Medical Group Protests Booklet Put Out by U.S.

Asks Ruling on Political Push by Ribicoff for SS Aged Bill

CHICAGO (AP)—An American Medical Association official asked today for a federal investigation into whether Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff had committed a criminal act by publishing a booklet on health care of the aged.

F. J. L. Blasingame, M. D., AMA executive vice president, said the request was embodied in a telegram to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The booklet was issued last week by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare headed by Ribicoff.

"This booklet," Dr. Blasingame said, "lobbies for the enactment of the King-Anderson bill. This bill would raise Social Security taxes to provide limited health services to aged beneficiaries, regardless of whether they need financial help.

"The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has used tax funds, collected from everyone, to propagandize for a bill which many people and many groups have vigorously opposed.

★ ★ ★

"Under law, the publishing of this kind of booklet without congressional authority is a criminal act, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, and removal from office."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Blasingame said Congress had not authorized the publication and added that Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., has protested against the spending of tax funds for the booklet.

★ ★ ★

Byrnes asked the comptroller general to refuse to approve payment of the printing costs.

Next Stop – Broadway

OFF TO MANHATTAN — Anticipation of six delightful days in New York City brought smiles to the faces of these Pontiac Press Theater Tour participants as they boarded a chartered bus outside the Press yesterday. From left are Bernard Salvatore, Pontiac Press promotion manager, and Mrs. Salvatore, Doris Bender, Helen Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. John Zeunen. The bus transported the group to the airport where they boarded an American Airlines jet to Gotham. The party will see five top Broadway hits during their stay in New York.

Predict Session of Legislature Will Drag On

GOP Lacks Necessary Votes to Push Through Five-Bill Package

LANSING (AP)—Democratic resistance to passage of "nuisance" taxes has suddenly stiffened in the House and many lawmakers gloomily predict the 1962 legislative session may drag on for weeks.

A five-bill package of new or increased taxes on beer, cigarettes, liquor and telephone and telegraph bills was set to move to the House floor today. It would raise $69 million a year.

Release of the bills by the House Taxation Committee sets the stage for fierce partisan warfare and shifts the main arena in the tax battle from the Senate to the House for one of the few times this year.

With Gov. Swainson sitting in, House Democrats agreed yesterday to fight moves by majority Republicans to put through a package of nuisance levies and adjourn for the year.

"We want fiscal reform, not nuisance taxes," said Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, Democratic floor leader. "We are for an income tax. Period."

Kowalski said opposition to the nuisance taxes, on a voice vote, was unanimous.

"Somebody has put on the pressure from outside," said Rep. Allison Green, R-Kingston, GOP floor leader. "Last week, we figured we had enough Democrats with us to put these bills through."

U.S. Backs Plan Despite Adenauer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States stood by its proposal for a 13-nation Berlin access authority today in the face of public criticism of the plan by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

A spokesman conceded by implication that there is a lack of Allied agreement on the proposal. He said that "discussions . . . are continuing." But he added:

"We have not changed our proposals nor have we been asked to do so."

This statement came from press officer Lincoln White in comment on reports from Germany that the United States was scrapping its proposal for an international authority built around a 13-member board to operate the major surface and air routes between West Berlin and West Germany.

White said that no one, including the West German government, has asked the United States to change its plan.

The burden of his comment was that while Adenauer objected to the plan in public statements in Berlin earlier this week, he did not come up in diplomatic discussions, conducted through ambassadors, with any specific proposals for amendment.

In Bonn, West German press chief Felix von Eckardt said Adenauer voiced pessimism about U.S.-Soviet talks on Berlin in order to dampen "unjustified optimism."

"The chancellor said nothing that U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has not already said several times . . . that the U.S.-Soviet talks have made no reel ognikable progress," Von Eckardt said at a news conference.

Von Eckardt said reports about the Washington talks between Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoli Dobrynin have "created an optimism as if agreement is near."

★ ★ ★

"Nothing has been found in the talks which would indicate this but that does not mean that the talks should not continue in order to find a basis for future negotiations," he said.

★ ★ ★

The State Department yesterday challenged Adenauer to come forward with new ideas and it promised to consider them.

Senate Continues Voting Rights Debate

Defeat Move to Curb Talkathon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate today decisively rejected a bipartisan move to curb a Southern talkathon against the administration's voting rights bill.

The leadership immediately launched a new effort to gag debate.

★ ★ ★

In rapid succession, the Senate voted down one cloture move and then refused overwhelmingly to kill the voting rights measure itself.

At this point, Senate leaders filed another cloture petition in a renewed effort to halt the two-week-old Southern talkathon.

The second petition was filed by the bipartisan leadership after southerners objected to an agreement which would have brought a final vote on the bill in another nine hours.

The climax of the series of votes meant that the Senate will vote finally either Friday or Monday, with the leadership indicating a preference for Monday.

★ ★ ★

After the 54 to 43 vote against cloture — gag rule — the Senate voted 64 to 33 to defeat Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield's motion to table his measure, which would outlaw unfair literacy tests in Federal elections.

OPPOSE OWN MOTION

Mansfield and Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., cosponsor of the legislation, opposed their own tabling motion but offered it to get a clearer vote on the merits of the issue.

★ ★ ★

Before filing his second cloture petition, Mansfield tried to get unanimous consent to limit further debate on the bill to nine hours—starting today. But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern bloc, objected.

Russell, bringing some titters of laughter from the Republican side, explained that he felt the opponents of the bill had made such "splendid progress" in educating the country he felt the debate should go on.

Senate leaders had settled on the tabling strategy as a test of opinion on the bill itself because such moves cannot be debated.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's Democratic senators Hart and McNamara voted with the minority today as the Senate defeated a motion to invoke its antifilibuster rule and limit further debate on the administration's voter literacy test bill.

City Commission Awards Renewal Demolition Job

The City Commission has awarded the demolition contract for wrecking of commercial structures in the R20 Urban Renewal project area to Louis D'Hondt & Son Wrecking Co. of Mount Clemens.

D'Hondt was low among seven bidders for the job with a bid of $82,000. There are approximately 101 structures on 86 parcels of land to be demolished.

The Mount Clemens firm was well below the second highest accepted bid of $119,149.20 submitted by the Arch Wrecking and Salvaging Co. of Waterford Township.

One of the seven bids, a $97,950 bid by Wolverine Lumber & Wrecking Co. of Pontiac, was rejected because proposal forms were incomplete and unsigned, said city administrators.

Commissioners awarded the contract to D'Hondt with the understanding that the company would use local labor at prevailing wage scales and benefits.

City officials expressed hope that demolition of acquired structures would begin within a month.

"This will be a big move in the right direction," said City Manager Robert A. Sderer. "Now we can start demolishing many Saginaw Street properties that have been standing vacant for many months."

There are currently only five properties on S. Saginaw Street that remain unacquired. About half of the buildings to be wrecked lie west and half lie east of Saginaw in an area roughly from Pike to Osmun Streets.

About 70 per cent are already bought or under option, according to urban renewal officials. Demolition of R20 residential structures began last fall and is more than half finished.

Other firms who submitted bids are as follows: Arrow Wrecking, Inc., of Dearborn, $138,000; OK Wrecking Co. of Battle Creek, $140,000; Sam Allen & Sons, Inc., of Pontiac, $236,450; and Industrial Wrecking Co., Inc., of Hoboken, N.J., $247,400.

2 Little Lambs Return Home Seeking Mother

Leave them alone and they'll come home — dragging their tails behind them.

That's exactly what happened to two 8-week-old lambs, Fuzzy and Cottontail, who were sold by Ronald A. Dicks of 2495 Charms Road, Milford Township.

Ray Russell of 1497 E. Dawson Road, Milford Township, who lives three miles from Dicks, bought the lambs Sunday and they disappeared Monday.

Yesterday, the pair turned up at Dicks', tired but none the worse for their all-night trek through woods and marshland looking for their mother.

Jobless in U.S. Drop 430,000

State Reports 55,000 Find Work in 30 Days: March 15 to April 15

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment dropped by 430,000 in April and went below the four-million figure for the first time this year, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg announced today.

At the same time, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported that unemployment in Michigan dropped 55,000 in the 30-day period ending April 15.

The MESC said state unemployment totaled 196,000 on April 15 compared to 251,000 on March 15.

★ ★ ★

Detroit area unemployment was placed at 97,000 or 7.1 per cent of the Motor City's work force. The figure represented a drop of 24,000 from the March 15 total.

★ ★ ★

Although the improvement was normal for the season, Goldberg said the decline—and a simultaneous rise in employment to an April record—was an encouraging sign of continued business expansion.

★ ★ ★

The unemployment rate remained at 5.5 per cent of the civilian labor force, the same as in March as against the 6.9 per cent of a year earlier.

★ ★ ★

The rate is based on seasonal adjustments, and remained unchanged this month because the drop was expected.

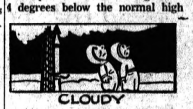

Cloudy, Cool; Time to Plant That Garden

Cloudy and cool with a few showers, good planting weather, is the weatherman's forecast for the area during the next five days.

Mall Bows to Public Tomorrow

Pontiac and surroundings will go "malling" in the morning.

At 9 a.m. tomorrow, the glass doors will swish open on what is said to be the biggest collection of stores under one roof in the Midwest.

It will be the debut of the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Establishment of the Mall was described by the developers as a vote of confidence in the future of this area. It is intended to serve a quarter of a million people living within shopping distance in 30 communities.

To the shopper it will mean more pleasurable sprees in 50 stores under one roof providing its own climate.

There is parking space for 4,000 cars on the Mall's 60 acres. The farthest parking lot sidewalk is only 300 feet from the closest Mall entrance.

To the economy of the area, the Pontiac Mall will mean an extra 1,000 jobs with an estimated annual payroll of more than half a million dollars.

The curtain-raiser for the three-day premiere will be a flag-raising ceremony at 6 p.m. today attended by civic officials including Mayor Robert Landry of Pontiac and Supervisor Elmer Johnson of Waterford Township.

During a ceremony attended by an honor guard, Boy Scouts will present a flag to the owners of the Mall.

The owners and developers are the Gershenson Brothers — Aaron H., Samuel N. and William—and their associates James H. Wineman and Eugene J. Arnfeld.

THE WALLENDAS

Also attending the unveiling will be members of The Great Wallendas high wire act, including Mario Wallenda, who will make his first public appearance since he was injured.

During its three-day introductory celebration being held through Saturday, the Mall's present 41 merchants will bow to the public under the light of nightly fireworks and in a circus atmosphere.

The Great Wallendas will perform outside on the high wire daily at 3 p.m. and at 9 p.m. Thursday through Saturday.

★ ★ ★

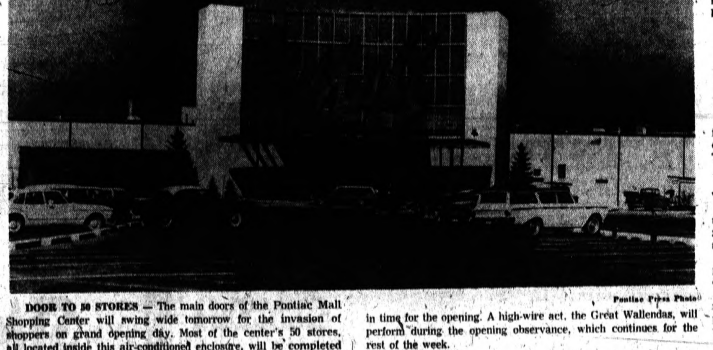

The fireworks will follow the Wallendas each night at 9:30 p.m.

And for the baseball fans, Detroit Tiger stars Norm Cash and Steve Boros will appear Saturday night to give autographed pictures.

Speaking proudly of the "shopping city," William Gershenson commented today:

"To build and bring this new, modern concept of complete shopping comfort to the community, we have combined our 150 years

DOOR TO 50 STORES — The main doors of the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center will swing wide tomorrow for the invasion of shoppers on grand opening day. Most of the center's 50 stores, all located inside this air-conditioned enclosure, will be completed in time for the opening. A high-wire act, the Great Wallendas, will perform during the opening observance, which continues for the rest of the week.

Rebels in Laos Continue Push

U. S. Calls Conference in Washington to Argue Cease Fire Violation

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Communist rebel forces pursued retreating royal army troops southward today as the International Control Commission attempted to end the renewed fighting in the Laotian war.

* * *

In Washington, the United States moved to reemphasize to Russia its "serious concern" over the recent fighting in Laos.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball summoned Russian Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin to an afternoon State Department conference.

The purpose was to "underscore" U. S. fears that full-scale civil war might result if a cease fire is not quickly achieved.

Officials indicated U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson, who gave the same message to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow yesterday, got little by way of a Soviet reaction.

The Reds captured Muong Sing last week, drove an estimated 5,000 royal army defenders out of the northern provincial capital of Nam Tha after a thunderous artillery barrage Sunday, and captured two more towns Monday.

The attacks were considered by the United States and Britain to be violations of the year-old cease fire.

Members of the ICC—composed of India, Poland and Canada—went to the Communist rebel headquarters at Khang Khay to find out why the cease fire was broken and to attempt an immediate end to the new hostilities.

They were accompanied by Malcolm MacDonald, British cochairman, with a Russian of the Geneva conference on Laos.

When asked by the ICC members about their pursuit after Nam Tha, the rebels replied: "We want to talk to them (the royalist forces), but they keep running away."

We'll Stay in Berlin, Rusk Tells Australia

CANBERRA, Australia (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Australians today Berlin is the most direct Soviet challenge to the free world and reaffirmed: "We will not be forced, squeezed or harassed out of West Berlin."

Rusk spoke at a dinner given in honor of him and New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake at the end of a two-day Anzus council meeting. His speech was broadcast throughout Australia.

A final communique said Australia and New Zealand approved resumption of U.S. nuclear tests in the atmosphere and expressed concern that the Soviet Union had refused to sign a cheat-proof treaty.

In his speech, Rusk spoke of dangers in Asia as well as Europe and praised the U.S. pact with Australia and New Zealand.

"We have made it plain that the freedom and viability of West Berlin, free access and the Allies' presence are necessary to ensure its freedom," Rusk said.

"In Southeast Asia, likewise, the free world has vital interests which you and New Zealand and we, with our other Allies in SEATO have special obligations to protect."

COMMON INTEREST

Of the Anzus Treaty, a mutual security pact of Australia, New Zealand and the United States, Rusk said:

* * *

"No defensive alliance was ever more firmly anchored in the solid realties of common interest, common ideals and mutual confidence.

"As we have fought side by side to defend liberty in the past, so we stand together today resolved to preserve freedom against another grave threat.

"Our vital, common interests are not confined to the Pacific. They are worldwide. We are locked in a global struggle and on its outcome our fortunes — yours and ours — are indissolubly welded."

* * *

Rusk noted that in the last several months, the United States has substantially increased its assistance to South Viet Nam, where Communists are waging guerrilla warfare.

Dems Out to Block Nuisance-Tax Bill

majority in the House and one of their number, Rep. Fred Olsen of Sheridan, is hospitalized. With 56 votes required for passage of any bill, Democratic support is needed to send any tax package to the Senate.

Democrats, on the other hand, figure they can round up several Republican supporters for an income tax package. Putting it intact through both Houses is another matter.

A coalition of Democrats and anti-styled Republican "Moderates" in the Senate passed the key bill in an 11-bill income tax package late last month, but the drive petered out the next week.

House speaker Don B. Pears, R-Buchanan, said the legislature may adjourn by the end of the month if Democrats "don't resort to delaying tactics."

Asked what Republicans might offer to persuade Democrats to go along with the GOP nuisance tax program, Pears replied:

"That's a good question."

McNamara Visits S. Viet Nam for Look at Situation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara arrived today on his first visit to South Viet Nam and set out almost immediately for a close look at the program for fighting Communist guerrillas.

* * *

McNamara and his party, which includes Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, took off in helicopters to visit a strategic village area.

In a brief airport news conference McNamara said "there is no plan for introducing American combat forces into South Viet Nam."

He called the Communist capture of Nam Tha in Laos a serious violation of the cease-fire agreement of that country. He said the United States wants to see a neutral Independent Laos and does not propose to abandon Laos.

Hopes Presses to Roll Thursday

Detroit Paper Union VP's Remark Supports Report Vote Near

DETROIT (AP)—A vice president of the Paper and Plate Handlers Union, which has picketed the Detroit News since Sunday, said today, "I hope the papers will be on the street tomorrow."

* * *

Patrick O'Sullivan made his comment just an hour before a delegation from his union was to confer with the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, which represents the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press in contract talks with their employes.

* * *

Local 10 of the Paper and Plate Handlers Union summoned its members to a meeting tonight, lending support to a report that it might take a vote on whether to go back to work.

The Free Press, which had laid off practically all its news force during the 39-day tieup, manned most of the key news boats today. A spokesman said a general back-to-work order to newsmen had not been issued yet.

Meanwhile, presses at the News and Free Press remained silent today while craft union leaders claimed they had won at least temporary government support in their dispute with the two papers.

In a preliminary ruling yesterday, an official of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) found the afternoon News to have apparently violated the law by laying off employes during last month's Teamsters Union strike at the morning Free Press.

of experience in the merchandising and retail field.

"We have designed, created and built the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center with only one purpose in mind: the convenience and comfort of the shopping public.

"At the Mall 50 well - known stores will offer tremendous selections of competitively priced merchandise to fit the needs for every family, every budget, every taste."

* * *

Gershenson added that the "shopping city" idea introduces to Michigan a trend which, the experts predict, will revolutionize the public's shopping habits.

* * *

The decor of the Mall, because of its immense scale, required the placing of over 120 separate items of sculpture. This is described as the greatest number of sculptured items in a single project in the country, according to Malcolm Moran and Donald Buby of Architectural Sculpture Co.

"We are indeed proud of the merchants in the Mall," Aaron Gershenson said. "These famous names read like a 'Who's Who' of the merchants world and guarantee to our customers the finest in goods and services."

Spring's Bite Is Pretty Hard

Killer Thunderstorms Sweep From Kansas to Carolinas; Three Die

By United Press International

Spring's bite was worse than its bark today with killer thunderstorms grumbling from Kansas to the Carolinas and snow in parts of Massachusetts and Michigan.

* * *

A small tornado was reported near Richmond, Va.

At least 3 deaths were blamed on the storm last night.

A 9-year-old boy was killed by a falling tree at Richmond, Va. A Burlington, N. C., woman died in a similar accident. A Winston-Salem, N. C., woman lost her life when a wind gust blew her car into a tree.

Mechanic Lothar Von Maltzahn suffered severe head injuries when the wind flipped over a light plane at Charlottesville, Va., yesterday.

HIGH WINDS HIT

Winds up to 74 miles an hour lifted roofs from homes in Appomatox and Farmville, Va. A garage was overturned at Appomatox yesterday.

* * *

Trees were uprooted and power lines down in Virginia and North Carolina. A dozen Virginia roads were blocked by tree limbs. Charlottesville, Va., had 8 inches of rain yesterday.

* * *

Half-inch hail stones and 1.80 inches of rain fell early today on the Kansas Turnpike 50 miles northeast of Wichita. Paducah, Ky., and Oceana, Va., had nearly an inch of rain.

Policemen Reinforced in Algiers

ALGIERS (UPI) — Drastic new measures to cut down secret army terrorism — including surveillance of European youths and the systematic sealing of sections of Algiers — were announced by the French today.

* * *

A spokesman for French High Commissioner Fouchet outlined the measures as terrorists took a toll of at least nine Moslems killed in pistol and machine gun attacks by early afternoon.

The new measures are an extension of methods attempted in the past few weeks that failed to halt the terrorist attacks.

The spokesman said, however, that the number of mobile gendarmes on duty will be massively reinforced, and sections of the city where the attacks are worst will be systematically sealed off.

* * *

Troops and riot police will enforce a total curfew in such areas.

* * *

Europeans from 18 to 25 years of age will be put under close watch, he added, and pedestrians will be methodically searched.

The spokesman said nine Europeans suspected of terrorist activity were expelled today, and more expulsions will follow.

EXPLODES 30,000 FEET UP—The Centaur space rocket exploded in the sky 30,000 feet up yesterday afternoon shortly after being launched from Cape Canaveral. Officials are analyzing the cause of the failure, which dealt a severe blow to U.S. plans.

Expect No Delay for Carpenter

Centaur Explodes in Sky

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Radio signals and telescopic camera films were analyzed today by technicians seeking the cause of the in-flight explosion of the first Centaur high-energy space rocket.

The study was watched closely by Project Mercury officials for any clue which might force a delay of the orbital space flight of astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, scheduled for May 17.

In New York, however, a space official said Carpenter's flight won't necessarily be delayed by yesterday's explosion.

The projected Mercury flight will have an Atlas missile as its first stage, as did the Centaur.

Walter Williams, associate director of the manned spacecraft center at Houston, Tex., said at a news conference that each Atlas differs somewhat from the next and that yesterday's failure may cause no delay for Carpenter.

The 105-foot Centaur blew apart 30,000 feet above the Atlantic Ocean 55 seconds after it was fired on its maiden flight Tuesday.

The spectacular failure dealt a severe blow to U.S. plans to develop the rocket as a booster for sending heavyweight payloads into earth orbit and to the moon, Mars and Venus.

City Offers Site for Building of IRS Data Center

The City Commission last night passed a resolution offering the old Orchard Lake sanitary fill as a site for a proposed Internal Revenue Service (IRS) data processing center.

The resolution will be forwarded immediately to IRS officials in Washington, D.C., and Chicago.

It is worded to leave the door open to future offers in connection with building on the 44-acre plot if IRS officials find the site to their liking.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said IRS officials were expected to come to Pontiac early next week to survey possible sites for the $2-million center. Sites have also been offered by Port Huron and Detroit.

The city-owned Pontiac site lies just southwest of Beaudette Park along a Grand Trunk Western Railroad line.

'No N-Test Ban Without France'

Russia Reverses Again and Refuses to OK Pact With West

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union once again reversed itself today and declared it will never sign any nuclear test ban treaty without France.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin announced the Soviet position at a session of the 17-nation disarmament conference discussing the test ban negotiations of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

Zorin referred to the recent French underground test in the Sahara and declared:

"There is another power now testing nuclear weapons. This power is refusing to take part in the negotiations and has never said it would adhere to a nuclear test ban treaty.

* * *

"The Soviet Union will not sign any treaty on banning nuclear tests unless France is a party to it."

France has never taken part in the test ban talks, and has boycotted the disarmament conference since it opened March 14.

The United States detected the French nuclear test before Paris announced it and Zorin used this to support the Soviet position that no international control system is necessary to police a test ban.

"The fact that the test was picked up by the United States bears out our assertion that all tests can be detected by national detection systems," Zorin declared.

The test ban negotiations are deadlocked by the Soviet refusal to discuss any international control arrangements allowing for compulsory inspection of suspicious earth tremors.

The United States and Britain refuse to accept a test ban without such a control system.

The Day in Birmingham

Late Architect Saarinen Is Honored With Medal

BIRMINGHAM — The American Institute of Architects' highest award, the Gold Medal, went posthumously to Eero Saarinen of Bloomfield Hills yesterday.

The award was made at the AIA's annual meeting held in Dallas, Tex.

Saarinen died Sept. 1, 1961, at the age of 51.

He designed the Dulles International Airport in Washington, D.C., the campus for Concordia Senior College in Fort Wayne, Ind., and the General Motors Technical Center in Warren.

For the latter, he was named the country's outstanding architect in 1953 by the AIA.

Sundberg-Ferar, Inc., a Southfield industrial designing firm, was awarded the AIA industrial Arts gold medal "for superiority in developing outstanding elegance and commodity for a large variety of designs to be executed by the machine."

The company is at 24459 W. 10½ Mile Road.

Dr. John Visser of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Detroit, will be the guest speaker at the Friday meeting of the Senior Men's Club of Birmingham at the Community House.

Dr. Visser will discuss his recent 4½-month trip around the world.

The Annual Mother and Daughter Banquet of the First Methodist Church will be held 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. It will be followed by a fashion show.

Mrs. Mark Martin, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, will act as mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. William LoveJoy will give the invocation.

Mrs. Owen Leffler is general program chairman.

Otho O. Corsaut Sr.

Service for Otho O. Corsaut Sr., 73, of 32230 Lahser Road, Beverly Hills, will be 2 p.m. Thursday at the Sullivan and son Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Corsaut died Monday in Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, after a short illness.

He was a partner in the O. O. Crosaut Co., a water well drilling and pump contracting firm, retiring from active service in 1954.

He was an honorary member of the Michigan Well Drillers Association and a senior active member of the Royal Oak Rotary Club.

Surviving are his wife Mary L.; a son, Otho O. Jr. of Beverly Hills; three sisters, two brothers and four grandchildren.

P. H. Hamly

Service for P. H. Hamly, 68, of 4130 Orchard Hills Road, Bloomfield Township, will be 1 p.m. Friday at his home. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Hamly died yesterday.

He was the owner of the P. H. Hamly Hardware Co., Detroit.

Surviving are his wife Virginia; three daughters, Virginia Hamly of Birmingham, Mrs. Charles K. Callam of Southfield and Mrs. Carlton Bartlett of Detroit; a son, Robert of Birmingham; and nine grandchildren.

Arrangements were made by the Sweeney Funeral Home, Detroit.

Slain Youth Found Bound, Shot, in Ditch

TRENTON (AP) — The body of a youth who had been bound with handcuffs and shot in the back of the head was found today in a water-filled drainage ditch just outside the south Trenton city limits.

State police said the unidentified youth, believed to be about 21 years old, had been shot fatally some time last night and his body later dumped in the ditch.

The drainage ditch is located near a new housing project within sight of the Trenton city limits.

No car tracks were found on the road alongside the ditch. State police said the road was heavily traveled.

ST. CLAIR (UPI)—The board of directors of Diamond Crystal Salt Co. has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 10 cents a share payable May 28 to stockholders of record on May 11.

Public to Vote in Fall or Spring?

Constitution Date in Court

LANSING (UPI)—A court battle over when the new constitution will be submitted to the voters appeared to be shaping up today as delegates struggled through final consideration of the document.

Gov. John B. Swainson rejected an appeal to seek a Supreme Court ruling clearing the way for a vote in November rather than next April.

In a letter to Richard C. Van Dusen, R-Birmingham, chairman of a select committee of the convention working on the problem, the governor said he could not find such action to be "compelling."

Van Dusen reacted by ramming through the rules committee, which he also heads, a resolution calling for action in Ingham County Circuit Court to force a November vote.

"We will submit this resolution to the convention for approval after action on the schedule section of the new document (probably today)," Van Dusen said.

Delegates voted earlier to seek means of submitting the document they have been working on for 7½ months in the November general election.

A larger voter turnout was the generally quoted reason by supporters of such actiod.

* * *

George Romney, R-Bloomfield Hills, a convention vice president and GOP candidate for governor, will also be running on the November ballot against Swainson and political observers have pointed out that he may feel it an advantage to have the document he helped write on the ballot with him.

* * *

Religious Brother Swept Over Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Brother Constantine Saindner, 68, of the order of the Brothers of the Holy Infancy of the Roman Catholic Church, was swept over the Horseshoe Falls Tuesday.

A coroner's verdict was withheld pending recovery of the body.

★ ★ ★

Identification was made by witnesses from photographs found among effects left nearby, police said. Brother Constantine had served in institutions in Lackawanna for more than 40 years.

★ ★ ★

Sample of unknown rubber and plastics no larger than a pinhead can be identified by a new laboratory method developed by a large rubber company.

Professor Named President of Lutheran College

SEWARD, Neb. (AP)—Dr. Arthur C. Repp, 56, a member of the staff of Concordia Theological Seminary in St. Louis since 1945, has been named president of Concordia Teachers College to succeed Dr. Paul A. Zimmerman.

★ ★ ★

Concordia Teachers is a four-year college with about 900 students affiliated with the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod. The presidency has been vacant since Dr. Zimmerman resigned to take a post with a new Lutheran school being started in Ann Arbor, Mich.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Repp was pastor of Mt. Olive Lutheran Church at San Antonio, Tex., for 14 years prior to 1943. From 1943 to 1945 he was executive secretary of the Board of Parish Education of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod. He has been academic dean and professor at the seminary.

U.S. Drops Bomb; Sixth in Test Series

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has set off its sixth burst in the series of nuclear tests in the Pacific.

★ ★ ★

The government announcement Tuesday said the device was in the intermediate yield range—equal to more than 20,000 tons and less than a million tons of TNT—and was dropped from a plane in the vicinity of Christmas Island. Four of the previous tests were also air drops.

Nixon's Daughter Bonked by Bat at Baseball Game

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Julie Nixon has a bump on her head—and no wonder.

The former vice president's daughter was bonked on the head with a baseball bat Tuesday.

She is home, under a doctor's care, recovering. The doctor says Julie, 14, was watching a softball game Tuesday at a private school where she is in the ninth grade.

A pitch came in wide of the plate and the girl at bat scooted over to swing at it. She missed the ball. But she hit Julie.

Julie's mother, Pat Nixon, took her to a doctor and then home.

Stops Constipation due to "Aging Colon"

Relief, doctors say, lies in new laxative principle that re-creates 3 essentials of youthful regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents dry out and shrink so they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief:

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage (without pain or strain). (2) helps restore flabby colon muscles with unique rebuilding action. (3) acts gently on the nerve reflex that stimulates the "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight, is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. Introductory Size 49¢

Many Supervisors Keep Committee Jobs

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors has confirmed appointments to its various committees for the ensuing year.

Ways and Means Chairman David Levinson, Birmingham supervisor, was reappointed to head the committee for a third consecutive year. He has served on the Board of Supervisors for 20 consecutive years and on ways and means since 1947.

Birmingham Supervisor Luther Heacock, chairman of buildings and grounds, and Novi Township Supervisor Frazer W. Staman, chairman of salaries, both were reappointed. Heacock has been a member of his committee since 1953 and Staman since 1955.

The only new chairman appointed among 24 regular committees and five special committees was R. W. Lahti, Wixom supervisor. He was elevated from the ranks to head the welfare committee.

Buildings and grounds and salaries each had one new supervisor's appointment confirmed. Southfield's Hugh G. Allerton Jr. stepped into buildings and grounds and Elmer Kephart, Bloomfield Hills, into salaries. In both instances they replaced Clawson Supervisor A. T. Menzies.

All committee appointments are for one year.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS

Other new appointments of supervisors confirmed were:

Auditor general — E. V. Mercer, Walled Lake, and David P. Wood, Clawson.

Bylaws — S. J. Clarkson, Southfield, and Elwood Dickens, Royal Oak Township.

Civil Defense — Lloyd Gabler, Southfield, and Mercer.

Cooperative extension service — James Carey, Birmingham.

Drain — Leroy Davis, Pontiac Township.

Local taxes — Clarkson and Curtis Potter, Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Markets — John A. Dewan, Madison Heights.

Miscellaneous — Howard Beecher, Hazel Park, and Sander M. Levin, Berkley.

Roads and bridges — Robert J. Huber, Troy, and John C. Rehard, West Bloomfield Township.

Tuberculosis sanatorium—Oscar Beamer, Hazel Park, and John Slavens, Pleasant Ridge.

Veterans — John E. Noel, South Lyon.

Welfare — Gabler and Menzies.

SPECIAL GROUPS

Special committees:

Airport zoning board — Edward Cheyz, White Lake Township.

Aviation — Wallace B. Hudson, Troy.

County building — Hugh Charteris of Ferndale and Menzies.

County government study—Clarence A. Durban, Southfield, and David P. Wood, Clawson.

Water — Louis A. Demute, Royal Oak.

Allerton also was appointed to the legislative committee.

1 Minor Party, Maybe Another on Nov. 6 Ballot

LANSING (AP) — The Socialist Labor party will be the only minor party to appear on the Michigan ballot this year, unless the attorney general rules otherwise.

State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery says the Socialist Laborites were the only minor party to file petitions by Sunday's deadline, six months before the Nov. 6 general election.

The American Christian party, formerly the Prohibition party, submitted its petitions Monday. At the request of Dr. D. D. Gibbons of Kalamazoo, the party's candidate for governor in 1960, the attorney general was asked to rule on whether the deadline was extended a day because it fell on a Sunday.

★ ★ ★

State elections laws make no special provision for an extension, said Russell Searl, an assistant attorney general.

National Group Takes In Three Area Sanitarians

Three area health sanitarians have been accepted to membership in the National Association of Sanitarians, it was announced today. They are:

★ ★ ★

Ralph T. Florio, 6341 Williams Lake Road, Waterford Township, Pontiac food sanitarian; Charles S. Cohen, 82 N. Edith St., Pontiac chief sanitarian, and Richard F. Wells, 4395 Windiate Drive, Waterford Township, Oakland County Health Department sanitarian.

Electorate Beats Millage

CADILLAC (AP) — Cadillac and Wexford County voters rejected Tuesday a two-mill tax levy and a two-mill increase in the millage limit, which had been proposed to build a new $400,000 county medical center. The tax levy proposal lost, 1,532 to 1,273. The millage limit proposition was beaten 1,590 to 1,355.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "Plate odor breath." City School Board to Get Proposed Pay Schedule

A proposed salary schedule for teachers will be presented to the Pontiac Board of Education for consideration at its 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

No total figure involving an expected salary hike has been released. However, Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said today that a joint committee of teachers' representatives and administrators had agreed on details of the hike.

Also on the agenda is a recommendation by the school administration fo the school board regarding legal protection of pupils during police questioning and before removal of a student from school.

The recommendation, which has not been given board approval, is that a school official must be present during questioning of pupils and that an attempt to notify the parent must be made before removal of a child from school.

★ ★ ★

A demand by a parent that parents be called before questioning made two weeks ago, caused postponement of a decision on the administration recommendation. However, no such proposal has been added aside from minor changes in strengthening the working of the proposed formal policy.

The school district has operated for several years under procedures outlined in the recommendations.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board will be faced with a recommendation to approve planning specifications for new board of education housing facilities. No dollar figure has been set. Completion of the facilities is scheduled for 1963 when the old 40 Patterson St. housing will be razed for urban renewal.

★ ★ ★

The facilities include a proposed 59,000 square feet for a new service building and 18,800 square feet for a new administration building.

An oral report will be presented to the board by Asst. Supt. Otto C. Hufziger about the extent of wind damage at Madison Junior High School..

Will Try Man for Possesion of Money Plates

A Royal Oak Township man charged with possession of counterfeit money plates was scheduled to stand trial today in U.S. District Court, Detroit.

John Marshall, 39, 29870 Westview St., was arrested following a gambling raid at his home March 3, during which sheriff's deputies discovered the plates for counterfeiting $1 bills.

Sheriff's detectives Capt. Leo Hazen and Sgt. Harry Maur were subpoenaed yesterday to appear on behalf of the defendant.

Normally law enforcement officers appear as witnesses for the prosecution.

★ ★ ★

Maur said he thinks the defense counsel wants to question them on the manner in which they gained entry to Marshall's home.

Health Official, Panel to Air Weight Control

Dr. Bernard Berman, deputy county health director and Pontiac city health director, will be one of six panelists speaking on weight control and physical fitness 1:30 p.m. Friday in Detroit.

The panel is part of the current joint session of the Michigan Public Health Association and the Michigan School Health Association.

Bids Due June 4 on Black Topping Pontiac Streets

The city has set 2 p.m. June 4 as the deadline for accepting bids on the contract for blacktopping and recapping of Pontiac streets under the 1962 public improvement program.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission authorized City Clerk Olga Barkeley to advertise for bids on the paving projects to be done under public necessity resolutions.

There are some 16 streets slated for black topping and five due for recapping in the program adopted in March. The city's estimated total cost for black topping is $113,202 and for recapping, $69,400.

Mentally Handicapped Can Be Useful to Society

Mental retardation has been an ugly word and it is only within the last generation or so that the shutters have been thrown open. Actually, the facts now show that a great many of the mentally handicapped can be educated through special methods to become useful members of society.

★ ★ ★

This is heartening news to families of the afflicted. It takes on even more importance when it is realized that there are an estimated 5.5 million Americans with a mental deficiency. This figure is increasing at the rate of 100,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

This week in Washington, Dr. Leonard W. Mayo, chairman of the President's Panel on Mental Retardation, will discuss what progress is being made in employment of retardates and the future outlook for them. He is speaking at the meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Figures show that of the 4.2 million children born in an average year, 126,000 or 3 per cent will never rise to an intellectual level above that of a 12-year-old. Of these, about 4,200 will remain helpless individuals, unable to care for their own needs.

★ ★ ★

For others, the future is brighter. They will be educated and taught skills in schools which will enable them to carry on normal employment. In some cases this will mean sheltered employment.

According to figures released from the National Association for Retarded Children, 25 out of every 30 mentally retarded children can be made self-supporting in adulthood through special training.

★ ★ ★

Our Federal Government is spending $26 million this year as against $1.7 million in 1955.

If a large number of these children can become self-supporting adults through assistance we feel that the country has gained.

American Champagne Used in Christening

Following right on the heels of a recent test firing of a Polaris-missile from a nuclear submarine, Tuesday Mrs. John F. Kennedy christened a new nuclear sub, Lafayette, with American champagne.

Using this domestic champagne is not a first. But Jackie is a style setter since her tasteful redecoration of the White House. And you can rest assured others will follow her in using an American-made champagne in christening rituals.

★ ★ ★

Just a mere mention by her that she was using crystal from Morgantown, W. Va., brought in a flood of orders to that city's glass works and greatly endeared her to West Virginians.

The only question now concerns the propriety of launching an American submarine named after a French nobleman with American-made bubbly. If Jackie thinks it's OK, we'll have to go along.

★ ★ ★

Our fleet of Polaris submarines is increasing. Twenty-nine have been built or are in the process. Six of them have joined our fleet and are in service. Three more will be ready this summer and three in the fiscal year starting July 1.

These subs are important to our national defense in the missile age. Our Navy is after Congress right now for additional money to start 12 more missile-carrying Polaris submarines in 1963. If it gets the funds our total would be brought to 41.

We can't help but feel that this is money well-spent and a strong point for us at the conference table.

Brought a New Use for the Former Ice Houses

By JOE HAAS

There's more truth than fiction in the answer of a Clarkston pupil to

What is an ice house?,

as relayed to me by his teacher:

"A place to hold cock fights," that version coming from his dad.

JOE HAAS

When artificial refrigeration put the ice houses out of business, many of them in this area were taken over by the Pontiac promoters of illegal cock fighting, and the bouts held there quite in defiance of the law. The battles of the spurs flourished in these surroundings for several years.

David Lawrence Says:

'Impartial' JFK Partial to Labor

WASHINGTON—The whole country has been waiting to see if President Kennedy would be just as firm with labor unions as he recently was in his crusade against the steel companies.

LAWRENCE

To put it another way, the nation has been waiting to make up its mind whether Mr. Kennedy is indeed an impartial President of the United States, or just a political tactician eager to do whatever is necessary in his judgment to win votes and financial support from labor unions for his next political campaign.

★ ★ ★

An answer has come more clearly than most observers thought it would.

It came in the opening and closing paragraphs of the address which President Kennedy carefully prepared in advance to deliver to the annual convention of the United Auto Workers—one of the largest labor unions in America.

Two sections of the official text which the President prepared for presentation to a big labor union contained his first outright bid for political support in the coming congressional elections.

★ ★ ★

Usually presidents of the United States refrain between campaigns from activity in partisan politics except to attend fund-raising dinners.

To find President Kennedy making an appeal for campaign support from a big labor union scarcely a month after he cracked down on big business is bound to make people wonder whether he can be impartial.

★ ★ ★

Despite several facts of intimidation against big business, President Kennedy nevertheless told the United Auto Workers that he really doesn't use any coercive powers at all. His exact words in the speech were as follows:

'NO COMPULSION'

"We possess and seek no powers of compulsion, and must rely primarily on the voluntary efforts of labor and management, and their sense of public responsibility, to make certain that the national interest is preserved. . . .

"This administration has not undertaken and will not undertake to fix prices and wages in a peaceful economy. We have no intention of intervening in every labor dispute.

★ ★ ★

"We are neither able nor willing to substitute our judgment for the judgment of those who sit at every local bargaining table in the country.

"We can suggest guidelines for the economy—but we cannot fix a single pattern for every plant and industry."

