis, Mrs. Alex Capsalis, Mrs. S. V. Sekles, Mrs. Ross Elliot and Mrs. Edward McNamara.

Madrigals Charm Members of Musicale

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

At yesterday's annual luncheon of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale, the Birmingham Madrigal Singers gave a charming and artistic performance.

Colorfully costumed and seated around the customary table, the twelve female voices sang three groups of songs which showed great accomplishment in the difficult and limited medium in which they sing.

★ ★ ★

Their director, Mary Jane Walker, has developed a nimble and facile style of presenting not only the songs but also the excellent introductory material which goes along with the selections.

MADRIGALS

The opening group of 16th to 18th century madrigals, "Now Is the Month of Maying" — (Morley), "Glorious Appollo" — (Webbe), and "Hark the Echoing Air" — (Purcell) displayed the true independence of the contrapuntal melodies and the fine blending of the four parts into a joyous whole.

Two modern songs, "May Magic" — (Stratton), and "Dancing Raindrops" — (Fercucci) were in lyric contrast to the first series.

Norton's "Mother Goose Suite," which followed, was a colorful and gently humorous collection of five familiar nursery rhyme characters set to music.

★ ★ ★

Seven folk songs closed the varied and musically challenging program of this fine choral group.

NEW PRESIDENT

Mrs. George Putnam, the Tuesday Musicale president for the past two years, turned the gavel over to the incoming president, Mrs. Victor Lindquist.

★ ★ ★

James Hicks, chairman of the Meadow Brook Music Festival, spoke briefly and inspiringly of the approaching concert series to be given by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at the new outdoor auditorium at Oakland University.

Mrs. Doeren Head of Soroptimist

The Soroptimist Club of Pontiac elected officers for 1964-5 at a dinner meeting Monday in the Mayfair Room of the Waldron Hotel.

★ ★ ★

Serving as president will be Mrs. Madeleine G. Doeren with Mrs. Bud Holznagle, vice president. Lucy S. Veler is recording secretary, Mrs. Richard Paschke, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Roy Maxwell, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Arnold Hillerman was elected delegate and Dr. Caryl M. Kulsavage, alternate.

The Northwest Region, Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, Inc. donated $7,500 for Alaskan relief to the Soroptimist Club of Anchorage.

The club will sponsor a benefit sale June 6 at Four Towns Methodist Church, Cooley Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

The installation dinner will be June 22 at Fox and Hounds Inn, Bloomfield Hills.

Garden Wedding

Bride Wears Nylon

Patricia Sharon Moore and John Peter Plautz were wed in a garden ceremony Monday at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Melvin McKenney on Warren Drive.

★ ★ ★

Daughter of the Edson Moores of Clarkston, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white nylon with lace overlay, worn with fitted lace jacket.

CARRIED MISSAL

White satin leaves caught the Cinderella-type scallops on the skirt and silk illusion fashioned her bouffant veil. White roses and orchids rested on her missal.

★ ★ ★

BEST MAN

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Michael Plautz of Lamont Street and the late Mr. Plautz, had David Doyon for best man. Robert Bartlebaugh was an usher.

After the midafternoon ceremony performed by Justice Martin Fitzgerald, the couple left for a honeymoon in Upper Michigan.

MRS. JOHN P. PLAUTZ

Attorney to Describe Dan Judd's Way West

James Renfrew, Royal Oak attorney, will be keynote speaker at the 90th annual dinner meeting of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society May 20 at Devon Gables.

His talk, "Dan Judd's Way West: Its Why and How," will be based on a collection of letters recently given to the society by Jean Judd Visgatis of Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

These letters, written to his wife who remained in Waterford Township, describe Judd's trip to Oregon and return in 1847 and 1848.

WISNER HOME

Celebrating Michigan Week not only with the dinner meeting, the society will keep the Moses Wisner home on Oakland Avenue open to visitors Sunday through Friday May 22 from 2 to 5 p.m.

The home of Michigan's former governor and organizer of the 22nd Michigan Civil War Infantry has been restored by the society and houses the manuscripts, library and museum collections of the society.

★ ★ ★

Committee chairmen working on the affair include Mrs. Allan Monroe, Mrs. Richard Balmer and Mrs. Donald E. Adams.

Also working on preparations are the Senior Trail Blazer Troop 280 of the Girl Scouts with Mrs. Clifford Neville, adviser and Mrs. Kenneth Carman, assistant adviser.

HOSPITALITY

Board of directors members who will serve on the hospitality committee include Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, Mrs. Harry F. Going, Miss Emma Howard, Adah Shelly, John Linabury, J. S. Sibley and William Whitfield.

Others are Mrs. James W. Huttenlocher, Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, Alice Serrell, Mrs. Earl A. Mastick, Carleton Patterson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Selden and Mrs. John E. Windiate.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Marion Hodges Benter of Iroquois Road is handling reservations for the dinner. Anyone interested in the history of the community is welcome to attend.

Stork in New York

Rev. and Mrs. Lewis W. Towler of Chelsea Square New York City announce the birth of their third daughter, Leela W. Towler May 9.

A former curate at All Saints Episcopal Church, Rev. Mr. Towler is a fellow and tutor at the General Theological Seminary, New York while studying for his doctorate.

Next Wednesday

OU Women's Conference

"Woman's Choices in This Confusing Century," the conference for women at Oakland University, will open at 9:30 a.m. next Wednesday. Registration and a coffee hour will start at 8:30 a.m.

This conference is a sequel to the 1963 one where "Woman's Role in This Confusing Century" was explored.

This year the day-long speeches and discussion groups will endeavor to help women decide on their future plans.

EDUCATION

Advisors will be on hand to explain possibilities for further education in southeastern Michigan colleges.

Others will help women find their niche in the volunteer world.

Opportunities for part and full-time employment will also be discussed.

★ ★ ★

Keynote speakers include Dr. Gertrude Z. Gass of Merrill Palmer Institute and Dr. Robert O. Blood Jr. from the University of Michigan.

BETTY FRIEDAN

At noon Betty Friedan, author of "The Feminine Mystique," will be heard in a dialogue over direct telephone line from New York City. The audience will be able to ask her questions.

Participants can attend two afternoon discussion sessions.

Women who are not interested in any activities outside their home will have a chance for discussion with Miriam Kelley, assistant extension director, Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Priscilla Jackson is coordinating the conference. Reservations may be made with the division of continuing education at Oakland University. The $6 fee includes luncheon.

Installation at Meeting

Mrs. Roger Locher will speak before installing officers at this evening's 7:30 p.m. meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Covert Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

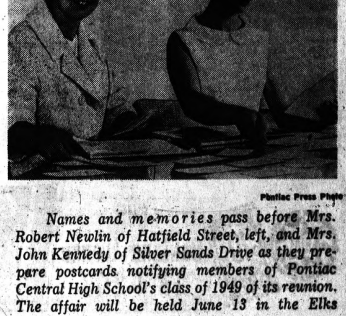

Mrs. Locher is district secretary of spiritual life of the Flint district of Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Class Reunion Set for June

Friday has been set as the deadline for reservations to the June 13th reunion of Pontiac Central High School's class of 1949 to be held in the Elks Temple.

A place can be reserved by members of the January, June and summer school graduating classes.

Edward Avadenka and Robert Newlin are cochairmen of the reunion and Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy are in charge of tickets and reservations.

Names and memories pass before Mrs. Robert Newlin of Hatfield Street, left, and Mrs. John Kennedy of Silver Sands Drive as they prepare postcards notifying members of Pontiac Central High School's class of 1949 of its reunion. The affair will be held June 13 in the Elks Temple.

Resuscitation Procedures to Be Viewed

Sgt. Donald Kratt of the Oakland County Sheriff Department will be guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Waterford Township Jaycee Auxiliary.

★ ★ ★

Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation procedures will be demonstrated at the Nancywood Court home of Mrs. David Packard.

Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Whitney Carnahan will share cohostess honors as new officers are elected.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Raymond Freebury is in charge of a project to purchase needed supplies for the Oakland County Medical Care Facilities building.

On Thursday, several Jaycettes will give permanents to girls at the Oakland Children's Center.

★ ★ ★

Two sets of the Christopher Sex Education records for parents have been purchased by the Jaycettes and donated to the Waterford Library in the CAI building.

★ ★ ★

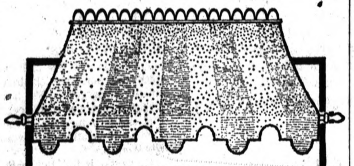

Today will find Jaycettes at the home of Mrs. Ralph Radford on Strathdon Way. A birthday party is planned for one of the Pontiac State Hospital boys whom the Jaycettes sponsor.

★ ★ ★

Some 20 couples attended the state Jaycees convention this past weekend in Kalamazoo where seven state awards were won by the Waterford Jaycees.

"Dear Eunice Farmer:

"When I stitch corners they always look lumpy, or else they pull out and I have loose threads. There must be a way to get a finished look." Mrs. M. F. P.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. M. F. P.:

The secret to a nice flat corner that will look lumpy is to trip it at an angle very close to the stitching, and then trim back slightly at each side of the corner.

Of course, this cannot be done successfully without pulling loose at the corners unless the corners have been properly stitched.

After you have machine stitched the corners and they are accurate, stitch them a second time. This second stitching should be made with a very small machine stitch and you begin one half inch from the corner, stitch to the corner, take one stitch diagonally, and then continue to stitch one half inch past the corner.

This stitching will be directly over the first stitching and will reinforce enough to prevent the corners coming loose. Try it; it works perfectly!

★ ★ ★

I have been beseiged by requests to repeat this information. You can turn your old shoes into something new, special and different and at the same time give new zip and flavor to last summer's dresses.

You can cover your shoes with a print or solid colored fabric to match or complement your ensembles. Any fabric can be used, including organza, silks, satins, cottons, brocades and velvet.

Your choice is unlimited. My teen-age girls love them too! See if you don't get rave reactions too! Your first attempt might be more successful if you use a lightweight fabric.

If you haven't any old shoes, don't forget the possibility of rummage sales for an extra pair. Be sure to notice the size and shape of the heels, get the kind that are currently in style.

You may cover leather, suede, patent leather, or fabric. If you are covering them in a lighter colored fabric than the shoes, or if the fabric is very sheer, use a layer of silk organza under your fabric for a lining, treating the two layers together as one.

1. Cut the fabric on the bias. First cut the section for the toe, beginning at each side seam on your shoes. Always allow a little extra on ALL edges.

2. Millinery-type glue is advisable because you can wipe off any excess without fear of the glue spotting the fabric. Spread lightly on the section you will be working on. Place the fabric on this section, stretching as you work to avoid wrinkles.

3. With a nail file, carefully push the fabric into the seam at the edges of the soles. Don't trim the excess edges at this time.

4. Be sure to let each section dry thoroughly before beginning another. After the front half is finished, fit another bias piece for the back half, turning over a very small fold to finish the raw edges where the seams join.

5. Before covering the heels, carefully pull up the leather that finishes the inside of the heels. After you have covered the heels (don't forget to tuck in the edges at the top of the heels) and the glue is dry, glue the piece of leather in place again. This will cover the raw edges of your fabric.

6. After the shoe is thoroughly dry, carefully trim the excess fabric from around the edges of the sole with a sharp razor blade.

7. The last step is to turn under about one-half inch at the throat of the shoes and glue in place.

Junior Editors Quiz on ELEPHANTS

QUESTION: Why do some elephants have ivory tusks when others do not?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The elephant has unusual equipment to help him survive. His huge size and inch-thick skin protect him from other animals; he has a fabulous trunk with which he can pull up trees, squirt water down his throat, or use for smelling or fighting.

As if these features were not enough, his two upper teeth have evolved into long curved tusks. These are very useful for grubbing into soft ground and digging up tender roots, of which he is very fond.

Elephants are either of the African or Indian type. Both male and female African elephants have tusks—but the tusks of the male are larger, up to 11 feet.

Since an elephant uses his tusks in fighting, the male's longer tusks are important to help him protect his family. The female uses her tusks for food gathering. All elephant tusks are made of ivory.

Male Indian elephants also have long tusks, although not so big as the African kind. These animals must be able to confront such an enemy as the tiger.

But the female Indian elephant often has no tusks at all. Since circus elephants are generally Indian females, few of these are seen with tusks.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Put a peanut, still in its shell, on the table. Now reach down and touch it with your nose. Try to pick it up with your nose. Of course you can't! Yet an elephant could pick up that peanut with his nose! There are bumps on the end which can close around things almost like fingers.

Court Act Saved State 17 Years of Legal Woes

By AL SANDNER

LANSING (AP) — Foresight by the Michigan Supreme Court 17 years ago is saving the state serious headaches today.

As a result of a Supreme Court rule in 1947 virtually any defendant in a Michigan court who wanted it has been supplied with an attorney, whether he could afford one or not.

★ ★ ★

This has not been the case in every state — and some apparently are sweating out the aftermath of a U.S. Supreme Court decision which says it should have been.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. court last year reversed an earlier stand and said the federal constitution guarantees legal counsel to every defendant who wants it. It also stipulates that every defendant must be advised of his right to counsel.

An appeal by an inmate of the Florida State Prison resulted in the high court ruling and reportedly unleashed a flood of appeals in that state.

In Michigan, one man has won his freedom, one has had his case sent back to lower court for review and, says Solicitor General Robert Derengoski, about a dozen appeals have been filed.

★ ★ ★

In his opinion on the appeal before the Michigan court, Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh said:

"The argument that in applying (this decision) retroactively we would be opening the jailhouse doors would not be applicable in Michigan. Only the years 1942-47 would be involved."

OLD RULING

For five years, Michigan went along with a 1942 U.S. Supreme Court ruling which said state courts only had to supply counsel to poor defendants when a capital crime was involved or when failure to do so would constitute "a denial of fundamental fairness shocking to the universal sense of justice."

Edward Palmer was sentenced to life imprisonment from Macomb County Circuit Court for first degree murder in 1942.

A check of court records showed that Palmer, then an escapee from the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson, waived examination, pleaded guilty and was sentenced in about a four - hour span, the high court said. But, the court added, there was no evidence that he had been advised of his constitutional right.

His retrial is pending in Macomb County Court.

Stanley Marsh, convicted of first degree murder in Branch County Circuit Court in 1936, was ordered released by U.S. District Court because there was a question of legal counsel, said Lloyd Fay, of the State Corrections Department.

The other appeals "may or may not be well founded," said Derengoski. Proving or disproving their claims may be difficult, he added, "since in some cases — the old ones — the court transcripts are not available."

N. Y. Church May Get Part of Astor Estate

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Vincent Astor has "expressed her intention" to give part of the Astor Ferncliff estate in Rhinebeck, N.Y., to the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York, says a spokesman for Francis Cardinal Spellman.

The Renaissance style home on the estate, designed by Stanford White, was built in 1903.

Georgian City Voters OK 1st Urban Renewal

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Voters in this northeast Georgia city reacted to President Johnson's visit here last week during his campaign against poverty with a 2-1 endorsement of the city's first urban renewal project.

By a vote of 1,667 to 818 they approved Tuesday the sale of $85,000 in bonds to begin a $5-million project that will encompass 144 acres.

Study Groups Named

LANSING (AP)—Interim legislative committees to study property taxes, juvenile problems and the operation of vending stands by blind persons were appointed Tuesday in the House. The committees will function during the summer recess, to report on their findings to the 1965 legislature.

Ulbricht Urges Ties With West Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, Communist leader of East Germany, has withdrawn opposition to West Germany having closer relations with Communist countries in East Europe.

Ulbricht and Hungarian Communist leader Janos Kadar put their names to a communique, published today, approving efforts to develop normal diplomatic relations "in the spirit of coexistence" between Bonn and the Soviet Bloc states.

The only Communist country which West Germany has diplomatic relations is the Soviet Union.

Ulbricht returned to East Berlin yesterday after a six-day visit to Hungary.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in his visit, he criticized the exchange of trade missions between Hungary and West Germany. He complained that Hungary and other Communist states had included West Berlin — which East Germany claims — in their trade pacts with the Bonn Republic.

GOOD RELATIONS

Kadar, however, declared he wanted to build up good relations with capitalist countries including West Germany.

His view prevailed in the communique, which said establishment of diplomatic relations between the Communist countries and West Germany would promote peace. It added:

"In this connection the government of the (East) German Democratic Republic welcomes the establishment of official economic relations between the Hungarian People's Republic and the West German Federal Republic as a step in this direction."

Apparently to console Ulbricht, the communique also contained an attack on what were called "the dangerous imperialist and militaristic ambitions" of Bonn.

Ulbricht also got renewed support for his demand for an all-German Peace Treaty and the transformation of West Berlin into a neutral free city.

Heading Sports Staff

HOUGHTON (AP) — Thomas W. Greenhoe has been appointed director of sports information at Michigan Technological University, replacing Rene Adams, who resigned. A native of Grand Rapids, Greenhoe will join the staff later this month. He has served as sports information director at West Texas State University for the past year.

Presidential Campaigning—No. 3

Baby-Kissing Is Becoming Thing of Past

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third dispatch by the national reporter of United Press International on the technique of presidential campaigning.)

★ ★ ★

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children will be glad to learn that politicians gradually are coming around to the viewpoint that baby-kissing is over-rated as a means of winning votes.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, who has traveled almost as much as Gulliver, recently took a new look at his hand.

He decided to buy $75,000 worth of time from the Columbia Broadcasting System in an attempt to reach more people by television in 30 minutes than he could by three months of shaking hands and kissing babies.

There is hardly a supermarket in any populous state that has not echoed to Nelson Rockefeller's cheerful "Hiya, fella, glad to see you."

★ ★ ★

But the political polls indicate that this has not improved his position in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

LOVE'EM, LEAVE'EM

American voters seem to have a perverse way of smiling and shaking hands with a candidate and then going away to vote for somebody else.

The signs that hand-shaking and baby-kissing are over-rated have been plain to read for years, but old habits and traditions die hard for politicians.

Currently Henry Cabot Lodge, who prefers to face the terrorists in South Viet Nam rather than the American electorate, is doing all right by doing nothing.

★ ★ ★

The classic example of a presidential aspirant who wasted his time and energy on too much travel is the late Estes Kefauver.

PERMANENTLY SWOLLEN

In 1956 he stormed back and forth across the country. His right hand was permanently raw and swollen from shaking hands. No crowd was too small to bring forth a Kefauver speech.

He won some primaries, a considerable popular following and lost the presidential nomination to Adlai Stevenson.

The professionals were against him, and all Kefauver got out of his weary travels was the vice presidential spot on a losing ticket against Eisenhower and Nixon.

Television both frightens and fascinates presidential candidates.

BIG RISK

It is a risky roll of the dice for them and, conceivably, you can lose or win it all in a half hour.

The question of whether President Johnson will debate his Republican opponent this year is currently one of the choice items of gossip and speculation in Washington and thereby hangs a strange tale.

Both the Senate and House have passed a bill to suspend the "equal time" provision for television appearances of presidential candidates.

★ ★ ★

What that means is that the networks would not have to give equal time to all the candidates of the small, fringe parties but could discharge their obligations by providing facilities for a debate or discussion between the Republican and Democratic standard-bearers.

MINOR DIFFERENCES

There are minor differences between the Senate and House bills which probably could be resolved in 15 minutes once the conferees got together.

When is that going to happen?

That is the question that the Republicans have been asking for weeks, but they are unable to get an answer from Rep. Oren Harris of Arkansas, chairman of the House Commerce Committee which has control of the bill.

Harris, of course, is a Democrat and he says he cannot act until he hears from "interested parties," which spells L-y-n-d-o-n J-o-h-n-s-o-n.

★ ★ ★

The President apparently has not decided whether he wants to engage in a TV debate, and may not do so until he learns the identity of the Republican candidate.

EATING CAKE

So at the moment he is having his cake and eating it, too, and will continue to do so as long as Harris keeps control of the bill.

After John F. Kennedy was elected president he was asked whether he thought he could have won if there had been no television debates with Richard M. Nixon. He replied, "I don't think so."

Historians agree, and they think that the first of the series of debates between the two men was the one that did in Nixon.

It occurred on the night of Sept. 26, 1960, and was broadcast from Chicago.

ON THE AIR

Theodore H. White recalls in "The Making of the President" that an announcer delivered commercials for Chesterfield cigarettes and Maybelline mascara and then informed the TV audience that the Andy Griffith show would not be shown at its regular time.

Then Kennedy and Nixon were on the air.

". . . The contrast of the two faces was astounding," White wrote.

"Normally and in private Kennedy, under tension, flutters his hands, adjusts his necktie, slaps his knee, strokes his face. Tonight he was calm and nerveless in appearance.

ALMOST FRIGHTENED

"The vice president, by contrast, was tense, almost frightened, at turns glowering and occasionally haggard looking to the point of sickness.

"Probably no picture in American politics tells a better story of crisis and episode than that famous shot of the camera on the vice president as he half slouched, his 'Lazy Shave' powder faintly streaked with sweat, his eyes exaggerated hollows of blackness, his jaw, jowls and face drooping with strain."

Apparently what either man had to say did not change anyone's vote.

It was the picture on the screen that made votes for Kennedy and lost them for Nixon.

Television taketh away, but it also giveth, and Nixon can console himself by remembering how TV saved him in 1952 when he was under attack for some political contributions.

