Bill Norman Takes Job of Tigers Pilot

Tighe Offered New Position, but Refuses It

Bengal Manager Moves Up From Second Place Charleston Farm Club

(From Our News Wires)

BOSTON—Bill Norman today succeeded Jack Tighe as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

John McHale announced the move at Boston this morning after the Tigers had dropped into the American League cellar with a 9-4 loss to the Red Sox.

Norman moves up to the Tigers from their No. 1 farm club at Charleston where his team is in second place in the American Association.

Tighe is being offered a job with the Detroit organization but said he was returning to his home at Sand Lake, Mich., to think things over.

Norman has been with the Detroit organization since 1954 when he was hired as a scout. He continued in that capacity until late in 1955 when he took over as manager at Terre Haute, Ind.

The 47-year-old Norman moved from Terre Haute to Charleston last July 6, succeeding Frank Skaff as manager there.

Tighe, the balding ex-coach who moved up to manager of the Tigers after Bucky Harris was fired at the close of the 1956 season, led the Tigers into the first division last year for the first time since 1950.

SAG BADLY

But the Tigers have sagged badly this season.

They had the poorest record in years during spring training in Florida and slumped into a nine-game losing streak late last month after playing .500 ball for the first month of the season.

Tighe got a new lease on life when Detroit won five games after snapping the losing streak. But the Tigers have won only two of eight games on their current eastern swing.

Detroit has won 21 games and lost 28 to date this season and trails the front-running New York Yankees by 12½ games.

Reached by telephone in Boston, Tighe said he is "a little bit relieved" by his dismissal. He said McHale talked to him today and broke the news to him.

"I was surprised, to a degree," said Tighe, "but not too much, though. You sit and wonder, when your club doesn't perk up. You know if it doesn't, there has to be a change. Right or wrong, that's the way it always has been and that's the way it'll always be, I suppose."

Tighe said it is likely he will stay in the Tiger organization.

"I want very much to stay in baseball and particularly with this organization," he said, "but I'd say my biggest need right now is a little time with my family."

Tighe has been with the Detroit organization more than 18 years as a manager, coach and scout.

McHale flew to Boston yesterday and made the decision to re-

Drop Some Charges in Sullenberger Case

By PETE LOCHBILER

Charges of violating professional medical standards were dropped yesterday in the battle between Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger and Pontiac General Hospital.

The medical staff's executive committee listed 12 reasons why the ousted staff surgeon should not be granted the right to practice at the hospital again. But it did not set forth any of the sensational charges of professional incompetence that marked Dr. Sullenberger's court fight for reinstatement.

The charges said, in part, that Dr. Sullenberger upset hospital routine, "threatened and abused" fellow doctors and hospital personnel, and "interfered with the orderly operation of the hospital."

The committee noted that it had "intentionally not referred to any incident which would involve an evaluation of Dr. Sullenberger's competence and skill as a surgeon."

Trustees voted unanimously to receive the charges and decided to hold a hearing on them within three weeks. A copy was immediately sent to Dr. Sullenberger, who was given a minimum of 10 days in which to prepare his answer.

The hearing will be to decide whether the surgeon's temporary suspension, brought about Nov. 13 on recommendation of the staff, will be reversed or made permanent. The whole 11-member board will sit at the hearing and share in the final decision, board chairman Willis M. Brewer ruled.

Dr. Sullenberger said he would confer with his attorney today

Standard Oil Increase in City Follows Detroit Price-War Break

Gasoline prices of at least one major company will be raised in Pontiac as a result of Detroit's gasoline price-war break yesterday.

According to A. V. Fraser, regional manager for Standard Oil, the wholesale price per gallon of regular gas will be raised 1.7 cents per gallon and .7 for premium here.

Standard announced a four-cent a gallon increase on its regular brand and a 3.6-cent increase on premium today in Detroit. Four independent suppliers also raised their retail prices in the Detroit area.

Eugene McEvery, president of the Retail Gas Dealers Assn. of Michigan, North Oakland County Chapter, said this morning that, except for Standard, he did not know of any raise in price in the Pontiac Area in connection with the Detroit war, since area prices were not cut several months ago when Detroit gas prices dropped.

German Reds Threaten to Try 9 GIs as Spies

Their 'Copter Strayed Into Communist Zone During Thunderstorm

BERLIN (UPI) — The East German Communists threatened today to try as spies the nine American soldiers whose helicopter was forced down in Communist territory.

The official defense ministry newspaper "Die Volksarmee" (the Peoples Army) said the helicopter flew over East Germany to spy and that "flying spies will be treated as such."

The defense ministry newspaper accused the helicopter crew of a "grave violation" of East German air sovereignty. It said its air sovereignty was inviolate and that East Germany would not tolerate such "provocations."

The nine occupants of the helicopter learned the truth of warnings that East Germany will not allow its borders to be violated, the official newspaper said. It said the aircraft was "forced down."

Die Volksarmee warned that any other aircraft that stray into East Germany will be forced down as the helicopter was.

"We are aware of our responsible task," the newspaper said, "as we, the western outpost of the socialist camp, stand directly opposite the aggressive NATO states.

"Together with our friends and brothers in arms of the states of the Warsaw Treaty we are guarding the inviolability of the socialist camp. In the future we will bring down to the ground of reality—in the most literal sense—all provocateurs."

Four power treaties signed by the United States, Britain, France and Russia at end of World War II provide that the Russians will be responsible for any Western planes that stray into the Soviet zone of occupation.

Whether the Soviets would abrogate this part of the four power agreements was not yet clear although the Russians have ignored all American demands the helicopter be returned. Failure of the Soviet Union to obtain the release of the men could lead to a major diplomatic incident with the United States.

We'll Negotiate—Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told his news conference today: The United States will deal with anybody—including Communist East Germany—to obtain freedom for Americans who have been in a sense kidnaped. This was his answer when he was asked whether he would negotiate with the Red government in East Germany over the crew and passengers of a U.S. helicopter which strayed into Red territory.

Macmillan Urges U.S. Stabilize World Mart

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan made a quick round trip by helicopter to Baltimore today to attend commencement exercises at Johns Hopkins University.

They landed on the White House lawn at 12:24 p.m. after a 29-minute flight back from the university campus.

Then they chatted in the White House rose garden for a few minutes while awaiting the arrival of a second helicopter carrying their staff members.

Accompanying them on the return flight was the President's brother Milton, who is president of Johns Hopkins.

He had introduced the two leaders to a commencement throng of more than 7,000 persons.

Macmillan warned today against Uncle Sam's tightening his purse strings too sharply in the economic cold war with Russia.

free world, he said. Great Britain and Western Europe no longer have the money resources to be "the main props of world trade."

Macmillan, delivering the commencement address at Johns Hopkins University, compared the capitalistic system to a game.

"If one player gets all the chips, the game comes to an end," Macmillan said. "Even from a narrow, selfish point of view, creditor nations cannot afford to immobilize money."

Governor Seeks Nod From City

Commission in Pontiac to Be Asked to Back Extended Jobless Pay

Pontiac City Commission will be asked tonight to endorse Gov. Williams' demand for extension of unemployment compensation on a federal level.

Mayor William W. Donaldson said he would ask Commissioners to back Williams "unless the Legislature can come up with something better—which I don't think it can."

Donaldson was one of 10 mayors from Michigan industrial cities who attended a conference with the Governor yesterday in Lansing to hear his plan to take advantage of newly-available federal funds. It won nearly unanimous approval.

Williams favors adoption of the federal program of loans to states to finance a 50 per cent lengthening of the duration for regular jobless pay benefits. The Michigan maximum now is 26 weeks.

TO COST $30 MILLION

Cost of thus extending benefits to an estimated 115,000 persons who already have, or are expected to, exhaust jobless grants by next March figures about 30 million dollars, repayable in four years.

The legislature comes back Thursday for a decision on the issue, with some Republican leaders favoring a more restrictive approach that would reach only jobless family heads.

One legislative plan under consideration was proposed by Sen. John Smeekens, of Coldwater. It would limit the potential beneficiaries to about 48,000 and cost around $13,700,000.

Williams made his plan attractive by pointing out about $1,800,000 would start pouring into Michigan in the form of unemployment compensation checks every week beginning June 20, if the legislature approves.

"This would have a tremendous impact on Michigan's economy, both for the unemployed and their creditors," said Donaldson. "It would mean that money could start flowing again, which is what we need now."

GOING INTO 'RED'

"Not only Oakland County, but all of the industrial areas in the state are going into the red because of increased welfare loads," Donaldson said.

"If the legislature is going to offer a satisfactory alternate plan it has to be one that could be put in operation right away."

Only one mayor at yesterday's conference objected. Robert Schultheiss, of Port Huron, said the state

Incumbent Wins Waterford Post

Frederick J. Poole Will Take Second Term on Board of Education

Waterford Township incumbent Frederick J. Poole, 34, of 1238 Heitch St. won the election to the board of education yesterday by a two-to-one majority over his opponent, Mrs. Helen Sanford, 53, of 2401 Denby Dr. This will be his second three-year term.

Votes for the two candidates were almost tied during the first part of last night's returns. But when results were in from the two largest precincts, Drayton and Waterford Center, Poole had 1,063 votes and Mrs. Sanford 454. There are five precincts.

Residents voted two-to-one in favor of continuing five mills taxation for school operation. The vote was 1,061 for continuing it, to 475 against.

The increase was first approved five years ago. With its continuation, there will be no additional increase to the taxpayers this year, said William Shunck, school superintendent.

Less than 10 per cent of the 18,000 registered voters in the township cast ballots. However, the turnout was about average, Shunck said.

Poole, a lumber dealer, was secretary of the board this year and treasurer last year.

Pontiac Voting Proves Heavier Than Past Year

Public Expresses Faith at Polls in Prevailing Policies, Says Victor

In a heavy turnout of voters compared with last year, Mrs. Elsie K. Mihalek and Dr. Walter L. Godsell were swept to victory in the Pontiac School Board election yesterday.

Final tallies showed Mrs. Mihalek with 4,591 votes and Dr. Godsell a close second with 4,539. The third candidate, Charles M. Tucker, finished with 1,952 votes.

In all, 6,550 votes were cast from among the 45,000 persons eligible to vote in the school district. But this was more than twice the number that voted last year in the school election.

Both victorious candidates issued statements at midnight when the last votes were counted, thanking their supporters and friends.

Dr. Godsell, re-elected to his second four-year term on the board, said, "I interpret the vote as a sign of faith by the public in the present board policies."

Mrs. Mihalek said she was too tired to make a formal statement but added, "I'm very happy."

Her popularity with the voters, much of it accumulated during her tenure with the Pontiac PTA which she now heads, was evident throughout the vote counting last night.

Mrs. Mihalek, making her first race, took an early lead and never lost it throughout the night. Both she and Dr. Godsell were leading by margins up to 10 to 1 at various times over Tucker.

Tucker's vote swelled as returns came in from the Bagley and Jefferson School areas, the only precints he carried besides the small County Office Building Precinct.

Heavy margins in these two precincts proved inadequate to cut down the leaders' head-start and their election was clinched when the two final precincts to report, Washington and Whitfield, gave the victors margins of 1,300 to 85.

After 3-Year Study of Suburban Area Problems

Flint May Expand Limits to 178-Square-Mile City

Residents of Flint and its surrounding areas may vote early this fall on a plan to abolish the present Flint city, and government, and create a new home-rule city about six times the size of the present one.

The proposed new Flint would cover 178 square miles. It would include the present city, nearby cities of Grand Blanc and Mount Morris, three entire townships, most of two others and small parts of three additional townships.

A single school district would replace 16 school districts now existing in the area.

The plan is the result of three years of study by a citizens' committee in Flint seeking answers to the critical problems which face Flint because of the rapid expansion of the areas adjacent to the present city.

Petitions signed by 3,500 voters asking for a special election are on file with the Genesee County clerk. About 2,500 valid signatures are sufficient to call the special election.

At the present time there are 26 separate governmental units in the affected area, each having administrative authority and taxing power.

The proposal for a new Flint would create a single municipal government and a single school district for this area, in place of the present 26.

Sponsors of the plan assert that only by such action can adequate solutions be found for critical problems which spread beyond boundaries of present units of government.

Adequate water supply for a wide area;

Safe and adequate sewage treatment for the entire area;

Equal school facilities for all parts of the district;

Taxes based on equal standards throughout the area.

Like many industrial cities, Flint is reportedly facing a critical water problem. Water, and plenty of water, is essential to operation of big industry, as well as necessary for residential use.

Water supply under the ground has no concern for municipal boundaries. Water drawn off in one area will lower the water level in a neighboring area.

Sufficient water for the future must be provided on an area-wide basis; and one governmental unit instead of many can best do this job, sponsors of the new Flint plan believe.

The same reasoning is advanced for sewers and sewage treatment. A large number of small sewage systems, and some areas with no system, is not only inefficient, but health experts warn that the time may come when such a conglomeration will be an out-and-out health hazard.

Again a unified effort, directed by a single governmental agency, is urged by the Flint committee as the best approach.

In the matter of schools, there is currently a wide range of property valuation among the 16 school districts in the area. One district has $40,000 of taxable wealth behind each school child, while a neighboring district has only $6,000 per child on which to base taxes. As a result children in the poorer areas do not have the same educational opportunities as their immediate neighbors.

A similar equalizing of taxes for other functions of government is claimed for the proposed plan, as the high valuation areas (such as those in which big industrial plants are located) would assist the areas which have a relatively low valuation on which to base taxes. Taxable valuation in the areas around Flint is reported to just about equal that of the present city.

If the new Flint plan is adopted, the larger city would have an immediate population jump of about 50 per cent. Flint's present population is estimated at about 200,000; the entire area included in the plan has an estimated population of about 300,000.

Future growth would be heaviest in the areas outside the present city limits, it is anticipated, as is already the trend in the areas around most metropolitan centers.

Lethal Storms Lash Indiana

Count 8 Dead as Rain, Winds Uproot Trees, Swell Rivers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Most of northern Indiana was hit again by severe thunderstorms last night, and a threat of serious flooding was adding woes to the residents of the several areas today.

Damage was estimated at close to one million dollars in storm-raked Indiana, and seven deaths in the state were blamed on the weather onslaught which started Sunday. Another weather-caused death in Illinois brought the total to eight.

Heavy rainstorms accompanied by lashing winds struck north of Indianapolis from LaFayette to Dayton, Ohio. Funnel shaped clouds were reported in several communities.

Marion was hit by a severe thunderstorm. Trees were toppled, windows blown out and wires blown down in a 3½-block area of South Marion. No injuries were reported.

The heaviest damage was reported at Hamilton, a small community about five miles west of Anderson. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

The Salamonie was overflowing near Plymouth, where several families already have been evacuated.

In most places, though, it was the unrelenting drive of wind and rain that piled up damages in an unspectacular, but costly, manner.

Rivers brimmed over their banks, closing highways and washing out bridges. Rains measured almost a half-foot deep in some parts of Indiana and swelled rivers, driving some families to high ground.

Reds Threaten Trial of 9 GIs as Spies

East German publication today indicated the East German government was determined to handle the matter itself—and the spy charges was a powerful weapon to try to win some form of U. S. recognition.

The story was headlined: "The air space of the German democratic republic is inviolate. Also Major Zeller had to be convinced of this."

Maj. James R. Zeller, 34, of 309 East Main St., Mount Joy, Pa., was one of the nine helicopter occupants. He was chief of staff of artillery of the 3rd Armored Division.

MAINTAINS SOVIETS RESPONSIBLE

The United States maintains that the Soviets are responsible under four-power agreements for the return of allied soldiers who stray into East Germany. Soviet refusal to live up to such agreements could touch off a major crisis in East-West relations.

It also meant the nine Americans might be held indefinitely in a Red jail.

The United States was expected to deliver a stiff protest to the Soviets if there is further delay in releasing the men, all members of the 3rd Armored Division including the three-man helicopter crew and six army officer passengers.

The soldiers were taken into custody by East German police Saturday when their huge Sikorsky helicopter was caught in a thunderstorm and was forced down after it strayed into the Soviet zone of Germany.

The United States, in line with the end of the war agreements signed by Russia, Britain, France and the U. S., asked the Soviets to secure release of the soldiers. The Soviets ignored the requests.

Some Charges Dropped

Giving the charges a preliminary study, he noted they were less serious, in his estimation, than those once leveled by former hospital director Carl I. Flath. He thought there was "not much magnitude" to them.

"I wonder why the staff is worrying about the administration of the hospital, anyway," he commented. "Administration is not the staff's business."

The committee listed incidents that allegedly occurred during six operations performed by Dr. Sullenberger between October, 1956 and October, 1957.

In two of the cases he was accused of arguing with the hospital personnel and, in one of them, of threatening an intern with a scalpel.

In another, he was charged with failing to complete an operation he began when "drowsy" and apparently "out on his feet."

The charges said in one of the cases Dr. Sullenberger had been notified one of the sponges was missing. He then broke hospital routine, the charge read, by "personally taking charge of the sponge count," a job that normally belongs to a nurse.

Dr. Sullenberger mistakenly concluded that all the sponges were accounted for, the charge continued. An autopsy later concluded that death resulted "from complications caused by the presence of the sponge," the charge said.

The other sponge case resulted in a second operation being necessary to remove it, the committee charged. Although two X-rays were taken while the patient was still on the operating table, neither were conclusive and the radiologist indicated that further X-rays were necessary.

"Dr. Sullenberger did not order these recommended X-rays for a period of nine days," it was stated.

In answer, Dr. Sullenberger admitted that he "occassionally flew off the handle. But I usually have a good reason for bawling an intern out," he said.

