Movie Tough Guy Dies at 56

Humphrey Bogart Felled by Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Humphrey Bogart, 56, one of the movies' greatest talents and certainly its most non-conforming nonconformist, died today of cancer of the esophagus.

As late as Saturday night, Bogie was still Bogie. Talking optimistically with friends, between customary scotches, he gave no sign the end was so near.

But Sunday morning he sank into a coma from which he never revived. The end came at 2:10 a.m. with one final deep sigh. At his bedside was his wife, actress Lauren Bacall.

Asleep nearby in the sprawling Holmby Hills manse were the two Bogart children, Stephen, 8, and Leslie, 4.

And thus cancer killed off the Academy Award winning star. His physician said it was a spread of the original malignancy that brought on death.

Unlike most victims of cancer in the throat area, Bogart's voice was not affected. Until the final coma, it was the same old Bogart bark that used to make the toughest screen hoodlums drop the gun.

Bogart, though dying, had been comfortable in his last days. A recent operation had removed some scar tissue on a nerve and given him much relief.

HUMPHREY BOGART.

Try, Try Again for Pot-O-Gold's Bundle o' Bills

If at first you don't succeed, there's another $100 added to the pot as compensation for your trouble. So try again this week and you may win $400, providing no winner is found for last week's puzzle.

Detroit Planners Issue Report

Predict U. S. Auto Industry to Reach Highest Peaks

A period of unprecedented prosperity in the automobile manufacturing industry is foreseen for the immediate future by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

In a report issued over the weekend, the commission predicted that there will be one passenger car for every three persons living in the United States by 1960.

The report estimated that approximately 59 million autos will be registered for the 177 million persons who will make up the country's population three years from now. There were 51 million cars registered in 1935.

The commission also predicted that Southeastern Michigan will remain the center of the auto industry, although expansion will be curtailed by lack of space for industrial construction.

Employment and factory additions will increase most rapidly outside of the immediate Detroit area in the Great Lakes region, the survey conjectured.

About 37 per cent, or 326,000, of the 896,500 persons employed in producing motor vehicles in the nation during 1935 were working in the Detroit area.

Paul M. Reid, the commission's executive director, told newsmen that the study reveals a great po-

Texans to Call on Eisenhower for More Help

Parched San Angelo to Be Inspected Today by Official Party

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—President Eisenhower, starting a tour of the drought-seared Southwest, faced a call today from a Texas delegation for more liberal federal loans for relief of hard-hit farmers and ranchers.

Eisenhower scheduled a 22.6-mile automobile ride through the San Angelo countryside, an area that the Agriculture Department says is experiencing its worst parching in history.

After the tour the President flies to Woodward, Okla., and then to Clovis, N.M., for inspection of drought regions there.

He will spend the night at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base at Tucson, Ariz., hold another breakfast parley there tomorrow morning, then take off for a look at conditions in two more states.

The Tuesday schedule calls for stops at Pueblo, Colo., Garden City, Kan., and Wichita, Kan. At Wichita, before heading back to Washington, Eisenhower will meet late in the afternoon with representatives from all the Great Plains states plagued by lack of rain and devastating wind erosion.

At that conference the President plans to speak briefly, probably to outline his views regarding possible new relief measures, after getting the recommendations of people from the region.

ROUSING CHEER

Eisenhower arrived in San Angelo last night after a six-hour flight from the nation's capital. Returning to his native Texas, he flashed a broad smile at Good-fellow Air Force Base as a crowd estimated at up to 10,000 persons gave him a rousing cheer.

The President was accompanied by two Cabinet officers, Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Secretary of the Interior Seaton, and a staff of technical experts on the drought and relief measures.

In advance of his arrival, the regional office of the Federal Small Business Administration sponsored a conference aimed at development of proposals for relief of drought-hit farmers and ranchers.

Any such measures would supplement the more than 350 million dollars in emergency aid made available by the Agriculture Department alone since 1933.

A group of Texas bankers and businessmen at the conference urged the federal government to grant more liberal and longer term loans to hard-pressed farmers and ranchers. The consensus at the meeting was that farmers and ranchers will need two to four years to recover from the drought — after the rains come.

Berkley Man Killed as Car Rams Bridge

Vincent B. Harrington, 39, of 3084 Bacon St., Berkley, was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak Sunday as the result of injuries received in an auto accident.

Police said he was fatally hurt when his car rammed into a bridge abutment and rolled into a branch of the Rouge River near Farmington.

Harrington reportedly had been driving south on McGee Hill when he lost control of his car.

A Bit of Wishful Thinking? You Bet It Is!

'RIGHT THAR' — Down it went, down to zero, for the first time since it dipped below zero on Feb. 12, 1933. Here Sheila Loper of Milford puts her mittened fingers on the temperature, which had area residents digging out long red woolies this morning, before going outside to kick futilely at auto starters made stubborn by the cold.

CHEERFUL NOTE — Remember scenes like this when your frozen finger is pushing the frosty starter-button of your car on mornings like today's. These youngsters were not feeling coolish, but of course, it was August then. Dolores Dawson (right) of Sylvan Lake, was taking friend Joan Lescinski of Albany, N. Y. for a dip.

Suspect Silent on Barron Case

Slaying Warrant Awaited

PORTHURON (INS) — An unemployed Lexington Heights carpenter, Roger L. Fetting, remained silent today as a first-degree murder warrant was prepared against him in the slaying of hillbilly disc jockey Lonnie C. Barron.

Since allegedly confessing Friday that he shot "the Mississippi farm boy" entertainer, the 36-year-old man has declined to make any comment on the case.

He also refused to take a lie detector test on the advice of his attorney, Gerald Barr.

Fetting reportedly told a newsman, William Saunders of Port Huron, when the 24-year-old Barron "when the singer boasted of his romantic triumphs" with Fetting's wife, Bettie, and sister.

Mrs. Fetting went to the vst. Cla County Jail to visit her husband yesterday. On leaving, she said: "I believe my husband is innocent of the charge... I intend to stand behind him."

Saunders, meanwhile, announced he has raised $500 so far in his defense fund to help Fetting in his legal battle. The newsman said he decided to help Fetting "when the lurid story began to unfold."

