Strike End Near?

From Our News Wires
BURBANK, Calif. — President Kennedy's swift recourse to the Taft-Hartley Act raises the probability that the strike against Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be halted soon—perhaps within a week.

In the meantime, says the union, work on the vital missile and plane projects has been halted. But the firm says work is continuing.

Only hours after the International Association of Machinists struck the giant aerospace firm Wednesday, the President invoked the labor act, saying the

Detroit Teamster Official Pleds Guilty to Bribery

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
DETROIT — George Roxburgh, business agent of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's home local 299, yesterday pleaded guilty to a five-count bribery conspiracy indictment in federal court.

Judge Talbot Smith freed Roxburgh, 49, of Huntington Woods, on $5,000 personal bond. No date was set for sentencing.

Ailment Puts Pope John in Anemic State

VATICAN CITY (P)—Pope John XXIII is suffering from a stomach disorder that the Vatican said today has "provoked a rather intense anemia." Roman Catholics around the world were asked to pray for his recovery.

A Vatican communique said the anemia—a blood deficiency—resulted from an aggravation of symptoms of "gastritis," for which the 81-year-old pontiff has been for some time under necessary medical and dietary treatment.

Vatican sources said Pope John awoke "full of spirit" this morning but he was kept in bed in his apartment under the close watch of his doctors.

Mikoyan Arrives in Capital

Little Optimism Shown by U.S. Officials for Improved Atmosphere

WASHINGTON (P)—Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan flew here today for follow-up talks on the Cuban crisis and U.S.-Soviet relations with President Kennedy and other U.S. officials.

He said he hoped the discussion would be "pleasant and possibly useful."

In a brief airport statement, Mikoyan recalled that he first came to Washington in 1959 and returned again in 1959.

President Kennedy reportedly hopes to get some indications from Mikoyan as to whether Premier Khrushchev wants to move beyond the easing of the Cuban crisis into some general improvement in U.S.-Soviet relations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five of the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky., the 1st Infantry Division at Ft. Riley, Kan., and the 2nd Infantry Division at Ft. Benning, Ga.

But even as Mikoyan's Soviet jet-prop touched down at Andrews Air Force Base it was learned that the Kennedy administration leaders were not optimistic on the basis of talks which Mikoyan and U.S. officials held in New York yesterday.

Informants did not disclose any details of the discussions but said

These five divisions account for more than half of the eight-division force the Army maintains in the United States as a strategic reserve. The other eight Army divisions are in Germany, Korea, and Hawaii.

Only the 1st Armored was moved. Its more than 15,500 men were flown east from Texas in military and civilian planes, while its tanks and other heavy gear were carried by rail.

The other four divisions were alerted, all leaves canceled, and their men and equipment prepared for movement, sources said.

$600 Worth Passed in City

Get Bogus Check Warning

Merchants were warned today by the Pontiac Police Department to be cautious in accepting checks during the busy holiday buying season.

Detective Robert A. Emery said that some $600 in bad checks have been passed this week in downtown Pontiac, most of them stolen from the Kaiser Wholesale Co., 702 S. Paddock St., a week ago.

Others were stolen from Superior Auto Sales of Pontiac and Unalimited, Inc., of Royal Oak.

Emery said he also has learned that counterfeit, photocopied payroll checks from Timken Roller Bearing Co. in Detroit may be passed in the Pontiac area.

Pontiac State Bank was victimized of $300 Tuesday in accepting a forged cashier's check drawn on the Ohio National Bank in Columbus.

Russ, U.S. Agree Thant to Stay

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P)—The Soviet Union and the United States were reported agreed today that U Thant of Burma should be kept as U.N. secretary general until April 10, 1963, the date of the expiration of the second five-year term of the late Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden.

Hammarskjöld had been killed the previous Sept. 17 in a plane crash near Ndola, Northern Rhodesia.

The diplomatic sources said the Burmese diplomat wants to uphold the statutory title of secretary general and the statutory principle of a five-year term but does not want to serve another five years in the office.

The informants said Soviet-U.S. agreement to Thant's election was reached Wednesday at a meeting of American and Soviet negotiators on the Cuban crisis.

Seeks to Block Parking at Site

Lot Operator Files Suit Over Courthouse Spof

The Outdoor Parking Co., Pontiac's largest private parking lot operator, filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, asking that the court nullify the county's lease agreement with the Downtown Pontiac Business Association (DPBA) for free parking on the old courthouse site.

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem ordered a show cause hearing for 9 a.m. Monday to decide on the request for a temporary injunction to prevent the lease from going into effect.

The suit was brought against the county, its board of supervisors, its board of auditors and the DPBA.

Signed Nov. 19, the lease agreement provided for a $1 rental for a six-month period. The business group sought the lease for a free parking lot to boost development of downtown Pontiac.

OFFER MADE

An offer of $1,000 monthly rental for six months has been made by the private parking firm, its suit contends.

The county "is without authority to give away county assets without consideration," it claims.

The suit charges the county "was guilty of creating a legal constructive fraud upon the right of the citizens and taxpayers of Oakland County" in attempting "to dispose of a valuable asset for a very small fraction of its value."

The firm complains that the county issued no prior advertisement or notice to any other persons who might have been interested in submitting a rental bid.

It claims the lease "would serve the private interests of those near the property and would serve no general public purpose."

Dean G. Beier, Pontiac attorney representing the parking company, said his client's use of the property would be "just as public" as the business group's.

Supervisors authorized the lease agreement Nov. 7 after receiving an informal recommendation in its favor from city commissioners.

When the lease was signed, Max Adams, Pontiac area Chamber of Commerce manager and director of the business association, said the property would be resurfaced and ready for free parking before Christmas.

Plans called for space for about 100 cars for shoppers and persons doing business with downtown offices.

The suit says its allegations are "not intended to imply or suggest that there was any willful dishonesty on the part of the board of supervisors or any of its members."

Algeria Enacts Communist Ban

Believe 50,000 on Unpublished Party List

ALGIERS (AP)—The Algerian government has banned the Communist party.

Information Minister Mohamed Hadj Haneou told newsmen President Ahmed Ben Bella's government days ago. He gave no further details.

Wednesday night the Arab language Communist party paper Al Hourya was banned.

The information minister said it had not been decided what, if any action would be taken against the leaders of the party. Head of the Algerian Communist party is Henri Alleg, a European.

Ben Bella has been studying with his Cabinet for several days the question of the Communist party and internal problems.

The Communist party's membership has never been published, but some unofficial estimates put the figure at about 50,000 in a country of 10 million population.

During the 7-year national revolution the Communists at first did not support the rebellion, then reversed their stand, but never took an important role in the fight.

The Algerian rebel organization had close ties, however, with the Soviet Union, Communist China and other Communist countries.

Storm Lashing Florida Coast Moves Slowly

MIAMI (UPI)—A fierce winter storm kept up its damaging assault on the Florida coast today and the weather bureau said the pounding tide would continue for the next 24 hours.

A 20-foot section of concrete seawall at a South Jacksonville, Fla., beach crumbled this morning and authorities said a 100-foot portion of the wall threatened to collapse any minute.

A foot of sea water flooded some streets in Jacksonville at high tide today.

The weather bureau said the center of the storm was located about 600 miles east of the Georgia coast.

The bureau said the storm was moving slowly northeastward but said it "will subside only slightly during the next 24 hours."

Gale warnings were displayed from Savannah, Ga., to the Virginia capes and small craft warnings from New Jersey to the Florida Keys.

Refugees Blast Yugoslav Post

BAD GOESBERG, Germany

— About 30 refugees from Croatia attacked the consular mission of Communist Yugoslavia here today in a commando-style raid, setting off three bombs in the building and injuring two persons.

Using the occasion of the Yugoslav national holiday, the attackers pulled up to the three-story building in two buses shortly before noon. They blew open the front door and stormed inside.

Momcil Popovic, Yugoslav caretaker, attempted to resist and was shot in the chest and stomach. His condition is critical.

Another employee of the mission, who was not identified, was beaten and suffered head injuries.

The attack apparently was a demonstration against the Communist regime of Yugoslavia, of which Croatia is a state. There are several thousand refugees from Yugoslavia in West Germany.

County Seeks Bridge Funds

The Oakland County Road Commission has applied for a federal grant of $12,100 to help finance replacement of 10 "one-way" bridges in the county, Chairman Sol D. Lomerson announced today.

The funds are sought from the federal government's public works acceleration program to give $232,100 in county money for the project.

No other way is available to finance replacement of the narrow bridges that hold only one car at a time, Lomerson said.

The county cannot undertake the projects unless half the cost is paid by outside funds. Such funds usually come from the townships, but the townships don't have the money, Lomerson explained.

The project came as "Yankee go home" slogans appeared on the walls of the national assembly building as American envoy W. Averell Harriman conferred with Ayub in talks described by American officials as "crucial."

A foreign ministry spokesman in New Delhi declined to disclose what Chou had to say in his letter to Nehru.

But the spokesman told newsmen that previously received Chinese cease-fire proposals have become more confusing.

The spokesman was referring to clarification for which India had asked last week.

He said India is still considering the proclamation that halted the fighting but was unable to clear up points under which the Chinese proposed to withdraw from Himalayan positions as a forerunner to peace talks.

The Chinese proposed both sides pull back 12½ miles from what they called the actual line of control in November 1959.

"This is the line they presently hold in Ladakh, in northwest India, and would give the Chinese control of a considerable amount of territory India claims."

The Chinese suggested that civil police keep guard in the area from which the Communist forces withdrew.

The Indian spokesman said the confusion in the Chinese proposals centers around the areas where the civil police would be stationed. He said India feels the police would be on Indian-claimed territory.

Officials Slate Meeting on Water System Plan

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Officials of Bloomfield Township and the Oakland County Department of Public Works will meet tomorrow to discuss a $2,650,000 project which would allow residents here to be served by Detroit water.

The $2,650,000 is the estimated cost for constructing an internal water system to serve all homes and business places in the township now served by separate systems, according to Township Treasurer Homer Case.

The project would be financed by revenue bonds issued by the County DPW, Case said.

The treasurer explained that interest rates would be lower if the county handles the bond sale rather than the township.

MEET TOMORROW — Meeting tomorrow with County DPW Director R. J. Alexander will be Case, Township Supervisor

Arno Hulet, James Scott, head of the township's water and sewer departments, and two bonding attorneys.

The township board of trustees has approved a resolution which allows Hulet to negotiate with the Detroit Water Board.

At this point in the program, Case said, the township expects to pay $1.52 per thousand cubic feet for the Detroit water.

The estimated cost for each home would be approximately 30 cents per thousand gallons plus an annual debt retirement charge of $20.

Business places would pay for the water on a unit basis, each unit costing the same price as a single home.

PAYS FOR TIE-IN — Case emphasized that the bond issue would pay for tying in all present systems.

Any new property owners here would be required to pay a tap-in fee for the water after the system is installed.

After an agreement is reached with the county, Case said, the next step would be to sign a contract with the Detroit Water Board.

If the program stays on schedule, township residents should have Detroit water by early 1964, Case said.

FBI Report Reveals Hike in Crime Rate

WASHINGTON — The rate of serious crimes in the United States jumped 5 per cent in the first nine months of this year, the FBI said today.

The increase, measured against the same period last year, was prepared from the FBI's uniform crime report.

A Citizens for Case Committee has been organized to promote the candidacy of Bloomfield Township Treasurer Homer Case for township supervisor in next spring's election.

Case announced his candidacy for the post two weeks ago.

Chairman of the committee is Birmingham attorney Dale A. Winnie.

While township treasurer, Case also was appointed public safety director, in which capacity he reorganized the township's fire department, constructed three new fire stations and made improvements in the police department.

Case has said he will work for a township library and improvement of roads.

"From his past record as township treasurer," Winnie said, "we are convinced that if Mr. Case is elected he will continue to make our township the best in the entire state."

Current Township Supervisor Arno Hulet is not expected to seek re-election.

Case is an elder in the Birmingham Church of Christ, a past president of the Bloomfield Lions Club, and a lifelong resident of the township. He and his wife Mary have three sons.

The President was expected to emphasize to Mikoyan that the United States will either get international safeguards for the removal of Soviet nuclear weapons from Cuba or it will continue its surveillance indefinitely.

He was also expected to stress heavily that his no-invasion policy does not mean U.S. acceptance of or protection for the Castro regime. It means, officials said, that the United States does not choose to try to destroy Castro by military means but will use such means if necessary in response to any Cuban aggression.

Cuba Exile Describes Homeland

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — "Unbelievable" is the term used by a former militiaman in Cuba to describe conditions in his homeland under Premier Fidel Castro.

Carlos Martinez, 34, made the comment in Grand Rapids where he arrived nearly six months ago with his wife, Maria, and their 20-month-old daughter, Dora.

Martinez served several months in Castro's militia of which he said:

"You didn't have to join, but if you didn't, you stood a good chance of losing your job — or worse."

He declined to elaborate on his former experience except to say that his knowledge of English permitted him to act in Cuban-American business transactions.

At first, Martinez continued, people thought of the militia as "fun — sort of a game . . . I remember seeing kids 12 and 13 years old training with mortars and machine guns. Then you realize it isn't so funny anymore."

He said he "got out" of the militia and, despite pressures, left Cuba. His mother remains. Martinez and his family are sponsored in Grand Rapids by the Christian Reformed Church.

When the family made ready to leave home, Martinez said, Castro forces "took everything — my car, furniture, house, watch, clothes, even my wife's engagement ring."

Now employed in a Grand Rapids factory, he says the Castro regime concentrates on the "young, impressionable ones" for indoctrination.

"I want to go back to fight before all the young people are lost," he adds.

"They won't know freedom. Me, though, I know what freedom is and how it feels when you lose it."

Cites Radiation in Cancer Cure

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 80 per cent of a group of 83 women who had radiation treatments for cervical cancer prior to surgical removal of the affected tissue were found to have no traces of the disease in later surgery, three Detroit researchers reported yesterday.

Drs. Shek C. Chen, James Lofstrom and M. Arthur Budden of Wayne State University college of medicine told the radiological society of North America that radiation therapy is definitely effective in cervical cancer, particularly in its early or middle stages.

The treatment consisted of giving 8,000 to 10,000 roentgens of radiation with conventional X-ray equipment over 5 to 10 weeks, supplemented with an additional 5,000 roentgens from an internaly planted radium source. The patients then underwent surgery for removal of the cervix and any suspect surrounding tissue.

Cars are gaining on people. Motor vehicle registrations rose 130 per cent to a total of 71.5 million between 1945 and 1959 compared with a population increase of only 33 per cent.

Moose Charges Down Runway Into Jet Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The bull moose lowered his head, pawed the ground, charged and clubbed his opponent right between the No. 1 and No. 2 engines.

The roaring Boeing 720 jet, taxiing for a take-off Tuesday, wasn't staggered very much by the blow, but airport officials were.

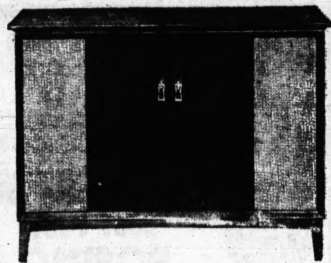

"It gets expensive," Tony Schwamm, Anchorage International Airport manager, said. The plane was delayed about 30 minutes for a checkup.

Sir Winston's Birthday Very Special Occasion

The birthdays of great men are rarely observed publicly in any significant way until after they have passed from the scene. But every year that rolls around for Sir Winston Churchill, who will be 88 years old Friday, becomes more and more an occasion for public congratulations.

Perhaps it is, as one observer notes, that the quiet round of Sir Winston's life in recent years has been almost a symbol of permanence, continuity, tradition—the values many Britons cherish in a changing world.

This year's anniversary is especially felicitous because Churchill demonstrated that even a man of his age can make a successful recovery from a broken thigh bone.

He suffered the injury last June 28, was for a time believed to teeter between life and death, but was sufficiently improved by Nov. 1 to shuffle into London's Savoy Hotel for the annual gathering of the Other Club, which Churchill helped organize in 1911.

If Nov. 30 is one of Churchill's better days, he may motor to the House of Commons (which he first entered 62 years ago) to receive the traditional birthday cheers from the government and opposition benches and the public galleries.

Long indeed is the list of admirers from around the world who will be sending their best wishes to this grand old man with his famous cigar, and V for victory sign.

Castro's Downgrade Won't End West's Woes

United States troubles over Cuba, with intrigue seething in the Caribbean area, long antedate Castro's coming to power with a vow to overthrow the governments of neighboring countries.

However, Castro has contributed a great deal to our woes in recent years, and without him the Communist push might well have remained in check, at least to a degree.

Despite the Soviet Union's back-away from its attempt to use Cuba to tilt the nuclear balance of power, American difficulties in that quarter are not likely to end with Castro's humiliation.

On the contrary, historians point out that the U.S. frustration over Cuba (and some of its neighbors) is more nearly the normal state of affairs.

At present the threat in the Caribbean comes from the Russian-sponsored government of Cuba. The withdrawal of nuclear capability there shifts the danger to the indirect threat of subversion and sabotage against the other Caribbean countries.

Venezuela charges that her oil fields have already been a target of Cuban-inspired sabotage, and many Latin American diplomats believe Castro's efforts to induce continent-wide revolution will now be put into high gear.

While the menace is undoubtedly greater to the countries south and west of Cuba, it cannot be ignored by our Washington government.

In New York City on Nov. 17, agents of the FBI arrested three Cubans, including one diplomat accredited to the United Nations, and seized a cache of arms and explosives intended for use on oil storage facilities in the U.S. largest port.

Just a few days ago the Guatemalan army crushed a revolt which was led by pro-Communist air force rebels. More of this can be expected throughout Latin America in the months ahead.

The quicker Castro goes, the quicker a Communist headquarters base will be eliminated from our hemisphere.

Care of Salt-Pepper Sets Makes One Shake Leg

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

A recent report of a Rochester lady's collection of salt and pepper shakers sort of shook up

Albert Stephens and as a result the title in that division has moved to United Lake.

My friend reports that his collection, started by his late wife, numbers over 400 sets, many coming from friends knowing of the hobby. There are an astounding number of styles and facsimiles—the latter category including pumpkin pies, cook stoves, all kinds of fruit and vegetables, truck-and-trailer units, animals, fish, trees, washing machines, old-fashioned bicycles, lamp posts, book ends, violas and electric mixers—in fact, you name it and it's there.

In addition, a large collection of old nickels and dimes has likewise been acquired from selective retention, trade and purchase.

The collector said that caring for the shakers is just about a full-time job and invited your reporter to lend a hand in washing and polishing day to day.

The MAT's all for being helpful, but he'd rather lend a hand with the old nickels and dimes—they're never too old for him!

of 2643 Bessie St., brought in some pansies from his rock garden.

What's so unusual about pansies in bloom, you ask? Well, nothing—except that these plants had already bloomed once on schedule, and just to make sure, were doing it all over again!

One of the early casualties among deer hunters was

of Drayton Plains. Accompanying a group to Elks Camp 818, the doughty woodsman, who never takes a gun, served briefly as relief cook... promptly cut both thumbs and, by way of a bonus, scorched himself on a crock of potatoes.

Think of the havoc he'd have wrought if armed!

A Hearty Meal At Last

K's Real Aim Is NATO Breakup

WASHINGTON — Sooner or later, Nikita Khrushchev's tactics in his global chess game will be revealed. What he gave up in Cuba may prove to have been an important pawn. What he wants now is the bigger pieces — a checkmate or victory through the dismantling of the offensive LAWRENCE bases hept up by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on the western perimeter of the Communist-bloc states.

The Soviet premier may have contrived the whole scheme of placing "offensive" missile bases in Cuba with the sole purpose of giving them up voluntarily, so as to be able to demand the withdrawal by the Western powers of all their "offensive" missile bases in Europe and the Middle East.

For the big unanswered question of the year is this: Why did the Soviet Union send its 40 intermediate missiles and short-range bombers to Cuba in the first place?

If it be assumed that the Soviets planned a nuclear attack on this country, then some species of insanity must have suddenly swept the Kremlin. For the Moscow government all along has known that the United States has retaliatory power so massive that the people of the Soviet Union could be instantly destroyed.

The theory that any "first strike" by the Soviets would be decisive has long been established as fallacious by military experts. The mere addition of a few bases in Cuba doesn't alter the concept or give Russia any over-all military advantage against the United States or the West.

Polaris-missile submarines and American missiles on land bases overseas could still inflict such damage against the Soviet Union that nobody in the Kremlin would ever seriously direct a missile attack from Cuba against the United States as a "first strike." The fact is that there is a nuclear stalemate in the world today.

WONT SLOW DOWN

This, however, doesn't mean the Soviets will slow down their efforts to gain a military advantage wherever they can.

The first and most important objective in the minds of the Kremlin's leaders is to weaken the West's military setup in Europe. Premier Khrushchev was quick to let President Kennedy decide for himself what was "defensive" or "offensive" weapons in Cuba.

When Mr. Kennedy said the missile bases were "offensive," Mr. Khrushchev probably clapped his hands with glee. For didn't this negate all the talk about the defensive nature of weapons to be used by NATO and of the establishment of missile bases in Turkey and elsewhere?

Couldn't Moscow simply declare now that the President of the United States, in dealing with the same kind of missile bases in Cuba, had said they could be used for "offensive" warfare?

The answer to the riddle about the original sending of Soviet missiles to Cuba may not be forthcoming until more international conferences and "summit" talks are held and the Communist demands are spelled out.

Already there are hints that the West may withdraw its missiles from Turkey. Some western diplomats are saying that the missiles there are obsolete anyway and were marked for abandonment this year, long before the Cuban crisis occurred.

If that's so, maybe a gesture of compliance with the Soviet "generosity" in Cuba will be forthcoming from the West, though it is probable nothing will really satisfy the Kremlin except the disintegration of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which has been set up as a Western defense against potential Soviet aggression.

Bob Considine Says:

'Democratic' Vote Proves Undoing of Jackie, JFK

NEW YORK — Post-election study, probably apophthetical, floating around the corridors of Cook County (Ill.) courthouse, where ghosts not only walk but sometimes vote.

A prominent county official invited President and Mrs. Kennedy to take a spin on Lake Michigan in his CONSIDINE small boat — just a cozy little party of three. Without warning, a great storm came up and the boat started to sink. There was only one life preserver.

"I think the 'rules-of-the-sea' prevail here, the one that says 'women and children first,'" said the First Lady. "I'll take the life preserver."

"Sorry, Jacqueline," said the President, "but in these times a strong hand is needed at the helm of state and so, as President and commander-in-chief, I'll have to take the life preserver."

Then the county official spoke up. "Just a moment," he said. "It's my boat and my life preserver. But just to show that my heart's in the right place, let's submit this to a good old vote in the best spirit of democracy."

He won. The vote 7-6-2.

SOLVES DILEMMA

Friends of ours whose kid is doing poorly in school packed him off to one of those special noodle clinics which claim to be able to divine just what a child is capable of in life. After much to support American firmness against Russia should be developed at the NATO Council of Ministers meeting in December.

If the western European governments believe that a new era of relaxed East-West relations is already at hand, they may continue the past slough-of-thought of their responsibilities to NATO, now that the Cuba crisis has ended.

The guarantee that Russia will continue as a course of good international relations can come only through sustained western firmness.

A NATO show of force is considered important as a signal to Moscow. This included a decision on nuclear deployment for NATO. This has been discussed for over a year without decisive action.

It seems to be agreed there can be no western relaxation on Berlin or anything else until a disarmament pact is signed, sealed and executed under inspection.

On the test ban, the Russians have talked much about new, automated monitoring stations. The United States has no such devices. Time after time the Russians have been asked to permit inspection of their instruments. None has been shown so far. The time for the Russians to put up or shut up will be at the Geneva talks.

Khrushchev's public statement that he ordered withdrawal of Russian offensive weapons from Cuba because he is a man of peace is a gag that the U.S. is apparently willing to play along with, for the time being. After all, he did back down from a war.

Why he did this is still unclear.

AF Problems With Skybolt Still Its Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL (UP)—The Air Force is still having trouble with its new Skybolt missile. It doesn't seem to fly very well.

The Skybolt is an airplane-launched ballistic missile which could, in an emergency, serve as a conventionally dropped bomb.

To date, missile scientists have collected a lot of information on Skybolt the bomb and a lot less on Skybolt the rocket. After five flight tests, the missile has yet to record a full success.

The latest mishap came yesterday.

An Air Force B52 jet bomber soared across Cape Canaveral and over the Atlantic Ocean, and dropped one of the 39-foot Skybolts at an altitude of 40,000 feet. The missile fell flat on its nose cone.

Its engines ignited but the Air Force said it "failed to gain altitude." The rocket, aimed on a path that would have carried it about 900 miles, fell a short distance off Cape Canaveral.

As with the four previous Skybolt tests, this one was billed as a "successful launch"—meaning that the clamps holding the rocket to the bomber worked right when someone pushed the release button. Gravity did the rest.

KENNEDY CALLED — Lt. Col. Jack W. Morris, the Army's emergency actions officer at the Pentagon, poses on the telephone yesterday in the Army's War Room. Earlier this week Col. Morris answered the same phone to find President Kennedy on the line. The President said "I was just checking."

Detroit Living Cost Stable Last Month

DETROIT—The cost of living in Detroit remained unchanged between mid-September and mid-

October, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday.

The Detroit consumer price index for October stood at 102.8 or 1.1 per cent above the level of a year previous. Costs now are figured against a base of 100, representing costs in 1957-59.

Test Passes First Stage on Plutonium

WASHINGTON (U)—The Atomic Energy Commission said yesterday its experiment in harnessing plutonium, with the ultimate hope of cheaper nuclear electric power, has successfully passed its first stage.

Plutonium, a man-made fissionable element hitherto used only for bombs, is being used for the first time as fuel in an experimental power-producing reactor, EBR-Q, at the AEC reactor testing station west of Idaho Falls, Idaho, a commission spokesman said.

AEC said the breeder reactor, fueled with 28.7 kilograms of plutonium, achieved a self-sustaining chain reaction Tuesday.

The spokesman said the present experiment will provide for the first time measurements of the gain in plutonium—which is "bred" from uranium—in a plutonium-fueled power reactor. A second plutonium-fueled reactor is expected to produce some power for use at the Idaho Falls station.

Plutonium, produced by irradiating ordinary uranium, is potentially a far more abundant, and therefore cheaper, fuel than the relatively rare uranium used to begin nuclear fission.

EBR-1 is the reactor which 11 years ago produced the first useful amounts of electricity from the atom. The fuel now being used, AEC said, is in the form of rods of plutonium with 1 1/2 per cent aluminum, clad with jackets of zirconium for mechanical strength and to contain the plutonium and fission products.