★ ★ ★

While the President thus disclaimed any responsibility for wage settlements, he reserved the right to criticize price changes and to call them "inflationary" whenever he is so disposed.

As for the much-talked-about "guidelines" of "productivity," the President said to the convention that all three groups—labor, management and the investors—can "reap the rewards of their productivity, and still pass lower prices on to the consumer."

The President called abstractly and vaguely for self-restraint in raising wages or prices.

But nowhere was there a specific recognition of the need for higher prices in order to earn a fair return to the investor—productivity in profits.

'EXEMPTED UAW'

Nowhere did Mr. Kennedy chide even gently the chief of the auto workers union, who the night before had issued a report to the convention which said:

"Wages and salaries, at least in the immediate future, must increase faster than our normal potential for increasing productivity."

Since this seemed to be inconsistent with what President Kennedy had previously stated as his policy, UAW President Walter Reuther merely said later on that he had meant, of course, that all this would be "noninflationary."

★ ★ ★

So it comes down to the simple political truism of the day—that it's "inflationary" and a violation of "productivity guidelines" when any large business increases its prices to meet wage scales forced on it by strikes or threats of strikes.

★ ★ ★

But it's "noninflationary" when a labor union—a staunch supporter and financial ally of the President in his political campaigns—comes out for higher and higher wages irrespective of "productivity guidelines."

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

'Quiet Guardians of Health' Cite 'Little' Public Services

How is the public health guarded?

The Public Affairs Committee (22 East 38 St., New York 16, N.Y.) has just published a new 25-cent pamphlet on the activities of the Division of Environmental Engineering and Food Protection of the U.S. Public Health Service.

Entitled "Quiet Guardians of the People's Health," the booklet describes the detailed attention given to the design and operation of the water supply and sewerage systems of dairies, ships, home trailers, schools, hospitals, restaurants and other areas.

In each instance, codes must be set up, standards established and means provided for seeing that codes and standards are strictly observed.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, too little attention is given these and many other of the day-in, day-out public services that we are apt to take for granted, such as, for example, those of the Telephone Pioneers of America, a volunteer organization of electronic experts, employes of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its subsidiaries.

Working on their own time, these dedicated citizens spend their lunch hours repairing the "talking books" supplied free to the blind by our Library of Congress.

Thus, they serve some 350,000 blind persons, including 12,000 high school children and 1,200 college students. They salvage records of the thousands of titles that can be played on the record players made available to the blind by our government.

'FRONTIER SERVICE'

Then there are the nurses, nurse-midwives, social service workers and courier girls who ride horseback and drive jeeps for the Frontier Nursing Service that cares for the medical problems of Kentuckians who live in remote sections of the Cumberland Mountains.

Started in 1921 by Mrs. Mary Breckenridge, this nonprofit organization now maintains a 25-bed and 12-bassinet general hospital, six outpost nursing centers and the Frontier Graduate School of Midwifery.

These are but a few examples of what is being done in the public interest by governmental officers and volunteer citizens. Maybe someday, reports of their activities will replace the television fare that's now being shown at prime time.

The Country Parson

"The more efficiently man learns to kill, the more he should realize he must not."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Girls: Heed This Sage Advice

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-409: Mary K., age 16, has a tragic story.

"Dr. Crane," her high school counselor informed me, "Mary is a brilliant girl and is making very high grades.

DR. CRANE

"But she comes from immigrant parents and thus has been rather shy.

"One of our star athletes, however, got interested in her and they have dated steadily for the past year.

"Now she is expecting a baby. What should she do? And how much of a handicap is it to be an illegitimate child nowadays?"

BUCK-PASSING

There is never an "illegitimate" child, for that is simply an age-old form of buck-passing by the illegitimate parents.

The new baby had nothing to do with its being created, so it is cruelty of the worst sort to foist the term "illegitimate" on such an innocent infant when it arrives.

What we mean is that illegitimate parents have produced a baby outside the legal protection of marriage.

★ ★ ★

So please stop this vicious modern habit of referring to babies as illegitimate.

In Mary's case, there are several options. First, she and the boy might get married right away, though they are pretty young and not equipped to finance a home of their own.

Second, she could have the baby and then let her parents rear it.

Third, she could go away for ostensibly a visit to relatives and then let the baby be adopted into a cultured home where it would have the care and advantages of two devoted parents.

ADOPTED CHILDREN

Remember, the true parent-child relationship is purely a spiritual bond.

It doesn't depend on blood kinship. For Cain slew his own blood brother Abel.

★ ★ ★

And Absalom tried to kill his own father, King David.

So don't feel hesitant either about letting a baby be adopted or about adopting one if you have the chance.

Thousands of splendid married couples are childless yet eager to adopt a baby, so it is generally wiser in a case like Mary's to let her go to some Salvation Army Home and deliver the baby, after which she can return and finish her schooling.

But you teen-agers must also realize that pre-marital relations are NOT wise.

They leave serious emotional scars on the teen-age parents, and often mar the happiness of the baby born out of wedlock, especially if it is kept and the gossip in the neighborhood becomes cruel.

SEX FACTS

Girls who have an abnormal yearning for popularity, often give in to their demanding suitors rather than lose a date.

This is a worse sell-out than that of Esau, who sold his own birthright for a mess of pottage.

For Esau himself lost in his rash deal but you girls jeopardize the future happiness of your baby and often almost break the hearts of your own doting parents.

Meanwhile you lose your greatest charm in the eyes of the male sex, which is your spunk or spirit. The Bible recognized this, too, for it describes such a girl as "humbled."

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Teen-Agers." Study it BEFORE you get into trouble.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long self-addressed stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Is it really true that Michigan has the worst legislature among the 50 states, or does it just seem that way because we live here?

Has Michigan always been "this way" or is it merely the fact we've fallen into unusually incompetent hands?

There is a major misunderstanding in the case of Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr. Letters have said what a shame the archbishop has not forgiven her. Reds Vacillate on Wyszynski

Polish Cardinal Subject to Attack and Praise From Officials

BERLIN (UPI) — An official mingling of respect and attack has characterized the Communist regime's attitude toward Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski since he was released from prison in 1956.

★ ★ ★

An unbending foe of communism, the 60-year-old churchman traveled to Rome early this year on a Polish diplomatic passport. At the Rome railroad station, he was courteously greeted by a representative of the ambassador of the Polish Communist Republic.

Yet, he returned to Warsaw to a blast of criticism from the newspaper Zycie Warszawy which said his sermons were aimed at creating "an atmosphere of religious strife, persecution and martyrdom."

Observers cite this as an example of the official alternating between respect and attack that has marked the Red regime's treatment of Wyszynski since his release from a Communist prison almost six years ago and his assumption of Polish church leadership.

★ ★ ★

Catholic sources in Warsaw said the cardinal returned from Rome and talks with Pope John XXIII strengthened in his determination to shoulder himself the main burden of troubled church-state relations.

Some Western observers feared the sharp criticism in Zycie Warszawy indicated a new testing time for the cardinal. Zycie, a "nonparty" morning newspaper read by most Warsovians, is often used to "disclose" situations which the party then "corrects" in "response to the indignation of the people."

These observers noted that the Communists' new law on assemblies would get its first nationwide testing soon on Corpus Christi Day, June 21. Poles, deeply religious despite Communist rule, are accustomed to turn out by thousands on this day to carry religious banners behind their priests along the highways from church to church.

MARCHES ILLEGAL

The new law, in effect, makes such processions, and pilgrimages to national religious shrines, illegal. This year, the church hierarchy is expected to discourage processions outside church grounds.

But Polish peasants are hardheaded.

If a village congregation of volatile Poles, insisting on their traditional procession around the parish, should come up against flam-handed local police and Communist party authorities, the result could be just the kind of spectacular clash both church and state want to avoid.

So far Wyszynski has not spoken out on the question.

★ ★ ★

How far to accommodate strict interpretation of the Communist law without giving up historically enhanced religious gatherings is only one of the cardinal's problems.

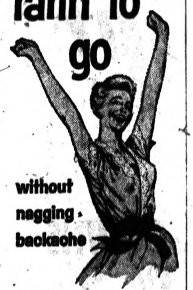

★ ★ ★

There is the perennial question of the five dioceses or church districts in the Oder-Neisse territory and part of East Prussia, once-German areas which were placed "under Polish administration" after World War II by the Potsdam Agreements.

VATICAN POSITION

The Communist regime, and most Poles, claim that Poland's permanent hold to these territories should be formally recognized.

Red Newspaper Pravda Prints 'Truth' of Khrushchev

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russian word pravda means truth. From the Communist point of view, truth comes in the newspaper Pravda, which celebrated its 50th anniversary Sunday.

Nonetheless, what Pravda called truth in 1940 is no longer what the newspaper says truth is now. In 1970, it seems likely, the truth won't be the same that Pravda now proclaims, for there are new and challenging voices in the land, covertly proclaiming what may be the future Communist view of truth.

PARTY IS GOD

Pravda is the spokesman of the party, and in this country the party is God.

One of the world's biggest newspapers, it publishes 6½ million copies, and could quickly increase its circulation simply by printing more.

Pravda circulates in every city and town in this sprawling land but there are never enough copies on the stands for all the ready purchasers.

Each copy may circulate through a dozen hands, so Pravda has perhaps the greatest readership of any paper in the world.

The paper was founded in 1912 in St. Petersburg, now Leningrad, and its early leader was Vyacheslav Molotov. A newly published book about the paper does not mention Molotov.

To Pravda, Molotov no longer represents truth. Even the name of Stalin rarely appears in its columns, and then only to be condemned for the "cult of personality." Yet even for a long time after his death in 1953, the word of Stalin and the word of Pravda were almost one.

Now the truth is the word of Premier Khrushchev.

In its four, six or eight pages, the paper covers a multitude of subjects, for it carries no advertising. Most of the few pictures show officials declaiming from party pulpits or groups smiling across their busy lathes or school texts.

There are no comic strips in Pravda.

At the top of the front page, along with the name Pravda, can be read: "Organ of the Central Commite of the Communist Party of the Soviet. Proletarians of All Countries, Unite." More often it is translated as "workers of the world unite."

Pravda correspondents write from friendly socialist countries with a friendly pen, but dispatches from the United States, France, England and West Germany are often written with pens dipped in vitriol.

This correspondent once saw some dispatches written for Pravda from a four-power conference. They were first class reports by Western newspaper standards.

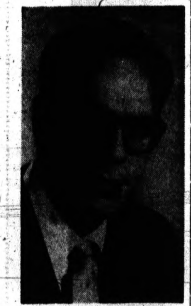

They emphasized the Soviet side of the debate, but not excessively.

When these dispatches appeared in Pravda, the change was striking. They had fermented hotly somewhere along the route from typewriter to typesetter.

Editor Pavil Satyukov writes party doctrinaire pieces for his paper and sits on such diverse committees as one for the "organization and management in industry and construction."

He is a member of the Supreme Soviet or parliament, and of the party central committee.

So was his predecessor, Leonid Ilyichev, who now is chief propaganda director.

6 Mute on Charge of Robbery in Station Holdup

Six men accused in the $3,600 holdup of a Waterford Township service station stood mute Monday at their circuit coure arraignment.

Pleas of innocent were entered for all six by Presiding Judge William Beer.

Charged with conspiracy to commit armed robbery, John Hodges, 31, of 1084 Haughton St., Troy, is free on $5,000 bond.

Five others, accused of armed robbery and conspiracy, were held in Oakland County Jail. They are charged with robbing the Cavalier Gas station Jan. 4.

* * *

One defendant, Charles Roy Thomas, 26, of Flint, also faces trial for the $9,500 kidnap-robbery of Pontiac supermarket owner Joseph O. Gagne Feb. 25. Thomas is held on bonds totaling $80,000.

An alleged accomplice, Jack V. Young, 30, presently is serving a jail term for breaking and entering. Young is a former Pontiac area resident.

Three other defendants, held on $35,000 bond each, are Robert E. Murphy, 24, of 451 S. Telegraph Road; Marion C. Duplissey, 38, and Robert L. Sharon, 37, both of Flint.

About 1,700 cities in the United States, including nearly half of all cities of more than 10,000 population, now use the council-manager form of government. The number has jumped from 1,000 cities in 1951.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

1 OUT OF 2 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tor menting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 2 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they disolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special size for children and adults.

Two Groups Amazingly Similar

Try Child Psychology on New Senator

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Health, Education and Welfare Department has just brought out a new edition of its popular publication "Your Child from One to Six."

As I was glancing through the booklet, I was struck by a curious comparison. I kept thinking how closely the first six years of a child parallels the first six-year term of a U.S. senator.

The preschool child, says the booklet, "feels to a large extent that he is the center of the universe and that he controls a lot more things than he really does."

Now I ask you, have you ever seen a more trenchant description of a senator?

In fact, the entire development of the two groups is amazingly similar.

Take, for instance, the section on speech. I have copied some excerpts from it below. If you substitute the word "senator" in the appropriate places, you will see what I mean.

"From the beginning he uses his voice by pitch and intensity changes, by crying, chuckling, or fearfully shrieking to tell you how he feels . . .

"He seems to converse with characteristic pauses and inflections, although the individual sounds are meaningless . . . (he) is apt to overdo the power of words for a time . . . slowly he gains the ability to express his desires in more detail . . .

"Learning to use pronouns correctly comes somewhat later because . . . he has a self-centered view of the world. He still feels that he is the only 'me' that counts . . ."

His first three years, the booklet tells us, are characterized by "his fierce desire to manage everything . . . he is complicating life by wanting to run everything himself."

During his fourth year, he still has an "imperfect sense of what, and who, causes what." He "scarcely can distinguish between what he has done, and what he has imagined or wished he could do."

The fifth year is a sort of milestone in the development pattern, although "he's far from mature in many respects." He may "press beyond his endurance," "go overboard on rules" and "tend to check on others in a bossy fashion."

The booklet is filled with advice to parents, much of which can be applied to voters who are bringing up a senator.

★ ★ ★

You can take comfort from knowing that "some of the annoying baffling behavior" is just a stage and "won't necessarily be happening next year."

★ ★ ★

You also should bear in mind that some of it stems from his fear that you will "let someone else take his place."

Automation Refugees Now Forced to Learn New Jobs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Maybe most of us are going to have to learn new tricks the way jobs are changing.

That, anyway, is the idea of the man steering the federal government's latest drive to aid the hardcore unemployed. Retraining also is being stepped up on two other levels, by local or area projects and by individual corporations and unions.

RETRAINING JOB

The federal government, starting July 1, will put $500 million into the job to be spread over three years. Some 4,000 unemployed in depressed localities are already being retrained by the Area Development Agency of the Department of Commerce.

And next week in Dallas, Tex., the American Society of Training Directors of Madison, Wis., will thrash out ways of retraining automation's refugees. It will consider the plight of both managers and workers faced with new and often bewildering electronic machines. Subjects range from automation mastery to teaching machines. Much of the work eventually will be done by the corporations or industries affected.

* * *

In Scranton, Pa., Seymour L. Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of the Department of Labor, charged with retraining the unemployed, has studied the possibilities of utilizing home studies as well as group or classroom meetings. He says the new Manpower Training and Development Act lets the government sign contracts with all kinds of educational facilities—correspondence schools, any private institutions, the public schools, a union which is running a training program.

And employed workers are also included in many retraining movements. John Villaume, president of International Correspondence Schools, estimates that more than a million workers are now taking job-related studies at home. Together with their employers or unions they are investing more than $100 million a year in the race to master the new techniques before these sweep over them and leave them stranded.

BOTH YOUNG, OLD

Retraining is aimed both at older workers with obsolescent skills and youngsters with little or no skill at all. Wolfbein hopes to convince the older worker that he has an equal chance.

* * *

One way is to find out whether some of his past training already gives him a leg up on a new skill. ICS calls this diagnostic testing.

* * *

It cites a California plant that got a subcontract on a defense order for jet engines, beyond the experience of its technicians. Tests on each of the various studies the employe would have to master pinpointed whether the individual worker needed to start near the beginning, middle or end of the vocational training. The upgrading job was done at a saving to the company and without loss of time in sending men off for training.

* * *

Companies using this test to minimize training time in one or more of their plants, ICS says, include: Burroughs, Socony-Mobil Oil, Reaction Motors and Green River Steel.

Corporate and union programs tend to aid both those now laid off and those still employed but needed for more skilled work. The federal program is aimed more specifically at those out of a job or about to be.

* * *

But Wolfbein looks at the broader problem: sooner or later most people may need to be trained in this fast changing world. He cites the newspaper want ads for persons experienced in "inertial guidance" or "human factoral science" or many another occupation that wasn't even around a half dozen years ago. Wonderful days, weren't they?

'Don't Mind Hospital Grants,' Says Ribbicoff

Feels Balking by Doctors Blackmail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said yesterday New Jersey doctors who say they wouldn't treat patients under Social Security health insurance are "trying to blackmail the Congress and the American people."

Ribicoff also said in a statement that the New Jersey doctors "apparently don't mind the thought of federal funds when the doctors themselves are the beneficiaries."

"These doctors apparently believe it is all right," he said, "for the federal government to help build the hospitals in which they practice, but that an insurance plan that would help their patients pay their hospital bills would not be good."

A number of doctors at the Point Pleasant Hospital, Point Pleasant, N.J., and the Fitkin Memorial Hospital, Neptune, N.J., signed a resolution last week saying they would not treat patients under President Kennedy's proposed program of health insurance for the aged through Social Security.

Ribicoff said the two hospitals have received grants totaling $572,240 under the federal program to aid construction and equipment of hospitals and other health facilities.

"Some doctors on the staffs of these two hospitals now say they will not treat elderly patients in these hospitals if the bills of such patients would be paid through their unions they are investing health insurance financed under Social Security," Ribicoff continued.

"But apparently they have no objection to practicing in hospitals that have received outright grants of federal funds.

"The doctors who signed the resolution not to treat old people whose bills would be paid through Social Security as an earned right see nothing wrong in practicing in these new facilities or using equipment provided by the taxpayers.

"And, of course, these doctors treat patients all the time, knowing that the patients' bills will be paid in whole or in part from insurance. This is all the President is proposing for the nation's older people—those with the greatest need for health insurance protection and the least able to obtain it.

"The attitude of these doctors in opposition to a basic national need is shocking.

"In trying to blackmail the Congress and the American people by refusing to treat older people, they are violating the Hippocratic oath which they took before they began the practice of medicine.

"It should be absolutely no concern to a physician where a patient gets the money with which to pay his hospital costs—whether from his private funds, from private insurance, or from the Social Security trust fund as provided by the King-Anderson Bill."

This bill embraces President Kennedy's proposal for medical care for the aged under Social Security.

Plans Special Patrol on State Freeways

EAST LANSING (AP)—State police have announced they will start a new around-the-clock special expressway patrol on Michigan's interstate freeways and limited access trunklines around July 1.

Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said he will assign 105 men to work in three shifts for 24-hour coverage of the expressways from the 17 posts involved.

Some sections of the expressways previously were not patrolled on a 24-hour basis and the pattern of coverage varied from section to section.

Childs said the special expressway patrol will be aimed at crime prevention as well as traffic supervision and assisting stranded or ill motorists.

"The crime situation has not yet developed to any extent on these highways in Michigan, but has on similar roads in other states, and we want to be ready to act," Childs said.

As now planned, expressway patrol cars will pass a given point at intervals of not less than two hours. On segments of 50 miles or less, one patrol car will make round trips covering both sides of divided highways. Two cars, one on each side, will be used on longer stretches of expressway.

State police reported they made nearly 13,000 assists to stranded or ill motorists on Michigan expressways last year, a 26 per cent increase over last year.

There were 19,961 arrests for traffic offenses on the expressways, 387 criminal arrests, 19,627 oral warnings given, 654 traffic accidents and 14,738 cars investigated.

The 24-hour expressway coverage will start operations on more than 650 miles of the new highways. It will be extended with the completion of new construction.

Initial coverage will include:

I-75 from the Ohio state line to south of Detroit, U.S. 23 and I-75 from the Ohio line to Kawkawlin with the exception of the incompleted section between Milan and Ann Arbor, I-94 from Detroit to New Buffalo, I-96 and I-196 from Detroit to Muskegon with the exception of the incompleted section from Brighton to Lansing, U.S. 131 from Grand Rapids to Plainwell, U.S. 10 from Bay City to Clare, U.S. 27 and I-75 from Ithaca to the Mackinac Bridge.

Eskimos to Ask for Own Land

Alaskan Pair Going to Washington to Plead for Arctic Reserve

NEW YORK (UPI)—Interior Department officials in Washington will be visited tomorrow by two Alaskan Eskimo leaders who don't want their people assigned the same fate as the American Indian.

The two tribal leaders, Guy Okakok of Point Barrow and Paul Tiulana of King Island in the Bering Sea, outlined their proposal Monday in a speech here to the Association on American Indian Affairs.

Okakok said Eskimos want a huge tract of Arctic land set aside for their people, who would "gladly share mineral rights and administration with the State of Alaska."

The plan is the first organized appeal by the Eskimos on the subject and is being pushed despite pressure to wait until after senatorial elections in Alaska next fall. The proposal will be submitted to Interior Department heads tomorrow.

Okakok said promoters, and the government, have made some varied inroads into the traditional way of Eskimo life.

He said the U. S. Bureau of Land Management last year allowed the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to build a new harbor at Point Barrow by using nuclear blasts.

What's more, he charged, fish and wildlife service agents have been arresting Eskimos for hunting out of season. The Navy, he said, is tapping a large natural gas reservoir near Point Barrow while Eskimo homes remain cold because the natives cannot pay $1 a gallon for gasoline.

The American Indian Association is supporting the Eskimo plan for a huge wilderness area preserve.

Oscar 2nd, for Ham Operators, to Hitch Ride Into Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A tiny robot radio named Oscar II is about to punch a hole in the curtain of secrecy drawn around military satellite launchings.

The Air Force has authorized Oscar (short for Orbiting Satellite Carrying Amateur Radio) to hitch a ride into orbit aboard a military satellite later this month.

Amateur radio operators around the world, including Russians, will track its signal, as they did the signal of Oscar I launched from here last Dec. 12, in an effort to set up an amateur communications network for use in major emergencies.

To do this they will need to know the time when it was launched and how long it takes to circle the earth.

However, since the first of the year the department of defense has ordered a blackout of all information about the performance of military satellites. The launchings are no longer open to newsmen. The Air Force announces only that a satellite has been launched.

* * *

It does not say what kind of satellite, the period of orbit, or even whether it went into orbit.

This will impose a real hardship on the hams trying to track Oscar II.

* * *

They were advised weeks in advance of the scheduled launching date of Oscar I, which rode piggyback aboard Discoverer 36, a Thor-Agena B combination rocket. The hour of launching and period of orbit — 93 minutes — were carried on news wires.

'WE'LL DO IT'

Tracking Oscar I was so easy that more than 5,000 reports came in from hams around the world, including some in Moscow.

How are the hams going to locate and track Oscar II?

"We'll do it, all right," promises M. C. Towns of Sunnyvale, Calif., chairman of the Oscar Association. "We'll flash the time of launching over the international ham network.

"We've already advised them to expect it to achieve approximately the same orbit of 93 minutes. We know the frequency on which Oscar II will transmit — 145 megacycles, so we'll try to pick up that signal at the place in the sky where we can expect it to be."

An Air Force spokesman said he could not say what kind of satellite would carry Oscar II aloft, but Towns' preparations make it pretty obvious that the parent vehicle will be another Discoverer.

The Air Force has not identified a satellite as a Discoverer since Feb. 27, when Discoverer 38 went into orbit. Two other Thor-Agena B combinations have been launched since that time, on April 17 and 28.

Since the world's radio hams, including several behind the Iron Curtain, will be tracking Oscar II, why is the Department of Defense insisting on secrecy?

"It's a good question," says Towns, who in his working hours is an engineer for Lockheed's space division. "I can't understand the restrictions, but we're certainly going to abide by them. The Air Force has approved everything we're doing."

Towns said the Air Force is interested in Oscar as a forerunner of a network of satellites to be used by amateur radio operators. These amateurs, who invariably turn their communication system over to authorities in disasters and other emergencies, now have to rely on atmospheric transmission. Envisioned satellites, far more elaborate than Oscar, would give them a means of communication undisturbed by weather conditions.

Towns said that tracking Oscar II's signal — four dots and two dots that spell "HI" in Morse code — would not precisely disclose the parent vehicle's location in the sky.

The 10-pound radio transmitter will be ejected shortly after the parent vehicle goes into orbit and will send out its signal for at least three weeks, or as long as its batteries last.

"But I can't tell you how far it will be ejected," Towns said. "That might help an enemy pinpoint the parent vehicle's position."

Discoverers were placed under tight security wraps after missile men perfected a technique of recovering packages from space.

Discoverer 38 ejected a capsule four days after launch which was caught by a plane as it parachuted down near Hawaii. This was the eighth aerial catch. Four capsules were fished from the ocean.

Discoverers also have been used to test secret gear from Samos photographic satellites and Midas missile-detection satellites. Original plans called for film and tape-recorded data from these satellites to be returned to earth in capsules similar to those carried by Discoverers.

Firms to Offer 430,000 Shares of GM Stock

NEW YORK (AP)—Two brokerage firms said today they may make a secondary offering of about 430,000 shares of General Motors Corp. common stock this week.

The firms, Morgan, Stanley & Co. and W. E. Hutton & Co., did not identify the source of the offering.

At the current quotation, the offering would amount to more than $22 million.

* * *

A secondary offering is the redistribution of a block of stock sometime after it has been sold by the issuing company.

Say Ike Admits Blunder on U2

Ex-President Stated We 'Jumped Too Soon,' Writers Claim

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new book entitled "The U2 affair" said today that former President Eisenhower admitted privately that his administration had blundered in its handling of the 1960 crisis with Russia.

★ ★ ★

The book, written by Washington correspondents David Wise and Thomas D. Ross and currently serialized in Look Magazine, said the former President admitted the United States had jumped too soon in issuing its May 5 statement" which denied that the U2 flight of Francis Gary Powers was for espionage.

The statement was issued four days after Francis Gary Powers' plane had been brought down by the Russians. It said the pilot experienced oxygen trouble while on a weather mission over Turkey.

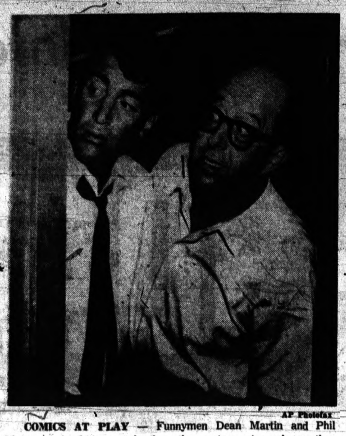

Later, the government admitted that it had sent U2s over Russia for the purposes of espionage.

★ ★ ★

The authors said Eisenhower also made the admission on a filmed CBS TV interview for use on Nov. 23, 1961 but the admission was "snipped out at the insistence of Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, the President's son, who is serving as his father's aide."

★ ★ ★

The book said the Powers' flight had been scheduled deliberately because the approaching summit meeting engendered a strong desire to get in one more espionage mission.

COMICS AT PLAY — Funnymen Dean Martin and Phil Silvers pretend to watch the other actors at work as they clowned at the door of Martin's dressing room between scenes of "Something's Got to Give," at 20th Century-Fox studio in Hollywood. Silvers is playing a cameo role in the film.

Silvers Tells Scribe How to Start Story

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Phil Silvers is a charming, intelligent and talented comedian.

How do I know that?

He told me.

"Tell you how to start your story," said Silver in his ratatatat style. "'Phil Silvers is a charming, intelligent and talented comedian.'"

THOMAS

Phil was making a sentimental return to 20th Century - Fox, where he spent eight of his youthful years.

"Just dropped in to see my old friend, Dean Martin, and what happens?" he said indignantly.

MORE LIKE PLAY

"They put me to work."

The work is playing a cameo role as an insurance man in "Something's Got to Give." Silvers made it seem more like play than work as he and Martin gagged between and during scenes.

★ ★ ★

"This is your world," Silvers scoffed, "Mine is the theatuh. Ah to be back on the boards again."

★ ★ ★

The boards will have to do without Silvers for a while. After winding up "Do Re Mi" in Detroit, he moved his family here. He has enough work to engage him. In fact, he is cast in three films currently shooting. Besides this one, he is to play Tony Curtis' boss in "40 Pounds of Trouble" and a con man in "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

THINGS HAVE CHANGED

Silvers admitted things weren't the same at Fox on his return: "I'm not following John Payne around."

★ ★ ★ ★

One of the major reasons for Silvers' settling back in his old haunts is his family. A late starter, he has managed to amass a harem that consists of wife Evelyn, daughters Tracey, 5, Nancy, 3, plus twins Cathy and Candie, 9 months.

"This is a great place for kids," the comedian observed.

★ ★ ★

"The only place!" said Martin himself the father of six.

Craftsman Busy in Industrial City Making Saddles

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Albert Thomas has an unusual way of earning his living in this bustling industrial city of 400,000. He makes saddles, by hand.

A disabled Navy veteran of World War II, Thomas learned leathercraft while hospitalized. He turned to saddle-making after leaving the VA hospital.

He has engaged in his craft in Jacksonville since 1950.

Thomas turns out an average of two saddles a week and sells them as fast as he completes them. The hand-made saddles sell from $265 to $800 and are eagerly sought by members of riding clubs.

The height of generosity is leaving a tip for the guy in the thruway toll booth . . . A commentary on the times (notes the Washington Post) is that the noun "honesty" now is usually preceded by the words "old-fashioned" . . . Money, says the cynic, may not be able to buy love — but it certainly puts you in a good bargaining position — Earl Wilson

Fire Losses Dip in U.S., Canada

Damage by Big Blazes Down to $300 Million for Last Year

BOSTON (UPI) — Major fires caused destruction totaling $300 million in the United States and Canada last year, the National Fire Protection Association reported today.

The 430 large loss fires represented only a fraction of the total of more than two million fires that destroyed $1.6 billion worth of property in the United States and $123 million worth in Canada during 1961. The nonprofit fire safety organization rates as a "major" fire one that causes $250,000 or more loss.

The large-loss fire total was $50 million below the previous year. It contrasted sharply, however, with 1941 when total damage was less than $17.9 million from only 38 major fires.

There were 123 major industrial fires in 1961 that caused $73.5 million loss compared with 133 in 1960 that caused $87 million loss.

Major store fires totaled 77 with loss of $35 million compared with 59 in 1960 with loss of $25 million.

There were 63 major storage fires with loss of $31.2 million compared with 51 in 1960 with loss of $25.3 million.

400 Rotarians to Hear Romney at UP Meeting

IRON MOUNTAIN (UP) — George Romney, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, will visit the Upper Peninsula Saturday to speak to 400 visiting Rotarians from 36 Rotary clubs from Michigan and Wisconsin.

Romney's speech will highlight the concluding dinner of the two-day annual conference of Rotary's international district of Upper Michigan and northern Wisconsin.

Another speaker will be Krishna Prasada of New Delhi, India, a Rotary International director.

Summer School Proves Popular at University

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — "Year-round college" proved so popular at Oregon State University last summer that the summer session program will be expanded this year, the university announced.

A total of 2,000 students were enrolled for the 1961 summer sessions which offered a full semester of work and the opportunity to finish college in three rather than four years.

Graphite Is Being Used for Nozzles on Rockets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The lead found most commonly in the everyday pencil shows promise of becoming a giant in the space age.

Aerospace, official publication of the Aerospace Industries Association, says graphite, the dull gray substance once viewed as "soft," now is beng used for rocket nozzles to withstand the extreme heat generated in flight to the stratosphere.

Sets May 16 Date to Open Road Bids

LANSING (UP) — Bids will be opened May 16 at Escanaba for construction of the final gap of the 336-mile Ohio to Sault Ste. Marie freeway, the State Highway Department has announced.

The project will be for construction of 8.5 miles of I-75 freeway south from Sault Ste. Marie to a point where I-75 crosses U.S. 2.

Completion of this section will enable motorists to drive nonstop from the Michigan-Ohio state line at Sylvania, Ohio, near Toledo, north to Sault Ste. Marie via Ann Arbor, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Midland, Clare, Grayling, Gaylord and the Mackinac Bridge.

People Are Still Afraid Not to Clean Up Their Desks

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If cleanliness is next to godliness, most people this time of year are rubbing elbows with heaven.

★

Now is the time when housewives at home and women in the office go on their annual spring tidying up spree.

BOYLE

I hate this seasonal emotional binge because it threatens the life-time of considered disorder I have let pile up on my desk — my empire of disarray.

One by one the messengers of order—from buck private to vice president—ride up with the query:

STILL NOT TIRED

"Everybody else has cleaned up his desk, so why can't you? Aren't you getting tired of playing the role of an indoor Huck Finn?"

The answer is a firm "No!"

The urge to a uniform office cleanliness is just one more form of hysteria in a mad world, a succumbing to universal brain-washing and the fear of being found out to be different.

★ ★ ★

Any coward can clean off his desk and make it look as anonymous as everybody else's desk. But it takes courage to give your desk the stamp of your identity.

My theory is this: I don't feel like everybody else—or anybody else. Why shouldn't, therefore, my desk share this liberty? Why should it be a shining zero, undistinguishable from the rows of gleaming desks around it?

WHAT'S IT HIDING?

A desk that is always neat is like a person who always has his hair combed—clean but suspiciously unhuman. What emptiness of dream is all that polished perfection hiding?

A face and a desk—so runs my reasoning—both should reflect a personality and show a lived-in look.

★ ★ ★

Naturally this attitude ends up by making a man an unwilling rebel. If you enjoy having a desk that looks like a quarter section of a city dump, you have to fight the forces of office order to keep it that way.

BEWARE, BEWARE

I don't have a sign saying "Think!" on the wall behind me. I have signs saying, "Don't throw it away" and "Beware of creeping cleanliness."

My favorite office hero is the late Kansas editor, William Allen White, whose famous rolltop desk was perhaps the most disorderly in the history of American journalism. White's theory was that when a pile of mail became too high and toppled to the floor it was time to pick it up, open the envelopes—and then respond to the letters that really required an answer.

★ ★ ★

This simple labor-saving device enabled the justly renowned editor to conserve his energy, live to a ripe old age, and write the obituaries or biographies of many of his nosier contemporaries.

IT TAKES TIME

It takes time, patience and character to build a desk into a living monument of experience. You must first pile things on it, by geography, later by geologic eras.

But when you are through—though you never really quite are—you have a masterpiece of architecture that has acquired its own individuality. No one could mistake your desk for anybody else's—any more than even the most unenlightened tourist could mistake Grant's Tomb for the great Pyramid of Cheops.

The trouble with devoting a lifetime to the creation of a truly memorable desk is that when you come to make out your will you have a problem. Who can you leave it to?

At Their Car Dealers

Customers Like Service

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—The president of the United States' third largest auto manufacturing firm said today the car dealer is becoming increasingly vital to the automotive industry because of the importance of service to customers.

Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler Corp. president, told the annual convention of the Tennessee Automobile Dealers Association that when the modern auto needs servicing it requires the attention of a highly trained mechanic. The mechanic, he said, must be backed up by a dealer who is prepared to provide the best in parts and service.

Townsend pointed out that today's car has as many as 16,000 different parts. "What happens at the dealer end of the operation—in the way of customer service—influences the public's attitude toward the whole automobile industry," he said.

The completely service-free automobile is still in the distant future, Townsend said.

★ ★ ★

"The efficiency with which the dealer meets that need will determine in large part the success of his service department, and eventually his sale department," the Chrysler executive said. He said that if the customer gets into the habit of coming to the dealership for service and minor repairs, he is likely to come back when he is in the market for a car."

Earth's atmosphere, two or three billion years ago, may have consisted chiefly of methane, ammonia and hydrogen, instead of oxygen and nitrogen.

Jackie's Stepfather Embarrassing President

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy is by no means the first husband to be embarrassed by the activities of his in-laws. He is not even unique as a President in that respect.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the stellar example was Abraham Lincoln, who while officially presiding over the destinies of a nation torn by Civil War, suffered personal torments because his wife and in-laws were accused of treason.

Compared with Lincoln's family travails, Kennedy's are minuscule, but they're nevertheless beginning to make headlines and editorial copy across the country.

In the capital itself, the issue is so red-hot that bad blood is flowing on both sides of the Potomac River.

JFK'S TROUBLES

The President's embarrassment stems from the fact that while he is wholeheartedly trying to promote culture and beauty in the nation's capital, and plumping for an administration bill to keep the wilderness areas in their natural state, First Lady Jacqueline's wealthy stepfather has brought down every nature-and-beauty lover in the area on his head.

One of the loveliest sites in the capital area is Merrywood, the 40-acre Virginia estate on the beautiful Potomac Palisades overlooking Washington, where young Senator John F. Kennedy courted Jacqueline Bouvier.

This estate on which the First Lady spent her girlhood belongs to her stepfather, Hugh D. Auchincloss. The scenic region has managed to maintain its lovely natural state throughout the years of the republic because it is zoned for single-family dwellings, each on land.

Recently, however, Auchincloss made a deal to sell Merrywood to a promoter, provided the area could be rezoned to permit construction of three towering apartments on the hitherto unspoiled Palisades.

Despite the fact that Kennedy's Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, and 700 property owners of the area eloquently opposed the rezoning, the Fairfax Board of Supervisors voted three-to-two to permit construction of the skyscrapers which will tower far higher than the capitol dome.

Charges of "fraud" and "lack of public interest" have been hurled in the ensuing battle of words. The sheriff, who also acted as real estate broker in the transactions, has been accused of "conflict of interest."

SWITCHED SIDES

One of the supervisors, who curiously switched sides at the last moment to favor the project, is seeking rezoning for his own 27-acre tract a mile from Merrywood.

The White House has been discreetly silent on the flaming controversy, although it directly interceded the other day to reverse approval of another high-rise apartment complex on the opposite side of the river.

This watergate project, to be erected by an Italian firm, has been temporarily held up because the White House fears the buildings would dwarf our historic monuments and the natural cultural center to be erected nearby.

Coincidentally, the chairman of the cultural center is none other than Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, Jacqueline's mother.

Ike Aide to Head NY Bar

NEW YORK (AP) — Herbert Brownell, who was former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's first attorney general, was elected president of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York Tuesday night.

Lisbon Police Route Demonstrating Workers

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Workers called out by the Communist underground to demonstrate against the Salazar regime were routed Tuesday night by scores of Lisbon police swinging clubs and firing rifles in the air.

Unconfirmed reports said a 62-year-old woman onlooker was killed by a stray bullet. Ten or more workers were reported wounded.

Use Power Mowers With Care

By The Associated Press

Words of caution for the gardener is a subject with a focus on health.

BEWARE OF POWER MOWERS

There are perhaps some 20 million power lawn mowers in use in the United States — and now with summer and grass cutting season here, power mower owners should beware.

So warn Drs. Erick M. Chaberlain and John L. Chamberlain III of Vanderbilt University.

They cite cases where power mowers, usually rotary types, catch objects in the lawn and fling them outwards, sometimes hitting innocent bystanders, or sometimes the operator of the mower himself.

There is a local ordinance in Louisville, Ky., making it illegal to employ anyone under the age of 18 to operate a power mower, and similar laws have been proposed in New York, New Jersey and California, the doctors say.

The cause of accidents is sometimes poorly designed mowers, sometimes carelessness by the operators. Removing debris from the lawn before mowing can often prevent accidents.

A LOVESOME SPOT

Many kinds words have been written about the cool green lawns, the pleasant gardens. But the American Medical Association warns that while it is good exercise to garden, there are also hazards.

★ ★ ★

In the first place, go at it gradually. Give yourself a chance to get used to strenuous activity after sitting around all winter, if you have been.

Since tetanus germs grow in the soil, especially where barnyard fertilizer is used or farm animals exist, it's wise to get a tetanus shot as a hedge against lockjaw.

Use weed killers and bug killers carefully. Many also kill people. Be sure they are capped tightly and put out of the reach of children.

If you are extra sensitive to insect bites, see your doctor about getting some protective shots that will make you less sensitive.

Grand Rapids Officials Awarded Pay Increases

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The city's four major appointed officials have won pay raises by unanimous vote of the City Commission. Action came Monday night.

