

McNAMARA'S THE MAN — Following the usual appointment procedure, Robert S. McNamara and President-Elect John F. Kennedy appear outside the Kennedy home in Washington Tuesday to reveal McNamara's selection as secretary of Defense. McNamara only last month was named president of the Ford Motor Co. He regards himself as a political independent. As a leader in the nonpartisan "Citizens for Michigan," McNamara tried unsuccessfully to convince American Motors President George Romney to seek the Republican nomination for U.S. senator in this year's race.

Expected Labor Post Choice Goldberg Eyed for Cabinet

Steelworkers' Attorney Runs Into Opposition

Labor Man Not Picked for Job Since Reign of Woodrow Wilson

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — President-Elect John F. Kennedy is expected to select Arthur J. Goldberg, chief attorney of the United Steelworkers Union, as his Labor secretary despite opposition from some AFL-CIO craft unions.

Goldberg would be the first Labor secretary with experience in the union movement to be named by a Democratic president since Woodrow Wilson's administration.

Kennedy may announce the appointment today from the steps of his Georgetown home during a fall in his day-long schedule of talks with Democratic House members and others.

Top Kennedy aides said the president-elect was driving hard to complete his cabinet by the time he leaves for Florida Friday.

But he was running into sharp controversy in his effort to find an agriculture secretary acceptable to both his farm advisers and farm organizations.

Kennedy was quoted as saying today he is considering appointing Rep. W. R. Fougere, D-Ill., as secretary of Agriculture.

Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex., said Kennedy told him that during a conference at the President-Elect's home here.

This did not seem to rule out the possibility that several others who have been mentioned for the agriculture post are also still in consideration.

Some of Kennedy's campaign remarks have been interpreted as a promise the post would go to a Midwesterner.

Kennedy has reached the half-way point in filling his cabinet five down and five to go—and the odds seem fairly good that he will add another either today or Thursday.

His fifth selection, announced late Tuesday, was that of Robert S. McNamara to be his secretary of Defense. McNamara, 44, is president of the Ford Motor Co. No TIME TABLE

Kennedy is announcing no timetable for his choices. All he would tell reporters, camping outside his Georgetown dormitory in bitter cold Tuesday night, was that he expects to complete his Cabinet within the next few days.

Nor was there any clue in the schedule he announced for today as to which post he will fill next. His first appointment was with Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, already named to be secretary of Commerce.

Reuther Testifies on Rights

'Detroit Still Has Bias'

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Detroit has come a long way since its violent race riot of 1937, but racial progress in the motor city has been uneven since then, Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, said today.

Reuther, in testimony for delivery today, told the opening session of a two-day public hearing by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights that "there has been continued resistance to an open housing market in Detroit and its suburbs, and segregated housing has bred segregated classrooms."

"Notwithstanding the progress we have made in expanding job opportunities to members of our union through basic seniority and promotional provisions in our contracts, buttressed by the enactment of a Michigan fair employment practices law in 1955, this city and the nation have yet to achieve the kind of fair employment climate in which members of minority groups can enjoy equal opportunity at the hiring gate."

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Michigan's outgoing Democratic governor after an unprecedented tenure of six terms, said, in prepared remarks, that "the world image of the United States... has been tarnished by the denial of the human rights of our citizens."

AMONG FIRST

Reuther and Williams, the first Michigan governor to have a Negro Cabinet member and to appoint a Negro judge, were among the first of an estimated total of 20 to 30 witnesses called to testify.

The six-member commission said it would deal with public education today and with housing and administration of justice Thursday.

A commission spokesman said the purpose of the hearing was not to deal with civil rights complaints from the area because "there haven't been sufficient complaints to justify hearings on those grounds."

"Detroit just happens to be the first of the Northern cities with a large Negro population where the commission plans across-the-board hearings," he said.

A report will be prepared and submitted to President John F. Kennedy next September.

In his testimony, Reuther left out at the Eisenhower administration. He said "the great power of the American presidency is its potential for moral leadership, and the lack of presidential leadership in this field contributed substantially to the massive resistance that followed in the wake of the historic decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court" and which has now entered a new phase of disorder in New Orleans.

Williams, President-elect, Kennedy's choice for assistant secretary of state for African affairs, said Michigan had made improvements in the field of civil rights.

Aunt's Gift a Problem? Here Are Some Solutions

By JANET ODELL

We can't ignore Aunt Matilda any longer. If she didn't have a cupboard full of china already, we'd certainly buy her a piece of Belleek, that breath-takingly lovely Irish china.

It has a luster that no other china has. Aunt Matilda is an avid collector. She could use it too when she's watching golf tournaments.

Aunt Matilda counts her valories and carries a sugar substitute in her purse. Suppose she'd like a Mrs. ODELL Little metal pill box with a colorful counter on the top.

Bring a fastidious person, Aunt Matilda loves items that contribute to good grooming. Some of those infatigable hangers would be just the thing for her to take on trips. She's always complaining about the hangers in a motel. No doubt she'd use a pair of glove drawers too.

We saw a shopping list with a magnetic pencil attached. That's a Tiger's Yost Goes to New LA Team

BOSTON (AP)—The new Washington Senators selected Bobby Shantz, Gene Woodling, Dick Donovan, Willie Taskey and Dale Long among the 25 men picked today from other American League teams.

The new Los Angeles team picked Ted Kinszowski, Bob Cerv, Ned Garver, Eddie Yost of the Detroit Tigers, and Ken Aspromonte.

Also selected from the Detroit roster by the new Washington club were pitchers Dave Niebauer and Pete Burnside, and infielder Coit Vane.

Selassie's Son Attempts Coup Defense Post Means $3-Million Sacrifice

Emperor Is Visiting in Addis Ababa in Confused State

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie's son has attempted a coup d'etat against him, U.S. officials said today. These officials said there is no doubt that efforts are under way to overthrow the 68-year-old emperor, but that it is not clear whether his son—Crown Prince Asfaw Wossen Haile Selassie—is acting on his own initiative or on the orders of some of the armed forces and young civilian elements of the country.

The emperor presently is visiting Brazil. Selassie was proclaimed emperor in 1930.

American officials in Addis Ababa reported this morning in Washington that a struggle was going on within the military forces, with the palace guard opposed by the rest of the army.

The situation was described in official circles here as "confused." The State Department would say only that some sort of a struggle was going on. But details were confusing and had no report of "civil disorder."

At Sao Paulo in Brazil, Emperor Selassie said today he had received a report from Addis Ababa this morning and "the situation is normal."

The emperor, making a five-day tour of Brazil, was asked about reports of an attempt to seize power in Ethiopia. "I am perfectly calm," he said.

Circulation Doubles at Library

The main library has more than doubled its book circulation since the move into the new Pontiac Public Library building, according to Phyllis Pope, city librarian.

She reported today that charge-outs are now averaging 700 volumes a day, compared with an average 300 a day in the old library building on Williams Street.

"On busy days, the new library has recorded more than 1,000 charge-outs, compared with a top of about 600 a day at the old building," she said.

The librarian expected circulation to increase still further as more Pontiac residents discover the attractiveness and convenience of the new Civic Center library.

The $500,000 building, located at East Pike and South Park Street, opened last month. It is across Park Street from City Hall.

SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert Strange McNamara gave up a huge annual salary as president of Ford Motor Co. and will dispose of $1.6 million worth of stocks so he can become defense secretary in the Kennedy administration.

The cabinet post will pay him $25,000 a year for running a military establishment so big that its annual outlays for weapons, material and services are estimated at more than three times the combined buying volume of Ford, General Electric and U.S. Steel.

Famous Opera Baritone Dies

John Charles Thomas, 66, Silenced by Cancer—Had Been in Coma

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Death caused by cancer has silenced the deep, rich voice of baritone John Charles Thomas, 66, one of America's most beloved singers.

The barrel-chested star of opera, concert stage and radio died at his home Tuesday, Dec. 13, after months with intestinal cancer, the singer had spent his last days in a coma.

Although still widely sought for concert appearances, Thomas retired from the circuit in 1953. Since 1954 he and his wife, Dorothy, had lived in this desert community northeast of Los Angeles.

His big, booming voice became familiar to millions between 1942 and 1947 when he sang regularly over the National Broadcasting Co. radio network. He habitually signed off his program with the words, "Good night, mother"—a reference to his singer mother, Anna Dorothea Schenkel Thomas. COIN FLIP DECIDED

It was a coin flip that decided him on a musical career. The son of a Welsh Methodist minister, the Rev. Milton Thomas, young Thomas sang as a boy at camp meetings. While studying for medicine in Baltimore he won a musical scholarship in 1910 and tossed a coin to decide which field he would follow. Music won.

His voice matched his virile appearance. Women admired his broad shoulders and athletic build.

In "subordinating personal considerations" to accept the appointment from President-Elect John F. Kennedy Tuesday, the 44-year-old McNamara estimated the job would cost him $3 million in profits over the next three or four years.

That is how much he thought he would have realized from increases in value of the 25,500 shares of Ford stock he now owns, the 30,000 he has option to buy and the 100 shares of Scott Paper Co. he holds.

He now must divest himself of the lot. He still will be a millionaire, of course. McNamara, elected Ford president five weeks ago, also is giving up his $400,000 annual income of salary and bonuses from the motor firm.

His case is similar to the situation which confronted General Motors President Charles E. Wilson when he became defense secretary in 1953.

Wilson was forced by the Senate, under the conflict of interest laws, to divest himself of his huge General Motors holdings.

It later was estimated that Wilson gave up something like $1 million to be defense secretary. McNamara's mother said in Oakland, Calif., that she was not surprised her son had made a great financial sacrifice to accept the cabinet post.

Mrs. R. J. McNamara said, "He has done things like this all his life. For instance, when he was in graduate school at Harvard he tore up all the checks I sent him."

"I knew he was having a hard time getting along with the salary he was getting but he never cashed a check I sent him."

She added, "When there is something to be done, he never rests until it is done. He drives himself 24 hours a day."

Harrelson Case Has Hung Jury

A jury of four women and two men failed to reach a verdict in yesterday's assault and battery trial of Leuan W. Harrelson in West Bloomfield Township Justice Court.

He is accused of ripping a dress off Mrs. Gerald Dodd, 42, of 57 Mark St., during a bar fracas in Bloomfield Township, Aug. 2.

The jury split 5-1 on the verdict after 2 1/2 hours of deliberation.

Assistant Prosecutor Richard Condit said today he will seek to have the court impanel another jury.

Meanwhile, Harrelson is free on $100 bond pending a new trial before Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle.

Mrs. Dodd is a relative of the late Vida M. Coon of Pontiac who died in 1953 after being struck by a car driven by Harrelson.

He was convicted of negligent homicide in Circuit Court March 8, 1954, and sentenced to two years' probation.

Earlier this year, he pleaded guilty to forging some 60 names on nominating petitions for the August primary election. Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan placed Harrelson on probation for the misdemeanor.

He is the son of Leuan Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614.

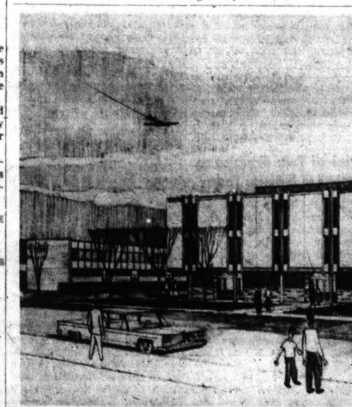

Warming Trend: Tonight's Low To Be Only 30

The cold spell has been broken. Low tonight in the Pontiac area will be a "warm" 30, the weatherman says.

Mostly cloudy with showers likely late in the day is the forecast for Thursday. The high is expected to shoot up to 38. Temperatures turning colder tomorrow night will continue with little change through Sunday and Monday.

City Physicians Plan $800,000 Building

Plans for a three-story $800,000 office building for doctors in the Pontiac General Hospital area were disclosed today by the architectural firm of Eroh and Friedman.

The building is being financed by a group of 25 Pontiac area physicians, all of whom plan to occupy offices in it, said Jack S. Friedman, a partner in the architectural firm.

Friedman said construction is scheduled to begin in the spring. The four-lot site is on the east side of South Johnson Avenue, south of Huron Street and directly opposite the hospital.

This spot is just south of another site picked for another doctors' office building, also in the planning stage.

The 25 doctors have formed a company called Pontiac Medical Building, Inc., with Dr. H. F. Kendrick as president, Dr. Ralph Wigent, vice president, and Dr.

Arthur Weaver, secretary-treasurer. Friedman said his firm has been retained by the company and is now in the process of preparing construction plans.

He said the present plan calls for a three-story core-type building, with heating and air conditioning equipment contained in a penthouse.

Friedman said the 22,000 square feet of office space now contemplated would be mostly devoted to the offices of the doctor-owners, but added that some space is being set aside for a pharmacy and rental professional offices.

In acquiring the site, the company purchased two additional lots for off-street parking, Friedman said.

Orleans Civic Leaders Bolstering Integration

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The forces backing integration of public schools here appeared stronger today as 100 New Orleans civic leaders called for support of the Orleans Parish School Board.

The school board itself ended a meeting with legislative leaders in Baton Rouge with President Louis G. Riecke saying he was "very much encouraged" that the school financial problems may soon be eased.

No immediate break appeared likely in the white boycott that has limited attendance to a handful of whites and one Negro at one integrated city school and just three Negroes at another.

The legislature continued in its fourth attempt to replace the Orleans School Board. The House passed the measure 86-0 and the Senate gave it a first reading and sent it to the Judiciary Committee.

The committee was to meet today, with approval considered certain.

3 TRIES FAIL

Two previous legislative attempts to toss out the board have failed. A third attempt passed Tuesday night, but was restrained by U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright. The law is also being tested in the State Supreme Court.

The statement by the civic leaders was considered significant since this segment of the community had remained silent thus far.

In its statement, which also appeared as an ad in the New Orleans Times-Picayune, the group

MIT Head Questions Man-in-Space Cost

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. James E. Killian Jr., former White House science adviser, questioned Tuesday night whether the United States can afford the man-in-space race with Russia.

Killian, now chairman of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said the costs of the space race were "startling."

He called for consideration of whether "we can manage the present program without weakening other national programs, including defense."

Killian said the United States was not responding to threats to the West "with all the energy and self-discipline the challenge demands."

Accept $11,099 Bid for Airport Kitchen Material

City commissioners last night approved a bid of $11,099 for kitchen equipment for Pontiac Municipal Airport from the A. J. Marshall Co. of Detroit. The equipment will go into the new terminal building. Marshall's bid of $11,099 was higher than the only other bid submitted, one of $9,554 from the Canton China & Equipment Co. of Detroit.

Despite the price difference, City Manager Walter K. Williams recommended the Marshall offer. He said the Marshall company proposed a better grade of equipment in some categories and offered what the building committee considered a better layout.

The purchase will be out of capital improvement funds.

It is planned that the kitchen and dining room at the terminal will be leased as a restaurant.

Uses Ability Alone to Reach Top

McNamara Scorns Spotlight

By United Press International

Robert S. McNamara, Ford Motor Co. president who was named secretary of Defense Tuesday by President-Elect John F. Kennedy, used his ability, not personality or social contacts, to reach the top.

"Very few people know him well," a friend said of him. "He isn't much for socializing and he's private life is just that — private."

When news first leaked out that McNamara was about to get a cabinet post, the Ford Motor Co. president went into hiding because he dislikes publicity.

Said one Ford public relations official, "I can't even admit to you that I know Robert S. McNamara."

However, his selection by Kennedy as secretary of Defense

Ford Proud, Sad Over McNamara

DETROIT (UPI) — Henry Ford II, chairman of the board of Ford Motor Co., today expressed both pride and regret over the selection of Ford President Robert S. McNamara as secretary of Defense in the cabinet of President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

"Just over a month ago, I was proud to announce the election of Robert S. McNamara as president of the Ford Motor Co.," Ford said. "Today, it is with equal pride—however, with regret—I comment on his selection by President-Elect Kennedy as secretary of defense."

"Out of my own limited knowledge, I know of no one in America better qualified to take over the post of defense secretary than Bob McNamara."

"If he is allowed to do as good a job for the country in this new assignment as he has been able to do for our company in a series of previous assignments over the past 15 years, the gain—measured in terms of the national interest—will make it easier for Ford Motor Co. to sustain the loss of his leaving."

Police Dept. Reverses Itself

The Police Department reversed itself today after city commissioners learned in dismay last night that motorists were being ticketed in connection with the free Christmas parking in downtown municipal lots.

The plan went into effect Saturday in cooperation with the downtown Merchants Association. At the merchants' request, the Lawrence Street lot is to be blocked off until 10 a.m. to keep it from filling up with the cars of downtown employees instead of downtown shoppers.

Two Americans Opens in Nassau Today

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI)—The trial of two Americans on charges of murder on the high seas was scheduled to open here today after a two-day postponement granted while the defense sought new evidence in Miami.

The two Americans—who could be sentenced to death on the galleys if convicted—are Billy W. Seas, 25, of Etowah, Ark., and Alvin Taber Jr., 25, of Bridgeport, N.J.

They are accused of killing a Florida fishing boat owner, Capt. Angus Boatwright, aboard his charter boat Muriel II off Elbow City April 24 and kidnapping and murdering six other Americans on a remote Bahamas island.

Will Open Bids on School Loans

Borrowing of $350,000 Scheduled in Waterford — Meeting Tomorrow

The Waterford Township Board of Education at its meeting tomorrow night will open bids from banking institutions for borrowing of $350,000 against anticipated state aid.

The loan, which will be used for operating expenses, has been approved by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

A report and recommended budget for the 1961 high school athletic account will be presented by Superintendent William A. Stueck. He also will report on a community information brochure now under consideration by the school board.

Further consideration of transportation requests made by parents of children attending the John D. Pierce Junior High School will be made and an attendance area designated.

The board also will consider the appointment of a member to the township recreation board, replacing Irwin Greer who resigned after 10 years service.

Shaw will present information relative to action by the Township Board on placing two propositions on the February election ballot.

The Township Board will ask voters to approve a one-half mill tax (.50 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation) for three years to create a special fund for sidewalks on public rights of way. Both propositions pertain to the special fund. The two propositions must pass if the township is to have sidewalks.

Christmas Basket Deadline Friday

Applications for Christmas baskets of food must be made at the Clearing House at 29 W. Lawrence St. before 5 p.m. Friday, Pontiac Salvation Army's Capt. W. H. Weaver announced yesterday.

Those seeking help must apply in person, he said.

The office will remain open after that date only for agencies wishing to draw from the stock or coordinate assistance to needy families in the area, so that efforts are not duplicated.

Pontiac City Affairs May Reassess Newly Rezoned Land

City commissioners tomorrow will tackle a proposal to up property assessments on land newly rezoned to a commercial classification.

The proposal was put before the commission last night by the Planning Commission.

Commercial property is not reassessed by the city until it has been improved by a building, the planners observed.

The proposal was scheduled for discussion at tomorrow night's informal commission meeting.

Among the factors to be considered, said Commissioner John A. Dugan, is whether it is appropriate or not for the commission to set assessment policy.

"We've never been concerned with assessment policy during the six years I've been on the commission," said Dugan. "Setting assessments has always been the subject for the city assessor and the board of review."

On the subject of urban renewal, Mayor Philip E. Rowston signed a contract under which the city will get a $700,000 advance from the federal government to finance plans for the proposed second urban renewal project in the downtown area.

The program calls for wide spread clearance in the 20-acre triangle bounded by West Saginaw street, the Grand Trunk Railroad and West Pike Street, plus frontage along the east side of Cass Avenue, Pike to Lawrence.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said that a mistake made in state records 30 years ago meant that a $200 lot at Branch Street and

The Day in Birmingham Sewer-Vote Information to Go to Home Owners

BIRMINGHAM—Letters informing Birmingham Hills property owners of the issues involved in Monday's sewer election will be mailed tomorrow, City Clerk Robert Stader said today.

The four-page letter containing questions and answers will be sent to 450 home owners living in the city, Stader said. He said the letter, in effect, is actually a report of the pertinent questions answered by a city and state officials at a public hearing in September.

Bloomfield Hills property owners will be asked in the special election Monday to approve a $1.5 million internal sewer system that would serve the entire city.

It will be the second time that the proposal has been put before city voters. In October, the proposition was approved but later declared void when it was discovered that an election notice failed to appear in a weekly newspaper.

The form letter being sent out explains the purpose of the internal sewer system and points up its need.

It details the explanation of two state representatives as to why the sewer system is needed and at this time.

Loring F. Homing of the Water Resources Commission is quoted in the letter, explaining "that although something less than the entire system would relieve pollution for a time, the ultimate system is needed in the future."

Donald M. Pierce of the Michigan Department of Health states that "with individual wells and individual septic tanks the city has a health hazard today and as a city grows toward the maximum population density the health situation would be explosive."

Pierce strongly urged that the internal system be built at this time.

The Water Resources Commission has already filed suit in Circuit Court to stop the city from polluting the River Rouge.

Because of this the city has a legal obligation to clean up the pollution, the letter continues.

LETTER EXPLAINS

The letter explains why the City Commission has recommended it.

State Agencies Ask Increase

Want General Fund Spending Allocation to Be Hiked in 1961-62

LANSING (AP)—State agencies have asked for a 50 per cent increase in general fund spending allocations for fiscal 1961-62, state controller Ira Polley said Wednesday.

Agencies have requested general fund appropriations totaling $29.5 million, the controller said. The legislature appropriated $18.8 million for the current fiscal year which ends next June 30.

Polley said Gov. Elmer Swenson had asked him to go over the requests and prepare a "realistic budget" for consideration when Swenson takes over as chief executive.

"There is no alternative to a tight budget until the state's financial problems are adequately resolved and an effort made to retire the present $64 million deficit as soon as possible," Swenson said.

Biggest share of state spending was sought for education — $13.6 million.

Agencies asked $142.7 million for construction of new buildings or remodeling or repairing existing ones.

Various requests for all funds totaled $1.123 billion.

Alert Teen-Ager Foils Robbery of Drug Store

DENVER (AP)—A quick-thinking teen-ager was standing in a drug store when two gunmen entered and demanded money. Wabeta Bullock, 35, handed them $153 from the cash register.

Clifford Dale, 16, fled from the store. Moments later, patrolmen E. J. Kampmuller and Robert L. McKie burst into the store and arrested both bandits.

The patrolmen, driving by the store at the time, got word of the robbery on the police radio. Clifford had stopped just long enough after his exit last night to telephone police headquarters — with a dime he borrowed from a passer-by.

See Another Million Jobless

Expect December and January to Supplement November Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Another million workers are virtually certain to lose their jobs in December and January, pushing unemployment over 5 million, government economists predict. No drop is in sight before March.

Barring a sharp — and unforeseen — spurt in production and hiring, the number of jobless is expected to rise to 4.2 million this month and to 5.2 million in January. Another 100,000 workers are likely to be laid off in February.

The economists paint this dark picture after the Labor Department announced earlier this week that unemployment climbed by 432,000 last month to 4,631,000, a postwar November record. The jobless rate, fell a shade from 6.5 to 6.3 per cent of the labor force.

Seymour Wolfson, a deputy assistant secretary of labor, said he foresees "nothing in the offing which will bring unemployment down before the end of winter."

He said the November figures support earlier predictions that unemployment would not drop until March, falling then to 5 million.

Plan Yule Card for Negro Pupils in New Orleans

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — University of Michigan students plan to send a giant Christmas card to the four Negro girls in New Orleans attending previously all-white schools.

Students are circulating the card on campus and hope to obtain 1,000 signatures by the time it is placed in an envelope for mailing.

The card is inscribed with the following words: "The ink is black; the paper is white; together we learn to read and write."

The greatest recorded flood disaster occurred in Honan Province of China in 1887 when more than 900,000 perished when the Hwang Ho overflowed.

Communist World Plan Pushes on Relentlessly

The long awaited Communist manifesto following the meeting of 80 nations at Moscow last month is not a very enlightening communique and it's not meant to be.

The split between Russia and China over the "peaceful co-existence" line seems to have been patched up. China had previously insisted that war with the West is inevitable while Russia appears to lean toward a cold war co-existence.

This doesn't mean that Peking's more bloodthirsty approach won't be the real party line. The balance of Communist power may be shifting eastward to China.

Among the many ridiculous statements in the communique are that the U.S. is "preparing a new war of aggression" while on the other hand the Communists are against the export of revolution and against imposing that form of tyranny on new areas.

Communists believe that the non-Communist world, particularly the United States, is on the decline. They cite as evidence our slight current economic decline and the political setbacks we have had in some newly freed foreign countries.

The only difference between Russia and China says the New York Herald Tribune is that "Mr. Khrushchev says it would be better to allow capitalism to die of old age, assisted by some doses of Communist arsenic, while the Red Chinese prefer to use a blunt instrument."

Of this much we can be sure, the meeting foreshadows an intensive drive to dominate the new nations of Africa. Both Peking and Moscow believe that they, Russia and China, represent the wave of the future and are self-ordained to take over the free world.

Landrum-Griffin Bill Proving Quite Helpful

After a fairly good test the Landrum-Griffin bill is proving to be much fairer than some of its outstanding critics had predicted.

In spite of all the brickbats hurled at it by the big labor bosses and the charges that it was a "killer" bill, government records show that not one union has been killed by it.

It is no more of a union killer bill than the Taft-Hartley law was supposed to be a slave labor act. Opposition is always skeptical of a new bill or act until they see it in operation. Many times their early conclusions as to the effect are not borne out by the actual operation of the bill or act.

This looks like the case with the Landrum-Griffin bill. At least the early howls have ceased.

In fact, reports received by the government show that it has been helpful to the rank and file members from the standpoint of protection against misuse and misapplication of union funds, improperly conducted elections and conflicts of business involving some business agents.

Castro's Invasion Threat Could Mean His End

In order to keep the people's minds off the internal situation, Castro, the Cuban dictator, has brought forth the threat of an enemy, real or imagined.

It is only natural that to prepare for the "invasion" Castro must have a civilian army. For some little time now he has been issuing arms and training this so-called army to stem the invasion when it comes.

Oddly enough, this very act could possibly be his undoing.

Should an invasion threat prove to be merely a hoax, it is easy to see that a revolt might follow. The very weapons which CASTRO has issued to his civilian army might well be turned against him.

Word around Cuba from President Oseando Dorticos is that victory is assured once the invasion occurs. We wonder what Castro and his top henchmen expect for their government, or better yet, their dictatorship if the invasion fails to materialize.

Biggest Project

Builder of County Lakes Is Again Branching Out

Winter: Not officially due until next Wednesday, but it evidently started by jet.