★ ★

He went on the air with Mrs. Nixon and a dog named Checkers and in less than half an hour all his troubles were over.

Seeks Impeachment of Philippine Leader

MANILA (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Arturo M. Tolentino of the opposition Nacionalista party has filed a petition for the impeachment of President Diosdado Macapagal.

★ ★ ★

The petition, filed yesterday with the House of Representatives, charged Macapagal with violations of the constitution and the antigraft law.

WHY MORE TRAINING?

The Job Guide, published by the U.S. Dept. of Labor, gives this answer: "You should weigh carefully the long run advantages offered by jobs you are considering against immediate gains. You should be aware of the great importance of education as a general and specific asset. Technical or professional training received after leaving high school will give you definite advantage in seeking and finding a job. When advancement opportunities occur, preference is generally given to persons with superior educational qualifications — other things being equal."

Chinese Ask Geneva Parley

Plan Is Suggested in Case Laos Worsens

TOKYO (AP)—Red China asked Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler today to consider a new Geneva conference on Laos if the situation there continues to deteriorate.

★ ★ ★

Foreign Minister Chen Yi made the request in a letter to the Russian and British ministers because their governments were cochairmen of the 1962 Geneva meeting that established a coalition in Laos.

Chen Yi charged that Neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma is still being held "under duress" in Vientiane by the rightwing military group that seized control of the capital April 19. He said any change in the original coalition agreement "is absolutely intolerable."

Chen Yi charged that the April coup was engineered by the United States "in support of its plan of extending the aggressive war in southern Viet Nam."

★ ★ ★

The Chinese government, he continued, holds the only way to resolve the present tension is to "stop the criminal activities of the U.S. and the Savannakhet (right-wing) clique," dissolve the coup d'etat group and punish the leaders, resume talks between the neutralist, rightwing and pro-Communist factions, and neutralize Vientiane and the royal capital of Luang Prabang.

★ ★ ★

He added that if all this is impossible, the Chinese government asks serious consideration of Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk's proposal to reconvene the Geneva Conference to discuss the ways to eliminate the tension in Laos and Indochina.

State Records Burn in St. Joseph Office

ST. JOSEPH (UPI) — Fire yesterday burned out the State Highway Department field office here.

The fire, which started about half an hour after the office employes left work for the day, broke through the roof before firemen arrived. The office was on the second floor of the Ireland and Lester building.

★ ★ ★

Frank Gleason, district highway engineer in charge of the local office, said the loss included office property and highway department records. He said he could not put a value on them.

★ ★ ★

Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. Firemen brought the flames under control in 15 minutes.

Law Officer Sues Detroit Newspaper

DETROIT (AP) — A $1 million damage suit was brought by policeman Theodore Spicher against the Detroit Courier, a weekly newspaper, Tuesday.

Spicher, 28, charged the paper damaged his reputation in its accounts of his fatal street shooting of Cynthia Scott, 24, Aug. 3, 1963. Spicher said he shot Miss Scott, who had a record as a prostitute, when she slashed him with a knife. Superiors exonerated him.

Report Red Satellite Frees Prisoners

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Romania's Communist regime is reported to have freed between 1,000 and 2,000 political prisoners in what diplomatic sources believe is an effort to improve the climate for trade expansion talks with the United States, which open in Washington May 18.

Romania openly opposes Soviet control of its economy and is eager to develop trade with the West.

LONDON (AP)—The British government has decided against taking repressive measures at present against pirate radio ships broadcasting commercial and pop records from just outside the three-mile limit.

Postmaster General Reginald Bevins told Conservative members of Parliament Tuesday night the radio ships Caroline and Atlanta would be watched to see that they do not infringe on internationally agreed emergency wave lengths.

The British Broadcasting Corporation has a monopoly on broadcasting in Britain and commercials are banned.

SUMMIT MEETING

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman said today Malaysia will not retreat from its demand that all Indonesian guerrillas withdraw from Malaysia before a second summit meeting is held with Indonesia and the Philippines.

Rahman said Indonesian President Sukarno also would have to agree publicly to acknowledge and accept withdrawal of the troops.

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Edomite fort on the western shore of the Dead Sea that was conquered by King David's warriors nearly 3,000 years ago has been unearthed by an American-backed archeological expedition.

Dr. Yohanan Aharoni led the expedition, sponsored by the American Institute of Holy Land Studies and the Israeli government's Antiquities Department.

STEEL CUTTER

LONDON (AP)—Britain's lifeboat men are to try out a 44-foot steel cutter from the U.S. Coast Guard.

★ ★ ★

The Royal National Lifeboat Institution, announcing the trials, said today: "Britain has always led the world in lifeboat design and construction but we are neither too proud nor too shortsighted to learn from others when they make a significant advance."

3,000-Year-Old Fort Unearthed in Israel

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Edomite fort on the Western shore of the Dead Sea that was conquered by King David's warriors nearly 3,000 years ago has been unearthed by an American - backed archeological expedition.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Yohanan Aharoni, who led the expedition, said the walls of the fort consisted of wooden beams wedged between layers of stones and were essentially preserved.

Maryland City May Have 2nd Summer of Race Strife

(EDITOR'S NOTE — A new public housing project has been authorized in Cambridge, Md. a public accommodations law has been passed. Schools are integrated. Why, then, racial demonstrations in Cambridge? Here is an analysis by a reporter who has covered the disorders here for the past two years).

By STEPHENS BROENING

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — "We marched up and down the streets all last summer and what did we get? Nothing.'"

Paradoxically, the speaker Stanley Branche added, "You have to march. You're not going to get anything at the conference table."

Branche, leader of the militant Committee for Freedom Now of Chester, Pa., addressed 500 integrationists in the Negro Elks Hall Monday night.

A few minutes later, civil rights demonstrators headed toward the white section of Cambridge, where Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama addressed an overflow crowd of 1,500 white persons.

It may have been the start of a second summer of discord in Cambridge. The Maryland National Guard was twice called to Cambridge to quell racial violence last summer; the troops stayed here the second time.

The state Negro aims are better housing, complete school integration, public accommodations legislation, and better job opportunities.

The Cambridge Housing Authority has signed a contract with the federal government for 150 units of public housing in the Negro district. Groundbreaking is about seven months away.

Maryland's General Assembly passed a statewide public accommodations bill but it probably will be petitioned to referendum. Thus it wouldn't go into effect unless approved by the voters in the November election.

As for the schools, the Dorchester County School Board last year speeded its grade-by-grade integration program and opened the four remaining grades to all pupils.

But for better job opportunities there must be employers — and in this commodity Cambridge has been critically short.

Unemployment was high enough in 1961 to qualify Cambridge for federal designation as an economically distressed area. An industrial development committee, formed in 1957, has attracted 13 new industries with employment for 1,000 workers, but the federal designation still applies.

Racial discord has brought the industrial development committee to a standstill.

The Rev. Allan Whatley, chairman of the Cambridge Human Relations Committee says extremists, both black and white, "killed the goose that laid the golden egg."

The demonstration Monday night, and a second one Tuesday night were to protest the speech of Gov. Wallace, militant segregationist who is campaigning in Maryland's democratic presidential primary on

Now race relations in Cambridge are worse than before.

Payments by oil companies to Middle Eastern governments in 1963 reached a record $1.78 billion.

This Idea Is All Wet

Mr. President . . . Blub, Blub

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Last weekend the grand old institution of matrimony was further sanctified by a couple who got married under water.

WEST

I assume that getting hitched while submerged requires some revision of the marriage vows. You promise to love, honor and cherish "until death do us part—or until one of us has to come up for air."

It occurred to me that if President Johnson heard about this he might borrow the idea for—

On second thought, I guess it wouldn't be practical to hold a news conference under water.

★ ★ ★

It does appear, however, that the President keeps on the lookout for new ways of holding news conferences.

SMASHING SUCCESS

From all accounts, his latest innovation, the family style news conference, was a smashing success.

The family plan, under which reporters bring their spouses and offspring to a news conference, opens up all sorts of interesting possibilities.

Take the matter of getting recognized by the President.

★ ★ ★

At present, White House correspondents vie for his attention by leaping out of their chairs and calling "Mr. President!" Some observers consider this practice undignified, and I agree.

USE CHILDREN

I hope that having their families with them will cause them to adopt a more decorous means of catching the President's eye. Perhaps they should let their children signal for them.

That procedure would have certain drawbacks, however.

When a small boy raises his hand, it doesn't necessarily mean that he wants to ask a question.

★ ★ ★

There is also a possibility that the leaping situation will become worse. Some reporters may try to attain more altitude by tossing their children into the air.

WATCH EARS

Being careful not to pick them up by the ears, of course.

If the President is open to suggestions, I would like to propose that he hold his next news conference on a bicycle.

★ ★ ★

Some of the reporters might write stories that the President was riding too fast, but it would generate a lot of publicity for the physical fitness program.

Turn off the heat.

Man Killed Crossing I-75; Hit by Truck

A Mount Pleasant man was killed yesterday afternoon when he walked into the path of a truck on I-75 in Pontiac Township.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital following the 3:05 p.m. accident was Fred T. Thatcher, 74.

Sheriff's deputies said that Thatcher had parked his car on the shoulder of the southbound lane of the divided highway and then crossed on foot to the northbound lane where he was struck.

The truck driver, Oral Gamblin, 48, of Warren, told police he saw Thatcher start to cross, then hesitate and then start walking again, only to stop in the roadway.

Gamblin, who was not held, said he applied his brakes and swerved but could not avoid hitting Thatcher.

Mrs. Thatcher, who was riding with her husband, told sheriff deputies she did not know why he got out of the car.

Library Bids Lower Than Cost Estimate

Aggregate low bids opened yesterday for construction of the Waterford Township library building totaled $50,191, approximately $2,500 under preliminary cost estimates.

The bids have been referred to the township's consulting architectural firm for study and a recommendation to the township board by Monday.

T. W. Hay, Builders, with a bid of $37,900, was low among nine bidders for the architectural trades. Bids ranged to $45,600.

Anderson Plumbing and Heating Co. was low bidder for the mechanical trades with one of $7,590, and Fred W. Moote Electric Co. submitted the low bid of $4,611 for the electrical trades.

Four bids ranging to a high of $9,250 were submitted for the mechanical trades and the highest of the three electrical trades bids was $4,995.

Gets Six Months for Part in Burglary

A 20-year old native of Florida, one of four young men charged with burglary of a Walled Lake firm, was sentenced yesterday to six months in Oakland County jail by Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn.

He is Jeffrey A. Wesa, who pleaded guilty to April 15 breaking and entering of Walled Lake Manufacturing, 270 E. Maple.

Police said Wesa, also listed as a Navy deserter, took part in the removal of over 2,000 pounds of metal which was later sold for scrap. Three codefendants are still awaiting trial.

Trash Disposal Is Discussed

A joint meeting of the Waterford Township Board and planning commission last night was deovted to discussion of garbage and rubbish disposal and the proposed purchase of a lakefront park site.

No decisions were intended and none was reached.

The park site issue drew the most comment from board members and commissioners.

Purchase of the site on the north shore of Loon Lake was recommended last month by the planning commission providing adequate controls for its use could be established.

★ ★ ★

The general commission feeling was that the 10-acre site would make an ideal park location and that the approximate cost of $3,000 per acre was reasonable.

SCHOOL SITE

A portion of an 80-acre parcel purchased by the school district for a junior high school location, the park area will not be needed for the school plant and was offered for sale to the township by the school board.

Robert Dieball, township planning director, said last night that lake frontage such as that offered probably would sell on the open market for $12,000 per acre.

James Clarkson, one of the two members of the seven-member planning commission who opposed recommendation of the purchase, said the acquisition would be too costly.

★ ★ ★

Clarkson pointed out that over and above the initial $30,000 to $35,000 purchase, development of the park and its maintenance would skyrocket costs. He said he thought this was unjustified in view of the many needs of the township.

PROVIDE FACILITIES

Township board trustee John Coleman and Clerk Elmer Fangboner both concurred with a theory offered by Supervisor James Seeterlin that the township must provide adequate recreational facilities.

Seeterlin pointed out that the Junior Chamber of Commerce has volunteered financial assistance in developing the park site if the land is acquired.

The planning commission had also recommended that garbage collection and disposal be handled by a single franchised contractor rather than by several individual firms or establishing a municipal disposal unit.

★ ★ ★

The recommendation followed a study that indicated the single contractor method would be the least costly.

LITTLE CONTROL

Last night's discussion centered around the fact that presently, with six private contractors working in the township, there is little control over collection and disposal.

Slides showing several garbage and refuse piles in the township were shown as documentation of the existing problem.

There was no discussion of financing a township-wide program nor was the question of a sanitary land fill taken up.

★ ★ ★

Seeterlin said it will probably be several months before any decision will be made on a garbage program. Several meetings will be scheduled to further discuss the issue.

Korea Newsmen Jailed for Quote in Paper

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Four newsmen of the newspaper Kyunghyang Shinmoon, including its managing editor, were arrested today after the paper published a remark attributed to a laborer favoring economic help from Communist North Korea.

★ ★ ★

The authorities said the newsmen were being questioned on suspicion of violating the anti-Communist law which forbids giving aid to the Communist cause. A conviction carries maximum penalty of seven years in prison.

Decides He'll Retire at Spur of the Moment

HOBART, Tasmania (AP) — From 1898 until 1964, Edward Alexander Gee practiced as a solicitor in Hobart.

Suddenly, one morning, he announced to his associates he had decided to retire and he walked out of the office. He is 92.

Rose Kennedy to Visit North Carolina Rally

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—Rose Kennedy, mother of the President John F. Kennedy, will attend a rally at the University of North Carolina on Sunday to accept contributions from North Carolinans to the Kennedy Memorial Library.

Gov. Terry Sanford announced Tuesday that Mrs. Kennedy would attend the ceremony, at which Evangelist Billy Graham and Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges will speak.

Eyes Future of City Airport

Good Use Predicted of Funds for Field

Charles Edwards, former chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' airport committee, said last night he was confident that funds for airport development would be put to the best use.

Speaking at the monthly meeting of the Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC), Edwards discussed the possibilities of expanding Pontiac Municipal Airport or construction of the Allen Airport near Lake Orion.

Edwards, a supervisor from Madison Heights and now chairman, of the ways and means committee, said that a study on the proposed development of one airport or the other is due for completion next month.

The study was ordered by the board of supervisors as a basis for a decision on the airport situation.

In other business at the meeting at Pierce Junior High School William Green, social studies teacher at Waterford Township High School, outlined details of his summer camp program in northern Michigan.

Green established the camp three years ago for teen-agers. Attendance last season totaled 85 and expectations are that 150 will participate this year, Green said.

Mosquitoes Blamed for Death of Birds

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — The notorious mosquitoes that plague thousands of residents in some Durban suburbs have been blamed for the death of 200 caged birds.

The birds were among a collection belonging to a minister of the Dutch Reformed Church. A local veterinary surgeon said he believes the mosquitoes were malaria-carrying and thus killed the birds.

Lake Level Bill Vetoed, but Sponsor Is in Accord

A bill cosponsored by Rep. Lloyd Anderson, R-Waterford Township, had the dubious distinction yesterday of being the first vetoed by Gov. Romney this session.

Today Anderson said he wasn't upset by the Governor's action, but agreed with his reasons for rejecting the bill.

It would have permitted periodic lowering of lake levels in Oakland and Wayne counties after petition by lake shore property owners and a circuit court order.

Lowering the lake level would allow repairs to docks, piers and walls and to clean beaches.

★ ★ ★

Requests for this type legislation originated in Oakland County among residents at Lake Oakland and Woodhull Lake.

LOWER LAKES

It would have permitted circuit court to order the county drain commissioner to lower the lake for a time.

Anderson said such legislation could only apply to those lakes that can be controlled by the drain commissioner.

As it stands now he is under orders of circuit court to maintain these lake levels at a certain height.

★ ★ ★

"Legislation of this type appears to serve very little, if any, public interest," said Romney. "If it is desirable, then it should have general application and not be restricted to two counties."

ORIGINAL WORDS

Anderson said he and Rep. Michael Novak, D-Detroit, originally submitted the bill for all counties.

"The Senate later amended it to apply only to counties of 500,000 or more population."

★ ★ ★

"I agree with the governor that legislation of this sort shouldn't be restricted," Anderson concluded.

DIDN'T DIE—Shown in midfall in a suicide try in Albany, N. Y., yesterday is Jose Reposo, 40, a doctor from Cuba. The doctor dropped 40 feet from a viaduct, but was caught in a net by firemen. The man was taken to a hospital where he later succeeded in killing himself with a surgeon's scalpel.

Lonely Doctor From Cuba Kills Himself on Third Try

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—In the very hospital where he had learned how to save lives, a lonely Cuban doctor plunged a scalpel into his heart Tuesday night and won his hours - long fight to die.

Dr. Jose Reposo, 40, a surgeon, began his suicide effort Tuesday afternoon when he slashed himself in the chest and abdomen but inflicted only superficial wounds. Frustrated, he went to a viaduct and prepared to jump 60 feet to the pavement.

Police were summoned. The officers approached the man, who clung to the viaduct railing, his body arched out over the street, his toes wedged in bracing outside the railing.

"Don't jump, George," a patrolman cried. "We want to help you."

READY TO JUMP

Sweat glistened on Reposo's forehead. He shook his head, spoke rapidly in Spanish and muttered in English, "jump." He arched his body as if to jump. The police backed off.

Reposo clung to the railing about 15 minutes. While police on the bridge held his attention, firemen spread a net below.

★ ★ ★

A crowd of about 300 gathered. The onlookers watched in silence as the firemen braced for his jump. He relaxed his grip and dropped, arms spread wide, to the street.

Cheers went up as firemen caught him in the quilted-canvas net.

WAS SURPRISED

"He looked surprised to be alive," said Lt. Howard Turner, one of the firemen. "He said, 'Do you have a cigarette?'."

He told police he was "lonely, very lonely."

Reposo chatted with the attendants of the ambulance that took him to Albany Medical Center Hospital, where he was treated for the chest and abdomen cuts.

Reposo sat on an operating table in the emergency room, talking with a surgeon he had trained with in the early 1940s.

He appeared "rational and lucid," a medical center spokesman said.

GRABBED SCALPEL

Suddenly, as the surgeon turned his back, the Cuban snatched a scalpel and stabbed it deep into his chest.

"It was a surgeon's job," the hospital spokesman said. "It rent the heart, opening a big wound that made it easy for doctors to get to the heart and massage it."

★ ★ ★

He died about two hours later, despite the efforts of a score of medical men and nurses to save him.

Reposo, who attended the University of Havana Medical School and was a 1949 graduate of Albany Medical College, was scheduled to begin a residency in internal medicine this summer at the hospital where he died.

DIVORCED FATHER

The hospital said he was divorced and the father of two. His mother reportedly lives in Cuba.

He had come here from California about two months ago, but it was not known what he had been doing there. He had lived here in a rented room.

Patient, 112, Claims Boy, 10, as His Child

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — A Roswell hospital patient who says he is 112 years old numbers among his visitors the youngest of his 22 children, Bobby Cornado, 10.

Jesus Coronado, recovering from abdominal surgery, says he was born Christmas Day 1851 in Corpus Cristi, Tex. He said he lost his birth certificate in a fire several years ago.

★ ★ ★

Coronado said he had been married three times. He and his present wife, Eudelia, were married in 1930 when she was 15 They have had 17 children. Two are dead.

BETTER THAN 60

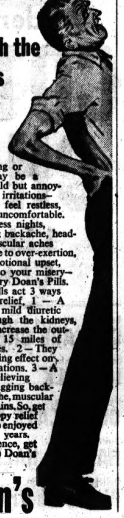

His physician says Coronado is in better health than most persons at age 60. Until he went to the hospital last week, Coronado worked two or three days a week as a gardener.

"I think because I was a Christmas baby I have lived this long," said Coronado.

Warren Probe to Hear FBI, CIA Directors

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

PROBE: The chiefs of the FBI and Central Intelligence Agency testify Thursday before the Warren Commission investigating John F. Kennedy's assassination.

★ ★ ★

The commission announced that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover will be heard in the morning, followed by CIA Director John A. McCone.

★ ★ ★

Presumably both will be asked, among other things, about their organizations' investigations here and abroad after the president was shot in Dallas Nov. 22 and Lee Harvey Oswald, who once embraced Marxism and tried life in the Soviet Union for a while, was accused of being the sniper.

Today the commission hears from two officers of the Dallas police department's criminal intelligence division—Lt. Jack Reville, the division's superintendent, and detective V. J. Brian.

Walk Dog; Don't Ride

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ernest Marples, British minister of transport, says too many people ride when they should walk.

Marples, here to study the city's transportation system, says perhaps one way to solve this problem is for everyone to own a dog.

"Then the people will have to walk their dogs and, in so doing, will walk themselves," Marples said.

DRAFT: Selective Service Director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey has told Congress why he doesn't favor induction of married men.

★ ★ ★

They have too many outside distractions, Hershey told the House Appropriations Committee in testimony released Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Also, he said: "A married man in the grade of private is more expensive than a non-commissioned officer who is single. One of the most expensive is a man with dependents. The trouble you have all the time with people in the service is with those who have dependents."

DEBATABLE QUESTION

Hershey said it was his recommendation that led President Johnson to halt drafting of married men. Had this brought on a marriage rush among draft-age men? Hershey said he had no figures but, anyway, he said it was debatable whether "the fellow who ran into matrimony to get away from getting in might run away from everybody else after he got in."