★ ★ ★

The salary of City Manager George Bean goes from $19,000 to $22,000; City Attorney James K. Miller got a raise from $13,000 to $14,000; City Clerk R. Stanton Kilpatrick was boosted from $11,000 to $12,000 and Treasurer Simon Deboer was granted a $500 raise on his present $8,000 salary.

May Increase, Not Decrease Reserve Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department said today it is studying the possibility of increasing and not decreasing the six months of active duty required in the Army Reserve training program.

It denied a report published in the New York Times, which said the Army may request a cut in the duty obligation of reservists to four months or 19 weeks.

★ ★ ★

"There is no plan currently under consideration in either the Army or the office of the Secretary of defense to reduce the six months training period for personnel entering the Army under the Reserve Forces Act," the statement said.

★ ★ ★

"On the contrary, the advisability of increasing this training period in order to develop certain selected military skills among these personnel is being studied."

Thant Claims Chances of Accidental War Big

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant warned today that the risk of a nuclear war starting by accident is becoming greater.

★ ★ ★

Thant told a news conference prior to his departure for New York that he did not believe either the United States or Russia would "deliberately launch a nuclear war."

Con-Con Bid Meets Refusal

Swainson Won't Ask for Ruling on Date of Constitution Vote

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Swainson today refused a request to ask the State Supreme Court to make a quick decision on whether the proposed new state constitution can be submitted to the voters in November.

★ ★ ★

The request came from a committee of constitutional convention delegates headed by Richard C. Van Dusen, R-Birmingham.

An attorney general's opinion last fall held that the present constitution provided for a statewide vote on the new constitution in the 1963 spring election unless the convention adjourned before April 2.

The convention adopted a resolution for a court determination of whether the proposed new constitution can be submitted to the voters at the Nov. 6 general election.

ASKED RULING

To speed things up, Van Dusen's committee asked the governor to certify the matter from the Circuit Court to the Supreme Court as "one of great public moment requiring early determination."

The provision requiring an election in 1963 "appears to be very clear and supported by the most competent authorities," the governor told Van Dusen.

"Any controversy concerning the same would be manufactured," he said, adding that he sees no compelling reason for a public vote before next April.

★ ★ ★

Van Dusen said he thought it was "silly for the governor to put pitfalls in the way of a decision on this matter."

★ ★ ★

The question still will be submitted to the court through normal channels, he said.

Highway Dept. Reduces Curves on State Roads

LANSING — An inventory of Michigan's 9,200 miles of state highways shows that 75 curves disappeared during the last year.

★ ★ ★

And the same goes for no-passing zones, which dropped by 400, and sometimes troublesome railroad grade crossings that decreased by 29.

H. H. Cooper, director of the State Highway Department Traffic Division, said the losses were all brought on by "Michigan's vigorous construction program."

Cooper said most of the curves and railroad crossings that were eliminated were on sections of highway that were replaced by new freeways.

The total number of curves requiring reduced speed dropped from 600 to 525.

And the new construction eliminated 400 of the 8,000 no-passing zones on state highways in 1960.

★ ★ ★

The 240,000 signs on highways decreased by 12,000 and the 29 fewer railroad crossings at grade brought the total to 750 on state highways throughout Michigan.

Learned About His Enemy

JFK Standing Up to Khrushchev

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Just short of a year ago, President Kennedy met in Vienna with Nikita Khrushchev and learned at first hand the nature of his enemy.

★ ★ ★

It seems probably that out of that meeting was born the determination for what since has become administration policy.

This week, in Canberra, Secretary of State Den Rusk has been explaining that policy to U.S. partners in the Anzus pact, Australia and New Zealand.

That meeting followed two others with U.S. Allies in the NATO and Cento agreements, altogether involving 20 nations.

AN ULTIMATUM

It was at Vienna in early June that Khrushchev served an ultimatum on Kennedy — that the Allies get out of Berlin and declare it a "free city" by the first of the year or lose all their rights there in a separate Soviet peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

★ ★ ★

In Washington and in weekend conferences at Hyannis Port, Mass., with State Department and Defense officials and with U.S. ambassadors summoned home from abroad, the U.S. reply began to take shape.

It was a steady buildup of U.S. military strength, accompanied by clear warnings to Khrushchev that any move against Berlin could touch off a nuclear war.

In Europe, two U.S. ambassadors explained it to this correspondent this way:

★ ★ ★

"The President is determined that the United States shall not be swayed by Soivet tactics of hot and cold, and that U.S. and Allied military strength must be built up steadily to meet any condition."

In the past year there have been tangible results.

★ ★ ★

An important one was that the end of the year passed without Soviet action.

Militarily, the United States:

Increased its manpower in Europe.

Resumed nuclear testing.

Turned over five nuclear-armed Polaris submarines to NATO.

Built up its European weapons stockpiles and permitter disclosure that it was experimenting with floating arms depots in southeast Asia. These depots permit the United States to fly troops to any emergency area and to have weapons and equipment already awaiting them.

Disclosed that it has set as a goal the ability to fly two divisions to Europe within a matter of days.

★ ★ ★

Relaxed its nuclear security to the extent that it now will permit its NATO Allies to know the locations and extent of nucelar stockpiles in their individual countries.

It gives the Allies reassuring knowledge of U.S. striking power and its consequent deterrent force on the U.S.S.R.

In his report to the nation on his Vienna meeting with Khrushchev the President enunciated another important point of U.S. policy. He said:

". . . The chances of a dangerous misjudgment on either side should now be less . . . the men on whose decisions the peace, in part, depends have agreed to remain in contact."

★ ★ ★

In short, the President will keep ontalking but he believes his policy of strength is paying off.

Defense Chief Elected by Club

'Cosmos' Membership Names McNamara; Mum on Details

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has been elected to membership in Washington's exclusive Cosmos Club, it was learned yesterday.

A club spokesman said McNamara was elected by the membership committee at a meeting April 30. The spokesman declined to disclose the names of McNamara's sponsors or to say whether he had accepted membership. McNamara currently is on an overseas tour.

The Cosmos Club was the center of a controversy earlier this year when it rejected a Negro, Assistant Secretary of State Carl Rowan, for membership.

★ ★ ★

Application for membership for President Kennedy was subsequently withdrawn, and a number of government officials and members of Congress dropped out of the club in protest against the exclusion of Rowan.

The club later revised its membership rules to include an anti-discrimination provision. It has 2,250 members.

Cohen Refused Bail by Justice Douglas

WASHINGTON (AP)— Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court refused bail today to Mickey Cohen, former Los Angeles gambling czar who is under 15-year prison sentence for federal income tax evasion.

★ ★ ★

Counsel for Cohen had asked that the gambling figure be given his freedom pending action by the full Supreme Court on a new appeal.

The petition would ask the court to reconsider its May 2 refusal to review his tax conviction.

★ ★ ★

Douglas made no comment in rejecting the bail request. The Justice Department had filed with Douglas a statement opposing bail.

Previously, Douglas had permitted Cohen to be free on $100,000 bail pending the Supreme Court's May 2 action.

Mrs. James H. Youngblood and daughter Jill Anne, almost three, of East Hammond Lake Drive, greeted Mrs. Paul Kern of Long Pointe Drive, Bloomfield Township, president of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall at the group's annual board meeting Tuesday.

Town Hall Board Holds Election, Announces Next 1962-63 Programs

Mrs. James Youngblood was hostess Monday afternoon at her home on East Hammond Lake Drive, Bloomfield Township, for the Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall annual board meeting.

Re-elected for three-year terms were Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, program chairman; Mrs. Cecil McCallum, ticket chairman; and Mrs. Alex Capsalis, assistant treasurer.

Continuing in office are Mrs. Paul Kern, president; Mrs. J. C. Walker, first vice president; Mrs. Normand E. Durocher, secretary; Mrs. Socrates V. Sekles, treasurer; Mrs. M. H. Doerr, budget director and Mrs. Clyde Dearing, chairman of celebrity luncheons.

From profits of previous Town Hall series, some $4,400 has been donated to Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, $600 to the Oakland County Historical Society and $280 for a scholarship at Michigan State University Oakland.

The 1962-63 series will open Oct. 17 at the Huron Theater with a dramatic presentation of Leo Tolstoy's "The Kreutzer Sonata." It features British dramatists, Hannah Watt and Roderick Lovell.

"Explosive Africa" will be Robert St. John's subject Nov. 14 and Gaylord Hauser has chosen the topic, "An Invitation to Beauty" for his Jan. 23 lecture.

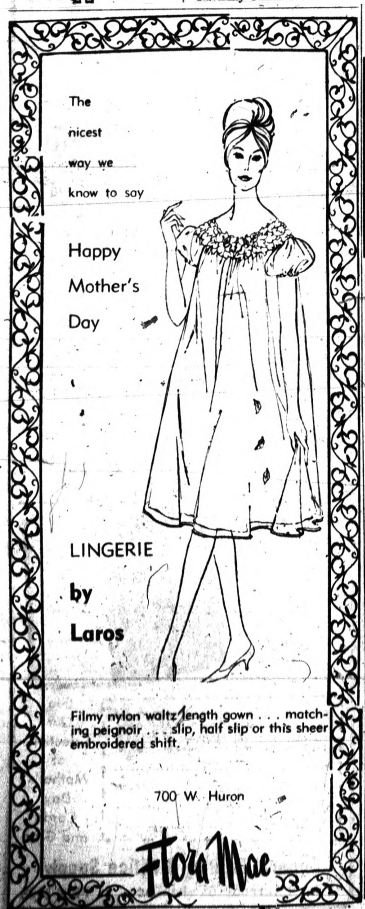

Felix Greene will discuss "China, Asia and Ourselves" Feb. 14.

The Whole Family's Musical

By LINDA LaMARRE

"When I left the house this morning there was someone on the trumpet upstairs, a baritone horn going in the other room, a cornet in the dining room, and somewhere else another going to work on his trombone!"

* * *

The speaker was not referring to some red-hot, all-night jam session he had attended, but rather to his home — wherein reside the five swingin' Cheals and their talented mother and dad.

The morning in question was nothing unusual — as a rule the five children rise at 6:45 a.m. to get their daily practice in before skipping across the street to Webster Elementary School. The musical offspring of Mr. and Mrs. William Cheal of Newberry Street, four of them — twins Diane and Dale, 11; third grader Billy; and Lee in the second grade — all hold first chair positions in their respective sections of the Webster School Band.

WANTS TO CATCH UP

The youngest, Bobby, aged 6, is an ardent, though presently toothless trumpeter. His father exempted him from practice until the two front teeth reappear but Bobby's too anxious to catch up with the others, especially Lee who he plans on challenging in the band next year.

Diane and Dale, eldest of the clan, started the musical chain reaction in their preschool days. Diane took piano lessons from her mother, an elementary vocal music teacher, while in the first grade. Four years later Diane joined the school band with a clarinet.

* * *

Private lessons from Gerald Irish, the instrumental director of Washington Junior High School, equipped Diane to enter the District Solo Contest this year and win a Second Division rating.

Dale got a short head start in the music world. While still in kindergarten, he started baritone horn lessons from his dad. Although Mr. Cheal, Pontiac's city auditor, has always kept music as a hobby, he started all of his children with horns by the age of 6. His enthusiasm seems contagious. After giving the twins their start the rest just fell in step.

RAPID PROMOTION

Dale auditioned for the Webster Band when he was in the second grade. After only two days in beginning band (fourth grade level) he was promoted to the advanced band (fifth grade level).

Regular practice and lessons from his father led to Dale's First Division rating on the baritone horn in the District Solo Contest. This was when he was in the fourth grade. Dale also won First Division ratings in both baritone horn and trombone in the fifth and sixth grades — a total of five such ratings in all. Oh yes, he also plays the piano!

Billy, the third grader, started baritone horn in kindergarten and joined the band as a second grader. He holds first chair in his section, as do the others.

Lee followed his brother, joining the band this year as a second grader. He started the cornet at six and has often won first chair from the others in his band section. Again, it was regular practice and lessons from dad that did the trick.

PRACTICE IN EVENING

As if an hour before school and band practice during school hours weren't enough, the Cheals get in an hour's worth before dinner in the evening too.

"Don't get the idea we don't have fun though," Diane cautioned. As examples she mentioned Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and the school playground across the street. Bobby's healthy tan was evidence that the Cheals don't spend all the time practicing. The impressive science projects set up in the dining room, all set for the science fair at Mark Twain School last Saturday also echoed their many interests.

Most recently the five teamed together as a little German Band for the Tuesday Musicale program at Grace Lutheran Church Sunday. The Cheals did their part to get National Music Week (May 6-13) under full away, resplendent in their leather breeches and saucy feathered caps.

DON'T FORCE THEM

"Although we've stressed music in our children's lives more than the average," Mr. Cheal said, "we'd never force them to practice or continue if they didn't want to."

Mrs. Cheal met her husband when she came from Custer City, Pa. to teach at Webster School. She had to take trombone lessons from him to complete her Master's degree from the University of Michigan in music education. This year she teaches vocal music at Central Elementary and Longfellow Schools.

* * *

With all the Cheal Philharmonic "rehearsals" at every floor level in the house, what do the neighbors say? "So far," Mrs. Cheal said, "we're just grateful to our neighbors who haven't complained yet."

Musicale Holds Its Annual Luncheon

BY MARGARET BROWN
Executive Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

Feminine fellowship, lilting music and gay chapeaux — all brightened a gray day at Pontiac Tuesday Musicale's annual luncheon yesterday in Devon Gables.

* * *

Fittingly, the luncheon occurred during National Music Week, sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs. This year's theme is "Let the World Rejoice with Music."

Opening the program Mrs. J. B. Forman, retiring president, told of the group's founding in 1923 by Mrs. S. A. Kessell. Of the club's 38 charter members, four were present for the luncheon: Mrs. Dora Dawson, Mrs. Lela Derragon, Mrs. D. B. Hogue and Mrs. W. H. Sink.

Reports on the group's Men's Night April 10, the recent Michigan Federation of Music Clubs convention and installation of Mrs. George Putnam, new president, highlighted a brief business session.

Mrs. Austin D. Esler, Men's Night chairman, announced a net profit of $581 from the Men's Night concert.

Giving accounts of the state music clubs federation convention in St. Joseph were delegates Mrs. Walter Schmitz and Mrs. Putnam.

* * *

Impressed with the convention's accent on youth, Mrs. Schmitz praised the local club's interest in awarding scholarships. Her report also emphasized importance of the federation's new hospital music therapy program.

Mrs. Putnam told the group of choral concerts she conducted at the convention, along with Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, and expressed her pride that the Pontiac club maintains a chorus. "In these days of tension music should be promoted," she concluded.

Mrs. Ralph T. Norvell presented the past president's pin to Mrs. Forman who, in turn, pinned Mrs. Putnam, a 16-year Tuesday Musicale member.

The club will announce a complete list of committee chairmen in the fall.

A musical sketch written by Mrs. J. B. Nicolls Jr. and presented by the club workshop concluded the afternoon. Entitled "The Patio of Madame Devonne Gabelle," the playlet satirized a garden party that was "cultural with a capital C." The dialogue was sprinkled with comical misuse of musical terms.

* * *

Lending their talents for the skit which featured vocal solos, piano duos, and a vocal ensemble were Mrs. Chandler Benton, Mrs. E. D. Foley, Mrs. Forman, Mrs. W. S. Furlong and Mrs. F. Gaensbauer.

Others participating were Mrs. Hogue, Mrs. Victor M. Lindquist, Mrs. C. A. Marshbanks, Mrs. A. K. Oakley, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. A. C. Roberts, Mrs. J. K. Rosenthal, Mrs. Schmitz, Mrs. O. L. Smith and Mrs. H. G. Woolcock.

Table decorations — dainty checked gingham bonnets with philodendron plants arranged in the crown — were fashioned by Mrs. James G. Aldrich and Mrs. Geraldine Irwin.

* * *

Social chairman Mrs. J. F. Blamy was assisted by Mrs. Woolcock, Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway and Mrs. W. D. Lefurgy.

Set Program on Exchange Student Plan

Parent-Teachers Student Association of Pontiac Northern High School will share a foreign exchange student program at their meeting in the high school library Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Entitled "Reflections on Foreign Exchange Programs," the program will be moderated by Philip Wargelin, principal. A panel of exchange students from Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern High School will also participate.

New officers, to be installed at this time include: president, Mrs. William Mihalek; mother vice president, Mrs. Harrol Beebe; father vice president, Lester Stanley; teacher vice president, William Rose; and student vice president, Pamela Pritchard.

Others are: secretary, Mrs. Roland Curtis; treasurer, Eugene Hoisington; historian, Mrs. Ray Ingamells; and council delegates: Mrs. Lawrence Proper, Mrs. Conrad Burlison and Sharon Norberg.

Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria.

Group Installs Officers

Alpha Lambda Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa installed officers at its meeting Tuesday evening.

Retiring president Mrs. Lewis Krug installed the following: president, Mrs. Paul Best; vice president, Mrs. A. J. Downey; treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Brandelius; recording secretary, Mrs. Leon Gaylor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thomas Galloway; sergeant at arms, Mrs. Stuart Williams; chaplain, Mrs. Krug; and historian, Mrs. T. I. Zimmerman.

A cooperative dinner preceded the installation ceremony. Mrs. Best showed colored slides of her two month trip through Europe.

A luncheon at Hawaiian Gardens is scheduled for the June meeting.

Hospital Unit Observes Workings of Analyzer

Close to 100 members of the Oakland County Hospital Association observed a demonstration of an automanalyzer and elected new officers at their meeting Saturday in the doctor's classroom of Pontiac General Hospital.

The membership purchased the automanalyzer, an automatic method of performing chemical examinations of the blood, for the hospital. Dr. Robert Madden, biochemist at the hospital, pointed out the machine's efficiency and safety features during the demonstration. Medical director of the hospital, Dr. John Marra, thanked the group for their purchase.

New officers elected at the gathering were Emma Howard, president; Mrs. B. P. Roush, first vice president; Mrs. Ross Stockwell, second vice president; Mrs. Horace Young, secretary; and Mrs. Clark Adams, treasurer.

Trustees elected were Mrs. Robert O'Connor, Mrs. F. L. Ward, Mrs. L. A. Farnham, Mrs. H. L. Going, Mrs. Stockwell and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald.

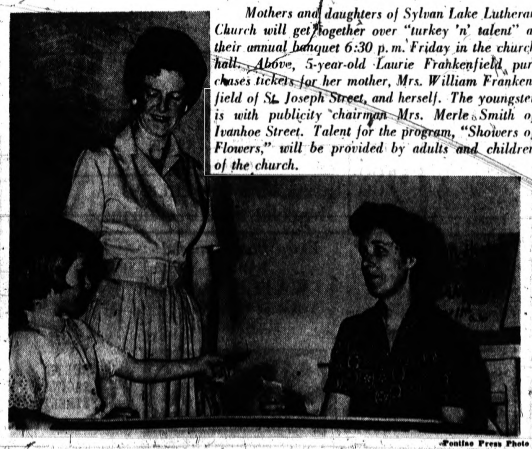

Others were Mrs. G. Ray Williams, Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, Mrs. J. C. Walker, Mrs. Horace Young, Mrs. Clark Adams, Miss Howard, Mrs. Roush, Edward Barrett and Clarence Patterson.

A new member elected to membership is Mrs. Carl Ruebelman of Lake Orion.

How to Keep Your Husband Alive

What Do You Do About Fat Mate?

(Editor's Note — Following is the third in a series of 12 articles by Dr. Kenneth C. Hutchin, English doctor and noted author, condensed from his new book "How Not to Kill Your Husband.")

By KENNETH C. HUTCHIN, M.D.

Although millions of people on one side of the world are ill from not having enough to eat, millions on the other are ill from overeating. In the United States, about 20 per cent of the adult male population is at least 10 per cent overweight.

★ ★ ★

Obesity is harmful because the additional weight produces fatigue and places an extra burden on all the vithl systems of the body. People who are 20 per cent overweight are more likely to suffer from high blood pressure, arteriosclerosis, and many other diseases than those of normal weight.

You cannot reduce on easy terms. Anyone who tells you that by taking this pill or those pills, or by following this diet or that diet, you can reduce and still eat as much as you like, is selling you building lots on the moon. It does not matter what kind of food you eat: if it is in excess of your requirements you will still store it as fat.

There are two approaches — to eat less or to burn up more.

One difficulty is that people who begin to store up fat become lazy because it takes more effort to move around, and therefore, they accumulate even more fat.

GENERALLY PEP PILLS

Pills given for reducing are in the main pep pills, which, because they take away the appetite, take the sting out of dieting. They also stimulate obese people to move about more actively. One type of reducing pill merely takes away the appetite without providing stimulation. These can be taken at any time, whereas those which act as stimulants are unsuitable for taking late in the day.

It is always easy to say, "It must be due to glands," but it is very seldom true. To take hormone pills to reduce when your overweight is not due to glands is cheating yourself. You may in fact be doing yourself harm. No one should ever take hormone pills without medical advice.

Your husband may be able to solve the problem by increasing his activity, but a man grossly overweight could not increase his activity sufficiently to reduce his weight without doing himself harm.

If he has to reduce by dieting plus increasing his exercise, what he actually cuts out should be arranged on a system of priorities. The best plan is to give up carbohydrates, or at least to reduce the intake drastically. Fat may then be eaten sparingly, and protein abundantly.

★ ★ ★

The first thing to be cut out altogether is sugar. Sugar provides nothing but calories. Many people are told to give up bread and potatoes completely. Whether it is safe to give up potatoes depends upon whether fruit and green vegetables are being eaten in abundance, because in wintertime, the body's main source of Vitamin C is in the form of potatoes.

The advantage of eating fruit instead of potatoes is that you get all the necessary food factors without a lot of starch. Fruit prevents people from feeling too hungry, and it provides vitamins and roughage.

If the principal element of the diet is composed of protein, the body burns up fat and carbohydrates more rapidly. Such foods as eggs, meats, fish, poultry, cheese, peas, beans, and nuts should form the bulk of the diet of any person attempting to reduce.

AVOID FAD DIETS

Many businessmen try to reduce by having a Turkish bath, followed by a hard, vigorous massage. This system should reduce any masseur!

Whatever you do, do not allow your husband to go in for one of those health fad, carnky diets. They usually lower the calorie intake so much that no one could possibly work on them.

Then there is the idea that you can eat fat and grow slim. This may be true if you eat no carbohydrates at all, but anyone who did that would be quickly nauseated. Besides, so much animal fat could be definitely harmful to your husband.

You can get just as good results by cutting out starches without increasing the fat intake, but never, never, let your husband cut down on protein.

To eliminate stored fat, exercise must be combined with an over-all reduction of calories. It is not really necessary to fiddle about with calories at all, it is far more important for your husband to weigh himself than for you to weigh his food.

As long as his weight is going down by two pounds a week, it does not matter whether his calories are right or wrong.

During his period of actual reducing, adequate exercise must become a habit, and automobiles and taxis must be scorned for all short journeys. Not only must he learn to walk, he must keep on walking for the rest of his days.

He must also take other regular exercise suited to his age and circumstances, such as golf and swimming. As soon as he finds out that he has gained a few pounds, he must take immediate action by cutting out fat-producing foods.

The vast majority of people will find it much easier if they place themselves in a doctor's hands. Even the most self confident men find it embarrassing to go back to their doctors showing little or no improvement. Many men find it helps if they can blame their doctor for their refusal of lavish hospitality.

CUT OUT SALT

Weight can be reduced by cutting out salt completely. This causes the body to eliminate retained water. In addition, those who are endeavoring to reduce should keep their fluid intake down to about two pints daily.

In my opinion, the most effective reducing diet is one which states clearly which food may be eaten and which must be avoided.

The most rapid method of reducing is to exist entirely on a specially designed dietary powder mixed with water to produce a beverage which completely replaces food for a period of time. The formula of the powder includes milk, soya flour, sugar, vegetable oils, vitamins, and minerals in such proportions that the daily ration contains 600 calories. It contains all the substances vital to health.

This type of regimen is, of course extremely boring. Besides, the very act of chewing keeps the mouth healthy. It is also necessary to provide bulk to prevent constipation. For these reasons plentiful supplies of such things as lettuce, celery, and apples should be provided in addition to the formula.

Hi-Infidelity

Nurse Husband Through '2nd Childhood'

(Editor's Note —A condensation of Abigail Van Buren's new book "Dear Abby on Marriage" is appearing daily in The Pontiac Press in 24 installments under the serialized title "Hi-Infidelity.")

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

When a marriage goes on the rocks early in the voyage of life, it is sad enough. But when a marriage partnership of some 25 years or more terminates in divorce, it is truly a tragic ending.

★ ★ ★

It's seldom the wife who blows the whistle on her marriage at this stage of her life. So what makes a man behave this way?

Call it "second childhood."

★ ★ ★

Actually, it's a combination of factors — "the foolish forties" and "the frenzied fifties."

He is usually better off financially than he was 25 years ago. Money means greater independence.

He has more free time. Especially if he owns his own business.

He probably isn't as virile as he used to be and is trying desperately to prove that he is.

NEEDS REASSURANCE

His wife could be going through "the change"—so he is looking for one. He is a little thinner on top and a lot thicker through the middle and needs the reassurance of a younger woman to convince him that he hasn't lost his appeal.

He tells himself that his children are grown and provided for, so they don't "need" him any more.

He has "found" somebody else.

The unhappy tale is told in a letter from a woman who signed herself simply, "One Man Woman."

DEAR ABBY:

I am so shocked and hurt I don't know where to turn. After 27 years of marriage, my husband has asked me for a divorce. We have had our differences, but I never dreamed he had this on his mind.

We have three happily married children and four beautiful grandchildren whom he adores. I don't know what has come over him. He says there is nobody else, but that's hard to believe. He has offered me a very generous settlement but that's not what I want. I want to remain married to this man all the years of my life. I have my pride, and it is humiliating to keep a husband tied to you knowing he wants his freedom. I still love him, Abby. Please help me make an intelligent decision.

—One Man Woman

HOLD THE FORT

My reply to this desperate woman would not have won me a popularity contest with men who anticipate nice quiet divorces for the asking.

"Hold the fort," I advised her. "You took this man for better or worse, in sickness and in health. This is sickness. He'll recover. Tell him you refuse to divorce him, and just sit!"

It took seven long months, but recover he did. And I have the letter to prove it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY:

How wise you were. My husband got over his "sickness," and has come home again. When I think how close we came to throwing away 27 years of married life, I shudder. Now he thanks me every day for not letting him break up our home, and for remaining sane when he was temporarily off balance. I bless you nightly in my prayers.

—One Man Woman

PTA Meetings Set

Installation of officers will take place at several Parent-Teacher Association meetings in Waterford Township Thursday evening.

FOUR TOWNS

Mrs. Bea Arnold will conduct the installation ceremonies at the Four Towns School PTA meeting. The school choir will perform and the sixth grade home room mothers will serve refreshments.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Bernard Heaney, principal of Isaac Crary Junior High School. His topic will deal with the relationship of elementary school to junior high and the transition youngsters must make in stepping up.

LAMBERT

Mrs. Lyle Coppersmith will conduct the installation of new officers at the Lambert School PTA meeting following the 7 p.m. dessert social. Mrs. Herbert Eshendal is general chairman.

The program will include a short business meeting and then parents will have the opportunity to visit classrooms and view science and art exhibits.

The new officers are president Mrs. Gordon Lyons; Vice President Mrs. Leon Messler; Teacher Vice President Mrs. Edward Toohey; Father Vice President Bruce Phillips; Secretary Mrs. Donald Bowen; Treasurer Mrs. James Johnson, and Mrs. William Wright, historian.

SANDBURG

Mrs. Homer Peterson will install the new officers of the Carl Sandburg School PTA following an open house at 7:30. The school chorus will perform under the direction of Miss Karen Sabo.

The new officers are Mrs. Robert Greve, president; Mrs. Frank Fleck, mother vice president; George Scantland, father vice president; Mrs. Dana Whitmer, teacher vice president; Mrs. Peter Joyce, secretary; Charles Williams, treasurer and Charles Morris, historian.

HAVILAND

Superintendent of schools William Stunck will present service certificates to the service squad and safety patrol at the Haviland School PTA meeting scheduled for 8 p.m.

Officers for the coming year will be installed by Mrs. Thomas Sanders. Fourth grade teacher Bruce Schlink will present science certificates to those who entered the April science fair.

DRAYTON PLAINS

New officers of the Drayton Plains School PTA will be installed Thursday at 7:45 with Mrs. Marguerite Baumgartner, historian and teacher, doing the honors.

Awards will be presented to 22 service squad girls, headed by captain Lee Jackson and lieutenant Judy Francis. Also receiving awards will be 18 safety patrol boys headed by captain Danny McLeod and lieutenant Jack Whitmore. Anna Butts, their sponsor, will present the awards.

Art and science exhibits will be on display and Mrs. Lila Ward, chairman, and the 6th grade room mothers will serve refreshments.

DELLA LUTES

The Dela Lutes PTA meeting featuring installation of officers will be held outside, weather permitting. Mrs. Bessie Hoppenrath, principal of Stringham School, will conduct the 7 p.m. installation of the following officers:

Mrs. Raymond Steele, president; mother vice president, Mrs. Lawrence Stack; Gordon Small, father vice president; Mrs. William McDougald, teacher vice president; Mrs. Raymond Wilhelm, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas Dean, corresponding secretary; James Rayan, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Plummer, historian.

The school children, directed by music teacher Mrs. Nancy Vancil, will sing at the meeting.

PONTIAC LAKE

Mrs. Richard Morgan, president of the Oakland County PTA Council, will install new Pontiac Lake School PTA officers at 7 p.m.

They are president; Mrs. Melvin Miller; Mrs. Stanley Nilvelt, vice president; Mrs. Sid Sankovic, teacher vice president; mother and father vice presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Nova Popovich; Mrs. Wendell Collom, treasurer; Mrs. John Seling, secretary and Mrs. Dennis Burling, historian.

Students of all grades will present a Michigan Week program consisting of a series of tableaux depicting history, legends, natural settings and educational institutions of the state. Music instructor Francis Mansfield will direct the program.

MONTEITH

An original play by 5th graders will highlight the John Monteith School PTA meeting set for 8 p.m. Teachers Mrs. James Reed, Mrs. Mary Carson and William Perrin have been working with the cast.

New officers will also be installed with Mrs. Iva O'Dell conducting the installation.

City Rebekahs Hold Initiation

Pontiac Rebekah Lodge No. 450 held its initiation at the group's meeting Friday. Mrs. Doyle Wilson was the candidate.

Plans are under way for the Lodge's Golden Anniversary banquet scheduled for July 20.

Retired Teachers Arrange Meeting

The annual meeting of Pontiac and vicinity retired teachers will be on Thursday in the Community Service Building on Franklin Boulevard.

Members will bring table service and one dish to pass at the cooperative dinner set for 6 p.m.

Abby Advises Marriage-Minded

Share All or Nothing

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I are making plans to marry. Do you think it is proper for him to ask how much money I have in the bank? I did ask him what his financial situation was, and he claims he has a right to know mine, too. He says we should combine all our money into one account.

ABBY

I worked hard for 22 years (I am 40 and he is 42) and I feel that what I have saved should not be divulged. If it were needed I would be glad to share it, but he is the type who would buy a new car every year, as he spends money faster than he makes it. Am I wrong in my thinking?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Your boy friend appears too eager to "combine" your money with his. And you appear properly unwilling to do so. This is a rather shaky foundation on which to build a marriage that should last forever. Don't marry a man with whom you are reluctant to share everything.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my daughter got a corsage made of DOG biscuits! She thought it was very funny and wore it to the dance. What on earth is this world coming to?

DISGUSTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I'll bite! I don't know what it's coming to, but apparently it is going to the dogs!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I read with amusement the letter from "EX-OTHER-WOMAN," who said if girls got together and compared notes they would learn that two-timing husbands all tell the same story.

Boys get together, too, you know, and the stories told to them by two-timing wives are not very different from their own. "My husband is cold and unaffectionate and he doesn't understand me" is a line many frustrated women use. It's pretty corny, but it still works!

Future Engine May Run on Any Inexpensive Fuel

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Automobiles of the future may have engines that start immediately in 25-below-zero weather, need no antifreeze because they are air-cooled and use almost any inexpensive fuel.

* * *

Such an engine has been developed for the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps by Avco Corp.'s Lycoming Division.

Intended primarily for use in light tracked and wheeled military vehicles, it ignites by compression, has no valves and has only three moving parts for each of its four cylinders.

* * *

Weighing only 600 pounds, it is 30 inches long and wide and 28 inches high. The manufacturer says it operates underwater as efficiently as on land.

Lemon Olive Oil Sauce Is Fine on Broccoli

Cook fresh or frozen broccoli in salted water until tender but still slightly crisp. Drain thoroughly.

* * *

Add to hot broccoli the following sauce: 2 tablespoons olive oil, 1 teaspoon lemon juice or ½ tablespoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon capers, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon black pepper (may be omitted). Equally good hot or cold. Makes enough sauce for 2 packages frozen broccoli or ½ bunch fresh broccoli.

A local fellow insists his wife would be a fine astronaut: "She's really a good driver, when she has plenty of room." . . . The N.Y. Mets baseball team's losing ways are getting laughs. One fan says, "I'm no longer rooting for them to finish in first division—I'm rooting for them to finish the season."

—Earl Wilson

New Hickory Products Benefit Your Barbecue

On the premise that it is the smoke, not the fire, that gives zesty taste to your barbecue meals, a Virginia company is marketing hickory wood smoke wheels (in 4 pound boxes) as a "hot" item for indoor and outdoor cooking fans.

* * *

It also offers hickory smoke meal (after the meat or seafood is placed on the grill, put two handfuls of the meal on the open fire or charcoal per pound of food). Only white hickory is used.

A 26-station network set up around the world follows and protects America's astronaut in orbit. The Mercury-tracking outposts can locate a spacecraft flying five miles a second, talk to the man it carries, measure the performance of the astronaut and his vehicle, and by radio signals bring him back to earth.

Enriched Flour Products Mean Better Nutrition

What does "enrichment" mean to you? When you select a bag of flour or loaf of bread from your grocer's shelf you don't consciously buy vitamins and minerals. You choose food—flour to bake your favorite breads and desserts, bread for sandwiches, toast and snacks.

* * *

Yet when you buy flour, bread and cereals labeled "enriched," you get a bonus of nutrients—the food iron and three B-vitamins, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin, which are added to all enriched products.

We've never heard of a man who refused to make a speech at a banquet, simply because he had nothing to say. . . . A diplomat is someone who can keep his shirt on while getting something off his chest. . . . To get a clear picture of a man's personality, observe his behavior with women, children and a flat tire.—Earl Wilson.

At Mall Center

Weather Is Under Control

The owners and creators of the new Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, said to be the only climatically all weather-controlled and entirely enclosed "Shopping City" in the Midwest, have been prominent leaders in their fields for many years.

★ ★ ★

Merchants, department store operators, shopping center and motor hotel developers and owners, realty investors and leaders in community, civic and social affairs — are all words and titles that are synonymous with the names of the Gershenson Bros., Aaron H., Samuel N., and William, and their associates James H. Wineman and Eugene J. Arnfeld, the owners of the new Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

The company's officers and directors are William Gershenson, president; James H. Wineman, vice president; Eugene J. Arnfeld, secretary; Samuel N. Gershenson, treasurer, and Aaron H. Gershenson, director.

The Gershensons are brothers. Wineman and Arnfeld are brothers-in-law.

Samuel Gershenson is president of Motor Management Corp., owned by himself and brothers Aaron and William, which operates properties valued at $20 million.

The Gershensons operate seven "Golden Key" motor hotels, the largest chain in Michigan, with two motels in Detroit and others in Dearborn, Livonia, Royal Oak, Lansing and Flint.

They operate two apartments in Detroit and three in New York. There are 6,000 rooms under their management in these operations.

Aaron Gershenson is president of A and W Management Co., owned by Aaron and William, which owns and operates five shopping centers, two in Flint, and others in Wyandotte, Cleveland and Youngstown, Ohio.

They recently sold two other centers. At the height of this activity, their shopping centers were valued at $25 million.

Wineman is president of Wineman Investment Co. and Wineman Realty Co. Arnfeld is vice president of these companies.

THEIR HOLDINGS

Wineman is president and director of the Central Business District Association and a director of the Detroit Retail Merchants Association, Detroit Convention Bureau, United Foundation and United Jewish Charities of Detroit.

Arnfeld is an officer and trustee of Children's Hospital.

Wineman was president and Arnfeld, general manager, of People's outfitting Co. when it was merged with State Sample Co. in June 1959.

Wineman had followed in the footsteps of his father, grandfather and two uncles as president of this department store chain, which had its downtown store for so many years at Michigan and Shelby.

His grandfather, Leopold Wineman, who founded the store in 1893, made a spectacular success by inaugurating installment buying, when it was a revolutionary idea. Wineman's store was one of the first in the country to use installment buying.

★ ★ ★

Older merchants said it would never work. Everything was bought with cash in those days. Customers had to save laboriously before they could buy new furniture and clothing.

★ ★ ★

Detroiters liked Wineman's idea and business boomed. By 1915, People's had replaced its original store and 10 years later, People's added eight more stories.

Lear Criticism Hurt Muskegon

But Mayor Says Town Would Still Welcome New Factory

MUSKEGON (UPI)—The city of Muskegon, still hungry to house the executive jet aircraft factory William P. Lear intends to build, wants the hard-driving industrialist to take another look at the Western Michigan seaport.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Alfred A. Meyers said he and other members of the community were hurt by the criticism Lear doled out last Friday in scratching Muskegon off his list of proposed sites but added, "we would like to see him reconsider."

"It is possible, Meyers said, the city commission will extend Lear an official invitation to come to Muskegon again.

Lear, who has been fishing for a factory site since early this year when he gave up his interest in Lear, Inc., the company he founded, labeled Muskegon a dirty old town with a poor labor climate.

★ ★ ★

He said, "I have never seen a town so desperately in need of a general cleaning up, painting up and brushing up as Muskegon and I wonder if this permeates the whole industrial and business attitude of the community."

Meyers, in answering Lear's criticisms, said to begin with he doubted if Lear ever really intended to place his factory in Muskegon, despite elaborate praise he bestowed on an available factory building earlier this year.

"He's never dealt with city officials or with the industrial development committee we have," Meyers said. "He's done all his talking with the manager of the airport, Jack Hakes. And he started out by saying there would be 40 or 50 employes. Now he's talking about 1,000 employes. The truth of the whole thing is unknown—how many people is he actually going to employ."

★ ★ ★

The mayor continued, "We'd still be happy to have him though —we're open to everybody."

Scientists Must Figure Way to Recover Rockets or 'We'll Go Bust'

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—One of these budget years will have to come around to the realization that if we don't develop a recoverable rocket for space research we'll go bust.

★ ★ ★

The way we're headed now in the so-called peaceful research in space is something akin to an airline's carrying a plane load of passengers across the country, unloading them, and dumping the $6-million jet into the Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

These thoughts emerge from a little rundown on a booster named Nova, which is still taking shape on the drawing boards for use in the future — but which is costing sizeable amounts right now, years before its birth.

★ ★ ★

Defense Marketing Services, Inc., a kind of a Dow-Jones of the space race, gives us the latest on that one-shot whopper:

"NASA has now decided on the first configuration of the liquid Nova. First stage will be eight F1s developing 1.2 million pounds of thrust; second stage will be four M1s developing 4.8 million pounds; third stage will be one J2 of 200,000 pounds thrust. Total thrust: 17 million pounds. (Titov's booster: 1.5 million pounds; Glenn's 358,000.)

"In January," Aerojet-General won a direct award of $90 million to develop the M1 liquid hydrogen-oxygen engine. It will be 23 feet long and 15 feet in diameter. To be ready by 1965. NASA's funding for the Nova program is considered sufficient. The M1 engine, itself, will receive $26 million from the fiscal year '62 supplemental funds and $55 million from FY63 funds. The F1 engine is due for an equal amount for FY63 funds. For the Nova vehicle, NASA is requesting $163 million in FY63 money to design and develop the complete first and second stages.