Getting into his largest undertaking is James H. Cole, who has created several Oakland County lakes by damming up streams and impounding the waters of springs. The lake frontage which he has added to our county is more than 40 miles in extent, including the new Lake Sherwood on Commerce Road.

The past year he enacted a project just over the line in Livingston County, and the new Lake Shannon is the result. Its shores have been platted into building lots in an area midway between Flint and Ann Arbor, where lake frontage is not so plentiful.

Now Cole takes a big jump north, to Roscommon County, where he has purchased nearly three square miles of low land just across highway M55 from Houghton Lake, the largest inland body of water in Michigan. By impounding the waters of Denton Creek, he soon will have a lake to rival Houghton Lake.

Jim became an Eagle Boy Scout at the age of 14, at Holly, and somewhat under my guidance. He gives his scout training much of the credit for what he is accomplishing.

Mrs. Cole is the former Sylvia de Stiger, who was a member of The Pontiac Press editorial staff when he started this work. She was assigned to get a story on his unique project. She got the story—and Jim.

Temperatures flirting with the zero mark have made the ice safer for skating on some of our smaller lakes. But extreme caution is necessary, especially on lakes that have a stream flowing through them. Take no chances on "rubber" ice. Watch this column for further skating bulletins. The ice on none of our larger lakes is safe at this time.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Is in a Period of Hesitation

WASHINGTON—This seems to be a period of hesitation. The United States government is hesitating because one administration is going out and another is coming in.

The other governments of the world are hesitating, too—they wonder what Washington will do.

President-Elect Kennedy has been hesitating—also he has been hesitating to create jobs for the unemployed.

Unemployment appears to be increasing. Calling the present decline in business a "recession" or a "readjustment" does not help matters. What is important is whether something definite showing an upward movement of business will appear soon on the horizon to start "recovery."

There is plenty of discussion as to what caused the stagnation in various businesses. There is, of course, an interrelationship between different parts of the economy. The steel strike hurt the economy and threw it out of gear.

But there are in the background other serious factors that have long been developing. Foreign trade, for instance, is a big part of American business nowadays, and to upset it causes a hesitation all along the line.

ALREADY ALIBI

The erstwhile critics are already beginning to alibi. They say that gold exports have been a problem for some time and that the administration should have "done something about it before."

The truth is the American government has been pressured by the same critics into more and more spending abroad and an outflow of gold on the theory that this would gain friends and preserve peace by giving us bases or by assuring us of allies who have potential bases to put at our service.

The idea has been that this was one way to halt the march of the Communism and to win the cold war. But Moscow is today getting a ghoulish comfort out of the economic troubles of the United States and the far-reaching effect it may have on world policy.

Already the school of thought which believes in financial "gimmicks" is urging a tax cut or more money for "depressed" areas. The idea that a balanced budget is an "obscenity" is voiced by many a professor who sits comfortably in academic seclusion without knowing what it is to make ends meet in a private business.

The country already has had one painful experience with cracked economics, as the New Deal poured billions of dollars into loss-making and kept unemployment at an 8 million figure for seven years in succession, while it ignored the causes of the layoffs in heavy-goods industries.

Only the orders resulting from the war in Europe gave American industry in 1940 and 1941 a chance to get started again and to create jobs for the idle.

President-Elect Kennedy perhaps has read of the economic tragedy of the 1930s and the failure of the Roosevelt administration's theories. But the news dispatches seem to indicate nevertheless that he is going to lean heavily on college professors who are strong on theory and weak on knowledge of what makes business tick.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Get Rid of Fogey Notion Cold Causes Rheumatism

"My wife and I have been in Florida over two years. Can you tell me where there is less dampness and less heat in summertime? I have a rheumatic condition." (J.S.)

Evidently you consider rheumatism, rheumatoid or a rheumatic condition a specific disease or ailment, caused by "exposure" to cold and dampness or even just dampness.

I don't blame you. I merely wish to disabuse your mind of this notion, if I can. I don't blame you for believing "exposure" to cold and damp is a direct or contributing cause of

DR. BRADY rheumatism, pneumonia and many other illnesses or indispositions commonly known as "colds."

This was a concept the great Dr. William Osler himself believed and taught, and most old-fashioned medical professors still believe—or pretend to believe, in order to keep patients fooled along without a diagnosis.

I doubt if there is any place where there is less dampness than there is right where you live, unless it be in the desert, say Palm Springs, Indio, Barstow, Death Valley or Needles, Calif. Such places are extremely hot in the summer season.

Having sampled the climate in the West Indies and the Caribbean, South America, South Africa, Egypt, Algeria, Israel, the Mediterranean, Western Europe, England, New York and California, I believe we have found the ideal all-year climate here in paradise.

You've heard of selling refrigerators to the Eskimos? Well, here's one that beats that. Believe it or not, some homes—or perhaps we should say dwellings—right here in Beverly Hills, Westwood and Santa Monica have elaborate air-conditioning built-in or installed, altho natural air-conditioning, superior to any artificial kind, is always available without charge if you have enough intelligence to use it.

Formerly people with rheumatism (this, of course, was before the latter-day specialist discovered "arthritis") liked to go abroad or at least away from home for a season's sojourn at a spa or health resort where the climate had magic healing virtues unlike the miserable, changeable, damp, chilling climate at home. Many victims of the "arthritis" fog-hoax could no longer afford such excursions—they have squandered their cash for miracle medicines.

Also Democrats of prominence in the Senate and House are already talking about "emergency" measures that will cause business to wonder still more as to what's coming and to wait, as it is doing now, before making plans for expansion.

Already as the name of the new secretary of state, Dean Rusk, is broadcast, the dispatches from abroad say they know little about him.

There are hopes expressed in Britain that he will be "soft" on the China issue and favor admission of the People's Republic into the United Nations.

If you don't quite understand what I'm talking about, send me 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson No. 12, "Chronic Joint Disability" and you'll understand—that is, if you don't think you know more than I do about the nature and cause of insidiously developing joint disability of steadily worsening character.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to physical health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Use Proper Telephone Psychology

Notice the improper telephone psychology used by the airline mentioned below. Modern firms can spend huge sums on perfect advertising strategy; then have its effect ruined by lack of simple Applied Psychology by the telephone operator or sales clerk. So send for the booklet below and find your weakest "link."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE G—451: Bishop H. Clifford—Northcott suggested that I address his Wisconsin Methodist Conference of clergymen earlier this year.

So I telephoned the airline company to check on my reservations. The phone rang and rang until I decided the office must be closed for lunch.

Finally, however, I heard the receiver taken off the hook. But DR. CRANE nobody answered. I could detect a typewriter in action and a man speaking, as if to a stenographer.

At last I said "Hello, Hello" with rising indignation at the delay, but there was no response. After a couple of minutes my connection was cut off, so I dialed again.

This time a man answered politely, giving the name of the airline. "Why did your office hang up on me," I charged in my opening remarks. "Here it is costing me an additional 10 cents for another phone call to do business with you!" "I didn't hang up, so it must have been somebody else," he parried.

Ex-Cheerleader Defends Central's Cheering Squad

Does anyone outside of Central's cheerleaders, their parents and sponsor realize what this wonderful group does for its school?

Do you know what it is like to try and get students to yell for their own team and then feel like you are just putting on a show for them?

The fans only see the cheerleaders on Friday nights or during pep assemblies. They don't realize just how many nights a week are spent working on cheers and new ideas just to please the student body. A group of fourteen girls can't out-yell everyone from the opposing team. They need help!

An Ex-Cheerleader

'Need More Doctors Like Dr. Brady'

Dr. Brady certainly deserves all the praise possible, as does The Press for printing such a fine column and thereby demonstrating our freedom of the press.

If there were more doctors today with the common sense displayed by Dr. Brady, it would be of more value than all the millions of dollars donated each year to medical research.

An Appreciative Reader

'Can't City, DMA Be More Charitable?'

The city and the Downtown Merchants Association's offer leaves me cold. Let the city fathers donate the proposed $2,000 for free parking to the poor and homeless so they might have a little joy on Christmas. People who have a car and garage to park a nickel for the parking meter. Why can't they think of something charitable, especially during this season, instead of worrying about making more money?

Says Older People Need Medical Aid

I worked from the first day Social Security was put into effect until I was forced to retire at 70. We can thank Franklin D. Roosevelt and the UAW-CIO for what we get which is far short of what we need. Everything has raised but Social Security. We get a 7 per cent raise some time again.

We need the medical aid very badly for we don't get enough to pay hospital and doctor bills. However, I am thankful for what we get. Old people who don't get half of what we get can't have a doctor because they can't pay for one.

Portraits

By JOHN C. METCALFE

When the quiet dusk is lowered on the darkened room. You can see the little shadows... Hopping all around... When the solitude is falling... Over all the night... You can see the starlight walking... In the pale moonlight... When the gray-cloaked mist is humming... On the silver sea... You can see the foamy water... Swinging merrily... When the wind is softly blowing... To the sandy shore... You can see the shapely sea-shells... Whirling on the floor... When the dawn is slowly slipping... Through the frail blue air... Then the ballroom of the nightmare... Once again is bare.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Wednesday, Dec. 14, the 348th day of the year with 17 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1799, George Washington, the first president of the United States, died at Mount Vernon.

In 1513, Alabama entered the Union as the 22nd state.

In 1861, Prince Albert, husband of Queen Victoria, died.

In 1895, Albert Frederick Arthur George, later King George VI of Great Britain, was born.

In 1931, Norwegian explorer Roald Amundsen discovered the South Pole.

Then, before you speak, look at that sour puss staring back at

"No, No," he may shout at the shy stranger, "I can't see you today nor tomorrow either. Make it next Wednesday at 2 p.m."

To prevent this unintentional affront to your clients and customers, place a mirror behind your phone.

Then, before you speak, look at that sour puss staring back at

"Well, it hasn't been 15 seconds since it happened," I challenged. "Besides, your co-workers ought to know by now that when a phone is taken off the hook, at least the call should be acknowledged with a 'Can you wait a moment, please?'"

It was a very nice and admitted his company's blame, but I am stressing this lapse in simple Applied Psychology because it occurs frequently.

A modern firm may spend heavy sums attracting prospects. It may use stellar advertising strategy and high salaried talent to work up its copy, illustrations and layouts.

Then an inferior bit of public relations by somebody within the organization can frustrate much of that costly advertising.

"A chain," ran the old adage "is no stronger than its weakest link," and that is clearly the case in modern business.

So you people who obtain salaries by "fronting" before the public, should realize your obligations to your employer.

You are paid to be tactful. If you don't understand the simple rudiments of tact, then get a different job.

Or read this column more faithfully and scrupulously the cases for I point out the causes for the contents of these unsavory courses in practical psychology.

A lot of busy professional men, such as dentists and physicians, may also neglect themselves when they pick up the receiver. Maybe a little stranger is calling for her first appointment, never having met the doctor before.

Because he is interrupted in his heavy schedule and has his mind on his dinner, he may be brusque and harsh, like a top sergeant.

Fermi Atom Power Plant Will Wait Till '61 to Operate

MONROE — The heavy construction work on the $81 million Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant at Lagoona Beach, seven miles north of Monroe on Lake Erie, is now complete but it will be mid-1961 before any uranium 235 will be used for fuel in the production of electricity. Construction began in April 1956.

One of the major factors in activation of the plant is the decision of the United States Supreme Court which agreed Nov. 15 to review a U.S. Appeals Court decision which set aside the construction permit for the atomic plant preliminary to issuance of an operating permit by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Nothing nuclear has been used in the plant and cannot be used until the Power Reactor Development Co. obtains an operating license from the AEC.

The construction permit issued by the AEC was challenged by the United Auto Workers and three other unions on grounds of safety in the operation of the plant in a populous area.

Extensive hearings were held with the case now in the Supreme Court for decision.

Actually the long court case has delayed actual construction in only a minor degree. But construction costs have risen and will continue to rise because tests of equipment cannot be completed as rapidly as they would be if there had been no court action.

Tests of the equipment began in September 1959, and are continuing. They can be 60 or 70 per cent completed before any actual plant operation starts.

Kent County Gains Over Half of Air Site

GRAND RAPIDS — Kent County, Aeronautics Director John F. Meacham reports more than half the 1,800 acres sought for a new commercial airfield is in hand or under purchase agreement.

He told the County Board of Aeronautics that the $7 million airport project now has 1,099 acres in hand with the recent purchase of a 472-acre area at $215.117.

The new airport site lies in Cass Township about 10 miles southeast of Grand Rapids. When completed, it will replace the present field just south of the Grand Rapids City limits in Pa.

Warns Merchants Against Bad-Check Techniques

GRAND RAPIDS — (UPI) — The president of the Michigan Association of Check Investigators had a warning today for merchants whose Christmas spirit is being dimmed by bad check passers.

Detective William Moormond, a member of the Grand Rapids Police Department check squad heading the state group, said the Christmas rush is a bad check artist's paradise because money is changing hands rapidly and in larger amounts than at any time of the year.

Moormond said bad check artists get more money than all other kinds of criminals together, obtaining about $12 million in Michigan each year and about $600 million in the nation annually.

Moormond listed six rules for merchants to follow to try and head off bad check writers:

—Know who the check passer is, know him (or her) well enough to be able to find him if the check bounces.

—Ask for car registration and check the car license if possible when cashing a check for a stranger.

—Treat a check from a stranger as if you were making him a loan for that amount.

—Make sure what he (or she) gives you is a check and not a stub or receipt or some other check-like paper.

—Take time to look the check over carefully. Make sure it is signed by the payer as well as look so you could recognize him (or her) again.

amount agrees with the amount in figures, that the date is correct (not predated).

—Take a good look at the person cashing a check—a good enough

Doctor, Carole Allege Double Jeopardy; Face
Third Trial Jan. 3

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 61, and Carole Tregoff, 23, will receive a hearing Friday on their motion that they should be freed from murder charges on the ground of double jeopardy.

The couple faces a third trial Jan. 3. Juries in two earlier trials failed formally to return verdicts against them on charges of murder and conspiracy in the July 18, 1959, slaying of Finch's wife.

Superior Judge Leroy Dawson granted Friday's hearing after Finch's lawyer, Grant Cooper, presented affidavits from three jurors in the second trial. The jurors claimed a murder verdict against Finch had been arrived at but decided by Dawson, who presided at the trial.

The affidavits said the 12 jurors failed only to agree on the degree of murder of which Finch was guilty. In such a case, under state law, the judge should levy the lesser verdict — second degree murder.

JURORS DISMISSED
Dawson, however, claimed he never was informed that the jury had reached any verdict. He finally dismissed the jurors as hopelessly deadlocked.

Cooper contended a third trial of Finch would amount to placing him on trial for a crime which a jury had already found him guilty.

However, by some fancy legal maneuvering, Cooper claimed that since the guilty verdict was not accepted by Dawson, Finch should be allowed to go completely free.

TRY, TRY AGAIN — A lone car struggles vainly to get up the Fenimore Avenue exit of the Bronx River Parkway at Scarsdale, N.Y., Monday as a snow storm struck the metropolitan area. The foot of snow all but emptied the usually-jammed parkway — one of the main routes taken by New York City-bound commuters.

Scenes of Nativity Protested in Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The American Civil Liberties Union Tuesday protested the placing of Nativity scenes in Salem at the capital mall and in Portland at the Pioneer Post Office.

Charles Davis, chairman of the Oregon Civil Liberties Union, in a letter to the Salem Chamber of Commerce and Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr., pointed to the Constitution in the protest.

"The U.S. Supreme Court has said that the first amendment of the federal constitution requires the state to be neutral in its relations with groups of religious believer and nonbelievers," Davis wrote.

Appling gave his permission for placement of the traditional Christmas decoration.

Davis said, "to use the capital mall for a religious display and endorse religion, which the State of Oregon is not permitted to do."

Clean Bill of Health

Wife Sues Paul Lukas, Asks for Maintenance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Paul Lukas, 68, actor in American and European films, has been sued for separate maintenance by his wife Daisy Benes Lukas.

Mrs. Lukas, 55, accused him of cruelty and said he had abandoned her Nov. 1, 1955, refusing to support her since then.

Her complaint filed Tuesday estimated Lukas' holdings at more than $50,000 and his income at more than $3,000 a month. She asked $700 a month support.

The couple were married in Budapest June 4, 1927.

Lake Nipigon, north of Lake Superior in northwestern Ontario, covers 1,870 square miles.

Crematorium is Office for Press Use of Oslo

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A new crematorium will be press headquarters when Princess Astrid of Norway weds commoner Johan Martin Ferner Jan. 12.

The wedding will take place in the rural Asker Church near King Olav's estate outside Oslo. There are no other buildings nearby to accommodate Norwegian and foreign newsmen. Church authorities approved a plan to use the crematorium, which will not be consecrated by that time.

Moscow Gets Rain, Fog

MOSCOW (AP) — Like New York with its blizzard, Moscow in having weather troubles, too. It was unseasonably warm and rainy Tuesday.

Only a few snowflakes have fallen so far this December in a city that usually is knee-deep in drifts by now. Moscow has been getting foggy rainy weather instead — which Muscovites say brings sickness.

Lincoln, capital city of Nebraska, was known as Lancaster until about 1867.

She Has a Lust for Life

Helen Traubel Happy With Hard Work

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I don't believe in fate," said Helen Traubel, "but it is amazing how single events can change the course of your life."

The course of the singer's life has taken a sudden change from the ease of near-retirement to working from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. in a movie. And she's having a ball.

"I had decided to cut my career down to almost nothing," she said. "I had worked hard for many years, and I thought I deserved to slow down. I didn't get rest; I'm very good at doing nothing."

"Then Jerry Lewis called me up and offered me a part. At first I said no, but then I got interested. I'm glad I did. I'm fascinated watching Jerry create comedy."

Meanwhile her plans for retirement have flown out the window and she contemplates other films and even a TV series. So let's mark another chapter in the multifaceted career of a St. Louis woman who declined to be merely an opera singer.

SHE LOVES LIFE
Traubel, of course, was no mere singer, having starred at the Metropolitan during its great Wagnerian era. But her lusty love of life made her interested in other things as well, including baseball — she is a great Cardinal fan — and comedy.

One of her first ventures away from the operatic stage was on the old Duffy's Tavern radio show. She was clowning with Ed Gardner (Archey) one day when Jimmy Durante's producer, Phil Coban, happened in from the next studio: Bingo!

It was the surefire combination of Durante and Traubel that got her out of the Brundage getup and into the public's consciousness as a warm and witty entertainer. That turn of events also led to her break with the Met.

After the singer made a much publicized night club debut, Metropolitan boss Rudolph Bing cautioned her about preserving dignity. She still smarts over the incident.

"Imagine the nerve of him to come over here from Europe and start lecturing about dignity!" she said. "I had the perfect answer for him: I carry my dignity with me."

"I am glad I left opera when I did. I had never wanted to continue to the point where people would be saying, 'That Traubel! Why doesn't she quit?' That would have killed me." The singer's trade mark — her left — was another chance happening in her life.

"I was always skinny as a girl," she recalled. "My family was worried about me because they were all big people. I was thin until I was 28, and then I suddenly started gaining. I've never lost it . . ."

"And I needed that strength just to sing. When 'Tristan und Isolde' is nearly over for everyone else, I still had one aria of eight minutes, if unstretched, or six minutes if they didn't want to pay the musicians after-midnight overtime."

Teacher Sneezes Herself Into a Hospital Bed

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (UPI) — It isn't often a sneeze puts one into a hospital, but that's what happened to Mrs. Marjorie Gray, a Grand Forks teacher.

It caused her to lose control of her car on a road near here, and the vehicle crashed into a road approach.

Police at Muskegon Bitter, May Resign

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Muskegon may have to hire a score or more of new policemen.

Patrolman Donald Brustad, president of Local 281 Muskegon County and municipal employees, reported Muskegon policemen are "serious and bitter" about a recent City Commission policy to eliminate time-and-a-half pay for holiday work.

Brustad said he has sent a telegram to officials at Phoenix, Ariz., informing them that 20 to 30 Harbor, making it when complete-Muskegon policemen are available for work there. Brustad said West Africa.

he understood Phoenix is seeking experienced policemen. The city commission, hearing of the telegram, decided it would advertise for new police officers.

Eight Merchant Ships Are Ordered by Ghana

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI) — Ghana has signed its biggest contract since gaining independence, ordering eight new merchant ships worth $25 million.

The Ministry of Transport and Communications also disclosed that four extra ship berths will be added to the plans for the new Tema Harbor, making it when complete-Muskegon policemen are available for work there. Brustad said West Africa.

Christmas Breakfast Should Be Easy on Mom

'Twas the morning following the day of the year, should itself be night before Christmas. All through the house, not a creature was stirring except the whole family.

Gift paper and ribbons are piled high. The children, their cheeks rosy with excitement and their eyes aglow, play with their toys. Santa's bounty has been received with glee — and now it's time for a merry Christmas breakfast. The opening meal, on the most special of cooking for the Christmas dinner ahead. Breakfast must be good but mustn't take up too much of her time. She can be grateful that most of the breakfast starts with time-saving canned foods — yet it can be a memorable meal.

First, the family gets a choice of canned juices. This year, try canned juices that you don't ordinarily serve at breakfast time. Try pineapple juice, a mixture of canned juices, or fruit ne-ctars. Or you can float a few banana slices on canned orange juice.

Now canned hash reports for duty, but on Christmas morning it dresses for the occasion. The hash goes into little ramekins or custard cups, gets topped with an egg, and the whole is baked.

While the hash and eggs are

MERRY CHRISTMAS BREAKFAST

Assorted Canned Fruit Juices
Baked Hash with Eggs in Ramekins
Dutch Apple Cake
Coffee
Cocoa
Yuletide Baked Eggs and Hash
1 can (1 pound) corned beef hash
4 eggs
Butter
Salt
Pepper
Butter or margarine
4 tablespoons milk
Line each ramekin dish with 1/4 of the corned beef hash. Break one egg into each dish. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika; dot each egg with butter; pour 1 table-spoon of milk over each egg. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 15 minutes or until all desired done-ness. Yield: 4 servings.

Dutch Apple Cake
2 cups prepared biscuits mix
4 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons melted shortening OR salad oil
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup egg
2 tablespoons melted butter OR mar-garine
1 can (1 pound) sliced apples
Blend together prepared biscuits mix, sugar, shortening, egg and milk. Beat vigorously for 30 sec-onds. Turn into greased round 9 x 1 1/2-inch layer pan. Combine cin-namon, nutmeg, sugar and melted butter; blend until crumbly. Ar-range drained apple slices on sur-face of cake; sprinkle crumb mix-ture over apples. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Poached Apples
Poach apple halves in a syrup made with equal parts of sugar and water with fresh lemon juice to taste added for flavor. These are delicious served as a meat ac-companiment or as dessert with cold custard sauce.

Children Will Cheer

Eggnog Ice Cream Float makes a refreshing, seasonal drink for children and adults. For 1 serv-ing mix 2 tablespoons vanilla ice cream and 1/2 cup dairy eggnog in a tall glass. Fill glass 2/3 full with chilled 7-Up or ginger ale. Add 2 scoops vanilla ice cream, then fill glass to top with bever-age. Serve at once with a red cherry garnish.

Good lunch: creamed eggs served with buttered spinach and crisp toast.

Vegetables May Turn Up in Unusual Places

Vegetables have a place in dessert planning. Let's take a look at some possibilities.

Carrots are a dessert surprise in a luscious pudding. Grate the carrots finely to give appealing color and unexpected flavor to squares of this baked dessert made with whole bran cereal. Spoon Golden Sauce, which also contains a touch of carrot along with orange and lemon juices, over each square of the Carrot Pudding. With Golden Sauce Pudding.

A delightful snack for skaters or carvers to come home to is Harvest Cookies made with pumpkin. Such familiar spices as nutmeg, cloves, ginger and cinnamon are Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Blend shortening and sugar; add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in carrots and whole bran cereal. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Stir in lemon juice. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into batter.

Turn into greased 8x8-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour. Cut into squares and serve warm with Golden Sauce. Yield: 9 servings.

Golden Sauce:

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt

1 1/2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons grated raw carrots
2 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix sugar, flour and salt together. Add water slowly, stirring constantly. Stir in carrots, orange and lemon juice and butter. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened and clear. Serve hot over Carrot Pudding. Yield: about 2 cups sauce.

Harvest Cookies

1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup slightly beaten eggs
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup mashed cooked pumpkin
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

1 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup ground pumpkin
1/2 cup whole bran cereal

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Blend shortening and sugar; add eggs and beat well. Combine milk, pumpkin and whole bran cereal; add to shortening mixture alternately with sifted dry ingredients, stirring only until combined.

Fill greased cupcake pans half full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Remove from pans and cool. When cool spread with confectioners' frosting, if desired. Yield: about 20 cupcakes, 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

Heat drained canned or thawed frozen grapefruit sections in a little butter and use as a garnish for broiled fish. Prepare pineapple ring or chunks the same way and team with ham.

Cranberry Relish Served With Meat

With canned cranberry sauce you'll like this meat relish:

SHARP 'N' SPICY CRANBERRY RELISH

1 (1-lb.) can jelled cranberry sauce
1/2 teaspoon ground salt
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
Dash of red pepper

Beat jelled cranberry sauce until smooth and velvety. Stir in remaining ingredients. Heat and serve with meat. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Try adding chunks of tuna to a tossed green salad and serve as a main course for lunch. Slices of radish or pimiento strips will add color.

Steam Old Fruitcake Season Again in Fall

Someone asked a cooking authority how to soften a last year's fruit cake which, for some reason, if seems almost impossible to believe, has not yet been cut. Here are the directions:

Place the cake in a pan. Cover it with several thicknesses of cheesecloth and steam it on a rack in a covered pot for an hour or longer. If the cake then feels too moist, dry it briefly in a slow oven. Then cool it and place it on a piece of aluminum foil. Sprinkle the cake with brandy, rum, sherry or port. Wrap it tightly in the foil. Let it stand a week — if you can.

Different and good: simmer a smoked boneless shoulder butt in apple cider.

Try Peanut Butter Bread for New Taste Treat

Rich and moist, Peanut Butter Bread keeps quite well. That is, if it's hidden! Because this delicious bread tastes so good served without any spread at all, and makes such scrumptious sandwiches, it's not likely to be around very long once the family finds out you've made a loaf.

Either the crunchiness or the creaminess of peanut butter may be used. Beat it into the hot milk with a rotary beater, so that it blends in uniformly.

