All but Two

Liner Saved

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — All but two of 496 persons aboard were saved when the sleek white cruise ship Viking Princess was swept by flames that were still enveloping her off Cuba today.

Passengers reaching Miami said the disciplined evacuation of the ship smothered panic.

Latest reports said two persons died of apparent heart attacks but the other 494 persons aboard were rescued.

Some passengers said the 536-foot Norwegian vessel had been plagued by engine trouble through much of the seven-day Caribbean cruise.

The Good Friday fire apparently started in the engine room shortly after midnight and swept quickly through the ship.

ATTACH TOWLINE
A freighter today put a towline aboard the cruise ship, fire-blackened but still afloat off southeastern Cuba.

The Coast Guard said the flame-swept luxury craft was still burning but the Liberian cargo vessel Navigator reported it had the ship under control. It was not determined where the Navigator intended to tow the hulk.

The captain, Otto Thorsen, a 52-year-old Norwegian who has spent 37 years at sea, praised the passengers who were picked up after less than an hour in lifeboats by three rescue ships.

Millions Plan to Mark Easter

Holy Day Rites Are Set Around the Globe

By The Associated Press
Christians around the world prepare today to mark Easter with sunrise services and fashion parades in observance of the joyous holiday commemorating the Resurrection of Christ.

From the solemn splendor of St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City to thousands of lesser known places of worship in many lands, choirs will sing and people will gather to hear messages of hope for a better world.

"Easter, the greatest annual demonstration of the life force, should encourage us as we struggle for racial justice and human brotherhood," said the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, president of the Protestant Council, in an Easter appeal.

Along with millions of fellow churchgoers of Western Christianity, two million Greek Orthodox worshippers and five million others from Eastern Orthodox churches will celebrate Easter Sunday.

In this country, one dramatic pilgrimage ended at midnight in tribute to the day Christ died. Hundreds knelt and prayed as they climbed a long flight of stairs at the Immaculate Conception Church on Mt. Adams, overlooking downtown Cincinnati, Ohio.

Editor Discovers the Beauty of Simple Childhood Prayer

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last in a 40-part series by a famous and unknown person on how faith in God changed their lives.)

By GLENN D. KITTLER
Guidespots Roving Editor

The day had been long and difficult. My work had gone slowly, the telephone never stopped, the mail was full of bills.

Quite late, I decided I'd had enough and I headed for the bedroom. Through my weary mind passed the prayers and meditations which most often occupy my last minutes before falling asleep.

To night, I knew, they would not get much attention. I thought to myself, "Life was simpler when all I had to say was Now - I - lay - me - down - to - sleep."

Then I realized I had not given that prayer a serious thought in years. The realization amused me. I remembered how, when I was a little boy, my mother would pause at the door, just before leaving the room, and listen while my brother Leslie and I said the prayer aloud.

The prayer, then, had been a meaningless ritual to me. I had never tried to understand it. It was merely Mother's way of training us in the habit of prayer. Millions of children must recite that prayer each night without having the slightest idea what they are saying.

In the bathroom, as I put toothpaste on the brush, the words ran through my mind of their own accord. "Now I lay me down to sleep. I pray the Lord my soul to keep. If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take."

MAKES NO SENSE
I shook my head and said to the toothbrush, "It makes no sense. It's redundant."

Moments later, as I stretched out in the darkness, I said to the night, "Now I lay me down to sleep."

"Sleep." At some hour every night of my life, I fell asleep. Usually the process was enjoyable, though I didn't know why.

Perhaps the sense of accomplishment at the end of a day well spent or the sense of relief after a day badly spent. This had been a bad one for me.

a sudden, silent moment of pain-filled consciousness than death.

And what for me this night? I faced the fact that, though I hadn't brooded about it, I had become increasingly aware of time and of the hour when mortal time would end for me. I brooded about it now.

My next thought made me sit up — that prayer. Of course! It was that second line that had misled me. After all these years, I suddenly understood.

PERFECT PRAYER

Why, it was a beautiful prayer, a perfect prayer, and I might have realized this sooner had I not felt for decades that I had grown beyond it.

"Now I lay me down to sleep." Here I go, God, into the mysterious unconsciousness that baffles modern science but is apparently necessary for my health and productivity. I would not dream of a busy street without asking Your protection. Be with me now on this uncertain journey across the night.

"I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Let me keep my soul, God. If I offended You today, I am deeply sorry, and the only way I can demonstrate this is to make amends.

Let me awake in the morning, allow me the fresh start of a new day to become the person You want me to be. "If I should die before I wake," (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Foes to Get in Touch
With Headquarters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (P) — Buddhist leaders of all factions united tonight against the military junta of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and demanded an elected civilian government for South Viet Nam "in a very short time."

In a proclamation read at Buddhist headquarters, the leaders announced they had formed a committee to lead the struggle against the government and appealed to "all the people wishing to show their opposition to the government" to contact the headquarters.

The move came after Ky appointed Maj. Gen. Ton That Dinh to command the 1st Corps area in an apparent attempt to reassert his government's authority over the country's northernmost regions.

Dinh was one of the young officers who took part in the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

Thousands of Buddhists, who have been demonstrating in the streets for the past eight days, heard the proclamation in the Buddhist compound.

It ordered the disorders to stop and said the Buddhist headquarters would take over the burden of the antigovernment cause.

The most important point in the document was the apparent unanimity of Buddhist leaders who previously had seemed split over their attitude toward Ky's junta and the war effort against the Viet Cong and Communist North Viet Nam.

As 1st Corps commander, Gen. Dinh took charge of an area which includes the cities of Da Nang and Hue where the antigovernment demonstrations have centered.

Golfer Changes Color, Not His Luck

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Gary Player, who had to change his luck, but it does not appear evident. The little pro from South Africa surprised everyone at the Masters Golf Championships when he teed off at 11:19 a.m. today dressed in white instead of the moribund black he has worn on the golf tour for the past five years.

Player was eight strokes behind leaders Paul Harvey and Peter Butler after the mid-point cut yesterday, following rounds of 74-77-151.

It was recalled that when he won the 1961 Masters, the only foreign player to do it, he wore white. Afterward, on the tour, he changed to wearing all black,

Miss Theobald was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital. (See story, page A-2.)

U.S. Almost Lost
H-Bomb for Good

WASHINGTON (P)—The United States lost the elusive H-bomb a second time for nine days during the great 60-day search off Spain—and was in danger of losing it forever in a yawning undersea canyon, it was learned today.

The 1.1 megaton device, retrieved from 2,900 feet deep in the Mediterranean Thursday, had shifted two weeks earlier along a widening ravine to within a few hundred feet of a canyon—beyond the capability of retrieval equipment.

This exasperating development occurred when a one-inch-thick nylon line snapped as a surface vessel's whiplike dragged the bomb up a 70-degree slope toward level area.

The silvery, eight-ton bomb toppled 100 feet back into the underwater ravine and sank in the muck-filled bottom.

There it remained hidden until April 3 when the miniature sub Alvin, after repeated groping about the black depths, sighted a piece of the weapon's parachute protruding from the mud.

Two Report 'Saucer'
in Area of Frankfort

FRANKFORT (AP) — Flying saucer reports have popped up in the northwest corner of the Lower Peninsula after having died down in the Ann Arbor-Hillsdale area.

Sten Larsen, a Frankfort junior high school teacher, reportedly sighting an unidentified flying object Thursday night between Frankfort and nearby Beulah.

Larsen's teen-aged son, Timothy, backed up his father's story.

Larsen described the object as two car lengths in width and said it had a cigar profile, with red lights at the ends and green lights inside.

The object hovered, Larsen reported, as he stopped his car and got out. He reported it made a "whish" noise.

For a time he said it flew along ahead of his car, then came back toward it, and finally appeared to settle over a rise.

Larsen notified State Police, who checked the area Thursday night and again yesterday without finding anything. Larsen said, however, police determined there had been no airplane in the area at the time.

Many Watch as Man Is Knifed in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — More than a dozen people stood by yesterday as a Detroit man was assaulted, stabbed and robbed of $100 by two thugs on a busy downtown street.

"I don't expect people to run out and engage two people with knives," said Edwin Aaronoff. "But they could call the police."

Aaronoff, about 55, was treated at a hospital for two stab wounds in the leg. He is publicly director of Motown Records, a rock 'n' roll record company.

He said he was walking on West Grand Boulevard when he was approached by two men.

"The two looked tough," he said, "and they glanced at me

Say Pre-Easter Business Good

Merchants Are Happy Despite Bad Weather

Although pre-Easter weather has had little to offer local merchants and shoppers, dollar-volume business is up appreciably over last year.

Chamber of Commerce figures indicate Easter buying in the downtown area is up 10 to 20 per cent over 1965.

Dr. Paul C. Fineberg, president of the Merchants Association at Pontiac Mall shopping center, commented today:

"If we had received any cooperation from the weatherman, we feel this would have been a big banner year, businesswise."

"While dollar-volume is ahead of 1965, it isn't as high as we had anticipated."

ENTHUSIASTIC

Marvin Talan, head of the businessmen's group at Miracle Mile was enthusiastic.

"Certainly, the weather plays a tremendous part in Easter shopping, just as it does at Christmas time, but business out here has been excellent. None of our merchants have been crying," Talan said.

Robert Osmon, president of the Tel-Huron Merchants Association, said:

"The weather plays a definite part in determining the shopping habits of the American public, especially at Easter."

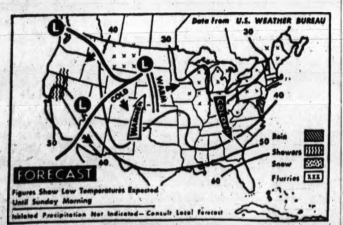

"If we'd have had two weeks of w.a.m., sunny weather, stocks would have been sold out. However, business is running well ahead of last year."

Lion Turns on Model in NY Show

NEW YORK (UPI) — The idea that a lion and a pretty maid make good publicity was shattered yesterday during a preview of the International Automobile Show.

A 225-pound, 2-year-old lion, prodded by sticks into a repeat performance of a publicity stunt, turned in anger on a young model and sank his teeth into her leg.

Three men holding the lion by chains tried to pull it away but the lion held on, raking at the model with its claws until a keeper pried open its jaws.

The model, Nell Theobald, 22, was admitted to Roosevelt Hospital for emergency surgery. Doctors reported her condition was satisfactory, but said she would require further treatment to repair the damage to her left leg.

Romney Slated to Address Leadership Confab at OU

The fourth annual Governor's Conference on Student Leadership will be held at Oakland University April 25.

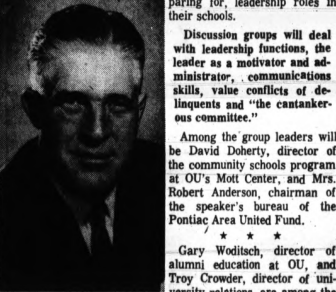

Gov. Romney is scheduled to speak at the afternoon session of the conference, designed for student leaders of Michigan high schools and their faculty advisers.

Sponsored by OU's Division of Continuing Education, the one-day program has been planned in cooperation with faculty and student leaders to offer instruction in the practice, theory and philosophy of leadership.

The conference will feature a keynote address by Dr. Harold Sponberg, president of Eastern Michigan University.

Gov. Romney, whose address is scheduled for 2:50 p.m., said that by offering this type of program "the university is helping provide the critical ingredient of our democracy — namely individuals who are not only willing, but able, to discharge effectively their responsibility as citizens."

True Beauty of Children's Prayer Found

I pray the Lord my soul to take," But Lord, if it is You will that during the night my body and soul separate, I ask now only that, in the words of Your Son, You will forgive me my trespasses and also that You will console anybody who may grieve for me. Let the body go to Arlington and may my soul go to You.

Now I began to feel it really hadn't been such a bad day after all and I grew impatient for morning. I wondered if I was ready for it. I have not fallen asleep since without saying that prayer.

I say, of course, other prayers — the prayers of my church: they are beautiful prayers and express my sentiments in words far better than I could compose.

CRY OUT TO GOD

And frequently during each day I find myself crying out to God for help with some problem or that my work will go well or that the bills will somehow get paid or that an illness will pass or something I want will be granted.

But these are desperation and I have come to realize that each day presents its own, that life is somewhat like crossing a broad and busy street. These days the traffic does not terrify me nearly as much. For now I have retrieved the basic values in the prayer I said when I was young and life was simpler and all I sought was love.

50 in Brawl at Orion Hall

A brawl at the Gingsville Community Center, involving at least 50 persons, many of them using knives and lead pipes, was stopped by sheriff's deputies early this morning.

The fight ended when a deputy fired six warning shots into the air.

No arrests were made, according to investigating officers, because the participants ran to their cars and scattered in all directions after the shots were fired.

The free-for-all started after several carloads of party crashers arrived at the hall in Orion Township shortly before 1 a.m., deputies said.

The fight occurred at the rear of the Community Center at 3375 Baldwin.

GIVING PARTY

The party was given by LaVerne Rudd, 548 Pheasant, Waterford Township, for his brother who is leaving for the Army next week, according to deputies.

Rudd telephoned the Sheriff's Department when the fight started.

The department had investigated a fight inside the building three hours earlier.

Health Center Aid Bid Nixed

Loss Increases Burden for County Taxpayers

Oakland County's application for a federal grant of two-thirds of the cost of the proposed $900,000 South Oakland Health Center has been turned down, County Board of Auditors Chairman Daniel T. Murphy said yesterday.

Loss of the grant will not interfere with plans to proceed with the health center in Southfield, but will place more of the cost burden on county tax revenues.

The grant under the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1965 was rejected by the agency's Chicago office, Murphy said.

Had this grant been approved, it would have superseded a prior application by the county for a Hill-Burton federal grant for one-third, or $300,000, toward the cost of the facility.

Murphy said that the Hill-Burton application is still pending and its approval is expected.

"We had $600,000 earmarked for the cost of the project when the Hill-Burton application was filed," Murphy said.

Two factors were cited in the letter denying the grant which was sent to Sen. Patrick McNamara and forwarded to county officials.

One was that the proposed health center did not meet the multipurpose use standards of the agency administering the Housing and Urban Development Act grants.

The other cited the fact that the county's Hill-Burton application was still pending.

CLEAR INDICATION

Murphy said the application for the higher grant clearly indicated that the county was seeking this grant in lieu of the Hill-Burton aid.

He speculated that at least a portion of the funds denied the county health center would be earmarked for the antipovary program.

State Employee Named School Chief's Assistant

BIRMINGHAM—Paul N. Lehto of the Michigan State Department of Education has been appointed to the newly created position of assistant to the superintendent of schools, effective May 2.

In his new position he will be responsible for the evaluation of programs, research and development, and federal and state proposals. He will also be in charge of data processing for the district.

Lehto will receive his doctorate from Michigan State University in June 1966.

At a special board of education meeting held recently, Schools Supt. Dr. John B. Smith and Dr. William Corliss, director of elementary education, outlined the proposed boundary changes affecting Harlan, Evergreen and Greenfield attendance areas.

The boundary changes are being made to alleviate crowded conditions at these three schools.

The proposed changes also were discussed with parents at meetings this week.

In other action, the board approved a reduction of $69,482 from the contract for Covington Junior High School, and added $6,445.

The reduction was made in keeping with the board's decision last December to reduce the change orders by $100,000 to keep within the budget.

OK NEW COURSES

The board also approved offering a number of new summer school courses this year if enrollment warrants it.

The new elementary courses are creative dramatics, work shop, enjoying music, exploring current events, leadership development and adventures in learning.

Singleton Enters Race as Write-In

For the second consecutive City Commission election, Pontiac has an "official" write-in candidate.

Joseph Singleton, 30, of 365 S. Marshall announced yesterday that he would accept a draft and run as a write-in candidate in District 7 in the April 18 general election.

An 11-member committee reportedly headed by James Patterson of 485 Ferry has petitions containing 302 signatures.

Singleton's candidacy would make the April runoff the second straight general election with one official District write-in candidate.

In 1964, the late Emmett S. Wellbaum successfully ran as a write-in candidate.

STRONG THIRD

Singleton finished a strong third in the District 7 primary last month.