An important piece of evidence, a .32-caliber pistol used to kill Barron, has not been found. State Police conducted a search during the search.

Warrant Awaits Holly Mother

She'll Face Charge of Abandonment Upon Leaving Hospital

A warrant charging abandonment of her newly-born son awaits a young Holly mother, Mrs. Patricia Terryah, 19, on her probable release today from Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, state police said.

She has been held at the hospital for maternity care since the birth last Wednesday at Willow Run Airport. Det. Roy Tanner of the Ypsilanti post said she will be charged with abandoning the baby in the waste-paper basket of the airport's women's lounge.

Her husband, Glenn, 23, is free under $250 bond, awaiting examination on the same charge before Ypsilanti Municipal Judge Edward D. Deane Thursday.

Tanner said Mrs. Terryah will be arraigned before Deane today if she is released by hospital doctors. She was listed in good condition today. The infant was described in fair condition.

A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Terryah's release also depends on the medical progress of the baby. It was found minutes after the birth.

'The FBI Story': Seventh in a Series

Hoover's Elevation Opens New Bureau Era

Editor's Note: The following is the seventh in a series of daily articles on the activities and history of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Taken from Don Whitehead's new book, "The FBI Story," today's account is one of 30 which will appear each day in the pages of The Pontiac Press.

By DON WHITEHEAD
President Calvin Coolidge announced on April 2, 1924, that Harlan Fiske Stone, New Hampshire-born Republican, New York attorney and former dean of the Columbia University School of Law, would succeed Harry Daugherty as attorney general.

Five weeks after his appointment, Stone accepted the resignation of William J. Burns as director of the Bureau of Investigation. The old era had ended.

Stone had been looking around for the right man to put in charge of the Bureau of Investigation.

He mentioned this at a Cabinet meeting. Herbert Hoover, then secretary of Commerce, discussed Stone's problem with his assistant, Larry Richey.

Richey said, "Why should they look around when they have the man they need right over there now — a young, well-educated lawyer named Hoover?"

KEY FIGURES — A cleanup drive in the Justice Department and FBI came quickly after Calvin Coolidge became President. Key figures were Atty. Gen. Harlan F. Stone, left, and J. Edgar Hoover, new FBI head, shown in these 1924 pictures.

The day after Burns resigned, 29-year-old J. Edgar Hoover was summoned to Stone's office. It was May 10, 1924.

Stone was over 6 feet tall and weighed more than 200 pounds.

He looked to Hoover at that moment as if he'd been carved out of solid stone.

"Sit down," Stone said, scowling. The scowl was a habit.

Hoover took a seat, Stone peered at him over his glasses, then said abruptly, "Young man, I want you to be Acting Director of the Bureau of Investigation."

Hoover realized the magnitude of the compliment. He knew in that instant that Stone had rejected the arguments that he was too young for the job. Far more important, he knew that Stone did not hold him responsible for the policies, mistakes and corrupt actions of those who had directed the Department of Justice and the Bureau of Investigation in the past.

POLITICAL DIVORCE

Finally Hoover said, "I'll take the job, Mr. Stone, on certain conditions."

"What are they?"

Anyway You Spell It, It's Dry Trip for Ike

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (INS) — Government agencies disagree how far on a drought or drought inspection tour.

Agriculture and Commerce Department literature passed out to the presidential party spelled it "drought."

An Interior Department booklet called it "drouth."

Both spellings are correct.

Pontiac and the entire northern half of the nation from the Rockies to New England shivered under a numbing drop in temperature today, following a frigid Sunday night that saw the mercury plummet to zero locally.

It was the coldest local temperature since a -2 reading which had local teeth chattering Feb. 12, 1935. Other sections of the nation reported temperatures as low as -20.

Four Automobile Club of Michigan stations in the city reported 275 calls for emergency road service this morning as hundreds of cars failed to start.

The Weather Bureau predicts that the mercury tonight will again plummet to around zero. The high tomorrow is expected to range from 18 to 23 degrees. Snow flurries will accompany the arctic blasts tonight and tomorrow, the bureau said.

The five-day forecast isn't too promising either, as the bureau said temperatures will average 10 to 15 degrees below normal.

Chicago notched its lowest temperature since February 1935 when the thermometer registered minus six today.

The nation's coldest spot today was Massena, N.Y., with -35.

In contrast, vacationers in Key West, Fla., were blessed with a balmy 69 degrees.

were: Bismarck, N.D., -21; International Falls, Minn., -17; Grantsburg, Wis., -30; Burlington, Iowa, -15; Syracuse, N.Y., -11; Watertown, N.Y., -25; Albany, N.Y., -30; Burlington, Vt., -24, and Lebanon, N.H., had -30.

The chilly air spread into all except the southern edge of the country east of the Rocky Mountains. Temperatures along the Gulf Coast and in Florida remained in the 50's and 60's.

Preceding 8 a.m. in Pontiac, the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac was 7 degrees. At 1 p.m. the mercury read 9.

Michigan lows ranged down to 20 below at Sault Ste. Marie. It was a frigid 6-below at Hillsdale, near the Ohio border. Jackson recorded -1; Detroit and Traverse City, 3; Escanaba, -11; Flint and Ypsilanti, 0; Grand Marais and Port Huron, -3.

One Officer; No Space; Old Trouble

County officials are scratching their heads over where to put their new probation officer.

While Leo Coyle is waiting for final confirmation by the state Corrections Commission of his appointment to the newly-created post, the search is on to find him office space in the packed county buildings.

A possible answer at the county office building, 1 Lafayette St., was seen by the chairman of the Board of Auditors, Robert Y. Moore.

Moore and most other county officers work in that building, which once was a Masonic Temple.

"We could put him behind the stage on the second floor, although I'm not sure there's room," Moore said, "because there are three desks there now. We've almost stacked one person on top of another."

Moore ruled out shunting Coyle to the "inhuman" attic of the courthouse, where there are no windows and dust abounds.

"Anyway, we've already got office workers up there," he said.