Sandwich fillings that are especially good with Peanut Butter Bread include: apple butter, marshmallows, currant or grape jelly;

Peanut Butter Bread
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup peanut butter
2 packages of cake mix, active dry
4 to 6 cups sifted flour
Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt, and peanut butter. Beat with rotary beater until blended; cool to lukewarm. Measure very warm (green 2); about 50 minutes. Cool in wire rack or across top of pan.

crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture and 1/2 cups of the flour; beat until smooth.

Add enough remaining flour to make soft dough. Turn dough out onto floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down; turn out onto floured board; shape into a loaf. Place in greased 9x5x3-inch pan. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until top of loaf is slightly higher than edges of pan, about 45 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Cool on wire rack or across top of pan.

Broiler Meal Quick to Prepare and Cook

Dinner will be ready in just minutes. How often have you wished that this could really happen? Well, it can.

A well-known home economist, Reba Staggs, well versed in the field of meat and meat cookery, calls on Ham and Lima Broil when there is a final countdown to the serving hour.

As you'll see, the main ingredients in this recipe are only four in number . . . ham slices, prepared mustard, baby lima beans and grated cheese. In serving this colorful broiler meal, be sure the family is ready and waiting for the meal. Serve the ham slice piping hot while the cheese is slightly brown and bubbly.

Ham and Lima Broil
1 pound ham slice, cut 1 inch thick
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 cup baby lima beans, cooked
1 cup coarsely grated American cheese
Set regulator for broiling. Place ham slice on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so the top of the ham slice is 3 inches from the heat.

Broil first side until browned, 10 to 15 minutes, turn and broil until browned on second side, about 8 minutes.

Spread ham slice with mustard and top with lima beans. Sprinkle cheese over beans and continue broiling 1 1/2 minutes or until cheese is slightly browned and bubbly. Yield: 4 servings.

Broiled Tomatoes

Broiled tomatoes are delicious when they have a topping of bread crumbs mixed with butter; they're extra-delicious when you add a little grated cheddar, Parmesan or Romano cheese to the crumb combination.

Holiday Bonbons Made With Peel

Holiday sweets are a must on your food list for home entertaining and there's nothing to compare with fresh homemade candy. Petite Orange Bonbons will keep company fingers busy. Get the small fry to pitch in to help shape the bonbons.

Petite Orange Bonbons
1 pound fresh orange peel, (about 4 California oranges)
1 pound sugar (2 cups)
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1 cup chopped pecans (or mixed nuts)
Sugar
Cover orange peels with water and let stand 24 hours. Drain. Place in saucepan; cover with cold water; bring to boil. Cook about 10 minutes or until peels soften; drain. Chop finely; combine with sugar and salt.

Cook slowly about 10 minutes or until a small quantity, dropped into cold water forms a soft ball. Add flavoring; remove from heat. Blend in chopped nuts. Shape into small bonbons and roll in sugar. Makes about 4 dozen.

Start With Celery Soup

When the menu calls for meatless fare, try this delicious hearty combination: A can of condensed cream of celery soup, a soup can of water plus 1 can (8 1/2 ounces) crab, drained and flaked. Heat slowly, stirring now and then. Serve to 3 to 4 with a garnish of grated lemon rind.

Color Popcorn for a Wreath

Youngsters, home from school for the holidays, will be asking advice about refreshments for partying. Teenagers will love making popcorn wreaths as something unusual as an edible table decoration.

Popcorn Christmas Wreath

- 1 cup corn oil
- 1 cup salt
- 1 cup short corn syrup
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon green food coloring
- 100 cotton candy

Heat corn oil in 5-quart kettle over medium heat for 3 minutes. Add popcorn. Cover, leaving small air space at edge of cover. Shake frequently over medium heat until popping stops.

Meanwhile, mix together corn syrup, sugar, salt, vanilla and food coloring. Add to popped corn in kettle and stir and toss constantly over medium heat 2 to 3 minutes or until sugar is dissolved and corn is evenly and completely coated with mixture. Remove from heat.

Form into 10-inch ring on waxed paper, using as little pressure as possible. Use butter on hands. Garnish with cinnamon candies to resemble holly berries in wreath.

NOTE: Do not double recipe.

FRAGRANT BREAD — When the irresistible fragrance of freshly-brewed coffee mingles with that of home-baked bread, who could ignore the call to the coffee hour? Serve a fresh-from-the-oven North Salem Coffee Bread the next time you invite your neighbors in for a kaffeeklatsch.

Old Time Coffee Braid Good for Kaffeeklatsch

They say we shouldn't cling to the nostalgic pleasures of the past, but some are just too delightful to be put aside! For instance, who would erase the smell of home-baked bread, or the delight of buttering a warm slice to be savored with a hot cup of coffee?

Few people would. In fact, most of us would be happy to find a homemade loaf accompanying our coffee much more frequently. Therefore, we suggest you reward yourself and friends with fresh-baked North Salem Coffee Bread at your next kaffeeklatsch. Its braided pattern and light frosting take it out of the realm of the traditional loaf. Moreover, this delicious loaf puts the coffee hour a notch above the usual, and makes a pot of fresh-brewed coffee taste even more delectable.

North Salem Coffee Bread
1 cup milk
1 cup sugar
1 cup shortening
2 cups warm water (100 to 110 degrees)
1 egg
1 teaspoon active dry yeast
1 egg beaten
2 cups flour, about, dividing
1 envelope instant whipped potato flakes

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm (85 degrees). Pour warm water into large bowl. Sprinkle dry yeast over surface and stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Add 2 beaten eggs, 2 cups of flour and potato flakes. Beat until well blended. Stir in remaining 1 cup flour.

Turn dough out onto lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush top with soft shortening. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30-40 minutes.

Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide into 3 equal portions; roll each piece into a strip about 24 inches long. Place strips on greased baking sheet. Form into braid. Pinch ends firmly. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30-40 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30-35 minutes. Brush with melted butter. When cool, frost with thin icing and sprinkle with silvered toasted almonds. Makes 1 large braid. If desired, dough may be divided to make 2 small braids.

Italian Tomato Juice

Delightfully different for a dinner first course is Italian Tomato Juice Cocktail. Combine a pint 2 fluid ounces can of tomato juice with 2 thick slices of onion, 2 4-inch stalks celery, 1/2 teaspoon basil, and salt and pepper to taste. Simmer 10 minutes; remove onion and celery. Serve hot sprinkled with Parmesan Cheese.

Herb Bread Made With Powdered Cream

Turn on the oven; whip out the mixing bowl. It's time to bake a loaf of old-fashioned bread — the kind that's an extra special surprise for your family.

There's a heap of satisfaction in making your own bread, especially on a cool fall day. You won't even need to call the family for they'll smell that tantalizing aroma wafting all through the house, and come running to ask what you're making.

Our recipe today for Herb Bread is a variation Grandma never dreamed of. Its savory flavor comes from a blend of four herbs and spices — basil, thyme, oregano, and nutmeg.

The method, too, is as modern as today's instant foods for it calls for powdered cream and water, instead of milk as most recipes do. This combination gives it a crisp golden crust that fairly shatters as you slice it. The inside, tender and fluffy like a marshmallow, tastes like it's made with pure country butter.

Best of all fresh-baked and even so slightly warm, it's ideal for midnight snacks and sandwiches. Our recipe makes two loaves — one for your family and one for a neighbor down the street — if it lasts that long!

Herb Bread

- 2 packages dry active or 2 cakes compressed yeast
- 1/2 cup warm water
- 1/4 cup powdered cream
- 1/4 cup salt
- 1/4 cup melted shortening or salad oil
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 cup warm water
- 4 1/2 to 5 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon dried basil, crumbled
- 1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
- 1/2 teaspoon dried oregano
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Soften dry yeast in 1/4 cup warm water (110 degrees), compressed yeast in lukewarm water (85 degrees). Add powdered cream, sugar, shortening, salt, 1/4 cup water, 2 cups flour and eggs; beat until smooth. Add basil, thyme, oregano, and nutmeg. Beat well. Add 2 1/2 to 3 cups more flour until a soft dough is formed.

Turn out on a lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Knead about 5 minutes or until dough is smooth and satiny. To knead: Press half of dough flat, fold over on itself toward you. Push away from you with the heel of your hand. Turn dough 1/4 turn, fold and push again. Repeat in a rocking motion.

Place dough in a greased bowl. Brush with melted butter or other shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk — about 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

When light, punch down. Divide dough into two equal portions and shape each into a smooth ball. Let rest 10 minutes. Shape into loaves.

Place in greased 8x4x4-inch metal bread pans or 8 1/2x4 1/2x4 1/2-inch glass loaf dishes. Let rise until doubled, about 1 hour.

Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F. for metal, 350 degrees F. for glass, for 35 to 40 minutes. Makes 2 loaves.

Delicately green tinted grapefruit sections and sliced fresh pears arranged on lettuce and sprinkled with pomegranate seed makes a colorful and delicious salad to serve during the holidays.

Use Plank and Beam Construction in Patio

In a "patio plan" home, living areas are oriented towards a central patio or yard around which the house is built.

According to the Southern Pine Association, the "patio plan" is an ideal medium for wood plank-and-beam construction. The self-sufficiency of this roof and ceiling system permits location of large glass areas on room walls adjacent to the central patio. Having an outdoor extension, each room seems larger and the warm natural look of the beamed ceiling "marries" the interior with the exterior view.

These Desserts Start With Baker's Cake

The homemaker, thrilled by the jingle-jangle of approaching holidays, is all aglow over party plans. With a feeling to be fancy, her dessert choice will be one that can be made "so lively and quick." Just such desserts—fancy, but fast—are featured in these Proven Recipes that start with a baker's cake.

Christmastide imagination prompts the holiday hostess to cook with candy, or cup and fill with whipped cream, ice cream, or pudding—to fashion these cakes into simple but elegant desserts.

Chocolate Fritters

1/2 pound sweet, milk or semi-sweet chocolate
2 dozen fruit cake cubes, 1-inch

3 tablespoons finely chopped pecans or walnuts
Melt chocolate in top part of double boiler. Using a sharp-tined fork, dip each cube into melted chocolate. Place on a greased cookie sheet and sprinkle immediately with a about 1/4 teaspoon chopped pecans. When finished, place fritters in refrigerator until chocolate hardens. Yield: 24 Chocolate Fritters.

Jelly Roll Cherry Sundae

1 baker's jelly roll
1 pint white New York cherry ice cream
1 cup cherry sauce

Slice jelly roll into 8 equal-sized portions and ice cream into 8 equal-sized portions. Place a slice of ice cream between two slices of jelly roll for each serving. Top each serving with 1/4 cup cherry sauce. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 servings.

Cherry Sauce

1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup cherry juice
1 cup drained red cherries
1 teaspoon red coloring

Combine cornstarch and sugar. Add cherry juice and cook over low heat until thick and clear. Add cherries and red coloring. Yield: 1 1/2 cups Cherry Sauce.

Alaskan Angel Food Cake

1 14-ounce angel loaf cake
1 pint chocolate ice cream
1 pint strawberry ice cream egg whites

1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Cut loaf cake into 3 equal-sized horizontal layers. Cut each pint of ice cream lengthwise into 5 equal-sized slices. Use ice cream slices as fillings, the chocolate below and strawberry ice cream between two top layers of cake. Trim off excess ice cream and add between slices to fill in.

Place the filled cake on a lightly greased cookie sheet and set in freezer while preparing meringue. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Blend in sugar and vanilla extract; beat until mixture stands in peaks.

Completely cover top and sides of cake with meringue, being careful that it touches cookie sheet all around. Return to freezer, unwrapped, and store at zero until ready to use, or bake at once in a hot oven (450 degrees) about 5 minutes. When lightly browned, serve immediately. Yield: 12-14 servings.

Strawberry-Coconut Tarts

1 package strawberry gelatin
1/4 cup boiling water
1 1/2-ounce package cream cheese
1/2 cup milk
1 cup crushed coconut cookies
1 1/2 cups cake shells
1 pint fresh strawberries
1 pint whipping cream
3 tablespoons confectioner sugar

Melt gelatin with boiling water. Chill until just slightly thick. Meanwhile, combine cream cheese, milk and crushed coconut cookies.

Spread 2 tablespoons of this mixture in bottom of each cake shell. Top crumbs with fresh strawberries. Ladle slightly thickened gelatin over filled dessert shells. Chill until firm.

Whip cream and add confectioner's sugar. Garnish with whipped cream, squeezed through a pastry tube, along outer edge of cake shells. Yield: 8 Strawberry-Coconut Tarts.

Make Up Raspberry Pops in Gala Holiday Style

Soften one quart of red raspberry ice cream. Add 1 cup of candied fruit mix, 1/2 cup of toasted coconut, 1/2 cup of chopped nuts, and 1 to 2 tablespoons of rum flavoring. Mix well and fill custard cups or waxed cone shaped cups. Wrap and freeze. Before serving, peel off paper adhering to ice cream. If desired, insert an ice cream stick or wooden spoon into mixture before freezing.

Plan a Varied Program for Christmas Concert

Avenue, David Johnson of Cameron Avenue and Rob Travis of East Mansfield Avenue. Their program is set for 3 p.m. in the auditorium of the school.

The efforts of Pontiac Northern High School's vocal and instrumental music departments will be combined Sunday afternoon in the presentation of the school's annual Christmas concert.

Set for 3 p.m. in the auditorium, the varied program will include instrumental groups, vocal ensembles and mass singing of Christmas carols.

The boys' and girls' glee clubs, a modern dance group and the Pontiac Northern Choir will also be featured.

A soprano solo by Pam Huntley in the choir number "Lost in the Night" will be heard along with "The March of the Shepherds" and Bach's "Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light."

Madeline McConnell of the physical education staff will direct the modern dance ensemble in a dramatization of Ken Darby's "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Linda Libby will be accompanist when the Boys' Glee Club sings "Carol, Brothers, Carol" by Ringwald and Frank's "O Jesus, Grant Me Hope and Comfort."

Tom Scott's arrangement of the moving "Coventry Carol" and "Ding Dong Merrily On High" will be sung by the Girls' Glee Club.

Ensembles to be heard in traditional Christmas music are the Choral Bells, the Crystalaires, the Sophomore Girls' Ensemble and the Norsemen.

George Putnam, supervisor of secondary vocal and music in the schools will direct the traditional closing "Hallelujah Chorus" in which Northern's vocal alumnae will join the massed vocal groups. The public is invited.

Play Up Good Points in Letter

By EMILY POST

Good Taste Today
Question: An employee of mine is leaving my office soon, and has asked me for a letter of recommendation. He is a likable fellow, but frankly by not very reliable.

I don't believe it would be fair to his next employer to give him the letter of recommendation he wants. Still I hate to be unkind about this matter. Will you please tell me how to tactfully handle this situation?

Answer: I know of no situation more difficult than the one that you find yourself in. You can't help but feel it unfair to give less than a good recommendation, and on the other hand, it is not fair to his future employer to be misleading in your praise.

To present him as well as you can by emphasizing his good points is about all you can do for him.

Question: I have been dating a young man for the last eight months. I care a great deal for him and have reason to believe the feeling is mutual, even though it has remained unspoken or discussed between us.

He will be having a birthday soon and I want very much to give him a present but he has everything, he could possibly want and they are all of the best quality. I thought of having a studio picture taken of myself and have it framed and give it to him for his birthday.

However, he has never asked for a picture and therefore I am in doubt as to whether it would be a proper gift. I would appreciate your opinion.

Answer: You must not give him your picture unless he has asked for it.

Question: When sending Christmas cards to business acquaintances who are married, and only one of them is known to you, is it proper nevertheless to address the card to both Mr. and Mrs., or should it be addressed only to the person you know?

Answer: It is always proper to address Christmas cards to married people, Mr. and Mrs., even if only one of them is known to you, when sent to their homes. When addressed to the office, it is sent to the man (or woman) alone.

Question: If one does not attend a bridal shower to which one has been invited, is it necessary to send a gift anyway? This has been a source of argument among some friends and we would like you to settle it.

Answer: Since showers are supposed to be limited to the bride's best friends, those who cannot go to the shower, usually are presents. If, however, the bride-to-be is not a close friend, there is no obligation to send a present if unable to accept the invitation.

Tell Him 'No Divorce!'—Abby

Temporary Woe Likely

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?

I was married to a man for 21 years. I loved him and tried my best to be a good wife and mother. I was happy and thought he was, too.

Out of the blue he told me he was in love with another woman. He packed up and moved out. He left me six months pregnant with a 14-month-old baby and four older children.

The woman he left me for is 12 years younger than I am. He met her at work.

She knows our religion doesn't allow divorce and remarriage but she doesn't care. My husband is begging me for a divorce.

My heart says no. My friends say yes. I'm all mixed up.

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED:

The answer to your first question, "What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?" is "temporary insanity." (This sometimes passes for "love.")

Don't make any decision while you are in an emotional tumult. Your husband may find his way back to the world of reality soon. In the meantime, tell him "No divorce!"

DEAR ABBY: When a hostess has a party and some guests bring other people, and a card table has to be set up in addition to the big dining room table which seats 14, who should sit at the card table? My husband says the "extra guests who were not invited by us. I say my husband should sit at the big table and I should sit at the little one.

NOISE AT OUR HOUSE
DEAR NOISE: In the case of TWO tables—the host should sit at one, and the hostess at the other.

DEAR ABBY: A boy wrote in telling you he thought it was a "sin" for his mother, who was 44, to have a baby. Well

I don't think it's a sin," but I have news for you—I doubt if any woman in her right mind would go in for it, at age 44, on purpose.

I am 42 and have a new grandchild. My daughter went on a trip and I am caring for her baby. I've been up for three days and three nights and I can't see straight—but the baby is still going strong. Women past 40 should leave well enough alone and let the younger ones increase the population. I have no sympathy for them, and neither will their husbands. They'll sleep through it all.

DEAD TIRED
Confidential to G. K.: Place a raw beefsteak over your eye and then place a two-inch piece of adhesive tape across your mouth.

For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Club Gathering Children's Gifts

A wrapped gift for a child at the Oakland County Children's Home will be the "admission charge" per person at the Wagon Wheelers Square Dance Club of Waterford's Christmas benefit dance Thursday in Waterford Community Activities Building.

Mel Sheffer, the club's caller, will call the steps for an intermediate "fun level" dance which will be followed by the new dance of the month "I'll We Waltz Again" and a new step "Dixie Star." In keeping with the Christmas theme, the numbers "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" and a mixer "Jingle Bell Rock" will be featured.

Dancing will be from 8 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. with free refreshments. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langdon Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Rieck.

When Caroline Moves In

Toys to Mess Up White House

By ROSE MCKEE

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Soon to be dispatched to the White House . . . books . . . photographs . . . art works . . . and toys.

This is what is anticipated when John F. Kennedy, the president-elect, is inaugurated Jan. 20.

A look at the homes in which Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, the next first lady, has lived, suggests pretty much the "trappings" she will give the private family rooms of the Executive Mansion.

Home to Jacqueline Kennedy before her marriage seven years ago was "Merrywood," the estate of her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D.

2,000 at Yule Party for Children

Some 2,000 children, parents and staff and auxiliary members of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital celebrated at Tuesday's annual Christmas party for youngsters who have visited the hospital's clinic throughout the year.

Carol singers opened the program with "Silent Night" which was followed by a poodle act presented by Mrs. Sadie Hawkins. Nearly a year's intensive training was required to prepare the toy, miniature and french poodles to portray a mother and three small children making their first trip to the clinic.

Following a puppet show, the Jackie Rae dancers performed several numbers.

Mrs. Charles Colt played "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" on the piano and accompanied for carol singing. The McKelvey School of Practical Nursing choral group and the Sisters of Mercy 15-piece band sang and played selections requested by the audience.

A visit from Santa Claus highlighted the children's party.

The fete was concluded with the carol "Adoro Fideliter" sung by Ralph Lounds and Bert Dierkes.

Twenty-five members of the hospital's auxiliary poured the official Sister Mary Xavier's program committee and Marie Hickey, superintendent of nurses, assisted in planning the party.

Auchincloss. The estate is situated along the Potomac River in nearby McLean, Va.

There, in a spacious, three-story brick home she was surrounded by beautiful antique furniture, fine oriental rugs, books, portraits and photographs.

The home is furnished with discerning and imaginative taste that brought admiring remarks from guests at a recent tea. But it is by no means a home so polished and formal as to be stiff. It has the air of having been much lived in and enjoyed.

The living room, off a wide center hall, has books in recessed cases between the two big windows at each end. Portraits adorn the soft gray walls. There are family photographs on the small tables.

The living room opens to a semi-oval sun parlor overlooking a wide lawn, where trees run down to the Potomac. Books line the walls on either side of the fireplace.

But the outstanding homey features of this bright room are the numerous photographic albums heaped on a long table before a couple of the windows. The red and green leather albums are filled with snapshots of Jackie and other members of the family. Clearly, snapshots in this family are not something to store away out of sight but mementos to be enjoyed and looked at often.

On the other side of the wide hall are the dining room and an old-fashioned library.

AT GEORGETOWN

The Kennedys' own Georgetown home in Washington from which they will be moving to 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., reflects not only their interest in books but also Mrs. Kennedy's love of art. A recent visitor noticed that almost every table in the small, twin living rooms bore an art book. Hung on one of the champagne-colored walls was a collection of sketches by the 18th century artist, Verelst. Books on Spanish painting, on Renoir and on Degas were on the shelves flanking the fireplace. A small desk held Bertrand Russell's "Wisdom of the West."

A large seascape over the mantel and a small one nearby pointed up the president-elect's well-known love of the sea.

The decor of the Kennedys' white clapboard summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., was dominated last summer by the toys of their daughter Caroline.

3. So many toys were strewn about the house and yard one day that a newsmen wrote that the whole house looked like a cheerful nursery.

The table on the sun porch there bore copies of "Paris Match," "Art News," and "The Five Great Dialogues of Plato."

Hung at the foot of the stairs in the parlor was the water color Mrs. Kennedy did to welcome her husband back from his triumph at the Democratic National Convention.

Mrs. Kennedy likes to change the art in her home from time to time, replacing an old with a new piece.

Probably not all the Kennedys' favorite possessions will be moved to the White House, but it seems certain that Caroline will take all her favorite toys with her. She likely will have her own book shelf, too, as she has now on the lower part of a small table in the Georgetown living room. Noticed among her books recently were "Bunny Button" and "Early Alphabet."

The family's quarters in the White House seem certain also to carry out Mrs. Kennedy's belief that a home should be comfortable and attractive, but it should not have things around it that require one to say to a child, "Don't touch."

Play Bridge Games at Elks Temple

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening at the Elks Temple with eight tables in play.

Winners were Joseph Nousse and Al Waller; Mrs. and Mrs. Earl Waterman; Dr. Robert Segura and Mrs. Norman Keller; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sandelman.

Meet for Dinner

Ladies' Typographical Union No. 129 met for a co-operative dinner Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Plabbert on Lakeland Avenue, Sylvan Lake.

Mrs. Donald Barker of Menominee Road will be hostess for the next meeting Jan. 17.

Flatter Husband

NEW YORK (UPI)—One streetwise way to send a husband's ego into orbit is to force him you'd like a portrait photograph of him for Christmas. The newest fashion in portrait photos is direct color.

Santa Claus paid a visit to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Tuesday afternoon for the annual clinic children's Christmas party. Among the scores of youngsters who perched on the jolly old fellow's lap to whisper a wish was little Diana Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dixon of Tackles Drive. A puppet show and poodle act were added attractions for the children's wide-eyed amazement.

Fashionette Winner Is Mrs. Ristich

Mrs. John Ristich was trophy winner for the most weight lost during the week as Fashionette Club met Tuesday evening in Adah Shelly Library. Mrs. Peter Hernandez was last week's winner.

An award was presented to Mrs. Daniel Navarro for winning the monthly reducing contest. Guest speaker was Michael Fiorillo, teacher at the Fairlawn school for emotionally disturbed children at Pontiac State Hospital, who spoke on "Techniques in Training the Emotionally Disturbed Child."

Members donated Christmas gifts for the youngsters.

Mrs. Bert Hillock was named chairman of the nominating committee for election of officers Dec. 21. Mrs. Martinus Hanson and Mrs. Willis Schenckeburger are assisting.

Members will gather for a cooperative dinner and Christmas party Tuesday at the Shelly library. Mrs. David Cowan, program chairman, will direct activities as she will direct activities, assisted by Mrs. Bert Hillock, Mrs. Earl Bowens, Mrs. Wava Foraker and Mrs. W. C. Bordeaux.

Schluchter-Boston Vows Are Given

White satin bows marked family held a semi-cascade of white pews in Grace Lutheran Church for the Saturday evening nuptials of Marion Frances Boston and Larry D. Schluchter.

Attendants in red velvet sheath dresses, white fur headpieces and red shoes, carried white fur muffs topped with red carnations.

The Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer performed the ceremony before a background of white chrysanthemums. In the presence of some 300 guests.

Parents of the couple are the John T. Bostons of South Shore Drive, Watkins Lake and the Kenneth A. Schluchters of Silver Hill Drive.

Seed pearl applique enhanced the bridal gown of white nylon tulle. The bride wore her new Mrs. Schluchter's diamond navy blue sheer wool sheath dress necklace and engagement ring and for traveling to Florida.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State University. The couple will live in Lansing.

Mrs. Boston chose a beige brocade satin two-piece ensemble with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was pink sweetheart roses. Yellow roses complemented a royal blue tulle sheath dress and matching accessories for the mother of the bridegroom.

There are at least six specialized forest museums, some with arboretums, in Sweden.

Bride-to-Be Is Honored at Shower

Marjorie Jeanne Richards, daughter of the Ervin Richards of Seminole Avenue, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Tuesday in the Nichols Drive home of Mrs. Raymond Lingle. Cohostesses were Mrs. Ray McCoy, Mrs. Marvin Groat, Mrs. Myril Davis and Judy Yeager, all of Pontiac.

Decorations were teal and white, colors for the wedding.

Miss Richards is the bride-elect of former Pontiac resident Tom Lamp who is stationed in Washington, D. C. with the Navy. The couple will exchange vows Dec. 24 at First Baptist Church.

In addition to 32 Pontiac area women, shower guests included out-of-towners Mrs. Glen Ward of Lake Orion, Mrs. Kyle Wilson and Mrs. LaVaugh Braddock of Rochester, Mrs. Gerald Fordyce of Milford, Mrs. Gerald Shaffer of Davisburg and Marilyn Vidder of Royal Oak who will be maid of honor.

