MUD IN HIS EYE — Covered from head to toe with a sloppy coating of mud, James Hines, 65, is lucky to be alive. He fell off a catwalk at a waterfront resort near Vallejo, Calif., and plopped into a sea of mire. It took five persons to pull him out to prevent him from suffocating.

1960 Will Be Richest Year in U.S. History, Ike Says

Oakland GOP Officeholders to Unite in Race

A winning ticket of Republican county officeholders—including the new face of Prosecutor George F. Taylor —will stick together in seeking re-election this year. The Pontiac Press was told yesterday.

Democrats have not come up with a full slate of opponents, according to Carlos G. Richardson county chairman.

"But things are shaping ... well," he said.

A check of incumbents finds veteran Treasurer Charles A. Sparks, Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Clerk Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr., Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, Taylor and Surveyor Ralph A. Main decided on seeking the GOP nominations in August.

Sparks, the leader of the local GOP ticket, will be seeking his 15th consecutive two-year term. He was first elected in 1932. He is the oldest elected county official in length of service.

ZIEM MISSING

Missing from the ticket for the first time in the last eight years will be former Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, who was elected Circuit Court judge last year.

Replacing him on the ticket will be Taylor, Ziem's former chief assistant.

Although their slate is not firm yet, it was rightly reported that two young attorneys were considering seeking the Democratic nomination for prosecutor. Weighing the decision are George J. Fulkerson, a Birmingham attorney living in Bloomfield Township, and William H. Merrill, a Detroit attorney living in Birmingham.

'HANDS-OFF' PLEDGE

Both Richardson and Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county GOP chairman, have declared their committee would take a "hands-off" attitude in support of candidates until after the primary.

Richardson, however, confirmed that Fulkerson and Merrill were considering running for prosecutor. James P. Lawson, 1958's Democratic nominee, apparently has decided to stay out of the race and keep with his work as Farmington Township justice.

Richardson said he had heard that John E. Kronenberg and William E. Benson, Democratic nominees for clerk-register and treasurer, respectively in 1958, would in all likelihood run again.

State of Union Message Looks to End of Need

President Sees Hope for Better Relations With Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower predicted today that 1960 will be the most prosperous year in America's history. And he declared the world is entering a vast new technological age which can "make poverty and human misery obsolete."

He also expressed guarded optimism about better relations with the Soviet Union. "We must strive," he said, "to break the calamitous cycle which, if unchecked, could spiral into nuclear disaster; the ultimate insanity."

In his annual State of the Union message to Congress, the President personally told a joint session of the House and Senate the nation is armed with enormous defensive military might which must be meticulously maintained until the Soviet Union agrees to effectively safeguard disarmament.

Highlights of Ike's Message—Page 25

Eisenhower predicted no nation ever will risk general war against the United States if this might is maintained. He announced spectacular new advances in precision use of this country's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

The President also rejected criticism that the Soviet Union's development of superthrust rocket engines threatens America in the military missile field. The U. S. program in that field "does not suffer from our present lack of very large rocket engines, which are so necessary in distant space exploration," Eisenhower said.

He added this country is pressing forward with development of engines with tremendous thrust, and said spending for space projects will be practically doubled—to about a billion dollars a year.

In his lengthy address, carried nationwide on television and radio, the President spoke of record prosperity in 1960 and also called for vigorous new efforts to check inflation.

He expressed gratification over settlement earlier this week of the marathon steel dispute, and said both management and labor must make every effort to increase productivity and thus avoid price increases.

Dems in Congress Pushing Civil Rights

There was immediate response in the House to the broad hint Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) gave civil rights advocates Wednesday to get moving. Within a few hours, another 16 members added their names to a petition to pry a pending measure loose from the Southern-led House Rules Committee. The petition had been hanging over from last year's session.

Members promoting the petition said the number of signatures had reached about 140. They claimed sufficient support to get the full 218 names needed. Several Southerners said they had no reason to doubt this.

There were broad hints, however, that if the petition appeared certain to succeed, the Rules Committee would beat a strategic retreat and send the bill to the House under conditions as favorable as possible to the Southerners.

SENATE MAPS ACTION

In the Senate, meanwhile, Chairman Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo) said the Rules Committee will hold hearings within a month on legislation to provide for appointment of federal voting registrars.

The Civil Rights Commission proposed such legislation last year to prevent discrimination by state voting officials against Negroes and other minority groups. Southern opponents consider the proposal unconstitutional, however, and the administration reportedly is not planning to support its enactment.

Hennings talked of completing committee action on a registrar bill by early February, well in advance of scheduled mid-February civil rights debate in the Senate.

Rayburn said the House can get action on civil rights, if it wants it, in about two weeks, indicating a decision by the party leadership to let the right open there. The major delays, however, were expected in the Senate, although Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson publicly recalled an agreement to bring up civil rights for debate in that body about mid-February.

But both sides appeared in agreement to this extent. Congress almost certainly will pass some kind of civil rights legislation this year. And the present bill is probably as much as the House will agree on, at least initially.

The bill also would facilitate FBI investigation of bombings and would require registrars to preserve voting documents for inspection by federal officials.

High-Powered Jailbreak Plan Foiled in Detroit

Harlosser said a guard discovered a hose right fixture in a cell block Monday. Under a bench he found five feet of wire that had been pulled from the wall.

Inmates said Harry Bordelon, 32, and Joseph Bellow, 43, planned to refasten one end of the wire to the outlet and the other end to a bar on the outside of the cell block. Harlosser said the prisoners hoped the electric shock would knock out the guard so they could get his keys.

Both were placed in solitary confinement.

Slightly Warmer Next Few Days, but Not Much

Following yesterday's high of 28 and low of 10 degrees, temperatures tonight will hit a low of about 25 degrees, rising to a high of 32-38 on Friday. Winds this morning were from the southwest at 16-18 miles per hour, and are expected to diminish slightly tonight.

The downtown temperature at 2 p.m. today registered 38 degrees.

Try the Marshall Plan

YEOVIL, England (UPI) — A court refused yesterday to lower the tax evaluation on the Earl of Poulett's 300-year-old, 77-room ancestral home despite the Earl's plea that the roof leaks, the heating system is broken, the pillars are crumbling and the walls are falling down.

Probe Cause of Fire at Harrelson Home

The investigation was requested by Harrelson himself. He is president of Teamster Local 614.

Fire struck the $10,000 five-room frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Leaun Harrelson Jr., 4560 Clinton St., Independence Township, shortly before 6:30 p.m.

Ronk said he conducted a preliminary probe after the fire was extinguished at 9:30 p.m., but found no evidence of foul play.

But the Pontiac Teamster leader, whose name has been linked with arson in the past, apparently wanted an official investigation.

He requested the probe last night from Charles Leaf, Pontiac state police detective. Leaf and Sgt. Orsmel O'Farrell, head of the Detroit area State Police Fire Bureau, began a search of the damaged home today.

They have not issued a report yet.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Harrelson.

Neighbors called Waterford and Independence Township fire departments and five engines were at the scene within minutes, but firemen were unable to save the one story home from being gutted.

Mrs. Harrelson said she had dumped cigarette butts from several ashtrays into a container on the back porch earlier in the evening.

Later she heard crackling coming from the rear of the house and went to investigate. She found flames sweeping across the porch deck and up wood paneling on the walls, Mrs. Harrelson told firemen.

Shouting "fire," she ran back into the living room to usher her two children from the burning house. Her husband's visiting cousin, Mrs. Sharon Harrelson, 18, with her six-month baby escaped, also. Young Harrelson was not there.

Last night's fire recalled an August, 1958, blaze that swept the apartment of a girl friend of Leaun Harrelson Sr., and another that destroyed the plush Bloomfield Township home of Detroit teamsters business agent Charles O'Brien last July. Both fires were called the result of arson following investigations by state police.

Neither of these fires have

Mortgage Bills in Area Going Up

Notices of higher monthly mortgage payments are on the way for an estimated 212,000 homeowners in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

The Detroit Mortgage Bankers Assn. ascribes the increase to increased costs of local government, said today home owners will be sent the notices this month.

Local government expenditures, principally in school construction and expansion, are responsible with their resultant higher taxes, the association said.

New mortgage costs are the second largest item, according to the association.

CONSIDERABLE VARIATION

The increased payments are expected to vary considerably from one community to another and depending on property value.

Initial payments are expected to cover tax and insurance increases in both 1959 and 1960.

The mortgage bankers organization's members hold or service the mortgages on 800,000 homes in the tri-county area.

The association says payments will go up for about 41 per cent of the owners.

Knudsen to Talk at Chamber Fete

Area Body Will Mark Its 50th Anniversary at March 16 Banquet

S. E. Knudsen, General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, will be the main speaker when the 50th anniversary of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce is observed at the organization's annual banquet March 16.

Other highlights of the Elks Temple event were also announced today by William J. Dean Sr., banquet chairman.

D. B. Varner, chancellor of Michigan State University, Oakland, and Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Pontiac School Board, also are scheduled to speak, Dean said.

Varner is slated to introduce the main speaker and Griffin will act as master of ceremonies.

The evening also will feature the installation of the 1960 officers.

High State Tribunal Eyes Nonacademic Barriers

Court to Rule on Wed Student Bans

LANSING (AP)— Should married teenagers in high school be permitted to take part in athletics and other nonacademic activities? The Michigan Supreme Court is expected to give its answer in the next few weeks.

The question was argued before the justices yesterday. The case came before the court on an appeal from a decision by Circuit Judge Howard L. Campbell. He refused to overrule a school board which barred two 18-year-old boys from playing high school football after they got married.

The school board in the village of Mesick in northwestern Michigan said its purpose was "to discourage child marriage."

Mrs. Maxine Virtue, an assistant attorney general, said the school board's rule "makes second class citizens of married students."

"The concern of the law," Mrs. Virtue said, "is to protect me to attack the state of matrimony and to exalt not to undermine the security of legal marriages."

She said the Mesick School Board's rule could create problems in "shotgun wedding situations" although this question was not involved in the marriage of the football players who had the approval of their parents.

"To put it bluntly," Mrs. Virtue said, "this rule would penalize those youngsters who might in that situation decide to legalize their union, accept their responsibilities and make a home for their expected child.

"It would reward those who were unwilling to marry and it actually places a premium upon illegitimacy."

In a brief submitted the court, the board's attorney, Charles H. Milliner, argued:

"Students today are more ready to accept the actions of their peers as the thing to do. If any married students are in a position of idolization, the more desirous is the group to mimic."

No Set Policy on Married Pupils Here

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools, today said there is no Board of Education policy regarding married students.

"It has been our administrative practice to attempt to talk to a student in a guidance way when the student gets married in high school," said Whitmer. "We feel this is a guidance problem.

"If we are convinced they are sincere in wanting to continue their education, we will continue them. After talking to them, if we feel that it would not be wise to continue them, we will let them quit.

"We make these decisions in the best interest of the children involved and keep an eye on the welfare of the other students."

Controversy has arisen in other school systems when the administration or Board restricted the privileges of the married students or prohibited them from participating in extra curricular activities.

Whitmer said: "We do not bar a married student from extra curricular activities. He is treated like any other student."

A Pontiac Northern High School administrator said there are about seven married students, four girls and three boys" in attendance there.

The schools considered the matter "personal" and acknowledge there may be more married students than are known about.

Press to Sponsor Kitchen School

Classic Chance for Cooks

"Kitchen Classics," a cooking school produced by the National Live Stock and Meat Board and sponsored by The Pontiac Press, will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Jan. 26, 27, 28 and 29, at Pontiac Central High School Auditorium.

Each session will be two hours long, from 2 to 4 in the afternoon. There will be 10 or 12 different dishes prepared and demonstrated daily.

Prizes from local merchants are to be given at each demonstration. There is no admission fee.

Constance Weiser, a graduate home economist and staff member of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will conduct the school, assisted by June Uebele, also a graduate home economist.

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

An attempt by Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry to boost his deputy's salary with funds from the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal System has been ordered stopped by a committee of the Board of Supervisors.

At the same time, the Salaries Committee yesterday asked Norman R. Barnard, corporation counsel, to study the law to see if Barry has exceeded his authority in hiking Robert J. Evans' 1960 pay $1,785.

The attempt was seen by some as evidence of Barry's dissatisfaction that Evans, a county employee since 1952, was receiving considerably less than a comparable position in the Department of Public Works.

The inter-department feud, if it is one, comes at a time when county legislators will seek to consolidate the two departments.

Several committee members yesterday voiced disapproval of Barry's attempt to "go over our heads" after they had already set next year's salaries. Others questioned whether Barry might not have the authority.

"It's a matter of conflict between the two departments," said John Witherup, county personnel director.

Barry was not available for comment.

* * *

In a Dec. 18 letter to Witherup, Barry said he was transferring $1,785 from the system's drain funds annually toward Evans' salary to add to the $3,600 the county was paying him.

* * *

"Therefore," Barry instructed Witherup, "the salary of Mr. Robert Evans should be set at $11,485 annually."

This year, Donald W. Ringler, new deputy DPW director, will receive $12,300, Witherup said.

Barnard said county supervisors in 1947 delegated the drain commissioner as agent in charge of the disposal system, supervising all drains in the southeast section of the county.

Now the question arises as to what has the final authority over what the system's drain funds, derived from fees paid by users of the various drains, can be used for. It was the general feeling of the committee yesterday that once they had set salaries they should stay put.

* * *

"I'm in sympathy with the drain commissioner but I don't think he's using the right tactics," said Robert E. Lilly, secretary of the Board of Auditors.

* * *

"We've set his (Evans') salary and it remains at that," said Clawson Supervisor A. Taylor Menzies emphatically.

* * *

Meanwhile, however, Barry has been ordered not to adjust Evans' pay until Barnard surveys the law.

Man of the Year Deadline Near

Two Weeks Remain to Submit Entries for Area Jaycee Award

The deadline is two weeks away for nominations in the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" contest sponsored annually by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

* * *

Nominations may be made by individuals or organizations, said Charles Lewis, contest chairman.

"We are seeking deserving candidates, who have contributed their energies and talents willingly to make our community a better place to live in," he said.

Candidates must be between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive, said Lewis. If the nominee will have reached his 36th birthday by the end of the year, he still is eligible if the activities for which he is judged were performed when he was 35.

Candidates need not be Jaycees, said Lewis, nor do they necessarily have to be residents of the Pontiac area.

* * *

"But their services should have been performed here," he added.

Temperatures Moderating All Over Nation

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather showed marked improvement today, with temperatures moderating in most of the northern cold belt and snow ending in southern areas.

* * *

* * *

Snow fell in scattered northern areas from the Rockies and eastern Montana eastward through Minnesota, the northern Great Lakes region and in New England. Amounts were light in most places.

PAT NIXON

Mrs. Pat Nixon to Appear Here

Republican women of Oakland County were happy today that "our country's next first lady"—Mrs. Richard M. Nixon—has accepted an invitation to a Feb. 15 reception during her husband's visit to Detroit.

It is believed this will be the only public reception for Mrs. Pat Nixon during the vice president's one-day speaking engagement in Detroit.

The invitation was extended by the Royal Oak Republican Women's Club. Acceptance was announced by Mrs. Leslie C. Consterdine, president, and Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county GOP chairman.

As yet no time or place has been settled on for the visit. However, for which invitations will be sent out, according to Mrs. William H. Chapman and Mrs. John H. Austin, general cochairmen for the affair.

* * *

Women across the county have already begun plans for what they call the visit of the country's "next first lady."

The reception will be cosponsored by the Royal Oak club and the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs.

* * *

The Council, today consisting of nine member clubs, including the Royal Oak group, will take advantage of Mrs. Nixon's special appearance here as a kickoff for a countrywide drive for membership in the Council.

Nixon is not expected to appear other than in Detroit.

The last time the Nixons were in Oakland County was in 1956 when the vice president's campaign train whistlestopped in Pontiac during the presidential campaign that year. Mrs. Nixon was introduced to a huge crowd gathered at the West Huron railroad station.

TAX PATTERNS

James T. Barnes, immediate past president of the association, noted what he called changing tax patterns in suburban and industrial areas.

Tax increases have been "particularly rapid" in certain suburban neighborhoods to which home buyers had been attracted partly by low real estate taxes, Barnes said.

"As these neighborhoods have developed and grown," he said, "more schools and public services have been added at a rapid rate, resulting in increased taxes."

Barnes said that in a number of communities tax assessments have been reduced on large industrial and commercial properties and home owners have been required to pay the difference to maintain public services.

U.S. Prosperity Will Top All Other Years in 1960—Ike

message, the President said the potential danger to the nation of such prolonged labor-management disputes must be met. However, he proposed no remedy through legislation.

Instead, he said he intends to encourage discussions between management and labor, outside the bargaining table.

APPEALS FOR HARMONY

To the newly convened Congress sprinkled with presidential hopefuls, Eisenhower—stating he is beginning his last year in office—appealed for harmony in relations between the White House and the Democratic-controlled Congress.

"Every minute spent in irrelevant interbranch wrangling is precious time taken from the intelligent initiation and adoption of coherent policies for our national survival and policies," he said.

The President, who has had to work with a Democratic-run Congress the last five of his seven years in office, remarked that nevertheless "we have weathered the storms." And he pledged in his final year to "devote my full energies to the tasks at hand, whether these involve travel for the promoting of world understanding, negotiations to reduce international discord, or constant discussions and communications with the Congress and the American people on issues both domestic and foreign."

The President's State of the Union message stretched the administration's 1960 program in only broad outline. The details will be set forth in his Jan. 18 budget message which he announced formally today will call for balanced spending and income in the new fiscal year, starting July 1. The reported scheduled spending figure is a peacetime record — about 81 billion dollars.

Eisenhower said that despite the long steel dispute, marked by a 116-day strike and then a back-to-work court order, the budget for the current fiscal year ending June 30 will show a surplus of about 200 million dollars.

The message contained no real surprises in the field of legislation. Among other things, he called for continuance of foreign aid to bolster the free world against communism; for enactment of the civil rights program he recommended last year, particularly with respect to protecting the right to vote; new farm laws—also recommended previously—to replace "an outmoded system which has failed to protect farm income" and a school aid program with federal incentives to encourage state and local classroom construction.

Alluding to the threat of the free world from communism, Eisenhower said: "With both sides of this divided world in possession of unbelievably destructive weapons, mankind approaches a state where mutual annihilation becomes a possibility."

He said recent Soviet deportations and pronouncements "suggest the possible opening of a somewhat less-strained period in the relationships between the Soviet Union and the free world."

FEARS FALSE LULL

Eisenhower cautioned free nations against being "misled by pleasant promises," but he said the United States intends to deal with the Soviet Union with the utmost seriousness.

* * *

Eisenhower made it plain he does not expect the Soviet Union to touch off an all-out war.

"It is my studied conviction that no nation will ever risk war against us unless we should be so foolish as to neglect the defense forces we now so powerfully support," he said.

"It is worldwide knowledge that any nation which might be tempted to attack the United States, even though our country might sustain great losses, would itself promptly suffer a terrible destruction.

"In 14 recent test launchings, at ranges of over 5,000 miles, Atlas has been striking on an average within two miles of the target. This is less than the length of a jet runway—well within the circle of total destruction," he said of the Atlas missile.

* * *

The President said the nation's striking power in manned bombers is unmatched. He added that increasing numbers of nuclear submarines, some armed with deadly Polaris missiles, will be entering service.

In this presidential and congressional election year, with Republicans sure to hammer at peace and prosperity campaign themes, Eisenhower said:

* * *

"Today our surging strength is apparent to everyone; 1960 promises to be the most prosperous year of our history."

Dr. Zimmerman Becomes Medical Society President

Dr. Walter J. Zimmerman, 32340 Sylvan Lane, Birmingham, last night officially assumed office as president of the Oakland County Medical Society at a dinner meeting held jointly with the County Bar Assn. at the Kingsley Inn.

George A. Dondero, former congressman from Oakland County, and Stanton G. Dondero, circuit judge, were speakers on "The St. Lawrence Seaway."

Named to the board of directors were doctors Albert E. Quarton Jr., Dale R. Drew, and incumbents Robert R. Wessels, Edwin J. Westfall, Robert M. Bookmyer, Harry Arnkoff and Thomas S. McInerney.

Delegates are doctors Felix J. Kemp, Harold A. Furlong, Chauncey G. Burke, Walter J. Zimmerman, Merle A. Haanes, Arthur R. Young, Michael C. Kozonis and Dr. Bookmyer.

Chosen alternates were doctors F. Michael Sheridan, Rockwood W. Bullard Jr., Thomas G. Geekie, Vincnet P. Russell, Elmer J. Mueller, Norman F. Gehringer, Paul T. Labti and James R. Quinn.

$250,000 Approved for Interceptor Project

Federal Evergreen Sewer Aid OK'd

A federal grant of $250,000 has been approved for the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer project for eight Pontiac area communities.

The grant was announced today by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington.

Sen. Philip A. Hart said he was pleased by the action.