Coyle now has a desk in the courthouse office of Pat McKenna, chief state probation officer, whom he will serve under. Asked when Coyle will be found an office of his own, McKenna replied frankly:

"I just don't know."

He said he referred the question to Moore in hopes it can be solved. Moore said that in the meantime "everybody else is hollering for more space, and they need it, too."

Many county officials look forward to the completion of a new county building in the N. Telegraph road service center, which may solve the housing situation.

Coyle was appointed to act as officer in charge of offenders placed on probation by Oakland County justices.

His position was created after an Oakland County Circuit Court decision that justice court probationary sentences were illegal without a probation officer. Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams made the ruling and the Board of Supervisors created the $4,300-a-year post, the first in the state.

Coyle, 27, started his job Jan. 2. He is a 1947 graduate of St. Frederick's High School and served in the Army from 1932 to 1934. He previously had started at University of Detroit as a pre-law student.

After his discharge, he continued Ave., has worked as teenage counsellor in Detroit Catholic organizations and as a teacher at Cathedral High School, Detroit.

OFF TO CAMP — Under a new Army Reserve training program for boys 17 to 18½ years old, these four area residents left Saturday for Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. and six months of active training. The boys are assigned to local reserve units, with which they will be attached for 7½ years upon their return, as a fulfillment of their

Hurl Rocks at Home of Negro in Florida

Rocks for the second time have smashed windows in the home of the Rev. K. K. Steel, leader of this city's bus integration movement, a Negro meeting was told last night.

Th Rev. K. S. Dupont told the Inter-Civic Council meeting that the attack on Steel's home took place before dawn Tuesday. The Steele family was out of the city at the time. Dupont said he did not believe police had been notified of the incident.

Gov. Leroy Collins suspended bus service in Tallahassee New Year's Day after Steel's home was stoned, a cross was burned on Steel's lawn and a shotgun blast was fired into a Negro grocery store. The governor ordered resumption of bus service last Friday.

A new city ordinance directs drivers to assign riders to seats as a means of preserving segregation.

Refugees Arrive at Willow Run

Hundreds Out to Greet 26 Hungarians Sunday; 28 More Due Today

DETROIT (AP)—Twenty-six refugees from strife-torn Hungary arrived in Detroit yesterday. Another 28 are due today.

Hundreds of persons turned out in the 10-degree weather to greet the arrivals at Willow Run Airport. Aboard the plane were 25 men and a woman, the fiancée of one of the men.

Nearly all had been active in the workers' revolt against the Soviet Russian dominated Hungarian government.

Lajos Bekulcz, 36, and Ann Kisbarn, 31, were the engaged pair. Bekulcz said through an interpreter that he was active in the workers' council that led the uprising. He said he fled Hungary when the secret police sought him at his parents' home, about 60 miles from Budapest.

Another arrival was 17-year-old Ferenc Stoll. The youth said he joined the uprising in its early stages and was active near his home on Csepel Island, one of the last holdouts of resistance. He left his parents and a sister in Hungary.

Among the refugees was a cousin of the Rev. John Paul Nagy, co-chairman of the Detroit Hungarian Churches and Societies Relief Organization.

New Bureau Era Begins With Hoover

ment's cases too often were not presented properly because the evidence was gathered in a haphazard fashion by untrained agents.

Yet the collection of evidence was the basis for proving innocence or guilt.

Stone and Hoover had no difficulty agreeing on basic policies for the Bureau. Three days after Hoover's appointment, it was agreed:

1. The Bureau would be a fact-finding organization, and its activities would be limited strictly to investigations of violations of federal laws.

2. Investigations would be made at and under the direction of the attorney general.

3. The incompetents and the untrustworthy would be discharged as quickly as possible.

4. All the "dollar-a-year men," "honorary" agents and others not regularly employed would be cut from the rolls.

5. No new appointments would be made without the attorney general's approval — and preference would be given to men of good character and ability who had some legal training.

Red Radio Hits British Action

Claims Russian Doctor Was Placed in Hospital Against Will

LONDON (U.S.)—The Moscow radio claims a Soviet ship's doctor who quit his vessel is being held in Britain against his will. The Foreign Office says he has asked for asylum.

Both agree the doctor, identified only as Biryukov, is in a mental hospital. The Moscow broadcast last night claimed this is the reason.

Having failed to force Biryukov to stay in Britain and seeking to cover up their traces, the British secret police are obviously trying to make out that Biryukov is a lunatic.

The broadcast added that Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik had protested to the Foreign Office and demanded "his immediate release and free permission for him to return to his country."

The Foreign Office acknowledged that Biryukov is at the hospital but said he applied for asylum and asked to be spared any visit by Soviet officials. A Russian Embassy official was permitted to talk only with the doctor in charge.

Biryukov left his ship at Hull Dec. 22, London newspapers said the doctor barricaded himself in a hotel room after being questioned by intelligence agents. This was the Daily Mail's account:

Biryukov "stamped up and down his room, banging the walls and shouting" throughout the night of Jan. 5. The hotel management called police, but he wouldn't let them in. After he kept shouting "I demand my freedom," the police battered the door down.

When the police entered, Biryukov dropped 15 feet from a window, to the lawn below. His wrists and neck had been slashed, and he was taken to the hospital.

68 Per Cent Spend Vacation at Home

ST. LOUIS — A recent survey of how many Americans spent part of their vacations on home-improvement projects shows:

Sixty-eight per cent spent all or part of their vacation at home; 81 per cent of them devoted their time to workshop or home-improvement projects.

Of these projects—which included room modernization, house repairs, garden and yard care—some 60 to 70 per cent represented painting and decorating projects.

Vacancy to Give GOP Opportunity to Control Senate

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—The resignation of Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex) tomorrow to become governor of Texas raises once again the possibility that Republican may take control of the Senate.

This could only happen, however, if retiring Gov. Allan Shivers names a successor to Daniel who would vote with Senate Republican, and makes the appointment stick. Shivers, though a Democrat, has supported President Eisenhower.

Republican leader, William Knowland of California already has given notice that any time the GOP can muster 48 votes it will take over control of the Senate.

That would require a tie-breaking vote in favor of the Republicans by Vice President Nixon. With Daniel's vote, the Democrats now have a 49-47 edge in the Senate.

