Flee as Forest Fire Nears Home

Plymouth Spared by Fire but Blazes May Rekindle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A raging forest fire that threatened the heart of Plymouth, Mass., historic home of the Pilgrims, was brought under control today.

Fire officials expressed fear, however, that the fire, one of many flaming in Northeast woodlands, might rekindle as temperatures rose and parched conditions continued.

Thousands of firefighters joined in halting the Plymouth fire just short of Route 3, a main highway between Boston and Cape Cod.

This was the fifth successive day of forest fires in the populous Northeast.

From Pennsylvania through New England and into Quebec and Ontario, fires raged out of control. Some fires were checked only to mushroom up again as wind whipped dying embers into living flame.

Hot sunshine and strong, shifting winds kept parched woodlands explosively dry. Only prolonged, soaking rains could end the danger and forecasters saw none in sight.

A drop in the temperatures and a lessening in the wind could give fire fighters a second breath, and this possibility was forecast by the U. S. Weather Bureau at Boston.

★ ★ ★

In Pennsylvania, fire fighters battled woods fires in opposite ends of the state. A fire Thursday about 23 miles west of Stroudsburg swept over 1,000 acres.

Another 1,000 acres were scorched by a series of 10 fires in Jefferson and Clarion Counties in the western part of the state.

"Tinderbox" conditions were reported in New Jersey, where

Equalization Cut to Cost Schools $250,000 in Year

Board Told That Slash Means City to Be Short $450,000 in Budget

A county equalization committee's $13 million slash in Pontiac's equalized valuation will cost the school system $250,000 next year, Supt. of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer told the school board last night.

Whitmer added that next year's school budget was premised on the belief that the valuation would rise at least $10 million, so the schools will be short some $450,000 from the income called for in the new budget.

The superintendent made his report right after the board had voted to ask the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to permit it to issue, as needed, $725,000 in tax anticipation notes to finance operations until supplementary state aid and tax collections show up.

★ ★ ★

Whitmer said that his best information to date had been that state equalized valuation would continue to rise for the next two or three years. The cut will make a shambles of the board's financial plans, he said.

Louis Schimmel, board president, angrily commented that the "finest school plans in the mid-west" were being destroyed by Michigan's archaic school financing methods.

CAN'T PLAN

"How can we plan anything," he said, "when we don't know how much state aid we will get, how much tax money we will get or what our valuation is?"

★ ★ ★

He added he and Whitmer were going to Lansing today to try and launch a complete overhaul of state school finances.

Whitmer stressed to the board that he had no advance notice of

Lawyer Claims Hostile Publicity Bars Fairness

Senate Probers Hear About Beck's Dealings in Mortgages

FROM OUR NEWS SERVICES

WASHINGTON — Postponement of the bribery conspiracy trial of Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa was asked today on the ground that a climate created by "hostile publicity" would prevent a fair hearing at this time.

The request for a six-month delay in the trial set for May 27 was made to Federal Judge Burnita S. Mathews by Hoff's chief counsel, Edward Bennett Williams, who also is Teamsters President Dave Beck's lawyer in the Senate labor rackets probe.

Williams offered an alternative motion for a change of venue to move the trial to another jurisdiction. He also based this motion on what he called "hostile publicity" in the case.

The jurist took under advisement Williams' plea for a continuance and the Justice Department's demand for a swift trial on the indictment accusing Hoffa of bribing a Senate investigator in an attempt to impede the rackets inquiry.

Hoffa, No. 2 man in the union, is accused along with Hyman Fischbach, Miami lawyer and former congressional employe, of conspiring to bribe New York attorney John Cye Cheasty to get a job with the Senate committee and feed its secrets to the Teamsters vice president.

Meanwhile the Senate investigators developed testimony today that Beck and a mortgage banker split $11,585 derived from handling a fund raised by unions for the

Ike Asks American People to Judge Worth of Budget

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower declared today that he wants the American people to judge for themselves "whether they are getting what they want" under his White House stewardship.

Eisenhower stepped up his campaign for his $71,800,000,000 spending budget in a telephoned speech to the fourth regional Republican conference at Louisville, Ky.

During the next two weeks, the President will make two television-radio speeches to explain the reasons for his record peacetime budget to the people and to ask their support against heavy cuts.

In his talk to the party workers, the chief executive disclared: "The 1957 budget was not recklessly or carelessly thrown together."

He added: "It represents months of solid work by many devoted people, including the secretary of the treasury and director of the budget.

"Of course all of us want a smaller budget. But it costs a lot of money to preserve our security and to wage peace. The price is inconsequential compared to the cost of waging war. This budget is a budget for peace, for the defense of our nation and the free world."

★ ★ ★

The President said he would let the American people decide whether he had brought the country peace and prosperity.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower detailed the 530-million-dollar cut as he outlined a new $3,880,000,000 foreign aid program at a White House conference with congressional leaders yesterday.

★ ★ ★

City Man Throws $5,200 in Cash Into His Furnace

Edwin C. Beauchamp, owner of Hub Auto Glass Company, 122 Oakland Ave., probably never thought he had money to burn.

Beauchamp, who told police yesterday he lost an envelope containing $5,200 in cash, in the Foster and Tregent streets vicinity, reported today the envelope was found in the business' furnace.

★ ★ ★

He said he apparently dropped the envelope on the office floor and the janitor had swept it up.

Three $1,000 bills, four $500 bills and two $100 bills were found safe in the unlighted furnace.

Parolee Says He Shot Scout by Accident

MUSKEGON (AP)—Details in the slaying of 12-year-old Boy Scout Peter Gorham were combed by authorities today following a paroled New York convict's statement that the 1955 fatal shooting was accidental.

★ ★ ★

Prosecutor Robert A. Cavanaugh directed a review of the story told calmly yesterday by Herman Barmore, alias Charles W. Ficher, 44, held on a morals charge involving a Muskegon boy.

Barmore told Sheriff Arthur Davis the Evanston, Ill., Scout was fatally shot in an impromptu target session.

Cavanaugh had no comment on the formal statement by Barmore or on resulting possible action. Barmore, as Ficher, is held under $7,500 bond for a May 15 hearing after demanding examination on a charge of sodomy.

★ ★ ★

No charge was pending in the Gorham case against the 5 foot 9, 200-pound itinerant handyman who was questioned again last night.

PAROLE VIOLATOR

Davis said Barmore's statement followed a telegram from the New York State Parole Board identifying Barmore as a parole violator with a history of 21 years in prison on two armed robbery convictions.

He said Barmore first admitted his identity and later offered the information that an accidental shot from a .22 caliber rifle in his hand felled the Gorham youth.

The boy disappeared July 5, 1955, from Camp Wabaningo at nearby Duck Lake. His body was found six weeks later in a Laketon Township woods, four miles south of the camp.

The boy's bedroll and knapsack lay about 500 feet from the decomposed body. Peter's undershorts lay about 40 feet away from the body. The youth's lower body was clad in dungaree pants. A bullet hole pierced the skull.

Cavanaugh yesterday said Barmore's statement failed to mention molestation of the boy and that the man was not questioned about it.

Davis quoted Barmore as saying he picked up the boy on a road near the camp after Peter claimed he was attempting to rejoin hiking companions.

Barmore said he became lost in an attempt to circle Duck Lake while talk with the boy turned to target shooting and rifles.

He said they stopped at the woods, where the body was later found, to fire a rifle carried in Barmore's car. The boy shot once, Barmore said, and went to reset a tin can target while Barmore held the gun.

Barmore said he was holding the gun when it fired. While ejecting the shell, he told Davis, he looked up to see the youth slumped to the ground.

Senate Slashes Postal Budget

58 Million Dollar Cut Approved in Committee Over Postmaster's Plea

WASHINGTON (INS)—The budget troubles of Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield were compounded today.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Appropriations Committee followed the lead of the economy-bent House yesterday and approved a 58 million dollar postal fund cut for the year beginning July 1.

★ ★ ★

The committee overwhelmingly rejected Summerfield's pleas for restoration of the full three billion, 225 million dollars he requested for department operations for the coming fiscal year.

The setback for Summerfield was even more serious in wake of his insistence he will need 70 to 90 million dollars more than he originally requested to maintain normal postal service after July

★ ★ ★

If the cash isn't forthcoming, he said, he would order service cutbacks just as he did in March when the department ran short. Summerfield is expected to ask for the extra funds in a special supplemental money bill later in the session.

More Showers Due, With Rainy Weekend

The weather man has predicted cooler with showers or thunderstorms today, high 64 to 68, and cooler tonight and tomorrow.

The low tonight will be from 38 to 42 degrees. Tomorrow's high will reach only 60 to 64.

Yesterday's rainfall totaled .63 inches. Scattered showers are expected again Saturday and Sunday.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a. m. was 49. The temperature was 47 at 2 p.m.

Strongest Truck Market Predicted by GMC Official

"We are entering into the strongest truck market we have ever seen," Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the GMC Truck & Coach Division, told a gathering of Rotary and Kiwanis Club members yesterday.

"And we at General Motors Truck and Coach are prepared to go with this trend," Monaghan added.

The 42-year-old executive this week completed a 15,000 mile trip visiting 3,000 GMC truck dealers in all sections of the country.

FUTURE BRIGHT

"The future is very, very bright," he told a luncheon meeting of both clubs who met at the truck plant.

He said for the first four months of this year, sales were below comparable 1956 figures. But he attributed this to a general "drop off" in the truck market of 10 per cent.

He expressed confidence that for the remaining part of the year, sales might match last year's volume of more than 900,000.

SUMMARIZES TRIP

Summarizing his trip, on which he was accompanied by other officials, Monaghan said: "We were particularly impressed with the new and fresh outlook for our dealers in all parts of the country."

"They are very confident and optimistic," the speaker remarked.

Monaghan commented that many dealers sided with his prediction that the entire truck population might climb to 30 million. It is currently 10 million, he said.

After viewing several films, many club members toured the South boulevard plant.

Bond Issue Could Avoid Court Action, Says City Manager

Anti-Pollution Order Spurs Sewage Plant

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Pontiac is complying with a 1951 order of the Michigan Water Resources Commission in planning a $3,091,000 expansion of its sewage treatment system, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

The bulk of the cost, $2,700,000, will be up for a decision May 20 at the special election on a $4,550,000 bond issue.

Willman said the construction of a new sewage treatment plant, revamping the present one, and tying in both, would complete Phase Two of the order issued six years ago.

At that time the city was confronted with inadequacy of its plant at Featherstone and East boulevard, and an overflow of untreated sewage from it into the the Clinton River.

"The plant had a capacity of 9,000,000 gallons a day," Willman explained, "but often at peak times there were 15,000,000 gallons passing through the plant."

ENDANGERED COMMUNITIES

The overflow went into the river, endangering communities downstream with polluted water.

At this point, the manager continued, the Resources Commission and State Health Dept. ordered Pontiac to boost the plant's capacity to 15,000,000 to prevent this overflow.

A $800,000 expansion job took care of Phase One, with the city planning ahead to a further increase of the system, necessitated by a rapid population growth — Phase Two.

So Pontiac officials, with lengthy studies of engineer consultants to aid them, have planned to build a second and more modern plant on a 47-acre site at Opdyke Rd. and Auburn Ave.

NEW PLANT ESSENTIAL

"The old plant has had three improvement jobs since 1929," the manager commented. "There's no room left there to do any more."

The city is asking voters to approve issuance of $2,700,000 worth of general obligation bonds to finance partially the three-fold project.

Willman said with its completion — the new plant, remodeling portions of the present one, and linking both with a huge pipeline — Pontiac will have one integrated sewage system.

★ ★ ★

"It is projected to take care of our needs for some years," he said, "and designed to be added to, if needed."

NO RATE HIKE SEEN

He said "there is no indication of an increase in sewer rates" because of the expansion.

How the balance of the three-million-dollar project will be financed is not decided, Willman remarked. It will be either from revenue bonds or from capital improvement funds, he added.

"It will depend largely on how much of a capital improvement program we will be carrying next year," he stated.

★ ★ ★

200 Members, Friends Plan 4-Day Cruise

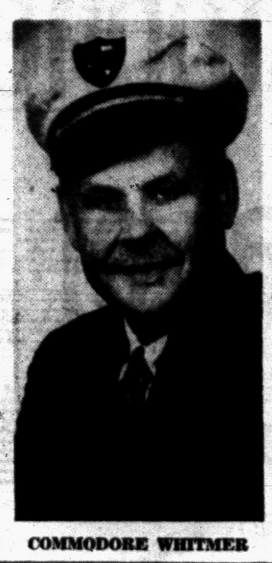

C. of C. Will Heave Anchor, Sail Great Lakes June 7-10

It will be a new command for Dr. Dana P. Whitmer June 7-10 when 200 Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce members and friends sail aboard the S.S. South American.

Whitmer, superintendent of public schools, was appointed commodore for this, the first annual summer cruise of the Pontiac Chamber.

Already some 165 members and their guests have signed up for the weekend of fun upon the Great Lakes, with stops planned at Mackinac Island and Charlevoix.

"This will mark the first time in Pontiac history that so many businessmen and their friends will be grouped together for a ship's cruise," Manager John W. Hirlinger said.

COMMODORE WHITMER

RESERVATIONS OPEN

He added that reservations may still be made at the chamber office in the Waldron Hotel. The ship has been chartered especially for chamber members and friends. Cost for the trip is $110 per person, which includes a private stateroom.

The ship will leave Detroit at 6 p.m. June 7 at the foot of Woodward avenue and arrive back in Detroit at 2 p.m. June 10.

Committees are now being activated to plan a full weekend of fun and relaxation, Hirlinger reported.

One of the highlights will be that the ship will pass under the new Mackinac Bridge twice, he said.

UAW, Chrysler Officials to Discuss Settlement

DETROIT (INS) — Officials of Chrysler and the United Auto Workers union will meet tomorrow to discuss the current dispute at the company which has triggered a million dollar damage suit and a strike vote.

UAW President Walter Reuther, who arranged the parley, will be present when Chrysler President L. L. Colbert and officials of Local 212 meet to talk over the touchy dispute.

The trouble stems from the company's plans to move some operations to a new stamping plant at Twinsburg, Ohio.

Know the Weather

BY E. H. SIMS

People often say noises are different just before a rain. It is argued that horns, whistles, etc., are more clearly heard and that many sounds create what amounts to a sort of echo—before a rain.

If there any scientific basis for such statements? Do sounds actually carry through the air more clearly before the arrival of rain? Though it may surprise some, these old sayings are true.

When the weather is clear, there is no cloud roof above the earth. As rain threatens and clouds begin passing overhead, often lowering, the effect is one of a sound reflector, and sounds often bounces back, so to speak, from this overhead layer of heavy clouds.

The result is a sort of echo-sound, or a hollow sound, which carries farther, clearly, than the same sound does on a bright, cloudless day. Therefore, when familiar noises sound unusually clear, or loud, and are heard great distances, it usually means the cloud ceiling or heavy moist air is lowering above you.

And, when this happens, you are usually in for wet weather. So, noises are different before a rain, after all.

New Fire House Near Completion on West Huron

The finishing touches are being put on Pontiac's new $100,000 fire station at West Huron and Genesee, according to architect Leo J. Heenan.

Heenan said the city might accept the project as completed from the contractors Monday.

Fire Chief John F. Schroeder said he was ready to move in 14 men after the hall is accepted by the city.

He said he had to "extract" several men from other stations to provide the full quota for Pontiac's fifth fire station.

The city is planning a dedication and open house soon after all equipment is in the building.

House Passes Drainage Bills

Call Legislation Answer to Oakland Sewer and Water Problems

Legislation seen as a solution to many Oakland County drain, sewer and water problems was readied for the governor's signature yesterday in Lansing.

The House passed two Senate-approved bills, one authorizing broad control over sewer and water projects and the other giving financial backing to drain projects.

★ ★ ★

Passage was considered a victory by county officials and legislators, who had unanimously supported the measures.

The first bill allows counties of more than 75,000 population to set up public works departments to initiate and plan water and sewer projects involving two or more communities.

SET UP FINANCING

The department would have powers to set up financing and, if necessary, force unwilling communities to participate.

Financing would be initially handled by the county, with reimbursement by the communities involved through bonding or special assessment.

★ ★ ★

The measure allows the Oakland County Board of Supervisors to set up a three to five member board, allocate funds, and hire a director and engineering staff as soon as it is approved by the governor, said Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson of Waterford, a co-sponsor.

Both bills originally were sponsored in the Senate by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, of Dratron Plains.

The second measure authorizes boards of supervisors in counties of more than 150,000 population to pledge countywide full faith and credit behind sanitary drains.

★ ★ ★

It would allow Oakland County communities to get lower interest rates on money borrowed for drains, Lodge said.

The county could back local projects and also projected large, inter-county drains that are seen as the best answer to Oakland's problems, Lodge said.

Two other measures are nearing a final vote.

CONTRACT TOGETHER

One would allow communities involved in the proposed Evergreen Interceptor sewer to contract together for a system to halt polluting of the River Rouge.

According to Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, of West Bloomfield Township, the Evergreen authority would be allowed to come under the county public works department, if desired.

"Although this would dissolve the authority, we still want the bill to pass in order to get the drain started as soon as possible," said Roberts, sponsor of the measure.

★ ★ ★

The Evergreen bill was reported favorably out of a House committee yesterday, along with another measure introduced by Anderson.

Anderson's bill would make township financing of water and sewer projects easier.

It would allow townships to extend repayment of bonds from 10 to 30 years, he said, and authorize reduction in the amount due in each payment.

Equalization Slash Cuts School Money

the county equalization committee's action.

"Pontiac raised its assessed valuation by $14 million," he said, "but the county equalized that at a lower figure actually reducing the valuation by $13 million. It now goes to the Michigan Tax Commission for their action."

The decrease in Pontiac's equalization reflects a new tax formula which experts say the state will use this year. It ups slightly the valuation of real property and reduces by 10 per cent the valuation of personal property, including the vast inventory of machinery and stock in the city's industrial plants.

CONTINUE ITS USE

It is expected that this formula will continue to be used, and that there will be further reductions in the valuation of personal property.

The school board long-range plans assumed that valuation would rise by at least $10 million a year for the next few years. Whitmer said the board would have to completely revise these plans, curtail construction and rework next year's budget as well.

The superintendent also explained the current state aid picture, saying the district was short $19 a pupil on promised aid for this year. He said the tax anticipation notes would be issued as needed through August in the belief that eventually the Legislature would levy new taxes to make up all or part of the $19 deficit.

The notes would be 60 or 90 day types, issuable on seven days notice. Schimmel said he thought they would bear low interest similar to short term U.S. government bills.

In other action, the board appointed four new principals. They are Perry Ninotti, Willis School; Arthur Bell, Wever; Lorena Adams, Kennett Rd.; and Adeline Hook, Herrington Hills. Melvyn Staebler was named assistant principal of Madison Junior High.

★ ★ ★

Assistant Superintendents J. Cecil Cox and Otto Hufziger reported on wage negotiations with the United Skilled Maintenance Trades Union representing the school's maintenance men. They said the men wanted wages comparable to skilled construction tradesmen and they felt the wage level should be closer to plant maintenance workers.

A study is under way to determine what comparable wages in other fields are, they said.

Estimate for Graham in New York

Crusade Tab $900,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham's 6½-week series of meetings here is expected to cost $900,000, according to budget figures at his New York Crusade headquarters.

This would make the meetings, starting next Wednesday night, the most expensive crusade that Graham has conducted.

★ ★ ★

The costliest so far, said a spokesman, was the 12-week 1954 series in London which ran about $450,000.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen for the evangelist said yesterday that about $300,000 already has been contributed for the New York Crusade by business organizations, individuals and church groups.

The highest item appearing on the New York expense budget was $360,000 for "auditorium and stadia rental and related expenses." Most of Graham's appearances will be at Madison Square Garden.

★ ★ ★

The New York Crusade income budget lists estimated receipts from offerings at $250,000; contributions from the Billy Graham crusades in Richmond, Va., and Louisville, Ky., $45,209; other receipts to April 1, $176,688; and the amount to be raised by contributions from individuals, foundations, organizations, partnerships and corporations, $428,103.

★ ★ ★

A note on the Billy Graham New York Crusade Inc. budget says:

"The salaries or honoraria for Billy Graham and every member of his (evangelistic) team are to be borne by the Billy Graham Evangelistic Assn. of Minneapolis, Minn., so that neither Mr. Graham nor any member of his team will receive any payment whatsoever for their work in this crusade."

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said Graham's salary is $15,000 a year. Only his meals and expenses incidental to his appearances here will be paid by the Crusade.

The spokesman said the New Yorker Hotel, where Graham will live while here, will not charge him for a suite.

30 Crushed to Death as Surging Crowd Cheers Rule by 5-Man Junta

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla was swept out of power today.

Amid scenes of wild jubilation in which 30 persons were crushed to death, it was announced he was turning over the presidency to a five-man military junta.

Rojas was overthrown by a flood of opposition from the Roman Catholic Church, the business community and the people.

★ ★ ★

He declared in a broadcast from San Carlos Palace: "It would be impossible that I, who gave the country peace, should cause the country useless bloodshed."

(Earlier Story, Page 8)

Crowds began to assemble in the capital in anticipation of the announcement. They jammed the streets and Plaza Bolivar in front of the Capitol building. At least 30 persons perished in a stampede when troops cleared the plaza.

ARMY IN COMMAND

Rojas declared he had given command to "a military group. The armed forces continue in command of the country."

He announced a junta composed of Maj. Gen. Gabriel Paris, Maj. Gen. Ideogracias Fonseca, Rear Adm. Ruben Piedrahita, Maj. Gen. Rafael Navas Pardo, and Brig. Gen. Luis A. Ordonez.

Rojas said this junta would have "the mission of calling popular elections."

GOP Senators Urge 5-Cent Cigarette Tax

LANSING (AP) — A two cents a pack increase in the state cigarette tax emerged today as the key to the 1957-58 school aid program favored by majority Republican senators.

The House rejected such financing list week, and passed a bill calling for about 15 million dollars in additional levies on beer and whisky.

★ ★ ★

As agreed to in a GOP caucus yesterday, the Senate plan would support a formula based on about $188 a pupil and deductible millage of three outstate—except for a 2% rate in districts with community colleges.

Even after arriving at their decision, some Republican senators said they doubted it would prove the final solution for one of the knottiest problems before the legislature.

Ruth Shain Group Hears Talk on 'The Cold War'

BIRMINGHAM—More than 200 persons from the area heard Joseph M. Dodge speak on "Economic Aspects of the Cold War" yesterday at the Community House. The occasion was the 37th annual breakfast of the Ruth Shain International Relations Class.

Dodge, asking that no public record be made of his address, drew a sharp picture of the impact the "Cold War" has on the international economic picture.

The speaker has served numerous governmental posts including a position as direct adviser to the President, United States representative, as well as several posts in the field of military activities and government.

In addition, he is active in local civic and government affairs. He is an official of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co., and also serves Chrysler Corp., Harper Hospital, International Chamber of Commerce and the commission active in developing atomic energy for peacetime power.

Also on the program was a young Michigan tenor, Wesley Dalton of Dearborn. He was accompanied by Kent McDonald, minister of music at St. James Episcopal Church.

Forest Fire Spares Historic Plymouth

15 small fires consumed 125 acres Thursday.

At Plymouth, more than 100 persons fled their homes and another 2,000 residents were alerted to move out at a moment's notice.

★ ★ ★

The fire broke out Wednesday in Miles Standish State Forest south of Plymouth and has devoured 50 homes and buildings and blackened some 14,000 acres.

FOREST BLACKENED

Another fire at Montague in western Massachusetts blackened two square miles of forest in an hour and a half.

★ ★ ★

Some 40 woods fires, fanned by tricky winds, swept through more than 7,500 acres. Thirty buildings were destroyed, three fire fighters were injured and a small boy was hurt.

Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts, who already has declared a state of emergency, said he will order the National Guard mobilized if the situation worsens.

AID NORTHEAST ZONE

It is designed primarily to handle sewage from 2,000 acres in the city's northeast quadrant, and to provide for any growth of Pontiac to the east.

★ ★ ★

Examining a city map, the manager pointed out that the city is generally restricted to expansion in this direction. "With this in mind, our plant system would be in a central location," he commented.

It will be about a mile distant to the southeast of the plant at 254 N. East Blvd.

Because of the need of the new plant, Willman said court action might result if voters reject the bond issue. "The power rests with the Water Resources Commission to prove need with the courts," he said.

The remainder of the May 20 bond issue will be $1,850,000 for equipping and completing Pontiac General Hospital and providing a 300-unit parking lot there. The lot is required by the city's zoning ordinance.