"This sewage treatment construction is necessary to ensure a very real need," he said. "I know the people of Oakland County are not advocating any wasteful spending."

The grant—the largest possible at present — was sought by the Oakland County Department of Public Works, which is directing construction of the $6,919,000 Evergreen system.

* * *

Federal participation means that local costs will drop.

Meanwhile, Hart expressed concern over the future of a new water pollution control bill, which might provide funds to aid Pontiac in construction of $3,000,000 worth of new sewage treatment facilities.

Referring to "rumblings from the White House about a veto," Hart said he hoped no veto will be forthcoming when the White House gets a compromise bill.

Pontiac is one of 29 Michigan communities that applied for aid this year for sewage disposal projects.

The communities asked for a total $6,100,000 in federal aid.

But the federal contribution for the current fiscal year totaled only $1,260,000 enough for only seven of the communities. Pontiac's bid for $250,000 in federal aid—the maximum amount available at present—was not on the approved priority list.

Three other Pontiac area communities also placed too low on the priority list to get aid. Lathrup Village asked for $35,860, Rochester for $87,000 and Utica $94,050.

The House and Senate passed different bills last year authorizing up to one billion dollars in federal contributions to state projects over a 10-year period and permitting larger federal contributions on individual projects. An anticipated White House veto kept the measures from going to a conference committee last year.

Backers of the measures plan to send them to a House-Senate conference committee early this year, although prospects for White House approval still are not considered good.

The present limit on the federal contribution is 30 per cent or $250,000, whichever is smaller. The House and Senate bills would up the money maximum to $400,000 in the case of the House bill and $500,000 in the case of the Senate bill.

Nikita Extends Tour to Burma

Leaves About Feb. 10 for India, Indonesia; Other Reds Also Trip

MOSCOW (AP) — Investia indicated today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev will stop in Burma as well as India during his trip to Indonesia next month.

* * *

The Soviet government newspaper reported that Khrushchev had been invited to visit by both Prime Minister Nehru and the government of Burma. Although the accounts did not say he accepted, it was assumed that the invitations would not have been extended and publicized unless acceptance had been indicated.

* * *

Khrushchev is scheduled to leave Moscow about Feb. 10. He will be preceded Jan. 20 by President Klementi Y. Voroshilov, deputy premier Frol Kozlov and Ekaterina Furtseva, only woman member of the Communist Party Presidium. They will be making a state visit to India, and little or high political significance is expected to transpire.

* * *

This will be Khrushchev's second trip to India and Burma.

His first was in 1955, when he and then-premier Nikolai Bulganin made a tour of neutralist countries, including Yugoslavia.

The Soviet news agency Tass today reported without comment the White House announcement of the visit by President and Mrs. Eisenhower to South America next month.

Will Arraign Housewife on Check Charge

A 17-year-old Auburn Heights housewife accused of passing more than $2,000 in bad checks will be arraigned in Circuit Court Monday.

* * *

Mrs. Nancy Harper, 17, of 1639 Avalon St., waived examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Monday. She was released from the Oakland County Jail under $500 bond.

* * *

Mrs. Harper was arrested Dec. 30 by Pontiac Police while attempting to pass a bogus check at the Perry street branch of the Community National Bank.

She is charged with uttering and publishing.

The Day in Birmingham

Will Organize Chapter of Citizens for Michigan

BIRMINGHAM — An organizational meeting of the Birmingham chapter of the Citizens for Michigan Committee will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Community House.

The statewide nonpartisan committee, organized in September by American Motors President and Bloomfield Hills resident George W. Romney, will study state government problems and means for their solution.

A CFM representative will present its charter to the Birmingham chapter at the meeting.

Cochairmen of the Birmingham chapter, Raymond A. VonDrehle and David F. Breck said they applied for the charter immediately following an Oakland County organizational meeting in Pontiac last month.

* * *

Signing the application for the Birmingham charter were Mrs. J. B. Benedict, Jeanne Lloyd, William J. Cochran, Mrs. Joyce VonDrehle, Leonard A. Kurewski, Harvey Sherman, F. F. Hill, John McVay, Ann R. Klein, Clifford C. Van Dyke, Charles Davison and T. L. Otberger.

The Junior League of Birmingham has announced it will devote a portion of its next meeting Jan. 13 to discuss the plans and programs of the Citizens for Michigan group.

The Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs will resume its weekly meetings at 10 a.m. Jan. 12 at the Community House.

The public is invited free of charge.

Stephen K. Wirth

Service for Stephen K. Wirth, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wirth, 28875 Charles Lane, Franklin, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at Lutheran Church of the Shepard King, West Bloomfield Township.

His body will be at Wilkes Theo Funeral Home, Royal Oak, until 11 a.m. Saturday. Burial will be in Glen Eden Cemetery, Livonia.

He died yesterday after a nine-week illness in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

Lathrup Woman Only 'Victim' Aboard Plane

A Lathrup woman was the only casualty among 85 persons aboard a United Air Lines DC4 jet airliner forced to make an emergency landing east of Denver at Buckley Field, Colo., yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. George C. King of 27912 E. California St. suffered a broken toe when she slid down an emergency escape slide after the plane landed.

Mrs. King, 56, with her toe in a cast, was to resume her trip to Chicago today. The others left earlier after being transferred to another aircraft.

The jet liner was en route from San Francisco to Chicago when a failure in its hydraulic system developed.

Looked Good to Him

GREAT YARMOUTH, England (UPI) — Harry Boyle explained yesterday that he had taken the bicycle because it was charged with stealing because his feet were aching and "it seemed to me that providence had placed the cycle there." He was fined $5.60.

Judge Convicts, Fines Teamster

Gasoline Man, Union Guilty of Price-Fixing in Indiana County

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—A veteran Teamsters official was convicted Tuesday of engineering a gasoline price-fixing arrangement in Lake County and was fined $3,000.

Michael Sawochka, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 142, also was given a suspended six-month prison term.

U.S. District Judge Luther M. Swygert ordered $5,000 fines each for the local Union and the Gasoline Retailers Assn. of Lake County.

Winding up a bench trial which had continued since Dec. 8, Judge Swygert ruled the Union and retailers had engaged in a price-fixing conspiracy that had stifled competition "for years, and specifically since 1954."

The judge called Sawochka the "prime mover" in the arrangement and said the plot "did a disservice to unionism."

Seventeen major oil companies were named coconspirators but not codefendants in the case.

Swygert particularly found anti-trust violations in the arrangement which banned price signs at filling stations and the picketing by the Union at stations which disregarded the ban.

Russell Bassett of Munster, Ind., business agent of the local Union, and Harry Gold of Whiting, Ind., a director of the association, were acquitted as individuals but not as officials.

Apples Thrive When Crossed by Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet scientists say they have crossed American and Russian apples to produce a new variety that can be "preserved fresh for 370 days." The report did not specify the mode of preservation.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet news agency Tass said the variety, called the Garsev hybrid, resulted from a cross between the American Superb, which it said can be preserved 225 days, and the Russian Grushovka Vernenskaya. It said the new apple averaged 4½ ounces.

★ ★ ★

Scientists at the Kirghiz Academy of Sciences in the mountainous Kirghiz republic, where the Garsev hybrid was developed, said it can thrive at altitudes up to 6,000 feet.

Chases Off Starlings; Where Do They Go?

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the Youngstown Board of Education and Youngstown University complain they are getting the birds that Otto Standke, the Kansas bird expert, is chasing out of old haunts in downtown Youngstown.

Standke, who started his war on starlings Saturday, says he scared the birds off the Mahoning courthouse but denies these are the birds that are flocking to buildings on the northern edge of the downtown district.

★ ★ ★

"The air was literally black with starlings Tuesday night," said Dr. J. Fred Essig, superintendent of schools. "We had a few before. Now we can count them in the thousands."

★ ★ ★

Former Millionaire Divorced by Ex-Model

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—Edward L. (Doc) Williams, the former cemetery chain millionaire, was divorced Wednesday by the model he married four years ago aboard an airliner over Iowa.

Mrs. Williams won a $80,000 settlement from the 58-year-old Williams, who is bankrupt. But the government has a prior claim on him for $84,642 in back taxes.

The marriage was the third for Williams and the second for Mrs. M. Williams, a former Minneapolis model.

11 Join Legal Aid Unit Board

3 Lawyers, 6 Others Elected Directors of County Society

Seven original members of the Board of Directors of the Oakland County Legal Aid Society have approved the increase of the governing body to 18 with the addition of five attorneys and six public members.

Attorneys elected to the Board were Clarence L. Hudson, Royal Oak, Edward A. Potere, Rochester, William E. Wilson, Ferndale, Albert P. Herzog, Farmington, and Robert V. Parenti, Pontiac.

As yet, the society, designed to provide free legal assistance to county residents unable to afford an attorney, has not opened its office in Pontiac as an attorney in charge of that has not been hired.

Ford's Breech Will Head Unit of Project Hope

DETROIT (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. Board Chairman, Ernest R. Breech has accepted the chairmanship of the business and industry committee of Project Hope.

The project organization will send a hospital ship, outfitted and staffed as a floating medical school, to Southeast Asia early this year.

Owes Life to Kidney Doctor Made

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —A homemade artificial kidney constructed by a 27-year-old doctor is keeping a 41-year-old patient alive, attendants at Mercy Hospital said today.

The patient was reported rational for the first time after the kidney was put by use Dr. Bill McCullough built the apparatus from equipment discarded from open heart surgery and spare parts purchased from the dime store, plumbing and hardware shops.

Dr. McCullough tested the precision of the kidney on animals earlier and used it for humanitarian purposes Wednesday.

The doctor said it is believed the patient swallowed a toxic agent which caused a kidney shutdown and that he was in danger of complete kidney failure which would cause death.

New Haven RR Says Fare Hike or . . .

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New Haven Railroad warned its 35,000 New York area commuters today that it may stop running trains for them unless it gets a massive tax write-off or a commuter fare increase of 70 per cent.

Railroad President George Alpert yesterday asked for a commuter fare increase of 10 per cent, to take effect Feb. 4.

If the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission and agencies in the affected states refuse the increase and schedule hearings, Alpert said he would withdraw the 10 per cent request and ask a full 70 per cent boost instead.

The railroad, which serves parts of New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, lost an estimated $9,720,000 in the first 11 months of 1959. Its annual commuter loss in the New York area alone is more than $8,000,000, it said.

Goes to Aswan for High Dam Rites

Nasser Will Fulfill Big Dream Saturday

CAIRO (UPI)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser goes to Aswan this Saturday to lay the foundation stone to his pet dream—the high dam.

The United Arab Republic President will be accompanied by King Mohamed V of Morocco, who will be visiting Egypt on the first stop of a Middle East tour.

After laying the foundation stone, Nasser will start the job by pressing a button to ignite 20 tons of dynamite and blow up 20,000 tons of rock.

The high dam will increase Egypt's cultivated land by one-third. It is Nasser's main answer to Egypt's biggest problem—overpopulation.

WILL TAKE 7 YEARS

The whole project, including the dam and the hydroelectric power station, will cost 240,000,000 Egyptian pounds ($672,000,000). It will take at least seven years to complete.

The income of the dam in one year will outstrip the whole cost of the project.

The dam will bring 12,000,000 pounds ($34,400,000) into the state budget and 285,000,000 pounds ($114,000,000) into national income every year.

The high dam, Egyptian officials say, will be the highest dam on earth—150 meters high.

The water backup will be the world's largest man-made lake —5,000 square kilometers. This reservoir will stretch to the south for 180 kilometers—30 in Egypt and 150 in the Sudan.

* * *

The dam will be built of granite rock and compressed sand.

Nasser, in one of his poetic flights on his highest dream, said the dam will take 17 times as much stone as the great pyramid of Cheops at Guizeh.

The reservoir will store up 130,000,000,000 cubic meters of water. That's 25 times the capacity of the existing Aswan dam, four miles to the north.

The water will irrigate 2,000,000 new acres of land. Egypt is now cultivating 6,000,000 acres.

The hydroelectric power to be generated from the high dam will amount to 10,000,000,000 kilowatt hours annually. That's about 10 times Egypt's present electric power.

INDUSTRIAL BOOST

In the Sudan, the high dam alone will irrigate twice the size of land now under cultivation.

But the storage waters will cover up towns and villages in the north. Egypt is paying the Sudan 15,000,000 pounds ($47,800,000) as compensation.

The inhabitants will go farther south, but some want to move to higher ground close to their old homes.

The high dam project will be executed in two stages. The first will be the construction of the dam itself, and the second the construction of the power station.

* * *

The first stage begins now and will take four years, possibly three. The second stage will take six years, possibly four.

Nasser wants to begin the second stage in 1962 instead of waiting until the first stage is completed.

Russia has taken on the first stage. She has given Egypt a loan of 400,000,000 rubles ($100,000,000) for the task.

The second stage is still open for bidding. West Germany, East Germany, Italy, Japan and Britain have already expressed the desire to bid.

GERMANY OFFERS LOAN

West Germany has formally offered a loan of 200,000,000 marks ($47,619,050).

When the dam is completed at the end of the first stage, the 2,000,000 acres to be reclaimed will be ready to take water and go under cultivation.

Natural gas is usually found with crude oil, in underground vaults or pockets of shale, stone and sand.

Colorful Kennedy Makes Official Announcement

No one was really surprised when Senator JOHN KENNEDY, of Massachusetts, came out officially with his announcement that he is seeking the Democratic Presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

Making it official was merely action to seek a few more headlines. There is nothing wrong with this practice since it is all part of the game. Actually, Kennedy has been a mighty active candidate for the office since the last Democratic convention.

The Massachusetts Senator stated in making his announcement that religion would not be a factor. He is a Roman Catholic. This is the way it should be, but past records show that many people will be influenced by the candidates' religion.

It will be interesting to note whether the country as a whole has grown more tolerant since the days of Al Smith. We would like to think that this were so, but unfortunately we still have many people with warped opinions when it comes to religion and politics.

At this stage it is a little too early to see just how the religious issue will be taken. KENNEDY has ability and charm, plus a well organized team, and he should make a real, fighting candidate.

He still will have other contenders from his own party and at this time he is far from a lead pipe cinch to cop the coveted post.

GM Magazine Promotes Safe Driving for Youth

Following right in the wake of our miserable traffic record over the recent holiday period comes news that General Motors Corporation is starting a youth magazine.

★ ★ ★

The new magazine, which was announced Monday, is named "American Youth." It will emphasize safe driving practices and will be distributed free every other month to newly licensed young drivers.

★ ★ ★

It is indeed heartening to see one of our leading auto manufacturers inaugurating another program to help educate our youthful drivers. Perhaps this early training will pay off and be a partial solution to this ever increasing menace.

Guatemala Progresses Under Good Program

While political upheavals and unrest in Latin America make the headlines, little is heard of the steady progress being made in other parts of the hemisphere.

The Government of Guatemala, for example, under President YDIGORAS FUENTES is distributing land as part of a continuing program to resettle farmers. Recently titles to another group of new housing units were handed to those who had helped build them.

A further sign of progress is the Center for Training in Public Administration. Since it was established two years ago, it has schooled nearly 2,000 in various branches of government service. The housing and training projects are sponsored jointly by Guatemala and the United States.

In an unprecedented move to improve the economic condition of the Indian population, Guatemala is sending bilingual Indian agricultural extension agents to take modern farming methods to their people. This is an important step in the government's drive to incorporate its huge Indian population into the national life.

These efforts on the part of a small country to improve the lot of all its people are a fine example of intelligent government planning and cooperation.

"ADMINISTRATION Losing Hope of Balanced Budget."—Headline. No one expected the national budget to be balanced except unmitigated and incurable optimists.

"DON'T Try Suicide — You Might Get Killed."—Title of magazine article. Oh, well, we're always in danger, anyway. Many people who try to keep on living get killed.

Oldest Resident Has Her Largest Birthday Shower

Thin ice: A murderous commodity.

The card and letter shower for

Mrs. Eliza Beaumont Taylor,

Olive M. Clark,

she considered it to be "the best birthday I ever had." They came from a wide area and from people in every walk of life, including

President and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The letter states that she understood and cherished every missive, and that she continues in good health, looking forward to next year's shower.

My Imlay City correspondent sends word that

who died Monday of a heart attack, at the age of 86, while changing trains in Chicago, had practiced dentistry in Imlay City for over 60 years.

Burney Fessenden

hooked something quite unusual in the shape of an oil stove that he lost ten years ago when his fish house burned.

Writing that he will return to the scenes of his boyhood when Pontiac celebrates its centennial in 1961 is who says he helped build the fires in the stoves in the old brick courthouse 65 years ago. He now lives in Milwaukee.

"This has been a good winter for our feathered friends," phones

Mrs. Gene Dilworth

Raising some peanuts the past season,

Marked Man

Anti-Semitic Finger Points at Reds

WASHINGTON — The finger of suspicion begins to point more and more toward Communist responsibility for the wave of anti-Semitism which now has broken out sporadically in countries as far apart as Canada and Australia and Sweden and South Africa.

LAWRENCE

Even in Israel —the last place one would expect to see any anti-Semitic demonstrations — swastika insignia were found in a synagogue and in a labor exchange building.

Much of this has been brushed off as "crackpot activity," just as those who daubed paint on West German synagogues were promptly labeled "hooligans."

But when anything occurs that is as widespread as has just been reported in the press dispatches from all parts of the world, it is apparent this is no accidental occurrence but, as the West German government itself now declares, a well-concerted plan.

Dr. Karl Bach, chairman of resistance fighters against the Nazis, is quoted in a UPI dispatch as having told Chancellor Adenauer that there is an underground anti-Semitic movement and that its two centers in Sweden and Vienna are in contact with former Nazi leaders who have fled to Egypt.

Recent reports indicate that some of the anti-Semitic demonstrations in the southern part of the United States might have had their origin in certain Arab countries.

It is significant, moreover, that, although there must be a considerable number of anti-Semites in East Germany, no demonstrations occurred there for several days,

Then, when that fact was noted in the press, the East Germans managed to join the procession with the painting of swastikas on walls in a small town near East Berlin.

Obviously the Communists are playing a double game. During the last 10 days, they suppressed in the Soviet press the news of the anti-Semitic demonstrations but unhesitatingly filled the air waves in the West with denunciations of West Germany as being dominated by former Nazis and Fascists.

Plainly the Communist strategy is to injure the prestige of the Adenauer government in the free world and to weaken the influence of the Chancellor in the forthcoming "summit" meetings on the Berlin problem.

The objective is to convince people in the West that it would be a mistake to reunify Germany. For, despite their boasts about relaxing tension, the Soviets have not given up their idea of forcing the Western powers out of Berlin altogether.

Just why should anti-Jewish "hate paintings" appear simultaneously, since Christmas Day, not only in West Germany but in Britain, Australia, Belgium, France, Finland, Greece, Sweden, Austria and Italy, as well as in remote parts of the world?

It seems incredible that the former Nazis should suddenly find themselves possessed of enough money of their own and a big enough international apparatus to carry out such a scheme.

The answer probably is that there are some "right wing" groups which have secret ties with the Communists, though outwardly they profess hostility to each other.

The West German government has just declared through its press chief, Felix von Eckhardt, that, while there is no positive proof as yet that the incidents were organized and controlled by a single organization, "we hope to have the proof soon."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Activity Best Medicine If You Have Heart Trouble

A New England reader says he has a heart strain. He would like to bowl but thinks he shouldn't. He asks what I think about bowling.

DR. BRADY

The man doesn't say what his occupation is, whether he walks on eggs or climbs two steps at a time, whether he is 40 or 75 or whether heart strain is his only complaint.

For that matter, he doesn't tell me whether he has at least 20 functionally efficient teeth— his own or his dentist's—whether he can chin himself once or whether he can hold his breath at least 30 seconds.

All the information he gave me is that he has a heart strain, and all the advice I can give him is that if I were in his place I'd head for the bowling green and get into the game.

Well, perhaps not — in New England, come to think of it, one would require skates or snowshoes and an overcoat to bowl this time of year.

But then, again, maybe the New England reader refers to tenpins and not to bowling on the green. If so, I still say I'd bowl if I were in his place. By this I mean to assure readers that experience and statistics show that persons with damaged heart are less likely to have a mishap or an "attack" if they keep moderately active than they are if they walk on eggs or avoid all activity; and that professional, business or sedentary people, clerical and white collar workers who get little general exercise, such as walking, are likely to suffer a coronary thrombosis at an earlier age and of greater severity than persons who work hard or regularly walk several miles a day.

HIGH I. Q.

At various times I have told here, of men who have taken up skiing, mountain climbing and even marathon racing for sport, after having recovered from coronary thrombosis. A notable characteristic of these men is high I.Q.

A notable characteristic of people who have had some kind of "heart failure" and forever afterward restrict their physical activity to walking on eggs is ignorance — when it isn't a moocher's way of securing an easy living at the expense of others.