MANUFACTURERS: President Johnson has asked officials of the National Association of Manufacturers to support his "war on poverty."

★ ★ ★

The NAM officers met for 30 minutes with Johnson Tuesday and NAM President W. P. Gullander described it as a "very good meeting" in which Johnson did most of the talking.

He asked industry's help in the job-training phase of the antipoverty campaign, and the NAM officers assured him that corporations are already doing more in that field than generally realized.

Graduation Tickets Halted at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan today temporarily suspended distribution of tickets to its commencement exercises May 22, pending security clearance for President Johnson, the commencement speaker.

★ ★ ★

A university announcement said no more tickets would be issued for the 101,000-seat Michigan Stadium, commencement site, until the White House has completed a stadium security check in behalf of the President.

Approximately 80,000 tickets already have been distributed.

Mill Levy Defeated

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — St. Joseph School District voters defeated an 8.8-mill levy Tuesday, 1,722 to 1,189. The levy, designed for three years, was proposed after a 2.9-mill levy expired this year.

Serve a Salad at the Shower

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Already we know of 68 girls planning to be Pontiac June brides. If all of them and all the other summer brides are having showers, someone is doing a lot of entertaining.

"What can we serve for refreshments that is different?"

Women always seem to enjoy a salad and hot rolls. This is easy for the hostess if she can prepare the salad ahead of time.

We're giving you three recipes of just that kind.

Lemon Cream ring mold makes a delicate yellow frame for fresh fruit. It gets its good lemony flavor from both gelatin and frozen lemonade concentrate. Whipped cream makes it rich in texture and taste.

Lemon Cream

1 package (3 oz.) lemon-flavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
1 can (6 oz.) frozen lemonade concentrate
1 cup whipping cream
Strawberries
Melon balls
Other fresh fruit

In a mixing bowl blend gelatin, sugar and salt. Add boiling water and stir until dissolved. Stir in lemonade concentrate. Chill until jelly-like consistency.

In a chilled bowl whip cream until soft peaks form. Fold into lemon mixture. Pour into 4½-cup ring mold which has been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm.

Unmold onto chilled tray. Fill center of mold with fruit. Makes 6-8 servings.

Many Pontiac hostesses have used the type of salad that combines fruit, marshmallows and whipped cream. This you chill overnight which frees your time on the day of the party.

Here is a new version of that salad. The surprise ingredient is a can of peach or apricot pie filling.

Jubilee Salad

2 oranges, peeled and sectioned
1 No. 303 can pitted white cherries, drained
1 No. 2 can (2½ cups) peach or apricot pie filling
2 cups miniature marshmallows
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
¼ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise

Combine drained fruits and peach or apricot pie filling; add marshmallows. Fold whipped cream into salad dressing. Chill overnight. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Our third salad is another gelatin one. But this one is considerably lower in calories; in fact, it contains no sugar outside of what normally comes in oranges and the wine.

★ ★ ★

By varying the fruit according to season, you have a good basic molded salad recipe here.

Sherry Sunshine Salad

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 cups apple juice
2 cups low-calorie gingerale
1½ cups orange juice
½ cup sherry
2 tablespoons sucaryl solution
½ cup orange sections
1 cup banana slices
½ cup avocado, cubed

In a large mixer bowl, soften gelatin in cold water. Bring apple juice to a boil; add to gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Add gingerale, orange juice, sherry and sucaryl; chill until mixture begins to thicken.

Add orange sections, banana slices and cubed avocado. Spoon into an 8-cup mold; chill until set. Makes 10 servings. Each serving contains 94 calories; 2.5 grams protein; 1.5 grams fat; 16.5 grams carbohydrate.

Meaty Dinner Salad

On the first warm day of spring, make a refreshing salad for dinner. Combine 1 can (5 ounces boned chicken or turkey (diced), ½ cup julienne cooked ham, 1 cup thinly sliced celery, ¾ cup thinly sliced sweet pickle, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon sweet pickle juice, and dash celery salt. Chill. Serve in crisp lettuce cups to 3 or 4.

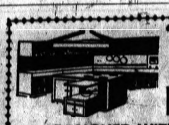

Orange Rind Flavors Duck

As a delightful stuffing for duck, you can use rice cooked in water and orange juice (half and half), using just enough liquid to evaporate during the cooking.

Butter or margarine, grated orange rind and finely diced celery and onion make other excellent additions to the rice for the stuffing.

If your frozen duckling is cut-up, it will take four to six hours at room temperature to thaw; overnight will do the trick if the duck is left in the refrigerator.

Canned foods should be stored in a clean dry place. Don't put them in a cupboard that is near a radiator or a steam pipe.

Put Brussels Sprouts in Fish Chowder

The fisherman's wharfs and marinas of California towns and cities are now a source of fish dishes—savory and redolent of the mother dishes from the Mediterranean—but with a special touch—a dash and style that is uniquely Californian.

★ ★ ★

Imagine this fish stew in the making—a tumble of gorgeous ingredients flooding your kitchen with sunlit colors. There are rosy shrimp, snowy flounder and oysters, the clear flamboyant red of ripe peppers, the sharp white of onions and potatoes, the golden green of Brussels sprouts.

★ ★ ★

These verdant baby cabbages are California's own—shapely, crisp and dewy and grown along the Pacific Coast, never more than a half mile from the nourishing mists of the sea.

The richly-flavored broth in which all these good things simmer is clear, so that every bit of bright food shines and shimmers through it.

California Fish Stew

⅓ cup olive oil
2 large onions, sliced
2 medium red or green peppers, chopped
3 cups fish or chicken stock or bouillon
4 medium potatoes, pared and diced
2 packages (10-ounces each) frozen Brussels sprouts
1 pound shrimp, shelled and cleaned
2 cans (6½ ounces each) frozen oysters
1 pound fresh or frozen flounder fillets
Salt and pepper to taste

Heat oil in large kettle. Add onions and green peppers and cook 5 minutes over low heat. Add stock and heat to boiling point. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and simmer 20 to 25 minutes, or until tender. Makes 6-8 servings.

Cooked Lettuce Is Delicate Eating

Treat your family to quick corned beef and lettuce instead of cabbage. They'll like the delicate flavor of cooked western iceberg lettuce wedges.

Corned Beef and Lettuce

1 large head iceberg lettuce
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup boiling water
2 cups diced potatoes
2 cans (12 ounces each) corned beef
Salt and pepper to taste

Trim core from lettuce; cut in 6 wedges. Melt butter in large skillet; add onion and cook until tender. Add water and potatoes; cover and cook 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Arrange lettuce with corned beef in skillet; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover and cook 10 minutes or just until lettuce is tender.

Cold and Hot Dessert Idea

Want a dessert that is freezing hot? Incongruous, you say. Not at all.

For Butterscotch Ice Cream Sandwiches, cut a pint brick of vanilla ice cream into 6 equal slices. Place a slice between 2 slices pound cake, cut ¼-inch thick. Wrap each sandwich in foil and freeze.

★ ★ ★

At serving time, cream 1 tablespoon butter together with 1 cup firmly-packed brown sugar. Add 2 tablespoons cream and 2 teaspoons lemon juice. Stir until smooth. Add ¼ cup slivered almonds.

Remove sandwiches from freezer; fold foil back from tops, leaving it around sides. Spread 2 tablespoons butterscotch mixture over each sandwich. Broil on cookie sheet until bubbly and lightly browned, 3-4 minutes. Rush to table in foil.

American Doctors Say They Feel Safe in South Viet Nam

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Three teams of American civilian doctors are hard at work in South Viet Nam as the fighting drags on. A public health service surgeon just back from duty in South Viet Nam tells in this story why the American doctors don't feel unsafe.

By W. JOYNES MacFARLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — In South Viet Nam, where death comes with the stealth and suddenness of a tiger's pounce, the lives of a small group of American doctors are prized by both sides in the guerrilla fighting.

"I don't feel unsafe," said Dr. Henry C. Savage, a U.S Public Health service surgeon just back from duty in a Viet Nam city. "I wouldn't dare walk through Central Park at night, but I drove around Da Nang at night."

★ ★ ★

None of the doctors serving on the three American medical teams in South Viet Nam "regard themselves as on a hazardous assignment," said Savage.

Savage, 47, father of 10 children and chief of surgery in the Public Health Service hospital in Seattle, told newsmen about his February to May 1 stint in a Viet Nam hospital Tuesday before heading home.

MOST EFFECTIVE

The work of the American medical teams among the peasants, he said, is "proving our most effective counter-Communist program."

He said the Americans' work is aimed primarily at helping civilians, including thousands caught up and injured in the bloody skirmishes between the Communist Viet Cong and the U. S.-backed government forces.

But, he said, Viet Cong also slip in for treatment. "They are brought in, these young wounded, but healthy VCs," he said, adding:

★ ★ ★

"And we feel that this program is an effective instrument because anybody appreciates his life being saved. A VC or anybody else appreciates it when he knows that if he had not been treated by some qualified surgeon he would have died.

HEAR EVERYWHERE

"We are reaching the peasant who has no other source of medical service and it is appreciated. When you travel in rural areas . . . you can hear "Bac si, bac si,' on all sides. It means doctor in English, and you can hear it everywhere you go.

"You turn around and see a former patient, all smiles. He greets you, and says surely you remember him. You stop and think twice. Then you see a scar you recognize, or maybe it is a child with a foot in a cast you put on.

★ ★ ★ ★

"And you find there is very much concern on the part of the Vietnamese for the safety for the American personnel."

★ ★ ★

He related that he was working late one night, when he heard a harsh explosion off in the darkness.

"I left to drive in the Jeep the mile or two to where I resided, and the Vietnamese in numbers on bicycles just fell in behind and escorted me home safely," he continued.

"The Vietnamese are concerned that the Viet Cong will attack the hospital, which is named the American hospital, but on the other hand the Viet Cong recognize that the population is receiving a lot of benefit.

"The Viet Cong method is not to attack the peasant but the government and the American government in the form of the American military. They try to terrorize the government officials and leaders. They try to kill village chiefs and attack the American military but not the hospitals."

As an example of the regard in which American doctors are held, he said it was reported that the Viet Cong had offered "500,000 piasters for a military compound leader dead and 500,000 piasters for an American doctor alive" but none of the doctors has been kidnaped.

★ ★ ★

On the general situation in Viet Nam, he expressed belief that "without American support this is a lost cause" and that if Viet Nam is lost to communism, Cambodia and Laos "will also go right in."

"The Vietnamese are really fine people, gracious people, proud people and not warlike," Savage said. "They are the victims of outside aggression."

The civilians, he said, are carrying the brunt of the war.

"It is the poor peasant who tries to earn his daily living who is the one that gets caught in the booby traps or who gets wounded when the Viet Cong make a guerrilla attack," Savage said.

★ ★ ★

Da Nang, where Savage was stationed, is a city of about 50,000 near the border of Laos and about 75 miles south of the Communist North Viet Nam border.

Leading the American medical teams are:

At Da Nang, Dr. Edgar Archer Dillard Jr., of Durham, N.C.; a native of Augusta, Ga.; at Can Tho, Dr. Robert Norton of Grinnell, Iowa, and Dr. Robert Edwards, of Wilder, N.H.; and at Nha Trang, Dr. Frank Black of Grand Junction, Colo.

LEAVING TODAY

Leaving today to work at Nha Trang with Black is Dr. John Martin Reed of Nashville, Tenn., who has been stationed at the service's hospital in Claremore, Okla.

★ ★ ★

Savage said additional doctors, nurses and technicians are badly needed.

Semantics Define State of Economy

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Jim Clarke, who has become associated with the First National Bank of Fort Lauderdale after several years as vice president of the American National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, has some favorite economic definitions.

He credits them to a Stanford Business School professor.

Clarke says they include:

Recession — a time when a friend loses his job.

Depression — a time when you lose your job.

Panic — a time when your wife loses her job.

Old Movie Studios Die Hard

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Old studios die hard, as the wreckers of the old Educational lot discovered last week.

★ ★ ★

It was a sad sight as I watched a towering crane swing its destroying ball against the last wall of the last stage of the Santa Monica Boulevard studio.

THOMAS

The gateman's shack was the only structure that remained on the three-acre site. The rest looked like a London block after the blitz.

★ ★ ★

The sight was especially melancholy to a reporter who had seen the now-leveled stages alive with the bright lights and electric activity of film making. For over 40 years the studio had managed to cling to life, precariously at times. It finally died to make way for that symbol of modern times, the shopping center.

The history of the studio goes back to 1919 when King Vidor built a barn stage on the property next to what is now Goldwyn Studios. In 1925, Educational Films backed by the Hudson's Bay Co., took over the place and created a modern plant for film making.

Jack White, now retired in Palm Springs, converted Educational into a fun factory that produced two-reel comedies with such figures as Larry Seman, Thelma Todd, Al St. John, Lupino Lane and Lloyd Hamilton.

"Shirley Temple was discovered on our lot in the baby burlesque series," White recalled. "Fatty Arbuckle worked for us after the scandal.

SPECIAL NOTE:
Many of you will remember this film and will again want to share in the violent love that passed between HeathCliff and Cathy in this immortal Classic from the pen of Emily Bronte. I would like to point out that this is the original "WUTHERING HEIGHTS" with the original cast of Merle Oberon, Laurence Olivier and David Niven.
I recommend it as the Greatest Film Classic ever made . . . . . .

Forger's Luck Steals Away

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — A forger shouldn't push his luck — especially when he's drawing on the county attorney's account.

A 19-year-old Harlan youth charged with forgery learned this the hard way when he showed up on Monday to try to cash a bogus check at a bank where he had passed two of them on Saturday.

The youth, who worked for the county attorney, fled when a teller spotted the bad signature, but was later arrested.

Onions and the Works, but What's Missing?

CHESNEE, S.C. (AP)—Mrs. Lynn Watson Jr. sent out for a hamburger, and when it arrived it looked pretty tempting, complete with lettuce, onions, mustard and all the trimmings.

★ ★ ★

The only trouble was, the restaurant owner had forgotten to put the meat inside the bun.

The Modus Operandi Confusing to Some

MIAMI (AP) — The city police department's modus operandi section, where they keep track of crooks' working methods, is listed in the city telephone book by name.

So recently an invitation arrived at police headquarters inviting Mr. Operandi Modus to attend a business firm opening.

In the six years of the Common Market's existence the European Community gross product has increased 30 per cent, according to the European Econoomic Community Commission.

Wouldn't Buy Heavy Load

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A tiny, elderly woman walked to the checkout stand at a drug store and laid down her purchases and the money.

"I'm having trouble with this cash register," the clerk told her. "Would you mind taking it up front?"

★ ★ ★

"My goodness," the woman protested. "I'm afraid it's much to heavy for me."

800,000 Miles Logged by Scouts Last Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boy Scouts of America estimates that 16,000 Scouts and their leaders walked a grand total of 800,000 miles last year to earn 50 - miler merit badge awards.

The awards require each Scout to make a least a 50-mile trek on foot or boat or canoe (no motors allowed), and that a minimum of five days be spent on the hike. At least 10 hours of this time must be spent on conservation service.

TVA Project Visitors Drinking in Paradise

CENTRAL CITY, Ky. (AP)—Visitors to the Tennessee Valley Authority's steam generating plant at Paradise never have to worry about pure drinking water.

The fountain is supplied with distilled water from the system used to supply mineral-free water for the plant's boilers.

After Two High Days

Profit Takers Halt Mart Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—The latest stock market advance floundered early as prices turned mixed on profit taking. Trading was active.

After two days of generally higher prices, stocks continued to rise slightly in balance early today but became irregular by mid session.

★ ★ ★

Cigarette issues were a conspicuous weak spot as they fell sharply on news that cigarette sales had apparently resumed their downtrend in April following a recovery from an initial decline on the government health report.

Calumet & Hecla, which soared 10 points as the most active stock Tuesday, ran into profit taking after a vigorous start, losing about 2 points.

MOTORS

Early strength by Big Three motors began to melt as Chrysler erased a gain and showed a net loss approaching a point. General Motors and Ford clung narrowly to the upside.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 307.9, with industrials up .2 and both the rails and utilities unchanged.

Calumet & Hecla was delayed in opening for about an hour under an accumulation of orders. The stock finally opened on blocks of 75,000 and 5,000 shares, up ⅝ at 28. The gain faded and later it traded on a 17,000-share block, down 1⅞ at 25½.

Prices were higher in moderately active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Up

Corporate bonds advanced. U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Asks Probe Include Solons

Wants Extension of Baker Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., offered a resolution today to bring senators specifically within the scope of the Bobby Baker investigation and to broaden the inquiry to include the handling of campaign funds and other matters.

His resolution, for which he requested immediate consideration, also would extend to Sept. 1 the Rules Committee's investigation now scheduled to be finished at the end of this month.

Introduction of the resolution was touched off by a stormy hearing of the committee Tuesday at which Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.Y., urged that senators be asked about their relations with Baker, resigned secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., the committee chairman, dismissed Case's request as "the height of demagoguery."

INSULT TO SENATE

Jordan told newsmen that "I think it would be an insult to senators" for the committee to ask them the questions proposed by Case.

Williams, author of the original resolution directing an investigation of the Baker case, told the Senate that it was clearly intended in the original resolution that "there be no limit to the authority of the Rules Committee."

★ ★ ★

But he said he was offering an amendment to the resolution "which unquestionably will lay to rest forevermore the question of the authority of this committee."

After Baker had resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, the committee launched an investigation of whether his outside business dealings had conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Baker, who built up a fortune he estimated at more than $2 million while on the Senate pay roll at $19,600 a year, invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions when called as a witness.

Grains Are Active on Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market was fairly active today in early transactions but it was rather well mixed and prices generally showed little net change.

Broadest ranges again were posted in wheat. May gained almost two cents at times and the new crop months, under pressure for the second successive day, lost about a cent on most deliveries.

Wheat was 1 cent a bushel higher to 1 cent lower at the end of the first hour, May $1.96¼; corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, May $1.24⅛; oats ⅛ to ⅝ higher, May 60½ cents; rye unchanged to ½ lower, May $1.24¼; soybeans ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, May $2.49.

Little Bobbies Overrated?

Good Times Bring Fear

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The more everyone is assured that everything's wonderful, the more some people start worrying about what might happen.

Stock prices average make new highs every little while. So the slightest temporary bobble in the upward line tends to exaggerate fears that a downturn is at hand. Or the very trend of the market itself makes some fear that a speculative boom could be set off, leading to another crash.

DAWSON

Employment increases and so does the total of personal income. And that general feeling of well-being generates fears that new wage demands may trigger another wage - price spiral. In a time of little inflation, preachers are heard more and more often warning of the chance that future inflation could do great damage to the economy and hurt more people than it would seem to help.

Profits are well above a year ago. And even profit margins are gaining a little after a long drop. And that sets off warnings lest business be inspired to make the most of a good thing and raise prices—and thus chill consumer buying desires at home and trading opportunities abroad.

BUSINESS PLANS

Business is announcing plans to spend a lot more for new plants and equipment. But along with the rejoicing at the stimulus this will give to economic growth, the fear grows that shortly the nation will be plagued once more with a glut of idle industrial capacity. A variation is worry lest the increased production facilities will make competition so keen that some of the new plants will falter, while older ones will be forced to close.

Consumers are showing their confidence in the economy's present healthy state by keeping their spending at a high level and by taking on additional instalment debt. This builds expectations for sales of more industrial goods, homes and commodities.

★ ★ ★

But those who want to worry point to the rising total of debt as a hazard if anything should happen to shake confidence.

It all seems to shake down to this:

Few can find much in the present state of the economy to worry about. It's near a record height in most of its components. It has few excesses currently visible that might assure future doom. It has problems, like unemployment and poverty and labor-management quarrels over automation. But as a general proposition today's economy is unusually healthy.

★ ★ ★

And that's where two lines of thought split off. One holds that the economy still isn't healthy enough—because the problems aren't solved—and that it must be stimulated further. The other holds that everything is so good, perched on so high a pinnacle, that the history of business cycles points to a time when dangers will arise and the economy's very exuberance will bring on reaction.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am 28 and came to this country from Italy 2½ years ago. I am married and have a baby boy. My income is about $5,000 a year — not high but it is enough to keep us, pay for an insurance policy, and build a savings account. I own Lear-Siegler and Raytheon. Both show me a loss. My friends tell me I should keep trading in and out, but I don't think so. Please tell me what I should do with my stocks to improve my position." S. B.

A) I agree that you should not try to make money by actively trading with limited capital.

Both your stocks are pretty good issues but they are mainly in defense work; and stocks in this group have fallen out of favor.

In your circumstances, I would sell and put the proceeds into Arlan's Department Stores, a consumer issue with a strong growth record.

★ ★ ★

Q) "We are a married couple with two young children. My husband has a government job and earns close to $10,000 a year. We own our home and have $500 in savings. We invested $2,000 in growth stock, but so far have seen our capital dwindling. We own Magnavox which sells below our purchase price. Would a switch to American Telephone or RCA be a better investment for our children's education?" J. R.

A) Your idea is a very intelligent one.

Magnavox is a good stock, but earnings were below expectation last year. Net per share declined for the first time since 1958 due to a big drop in shipment of electronic products to the government and a shortage of color television tubes in the fourth quarter.