Democrats say they are confident that if Shivers names a successor to Daniel, he will pick a senator who would vote with the Democrats.

Letter Tips Off Death of Couple in Oregon

EUGENE, Ore. (U.S.)—It was Sunday but Atty. Richard Thwing picked up his mail and went to the office to glance through it. He came to a letter which ended:

"... unable to go on like this."

Thwing called police. They sped to the home of Lee Chilberg, an acquaintance of Thwing's, 30 miles southeast of Eugene.

Mrs. Chilberg, 54, had been axed to death. Chilberg, also 54, was hanging in the garage.

"While-you-wait" keys made in 1 minute.

One Officer; No Space; Old Trouble

County officials are scratching their heads over where to put their new probation officer.

While Leo Coyle is waiting for final confirmation by the state corrections commission of his appointment to the newly-created post, the search is on to find him office space in the packed county buildings.

A possible answer at the county office building, 1 Lafayette St., was seen by the chairman of the Board of Auditors, Robert Y. Moore.

Moore and most other county officers work in that building, which once was a Masonic Temple.

"We could put him behind the stage on the second floor, although I'm not sure there's room," Moore said, "because there are three desks there now. We've almost stacked one person on top of another."

Moore ruled out shunting Coyle to the "inhuman" attic of the courthouse, where there are no windows and dust abounds.

"Anyway, we've already got office workers up there," he said.

Coyle now has a desk in the courthouse office of Pat McKenna, chief state probation officer, whom he will serve under. Asked when Coyle will be found an office of his own, McKenna replied frankly:

"I just don't know."

He said he referred the question to Moore in hopes it can be solved.

Moore said that in the meantime "everybody else is hollering for more space, and they need it, too."

Many county officials look forward to the completion of a new county building in the N. Telegraph road service center, which may solve the housing situation.

Coyle was appointed to act as officer in charge of offenders placed on probation by Oakland County justices.

His position was created after an Oakland County Circuit Court decision that justice court probationary sentences were illegal without a probation officer. Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams made the ruling and the Board of Supervisors created the $4,300-a-year post, the first in the state.

Coyle, 37, started his job Jan. 2. He is a 1947 graduate of St. Frederick's High School and served in the Army from 1933 to 1944. He previously had started at University of Detroit as a pre-law student.

After his discharge, he continued at university part time and expects his B.S. degree this June. Coyle, who lives at 460 Fourth Ave., has worked as teenage counselor in Detroit Catholic organizations and as a teacher at Cathedral High School, Detroit.

OFF TO CAMP — Under a new Army Reserve training program for boys 17 to 18½ years old, these four area residents left Saturday for Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. and six months of active training. The boys are assigned to local reserve units, with which they will be attached for 7½ years upon their return, as a fulfillment of their

500 Expected at Annual Event

May Reach Number at Chamber Dinner Tomorrow Night

Approximately 400 reservations have been made for tomorrow night's annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at the Elks Temple, John W. Hurlinger, Chamber manager, reported today.

He said he expected this number to reach 500 from ticket sales today and tomorrow and at the door.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, noted General Motors Corp. educational consultant and lecturer, will be guest speaker.

The 1957 Chamber officers, headed by President Howard O. Powers, will be installed. The newly elected five members of the Board of Directors will be introduced.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 6:30. Persons attending are asked to park in the new municipal parking lot on West Lawrence street.

Howard Heldenbrand, manager of the Waldron Hotel, will be master of ceremonies. General chairman of the event is H. Wayne Gabert.

Refugees Arrive at Willow Run

Hundreds Out to Greet 26 Hungarians Sunday; 28 More Due Today

DETROIT (AP)—Twenty-six refugees from strife-torn Hungary arrived in Detroit yesterday. Another 28 are due today.

Hundreds of persons turned out in the 10-degree weather to greet the arrivals at Willow Run Airport. Aboard the plane were 25 men and a woman, the fiancée of one of the men.

Nearly all had been active in the workers' revolt against the Soviet Russian dominated Hungarian government.

Lajos Bekulcz, 36, and Ann Kisbarani, 31, were the engaged pair. Bekulcz said through an interpreter that he was active in the workers' council that led the uprising. He said he fled Hungary when the secret police sought him at his parents' home, about 60 miles from Budapest.

Another arrival was 17-year-old Ferenc Stof. The youth said he joined the uprising in its early stages and was active near his home on Csepel Island, one of the last holdouts of resistance. He left his parents and a sister in Hungary.

Among the refugees was a cousin of the Rev. John Paul Nagy, co-chairman of the Detroit Hungarian Churches and Societies Relief Organization.

Eligible Boys May Get Awards at Cranbrook

Eligible applicants can receive scholarships covering up to three-fourths of total board and tuition to Cranbrook School for Boys, Headmaster Harry D. Hoey announced today.

The awards are open to boarding and day students from all over the country. Requirements are that applicants should be eligible for entrance into the seventh through the eleventh grades; have an above average academic record; show proven need for financial assistance; and present recommendations as school citizens and leaders.

Grants will be made up to $1500 for boarding students, and up to $700 for day students. Under the present program scholarships may be renewed until graduation.

All applications must be filed by March 15. Details can be had by writing to Headmaster Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills. The school currently has 360 boys enrolled from all over the country.

Hurl Rocks at Home of Negro in Florida

Rocks for the second time have smashed windows in the home of the Rev. C. K. Steel, leader of this city's bus integration movement, a Negro meeting was told last night.

Rev. K. S. Dupont told the Inter-Civic Council meeting that his attack on Steel's home took place before dawn Tuesday. The Steele family was out of the city at the time. Dupont said he did not believe police had been notified of the incident.

Gov. Leroy Collins suspended bus service in Tallahassee New Year's Day after Steel's home was stoned, a cross was burned on Steel's lawn and a shotgun blast was fired into a Negro grocery store. The governor ordered resumption of bus service last Friday.

A new city ordinance directs drivers to assign riders to seats as a means of preserving segregation.

Humphrey Bogart Dies of Cancer at 56

nothing to be ashamed of like something I might have had. It's no worse than gall stones or appendicitis. They'll all kill you if you don't catch them soon enough."