He finished behind the two nominees, incumbent James H. Marshall, 63, of 185 S. Jessie and former Pontiac Mayor Robert A. Landry, 51, of 47 Center.

In retracting his original statement that he would not run as a write-in candidate, Singleton said, "I feel that I have an obligation to those citizens who have worked so hard on my behalf, and other citizens who feel as I do regarding the problems which confront District 7 and the city."

'67 Budget Tops Agenda in Waterford Jaycees Offer Vote Bonus

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider a tentative $1,157,553 budget for 1967 as proposed by Supervisor Dorothy W. Olson.

The proposed budget is a 9 per cent increase over the current budget of $1,047,267.

The budget will be submitted to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board.

Mrs. Olson said she anticipates no increase in the township's present tax rate.

According to Mrs. Olson, the biggest increase in the proposed preliminary budget is for wages for township employees.

HEARING REQUIRED

Departmental heads must submit their budgetary requests by Aug. 1.

A public hearing is required by Nov. 1 prior to final passage of the budget by the Township Board.

In other business, bids will be opened for a new fire truck chassis, body and equipment.

A lot split request of Joseph Farnio for property bordering on Lochaven also will be considered by board members.

The arts center is to be located in the old city library at West Lawrence and Williams.

Louis H. Schimmel Jr., chairman of the "Get Out the Vote" drive, said, "The Jaycees feel that this possible donation of $700 to the arts center may be an inducement for voters to go to the polls."

Dr. Harold A. Furlong, arts center director, hailed the Jaycees proposal as a possible financial boost to the center and an excellent promotion of good government.

IN RECENT YEARS

In recent years the largest percentage of eligible voters to turn out for a general election was in 1964 when 48 per cent or 14,330 voters out of 29,804 eligible voted.

Pontiac has approximately 32,320 voters eligible to vote in the April 18 balloting.

COLLIDE HEAD-ON—James Mullins, 27, of Redford was going south on Telegraph near Ward yesterday, police say, when he approached two standing vehicles. As he slammed on the brakes, he lost control of his van, swerved and skidded 109 feet into the northbound lane. There he hit head-on a car driven by Philip Hampton, 33, of 3191 Alco, Waterford Township. Mullins was pinned in the van 20 minutes, while officers used pries and a wrecker to release him. Both men are hospitalized, neither in serious condition.

Stargazing Satellite in Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A 10-eyed mechanical astronomer named Orbiting Astronomical Observatory sped around the earth today packed with the potential to unlock a host of celestial secrets.

"This is a moment of history in astronomy," a project official declared.

After five postponements caused by weather and mechanical problems during the last two weeks, OAO rocketed from Cape Kennedy into a near-perfect orbit ranging from 502 to 496 miles above the earth.

Radio commands from the ground today were controlling the large satellite like a fine precision watch as its 10 telescopic eyes were gently positioned to stare at stars, the galaxies, nebulae and interstellar gases.

LOFTY ORBIT

From its lofty orbit, OAO can view stars from above the cloak of the earth's atmosphere, which blocks out radiation from many celestial objects.

The wave length, intensity and direction of interstellar radiation, is the basis for many calculations concerning how stars were created and what chemical elements are in them.

As the spacecraft rode on the wings of success, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration continued to study data filtering in on an ill-fated attempt by a Centaur rocket to ignite its hydrogen-fueled engines twice in space Thursday night.

Centaur project officials said the space agency was "looking very closely" at the data to see if any changes were needed on an even larger hydrogen rocket stage scheduled to blast off July 18 as the upper stage of a giant Saturn 1B rocket.

British Err in Crossing Irish Border

DUBLIN (UPI)—British troops crossed the Irish border last night for the first time in nearly half a century, it was reported today.

Informed sources said armored cars of the queen's Dragoon Guards accidentally entered the town of Clones in County Monaghan while patrolling the border between the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland.

The sources said the British turned back across the border as soon as they realized their mistake.

The British patrol was part of the stringent security measures in effect on both sides of the frontier as a precaution against extremist violence during Irish celebrations of the 50th anniversary of the Easter rebellion.

"HOT LINE"

Police chiefs on both sides of the border set up a "hot line" between Dublin and Belfast to coordinate action against any major outbreaks by the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA).

Explosions wrecked a telephone booth in Belfast early today. No one was injured, but police feared the bombing might be the first of a series of extremist acts.

Tens of thousands of Irishmen were heading home for two emotion-packed weeks of anniversary observances.

Airlines and shipping agents reported an unprecedented demand for space in Dublin as the nation prepared to honor the heroes of the rebellion with pageants, parades, drama festivals and orations.

Hotels, guest houses and private homes were packed with visitors.

Canadians Bolstering Dikes

WINNIPEG, Man. (U)—Canadian volunteers worked today to raise dikes to 31½ feet above the average winter ice level as the swollen Red River threatened to flood Winnipeg.

Officials predict the river's crest will reach 27½ to 29½ feet between April 16 and 24.

The Royal Canadian Air Force was expected to fly in an estimated 275,000 extra sandbags this weekend to bolster the dike operation.

At Emerson, 65 miles south of Winnipeg on the U.S. border, 185 soldiers and 70 volunteers worked to raise a dike to seven feet above the river bank.

More than half of Emerson's 930 residents have been evacuated and the rest are expected to be gone by late today.

Almost all residents of Morris, 40 miles south of Winnipeg, have been evacuated from the town, which is surrounded by the flooding waters.

The True Easter Message: Christ Was Resurrected!

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In keeping with our policy of publishing guest editorials from time to time, our Easter Message has been written by Dr. Tom Malone, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church.)

By DR. TOM MALONE

When we consider the word "Easter" and examine the Bible on its teaching, we are surprised to find very little in the Word of God concerning the word. In fact, it is only used one time in the Bible and it has no reference to the resurrection of the Lord JESUS CHRIST.

The word "Easter" comes from the Greek word "pascha," which means "passover," so actually there is no biblical basis to connect Easter with the resurrection of the Lord JESUS CHRIST.

DR. MALONE

There is, however, much said in the Bible on the subject of the resurrection. In fact, forty times in the New Testament we find the word "resurrection" and there are seven instances in the New Testament where people were raised from the dead. The climactic one, of course, being the resurrection of the Lord JESUS CHRIST from out of the tomb.

A great basis for our brief consideration of the resurrection of Christ could be found in Matthew 22:23 where we read "The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection There were people in Jesus' day who said there is no resurrection. They made a twofold mistake, according to Christ, for in verse 29 of Matthew 22, Jesus said: "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God." Those who now deny the resurrection of Christ—the literal, bodily resurrection of Christ—make two mistakes. First, they do not know the Scriptures, and secondly, they limit the power of God.

While visiting the tomb called Gordon's Tomb and Gordon's Calvary, just outside the walls of the City of Jerusalem, we were told by a most brilliant and intellectual guide, who was also a great Christian, that upon the discovery of the tomb scientists made a chemical analysis of the dirt which had fallen through an opening in the stone to a tomb provided by JOSEPH of Arimathea in this beautiful garden near the site where Jesus was crucified.

This chemical analysis showed that no human body had ever decayed in this tomb. Remember, the Bible says it was a new tomb, so no one was ever buried there before Jesus. And, according to the scriptures, Jesus arose on the third day, so His body did not see decay or corruption in the tomb.

There is then no reason to believe that the body of Jesus was ever decayed in the tomb of the kind, well-to-do friend who provided a place of burial for Him. The resurrection of Jesus Christ is one of the great basic fundamental doctrines of the Gospel.

In I Corinthians 15:3-4 we read, "For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that CHRIST died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that he was buried, and that he arose again the third day according to the scriptures." We see here that three great basics of the Gospel are the "Tree," or calvary; the "Tomb," or burial place; and the "Triumph," or the resurrection of the Lord JESUS CHRIST.

To translate the doctrine of the resurrection into everyday, practical application to the heart of the Christian, we find in John 20 that Jesus, after arising from the dead, overcame four great common enemies to man. He overcame the sorrow, represented by MARY standing without weeping at the tomb. He overcame uncertainty, and certainly the world is filled with that today. Uncertainty is represented by the statement of MARY MAGDALENE at the tomb when she said "I know not where they have laid Him." He overcame her frustration.

He overcame the third great enemy which is fear, for the disciples were gathered together in fear while Jesus was in the tomb. And He overcame, of course, unbelief.

The Bible says "He was delivered for our offenses, raised again for our justification." This is the Christian's true Easter Message.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

EASTER

"Jesus Christ is ris'n today, Alleluia!
Our triumphant holy day, Alleluia!
Who did once upon the cross, Alleluia!
Suffer to redeem our loss, Alleluia!"

The universally beloved and probably best known Easter hymn exists today because of the faith of many devoted persons, known and unknown. It has been translated, altered and improved until the music and words now give us the full magnificence of the first Easter. The original words were from a 14th century German and Latin manuscript. The authors are unknown. It was translated into English in 1686 by Nahum Tate in collaboration with Nicholas Brady. Practically nothing is known of Brady. Nahum Tate, although a poet laureate of England, was poverty-stricken most of his life. The first English translation appeared in the Lyra Davidica, London, 1706. The hymn took its present form in John Arnold's Hymnal, 1749.

The tune, stately and full of jubilation, has no recorded history or composer. It is simply known as an Easter Hymn. The second stanza gives us the full meaning of Easter.

"Hymns of praise then let us sing, Alleluia!
Unto Christ our heavenly King, Alleluia!
Who endured the cross and grave, Alleluia!
Sinners to redeem and save, Alleluia!"

Finding the Way:

Easter Is Witness of Living God

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

"He is dead," they shouted. "He is dead," mourned his friends. "He is dead," echoed Nietzsche. "He is dead," cry the searchers for some kind of faith in this century.

By every measurable standard in that day they were correct. He was dead. This was no fantasy, no suspended animation, no part in the play. He was dead.

DR. LOEW

This is why the miracle of Easter is exactly a miracle. It is the witness of the centuries that Christ is alive. It is the confidence that God is living.

It is the certainty that neither the tombs of stone, nor of cruelty nor of indifference can hold the life of God.

It is a strange thing that men have done with death. Many religions have regarded it as a friend, a way of escape from the evils of the world.

Sometimes, Americans seem to have done this. When there is a refusal to confront the meaning of death, making it until it looks as though it were only a sleep, death doesn't look like an enemy.

The death on the Cross was death, not sleep, and death itself is death, not sleep. This is the miracle of Easter, that death is overcome, that life is the ultimate.

That men should doubt this is not amazing. It is more astonishing that men should ignore this and thus miss the claims of life. It is more poignant that many who call themselves "religious" should keep the festival of Easter and miss the message of Easter.

In the records of that first Easter there was the question, "Why do you seek him among the 'dead'? He is living. It is the challenge to the contemporary Christian.

God is not dead; therefore he cannot be taken for granted. God is not dead; therefore we must expect to have him deal with us in the whole of life. God is not dead; therefore we must expect to meet him anywhere.

That's at the heart of the best of our educational efforts. It's at the center of confident working for peace. It's at the basis of our love of that which brings dignity and meaning to every human being.

There are tombs everywhere—graves that represent the death of hopes and faith and life. Our tragedy would be to take up our existence in the shadow of the tombs and be content with it.

Is that what we are meant to be? Or are we to be alive, refusing defeat?

"God is alive." That's not an easy Gospel. It's the Easter insistence.

Washington Notebook:

Aide Gets Last Minute Changes

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA)—White House press secretary Bill Moyers, addressing the National Newspapers Association, explained that he almost had to cancel out because President Johnson had changed his schedule at the last second.

"He has a way of doing that," continued Moyers. "Not too long ago he called me and said: 'Bill, I'm going to Honolulu.' I said 'Fine, Mr. President. I'll come over and talk to you about it. Where are you?'"

"He said: 'Over Los Angeles.'"

Rep. Robert Sweeney, D-Ohio, suggests that the dynamiting of Lord Nelson's statue in Dublin was merely a form of Irish urban renewal.

But to Rep. Hugh Carey, D-N.Y., the act was a bit more serious. "Imagine the Clan Na-Gael looking into George Washington's record and finding out that he was once in the employ of the British," he says. "Goodbye, Washington Monument!"

Reader Asks Questions on Viet Demonstrations

It is odd how demonstrations in South Viet Nam follow so closely the recent "get out of the war" demonstrations here. It is also odd that a "Down With U. S. Obstruction" sign figures so prominently in a news photo, with innocent children herded under it by their teachers, when hardly any of the people speak English. Who is this obvious bit of propaganda for? Are the Buddhists really Buddhists?

More Comments on Waterford School Needs

It was not Waterford educators, but a down-to-earth citizens' committee who investigated schools and made reports on the needs of our children. The bond issue did not affect taxes. Voting "no" to this is like biting off your nose to spite your face.

MEMBER OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

One fact apparently overlooked by the "no" voter or the "stay-at-home-and-gripe" voter is the welfare of the children in Waterford. Unless the bond issue passes in June, Waterford's two high schools will become overcrowded and students will be forced to attend split shifts. Already large elementary classes will reach a point where individual attention will be out of the question. Should the Federal and State governments curb their aid to education, cutbacks in many activities would be necessary and the children would be the ones to suffer. Elementary schools that now face the lack of gymnasiums, classroom space and library material centers will become more cramped for space.

MICHAEL D. KOWALSKI
973 CARLSLE

To the person who is "sick of the gimme in Waterford" campaign for more "no" votes, but think about this: When pressed by great increases in enrollment, a school system working within an unreasonable budget cannot maintain high standards of education. As the quality of education deteriorates, so does the community. Who will be laughing when the resale value of your house goes down?

Urges Support of the Waterford Boys' Club

According to the United Fund survey, there is no need for a Waterford Township Boys Club. With the increase in juvenile delinquency, I cannot understand how they could arrive at this decision. There is a great need for boys to find a more worthwhile outlet for their leisure time.

For $1 per year the boys can take part in all Boys Club projects, including sports, workshops, rifle training and conservation classes. These boys have a place to go for constructive recreation every week and the club offers companionship and a sense of belonging.

I am obligated to those citizens who have worked hard to organize and keep the Boys Club going and hope this project will continue to grow. The Waterford Township Boys Club adds additional funds to provide increased facilities and added personnel. I hope the leaders of the United Fund will change their opinion.

Last Call for Baseball Contest Bids

This is the final, concluding, ultimate and last word on the 1966 Press Annual Baseball Contest from which the winner will emerge in proud possession of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond in recognition of his skill in picking the top American League batter when the contest ends after the games Sunday, May 15. And along with picking the right hitter, our winner will also have either hit exactly said hitter's batting average or come closest to it.

The deadline for entries is Monday noon, April 11, and there is still time to go into action and get an entry to The Press before the boom is lowered.

Just read over the rules to be sure you're doing no wrong, especially to yourself, and think long and lovingly about the batter most likely to succeed in bringing home the bond to your address.

Then without further ado, to cop a cliché from practicing toastmasters, fill in the entry form (or copy) and—presto—you're in the contest.

CONTEST RULES

1. Everyone is eligible to enter contest except Press employees and members of immediate families (newspaperboys are not excluded).

2. All members of families may submit entries, but are restricted to one each.

3. LEADING BATTER must be the AMERICAN LEAGUE player, officially at bat 50 or more times, who leads the league at conclusion of games played Sunday, May 15.

4. Please do not enclose entries in envelopes. Attach them to post cards or cards of similar size, address to newspaper's Baseball Contest and mail or deposit in The Pontiac Press Huron Street drop box. (A bonus bond of $50 will be awarded the winning entry that fully complies.)

5. Deadline for entries is Monday noon, April 11, and they must be on hand at The Press. Those arriving later, even though carrying prior postmark, will not be considered.

6. Entries will not be disqualified should players chosen change clubs after submission.

7. Should one or more tie for the award, it will be split accordingly.

8. Decisions of judges will be final on all questions relative to contest.

Guests at Luncheon Remember Teachers

By Esther Van Wagoner Tuffy
WASHINGTON—At the luncheon given to honor the National Teacher of the Year, a lively conversation resulted from someone asking: "Do you remember vividly any one teacher during your early school days?"