He said he never let a subordinate take over during his operations "unless I felt he was well-qualified and trained for the job."

He recalled arguing with one intern during an operation. "If I had a scalpel in my hand, it was only because I was using it at the time," he said.

The first sponge case mentioned was one that highlighted Flath's charges against the surgeon.

Dr. Sullenberger denied then that the sponge caused the patient's death and insisted that the nurse in charge had reported all the sponges accounted for before he sewed the patient up.

He repeated this defense in answer to the staff and acknowledged that he had tried "to help the nurses out when they were having difficulty" counting the sponges used in the operation.

"I've done that many times," he said.

The second sponge case has resulted in a $100,000 damage suit brought against the surgeon by the patient. Dr. Sullenberger has replied to the suit maintaining the first two X-rays were "bad photography," and the third was ordered after the radiologist's recommendation was made known to him "several days after the operation was finished."

With the exception of the last mentioned case, Flath had incorporated all these incidents into the 25 charges of violating professional standards he made in answer to Dr. Sullenberger's suit for $250,000 damages and reinstatement.

In answer to the same suit, the staff refrained from mentioning specific charges of incompetence, just as it did in last night's charges.

In its other accusations against Dr. Sullenberger, the staff charged him with disrupting operating room schedules by "frequently" failing to appear for his operations; interfered with the treatment of another doctor's patient; caused personnel problems; threatened another physician, and failed to see his patients regularly, forcing the hospital to spend "much time in trying to locate the doctor or to answer questions regarding his whereabouts."

Dr. Sullenberger's law suit, brought before the board held a final hearing on his suspension, was tossed out of Circuit Court on grounds he should have attended the hearing before going to court.

After the dismissal, Dr. Sullenberger requested a hearing and the board granted it over the protests of the staff, which went on record as saying a public hearing "would be a public degradation."

The staff was asked to lodge specific complaints against the surgeon to be used as the basis for the hearing.

Michigan Report Shows Drop in Unemployment

DETROIT (AP) — Unemployment fell off a shade in Michigan from the middle of April to the middle of May.

The decrease was 3,000 to a May 15 total of 457,000, the State Employment Security Commission said today. The 457,000 is 15.6 per cent of the state's labor force.

Detroit's unemployment remained static at 275,000 from April 15 to May 15, or 18 per cent of the city's labor force.

Picketing New Homes in Waterford Township

New troubles holding up home construction struck Waterford Township today as 60 to 70 pickets blockaded streets in the new Showboat Heights subdivision.

The development was seen as a fight between independent builders and the large Builders Assn. of Metropolitan Detroit, whose projects have been stalled by a 30-day-old carpenters' walkout.

Federal Homes Inc., a Detroit firm building the 60-home project off Cass Lake road north of M58, accused the builders association of hiring pickets to prevent suppliers from delivering materials.

Most of the supply trucks had reportedly failed to complete deliveries today. No violence was reported.

Attorney James Allen, acting as a spokesman for Federal Homes president W. E. Francis, said he would seek Circuit Court help today to remove the pickets.

Allen accused the association of leaning on "a picket line technique to lock out all building tradesmen, including carpenters, from the project."

He stressed that Federal Homes does not belong to the association and is not having union trouble.

"We employ all union help under our own contracts, which have nothing to do with the present picketing," Allen said.

A similar blockade formed around a Wayne County project has led to a lawsuit being filed by Sullivan-Smith, Inc., another building firm.

It is asking Wayne County Circuit Judge Carl M. Weideman today for an injunction restraining the builders association from using pickets to disrupt construction.

Three Arrested by Police in Bullet-Punctured Race

DETROIT (UPI)—Wayne County sheriff's officers have arrested a Nankin Township woman and two young companions who led police on a wild, bullet-punctured race through western Wayne County in a stolen sports car.

Mrs. Wilma Talaga, 27, and Marvin Hobbs, 19, were arrested last night. Donald Wessling, 17, was arrested several hours later.

The trio ran down a state trooper during the chase and finally fled on foot after abandoning the bullet-riddled car in Canton Township early yesterday.

A posse of 35 state troopers and sheriff's officers combed a 2½ mile area for the trio but they apparently had made their way out of the area before police surrounded it.

However, a nearby resident reported that a woman had come to his house early yesterday and asked to use the telephone. The tipster said the woman told him she worked as a nurse's aide at a sanitarium.

Police checked the personnel records at the Northville Sanitarium and from the description they had been given were able to single out Mrs. Talaga.

Trooper Darl Dygart of the Ypsilanti State Police Post, who was knocked down by the sports car in the chase, escaped with minor injuries.

Woman Gives Birth Following Accident

SOUTHFIELD — A Detroit woman who gave birth yesterday morning to a 7-pound baby girl a few hours after being injured in an auto accident was reported in good condition today by doctors at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Mrs. Patricia Becht, 28, at first was on the critical list at the hospital. The baby's condition is fair.

Her husband, James, 25, suffered possible concussion and multiple cuts about the face and head.

His car collided Sunday evening on Southfield and Mt. Vernon roads in Southfield with another driven by William Leddy, 17, also of Detroit. The youth has a broken leg.

After her child was born, Mrs. Becht was taken to surgery for treatment of facial cuts. She also has a fractured hip.

place Tighe after last night's defeat at the hands of the Red Sox.

He said Norman will be in charge of the Tigers for tonight's game with the Red Sox.

Norman was born at St. Louis and spent most of his pro baseball career as an outfielder in the minor leagues, playing briefly with the Chicago White Sox in 1931 and 1932. He completed his career as a player with Toronto of the International League in 1946.

He advanced through Detroit's farm system in a managerial capacity and became a coach with the Tigers in 1956.

Norman is the fourth new manager of the Tigers since Robert (Red) Rolfe was fired at midseason in 1952. Fred Hutchinson succeeded Rolfe.

Hutchinson was replaced by Harris after the 1954 season and Harris departed two years later when the best he could manage was a pair of fifth place finishes.

Tighe moved Detroit up to fourth place last year, but Detroit's poor start this season prompted his departure today.

McHale said Bill Adair will be moved up from Augusta, Ga., to manage Charleston. Scout Wayne Blackburn will take over at Augusta.

Both moves will be effected today.

The World War II veteran is married and the father of three children. He is a member of the Berkley I.O.O.F., American Legion and an officer in the Berkley Lions Club.

Township Board Delays Action on Rezoning and Special Assessment

Two major items were tabled for further study when the Waterford Township Board met last night. The rezoning of an acre and a half of land on Walton Blvd. from residential to commercial for a gas station was discussed and board members told petitioner James Sayers that they wanted to study a report from engineers before making a final decision.

A hearing had been held last fall and protesting residents had agreed to the rezoning providing that a "green-belt" was established around the proposed station. This has been completed.

The establishment of a special street lighting assessment district in Indianwoods Manor Subdivision in the same area on Walton Blvd. near Clintonville Rd. was also tabled for further investigation.

In other business the board discussed at length a regulation controlling the disposal of garbage and rubbish in the township.

Board members approved the 26-lot Rainbow Lakes Subdivision plot located at Airport and Andersonville Roads.

Through recommendation made by the Waterford Township Library Committee, formal acceptance of the George Kimball estate for a library was made.

The Kimball estate of two lots is located on Andersonville Rd. near U.S. 10 Waterford and was willed to the township.

In final action the board approved the training of an additional fireman, Kenneth Squires, who will work as an emergency fill-in man. He is presently employed in the township's Water Department.

FIRST BUDGET HEARING — The Pontiac Area United Fund last night held its first budget hearing for the 1959 operating year for 55 participating agencies in the United Fund. A twelve-man panel, headed by Henry D. Price (left), will hear budgetary requests during three weeks of hearings. At last night's session to hear the Girl Scouts request were panel members Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury and Arthur Goff.

The Day in Birmingham

Two Newcomers Elected to Board of Education

BIRMINGHAM —Richard Sauerbrun, incumbent, came out low man in a three-way contest yesterday for the two three-year seats on the Birmingham Board of Education.

Newcomers elected to the board were Malcolm Lovell, 1979 votes, and Richard Barnard, 917. Sauerbrun polled 584.

Mrs. Donald Parry, unopposed for a two-year vacancy on the board, received 1,329 votes.

Although only 537 persons went to the polls in Bloomfield Hills, the turnout was considered heavy. This was the first time in four years there was a contest for Board of Education posts.

Winners of two three-year terms were Mrs. Lawrence Martz, 369 votes, and Max Miller, 309. They defeated Fred Korzon, 181, and Clarion Cooke, 91. James Morgan Smith and Victor S. Farrah, write-in candidates, received 58 and 36 votes, respectively.

With only four of the seven commissioners present, the controversial Lakepark drive sewer necessity hearing was postponed last night.

Several protests had been made, and commissioners present decided to delay the hearing so more commissioners could rule on the issue.

Birmingham's new brochure on garbage and rubbish pickups will be ready for distribution in approximately two weeks, according to Robert Kenning, assistant city manager. Kenning cites the handling of grass clippings as one of the major changes.

Grass, leaves and other non-combustible materials must be placed in separate containers of 10 to 20-gallon capacity metal cans or wooden bushel baskets.

Leaves may be raked into those streets which have proper curbs for pick up by city trucks during the fall season. Residents on streets without curbs must place leaves in proper containers at the curb line, the brochure states.

Rear door collections will carry a charge of $10.76 per year. There will be no charge when material is placed at the curb, Kenning said.

Collections will start on a twice-a-week basis June 15, continuing through Oct. 15 when the single pickup will go into effect for the winter months.

Harry S. Dunn

Mr. Dunn died yesterday. The body will be at McCabe Funeral Home in Detroit until 10 p.m. tomorrow.

Parents Watch Children Plunge to Their Deaths

CAMERON, Ariz. (AP) — "We didn't have a chance."

Those words were repeated over and over yesterday by Frank Qualls, a vacationing Brownsville, Tex., schoolteacher.

Qualls, 29, and his wife Katherine only moments before had watched helplessly as a runaway automobile plunged their two small sons to death in the Little Colorado River Gorge.

Coroner James Brierley said the children's parents apparently had failed to engage the parking brake when they stopped at a viewpoint and stepped out of the car to look at the scenery.

Seconds later, the car rolled about 25 feet, dropped off the sheer cliff and plummeted 600 feet to the bottom of the gorge.

The victims were James, 5, and Harold, 15 months.

Qualls and his wife dashed toward the car but were too late.

The car plunged down the sheer cliff, bouncing from protruding rocks and ledges, crumbled and caught fire.

The children's bodies were found some distance from the wreckage by a steeplejack and three other men who climbed down the bluff. The bodies were lifted to the top of the gorge with ropes and taken to a Flagstaff mortuary.

should have some plan ready to repay the federal loan.

The others appeared satisfied with the governor's expressed hope that the federal government would eventually forget the loan and the state would not have to repay it.

Noting that "maybe we'll be worse off in four years," Schultheiss believed that "industry would rather pay money in bad times for something like this so they can have more money to expand and create new jobs in good times."

Under the federal law as it now stands, employers will have to pick up the tab for extended benefits in the form of higher payroll taxes sooner or later.

Other cities supporting the governor's plan were Detroit, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Flint, Lansing, Saginaw, Bay City and Huntington Woods, represented because its mayor, David R. Calhoun, is president of the Michigan Municipal League. Donaldson is league vice president.

Birmingham Man Dies From Mishap

Accidentally wounded eight days ago when his shotgun discharged while he was taking it from the trunk of his car, Theodore Livernois, 55, of 645 Arlington Rd., Birmingham, died today at Port Huron Hospital.

He was president of Greenfield Industries in Detroit and owner of a brick manufacturing plant in Mansfield, Ohio.

Lebanon to Get U.S. Backing

Lodge Believes U.A.R. Threatening Peace by Aiding Rebels

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States prepared today to throw its full support behind Lebanon's charge that the United Arab Republic is threatening peace by aiding Lebanese rebels.

Informed quarters said Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge would line up solidly with the pro-Western government of Lebanon when the U.N. Security Council meets this afternoon to resume debate on the Middle East dispute.

U.S. officials had tried in vain to persuade Lebanon not to bring the issue before the council. They now were reported to feel that Foreign Minister Charles Malik had made out a good case against U.A.R. President Nasser.

The prospect for any decisive U.N. action on the Lebanese complaint seemed remote despite the support of the United States. So far no country has come up with any sort of resolution against the U.A.R. The Soviets would veto any such resolution anyhow.

The chief significance of the Lebanese move so far is that it forced the United States to take the side against Nasser and gave the Soviet Union a new opportunity to support him.

Recreation Unit in Township Sets Summer Plans

In line with National Recreation Month, now being observed, the Waterford Township Recreation department has announced summer plans for township residents, according to director Tom Belton.

Activities will include swimming instruction, supervised playground programs, day camping, softball leagues, men's horse shoe league, camera club and ladies diet club.

The playground programs throughout the township have been scheduled to begin Friday at eight elementary school grounds, with day camp activities from July 14 through August 15th.

Swimming instruction for both children and adults will start Monday, and registrations may be made at six designated beaches.

"Participation in recreation activities in Waterford has been at an all-time high," Belton said. "This last year, more than 9,000 people participated in one or more of the 25 different activities conducted by the recreation department," he added.

Twilight, Little and Junior softball leagues will be in operation throughout the summer months.

Booklets and added information may be obtained at the recreation office at the Community Activities Center, on Williams Lake Rd.

Standing mute to a charge of assault with intent to murder yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court was Tony Caruso, 51-year-old Warren man who is charged with the non-fatal shooting of a friend of his estranged wife May 4.

Judge Clark J. Adams entered a plea of innocent for Caruso. He was released on a $10,000 bond pending trial. No date has been set.

Caruso, of 8734 Hupp St., is charged with shooting Allen Klee, 34, of 27733 Townley St., Madison Heights, with a .32 caliber pistol while Klee was visiting with Mrs. Eleanor Caruso, 39, in her home at 27335 Townley St.

Air Force Launches Bomarc Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.(AP)—Another Bomarc missile, the nation's key air defense weapon, has streaked over the Atlantic in an apparently successful test.

The Bomarc launching yesterday was the latest in a series to develop the ground-to-air interceptor for operational status. More than 40 of the Boeing missiles have been fired from the Air Force test center since the program began.

The swift cruise missile is designed to seek out and destroy enemy aircraft as far as 300 miles from U.S. shores.

Waterford OKs 5 Building Plans

St. Benedict's Church to Expand School, Add Convent and Rectory

Five major building permits totaling almost $300,000 were issued in the Waterford Township Building Department this week, according to Chief Inspector Carl Walton.

The biggest building permits were issued to St. Benedict's Church on W. Huron St., at Lynn St. for an $88,000 convent, a $65,000 addition to the school, and $10,000 for a rectory.

An $80,000 motel will be constructed on the Loon Lake property adjoining the Howard Johnson restaurant at 4050 Dixie Highway.

Dredging of the lake, and fill-dirt operations have been in progress for some time, in preparation for construction work, according to owner Donald Primo, of 3867 Oak Drive, Birmingham.

A permit was also issued to the Michigan State Police Dept. for a new $43,000 building to be erected at 1295 Telegraph Rd. The State police station is presently located in a remodeled home at 2905 Dixie Highway.

According to reports from the building department new construction work in Waterford Township is up more than $300,000 for May this year as compared to May of 1957.

Total building permits issued for last month were $1,087,545 as compared to the May, 1957 report of $760,144.

'Tax Cut Unnecessary'

DALLAS (AP)—A Chicago bank president says the current economic situation does not appear to warrant a tax cut or other future government action. But David M. Kennedy, president of the Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., told the Southern Methodist Southwest Graduate School of Banking, "Inflation is still basically our most serious problem."

Southfield, Troy Officials in Agreement

To Join in Drain Ruling Appeal

The Southfield City Council and Troy City Commission last night unanimously agreed to merge in a joint appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court of the Twelve Towns storm drain court decision.

The action came three days after state health officials ordered Oakland County to do something about inadequate drain facilities in the southeastern part of the county.

Daniel W. Barry, county drain commissioner, said the appeal was needed to break a "log-jam" of $62,000,000 worth of drain projects planned for the south end.

Bond buyers are reluctant to purchase bonds to finance these projects when court action might upset them, Barry explained.

A decision came in March from Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland that special legislation creating the $44½ million Twelve Towns project was constitutional.

Southfield, then a township, and Troy had opposed their apportionment of the cost of the huge project. An injunction granted the two areas had held up the project 18 months.

Before it now can move to Lansing to be heard by the high court justices, a decree must be entered by Judge Holland on his ruling. Southfield City Attorney James Allen and Troy City Attorney Stanley Burke will then draft a joint appeal.

Barry said he hoped it will be heard during the October term of the court.

There were no objections aired either from citizens, council or commission members as to the appeal last night.

Stemming from a joint meeting between Southfield Mayor Donald L. Swanson and Troy Mayor Frank Costello last week, it was determined the two municipalities could enter into the appeal for roughly $5,000.

Officials from both areas appeared glad to have the appeal to allow drain projects to proceed. However, some expressed continued belief that their shares of the storm drain were out of proportion with other areas.

"Our big objection still is our share of the costs," said Costello.

Barry hailed the joint appeal. He said it would now allow for this department to submit bond proposals for the 8-Mile Road Drain and the Dequindre Interceptor to the Board of Supervisors at their July session.

It would also allow, Barry added, for the Department of Public Works to submit a similar bond proposal for its Evergreen interceptor.

All these projects had been slowed, along with several others, until indication of an appeal had been made, Barry said.