Bogart spent eight hours under the surgeon's knife last March. For seven weeks, five days a week, after that he spent long sessions under three-million-volt radiation treatment at the Los Angeles Tumor Institute.

Although Bogart, on-scene and off talked like a gangster he actually was Park Avenue born. His father was a physician and his mother a noted magazine illustrator.

Bogart himself had attended Andover Academy—one of the nation's finest prep schools. But he got into the theater early on Broadway. It was hard to imagine that Bogart was the originator of the famous line: "Tennis, anyone?"

He had started out as a patent leather, juvenile complete with blue blazer and white flannel pants. He still carried in his wallet his first notice, written by the late Alexander Woolcott.

It read: "The performance of Humphrey Bogart could be described mercifully as inadequate." Perhaps his greatest stage success was a Killer Duke Mantee in "The Petrified Forest." It was a role that brought him out to Hollywood and made an overnight movie sensation of him.

Bogart loved to recall his entry into Hollywood. "I came out here with one suit and everybody said I looked like a bum. Twenty years later Marion Brand came out with only a sweatshirt and the town drooled over him. That shows how much Hollywood has progressed."

Bogart's last picture was "The Harder They Fall," in which he played an embittered publicity man and promoter. Other pictures included "The Two Mrs. Carrs," "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre," "Key Largo," "Knock on any Door," "Tokyo Joe," "Deadline U.S.A.," "Battle Circus," "Beat the Devil," "Sabrina," "The Barefoot Contessa," "We're No Angels" and "The Left Hand of God."

Bogart won his Academy Award as the best actor of 1951 for his work in "The African Queen."

Miss Bacall was Bogart's fourth wife. The others were actresses Helen Menken, Mary Phillips and Mayo Methot.

O, Happy Weekend

ATLANTA (AP)—For the first time in more than a year no Georgia traffic fatalities were reported over the weekend, the state patrol said. The count is kept between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

The Day in Birmingham 16 Item Agenda Awaits City Lawmakers Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — A light agenda faces city commissioners this evening, with only 16 items listed. They will reconsider the question of vacating an alley in the Campbell subdivision at the Chestnut, Hazel, Elm street area. The question was held over from the last meeting to permit a city survey after residents protested.

They said that the closing of the alley would prevent them from getting the full use of their garages. Another alley closing to be considered lies between Cole and Lincoln.

Commissioners also will consider the appointment of Robert Kenning to represent the city of Birmingham on the proposed county council for civil defense.

At a special dinner meeting Thursday evening at the Birmingham community house the Kiwanis club will pay special tribute to Mrs. Annis Gillette, city health nurse, in their annual "Flowers for the Living" observance.

They will be joined by members of the Birmingham Business Women's Club and the Soroptimists, both of which Mrs. Gillette is a member.

Womans Alliance of Birmingham Unitarian Church members are meeting at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 23 at the home of Mrs. John K. Bagby, 972 Oxford Rd.

Mrs. Marvin Fisk, psychiatrist at Pontiac State Hospital will discuss the work done at that institution, some of the treatments used and what is being accomplished in the field of modern psychiatry.

Birmingham commissioners tonight will receive the report of Andrew F. Butt showing a total of 607 building permits issued last year. Leading the field in new construction with 135 single family residences with the total valuation of $2,050,460. Evaluation for the entire building program was $4,858,470.

Frank A. Kirchoff

Frank A. Kirchoff, onetime owner of the site of the present Plum Hollow Golf Club, and retired farmer, died Friday at the age of 73 in Clearwater, Fla. He was a native of Southfield Township.

Member of Southfield United Presbyterian Church and the Masonic Blue Lodge, he is survived only by his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McClelland of Southfield.

Service will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday from Manley Bailey Funeral Home here, with the Rev. Harvey Luce officiating. Burial will be in Southfield Cemetery.

Erich H. Hansen

Services for Erich H. Hansen, 56, of 1259 Humphrey, will be Tuesday at 1 p.m. from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home with burial at White Chapel Cemetery. The Rev. Reginald Becker of Embury Methodist Church will officiate. He died in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital Jan. 12.

He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Charles Edwards Post of the American Legion in Birmingham and the Masonic Lodge in Roseton, Minn.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Hansen is survived by his brothers and sisters, Mrs. Frank Forbes of California, Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Mrs. Charles Lingwall, and Mrs. Mel Biggers, all of Minnesota, August of California and George of Florida.

Dog Training Class Begins Second Term

The Dog Obedience Training Course scheduled for 8 p.m. tonight at Bloomfield Hills High School will open the second semester of the adult education program. Tonight's class will be for demonstration purposes only and members are asked not to bring their dogs.

Other classes offered at ceramics and metalcraft, including enamel on copper and silver. Drawing and painting, shop, home mechanics, beginners Spanish, intermediate French, photography, stockmarketing, bridge, women's gym class, reading, group piano instruction, music appreciation, typing, square dancing and international relations are also included.

Registration will close tomorrow. Class members will be asked to register their preference of evening date so that classes may be arranged for the greatest convenience of all.

Tobogganing Accident Causes Leg Fracture

An afternoon of tobogganing with friends ended suddenly for a Pontiac man Sunday when he suffered a fractured left leg in an accident.

Kenneth E. Choler, 34, of 23 Portage St., is under treatment for the injury at Pontiac General Hospital. He was taken there following the incident on Ford road near Cedar Island road in Highland Township.

Witnesses told Oakland County deputies Choler was hurt when his leg got caught under the toboggan after it struck a rock on the way down a hill.

Red Radio Hits British Action

Claims Russian Doctor Was Placed in Hospital Against Will

LONDON (U)—The Moscow radio claims a Soviet ship's doctor who quit his vessel is being held in Britain against his will. The Foreign Office says he has asked for asylum.

Both agree the doctor, identified only as Biryukov, is in a mental hospital. The Moscow broadcast last night claimed this is the reason.

Having failed to force Biryukov to stay in Britain and seeking to cover up their traces, the British secret police are obviously trying to make out that Biryukov is a lunatic.