I believe a switch to RCA is advisable, but I would first put part of the proceeds of your Magnavox sale into building up your savings position, which seems inadequate as a backlog for emergencies.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

'Rights Bill Still Needs More Work'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today there is still a lot to be done before a final accord can be reached on a package of amendments to the House-passed civil rights bill.

As he arrived at the Capitol for a conference with Senate leaders of both parties, Kennedy told newsmen that serious problems remain to be settled.

★ ★ ★

He said he thought there was general agreement in principle on the proposed changes in the House bill but added that working out the language often can be difficult.

"We are not going to accept any changes that would destroy the effectiveness of the bill," he said.

FINAL LOOK

Earlier Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the GOP leader, had told newsmen that a full accord had been reached on proposed changes, with only a final look at the exact language remaining. He expressed hope the proposed changes would lead to Senate action on the bill.

★ ★ ★

The amendments had been discussed at a series of conferences last week attended by Kennedy and his top aides in the civil rights field.

Kennedy said he felt sure today's meeting would not be the last conference, although he expressed hope that "we'll continue to make progress."

SOME AGREEMENT

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor manager of the bill, told newsmen there still are three or four areas on which complete agreement has been reached.

Among the points yet to be resolved, he said, is whether a federal commission to prevent discrimination in employment should be empowered to initiate compliance suits. Dirksen has proposed that suits could be brought in the first instance only by the person claiming he had been discriminated against.

★ ★ ★

However, Humphrey said he thought an agreement could be worked out.

Business Notes

The Michigan State Association of Life Underwriters yesterday elected Norvil D. Vincent, of 2405 Middle Belt, West Bloomfield Township, its regional vice president.

Vincent is manager of the National Life and Accident Insurance Company's Pontiac Office at 70 Lafayette. The 3,000-member association elected him at its annual convention in Detroit.

Court Halts Sonic Boom Testing

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —A three-month program of the Federal Aviation Agency, in which Air Force jets have bounced sound-breaking booms across the city, faced an uncertain future as the government planned a court move today to keep the tests alive.

A state district court issued a temporary restraining order Tuesday to halt the program, blamed by anti-boomers for "destroying, damaging and weakening the structures of private homes and business properties."

★ ★ ★

Twice before, federal courts have tossed out suits to end the program, designed to test reactions of people and structures to the vibrating booms which the FAA said will be common with supersonic transports of the future.

U.S. Atty. B. Andrew Potter said an attempt probably would be made today to remove the suit from the state court to federal court. A hearing was set for May 19 on the temporary injunction.

SIGNED ORDERS

State District Judge Boston Smith signed restraining orders issued against individuals involved in the program, including Najeeb Hallaby, FAA administrator; Lewis W. Bain, manager of the FAA center here; Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, chief of staff of the Air Force, and nine unnamed pilots who fly the faster-than-sound jets.

Attorney George Miskovsky, representing the protesting citizens, called the action "a showdown on sonic booms." Some 2,000 damage claims have been filed since the program started Feb. 3.

★ ★ ★

Complaints total more than 5,000. They range from that of a woman who said the blasts, which average eight a day, broke her brassiere strap to a worker in a dynamite storage magazine who said he is tired of taking aspirin. Golfers who will play in the Oklahoma City Open, starting Thursday, have been given schedules of the booms so they won't muff a shot because of the sudden noise.

Student Can Be Given 'Failure Image'

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Children thrive, and strive, as they feel themselves growing and improving. They resist study when they meet obstacles or failures which are too great.

DR. NASON

Children are born with an inner drive for learning to creep and walk. The delight in their progress as they learn can be seen on their faces.

The idea of mastering reading, writing, arithmetic and other school subjects comes from outside the child, that is, from his home, school and society. The most effective motivation to succeed is still the satisfaction gained from growth and achievement in these areas.

Parents and teachers often do harm by stressing failures. The pupil is disouraged and tends to avoid all study of the subject.

Instead the stress must be on how to make progress. A child will not be motivated to try harder merely because someone says, "You must do something to get rid of that 'F' in arithmetic." He can only work well if he feels adequate for the task.

Stress only his failure and the child will soon feel he is not capable of doing better in arithmetic. By calling attention to his failures, parents add to the failing complex.

* * *

This is disastrous since the youngster is in the process of developing his personality according to his feelings about himself.

FAILURE IMAGE

Parents often are responsible for these failure images.

This comes about because the parents' picture of a child is just as hard to change as the student's own view of himself.

For example: Jack's father was concerned about his failing grades, particularly those in consumer mathematics. He felt that Jack, for some reason the school authorities could not explain, was not a good student.

* * *

Jack was more interested in athletics than in school work; he neglected his studies.

The father arranged for outside help. Soon Jack's self-picture began to improve as he learned he COULD understand how the problems were solved.

He discovered he could train his hands to write the problems down neatly just as well as he could learn to handle a baseball bat.

As Jack's grades improved so did his picture of himself. All this time Jack's father was measuring against perfection. Judged in this manner Jack was still a failure.

It took some effort to get the father to give Jack credit and compliment him on his progress.

Students avoid studying from feelings of inadequacy rather than laziness. The first step must always be to show the student how to make progress in his studies.

Then, as the student has some success, help him realize his mental growth and progres.

This is the real source of motivation to study!

By OSWALD JACOBY

North's two-spade response is modern expert practice. It produces a four spade rebid from South. Had North happened to respond one no-trump, South would have raised him to three no-trump.

JACOBY

Ernie Rovere, who writes books about bridge, uses the hand to illustrate an advanced safety play.

The play is the same whether the contract is spades or no-trump and involves protection against a bad spade break.

Playing at four spades, South wins the opening diamond lead and promptly lays down the ace of trumps. If both opponents play low, he will have no better play than to continue with the king. But West drops the jack and South must find a sure fire winning continuation.

The play is a low spade toward dummy. West shows out and dummy's ten forces East's queen. South later goes over to dummy with a heart or club and finesses against East's nine of spades in order to hold himself to one loser in trumps.

It should be noted that this particular safety play would have cost South a trick had West held the doubleton queen-jack, but South could well afford to lose that trick. His contract was four spades, not five.

It also should be noted that if West held doubleton queen-jack of spades and six diamonds, the safety play would have cost South his contract because West would give his partner a diamond ruff.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Great opportunity now to "dig in" and establish position. Much sympathy expressed by those who previously were cold. Show sincerity. Be quiet on the line.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Shake off tendency to be stubborn. Realize certain changes are necessary. Day features opportunity for CREATIVE THINKING. One who advocates sticking to past methods is simply old-fashioned!

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Question of gaining greater security requires careful consideration. Consult family member. No day to "go it alone." The more cooperation you have . . . the better. Highlight HARMONY.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Strive for greater PERCEPTION. Read between the lines. Find out the WHY of things. Do some "creative listening." The more you understand . . . the more you are able to accomplish.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): Avoid rushing. Don't jump to conclusions. You have a great deal to offer. But don't force your way. Important to consider pace, timing. PATIENCE can turn events of today into valuable results.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Friends, hopes, wishes — are highlights. Club meeting, social gatherings favored. Share aspirations . . . COMMUNICATE. Recent disappointment due to boomerang in your favor.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Day to meet test and pass it. Fulfill obligations. There are subtle elements working in your favor. Proceed with confidence. Your charm, sense of justice win the day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): The more you share . . . the more you gain. Favorable lunar aspect coincides with writing, other creative efforts. Spread influence. Display knowledge. Plan public relations programs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Contradiction appears. You may be urged to vary methods. But one basic authority asks you to adhere to "tried-and-true." Key is diplomacy, careful management. Flash initiative. INDEPENDENCE.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Spotlight on realization of recent challenge. You must live up to promises made to YOU. Resolutions will come home to roost. Contain hint from today's ARIES message. Move ahead!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Don't compete with loved one. Greater happiness results if you are "giving." Means highlight: diplomacy. HUMANITARIAN APPROACH. Fine evening for creative endeavors.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Domestic harmony highlights. Treat loved one as you would exciting personality. Go out of your way to show appreciation. By so doing you create harmony and atmosphere of love.

* * *

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are provocative, often considered controversial—you are individual in your approach to most subjects. You are not easy to understand—but you are fascinating!

Drive Under Way to Legalize Silent Arkansas Casinos

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

By WICK TEMPLE

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The swanky casinos in this once-glittering resort are silent, closed by order of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, but a vigorous campaign is under way to make Arkansas the second state with legal casino gambling.

★ ★ ★

The Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce is circulating petitions to get a constitutional amendment on the November election ballot legalizing gambling.

The chamber must get 30,800 signatures on the petitions by July 2 to place the issue before the voters. This is expected to be relatively easy. But not the battle that will follow.

★ ★ ★

The Arkansas Christian Civic Foundation, which represents 2,200 evangelical churches in the state, is mobilizing to defeat the gambling amendment.

'NO CHANCE'

"It doesn't have a chance," said Dr. William E. Brown, executive director of the foundation. "We have thousands of volunteers that will be working to keep gambling dead."

And gambling is dead — at least for the present. Faubus clamped on the lid in March after the Arkansas House voted 91-3 to ask Hot Springs authorities to enforce the state's anti-gambling laws.

★ ★ ★

The gamblers themselves—the men who own the three big casinos in Hot Springs — say they are not taking an active part in the legalization campaign.

They hope that the illegal operation will resume as it has several times over the century that Hot Springs has had gambling. Under this situation, only a small city tax comes out of the more than $50 million annual gambling take.

MORE SECURITY

Legalization would give the gamblers security, but it would impose state and county taxes, and it would provide for as many as seven casinos in Hot Springs, possibly spreading the business thin for the present three big operators.

The Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce is for the legalization as any other chamber in the nation might be for an industrial campaign. That's what gambling is here—an industry.

★ ★ ★

Chamber members were hurt by the shutdown. The tourist trade slacked, conventions canceled. Some 600 persons were put out of work. Only one of the night clubs that operated along with the casinos has remained open.

State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst, a Hot Springs lawyer who has long spoken out for legalized gambling, predicts that the amendment will pass by better than the majority needed. Mayor Dan Wolf shares his view.

This alarms the church faction. Just as alarming is the fact that Arkansas voters approved local-option horse and dog racing. Casino gambling would be on the same basis. Voters in Garland County would have to approve gambling even if the state as a whole approved it.

Brown says Christian Civic Foundation chapters in all 75 counties will be countering Chamber of Commerce advertising with sermons and personal visits urging people to vote against gambling.

★ ★ ★

Some states have legalized other forms of gambling, including pari-mutuel betting and slot machines. New Hampshire recently set up a state lottery. Nevada is the only state with legal casinos. They gross $260.8 million a year.

Arkansas' legal casino law would be similar to Nevada's, except that it would restrict gambling houses to Garland County and limit the number of them to one for each 7,000 residents—a total of seven casinos.

NAME COMMISSION

The governor would appoint a commission to regulate gambling. Anyone applying for a license must have lived in Arkansas 10 years. This is aimed at insuring against out-of-state syndicates taking over.

Hot Springs interests say the illegal gambling has been home-owned and operated. A federal grand jury could find no basis for indictment on federal laws that forbid taking gambling equipment or employes across state lines.

★ ★ ★

Faubus has said he is against gambling on moral grounds. A year ago he predicted in a statement that any move to legalize casino gambling would fail, and he said recently that he would stick to that statement.

The governor said he would abide by the choice of the voters. He apparently plans to take no stand in the campaign.

But Faubus ignored illegal gambling in Hot Springs for almost 10 years. He is running for a sixth term, facing four political unknowns in the July 28 primary. If he beats them, he will take on Republican Winthrop Rockefeller in the November election.

Gambling—legal in the future and illegal in the past—is certain to be an important issue in that campaign.

U.S., France Still at Odds

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Back in Europe for a meeting of NATO foreign ministers, United States Secretary of State Dean Rusk finds himself facing a now-familiar adversary — Maurice Couve de Murville, foreign minister of France.

NEWSOM

The voice is that of Couve de Murville, but the words are those of French President Charles de Gaulle.

It was on May 15, 1962, that de Gaulle formally put into words a three-point program which ever since has been the guidepost to French foreign policy.

France's task, he said, was to disengage itself from the political, military and economic obligations it once held overseas.

★ ★ ★

It must "construct Europe" in the political, defense and economic fields in close cooperation with Germany and establish a balance within the Communist bloc.

ATOMIC FORCE

It must secure a French atomic striking force so that France can have "her own share in her own destiny" within a framework of "necessary alliances."

That was the program, and the United States could like it or not.

Last Saturday, in Brussels, Secretary Rusk found himself jousting with the same old windmill.

★ ★ ★

Americans, he said, "simply cannot understand the revival of the notion of absolute independence in dealing with affairs within the free world."

CIRCUMSCRIBED

U. S. freedom of action, he said, is "rigorously circumscribed" by commitments which include the defense of France against attack and a pledge to consult Paris on affairs within the area of NATO.

In U.S. eyes, de Gaulle's declaration of independence from U.S. influence and dictates largely has been negative—his refusal to participate in Geneva disarmament talks, his insistence upon reorganization of NATO, and even his recognition of Red China.

The French reply has been that France recognizes the importance of the Atlantic Alliance and remains a good ally.

★ ★ ★

But, the French say, times have changed since the beginning of NATO in 1950, and the United States should not expect its allies to remain mere "proteges."

FORCE IN BEING

As for recognition of Red China, France simply is recognizing a force in being, that neither peace in Asia nor world disarmament can be achieved without the cooperation of the power in control of the vast Chinese mainland.

One de Gaulle objective already has been attained and another is close.

New York Victim of 'Bad Lefty'

CASH COMES HOME — Detroit's Norm Cash avoided the tag by New York's catcher Elston Howard in the third inning last night to score from first base on a triple by catcher Bill Freehan. Tigers won, 7-2, to snap a five game losing streak.

By [illegible]
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It's time to answer a few of the mailbag gripes:

Your sports page is fine, but why do you slant your baseball stories to one team, mostly the Yankees or the Giants?

Roger F. Waterford

We must point out Roger, that Major League baseball roundup stories are not written by members of The Press sports department but transmitted by the wire services. The (AP) notation on a story means it comes from the Associated Press and the (UPI) from the United Press International wire service.

★ ★ ★

You certainly give a horse race like the Kentucky Derby enough attention, how about little more information from the Michigan race tracks? I don't know why you can't print results from local tracks, they sure draw more people than the Tigers.

Martin Pontiac

You're right about the tracks outdrawing the Tigers and in fact outdrawing big sports events around the country, Martin, but as far as the Kentucky Derby, you must admit there is great tradition connected with the event, that warrants the coverage. Because the metropolitan papers have special personnel available and assigned to Michigan tracks they can obtain information more readily.

★ ★ ★

This is not a complaint, but a suggestion. You do special columns on bowling, golf, boating, fishing and skiing, but do you realize how many auto racing fans, of all sorts, are in the Pontiac area? How about a special weekly column on auto racing?

Jeff
Walled Lake

There is no doubt as to the growth of auto racing, from stocks to sports cars, Jeff, and such a column may come about some day. But then what do we tell guys like Martin in the above letter and the many other sports which will clamor for special columns?

★ ★ ★

Over at Orchard Lake St. Mary's where the Yankees of the American League and the Pirates of the National League have strong partisan groups among students and the good Fathers, there is still a loyal Tiger fan who offers the only possible solution remaining for the Bengals this season.

Father Stan Milewski who has the task of reporting the athletic results of Eaglet teams to The Press must feel uncomfortable by the standings of the Tigers.

In his last written report on St. Mary's sports, there was a P.S. which read, "Pray for the Tigers." The word "Pray" was typed in red.

If the Good Lord helps those who help themselves then He may even wonder about the validity of our prayers for the Tigers. But, it's worth a try.

HOUSTON HAPPY

The Houston Colts, who drafted Holly's Jim Ray out of the Baltimore Oriole organization for $8,000 during the past winter are calling the righthander a "steal."

In his first 18 innings at San Antonio he struck out 20 and won both games, making his record 7-0 since going into baseball with Bluefield of the Appalachian league last year.

He was finally knocked out of the box in his third try at San Antonio but still is unbeaten as his reliefer received credit for the victory.

Hal Newhouser tried to get Ray into the Cleveland organization before Baltimore got to him, but admitted "I let him slip away."

Tigers' Kaline Goes to Bench to Recuperate

Leg Injuries Hamper Detroit Star; Doctor Orders Rest

DETROIT (AP) — A badly injured left leg has forced Detroit Tigers outfielder Al Kaline to rest for at least three to four days, and possibly longer.

Kaline, off to one of his worst starts, was hitting a puny .224 with one home run and six runs batted in. He was hitting .315, with two homers and 13 RBI's, at this point last year.

★ ★ ★

The official announcement before Tuesday night's game with the New York Yankees said that Kaline had been ordered to rest because of an inflamed tendon in the big toe of his left foot.

But Kaline also has a bruised ankle, bruised knee and a pulled muscle—all in his left leg.

Dr. Russell M. Wright, team physician who ordered the rest, said he didn't know how Kaline had been able to play. "The injuries have definitely hurt his play. He's been too proud to let anyone know about it."

JEERED BY FANS

Kaline, the object of jeers and boos by the hometown fans this season, said simply, "I haven't played good ball and I deserve to be criticized."

Kaline was lifted for a pinch-runner in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader against the Baltimore Orioles after hitting a run-scoring double.

★ ★ ★

He played the second game, but the pain was so severe that he was unable to sleep that night.

Kaline is believed to have injured his foot in an exhibition game against the Minnesota Twins in Florida.

He kept aggravating the injury but would not ask to be taken out of the lineup.

He finally got some rest after playing in the first dozen games of the exhibition season.

★ ★ ★

The All-Star rightfielder was given a shot of cortisone Sunday but Dr. Wright said he doubted it would do much good.

"His injury is painful," said Dr. Wright. "His toe hurts as if he had the gout."

George Thomas played in Kaline's place Tuesday night as the Tigers beat the Yankees 7-2 to snap a five-game losing streak and five-game win skein by New York.

Kiddie Korps Lifts Baltimore Orioles

Are the Chuckin's Chicks—Dave McNally and Wally Bunker—ready to replace the Kiddie Korps as the meat of Baltimore's pitching staff?

McNally, at 21 the senior member of the Orioles' fledgling fireballers, joined Bunker in the shutout circle Tuesday night by limiting Washington to two hits in a 5-0 Baltimore victory.

★ ★ ★

It was McNally's third victory against a single loss and his first shutout since he made his major league debut with a two-hit job, Sept. 26, 1962. Bunker made his big league bow a week ago and pitched a one-hit shutout.

McNally, a left-hander, and Bunker, a 19-year-old right-hander, now have accounted for five of the Orioles 14 victories while the three remaining members of the Kiddie Korps—Steve Barber, Chuck Estrada and Milt Pappas — have one victory among them.

WALKED THREE

McNally, who was 7-8 last year in his first full season, allowed the Senators only a first inning double by Chuck Hinton and a scratch single up the middle by pinch hitter Fred Valentine in the sixth. McNally walked three and struck out one.

★ ★ ★

In other sharp pitching performances, Detroit's Mickey Lolich three-hit the New York Yankees for a 7-2 victory, Jim Kaat allowed only four hits while his Minnesota mates pounded 15 in an 11-1 walloping of the Chicago White Sox and John O'Donoghue and John Wyatt collaborated on a two-hitter as Kansas City defeated the Los Angeles Angels 6-2.

Cleveland edged Boston 6-5 in the other game on the full American League program.

★ ★ ★

Kaat, 3-1, did not allow the White Sox a hit after the third inning and retired 13 men in order at one stretch. Dave Nicholson's second inning home run accounted for the Chicago run.

O'Donoghue weathered four A's errors—three by Wayne Causey—but needed Wyatt's relief help in the eighth inning. Wyatt finished up without allowing the Angels a hit.

★ ★ ★

The Indians blew a 4-0 lead, tied it 5-5 on Woodie Held's homer in the sixth, then moved ahead to stay in the eighth on Larry Brown's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded off ace Red Sox reliever Dick Radatz.

Boston had climbed back from the 4-0 deficit on homers by pitcher Bob Heffner, Eddie Bressoud and Dalton Jones.

Ex-Champ Palmer in Oklahoma Open

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The $40,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament gets under way Thursday at Quail Creek Country Club with Arnold Palmer, who won the tournament in 1959, the top attraction.

★ ★ ★

Three other former winners and four former PGA champions also are in the field.

Besides Palmer, the former winners are Fred Hawkins, who won in 1956, Gene Littler, the 1960 winner, and Don Fairfield, the defending champion.

The former PGA champs are Jack Burke Jr., Bob Rosburg, Jay Hebert and Lionel Hebert.

★ ★ ★

This is the third year on the 7,042-yard par 72 Quail Creek Country club course for the tournament. Previously the event was played at Twin Hills Country Club.

Mays, Marichal

Giants New 'M' Squad

Will Willie Mays hit .400?

Well, if Juan Marichal wins 30 games, the Say Hey Kid is liable to bat .500.

The San Francisco Giants' torrid twosome continued to ravage the National League Tuesday night, punishing the Houston Colts 6-0.

Mays ran his average to an astronomical .478 with his 12th and 13th homers and a single in five trips. Marichal won his sixth game and trimmed his earned run average to 1.73 with his second straight shutout.