As I try to show in the booklet CVD (about heart and artery troubles) — for a copy send me 35c and stamped envelope bearing your address — the successful treatment of any kind of heart trouble consists essentially of (1) rest, (2) graduated exercise and (3) good nutrition. Medication is only incidental. Digitalis — in my opinion—is the old hokum tunkum.

Persons with "weak heart" complex who take digitalis in the naive belief that the drug keeps the heart going from day to day are either just stubborn about it or else too fond of playing upon the sympathy of those around them. The doctor who tells these poor souls they must have their digitalis every day as long as they live or want to live is exploiting their credulity.

The real heart tonic I suggest in the heart booklet is nonmedicinal.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

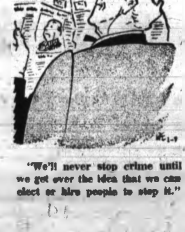
The Country Parson



"We'll never stop crime until we get over the idea that we can elect or hire people to stop it."

Voice of the People

'We Are All Responsible for Safe Driving Program'

We're all responsible for our highway murders. We and our elected officials sit idly by and allow the slaughter to go on. An aware and aroused public can cut road deaths greatly. The right laws, strictly enforced, can turn the trick.

We should have mandatory stops at railroad crossings, and cars shouldn't be manufactured to go over the legal limit. Wrecked autos should be displayed publicly as horrible examples.

Lighted stunt and crossbones should be hung from all traffic lights. Drunk drivers should be fined $200 and given three-month revocation of license if no accident is involved. If involved in an accident, the driver should pay $500 with 90 days in jail and a year's revocation. A second offense should bring six months jail with no alternative and a lifetime license revocation.

41 Allen St.

'They're Supposed to Work for Us'

As nearly as I can make out, the City Commission has spent five million dollars on the City hospital when the voters authorized three million. And so the Commission and Manager tell the voters they haven't much interest in what the taxpayers think and want.

★ ★ ★

We might spend five million more and have an even better hospital, but along with a lot of other people, I'd rather have seen most of the last two million go into an airport, an auditorium, some needed street work, parks and a cleanup campaign.

★ ★ ★

The Commission is supposed to work out the wishes of the taxpayers and not a small pressure group. Maybe we need a big pressure group.

Disatisfied

'Let Them Keep Quiet About It'

I agree with Nathan Twining that a pet gripe is retired military officers writing books criticizing superiors they had in service. As Twining says, most of them didn't know the whole story and therefore aren't capable of judging the situations they criticize, and even if they did, good taste and self-respect should clamp the lid on their typewriters at the first temptation to put it in writing.

Disgusted

'Former Georgian' Receives Answer

As one of the many white Southerners living in the North, I resent Former Georgian's article on the Atlanta integration plan. We who moved from Georgia to Michigan solved the problem quickly, not the snail-pace way Former Georgian pleads for. I'm at a complete loss to understand why any Southerner needs more time.

I resent the insinuation "unreasonable people are trying to cram integration down the South's throat." Most of us in Michigan take no part in this controversy, but if forced to consider the matter would arrive at the same decision the fine Southern gentlemen on the U.S. Supreme Court reached in 1954.

'Man Will Pay for Her Crime'

★ ★ ★

No doubt some jury will find him or some other sucker guilty and some holier-than-thou judge will sentence him to death or life imprisonment.

★ ★ ★

The woman is the real cause of her husband's death. The pusher who only pulled the trigger will be the one who pays for it. She admits adultery with at least six men, which makes her worse than the professional who doesn't try to deceive anyone. Still she will be free to go merrily on in her happy chase after men.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'H.R.' Necessary to Restaurant

"H-R" can make or break a retail store as Tony's shrewd remarks well attest. Two restaurants may offer the same prices yet one can run circles around the other by using superior psychology. A smart waitress will not contaminate food or eating utensils. And please note the innovation at the Snyder farms.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

"Let's drop into this restaurant and have a bite of breakfast," I suggested, as I met him one morning in the Loop.

DR. CRANE

"Fine, but I'd rather try the eating place across the street," was his reply.

After we were comfortably seated at the table, I asked him why he had chosen this restaurant.

"First of all," he began, "there is a full time cashier here. But at the restaurant across the street, the waitress also operates the cash register.

"Then she will go right back to serving patrons. And she picks up pats of butter with her fingers, thus coating them with probably millions of germs.

"Furthermore, I have seen her carry three clean drinking glasses by inserting her thumb and two fingers into the different glasses. She not only leaves her fingerprints on the inside of each glass but millions of bacteria, too.

"She also picks up the bread in her fingers and if you order a sweet roll or doughnut, she picks that up, too, and leaves countless germs thereon.

PURE FOOD LAWS

"Our U. S. Pure Food Laws should extend to all food handlers," he went on irritably, "especially waiters and waitresses.

"In this restaurant where we are seated, the girls use a small cocktail fork to pick up the pats of butter so they never contaminate it with their fingers.

"And if you wish a sweet roll or doughnut, they first cover it with a piece of wax paper before lifting it out of the glass case, so their fingers never touch the food.

"It is these little evidences of cleanliness and scientific food handling that cause me to dine here.

"Why, in that other restaurant, the waitress will blow her nose on a piece of kleenex, then drop it in a wastebasket but never wash her hands.

"Is it any wonder that colds and the flu spread rapidly through the patrons of that other restaurant?"

"H-R" IN RESTAURANTS

Tony's remarks show that "H. R." or superior "Human Relations" strategy can make or break a retail business.

★ ★ ★

For such remarks as his soon spread around to the discredit of the unhygienic restaurant and to the credit of the healthful eating place.

A good waitress should not have to be taught how to handle her duties for smart girls should know better than to contaminate food with dirty fingers.

Even in their own homes, they should NEVER pick up spoons by the bowl end thereof or touch the blades of dinner knives or the prongs of forks.

★ ★ ★

Down in Indiana during the strawberry season last summer, Mrs. Crane patronized the Snyder Farms, because she learned that Mr. Snyder made all of his pickers first wash their hands thoroughly with soap and hot water. And in each box was this printed comment:

"Strawberries must be picked by hand. Since many people eat them raw or with a minimum cleansing with cold water, we pick ours with clean hands!"

Everything From Defense to Boxing

Probes Aplenty on Congress Agenda

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign affairs, defense policy, television, outer space, drug prices and boxing are among the subjects for congressional investigation this year.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is scheduled to undertake one of the most exhaustive studies of U.S. foreign affairs in years. Top government officials and outside experts will be called as witnesses in hearings that will begin early in the session.

The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee has two big hearings on tap. One will be a continuation of its investigation of drug prices, with tranquilizers coming under scrutiny next, probably late this month.

The other will deal with alleged underworld infiltration of professional boxing.

Defense policy, including U.S. missile programs, is due for sweeping investigation in both houses. The Senate Space Committee and the House Science and Astronautics Committee have scheduled parallel hearings on all phases of the subject. The House Armed Services Committee will concentrate on the armed forces.

Foreign trade will be the subject of prolonged hearings by the Senate Commerce Committee. These will explore the basic position of the United States in the competition for world markets.

* * *

The Commerce Committee is also planning to take a look at the television industry to see whether it has cleaned up the practices uncovered in last session's investigation of quiz shows.

The House Legislative Oversight subcommittee, which hit the headline jackpot with those TV quiz hearings, is moving into the field of payola — or undercover payments for favors — this session. Television, radio, the recording industry and music publishers will be the principal fields of the new inquiry.

* * *

Foreign aid, with particular emphasis on the development loan fund, will be examined by the House Government Operations subcommittee.

* * *

The House Veterans' Affairs Committee is going to look into the administration's procedures for investing the multibillion-dollar veterans' insurance trust fund. Chairman Olin Teague (D-Tex) has charged that the money is being invested at interest rates well below the market.

To Raze Carnegie Hall, Transfer Concert Site

NEW YORK (AP)—The assembly hall of Hunter College, a municipal institution, will be the main orchestral concert hall in New York City next season.

* * *

* * *

The New York Philharmonic announced Tuesday the Hunter auditorium will be its temporary home during the 1960-61 season. It seats 2,200 — 500 fewer than Carnegie Hall.

Research Failing in Brain Study

Does Not Get Enough Money, Nor Give Organ Proportionate Time

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's not a lack of materials or ideas which holds back scientific research into the workings of the human brain, but the lack of interest of official and private organizations which allot the funds and select the subjects.

Indirectly Dr. David Stafford-Clark, a world leader in the field, was answering a criticism of psychiatry often voiced by scientists who subject other parts of the body to rigorously scientific scrutiny. Psychiatry, these critics say, relies too much on case histories of the mentally ill.

The way research funds and interest are slanted is ridiculous, he said in a lecture to a British medical audience. He is in charge of psychological medicine at London's famous Guy's Hospital Medical School.

The human brain is an organ weighing between 40 and 50 ounces, roughly one-fortieth of the total received no less than 25 per cent of the total blood supply circulating through the body, and it receives it first.

"If we compare this distribution with the distribution of money by the community for the care and study of mental illness as a fraction of the total sum spent upon the care of all illness, the comparison is striking. Expenditure upon the care of bodily ailments other than those affecting the brain, exceeds by 12 and 20 times that provided for medical care, treatment, and research into mental illness."

Forest fires in the U. S. each year burn over areas larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined.

Receipts Five Per Cent Above Best Previous Year, 1956, CPAs Say

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Industry analysts Seidman & Seidman, certified public accountants, today reported the nation's household furniture industry broke all records in 1959.

Dollar volume, the report said, exceeded that of the best previous year — 1956 — by five per cent and topped 1958 volume by 12 per cent.

Total shipments in 1959 at manufacturers' prices amounted to some $7,730,000,000 compared with $7,040,000,000 in 1956 and $6,185,000,000 in record-setting 1958.

Frank E. Seidman, who prepared the report, commented as follows on the industry's future prospects:

"The outlook for American business in 1960 is indeed good. Save that the steel strike is out of the way, new peaks are in sight for most of the important indicators of economic progress.

"There is strong evidence that 1960 is going to be the best year ever for the furniture business.

"Furniture output will increase over the long term because of our rapidly growing population with its constantly increasing demands not only for more people to be served, but also for a continuous increase in the standing of living."

Concluding with a word of caution, he said:

"Nearly all the forecasts are extremely 'bullish' and experience tells us that when the experts are all "prophets of boom," it is time to keep one's feet firmly planted on the ground."

Doctors Caught Flat-Footed

Pes Valgo-Planus Puzzles

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK — Medical science would do people a great favor if it devoted some of its energy during 1960 to pes valgo-planus which is a fancy scientific way of saying flat feet.

This is the opinion of Drs. Simon J. Wikler and Thomas Hale, Jr., who made a thorough study of what science does not know about the subject. Their original thought was to cram themselves with knowledge. It turned out that knowledge in this field is very close to zero.

Five quite plausible theories of what causes flat feet have been proposed since 1900, which sounds like progress. But unhappily "all these theories conflict with each other" and they all conflict "with the often noted phenomenon that habitually bare-footed people have no arch complaints at all."

Many doctors believe shoes cause the trouble but none agree on how shoes do it. Wikler and Hale found that some of the "so-called healthful features" which manufacturers claim they build into shoes, have been scientifically denounced as actually harmful.

MAY BE RECENT

From their study they got the notion that foot trouble may be a fairly recent disease, coinciding with "the inventions in shoe manufacture that made possible a stylish, inexpensive shoe." These shoes came into wide use around 1900.

They got the notion from the records of a large New York general hospital. In 1930, 2.6 per cent of total admissions related to the arch; in 1913, arch complaints totaled 29.2 per cent of admissions.

"The woman's pointed shoe of 50 years ago is coming back into vogue," they continued in the technical journal, "Military Medicine." "Every foot specialist in his practice sees the damage done by the pointed shoes of 50 years ago."

They were disillusioned with the flat-foot theorists, not only because their theories conflict. All of them "fail to point out that our shoes are not only too small in most cases, but are hardly ever the same shape as our feet."

Another disturbing thing to them was the evidence that doctors are not aware of their ignorance concerning the cause of pes valgo-planus.

"None of the textbooks preface their discussion of 'flat feet' with the usual 'The cause of the disease is unknown,' as they do with other diseases," they said. "All the text authors proceed with their ideas as though they had the ultimate truth. Since most of them differ, we must assume that most of them are not entirely correct."

But is it any wonder? In one Grade A medical school, they said, a student gets 10 minutes of instruction on foot conditions during four years of school work and two years of internship.

During the decades of the 50s, 700 million dollars was assigned to finding out the causes of chronic diseases, but not one penny of it was assigned to the cause of flat feet.

May the decade of the 60s be different! May medical science get mankind back on its arches.

About 25 per cent of U.S. cancer victims die before they are 45 years old.

Seeks Punishment in Shaving Incident

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korea will demand punishment of the Americans responsible for shaving the heads of two women prostitutes caught in a U.S. Army barracks, National Police Director Kee Kang-hak indicated today.

"The incident is a matter of great interest to the Korean people, and we will demand punishment of those responsible, depending on a study of the investigation results," he told newsmen.

He added that the U.S. Army is being asked to report its findings to Korean police. The Army has announced that two sergeants performed the shaving after midnight Jan. 2 on orders of a company commander who was "cracking down on trespassing thieves and prostitutes.

★ ★ ★

The Army has not yet decided whether to prefer charges, and a number of front-line officers are known to feel harsh punishment is not warranted. But the Army said it did not condone such treatment of trespassers, and the commander of the battalion involved warned his officers against a repetition.

Purchase details were not disclosed in the announcement Wednesday by Mrs. Agnes B. Baker, owner and publisher the last 10 years.

Smith, a former naval officer, has been employed as editor of the publication and also was active as a free-lance newsman.

Israel Museum to Get Treasures From Billy Rose

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Museum of Israel will soon have a five-acre garden filled with heroic-sized statues by some of the great sculptors of modern times — all courtesy of showman Billy Rose.

Samuel Rubin, president of the America-Israel Cultural Foundation, announced the million-dollar gift Wednesday night at the foundation's annual dinner.

Rose will finance the construction of the sculpture garden in Jerusalem, in which will be displayed more than 50 pieces of sculpture. Karl Katz, curator and director of the Museum of Israel, has called Rose's collection one of the finest privately owned collections of sculpture in the world. Such greats as Rodin, Maillol, Daumier and Epstein are represented.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Nelson also held membership on the central committee of the World Council of Churches, the general board of the National Council of Churches and its policy and strategy committee, and the executive committee of the Baptist World Alliance.

He retired from the Baptist post last year because of illness.

Dr. Nelson taught in the Detroit Theological Seminary from 1937 to 1939, then became secretary of the Detroit Baptist Assn. He came to New York in 1945 as director of the Council on Missionary Cooperation of the American Baptist Convention and served until 1950, when he became general secretary.

Correct-Error on Taxi Fair

Yesterday's headline stating that cab fares are going up erred inasmuch as new fares will only riders 40 cents for the first third of a mile and 10 cents for each additional one-third, as against present rates of 65 cents for the first mile and 45 cents for each additional mile. New rates will go into effect with the installation of meters sometime in February.

U. of M. Sheepskins Will Go to 1,600

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Nearly 1,600 students will receive degrees at the University of Michigan's midyear commencement exercises Jan. 16.

Sydney Chapman, senior research scientist at the university's Institute of science and technology and former head of the International Geophysical Year Committee, will be the main speaker.

Will Ask Extension of Credit, Debt Probe

FLINT (AP) — Rep. Homer Arnett (R-Kalamazoo) says the State Legislature, when it reconvenes next week, will be asked to extend the life of his committee which is studying consumer credit and debt management.

After a hearing in Flint yesterday, Arnett told a news conference the interim study committee is attempting to determine whether changes are needed in state laws regulating loan firms.

Arnett as chairman of the committee. Other members are Reps. Roger Townsend (D-Flint), William Hayward (R-Royal Oak) and Harvey J. Beadle (D-Detroit).

The legislative study followed a controversy between Flint Local 156 of the United Auto Workers Union and State Banking Commissioner Ahonzo L. Wilson over use of wage assignments by a loan company here.

To Propose Bill Shortening Time for Campaigns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John S. Monagan (D-Conn) proposed today to save wear and tear on presidential candidates by passing a law to shorten their campaigns.

Monagan said he would put a bill in the hopper to require that the political nominating conventions be held not more than 60 days before the general election.

That's about half of the usual campaigning period, Monagan holds that the long campaigns nowadays are a waste of time, money, physical energy and everything else.

Monagan said the British seem to get along with considerably shorter campaigns than this country has and "if England can do it I don't see why we can't, too."

Gets Jail Sentence in Flight With Bride

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Melvin Cook, 29, who eloped twice with his 15-year-old bride Janet Winthrop—the second time in defiance of a judge—drew three months in jail for contempt of court.

He has maintained consistently he loves Janet. He called the case a travesty on justice and said he doesn't intend to take it sitting down.

Juvenile Court Judge W. R. Culbreath in pronouncing the sentence Wednesday said Cook had shown little regard for the law or the rights of Janet's parents.

Lausche and DiSalle May Push Rivals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche (-Ohio) hinted strongly Wednesday he might run a slate of presidential convention delegates in Ohio against those pledged to Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Lausche, openly disturbed that Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has agreed to head a slate of Kennedy delegates, said in a statement:

"There is no sense of Democracy connected with a plan where the Democrats of a state having 10 million people have no choice on the selection of their presidential nominee.

"If anything, my earlier statement (that Lausche should) not to be counted out of the presidential primary in Ohio becomes stronger by force of the fact that unless I am a candidate the Ohio Democrats will have no opportunity to express a choice."

John Daly Gives Luncheon for Him

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The bright young Russian diplomat said, "No, no vodka. Since I am in America I will have an American drink. Scotch."

This was at a luncheon given by John Daly, in return for the many favors the Russians had heaped on American reporters who traveled through the U.S.S.R. last summer with Vice President Nixon.

We pointed out some of the people in the old oaken room. Joe Di Maggio was there. The name didn't quite register. We explained who Joe is.

"I would like to see him play," the Russian said. It was hard for him to believe that Di Mag, who looks as he did 20 years ago, doesn't now play.

There, sitting with Cliff Daniel and Emanuel Freedman of the Times was Emmett Hughes, author of "The Vinefble American." Our Russian friend responded excitedly. He had read Hughes' dour book on our chances of survival and had found it entrancing. Then he was puzzled.

"This is what I cannot understand," he said, his face showing honest bewilderment. "I have read that Mr. Hughes once was very close to President Eisenhower . . . helped with speeches. How is it possible that now he is critical?"

HAS RIGHT TO TALK

It was explained that Hughes has the right to change his mind.

"As Mr. Khrushchev changed his mind about Bulganin, Kaganovich, Molotov, Shepilov and the others," we suggested, trying to simplify the astounding mystery.

He shook his head. "That was different," he said, dismissing the very thought. "What confuses me is that Mr. Hughes changed his mind."

He had with him another book he was reading with great interest: Gen. Maxwell Taylor's "The Uncertain Trumpet," a sharp criticism of the Eisenhower administration's defense posture.

"Why did he not say these things many months ago?" The Russian asked. "Why not say them while still on the job?"

We tried to explain that our military, like Russia's, tends to muzzle the public statements of men on active service. So the general hung up his glove and said his piece through the nation's free press. The Russian shook his head.

The talk turned to the political scene, and the young man who had come up through the Communist ranks from childhood again expressed bewilderment.

The whole political structure of the U.S. has proved baffling to him: Politics at the ward and district level, the election of slates in state primaries, the number of candidates for the same office, the convention machinery.

"Our system is so much . . . simpler," he said.

ASKED ABOUT CHINA?

We wondered what reaction there was in China over Mr. Khrushchev's impending visit to India.

"It is Indonesia he is going to, not India — unless perhaps he stops on the way home, just for a little bit," he corrected. "There is no reaction. We see you write now and then of a day when our countries will stand together to resist the 'yellow peril.'

"We hope to stand together on many things, but not against the Peoples Republic of China. Our relations with the Peoples Republic are stronger now than ever.

"After all," he said, "our ideologies are the same. We share the love of peace."

We asked about the bombardment of Quemoy and Matsu ("This is simply a continuation of civil war"), the Chinese attack on U.N. forces in Korea ("Ah, but U.N. does not recognize China"), the border troubles with India ("It is hardly a border; rather an imaginary line drawn by the British"), and the conquest of Tibet ("Tibet was always Chinese, so it is not a conquest").

Our Russian friend estimated that a great majority of all graduates of Soviet universities now are accepted into the Communist Party (which numbers about eight per cent of the Soviet people).

The Party membership stays at about 8,000,000, he said, because of the deaths of old members and the elimination of such defectives as those who don't pay their dues (three per cent of the member's salary) for three months.

We asked him what he foresaw for the next century, in Soviet-American relations.

He smiled boyishly and said "You will all be Communists in 15 years, not 100."

Mundt Facing Fight for His Senate Seat

MITCHELL, S. D. (AP) — Rep. George McGovern (D-SD) announced today he will be a candidate for the Senate this year.