Also sharing a spot on the ballot will be a one-mill increase to Pontiac's tax structure. Sixty-five cents per thousand of assessed valuation of the one mill will provide the money to pay the principal and interest of the plant bonds.

Strike Cuts Back National Magazines

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — A Philadelphia union's first strike in its 59-year history Thursday produced a sharp curtailment of production of dozens of national magazines.

★ ★ ★

The strike called yesterday by Local 72 of the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers Union, involves about 250 electrotypers at five firms, including Cuneo Eastern Press, Inc.

Cuneo prints about 50 national magazines for distribution in eastern states, including Life, Time, Good Housekeeping, Field and Stream and the Saturday Review.

Pleads Guilty to Getting Beer for Two Minors

Sheadrick Morris, 33, of 363 Orchard Lake Ave., changed his plea from innocent to guilty Thursday when he was charged with furnishing beer to minors.

Morris was committed to the county jail for 10 days and ordered to pay a $50 fine by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

★ ★ ★

Lt. William Nesbitt, head of the Pontiac Police vice squad, said he arrested Morris Saturday with the assistance of Patrolman Billie L. Irwin and Raymond Dickinson after Nesbitt questioned Morris when he saw the accused put a case of beer in an auto occupied by two minors.

Italian Officials Still Hunt for 'Treasure of Dongo'

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Italian officials are trying to unravel a 12-year-old mystery—what happened to the "Treasure of Dongo."

★ ★ ★

The treasure was the money and valuables — variously estimated up to $100 million — which dictator Benito Mussolini's group was carrying when trying to flee into Switzerland in the dying days of World War II.

Mussolini was caught by partisans and executed, along with his mistress, Claretta Petacci, and others. But the treasure disappeared and is believed to have been used by Italian Communists to finance their long efforts to gain control in Italy.

In a week since a trial of 36 Italian defendants opened in Padua there has been one bit of evidence pointing toward this belief.

★ ★ ★

Carlo Maderna testified he drove a truck carrying the treasure from the Dongo town hall to Como, where it was received by Dante Gorrieri. The latter is a Communist deputy in the Italian Parliament and then was secretary of the Como Communist Federation.

DENIED CHARGE

Gorrieri hotly denied that he received the treasure which Maderna said he had been told was not worth much. Maderna also testified that his life later was threatened.

★ ★ ★

Maderna said Michele Moretti, former political commissar of the Garibaldi regime, asked him to say that the treasure had been stolen from the truck while it was parked.

Charges against the defendants in the mystery include murder, embezzlement and receiving stolen property.

Mussolini was hiding in one of the trucks disguised as a German soldier when captured near Lake Como. In his car and in the other trucks were the secret funds of the so-called social republic and other property of a total value that could never be ascertained.

The treasure included gold bars, gold sovereigns, Swiss and French francs, pesetas, dollar and pound

LEATHER CASE

Among objects never found was a leather case which Mussolini carried and which was rumored to contain correspondence with Sir Winston Churchill, then British Prime Minister.

★ ★ ★

One partisan named Neri vanished mysteriously a week after the events at Dongo. His financee would not accept a partisan tribunal's explanation that Neri was executed as a Fascist spy.

In trying to find out what happened she also disappeared in June 1945, two months after Mussolini's treasure had been taken. In the following month a girl friend of hers disappeared, and this second girl's father also vanished.

At a long inquiry preceding the current trail it was charged that Reds were responsible for the deaths of these four people as well as the disappearance of the huge treasure.

Public to See A-Plant

MONROE (AP) — An open house will be held at the new Enrico Fermi atomic power plant at nearby Lagoona Beach May 25-26 as a feature of Michigan week.

Investigation Sought in DeHoCo Charge

LANSING (AP) — Two Democratic legislators today asked that Detroit's Common Council investigate "alleged inhuman and vicious practices" at the Detroit House of Correction.

The request came in a resolution submitted to the legislature by Reps. Federick Yates and Charline White, both of Detroit. They said they based their action on reports "from responsible persons listing numerous conditions at the institution which are in violation of accepted prison standards of sanitation and health."

In a similar move, the state corrections commission yesterday called for a thorough study of operations in the institution's women's division. It recommended the citizens research council of Detroit undertake the study.

Paul R. Brown, former superintendent at DeHoCo, touched off the furor with accusations that the institution was being improperly run. The charges were denied by Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo and members of the House of Corrections commission.

Mystery Gets Deeper in Shooting of Costello

NEW YORK (INS)—Mystery surrounding the shooting of gambler Frank Costello deepened today with the disclosure that top racketeers from New York to Philadelphia disappeared several days before the murder attempt.

This strengthened the belief of authorities that a mob of gangsters which controls gambling in New Jersey and Philadelphia was behind the attempted assassination, the New York Journal-American said.

Calls Housewives Shrewd Shoppers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) says American housewives like trading stamps, and furthermore, that they know more about shopping values "than all the experts put together."

Interrupting testimony of government marketing specialists yesterday on the relationship between stamps and food costs, Mrs. Knutson said the housewife "shops where she gets the best value."

"If trading stamps are part of that value, she will save them," she said. "If they aren't, she won't.

"I know in my own state that 85 per cent of the housewives save stamps, and that they like them."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Knutson, a member of a House agriculture subcommittee investigating retail food costs, let fly at what she said have been "frivolous charges about the feather-headed American housewife."

"I have heard it seriously said that the average American housewife shops erratically and with no more purpose than a bumblebee, and that she is therefore attracted by brightly colored stamps, and that collection of these stamps has become something of a hobby with her," she snapped.

"A more laughable charge I cannot imagine."

Her male colleagues sat by in silence as Mrs. Knutson said housewives are shrewd and effective shoppers who do a pretty good job" of shopping for the family.

Eisenhower Budget Up for Discussion

An interesting political contest looms in Washington.

President DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER has decided to go to Congress and battle for his $71.8 billion budget. Also, he plans on carrying his fight to the people in a major speech or two.

★ ★ ★

When he presented his record-breaking totals for a peacetime economy, Congress received it a bit breathlessly, but seemed to survive with a minimum of criticism.

However, when the people across the land received the news they were first stunned or shocked into silence; but they revived rapidly and the rafters rang with cries of disapproval and even indignation. The taxpayers became very vocal and expressed themselves openly, privately and in large and small gatherings.

They wanted it cut.

Congress began to hear from the constituents back home and if there's one thing sacred in the life of a Congressman, it's a constituent who votes in his district. Especially is this true, if the constituent is uttering strident cries of pain and anguish.

Hence, both the Senate and the House began to shy away from the budget. It fairly stood alone in all its pristine glory—and little else. Those who had tacitly approved became silent. Those who were silent, voiced open criticism. And those who had disapproved at the outset, broke into full cry.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the early stages of this incipient rebellion, the President said little. A couple of men in very high places expressed criticism of the amount and then became silent. Hence the 71.8 billion found few defenders and an army of critics. In fact at one time, President EISENHOWER told the Congress to go ahead and show him how to cut it. Congress was slow to accept this challenge.

★ ★ ★

"Foreign Aid" which had the flag wrapped around it for many years, was suddenly stripped of all sacred qualities and it came in for heavy pounding from the hustings.

★ ★ ★

An interesting situation looms ahead.

Can President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was unquestionably the most popular man in the world a few months ago, summon enough defense to carry his projects? Can he persuade Congress to forget the heavy mail and the vocal reactions they received from back home? Can he remind enough New Dealers and Fair Dealers that the Democratic Party policy for twenty years was a continuous round of "tax, tax, spend and tax?"

★ ★ ★

The fur will fly in days ahead. But who knows which way?

Case hardened Washington observers who have "been around" for years and years, declare the President will probably win out in most of his points. There will be some concessions out of deference to the lamentations from back home, but in the end, the two Houses will capitulate to the lobbyists who will now be reinforced by the President.

Boom in Boating Boon to Lake-Filled County

Oakland County is enjoying a mild and almost unheralded boom that has run two or three seasons already and which promises to continue unabated.

We refer to boating.

The increase is startling.

All over the United States, water craft of all descriptions have been increasing amazingly in popularity and usage. All manner of lakes and rivers are witnessing the greatest parade of water maneuvers in the history of the world. Everything from canoes up to impressive cabin cruisers are springing into use as never before.

★ ★ ★

We now have the boatel.

It's a first cousin to the motel.

This institution appeals to the boat trade and provides convenient dockage in place of parking. It then offers meals that people can eat on the spot or "take out." Of course, Oakland County is prospering above the average in this connection. We have the lakes in such profusion that the increased activity is clearly reflected.

★ ★ ★

Probably this is a fine thing and serves a good cause. It takes people out in the open, provides a happy diversion and adds a new interest to their lives. Whatever the upswing in the boating business proves to be, Oakland County stands to gain beyond the average community.

More power to the putt-putts.

The Man About Town

Who Is Oldest?

Our Records Don't Show Any Near Century Mark

May: What appears to be trying to outdo April in weather succotash.

This column still is hunting for the oldest man in Oakland County, and is getting quite alarmed. There are several members of the fair sex among our 600,000 population who have passed the century mark, but we know of no man over 97 years. Is there something about our environment that is not conducive to the longevity of males? If so, let's fix it.

Our loyal readers are asked to come to our assistance. We want to recognize the oldest man in this county. If you feel that you might qualify for that distinction, or if you know of somebody who might do so, drop us a line or give us a ring. Yes, you might bring in the evidence.

"Practice Shots, Heck!—This Is the Real Thing"

David Lawrence Says:

Humphrey's Remarks Misquoted

WASHINGTON — Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey has been bearing the brunt of a good deal of criticism lately throughout the country. Some accuse him of "attacking the President's budget. "Others say he predicted a depression that "will curl your hair" unless the 1958 budget recommended by the President is cut by many billions of dollars. Partisans on Capitol Hill have been twitting the administration and seeking to exploit the alleged contradictions.

LAWRENCE

But, if ever a man in public life was misquoted out of context, misunderstood and misrepresented, it is the present Secretary of the Treasury in relation to his comments at a press conference of January 16 last.

★ ★ ★

Fortunately, a stenographic record was kept and was issued to the press that same day.

This correspondent has just completed a study of what was distributed by various wire services and what was printed in most of the newspapers immediately after the press conference of January 16. The only conclusion that can be reached is that the text of what the secretary really said and the impression conveyed by some of the wire services and what was printed in ent. Here is the exact text of the question that drew the response about "hair curling":

ACADEMIC TALK

"Mr. Secretary, isn't nearly all the talk here today about cutting spending and cutting taxes largely academic, as long as the world situation remains what it is? Looking at this budget, I find that the lion's share of the increased expenditures is for mutual security and defense. Is there any hope anywhere in the world situation that you can do any cutting in defense spending in the next few years?"

★ ★ ★

It is to be noted that the questioner inquired about "any hope anywhere in the world situation" and referred specifically to the "increased expenditures for mutual security and defense." Here is the exact text of Humphrey's answer:

"I think there is, yes I do. I think there is some hope you can reduce expenditures all along the line. I would certainly deplore the day that we thought we couldn't ever reduce expenditures of this terrific amount, the terrific tax take we are taking out of this country. If we don't over a long period of time, I will predict that you will have a depression that will curl your hair, because we are just taking too much money out of this economy that we need to make the jobs that you have to have as time goes on."

Humphrey spoke not of this year's budget but of what has to be done "over a long period of time." He was talking directly about reducing expenses for armament. So are Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Mollett and Chancellor Adenauer. All over the world statesmen are talking of the backbreaking burdens of armament.

None of the dispatches written on January 16 that this correspondent saw emphasized sufficiently the difference between Humphrey's comments on the long-range prospects due to the armament burden arising out of the world situation and the particular budget submitted that week by the President.

The public didn't get the impression at all that Humphrey was really supporting the existing budget but that he was differing with the President.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Angina 'Cripple' Loses Fear of Heart Attacks

"For years I have had what a heart specialist diagnosed as angina pectoris," writes an Ohio man, "and it got so bad that I was afraid to walk just a short distance. Always relied on nitroglycerin pills.

DR. BRADY

"I began doing the belly-breathing exercise, taking iodin ration, calciwafers and B-Nutron every day. My wife also takes these, just for her general well being.

"Believe me, Dr. Brady, I am very grateful. I am not afraid any more. I take several walks daily and seldom feel the need of a nitro pill. have just one question to ask: Am I doing right to take all of these medicines every day . . . . ? (H.C.A.)"

What medicines? You mention only one medicine—nitroglycerin. In the CVD book (Little Lesson 2), I suggest that one with pectoric dolor should take a few nitroglycerin tablets every day. There is far too much awe of nitroglycerin among sufferers from heart and artery troubles.

Lesson 21 is "How to Breathe." In it you will find instructions for natural breating. When you have learned to use your bellows, you'll find that a few inflations will relieve or ward off many an ache or pain.

★ ★ ★

Little Lesson 26 is "The Calcium Shortage." I am more than ever convinced that a high calcium diet arrests or, if taken in time, even reverses CVD—cardio-vascular degeneration—converting it to regeneration.

PAMPHLET AVAILABLE

"The Iodine Ration" pamphlet is available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope. I recommend a suitable daily intake of iodin in one form or another for every man, woman or child. This is not medicine, but merely one of the elements essential for good nutrition and health.

It is particularly important that one with CVD get his or her iodin every day. And please remember that this is Food, not medicine.

This is my advice to the poor soul who takes seriously the cruel suggestion that a daily dose of digitalis is necessary to keep his heart going:

TAPER OFF

Taper off over a period of several weeks, if you're afraid to quit abruptly, in this fashion—say, you are using tincture of digitalis, take your daily dose in a spoonful or two of B-Nutron syrup; and day by day or week by week, use one less drop of the drug. But keep the B-Nutron at the same optimal level indefinitly.

Without promising or guaranteeing anything, I merely say that, in most instances, victims of the digitalis obession who use this tapering-off method begin to feel so good after a few weeks that they toss the remainder of the digitalis into the ash can and sail on happily without the crutch.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Press Readers Continue Discussion About Hospital

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I was glad to see The Press holds "hospital authorities accountable" and sees no alternative but to vote for the hospital addition. I beg to differ. The city officials who direct the hospital authorities are the ones whom I hold accountable and I refuse to condone their conduct by voting additional funds.

I see other alternatives which do not let the hospital "stand empty and idle." City officials asked a three-million-dollar hospital addition and 1½ mills a year (over a third million dollars at present assessed valuation) as a blank check for other capital improvements. We authorized exactly what they advised. However, had they requested the true four and one-half million for the hospital, we might well have balked at the cost of the other improvements.

Why not balk now? Let the rest of the hospital cost be made up from funds on hand (if any) and this capital improvement blank check. Certainly it will put some other worthy projects a few years farther away on the timetable, which you and I must do in our personal spending. Also, this will be an appropriate way to tell the city officials that we, not they, decide how much of our money will be spent. We can tell them in an even more appropriate way at the next general election.

A. C. Roberts

Mrs. Katherine Moody says she paid a 15 per cent surtax for the privilege of using our hospital as someone outside the city. She thinks this is too much. I'm not sure it's enough. She must remember she didn't pay a cent of taxes to build the place or keep it up.

Cityite

I admire Mr. Kern's initiative and courage and hasten to affirm his stand. I have consistently voted against the hospital addition and bond issues for the following reasons:

The present site is a poor location for expansion. Land is high and space at a premium. Expansion for parking would mean wasteful and extremely high spending.

Traffic around the hospital is heavy and won't get better. Ambulance and emergency car access is poor and, on summer weekends, dangerous.

The addition is necessary to accommodate non-Pontiac residents who comprise 51 per cent of the hospital users. Wouldn't it have been more logical to locate it nearer them in a more central location, such as some of the land already publicly owned?

Our hospital administration has yet to prove its ability to administer the present plant efficiently and economically.

I did not like the handling of the entire campaign, such as insistence on getting the bonds approved even though voters disapproved it twice; half truths quoted by city and hospital officials; mysterious fund manipulations and financial statements. I resent my tax dollars being spent on projects the majority disapproves, and I resent being treated as though I and the rest of the taxpayers are naughty children who must be led around by the nose and mildly punished for speaking up about matters that concern us all.

Hospital facilities are adequate for Pontiac and, though I sympathize with suburban neighbors, I don't feel it's our responsibility to provide for them. I must disagree with the editorial in last week's Press. I say vote "NO" and let the unfinished skeleton stand a few months as an object lesson. Demand a public accounting of funds, examine administration. All questions should be answered, and then let duly elected officials submit to the public a plan to finish the addition and let suburban neighbors share in cost and expenses by taxation or assessment and assume part responsibility for operation.

We're stuck with a bad situation, but we can still salvage some good and correct some wrongs that have plagued Pontiac, and in the process prevent a like situation from occurring again.

W. R. Shirley

64 Seminole St.

I see someone thinks half of the money for the hospital should be raised by "popular subscription" outside Pontiac, as half of the usage of the hospital is for people from surrounding areas.

That is a fine idea but in my opinion it is utterly impossible. If you staged a "campaign" for $900,000 for Pontiac City Hospital funds outside the city, you wouldn't get one-tenth part of the goal. You have to be practical about these matters. No one struggles to do the impossible.

The money will have to come through a higher charge for the services when outside people enter the hospital. There's no other way. The management can compute a sensible charge and then impose it. If it is double the charge for people in the city, then those outside will have to pay the double charge or go to some other hospital. I don't want to pay their costs any more than anyone else does.

Old Fund Raiser

During my recent stay at Pontiac General Hospital, I was impressed with the courteous, efficient handling of patients, from time of checking in until discharge. It was pretty obvious that members of the staff were dedicated to making your stay as comfortable and pleasant as possible. I have nothing but praise for the staff at the hospital.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Thou shalt have none other gods before me.—Deut. 5:7.

★ ★ ★

God will put up with a great many things in the human heart, but there is one thing that He will not put up with in it—a second place. He who offers God a second place, offers Him no place.—John Ruskin.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Explains Personality Development

Tom wonders if some folks aren't "born" salesmen. What is your opinion? Then read the discussion below to see the true facts about personality development. Don't make the error of thinking your environment is the same as that of your brothers and sisters, for your sequence in the family makes a tremendous difference!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-377: Tom T., aged 31, attended a meeting sponsored by National Sales Executives Club which I recently addressed in Davenport, Iowa.

★ ★ ★

CRANE

"Dr. Crane, aren't some people just 'born' salesmen?" he inquired.

"My younger brother, for example, has a natural gift of gab. He can talk an arm off of you.

"He has no stage fright and always has plenty of funny stories to break the ice.

"But I am shy and almost petrified with fear when I start out to make a sales presentation.

"And if the prospect laughs at me or slams a door in my face, it burns me up and I am no good for the rest of the day.

"In fact, I often get a nervous headache in advance of an important interview and can't throw off that headache the rest of the day.

★ ★ ★

"So don't you think salesmanship is something you are born with?"

SALES PSYCHOLOGY

No, salesmen are not "born." But they may acquire certain extrovertive traits so early in life that most people mistakenly think they were inherited.

Tom is the oldest child. Like the typical firstborn, he tends to be an introvert. Such people are often shy, daydreamers, conscientious but socially fearful and reticent.

Tom's younger brother is more extrovertive, for he is like the Prodigal Son.

★ ★ ★

Second children in the family sequence learn to manipulate people even while they are toddlers. For they will cry phony tears just to get their harassed mother to rush to their support, and hence prevail on the older child to give up his tricycle to "baby" brother.

HOW PERSONALITY DEVELOPS

If you parents have two children of the same sex and not far apart in age, you will doubtless find that your younger son is more like the Prodigal Son of Palestine than he is like his older brother here in modern America.

Why? Because being second in the sequence of children offers a radically different environment than the firstborn encountered.

The firstborn tends to daydream because no other youngster was on the family scene when he arrived, so he lacked daily playmates.

He may have thus invented imaginary companions. Meanwhile, all the toys and all the family spotlight were his alone.

★ ★ ★

But when the new baby arrived, everything changed. The intruder soon tried to grab the firstborn's toys.

So the firstborn became a hoarder and a "counter" of his possessions, to make sure they were all there.

The younger child, however, gobbles down his candy lest the stronger firstborn take it away by brute force when mama's back is turned.

So your personality is greatly influenced by the sequence you occupy in the family group.

EXTROVERTS VS. INTROVERTS

The second child is often more at ease among people and a glib talker, like the Prodigal Son.

His feelings don't get hurt as easily, for he is calloused to affronts by his stronger older brother.

However, the firstborn is often more persevering, so he may offset his initial greater shyness by his tenacity.

Salesmanship is a great profession for topnotchers. It is never a wastebasket for the failures in other fields. So don't think you'll be a good salesman if you have failed at other jobs.

For further advice, send for my booklet "The New Psychology of Advertising and Selling," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Chair Massages Senators

matic massagers, to relax a tired statesman and unsag his waistline, are among samples of furniture the Senate is being asked to buy for its new 23 million dollar office building.

A salesman concedes that senators may have to use their own money, however, if they want their suites equipped with chairs with built-in massage units at prices ranging from $195 to $395.

Samples are on display in the rotunda of the present Senate office building. They are part of an exhibit mainly devoted to such standard furnishings as shiny-topped mahogany desks and leather-upholstered swivel chairs — complete with padded headrests for senators—plus simpler designs for aides and secretaries.

A capitol official said the displays were planned to give the special commission in charge of the new building an idea of what kind of chairs, desks and tables to buy for the structure. He added that he did not know how two massage chairs got in the exhibit.

NO PROBLEM

But William T. Long, local distributor for the equipment, told an interviewer it was no problem. He said he simply put them there.

"We had several suggestions to do so," he said, "because people definitely do need them. One thing is for sure—all senators are under a tremendous amount of tension. Our machine is designed to relax the body."

This is done, he said, through "circular - horizontal - vertical action" of upholstered rollers which whomp up "a form of passive exercize to help stimulate circulation." Motors in the chairs, he explained "give thousands of massage actions per minute."

★ ★ ★

"Senators would probably have to buy these individually," Long said, "because you could hardly justify it as a public expense, I suppose."

★ ★ ★

Yet, he maintained, it "would more than be worth its cost in the long run, because if it kept them healthy and alive it would pay off for everyone."

One Senator and several Congressmen already have the machines, he added.

5 Pct. of Time Used Creatively, Executives Told

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An educator says that a major problem in industry is that the average executive spends less than 5 per cent of hi time thinking creatively.

Dr. B. B. Goldner, head of La Salle College's School of Creative Thinking, yesterday told 100 top executives of leading industries that "America's industrial might is based upon the creativeness of our executives."

★ ★ ★

He said America must have at least 10 per cent of the minds of key industrialists working creatively to stay ahead of the production race and competition for men's minds.

The meeting today was in advance of La Salle's first National Comprehensive Symposium on Creative Thinking June 18 and 19.

School Opera Opens Amid Racial Ban

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An undergraduate opera opens tonight on the University of Texas campus amid controversy over the removal of a coed from a leading role because she is a Negro.

★ ★ ★

Barbara Louise Smith, 19-year-old junior music major from Pittsburg, Tex., was expected in the audience for the opening performance of "Dido and Aeneas." She was removed from the role of Dido by the college administration after complaints by state legislators.

★ ★ ★

University President Logan Wilson has not commented on the action.

Effigies of both Miss Smith and two state representatives were found hanging on the campus and at the state capitol yesterday.

The student council passed a resolution last night which in effect condemned the action of the university.

Motorist Found Guilty on Drunk, Disorderly

Tony S. Hrymecki, driver of the auto involved in an accident April 21 in which his 10-year-old daughter suffered a fractured jaw and right leg, was found guilty on a drunk and disorderly charge and paid a $25 fine instead of five days in jail.

★ ★ ★

Hrymecki, of 140 Wall St., appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

His auto skidded into a telephone pole in front of 520 S. Paddock St., after another auto suddenly stopped in front of him, Hrymecki claimed.

Colombia Banks Told to Reopen

Other Businesses Also Warned to Put End to Crippling Strikes

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The government of President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla threatened criminal action today against striking banks and business firms that have brought activity in Colombia's major cities near a standstill.

★ ★ ★

An official spokesman said 11 persons have died in the anti-Rojas disorders that began last week, but unofficial reports said the death toll might be as high as 50. Violence flared in opposition to Rojas' dictated re-election to another four-year term. University students generally led the protest demonstrations.

★ ★ ★

The Ministry of Economic Development announced that criminal actions will be started against all manufacturers who refuse to sell their products or try to hinder operation of their plants.

★ ★ ★

Officials said any banks remaining closed today would be seized and their employes drafted into military service. That action was taken yesterday against one of six Bogota banks which were shut.