The men at our table, to a man, remembered not some teacher who inspired them but rather a teacher they hated, usually for "unfair discipline."

Personally, I recalled the quiet ladylike person of Miss Blanche Avery, my high school English teacher in Pontiac, who encouraged me to write.

Once I wrote a rave-piece about the glories of a sunset which must have amused Miss Avery because she wrote across the top, "the sun sets in the West, not the East."

My Miss Avery was the same kind of inspiring teacher as Mona Dayton, of Tucson, Ariz., who was honored by the President this week. He presented her with the national teacher's award and then congratulated her for putting wonder into learning for six-year-old minds.

The President seemed pleased with the interruption of his crowded day and laughed over the book of letters from Mrs. Dayton's students to the Chief Executive.

This mother of four grown children has a simple philosophy about teaching which is most convincing when she talks about it. She said: "I try to teach the children to observe and then talk about what they observe" and added "a child must be made to feel successful to stimulate his excitement to learn."

Discipline doesn't worry her although she teaches children from varied cultures, Mexicans, Indians, as well as Caucasians. She often makes the culprit "play teacher" and dish out his own punishment.

The Teacher of the Year is selected by Look Magazine and the Council of State School Officers.

There's something new on the Washington sightseer tours: the statue of Sir Winston Churchill adjacent to the British Embassy on Massachusetts Avenue. The April 9th dedication marked the third anniversary of the grant of honorary U.S. citizenship to Sir Winston.

It is perhaps the most historic international statue because the 4-foot bronze figure rests half on American and half on British soil of the embassy. Beneath the statue is a relief of Sir Winston's birthplace, Bloomsbury, and from Brooklyn, N.Y., the birthplace of his mother, Jennie Jerome.

The Marine Corps had a special reason for rejoicing at the invitation to play at the dedication. They knew Sir Winston had a special affection for the red-uniformed band and proved it once in Boston in 1946 by singing all the words of the Marine hymn, roaring out "From the Halls of Montezuma..."

The statue is a gift of the Washington members of the English Speaking Union and is the work of William M. McVey of Cleveland, Ohio.

A favorite weekend jaunt for many Washingtonians is a drive to the horse races and steeplechases in nearby Virginia. One of the most historic is the Virginia Gold Cup always held the first weekend in May on a beautiful natural course in front of an old Southern mansion.

The house has new owners, the William Clarks, who are friends of Michigan Congressman and Mrs. John Mackie, D-Flint, who live on a Virginia farm. Horse breeders, the Clarks have been accepted by the Southern gentry, who are not always interested in non-Virginians.

The Mackies are torn between attending the Gold Cup as guests of the Clarks and joining the Kentucky Derby, which unfortunately, runs the same Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. George Romney was in Pontiac yesterday to attend the First Congregational Church's annual Good Friday breakfast, a tradition with countless area residents. Before her inspiring talk on Easter's spiritual emphasis, the governor's wife met with Mrs. George Gaches of Moreland Street (left) and Mrs. Malcolm Burton, Mary Day Avenue, wife of the church's minister.

For Good Friday Breakfast

Mrs. Romney Is Speaker

A smiling but intense Mrs. George Romney brought a moving talk "Spiritual Emphasis on the Easter Theme" for the annual Good Friday breakfast at First Congregational Church.

"There is universality and yet individuality in the message of the Savior's death and resurrection," she said. "It must be universal, or it is of no value; but it becomes individual in that we each must choose to accept or to reject Christ in our own lives."

In an obviously meaningful sidelight Mrs. Romney mentioned, "Incidentally, we may have Bibles in our home, but if we don't read them, they might as well not be there."

LIFE OF SERVICE

Challenging Christians to a life of service, she suggested, "The more we give, the greater our capacity to give; the more joy and strength we extend to others, the more we have left."

Mrs. Romney pointed to history's constantly changing philosophies and touched on two areas of current interest: "I have great respect for science and sociology, but I resent with all my strength their seeming establishment of our standards of morality. God has given us the blueprint for rearing children in honor and righteousness. How can men, whose concepts change with each generation, decide what is acceptable for our young people?"

She continued, "And how can we, with our finite minds, even dare to judge, 'Is God dead? What arrogance!'"

Re-emphasizing the importance of charity, she continued, "We must see our Lord's seed for potential growth in each individual, whether that person chooses to accept or to reject God's light."

The Governor's attractive wife defined humanism as "... the ability to love one another as He loved us."

After attending church Sunday, the Romneys and older son Scott will host dinner for son-in-law and daughter, the Loren

Keenans, Brady Drive, and their youngsters.

Eastern Junior High School's Bell Ringers, directed by William Coffing, were well-received during the program, reverently offering several spiritual selections.

Participating in the morning's activities were: Mrs. George Gaches, Mrs. Malcolm Burton and Mrs. Eugene Carey.

Good Friday committee members, under chairmanship of Mrs. George Wasserberger, were: Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. Arthur W. Selden, Charles A. Wilson and Mrs. Charles Coppersmith.

Others were Mrs. Frank Dohner, Mrs. Cecil Bondurant, Mrs. James Absher, Mrs. Mason Rich, Mrs. Elwood Bigler and Mrs. Carmi Odell.

Poise Is Just a Mental Attitude

CHAPTER 18

Queens and princesses have it, so does Jacqueline Kennedy. But what is this elusive, mysterious thing known as poise anyway? I think it's a certain mental attitude which enables a person to exude an air of self-confidence in various situations, and handle those situations with grace, compassion and dignity.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who was famous for her ladylike bearing, was once asked if being wealthy were a guarantee for poise. She replied that many girls of the silver spoon set grow up sadly lacking in self-reliance and self-discipline, while girls of lesser circumstance, who are forced to develop their personal skills in order to get ahead, become outstanding examples of mature womanhood.

EXPERIENCE

Poise is the confidence which generally comes from being exposed to many experiences. If you can depend on yourself, you won't be afraid to face awkward situations, and each new trial gives you added strength.

Poise means different things to different people. To you it may mean the ability to talk to boys and other girls your own age without getting flustered; being able to converse intelligently with older people and hold their attention.

To your mother poise is the ability to be a gracious hostess, get along with the neighbors, and shine at the P.T.A. To a career girl poise is the ability to measure up to the job of her dreams, and be respected by everyone who works with her.

Most girls feel a little self-conscious when they enter a new school or go to a party where there are lots of new people. It's probably happened to you. There's a lump in your throat, your hands feel shaky, and you can't think of a thing to say. Everyone seems to be staring at you; you wonder if your slip's showing or if there's a smudge on your nose. And those boys whispering in the corner — they're laughing at you.

DON'T 'FIDDLE'

If you feel ill at ease, don't give yourself away by clutching your hands together or fidgeting with your hair. Pretend you're just about the most poised person in the world. Hold yourself erect, force a happy smile to your lips and try to find someone in the room who looks even more miserable than you feel — there's always at least one shy type in a crowd. Go right on over and talk to him (or her); gently bring him out by asking about his interests. And soon — wonder of wonders — you'll forget about yourself and all your worries.

Poise can be acquired. True, some lucky people seem to be born with it, but if you weren't, work hard to polish your poise. When you know you look your best and are creating a favorable impression, you feel much more assured and at ease.

In the next chapters we'll talk

Speaks About Camp

The Women's Literary Club April meeting was at Camp Oakland this week.

John E. Lee, program director, spoke to the group about the scenic 200-acre site where Girls' Ranch and Boys' Ranch are located.

about etiquette and good manners — knowledge of the social graces makes you poised, too. These chapters will give you a rundown of the other basic components in that born-to-the-purple feeling.

Poise is frequently acquired through a kind of osmosis. I don't know why exactly, but exposure to fine music, the performing arts (opera, theatre, concerts, ballet, etc.), museums, gallery exhibitions — what we call the finer things in life — makes people more self-assured.

You don't have to wander around in black tights and a dirty old raincoat to be an art buff, either. Some girls think that the look known as arty — long hair, dark glasses, etc. — is a guarantee of cerebral joys. Nothing could be further from the truth. These days, culture is available to everyone, so don't plead poverty. You have a radio, don't you? Flip the dial to that interesting discussion program, for a change.

Many museums don't charge anything, and a long rambling visit is perfect for a Sunday afternoon.

TRAVEL HELPS

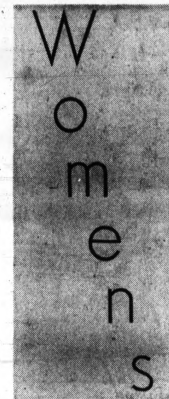

You know what they say about travel — it's broadening. In other words, it stretches your mind to see how others live. There are all kinds of inexpensive ways to travel — charter flights, student groups and tours; you don't have to go first class.

Think of it! Just a few hours away are the Rocky Mountains, little cobblestoned streets shaded by chestnut trees, cafes where you can sit and drink and dream. There are red rooftops glinting in the sun, bullfights, flamenco, and people — who live in different houses and eat different food and speak different languages, but who are basically very much like you. Wouldn't you like to know more about them?

You don't even have to go far from home to reap the benefits of travel. There are many interesting groups of people in this country whom you might learn more about. Just get off that street where you live — there's a whole big, wide, wonderful world out there!

MONDAY: More on looking poised and poised.

Mrs. Eugene Carey and Mrs. Earl Olsvig

Plan Easter Gatherings

Easter Sunday dinner is being planned by the Philip Rowstons of Spokane Drive. Coming from Olivet College will be the Alvin Cieshies and from Ypsilanti, the James Colandos with son Christian. Wilbur Rowston of Norton Avenue will join the family group.

Dr. and Mrs. Clare Johnson of Lake Angelus will be hosts at buffet dinner, Easter Sunday. Their children Jackie, Jari, Josie, Chris and Greg will hang Easter bunny cookies on a lighted tree for the table centerpiece.

Among the guests will be the Elmer Johnsons of Sechelt Street and the Floyd Fawcetts of Lake Oakland, parents of the hosts, along with the Jack Fawcetts, Birmingham, and the Foster L. Fawcetts of Elizabeth Lake Road, White Lake Township.

More are the George Woodys and Alan, Woodhull Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Lutz and Kerry, Union Lake; the John Pilkingtons and Linsey, Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sasso and Kim of Clarkston.

Dining with the George Pen-

tiuks of Hutchins Lane Drive, and their children Lou, Perry and Sara, Sunday, at Edgewood Country Club will be her parents, the James Hattans of Hammond Lake and Mrs. F. J. McCue of Liberty Manor.

Judge and Mrs. Cecil McCallum of Cherokee Road will spend Sunday with their son and his family the C. L. McCallums who live on Coventry Road.

The Francis J. McGintys of Crescent Point will celebrate Sunday with their two daughters and their families.

Mrs. McGinty reports she doesn't know which restaurant will get their patronage yet but the clan includes the James Houlihan of Warren with Patrick, Michael, Ann and John. Their other daughter and her family, the Robert Zimmermans of Royal Oak with Bobby, Richard, Marybeth, James and Nancy Ann, will complete the family picture.

How to Seat This Couple at Dinner

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I are giving a dinner party in honor of an engaged couple. I would like to know where they should be seated at table.

A: I know that ordinarily the male guest of honor is seated on the right of the hostess and the female guest of honor on the right of the host, but somehow it doesn't seem right to me to separate an engaged couple. Will you please advise me on this matter?

A: In ordinary circumstances an engaged couple do sit together but if you are giving a formal dinner for them, it would be best to follow the rule for guests of honor and seat the man on your right and his fiancée on your husband's right.

Q: My daughter is going to be married in church. However, she is not going to wear bridal clothes. She has chosen a simple afternoon dress and hat instead. I would like to know if it would be proper to send engraved invitations to a general list of friends and acquaintances to witness the ceremony.

A: Or, since she is not dressing as a bride, should the ceremony be restricted to family and closest friends?

A: Although engraved invitations do suggest a somewhat more formal wedding, there is nothing really improper about sending them.

However, I feel that for this sort of simple wedding, it would be more appropriate to send hand-written notes to members of the family and to the closest friends of the bride and groom.

Sylvanites Meet

New Sylvanites Club members attended a furniture refinishing demonstration recently at the Brown Brothers store in Pontiac. Refreshments at Ted's Restaurant followed the lesson. The next meeting will be April 21 at the home of Mrs. Edward F. McNamara, Beverly Road.

Voters Slate a Luncheon

Officers will be elected at the League of Women Voters of Birmingham-Bloomfield's annual meeting and luncheon April 20 in Birmingham Athletic Club.

The nominating committee's slate of officers will be: Mrs. Jack Bush, first vice president; Mrs. Jacques Passino, second vice president; Mrs. George Malone, treasurer; and Mrs. James Isham, Mrs. John Menon, Mrs. Robert Richards and Mrs. Edwin Roggenstein, directors.

Three directors to fill unexpired terms also are on the slate. They are Mrs. Lawrence Drogiewski, Mrs. John Hamilton and Mrs. Andrew Mezzy.

Continuing on the board for a two-year term will be: Mrs. William Reddig, president; Mrs. John Williamson, secretary; and Mrs. Leonard Beitlich, director.

Members and guests will hear a "State of the League" message by Mrs. Reddig.

COFFEE

Coffee will be served at 9:30 a.m., preceding the business meeting which begins at 10 a.m. Following a noon social hour, luncheon will be served at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Floyd Cocklin is in charge of reservations. Members have been asked to bring guests to the affair.

Calendar

MONDAY

Pontiac Council, United Church Women, 12:45 p.m., First Presbyterian Church.

TUESDAY

Dora B. Whitney Union, Women's Christian Temperance Union, 1:30 p.m., Bethany Baptist Church.

Frances Willard Union, Women's Temperance Union, 7 p.m., home of Mrs. L. W. Shafer of South Paddock Street.

Spring Roundup

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Metropolitan Club of Pontiac Street 4, discussed plans for the spring roundup in the Birmingham Community House at a recent meeting in the West Lake Street club rooms. Hostesses were Mrs. Henry St. John and Mrs. Evi Allen.

The delegates, Mrs. St. John who is president, and Mrs. Ralph Dean, recording secretary, will meet with national officers at the April 23 event.

The club's constitution and bylaws is coming up for approval at its third and final reading, at the May 3 meeting.

Why Grow Old?

An exercise a day will keep the sags away. We simply must exercise muscles if they are to remain firm and keep their tone. This is especially true after 40 or 50 has taken a good look at you.

Things to remember about exercise: Always start out gradually and build up slowly, perhaps 10 minutes the first day and slowly increase until you are exercising for 20 or 30 minutes, including short rest periods. Begin with the easier exercises.

Don't expect overnight results. It took a few years to get that roll over the girdle and the lax muscles and it will take a while to get back in shape. However, I am always amazed by how rapidly the body does respond to regular exercise.

Notice the "regular." That's important! It is more beneficial to exercise for 10 minutes every day than for 20 minutes twice a week.

Always have your heart and blood pressure checked before beginning exercises. Exercise to music. It takes the boredom out of it (the exercise). Wear comfortable clothes which do not bind.

ANY TIME

Exercise any time which is most convenient for you. Expectation when digestion is at its height. Try to plan for an exercise period not less than a two-and-a-half or three hours after a meal.

Today I want to give you a warming up exercise. It is also mildly reducing to the abdomen. Stand tall with the abdomen pulled in, the spine straight and the hips tucked under. As you swing your arms forward-upward to an overhead position, raise the left leg forward-upward as far as you can (and still keep your back straight). Lower arms and leg to starting position.

Next raise your arms forward-upward overhead as you raise your right leg. Alternate. Your knees should be straight throughout the exercise.

If you would like to have my "Six Introductory Exercises," send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for them. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

The engagement is announced of Stephanie Ann Hardenburg, daughter of Mrs. Carmen Hardenburg of Spokane Drive and Clarence Hardenburg of Durham Drive, to James K. Kimmel. His parents are Mrs. Gladys Kimmel of Waldo Street and George Kimmel of Rochester. The pair who plan to wed on Aug. 20 will be juniors at Western Michigan University this fall.

Card Party Is Planned by Women

The women of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Drayton Plains, plan a "Luncheon Is Served" and card party at noon Wednesday in the church.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the St. Andrew building fund.