Individualize Gift Wrapping

A baseball bat, an umbrella, an electric frying pan, can all be given distinctive personalities.

Show off their shapes interestingly by wrapping them around with paper especially chosen for the recipient.

Cut a round face out of heavy white paper and draw humorous features.

Use matching cellophane tape to secure face to top of gift. If it's for a male, tape on a bow tie made of satin ribbon.

For a female, tape ribbon bows on each side for earrings.

Three small gifts can be packaged together to look like a tiered party cake. All that's needed are three deep boxes of ascending size.

Cover each box and lid with sculptured foil gift paper.

The gifts should be wrapped in tissue in a matching color and placed in separate boxes with the smallest on top.

Tape boxes together neatly. Top with a bow.

Stole, Also a Shawl

You can save a pretty penny and enhance your Christmas gifts with an extra personal touch when you make them yourself.

Two such novel items are the velvet stole bar hanger and the new French pointed stole shawl, dipping to a point in the back.
These items were designed by the educational department of a sewing machine company.

To make the velvet stole bar, use a piece of cardboard tubing 24 inches long. Cut a flannel strip for lining and a velvet cover to the length and circumference of the tube, plus two-inch seam allowance.

When cutting the velvet cover, cut on bias of the fabric. Stitch the lining on length and turn inside out. Insert the tube.

On the wrong side stitch the length of the velvet cover. Turn the right side out and insert the faced tube. Tuck raw edges inside tube. Run gold cord through the tube and join both cord ends. Now pull the knot into the center of the tube. Gold medallions with fringe are hand tacked to the ends of the tube.

POINTED STOLE

To make the French pointed stole, a 54-inch length of 54-inch wide soft wool fabric is folded to bring the lengthwise thread even with the crosswise thread. Cut along fold. This actually gives you two stoles.

For fringe, pull threads for depth of five inches on the straight grain and cross grain sides.

Now, with your sewing machine set for a zigzag stitch, stitch all three sides of your triangle to prevent raveling.

Knot fringe at equal intervals by picking up a fringe thread and tying around its small adjoining group.

At a point of one and one-half inches above the fringe, again pull threads on crosswise and straight grain sides to the desired width to accommodate ribbon.

Again zigzag stitch along top and bottom edges of pulled thread strips. Run novelty ribbon through this strip.

Photographers Find Cats Ideal Subjects

By HYVING DESFOR
AP Newfeatures

Cats and photography are a compatible pair. Publish a picture of a cat and there is a greater response from readers than any other single type of picture, I've found.

Cat lovers are a special breed. It seems, quick to express their feelings where it concerns their pets.

Some years ago I first heard the story of how a kitten changed the life and career of a young man.

It was a half frozen kitten and the young man, stumbling over it in the snow, took it home.

He never did find it a good home elsewhere, as he had intended, for it purred its way into his heart.

The kitten proved to be a willing and rewarding subject for his camera, though at the time the young man was only an amateur photographer.

His kitten pictures proved so successful that cat photography became a career and within a few years, Walter Chandra — for he was the young man — became the country's foremost specialist in feline photography.

Now we have at hand a reverse story whereby photography the life of a cat has been changed.

It is the story of a silver-white Persian cat, Nicodemus, who unexpectedly became a photographer's model and thereby won fame and fortune.

From a harried, day-to-day existence as a house pet to $50 an hour modeling fees and selection as "Career Cat of the Year" in a matter of a few years is quite a change, you'll agree.

BOOK TELLS STORY

The story is told by Eleanor Harris in "Career Cat" (Doubleday, Garden City, N. Y.) with more than 30 photographs giving visual testimony in the case.

Nicodemus didn't do it all on his own, of course. His "mother," Loiselle Adams preferred the shy cat even over a beau and marriage. To give the cat confidence by meeting people, Loiselle carried Nicodemus in a big tote bag on her job hunting expeditions.

One fortunate day in an office, the cat poked his head up out of the bag and impressed the receptionist, the personnel director and an advertising executive in that order.

Within minutes, Loiselle switched from a job seeker to business manager of a cat with a model fee of $15 an hour.

Nicodemus has since posed for the mink and diamond trade in ultrasmart magazines and has figured as a personality in promoting world understanding and charity drives in news stories.

After more than trebling his hourly fee, Nicodemus acquired a copyrighted name a year ago as board chairman of Nicodemus Enterprises, Inc. He owns a corporate seal and has his own cat's paw mark as a signature for business and fan letters.

CAT BLUE BOOK

Walter Chandra's career as a cat photographer hasn't lagged any lately either. Currently at hand is a new book, "Igor Casini's Blue Book of Social Cats" with photographs by Chandra (Citadel Press, N. Y.).

The collection of cat studies are each captioned with humorous

JFK Tour Includes Nevada A-Test Site

WASHINGTON (U) — President Kennedy has added Nevada to his forthcoming western trip to inspect military and atomic energy facilities.

The White House announced that he will visit an atomic energy site near Las Vegas on Saturday, Dec. 4.

Earlier it had been announced that Kennedy would visit Offutt Air Force Base in Nebraska, headquarters of the Strategic Air Command, Los Alamos, Santa Fe and Albuquerque, N.M. on a trip starting Dec. 7.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the atomic energy site which Kennedy will visit near Las Vegas conducts test work on the Rover program.

The Rover is a nuclear-powered power plant for rockets.

LUXEMBOURG (UPI) — The Luxembourg Chamber of Deputies approved a treaty with the United States aimed at establishing closer relations in the economic, cultural and friendship fields.

Play Money Is 'for Real'

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — James Jackson, 9, and his friend, Reginald Gaines, 8, had a fine time playing with the "play money" they found in an alley.

When they tired of the game they took the "money" home to show their parents. The parents called police.

Police said yesterday the "play money" was $1,300 in stolen savings bonds. They returned the bonds to Ward Fowler, who had reported his apartment had been broken into and ransacked.

Devil Doll Gift From Somali Intrigues JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Somali Prime Minister Abdurascid Ali Schermarche last night presented President Kennedy with a Somali devil doll for his children.

But the ancient, hand-carved wooden toy so intrigued the President that he carried it back to the White House himself, rather than wait for it to be delivered with the other gifts from Abdurascid.

The doll consists of an arched stick on two prongs which appeared to maintain balance on a wooden base no matter how the base was tilted.

"Here, gentlemen," look at this," Kennedy said, showing off the toy to reporters.

Off-Broadway Star Dies During Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Gerry Jedd, star of numerous off-Broadway theatrical productions, died yesterday after collapsing on stage in the midst of a performance.

She was stricken while singing the "Pirate Jenny" song from "Three Penny Opera."

A doctor in the audience administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, but the 37-year-old actress did not regain consciousness. She died about 12 hours later in St. Vincent's Hospital.

Prosecutor Misses Boat Who's to Prosecute?

CADILLAC (AP) — Winifred County Prosecutor Burton Hines accepted from the county clerk this week a list of office seekers who had missed the deadline for filing campaign expenses as set by law.

Among the five delinquents was the name of Prosecutor Burton Hines.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A use has been found for the most useless bit of human anatomy. This is the ear lobe. It contains fat and two surgeons have discovered this fat is ideal for closing punctures in ear drums.

Unlike fat from the abdomen, ear lobe fat is no chunky jelly when detached from skin. It is supported by a network of fibers. Furthermore, it is malleable, like a softened metal.

Drs. Jordan C. Ringenberg and Elio J. Fornatto took fat from the lobes of the persons who had the holes in their ear drums. They took very thin amounts, leaving the lobes intact.

These bits they flattened between two of the sticks doctors put into mouths while looking at throats. They were then laid over the holes, and proved to have "good adhesive power."

As time passed, the grafts became part of the ear drums, proving they were both hardy and required. Little nutrition from body metabolism. Ringenberg and Fornatto also found they wouldn't shrink or curl.

They reported 50 such operations performed over the past year to a technical organ of the American Medical Association. All but seven were entirely successful.

By successful they meant "the sound transmitting mechanism" was restored so far as the ear drum was involved. Previously grafts for filling ear drum perforations have been taken from other body fat depots and haven't worked too well.

COMPARE FAT They compared ear lobe fat with abdominal fat under the microscope. The fat globules were much smaller and the connective tissue was thicker.

"It is this connective-tissue framework which serves as a supporting structure for the fat cells, that will survive free transplantation even when the fat cells fail to survive," they reported.

'Ow, Bout a Smoke?' Or Defend Yourself

Ringenberg and Fornatto also transplanted fat from the abdomen, buttocks and legs of 14 patients to repair other breaks in "the sound transmitting mechanism."

These were cavities left by the surgical removal of diseased mastoids with resultant damage to the external auditory canal. They closed the cavities with abdominal fat and reconstructed the canals with fatty muscle tissue.

This has been done a number of times by other surgeons since 1951. Ringenberg and Fornatto believed their method was a technical advance which permitted a much higher rate of operational success.

Ringenberg practices in Grand Rapids, Mich. Fornatto is a member of the faculty of the Stritch School of Medicine, Elmhurst, Ill.

'Economic Maverick' Will Head House Banking Unit

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic congressman who believes too many banks are lying down on their job and the Federal Reserve System is getting out of hand will become chairman of the House Banking Committee in January.

Rep. Wright Patman will be achieving, at 69, an ambition burning since he first came to Congress in 1929 from an East Texas farm district: to head the committee that can dig into the operations of lending institutions, the Federal Reserve System and the currency, as well as draft legislation affecting them.

Patman brought to Washington with him a reputation as an economic maverick. His efforts to win a place on the committee were rebuffed for eight years—a severe setback in the seniority-bound House.

'NOT ORTHODOX'

"I wasn't orthodox enough," Patman says without rancor to day. "Otherwise, I would have been chairman of this committee 18 years earlier."

The retirement from Congress this year of Chairman Brent Spence, D-Ky., who at 87 was the oldest member of the House, finally cleared the way for Patman.

Wish behind his dark-rimmed glasses, Patman smiles readily at witnesses or reporters. But he somehow gives the impression of a fox professor of economics who likes to ask stumping questions.

CALLED EVERYTHING

"The last of the old-time Populist barn burners," one admiring colleague called him. Other assessments range from "reformist" through "sawdust-floor economist" to "funny money man."

Patman disclaims, without heat, the more extreme descriptions, insisting he stands for sound money and has always opposed inflation.

His basic quarrel with the Federal Reserve System derives from his conviction that, as it now operates, private bankers have too much say and the Treasury not enough say in shaping policies that determine the national supply of money and credit.

RUNNING CONTROVERSY

His contention that recent policies of "the Fed" have been unduly tight has produced a running controversy with Federal Reserve Chairman William M. Martin Jr.

It is essentially reserved whenever Martin appears before one of the committees on which Patman serves. (While waiting for the main chance, Patman has advanced to the chairmanship of the House Small Business Committee and the Joint Senate-House Economic Committee.)

As for banks in general, Patman says greed and an obsession with playing it safe have distorted the roles of too many of them.

"Banks are the only people who can manufacture money without going to the penitentiary. They are supposed to use this money to take care of the credit needs of their communities—make loans to business men, farmers, individuals on fair terms—not invest it in tax-free municipal bonds.

AGAINST GREED

"I am on the side of the small banks, the medium-size banks and all other banks who are not pursuing a greedy policy."

"I am against those who would have a nation of only a few banks with branches, and those who think a few select people should have a franchise on the economy."

His complaints perhaps reflect memories of life on a tenant farm and of the 30-to-50 per cent interest his father had to pay on crop loans.

Patman's views of course are well known to the national financial community, but, by and large, bankers and Congress members who share their viewpoint do not seem unduly disturbed by the prospect of a banking committee headed by the outspoken Texan.

NOT BEEN VINDICTIVE

For one thing, Patman has not appeared vindictive against the institutions he criticizes, though he has on occasion introduced sweeping legislation. He successfully pushed veterans' bonus payment bills in the 1930s—a success to which he attributes in part his long exclusion from the banking committee.

He fought but lost a battle in 1939 for government ownership of Federal Reserve banks. He co-authored the Robinson-Patman Act curbing some competitive practices deemed to be detrimental to small business.

But in later years his legislative record has been comparatively moderate and his more advanced proposals have not moved far in the House.

FRIEND OF MR. SAM

He was a close friend of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn—no radical—and Rayburn respected his views on economics.

Patman's recent one-man study of possible abuse of the tax advantages enjoyed by nonprofit foundations was controversial, but it has been praised as valuable by some publications reflecting the business viewpoint. The Internal Revenue Service conceded some of Patman's points and said it will henceforth check foundation operations more closely.

A Republican source close to the banking committee said, "Frankly, I'm looking forward to seeing this committee more active than it has been in years."

"Wright is vigorous. As for his ideas—well, responsibility has a way of sobering people."

Patman himself has said—in an interview with Banking magazine—"obviously to be a chairman is a handicap in a crusade."

policies with those of the government—perhaps as a first step for rearranging the Federal Reserve chairman's term to coincide with that of the President.

Another likely project is an amendment of present law to permit—and therefore nudge—banks to pay interest on demand deposits, such as checking accounts and the government's big tax and loan accounts.

Dining Outer-Space Style as Good as on Earth

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — Tomato juice, green beans, steak, bread, butter, coffee and chocolate cookies. Sound good?

It sure does and it will taste just as good in space as on earth.

The three Apollo astronauts will enjoy such a meal while traveling to the moon in 1968, according to Howard E. Brehm, chief engineer on the Whirlpool Corporation's Compact Feeding Console (space kitchen) Project being developed at St. Joseph.

"The space kitchen will take up one wall in the Apollo capsule which has a 7 1/2 foot diameter and is 10 feet long," said Brehm.

"The two space kitchen purposes are equally important," he continued. "One is to feed the astronauts and the second is to keep their morale up."

"Meal time in space will be the highlight of the day. To relieve boredom of space flight each astronaut will select a food and prepare his own meal. He'll also have to wash the 'dishes'."

SPECIAL SPRAY

This will be done by spraying the containers with a special chemical to retard the bacteria growth. Dishes and garbage cannot be thrown out, so each food container will be returned to its storage cubicle.

"Included in the kitchen will be a freezer, refrigerator, oven, water heater, dry storage bins, glove storage compartment, tray storage compartment, wet and dry waste compartment and a stool where the astronaut will sit while eating," he said.

Three types of food will be used: dehydrated, condensed and solid.

Dehydrated foods are stored in bins along the top of the kitchen.

The freezer will hold 189 cubes of bread and cookies and 100 cans of frozen, condensed food.

Solid foods will be stored either in the bins or freezer, depending on the type of food.

SPACE KITCHEN

At the kitchen center and just under the storage bins is the three-cavity oven. On the right side of the kitchen is the refrigerator used to "heat" the frozen food from freezer temperatures to storage temperatures.

In each piece of equipment and the storage bins, cubicles for holding separate items are set out to keep the food packages from floating about the capsule at zero gravity.

Condensed food will be stored in sheet steel cans which have been specially treated and constructed so they won't explode under half the earth's atmosphere.

They will be placed in the oven cavity, heated and consumed by applying a caking gun type of device which forces the food through a mouthpiece.

Dehydrated food is stored in polyethylene bags. Water is added (a 2-ounce squirt at a time) and the bag squeezed to force the food through a spring-closed tip into the astronaut's mouth.

Food trays have special holders for the container to keep them from floating free.

The tray is set on end and locked in place. A bar looking like an inverted pick-axe is attached to a stool allowing the astronaut to slip his legs under the bars to hold himself down. The bottom of the kitchen is grooved, allowing the astronaut to slip his toes into the grove and hold himself down.

IT'S COMPACT

In all, the space kitchen weighs 600 pounds, including the 236 pounds of food and 3 1/2 gallons of water for the three-man, 14-day trip.

That's right. Just 3 1/2 gallons of water for three men to cook and drink for 14 days. Through a filtration system the human waste water can be reused.

Each astronaut will wash with a "wash and dry" napkin. After use, it will be stored in the wet waste bin. Bag-type food containers will be stored in the dry waste bin. Both are sprayed with bacteria-retarding chemical.

Standards engineers had to kitchen include: minimum weight and volume; use of minimum electrical power; provide maximum reliability and simplicity; give maximum flight serviceability; be easily repaired; have maximum sanitation conditions; withstand eight times the force of gravity; and function under half the Earth's atmosphere.

It took the engineers just about a year to build the kitchen, according to Brehm. Not only did the engineers design the kitchen, but they also tested it.

"The food is really good," only 600 watts of power, or the same amount of electricity needed to light four 150-watt light bulbs.

There are no fans, motors or operational noises, either.

Cooling is accomplished through thermoelectricity, which is a process utilizing direct electricity to cool a metal surface.

Between now and 1980, the Department of Commerce estimates that 25 to 31 million acres of land will be required for highways, housing, park and recreation needs.

Program Workshop for Cray Teachers

A workshop dealing with programed instruction is slated tomorrow at Cray Junior High School, Waterford Township, for the school's 32 teachers.

Dr. Edward Greene of Dartmouth University and Robert T. Fiet, of New York's Center for Programed Instruction will speak at the all-day event.

Both men participated in a workshop today at Central Michigan University where an evaluation of programed instruction is being conducted.

The Easter Island cordillera is the longest submerged mountain chain in the Pacific Ocean, stretching 8,000 miles from the South Pacific to Central America and beyond into the Caribbean.

Former Hitler Minister Battling for Pension

LUENEBERG, Germany (UPI)—Franz Schlegelberger, 86, Adolf Hitler's former acting justice minister, went before an administrative court here yesterday in a new round of his legal battle against a 1959 decision to stop his monthly government pension of nearly $750.

Schlegelberger served four years in prison for war crimes.

3 to Attend Session on Senior Citizens

Waterford Township Recreation Department Director Robert Lawyer and two members of the township's Golden Age Club will attend a workshop dealing with senior citizens next Tuesday in Dearborn.

Floyd Bain and William Cheyne will accompany Lawyer to the day-long program hosted by the Recreation Association of Michigan.

A morning panel discussion on "What Can the Community Offer the Senior Citizen?" and an afternoon talk outlining what senior citizens can offer the community are among the scheduled activities.

Americans Clamor for Danish Telephones

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—An engineer for the Copenhagen Telephone Corp. said yesterday the company has sold more than $150,000 worth of antique Danish telephone apparatus to Americans.

"The old Danish telephones are very attractive in the U.S.A. and we simply can't procure enough of them," C. O. R. Johansen said.

Accept All Students, Educator Asks South

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Harry Ransom, chancellor of the University of Texas, has called on Southern colleges and universities to accept all qualified students.

In an address to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Wednesday Ransom said: "We must insist that opportunity be provided according to ability, without regard to any other qualification or condition."

"We must bring into being a new confederacy of intellectual and social confidence. We have sometimes fallen back upon carefully nurtured historical, social and political pride and prejudice in order to avoid the discomforts of new learnings."

The State Takes Part in Italy's 'Capitalism'

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP) — The citizen's breakfast included fruit marketed by the state. As he ate, he glanced through his morning newspaper, owned by a state firm.

He dressed in a suit made of cloth from a state-owned mill.

The car he drove to work was constructed in a state plant.

At the office, he used a telephone provided by a state company. He lit a state cigarette with a state match.

On his way home, he purchased gasoline at a state-owned filling station, had a drink at a state bar and dined in a state restaurant.

At home, he switched on lights using state power. He took ice from a refrigerator built by a state company. Then he settled down to watch television — with only two state-operated channels to choose from.

Next day he left on a business trip, planned by a state-controlled tourist agency. He traveled on state-owned trains, planes and ships, and stayed at a state hotel. He was an Italian, living in "capitalist" Italy today.

He was not confined to using only state products. In some cases he could have turned to services and goods provided by private firms. But his choice demonstrated that Italy — more than any other Western country — has a mixed economy in which the state is actively participating in almost every phase of industrial and business activity.

Now the state is taking over another field — electric power. A bill nationalizing power is in the last stages of parliamentary consideration.

About 25 per cent of Italy's electrical output already is produced by state-controlled companies. Nationalization consolidates these companies and private industries under a single state agency.

The power nationalization represents another step forward in state industry started by Benito Mussolini.

In 1933 he set up the Istituto per la Ricostruzione Industriale (Institute for Industrial Reconstruction) as a depression emergency measure. It took over industrial stockholdings from banks, enabling the banks to shed shares that were rapidly losing value.

In the postwar struggle for recovery, the Institute became a way of Italian economic life, a super holding company with a book value of $2.25 billion.

Its industries are worth much more than this.

The Institute controls other holding companies. These in turn control other firms. Sometimes the Institute has 100 per cent ownership, as it does in the big Alfa Romeo automobile plant. Sometimes it doesn't.

WIDE STATE CONTROL

For example, the Institute holds 50.8 per cent of the stock in the Finisider holding company. Finisider in turn holds 51.2 per cent of the stock in the Dalmine metal firms. It is hard to figure the government interest in companies down the line, but government control extends over a wider area than the actual value of state shareholdings indicate.

Private equity in Institute firms has been estimated at 40 per cent.

The national offices of 50 labor unions are located in the nation's capital.

Institute companies employ 271,000 persons. It controls four-fifths of shipbuilding capacity. It turns out 55 per cent of Italy's steel and 85 per cent of its pig iron. IRI controls the biggest banks.

Institute firms make parts for missiles, household appliances, heavy machinery, optical goods, textiles, trucks, radar machine tools, and dozens of other products. IRI also controls the state radio-television network, Italy's biggest shipping companies and the Alitalia Airline.

The Institute is not the only big state holding company. In recent years it has been overshadowed by the Ente Nazionale Idrocarburi, built by the dynamic Enrico Mattei, who died in a plane crash in October. This National Hydrocarbon Authority started as an oil monopoly. Now it controls synthetic rubber plants, shops handle another state monopoly as a sideline — salt.

Italy's major railways are state-owned and operated by a separate authority. All tobacco products are made or imported by the state for sale in authorized shops.

And the state-approved tobacco shops handle another state monopoly as a sideline — salt.

SEATTLE, Korea (AP) — The United States will trim its grant-type economic aid to South Korea to $75 million in the 1963 fiscal year, it has been announced.

The cuts will amount to $17.5 million from the 1962 fiscal year. Besides the grants, the United States provides economic assistance in the form of loans and through its surplus farm products program.

An alibi is something you use to prove you weren't where you were, so you couldn't have done what you did. . . . Prayer by a weary suburbanite: "Keep my neighbors, please, O Lord, from buying things I can't afford."

Backyard dialogue: "And what does your husband work at?" "Intervals." Earl Wilson.

Indonesia Eyes Dutch Ties

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Foreign Minister Subandrio said yesterday resumption of diplomatic relations between Indonesia and the Netherlands will be made in stages.

As an example, he gave reopening of cable and postal communications between the two countries.

Indonesia had cut off all relations with the Dutch two years ago at the height of a dispute over West New Guinea, now under temporary U.N. administration pending transfer to Indonesia under the terms of the agreement.

Britain Expects Skybolts From U.S. by Mid '60s

LONDON (AP)—Air Secretary Hugh Fraser said yesterday Britain expects delivery of American Skybolt H-bomb missiles by the mid-1960s.

Fraser made this statement in parliament following a British newspaper report that leading state department officials are trying to secure cancellation of the delivery of the missiles to Britain.

Hunt Money in Old Estate

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Treasure hunters are combing the rubble of a demolished oceanfront estate, searching for negotiable fragments of paper money in denominations up to $100.

Thus far, only one piece of usable cash has been reported found—a $5 bill.

The money was unearthed by bulldozers razing the estate of William R. Taradash. The manager of the estate, J. Robert Sandbrook, said the money was probably hidden by the late Mrs. Taradash. The home was built in 1929, the year the Wall Street crash occurred.

Wisconsin Firm Gets Harbor Repair Contract

CHICAGO (AP)—Roan Salvage Co. of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., was awarded a $683,300 contract yesterday for rehabilitating the harbor at Menominee and Marinette, Wis.

The Chicago U.S. Army Engineer District made the award. Roan also is performing the first phase of the harbor project under a $403,300 contract awarded in April.

Pilot Dies Minutes After Landing

WINDSOR LOCKS, Conn. (AP)—A veteran Mohawk Airlines pilot died of a heart attack yesterday, only minutes after landing a twin-engine Convair carrying 15 passengers at Bradley Field here.

After discharging his passengers, Capt. Clifford Albertson, 46, became ill in the terminal building and collapsed. He was dead when doctors arrived.

The passengers were placed aboard another Mohawk airliner on their way to Boston. The plane was coming from New York. The copilot said that the pilot had seemed to be in good health during the flight.

ALL THAT'S LEFT — After heartless thieves stole the Dean Jacobson's four pet geese from their West Bloomfield farm, only a few feathers and cold eggs remained. Patricia (center) who is a 4-H member, had hoped that mother geese would hatch the eggs, so she could raise and sell the geese to buy her school clothes. She received a little consolation from her sisters Margaret (left) and Nancy.

Car Heir's Wife Asks $15,000 Monthly Support

DETROIT (AP) — Auto heir Horace E. Dodge's wife, Gregg, asked Circuit Court Wednesday for $15,000 a month temporary alimony.

Her plea came during a court referee's hearing on Dodge's demand for a ceiling on his wife's expenditures while he is suing her for divorce. Dodge claims she has been lavish in her expenditures.

In her alimony suit, Mrs. Dodge said she and her husband, whom she described as a man of enormous wealth, always have lived on a lavish and large scale. She said she was asking at least $15,000 a month alimony "because of the extreme wealth of the plaintiff."

Wealthy Businessman Pays Boyhood Damage

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) — British railways said today a prosperous businessman, whom it declined to identify, had sent them a $126 check.

It was compensation for fares he cheated on and railway coaches he damaged as a boy, 46 years ago.

Claims De Gaulle Won't Run in '65

PARIS (AP) — A French minister said unofficially Wednesday President Charles de Gaulle had told the cabinet he does not plan to ask for re-election when his term ends Dec. 31, 1965.

The minister, who asked not to be named, told members of Parliament that de Gaulle had told this at a cabinet meeting Wednesday.

De Gaulle would be 75 at the end of his seven-year term.

State Delays Hearing on Telephone Request

LANSING (AP) — A public hearing scheduled for tomorrow on application of the Midway Telephone Co. to serve an approximate 40 square miles in Elm River Township, Houghton County, has been postponed indefinitely by the State Public Service Commission.

The commission said the Upper Peninsula Telephone Co. served notice it intends to ask that it be allowed to serve the same area and other unassigned areas in the Upper Peninsula and asked for the postponement.

Geese Are Real Gone ... Children Feel Down

Whoever stole a pair of pet geese and their two goslings, left some very unhappy youngsters on a farm in West Bloomfield.