Although there has been no nationwide strike call, shopowners, industrialists and bankers have closed down their operations in a continually widening protest.

★ ★ ★

Business reached a virtual standstill here in the capital. A general strike shut down industry, commerce and transport in Cali, a city of 88,000 persons 185 miles southwest of Bogota. The government spokesman said 18,000 workers are on strike in Medellin City.

2 U.S. Youths Spend 3 Months With Guerrillas

HAVANA (AP) — Two American teen-age boys are back with their families at the Guantanamo Naval Base after nearly three months in the mountains of southeast Cuba with guerrillas fighting the forces of President Fulgencio Batista.

A third Navy son stayed in the Sierra Maestra Mountains with the rebel band led by Fidel Castro the returning boys reported.

★ ★ ★

Those who came back were Victor J. Buehlman, 17, son of Cmdr. Joseph Buehlman of Coronado, Calif., and Michael I. Garvey, 15, son of Chief Aviation Mechanic John Joseph Garvey of Watertown, Mass.

★ ★ ★

The lad who stayed was Charles E. Ryan Jr., 20, son of Hospitalman 1. C. Charles E. Ryan of Monson, Mass.

All the fathers are stationed at the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo.

The naval base said Buehlman and Garvey were in good health and happy to be back home.

★ ★ ★

A naval plane flew them from Santiago to Guantanamo Tuesday with Robert Taber, a Columbia Broadcasting System newsman who reportedly had been in the mountains with Castro's forces for more than two weeks.

Wants Curb on Guns

DETROIT (AP) — Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins says he favors proposed federal legislation which would make it more difficult for private citizens to obtain guns. Piggins' remarks were in reply to a letter from Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), chairman of a Senate committee investigating the use of dangerous weapons for juveniles.

There are thousands of different kinds of moquitos.

Allow Shippers to Use Canal

14 of 15 Nations Agree to Let Private Vessels Pass Through Suez

LONDON (AP)—Bowing to the inevitable, 14 of the 15 nations in the Suez Canal Users' Assn. are ready to let their shippers use the Egyptian waterway again.

Only France held out at a SCUA meeting here last night. The French said they find it impossible "in present circumstances to recommend the use of the canal to member states."

★ ★ ★

The other 14 nations indicated they had no power to keep private shipping out of the canal. They made plain their ships probably will begin using the Suez soon.

★ ★ ★

The association, which Western nations formed last summer in an effort to bring Egyptian President Nasser to terms by unified action, agreed its members could resume freedom of action with regard to the canal.

The SCUA members are the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Italy, Portugal, Norway, Netherlands, West Germany, Sweden, Denmark, Turkey, Iran and Spain.

AEC Concentrates on Upper Peninsula

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission is doing some new and extensive probings for minerals in the Upper Peninsula, a commission geologist reported yesterday.

Ross L. Kinneman, AEC geologist from Denver, made the report at a symposium on Lake Superior geology held at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Kinneman said the survey was concentrated along the south shores of Lake Superior. He would not say just what minerals were being sought, but hinted at uranium, noting that a high-producing deposit has been located at Blind River, Canada, on the lake's northern perimeter.

Harry O. Sorensen, economic geologist with the State Conservation Department, said that although there has been a flurry of uranium hunting in the Upper Peninsula, he has heard no reports of commercially profitable finds.

Leg-Stretching on Long Trip Benefits Heart

DETROIT (AP) — Your leg-stretching on a long trip can be very important, says a heart expert.

★ ★ ★

This tip to travelers came from Dr. John G. Bielawski, medical director of the Michigan Heart Assn., in a talk yesterday to a Heart Institute at Henry Ford Hospital.

Dr. Bielawski said that anyone taking a trip of more than an hour or two—by train, plane or car—will do himself and his heart a favor if he takes a leg-stretch, or walk, every hour or so.

Dr. Bielawski directed his caution particularly to overweight persons.

Blood "pools" in the legs and blood clots may form, traveling to the lung and shutting off circulation, he said.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Bielawski said that on an automobile trip the driver is the "most vulnerable" because he sits still and doesn't even move his feet "to any great extent."

★ ★ ★

"He should at least stop every hour or so and get out and walk around the car," Dr. Bielawski said.

In Teaching Son Normal Life

Mother Cited for 'Miracle'

CHICAGO (AP)—A young mother, who raised a foster son, who was deaf, unable to speak, and believed mentally retarded, was honored yesterday for the "miracle of her achievement."

Ten years ago Mrs. Ann LaVine heard a radio plea for foster homes. She was 25 and the mother of two young sons but she offered a home for another child, preferably a girl.

★ ★ ★

She got instead a 5-year-old boy, deaf and mute. Mrs. LaVine said she believed almost immediately the child was not deaf.

★ ★ ★

"He seemed to hear me when I called," she said. "He'd perk up and look around."

Gradually, over the years, she taught him to talk.

"I'd take him around the house," Mrs. LaVine said, "pointing out many things, calling them by name—the way you would with an infant."

★ ★ ★

Her devotion to her foster son began to pay off. Soon he was able to quit the special classes he attended and enroll in a regular school. He showed a notable artistic talent. He became a good student and athlete.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the foster son, now a healthy, normal 15-year-old, the LaVines have three sons of their own, 8, 12 and 14, and two other foster sons.

Mrs. LaVine, in addition to running the house and mothering her five boys, is bus driver, scorekeeper, first-aid technician and bat boy for the neighborhood baseball team in suburban Oak Lawn.

★ ★ ★

Her husband Rudolph, an aircraft engineer, beamed happily yesterday as his wife was chosen Foster Mother of the Year in Cook County by the county commissioners and County Department of Welfare. She was among 17 finalists.

★ ★ ★

"I wish all the mothers here could have won," said the smiling, 35-year-old Mrs. LaVine.

Her winning citation said, in part:

"With a 10-year investment of your precious gifts of mothering, you have transformed this child's life into a bright, inspiring miracle of unbelievable progress and normal development which has confounded, surprised and pleased a variety of medical specialists, an outstanding children's hospital, psychologists, psychiatrists, schoolteachers and others — but not yourself, for you never wavered in the quiet belief of the power of a mother's love."

Bright Student Faces Prospect of Dull Teacher

By DON ROTH

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The big danger for the bright college student of tomorrow is he may end up with teachers less talented than himself.

Floyd W. Reeves, a long-time expert in higher education and consultant to the president of Michigan State University, made the analysis today in an interview at the Midwestern Regional Conference on Education Beyond High School.

★ ★ ★

Reeves first started teaching in a one-room rural school in his native South Dakota in 1906 when he was 16.

"The great danger for our talented youth (the upper 20 per cent) of high school age is they will have teachers less talented than they are when they enter college and profesional schools," Reeves said.

★ ★ ★

"The students will have more intellectual capacity than some of their low-salaried teachers."

If teaching quality continues to lessen, Reeves said, even average students will receive a stunted education.

Unless more money is pumped into education—by private philanthropy or public funds—increasing costs will prevent many families from footing the growing bill for a college education, Reeves said.

Some youngsters aspiring to a higher education will be rejected by colleges in the future because of overcrowding unless the money situation improves.

★ ★ ★

In reality, Reeves said, education is being financed in part by teachers who work for less money than they could make in private industry. Some are getting tired of it and leaving the field for other employment.

Burroughs Net Income Outstrips '56 Quarter

DETROIT (AP) — Burroughs Corp. reported worldwide net income of $3,223,218 for the first quarter of this year as against $2,750,000 for the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

This year's first quarter net was equal to 53 cents a share of common stock, compared with 49 cents for the first quarter of 1956.

★ ★ ★

John S. Coleman, president of the office machines and electronics firm, emphasized in a report to stockholders the rise of the electronic industry in the last 10 years.

★ ★ ★

Coleman said electronics has come ahead so fast that it now ranks fifth in manufacturing, behind automotive, steel, aircraft and chemicals.

Navy Won't Scrap Dewey's Flagship

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The long battle to save Adm. Dewey's flagship Olympia appeared won today, said the head of the group which wants to preserve the ship as a national shrine.

★ ★ ★

Francis D. Pastorius, president of the Cruiser Olympia Assn., said he had received word from Washington that the Navy had finally agreed to turn the ship over to the association instead of scrapping it.

Dewey was aboard the Olympia when he blasted the Spanish defenses at Manila Bay in May 1898 during the Spanish-American War.

★ ★ ★

Pastorius said a shipping repair firm had agreed to underwrite the repair costs until a national campaign fund can reimburse the company. It's planned to moor the Olympia in the Delaware River at the foot of Market Street here, in the heart of the old colonial section of Philadelphia.

The land involved in the Louisiana purchase actually cost the United States about two cents per acre.

Police Substation Located in Subway

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There's a new police station in Philadelphia today. It's in the subway.

The Police Department opened the new headquarters — aptly called a sub police station—for officers who patrol Philadelphia's sprawling subway concourse in the center of the city.

Starting May 24, a complement of 36 men will answer roll calls at the 12-by-12-foot structure on a subway platform. Their job is to prevent robberies, attacks on women and other crimes in the concourse labyrinth.

Frat Pin, Lost 15 Years, Returned to Owner

RUTHERFORDTON, N. C. (AP)—A tiny college fraternity emblem lost for more than 15 years was on its way back to its owner today.

Gilmer Johnson recently found the pin by railroad tracks about five miles south of here. On the back was the word "Boucher."

He took it to Henry Boucher of Rutherfordton, who said it belonged to his brother Col. Paul Boucher of Falls Church, Va., who had lost it more than 15 years ago.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Here's How Duffer Feels When the Golf Bug Bites

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

If you're a duffer and have been bitten by the golf bug this spring you probably have learned:

That golf is a terrible game for the first 10 strokes, especially when you get 'em all on the first hole.

That golf is a great game the first time you find yourself putting for a birdie.

That golf is a silly game when your feet hurt after walking 18 holes in four hours.

★ ★ ★

That golf is great exercise for your feet and legs when you wear the right size socks and a good pair of golf shoes.

That your caddie should have stayed home when he overclubs you on a par 3 hole.

That your caddie is the best bag toter around when the club he hands you puts you on the green.

★ ★ ★

That you never should have played a two dollar Nassau when you find yourself three down with two holes to go.

That you wished you had confidence and had doubled your bet now that you're three up with two holes to play.

That your partner talks to you only when he's playing well.

★ ★ ★

That you talk to your partner only when you're playing well.

That you are playing so well you hate to see the 18th hole.

That you are playing so poorly you're glad to see the 18th hole.

That when you're in the rough it's better to lose a stroke by playing out to the fairway.

★ ★ ★

That you're going to close your stance next time to prevent those horrible slicing tee shots.

That you've decided to open your stance to prevent those horrible hook shots.

That next time it's better to practice a half hour before hurrying off the first tee.

Potter Says Legislation Will Aid Lakes Shipping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (D-Mich) says a bill to authorize construction, reconditioning or remodeling of vessels in shipyards of the continental U.S. will revitalize the Great Lakes shipbuilding industry.

★ ★ ★

The bill was approved yesterday by the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

The bill would change present law to allow the Maritime Administration to assign construction of an authorized clipper-type vessel to the lakes area, Potter added.

Oilman Given Loan by Bank of $10 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley, Los Angeles oil man and Democratic party leader, said last night he has negotiated a 10-million-dollar loan from the First National Bank of Chicago "for general purposes."

Pauley laughed at speculation the loan might have some connection with transferring major league baseball franchises to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

OKs Sewage Plant Fund

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The U.S. public health service has approved a federal grant of $247,570 toward completion of a $5,000,000 secondary sewage treatment plant in Grand Rapids.

Socialists Ask Ban on A-Arms by Bonn

BONN (AP) — The opposition Socialists today asked the Bundestag to ban the stationing of atomic weapons in West Germany.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats and their allies presumably have enough Bundestag votes to defeat the Socialist motion.

But it could force the government parties to take a firm stand on an issue which has come increasingly to the fore in the developing campaign for the general election Sept. 15.

The first vessel to go through the Panama Canal was the S. S. Ancon on Aug. 1914.

He'll Retire, Anyway

TRENTON (AP) — Guy J. Shepard, Trenton police chief, says he will retire in compliance with a city ruling even though he isn't sure of his age. Retirement at 65 is compulsory for Trenton policemen and firemen. Shepard's birth was not officially recorded, but he said: "I guess I'm getting pretty close to 65. Besides, my doctor says I need a rest."

Decrease Seen in Employment

Month in Pontiac Area Shows Drop of 1,400 in Total Jobs

Employment in the Pontiac area declined 1,400 between mid-March and April 15, figures from the Pontiac Michigan Employment Security Commission office reveal.

During the 30-day period, manufacturing employment dropped 1,900, while non-manufacturing picked up 500, giving the 1,400 total drop.

"Declining automotive requirements and transfers of work outside the area account for the manufacturing reductions," Frederick A. Hanses, acting branch manager of the Pontiac MESC office, reported.

TOTAL UNEMPLOYMENT LESS

Currently the unemployed makes up 5.5 per cent of the total 81,100 labor force. In March and February, this was 4.4. A year ago it was 6.5 per cent, with 5,500 unemployed.

Hanses said records show that at mid-April unemployment here was estimated at 4,500 up 900 from the March level.

During April, the Pontiac office issued 9,175 unemployment insurance checks totaling $316,805. This compares to 7,290 checks for $247,488 issued in March and 15,969 checks for $558,309 in October.

Gen. Power Seen Succeeding LeMay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed sources say Gen. Thomas Power has been picked to head the Air Force's Strategic Air Command, succeeding Gen. Curtis E. LeMay.

★ ★ ★

LeMay becomes vice chief of staff for the Air Force in August.

It was also reported yesterday that Lt. Gen. Frank F. Everest will take over as commander of U. S. Air Forces in Europe, replacing Lt. Gen. William H. Tunner.

The two appointments, reportedly effective July 1, were expected to be formally announced later today.

Power, a former deputy commander of SAC, now is chief of the Air Research and Development Command at Baltimore. SAC headquarters are in Omaha.

Everest has been serving as deputy chief of staff for Air Force operations.

Trip to Moon Not for This Generation, Some Delegates Say

Scientists Match Ideas on Space Travel, Admit Plenty of Hurdles Face Earthmen

DENVER (INS)—Scientists and engineers with visions of space travel loaned their research-and-theory headaches to each other in a three-day Aero Medical Association Convention in Denver.

★ ★ ★

Details of the mass of problems facing them visibly bowed the experts at a concluding space symposium. The men invariably expressed optimism regarding human flight into the extra-atmosphere "soon," but none would dare suggest when the event would happen.

One expert said he did not think man-piloted space ships would fly successfully in "our generation," and another scientist agreed with him.

A speaker on the "possibilities of inhabitable extra-terrestial environment reachable from the earth"—seemed strangely out of place with his colleagues who plainly admitted some of the space flight hurdles remain baffling.

RESEARCH ON RESEARCH

Actually, research is being done on how best to research toward victory over some of the problems.

★ ★ ★

A report from Dr. Wernher von Braun, Redstone Arsenal, Ala., began the discussion on the subject of how the propulsion engineer views manned extra-atmosphere flight.

Von Braun's conclusion perhaps hit the overall picture dead center by noting space travel can be achieved when earthmen are "united in knowledge and combined will."

He asserted in his paper that the trip can be made now. The trouble is no one is willing, ready or able to do so.

★ ★ ★

Von Braun says "There should be no major obstacle for propulsion engineers to get a ship into space" even though it is their main problem of the moment.

FIRST IMPROVE ROCKETS

Nuclear energy may be used at the initial launching with chemical propellents to carry the space ship onward in staging phases. It should reach a speed of 28,000 miles an hour in five hours. But rocket systems must improve first.

★ ★ ★

Scott Crossfield, a design and engineering test pilot for North American Aviation in Los Angeles, discussed the test pilot's view of the problem, which amounted to a desire for:

"A sound, objective (space ship) design to establish ground rules for elaborate developments to follow."

Crossfield, who later remarked a "pilot is never in trouble until he runs out of alternatives or into the ground," questioned whether all operational problems had been considered by the theorists.

He said the question of whether a pilot could see through the ionosphere has not yet been answered, for example.

★ ★ ★

Cmdr. George W. Hoover of the Office of Naval Research in Washington said completely new problems face instrumentation men, including new systems of measurements for determining velocity, altitude, fuel and other factors.

He said all components of the first space ship will have to have maximum reliability, implying there would be little room for tolerances.

It was Prof. Walter Orr Roberts of the Colorado University High Altitude Observatory, an astronomer, who said while space travel might be just a few years ahead, he believed "man space travel is not for our generation."

Right Numbers Write a Check in Pot-O-Gold

That's right, the right combination of numbers on your entry to Pot-O-Gold means that a check for $700 may be written for you. That's what the pot amounts to now, after several weeks of steady growth. Even if a winner is found for last week's puzzle, the check will still be made out for $100, plus $25 if you're a Press subscriber. Read directions, rules and clues below and see if you can be the lucky winner.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 49 must bear a Tuesday, May 14, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

These Puzzle Answers Are Right

Below are answers and explanations for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 48 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) MEDICATION. While a doctor's dedication or devotion to duty would be a great factor in saving lives, the word "directly" in the clue points to MEDICATION —the treatment with medicine, which would be immediately responsible for bringing about the cure.

B. (4) DEVOTION. Demotion to a less important rank would be the result of some failure or misdeed, and if this was followed by consorting with criminals, the investigator would be in real trouble. But his DEVOTION to duty might well account for this behavior, as in the case of an investigator's "joining" a group of criminals in an undercover capacity, to discover and report their plans.

C. (5) TOWEL. There is a great deal of garden work that would not necessitate the use of a trowel, a tool used for softening dirt, picking up plants, etc. One would be expected to get a little dirty while doing any kind of gardening; hence, the necessity for the TOWEL.

D. (7) TRAILER. Life for the owner of a trawler or fishing boat would essentially consist of going to sea, making a haul and returning to the home port. Even though some TRAILER owners stay for a long time in one place, many of them travel the length and breadth of the country.

E. (10) TOPOGRAPHIC. A typographic or printing error, even if undetected by the editors and printers, is bound to be detected by many of the reading public. A TOPOGRAPHIC error — one concerned with the drawing of surface features on a map — could easily go undetected if, for example, the map were of a relatively unexplored region.

F. (12) CLUTTER. Clatter merely denotes a considerable noise. While this certainly would be no balm for a housewife with a headache, CLUTTER can mean either a disorderly heap or a loud noise. This double irritation would obviously be harder to endure than just a clatter.

G. (13) RECKLESS. A RECKLESS or heedless recruit, if sharply reprimanded, could certainly be expected to show improvement in the sense that he would be less careless in the future or at least try to be. The physical and/or mental state of a feckless recruit — one who was weak and spiritless — would need more than a reprimand to change for the better.

H. (16) TENSION. A pension is fixed and would not, under normal circumstances, rise and fall with the cost of living. The TENSION or mental strain of a retired worker, i.e., one living on a pension, might well increase if he had to meet higher prices with his limited income.

I. (17) JINGLE. A man in a cross or unpleasant mood, might well quiet down after giving vent to his feelings in a jangle or quarrel. There is no reason to suppose that a JINGLE, a simple or meaningless rhyme, would pacify a man in an ill humor. The negative wording in the clue makes JINGLE the correct answer.

J. (19) REFERENCE. Since we are not told whether the president is at a reception or not, REFERENCE is chosen as the inclusive word. It would cover courtesy and respectful yielding in opinion — i.e. deference. Regardless of his presence or absence, all conversations or actions showing deference would involve REFERENCE to the Chief Executive.

K. (22) SHIRRING. Stirring could indicate that the wife was in the process of scrambling the eggs, and in this case, they would be ready faster than if she had just begun SHIRRING them, a relatively longer baking process. The already belated husband would have to forgo his breakfast of shirred eggs.

L. (24) WARDER. The warden, as the leading official in the prison, would not come into contact with the prisoner as often as the WARDER or guard. Thus, the ill-tempered prisoner is likely to make things difficult for the guard; at least more so than the warden.

M. (26) FRACTIOUS. The group would not be "usually harmonious" if one of the members were factious — causing dissention or partisan conflict. A FRACTIOUS or a peevish member might well disrupt the proceedings, but this could be a temporary state of mind that would make an exception to the "usually harmonious" group plausible.

N. (27) MUNITIONS. Monitions denotes somewhat friendly warnings or advice given by way of caution and would hardly be forthcoming from an "unfriendly neighbor." Certainly the MUNITIONS — the military supplies — of such a neighbor might be a good reason for a nation to increase its military budget.

O. (30) CERTAIN. A curtain call—the bow taken by an actress in response to applause—would have to be taken before a live audience. This would be applicable to the stage, but the clue specifies a "screen actress." A CERTAIN or particular call might well be news of a new role or of a chance to try out for a big part that could result in a step toward success.

P. (31) DELEGATION. His DELEGATION or appointment to a lesser post (the less important of two) might well disappoint a young diplomat. Relegation—the sending away to a lower position —would be indicative of a demotion, and would make "disappointment" an under-statement. A young diplomat would consider this a real impediment to his career.

Q. (33) INVIDIOUS. An idealist would undoubtedly decry the insidious or sly, treacherous aspects of politics; and even achieving some good results in the political field would not lead him to accept deceit and craftiness. INVIDIOUS means "tending to excite unpopularity or odium," and this the idealist could conceivably accept if he saw the chance of achieving some good by entering the political field.

R. (35) LEAPING. The implication of a chase after the "daring bank robber" makes the active word LEAPING a better choice than the more leisurely idea expressed in leaving.

S. (37) TIPSTER. A TIPSTER, one whose business it is to give tips on betting, speculation, etc. would certainly stand to lose money upon a customer's decision to quit. A tapster, one who draws beer and the like from a tap, might be salaried and need suffer no loss of income when a customer decides he's had enough.

T. (40) MANHANDLING. Panhandling or begging in the streets is a minor offense that would probably never reach a jury. If a man were arrested for MANHANDLING — treating roughly with human force — the implication is that a charge of assault was involved. A jury might be inclined to leniency in such a case if, for example, there were extenuating circumstances.

Bob Considine Says:

Money-Saving Plan Gets Brushoff

NEW YORK (INS) — Military people are still stunned at the rejection by the Eisenhower administration's Budget Bureau of the program to modernize the pay and manpower structure of the armed services.

The plan, bearing the name of a presidentially appointed board headed by Ralph J. Cordiner, president of General Electric, was killed as "inflationary" before it was generally understood by the people it sought to aid fiscally and from a defense standpoint: The American taxpayers.

It was not a pay raise program as such. It was designed to provide better defense with fewer people for less money. Secretary of Defense Wilson and the civilian heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force thought so highly of it that they agreed to absorb the initial costs without asking Congress for more money.

They were in agreement that when the plan was working it would produce more combat capability almost instantly and eventual savings of $5,000,000,000 a year.

Cordiner called the plan quality as opposed to quantity. "It is definitely not a matter of the total number of people on hand, but is a matter of the level of competence of those people," he wrote.

"It is a matter of not being able, at the present time and under the present circumstances, to keep and challenge and develop the kinds of people needed for the periods of time necessary for them to make an effective contribution to the operation of the force."

REPLACEMENT COSTLY

It costs the Air Force an appalling $2,000,000,000 a year to train men to replace those who leave the service for better paying jobs, or jobs offering better opportunities.

★ ★ ★

The Cordiner plan, while taking the pay question into high consideration, did not stop there. It advocated modernization of it, plus an aggressive, meaningful, manpower management philosophy.

Pay raises, under the plan, had to be earned. They would not come automatically through seniority.

"You have to be against religion and motherhood to be opposed to that kind of proposition," an officer in the Pentagon remarked to the writer.

★ ★ ★

"It was the kind of program which would encourage, even challenge the men of the armed forces to work hard and strive for new levels of productivity and responsibility. The system provided meaningful dollar-wage rewards for those who do work and do aspire to successively more difficult and responsible jobs.

A FEW PATCHES

So we will continue, as Cordiner warned Secretary Wilson, "by simply applying a few patches to an antiquated structure of military compensation which has been inflated but not substantially changed since it was adopted by the British Navy in the year 1812."

★ ★ ★

Cordiner, at the time of the rejection of the total plan, said he feared elements of the recommendation would be put forward later —as was the case yesterday when the Pentagon announced pay increases. But he said only total acceptance would cure the problem.

The professional armed forces planned by Cordiner would provide, among other things, a know-how and a take-care calculated to save vast sums. Cordiner wrote:

"One of the main purposes of the recommendations of our committee is to keep experienced men with difficult skills, such as pilots, in the armed forces so that we can reduce the number of persons who must go through the dangerous and expensive work of learning these skills.