Nine Don'ts—and Dos

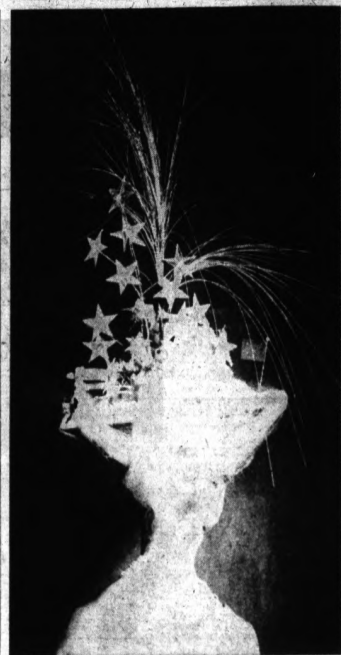

Avoid Make-Up Mistakes

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
 Make-up is a splendid beauty aid, but many women make mistakes in its application.

1. Women are sometimes careless about neck make-up. This should match your face make-up. Be sure to blend it down from your face to your neck so that there will be no dividing mark along the jawline.
2. Make-up which is too heavy emphasizes wrinkles. For this reason foundation and powder should be applied very lightly about the eyes and in any other areas which may have lines.
3. Rouge which is too low on the face is ageing because it creates a drooping appearance.
4. Care must be taken to carry make-up all the way to the hairline. If there is a space between the face and the hair, it is most unattractive. Work the make-up almost into the hairline. Then use a brush for any make-up which may cling to the hair.
5. Powder which is too white is ageing and unbecoming. Be sure that the powder you use is one shade darker than your natural skin tone.
6. Straight-line eyebrows are hard and trying. Never draw a line even if your brows are very thin. Fill out with little feathery strokes.
7. Do not overdo lip make-up. As a general rule it is best to follow the natural outline of your lips, compensating only a little for any defects. Some women paint on the most fantastic mouths. These may be smothering or blubbery or may look as though the owner is ready for a part in a play.
8. Beady eyelashes are most unappealing. Perhaps you use too much water on the little brush. It should just be damp.
9. Don't fail to powder brows after making them up with an eyebrow pencil. This banishes shine.

Be sure to blend make-up down from your face to your neck so that there will be no dividing mark along the jawline. Remember, make-up which is too heavy emphasizes wrinkles.

This elaborate hair design created by Betty LeCornu of West Huron Street is named "Alaska." Representing the new state, the fantasy sports an igloo based on an ice floe. The model's hair was dyed blue and swept up to represent water. The northern lights are suggested by colored strands that give the creation height. Also included are stars, the flag of Alaska and kayaks. Back from the state meeting of the Hairdresser's Assn., it will be used, according to its creator, as a holiday centerpiece (minus the model, of course).

By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice:

"I am planning to make a winter coat and noticed the collars on the ready-made coats are very soft and appear to have no interfacing whatsoever. I will appreciate your informing me if it is necessary to put any kind of interfacing in between the top and bottom layers of the collar? If one should be used, what is the best type? Also, what is the best interfacing to use down the front pieces of the coat?"

Mrs. H.J.K.

I would say that interfacing is absolutely essential for any type of garment if it's to retain its shape. You will notice that no matter how old a man's suit it, the lapels, collars and fronts still retain their original shape. This is because the right type of interfacing was used.

If you understand tailoring, you may use a soft, pliable, hair-canvas in suits or coats. Hair canvas must not be applied in the seams but must be attached to cotton tape, the cotton tape is then stitched in the seams.

If you don't understand how to apply hair-canvas, it would be better to use a loosely woven type interfacing. This is dry cleanable and washable, and will retain its shape.

"Dear Eunice:

"I would like to line the back of a skirt, but I don't know what to do with the lining in the pleat. Also, please tell me whether I should make the darts in the lining and the skirt together or separate?"

Mrs. E. L.

When cutting the lining for the skirt, allow only 1/4-inch beyond the center back seam. Do not cut the lining the full width of the pleat.

Make the darts in the skirt and the lining separately and then baste the lining to the skirt at the waistline and the side seams. If you are lining the skirt to the hemline, open the seam of the lining the complete length of the pleat.

If you have a back zipper, leave the center back seam of the lining open the length of the zipper. After the zipper has been applied to the skirt fabric only, turn the seam allowance on the lining and hand-stitch the edge of the lining to the zipper tape.

"Dear Eunice:

"The lock at the top of skirt zippers is so large that I have a hard time stitching the zipper in a straight line. It usually curves out where the lock ends. Is there another way of doing this?"

Your fan

I personally prefer a 7-inch neckline zipper for skirts because you will find the zipper is smaller and the tab or lock is also much smaller. For children's clothes, slacks or shorts, the regular skirt zippers would be best because of the extra strength.

If you will pull the lock of the zipper down a few inches when you are machine stitching near the top, you will be able to stitch a straighter line.

"Dear Eunice:

"My daughter is narrow through her shoulders. I would appreciate instructions on how to alter the bodice to remedy this situation. The sleeves of the garment are too low on the upper arm."

Mrs. L. McC.

Making the shoulders narrower is a rather simple alteration. I hope all of you who have written me this same question, will keep the answer for future reference.

Estimate the exact extra width you wish to take off. Make a fold in your pattern between the neck and the armhole. This fold should be no more than 3 inches long and should taper at the end. In most cases, this should be done in the front and the back of the shoulders. Never change the shape of the sleeve.

Because patterns are standardized, you may make the same adjustment in all patterns as soon as you have determined the exact shoulder width you need.

Maple Leafers in Yule Fete

Mrs. Vivian Tubbs opened her home on Tubbs Road Friday to members of the Maple Leaf Club for the Christmas luncheon. Hostesses were Mrs. Erwin Rogge, Mrs. Harold D. Babb, Mrs. William Hendard, Mrs. Everett Harris and Mrs. W. F. Fuller.

Guests were Mrs. Evert Lindgren of Farmington and Mrs. Robert Shorey of Wrentham Drive.

Hostesses for the Jan. 27 luncheon in the Hotel Waldron will be Mrs. Stuart Townsend, Mrs. William McCure and Mrs. H. J. Endries.

Candles Light Wedding

Two Christmas trees decorated in red and white graced the chancel of the First Baptist Church for the Friday evening vows of Nancy Ruth Attwater and Edward F. Justin Jr.

The bride's uncle, the Rev. George R. Kennedy, recently returned from the Belgian Congo, performed the candlelight ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli, carnations and red poinsettias.

The George E. Attwater of Inverness Drive, Sylvan Lake, were the hosts at the church reception, greeting some 350 guests. The bridegroom is the son of the Edward F. Justin, Lake Orion.

The bridal gown of white satin was styled with fitted bodice and chapel train. Venetian lace, re-embroidered with sequins and seed pearls, accented the sweetheart neckline and was repeated in a tulle which held fingertip veiling of silk tulle.

Cultured pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and a white Bible topped with white roses and stephanotis, completed the bride's ensemble.

Attending the sister-in-law were Mrs. Rodney Attwater, honor matron, and Mrs. Russell Attwater, serving as bridesmaid with Mrs. Douglas Brown, Dianne Meyers and Marjorie Justin, cousin and sister of the bridegroom.

White net headpieces with velvet bows complemented their ballerina-length dresses of red tulle. They held white muffs topped with red carnations.

Cathy Attwater, niece of the bride, and Peggy McCurdy, cousin of the bridegroom, wore white tulle dresses accented in red tulle and red carnation headbands. They carried baskets of red and white carnations. Jeffery Harroun and Jeffery McElrath carried the rings.

On the esquire side were Douglas Brown, best man; with Clinton Harroun, Darrell Crandall, cousin of the bridegroom; Raymond Att-water, brother of the bride, and Marshall Causbie, serving as usher and groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Attwater chose a sheath dress of gold sheer wool and brown accessories. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in mint green brocade satin and white accessories. Both mothers wore brown cymbidium orchids.

The newlyweds will be at home on South Johnson Street.

Annual Tea Held by Church Women

The Episcopal Church Women of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church met for their fourth annual Christmas tea Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Martin on Brainerd Road, Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Carl Zuber was cohostess. Members brought gifts for Pontiac State Hospital patients. New members were welcomed at the event.

'Reel' Clever

NEW YORK (UPI)—Is there a fisherman on your gift list? If so, surprise him with a gift wrapped in fish netting.

How? Save a mesh vegetable bag, wash it in hot soap or detergent suds to remove all traces of its former contents. Then use it as wrapping over a plain paper background. Tie on a couple of plastic bobbers or a big cork instead of a bow and you'll have an eye catching package.

Suds to Snow

NEW YORK (UPI)—Little drops of water in little bowls of sponges make a dream come true for dreamers of white Christmases. With "suds-snow" you may produce your own snowdrifts in the corners of windowpanes.

To create an old-fashioned effect on modern picture windows, just attach black construction paper or friction tape to form the outlines of small early American window panes. With a wide paint brush or a long-handled spoon, drift on suds-snow by whipping up several cups of packaged soap or detergent with a little water. Beat with a hand or electric mixer until the suds have the texture of stiff meringue. That's when suds become snow!

Union and Confederate forces counted 205,000 killed in action in the Civil War. U. S. battle dead during World War I totaled 58,500.

PERFECT CHRISTMAS ORNAMENT

Firmly believing that no man-made bauble should ever replace the charm of a pretty girl, we have two delightful ideas on the subject:

A sprinkling of silver-dust sprinkled on your waves while the spray net is not quite dry! will add a festive touch.

No Use Trying to Make Over Your Lover

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mary was suffering from a depression involved with a frustrating love affair. She consulted a psychoanalyst.

For several weeks the doctor, gard of promises, his jealousies, listened to her complaints about and militant devotion to his mother. He said little as she described the lover's indecisive count of her afflictions. He said:

Entranced with dancer Sally Birnkrant's interpretation of "The Little Fir Tree's Christmas Wish" are Maureen and Kathleen Halpenny of Lewis Street. The dance is part of the Christmas program touring art institutions and will be presented publicly without charge to area children Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at Showcase Exhibit Center in Birmingham.

"Last week I went to a cocktail party. I wasn't hungry and I don't like caviar. But my hostess kept pressing me to eat her caviar. Finally she tried to push me into my mouth. I left the party. My hostess was trying to change my tastes for me under the guise of hospitality."

Mary stared at him. Finally she said: "You are telling me that I have been trying to change Ted's tastes under the guise of loving him."

Her doctor replied, "You said it. I didn't."

Several months later the young woman became happily engaged to another man.

That story is for a Mrs. T. who writes: "Our son has just broken with the girl he's been going with. We are relieved because she has made him so unhappy. She seems to have enjoyed keeping him upset and jealous. But though she's openly dating other men, he is still in love with her..."

Or still insisting that he can change her from what she is into what she doesn't want to be. We can, I think, be too sympathetic with lovelorn children.

It is the lovelorn person's problem that he imagines his anguish to be caused by thwarted affection. Actually, as the psychoanalyst of this column suggested, it is more often caused by thwarted aggression.

When we hover over our lovelorn child with anxious sympathy, we delay his arrival at this truth. We are condoning his anger at his inability to change his beloved and force her to feel a hunger that she doesn't feel.

When we stop sympathizing to question the virtue of his angry pinning, he may respond with astonishing relief. If he's got any good sense left, he'll jump at the chance to be done with his impossible task.

Kaye Newlin Is Honored by Shower

Kaye Newlin was honored at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon in the Warrington Drive home of Mrs. Norbert Capistrant.

Miss Newlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Newlin of Oliver Street, will marry Darryl Brustle, son of the Emil Brustles of Dover Road, Feb. 11.

Mrs. Robert Newlin will attend her sister-in-law as matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Mrs. George Gogodan of Cal. raga, Nancy Fry of Mt. Clemens, Mrs. James Patterson and Mrs. Capistrant.

Besides the attendants, shower guests included Mrs. A. C. Ish, Mrs. Leslie Ferguson, Mrs. Joseph Krantz, Mrs. Egon Walser, Mrs. William Petruska, Mrs. Abel Capistrant and Mrs. Dallas Folsom.

Others honoring the bride-elect were Mrs. Carl Leedy, Mrs. Lewis Wint of Clarkson, Mrs. Newlin and Mrs. Brustle.

Club Hears About Meaning of Yule

The New Sylvanites exchanged gifts at a Christmas party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert B. Smith on Woodland Avenue.

Mrs. Thomas White gave a reading on the "True Meaning of Christmas." Holiday customs in other lands were related by Mrs. Rex Bailey, for merry of France, and Mrs. Robert Smith who has lived in Germany.

The Jan. 5 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Raymond Graham on Garland Avenue.

December Born?

NEW YORK (UPI) — A choice of two birthstones, each with a background steeped in ancient legends, is offered for those born in December. The gems are the turquoise and zircon.

The American Gem Society reports that both gems have histories leading back to distant lands and early civilizations. Even today, there are people who believe that the turquoise will bring success in love and money. The zircon was used in medieval times as a cure for plague and other ills.

About 12 million motor trucks are in use on America's highways, according to some industrial surveys.

Japanese Like Naming of Rusk and Bowles

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Foreign Office sources today noted the Asian links of Dean Rusk, secretary of state-designate and the man picked for undersecretary, Chester Bowles, and suggested the appointments may mean more attention by the United States to the problems of this area.

"Both have long experience and deep understanding of the problems of Asia," said one official. "Therefore, we welcome the appointments by the new administration since they indicate the U. S. government's coming emphasis and concern over Asian problems."

Rusk's role as an assistant to John Foster Dulles in drawing up the 1951 peace treaty with Japan makes him a familiar figure among Asian policy makers.

Rusk's problems here may be eased by his personal friendship with Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda, whom he entertained as Japanese finance minister in New York three years ago.

Katsuo Okasaki, foreign minister in the days when Rusk was helping draw up the U. S.-Japanese Peace Treaty of 1951, said: "Mr. Rusk knows about Japan, he is realistic and thinks carefully before acting. He should make an ideal secretary of state."

Rusk's selection crowded all other news out of top place in most Tokyo newspapers.

There was obvious satisfaction both in official and unofficial circles in Formosa that neither Sen. J. William Fulbright nor Bowles had been given the top post.

Tao Hsi-shang, a senior advisor to President Chiang Kai-shek, described Rusk as a level-headed moderate who would fulfill the post of secretary capably.

In South Korea, Foreign Minister Chun gii-hung hailed Rusk's appointment and said, "Mr. Rusk has many acquaintances in Korea, his record has been excellent."

LADY LAWFORD AT WORK.—Lady Lawford, mother of actor Peter Lawford, displays a piece of jewelry Monday at a jewelry store in Beverly Hills, Calif., where she has started work as a clerk. Lady Lawford said she took the job at $50 a week plus commissions, to increase her income for the holidays. Friends say her English pension amounts to $32 a month and that she receives $150 monthly from Peter, who also pays the rent on her home.

Barry Blames Dems for Idle

Says Platform Has Aggravated Economic Decline in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., claimed Tuesday that Democratic platform promises are partly to blame for the nation's unemployment rise.

Goldwater, a leader of the GOP conservative wing, added that President-elect John F. Kennedy's "hesitation" in naming his cabinet and other key personnel has "aggravated the economic decline."

Goldwater issued a statement after the Labor Department reported that November unemployment hit 4,813,000, the largest total for the month since World War II but little changed from the October figure.

"From the day last July that the Democrats promised the moon in order to court voting bloc, confidence in the healthy progress of the American economy has been declining," Goldwater said.

"Business activity has been increasingly sluggish, investments have been made at a slower rate, and as a result of these concrete indications of serious concern about the reckless economic proposals of the Democrats, unemployment has continued to grow."

Goldwater said the voters are expressing a lack of confidence in the Democratic economic programs "in the only way left to them—by curtailing, rather than expanding their economic activities."

"It is obvious that pressure groups, without whose votes Sen. Kennedy could not have been elected and who were largely responsible in forcing the adoption of the Democratic platform, are now demanding delivery on these reckless spending proposals," Goldwater said.

Only about 30 women out of 100 go to the grocery store equipped with a shopping list.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three young men who work in the San Francisco Bay area learned Monday their fathers had landed new jobs.

John Fell Stevenson, 34, who lives in San Francisco and works for a real estate firm, said, however, "Dad would rather have been secretary of state."

But Stevenson said the post of ambassador to the United Nations, Adlai E. Stevenson's new assignment, is a "good job."

Chester Bowles Jr., 32, and architect who lives in nearby Tiburon, said his dad, the new undersecretary of state, is "primarily interested in our policy in underdeveloped countries."

And David Patrick Rusk, 20, a junior at the University of California, was pleased to learn that his father Dean Rusk will be secretary of state in the next administration.

Then David went back to his own job—cleaning garbage cans at a sorority house.

Trees to Help Pay for 2 School Buses

Waterford Township area residents can help pay for the two new preschool school buses by purchasing their Christmas trees from the Dad's Club, according to Robert Brazier, chairman.

Our Lady of the Lakes' dad's have hundreds of trees for sale in the lot just south of the church on Dixie Highway near Waterford. Each has been cut from nursery stock.

All proceeds will go for paying for the school buses, Brazier said.

Woman Halted by Snow Delivers Her Own Baby

LANCASTER, Pa. (U) — Mrs. Harry Ros, 27, delivered her own baby boy in the front seat of a snowbound auto on a deserted country road in subfreezing weather Thursday while her husband "prayed and kept her hands steady."

Ros had started out from his rural home to the community hospital in Ephrata, 10 miles away. But before he got very far his auto became buried deep in a heavy snow drift in front of neighbors' homes.

Ros summoned two neighbors to the middle of the night. One of them got out a tractor to pull the car free. The tractor ran out of gas before it could do anything. The two neighbors and Ros shoveled frantically to free the car.

"We would just get the car free and get it going for a few feet and it would slide into another snowbank," Ros said. "About 2:30 a.m. my wife called to me and told me the baby was coming."

"I got in the front seat with her while the two other men kept right on shoveling. She was the bravest woman I've ever seen. She didn't even whimper."

"When the baby came she held it up, smacked it on the bottom and it began to cry. I never felt so helpless in my life. All I could do was pray and try to keep her warm."

"After the baby cried she ripped the fringe from a bed spread with her teeth and tied the cord. I gave her my jacket, wrapped her and the baby in the bedspread and went back to shoveling."

The three men shovelled along the way for 5 1/2 miles until they finally got the car onto the main road. There they met state police, civil defense officials and a paramedic who had been summoned by Mrs. Ros' mother, Mrs. Viola Ursprung. Ros had called her by phone earlier from one of the neighbors' homes.

The state police and the others who came to help couldn't get into the back road.

Finally, after four hours the baby, born two months prematurely, arrived at the hospital. He was immediately placed in an incubator. Doctors gave him a 50-50 chance of living. Ros said the boy, named Joseph, weighed a little less than three pounds.

The Ros couple had another premature child that died.

Car License Tabs Selling Faster Than Last Year

Sale of 1961 automobile license plates and tabs is running ahead of last year in Pontiac, according to Willie M. Brewer, Pontiac branch manager of the Secretary of State's office.

Brewer said today that 8,500 plates and tabs have been sold so far, 1,000 more than at this time last year.

Brewer reminded Pontiac area motorists that they must present their car title when obtaining new tabs or plates.

Plates and tabs can be purchased weekdays at the Pontiac branch office, 96 E. Huron St., through the Feb. 28 deadline.

Pick Lawyers to Handle Highway Condemnations

LANSDING (UPI)—Seven lawyers will be sworn in today as special attorneys general to handle highway condemnation matters, Atty. Gen. Paul I. Adams said.

Adams said the special assistants were selected at strategic locations throughout the state where highway matters need attention.

Ponder Moving Traffic Light

City Manager to Ask Saginaw-Mt. Clemens Signal Be Switched

City Manager Walter K. Williams will ask the State Highway Department to move the traffic signal from Mt. Clemens and North Saginaw streets a block north to Warren and Saginaw.

He told city commissioners last night that the highway department will approve the move if the city eliminates meter parking on the west side of Saginaw, Oakland and Huron.

With one exception, commissioners approved the switch, mainly to provide a new pedestrian crossing.

It was reported that downtown studies showed more pedestrians wanted to cross Saginaw from west to east at Warren than east to west at Mt. Clemens.

It was Commissioner Wesley J. Wood, who represents the area east of Saginaw, who opposed the change.

The highway department eliminated the Warren Street signal a year ago to a move to smooth the flow of traffic on Saginaw (U.S. 10). This meant there was no pedestrian crossing in the long, two-block shopping area between Mt. Clemens and Oakland.

Williams believed that North Saginaw signals could be timed to allow a pedestrian crossing at Mt. Clemens, even if the traffic signal is moved. He said a pedestrian crossing signal could be installed to signal crossing when traffic was clear.

He said the west lane of North Saginaw had to be free of parking in order to provide for a left turn lane at Mt. Clemens.

The Downtown Merchants Association favors the switch.

Frosty, the Newsman Reporter in Cold Storage

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—If reporters were horses, the Humane Society would be filing suits against the next president of the United States.

For the hottest news beat in the country today is on cold feet, like one of the coldest spots on earth.

It's standing outside 3307 N. St. Kennedy, on a windy, snowy sidewalk with the temperature far below freezing.

With one exception, commissioners approved the switch, mainly to provide a new pedestrian crossing.

Tuesday's cold set a record for while it's hot, she even keeps Dec. 13 here as the mercury climbed only 10 points from its early low of 11 degrees.

From time to time Kennedy comes out, smiles cheerfully at the frigid reporters and makes some news-like who's going to be the next secretary of Defense.

PLAY BY PLAY

To get the feel of the thing, shiver by shiver, let's bundle into all heavy clothing available. Thus fortified, let's try to decipher notes jotted down as visitors scurried in and out Tuesday through the now famous door.

10:45 a.m.—Arrived full of vim but nothing but icy stars from other reporters, some of whom had been on the job since shortly after dawn.

10:50—Feet begin to feel a trace of chill.

11:12—Ralph Bradley, president of the Illinois Farmers Union, came up. Seemed sure the next secretary of agriculture should be from the Midwest.

11:41—Feel really cold now. Rep. Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, hurried up. Seemed sure the next secretary of agriculture should be from the South.

11:53—Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's news secretary, came up. "You tell your boss," one reporter said, "that anyone who leaves Palm Beach for this isn't fit to be president."

"I'll tell him," Salinger said, grinning, hurrying into the warmth.

11:58—Paid first visit across street to home of Helen Louise Montgomery, who deserves a life and statue in the National Press Club. She's thrown open her quaint, old-fashioned front room and made it a press room.

FRIEND OF PRESS

Delighted to be so close to news seemed colder than ever.

Fulkerson Gets Highway Post To Head Condemnation in County as Aide to Atty. Gen. Adams

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams today named Birmingham attorney George J. Fulkerson as a special assistant attorney general to handle highway condemnation matters in Oakland County.

Fulkerson, 34, Democratic candidate for prosecutor Nov. 8, was one of eight Michigan attorneys named by Adams to help in increased land condemnation during the state highway-building program.

There are seven others already engaged on a part-time contract basis, a highway department spokesman said.

Fulkerson, of 3011 Middlebury Lane, Bloomfield Township, was sworn in as an assistant attorney general at 1:30 p.m. in Lansing today along with the seven other attorneys.

Adams said Fulkerson will be assigned to Oakland County condemnation cases.

The Oakland County Democratic Committee endorsed Fulkerson Monday night for the federal patronage job of U.S. district attorney in Detroit.

Officer for Hitler Named to Head NATO Committee

PARIS (UPI)—West German General Adolf Hoesinger, a general in the Hitler armies, has been named chairman of the permanent military committee of NATO, it was announced Tuesday.

The election was announced as top NATO leaders began a secret review of Western preparations to meeting the Soviet bloc's mounting nuclear and to conventional ballistic missile strength.

The announcement said the chairmanship is held for a two-year period with a possible extension period of a year.

He will succeed Gen. Benjamin Hasselmann of the Netherlands army in March 1961 when Hasselmann will have completed a three-year term.

'Ten Commandments' Is Top Film in Britain

LONDON (UPI)—"The Ten Commandments" was the most popular American motion picture shown in Britain this year, the trade newspaper "Kinematograph Weekly" said today.

The paper said the picture was the top money earner, but said British films constituted 65 per cent of the leading earners.

Storm Dumps 12 Inches of Snow on New Mexico—Moscow 'Too Warm'

By The Associated Press

Slowly, painfully, the Eastern United States, still gripped by an unrelenting arctic cold, dug itself out Wednesday from the worst autumn storm in its history.

As it did so, a new storm hit New Mexico and spread across the Southwest.

The toll of storm-related deaths passed 225, and the cost in lost business and in the expense of snow removal ran into millions of dollars.

The cold, which ranged into the below-zero regions in some areas, had a cruel companion: The wind.

It stung the faces of motorists trying to dig out from streets still littered with abandoned vehicles.

It blew the snow's fine powder into electric-train engines and stalled motors, and it covered ordinary objects with drifting snow and turned them into strange, white shapes.

As millions chopped at ice and shoveled snow, it was no comfort to read that in Moscow, normally one of the loveliest cities of the world, the citizens were complaining because unseasonable warmth had ruined the usual skating and skiing.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered out the State National Guard to help clear abandoned vehicles from New York City's snow-clogged streets.

SOUTHWEST SOCKED

In the Southwest up to 12 inches of snow fell in the high mountains of New Mexico, and snow was general in a belt across West Texas from the Panhandle to the Big Bend country.

In the Panhandle the fall was generally six inches or less and in some places was mixed with sleet and rain. The big Eastern storm had started in the Southwest.

On the Eastern seaboard no relief from the subzero cold was in sight, although some moderation was predicted during today and Thursday.

New York City and the other great Christmas shopping centers of the East suffered grievously from a lack of customers. New York counted the loss in several millions, and department store managers said they doubted they could recoup the lost sales before Christmas Day.

Police Hoping to Get at Root of These Thefts

Christmas tree thieves are sprouting up in Pontiac.

Eleven trees were reported stolen from a lot at 369 Oakland Ave. and one from a lot beside 741 N. Perry St., Pontiac police said today.

Q. For months our two kittens have remained the same size with only their stomachs growing. They are now four months old. I would like to know what can be done. Catherine Brocklin, Pittsford, N. Y.

A. The symptoms you describe suggest that your kittens have worms. When a kitten is heavily parasitized, the worms take all the nourishment out of the food which prevents its body from growing.

The worms will also cause an inflammation of the stomach and intestines which makes the abdomen swell and protrude.

From your description, this condition seems to be pretty far advanced and leads me to believe that other factors, such as anemia or bone disease, may have set in. It is essential that your kittens receive immediate veterinary attention.

TV Education to Go Airborne

Pupils of Six Midwest States Awaiting First Lessons From Plane

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI) — More than 500,000 pupils in six Midwestern states are waiting to tune in the first lessons ever televised from an airplane, a survey shows.