"The three-stage Nova will have a height of 280 feet (less payload) and a maximum diameter of 50 feet. The thrust of the total vehicle will be capable of placing 375,000 pounds of payload into a near-earth orbit, 150,000 pounds into escape trajectory, or put 100,000 pounds to the vicinity of Mars or Venus."

★ ★ ★

Then the biggest splash since Jackie Gleason last went off the highboard.

★ ★ ★

Couldn't some system of lowering these spent engines to earth or ocean by cute be worked out? Our aerospace people have licked tougher problems than that.

Convicted of Smuggling

OTTAWA (AP)—Staff Sgt. William J. H. Hockman, 38, was convicted and ordered dismissed today on a charge he smuggled opium while serving with the International truce commission in Viet Nam last year.

Can't Buy Baby Bottle

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—John J. Hartford went all over the neighborhood trying to buy a baby bottle, because it was Sunday and they but storekeepers wouldn't sell one didn't want to risk arrest for violation of Missouri's 135-year-old Sunday closing law.

Hartford was able to buy cigarettes. He was told at the stores that a baby bottle wasn't classified as a "necessity" under the law.

WOMEN'S FAVORITE — Vanity Fair is a favorite of women shoppers in the new Pontiac Mall. The store was greeted with such enthusiasm that officials opened for business almost two weeks earlier than expected. Vanity Fair carries a complete line of woman's dresses, sportswear and furnishings.

Czechs Starting to Erase Memory of Joseph Stalin

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia finally appears to have made a modest beginning in erasing the memory of Stalin.

Diplomatic sources reported today that one street and one bridge bearing Stalin's name in Prague recently were given the names of city districts.

But Stalin's giant 18,000-ton monument still stands on the bank of Voltava River. And there are still Stalin monuments, Stalin streets and Stalin squares in towns and villages throughout Czechoslovakia.

Charge 66 Violations of Peace in Korea

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United Nations command charged the Communists Tuesday with 66 violations of the Korean armistice agreement between March 19 and April 20.

U. S. Army Col. Wheeler G. Merriam told a meeting of the military armistice commission secretaries the violations included 23 cases of the Communists bringing automatic weapons into the demilitarized zone.

Merriam also rejected charges of armistice violations against the U. N. forces made at the last meeting of the secretaries March 20.

Customers Pleased at Vanity Fair Shop

A women's clothing expert with 20 years experience in her field is managing the new Vanity Fair Shop in Pontiac Mall—and she's proud of it.

★ ★ ★

"Our merchandise looks like three times the price," said Mrs. Marie L. Herman, "and the customers love it."

★ ★ ★

The new Vanity Fair Shop opened for business April 27 and Mrs. Herman said the customer response has been highly favorable.

EARLY OPENING

In fact, the actual opening was almost two weeks earlier than original plans called for because officials felt Pontiac-area shoppers were anxious to start doing business with the well-known woman's clothing firm.

★ ★ ★

Vanity Fair Shop carries a complete line of woman's clothes, including dresses, sportswear and furnishings.

Mrs. Herman said a popular feature of the new store is the "window specials" which feature high-quality garments on display at prices far below regular.

★ ★ ★

Although it opened early, the Vanity Fair Shop is planning to participate in grand opening celebrations at the Mall beginning Thursday.

500,000-Volt Transmitter to Be 1st in America

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Virginia Electric and Power Co. plans to build the first 500,000-volt transmission system in America.

It will extend from VEPCO's generating plant in the West Virginia coal fields to the suburbs of Washington city and to the Staunton-Waynesboro area of Virginia.

Says Composers Seeking Truth

U. of M. Musician Sees Russian Art Restricted by Politics

ANN ARBOR — What kind of freedom is the modern composer looking for?

"In our society we talk a good deal about the freedom of artists. I think the composer seeks truth and personal individuality," says Ross Lee Finney, University of Michigan composer in residence. "In any case, it is true that our music is more experimental than Soviet music.

"In contemporary Russia the composer must conform to ideological policies. These limitations have sometimes hampered the Soviet composer's expression. But within the confines of this system, both great music and unimportant music has been written."

★ ★ ★

Finney, who began composing at the age of eight, has had many works commissioned by music foundations and artists. His "Fantasy in Two Movements for Solo Violin" was commissioned by Yehudi Menuhin and performed by him at the Brussels World Fair in 1958.

Cunningham's Tells Key Jobs

3 Area Residents Serve in New Pontiac Mall Drug Store

Three area residents hold key positions with the new Cunningham's Drug Store in Pontiac Mall.

Assistant manager is Larry Cates of 1245 Dundee St., Waterford Township. He is also one of the store's registered pharmacists.

Serving as head of the cosmetics department, Maxine Oden of 2035 Andre, Keego Harbor, is on hand to give expert beauty advice to customers.

And, in charge of the drug department is 12-year Cunningham veteran Doris M. Ferguson of 57 E. Yale St., Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Another key Cunningham employe, store manager Ernest W. Koch, will become a Waterford resident shortly. He is in the process of buying a home there and will move from Ann Arbor where he is manager of the downtown Cunningham's store.

Koch said the new Pontiac Mall Cunningham's, which opened April 17, has several special features.

One of them is a completely doorless and windowless store front, allowing customers to enter at any point.

★ ★ ★

A tasty feature is the store's charbroiled hamburgers and steaks, produced on the snack bar's electric charbroiler Highland Grill.

Koch pointed out that Cunningham's always has a pharmacist on duty and has a completely equipped prescription department.

Architects, Agree Co. Design Unusual Center to Meet Competition

When the owners of the Pontiac Mall, the Gershenson brothers, Aaron, Sam and William, and their associates James H. Wineman and Eugene J. Arnfeld, first discussed the Mall project with the Agrees, it was decided a bold and original design was necessary to meet competition and as protection against obsolescence.

The theory has been carried out by the architects, Charles N. Agree, Inc., 14330 W. McNichols.

The unusual architecture of Pontiac Mall is the work of A. Arnold Agree, son of Charles Agree.

The Mall is young Agree's second personal credit. The first was the Holden Reptile Museum at the Detroit Zoo.

He has been with the firm since 1948 after graduating from the University of Michigan architectural school.

The firm, however, has designed buildings around Detroit since 1919.

★ ★ ★

Charles Agree's architectural works have included the Whittier and Belcrest hotels and the Woods Theater of 1946 (last indoor motion picture house to be built in Detroit) as well as the Harper, Dearborn, Hollywood, Royal and Westown theaters.

★ ★ ★

Detroit is ringed with shopping centers Agree, his associate Eugene W. Milton, and recently Arnold have designed.

Their first integrated shopping center was the Shelden in Livonia in 1952. Since then their list includes Southgate, South Flint Plaza, St. Clair Shores and the Tech Plaza in Warren.

Steve Allen Slated to Return to Video

NEW YORK (UPI) — Comedian Steve Allen will return to late night television June 25 on a 90-minute comedy show produced by the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.

A network spokesman said the show will be taped from a New York theater five nights a week. The spokesman said the new program will be syndicated.

CAB to Study Reducing TWA, Pan Am 'Race'

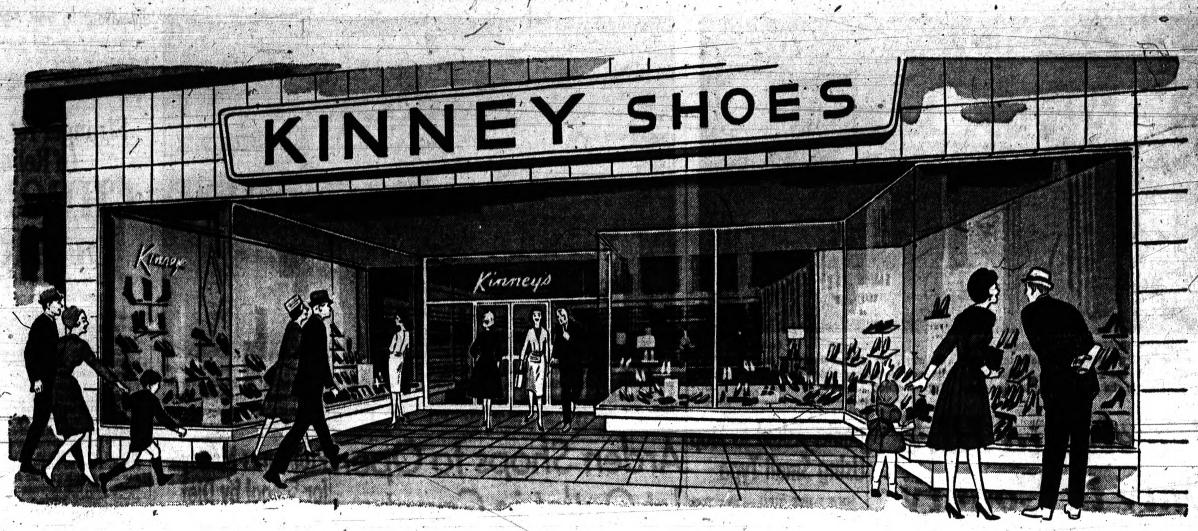

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has ordered hearings on a drastic proposal to reduce transatlantic competition between Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways.

The CAB released a staff study recommendation, in effect, that recommending, in effect, that TWA and Pan Am be assigned areas of operation, eliminating direct competition at major cities.

★ ★ ★

TWA was expected to support the proposal, but Pan Am was reported strongly against it.

The CAB noted that although TWA and Pan Am once carried more than 70 per cent of the transatlantic traffic, they hauled only 37 per cent of it last year.

THE PONTIAC MALL

MODERN SETTING — "Floating" ceiling extensions and glass fixtures make this Rose Jewelers store one of the most futuristic-looking buildings in the new Pontiac Mall. Inside the store, the modern theme is carried out by hanging chandeliers which produce an unusual lighting effect.

Jewelry to Hire Only in County

A firm with its roots deep in Wayne County, the Rose Jewelry Co. has established a local tradition at its first Oakland County branch in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

★ ★ ★

The company, which presently employs a staff of 10 at its new store in the northwest section of the Pontiac Mall, will hire only Oakland County residents, according to Sol F. Myers, general manager.

All current employes of the new store are Oakland County residents and most of them are from the Pontiac area, Myers said.

A 15-year Rose Jewelry employe, Manuel Fox, 1420 W. 10-Mile Road, Oak Park, is manager of the new store. Assistant manager is Nat Morrison, 371 Elizabeth Lake Road, Waterford Township.

Myers explained that this is the first Rose Jewelers shop outside Wayne County, where the firm operates 11 other stores. The company has been in business 40 years, Myers said.

MANUEL FOX

USE MODERN THEME

The general manager said a modern theme has been chosen for the new shop. Over the wide access front entrance are "floating" ceiling extensions and glass fixtures.

★ ★ ★

This theme is carried out inside the 30- by 160-foot store where numerous hanging chandeliers provide an unusual lighting effect, Myers said. Interior walls are pastel colored with white backgrounds.

★ ★ ★

The store will carry diamonds, timepieces, cameras, radios, television sets, portable phonographs, silverware, pewter, and electrical appliances.

Inland lakes have small tide movements and the difference between high and low tide in Lake Michigan at Chicago amounts to somewhat less than two inches.

Banks Asked to Stop Using Small Type

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York banks have been asked by the local Better Business Bureau to stop using such small type to describe conditions under which their advertised interest rates are paid.

Many savings institutions have been advertising new rates following the raising of the federal ceiling, often on money held over a certain length of time.

"The explanation is sometimes so far removed from the featured rate and in such small type as to lead to the possibility of public confusion and misunderstanding," said Hugh R. Jackson, president of the BBB.

Ballet Dancer Confesses: It Really Does Hurt

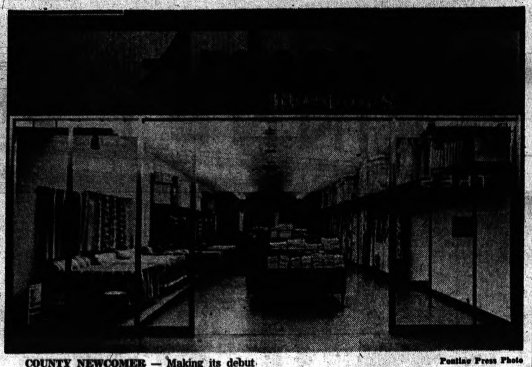

NASHVILLE (AP)—An international ballet star has admitted with unprofessional frankness what the nondancer has believed all along: toe dancing can be hard on the toes.

"Dancing is not really a natural thing for the body but we have to make it look natural," said Toni Lander, blonde beauty who was born in Copenhagen, lives in Paris and dances with the American Ballet Theater.

"Many times our legs get tired and our toes hurt."

The remedy, she said, is universal:

"We soak our feet. But if we don't have time to worry with them, we just grin and bear it."

COUNTY NEWCOMER — Making its debut in Oakland County, Arden Shops, Inc., is opening this bright, spacious new store in Pontiac Mall. The building covers 2,625 square feet of floor space and houses a complete line of drapes, curtains, bedroom ensembles, throw rugs, pillows, show curtains and accessories.

Arden Shops to Open 1st Outlet in County

The Pontiac Mall Shopping Center will be the location of the first Oakland County branch of Arden Shops, Inc., a retail curtain and drapery outlet with three other stores in Michigan.

Samuel Glass, 22718 Dellwood Drive, Southfield, is president of the firm.

The Arden Shop at the Pontiac Mall, Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Roads, will cover 2,625 square feet of floor space next to Ted's Restaurant.

Glass said the store will handle custom and ready-made drapes, curtains, bedroom ensembles, throw rugs, decorative pillows, show curtains and accessories.

Custom draperies will be featured in a special display in the store's large plate glass windows when the store marks its grand opening at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Interior walls of cactus green will provide the backdrop for colorful drapes and curtains inside. The new Arden Shop, like most others in the mall, will have wide access, sliding doors at the front.

Glass said he expects to employ from eight to 10 persons after the store opens.

Arden Shops, Inc., founded in 1946, also operates stores in Detroit, Hamtramck and Roseville.

Named Executive Chief of 11 Catholic Hospitals

ESCANABA (AP) — Herbert R. Roide, associate director of St. Francis Hospital for the past year, has been named executive director of 11 hospitals of the Order of the Sisters of St. Francis at Peoria, Ill.

He succeeds Edward W. Gilgon at Peoria.

America's top executives spend 15 to 20 hours a week reading reports of their various fields, including correspondence and trade publications.

Prof Earns Money for School by Diet

BOSTON (AP) — Emerson College professor Haig Der Marderosian is dieting — at $100 a pound.

The money — contributed by students and alumni for every pound lost — is going to the college fund.

The professor's goal is 100 pounds. He's lost 75 since Nov. 1 when he weighed 342¾ pounds.

"Fat came off in layers when I started," the professor says. "It's like chipping granite block now. But I hope to make it eventually."

No Electric Blankets for Shivering Birds

KINGSTON, R. I. (AP) — Maybe it's more fun being a human being than a bird, after all; birds shiver all night while they sleep.

Prof. George C. West of the zoology department, University of Rhode Island, says birds not only shiver all night, but "they often shiver very violently." Their shivering, he explains, "is a physiological mechanism to keep them warm."

Stronger Yet Safer—Gives Hours Of Relief From Minor CHRONIC PAINS OF ARTHRITIS

...even pains arising from deep in joints and bones so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again.

New York, N.Y.—No cure has yet been discovered for arthritis. And doctors constantly warn against fake remedies which claim to have 'the answer.'

But sufferers have found a way to get hours of the most comforting relief from arthritis' and rheumatism's chronic minor pains. It's a combined action (both analgesic and anti-inflammatory) that relieves even pains arising from deep in joints and bones. Thus sufferers find they can move with greater freedom again. And this movement helps avoid 'locked' joints.

The product that's giving such fast and effective relief is Anacin®. Anacin contains a stronger yet safer combination and may be taken as directed as often as needed without upsetting the stomach. Unlike aspirin or buffered aspirin which contains only one pain reliever—Anacin is different and gives you extra medication. You see, Anacin is like a doctor's prescription. That is a combination of medically proven ingredients. In minutes —Anacin brings remarkable 'all-over' relief.

Anacin even contains special medication that works to reduce inflammation and swelling of tissues that causes so much suffering. When such pain goes, it's easier to move afflicted limbs about. This mobility helps keep joints from 'locking.' See if stronger yet safer Anacin doesn't work better for you!

FULL COVERAGE — The floor coverings department in Hudson's Budget Store at Pontiac Mall offers a wide selection of carpets, rugs and linoleum. Samples of fabrics and designs are displayed in handy wall racks, and full-size rugs are laid out for easy viewing.

Each Hudson Department to Have Own Personality

Each of the 75 separate departments in the Pontiac Mall's Hudson's Budget Store was designed to have its own "personality," according to company spokesmen.

In addition to large department identification signs, each unit in the store will be recognized by its distinctive color scheme.

Self-service will be the procedure in most sections of the store, but salesmen will be on hand to aid customers in shoes, cameras, men's clothing, cosmetics, sporting goods, floor coverings, appliances and other departments where individual assistance is necessary.

Quick service is the keynote of the new Hudson's store. Wide aisles, self-selection displays and supermarket-style check-out counters are provided to make shopping "streamlined," say Hudson officials.

★ ★ ★

Merchandise is grouped to speed up shopping time at the store. Girls' playwear, for example, is arranged so everything in this category may be purchased in one location. Footwear for the tiniest tot to the head of household is available in a single family shoe department.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the departments already noted, such special services as film processing, kiddie rides and a 54-foot food bar featuring sandwiches, light lunches and "snow cones" also are available at the one-floor budget store.

Included in the store are 20 fitting rooms for women and six for men and boys.

Charge accounts, deliveries, extended payment plans and layaway services available at Hudson stores in Detroit, Northland, Eastland and Lincoln Park also will be the same at the Pontiac Mall store.

Asks Protection for Minorities in Job Services

WASHINGTON (AP) —The labor department has been asked by a Negro member of Congress to take steps to make sure racial discrimination is avoided under the area redevelopment and manpower retraining programs.

Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Mich., urged Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, in a letter which Diggs made public yesterday to make provision in the programs for protection for minority groups.

Diggs said the law under which state employment services operate, contains no provisions for nondiscriminatory policies.

The Great Wall of China twists across North China from Shanhaikwan on the Yellow Sea to the desert fortress of Kiayukwan, a distance of some 1,500 miles. The wall's winding, looping course actually covers nearly 2,000 miles.

Hudson's W. T. Crick

Manager From Southfield

A Southfield man, William T. Crick of 30530 Northgate Drive, is manager of the new Hudson's Budget Store at the Pontiac Mall.

An ex-Marine who joined Hudson's as a linen department salesman in 1947, Crick has served the company as assistant buyer, merchandise manager and assistant budget store manager. His most recent position was that of assistant merchandise manager of the firm's budget store ready-to-wear division.

Another Oakland County resident, Read Jenkins of Bloomfield Hills, is senior vice president of the J. L. Hudson Co. Jenkins also joined the company as a salesman in 1930.

The clothing firm is headed by Joseph L. Hudson Jr., grandnephew of Joseph Lothian Hudson, who founded the store.

The youthful president, who worked at the store during summer vacations from Yale University, joined the company as an executive trainee following graduation in 1953.

He has served as assistant to the general manager, vice president and general manager and last year was elected to his present position.

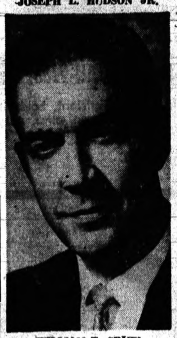

Vice president and manager of Hudson's budget stores is Chester E. Blanton, who has been with the company 32 years. He was put in charge of budget store operations in 1957 after serving as a salesman, buyer, divisional merchandise manager and budget store assistant manager. He was named to the vice presidency last month.

Robert E. Sturwold is manager of branch budget stores at Lincoln Park and the Pontiac Mall and one soon to be opened in Madison Heights. Sturwold worked his way up to his present post after joining Hudson's as a stock boy in 1937.

Second in command to the president is Frank A. Columbo, executive vice president and general manager of the company, a position he has held since last year. He has been with the company since 1935, serving as a salesman, assistant buyer and assistant divisional merchandise manager in addition to several other executive posts.

Surgery Patient's Ailment Called 'Foot-in-Mouth'

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Dick Downs, an orderly at the Dallas Osteopathic Hospital, says he bets a patient still is trying to smooth things over at home.

Downs had just wheeled the man out of the operating room after minor surgery. When they got to his room, the patient was babbling away, apparently still under the influence of the anesthetic.

Suddenly, the man looked up at the woman in the room, smiled and said:

"My, but you are a pretty nurse."

"I'm your wife," the woman snapped back.

Judge Has Good Excuse for Evading Jury Duty

MIAMI (AP) — Francis Christie answered a summons to jury duty, but got out of the task fairly easily.

Circuit Court Judge Christie pointed out to Circuit Judge Hal Dekle that he was scheduled to be on the bench, qualifying jurors for his own court trials.

Thinking About Car Insurance?

LOOK AT THE LEADER

No. 1 of a series. The Insurance Exchange at the Auto Club, with more than half a million policyholders, is the overwhelming favorite of Michigan motorists.

One of the reasons for this demonstrated leadership is that the Exchange was the first insurance organization formed in Michigan with the specific purpose of insuring Michigan's better drivers at lower cost.

If you are a good driver, you should look at the car insurance that leads the way in service, savings and protection.

Zuieback Store at Mall Will Have 30 Employes

White walls and ceiling with accents of black provide a dramatic effect in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center's new Zuieback & Son, Inc. women's apparel store.

Carpeting inside the 6,000-square-foot store is black with gold flecks. The white walls and ceiling are set off by a sparing use of black woodwork.

The order desk and the rear of the store are painted with touches of green — the only other color used inside. White carpeting is laid in the display windows on either side of the wide front entrance.

FOURTH STORE

This is the fourth store opened by S. Zuieback & Son, Inc., which also operates shops in Livonia, Southfield and Monroe. It will employ 30 persons.

A company spokesman said the dresses, casual wear, gowns and other women's clothing on display will add the color to brighten the interior.

Louvered wood doors on the 15 dressing rooms, which will be finished in gray with a speckled black-and-white pattern, also carry out the decidedly contemporary theme.

An employe of the company for six years, Delores Jax of Rosevile, will be manager of the newest Zuieback's Suburban.

DELORES JAX

Couldn't Wait for Opening of Richard's Mall Store

Customers got a head start on their shopping at the new Richards Boys & Girls Wear store in Pontiac Mall.

Two days before last Friday's informal opening, one lady picked out a children's outfit and asked to have it put aside until cash registers were ready for business.

* * *

Other customers were drifting in and eying garments they said they intended to buy on opening day.

Richards and other stores leave their doors wide open in the weather-protected Mall and customers were quick to take advantage.

The immediate response, of course, was pleasing to President Ivor J. Kahn who is enthusiastic about opening a new store in the area.

"We started as a suburban store in Dearborn in 1939," he said, "and our purpose was to be strong in the suburbs."

"We're very glad to come now into the Pontiac-area."

Kahn, who named his boys and girls wear chain for his son, said the Pontiac Mall store is the largest of all Richards stores.

It is 20-by-122 feet with almost all the area used for merchandising.

Two local women are operating the store, Kahn said. Mrs. Emil Asbell, of 2285 Central St., is in charge and her assistant is Mrs. Martha Johnson, 13 Ramona Terrace, Waterford Township.

New Singer Store to Serve Oakland

Singer Sewing Machine Co. continues to grow with Oakland County.

The company's newest sewing center, opening Thursday in Pontiac Mall, is the sixth in the county and the second in Pontiac. The other local store is located at 102 N. Saginaw St.

★ ★ ★

Less than 10 years ago, Singer had only three stores in the county.

"The continuously growing interest in home sewing prompted this latest expansion which will permit us to provide even better service to residents of the rapidly growing Pontiac area," said district manager R. M. Clemens.

He pointed out that Singer Sewing Centers are company owned and that sales warranties and service are direct from the manufacturer to retail purchaser.

The new Pontiac Mall Center offers a complete line of Singer sewing machines and floor-care equipment. It carries a wide variety of sewing notions, trims, sewing aids and accessories.

★ ★ ★

Clemens calls it a "one-stop shopping center for women and girls who sew."

Singer is the only company manufacturing "Zigzag" sewing machines in America.

Manager of the Pontiac new Mall Singer Sewing Center is William Sharp of Ferndale. He formerly was assistant manager of the company's downtown Detroit store.

A henpecked husband is a guy who asks his boss for a raise—then has to ask the boss at home if he got it. . . . The job of a modern college administrator, quips Hugh Clegg of the U. of Mississippi, is to "provide a romantic atmosphere for students, parking places for the faculty, and football for the alumni."—Earl Wilson.

Their Names: Same Their Crime: Walking

RIPLEY, N.Y. (AP) — The two young men were charged with being pedestrians on the New York State Thruway, where hitchhiking is not allowed. When Peace Justice William Saunders asked their names, they both replied: "Richard J. McCarthy."

To the question on age, each said he was 19.

The two youths had to produce identification papers to convince Saunders. They said they had met while hitchhiking, one Dick McCarthy from Farmington, Mass., and the other from Winchester, Mass.

Saunders fined them each $5.

School Heads Confused Over Desired Victor

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—The Very Rev. Vincent T. Swords, president of Niagara University, and the Very Rev. Edward J. Burke, president of St. John's University, must have had mixed emotions when the two schools met recently in a basketball game here.

In Large Building at Mall

Bond Store Can Stock Up to 3,000 Suits

Any resemblance between men's shopping habits in Pontiac and a suburb of St. Louis, Mo., Thursday is purely coincidental—on purpose.

Bond Store, Inc., is opening two new stores that day, one in each area, and officials are expecting an enthusiastic reception from customers in both places.

Locally, the new Bond store will join in grand opening celebrations with several other merchandisers in Pontiac Mall.

It is a large, one-level building of 8,500 square feet (85x100) with a capacity to stock more than 3,000 suits and coats.

V. J. Bagley, a veteran of 22 years with Bond, is manager of the Mall store. Bagley joined the firm's main store in downtown Detroit in 1939 and later managed the Grand River branch.

★ ★ ★

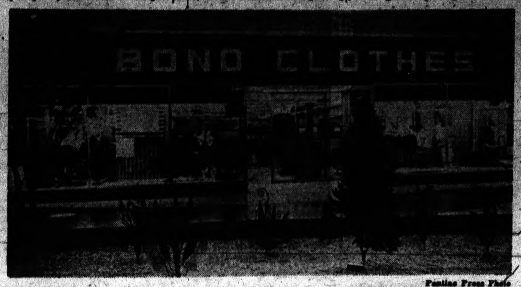

Discussing his new assignment, Bagley said the Mall store will carry a complete line of Bond tailored clothing for men, furnishings, sportswear, hats and shoes.

★ ★ ★

A special feature, Bagley added, is the new Harridge Row department, carrying natural shoulder clothing.

The store also has a complete tailor shop and Bagley pointed out that clothing is made in the company's own factories.

Bond has two other stores in the area, both in Detroit. Plans are under way for two other new suburban stores next fall.

PAINTER'S PARADISE — Everything the home owner needs for redecorating his house is carried in the new Sherwin-Williams Paint Co. store in Pontiac Mall. The store stocks a large supply of paint, wallpaper and artists' supplies — and even an interior decorator to give advice.

Sherwin-Williams Paint Co.

Aids With Decorating Problems

Home owners are geting plenty of help with their decorating problems at the new Sherwin-Williams Paint Co. store in Pontiac Mall.

★ ★ ★

An interior decorator and color consultant is on hand to give customers advice and assist them with design plans

★ ★ ★

She is Mrs. Dorothy Sheffer, 369 S. East Blvd., the first woman to hold such a position in the Sherwin-Williams chain.

Another aid to decorating is the store's special color harmony book, which is loaned to customers on request. This book is regarded as an "interior decorator" in itself, offering customers a look at special blending schemes for their own particular needs.

In addition to carrying a full line of nationally known paints, Sherwin-Williams new store also carries wallpaper and artists' supplies.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Mall store, which opened April 25, is the second in the area and one of about 1,600 across the country. The other Pontiac store is located at 71 W. Huron St.

★ ★ ★

The Mall store contains 1,800 square feet. It is 15 feet wide and 120 feet long.

Manager of the new outlet is Rochard Sosnowski, 25, who has been with the firm for five years. He is former credit manager of Sherwin-Williams store in Seven-Grand Shopping Center, Redford Township.

Teen-Age Girl Tries to Swim Away From Law

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A 17-year-old Madeira Beach girl, picked up on a traffic warrant, tried to swim away from the long arm of the law.

Patrolman D. A. Huseman said he was walking toward the police car with the girl when she suddenly broke away and ran toward the bay nearby.

Before he could catch her, she jumped the sea wall and started swimming away from shore.

Huseman talked her into returning to land. She was booked on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and failure to report an accident.

Kings Canyon national park in California was established in 1940.

Mall to Feature Wallendas Act

High-Wire Aerialists Part of Grand Opening Extravaganza

The Great Wallendas, famed aerial troupe, will perform on the high wire Thursday, Friday and Saturday as part of the grand opening extravaganza at the Pontiac Mall.

Billed for years as the greatest aerial act in the world, the German high wire artists drew international attention last Jan. 30 when two members were killed and a third critically injured at the Shrine Circus in Detroit. The mishap occurred when the lead man on the three-deck pyramid faltered, then fell to the floor dragging two others with him.

The night after the tragic accident, in a true display of show-business tradition, all able-bodied members of the troupe returned to the high wire in a modification of their famed seven-member pyramid act.

Since the Detroit accident, the Wallendas have continued their dangerous act on the circus circuit shunning the use of a safety net except where it is required by law.

★ ★ ★

Heading the troupe in the Pontiac Mall performances will be 60-year-old Herman Wallenda who suffered severe facial lacerations when the pyramid collapsed but returned the following night and did handstands on the high wire. The Wallendas will perform each day at 3 and 9 p.m.

Belgium Remembers End of World War II

BRUSSELS (AP)—All work and all traffic was halted for five minutes throughout Belgium today to mark the anniversary of the end of World War II in Europe.

★ ★ ★

Church bells pealed out and sirens wailed as the nation demonstrated its hope for lasting peace. Cars halted; people on sidewalks stood silently; schools, plants and offices stopped work.

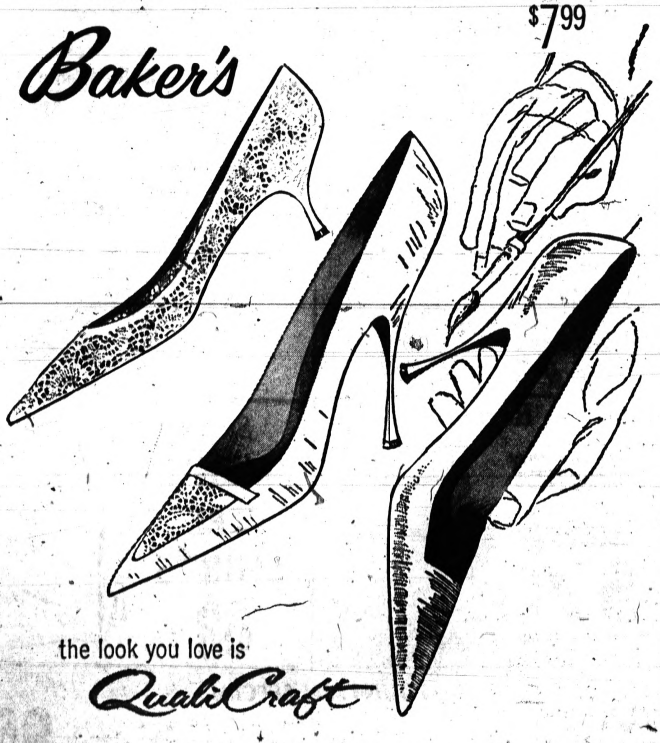

★ ★ ★

The demonstration was called by the "May Eight Movement" of trade unions and other groups in an appeal for peace, world disarmament, and an end to nuclear tests.

But Mrs. Kennedy Doesn't Know It

African Ambassador Ordered Around by Mistake

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON — Backstairs at the White House:

It happened at the recent diplomatic reception given by President and Mrs. Kennedy.

An ambassador of one of the new African countries was standing in the state dining room, minding his own business and surveying the festivities swirling around him. He was the picture of diplomatic dignity, dressed in a dark suit, white shirt and dark bow tie.

One of Washington's more vocal and authoritative society columnists noticed a napkin on the floor near the envoy whom she apparently took for a silent butler.

"Why don't you pick that up?" she snapped at the ambassador.

He looked at her blankly and turned away, still in utter, icy dignity.

An embarrassed witness to this gaucherie observed later, "On Route 40, they might not let him eat, but at least he wouldn't be told to pick up the trash."

Mercifully for the self-appointed guardian of White House decor, Mrs. Kennedy was not aware of the incident.

A rather amazing letter came to the White House recently from a woman in Malvern, Pa., who told how she and her husband, so busy earning a living and rearing a family, had virtually forgotten how to read.

* * *

They had stopped all but the most fleeting contact with newspapers, magazines and books.

But they watched television. Then one night they saw a full videotape replay of a presidential news conference. They watched again the following week and before long, it became a matter of necessity to start reading again in order to keep up with what Kennedy and the reporters discussed on television.

* * *

Now, the lady reported, she and her husband are regular newspaper and magazine subscribers again — and furthermore, buying books.

Want to Be Beautiful? It Costs $86.87 a Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — The price of staying young and beautiful is $86.87 a year at the beauty parlor — twice as much as the nation's $40 per capita spending for milk, according to John H. Breck, Inc.

Mrs. Middle Class America averages 22.8 beauty parlor visits per year at an average of $3.81, bringing national beauty parlor sales to $2.5 billion, according to the Breck survey.

For some people it's too easy to get around on three squares.

Everyday Dish of Franks and Kraut Goes High Hat

Here's a fine dish to set before your family. Dairyland Kraut and Frankfurters take less than a half hour's cooking time which means Mother gets a well-earned holiday from an afternoon in the kitchen.

Easily prepared on top of the range, you'll find this sauerkraut recipe a good one to add to your "to serve on a busy day" file. The frankfurters are quickly sauted in butter or margarine with onion to give extra flavor. Then the sauerkraut is added and cooked for fifteen minutes. A sour cream and paprika sauce tops off the dish at serving time and adds a delightful flavor.

Dairyland Kraut and Frankfurters

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 frankfurters, cut in fourths
¼ cup chopped onion
1 No. 2½ can sauerkraut, drained
1 cup sour cream
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika

Melt butter or margarine over medium heat. Add frankfurters and onion; saute 5 minutes. Add sauerkraut; cover and continue cooking 15 minutes. Meanwhile, combine sour cream and seasonings; cook over low heat 5 minutes.

Arrange kraut and frankfurter mixture on heated serving platter and serve with sour cream sauce. Dust with additional paprika, if desired. Makes 4-6 servings.

Marinate Cooked Ones

Does your family enjoy cooked vegetables in salad? Use a canned or cooked frozen vegetable such as snap beans or brussels sprouts and marinate in French dressing. Mix the marinated vegetable with crisp salad greens.

A little dry mustard and paprika give zest to a cheddar cheese sauce.

Cornmeal Pastry Covers Up Franks

Dress frankfurters in corn meal jackets for lunch. Sift ¾ cup of all-purpose flour with ½ cup of corn meal, 1½ teaspoons of baking powder and ¾ teaspoon of salt. Cut in ¾ cup of shortening. Add ½ cup of milk, stirring to moisten.

Roll into a 14-inch diameter circle on a lightly floured board. Cut into 6 pie-shaped wedges. Place 1 frankfurter on the widest edge of each triangle. Roll and place on cookie sheet. Bake 15 minutes in preheated 425-degree oven. Serve hot with chili sauce.

Carried Cream Garnish

Add a dash or two of curry powder to unsweetened whipped cream, and use it as a garnish for cream of tomato soup, clam bisque or any other cream soup. Adds a unique flavor touch.

HEAD START — Women who want to outfit themselves from head to toe find Claire Hats in Pontiac Mall a good place to start. The store carries a full line of ladies hats, specialty handbags, evening bags, scarfs, gloves and other accessories.

Lemon Pie Filling Is Glamorized

Tangy and refreshing as a spring day—that's Three Fruit Pie. The flavors of three fruits blend with a crunchy crust of graham crackers.

Three Fruit Pie

2 3¼-ounce packages lemon pie filling mix
½ cup sugar
1½ cups orange juice
4 eggs, separated
1½ cups pineapple juice
¼ cup sugar

Mix lemon pie filling mix with sugar and ½ cup orange juice in saucepan. Add egg yolks; blend well. Add remaining orange juice and pineapple juice. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat until mixture thickens, 5 to 7 minutes. Cool.

While filling is cooling prepare graham crackers crumb crust. Thoroughly blend 1 2-3 cups graham crackers crumbs finely rolled, ¼ cup softened butter or margarine and ¼ cup sugar. Pour into a 9-inch pie plate and press firmly against bottom and sides of plate. The easy way is to press crumbs into place using an 8-inch pie plate. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 8 minutes. Cool.

Pour filling into crust. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry, gradually adding sugar. Pile meringue over filling, sealing to edges of crust. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 4 to 5 minutes. Chill 2 to 3 hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Nutty Drink Uses Peanut Butter, Milk

Proof that our palates have been mighty well satisfied by some foods is the fact that you'll most always find or want those foods in the house.

* * *

Two of those foods are milk and peanut butter, which are among the foods donated to needy families by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

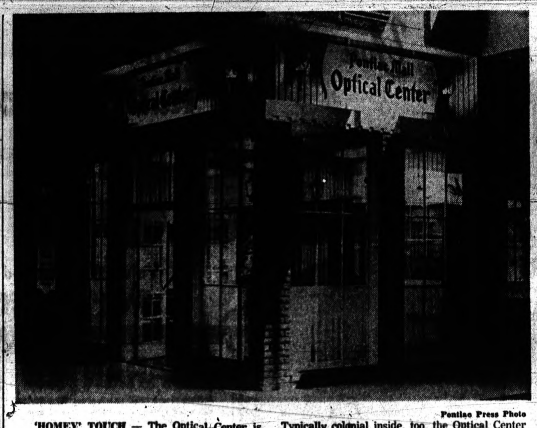

* * *

Both the dried milk and the peanut butter are wholesome foods, and here's a recipe for combining them into a delightful, nutritious beverage called Peanut Butter Milk. Prepare it like this:

To serve six, you'll need 1½ cups of nonfat dry milk, 2 tablespoons of sugar, 6 cups of water and ½ cup of peanut butter.

Add dry milk and sugar to the water and heat, stir or shake until smooth. Add gradually to the peanut butter and mix well.

You may find it easier to shred dried beef by tearing it with your fingers than by cutting it with a knife.

'HOMEY' TOUCH — The Optical Center is Pontiac Mall's only colonial-styled building, designed to give it a "homey" atmosphere. Typically colonial inside, too, the Optical Center is large, providing five examination and consultation rooms, a lab and reception room.

Likes 'Homey' Atmosphere

Dr. Paul C. Feinberg, Oakland County optometrist, believes a "homey" atmosphere in his place of business puts customers at ease and encourages them to browse.

The new Pontiac Mall Optical Center is a good example of Dr. Feinberg's "homey" touch.

Easily identifiable, the Optical Center is the only store with a colonial front in Pontiac Mall. And, like a typical colonial, it's roomy.

The building covers 1,500 square feet and contains a reception room, two examination rooms, three consultation rooms and a laboratory.

Customers in the reception room and shoppers passing outside the building can watch Dr. Feinberg at work in the lab through windows he had specially installed.

* * *

Putting his lab work on display, the doctor said, is designed to encourage customers to leave their glasses for repair while they shop.

DR. P. C. FEINBERG

Other services of the Optical Center include eye examinations, providing contact lenses and fitting and servicing hearing aids.

In addition, the Optical Center carries a large selection of domestic and imported frames, safety glasses and prescription sun glasses.

14-Year-Old Licks Farm Problem With Invention

WILLIAMSON, N.Y. (AP) — W. John Knapp is an inventor at 14, and the state agriculture department says he's licked a problem which has bothered farmers for years.

Farmers spraying their fields have a tough time telling what part they've sprayed and what part they've missed.