The Giants' "M" boys are murder by themselves but when thrown against the opposition in combination it's tantamount to a nuclear holocaust.

.643 AVERAGE

Consider, for example, that in the seven games Marichal has started, Mays has 18 hits in 28 at bats with seven home runs, 16 runs batted in and a .643 average.

Mays would have to go hitless in his next 53 at bats for his average to drop to a mortal .301.

As for Marichal, the veteran right-hander who won 25 games last year, is 12 days ahead of the pace he set in 1963 when he didn't win his sixth game until May 24. And the season started a week later this year.

★ ★ ★

For the record the last .400 hitter was Ted Williams in 1941 with .406. The last 30-game winner was Dizzy Dean in 1934 with 30-7. Modern baseball has never had a .400 hitter and 30-game winner on the same club.

In other NL games Tuesday, Milwaukee blanked New York 2-0 behind Hank Fischer's three-hitter; Pittsburgh nipped Cincinnati 3-2 in a four hour, rain-interrupted marathon; St. Louis topped Philadelphia 4-2 behind Curt Simmons and Chicago nipped Los Angeles 3-2 on Dick Tracewski's ninth inning error.

FIRST HOMER

Milwaukee's Fischer faced just 29 batters and got all the runs he needed when rookie Ron Carty crashed his first major league homer against Met starter Alvin Jackson.

Cincinnati's Jim Maloney pitched four perfect innings before rain interupted the Pirates-Reds game at Pittsburgh. After an 1½ hour wait, play was resumed, and Maloney quickly lost his no-hitter and shutout when Smoky Burgess singled and ex-Red Gene Freese homered to tie it at 2-2.

After another 28 minute delay, the Pirates won it without a hit in the eighth on an error, a fielder's choice and two walks off Maloney.

★ ★ ★

Curt Simmons beat the Phillies for the 13th time in 15 decisions since they released him four years ago but needed eighth-inning help from Roger Craig to do it.

'Indy' Trials Give State Driver Boost

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Johnny White of Warren, Mich., who came up through the dusty county fair tracks, is the early standout of 14 drivers who hope to start for the first time in the $500,000 500-mile race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

He has been the eighth fastest of the whole field in practice, in a three-year-old Offenhauser roadster, at a whistling 153.8 miles an hour. It's the car in which Len Sutton finished second to Rodger Ward two years ago.

Danny Oakes of North Hollywood, Calif., master mechanic and former race driver, has charge of the Demler special White has been handling so well.

The rookie is 32 years old, not unusually high for a newcomer to the Speedway, and Oakes used to race against him.

WANTS TO WIN

"I knew he was good on asphalt and I knew he could drive here," Oakes said. "He doesn't just want to race, he wants to win."

A rookie hasn't won the rich Memorial Day race since George Souders' 1927 victory.

White was the 1962 International Motor Contest Association champion on smaller tracks from Florida into Canada.

★ ★ ★

Other possible first-time starters include Bob Hurt, Pontiac, Mich., and Ronnie Duman, Dearborn, Mich.

The first-year men stand little chance of winning the pole position, the No. 1 starting spot that goes to the fastest qualifier in Saturday's 10-mile trials. Bobby Marshman, Pottstown, Pa., veteran, set an unofficial record of 157.178 miles an hour Tuesday in a Lotus-Ford.

OFFY POWER

Both 1963 winner Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., and '61 winner, A. J. Foyt, Houston, Texas, have been over 156 in front-engine Offenhausers.

The official record, which can be set only in the qualifications or the race, is 151.847 by Parnelli last year.

★ ★ ★

The pole position and the race victory itself became even richer prizes as Andy Granatelli, president of the chemical compounds division of Studebaker Corp. announced the posting of additional prize money. The extra prizes will be $10,000 for the pole position car and $25,000 for the race winner.

Bengals Belt Yankee Nine Behind Lolich

Three-Hit Pitching, Lusty Slugging Pace Streak-Snapping Win

DETROIT (AP)—It would take a lot of talking to convince the 18,688 fans watching Tuesday night's Detroit Tigers-New York Yankees game that Mickey Lolich "can't do a thing left-handed."

His inability to do anything with his left hand—but throw—was the chief topic of conversation after the young southpaw completed a nifty three-hit pitching performance. The Tigers won 7-2.

★ ★ ★

Lolich, 23, explained a childhood injury crushed his collarbone. The doctor advised his parents to make sure he strengthened his left arm.

"My folks tell me that they used to tie my right arm down and make me pick up blocks and throw things with my left hand," Lolich said.

"But I still consider myself a right-hander," he continued. "Even when I make out forms I write down that I'm right-handed."

COMPLETE GAME

In pitching his second complete game this year and bringing his record to 3-1, Lolich snapped the Yankees' five-game winning streak. He also brought the Tigers out of a five game losing streak.

"My sinking fast ball was really working today," Lolich said. "I usually don't use it until the second inning or so, but I tried it once in that first inning and you know what happened."

★ ★ ★

Hector Lopez hit that pitch into the right field seats for a two-run homer and the only runs of the night for the Yankees.

A third-inning single by Bobby Richardson and a single in the ninth by Lopez were the only other safeties off Lolich. Both were erased by double plays as the Tigers turned in three twin-killings behind him.

Only six flies were hit to the outfield.

The younger players on the team also helped pull the Tigers to their triumph.

CHANGE OF HEART

Don Wert, playing third base only because Manager Charlie Dressen had a sudden change of heart, banged out three of the Tigers' eight hits. He knocked in the two runs in the second inning which put Detroit ahead to stay.

Willie Horton regained some of the form he flashed in Florida. He sent home a couple of runs with long triples to center.

Bill Freehan also had a pair of hits and scored twice.

Hank Aguirre is Dressen's choice to start tonight against the Yankees. Whitey Ford is expected to start for New York.

ERROR SHOWS — Detroit Tigers' second baseman Jerry Lumpe displayed this hand-to-mouth expression after he committed a fielding error in the game against the New York Yankees last night. Yankee pitcher Bob Meyer grounded to Lumpe in the second inning and he booted the ball which lies at his feet.

Detroit Spoils Berra Birthday

Yogi, 39, Yankees Takes 7-2 Beating

DETROIT (AP) — Tuesday was New York Yankees Manager Yogi Berra's 39th birthday.

But, Detroit Tigers Manager Charlie Dressen didn't give Yogi a present. Detroit whipped New York 7-2, and Dressen said:

"I would have spoiled my wife's birthday if it meant we would win."

Willie Horton's two booming triples to center and right-center brought a broad smile to Dressen's face when he was reminded of them.

"Maybe we've got another Hank Aaron there," he said. "No one knew anything about Aaron until Bobby Thompson got hurt. Aaron got into the lineup then and hasn't been out since."

Dressen added Horton would have been on the bench if Al Kaline hadn't been ordered to rest because of a leg injury.

The Detroit manager also changed his mind in the last minute and put Don Wert back at third instead of going with Bubba Phillips.

Golf Urged for Olympic Games

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Golf definitely should be in the Olympic Games, Fred Corcoran asserted today, because the Canada Cup and International Trophy matches have proved it to be a world-wide sport.

★ ★ ★

Once international competition was limited to the amateur Walker Cup established in 1922 and the professional Ryder Cup started in 1927.

The theory then was that they represented "world" championships because only Great Britain and the United States played the game.

The truth is that today both of those events are as obsolete as antimacassars, and you young sprouts can ask grandma what they were.

"Golf is actually a worldwide sport today which unquestionably should be in the Olympics," said Corcoran, the Boston Irishman who has contributed more to golf than the wedge. "The results of our matches prove that it is more widely played, and well, than many of the so-called Olympic sports."

CANADA CUP RECORDS

Bearing out his contention are those Canada Cup records. The cup, a team prize, has been won by two-man teams from such scattered places as Australia, Argentina, Ireland and Japan.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, our team the last time out, barely snatched it from Spain and together they have to be ranked the best in the world.

The individual International Trophy has been taken by players from Argentina, Canada, Belgium, Spain and Japan.

There is a thought in Corcoran's mind, too, that golf would do a lot more to help promote international harmony as an Olympic sport than some of the other events which almost always provoke dissension.

"You get out there and shoot your score," he pointed out.

"Nobody can change it on you. But look at the scoring in Olympic diving, for example, where a U.S. diver gets a good score from judges of the free nations and a ridiculously low score from Communist country judges. The whole thing becomes a farce."

The International Trophy matches last fall in Paris drew two-man teams from 33 nations and went off without a hitch. The amity among the players was genuine and unforced.

Waterford Loop Delayed After One Night of Play

Although the damp weather has postponed tonight's Waterford Township softball games, the league did get started last night with two decisions.

Lakeland Pharmacy defeated newcomer Howe's Lanes in Class B play, 7-6, in eight innings; while in "C" action, Taig's Tree Service toppled Dixie Bar, 4-2.

Dave Struble's bases-loaded single in the first extra inning was the game-ending blow as Lakeland triumphed.

Relief pitcher Jack Nelson yielded a lone unearned run in three-and-a-third innings to earn the victory.

Howe's, which has moderate success in the Pontiac Class A League last season, outhit Lakeland, 10-5, but committed six errors and issued 12 walks.

★ ★ ★

Taig's victory came on John Stephens rbi single and a double steal in the sixth inning that dissolved a 2-2 tie.

Jim Cuthrell was the winning moundsman although touched for three singles by Ray Jergovich.

Skippers Snap Northern Win String

Waterford snapped Pontiac Northern's seven - game winning streak yesterday, 6-4 and slowed, at least temporarily, the Huskies' runaway in the race for the Inter-Lakes League baseball title.

★ ★ ★

The defeat left the Huskies with a 6-1 mark in the I-L and a one game lead over Walled Lake (5-2), a 4-3 winner over Southfield. Berkley nipped Farmington, 4-3, in 11 innings in the other I-L tilt.

The Skippers, running their season mark to 7-5, scored twice in the opening frame off Mike Burklow and added four more in the fifth on three singles, two errors, a walk and a wild pitch.

Gary Grant, the winning pitcher, and Ron Carpenter delivered two-run singles in the rally.

Steve Daniels paced the Huskies with a pair of doubles and Bill McLaughlin added a single and double.

The Huskies meet Walled Lake Friday on the PNH diamond.

OVERTIME WIN

A single by Don Robinson, a stolen base and a base hit by Fred Ferguson brought in the winning run for Walled Lake in the eighth inning.

★ ★ ★

Southfield forced the game into overtime with a rally in the seventh inning that produced three runs and deadlocked the score at 3-3.

Kettering regained a tie with Romeo for the Tri-County League lead by trimming L'Anse Creuse, 3-1. The Captains and Bulldogs are 4-1 in loop play.

Kettering scored single runs in the first two innings and wrapped up the decision with three in the top of the seventh. Dale Manning and Craig Collins paced the attack with three hits each, and Collins' output boosted his average to .500.

FALCONS FALL

In Oakland A games, Lake Orion handed Rochester its first defeat in loop competition, 8-2, and Avondale squeezed out a 2-1 victory over Madison.

Dave Phillips went the distance for the Dragons yielding his first run in 20 innings.

Dennis Acker fanned eight in going the distance for the Yellow Jackets, and his battery mate, Dick Redderway, knocked in the winning run in the fifth with a single.

In other games, Hazel Park blanked Birmingham Seaholm, 2-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Gary Eddings, and Royal Oak Kimball defeated Ferndale, 2-1, in eight innings.

Tim Hillstrom fanned 16 as Kimball upped its Eastern Michigan League record to 4-1.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Bill Stanforth lost his first game in six starts in a pitcher's duel Tuesday as Detroit bowed to Bowling Green 3-2.

Class B Thinclads Down 'Big' Schools

Two Class B schools had their day in track competition with Class A schools yesterday.

Cranbrook downed Class A Milford, 60-49. Oxford, a "B" school, picked on larger Lapeer and L'Anse Creuse in a triangular. The Wildcats scored 59 points to 54 for L'Anse and 14 for the Panthers.

Pontiac Northern defeated Waterford 4-1, and Bloomfield Hills downed Birmingham Groves, 5-2, in tennis yesterday.

Ron Archene of L'Anse Creuse won three first places. He took the high and low hurdles and the high jump. Oxford gained its margin of victory in the shot put when it swept all four places.

Arch Copeland won the 100 and 220 to pace Cranbrook to its win over Milford.

TRACK RECORDS

Harold Faught of Milford set a Cranbrook track record in the 880 with a clocking of 2:01.6. The Cranbrook mile relay team set a track mark with a 3:34.6.

Pontiac Northern swept the two doubles matches in straight sets to down Waterford.

Bloomfield Hills won its 12th tennis match in 13 starts.

Canoe Guide Is Available

Free copies of a streamlined guide for canoeists are now available from the Conservation Department's publications room in Lansing.

The publication is "Michigan Canoe Trails," a joint effort of the department and Michigan Tourist Council, which lists 59 easy-to-hard canoe runs on the state's streams.

Reprinted in a convenient pocket-sized form, it outlines these canoeing routes on a map of Michigan, also showing landings, camping places, portages and other features.

Each run is described in a short sketch which guides the canoeist from start to finish, telling him the length of his trip and tough spots he will encounter along the way.

British Cheering American

LONDON (UPI) — Europeans usually sneer at American distance runners, but over here they cheer for America's "unknown star" who could win the marathon championship at the Olympics in Tokyo this fall — Leonard Buddy Edelen of Sioux Falls, S.D.

★ ★ ★

No American has won the Olympic marathon since Johnny Hayes in 1908 — but the 26-year-old Edelen, who teaches school in England, has run the marathon faster than any other runner in history.

There isn't any official world record for the marathon, because no two courses for the 26-mile, 385-yard man - killing event are the same.

But Edelen's time of two hours, 14 minutes, 28 seconds in the AAA Polytechnic marathon here last year is the best time ever recorded for the event anywhere.

By comparison, the record for the famed Boston marathon, set by Aurele Vandenriesseche of Belgium in 1963, is 2:18:58.

Edelen, who hastens to point out that he still hasn't even qualified for the U.S. Olympic team, is horrified at the suggestion that he might be the pre-race favorite to win.

"That would scare me to death," he said. "Besides the favorite rarely wins, and I want to win."

ATHLETIC HERO

Although Edelen, a former University of Minnesota star, is virtually unknown in his own country, he is an athletic hero here — and also in Czechoslavakia and Belgium.

In keeping with his role as an American sports star who is unknown in America, Edelen teaches English to the English.

Luncheon Date Set for State's Hall of Famers

DETROIT (AP) — Officials of the Michigan Sports Hall of fame announced today that Henry E. "Heinie" Manush and Frederick C. Matthaei will attend the 10th annual induction luncheon next week and that the three sisters of the late Adolph Wolgast also will be present.

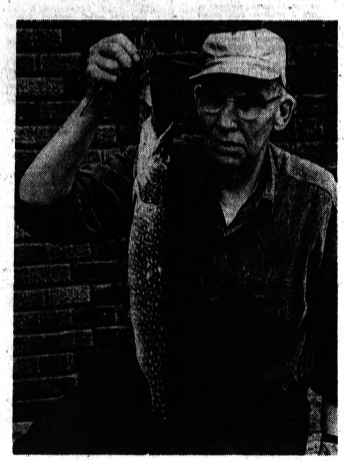

Manush, the former Detroit Tigers outfielder; Matthaei, who has worked most of his life in a futile effort to bring the Olympic Games to Detroit, and Wolgast, the former world's leightweight champion, were named to the Hall of Fame last week.

Representing the late Wolgast will be his sisters, Mrs. Gus Nelson, Mrs. William Cleary and Mrs. Edna Boyle, all of Pontiac.

The public is invited to the luncheon, which will be held at noon at the Roostertail Restaurant.

FIRST ENTRY—Joseph Butalla, 723 Wing, holds the first entry in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby, a three-pound northern pike. He caught the fish at Pontiac Lake last Thursday evening.

Storm Slows Area Activity

Anglers Eye Weather

If the weather ever decides to settle down, fishermen should experience profitable days on area lakes and streams.

Bluegills are beginning to move into shallow water preparatory to spawning, crappies are in close and so are trout. May is one of the top months for pike.

First entry in the annual Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby was a three-pound northern pike taken by Joseph Butalla, 723 Wing, while fishing Pontiac Lake.

No entries have been received in the bluegill and rainbow trout divisions. Black bass cannot be entered until the season opens June 1.

All county residents are eligible. The fish must be caught in Oakland County waters. Fish taken from private and commercial waters, Lake Angelus and Sherwood are ineligible.

The entries must be brought to The Press sports department for weighing. The hours for accepting entries are 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and 7 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

SAVINGS BONDS

There will be $50 savings bonds awarded for the heaviest pike and black bass and $25 bonds for the heaviest bluegill and rainbow.

The Derby closes Sept. 7.

Good catches of bluegills were made at Elizabeth Lake before and after last week's bad storm and high winds. But the fish, taken in shallow water on worms, were average or below in size.

Pine Lake is producing some nice catches of calicoes in shallow water.

Fishermen have been successful with small wobbling spoons trolled in two to four feet of water. Rainbows are being picked up using the same method on Pine and Cooley.

Big perch are hitting minnows in the northeast corner of Square Lake. But the catches have been inconsistent. The perch are running large, however, up to 14 inches.

★ ★ ★

Pike fishing was good on Lake Orion and Lakeville lake until the weather kept fishermen at home. Live bait was taking the largest fish.

Conservation Officer Cyril Adams of Lake Orion reports that all streams and lakes in the Bald Mountain area have been stocked with trout.

Some of these waters failed to get their usual quota in time for opening day.

Limit catches of two rainbows each up to 14 inches are being made at the Bald Mountain trout pond where fishermen are restricted to using flies.

Paint, Trout and Spring Creeks in the area contain good trout but the rain last Friday pushed the water near flood stage and reduced the fishing potential.

Browns continue to hit, with nightcrawlers the best bait, on the Huron River between Proud Lake and Milford. Some anglers are paddling canoes upstream from Milford and then floating back home.

Several have taken limit catches.

Night fishermen are taking a few good strings of rainbows at Cedar Island Lake.

★ ★ ★

Carp have moved into shallow water, much to the delight of archers and spearmen. Rough fish can be taken via these methods until Aug. 15. Kent Lake is a good spot for carp.

Belt of Dead Water Influences Fishing

Fishermen dropping hooks below the 30-foot mark in most area lakes might just as well be angling in their bathtubs.

Thermocline is the reason.

Skin divers are aware that the majority of deep lakes, and this applies to Oakland County waters, contain a thermocline zone.

It is simply a layer of dead water.

This belt contains no oxygen and is a gathering spot for all forms of dead matter — algae, weeds and plankton. The belt can be a foot wide or six feet in depth.

Skin divers who prowl area lakes report that the thermocline zone is found at an average depth of about 30 feet. They say there are plenty of fish above the belt, but only a few large species can be seen under it—and only when the top water warms up.

NEAR WEEDS

The divers also report that most fish are found near weeds in 15 to 20 feet of water.

What's the easiest way for a fisherman, sitting in a boat, to find this dead zone? A thermometer is the usual method. A sharp drop in the water temperature at a certain depth is the best indication.

"You can't see anything in this belt," said veteran diver Bill Periard of Pine Lake. "It's an eerie feeling to be down below the zone and see another diver coming through.

"First you see his feet, then his legs, but not the upper body."

★ ★ ★

Much has been written about the thermocline zone.

The best suggestion to fishermen is to keep the bait above 30 feet and the fish will at least be in that level.

Mother's Day: Time to Fish

Mother's Day has a double meaning for Wilfred LaQue, 2216 Glen Iris, Commerce Township.

It means taking Mrs. LaQue out during the day as is expected of good father. But this comes in the afternoon.

The morning is a different story. LaQue aways seems to pick Mother's Day morning for catching big pike. Last Sunday was no exception.

He went trolling across his favorite spot on Commerce Lake and came ashore with a 10-pound northern, 33 inches in length.

"He always gets a big fish on Mother's Day," said his wife. "Last year it was a 10-pounder from the same place. He just trolls a chub and brings one in."

Why wasn't the fish entered in The Press' Big Fish Derby?

"He didn't think he would win," said Mrs. LaQue.

Besides, half the fish has already been made into a meal and the head is off being mounted at the Commerce Lake boat livery.

Morels Popping in Many Areas of N. Michigan

Morels are popping out in many northern Michigan areas where they should hit their peak this week.

Throughout most parts of the northern Lower Peninsula, morel hunters are already having excellent picking. In the Upper Peninsula, these cone-shaped, wrinkle-capped mushrooms are just beginning to show up.

Warm rains have made prospects good for the next couple of weeks in both regions of the state.

Morels grow most abundantly in aspen and hardwood forests. Old, neglected orchards and burned-over woodlands are also excellent places to find them.

Smith Leads Shotgunners in Canadian Open Skeet

Larry Smith of Bloomfield Hills led a highly successful contingent of Oakland County shooters in last weekend's Canadian Skeet Shooting Championships and Quebec Open at St. Janvier, Que.

★ ★ ★

Smith won the 200-target 12 gauge event in the Canadian Open and lost a three-way shoot-off for the same title in the Quebec Open.

The 62-year-old consulting engineer was Canadian senior champion in all four gauges—12, 20, 28 and .410—and was Quebec Open runner up.