He said the county bond attorney Claude Stephens had said it was "very unlikely" that the Supreme Court would reverse Judge Holland's ruling.

If it is favorable, Barry said, construction on the Twelve Towns project could start 84 days after the decision is reached.

The projects are planned to be financed on the full faith and credit of the county by the issuance of general obligation bonds.

Flag Day Service Set Tomorrow Night in City

Final plans were being made today for the 15th annual Flag Day service to be held tomorrow night at 6:30 at the Pontiac Elks Lodge 810, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

Around 300 persons, many of them recently naturalized as citizens in Oakland County Circuit Court, are expected to attend the dinner. Judge H. Russel Holland will give an eulogy on Lynn D. Allen, for many years county clerk and chairman of the Americanism Committee of the lodge.

Won't Charge Justice Roth

Delay in Turning Over $70 in State Fines Was 'Technical Error'

No criminal action will be taken against Walled Lake Justice of the Peace Herman A. Roth for failure to turn in $70 in state traffic fines on time.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem made this decision this morning, following a request from Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski that he investigate Roth's bookkeeping practices.

"There is no evidence of dishonesty on the part of Justice Roth," Ziem said in a reply to Szymanski. "It is my judgment that criminal action against Justice Roth would serve no useful purpose and should not be instituted."

Roth, 45-year-old attorney and justice since April of 1956, had committed a "technical violation" in not complying with a state law that requires that all fines collected from state violation cases be submitted to the county treasurer within 30 days of receipt, the prosecutor said.

This "technical violation," Ziem told Szymanski, involved $70 and not $120 as reported in the request for investigation. The other $50 collection involved a city ordinance case, he said.

"In view of the fact that a relatively small amount is involved, and in view of the fact that all of the money collected has actually been turned in, I have recommended no action," Ziem stated.

He said Roth was guilty of "negligence rather than wilfulness" in not turning in the money as required.

Ziem's findings came after a meeting last Thursday with Roth and other Walled Lake officials.

The state official had asked the prosecutor to "take appropriate action to insure proper deposit" of traffic fines collected by Roth.

Gerald A. Terrien, justice court co-ordinator for Oakland County, declared: "All state law fines and costs collected by Justice Roth have been deposited with the Oakland County treasurer as of May 28."

U. S. Leads in More Juvenile Delinquency

Just recently, a New York reporter was dispatched to the United Nations building to ask a very interesting question from thoughtful people who don't live in this country.

This is the query:

"Is the juvenile deliquency problem as serious in your country as it is here?"

He started out with Dag Hammarskjold of Sweden and then followed with top representatives from five more countries. Here are the nations involved:

Sweden
Lebanon
China
Philippines
Indonesia
Peru

Without a single exception, the answer to the question was a simple, straightforward "NO".

All six agreed that this country actually faces a much, much greater problem with its degenerated fringe than any of them. Several suggested that in their nations the home ties and influence are much more firmly established. This was the outstanding reason for better conditions in the other countries. Also, other governments handle the situation more promptly. They don't duck and temporize.

The greatest single reason was summed up in these words:

"Children are taught respect."

Therein, we fail — most miserably, at times.

Higher Postage Rates Scheduled for August 1

Despite dissatisfaction with some provisions of the bill, President EISENHOWER has signed into law the postal rate and pay bill increase.

The Administration especially wanted a five cent rate for out-of-town letters. This extra money would have helped to pay the cost of building and modernizing post offices.

Although the increase will by no means eliminate the postal deficit, it should be reduced by an estimated half billion dollars. After Aug. 1 postage on first class letters, postcards, air mail letters and cards and unsealed letters will rise one cent. Higher rates on books will go into effect on the same date. Scheduled increases on newspapers and magazines and third class bulk mail will be effective Jan. 1.

Current postal deficit is at the annual rate of $650 million and increases for postal employes, retroactive to Jan. 1, will add another $265 million. The new rates are expected to raise $550 million, $350 million of which will come from first class letters.

For over 25 years the three cent stamp has survived in the flood of rising prices and other rates were not changed very much. This was not a saving to the taxpayer. He has to pay the postal deficit in one way or another.

Those who use the mails most will pay an increased share of the cost. The change in rates is more equitable and is a step toward sound government financing.

Business Recovery Gaining Momentum

Steel production of 1.567 million tons last week was the largest since December and is one of the bright spots of the recovery.

This is all the more encouraging in that it is the fifth consecutive week of rising production since the low point in April. However, it still is only 58.1 per cent of capacity but production is rising steadily.

Steel inventories are low but part of the increased demand also may be due to wage rates scheduled to rise automatically on July 1. Steel executives have expressed the opinion that increased wages could not be absorbed by the industry and that cost of steel may advance as much as $11 a ton.

Other indications of a business upturn are to be found in housing, farm machinery sales, oil output, road building, automobile manufacturing and in the Dow-Jones index of industrial shares.

In a recent news conference President EISENHOWER expressed cautious optimism in these words:

" . . . I say that we are weathering it and I believe, of course, that the prior boom had a great deal to do with the recession. Now I think it has largely spent its force. I certainly pray so."

It would seem that although there is no sudden upsurge, strong forces are beginning to bring about economic recovery.

"THE sun is rushing into the dense areas of the Milky Way," says an astronomer. It seems that this neck of the universe is getting deeper in the fog all the time.

Sec. of Commerce Weeks Notes:

Business Complexion Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks today reported that recent business statistics "have looked better than at any time since the decline started last year."

"The field day of the hand-ringing pessimist is about over," Weeks said in a speech prepared for the 43rd National Conference on Weights and Measures.

"If public confidence continues to grow, if business continues to spur the upturn, if government continues to keep away from gumming the works by unsound legislation, the economy should continue to improve."

Weeks acknowledged that the economy "still has some months to go before it recovers complete health," but added, "The outlook is bright for better times later this year."

The secretary noted that business inventories were reduced by 800 million dollars in April. This suggests that many companies must soon go back to the market for new stocks, Weeks said.

He cited these other statistics:

Steel mill operations have advanced from a low of 47 per cent of theoretical capacity in April to 61 per cent last week. Construction activity rose 10 per cent in May over April. Employment in May climbed 1,200,000 while joblessness dipped by 200,000.

Weeks found reason for optimism even in his department's announcement Sunday that industry's planned outlays for new plants and equipment this year will be 31 billion dollars, a figure 17 per cent below the record 37 billion outlay of 1957.

He said the 1958 total still will be the third highest on record, exceeded only by 1956 and 1957.

In a related development, the Associated General Contractors of America, Inc., reported a majority of its chapters across the country have noted an improvement or a leveling-off of the business recession.

Results of a telegraphic survey indicated that building construction is normal or better in 57 out of 83 areas reporting; that highway construction is normal or better in 50 of 59 areas reporting, and heavy construction is normal or better in 38 out of 50 areas.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Homely Sulfur, Molasses Wasn't Half Bad to Take

Here's a letter from a New Jersey realtor who writes:

"A favorite remedy of my mother's in the springtime was sulfur, molasses and cream of tartar. I have tried many druggists but none knew anything about it. So, naturally, I look to you. . . . (Signed) ——."

DR. BRADY

I do remember the sulfur and molasses "spring tonic" or blood purifier mother used to whip up, and it wasn't half bad to take.

It was simply a mixture of real molasses and sulfur, half and half. The dose was a dessert spoonful as a laxative, or half a teaspoonful twice a day as a "tonic" and "blood purifier."

HOMELY REMEDY

Sulfur, as in that homely mixture, or in the more familiar compound licorice powder, is a good laxative, especially for the first few days after operations on the pelvic organs and after childbirth and in cases of hemorrhoids (piles), fistula, fissure.

For this purpose, the therapeutic authorities of the 19th century thought, a mixture of sulfur (sublimed sulfur, flowers of sulfur) and potassium bitartrate (cream of tartar) with or without real molasses, in about equal parts, was satisfactory, in doses of from one to two teaspoonfuls.

So called "compound licorice powder" is really compound senna powder, senna being its most active ingredient.

The laxative effect of senna (taken as a tea prepared by steeping the dried leaves as in steeping ordinary tea, or dried senna leaves chopped up with figs, or as powdered leaves straight, or mixed with other laxatievs in pill, powder or liquid form) is familiar to old timers, who were less susceptible to nostrum propaganda than their grandchildren are.

ONE ADVANTAGE

The advantage of sulfur is that it causes a soft mushy stool.

One taking senna may notice that the urine is stained yellow if it is acid or carmine if it is alkaline — from chrysophan in the senna. This has no significance.

Cream of tartar (potassium bitartrate) is a cathartic in scant teaspoonful doses, a diuretic (increases flow of urine) in small doses.

It was the main ingredient of "Imperial drink," formerly esteemed as a home remedy for dropsy — made by dissolving two scant teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar in a quart of boiling water and adding a rounded tablespoonful of sugar and a rounded tablespoonful of grated lemon peal. Label it Imperial Drink, keep in cool place, drink a wine-glassful (2 fluid-ounces, 4 tablespoonsfuls) three times a day.

Mind now, I'm telling you what I read in old medical tomes. Would I take such stuff myself? Are you kidding?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"I guess the people who have done the least to earn it usually are the most eager for our respect."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Beware Ponce de Leon Complex

Ted's father is almost berserk on the subject of sex. But that's because he is sexless! Or so he thinks! Study this case carefully and contrast it with the menopausal wife described yesterday. Millions of teenagers are unhappy because oldsters don't understand the simple facts about sex. Scrapbook these cases.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr Crane, my father acts like a crazy man," he bagan, unhappily.

"Right at the dinner table, and in front of my younger sister and me, he will accuse my mother of immoral relations with any man who happens to come to mind.

"I know he is entirely wrong, but he seems to believe Mother is untrue to him.

"To judge from his charges, he'd have us believe she sneaks out every day to have an affair with somebody else.

"Is my father losing his mind? What's wrong with him?"

PONCE DE LEON COMPLEX

Ted's father is a good contrast case for the menopausal wife described yesterday.

In a later interview with the man, I found that he had been impotent for over a year.

Although most women are relatively frigid, as measured by the average male standard, and although Ted's father knew his wife had never been unduly amative in the earlier years of their marriage, now he imputes such mad sex desires to her that he'd have us believe she is a nymphomaniac.

She is a normal motherly woman of 45, active in the PTA and a Sunday School teacher.

Yet her husband accuses her of the most outlandish sexual escapades! In fact, he had hired a detective to trail her for the past two weeks!

Certainly, his judgment seems deranged, doesn't it? But he is simply a victim of masculine change of life. At this time, many men start chasing other and younger women, thus illustrating what we call the "Ponce de Leon Complex."

SCARED HUSBANDS

For the Achilles' tendon of the usual male ego is his sex vigor. When a man begins to fear he is slipping in his ardor, he soon can throw himself into total impotence, purely as a result of his negative thinking.

Indeed, Ted's father had secretly been receiving testosterone shots regularly, but with no benefit, for his negative thinking was neutralizing the organic injections.

And that is often true, for the power of the mind can actually keep a man impotent although he were to consume tons of sex hormones!

When a man grows platonic, he may sprout any or all of the following classical symptoms:

(1) He falsely accuses his wife and makes ridiculous charges that she is unfaithful.

(2) He develops a sudden fondness for alcohol and stays out late at night. When he stumbles home drunk at 2 a.m., he figures that will explain his lack of ardor. His drunken state is thus a camouflage to keep his wife from guessing the real secret, namely, that he is impotent.

(3) He gambles or drives his car recklessly and even states he hopes he will have a wreck and be killed. This is an attempt to alarm his wife into protesting her regard for him. As she urges him to drive slowly, he figures she must still have some affection for him, despite his platonic role.

(4) He may find that a strange woman permits him to throw off his platonic state, so he then goes berserk in his romancing. This is the Ponce de Leon complex.

Send for my booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'How Do Workers Follow That Man?'

The man who wrote concerning the union's strike against GM is so right. Many that went through it lost homes and cars, and haven't been able to recover yet. Reuther and his cohorts lost nothing as they had plenty in the treasury they could get hold of.

I've been a dues-paying member for 21 years and have received only a basket of groceries and $20 in cash during four years illness and being out of work.

How can workers be so dumb as to listen to these sharpies who live off men that sweat it out in shops? Let's call a spade a spade and look at Reuther's record as a citizen. He asked for a deferment during the war and it was granted because he had a dependent—his wife. He asked for an occupational deferment and was recommended on the grounds he was essential in various industries. And what did he ever do during the war to curb strikes? And why couldn't his wife have gone to work in factories as many others did then? Let Walter go back to Russia where he boasts he worked.

'Union Orders Say Group Can't Play'

The Interlochen musical group can't play at the bridge ceremony because the captured governor has his union orders. The amateurs "don't belong." They sing for fun.

It must be embarrassing to knuckle down like this before six million people time after time. A compromise was suggested letting the unions perform and get their pay and then allow the amateurs who love music.

This compromise probably would have suited Williams personally but he "got told" as he always does and he jumped when the whip cracked.

I'm sure glad city pastors are asking a ban on Sunday beer. People who think they can't get along without it can get their supply on Saturday. Let's keep the Sabbath holy.

It's nice to see chain stores closed Sunday and I hope independents will go along, too. Milkmen don't deliver Sunday and it seems to work out all right. It would be wonderful for everyone to have this day off to worship and do as they please.

Call Proposed Labor Bill Completely Ineffective

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration in an unexpected attack, contends a proposed Senate bill aimed at corruption in labor unions is studded with loopholes and on the whole "completely ineffective."

The administration stand was set forth yesterday in a statement by Secretary of Labor Mitchell who said, in effect, the bill is worse than no bill at all.

"We need legislation that will add to, not subtract from the existing protections which the law now provides for union members, individual workers and the public," he said.

Senators John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Irving M. Ives (R-NY), two of the bill's principal sponsors promptly challenged the administration attack. They denounced it as stemming either from ignorance of the bill's provisions or from political pressure.

In releasing Mitchell's statement, the Labor Department said it represented the administration's views. Mitchell himself is attending a meeting in Switzerland.

Mitchell said the bill approved last week by the Senate Labor Committee and now awaiting Senate action follows some of the "carefully developed reasonable proposals" recommended by President Eisenhower.

But he added: "The proposals as a whole would provide completely ineffective legislation, which would delude the workers of this country and the American public into believing they had protection they did not in fact have."

He said the bill would require him to inspect the books and records of a union suspected of law violation, but would give him no authority to compel testimony, hold hearings or issue subpoenas to get the information.

Mitchell's statement was expected to give new impetus to announced plans by Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) and others to seek a more restrictive bill providing greater government control over union affairs.

The bill, endorsed by Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Rackets Committee, is aimed at curbing abuses by giving rank and file members a greater voice in union affairs and by requiring public reporting of union financial dealings. Election of officers by secret ballot for limited terms is included among its provisions.

In a joint statement, Kennedy and Ives said whoever wrote Mitchell's statement "has not read the bill or, having read it, did not understand it."

Kennedy said his group was in touch with Labor Department officials as late as last Friday and "no opposition whatsoever was indicated."

"It is obvious," he added, "that over the weekend political pressure was applied by those preferring a partisan issue to a responsible nonpartisan bill. It is unfortunate that this thoughtless partisanship may result in a bitter antilabor bill or in no bill at all."

Mitchell contended the bill would "weaken the already pitifully ineffective legal protection presently provided by law to union members and the public."

Among other criticisms, he said the bill's provisions for financial reporting and other union money safeguards would exempt more than 60 per cent of the nation's labor unions.

Plan to Release Crowley on Bail

Japanese Court to Try American for Beating Relative to Death

TOKYO (AP)—Joseph P. Crowley is scheduled to be released on bail tomorrow to await trial for the death of T.A.D. Jones Jr., his brother-in-law and business partner from New Haven, Conn.

Crowley, a former Yale football star, was indicted yesterday on a charge of beating Jones to death after a night of drinking. The Tokyo District Court today set his bail at 300,000 yen ($833.31).

Arthur K. Mori, Yale-educated attorney for the 48-year-old ex-halfback, said he could not predict when the trial would begin but he hoped to know within a few days.

Crowley will be tried before three judges—but no jury—on a charge of "inflicting bodily injuries resulting in death," similar to a U.S. charge of manslaughter. Conviction could carry a sentence of 2 to 15 years. In Japan, any sentence under three years can be suspended.

Jones died May 8, three days after he, Crowley and Maryland accountant Frederick M. Kissinger came to Tokyo to buy an oil tanker. Crowley has been in jail since May 21.

Mori said Crowley will remain in Tokyo while awaiting trial. "I'm sure the court will vindicate Mr. Crowley," he said.

Jones, 45, died of a cerebral hemorrhage resulting from blows on his head. His body exhibited other marks of a severe beating. Crowley and Kissinger told police they had made a night club tour with their associate, but Crowley said his arrest was "fantastic."

The prosecutor's office has cleared Kissinger of any connection with Jones' death.

Order of Eagles to Open Michigan Convention

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Michigan's Fraternal Order of Eagles opens its annual convention here Thursday with 600 delegates expected. Both the Eagles and their auxiliary will be in session.

A high spot of the convention will be the annual parade Friday. A banquet Saturday night will conclude the meetings. Drill and ritualistic competition will be held during the three days.

Sessions will be presided over by Clarence Dalrymple of Flint, state president. William Hazelwood of Detroit, vice president, is in line to become the next president.

Funeral Slated Today for Silent Film Star

Pictures in which she appeared included "Blazing Love," "Wildness of Youth," "Sister Against Sister" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

Judge Set to Fight His Impeachment

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Judge Raulston Schoolfield appears at the bar of the Tennessee Senate today to answer 24 impeachment articles returned against him by the House last month.