Mrs. Clark Easley is in charge of the afternoon. Assisting her are: Mrs. Burton Flook, Mrs. Bert Harvey, Mrs. Floyd Tunkin, Mrs. Walter Deacon and Mrs. Richard Morgan.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Easley.

A Decal Don't

Never apply an iron on decal to a new garment. A piece of cloth without first washing the article. For best results, all sizing and starch must be removed from the cloth.

Pours in the Rain

A teaspoon of cornstarch added to a cup of salt that you place in shakers will keep salt flowing freely in damp weather. Another trick that also does this is to add a few grains of uncooked rice to the salt.

Rust Remover

Rust stains sometimes give way to lemon juice. Just squeeze a little juice over the stain, let the garment dry completely and then wash in the normal manner.

Mrs. Parker P. Rockwell of Green Lake (right) steadies her arrangement "Industry" for the spring flower show to be staged by Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, in the Wright Kay Galleries, as Mrs. Paul Ziegelbaur of Franklin adjusts the base. Tangerine carnations, croton and papyrus leaves dramatize a woman's head of anodized molded aluminum. Mrs. Ziegelbaur's arrangement will depict the "Sleeping Bear Dunes."

Farm, Garden Show Theme

Wonders of Michigan

The Michigan Division, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, will stage its annual show "Michigan Wonderland" on three floors of Wright Kay's downtown Detroit store, April 27-28.

Flower arrangements and table settings will interpret industry, art, scenery and culture in the colorful spectrum of the displays.

A special feature will be tributes to Gov. George Romney and the Michigan State Legislature and to Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, WNGA national president.

Tribute to Michigan will be noted in interpretations of famed tourist attractions such as "Sleeping Bear Dunes," "Tahquamenon Falls" and "Sault Ste. Marie Locks." Table settings for a "Penthouse Supper Buffet" and an "International Tea" will express gracious living.

Portraying the state's cultural heritage will be such free standing arrangements as "Holland Tulip Festival," "Opening Night at the Fisher" and "Overture to the Opera."

An exhibit of handcrafted ceramics by John P. Glick of Farmington this year will also be integrated with flower and table arrangements.

Show chairman is Mrs. John D. Feiben of Dryden. President of the Michigan Division is Mrs. Clarence E. Maguire of Grosse Pointe Woods who was hostess at a tea reception and exhibit preview in her home.

Mrs. Marvin L. Katke of Kirkwood Drive is first vice president and Mrs. Parker P. Rockwell of Green Lake, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcelo Hernandez of Henderson Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Lydia, to Gregorio Cantu Ovalle of Mt. Clemens Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enrique Ovalle of McAllen, Tex. The wedding will be Aug. 20.

Weavers to Meet

The Detroit Handweavers Guild will meet at 1 p.m., April 15 at the International Institute, East Kirby Street, in Detroit.

Mrs. William Davie who learned the craft many years ago from "White Lightning" a member of the Navajo tribe, will demonstrate the use of a small loom with her own handspun wool.

Her exhibit will include rugs, mats and wall hangings, all in the Navajo tradition.

Visitors and members who are bringing guests may call Mrs. Clifford Alger.

The advisory committee is comprised of Mrs. F. Gordon Davis of Wing Lake, past president, Michigan Division; Mrs. Wilson McClellan of Birmingham, last year's show chairman, and Mrs. Frederick Stefanski of Dowling Road, 1964 chairman.

Area members of the flower show committee are Mrs. John C. Gailoun, Beverly Hills; Mrs. Charles Crane and Mrs. Frank Kussy, Birmingham; and Mrs. Newton Skillman Jr., Lake Angelus.

Others are Mrs. John Q. Nagel, Metamora; Mrs. Thomas Kilgour, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. William J. Ulenbruch of Dimondale.

Display windows at Wright Kay branches in Northland and Grosse Pointe will feature "Michigan Wonderland" exhibits.

Alumnae Busy in Readiness for April 30

Members of the Detroit North Suburban Alumnae Association of Alpha Delta Pi will be hostesses for Michigan State Day April 30 at the Village Woman's Club, Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Berne Jacobsen, National Panhellenic Conference Delegate, will be guest luncheon speaker.

Other guests will be: Maxine Johnston, regional alumnae director; Mrs. David F. Miller, province president; and Mrs. H. William Gilbert, state membership chairman.

The morning session will feature workshops as well as the presentation of the Jewel Degree.

Other highlights will be the 20-year reunion of the 1945-46 Beta Eta initiation class, University of Michigan, and the 18-year reunion of the 1956 Gamma Omega initiation class, Michigan State University.

Mrs. George Baird, of Birmingham is handling registration.

Hills Residents Come Home for Easter

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sylvesters returned home last week after two months of traveling on the ship, Concordia Sun, which took in every so many ports all over the Mediterranean. There were only 12 passengers on the ship. The Sylvesters were home just in time to celebrate Mr. Sylvesters' son-in-law, William T. Beresford's birthday.

It was also a special occasion to welcome Mr. Beresford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Beresford who had just returned from their usual winter stay at Vero Beach in Florida.

Other guests at the dinner party Mrs. Beresford gave to honor her husband were the James T. Beresfords and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sanders.

FROM SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Richardson Jr. returned from several weeks in Fort Lauderdale and also visiting Mr. Richardson's sister, Mrs. Donna Powell at Redington Beach, Fla.

The senior Mrs. Richardson also returned to her home with the Richardson.

Daughter Donna left for New York on Friday to spend the Easter holidays with a former classmate, Synnove Bay at the Montesonio School in Gstaad, Switzerland.

Daughter Diane left for Wilmington, Del. to visit friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith. On Monday Mrs. Richardson leaves for New York where her daughters will join her for a few days before returning home and to school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Judd have returned to their home after a month at Palm Beach. Daughters Nancy at Olivet College and Susan at the Connecticut College in New London, Conn. joined them for their Spring vacation.

EASTER PARTY

On Easter Sunday the junior Edward A. Proctors will welcome in their home the senior E. A. Proctors, the Woods Proctor family; the C.

W. Runnette family and Mr. and Mrs. Harland Walters.

Dr. and Mrs. Roy E. Hawkins will have their family for dinner in their home on Guilford Road. There will be daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Nettlemann from Ann Arbor, and son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Roy T. Hawkins with daughters Lysann and Gretchen.

Plan Show, Coronation

At the Wednesday meeting of the Pontiac Cinderella Club plans were set for the third annual spring style show.

Scheduled for April 17 at Bethune Elementary School, the event will feature the latest in fashion, hats and hair styles. The 4 p.m. event is open to the public.

At the same time, the annual prince and princess contest for teen-age boys and girls will be concluded with the crowning of successful contestants.

FACTS ABOUT PHARMACY

Your Neighborhood Pharmacist
IN ONLY 16 YEARS...

It's a fact: Seven out of every 10 prescriptions today are for drugs that were not even known in 1950—only 16 years ago.

How come? Research is the answer. What of the future? The pharmaceutical industry this year will invest over $300 million on more research. That's nine times as much as was invested in 1950. And 95% of drug industry research is industry-financed... only 5% is government-financed. Quite a record! Quite a success!

His Swinging Partner Puts Funeral March in Top Ten

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I know it is customary to play a loved one's favorite hymn at his funeral when he passes on. For my husband it would be, "Jesus Wants Me for a Sunbeam," which he loves to sing about 3 o'clock in the morning after a night of living it up.

But to commemorate his great love for dancing, would it be terribly wrong for me to have them play "The Woodchopper's Ball" at such a time?

ABBY: I have nine children... three from my first husband who is now deceased, three from his first wife (also now deceased), and three by my present husband.

I get $400 a month insurance, a little V.A. compensation, and I make pretty good money working out. My husband is an auto mechanic, and he should make good money, too, but he never seems to have any. When he does work for women, he forgets to charge them for it. He kept telling me he was keeping a car in shape for a guy named Steve. "Steve" turned out to be a waitress named Arlene. She came to his shop and dropped off four dozen brownies she had baked for him. I told him if he could work for brownies, I could keep all my own income. I'd like your opinion.

MAD: DEAR MAD: It seems to me that your playboy mechanic is working for both brownies and bunnies. Tell him to sweeten the family pot or you'll have to sweep him out of the house.

But hang on to your job. You have responsibilities that your husband seems unwilling to share.

Hughes to Sell 6½ Million Shares of Stock in Airline

NEW YORK (AP) — Financier Howard Hughes will sell his more than 6½ million shares of Trans World Airlines stock, making Wall Street history.

The stock-offering plan was made, yesterday through his wholly owned Hughes Tool Co. of Houston, Tex.

Hughes Tool owns 5,584,927 TWA common shares valued at more than $500 million and representing a 75.18 per cent interest in the airline.

The stock placed on registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission will be the largest block of stock offered by an investment banking syndicate managed by one concern.

Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., Charles C. Tillghast Jr., TWA president, issued a statement saying that "public ownership of the company, which has been an avowed objective of management since 1961, will remove any doubt that TWA will continue to move forward."

VOTING RIGHTS
The voting rights to Hughes Tool's TWA stock has been held since 1960 by trustees at the insistence of creditors who put up money for Hughes Tool to buy aircraft for TWA.

Hughes Tool has been involved in litigation with lenders and TWA management ever since, with Hughes himself remaining in the background despite efforts to get him into court.

Hughes ignored court orders to appear.

In 1960, Hughes Tool borrowed $165 million to finance purchase of jet aircraft. The lenders insisted that it give up voting rights of its stock to trustees who took over operation of TWA.

ANTITRUST LAWS
The lenders and the revamped management sued Hughes and Hughes Tool for $15 million, alleging violation of antitrust laws.

Hughes Tool came back with a $366 million counterclaim. Litigation in the case still continues.

Hughes has had phenomenal careers in movie making, airplane and missile building and finance, and has made headlines with plane crashes and Hollywood romances.

His industrial empire is estimated to be worth nearly $1 billion.

LBJ Asks Report on How U.S. Is 'Tooling Up' for Medicare

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson, pushing his health program another notch ahead, has called for a report on how the country is "tooling up" for the massive Medicare program which takes effect July 1.

But Johnson, in a letter to Health Secretary John W. Gardner, said he is "concerned not only" that the nation be ready to launch the program of medical and hospital insurance, under Social Security, for persons of 65 and older.

"We must take steps to provide the quality and quantity of medical care of which this nation is capable," Johnson told Gardner. "This requires better health facilities, more doctors and other health personnel, and better utilization of health personnel."

"It is imperative that we secure the new legislation which I have requested of the Congress — to modernize our hospitals and nursing homes, to train new types of health personnel, and to develop a partnership in health with the states and communities."

Johnson made public his letter to Gardner last night after signing into law a two-month extension, until May 31, of the deadline for senior citizens to enroll in the $3-a-month program of Medicare insurance for payment of doctor bills and other costs.

EXTENSION NEEDED
About 1.3 million people needed the extension, 16.8 million already having signed up.

In signing the Medicare measure, Johnson promised to ask Congress next year for across-the-board increases in benefits for 21 million Social Security recipients as well as a new program of federally financed dental care for children under 6.

Cambodian Says Thais Boosting Temple Force
PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — The government charged today that Thailand has moved reinforcements to the disputed Preah Vihear temple, increasing the Thai force there to about 700 men.

The temple, awarded by the International Court of Justice to Cambodia in 1963, was seized by Thai troops last Sunday and retaken Wednesday by Cambodians at the cost of five dead.

background for LIVING

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"My husband and I have always been intrigued with the brilliant colors and warmth of Mexico and the southwest," said Mrs. William Mitzelfeld.

"When we were ready to build our home, we tried to adapt this warmth and look to our mode of life.

"I guess you might call the results, Spanish-Contemporary."

Designed by Mr. Mitzelfeld, the adobe-colored brick two-story is found on Tartan Drive, Avon Township.

Massive double doors lead from the landscaped courtyard into the entrance hall, floored in quarry tile.

Examples of handmade furniture, typical of Old Mexico, spice the home's interior. The primitive finish on the sun-dried lumber is achieved by a technique developed during the Renaissance.

The Mitzelfelds' home will be among those shown on the 1966 Home and Garden tour sponsored by the Rochester Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Breakfast for two is served in the master bedroom before a crackling fire as an aura of early-spring-time brilliance pours through the window wall.

Reflecting the charm of a gracious hostess, Mrs. William Mitzelfeld pauses by the Polynesian chair in the foyer of her Spanish-Contemporary home.

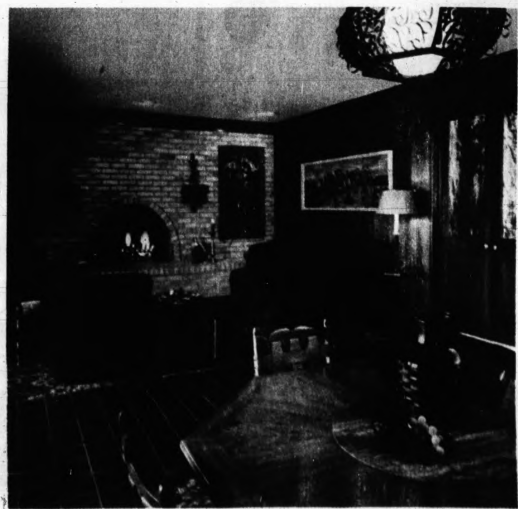

Pontiac Press Spectator by Edward R. Noble

The fun-oriented game room serves as a social center for the Mitzelfelds' sons, Monty, 16, and Bradley, 14, both of whom join their father as avid pool enthusiasts. Illuminating the pool table is an authentic Tiffany fixture. The art glass piece was found by the Mitzelfelds in an out-of-the-way shop during a New York buying trip for their Rochester department store. Permanent panels of flocked foil introduce an interesting texture change and brighten the pecan paneling of the handsome room. Custom-turned balusters screen the below-ground windows.

Accenting glamour and luxury, from its cathedral ceiling to its sunken tile tub, the master bathroom features a sliding glass window wall which opens onto a wood screened, private courtyard.

Distinctive beauty is added to the brick and walnut paneling of the family room by the rare, hand-carved walnut molding which was discovered and retrieved from an about-to-be demolished mansion.

Bad Weather Can Be Good

Buyer Braving Storm Means Business

Stormy weather - rain, snow or what-have-you-shouldn't discourage either the prospective homeowner or the family with a house to sell.

"Blue skies and sunny days are not the only times to show and sell a house."

Sometimes, stormy weather can be just as good - maybe even better," according to William Schuchman, manager of suburban homes sales for the large J. I. Kislak Organization in northern New Jersey.

Schuchman tells the family whose house is up for sale: "Don't worry about a prospective buyer's slightly muddy shoes in the hallway of your house."

"The man and woman who brave bad weather to look at your home mean business; they're not just browsing. They may well be your best prospects."

By the same token, the serious buyer may benefit by venturing out on a so-called "bad" day. As a rule, the buyer has a clearer field, less competition for a particularly desirable house.

The seller has more respect for him and is more likely to consider a reasonable proposal of purchase.

Just as there is no "best" weather for home buying and selling, Schuchman says, "real estate salesmen know there is no best season either."

Most companies sell just as many homes in the dead of winter as on the most pleasant spring day.

Nevertheless, Schuchman says 30 years of experience has led him to look for certain patterns in the unpredictable business of matching home buyers and sellers.

"A sunny Saturday," he said, "usually is advantageous. People come out to do necessary shopping."

"Once out, they also come into real estate offices to see what is available."

"Many people use their Sundays to visit friends, go to new places and to participate in various forms of recreation."

"Those who forego such pleasures to look at houses usually are serious buyers."

The aforementioned "bad" weather days bring out smaller numbers of house "lookers," but these are the best customers.

Small Fires Smothered by Blanket

Every 24 hours about 1,500 homes will be damaged or destroyed by fire.

Like auto accidents, many home fires could be prevented with the proper care.

However, practical means are often not readily available to put out small accidental fires, such as those originating in waste baskets, on kitchen ranges and in basement workshops.

Filling a void between a bulky chemical extinguisher and a bucket of sand is a fire smotherer blanket of pure asbestos fabric.

The non-woven fabric is made from a long fiber asbestos mined in Africa by North American Asbestos Corp.