He would thus oppose Sen. Karl Mundt has not yet announced his second term in the Senate after previous service in the House. Mundt has not yet announced his candidacy but is regarded as almost certain to seek re-election.

McGovern said at an appreciation dinner friends tendered him here last night that he had been urged "to play it safe and seek re-election to my House seat."

"But I did not go into politics for safety and security and I now seek a greater field of service with full awareness of the risks involved," he said. He pointed to the fact there is no salary advantage in the Senate berth.

McGovern, 37, a history and government teacher at Dakota Wesleyan University, became the first Democrat to gain high office in South Dakota in 20 years when he unseated Rep. Harold O. Lovre (R-SD) in 1956. He won re-election by an even wider margin in 1958.

As a congressman, McGovern has pressed hardest for legislation to utilize farm surpluses to feed the world's needy. He also has been author of bills to aid the handicapped and mentally retarded.

Cars Delivered by Piggyback

Chrysler, Trucks and Trains Cooperating to Serve Northwest Fast

CHICAGO (AP) — Trucks, trains and an automobile company are cooperating to make daily shipments of new autos by piggyback rail service to the Pacific Northwest.

* * *

Chrysler Corp., The Milwaukee Road and highway carriers are participating in the project. They say it shortens the shippping time by five days under highway delivery. They raid the system is economical and avoids damages to the cars from overhanging trees and flying stones on highways.

Fifty-six cars were loaded on trailers Monday in Detroit and trucked to Chicago where they were attached to trains yesterday. They will arrive at Spokane, Wash., Friday. Similar shipments will be made each day.

"Our plans call for complete utilization of this method of transportation from our Detroit assembly plants to the Northwest area," Paul G. Fritzsching Jr., Chrysler spokesman, said.

* * *

Nation's Vehicles Log 696 Billion Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The automobiles, trucks and buses of the nation traveled an estimated 696 billion miles in 1959, the government said yesterday.

The Bureau of Roads made this preliminary estimate in announcing that vehicle travel in 1958 totaled 664,700,000,000 miles.

* * *

In 1958, the report said, passenger cars accounted for 83 per cent of all vehicles and did 82 per cent of the traveling. Trucks represented 16 per cent of the vehicular population and rolled up 17 per cent of the travel. Similar figures for buses were below 1 per cent.

* * *

The Bureau said the average passenger auto traveled 9,494 miles in 1958 and burned 644 gallons of gasoline at a rate of 14.7 miles to the gallon. Gas consumption a year earlier averaged 14.4 miles a gallon.

Mexico is made up of 20 states, two territories and a federal district — the equivalent of the District of Columbia in the United States.

Rohm & Haas Top Performer

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—What stocks brought their holders the biggest gains in value in 1959

There were 52 of the 1,092 common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange that ended the year $20 or more higher than at the start, although only one ended at the year's high.

In addition there were 17 that had risen $20 or more in price before being replaced on the list by new issues after stock splits.

* * *

That is figuring gains by the rise in dollar value during the year. Many of the 52, however, were high priced stocks, so that while they now pay their owners much more than 12 months ago if he wants to sell, their percentage gain isn't as impressive.

Some low priced stocks, unable to add as much as $20 to their dollar price, nevertheless had larger percentage gains than did their gilded cousins.

BIGGEST GAINERS

Top performer was Rohm & Haas. The chemical company stock sold at $730 Dec. 31, 1959. This was $243 more than its closing price the previous year. The percentage gain was 49.8.

Second was Motorola. It closed 1959 at $172 for a gain of $112.50 and a percentage increase of 186.6 for the year.

Polaroid was up $81.60, or 81 per cent. General Time added $79 to the price of a share, or 22.8 per cent. Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing gained nearly $62 during the year. Cessna Aircraft's price went up $54.50.

While Du Pont went up $50.25 to end at $254, its percentage gain was 23.3.

AMC UP $44

American Motors had a busy year, ending at $83.50, for an increase of $44 or 88.6 per cent.

Corning Glass added $43; American Home Products $42.50, and Ford Motors $40.50.

Westinghouse Electric at $109.50 was up $36.25. Beech Aircraft advanced $35.50; Clark Equipment $33; General Tire a bit better than $32; John Morrell nearly $32; Adams-Millis and American Steel Foundry around $31.50 each; Beckman Instruments $31.25; and Piper Aircraft $30.

PROBES HURT DRUGS

While Plough with a 21 gain, or 60 per cent, was the only drug company in the list, Schering gained nearly $18. Before stock splits Smith, Klein & Ford; Vick Chemical; Pfizer and Warner Lambert had risen in varying degrees.

In all cases the drug stocks had made their highs for the year before the congressional inquiry into drug prices started. Prices of some drug stocks, on the other hand, ended 1959 lower than they started it.

Gunman Wounds 3, Dies in Police Fight

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A man with a shotgun wounded two policemen and a civilian today and then was killed in a gunbattle with police at the Indiana avenue YMCA.

The dead gunman was identified by police as Essie Funches, about 50.

In critical condition at Mercy Hospital was patrolman Thomas Saas, 41. He was struck in the side by a shotgun blast. His partner, Kenneth Helmett, 29, was not seriously wounded.

The name of the wounded man was not available immediately.

The two patrolmen apparently were investigating a complaint of a man with a gun when they were fired upon. The wounded man was waiting for a bus near the YMCA.

There are more than 210,000 service stations in the U.S., 95 per cent of them owned or operated by independent local dealers.

Bonn Launching Tough Campaign at Anti-Semitism

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government launched a double-barreled campaign Wednesday night to stamp out anti-Semitic demonstrations by swift court action and stiffer sentences against hate-mongers.

★ ★ ★

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his cabinet called for speedy enactment of a law to increase the penalties for "stirring up hatred against groups because of their natural origin." The maximum sentence now is three months in jail; the bill to be submitted to the Bundestag will set that as the minimum.

★ ★ ★

A special cabinet meeting also agreed unanimously "that cases under investigation should be brought to court as quickly as possible and that the penalties should correspond to the severity of the misdeeds," a communique said.

★ ★ ★

Two Germans already have been convicted of anti-Semitic acts. Police say two others being held have admitted daubing swastikas and anti-Jewish slogans on the new synagogue in Cologne on Christmas Eve, the incident which launched the present wave of anti-Semitic acts.

FOUR ARRESTED

Four men were arrested Wednesday in West Berlin on suspicion of anti-Semitic activities. Sixteen others are being held there after a neo-Nazi youth demonstration.

A 35-year-old German was arrested and questioned today in Giessen after four large swastikas and symbols of Hitler's SS Elite Corps were found painted outside a U.S. Army barracks there. A U.S. officer said the swastikas looked "pretty amateurish but the SS symbols looked as though they were painted by a pro."

The smear campaign—swastikas and slogans abusing Jews—kept up sporadically in scattered sections of the world for the 15th day. Police in all countries affected kept up their hunt for the paintbrush smearers and also sought to determine whether there was any undercover world organization linking them.

Britain's acting prime minister, Richard A. Butler, Wednesday night dismissed the anti-Semitic outbreaks in England and Scotland as the work of "a few irresponsible persons."

The Soviets agreed. A top commentator on Moscow radio said the anti-Semitic outbursts in the United States and Britain are about as dangerous as a "slight cold to a healthy person."

"But what is just a slight cold to Britain and the U.S.A. is a bad case of cancer to West Germany," declared Nikolai Andreyev in an English-language broadcast.

Golden Agers to Hold Waterford Election

The Waterford Township Golden Age Club's first meeting of the new year will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Community Center on Williams Lake road.

Election of permanent officers and adoption of a constitution is scheduled, with the remainder of the evening to be devoted to community singing, cards and fun.

Temporary club president, C. S. Baker has invited all residents in the Township who are 60 years old or more to attend and enjoy the evenings of fun with men and women their age.

There are now close to 100 members in the newly organized club.

Bridge Lessons to Start Tuesday in Waterford

An activity has been added to the Waterford Township Recreation program. Bridge lessons are scheduled to begin next month, according to Director Tom Belton.

An expert bridge instructor from Clarkston, Mrs. Helen Kempt will conduct classes from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. every Tuesday beginning Feb. 9.

The classes, for beginners, will be held for 10 consecutive weeks. There will be a $7.50 fee, with membership limited to 20 in each class.

MSUO Classes Start Today for 540 Students

The figures came from the East Lansing office of Michigan State University Registrar Kermit Smith.

Smith said that MSU's winter enrollment of 19,668 at the East Lansing campus sets a new record for winter term enrollment, topping by more than 1,000 the previous mark set in 1957. He added it was also 8 per cent above the 1958 winter enrollment.

Enrollment for the fall term at MSU which ended in mid-December was 20,380, but a slight drop for the winter term is customary.

Joseph Cotten's Wife Is Dead of Leukemia

She was hospitalized shortly after becoming ill Christmas Day. At the time, it was reported that she was suffering from pernicious anemia.

Mrs. Cotten was to have been flown to the United States Friday with her American doctor, who arrived in Rome Wednesday from California.

He and Mrs. Cotten had been married nearly 30 years. They had one child, Judith.

To Hear Appeal of RO Twp. Men

Ousted Police Officers, Firemen Seek Return to Their Former Posts

The Royal Oak Township Civil Service Board will meet with ousted policemen, firemen and their attorneys in the Township Hall at 7:30 p.m. today to consider their appeal for return to their posts.

The eight officials were fired by the Township Board following their arrests Dec. 26 by State Police for pocketing Goodfellow funds.

Fire Capt. Samuel Mitchell, spokesman for the group, said a meeting with the Civil Service Board last night was postponed to await the outcome of today's trial of ex-Fire Sgt. James Anderson.

Anderson was to appear before Justice of the Peace James Renfrew in township Justice Court. He is charged with the theft of marked money from the sale of Goodfellow newspapers.

Ousted Police Capt. William Ware, found guilty of the charges, has appealed to County Circuit Court.

State Police Det. Sgt. Howard Whaley of the Redford Post and Asst. Oakland County Prosecutor James E. Roberts both said this morning that they are puzzled and disappointed by the acquittal on Mitchell on Tuesday.

Roberts said they thought the case against Mitchell was stronger than any of the others in that powder used on the marked bills was found on a dollar bill in Mitchell's wallet at the time of his arrest.

Mitchell refused to take a lie detector test, said Roberts.

Must Answer Charges Monday About Ordinance Book

Call Farmington Twp. Clerk Into Court

By JIM LONG

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Township Clerk Floyd A. Cairns will be asked Monday in Circuit Court to show cause why he should not be required to keep an up-to-date ordinance book in the township office as required by state law.

The suit to show cause was brought against Cairns by Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Robert H. Nelson, who was arrested, Dec. 11 for violating a zoning ordinance and a building code section concerning occupancy.

Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland will hear the case.

Several days following Nelson's arrest, on a complaint signed by Township Supervisor Curtis H. Hall, for occupying his new office at 31687 Thirteen Mile Rd. without a permit, Nelson said in his suit that he and his attorney went to the township office to inspect the ordinance book and to obtain a copy of the building code.

The ordinance book was incomplete, having only a few township ordinances in it," Nelson charged in his suit.

"In many instances, blank spaces appeared where lines were drawn for the signature of the supervisor and clerk," the suit read.

"A 1939 state law states that within one week after the first publication of any ordinance, the township clerk shall record the ordinance in a book of ordinances kept by him for that purpose," the suit reads.

The suit also says that another state law provides that printed copies of ordinances be kept in the township office for inspection and distribution to the public at all times.

An attempt to purchase a copy of the building code resulted in the answer "that it could be purchased from some department of the City of Detroit," Nelson charged.

"Failure to have an ordinance book as well as copies of the building code makes it impossible to proceed to trial since my attorney feels it is necessary to inspect the ordinances and amendments to prepare his case," Nelson said in his suit.

The postponement will expire Jan. 16. Ingle said he would seek an extension if the ordinance book wasn't in order by that time.

Nelson said in his suit that his attorney would have to read local newspapers dating back to Nov. 1951, when the zoning ordinance was adopted, to determine the validity of the ordinance violation charged in the warrant.

The suit charges that since ordinances and the building code were not available, Nelson has been "deprived of constitutional rights providing for a speedy trial."

The legal action is the latest development in a feud between the township and Nelson that began last month. Nelson, following his arrest, then stated at a press conference, that Township Supervisor Hall was being "vindictive" when he signed the complaint.

Nelson charged that Hall signed only because Nelson had cited the supervisors 18-year-old son for contempt of court for disregarding an order concerning a traffic ticket.

* * *

The elder Hall has denied the accusation explaining that the "timing of the two incidents were coincidental."

Hall has said that the matter concerning the occupancy permit was started before he was aware of any proceedings against his son.

In an attempt to keep himself from the middle of the feud, Justice Lawson has disqualified himself from hearing testimony in Nelson's trial.

When he disqualified himself last month, Lawson said, "As the township justice I was required to issue the warrant, but I do not have to hear the case."

"Where two justices in a township are involved I think it would be best to drop out of the hearing and call in a visiting judge and that is exactly what I intend to do," Lawson explained.

Let Contract for Work on County Intersections

Low bids totaling over $2½ million dollars on 11 contracts, including one for traffic betterment at three intersections in Oakland County, were let yesterday by the State Highway Department.

The local contract, amounting to $115,224, was awarded to the Kutchins Co., Lansing.

W. Bloomfield Bonds Approved by State

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Approval to borrow $21,000 in special assessment bonds for street improvements here has been granted by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Some $12,000 will pay for blacktopping 2,670 feet of street in the Pine Lake subdivision, and $9,500 for 1,720 feet of street in the Hammond Lake subdivision, supervisor John C. Reiard said.

The Hammond Lake subdivision is east of Middle Belt road and south of Orchard Lake road. The Pine Lake subdivision is west of Middle Belt road and south of Orchard Lake road.

CHRISTINE MOORE

During rites open to the public, Christine Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clebert Moore, 3528 Shelby St., Waterford Township, will be installed as honored queen of Clarkston Bethel 25, International Order of Job's Daughters, at 8 p.m. Saturday in Clarkston High School. Others to be installed include Carolyn Ruggles, 8142 Reese Rd., Clarkston, as senior princess, and Joan Payne, 4087 Rich St., Waterford Township, as junior princess.

Almont Hospital Restricts Visits for Patients' Good

ALMONT — At the request of both the medical staff and several patients, the Community Hospital has decided to limit visiting for the patients' benefit.

Effective Monday, only visitors with passes will be allowed to call upon patients. Only two passes will be allowed for each patient.

Passes will be obtained in the lobby of the hospital. They will be used only during visiting hours, which are from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. on the medical surgical floor and from 3 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. in the obstetrical section.

The medical staff feels it is imperative that patients receive sufficient rest in the hospital. The limitations are designed to assure them this.

Name New Principal

ROCHESTER—Ally O. Ensign, 55, has been named to succeed Donald L. Fillmore as principal of Harrison Central Elementary School. He formerly was a sixth grade teacher there. Ensign took over his new duties on Monday.

Lathrup Will Vote on Sewer Bonds

LATHRUP VILLAGE—Residents here will be asked to approve a $790,000 bond issue Feb. 18 to pay for a proposed storm sewer system.

If the bond is approved it will cost the average homeowner an additional $42 a year over a 30-year period, according to City Administrator Gerald D. Stone.

Final engineering plans have been turned over to the City Council, Stone said he would have a map of the proposed system available for inspection in the near future.

A similar bond issue was turned down by voters two years ago mainly because of lack of information and a strong last minute campaign against it, Stone said.

Robert A. Trott of Avon Weds in Grosse Pointe

AVON TOWNSHIP—Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Cantolupo of Ormond Beach, Fla., announce the marriage of their daughter Ida Rose to Robert A. Trott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval L. Trott of 3341 Harrison Rd.

* * *

The wedding was performed in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, Grosse Pointe. A reception followed at Hawthorne House, Grosse Pointe.

* * *

Her brother-in-law Lawrence Kingery was best man. Ushers were Vince De Laura and Bert Juengel.

Try Youths Today in Savage Holdup

A 15-year-old Detroit boy was to go on trial today in Detroit Recorders Court charged with armed robbery with intent to kill during a holdup Sept. 29 in which an Oak Park man and his brother were wounded.

* * *

Mays is being tried with ex-convict William Floyd, 23, of Highland Park who is accused of being an accomplice.

Mays also is charged with stabbing a Detroit policeman a few days previous to the holdup which netted $6.

Williams Works Overtime Today

Plans His Message to State Legislature Next Thursday

LANSING (AP) — Looking ahead to 1960's election wars, Gov. Williams and his staff worked overtime today to map out a legislative program for a state still struggling with financial problems.

The governor's recommendations will be revealed next Thursday in possibly the last of his 12 annual "State of the State" messages to the Legislature.

Spending proposals will "come within 10 days after crisis-weary lawmakers convene Wednesday, less than four weeks after adjournment of the record-long 1959 session.

If Williams decides not to try for a seventh term, the new legislative session will touch off his last drive to push through a host of proposals which the Republican - dominated Legislature has repeatedly junked.

Aides said the governor has yet to settle on a budget figure, a final legislative program and whether or not to propose new of taxes.

"He can propose new taxes and what he feels is an adequate program of state services, or he can recommend going along for a year with the nuisance tax program the Legislature passed," said one. "The Legislature adjourned so late last year that he is late in putting together his 1960 recommendations."

With an election looming on the horizon, Williams' proposals are certain to carry political overtones calculated to boost Democratic strength in Lansing.

Almost certain to get the governor's backing are the oft-defeated seal of quality for Michigan agriculture products, commissions to regulate automation and atomic energy, an old age commission and an enlarged state police force. Also, a state parks bond issue and a civil rights commission to extend the work of the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

400 Inmates Riot at Eastern Prison

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Prisoners overpowered two guards and grabbed their keys at the Connecticut State Prison Wednesday night, triggering a riot by more than 400 shouting, stomping inmates.

State Police troopers and prison guards quelled the riot after 2½ hours with tear gas and high-pressure water hoses. A fireman and a prisoner suffered minor injuries.

Warden Mark S. Richmond said about a dozen ringleaders overwhelmed the two guards, locked them in a cell and used their keys to free nearly half the population of the prison.

★ ★ ★

The warden said prison officials and State Police would investigate to find out "who, when, where and what brought it about."

Honest, It Was a Little Bear, Blowing a Horn

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Weisinger said Wednesday that they had their 50-pound black bear cub, Booboo, with them at the lounge, and put him out in the car later.

Barnes went out to his own car and saw Booboo happily blowing the Weisinger's horn. He mentioned it to his wife, who expressed a certain skepticism.

New Toy Allows Children to See Chicken Hatch

NEW YORK (AP)—A child can watch baby chicks emerge, to life in this incubator for one or two eggs, a fresh idea in the toy and hobby field.

Among new products this week, the "chick-a-bator" is offered by Fleet Manufacturing Co., Glendale, Calif. The hobbyist can use it also for hatching ducks, pheasants, quail, pigeons and other birds and fowl, the firm says. The base of the unit converts into a brooder for use after the chick is hatched. When not in use for hatching it can serve as a nursery night light.

ROWS OF VICTIMS — The bodies of several victims in a National Airlines plane crash were placed in rows under an undertaker's tent near the crash scene some 25 miles southwest of Wilmington, N. C. Thirty-four died in the tragedy early Wednesday morning.

Relatives Arrive to Claim Their Dead

Find 32 Air-Crash Bodies

By CHARLES L. WEST

BOLIVIA, N.C. (AP) — Three rows of shrouded bodies, victims of 1960's first airliner crash, lay in the Southport High School gymnasium today awaiting identification by relatives and an FBI fingerprint team.

Thirty-four persons were aboard the National Airlines DC6B which apparently disintegrated in the air and cast wreckage and bodies over a 25-acre area early Wednesday. None survived.

Darkness and foul weather delayed the search for the remaining two victims overnight.

C. Lester Trotter, an assistant director of the FBI, came here from Washington with a 4-man team to help identify the 29 passengers and five crew members on the plane.

Relatives also began arriving to identify and claim their dead.

The plane "apparently disintegrated in the air from an unknown cause," said John L. Morris, a National Airlines vice president. "The plane was in good order and was in the hands of a veteran crew. There was nothing from the pilot prior to the crash that would indicate any malfunction."

However, the altimeter in the wreckage of the cockpit showed an elevation of 1,500 feet. And instruments indicated the right wing may have been down as if the plane was banking.

It appeared that the crew and passengers may have known the plane was in difficulty. A National Airlines spokesman said, "judging from the fact that some of the victims had on life jackets, it can be presumed that the captain had informed the passengers of an emergency situation and was trying to make an emergency landing."

Four bodies were vest-type life jackets and several victims were strapped to their seats with safety belts. An inflated 25-man life raft was wrapped around some pine trees. But it may have inflated itself automatically.

Indecency Arrests Reach 30 at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The number of persons at the University of Michigan who have been arrested on charges of homosexuality has risen to 30, city police said yesterday.

Detective Lt. George Stauch said plainclothes officers on special assignment arrested four more men — none of them students — in the past two weeks as part of a continuing crackdown by city police. The men have been charged with attempting to procure acts of gross indecency between males.