The Dean Jacobson children, Margaret, 6, Nancy, 8, Patricia, 10, and Jake, 14, of 1825 Hiller Road, had raised Papagander and Mammagander from tiny babies to parenthood.

When the older geese were blessed with a couple of young ones last year, the children's goose family was complete.

The night before Thanksgiving, thieves quietly entered the horse barn where the mother geese were sitting on a new nest, grabbed all four geese and fled.

NO SOUND — There was no sound despite the presence of two riding horses and a pair of rabbits. Even 17 dogs in a kennel next door were not disturbed.

In the morning when Patricia went out to feed the pets, she found they were gone. The birds meant a lot to her because she planned on raising geese to pay for her school clothes next year.

Jacobson, whose right side is completely paralyzed, has not worked for more than a year. This was one reason Patricia had hoped to raise money "by starting up a goose business after the eggs hatched."

Patricia carefully gathered up the eggs from the still-warm nest and put them in a basket in the house.

Mrs. Jacobson called the police and then attempted to find someone with a setting hen to complete the job started by Mammagander. So far, she's had no luck.

The children still have hopes that their pets will wing their way back home again. If they're still alive, and settle back on the eggs. In the meantime, the family continues to look for a good cooperative setting hen.

'Explosion' Threatening Children's Center

By JIM DYGERT
(First of Two Articles)

The boy suddenly struck the girl in the face with his fist.

The blow was so vicious that several stitches were required to close the gash between her eyes, and the boy's hand became painfully swollen. Both are 15 years old.

A 16-year-old boy attempted to commit suicide while a number of youngsters watched. He taped a spike to his chest and, while lying on his back, tried to drop a rock on the spike to drive it into his heart. He missed.

A 9-year-old girl often became unbelievably violent and tore off her clothes when she was prevented from playing with human waste in the lavatory. It took three attendants to subdue her.

A 14-year-old boy had to be constantly watched, kept from the lavatory when other boys were using it, and assigned to a room with older boys he was not likely to entice — because of his compulsion to sexual perversion.

All of these youngsters were emotionally disturbed. Some have been committed to Pontiac State Hospital as mentally ill.

At the time of these incidents, they lived at the county's Children's Center (some are still there) along with delinquents whose emotional and mental conditions fall within the normal range.

Jammed in with them are normal children who are wards of the county because their parents neglected or deserted them.

Staff members, supervisors and officials of the Center consider it fortunate that incidents even more serious have not yet occurred.

No child has yet been killed by another there. It could happen at any time.

Juvenile Court Judge Arthur E. Moore warned the juvenile committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Nov. 19: "The situation is potentially explosive."

He said the disturbed youngsters are a threat to the normal children with whom they are intermingled because the county has no facilities to separate them.

The threat is to the mental condition, development and rehabilitation of the normal children as well as to their physical safety, officials of the Center point out.

This is why Judge Moore proposes a Children's Village of separate cottages.

This, plus the fact that the Children's Center is seriously overcrowded, which aggravates the already tough problem of maintaining control over emotionally disturbed children in facilities not designed for them.

It will be even more overcrowded each month until June when many of the delinquent youngsters considered normal will be released back to their homes.

Capacity of the Center is 45 boys and 45 girls, with a separate wing of the building for each. There were 134 in the Center at one time last spring.

According to Juvenile Court

Director James W. Hunt, there are presently 186.

But 74 of the 186 are boys housed in space originally intended for only 45. Rooms designed for a single bed now have two bunk beds. Larger rooms built to sleep four now have 12, rooms for six now have 14.

Basement rooms are no longer used because of the heating ducts and pipes from which a disturbed youngster might try to hang himself.

Overcrowded conditions at Pontiac State Hospital also contribute to the problem.

Youngsters committed to the hospital or mentally ill stay at the Center for months after they are committed because the hospital has a long and waiting list.

All children who come into the care of the county — delinquents, dependent or neglected children of all ages — come first to the center and are kept there until transferred to another unit or pending a court hearing.

It's also used for long-term detention of delinquents, both normal and disturbed.

Children receiving treatment or undergoing diagnosis at the psychology clinic of the Center also stay there.

Most children at the center are between eight and 19 years of age. Juvenile Court Judge Donald E. Adams points out the difficulty of treating disturbed youngsters in a program geared for the normal.

"After a child sees the psychologist, he goes back and gets teased and tormented by the other children. Children can be cruel teasers."

What is possible to alleviate these conditions before the explosion occurs?

Judge Moore has recommended the Children's Village plan, with separate facilities for the emotionally disturbed children.

Aspects of this plan will be presented in a second article tomorrow.

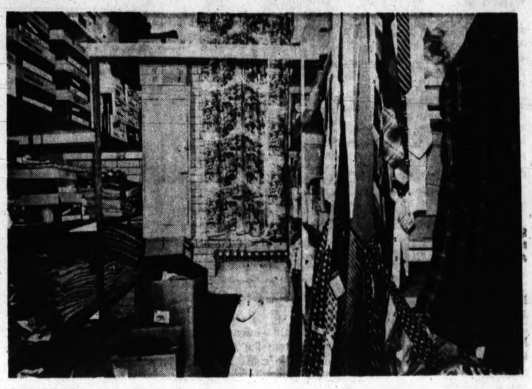

TYPICAL SCENE — A tight fit of double bunks into rooms designed for a third as many beds is typical in the boys' wing of the Oakland County Children's Center. The five double bunks shown here, plus one not shown, are fitted into a room originally designed for four single beds in order to handle overcrowding.

HALLWAY WAITING — The waiting room for the infirmary and dentist in the center wing of the Children's Center is not a room at all, but a hallway. The number of children waiting in the hallway sometimes reaches 20. Overcrowded conditions here create fire hazards as well as control problems.

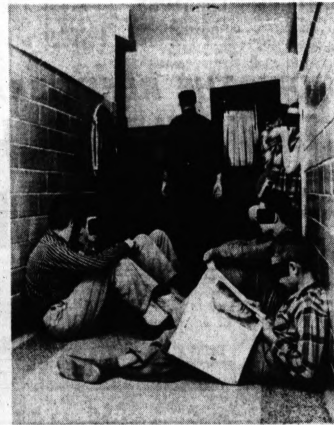

CRAMPED STORAGE — Clothes for the boys at the Children's Center are crammed into shrinking space as storage rooms are converted to bedrooms to meet demands. The boys' wing, including basement rooms no longer used for sleeping, was built to accommodate 45, but houses 74 today. The number is expected to increase as the school year progresses.

THE OTHER HALF — Overcrowding is less a problem in the girls' wing of the Children's Center, but the fact is not helpful. The building is constructed for a capacity of 45 boys and 45 girls, and it cannot be altered to conform with the 3-to-1 ratio of boys to girls admitted, officials explain. Present total of 106 at the Center is divided 74 boys and 32 girls.

HALLWAY LOUNGING — Youngsters relax in the hallway outside the basement recreation room in the boys' wing of the Children's Center. They cannot use a second floor sitting room because all the supervisory personnel are needed at the crowded recreation room.

THREE WINGS — The rear of the Children's Center shows the layout of the building into three wings, two for sleeping areas and the center wing for the infirmary, kitchen, dining area and other purposes. The girls' wing at the left has a capacity of 45, and now houses 32. The boys' at the right now houses 74 in space also intended for only 45.

DECEPTIVE APPEARANCE — The outside of the Children's Center located in the Oakland County Service Center on Telegraph Road appears solid and peaceful. But Juvenile Court authorities say the inside is explosive. Emotionally disturbed children and sometimes mentally ill youngsters on Pontiac State Hospital's waiting list, are intermingled with normal children. And it's overcrowded, besides.

RECREATION ROOM — The 74 boys at the Children's Center have one recreation room, in the basement of the boys' wing. It will keep getting more crowded as the months pass until June, when county juvenile authorities say they will release many of the youngsters. A total of 154 in the 90-capacity Center was reached last spring. Besides the overcrowding, there's the problem of having mentally disturbed youngsters intermingled with normal children.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS, TOO — A room at the rear of the old Contagious Hospital on Telegraph Road, which is used by the Children's Center for a school is badly needed to relieve overcrowded classroom conditions, but must be kept clear because its door is a fire exit. The space is used for storage, instead.

'Pensionitis' Is Becoming Our Most Crippling Disease

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk observations by a Pavement Plasterer.

The two most widespread ailments among mankind are tooth decay and the common cold. But the most prevalent disease among Americans is pensionitis.

Pensionitis is characterized by an acute delusion that life is better without work. The victim babbles endlessly about how much greener the pastures will be when he is 65, gives up his job, and no one will tell him what he has to do. Usually he also makes wild and impossible plans about how he is going to enjoy his final freedom.

DEEPENS WITH AGE

The disease is mildly noticeable in men of 35, deepens in intensity in those over 40, and in men past 50 or 55 often becomes a kind of frenzy.

However, in recent years pensionitis has spread rapidly among younger segments of the population. Personnel directors report more and more young college graduates are as interested in the company's pension program as in its opportunities for executive advancement.

BOYLE course. But so far there doesn't seem much that can be done for a person in the throes of pensionitis.

Except among the rock 'n' roll set—no one really can understand what they talk about, or care—pensions are by far the most popular conversational topic anywhere in the land. Yes, far more popular than old standbys like baseball, politics, the weather—and whether the man next door today is a beats his wife. If you doubt this, the next time you go to a cocktail party step to the center of the room and announce in a loud, clear voice: "My company has just put in a whopping new pension program and, boy, is it a good one!"

Man has always yearned for security in an insecure world, and for too long he feared old age because for many it meant making the lonely journey over the hill to the poorhouse, or being dependent on the charity of his children. Social Security and the spread of pension programs throughout our economic system are doing much to wipe out that fear and to give the elderly financial independence.

But the trouble with pensionitis is that it makes a pension not an end reward but the actual goal of life.

SATISFACTION LACKING
There is no doubt that the daily chores of our factory-and-office hand.

civilization are boring and stifle the creative satisfactions available to the craftsman of earlier times. Typing a letter or writing a footpaste ad are hardly as satisfying as raising a crop or making a pair of fine shoes by hand.

But there is still something to be gotten out of it as you go along. The main job so much at 40 that he starts dreaming about how much more fun he will have when he gets him at 40. He lives 25 years more enjoyment after 40.

Beware pensionitis! It's a sleep-inducing sickness.

Hollywood Hopes This Man Can Save the Industry

(Editor's Note — The man many in Hollywood hope will lead the local movie industry out of the doldrums and upward to new heights is a relatively little-known executive named Lee Wasserman. Columnist Bob Thomas, in two articles starting today, describes the man and his plans.)

The show business giant many expect to grow into a colossus operates from an office no bigger than the bedroom of a housing-trail home.

He sits behind a small desk with a view of a studio wall and a parking space. His name does not appear on the office door,

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The boss of the door, but it is known and respected by show people everywhere — Lee Wasserman.

Tall, gentle-spoken and dressed in eternal black, Wasserman is the president of MCA, once the commanding leader of the agency business.

Now, with an assist from the Justice Department, MCA has shed its agency wing for bigger game. It has fashioned a combine that includes: Universal Pictures, highly successful producer of feature films; Revue Productions, leading maker of television films; Decca Records, long important in the recording industry.

As head man of the entire operation, Wasserman explained his duties: "I'm a paper-pusher."

When I remarked that his desk was devoid of paper, he replied: "Oh, I've already pushed all the papers." It was 9 a.m. and he was well into his work day.

Pausing for a rare interview, Wasserman expressed his faith in the movie business.

"History has shown that entertainment mediums go through tough periods when a new medium is introduced. When the movies became popular, many people said it was the end of live entertainment. But it has survived. "Radio was supposed to have killed the record business, but it is doing better than ever. Television looked like the death of radio. But the radio stations have gone through a change of operation, and I saw recently that two local stations sold for more than $10 million apiece.

"The movie business has been adjusting to the changes that were brought by the challenge of television. We have had to change our methods of production and of exhibition."

Wasserman foresees the movie industry catching up with population growth, which it has lagged behind in postwar years. He also figures Hollywood to maintain its historical position as world-film leader.

"Foreign competition in movies is no different from that faced by any other American industry," he remarked.

"The base of our operation will be right here at the studio," he said. "It is much easier to control costs here. It's not merely the production costs that can get out of hand overseas; it's the per diem. When you take a hundred people to a location and have to pay expenses of $50 to $75 a day, seven days a week, for each of them, it can kill you."

"I believe in the big-studio operation. We've already spent $10 million to improve this lot and will spend $15 million more. That's a $25-million investment and the big studio will last. It had better."

Friday: Wasserman close up; Plans for MCA's future.

Romps at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clipper, the first family's new dog, learned yesterday what it's like to recess with the White House nursery school. It's mighty lively.

Even President Kennedy strolled from his office for a moment to watch the kiddies and say hello to Clipper, the 5-month-old German Shepherd given to Mrs. Kennedy by her father-in-law, Joseph P. Kennedy, at Hyannis Port, Mass., last weekend.

The First Lady was there, too, in a white sports outfit with boots and got in some exercise running on the lawn.

They all turned out for playtime on the south lawn of the White House, a daily outdoor break in the kindergarten attended by Caroline Kennedy and some 10 friends.

Clipper and Charlie, the Welsh Terrier who came to the White House with the Kennedys, frolicked by themselves while the youngsters exercised on the swings and jungle bars.

John Jr., just 4, came in from a ride during recess and played a bit of ring-around-the-rosy with a nursemaid.

Congo Government Survives Opposition

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula narrowly survived a confidence vote forced in the lower house yesterday by opponents who charged his government was dominated by "African imperialists."

Strength of the opposition raised fears that the Congo's new federal constitution, drawn up by United Nations experts as part of the plan for ending the secession of Katanga Province, would fail to win approval in parliament.

The opposition, which included both leftists and conservatives, outvoted Adoula on the censure motion, 50 to 47, with 2 abstentions, but failed to get the two-thirds majority of 66 votes needed to topple the government.

Housework is often something a woman does while waiting for the phone to ring. . . . Now that scientists have looked behind the moon and beneath the seas, would some of them kindly take a look at traffic? Earl Wilson.

Find Gas at Camp Site

WARSAW (AP) — The Polish news agency PAP said yesterday a supply of gas affecting the breathing and nervous systems, enough to incapacitate a large town, has been found on the site of the wartime Nazi concentration camp at Oswiecim.

Success at AMC Sparks New Interest

Union May Ask for Big 3 Profit Sharing

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The United Auto Workers Union, more than pleased with the first-year results of its historic profit sharing plan at American Motors, probably will try to get some sort of similar share-the-wealth program at the other auto firms.

It will be 1964 before any attempt is made since present contracts at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler won't expire until then.

But the big three likely will say "no" to any UAW profit sharing demand, as the firms did in 1960 and 1961—the last two rounds of negotiations.

AMC's 27,000 workers did well by their plan negotiated with the UAW last year. They got an average 7.3 shares of stock apiece. Over-all, it was worth an average $284 per worker or 19 cents an hour over the year. The total amount was $9.7 million.

Had the same plan been in effect for GM's 335,000 workers or Ford's 129,000, the results would have been even better for the same period—Oct. 1, 1961, to Sept. 30, 1962—AMC's fiscal year.

Statisticians figured out that based on a rough estimate of GM's before-tax profit in the United States, the same AMC plan would have been worth about $69 per employee or 40 cents an hour at General Motors.

The total would be about $270 million.

At Ford, based on the same rough estimates, the plan would have been worth about $625 per employee or 31 cents an hour.

The total would be about $75 million.

The estimates are probably high since they include the profits made by the GM and Ford credit subsidiaries, while AMC specifically excluded its credit branch before computing employee benefits.

Others things will be sought too, of course. Bannon lists a shorter work week as one of these. "There is no question a shorter work week will enter into our discussions," he said.

Free Michigan AF Reservists

All but 19 of the 1,000 Michigan Air Force reservists called to active duty during the Cuban crisis have been released, a spokesman for the 403d Troop Carrier Wing at Selfridge Air Force Base said today.

The 19 have elected to serve one year, 14 of them because of financial hardships and five because their schooling was interrupted.

It was not known immediately if any of 19 men were from Oakland County.

About 100 reservists from the county were called up 31 days ago when 14,000 Air Force reservists in the nation were activated on orders of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

About 12 per cent of France's Roquefort cheese is exported. The largest buyer is the United States, which takes more than $2 million worth a year.

TRIED IN 1958

The UAW first tried to win profit sharing from the big three in 1958. GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton called the proposal "alien to the free enterprise system" and he and bargainers at the other firms turned down the union.

The union made another half-hearted try last year. On Sept. 2, 1961, UAW President Walter P. Reuther proposed that Seaton accept the AMC profit sharing plan at GM.

But GM again wouldn't buy the idea. Asked about the AMC plan, Seaton said, "whatever benefits we propose we will pay for. They won't be based on the uncertainties of the future."

The big three firms have looked with apprehension on profit sharing, fearing that such an innovation would lead ultimately to union demands to share in management decisions on everything from profits to pricing.

AMC, however, says it has an iron-clad "management rights" clause in its contract, forbidding the union from trying to tamper with corporate decisions.

Despite the big three's past opposition, the union is expected to try again in 1964, particularly if business conditions remain good.

Reuther, after losing the 1958 attempt to win profit sharing, said "we must press on" toward

Doctors Soften Medicare Slap

Won't Back Resolve to Snub Program

LOS ANGELES (U) — Resolutions pledging doctors not to participate in any medicare program financed by Social Security have been found unacceptable by the American Medical Association.

The AMA House of Delegates, a policy-making body, has instead adopted a resolution saying the association "will not be a willing party to any system detrimental to public welfare."

The AMA has indicated it considers President Kennedy's medicare program detrimental.

The substitute resolution, adopted before an AMA convention here closed yesterday, says the house of delegates will convene and decide what to do next if doctors are faced by a "serious threat to conscript them into involuntary servitude."

The House of delegates referred to its legislative council two resolutions supporting the so-called liberty amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

This amendment, adopted by eight states, would abolish the personal income tax and prohibit the government from engaging in any business without constitutional authority.

The AMA decided at an earlier meeting that this amendment was "not in the preview" of the association.

An opinion holding it unethical for doctors to own drug stores, or hold interests in them, was returned to the judicial council for further study.

So were opinions holding that doctors should not hold controlling interests in pharmaceutical concerns and that ophthalmologists should not dispense eye glasses.

Vote 2 Mayors to Take Office, 1 With No Power

SPARKS, Nev. (AP) — How many mayors should a city have? A question approved by Sparks voters in the general election provides for two—one to be elected by the public next June 4; the other to be selected by the City Council.

But, said Russ McDonald, legislative bill drafter, the elected mayor wouldn't have any power in this city of 23,000.

He told the Sparks Chamber of Commerce Wednesday the problem could be solved by the 1963 legislature.

The problem arose as a result of an error in bill drafting, McDonald said.

Pull Freighter Free of Rocks

To Repair Norwegian Ship in Muskegon

MUSKEGON (U) — The Norwegian freighter Makefjell was pulled free from the rocks just outside Muskegon Harbor early today by four tugs after 50 minutes of work.

The ship's 5,000-ton general cargo had been lightened by more than 800 tons before the tugs were used.

The 432-foot ocean going vessel, which went aground outside the south breakwater last Thursday night while trying to enter the port during high winds and seas, was immediately docked in deep water.

An underwater inspection will be made to determine the cause of what port officials described as "a bad starboard list." The inspection was expected to take place later today.

RACING DEADLINE — Operators of the freighter said they would make necessary repairs in Muskegon, then attempt to get the vessel to Montreal before the Dec. 4 St. Lawrence Seaway locks deadline for Great Lakes traffic.

Representatives of the Olson-Ogden Lines were told yesterday by the commandant of the 9th Coast Guard District at Cleveland that no further stand-by assistance could be expected from vessels under his command unless a major effort was made to move the freighter before daybreak today.

The stranded ship had been declared a menace to navigation in the event of adverse wind or sea conditions.

Look Who Got the Last Laugh, After All . . .

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — In his weekly news letter to constituents, Gov. John Dalton of Missouri listed some causes of death, as reported to the state vital statistics bureau.

They included: "Don't no (sic). Died without the aid of a physician." "Died suddenly, nothing serious." "Deceased died from blood poison, caused by a broken ankle, which is remarkable, as his automobile struck him between the lamp and the radiator."

Believe Several Killed in Moscow Explosion

MOSCOW (UPI) — Several persons were killed and several buildings wrecked by an explosion in northern Moscow, it was reported yesterday.

The blast apparently resulted from a leaky gas main, according to the reports. There was no official confirmation, but eyewitnesses said several persons were killed and injured.

Union Group Says It Will Check Romney

LANSING (U) — The Michigan State AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) said yesterday it will watch "with avid interest" how George Romney deals with lobbyists for General Motors and Ford when he moves into the governor's chair next year.

COPE said its legislative objectives remain unchanged, particularly on improvement of unemployment, pension laws, workmen's compensation and industrial safety measures.

"Whether or not the campaign promises in relation to these legislative matters will be kept by Gov.-elect Romney will without doubt be manifested by the caliber of people whom he appoints to administer these laws," COPE said.

The labor group added that it plans to watch whether what it described as the "real special interest groups" would be eliminated from influence in state government. It said: "We will be particularly interested in the influence exerted by the lobbyists from General Motors Corp. and the Ford Motor Co. who supported Romney in his election campaign."

"In the past these lobbyists were responsible for arbitrarily dictating the crippling amendments to the Unemployment Compensation Act."

Should Program Be Pushed Harder?

N-Powered Rocket Center of Space Debate

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—The U. S. space program, never without a good controversy or two going, is warming up a brand-new one for 1963 over the nuclear-powered space rocket. The one it does not have. The atomic rocket project is somewhat secretive, and the main points now evident are that it has a potful of names, a matching lot of problems, a rather fuzzy timetable and a price tag to date of $500 million.

Added to that is a new argument: Should the program be pushed even harder, and will the results be worth it?

A U. S. senator says "Yes," and calls the nuclear rocket "your best chance to leapfrog the Soviet Union" in space power. An eminent American scientist says he has his doubts.

The idea of building a nuclear space rocket was studied by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) as far back as 1956. It became known as "Rover" when the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) got into the act.

Parts of Rover go by a variety of other names — Kiwi, Nerve and Riff — depending on whom and what you are talking to and about.

The potential of the nuclear rocket has been obvious. Theoretically, it is found for pound twice as efficient as the conventional rocket — or roughly comparable to a high-powered sports car matched against the ordinary family automobile.

That's an impressive talking point, particularly for those seeking an impressive jump on the Russians. U. S. space leaders swung Project Rover full speed ahead and set 1965 as the target date for the first flight of the atomic rocket.

That was in 1960.

Two years, several hundred million dollars and a wealth of new problems later the nuclear rocket still is five years away from the launching pad.

Then Tuesday, along came Dr. Edward Teller to raise the question of whether the nuclear rocket, as proposed in the Rover program, will turn out to be what it's cracked up to be after all.

"I am not quite convinced that nuclear rockets will offer significant advantages over chemical engines," said Teller.

Teller comes well accredited to discourse on things nuclear. He helped develop the principle that led to development of the hydrogen bomb, and for that was tagged as the "father of the H-bomb" — a title he would just as soon forget.

The 54-year-old physicist was not opposing the nuclear-powered rocket ("One should explore it") but instead was warning against expecting too much of the result.

In Washington, Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R. I., yesterday presented some of the more glowing ideas of what the result would be. "Our best chance to leapfrog the Soviets lies in the fastest possible development of nuclear power in space."

"In chemical engine development," Pastore said, "there is little hope of closing this gap — unless the Soviets suddenly cease their development work. This is hardly likely."

Hong Kong has an estimated 100,000 dope addicts, perhaps the largest concentration of narcotics users in the world.

Crash Reveals High School Drinking

Tragedy Shatters Complacent City

Editor's Note — Sometimes a single tragedy can dramatize the life of a community. Such a tragedy occurred in the Chicago suburb of Winnetka last week when a car full of high school students on a charity mission crashed.

WINNETKA, Ill. (UPI)—Winnetka, Ill., is 20 miles from Chicago's loop.

It is a comfortable, pleasant place to live for those who can pay the price. Most of Winnetka's 13,368 residents can. The suburb's per capita income is second only to that of Scarsdale, N.Y., in national ratings.

The homes on its winding, shaded streets range from the comfortable modest to the million-dollar estates of inherited wealth.

Winnetka has almost everything it takes for the living of the good life. Last week, it also had tragedy.

By police blotter standards, Winnetka's tragedy was not a great one. One girl — a popular, pretty teen-ager whose life had already been shaken by a broken home — was dead.

Other youngsters were in the hospital and one of them faced possible criminal charges. It was bad but it could have been worse.

In Winnetka, though, there was no shaking off the sense of shock. Parents talked anxiously of teen-agers drinking and driving. Teachers at one of the nation's finest high schools re-examined the Thanksgiving charity drive which served as the tragedy's backdrop.

Police pressed investigations into the private affairs of some of the town's finest families.

For at least a while this month, something had happened to the sense of tranquility and security in Winnetka.

If anywhere, the tragedy began at New Trier Township High School, a $14-million institution attended by most of the teen-agers of Winnetka and the surrounding suburbs of Glenview, Wilmette, Kenilworth and Northfield.

New Trier has been rated among the nation's 10 best public-supported preparatory schools. Ninety-two per cent of its graduates go on to college. An unusually large number of them are National Merit Scholarship winners.

Among New Trier's candidates for national merit scholar this year was John H. Dawson, 17, son of a Chicago lawyer who is among the nation's leading Baptist laymen.

Young Dawson was in the upper quarter of his class. He sang the leads in school operas, played roles in school plays, was on the staff of school publications.

Like the other 4,500 students at New Trier, Dawson took an active part in the school's annual charity drive for Chicago's needy.

On alternate years, the drive assembles donations, canned goods or clothing to be distributed through three settlement houses and a South Side church in Chicago.

This year's goal for the week-long drive was 45,000 cans of food — 10 for each New Trier student. If the goal was reached, a "rock hop" victory dance was to be staged Thanksgiving eve in the school gymnasium.

The climax of the week-long drive is the final night when

Negroes Plan Model Homes

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—A 20-acre city-owned tract on Grand Rapids' Northeast Side was sold yesterday for $50,000 to a Negro group planning a model residential development open to minority groups.

The land is zoned for single and two-family homes. Its sales contract calls for a $12,000 down payment and the balance to be spread over five years.

The winning bid was turned in by a four-member group including Dr. Julius Franks Jr., a dentist, Kent County social welfare worker Joseph W. Lee and teachers James E. Adams Jr. and Samuel Triplett.