The broadcast added that Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik had protested to the Foreign Office and demanded "his immediate release and free permission for him to return to his country."

The Foreign Office acknowledged that Biryukov is at the hospital and asked to be spared any visit by Soviet officials. A Russian Embassy official was permitted to talk only with the doctor in charge.

Biryukov left his ship at Hull Dec. 22. London newspapers said the doctor barricaded himself in a hotel room after being questioned by intelligence agents. This was the Daily Mail's account:

Biryukov "stamped up and down his room, banging the walls and shouting" throughout the night of Jan. 5. The hotel management called police, but he wouldn't let them in. After he kept shouting "I demand my freedom," the police battered the door down.

When the police entered, Biryukov dropped 15 feet from a window to the lawn below. His wrists and neck had been slashed, and he was taken to the hospital.

68 Per Cent Spend Vacation at Home

ST. LOUIS — A recent survey of how many Americans spent part of their vacations on home-improvement projects shows:

Sixty-eight per cent spent all or part of their vacation at home; 81 per cent of them devoted their time to workshop or home-improvement projects.

Of these projects—which included room modernization, house repairs, garden and yard care—some 60 to 70 per cent represented painting and decorating projects.

Vacancy to Give GOP Opportunity to Control Senate

WASHINGTON (U)—The resignation of Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex) tomorrow to become governor of Texas raises once again the possibility that Republicans may take control of the Senate.

This could only happen, however, if retiring Gov. Allan Shivers names a successor to Daniel who would vote with Senate Republicans, and makes the appointment stick. Shivers, though a Democrat, has supported President Eisenhower.

Republican leader William Knowland of California already has given notice that any time the GOP can muster 48 votes it will take over control of the Senate.

That would require a tie-breaking vote in favor of the Republicans by Vice President Nixon. With Daniel's vote, the Democrats now have a 49-47 edge in the Senate.

Democrats say they are confident that if Shivers names a successor to Daniel, he will pick a senator who would vote with the Democrats.

Letter Tips Off Death of Couple in Oregon

EUGENE, Ore. (U)—It was Sunday but Atty. Richard Thwing picked up his mail and went to the office to glance through it. He came to a letter which ended: "... unable to go on like this."

Thwing called police. They sped to the home of Lee Chilberg, an acquaintance of Thwing's, 30 miles southeast of Eugene.

Mrs. Chilberg, 54, had been axed to death. Chilberg, also 54, was hanging in the garage.

Carving of Madonna 'Cries' in Art Gallery

SAUSALITO, Calif. (U) — A wooden Madonna was still packing the people in at the Marine Art Gallery here today.

Clara Bass carved the Madonna out of a piece of driftwood she found on a beach. The 16x20 inch carving was placed on a wall in the gallery. A sticky substance began flowing slowly down from the right eye of the face.

Miss Bass says she may have hit a resin duct in the wood during the carving, and that the sap running when the wood was hung in the warm gallery.

Most of the people who come to see it are only curious. But she said a few have knelt before it.

Grove Warns Against Pact With Reds on Disarming

(A Senate committee last week began studying all aspects of a possible world disarmament agreement. One of the experts whose advice was sought by the group is Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, USA (Ret.), who headed the famed "Manhattan Project," which produced history's first atomic bomb. Gen. Groves, now a vice president of the Washington-based division of the Berry Rand Corp., presents herewith his well-backed views on why this country should be wary of any quick agreement with Russia.)

By LT. GEN. LESLIE R. GROVES, USA (RET.)

History and scientific facts should warn us to go slow before entrusting our national safety to disarmament agreements with Russia or anyone else.

It is unfortunate — but all too true — that the chances of establishing a foolproof international inspection plan for nuclear weapon production today are practically nil.

This raises a most vital question: Just how reliable are the parties who are negotiating with and what reliance can you place on their successors?

Russia, it should be constantly kept in mind, has a record of keeping agreements that is practically zero.

CHANCES POOR

Frankly, although I feel the chances of reaching an effective safe agreement with the Soviet Union are very poor, I would not discourage talks.

I have always liked to hope that eventually they would lead to a disarmament agreement with essential safeguards.

To be quite realistic about this life and death question of inspection I don't think you can depend on aerial reconnaissance alone. It must be coupled with ground inspection.

HARD TO DETECT

When it comes to a question of detecting concealed fissionable material, based on present-day conditions, I would rather be on the side of the man concealing than the man trying to detect.

It is possible for a totalitarian government to conduct experiments without our government being able to detect them.

On the other hand, under our system of government, we could not do it.

I don't think the U.S. government can say definitely that it has detected every single bomb that the Russians have exploded.

The situation is like watching a dark alley at night. You can say four persons went through, but can you say a fifth didn't?

We just have to keep our guard up and not fall for enticing, but false promises.

Unless other people show they have a sincere desire and intent to disarm, there is nothing we can do but continue to build and test more and better weapons for our self-preservation.

It would be a fallacy to believe that when a nation says it is earmarking uranium for peaceful purposes that it cannot be used for weapons.

URANIUM CHANGEABLE

Uranium 235, from which atomic weapons are made, can be put into any form the government concerned wishes, and can be turned into nuclear weapons in a matter of days.

To have a really foolproof inspection program of disarmament, the checkers engaged must be able to personally go everywhere, look, feel and smell, and not depend on some photographs.

The best and safest place to conduct inspections is at the mouths of all uranium mines.

Another problem inherent in any disarmament program is the fact that the inspection job would prove to be a tedious one. Qualified inspectors would not want to stay with it long.

Under such a set-up, a totalitarian government like Russia could conduct nuclear experiments without the U.S. detecting them.

America, however, would not do the same thing, and would live up to its commitments—thus placing us at a distinct disadvantage.

Paper Reports Uprising Against Bulgaria Reds

ATHENS (U) — A Salonika newspaper today reported disorders in Communist Bulgaria but there was no confirmation available. The paper said there were indications an uprising against the Communists might be brewing in the district of Stara Planika.

The report said about 100 Bulgarian officers had joined a "patriotic" group of peasants and that during a recent strike three workers had been killed and about 20 injured in a clash with police.