The fire smotherer blanket is distributed by Midland Trading Co., Chicago.

While most fires originate in the bedroom and living room, a sizable number develop from carelessness with pots and pans, open fireplaces, outdoor barbecues and oily rags.

Because a non-woven asbestos blanket is incombustible, it is a useful safety item for smothering small fires.

PANELED HEADBOARD - Here's a good bedroom decorating idea - use an elegantly paneled wall in place of a headboard. Horizontally installed west coast hemlock panel boards stretch the room's width and give a silky smooth look. A lighting soffit, made from a single matching board, creates accent and provides good reading light.

Create Illusion of Spaciousness

Small Rooms Are Problems

Small rooms are a problem - not just because they are small, but also because they feel box-like and enclosing.

Nowhere is this so evident as in the modern bedroom, which is generally tiny in size and stifling in appearance.

Often these pint-sized sleeping rooms seem beyond redemption, but nothing is, really. It only takes a bit of imagination to create quite a change.

The best space-expanding tricks rely on both architecture and decorating. One excellent space-expander is to raise the roof, using exposed beams and wood decking to accent the ceiling's peaked line.

This has been a favorite trick of architects when coping with small rooms, and more and more builders are catching on to the idea.

Another special architectural trick is to set windows into unexpected peek-a-boos through walls.

This ruse has the effect of releasing the room to the outdoors, and usually works better than installing a full window wall.

Such peek-a-boos windows may be high, thin clerestories that follow the roof line, or they may be narrow floor-to-ceiling panels set into a corner.

To stretch a room's length and width, solid lumber panel boards may be installed horizontally on one or more walls.

In a bedroom, such treatment can be especially delightful, for the paneled accent wall can take the place of a headboard and thereby eliminate one visually bulky accessory.

The headboard wall can be paneled in any one of a number of exquisite western soft-boards stretch the room's width and give a silky smooth look. A lighting soffit, made from a single matching board, creates accent and provides good reading light.

Vertical grain boards are the most popular and create a setting complementary to virtually any style of furniture. They're seen as often in company with European antiques as with sleek, modern pieces.

Flat grain hemlock boards are frequently chosen to highlight a casual country atmosphere. Boards with a joint pattern may be selected as the setting for Colonial American furnishings.

WORKS WELL

The paneling works well as a headboard without additional accessories, but some may be used without in any way detracting from the wood's beauty or from the stretching action of the panel boards.

For example, reading lights may be installed on the headboard wall in sconces or in a single, long soffit that lies directly over the bed, extending the bed's width on either side.

An art collector may wish to display favorite paintings in a group on the headboard wall.

Ceiling Dull? Panel in Wood

What shape's your ceiling in? If plaster is cracked, paint is streaked and dull, or drywall sheets are splitting at the seams, it's time for aredo. But this time, try something that's not only beautiful but permanent.

Panel the ceiling with solid lumber, using easy-to-handle tongue-and-groove boards.

pine and ponderosa pine are best. Finished clear, their soft coloring will keep the ceiling light while reflecting a warm glow down into the room.

Now go one step further and add a deep cornice molding at the wall-ceiling joint to create a coved effect.

Choose the cornice in the same lumber species as the ceiling panel boards.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOB & SON

Just to increase the general difficulty the average bridge player has with defensive signals we come to the trump echo.

When you echo (play high - low instead of normal low-high) in a side suit you are either showing strength or an even number of cards in the suit.

The trump echo on the other hand is used to show an odd number of cards. The reason for this is that if you only hold two trumps you may not want to spare the higher one to show two but when you have three trumps you can almost always afford the middle one of three.

Here is a good example of the trump echo at work. East wins the heart opening with his ace and returns the ten of hearts (suit preference signal) as discussed in yesterday's article.

West ruffs his second heart and is careful to ruff with the five spot, not the three. Then he leads back the three of diamonds. South hops up with dummy's ace and leads a spade. East takes his ace and this time West drops the three spot.

He has completed a trump echo so that if East has been watching the spots as all good players should be knows that his partner holds another trump. East leads a third heart and West ruffs for the setting trick.

Just for the record, South could have made the hand if he had run out four club tricks and discarded the last two hearts from dummy but at course he wouldn't know that East was sitting with exactly three clubs and the lone ace of spades.

Kidnaping Suspect Is Ruled Insane

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A sailor charged with attempting to kidnap publisher John P. Scripps has been found innocent by reason of insanity.

Six psychiatrists who examined Guy M. Warriner, 19, testified he was insane when he boarded Scripps' yacht in San Diego harbor Sept. 21 and held Scripps at gunpoint while attempting to force him to take the yacht to Mexico.

Superior Court Judge Verne O. Warner handed down the ruling Friday.

Whooping Cranes Fly North to Canada Park

WASHINGTON (AP) — The whooping cranes have started their northward flight to nesting grounds near Canada's Wood Buffalo National Park.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said Friday 25 of the birds left the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas April 6. This included one group of 20, the largest single mass exodus of whoopers ever recorded.

The idea, he told a scientific meeting, is to intercept the blood flowing back toward the heart from the cancer site, cleanse it in the machine, and shunt it back toward the heart.

The drug used in the initial attack on the cancer site would have been injected into an artery taking blood away from the heart, so that phase would not present a safety problem, he indicated.

PATRICIA ENGLISH

Teen of Week Good in Music

A variety of musical accomplishments have led Teen of the Week Patricia English to consider a career in music.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles English, 364 N. Padock, Patricia is a senior at St. Michael High School.

She is a member of the St. Michael Adult Choir and the Drama Club.

As director of the student-organized "Spice of Life" variety show, Patricia helped raise over $200 for the Peruvian Mission of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

2. During the summer, he will host a CBS variety series, "Continental Showcase," featuring the top European acts in the Jackie Gleason time period.

3. He is beginning his third year as Thurston Howell III in the outrageously successful "Gilligan's Island."

4. He continues to bumble through various mediums as the myopic Mr. Magoo.

All this is very gratifying to Backus. Especially the money.

"It's nice to know that I am building up an annuity at long last," he reflected. "I figure 'Gilligan's' can go another two or three years, and then I'll be set for life."

"Those residual payments are good. Years from now, I'll be getting a piece of jade from China, a slice of blubber from Greenland, and various other payments from places where the series is still playing."

He is going first class on "Gilligan's Island," befitting his role as Thurston Howell III. Backus is the series' staunchest defender.

"We succeeded against some of the worst reviews of all times," he crowed. "They weren't reviews, really; they were character assassinations."

"What the reviewers didn't realize was that our show was a put-on. Critics were too accustomed to the Ozzy and Harriet-Donna Reed sort of thing; they took us literally."

Having pioneered the field, "Gilligan's Island" was struck this season by the king of the put-ons, "Batman."

"Overnight, we dropped from a No. 9 rating to 36," said Backus. "Batman was good for us; he shook us out of our complacency. Batman can't last. 'Gilligan's Island' will."

He is going first class on "Gilligan's Island," befitting his role as Thurston Howell III. Backus is the series' staunchest defender.

"We succeeded against some of the worst reviews of all times," he crowed. "They weren't reviews, really; they were character assassinations."

"What the reviewers didn't realize was that our show was a put-on. Critics were too accustomed to the Ozzy and Harriet-Donna Reed sort of thing; they took us literally."

Having pioneered the field, "Gilligan's Island" was struck this season by the king of the put-ons, "Batman."

"Overnight, we dropped from a No. 9 rating to 36," said Backus. "Batman was good for us; he shook us out of our complacency. Batman can't last. 'Gilligan's Island' will."

Junior Editors Quiz on LOBSTERS

QUESTION: Why does a lobster walk and not swim?

ANSWER: A lobster can swim as well as walk. He swims or walks according to the needs of the moment. Lobsters eat crabs or any small sea animals they can catch.

Their enormous front claws allow them to seize these small animals. Notice that one claw (A) is heavier than the other (B).

The big claw has rounded blunt teeth and is used to crush the prey.

With the smaller claw, which has sharper teeth, the lobster tears up his prey. Sometimes the large claw is on the right; sometimes on the left. The meat inside these claws is especially delicious to eat.

At night the lobster tips around on his four pairs of legs, keeping close to the bottom where he can pick up food.

But if discovered by an enemy such as an octopus, the lobster swims hurriedly backward as at the top, flipping his tail underneath him to do this.

During the day, the lobster usually hides in some crevice or in a burrow.

Now you can see why the feelers are so long; for the lobster holds these outside the burrow and waves them around: If they touch something that feels edible, the lobster jumps out and grabs it.

FOR YOU TO DO: Check on a lobster's anatomy the next time you see one in a fish market window. If you live in the country, look carefully in a shallow creek bottom and see if you can spot a crayfish. They are much like lobsters in miniature.

Minimum Reaction Measured

By Science Service
PASADENA, Calif. — The first direct measurement has been made of the minimum amount of energy necessary to produce a simple chemical reaction.

This achievement, by scientists at California Institute of Technology here, opens the way to a clearer understanding of chemical reactions and to solving some chemical problems.

It is expected to have far-reaching effects on research in university and industrial chemical laboratories.

To conduct the study, which is supported by the Atomic Energy Commission, a new kind of atomic "accelerator" was devised.

Future precise measurements using the Institute's technique should show whether bimolecular chemical reactions are described by the laws of classical mechanics or of quantum mechanics, now an unsolved puzzle.

MORE REACTIONS

The accurate figures that will be obtained in the future for the probabilities of simple reactions can be used to develop sound theories of more complex chemical reactions.

The key measurement was made by graduate student John Michael White under the direction of Dr. Aron Kupperman, Institute professor of chemical physics.

White showed that 0.33 electron volts of energy are required to initiate the simple chemical reaction of splitting a hydrogen molecule, which consists of two hydrogen atoms, and linking a deuterium atom with one of the hydrogens.

California had more elementary and secondary school pupils enrolled last year than any state. There were 2,711,000 pupils in elementary classrooms and 1,429,000 in secondary schools.

The Church of God, 296 W. South Blvd., will present the annual Easter program at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow.

An Easter pageant entitled "The Power and the Glory" will be given under the direction of Mrs. Webb Gray and Mrs. Robert Hardman.

MARIMONT

The combined Youth and Senior choirs of Marimont Baptist Church will sing John W. Peterson's cantata, "Hail, Glorious King," at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow. The 85-voice choir is under the direction of Philip W. Somers Jr.

Soloists include Mary Ellen Hill, Alice Cooper, Patricia Johnson, Borck Manning, Alan Somers, Rod Altwater, Davis Somers and Larry Gavette.

The Stockade group will meet for the Pinewood Derby at 7 p.m. Monday.

The youth Bible Quiz Team will be in Southfield April 16 for the quiz against the First Baptist Church of Gibraltar.

Serving on the bus committee next year will be Mrs. Leona Shemwell, Mrs. Helen Webber, Dick Stoddard, Claude Campbell and Al Tomanek. Michael Lemon serves as bus driver.

Members of the CYO Teen Committee of the North and South Oakland Deaneary are making final preparations for their part in the talks.

The discussions will center upon the application of teen-age energies toward a more meaningful and useful life.

An election of officers for chairman and secretary of the CYO Federation also will be held. Mary Barbera, secretary of the St. William Teen Club, Walled Lake, has been campaigning since her nomination several weeks ago.

A Candlelight Banquet and Delegates' Ball will climax the day.

Representatives on the Teen Deaneary Panel from the county are Deaneary Chairman Timothy Breen, president, Our Lady of Refuge Teen Club, Orchard Lake; Miss Barbara, and Thomas Burns, president, St. Bede's Teen Club, Southfield.

Also, Wanda Strzalkowski, secretary, St. Dennis Teen Club,

Royal Oak; Robert Puddy, president, Our Lady of the Lakes, Waterford; and Katherine Van Acker, athletic chairman, Our Lady of Refuge Teen Club.

Dennis Hackett, vice president, Our Lady of Refuge Teen Club, and Deaneary Secretary Nancy Murdy, publicity chairman, St. William Teen Club, will introduce the speaker and record respectively, during the morning group sessions.

Rabbi Ernst J. Conrad will officiate and Charles Wilson will preside at the organ.

Rabbi Israel Goodman will conduct concluding Passover services on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings at 4:45 and on Monday and Tuesday mornings at 7:30.

The Memorial Prayer (Yizkor) will be recited on Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. Students of the Religious School will conduct junior congregation services at 10 a.m. on Monday and Tuesday.

Three Services for Easter

Youth and Adults Sing for Worship

There will be three services of public worship on Easter at the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian. Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor, will preach on "The Other Side of Darkness."

The Westminster Choir composed of high school young people under the direction of Clarence Brown will sing at 7 a.m.

They will present "Lo, the Earth Is Risen Again," by Robert Williams and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," by Galbraith with Don Sanderson, tenor soloist. Tom Mehlerberg is organist.

The Chancel Choir directed by John Tousey will sing at 9 and 11 a.m. presenting "Christus Resurrexit," by Young and "Hallelujah Chorus," by Handel.

Fred Fuller, baritone, will sing "The Holy City," by Adams.

Mrs. Rita Coiman of Valencia, Venezuela, and Helen Tanenhill of Mexico City will be guests of the Orchard Lake Church on Monday evening for a "Conversation on the Church and the World in Latin America."

The Orchard Lake Church is interested in the ministry of industrial evangelism carried on by Rev. and Mrs. John Haxelton in cooperation with National Presbyterian Churches in Monterey, Mexico.

Members of the congregation have occasionally entertained students from the National Polytechnic Institute of Mexico when touring educational and industrial establishments in this country.

Rev. and Mrs. Auchard visited Mexican Churches in 1964.

Read About Jesus, Christians Urged

The American Bible Society, in accordance with its annual custom, is calling upon all Christians to join with family and friends at dawn on Easter Sunday in the reading of the Scriptural account of Jesus' death and resurrection.

The society suggests the reading of the 18th, 19th and 20th chapters of the Gospel according to John.

The society will celebrate its 150th anniversary in May. In honor of the anniversary, 1966 has been designated "The Year of the Bible" by churches all over the country and by the governors of most of the states.

The U.S. Senate has passed a resolution calling upon President Johnson also to proclaim the year in the same way.

Former Pastors to Speak

Church to Be Dedicated Easter Sunday

The Rev. Estel D. Moore, former pastor and now State Overseer for the State of Pennsylvania, will preach at the 11 a.m. worship hour tomorrow in the new Pontiac Church of God, 623 E. Walton.

The dedication service is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. with the Rev. C. R. Spain, assistant General Overseer, delivering the message.

Rev. E. E. Winters also a former pastor, will be guest speaker at 7 p.m. It was during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Moore that the five acres of land, once a pear orchard, was purchased for the church. Rev. Cheslie N. Collins, present pastor, has worked with the contractors and building committee on plans for the structure.

The inside walls of the nave are of pink brick like the exterior.

The chancel area is carpeted in avocado green. Other floors throughout the building are of brown floored tile.

The $250,000 building was designed and constructed by Calvin Co. in Columbus, Ohio. Assisting Rev. Mr. Collins with the plans were members of the building committee, Robert King, Bernard King and Bernis Shelton.

Plan Seminar for Women

Mrs. Covert Slated to Conduct Meeting

Mrs. J. C. Covert, Leadership Education chairman for United Church Women of Michigan, will conduct a seminar on leadership training for church women of the area Monday at 12:45 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church, Pontiac.

"The purpose of the seminar is to present a complete picture of the work of United Church Women and to show that it is not a duplication of, but rather it is over and above, that done at the denominational level," stated Mrs. Verdine Billings, Pontiac Leadership Education chairman.

The entire scope of the work of United Church Women included in the three main divisions, Christian World Missions, Christian Social Relations, and Christian World Relations, will be presented. Education for leadership in the organization means finding, enlisting and developing Christian women as leaders in a co-operative Christian enterprise in local, state and national areas.

Mrs. Covert attended training sessions sponsored by the national organization United Church Women Seminar in New York City last October.

There will be question and answer period after the presentation.

accommodations for 78 in the choir loft. The pews upholstered in a gold textured material are made of teakwood imported from Africa.

The baptistry is enlaced with cathedral glass depicting "Christ Praying in the Garden."