Statistics gathered by the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction, based at Purdue University here, showed plans to preview the course in early 1961 and 16,500 TV-equipped classrooms.

The experimental project will bring instructional courses on video tape from an airplane, flying high over Indiana to classrooms throughout the state and in parts of Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Dr. John E. Levy Jr., program president, said "the totals far exceed our expectations." He said the early 1961 program was a "tryout period" designed to allow schools to test the signal and educational content of the program prior to registering in full-time academic courses in September 1961.

Levy said the "overwhelming majority (98 per cent) of expected pupil participants are in elementary schools."

During the demonstration period they can choose one or more of eight programs offered at that level, he said.

Four high school level courses and two at college level will also be offered, Levy said.

The project is supported by funds from foundations and private industry.

The aircraft will operate from Purdue University Airport.

Logallarde Comes Out of Hiding in Madrid

MADRID (UPI) — French paratrooper Capt. Pierre Logallarde, alleged leader of last year's anti-De Gaulle rebellion in Algiers, emerged from hiding Tuesday and conferred with other advocates of a French Algeria.

Logallarde fled here from Paris where he was on trial for leading the "Battle of the Barricades." He met with three other fellow defendants who joined him in the flight to Spain, Jean Maurice Desmarquet, Jean Jacques Sautel and Marcel Ronda.

Cure for Elm Disease . . . Well, No Such Thing

LANSING (UPI) — There is no quick cure for Dutch elm disease, an incurable blight which has attacked Michigan's major shade tree for many years.

Word was spread in recent months that zinc-coated nails driven into an elm could cure the disease, but State Agriculture Department officials discount this as an old wives' tale.

"Sanitation is the only means recommended at this time for checking spread of the disease," said G. S. McIntyre, director of the department. "This calls for one to two spray applications a year to eradicate the responsible beetles."

Dutch elm disease started taking its toll of elms in Eastern Michigan, officials said, and spread in recent years to some areas in the central and western part of the state.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture experimented with various compounds in an attempt to discover the cure for the disease, McIntyre said.

Zinc chloride was among those tested as long as 25 years ago, but the fungus was not killed and the experiments did not indicate any practical value of zinc chloride for control of the disease.

Dutch elm disease kills its victims by choking off food supplies with a fungus growth that gains entrance to the elm on the bodies of European bark beetles. In some eastern states where the disease first took hold several towns were bereft of elm trees.

Officials believe if the disease was allowed to run its course, over half the elm trees in afflicted areas would be lost within a matter of a few years.

Spokesmen in the State Agriculture Department's plant industry division emphasized there is no cure for the disease and no absolute signs for detecting it.

McIntyre said there were many saloons circulating "sure cures" for Dutch elm disease throughout the nation.

None of the cure-alls which were brought to the attention of experts in the field proved effective for control or elimination of the disease.

Second School Millage Vote Jan. 21 in Utica

Hope to Draw Big Turnout for Operational Tax Ballot

By DON FERMOTTE
 UTICA — The Utica Board of Education has set Jan. 21, a Saturday, as the date it will hold a second election on a five-mill operational tax proposal.

School Supt. Fred M. Atkinson said the school board scheduled the election for a Saturday in hopes of drawing a larger percentage of voters to the polls.

The operational millage proposal was defeated in a May election Dec. 5, when only 20 percent of the eligible voters in the Utica Community School District cast their ballots.

However, a $3.98 million bond issue for construction of five new schools in the district was approved by a vote margin in the same election.

Atkinson said the school board, the Citizens' Committee on Schools and the Building Needs Council will be campaigning for passage of the millage proposal.

The school superintendent emphasized that the operational millage requested by the school board would be used to increase the district's present operational millage levy.

School operation currently is supported by a three-mill levy, he said, but the tax expires this month.

Therefore, Atkinson explained, three of the five mills being asked for operation are only a continuation of the present levy.

The actual increase in taxes would amount to two mills, which the school board says will be necessary to maintain the five new school buildings when they are opened.

Atkinson announced that Smith and Smith Associates of Royal Oak will handle the architectural work on the new buildings.

SCHEDULED FOR '61
 The Royal Oak school has handled architectural work in the school district for the past five years.

Scheduled for construction in 1961 are a 20-to-22-room elementary school and two other elementary school buildings approximately half that size.

Another full-sized elementary school and a combination elementary-junior high school will be begun next year.

If the operational millage is not approved, the Utica district may be faced with the problem that exists in other Southern Michigan communities.

Bond issues for new school buildings and additions were approved in two Oakland County districts, Hazel Park and Berkley, but voters defeated operational millage requests in both places.

A similar situation exists in Wayne County's Dearborn Township where a new school building, which was scheduled to be opened in September, is not being used.

School officials there say they are unable to hire teachers to staff the school because of a lack of operational millage.

Many students in Hazel Park are attending half-day sessions because of the lack of operational funds.

Betty MacLachlan Weds

LAKE ORION — Now residing at 150 Heights Road, are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. James E. Shaffer, Jr. who exchanged their nuptial vows in a recent ceremony at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Royal Oak.

Officiating at the rites was the Rev. Herbert Bartz.

The bride, the former Betty T. MacLachlan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. MacLachlan of 175 N. Ashford St. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James E. Shaffer of 616 Long Point Drive.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of white lace over tulle with a round neckline and pointed, wrist-length sleeves.

A lace bow held the veil of silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was made up of white chrysanthemums and pink roses.

Honey Raymond was maid of honor and Carole Daniel served as bridesmaid.

Best man for his brother was Gerald Shaffer. Another brother, Robert, and Gene Miller were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Walled Lake Voters to Decide Feb. 13 on 4-Mill Operating Levy

WALLED LAKE — Voters in the Walled Lake School District will be asked in a special election Feb. 13, to renew a four-mill operating tax, Supt. Clifford H. Smart said today.

Continuation of the special millage will not increase the current tax levy, Smart pointed out.

He added that all voters in the district will be allowed to cast ballots.

Smart explained that extension of the four-mill operation tax is necessary because the current levy will be discontinued at the end of the school year.

APPROVED IN 1957
 The present four-mill levy for day-to-day operation of the schools was approved by voters in 1957 for a four-year period.

The proposed levy also will terminate in four years.

The four-mill brings approximately $100,000 into the school district annually, the superintendent said.

The Walled Lake School District has a total operating levy of $14.12 for each $1,000 assessed valuation. This includes $8.12 allocated by the county and another $2 special tax voted by the people several years ago. The additional two-mill levy will expire in two years.

Smart said the special four-mill represents 28 percent of the total school budget.

School district voters last went to the polls in June.

At that time they approved a $200,000 bond issue for site improvements.

The superintendent said the bonds, which will be used to finance athletic field improvements and pave school parking requests in both places.

A similar situation exists in Wayne County's Dearborn Township where a new school building, which was scheduled to be opened in September, is not being used.

School officials there say they are unable to hire teachers to staff the school because of a lack of operational millage.

Wolverine Lake Council to Re-Examine Offers on Village Office

WOLVERINE LAKE — Construction bids for a new village office will be reviewed a month before the council takes any definite action on the proposed building.

Tentative plans call for the construction of a one-story, cement block building on village-owned property at Glenary Road and Municipal Drive.

The proposed village hall, which was designed by several consultants, includes a large meeting room, lobby, reception room and three offices. An attached garage for municipal vehicles is also planned.

Six bids have been received on the proposed project by the council. They range from $32,130 to $41,312.

The building would be financed with money already allocated in a special fund.

The council has not committed itself yet to any one plan. Recommendations on the bids, however, will be made at the Jan. 9 council meeting.

The site of the proposed village hall is two blocks west of the present offices, located in a store building at 291 Glenary Road. The office space is now rented.

Intervention Specter Dims Latin Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department says the United States and other Western Hemisphere nations would have to intervene if a border dispute between Ecuador and Peru flares into open warfare.

Press officer Lincoln White said such action was mandatory under the Inter-American Dispute Treaty.

Therefore, he said, it was "inconceivable" that either of the two countries would resort to force.

To Present True Aims of Advent

ROCHESTER — The true meaning and significance of the Advent season will be the theme of two programs to be presented this weekend at St. Paul Methodist Church, 632 Romeo Road.

The annual Christmas party for the beginners and kindergarten departments of the church will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Christmas carols and stories will be presented in addition to two films, "The Littlest Angel" and "When the Littlest Angel Came."

A program entitled "Carols from Other Lands" is scheduled by the church's primary and junior departments at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Following a presentation of Yuletide music, the children will present a living tableau of the manger scene at Friendship Hall.

Refreshments will be served after each program.

400 to Greet Him in Walled Lake

Santa's Comin' to Town!

WALLED LAKE — Over 400 children are expected to turn out to greet Santa when he arrives here Saturday to take Christmas gift requests and distribute candy.

Santa will be on hand to personally greet each and every child between 10 a.m. and noon at the Walled Lake Junior High School on Pontiac Trail at Maple Road.

Last year Santa decided to try something a little different in coming to Walled Lake and was ready to attempt a parachute jump into the heart of the city when inclement weather set in.

To preserve his dignity and avoid the chance of falling in the Lake, the Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce, the sponsors of Santa's visits, talked him into arriving by his normal mode of travel, sleigh and reindeer.

This year he will be greeted by officers of the Chamber of Commerce and driven by car to the school entrance.

Republican Club to Offer State of Officers for '61
 ORION TOWNSHIP — A slate of officers for the coming year will be presented at tomorrow night's meeting of the Orion Republican Club at the township hall, 571 S. Broadway.

Ernest R. Crawford, club president, reminds township residents that petitions for the February primary election must be filed with the township clerk by 4 p.m. Jan. 2.

The club's nominating committee prepared the slate of officers to be submitted at the 8 p.m. meeting.

Village of Milford Mulls Licenses for Peddlers

MILFORD — An ordinance to control peddlers and solicitors in the village is being considered by officials here.

The council has directed the village attorney to gather further information to propose a license for door-to-door salesmen. A fee, as yet undetermined, would be charged for the permit.

The proposed ordinance would make it mandatory that peddlers be fingerprinted to insure proper identification. Special badges would be issued to the salesmen once they are licensed.

Stiles School Pupils Set Music Programs

AVON TOWNSHIP — Pupils at Stiles School will present two musical programs, one at 7 p.m. and another at 8, in connection with their school fair Friday.

Called "Christmas Junction," the fair also will feature entertainment by several students from the Laverne Dance Studio, Madison Heights.

Other attractions will be Mrs. Santa's Shop where handkerchiefs will be sold. Santa's Kitchen which will be filled with baked goods and the Elver's Sweet Shop for patrons with a sweet tooth.

The fair, sponsored by the Stiles School Parent-Teacher Association, will be open from 6 to 9 p.m. A boot and shoe exchange will be carried on throughout the evening.

Giant Underground Plant

NORDBAUSSEN, Germany (UPI) — The largest underground factory ever constructed was the Mittelwerk Factory, near Nordhausen, south of the Harz Mountains. It was built with concentration camp labor during World War II and had a floor area of 1.2 million feet.

The rugged and beautiful Sawtooth Mountain region, in which Mittelwerk was built, is a spectacular 70 peaks that tower more than 10,000 feet.

On Hazel Park Millage

School Vote Fraud Charges to Be Filed

HAZEL PARK — A formal complaint, charging "fraud" in connection with a school election held here Monday, will be filed next week with State Atty. Gen. Paul Adams.

Donald S. Locke, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Financing Education, said he notified the attorney general by phone yesterday of the charges.

Locke's citizens' group backed a five-mill operational tax increase which was defeated for the third time this year in Monday's election. The issue failed by 28 votes.

Locke said he is charging possible fraud involving one of the voting machines located in the Ford Elementary School precinct.

"The machine was not operating correctly and it may have been tampered with," he said. "We are also checking on discrepancies on six or seven machines in the precinct."

The citizens' committee chairman said the total of "yes" and "no" votes cast in the election did not tally with the number of voters who used the machines.

Locke also is claiming that a group called the Parents-Taxpayers Association of Hazel Park distributed "scurrilous campaign literature" two or three days before the election.

'MISLEADING' LITERATURE
 He said the literature was "misleading and untrue."

Locke reported that a formal complaint will be drawn up when he meets with Board of Education President Harold Neher, School Supt. Wilfred Webb and his attorney, Donald A. Brown, former assistant Oakland County prosecutor.

"The meeting will be held as soon as we get all of these people together, probably Tuesday," he said.

Locke said the attorney general told him that an investigation of the election will be started immediately if there is sufficient evidence of irregularities in the election.

A manufacturer's agent, Locke is the father of eight children, five of whom are attending school in the Hazel Park district. He and his family live at 2075 Symes St.

He said many parents in Hazel Park are angry over the expected cutback in the school district's program. First graders in Hazel Park now are attending half-day school sessions.

If the requested operational millage is not approved, school officials say a new school bus line here last year may be closed.

Locke said the Ford precinct was one of the areas where the millage proposal was defeated.

If the alleged fraud can be proved, he said the results of the election could be reversed.

Kennedy Avoids Political Controversy by Picking Able and Respected Aides

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy has spoken about picking a Cabinet like a man determined to avoid a brawl before he has a chance to start his presidency.

None of his four Cabinet appointees so far is a controversial figure.

None therefore is likely to get much opposition or criticism from liberals or conservatives in the new Congress next year—at least in the beginning.

Kennedy filled the spot which could have caused the biggest rumpus with an adroit but not spectacular figure, Dean Rusk, head of the Rockefeller Foundation as secretary of State.

Rusk in the past held several government jobs—the highest an assistant secretary of State for Far Eastern affairs under President Truman—but handled himself unobtrusively. To the public he was generally unknown. He had to be adroit to be on that Far Eastern desk in 1950 and come through unscathed when Sen. Joseph McCarthy was belaboring the State Department for its handling of Far Eastern affairs, particularly in China.

HE'S GOT BRAINS

Rusk is esteemed for brains by people who know him. Since he's a quiet operator, he and Kennedy will have the advantage of starting out in foreign affairs with at least a period of peace and quiet.

He'll get his share of brickbats later, which is per for the course for secretaries of State.

The story would have been different if Kennedy had given the No. 1 foreign policy job to Adlai E. Stevenson, who is a hero to some but not to all. Kennedy must have joined the Stevenson admirers Monday when he made it clear he didn't think their man was the best one for the secretary's job anyway.

He said he thought Rusk the best man available that the United States can get.

The slot Kennedy picked for Stevenson — ambassador to the United Nations — can hardly cause a fire in Congress or elsewhere. In the United Nations Stevenson will not be making American foreign policy. He'll just be expressing it.

Kennedy reportedly had considered several men for the job before finally giving Rusk. Stevenson, Chester Bowles and Sen. William Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, among others.

HARDEST CHOICE

Apparently he did his greatest soul-searching in the case of Bowles. Monday, he gave Bowles the State Department's No. 2 job as undersecretary, which puts him at Rusk's right hand.

Bowles, a liberal, a Connecticut congressman and former governor, had a fine record as ambassador to India under Truman and as administrator of the Office of Price Administration during the war.

He was Kennedy's foreign policy advisor during the presidential campaign. But his part in shaping the liberal Democratic platform far from endeared him to some of the conservative members of his party.

There might have been some sharpshooting at him right from the start if Kennedy had named him secretary instead of the non-controversial Rusk. As undersecretary Bowles will be in a position to move up if Rusk ever leaves.

None of Kennedy's other three Cabinet appointees has been in any broad public dispute and has no backing of ill will to carry into his new job with him.

Those three are Connecticut Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff as secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; Stewart L. Udall, Democratic congressman from Arizona as secretary of the Interior; and North Carolina Gov. Luther H. Hodges as secretary of Commerce.

All three of them, like Bowles, were active Kennedy supporters during the campaign. Still Kennedy can't be accused of picking his key men to pay off political debts.

Satchmo Thinks About Adopting African Baby

PARIS (UPI)—Trumpeter Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, freshly recovered from an exhausting 20,000-mile tour of Africa, is considering adopting an African baby, a spokesman said.

Up and about after his doctor ordered him to bed when he flew in from the Ivory Coast last week, "Satchmo" today was sipping up his horns for a month of filming on the new American movie "Paris Blues."

Asked about reports that Armstrong would adopt one of the numerous African children he had seen during his two-month tour, a spokesman said the entertainer was "relaxing about it" but had thus far taken no action.

Armstrong and jazz band leader Duke Ellington attended a party in their honor Tuesday night with the stars of the movie "Paris Blues," Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward and Sidney Poitier.

After the Paris film commitment, which calls for a great deal of trumpet playing, Armstrong plans to return to Africa for another two months as a State Department good will ambassador.

Election Certificates Mailed Out by State

LANSING (UPI)—Certificates of election were mailed Tuesday to Michigan's 20 presidential electors and others who won state or national offices in the Nov. 8 election.

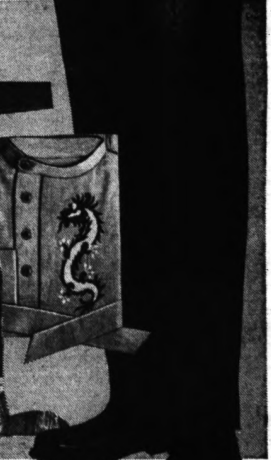

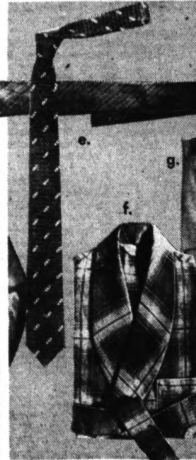

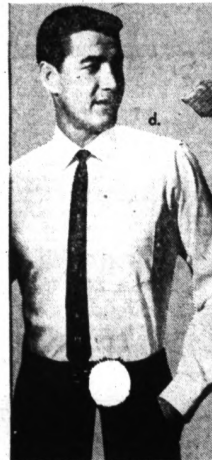

Secretary of State James M. Hare said the traditional certificate was sent to those judged as elected by the State Board of Canvassers.

Newly elected officials who failed to turn in a statement of their campaign expenses will not receive the certificate until the report is filed, Hare said.

The state's presidential electors are scheduled to meet Monday to cast the state's vote for president.

Thirteen presidential candidates have been elected with a popular vote of less than 30 per cent of the total votes cast.

Northern Has Trouble Beating Lakers

Huskies Gain
62-52 Victory;
Skippers Lose

Southfield and Berkley
Take Whippings; I-L
Starts Friday

By CHUCK ABRAH

Pontiac Northern starts defense of its Inter-Lakes championship Friday night at Waterford after not being too impressive in two warmup triumphs.

The Huskies had to rally in both halves to whip teams not expected to give them much trouble. West Bloomfield was the victim last night 62-52 at the PNH court.

Northern had a pair of 19-point quarters and pulled away in the second half but never put together too much good basketball in the wild. After a 11-11 tie at half, Northern 31-11.

Despite the troubles PNH has been having, things have seemed even worse for their I-L rivals. Waterford dropped its 2nd straight at Dearborn 61-41. Southfield showed little in a 63-33 beating at Hazel Park and Berkley was belted by Ferndale 74-41 in other games last night.

There was more running, scrambling and foul shooting than basketball at Northern. Officials George Gary and Maurice Stack called a total of 49 personal fouls and one technical which resulted in 66 charity throws. Gary whistled three double fouls in a span of 80 seconds.

The home team had a slight edge in the first half, leading 20-10 at the 10-minute mark. The Lakers converted 20-for-31 as the Huskies converted 10-for-23. Four Huskies fouled out.

The visitors used a zone defense with success in the last half after leaving much to be desired first in a regular man-to-man and then in a tight press.

West Bloomfield played some of the worst basketball of the young season but could not keep despite the efforts of Bob Sims and Chuck Christensen. They had 15 and 10 points, respectively. Jim Luciani also hit 10.

The Huskies got off to a 5-0 lead with only 2:07 gone, sinking 4 of 5 shots but failed to get that lead again. The rest of the game, Steve Thompson tallied three straight to help start things battling back from a previous 1-for-14 night.

After Thompson's 3rd goal, the Lakers quit throwing the ball away and started firing it through the hoop rallying for nine successive points to go ahead. They led 15-13 at the end of the quarter.

The difference got as high as six in the 2nd period before PNH began showing some life again — on offense at least. The count was tied five different times in 5 minutes before the hosts pulled in front 32-29 at halftime on a Dennis Harbert foul and Thompson goal.

Northern was in command most of the 2nd half, leading 45-38. Six straight points by Sims got a margin of eight to two with 1:27 left in the game. The Huskies missed the shot and the edge and clinched the issue with reserves Ed Walsh and Marty Everett accounting for the last 9 points.

Thompson totaled 16. Norton, who has hit 11 of 20 free shots thus far, had 13 and Mike Fedynik 11. Northern shot 32.8 per cent on field goals to the losers' 30.2.

Waterford had 10 different scorers but only Ed Stigers with 14 and Dave Goff with 11 could get more than 4. The Skippers rallied to tie at 16-16 in the 2nd quarter but fell behind again 26-19 at the half. Fordson pulled away steadily after the intermission. Jerry Chandler was the big noise for the winners with 26.

Hazel Park led Southfield 26-18 at half and kept rolling as Gary Davis and Bob Merchel hooped 10 apiece. Joe Andrews topped the Jays at 7. Berkley took a 16-10 early lead but Ferndale soon took charge dominating the backboards. Larry Tregoning of the Bulldogs and Bear Gary Hoover scored 18 each.

Troy Bombs Rochester, Avondale Wins Squeaker

It looks like Coach Peyton Goodwin has found the winning combination he has sought for Troy since opening with a disappointing one record in the Oakland "B" Conference.

Going against non-league foe Rochester at home last night, Goodwin put a revamped lineup on the floor and the frisky Colts romped to a 51-29 triumph.

Six-foot-five center Hank Alkin, who survived the shakedown, hit consistently with an arching hook shot which the Falcons couldn't defend and led the way with 20 points.

The new faces in the lineup accounted for most of the rest of the scoring. Racking up 21 points about equally were new starters John Reynar, sophomore John Denison and junior Vern Bauer.

Veteran Rich Billings collected eight and sixth-man Pete Davidson sank the last field goal in the final minute.

Troy started with a hot 17-0 first quarter but cooled off in the second and led by only 16-10 at the half. But then Alkin hooked in two quick goals beginning the second half and the Colts raced to a 35-23 third-quarter lead.

The Falcons sagged to a single point output in the fourth as Coach

Gene Kinsley shuttled in every player from the bench. In the meantime, Goodwin didn't signal for a substitution until three minutes were left to play as he gave the new combination a thorough workout.

Dan Bled scored 11 points for Rochester before sitting out the final quarter, and Phil Kwitter made eight, all in the early minutes when the Falcons made their best showing. The loss was Rochester's third in four starts.

Avondale won a squeaker while Lake Orion was losing again in Oakland B games last night. Utica wallbanged 40-45-45-45.

Lamphere edged Clawson 67-63 in overtime. Orionville bowed to Flint 66-63 in overtime and Dearbornville tripped Inley City 62-54 in other games.

Avon was ahead by 8-5 early but wound up stalling out the clock to triumph 45-43 at Madison. The Eagles kept cutting the difference down until they got within two with two minutes to play.

The Yellowjackets went up by four and started to stall but missed a floor shot and foul and Madison scored again before a final "three" did the trick. Jim McDonald paced the winners with 20 points hampered by a sprained finger. He missed 12 of 18 free throws. Jerry Matteson got 17 in defeat.

League favorite Orion dropped its 2nd loop game in three starts at Fitzgerald, 46-43. Baskets by Tom Reed and Busby Craven, who had 14 each, with 1:30 to play, gave Orion a 16-9 lead. Craven cut a six-point deficit to two for the Dragons but Spartan ace Duane Pisarek followed with his last four of 23 points to wrap it up.

Startling statistics show that Lake Orion made five more field goals and took 62 floor shots as only 39 for Fitzgerald yet lost due to a 16-9 lead shooting free throw advantage for the winners.

Utica had an impressive debut as unheralded senior Dave Kraft tied the school record set in 1952 with 37 points featuring 17 baskets.

Utica jumped ahead 16-6 and never slowed down. Vaughn Monroe garnered 10 for Romeo. Phil Freer scored four overtime points in the Lamphere upset. He scored 15 following Dan Resili's 24. Dode Shoup had 23 for Clawson.

Orionville blew an eight-point edge in the 4th quarter and then saw Utica snap a tie with five quick points to pull away in the overtime. Bob Hutchings paced the Black Hawks with 23 and Bob Hickey named 13. Inley trailed most of the way after leading 14-13 at the quarter. Doug Perkins and Terry Ignasiak gathered 12 for the Spartans.

Lapeer rolled over Flint Kearsly 66-33 for its first victory of the season. Center Dick Scherwin tossed in 25 points for Lapeer.

The 6-1 senior had 14 field goals and seven free throws. Lapeer has a 1-2 record.

KEEP AWAY — Chuck Christensen of West Bloomfield holds the ball out of reach of Pontiac Northern's Mike Fedynik. The PNH player seems surprised that the ball is no longer where he is looking. PCH won, 62-52.

North Carolina Upset by Kentucky Quintet

By The Associated Press
Kentucky no longer is the college basketball power it was in the good of days, but the Wildcats can still pull one out of the bag once in a while.

They did Tuesday night, turning back favored, previously unbeaten and fifth-ranked North Carolina 70-65, trailing 27-38 at halftime. The Wildcats roared back in the second half behind the slick shooting of Ned Jennings and Bill Lickert.

It had to be a good night for at least one other Kentucky school because Louisville and Western Kentucky were matched in the finals of the Bluegrass tournament, the first major journey of the season. Ninth-ranked Louisville was 86-71 to lift its record to 7-0. Utah State settled for third place by downing Georgia Tech 67-62.

Cincinnati showed it can win without Oscar Robertson while West Virginia did the same with out Jerry West. Both All-Americans were lost through graduation. The Bearcats beat Loyola of Los Angeles 74-53 and West Virginia ripped Richmond 75-72. Cincinnati had won four games and lost one while the Mountaineers are 3-2.

Kentucky's fine free throw shooting was the difference against North Carolina. The Wildcats hit 28 of 34 and had a stretch of 18 straight at one stretch in the second half. Jennings scored 19 in clinching field goal.

In other games, VMI's Keydets, led by Norm Halberstadt's 27 points, whipped Virginia for the first time since 1913. The score was 75-63. Marquette overcame an early 17-point deficit to turn back Wichita's Shockers 83-79.

Oklahoma City posted its fifth triumph in a row, 65-34 over Baylor. Tulsa dominated Arkansas 64-39 and Jerry Graves had 28 points to lead Mississippi State to a 98-75 triumph over Spring Hill of Mobile, Ala. Southern Methodist topped Oklahoma 67-61.