John filled a cylinder with chalk and attached it, by means of a special rod, to a farmer's spray rig. Every time the wheel of the spray rig turned, a measured amount of chalk dropped out of the cylinder, marking the field to show where it had been sprayed.

* * *

The agriculture department tested the device and said it saved them more than $500 in labor costs in 27 days of spraying.

Seek to Find Reason Fish Fail to Migrate

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Scientists at Oregon State University are studying the migration urge in steelhead trout and salmon to find out why so many of the younger fish generation seem to have lost it.

* * *

The fish normally spend their first one or two years in fresh water, migrate to the sea for two or three years and then return upstream to spawn in fresh water.

Young fish in increasing numbers are failing to make their seaward migration, remaining in the streams to die without producing young.

Higher Syrup Quality

As a result of research conducted by Michigan State University, the maple syrup industry is making rapid changes in Michigan. The per cent of maple syrup which is top grade has increased from 50 per cent just ten years ago, to more than 80 per cent during the past two years reports the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Celery and Corn Good in Chili

You might like to try this new combination of ingredients for chili, put together by a fine cook.

Bonnie's Chili

1 to 2 tablespoons salad oil
1 medium onion (chopped)
1 pound lean ground beef
2 ribs celery (diced)
2 cloves garlic
1 can (1 pound) and 1 can (8 ounces) red kidney beans
1 can (12 ounces) whole kernel corn
Salt, pepper and chili powder to taste.

Heat oil in a large skillet. Add onion and beef; cook over moderate heat, mashing with a fork so beef crumbles, until it loses its red color. Add celery and garlic, kidney beans and corn (including liquid in all 3 cans). Mix well and add salt, pepper and chili powder. Simmer 20 to 30 minutes or longer. Serve piping hot. Makes 6 servings.

Next time you are cooking split peas for soup, add a piece of salt pork.

Substantial Rice Salad Colored by Ham, Oranges

A pretty spring salad enchants the ladies and makes any get-together a party, as you'll find when you serve Mandarin Rice Salad.

Rice forms the base of this exotic and colorful dish. If you like, cook the rice the night before you need it and keep it refrigerated. Shortly before serving time, toss the rice with minced onion and cubes of green pepper and arrange it in the center portion of your salad bowl.

Then cut cooked ham into thin strips and place it on one side with drained Mandarin oranges on the other. Sprinkle with soy sauce, sugar and salad dressing and toss together lightly.

Let the salad set the theme of your party. Use straw mats on the table and bright orange napkins and decorations.

Since early spring weather is changeable, plan the rest of the menu according to the temperature. If the weather is cool, add ture. If the weather is cool, add day turns warm, finger sandwiches and iced spiced tea are a good choice.

Mandarin Rice Salad

1½ cups cooked ham, cut into ¼-inch strips
1½ cups cooked rice
⅓ cup diced green pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons sugar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1 11-ounce can (1 cup) Mandarin orange sections, drained
¼ cup French dressing

Chill all ingredients. Combine and toss lightly. Serve plain or on crisp salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

Variation: Canned luncheon meat may be substituted for the ham.

Can Be Good Bargain

For your information — Label stains, rust, or dents do not affect the contents of a can, as long as the can does not leak . . . Any container that leaks should be discarded.

CENTER OF ATTRACTION — The new Pontiac Mall Florist shop will be situated in the center of the public walking area, as shown in this architect's rendering. The shop will occupy 500 square feet in the south end of the Mall and offer a full range of floral services.

Touch of Europe

New Floral Shop Is 'Old'

A colorful "sidewalk" floral shop brings the carnival atmosphere of an old-fashioned European market place to the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center.

Doorless and roofless, the new Pontiac Mall Florists' Shop is surrounded only by displays of fruit baskets, trees, flowers and greenery which are sold there.

The multicolored exhibits of fruit and flowers are set in refrigerated display cases finished in natural wood. Low walls of Roman brick also are used to partition the shop off from the pedestrian area of the plaza.

Year-round operation of the shop is made possible by the unique roofed-in feature of the new shopping center at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

'ONLY ONE OF KIND'

The shop is the only one of its kind in the country, according to Harry W. Wachs, president of Pontiac Mall Flowers, Inc.

Wachs said Edward J. Nader, who has been in the floral business for 30 years in the Detroit area, will be general manager.

EDWARD J. NADER

The shop covers an area of 500 square feet in the south portion of the main plaza. The new business will have three of its own vans and an outside service to provide free delivery throughout the area, Nader said.

* * *

Nader explained the shop will specialize in flowers for weddings, funerals and industrial accounts as well as for customers who shop at the mall.

Chicken Kind to Dieters

Compared with other popular meats, serving for serving, chicken ranks lowest in calorie count . . . A three-ounce portion of skinless broiled chicken breast has approximately 115 calories; even with the skin, the count is only 185 . . . A serving of roast pork has 310 calories, market-ground hamburger has 245, and other meats have even higher counts for the same size serving.

Cream Deviled Ham Dip Starts Dinner Off Well

This Deviled Ham Dip will start any dinner off on a delicious note.

Chive Deviled Ham Dip

1½-ounce can deviled ham
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon cream-style horseradish
¼ cup fresh frozen chopped chives

Blend ham with sour cream, mustard, horseradish and chives. Serve well-chilled. Garnish with additional frozen chopped chives.

No Preservatives Added

It's a fact! Canned foods do not contain any preservatives . . . They keep only because they have been sterilized by heat and are protected by the container from contamination.

Using Nicotine to Trap Animals

Use of Sleep-Inducing Drug Is Becoming More Popular With Experts

WASHINGTON — The hazardous job of trapping wild animals for research may soon be as safe as knocking over ducks in a penny arcade.

★ ★ ★ ★

Increasingly, naturalists are using a sleep-inducing gun which fires a needle-tipped syringe. The injection of a nicotine solution paralyzes the animal, temporarily and harmlessly.

Though the gun is a modern tool, the idea is not new, the National Geographic Society says. For centuries South American Indians have used darts dipped in a special drug to capture live prey. The drug, probably a curare-type compound, has always been prepared in mystery and secrecy.

Two Georgia wild-life experts, frustrated by attempts to snare deer by nets and tastily baited traps, began experimenting with drug-shotting weapons in 1954.

HIT ON COMBINATION

Testing various paralytic drugs and firearms, the scientists hit upon an effective combination of nicotine, syringe, and gas gun.

The narcotic first stimulates and then paralyzes the nerve cells. The effect on animals might be likened to that of a strong cigar on a 9-year-old boy.

A rifle operated by carbon dioxide fires a metal syringe which empties on contact. Strength of the solution is varied according to the size of the animal.

★ ★ ★

For instance, in Yellowstone National Park, grizzly bears are being shot with anesthetics so tiny radios can be attached by a collar to broadcast the bears' whereabouts.

The five-year project, jointly sponsored by the National Geographic Society and National Science Foundation, hopes to learn from bears' patterns of movement why the once-common grizzly faces possible extinction.

Farmers are able to tranquilize cattle prior to shipping. Stock can be treated for pink eye, foot disease, and pneumonia at distances up to 120 feet.

★ ★ ★

Dogcatchers in at least one community have abandoned the traditional use of nets in favor of pellet guns.

Can You Wait? Researchers Say It Takes Training

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Do you pass up small pleasures now to enjoy bigger ones later?

The Harvard University Center for Research in Personality is studying this subject—the ability to delay gratification.

Tests with children indicate a majority will grab a bag of candy immediately rather than rely on a promise of double that amount if they wait a week.

Dr. Walter Mischel, who heads the project, says people can train themselves to delay taking something favorable immediately in order to gain something more desirable later on. However, he adds, not every adult gives himself this training.

School Officials Forget Just What's in a Name?

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Tucson's newest high school was named Palo Verde because of the beautiful desert tree which bears that name.

Now that construction is nearing completion, the school district has announced the key to landscaping the school grounds will be large date palms.

'Stay for Lunch, Fellas?'

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — James Holbrook, who recently moved from Denver, Colo., to Rochester, N.Y., simply told the firemen he was cooking steak "the only way it should be cooked."

The firemen had answered a call that Holbrook's garage was on fire. They found him charcoal broiling steak beside the garage in near zero temperature.

Select Candidates for Congress in Five States

Ex-Senator, Taft's Son Win Decisively in Primaries

By The Associated Press

Former Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida and Robert Taft Jr., son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, won decisive primary election victories Tuesday in their bids for Congress.

Two other Florida candidates, Sen. George Smathers and Rep. Dante Fascell, also won Democratic renomination. Like Pepper, who was a staunch New Deal supporter in the '30s and '40s, they had strongly endorsed President Kennedy's program and had received the President's blessing.

Results of the voting in five states included:

★ ★ ★

OHIO—Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won Democratic renomination. A man named Kennedy—real estate man Richard D. Kennedy—led a field of 11 Democratic candidates to see who will oppose Taft in the November race for congressman-at-large.

INDIANA — All 11 incumbent congressmen were renominated.

WEST VIRGINIA — All six incumbent congressmen were renominated.

NEW MEXICO—State Rep. Jack M. Campbell won Democratic gubernatorial nomination and the state's two congressmen, both Democrats, were renominated.

DRAWS INTEREST

The Florida primary drew the most interest.

Sen. Smathers had little trouble in disposing of Roger L. Davis of Fort Lauderdale and Douglas R. Voorhees of Miami in his bid for a third term.

Fascell had a hard campaign with conservative State Sen. David Eldredge but came out on top. The liberal congressman has been Kennedy's most consistent supporter among the Florida delegation.

Pepper, whom Smathers pursued in the 1950 Democratic primary, made his comeback in the 3rd District. He campaigned hard for the President's program to finance medical care for the aged through Social Security.

★ ★ ★

The issue appeared to have drawn a mixed reaction in two other Democratic congressional primaries in Florida, a state gaining four new congressmen because of population gains.

One supporter of the Kennedy medical care program, chiropractor John A. Marcello, was defeated by Rep. D. R. Matthews, bidding for his sixth term in Congress.

Another Kennedy supporter, State Rep. L. B. Vocelle, made it into a runoff election with former State Sen. John A. Sutton in the 11th District.

In Ohio Lausche and Taft ran away from their opponents but DiSalle had stubborn opposition from Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy before winning the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. DiSalle had said at first he wouldn't seek a second term as governor, then changed his mind.

John Marshall Briley of Toledo, a former business executive and onetime state GOP finance chairman, won the Republican nomination to oppose Lausche. He nosed out State Sen. Charles Fry of Springfield and two other opponents.

★ ★ ★

Taft, leader of Republican forces in the Ohio House, easily outdistanced State Sen. Thomas Lowell Fess in their battle for the GOP nomination for congressman-at-large. Fess, like Taft, is the son of a late U.S. senator.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes crushed William L. White of Mount Vernon by a 10-1 margin for the Ohio Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Twenty-two Ohio congressmen won renomination. Only four had contests, and none was close. Rep. Gordon Scherer of Cincinnati, ranking Republican on the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities did not seek re-election.

Indiana's 11 incumbents also won renomination, six without a contest including House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck. Winning their primary tests were Republican Reps. Ray J. Madden and Winfield K. Denton.

★ ★ ★

In West Virginia, six incumbent congressmen cleared the primary hurdle. Only two—Democrats Ken Hechler and Elizabeth Kee—had contests. Each won easily.

Rep. Cleveland Bailey, a Democrat, and Rep. Arch A. Moore, a Republican, will fight it out in a new district in November due to West Virginia's loss of representation in the House from six to five because of a decline in population.

The New Mexico Democratic gubernatorial primary was a close race with Jack M. Campbell of Roswell beating Ed. V. Mead of Albuquerque. Campbell will meet Mechem, unopposed for the Republican nomination to his fifth term.

Rep. Joseph M. Montoya was well ahead of two rivals for the Democratic nomination. The state's other congressman, Rep. Thomas G. Morris, had no Democratic opposition for renomination.

The Warragamba Dam, a water supply project opened in 1960 near Sydney, Australia, is 450 feet high and 340 feet long.

Gulp Goldfish to Aid Higher -Uh-Education

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Fordham University students revived a campus cultural activity of decades past Tuesday. They swallowed 57 goldfish.

The four volunteers set up a table in the campus center and began the gulpathon to push lagging sales of tickets for a Saturday night Roaring Twenties party. Every time a ticket was purchased, one of the volunteers would swallow a 1-inch goldfish.

★ ★ ★

By day's end Don Ross had swallowed 24, Gary Oswald had downed 14, Ed Morris had consumed 14 and Bob Bogucki had gulped 5.

Bogucki said he would have swallowed more but had to get to a class.

Niles Lawyer Seeks Rep. Hoffman's Seat

LANSING (AP)— Lee Boothby, a Niles attorney and avowed conservative, today became the fourth Republican candidate to announce that he will seek the congressional seat being vacated by Rep. Clare Hoffman of Allegan.

A constitutional convention delegate, the 29-year-old Boothby said his experience in the convention had convinced him he should wage an all-out battle "to recover some of the constitutional powers and rights that the founding fathers reserved to the states and individuals."

Boothby will try to wrest the GOP nomination for the 4th District congressional seat from two veteran campaigners and a newcomer.

* * *

The veterans are House Speaker Don Pears of Buchanan and former state Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Fennville, a constitutional convention vice president. The political newcomer is Benton Harbor attorney Chester Byrns.

Couple Marries in Hospital—Groom in Casts

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)— Phyllis Irene Jarvis of Gravesend, Kent, England, and Norman Barrett of Kansas City were married Tuesday in Room 301 at Research Hospital.

The bride wore a white dress with orchid corsage. The bridegroom wore a hospital gown with casts on right leg and left arm.

Norman and Phyllis, both 25, met in 1960 when he was visiting England. They started making wedding plans. She had trouble arranging entry into the United States. He was called to active duty with the Air Force Reserve. Phyllis finally arrived April 18, but on March 28 Norman had wrecked his car. He'll be in casts at least three more months.

"I'll take him, broken leg and all," said Mrs. Barrett.

In 1961 the United Kingdom census is expected to show a total population of 53 million compared with 15½ million in 1821.

July Draft Call Up Set at 5,000 Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's July draft quota will be 5,000 men—the smallest call since the beginning of partial mobilization last summer. The largest was 25,000 in September.

The July quota, the Defense Department announced Tuesday, will maintain the authorized Army strength of 960,000 by offsetting the release of reservists and National Guardsmen who will be leaving active duty.

Dentist Sued, Woman Says She Can't Kiss Now

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. David Hashagen of Nixa, Mo., has sued a Springfield dentist for $30,000, alleging she took his advice to have a wisdom tooth removed almost a year ago and as a result is impaired in eating, speaking and kissing.

The suit was filed Tuesday against Dr. Paul Bunch.

"Plaintiff's ability to form (sic) the age-old art of kissing has been impaired and lost," says Mrs. Hashagen's petition. She contends the extraction did physical violence to her nerves and damaged her lower jawbone.

Miss Parsons was hospitalized April 10 in serious condition, suffering from shingles and pneumonia. She was released Tuesday.

U. N. to Start Returning 42,000 Baluba Refugees

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The United Nations Command has started transferring more than 42,000 Baluba tribesmen who have been jamming a ramshackle refugee camp outside this provincial capital for nearly eight months.

The command hopes to return 3,000 Balubas weekly to their native townships. They flocked here last September seeking U.N. protection from their political foe, Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

How do you measure 30 years?

Ask Norman Wachler.

That's him about to board a jet for Cannes, France. Reason? The Petrocelli International Fashion Festival for men's clothing. A very important event in the world of men's wear, for here the styles and trends of the future will be charted.

Only the leading international style authorities have been invited to attend. Out of this handful, Mr. Wachler, Director of Merchandising for Osmun's, has been chosen. A very rare honor . . . something like the winning of an Academy Award and the World Series combined.

But behind the achievement, an interesting parallel. Petrocelli has long been recognized as a leader in fine men's suits. The style and calibre of tailoring have found the favor of important men throughout America. The Petrocelli goal has consistently been nothing short of becoming No. 1. The International Fashion Festival confirms this leadership.

For over thirty years Osmun's, too, has had a goal: To be the one authentic source of correct fashion for men's clothing in all Oakland County. As a result, only the best manufacturers' names (like Petrocelli) will ever be sold at Osmun's.

That's why this trip means so much to us. It confirms what many of our friends have said for three decades: "I don't have to know about fashion. I know Osmun's."

Life Was Empty Until She Found Someone to Talk To

By HELENA FROST
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — Everyone has had a blue mood and felt the relief of reaching for the telephone and talking it out with a friend. Multiply that mood a hundredfold and you will understand the despair of Anna Petrov who jumped from a third floor window . . . because she could not find someone to talk to.

Today she walks with a crutch. And she walks with serenity.

She still has her up and down moods like the rest of us. But she no longer touches bottom and she knows "it will pass and I'll laugh again."

Anna learned to laugh at the Brooklyn Day Hospital in New York City, where she finally found someone to talk to. But let's go back . . .

* * *

To begin with her name isn't Anna Petrov. She chooses anonymity as protection against social stigma, but she is eager to tell her story to help the National Association for Mental Health in its effort to hammer home the truth about mental illness; to reach those who still cling to the old superstitions and who refuse to accept the truth that mental illness is an illness, to be diagnosed, treated and often cured.

Her story is for the fearful ones, especially women approaching menopause. (For Mrs. Petrov has recovered from involutional psychosis, a mental disorder that occurs during changing years of a woman's life from 30 to 55.

She was only 35 when the premature menopause of a hysterectomy triggered a breakdown.

MANY FEARS

Whether by nature or surgery, a woman who can no longer bear children is apt to be invaded by niggling fears of losing her femininity, sexual enjoyment or ability to hold her husband.

These fears have little basis, as many women learn. A count of the glamorous women of stage and screen who have passed their child-bearing years can be reassuring.

The woman who goes through a hysterectomy often can be prepared for a psychological repercussion. But there was no time to prepare Anna for the imagined threat to her womanhood. Fear struck in the guise of depression.

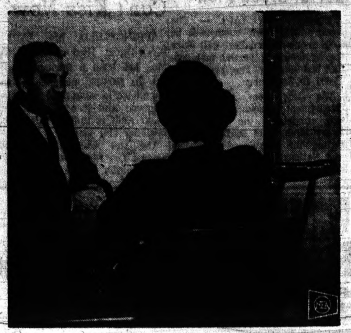

"I couldn't do a thing," she remembers, "I never left the house. I felt useless, I wasn't doing enough for my family . . ."

Inadequacy, self-depreciation, perfectionism, all are typical of involutional psychosis, according to her physician, Dr. Floyd Carneal, psychiatrist-in-charge of the Day Hospital.

* * *

Treatment of mental illness in day hospitals was introduced in New York State when Dr. Paul Hoch became commissioner of the Department of Mental Hygiene.

The Brooklyn Day Hospital, a unique service for former patients, was launched in 1956, under the direction of Dr. Donald M. Carmichael, who heads the Department's Aftercare Clinic Program for New York City.

"In the menopause there is, of course, a physical change. But mostly it's emotional," said Dr. Carneal. "Instead of looking toward the future you begin to look back and think of all you haven't done with your life."

Anna's crisis came in 1955. "That's when this depression began, this impulse, this urge . . .

"I needed to talk. I needed someone to talk to." She meant someone trained to listen; for she could always talk to her husband. He was always there and eager to help her, but helpless.

* * *

Meanwhile the dark place was spreading in her mind, the pressure to stop living.

The first time, she cut her wrists and drank iodine. They patched her up at the hospital and recommended electric shock treatment. At that time "shock" was used more than it is today.

Ben Petrov isn't rich, but he sent his wife to a psychiatrist who gave her a course of treatments and prescribed one of the new drugs. But "shock" and the drug failed to penetrate the dark place in her mind.

She continued leafing the pages:

"We live on the first floor, but sometimes we visited friends who lived high up . . . and I'd have to fight it. And one night Ben took me to see some people . . . on the third floor . . . I didn't want to go and I didn't know how to tell him . . ."

She looked down at her quiet hands. ". . . so we went, and I went into the bathroom and I said, 'Oh God, please take me . . .'" She jumped out of the window.

Both legs and hips were broken and several vertebrae fractured. Anna stayed in the hospital for nine months of operations and pain.

* * *

A year later they wanted to operate again. Anna Petrov shook her head.

The thought of an operation was too much. She told her husband she needed help and he took her to a state mental hospital. They put her on antidepressant drugs which helped her; when she went home they sent her to the Aftercare Clinic for convalescent treatment.

* * *

But again she began slipping into depression. They assigned her to the Clinic's Day Hospital. Treatment included intensive psychotherapy.

At last, someone to talk to . . .

Dr. Carneal gave her individual psychotherapy. Twice a week she had group therapy—talking with other patients, guided by the doctor.

"At first she didn't say a word," he said, "but then nothing could stop her. She graduated a year ago, but she still likes to come to our group sessions.

"She's very good for the others. She tells them, 'I felt the way you do and got over it.' Or she comes to the rescue of someone who's being picked on and defends him in her gentle way."

They call it "graduation" at the Day Hospital; patients are "members," they attend "classes," and go to the corner drugstore for lunch.

The lack of hospital atmosphere is therapeutic. So are classes in office work, music, dressmaking and current events.

Mrs. Petrov now goes to night high school and looks forward to a diploma which fate denied her. At 16 she had to leave school to support her sisters and brothers when her father died.

NOT AFRAID

"I used to worry about examinations," she says. "I have to take my Regents examinations, and I think I'll make it. But if I don't, I've learned not to be afraid of failure, because failure can be a step to success."

So Anna Petrov found someone to talk to. And able to talk, she became able to listen. "And when you listen," she says with perspective, "you learn that everybody has problems, often worse than yours. You learn to appreciate what you have and how to live with it."

NEXT: Bob Dahl's story.

Some Interests Appear on Solid Ground

Estes Surrounded by Creditors

(Editor's Note—This is another in a series of dispatches on Billie Sol Estes and the collapse of his agricultural empire in west Texas.)

PECOS, Tex. (UPI)—In the days when he was riding high as the executive head of a business empire worth $150 million Billie Sol Estes liked to tell interviewers, "I'm just a little boy with an office by the side of the road."

A sign on the front door of that office today reads: "The Billie Sol Estes enterprises are under the jurisdiction of the United States District Court and Harry Moore is the receiver. Nothing shall be removed from these premises without court authority."

Estes is 37 years old. Seven years ago he was a routine millionaire in the sense that he was worth $1 million, and it must be true that the first million is the hardest. Once he got over the first hurdle, he began to pile up money with incredible speed and controlled or had an interest in 40 companies, from a funeral home to a grain storage organization.

But his descent was even faster, in the last four months his business enterprises have been put into receivership and he is under indictment by the federal government on 57 charges of fraud. There will be a meeting of Estes' creditors in El Paso on May 23.

You can get a fast idea of the sprawling nature of Estes' organization and the extent of the trouble he is in from the fact that the federal district court has notified 564 creditors that they can appear and try to salvage some assets.

'ASSETS $54 MILLION'

There is an erroneous impression that every enterprise in which Estes engaged now is on the rocks. Investigations still are under way, but so far some of his companies appear to be in good shape. Estes estimates his assets at $54 million but that is subject to a court review.

What got him into trouble is a metal cylinder about 7 feet long and painted white. It is called an anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tank. When you feed its contents into an irrigation ditch, it gives a terrific boost to growing cotton. The price of a tank is about $1,000.

Using his credit, Estes began buying large orders of anhydrous ammonia from Commercial Solvents Corp. Then he began slashing prices to west Texas farmers and underselling competitors in an attempt to drive them out of business.

* * *

Before the roof fell in, Estes had succeeded in becoming one of the world's largest distributors of anhydrous ammonia. He used some of the money derived from the farmers to get into the grain storage business expecting to get heavy government fees for storing crops.

Into the picture now comes Alan Propp and Oscar Griffin, general manager and editor of the Pecos Independent, a newspaper published on Monday and Thursday with a circulation of 3,450. There was a lot of talk going on around Pecos when the farmers came to town about "10 per cent," and all of it seemed to be connected with Estes. Griffin began investigating.

UNCOVERS STORY

This is the story he finally uncovered:

Estes, in partnership with a tank-manufacturing concern, Superior Manufacturing Co., would approach farmers and tell them his credit was over-extended, but that he needed some fertilizer tanks. The farmer was asked to buy some tanks from the Superior Manufacturing Co., on credit, sign a mortgage for them and then lease the tanks to Estes.

The farmer was promised a cash bonus of 10 per cent of the purchase price and Estes agreed to make the lease payments precisely the same amount of money as the mortgage would cost.

It sounded like a good deal, and the farmers in this area had great confidence in Estes. They began signing the mortgages and some of them, it is said, without reading the documents.

Estes took the farmers' mortgages and sold them at a discount to finance companies.

"With the 10 per cent cash payments he was making to the farmers and the discount to the finance companies, he must have been paying close to 30 per cent for his money," said a Pecos business executive.

* * *

What the Pecos Independent's investigation disclosed was that there were 16,000 tank mortgages on file in Reeves County alone. The number in west Texas was in excess of 33,000, and that, said a business man, "was enough to fertilize everything from here to California."

The inevitable conclusion was that Estes had been collecting mortgages on tanks which didn't exist and there was testimony in one court action that he admitted that such was the case—"those tanks just aren't there."

The finance committees called a meeting in Dallas to decide what to do, and some of them filed suit against Estes. The Federal Bureau of Investigation moved, and the Texas attorney general's office got to work.

Documents in connection with the fertilizer tank transactions had been put in the mails, which placed the whole thing into interstate commerce and in the jurisdiction of the federal government. A federal grand jury brought in an indictment against Estes and a federal district court put his enterprises into receivership.

Don't Worry Over Birthmark

U. of M. Scientist Says Chances Remote It Is Cancerous

ANN ARBOR — Worried about your birthmark becoming cancerous?

* * *

Don't, for the chances are so remote that cancer will develop, it is not worth worrying about, states Dr. E. Richard Harrell, professor in the dermatology department at the University of Michigan.

He says birthmarks fall into two categories: the mole and the blood vessel tumor. The latter is subdivided into three major types:

The "strawberry" where the tumor is composed of a large network of small blood vessels, close to the skin's surface.

The "cavernous birthmark" which is located deep in the skin and usually involves veins. This type of birthmark often displaces a large area of skin.

* * *

The "portwin stain" is a perfectly flat mark, bluish to purplish in color, but not close to the skin's surface. This one is most likely to "persist throughout life and is often found on the face and neck," the U. of M. dermatologist said.

The San Juan river in Utah flows 8½ miles to advance one linear mile.

12 Schools Entered

Elephant Race All Set

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)—There's no ivy in the halls of 3-year-old Orange County State College.

* * *

But there's going to be plenty of ivory on campus Friday when the school hosts the world's first intercollegiate elephant racing meet.

Orange County says it has 12 entries lined up—and may get one more—as a result of what started as a tongue-in-cheek challenge to an elephant race to 18 universities two weeks ago.

WIRE FROM NIXON

Since then the school has been flooded with inquiries and good wishes. Administrators even got a telegram from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who advised the sponsoring elephant racing club: "Best of luck to you. I know from sad experience that there's more to pachyderm racing than meets the eye."

* * *

The elephants, rented from circuses, zoos and animal farms for $150 and up, come in a variety of sizes.

The largest is a five-ton gray eminence nicknamed, by students of sponsoring Chapman College, "Calvin Coolidge"—because he doesn't choose to run.

Harvard's entry, weighing 4½ tons, is named "Sonita." There's a dainty entrant called "Popsie," sponsored by Santa Monica City College.

* * *

Other entries come from the University of Nevada, California Institute of Technology, California State Polytechnic at Pomona, California Lutheran, Long Beach State, Santa Ana College, Fullerton Junior College and the Northrop Institute of Technology at nearby Inglewood.

Tiger Victory Famine Comes to an End

Regan, Kaline Pace 10-1 Win at Los Angeles

Phil Pitches 6-Hitter, Al Garners 3 Safeties and 4 RBI

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With right-hander Phil Regan hurling his best game of the year and his mates raking Los Angeles pitchers for 13 hits, the Detroit Tigers ended the victory drought last night, 10-1.

★ ★ ★

Regan turned in a neat six-hitter as the Tigers snapped out of a five-game losing streak and at the same time ended a four-game string of victories by the Angels.

Detroit manager Bob Scheffing elected Jim Bunning (3-1) to hurl against the Angels' Ted Bowsfield (1-0) tonight in an attempt to keep both of the new streaks going.

Al Kaline was the backbone of the Tiger attack last night, starting things off with a two-run homer, his eighth, in the first and adding a single and triple later for a total of four runs batted in.

★ ★ ★

His triple drove in one of the Tigers' five runs in a big third inning when they dispatched Los Angeles starter and loser Eli Grba to the dressing room and continued the assault on Bob Botz, the first of four successors.

HITTING PITCHER

Regan himself had a double and two singles, and drove in two runs, as he evened his season mark at 2-2. He struck out seven and walked only three.

The only real damage came in the fifth, when former Tiger Steve Bilko slammed a 425-foot homer into the Chavez Ravine bleachers to ruin Regan's shutout.

Kaline's first-inning clout, coming after a lead-off single by Jake Wood, staked Regan to all the runs he would need. But the Bengals got five in the third on five hits, two errors and two passed balls, and a walk.

★ ★ ★

Regan opened with a double and Wood walked. Billy Bruton laid down a bunt but Grba threw the ball wild in an attempt to get Regan at third, allowing two runs to score. Bruton moved to third on a passed ball.

★ ★ ★

Kaline got a life when his pop foul was dropped and drilled a triple to score Bruton, then came home on Norm Cash's single. Cash advanced to third on another passed ball and Rocky Colavito's long fly, stayed there as Dick McAuliffe beat out a hit and scored on a bloop single by Chico Fernandez.

The Tigers got two more in the sixth, as McAuliffe and Fernandez opened with walks off Jim Donohue, who was quickly replaced by Art Fowler. Regan got his second hit, a single, to score both runners.

Detroit added its final run in the ninth off ex-Tiger Tom Morgan. Bruton opened with a triple — his second hit — and scored on Kaline's single.

Heming Edges Friday for Lakewood Title

N. Heming has been named winner of the women's division of the Lakewood Lanes High Score Tournament in a field of 54.

★ ★

Her 682 edged Mrs. A. Friday by one pin in the handicap battle and was good for $31.05 and a trophy given by the establishment. Mrs. Friday won $15.52.

L. Uerbeck took 3rd with 674 for $9.32 and 4th was E. Patrick at 667 to earn $6.21.

Heming's 550 was high actual series. Big actual game was a 255 rolled by Mrs. Friday which fell just short of giving her the crown.

★ ★

The ladies taking part had earned the right to compete by turning in high scores at Lakewood in league play during the season.

Waterford, Walled Lake Win Meets

Chiefs Top Huskie Runners

Which team is better — Pontiac Northern or Waterford?

If comparative scores against Pontiac Central are used, the Huskies rate a two-point edge.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs crushed PNH at Wisner Field yesterday 94½ to 14½. In doing so, Central runners took all 13 first places, Waterford lost to Central 96½ to 12½ in an earlier meeting.

The Skippers turned in a 70½ to 38½ victory over Milford yesterday.

Theo Hindman was the only double winner for the Chiefs. He copped the 100 and 220 dashes.

Ed Perry of Northern trailed Hindman across the finish line in both events to post two of the Huskies' four second places. Northern also has two thirds and a tie for third.

No outstanding times were recorded in the running events because of the cold weather.

Elick Shorter got off shot put of 51-8½ and John Stewart and Lessel Hanspard tied for first in the pole vault at 11-6.

CHANGED EVENTS

Wilbert Preston switched from the 880 to the mile and beat teammate Art Fowlkes. Jim Smith took over in the half mile and won for the Chiefs.

John Harris, Northern's top thinclad, placed second to Charles Graves in the broad jump.

This meet was the final dual for the Chiefs before they participate in the Saginaw Valley championships Friday. Waterford and Northern get together Thursday on the PNH track. It should be a close meet.

★ ★ ★

Milford held its crack miler Ted Nelson out of the Waterford meet but it didn't make any difference. The Skippers had too much depth.

DOUBLE WIN

Chuck Cole won both hurdles for Waterford while Rich Nichols took the 100 and broad jump for the Redskins and tied for first in the high jump.

Other winners for Waterford were both relay teams, Dick Pelherridge, 880; Gary Bahling, 440; Bill Coleman, 220; George Irwin, shot; and Gary Rieves in the pole vault.

Walled Lake won a triangular with Redford Union and Farmington. The Vikings scored 60½ points, Farmington 56 and Redford 19⅔.

Jack Patterson of Farmington was the only double winner, taking both hurdle races.

Walled Lake winners were Dick Sturgeon, shot; Steve Pitcher, pole vault; both relay teams; Ray Nelson, 880; Jim Webb, 440 and Norm Mosely, 220.

WINS LOW HURDLES—Charlie Humphries of Pontiac Central starts to pull away in the 180-yard low hurdles yesterday at Wisner Field. Humphries' victory helped the Chiefs gain a sweep of all first places in their 94½ to 14½ conquest of Pontiac Northern.

Barons, Oxford Win on Cinders

Bloomfield Hills and Oxford posted impressive track victories yesterday.

The Barons whipped Northville 77⅓ to 31⅓. Oxford finished its regular season with a 10-0 mark by scoring 73½ points to 51½ for Romeo and 12 for Armada.

West Bloomfield clipped Brighton 87-22 and Ortonville edged Goodrich 55-54.

Art Tregenza was the only double winner for the Hills. He won the high jump and broad jump. Dick Bathey of Northville set school records in both hurdles, running the highs in 15.5 and the lows in 20.3.

Other winners for the Barons were John Schweppe, 220; Fritz Stressen-Reuter, 100; Brian Bish, pole vault; Bob Richards, 880; the 880 (Dave Noye, Stressen-Reuter, Schweppe and Roger Stewart) and the mile (Jack Armitrong, Tom Hoopengardner, Bob Smith and Stewart) relays; and Hoopengardner, mile.

★ ★ ★

Bob Powell won both hurdles for Oxford while Bill Savage took the 100 and 220 for Romeo.

TRIPLE WINNER

Dan Craig was the big winner for West Bloomfield. He won the broad jump, 100 and 220 and ran a leg on the winning 880 relay team.

The Lakers took 11 first places and scored slams in the shot put, mile and 440.

Ortonville's mile relay won to decide its meet with Goodrich and keep the Black Hawks unbeaten in three meets.

Chiefs, St. Fred Win Golf Matches

Pontiac Central and St. Frederick scored golf victories Tuesday in dual meets at Pontiac Municipal golf course.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs defeated Waterford Kettering, 208-220, with Phil Thingstad of PCH and Kettering's Mike Kimmerer each shooting 39 to share medal honors. Tom McGrath and Mark Foster each carded 40 for PCH.

St. Fred trimmed Orchard Lake St. Mary on the links for the 2nd straight day behind the excellent firing of Charlie Dean, who rifled an even par 34 to pace a 4-1 decision. Frank Kladzyk shot 44 in defeat.

★ ★ ★

St. Fred had a four-man total of 168 to Orchard Lake's 205. PCH and Kettering waged a five-man match.

It's Mrs. Campsie on Miserable Day at Knollwood, C.C.

Mrs. Frank Campsie of Grosse Ile was a little better than anyone else Tuesday in the Women's District Golf Association tournament on a wet, chilly and thoroughly miserable day at Knollwood Country Club.

Mrs. Campsie carded 42-41—83 for a two-stroke margin of victory in the WDGA's 2nd weekly event of the 1962 season. Mrs. John Hume, formerly of Essex and now registering from Beach Grove, took runnerup honors with 43-42—85.

In the best-ball division of the tourney, Mrs. Campsie and Mrs. Daniel Dayton of Barton Hills combined for a winning score of 73.

Forty-four players competed yesterday. Leading scores:

Ice Skating Group Latest AAU Critic

CHICAGO (AP)—From a relatively chill quarter, another shot was fired today at the reeling National Amateur Athletic Union by the Ice Skating Institute of America.

★ ★ ★

The skating institute Tuesday opened a three-day session with a blast directed at the United States Figure Skating Association which represents the AAU in international competition.

★ ★ ★

The AAU long has been bombarded by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which has launched national federations for track, basketball and gymnastics to operate independently from the AAU.

The Ice Skating Institute, headed by Mike Kirby, once a partner of Sonja Henie, is composed of 150 rink owners from throughout the country.

SAFE AT THIRD—Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers gets safely into third last night on a third inning triple. Felix Torres makes the play for Los Angeles. Kaline also had a homer and single to lead the Bengals to a 10-1 victory.

Tasby Delivers Key Hits

2 New Additions Reward Indians

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul, a wheeling and dealing type in the Frank Lane manner but a little slower and surer before he pulls the trigger, has come up with a pair of key additions to the Indians in pitcher Dick Donovan and outfielder Willie Tasby.

★ ★ ★

The two players, both acquired from Washington, carried the Indians to a 6-3 triumph over Minnesota Tuesday night that pulled second-place Cleveland to within one game of the American League leading New York Yankees.

Paul, who previously pulled the strings for Cincinnati, got Donovan in the trade that sent Jim Piersall to Washington and raised a howl from Cleveland fans. He picked up Tasby for two lesser lights in a deal that raised not an eyebrow.

SWINGS BAT

But Tasby raised a couple against the Twins. The 29-year-old righty swinger who hit .251 last season, made his first start for the Indians and responded with a 2-for-5 performance, knocking in three runs, including what proved to be the clincher in a two-run seventh inning.

In the stanza, Donovan aided his own cause with a bases-loaded single that accounted for one run before Tasby stroked his hit for the decisive run.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 34-year-old right-hander, who led the AL with a 2.40 earned run average while posting a 10-10 record last season, is the first hurler in the league to win five.

Meanwhile, Al Kaline drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, leading Detroit to a 10-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels in the only other game played. Boston-New York, Kansas City-Baltimore and Chicago - Washington were postponed due to rain.

CALL FOR HELP

Donovan had a 6-1 lead going into the ninth when the Twins, with a four-game win streak on the line, began to make menacing guestures. Lennie Green's homer after Bernie Allen singled chased Donovan. Reliever Barry Latman gave up singles to Rich Rollins and Harmon Killebrew before ending it by striking out pinch hitter George Banks. Jim Kaat was the loser.

★ ★ ★

The Indians had just scored two insurance runs in the top half of the inning as Ty Cline drove in one and the other scored when Don Dillard crashed into Twins' first baseman, Don Mincher as he stretched for a bad throw. Mincher had to be carried from the field, and was taken to a hospital with a possible concussion.

Stirling Moss' Racing Career May Be Ended

LONDON (AP)—Star auto race driver Stirling Moss suffered such severe brain injuries in his April 23 crackup that it may end his racing career, a hospital report implied today.

★ ★ ★

"Now that the conscious level is so much improved and he has quite lengthy and lucid periods, it is possible to say with certainty that he has a marked weakness of the whole of the left side of the body, involving face, arm and leg," the hospital said. "This weakness is due to severe bruising on the right side of the brain."

★ ★ ★

"There is a possibility that full recovery of the functions in the arm and leg will not take place," the report added.

THE PALMER METHOD

SWING INSIDE THE LINE OF FLIGHT

Feeling that you're swinging inside the line of flight at all times will help any golfer's swing.

On the downswing, my left hand -- which guides the clubhead's path -- is as close as is comfortably possible to my body. I want the clubhead to approach the ball from the inside.

The result of such a swing is a slight draw, in which the ball curves from right to left and runs for a long way after it lands.

Staying inside on the follow-through is important, too. Keep the back of your left hand facing the target for as long as is possible.

Spring Grid Games at M-MSU Saturday

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Football steals in the college sports picture for a one-day stand Saturday afternoon on the gridirons of Michigan and Michigan State.

At MSU it will be the annual Spartan-Old Timers contest featuring 23 pros and numerous All-Americans among the 49-player alumni squad.

This year a touring troupe of the grads headed by Al Dorow and Dan Currie visited various cities around Michigan to promote the contest as something more than just a scrimmage.