On Dec. 22 officers announced that 25 male adults and one juvenile had been arrested in a six-week period by plainclothesmen working on campus. All arrests have been made in men's restrooms in university buildings.

About half of the adults facing the gross indecency charge have been bound to Circuit Court for a hearing after waiving examination in Municipal Court or following a regular lower court examination. Of those arrested in the first group, 14 were students, Stauch said.

The latest four arrested include an army dentist, an automobile company executive, a hospital orderly and a shoe salesman, police said.

McDonald Hails Elder Kennedy

Gives Senator's Father Much Credit in Steel Strike Settlement

NEW YORK (AP) — David J. McDonald, head of the United Steelworkers, today credited former ambassador Joseph Kennedy with an important role in settling the steel strike.

He was interviewed on a television program, NBC "Today."

McDonald said Kennedy, father of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), was one of the "most influential" men behind the scenes in bringing about a contract agreement.

The older Kennedy, McDonald said "did a great deal down in Wall Street to bring about this settlement. He talked with the bankers time and time again, and we were in constant touch with one another."

McDonald said he thinks Vice President Richard M. Nixon deserves "some credit" for the settlement, adding: "I think Mr. Nixon brought both the industry and the union face to face with the facts of life."

London has had as many as 74 dense fogs a year.

$2½ Million Goal Set for Michigan March of Dimes

LANSING (AP) — A goal of $2,500,000 has been set for the Michigan March of Dimes drive this month, state headquarters of the National Foundation reported today.

First collections will be used to wipe out $750,000 owned by county chapters for care of polio victims last year, Paul D. Bagwell, state chairman, said.

The Wayne County chapter is in debt $300,000 because of the 1958 Detroit polio epidemic and owes the Herman Kiefer Hospital of Detroit about $200,000.

Other hospitals holding unpaid bills include University Hospital, Ann Arbor, $150,000; and Mary Free Bed Hospital, Grand Rapids, $45,000.

Climax of the fund drive will be the "Mother's March" on Jan. 25, when some 150,000 women will ring doorbells for contributions.

Liquor Sales Jump

LANSING (AP) — Michigan residents bought nearly 20,000 more cases of liquor in December than in the same month in 1958, the State Liquor Control Commission reported. Sales totaled 501,330 cases. Increased sales were registered for whisky, rum, brandy and vodka. Declines were listed for gin, wine and prepared cocktails.

Says Strikers to Recoup Loss

Official of Steel Union Says They'll Do It in Duration of Contract

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Steelworkers' Union official says the average steelworker will more than make up during the life of the new 2½-year steel contract the wages he lost during the 116-day strike.

The official said the average worker lost slightly more than $2,000 in wages based on a $3.10 an hour wage and an average of 83 working days during the 116-day walkout.

Each worker is due to receive three months' pay on retirement after 15 years' service under the new contract. This alone should place an average of $1,625 "in the bank," according to union estimates.

Company payment of insurance benefits will save the average worker about nine cents an hour, or slightly less than $200 a year, the union official said.

Wage increases of nearly 10 cents an hour, starting next December and other benefits should more than make up the rest of the difference between $1,625 and $2,000, he said.

To qualify for the lump-sum pension payment, a worker is required to have 15 years' service with a company. This sum is payable at age 65 or at age 60 if a worker retires early, the Union official added.

* * *

In addition, the new contract contains no new provisions on local working conditions which threaten jobs and this is an "incalculable" value to the Steelworkers, he said.

Super-Speedy Prefab Housing Planned by Russ

CHICAGO (AP) — The Russians intend to prefabricate apartments which can be assembled as easily as shutting doors in a filing cabinet, says a New York architect and designer.

* * *

George Nelson, who was design director of the American National Exhibit in Moscow last summer, said apartments in Russia are being made with movable walls so they can be enlarged without tearing down the building, as the country's living standard goes up. He said the prefabricated apartments are complete with linoleum on the floors and doors on hinges.

Grand Rapids, Muskegon Radio Stations Are Sold

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Regional Broadcasters of Michigan, Inc., has contracted to buy radio stations WGRD of Grand Rapids and WTRU of Muskegon, according to Glen LePard, general manager of the stations.

* * *

He announced the purchase price in excess of $500,000. LePard said the transactions are being completed through purchase of all stock of Music Broadcasting Co., which currently operates the stations.

* * *

Stockholders of the purchasing firm were identified as Alastair B. Martin and William H. Rich of New York, owners of radio stations WMGW at Meadville, Pa., and WPIC in Sharon, Pa.

* * *

Stockholders of Music Broadcasting Co. include Carlton H. Runciman of Lowell, Allen E. McGraw, Paul E. Eichhorn and Robert Hodger, all of Grand Rapids. Runciman, McGraw and Eichorn also serve as directors of the firm.

Advertising, Good Car Salesmen Needed

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — The problem in the auto industry suddenly has changed from where to get steel to build cars to where to find people who will buy them.

* * *

Many observers blamed the loss of sales on the shortage of cars, which made it impossible to pick and choose particular models, and on a general gloom which accompanied the apparently deadlocked steel negotiations.

Even while the threat of a resumption of the steel strike remained, domestic manufacturers optimistically scheduled record production for the first three months of 1960.

Preliminary estimates called for 2,240,800 cars to be built and on the eve of the strike settlement these were revised upward to 2,278,500 units.

Now that steel supplies are assured and the strike is ended the auto industry is faced with the problem of attempting to revive buying interest in the 1960 model cars.

* * *

When the cars were introduced back in October, public interest ran high. The three new compact cars were credited with bringing near-record crowds into dealers' showrooms. Sales boomed and the year ahead looked mighty bright.

The public, since the mid-50s, has been accustomed to discounts on new car prices. As supplies shrank sizable discounts were hard to find. And would-be buyers disappeared.

"What we need most," one Detroit dealer said, "is to get the people back in the showrooms, to get them looking at the new cars, talking about them, thinking about them—in other words, to get them in a new car mood."

Most dealers feel the manufacturers are going to have to help with renewed and intensified advertising campaigns. One manufacturer admitted recently "we haven't been spending much for advertising. We didn't see much point when we weren't building cars. But we have several projects coming up."

The Communist Party is outlawed in Turkey.

Personal News of Interest

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Jesson have invited Wayne State University class of '33 alumnae, and their husbands, to a dinner party Saturday at their home on Sodon Lake. While most of the alumnae are Detroiters, Mrs. Jesson hopes that her former classmate, Mrs. L. W. Sneads, and Mr. Snead of Long Lake road, will return from their winter home at Sea Island, Ga., before Saturday.

Suzanne Jesson returned Sunday to the University of Michigan where she is a sophomore in liberal arts, and a member of Collegiate Sorosis.

Champagne supper at the Jessons on Christmas Eve followed the christening of their grandson, Steven Craig Rogers, in Christ Church Cranbrook. Three-month-old Steven's parents are Lt. and Mrs. John Rogers who returned Sunday to Warrensburg, Mo. Lt. Rogers is stationed at Whiteman Air Force Base.

Returned to their home in Clearwater, Fla., after a two-week visit with relatives and friends in Pontiac are Mrs. Q. R. Mahan and daughter, Delta Lee.

Jobs Daughters to Install Honored Queen Saturday

At the installation of officers of Pontiac Bethel Five, International Order of Job Daughters, 8 p.m. Saturday at the Masonic Temple on East Lawrence street, Carolyn Mills will be installed Honored Queen.

Miss Mills is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Mills of East New York avenue. Acting as installing Honored Queen will be Linda Olds who recently completed her term in that office.

* * *

The Book of Gold will be read by Kay Lee. Diane Mills will act as the Angel.

Accompanied by Jerry-Smith, Tom Eley will be guest soloist.

Among officers who will assist the new Honored Queen for the next six months are Karen Antolich, Senior Princess; Pat Rahja, Junior Princess; Susan Hiltz, guide; Carol Wilson, marshal; Sandra Schmidt, chaplain; Kathy Modlin, recorder; and Sharon Burklow, treasurer.

* * *

Details were outlined for the Jan. 19 tour of Pontiac General Hospital. On Feb. 16, a tour of Pontiac Northern High School, conducted by Mrs. Theodore E. Wiersema, faculty member, is planned.

Mrs. Harvey Kerr, president, asked for suggestions for Founders Day, to be held in April.

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I don't know whether or not you are familiar with the new metal heels and lifts some of the shoe manufacturers are putting on high heeled shoes, but if you are, you will know what I mean when I say they are "death" on linoleum. They are marvelous insofar as your not having to worry about broken heels or replacing lifts all the time, which would be a major problem with the very thin high heels that are in vogue today. But what to do about keeping my inlaid linoleum from being ruined by guests who come to my house wearing these shoes, is also quite a problem.

Last evening I had my bridge club at my house, and after they left, while I was cleaning up, I noticed that my new inlaid linoleum had deep wedges in it made by the metal heels of one of my guests.

I was heartsick over it. Is there anything I can do to prevent further marking of my inlaid. It was very expensive and I can't bear to have it ruined. Most of my woman friends do not wear very high heels, but this one in particular always does. Would it be proper to place a small mat under her feet to prevent this happening again? Could this possibly cause offense?

Answer: Yes, I am afraid it can. The only thing I can suggest is for you to put a rug under the bridge table that will be at least large enough for the feet of all four players to rest upon. Your excuse for the rug can be that it is more comfortable, or warmer than the hard, or cold, linoleum.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Can a wife properly accept an invitation to a party without her husband? My husband is a salesman and is out of town a good deal. Very often I receive an invitation to a wedding, or party, while he is away. Must I decline these invitations unless he can go with me?

Answer: You can accept any general invitation you like. You cannot go to a party where his absence might make a difference to the plans of the hostess, such as a dinner or card party without first finding out whether it will be all right.

A Picture of Despair She Photographs Badly

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married only three weeks and we have already had a very serious fight. Here's how it happened:

ABBY

The proofs of our wedding pictures came and unfortunately there were only two pictures that were any good. There was one where I looked good but my husband looked terrible. In the other one, my husband looked good but I looked terrible. The photographer said if he took them over we would have to pay for another sitting and that is out of the question.

We decided to put them away to think it over. In the meantime, my husband called up the photographer and ordered a set of the ones where HE looked good and I looked terrible. They came yesterday. Haven't I a right to be mad?

BRIDE OF THREE WEEKS

DEAR BRIDE: Where's your sense of humor? Put them away. Twenty-five years from now take them out and look at them and you'll agree that you BOTH looked terrible.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My friend and I used to go to play bingo every Tuesday night. She has won many times. I have never won once.

Towards the end of the game she said, "Let's exchange cards and maybe it will change your luck." She took my cards and I took hers.

You guessed it. She bingo'd on my cards. Do you think she offered to split the pot with me? Not on your life!

I still pal around with her but I keep thinking of how cheap she was and I can't help but hold it against her. Should I tell her how I feel and risk her friendship?

UNLUCKY

DEAR UNLUCKY: A friendship afflicted by creeping resentment isn't worth very much. If you can't discuss what's on your mind and clear the air—avoid her. You've got her number.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Can a girl who lives in Huron, S.D., go steady with a boy who lives in Duluth, Minn.? My sister is that girl and she is missing out on everything. She sits home in Huron and her "steady" sits home up in Duluth. She says she doesn't mind. How can I convince her that she is foolish?

"SIS"

DEAR SIS: If she is happy, she is no "foolish". There is nothing more unwelcome than advice that is not asked for. If your sister doesn't mind "staying home steady" (which is what she is really doing) she has no problem. And don't make one my nagging her about it.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROMA: If you label yourself "Old Maid," everyone else will. An informed Frenchman once said, "No woman under 45 can possibly have acquired the experience, emotional maturity and compassion to be interesting." I believe him!

* * *

What's your problem. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The classic look and feel of pure silk achieves new smartness in Mr. Mort's bow-tied blouse and eased skirt. Ideal for resort wear now—spring wear later, the subtle wool plaid cardigan coat repeats the gold of the ensemble. Available locally.

Will They Wash?

Pushes Recognition Amendment

We ARE Equal to Men: Dem Official

"It's time to talk about equality that can't be legislated," said Katie Louchheim, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee. She was addressing the National Woman's party, a group dedicated to passage of a constitutional amendment to guarantee women equal rights with men.

Mrs. Louchheim just couldn't resist issuing a call Tuesday night to these women, many of whom pioneered in women's suffrage, "To win for ourselves the acceptance of the fact that women are people."

Just like men, she said, women have varying interests: "Western women think like Western men. Businesswomen think like businessmen. Women with a social conscience think like men with a social conscience. Some women do more thinking and some women do less thinking. It all depends on what nature gave them to think with."

Too many women consider politics "a spectator sport," Mrs. Louchheim said. They want good people to run for office but will neither seek it themselves nor encourage their husbands to run.

* * *

"Our worst problem," she said, speaking as a political organizer, "is dealing with the many women who are over-domesticated in their thinking about public affairs."

Voters Board Sets League Day Entry

Mrs. John Borsvold of Sylvester drive was hostess to the executive board of the League of Women Voters of Pontiac on Tuesday evening.

The group voted to participate in League Day at MSUO.

A mailing list of key people to receive the League's bulletin, "World Economic Development," was compiled. Procedures for circulating and filing petitions were reviewed.

The next meeting of the League will be Jan. 27 in the YWCA at 9:45 p.m. The discussion topic will be world economic development.

'Starve Fever?' Pure Nonsense!

CHICAGO (UPI) -- Don't starve that fever.

Two physicians writing in a recent issue of a publication by the American Medical Association, indicate that the adage, "Starve a fever," is nonsense.

Drs. Rachmiel Levine and Sidney Cohen of the Medical Research Institute of Michael Reese Hospital wrote that fever dehydrates the body and causes the body tissues to break down. The fevered body needs both food and water to replace these cells, they said.

Fever is a symptom, not a disease, and is eliminated only when the cause is identified and eliminated.

Altar Society Elects

St. Michael Altar Society elected the following officers at the Tuesday evening meeting in the parish hall:

Mrs. Omer Deconinck, president; Mrs. Henry Simpson, vice president; Mrs. John S. Keesling, second vice president; Mrs. Earl Adams, secretary; Mrs. John Myers, treasurer.

* * *

St. Theresa unit served refreshments. Hostesses were Mrs. Gayle Coulson, Mrs. Leo Halfpenny, Mrs. William Linseman and Mrs. Jacob Cobb.

Mrs. Edward Sornig was welcomed as a new member.

Donation by members to The Catholic Medical Missions will be done overseas.

The men and boys of the parish are planning a smorgasbord later in the month. Proceeds will be tagged for the Athletic Assn.

Birmingham Garden Club to Meet

"India in Story, Picture and Dance" will be the program theme for a meeting and tea of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn. of Birmingham at 1:30 p.m. Monday, in Birmingham Community House.

* * *

Mrs. William L. Lowrie will show slides taken when she spent six weeks traveling through various parts of India.

On the trip Mrs. Lowrie was a member of a seminar led by professors of Asiatic affairs.

She says she feels dancing is an important aspect of the culture of Indians, and has asked Mme. Sunalini Rajam of Ann Arbor to demonstrate several native dances. Mme. Rajam, noted student of the dance in India, teaches dancing in Ann Arbor.

* * *

Mrs. Norman E. Stiles, chairman of International Cooperation for the Birmingham branch of the Assn., is chairman for the day.

* * *

Mrs. F. G. Garrison will give highlights on her experiences in Iran and the International Conference in Edinburgh of the ACWW to which she was sent as a Michigan delegate.

* * *

On the social committee are Mrs. Robert A. Taggart, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Reed Jr., Mrs. Richard W. Burgis, Mrs. William J. Mirgeler and Mrs. A. F. Boening.

* * *

Mrs. George Cutler will carry out an Indian theme in her tea table arrangement. Mrs. Robert S. Parrott and Mrs. Herbert G. Wood will pour.

Hospitality committee co-chairmen are Mrs. C. E. Nichel and Mrs. Dale O. Miller, assisted by Mrs. Fred J. Finkerauer Jr., Mrs. Harry J. Altick, Mrs. Frank H. Burns and Mrs. Roy W. Neil.

* * *

Arrangements for the president's table will be made by Mrs. A. E. Ebersole.

At 11 a.m. Monday the Home Gardeners will meet at the home of chairman Mrs. N. W. Berry on Chesterfield road.

Members are requested to bring sandwiches and the seed catalogue.

* * *

Mrs. Alvin H. Knorr of Bedford road will be hostess for the Jan. 25 meeting at 10 a.m. The Christmas show slides will be viewed. Mrs. Edward P. Sammut will be chairman.

What's the World's Best Investment? Antiques!

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP

NEW YORK (UPI) -- The best investment prospect for 1960 isn't listed by the world's stock exchanges. It's French 18th century antique furniture.

Take it from no less an authority than Franz Pick, publisher of the authoritative Pick's World Currency Report. Pick declares that all types of top quality art items offer the well-heeled investor a splendid opportunity for at least doubling his money, with fine furniture of the Louis XV and XVI period leading the list.

Even the small investor can make the most of his mad money by buying such homely American antiques as wooden kitchen utensils, Civil War belt buckles, mechanical banks, paperweights and dolls.

Statistics from antique dealers and auction houses support these predictions, especially in the case of furnishings turned out by the master craftsmen of Paris in the 1700's. Fine examples rose 225 per cent in value in 1958 and 150 per cent in 1959—a record equalled by very few stock issues.

* * *

And there is every indication that the bullish trend in antiques will continue, although the appreciation in the value of French antiques in 1960 may drop to a mere 100 per cent.

"These collector's items, unlisted, with unregulated prices, and above all depending on the supply and demand in free auctions markets, are better than gold, platinum, diamonds, real estate and most of the world's blue chips," Pick said.

"Signed pieces of French furniture created by such masters as J. Caffieri, B. van Risenburgh, J. Dubois, P. Garnier, P. Migeon and others are tops in the market."

A lacquered commode mounted in gilded bronze by Caeffieri brought $48,000 at an auction here last November, the highest price for a piece of furniture paid at an American auction since the pre-depression splurge year of 1928. Similar large items—especially Louis XV commodes, desks and tables—are bringing prices ranging from $20,000 to $40,000.

* * *

Sam Salz, art agent for American families like the Rockefellers, Lehmans, Fords and Whitneys, said inflation and tax incentives are two of the main reasons for the big boom in select art treasures in the United States.

"Antique dealers admit that they used artificial means to drive up prices in the 1920's, but collectors' itch is solely responsible today. Connoisseurs—amateur and professional—are rushing to pay staggering prices for all sorts of items, such as 13th and 12th century Latin gospels, prayer books and Flemish manuscripts, and early Bibles, all of which jumped 125 per cent in value in 1959.

Modern sculpture, especially works by Sir Jacob Epstein, Henry Moore and Jacques Lipchitz, and the work of the late abstractionist Jackson Pollock, rose about 100 per cent. The post impressionist French painters, which have led the art investment market for a decade, tapered off to a mere 80 per cent appreciation in value, while Picasso dropped to 40 per cent.

* * *

No one knows what the next collector's cycle will feature, but there are signs that Oriental art, old master paintings and Gothic art may be the market leaders within a few years. These categories rose 50 per cent in value last year.

And So Can Underweight

Posture Adds to Fatigue

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There are many factors which contribute to fatigue. Two important ones you may not have thought of are—extreme underweight and poor posture.

This exercise will relax you. Let the head drop to the floor and then slowly straighten up. Continue until your trunk is erect. Slowly raise your arms toward the ceiling. Reach high. Slowly lower your arms to sides. Continue.

If you are very thin, you may not have enough fat to give adequate support to the organs or protect the nerve centers. This often leads to prolapsus or slumping of the digestive tract.

For this reason physicians often prescribe the use of a girdle or abdominal support of some sort even when the woman has no figure problems. This helps hold the abdominal organs in place.

Prolapsus can lead to all sorts of trouble. The underweight woman should make a serious effort to gain weight. It also is probably wise for her to wear an abdominal support and to exercise in order to strengthen the abdominal muscles.

IT'S A STRAIN

Poor posture is fatigue forming because it places a strain on muscles and ligaments. It crowds internal organs and cuts down on the oxygen intake.

Many women find themselves in a vicious circle. They are tired because of poor posture. Fatigue often leads to poor posture and poor posture increases fatigue.

If this is what has happened to you, it will take a serious and maintained effort to pull yourself out of this unhealthful and unlovely rut. You will profit by corrective exercises, especially those for round shoulders and for increasing the tone of the abdominal muscles.

EXERCISE RELAXING

Thin people often are very high strung, tense individuals. Relaxing exercises are extremely soothing. Try this one. Kneel on both knees. Bend forward letting the head drop toward the floor and placing the hands on the floor in a relaxed way. Slowly straighten up.

Do this so gradually that you feel that you are doing it one vertebra at a time. Continue until your trunk is erect. Slowly raise your arms toward the ceiling. Reach high. Keep your body and your head in the same position as you slowly lower your arms to your sides. Continue.