In the Quantico, Va., tournament, the host Quantico Marines walloped Atlantic Christian 79-59. American University slipped Buffalo 67-63. Jacksonville (Fla.) routed St. Michael's (Vt.) 100-49 and Belmont Abbey shamed Philadelphia Delta 66-44. All were first round games.

Chisox Win Fielding Title for 4th Time

BOSTON (AP)—The wide-ranging Chicago White Sox won the 1960 American League fielding championship—their fourth in five years—official league statistics show.

The official figures were released Wednesday after months of checking and rechecking. The White Sox, who also took the team title in 1956, 1957 and 1958, edged Baltimore's young Orioles by a hair, 3019-3017, for this year's crown.

The White Sox had two individual leaders and another—Nellie Fox—missed out by a single point.

Little Luis Aparicio compiled a 979 average, leading the shortstops for the second straight year, while Sherman Lollar led the catchers with .985. Lollar, who was second in fielding last year, made only three errors in 522 total chances.

Fox, the White Sox sparkling second baseman and the leading fielder at that position a year ago, had a .985 average, one point under Boston's Pete Runnels, the league's leading hitter.

In addition, the White Sox led the league in doubleplays with 175. Slick Vic Power of Cleveland paced the first basemen for the second year in a row. He made only five errors in 1,227 chances and came up with a .986 average. He also led first basemen in assists with 140 and participated in the same number of doubleplays.

Roy Sievers of Chicago and Jim Gentile of Baltimore tied for second behind Power, each with a .980 mark.

Brooks Robinson of Baltimore topped the third basemen with a .980 mark.

Hillsdale Withdrawal Expected Tomorrow

DETROIT (AP)—Hillsdale College officials will hold a news conference in Detroit Thursday morning, and likely will announce that the school has decided to drop out of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

The feeling of the official family at the college is that it is better to sever all connections with the league than to take the two-year suspension handed Hillsdale by MIAA presidents last week.

Dr. J. Donald Phillips, president of Hillsdale, and E. C. Hayhoe, Hillsdale's publisher and spokesman for the school in athletic matters, will meet with newsmen along with football coach Frank Maters.

Deer Management Fight Scheduled Next Month

By DON VOGEL

Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press

Critics of Michigan's deer management program are busily sharpening their knives in hopes of cutting the project to ribbons early in 1961.

Up to now this group has always been a minority. But the deer season which just ended may have swelled the ranks of opponents to a majority. A drop in the kill of about 30 per cent over 1959 has left a majority of the hunters blaming the "any deer" seasons.

Whether the opponents have gained the upper hand or those who favor the conservation department's program are still in control should be determined during the next session of the legislature. The lawmakers convene in January.

At least two members of the house have indicated that they will carry the fight to the floor if necessary in an attempt to get the management program taken out of the hands of the conservation department.

A conservation club near Gladwin is circulating petitions to do away with "any deer" shooting. An organization is being formed at Cadillac for the same purpose. One Upper Peninsula supervisor was applauded by his fellow county lawmakers for claiming the department has "ruined our deer herd."

The conservation commission last week backed the program. But the commissioners did agree that nature had helped balance the deer herd and its range with a couple of severe winters.

Unless this winter is so mild that more deer and fawns pull through than expected, the 1961 season will have only acres of heavy crop damage open to taking does, fawns and bucks.

The battle lines are drawn. The legislature will be the scene of the first round next month.

This writer has some observations on the coming clash:

1. Michigan's conservation department is one of the best in the nation. It has top experts in every field.
2. The state legislature hasn't been able to cure Michigan's fiscal ailments. This might all change with a new leader guiding the administration. Until the state's money problems are straightened out, can the legislature hope to solve the deer problem if it decides to take the management program away from the experts hired to do the job?
3. "Any deer" seasons have been a success in other states. Pennsylvania conservationists had a long and difficult fight convincing hunters that deer management was the answer. The taking of antlerless deer in that state is now an accepted part of the program. New Hampshire, Maine and Wisconsin have proved "any deer" seasons can be successful.
4. In the not too distant future, "No Trespassing" signs will be seen on all land except that owned by the state in the northern Lower Peninsula.

This will mean 75 per cent of those hunting in these areas will have to be content to shoot on state lands. The remainder will have large tracts of land almost to themselves. Most of these club hunters will be successful the first week.

With the club hunters gone, deer will pour into the private areas where they will be safe from the hunters who chased them off state property.

Most hunters agree that deer taken during the season just ended were in much better condition than in the past. This means more food, resulting in a balanced diet.

Now, here are some questions for the conservation department:

- Why were the estimates of this year's herd too high?
- Why do the experts have to wait a year and a half to determine the 1959 crop of bucks?
- Couldn't many of these young bucks been killed off during the 1959 "any deer" season when only half grown?
- Why did violations show a high increase this year even though the conservation department had more men afield than ever before?
- Are there more deer in southern Michigan than the estimated 50,000?

Conservation department estimates have always been questioned by a small minority. Now that the experts have admitted they were wrong this year, this group has gained added support.

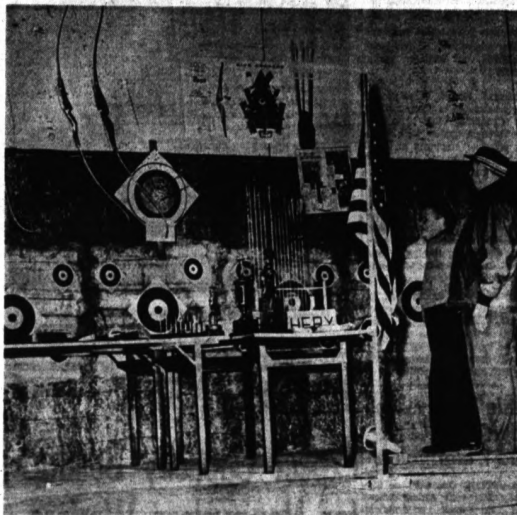

The legislature will probably uphold the conservation department's deer program. If it doesn't, conservation in Michigan will suffer a major setback.

In other states where the legislature has taken conservation measures out of the hands of the experts it hires for the job, the damage has taken years to repair.

With recreation becoming a bigger part of family life in Michigan, this state cannot afford a setback in any phase of its conservation program.

TARGET RANGE — The archery display in the new indoor range building at the Oakland County Sportsman's Club was one of the features of last Sunday's open house. Looking over the display are Frank Brooks (left) of 1024 Durant St. Pontiac, and OCSA Archery Club member, and Ed Kuder, 8219 Waterfront Dr., Waterford, a life member of the archery club. The 10,000-sq.-foot cement block building will be used primarily for archery and pistol shooting.

NICE CATCH — Mrs. Frederick D. Schimble, 5601 Highland Rd., Pontiac, needs help to hold her catch, a 4-foot, 2-inch sailfin. She also caught the 31-pound walleye. Helping Mrs. Schimble is Capt. Eric Krusen of Fort Arthur, Ont. Both catches were made 15 miles southeast of Key West. She is staying at Marathon Shores, Fla.

Skiing Gets Into Blood

A survey of some 300 skiers at a Michigan resort showed most persons of the winter sport were females.

Ducks in Distress Having Good Time

Residents at the south end of Williams Lake became concerned last Saturday when a group of 14 mallards looked isolated in a small area of open water surrounded by the ice.

These ducks, although wild, have become pets of people living in the area. They arrived last spring, and residents have been supplying the webfeet with food.

The ducks could be seen splashing about in the water. Some residents became alarmed, fearing that the ducks might be trapped and eventually freeze.

Saturday afternoon, five mallards could be seen walking around the water hole or preening themselves on the ice. Others were swimming and splashing about, while still others were taking a nap.

Ducks often congregate in open water when the freeze-up starts. The north half of Williams Lake was open water. These ducks probably picked the small hole of water because it was near the area where they had been receiving handouts.

Ghost Town Is Restored

LANSING (UPI) — The preservation of one of Michigan's few ghost towns as it stood "way back when" is a prime concern of the state conservation department.

The old iron smelting town of Fayette, on the eastern edge of the Upper Peninsula's Big Bay De Noc, is in the process of being restored to the condition it was in when it was developed and prospered in the 1850's.

Department officials hope to protect the recently-established state park site from signs of modern civilization.

The townsite, on a land parcel of 102 acres, was purchased by the state two years ago in a land exchange with the Escanaba Paper Co.

Preservation and restoration of the ghost town in Delta County was given a big boost this summer when a Detroit firm donated funds to hire a part-time historian to conduct research on the townsite and iron smelting center.

In recent years the old town was used by fishermen and squatters as a dumping place, but conservation officials have put a stop to this practice and plan to maintain strict watch over the townsite to preserve its historical value.

Cut at Bald Mountain

Illegal Christmas Trees

Four red pine Christmas trees will be adorning homes illegally this month.

The trees were felled next to the Bald Mountain trout pond sometime Friday night. They were from five to 12 feet high.

"The thing that burns us," said Bill Freeburg, manager of the Bald Mountain recreation area, "is that the trees were put in by the fish division for landscaping purposes."

"If the trees had been taken from the back area, we probably wouldn't have spotted it so quick. No matter where they were taken from, the cutting of trees on any state property is against the law."

The penalty for cutting trees or any other acts of vandalism on state lands, according to Freeburg, is a $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both. The offenders are also charged costs of triple the fair market value of the property taken or damaged.

"If anyone sees an act of vandalism in process," said the manager, "all they have to do is take down the license number of the car and turn it over to conservation department officials. We will do the rest."

Freeburg reported that the Bald Mountain area was hard hit by vandalism last weekend.

"We think one group is responsible," he said.

Bounty System Discussion Set by Fox Hunters

A joint meeting of fox hunters this Saturday will discuss the state use of hunting license money for the payment of bounties.

The Michigan State Fox Hunters Assn., the Metamora Hunt Club and the Bloomfield Hunt Club have organized the meeting. It will be at 8 p.m. in the Metamora city hall.

Ray Schofield, game biologist with the Conservation department, will give the department's views on the bounty payment plan.

Members of clubs other than the three already mentioned are invited to attend this meeting, according to Cliff Hicks, a member of the MSPHA board of directors.

Nebraska Cagers Outclass Denver

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska jumped into a 13-0 lead in the first minute Tuesday night and then went on to trounce Denver 77-32 in an erratic basketball game.

Nebraska Coach Jerry Bush used all of his 12 players and all of them got into the scoring column. Five by the field goal route, Jim Kowald led the Huskers with 16 points on five field goals and 6 of 7 free throws.

Rick Barrett and Tim Vesle led Denver with 22 points each.

Expecting 550 Entries for Annual PKC Show

Premier trials and entry blanks for the annual Pontiac Kennel Club's All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience trial are in the mails.

About 550 entries are expected for the Jan. 22 show, according to PKC president Edmund A. Kraft. The show will be held in the basement of the Pontiac Retail store, 63 Mt. Clemens St.

Licensed by the American Kennel Club, the show will be unadvised. This means that entries do have to be kept in the building until the show, is over.

The best-in-show trophy will be awarded by The Pontiac Press.

A trophy will be awarded to each winner in the variety groups by PKC Ribbons and other prizes.

Embarrassed GM Is Still Hunting for Grid Coach

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Disclosure of a secret meeting between Coach Ara Parseghian of Northwestern and the National Football League's Minnesota Vikings' top executive left the Vikings embarrassed today and still hunting for a coach.

"I regret that Mr. Parseghian is put on the spot because he is under contract to Northwestern University," said Vikings' General Manager Bert Rose.

"It surely is no reflection on that school or Mr. Parseghian that we have conducted talks. We are seeking the best man available and will leave no stone unturned."

Parseghian, the popular and imaginative young coach who has been at Northwestern since 1956, came into town—unannounced Tuesday and met with Rose at a suburban country club.

Utility Official Heads U. of M. Alumni Fund

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Alphonse H. Aymond Jr., board chairman and chief executive officer of the Consumers Power Co., Jackson, has been elected chairman of the University of Michigan alumni fund for 1961.

The choice of the alumni fund board of directors was announced by U. of M. President Harold Hatcher.

Aymond succeeded Harris D. McKinney, Philadelphia advertising executive. Mrs. Stuart M. Weaver of Mansfield, Ohio, will serve as vice chairman of the fund next year. U. of M. Vice President Wilbur K. Pierpont was re-elected treasurer.

In addition two Michigan residents have been named to the fund's executive committee. They are John D. Hibbard of Grand Rapids and Herbert P. Wagner of Ann Arbor.

The International Assn. of Fire Chiefs estimate that about 2,000 children die every year as a result of fire in the home.

Informed Sources Say:

Negroes, Liberals Forced Jack to Bypass Fulbright

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Strenuous objections from liberals and Negroes persuaded President-Elect John F. Kennedy to drop any thought he might have had of naming Sen. J. William Fulbright as secretary of state, according to informed sources.

Some sources said Fulbright was Kennedy's first choice for the job. But other sources equally close to the Kennedy camp said the senator merely was one of several leading contenders.

Kennedy bypassed the Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and gave the State Department post to Dean Rusk, 51-year-old president of the Rockefeller Foundation and a career diplomat.

The sources said Kennedy's original intention to appoint Fulbright ran into sharp opposition from many of Kennedy's advisers.

Negro groups and the liberal wing of organized labor. One notable opponent was Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

Reuther was said to have devoted more attention to blocking the Fulbright appointment than to secretary.

The chief objection apparently was that Fulbright, along with most Southern members of Congress, signed the so-called "Southern Manifesto" objecting to the 1954 Supreme Court ruling against school segregation.

The opponents argued that the appointment of "the senator from Little Rock" would arm the Russians with new propaganda ammunition against the United States in Africa and among colored peoples of other lands.

Some of Kennedy's advisers added that Fulbright's appointment would be unpopular with some Jewish groups who have contended that he is pro-Arab.

In addition to sidestepping this controversy, Kennedy managed to placate large segments of his campaign supporters by assigning other top foreign policy posts to Rep. Chester Bowles, D-Conn., and Adlai E. Stevenson, two-time Democratic candidate for president.

Bowles, author of the ultra-liberal 1960 Democratic party platform, was named undersecretary of state. Stevenson, who has wide backing among rank-and-file Democratic voters, accepted the post of American ambassador to the United Nations offered him last week.

Two Republicans Quit Kent County Committee

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Two Kent County Republican Committee leaders Tuesday announced they are leaving their posts after long service to make way for new talent. Attorney Robert C. Howlett resigned as chairman and George Moritz is leaving as committee treasurer.

Each has served at least four years. Howlett's successor is expected to be named at an executive committee meeting next Monday.

School Probe Is Advocated

Report That Economic Pressure Was Used to Block Integration

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Herbert Zelenko, D-N.Y., has called for a congressional investigation into reports that economic pressures have been used to block integration in Southern public schools.

Zelenko charged in a special report submitted to the House Labor Committee that pressures were brought against both white and nonwhite employees and employers, including the weapons of coercion and boycott.

The report said this was among the problems that "virtually cry out for exposure and legislative reform." It suggested they should be one of the chief targets for investigation by a proposed House labor racket committee.

The report was prepared at the request of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., Negro lawmaker who is in line for the chairmanship of the House Labor and Education Committee when the 87th Congress opens next month.

Little Danny Dies After Yule Gifts and Watermelon

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The plucky boy with cancer who wish for fresh watermelons touched thousands of hearts, is dead.

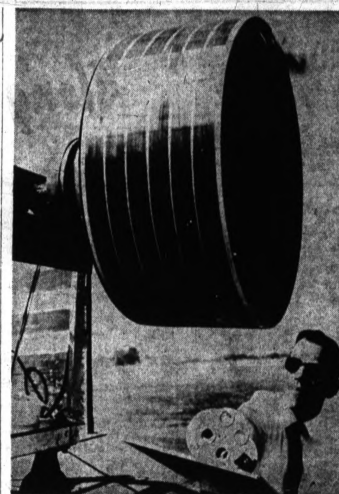

Little Danny McDougald, 6, of Bluffton, S. C., took a turn for the worse at home Tuesday and died after an hour after arrival.

Danny had been in and out of hospitals since September when doctors discovered he had cancer of the lymph glands.

Early this month the youngster told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McDougald, that he wanted a watermelon from Honduras.

His request reached as far as Miami, Fla., where Mayor Robert Daniel ordered a watermelon flown from Honduras.

Danny enjoyed the watermelon just as he did the Christmas presents that were given him ahead of time.

COMMUNICATIONS SATELLITE — Whirling on a test bed at Culver City, Calif., is this new lightweight communications satellite which could be used to span the Atlantic Ocean with hundreds of telephone circuits and direct television transmission. The satellite, 22 inches in diameter and weighing 33 pounds, could be placed in stationary orbit 22,000 miles over the equator and link North and South America with Western Europe and Western Africa. It was developed by Hughes Aircraft.

Expect Capacity Buildup for Nonnuclear Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration taking office next month appears certain to put heavy new emphasis on building up the capacity of the United States and its Allies to fight limited, nonnuclear war.

Both President-elect John F. Kennedy and his prospective secretary of State, Dean Rusk, are on record in favor of strengthening this capability.

The task will fall primarily into the hands of Kennedy's newly designated secretary of defense, Robert S. McNamara. The president-elect announced here Tuesday that he had chosen the Ford Motor Co. president for this position. The announcement followed by a day his designation of Rusk for the State Department job.

McNamara's views on specific defense policy problems, and strategic needs remain to be developed. But assuming that policy making will follow the National Security Council procedure developed during the past decade, the basic decision will be made by Kennedy primarily on the advice of his secretaries of defense and state.

The issue of capability to wage limited war had developed sharply in recent years as critics of the Eisenhower administration and the massive retaliation policy enunciated by the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles argued that the United States was relying far too much on the power of nuclear bombs and missiles for its defense.

The views expounded by Kennedy and Rusk are in line with the contention that excessive reliance on the enormous destructive power of nuclear weapons might make the United States and its Allies unwilling in some new crisis to use force at all in defense of the free world. Such unwillingness, according to this argument, would permit Soviet or Red Chinese or Communist satellite forces to chip away at free world territory by a series of small military steps.

In a speech in October 1959, reprinted in his book "The Strategy of Peace," Kennedy cited the need for increased conventional weapons capacity. "We must provide funds," he said, "to augment, modernize and provide increased mobility and versatility for the conventional

Order Recount in 34 of Hawaii Precincts

HONOLULU (AP) — A ballot recount in 34 of this island state's 240 precincts will be made in response to Democratic charges of irregularities in the close presidential election.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was certified the winner over President-Elect John F. Kennedy by a margin of only 141 votes. Circuit Court Judge Ronald B. Jamieson, in ordering the recount Tuesday, said he will order a complete recount if enough irregularities are disclosed.

Toledo Teachers to Get Pay Hikes in January

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Teachers in Toledo's schools will receive pay raises of up to $356 a year on Jan. 1.

The board of education has approved a new salary schedule which raised the starting salary for teachers with a bachelor's degree from $4,180 to $4,600 a year and increased the top salary from $6,656 to $7,400.

Teachers with master's degrees will have a top of $7,800 a year, compared to the present $6,864.

State Police Ending Radiation Training

EAST LANSING (AP) — State troopers will complete training in radiation detection, and detecting equipment will be distributed to all posts this week, says State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Childs said the completion of training gives the department about 500 men schooled in detection techniques.

Childs said also Michigan has some 14 state police-operated atomic warning posts, and a 15th operated by the South St. Marie Police Department.

Clipper of Canines Adds Beauty to Neighborhood

Has Jamproof Missile Trigger

Air Research Chieftain Unveils Control System for New Minuteman

SEATTLE (AP)—A virtually jamproof, sabotageproof underground radio system for triggering Minuteman intercontinental missiles was disclosed Tuesday by Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever.

Schriever, head of the Air Research and Development Command, said the radio-launch control system was devised for the deep silos soon to begin pitting America's Northwest.

"But there appears to be no technological reason why a similar system would not be just as practical for Minuteman trains," he said.

Schriever spoke to 50 United States railroad executives, here to get their first look at a full-scale mockup of a Minuteman launch train.

The demonstration was at the plant of the Boeing Airplane Co., prime contractor for Minuteman.

Eventually 450 of the solid-fuel ICBMs are to be stored in silos across the Northern tier of states, 150 are to be carried on trains shuttling almost constantly over the nation's railroads.

This mobility, Schriever said, will force the enemy "to the un-economic position of having to expend many minutes for every one of ours he hopes to destroy."

The Air Force has previously estimated that 10,000 missiles would be needed to immobilize the U.S. Minuteman train fleet by wrecking its tracks.

Schriever said the underground radio-launch system, by eliminating costly networks of cables between silos and control centers, would save about $300,000 per missile.

"We are convinced it is practical," he said, adding that "the system, as we are devising it, will represent a virtually jamproof communications network which is also highly invulnerable to sabotage."

Schriever said the system consists of a network of antennas buried a few feet underground adjacent to each control tower. The

Segregation in Africa Goes Underground

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI)—South Africa has launched "underground" apartheid (segregation)—separate pedestrian tunnels for whites and coloreds. With the completion of a second subway connecting the Salt River station outside Cape Town with the large Salt River railway work-shops, white and nonwhite workers started marching from their trains to work benches through separate tubes.

Inside the workshops they still labor side by side. In another government move to

No Boost in Oranges

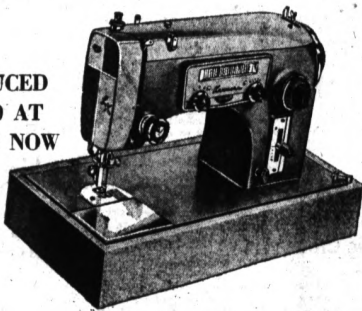

NEW YORK (UPI)—Most frozen orange juice brands are expected to remain low in price despite hurricane damage to the Florida fruit crop. Florida's orange crop for the year starting Dec. 1, 1961, is estimated at 90.5 million boxes, only 1 per cent below this year.

Reuther Testifies on Rights

'Detroit Still Has Bias'

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Detroit has come a long way since its violent race riot of 1943, but racial progress in the motor city has been uneven since then, Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, said today.

Reuther, in testimony for delivery today, told the opening session of a two-day public hearing by the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights that "there has been considerable resistance to an open housing market in Detroit and its suburbs, and segregated housing has bred segregated classrooms."

"Notwithstanding the progress we have made in expanding job opportunities to members of our union through basic seniority and promotional provisions in our contracts, buttressed by the enactment of a Michigan fair employment practices law in 1955, this city and the nation have yet to achieve the kind of fair employment climate in which members of minority groups can enjoy equal opportunity at the hiring gate."

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Michigan's outgoing Democratic governor after an unprecedented tenure of six terms, said, in prepared remarks, that "the world image of the United States... has been tarnished by the denial of the human rights of our citizens."

AMONG FIRST

Reuther and Williams, the first Michigan governor to have a Negro Cabinet member and to appoint a Negro judge, were among the first of an estimated total of 20 to 30 witnesses called to testify.

The six-member commission said it would deal with public education today and with housing and administration of justice Thursday.

A commission spokesman said the purpose of the hearing was not to deal with civil rights complaints from the area because "there... have been sufficient complaints to justify hearings on those grounds."

City Physicians Plan $800,000 Building

Plans for a three-story $800,000 office building for doctors in the Pontiac General Hospital area were disclosed today by the architectural firm of Eroh and Friedman.

The building is being financed by a group of 25 Pontiac area physicians, all of whom plan to occupy offices in it, said Jack S. Friedman, a partner in the architectural firm.

Friedman said construction is scheduled to begin in the spring. The four-story site is on the east side of South Johnson Avenue, south of Huron Street and directly opposite the hospital.

This spot is just south of another site picked for another doctor's office building, also in the planning stage.

The 25 doctors have formed a company called Pontiac Medical Building, Inc., with Dr. H. F. Kendrick as president, Dr. Ralph Wigent, vice president, and Dr. Arthur Weaver, secretary-treasurer.

Friedman said his firm has been retained by the company and is now in the process of preparing construction plans.

He said the present plan calls for a three-story curv-type building, with heating and air conditioning equipment contained in a penthouse.

Friedman said the 22,000 square feet of office space now contemplated would be mostly devoted to the offices of the doctor-owners, but added that some space is being set aside for a pharmacy and rental professional offices.

"Detroit just happens to be the first of the Northern cities with a large Negro population where the commission plans across-the-board hearings," he said.

A report will be prepared and submitted to President John F. Kennedy next September.

In his testimony, Reuther hit out at the Eisenhower administration. He said "the great power of the American presidency is its potential for moral leadership."

Williams, President-elect Kennedy's choice for assistant secretary of state for African affairs, said Michigan had made improvements in the field of civil rights.

Aunt's Gift a Problem? Here Are Some Solutions

By JANET ODELL

We can't ignore Aunt Matilda any longer. If she didn't have a cupboard full of china already we'd certainly buy her a piece of Belleek, that breath-takingly lovely Irish china.

It has a luster that no other china has. Aunt Matilda is an avid fisherman. We could get her a little portable stool to carry on her next summer's fishing trips. She could use it too when she's watching golf tournaments.

Aunt Matilda counts her pearls, and carries a sugar substitute in her purse. Suppose she'd like a Mrs. ODELL, little metal pill box with a calendar counter on the top?

Being a fastidious person, Aunt Matilda loves items that contribute to good grooming. Some of those inflatable hangers would be just the thing for her to take on trips. She's always complaining about the hangers in a motel. No doubt she'd use a pair of glove dryers too.

Eisenhower entered the hospital Tuesday night after a White House reception for Chief Justice Earl Warren and the eight associate justices of the Supreme Court. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and other top judicial and legal officers of the government.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President feels fine but wanted to finish his physical examination. The first phase of the checkup was Sept. 15 and 16. Eisenhower is expected to stay in the presidential suite at Walter Reed until sometime Thursday.

In acquiring the site, the company purchased two additional lots for off-street parking, Friedman said.

Harrelson Case Has Hung Jury

A jury of four women and two men failed to reach a verdict in yesterday's assault and battery trial of Leann W. Harrelson in West Bloomfield Township Justice Court.

He is accused of ripping a dress off Mrs. Gerald Dodd, 42, of 57 Mark St., during a bar fracas in Bloomfield Township, Aug. 2.

The jury split 3-1 on the verdict after 2½ hours of deliberation.

Assistant Prosecutor Richard Condit said today he will seek to have the court impanel another jury.

Meanwhile, Harrelson is free on $100 bond pending a new trial before Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dietrich.

Mrs. Dodd is a relative of the late Vida M. Coon of Pontiac who was convicted of the murder of a car driven by Harrelson.