PROS LISTED

Dorow, now quarterback for the New York Titans, is the player-coach of the Old Timers. "People don't realize that the alumni team is not just a pick up squad. There are some great football players on the team, and more than half of them are in pro ranks today," Dorow commented.

"We are stacking the deck against coach Duffy Daugherty and the varsity team," Dorow added, "they know we will be tougher than any team they will have to face next season."

Actually the two teams will be pretty evenly matched in weight. This forthcoming MSU varsity is said to be one of the largest in school's history. The Alumni team will go about 270 pounds per average on the defensive line and 250 pounds average on the offensive line.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans' varsity line, some of whom go both ways, hits the scales around 240 pounds led by Jim Bobbitt, Dave Berhmann, Ed Budde and Ernie Clark.

For the Old Timers such names as Lynn Chadnois, Don Coleman, Bill Quinlan, Walt Kowalczyk, Sam Williams, Jim Nicowski, Norm Masters, Dave Kaiser, Earl Morrall, Gary Ballman, Dorne Dibble and many others who have made the "great" list of Spartan gridders.

Starting time for game is 1:30 p.m. and a crowd of 10,000 is expected Saturday.

ELLIOTT TO WATCH

At Ann Arbor, four squads of Wolverines will be arranged into two units with coach Bump Elliott sitting up in the press box to watch his 1962 prospects in action.

Assistant coaches Hank Fonde and Jack Fouts will handle one squad while Bob Holloway, Jocko Nelson and Don Dufek coach the other. When spring drills started, coach Elliott listed positions he felt were on the critical list. "We feel we've made some progress," Elliott said, "and we've tested some potential in critical line slots."

Definite progress in uncovering potential has been made in three of these critical spots. Sophomores Jim Green of Trenton, Brian Patchen of Steubenville, O., and Dave Seamon of Grand Rapids have all shown enough to brighten the center position where letterman Lou Pavloff was the only one available. Now there is a possibility Pavloff will be switched back to guard. The former Hazel Park gridder was a member of The Press All-County team and Outstanding Player in 1957.

Right tackle was the biggest problem on the line but 230-pound Jim Wiley of Portland, Ore., and Arnie Simkus of Detroit have bridged the gap. Bruce McLemin of Fenton and Bill Dodd of Virden, Ill., are the leading fullback candidates.

Game time at Ann Arbor Saturday is 2:00 p.m.

Giants Nip Cards, Lead by 4 Games

By The Associated Press

San Francisco's surging Giants march on while other National League contenders stand still—or worse. And whatever became of that multiple-team, wire-to-wire pennant race?

★ ★ ★

Taking on their closest pursuer and an old pitching nemesis Tuesday night the Giants carried away a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their lead to a neat four games.

To gain the narrow win, the Giants had to beat Larry Jackson—who had whipped them eight straight times over a two-season span—and withstand a late Cardinal threat. But they did both on the tough pitching of Juan Marichal and the star hitting of Orlando Cepeda, winning for the 12th time in their last 13 games.

EXTRA INNING

Meanwhile, Los Angeles counter-rallied against Houston for a 9-6 decision in 10 innings, Philadelphia trimmed Cincinnati 6-4 and New York's Mets got out of last place for the first time in their young history and shoved Chicago into the cellar, downing the Cubs 3-1. The Milwaukee Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates were rained out.

★ ★ ★

The Marichal-Cepeda combination paced the Giants, with Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey chipping in with vital hitting help. Cepeda slugged a two-run double against Jackson in the first inning, then he and Alou connected for successive doubles in the eighth, breaking a 2-2 tie. Bailey came through with a single, delivering what proved to be the winning run.

The Cards counted a homer and double by Stan Musial and a homer by Carl Sawatski among the five hits off Marichal.

The amazing 41-year-old Musial, with a host of records already to his credit, climbed into the league batting lead with a .338 average. San Francisco's Harvey Kuenn, with 1-for-3, dropped to second at .331.

BLEW LEAD

The Dodgers dissipated a five-run lead against the rambunctious Colts but pulled it out behind the hitting of rookie Larry Burright and Maury Wills. Burright, who tripled and doubled earlier, legged out a bunt single off Bob Tiefenauer with two away in the 10th and moved to third on Frank Howard's pinch single. Wills then cashed in the winner with his third single of the night, then two more runs scored on Dick Farrell's wild pitch and catcher Merritt Ranew's bad throw.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati was given one chance after another by Philadelphia's shaky pitching and defense, banging out 15 hits, drawing four walks and helped along by three Phillie errors. But the telling figure was the 16 runners stranded by the Reds. Winning southpaw Chris Short yielded 12 hits before he was replaced in the eighth by Dallas Green, who was tagged for Frank Robinson's two-run single. Jack Baldschun took over for Green in the ninth with one on, gave up two singles, then finished with a flourish by setting down the final three batters without further trouble.

Spartan 9 Snaps U-D Win Streak

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan State scored four runs in the first inning and went on to snap the 14-game winning streak of University of Detroit, 7-3, here yesterday.

The defeat was the first of his collegiate career for Titan starter Ed Mier, who left in the seventh when the Spartans came up with three more runs, one of them a homer by Jeff Abrecht. Mier had won 11 straight.

The Spartans, an also-ran in the Big Ten, jumped on Mier for their first four runs after two were out. Dan Costello singled, Mier walked two to load the bases, and three runs came home on a triple by Jerry Lumianski.

Lumianski then scored what proved to be the decisive run on a single by Mel Chiljean.

Young in Another Brawl

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—Howie Young, veteran of many battles when he was a defenseman with the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, got involved in another one last night—as a spectator.

★ ★ ★

Young became embroiled in a tussle behind the players' bench with coach Eddie Bush of the Hamilton Red Wings, who defeated the Edmonton Oil Kings 7-4 to win the Memorial Cup.

Det. Sgt. Charles Bignell of the Kitchener police, who led Young away from the scene, ended in a hospital with facial injuries.

Police said Young was being held in custody. No charges were laid immediately.

★ ★ ★

Young, 24, was a tempestuous player during the 1960-61 season with the Wings. He was demoted last year to a Detroit farm club, the Edmonton Flyers of the Western League, where his deportment was exemplary.

Young had been serving as self-appointed cheerleader for the Oil Kings for the previous two games, he was leaping to the rail and whooping it up for the western visitors.

Eventually he was asked by H. M. Crosby, manager of Kitchener Memorial Gardens, to take his seat.

A new and interesting bowling league is shaping up in this sector and will likely be tried out during the summer.

Joe Foster, one of the outstanding local bowlers and a staff member at Huron Bowl, has been kicking around the idea and the result thus far has been the willingness of four establishments to give it a try.

Huron, West Side Recreation, Wonderland and Airway Lanes will each enter a team in a traveling league with a six-week season.

Each team will meet the others twice apiece. Playoffs will follow regular play with winner meeting the No. 3 finisher and the runner-up and last place five tangling. Plan would mean minimum of eight matches and maximum of 11 apiece.

Competition would follow pattern of National Bowling League. Each match will be divided. First half would feature team battles and the 2nd head-to-head contests between individuals. Points are acquired by beating assigned opponents and hitting high scores.

It is Foster's hope that a successful start in this trial run would encourage other keg houses to want to enter on a full-season basis come next fall.

Proprietors around Oakland County showed their interest in trying to beat other house teams when the 1st team play was held in conjunction with the Press Bowlerama tournament this season.

Lee Winchester, leader of Howe's Lanes Singles since March 31 opening day, got buried in an avalanche of sizzling last weekend scores to windup 4th at 917. Frank Green and Al Robinson of Clarkston hit 940 and 935, respectively, to finish 1-2 followed by Jack Topham, Waterford, with 927.

After Winchester were Larry Dowson (Drayton) 893, Bob Dedoe (Dearborn) and Ted Moore (Clarkston) 884, Pontiac's Sam Johnson 879, Howard Menzies Jr. (Pontiac) 877 and Bib Kuschel (Milford) 876.

Green won over $500 and Robinson over $350. Topham had high actual series of 943, Earl Card of Drayton high actual game 268 and Bill Tucker, Ortonville, top handicap game of 285.

Heading the pack at Moose Mixed Doubles meet at Huron after one round are Ellen Bolinger and Marvin Bailey with 1,255.

Bonnie Kuzak's Sylvan Lanes team gives WIBC tourney a try Friday. F. D. Stella Products of Airway, led by Marge Vanitvelt, will be list of local hopefuls May 15. Madison Junior High Student-Teacher tourney set for 300 following day.

Paul Horie happy about 300 in bowling match with Jim Sherwood at Nor-West. A 246 and 204 gave him 750. "I didn't get excited. As a matter of fact, the last two were the best balls I threw," he said. His previous best had been 289 causing him to ask Sherwood "what do I do now I've never been this far before," near end.

Skippers Knock PNH Out of I-L Lead

Waterford took advantage of wild pitching and poor fielding on the part of Pontiac Northern to knock the Huskies out of first place in the Inter-Lakes Conference, 10-4.

The Skippers needed only five hits and did all of their scoring in the first three innings. Dave Abel, Stan Grant and Paul Moran each had two rbi's for Waterford, while Mike Markham had a single and triple to lead the Northern hitting.

In the first inning, three walks in a row loaded the bases and Abel doubled to send two runs across. An error brought in another.

In Wayne-Oakland League play, Milford defeated Holly, 3-0, to move into a third place tie with the Broncos. John Sitko gave up three hits and struck out six for Milford, which scored two in the first inning on a walk, error, wild pitch and single by Ed Sparkman. Mark Watson singled in another run in the third.

Is Cass Lake on Way Back?

By DON VOGEL

The new ordinance regulating boat operation on waters in West Bloomfield Township could be the vehicle that will return Cass Lake to a position of one of the top fishing lakes in Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Before the boating and water ski boom came along, Cass was listed high on the list of desired waters by anglers in this part of the state.

When more and more boats began using the lake, anglers began heading for quieter waters. Some felt the big motors frightened the fish; others didn't like the waves kicked up by the larger boats; some decided the lake was getting too crowded.

Fishermen are bound to take advantage of the hours when water skiing is prohibited.

A good number of anglers still fish the lake, but the total is way down over previous years.

WIDE CHOICE

Anyone fishing Cass for the first time will find a wide variety of fish.

The smallmouth bass fishing has been very good in recent years. Good catches of speckled bass have been reported, particularly during the winter.

There is a large perch population and the lake has plenty of bluegills. Added benefits are walleyes, lake trout and rainbows.

Walleyes up to five pounds are taken by those who fish for them. The lakers run from three to eight pounds. Rainbows planted in the Clinton River have migrated down stream to the lake and each year one or two in the three pound class are taken while spawning in the Clinton. The lake was last stocked with rainbows in 1960.

★ ★ ★

Indications point to some of the best fishing in the area once new fishermen, or those returning after a number of years, learn the "spots."

No entries have been made in The Press Big Fish Derby. Rainbows, pike and bluegills are eligible. Black bass can be entered after June 1.

Weight only determines the winner. Residents of Oakland County are eligible and the fish must be caught on waters, other than commercial or private, in the county.

FOUR WINNERS

Pike and bass winners each will receive a $30 savings bond. Awards for the other two divisions are $25 bonds.

Bluegills are moving close to shore on most area lakes and can be taken with popping bugs. Bass are hitting on Pontiac Lake, the only one in the county where large and smallmouths can be taken all year.

John Welch of 4 Liberty St. took four bass including a four pounder on a nightcrawler harness at Pontiac Lake.

Bluegills and speckled bass are hitting on Kent Lake. The rainbows came alive on area lakes after last week's rain, but slowed with the cool weather.

★ ★ ★

Limit catches of walleyes were reported off Metropolitan Beach last week. But the fish were on the small side.

Elizabeth Lake produced several nice catches of rainbows last week with a few of the fish going 16 inches. The trout were found working the shallows just before the dropoff. Nightcrawlers proved to be the best bait.

★ ★ ★

Carp are starting their spawning runs up rivers and into the shallows. This is good news for the bow fishermen.

Hunting Permits in Novi Voided

Have 'No Authority' to Regulate Firearms Is Kelley's Opinion

An ordinance adopted by the village of Novi just before the 1961 hunting season requiring permits to hunt has been voided by an opinion from the state attorney general's office.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley said municipalities have no authority to adopt ordinances regulating the discharge of firearms if they interfere with state hunting regulations.

Ordinances also were nullified in Lansing Township, Ingham County; Flint Township, Genesee County; and Portage Township, Kalamazoo County.

"The legislature has occupied the entire field of game regulations including the manner of taking game and the type of guns to be used," Kelley told state conservation director Gerald E. Eddy, who sought the opinion.

"In so doing," he said, "the legislature has also legislated in the field of firearm safety."

The three townships took the action under a state law authorizing township boards to adopt ordinances regulating the health and safety of persons and property.

Honkers Are Spreading Out on Migrations

Where Does the Wild Goose Fly?

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Goose No. 345-9876, where are you?

If anyone knows, it's likely to be the biologist in charge of the W. K. Kellogg bird sanctuary near Gull Lake, R. D. Van Deusen, who is watching the traveling habits of some 2,000 banded Canada geese like a hawk.

As a sort of sociologist of the wildfowl world, "Van" is amassing evidence that many contemporary geese are honking at tradition and, good, good goose behavior. "In short, they've quit winging it straight south for the winter as their grandganders taught them.

There is also good reason to believe that the geese don't as generally supposed, start heading south from widespread summer nesting areas in northern Canada and then converge into concentrations on the flyways in a flight resembling a funnel with the spout pointing south.

"Many reports from hunters and others on the wild geese we've tagged here show the opposite probably is true," Van said. "Our geese tend to nest in a fairly small area on the west side of James Bay at the foot of Hudson Bay. By projecting the report data both the north and south ends of the migration, it appears that the flight funnel picture should actually be turned upside down with small end pointing north."

Bearing out his conclusion are the red dots he has spotted on a large relief map of eastern Canada and the United States, each dot indicating one to four certified reports of the whereabouts of his banded geese.

PINPOINT WORK

A small cluster of dots along James Bay becomes a widely scattered pattern in some 10 states south of Michigan.

"Twenty to thirty years ago there was quite a concentration of geese wintering on the Gulf coast, indicating that many of the birds were migrating straight south like an arrow," Van said. "But the fascinating thing is, our studies show they have changed their minds over the years — broken long-standing habits—so that now some of them even head eastward, not directly south, and enjoy the winter in the Carolinas."

Where these "mountain-climbers" actually cross the Appalachians has never been determined, he said, even though one hopeful specialist in that area has spent many sleepless nights trying to find out.

Proof that some of the Kellogg Sanctuary-banded geese are now turning up their bills at deep south bayous from the private gaddy wild goose refuge near Ansonville, N.C., where Mrs. Hazel Ross Gaddy has observed their neckbands among the 10,000 birds that usually respond to the all-winter banquet she puts on for them.

The dotted map shows, too, that the goose's compass is his gizzard, and it usually points to one of the big federal refuges where a full craw and hazard-free paddling beckon.

"Now they don't have to fly any farther south than mid-Indiana to the new willow slough refuge near Kokomo or to the Horseshoe or Crab Orchard refuges around Cairo, Ill.," said Van. "They soon know a deal when they see one."

"It proves the Canada goose is one of the most manageable species there is," he continued. "I contend that if we could develop a greater attraction here and elsewhere in southern Michigan—more food and open water in the winter—it would increase the nesting potential, mean more birds and provide a welcome sight in the winter when most of the bird life has departed."

Other biologists and game management men at refuge and sanctuaries are keeping track of banded geese as well.

Early Deer Opening in U.P. Is Official

LANSING (AP) — A bill providing for a permanent Saturday opening of the deer season in most of the Upper Peninsula has been signed into law by Gov. Swainson.

The bill affects all but Luce, Mackinac and Chippewa Counties and small sections of Alger and Schoolcraft Counties east of M77.

In the rest of the Upper Peninsula, the deer season will open on the Saturday preceding Nov. 15, unless that date falls on a Saturday. This year it will start Nov. 10 and run the normal 16 days.

The regular Nov. 15-30 season will continue through the rest of Michigan, giving hunters 21 days to bag a deer if they want to try their luck in both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

Another provision of the bill will allow bear hunting in Keweenaw County only during the deer season. This is intended to eliminate the practice of shooting bears that frequent garbage dumps in the county.

In all other counties, the State Conservation Commission has discretionary authority to establish open and closed seasons on bears.

BLACES LEGAL

The new law also will open Cheboygan, Clare and Isabella Counties to hunting of black squirrels during the regular open seasons on bear.

Another conservation bill signed will require the state conservation director to extend the rainbow and brown trout season in certain waters by opening the season on the first Saturday in April or by allowing fishing in specified waters through November, or both.

DON'T NEED AS MUCH

Up for consideration by the State Conservation Commission is a short-term plan to open the Rifle River area in Ogemaw County to camping and other park uses in the 1962 season.

It will be studied at the Commission's meeting Thursday and Friday in Bay City.

$12,500 Colt in Gun Show

Weapon to Be Diplayed Friday at Birmingham; Others Are Included

Four guns valued at over $15,000 will be featured at a gun show Friday at the Griswold sporting goods store in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Most highly prized weapon the public can see between 7 and 9 p.m. will be the $12,500 Colt single action revolver. This army .45 Special was specially made for Colt's 125th anniversary.

Steve Chohany, who has charge of the show, said it took "a master craftsman almost a year to engrave the revolver."

It is all gold inlay.

Other guns of high value will be a 270 Weatherby Magnun, worth $1,400; a Gamba over and under 12 guage shotgun, $1,000; and a Browning superimposed Midas shotgun, $1,000.

GERMAN GUNS

Several of the exhibits are holdovers from Griswold's three-day show at their Detroit store last week.

Included will be two German drilling guns. One is a side-by-side double barrel shotgun over a 9 mm rifle barrel. The other is two rifle barrels over a shotgun bore.

Chohany is attempting to hold the specially engraved 2,500,000th Winchester Model 94 for Friday's show.

EXPENSIVE WEAPON — Steve Cohany holds the $12,500 Colt single action army .45 Special that will highlight a gun show Friday evening in Birmingham. The revolver is Colt's 125th anniversary model.

Pollution Kill Touches County on Two Lakes

Fish killed by pollution in Cooley and Crescent Lakes helped boost the state total to 10,000 last year.

Other known losses were in Swan Creek, Branch County; Cass River, Tuscola County; Red Cedar River, Livingston County and Round Lake, Clinton County.

Agricultural poisons were blamed for the deaths in Cooley, Round and Crescent Lakes; industrial wastes killed fish in Swan Creek, the Cass and Red Cedar Rivers, state game men said.

Nationally, the department said, agricultural wastes accounted for most deaths, with industrial wastes, mining operations and domestic sewage next on the list.

Smith, Thiefels Hot in Canadian Shoot

Larry Smith of Birmingham and Pontiac's Bob Thiefels took care of the runnerup slots and were members of the wining five-man team in last weekend's Seventh Canadian and 13th Province of Quebec skeet Championship at St. Janvier, Que.

★ ★ ★

Smith won the Class AA and senfor championships in the .410 and 28 gauge events. This meant he was runnerup for the championship in each event. The veteran shooter finished second in the high overall standings with 490 out of 500.

Barney Hartman of Ottawa outshot Thiefels in a shootoff for 20 gauge honors. Thiefels claimed the Class AA crown.

The Pontiac gunner and Hartman each ran 100 targets. Theifels dropped or missed two in the shootoff while Hartman, two time all gauge champ, shot 25 straight.

Hartman copped the overall crown away from Smith by posting a 494-500. But he lost his all gauge championship to Ken Sedlecky of Baldwin, Mich., in a shootoff that went to 141 targets before Hartman missed.

NATURE STRIKES

A bolt of lightning streaked across the sky just as Hartman pulled the trigger and this may have made the RCAF squadron leader miss.

The Michigan Wreckers — Smith, Thiefels, Warren's Jack Pattyn and Howard Confer and Chet Crites of Detroit—shattered 493 of 500 targets to break the two-year reign of Maryland's Lock Haven Club.

The team score was one shot off the record set by the Montreal Skeet Club in 1957. The Canadian team was runnerup this year.

Other champions crowned during the three-day shoot were Dominic Piscatelli, Hamden, Conn., .410; and Tom Heffron, Groton, N. Y., 28 gauge.

★ ★ ★

Area shooters attending were Dr. Jack Wiant, Ralph Zimmerman and Al Fruman of Birmingham.

Bill Ellis of Mt. Clemens, who shoots from a wheelchair, broke 98 of 100 in the 20 gauge competition.

Sees Little Hope for Congressional Action on Dunes

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's highly unlikely Congress will take action this year on two bills to create federal recreation areas in Michigan, says Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., sponsor of the bills.

But Hart told a news conference he hopes to hold hearings this year on bills to establish a Sleeping Bear Dunes national recreation area near Traverse City and a Pictured Rocks national area in the Upper Peninsula.

"It's unlikely to anticipate favorable action by both houses this year," said Hart.

Failure to act this year on the bills would mean they would have to be resubmitted next year in the 88th Congress.

No hearings have been held on the Pictured Rocks bill. A one-day hearing was conducted last fall in Traverse City by the Senate public lands subcommittee studying the Sleeping Bear bill.

BEING REVISED

Both bills are being revised in efforts by Hart to appease landowners in the Sleeping Bear region and timber interests in the sparsely populated Pictured Rocks country.

The draft of the revised Pictured Rocks bill is now in private circulation among interested parties such as the Cleveland Cliffs Mining Co., which cuts timber from the 67,000-acre Pictured Rocks area.

Two New Lakes at Bald Mt.

Double Impoundments to Cover 80 Acres; Beach Planned

Work on the proposed double trout lake impoundment at Bald Mountain recreation area may get under way before the summer is over.

★ ★ ★

The Conservation Department announced that bids will be accepted for letting contracts until May 31. The project is expected to be completed in three years.

Officials said the impoundment would cover 80 acres and include bathing facilities and a beach. Tentative plans call for the lakes to be stocked with trout.

Two dams will be constructed along Trout Creek to form the lakes.

The first dam will be about an eighth of a mile below the present barrier which forms the pond at the picnic area on Bald Mountain Road. This pond would extend from the first dam to about 250 yards west of the road. The water level will be raised three feet and the road level raised to allow for access.

SECOND DAM

The lower impoundment will back up the first dam and extend to a dam near the headquarters building.

Access roads, sanitary facilities, bath houses and picnic areas are all included in the project which will be financed under the parks permit bonding program.

Bald Mountain currently has three streams stocked with trout and the special fly only trout pond.

Retired Sir Gaylord Returns to the Farm

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Sir Gaylord, the early favorite for the Kentucky Derby who was scratched after he pulled up lame in a workout, arrived Tuesday at Claiborne Farm, where he will stand in stud.

The C. T. Chenery colt, whose racing days were ended by the cracked sesamoid bone he suffered in last Friday's workout, will be bred to mares at the farm, owned by A. B. Hancock.

Automation Demands It

If You'd Get Ahead, Go Back to School

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education
University of Southern California

The Horatio Alger-type hero who rose through hard work and self-education to riches and power existed in fiction and occasionally in fact.

DR. NASON

Today, the simple fact is that at least a high school diploma is needed for advancement. One thing right now focuses particular attention upon the need for schooling beyond the 8th grade. This is automation.

It is forcing more education — and it is forcing adults who missed out the first time around to go back to school for further training.

CASE OF BEN MARTIN

Take 30-year-old Ben Martin. He dropped out of high school before graduation.

He was married and had two sons. He worked for a large automobile body shop. He was intelligent and friendly. He was respected for his skill in the trade.

When his company planned to open another shop in a nearby town, Ben's foreman told him he was being considered for an assistant foreman's position.

But the foreman said, "Get your high school diploma. The boss won't promote you without it."

Ben looked up a former teacher for advice. These are the steps he followed:

1—He called the office of the superintendent of schools and asked to be referred to the person in charge of adult high school classes.

2—He asked the principal of the evening high school for an appointment with a counselor, even though it was still two months before a new semester would begin.

(This advance appointment is important to adults who must know what the demands on their time will be. Registration day is too hectic for much individual counseling. People who just wander in often register in the wrong courses.)

3—Ben obtained a copy of his high school records previous to the appointment.

4—After talking with the counselor Ben knew exactly the courses he needed to get his diploma. Credit for work-connected training left less to be completed than he had expected. The program set up between Ben and the counselor made registration a simple task.

★ ★ ★

5—During the two months before he started back to school, Ben read textbooks and reference books to get background for the history course he was to take. He practiced reading purposefully. He insisted that his mind gather information as he read. He recited back to himself at the end of each page or two.

6—He prepared for each course and was ready to start listening and understanding when his first class opened.

P.S. HE GOT THE JOB

Four evenings a week for one semester proved sufficient to complete the requirements. He succeeded because he had done two basic things — he had thought ahead and he had prepared.

Ben's diploma got him the new job, and his new attitude toward learning helped him succeed.

Ben Martin followed through on good advice.

His planned program made it possible for his wife and sons to help him achieve his goal. Family cooperation is almost an essential for an adult to return to school with confidence and determination.

(You may obtain a copy of Dr. Nason's "Help Your Child Succeed in School" booklet by sending $1 to The Pontiac Press.)

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the most important things a declarer must remember is that when a finesse works the first time, it may not work the second.

★ ★ ★

South won the opening heart in his own hand and promptly led a club and finessed dummy's ten. When the ten held South remarked, "Maybe we didn't bid enough." Then he led a spade from dummy and finessed the jack.

★ ★ ★

This finesse lost and a second heart lead knocked out dummy's king.

★ ★ ★

South returned to his own hand with a diamond, led a second club and finessed dummy's jack.

This time East was ready with the king and three heart tricks set the hand.

South was guilty of plain carelessness. After the ten of clubs held he should have returned to his hand with a high diamond and repeated the club finesse. It would still have lost, but now South would be sure of four club tricks, one spade and two in each red suit.

Furthermore, if the king of clubs had been in the West hand South would still have had plenty of opportunity to go after the spade suit.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Try to "hang on" even when things around you urge fast decision. You can actually gain in long run by DELAY. Caution must be key, especially in ROMANTIC and LEGAL matters.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Lowering your head and rushing into situation could cause many regrets. Study situation first. Take care of details and reflect on what a sudden move can mean to security.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Through combination of HUMOR and everything you go after now. Make DIPLOMACY your guide and almost sure, however, to avoid misunderstandings. Say what you mean—CLEARLY.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Put plans, suggestions you could be ideas into ACTION, write down thoughts, most significant. Don't waste it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Friends well meaning but they do not have authority to do what they say. It is up to you to stand up for beliefs. Odds appear against you, but your personal cycle at peak.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): Avoid tendency to try to be at too many places at same time. Delegate authority. Trust loved ones. Otherwise forces are scattered and accomplishments delayed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Do not confuse aspirations with money-making. Your vocation may not be closest to heart's desire. Try to understand yourself. Permit Libra sensitivity to express itself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Take time to know what the situation is and what you are to do about it. Rushing for the sake of speed could lead to accidents. Tendency to see what you want to see instead of truth.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Could be lack of confidence that immediate results aren't forthcoming. Overcome this tendency. Those who "count" begin to notice your efforts. Constructive activity will be rewards.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Temporary setback in connection with money matters can be overcome. Best course is NO PRESSURE. Take it easy where emotions are concerned and gather inner strength.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Getting in "too deep" could be mistake. MODERATION should be key. Time to "take your time." Realize responsibilities, show gratitude to one who has been loyal.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Good for finishing rather than beginning. Find fulfillment by COMPLETING projects. Diplomacy very important. You gain by "winning" your way, not forcing it.

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY domestic situation improves this year, perhaps through greater home improvement. Or through better relations with family members. Month of NOVEMBER could see smart in financial opportunities.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Opposition forces come out in open. Don't pretend, but speak up. Do not ask for something merely for sake of asking. You could receive what you request, and find yourself with "white elephant."

Peg-Legged Leghorn a Tough Customer

LaSALLE, Ill. (AP) — The conversation piece at Pete Brown's is a peg-legged Leghorn hen which scratches for worms with the handicapped leg.

The hen lost her leg in a trap, has outgrown one artificial limb and is about to grow to large for the second.

"I knew she was going to make it when she began scratching for worms with that wooden leg," said Brown.

The main thing we find wrong with today's youth is that we're not part of it.

If the government is interested in the relief of human suffering, it might take a close look at the American taxpayer.

A wise politician never straddles an issue he can dodge.

—Earl Wilson.

Trading Cracks Intraday Low

Mart Shows Recovery Signs

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was sharply lower early this afternoon but showed signs of vigorous recovery as it moved up from its lowest level. Trading was active.

Losses of fractions to a point or 2 among key stocks were scattered liberally through the list even though many declines were cut.

Among the volatile issues, declines ran 2 or 3 points while some gains were in the same range.

At its worst, the market cracked through the intraday low reached Tuesday a week ago in the Dow Jones industrial average in a selling climax which preceded a strong rally. Technical support once more materialized at this general area.

TAPE BELIEVED

The ticker tape lagged once while prices were skidding and on two other occasions when recovery was under way.

The market section was reminiscent of October 1960 when a long decline was climaxed by two selling drives which brought the average to new lows prior to a sustained rally—but whether history would repeat itself completely was anybody's guess.

Sharp declines in most major sections reflected somewhat the same kind of discouraged mood that accompanied the May 1 climax but not so intense.

Prices were off sharply on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading. Losses of about 3 were taken by National Rubber Machinery and Pall Corp. "A". Mead Johnson and Paddington "A" lost 2 points or so. Down around a point or more were Rayette, Arkansas Louisiana Gas, Spencer Shoe, Gloray Knitting Mills, Gulf American Land and Kawecki Chemical.

Government Bonds Up

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. government bond prices opened irregularly higher today while corporates were mixed in early New York Stock Exchange trading.

Over-the-counter dealers in Treasury securities quoted some intermediates and long issues up 2/32 to 4/32 in quiet dealings. Other bonds were mostly unchanged.

Trade improved and industrials dipped among corporates. Utilities started off irregular.

There was a relatively large number of price moves amounting to a full point or more outside the convertible section.

Eye 2 GOPers in Estes Probe

Inquiry May Spread to Agencies Other Than Agriculture Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department and Senate investigators were reported today to be exploring affairs of two Republicans, former officials of the Agriculture Department in connection with the Billie Sol Estes case.

Well-placed informants, declining to be quoted by name, also said the over-all inquiry may spread to relations between Estes, a cotton raising, grain - storing west Texas financier, and government agencies other than the Agriculture Department.

They declined to name the other agencies at this point.

One of the major questions raised in the Estes case is whether he has received favored treatment from the Agriculture Department under Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, Orville L. Freeman, Truman says Estes did not.

The two Republicans were identified as James A. McConnell and Walter Berger, former officials in the Agriculture Department's Commodities Stabilization Service under Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. Benson headed the department in President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration.

McConnell and Berger left the agency with the change in administrations. Both have served on the board of directors of Commercial Solvents Corp. of New York.

A company source said today Berger is still a director but McConnell is no longer on the board.

* * *

Both McConnell and Berger left the agency to become officials of the Commercial Solvents Corp. of New York.

A Texas count of inquiry has received evidence from Estes bought fertilizer from Commercial Solvents and sold it at a loss to farmers who would agree to store their grain in Estes-owned grain elevators.

The informants said possible antitrust aspects of fertilizer deals are under study. They said records of the company and of McConnell and Berger either have been subpoenaed or will be subpoenaed shortly.

Selling Weakens All Grain Contracts

CHICAGO (AP)—Moderate selling weakened all grain futures contracts today at the start of the activity on the board of trade, but soybeans showed a little firmness.

* * *

Brokers said the pressure appeared to be further liquidation although in wheat the reason was believed to be hoard cashing profits and to even up positions in advance of the government's May crop report. The report will be issued after the close of trading tomorrow.

Delivery tenders on May contracts again contributed to the weakness in corn.

'BROAD PROBE'

Mack called it "the broadest and most penetrating investigating of securities markets since the early 1930s." In a speech prepared for delivery to the House, he said the SEC should be allowed to complete its work "in order to maintain full investor confidence."

* * *

"I have every reason to believe," Mack said, "that the commission is conducting its study and investigation in a very serious, diligent and responsible manner."

* * *

The Illinois Democrat said an additional $200,000 would finance the inquiry for three more months. His bill would extend the deadline for completion of the project until April 3, 1963.

The public hearings so far have dealt with the operations of mutual funds. Favorites with small investors, these firms are corporations which buy stock off other companies, assigning proportionate interests in their portfolios to those who buy fund shares.

RECIPROCAL BUSINESS

Investigators heard testimony Tuesday about what was called a universal fund practice of throwing "reciprocal business" to brokerage firms that sell fund shares to the public.

Eugene J. Habas, senior vice president of Hugh W. Long & Co., Inc., Elizabeth, N.J., said this often takes the form of orders to execute stock transactions stemming from changes in a fund's firms designated by a fund.

Oxford Council Acts on 2 Issues

GOLDEN WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. Merrill C. Barkey of 7950 Marshalsea Road, West Bloomfield Township, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at a dinner Saturday at the Dublin Community Center, White Lake Township. The couple was married May 11, 1912. They have three sons, one daughter, 14 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Take 1st Steps in Sewage Plan

Village Manager Will Apply for Federal Loan to Begin Study

OXFORD — The Village Council here last night took the first step toward construction of a sanitary sewer system and sewage treatment plant to cost an estimated $554,000.

★ ★ ★

Village Manager Robert W. Smalley was instructed to prepare a resolution launching the project and an application for an $8,000 loan from the federal government for preliminary planning funds.

Both the application and resolution will be presented to the council for approval at its next meeting May 22.

If the Village Council proceeds with plans and no unexpected obstacles arise, the village could have the sewer system in operation within 18 to 24 months, according to Smalley.

★ ★ ★

The plan for sanitary sewer lines—costing an estimated $394,000 to be raised by special assessment—and a $160,000 sewage treatment plant to be financed by a bond issue was presented by Smalley.

PLAN REJECTED

It had been worked out in a meeting between Smalley and Clare Johnson of the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson after a previous plan for a $916,000 project and left council members cold.

Smalley said it was decided to look into the feasibility of Oxford's building its own sewer system when plans for a joint project with Lake Orion fell through because Lake Orion could not afford its share of the $1.1-million cost for a plant and trunkline.

The proposed treatment plant would be a primary plant only, explained Smalley. This would require trucking of sludge to a more complete plant, possibly in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

The previous proposal at $916,000 had included a more complete plant.

According to Smalley's preliminary figures, the sewer lines would cost each of the village's approximately 700 lots an average of about $560, with the bond issue for the plant to cost four mills for 25 years.

The plant, described as temporary by Smalley, would be replaced eventually by the proposed Clinton River Sewage Disposal System planned by the county DPW to serve 13 municipalities in northeastern Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

The joint project with Lake Orion, which also included Orion and Oxford townships, had called for construction of a $504,000 treatment plant on the south side of Lake Orion and a $603,000 trunkline.

Record Budget, Tax Hike OK'd

$143,000 for 1962-63 Will Require One-Mill Levy Increase

OXFORD — A record budget of $143,000 for 1962-63 and a tax increase of $1 per $1,000 assessed valuation were approved last night by the Village Council here.

Village Manager Robert W. Smalley had recommended the one-mill increase over the current 18-mill levy to cover the cost of six-cents-an-hour pay raises for the village's 14 employes.

The new budget is approximately $6,000 higher than the current budget.

★ ★ ★

Additional yearly revenue of some $2,500 will result from the one-mill tax boost, according to Smalley.

★ ★ ★

The increase is the first in three years for the village, and brings the tax rate within one mill of the 20-mill charter limitation.

NO INQUIRIES

Smalley told councilmen that not a single resident had visited or phoned city offices to ask questions about the budget or the tax increase despite published notices that the budget was available for public examination.

Also last night, the council quietly dropped plans to discuss construction of an iron removal plant for the village water system when Smalley reported disapproval of such a project by a majority of water users who responded to a survey.

Of 208 questionnaires returned to the city, 125 voted against the plant while only 83 were in favor. A total of 535 questionnaires had been sent out.

★ ★ ★

Similar plans had previously been dropped for the same reason.

Petition Deadline Near in Districts

Board of education candidates in the Walled Lake and Dublin school districts have until 4 p.m. Friday to return their nominating petitions, while in Clarenceville the deadline is 4 p.m. Saturday.

Two school board members are to be elected June 11 in Walled Lake and Clarenceville. Three posts will be open in Dublin.

The Walled Lake board members whose terms are expiring are Joseph Long and Julius Nelson. Nelson, a board member for 20 years, is not seeking another term, however.

★ ★ ★

In addition to electing two board members to four-year terms, Walled Lake voters also will decide a proposal that would increase the operating levy of the school district by $2 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Clarenceville voters also will be asked to approve a millage question when they go to the polls to elect two board members for four-year terms.

The terms of Richard L. Gault and Elbert M. Hartom are expiring. Both have taken out nominating petitions.

MILL INCREASE

Approval of the proposition would renew a tax levy of four mills and increase it by one mill.

In Dublin the terms of Norman Seator and Eric Spitler are expiring. Both have indicated they will seek re-election for the three-year posts.

A two-year term also is to be filled in the annual school election. It is currently being held by Fred Corliss, but he is resigning, effective Tuesday. He has served one year of a three-year term.

JUDITH ANN RAY

Mr. and Mrs. George G. Ray Sr., of 1665 Rustic Lane, Keego Harbor, announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Ann to Larry Thomas Pitser, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pitser, of 2245 Hester St., Keego Harbor. No date has been set for the wedding.

Crittenton Rochester Drive Hits Third of Campaign Goal

ROCHESTER — Workers in the campaign to raise funds for construction of the Rochester Unit, Crittenton General Hospital, were informed today that they have reached one-third of their $2,225,000 goal.

★ ★ ★

A total of $607,884 has been subscribed in the drive that has been under way for the past seven weeks announced Howard L. McGregor Jr., general campaign chairman.

The Memorial Gifts Division, under the leadership of Frank R. Chapman, reported $28,400 subscribed after a breakfast progress report meeting held Monday at Knapps' Restaurant here.

"A productive progress report meeting is anticipated tomorrow when Memorial Gifts Division workers will again assemble for a breakfast progress report meeting at Knapps'," Chapman said.

★ ★ ★

Industrial Division Cochairman, Clarence J. Cadieux announced that in-plant solicitations are presently under way in Higbie Manufacturing Co. and Dytronics, Inc.

"Plans are now being formulated," said Cadieux, "to conduct employee in-plant solicitations at the Parkdale Installation of Parke, Davis & Co. and Detroit Broach & Machine Co.

Government and Education Division Cochairmen Donald C. Baldwin and John A. Boeberitz announced today that an incomplete report of employees of the Rochester Community Schools system showed $5,685 subscribed to date.

PICK SECTION CHIEFS

Business and Professional Division Cochairmen, Thurley E. Allen and Ralph B. Garner this week announced the appointment of John H. Peterson and Thor Ulseth as section chairmen to head solicitation among prospects in the Rochester-Avon area in the Business and Professional Division.

The Residential Division will hold its initial kick-off meeting on May 16 at 9:30 a.m. in the American Legion Hall in Rochester under the leadership of Mrs. Joseph A. Watson, Jr., Residential Division Chairmen.

"More than 150 women have been enlisted to serve as campaign saleswomen in the immediate Rochester residential area," said Mrs. Watson.

★ ★ ★

"They will seek substantial gifts payable over a three year period, the kind of giving that will be necessary to provide us with the new $5-million Crittenton General Hospital but which the residents of Oakland-Macomb area are being asked to contribute only one-half that amount," the chairman pointed out.

★ ★ ★

Speakers at Kick-off meeting will be D. Eugene Sibery, administrator of Crittenton General Hospital, and Cadieux, Comptroller at National Twist Drill & Tool Co.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Watson announced that a pre-requisite to serve as a campaign saleswoman in the Residential Division is the attendance at this meeting.

AREA NEWS

GOP Club Plans Tea for Mrs. Romney

ROCHESTER — Mrs. George Romney will be honored at a tea to be given next Tuesday by the Women's Republican Club of the Rochester area. Mrs. Henry W. Axford, of 3030 N. Rochester Road, will open her home from 2 to 4 p.m. for the event.