The trial is the climax of action which began six months ago with charges before a U. S. Senate committee that $20,000 in Teamsters Union funds was paid to fix a union violence case in his court.

The Chattanooga Criminal Court judge will be fighting for his legal reputation and the right to hold public office in the future, but little of his present office remains to be salvaged.

His impeachment by the House automatically suspended him from office pending final State Senate action, and Democratic voters in his county refused to renominate him last week for the new term starting Sept. 1.

In 24 articles of impeachment, the House has charged the judge with misconduct ranging from refusal to step down from the bench during the probe to bribery and interference with grand juries.

The judge has consistently denied any dishonest dealings and has asserted he is being persecuted because of his strong states rights views.

Youth Stands Mute in Car Death Case

Frederick W. Swords, who is accused of driving a car which carried a 16-year-old Rochester companion to his death April 2, yesterday stood mute when arraigned on a charge of negligent homicide.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams entered a plea of innocent for the 17-year-old Rochester boy and released him on a $1,000 cash bond. No trial date has been set.

Poor Guy's Mike Todd Spends Own Money

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Lester Tobin is sometimes known as the "poor guy's Mike Todd."

This is because the poor guy is just as wild as Mike was, but he does it on his own money.

He began his versatile career playing the piano in a house of ill repute at the age of 14. He explains that he was too young to know, and he needed money.

Lester progressed to fixing flats at an auto shop. Then he was a plumber's helper, a straw hat salesman on the highway, a weight guesser at Asbury Park, N. J.

By the time he was old enough to go to college, he recalls, he decided to go to college.

So he enrolled at Rutgers and put himself through school by working in rubber mills, being a mason's helper, a steamfitter, a heating engineer, things like that.

"Then I was through school and smart, of course," said Lester today. "I became a school teacher, teaching the sixth grade and English and social studies. For me, the money was good."

But the war came along. Things were always coming along for Lester Tobin. So he took off four years and nine months from his versatile vocations to fight Japs, and returned triumphant but restless.

"What else should a restless man do but lay bricks, I ask you?" Lester laid bricks until someone offered him a job as pianist on a ship to Europe, which he accepted, of course, and the next his old buddies heard was that he was valedictorian of his class in French cooking at a ritzy school de cuisine in Nice.

After a term of wine-tasting around Europe, Lester was back in New York being accosted by an old man from Green River, Utah, who said "I know you city guys, I got to watch out for you fellers."

To prove he wasn't that kind at all, Lester raised some money to buy a uranium mine in Green River.

"While I was out there," he says amiably, "I got myself a beautiful Panama hat. That's all. Still have it. Cost me $40,000, that hat."

Undiscouraged, in the Todd tradition, he returned to New York and was a building engineer for awhile.

Then the television show, "Dough-re-mi," gave his the opportunity to appear as a contestant. Tobin was on for weeks, longer than any contestant had ever stuck it out. He wound up with $3,500.

But many thousands of fan letters came in, and he had to answer them all.

"Geez, I was so flattered," he explains. Postage cost him $1,200.

This fantasy of space travel, designed to amuse the kiddies while it beats solid knowledge into their little noggins, features among other marvels a 123-passenger space ship that takes flights to the moon.

The delightful Lester built it himself.

But he needn't take it. He's been to the moon so many times.

To Explain Stand on Segregation

Louisiana School Heads to Tell in State House Why They Oppose Bills

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State University's president and deans must explain to the State House of Representatives tomorrow why 59 faculty members oppose segregation bills to close public schools.

The House by a 70-0 vote last night demanded the public hearing because the 59 were among 600 who signed a Louisiana Civil Liberties Union petition opposing the joint legislative segregation committee's plan to close schools threatened with racial integration.

Two LSU professors appeared before the House Education Committee earlier in the day to protest the eight segregation bills before they were approved by the committee.

The bills would authorize the governor to close any public schools ordered to integrate, provide for continued pay for school personnel, provide a system of education expense grants to children attending private schools set up as education cooperatives by parents and prohibit local school boards from approving budgets for racially mixed schools.

The House directed LSU President Troy Middleton to bring the college deans to the hearing.

They stopped at Higgins' home and he helped in the delivery of a 7-pound, 15-ounce boy. Mother and son are reported doing fine.

Hal Boyle Says:

Vivian Blaine Blaming Glamorless Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Who took the glamor out of show business?

"The stars themselves," said Vivian Blaine firmly.

"They did it by letting down the bars of their privacy and inviting the world into their homes. Of course, a star has to have a home life, or his existence is pretty vacuous.

"But I doubt that show business has been enhanced by allowing the public to come behind the scenes and see what makes a star tick in every aspect of his life.

Miss Blaine, who provides some of the more uproarious laughs in the hit Broadway musical, "Say Darling," also thinks many stars are getting entirely too folksy in their attire.

"Movie stars, male or female, make a big mistake in going around sloppily dressed," she remarked. "The fans look at them and ask, 'This is glamor?'

"I don't say you have to be glittering all the time, but you certainly should be neat and well-groomed."

"Viv" feels the American housewife, as well as stars of stage, screen and television, could do with a bit more sprucing up.

"Women should dress up more—even if the only one who sees them during the day is the grocer," she said. "There is such a thing as self-respect and self-discipline.

"You can't let yourself go. If you let one thing go, everything can go."

Everyone, she believes, does well to create at least some aura of mystery, and to retain some area of personal privacy.

"Show business today has become everybody's business," continued the sprightly blonde singer, frowning. "While fans are flattered to think they are in the real know, they also miss something—the chance to idolize and realize. If there is no mystery left, there is nothing to idealize."

How can the old glamor of the entertainment world be restored?

"I doubt if much can be done now," said Vivian frankly. "It would be a long and subtle process.

"You can't do it any more by having a star hide behind a veil. That would only make Mr. and Mrs. American Public break out laughing.

"They have tried to bring back the glamor bit, as in the case of Marilyn Monroe. But how? I'll bet the bust, waist, and hip measurements of Greta Garbo and Pola Negri weren't widely published. Their glamor was based on a sense of mystery."

Miss Blaine, a Newark, N.J., lass who started her career as a dance band singer at 14, would like to change some of the glamor surrounding herself. It is the glamor she won by portraying "Miss Adelaide," the eternal blonde fiancee in "Guys and Dolls."

"In five years, I played the role about 2,000 times," she recalled. "The character became like a rope around my neck.

"It typed me. I have been closely identified with musicals and comedy, and if I wind up with them I won't be unhappy. But I also like to play a heavy role now and then.

"Only in that way can you prove to yourself you have areas within you that you hope are there. It also helps you stay alive—both to the public and to yourself."

British Red Tape Holds Van Cliburn

The young Texan winner of the Tchaikovsky prize arrived by PLANE FROM New York to start brief European concert tour. Immigration officials stopped him for questioning because he had no labor permit. He was allowed to leave after phone calls to the U.S. Embassy.

Cliburn appears with the London Philharmonic at Albert Hall Sunday. He will also play in Amsterdam and at the Brussels World's Fair before returning to New York July 15.

Accompanying the pianist were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cliburn of Kilgore, Tex.

that's why TCP adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

Save gasoline—get back up to 30 horsepower stolen by spark plug "miss."

If your car just isn't making the grade—yet you can't put your finger on the cause—you're probably losing power to spark plug "miss."

Misfiring results when harmful combustion deposits build up after as few as 2000 miles of driving. They can cause any of your spark plugs to misfire and waste up to 30 horsepower.

You can get back that lost power with Super Shell with TCP* additive. Super Shell has higher octane to prevent engine knock. But in today's engines, you need more than anti-knock. You need protection against spark plug "miss," too.

That's why TCP adds anti-miss to anti-knock. TCP ends spark plug "miss" by neutralizing the combustion deposits that cause it. TCP restores lost power.

Mother and daughter graduates pictured above are Mrs. Stuart Galbraith and her daughter, Marcia Ann, of West Iroquois road, whose commencement exercises both will be held Thursday evening. Mrs. Galbraith will be granted a doctor of education degree from Wayne State University, and Marcia Ann will receive her diploma at Pontiac Central High School.

Mother-Daughter Honored

Galbraiths to Graduate

The Stuart Galbraith family on West Iroquois road is in a quandary. A very pleasant quandary, however.

Thursday evening will mark commencement exercises for two members of the Galbraith household. Ordinarily these circumstances should make for a very happy occasion, but when the graduates are a mother-daughter duo, and each is graduating from a different school — on the same night — that presents a predicament.

Mrs. Galbraith will be granted a doctor of education degree at Wayne State University's commencement exercises Thursday evening in the State Fair Coliseum. At the same time her daughter, Marcia Ann, will receive her diploma at Pontiac Central High School graduation program.

Mrs. Galbraith holds a BA degree from Western Michigan University and an M.Ed. degree from Wayne State. Marcia Ann's future plans call for enrollment at Western Michigan next fall where she will major in music.

At the present time, Mrs. Galbraith says, family members "... don't quite know where they're going." The Galbraith sons, Stuart III and James Harris, each will attend one of the programs.

Mr. Galbraith hasn't made his decision yet, and Mrs. Galbraith's two sisters who are coming here for the occasion also are undecided.

But regardless of "who goes where," Thursday's double commencement will offer a memorable event — one that certainly will highlight the Galbraith family album.

Summer Courses to Open

Pontiac area youngsters may enroll for the Kingswood-Cranbrook Summer Day Camp.

Applications for the camp which opens June 23 and runs for a six-week term to Aug. 1, are now being accepted and should be directed to Dorothy Inglis at Kingswood School.

Activities will include nature study, handicraft, and outdoor games for boys and girls of ages 6-8. An arts and crafts course for boys age 9 or over, offers ceramics, painting, wood, and metal work.

Both boys and girls over 9 years of age may enroll in the tennis course designed for beginners. Two additional courses are ceramics for girls 9-12 and a junior scientists program for boys, 9-11 years.

Village Club Plans Luncheon Meeting

The Village Woman's Club will hold its second annual business meeting Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at Oakland Hills Country Club, followed by a luncheon.

Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Basil Brown are luncheon chairmen. Hostesses will be Mrs. Owen Luckenback, Mrs. Norville Hubbard, Mrs. John D. Burke, Mrs. George Russell, Mrs. Theodore Yntema, Mrs. Ernest Breech, Mrs. Raymond Perring and Mrs. Roger M. Kyes.

You Can Return Favors

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I work in a beauty salon and when we are not busy one or the other of the girls with whom I work will ask me to set her hair or do her nails, etc., which I am glad to do. I am often offered a tip for doing this and I would like to know if it would be proper for me to accept it. Some of the girls think I should but it does not seem right to me to accept tips for doing favors for my co-workers."

Answer: I agree with you that it would not be right to accept tips from your co-workers for such favors. When occasion arises they return these favors by doing the same for you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was married two weeks ago and at that time received a number of telegrams from people I haven't seen for several years. Some were sent by distant relatives and others by former neighbors who knew me as a child. I would like to know if I should acknowledge these telegrams?"

Answer: Although they do not demand an answer as a present does, it is certainly better manners to write a few words thanking them for their kind telegrams.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Where is the reception card placed when sent with a wedding invitation?"

Answer: When the invitation is folded to fit the envelope, the reception card is laid in the fold. When the invitation fits as it is, the card is put on top of the engraved sheet.

U.S. Is Long Way From Italy

Don't Do as Romans Do

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I will be 17 in a few months and have parents who come from Italy and have old-fashioned ideas. I know they want the best for me but they are making it hard for me to get dates. They think a boy should ask THEM if he can take me out.

ABBY

"I am ashamed to tell the boy he has to ask my parents because no boy in America is going to ask the girl's parents for permission to take out the daughter. I am a good girl who never gave my parents any trouble. My mothers says I should write to you. Please explain it to her, Abby."

MOLTO BELLA

DEAR BELLA: "When in Rome do as the Romans do"—but we are a long way from Italy. In America, the boy asks the girl for a date, but to be on the safe side, be sure your parents have met the boy (and approve) before you accept.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a man who likes to eat and I also like to have a couple of drinks. My wife is always giving me a lot of conversation about "gluttony" because she has her nose in the Bible all the time. I know a little about the Bible, too, and I am sure it says somewhere we should eat, drink and make merry. Will you please tell me where to find it? I want to show it to the wife."

NO SINNER

DEAR NO: If you are referring to Chapter 22, verse 13 in Isaiah, you'd better read the entire passage. It says, "Let us eat and drink . . . for tomorrow we shall die." Bottoms up!

"DEAR ABBY: I've been reading the 'problems' sent to your column and I hope you print this because it might do a lot of people some good. I am in a charity hospital with arthritis, TB, heart trouble and I am losing my eyesight. I am only 38 but I can't remember being free from pain in 22 years.

"If I could wake up one morning feeling good again I wouldn't care if the neighbor's dog barked, if their kids made noise, or even if my wife (if I had one) flirted with another man. What I am trying to say is this, Abby. If a person can get up in the morning and go to work on his own two legs, he should get down on his knees and thank God, for without your health you have nothing, even if you are rich."

VERY POOR

"DEAR ABBY: I am all mixed up. Eight years ago I met a man who gave me the love and understanding I needed. He said he was separated from his wife but couldn't afford a legal divorce. This man presented me with three children, who call him 'Daddy' and think we are married.

"I just found out that he's been seeing his wife and she has had three children by him in the last eight years and they had two before that he never told me about. He claims he loves me, but because of legal technicalities he has to live with his wife. According to law what can I get?"

BACK-STREET WIFE

DEAR BACK: You can get child support. And if you are wise you will also GET smart —GET OUT of his life.

DEAR ABBY: I am old enough to know better, but I got myself in a mess. This fellow is single and working steady but he is very hard to get along with. The baby is due in August and it has to have a father before it gets here, but my problem is this. The father says he wants to wait and see what it is. If it is a boy he will marry me but not otherwise? He says he can't stand little girls, but he wouldn't mind being the father of a little boy. Should I look around for another fellow or should I wait on him and pray it's a boy? IN A MESS

DEAR IN: The father of the baby has legal as well as moral obligations to you. If you can't make him understand that the baby is his responsibility, whether a boy or girl, consult a lawyer or your legal aid society.

Wax Rainboots Before Storing

Before storing boots, rubbers and galoshes for the summer, apply a coat of self-polishing floor-wax on the rubber. It will help the overshoes retain their looks and last longer, and they will be bright and clean when taken out of storage. The wax also retards drying and cracking of the rubber.

Short Coiffure Will Point Up Beauty of Ears

With the new short coiffures, ears should appear as smooth as sea shells. If the texture of the lobes becomes roughened or chapped, massage them nightly with cleansing cream. Just before applying makeup, smooth hand lotion over the ears to keep down flaky, dry skin that might otherwise be apparent.

To even a blotched tone and veil thin-webbed veins, apply a small amount of foundation makeup to the surface of the ear, back and front. Remove excess makeup from ridges and whorls with a cleansing tissue wrapped around the finger.

10 Minutes of Rest Will Soothe Nerves

If it's been one of those days, try soothing your nerves by lying down in a darkened room for 10 minutes. And don't say you can't find 10 minutes in which to do this.

For greater results, rest with feet up. And relax tense muscles by stretching three or four times and going limp after each stretch.

Artist's Advice

Put Heart in Work to Gain Success

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

When asked what he believes to be the secret of what critics have called "The famous Elman golden tone," the distinguished violinist, Mischa Elman, replied, "Heart! That golden tone isn't just a matter of sound waves. It's a matter of what I, as an artist, feel toward the music and toward the audience as I play the violin, and what those feelings of mine do to listeners."

Mr. Elman believes that this quality of "heart" is the ingredient responsible for making any artist famous and loved. He said, "You can have the finest technician in the world but it is necessary to touch the heart of the listener, to establish personal rapport in order to be beloved by audiences.

WANT EMOTIONAL UPLIFT

"They do not come to concerts just to listen to sounds. They come for some kind of an emotional uplift and that comes only when the heart is touched. That is as true of writing and the movies as it is of music, as true of paintings as it is of plays."

This writer believes it to be true of everything. Somehow sincerity and warmth and love of people and life get into music and into the printed word without any effort on the creator's part. This is also true in a thousand little ways in everyday life. It affects our friendships and family relations and our business successes. If we invest in warmth and keen awareness, life responds so richly and enthusiastically!

This makes me think of all of the June graduates who will soon go to their first jobs. You will make greater headway in your career if you actually are interested in the firm for which you work. You will enjoy your work more, too. In social life the same attitude is certain to win. If you are outgoing and understanding, if you give from the heart you will always have friends.

When it comes to love one must give from the heart in order to create any lasting romance. A lot has been said about "teamwork" in marriage. Successful marriage does require teamwork but unless the partners are emotionally involved with one another the relationship is more like a business partnership than a marriage.

We might all profit by listening to the great Mischa Elman when he says, "The heart is what matters!"

Tomorrow: "This Woman is Happy at Home; Some Aren't."

If we invest in warmth and keen awareness, life responds so richly and enthusiastically!

Bath Rugs Fit in Any Room

Did you know that accent rugs attractive enough to enhance any room can be found in department store bathroom supply shops?

Many bath rugs — made of such materials as fluffy cotton pile, lustrous viscose, and kitten-soft Acrilan — are very handsome, and generally inexpensive.

As an added advantage, they are hand or machine-washable in soap or detergent suds.

Wayside Gleaners Hear Students Sing

Use Care in Applying Makeup

Often, the difference betwen an attractive makeup and one that is glamorous is the degree of expertness employed in applying beauty requisites.