★ ★ ★

"Likewise, we are trying to help the armed services retain and develop the skilled technicians who can keep the airplanes and ordnance and other equipment in good condition, so that it will not fail and cause accidents.

COST OF ACCIDENTS

"The Air Force and Navy have calculated that aircraft accidents alone cost them nearly $2,000,000 a day (!), in fiscal 1956, in material alone."

★ ★ ★

Its sponsors, who included the Joint Chiefs of Staff, swore it would stop excessive turnover and loss of key men, instill incentive, streamline manpower, boost morale, and strike at "inequities and pay inversions, where men get the same pay for easy or difficult work, and where thousands of officers and non-coms are getting less pay than the people who work under their supervision."

But Budget said to hell with it.

Socialist Named to Post in Austrian Government

VIENNA (AP)—Austrian Socialists have named Dr. Bruno Pitterman their new party chairman and nominated him to be vice chancellor in the coalition federal government.

Pitterman's acceptance by the Conservative-Socialist Cabinet for its No. 2 spot is a foregone conclusion. In both posts he succeeds Adolf Schaerf, who last Sunday was elected Austria's new president.

Pitterman, 52, had been Schaerf's chief deputy in Parliament.

TOY BANKS — 5. The Tricky Pig

The pig was always a favorite subject for the toy bank, and the designers did some surprising things with him. Sometimes they put a rider on the pig's back. But often the pig opened up when a coin was dropped into him — and inside was a man. The passenger, often a clown, would pop up grinning at you, and then could be made to disappear again.

In Mexico and parts of South America, pottery pig banks, beautifully painted in bright colors, were sold as souvenirs. But of course these aren't mechanical banks — just plain piggy banks.

Here's a tricky pig of the mechanical toy bank variety for you to make. Paste him down on cardboard and color the picture. Follow the indicated directions after cutting out the parts and you can put the passenger down into the pig. Strengthen the two holes A and B with cloth ring reinforcements. Put a small box behind the pig as shown in the little drawings. Drop a penny through the slot in the side and pull up the hidden passenger, then shove him down again.

Hal Boyle Says:

'Religious Breaks' Unify Employes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessman Peter Volid has found a new way to boost office morale—with "religious breaks."

★ ★ ★

For six months 100 employes in his Chicago headquarters have interrupted their usual chores for a half-hour each Monday to hold interfaith religious discussions.

"This hasn't made any saints of us, I'm sure," said Volid, president of the King Korn Premium Stamp Co., one of the nation's largest trading stamp firms.

"But I can tell the difference in morale already. We're doing better work, the atmosphere is more cheerful, and the caste system you find in many offices has been broken down.

"I think any business office would benefit by trying our brotherhood hour plan."

★ ★ ★

The plan is very simple. At 2:30 each Monday work halts, the employes gather in a conference room. They spend their usual 15-minute "coffee break" plus 15 minutes of company time discussing religion.

The discussions are led by a Protestant clergyman, a Roman Catholic priest, or a rabbi. They rotate from week to week, explain their faith, answer questions.

"Sometimes the discussions last nearly an hour, and we have to break them up," said Volid, genially. "Participation is entirely voluntary, but now everyone in the office attends.

"As a matter of fact, neighbors and waitresses from a nearby restaurant have started dropping in, as well as visiting salesmen, and our conference room is getting crowded.

"The clergy's response has been very enthusiastic. A number of clergymen from other faiths, including a Japanese Shinto priest have asked to appear."

Volid, who is Jewish, married to a Roman Catholic and has a brother-in-law who is a priest, believes that misunderstanding and ignorance lie behind much of the prejudice among people—at the office as well as the world level.

★ ★ ★

"You can't have a successful business operation if there is internal conflict," he said. "Pettiness, lack of cooperation and hate inevitably lead to buck-passing and irresponsibility.

"But you don't have these things in an office if everyone understands the other's problems and his way of life. Then employes go out of their way to help each other."

★ ★ ★

Has the office brotherhood hour program made any converts?

"Frankly, I don't know, but I doubt it," said Volid. "But that wasn't our purpose. We haven't gone in for any banner waving, crusading, or religious ballyhoo.

"Our purpose wasn't to make money either. It was simply to make our employes know each other better, to feel better toward each other.

"They do now. The office workers don't act as if they were superior to the warehouse help, but more as if they were all members of the same family.

"Productivity has increased, but the main benefit is that the work flows more freely because the employes feel more comfortable together than they did before.

"After all, one's particular religion is often an accident of birth. The employes realize now that while all creeds have their differences, yet underlying them all is the same basic doctrine of mutual help expressed by the Golden Rule.

★ ★ ★

"If you put an extra 'o' in God," Volid concluded, smiling, "it spells good."

Boss Often in Better Health Than Employes

Promotion Won't Kill You, Say Doctors

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A promotion can kill you? It ain't necessarily so. The boss is likely to be in better health and to live longer than many of his underlings.

The strains of being a top executive aren't as deadly as popularly supposed, according to industrial medical directors queried by the American Management Assn.

But the health, physical and mental, of bosses is increasingly a concern to corporations, big and little. The practice of having regular physical, and sometimes psychriatric, examinations is spreading.

The Institute of Life Insurance reports that the total of business life insurance, naming the company as beneficiary, is now around 25 billion dollars. Coverage has been increasing at the rate of about three billion dollars a year.

Corporate health examination programs may be a prime factor in giving the boss a better life expectancy now than some other groups, the AMA survey suggests. One giant manufacturing company reports that in five years after it installed such a program the executive death toll dropped by 62 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The National Office of Vital Statistic's figures also indicate that top administrators, managers and technicians, as a group, now have lower than average mortality rates. And an examination of 5,000 executives by Life Extension Examiners finds 60 per cent of them in good shape.

"Executives have quite a good life expectancy," the extension's medical director says. "Examine any other representative group of men and you'll find them no healthier than management personnel."

★ ★ ★

And some life insurance companies sell policies on men in executive or higher level occupations in general at the lowest premium rates.

One corporate medical director holds that "most men who want to be executives and who have managed to reach the ranks of top management have learned to take the strains in stride."

Psychiatry is playing a steadily bigger part in executive health programs. The AMA survey of 447 companies of all types and sizes shows about half of them using a counseling interview as well as physical examinations.

★ ★ ★

Many of the doctors say that when the boss has serious emotional problems his underlings tend to develop more problems than average. And the higher up the executive ranks the unhappiness is located, the more it is likely to spread and the more harmful it will be to the company.

Group Approves Bill to Hike Seaway Share

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to authorize a 35 million dollar increase in the United States' share of St. Lawrence Seaway costs was approved by the House Public Works Committee today.

The bill would allow the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. to increase its borrowings from the Treasury Department from 105 to 140 million dollars.

The measure, introduced by Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn), would provide also that interest on the borrowing—estimated at more than 7 million dollars—be deferred during construction of the seaway.

Cow Tangles With Car, Owner Pays Damage

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP) — Bossy the cow has been having a rough time. And so has her owner.

Last November the Holstein locked horns with a car. Bossy wasn't seriously injured, but she did damage the car a little.

A Circuit Court jury decided it was all Bossy's fault for breaking a state law by roaming the highway unattended.

Owner Lawrence Richeson was ordered to pay $200 damages to the car's owner.

Natural gas was first used in the United States which holds second and was moved then through hollowed out logs instead of pipes.

Soldier, Civilian Feared Dead in Lake Superior

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—An American soldier and Canadian civilian are lost and feared drowned in Lake Superior. Their small boat capsized last night while they were retrieving shot-down "drone" targets from Army artillery practice.

The Army, Air Force and Coast Guard today resumed a search.

The martime industries of the United States employ an estimated 165,550 persons on a full-time basis.

See Token Tax Cut, No Budget Reduction

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Top-rank industry executives predicted today that Congress will make little dent in President Eisenhower's spending budget but will offer some tax relief nevertheless.

Speaking privately to reporters, individual members of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council forecast that Congress will find the public's reaction to the high cost of government "irresistible."

The tax relief may be very slight, some said. It probably will not take effect until Jan. 1, 1958, they suggested, or might even be nothing more than a pronouncement that tax reduction will be the first order of business in the 1958 session.

Some believe that individual income tax payers will be the sole beneficiaries; one predicted that the corporation rate will not be reduced from the wartime 52 per cent level "either this year or next."

★ ★ ★

About 100 BAC members, including chiefs of scores of the country's biggest corporations, are meeting in closed sessions with Secretary of Commerce Weeks, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and other government officials.

Government spending was not among the topics for formal discussion at the council's weekend series of closed meetings, which get under way during the afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Two topics were to be discussed —the industrial use of atomic energy, with special reference to the hazard and insurance problems, and foreign aid.

On Saturday, high government economic officials and a dozen executives from key industries will report on the economic outlook for the rest of 1957.

But budget talk made up a substantial part of the informal discussions.

The business leaders were frankly pessimistic that any substantial savings can be made in the $71,800,000,000 spending budget Eisenhower proposed for fiscal 1958, starting July 1.

Actual spending in fiscal 1958, the industry men predicted, probably will meet or even exceed the President's January budget estimate.

Local Doctors Attend Psychiatric Parleys

Staff members from Pontiac State Hospital are attending two conventions in Chicago this weekend.

Jack Is Double Trouble for Driver, Passer-By

RENO (AP)—Mike Bourke, Sacramento, Calif., stopped when he noticed Mike Trouday's car had slipped from its jack, trapping Trouday's arm between the fender and a flat tire.

Arrested at Hospital, Driver Pays $25 Fine

Raymond E. Sherman, 22, of 43 N. East Blvd., appeared in Municipal Court Thursday to face a reckless driving charge after he was arrested at the Pontiac General Hospital Wednesday where he had been recovering from injuries received in a May 1 accident.

Sherman pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and paid a $25 fine instead of five days in jail. He was also placed on 90 days probation.

He was admitted to the hospital after his car allegedly struck three trees and plowed through the front yard of an Illinois avenue home while being chased by police.

Along With Exercise for Firmer Arms, Legs

Weight Gain Will Improve Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Over a period of two years I lost 20 pounds and have kept that weight for three years. Daily walks kept me firm except for my thighs and upper arms. Also I lost in my bust where I could ill afford to. Can I do anything about these troubles? I am somewhat more than 45, 5 feet 7½ inches tall and weigh 127 pounds."

★ ★ ★

A. You are on the light side unless you have an extremely slight bone structure, which is not likely with your height. I think you will find a gain of five pounds becoming. This will help increase your bust measurement. Exercise which develops the chest muscles also will help.

Do the following exercises for the arms: Raise them sideward, shoulder height, palms toward the floor. Clench the fists tightly, turn the palms toward the ceiling and bend the elbows until the fists are pointing toward the ceiling. Hold while you count to five slowly. Return to starting position and unclench fists. Continue.

Swimming is good for thigh and arm tone. Why not do a lot of it this summer?

Q. "Is it true that a rundown person picks up infection quickly and that's why I have one cold after another?"

A. Yes, when a person is rundown he does not have the ability to fight off germs. We practically always have cold germs lurking in our nasal passages. When we are tired or short on sleep or otherwise not in good condition we often take colds which we would otherwise have avoided.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Is there any way a dermatologist can remove freckles?"

A. There is a procedure called sandpaper surgery which removes freckles. Ask a dermatologist or a plastic surgeon about this.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Recently I lost a few eyelashes and I am very anxious to know if they will grow back. I am 17, in case age has anything to do with it."

A. You certainly could not be losing them because you are growing older! At that rate most of us would be lashless. Eyelashes fall out continually and are replaced. They will grow back.

Q. "Please tell me how to remove brown splotches on the legs which are caused by chapping."

A. I imagine you are talking about the brown skin which comes from legs rubbing together. This usually happens when the woman is overweight. Lose the extra pounds, massage a good body lotion into the brown areas and give yourself time. These will lighten when the friction ceases.

★ ★ ★

If you would like my leaflet "Don't Have Round Shoulders and Flat Bust — Reverse!" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Regular Routine Will Be Beneficial to You."

Weight gain, developing exercises are needed in some cases. Read the exercises below.

Trigere Combines Sheath, Fullness

Always the exponent of the feminine look, the mistress of artful shaping and perfection of line, Pauline Trigere comes forth this spring with a format for the wool dress that is, in essence, fashion poetry.

A combination of the straight line with the frankly flared, she superimposes the look of fullness tastefully and dramatically on the slim, willowy sheath idea. This theme appears in suits, dresses and costumes.

A handy plastic item for removing olives or pickles from tightly packed jars has two prongs one on either side of a solid piece of plastic.

Room Dividers Can Add Sparkle

Room dividers can pep up your decorating, as well as provide more privacy.

The idea is to cover a practical room divider with ornamental material to make it a showpiece.

Panel it on both sides, for instance, in washable wall canvas. That's about as sturdy a fabric as you could find, and soil and fingerprints wash right off.

Good colors and fresh designs add beauty to any room.

Put Right Price on Home Products

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Many people who fail in selling homemade products fail because of some difficulty in setting the price.

They charge too much, and do themselves out of customers, or they charge too little and operate at a loss.

Because this is such a crucial subject, do watch it carefully if you plan to sell any product.

Here are some pointers:

1. Decide what it costs you to make the product. This is so basic it seems silly to have to mention it, but the overwhelming majority of people don't honestly know what it costs them to make their own product.

★ ★ ★

Figure the cost of ingredients, depreciation on the equipment, utilities, advertising, samples and your own time. Know what those cost, and then after that, you'll have to add your profit.

HIRE ACCOUNTANT

The best bet is to get an accountant to help you set the final price. You'll more than make back his modest fee. But even so, you have to know what it costs, before anybody can help you.

★ ★ ★

If you buy materials at retail, or at wholesale, know what you pay. This means keeping careful records.

2. Know what similar products sell for. You have to have some idea of the current prices.

Obviously, homemade cake is going to cost a good deal more than a baker's goods, because you will use choice ingredients and make them in much smaller batches.

★ ★ ★

Try to find out what other homemade baked goods sell for in your community. Remember, when people pay a higher price they want uniformly good quality.

Don't begin with the best ingredients and then begin to substitute cheaper eggs, butter, etc. You command the high price only because of the high quality.

3. Keep a real record of what you spent originally for the pans and beaters and other equipment. Eventually it will wear out, and it will have to be replaced.

★ ★ ★

ADJUST CHARGES

4. Be prepared to make some price adjustments in the beginning. Don't begin on a grand scale, with advertisements and printed price lists. You'll be bound to have to make some changes, so keep your business small in the beginning.

Don't commit yourself to set prices before you know what you're doing.

5. Above all, have the trial period a time for experimenting and keep careful records of all costs.

Then, with a couple of hours of a good accountant's time, you can figure real prices which will give you a profit.

★ ★ ★

A home business with no profit is a waste of time.

Clean Paint Brushes

A paint-stiffened brush makes a better scraper than applicator. To prevent this, always clean a brush after each job. This is simple. Soak it in some turpentine or brush cleaner for a short time. Brush briskly over newspaper to see if all paint is gone. Then wash in warm water and synthetic detergent suds.

Don't Blame 'Teenagers' When You Mean 'Thugs'

Label Lawbreakers Correctly Instead of Lumping All Youth Together

By RUTH MILLETT

"I'm glad I reared my family before the word 'teenager' was ever dreamed up," says a mother whose children are grown. Her grandchildren are no longer just members of families but have suddenly entered a world of their own—the world of teenagers.

★ ★ ★

This grandmother's idea is that in lumping all adolescents together as "teenagers," we've encouraged them to live in this isolated world.

Not only that, but we've built up unnecessary resentment among teenagers against the adult world by the loose way in which we use the term.

Irresponsible, destructive hoodlums slash tires and break windshields or beat up some kid who doesn't belong to their gang and, because the members of the gang are under 20, we don't call them lawbreakers and hoodlums. We call them teenagers.

★ ★ ★

A smart-aleck gets behind the wheel of a car and endangers lives and, because he is 17 or 18 years old, we don't label him a reckless driver. Our disgust is summed up in the words, "teenage driver."

FEEL SHUT OFF

Instead of wondering what's the matter with parents who let their adolescent children roam the streets most of the night and never bother to find out where they are, we wonder out loud what "teenagers" are coming to.

★ ★ ★

That's the kind of talk our adolescents hear day in and day out. So is it surprising that they feel shut off in a world of their own and that adults have no part in it and no understanding of it?

Why don't we at least drop the word "teenager" when we aren't talking about young people in general, but young hoodlums?

Let's start calling our young lawbreakers by any name their crimes warrant—thieves, robbers, reckless drivers, or whatever, instead of referring to them as teenagers when they defy law and order.

★ ★ ★

It might help a lot to erase the idea that we adults have a low opinion of teenagers in general.

Spinster Feels Ashamed of Status

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Miss E. is an unmarried, middle-aged professional woman.

★ ★ ★

In another day, her successful life would have won her community respect. As the elder sister of an invalid brother, she's helped educate his children. As a loyal daughter, she's made her parents' old age comfortable.

As an understanding woman, she's the favored confidante of young nieces and nephews. As a worker for underprivileged children, she merits the gratitude of all of us.

But her 1957 community regards her with suspicion rather than respect. It's made her so ashamed of not having a husband that she's always hurting herself in empty little flirtations with married men.

★ ★ ★

This low regard for the unmarried woman is new. Party it's due, I think, to popular psychology's suggestion that marriage's "hetrosexual" love is the only evidence of our maturity.

LIMITED VIEW

It seems a pretty rigid and limited view.

Not only has it embittered the unmarried woman's single state with a wholly new kind of humiliation and loneliness. It has also contributed to parents' forcing of premature dating on children—to teenagers' anxiety for the security of the "steady" date and their current rush into the early marriages whose "heterosexual" love can prove them well-adjusted.

★ ★ ★

As American females outnumber males by more than a million, the unmarried woman will remain with us for some time. Perhaps, as anthropologist Margaret Mead recently suggested, we'd better reconsider the wisdom of making a husband the only socially approved goal for every girl.

She says, "Women today are anxious to marry at any cost. The fact that one has been married has become the defense against accusations of abnormality, preversity and psychological maladjustment."

Marriage's "heterosexual" love is indeed one evidence of our human worth. But it is not the only one.

★ ★ ★

By making it our exclusive standard for psychological respect, we are reacting to the extremism of the last generation's feminist fanatics. We become extremists, too.

★ ★ ★

Balanced parents will keep this in mind. And rejecting this new kind of regimentation, they will rear girls to regard marriage as an enrichment of experience, not the sole purpose of life.

Lost Purse Sent Back to Owner

Should Some Cash Be Enclosed With Thank-You Note?

By EMILY POST

The writer of today's first letter tells me: "Recently I lost my purse in the theater and fortunately for me the person who found it was honest and mailed it to me. I was very grateful to have it back as there were several things in it of importance to me.

"I shall, of course, write a note of thanks to this person, but I would like to know if it would be proper to enclose a sum of money in with the note?"

Answer: If the purse had very little money in it, then you would simply thank the finder for the return of it. But if it had a considerable amount of money, you would thank the finder and send a fair proportion of it to him (or her) and ask that he (or she) please accept it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A year ago my husband and I eloped and were married by a justice of the peace. I have regretted ever since not having been married in church. I would like to have a religious ceremony performed.

"It will be very quiet, of course, with just our own families present. I would like to know if it would be proper to send out announcements of this religious ceremony?"

Answer: If your parents sent out announcements after the civil ceremony, then no further announcements would be sent out. If your marriage has not been announced, then it may quite properly be announced at this time and the announcements could include both the dates of the civil ceremony and the religious one.

"Dear Mrs. Post: After my fiancee and I announced our engagement, her parents invited my parents to their house for dinner one evening so that they might become acquainted. Is it necessary for my parents to return this invitation?"

Answer: They don't have to return the invitation in kind, but they certainly should show them return hospitality in one way or another.

Mrs. Clark Lacks Time for Puzzles

Crosticophile Once Invented Her Own Brain-Teasers

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Joseph S. Clark, wife of the new Democratic senator from Pennsylvania, used to be known by her friends and puzzle fans as a "crosticophile."

★ ★ ★

That was when she found time from her many duties as wife of the former Philadelphia mayor to tackle double-crostics, a sort of egghead version of the cross-word puzzle.

She not only took on the diagrammless ones, but invented some real dillies of her own. Some of these were selected for publication in a best-selling double-crostics book.

"It's fun to invent them," the senator's wife told me, "but it takes too much time, and somehow time is something I seem to have very little of these days."

Her passion for crostics led to a volunteer Navy cryptographer's job at one time.

VISITS SENATE

Since her husband became senator she's been fascinated with the doings on Capitol Hill. She is frequently seen at public committee hearings and in the visitor's gallery of the Senate.

Her official and social obligations as a senator's wife, she says, seem to be more demanding than those of Philadelphia's first lady.

Before coming to Washington the Clarks managed frequent visits to the big manor house they own on Avery Island, off the coast of Louisiana, and a brief annual stay at Jackson Hole, Wyo.

This year, however, they'll consider themselves fortunate if they get off on a long-planned trip abroad in the fall on which they'll be accompanied by their daughter, Noel, 16, who graduates in June from Miss Porter's School in Farmington, Conn.

LEADING HOSTESS

Mrs. Amaral Peixoto, wife of the Brazilian ambassador, was once official hostess for her father, the late Getulio Vargas, one-time dictator, later president, of Brazil.

Now a leading hostess in Washington, she's up at 7 o'clock every morning, sees her teenage daughter and niece off to school, then checks on the day's schedule with her household staff.

★ ★ ★

This is a big job. The staff includes an Italian cook, an English butler, two Spanish waiters, two Spanish handymen, and an Italian gardener!

Mom deserves the very best..

Sunday is "Her" Day so why not take her to Wilkins for the "very best."

Costs Her Money but Wins Her Satisfaction

Roz Forces Smile From Sad Cabbie

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Rosalind Russell, a lady who can out-talk anybody this side of Arlene Francis, was telling the story about how she "conned the cabbie" into smiling.

★ ★ ★

"He was like so many other sad people—didn't like anybody," she said. "He had troubles, and he gave forth with all of them. By the time we got to 60th and Madison, where I was unloading myself, he would have been crying about the world if he hadn't been so mad at it."

Miss Russell gave him one of those infectious, un-actressy smiles she's got in her humane repertoire. "Come on now, it's not so bad," she said sweetly.

God was in his heaven, all's right with the world, and furthermore she had a dollar tip for him. "But only if you'll smile."

The driver grunted.

★ ★ ★

"Whatcha say?" needled Miss Russell relentlessly. "It's the easiest way to make a buck I ever heard of . . ."

BUT HE SMILED

"Dames!" shuddered the guy. But then he smiled—as Miss Russell recalls it, a glorious, gap-toothed smile. The star of "Auntie Mame," feeling like a gay samaritan, thanked him a lot, handed him the buck and stepped out.

★ ★ ★

As he pulled away he was laughing uproariously. "Whether at me, with me, or because of me, I don't know," she said. "But in any case it was an improvement."

Miss Russell was so delighted she has pulled the same trick time and time again, which has cost her money but won her a lot of satisfaction.

She concedes the effects may not last long, but figures the cab drivers can't help feeling better. If not for the laugh, at least for the money.

★ ★ ★

Occasionally, on a very lucky day, a passenger will find a cab driver who is out to make the customer feel better.

Sometimes, when you're in a hurry, they drive you crazy; they stop short in the middle of the street to let old ladies jaywalk, and they're so convivial they pull up beside other cabs and pass the time of day with fellow drivers.

TOO MUCH HURRY

Their attitude: Everyone's in too much of a hurry and we've got to calm down. They are perfectly right, but there are days in New York when one cannot suddenly shift into low without stripping one's emotional gears.

★ ★ ★

The other day, however, I met just the right cab driver. He is a squat, bespectacled, pleasantly homely man named Jack Paley, the kind of man who says, "Ah, 'tis a beautiful day"—even if it's sleeting.

The road from East 45th street to West 65th is long, and tedious, but Jack is the kind of driver who makes it seem like a brief breeze through the country.

He talks all the time about his "patients." Seems that since World War I, when he was a medical corpsman working around military hospitals, he has been a volunteer at New York hospitals in his time off.

★ ★ ★

Each day before he begins the 10-hour stint in his cab, he stops at the Jewish Sanatorium and Hospital for Chronic Diseases in Brooklyn.

There, for three hours each morning, he helps wash, dress, feed and write letters for some of the 1,000 incurably ill. He also works a sixth day each week, with the cab, donating the earnings to his bedridden "friends."