Lee said it was an opportunity to show what can be done by Negroes who find normal housing markets restricted. He said it also would serve as an example that Negroes must learn "to do something for themselves, too."

upper class students traditionally gather and make the rounds collecting final donations.

LICENSE SUSPENDED

John Dawson's driver's license had been suspended last month for traffic infractions. John asked his father, John A. Dawson, if he could use one of the family cars if another student did the driving.

His father said, "Absolutely not. This is not a penalty to you to have someone else drive for you." Then Dawson and his wife went out to dinner.

While the students gathered, someone broke out some cans of beer. According to Police Chief Don Dering a bottle of vodka may also have been passed around. Some of the students — but not all of them — drank, Dering said.

Wherever the beer came from, it did not come from the Dawson home and it was not purchased in Winnetka. The village bans sale of liquor and the elder Dawson bars liquor from his home.

Seated next to the driver was Pamela Schreiner, 17, a talented soprano and a candidate for the lead role in the New Trier opera.

Her father, former rector of Winnetka's fashionable Christ Episcopal Church, divorced her mother last spring. He resigned his pastorate and married the former Mrs. Ada Blanch Hagenah, one of his parishioners and the daughter of chewing gum millionaire P. K. Wrigley.

His first wife filed a $90,000 alienation of affections suit which is still pending.

Next to Miss Schreiner was Daniel Bryant Jr., 18, son of an architect who helped design the Marina City Towers, the world's tallest apartment buildings. Young Bryant was a member of the school band and he had been on the swimming team for three seasons but dropped out this year to concentrate on his studies. He was anxious to get back and do his homework.

Riding on the jump seats of the limousine were Charles Bernstein, 17, Virginia Vezichke, 17, and Pamela Thorsen, 17. Bernstein, son of a prominent Chicago lawyer, was captain of the New Trier gymnastics team and a member of the student council's board. Virginia was the daughter of a Highland Park, Ill., junior high school principal. Pamela Thorsen was a stepdaughter of James S. Kemper, vice chairman of the Kemper Insurance Firm.

In the back seat were Richard Tankham, 17, Mary B. Button, 17, and John J. Roche Jr., 17. Mary, vice president of New Trier's senior class, is the daughter of a chemical executive.

Roche, son of a laundry owner, was a member of the New Trier wrestling team and star fullback of the school's conference championship football squad.

"Everyone in the car was a school leader," classmate Randy Johnson, 16, said.

THE CRASH

The nine made their rounds, filled the car trunk with canned goods and drove to the school gym, where the load was transferred to a truck.

The limousine headed back toward the Dawson home. The car was southbound along Sheridan Road, a street with a 30-mile speed limit.

About five hours earlier a utilities crew had installed a new fire hydrant along the west side of the 30-foot-wide street.

Barriades were placed at either end of the new concrete. The barriers were marked with reflectors and seven kerosene flares were placed in front of them.

The limousine was traveling between 35 and 50 miles an hour, witnesses said, when the driver apparently failed to see the barriades until the last instant.

He swung the car out, missed the barriades, and lost control. The vehicle skidded, swerved, tree, crashed past a utilities pole and crunched head-on into a second tree.

Three of the limousine's occupants were thrown out. Two were pinned inside. Pamela Schreiner was dead. Bryant, trapped against the dash board, had a broken neck and doctors feared later he would not recover.

SHOCKED AT DRINKING

Helen Maloney, girls dean at New Trier, said, "I can't believe they were drinking."

Bland Button, father of Marcy, said his daughter "is a teetotaler and she wouldn't get into a car with someone she had seen drinking."

The elder Dawson said he found "absolutely no bottles or glasses" when he returned home. "There was no evidence" of drinking, he said.

But police found an unopened can of beer lying near the sprung door of the crushed limousine. Three witnesses said there was drinking at the Dawson home, Dering said.

New Trier and Winnetka were stunned. School Supt. William Gogdon called for a "re-examination of the charity drive. Winnetka Village President Vernon M. Welsh vowed that authorities would "get to the bottom of this."

A newspaper, Chicago's American, appealed editorially for continuation of the charity drive "as a memorial to the girl who died."

Police Magistrate Maurice Blum ordered a complaint charging reckless homicide and driving while a license was under suspension, to be served on Young Dawson when he gets out of the hospital. Dering vowed to prosecute the persons who supplied beer to the teen-agers.

The Thanksgiving eve victory dance was canceled. Funeral service for Miss Schreiner was held that day at St. Augustine's Episcopal Church in Wilmette.

The former Rev. Schreiner flew from his Mercer Island, Wash., home for his daughter's funeral. He said "I have the greatest compassion for the lad who was driving the car."

During the 12-minute service, Schreiner stood in the rear of the church, softly intoning the words of the Episcopal burial office to himself.

"I loved my little girl," Schreiner said. "I held her twice today. It is true the Lord came to seek those who were lost. We are all lost. We all need help."

HEADS BOARD — Arthur M. Ross, professor at the University of California and director of its Institute of Industrial Relations, will head a three-man board to study the Lockheed strike.

Claims Policy of Department Cuts Lockheed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., R-Mich., charged yesterday that Defense Department policy apparently is aimed at bludgeoning management into giving in to labor demands in the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. dispute.

Ford, of Grand Rapids, released copies of a letter in which he asked Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to clarify the department's position.

Ford said that recent newspaper accounts "create the distinct impression that Lockheed will be cut off as a supplier to the Defense Department even though it is the lowest competitive bidder, unless the company capitulates to the demands of the executive branch of the federal government."

He said neither Congress nor the taxpayers will look with favor on a policy which automatically excludes any qualified firm from competition for contracts.

Ford said he reminded McNamara that Congress has supported the policy of competitive bidding and that the secretary himself testified to that effect before the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee on which Ford serves as senior Republican member.

Plane Lands Safely With 3 Blown Tires

MANCHESTER, England (UPI) — No one was injured yesterday when a British European Airways Vanguard jet carrying 80 passengers burst three tires on landing at the airport here.

Some passengers called the landing "a bit bumpy" but said they did not know anything was wrong until they had to debark in the middle of a runway. Pilot P. E. Loat called the landing "quite gentle and undramatic."

Operations Go On Without a Hitch

Nuns Keep Cool Despite Hospital Fire

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI)—Roman Catholic nuns scurried about the hospital corridors closing doors and windows. Meals were served and medicine given.

Normal? Not really, there was a three-alarm fire raging at the time.

The fire swept through parts of St. Joseph Hospital here yesterday and firemen from 12 departments were called to fight the blaze.

Five of the fire fighters received emergency treatment, two for smoke inhalation and three for cuts. It was brought under control 20 minutes after firemen arrived at the scene.

None of the 242 patients in the hospital was evacuated despite the fire, which did an estimated $150,000 damage to one wing of the building.

When the blaze was discovered shortly before noon, the nuns put into effect a carefully prepared disaster plan.

Precautions were taken to prevent air from sweeping the flames throughout the building by closing the windows and doors. Stretchers and wheelchairs were placed in the hallways, convenient to the patients if evacuation should become necessary.

Noon meals were served, medicine was dispensed, and seven operations under way when the fire was discovered were completed.

During the holocaust, two babies were delivered — a son to Mrs. Donald Rasmussen of Fraser and a girl to Mrs. Erwin Ebbe of St. Clair Shores.

Officials said the fire, the cause of which remained unknown, began in the nuns' quarters on the third floor and spread to the shallow attic immediately above. Water and smoke damage was reported to the first and second floors.

The hospital opened in 1890 as a sanitarium and since then several wings have been added. Workers were putting finishing touches on a remodeling program when the fire started.

$7,000 Fire Hits Lapeer Plant

Painting Facilities at Firm Damaged

LAPEER — A 20-minute fire caused over $7,000 damage to the painting facilities of the Lapeer Metal Products Co. yesterday.

Fire Chief Matthew Dougherty said the blaze started in one of the paint machines' electrical systems.

He estimated damage as between $7,000 and $8,000.

The fire started in the plant, located at 500 S. Saginaw St., at 6:15 p.m. Dougherty said it was under control by 6:35.

None of the 15 men employed at the plant was injured.

'When' of Fluoridation Still Big Question

DETROIT (UPI)—Mayor Jerome Cavanagh has signed into law the water fluoridation ordinance but it was still a question when the controversial step would be taken.

Cavanagh, in New Orleans for a meeting of the executive board of the American Municipal Association, said in a statement issued through his local office that "as far as implementation of the fluoridation project is concerned, the financial outlook of the city and the total needs of our community will have to be taken into consideration."

"This action by the city's legislative body was not a hurried judgment, nor was it arrived at without full and complete information on the subject of fluoridation."

"The eight members of the council sought expert advice, carefully weighed and analyzed all arguments for and against, and then in the true spirit of democracy, gave both sides full time to present their views at public hearings."

"The final decision was mature, carefully and well thought out. For these reasons I have approved the fluoridation ordinance."

"NOT HURRIED"

"The ordinance was sponsored by Councilwoman Mary V. Beck. Councilman William G. Rogel was the only member to vote against the ordinance."

Fluoridation of water serves to reduce tooth cavities, proponents of it say. However, opponents contend it discolors teeth and some oppose it on religious grounds.

It was expected that court action will be taken in protest of fluoridation. Some suburbs which buy Detroit water or plan to have objected to fluoridation.

Former Pastor to Lead Elmwood Church Service

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Rev. Keith Colby, former pastor of the Elmwood Methodist Church, will return Sunday to conduct the 5:30 p.m. youth meeting and the 7 p.m. evening service.

A gathering in the church parlors will follow the evening service.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Marlene Lisbeth Arndt to Airman 2C Donald R. Stover by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Arndt of Steelton, Pa. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil W. Stover of 2888 N. Grant St., Avon Township. A spring wedding is planned.

Dauntless Sir Winston Sailing Into 88th Birthday

LONDON (UPI)—Sir Winston Churchill's 88th birthday rolls around tomorrow and the venerable statesman's family and friends are delighted at the opportunity of stressing his age.

"Happy 88th birthday," they will say—and hope the hint sinks in.

For the old man is feeling so well at the moment that he tends to forget his years.

"Frankly," said a friend today, "we are afraid he may over extend himself. He has got to be reminded of his great age and a birthday is a fine and natural time for doing just that. We wouldn't dare do it at any other time."

Sir Winston is clumping around his town house in Hyde Park Gate on a cane these days fretting because the doctors do not think him quite ready for a journey to the sun of the French Riviera.

His continuing recovery from a broken thigh bone suffered in a fall in Monte Carlo last June is remarkable, but Sir Winston is convinced the leg will be completely normal if he can only bask in the sunshine for a few hours a day—a forlorn hope in the cold rain and mists of an English winter.

"He is keeping the pressure on," said the friend, "so I suppose they won't be able to hold him here much after the first of the year."

Sir Winston is making one important change in routine this year as a result of the leg injury. He will not attend the annual sing-song of his public school, Harrow-on-the-Hill, thus breaking a tradition extending back 21 years into the worst days of the war.

These are emotional occasions with the boys of the school, in starched white-collars and black mess jackets, singing to Sir Winston the songs he himself sang when he was a student nearly 75 years ago.

But the old statesman cannot yet maneuver on his own the long walk and the steps from the road into the ancient auditorium of the school and apparently he does not want the boys to see him carried or wheeled to the dias.

The 88th birthday celebration will be a simple affair at the town house with only family and a few close friends present.

There may be a surprise guest—the youngest member of the Churchill clan, Sir Winston's first great-grandchild, Mark Dixon, he will be only 2 weeks old but Sir Winston is anxious to see him. Mark is the grandson of Diana Churchill and her former husband, Commonwealth and Colonial Minister Duncan Sandys.

Sir Winston spends his time reading, playing bridge (a card game) with friends and lunching and dining with a few old cronies.

He no longer writes or paints but he pays close attention to his many business affairs, including Paramount Pictures' effort to screen his early life under the title: "Heart of the Lion."

LOT OF LIFE

Sir Winston packed so much living into his first 25 years, the period covered by the proposed film, that Paramount is having trouble squeezing it into two and a half hours.

Before his election to parliament as a national hero in 1900 he covered and fought in several campaigns as the highest paid war correspondent of his time, took part in the last cavalry charge in British military history at Omdurman—he is the last surviving officer—and made a spectacular escape from the Boers in the war with South Africa.

U.S. Agrees to Send Surplus

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia and the United States signed an agreement yesterday for delivery of U.S. agricultural surplus.

By this agreement the United States will deliver to Yugoslavia 182 million tons of wheat and 30,000 tons of edible oil. The repayment of this credit will be made in local currency, the dinar.

The United States will also deliver to Yugoslavia 22,000 tons of cotton and 9,000 tons of flax. The repayment of this credit will be made in dollars.

Yugoslavia has a shortage of wheat because of a bad harvest this year due to drought.

Attention Turns to Economic Problems

Is Russia Shifting? It Could Be Lucky for the West

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Something strange has developed in Kremlin policy since the Cuban crisis. Some of the things going on have world diplomats blinking in astonishment.

Possibly the shock Moscow's leadership sustained when it looked down a nuclear gun barrel in the Caribbean showdown was far deeper than many in the West realized. The results could prove world-shaking.

While Western statesmen are alert to the possibilities of a Communist "sudden shift" which could change the picture overnight, they seem to scent something exciting in the wind. The attitude is one of caution, of wary lookout for traps. But dogs probably will be kept open to permit exploitation of whatever may be hopeful in Kremlin policy.

Undoubtedly President Kennedy will discuss such matters with British Prime Minister Macmillan when they meet Dec. 19.

SAW POSSIBILITY

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in a speech in New York recently, saw the possibility of unpredictable events in the offing which could profoundly affect world peace. Was he referring to a sudden inward turn of Soviet policy?

Since the Cuban crisis, Premier Khrushchev has directed much Soviet attention to vast economic problems, involving a far-reaching reorganization of industry and agriculture. Without conquering such problems the Communists can hardly hope to bring the shaky economies of the Soviet Union and its satellites to a condition of invulnerability.

That will take time and some lessening of tension. Might this induce Khrushchev to turn his back on the more explosive cold war issues?

War Berlin, potentially the most explosive issue of all, suddenly is being played down by the Soviet press despite four years of Khrushchev threats and pressure against the Allied presence there.

Before the Cuban crisis Soviet propaganda called Berlin the world's most dangerous issue. What is happening now? Just one sample:

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia on Sunday carried an article by one of its top observers dealing, like so many others, with the potential catastrophe which

All this can cost Moscow heavily in terms of world Communist leadership.

On the long series of Soviet-U.S. exchanges on the Cuban situation, the Soviets at times seemed almost scornfully to ignore Cuba's regime, as if regarding the crisis purely a matter between the two big powers and none of Fidel Castro's business.

IT CAN COST

All this can cost Moscow heavily in terms of world Communist leadership.

The Kremlin is accused by the Red Chinese, Albanians, North Koreans, North Vietnamese and others of selling out the world movement. Recent satellite party meetings illuminated the deep cleavage.

Confusion becomes more evident almost daily. Minority groups in many of the world's Communist parties are supporting the Chinese policy of reckless support of revolution everywhere.

The Italian party, for example, Europe's strongest outside the Iron Curtain, is opening its annual congress Sunday on a note of quarreling between pro-Khrushchev and pro-Chinese elements.

RESISTANCE HARDER

The Soviets appear to be trying to keep the way open to conciliation, but the Chinese give the impression that their resistance to Khrushchev's policies is growing harder all the time.

The cold war atmosphere now seems to promise a period of relaxed Soviet-Western tensions. The whole situation could change swiftly from the force of internal pressures in the Communist world. Communism risks stagnation if it stands still.

But if Khrushchev has turned a conservative-minded Soviet party inward, indicating a priority for Soviet economic problems over the demands of world revolution, a significant change will have taken place.

The Soviets might be content for a while to let revolutionary situations take their course. The Soviets would give what help they could without involving themselves too deeply in dangerous adventures.

If this cautious attitude provides time for Soviet social development to catch up with the West's, it could have deep meaning for world peace.

Hopes to Speed Calls to Kremlin

U. S. Eyes Faster Link With Embassy Abroad

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is trying to establish a radio teletype link with its embassy in Moscow to speed private communications between the White House and the Kremlin, it was learned today.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said that existing means of private communications could not have handled the Cuban crisis exchanges between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

When the chips were down, Rusk said in a television interview last night, both Kennedy and Khrushchev turned to public communication as the fastest.

But since then, it was learned, the U.S. State Department has approached several foreign governments with a request for the right to operate radio transmitters in American embassies in the capitals of those countries.

Although none of the governments has been identified officially, it was understood they include the Soviet Union as well as several in the remote reaches of Africa and Asia.

The request for embassy radio transmitters was made under the terms of amendment to the Communications Act of 1934 signed by the President last month which permits reciprocal broadcasting privileges to foreign governments.

So far, no requests have been made for foreign governments to operate radio transmitters from embassies in Washington, it was learned.

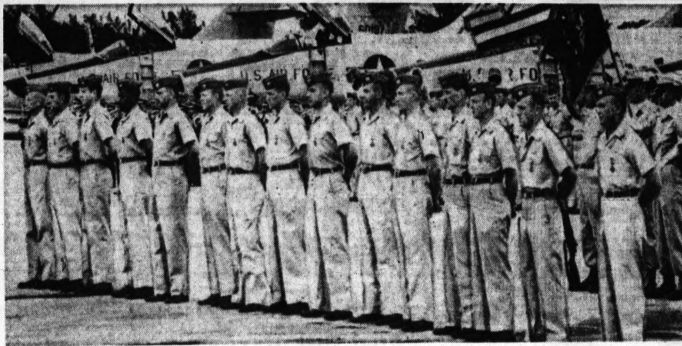

LIMITED COMMUNICATIONS

The State Department hopes the radio transmitters will lessen its dependence on the uncertain facilities of local post office and communications departments. In many of the newer nations, communications are limited and tend to break down quickly in the event of political or other crisis.

The most recent example was the military patch in Yemen, when the U.S. Embassy was out of touch with Washington for several days.

Rusk last night described the functioning of the present link to Moscow during the Cuban missile crisis.

"There was a question of speed of communications through normal channels," the secretary said. "The sheer physical problem of transmitting messages to people who use another language,

Bonn Arrests 2nd Colonel

BONN, Germany (UPI) — A second West German colonel has been arrested on suspicion of passing secret information to the magazine Spiegel, the federal prosecutor announced today in Karlsruhe.

The colonel is on the staff of the defense ministry, but his name and details of his alleged security violation were not disclosed. Col. Adolf Wicht, also of the defense ministry, was arrested earlier.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met an advisory committee today to discuss the cabinet crisis caused by the Spiegel affair and the role of his defense minister, Franz Josef Strauss, in it.

Adenauer's own Christian Democratic Party (CDU) appeared to have blocked his first attempt to settle the crisis, and there was growing pressure by CDU lawmakers to have Adenauer name Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard his eventual successor.

Adenauer, who will be 77 in January, has agreed to retire before the 1965 elections but thus far has refused to name a date or successor.

The chancellor gave in to demands by his coalition partners, the Free Democrats (FDP), to resign Strauss because of the controversy arising out of the arrests of Spiegel publisher Rudolf Augstein and three of his editors.

They are being held on suspicion of having published secret defense information obtained by bribing defense officials.

Lord Russell Hits U.S. Over Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — British philosopher Bertrand Russell said today that U.S. policies aimed at economically isolating Communist Cuba amount to "the grossest imperialism."

In a letter to The Washington Post today Lord Russell said Soviet Premier Khrushchev, by agreeing to remove Russian missiles from Cuba, prevented a conflict that would have led to World War III. He added:

"In withdrawing all missiles Mr. Khrushchev received the unequivocal assurance that the sovereignty of Cuba would be respected by the United States."

"Since this solemn assurance, American officials have declared that they intend to continue application of trade embargoes, of economic boycott and to reserve the right of military intervention."

"It is declared that Dr. Castro's form of government cannot be tolerated in the Western Hemisphere. This is the grossest imperialism. It is without a shred of justification in international law...."

In lifting the blockade on Nov. 20, President Kennedy said that if removal of arms can be verified by inspection and if Cuba is not to export communism "there will be peace in the Caribbean. But he added:

"We will not, of course, abandon the political, economic and other efforts of this hemisphere to halt subversion from Cuba, nor our purpose and hope that the Cuban people shall some day be truly free."

Russell also wrote that the "resolution of the Cuban crisis affords an opportunity such as has not been available before to a suffering world. The Russians have taken a painful decision which they honor in deed."

"It is for the United States to respond with magnanimity and to enable agreement on Berlin, nuclear tests, missiles around the world and all issues which, should failure to agree take place, will lead inexorably to the final crisis."

6 Miles Out of Range of Lima Field Signals

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — A Peruvian government investigator said last night the Brazilian jetliner that crashed south of here Tuesday was 6 miles off course when it piled up on Las Cruces Hill.

The crash killed all 97 persons aboard the Los Angeles-bound 707. At least 15 of the dead were Americans.

Peruvian Air Force Maj. Frank Tweddle said the unexplained deviation in the plane's course put it six miles out of range of the Lima airport's instrument-landing equipment at the time of the crash.

Tweddle said the instrument landing system at the airport was checked on the day of the crash and found to be in good working order.

PILOT ERROR?

"It appears that the crash was caused either by pilot error or by some failure of equipment aboard the plane," said the Peruvian, who is coordinating the investigation of the crash.

The jetliner's flight recorder, an instrument cased in a heavily reinforced box which registers in-flight operations, has not yet been located.

Experts from Varig Airline, operator of the 707; Boeing Aircraft, which manufactured it; and the U.S. Federal Aviation Agency will take part in the investigation of the crash.

At nightfall yesterday the bodies of 64 crash victims had been brought to the Lima morgue, where the remains were being prepared for return to the countries of origin.

Communications difficulties made it impossible to determine immediately whether the other 33 bodies had been located on the blackened granite slopes of Las Cruces hill.

U.S. Reconnaissance Pilots Saw MIGs on Cuban Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two U.S. pilots who flew surveillance missions over Cuba say they were joined in the skies by Red fighter planes but were not attacked.

They made their statements Wednesday as 25 medals were presented by high ranking Air Force and Navy officers to pilots who flew over Cuba on reconnaissance missions. Eleven more medals are to be presented.

LI. Col. Clyde B. East, commanding officer of the 29th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron, said at Tampa, Fla., that he had spotted three types of Soviet MIG jet fighters while over Cuba.

He said one type—the MIG 21—was faster than his RF101 Voodoo reconnaissance plane, rated at more than 1,000 miles an hour. The Soviet planes, he said, "never fired on us, they just highlighted it."

East, 41, a native of Chatham, Va., who received his fourth Distinguished Flying Cross Wednesday, also said U.S. planes were fired on from the ground but "no one was hit or hurt."

'SAW SEVERAL PLANES'

In Omaha, Neb., Air Force Maj. Richard S. Heyser said he had seen Cuban planes on several occasions. As if they tried to interfere with him, he hesitated then replied, "not that I was aware of."

Heyser wouldn't say what kind of plane he was piloting, but he did remark that he flew so high he wasn't worried about anti-aircraft fire.

Heyser, 35, is a member of the 4800th Strategic Wing of Laughlin Air Force Base, a Strategic Air Command unit which defense officials previously have said includes high flying U-2 aircraft. These planes have an estimated altitude of 70,000 feet or more.

Heyser said U.S. pilots were briefed on what to look for, and "fortunately we found it." He said information gathered by his unit by visual sightings and by equipment enabled other pilots to fly low level reconnaissance missions over Cuba.

The flier from Apalachicola, Fla., said he got his first look at the surveillance photographs Wednesday, but had seen newspaper reproductions previously.

Heyser talked with newsmen briefly following ceremonies at the Strategic Air Command headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, in which he and nine others received Distinguished Flying Crosses or Oak Leaf Clusters.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander, pinned on the medals and credited the pilots with showing "exceptional flying skill and personal bravery during a period of great crisis."

LOW-LEVEL AWARDS

LI. Col. East and 14 other air force pilots of the 363rd Tactical Reconnaissance Wing of Saw Air Force Base, Sumter, S.C., received Distinguished Flying Crosses from Adm. Robert L. Dennison at MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa. They were cited for low-level missions over Cuba from Oct. 23 through Oct. 29.

Dennison, commander of the Atlantic Fleet and chief of all military operations during the Cuban crisis, was to present DFCs to six Navy and four Marine pilots at Cecil Field in Jacksonville, Fla., today.

The Defense Department said Wednesday that a medal also will go to an Air Force captain who has been transferred to Laon, an aerial surveillance mission over Cuba, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal posthumously.

Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., Greenville, S.C., killed while on duty.

Cuba Spawns Caution

Rusk Cools Optimism

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Back to the salt mines.

For several weeks, since the Cuban crisis died down, there has been a kind of national sigh of relief and perhaps even elation in the hope now maybe things would get better because they couldn't have been much worse.

But now Secretary of State Dean Rusk has squirmed some ice water on any notion that the world ought to begin getting better now. Rusk, who is usually bland and seldom says anything startling, wasn't startling in an interview televised Wednesday by CBS.

He tried to be practical, as he put it, and urged caution about optimism. In fact, he said, the Cuban experience has made both the West and the Communist world more cautious.

That caution has to take three directions:

1. The Russians were caught trying to slip a fast one over with their missiles in Cuba. They will be viewed with renewed suspicion no matter what they say, particularly since they lied about the missiles.

2. The missiles, among other things, gave the Russians a chance to see whether President Kennedy was tough enough to do anything about it. He was. They'll have to be cautious about testing him again.

3. The Russian retreat in Cuba, a bad place for them to get into a war, doesn't mean they'll back down somewhere else, if it's more to their liking. So the United States

States will have to be cautious in any future showdown.

And Rusk, in the hour-long interview, said this country has even "cautioned our friends from drawing too many conclusions from the Cuban experience."

He said: "It would be, I think, wrong to say that because this situation in Cuba came out the way it did that therefore a lot of other questions are going suddenly to take a new shape and new form in fundamental respects."

"I do think that this experience has caused an element of caution on all sides—in Moscow as well as elsewhere."

One by-product of the Cuban affair — an indirect result that could not have been planned by the Kennedy administration and perhaps was not even thought of at the time—is the increasingly bad blood between the Soviets and Red China.

The latter denounced the Russians for denying so readily to American warnings to pull their missiles out of Cuba.

The Sino-Soviet split could lead to one of the greatest breaks the West ever got. A real split between the two Communist allies. This, too, is pie-in-the-sky stuff.

Rusk reduced this to practicality, too. He acknowledged "very serious and very reaching" differences between Moscow and Peking. But he mentioned that the differences are not on halting world revolution but only on how to bring it about.