In addition, he teamed with Pontiac's Bob Thiefels to win the two-man team in the Canadian with a 393.

The Michigan Wreckers, composed of Smith, Thiefels, Chet Crites, Howard Confer and Jack Pattyn took the Canadian team championship by clipping 973 out of 1,000 clay birds.

★ ★ ★

This quintet set a record in the shoot last year by cracking a perfect 500, but high winds hampered shooters this year. The winds became so strong Saturday that one roof corner of the block clubhouse was ripped away.

ANOTHER WINNER

Florence Schmidt of Beverly Hills took the high over-all women's crown with a 446. She was the 20-gauge lady's champion with a 98.

Dr. Jack Wiant of Birmingham was subsenior 28 and 20 gauge champ with 99 in each event. He teamed with Birmingham's Ralph Zimmerman to place second in the two-man team 20-gauge shoot.

Tom Heffron Jr. of Groton, N. Y., won the Canadian Championship.

Federal Grant Aids Purchase of Parks Land

Conservation Department officials have received word that their application has been approved for a $350,250 federal grant to acquire park lands in southeastern Michigan.

Federal funds will be made available under the Open-Space Land Program to purchase slightly more than 2,000 acres for recreational use.

A total of $1,167,500 will be spent to buy the lands, including $817,200 in matching monies from Michigan's state park bonding program.

Among lands scheduled for acquisition are 1,033 acres at Brighton recreation area, Livingston County; 490 acres at Island Lake recreation area, Livingston County; and 178 acres at Pontiac Lake recreation area, Oakland County.

Another 200 acres will be bought with state and federal funds at Holly, Ortonville, Rochester-Utica, Bald Mountain and Proud Lake recreation areas in Oakland, Macomb and Lapeer Counties.

Over 1,000 Dogs Entered in Show

More than 1,000 dogs representing 100 breeds will be judged at the Oakland County Kennel Club all-breed dog show Sunday in the Detroit Artillery Armory, 15000 W. Eight Mile.

The show continues from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Standard obedience trials will also take place.

An unusual feature of this year's show:

★ ★ ★

The Amateur Mendicant Society, a Sherlock Holmes study club, will examine all 1,000 dogs present in an attempt to find the dog most like the famous Hound of the Baskervilles which Holmes tracked down and dispatched.

The owner of the dog thus selected will be presented with a special plaque, an authentic facsimile of the original footprint of the gigantic hound taken from the files of Scotland Yard.

Archery Loops Set Schedules

OCSC, Lake Orion Leagues in Action

Archery leagues will open the season tomorrow at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

★ ★ ★

Thirty persons have registered for the leagues which will meet each Thursday.

For the convenience of night-shift workers, one league will meet 10 until 11 a. m.; the second will meet from 5 until 6 p. m.

Further information may be obtained by calling OR 3-7441.

The Lake Orion Archery Club will be shooting its final matches of the Chicago Round Winter League tomorrow in the clubhouse at 985 Ferndale, Lake Orion.

The summer league, starting June 4, will shoot the new Sherwood Round — five arrows per end, four ends per game, four games per round from distances of 10, 15 and 20 yards.

★ ★ ★

Individual or two-man team openings are available. Registrations will be accepted at two special shoots on May 21 and May 28.

Rector Ends Hunger Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Clayton Kennedy Hewett, a white Episcopalian rector, has ended an 18-day hunger strike.

The Right Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, bishop of the Pennsulvania Episcopal Diocese, announced the end of the fast shortly after the Rev. Mr. Hewett, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Atonement in suburban Morton, was discharged from a hospital.

The bishop told newsmen the 37-year-old rector had agreed to end the fast because:

Gov. William Scranton's intervention has been responsible for the apparent beginning of real progress in the racial situation at Chester; the bishop wants the Rev. Mr. Hewett to have training to prepare him for additional ministry in civil rights work.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Mr. Hewett will spend several weeks at Parishfield, a special, interdenominational training center, about 50 miles west of Detroit.

He had been taking only vegetable, juices and vitamin capsules since his arrest in the April 24 racial demonstrations in Chester.

The rector was jailed in a converted garage used as an annex to the Delaware County Prison, and was moved to the hospital a week ago.

Mall to Have Display With Hypnotic Eye

A window display with a really hypnotic effect — that's what shoppers at Pontiac Mall can expect tomorrow from 6 to 9 p.m.

Karrell Fox, nationally-known magician who will appear in the Frank Fontaine Show here Sunday, is going to whip off a few mystical tricks in the Montgomery Ward display window inside the Mall.

He will attempt to hypnotize Miss Waterford, Nancy Shadrick, 18, of 3525 Lorena, a senior at Waterford Kettering High School.

Fox will be assisted by Pontiac's Junior Miss, Rose Marie Tripp, 17, of 1870 S. Hammond Lake, West Bloomfield Township, a senior at Pontiac Central High School.

★ ★ ★

The "hypnotic" display is designed to promote Sunday's show, which is a benefit for the new Columbia Avenue Boys' Club on Pontiac's North Side, according to Chet Mullett, publicist.

TV STAR

Fontaine, who stars as Crazy Guggenheim on the Jackie Gleason TV show, will headline the program. There will be performances at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in the PCH gymnasium.

Tickets are on sale at all Pontiac fire stations, the boys' club, Clyde Hasselle Studios, Osmun's and Grinnell's.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Danish Author Expires

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Harold Tandrup, 90, Danish author who supported the Nazis and quit writing after their defeat, died Monday in obscurity. He manifested his dislike of democracy long before the Nazi occupation. In the 1920s he wrote "The Dictator," an attack on the parliamentary system of government.

Ex-Wilson Aide Dies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Arthur B. O'Keefe, 81, an assistant U.S. attorney general under President Woodrow Wilson, died Tuesday. He was appointed by Wilson in 1918 after he had lost a bid for election to Congress and served until 1921.

Spanish Police Quiz Blast Suspects

MADRID (UPI) — Police questioned scores of suspects today in a search for anti-Franco terrorists believed to have set off a dozen explosive charges in the capital.

Madrid was rocked by four blasts yesterday, including one at a district headquarters of the official Falange party. No casualties were reported yesterday, but two persons were injured earlier in the wave of terrorist bombings that began Sunday.

Observers said the bombings might be designed to frighten away vital tourist cash to discredit the regime of Generalisimo Francisco chief of state.

There was also a hint of an anti-American campaign in two blasts that damaged cars with U.S. license plates.

★ ★ ★

The government also faced a serious problem in Asturias Province in the North, where 39,500 miners and steelworkers carried a strike into its 24th day in defiance of the government ban on all strikes.

The Madrid bombings yesterday included:

● A blast that ripped a tire and bent the wheel of a car owned by a U.S. Embassy employe and parked two blocks from the embassy. Another car with U.S. plates was damaged Monday in an explosion near the Castellana Hilton Hotel.

● A small explosive charge that shattered windows at the Falange District headquarters in downtown Madrid.

● A bomb that went off in front of the central bank, near the army ministry.

● One that smashed a window at the foreign office ministry.

Spain was plagued by a series of bomb scares involving airline flights last year. The underground Iberian Liberation Council indicated it was responsible for the bomb reports aimed at hampering Spain's tourist trade, which brought nearly $705 million into the national economy last year.

Tourism is the country's main cash - producing industry.

In northern Spain, more than 1,000 additional workers put down their tools yesterday in the growing strike of mine and metal workers.

★ ★ ★

A nationwide labor protest that brought much of Spain's industry to a halt two years ago also began in the Asturias mines.

The government said yesterday there was no sign the disagreement would be settled quickly.

Strikes are outlawed in Spain but the government has not attempted to force the workers back to their jobs. No violence has been reported.

The strike spread rapidly as a sympathy movement followthe lockout of a mining firm's employes April 28 because they refused to negotiate through the government - run trade unions for better protection from silicosis, a miner's occupational disease.

Trial Recessed After Threat

CHICAGO (UPI) — The $25-million fraud trial of Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa was recessed today while the presiding judge attended a special judicial conference in the company of U.S. marshals.

The marshals were assigned to U.S. District Court Judge Richard B. Austin yesterday after an anonymous telephone caller said he would be assassinated.

The call might be the work of a "crackpot," U.S. Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan said, "but we're taking no chances — This sort of thing is serious."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation did not say if the threat was connected with the trial and did not disclose who received the call. Marlin W. Johnson, special agent in charge of Chicago's FBI office, said all "necessary precautions" were being taken.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the phone threat came after the government's first witness had finished testifying.

LOAN APPLICATION

Stanton D. Sanson, a Bal Harbor, Fla., real estate investor, testified that Hoffa offered to grant Sasson's application for a $2.5-million apartment house loan from Teamster pension funds if he would take over a financially-faltering Hoffa land project.

Hoffa's defense counsel, led by attorney Maurice Walsh, interrupted Sanson almost sentence by sentence.

Sanson said the offer was made in a telephone conversation with Hoffa during the summer of 1958. He said another of the defendants, Benjamin Dranow, 56, called him and introduced Hoffa.

★ ★ ★

Dranow is presently serving a prison term for mail fraud and income tax evasion.

Sanson also testified that Dranow asked for a 10-per cent commission on the apartment house loan during a meeting in a Minneapolis, Minn., restaurant in 1958.

Flame of Coogie's Love for Abbe Still Dances

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Broken-hearted Xavier Cugat quite obviously would still like to reconcile with Abbe Lane despite their brawling . . . this is clear from chivalrous remarks he made to this columnist.

WILSON

"I'm insane about Abbe and always will be," Coogie said. "Just eight weeks ago she wrote me a letter with some presents saying she was madly in love with me. Certain people broke up the marriage by telling her, 'You should be in Hollywood.'

"Abbe walked out of my life but I cannot wish her bad luck. She has taken over every one of my dates in Las Vegas, in Ohio, in Canada, and I will be doing band dates in Portugal, Spain and Italy . . . Abbe was just marvelous with Cugat . . . she will be just marvelous without Cugat . . . because Abbe can only be marvelous. She will be a great, great success but I only hope she'll remember that her 14 years with Cugat helped her a little along the way . . ."

★ ★ ★

Barbara Loden was startled to hear that she's likely to elope with widower Elia Kazan, because she's happily married to producer Larry Joachim. Miss Loden, who plays the Marilyn Monroe role so tremendously in "After the Fall," said, "Nobody's asked me to elope recently, maybe because my husband and I have two children. However, my husband is very mad at me —because of a new haircut I got.

"I was at the theater and Russell, the hairdresser, gave me one of those new Didal Sossoon haircuts right in the hall, which made the hall rather crowded. When I came home, my husband said, 'If you're going to wear your hair like that, don't come home any more.' But I'm going to come home any more, because I live there."

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Richard Burton limped around the stage in "Hamlet" and "explained" jokingly to the audience: "Last night a man booed me, so I went to my room and kicked the TV set" . . . Sammy Davis Jr. heard the Copa chorus girls playing his records on a scratchy phonograph—so he sent 'em a new stereo set and $200 worth of albums . . . Duo: Alan Jay Lerner and actress Barbara Harris at Sardi's.

Yul Brynner bought another boat, and Frank Sinatra told him, "Congratulations — you've now got a bigger navy than Switzerland." . . . Barbra Streisand was offered $30,000 for a one-nighter this summer at the Forest Hills Auditorium.

EARL'S PEARLS: Television isn't replacing radio half as fast as it's replacing homework.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "A woman driver is a person who drives the same way as a man, only she gets blamed for it. . . . That's earl, brother.

Police Call It Prank

Viking Takes Mermaid's Seat

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) — An iron Viking today took over the rock in Copenhagen Harbor where Denmark's "Little Mermaid" used to sit.

Police said two patrolmen making their rounds of the harbor found an abstract welded iron sculpture of a bearded, helmeted Viking.

It was sitting on the same rock where the famed bronze mermaid statue sat until its head was sawed off by vandals last month.

The mermaid, embodiment of a character in a Hans Christian Andersen story, is currently absent from the rock while its new head is being cast.

★ ★ ★

The patrolmen took the gaunt iron figure to their station. A prospective purchaser offered $45 for it but police turned it down.

Police treated the matter as a prank. They said they had reports that a red station wagon with four men—three wearing hip boots—was seen near the waterfront at dawn today.

Denmark OKs Visit by A-Ship From U. S.

COPENHAGEN (AP)—After six years, the Danish government has agreed to allow an atom-powered American ship to visit Copenhagen. The merchant ship Savannah will arrive Aug. 25 for a seven-day visit.

Six years ago, the government denied the atomic submarine Skate permission to pay a courtesy visit to the capital. The Danish Atomic Energy Commission said if an accident occurred, the population might be endangered.

New York County, better known as Manhattan, is the smallest county in the United States.

Chinese Cite Lag in Party

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communist party has warned that some of its members are "stealthily carrying out activities to corrode and disintegrate the party."

"Such activities are often more covert and more liable to benumb the senses of the people than open armed enemy actions," said an editorial in the official Peking People's Daily, which has just reached Hong Kong.

Political observers said the warning was nothing new. The Chinese Communists have issued warnings of similar nature aimed at increasing the vigilance of party members.

Bond Issue Squeaks By

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — By only two votes, residents of Lakeshore School District approved a $980,000 bond issue for school expansion Tuesday. The vote was 1,002 to 1,000. Voters also passed a 7-mill levy, 1,183 to 1,130.

CBS News, ABC Level Charges

Boycott Announced for Emmy Telecast

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Broadcasting Co. and the news division of the Columbia Broadcasting System, denouncing television's Emmy awards, says they'll boycott the awards program May 25.

The National Broadcasting Co., which will televise the Emmy show, was the only television network maintaining full support of the awards by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

★ ★ ★

Both CBS News and ABC said Tuesday their staff members would not appear on the program to accept awards. Twenty-five ABC shows and six CBS News shows are nominees.

ABC charged that the awards were not determined "on the merits of the programs."

PRESS QUESTIONS

Thomas W. Moore, president of ABC-TV, said the network had planned to delay announcement of its boycott until after the May 25 telecast. "We are making this announcement now in answer to press questions," he said.

The first announcement Tuesday came from Fred W. Friendly, president of CBS News, who called the awards "unprofessional, unrealistic and unfair."

★ ★ ★

"Although they purport to be the best judgment of the television industry about its own best work," he said, "in reality they are the end result of pressure, politics, and in the case of news, lack of professional judgment."

He said the 27 categories "are outrageous insofar as news broadcasts are concerned."

COMPANY LOYALTIES

He added: "The very fact that many companies, including at least one network, pay for memberships of their employes and there exists at least an unconscious obligation on the part of many members to vote not according to conscience but by company loyalties, leads me to the conclusion that the final awards do not represent the total convictions of the membership."

The 6,000 members of the academy are voting now on the awards.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the academy said Friendly, as a charter member of the organization's New York chapter, has had ample opportunity to "express concern or make recommendations" but has not done so. He denied knowledge of any bloc voting.

When James T. Aubrey Jr., president of CBS, was asked if network producers of entertainment shows would join Friendly's boycott, he reportedly said, "At the moment, we don't know."

FREE TO ACCEPT

ABC noted that if any of its shows win awards, the stars or anyone other than ABC employes are free to accept them.

★ ★ ★

An NBC spokesman said: "We propose to maintain our active participation in the academy, to have our nominees attend the awards ceremony and —hopefully — to win our fair share of the awards."

Write-Ins Mar Barry's Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barry Goldwater was the top vote-getter in yesterday's Nebraska Republican presidential preference primary, where he was the only candidate listed.

But he ran into a strong tide of write-in votes for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and others.

The Arizona senator was barely scoring the majority of votes his supporters had predicted before the election.

He had just over 50 per cent of the vote while Nixon—who in 1960 had the presidential nomination that Goldwater seeks this year — had about 31 per cent.

Goldwater's major announced rival for the nomination, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, polled a sizable vote in the uncontested West Virginia preference primary.

Rockefeller had no write-in competition because such votes are not counted in West Virginia.

★ ★ ★

Returns from 1,455 of Nebraska's 2,148 precincts gave Goldwater 45,255 votes. The write-in votes went this way: 27,314 to Nixon, 14,037 to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, 1,571 to Rockefeller, and 983 divided among a handful of others.

LACKS LUSTER

In West Virginia, with 1,501 of 2,664 precincts reporting, Rockefeller had 62,426, about 64 per cent of the total vote cast in a lackluster Republican gubernatorial primary.

There were no Democratic preference contests in either state, but President Johnson rolled up a substantial write-in vote in Nebraska. With 1,494 precincts reporting, he had 38,776 votes. Gov. Frank Mor-

Rocky's Hopes Soar in Oregon

Campaign Is Paying Off, Polls Indicate

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller entered the closing phase of his campaign in the Oregon presidential-preference primary today reporting he was "encouraged and optimistic" by polls reporting he is gaining ground.

★ ★ ★

But the governor agreed with most other observers there was no way of telling whether his newly gained momentum would carry him to victory in the voting Friday.

He commented in an hour-long television show last night.

The Rockefeller forces attributed his gains largely to the fact he is the only active, on-the-scene candidate of the six Republicans whose names will appear on the ballot. That point is made repeatedly in all campaign activity.

★ ★ ★

There was 11th-hour activity by committees working for Sen. Barry Goldwater, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

CALIFORNIA EYED

The major candidates worked at the Oregon primary with one eye on the California presidential primary June 2. California will have 86 delegates to the mid-July Republican National Convention, compared with Oregon's 18.

Both Rockefeller and Goldwater hoped for a clear-cut victory to bolster their chances in California. Lodge and Nixon partisans hoped to head off Goldwater, thereby diminishing his chances of winning in California.

While Rockefeller moved about the state, Goldwater's campaign was conducted by volunteer workers that included his two sons, Barry Jr. and Michael.

★ ★ ★

From the Nixon headquarters came a statement that he would do well in the primary as a result of a telephone campaign now under way.

LODGE'S SON

George Lodge, son of the Ambassador, called a news conference today for what most observers saw as a trouble-shooting effort to try to halt erosion of his father's political strength.

New Treatment of Mentally Ill

State Hospital Starts Program This Fall

A new approach to treatment of the mentally ill will be inauguarated this fall at Pontiac State Hospital with funds from a $300,000 grant, it was disclosed today.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent, revealed that the hospital had received a coveted grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, a federal government agency.

The grant, $100,000 a year for three years, will finance a pioneer effort in Michigan of the Unit Plan, a specialized process of treatment.

Under the Unit Plan, according to Dr. Martin, patients are housed in a separate ward and receive intensive treatment throughout their hospital stay from the same set of staff therapists and doctors.

★ ★ ★

He explained that present system calls for only a relatively brief period of intensive treatment. The patient then may be transferred to several wards as he progresses.

SLIMLY STAFFED

"The traditional wards are often slimly staffed," the medical superintendent said, "and treatment is not quite as intense."

Dr. Martin expected the new plan to get underway this fall. He said that the grant would enable 100 patients to be placed in the Unit Plan.

He said that two wards in the geriatric building would be renovated for the experimental project.

★ ★ ★

Special personnel, including two psychiatrists, four graduate nurses, a psychiatric social worker and three attendant nurses, will be added to the hospital's staff to provide treatment for the Unit Plan patients.

PATIENTS

Dr. Martin said a random selection of patients would be made for the project. The plan, Districting Deadlock Over?

Pontiac Press Photo

LITTLE KEY FOR BIG DOOR — Barely visible above a car key is a tiny key which John E. Linabury (right) is slipping on his key chain with a helping hand from Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. (left). Looking on is R. Clare Cummings. The hardware involved is a "Key to the City of Pontiac." Cummings and Linabury were both honored by the City Commission last night.

Two Early Leaders of Area Paid Honor at City Meeting

Shortly after the turn of the century, a young man took a job as teller at the Citizens Savings Bank in Holly.

About the same time, a young engineer was tinkering with a couple of two-cylinder gasoline engines in Pontiac.

These "youngsters" — now with a total of 165 years, nine months and five days behind them — were given standing ovations by City Commissioners and administrators in a moving ceremony last night at City Hall.

The bank teller, R. Clare Cummings, went on to build a multimillion dollar savings and loan institution, First Federal Savings & Loans Association of Oakland.

★ ★ ★

John E. Linabury, the young engineer, put those two engines together and came up with the four-cylinder engine that powered the first Oakland automobile in 1908.

Both men were honored as they stepped down from long terms serving the city.

Cummings, who celebrated his 80th birthday today, had been a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors for 27 years.

Linabury, who will be 86 in August, had been on the City Planning Commission since 1952.

★ ★ ★

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. read citations honoring both men, and presented them with keys to the city.

VETERAN MEMBER

Linabury, of 81 E. Iroquois, is also a veteran member of the City Zoning Board of Appeals.

He mechanized the first General Motors Corp. foundry in Saginaw and engineered and built the Buick, Cadillac and Pontiac Motor Division foundries.

Linabury retired from GM in 1947 and turned much of his interest to public service. He is a native of Pontiac and both his parents were born in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Cummings, of 205 E. Iroquois, is a native of Franklin. Linabury graduated from Pontiac High School in 1898 and Cummings was a member of the class of 1903 at Birmingham High.

BOTH DEVOTED

Both have devoted much time to the Oakland County Historical Society.

Cummings was chairman of the board of supervisors two years, a long-time member of the county ways and means committee and its chairman in 1959.

He has served on the county planning commission since its inception in 1949 and was on the Oakland County Board of Education for six years.