Rescue 5 Children in Splintered Room

CAMAS, Wash. (U) — Five children were rescued, uninjured, from the pile of debris which a wind-projected tree made of their bedroom yesterday.

The windstorm sent a huge tree crashing into a bedroom of the R. R. McClellan home.

McClellan ran to the children's room at 3 a.m. and found two walls shattered. The tree splintered a bunk bed in which two teen-agers were sleeping and caved in the end of a metal bed where three little girls lay. Bob McClellan, 13, was buried beneath the splintered lumber and furniture and the family worked for 30 minutes to rescue him.

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by the look on its face!

There's a look of character and quality about that new Chevrolet front end that reveals a lot. Feel the strength and solidity of the grille and you learn even more. And this is only one of the easy ways you can compare workmanship, materials and design.

Most of the '57 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away? What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—does it feel less strong and solid in construction?

Check the bumper. Is it separated from the grille by a bolted-on metal pan that's subject to rust and rattles? Or is it nicely integrated with the grille as in the Chevrolet design?

And how about the headlights? Any seams where they join the fender? Not in Chevrolet, there aren't. Fine, one-piece construction here and rich, distinctive chrome trim.

The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. Compare the quality of materials, the attention that has been paid to trim and details. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish... that only Chevrolet Bel Air models in their field give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.

We'll be glad to give you a close-up, comparative look at this new Chevy any time you care to come in. This week, maybe?

Spot Reducing Calls for Special Exercises

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women who are not overweight generally have pads of fat where they least want them. One of these areas is underneath the shoulder blades and arms and across the shoulders. In such specialized spot reducing you must depend on exercise.

The following one is splendid for fat across the shoulders and under the arms: Stand tall. Bend the right elbow and put the right arm around the back of your head, fingers of the right hand touching the left ear. Keep the right arm in this position as you bend to the left, coming as close as you can to touching the fingertips of the left hand to the left foot.

Keep the right arm in the same position as you raise your trunk and bend straight forward as far as you can. Raise trunk. Continue slowly (right arm in same position)—bend first to the left, raise trunk and bend forward, raise trunk and continue. After a while place the left arm about the back of the head and bend to the right, etc.

A fatty deposit at the back of the neck usually is correlated with a dower's hump. This is the result of poor posture. Exercise and massage help reduce this unattractive hump. We often see this in very young women, even some teenagers have it.

You will find the following exercise effective: Stand tall. Bend both elbows and place the hands on the back of the head. Keep the hands in this position and push FORWARD with the hands as you push BACK with the head. Resist and hold for a few seconds. Relax and continue. This should be done slowly.

Exercise cannot do the job you wish unless you make an effort to improve your posture when standing, walking or sitting. Remind yourself of this many times each day and also do special exercises. TRYING TO HIDE AGE IS GREATEST MISTAKE

This exercise is splendid for fat across the shoulders, for fat across the shoulders and under the arms. Bend as far as you can to the left, raise trunk and bend straight forward.

The other day in New York I dropped in at the Eddie Senz Salon, hoping to catch him in. Eddie always is fun to talk with because he is not only one of today's great makeup artists but he is also a humanitarian.

For instance he designed the makeup and hair styling for "The King and I," for Helen Hayes in "The Glass Menagerie," for "The Most Happy Fella" and created Audrey Hepburn's makeup for "A Roman Holiday."

Many of the world's famous are his clients. Even more important, physicians and psychiatrists often call on him for aid in rehabilitating emotionally and mentally disturbed persons.

Because of his years of experience in enhancing the appearance of the feminine sex, and because of his opportunity to observe, first hand, the impact which this has on women, his advice in psychological values as well as in technical skill are well worth listening to.

I asked him what he feels to be the greatest mistake women in general make in makeup and hair styling. He answered without hesitation:

"The greatest mistake a woman can make is to refuse to resign herself to the fact that aging is inevitable, and to try to compensate for this by using too much makeup or by 'giving up' and using none at all. She is terribly wrong if she believes that beauty is confined only to the young."

MATURE BEAUTY

He continued, 'I have seen so many beautiful, charming, smart-looking women of mature years and older, but these are not the ones who wear their hair long and flowing and load up on makeup in the vain hope that it will cover any defects they have."

"It is possible for a woman to look 30 years (or more) younger than she is if she has taken care of herself and if she uses makeup subtly. But she can never look 30 years younger, and if she tries to do so she will only appear ridiculous."

Eddie also feels that another mistake women make is to believe that men are devoid of good taste and judgment when it comes to a woman's looks. He says that nothing makes a man more uncomfortable than to be the escort of a woman who is trying to look like 16 when she is 30. He said, "It embarrasses him."

Inauguration to Provide Lots of Fun

Capital Partygoers Savor Promises of Glamour Galore

By JEAN EADS

WASHINGTON—This fun-loving town is a-twitter with plans for hosting the biggest, most expensive, most glamorous jamboree in its history—the 1957 inauguration.

Everybody from the man in the street to the man in the White House and their wives is pitching in to make the guests—Mr. and Mrs. America—welcome, comfortable, and happy during the spectacular three-day hoopla.

You have to have a special invitation to some of the shindigs like the inauguration balls, the governors' reception and the International Dinner, but a lot of things are wide open and free.

Reserved seats for the big parade range from $3.50 to $10 but there will be room for those who didn't have the price, or didn't get in under the deadline for tickets.

Some of the foreign embassies are planning receptions, open house and embassy tours to which anyone may get a ticket free, and there will be numerous twilight and philharmonic concerts about town, and special exhibits at the art galleries.

You ought to know by now whether you're going to one of the four inaugural balls. The 7,500 invitations, each extending the privilege of buying two tickets at $15 each, have already been mailed. The four balls can accommodate only 15,000 persons (7,500 couples) and only that number will receive tickets.

The affairs are planned to be identical except for size and location. President and Mrs. Eisenhower and Vice President and Mrs. Nixon will attend all four, spending a half hour at each.

The decorations will be the same and there will be two major orchestras at each. This year there will be glasses instead of paper cups as in past years, for the punch.

You'll have a chance to rub elbows—and probably to step on the toes—of most of the nation's bigwigs. As honor guests they will be distributed among the four fetes.

