PARKING RULES: Mr. Swanson once again requests that faculty and staff co-operate and observe posted parking rules. The first five parking places in the lot are outlined in yellow and reserved for guests and are not to be used by MSUO personnel.

EKLUND SPEAKS: The Oakland County Daughters of the American Revolution will hear Mr. Eklund speak on "Education and Freedom" at 8 p.m., Feb. 2, in Pontiac.

CONTINUING EDUCATION: Enrollment figures of 575 in Continuing Education Winter Term classes have surpassed not only over last Winter Term's enrollment of 401, but have exceeded the Fall 1960 record total of 460. This is significant since Fall terms enrollment in adult education are usually the highest, Mr. Eklund said. Of 50 courses offered, 12 of them new, 38 were subscribed. The largest classes are Efficient Reading, closed at 35 members, and Supervisor Methods in Municipal Administration. Listening to Symphony, two sections of Oil Painting, Psychology, Engineering Administration, Communism in the Modern World (day-time) are the other large ones. Forty-five per cent of the adult students are in humanities and fine arts and 55 per cent in business and professional courses.

PTAs and PTOs in three counties are lining up members to send to the First Annual MSUO Conference for Parents and Teachers entitled "Developing Study Skills -- How Parents Can Help" to be held this Saturday, February 4 in the Student Center. Arranged by Dr. Harry Hahn, Director of Curriculum for Oakland County Schools and the Office of Continuing Education, this conference expects to draw educationally-interested adults to the campus. They will hear Mr. Varner, Dr. Hahn, panels of parents and will be able to bring their own children's problems to any of eight clinics in the afternoon where Drs. Paul Carter, Dodd Roberts and David Wells will discuss the special problems of science study, language arts and mathematics on the elementary and then the high school level. Teachers, who have to help parents help their children study, are invited.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING: A six-class series on current affairs arranged by Continuing Education for the Village Women's Club of Birmingham, was launched at the Birmingham Unitarian Church on Thursday morning, Jan. 19. One hundred fifty people attended and Mr. Amann spoke on the subject History in the Making: France and Germany.