At Christian Temple

To Present Passion Play

The Passion Play entitled "The Glory of the Messiah" will be presented by Dr. and Mrs. J. R. MacMurray, musical artists of Trinity College in Christian Temple at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow.

The drama written and produced by Dr. MacMurray, depicts the life of Christ from His birth to His crowning as King of Kings. Dr. MacMurray also composed and arranged the musical scores.

The musician, former associate of Horner A. Rodeheaver, will portray Christ in the Garden of Gethsemane as he sings his own composition, "Is It Possible."

Scenes of Calvary will be reenacted with lightning and storm effects. Mrs. MacMurray will sing "Man of Sorrows" and "How Great Thou Art."

Mr. and Mrs. MacMurray will present a musical Easter sermon at the morning service. Dr. Lola P. Marion, pastor, said the public is welcome.

Easter at St. Mary's

Holy Communion will be celebrated at both the 9 and 11 a.m. services tomorrow at St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church, 2512 Joslyn. A sermon will be preached at both hours.

The educational unit is capable of taking care of some 400 Sunday School pupils. The building is air conditioned.

An intercom system permits someone in the office to speak to each room. The modern kitchen has banquet facilities for 225 persons. The church has a fulltime caretaker with a cottage on the church grounds.

The new church is the congregation of the Church of God, Anderson at East Pike. The former building was sold in 1965 to the Messiah Missionary Baptist congregation, now worshiping at Prospect and Paddock.

The Church of God had its beginning in 1821 when Pearl Watts conducted a series of revival meetings here. The church was formally organized in 1924 with 13 charter members.

For some time services were held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shipley, 329 Auburn. From there the group moved to a church building the members purchased at 306 Midway.

On Oct. 1, 1943, it was decided to purchase lots at Anderson and Pike. The congregation moved into the basement April 20, 1944.

OFFERS COMMUNION—Rev. Gus Tsompanas, pastor of St. George Greek Orthodox Church, offers Communion to his three children, Francine (left), Catherine and Emmanuel, as he will Easter Sunday. During the Communion service Pastor Tsompanas holds the dark red Communion cloth with the chalice while he offers wine in a silver spoon, to Francine who holds the cloth under her chin. The cloth will then be passed to Catherine and Emmanuel. Each member of the congregation receives Communion in this manner every Sunday.

Lutherans Mark Easter With Worship

Easter Festival services at Peace Lutheran Church will begin at 8 a.m. with the children's Sunday School hour. The Festival service will follow at 10:30 a.m.

The children's service will include readings, songs and a surprise film for the older children and adults. The Adult Choir will sing at the second service with an them, "O Morn of Beauty" and "The Strife is O'er." The sermon by Pastor Richard Feucht will be entitled "No Idle Tale."

SYLVAN LAKE
The Easter Vigil will begin at 11:30 a.m. today at Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church, 2399 Figa, Sylvan Lake with the procession of the Paschal Candle, the lighting of the congregation's candles, reading of the Scripture and renewal of baptismal vows.

The service is patterned after the Eastern rites of the church called Night Vigil. Robert Sheets said. At midnight altar cloths will be changed from black to white, lilies brought in, and the First Communion of Easter will begin.

The Eucharist will be celebrated again at 8 and 10:30 a.m. with Church School at 9:15 a.m.

INCARNATE WORD
Easter Sunday worship service will be at 8:30 a.m. for Incarnate Word Lutheran Church in East Hills Junior High School, Bloomfield Hills. Sunday School classes will not meet tomorrow. Pastor Robert Franklin announces a new series of adult information classes will start April 17.

United Missionary Schedules Revival

Elliott Nordgren, baritone soloist from Mishawaka, Ind. will be featured in the Easter revival Sunday through April 17 at the First United Missionary Church. He will present a concert of sacred music at 7 p.m. tomorrow. During the revival he will have charge of the music at 7:30 p.m.

Professor of music at Bethel College, Mr. Nordgren is studying voice at the Chicago Conservatory of Music. His background includes conducting the Elkhart Symphony and Bethel College Choir. He has directed various operas and oratorios. Pastor Kenneth L. Pennell will preach each night of the Easter revival.

The young man who has not shed tears is a savage, and the old man who will not laugh is a fool. — George Santayana, Spanish-born American author.

Easter Play at Oakland

Young people at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will present the play, "The Power and the Glory," by Mary B. Smith at the 6 a.m. sunrise service tomorrow.

Participating in the play are Pat Dewey, Nancy Mihay, Jack Webb, Bonita Williams, Paul ette Meredith, Laura Upton, John Osborn, Martha McCoy, Debra McKenzie, D. J. Upton and Ed Hupka. Bill Keyes is the director.

Music will include a piano prelude by Debra Rome, and a clarinet quartet composed of Diane Upton, Sue Moon, Amy Girst and Linda Peters. Linda Schultz will accompany the Youth Ensemble.

Mrs. Walter Napersky will prepare the sunrise breakfast to be served at 7 a.m.

The front of the sanctuary will be decorated with 70 lily plants which have been given in memory or in honor of relatives and friends. Identical worship services will be at 8:30 and 10 a.m.

The Senior Choir under the direction of Barbara Miller will sing "Easter Morn" by Plank and "King of Kings" by Mueller. Mrs. Ross Morton will sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" by Handel.

There will be two Sunday School hours at 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. The Senior and Junior High Departments have just begun an intense three-month contest.

The program, "Resurrection Links," will be presented at 7 p.m. by many young people. Special music will include a cornet solo by Bonita Williams, a violin solo by Barbara Miller, a vocal duet by John Osborn and Bill Keyes, and numbers by the Youth Ensemble.

Now that their local city tournament is completed, Pontiac area women bowlers can direct their thoughts to New Orleans and the annual Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament beginning there next Thursday.

The local women have supported the WIBC well through the years and those going this spring can anticipate a memorable time in one of the South's most colorful cities.

The tournament itself is at Pelican Lanes in suburban Metairie, an area that recovered quickly from the damage of Hurricane Betsy last summer to prepare for the WIBC's fifth largest tournament.

Two first weekend scores and from the second weekend held as winning totals in the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association Tournament that concluded last weekend at Howe's Lanes.

Amberwood Kennels of Pontiac, captained by Connie Lee Long, saw its 2938 total March 5 earn the coveted team championship of the 33rd annual city women's tournament.

More than 20,000 women and almost 4,100 teams will vie for the $214,828 prize fund (the second largest).

It was at last year's WIBC Tournament that Rochester's Laura Mead finished second in the all events to earn a trip to Guatemala City, Guatemala as a member of the United States women's team in the Inter-American Tournament.

This year's WIBC meet will run through Memorial Day. The prestigious Queen's Tournament will be May 23-27. The annual business meeting will be May 31-1.

Thursday night's opening ceremonies will feature ante bellum-costumed hostesses, Dixieland music, torch-bearing Flambeau Carriers in their live-ly march, and the usual official ceremonies.

Even if they're not present for the opening ceremonies, the local women will have much to see when they're not bowling. The French Quarter of New Orleans is a lost magnet, and many other attractions have developed around the Mississippi River port city.

Inadvertently, Gerry McCurry's name was omitted last week in a report about the Pontiac Elks Lodge senior girls team repeating as a Greater Detroit Junior Bowling Association tournament champion.

She and Judy Fields are the only newcomers on this year's list which includes Joan Waisanen, Joan Merriman and captain Carol McDermid.

The fact they repeated as champions this year makes their 1966 title even more impressive since very few teams over the years successfully defend any tournament championship.

The GDBA men's city tournament's Master event deadline for entries is next Saturday. Secretary Tom McKay reminds bowlers that a $30 fee is due with each entry.

Gary Hintz of Rochester currently has the lead in the GDBA Class A singles event with a 676 total.

Hazel Hudson, one of the sighted helpers in the Monday morning Blind Bowlers League at Huron Bowl, is still talking about her four split conversions one Monday.

Butler, Harney in Masters Lead

day the five 3-putt greens were his downfall.

After he birdied the 15th hole of the third round in the 1964 Masters, Nicklaus went 135 holes in the "red marker" situation.

On the score board, players are marked with red markers during the entire time they are in a sub-par situation. Once they are even or over par they are shown on the board in green markers, and when he bogeyed the 16th hole yesterday, the designated showed him with a green "0" meaning even.

The sleeper at this point in the tournament must be Sanders, currently the leading money winner on the tour and the winner of three tournaments this year.

Sanders, one of the most outspoken but one of the most careful-dressed players on the tour, came in with a 74 to go with his first round 70.

CASH SLIDES IN—Detroit Tigers' Norman Cash (25) slides into second base as Houston Astros' Joe Morgan leaps for a wide throw in the third inning of their game last night in Houston. The play started with Kaline grounding to the shortstop who threw the ball wide in an effort to get Cash. Kaline made it to first safely, and the Tigers wound up with the bases loaded in the inning but failed to score. Houston won, 6-4.

Tigers Beaten by Astros Despite Holding 4-0 Lead

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers blew a 4-0 lead Friday night to drop their sixth straight exhibition game and their second in a row to the Houston Astros, 6-4.

Outfielder Jim Wynn hit a three-run homer with two out in the eighth inning to win it for the Astros.

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — The bid of Detroit, Mich., to have the 1972 Olympics appeared about to lose out Friday to Munich, Germany.

Munich and Madrid, Spain have been considered the leading contenders and an informed source told United Press International that Madrid is considering withdrawing its bid because of excessive costs.

This would leave Munich virtually alone in the field. Detroit and Montreal, Canada, have not been heavily favored by Olympic planners.

The site location is expected to be announced near the end of this month.

The source said Madrid was backing off because it would have to build new streets and stadiums and in general spend more than $333 million to turn the city into an Olympic site.

Munich, meanwhile, has already started construction on stadiums and arenas and plans to renovate its streets and highways to take care of the traffic. In addition, a subway line, came in with a 74 to go with his first round 70.

In the second, Don Demeter opened a two-run rally with a double. Don Wert walked and both runners moved up on Jerry Lumpe's infield grounder.

SQUEEZE PLAY
Pitcher Mickey Lolich, the victim of Lolich's double, laid down a perfect squeeze bunt, sending home Demeter, and Dick McAuliffe followed with a single, scoring Wert.

Mickey Stanley, the rookie from Grand Rapids, sat out the game after a scrape on his right forearm became infected. Stanley scraped the arm in a diving slide in Thursday's game. It began to swell Friday afternoon.

The game completed the first year of operations for the Astro-dome, Houston's covered indoor stadium. A crowd of 22,941 brought attendance for all 11 events in the domed structure to 4,464,007.

Majors Have Dual Opener

By the Associated Press
President Johnson and the Cincinnati Reds will be trying to snap two-game losing streaks when the major league baseball season begins Monday with the traditional opening day program.

At Washington, the Senators will meet the Cleveland Indians in the Presidential Opener with Johnson, a tall, Texas right-hander with an 0-2 record in such affairs, the nominee to throw out the first pitch.

Meanwhile, the Reds will get their usual one-day jump on the rest of the National League, playing the New York Mets in the renewal of an opening game tradition that dates back to 1876 when Cherokee Fisher pitched Cincinnati to a 2-1 victory over St. Louis.

It's definite that Cherokee Fisher won't be on the mound at Cincinnati this time, and there's also the possibility that Johnson won't make the first pitch at Washington.

Johnson is in Texas for an Easter holiday and there has been no definite word about his plans for interrupting his vacation to attend the game. However, he might just want to take a crack at being a winner.

The only President in more than half-a-century who hasn't rooted the Senators to an opening day victory, Johnson also has put the Democrats in the hole in the 43 Presidential Opener since 1913.

The Senators have an 11-9 record with Republicans presidents in the stands and were 11-10 with Democrats on hand until Johnson came along and witnessed two straight defeats.

Pete Richert will try to get the Senators back on the victory side when he starts against Cleveland's Sam McDowell, the Sandy Koufax of the American League. The Reds, who also have lost their last two openers, probably will send fireballing Sammy Ellis against Jack Fisher of the Mets.

All but Two of 496 on Liner Saved

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — All but two of the persons aboard were saved when the sleek white cruise ship Viking Princess was swept by flames that were still enveloping her off Cuba today.

Passengers reaching Miami said the disciplined evacuation of the ship smothered panic.

Latest reports said two persons died of apparent heart attacks but the other 494 persons aboard were rescued.

Some passengers said the 536-foot Norwegian vessel had been plagued by engine trouble through much of the seven-day Caribbean cruise.

The Good Friday fire apparently started in the engine room shortly after midnight and swept quickly through the ship.

STILL AFLOAT

Coast Guard Search and Rescue Headquarters at Miami reported the hulk was still afloat and still ablaze today about 60 miles southeast of Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Coast Guard and Navy craft stood by the once sumptuous cruise ship, now just a wallowing menace to navigation; and a salvage vessel set out from Key West to take the Viking Princess in tow if the stem-to-stern fire doesn't sink her.

The captain, Otto Thoresen, a 52-year-old Norwegian who has spent 37 years at sea, praised the passengers who were picked up after less than an hour in lifeboats by three rescue ships.

Cool Showers Likely to Chill Easter Bunny

The Easter bunny may get his feet a little damp as he hops around tonight.

The weatherman predicts some light showers; snow or rain, early tonight. Skies will be partly cloudy tomorrow with temperatures a little on the cool side.

The mercury will dip to 35 to 32 tonight and climb into the 40s tomorrow. Cloudy, with occasional showers, is the outlook for Monday.

A brisk 29 was the low reading prior to 8 a.m. Temperatures had moved up to 43 by 1 p.m.

Millions Plan to Mark Easter

Holy Day Rites Are Set Around the Globe

By The Associated Press

Christians around the world prepare today to mark Easter with sunrise services and fashion parades in observance of the joyous holiday commemorating the Resurrection of Christ.

From the solemn splendor of St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City to thousands of lesser known places of worship in many lands, choirs will sing and people will gather to hear messages of hope for a better world.

"Easter, the greatest annual demonstration of the life force, should encourage us as we struggle for racial justice and human brotherhood," said the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, president of the Protestant Council, in an Easter appeal.

Along with millions of fellow churchgoers of Western Christianity, two million Greek Orthodox worshippers and five million others from Eastern Orthodox churches will celebrate Easter Sunday.

In this country, one dramatic pilgrimage ended at midnight in tribute to the day Christ died. Hundreds knelt and prayed as they climbed a long flight of stairs at the Immaculate Conception Church on Mt. Adams, overlooking downtown Cincinnati, Ohio.

Editor Discovers the Beauty of Simple Childhood Prayer

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is merely Mother's way of the last in a 40-part series by famous and unknown persons on how faith in God changed their lives.)

By GLENN D. KITTLER
Guideposts Roving Editor

The day had been long and difficult. My work had gone slowly, the telephone never stopped, the mail was full of bills.

Quite late, I decided I'd had enough and I headed for the bedroom. Through my weary mind passed a thought of the prayers and meditation which most often occupy my last minutes before falling asleep. Tonight, I knew, they would not get much attention.

I thought to myself, "Life was simpler when all I had to say was Now - I - lay - me - down - to - sleep."

Then I realized I had not given that prayer a serious thought in years.

The realization amused me. I remembered how, when I was a little boy, my mother would pause at the door, just before leaving the room, and listen while my brother Leslie and I said the prayer aloud.

The prayer, then, had been a meaningless ritual to me. I had never tried to understand it. It was merely Mother's way of training us in the habit of prayer. Millions of children must recite that prayer each night without having the slightest idea what they are saying.

In the bathroom, as I put toothpaste on the brush, the words ran through my mind of their own accord. "Now I lay me down to sleep. I pray the Lord my soul to keep. If should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take."

MAKES NO SENSE

I shook my head and said to the toothbrush, "It makes no sense. It's redundant."

Moments later, as I stretched out in the darkness, I said to the night, "Now I lay me down to sleep."

"Sleep." At some hour every night of my life, I fell asleep. Usually the process was enjoyable, though I didn't know why.

Perhaps the sense of accomplishment at the end of a day well spent or the sense of relief after a day badly spent. This had been a bad one for me.