Chairman of the committee organizing the tea is Mrs. William I. McClelland. Assisting her are Mrs. Wallace R. Hodges, Mrs. Franklin H. Sherer, Mrs. Paul T. Williams, Mrs. George A. Beatty and Mrs. George C. Dillman.

Some invitations have been issued. Others who would like to meet Mrs. Romney may make reservations for the tea by calling Mrs. Beatty of 5071 Orion Road, of Mrs. McClelland, 3860 Adams Road.

The opening of the Mackinac Bridge has increased the tourist business in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and travelers now spend an estimated $160,000 each year in that area.

Troy Education Board Votes to Close School

TROY — The Board of Education last night voted to close the Coleraln Elementary School for the 1962-63 school year as part of its cutback program following the April 2 defeat of a three-mill operating tax proposal.

The closing was recommended by Supt. Rex M. Smith to accomplish a savings of some $8,000 for the year.

Smith explained that only two or three rooms of pupils would be affected, as other students had already been reassigned to other schools in the cutback program.

The remaining students will probably be reassigned to the Leonard and Troy Union schools, he said.

MAY RENT SCHOOL

Smith also said there was a possibility of renting the school building to the YMCA or a church group.

In other action, the school board approved Smith's request for another high school counselor to meet requirements of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The board also approved a request by the high school's graduation class to use the high school gymnasium and cafeteria for a class party after graduation ceremonies June 7.

Commissioners to Review Sewer Contract in Troy

TROY — The City Commission will review the contracts for construction of the long-awaited Dequindre Sanitary Interceptor Sewer project at a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Construction of the interceptor is crucial to the city's plans for a sanitary sewer system. It will provide a connection to Detroit's sewer system and disposal plant.

Some 14 communities in southern Oakland County must approve the contracts with the county drain commissioner before construction can begin.

Troy's share of the $6.9-million cost of the interceptor is approximately 30 per cent.

The drain commissioner has asked the city for tentative approval of the contracts, with final approval to come after all participating communities have given their preliminary okays.

To Attend MEA Session

Roscoe Crowell, principal of Avondale High School, will attend the annual spring meeting of the Michigan Education Association's board of directors, commissions and committees Friday and Saturday at the MEA Camp, St. Mary's Lake, near Battle Creek.

Fulkerson to Address White Lake Dem Club

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — George Fulkerson, Democratic candidate for Congress, will be the guest speaker today at a public meeting of the White Lake Township Democratic Club.

The Birmingham attorney will discuss "Problems of the Aged" at the 8:30 p.m. meeting at the Township Hall, 7525 Highland Road.

Wilson-Childs Vows Said

Milford Girl Weds

MILFORD—Joyce Annette Childs exchanged wedding vows with James L. Wilson before Rev. Frank Williams, in a double-ring ceremony recently at the Milford Presbyterian Church.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton S. Childs, of 3070 Central Blvd., the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown of pearls and rhinestones.

She carried a bouquet of white mums and carnations.

ACTS AS HONOR MAID

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gary Childs, sister-in-law of the bride and the bridesmaids, Judy and Linda Childs, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Kermit R. Henson, sister of the groom.

The bridegroom, son of the Everett J. Wilsons of 307 Sweetbriar St., had his brother-in-law Kermit R. Henson for his best man.

Seating over 200 guests were Gary Childs, brother of the bride, James Caswell and Leon DeGarmo.

★ ★ ★

After a reception held at the church the newlyweds left for a short honeymoon in northern Michigan. They are now at home at 319 Franklin Street.

A COMPLETE SECRETARIAL COURSE to Prepare You for the Fascinating World of Business

Today's secretary is an important person. She works with the "big people" in her organization. She is more than a secretary . . . she is assistant to the executive . . . since she only works with executives. Today's secretary needs more than shorthand and typing ability to meet the many and varied duties modern business requires.

The secretary of today is very often consulted in important decisions and many organizational policies have been shaped with the help of an executive's secretary. She represents her boss and makes him look good by her manner and personality. It is her voice that answers the phone . . . it is she who screens and meets callers . . . it is she who is first met, and it is she who sets the tone and impresses the business visitor with the importance and prestige of her employer by her tact and diplomacy.

She lightens the burden of her boss by taking over many of his duties, especially details. She arranges his routine day by day. She prepares him for important meetings and interviews, and even prepares his travel itinerary. She sometimes knows more about certain phases of the business than does her employer. Well-paid opportunities await you if you are fully equipped to meet these and other challenging duties.

Dean Composes Commandments of the Road

NEWTON, Mass. (UPI) — Ten Commandments of the Highway have been compiled by Dean Roy Pearson of the Andover-Newton Theological School.

Here they are:

1. Thou shalt hold nothing but thy steering wheel — neither a baby on thy lap nor a babe in thine arms.

2. Thou shalt not make unto thee a god of thy horsepower.

3. Thou shalt not take the center lane in vain.

4. Remember the driver behind, to help him pass thee.

5. Honor thy father and thy mother — and all thine other passengers.

6. Thou shalt not kill — not even a pedestrian.

7. Thou shalt not commit inebriated driving.

8. Thou shalt not steal — not thy neighbor's eyes with thy headlights, nor his car with thy horn, nor his enjoyment with thy litter.

9. Thou shalt not bear false witness with thy signals.

10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's right of way.

Pontiac City Affairs

Rezoning Moves Deferred

The City Commission has deferred action one week on three proposed ordinances which would rezone from manufacturing to residential about 80 acres of land on Pontiac's East Side.

★ ★ ★

Public hearing were held on the three ordinances at last night's commission meeting and action was due on final approval of the measures. All had been recommended for approval by the city planning commission.

However, on the motion of Commissioner Winford E. Botsford, action was deferred until next Tuesday's meeting. Botsford explained he thought the ordinances deserved more study before the commission votes on final approval.

The property lies immediately east of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad Belt Line to the north and south of Mt. Clemens St. For purposes of rezoning, it was split into three parcels.

★ ★ ★

Following another recommendation from the planning commission, final approval of an ordinance to rezone property at the southwest corner of W. Huron Street and Franklin Boulevard was delayed by commissioners.

Owners of the property have requested that Lot 36 and the easterly 37 feet of Lot 37 be rezoned from personal service to Residential-3 so they might build a three-story apartment building on the site.

★ ★ ★

Although a public hearing was held on the ordinance, final approval won't be given until developers have submitted their plans and obtained a building permit.

In other business, public hearings were held on the city's plans to recap parts of Branch and Wessen streets and to construct curbs and gutters on a portion of Tennyson Avenue. Special assessment rolls will be prepared for presentation at next week's meeting.

★ ★ ★

Public hearings were slated for next Tuesday on special assessment rolls for curb and gutter projects on parts of Carlisle and Fairview avenues, Kennett Road and Dewey Street; and for recapping of parts of Voorheis Road, E. Pike and Sanford streets.

The special assessment roll for a storm drain project on Wrenn Street, Fildew to north of Arthur Avenue, was slated for a public hearing next week.

City Checking Renewal Sign

"No Trespassing — Urban Renewal Project R20 — Violators will be prosecuted by the federal government."

Miss Lillian Laska of 4032 S. Shore Drive, Waterford Township, came to last night's City Commission meeting to tell commissioners such a sign was put on her property in the city.

Miss Laska told commissioners that her home behind the sign at 16 Cherry Court has been listed for acquisition by the city. But, she said, the home hasn't been acquired by the city.

★ ★ ★

"We had not sold our home then and we still haven't sold it," she said.

"The moment that sign was posted, the house became a target for vandals, scavengers and wreckers. Almost overnight doors were ripped off and every window in the building was broken," she asserted.

"The ceiling was broken through in one room, heat registers and various fixtures were removed and I have a long list of furniture, including a complete bedroom suite that was stolen or removed.

"Friends living nearby told me they saw Dore Wrecking Co. crews go into the house and haul out furniture and saw men driving a city truck take things out of the house.

"I have reported this to urban renewal officials, police, my city commissioner and city administrators and I still have no answer," she said, nearly breaking into tears several times.

According to James L. Bates, urban renewal director, the sign was posted in front of the house by his staff "as a means to protect her property."

"Structures in that area had been acquired and we were running into a rash of vandalism. We placed the signs on other properties to discourage trespassers.

"Since Miss Laska's house had been vacant for several years, we put one in front of her home too, figuring it would give her added protection. The whole thing backfired on our land as well as hers," Bates explained.

TO REPORT FINDINGS

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said he wanted to make a "thorough investigation of this in view of the seriousness of the charges," and report his findings at a special meeting.

Administrators said they had no idea how the sign got there. Urban renewal officials were of the opinion that pranksters took it from a purchased site and placed it in front of Miss Laska's property.

City Attorney William A. Ewart suggested that both the city and wrecking company under contract were "heavily insured against just such a liability and should see that a just settlement is made."

Commissioner Milton R. Henry said he is "sick and tired of urban renewal walking over folks, taking what it wants."

The Commission supported his motion for a special meeting at 4 p.m. Friday to investigate the matter.

Bob Hope to Get Gold Medal From 'People of U.S.'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Banking and Currency Committee, usually concerned with matters involving big money, laid aside such affairs Tuesday to give swift approval for a gold medal for comedian Bob Hope "in the name of the people of the United States of America."

★ ★ ★

Chairman Brent Spence, D-Ky., interrupted a hearing on export controls to listen to Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who is piloting the gold medal resolution through Congress. It already has been passed unanimously in the Senate.

Symington said of the wisecracking comedian that no man has given more generously in traveling to entertain American troops abroad. He noted that such men have been struck for songwriters George M. Cohan and Irving Berlin.

Police Probing Shooting Death of Pontiac Man

Police today were investigating the death of a 31-year-old Pontiac factory worker who was found shot to death last night in a rooming house at 69 W. Kennett Road.

Police said they were attempting to determine whether the death of Edward B. McGinnis, an assembler at the Pontiac Motor Division, was the result of suicide or murder.

McGinnis' body was discovered about 9:15 p.m. yesterday by his wife Frankie Mdy.

Police said the victim had been shot through the head with a 22-caliber semiautomatic rifle.

Asst. Coroner Dr. Isaac C. Prevette estimated the man had been dead since Sunday.

Mrs. McGinnis, who told police she had been separated from her husband; said she had last seen him about 8 p.m. Sunday. On Saturday night, according to Mrs. McGinnis, her husband had acted strangely and threatened her with the gun.

Milford Township Boy Swallows Thyroid Pills

A 1½-year-old Milford Township boy is in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after swallowing an undetermined amount of thyroid pills in his home yesterday afternoon.

Gary Brendel, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brendel of 1885 Hill Road, climbed up to a cupboard and swallowed the pills shortly before 12:30 p.m., according to his mother. He was rushed to the hospital and his stomach was pumped.

In Memoriam 2

COMMEMORATING THE BIRTH anniversary of my father, Sergey Ivanov, who passed away Oct. 4, 1961.

You're not forgotten Father, dear, Nor ever shall you be;
As long as memory lasts, I shall remember thee.
—Sadly missed by daughter Sonya.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR (Pop) John L. Dicks, who passed away May 9, 1961.

The whole world wept the night he died,
The gray sky sorrowed, sobbed and cried,
The pine tree hung its lofty head,
And even the flowers knew he was dead.
The whole world wept that night,
When death came on its furtive flight.
To take the moonlight from the sky,
And leave the world to weep and cry.
When death came with its muffled hand,
To pluck the flowers from the land;
And though the moon now often shines,
And the wind is gentle in the pine,
And storms will sometimes linger not,
And take the rose-hue from the dawn;
And I know every tree and hill,
Has ceased to weep and mourn him still,
—Sadly missed by his family.

ONE WAY TO DO IT — With stunt flier Cliff Winters at the controls, a Fairchild PY19 crashes through a building at full throttle at Riverside, Calif. The stunt was the highlight of the National Air Circus. The plane was wrecked but pilot Winters wasn't injured. He'll salvage parts of the plane to use in future stunts.

May Buy More in U.S. Market

Volkswagen Considers Increasing Purchases in America

DETROIT (AP)—Volkswagen is actively investigating the possibilities of buying additional supplies in the American market, company officials said today.

* * *

Otto Hoehne, of Wolfsburg, Germany, head of all VW production, said the auto company presently is buying almost 100 per cent of its magnesium, one-third of its coal and about 10 per cent of its sheet steel in the United States.

Carl Hahn, general manager of Volkswagen of America, said his subsidiary has established an office to look into other materials or parts which would be available here.

"This is the world's most productive country," Hahn said. "We have always been interested in buying in the American market but our plans now are more organized."

'College Bowl' MC Forced to Quit Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Allen Ludden, after two weeks of pondering, came to a painful decision. He will quit "College Bowl" at the end of this season after six years as master-of-ceremonies and stay on with "Password" in its daytime and evening versions.

* * *

The decision was forced on Ludden when CBS decided to put the evening edition of "Password" into a Sunday spot next season, separated only by a half-hour from "College Bowl." Sponsor of the latter program felt that, even though "College Bowl" was earlier, the two programs, so close together, might prove a litte too much Ludden.

FINALLY DECIDED

Ludden, who was enthusiastic about his long, happy association with the quiz show, said he "finally decided I should go along with a program that had grown from a daytime game show to a prime-time evening show.

"'Password' offers scope, and a challenge," he added. "It has turned me into a fulltime performer. Besides, I'd done the other show for a long time, so it wouldn't prove anything much to me if I did another season of it."

"College Bowl" is busily sorting out applications for Ludden's replacement. Producer John Cleary said that the host doesn't have to be all brain—the difficult questions can be studied in advance, and the big words in the question are spelled phonetically.

* * *

"Any intelligent guy can do it," he said. "The secret is maintaining the pace of the show—fast. He has to establish his authority over the show and let the student teams know he understands what each question is about."

Michigan Editor Writes Book

'First Twenty Years' Describes Youth of Caro Publisher, D. G. Gallery

"The First Twenty Years," a book written by Douglas C. Gallery, of The Advertiser, Caro, has been released by the publishers. The publisher says:

* * *

"Sometimes wistful, sometimes critical, sometimes lightly humorous, but always nostalgic, is this review of the author's life in 'The First Twenty Years,' both of his life, and of the 20th Century.

"A graduate of Olivet College, Michigan, he has been for 30 years a partner with his brother, James A. Gallery, in the weekly newspaper which has been in the Gallery family for more than half a century.

"Such boyish activities as bicycle riding, hoop rolling, fence walking, the Fourth of July, fun at the swimmin' hole, visiting pals on the farm, skating, and dancing school, are covered.

* * *

"Written from the viewpoint of youth, but with the advantages of the insight brought by added years, the book is revelatory of the often unsuspected things that may please a small boy, or do violence to his jealously guarded dignity, or arouse his ire; his blissful unconsciousness of his ability to be a nuisance to his elders, and his imperturbability in the presence of adverse adult opinion concerning his personal appearance."

Replete with such references to the long-forgotten everyday events of many people's younger days, the book is one to bring to the reader nostalgic memories of his own "first 20 years."

* * *

Gallery was born in Caro in 1904, and was graduated from Caro High School. With the exception of his attendance and graduation at Olivet College, he has always lived in Caro, returning to the family newspaper where he had worked to some extent since he was 12 years of age.

In 1930 he became a partner in the business with his father, Arthur D. Gallery, and his brother James. Since their father's death in 1943, the brothers have continued their partnership. The author is married, and has one son, David, now of Kenosha, Wis.

* * *

The 177-page book has a jacket printed in red, depicting on the front a bare-footed, drooping overalled, straw-hatted small boy of elfin expression, accompanied by a friendly turkey, and carrying on his shoulder a small chicken.

White tulips are spaced all over the jacket, which was designed by one of the country's best book-jacket artist, Ann Atene of Philadelphia.

Integration Suit Entered by U.S.

Justice Department Challenges Segregation in N. C. Hospitals

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—The Department of Justice, seeking a federal court order outlawing racial segregation in hospitals built with federal aid, has intervened in a suit filed here by 11 Negro physicians, dentists and patients.

The suit, filed Feb. 12, was among the first steps by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to end hospital segregation in the South.

CHALLENGES ACT

The Department of Justice asked court permission Tuesday to join in the suit against two hospitals that have received $2.8 million in federal aid for construction.

The department contended that a provision in the Hill-Burton Act of 1946—which permits grants for hospital construction—was unconstitutional.

* * *

The challenged provision allows grants "where separate hospital facilities are provided for separate population groups."

FILES MOTION

A Justice Department attorney filed a motion in U.S. District Court here to intervene in the suit against Moses Cone Hospital and Wesley Long Hospital.

The suit is directed against the separate-but-equal provisions in the Hill-Burton Act, which has been used to distribute hundreds of millions of dollars for construction of hospitals.

The suit charged the two hospitals with discriminating against Negroes in violation of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. It also asks that Negro doctors and dentists be allowed to practice at the hospitals.

Vote to Assist Schools

LAKEWOOD (AP) — Lakewood Consolidated School District voters Tuesday approved a $1,755,000 bond issue and a proposal for a two-mill operating tax levy.

Jackie to Visit Mother at Estate Next September

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy will pay an extensive visit at the Newport estate of her mother and stepfather next September.

The President's wife spent two hours with her mother, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, at her Hammersmith Farm after christening the Polaris submarine Lafayette at Groton, Conn.

Press secretary Pamela Turnure said the visit was so Mrs. Kennedy could make plans for the September stay.

Mackinaw's Skipper Transferred to Frisco

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Capt. Joseph Howe has been transferred from skipper of the U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw to operations officer at 12th Coast Guard District in San Francisco.

He is being succeeded, after two years aboard the Mackinaw, by Capt. Benjamin Chriswell who currently serves as personnel officer of the Ninth District at Cleveland.

AF Tanker Crashes With 6 Men Aboard

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP)—An Air Force KC135 jet tanker plane carrying six men crashed and burned on take-off early today at Loring Air Force Base.

An Air Force public information officer said rescue crews found three bodies of crewmen but declined information about the other three aboard. The tanker normally carries a four-man crew.

The aircraft was attached to the 42nd Air Refueling Squadron at Loring and was on a routine refueling mission.

Jailed for Embezzling

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Lee Chih-yung, an employe of the U.S. Embassy in Taipei, has been sentenced to 18 months in jail for misappropriating $2,000. Lee, 51, handled insurance on embassy vehicles.

Edie Due for Big Dough; Spurns Broadway Show

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Edie Adams may hit the big dough.

The beautiful blonde widow of Ernie Kovacs needs the money and at surely looks like she's got some—quite a lot—coming.

Edie's already told her friend Sid Caesar that she's withdrawing from the shoal of gals who are in fierce competition to play "Belle Poitrine," Sid's wife, in the coming Feuer & Martin show, "Little Me."

The "money places" in Las Vegas, and the movies, and TV would pay her much better than Broadway.

"Besides," confessed Edie to Sid, "I don't think I could afford to bring all the troops in from Hollywood to New York."

WILSON

(The "troops" being her kids.)

Edie plans to write a book while doing the movie, "Mad Mad, Mad World" in Palm Springs — and she's certainly got the material for one.

Future of Berlin Talks Hurt by U.S.-Bonn Rift?

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A potentially dangerous open split between the United States and West Germany clouded the outlook today for future U.S. talks with the Soviet Union on terms of a possible Berlin settlement.

U.S. officials said the Kennedy administration is fully determined to go ahead with the probing conversations.

But there was some uncertainty as to just how fast Secretary of State Dean Rusk would be able to move. He is due to have another meeting with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in the next week or so.

President Kennedy was expected to discuss the situation at a midafternoon news conference, probably emphasizing his intention that the conversation be carried on in full consultation with West Germany and other directly interested countries.

Officials here said it was not possible to assess immediately the full impact of the open break between Adenauer and the Kennedy administration over the conduct of the U.S.-Soviet talks.

But any such rift in Allied ranks is always worrisome and potentially hazardous because of the possible impact on other Allied problems.

★ ★ ★

Washington officials said the situation was complicated further by an evident disagreement within the German government itself.

The line which Adenauer has taken in public discussion at Berlin this week was described by these officials as differing sharply from the line which Foreign Minister Gerhardt Schroeder took in talks with Rusk at Athens as recently as last weekend.

Adenauer told a news conference Tuesday that "I see no ground for continuing the talks" between American and Soviet officials. He also asked at one point in the news conference: "Do you think there is no danger in continuing talks indefinitely without result?" The effect of his question was to suggest that he thinks it might prove dangerous to carry on the exploratory discussion indefinitely.

'MUST EXPLORE'

The State Department, about the same time, reacted to comments which Adenauer had made earlier in Berlin when he assailed as unworkable a U.S. proposal for creation of an international authority to operate the supply lines between West Berlin and West Germany.

A department spokesman said: "Both the President and the secretary of state have repeatedly stated . . . that in view of the potentially dangerous nature of the Berlin problem and personal sacrifices which the American people have been, and may yet be, called on to make in connection with the fulfillment of our commitment to West Berlin, it was incumbent on the United States government to explore the possibilities of reaching some measure of agreement with the Soviet Union on the Berlin problem."

Adenauer had already made clear in diplomatic conversations that he objected strongly to the international authority proposal.

Lawmakers Fear Session Might Be Tied Up

Republicans in House Lack Votes to Push Through Package

LANSING (AP)—Democratic resistance to passage of "nuisance" taxes has suddenly stiffened in the House and many lawmakers gloomily predict the 1962 legislative session may drag on for weeks.

A five-bill package of new or increased taxes on beer, cigarettes, liquor and telephone and telegraph bills was set to move to the House floor today. It would raise $69 million a year.

Release of the bills by the House Taxation Committee sets the stage for fierce partisan warfare and shifts the main arena in the tax battle from the Senate to the House for one of the few times this year.

With Gov. Swainson sitting in, House Democrats agreed yesterday to fight moves by majority Republicans to put through a package of nuisance levies and adjourn for the year.

"We want fiscal reform, not nuisance taxes," said Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, Democratic floor leader. "We are for an income tax. Period."

'OPPOSITION UNANIMOUS'

Kowalski said opposition to the nuisance taxes, on a voice vote, was unanimous.

"Somebody has put on the pressure from outside," said Rep. Allison Green, R-Kingston, GOP floor leader. "Last week, we figured we had enough Democrats with us to put these bills through."

Republicans hold a bare 56-54 majority in the House and one of their number, Rep. Fred Olsen of Sheridan, is hospitalized. With 55 votes required for passage of any bill, Democratic support is needed to send any tax package to the Senate.

Democrats, on the other hand, figure they can round up several Republican supporters for an income tax package. Putting it in fact through both Houses is another matter.

★ ★ ★

A coalition of Democrats and self-styled Republican "Moderates" in the Senate passed the key bill in an 11-bill income tax package late last month, but the drive petered out the next week.

House speaker Don R. Pears, R-Buchanan, said the legislature may adjourn by the end of the month if Democrats "don't resort to delaying tactics."

Asked what Republicans might offer to persuade Democrats to go along with the GOP nuisance tax program, Pears replied:

"That's a good question."

★ ★ ★

Republican senators also were struggling for agreement on a tax program, but not getting very far.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, Senate majority leader, said the consensus at a GOP caucus yesterday appeared to favor the same nuisance taxes as House Republicans, plus a sales tax on services such as dry cleaning.

Mansfield Unable to Muster Majority

Can't Get Clamp on Literacy Test Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated 64-33 today a motion to table and thus kill the administration's voter literacy test bill. Earlier it had refused 53-43 to restrict debate on the measure.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana conceded today a two-thirds majority cannot be mustered to shut off debate on the administration's voter literacy test bill.

Talking with newsmen just before today's Senate session started, he agreed "it looks pretty close" when asked if civil rights forces could even get a majority for invoking the Senate's antifilibuster rule.

The vote on whether to clamp a time limit on the debate was set for an hour after the Senate met.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield said that regardless of the outcome of the effort to limit debate, he would move immediately thereafter to table the literacy bill in a procedural step designed to obtain a test of Senate sentiment on the legislation.

Leaders believe that some senators who never would vote to curb debate will vote against tabling and thus killing the bill.

Republican leaders reported all their members on hand for the showdown and Democrats listed only three absentees—Sens. Wayne Morse (Ore.), Warren G. Magnuson (Wash.) and Frank Church (Idaho).

★ ★ ★

In the final hour before the vote, the Senate agreed to divide the time equally between opposing sides.

Depending how the voting goes, Mansfield said that he and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois may make a second attempt to invoke the Senate's antifilibuster rule.

If so, he said he probably will file another debate-limitation petition later today and schedule a vote on it for next Monday. Under these plans, no session of the Senate would be held Friday.

★ ★ ★

Today's vote was set up by the filing last Monday of such a petition, signed by Mansfield, Dirksen and 29 other senators.

Should a second effort to invoke the Senate's antifilibuster rule fail, Mansfield said the literacy bill then will be dropped for this session.

The literacy test bill, the chief civil rights measure urged by President Kennedy, was offered by Mansfield and Dirksen just two weeks ago today.

Our 1st Centaur Explodes in Sky

Officials Hunt Clue to Failure of High-Energy Orbital Booster

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Radio signals and telescopic camera films were analyzed today by technicians seeking the cause of the in-flight explosion of the first Centaur high-energy space rocket.

The study was watched closely by Project Mercury officials for any clue which might force a delay of the orbital space flight of astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, scheduled for May 17.

The 105-foot Centaur blew apart 30,000 feet above the Atlantic Ocean 55 seconds after it was fired on its maiden flight Tuesday.

The spectacular failure dealt a severe blow to U.S. plans to develop the rocket as a booster for sending heavyweight payloads into earth orbit and to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Commission Awards Demolition Contract

The City Commission has awarded the demolition contract for wrecking of commercial structures in the R20 Urban Renewal project area to Louis D'Hondt & Son Wrecking Co. of Mount Clemens.

D'Hondt was low among seven bidders for the job with a bid of $82,000. There are approximately 101 structures on 86 parcels of land to be demolished.

The Mount Clemens firm was well below the second highest accepted bid of $119,149.20 submitted by the Arch Wrecking and Salvaging Co. of Waterford Township.

One of the seven bids, a $97,950 bid by Wolverine Lumber & Wrecking Co. of Pontiac, was rejected because proposal forms were incomplete and unsigned, said city administrators.

Commissioners awarded the contract to D'Hondt with the understanding that the company would use local labor at prevailing wage scales and benefits.

City officials expressed hope that demolition of acquired structures would begin within a month.

"This will be a big move in the right direction," said City Manager Robert A. Stierer. "Now we can start demolishing many Saginaw Street properties that have been standing vacant for many months."

There are currently only five properties on S. Saginaw Street that remain unacquired. About half of the buildings to be wrecked lie west and half lie east of Saginaw in an area roughly from Pike to Osmun Streets.

About 70 per cent are already bought or under option, according to urban renewal officials. Demolition of R20 residential structures began last fall and is more than half finished.

Other firms who submitted bids are as follows: Arrow Wrecking, Inc., of Dearborn, $138,000; OK Wrecking Co. of Battle Creek, $140,000; Sam Allen & Sons, Inc., of Pontiac, $236,450; and Industrial Wrecking Co., Inc., of Hoboken, N.J., $247,400.

Mall Bows to Public Tomorrow

Pontiac and surroundings will go "malling" in the morning.

At 9 a.m. tomorrow, the glass doors will swish open on what is said to be the biggest collection of stores under one roof in the Midwest.

It will be the debut of the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Establishment of the Mall was described by the developers as a vote of confidence in the future of this area. It is intended to serve a quarter of a million people living within shopping distance in 30 communities.

To the shopper it will mean more pleasurable sprees in 50 stores under one roof providing its own climate.

There is parking space for 4,000 cars on the Mall's 60 acres. The farthest parking lot sidewalk is only 300 feet from the closest Mall entrance.

To the economy of the area, the Pontiac Mall will mean an extra 1,000 jobs with an estimated annual payroll of more than half a million dollars.

The curtain-raiser for the three-day premiere will be a flag-raising ceremony at 6 p.m. today attended by civic officials including Mayor Robert Landry of Pontiac and Supervisor Elmer Johnson of Waterford Township.

During a ceremony attended by an honor guard, Boy Scouts will present a flag to the owners of the Mall.

The owners and developers are the Gershenson Brothers — Aaron H., Samuel N. and William—and their associates James H. Wineman and Eugene J. Arnfeld.

THE WALLENDAS

Also attending the unveiling will be members of The Great Wallendas high wire act, including Mario Wallenda, who will make his first public appearance since he was injured.

During its three-day introductory celebration being held through Saturday, the Mall's present 41 merchants will bow to the public under the light of nightly fireworks and in a circus atmosphere.

The Great Wallendas will perform outside on the high wire daily at 3 p.m. and at 9 p.m. Thursday through Saturday.

★ ★ ★

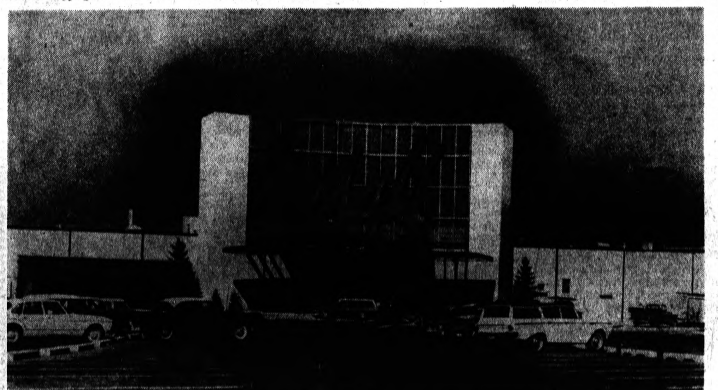

The fireworks will follow the Wallendas each night at 9:30 p.m.

And for the baseball fans, Detroit Tiger stars Norm Cash and Steve Boros will appear Saturday night to give autographed pictures.

Speaking proudly of the "shopping city," William Gershenson commented today:

"To build and bring this new, modern concept of complete shopping comfort to the community, we have combined our 150 years

MAKE OVER TACTICS

Laotian Leaders Ready to Talk

Willingness to Resume by Both Sides Told by Head of Control Body

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Indian chairman of the three-nation control commission, Avtar Singh, said today pro-Communists and neutralist factions have expressed a readiness to resume talks with the pro-Western government of Premier Prince Boun Oum to settle the Laotian crisis.

Singh made the statement to reporters on his return from a flying trip to Kong Khay—headquarters of neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and his half-brother, pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong.

Singh and two other commission members made the trip with Malcolm MacDonald, British cochairman of the Geneva conference on Laos, who spent the day talking with other rebel leaders. The two other commission members are Leon Mayrand of Canada and A. Morsit of Poland.

★ ★ ★

MacDonald, who said he came to Laos on an unofficial visit, declined comment on the nature of his talks.

He had been expected to try to find out why the Pathet Lao rebels broke the year-old cease-fire—and pledges of rebel chieftains—by staging the offensive that felled the royal government's northern stronghold of Nam Tha Sunday.

The Soviet Union and Poland have blocked plans for an international investigation of the fighting at Nam Tha.

★ ★ ★

The Foreign Office said Sir Frank Roberts, Britain's ambassador in Moscow, asked Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to join in a request for such an investigation but the Soviets withheld agreement.

Britain and the Soviet Union are cochairmen of the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos.

City Chiefs Delay Tax Rate Decision

The 1962 tax rate in Pontiac will have to wait another week. City commissioners last night deferred action on the rate until next Tuesday night.

We'll Stay in Berlin, Rusk Tells Australia

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Australians today Berlin is the most direct Soviet challenge to the free world and reaffirmed: "We will not be forced, squeezed or harassed out of West Berlin."

Rusk spoke at a dinner given in honor of him and New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake at the end of a two-day Anzus council meeting. His speech was broadcast throughout Australia.

"We have made it plain that the freedom and viability of West Berlin, free access and the Allies' presence are necessary to ensure its freedom," Rusk said.

"In Southeast Asia, likewise, the free world has vital interests which you and New Zealand and we, with our other Allies in SEATO have special obligations to protect."

COMMON INTEREST

Of the Anzus Treaty, a mutual security pact of Australia, New Zealand and the United States, Rusk said:

"No defensive alliance was ever more firmly anchored in the solid realties of common interest, common ideals and mutual confidence.

"As we have fought side by side to defend liberty in the past, so we stand together today resolved to preserve freedom against another grave threat.

"Our vital, common interests are not confined to the Pacific. They are worldwide. We are locked in a global struggle and on its outcome our fortunes — yours and ours — are indissolubly welded."

Rusk noted that in the last several months, the United States has substantially increased its assistance to South Viet Nam, where Communists are waging guerrilla warfare.

★ ★ ★

"You are helping there in significant ways, but there is more for all of us to do," he said. "We should like to see many other free nations lend a helping hand. Aggression against Southeast Asia must not be allowed to succeed."

Australian newspapers speculated on the possibility of a token force of Australian troops being sent to South Viet Nam to serve beside Americans in training and support missions.

McNamara Visits S. Viet Nam for Look at Situation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara arrived today on his first visit to South Viet Nam and set out almost immediately for a close look at the program for fighting Communist guerrillas.

★ ★ ★

McNamara and his party, which includes Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, took off in helicopters to visit a strategic village area.

In a brief airport news conference McNamara said "there is no plan for introducing American combat forces into South Viet Nam."

He called the Communist capture of Nam Tha in Laos a serious violation of the cease-fire agreement of that country. He said the United States wants to see a neutral independent Laos and does not propose to abandon Laos.

Detroit Unions Cheer NLRB

2 Dailies Still Closed as National Body Rules on News' Alleged Violation

DETROIT (AP) — A vice president of the Paper and Plate Handlers Union, which has picketed the Detroit News since Sunday, said today, "I hope the papers will be on the street tomorrow."

DETROIT (AP) — Presses at The Detroit Free Press and The Detroit News remained silent today, while craft union leaders claimed they had won at least temporary government support in their 29-day dispute with the city's two daily newspapers.

In a preliminary ruling yesterday, an official of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) found the afternoon News to have apparently violated the law by laying off employes during last month's Teamsters Union strike at the morning Free Press.

The ruling, made by NLRB District Director Thomas B. Roumell, left the way open for the News to make a voluntary settlement of the charge and avoid further action.

But management spokesmen indicated the paper would submit the case to a formal NLRB hearing and possibly court litigation.

★ ★ ★

Robert C. Butz, executive secretary of the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, issued a statement in which he again accused the unions of "hit-and-run tactics" and "collusion" in the dispute, adding:

"We are confident that when a thorough investigation is made, the NLRB or the courts will agree with this."

Roumell's ruling was returned on a complaint of six craft unions that the News, by voluntarily suspending publication and laying off "neutral employes" during last month's 10-day Teamsters Union strike at the Free Press, had created an illegal "lockout."

"At the Mall 50 well - known stores will offer tremendous selections of competitively priced merchandise to fit the needs for every family, every budget, every taste."

★ ★ ★

Gershenson added that the "shopping city" idea introduces to Michigan a trend which, the experts predict, will revolutionize the public's shopping habits.

The decor of the Mall, because of its immense scale, required the placing of over 120 separate items of sculpture. This is described as the greatest number of sculptured items in a single project in the country, according to Malcolm Moran and Donald Buby of Architectural Sculpture Co.

"We are indeed proud of the merchants in the Mall," Aaron Gershenson said. "These famous names read like a 'Who's Who' of the merchants world and guarantee to our customers the finest in goods and services."

Spring's Bite Is Pretty Hard

Killer Thunderstorms Sweep From Kansas to Carolinas; Three Die

By United Press International

Spring's bite was worse than its bark today with killer thunderstorms grumbling from Kansas to the Carolinas and snow in parts of Massachusetts and Michigan.

A small tornado was reported near Richmond, Va.

At least 3 deaths were blamed on the storm last night.

A 9-year-old boy was killed by a falling tree at Richmond, Va. A Burlington, N. C., woman died in a similar accident. A Winston-Salem, N. C., woman lost her life when a wind gust blew her car into a tree.

Mechanic Lothar Von Maltzahn suffered severe head injuries when the wind flipped over a light plane at Charlottesville, Va., yesterday.

HIGH WINDS HIT

Winds up to 74 miles an hour lifted roofs from homes in Appomatox and Farmville, Va. A garage was overturned at Appomatox yesterday.

Trees were uprooted and power lines down in Virginia and North Carolina. A dozen Virginia roads were blocked by tree limbs. Charlottesville, Va., had 8 inches of rain yesterday.

Half-inch hail stones and 1.60 inches of rain fell early today on the Kansas Turnpike 50 miles northeast of Wichita. Paducah, Ky., and Oceana, Va., had nearly an inch of rain.

Policemen Reinforced in Algiers

ALGIERS (AP) — Drastic new measures to cut down secret army terrorism — including surveillance of European youths and the systematic sealing of sections of Algiers — were announced by the French today.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for French High Commissioner Fouchet explained the measures as terrorist took a toll of at least nine Moslems killed in pistol and machine gun attacks by early afternoon.

The new measures are an extension of methods attempted in the past few weeks that failed to halt the terrorist attacks.

The spokesman said, however, that the number of mobile gendarmes on duty will be massively reinforced, and sections of the city where the attacks are worst will be systematically sealed off.

Troops and riot police will enforce a total curfew in such areas.

★ ★ ★

Europeans from 18 to 25 years of age will be put under close watch, he added, and pedestrians will be methodically searched.

The spokesman said nine Europeans suspected of terrorist activity were expelled today, and more expulsions will follow.

EXPLODES 30,000 FEET UP—The Centaur space rocket exploded in the sky 30,000 feet up yesterday afternoon shortly after being launched from Cape Canaveral. Officials are analyzing the cause of the failure, which dealt a severe blow to U.S. plans.

Centaur Blows Up in Sky

cerned lest the trouble be traced to the Centaur's Atlas first stage. There were indications that the Atlas was at fault.

A similar Atlas missile is on a launching pad here being prepared to loft Carpenter into space on a three-orbit mission similar to that made by Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. on Feb. 20.

The Atlas is a complex vehicle with more than 300,000 moving parts. If the Centaur failure is traced to the Atlas system, then that part of Carpenter's booster would be checked thoroughly before a green light would be given to his space ride. Analysis of the data may take two or three days.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had hoped for a successful first flight of the Centaur to help reduce delays in launching the rocket.

The main problem stems from developing high-energy liquid hydrogen as a propellant for the second stage.

Controlling this tricky, super-cold fuel, which must be kept at a temperature of 423 degrees below zero to remain liquid, is the key to Centaur's extra muscle.

Once harnessed, liquid hydrogen will produce 40 per cent greater thrust per pound of fuel than chemical fuels used on present rockets like the Atlas. Centaur's second stage has two hydrogen-driven engines with total thrust of 30,000 pounds—a potent kick when ignited in the vacuum of space.

City Offers Site for Building of IRS Data Center

The City Commission last night passed a resolution offering the old Orchard Lake sanitary fill as a site for a proposed Internal Revenue Service (IRS) data processing center.

The resolution will be forwarded immediately to IRS officials in Washington, D.C., and Chicago.

It is worded to leave the door open to future offers in connection with building on the 44-acre plot if IRS officials find the site to their liking.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer said IRS officials were expected to come to Pontiac early next week to survey possible sites for the $2-million center. Sites have also been offered by Port Huron and Detroit.

The city-owned Pontiac site lies just southwest of Beaudette Park along a Grand Trunk Western Railroad line.

'No N-Test Ban Without France'

Russia Reverses Again and Refuses to OK Pact With West

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union once again reversed itself today and declared it will never sign any nuclear test ban treaty without France.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin announced the Soviet position at a session of the 17-nation disarmament conference discussing the test ban negotiations of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

Zorin referred to the recent French underground test in the Sahara and declared:

"There is another power now testing nuclear weapons. This power is refusing to take part in the negotiations and has never said it would adhere to a nuclear test ban treaty.

★ ★ ★

"The Soviet Union will not sign any treaty on banning nuclear tests unless France is a party to it."

France has never taken part in the test ban talks, and has boycotted the disarmament conference since it opened March 14.

The United States detected the French nuclear test before Paris announced it and Zorin used this to support the Soviet position that no international control system is necessary to police a test ban.

"The fact that the test was picked up by the United States bears out our assertion that all tests can be detected by national detection systems," Zorin declared.