Even on this one he said: "Let's see how the story comes out."

Prays Killer Disease Won't Take Sixth

Couple Asks Miracle After 5th Child Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson, who have lost all five of their children, to a rare congenital disease, are praying for a miracle in anticipating the birth of their sixth child next February.

The Mass of the Angels will be sung at an hour before noon tomorrow for the fifth child who joined her three brothers and a sister in death two days ago.

Barabara, 9, and her brothers and sister all died of the same illness, sometimes called Schder's Disease, which doctors describe as a progressive degeneration of the central nervous system.

"The Lord has been good to us," said Mrs. Johnson, clutching a tear-soaked handkerchief. "He has given us children to love and enjoy, to care for and watch over. There is no bitterness in our hearts."

NO KNOWN CURE

There is no known cure or therapy because the real cause of the disease has not been determined. Dr. John Lowry, a pediatrician at the University of Michigan, said, "We treat the symptoms as best we can. There are no miracle drugs," Lowry said.

Dr. John Racklunge, member of the human genetics department staff at University Hospital in Ann Arbor, said the disease may be caused by "recessive genes" of the parents.

Suzanne Marie, 2, died Oct. 15 this year. Before her were Stephen, 2, who died in August 1957; Joseph, 2, died June 1958, and David, 2 months, January 1959.

And while the couple has been told that their chances of having a child without the disease grow slimmer with each one, they maintain their courage and faith in God. "Possibly our baby will be normal... we will pray."

The Johnsons have tried without success to adopt children. Court authorities have refused permission, they said, because Mrs. Johnson is capable of bearing children.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE AIR

QUESTION: Why is it that the higher the altitude, the less the air pressure?

ANSWER: You'll understand about this if you realize that air has actual weight, as Jack is proving when he drinks pop.

In the left hand bottle, the air's weight is pressing down inside it, but nothing happens. In the larger bottle you can see what happens when Jack puts in a straw and begins to suck.

The sucking takes the air up out of the straw; now there's no air to press down through it. But the air is pressing down on the liquid and this and the liquid's own weight starts some of the liquid up through the straw.

Since there's nothing to hold it down, the extra weight given by the air pushes the pop up into Jack's mouth. At the right, we show some different air pressures.

Boy A looks squashed down, as we might expect him to be with nearly 15 pounds pushing down on every square inch of his body. He really isn't squashed; he's like boy B. The reason is there are pressures inside us which push out to equal the ones which press down.

FOR YOU TO DO: Ride your bike slowly, then suddenly go as fast as you can. You will find that the air resists you a bit, that you have to push your way through it. This should help to prove to you that air is a substance, that it has weight.

Soviets Have 12 Nuclear Submarines

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union, "gravely concerned" over the striking power of the U.S. Navy's 26 nuclear powered submarines, now has more than 12 of its own "on station," Jane's Fighting Ships reported today.

The annual edition of the authoritative reference book on the world's fleets called the U.S. Navy "the most imposing array of warships the world has ever known in peacetime."

But it warned it would be "unwise to underestimate Soviet warship production capabilities."

Jane's showed the United States leading the world in all major categories of warships except conventionally powered submarines.

The Soviet total of 465 of all kinds of submarines is larger than that of all Western navies combined.

It said the Soviets may be able to test their first submarine equipped with Polaris-type missiles, capable of being fired from underwater, within the next month.

The United States has nine Polaris-firing submarines in commission and will have another nine on sea duty by the end of next year.

The two newest, the Lafayette, launched last May, and the Alexander Hamilton, launched in August, are designed to fire the advanced A3 Polaris missile, which has a 2,500 mile range.

The current U.S. Navy construction program calls for 41 nuclear submarines.

The United States also has 42 cruisers, 56 aircraft carriers, and seven battleships and command ships, Jane's said. The Russians have 22 cruisers, some of them overage by western standards, and no battleships or carriers because Soviet strategists do not believe they would survive an atomic war.

Polarized lighting fixtures, which reduce glare, are now available for commercial use.

Fruit Cake Should Please Family

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When we see the candied fruit appear in the stores, we know that the holiday season has begun in earnest. That means it's time to make fruit cake. Or were you organized well enough to make it weeks ago?

Tastes in fruit cake vary by families. One will settle for nothing less than the traditional dark rich version. Others prefer a light fruit cake with only a few kinds of fruit.

Don't be a slave to any recipe. If your family can't stand citron or candied grapefruit peel, omit it. The amount of fruit called for in the recipe—not the kind—is important.

You will find recipes calling for brandy, sherry or other wine. You can always substitute fruit juice for any of them.

This year try lining your pans with several layers of aluminum foil instead of waxed paper. The foil prevents over-browning of the outside of the cake.

Here is the recipe for the cake shown in the accompanying photograph.

Christmas Wreath Cake

1 cup each, currants & seedless raisins
2 cups finely cut, mixed candied fruits
2 cups pecan halves
1 cup peeled, diced raw apple
4 tablespoons dry sherry
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 teaspoon each, allspice, ginger, mace
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
3 eggs
Quilted broiling foil Garnish: whole candied cherries
pecan halves

Combine currants, raisins, candied fruits, nuts, apple and sherry. Let stand several hours or overnight.

Mix and stir dry ingredients. Cream butter; add sugar gradually and continue to cream until mixture is light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating until mixed. Fold in fruit mixture, then dry ingredients. Stir until all ingredients are thoroughly blended.

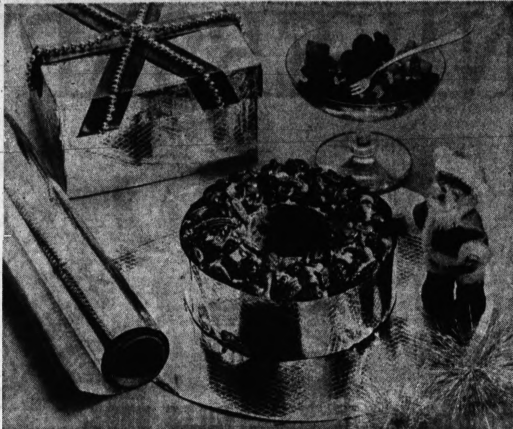

To Make Christmas Wreath Pan

Cut circle, 7 1/2-inches in diameter from lightweight cardboard. Cut 2 circles, 8-inches in diameter, from quilted broiling foil. Cover cardboard circle with one quilted foil circle, flattening border of foil securely to underside. Place on second circle of foil and bring foil border up to form side.

Next, cut a strip of cardboard 4-inches wide and 24-inches long. Cover on each side with strips of quilted foil 2 1/2-inches long. Secure with cellophane tape around edge of foil circle. Cover with foil a 4-inch length of cardboard core on which foil is rolled.

Secure form inside of core to center of "pan". Place in baking pan or on cookie sheet.

Spoon fruitcake mixture into pan. Bake in a very slow oven (250 degrees) for about 4 hours. Decorate cake with cherries and pecans after cake has baked for

CHRISTMAS WREATH FRUIT CAKE — Say Merry Christmas to your family by baking a Christmas Wreath Fruit Cake chock full of goodies and basted with brandy or fruit juice. By using non-sticking quilted foil as a convenient baking container you can turn out a perfect Christmas fruit cake for all the family to enjoy or as an ideal gift. For variety, you might shape a quilted foil pan in the form of a Christmas tree or star to provide an attractive centerpiece for your holiday table.

about 2 1/2 hours. Test for doneness by touching lightly. Cool.

Moisten with brandy or fruit juice, then wrap tightly in double thickness of quilted foil. Replenish brandy every few days. Makes about 2 1/2 pound cake.

Our next recipe is for a fruit cake without any candied fruit. It calls for dates and maraschino cherries and lots of nuts. Before storing sprinkle with liquor or fruit juice.

Quick-as-a-Mix Fruit Cake

1 1/2 cups Brazil nuts (1/4 pound shelled nuts, or 1 pound unshelled)
1 1/2 cups pecans (1/2 pound shelled, or 1 pound unshelled)
2 packages pitted dates
1 cup (1 1/2 ounce jar) drained maraschino cherries
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Put nuts, dates and cherries in large mixing bowl. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt over nuts and fruits. Mix with hands until nuts and mixed fruits are coated with flour mixture.

Beat eggs until foamy, add vanilla. Stir into nuts-fruits mixture until well blended. Turn into two well-greased small loaf pans. Spread batter evenly in pans, packing down. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees) about 1 1/2 hours for loaves.

After the cakes are cooled, sprinkle with liquor, picking the favorite of the person to whom the cake is going, or with fruit juice. Wrap in clear plastic to store.

Instead of a large loaf or ring cake, try your hand at fruit cupcakes. Think what fun you can have decorating a couple of dozen little cakes.

Fruit Cupcakes

1 cup sliced fresh dates
1/2 cup diced candied fruits
1 cup roasted dried almonds
1 cup light or dark raisins
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
1/4 cup light corn syrup or honey
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
2 eggs

1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg
Sherry wine

Combine dates, candied fruits, almonds and raisins. Cream shortening with sugar. Blend in syrup and orange rind. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Sift flour with salt, baking powder and spices. Blend into batter. Add fruit-nut mixture, mixing well. Spoon into large muffin pans lined with fluted paper baking cups. Bake in 350-degree (slow) oven 40 to 50 minutes, or just until cakes test done. Cool.

Sprinkle each cake liberally with Sherry or Muscatel wine, brandy or rum or fruit juice. Store in an airtight container at least 2 weeks before using.

Cheese Topping Cracks All Over

Interesting flavor and an easy method may persuade you to bake these biscuits!

Crackle-Top Biscuits

2 cups biscuit mix
1/2 cup minced parsley
Milk
Grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

Stir biscuit mix and parsley together. Stir milk into mix, using the amount needed for regular rolled-out biscuits. This will be a rather stiff dough but do not roll out; with two spoons, turn-odor on your hands!

the dough into muffin-pans, filling cups almost to top, sprinkle with Parmesan and paprika. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 20 minutes or until browned.

Remove from pans at once and serve hot. If muffin-pans cups are 1/2-cup size, recipe will make 10 biscuits.

Grate Onions

If you have a sharp coarse grater in your kitchen, you can use it for onions instead of chopping them. Lots of cooks find this method quick and easy. Use kitchen gloves and you'll have no onion tears or odor on your hands!

Maybe His Cook Didn't Make Coffee Properly

Two centuries ago, coffee was of such importance that at least one famous king insisted on brewing his own. He was King Louis the Fifteenth of France who prepared his coffee over a spirit lamp and served it from a golden coffee-pot.

When Louis' golden coffee-pot filled a dainty cup, the cup was often in the hand of Madame de Pompadour. Later, he poured his coffee for Madame du Barry and a famous painting of Louis the Fifteenth captures this scene.

Serve Butter Cookies With Yule Eggnog

The Christmas season is a perfect time to entertain. The occasion can be for any reason—to trim the tree, to sing carols; to share the fun of Santa Claus or just because you want folks in for a joyful holiday get-together. As the ideal refreshment for such special occasions; nothing can match a frothy bowl of delicious Eggnog and a colorful tray of crisp Butter Cookie Wreaths.

Eggnog, served plain or varied, is a traditional Yuletide treat for all ages. If you find that your holiday schedule doesn't permit enough time for making eggnog for all those impromptu parties, plan to have a supply of dairy eggnog on hand. This wholesome and tasty beverage can make your "what-to-serve" worries disappear. Eggnog is the answer to happy holiday entertaining.

Eggnog

4 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk, scalded
2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond or lemon extract
3 cups cold milk
1 cup heavy cream, (1/2 pint) whipped

Combine eggs, sugar and salt in top of double boiler or heavy saucepan. Stir hot milk in slowly and mix well. Cook over boiling water or low heat until mixture thickly coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat; cool quickly. Stir in flavorings, cover and refrigerate until ready to serve.

At serving time beat chilled custard until smooth and frothy. Stir in cold milk. Whip cream and drop spoonfuls to float on nog. Makes 14 half-cup servings.

Variations of basic eggnog recipe:

Chocolate: Add 1/2 cup chocolate syrup to eggnog mixture.

Orange: Omit almond extract and stir in 1/2 cup undiluted frozen orange juice concentrate.

Butter Cookie Wreaths

1 1/2 cups soft butter (3 sticks)
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
3 eggs
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
Red and green colored sugar, if desired

Cream together butter, sugar and salt until light and fluffy. Beat in orange rind and eggs. Stir in flour. Force dough through cookie press onto baking sheet using a wreath shaped tip or insert. If desired, sprinkle with colored sugars. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, until lightly browned, 8 to 8 minutes. Makes 5 dozen cookie wreaths.

HOLIDAY TABLE — Christmas food is so colorful that it is delightful used as part of the table decorations. Here you see a shining bowl of eggnog with slim candy canes tied onto the handles of the glasses. In the background is a basket of butter cookies.

TEA BREAK — To break the day when you are busy with holiday preparations, stop and have a tea break. Nice to serve with spiced tea is Cherry Tea Bread, Vanilla Shortbread or a handful of toasted peanuts.

Take Time Out for a Tea Break Amid Holiday Preparations

From now on until the holidays are in full swing, many of us will be busy preparing and wrapping foods and other gifts to sell at church and club bazaars. Working steadily does get the work done, but a refreshment break is necessary, too. A cup of spiced tea, a slice of Vanilla Cherry Tea bread, and perhaps a handful of dry roasted peanuts will make a relaxing moment for everyone.

Incidentally, these peanuts, in their natural flavor jackets, are coated with an herb-spice-salt mixture and are delightful for nibbling while working, too. Since they are processed without the addition of fats or oils, the peanuts are not greasy so there would be any telltale finger prints on ribbon-tied gifts.

Spiced Tea
3 cups boiling water
4 tea bags
2 teaspoons pure vanilla
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon vinegar
2 orange slices, cut in half

Put boiling water in tea pot. Add the tea bags. Add vanilla, cinnamon, and sugar to the water. Cover and let stand for 5 minutes. Pour into cups and top with orange slices. Makes 4 servings.

Vanilla Cherry Tea Bread
2 cups sifted flour
2 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup candied cherries
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
2 teaspoons pure vanilla
1 cup milk

Set oven at 350 degrees. Grease and flour a "kix" baking pan. Sift the flour, baking powder, and salt together. Cut the cherries into quarter strips. Cream the butter and sugar until light. Add the egg and beat well. Add vanilla to the milk and add to creamed mixture.

Add dry ingredients to the

Decorate Ham Loaf with Fruit Flowers

An attractive, hearty protein-rich loaf that can be served at dinner. The unused portion will make a filling for tomorrow's sandwiches.

Upside-Down Ham Celery Loaf
1-3 cup brown sugar
1 cup crushed pineapple, drained
1 pound ground ham
1 pound ground pork
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
1 cup celery, sliced
Maraschino cherries

Sprinkle sugar over bottom of a standard loaf pan. Cover with pineapple. Mix remaining ingredients (except for maraschino cherries) thoroughly and pack lightly into the pan.
Bake at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours. Turn out on platter and garnish with maraschino cherry flowers. Makes 8-10 servings.

Tomato Juice Is Given a Zip With Sherry

There is fire in Snappy Tomato Juice. The fire of pepper. In fact, this pre-dinner beverage is so snappy we predict the first taste will create more surprise than you'll be completely won over.

Along with the Tabasco to give it character, there is a good proportion of sherry, plus bouillon and other seasonings. Serve it hot in pre-heated glasses or cups. It's a real teaser.

Snappy Tomato Juice
2 cups dry sherry
1 (46-oz.) can tomato juice
1 (10 1/2-oz.) can bouillon
2 tablespoons worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons strained lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
Combine all ingredients. Heat slowly to boiling, stirring now and then. Pour into heat-proof glasses. Makes 2 quarts.

SUGAR CHURCH — The little church may be made to last, not for one season, but for many. The sugar tablets are glued together and when it's completed you will find it to be a very sturdy structure. Sugar wafers make the door, the steeple is coated with cake glitter and the cross made from wooden matches. It's 17 inches high. The styrofoam base on the one shown was painted green, but you may use cotton for a winter scene if you desire. The full size pattern gives complete and easy-to-understand directions. In fact, every sugar tablet is located for you. A list of required materials is included. To obtain the full size sugar church pattern No. 271 send 50 cents by coin, check or money order to: Steve Ellington, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif.

Skim Milk Can Make Low Calorie Dessert

If you're striving to be slim and milk contains only about 90 calories, steak and chic, skim milk may well have a place in your diet.

The miracle of skim milk is that it retains the sweet fresh goodness of whole milk but with a reduced butterfat content. A cup of skim

So, it makes good sense to use skim milk. It's calorie-wise and low in calories, and you need never hesitate about using it often.

Use skim milk just as you do whole fluid milk... stop cereals, cobblers, turnovers, deep dish fruit pies. Also in soups, sauces, custards and puddings, creamed dishes, the myriad of hot breads and other baked goods, egg and cheese concoctions. Whatever your mealtime wish, skim milk will help you achieve filling flavor while keeping the calorie count down.

For a dainty, delicate try skim milk as one of the ingredients in Egg Nog Chiffon Pudding:

Combine 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 2 tablespoons sugar and a dash of salt in the top of a double boiler. Beat together 1/4 cups skim milk and 3 egg yolks. Add to the gelatin and stir constantly while cooking over boiling water until the gelatin dissolves, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat, season with nutmeg and vanilla, and chill until thickened.

Beat 3 egg whites until stiff, add 3 tablespoons sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks are formed. Fold egg whites into the gelatin mixture and spoon into 4 cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve on a fancy platter with chocolate sauce, if desired. Yield: 6-8 low calorie servings.

Mushrooms Add Glamor to Peas

This vegetable combination tastes particularly good with fish and eggs.

Savory Peas and Mushrooms
1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons dehydrated minced onion
1 can (3 ounces) chopped broiled mushrooms
1 or 2 tablespoons butter (if desired)

Turn the peas, salt and onion into a saucepan. Drain liquid from mushrooms and add enough water to make 1/4 cup; add to peas. Bring rapidly to a boil, breaking up peas if necessary. Cover and simmer 3 to 5 minutes. Add drained mushrooms and reheat; drain and stir in butter if used. Makes 4 servings.

Broilers and Lamb Show as Bargains

A slight decrease in wholesale prices of fryers and lamb is reflected in retail features of these meats this week reports the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lavender. Though beef and pork prices have risen at wholesale, shoppers will find several cuts receiving store emphasis. Smelt, perch and haddock continue to be the thrifty fish values.

Produce departments show evidence of increasing seasonal citrus supplies. Most stores have large displays of nuts and candied fruits for holiday baking. Broiler production is at a high level and good values for the shopper continue. Weights of broilers range from 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds and one can vary cooking methods. Heavy fryers are excellent for steaming, poaching, stewing, and roasting. Or take your pick of the pieces your family enjoys.

If the family likes lamb, this is a good week to choose. Rib and shoulder chops, shoulder roast and leg appear as store features. A whole leg will make several meals for a family of four. Ask the butcher to slice four steaks from the butt end of the leg. Have the shank cut into stew meat for a casserole dish. Use the center of the leg for roast.

Although wholesale pork prices are higher, shoppers will find store emphasis given loin and bacon. If you desire lean pork, look for loins that weigh about 12 pounds.

Have whole loins cut into the cuts you prefer. The whole loin can be made into chops; cut into two large roasts; cut into two small roasts with chops from the center; or cut into a loin-end roast, center chops and country style ribs from the rib-end.

The new crop of Florida citrus is running unusually heavy to small sizes. So far, the smallest shippable sizes of fresh oranges (29's and 32's) have made up more than 50 per cent of the movement.

The two smallest shippable sizes of seeded grapefruit (64's and 70's) have comprised 70 per cent of the volume shipped from the interior and 88 per cent of the Indian River shipments. Of the seedless grapefruit, more than 75 per cent of the white and 80 per cent of pink fruit have been the size 90's and 80's.

GREEN IS OK

Shoppers will find more California Navel oranges within the next few weeks. Although the fruit has been mature, color has been a problem, and for that reason shipments have been light. The green color on orange skin has no influence on the interior quality of the fruit. The sugar content of the fruit is checked in the orchards and only mature fruit is picked for shipment.

The combined production of almonds, filberts, pecans, and walnuts is expected to be only two-thirds as great as in 1961, and 13 per cent below average. There are much smaller crops of pecans, almonds and filberts than last year while the estimated production of walnuts is up 15 per cent.

The October storm caused extensive tree damage in Oregon, especially to filberts. Although the nuts were blown from the trees, and had to be harvested by hand from the ground, it appears there will be no excessive loss.

Let Children Decorate With Soapsuds Snow

Christmas is for children. But there is no reason why their participation in this gay holiday should be limited to opening presents on Christmas morning.

This year, why not let all the children — even the little ones — take some part in those exciting pre-Christmas preparations?

For instance, a pre-schooler would really enjoy trimming a window or mirror with "snow." This snow is actually suds-snow, manufactured by mother in the following manner. Put a big handful of packaged soap, detergent or scouring powder into an unbreakable bowl and add a little water, stirring the mixture until it forms a concentrated paste.

She'll Paint Town Red — Under Contract, Too

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Julie Maynard, 45, said today it would take her and six male assistants about five months to complete a contract she won.

Mrs. Maynard, wife of a post office employee, and her crew will repaint London's 5,000 red mailboxes.

Training for Survival

Missionary Peace Corps

MEMPHIS, Mich. (AP) — A school here is turning out a peace corps man.

There are some differences between this one and the government's Peace Corps man.

The work of this school's graduates may last for a lifetime. Conceivably, some of its graduates might never come home again from far-off places. On a bluff beside the tree-lined Belle River near this Macomb County city stands Maryglade College, training site for missionaries.

The college, established in 1909, is an agency of the Roman Catholic Church's Pontifical Institute of Mission Extension.

Maryglade trains young men for a future of aid to humanity — in the Far East jungles or anywhere in the world the church feels a job can be done for distressed people.

Theology is a study at Maryglade. Hard, physical work goes along with this.

Upon leaving Maryglade, the young man will not alone be an ordained priest of the church but also skilled to take care of himself against dangers of wild, unknown lands.

At their appointed stations, wherever these may be, the institute's missionaries, cascaded, will teach the word of God one moment and dig a ditch another.

DEDICATED MEN Maryglade, therefore, wants only dedicated young men ambitious to take Christianity to remote places.

Like the Peace Corps man, the Maryglade missionary will be expected to be proficient in the language of the area to which he is assigned.

A Maryglade graduate will be capable of setting a broken bone, purifying water, and will have some ready knowledge for almost any emergency.

Maryglade's faculty includes veterans of Burma, India and China. All returned to Christian civilization to teach successors in the field.

The college was built at a cost of $1 million. Protestants and Jews contributed to its financing. Its founder is Italian-born Fr. Nicholas Maestri.

Fr. Maestri came to Michigan 10 years ago. Some of his original help in establishing Maryglade came from the late Edward Cardinal Mooney of the Detroit Archdiocese.

Garden Club Displays Merry Table Themes

Pontiac Press Women's Editor
Although Christmas was in the air, other holidays were not forgotten at the tea held Wednesday by the Pontiac branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

The civic room of First Federal Savings of Oakland was a gala place where members of WNF&G and their guests could admire the imaginative table settings and get inspiration for their own holiday decorations.

Too late for 1962, but an idea to tuck away for future years, was the sequined duck decoy on the Thanksgiving table. Another harvest table was spread with a burlap cloth edged in bright fringe.

Tiny ceramic figures surrounded a dainty bouquet of roses on the May Day table.

YULE IDEAS

However, it was the Christmas tables that held our interest.

A sleigh of gifts centered one of them. It was an old fashioned sleigh painted white. The packages were cleverly wrapped, with some of the wrappings hinting at the contents. This table was set up by Mrs.

Bruce Annett and Mrs. Robert Nelson.

Mrs. Kenneth Vandenberg set the scene for the Bride's First Christmas with an exquisite red and white table.

Over a red taffeta liner on the card table she spread a white organdy cloth with shadow applique. The china was plain white Wedgewood. Four different red antique goblets added color and pattern contrast.

In the center of the table was a topiary tree of pink and red carnations in a silver-footed green bowl. Nestled among the flowers were small tree ornaments in shades of pink and red.

A setting for a Christmas supper party was done by Mrs. William Rogers. The long red cloth had "Merry Christmas to You" stitched along the sides and "Happy New Year, Too" on the ends.

A pair of triple silver candelabra flanked the angel in the center of the table. Holly branches and gay red satin balls surrounded the angel.

The china was dark holly green with red berries.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Red and white striped cotton with bands of green ribbon covered the children's Christmas table, done by Mrs.

Rebecca DeWitt Engaged to Wed Thomas Kershner

The Right Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. DeWitt of Farmington, formerly of Bloomfield Hills, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rebecca to Thomas Richard Kershner, son of the Ralph Kershners of Bloomfield Village.

Miss DeWitt, a graduate of Stephens College, is a student at Michigan State University. Mr. Kershner is an economics major at the same university. The wedding date will be announced later.

James Nye and Mrs. Ralph Norvell.

In the center of the round table was a jolly looking Santa. His body was a huge brandy snifter filled with red tree ornaments.

It was topped with cotton, on the top of which was set a smaller brandy snifter to make Santa's face. This one was filled with red and white peppermint candies.

Santa's features were miniature ornaments. His cap, beard and arms were cloth, cotton and cardboard.

The dishes were white with holly sprigs. Glasses were tall green ones. On each striped napkin and around the centerpiece were sprigs of holly.

At each place were cookie favors. Coconut bars tied to candy cane runners made little sleds. Drums were made with round cookies between plastic disks, laced together with green ribbon.

Mrs. John Patterson and Mrs. Robert Isgrig were general chairmen of the tea. Mrs. J. Standish Sibley and Mrs. E. M. Buckley were in charge of the tea table where Christmas cookies vied for attention with traditional holiday candies.

Mrs. Glenn Griffin presided at the philanthropy table and accepted donations for the projects supported by the branch. These included the Oakland County Youth Center, Pontiac State Hospital, Girls' and Boys' Ranch, the Children's Center and the Oakland County Medical Care Facility.

Mrs. Howard Ludwig, president of the Rochester garden club, and Mrs. William B. Hartman, Pitt Street, president of the Pontiac Branch, admire one of the Christmas tables. Behind them is a three-dimensional dried arrangement on a wire background.

Gratitude Expressed in Flowers

Q: Two days ago while downtown shopping in one of the department stores, I was taken suddenly ill.

One of the woman shoppers was most kind and assisted me in every way possible—even to calling a taxi and taking me home. After seeing me safely into the house, she left.