He was convicted of negligent homicide in Circuit Court March 3, 1954, and sentenced to two years probation.

Earlier this year, he pleaded guilty to forging some 40 names on nominating petitions for the August primary election. Municipal Judge Maurice Flanagan placed Harrelson on probation for the misdemeanor.

He is the son of Leann Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614.

Warming Trend: Tonight's Low to Be Only 30

The cold spell has been broken. Low tonight in the Pontiac area will be a "warm" 30, the weatherman says.

Mostly clouds with showers likely late in the day is the forecast for Thursday. The high is expected to shoot up to 38. Temperatures turning colder tomorrow night will continue with little change through Sunday and Monday.

Precipitation will average about three-tenths of an inch of moisture in the form of showers or snow flurries late Thursday, snow Sunday and flurries Monday.

Twenty-one was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 27.

Believe Jack to Pick Goldberg Over Objections

Would Be 1st in Job With Such Background Since Wilson Regime

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — President-Elect John F. Kennedy has selected Arthur J. Goldberg, chief attorney of the United Steelworkers Union, as his Labor secretary, after some AFL-CIO craft unions.

Goldberg would be the first Labor secretary with experience in the union movement to be named by a Democratic president since Woodrow Wilson's administration.

Kennedy may announce the appointment today from the steps of his Georgetown home during a full in his day-long schedule of talks with Democratic House members and others.

Top Kennedy aides said the president-elect was driving hard to complete his cabinet by the time he leaves for Florida Friday.

But he was running into sharp controversy in his effort to find an Agriculture secretary acceptable to both his farm advisers and farm organizations.

Kennedy has reached the halfway point in filling his cabinet—five down and five to go—and the odds seem fairly good that he plans to add another either today or Thursday.

His first selection, announced late Tuesday, was that of Robert S. McNamara to be his secretary of Defense. McNamara, 44, is president of the Ford Motor Co.

NO TIMETABLE
Kennedy is announcing no timetable for his choices. All he would tell reporters, camping outside his Georgetown doorstep in bitter cold Tuesday night, was that he expects to complete his Cabinet within the next few days.

Nor was there any clue in the schedule he announced for today as to which post he will fill next. His first appointment was with Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, already named to be secretary of Commerce.

Most of his other appointments were with congressmen with a wide variety of interests.

News Flash

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie's son has attempted a coup d'etat against him, U.S. officials said today.

McNAMARA THE MAN — Following the usual appointment procedure, Robert S. McNamara and President-Elect John F. Kennedy appear outside the Kennedy home in Washington Tuesday to reveal McNamara's selection as secretary of defense. McNamara only last month was named president of the Ford Motor Co. He regards himself as a political independent. As a leader in the nonpartisan "Citizens for Michigan," McNamara tried unsuccessfully to convince American Motors President George Romney to seek the Republican nomination for U.S. senator in this year's race.

Defense Post Means $3-Million Sacrifice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert Strange McNamara gave up a huge annual salary as president of Ford Motor Co. and will dispose of $1.6 million worth of stocks so he can become defense secretary in the Kennedy administration.

The cabinet post will pay him $25,000 a year for running a military establishment so big that its annual outlays for weapons, material and services are estimated at more than three times the combined buying volume of Ford, General Electric and U.S. Steel.

In "subordinating personal considerations" to accept the appointment from President-Elect John F. Kennedy Tuesday, the 44-year-old McNamara estimated the job would cost him $1 million in profits over the next three or four years.

That is how much he thought he would have realized from increases in value of the 34,529 shares of Ford stock he now owns, the 20,000 he has option to buy and the 100 shares of Scott Paper Co. he holds.

He now must divest himself of the lot. He still will be a millionaire, of course.

McNamara, elected Ford president only five weeks ago, also is giving up his $400,000 annual income of salary and bonuses from the motor firm.

His case is similar to the situation which confronted General Motors President Charles E. Wilson when he became defense secretary in 1953.

Wilson was forced by the Senate, under the conflict of interest laws, to resign himself of his huge General Motors holdings.

GAVE UP $4 MILLION
It later was estimated that Wilson gave up something like $5 million to be defense secretary.

McNamara's mother said he was not surprised her son had made a great financial sacrifice to accept the cabinet post.

Mrs. R. J. McNamara said: "He has done things like this all his life. For instance, when he was in graduate school at Harvard he gave up all the checks I sent him. 'I knew' he was having a hard time getting along with the salary he was getting but he never cashed a check I sent him."

She added: "When there is something to be done, he never rests until it is done. He drives himself 24 hours a day."

East Still Digs in Arctic Cold

Storm Dumps 12 Inches of Snow on New Mexico — Moscow 'Too Warm'

By The Associated Press

Slowly, painfully, the Eastern United States, still gripped by an unrelenting arctic cold, dug itself out Wednesday from the worst autumn storm in its history.

As it did so, a new storm hit New Mexico and spread across the Southwest.

The toll of storm-related deaths passed 220, and the cost in lost business and in the expense of snow removal ran into millions of dollars.

The cold, which ranged into the below-zero regions in some areas, had a cruel companion: The wind.

It stung the faces of motorists trying to dig out from streets still littered with abandoned vehicles. It blew the snow's fine powder into electric-train engines and stalled motors, and it covered ordinary objects with drifting snow and turned them into strange, white shapes.

As millions chopped at ice and shoveled snow, it was no comfort to read that in Moscow, normally one of the loveliest cities of the world, the citizens were complaining because unseasonable warmth had ruined the usual skating and skiing.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered out the State National Guard to help clear abandoned vehicles from New York City's snow-clogged streets.

SOUTHWEST SOCKED
In the Southwest up to 12 inches of snow fell in the high mountains of New Mexico, and snow was general in a belt across West Texas from the Panhandle to the Big Bend country.

In the Flatlands the fall was generally six inches or less and in some places was mixed with sleet and rain. The big Eastern storm had started in the Southwest.

On the Eastern seaboard no relief from the subnormal cold was in sight, although some moderation was predicted during today and Thursday.

New York City and the other great Christmas shopping centers of the East suffered grievously from a lack of customers. New York counted the loss in several ways, had lived in this desert community northeast of Los Angeles.

His big, booming voice became familiar to millions between 1942 and 1947 when he sang regularly over the National Broadcasting Co. radio network. He habitually signed off his program with the words, "Good night, mother"—a reference to his singer mother, Anna Dorothea Schnabel Thomas.

COIN FLIP DECIDED
It was a coin flip that decided him on a musical career. The son of a Welsh Methodist minister, the Rev. Milson Thomas, young Thomas sang as a boy at camp meetings. While studying for medicine in Baltimore he won a musical scholarship in 1910 and tossed a coin to decide which field he would follow. Music won.

His voice matched his virile appearance. Women admired his broad shoulders and athletic build.

Orleans Civic Leaders Bolstering Integration

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The forces backing integration of public schools here appeared stronger today as 100 New Orleans civic leaders called for support of the Orleans Parish School Board.

The school board itself ended a meeting with legislative leaders in Baton Rouge with President Louis C. Richey saying he was "very much encouraged" that the school financial problems may soon be eased.

No immediate break appeared likely in the white boycott that has limited attendance to a handful of Negroes and one Negro at an integrated city school and just a few whites at the other.

The legislature continued in its fourth attempt to replace the Orleans School Board. The House passed the measure 84-4, and the Senate gave it a first reading and sent it to the Judiciary B committee.

The committee was to meet today, with approval considered certain.

Two previous legislative attempts to toss out the board have been blocked by the federal courts. A third attempt, passed 10 days ago, has been restrained by U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright. The law is being tested in the State Supreme Court.

The statement by the civic leaders was considered significant since this segment of the community had remained silent thus far.

In its statement, which also appeared as an ad in The New Orleans Times-Picayune, the group called for "an immediate end to threats, defamation and resistance to those who administer our laws."

They called for an end to street demonstrations and urged full support for "city officials, the police and the school board."

These groups have come under segregationist fire for trying to keep order in the face of federal court integration orders.

Orleans School Board members led legislative leaders they faced today in a total of $1,128,000 in payrolls by Dec. 31 and had only $1,550,000 in sight.

Continued near-freezing weather or once again kept demonstrators away from Frantz and McDonough No. 19, the two schools integrated Nov. 14. There were three demonstrators at McDonough, none at Frantz, Tuesday.

The number of whites attending Frantz fell from 23 last Tuesday to eight last Friday. Eight also attended Monday and Tuesday.

Three previous legislative attempts to toss out the board have been blocked by the federal courts. A third attempt, passed 10 days ago, has been restrained by U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright. The law is being tested in the State Supreme Court.

Will Open Bids on School Loans

Borrowing of $350,000 Scheduled in Waterford—Meeting Tomorrow

The Waterford Township Board of Education is to meet tomorrow night will open bids from banking institutions for the borrowing of $350,000 against anticipated state aid.

The loan which will be used for operating expenses, has been approved by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

A report and recommended budget for the 1961 high school athletic account will be presented by Superintendent William A. Shunk. He also will report on a community information brochure now under consideration by the school board.

Further consideration of transportation requests made by parents of children attending the John D. Ford Junior High School will be made and an attendance area designated.

The board also will consider the appointment of a new high school township recreation board, replacing Irvin Green who resigned after 10 years service.

Shunk will present information relative to the Township Board on placing two propositions on the February election ballot.

The township board will ask voters to approve a one-half mill tax (.50 for each $100 of assessed valuation) for three years to create a special fund for sidewalks on public rights of way. Both propositions must pass if the township is to have sidewalks.

Christmas Basket Deadline Friday

Applications for Christmas baskets of food must be made at the Clearing House at 29 W. Lawrence St. before 5 p.m. Friday, Pontiac Salvation Army Capt. J. W. Weaver announced yesterday.

Those seeking help must apply in person, he said.

The office will remain open after this date only for agencies wishing to draw from the stock or coordinate assistance to needy families in the area, so that efforts are not duplicated.

Ship Loses Oil in Cuba

SANTIAGO, Cuba (U)—Eight thousand barrels of crude oil spilled into Santiago Bay today from the Soviet tanked Vasilisk after it struck a pier while docking at the former Texas Oil refinery here. Officials blamed the ship's pilot for the accident.

Coal traffic is responsible for 90 per cent of U.S. railroad jobs.

Police Dept. Reverses Itself

The Police Department reversed itself today after city commission leaped in dismay last night that motorists were being ticketed in connection with the free Christmas parking in downtown municipal lots.

Nine drivers received summonses yesterday morning on charges of skirting the police barricade at the city's police street lot before the official 11 a.m. opening.

"From now on the officers at the lot will try to show the motorists away from the morning, not ticket them," said Acting Police Joseph.

Minutes after commissioners learned the tickets they had officially decreed the free parking itself today as a gesture to promote the advantages of the downtown Pontiac for shoppers.

The plan went into effect Saturday in cooperation with the downtown Merchants Association. At the merchants' request, the Lawrence Street lot is to be blocked off until 2:30 to keep it from filling up with the cars of downtown employees instead of downtown shoppers.

"We're trying to encourage good will toward Pontiac, not discourage it," said Mayor Philip E. Rowan in ordering the administration to have police easier in enforcing the barricades.

DEFENSE SECRETARY'S WIFE — Mrs. Robert S. McNamara is shown on election day in Ann Arbor carrying a sign urging a yes vote on Michigan's constitutional convention issue. Her husband was named secretary of defense Tuesday by President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

No fresher picture of Mrs. McNamara was available because her husband dislikes publicity. Both McNamara and his wife were afflicted with polio when they were young but both recovered. They have two daughters and a son.

Anti-Red Forces Relaking City

Report Phoumi's Men Recapture 80 Per Cent of Laos Capital

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—U. S. Embassy sources said late today Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's anti-Communist forces have recaptured 80 per cent of Vientiane, capital of Laos.

They reported the Phoumi units have launched an attack on Vientiane's airport, saying it is the last stronghold of leftist Capt. Kong Le's paratroopers. The airport is vital to Kong Le to maintain an airlift of Soviet arms.

Embassy sources said Phoumi counterattacked after being driven out of the city early in the morning.

Phoumi forces took administrative points in Vientiane Tuesday but were beaten back by paratroopers loyal to leftist leader Quinlan Pholsena, who has proclaimed himself acting premier.

The Day in Birmingham

Sewer-Vote Information to Go to Home Owners

BIRMINGHAM—Letters informing Birmingham Hills property owners of the issues involved in Monday's sewer election will be mailed tomorrow, City Clerk Robert Stadler said today.

The five-page letter containing questions and answers will be sent to 450 home owners living in the city, Stadler said. He said the letter, in effect, is actually a report of pertinent questions answered by city and state officials at a public hearing in September.

Bloomfield Hills property owners will be asked in the special election Monday to approve a $15 million internal sewer system that would serve the entire city.

It will be the second time that the proposal has been put before city voters. In October, the proposition was approved but later declared void when it was discovered that an election notice failed to appear in a weekly newspaper.

The form letter being sent out explains the purpose of the internal sewer system and points up its need.

It details the explanation of two state representatives as to why the sewer system is needed and at this time.

Loring F. Homing of the Water Resources Commission quoted in the letter, explaining "that although something less than the entire system would relieve pollution for a time, the ultimate system is needed in the future."

Donald M. Pierce of the Michigan Department of Health said that "with individual wells and individual septic tanks the city has a health hazard today and as the city grows toward the maximum population density the health situation would be explosive."

Pierce strongly urged that the internal system be built at this time.

The Water Resources Commission has already filed suit in Circuit Court to stop the city from polluting the River Rouge.

Because of this the city has a legal obligation to clean up the pollution, the letter continues.

LETTER EXPLAINS
The letter explains why the City Commission has recommended it.

Public and parochial schools in Pontiac will close their doors at the end of next week for their annual Christmas recess.

All public schools, both elementary and secondary, and Emmanuel Christian School will have their last day of classes Thursday, Dec. 22.

St. Frederick's and St. Michael's schools will have their last day of classes Friday, Dec. 23.

The parochial schools will dismiss senior high students at noon each day next week.

Let Resoned Commercial Planning Unit Overruled

City commissioners, as expected, last night overruled the planning commission for the first time in five years.

They passed an ordinance changing the vacant lot at the northeast corner of Howard Lake Avenue and Palmer Street from residential to commercial.

Planners, who have opposed the move repeatedly since it was first proposed in May, last night branded the proposal "spot zoning."

They said there was vacant commercial property in the area that should be used up first. They said the lot in question was shorter than others in the block, making a commercial site impossible at the rear.

"We reserve the right to differ with the planning commission," said Mayor Philip E. Rowan.

"We should encourage business wherever we can."

Bruce Annett, Pontiac editor who owns the lot, said that despite the zoning delay he still has a customer who wants to buy it for a laundromat.

"I wouldn't have asked for rezoning if I didn't feel the property justified rezoning," he said.

The controversy is an honest difference of opinion — I have mine and the planning commission has theirs."

Commissioner Wesley J. Wood, who like Rowan is a member of the planning commission, objected to the waiving of the traditional requirement of an alley for newly rezoned commercial property.

"We've always required an alley," he said.

Turkey, Dances, PlaysFete Patients at Yuletide

Looking forward to that big Christmas dinner? Well, then, how's this for a meal fit for a king?

The menu reads: Roast turkey, savory dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, green beans in mushroom sauce, giblet gravy, English plum pudding with creamy sauce and coffee.

This is the bundle of goodies that will be placed before patients at Pontiac State Hospital on Christmas Day.

This mouthwatering menu is only a small part of the vast holiday program being offered to patients at the hospital.

Pontiac area community groups are currently offering their time and services to make the Christmas season an eventful one.

"The help and understanding of all those who are participating in our program is appreciated most gratefully," said Dr. Walter H. Obenaus, medical superintendent.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

There have been 18 special programs scheduled this month for patients.

Seven have already taken place and 11 more are to come, with the first of those 11 scheduled for tonight.

At 7:30 there will be a Christmas party complete with cash prizes for the ground permission patients. The event is sponsored by the Ferndale Elks.

Friday will offer patients a double-barrel opportunity. At 1 p.m. the staff and patients will offer a gift to the community and at 8 the patients will be on the receiving end.

The afternoon program is the annual Christmas tea and sale in the Occupational Therapy Department.

The public is invited to attend and possibly solve a gift problem by buying one of the many items made by patients in the occupational therapy program.

This sale offers a variety of gift items at very reasonable prices and all proceeds go into more equipment, making this much needed therapy available to some patients each year.

Monday at 8 p.m. the Oakland County Citizens Committee will sponsor a dramatic show.

The Pontiac-Central High School Playcrafters will stage a performance of their most recent production, "The Matchmakers," for patients.

On Tuesday at 7 p.m. there will be a party for members of the hospital's roller skating and chess clubs with refreshments served by the Michigan Bell Pioneer Club.

A dance will be held Dec. 21 for a mixed group in the recreational therapy department and another dance is scheduled the next night for members of the ground permission group in the same department.

On Christmas Eve, patients will see a movie, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," starring Doris Day, as they will on New Year's Eve when "Inn of the Sixth Happiness," starring Ingrid Bergman, is to be shown.

New Year's dances will be held Dec. 28 and 29 for patients in the recreational therapy department. Christmas day will be spent in the happy atmosphere of giving, as gifts are distributed to patients throughout the hospital.

The distribution and opening of presents will be interrupted only by Christmas dinner.

Try Peanut Butter Bread for New Taste Treat

Rich and moist, Peanut Butter Bread keeps quite well. That is, it's hidden! Because this delectable bread tastes so good served without any spread at all, and makes such scrumptious sandwiches, it's not likely to be around very long once the family finds out you've made a loaf.

Either the crunch or the creamy style of peanut butter may be used. Beat it into the hot milk with a rotary beater, so that it blends in uniformly.

Sandwich fillings that are especially good with Peanut Butter Bread include: apple butter, marmalade; currant or grape jelly; pineapple cream cheese; mild or sharp Cheddar cheese; roast pork, veal or lamb; baked, boiled, minced or deviled ham; chicken salad; roast turkey; crisp bacon and chopped apple.

Peanut Butter Bread

1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup very warm water
1 package of cake yeast, active dry
4 to 5 cups sifted flour

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt, and peanut butter. Beat with rotary beater until blended; cool to lukewarm. Measure very warm water into large bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture and 1 1/2 cups of the flour; beat until smooth.

Add enough remaining flour to make soft dough. Turn dough out onto floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down; turn out onto floured board; shape into a loaf. Place in greased 9x5x3-inch pan. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until top of loaf is slightly higher than edges of pan, about 45 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Cool on wire rack or across top of pan.

Broiler Meal Quick to Prepare and Cook

Dinner will be ready in just minutes. How often have you wished that this could really happen? Well, it can.

A well-known home economist, Reba Staggs, well versed in the field of meat and meat cookery, calls on Ham and Lima Broll when there is a final countdown to the serving hour.

As you'll see, the main ingredients in this recipe are only four in number . . . ham slice, prepared mustard, baby lima beans and grated cheese.

In serving this colorful broiler meal, be sure the family is ready and waiting for the meal. Serve the ham slice piping hot while the cheese is slightly brown and bubbly.

Ham and Lima Broll

1 smoked ham slice, cut 1 inch thick
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 cup baby lima beans, cooked
1 cup coarsely grated American cheese
Set regulator for broiling. Place ham slice on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so the top of the ham slice is 3 inches from the heat.

Broll first side until browned, 10 to 15 minutes, turn and broll until browned on second side, about 5 minutes.

Spread ham slice with mustard and top with lima beans. Sprinkle cheese over beans and continue broiling 1 1/2 minutes or until cheese is slightly browned and bubbly. Yield: 4 servings.

Broiled Tomatoes

Broiled tomatoes are delicious when they have a topping of bread crumbs mixed with butter; they're extra-delicious when you add a little grated cheddar. Parmesan or Romano cheese to the crumb combination.

MAKE OVER PAGES Made With Peel

Petite Orange Bonbons

1 general fresh orange peel, (about 1/2 California orange)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup vanilla flavoring
1 cup chopped pecans (or mixed nuts)
Cover orange peels with water and let stand 24 hours. Drain. Place in saucepan; cover with cold water to cover. Boil for 10 minutes. Drain. Add sugar and salt.

Cook slowly about 10 minutes or until a small quantity dropped into cold water forms a soft ball. Add flavoring; remove from heat. Blend in chopped nuts. Shape into small bonbons and roll in sugar. Makes about 4 dozen.

Start With Celery Soup

When the menu calls for meatless fare, try this delicious hearty combination. A can of condensed cream of celery soup, a soup can of water plus 1 can (6 1/2 ounces) crab, drained and flaked. Heat slowly, stirring now and then. Serve to 3 to 4 with a garnish of grated lemon rind.

Color Popcorn for a Wreath

Youngsters, home from school for the holidays, will be asking advice about refreshments for partying. Teenagers will love making a popcorn wreath as something unusual as an edible table decoration.

- Popcorn Christmas Wreath
- 1 cup corn oil
 - 1 cup popcorn
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1/2 cup salt
 - 1/2 cup vanilla
 - 1/2 cup green food coloring
 - 1/2 cup cinnamon candies

Heat corn oil in 5-quart kettle over medium heat for 3 minutes. Add popcorn. Cover, leaving small air space at edge of cover. Shake frequently over medium heat until popping stops.

Meanwhile, mix together corn syrup, sugar, salt, vanilla and food coloring. Add to popped corn in kettle and stir and toss constantly over medium heat 3 to 5 minutes or until sugar is dissolved and corn is evenly and completely coated with mixture. Remove from heat.

Form into 10-inch ring on waxed paper, using as little pressure as possible. Use butter on hands. Garnish with cinnamon candies to resemble holly berries in wreath.

NOTE: Do not double recipe.

FRAGRANT BREAD — When the irresistible fragrance of freshly brewed coffee mingles with that of home-baked bread, who could ignore the call to the coffee hour? Serve a fresh-from-the-oven North Salem Coffee Bread the next time you invite your neighbors in for a kaffeeklatsch.

Old Time Coffee Bread Good for Kaffeeklatsch

They say we shouldn't cling to the nostalgic pleasures of the past, but some are just too delightful to be put aside! For instance, who would erase the smell of home-baked bread, or the delight of buttering a warm slice to be savored with a hot cup of coffee?

Few people would. In fact, most of us would be happy to find a homemade loaf accompanying our coffee much more frequently. Therefore, we suggest you reward yourself and friends with fresh-baked North Salem Coffee Bread at your next kaffeeklatsch.

The braided pattern and light frosting take it out of the realm of the traditional loaf. Moreover, this delicious loaf puts the coffee hour a notch above the usual, and makes a pot of fresh-brewed coffee taste even more delectable.

North Salem Coffee Bread

- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup warm water
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup white sugar
- 1/2 cup warm water (100 to 115 degrees)
- 3 packages active dry yeast
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 3 cups flour (about), divided
- 1/2 cup instant whipped potato flakes

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm (95 degrees). Pour warm water into large bowl. Sprinkle dry yeast over surface and stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Add 2 beaten eggs, 2 cups of flour and potato flakes. Beat until well blended. Stir in remaining 1 cup flour.

Turn dough out onto lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush top with soft shortening. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide into 3 equal portions; roll each piece into a strip about 24 inches long. Place strips on greased baking sheet. Form into braid. Pinch ends firmly. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30-40 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 20-25 minutes. Brush with melted butter. When cool, frost with thin icing and sprinkle with silvered toasted almonds. Makes 1 large loaf. If desired, dough may be divided to make 2 small loaves.

Italian Tomato Juice

Delightfully different for a dinner first course is Italian Tomato Juice Cocktail. Combine a pint 2 fluid ounces can of tomato juice with 2 thick slices of onion, 2 4-inch stalks celery, 1/2 teaspoon basil, and salt and pepper to taste. Simmer 10 minutes; remove onion and celery. Serve hot sprinkled with Parmesan Cheese.

Herb Bread Made With Powdered Cream

Turn on the oven; whip out the mixing bowl! It's time to bake a loaf of old-fashioned bread — the kind that's an extra special surprise for your family.

There's a heap of satisfaction in making your own bread, especially on a cool fall day. You won't even need to call the family for they'll smell that tantalizing aroma wafting all through the house, and come running to ask what you're making.

Our recipe today for Herb Bread is a variation Grandma never dreamed of. Its savory flavor comes from a blend of four herbs and spices — basil, thyme, oregano, and nutmeg.

The method, too, is as modern as today's instant foods for it calls for powdered cream and water instead of milk as most recipes do. This combination gives it a crisp golden crust that fairly shatters as you slice it. The inside, tender and fluffy like a marshmallow, tastes like it's made with pure country butter.

Best of all fresh-baked and ever so slightly warm, it's ideal for midnight snacks and sandwiches, too. Our recipe makes two loaves — one for your family and one for a neighbor down the street — if it lasts that long!

Herb Bread

- 2 packages dry active or 2 cakes compressed yeast
- 1/2 cup warm water
- 1/2 cup powdered cream
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup melted shortening or salad oil
- 2 cups warm water
- 1/2 cup 2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 cup warm water
- 1/2 cup dried basil, crumbled
- 1/2 cup dried thyme
- 1/2 cup dried oregano
- 1/2 cup nutmeg

Soften dry yeast in 1/4 cup warm water (110 degrees), compressed yeast in lukewarm water (85 degrees). Add powdered cream, sugar, shortening, salt, 1 cup water, 2 cups flour and eggs; beat until smooth. Add basil, thyme, oregano, and nutmeg. Beat well. Add 2 1/2 cups more flour until a soft dough is formed.

Turn out on a lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Knead about 5 minutes or until dough is smooth and satiny. To knead: Press ball of dough flat, fold over on itself toward you. Push away from you with the heel of your hand. Turn dough 1/4 turn, fold and push again. Repeat in a rocking motion.

Place dough in a greased bowl. Brush with melted butter or other shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk — about 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

When light, punch down. Divide dough into two equal portions and shape each into a smooth ball. Let rest 10 minutes. Shape into loaves.

Place in greased 8x4x4-inch metal bread pans or 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 4 1/2-inch glass loaf dishes. Let rise until doubled, about 1 hour.

Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., for metal, 350 degrees F. for glass, for 35 to 40 minutes. Makes 2 loaves.

Use Plank and Beam Construction in Patio

In a "patio plan" home, living areas are oriented towards a central patio or yard around which the house is built.

According to the Southern Pine Association, the "patio plan" is an ideal medium for wood plank-and-beam construction. The self-efficacy of this roof and ceiling system permits location of large glass areas on room walls adjacent to the central patio. Having an outdoor extension, each room seems larger and the warm natural look of the beamed ceiling "marries" the interior with the exterior view.