SELFISH PLEASURE

"Really," he said, "I don't suppose they get as much out of it as I do. It's selfish pleasure, to work with people who are suffering. Every day looks great to you, you're so thankful to God to be well."

★ ★ ★

So be of good cheer, lady, he said. It's a wonderful world.

A bribe artist, Jack Paley, like Rosalind Russell. Only in reverse.

Hits Food Industry for 'Cheating' Public

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An official of the U.S. Food and Drug Commission said yesterday there is "economic cheating" going on in the food industry.

Harold Clark made his statement at a meeting of the Central States Assn. of Health, Food, Drugs and Feed Officials. The meeting was held in connection with the 61st conference of the Assn. of Food and Drug Officials of the United States which continues through tomorrow.

"Too many food manufacturers are not as pure and spotless as they should be," Clark told his listeners.

He called "economic cheating" such practices as watering fowls, oysters, fruit juices and tomatoes; putting chicory and cereal in coffee; using acetic acid instead of vinegar in pickles; and labels that don't always give the correct content of packages.

Raymond K. Davis, Columbus, Ohio, was named president of the Central States group. Clifford H. Bracy, Lansing, Mich., retiring president, was named to the executive board.

School Passes Hurdle

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Laketon School Board has approved a $700,000 bond issue to finance construction of a junior high school. The next steps are approval of the Municipal Finance Commission and then a special election of the district.

650 PHS Students Join Talents in Spring Concert

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Tonight the Pontiac High School Vocal Dept. will stage its third and final performance of the 22nd annual "Say It With Music" Spring Concert.

The program is under the direction of George Putnam, director of PHS Vocal Dept., Mrs. Doreen Voltman, and Edward Banghart. Over 650 students are in this concert which played to capacity audiences Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The A Capella Choir, glee clubs, and soloists co-operate in a marvelous spectacle opened by the Senior Girls Ensemble singing the theme song.

Part I started with the Girls' Glee Club singing "The Best Things in Life Are Free" and the Selective Glee Club in four songs.

★ ★ ★

Junior Boys' Ensemble didn't waste any time in "Standing On the Corner" to open their song series.

A solo by Jack Hutchings, "Come Back to Sorrento," preceded entre acts, as did two songs by the Junior Girls' Ensemble.

"Emitte Spiritum Tuum" was done by the A Capella Choir in Part II followed by several religious selections.

Eleanor Hassenzahl played "Cantabile" on the organ, and Jane Austin sang "One Alone," and the Senior Boys' Ensemble, "After Dark" to complete the entre acts of Part II. Robert Everett, Ruth Ann Tower, and Jane Austin, alternate for the three performances.

★ ★ ★

The Boys' Glee Club started off Part III with "Ship Ahoy!" then moved into two sea songs with Mike O'Berry, soloist.

A dance to "Anchors Aweigh" was done by Shirley Hutchinson; Vickie Vandecar and Kenneth Bogard sang a duet "Vienna City of My Dreams"; after which the boys continued with "The Sea," and "A-Roving," with soloists Sam Baughey, Dick Hathaway, Richard Mann, Bill McClure, and Duke Relyea.

Entre acts ending Part III were sung by the Senior Girls' Ensemble.

The A Capella Choir did selections from "My Fair Lady" for Part IV.

★ ★ ★

Putnam climaxed the concert with the entire vocal department singing the finale: "While We're Young," "Your Land and My Land," "America the Beautiful," and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God."

Iama Hook will accompany her Latin students on their annual trip to her cottage, "Anchor Lee," on Lake Huron in Canada. They will travel there by bus tomorrow morning and return home in the evening.

Co-Op Students Honor Bosses

Waterford Juniors to Fete Senior Class at Hawaiian Banquet

By SANDY WHITE

Over 150 Waterford Township high school students and their employers dined at the Old Mill Inn May 8. The occasion was the fourth annual banquet given by the co-op students in honor of their employers.

Guests were representatives from the school, the state vocational department, and the Detroit Executive club. Extending greetings from the employers was John W. Fitzgerald, editor of the Pontiac Press. Also representing the Press was Harry Reed, city editor.

A South Pacific scene creates the mood for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet "Moonlight Luau," in the gym at 7 tomorrow night.

Junior honor seniors by having them as guests. Entertaining will be "Hawaiian Club" from the University of Michigan which will present its own show.

All seniors and sponsors received individual invitations. Students planning the banquet are Joy Clark, general chairman, and Tish Fitzgerald, Darlene Dahl, Sandy Stockton and Connie Uhl.

Tickets for the senior prom "Tara" May 18, will go on sale for all high school students and alumni, Monday morning.

A senior magazine, for and about seniors, is having final touches added to it before it goes to the printer. It is a 12 page memory magazine that seniors will receive free on June 5 at commencement practice.

Invited to the Scholarship Awards banquet on May 15 at Devon Gables are all those scholarship winners of this year from Oakland County. Sponsoring this banquet is the Michigan State University Club of Oakland County.

Orion Sadie Hawkins Dance Tonight

The Lake Orion High School Student Council will present the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance tonight. The affair features a marriage booth, wishing well; guessing contests and refreshments.

The dance is a school-wide event, with the girls doing the asking. Chairman of committees which worked on the dance are Richard Mothe, entertainment; Alfred Kochanowski, booths, Julie Federico, decorations and publicity; and Beth Woodward, admission.

One of the most impressive ceremonies ever witnessed at Lake Orion High School was the recent initiation ceremony of the first group in the Orion Branch of the National Honor Society. Installed were:

Seniors, Barbara Allen, Dorothy Ilene Armstrong, Marion Virginia Cheal, Patricia Ann Evans, Walter Robert Hampton, Marjorie Ann Ingram, and Val Joan Urban; Juniors—Kathleen Abbey, Eleanor Hatfield, Mary Louise Leibaert, Jack Reed and Mary Lynn Shoup; Sophomores—Douglas Black, Judith Cudnohufsky and Karen Miller were inducted.

Petitions for class officers are in and the campaigining will continue until May 14, when the election is conducted by the student council.

The theme "Tropicana" has been chosen for the junior-senior prom with plans to convert the gym into a misplaced tropical paradise. The juniors and seniors and their guests will attend the dance on May 17.

This week four beautiful oil paintings from the art classes are being displayed on the lower hall.

Junior Highs Eye Music Programs

Eastern Junior High's glee clubs have chosen as the theme for their annual spring concert "It's a Big, Wide, Wonderful World."

Leonard Griffin, Margaret Snyder, and Florine Tompkins will conduct the two performances which will begin at 8 p. m. in the Eastern auditorium on Wednesday, May 15, and Thursday, May 16. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Girls in advanced homemaking classes have recently been studying a unit on home furnishings.

AT WASHINGTON

An orientation program for sixth graders coming to Washington Junior High next fall will start Monday.

Spring is in the air at Washington. The halls echo the songs of choruses and individuals preparing for the Spring Music Festival to be given May 23.

AT MADISON

Over 60 ninth grade students at Madison Junior High, along with faculty advisors and Principal George Yansen left bright and early Wednesday morning for the trip to Washington, D. C.

After weeks of checking and interviewing, Marshall Bishop was selected the ninth grade student most worthy of a scholarship which pays all expenses on the Washington trip. Judging was based on citizenship, scholarship and all-around cooperation.

Next Tuesday, the Madison Band and Orchestra concert will be held in the gym. It will be conducted by Raymond Fixel and Philip Mason.

AT LINCOLN

Install Park Gates to Stop Vandalism

MILFORD—New gates are being installed at a cut-off on Wixom Rd., at the Proud Lake Recreation area, according to Al Masini, park manager.

It is hoped the new structures will prevent vandalism to a small park, located on the edge of Huron Drive.

Masini said that recently there has been a rash outbreak of park-owned equipment being destroyed, tables stolen, and by locking up the park, a closer watch can be maintained by park rangers.

Budget Group Cuts Funds, Raps Agriculture Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today sharply criticized the Agriculture Department's farm policies. It cut $272,566,860 from the department's money requests for the fiscal year starting July 1.

It recommended $3,692,889,757 in appropriations for the department while asserting a new program is imperative to ease the economic plight of the nation's farmers.

★ ★ ★

The committee questioned particularly the advisability of continuing the acreage reserve provision of the soil bank program and ordered a curb on future commitments under it.

★ ★ ★

The committee action on the agriculture bill brought to more than 1½ billion dollars the amount it has cut so far this year from appropriations requests submitted by President Eisenhower.

Fund reductions recommended by the committee are subject to House review next week. They were designed to hold the department's normal activities to current year levels.

The committee approved these money allotments:

★ ★ ★

Regular activities $1,610,024,848, a cut of $272,556,860 from requests and $403,378,260 below comparable current year funds.

★ ★ ★

Corporation activities $1,239,788,671, the amount requested and $297,501,493 more than this year.

Special activities $843,076,238, the amount requested and $572,226,556 more than this year.

Loan authorizations 448½ millions, a cut of 26 millions from the amount requested and 725 millions less than was available this year.

★ ★ ★

The $1,239,788,671 for corporation activities is for restoration of funds used by the Commodity Credit Corp. under its price support activities. The committee said half of the amount is for storage, handling and other overhead charges and the other half for losses on crops sold by the CCC under price support programs.

★ ★ ★

The $843,076,238 for special activities is to repay the CCC for money it has spent for other programs under special congressional directives.

Of the loan authorization, 239 million dollars is for the Rural Electrification Administration for installation of electricity and telephone services.

The committee recommended these specific major allotments for the department:

★ ★ ★

Research $48,994,890, a cut of $11,880,110 from requests.

Plant and animal disease and pest control $25,682,000, a cut of $1,270,000.

State experiment stations $29,503,708, a cut of 4½ millions.

Extension service payments to states $49,101,000, a cut of $5,264,000.

Marketing research and service $28,316,600, a cut of $2,351,900.

School lunch program 100 million, the amount requested.

★ ★ ★

Commodity stabilization service $108,377,500, a cut of $6,822,500.

Crop insurance program $6,376,700, a cut of $923,300.

Farmers Home Administration loans 209½ millions, a cut of 26 millions.

Soil and water conservation payments 535 millions, a cut of $133,441,660, with the size of future conservation reserve programs limited to 250 millions in any calendar year.

School Census Begins Today

Lapeer County Official Sees Special Education in Area's Future

METAMORA—The annual school census starts in Lapeer County this week. The larger districts are starting Friday, and some of the smaller ones will wait several days, in the hope of getting records of all families moving into the area during the month.

Since the state pays primary aid to schools on the basis of the census, all persons five through 19 years of age must be on the census list, regardless of status.

County census takers are required to check birth certificates not already verified, and residents are asked to have them available. It is especially important this year to list every child who is mentally or physically handicapped, officials said. All information given the enumerator is kept confidential.

This year, for the first time, listing of the mentally handicapped is required by the state.

In some counties programs of special education for handicapped children are being developed. Lapeer County superintendent of schools, R. A. Grettenberger, says he has wished to start such work here, and says he hopes that later this may be possible.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Spotts, of 47 Augusta Ave. The elder Spotts is a retired Pontiac High School biology teacher.

Brandon Voters Face Question of Tax Raise

ORTONVILLE — The voters of Brandon Township Schools will go to the polls on Tuesday to decide whether to have taxes raised 6 mills for one year.

★ ★ ★

This would raise individual taxes $6 for each $1000 of equalized state evaluation, officials said.

The money raised from the assessment of an additional six mills would be used for operational purposes, and for new equipment such as furniture for class rooms, homemaking department and commercial departments for the high school now under construction.

★ ★ ★

Voting will take place in the band room of the high school on Cedar street. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Give Deadline for Petitions

Troy Education Board File Date Is Saturday, Says School Head

TROY—School Supt. Stuart K. Baker reminds district residents that Saturday is the final day for filing for office on the Troy Board of Education.

Baker added that voters in that district will be asked to approve a three-mill school levy increase June 10, in order that the educational standards of the district may be maintained.

By the next school term it is possible that four new schools will have been commissioned, Baker pointed out. This will mean increases in the teaching staff, to the extent of an estimated $90,000, as well as increased custodial workers.

"If we do not get the support of the taxpayers, it will mean a great loss to our student body," Baker said yesterday.

"We will have to cut back, rather than go forward, and the young people of our city will be the ones who will suffer. State aid has fallen off and there is every indication that next year's cut will be even more. There's nothing we can do except ask the support of the residents in the district."

Baker said the increase in taxes would average between $7 and $8 per property owner.

Board of education members, including Baker, are appearing before PTA groups throughout the district to explain the situation and answer questions.

"We will try to visit every PTA unit," Baker said, "and will provide well informed speakers for any other group in the city that wants to get the true facts on our problem."

Police said a witness in an adjacent apartment building said she heard Miss Johnson scream and then saw Smith push the girl from the window ledge.

Census Takers to Begin Job

Annual Tally of Children at Rochester Expected to Be Finished in May

ROCHESTER—Armed with pens and questionnaires," census takers are starting the enormous task of recording the identity and whereabouts of all Rochester children.

The annual school census should be concluded by the end of May, according to Richard F. Huizenga, assistant superintendent, in charge of the enumeration in the Rochester Community School area. The census, he said, is required by state law of all children, both of school age as well as pre-school age and serves many purposes.

It enables school authorities to locate the handicapped children so that the Board of Education can assist their parents in providing educational facilities for them. It also is used to help determine state aid to public schools.

Probably one of the most important functions of the school census, he added, is to aid school authorities to predict future enrollments and in determining which areas schools should be built or enlarged. While state law permits parents to enroll children in either approved public or parochial schools, it holds the Board of Education responsible for certifying the attendance of all census age children.

The Board of Education has approved the following enumerators for taking the census information.

They are: Mrs. Richard Sheldon, Mrs. Raymond Russell, Mrs. Charles Dulzo, Sr., Mrs. Robert Stanton, Mrs. Earl Kohl Mrs. Ray Lawson, Mrs. Edward Schulert, Mrs. E. K. Monroe, Mrs. Harry Sheldon, Mrs. William Cellner and Mrs. Arthur Kohn.

'Old' Champ Retires as Press Newsboy

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD—Tom Fox is retiring from the newspaper game this week at the ripe old age of 17 years.

★ ★ ★

During the six years that he was a carrier for the Pontiac Press, in Milford, Tom more than tripled his number of subscribers.

The youth lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fox, at 113 Water St.

Out of approximately 800 Pontiac Press newspaper boys Tom won numerous contest prizes including grand prizes of a Gruen wrist watch and a portable radio. In 1955 he received an Inland Daily Press Assn. award as an outstanding carrier. His top achievement noted 27 new subscribers during a three-week contest sponsored by The Pontiac Press.

And the way he handles his money, is "pretty foxy" too, according to his dad.

★ ★ ★

When Tom first began delivering papers, he used "shank's mare" for transportation. Then he earned enough money for a bicycle.

★ ★ ★

As his route — and earnings increased, he bought a motor scooter and finally he purchased a shiny red jeep—all from money earned delivering newspapers.

In rain, shine, sleet or snow, this young teenager has given faithful service to every local Pontiac Press reader, and records show "no complaints" in six years of service to the people of Milford.

Upon his retirement this week, he has a good size bank account, to be applied toward his college education after graduation from Milford high school this June. His brother George is attending General Motors Tech.

★ ★ ★

Tom's aspirations are on a high level. He would like to be a pilot—"and operate my own airport."

California City to Put Muffler on Excess Noise

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—When Long Beach wants quiet it intends to have it, by legislation if necessary.

The City Council has proposed curbs on 14 types of noise between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m. For example, it exempts vehicle noises, but cracks down on loud playing of phonographs, radios and television sets. There may be no yelling or shouting on the streets between those hours, and, the ordinance draft says, there must be "no barking of dogs or singing of birds."

This undoubtedly would put a crimp in the birds' early morning activities, and it is bringing wrinkles to the brow of City Atty. James T. Starr, who has been asked to advise the council if the ordinance is enforceable.

Hollywood Headlines

Filmland Pays Big Price for 'By Love Possessed'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—One hundred thousand dollars and 10 per cent of the profits is a whale of a price to pay for a book yet unpublished. But Ray Stark, who bought James Gould Cozzens' "By Love Possessed," doesn't feel that he took a chance because Cozzens' book, "Guard of Honor," won a Pulitzer Prize.

"By Love Possessed" comes out in September, and it's an earthy tale of happenings in a small town.

Instead of choosing the stars he wants, Ray says that he's going to give the book to Billy Wilder, Willie Wyler and John Huston and invite one of them to direct it.

"Then the selection of a star will come from the director, not from me," said Ray.

Pretty, red-haired Peggy Maurer, who was last seen on Broadway in "The Loud Red Patrick," had two very interesting things happen to her since she arrived in our town with her husband, director Arthur Penn.

She came here to be with Arthur while he directs Paul Newman in "Left-Handed Gun," the story of Billy the Kid, without any intention of working herself.

But she was spotted by Albert Band and Louis Garfinkle, who gave her the role opposite Richard Boone in "Killer on the Wall."

The other good news is that Peggy discovered that she and Arthur have a date with the stork for December. They were married last January.

ROLE FOR HOLDEN

Looks very good now for William Holden to play newspaperman Mark Hellinger in the Columbia picture based on the life of Mark, who died much too soon.

While the producer Jonie Taps has been in Mount Sinai Hospital, he hasn't been idle. He has signed Ben Roberts and Ivan Goff to write the screen story.

Harry Cohn, who has taken a great personal interest in this film, is particularly eager to have the story factual since so many of us knew and loved Mark and were familiar with his generosity, his romance with Gladys Glad, and his great success later as a motion picture producer.

Shirley MacLaine has given up her Malibu Beach house where she lived for three years and moved into town.

"I've never bought furniture before in my life," she told me, "but I rented this house unfurnished and I've been working like crazy to get it settled. My husband was home from Japan for just a few weeks, then had to go back for a month to edit the two pictures he made there.

"It was just too far to get to Malibu, and everybody who came to see me and the baby had to bring a box lunch!"

Shirley said she cannot make "The Big Land" with Gary Cooper because she starts "The Matchmaker" in July with Shirley Booth and Tony Perkins for Hal Wallis, and she also has a TV commitment.

ON THE SICK LIST

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at Random: Sorry to hear that Hjordis, David Niven's beautiful wife, has been ill again. They have now postponed their departure date for Europe to May 29, until she gets rid of virus.

Hugh ("Wyatt Earp") O'Brian is dating beautiful Long Islander Dorothy Bracken at the Harwyn Club in New York. She is the spittin' image of Peggy Dow who retired from the screen when she married Walter Helmerich Jr.

Julie Harris is the girl Jack Warner has in mind for the lead in "Home Before Dark," Eileen Bassing's novel of the experience of a woman who comes home from an insane asylum.

Bob Brunson and Cathy Downs were in town for a few days and dined at the Plymouth House.

Same night, same place, John Ireland was with a beautiful doll whom no one knew.

Capers by Employe Grounds for Firing

BOSTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has ruled that a man can be fired for calling the boss names, fighting with a fellow employe and playfully pinching one of the girls at a Christmas party.

★ ★ ★

The court yesterday affirmed the judgment of the federal court of Puerto Rico which ruled there was no breach of contract when the Long Construction Co. of San Juan fired Robert E. Johnson, Indianapolis in January, 1948.

Johnson had sought $150,000 in damages.

★ ★ ★

Testimony was introduced that Johnson called the boss names, fought with another worker and pinched a girl at an office Christmas party in 1947. He was fired for that.

Midshipmen at the U.S. Naval academy at Annapolis must be at least five feet, five and one-half inches tall, and may weigh not less than the accepted minimum of 112 pounds.

Polly Kicks Up Fuss, Sounds Fire Alarm

ATLANTA (AP)—Polly the parrot acted like a fire alarm yesterday.

Mrs. L. B. Gaylon told firemen she was in the living room talking on the telephone when Polly began kicking up a ruckus in her cage in the kitchen.

★ ★ ★

She rushed out to see what all the fluttering was about and found flames licking up from the stove area and the room filled with smoke.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gaylon grabbed Polly's cage and ran out. Then she called a neighbor who notified the fire department.

When firemen arrived Mrs. Gaylon was fighting the small blaze with a garden hose.

Farm Labor Clogs Red China Cities

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China's major cities, already suffering from unemployment, are becoming clogged with farm laborers seeking jobs.

Newspapers from the Communist mainland give this picture:

Peasants poured into the cities in wholesale lots from outlying areas after last year's droughts, floods and typhoons.

★ ★ ★

In Shanghai, Canton and Tsingtao city councils have issued orders to send the farmers home before farm production suffers.

The population of Shanghai, biggest city on the mainland, soared to 6,800,000 early this year, an increase of 700,000 in six months.

★ ★ ★

Tsingtao, a Yellow Sea port of about a million, forbids farmers permanent jobs and refuses residence permits and food coupons to new arrivals.

Some 30,000 "have blindly infiltrated" Canton, a city of some 1½ million 60 miles northwest of Hong Kong.

Car Mishap Slows Up Return of Mom, Baby

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—Donald L. McInerney and his 3-year-old son were literally up in the air and upset about the new baby.

McInerney heard his son yell. He made a quick grab, thinking the boy had opened a car door.

His car swerved off the street, started running up a telephone pole guy wire, and turned over.

The father and son were unhurt. But Mrs. McInerney and the new baby waited an extra hour for a ride home from Palo Alto Hospital in another car.

He Gets More Reaction Giving Commercials

By EARL WILSON

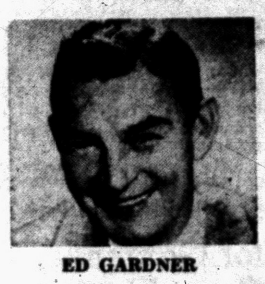

NEW YORK — Ed Gardner told me something startling — his "two-headed baseball player" commercials on radio get him more reaction than his "Duffy's Tavern" did on TV.

★ ★ ★

"Cab drivers quote these single jokes back to me — but when I did 50 on TV, they didn't," says Ed.

"Funny thing," he added, "at my agency, I'm supposed to be a nice, retired old guy writin' copy . . . not an actor."

Ed writes and delivers the commercial for an auto sponsor — about "the tree surgeon who had a bad back — he fell out of one of his patients" — or "the restaurant that cut down the size of the paper plates to make the hamburgers look bigger,"

ED GARDNER

"Things are going so well," Ed concluded as he was setting out for Hollywood to relax playing golf all summer, "I may have to go back to Puerto Rico to save some dough on taxes."

Driving down Highway 66 yesterday, Mr. Laverty was asked by his wife to snuff out her cigarette. He did, but somehow burned his hand and lost control of the car. It went tumbling into the ditch.

The Lavertys escaped without serious injury, but their dog was hurt. They both knelt down to offer him help, but the pooch bit Mrs. Laverty on the cheek and Mr. Laverty on the hand.

They were hospitalized today and doctors said the dog bites caused more trouble than the accident.

Taipei Hails Arrival of Nuclear Weapon

TAIPEI (AP)—Taipei newspapers today hailed the stationing in Formosa of U. S. Air Force units equipped with Matador guided missiles capable of carrying nuclear warheads.

★ ★ ★

The official Central Daily News called the move "a timely, wise and effective action by the U. S. government which will prove a setback to Chinese Communist plans to attack Taiwan (Formosa)."

The Hsin Sheng Pao, organ of the Formosa provincial government, said it is "now clear that the United States, after the long, fruitless talks with the Chinese Reds at Geneva, has no longer any illusions about them."

The United Daily News, most influential of the independent newspapers in Formosa, said the stationing of Matadors on this Chinese Nationalist island showed the United States was determined to maintain its stand against recognition of the Chinese Communist regime.

Tips for Better Lawn Care

BY WAYNE B. SIEFERT

The early spring has forced home owners to get into lawn work sooner than usual. Most folks have mowed several times already and have had opportunity to look over the problem of lawn and see the places where it is not doing well.

Some are satisfied to have green grass of a sort and the less it grows the better.

Other owners feel their lawn must be the most attractive one in the neighborhood and want to do everything possible to make it that way.

Occasionally old lawns experience a general fading out of the grass plants, gradually becoming thin, unthrifty and turning brown in early summer. Where regular fertilizer programs have been followed and regular watering faithfully carried out, it is time to become suspicious of grubs in the soil. The larvae of the "June Bug," the Rose Chafer, the "Japanese Beetle," and certain other insects all are root feeding grubs, and surprisingly similar in appearance.

WATCH FOE GRUBS

By nature these are sod infesting insects. Old lawns often become so heavily infested due to a gradual build-up of the insects, that they may be damaged beyond repair. These grubs feed on the grass roots. They are usually within two inches of the surface. If a half dozen grubs are found in one spade sized "plug" of soil - considerable injury is being done.