To create a fashionable lip pattern, use a lipstick brush. It will clearly outline the desired shape and apply the color evenly.

Eyebrows appear more natural if brushed powder-free and penciled with short strokes to resemble real hairs. Use a pencil with a well-sharpened point.

When applying eye liners, if the pencil tip is lightly dry, soften it by rotating the point in a bit of cleansing cream on the palm of the hand. The color will draw on smoothly and easily.

Trapeze Outline Modified

LONDON (AP) — The trapeze line survives, but with hints of bumps and dents.

That is today's verdict for British women given in the autumn collection of Christian Dior's London branch. It indicated that it will soon be correct to define busts and waistlines slightly.

But the trapeze, a little modified and softened, is still a favorite outline.

Winter coats were wide and short, some stopping at the knees. Some had scarf collars. Necklines of coats were nearly all loose, standing away from the shoulders.

The scarf collars were knotted tight or loose, according to individual caprice, or as weather may require. Black was the predominant color.

JACKETS SHORT

Suit jackets were short, some belted. They came with straight, pleated or bell-shaped skirts. The scarf collar appeared again on some suits.

Party dresses were short, with straight or bell-bottom skirts. Gay colors seemed to be in disfavor, except in a few long evening dresses. The colors ranged from blacks through greys and browns, lighted up by a few reds and some emerald green.

A muted combination of mink brown and gold was used for a brocade cocktail dress. Demure little caps, apparently inspired by the headdress of nurses' uniforms, were perched on the heads of some models showing cocktail dresses.

Kids Will Be Kids---Don't Blame Yourself

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

In the garage was the old bike that Stu's big brother had discarded for the jalopy he drives back and forth from high school.

Stu and his friend Alan decided to try to ride it. Stu succeeded because his feet reached its pedals and gave him control of it. But Alan's feet didn't reach them.

Refusing to admit this, he insisted that Stu support him on the saddle until he got going. However, as Stu ran down the drive beside him, the bike's momentum got out of hand. It crashed — and flinging Alan against the drive's stone curbing, split his cheek open.

Later, though the doctor assured his mother that he wouldn't be permanently scarred, he couldn't console her. She kept saying over and over, "It's my fault! I should have warned him never to ride a big bicycle."

So the doctor stopped trying to deal with her conviction that she was responsible for the accident — and gave her a tranquilizer instead.

Do you also blame yourself for every mishap that occurs to your child?

If so, you share this kind of self-centeredness with very primitive people. They too fail to distinguish between circumstances they can control and those they can't.

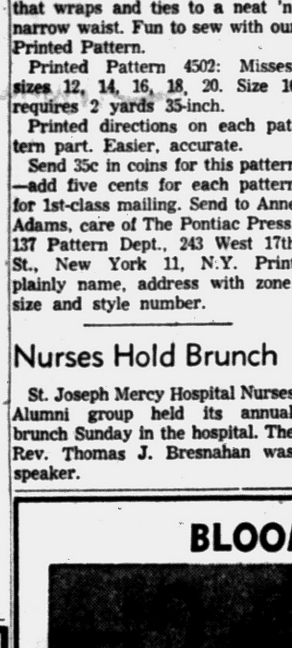

ALWAYS BLAME SELVES

If drought threatens their crops, they immediately start blaming themselves for having somehow offended their Rain God — and sacrifice a goat to him that they ought to keep for themselves. The idea that atmospheric pressures are responsible for the drought has never been put to them. So they take the blame for it themselves, dispossessing themselves of goats they need just as Alan's mother dispossess herself of peace of mind by blaming herself for his fall.

Behind much overprotection of children is our egotistical belief that we are to blame for any negative thing that happens to them. We begrudge them any experience lest it turn out to be a negative one.

Thus the solution to overprotection is seeing it as our fear of blame. We have to start looking at the guilt we feel over Alan's mishap until we can see it for what it really is — guilt over our failure to control all the circumstances that produced the mishap.

We have to recognize egotism in ourselves.

Several Incumbents Lose in School Board Voting

Holly Rejects Tax Increase

Voters in Troy District Turn Down Four Mill Operating Hike in Levy

Results of school district elections in Oakland County yesterday found voters rejecting some operating tax increases and approving others. Several incumbents were among the defeated candidates.

HOLLY

A proposed five mill operating tax hike in the Holly district was rejected, 686 to 208. Worth Hitchcock was elected to the board of education, topping a field of four candidates. He received 398 votes to 235 for Stanley Clark; 173 for Clare Voorheis, the incumbent, and 80 for Ted Haddon.

TROY

Voters in the Troy School District turned down a four mill operating tax increase, 718 to 493. They approved, however, the changing of the district's classification from second to third class, 603 to 476.

Balloting to add two more members to the present five-member board will be held at the next election.

Robert Dolmadge polled 892 votes in defeating Jack Muir, who had 314, for a four-year term on the Troy Board of Education. The incumbent, Gerald Baril, declined to seek re-election.

SOUTH LYON

Newcomer J. W. Erwin, with 433 votes, led [illegible] candidates in the race for two three-year seats on the South Lyon Board of Education. Also elected was incumbent Robert McCrory, 408 votes. Incumbent Robert Eckert and Lester V. Slaughter tied at 338 votes. Total votes cast were 775.

HURON VALLEY

Another incumbent lost his bid for re-election as voters in the Huron Valley School District elected newcomers Donald Hackbardt and Harry Porter to their first public offices. Hackbardt polled 245 votes and Porter, 186.

The other incumbent, Henry Longfield, didn't seek re-election.

Hackbardt and Porter will serve three-year terms.

The 922 ballots cast in the district's three precincts were canvassed at a special meeting of the board of education last night at 9:30, making the election results official.

ROCHESTER

Rochester School District's three mill operating tax increase was renewed for another five years. The vote was 610 to 227.

Elected to three-year terms on the Board of Education were Henry L. Purdy, 776 and Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, 772. The third candidate, Wallace Furbur, polled 141.

Purdy is present board secretary and Miss Jones is a former member of the Michigan Board of Agriculture which governs Michigan State University.

AVONDALE

Robert Sipperley and John W. Buday defeated three other candidates, including one incumbent, to win three-year seats on the Avondale Board of Education.

Sipperley received 370 votes; Buday, 351; Mrs. Genevieve L. Porter, 209; Armand J. Farrand, the incumbent, 145, and Thomas Galloway, 143.

SOUTHFIELD

Two present board members were among the eight defeated candidates for the Southfield Board of Education. Elected for four-year terms were Mrs. Elsie F. Lloyd and Dr. Milton J. Huber.

Vote totals were: Mrs. Lloyd, 551; Dr. Huber, 498; John G. Campbell, 359; Ernest J. Coverdill, incumbent, 354; William F. Mueller, 340; Mark W. Rehbine, incumbent, 331; Daniel F. MacKinnon, 215; Mrs. Lillian C. Siegel, 172; Thomas J. Grady, 68, and Clifford Thompson, 46.

FERNDALE

Ross D. Stevenson and Dr. Wolf W. Zuelzer were elected to the Ferndale Board of Education, defeating incumbent board president Mrs. Mary E. Pence and H. Nevill Geake.

They are expected to join three incumbents in opposing Supt. Roy E. Robinson's "progressive education" administration.

An increase in the operating tax levy was approved, 3746 to 3616.

WALLED LAKE

In an extremely light vote, Walter Horstman was re-elected to the Walled Lake Board of Education for his fourth term. He will serve for three years. Horstman was unopposed.

WEST BLOOMFIELD

John C. Hall, incumbent, and Jack H. Shuler each received 97 votes as they were elected, without opposition, to three year terms on the West Bloomfield Board of Education.

Pontiac Doctor Recalls Burial of Nation's 1st Unknown Soldier

Burial of unknown soldiers in Arlington National Cemetery Memorial Day brought memories which spanned 40 years for Dr. Harold A. Furlong.

The Pontiac physician, an honorary bearer at the ceremonies in Washington May 30, along with other holders of the Congressional Medal of Honor, was present in a similar capacity on Armistice Day, 1921, when America's Unknown Soldier of World War I was buried.

In the fall of 1921 Furlong was still a student in medical school, at the University of Michigan. He had continued his education after returning from World War I service with the 353 Infantry, 89th division.

He was a member of a select group invited to Washington to assist at the burial of the nation's first Unknown Soldier by virtue of having been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for heroic action under fire in France in the closing weeks of World War I.

"Majority of those invited to be honorary bearers at the first burial were veterans of 1917-18 war," he said today in recalling the event. "But there were quite a number of Spanish-American War veterans present and even some who fought in the Indian Wars."

However, conditions in 1921 and this year were different, Dr. Furlong recalls. "On the first occasion we marched over five miles from the Capitol to Arlington Cemetery.

DR. HAROLD A. FURLONG

This time we were provided cars; otherwise many of the older men never would have made it.

"The first time traffic got snarled up rather badly and I remember that President Harding had to walk a considerable distance across a field to get to the burial site as the official car was traffic-jammed."

Arrangements for the extensive program this year were letter perfect and moved without a hitch, Dr. Furlong said. "I understand service groups had been practicing for weeks during night hours when traffic was light to make sure no details had been overlooked.

"Along the route from the Capitol to the cemetery a serviceman was stationed every 20 feet for the entire distance and many more were on duty to handle the crowds. Moving of the invited guests from the amphitheater to their places near the tomb was accomplished without a hitch.

"All this was the responsibility of the Army and our own Secretary Brucker can take a bow for the splendid job done by his branch of the services."

For the ceremony this Memorial Day, 322 holders of the Congressional Medal were invited as special guests, but only 213 were able to attend. Eight of these were from Michigan.

The men met with President Eisenhower, and the vice president. "The President insisted on shaking hands and greeting each man individually in our group," Dr. Furlong said. "In my opinion he looks to be in excellent physical condition, and there was no trace of a speech defect because of a former illness."

Dr. Furlong won his Congressional Medal for going alone behind enemy lines on Nov. 1, 1918 and putting out of action four machine gun installations which were blocking advance of his company. He drove 20 prisoners into the American lines during this action.

Asked if he thought a similar type of action could develop in modern warfare, he insisted that it could. "In my opinion the foot soldier will continue to be an essential part of any military force," he said.

"Guided missiles and all the other powerful weapons can do fantastic damage behind enemy lines and can break an opponent, but enemy territory is never conquered until ground forces move in a take-over."

Department to Add 2, Bringing Personnel to Total of 10

Waterford Township Board last night officially approved the immediate hiring of an additional policeman and radio operator-typist, bringing the police department personnel to 10 including chief Millard Pender.

Until this time the radio has been switched to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department after 5 p.m.

The patrolmen will be paid a yearly salary of $5,050 and the radio operator, $4,000. The new employes will be announced in the near future, said Pender.

Against Seven Years Ago

Takes Less Work to Pay Grocery Bill During 1958

LANSING (UPI) — It will take less work to pay grocery bills during 1958 than it did seven years ago, a Michigan State University farm price expert said today.

"The hours of work needed to buy a 'market basket' of food have been dropping steadily even though consumers are spending more total dollars for their food needs," said Dale Butz, MSU agricultural economist.

Butz placed some of the blame for today's high cost of eating on consumers.

He said homemakers are demanding "built-in maid service," as reflected in the popularity of frozen pies, TV dinners and other processing, freezing and packaging services.

He also said people are eating "higher on the hog." Housewives are upgrading the quality of the family diet by including the higher priced preferred foods such as milk, meat and eggs, he said.

But Butz said the hours of work needed to pay food bills have been declining despite this climb in food costs.

In 1951, the manufacturing worker had to put in 551 hours to buy the food consumed by the "average" wage and clerical worker's family, according to figures supplied by Butz.

The work hours were 522 in 1952. They continued down to 411 in 1957, a year when the average food bill was $1,007 after being in the $900 range for several years.

"In early 1958 the retail cost of food moved up about 7 per cent over the same period a year earlier," Butz said. "The 'market basket' cost $1,049 in January of this year and it took 425 hours of work to buy the basket."

However, Butz emphasized the 1958 work-hour figure was still below the 1951-56 five-year average.

The Michigan State farm economist said about two-thirds of the increase in retail food prices in recent weeks has been reflected in higher prices to farmers.

He said the other one-third is the result of higher costs of processing and distributing agricultural products.

They Enjoy 'Dog's Life' Near Romeo

Family Adopts Young Foxes

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — Two young foxes lead "a dog's life" with a family just north of the Romeo village limits.

"And they seem to thrive on it," say Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Cooper, 11076 Wealthy Lane. "We treat the pair like ordinary house pets, and now, at two months, their coats are thick and glossy, and they apparently are happy with their domestic existence."

The Coopers gave another baby fox a home about a year ago and kept the animal until it reached maturity and wandered away. Then, early in April, gardeners at Ford's Michigan Proving Grounds near Romeo discovered a family of newborn foxes near the test track.

The tiny animals had to be removed or destroyed because of the possibility that they might venture onto the track endangering the lives of the test drivers.

Cooper heard about them and ended up bringing the pair, which were promptly named Tom and Jerry, home for his son Jeff and daughter Colleen. Whether they are red foxes with traces of silver on their tails or part silver fox has not been determined.

Mrs. Cooper said, "We began to feed them just like puppies, and soon they were eating dog food with gusto."

Tom and Jerry have houses of their own in the large fenced-in yard behind the Cooper home. They spend the day outside — then at dinner time they are brought indoors and allowed to run for an hour or so.

"We have to close the doors to the bedrooms, though, or our shoes wouldn't be safe from those rascals' sharp, pointed teeth," Mrs. Cooper mused.

The Coopers' two large dogs, Lady, the foxhound, and Penny, the collie, have "adopted" the young foxes and romp with them at will. They are careful, too, not to step on the smaller animals and sit still while they climb all over them.

Reluctant to anticipate the day when the foxes grow up and long for their native habitat, all the Coopers continue to enjoy the two newest members of their family.

RAISE PET FOXES — Jeff and Colleen Cooper hold their pet foxes, Tom and Jerry. Two months old, the foxes were found in a nest near Ford's Michigan Proving Grounds near their home, north of Romeo. Not only have Jeff and Colleen adopted the animals but their dogs, Penny and Lady, have done likewise.

Still to Run for Seat in U. S. Senate

Knight Not Discouraged by Primary

California's outgoing governor surveys his bid for the U. S. Senate with a cheerfulness that's hard to find among Republican candidates after what happened in last Tuesday's primary.

"I love a fight. I love a real battle," he says.

He has one on his hands—written in the huge vote rolled up by his Democratic opponent, Rep. Clair Engle of Red Bluff, and the entire Democratic ticket.

Knight defeated Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco for the Republican nomination by 356,000. Engle outpolled Knight in the popular vote by 525,000. Each ran on both tickets, permitted under California's cross-filing system.

Knight showed anything but dismay when he returned to his statehouse office from a month long campaign. He greeted his staff with the little tap dance that has become the mark of his usual high spirits.

"I feel fine," he told a reporter later. "I feel very optimistic. I've got a wonderful new campaign manager and a wonderful new setup all the way around. I'll win this fight."

It's this informal approach, plus continuance of most of Earl Warren's election-tested policies, that gave "Goodie" Knight his election appeal among Democrats, who outnumber Republicans by close to a million.

Knight has received active campaigning help from his attractive, 40-year-old second wife, who writes poetry on the side. His first wife, mother of his two daughters, died in 1952.

Writes New Note to Khrushchev

Eisenhower Holding Out for Geneva as Site for Nuclear Test Ban Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower insists in his latest note to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that technical talks on ways to police any future atomic test ban be held in Geneva, informed sources said today.

Khrushchev had suggested the talks take place in Moscow.

The White House announced yesterday that Eisenhower had sent a new message to the Russian leader renewing his plea that the talks begin "as soon as possible."

It planned to make public the text of the note this morning. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was expected to elaborate on this country's position at a 10 a.m. (EST) news conference.

Both Eisenhower and Khrushchev already had agreed in earlier correspondence that the technical talks should be held. Eisenhower's latest letter was designed only to set the exact date, location and similar arrangements.

The President, it was understood, was sticking by his insistence that the talks be held in Geneva. He originally suggested the Swiss city in a May 24 note. Khrushchev said Geneva would be suitable but he preferred Moscow.

Eisenhower said earlier the U. S. side might include British and French scientists. Russia indicated she would bring Czech and Polish experts and suggested India also be invited.

Originally, Eisenhower was understood to be thinking of suggesting that the conference begin June 24. But some sources indicated he had since moved the proposed starting date a little later.

The United States suggested some time ago that scientists be set to work on the technical problems of disarmament in an effort to break the stalemate over arms control. The feeling was that the scientists might be able to make headway and thereby make it easier to reach an eventual political agreement on disarmament.

Russia at first objected. Eisenhower renewed the suggestion April 28 and Khrushchev agreed to technical talks on the limited issue of how to police any future nuclear test ban. He said Russia had "serious doubts" about the value of such talks but would join the discussions since that was the way Eisenhower wanted to proceed.

The technical talks will not commit either nation to any political agreement on the issue. But U.S. sources have conceded that agreement by the scientists would increase already heavy pressure on the United States to agree to a ban on further nuclear testing.

So far, the United States has said it would halt such tests only if there were an international agreement, including an end to production of fissionable material for weapons.

"May I extend a personal invitation to visit our community and to see the world's newest and greatest bridge. We think that in many respects our bridge tops your Golden Gate. So please come and make your own comparison."

Mackinaw City's Mayor Neal Downing wrote that note yesterday to San Francisco's Mayor George Christopher, inviting the latter to attend the dedication here June 26-28 of the $100,000,000 Straits of Mackinaw Bridge.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID, today!