ORPHANED BY MOTHER — Remaining as calm as cool cats should, but nevertheless a bit bewildered by it all are these twin lion cubs at the Amsterdam, Holland, zoo. They were being mounted on a scale for weighing purposes when this photo was snapped. The cubs were born a month ago but were abandoned by their mother, who refused to feed them. The zookeeper took over the chores as "foster mother." The bottle babies are reported to be doing fine.

Appointment of Rusk Is Welcomed in Europe

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe today welcomed the choice of Dean Rusk as the new Kennedy administration's secretary of state.

In Britain, some observers viewed his appointment as indicating President-Elect John F. Kennedy intends to bring U. S. foreign policy more directly under the president's personal control.

Rusk, together with his two principal aides—Adlai E. Stevenson and Chester Bowles — were hailed as a State Department team that could be counted on to pursue Western aims with dignity and resolution.

The French newspaper Combat today applauded Kennedy's choice of Rusk, Bowles and Stevenson as "heralding a new leadership in American foreign policy."

RUSK SUPPLE
The newspaper described Rusk as a hard-working "supple man" and an expert in Far Eastern affairs. Kennedy's choice of Bowles as undersecretary of State demonstrated the president-elect's "intense interest in Southeast Asia and India," said Combat.

Of Stevenson, Combat said: "No choice could be more auspicious than that of Stevenson as American ambassador to the U.N. of oil fields in Patagonia."

His extreme competence and his experience have always made him a counselor to be listened to. He will bring to the floor of the United Nations an affability and a subtlety to which we are no longer accustomed."

A front-page editorial in the conservative London Daily Mail said the appointments "show that the most important man is going to be President Kennedy."

Gas, Fuel Oil Surplus Predicted in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina produces almost enough petroleum and gas to meet domestic needs, and in early 1961 it will have gasoline and fuel oil surpluses, President Arturo Frondizi announced on radio and TV Tuesday night. It was the 33rd anniversary of the first discovery of oil fields in Patagonia.

Burma Will Grant Refuge to 29 Laoan Officials

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — The Foreign Office said Tuesday night the government had agreed to grant temporary refuge to 29 Laoan officials who arrived in Rangoon Saturday night by plane from Vientiane. Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, who had been premier, fled to Cambodia after leftist military units had taken over the capital and set up a pro-Communist regime.

5 Runaways Rescued in Spite of Selves

Save Orphans From Cold

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a blizzard to melt the cold, cold heart of the world's greatest city. So, if you want to see America's leading metropolis at its friendliest, be sure to come here during a blinding snowstorm.
A human hand occurs that turns sprawling Gotham into a small town of eight million neighbors.
A 17-inch snowfall here this week provided that again. A blizzard storm always does.
On ordinary days a stranger seeing Manhattan for the first time gets the eerie impression he has been set down in a vast civic madhouse.

Everybody seems to be in a tremendous rush to get from where he is to where he isn't. Each person acts as if he were carrying an important message to Garcia. Each person appears to believe the other eight million citizens is trying to block his path.
It is a city where folks don't really seem to have time for each other. It is a city where you start mumbling "G'bye" before you finish saying "Hi'lo."

To many visitors, awed by the pace here, New York appears less a city than a huge traffic problem—an intricate maze endlessly threaded by two-legged ants hopped up by pep pills, ants endlessly bumping into each other, ricocheting, and then bumping on, growling.
But let five or more inches of snow fall, and all this magically changes.

CITY SLOWS DOWN
The hammering pulse of the city eases to a steady purposeful shuffle; traffic slows to a crawl. All year it has been a battle of man against man in the mortal storm of day-to-day living. Humanity, too crowded against itself, has rubbed its nerves raw.

But the falling flakes herald the arrival of an outside enemy—the blizzard—and in the face of this ancient foe the human herd here unites instinctively.
The daily scramble to gain an edge on the other fellow is forgotten. The subway stare—that self-protective look of indifference—disappears.

The city becomes a common white battleground on which the community forges a fresh unity. Gallantry emerges. Men cheerfully break paths through the deepening snow, and old ladies follow in their footsteps. The bus driver no longer shuts his door in the face of a passenger. He even stops his bus in the middle of the block to pick up a red-faced, panting pilgrim of the drifts.
Ill-temper vanishes. Good nature reigns. An almost frolic atmosphere takes over. People share cabs who never shared cabs before. Strangers grin and speak to each other. Everybody suddenly has time to be helpful.

People who never even nodded before now pause and trade tall tales of how they had to struggle to make it from home to train or bus or subway. They are as eager as small children to trade experiences.

They have all at once become neighbors. They have something in common now. They have fought the elements together—and won. They are combat veterans of the weather.

When the snow goes, unfortunately, that feeling will evaporate, too. The frantic pace resumes, the subway stare returns, people bump each other and rebound and go their separate ways without apology.

It's too bad.
It might make the big city a better place to live in if it were hit with a real blizzard at least once a month throughout the year—just so it could show its real human heart more often.

'59 Census Reveals 111,817 State Farms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau says 111,817 farms were counted in Michigan during the 1959 census of agriculture conducted in the state.

The bureau said the total land in farms in Michigan was 14,782,897 acres. The average farm size was 132.2 acres and the average value of farms—land and buildings—in the state was $25,190.

It said that of the state's farm operators, 77,189 owned their farms, 26,250 owned part of the land and rented additional acreage and 7,792 were tenant farmers.

The average age of farm operators in the state was 50.4 years, although there were 19,221 farm operators 65 or more years of age.

Markings from the original U.S. Government survey of Florida back in 1829 have been found in the heart of a cypress tree in North Florida. A land survey crew found the survey marks and three so-called witness trees used to help locate a particular section corner.

It's wonderful to feel cared for Comfort means more to the aged. A favorite chair. A newspaper at evening. The privilege of slipping silently off to sleep. These things grow in meaning with each year. And then there's the special comfort of knowing that sudden illness will not be a financial hardship on others. That's where Blue Cross-Blue Shield can help. You can keep your Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection after retirement if you are employed in a firm having Blue Cross-Blue Shield. And there's no need to worry about having it canceled because of recurrent illnesses or repeated hospital stays. These are added reasons why Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection is chosen by nearly half of the people in Michigan. How about you?

Plan a Varied Program for Christmas Concert

Accuse, David Johnson of Cameron Avenue and Bob Travis of East Mansfield Avenue. Their program is set for 3 p.m. in the auditorium of the school.

The efforts of Pontiac Northern High School's vocal and instrumental music departments will be combined Sunday afternoon in the presentation of the school's annual Christmas concert.

Set for 3 p.m. in the auditorium, the varied program will include instrumental groups, vocal ensembles and mass singing of Christmas carols.

The boys' and girls' glee clubs, a modern dance group and the Pontiac Northern Choir will also be featured.

A soprano solo by Pam Huntley in the choir number "Lost in the Night" will be heard along with "The March of the Shepherds," and Bach's "Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light."

Madeline McConnell of the physical education staff will direct the modern dance ensemble in a

dramatization of Ken Darby's "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Linda Libby will be accompanist when the Boys' Glee Club sings "Carol, Brothers, Carol" by Ringwald and Franck's "O Jesus, Grant Me Hope and Comfort."

Tom Scott's arrangement of the moving "Coventry Carol" and "Ding Dong Merrily On High" will be sung by the Girls' Glee Club.

Ensembles to be heard in traditional Christmas music are the Choral Bells, the Crystalaires, the Sophomore Girls Ensemble and the Norsemen.

George Putnam, supervisor of secondary vocal and music in the schools will direct the traditional closing "Hallelujah Chorus" in which Northern's vocal alumnae will join the massed vocal groups.

Handsome robed members of Pontiac Northern High School's choir will play a major role in Sunday's concert. Preparing for the event are choristers (from left) Pam Edwards of Pontiac Township, Sharon Stickle of Lowell Street, Ted Lonszen of Third Avenue, Marti Sausanis of Mohawk Road, Edna Hammond of Regal Drive and Gene Laury of Mt. Clemens Street.

Play Up Good Points in Letter

Good Taste Today

Question: An employee of mine is leaving my office soon, and has asked me for a letter of recommendation. He is a likable fellow, but frankly I'm not very reliable.

I don't believe it would be fair to his next employer to give him the letter of recommendation he wants. Still I hate to be unkind about this matter. Will you please let me know how to tactfully handle this situation?

Answer: I know of no situation more difficult than the one that you find yourself in. You can't help but feel it unfair to give less than a good recommendation, and on the other hand, it is not fair to his future employer to be misleading in your praise.

To present him as well as you can by emphasizing his good points is all that you can do for him.

Question: I have been dating a young man for the last eight months. I care a great deal for him and have reason to believe the feeling is mutual, even though it is discussed unspoken or brushed between us.

He will be having a birthday soon and I want to present him with a gift. He has everything he could possibly want and they are all of the best quality. I thought of having a studio picture taken of myself and have it framed and give it to him for his birthday.

Answer: You must not give him your picture unless he has asked for it.

Question: When sending Christmas cards to business acquaintances who are married, and only one of them is known to you, is it proper nevertheless to address the card to both Mr. and Mrs., or should it be addressed only to the person you know?

Answer: It is always proper to address Christmas cards to married people, Mr. and Mrs., even if only one of them is known to you, when sent to their houses. When addressed to the office, it is sent to the mail for woman alone.

Question: If one does not attend a bridal shower to which one has been invited, is it necessary to send a gift anyway? This has been a source of argument among some friends and we would like you to settle it.

Answer: Since showers are supposed to be limited to the bride's best friends, those who cannot go to the shower, usually send presents. If, however, the bride-to-be is not a close friend, there is no obligation to send a present if unable to accept the invitation.

Tell Him "No Divorce!"—Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?

I was married to a man for 21 years. I loved him and tried my best to be a good wife and mother. I was happy and thought he was, too. Out of the blue he told me he was in love with another woman. He packed up and moved out. He left my six months' pregnant with a 14-month-old baby and four-older children.

The woman he left me for is 12 years younger than I am. He met her at work.

She knows our religion doesn't allow divorce and remarriage but she doesn't care. My husband is begging me for a divorce.

My heart says no. My friends say yes. I'm all mixed up.

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED:

The answer to your first question, "What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?" is "temporary insanity." (This sometimes passes for "love.")

Don't make any decision while you are in an emotional tumult. Your husband may find his way back to the world of reality soon. In the meantime, tell him "No divorce!"

DEAR ABBY: When a hostess has a party and some guests bring other people, and a card table has to be set up in addition to the big dining room table which seats 14, WHO should sit at the card table? My husband says the "extra guests who were not invited by us. I say my husband should sit at the big table and I should sit at the little one.

NOISE AT OUR HOUSE

DEAR NOISE: In the case of TWO tables—the host should sit at one, and the hostess at the other.

DEAR ABBY: A boy wrote in telling you he thought it was a "sin" for his mother, who was 44, to have a baby. Well

I don't think it's a sin, but I have news for you—I doubt if any woman in her right mind would go in for it, at age 44, on purpose.

I am 42 and have a new grandchild.

My daughter went on a trip and I am caring for her baby. I've been up for three days and three nights and I can't see straight—but the baby is still going strong.

Women past 40 should leave well enough alone and let the younger ones increase the population. I have no sympathy for them, and neither will their husbands. They'll sleep through it all.

DEAD TIRED

Confidentially to G. K.: Place a few bees on your eye and then place a two-inch piece of adhesive tape across your mouth.

For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped "envelope" to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Who pays for what? For Abby's pamphlet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Club Gathering Children's Gifts

A wrapped gift for a child at the Oakland County Children's Home will be the "admission charge" per person at the Waterford Community Activities Building.

Mel Sheffer, the club's caller, will call the steps for an intermediate "fun level" dance which will be followed by the new dance of the month "Til We Waltz Again" and a new step "Dixie Star."

In keeping with the Christmas theme, the numbers "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" and a minor "Jingle Bell Rock" will be featured.

Dancing will be from 8 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. with refreshments. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langdon Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Rieck.

When Caroline Moves In

By ROSE MCKEE

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Soon to be dispatched to the White House, books, . . . art works, . . . and toys. This is what is anticipated when John F. Kennedy, the president-elect, is inaugurated, Jan. 20.

A look at the homes in which Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, the next first lady, has lived, suggests pretty much the "trimmings" she will give the private family rooms of the Executive Mansion. Home to Jacqueline Kennedy before her marriage seven years ago was "Merrywood," the estate of her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D.

2,000 at Yule Party for Children

Some 2,000 children, parents and staff and auxiliary members of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital celebrated at Tuesday's annual Christmas party for youngsters who have visited the hospital's clinic throughout the year.

Carol singers opened the program, with "Silent Night" which was followed by a puppet act presented by Mrs. Sadie Hawkins. Nearly a year's intensive training was required to prepare the toy, miniature and French puppets to portray a mother and three small children making their first trip to the clinic.

Following a puppet show, the Jackie Rae dancers performed several numbers.

Mrs. Charles Colt played "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" on the piano and accompanied for carol singing. The McAuley School of Practical Nursing group and the Sisters of Mercy, 13-piece band sang and played selections requested by the audience.

A visit from Santa Claus highlighted the children's party.

The fete was concluded with the carol "Adeste Fidelis," sung by Ralph Lounds and Bert Dickies.

Twenty-five members of the hospital's auxiliary poured for the affair. Sister Mary Xavier's program, committee and Marie Hickey, superintendent of nurses, assisted in planning the party.

Auchincloss. The estate is situated along the Potomac River in nearby McLean, Va.

There, in a spacious, three-story brick home she was surrounded by beautiful antique furniture, fine oriental rugs, books, portraits and photographs.

The home is furnished with discerning and imaginative taste that brought admiring remarks from guests at a recent tea. But it is by no means a home so polished and formal as to be stiff. It has the air of having been much lived in and enjoyed.

The living room, off a wide center hall, has books in recessed cases between the two big windows at each end. Portraits adorn the soft gray walls. There are family photographs on the small tables.

The living room opens to a semi-oval sun parlor overlooking a wide lawn, where trees run down to the Potomac. Books line the walls on either side of the fireplace.

But the outstanding homey features of this bright room are the numerous photographic albums heaped on a long table before a couple of the windows. The red and green leather albums are filled with snapshots of Jackie and other members of the family. Clearly, snapshots in this family are not something to store away out of sight but mementoes to be enjoyed and looked at often.

On the other side of the wide hall are the dining room and an old-fashioned library.

AT GEORGETOWN

The Kennedys' own Georgetown home in Washington from which they will be moving to 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., reflects not only their interest in books but also Mrs. Kennedy's love of art. A recent visitor noticed that almost every table in the small, twin living rooms bore an art book, hung on one of the champagne-colored walls was a collection of sketches by the 18th century artist, Veret.

Books on Spanish painting, on Renoir and on Degas were on the shelves flanking the fireplace. A small desk held Bertrand Russell's "Wisdom of the West."

A large seascape over the mantel and a small one nearby pointed up the president-elect's well-known love of the sea.

The decor of the Kennedys' white clapboard summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., was dominated last summer by the toys of their daughter Caroline,

3. So many toys were strewn about the house and yard one day that a newsman wrote that the whole house looked like a cheerful nursery.

The table on the sun porch there bore copies of "Paris Match," "Art News," and "The Five Great Dialogues of Plato."

Hung at the foot of the stairs in the parlor was the watercolor Mrs. Kennedy did to welcome her husband back from his triumph at the Democratic National Convention.

Mrs. Kennedy likes to change the art in her home from time to time, replacing an old with a new piece.

Probably not all the Kennedys' favorite possessions will be moved to the White House, but it seems certain that Caroline will take all her favorite toys with her. She likely will have her own book shelf, too, as she has now on the lower part of a small table in the Georgetown living room. Noticed among her books recently were "Bunny Button" and "Early Alphabet."

The family's quarters in the White House seem certain also to carry out Mrs. Kennedy's belief that a home should be comfortable and attractive, but it should not have things around it that require one to say to a child, "Don't touch."

Play Bridge Games at Elks Temple

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening at the Elks Temple with eight tables in play.

Winners were Joseph Nouse and Al Wallace; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waterman; Dr. Robert Segula and Mrs. Norman Keller; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sandelman.

Meet for Dinner

Ladies' Typographical Auxiliary No. 129 met for a co-operative dinner Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Plabert on Lakeland Avenue, Sylvan Lake.

Mrs. Donald Barker of Menominee Road will be hostess for the next meeting Jan. 17.

Flatter Husband

NEW YORK (UPI) — One surefire way to send a husband's ego into orbit is to inform him you'd like a portrait photograph of him for Christmas. The newest fashion in portrait photos is direct color.

Santa Claus paid a visit to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Tuesday afternoon for the annual clinic children's Christmas party. Among the scores of youngsters who perched on the jolly old fellow's lap to whisper a wish was little Dianna Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dixon, of Tackles Drive. A puppet show and puppet act were added attractions for the children's wide-eyed amazement.

Fashionette Winner Is Mrs. Ristich

Mrs. John Ristich was trophy winner for the most weight lost during the week as Fashionette Club met Tuesday evening in Adah Shelly Library. Mrs. Peter Hernandez was last week's winner.

An award was presented to Mrs. Daniel Navarro for winning the monthly reducing contest.

Guest speaker was Michael Florillo, teacher at the Fairlawn School for emotionally disturbed children at Pontiac State Hospital, who spoke on "Techniques in Training the Emotionally Disturbed Child."

Members donated Christmas gifts for the youngsters.

Mrs. Bert Hillock was named chairman of the stimulating committee for election of officers Dec. 27. Mrs. Martinus Hanson and Mrs. Willis Schenckeburger are assisting.

Members will gather for a cooperative dinner and Christmas party Tuesday at the Shelly library. Mrs. David Cowan, program chairman, will direct activities as seelysides will direct activities, assisted by Mrs. Bert Hillock, Mrs. Earl Bowers, Mrs. Wava Forker and Mrs. W. C. Borteaux.

Schluchter-Boston Vows Are Given

White satin bows marked family pews in Grace Lutheran Church for the Saturday evening nuptials of Marion Frances Boston and Larry D. Schluchter.

The Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer performed the ceremony before a background of white chrysanthemums, in the presence of some 300 guests.

Parents of the couple are the John T. Bostons of South Shore Drive, Watkins Lake and the Kenneth A. Schluchters of Silver Hill Drive.

Seed pearl applique enhanced the bridal gown of white, nylon taffeta. The bride wore her new Mrs. Schluchter's diamond navy blue shoe with sheath dress necklace and engagement ring and for traveling to Florida.

After the church reception, the silk illusion. The bride wore her new Mrs. Schluchter's diamond navy blue shoe with sheath dress necklace and engagement ring and for traveling to Florida.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State University. The couple will live in Lansing.

Mrs. Boston chose a beige brocade satin two-piece ensemble with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was pink sweetheart roses. Yellow roses complemented a royal blue taffeta sheath dress and matching accessories for the mother of the bridegroom.

There are at least six specialized forest museums, some with arboretums, in Sweden.

Bride-to-Be Is Honored at Shower

Marjorie Jeanne Richards, daughter of the Ervin Richards of Seminole Avenue, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Tuesday in the Nichols Drive home of Mrs. Raymond Lingle. Cohortesses were Mrs. Ray McCoy, Mrs. Marvin Groat, Mrs. Myril Davis and Judy Yeager, all of Pontiac.

Decorations were teal and white, colors for the wedding.

Miss Richards is the bride-elect of former Pontiac resident Tom Lane who is stationed in Washington, D. C. with the Navy. The couple will exchange vows Dec. 24 at First Baptist Church.

In addition to 32 Pontiac area women, shower guests included

out-of-towners Mrs. Glen Ward of Lake Orion, Mrs. Kyle Wilson and Mrs. LaVaugh Braddock of Rochester, Mrs. Gerald Purdyce of Milford, Mrs. Gerald Shaffer of Davisburg and Marilyn Vidder of Royal Oak who will be maid of honor.

Nine Don'ts—and Dos

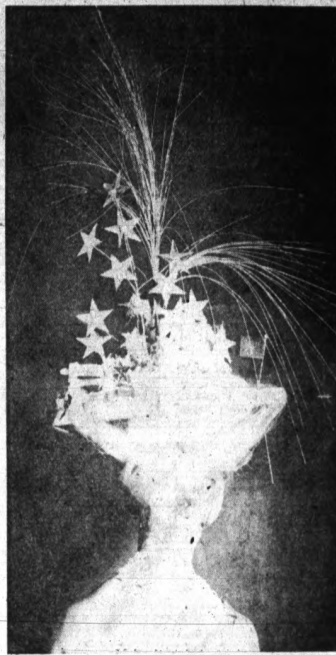

Avoid Make-Up Mistakes

Be sure to blend make-up down from your face to your neck so that there will be no dividing mark along the jawline. Remember, make-up which is too heavy emphasizes wrinkles.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Make-up is a 'splendid beauty aid, but many women make mistakes in its application.'

1. Women are sometimes careless about neck make-up. This should match your face make-up. Be sure to blend it down from your face to your neck so that there will be no dividing mark along the jawline.
2. Make-up which is too heavy emphasizes wrinkles. For this reason, foundation and powder should be applied very lightly about the eyes and in any other areas which may have lines.
3. Rouge which is too low on the face is aging because it creates a drooping appearance.
4. Care must be taken to carry make-up all the way to the hairline. If there is a space between the face and the hair, it is most unattractive. Work the make-up almost into the hairline. Then use a brush for any make-up which may cling to the hair.
5. Powder which is too white is aging and unbecoming. Be sure that the powder you use is one shade darker than your natural skin tone.
6. Straight-line eyebrows are hard and trying. Never draw a line even if your brows are very thin. Fill out with little feathery strokes.
7. Do not overdo lip make-up. As a general rule it is best to follow the natural outline of your lips, compensating only a little for any defects. Some women paint on the most fantastic mouths. These may be sneering or blubbery or may look as though the owner is ready for a part in a play.
8. Beady eyelashes are most unappealing. Perhaps you use too much water on the little brush. It should just be damp.
9. Don't fail to powder brows after making them up with an eyebrow pencil. This banishes shine.

This elaborate hair design created by Betty LeCornu of West Huron Street is named "Alaska." Representing the new state, the fantasy sports an igloo based on an ice floe. The model's hair was dyed blue and swept up to represent water. The northern lights are suggested by colored strands that give the creation height. Also included are stars, the flag of Alaska and kayaks. Back from the state meeting of the Hairdresser's Assn., it will be used, according to its creator, as a holiday centerpiece (minus the model, of course).

were officers (from left) Secretary Mrs. Clarence Phillips of Harper Street, President Mrs. James Weaver of Merry Road and Treasurer Mrs. Clark Bartenbaker of Eason Street.

Club Auctions Gifts at Party

The Dirt Gardeners' Club annual Christmas party was observed Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hendry on Woodstock Road, Waterford Township.

Members designed holiday decorations and conducted an auction of gifts from which proceeds will aid the civic planning group.

The group has planted the grounds of the Oakland County Crippled Children's home with 100 tulip bulbs under the direction of Mrs. Percy Rose, civic group chairman, assisted by Mrs. James Weaver and Mrs. George Quine.

Auxiliary Hears Talk on MSUO Scholarships

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's Women's Auxiliary heard Mrs. John S. Mahoney discuss the current program of the Scholarship Committee for Michigan State University Oakland at Monday's meeting in the hospital's nurses' home.

Mrs. Harwood Bacon reported on a recent workshop conducted at a by-product of tree farming is Hidden Valley by the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, office Northwest.

The status of the hospital, employees and visitors regarding liability was explained by Marie Hickey, R.N.

A social hour followed the meeting. Auxiliary members presented their annual children's Christmas party Tuesday. Mrs. R. C. Tricker was chairman of the tea table committee.

Harvesting of minor forest products—Christmas trees, decorative greens, seed cones, etc.—as a by-product of tree farming is increasing, especially in the Pacific Northwest.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice:

"I am planning to make a winter coat and noticed the collars on the ready-made coats are very soft and appear to have no interfacing whatsoever. I will appreciate your informing me if it is necessary to put any kind of interfacing in between the top and bottom layers of the collar? If one should be used, what is the best type? Also, what is the best interfacing to use down the front pieces of the coat?"

Mrs. H.J.K.

I would say that interfacing is absolutely essential for any type of garment if it's to retain its shape. You will notice that no matter how old a man's suit it, the lapels, collars and fronts still retain their original shape. This is because the right type of interfacing was used.

If you understand tailoring, you may use a soft, pliable hair-canvas in suits or coats. Hair-canvas must not be applied in the seams but must be attached to cotton tape, the cotton tape is then stitched in the seams.

If you don't understand how to apply hair-canvas, it would be better to use a loosely woven type interfacing. This is dry cleanable and washable, and will retain its shape.

"Dear Eunice:

"I would like to line the back of a skirt, but I don't know what to do with the lining in the pleat. Also, please tell me whether I should make the darts in the lining and the skirt together or separate?"

Mrs. E. L.

When cutting the lining for the skirt, allow only 1/4-inch beyond the center back seam. Do not cut the lining the full width of the pleat.

First, baste the darts in the skirt and the lining separately and then baste the lining to the skirt at the waistline and the side seams. If you are lining the skirt to the hemline, open the seam of the lining the complete length of the pleat.

If you have a back zipper, leave the center back seam of the lining open the length of the zipper. After the zipper has been applied to the skirt fabric only, turn the seam allowance on the lining and hand-stitch the edge of the lining to the zipper tape.

"Dear Eunice:

"The lock at the top of skirt zippers is so large that I have a hard time stitching the zipper in a straight line. It usually curves out where the lock ends. Is there another way of doing this?"

Your fan

I personally prefer a 7-inch neckline zipper for skirts because you will find the zipper is smaller and the tab or lock is also much smaller. For children's clothes, slacks or shorts, the regular skirt zippers would be best because of the extra strength.

If you will pull the lock of the zipper down a few inches when you are machine stitching near the top, you will be able to stitch a straighter line.

"Dear Eunice:

"My daughter is narrow through her shoulders. I would appreciate instructions on how to alter the bodice to remedy this situation. The sleeves of the garment are too low on the upper arm."

Making the shoulders narrower is a rather simple alteration. I hope all of you who have written me this same question, will keep the answer for future reference.

Estimate the exact extra width you wish to take off. Make a fold in your pattern between the neck and the armhole. This fold should be no more than 3 inches long and should taper at the end. In most cases, this should be done in the front and the back of the shoulders. Never change the shape of the sleeve.

Because patterns are standardized, you may make the same adjustment in all patterns as soon as you have determined the exact shoulder width you need.