I did ask her name and I thanked her for her kindness. I am most grateful to this woman and would like to show my appreciation. Would it be proper to send her a gift?

A: I don't want her to feel that I am "paying" for her kindness but I would like to do something. What do you advise?

A: The nicest way to show your appreciation would be to send her some lovely flowers with a note again thanking her for her kindness to you.

Q: A relative of mine was married two months ago and as I was occupied with many other things at that time I did not have a chance to shop for a wedding present.

Would it be proper to send her one now or might she think this an afterthought?

A: A wedding present is always welcome and if you write a brief explanation on the card enclosed with the gift, such as "I wanted so much to send this in time for the wedding but it was impossible to do so; it goes to you now with my love and all best wishes for your happiness," she could not possibly think it an afterthought.

Q: I am dean at a boy's boarding school. Once a month the students are permitted to ask their girl friends to dinner in the school dining room.

The question of seating has come up. The tables are long and rather narrow and seat 10. Some of the faculty think the boys should be seated beside their own dates and others think it proper for the boys to sit opposite their dates. Will you please tell us which is correct?

A: Each boy should seat his own girl friend next to him, and on his right.

Q: I have invited a boy I know to go to my school dance. I am sure he will send me a corsage as it is customary for the boys to do so. Instead of a shoulder corsage I would prefer one that I can wear on my wrist. I would like to know if it would be proper to tell him of my preference.

A: You must not take it for granted that he will send you a corsage, and you will have to wait and hope that he will ask you what color flowers you would like, at which time you can tell him of your preference.

VFW Auxiliary to Meet Dec. 10

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1068 met in the American Legion Post on Auburn Avenue Monday evening.

The regular meeting day has been changed to the second Monday of the month. Next meeting will be Dec. 10.

Cochairmen for the tea arrangements Wednesday were Mrs. E. M. Buckley (left), Orchard Lake, and Mrs. J. Standish Sibley, Oriole Road. They are in the "philanthropy corner" where donations for the association's projects were being taken.

May Be Your Packaging, Not Beauty That Distracts

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I graduated from business school a month ago and have been looking for an office job ever since. I am turned down everywhere because I am too good-looking!

I am told they are afraid the men will spend more time at my desk than at their own.

I am flattered to hear this, but do you think it is fair that I should be turned down because I am not ugly? I have to support myself. What do you suggest?

TOO BEAUTIFUL
DEAR TOO: Take a good look at yourself. Are you "beautiful" or just provocative, distracting and perhaps a little to come-hither-ish?

A well-groomed, refined-looking beauty should have no difficulty landing a job.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old. I had my eyes checked last year and the doctor said I was nearsighted but I didn't need glasses yet. Yesterday I couldn't read what was on the blackboard and it was only about eight feet away. Everything looked like one big blob.

The girl who sits across from me let me use her glasses and, Abby, it was wonderful. Everything was plain again.

I told my mother this and she said, "Don't bother me—you are always wanting something!" How can I convince my mother I really need glasses?

CAN'T SEE
DEAR CANT: Mothers sometimes develop an immunity to their children's requests. Perhaps if your teacher called your mother and told her you should have your eyes checked again, she'd listen.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GENOLDEN: The quickest way I know of losing a friend is to tell her something "for her own good."

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

YWCA Set for Yule

Opening the Christmas activities at the Pontiac YWCA will be the annual Hanging of the Greens Monday from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. Mrs. Lenworth Miner will give a reading of the Christmas story. Mesalina Baunang from the Philippines will play for the group singing of carols.

The Pontiac State Hospital Y Group will hold their Christmas party Dec. 6. Mrs. Robert Anglemier and Mrs. Allan H. Monroe are co-chairmen for the group.

The following day, Dec. 7, will see the various Y-Teen clubs in the area bringing in their funds raised for the YWCA's World Fellowship projects.

Clarkston Junior High and Madison Junior High Y-Teens will have their pajama party on the evening of Dec. 7. Clarkston Senior High Y-Teens will have their pajama party Dec. 14.

Each of the four nursery groups will have their party Dec. 11-14.

A cooperative luncheon, marking the close of the fall term of classes, will be held at noon Dec. 12. Following the luncheon, Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson will give a gift-wrapping demonstration.

A Guatemalan travelogue will be given by Estella Mitchell at the evening Spanish class Dec. 11 at 7:30 p. m. The Birmingham Spanish classes will be guests.

Both groups of Golden Agers will gather at the YWCA Dec. 18 for their monthly dessert luncheon and Christmas program.

The older group of last summer's Day Campers will have their Christmas party Dec. 19 at 4:30 p. m. The younger girls will gather at 4:00 p. m. Dec. 20 for their party.

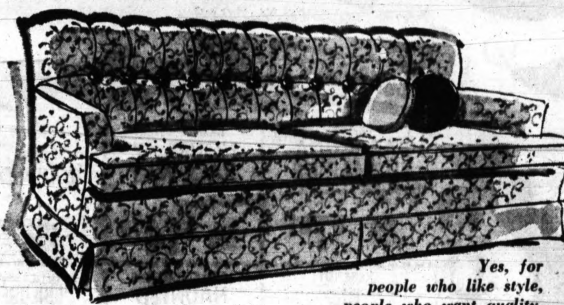

The Board of Directors will combine their monthly meeting with a dessert luncheon at 12:30 p. m. Dec. 30. Former and present Y staff members will gather Dec. 22 for a Y Family party at 1:00 p. m.

The children's art class, with instructor Sixten Neider, will mark the close of the term with a party on Dec. 22.

College Student News

More than 80 girls will take part in the traditional Kalamazoo College candlelight Christmas carol service Dec. 8 in the campus chapel. Among these students will be Marcia Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Strong of South Ardmore Avenue.

James Bank, a sophomore at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio, has recently been pledged to Pi Lambda Phi fraternity.

An active member of Baldwin-Wallace Players, the college drama club, he is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Milton H. Bank of Franklin Boulevard.

A threesome from the Pontiac area who have joined the 1962-63 Spartan Debate Squad at Michigan State University, East Lansing, includes Charlotte D. Braden, daughter of the Fred Bradens of Eskine Street; Marcey A. Agre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Agre, West Ironquais Road; and Clark S. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davis of Rose Court.

In many events, Spartan squad members debate both sides of the National Intercollegiate Debate Proposition for 1962-63: Resolved, "That the Non-Communist Nations of the World Should Form an Economic Community." They also debate several other propositions throughout the year.

John T. Duff, Oberlin College junior from Bloomfield Hills is serving as assistant chairman in charge of program for the 1962 career conference on Friday. He is the son of the Philip G. Duffs.

Many Oberlin alumni from the area will attend the event which opens with an address on "Adventures in Misunderstanding" by Dr. Bergen Evans, professor of English at Northwestern University, at 11:30 a.m. in Finney Chapel. This is the second conference to be held jointly for men and women.

WCTU Unit Announces Workshop

SOCIAL WCTU 8 Emor. L. Calkins Unit, Women's Christian Temperance Union, announced the 18th District WCTU workshop Jan. 23 at the Catalpa Drive home of Mrs. O. R. Accorsi in Berkley.

The unit met Tuesday for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Sadie Patten of Augusta Avenue.

The afternoon's speaker, Mrs. Nellie Meunier, reported on the recent state WCTU convention in Ypsilanti.

She gave notice that the Sadie Patten Youth Temperance Council of Royal Oak received the Rowley Cup for excellent work for the third year, entitling them to permanent possession of the cup. Mrs. George Perkins is their counselor.

After a flag salute, Mrs. L. B. Ruby led devotions, "Why Are We Here?"

Study Group Holds Lunch at Local Temple

The Parliamentary Study Club met Wednesday afternoon for their luncheon program. Mrs. Ross Elliott was leader; Mrs. I. J. Gouin, sponsor for the demonstration group. Participating were Mrs. Stuart Drasher, Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Mrs. Lee Hill and Mrs. Henry J. Angell. Next meeting is Dec. 12.

Any Answers to His Query?

Good Question: "Why is man, alone of all creation, content to take second place and leave the glory to his mate when it comes to attire?" Who asked it: fashion historian James Laver.

Area Students at MSU Resume Activities

By SUE DORMAN
Following a four-day Thanksgiving vacation, Michigan State University area students have returned to their active schedules.

Freshmen Nancy Bain of Oakland Avenue and Marilyn Jack of Marie Circle have been named student ambassadors of MSU to their former high schools. Gary Alan of Pontiac, has taken part in the MSU opinionated research board. Gary is a freshman. The board has been collecting extensive data and processing it for the university.

Sara Barningham, junior, of West Huron Street, is an adviser for the West Wilson Hall safety committee.

Senior Mary Augenbaugh of Moss Street, is an adviser for the West Wilson Hall safety committee.

Children under 5 years of age will be admitted free of charge.

A northeaster poured gusts of wind into his hotel suite, and a drizzly rain peppered the rug.

But this was just plain refreshing to Troy Donahue, because of a shortage of showers in his Hollywood homeland.

The teen-agers' movie idol, standing on the edge of the downpour, wore a custom-made suit of gray, cut continental style, and made for him by a tailor in Rome.

"Kids should know that success is a lot of things," he said. "Luck, timing, ability, and a vehicle through which to display that ability. They come all wrapped up together, and the exciting part of it is, you don't know when it will come. That goes for lots of careers besides acting."

He's enthusiastic about a new movie role, the star part in "Young Blood Hawk." "I'm getting away from being type-cast in my TV show, too. In 'Hawaiian Eye,' I'm not like myself at all." However, being himself has made Troy handsome box office material, and given him and avid following.

Freshman Larry Reymnells of North Johnson Avenue, has added his talents to the marching band and concert band. The concert band has planned an Upper Peninsula tour.

Ron Newman, senior of Lakewood Drive, is an advanced member of the Reserve Officer Training Corp.

He also has been voted an executive member on the Union Board, which is composed of representatives of the entire student body on campus.

Douglas Carney has joined the ski club, as well as the Michigan Skin Diving Club, and the Sailing Club.

PTSA Plans Next Meeting

Washington Junior High School eighth grade PTSA will hold a meeting Dec. 6. Dinner will be served in the cafeteria from 6 to 7 p.m.

Teachers will be in their rooms to meet parents from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. All will assemble at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium for a discussion of the school's testing program and a film entitled "Your Child's Intelligence."

Will Gather Friday

Happy Twirler's Square Dance Club will dance Friday at 8 p.m. at the VFW Hall on Walton Boulevard. Martin Lock is the club caller. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barnett will serve refreshments. Guests are welcome.

'Food Sense' Explored by Newcomers

"Food Sense and Nonsense" was the subject of discussion of Mrs. Mary Hardy of the Cooperative Extension Service at the Wednesday meeting of the Pontiac-Newcomers Club.

Mrs. Howard Dreeser and Mrs. Sam Miller were cohostesses for the meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Morton Bacon of Chippewa Road. Mrs. John Burch was welcomed as a new member.

The Christmas meeting will be held Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. Walter Obenaus on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds.

Dog Teaches a Lesson

Anger Conquers Fear

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE N488: Jack, aged 2, was a stray black dog that came to my grandmother's farm one summer when I was a boy.

He may have been a city dog originally, for he did not seem very sophisticated in the ways of the rural canine. One summer day he found a ground hog in the barn lot.

too far from the woodchuck's hole to get home without a fight.

So the old ground hog turned on the dog and bared his long teeth. This inexperienced hound diffidently danced around and seemed fearful of his foe, as well he might, for even an experienced dog may cautiously hide his time, knowing the sharpness of a groundhog's teeth.

But Jack kept barking and backing off in amateur fashion. At an unguarded moment, moreover, the ground-hog snapped his teeth, biting the dog.

FEAR CAN TURN TO RAGE

Jack whined with fear and pain and kept circling around on his hind feet.

Soon, his pain and fear were replaced by a tremendous rage. The dog waded into the ground hog — without even trying to dodge the latter's teeth, and literally tore him to pieces.

ANGER REMOVES FEAR

Thereafter, when our second dog, a collie, would trap a ground hog away from his hole, and begin circling around, patiently waiting for a chance to get him from the rear, Jack would wade right in and kill the woodchuck.

He seemed to disdain the latter's teeth. In fact, he possessed what appeared to be an uncontrollable anger that would not permit the presence of the slightest fear.

Jack's behavior illustrates a very interesting fact about emotions, both canine as well as human.

Fear is a protective emotion which indicates that our psychology is that of an army on the defensive.

It apparently was placed in animals and mankind for producing a safety without open combat.

But when a creature is cornered, his fear seems to vanish and he becomes so angry that he acts in disdain of superior numbers and overwhelming odds. Then he will adopt the tactics of the army on offense and actually solicit a fight.

MAY RELISH IT

A child who has been bullied unduly, but who finally fights back and whips the bully, may thereafter relish meeting bullies and actually go out of his way to tackle the latter.

He may even go out of his way thereafter to become the champion of other weaker or more timid youngsters, partly as an outlet for this new rage that has replaced his old-time fear.

Sometimes an intense and prolonged fear, as in Jack's case, will thus actually induce a permanent disdain for the formerly feared object.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long self-addressed, post-paid envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets. (Copyright, 1962)

College Students Tell Food Fancies

A South Dakota Experiment Station study of food likes and dislikes among a group of South Dakota State College students showed milk, butter, strawberries, apples, peaches, pears, grapes, corn, beef, and poultry were among foods they'd be willing to eat often.

Parsnips and turnips were liked least of the 30 vegetables on the list.

Yule Angel Sure to Gain Attention

Christmas Carol is an angel. She's certain to gain the attention and praise of every visitor and guest.

You'll need a plastic foam ball, white tissue paper, yarn, sheet music (preferably a Christmas Carol), gold foil, an ornamental strand of glass beads, a 24-inch stick, greens, pine cones and floral foam.

Start by covering the plastic ball with tissue paper, fastening it with pins at the back. Secure a skein of yarn to the ball with pins. Then, fashion the hairdo. A red ribbon tied on the top knot adds an extra festive and colorful touch.

Now, finish the head by painting in the eyes and mouth. Sharpen the stick at both ends and insert one end into the ball.

Each arm is made by rolling one page of sheet music into a cone, and fastening with tape. Now, attach the arms to the stick, again with tape, about 2 inches below the face.

TO BUILD WINGS

To construct the wings, fold a square of the foil (for each wing) into a triangle, and crinkle it. Fasten the wings to the stick with tape between the arms and the face.

The robe, also made of sheet music, is easy to construct. Using two double sheets, fashion a cone and a cylinder. Slide the cylinder part way into the cone and tape the two together.

Slip both over the stick, making two slits in the robe so it will easily fit over the arms. Now, tape the robe to the stick at the angel's neck. About 3½ inches of stick should extend below the bottom of the robe.

As a final touch, wrap a strand of ornamental glass beads around the neck to hide the tape. Your angel is now completed.

Insert the stick into the saturated foam flower holder that's been securely anchored in a low container.

Pair Plans to Reside in Pontiac

Wedding vows were exchanged by Sally Louise Thurston and Wendell Troy Banks Saturday afternoon in the First Social Brethren Church.

A church reception followed the ceremony performed by Rev. Tommy Guest, assisted by Rev. Minard Ison.

Parents of the couple, who will live in Pontiac, are the Vernon Thurstons of North Paddock Street and Mr. and Mrs. Olen Banks of Michigan Avenue.

The bride chose traditional white satin for her wedding gown, styled with a floor-length skirt. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was secured by a crown of pearls and rhinestones. White roses and gardenias were arranged in a cascade bouquet.

Marie Jimenez was maid of honor. Patricia Gidcomb, Betty Boone, Earline Kuppert and the bride's sister Verna, served as bridesmaids. Brenda Banks was flower girl.

Raymond Hull performed the duties of best man. Samuel Pankey, Richard Ison, Kester Smith and Darrell Duncan seated some 200 guests. Wendell Pankey carried the rings.

DEAR POLLY — Would you or any of the girls have any solutions for burned spots on Formica counter tops, caused by an overheated pan? MRS. D. L. R.

MRS. D. L. R. and the rest of you girls — I talked with a representative of the manufacturer of this product and was advised that SURFACE burns could often be removed by scouring with a mild cleanser, not a strong abrasive that would harm the finish. For small areas, about the size of a dime or at the most a quarter, a deep burn can be bored out and the place filled with a product called "Seamfill" made for the purpose and sold by Formica dealers. This probably would require the services of a professional. If a badly burned top has to be replaced, inquire about your insurance, it may be covered. Pans should NEVER be taken directly off the stove and set on such a counter top.

Dry Tactics for Wash

When you mix heavy and light clothes in the clothes dryer the appliance must run long enough to dry the heavy ones.

Margaret Spader, home service consultant points out that the lightest clothes in that load this will be over-dried.

To avoid this, remove the light clothes as soon as they are dry. Over-drying deepens wrinkles, weakens some fabrics, puckers seams and gives a harsh feel to some fabrics.

High Heels Replace Boots

Horse Groom's a Girl

Alexandra Lindley may spend her working hours up to her boot tops in straw and horse feed.

But on her own time she changes immediately to one of the six pairs of high heeled shoes she brought here from England.

The only girl groom to handle an entrant in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden in New York, Alexandra had some difficulty getting all the clothes she wanted to bring to New York within a 36-pound air luggage limit. So she tucked the shoes into her horse's wardrobe box.

Alexandra's unique occupation came about because she was keen on world travel and horses, in that order.

Leaving her Welsh home at 19, she went to England to join forces with medal-winner David Broome and accompanied the British Equestrian Team to the Olympics in Rome.

PERSONAL VALET

Now she is personal valet to Mister Softee, the European jumping champion, whose rider, David Barker, is another member of the British team.

The team showed in Rome, Nice, Lucerne, Venice, Germany, Holland and Belgium, and Alexandra was in her element.

"If you want to do anything as much as I did, you just do it," she says. She admits she's lost all contact with her school friends, and that her world is bounded by stable walls and corral rails.

She and Mister Softee have a unique friendship. The champion 8-year-old is afraid of men (except for his rider), but likes his shandy-haired girl groom.

Next stop for the traveling pair: Toronto. And the biggest junket is still ahead, the Olympics in Tokyo in 1964.

As recently as 1959, the population of Brasilia, new capital of Brazil, was 65,000. Projected population is 500,000.

Leader's Widow Stays Clear of Politics

By GAY PAULEY

UPI Women's Editor
MANILA, P.I. — The beautiful widow of Ramon Magsaysay, the Philippines president who was killed in a plane crash in 1957, says she is urged each election year to get into politics.

"But it is not for me to run for office," she said. "I will do what I can as a private citizen . . . that is a duty."

Instead of running for congress as she has been urged to do by her husband's Nationalists party, Luz Magsaysay devotes her time to a museum filled with memorabilia of his lifetime, to travel, to being a doting grandmother, and to a handsome ranch-style home set in a suburban area of the Philippines capital.

I called at her home on a Sunday morning. She had just returned from church (she is Catholic) and from a regular visit to the cemetery to place flowers on her husband's grave.

Only a few days earlier, she had completed a tour of Europe with her son, Ramon Jr., and gone on to the United States to get him settled at Harvard for post-graduate work in engineering.

There are two other children: Teresita, 27, married and a mother of two, and Milagros, 25, married and mother of one.

Mrs. Magsaysay is a strikingly handsome woman of 47 years with jet black hair and large, expressive brown eyes. "Call me Luz, please," she said informally.

WARDROBE A CARRYOVER

Slim as a woman in her 20's, she remarked that most of her current wardrobe is a carryover from her days as the Philippines first lady. "I can still get into everything," she laughed.

Ramon Magsaysay, a hero of World War II when he commanded guerrilla forces against the Japanese in the Philippines, had been president three years and three months when he died in a plane crash March 17, 1957. He was 49.

Twenty-six other persons died in the crash; one person, a newsman, survived.

"Come with me . . . let's tour the grounds and visit the museum," said Mrs. Magsaysay. "The museum is private . . . friends have helped me with it. But it is open almost everyday at the request of some group from the provinces—school children, teachers, others who know of my husband."

A greenhouse on the grounds encloses her orchid collection, including one variety named for her husband. Cotes adjoining are filled with doves sent by Magsaysay admirers—they were meant to be cooked as a delicacy for the president, she explained, "but my husband couldn't stand the thought of them being killed."

The museum, constructed of mahogany and native stone, is adjacent to the residence. Interestingly, every phase of her husband's lifetime—and her 34 years of marriage to him—is represented.

There are the honorary degrees from numerous colleges and universities, the academic robes he wore to receive them, the scissors from ribbon-cutting ceremonies, keys to cities, photographs by the hundreds of the couple with prominent visitors including the Dwight D. Eisenhowers.

There are gifts—canes, guns, tie pins, carvings—from heads of state. The museum includes her husband's own wardrobe—his formal clothes, his clothes for relaxation; and from his private "gym," the steam cabinet, barber chair and exercise machine. Also displayed: her inauguration dress—a pale ivory terno (native dress) in embroidered lace.

Then, Mrs. Magsaysay led me to a glass enclosed case. Its contents included a dented tube of shaving cream, a safety razor, bits of a medical kit, a stained shirt. . .

"This," she said quietly, "was about all that was left from the crash."

Mrs. Magsaysay said her plans were to turn over to the Rockefeller Foundation the museum—the foundation will re-house it and open it to the public. Already in Magsaysay's honor, the foundation grants several fellowships each year of $10,000 each to outstanding leaders in government, education, science and other fields.

The widow's touching tribute to her husband in creating the museum led me to ask, what of the future?

"I can't answer," said Mrs. Magsaysay. "I just keep busy. I leave no time to brood."

A-BLAST HOLE — A thermonuclear device of about 100-kilowatt force blasted this hole — 1,200 feet in diameter — in the Nevada desert. The explosive was placed in a shaft 635 feet below the surface of the ground during the July test. The cavity is 330 feet deep, according to the Atomic Energy Commission. It was the first of several tests to study use of explosives in earth moving projects.

Neighbors OK Construction

Bela Wintergerst, 1080 Hira St., Waterford Township, will be allowed to proceed with an 8-foot addition to the front of his home, thanks to his nine closest neighbors.

Wintergerst, who began the project in violation of a subdivision restriction prohibiting construction within 50 feet of the front lot line, was asked to halt the operation by the Watkins-Pontiac Estates Association pending a poll of his neighbors.

His immediate neighbors registered no objection and Wintergerst will continue with the addition which will extend to 43 feet of the front lot line. The township building department specifies a 35-foot minimum from the lot line to the building.

Auburn, 'Bama Meet Saturday

Youthful QBs Will Decide Contest

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The final decision as to a successful season rests in the hands of two sophomore quarterbacks — Jim My Side of Auburn and Joe Namath of Alabama — when the Tigers and Crimson Tide close out the football season here Saturday.

This is the Big game in Alabama circles. Wins and losses that have come before don't count. The two 19-year-old specialists will do battle before a sellout 54,000 in Birmingham's Legion Field. If past performances are any indication, the leadership of the group youngsters, in age only, will bring on quite a contest.

1,000 CLUB

Namath has already joined the elite 1,000 yard club. Side lacks only 51 yards for entrance to the two Statistically, Namath has the passing edge, Side is the better runner.

A look at the season's rushing table shows Side has carried 54 times for 370 net yards and an average of 6.9 per carry. Namath has rushed 62 times for 213 stripes and a 3.4 average.

In passing, Namath has attempted 136, completed 72, collected 1,127 yards and 11 touchdowns. Side has completed 50 of 112 for 570 yards and four touchdowns.

Namath's 1,340 total offense yardage is third best among the Tide's All-Time leaders for one season and 117 yards shy of Harry Gilmer's 1945 record. He is the seventh in Alabama history to account for 1,000 yards.

NEW RECORD

Already in the book as an Alabama mark is Namath's 112 passing yards. The old standard was 1,035, set by Pat Trammel last season.

Side has been equally successful in his assault on Auburn marks. He is now eighth on the list for the most offense in one year, and is in prime position to climb to the No. 3 spot held by Bobby Freeman (1954) with 1,132 yards.

The other half of the Auburn signal corps, Malon Kent, suffered a foot injury in the Georgia game and is lost for the Alabama test.

Taking over for Kent against Florida State last week, Side had his best day and the most productive afternoon of an Auburn back since 1959. He ran for 146 yards and passed for 62 yards.

Ski Teams Beware! Denver U. Is 'Up'

DENVER (AP)—Advance warning to the college ski troops: Denver University this season again has talent and depth, plus the winning habit.

But Coach Willy Schaeffer's Pioneers also have an eye cocked toward the University of Colorado which has three of the four U.S. skiers who might impress European snow aficionados last winter.

Denver, defending NCAA champion, has won eight national collegiate titles in 13 years and ran second to the winner in the other five years.

COME TO PAPA — Detroit Lions' end Gail Cogdill is about to take in a touchdown pass. The big flanker is one of the top receivers in the National Football League.

Ole Miss on Threshold of Being Grid 'King'

NEW YORK (AP)—Mississippi, age, would need to score 69 points against State to overcome Wisconsin.

Tulsa leads in forward passing offense with a 199.3 average, and Ohio State leads in rushing offense with a 278.9 average.

Arizona	208	1,054	195.3
California	208	1,054	195.3
Pac-8	208	1,054	195.3

In the total offense department, Ole Miss is rolling along in third place with a 370.3 yards-gained average, Arizona State, the leader, has a 384.4 mark and second place Memphis State, which already has finished its season, has a 147.1 average.

The target for Mississippi against Mississippi State will be 69 yards in total offense. That would give Ole Miss the crown. The Rebels' top effort this season was 545, so they are not shooting at an impossible target.

If they should make it, the Rebels will be only the fourth team ever to lead in both total defense and total offense. Notre Dame did it in 1956, Cincinnati in 1953 and Syracuse in 1959.

The other team defensive-offense leaders all have completed their seasons and the possibility of any of them being overtaken is remote.

Minnesota is first in rushing defense (52.2) and New Mexico in forward passing defense (56.8). Ole Miss is third in rushing defense (70.4) and second in forward pass defense (61.4).

Offensively, Wisconsin leads the team scorers with an average of 31.7 points per game. Ole Miss is eighth place with a 27.1 average.

TCU Has Bowl Hopes Against Mustangs

By The Associated Press
The Texas Christian Horned Frogs have more than the traditional arch-rivalry to spur them to a victory over Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl Saturday — it's their 'big bow' for some sort of a bowl bid.

The Horned Frogs, who have already clinched third place in the Southwest Conference grid race, are counting on a victory to increase their season record to 6-4 and their mark to 5-2 in hope they will attract some bowl's invitation committee.

"We realize we may not get a bowl bid," said end Ben Nix during the Horned Frogs workout Wednesday. "But we know there is no way we can get one without beating SMU."