"The test ban negotiations are deadlocked by the Soviet refusal to discuss any international control arrangements allowing for compulsory inspection of suspicious earth tremors."

The United States and Britain refuse to accept a test ban without such a control system.

Late Architect Saarinen Is Honored With Medal

BIRMINGHAM — The American Institute of Architects' highest award, the Gold Medal, went posthumously to Eero Saarinen of Bloomfield Hills yesterday.

The award was made at the AIA's annual meeting held in Dallas, Tex.

Saarinen died Sept. 1, 1961, at the age of 51.

He designed the Dulles International Airport in Washington, D.C., the campus for Concordia Senior College in Fort Wayne, Ind., and the General Motors Technical Center in Warren.

For the latter, he was named the country's outstanding architect in 1953 by the AIA.

Sundberg-Ferar, Inc., a Southfield industrial designing firm, was awarded the AIA industrial Arts gold medal "for superiority in developing outstanding elegance and commodity for a large variety of designs to be executed by the machine."

The company is at 24469 W. 10½-Mile Road.

Dr. John Visser of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Detroit, will be the guest speaker at the Friday meeting of the Senior Men's Club of Birmingham at the Community House.

Dr. Visser will discuss his recent 4½-month trip around the world.

The Annual Mother and Daughter Banquet of the First Methodist Church will be held 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. It will be followed by a fashion show.

Mrs. Mark Martin, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, will act as mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. William Lovejoy will give the invocation.

Mrs. Owen Leffler is general program chairman.

Otho O. Corsaut Sr.

Service for Otho O. Corsaut Sr., 73, of 32230 Lahser Road, Beverly Hills, will be 2 p.m. Thursday at the Sullivan and son Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Corsaut died Monday in Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, after a short illness.

He was a partner in the O. O. Crossut Co., a water well drilling and pump contracting firm, retiring from active service in 1954.

He was an honorary member of the Michigan Well Drillers Association and a senior active member of the Royal Oak Rotary Club.

Surviving are his wife Mary L.; a son, Otho O. Jr. of Beverly Hills; three sisters, two brothers and four grandchildren.

P. H. Hamly

Service for P. H. Hamly, 66, of 4120 Orchard Hills Road, Bloomfield Township, will be 1 p.m. Friday at his home. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Hamly died yesterday.

He was the owner of the P. H. Hamly Hardware Co., Detroit.

Surviving are his wife Virginia; three daughters, Virginia Hamly of Birmingham, Mrs. Charles K. Callam of Southfield and Mrs. Carlton Bartlett of Detroit; a son, Robert of Birmingham; and nine grandchildren.

Arrangements were made by the Sweeney Funeral Home, Detroit.

Slain Youth Found Bound, Shot, in Ditch

TRENTON (AP) — The body of a youth who had been bound with handcuffs and shot in the back of the head was found today in a water-filled drainage ditch just outside the south Trenton city limits.

State police said the unidentified youth, believed to be about 21 years old, had been shot fatally some time last night and his body later dumped in the ditch.

The drainage ditch is located near a new housing project within sight of the Trenton city limits.

No car tracks were found on the road alongside the ditch. State police said the road was heavily traveled.

Public to Vote in Fall or Spring?

Constitution Date in Court

LANSING (UPI)—A court battle over when the new constitution will be submitted to the voters appeared to be shaping up today as delegates struggled through final consideration of the document.

Gov. John B. Swainson rejected an appeal to seek a Supreme Court ruling clearing the way for a vote in November rather than next April.

In a letter to Richard C. Van Dusen, R - Birmingham, chairman of a select committee of the convention working on the problem, the governor said he could not find such action to be "compelling."

Van Dusen reacted by ramming through the rules committee, which he also heads, a resolution calling for action in Ingham County Circuit Court to force a November vote.

"We will submit this resolution to the convention for approval after action on the schedule section of the new document (probably today)," Van Dusen said.

Delegates voted earlier to seek means of submitting the document they have been working on for 7½ months in the November general election.

A larger voter turnout was the generally quoted reason by supporters of such action.

★ ★ ★

George Romney, R-Bloomfield Hills, a convention vice president and GOP candidate for governor, will also be running on the November ballot against Swainson and political observers have pointed out that he may feel it an advantage to have the document he helped write on the ballot with him.

★ ★ ★

Former Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, now a state Supreme Court justice, ruled last fall that unless the convention completed its work by the end of March the document could not be on the fall ballot.

School Board to Get Proposed Pay Schedule

A proposed salary schedule for teachers will be presented to the Pontiac Board of Education for consideration at its 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

No total figure involving an expected salary hike has been released. However, Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said today that a joint committee of teachers' representatives and administrators had agreed on details of the hike.

Also on the agenda is a recommendation by the school administration to the school board regarding legal protection of pupils during police questioning and before removal of a student from school.

The recommendation, which has not been given board approval, is that a school official must be present during questioning of pupils and that an attempt to notify the parent must be made before removal of a child from school.

★ ★ ★

A demand by a parent that parents be called before questioning made two weeks ago, caused postponement of a decision on the administration recommendation. However, no such proposal has been added aside from minor changes in strengthening the working of the proposed formal policy.

The school district has operated for several years under procedures outlined in the recommendations.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board will be faced with a recommendation to approve planning specifications for new board of education housing facilities. No dollar figure has been set. Completion of the facilities is scheduled for 1963 when the old 40 Patterson St. housing will be razed for urban renewal.

★ ★ ★

The facilities include a proposed 59,000 square feet for a new service building and 18,800 square feet for a new administration building.

An oral report will be presented to the board by Asst. Supt. Otto C. Hutziger about the extent of wind damage at Madison Junior High School.

Will Try Man for Possesion of Money Plates

A Royal Oak Township man charged with possession of counterfeit money plates was scheduled to stand trial today in U.S. District Court, Detroit.

John Marshall, 39, 20870 Westview St., was arrested following a gambling raid at his home March 3, during which sheriff's deputies discovered the plates for counterfeiting $1 bills.

Sheriff's detectives Capt. Leo Hazen and Sgt. Harry Maur were subpoenaed yesterday to appear on behalf of the defendant.

Normally law enforcement officers appear as witnesses for the prosecution.

★ ★ ★

Maur said he thinks the defense counsel wants to question them on the manner in which they gained entry to Marshall's home.

Health Official, Panel to Air Weight Control

Dr. Bernard Berman, deputy county health director and Pontiac city health director, will be one of six panelists speaking on weight control and physical fitness 1:30 p.m. Friday in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The panel is part of the current joint session of the Michigan Public Health Association and the Michigan School Health Association.

Bids Due June 4 on Black Topping Pontiac Streets

The city has set 2 p.m. June 4 as the deadline for accepting bids on the contract for blacktopping and recapping of Pontiac streets under the 1962 public improvement program.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission authorized City Clerk Olga Barkeley to advertise for bids on the paving projects to be done under public necessity resolutions.

There are some 16 streets slated for black topping and five due for recapping in the program adopted in March. The city's estimated total cost for black topping is $113,202 and for recapping, $69,400.

TH... 43 West Huron St. ...ple Are Still Afraid Not to Clean Up Their Desks

HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If cleanliness is next to godliness, most people this time of year are rubbing elbows with heaven.

★ ★ ★

Now is the time when housewives at home and bosses in the office go on their annual spring tidying up spree.

BOYLE

I hate this seasonal emotional binge because it threatens the lifetime of considered disorder I have let pile up on my desk — my empire of disarray.

One by one the messengers of order—from buck private to vice president—ride up with the query:

STILL NOT TIRED

"Everybody else has cleaned up his desk, so why can't you? Aren't you getting tired of playing the role of an indoor Huck Finn?"

The answer is a firm "No!"

The urge to a uniform office cleanliness is just one more form of hysteria in a mad world, a succumbing to universal brainwashing and the fear of being found out to be different.

★ ★ ★

Any coward can clean off his desk and make it look as anonymous as everybody else's desk. But it takes courage to give your desk the stamp of your identity.

My theory is this: I don't feel like everybody else—or anybody else. Why shouldn't, therefore, my desk share this liberty? Why should it be a shining zero, undistinguishable from the rows of gleaming desks around it?

WHAT'S IT HIDING?

A desk that is always neat is like a person who always has his hair combed—clean but suspiciously unhuman. What emptiness of dream is all that polished perfection hiding?

A face and a desk—so runs my reasoning—both should reflect a personality and show a lived-in look.

★ ★ ★

Naturally this attitude ends up by making a man an unwilling rebel. If you enjoy having a desk that looks like a quarter section of a city dump, you have to fight the forces of office order to keep it that way.

BEWARE, BEWARE

I don't have a sign saying "Think!" on the wall behind me. I have signs saying, "Don't throw it away" and "Beware of creeping cleanliness."

My favorite office hero is the late Kansas editor, William Allen White, whose famous rolltop desk was perhaps the most disorderly in the history of American journalism. White's theory was that when a pile of mail became too high and toppled to the floor it was time to pick it up, open the envelopes—and then respond to the letters that really required an answer.

★ ★ ★

This simple labor-saving device enabled the justly renowned editor to conserve his energy, live to a ripe old age, and write the obituaries or biographies of many of his neater contemporaries.

IT TAKES TIME

It takes time, patience and character to build a desk into a living monument of experience. You must first pile things on it by geography, later by geologic eras.

But when you are through—although you never really quite are—you have a masterpiece of architecture that has acquired its own individuality. No one could mistake your desk for anybody else's—any more than even the most unenlightened tourist could mistake Grant's Tomb for the great Pyramid of Cheops.

The trouble with devoting a lifetime to the creation of a truly memorable desk is that when you come to make out your will you have a problem. Who can you leave it to?

At Their Car Dealers

Customers Like Service

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—The president of the United States' third largest auto manufacturing firm said today the car dealer is becoming increasingly vital to the automotive industry because of the importance of service to customers.

Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler Corp. president, told the annual convention of the Tennessee Automobile Dealers Association that when the modern auto needs servicing it requires the attention of a highly trained mechanic. The mechanic, he said, must be backed up by a dealer who is prepared to provide the best in parts and service.

Townsend pointed out that today's car has as many as 16,000 different parts. "What happens at the dealer end of the operation—in the way of customer service—influences the public's attitude toward the whole automobile industry," he said.

The completely service-free automobile is still in the distant future, Townsend said.

★ ★ ★

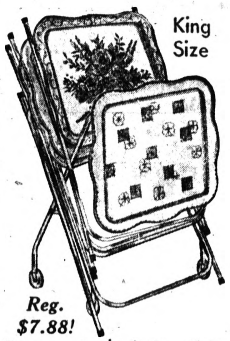

"The efficiency with which the dealer meets that need will determine in large part the success of his service department, and eventually his sale department," the Chrysler executive said. He said that if the customer gets into the habit of coming to the dealership for service and minor repairs, he is likely to come back when he is in the market for a car."

Earth's atmosphere, two or three billion years ago, may have consisted chiefly of methane, ammonia and hydrogen, instead of oxygen and nitrogen.

Select Candidates for Congress in Five States

Ex-Senator, Taft's Son Win Decisively in Primaries

By The Associated Press

Former Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida and Robert Taft Jr., son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, won decisive primary election victories Tuesday in their bids for Congress.

Two other Florida candidates, Sen. George Smathers and Rep. Dante Fascell, also won Democratic renomination. Like Pepper, who was a staunch New Deal supporter in the '30s and '40s, they had strongly endorsed President Kennedy's program and had received the President's blessing.

Results of the voting in five states included:

★ ★ ★

OHIO—Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won Democratic renomination. A man named Kennedy—real estate man Richard D. Kennedy—led a field of 11 Democratic candidates to see who will oppose Taft in the November race for congressman-at-large.

INDIANA — All 11 incumbent congressmen were renominated.

WEST VIRGINIA — All six incumbent congressmen were renominated.

NEW MEXICO—State Rep. Jack M. Campbell won Democratic gubernatorial nomination and the state's two congressmen, both Democrats, were renominated.

DRAWS INTEREST

The Florida primary drew the most interest.

Sen. Smathers had little trouble in disposing of Roger L. Davis of Fort Lauderdale and Douglas R. Voorhees of Miami in his bid for a third term.

Fascell had a hard campaign with conservative State Sen. David Eldredge but came out on top. The Miami congressman has been Kennedy's most consistent supporter among the Florida delegation.

Pepper, whom Smathers unseated in the 1950 Democratic primary, made his comeback in the 3rd District. He campaigned hard for the President's program to finance medical care for the aged through Social Security.

★ ★ ★

The issue appeared to have drawn a mixed reaction in two other Democratic congressional primaries in Florida, a state gaining four new congressmen because of population gains.

One supporter of the Kennedy medical care program, chiropractor John A. Marcello, was defeated by Rep. D. R. Matthews, bidding for his sixth term in Congress.

Another Kennedy supporter, State Rep. L. B. Vocelle, made it into a runoff election with former State Sen. John A. Sutton in the 11th District.

In Ohio Lausche and Taft ran away from their opponents but DiSalle had stubborn opposition from Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy before winning the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. DiSalle had said at first he wouldn't seek a second term as governor, then changed his mind.

John Marshal Briley of Toledo, a former business executive and onetime state GOP finance chairman, won the Republican nomination to oppose Lausche. He nosed out State Sen. Charles Fry of Springfield and two other opponents.

★ ★ ★

Taft, leader of Republican forces in the Ohio House, easily outdistanced State Sen. Thomas Lowell Fess in their battle for the GOP nomination for congressman-at-large. Fess, like Taft, is the son of a late U.S. senator.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes crushed William L. White of Mount Vernon by a 10-1 margin for the Ohio Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Twenty-two Ohio congressmen won renomination. Only four had contests, and none was close. Rep. Gordon Scherer of Cincinnati, ranking Republican on the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities did not seek re-election.

Indiana's 11 incumbents also won renomination, six without a contest including House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck. Winning their primary tests were Republican Reps. Ray J. Madden and Winfield K. Denton.

★ ★ ★

In West Virginia, six incumbent congressmen cleared the primary hurdle. Only two—Democrats Ken Hechler and Elizabeth Kee—had contests. Each won easily.

Rep. Cleveland Bailey, a Democrat, and Rep. Arch A. Moore, a Republican, will fight it out in a new district in November due to West Virginia's loss of representation in the House from six to five because of a decline in population.

The New Mexico Democratic gubernatorial primary was a close race with Jack M. Campbell of Roswell beating Ed. V. Mead of Albuquerque. Campbell will meet Mechem, unopposed for the Republican nomination to his fifth term.

Rep. Joseph M. Montoya was well ahead of two rivals for the Democratic nomination. The state's other congressman, Rep. Thomas G. Morris, had no Democratic opposition for renomination.

The Warragamba Dam, a water supply project opened in 1960 near Sydney, Australia, is 450 feet high and 340 feet long.

Gulp Goldfish to Aid Higher -Uh-Education

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Fordham University students revived a campus cultural activity of decades past Tuesday. They swallowed 57 goldfish.

The four volunteers set up a table in the campus center and began the gulpathon to push lagging sales of tickets for a Saturday night Roaring Twenties party. Every time a ticket was purchased, one of the volunteers would swallow a 1-inch goldfish.

★ ★ ★

By day's end, Don Ross had swallowed 24, Gary Oswald had downed 14, Ed Morris had consumed 14 and Bob Bogucki had gulped 5.

Bogucki said he would have swallowed more but had to get to a class.

Is Cass Lake on Way Back?

By DON VOGEL

The new ordinance regulating boat operation on waters in West Bloomfield Township could be the vehicle that will return Cass Lake to a position of one of the top fishing lakes in Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Before the boating and water ski boom came along, Cass was listed high on the list of desired waters by anglers in this part of the state.

When more and more boats began using the lake, anglers began heading for quieter waters. Some felt the big motors frightened the fish; others didn't like the waves kicked up by the larger boats; some decided the lake was getting too crowded.

Fishermen are bound to take advantage of the hours when water skiing is prohibited.

A good number of anglers still fish the lake, but the total is way down over previous years.

WIDE CHOICE

Anyone fishing Cass for the first time will find a wide variety of fish.

The smallmouth bass fishing has been very good in recent years. Good catches of speckled bass have been reported, particularly during the winter.

There is a large perch population and the lake has plenty of bluegills. Added benefits are walleyes, lake trout and rainbows.

Walleyes up to five pounds are taken by those who fish for them. The lakers run from three to eight pounds. Rainbows planted in the Clinton River have migrated down stream to the lake and each year one or two in the three pound class are taken while spawning in the Clinton. The lake was last stocked with rainbows in 1960.

★ ★ ★

Indications point to some of the best fishing in the area once new fishermen, or those returning after a number of years, learn the "spots."

No entries have been made in The Press Big Fish Derby. Rainbows, pike and bluegills are eligible. Black bass can be entered after June 1.

Weight only determines the winner. Residents of Oakland County are eligible and the fish must be caught on waters, other than commercial or private, in the county.

FOUR WINNERS

Pike and bass winners each will receive a $50 savings bond. Awards for the other two divisions are $25 bonds.

Bluegills are moving close to shore on most area lakes and can be taken with popping bugs. Bass are hitting on Pontiac Lake, the only one in the county where large and smallmouths can be taken all year.

John Welch of 4 Liberty St. took four bass including a four pounder on a nightcrawler harness at Pontiac Lake.

Bluegills and speckled bass are hitting on Kent Lake. The rainbows came alive on area lakes after last week's rain, but slowed with the cool weather.

★ ★

Limit catches of walleyes were reported off Metropolitan Beach last week. But the fish were on the small side.

Elizabeth Lake produced several nice catches of rainbows last week with a few of the fish going 16 inches. The trout were found working the shallows just before the dropoff. Nightcrawlers proved to be the best bait.

★ ★

Carp are starting their spawning runs up rivers and into the shallows. This is good news for the bow fishermen.

Hunting Permits in Novi Avoided

Have 'No Authority' to Regulate Firearms Is Kelley's Opinion

An ordinance adopted by the village of Novi just before the 1961 hunting season requiring permits to hunt has been voided by an opinion from the state attorney general's office.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley said municipalities have no authority to adopt ordinances regulating the discharge of firearms if they interfere with state hunting regulations.

Ordinances also were nullified in Lansing Township, Ingham County; Flint Township, Genesee County; and Portage Township, Kalamazoo County.

"The legislature has occupied the entire field of game regulations including the manner of taking game and the type of guns to be used," Kelley told state conservation director Gerald E. Eddy, who sought the opinion.

"In so doing," he said, "the legislature has also legislated in the field of firearm safety."

The three townships took the action under a state law authorizing township boards to adopt ordinances regulating the health and safety of persons and property.

Early Deer Opening in U.P. Is Official

LANSING (AP) — A bill providing for a permanent Saturday opening of the deer season in most of the Upper Peninsula has been signed into law by Gov. Swainson.

The bill affects all but Luce, Mackinac and Chippewa Counties and small sections of Alger and Schoolcraft Counties east of M77.

In the rest of the Upper Peninsula, the deer season will open on the Saturday preceding Nov. 15, unless that date falls on a Saturday. This year it will start Nov. 10 and run the normal 16 days.

The regular Nov. 15-30 season will continue through the rest of Michigan, giving hunters 21 days to bag a deer if they want to try their luck in both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

Another provision of the bill will allow bear hunting in Keweenaw County only during the deer season. This is intended to eliminate the practice of shooting bears that frequent garbage dumps in the county.

In all other counties, the State Conservation Commission has discretionary authority to establish open and closed seasons on bears.

BLACKS LEGAL

The new law also will open Cheboygan, Clare and Isabella Counties to hunting of black squirrels during the regular open seasons on bear.

Another conservation bill signed will require the state conservation director to extend the rainbow and brown trout season in certain waters by opening the season on the first Saturday in April or by allowing fishing in specified waters through November, or both.

DON'T NEED AS MUCH

Up for consideration by the State Conservation Commission is a short-term plan to open the Rifle River area in Ogemaw County to camping and other park uses in the 1962 season.

It will be studied at the Commission's meeting Thursday and Friday in Bay City.

EXPENSIVE WEAPON — Steve Cohany holds the $12,500 Colt single action army .45 Special that will highlight a gun show Friday evening in Birmingham. The revolver is Colt's 125th anniversary model.

$12,500 Colt in Gun Show

Weapon to Be Diplayed Friday at Birmingham; Others Are Included

Four guns valued at over $15,000 will be featured at a gun show Friday at the Griswold sporting goods store in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Most highly prized weapon the public can see between 7 and 9 p.m. will be the $12,500 Colt single action revolver. This army .45 Special was specially made for Colt's 125th anniversary.

Steve Chohany, who has charge of the show, said it took "a master craftsman almost a year to engrave the revolver."

It is all gold inlay.

Other guns of high value will be a 270 Weatherby Magnum worth $1,400; a Gamba over and under 12 guage shotgun, $1,000; and a Browning superimposed Midas shotgun, $1,000.

GERMAN GUNS

Several of the exhibits are hold-overs from Griswold's three-day show at their Detroit store last week.

Included will be two German drilling guns. One is a side-by-side double barrel shotgun over a 9 mm rifle barrel. The other is two rifle barrels over a shotgun bore.

Chohany is attempting to hold the specially engraved 2,500,000th Winchester Model 94 for Friday's show.

Smith, Thiefels Hot in Canadian Shoot

Larry Smith of Birmingham and Pontiac's Bob Thiefels took care of the runners slots and were members of the winning five-man team in last weekend's Seventh Canadian and 13th Province of Quebec skeet Championships at St. Janvier, Que.

★ ★ ★

Smith won the Class AA and senior championships in the .410 and 28 gauge events. This meant he was runnerup for the championship in each event. The veteran shooter finished second in the high overall standings with 490 out of 500.

Barney Hartman of Ottawa outshot Thiefels in a shootoff for 20 gauge honors. Thiefels claimed the Class AA crown.

The Pontiac gunner and Hartman each ran 100 targets. Thiefels dropped or missed two in the shootoff while Hartman, two time all gauge champ, shot 25 straight.

Hartman copped the overall crown away from Smith by posting a 494x500. But he lost his all gauge championship to Ken Sedlecky of Baldwin, Mich., in a shootoff that went to 141 targets before Hartman missed.

NATURE STRIKES

A bolt of lightning streaked across the sky just as Hartman pulled the trigger and this may have made the RCAF squadron leader miss.

The Michigan Wreckers — Smith, Thiefels, Warren's Jack Fattyn and Howard Calder and Chet Cotter of Detroit—shattered 493 of 500 targets to break the two-year reign of Maryland's Lock Raven Club.

The team score was one shot off the record set by the Montreal Skeet Club in 1957. The Canadian team was runnerup this year.

Other champions crowned during the three-day shoot were Dominic Pisacatelli, Hamden, Conn., .410; and Tom Heffron, Groton, N. Y., 28 gauge.

★ ★ ★

Area shooters attending were Dr. Jack Wiant, Ralph Zimmerman and Al Fruman of Birmingham.

Bill Ellis of Mt. Clemens, who shoots from a wheelchair, broke 98 of 100 in the 20 gauge competition.

Two New Lakes at Bald Mt.

Double Impoundments to Cover 80 Acres; Beach Planned

Work on the proposed double trout lake impoundment at Bald Mountain recreation area may get under way before the summer is over.

★ ★ ★

The Conservation Department announced that bids will be accepted for letting contracts until May 31. The project is expected to be completed in three years.

Officials said the impoundment would cover 80 acres and include bathing facilities and a beach. Tentative plans call for the lakes to be stocked with trout.

Two dams will be constructed along Trout Creek to form the lakes.

The first dam will be about an eighth of a mile below the present barrier which forms the pond at the picnic area on Bald Mountain Road. This pond would extend from the first dam to about 250 yards west of the road. The water level will be raised three feet and the road level raised to allow for access.

SECOND DAM

The lower impoundment will back up the first dam and extend to a dam near the headquarters building.

Access roads, sanitary facilities, bath houses and picnic areas are all included in the project which will be financed under the parks permit bonding program.

Bald Mountain currently has three streams stocked with trout and the special fly only trout pond.

Sees Little Hope for Congressional Action on Dunes

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's highly unlikely Congress will take action this year on two bills to create federal recreation areas in Michigan, says Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., sponsor of the bills.

But Hart told a news conference he hopes to hold hearings this year on bills to establish a Sleeping Bear Dunes national recreation area near Traverse City and a Pictured Rocks national area in the Upper Peninsula.

"It's unlikely to anticipate favorable action by both houses this year," said Hart.

Failure to act this year on the bills would mean they would have to be resubmitted next year in the 88th Congress.

No hearings have been held on the Pictured Rocks bill. A one-day hearing was conducted last fall in Traverse City by the Senate public lands subcommittee studying the Sleeping Bear bill.

BEING REVISED

Both bills are being revised in efforts by Hart to appease landowners in the Sleeping Bear region and timber interests in the sparsely populated Pictured Rocks country.

The draft of the revised Pictured Rocks bill is now in private circulation among interested parties such as the Cleveland Cliffs Mining Co., which cuts timber from the 67,000-acre Pictured Rocks area.

Pollution Kill Touches County on Two Lakes

Fish killed by pollution in Cooley and Crescent Lakes helped boost the state total to 10,000 last year.

Other known losses were in Swan Creek, Branch County; Cass River, Tuscola County; Red Cedar River, Livingston County and Round Lake, Clinton County.

Agricultural poisons were blamed for the deaths in Cooley, Round and Crescent Lakes; industrial wastes killed fish in Swan Creek, the Cass and Red Cedar Rivers, state game men said.

Nationally, the department said, agricultural wastes accounted for most deaths, with industrial wastes, mining operations and domestic sewage next on the list.

Honkers Are Spreading Out on Migrations

Where Does the Wild Goose Fly?

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Goose No. 345-9876, where are you?

If anyone knows, it's likely to be the biologist in charge of the W. K. Kellogg bird sanctuary near Gull Lake, R. D. Van Deusen, who is watching the traveling habits of some 2,000 banded Canada geese like a hawk.

As a sort of sociologist of the wildfowl world, "Van" is amassing evidence that many contemporary geese are honking at tradition and good, good goose behavior. In short, they've quit winging it straight south for the winter as their grandganders taught them.

There is also good reason to believe that the geese don't as generally supposed, start heading south from widespread summer nesting areas in northern Canada and then converge into concentrations on the flyways in a flight resembling a funnel with the spout pointing south.

"Many reports from hunters and others on the wild geese we've tagged here show the opposite probably is true," Van said. "Our geese tend to nest in a fairly small area on the west side of James Bay at the foot of Hudson Bay. By projecting the report data both the north and south ends of the migration, it appears that the flight funnel picture should actually be turned upside down with small end pointing north."

Bearing out his conclusion are the red dots he has spotted on a large relief map of eastern Canada and the United States, each dot indicating one to four certified reports of the whereabouts of his banded geese.

PINPOINT WORK

A small cluster of dots along James Bay becomes a widely scattered pattern in some 10 states south of Michigan.

"Twenty to thirty years ago there was quite a concentration of geese wintering on the Gulf coast, indicating that many of the birds were migrating straight south like an arrow," Van said. "But the fascinating thing is, our studies show they have changed their minds over the years — broken long-standing habits—so that now some of them even head eastward, not directly south, and enjoy the winter in the Carolinas."

Where these "mountain-climbers" actually cross the Appalachians has never been determined, he said, even though one hopeful specialist in that area has spent many sleepless nights trying to find out.

Proof that some of the Kellogg Sanctuary-banded geese are now turning up their bills at deep south bayous from the private gaddy wild goose refuge near Ansonville, N.C., where Mrs. Hazel Ross Gaddy has observed their neckbands among the 10,000 birds that usually respond to the all-winter banquet she puts on for them.

The dotted map shows, too, that the goose's compass is his gizzard, and it usually points to one of the big federal refuges where a full crew and hazard-free paddling beckon.

"Now they don't have to fly any farther south than mid-Indiana to the new willow slough refuge near Kokomo or to the Horseshoe or Crab Orchard refuges around Cairo, Ill.," said Van. "They soon know a deal when they see one."

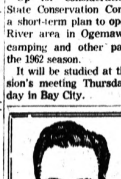

"It proves the Canada goose is one of the most manageable species there is," he continued. "I contend that if we could develop a greater attraction here and elsewhere in southern Michigan—more food and open water in the winter—it would increase the nesting potential, mean more birds and provide a welcome sight in the winter when most of the bird life has departed."

Other biologists and game management men at refuge and sanctuaries are keeping track of banded geese as well.

Retired Sir Gaylord Returns to the Farm

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Sir Gaylord, the early favorite for the Kentucky Derby who was scratched after he pulled up lame in a workout, arrived Tuesday at Claiborne Farm, where he will stand in stud.

The C. V. Chenery colt, whose racing days were ended by the cracked sesamoid bone he suffered in last Friday's workout, will be bred to mares at the farm, owned by A. B. Hancock.

New Lows for Year Touched

Stock Market Continues Slide

NEW YORK (AP)— The stock market continued to slide in active trading early today.

★ ★ ★

Losses of pivotal issues went from fractions to more than a point.

General Motors, selling ex dividend, continued under selling pressure, dropping ⅝ at 52¾ on 14,600 shares and widening its loss slightly in later dealings.

★ ★ ★

The list touched new lows for the year yesterday and more discouraged selling came in the wake.

Ford was off about a point. Losses of around a point were also taken by U.S. Steel, Goodrich, Korvette, General Dynamics, American Telephone, U.S. Gypsum and Polaroid.

International Business Machines shucked off half a dozen points.

Amerada and Eastman Kodak were down about 2 apiece.

Trading was heavier than usual at the start. There was little in the news to cause any marked change in sentiment from yesterday.

Standard Killiman was steady but flighty traded following news of a contract connected with the Apollo lunar spacecraft.

Among early transactions, General Dynamics traded on successive blocks of 4,000 and 6,000 shares, off 1¼ at 28¾. Korvette sold on successive blocks of 5,800 and 4,000 shares, off 1 at 44¾.

★ ★ ★

Prices were mostly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Losses exceeding a point were taken by Reliance Insurance and Mead Johnson. Other losers included Arkansas-Louisiana Land, Southern Materials, Creole Petroleum, Paddington "A," and Gulf American Land.

Government Bonds Up

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. government bond prices opened irregularly higher today while corporates were mixed in early New York Stock Exchange trading.

★ ★ ★

Over-the-counter dealers in Treasury securities quoted some intermediates and long issues up 2/32 to 4/32 in quiet dealings. Other bonds were mostly unchanged.

Rails improved and industrials dipped among corporates. Utilities started off irregular.

There was a relatively large number of price moves amounting to a full point or more outside the convertible section.

Eye 2 GOPers in Estes Probe

Inquiry May Spread to Agencies Other Than Agriculture Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice department and Senate investigators were reported today to be exploring affairs of two Republicans, former officials of the Agriculture Department in connection with the Billie Sol Estes case.

★ ★ ★

Well-placed informants, declining to be quoted by name, also said the over-all inquiry may touch on relations between Estes, a cotton - raising - grain - feeding West Texas financier, and government agencies other than the Agriculture Department.

They declined to name the other agencies at this point.

One of the major questions raised in the Estes case is whether he has received favored treatment from the Agriculture Department under President Kennedy's farm secretary, Orville L. Freeman. Freeman says Estes did not.

The two Republicans were identified as James A. McConnell and Walter Berger, former officials in the Agriculture Department's Commodities Stabilization Service under Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. Benson headed the department in President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration.

★ ★ ★

Both McConnell and Berger left the agency to become officials of the Commercial Solvents Corp. of New York.

A Texas court of inquiry has received evidence that Estes bought fertilizer from Commercial Solvents and sold it at a loss to farmers who would agree to store their grain in Estes-owned grain elevators.

The informants said possible antitrust aspects of fertilizer deals are under study. They said records of the company and of McConnell and Berger either have been subpoenaed or will be subpoenaed shortly.

Senate hearings on the Estes case are expected but Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today he won't be stampeded into starting them prematurely.

Suggests Same Policies for Europe, U.S. Unions

PARIS (AP)— Renee Richard, secretary-general of the supervisory union of the Socialist workers' force, suggested yesterday that European and American unions in the automobile industry work out common policies.

This has become urgent, he said, because of the big investments by General Motors and Ford in German and British plants.

Wants More House Members

UAW Aims Political Push

By NORMAN WALKER

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Labor strategists have come up with an embarrassing statistic: Union members outnumber professionals and business executives 2-1 but each group exercises about equal voting power in national elections.

Politically conscious delegates to the United Auto Workers Union convention got this information before they acted to support a drive to add 20 to 30 liberal House members to Congress in the fall elections. President Kennedy made it plain he counts on UAW support for Democrats.

UAW VOTING

President Walter Reuther and other major UAW officers were due to be elected by the convention today to new two-year terms. His slate included a Negro for the first time, Nelson (Jack) Edwards of Detroit, candidate for the UAW Executive Board.

★ ★ ★

It was Reuther's brother, Roy, head of the UAW Political Action Department, who brought out the worker-executive voting standoff.

He told the convention the 1960 voting and census figures show union members made up 37 per cent of the voting population but represented only 26 per cent of the votes cast. Executives and professionals making up 18 per cent of the eligible vote cast 25 per cent of the ballots.

★ ★ ★

Roy Reuther is heading a $1-million drive by the AFL-CIO's 130 affiliated unions to get many thousands more workers registered and voting in this fall's congressional polling. He said one out of three Americans of voting age fail to exercise their ballots.

JFK KNOWS

The UAW voted overwhelming approval to an all-out political action resolution Tuesday after hearing Kennedy make a major address. The President remarked that after speaking to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and to American Medical Association executives he had begun to wonder how he ever got elected.

"Now I remember," Kennedy said upon hearing the UAW's roaring reception.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy skipped an opening line in his prepared text saying he was counting on staunch UAW support in coming legislative and political battles. But the President intimated as much in other passages of his speech.

★ ★ ★

The political action resolution said that big business was becoming increasingly involved in politics through "formation of political action squads among trade and professional associations."

"The professional leadership of doctors, druggists and lawyers is mobilizing for the November campaign and for long-term political involvement," the resolution stated.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg strongly indicated in a convention speech that the administration would not tolerate strikes in current labor negotiations by the UAW and Machinists' Unions with key aircraft and missile manufacturers.

Betrothed Pennsy, NYC Seek Uncle Sam's OK

By The Associated Press

The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads turned their efforts today to persuading the federal government that their proposed merger, endorsed by stockholders of the two huge lines, was in the public interest.

The merger plan highballed through simultaneous annual meetings of the railroads Tuesday, the Pennsylvania's in Philadelphia and the Central's in Albany, N.Y. The endorsement was overwhelming.

★ ★ ★

The proposal next goes to the Interstate Commerce Commission where it is expected to face a stern test. Rail officials predicted ICC hearings beginning in mid-summer with approval of the merger by the end of next year.

The Transport Workers Union, which claims 30,000 members employed by the two lines, said in New York City the proposed "monopoly merger jeopardizes our national safety" and "threatens wholesale slaughter of railroad jobs."

LARGEST EVER

If the merger goes through, the combined system—to be called the Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co.—would have assets of about $5 billion, 20,000 miles of rail routes, and 120,000 employes.

The merger is the largest ever proposed. The Pennsylvania has greater assets than any other U.S. railroad. The Central ranks third, behind Southern Pacific.

★ ★ ★

Alfred E. Perlman, Central president, expressed confidence the merger would win ICC approval.

"I don't see how it could fail through," he commented. "I don't think the administration would want to cripple public transportation."

The roads expect savings of more than $75 million a year to result from their union.

$3.5 MILLION PROFIT

Last year, the Pennsylvania had a net profit of $3.5 million on an investment of $2.9 billion. The Central reported a net loss in 1961 of $17.2 million.

Allen J. Greenough, president of the Pennsylvania, said 1961 was the worst year since the prewar depression.

Army Claims State to Get Subcontracts

WASHINGTON (AP)— Michigan may have lost a big defense contract, but the state will do well through subcontracting, the Army told Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., yesterday.

The contract, $28,727,128 for production of quarter-ton trucks, went last month to Willys Motor, Toledo, Ohio, which under-bid Michigan's Ford Motor Co, by $1 million.

But Asst. Secretary of the Army Paul R. Ignatius told Hart he anticipates that about $10.3 million in work will flow from Willys to Michigan subcontractors.

Hearings Open on Write Offs in Utility Taxes

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Public Service Commission was scheduled to open a series of hearings here today on whether to continue to allow rapid early-stage depreciation writeoffs by utilities.

★ ★ ★

Through an accelerated depreciation system, which the commission authorized in 1954, some $65 million has been accumulated in depreciation reserve funds by 13 Michigan utilities.

These funds ostensibly are created for payment later on of federal income taxes deferred in early years through rapid writeoff.

★ ★ ★

The commission is inquiring into whether these reserves should now be taken into account as assets in setting utility rates.

Selling Weakens All Grain Contracts

CHICAGO (AP)—Moderate selling weakened all grain futures contracts today at the start of the activity on the board of trade, but soybeans showed a little firmness.

★ ★ ★

Brokers said the pressure appeared to be further liquidation although in wheat the reason was believed to be toward cashing profits and to even up positions in advance of the government's May crop report. The report will be issued after the close of trading tomorrow.

Delivery tenders on May contracts again contributed to the weakness in corn.

VW, Dow Plan to Trade Magnesium Information

DETROIT (AP)—Otto Hoehne, head of production for Volkswagen, says the West German auto company and Dow Chemical Co. of Midland will exchange information on the use of magnesium.

Dow is the largest producer of magnesium. Volkswagen, which uses the light metal in its engines, is the world's largest user of magnesium, most of which it buys from Dow.

The first in a number of name bands scheduled to appear at the Hukl Lau Restaurant in Holly Township will be the Clyde McCoy aggregation.

★ ★ ★

"The Sugar Blues Man" will bring his big band to the Hawaiian Gardens dining spot Friday and Saturday to provide music for dancing.

★ ★ ★

The Hukl Lau is now one of the few restaurants in the area where dancing to great bands is being revived in the tradition of the 1930s and '40s, according to Jerry D. Clements of the Sutton and Clements System that took over the management of the restaurant recently.

Calls Steel Top Issue

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., last night vowed to make the steel price dispute a leading campaign issue in this year's congressional elections.

More Time and More Money Asked for Securities Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission asked Congress today for more time and money to complete its investigation of the securities industry.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Peter F. Mack Jr., D-Ill., said he was introducing, at the agency's request, a bill that would give the commission an extra $200,000 for its inquiry and extend by three months the deadline for a final report.

★ ★ ★

Congress last year authorized $750,000 for the investigation, which it wanted completed by Jan. 3, 1963.

★ ★ ★

The inquiry moved from behind closed doors this week as the SEC began public hearings on the training, fitness and sales practices of mutual fund salesmen and brokerage employes.

'BROAD PROBE'

Mack called it "the broadest and most penetrating investigation of securities markets since the early 1930s." In a speech prepared for delivery to the House, he said the SEC should be allowed to complete its work "in order to maintain full investor confidence."

★ ★ ★

"I have every reason to believe," Mack said, "that the commission is conducting its study and investigation in a very serious, diligent and responsible manner."

★ ★ ★

The Illinois Democrat said an additional $200,000 would finance the inquiry for three more months. His bill would extend the deadline for completion of the project until April 3, 1963.

The public hearings so far have dealt with the operations of mutual funds. Favorites with small investors, these firms are corporations which buy stock off other companies, assigning proportionate interests in their portfolios to those who buy fund shares.

RECIPROCAL BUSINESS

Investigators heard testimony Tuesday about what was called a universal fund practice of throwing "reciprocal business" to brokerage firms that sell fund shares to the public.

Eugene J. Habas, senior vice president of Hugh W. Long & Co., Inc., Elizabeth, N.J., said this often takes the form of orders to execute stock transactions stemming from changes in a fund's firms designated by a fund.

News in Brief

A fire caused by an overheated furnace did an estimated $100 damage early today to a two-story frame home at 225 Fisher St., occupied by the Robert L. Jones family, according to Pontiac firemen. The blaze was extinguished soon after firemen arrived at 1:05 a.m.

A total of 114 grass fires occurred in Waterford Township during April, according to Chief Elmer Pangboner. A year ago in April township firemen fought 90 grass fires.