Several good grub destroying chemicals are now available which are dusted or sprayed on the soil and watered.

Your County Extension Agent has a useful folder describing insect problems on turf. Following the application of these poisons with fertilization and careful management will restore turfs to their future beauty, once these insects have been destroyed.

Very frequently lawns are observed, which are thin and somewhat patchy. This may be seen in young as well as old seedings. If it has p e r s i s t e d for some months, or even years, using additional seed is frequently a temptation. However, in a great many instances, poor fertility is the true cause. When large trees are nearby, roots usually infest the soil in these areas, removing moisture and fertilizer badly needed by the grass plants.

Where no fertilizer has been used on the lawn the previous year, or years, one may expect to observe these poor fertility symptoms. A regular fertilizer program (3 applications a year) will cause repid enlargement of existing plants, soon filling small bare areas. If areas larger than 12" in diameter exist, then fertilizer and seed program becomes an effective combination. Rarely do seed programs alone cause permanent improvement where poor fertility is the cause.

CHECK BENT GRASS

Home owners have commented upon the presence of large circular patches of grass that seems to be "different" than your regular blue grass or fescue. It appears as a different shade of green, and has a dense, "spongy" texture. Usually it can easily be pulled up because of its mat-like habit of growth and shallow roots. These areas are colonies of bent grass. Some grass mixtures have small percentage of bent grass seed permitting enough plants to eventually take over the entire area. But until this process is complete, no known program exists to disguise variation in color and texture!

Well fertilized areas tend to be free of dangelions thistles, etc. because vigerous grass plants shade these weeds as seedlings. But even the best lawns have a few.

When spring plantings become infested with weeds, the chemicals also tends to kill the grass as well. A late fall application is the earliest on the new seedings.

★ ★ ★

Where crab grass has been a perennial problem, poor fertility is often a contributing factor. Cr grass seed usually germinates when forsythia shrubs blossom. If bare, or thin spots exist, these seedlings thrive and become so aggressive as to enlarge these spots before fall. If the established lawn grass is well fertilized and vigeorous, it will tend to fill these areas during its early spring growth leaving no opportunities for weeds. Where crab grass has become etremely serious, then chemicals are the only remaining hope.

FARM News GARDEN

Scale Model for Gardens Great Idea!

Planning your garden and landscaping scheme on paper is a good idea. A scale model of your entire lot in full color will give you an even better picture of what to expect.

A model will save time now and regrets later.

Materials are around most households: Cardboard cut on a scale of about one-half inch to the foot, old green towels, felt or art paper for grass and vari-colored bits of yard for flowers and shrubs.

Hat pins make good trees; and sandpaper, driveways and patios. A seed catalog will give you an idea of plants and colors.

A scale model of the house is the center of the landscaping scheme and the basis for most of its color. Walls can be made of an old shirtboard folded into a rectangle and set on end.

Make the roof by cutting another shirtboard to approximate scale size. Fold is slightly down the middle for the right slope.

Crayon-in windows, doors and trim, matching the house colors as carefully as you can.

Matching the roof color is particularly important, since a modern trend in color styling is to consider an asphalt shingle roof the key exterior color and to relate other colors of the exterior to it. With your house, driveway and patio in place, fill in the lawn.

Jap Beetles Still Feeding

Put Poison Blanket Over Lawn Areas in May

Keep your landscaping's ornery undercover agents, Jap beetles, under cover this season. This means grub-proofing, or putting a poison blanket over your lawn areas, and spraying foliage with an invisible DDT film for two-way control.

In May, beetle grubs still are feeding on grass roots. With the first really warm days, they will begin to emerge warns J. J. Slocum, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. That's why grub-proofing with wettable DDT powder is so effective now in thinning the beetle population. Foliar spraying with emulsifiable DDT catches those that survive or fly in from neighboring properties.

DDT wettable powder is advised for lawn application because it is easily worked into the soil for long-lasting results, about five years, and the sole insecticide that does not destroy helpful earthworms. Earthworms aerate the soil and revitalize it by taking organic materials into the ground.

Poison powders of any kind are not recommended for foliar sprays, since beetles on the wing shy of visibly tainted greenery. Their built-in radar does not warn them off DDT coatings that are invisible.

★ ★ ★

Grub-proofing is best accomplished in a drizzle. If you can't wait for this favorable unfavorable weather, next best thing is to set off sprinklers to wash the poison into the soil. Left unmolested, famished Jap beetle adults will ravage any foliage in their path, but seemingly prefer the linden and ginkgo as tidbits.

Must Control Pests on Pines This Week

For anyone who hopes to be a successful Christmas tree farmer and is raising an species of pine, this tip is important:

★ ★ ★

The adult moth has been observed in some parts of Michigan and will be laying eggs in the tips of red pine and Scots pine before May 5. Anyone who hopes to control this pest and produce top notch trees must make a spray application of 2 pounds of 50 per cent DDT in 100 gallons of water during the period between April 29 and May 5. One application at this time will give complete control. Otherwise, at least two applications will be necessary in late June and early July.

In pruning all trees, it is wiser to leave the stronger "U" crotches and prune out "V" crotches. The latter are weaker, tend to split much more easily.

SYMBOL OF THE DUTCH — Here a basket arrangement of forced potted bulbs includes Dutch tulips and hyacinths in a setting of African violets. These few tulips are just a sample of the thousands of rows to be viewed in the forthcoming Tulip Time Festival in Holland, (Mich).

Tulip Time Spectacular Awaited by Thousands

By BARBARA JOHNSON

May 15 through 18 will see a yearly Michigan event in full bloom.

Hundreds of varieties of tulips will be the main attraction at the annual Tulip Time Festival in Holland. For four days this town on Lake Michigan will be bustling with about 500,000 visitors from all over the state and the country.

Beginning at 9 a.m. Wednesday and lasting until 9 p.m. Saturday, every hour is filled with wonderful shows and attractions. Parades of children in costume, Klompen dancers and several Dutch Fantasy shows top the list of entertainment.

Of great interest every year is the three-hour spectacular Band Review. Over 40 high school bands will fill the streets of Holland, featuring this year, the Edgewater High School Eagle Band of Orlando, Fla. The band has won several first places in contests in the South, participated at the Tangerine Bowl and was selected to appear in a massed band chorus at Daytona, Beach, Fla.

Along with the band contests will be dazzling displays of baton-twirling teams.

Multi-colored displays of tulip beds will be open free of charge to the public at the famed tulip farms about three miles from the city. Also, the streets will be lined in brilliant array for several miles with the blooming flowers.

Hundreds of girls, known as the Klompen (wooden shoes) dancers, will make merry music with the rhythm of Dutch folk dances throughout the festival. All of these participants will be dressed in picturesque Dutch costumes for realistic effect. Ninety per cent of Holland's residents are of Dutch descent.

All who attend the affair will be interested in seeing Little Netherlands. This miniature village represents Old Holland with a display of boats, canals, houses and windmills. The Netherlands Museum will feature Dutch culture and articles brought to this country by the settlers, which are both rare and authentic.

Tulip Time Festival, Inc., is a non-profit corporation and relies on gifts and support of civic organizations.

There are an estimated 44,000 lightning flashes all around the earth in every 24 hours of an average day.

About 15 per cent of the total area of the Philippine islands is under cultivation—chiefly for the growing of rice.

Tips for Handling of Forget-Me-Nots

The state flower of Alaska, Forget-Me-Nots, will bloom the first year from seed and are treated as annuals.

If wintered over, some varieties will bloom in early spring and will delight in well-drained soil in a sunny location. Other kinds will bloom from May until frost and prefer cool, moist loam and half-shade. Seeds germinate in 15 days.

★ ★ ★

These colorful little flowers are used for beds, borders, rock gardens, pots and cutting.

Newer Trees Need Watering More Often

The newer the tree, the bigger the thirst.

This advice is well worth remembering, particularly if there are newly transplanted trees or shrubs on your grounds.

Trees feed through their root systems, but many useful roots are cut off before a tree is moved and planted in a new location. The roots that remain have a difficult job supplying enough nourishment and moisture. New transplants always are thirsty, no matter how healthy they may appear.

A regular watering schedule should begin as soon as leaves appear to help reestablish the balance between the top and the roots without delay, says A. F. Rumph, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

★ ★ ★

Thorough watering once a week is a good basic schedule. During hot, dry spells, however, trees may need water every four or five days. The schedule can be reduced in cool, cloudy weather.

THE FEEL OF SPRING — This six-year-old girl is being taught the feel of spring in New York's Central Park by Phyllis Esser, a teacher with the kindergarten group of the Guild for the Jewish Blind. The little girl is able to touch trees, grass, leaves and flowers for her own "view" of spring, though sightless.

A New Development Seen in Sweet Peas

Sweet Pea Multiflora is an interesting new development coming into flower between the Cuthbertson and Early Spencer groups. They have five and six flowers on a stem, are all of good size and bloom at one time.

Cuthbertson Floribunda Sweet Peas bloom long after hot weather comes and other sweet peas have died. However, this is not the only merit of this flower.

They are the true Spencer, orchid flowering type and have exceptional vigor. Their colors are bright and clear, stems long, flowers large and fragrant. This type is the most widely used, particularly for outdoor growing.

Pierce Goes Against Tigers Tonight

Senators Beat Frank Lary, 8-5 to Snap Streak

Lee Slated to Pitch Against the Highflying Chicago White Sox

DETROIT (AP)—Billy Pierce, the best player the Detroit Tigers ever traded off, faces his one-time mates tonight as the Chicago White Sox come to Briggs Stadium to open a three-game stand that will conclude the Tigers' current home stay.

The Tigers must win two out of three from the White Sox in order to embark on the road trip with a plus record. They slid back down to the .500 mark yesterday, bowing 8-5 to the Washington Senators.

Manager Jack Tighe will put first baseman Ray Boone back into the lineup after a one-day rest and will let Red Wilson do the catching in place of Frank House.

Boone sat out yesterday's contest which saw the last-place Senators break a 10-game losing streak at the expense of the Tigers' ace, Frank Lary. Rapped for five runs and nine hits in six innings, Lary simply didn't have it. He was hit hard in every inning and finally left in favor of Al Aber, who didn't fare any better, yielding three runs and four hits in the last three innings.

★ ★ ★

Although he committed two errors that figured in Detroit scoring, third baseman Eddie Yost had a perfect day at bat with four singles and an intentional pass.

The extra-base power was provided by Roy Sievers, who slammed a three-run homer in the third and a double in the ninth, and Jim Lemon, who tripled off the centerfield flagpole in the ninth. Sievers and Lemon drove in five of the Nats' eight runs, but manager Tighe felt the turning point of the contest was a high bounder by Jerry Snyder in the eighth inning.

Tigers pecked away at Camilo Pascual but never could get more than one score an inning.

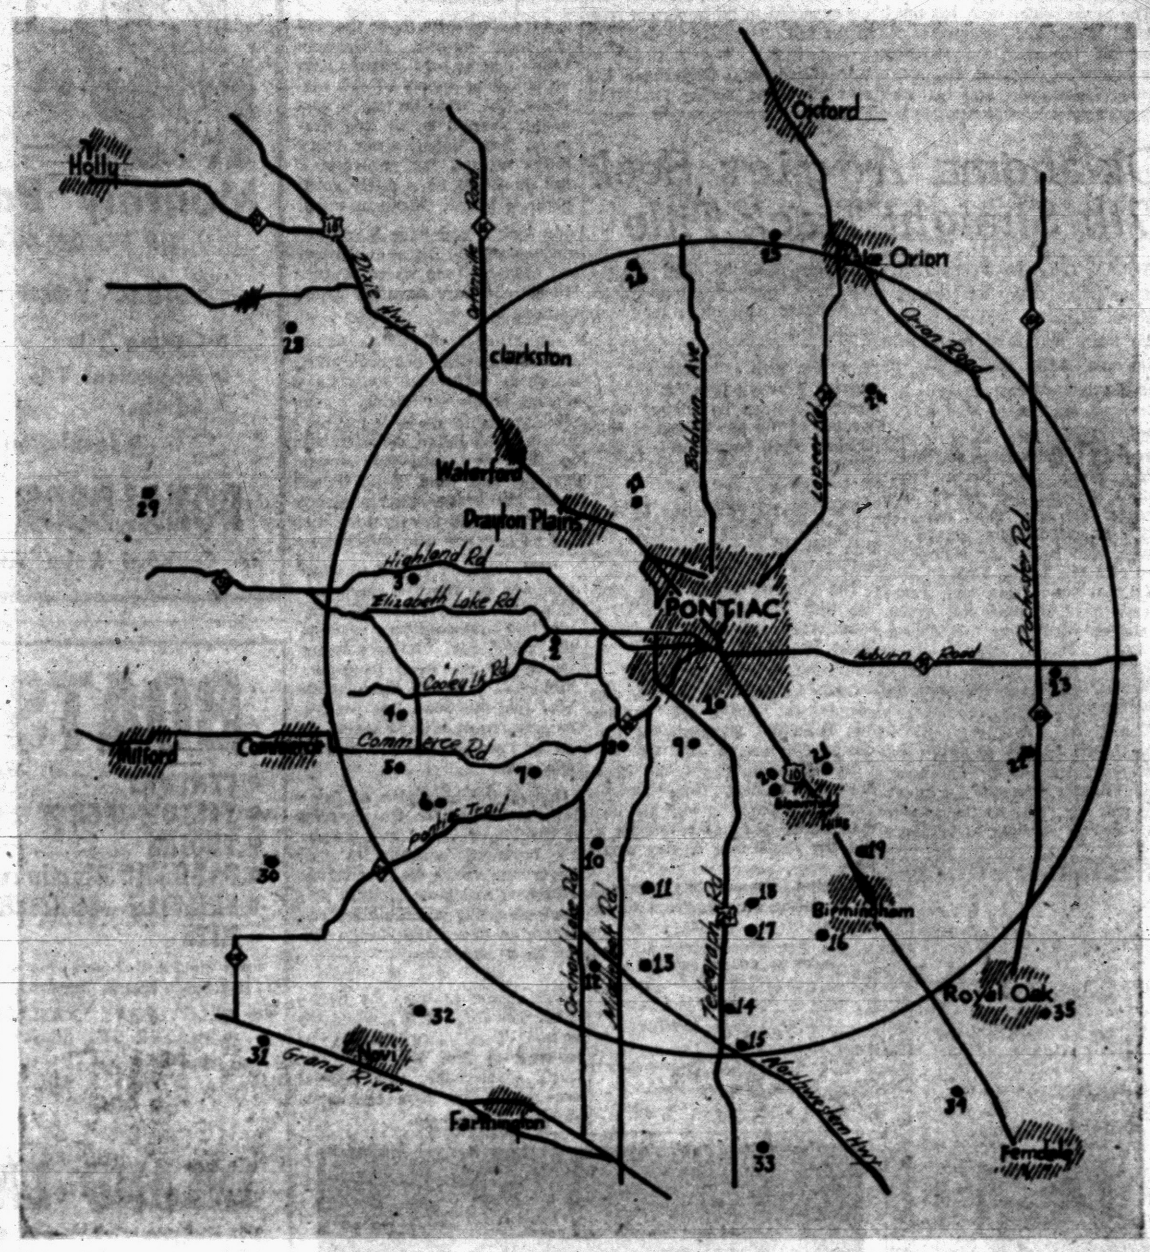

Rookie righthander Don Lee has been assigned the task of opposing Pierce in tonight's game. His record is 1-1 and the 23-year-old has yet to go the distance.

HERE ARE 35 GOLF COURSES, COUNT 'EM — There are 35 places to play golf in Oakland County, far surpassing all other counties in Michigan. As the map shown above will indicate, 27 courses fall within a 10-mile radius of the Pontiac city limits, making the Pontiac area the king of Michigan golf. In the circle are: 1 — Pontiac Municipal, 2 — Pontiac Country Club, 3 — Twin Lakes, 4 — Morey's, 5 — Edgewood, 6 — Twin Beach, 7 — Orchard Lake, 8 — Pine Lake, 9 — Forest Lake, 10 — Tam O'Shanter, 11 — Knollwood, 12 — Glen Oaks, 13 — Franklin Hills, 14 — Lancaster Hills, 15 — River Bank, 16 — Birmingham, 17 — Oakland Hills, 18 — North Hills, 19 — Springdale Park, 20 — Bloomfield Hills, 21 — Stonycroft, 22 — Sylvan Glen, 23 — Rochester, 24 — Bald Mountain, 25 — Indianwood, 26 — Clarkston, 27 — Silver Lake. The remaining eight courses lie in the county's outer edges. They are: 28 — Davisburg, 29 — Highland, 30 — Hickory Hills, 31 — Bob O'Link, 32 — Farmington, 33 — Plum Hollow, 34 — Rackham, 35 — Red Run. Truly a golfer's heaven.

Pontiac Area Is Links Hub of Michigan

Golf? — Just Pick a Site and Play

By BILL CORNWELL

The luckiest people on earth! That's the only way to describe golfers living in Pontiac and Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Those who enjoy taking a healthy swat at an innocent little pellet on any warm, sunny day are indeed fortunate if they inhabit this area.

If you need proof that Pontiac is the hub of Michigan golf, just take a look at the following facts and figures.

Jammed into Oakland County's 900 square miles are 35 golf courses, far more than any other county in Michigan.

Of this almost unbelievable total, 20 are of the public and semi-public variety — that is, courses where the avid golfer can play any day of the week simply by paying a greens fee. The other 15 links are private country clubs.

Twenty-seven of these layouts are located within a 10-mile radius of the Pontiac city limits. Only 12 are barred to the public.

If the foregoing statistics don't convince you that Oakland County is a golfer's paradise, then consider the plight of golf lovers who live in other parts of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

In the northern portions of the state, for example, a golf addict may have to drive many miles before teeing off. Here, it's merely a short hop to the course of your choice.

Some of the county's clubs are rated among the finest in the nation and have been the scene of numerous national tournaments.

To mention a few, Plum Hollow played host to the PGA in 1947, Birmingham had the same tournament in 1953 and Oakland Hills hosted the U. S. Open tourney in 1951. Plum Hollow will be the scene of this year's Western Open June 27-30.

★ ★ ★

Besides being a mecca for golfers, Oakland also boasts several of the country's best professionals.

Al Watrous is the dean of area swingers. The veteran Oakland Hills pro enjoyed a prosperous winter tour and embarks for England this month to compete in the International Seniors tournament.

King of the younger set is Franklin Hills' Wally Burkemo, a self-made artist who won the PGA title in 1953 and finished 2nd on two other occasions. Jack Fleck, new head man at Rochester Golf and Country Club, was National Open champ in 1955.

★ ★ ★

Indianwood's Mike Dietz advanced to the PGA quarter-finals last year and Bob Gajda, pro at Forest Lake, has frequently placed in the money.

Among the remaining top-flight pros and teachers are Jimmy Johnson, Farmington; Warren Orlick, Tam O'Shanter; Tommy Shannon, Orchard Lake; Ray Maguire, Birmingham; Bill Graham, Bloomfield Hills; Joe Thacker, Knollwood; and Bill Uselac, Plum Hollow.

One can easily see that Oakland County is a lot more than lakes, parks and heavy traffic. It's also a haven for golfers.

A slight alteration of the state motto illustrates the point perfectly: "If you seek a pleasant golf course, look around you."

Burke, Furgol Early Leaders

Pace Hot Springs Open With 68's; Middlecoff Way Off Game

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—National Open champion Cary Middlecoff tried today to shake off a fumbling start and climb to his accustomed standing in the second round of the $20,000 Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Veterans Jackie Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., jumped off to the lead yesterday. Each fired a 4-under-par 68.

Burke, who had the best score of the day on the front nine, a 32, would have leaped to the top except for a slight letdown in putting.

★ ★ ★

But for Middlecoff "everything went wrong" yesterday as he put it. After firing a 1-under-par 35, the Memphis dentist faltered on the 11th hole and wound up with 40 on the back nine.

Area Golfers Play in Flint Regional

Led by 79-average shooter Dick Singleton, Pontiac High's links team takes part in the state high school regional tourney at Brookwood course, east of Flint. A fast field in Class A, including Waterford and the two Flint schools, Northern and Central, is promised. Class C schools also take part in a regional at the same course, with Pontiac's St. Frederick entered.

Other PHS players are Dick Whitmer, Sam Coleman and Jerry Martin, all in the low 80's.

Greenberg Visits Ace Pitcher

Score Out 30 Days

CLEVELAND (AP)—The extent of the injury to Herb Score's right eye had not been determined today, but he will be out of action at least a month.

The Cleveland Indians' ace lefthander, who was hit by a line drive off the bat of New York's Gil McDougald here Tuesday night, was placed on the disabled list by the Indians yesterday. This means that he cannot be used in an American League game for 30 days.

★ ★ ★

"Doctors tell us that even should Score continue to improve as he has in the past two days since his injury, he will be unable to pitch for at least three weeks," said General Manager Hank Greenberg.

"Although he possibly might pitch or be able to pitch before 30 days, we believe it best to give him plenty of time to recover from his injury, even at the risk of losing his services in one or two games. In this instance we cannot think of one or two ball games, but only of the future health and welfare of one of baseball's best performers."

★ ★ ★

Score continued to improve yesterday at Lakeside Hospital and reports so far indicate that he will be able to see out of the injured eye, but the question is how much.

Dr. Charles L. Thomas, an eye specialist, said as soon as he could see the retina clearly he could tell "pretty much what the prognosis (medical forecast) will be."

A report issued by Dr. Thomas and Dr. Don Kelly, team physician, said X-rays would "be postponed for the next day or so."

The report said that the swelling around Score's injured eye and his broken nose "has been reduced and in general he looks better." It added that his condition is "slightly improved" and "at this time there appears to be no other complication."

The doctors continued their no-visitors ban, but it was lifted temporarily for a brief visit last night by Score's fiancee, Miss Nancy McNamara, and earlier visits by the pitcher's uncle, Arthur Flood of Hagerstown, Md., and by Greenberg.

★ ★ ★

Miss McNamara arrived by train from Notre Dame, Ind., where she is a senior at St. Mary's College, and went directly to the hospital with Flood. She spent the night at nearby Painesville at the home of her college roommate, Miss Diane Landphair, who accompanied her on the trip.

Score and Miss McNamara, his high school sweetheart at Lake Worth, Fla., plan to be married in the fall.

★ ★ ★

Flood, executive vice president of an engine and aircraft company, said he came here "to lend some moral support."

"He looks better than I thought he would," Flood said as he came out of Score's room smiling. "And he says he feels pretty good, too. I must call his mother and tell her that her boy is doing fine."

Greenberg said after his visit that he was amazed by Score's courage.

"His spirits are certainly good," he added.

Chisox Tied Because Yanks Have No Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago White Sox were back in first place today — tied with the New York Yankees—but Manager Al Lopez isn't kidding himself. He knows the team, the way it stands, is not of championship calibre.

★ ★ ★

In the little over three weeks Lopez has been directing the club, his worst fears have been realized. He knew before he even consented to take over the club that it had speed, defense and pretty good pitching. What concerned him was the hitting—or lack of it.

Nothing has happened to allay the manager's fears . . . despite the team's lofty stature. In fact, it's even worse than Lopez thought.

★ ★ ★

Including yesterday's 2-0 victory over Boston, the White Sox own a team batting average of .233, lowest in the American League. They've hit only two triples and 10 home runs. Only Cleveland, with one, has hit fewer triples and only Baltimore and Washington, with nine, have hit fewer home runs. Chicago's 46 extra base hits is exceeded by six other clubs.

★ ★ ★

It took a sterling pitching exhibition by Jim Wilson to snap the White Sox' five-game losing streak. The hitters collected only five hits, including doubles by Larry Doby and Jim Landis. That gave them a total of 26 hits and 10 runs in the last six games for an average of less than two runs and five hits a game. It takes no less than shutout pitching to win games like those.

★ ★ ★

Wilson permitted only five hits as he struck out nine to snap Boston's four-game winning streak. The big righthander, who posted his third victory against one defeat, also cooled off the sizzling Ted Williams, preventing him from getting the ball out of the infield in four trips to the plate.

Williams entered the game with a .474 batting average. He dropped 31 percentage points, but retained the American League batting lead at .443.

★ ★ ★

The loser was Dean Stone, who was nicked for both White Sox runs and all five hits in the 5 2-3 innings he pitched. The former Senator southpaw suffered his second defeat against no victories.

Lopez, still frantically searching for a cleanup hitter, tried Landis, his rookie outfielder, at the No. 4 spot yesterday. Previously, he had Sherman Lollar there for 10 games, Doby for two and Walter Dropo for one. Landis drove in a run, Dropo the other.