PTA Activities

Executive board, Winner PTA, will meet at 7 tonight in the school gymnasium.

Dumplings Are Good With Roast

Mrs. Warken Boils Squares of Dough in Pork Liquid

By JANET ODELL

Dumplings with chicken are quite the accepted thing. However, our recipe for today suggests dumplings with roast pork. Try them soon for that something "new and different" in the food line.

Mrs. Richard Warken of Orchard Lake is today's cook. She says that taking care of four boys is a full-time job. Cooking, washing, ironing and mending, to say nothing of cleaning, fill her days.

PORK DUMPLINGS
By Mrs. Richard Warken
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon shortening
3 tablespoons milk
Cut shortening into dry ingredients. Add milk to make a soft dough. Roll out 1/4-inch thick on a floured board and cut into squares. Drain all liquid from a hot roast of pork and add enough water to make 2 quarts. Bring to boiling point. Drop dumplings into liquid, cover and boil 15 minutes. Serve at once.

Do-C-Do Dance Club Marks Anniversary

Twenty-six couples attended the 10th anniversary celebration of the Do-C-Do Square Dance Club. Charter members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCloud, the Dave Ewalds, Mr. and Mrs. Turris McCullup and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brady. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lawrence arranged decorations for the recent affair, held at Washington Junior High School. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paquette and Mr. and Mrs. Stan King.

West Bloomfield Sets Mock Disaster Jan. 20

Have you ever wondered what you, as residents of the counties and townships, immediately adjoining a target city marked for an enemy attack would be called upon to do to assist the population that would be evacuated from such a city?

This and many more questions will be answered when West Bloomfield Township Civil Defense organizations put on a demonstration for the general public Sunday, January 20, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the township high school, Commerce and Orchard Lake roads.

Township CD Director John Warren is urging everyone to stop by and see what is done in case of disaster, man-made or natural.

The high school area will become a scale model of an entire township and here will be simulated the exact condition that would exist in the event of an actual attack on Detroit.

A complete communications center will be set up under the direction of William Duckwitz. Here can be seen and heard communications received and dispatched under the same difficult conditions which would exist in an emergency.

Dr. John Williams will be in charge of the casualty care station where "victims" will be received and treated for their various "injuries." He will be assisted by several other doctors from the township as well as a staff of nurses.

The preparation and dispatching of food for evacuees as well as for volunteer workers, will be in the hands of Cecil Davis, Civil Defense deputy of food and shelter for West Bloomfield.

A demonstration of the rescue and treatment of persons from demolished or damaged buildings will be under the supervision of Township Fire Chief Ben J. Mosher. He will have the assistance of other members of the department.

Telephone communications entirely separate from radio messages will be handled and explained by Earl Thornton of Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

In addition to these various phases of Civil Defense there will be a demonstration of school room drills in safety. The children participating will be students of Union Lake school, one of the many schools in the township where protective drills have been practiced for a year or more. Mrs. Helen Harding will represent the teacher in the case.

The means by which the evacuees are clothed and housed under these circumstances will be explained by key personnel who have worked closely with these matters.

One of the most important phases of Civil Defense, known as registration and information, will be demonstrated by persons who have been thoroughly trained to perform this work. It is the means by which all evacuees are carefully registered so that sooner or later everyone can be located and reunited with his family.

There also will be brief talks on different phases of home protection, from military and natural disaster.

In addition to the above men-

$60,000 Blaze at Lapeer

Doctor Loses Home, Office

LAPEER—Fire of undetermined origin totally destroyed the two-story frame building at 544 North Main St., owned and occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Blankenhorn and their three sons, Stephen, Glenn and Robert, Saturday morning.

The blaze started about eight a.m. Saturday and burned all day. The doctor was at the Lapeer County General Hospital and was called home in time to assist his family from the house, save his patients records and the cash box; also one automobile from the garage.

Used as an office and residence by Dr. Blankenhorn, an osteopathic physician, the doctor estimated his loss at $60,000. All his office equipment, furniture and clothing were destroyed.

He carries insurance but does not believe it will cover his loss.

The children are with relatives in Flint until a home can be found for the family.

The house, one of the oldest in Lapeer, was located in the finer residential district.

Seek Enactment of New Milk Bill

Farmers' Dairy Group Represents 35,000 of State

LANSING —The Michigan Dairy Farmers Federation today said it will seek enactment of a milk marketing bill in the 1957 legislature in an effort to end "price wars, destructive competition, predatory action, discriminatory pricing and market instability."

The Federation, which said it represents some 35,000 Michigan dairy farmers, said Sen. Bert J. Storey (R-Belding) had agreed to introduce the measure establishing milk marketing laws.

"The cost-price squeeze confronting Michigan dairymen in the past few years has been the worst since the depression of the thirties," a Federation statement said.

"A milk strike, destruction of property, costly court cases and other events have accompanied the more familiar conditions associated with unstable and low incomes."

"Destructive, demoralizing, unfair and unjust trade practices have been and are likely to be carried on in the milk business," the Federation said. "No law in the state now regulates unfair, discriminatory or predatory practices in the milk business in Michigan."

The Federation said that 17 other states have Milk Marketing Acts to regulate trade practices.

It proposed a bill which would establish local option to have milk marketing regulations in those areas which desire them.

The Act would be administered by the State Department of Agriculture, which could issue milk marketing orders to fix minimum producer prices for milk and minimum wholesale and retail milk prices. The department also would regulate unfair trade practices under the proposal.

Milk dealers licenses would provide about $60,000 a year for the basic financing of the Milk Marketing Bill with extra funds coming from assessments on participants, the federation said.

Wants to Salvage Sites Menaced by Expansion

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Archaeological Society plans to set up an archaeological authority to salvage prehistoric sites threatened by the state's expanding road-building program.

The authority proposes to send out teams to work ahead of new road construction to salvage prehistoric materials and Indian relics and make a complete record of the sites.

The work would be done in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Participants in the project would include members of the Archaeological Society, University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Cranbrook Institute and the Northern Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Chicago is known as the railroad crossroads of the United States.