Miserable Weather to End by Friday

Cloudy and cool with a chance of more rain is the weatherman's prediction for tonight.

Temperatures will fall into the high 30s and rise to 59 to 66 tomorrow. Friday's forecast is fair and warmer.

Precipitation will total around one-fourth inch in showers Sunday or Monday.

Fifty-two was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a. m. The mercury recording was 57 at 1 p.m.

Panama Ex-Chief Says Election Loss Fraudulent

PANAMA (AP) — Government candidate Marco A. Robles is Panama's new president, on the basis of nearly complete returns. The preelection favorite, ex-President Arnulfo Arias, denounced the outcome as a "most scandalous fraud."

Returns from 1,039 of the 1,144 precincts gave Robles an 11,066-vote margin over Arias—124,830 to 113,764. With seven candidates in the field, Robles got about 40 per cent of the total vote.

Arias claimed official figures released by the Election Tribunal were spurious and said the people would not tolerate violation of their will. He gave no indication of personal action to challenge the results of Sunday's voting.

Col. Bolivar Vallarino, commander of the 3,000-man National Guard, was expected to take decisive action against any violent protests by Arias supporters.

Vallarino generally is considered an opponent of Arias and is blamed by the ex-president for his ouster from office in 1941 and again in 1951.

★ ★ ★

The National Electoral Review Junta will meet Saturday to begin a scrutiny of election documents for any irregularities. It was generally expected that the junta's findings would not appreciably change the results.

Juan de Arco Galindo, who ran far behind in third place, also questioned the official figures.

RAPS ELECTION — Arnulfo Arias (center) tells interviewers in Panama City yesterday that the upset election of Marco A. Robles in Panama's presidential election was a "most scandalous fraud." Arias, twice deposed ex-president, opposed Robles, who had the support of outgoing President Roberto Chiari.

Goal Is Reduced for Tornado Fund

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney said late yesterday the target figure for public contributions to aid Macomb County tornado victims has been cut by three-fourths—from $1 million to $250,000.

He said the reduction was made by officials of the American Red Cross.

The original estimate of $1 million had been made by Federal officials hours after the tornado struck Chesterfield Township, Macomb County, resulting in the death of 10 persons.

"Since then, Red Cross and public officials have looked more closely at the number of homes destroyed and damaged, extent of coverage by insurance and other contributory factors," the governor said.

"While the extent of damage remains at the $8 million level, it now appears that need for contributions from the public will be $250,000."

★ ★ ★

Red Cross officials based their revised estimate on a comparison of the Macomb County damage with similar disasters elsewhere.

ADMINISTRATION

The tornado relief fund is being administered by the Red Cross and collected by a five-member board of trustees named by Macomb County Circuit Judges.

A $2,000 contribution to the fund was announced by the Michigan Fraternal Order of Eagles and its auxiliaries.

Macomb County officials said more than 1,000 contributions ranging from $1 to the Detroit

Tornado Hits Family Twice

Wind Strikes 2 Homes Separated by Miles

The swirling wind which swept across southeast Michigan brought double disaster to a Pontiac Township family.

★ ★ ★

Twisting along its erratic course, the tornado dropped on the Sylvester Cudnohufsky house at 3650 Lapeer.

It lifted, moved east, then descended again and ripped off the second story of the family's new colonial brick home in Chesterfield Township, 32 miles away.

Cudnohufsky, an engineer at Detroit Broach and Machine Co., Avon Township, was at work when the whirlwind first appeared.

★ ★ ★

His wife Pauline, 48, saw the black funnel approaching Lapeer Road. She was on her way down the basement stairs with three of the couple's five children, Kathy, 17, Sandra, 11, and David, 12.

DEADLY CALM

The disastrous winds hit.

Returning upstairs in the deadly calm, Mrs. Cudnohufsky saw the clock with its hands stopped at 4:30 p.m.

She also saw the shredded awnings, the broken windows scattered inside the house and the garage, pulled off its foundation.

Later Friday night the family drove to Chesterfield Township, near Anchor Bay.

★ ★ ★

They looked at what was left of the home they had just purchased and partially furnished.

★ ★ ★

The top half was gone. The garage door was 200 yards out in the lake. Only parts of the first floor walls were standing.

BOTH INSURED

"I guess we'll rebuild in Chesterfield Township." Cudnohufsky said. Both homes were insured.

★ ★ ★

"I hope it never happens again, because we might be in there the next time . . . We would have been there the next morning."

Area Sets Festivities for M-Week

Michigan Week — that time set aside annually to give the people, products and resources of the state special recognition — will begin Sunday.

Events are planned in most Oakland County communities on Monday, Mayor's Exchange Day, a highlight of the week-long activities.

Birmingham will celebrate its centennial anniversary in conjunction with Michigan Week.

On Wednesday, an open house will be held at Dodge State Park No. 4 on Cass Lake to allow visitors to view new facilities built at a cost of $295,000.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Mayor William E. Taylor will travel to Union City, northwest of Coldwater in Branch County, to trade places for a day with Mayor Harvey MacDonald, who is expected to arrive in Pontiac at 11 a.m. Monday.

GUEST MAYOR

MacDonald will tour the city and the GMC Truck & Coach Division plant, meet with city and county officials and be honored at a dinner at the City Club in the Waldron Hotel.

Area communites exchanging mayors or village presidents are Birmingham-Coldwater; Farmington - Reed City; Holly-Marine City; Keego Harbor - Watervliet; Lake Orion - Carson City; and Milford - Grosse Pointe Woods.

Others are Novi - Columbiaville; Ortonville - Tekonsha; Oxford - Shepherd; Rochester-North Adams; South Lyon-Merrill; Troy - Woodland; Walled Lake - Center Line; Wixom-St. Clair Shores; and Wolverine Lake-Niles.

Senate Okay of Plan May End Stalemate

Compromise Version of House Measure Passes by 29-4 Vote

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court decided today it will permit a new "one man, one vote" legislative redistricting plan to be added to the four plans it already has under consideration.

LANSING (AP)—A break in the legislative stalemate over congressional redistricting today appeared possible—but still far from a certainty—as the result of Senate adoption of a new plan.

On a vote of 29-4, the Senate late yesterday passed and sent to the House a modified compromise version of the so-called "Plan C" which the House approved earlier.

This compromise plan, most lawmakers said, would either retain the present ratio of 11 Republicans to eight Democrats in Congress, or possibly, give the Democrats one more seat, based on past voting trends. The compromise would cut only one outstate county line by including two townships of Clinton County in a neighboring district.

It set the stage for new efforts in the House today toward bipartisan agreement that could send the plan to Gov. George W. Romney for signature and immediate effect.

Such action could meet a

New Proposal Splits County

Oakland County would be split a new way under a congressional apportionment plan finally passed last night by the State Senate.

The 18th District would take in the south county communities of Royal Oak, Troy, Southfield, and Avon, Oakland, Bloomfield and Pontiac Townships.

The City of Pontiac would be part of the 19th District including the rest of Oakland County and extending deep into Wayne County in two places to take in Redford Township and the cities of Livonia and Northville.

Republicans and Democrats generally agreed the GOP would probably win a 10-9 margin in the fall congressional election with the 19th District being a "swing district."

Senate Democratic floor leader Raymond Dzendzel, Detroit, called insertion of Livonia, Redford and Northville in the Oakland County district an outright gerrymander.

'PLAN C'

Under "Plan C," adopted by a House majority April 24, the new 19th District would contain Pontiac, western Oakland County, Livingston County, and a part of northwest Wayne County.

The 18th District would be made up of the townships of Pontiac, Avon, Addison and Oakland, along with the county area south of 29 Mile and east of Inkster Road.

Sees Step-Up in Viet Fighting

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert F. McNamara today predicted a step-up in the war against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam but warned again that it would be a long drawn out affair and "we should not delude ourselves on this score."

★ ★ ★

In a statement before leaving for Washington, he said marked progress had been made in implementing plans to increase substantially the strength and fire-power of the Vietnamese Air Force.

"I am confident if our plans are executed persistently they will lead to success," he said.

McNamara spoke briefly to newsmen before ending a crowded 30-hour visit in Saigon. His Air Force plane took off at 7:02 p.m. (6:22 a.m. EST) for Washington via Pearl Harbor.

★ ★ ★

He said he was particularly impressed during his visit with progress made to carry out recommendations for additional U.S. assistance to the Vietnamese.

GENERAL REVIEW

McNamara's visit concluded with a conference with Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, strongman premier. They reviewed the general military, political and economic situation.

McNamara said preparations were being made to receive 75 new AD6 fighter-bombers to increase the strength and firepower of the Vietnamese Air Force.

He said plans were under way to raise the strength of civil guard and other paramilitary forces who are bearing the brunt of war against the guerrillas.

★ ★ ★

McNamara denied that any B57 or other jet aircraft would be coming to Viet Nam in the foreseeable future.

OTHER NATIONS

He said there had been further discussions on assistance that other Western nations could give to the American-backed war but indicated there were no immediate plans for troops or weapons from other countries.

McNamara predicted that he or other top administration officials would be visiting South Viet Nam every 60 days or so in the future.

He said he had discussed a wide range of military, political and economic problems during his brief stay here and these subjects needed to be updated periodically by on-the-spot reviews.

★ ★ ★

Tight security precautions were clamped around all McNamara's movements to prevent a terrorist attack similar to one that was foiled two days before his arrival. Viet Cong agents were caught trying to mine a bridge which they planned to blow up under McNamara.

At the closely guarded airport to see McNamara off were Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam and other top officials.

★ ★ ★

It passed the Senate with no apparent strings attached. But there remained the prospect that House Republicans would insist on adoption of other legislation as a condition for approving the congressional plan.

STILL ALIVE

Still technically alive in the Senate, despite repeated statements by Democrats that it is dead, is a bill to institute the so-called "Massachusetts Ballot." This bill would abolish the straight party ticket and list candidates by offices sought.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Henry Hogan, R-Birmingham, chairman of the House Apportionment Committee, said the Senate - approved congressional plan would give Democrats at least one more seat than the House version.

"I suppose we could accept it along with the Massachusetts ballot," he said. "If that bill is dead, than something else must be given."

★ ★ ★

Hogan is the chief sponsor of "Plan C" which, in all except the southeastern Michigan counties, is identical to the Senate-adopted plan.

ONLY DISSENTERS

With four Democrats casting the only dissenting votes, approval of the bill demonstrated a unity of redistricting not seen in the Senate in recent days.

Physicists Will Attend Dedication

Five physicists will highlight a symposium at Oakland University next Tuesday in a day-long dedication of the Kettering Magnetics Laboratory.

The laboratory has been moved from Dayton, Ohio, to the Oakland campus under terms of a $120,000 grant from the Kettering Foundation.

Participating in the physics symposium will be Gifford G. Scott, senior research physicist in the physics department at General Motors Corp.; John H. Van Vleck, professor of mathematics and natural philosophy at Harvard University; Sherwood K. Haynes, chairman of the physics department at Michigan State University.

Also, William M. Fairbank of Stanford University and Alexander J. Dessler of Rice University.

The symposium will get under way at 9:30 a.m. in the OU science building. Chancellor D. B. Varner will welcome the physicists.

LABORATORY TOUR

A tour of the laboratory, which has been operating since last fall, will precede a noon luncheon.

The laboratory was reconstructed at Oakland University to enable Scott, a co-worker of the late Charles F. Kettering, to carry on his and Kettering's experiments in magnetism.

The experiments were begun some 15 years ago. Kettering was director of the GM Research Laboratories.

★ ★ ★

The laboratory has been erected with nonmagnetic materials in order that the earth's magnetic field would be uniform in the area of the building. This field can be canceled out almost completely.

Experiments must be done in a very low magnetic field.

OU PORTRAIT — Former Michigan Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner (left) presented a color portrait of Sebastian S. Kresge to Oakland University last night in behalf of the Friends of the Kresge Library. David T. Wilder, head librarian, accepted the gift for the university. The Kresge Foundation contributed $1.5 million to the school for the library building.

U.N. Aide Calls Cyprus Ugly, Dangerous Situation

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—A United Nations peace force official called the situation in Famagusta today "ugly and dangerous" as a result of two days of clashes between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Greek Cypriots were reported setting up heavy machinegun posts outside the old walled section controlled by Turkish Cypriots in the eastern port city.

A U. N. spokesman, while not confirming this report, said he understood Greek Cypriot police were erecting new roadblocks around Famagusta last night, sealing off the city and halting cars.

The funeral today of two Greek army officers killed in Famagusta in a gun battle with Turkish Cypriots Monday heightened tension throughout the Mediterranean island wracked by nearly five months of strife between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

★ ★ ★

Greek Cypriots kidnaped 10 Turkish Cypriots as a reprisal for the shooting.

NO CASUALTIES

Greek and Turkish Cypriots in Famagusta exchanged fire for a half hour yesterday, but no casualties were reported.

Firing also was reported in the Kyrenia mountains north of Nicosia, and U.N. officials said there was shooting during the night near the northwest coastal village of Mansoura. There were no reports of casualties.

Irish U. N. troops, using new armored cars purchased for the Cyprus operation, reinforced their patrols throughout the Famagusta area.

The violence in Famagusta was the first in that city since the Cyprus fighting broke out last December over Greek Cypriot plans to change the 1960 constitution adopted by the island after its independence from Britain. The Turkish Cypriot minority feared the changes would restrict its rights.

programs with special emphasis on Michigan history.

BREAKFAST

Two Waterford Township schools will serve breakfast featuring Michigan food products.

The Pontiac post of the Michigan state police will open its doors to the public Tuesday from noon to 9 p.m. The post is at 1295 N. Telegraph.

A full schedule of activites is planned for the dual celebration in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Week-long events include exhibits and tours of utility offices.

Playground equipment will be installed at Shain Park in the downtown business district. There will also be a children's barnyard with live animals.

★ ★ ★

On May 22, Heritage Day, there will be a morning tour of historic sites and homes.

The centennial parade will be held the following day, beginning at 1:30 p.m. It is being coordinated by the Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Immediately following the parade Gov. Romney will give a speech at Shain Park.

★ ★ ★

This will be followed there with a fashion show sponsored by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

BAND CONCERT

A 30-minute concert will be given in the park at 3:30 p.m. by the Michigan State University band.

The crowning of a centennial king and queen will follow.

Dodge Park manager Carl Althoff said that visitors will be allowed into the recreation area free of charge on May 20.

★ ★ ★

Among the improvements, he said, is a $99,000 circular building which houses the concession stand, bath house and toilet.

Cost of the entire project will be paid through vehicle permit fees.

★ ★ ★

Parkway Road off Cass-Elizabeth is the entrance to the recreation facility in Waterford Township.

Mentally Ill to Get New Treatment

however, will be restricted to adults in the 18-65 age group.

The reasoning behind this stipulation, he said, is that specialized programs are already provided for children and geriatric patients.

The federal grant overcomes, at least in this one unit, the biggest problem in state institutions, Dr. Martin said. This is the need for more staff.

★ ★ ★

He said that not only will patients be kept in one unit, but the added staff would enable more individual attention from doctors and other specialized personnel.

TREATMENT

"The patient will receive continuous treatment regardless of his improvement."

Dr. Martin added that the end result of the project is that the hospital stay will be shorter.

He said that the expected turnover would cut into the hospital's waiting list. He said the plan would increase the number of beds for admitting patients and also increase space for intensive care.

★ ★ ★

The greatest bulk of work is in these areas, he said.

The grant expires at the end of three years, but the medical superintendent was hopeful that the plan could sell itself to the state legislature by that time.

Dr. Martin characterized the Unit Plan as "not really proven, but reports are impressive." He said that he knew of no other such plan in Michigan. He estimated that there were about 20 such projects in the country.

Unanimous OK Given to Name of Jones Center

The City Commission last night unanimously approved naming Pontiac's new recreation facility and swimming pool the Hayes Jones Community Recreation Center.

The new center, under construction since last summer, is slated to officially open next month.

It is located at Wessen and Walnut on the old city water works property.

Jones, the U.S. Olympic hurdles star, was raised in Pontiac where he was a track star at Pontiac Central High School. He now is employed in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The City Planning Commission had recommended at their May meeting that the center be named after him.

A resolution approving the move was offered by Commissioner T. Warren Fowler last night.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners said they felt "Jones has brought honor to Pontiac and the United States both as an athlete and in his private life . . . and is a model for American youth to look up to."

Goal Is Reduced for Tornado Fund

Edison Co.'s previously announced $10,000 had been made.

★ ★ ★

Sarnia, Ont., Mayor Henry Ross said he will investigate whether $3,000 left from Sarnia's tornado fund 11 years ago can be used to aid the Macomb County area.

VICTIMS WARNED

County authorities, meanwhile, warned tornado victims against what they called unscrupulous persons trying to exploit them by various illegitimate means, including phony home repairs.

Carl Brandenburg, supervisor of Chesterfield Township, said "sharpies" had descended on the stricken area in efforts to bilk people.

All township roads were open again yesterday. Some had been closed to all but residents.

Library Group Holds Election of Officers at OU

Friends of the Kresge Library at Oakland University elected new officers last night.

★ ★ ★

Carl F. Ingraham, 940 Harmon, Birmingham, was elected president, while Leonard T. Lewis, 1450 Pilgrim, Birmingham, was elected vice president, and Mrs. W. Edwin Mosher Jr., 1369 N. Glenhurst, Birmingham, secretary - treasurer.

The group also presented a color portrait of Sebastian S. Kresge to the university.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were elected to the board of directors.

★ ★ ★

Re-elected to the board were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, 341 Mead, Oakland Township; Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Gordon, 1099 Cranbrook, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Yntema, 3950 Franklin, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald, 520 Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. C. rison had 1,862 write-in votes, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had 1,368 and Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama had 799.

Nixon's showing in Nebraska was by far his best in any of the spring primaries. He is not an announced candidate for the nomination but has said he would accept it.

FERTILE GROUND

A last-minute drive for write-in votes, spearheaded by former Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton found fertile ground in a state which gave Nixon his biggest majority in the 1960 election —62.1 per cent.

Bloomfield Hills Budget May Require Added Mill

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — City commissioners last night gave tentative approval to a $472,200 budget which would require a tax increase of about 1 mill for fiscal 1964-65.

★ ★ ★

Hearing on the figure, up some $23,200 from this year's, was set for 5:30 p.m. May 28 at the City Hall.

Commissioners added some $15,200 to the proposals of City Manager Elmer Kephart, thus needing to add another mill to the tax rate.

Tentatively set at 22.44 mills, the rate marks a nominal decrease from the current 26.8-mill levy.

★ ★ ★

However, Kephart noted, city appraisals this year went up by 21 per cent, balancing the ratio of the decrease in levy.

PROPERTY VALUE

This year's appraisal program set the value of property in the city at $15,529,600, compared to $12,414,600 last year.

Kephart said $660,350 of the increase in appraisals is in new buildings, the rest coming from the adjusted increment.

Roughly, then, Bloomfield Hills residents would pay about $1 more per $1,000 of assessed valuation under the proposed budget.

★ ★ ★

Allocation for city administration would be jumped from $47,400 to $53,100. Commissioners last night added $1,500 to the figure to include salary raises for the city manager, city clerk and two office employes.

CONTINGENCY FUND

They also increased Kephart's recommended contingency fund by $13,700. The proposed figure is $41,500 compared to $34,800 this year.

★ ★ ★

Other amounts are police, up $5,600 to $98,600; fire, up $1,100 to $40,700; highway, down $1,900 to $91,000; municipal building, remains at $5,600; retirement and Social Security, remains at $14,000; planning commission, down $3,000 to $1,000; and sewers, up $4,800 to $122,500.

Kephart estimated property taxes would bring in $346,800. He also expects a $50,000 surplus from this year's budget.

★ ★ ★

The rest of the city's income will be from state refunds, various fees and miscellaneous sources.

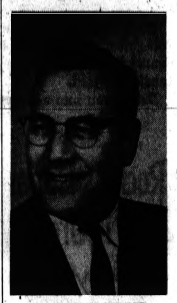

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the commission set for July 13 a special franchise election for Consumers Power Co.

★ ★ ★

The firm's present franchise expires Sept. 12 and the proposition on the ballot will seek renewal for 20 years.

The franchise ordinance, if approved, would grant Consumers the right and authority "to lay, maintain and operate gas mains, pipes and services on, along, across and under the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places, and to do a local gas business in the City of Bloomfield Hills for a period of 20 years."

ANTHONY RENNE

Lawyer to Run for Prosecutor

Attorney Becomes 1st Democrat Candidate

Waterford Township attorney Anthony Renne yesterday announced as the first Democratic candidate for Oakland County prosecutor in the fall elections.

Renne, 50, of 19 Baycrest served as an assistant prosecutor from 1958 until 1962 when he returned to private practice.

Formerly a Republican, Renne said he left the party when a fight developed two months ago on the appointment of a successor to former prosecutor George F. Taylor.

"I never heard of a party endorsing a candidate before the primary," he said, referring to Republican urgings that Robert L. Templin, one of three senior assistants seeking the office, get the job.

"I don't vote for a party, I vote for a man," Renne stated in explaining his switch to the Democrats.

ACTIVE PRACTICE

Active in civil and criminal law practice for 23 years, Renne graduated from Wayne State University Law School in 1940.

He went on to serve in the Marine Corps during World War II, being discharged as a sergeant in 1946.