A Rice victory Saturday would give the Owls fourth place in the final top standings but final victories still wouldn't pull SMU and Baylor, now tied for sixth, out of the second division.

END OF SEASON

The TCU-SMU game at Dallas and the Baylor-Rice tilt at Waco Saturday wind up the league's competition for the season. All other teams completed their loop play last weekend with Texas winning the conference crown and host spot in the January 1 Cotton Bowl and Arkansas, tapped for the Sugar Bowl, capturing the runner-up spot.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, battered and bruised from last Saturday's encounter with Baylor, rehearsed their offensive and defensive assignments Wednesday for the TCU game. Fullback John El Clarke, who missed the Baylor game because of a leg injury, is expected to see limited action against the Horned Frogs.

Three Rice backfield stars — quarterback Randy Kerbow and

Nicklaus Heads

Open Pro Field at Palm Beach

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A glittering field of more than 50 sets off today in the 72-hole, $20,000 tournament.

The presence of Jack Nicklaus, U.S. Open winner, Bo Wingner, who captured last week's Orlando Open, Doug Sanders, Dow Finsterlin and other top pros confounded pre-tournament efforts to pick a favorite.

Nicklaus thrilled a pro-amateur tourney gallery yesterday with putts of 29 and 25 feet but settled for 78 on the 6,800-yard par 36-72 West Palm Beach Country Club layout.

Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., whose score included an eagle, and Jerry Pittman of Tulsa, Okla., tied at 67 for top honors in the pro-am.

If Nicklaus takes the $1,800 first place money or a good chunk of the remaining cash he could displace Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif., as No. 3 in 1962 winnings. Nicklaus thus far has won $61,318 and Casper, just ahead in the money rankings, has collected $61,842.

Rumors About Halas Rejected by Wilson

George Wilson, like anyone else, yesterday he doesn't intend to desire to improve his lot in life. Maybe someday it'll even mean his giving up his job as coach of the Detroit Lions.

But right now he considers that about George Halas retiring from coaching the Chicago Bears as nothing but words.

Wilson admitted yesterday he had heard the reports from Chicago that Halas is being advised to hand over his field duties to a younger man. But he feels no one can induce Halas to retire from coaching. And Halas can't be fired—he's the Bears' owner, too.

The Chicago reports, when mentioning a younger man, bring up Wilson's name. Wilson, 48, was a star for the Bears and he was close ties in Chicago. He also would be attractive to the Bears because he has six years experience as a head coach in the National Football League.

Wilson, who was in danger of losing his job with the Lions a few years ago, is entrenched now. There has been little thought that he'd ever consider leaving at his own choice. But Wilson disclosed

Waterford Sets Cage Program

500 Boys to Play in Recreation Setup

Waterford Township Recreation Department's basketball program for boys will get under way Dec. 8 with upwards of 500 youngsters expected to participate.

Gymnasiums at Waterford Township High School and Pierce and Cray Jr. high schools will be utilized, said Robert Lawry, recreation director.

All boys living within the township or school district are eligible for the Saturday cage program except those playing on regular school teams. Teams may be formed from either neighborhoods or schools.

Players must furnish their basketball gear and a towel. The recreation department will provide balls and shower facilities at the various schools. There is no fee for the program.

Seventh and eighth graders from both Pierce and Cray will play at 11:30 a.m. on the Pierce court.

Waterford Township high gym will be setting for all high school action. Ninth and 10th graders will play at 9 a.m. and the 11th and 12th graders at 11:15 a.m.

The following is a list of times and places of cage programs for fifth and sixth graders at the following schools.

Adams, Beaumont, Cooley, Drayton, Feltus, Grayson, Houghton and Potomac Lake schools—9 a.m. at Pierce Junior High.
Louis Lake, Mayville, Mendota, Schoolcraft, Waterford Center, Waterford Village and Williams Lake schools—10:15 a.m. at Cray.
Bert, Court, Deussen, Lambert, Lutz and Marshall schools—10 p.m. at Cray.
Lambert, Marshall, Stringham and Potomac Lake schools—2:45 at Cray.

Racing Board Selects Kelso 'Top Cat'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Richard C. Du Pont's Kelso was named American champion for the third straight year today by the Thoroughbred Racing Association's board of selection.

In beating out Mrs. Katherine Price's Carry Back and Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend for the No. 1 thoroughbred designation of 1962, Kelso also was selected top in the handicap division for horses 4-years-old and up.

The announcement was made at the annual TRA meeting, and follows the selection of Never Bend as the 3-year-old champion, along with the title winners in other racing divisions.

Owners of the year's champion horses will receive awards tonight at a dinner of the TRA membership which includes 46 tracks in the United States and Canada.

Can't Hold This Tiger

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Colorado College snapped a string of 34 straight hockey losses Wednesday night as Art Berglund and Don Stoffer led the Tigers to a 9-4 victory over McMasters of Hamilton, Ontario.

Minors' New Deal Hits Rocky Snag

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The American Association was dissolved today when its five remaining franchises were disbursed among the International and Pacific Coast Leagues to form the 10-team Triple A circuit.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The new deal for the minors hit a snag before the rules were written into the book.

The harried minors were having serious internal troubles, unable to solve their own realignment problem at the class Triple A level.

The unfortunate American Association, caught in the middle between the International League and the Pacific Coast League, was fighting a rearguard action to escape extinction.

The International League rejected the Association's proposals to merge into either a 10 or 12 club league. The International turned down both proposals by a 3-2 vote with Columbus and Toronto reportedly voting in favor.

The Pacific Coast League had seven solid clubs and was anxious to take in Denver from the American Association as its eighth member. Vancouver, which was the eighth club in the coast league last year, had lost its working agreement.

When the International turned down both proposals, it was suggested that the Pacific Coast should become a six-team league by giving up Salt Lake City to the Association which then would have six teams.

The International would remain intact with eight. However, this was not acceptable to the coast league.

The minors' meeting broke up late last night and the leagues fought to reach a satisfactory solution again early today in an effort.

Yankee Store Will Relocate at Miracle Mile

The transfer of the downtown Pontiac Yankee Store to the Miracle Mile Shopping Center next March was announced today by Joseph Magdell, president.

The Yankee Store will move from 47 S. Saginaw St. into the location now occupied by the W. T. Grant Co.

A new merchandising policy will be inaugurated by Yankee at its new location, according to Magdell. Better quality merchandise will be featured, and many well-known name brands will be added, he said.

New departments such as health and beauty aids, jewelry, millinery and special foods will be added and the shoe department will be expanded.

Berlin Crisis Acute, Despite Calm

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

BERLIN The Cuban crisis may have eased temporarily Communist pressures on Berlin but the divided city remains one of the world's most acute problems.

West Berlin, the No. 1 industrial city in Germany, has recovered from the first effects of the wall which the Communists flung across the city on Aug. 13, 1961.

Orders are being filled and goods are moving steadily on the railroads, highways and canals. About 15,000 new workers have come into the city to make up partially for the 60,000 lost when the wall went up.

In the city, there is a shortage of single rooms.

But the wall, instead of coming down, grows higher.

And the wall itself is a symbol of a fear which West Berliners will have to live with until some solution is reached to the entire problem of Berlin.

For Berlin, to live and prosper, must have guaranteed access to the outside world.

SOFT-PEDALING EAST

Walter Ulbricht, the East Communist boss who has been loudest in his attacks on West Germany and in his demand for a separate peace treaty which would cut off West Berlin's life stream, at the moment is soft-pedaling those demands and talking instead in vague terms of a German confederation.

Presumably, this talk is on orders from Moscow in another of the twists and turns of Communist policy.

On the West German side there also may have been a slight softening or switch in policy.

West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder hinted as much in Washington.

RELAXED WEST

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who adamantly has opposed any sort of recognition for East Germany, has indicated he might agree to some sort of international guarantee of Berlin access such as already is in effect on some of Europe's great rivers, such as the Danube and the Rhine.

On such a commission East Germany would have a voice, at least as agent acting for the Soviet Union.

American representatives in West Germany have not been happy over the recent crisis besetting the Adenauer government. They feel that any division within the West, and particularly inside West Germany, might tempt the Soviets to apply new pressures to Berlin, and this erases whatever good that may have come from an apparent easing of the Communist position.

But certainly nothing is to be gained by presenting Khrushchev with new temptations or to give him a possible escape hatch from problems of his own creation.

Records 'Rank' Deal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County auditor's office recorded a land transfer it said wasn't "major." In a "private" transaction, the record shows, one "Admiral Ross" transferred a lot to one "General L. Jones."

The U. S. has about one telephone for every three persons of population. About 57 per cent of the world's telephones are in service in the U. S.

Giving Paris Scrubbed Look

Dingy Old Landmarks Sparkle New

WASHINGTON—Long grayed by time and grime, the city of Paris is turning a scrubbed and shining face to the world.

An army of cleaners, deployed on scaffolds appearing on public and private buildings along major streets and squares, is washing away the patina of age that gave the French capital its dark, distinctive hue.

As brush and power hose do their work, gleaming white and ivory facades emerge from obscurity. Soot-encrusted details of sculpture—cleaned by special techniques to protect the delicate designs—come sharply into focus.

The ponderous, somber Hotel des Invalides, once soldiers' hospital under whose dome Napoleon is buried, now seems to float alongside the Seine like a cream-colored cloud.

The massive, columned fronts of fashionable hotels, the twin mansions of the Ministry and the Bourbon Palace, where the French National Assembly meets, turned out white and gold—or mottled yellow, as carpers sometimes feel the effect.

The vast Place de la Concorde, flanked by the scrupulous twin mansions of the Ministry and the Bourbon Palace, where the French National Assembly meets, turned out white and gold—or mottled yellow, as carpers sometimes feel the effect.

The rambling and gloomy old ministry of interior has blossomed forth in warm shades of ivory, as has his neighbor, the Elysee Palace, official home of French presidents.

One of the first buildings to be cleaned, the elegant 19th century Elysee is a center of attention nowadays as President Charles de Gaulle's headquarters.

Following attempts against his life, policemen often line the street there. Tourists gather, hoping for a glimpse of the tall figure, or of foreign visitors and government leaders who constantly come and go.

But perhaps the most fascinating transformation has occurred at the Louvre, National Geographic says. In the Square Court of the old palace, for the first time in generations, visitors can make out the lively forms and figures of some of the finest architectural decoration the French Renaissance ever produced.

As the work proceeds, arguments rage pro and con. Traditionalists insist that Paris needs its gray tones for charm and nuance. They say that washing historic buildings gives them a cold and raw look—like exhibits set up hurriedly for a world's fair.

Reformers counter that a bright and glistening city makes for a vital atmosphere. After all, the great monuments were white when built, and thus designed to show play of light and shadow.

In any event, the soap-and-water proponents have already won the battle. The authorities have decided that all important buildings in Paris will undergo the treatment, including those that stand as the city's special symbols—the Arc de Triomphe and Notre Dame.

County Jail Inmate Is Found Hanged

A prisoner at the Oakland County Jail was found hanged in his cell last night about an hour after he had been booked on a drunk and disorderly charge.

Raymond H. Curren, 47, of 625 Cameron St., was found hanging from his T-shirt that had been tied to the door of his cell. His body was found shortly after 11 p.m. by a turnkey.

Curren had been arrested by Pontiac police in front of 1029 Cherrylawn.

Labor Dept. OKs Plan to Retrain U. P. Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department has approved a new program to train 16 unemployed workers as arc welders in the Iron Mountain area of Upper Michigan. Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said more than $14,000 has been allocated for training costs and subsistence payments.

Grow a Yule Tree of Suds, Ball Fringe

A Christmas tree is pretty in green, but can be a real dazzler in winter white. When you make your own—using suds and ball fringe—you have one of the most imaginative table trees possible!

It's really easy to do. Just beat some of the packaged product with a little water, using an egg beater, until very stiff. Next, stir in more soap until the mixture will absorb no more. Then dampen your hands and mold a tree-shaped cone.

While your "sculptured" tree is still damp, outline it with a border of red ball fringe—running this from the base to the peak of the tree, and then down the other side to simulate a rim of lights.

Finally, set sprigs of greenery decorated with miniature Christmas balls into the surface of the tree—spacing them at random. For the base, you might use a decorative Christmas dish, or a shallow tin can covered with holly wrapping.

DEARBORN (AP)—Eugene J. Corbin, 35, of Dearborn Township was killed yesterday in a collision between his pickup truck and a trailer-truck at a U.S. 28 intersection in Brownstown Township.

New Antenna Makes City Mobile Phone Service Area

A newly erected radio antenna today established Pontiac as a mobile telephone service area, according to Raymond H. Storm, Pontiac district manager for Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The antenna was erected last week atop an existing microwave tower at Brewster and Dutton roads in Rochester. It became operational this morning.

The antenna boosts the 260-foot tower's height by 19 feet, making it 279 feet high and greatly improving mobile phone service in this area, Storm said.

Pontiac area residents who already have mobile telephone service have been served by transmitters in the Detroit area.

"Construction of the mobile service antenna in the Pontiac area is part of an overall system improvement project throughout the Detroit metropolitan area and much of Michigan," he said.

As part of the improvement project, cars and trucks of customers are being equipped with multi channel mobile units.

If a customer tries to place a call and finds one channel busy, he can switch to others for service. Previously, most customers had one channel units.

Customers can place and receive calls in their vehicles within generally a 25-mile radius of the transmitter. Calls can be across the city or across the country.

Operators also can place a call to the vehicle, providing the car mobile phone set is turned on.

Rockey's Ex Gave to Cause

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A contributor to the Republican cause during the recent election campaign was Mrs. Mary Clark Rockefeller, former wife of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Campaign financial statements filed with the Secretary of State showed yesterday that Mrs. Rockefeller donated $100 to the United Republican Finance Committee for the State of New York.

Mrs. Rockefeller and the Republican Governor, who was re-elected, were divorced early this year.

8 Cubans Sent to Jail for 'Economic Crimes'

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Eight Cubans have been sentenced to prison terms ranging from five to 30 days for "economic crimes," Havana Radio said Wednesday. Offenses included slaughtering livestock without permission, peddling goods on the street and possessing more than 25 pounds of farm goods.

Mrs. Getten died Tuesday at her home.

She is survived by her nephews.

Two-Car Collision

Two Birmingham area residents were seriously injured yesterday in a two-car collision at West Maple and South Cranbrook Cross roads in Bloomfield Township.

Hurt in the accident were Mrs. Thomas Keenan, 39, of 451 Park St., Birmingham, and Theodore Laderowski, 51, of 4655 Franklin Road, Bloomfield Township.

The condition of both drivers was described as "serious" today by authorities at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Funeral in White

THE HAGUE (AP)—Former Queen Wilhelmina will be buried Dec. 8 beside her husband, Prince Hendrik, in the royal mausoleum of the New Church in Delft.

The "old queen," as she was called by affectionately, died yesterday in her sleep. She was 82.

Wilhelmina's funeral, like her husband's in 1934, will be in white in accordance with a mutual pledge the royal couple made. She told the story in her memoirs, published in 1959.

"We both had the certainty of faith that death is the beginning of life and therefore had promised each other that we would have white funerals," Wilhelmina wrote.

Area Girl, 19, Injured

A Farmington Township girl suffered a broken arm and multiple abrasions yesterday when her car went out of control on West Long Lake Road and hit a tree in West Bloomfield Township.

In satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital is Rose Mary Thornton, 19, of 7054 Orchard Lake Road.

MURPHY BACKS

Oakland County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy was one of several metropolitan area election officials who yesterday presented strong opposition to a suggestion that Michigan move its primary election from August to September.

"We like it the way it is,"

Murphy said. "We have enough problems as it is."

Murphy and other election officials from Oakland County joined with Wayne County and Detroit officials in opposing the proposed change at a meeting in Detroit with State Elections Director Robert Montgomery.

Secretary of State James Hare proposed the change recently as one way of cutting down the length of political campaigns.

Edgar Branigan, Wayne County clerk, said, "The time required to print ballots, conduct a canvass, handle absentee ballots, conduct a recount if necessary and reset the machines for the November general election would make any change a physically impossible task."

Hy Safran, president of the Safra Printing Co. of Detroit, and Donald Strong, vice president of Doubleday Bros. and Co., Kalamazoo printing firm, also raised objections to any change.

House Fire Causes

A basement fire in a home at 1092 Argyle St. yesterday afternoon caused an estimated $2,400 damage to the building and contents.

An overheated incinerator smoke pipe was responsible for starting the blaze, according to the Pontiac Fire Department.

The house is occupied by Betty Mark and owned by Bernard Burch, 639 Sunset Drive, Milford.

Crane Falls 40 Feet

The crane's 60-foot boom buckled while hoisting a three-ton load of prefabricated sections of track—rails with ties already affixed—for installation on the Independent Division Subway Line.

Three transit authority workmen were killed yesterday when a 66-ton crane toppled 40 feet from an elevated subway track near Coney Island. Two men perished inside the cab and the third was killed in a fall to the ground.

THEIR FAIR LADY—Julie Andrews, who starred in the stage play "My Fair Lady," and her husband, stage designer Tony Walton, are shown with their daughter at the London Clinic in the British capital yesterday. The baby, born Monday, is their first child and has not yet been named.

Now, Don't Forget Your Dear Ol' Dad

While the head of the house is or four unusual stocking-size gifts. If Dad is a golfer, there are personalized golf balls marked with his initials.

A companion piece for the golf balls would be a golfer's score caddy to be worn on the wrist like a watch. When the little plunger on the score caddy is pressed, the score per hole appears in a small window.

A new type of flat filler in a small cylinder would be life insurance against road delays from flat tires.

A "corkase" which pulls corks effortlessly would be another unusual gift.

CARD ORGANIZER

A large number of men carry credit cards, and there is a "card organizer" type of wallet that holds 24 or more cards.

Dad probably has a Social Security number, so another acceptable small gift would be one of the permanent cards of water - this aluminum, engraved with his full name and number.

An address book with name tabs that slip in and out for quick changes would be handy for his desk.

Another stocking stuffer would be an electric cigarette lighter, needing neither fuel nor wick. Gifts for a smoker are innumerable. If he's a pipe smoker, you might select a Tyrolean pipe and tobacco that is packaged in a gay Christmas can.

For the cigarette smoker, there are attractive Yule-packaged cans.

Big Closed-Circuit Telecast

Kennedys to Launch Drive for Culture

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy and a host of places as New York's American notable from the entertainment, movie houses, and high school will launch a money-raising school auditoriums. Backers of the project hope to raise $1 million. Fifty per cent of the proceeds are to go into the National Cultural Center Fund, and the other 50 into a specified local art project.

The occasion is a two-hour closed-circuit telecast called "An American Pageant of the Arts." The objective is to raise part of the $30 million needed to build the proposed National Cultural Center on the banks of the Potomac not far from Lincoln Memorial.

An estimated 150,000 Americans will watch the television spectacular, which will originate in five cities and be hosted in Washington's Army by Leonard Bernstein.

The Kennedys will be at the army for dinner and their part in the show, and tickets there are $100 a plate. They were not selling well at first but the pace has picked up lately.

In more than 80 cities across the nation, viewers will be paying from $100 to $1 to see the show.

When ballet troupes, such as Russia's Bolshoi, arrive here, they perform on the stage of a downtown movie theater.

Kennedy himself has said that Washington "lacks some of the great cultural assets of London, Paris and Rome—and, yes, of Moscow itself." For this reason, he said, the Cultural Center is important.

Target date for its completion is late 1965 or 1966. Even then Washington will not be in a league with London, Paris or Rome, which are cultural, economic and political capitals of their countries as this city is not.

Except for politics, New York plays a similar role. But Mrs. Kennedy has described the need for the center this way: "Our capital should be a symbol of our national interests and accomplishments."

"It is sad that no adequate facilities are available for the performing arts here so that national recognition can be given to artists and performing groups from all over the country and the world."

NOTHING LIKE IT Washington has nothing like this now. There are only two principal theaters, the National and the Arena, and one main concert center—Constitution Hall.

TVs Gamemasters Run $25-Million Operation

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Mark Goodson of the packaging firm of Goodson and Todman, is firmly dedicated to the proposition that most people watch television to be entertained.

It is a premise which the firm has found to be financially rewarding. Goodson - Todman game shows, all seven of them, currently occupy a record 10 1/2 hours each week on two networks and have built what the trade newspaper, "Variety," estimates as a $25 million operation.

At the moment, the shows are "I've Got a Secret," "What's My Line," "To Tell the Truth" and "Password" on CBS and "The Price Is Right," "Play Your Hunch" and "Say When" on NBC. On Dec. 31, still another audience participation show will be unveiled on NBC when "Match Game" has its premiere.

Does the public really have an insatiable appetite for watching other people play games or win prizes?

"Well, people seem to like 'What's My Line?' and 'I've Got a Secret' and 'The Price Is Right' year after year," said Mark Goodson. "And the game and panel shows have proved to be popular with the daytime audiences too."

"I'm inclined to think, however, that people watch television differently in the daytime than at night—more from habit. And after all, there is a limit to the kinds of shows the networks can afford to present to the daytime audiences. What it boils down to are soap operas, reruns of old night-time TV shows and old movies—and game shows."

"Once it was assumed that women wanted to watch daytime shows that showed them how to cook and take care of children—but they've all but disappeared."

Frank Sinatra: Narrator for 'Marilyn' Movie?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The hot Hollywood rumor: that Frank Sinatra, out of affection and respect for Marilyn Monroe, will narrate the 20th Century-Fox's accumulated movie film about her (titled "Marilyn")—some even hope this'll mend the rift between Frank and one-time pal Joe DiMaggio.

Flash: Natalie Wood and Warren Beatty are picking up life-time options on each other (marry-in) any day!

Composer Benny Davis got a letter from North Carolina State Archivist H. G. Jones saying Gov. Sanford wanted to settle "once and for all," that "Carolina Moon" was written about North Carolina, and not about "the little state south of us" where "all they grow are palmettos and other nuts!"

"Even the word 'pining' gives it away—North Carolina is the state of the long-leaf pine," Jones wrote. Benny wrote back "Why not have a little love in your hearts—there was enough of the 'Carolina Moon' to share some with 'South Carolina!'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL Shirley Maebelle took a bag of sandwiches along on her movie theater tour here, and stopped at a swish Westchester restaurant—in white milk—to eat 'em. Beverly Aadland's mother Florence is writing an ad-mite-to-the-lovelorn column.

Looking for an apartment? Cugat and Abbe Lane, still trying to sell their plush 2000 co-op, have dropped the price to a mere $90,000.

Producer Ross Hunter asked Mimi Bessell to fly to Hollywood for a day, for a screen-test.

AEC to Build Shaft for Seismic Study

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has announced plans for construction of a 1,300-foot shaft for use in a seismic research program to improve underground detection of nuclear detonations.

The shaft will be 28 miles southwest of Fallon, Nev., in the Sand Springs range.

The project, called Project Shoal, calls for underground detonation approximately 10 kilotons, 1,200 feet down in the granite of the mountain range. That is equivalent to 10,000 tons of TNT.

JFK to Sound Out Mikoyan Today

Five Army Divisions Were Ready to Invade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five of the Army's paratroop, infantry and tank divisions were ticketed for possible invasion of Cuba before the crisis cooled off, it was learned today.

About 100,000 Army men were involved in the preparations, including those manning anti-aircraft missile batteries and support elements moved into Florida.

Breadfruit Kennedy's inspection of part of the 1st Armored Division at Ft. Stewart, Ga., on Monday disclosed that part of this out-the 2nd Infantry Division at Ft. Benning, Ga.

These five divisions account for more than half of the eight-division force the Army maintains in the United States as a strategic reserve. The other eight Army divisions are in Germany, Korea, and Hawaii.

Only the 1st Armored was moved. Its more than 15,500 men were flown east from Texas in military and civilian planes, while its tanks and other heavy gear were carried by rail.

The other four divisions were alerted, all leaves canceled, and their men and equipment prepared for movement, sources said.

The full extent of the military measures taken by this country in the Cuban crisis has been kept secret.

But enough has come out piecemeal to make it unmistakably clear that the United States was ready for any kind of action ranging from bombing of Cuban missile bases to a major airborne and seaborne invasion.

The Navy has said it had 183 ships—including eight aircraft carriers—in the force that blockaded Cuba. That fleet, with 35,000 men aboard, could have been used to bombard the Cuban shore with missiles and guns.

Hundreds of Navy and Marine jet fighters and bombers were poised on fleet carriers to knock out whatever moved in Cuba and to cover amphibious and helicopter landings by thousands of Marines.

MARINES AT GITMO
The Air Force's Tactical Air Command has said it moved nearly 1,000 high-speed fighters, bombers, aerial tankers, and other planes, into bases in the southeastern United States within a few days of Cuba.

Reporters with Kennedy on his tour Monday counted about 450 Air Force, Marine and Navy planes—many bristling with rockets—standing ready at two of the many bases in the Southeast.

County Seeks Bridge Funds

The Oakland County Road Commission has applied for a federal grant of $212,100 to help finance replacement of 10 "one-way" bridges in the county, Chairman Sol D. Lomerson announced today.

The funds are sought from the federal government's public works acceleration program to go with $222,100 in county money for the project.

No other way is available to finance replacement of the narrow bridges that hold only one car at a time, Lomerson said. The county cannot undertake the projects unless half the cost is paid by outside funds. Such funds usually come from the townships, but the townships don't have the money, Lomerson explained.

Bridges marked for replacement by new bridges with roadways 27 feet wide are located on Hamlin, Avon and Washington roads, all in Avon Township; Dutton Road, on the Avon-Oakland Township Line; Burns and Dawson roads, both in Milford Township; and Squirrel Road in Pontiac Township.

Others are on Bridge Lake Road in Springfield Township; Inkster Road in Bloomfield Township; Pontiac Lake Road in Waterford Township.

Russia, U.S. Agree: Thant to Stay Chief

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The Soviet Union and the United States were reported agreed today that U Thant of Burma should be kept as U.N. secretary general until late in 1966.

Diplomatic sources said the Security Council would meet Friday to recommend Thant's election, and the General Assembly would meet later in the day to elect him.

Thant will be elected for a full five-year term, but in accordance with his stipulation the term will date from the day he took office as acting secretary general, Nov. 3, 1961. Thant reportedly wants to retire in 1965—when he will be 57—for personal reasons.

Thant, formerly Burma's chief U.N. delegate, was elected last November to be acting secretary general until April 10, 1963, the date of the expiration of the second five-year term of the late Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden. Hammarskjöld had been killed the previous Sept. 17 in a plane crash near Ndola, Northern Rhodesia.

The diplomatic sources said the Burmese diplomat wants to uphold the statutory title of secretary general and the statutory principle of a five-year term.