A datetime-charmer in black sheared wool, this matching skirt and weskit is bound in narrow black velvet ribbon. The waist-whittling skirt falls from a high rising waistband. The full-sleeved blouse with tiny bow tie is of dacron. May be purchased locally.

Howard Ketcham's a Dyed-in-the-Wool Believer

We Go for Color, and Rainbow's the Limit

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

Today's variation of this doggerel tells in one way how the experts are using colors to increase consumer buying of everything from automobiles to appliances.

Consider some ways color affects our buying, as related by Ketcham:

—Cotton bags dyed a brilliant tangerine increased sales of citrus fruits in bags from 1.250 million to 10 million in one season;

—Shoppers favor apples that are half-red instead of those on the green side, but sales decline when the apples displayed are all red. Color contrast whets our appetite;

—The Pennsylvania Railroad served steaks cooked with radar, but patrons sent them back because they looked gray. The railroad modified the cooking apparatus so it would sear the outside of the meat an appetizing brown, and increase sales.

—American Telephone and Telegraph, within three years after introduction of colored telephones (styled by Ketcham), sold 10 million — at an added profit of $10 each over the traditional black models.

MOSTLY EMOTION

"Ninety per cent of all buying decisions are emotional," said Ketcham, in an interview at his office (one deep blue wall, three walls neutral, one door tangerine). "Since color appeals directly to the emotions, it is one of the most potent selling tools."

"Yet a reaction to color is personal; it is difficult to generalize on how one shade affects all individuals.

"We do know that certain shades of yellow may connote cheapness, irritate us, distress us. On the positive side, yellow can cheer, stimulate, invigorate, imply luxury.

Where will the color engineers take us next?

To making our towns into a veritable rainbow, said Ketcham.

Ketcham foresees the day when cities will be filled with many-colored skyscrapers — because of laboratory development of new paints which adhere to metal.

I asked Ketcham whether this thing of color could be overdone —as the auto industry did with mauve and shocking pink cars.

"Certainly," he said, "there is the hazard of hodgepodge. So each city will need a color arbiter. In the case of the car industry, there were just too many people making decisions. But I see no reason why a city, just like a well-dressed woman, shouldn't have a color scheme."

They'd Like It Without Much Work

Teen-Agers Dream of Happiness and Fame

By W. S. GILBERT PRESIDENT, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Young people these days dream of success and happiness. But they don't feel a great drive to go out and fight for their goals.

* * *

Our survey of what teen-agers want out of life shows they daydream most of all about love and a good marriage. The subjects of business success and security are close seconds.

The great majority of these young people feel that most adults work very hard to win success. But most think they will accomplish their own aims without great personal sacrifices.

We questioned 687 teen-agers across the nation on whether they would rather be happy or famous. Most of them—84 per cent—prefer happiness, feeling it leads to a richer life. As Jerry Alders, 15, of Mt. Pleasant, Tex., puts it, "Fame doesn't last very long," and a 20-year-old Middletown, N. Y., girl says, "Individual fulfillment means more to me than achieving public notice."

However, among the 26 per cent of the boys who want fame more than happiness, Harold J. Heyman, 18, of Chicago comments, "Happiness can come from fame and power." And George L. Mitchell, 19, of Hartford, Conn., says, "Fame does not preclude happiness."

FAMILY LIFE A MUST

As for whether they want a good family life or interesting experiences, 96 per cent of the girls chose a good family life compared with 62 per cent of the boys.

Explaining her choice, Kathy Rubin, 17, of Syracuse, N.Y., says, "I enjoy children and hope to have four or five." Aileen Barnes, 17, of Portland, Ore., says, "Family life is the one thing God puts us on the earth for." A 16-year-old St. Louis boy says, "Family life is the essence of life and happiness."

The 19 per cent of the teen-agers who prefer interesting experiences to family life say they hate routine and enjoy taking chances.

Linda Powers, 18, of Clarksville, Tenn., says, "It's a big world: I want to enjoy all of it." And a 16-year-old Salt Lake City girl wants fun now because "family life can come later."

There are more conservatives (93 per cent) among the girls than the boys (81 per cent) when it comes to a choice between the security of a certain income or taking a chance on getting a larger income. "Gambling can cost you your home," says a 17-year-old Portland, Ore., girl.

* * *

Some 22 per cent of the young people say their biggest dream is to have love, a big family and a good marriage. And 21 per cent want a business success, career and security.

Fifteen per cent want happiness and contentment most of all. Fourth on the list, with an 8 per cent score, is achievement of stardom either in talent or sports. Next with 4 per cent came travel and education. Some 30 per cent of the teen-agers have miscellaneous ambitions—or none at all.

* * *

A 17-year-old Chicago girl says the one thing she wants most out of life is "to marry Frank Sinatra. I love him." Another 17-year-old girl in Omaha wants health because "if you are healthy you can obtain the world." Edward Pacher, 19, Yonkers, N.Y., wants prosperity and "a life of no regrets."

WOULD TAKE IT EASY

As for how hard they are willing to work to make their dreams come true, 34 per cent of the teen-agers—say they would give all their efforts.

* * *

Twelve per cent say they would go all out only if they would not be hurting others. The remaining 54 per cent say it depends—they wouldn't work too much because they believe somehow things will work out.

Some 23 per cent of the teen-agers don't know what sacrifices they are willing to make for their ambitions, and 22 per cent won't give up anything.

In actual accomplishment, 38 per cent of the young people feel they will achieve most of their goals. Another 38 per cent believe they will realize a moderate amount while 17 per cent expect to achieve only a small part of their ambitions.

* * *

Virtually all of the teen-agers feel they get a good example from adults when it comes to hard work. Some 83 per cent believe that most grownups they know worked very hard to achieve their goals.

But there is some skepticism. Gerald Blackburn, 17, of Mount Pleasant, Texas, says, "They're always talking about it."

Style Steppers Hold First Dance of New Year

Among guests from Pontiac were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wilcox, the Jack McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. James Seeterlin, the Jack Echlins, the Robert Thompsons, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Childs, the Harold Haddons and the Tony Grimshaws. Many of these are members of Promenade.

From Rochester were the Norman Waggoners, the James Stroats and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Beerbower, The Stanley Smiths and the Frances Galloways came from Lake Orion and the Patt Sanders from Washington.

Housekeeping Isn't a Job for Glamor

By RUTH MILLETT

I've just finished reading a magazine article on how to be a glamorous housewife. I hope other women readers of that same article won't take it seriously.

Any woman who tried to follow the formula would be a likely candidate for a nervous or physical breakdown inside of two weeks.

But even if she survived the rigid routine supposed to lead to perfection as a housewife, there isn't a chance she would win any glamor titles.

She might win the title of "perfect housekeeper" or "efficient homemaker," but those are the best she could expect.

In the first place, there's nothing glamorous about housework. It can be satisfying. It can be rewarding. Whether or not it is either, it has to be done.

* * *

But feeding a hungry family three meals a day, cleaning up the kitchen afterwards, scrubbing, waxing, polishing, washing, ironing, marketing, and so on are hardly glamor jobs.

And I've yet to see the woman who looks glamorous while doing them . . . or who feels glamorous while she is doing them, either.

So let's quit kidding the brides. When a girl takes on the job of homemaking for a lifetime career, she is not taking a glamor job.

She isn't going to be able to turn it into one, no matter how early she gets up in the morning. So the best thing for a young wife to do is to learn to work at her own pace, to do things the way that suits her best, to be satisfied with less than perfection, so that she is easy to live with and her house is a pleasant place for her family to come home to.

* *

If that doesn't sound glamorous—well, I've already said housekeeping isn't glamorous, by any stretch of the imagination.

But for a woman it's the most rewarding job there is.

If she does it well and makes a happy home, she can leave glamor to the girls who need it to get what she already has—a husband, a home and a family.

Lone Parents Organized to Assist One Another

How do you manage a family shattered by death, divorce or separation?

What does a father do when an "Ask your mother" situation comes up?

And, where do you find social life when you're a fifth wheel among both single and married friends?

Two years ago some parents in the New York area faced with these common problems decided to get together and help each other. They formed a nonprofit, non-sectarian organization called "Parents without Partners."

* * *

Today there are 1,200 members in chapters in five states.

Parents without Partners has developed a lively program of meetings with specialists in child care and family relations; discussion groups; outings for parents and children and social events for parents.

About two-thirds of PwP's membership are parents who are divorced or separated; the other third widows and widowers.

Women outnumber men by about three to one, as divorced mothers for the most part receive custody of children. However, PwP President Louis Heidelberger wishes more fathers would join. He says:

"There are emotional problems that affect either partner in a divorce or separation; fathers come up against touchy situations in visits with their children. Our group offers solid help both in discussion groups and from expert speakers."

* * *

Two dozen members were pleasantly disqualified from membership by remarriage to partners met through PwP. However, the organization is not a marriage club.

"After all," says one member, "who would ever think of looking for a wife or husband where you knew there was a ready-made family!"

High praise for PwP comes from Mrs. Dorothy Cohen, assistant professor of human relations at Paterson, N.J., State Teachers College, who has served as a consultant and speaker for the group.

"Single parents," she says, "are so anxious about depriving the child of family life they constantly seek to make it up in some way.

"They have to recognize that the everyday problems that come up are common in and out of the family. An organization that shows them they are not alone helps them relax in dealing with children and gives them ways of meeting difficult situations."

Mrs. Cohen feels that children make a much better adjustment to drastic family change than parents realize — provided the problem isn't magnified by bitterness or conflict between husband and wife.

* * *

This feeling is reflected among PwP members. Said one bachelor father of two children: "Being divorced doesn't mean being tranquillized. But in a group like this we can talk out our feelings and get ideas from others."

A young widow says:

Caldron 70 Sets Fete

* * *

Plans were made for a card party to be held in April. The Caldron will meet with Iraq Grotto for a family night Jan. 16.

Vasa Lodge to Gather

Pontiac Vasa Lodge 510 will meet Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at Pythian Hall on Voorheis road.

On the serving comittee will be Mr. and Mrs. Carl Westness, Mr. and Mrs. John Wenstas and the John Campbells.

Dancing will follow the meeting. Scandinavians and their friends are invited.

Scatterbrained Billy Burke Has Some Wise Observations

But talk with her, and her observations on marriage, love, age and other matters show the actress carries plenty of gray matter beneath that fluttery surface.

Miss Burke is on a series of "one night stands" in various cities to autograph copies of her new book for book and department store customers.

The book is her second, called "With Powder on My Nose," written with Cameron Shipp (Coward-McCann), and gets its title from some of her words to the wise: "Girls, keep your shine coming from within, and powder on your nose and life will be more fun."

She was a few minutes late for our interview because "it takes longer, my dear, to fix an old face."

"Young girls don't need much makeup," said Miss Burke, "and with too much, the old girls look sort of odd.

"I don't worry about the passing years," she said, "my life has been wonderful. But time, as they say, grabs a woman by the throat.

"I do think any older person should find something useful to do, something to give a sense of accomplishment. Makes it easier to live with yourself.

"After my first book on my life with Mr. Ziegfeld (Florenz Ziegfeld, the late impresario who was her one and only husband), I wondered whether anyone would be interested in another. But I think the subject of holding a husband is worth-while, don't you?

* * *

"I'll tell you this. Clean linens, brushed hair, soap and water add considerably to the bliss of married life. I'm constantly amazed when I talk to young people . . . to learn how much they know about Sex and how little about Soap.

"I see no excuse for a woman looking a mess in the morning. It takes only a few minutes to wash your face, brush your hair, and put on something crisp. In short, look kissable.

"Men will stick to fat girls, skinny ones, old ones, fork-tongued ones. But they won't cling to gals who are messes.

"I think it's the little things which break up a marriage," said the actress. "The drawer always left a little open. The wads of hanky tissues which dot the whole house."

The best way to start the new year is to sew this wonder wardrobe of blouses! All three styles are smart and easy to make in crisp, no-iron cottons.

Sunday Store Boycott Urged

State Church Council Raps Growing Amount of Sabbath Business

LANSING (UPI) — Seeking to preserve "the very foundation of our way of life," the Michigan Council of Churches today denounced the operation of stores on Sundays and asked customers to boycott such establishments.

"Supermarkets are operating on Sunday in the Detroit area and around the state in rapidly increasing numbers," said Bishop Marshall R. Reed, council president.

"Variety, department, furniture and other retail establishments also threaten to operate on Sundays and in large numbers."

'CULTURAL CRISIS'

"Disregard for Sunday as a generally recognized day for worship, rest, relaxation and family activity is a part of the cultural crisis evidenced in the TV quiz show scandals, payola, and deterioration of standards in the film and publication fields on sex, marriage and the family," the directors said.

★ ★ ★

The statement said the churches do not seek to impose "blue" law moral standards.

Rep. R. M. Simpson of Pennsylvania Dies

Death came at 8:15 a. m. at the Naval Medical Center at nearby Bethesda, Md., where Simpson underwent brain surgery Dec. 14. The operation was to determine whether Simpson had a brain tumor. The results never were announced.

Simpson, a member of Congress since 1937, had been regarded for years as one of the leading champions in the House of high tariffs and traditional Republican economic policy.

★ ★ ★

He was chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, a party organization aimed at election of GOP members to the House.

Here Are Pithy Quotes From President's Talk

State of Union Message Weighs War as Insanity

★ ★ ★

With both sides of this divided world in possession of unbelievably destructive weapons, mankind approaches a state where mutual annihilation becomes a possibility. No other fact of today's world equals this in importance —it colors everything we say, plan, and do.

We must strive to break the calamitous cycle of frustrations and crises which, if unchecked, could spiral into nuclear disaster, the ultimate insanity.

We now stand in the vestibule of a vast new technological age — one that, despite its capacity for human destruction, has an equal capacity to make poverty and human misery obsolete.

No longer is the United States the only major industrial country capable of providing substantial amounts of the resources so urgently needed in the newly developing countries. To remain secure and prosperous themselves, wealthy nations must extend the kind of cooperation to the less fortunate members that will inspire hope, confidence and progress.

★ ★ ★

. . . Just as we drew on Europe for assistance in our earlier years, so now do those new and emerging nations that have this faith and determination deserve help.

★ ★ ★

By extending this help we hope to make possible the enthusiastic enrollment of these nations under freedom's banner. No more startling contrast to a system of sullen satellites could be imagined.

★ ★ ★

Until tangible and mutually enforceable arms reduction measures are worked out, we will not weaken the means of defending our institutions . . . but I once again assure all peoples and all nations that the United States, except in defense will never turn loose this destructive power.

. . . Our military missile program, going forward so successfully, does not suffer from our present lack of very large rocket engines, which are so necessary in distant space exploration . . . the United States is pressing forward in the development of large rocket engines to place much heavier vehicles in space.

Once again I urge Congress to enact (farm) legislation that will gear production more closely to markets, make costly surpluses more manageable, provide greater freedom in farm operations, and steadily achieve increased net farm incomes.

We must fight inflation as we would a fire that imperils our home.

I shall present to the Congress for 1961 a balanced budget.

★ ★ ★

. . . The right to vote has been one of the strongest pillars of a free society. Our first duty is to protect this right against all encroachment. In spite of constitutional guarantees, and notwithstanding much progress of recent years, bias still deprives some persons in this country of equal protection of the laws.

★ ★ ★

The educational process, essentially a local and personal responsibility, cannot be made to leap ahead by centralised governmental action.

★ ★ ★

I am not unique as a President in having worked with a Congress controlled by the opposition party — except that no other President ever did it for quite so long!

★ ★ ★

Old labels no longer faith fully describe. Police states are called "people's democracies." Armed conquest of free people is called "liberation." Such slippery slogans make more difficult the problem of communicating true facts and beliefs.

★ ★ ★

We must make clear our peaceful intentions, our aspirations for a better world . . . and we must live by what we say.

Ike Seeks Aid in Poverty War

Urges Free World to Join U.S. in Campaign of Economic Help

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower urged the world's industrialized free nations today to join the United States in a vast economic aid campaign against poverty in underdeveloped countries.

He told a joint session of Congress in his annual state of the union message that failure to accept this challenge could bring "world disaster."

Eisenhower called on the now-prospering nations of Western Europe and Japan to accept a bigger share of the foreign aid burden.

He warned that refusal by any prosperous nation to accept its share of the burden would bring down on the nation "enmities," "isolation" and "internal moral and physical softness."

He did not indicate how big or how permanent a cooperative economic program he has in mind.

He suggested that the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC) start planning now how "to enlist all available economic resources in the industrialized free world — especially private investment capital—" in a campaign against poverty in the newly emerging nations.

"By extending this help we hope to make possible the enthusiastic enrollment of these nations under freedom's banner," he said. "No more startling contrast to a system of sullen satellites could be imagined."

Two Democrats Elect Republican Chairman

OSWEGO, Kan. (AP) — The Democratic majority on the Labette County Commission Wednesday re-elected the lone Republican member as chairman.

The two Democrats couldn't agree which one of them should have the chairmanship. So they settled the matter by re-electing Dale Westerveld.

For 20 years, California and Oklahoma rivaled each other for top position among the nation's oil-producing states. In 1923, Texas surpassed them both.

Welcome in South America Seems Assured

Ike Tells Plans for Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, striving personally to improve Free World understanding, carries his "peace with freedom" campaign to four South American nations late next month.

Warm receptions — perhaps equaling those he received on his December tour of Asia and Africa —seemed assured for him in Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay and Chile, four ardent democracies.

Plans for the 10-day trip, which will begin Feb. 23, were announced Wednesday by the White House. Mrs. Eisenhower, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and the President's brother, Milton S. Eisenhower, will be among those making the trip in the President's jet airliner.

"The visit will contribute very much to the strengthening of the traditional friendly ties between Brazil and the United States," said Ambassador Walter Moreira Salles of Brazil.

"We are very, very happy," said Ambassador Walter Muller of Chile, adding that the visit "will provide an opportunity for him to discuss problems common to republics of the Americas."

"This tour will permit the President to establish personal contacts of great use and to receive a direct impression on the development problems of our people," said Ambassador Emilio Donato del Carril of Argentina.

"One of the very best things that the United States government could do to cement relations with Latin America," said Ambassador Julio Lacarte of Uruguay.

The White House announcement said the President hopes his trip will "publicly reflect his deep interest in all the countries of the new world, and encourage further development of the inter-American system."

The President will visit Brazil Feb. 23-25, Argentina Feb. 26-29, Chile Feb. 29-March 2 and Uruguay March 2-3.

The presidential palace at Rio de Janeiro said Wednesday night the President's first stop on his visit to Brazil will be at Brasilia, the new capital being built in the jungle 800 miles northwest of the present capital, Rio's International Airport will be closed to all jet planes at that time for improvement work.

A palace spokesman said Eisenhower will stop at the industrial center of Sao Paulo after visiting Rio de Janeiro.

Ike Points Out Longevity With Hostile Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I am not unique as a President in having worked with a Congress controlled by the opposition party," President Eisenhower said today, "except that no other President ever did it for quite so long."

He was quite right. He has faced three Congresses controlled by the Democrats. Only in 1955 did his election sweep carry the House and Senate for the Republicans.

He was Zachary Taylor, elected as a Whig in 1848 while the Democrats won both houses of Congress.

Predict Skyrocketing Water Requirement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Water requirements for municipal water, and for some industrial and irrigation purposes will skyrocket from 140 billion gallons a day in 1954 to 419 billion by the year 2000, according to preliminary government estimates.

The estimates were furnished to the Senate Select Committee on National Water Resources, headed by Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla). The committee has held nationwide hearings on water resources during recent months.

The preliminary estimates indicated the water requirements for the same categories in 1980 would total 246 billion gallons a day.

Preliminary figures from the Public Health Service, Kerr's office said, estimated municipal water requirments would jump from the 16 billion gallons a day level in 1954 to 43 billion in 1980 and 88 billion in 2000.

$200 Million Surplus Eyed for Current Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today the government would end the current fiscal year with a 200 million dollar surplus despite the "unsettling influence" of the eight-month steel dispute.

He also promised a joint session of Congress in his state of the union message that he would submit a balanced budget for the new fiscal year starting July 1.

Eisenhower cited the black-ink budgets as a major government effort to curb inflation and hold down prices. He said the nation must fight inflation "as we would a fire that imperils our home."

"Only by so doing," he said, "can we prevent it from destroying our salaries, savings, pensions and insurance, and from gnawing away the very roots of a free healthy economy and the nation's security."

He said stern self-discipline by every citizen "is needed to prevent steadily rising costs and prices."

In addition to its effects at home, Eisenhower said inflation shoves up the prices of goods America sells abroad and threatens to price U.S. products out of world markets.

The President said he would give high priority in his list of legislative proposals to a measure to remove "archaic restrictions" from the treasury's debt management authority.

This meant he would renew the request he made last year to kill the 4¼ per cent interest ceiling on government long-term bonds. Congress turned it down.