Have you been misled by talk about "gas-guzzling monsters" . . . claims of "big-car room with small-car economy"?

Ford Six sets the record straight on economy!

FORD GIVES BETTER GAS MILEAGE

In an official NASCAR test to measure gas mileage under normal driving conditions, the Ford Six beat the 6-passenger American car that has been claiming "small-car gas economy"!

This test was strictly supervised by NASCAR every foot of the way. The route was chosen to provide the kind of driving most people do —heavy city traffic, open highways, mountains. Drivers were changed daily so the cars received the same handling. When the 2213-mile run was completed, Ford had delivered the most miles per gallon.

FORD IS LOWEST PRICED

In both six-passenger sedans and station wagons Ford is actually lower priced than this same self-styled "economy" car!

MODELS COMPARED	FORD ADVANTAGE
LOWEST-PRICED 6-PASSENGER SEDAN	FORD COSTS *$2.35 LESS
LOWEST-PRICED STATION WAGON	FORD COSTS *$119.59 LESS

These comparisons are based on manufacturers' own suggested retail prices including radio and heater, excluding destination charges.

ITS LOW PRICE AND GAS-SAVING WAYS ARE JUST TWO OF THE MANY ADVANTAGES FORD OFFERS YOU. FOR EXAMPLE . . .

The Ford Six is the most modern, short-stroke, low-friction, six-cylinder engine available in any car today. Delivering 145 horsepower, it gives you more efficient power . . . keeps you safer, too.

The Beauty of the 58 Ford stems from the famous Thunderbird. It's beauty that combines with the luxury features that are built into every Ford model to make you proud to drive a Ford anywhere.

The Riding Comfort you get in a Ford comes from exclusive Automatic Ride Control . . . which combines Angle-Poised Ball-Joint Front Suspension with long, tailored-to-weight rear springs to give you big-car riding ease at its level best, over all roads.

In Dollar Value you just can't match a Ford. It's a car that's built to be worth more. And it's a car that traditionally holds onto its value for the time when you're finally ready to trade it in or sell it.

Three Pitchers Can't Keep Tigers From Cellar

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

For a son to follow in the footsteps of the father's profession is a cherished pride for many dads, and Art Hickson is a typical father.

Boating and boat racing has been the love of the Hicksons for a long, long time, and when young Bill gets in to a boat for an important race, Art gets as concerned and probably more jittery than most fathers.

Racing speedboats anywhere from 100 to 200 miles per hour isn't exactly a relaxing thought for any parent.

"I have never done anything to stop Bill from racing, in fact I've always tried to do every thing possible to help when he is preparing for the big events," said Art.

Bill has a big event coming up Saturday and he has a new speedboat which he thinks will be able to hit around 180 mph.

The Detroit river will be the site of the qualifying races in the Ford Memorial this weekend. From here the qualifiers go to Seattle for the big cup races.

The U-100 named "Bill-Der" will be the sentimental favorite with Bill in the driver's seat. The boat formerly the "Miss Great Lakes" and also once called the famous "What a Pickle" was bought by the Hicksons last year.

Now boasting a new motor, the 30-ft. 2-inch power boat is being put through its paces at the Oakland County Boat Club where Art Hickson is Commodore.

Art has had many outstanding boats including "Hot Stuff" and "Agitator" which were outstanding in American and Canadian circuits, but "Bill-Der" is the current pride and the big hopeful for the big races of 1958.

"Bill has been racing boats since he was 16," said Art, "and he has a very good chance of qualifying for the Seattle trip in the Detroit race."

"Racing any human-powered machine at such speeds is death defying, so naturally you know how I must feel and what tension exists in a man when he gets ready or watches his kin prepare for a big race," said Art.

If anyone should know it is Art. He is a member of the "Ppside Down Club," which is quite self-explanatory.

Royal Oak Boy Denies Charge

Lavagetto Says Zauchin Not Interested in Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — First baseman Norm Zauchin has angrily denied a charge that he didn't seem to be interested in his job with the Washington Senators.

The Washington Post said Manager Cookie Lavagetto was displeased with Zauchin and quoted Lavagetto as saying:

"I have a feeling that his mind isn't entirely on baseball."

Zauchin, upset about the report, said it wasn't true that he had not been giving his best for the Senators.

"I've had a bad shoulder and it hurts when I swing. Baseball is my living and my life. There's nothing I'd like better than to get back into action.

"This is a ball club that has given me a chance to make good and I'd be a dope to pass it up... I never played less than my best in my life."

Zauchin injured his shoulder diving for a ground ball in Cleveland on May 22. He has started only two games since.

The Post said Lavagetto reportedly was irked when Zauchin volunteered to catch batting practice the other day.

"If he can do that, he should be able to start," said Lavagetto. "I'm not saying he's 'jaking,' but he doesn't seem to be too interested in his job... it's true that he has offered to play but I get the feeling he really doesn't meap it."

In reply, Zauchin, who lives in Royal Oak, Mich., said he oculd not swing and he couldn't do the club any good at present.

He said he had offered to catch batting practice only because he wanted to help the club.

"I resent being called a prima donna and a guy who's lying down on his job," Zauchin said. "I'm so mad I could spit. I'm no quitter."

Foytack Loser as Bosox Win 6th Straight

Jensen Homers, Boston Scores 6 Runs in 3rd for 9-4 Triumph

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers threw a trio of moundsmen at the Boston Red Sox but failed escape taking over sole possession of the American League cellar last night.

The surging Red Sox defeated the Tigers 9-4 and won their sixth straight victory. The loss dropped Detroit a half-a-game behind the seventh place Chicago White Sox.

Paul Foytack, the eventual loser, started for the Tigers and gave up seven runs and seven hits before bowing out to Jim Bunning in the third inning. Foytack's record now is 5-5.

Boston wrapped up the game with a six-run outburst in the third. Jackie Jensen hit his 14th home run of the year and accounted for three runs. A pair of walks, a double by Don Buddin and a single by Pete Runnels brought in the others and gave Sox pitcher Frank Sullivan all he needed for his third win of the year against one defeat.

Bunning gave up one run and two hits in his short stint. Tom Morgan held the Red Sox scoreless in his two-inning stint before giving way to pinch hitter Bob Hazle.

Vito Valentinetti finished for the Tigers and was charged with the final Boston run in the seventh inning.

Sullivan gave up nine hits, only two of them coming after the fourth inning.

Detroit scored twice in the third on singles by Jim Hegan, Foytack, Frank Bolling and Al Kaline. The Tigers collected their other runs in the fourth inning on a walk, another single by Hegan and a double by Ossie Virgil.

The victory pushed the Red Sox into a tie for second place with Kansas City, 7½ games behind the New York Yankees.

Manager Jack Tighe nominated Frank Lary to start for the Tigers today in the second of the four-game series with the Red Sox. Lary has a 5-5 record.

Triandos' Homer Sinks Indians

Mays Still in Slump (0-12)

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Holy smoke! Lookit Willie!

Just four days ago nobody could get Willie Mays out. He was 7-for-7, and 16-for-19, gaining 26 points and taking the National League batting lead at .433.

He hasn't had a hit since, going 0-for-12, losing 25 points and tumbling back to .408, almost where he was when the spurt started.

A .408 average isn't exactly hurtin', but Willie didn't do the San Francisco Giants much good yesterday, going 0-for-4 in a 3-0 defeat as once-beaten Bob Purkey won his eighth for Cincinnati in the only game scheduled.

The defeat, their ninth in 13 games, trimmed the Giants' first-place edge over Milwaukee to a half game and .003 percentage points, while the Redlegs took full charge of third place, just 3½ games back.

In the American League, Boston moved with .003 percentage points of second-place Kansas City by whipping Detroit 9-4. Baltimore defeated Cleveland 5-2. Rain postponed the only other game scheduled, with the Chicago White Sox ahead 7-1 in the fourth inning at Washington.

Purkey, a right-hander who never has had a winning season in the majors, won his fifth in a row with a six-hitter. He walked none and struck out three while winning his fourth straight from the Giants since May 7, 1955. He was 3-0 against 'em last season, when he had an 11-14 record with Pittsburgh.

A two-run homer by Steve Bilko, his fourth, wrapped it up for the Redlegs in the fourth against southpaw Johnny Antonelli, now 5-4. The Reds, who have won seven of their last nine in a jump from seventh place, also had six hits.

Mays, once again second to St. Louis' Stan Musial (.418) in the bat race, left four runners stranded. He flied out in the first after rookie Felipe Alou singled, tapped back to the mound after Alou had doubled in the sixth, and hit into a force out after pinch singles by Whitey Lockman and Ray Jablonski had put runners on third and first in the eighth.

The Braves, who get right-hander Bob Buhl back today after his bout with a sore arm, haven't had a complete game since May 31, when Warren Spahn beat Pittsburgh 8-3. Milwaukee has dropped five of seven since and has lost four in a row for the first time since early September 1956.

Another three-run homer by Gus Triandos helped Baltimore clip the Indians behind southpaw Billy O'Dell's four-hit hurling.

Triandos slammed his 12th homer off Cal McLish in the first inning. That proved to be all the margin O'Dell needed for his sixth victory against seven defeats.

J. W. Porter doubled home two runs for Cleveland in the bottom of the first inning. O'Dell then settled down to retire the next 16 batters before Rocky Colavito singled in the seventh inning.

Early Wynn appeared to be breezing to his sixth victory when the game at Washington was called. He had allowed two hits while the White Sox raked Al Cicotte and Chuck Stobbs for nine, including three singles by Billy Goodman and a home run by Tito Francona.

Tigers Get Curfew Lecture

Kuenn Rejoins Club Friday

DETROIT (AP) — Harvey Kuenn, Detroit Tigers center fielder injured last week in Baltimore when he crashed into a wall while chasing a home run, is expected to rejoin Detroit in New York Friday.

Dr. Claire Straight, Kuenn's physician here, said Monday he removed 23 of 25 stitches taken to close a severe gash over Kuenn's eye.

Dr. Straight said Kuenn's vision was excellent.

Tighe re-read the curfew act last night after the Tigers were belted 9-4 by the Boston Red Sox for their third straight loss and fifth in the last seven games.

"It was only a three-minute meeting," Tighe said. "When a team is losing, someone always finds a million reasons — such as staying out, carousing and everything else.

"None of our boys are breaking curfew. But I wanted to hold the meeting to stop any talk before it gets started."

Detroit, mired in last place 12½ games behind league-leading New York, has a curfew of three hours after a night game. After day games it is 12:30 a.m.

Bone 2nd at Forest Lake

Pentiuk Wins Pro-Am Test

Larry Pentiuk, former head pro at Washtenaw County Club and now a tool salesman holding PGA membership, joined with Dr. Paul Wicht to win yesterday's Pro-Am Metropolitan Best-Ball golf tournament at Forest Lake CC.

Pentiuk fired the lowest individual round among the pros, a three-under-par 68, and he and Dr. Wicht combined for a best-ball score of 33-30—63, tops in the tourney. Pentiuk's card featured six birdies, five coming home.

Five teams tied for 2nd place with 64's, including Pontiac's Gene Bone and John Dalrymple, ex-Keego Harbor golfer. Bone holed out a 30-foot chip for an eagle three on the 18th and Lou Powers sank a 9-iron approach shot for an eagle two on the 15th hole.

Knobby Walsh, former assistant pro at Forest Lake, and Dave Pottinger were also among the runner-up teams and their 29 on the back side was the best nine-hole round in the four pro-am events held this year.

A total of 50 pros and 137 amateurs played yesterday with the purse amounting to $1,370. Pentiuk pocketed $150 as the winning pro.

Soccer Trials in 2nd Round

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The second qualifying round of the World Cup soccer competition got under way in all four divisions today with the biggest interest seeming to lay in how much the bettors can make from the state-run football pools.

With a day off yesterday, the nation's communication media concentrated on the pros and cons of all the contenders, but still gave the Brazilians the nod to take the finals, June 29.

Lose on Field, Win at Gate

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The Spokane Indians, stumbling around in sixth place in the Pacific Coast League, laid claim Monday to the top spot in home attendance among the nation's minor leagues.

Indians Sell Kelly, Pick Up Constable

BALTIMORE (AP — The Cleveland Indians Monday night announced the sale of right-hander Bob Kelly to Columbus, Ohio, of the International League to make room for southpaw Jim Constable.

Constable, 25, of Jonesboro, Tenn., was purchased from the San Francisco Giants Saturday and joined the Tribe here today. He pitched only seven innings for the Giants this season, posting a victory over Milwaukee.

Kelly was acquired from Cincinati late in April. He made 13 appearances for the Indians, most of them in relief, and lost two games against no victories.

Charley Joseph Winner With 2 Weight Gloves

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Charley Joseph used eight and six-ounce gloves to hammer out a unanimous decision over Milo Savage in a slow 10-round fight Monday night.

Loes Back With Orioles but Would Prefer Trade

BALTIMORE (AP) — Problem pitcher Billy Loes, as unpredictable as ever, has rejoined the Baltimore Orioles and says he is ready to pitch again for Manager Paul Richards. But he would rather pitch for someone else.

"I'll pitch because that's the way I make my living, not because I think Richards is the greatest man in the world," Loes said. "Sure I guess I could quit, but I'd be crazy to do that."

While Loes was sitting out a dual suspension — six days by Richards — he repeated his wish to be traded to another club. He said the same thing even before the suspension, with the New York Yankees undeniably the team of his dreams.

Loes said last night he would "do my best and try to win" for Baltimore, but in almost the next breath indicated he wouldn't mind donning another uniform.

"They have plenty of good pitchers here," he said. "They don't need me." At the same time he was laughing and joking with his teammates.

Richards had a brief conference with Loes before the reinstated player pitched batting practice. The manager said as far as he was concerned "it's a closed incident. We'll re-deal the cards and wipe the slate clean."

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Three-putt-itis.
DIAGNOSIS: Vagueness on the Approach Putt.

Treatment: Try to MAKE the first putt. This prescribed treatment may appear obvious. On the other hand, you'd probably be surprised at how helpful it can be — and at how few players use the method.

Faced with a long approach putt, many players just try to get the ball in the general vicinity of the hole. They seem to be overcome by the enormity of the problem, particularly when there are intervening rolls and breaks in the green.

On these long approach putts, I find it most helpful to "zero-in" on the problem. I try to put out of my mind the fear of falling short or going well past. I concentrate, instead, on trying to hit the ball so that it will fall in the hole on its last turn—that is, with its last bit of momentum.

It's true that I seldom achieve complete success in this effort. But that's not the point. The point is that by trying for perfection I often come CLOSE to achieving it. And that, after all, is what you try to do on a long approach putt.

Hard to Pick Top Relief Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP)—So many awards are being handed out each year for outstanding individual performances in the major leagues, it is almost impossible to keep track of them all.

There are a lot of good ones this year. Don McMahon of Milwaukee, Dick Farrell of Philadelphia, Clem Labine of Los Angeles, Marv Grissom of San Francisco, Ryne Duren of New York, Dick Hyde of Washington, Hoyt Wilhelm of Cleveland, George Zuverink of Baltimore, Gerry Staley of the Chicago White Sox and Murry Wall of Boston are just a few of the list of hurlers who have discovered it pays to go on relief.

The best earned run averages are owned by St. Louis' Phil Paine, 0.67; Duren, 1.23; Farrell, 1.32; Boston's Leo Kiely, 1.42; Hyde, 2.14; Zuverink, 2.25 and Pittsburgh's Don Gross, 2.23.

The most saves have been achieved by Duren, 9; Hyde, 7; Farrel, 6; Muffeett, 6; Wall, 5; Staley, 5; the Dodgers' Red Roebuck, 5; and Labine, 5.

The hardest workers have been Hyde and Tex Clevenger of Washington 42 innings; Wilhelm and Wall 40; Staley, 36; Labine, 35; Farrell, 34; and Gross and Roebuck, 30.

The relievers who have permitted the fewest batters to reach base, percentage-wise, are Kiely, .230; Kansas City's Tom Gorman, .250; Duren, 2.53; Hyde, .259; Staley, .260; Paine, .273; Gross, .280; Wilhelm, .281; and Farrell, .282.

Now for the awards. The current choices here are between Farrell and McMahon in the National League and Duren and Hyde in the American.

NCAA for Slander

Barred Player to Sue

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Auburn's Don Fuell, declared ineligible by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., plans to sue the NCAA, the Columbus Ledger reported Monday.

Ledger Sports Editor Tom Kinney said Fuell will sue the NCAA on charges of slander.

Fuell, a football player, was declared ineligible for accepting (or being offered by an Auburn alumnus) a motorboat and motor, an air conditioned apartment and an automobile in his sophomore year, or $2,200 in cash.

Fuell denied receiving any such gifts, or offers of gifts, or money.

As an aftermath of the charges, Auburn drew a three-year probationary term, which bans them from post season games.

At the time of the NCAA ruling, Southeastern Conference Commissioner Bernie Moore made public a letter he had written the NCAA which said "at no time is it proved that Donald Fuell actually received any cash awards or gifts."

Covington May Need Therapy

CHICAGO (AP)—If the Milwaukee Braves' fortunes are bending low, put the blame on Wes Covington's injured knee.

The hard-hitting outfielder, armed with a cane instead of a bat, arrived yesterday with the Braves, who hoped to break a four-game losing streak today against the Chicago Cubs.

"I won't be doing the club any good this way," Covington said.

Wes suffered a severe injury to the knee in a pre-season exhibition game in Texas. The knee recently was hit by a pitched ball at Pittsburgh, and the injury was aggravated again last week at San Francisco when Covington almost collided with shortstop Johny Logan.