Renne has served as past commander of Disabled Americans Veterans Pontiac Chapter 101, Oakland County Council of Veterans and Marine Corps League of Pontiac, and as past state judge advocate of the Amvets.

He is a member of Pontiac Elks Lodge and is past president of Pontiac YMCA Toastmaster Club.

Rightists Take Laos Military

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Rightist generals are assigned all but one post in a new command announced today for the Laotian National Army.

This army was formed by a merger of rightist and neutralist armed forces following the rightist military coup of April 19.

The sole neutralist on the command is Gen. Amkha Soukhavong. He was made deputy inspector general.

Gen. Ouane Rathikone kept his post as chief of staff.

The leader of the April 19 coup, Gen. Louprasith Abhay, was made deputy chief of staff.

The predominance of conservative officers was in keeping with relative strength of the merged forces. The rightists have about 50,000 troops, confined mostly to the more populous centers. The neutralists have 8,000.

The pro-Communist Pathet Lao, which refused to join in military unification, has about 20,000 men and controls about two-thirds of the countryside.

A communique announced the appointments were made by Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist premier who also is defense minister.

Gen. Sing Rattanasamay, formerly inspector general was made adviser to the defense minister.

Await Federal Decision on Merger

Bright Future Seen for Two Rail Lines

CHICAGO (AP)—Bright prospects beckon the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads as the nation's economy rolls along in a major and prolonged expansion.

But lasting prosperity hinges on fulfillment of Pennsy-Central merger plans set in motion 30 months ago. The proposal still awaits a preliminary decision by federal authorities.

★ ★ ★

This was the message to stockholders as owners of the Pennsylvania, the country's largest rail carrier, met Tuesday for the 117th time in Philadelphia, and Central shareholders met in Chicago.

Stuart T. Saunders, conducting a first stockholder session since taking over as Pennsy board chairman last October, called union of the rail giants "indispensable."

AT STAKE

Saunders said the stake for the riding and shipping public, as well as for shareholders, was tremendous. On Pennsy-Central union, he said, depends achievement of three strong and healthy rail systems in the East.

★ ★ ★

Alfred E. Perlman, president, told the Central session, the company's first in 112 years away from Albany, N.Y., that the Central has "pulled itself up by its own bootstraps."

Although he specified no figure, Perlman indicated the road might more than double 1963s $7 million profit in 1964.

"Our position is more solid and potentially more profitable than it has been during any of the past 10 years," he said.

Saunders termed the outlook for the rest of the year as "very bright," despite April's failure to live up to expectations. The Pennsy cleared $9.6 million in the January-March quarter.

Both rail executives made it clear optimism was concentrated in the freight sector, rather than in passenger carriage.

★ ★ ★

Saunders, acknowledging a public need for good passenger service, coupled a promise of improvement with a resolve to eliminate unneeded and financially losing operations.

In Chicago, a woman stockholder donned a widow's veil in mock mourning of what she called the "murder of passenger and Pullman service" through neglect by the Central management.

★ ★ ★

She was Wilma Soss, president of the Federation of Women Shareholders in American Business, a professional meeting-goer.

Wayne M. Hoffman, Central executive vice president, patiently defended Central efforts to attract business through World's Fair travel promotions, but said results so far were disappointing. Hoffman said chronic losses on dining car service were especially frustrating.

Perlman said passenger train mileage had been reduced 45 per cent in the last six years. As a result, he said, the Central's passenger deficit fell from $52 million in 1957 to just over $14 million in 1963.

Trial Date Set for Viet Aide

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The government announced today that Dang Sy, a former major whose troops fired on Buddhist demonstrators in Hue last year, will go on trial May 18 before a revolutionary court in Hue.

The bloodshed that resulted from the Hue incident precipitated the Buddhist crisis that helped topple the government of the late president Ngo Dinh Diem.

Dang Sy's trial will be the third major trial following Diem's overthrow. Ngo Dinh Can, Diem's brother and viceroy in Hue, and Phan Quang Dong, a Can aide, were executed last Saturday following their conviction on charges of murder, extortion, corruption and misuse of office.

Charges against Dang Sy were not immediately announced.

The Reverend Thich Tri Quang, one of the Buddhist leaders of the Buddhist anti-government campaign last year, requested clemency for Dang Sy in an open letter published earlier today.

Episcopalians Reject Prayer Amendment

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York yesterday defeated by a wide margin a resolution supporting proposed constitutional amendments to invalidate the Supreme Court's ruling against compulsory Bible reading and prayer recitation in public schools.

The convention was attended by about 900 delegates representing 136,000 Episcopalians in the metropolitan area.

Hospital Week Marks Medical Advancement

This is Hospital Week.

The area's superb therapeutic institutions stand as monuments to the progress of medical treatment and advanced care for the ailing.

It is interesting to note that of the drugs used today to cure everything from a sore throat to a heart infection, 80 per cent were unknown only 15 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Although to some extent automation has come into hospitals and a wealth of new equipment and technology been introduced, caring for the sick is still predominantly a service function.

In 1952, it took 205 employes to care for every 100 hospital patients. Today, it takes 246 to care for the same number. Approximately 62 per cent of hospital income goes for salary and wages.

★ ★ ★

Highlighting the week devoted to hospital recognition is a program of events planned for local facilities:

● On Friday, Pontiac General Hospital will stage a full-scale mock disaster drill, with some 800 volunteers and employes participating.

● St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will offer a week-long exhibition, with displays delineating careers in nursing, pharmacy, physical and occupational therapy, laboratory and X-ray technology and medical records.

● At Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, open house after 3 p.m. will be held every afternoon.

● A health fair on Friday and Saturday at Pontiac Northern High School is being sponsored by the Professional Committee for Cooperative Community Service in Pontiac in conjunction with the Oakland County Medical Society.

During the week, various employe teas and award ceremonies will be held at the several institutions.

★ ★ ★

The PRESS renders a laudatory salute to our fine hospitals, their efficient and dedicated staffs and personnel and the medical profession that so effectively employs the facilities offered.

Disregard to Imperiled a Growing Attitude?

It is to be wondered whether the deepening materialism of the age, as noted by many sociologists, is drying up the well of human kindness and mutual protectiveness among mankind.

Several shocking incidents, of recent occurrence, might indicate it. Three of them took place in the East, the other closer to home.

★ ★ ★

Recently a crowd of 40 stood apathetically at the entrance of a Bronx office building paying no heed to the screams for help from a young woman pursued to the threshold by her rapist. Fortunately, a patrolman appeared in time to rescue her from further harm.

About the same time, 50 persons watched as two 9-year-old boys drowned at Atlantic City. One man was attempting to save them but his lone efforts were unavailing. His desperate calls for assistance were ignored by the onlookers.

Last March, New York police said at least 38 neighbors peered out apartment windows offering no assistance as another young woman was stabbed to death in a prolonged attack.

★ ★ ★

In a comparatively minor hotel fire in Detroit a short time ago, two guests are in critical condition because bystanders indifferently withheld aid, which at no risk to themselves, could have rescued the victims.

The degree of humanity evidenced by the spectators in these four grim episodes closely parallels that of the ancient Romans who found diversion in the Colosseum watching Christian martyrs being devoured by lions.

Such callousness and inhumanity on the part of Americans, long celebrated for their spirit of dauntlessness and succor toward the imperiled, is indeed revolting. Let us hope that these displays of it are not symbolic of a new spirit of America.

As Threat Eases, NATO Quivers

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — NATO, born in peril quivers in comfort.

The foreign ministers of the 15 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meet at The Hague today to discuss their problems, of which they have plenty, and mostly of their own doing.

MARLOW

They have splits just at a time when—because the Soviet Union is occupied by its split with Red China — they might be solidifying themselves for the future.

But NATO has had an uneasy history: fright created it and, when it wasn't tormented by problems from the outside, it manufactured them from the inside.

Scared by the fear of Soviet power—after the Communists took over Czechoslovakia —Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxemburg formed an alliance for mutual defense. They wanted the United States in, too.

That was in March, 1948, three months before Stalin tried to grab Berlin with a blockade. It took the United States a year to smash the blockade with an airlift. By then this country had decided to cast its lot with Europe.

MARVELOUS UMBRELLA

NATO was formed April 4, 1949. The United States had a marvelous protective umbrella over Western Europe then because it alone had the atomic bomb.

This meant the Allies' ground troops could hold off a Soviet attack, if it came, until American planes went to work with the bombs.

This kind of thinking had to be altered, for by August 1953 the United States and the Soviet Union both had nuclear bombs. But ground troops were still needed.

★ ★ ★

It was agreed NATO would have 50 divisions for defense. But the United States was the only member which ever lived up fully to its commitments.

A FORCE FOR DISUNITY

Even in these early years, although he was then in retirement, Gen. Charles de Gaulle was a force for disunity. He complained the identity of French troops would be lost in the combined armies of NATO.

NATO suffered an internal convulsion in 1956 when Britain and France, without telling its partners, invaded Egypt. The Russians jolted the West, but good, by warning they would hit Birtain with missiles, although no one was sure the Soviet Union, had missiles then.

The United States turned on Britain and France, told them to quit in Egypt. They did.

On May 31, 1958, de Gaulle returned to power as premier and within a month began dismantling the unity of NATO by telling the United States France would make its own nuclear weapons.

Then he had a new idea: that the United States, Britain and France should be the bosses of NATO. The idea was a "directorate." The United States wouldn't buy it, saying this would mean less participation for the smaller countries.

Meanwhile, two other NATO partners have developed bitterness toward each other, Greece and Turkey, over the fighting in Cyprus.

It is against this background that the foreign ministers meet, consumed with their own splits at the very moment when the Communist world is split.

David Lawrence Says:

Firms Need Rights Act of Own

WASHINGTON—Citizens may begin to wonder whether there is any protection for the civil rights of those employers who undergo severe financial losses because of the arbitrary acts of persons engaging in wildcat strikes or walkouts.

★ ★ ★

Within the last few days, unions have had to call on their members to obey a federal court order which prohibits wildcat strikes that have arisen in some railroads over the terms of an arbitration award.

★ ★ ★

Also, there are wildcat strikes on construction projects in different parts of the country.

And in the nation's capital a group of printers caused suspension for four days of the normal editions of the Washington Evening and Sunday Star, resulting in losses not only to the owners but to the merchants of the city who depend to a large extent upon day-to-day advertising for their sales.

The Constitution forbids Congress to pass any law that would abridge the freedom of the press, but it does not prevent a labor union organization or its members from accomplishing virtually the same purpose.

★ ★ ★

The fact that a walkout occurs without the authorization of the national union and in violation of a contract, as happened in the case of the printers here, and that an effort publicly was made by the union officers to persuade the workers to go back to their jobs, does not erase the loss.

IS THERE REMEDY?

Is there a remedy under existing laws?

The right to strike is recognized in the National Labor Relations Act.

Redress, however, can be sought when individuals conspire with each other and engage in a walkout.

★ ★ ★

In the Washington case, the walkout by the employes was not sanctioned by the national union.

UNION RESPONSIBLE

But the statute makes is possible to hold the labor union itself responsible nevertheless for breaches of contract.

What happened in the current instance was that the foreman, of the composing room discharged a shop chairman of the printers union for allegedly violating the rules of the company.

The contract between all Washington newspapers and the printers union provides that such disputes must be submitted to arbitration.

★ ★ ★

The union argued that the employe should first be reinstated without prejudice, and it was the publisher's refusal to do this which led other employes to walk off the job.

When the strike was finally settled, with the issues to be submitted to arbitration if necessary, the shop chairman was reinstated as demanded by the strikers but with the loss to him of one day's wages.

But who will pay the employer's financial losses incurred?

This question has arisen many times before, and customarily when a strike is settled there is a tendency to let bygones be bygones.

This has led to the impression that wildcat strikes are never going to be punished, and that hence no risk is taken by those who start them.

Whatever penalty there is thus remains on the side of the employer whose property is damaged.

The civil rights controversy has properly emphasized individual rights where there are discriminations due to race or color or religion.

But there are many other forms of discrimination which have not yet been covered by law.

★ ★ ★

One of them appears to be that exercise of arbitrary power by a conspiracy of individual citizens to tie up a plant or a factory or a railroad without themselves undergoing any substantial penalty.

Bob Considine Says:

Crime Coverage Change Sought by Top Lawyer

OMAHA — Walter E. Craig, president of the American Bar Association, told Midwest members of the association gathered here, exactly how he would like to see crime stories covered by the U.S. press, radio, TV.

CONSIDINE

"The fact that a crime has been committed is news," he conceded.

"But who did it, and how, should not be disclosed until the person charged with the crime has had his case presented to the court.

"All that the news media should cover prior to the trial is a description of the crime and notice that a person is being held in connection with it.

"Further details should not be covered until the trial is in session.

"When this is not the case, we have the unfair situation of a pretrial trial by the news media.

"When that's the case, it's difficult to find prospective jurors who aren't aware of the crime and have opinions.

"This is an area that needs more study by both the news media and legal profession."

Republican Nebraska has a big, rawbone, free-swinging Democrat for its governor, Frank Morrison.

But he's not too much like the prototypes of his party, when the chips are down.

Here's what the Republican Omaha World Herald had to say about Big Frank editorially:

"Governor Morrison was at his best in encouraging and counseling Nebraskans who were victims of the tornadoes.

"His words at Wolbach, the town hardest hit, brought a standing ovation, and the sympathy he expressed when his helicopter sat down at various farmsteads struck a responsive note everywhere.

"The governor might easily have promised the tornado victims that he would storm Washington for federal aid, but this he did not do.

"Instead, he made it abundantly plain that the job of digging out and rebuilding is primarily that of the Nebraskans affected.

"He told the townspeople and farmers that he was not promising a government handout, but he pledged himself to work with them."

Voice of the People:

'Kennedy Family Skipped Daughter's Wedding, Too'

In a recent Monday column The Press jeered Queen Juliana for not attending her daughter's wedding.

Do you know how many of our "royal" family attended Kathleen Kennedy's marriage to a Protestant? Did Mother Rose, Father Joe, or any of her numerous brothers and sisters? I think Joe Jr. was the only one of the so-called close family who did join his sister on her most important day.

Let's Be Fair

(Editor's Note: If the Kennedy clan snubbed the wedding as you relate, we toss them into the Monday jeer box with all haste and dispatch. Thanks, pal.)

Comments on Conflict at Walled Lake

I have subscribed to The Press for 20 years and have always enjoyed it. I have lived in Walled Lake for 50 years.

The conflict between city council, manager, fire department and the police department is the laughing stock of the whole county. It seems our police chief, Albert Decker, is in complete control of all departments.

Let him stick to the police department and control the work he is hired for and let the other departments perform their own duties. Let's clean up the whole city and go back to being a "one horse" town if it will get rid of some of the politicians.

Says Lord Left Only Two Ordinances

As I attend church more and read letters in the VOP, I am amazed to find how little people know about our Saviour. Our Lord left two ordinances: water baptismal and communion. He is at the right hand of God making intercessions for the believers. Read your Bible, meditate on God's word, pray and approach it with an open mind.

Disagrees With Editorial on Negro Vote

Congratulations on another distorted Republican editorial. The amazing thing about the Negro support of the Democratic party has been that the vote was not 90 per cent. The Press refers to a Republican president who emancipated Negroes. Lincoln was not an abolitionist. He issued the proclamation to hurt the South economically during the war; the only Negroes emancipated were in states in rebellion.

★ ★ ★

The significant move came when Truman ended discrimination in the armed forces. The only thing creditable to Eisenhower was that he enforced a decision of a bipartisan Supreme Court. Negro voters will also take note of those Indiana Republicans who crossed party lines to cast their vote for Gov. Wallace. And The Press neatly neglected to mention John Kennedy who drafted the comprehensive civil rights bill.

Please do not print my name.

Gives Reason for Not Attending PTA

Letter writer G. Spangler appeared concerned because of the lack of support for the Elmwood PTA. I don't attend because at the first PTA meeting we were told not to discuss our children with the teachers at any PTA Meeting. If we wanted to know how our children were progressing we were to go to the school between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. I'm employed from 8:15 a.m. to 5 p.m. and it's impossible for me to visit the teachers at the hours specified.

PTA has many functions beyond this but it seems the children should be number one. Those of us who are unable to visit school during the day would like to depend on PTA as our link between the school and our children.

'Trying to Bankrupt Waterford Critizens'

It appears an attempt is being made to bankrupt Waterford Township taxpayers. The librarian is to get a salary increase even before the library (which the voters didn't want) is built. A crash program is in process to lay the mains for a "city-type" water system. The reported "tie-in" charge and estimated yearly cost appear excessive. And we are to have a new fleet of police cars of a kind that does not have a dealer in the township.

Next these public servants will probably condemn our wells so we'll have to connect with the water system, and then vote to put in a sewer system which will further add to expenses.

Administrator Doing His Job

The Port Huron Times Herald

The chancellor of Oakland University was precisely right when he fired the editor of the student newspaper.

★ ★ ★

The editor's complaint that the chancellor was perpetrating a breach of editorial freedom is not valid. It is typical of the immaturity which brought about the whole business.

★ ★ ★

The controversy stemmed from a survey of sex habits conducted among students at the university. The chancellor, D. B. Varner, says that faculty members and parents appealed to him because they were upset about the questionnaires used in the survey. He learned, too, that some of the answers were being faked to make a colorful story. He ordered the survey discontinued.

★ ★ ★

Wolf Metzger, the 20-year-old editor, complied. Then he wrote a news article on the chancellor's order. He termed the action censorship.

Mr. Varner brought the matter to an abrupt end by ordering printed copies containing the story destroyed, about 1,500 of them. Then he had the type from which it was printed destroyed, ruled Metzger out of a job and permanently barred him from working on any of the university's publications.

★ ★ ★

This was not censorship. It was not a show of force against the freedom of an independent press. It was strong and just action of an administrator doing his job.

★ ★ ★

A student publication is not a private entity, divorced from the institution it serves. It is a training ground, a loosely connected part of the curriculum. It is a place where budding journalists can learn something of the responsibility that goes with the job.

★ ★ ★

A mature sense of responsibility would have told Mr. Metzger that the survey business is complex, even when it is in the hands of experts. It would be highly questionable at best. At worst it would be unvarnished sensationalism.

It would have warned him of the danger, not only that he might do wholesale harm to reputations, but that he might leave his publication open to just criticism.

Mr. Varner is to be commended for careful supervision of the students under his charge. Anything less would have been dereliction of duty.

Key Stocks Up Fractions

Mart Higher in Heavy Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nudged higher today with buying heavy in some of the nonferrous metals.

Most gains of key stocks were fractional.

Calumet & Hecla, which soared 10 points Tuesday as the most active stock, was delayed in opening due to an accumulation of orders.

Copper was strong in the commodity market and this was reflected in some of the mining issues.

MOTORS

All Big Three motors advanced fractions. There was scant change among the "Little Two" motors, the major steelmakers and chemicals.

★ ★ ★

Airlines, building materials, drugs and rubbers were slightly higher.

★ ★ ★

Rails were mixed. Soo Line added another point.

Tuesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.0 to 307.8, a new high.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Draper gained about a point and Syntex more than that.

Key Stocks Up Fractions

Mart Higher in Heavy Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nudged higher today with buying heavy in some of the nonferrous metals.

Most gains of key stocks were fractional.

Calumet & Hecla, which soared 10 points Tuesday as the most active stock, was delayed in opening due to an accumulation of orders.

Copper was strong in the commodity market and this was reflected in some of the mining issues.

MOTORS

All Big Three motors advanced fractions. There was scant change among the "Little Two" motors, the major steelmakers and chemicals.

★ ★ ★

Airlines, building materials, drugs and rubbers were slightly higher.

★ ★ ★

Rails were mixed. Soo Line added another point.

Tuesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.0 to 307.8, a new high.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Draper gained about a point and Syntex more than that.

Chairman Rips Quiz of Solons

Senate Probe Viewed as 'Demagoguery'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., dismissed today as "the height of demagoguery" a request that his Senate Rules Committee investigate the relations of senators with Bobby Baker.

The request was made by Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., in urging the committee to "get to the bottom" of the Baker case and not treat members of the Senate as "a privileged class."

After Baker had resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, the committee launched an investigation of whether his outside business dealings had conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Baker, who built up a fortune he estimated at more than $2 million while on the Senate payroll at $19,600 a year, invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions when called as a witness.

URGE QUESTIONS'

At a hearing Tuesday of the Rules Committee, thrown open to the public at the last minute, Case urged that each senator be asked if he ever had had any business or financial dealings with Baker or had received campaign contributions or anything else of value from him.

"No investigation of Bobby Baker can have any real meaning without an investigation of the relations of members of the Senate with Bobby Baker," Case said at the stormy hearing.

★ ★ ★

In an interview later, Jordan said "I think it would be an insult to senators" for the Rules Committee to ask them the questions proposed by Case.

He said Case's testimony had He said Gase's testimony had amounted to "a blanket indictment" of all of the members of the Senate, "at least by intimation."

Jordan said that if Case has information indicating any wrongdoing by senators, "let him submit it to the committee, and we'll look into it."

NOT LIKELY

Jordan indicated that the committee is unlikely to recommend that Baker be cited for contempt of Congress, punishable by a $1,000 fine and a year in jail, because of his refusal to answer questions or surrender subpoenaed records.