Eisenhower contends the ceiling is inflationary because it forces the government to borrow money through short-term notes on which there is no interest limit. The treasury has paid 5 per cent on recent borrowings.

The government forecast last September that it would finish this fiscal year 95 million dollars in the black. But as the steel strike dragged on, federal experts voiced fears that the loss of revenues might throw the government into the red by as much as 500 million.

Eisenhower told the lawmakers "You will be glad to know" that estimates now indicate a 200 million dollar budget surplus."

A Thumbnail Summary of President's Address

Russia—Has expressed interest in reducing peril of war, but we must not "be misled by pleasant promises until they are tested by performance."

Economic outlook—"1960 promises to be the most prosperous year in our history."

Space—U. S. expenditures will be practically doubled in 1961; military program not suffering from lack of big rocket engines needed for deep exploration of space; development of large rocket engines is being pressed forward.

Free world—Other prosperous countries should join the United States in giving urgently needed help to developing nations.

Defense — Long-range bombers are being supplemented by Atlas missiles, missile submarines; but the United States will never turn loose this destructive power except in self-defense.

Strikes—The President will encourage discussions between management and labor to consider public interest and avoid crippling strikes such as the steel strike.

Agriculture—The President urges Congress to enact legislation to reduce surpluses and increase farm income.

Civil rights — He hopes Congress will consider his civil rights recommendations in last year's message as well as additional recommendations by the Civil Rights Commission; say right to vote is one of the strongest pillars of a free society.

Inflation—"No person, city, state or organized group can afford to evade the obligation to resist inflation . . . I shall present to the Congress for 1961 a balanced budget."

Education — The administration has proposed a program to stimulate classroom construction by encouraging state and local efforts.

Today's Talk Fancy ---Unusually Newsy

President Eisenhower's State of the Union message to Congress today struck Morrison Smith, veteran UPI White House reporter, as an unusual document in its scope and construction. Beneath is his reaction to the message:

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower will have another State of the Union message next January just before he steps out of the White House.

But for practical purposes, today's message was his valedictory; the message for which he will want to be remembered.

There was a literary nature to the message not always found in Eisenhower communications to Congress and it is not completely without charity to note that one of the top writers in the White House, Malcolm Moos, has been nurturing and polishing the message with the President for a number of weeks.

"We now live in a divided world of uneasy equilibrium . . . we now stand in the vestibule of a vast new technological age . . . a state when mutual annihilation becomes a possibility . . . we must strive to break the calamitous cycle of frustrations and crises which, if unchecked, could spiral into nuclear disaster; the ultimate insanity . . . sullen satellites . . . the assure that divides our political planet is deep and wide . . . we live, moreover, in a sea of semantic disorder . . . slippery slogans make more difficult the problem of communicating true faith, facts and beliefs . . ."

It seems to this reporter that Eisenhower was trying to speak more forcefully, more indelibly than he has on other occasions because this was his last truly dominant message to the Congress.

WILL BE LOST

Next year's State of the Union will be lost largely in the sounds of a new administration treading into office; the public will be more interested in what the new man offers for the future than what the outgoing President says by way of review.

Regardless of the identity of a President, these messages have a tendency in most January to be such collections of greatest philosophy and pointing with pride that they present few new facts.

Today's message was unusually newsy — disclosure for the first time that the Atlas missile has been hitting a two-mile target over a distance of 5,000 miles in test after test (sensational news after so much about rocket failures from Cape Canaveral); the fact that the government expects to end fiscal 1960 in the black after the steel strike had indicated another deficit, year because of decreased tax revenues.

There were some other eye-and-ear-catching aspects of the message today:

The President's cautious acknowledgement that tension between Russia and the United States shows signs of abating somewhat if the Soviet Union will fit her actions to her pronouncements; also, the influence of Asia on the Chief Executive during his recent 22,000-mile tour.

He apparently came home deeply convinced that not only the United States, but all other free nations must rally to help the South Asian area economically.

TRYING EXTRA HARD

If the language wasn't enough to prove that Eisenhower was trying extra hard today, there was his technique.

He wanted as complete a record possible made before Congress in this vital election year, but he did not want to take up the 50 to 60 minutes that would have been required to send his 7,000-word text.

So, he sent Congress a printed version of the full text, then delivered a materially abridged version when he went to Capitol Hill for his personal appearance before the joint session.

Judy Gives Up, Temporarily, Finding Jinty

DETROIT (AP) — Judy Ferren has given up her search for the time being at least for her lost dog Jinty.

Before leaving by train for St. Thomas, Ont., Wednesday, the 17-year-old English girl said she will return here if any dogs turn up fitting the description of Jinty.

The year-old female Alsatian Shepherd escaped from a railroad baggage car in Detroit Dec. 23 as Judy and her mother were traveling from Southampton, England, to St. Thomas.

Judy attracted international attention by hitchhiking from St. Thomas to Detroit to look for the dog.

Detroiters have donated more than $100 to buy Judy a new dog or pay expenses during her search. Three newspapers have offered rewards totaling $250 for return of the dog.

Social Security Under Scrutiny

House May Repeal 50 Age Limit on Present Disability Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional fight was renewed today to add hospital, surgical and nursing home services to social security old-age benefits.

The move was pegged to expected House action on a bill repealing present requirements that disabled workers, covered under social security, must be at least 50 years of age to be eligible for social security disability benefits.

Chances appeared slim, however, that social security health and hospital legislation can be passed this session despite the election-year practice of Congress to liberalize the law.

The bill to repeal the age limitation on disability payments was introduced Wednesday by Rep. Burr Harrison (D-Va), chairman of a House Ways and Means subcommittee which handles the subject. It had the tentative backing of Democratic leaders.

But Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-RI) said he would lead efforts—backed by organized labor—to broaden any social security bill to include federal hospitalization insurance and other provisions.

The Ways and Means Committee is expected to consider a one-package approach to a number of proposed amendments to the Social Security law. These include possible extension of coverage to some groups now excluded and the payment of monthly benefits to wives and widows who are permanently disabled.

None of these proposals would require an increase in the existing social security tax rate.

Wisniewski Renamed Liquor Control Head

He was nominated by Commissioners Kenneth J. Daniels of Jackson and Louis G. Jarboe of Rogers City.

Is Your Pancake Griddle Ready?

Pancake—flapjack—or griddlecake? Webster's unabridged dictionary makes little distinction among the three. Call them what you will, but serve them frequently. If you are pleasing male appetites.

Pancakes are at home in any meal. They may be the main course for breakfast or brunch, dessert for luncheon or dinner, or a late evening snack. The gourmet crepe suzette is nothing more than a tiny rich filled pancake.

There are pancakes and then there are special pancakes. You may use any one of the numerous mixes or you may make up your own batter. But let's have some variety.

When you have a little leftover rice, use it in Banana Rice Pancakes. They are an entirely different kind of griddle cake. You won't have to call the family to breakfast more than once if they smell these cooking.

HOT OFF THE GRIDDLE — Stacks of perfectly browned griddlecakes are the piece de resistance for breakfast, dinner or supper — or for snacks. Above you see Banana Rice Pancakes served for breakfast with bacon and tomato juice. Have a better breakfast with pancakes.

Banana Rice Pancakes

1 cup sifted flour
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
¼ cup buttermilk
½ cup mashed banana
½ cup melted shortening
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cooked rice

Sift together dry ingredients. Beat egg yolks until light and lemon colored. Combine with buttermilk, mashed banana, shortening and vanilla. Add to dry ingredients and mix well.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold rice and egg whites into banana mixture.

Drop batter from spoon or pour onto hot griddle, making cakes about 4 inches in diameter. Bake until bubbles form on top. Turn and brown on other side.

Note: Banana may be omitted if additional ¾ cup buttermilk is used instead.

If you don't like to wait while pancakes cook, try this interesting recipe for pancake stacks. These you make before the meal, fill, stack and serve in wedges. You offer your guests a choice of toppings.

Spicy Ham' N Bacon Pancake Stacks

Pancake Mix (about 2 cups)
2 4½ ounce cans deviled ham
8 slices grilled bacon, crumbled

Prepare your favorite pancake mix and cook four large pancakes (6 or 7 inches) on hot griddle. Mix deviled ham with bacon. Spread each pancake with mix, and stack. Serve with choice of:

1. Maple Syrup.
2. Sour Cream.
3. Honey and orange—¼ cup honey to ¼ cup orange juice.
4. Cheese sauce—any prepared cheese spread melted over low heat with enough milk for pouring consistency.

You can please different members of the family with one pancake recipe by varying what you add to the batter after it is on the griddle. Junior likes canned peaches so you put bits of drained fruit on each cake before it is turned.

Father and Sissy are blueberry fans; they get berry-dotted cakes. Grandpa loves cheese so his pancakes have grated cheese in them. You get the bits of leftover ham, ground fine.

This last recipe is for a dessert pancake that is apt to appeal to your teen-agers. They are a dessert treat.

Strawberry Mallows

Pancakes:
2 cups pancake mix
2 cups strawberry milk*
2 eggs
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Add strawberry milk, egg and shortening to pancake mix, stirring lightly. Pour ¼ cup batter for each pancake onto hot lightly greased griddle. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once. Serve with strawberries and marshmallow topping. Makes 8 servings.

To make strawberry milk, drain the juice from 2 packages of frozen strawberries and add enough milk to make 2 cups.

Topping

2 packages (10 oz.) frozen strawberries, thawed and drained.

Egyptians Ate 'Em for Strength

The Greeks and Romans knew their onions, or so we are told, and the Egyptians ate their share, too. In fact, there is a legend that onions and garlic were fed to the builders of the Pyramids to keep them fit for the tough job ahead of them.

One of the things to know about onions right now is that they're plentiful, which should be good news to you homemakers whose families enjoy a lavish use of this flavorsome vegetable.

Whether you serve onions as a separate vegetable or use them to season other foods, you'll find they add zest and sparkle to your menu.

For juice, don't try to squeeze the onion like a lemon, but use the fine shredder.

When you want the flavor to permeate a casserole or soup, cook the onions in a little fat for a few minutes. Let them cook until they are yellow, but not brown. The fat is a good flavor carrier.

If your onions have sprouted, use the tender green sprouts as you would chives.

Vinegar or lemon juice rubbed on a paring knife will remove the taste and the odor of onions.

Toasted or Sauteed Nuts Go With Wine and Fruit

Walnuts, almonds and pecans, warm and crisp make a nice accompaniment for dessert wines and fruits. For roasting, preheat the oven to 350 degrees and spread the nuts in a shallow pan. A tablespoon of butter for each cup of nuts may be added if desired.

For toasting, use a skillet over the automatic top burner heat control set at 250 degrees. Sauté the nuts for about 10 minutes. Drain on paper towels and sprinkle with salt if desired.

When you are having a party and there are more vegetables and fruit on hand than will go into your refrigerator crisper, put them in moisture-proof wrapping in the regular food compartment.

Italian Ciabotta Is Different

Ciabotta, as the Italians say (they specialize in it) is not bad!

It's an example of the Italian cookery that the late Maine author Kenneth Roberts admired as equal to any in the world. Roberts wrote some of his early books on the Tuscan seacoast.

This recipe fills a two-quart casserole dish and will serve half-a-dozen diners; it is easy to multiply the ingredients for a larger number of hungry party-goers.

CIABOTTA

6 sliced potatoes, medium to large size
2 sliced onions
1 can Italian tomatoes
1 pound hamburg, ground
Salt and pepper and oregano

Arrange in layers in a baking dish the potatoes, onions, hamburg (pan fried loosely), and tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper and a pinch or two of oregano.

Fill the baking dish, cover it and put in a 350 degree oven until the potatoes are cooked, about 45 minutes.

Garlic bread goes well with this, as does a tossed salad made with Italian wine vinegar and oil dressing.

Any kind of meat may be used with Ciabotta: pepperoni, hot sausage, turkey left over or even hotdogs. Grated cheese is an alternative. One of the secrets for dip is those Italian canned tomatoes — plum-shaped and well-seasoned!

BARBECUED PORK LOIN — Pork hasn't been such a good buy for years. Treat your family to a loin roast that has been cut into one-rib chops. Tie it up, spread with a spicy barbecue sauce and bake in a slow oven. It's a cinch to serve and a pleasure to eat.

Plan a Winter Dinner Around Barbecued Pork

Meal planning marches on fifty-two weeks a year. Holiday fun and fixings are taken in stride. It's the daily family meal that sometimes misses a beat. Not so when a barbecued pork loin roast is front and center on the table.

Plentiful pork is good news in the budget department. It combines high quality nutrition and hearty, satisfying eating at a bargain price. Besides providing complete meat protein, pork also is an excellent source of thiamine, which recent studies have shown to be woefully lacking in many American diets. Today's best values in pork come from lean meat-type hogs which are specially raised to a high proportion of meat with a reduced amount of waste.

To develop flavor and insure doneness, fresh pork should be roasted to an internal temperature of 185 degrees as indicated on a roast meat thermometer. The thermometer is inserted near the center of the thickest part of the muscle. Care should be taken that it does not touch the bone.

Have the pork loin selected for barbecuing cut into one-rib chops. This will allow the spicy sauce to penetrate into the roast while cooking. It is best to have the cutting done right at the meat counter. Tied together in the oven, the chops are easily separated at serving time and the need to carve the roast is eliminated.

Barbecued Pork Loin Roast

4 to 5 pound pork loin roast (cut into one rib chops)
2 cups soft butter
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
2 cloves garlic, peeled, mashed
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon catsup
3 drops Tabasco sauce
3 tablespoons vinegar

With a string, tie chops back together (in a roast-like fashion). Place roast with rib ends up in a roasting pan. If a roast meat thermometer is used, insert it into the center of the center chop.

Beat together the butter, mustard, salt, paprika, garlic, sugar, and lemon juice. Beat in remaining ingredients. Spread half of the barbecue mixture over the roast. Cover roast loosely with aluminum foil. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees) 3 hour.

Uncover after 1 hour and spread remaining barbecue mixture on the roast. Continue roasting, without covering, for about 2 more hours or until internal temperature is 185 degrees as indicated on the roast meat thermometer.

Open a Package to Start Dinner

Spaghetti has become almost as American as Plymouth Rock. This is probably due to the extensive popularity of canned spaghetti and meat balls and the handy packaged spaghetti dinners.

You'll find the spaghetti, a fast-cooking type, the finely seasoned sauce and a small can of grated cheese, can be transformed into something delectably different by adding a dash of imagination. Here is a Spaghetti and Meat Loaf that clearly illustrates this fine point.

The meat mixture is alternately layered with the spaghetti which has been combined with beaten eggs and the mushroom sauce; then the loaf is baked in the oven for about 50 minutes.

Spaghetti and Meat Loaf

1 pkg. complete spaghetti dinner with mushroom sauce
2 eggs
2 lbs. ground chuck
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups soft bread crumbs
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 medium onion, minced

Start heating oven to 350 degrees. Cook spaghetti according to package directions. Meanwhile thoroughly mix meat, one beaten egg, salt, pepper, bread crumbs, chopped parsley and onion together. Then add grated cheese from the spaghetti dinner package in with this mixture and blend well.

Beat two eggs and blend into mushroom sauce from spaghetti dinner package. Combine with cooked spaghetti, mixing well.

Pack half of meat mixture into bottom of a greased loaf pan. Cover with spaghetti mixture. Then pack remaining meat mixture on top. Bake loaf in oven for 50 minutes or until spaghetti mixture is firm. Unmold and cut into slices.

Serve with extra can of spaghetti sauce with mushrooms that has been heated.

Cheese Sauce, Bacon Top Cauliflower

Cauliflower With Cheese Sauce And Bacon

1 medium-sized head cauliflower
1 cup boiling water
1½ teaspoons salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
1 cup (loosely packed) coarsely grated cheddar cheese
6 slices bacon (cooked until almost crisp and diced)

Trim heavy green leaves from cauliflower and separate into small flowerets; wash. Cook rapidly in 10-inch skillet with boiling water and 1 teaspoon of the salt until barely tender — 5 minutes or longer.

Drain and arrange in heat-resistant glass pie plate 7½ by 1½ inches); keep warm. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, milk and remaining ¼ teaspoon salt; over very low heat stir in cheese until melted; pour over cauliflower.

Here's New Idea for Applesauce

Orange Applesauce

1½ pounds (6 very large) tart green apples
1 cup water
Salt
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
½ to ¾ cup sugar
Membrane-free sections (along with any juice) from 3 large oranges

Pare and quarter apples; core and slice thin; there should be about 6 cups. Boil gently, covered, with water and a dash of salt until tender. Mash with a large spoon so sauce is not entirely smooth.

Stir in orange rind and sugar over low heat until sugar dissolves. Cool. Add orange sections; chill. Makes 6 servings.

Meat Counter Offers Best Food Bargains

After drastic fluctuations in supply and price, the hog receipts which had been delayed by the holiday and the weather were increased considerably at the first of the week. Pork prices broke again to allow a wide variety of excellent values.

Loin roasts and chops, roll and link sausage, bacon and smoked picnics are extremely low in price. However, most meat handlers believe that the record low price levels of a few weeks ago are past for this season.

BEEF: More low-cost beef features are available this week than in several weeks. Although wholesales are up somewhat, last week's rapid drop in price is being reflected in retails. Both hind and front quarter cuts may be found at especially low prices—in round, sirloin and porterhouse steaks, and chuck roasts and ground beef. Some stores are also displaying special prices on the wholesale cuts for freezer storage.

POULTRY: Perhaps other low-cost competition with red meats has caused fryer prices to return again to low levels. At any rate, good values may be found in the whole and cut-up birds.

FISH: Although fresh perch is several cents higher than in December as most of it now comes from the Canadian lakes or from storage, heavier supplies of herring and whitefish, and fresh ocean fish have resulted in lower prices. Medium shrimp continues to be a fine value. The ocean storms last weekend may have some effect on prices by the end of the week.

EGGS AND DAIRY: Egg prices remain at about the same levels as a week ago. Wholesalers report that the spread between the large and the medium sizes is somewhat narrower and the large sizes are an increasingly better value. Egg prices in general average about 3-4 cents a dozen less than those from a comparable batch in 1959.

Butter and mild cheddar cheese, along with dairy biscuits appear to be the best buys at the dairy counters.

FRUITS: Although general supply of apples remains about the same as last week, there are more features available—especially on Michigan Delicious. Avocados and bananas also remain on the "special" list. More fresh pineapples are in the markets to add variety to the fruit choices.

With holiday demand tending toward the larger sizes of Navel oranges this week, the better buys are in the smaller or medium sizes. Producers report that tangerines are cleaning up earlier than expected and those supplies are lighter. This may be partly responsible for the higher prices on Florida Temple oranges. Supplies and prices on grapefruit are unchanged.

Tomatoes are priced lower as some of the freeze-damaged fields in Florida are producing better than expected. Growers of Ohio hothouse tomatoes also report that supplies will last later than last year due to increased production and a later starting date.

Green bean and cucumber prices are considerably lower. Cauliflower is being featured in some markets because shipments are now arriving from more sections and broccoli and Brussels sprouts continue to be good values.

A variety of new items may be found at lower cost on the grocer's shelves. Canned apple sauce, tomato juice and such pineapple products as the chunks or crushed and the juice are good buys.

Don't throw the outside leaves of head lettuce in the garbage can. Shred them and float over the top of clear soups (chicken, beef or seafood).

SHERRIED TURKEY IN NOODLE NESTS—A little leftover turkey or chicken can make a dull dish or a gay one, depending on the company it keeps. With a sassy sauce and individual noodle nests, this is glamorous enough to inspire a party.

Whipped Dry Milk Fluffs Up Cheesecake

The idea of making cheesecake at home defeats many an otherwise self-confident cook. She thinks of it as a rich and heavy dessert, and one that needs the mysterious skills and ministrations of a master baker.

Fret no more, my lady! Here's a new cheesecake that's as light as modern taste demands, and easy as can be with its no-bake recipe. The magic lies in instant crystals of nonfat dry milk that WHIP.

The fluffy mounds of low-calorie whipped instant crystals make this the first truly light cheesecake ever, and in the bargain, let flavors come through clear and bright. The first taste will tell you that now you can have your cheesecake, and eat it, as often as you like. Try it and see!

No-Bake Strawberry Cheesecake

1 package (10 ounces) frozen sliced strawberries, thawed
1 cup lemon juice
½ cup water
1 package (3½ ounces) vanilla pudding and pie filling
1 tablespoons (3 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
¼ cup sugar
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 cup cream-style cottage cheese
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals
½ cup ice water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Strawberry halves

Drain strawberries and reserve syrup. Combine strawberry syrup, ¼ cup lemon juice and enough water to make 2 cups liquid.

Combine pudding mix, gelatin, 2 cups liquid, ½ cup sugar and egg yolks in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cool thoroughly. Beat cottage cheese until creamy. Add pudding mixture and continue beating until mixture is blended.

Combine instant nonfat milk crystals and ice water and whip until soft peaks form (3-4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and continue whipping, while gradually adding ¼ cup sugar, until stiff peaks form (3-4 minutes longer).