Reiser Enters Hospital With Heart Ailment

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Harold (Pete) Reiser, former National League batting champion famed for his collisions with outfield walls, is under observation for a heart condition at St. Luke's Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Reiser, a St. Louis native, left his job as manager of the Kokomo Ind., Class D Midwest League team Tuesday after being ill for two weeks.

★ ★ ★

The team was in second place when Reiser decided to see a heart specialist. Carl Ackerman, a Brooklyn Dodger scout, replaced Reiser as manager temporarily.

Shift Being Planned

NEW YORK (INS) — Brooklyn Dodgers' President Walter O'Malley was scheduled to confer in New York today wtih San Francisco Mayor George Christopher.

★ ★ ★

They were expected to discuss the possibility of another Major League club's shifting to San Francisco if the Brooks move to Los Angeles.

Threatened With Fine

Jim Small Given Warning

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Jack Tighe threatened to impose his first fine as a big league manager on bonus rookie Jim Small.

The Detroit Tiger manager told the 20-year-old outfielder, who probably will be sent to the minors for more seasoning come June 11, that he'll get fined unless he "improves his attitude."

Tighe said Small showed a poor attitude when he was called upon as a pinch runner in Wednesday's game against Washington. The skipper said the young outfielder is disappointed because he isn't playing more often.

"I told him we've got proven Major Leaguers who can't get into the lineup," said Tighe, "and furthermore, I told him that if he didn't quit being so balky and sulky that he'd be fined. He's just a kid — and I reminded him that he has a lot to learn."

Small has been at bat only six times, getting one hit, a double. He was called out on strikes in a pinch-hitting role yesterday.

'M' to Wind Up Spring Drills

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The spring-time version of Michigan's 1957 football team will be on view for all who wish to see Saturday in Michigan Stadium. It will be the wind up of the Wolverines' 20 days of spring practice and a regular contest between the varsity and the reserves is on tap.

The game really can't tell much about Michigan's prospects for next fall. Too many first stringers are otherwise occupied. But coach Bennie Oosterbaan and his staff should be able to get a "morning line" on several sophomores who are expected to fill important roles in the fall.

At Michigan, Oosterbaan has said all along, spring football is devoted essentially to the newcomers—the sophomores.

As spring drills near the end of their course, Oosterbaan knows that he isn't endowed with an abundant supply of new material. Yet, what he has is adequate. There'll be no Ron Kramers, Tom Maentzes nor Terry Barrs on the 1957 Wolverines. But it should be a fairly good, perhaps better, Michigan team.

As luck would have it, capable sophomores will fill in at the ends and right halfback where Kramer, Maentz and Barr have left gaping vacancies.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Teuscher has come along extremely well and could be a starting end when Michigan faces Southern California in September's opener. Fred Julian has often been described as another Tony Branoff at right half. And if he doesn't make the grade, there's always the hero of the Iowa game, Mike Shatusky, ready and available.

"This team is typical of those who won the Big Ten championship in recent years," an alumnus said while watching practice the other day. "It isn't being touted for the Rose Bowl like Minnesota and Michigan State are. Just like Iowa last year, a surprise team always seems to go to Pasadena. Maybe this is our year."

One of the highlights of Saturday's action will be the awarding of the Meyer W. Morton Trophy. It's bestowed annually to "the player who shows the greatest development and most promise as a result of spring practice." It's customary to award the Morton Trophy to a sophomore.

★ ★ ★

And almost always, the trophy is an indication of a star on the horizon. Two years ago it was awarded to Jim Van Pelt, this year's quarterback. Last year it was shared by John Herrnstein and Bob Ptacek.

Little Book Big Item

NEW YORK (AP) — The Little Red Book of Major League Baseball is bigger and better than ever. The 32nd annual edition, known as baseball's book of official records, contains 156 pages of records, most of them hitherto unpublished.

"It has got to grow each year," says Seymour Siwoff, general manager of the Al Munro Elias Baseball Bureau. "There are always new things in demand in big league baseball."

"If it happened in the big leagues and is a record you'll find it in the Little Red Book."

Oklahoma Aggies Seek 17th Straight Track Title

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Preliminaries got underway today for tomorrow night's Missouri Valley Conference track and field meet, with Oklahoma A&M bidding for its 17th straight title.

The Aggies face stern opposition from both Houston and North Texas State. The North Texas Eagles, a newcomer to the conference, ran the mile relay in 3:12.8 at the Kansas Relays recently, well below the league record of 3:14.5 set by A&M in 1955.

Sprinters from both Texas schools have whipped the Aggies in the 440-yard relay this season. However, Ralph Higgins' Cowpokes will have two-time Olympic sprinter J. W. Mashburn going for them this time.

Mashburn is one of seven returning champions in the meet.

Rex Baxter, Houston's long-hitting golf ace, was on the way to his second straight conference title going into the final 18 holes, but his Cougar teammates were in a bitter battle to retain their team title.

Baxter, who won the crown a year ago with a 7-under-par 207, carried a heavy load for Houston yesterday when he clipped seven strokes off the par 72 Indian Hills Country Club course with a 68-69—137.

★ ★ ★

The nearest challenger to Baxter's two brilliant rounds was Jim Powell of North Texas State who came in with a 75-70—145.

The Cougars led in team scoring with 592 strokes while Oklahoma A&M posted 599 and North Texas State 604.

★ ★ ★

Other scoring after the first two rounds was Drake 639, Bradley 646, Tulsa 660, St. Louis 684, Cincinnati 691, and Wichita 700.

John Lawhon, 22-year-old Houston law student from Denton, Tex., was back facing his own teammates today as he sought to win the conference singles tennis title.

Houston already has wrapped up its fourth straight team championship.

Logart, Ortega in TV Feature

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A possible title fight with welterweight champion Carmen Basilio will be at stake tonight in the third and rubber clash of Mexico's Gaspar (Indian) Ortega and Cuba's Isaac (Kid) Logart.

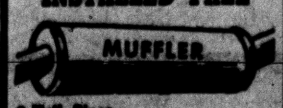

The Latin-American 147-pounders, all even in two bouts, meet in a 12-rounder in this fistic capital of central New York. The bout will be held in the War Memorial Auditorum and will be broadcast and telecast—NBC 9 p.m., EST—coast to coast.

Although he is ranked third and Ortega second among the welter contenders, Logart is the 2-1 choice. The clever, fast striking 23-year-old Cuban outclassed the tall, lean Mexican in their first meeting in New York, March 16, 1956. Ortega, an aggressive, free-swinging gamester, evened the score by gaining a split decision at Boston last Oct. 17.

Escobar Wins Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Undefeated Alfredo Escobar of Redondo Beach Calif., scored a unanimous decision over Al Wilcher of Los Angeles in the featured 10-round bout at Olympic Auditorium last night. Escobar weighed 129½, Wilcher 126.

PHS Gets 7-Man Grid Staff

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac High School's football fortunes, under new head coach Jesse MacLeay, will be guided by a 7-man staff next season.

The completion and appointments to the staff came last night at the monthly meeting of the Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Big difference in this staff is the addition of a 7th member. Previously there were six.

Also, the staff has been broken down to specific assignments which will allow a high degree of specialization by the coaches at the various positions.

Leading assistant's position on the staff was Ed Heikkinen's appointment. His job will be to work primarily with the quarterbacks.

★ ★ ★

Heikkinen, now in his 8th year at Pontiac, will be joined in the backfield with Dean Wilson whose prime responsibilities will be the fullbacks and halfbacks.

Arnold Wilson was named middle line coach and Fred Zittel was selected to work with the ends.

Except for the change in some duties, all four are holdovers from last year.

★ ★ ★

Two newcomers to the staff are Steve Szabo and Gene Norris, recommended by MacLeay for junior varsity coaching. Szabo, recently awarded the "athlete of the year" honor at Illinois, where he was captain of the wrestling team, will work with the junior varsity line. Norris will coach the junior varsity backs.

Both will be graduated from Illinois in June, and become faculty members at Pontiac High commencing in September.

It was pointed out that all staff members were selected from the senior high faculty thereby eliminating difficulties which exist getting the staff together if members are located in other buildings.

★ ★ ★

MacLeay requested the addition of the 7th member in order to allow better contact of coaching with the large junior varsity squad.

The addition of another man does not however change the athletic budget allowance. MacLeay will work gratus as assistant track coach thereby utilizing the budget allowance for this position.

It was noted at the meeting that this staff will probably change upon completion of the new high school. Heikkinen has often been mentioned prominently as a head coaching prospect for the new school.

The board also named Harry Wenzel as equipment manager of the school. He will serve the remainder of the school year. Meanwhile, the athletic council will make a permanent appointment to the position.

Previously, each coach was responsible for the equipment of his respective athletic team.

Pontiac Dentist on Titan Board

Dr. Schachern Is Named to UD 12-Man Group for Athletics

Dr. J. K. Schachern, Pontiac dentist, was today named on the 12-man advisory committee on Athletics at the University of Detroit by John R. Mulroy, the school's vice-president in charge of athletics.

Included on the list with Schachern are Keith Fraser, Henry J. Brennan, Jr.; James E. Collins, Andy Farkas, Jay R. Maley, Thomas P. Moore, LLouis Perrone, Alvin S. Rappaport, Earl G. Rutten, Joseph Saracino, and Eddard P. Webster.

Dr. Schackern is a 1937 graduate of the University of Detroit Dental College. Saracino is another Oakland County man on the board. He hails from Royal Oak.

In making the appointment, Mulroy said the board "will assist in effecting closer integration of the athletic programs of the University and the community."

All will serve three year terms.

New Washington Leader Elated Over First Win

DETROIT (AP)—"One more victory and I'm batting .500."

It was that way in the Washington Senators' clubhouse yesterday after a long, dry spell of 10 games without a victory had come to its conclusion. Manager Cookie Lavagetto, who made the statement, had his first major league victory after two losses. An 8-5 win over Detroit broke the spell.

"Just like a World Series win to this ball club," he said. "It's been pretty sad around here for quite a while. The funeral's over now, though. We can have a little fun."

Fight Rivals Hurt in 10-Round Draw

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lightweights Leo Alonzo of the Philippines and Italian Paolo Rosi, who fought to a bloody 10-round draw at the Cow Palace last night, have one thing in common today. Both can look forward to some weeks of inactivity.

★ ★ ★

Each suffered a hand injury and X-rays today will determine if bones are broken.

Alonzo came out of the battle with a cut over his right eye near his nose, a cut mouth and a left eye puffed nearly closed.

Around the Prep Front

By CHUCK ABAIR

St. Michael had to go extra innings to post its 1st victory, Milford became the 1st team to defeat strong Clarenceville and Romeo belted five more homers as baseball again played the lead role on the local sports programm yesterday.

An error followed by infield hits by Dan Droppo and Tom Harding produced the deciding marker in a 3-2 St. Michael win over Ferndale St. James in a Suburban Catholic contest. Joe Schultz hurled all the way to get the win. Droppo and Harding had four of the seven Shamrock hits.

★ ★ ★

Terry Hoy's brilliant pitching and a five-run 5th frame produced Milford's 6-1 triumph in the battle of division leaders in the Wayne-Oakland League. Hoy had a two-hit shutout going with two out in the 7th when Dan Paulucci homered. The Redskins combined four of six singles with an error and walk in the fifth.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston stayed right on Milford's heels in the northern division with a 4-3 victory over West Bloomfield. Dandy Dave Gaddis ruined the Lakers chance to gain a 1st place tie with a sparkling relief job. He hurled one-run ball and fanned nine over the last 6⅓ innings and smashed three straight hits. Bob Porrit's double in the 5th produced the decisive marker off John "No-Hit" Lucadam.

★ ★ ★

Romeo's sluggers continued to wreck opposing pitchers romping to a 25-5 waltz over Lake Orion as Tom Williams won his 3rd. Ray Ritter, Benny Meyer, Bob Proper, Ray Rinke, who had a grand slam, and Dave Kiser had the round trippers. A nine-run 3rd clinched Romeo's 6th straight triumph with four to play. It was the 3rd win for chucker Tom Williams.

Elsewhere in baseball, Royal Oak St. Mary made it two straight in the Catholic loop with a 9-8 win over St. Benedict, aided by Paul Smuts' two-run home run; Center Line routed Utica by a 12-1 count and Hazel Park swept a doubleheader over Port Huron by margins of 3-2 and 8-4 moving the Parkers into 2nd place in the EML.

★ ★ ★

Coach Gene Wright and his St. Frederick golfers were competing in the regionals at Flint today following their 7th straight dual win. The Rams led all the way to down Rochester 173-185 yesterday. Dick Kast was medalist at 38, while brother Ed fired a 41. Larry Beaupre topped Rochester at 42.

Kentucky Derby Champ to Wait for Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Kentucky Derby winner Iron Liege, considered by trainer Jimmy Jones to be "fit enough to run to the Rocky Mountains," will pass up Monday's $6,000 Preakness Prep and wait for the big race May 18.

But the status of Gen. Duke, regarded more highly than Iron Liege by their Calumet handlers, was still uncertain.

★ ★ ★

"His status in the Preakness," said Jones, "is that he will have to show me next week that he is ready to run."

Jones made the statement after examining Gen. Duke's foot injury, which caused his withdrawal from the Derby a few hours before post-time, and walking him around the Pimlico track.

The $100,000-added Preakness will be run over the strip at a mile and three-sixteenths. The prep is a mile and a sixteenth.

The big horse in Monday's build-up race figures to be Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler.

Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons said Bold Ruler, the 6-5 favorite who finished fourth in the Derby, will be vanned down from New York tomorrow. He'll be ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

Fitzsimmons said the Wheatley runner will wear blinkers for the first time in his 17 starts. The new equipment was tried in a workout yesterday and the veteran trainer was pleased with the results.

Also headed for Pimlico was Clifford Lussky's Federal Hill, the early leader and fifth-place finisher in the Derby. He left Louisville by truck yesterday.

Still to be decided is whether Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, runner-up to Iron Liege by a nose in the Kentucky race, will try again in the Preakness or wait until the Belmont Stakes.

College Nines Playoff for World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Sime, the Duke University sprinter-outfielder who is tabbed by his coach as "the only man who can go after a line drive and catch up with it," heads a select group of double-duty athletes leading their college baseball teams in bids for places in the 1957 NCAA championships.

Others include Iowa's Rose Bowl halfback Don Dobrino; John Herrnstein, rugged Michigan fullback; Minnesota hockey goalie John McCartan and Ohio State halfback Galen Cisco.

Sime, who last spring set world records in the 100 and 200-yard dashes and the 220-yard low hurdles, concentrated on baseball this year and leads the Atlantic Coast Conference hitters with a .421 average and seven doubles.

Duke, with a 10-4 record, has clinched at least a tie for the ACC title and an automatic qualification for the NCAA District 3 playoffs. North Carolina (8-4) has a chance to force a conference playoff.

★ ★ ★

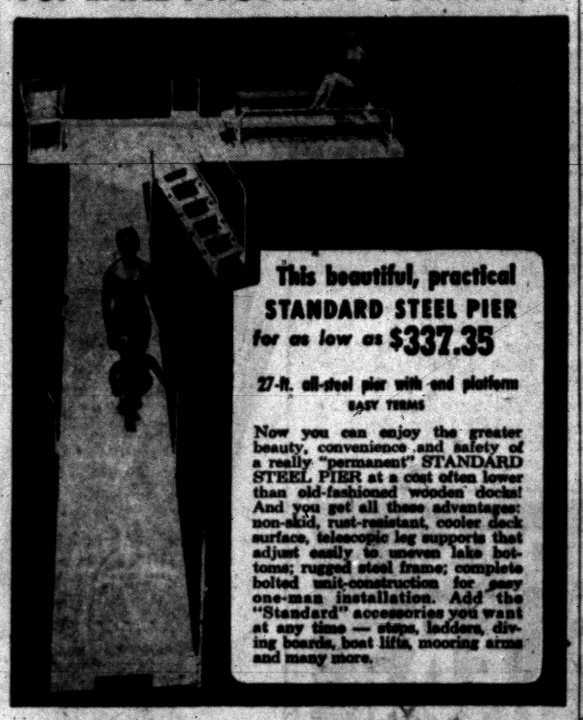

In all, 12 conference champions and as many as 20 at large selections can qualify for the eight district playoffs. The district champions will compete in the College World Series at Omaha, Neb., June 8-13. George Washington became the first entry by clinching the Southern Conference title yesterday.

Herrnstein, who alternates between the mound and left field, is batting over .500 and has pitched one of Michigan's five conference victories. Coach Ray Fisher calls Herrnstein Michigan's "greatest prospect since Dick Wakefield."

★ ★ ★

Dobrino is the Big Ten's leading pitcher with a 3-0 record and has kept the Hawkeyes in the running for the conference title. McCartan is hitting .364 for runner-up Minnesota, the 1956 NCAA champion. Minnesota also has Jerry Thomas, voted the most valuable player in the College World Series a year ago. He is unbeaten on the hill and last week slammed three homers against Illinois.

Little Angler Gets Big 'Gill in 'Idle' Pond

Ten - year - old Victoria Wojciechowski surprised herself — and her dad, Stanley, Wednesday when she hauled out a one-pound-one-quarter ounce bluegill that measured 10 inches in length, from a pond. The pond was one of five formerly used in Wojcieski's bait business across from Pontiac Lake. It had been idle since abandonment of the business a year ago.

The fish is the biggest bluegill reported in the area this spring. It was five inches deep and very fat, Stanley said. Victoria also caught a number of others averaging seven inches, from the pond where they weren't known to have been. The big one cracked Victoria's cane pole, but she pulled it in safely.

Stanley said today he also found pike and other fish in the pond he never knew were there. The family home is at 8983 Pontiac Lake road.

Three Women Tied in Open

Smith, Colby, Hansen Match 75's in 1st Round of Play

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—Marilyn Smith hoped today to tame the misbehaving putter that denied her a one-stroke lead as the second 18-hole round began in the $7,500 Gatlinburg Women's Open Golf Tournament.

The pretty pro from Wichita three-putted the 18th green in yesterday's opening round to end in a three-way tie, with a 2-over-par 75, with Vonnie Colby of Miami Beach, Fla., and Beverly Hansen of Indio, Calif.

Marilyn parred the rugged front nine, but ran into trouble on the back nine to wind up with a 38-37—75. Vonnie and Beverly each ended with 40-35—75, parring the homestretch.

Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., and Marlene Bauer Hagge of Dallas, the pre - tourney favorite, finished round one with 77 and 78 respectively.

Influenza Epidemic Sweeps East Asia

SINGAPORE (AP) — The biggest influenza epidemic in years is sweeping East Asia. Countless thousands have been laid low by the malady in the past week.

No deaths have been reported, however.

★ ★ ★

In Singapore, more than 100,000 persons including many school children, are down with the ailment. Formosa has reported 150,000 ill. Scattered cases have turned up in Hong Kong, Saigon, Bangkok and in the mainland Federation of Malaya.

★ ★ ★

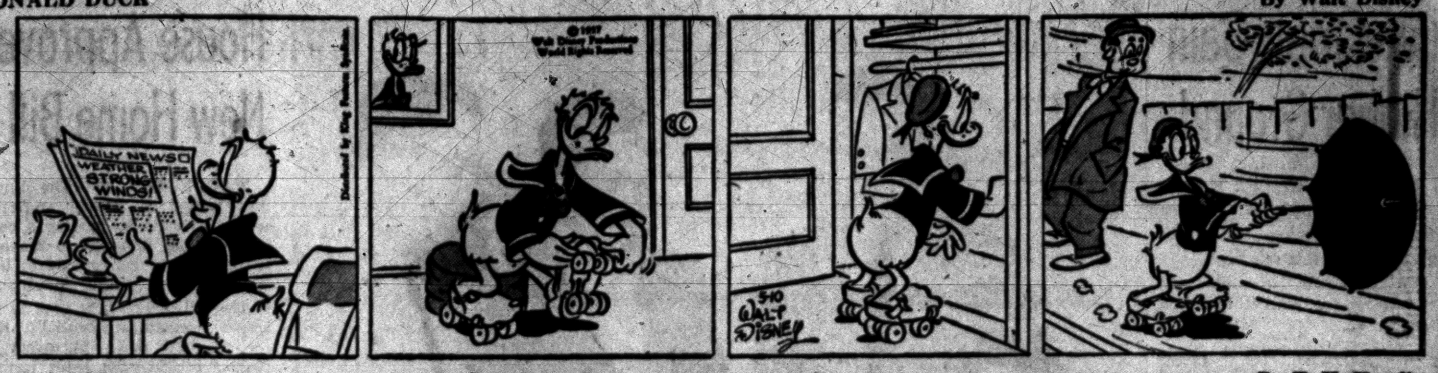

Health authorities in Perth, Australia, are keeping a close check on all air passengers from Singapore, hoping to prevent the spread of the epidemic to Australia.

Industrials Gain Higher Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—Oils, aircrafts, motors and other industrials paced the stock market into higher ground early this afternoon.

Trading was active as blue chips took over the market leadership once more.

Gains among pivotal stocks ranged from fractions to well over a point.

Having touched a new 1957 high in the average yesterday, the market was irregular at the opening today and jockeyed uncertainly in subsequent trading.

★ ★ ★

As some of the better quality stocks retained their firmness, however, the market seemed to regain confidence and good progress to the upside was made. Wall Street analysts said the performance was based mainly on technical factors.

Rails were off, however, as they were influenced by carloadings lower than a year ago. The nonferrous metals were adversely affected by soft prices for their produces.

Dull Season in Sight for Beach Connoisseurs

PARIS (INS) — The only reason for a man to go to the beach this summer will be to get a tan, unless the girls ignore the dictates of French bathing suit designers.

★ ★ ★

The designers showed off their new beachwear in a big Paris lot.

Modesty was the keynote. The models were swathed in high-necked, skirted costumes, some of which had the first sleeves seen on a bathing suit since grandma's day.

Wheat Futures Edge Forward

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures moved fractionally higher on the Board of Trade today in light trading.

★ ★ ★

Commercial interests sold on the opening bulge and this tended to hold the market in check during early dealings. There was some scattered buying in new crop wheat futures, based on unneeded additional moisture in the southwest and forecasts of further precipitation in that area.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, May $2.16¾, new style wheat was ¼ to ⅝ higher, July $2.08⅞, corn was ⅛ to ½ higher, May $1.30¾, oats were ¼ to ¼ lower, May 70⅞, rye was unchanged to ¼ lower, May $1.16½, soybeans were ⅛ to ⅜ higher, May $1.30¾, oats were ⅛ to ¼ cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.05.

A fire of unknown origin caused $1,500 damage to the home and contents of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noffsinger, 4353 Highfield Ave., in Waterford Township at 11 p.m. last night.

Norman Hedgepeth, a roomer at the home, cut his hand when he broke a window to get a garden hose into the bedroom where the fire started. He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, treated and released.

Waterford Township firemen said the blaze apparently started in the closet of the Noffsinger master bedroom. It was confined to two bedrooms.

House Approves New Home Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has settled a Republican-Democratic wrangle by passing a compromise bill designed to make it easier to buy homes and to help the slumping housing industry.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would substantially lower required down payments on homes bought with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration. It also contains provisions aimed at increasing the supply of mortgage credit.

★ ★ ★

Other major sections would authorize an additional 250 million dollars for slum clearance and urban renewal projects, and a like amount for special housing for military personnel, the elderly and other groups.

Before shouting approval to the bill, the House wrote in an amendment to restrict future starts of low-cost public housing to that needed by persons displaced by slum clearance and urban redevelopment programs.

★ ★ ★

Passage came on a 172-142 vote. The votes of individual members were not recorded.

The main dispute in two days of debate was over Democratic-sponsored proposals for special veterans preference programs under FHA. These were fought by Republicans and many Democrats.

The compromise bill depleted these proposals, one of which would have given veterans special lower down payment privileges. Another disputed provision which went into the discard would have allowed use of up to a billion dollars in GI life insurance trust funds to increase the supply of mortgage money for veterans' home buying.

★ ★ ★

There was another fight over Democratic proposals to set limits on discounts, or premiums, charged by lenders against persons who buy homes with FHA or GI financing. Republicans opposed such restrictions.

As passed by the House, the bill would limit the curbs to FHA mortgage discounts. It also would give the FHA discretionary authority to establish "reasonable" restrictions on the discount practice, which is designed to increase the return on government-backed home loans.

★ ★ ★

Under the down payment provisions the present FHA minimum payment of 5 per cent on the first $9,000 of appraised value would drop to 3 per cent. On the next $6,000 of valuation, the required down payment would be 15 per cent. On the remainder up to $25,000, it would be 30 per cent.