Seeks to Block Parking at Site

Lot Operator Files Suit
Over Courthouse Spot

The Outdoor Parking Co., Pontiac's largest private parking lot operator, filed suit in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, asking that the court nullify the county's lease agreement with the Downtown Pontiac Business Association (DPBA) for free parking on the old courthouse site.

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Giem ordered a show cause hearing for 9 a.m. Monday to decide on the request for a temporary injunction to prevent the lease from going into effect.

The suit was brought against the county, its board of supervisors, its board of auditors and the DPBA.

Signed Nov. 19, the lease agreement provided for a $1 rental for a six-month period. The business group sought the lease for a free parking lot to boost development of downtown Pontiac.

OFFER MADE
An offer of $1,000 monthly rental for six months has been made by the private parking firm, its suit contends.

The county is "without authority" to give away county assets without consideration, it claims.

The suit charges the county "was guilty of creating a legal constructive fraud upon the right of the citizens and taxpayers of Oakland County" in attempting "to dispose of a valuable asset for a very small fraction of its value."

The firm complains that the county issued no prior advertisement or notice to any other persons who might have been interested in submitting a rental bid. It claims the lease "would serve the private interests of those near the property and would serve no general public purpose."

Deane G. Beier, Pontiac attorney representing the parking company, said his client's use of the property would be "just as public as the business group's."

AUTHORIZED AGREEMENT
Supervisors authorized the lease agreement Nov. 7 after receiving an informal recommendation in its favor from city commissioners.

When the lease was signed, Max Adams, Pontiac area Chamber of Commerce manager and director of the business association, said the property would be resurfaced and ready for free parking before Christmas.

Plans called for space for about 100 cars for shoppers and persons doing business with downtown offices.

The suit says its allegations are "not intended to imply or suggest that there was any willful dishonesty on the part of the board of supervisors or any of its members."

Russ to Ease Tension
After Cuba? Kennedy Eyes Other Issues

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy wants to get first-hand facts from Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan today on whether Premier Khrushchev now wishes to move beyond the Cuban crisis and ease U.S.-Soviet tensions on other issues.

The President is unlikely to get a clear response to his probing, officials said, but he may obtain a better personal impression of the future course of Soviet policy.

Kennedy is scheduled to confer with Mikoyan late today. Mikoyan, who has completed weeks of talks with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, was due to arrive here from New York shortly before noon.

The Soviet trouble shooter intends to remain until Friday. Thus he may return to the White House for another conference if progress is made in his meeting with Kennedy today.

Mikoyan will also confer with other administration officials. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has invited him to lunch Friday and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall will be host at a dinner to-night at Udall's home.

Udall will be host at a dinner to-night at Udall's home. Mikoyan was one of Udall's hosts last summer when the secretary toured the Soviet Union.

The President was expected to emphasize to Mikoyan that the United States will either get international safeguards for the removal of Soviet nuclear weapons from Cuba or it will continue its surveillance indefinitely.

He was also expected to stress heavily that his no-invasion pledge does not mean U.S. acceptance of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Merchants Warned of Bad Checks

Merchants were warned today by the Pontiac Police Department to be cautious in accepting checks during the busy holiday buying season.

Detective Robert A. Emery said that some $600 in bad checks have been passed this week in downtown Pontiac, most of them stolen from the Kaiser Wholesale Co., 702 S. Paddock St. a week ago.

Others were stolen from Superior Auto Sales of Pontiac and Dimensions Unlimited, Inc., of Royal Oak.

Emery said he also has learned that counterfeit, photocopied payroll checks from Tipken Fuller Bearing Co. in Detroit may be passed in the Pontiac area.

Pontiac State Bank was victimized of $200 Tuesday in accepting a forged cashier's check drawn on the Ohio National Bank in Columbus.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII is suffering from a stomach disorder that the Vatican said today has "provoked a rather intense anemia."

Roman Catholics around the world were asked to pray for his recovery.

Vatican sources said Pope John would be "full of spirit" this morning but he was kept in bed in his apartment under the close watch of his doctors.

High Teamster Admits Bribery

Hoffa Local Agent To Be Sentenced

From Our News Wires
DETROIT — George Roxburgh, business agent of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's home local 289, yesterday pleaded guilty to a five-count bribery-conspiracy indictment in federal court.

Judge Talbot Smith freed Roxburgh, 49, of Huntington Woods, on $5,000 personal bond. No date was set for sentencing.

Roxburgh was charged with accepting illegal payment of $250 from the Interstate Motor Freight System of Grand Rapids in return for special treatment in trucking deals.

He was also charged with conspiring with Interstate President Lawrence D. Rahilly and M. Robert Baker, a Detroit trucking company official, to accept bribes.

The maximum penalty is a year in prison and $10,000 fine on each count.

DELAY FAILS

Roxburgh's attorney unsuccessfully tried to get the trial postponed on grounds that a trial of Hoffa, currently under way in Nashville where he is charged with Taft-Hartley Act violations, resulted in publicity which would prejudice a jury in the Roxburgh case.

Immediately after his federal court appearance, Roxburgh resigned the business agent post he had held since 1943, and also his job as a trustee of Local 289.

He declined to say whether he would seek another term as trustee in the local's December election in which he is unopposed and has Hoffa's endorsement.

Roxburgh was the second Local 289 officer to be convicted of Taft-Hartley violations in the last 10 days.

Roland McMaster, 48, secretary-treasurer, was found guilty by a Detroit federal court jury Nov. 19 on 32 counts of receiving illegal payments from a Youngstown, Ohio, trucking firm. He faces up to 32 years in prison and $500,000 in fines.

McMaster is a candidate for reelection in the local's Dec. 6 election.

See Fast End to Strike as JFK Acts

From Our News Wires
BURBANK, Calif. — President Kennedy's swift recourse to the Taft-Hartley Act raises the probability that the strike against Lockheed Aircraft Corp. will be halted soon—perhaps within a week.

In the meantime, says the union, work on the vital missile and plane projects has been halted. But the firm says work is continuing.

Only hours after the International Association of Machinists struck the giant aerospace firm Wednesday, the President invoked the labor act, saying the strike would "imperil the national health and safety" if permitted to continue.

Kennedy appointed a three-man board to look into the dispute and report to him no later than Monday.

On the basis of that report, the President will decide whether to ask federal court for a Taft-Hartley injunction, which would suspend the strike for 60 days. New efforts to reach agreement could be made during this "cooling-off" period.

NEVER DENIED

There have been 17 presidential requests for such injunctions, not counting the present case. None has ever been denied by courts.

The chairman of the President's three-man board is Prof. Arthur M. Ross, director of the University of California Institute of Industrial Relations.

He announced shortly after his appointment the board will meet in Los Angeles Friday with Lockheed and union representatives.

"I am asking each side to come with a written statement of views," Ross said. "We also want an opportunity for an oral hearing. We have to act fast since our

Algeria Thinks Communist Ban

Believe 50,000 on Unpublished Party List

ALGERIA (AP)—The Algerian government has banned the Communist party.

Information Minister Mohamed Hadj Hamou told newsmen Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's government decided on the ban several days ago. He gave no further details.

Wednesday night the Arab language Communist party paper Al Hourya was banned.

The information minister said it had not been decided what, if any, action would be taken against the leaders of the party. Head of the Algerian Communist party is Henri Alleg, a European.

Ben Bella has been studying with his Cabinet for several days the question of the Communist party and internal problems.

The Communist party's membership has never been published, but some unofficial estimates put the figure at about 50,000 in a country of 10 million population.

During the 7-year national revolution the Communists at first did not support the rebellion, then reversed their stand, but never took an important role in the fight.

The Algerian rebel organization had close ties, however, with the Soviet Union, Communist China, and other Communist countries.

Storm Leaves; Chilly Florida Tourists Cheer

MIAMI (UPI)—A fierce storm moved farther into the Atlantic today and chilly tourists along the Florida Coast hopefully began shaking coats.

"Temperatures probably will go up into the 70s in southern Florida today," said the Miami Weather Bureau, "and unless the storm changes direction, the seas will subside soon."

The Weather Bureau said, however, that minor flooding and beach erosion would continue along the Eastern Seaboard from the storm located late last night about 600 miles east of Jacksonville.

Gale warnings were displayed from Savannah, Ga., to the Virginia capes and small craft warnings from New Jersey to the Florida keys.

North Carolina's Outer Banks appeared to have suffered the most damage from the high tides and gale winds.

A civil defense advisory committee yesterday estimated damage at $154,000, but said the figure did not include damage to the Cape Hatteras National Park, which comprises a large part of the outer banks.

Yugoslav Post Blasted in Reich

BAD GODESBERG, Germany (AP)—About 30 persons attacked the Yugoslavian consular mission here today, threw three bombs and ransacked the building. First reports said at least two persons were injured.

Police said the attackers, of whom 17 are under arrest, were refugees from Croatia, now a constituent republic of Yugoslavia, who drove up to the building in two buses. Yugoslavians celebrate its national holiday today.

The attackers blew open the doors to the building with explosives; stormed inside and set off three bombs. Documents reportedly were set on fire.

Monclon Popovitch, whom police identified as the caretaker, was shot in the chest and stomach by one of the attackers. The other victim was not identified.

BIG DEFENSE CONTRACTOR Lockheed is one of the country's biggest defense contractors. Among other things, it builds the Polaris missile and several types of military aircraft.

It also handles several projects crucial to the nation's space program, including the Agena upper stage for the Ranger moon probe.

The company has refused to accept the union's demand for compulsory union membership and has declined to grant an employee vote on the issue.

Company spokesmen said the union shop could force 14,000 workers to either join the IAM or lose their jobs.

West Agrees to N-Ban Plan

But Only if Inspection Is Permitted by Soviets

GENEVA (UPI)—The West will accept an international security commission to police a nuclear test ban only if the Russians let the commission roam freely, Western sources said today.

Sweden proposed the immediate establishment of the commission at yesterday's session of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

First American reaction was cool. Western sources said the plan was unacceptable unless the Russians agreed to let commission members inspect suspicious events on their territory.

Since the Russians refuse to allow any on-site inspection on their territory—a point reiterated yesterday by Soviet negotiator Semjon K. Tsarapkin—the Swedish plan appeared doomed.

The proposal was the first neutral territory at the 17-nation conference since it resumed Monday after a two-and-a-half-month recess.

Its apparent rejection by both sides—although neither has formally stated its opposition—was expected to bring a wave of criticism from the other eight neutral members of the conference.

LIST MEMBERS—Eight neutrals—Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Nigeria, Sweden, United Arab Republic and Mexico—are members of the conference.

The Western powers are represented by the United States, Britain, Italy and Canada and the Communist world by the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria and Poland.

American negotiator Arthur H. Dean and Tsarapkin arranged to meet today in their capacity as co-chairmen of the conference.

Western spokesmen described their meeting as "largely routine" and said it was unlikely the Swedish proposal would come up.

The conference does not meet again in plenary session until tomorrow when more neutrals are expected to have their say on nuclear testing.

Soviets Urge Settlement

West Gets Berlin Notes

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union declared in notes to Britain, France and the United States today settlement of the Berlin problem is an urgent matter.

The notes protested a court case in West Berlin by the West German government seeks to outlaw an association of Nazi veterans. After reviewing this and certain aspects of the West Berlin situation, the notes said:

"Everything taking place in West Berlin graphically confirms the degree to which the necessity of a German peace settlement and normalization of the situation in West Berlin on its basis has become urgent."

The notes made no mention of a deadline for settling the Berlin matter, nor did they say anything about the possibility that the Soviet Union might sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. But today's notes struck out bitterly at the Western Allies, saying:

"The trial which has been planned in West Berlin shows that the occupation forces of the Western powers are becoming in fact participants in the persecution of those who fought against Hitlerian fascism."

'COMMUNIST FRONT' The West German government contends that the Association of Victims of the Nazis (VVN) is actually a political front organization for the Communist party, which has been banned in West Germany.

The suit against the association is being heard by the federal administrative court, located in West Berlin.

"The governments of the U.S.A., Britain and France," the notes said, "must therefore have declared that West Berlin is not a part of the Federal Republic of Germany."

"However, the authorities of the Federal Republic of Germany, under cover of the occupation of that city by the troops of the three powers, are more and more actively using West Berlin—trans-

Officials Slate Meeting on Water System Plan

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Officials of Bloomfield Township and the Oakland County Department of Public Works will meet tomorrow to discuss a $2,050,000 project which would allow residents here to be served by Detroit water.

The $2,050,000 is the estimated cost for constructing an internal water system to serve all homes and business places in the township now served by separate systems, according to Township Treasurer Homer Case.

The project would be financed by revenue bonds issued by the County DPW, Case said.

The treasurer explained that interest rates would be lower if the county handles the bond sale rather than the township.

MEET TOMORROW Meeting tomorrow with County DPW Director R. J. Alexander will be Case, Township Supervisor

HOMER CASE

Back Candidate for Supervisor

A Citizens for Case Committee has been organized to promote the candidacy of Bloomfield Township Treasurer Homer Case for township supervisor in next spring's election.

Case announced his candidacy for the post two weeks ago. Chairman of the committee is Birmingham attorney Dale A. Winnie.

While township treasurer, Case also was appointed public safety director, in which capacity he reorganized the township's fire department, constructed three new fire stations and made improvements in the police department.

Case has said he will work for a township library and improvement of roads.

"From his past record as township treasurer," Winnie said, "we are convinced that if Mr. Case is elected he will continue to make our township the best in the entire state."

Current Township Supervisor Arno Huelt is not expected to seek re-election.

Crash Reveals High School Drinking

Tragedy Shatters Complacent City

Editor's Note — Sometimes a single tragedy can shake the life of a community. Such a tragedy occurred in the Chicago suburb of Winnetka last week when a car full of high school students on a charity mission crashed.

WINNETKA, Ill. (UPI)—Winnetka, Ill., is 20 miles from Chicago's Loop.

It is a comfortable, pleasant place to live for those who can pay the price. Most of Winnetka's 12,308 residents can. The suburb's per capita income is second only to that of Scarsdale, N.Y., in national ratings.

The homes on its winding, shaded streets range from the comfortable modest to the million-dollar estates of inherited wealth.

Winnetka has almost everything it takes for the lives of the good life. Last week, it also had tragedy.

By police blotter standards, Winnetka's tragedy was not great one. One girl—a popular, pretty teenager whose life had already been shaken by a broken home—was dead.

Other youngsters were in the hospital and one of them faced possible criminal charges. It was bad but it could have been worse.

In Winnetka, though, there was no shaking off the sense of shock. Parents talked anxiously of teenagers drinking and driving. Teachers at one of the nation's finest high schools re-examined the Thanksgiving charity drive which served as the tragedy's backdrop.

Police pressed investigations into the private affairs of some of the town's finest families.

For at least a while this month, something had happened to the sense of tranquility and security in Winnetka.

If anywhere, the tragedy began at New Trier Township High School, a $14-million institution attended by most of the teenagers of Winnetka and the surrounding suburbs of Glenview, Wilmette, Kenilworth and Northfield.

New Trier has been rated among the nation's 10 best public-supported preparatory schools. Ninety-two per cent of its graduates go on to college. An unusually large number of them are National Merit Scholarship winners.

Among New Trier's candidates for national merit scholar this year was John H. Dawson, 17, son of a Chicago broker who is among the nation's leading Baptist laymen.

Young Dawson was in the upper quarter of his class. He sang the leads in school operas, played roles in school plays, was on the staff of school publications.

Like the other 4,500 students at New Trier, Dawson took an active part in the school's annual charity drive for Chicago's needy.

On alternate years, the drive assembles donations, canned goods or clothing to be distributed through three settlement houses and a South Side church in Chicago.

This year's goal for the week-long drive was 45,000 cans of food — 10 for each New Trier student. If the goal was reached, a "sock hop" victory dance was to be staged Thanksgiving eve in the school gymnasium.

The climax of the week-long drive is the final night when

Negroes Plan Model Homes

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—A 20-acre city-owned tract on Grand Rapids' Northeast Side was sold yesterday for $60,000 to a Negro group planning a model residential development open to minority groups.

The land is zoned for single and two-family homes. Its sales contract calls for a $12,000 down payment and the balance to be spread over five years.

The winning bid was turned in by a four-member group including Dr. Julius Franks Jr., a dentist, Kent County social welfare worker Joseph W. Lee and teachers James E. Adams Jr. and Samuel Triplett.

Lee said it was an opportunity to show what can be done by Negroes who find normal housing markets restricted. He said it also would serve as an example that Negroes must learn "to do something for themselves, too."

upper class students traditionally gather and make the rounds soliciting final donations.

LICENSE SUSPENDED
John Dawson's driver's license had been suspended last month for traffic infractions. John asked his father, John A. Dawson, if he could use one of the family cars if another student did the driving.

His father said, "Absolutely not. This is not a penalty to you. We have someone else drive for you." Then Dawson and his wife went out to dinner.

While the students gathered, someone broke out some cans of beer. According to Police Chief Don Dering, a bottle of vodka may also have been passed around. Some of the students—but not all of them—drank, Dering said.

Wherever the beer came from, it did not come from the Dawson home and it was not purchased in Winnetka. The village bans sale of liquor and the elder Dawson bars liquor from his home.

When the teenagers left the Dawson home, nine of them got into a 1950 Chrysler seven-passenger limousine owned by the elder Dawson. It had been left in the family garage with the keys in the ignition. Young Dawson was behind the wheel.

Seated next to the driver was Pamela Schreiner, 17, a talented soprano and a candidate for the lead role in the New Trier opera.

Her father, former rector of Winnetka's fashionable Christ Episcopal Church, divorced her mother last spring. He resigned his pastorate and married the former Mrs. Ada Blanche Hagenah, one of his parishioners and the daughter of chewing gum millionaire P. K. Wrigley.

His first wife filed a $94,000 alienation of affections suit which is still pending.

Next to Miss Schreiner was Daniel Bryant Jr., 18, son of an architect who helped design the Marina City Towers, the world's tallest apartment buildings. Young Bryant was a member of the school band and he had been on the swimming team for three seasons but dropped out this year to concentrate on his studies. He was anxious to get back and do his homework.

Riding on the jump seats of the limousine were Charles Bernstein, 17, Virginia Vierzbiek, 17, and Pamela Thorsen, 17. Bernstein, son of a prominent Chicago lawyer, was captain of the New Trier gymnastics team and a member of the student council's board. Virginia was the daughter of a Highland Park, Ill., junior high school principal. Pamela Thorsen was a stepdaughter of James S. Kemper, vice chairman of the Kemper Insurance Firm.

In the back seat were Richard Tinkham, 17, Marcy B. Button, 17, and John J. Roche Jr., 17. Marcy, vice president of New Trier's senior class, is the daughter of a chemical executive.

Roche, son of a laundry owner, was a member of the New Trier wrestling team and star footballer on the school's conference championship football squad.

"Everyone in the car was a school leader," classmate Randy Johnson, 16, said.

THE CRASH
The nine made their rounds, filled the car trunk with canned goods and drove to the school gym, where the load was transferred to a truck.

The limousine headed back toward the Dawson home. The car was southbound along Sheridan Road, a street with a 30-mile speed limit.

About five hours earlier a utilities crew had installed a new fire hydrant along the west side of the 30-foot-wide street.

Barriades were placed at either end of the new concrete. The barriers were marked with reflectors and seven keroseene flares were placed in front of them.

The limousine was traveling between 35 and 50 miles an hour, witnesses said, when the driver apparently failed to see the barriers until the last instant.

He swung the car out, missed the barriers, and lost control. The vehicle skidded, side-swiped a tree, brushed past a utilities pole and crunched head-on into a second tree.

Three of the limousine's occupants were thrown out. Two were pinned inside. Pamela Schreiner was dead. Bryant, trapped against the dash board, had a broken neck and doctors feared later he would not recover.

Only Marcy Button escaped serious injury.

SHOCKED AT DRINKING
Helen Maloney, girls dean at New Trier, said, "I can't believe they were drinking."

Bland Button, father of Marcy, said his daughter "is a teetotaler and she wouldn't get into a car with someone she had seen drinking."

The elder Dawson said he found "absolutely no bottles or glasses" when he returned home. "There was no evidence of drinking," he said.

But police found an unopened can of beer lying near the sprung door of the crushed limousine. Three witnesses said there was drinking at the Dawson home, Dering said.

New Trier and Winnetka were stunned. School Supt. William Gordon called for a "re-examination of the charity drive. Winnetka Village President Vernon M. Welsh vowed that authorities would "get to the bottom of this."

A newspaper, Chicago's American, appealed editorially for continuation of the charity drive "as a memorial to the girl who died."

Police Magistrate Maurice Blum ordered a complaint charging reckless homicide and driving while a license was under suspension, to be served on Young Dawson when he gets out of the hospital.

Dering vowed to prosecute the persons who supplied beer to the teenagers.

The Thanksgiving eve victory dance was canceled. Funeral service for Miss Schreiner was held that day at St. Augustine's Episcopal Church in Winnetka.

The former Rev. Schreiner flew from his Mercer Island, Wash., home for his daughter's funeral. He said "I have the greatest compassion for the lad who was driving the car."

During the 12-minute service, Schreiner stood in the rear of the church, softly intoning the words of the Episcopal burial office to himself.

"I loved my little girl," suspension, to be served on Young Dawson when he gets out of the hospital. Dering vowed to prosecute the persons who supplied beer to the teenagers.

Claims Policy of Department Cuts Lockheed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., R-Mich., charged yesterday that Defense Department policy apparently is aimed at bludgeoning management into giving in to labor demands in the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. dispute.

Ford, of Grand Rapids, released copies of a letter in which he asked Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to clarify the department's position.

Ford said that recent newspaper accounts "create the distinct impression that Lockheed will be cut off as a supplier to the Defense Department even though it is the lowest competitive bidder, unless the company capitulates to the demands of the executive branch of the Federal government."

He said neither Congress nor the taxpayers will look with favor on a policy which automatically excludes any qualified firm from competition for contracts.

Ford said he reminded McNamara that Congress has supported the policy of competitive bidding and that the secretary himself testified to that effect before the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee on which Ford serves as senior Republican member.

Plane Lands Safely With 3 Blown Tires

MANCHESTER, England (UPI) — No one was injured yesterday when a British European Airways Vanguard jet carrying 80 passengers burst three tires on landing at the airport here.

Some passengers called "the landing 'a bit bumpy'" but said they did not know anything was wrong until they had to debarb in the middle of a runway. Pilot P. E. Loat called the landing "quite gentle and undramatic."

Operations Go On Without a Hitch

Nuns Keep Cool Despite Hospital Fire

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI)—Roman Catholic nuns hurried about the hospital corridors closing doors and windows. Meals were served and medicine given. Normal? Not really. There was a three-alarm fire, raging at the time.

The fire swept through parts of St. Joseph Hospital here yesterday and firemen from 12 departments were called to fight the blaze.

Five of the fire fighters received emergency treatment, two for smoke inhalation and three for cuts. It was brought under control 20 minutes after firemen arrived at the scene.

None of the 242 patients in the hospital was evacuated despite the fire, which did an estimated $125,000 damage to one wing of the building.

When the blaze was discovered shortly before noon, the nuns put into effect a carefully prepared disaster plan.

Precautions were taken to prevent air from sweeping the flames throughout the building by closing the windows and doors. Stretches and wheelchairs were placed in the hallways, convenient to the patients if evacuation should become necessary.

Noon meals were served, medicine was dispensed, and seven operations under way when the fire was discovered were completed.

During the holocaust, two babies were delivered — a son to Mrs. Donald Rasmussen of Fraser and a girl to Mrs. Erwin Eble of St. Clair Shores.

Officials said the fire, the cause of which remained unknown, began in the nuns' quarters on the third floor and spread to the shallow attic immediately above. Water and smoke damage was reported to the first and second floors.

The hospital opened in 1900 as a sanitarium and since then several wings have been added. Workers were putting finishing touches on a remodeling program when the fire started.

$7,000 Fire Hits Lapeer Plant

Painting Facilities at Firm Damaged

LAPEER — A 20-minute fire caused over $7,000 damage to the painting facilities of the Lapeer Metal Products Co. yesterday.

Fire Chief Matthew Dougherty said the blaze started in one of the paint machines' electrical systems.

He estimated damage as between $7,000 and $8,000.

The fire started in the plant, located at 830 S. Saginaw St., at 6:15 p.m. Dougherty said it was under control by 6:35.

None of the 125 men employed at the plant was injured.

A similar fire in the stamping factory last May destroyed an estimated $20,000 in equipment.

'When' of Fluoridation Still Big Question

DETROIT (UPI)—Mayor Jerome Cavanagh has signed into law the water fluoridation ordinance but it was still a question when the controversial step would be taken.

Cavanagh, in New Orleans for a meeting of the executive board of the American Municipal Association, said in a statement issued through his local office that "as far as implementation of the fluoridation project is concerned, the financial outlook of the city and the total needs of our community will have to be taken into consideration."

The delay could stretch into a matter of years, some sources believed.

The ordinance was mailed to Cavanagh because he planned to leave for Puerto Rico from New Orleans and was not scheduled back in Detroit until next Tuesday, which is the legal deadline for his signature.

Cavanagh's statement said: "During the past decade, fluoridation of the city's water supply has been the subject of detailed studies, open hearings and now final approval by the common council.

"By nearly unanimous votes, the common council has decided to fluoridate the water furnished by the Detroit Water Board to the city of Detroit and neighboring communities.

"NOT HURRIED" "This action by the city's legislative body was not a hurried judgment, nor was it arrived at without full and complete information on the subject of fluoridation.

all arguments for and against, and then in the true spirit and practical application of democracy, gave both sides full time to present their views at public hearings.

"The final decision was mature, carefully and well thought out. For these reasons I have approved the fluoridation ordinance."

The ordinance was sponsored by Councilwoman Mary V. Beck. Councilman William G. Rogell was the only member to vote against the ordinance.

Fluoridation of water serves to reduce tooth cavities, proponents of it say. However, opponents contend it discolors teeth and some oppose it on religious grounds.

It was expected that court action will be taken in protest of fluoridation. Some suburbs which have Detroit water or plan to have objected to fluoridation.

Yankee Store Will Relocate at Miracle Mile

The transfer of the downtown Pontiac Yankee Store to the Miracle Mile Shopping Center next March was announced today by Joseph Megdell, president.

The Yankee Store will move from 47 S. Saginaw St. into the location now occupied by the W. T. Grant Co.

A new merchandising policy will be inaugurated by Yankee at its new location, according to Megdell. Better quality merchandise will be featured, and many well-known name brands will be added, he said.

New departments such as health and beauty aids, jewelry, millinery and special foods will be added and the shoe department will be expanded.