LOVING SLEEP

My rambling mind inexplicably recalled Proverbs 20:13: "Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty. . . . Well, my long, difficult day hadn't added to my affliction, and I was loving the sleep that was ending it for me.

Of course, it is true that every night, people die during sleep. For others there is a sudden, silent moment of pain-filled consciousness than death.

And what for me this night? I faced the fact that, though I hadn't brooded about it, I had become increasingly aware of time and of the hour when mortal time would end for me. I brooded about it now.

My next thought made me sit up — that prayer. Of course I was that second line that had misled me. After all these years, I suddenly understood.

PERFECT PRAYER

Why, it was a beautiful prayer, a perfect prayer, and I might have realized this sooner had I not felt for decades that I had grown beyond it. . . .

"Now I lay me down to sleep." Here I go, God, into the mysterious unconsciousness that baffles modern science but is apparently necessary for my health and productivity. I would not dare cross a busy street without asking Your protection. Be with me now on this uncertain journey across the night.

"I pray the Lord my soul to keep." Let me keep my soul, God. If I offend You today, I am deeply sorry, and the only way I can demonstrate this to me is to make amends.

Let me awake in the morning, allow me the fresh start of a new day to become the person You want me to be.

Demand Vote for a Civilian Regime Soon

Ask All Government Foes to Get in Touch With Headquarters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Buddhist leaders of all factions united tonight against the military junta of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and demanded an elected civilian government for South Viet Nam "in a very short time."

In a proclamation read at Buddhist headquarters, the leaders announced they had formed a committee to lead the struggle against the government and appealed to "all the people wishing to show their opposition to the government" to contact the headquarters.

The move came after Ky appointed Maj. Gen. Ton That Dinh to command the 1st Corps area in an apparent attempt to reassert his government's authority over the country's northernmost regions.

Dinh was one of the young officers who took part in the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

Thousands of Buddhists, who have been demonstrating in the streets for the past eight days, heard the proclamation in the Buddhist compound.

ORDERED HALT

It ordered the disorders to stop and said the Buddhist headquarters would take over the burden of the antigovernment cause.

The most important point in the document was the apparent unanimity of Buddhist leaders who previously had seemed split over their attitude toward Ky's junta and the war effort against the Viet Cong and Communist North Viet Nam.

As 1st Corps commander, Gen. Dinh took charge of an area which includes the cities of Da Nang and Hue, where the antigovernment demonstrations have centered.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—The field was trimmed and the number of favorites narrowed to a particular few in the third round of the Masters golf championship at Augusta National Golf Club today.

It was a sunny day, but the winds were very strong as the first two — Bob Goody and Robert Murphy — teed off at 10:30 a.m.

A total of 64 players, including 11 foreign entries and 11 amateurs, made the midpoint cut, and in general most of the pre-tournament favorites were still in contention except for Gary Player.

Player did make the cut with 151, but was eight strokes be-

ATTACKED BY LION—Model Nell Theobald, 22, clutches her bleeding left leg after being attacked by a lion in New York yesterday. Posing with the lion for pictures as part of a press preview of New York auto show, she was petting the animal when it clawed and bit her on the leg. Miss Theobald was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital. (See story, page A-2.)

U.S. Almost Lost H-Bomb for Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States lost the elusive H-bomb a second time for nine days during the great 60-day search off Spain—and was in danger of losing it forever in a yawning undersea canyon, it was learned today.

The 1.1 megaton device, retrieved from 2,900 feet deep in the Mediterranean Thursday, had shifted two weeks earlier along a widening ravine to within a few hundred feet of a canyon—beyond the capability of retrieval equipment.

This exasperating development occurred when a one-inch-thick nylon line snapped as a surface vessel's winch dragged the bomb up a 70-degree slope toward level area.

The silvery, eight-ton bomb toppled 100 feet back into the underwater ravine and sank in the muck-filled bottom.

There it remained hidden until April 3 when the miniature sub Alvin, after repeated groping about the black depths, sighted a piece of the weapon's parachute protruding from the mud.

Larsen's teen-aged son, Timothy, backed up his father's story.

Larsen described the object as two car lengths in width and said it had a cigar profile, with red lights at the ends and green lights inside.

The object hovered, Larsen reported, as he stopped his car and got out. He reported it made a "whish" noise.

For a time he said it flew ahead of his car, then came back toward it, and finally appeared to settle over a rise.

Larsen notified State Police, who checked the area Thursday night and again yesterday without finding anything. Larsen said, however, police determined there had been no airplane in the area at the time.

"I hear you're impressed with The Pontiac Press, O Mighty Chief."

"Ugh."

"And you like the way it's delivered to your tepee with a good balance of local and world news."

"Ugh."

"And you're pleased with the way The Press has something for everyone in the tribe."

"Ugh. Chief, you say the nicest things."

All bravos and squaws should check Monday's paper for the following:

- A story recalling last year's tornado in Michigan.
- A wrap-up of the Masters golf championship.

Harney, a club pro from Boston, fired a four-under-par 68 yesterday and Butler, an outstanding golfer in British ranks, has a 71, thereby giving each of them a one-under-par total of 143.

Despite their midpoint lead, however, neither is considered to be a strong challenger to win the title and the coveted green coat which goes to the Masters champion.

Most of the big names were grouped at even par 144 or within close range.

Two Report 'Saucer' in Area of Frankfort

FRANKFORT (AP) — Flying saucer reports have popped up in the northwest corner of the Lower Peninsula after having died down in the Ann Arbor-Hillsdale area.

Sten Larsen, a Frankfort junior high school teacher, reported sighting an unidentified flying object Thursday night between Frankfort and nearby Beulah.

Larsen's teen-aged son, Timothy, backed up his father's story.

Larsen described the object as two car lengths in width and said it had a cigar profile, with red lights at the ends and green lights inside.

The object hovered, Larsen reported, as he stopped his car and got out. He reported it made a "whish" noise.

For a time he said it flew ahead of his car, then came back toward it, and finally appeared to settle over a rise.

Larsen notified State Police, who checked the area Thursday night and again yesterday without finding anything. Larsen said, however, police determined there had been no airplane in the area at the time.

Masters Field Narrowed to 64 Golfers

They include Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Don January and Doug Sanders, all at par, and Ben Hogan, Raymond Floyd, and Mike Souchak at 145.

Gay Brewer Bill Casper, Tom Jacobs and Jay Hebert are at 146.

THIRD MASTERS

Butler playing in his third Masters, gives himself more of a chance than do the experts.

He claims he plays his best when the winds are high and "this gives me an advantage because I am normally a low ball hitter."

"The winds are quite strong in England, but not as gusty as these have been," he said.

Many Watch as Man is Knifed in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — More than a dozen people stood by yesterday as a Detroit man was assaulted, stabbed and robbed of $100 by two thugs on a busy midtown street. "I don't expect people to run out and engage two people with knives," said Edwin Aaronoff. "But they could call the police."

Aaronoff, about 55, was treated at a hospital for two stab wounds in the leg. He is publicly director of Midtown Records, a rock 'n' roll record company.

He said he was walking on West Grand Boulevard when he was "approached by two men."

"The two looked tough," he said, "and they glanced at me."

Say Pre-Easter Business Good

Merchants Are Happy Despite Bad Weather

Although pre-Easter weather has had little to offer local merchants and shoppers, dollar-volume business is up appreciably over last year.

Chamber of Commerce figures indicate Easter buying in the downtown area is up 10 to 20 per cent over 1965.

Dr. Paul C. Finberg, president of the Merchants Association at Pontiac Mall shopping center, commented today:

"If we had received any cooperation from the weathermen, we feel this would have been a big banner year, businesswise."

"While dollar-volume is ahead of 1965, it isn't as high as we had anticipated."

ENTHUSIASTIC Marvin Talan, head of the businessmen's group at Miracle Mile was enthusiastic.

"Certainly, the weather plays a tremendous part in Easter shopping, just as it does at Christmas time, but business out here has been excellent. None of our merchants have been crying," Talan said.

Robert Osman, president of the Tel-Huron Merchants Association, said:

"The weather plays a definite part in determining the shopping habits of the American public, especially at Easter."

"If we'd have had two weeks of warm, sunny weather, stocks would have been sold out. However, business is running well ahead of last year."

Mrs. George Romney was in Pontiac yesterday to attend the First Congregational Church's annual Good Friday breakfast, a tradition with countless area residents. Before her inspiring talk on Easter's spiritual emphasis, the governor's wife met with Mrs. George Gaches of Moreland Street (left) and Mrs. Malcolm Burton, Mary Day Avenue, wife of the church's minister.

For Good Friday Breakfast

Mrs. Romney Is Speaker

A smiling but intense Mrs. George Romney brought a moving talk "Spiritual Emphasis on the Easter Theme" for the annual Good Friday breakfast at First Congregational Church.

"There is universality and yet individuality in the message of the Savior's death and resurrection," she said. "It must be universal, or it is of no value; but it becomes individual in that we each must choose to accept or to reject Christ in our own lives."

In an obviously meaningful sidelight Mrs. Romney mentioned, "Incidentally, we may have Bibles in our home, but if we don't read them, they might as well not be there."

LIFE OF SERVICE

Challenging Christians to a life of service, she suggested, "The more we give, the greater our capacity to give; the more joy and strength we extend to others, the more we have left."

Mrs. Romney pointed to history's constantly changing philosophies and touched on two areas of current interest: "I have great respect for science and sociology, but I resent with all my strength their seeming establishment of our standards of morality. God has given us the blueprint for rearing children in honor and righteousness. How can men, whose concepts change with each generation, decide what is acceptable for our young people?"

Re-emphasizing the importance of charity, she mentioned, "We must see our Lord's seed for potential growth in each individual, whether that person chooses to accept or to reject God's light."

The Governor's attractive wife defined human dignity as "... the ability to love one another as He loved us."

After attending church Sunday, the Romneys and older son Scott will host dinner for son-in-law and daughter, the Loren

Keenans, Brady Drive, and their youngsters.

Eastern Junior High School's Bell Ringers, directed by William Coffey, were well-received during the program, reverently offering several spiritual selections.

Participating in the morning's activities were: Mrs. George Gaches, Mrs. Malcolm Burton and Mrs. Eugene Carey.

Good Friday committee members, under chairmanship of Mrs. George Wasserberger, were: Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. Arthur W. Selden, Charles A. Wilson and Mrs. Charles Coppermith.

Others were Mrs. Frank Dohner, Mrs. Cecil Bondurant, Mrs. James Absber, Mrs. Mason Rich, Mrs. Elwood Bigler and Mrs. Carmi Odell.

Poise Is Just a Mental Attitude

CHAPTER 18

Queens and princesses have it, so does Jacqueline Kennedy. But what is this elusive, mysterious thing known as poise anyway? I think it's a certain mental attitude which enables a person to exude an air of self-confidence in various situations, and handle those situations with grace, compassion and dignity.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who was famous for her ladylike bearing, was once asked if being wealthy were a guarantee for poise. She replied that many girls of the silver spoon set grow up sadly lacking in self-reliance and self-discipline, while girls of lesser circumstance, who are forced to develop their personal skills in order to get ahead, become outstanding examples of mature womanhood.

EXPERIENCE

Poise is the confidence which generally comes from being exposed to many experiences. If you can depend on yourself, you won't be afraid to face awkward situations, and each new trial gives you added strength. Poise means different things to different people. To you it may mean the ability to talk to boys and other girls your own age without getting flustered; being able to converse intelligently with older people and hold their attention.

To your mother poise is the ability to be a gracious hostess, get along with the neighbors, and shine at the P.T.A. To a career girl poise is the ability to measure up to the job of her dreams, and be respected by everyone who works with her.

Most girls feel a little self-conscious when they enter a new school or go to a party where there are lots of new people. It's probably happened to you. There's a lump in your throat, your hands feel shaky, and you can't think of a thing to say. Everyone seems to be staring at you; you wonder if your slip's showing or if there's a smudge on your nose. And those boys whispering in the corner — they're laughing at you.

DON'T 'FIDDLE'

If you feel ill at ease, don't give yourself away by clutching your hands together or fiddling with your hair. Pretend you're just about the most poised person in the world. Hold yourself erect, force a happy smile to your lips and try to find someone in the room who looks even more miserable than you feel — there's always at least one shy type in a crowd. Go right on over and talk to him (or her); gently bring him out by asking about his interests. And soon — wonder of wonders — you'll forget about yourself and all your worries.

Poise can be acquired. True, some lucky people seem to be born with it, but if you weren't, work hard to polish your poise. When you know you look your best and are creating a favorable impression, you feel much more assured and at ease.

In the next chapters we'll talk

Speaks About Camp

The Women's Literary Club April meeting was at Camp Oakland this week.

John E. Lee, program director, spoke to the group about the scenic 300-acre site where Girls' Ranch and Boys' Ranch are located.

about etiquette and good manners — knowledge of the social graces makes you poised too. These chapters will give you a rundown of the other basic components in that born-to-the-purple feeling.

Poise is frequently acquired through a kind of osmosis. I don't know why exactly, but exposure to fine music, the performing arts (opera, theatre, concerts, ballet, etc.), museums, gallery exhibitions — what we call the finer things in life — makes people more self-assured.

You don't have to wander around in black lights and a dirty old raincoat to be an art buff, either. Some girls think that the look known as arty — long, long hair, dark glasses, etc. — is a guarantee of cerebral joys. Nothing could be further from the truth. These days, culture is available to everyone, so do please poverty. You have a radio, don't you? Flip the dial to that interesting discussion program, for a change. Many museums don't charge anything, and a long rambling visit is perfect for a Sunday afternoon.

TRAVEL HELPS

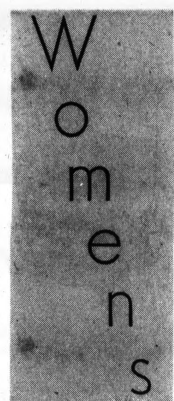

You know what they say about travel — it's broadening. In other words, it stretches your mind to see how others live. There are all kinds of inexpensive ways to travel — charter flights, student groups and tours; you don't have to go first class.

Think of it! Just a few hours away are the River Seine, rambling little cobblestoned streets shaded by chestnut trees, cafes where you can sit and think and dream. There are red rooftops glinting in the sun, bullfights, flamenco, and people — who live in different houses and eat different food and speak different languages, but who are basically very much like you. Wouldn't you like to know more about them?

You don't even have to go far from home to reap the benefits of travel. There are many interesting groups of people in this country whom you might learn more about. Just get off that street where you live — there's a whole big, wide, wonderful world out there!

MONDAY: More on looking poised and being poised.

Mrs. Eugene Carey and Mrs. Earl Oltesvig

Plan Easter Gatherings

Easter Sunday dinner is being planned by the Philip Rowstone of Spokane Drive. Coming from Olivet College will be the Alvin Cischkes and from Ypsilanti, the James Colandos with son Christian. Wilbur Rowston of Norton Avenue will join the family group.

Dr. and Mrs. Clare Johnson of Lake Angelus will be hosts at buffet dinner Easter Sunday. Their children Jackie, Jari, Josie, Chris and Greg will hang Easter bunny cookies on a lighted tree for the table centerpiece.

Among the guests will be the Elmer Johnsons of Seebaldt Street and the Floyd Fawcetts of Lake Oakland, parents of the hosts, along with the Jack Fawcetts, Birmingham, and the Foster L. Fawcetts of Elizabeth Lake Road, White Lake Township.

More are the George Woodys and Alan, Woodhull Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Lutz and Kerry, Union Lake; the John Pilkingtons and Linsey, Detroit; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sasso and Kim of Clarkston.

Dining with the George Pen-

tiuks of Hutchins Lane Drive, and their children Lou, Perry and Sara Sunday, at Edgewood Country Club will be her parents, the James Hattons of Hammond Lake and Mrs. F. J. McCue of Liberty Manor.

Judge and Mrs. Cecil McCallum of Cherokee Road will spend Sunday with their son and his family the C. L. McCallums who live on Coventry Road.

The Francis J. McGintys of Crescent Point will celebrate Sunday with their two daughters and their families.