Elisian's Sentence Delayed 2 Weeks

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Another two weeks' delay in sentencing was granted in Superior Court Monday to Ed Elisian, Oakland automobile racer, who is attempting to pay off $1,020 in worthless checks.

Elisian had pleaded guilty writing that amount of bad checks but his sentencing was delayed so he could have a chance to pay them off.

Elisian is entered in two automobile races within the next two weeks and hopes to win enough money to pay his obligations, his attorney said.

Prep Front

By CHUCK ABAIR

The high school sports season came to a close officially Saturday with such events as the Champion of Champions track meet at Kalamazoo, the state tennis finals in the same city and Cranbrook's baseball game at home.

That means this article will be the final of the current "Prep Front" series. Coaches and players in the various sports will soon be scattering to various activities for the summer months to keep busy while awaiting the resumption of classes in September.

One fellow who may stay in competition most of the summer outside of school is ex-Pontiac star Hayes Jones now at Eastern Michigan.

Hayes is still not completely recovered from nerve trouble in his right leg but he hopes to take part in at least two events in the National AAU meet June 20-21 at Bakersfield, Calif. He was entered originally in four but the event schedule will likely prevent him from being in more than two.

The key factor connected with the big meet, besides being a great Olympic booster, is that the 1st three finishers in each event will be named to a team which will represent the U. S. in a tour of four countries.

Jones went on a smaller tour last summer and turned in some impressive showings. The squad to be picked will include 44 men and 22 women. Meets are scheduled in Moscow July 27-28, Warsaw Aug. 1-2, Budapest Aug. 4-5 and Athens Aug. 8-9.

It's another great opportunity for the popular local boy. Eastern coach George Marshall says he may enter Hayes only in the 100 and 220 dashes because his ailment has caused him to be "not as sharp in the hurdles." He will either run both dashes or both hurdles.

SKIPPING AROUND—No team score was kept in that Champion of Champions meet but Pontiac unofficially had 2½ to Muskegon Heights' 12. . . Tom Watson-Jeff Crawford duo of Birmingham won opening game 6-3, but fell apart after in state tennis semis. . . No one surprised at report East Lansing star Art Brandstatter Jr., will enter MSU. Dad starred there in 1930s.

Jerry Ganzel, who helped coach unbeaten Milford nine, was a member of the last MHS championship team in 1951. Terry Hoy won eight games and hit .342 for Redskins. . . Hazel Park's 6-2 track record best in 20 years. . . Al LeSage named top junior athlete and baseballer at Farmington. Jim Marsh best among seniors, Warren Cawley 1st in track.

PCH nine won three of last four. . . . Class A tennis champ Hamtramck was upset by Cranbrook in dual meet during season. . . Bob Morse (Baseball), Larry Thompson (Track) honored as No. 1 at No. Branch. . . State MHSAA Director Charles Forsythe is the new vice president of the Men's Athletic Division of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Also, Bill McMachan (Milford) and Mile Larson (Southfield), to MSU; Ken Leece (Holly) to Albion; Dave Proper (Romeo) to GM Tech; Andy Sneddon (Hazel Park;, Tom Hubbell (Milford) and Horace Waters (Farmington) Eastern.

Amateur Victory in U.S. Open Unlikely

Goodman in '33 Last Amateur to Win Crown

But 31 'Simon Pures' Pose Powerful Threat to Pros at Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — It has been 25 years since an amateur won the U.S. Open golf championship and it is unlikely one will come through this year on a course that Billy Joe Patton calls "a monster."

But the 31 amateurs in the field of 162 players scheduled to start Thursday on the 6,907-yard Southern Hills Country Club course constitute a strong threat to the pros.

One qualified observer thinks three or four of them have the potential to bring back the days of Bobby Jones and Johnny Goodman.

The last amateur winner was Goodman in 1933, five years after Jones gave up his habit of licking the pros.

Bill thinks it would be good for golf to have an amateur win or at least come thrillingly close as Ken Venturi did in the 1956 Masters.

"It would be great for the game; it would encourage a lot of young fellows who are getting discouraged when they see the pros take everything," Kaiser said.

The four Kaiser mentioned as having the potential are Patton, two-time amateur Harvie Ward and two youngsters, Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, and Bobby Nichols of Midland, Texas.

He had a good chance to observe Nicklaus, an 18-year-old Ohio State University student, when they played in the same qualifying section at Cincinnati. Nicklaus shot 136 for 36 holes there.

"He's a strong kid and can play great golf," Kaiser said. "He has the potential if he can think as well as he can hit. He's a rather quiet boy and may need to develop but I think he can play well on this course."

Nichols, a Kentucky boy who went to college at Texas A&M, is another player Kaiser believes has the strength, distance and ability to compete on even terms with the pros.

"Then there's Patton. They may criticize his swing but he's a scorer," Kaiser said. "And don't forget Harvie Ward. He always plays along with the good ones."

Patton tied for eighth place in last year's Open after equalling Dick Mayer's 138 for the first two rounds. He was sixth in 1954, 13th in 1956 and was low amateur in the Masters this year—a remarkable record for an amateur in open competition.

But Billy Joe argues that Southern Hills is just too big a course for even such a long hitting amateur as he is. His opinion is shared by several other players who have tried it out in practice rounds.

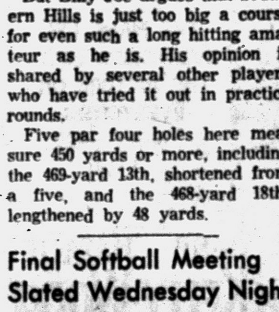

Five par four holes here measure 450 yards or more, including the 469-yard 13th, shortened from a five, and the 468-yard 18th, lengthened by 48 yards.

Traps and Trees Abound at Warwick

Hit Straight, Men!

By BILL CORNWELL

Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club, site of the $52,000 Flint Open golf tournament June 1922, could be the meanest thing the pros have tackled in a long time.

The sprawling course, which opened just 12 months ago will be a thorough test of championship golf and for at least two good reasons.

Power will be demanded over its 7,200-yard acreage, the 2nd longest course in the nation today. What's more — and these two are sometimes incompatible — accuracy will be demanded, too.

The course is infested with sand traps and timber. Many shots which stray off the tee will go woodchopping and the possibility also exists in several cases from the fairways.

If the long-hitters can stay away from the trees, they'll have to contend with bunkers around the greens at every turn.

At least two traps await an errant iron shot on every one of Warwick's 18 greens and in some instances there are three and four bunkers to escape with an approach.

There are numerous holes where it would also be unwise to wander into the rough, which is — to be a little trite — rough.

The course abounds in long par four holes as well as some lengthy par fives. Par five holes range in length from the 604-yard 16th to the 507-yard 13th. Seven of the 10 par fours measure well over 400 yards with the 468-yard 4th hole running the longest.

Billy Casper, one of the brightest young pros on the circuit, believes that scores will be high in the 72-hole tourney which gets under way one week from Thursday.

Casper became convinced of this after firing a couple of practice rounds over the par 36-36—72 layout.

After shooting a 39-39—78 on his first try, Casper fired a 37-34—71 to card the first sub-par score in Warwick's brief history. "The highest score in modern golf history will win the Flint Open," declared Casper following his efforts.

"Anybody who breaks 288 will win it and maybe 290 will do it," he said. "I'll also guarantee that 312 will finish in the money.

As we said before the boys will have to be long — and accurate.

Leagues Close in Church Play

Wins by United Presbyterian, the Nike base and Pontiac RLDS threw the Avondale Church League into a three-way tie last night with the trio sharing the top rung with 3-1 records.

Sunny Vale continues to top the pack in the Waterford Township Church League with a 6-1 record followed by Donelson with 5-2 and St. Andrews 4-2.

Last night's Avondale action saw plenty of scoring as Presbyterian outlasted Lake Orion RLDS 14-12, Parkdale Nazarene drubbed Avondale Baptist 18-5, Nike tripped Stone Baptist 16-5 and Pontiac trounced Elmwood Methodist 17-10.

John Hartley belted four successive doubles and winning hurler Dale Stoddard had three to pace Parkdale. Chuck Chase of Nike, Bill Schinzing and Jack Seifert of Pontiac hit home runs.

All Baseball, Softball Activity Washed Out

All City League baseball and softball games as well as Waterford League softball contests were rained out Monday.

The Class A baseball game between Griff's Grill and Our Jets has been rescheduled this Friday at Wisner Field at 5:30 p.m. Rain also postponed all Latin-American League baseball play yesterday for the 2nd straight week.

Latin-American games will be made up as doubleheaders on June 15 with Los Mayos entertaining the Capac Tigers and the Pontiac Aztecas traveling to Flint.

Kazoo Top Team in Net Tourney

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Dennison University's Shaw Emmons ranked as the man to beat today in the second and concluding day of the Mideast NCAA Regional Tennis Tournament.

The Ohio star swept to two straight victories in a rain-abbreviated opening day yesterday. Emmons won from Dave Miller of Depauw in love sets, 6-0, 6-0, and defeated Mike Beal of Kalamazoo, 6-4, 6-3.

Kalamazoo's Alan Cho was an upset winner. Cho defeated Depauw's No. 1 man, Walt Sampson, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

For the first day Kalamazoo led in team points with six. Dennison scored two and Iowa State Teachers one. Other contending schools are Beloit and St. Ambrose.

Hollywood Headlines

Filmland's Publicity Style Baffling to Maria Schell

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Many European stars are baffled by the Hollywood publicity system, and Maria Schell is no exception.

"The relationship of actors and the public via the screen is the same," she said, "but the communication of actors and public via publicity seems decadent. There are many names who are stars in the newspapers, but I haven't seen them in movies for years."

The blonde German beauty is back in Hollywood for her second film here, "The Hanging Tree," with Gary Cooper. Her first exposure to the local publicity mill was last year when she made "The Brothers Karamazov."

She admitted that she rebelled against the system. She found reporters asking her questions which shocked her. She said if the questions had come from nonpress strangers, she would reply with an indignant, "I beg your pardon!"

"I see the reason for interest in a movie star's life, but interest is different from curiosity," she said. "Too much publicity here is prompted by curiosity. It is something we haven't had in Europe—until recently. Now it is spreading over there."

Miss Schell aired her views when I brought up a news magazine story that heralded her U. S. debut. It quoted liberally from European coworkers who lambasted her as a ruthless, ambitious schemer.

"I don't believe a star's publicity should be all sweetness," she reasoned. "That is very dull. But I don't think people should go too far in the other direction.

"They quoted all the people who said bad things about me. Not one word from the many who praised me. I wouldn't mind so much if they had printed my real fault. I could have told them.

"My big fault has been intensity. I was so eager to do a good job that I fought too hard and said things that I shouldn't have. But I have realized that fault. I have tried to cure it by compromising. I don't like to do it, but I have to."

The article also said the actress has long battled to keep her weight down.

"I have never worried much about my weight," she said. "I may weigh too much, but I don't think it matters too much on the screen. It is the over-all impression that counts."

NOT ONE WORD OF ENGLISH! — Beverly Keelean, 20, of Sault Ste. Marie, a French major and a current graduate of the University of Detroit has been awarded a French scholarship to Laval College in Quebec. But she'll have to be careful of her speech. A stipulation of the scholarship is that she speak only French, both on and off the campus. Even though she has been studying French for eight years, she has been dropping into French restaurants recently to brush up on her language.

Cause of Blast Unknown

Explosion Rocks Toronto; Three Persons Missing

TORONTO (AP)—Two men and a woman were listed as missing today after an explosion blew a 40-foot gash in their four-story apartment house in Toronto's North End. Three other persons suffered minor injuries.

Firemen, civil defense workers and construction crews burrowed through wreckage that one policeman said looked like buildings bombed in the London blitz.

Several apartments were bared to the street, pictures intact on the walls and clothes hung in closets that had lost their doors.

Authorities said they had no idea what caused the blast which damaged the 30-year-old, 34-apartment brick building. The blast apparently originated in the vicinity of a basement boiler.

Some tenants said they understood the superintendent, John Armstrong, was working on the boiler last night with a plumber. Armstrong was missing.

Mrs. M. McGee and Len Bartlett, a student, were listed as missing. Bartlett's father said he spoke to the youth on the telephone after the explosion, and he appeared dazed. Police said he might have wandered away.

Police were investigating the possibility of a bomb. One officer said it was mysterious that the full force of the blast was all in one direction.

The possibility of a natural gas explosion was discounted by a gas company official who said there was no gas service for 500 yards on that side of the street.

Armed to the Teeth

MARIETTA, Okla. (AP)—Highway patrolman Gilbert Duggan arrested a speeder and found the motorist, Martin J. Gutierros, 21, of Caracas, Venezuela, a student at the University of Tulsa, armed with a filled gun belt, a loaded .38 caliber pistol and a 30-30 rifle. Gutierros smilingly explained: "I was playing cowboy."

Deborah Kerr Tries to Evade Divorce Talk

VIENNA (AP) — Deborah Kerr today barred all visitors from her movie set to evade questions about the divorce suit she filed in California against Anthony Bartley, her husband of 12 years.

The English actress also issued word through the movie company's press agent that she would give no interviews and would not discuss Bartley's charges that film writer Peter Viertel had enticed her away from him.

Viertel, a 37-year-old American, is working with Miss Kerr on the movie here and they are living in the same hotel. He has termed Bartley's charges "absurd and ridiculous."

"Miss Kerr has nothing to add to the statement made by her attorneys when they filed the divorce suit," her spokesman said. "We do not know whether she will go to England to fight the suit instituted by Mr. Bartley to make their two young daughters wards of the British court. In any case, she cannot go before she finishes work on this film about June 20."

When Miss Kerr on May 31 announced her separation from Bartley, she said she hoped they could settle their problems amicably. Her spokesman said she went to London over the Whitsun weekend (May 25) "but apparently nothing came of that."

29 City Police Join New Order

Fraternity to Encourage Community Activities and Promote Welfare

A group of 29 Pontiac police officers met last night to form Pontiac Lodge 131 of the Fraternal Order of Police.

They also elected three trustees; Charles Gale, chairman, and Allen Noble and Gerald Navarre.

A committee was appointed, headed by the president, to draft a constitution and by-laws.

Lafnear said the purposes of the FOP are to "encourage social, charitable and educational activities among police officers and to work on state and national levels to promote the welfare of law enforcement and police officers."

He said the Pontiac officers had decided to join the FOP because it is the only national police organization in the United States.

Membership is open to all members of the Pontiac Police Department and to members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and other Pontiac area police forces, he said.

The lodge's officers denied today that their group was a rival to the Pontiac Police Officer's Assn. They pointed out that a number of their charter members belong to the association which claims about 90 members of the 115 man department.

Five Burglaries Reported in City

Rash of Break-Ins Hits Business Firms, School in Pontiac

Police said that someone had entered the Auburn-Sanford Sunoco Service Station, 436 Auburn Ave., by breaking a garage window. Missing were 13 auto tires valued at $325.

Another breakin at Tom's Hardware, 905 Orchard Lake Ave., netted burglars a quantity of firearms and hunting knives valued at approximately $311.

William Largent, an engineer at Whittier School, 600 Motor St., reported to police that someone had entered the school and taken a total of $31.80 from a vending machine and desk drawer.

Police received a call from J. F. Crabill, plant foreman at the Pontiac Tank Corp., 389 S. Sanford St., reporting the theft of some unusual merchandise.

He told police that the thief or thieves had stolen a tank of liquid gas, a tank of oxygen, 30 feet of rubber hose, a cutting torch and torch lighter, and assorted tools valued at an estimated $125.

Police also reported that someone had broken into Bernard's Cleaners, 485 S. Sanford St., and taken two pair of work pants valued at $2.80 plus about $5 in change from a cash register.

Already Infest 9 Million Acres in Colorado

Grasshoppers Threatening Wheat Crop

DENVER (AP)—Eastern Colorado's 110-million-dollar bumper wheat crop faces ruin by the state's worst grasshopper invasion in 10 years.

Nearly nine million acres of rangeland and cropland in 16 counties are already infested. The blight extends into western Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Wyoming and Montana.

The crisis is nearing rapidly in Colorado's eastern plains where hungry hoppers already have gorged on 10 per cent of the land's wheat.

"A horde of full-grown hoppers could clear an acre of wheat in 36 minutes," State Agriculture Commissioner Paul W. Swisher said today. "The insects have been working on some of the fields for a week.

"When you figure seven hoppers per square yard it becomes a critical problem."

Young grasshoppers now number from 50 to 400 to the square yard in Colorado. Soon they will develop wings and begin to migrate.

Officials of the states affected are pressing for swift action, both by the federal government and landowners.

Farmers have been urged to go ahead with spraying programs and not wait for government disaster help.

Experts say that if the hoppers aren't exterminated by mid-June it may be too late to save the crops.

Pontiac School Board to Canvass Vote Tonight

The Pontiac Board of Education will meet at 7:30 tonight to canvass the vote in yesterday's election and to conduct a regular meeting.

On the agenda is the appointment of a principal for Jefferson Junior High School and the approval of administrative pay schedules.

The board is also expected to award a contract for gymnasium bleachers at Northern High School.

A petition will be presented from the residents of Upper Long Lakes Estates, Bloomfield Township, to be annexed to the Pontiac School District from the Bloomfield District.