Under present regulations, home buyers using FHA financing are required to pay down 25 per cent on valuation above $9,000.

★ ★ ★

The provision intended to pump new funds into the home mortgage market—and thus help the housing industry—would give the Federal National Mortgage Assn. new authority to buy up an additional 1¼ billion dollars of FHA-insured mortgages.

Ike's Envoy Reports to America:

Mideast Nations to Seek 2nd Helpings of U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A number of Middle Eastern countries appeared certain today to ask second helpings of United States military and economic aid.

Special Ambassador James P. Richards, reporting last night on his 15-nation tour of the Middle East, said the help he was able to promise "could by no means meet all the needs of the area countries."

Richards announced in a nationwide broadcast that he had committed "military assistance, guns, tanks and things like that" to fill in what he called "soft spots" in Middle Eastern defenses against possible aggression by international communism.

"We also gave some economic help — partly grant and partly loan," he said.

However, he reported that the limited amounts of aid which he had available did not meet the needs, and as a result "there was some disappointment at the amounts we could authorize for an individual country."

He described the aid he pledged as being "not of great magnitude in terms of the total requirements." But one prime minister whom he did not name said, he reported, that the American help given "does demonstrate our desire to cooperate with area countries in building up their own strength."

Richards returned Wednesday from the mission which he undertook March 12 at the request of President Eisenhower.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — Eastern Air Lines reported today its first quarter earnings dropped 20 per cent despite the highest gross revenue in the company's history. Profits dropped from $4,613,683 in the first three months of 1956 to $3,238,428 in the same period this year. Revenue was up about 14 per cent to a record $70,718,050.

Speedier, Bigger Craft Expected

Planes Lift More Tonnage in Air Freight Industry

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—New planes today are lifting the profits tonnage for the fledgling air freight industry.

Most major carriers report increased cargo ton mileage this year over last. Most expect additional speedier and bigger craft to carry their sales volume to new heights this year and next.

For some the new equipment is particularly handy. The end of the profitable air lift to Korea hurt some of the all-cargo carriers greatly. A few dipped into red ink before the new planes were delivered.

Their arrival, industry spokesmen say, should herald the day when the air cargo industry as a whole can step into the ranks of recognized American industrial money makers.

The new planes mean lower costs per ton mile as well as greater capacity. Officials think the great potential now lies in air freight's ability to aid manufacturers cut distribution costs.

This month Flying Tiger began transcontinental operation with its new fleet of 12 Super H Constellations. It says its scheduled air cargo service now can be carried on at 331 miles per hour, lifting 43,000 pounds of freight 2,300 miles nonstop. The new planes are more than one third larger than the line's old ones as well as faster.

For example, one flight from Los Angeles to New York with a stop at Chicago has an elapsed time of nine hours, 20 minutes.

In the first three months of 1957 cargo ton miles increased by 1,177,949 over the first quarter of 1956. A ton mile is one ton of freight carried one mile.)

Slick Airways, a southwestern cargo toter with a transcontinental route, is also adding larger equipment. Riddle Airlines, which flies freight between Puerto Rico, Florida, New York and midwestern cities, is modifying its 32 C46s to obtain more capacity and speed.

★ ★ ★

Seabord & Western Airlines today starts its 11th year of transatlantic air freight service. New equipment has brought its fleet to 10 Super Constellations and three DC4s. In the first three months of 1957 cargo ton miles totalled 2,958,677, an increase of 78.4 per cent over the 1,657,869 carried in the first quarter of 1956.

★ ★ ★

In the profitable South American field, Panagra reports its air cargo volume rose 51 per cent during 1956 and is still gaining. It now carries, on average, four tons of cargo a day on its routes in seven Latin American countries. It has added two special C54 cargo planes to expand service.

Says Beck Pocketed Fees on Union Deals

widow of Beck's "best and closest friend."

TRUSTEE FOR FUND

The Seattle mortgage banker, Donol Hedlund, said Beck handled the transaction for Mrs. Ray Leheney, widow of the man Hedlund said was Beck's best friend.

It was testified Beck handled the deal as trustee for "The Ray Leheney Memorial Fund," about $80,000 of which had been collected from unions after Leheney's death. Leheney formerly was head of the Union Label Department of the American Federation of Labor.

Hedlund's story was related to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee under questioning.

It capped earlier testimony that Beck collected a third share of something over $20,000 in brokerage fees on the investment of union funds in the mortgage market.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) chairman of the committee, spoke of the payments to Beck as a "kickback."

INTERMEDIARY FIRM

Hedlund testified that he, Beck, and the Teamsters Union lawyer, Simond Wampold, received the brokerage fees through The Investment Co. which in effect was an intermediary in the union's purchases of mortgages through the National Mortgage Co. of Seattle.

With the account of Beck and widow Leheney, the committee recessed its hearings for lunch.

The story, as told by Hedlund, was that the Teamsters Union advanced the money to buy $71,000 worth of mortgages.

They were held by Beck and Hedlund for several months during which the mortgages were retired by about $10,000 worth. They then were sold to the Leheney Memorial fund for some $61,000.

Robert Kennedy, counsel for the committee, said Beck led other Teamsters Union officials to believe the money advanced from the union treasury had gone to buy the mortgages ultimately sold to the memorial fund.

Actually, Kennedy said, Beck merey borrowed the union money, bought the mortgages, sold them to the memorial fund at a profit, then returned the original mortgage purchase sum to the Teamsters treasury.

AMOUNT UNCERTAIN

The committee had difficulty getting at the exact amount Beck may have received.

Kennedy, leading Hedlund through a mass of involved figures, cost sheets and purchase agreements, summed up: "Then a total of $20,425.27 was split among the three of you" — Hedlund, Wampold and Beck.

"I'll accept that figure as correct," Hedlund replied.

Kennedy said the total included $7,500 brokerage fee on the purchase of Detroit mortgages, a fee of $10,741.62 to The Investment Co. on purchase of $2,148,324.89 in mortgages at a discount from the Federal National Mortgage Insurance Co., $4,197.25 in discounts on 35 other loans, and $936 which he said was "unexplained."

New Storms Rumble Across South Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Thunderstorms rumbled across south Texas today in a new outburst of violent weather in this storm-battered state.

But the rains slackened along the weatersheds of the Brazos and Trinity rivers in southeast Texas where floods have driven hundreds of persons from their homes in the past week.

★ ★ ★

The possibility of more rain along the Brazos, Trinity and Guadalupe rivers revived flood threats. Forecasters said the still-swollen tributaries of the three rivers could cause surging new crests if the rains continued.

Ask Freer Rein to Study Pontiac

City Advisory Group's Executive Unit Wants to Speak for Council

The executive committee of the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council is seeking a freer rein in the study of community problems.

Fred V. Haggard, council president, last night named a seven-member committee headed by David E. Utley to study the organization's constitution and by-laws to investigate possible changes.

★ ★ ★

The committee will seek opinions from the council's 200 delegates at a June 6 annual meeting.

The executive committee, consisting of officers and chairmen of standing committees, hopes to remove "red tape" so that it can take action on problems to speak for the entire council.

Today, committee members must seek delegate approval who in turn must return to their organizations to discuss the issue. Members say this is a "long, drawn out and tedious procedure."

★ ★ ★

The action last night stemmed from a report submitted by four members of the Pontiac council who attended a Conference of Community Welfare Council Leaders in St. Louis recently.

Their report showed, according to a council spokesman, that most councils operated without the "red tape" of their by-laws.

"The change will give the committee an opportunity for quicker movements heretofore limited by the by-laws," Haggard said.

Urges AF Get Back State Jet Base Site

LANSING (AP) — Director Gerald E. Eddy of the State Conservation Department says the state should start action to reacquire between 8,000 and 9,000 acres leased to the Air Force for a jet plane base in northern Michigan.

Eddy, appearing at the monthly meeting of the State Conservation Commission yesterday, quoted published reports saying the Air Force has abandoned its plans to build the base. It was to have cost some 8½ million dollars.

The Air Force leased the property, situated in Kalkaska County, for $1 and for a 99-year period. But a battle developed between Kalkaska County residents and a group supporting Manistee County as the site for the base, and construction never got beyond preliminary phases.

Sues for Bump by Phone Booth 'Out of Nowhere'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A house painter sued Southern Bell Telephone Co. yesterday for $100,000, contending one of its booths banged his head while he worked.

Moreover, says Elias Barimo's allegation, the booth wasn't even there when he began painting an office enclosure's baseboard, but was set up against a wall while he busily plied his brush.

His suit said he "commenced at the southwest corner, painting in a northerly direction to the northwest corner, then easterly to the northeast corner, then southerly to the southeast corner, and then commenced painting in a western direction along the south wall toward the point of beginning."

Not far from the point of beginning, said Barimo, stood a telephone booth where none stood before. Barimo, still preoccupied with his task, bumped it and a panel fell on his head, knocking him unconscious.

Father, Son Drown When Rescue Try Fails

GRUNDY, Va. (AP) — David Blankenship, 34, of Harman, went fishing with his son Thurman, 14, and a girl from the neighborhood, Lydia Endicott, 13.

Thurman somehow lost his balance and fell against the girl, tumbling both of them from a large rock into the Levisa River, according to Buchanan County Sheriff Burl Rife.

The elder Blankenship plunged into the river and dragged Lydia to shore, where she was revived.

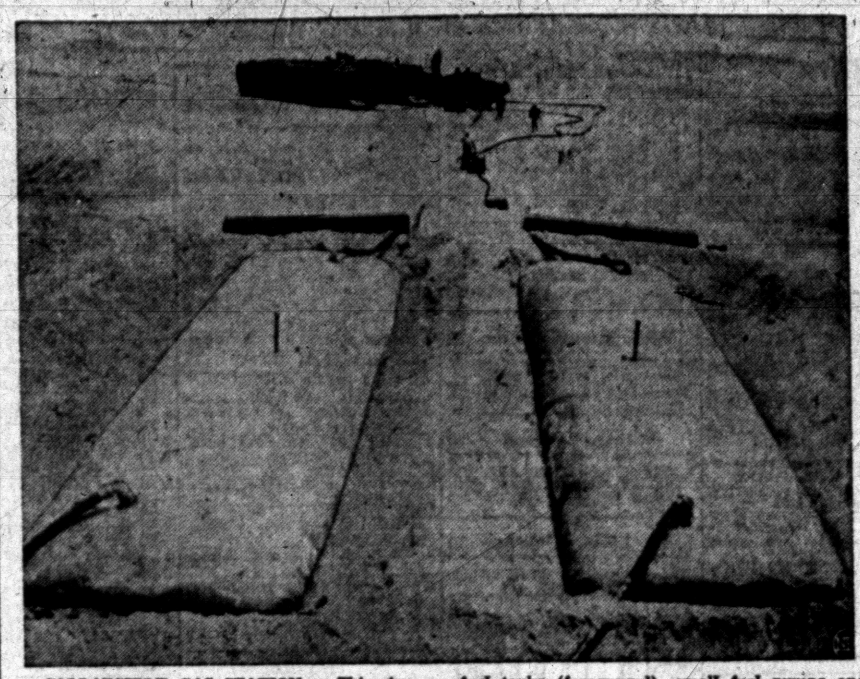

He returned for his son, but both became entangled in the fishing lines and drowned.

Discover Heart of Prince

VENICE (AP) — A 300-year-old marble vase containing the heart of Doge Francesco Erizzo, one of the famed princely rulers of Venice, was discovered yesterday during reconstruction work at St. Mark's Basilica.

The vase, elaborately carved with the life history of the doge, was buried near the main altar.

The doge — the title means prince or ruler — ruled over Venice from 1631 to 1646. He is chiefly remembered as the builder of the Basilica della Salute at the time of the great plague that took more than 50,000 lives in the 1630s.

Theft That Foiled Police Is Solved by Psychiatrist

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—A burglary that baffled police has been solved on a psychiatrist's couch.

Dr. Kurt Fantl called detectives yesterday and reported that a troubled man who had come to him for treatment admitted under psychiatric examination that the cause of his distress was a crime he committed last Nov. 30.

★ ★ ★

That was the date somebody took $800 from the home of Harlan Huff in Culver City.

The doctor said the patient, whose name he withheld on ethical grounds, gave him a check to send to Huff.

Police, who had no leads in the case until Dr. Fantl called them, said they were wiping the burglary off the books. Huff doesn't want to sign a complaint and the district attorney's office has decided it won't prosecute either.

Woman Claims Right to Her Boss' Estate

DETROIT (AP)—The $600,000 estate of a onetime Chrysler Corp. official is demanded in a court suit by his private secretary.

Miss Muriel Barnes asked Wayne County Circiut Court to name her the sole heir to Melbourne L. Carpentier, former assistant chief engineer of Chrysler's Motor Division.

Carpentier, a bachelor, died Oct. 18, 1955, without leaving a will.

Miss Barnes, who said she was Carpentier's secretary for 22 years, described herself as his "prompter, part manager, almost exclusive companion, confidante, escort, adviser and social hostess."

She said she was "indispensable to him in his personal, social and business life."

Last week an aunt, Mrs. Albina M. Carpentier of Locolle, Que., was named sole heir by probate court.

'This Belongs to a New Age'

Work on Missile Base

COOKE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force today is taking another great stride into a new aviation era with start of construction on the first strategic ballistic missile base.

Actual building of the 100-million-dollar project got under way here after yesterday's ground-breaking ceremony.

★ ★ ★

"This facility belongs to a new age of discovery," said Brig. Gen. O. J. Ritland, vice commander of the Western Development Division of the Air Research and Development Command, as he turned the first spadeful of earth.

Aviation, as it enters its second 50 years, is moving swiftly into the field of intercontinental ballistic missiles, he pointed out.

Gen. Ritland said the ballistic missile "will secure peace for the free world for years to come."

"It is a deterrent to aggression and if aggression should come, it is a powerful retaliatory weapon," he said.

"Let us hope and pray that this weapon will never have to be used."

The Air Force has taken over 64,700 acres of the military reservation of deactivated Camp Cooke for its missile base.

Camp Cooke was a troop-training center in World War II and the Korean conflict. The base lies between rolling hills and the ocean about 160 miles north of Los Angeles.

Royal Oak Bank Head Named to Top Position in County Chapter

Adolph Klein, of Royal Oak, president of the Wayne-Oakland Bank, was elected chairman of the Oakland County Red Cross Chapter at its annual meeting last night.

Other officers are Mrs. Alfred T. Barnes, Royal Oak, first vice chairman; Arthur Heaton, Pontiac, second vice chairman; Carleton C. Patterson Jr., Pontiac, secretary, and Richard Poole, Watkins Lake, treasurer.

Some 135 persons witnessed the installation of the new officers by James T. Nicholson, executive vice president of the National Red Cross, who was also the guest speaker.

The executive committee presented the outgoing chairman, Rev. William C. Hamm, of Lake Angelus, with a gift.

★ ★ ★

Directors elected or re-elected in addition to the above officers were Harold Barady, Dr. John Marra and Leonard Lewis, Pontiac; Stanton G. Dondero and Mrs. Norman McQuarter, Royal Oak; Mrs. John Blanchard and D. E. Aherns, Bloomfield Hills; Harry Rendell Jr., Huntington Woods, and Mrs. W. E. Lentz, Holly.

She Wins 'Plum' in Legal Fight—Christmas Cards

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Claude L. McFaddin has won a long legal battle and collected the prize — 220,970 Christmas cards.

A truck delivered the cards — nearly two tons of them — to her home yesterday, ending a dispute that began after she purchased them in January 1955 from a dump for $25.

★ ★ ★

California Artists, Inc., a division of the H. S. Crocker lithography firm of San Francisco, instituted repossession proceedings, claiming it had sent the cards to the dump to be destroyed, since they were obsolete.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. McFaddin fought back. In October 1955 Superior Court held that the Crocker firm had abandoned the cards and that Mrs. McFaddin was the rightful owner. An appellate court confirmed this.

A court valued the cards at $8,000, but Mrs. McFaddin thinks they may bring up to $45,000. "I ought to know," she said. "I've had offers."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Michael White, who passed away May 10th, 1956.
Before the throne of God,
Thousands of children stand;
Children whose sins are all forgiven,
A holy, happy band.
Up there among the throng,
Our little Mike stands,
Waiting for us to join him,
In that holy, happy land.
Sadly missed by Mommy & Daddy, Brothers, Sister & Family.

Dag Conferring With Premier

U.N. Secretary in Israel to Seek Way to Achieve Peace With Arabs

JERUSALEM (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold met with Premier David Ben-Gurion today to get down to brass tacks on possible ways of achieving Arab-Israeli peace.

The meeting was expected to last most of the day.

★ ★ ★

Informants said Ben - Gurion would press Hammarskjold to support Israel's claim to use of the Suez Canal and would demand that Egypt abandon its state of belligerency against Israel.

★ ★ ★

Egypt has barred Israeli ships from the Suez on grounds that a state of war still exists between the two countries.

★ ★ ★

Hammarskjold arrived here yesterday and met with Ben-Gurion for 4½ hours. Israeli informants said in the opening talks Ben - Gurion challenged Egypt's claim to belligerent rights and asked whether the position of a country which considers itself in a state of war is compatible with the U. N. Charter.

★ ★ ★

In Cairo, Egyptian sources believed the secretary general would press for the stationing of U. N. Emergency Force troops on the Israeli side of the armistice line as well as on the Egyptian. Israel has already rejected this proposal, and Israeli sources said Ben - Gurion would continue to refuse.

★ ★ ★

UNEF units took up positions in the Gaza Strip on the Egyptian side of the demarcation line after the withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Sinai Peninsula and Gaza Strip. Israel contends the frontier is only being crossed by Arab infiltrators and therefore no U. N. troops are needed on Israeli territory.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israeli chief of staff, joined in this morning's discussion, along with Foreign Minister Golda Meir, U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche, and U. S. Marine Col. B. V. Leary acting chief of the U. N. Palestine truce organization.

★ ★ ★

An Israeli spokesman said the military men were brought in because the talks turned to "practical matters," apparently such subjects as border incidents, armistice violations and the Gaza Strip.

Attack Launched Against Potato Blight

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department reported today that it is making an all-out attack against a rare potato blight centering in a few small areas in Bay County.

The plant industry division said the pest, known as the potato rot nematode, entered Michigan through a shipment of Irish Cobbler potatoes from Prince Edward Island.

The insect is known to exist in only two other areas in North America, one a district in Wisconsin and the other in Idaho.

All of the infected shipment of 100 bags sent to a distributor in Alpena was destroyed except 22 bushels that had been purchased by eight different growers in the bay county area. These potatoes had been planted on a total of about five and a quarter acres.

All the infected potatoes have been dug up and burned, the department said. The land on which the potatoes were planted also has been staked and will be fumigated to destroy any of the insects that might have left the seed potatoes and gone into the ground.

Auto Output Geared to Hit 4-Week Peak

DETROIT (INS) — Automotive News reports that the industry will increase car production to a four-week high of 126,191 units this week.

The trade publication said the hike was due to six-day operations at Plymouth and Chrysler divisions and gains in production at Ford, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard.

The increase is a 5.2 per cent boost from last week's output of 119,999 cars and a 19.6 increase over the 105,547 units that rolled off assembly lines during the week ended May 5 a year ago.

Automotive News said that if the manufacturers continue their pace of the first few days of the month, they would complete May with an estimated 542,000 car assemblies. Last month the industry produced 549,239 cars.

Robbed Man Driving, Not Walking, He Says

Walter Lewis, 263 Norton St., who told police he was robbed by two men and a woman at knife point at 2 a.m. Sunday morning was driving his auto near Bagley and Wesson streets.

The Press previously stated Lew was walking in the area when the trio escaped with his wallet containing approximately $18.

Lewis said he had picked up the asked him for a ride.

Cape Town, South Africa, has launched a drive against "jalopies" as a public menace.

CLIFF ROBERTSON

Rises From TV to Star Status

Movie and Stage Actor Still Unspoiled Despite Great Success

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Despite his burgeoning success, Cliff Robertson is still the same Cliff Robertson, living the same life, looking (as yet unsuccessfully) for the same ideal girl to marry, keeping the same old friends.

★ ★ ★

It's a genuine delight to report on his onward-and-upward career.

Some years ago, he was one of TV's struggling young actors. He was on every show you can imagine.

For months he was "Rod Brown of the Rocket Rangers," one of the old serials for kids. Then Hollywood found him, put him in "Picnic" and "Autumn Leaves."

★ ★ ★

Then, with 10 days' notice, he stepped into the male lead in Tennessee Williams' "Orpheus Descending" on Broadway.

FLATTERING NOTE

(On opening night, Williams wired: "Hope the play does as much for you as you have done for the play.")

★ ★ ★

Yet, even though he's now famous and successful, you'll still find Cliff living in his same old apartment, on the other side of the tracks.

He's still "planning" to fix it up as he has been for years, and he's got a new rug rolled up along one wall and cans of paint stashed in a closet. So far, though, he hasn't gotten around to the actual work.

Robertson was given time off from his Hollywood studio to do the play, but it was a tough deal to make.

The studio demanded, and got, an extension on his services in return for their willingness to let him go.

TWO REASONS

"But I wanted to do it badly," he says. "I wanted it for two reasons. First, I figured it would help my career. And second—I don't want to sound artsy-craftsy, but I like the stage.

"It's where I started and there's a great deal of pride connected with opening a Tennessee Williams play — any Tennessee Williams play."

That doesn't sound artsy-craftsy at all — actually, it sounds like plain commony sensey.

District Attorney Job Sought by 2

Langley Won't Give Up His Office in Portland to Governor's Choice

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Two claimants to the district attorney's office were ready to fight it out today in the latest vice cleanup developments in Portland.

Dist. Atty. William M. Langley, 41, refused to give up the office yesterday after a state circuit judge signed an order removing him because he was convicted last month of failing to prosecute gamblers.

★ ★ ★

Langley's attorneys filed notice of appeal to the State Supreme Court and said that automatically should keep Langley in office until the appeal is settled. His term runs through 1958.

★ ★ ★

The second claimant is Leo Smith, 53, Portland attorney, who was appointed by Gov. Robert D. Holmes immediately after the judge signed the order for Langley's removal.

Smith said he planned to take his oath of office later today.

Delay in Hearing Requested by UAW

DETROIT (AP) — U. S. District Court has been asked by the United Auto Workers union to hold off for at least six months the corrupt practices act trial of the union.

The union, which made its request yesterday, said it will require the time to prepare a defense in view of the "novelty, difficulty and complexity" of issues raised by the U. S. Supreme Court.

In addition, union lawyers said they desire to "develop fully the facts and the law of the great constitutional issues presented by this case."

This is the case in which the UAW is charged with illegal use of union dues money in sponsoring political broadcasts in the congressional campaign of 1954 and the union defends itself under constitutional freedom of speech.

Smoking in Bed Costs Man 20 Days in Jail

BAY CITY (AP) — Smoking in bed cost Robert Mieho, 29, a 20-day jail term because the bed caught on fire when he fell asleep.

★ ★ ★

Even so, Mieho conceded he might have fared worse.

★ ★ ★

Firemen said that when they got into Mieho's hotel room they found him still asleep and hardly harmed at all although his cigarette had burned through bed clothing and into the mattress.

★ ★ ★

Color TV Big Attraction for Japanese Monarchs

TOKYO (AP)—American color television was a chief attraction for Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako today at Japan's 1957 International Trade Fair.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II met the royal couple at the American commercial pavilion and showed them around. They showed particular interest in the color TV exhibit, one of the fair's most popular features.

Ike Picks Stepovich to Govern Alaska

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower nominated a native-born Alaskan for a four-year term as governor of the territory of Alaska.

Selected for the post was Michael A. Stepovich of Fairbanks. Stepovich, a Republican, is now a member of the territorial Senate.

Stepovich will succeed B. Frank Heintzleman, who resigned earlier this year.

The President also reappointed Waino E. Hendrickson of Juneau to be secretary of the Territory of Alaska. Hendrickson, a former mayor of Juneau, has been serving in his present post since 1935.

Flight to Mark 350th Birthday of Jamestown

LONDON (INS) — The U.S. Air Force announces three of its speedy F-100 jets will fly nonstop from London to Virginia Monday in connection with the 350th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown.

On Sunday afternoon, the Air Force said, ceremonies will be held at London airport at which the three jets will be christened Susan Constant, Discovery and Godspeed — the names of the ships which took the first English settlers to Jamestown in 1607.

The planes will be christened by Lady Clementine Churchill, wife of the former prime minister; Mrs. John Hay Whitney, wife of the U.S. ambassador to Britain, and Mrs. William S. Morrison, wife of the speaker of the House of Commons.

The jets are scheduled to land at Langley Air Force Base, Va.