Mrs. McGinty reports she doesn't know which restaurant will get their patronage yet but the clan includes the James Houllans of Warren with Patrick, Michael, Ann and John. Their other daughter and her family, the Robert Zimmermans of Royal Oak with Bobby, Richard, Marybeth, James and Nancy Ann, will complete the family picture.

How to Seat This Couple at Dinner

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I are giving a dinner party in honor of an engaged couple. I would like to know where they should be seated at table.

I know that ordinarily the male guest of honor is seated on the right of the hostess and the female guest of honor on the right of the host, but somehow it doesn't seem right to me to separate an engaged couple. Will you please advise me on this matter?

A: In ordinary circumstances an engaged couple do sit together but if you are giving a formal dinner for them, it would be proper to follow the rule for guests of honor and seat the man on your right and his fiancée on your husband's right.

Q: My daughter is going to be married in church. However, she is not going to wear bridal clothes. She has chosen a simple afternoon dress and hat instead. I would like to know if it would be proper to send engraved invitations to a general list of friends and acquaintances to witness the ceremony.

Or, since she is not dressing as a bride, should the ceremony be restricted to family and closest friends?

A: Although engraved invitations do suggest a somewhat more formal wedding, there is nothing really improper about sending them.

However, I feel that for this sort of simple wedding, it would be more appropriate to send hand-written notes to members of the family and to the closest friends of the bride and groom.

Sylvanites Meet

New Sylvanites Club members attended a furniture refinishing demonstration recently at the Brown Brothers store in Pontiac. Refreshments at Ted's Restaurant followed the lesson.

The next meeting will be April 21 at the home of Mrs. Edward F. McNamara, Beverly Road.

Voters Slate a Luncheon

Officers will be elected at the League of Women Voters of Birmingham-Bloomfield's annual meeting and luncheon April 20 in Birmingham Athletic Club.

The nominating committee's slate of officers will be: Mrs. Jack Bush, first vice president; Mrs. Jacques Passino, second vice president; Mrs. George Malone, treasurer; and Mrs. James Isham, Mrs. John Menon, Mrs. Robert Richards and Mrs. Edwin Roggenstein, directors.

Members and guests will hear a "State of the League" message by Mrs. Reddig.

Continuing on the board for a two-year term will be: Mrs. William Reddig, president; Mrs. John Willingham, secretary; and Mrs. Leonard Beitlich, director.

COFFEE

Coffee will be served at 9:30 a.m., preceding the business meeting which begins at 10 a.m. Following a noon social hour, luncheon will be served at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Floyd Cocklin is in charge of reservations. Members have been asked to bring guests to the affair.

MONDAY

Pontiac Council, United Church Women, 12:45 p.m., First Presbyterian Church.

TUESDAY

Spring Roundup

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Metropolitan Club of Pontiac Spirit 6, discussed plans for the spring roundup in the Birmingham Community House at a recent meeting in the West Lake Street club rooms. Hostesses were Mrs. Henry St. John and Mrs. Evi Allen.

The delegates, Mrs. St. John who is president, and Mrs. Ralph Dean, recording secretary, will meet with national officers at the April 23 event.

The club's constitution and bylaws is coming up for approval at its third and final meeting, at the May 3 meeting.

background for LIVING

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"My husband and I have always been intrigued with the brilliant colors and warmth of Mexico and the southwest," said Mrs. William Mitzelfeld.

"When we were ready to build our home, we tried to adapt this warmth and look to our mode of life.

"I guess you might call the results, Spanish-Contemporary."

Designed by Mr. Mitzelfeld, the adobe-colored brick two-story is found on Tartan Drive, Avon Township.

Massive double doors lead from the landscaped courtyard into the entrance hall, floored in quarry tile.

Examples of handmade furniture, typical of Old Mexico, spice the home's interior. The primitive finish on the sun-dried lumber is achieved by a technique developed during the Renaissance.

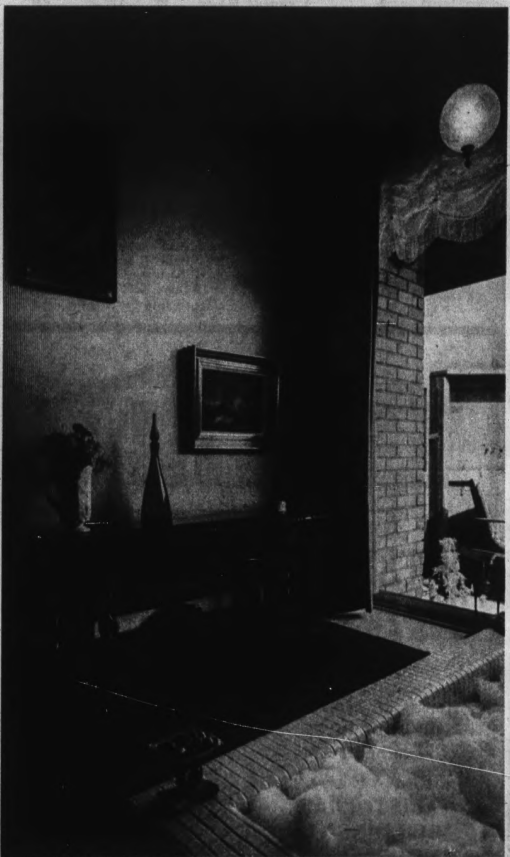

The Mitzelfelds' home will be among those shown on the 1966 Home and Garden tour sponsored by the Rochester Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Breakfast for two is served in the master bedroom before a crackling fire as an aura of early spring-time brilliance pours through the window wall.

Reflecting the charm of a gracious hostess, Mrs. William Mitzelfeld pauses by the Polynesian chair in the foyer of her Spanish-Contemporary home.

Pontiac Press Spectacular by Edward R. Nobs

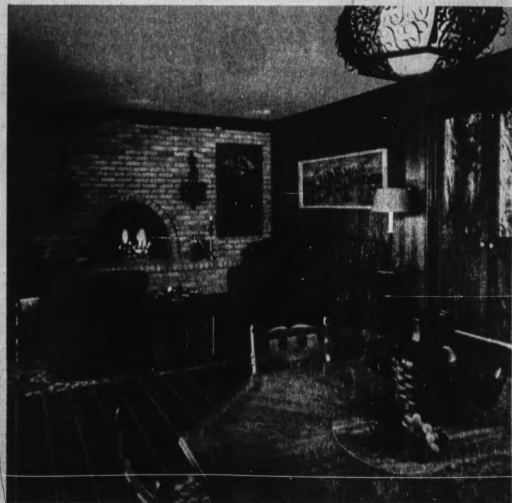

Accenting glamour and luxury, from its cathedral ceiling to its sunken tile tub, the master bathroom features a sliding glass window wall which opens onto a wood screened, private courtyard.

The fun-oriented game room serves as a social center for the Mitzelfelds' sons, Monty, 16, and Bradley, 14, both of whom join their father as avid pool enthusiasts. Illuminating the pool table is an authentic Tiffany fixture. The art glass piece was found by the Mitzelfelds in an out-of-the-way shop during a New York buying trip for their Rochester department store. Permanent panels of flocked foil introduce an interesting texture change and brighten the pecan paneling of the handsome room. Custom-turned balusters screen the below-ground windows.

Distinctive beauty is added to the brick and walnut paneling of the family room by the rare, hand-carved walnut molding which was discovered and retrieved from an about-to-be demolished mansion.

Room dividers may solve the problem perfectly.

Walls can be "shortened" or "lengthened," jutting columns concealed, and windows beautified by new see-through dividers that you can put up with just a screwdriver.

Dividers in effect let you create your own layout.

Ideal for those who move often and, therefore, must rent living quarters, this type of easy-to-assemble "wall" is a practical long-range investment.

DESIGN VARIETY

Screw-on panels are supported by floor-to-ceiling tension poles in a choice of traditional or modern designs and in several finishes.

Extensions are available to cope with high ceilings.

And when it's time to move in another year or so, your "wall" goes right along, without leaving any holes for landlords to complain about.

There are numerous ways decorative dividers can aid in solving furniture arrangement problems and saving money, too.

For example, suppose you have a long sofa and a short wall due to a badly placed dining "L."

With a single divider section, you can lengthen the wall and, at the same time, give the dining area a feeling of greater privacy.

Bad Weather Can Be Good

Buyer Braving Storm Means Business

Stormy weather—rain, snow or what-have-you—shouldn't discourage either the prospective homeowner or the family with a house to sell.

"Blue skies and sunny days are not the only times to show and sell a house."

Sometimes, stormy weather can be just as good—maybe even better," according to William Schuchman, manager of suburban homes sales for the large J. I. Kislak Organization in northern New Jersey.

Schuchman tells the family whose house is up for sale: "Don't worry about a prospective buyer's slightly muddy shoes in the hallway of your house."

"The man and woman who brave bad weather to look at your home mean business; they're not just browsing. They may well be your best prospects."

By the same token, the serious buyer may benefit by venturing out on a so-called "bad" day. As a rule, the buyer has a clearer field, less competition for a particularly desirable house.

The seller has more respect for him and is more likely to consider a reasonable proposal of purchase.

Just as there is no "best" weather for home buying and selling, Schuchman says, "real estate salesmen know there is no best season either."

Most companies sell just as many homes in the dead of winter as on the most pleasant spring day.

CERTAIN PATTERNS

Nevertheless, Schuchman says 30 years of experience has led him to look for certain patterns in the unpredictable business of matching home buyers and sellers.

"A sunny Saturday," he said, "usually is advantageous. People come out to do necessary shopping."

"Once out, they also come into real estate offices to see what is available."

"Many people use their Sundays to visit friends, go to new places and to participate in various forms of recreation."

"Those who forego such pleasures to look at houses usually are serious buyers."

The aforementioned "bad" weather days bring out smaller numbers of house "lookers," but these are the best customers.

PANELED HEADBOARD — Here's a good bedroom decorating idea — use an elegantly paneled wall in place of a headboard. Horizontally installed west coast hemlock panel boards stretch the room's width and give a silky smooth look. A lighting soffit, made from a single matching board, creates accent and provides good reading light.

Create Illusion of Spaciousness

Small Rooms Are Problems

Small rooms are a problem—trick is to set windows into unusual places, providing unexpected peek-a-boos through walls.

Nowhere is this so evident as in the modern bedroom, which is generally tiny in size and stifling in appearance.

Often these pint-sized sleeping rooms seem beyond redemption, but nothing is, really. It only takes a bit of imagination to create quite a change.

The best space-expanding tricks rely on both architecture and decorating. One excellent space-expander is to raise the roof, using exposed beams and wood decking to accent the ceiling's peaked line.

This has been a favorite trick of architects when coping with small rooms, and more and more builders are catching on to the idea.

Another special architectural

This ruse has the effect of releasing the room to the outdoors, and usually works better than installing a full window wall.

Such peek-a-boos windows may be high, thin clerestories that follow the roof line, or they may be narrow floor-to-ceiling panels set into a corner.

To stretch a room's length and width, solid lumber panel boards may be installed horizontally on one or more walls. In a bedroom, such treatment can be especially delightful, for the paneled accent wall can take the place of a headboard and thereby eliminate one visually bulky accessory.

The headboard wall can be paneled in any one of a number of exquisite western soft-woods. Tongue-and-groove hemlock, cut without pattern at the joints, is always a favorite for its rich but subtle champagne coloring.

Vertical grain boards are the most popular and create a setting complementary to virtually any style of furniture. They're seen as often in company with European antiques as with sleek, modern pieces.

Flat grain hemlock boards are frequently chosen to highlight a casual country atmosphere. Boards with a joint pattern may be selected as the setting for Colonial American furnishings.

WORKS WELL

The paneling works well as a headboard without additional accessories, but some may be used without in any way detracting from the wood's beauty or from the stretching action of the panel boards.

For example, reading lights may be installed on the headboard wall in sconces or in a single, long soffit that lies directly over the bed, extending the bed's width on either side.

An art collector may wish to display favorite paintings in a group on the headboard wall.

OFFERS COMMUNION—Rev. Gus Tsompanas, pastor of St. George Greek Orthodox Church, offers Communion to his three children, Francine (left), Catherine and Emmanuel, as he will Easter Sunday. During the Communion service Pastor Tsompanas holds the dark red Communion cloth with the chalice while he offers wine in a silver spoon to Francine who holds the cloth under her chin. The cloth will then be passed to Catherine and Emmanuel. Each member of the congregation receives Communion in this manner every Sunday.

Lutherans Mark Easter With Worship

Easter Festival services at the Peace Lutheran Church will be "Power and the Glory," by Mary in 9 a.m. with the children's B. Smith at the 6 a.m. sunrise service tomorrow.

Participating in the play are Pat Dewey, Nancy Mihay, Jack Webb, Bonita Williams, Paul-ette Meredith, Laura Upton, John Osborn, Martha McCoy, Debra McKenzie, D. J. Upton and Ed Hupka. Bill Keyes is the director.

SYLVAN LAKE
The Easter Vigil will begin at 11:30 a.m. today at Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church, 2398 Figa, Sylvan Lake with the procession of the Paschal Candle, the lighting of the congregation's candles, reading of the Scripture and renewal of baptismal vows.

The service is patterned after the Easter rites of the church called Night Vigil, Robert Sheets said.

At midnight altar cloths will be changed from black to white, lilies brought in, and the First Communion of Easter will be given.

The Eucharist will be celebrated again at 8 and 10:30 a.m. with Church School at 9:15 a.m.

INCARNATE WORD
Easter Sunday worship service will be at 9:30 a.m. for Incarnate Word Lutheran Church in East Hills Junior High School, Bloomfield Hills.

Sunday School classes will not meet tomorrow.

Pastor Robert Franklin announces a new series of adult information classes will start April 17.

Easter Play at Oakland

Young people at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church will present the play, "The Power and the Glory," by Mary in 9 a.m. with the children's B. Smith at the 6 a.m. sunrise service tomorrow.

Participating in the play are Pat Dewey, Nancy Mihay, Jack Webb, Bonita Williams, Paul-ette Meredith, Laura Upton, John Osborn, Martha McCoy, Debra McKenzie, D. J. Upton and Ed Hupka. Bill Keyes is the director.

Music will include a piano prelude by Debra Rose, and a clarinet quartet composed of Diane Upton, Sue Moon, Amy Gint and Linda Peters. Linda Schultz will accompany the Youth Ensemble.

Mrs. Walter Napersky will prepare the sunrise breakfast to be served at 7 a.m.

The front of the sanctuary will be decorated with 70 lily plants which have been given in memory or in honor of relatives and friends. Identical worship services will be at 8:30 and 10 a.m.

The Senior Choir under the direction of Barbara Miller will sing "Easter Morn" by Plank and "King of Kings" by Mueller.

Mrs. Ross Morton will sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" by Handel.

There will be two Sunday School hours at 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. The Senior and Junior High Departments have just begun an intense three-month contest.

The program, "Resurrection Links," will be presented at 7 p.m. by many young people.

First Presbyterian in Chancel Drama

Easter sunrise service at First Presbyterian Church will feature a chancel drama by Darius Swann. Youth and adults will take part.

Breakfast will follow at 8 a.m. Baptism of infants and children is scheduled for 8:45 a.m. Parents are asked to be present with their children at 8:30.

The Chancel Choir will present "Praise the Lord of Life" by Mascagni and "Festival Te Deum No. 7 in E Flat" by Dudley Buck. Rev. Galen E. Hershey will speak on "The Power of the Resurrection" at both 9:30 and 11 a.m. services.

Mrs. J. C. Covert will have charge of the program when the Pontiac Chapter of United Church Women meet in the parlor Monday.

The annual spring buffet dinner served by the Women's Association will be from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday. Tickets may be purchased from church groups or at the door.

CHURCH OF GOD IN CHRIST
Bishop C. J. Johnson will conduct the 5 a.m. Easter service at the Church of God in Christ, 252 Wessen. Breakfast will be served from 8 to 11 a.m. by the Purity Class.

Thelma Terrell and Ruby Marion will be in charge. At 7 p.m. an Easter program will be presented by young people.

SPRINGFIELD
Springfield Missionary Baptist Church will observe Holy Communion at 5 a.m. tomorrow with breakfast following. A sunrise service is scheduled for 7 a.m. Regular morning worship will be at 11 a.m. with Easter music by the choir.