His Troubles Pile Up

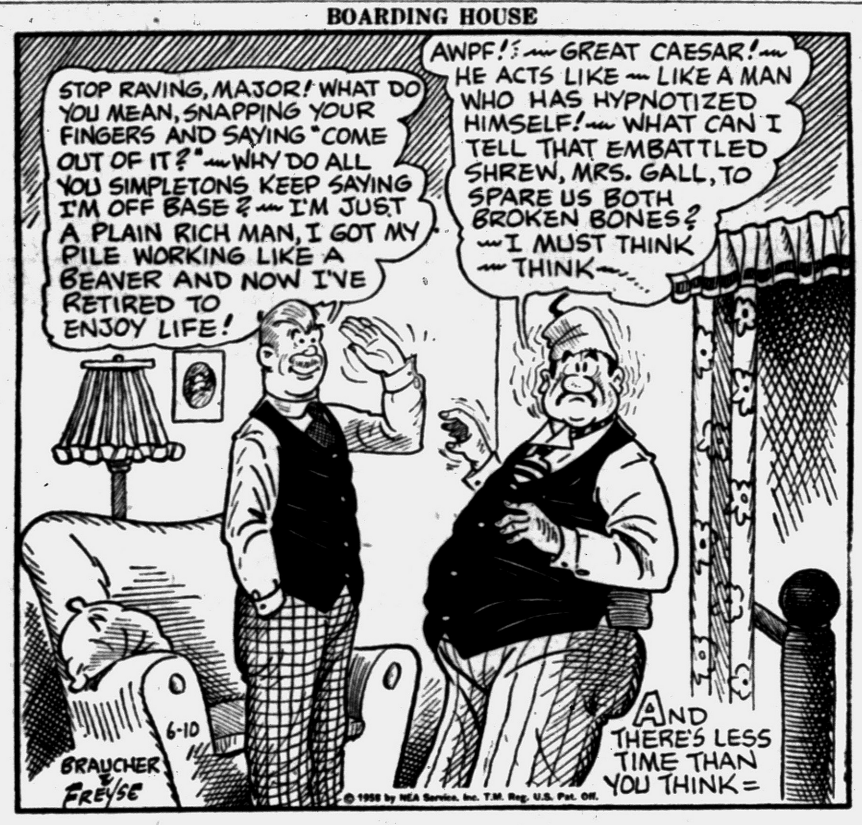

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 14-year-old boy got into new trouble on his way to see a Juvenile Court officer about some of his past actions. Police said he admitted stealing a car to get to the appointment.

Wheat Futures Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures were steady to firm in active two-sided early dealings today on the Board of Trade. Rye was steady and other grains showed indications of weakness.

Some dealers said there was fairly aggressive buying of wheat as a result of a grasshopper scare in sections of the Great Plains and smaller offerings of newly-harvested wheat for sale to commercial channels.

The early weakness in corn and soybeans was ascribed in part to additional overnight rainfall.

Profit takers had lopped off the advance in wheat before the end of the first hour. At that time wheat was unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel lower, July $1.83¾; corn ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July $1.29⅜; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, July 61¼; rye ¼ higher to ¼ lower, July $1.25¼; soybeans ¼ to ⅝ lower, July $2.26½; lard 2 to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.12.

Elfrida Boosts Her '21' Jackpot Up to $248,000

NEW YORK (UPI)—Television's champion quiz money winner, pretty Elfrida Von Nardroff, breezed through questions on fictional romances and classical composers last night to run her earnings to $248,000.

The 32-year-old Brooklyn woman, who gave up her job as a personnel officer to concentrate on her quiz studies, added $10,500 last night during her 17th appearance on the National Broadcasting Company quiz show, "Twenty One." Last week, Miss Nardroff had raised her prize money to $237,000, thereby surpassing the previous record-holder, 10-year-old schoolboy science whiz Robert Strom.

Miss Nardroff's victim last night was Wolfgang Weissleder, a patent attorney and marine architect, who was unable to answer two of three questions on fictional romances and one question on classical composers.

The attractive, brunette quiz queen meanwhile correctly answered her seven questions in those categories to defeat Weissleder 21-0. A second match, between Miss Nardroff and Herbert Hulse, a Goldsboro, N.C., bank clerk and lawyer, was postponed until next week when time ran out with the champion leading Hulse 10-0 in the category "England."

More Electric Ranges in Tennessee Valley

State Labor Office Holds Safety Drive

The Michigan Department of Labor is currently sponsoring a drive to ensure the safety of working people through the resumption of state-wide in-service training conferences.

Two such conferences were held recently for mercantile and industrial inspectors in Detroit.

Attending were Mrs. Grace Olsen, Pontiac area mercantile inspector, and William H. Sebring, Pontiac area industrial inspector.

These state inspectors plus representatives of other state agencies are working to try and inform mercantile and industrial firms in the Pontiac area and throughout the state, about the importance of maintaining new methods of safety for employes.

Market Mixed in Early Deals

NEW YORK (AP) — Mixed prices prevailed as the Stock Market opened actively and turnover slowed in early dealings.

Leading issues showed fractional changes.

Commercial credit was unchanged at 55⅛ on an opener of 10,000 shares and another 10,000-share block of General Telephone was sold at 48½, off ⅛.

No particular group action was discernible at the start and aside from the big opening blocks there was nothing much in the way of individual features.

Coppers, benefitting from higher prices abroad and also at the domestic custom smelter level, were an exception. Kennecott rose about a point. Anaconda added a major fraction. International Nickel advanced slightly.

Wisconsin City Marks Many World Holidays

The firm notes the Union of South Africa's Van Riebeeck Day (Apr. 16), for instance, and Japan's adult Day (Jan. 15), Burma's Martyr's Day (July 19), and Southern Rhodesia's Boxing Day (Dec. 26).

Auto Firms, Union Hold Off Bargaining

DETROIT (AP)—The auto companies and the United Auto Workers Union appeared today to have adopted a wait-and-see attitude in their negotiations on new contracts.

The union scheduled bargaining sessions again at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. No progress was reported from talks at all three companies yesterday.

Chrysler Corp. today handed out more disciplinary layoffs to Union stewards for alleged failure to follow work orders, but so far there were no reports of work stoppages.

Chrysler gave two United Auto Workers stewards at the Plymouth Body plant three-day suspensions and one steward got a one-day layoff. All three were charged with failure to work during the first hour of their plant shift.

The company yesterday disciplined 10 Union committeemen and stewards for similar violations of work rules laid down after the Chrysler-UAW contract expired June 1.

Theodor Heuss Flies to Chicago in Speedy Tour

DETROIT (AP) — Vigorous President Theodor Heuss of West Germany continued his speedy tour of the Great Lakes area today with a call on Chicago.

Heuss, 74, but showing hardly a sign of strain after a whirlwind trip around the motor city, was due to catch an Air Force plane at midmorning. Chicago was the next stop.

His 38-hour Detroit visit had ingredients of the hail-fellow well-met variety.

On a swift, daylong schedule yesterday, President Heuss saw the insides of huge automobile plants, hobnobbed with industry executives, admired Detroit's multimillion-dollar civic center and was dined in state.

Heuss also rode in some of the car industry's swankiest products and took a 35-mile side trip to Ann Arbor where the University of Michigan presented him its highest award.

University President Harlan Hatcher cited Heuss as a "profound scholar and a wise statesman" in presenting him an honorary doctor of civil law degree at a special convocation.

Trade Program Backed by Ike

President Makes Plea for Proposal as Vote Near in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders looked today to a plea from President Eisenhower to help them put across a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program.

They expected the plea, in the form of a letter to Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, to give them an edge of 20 to 30 votes in tomorrow's showdown balloting.

"We are getting stronger by the moment," Martin said, "but we are leaving nothing to chance."

Democratic supporters also urged Eisenhower to speak out, saying, "What is needed is a very personal appeal by you." The 28 Democratic House members added in a telegram to Eisenhower that "only your leadership, expressed in the most personal and forceful fashion . . . will enable all of us to achieve the successful passage of the bill."

One, backed by the President and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), would extend for five years from June 30 the President's tariff-cutting powers first granted in 1934 and extended 10 times since then. It has the support of a majority of Ways and Means Committee members and of a majority of Democrats. It would let Congress veto the President's actions in a tariff case by a two-thirds vote.

A substitute proposal, drafted by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) and backed by Republicans as well as many Democrats from coal, textile and oil areas, provides for a two-year trade program extension. It would transfer from the President to the Tariff Commission final power to decide when tariffs should be hiked to protect American business.

The outcome appeared to be a tossup when the House started debate yesterday, but administration pressure on wavering Republicans apparently swung the tide, at least temporarily.

Kraft Theater Going Off Air

Studio One to Fade From Home Screens; Other Shows in Doubt

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Advertisers, who determine so much about the nature of television, are turning cool to live anthology dramatic series. For example:

Kraft Television Theater (NBC) which recently marked its 11th anniversary on the air, will be missing from the home screen next September.

Studio One (CBS, Monday nights), which has completed nine years on television, also will be discontinued next September.

Matinee Theater (NBC, weekdays) will be shelved within a month.

At this writing, trade sources say Climax (CBS-TV, Thursday nights) either will be discontinued or drop to an alternate week basis next season.

What will take their places?

Two half-hour programs will succeed Kraft Theater. One will star Milton Berle. The other probably will be a Western.

Studio One will be replaced by a weekly film program produced by Desilu Productions, Inc. It will be a series of musicals, comedies, Westerns, dramas and you name it.

Matinee Theater which finally bowed to flagging sponsor interest, is expected to be succeeded by two half-hour soap operas.

It would be easy to shed a few bitter tears over the death of so much live television drama, for there is no question that live drama is generally superior to film on the home screen.

But fretting over the matter will not change the fact that next season will see relatively little of it on television.

The trend does not mean that the viewing public is tired of live drama or the networks opposed to it.

Rather, it simply means that a variety of advertisers for a variety of reasons choose to spend their TV advertising dollars on other types of programs.

Four Hearings on City Agenda

Another is on an assessment roll for a water main on the north side of Featherstone road from Kenilworth about 300 feet west.

The others are on intention to begin two graveling and grading projects, on Monticello avenue, Orland to Inglewood, and Tallahassee avenue, Inglewood to Sarasota.

Commissioners are expected to receive a recommendation by the City Planning Commission that two small streets be vacated north of W. South Boulevard. General Motors Corp. is asking for the action.

Cost estimates are to be submitted for the city's share in the proposed repaving of Telegraph road (M58) from W. Huron street to James K. Boulevard.

The total cost for the State Highway Department project is figured at about $45,000. The city share would be about $12,650, including $6,655 from special assessments and $5,994 from general highway funds.

Another special assessment project involving the installation of 17 sewer stubs along Perry street (M24) will also get under way tonight. It is estimated the stubs will cost $176 apiece, with property owners paying $3,006 and the city $300.

The stubs are to be installed in connection with the State Highway Department widening and repaving project.

Another Son of Bing Seen Altar-Bound

LAS VEGAS, Nsv. (UPI)—Philip Crosby, son of crooner Bing Crosby squired a Tropicana showgirl around the glittering Las Vegas "Strip" today touching off reports that another of the Crosby clan might be altar bound.

Gossips were having a field day, but Philip, whose twin Dennis, found his wife Pat Sheehan, in the Tropicana show, was having none of the publicity game.

Neither was pretty, 20-year-old Sandra Drummond who had been young Crosby's date of late.

Philip in turn, shrugged and smiled when asked if there was a chance he might wed the showgirl, a contestant in the Miss California contest a year ago.

Observers of other persons' business along the glamorous string of resort hotels which line the highway coming into this gambling resort reported Philip had been Sandra's almost constant companion since his arrival from college.

Friends said Philip, described as the "quiet" member of Bing's family met Miss Drummond six months ago when his brother Dennis was taking out his future wife, Miss Sheehan.

They said Philip carried on a telephone and mail romance from Washington State at Pullman, Wash., where he goes to college. After finishing final exams he flew here.

Associates said if the romance did bloom into something serious, the young couple would not have the troubles Dennis encountered when he wed recently between the acts of the Tropicana show. Both are Roman Catholics.

India Launches Plan to Improve Villages

CALCUTTA, India — As part of a giant plan to get rural people in India to revitalize their villages, a new settlement known as Piali Township recently was inaugurated about 18 miles from Calcutta. The chief idea behind the creation of such composite blocks is to discourage the tendency of villagers to settle in towns.

For obvious reasons many people living in rural areas migrate to towns and it was felt to be necessary to provide certain essential amenities and conditions, such as hospitals, schools, colleges, small industries, pure drinking water and electricity, in the rural areas also.

Churchmen to Be Tried

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) —Three Tabernacle men must stand trial on neighbors' complaints over cymbal clanging and horn blowing. The Rev. David Norcross, 30, of Bethany Tabernacle Assembly of God, and James W. Weaver, 22, and Roy L. Weaver, 25, Tabernacle evangelists, are charged with disorderly conduct in conducting their services.

Earl Has Mop-Up Duty After Paris Revolution

By EARL WILSON

PARIS — I always wanted to be a war correspondent and I timed my arrival in Paris perfectly — just when the revolution was over.

WILSON

But old war correspondents never die, they just drink themselves into a stupor, so there was work to be done. Making a mad dash through the city, I "discovered" federal cops were still lolling in their lorries at vital points — such as in front of Fouquet's bar—and that war had not interfered with romance. Young ladies occasionally lounged in the embraces of the handsome helmeted officers. Revolution, it is hell, as we say in la belle France.

"Did you get frisked?" I was asked by Darryl Zanuck who chanced to be swinging into the Hotel George V.

It seems that many people got a "police massage." But though I braved the cops out on the Champs Elysee, they ignored me. "You have to have a beret, a sweater and look dirty," I was informed. But the stores were closed for the revolution—or because it was Monday, I forgot which—so I had to go unfrisked. C'est la guerre.

"I leaned on mine real good," declared Ben Holt of Pan-Am Airways. "It's the only time we're allowed to honk our horns around Paris," he added (fearlessly).

A magazine published told me three of his photogs were hospitalized. The federal police observed proctocol in riot-breaking, he said. First they slug the photographers, then the city police, then the Senators, then the underdog group fighting a predominant group. That prolongs the rioting.

"They are good fun here, you don't get one very often, and you have to keep them going," is what the man said.

Vice Squad Tests Dice Used at Convention

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—There was a big crap game at police headquarters, but no money changed hands. Vice squad policemen were inspecting 600 pair of educated dice worth $1,000.

Lt. Robert Anderson said yesterday the dice were confiscated in the arrest of two men accused of bilking delegates to a convention here of $2,000 last week.

Anderson said the two arrested on a charge of operating a gambling game were Edward W. Lane 45, Highland Park, Mich., and Kenneth Scott, 31, of Gary, Ind. He said they carried an itinerary of conventions for the next few weeks in Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin.

Beneficiaries Must Pay Tax

Supreme Court Favors Seizure of Insurance Policy to Cover Levy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that the beneficiary of a life insurance policy may be compelled under certain conditions to pay the back income taxes of the deceased policy holder.

But the court held that government tax collectors may seize the insurance money only if they placed a valid lien against the policy holder's property during his lifetime or if state laws make his heirs responsible for his unpaid taxes.

Otherwise, the court said, the government cannot recover funds to satisfy its tax claims out of the proceeds of life insurance policies.

In another decision, the court held that the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) may properly delegate to its subordinate officials the authority to issue and revoke subpoenas. It acted in cases involving the Duval Jewelry Co., Miami, and the Lewis Food Co., Los Angeles.

The decisions were among the few handed down by the high court in an unusually light opinion day. The court originally hoped to recess for the summer today, but about 40 cases still await decisions.

It appeared likely the justices will have to remain in session for at least two more Mondays and perhaps longer.

Ten-Year-Old Sentenced for Killing His Father

LOVINGTON, N.M. (AP)—Paul Sims, 10, named as the killer of his father, was sentenced yesterday to New Mexico's Springer School for Boys for an indefinite period.

An inquest jury held that Paul shot and killed his father, William Hurschell Sims, 42, last Thursday. The sentence was handed down by Dist. Judge John R. Brand.

Denies He's Wed to Film Actress Suzy Parker

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Film actress Suzy Parker was reported getting along nicely toward recovery today from injuries suffered in a traffic collision which killed her father.

A new question of her marital status arose when Pierre de la Salle of New York City, who came here to visit her, told newsmen he was not married to the 25-year-old former fashion model.

"I have never been married to Miss Parker or anyone else," he said.

Newsmen were not allowed to question the actress. But hospital officials said that when she was brought to the hospital Miss Parker gave her name as Mrs. Pierre La Salle.

Draws 90-Day Term for Addiction to Dope

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Barbara Ann Burns, convicted of dope addiction, has been sentenced to the minimum mandatory term, 90 days in jail.

But her attorney appealed the sentence and she was released on $1,000 bail.

The 19-year-old daughter of late comedian Bob Burns was arrested in a Hollywood apartment last January. Municipal Judge Harold C. Sheppard said he believed her a "victim of circumstances" and bad companions.

Plane's Pilot Tells of Near Collision

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An American Airlines pilot said he was forced to dive his airliner yesterday when an unidentified military plane bore down on it.

Four passengers and two stewardesses were taken to a doctor's office after the plane landed at Municipal Airport but were not thought to be seriously injured. They apparently were thrown to the floor when the plane dived.

Capt. Don Regan of Chicago said he was flying over Staunton, Ill., about 35 miles northeast of St. Louis, when the other plane, which he said looked like a C47 trainer, approached from the left. Regan said the planes seemed to be on a collision course so he dived the airliner.

A Civil Aeronautics Administration officer said the incident was being investigated.

The Staunton area is used for training flights of Military Air Transport Service planes. MATS headquarters is at nearby Scott Air Force Base. Officials at Scott declined comment.