Fold whipped instant crystals, vanilla, egg whites and drained frozen strawberries into pudding mixture. Pour into pan over crumb mixture.* Chill until set (about 3 hours). Garnish with strawberries, as desired.

Mincemeat Shows Up in Waffles

Mincemeat Waffles

1 egg
1 cup milk
½ cup ready-to-use mincemeat
1 cup buttermilk pancake mix
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Beat egg until yolk and white are combined; add milk and beat to blend. Add mincemeat and pancake mix; beat until batter is fairly smooth. Stir in melted butter. Bake in hot waffle iron until steamin stops. Serve with butter. Makes 4 servings.

Stuffed Chicken for Two

Two is company enough, no need for a crowd, to enjoy a stuffed chicken. The secret is: Buy a whole frying chicken, and have it split down the back. Wash and pat chicken with a towel. Make your favorite celery and onion bread stuffing. Use chicken bouillon for moistening.

Lay chicken on a board, split sides up. Fill the cavity with stuffing, fasten together with skewers, and truss. Brush with melted butter and place breast side up on a baking pan. Roast uncovered in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1½ hours. Make gravy from drippings.

One average serving of ice cream contains almost as much protein and calcium as ⅓ cup of milk, so ice cream should be considered a highly nourishing food when planning menus.

Sherried Turkey in Noodle Nests

Leftovers can be your biggest help, or your biggest headache, depending on what you do with them. If they're served in the same fashion as the first time around nothing could be more dreary. If they're viewed as a bonanza and a brand new ingredient, they can make a dish that's delicious, fresh and glamorous enough for your most cherished guest list.

* * *

Take turkey, chicken or capon for instance. Add mushrooms and a fine, discreet sherry sauce,—plus the glamor of indivual noodle nests, and you've transformed a little leftover into a lot of gourmet dining.

Sherried Turkey in Noodle Nests

1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
8 ounces fine egg noodles (about 6 cups)
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups sliced mushrooms
¼ cup chopped parsley
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups chicken bouillon or stock
¼ cup sherry
2 cups sliced cooked turkey

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Press noodles into 6 buttered individual ring molds.

* * *

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine. Add mushrooms and parsley and cook over low heat until mushrooms are tender. Add flour, paprika, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper; blend. Gradually add bouillon or stock and sherry and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Add turkey and heat to serving temperature, stirring frequently. Serve sherried turkey with noodle nests. Garnish with parsley, if desired.

Plenty of Parsley

Don't be afraid to add plenty of minced parsley when you are making a stuffing for meat or poultry — it takes a fair amount to give real parsley flavor.

Some Foods Are Apt to Hurt Stainless Steel

Do you know that certain foods should not be stored in stainless steel containers? Mustard, mayonnaise, lemon juice, vinegar, salt or dressings containing these will attack and corrode stainless if exposed to it for long periods at a time. Remember, too, that strong bleaches should not come in contact with stainless steel sinks or utensils for periods longer than 30 minutes.

Not Too Much Water

To retain all the valuable vitamins and minerals of a fresh apple in applesauce, use as little water as possible to keep the fruit from sticking to the pan, and do not peel. Varieties such as Rome Beauty, Newtan and Winesap with very firm meat will require slightly more water in cooking than those varieties such as Golden Delicious and Delicious which are of a softer meat with more moisture content.

Aim for Worry-Free Cars

Auto Engineers Peek Into 1960s

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT—Automotive engineers will concentrate on making cars more and more trouble-free in the next decade, the new president of the Society of Automotive Engineers predicted today.

Harry E. Chesebrough, general manager of the Plymouth-DeSoto-Valiant Division of Chrysler Corp., will be installed as the new head of the SAE at its annual meeting next week.

He celebrated in advance by describing for this reporter the role the SAE played in bringing about new developments in autos —and made a few predictions at the same time.

"There'll be a lot of new developments in the industry in the next decade, particularly to make driving easier, more comfortable and more economical," Chesebrough said. "But the major emphasis will be on giving the motorist a car he doesn't have to worry about, one that won't need repairs."

* * *

The greatest task of the auto engineer in the decade of the 1940s was to keep a car running, he said. In the '50s a car's operating qualities established, switched to refinements, more comfort, convenience, performance and safety.

"The compact cars are the best expression of what we accomplished in the '50s and they give us a good jumping off spot for the '60s," he said.

"I can only say the '60s will be different than anyone expects it to be and new developments will come faster than anyone expects," he said.

But he listed some specifics he expects in the next decade.

"The reciprocating engine will retain its position in the industry for at least 15 years," he said. "The gas turbine has received most attention and developmental work as a possible replacement.

* * *

"The energy cell concept shows great promise. A year ago it was just a glint in an engineer's eye but now it is being developed and receiving considerable attention.

"There will be accelerating use and development of light weight materials, including plastics for bearings, brackets and housings. New compact cars with greater performance options will be demanded."

Among the leading achievements of auto engineers in the last decade, Chesebrough listed: substantial improvements in fuel economy, automatic transmissions and power steering, more efficient use of structural materials, increased car life, greater safety, improved suspension systems, new materials and finishes, and fitting components of a car into freshly-styled cars with better structures.

* * *

The SAE plays a part in all these developments by providing a forum for the exchange of ideas among engineers working in different fields, Chesebrough said. Often a breakthrough in one field can lead to new ideas in other fields.

* * *

The SAE makes this possible by giving engineers opportunities to become familiar with what their fellow engineers are doing.

"In the 1960s the auto engineer is going to have to do more, faster," he said. "Greater density of traffic and greater desire for more for less pose a real challenge to us in the decade ahead.

"The SAE will help us meet that challenge."

What's on Top That Counts for These Sheriffs

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Wanda Bush, librarian for the Montgomery Advertiser, says she uses four categories in filing photographs of the state's 67 sheriffs:

1. Those wearing hats.
2. Those with bushy hair.
3. Those with receding hairlines.
4. The bald ones.

Need License to Lobby, State Reminds Agents

Secretary of State James M. Hare said he had sent out forms to the 227 legislative agents registered in 1959. To date, new applications have been received from only 121.

He reminded lobbyists the 1960 legislative session starts Wednesday and that violators of the Lobby Act can be charged with a felony calling for a maximum $1,000 fine or a year in jail.

Claim Enough Rights Strength

Could Break Southern Roadblock if Promises Are Kept, Backers Say

WASHINGTON (UP) — Backers of civil rights legislation today claimed enough strength "if every body stays hitched" to break a Southern-held roadblock and force an earlier House vote.

* * *

The House floor leader of the civil rights forces, Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the Judiciary Committee, made this estimate in a telephone interview from New York.

Meanwhile some top Democrats, returning to Washington for the opening of the session tomorrow, talked of a strategy shift to let the explosive issue come to the blow-off stage first in the House.

Senate debate has been informally set for about Feb. 15.

Last year the House Judiciary Committee after a bitter three-way fight among Northern and Southern Democrats and Republicans, produced a bill watered down from its original terms but still extending civil rights legislation into the emotion-packed area of school desegregation.

* * *

The bill would make it a federal crime to interfere by violence or threats with court desegregation orders. It also would forbid registrars to destroy voting records before federal officials could examine them. Another provision would strike at bombings.

* * *

The legislation promptly ran into delaying tactics in the Southern-led House Rules Committee which still has control of it.

Celler and others launched a discharge petition—a maneuver by which a majority of the House can take a bill away from a committee. But with only a few weeks before adjournment, they obtained only about 150 of the required 219 signatures before the session ended.

Celler said today he put on an expensive telephone, telegram and letter drive during the recess and has the promise of about 80 additional signatures.

"If all the promises are kept, we'll have more than enough signatures," he said.

* * *

Congress passed only stopgap civil rights legislation last year—an extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission.

Highway Dept. Builds 15 Miles of Bridges

LANSING (UP) — The State Highway Department reported a banner bridge building year for 1959 with 257 spans completed or under construction — a new record.

* * *

Contracts totaling $26,300,000 were awarded for construction of bridges and grade separations. If laid end to end, the bridges would extend more than 15 miles, the department estimated.

* * *

An even more ambitious program is on the drawing boards for 1960, the department said, with an estimated 400 bridges to be placed under contract.

The National Geographic Society estimates that man has wiped out about 90 per cent of the original wildlife population of the African continent.

Philippines Tops 52 Countries for Rabies Toll

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) — Norway has not had a single case of rabies in man or animal since 1909 — but 217 persons died of the disease in the Philippines in 1958.

The World Health Organization (WHO), in reporting these figures, also said:

Rabies is prevalent in 52 countries and absent from 23 countries and territories.

The Philippines reported more than 145,000 persons treated for the disease in 1958; most of those who died had not been treated.

The United States reported about 60,000 treated in 1958. It showed 6 deaths from rabies in 1953 and 5 in 1959 up to Nov. 27. Five of the 11 persons who died had been bitten by dogs, 3 by bats and 1 each by a fox, a skunk and an unknown carrier.

The animal most to blame for giving the disease to man is the wolf in Iran, the fox in Canada and Czechoslovakia, and the dog elsewhere. But there is increasing evidence in the United States that bats are important in keeping the infection alive.

Monitors' Chief to Stay on Job

Martin F. O'Donoghue Won't Quit as Long as Hoffa Case Runs

WASHINGTON (UP) — U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts says Martin F. O'Donoghue has assured him he will not resign as chairman of the court-appointed monitors as long as ouster charges against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa are pending.

Letts said O'Donoghue has agreed to remain until the charges against Hoffa were disposed of.

There have been persistent reports that O'Donoghue was anxious to leave the post in order to devote more time to his regular clients. An attorney specializing in labor law, O'Donough represents some AFL-CIO unions.

O'Donoghue and Lawrence T. Smith, another monitor who represents dissident Teamsters on the board, have accused Hoffa of misuse of funds of Detroit Local 299. Hoffa continues to serve as president of the Local while also serving as provisional president of the International Union. The third member of the board is Daniel B. Maher, Washington attorney, nominated by the Union.

* * *

The principal charge brought by O'Donoghue and Smith involves the deposit of $500,000 of Local 299 funds in the Florida National Bank of Orlando.

They contend the money was collateral for a loan to a Florida land development firm known as Sun Valley, Inc., and bore no interest while the loan was unpaid.

Only $100,000 of the loan has been repaid and the bank has refused to release the remaining $400,000.

The Union's lawyers insist the $500,000 deposit was unrelated to the Sun Valley loan. They have filed suit to compel the bank to release the Local's deposit.

O'Donoghue has said he intends to ask Letts for a formal hearing, and that if the charges are supported, to order Hoffa out as Union president.

Hoffa and O'Donoghue have carried on a bitter, running feud for many months. O'Donoghue contends Hoffa has failed to heed cleanup orders of the monitors. Hoffa, on the other hand, has insisted the monitors exceeded their authority.

10 From MSU to Visit Africa

Will Work, Study in Western Section Under Wide Sponsorship

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Some 30 Michigan State University students who signed up for a West Africa project are awaiting word today from New York as to which 10 will be chosen for the trip. Decision is expected by Jan. 15.

* * *

The students have applied as participants in "Operation Crossroads Africa," a study-tour and work-camp project organized by Dr. James Robinson, New York, a Presbyterian minister.

The project, designed to promote African-American understanding, will send the students to West Africa where they will spend a month in volunteer manual labor in a village. They will participate in discussions with political, business, labor and educational leaders.

When they return, they may be asked to give as many as 25 speeches about their experiences.

* * *

National sponsors will provide air transportation to and from West Africa. A campus committee will seek to help MSU participants raise the $875 per student needed to cover other expenses.

Firm in Cadillac Gets Prime Tank Contract

DETROIT (UPI) — The Small Business Administration announced today Kysor Heater Co. of Cadillac was awarded a prime contract for $143,704 by the Ordnance Tank Automotive Command in December.

The SBA also announced loans of $204,000 were made to five small businesses in the state last month.

The largest loan was $90,000 to the Kreuger Manufacturing Co., Inc., Owosso. Dapper-Do Co. of Saginaw received a $30,000 loan; Gibson Electronics, Iron River, and Kuthryn Shoppe, Three Rivers, received loans of $15,000 each; and Vernor's Ginger Ale Bottling Co., Battle Creek, received a $34,000 loan.

Screens Are Illegal as Segregation Aid

ATLANTA (UP) — A federal judge Wednesday ordered the Atlanta Airport restaurant to stop segregating Negroes from other patrons.

* * *

He overruled contentions by the City of Atlanta and Dobbs Houses, Inc., operators of the restaurant, that the restaurant is a private operation and not subject to regulation by the city.

Sloan granted H. D. Coke, a Birmingham, Ala., Negro insurance executive, an injunction against the restaurant's practice of placing screens between Negroes and whites in the dining area.

The judge also ruled that Coke's suit is a "proper case for class action" — which means that the injunction against segregation will apply to Negroes in general as well as Coke.

The suit stemmed from an incident at the airport in August 1958. Coke contended that he and two friends were told they would have to sit behind a screen when they sought to eat in the restaurant.

UAW Helps Striking Wilson Meat Workers

Oklahoma Slapped Hard by NCAA

Sooners Draw Stiff Penalties for Recruiting

Placed on Indefinite Probation; No Bowls or TV Allowed

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Oklahoma, already smarting from its worst football season in 13 seasons, now faces a period of indefinite probation imposed by the powerful Executive Council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

And the mighty Sooners, three times national champions under the genius of football Coach and Athletic Director Bud Wilkinson, are practically powerless to do anything about the stiff penalties imposed yesterday.

Under the terms of the probation, Oklahoma cannot participate in any post-season football games and cannot appear on any NCAA-controlled TV programs. No other sport is involved.

This will cost the university, perennial Big Eight football champion, a possible berth in the Orange Bowl and its share of the $208,000 which participating teams in a nationally televised regular-season game now receive.

Although the Sooners finished with a 7-3 record in 1959, they still won the Big Eight title and are automatic choices to defend it successfully and win the Big Eight Conference berth in the Orange Bowl. They also have been a fixture on the nationally televised Game-of-the-Week series for years.

But all this is gone for an indefinite period unless Oklahoma can convince Arthur L. Wood, an official booster of the university's athletic program, that he should divulge financial records of a recruiting fund:

Here is Oklahoma's dilemma: Wood, who lives in Oklahoma City, administered an athletic fund used for improper aid to at least one athlete and improper recruiting of football players the NCAA said. The fund existed in the period 1952-54. The NCAA investigated Oklahoma in 1954 - 55 and on Oct. 26, 1955, the university was placed on probation for a two-year period. No additional sanctions on bowl games or TV were imposed.

★ ★ ★

But the NCAA said it has now discovered it did not have the full information on the recruiting fund at that time or the Oklahoma penalty might have been different.

Now, the NCAA said, has consistently refused requests to make known the records of the fund on the grounds that he would jeopardize his own position.

Last night Wood said he considers the matter a closed issue, that NCAA rules were not violated and that "as a certified public accountant I would be liable to a $10,000 fine for disclosing such information on a confidential basis."

This does not satisfy the NCAA. The Council said until Wood comes across with the information, Oklahoma stays on probation, despite the fact that the university has been cooperating with the NCAA.

Tulsa, the state of Oklahoma's representative in the Missouri Valley Conference, also felt the NCAA's wrath yesterday, but its penalty was minor. The university was placed on probation for one year, but no TV or post-season sanctions go with the action.

Ram Official Saving Cannon Fight for Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—General Manager Pete Rozelle of the Los Angeles Rams declined Wednesday to enter into a debate with attorney Adrian Burk in the red-hot Billy Cannon controversy.

Burk, a former NFL football star himself, again challenged Rozelle to disclose when he purportedly signed Cannon to a contract.

★ ★ ★

"We feel we have a legal, binding contract with Cannon, which we intend to enforce," Rozelle said.

★ ★ ★

"Because the case may go to court, we are not in a position at this time to divulge the date the contract was signed or explain any other details concerning the case."

Northern Swimmers Lose 3rd in League

Fitzgerald remained unbeaten in the North Suburban Swim League by dunking Pontiac Northern, 58-29, in the Fitzgerald pool last night.

The Huskies took only two firsts but in the 100 yard breaststroke, 200 yard freestyle and 200 medley relay, Fitzgerald winners were pushed closely to pool records.

200 freestyle—Plaskovick (F) 2:12.8; Morris (PNH); Gould (PNH).

Diving—Ratliff (PNH) (61.3 points); Reynolds (F), Herbert (PNH).

Broncos Rally to Beat Bowling Green Cagers

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan staged a second half rally here Wednesday night and defeated Bowling Green, co-champions of the Mid-America Conference, 63-60.

The victory gave the Broncos a 5-5 season record. Bowling Green has won three of its 11 games.

Ex-Detroit QB Gets $23,000 With Toronto

Two Contracts Given Tobin Covering '60-61 Seasons

TORONTO (AP) — Tobin Rote, who directed the Detroit Lions to their last world championship after Bobby Layne was hurt, has gone to Canada to finish out his football career.

The 10-year National Football League veteran quarterback signed with the Toronto Argonauts yesterday for the highest price ever paid a Canadian professional, $23,000.

Rote generally was considered the man responsible for pulling the Lions together when they won the NFL title in Cinderella fashion in 1957. He took over for Layne when the blond Texans' leg was broken in a late season game.

So impressive was Rote that Layne was traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers early in the 1958 season. But after Layne left Rote in complete control, the Lions went into a steady decline. Last year they won only three games and Rote had one of his worst seasons.

Rote had contract difficulties in 1958. He soured on the Lions and played out the option on his 1958 contract. At season's end he became a free agent.

Rote terminated any Detroit football contracts he had left Monday. He stormed out of Lion president Edwin J. Anderson's office after being refused an $18,000 no-cut, no-trade contract. As a free agent, he was able to dicker with Toronto.

Rote's price was high, a reported $23,000 a season and what amounts to a two-year no-trading contract.

The pact, made after two days of negotiations, is an unusual, complicated and secretive piece of paper about which Lew Hayman, managing director of the Big Four club, and Rote felt they should keep mum.

Tailspinning Wings Beaten by Leafs, 3-1

The Wings are mired in a duplicate of the slump in which they fell from second to dead last in the National Hockey League last season.

The Toronto Maple Leafs bounced Detroit out of second place last night with a 3-1 victory. A few weeks ago the Red Wings had a stranglehold on the runner-up berth. Today Toronto holds second by two points and Detroit is falling fast.

Detroit has won only once in seven games. There's no telling how far this new nosedive will drop the Wings. But with the Chicago Black Hawks moving up fast, Detroit's playoff hopes could become endangered. The Wings missed out on the playoffs last season for the first time in 21 years.

Allen Stanley, a well-traveled defenseman, has become a new nemesis for Detroit. The Leaf veteran fired a blazing screen shot for last night's winning goal. The same player scored two similar goals at Detroit last week in a 4-2 Toronto victory.

Detroit retained its skinny advantage until midway in the second period.

Stanley's goal broke the tie at 6:19 of the final period. Mahovlich added an insurance goal 3½ minutes later and the Leafs had second place all to themselves.

The Wings renew their efforts to snap their slump Saturday afternoon against the Rangers at New York. The Rangers are a distant last, losing to the Black Hawks 2-1 last night.

The victory, provided by rookie Bill Hay's second-period goal, boosted Chicago into fourth place. The Hawks climbed over the idle Boston Bruins by one point.

The fight started at the end of the first period. The combatants fought so viciously officials and other players were helpless to break up the battle for a full minute.

'Peanuts' Hits for 30 Points

Carl Montross Sparks Rochester's Easy Win in City Basketball

Carl (Peanuts) Montross poured 30 points through the hoop Wednesday night as Rochester's handed winless Walled Lake a 91-38 thrashing in Class B City League basketball action at Pontiac Central. Larry Hummel added 18 points to Rochester's high-scoring offense.

Jim Poteet tallied 23 points to feature Booth Homes' 79-63 triumph over Griff's Grill in another "B" contest. Ken Titherage netted 18 for the losers.

In Class C activity at Pontiac Northern, Town & Country remained undefeated by crushing Smith's Fuel Oil 52-22, and Jim Dempsey's 19 points featured Eastside Shopping's 63-48 conquest of the Pontiac Police.

Phil Landry bagged 19 points to spark the Black Hawks to a 50-32 verdict over Eastside Shopping and Lee's Sales & Service routed the Aces 53-33 in Class D play at Lincoln Junior High.

No Talk of Pennant at Tigers' Banquet

DETROIT (AP) — Without the customary slogans and Hot Stove League enthusiasm, the Detroit Tigers made their 1960 bow last night.

The front office and the men who will run the club on the field breezed through the annual press-radio-TV party at a downtown hotel — and no one whispered the word pennant.

And they got through the program comfortably and smoothly, even showed dandy color films of the 1959 World Series — and not once did anyone mention Tigers and pennant in the same breath.

This is a good sign for Tiger fans, who have been disillusioned in the past by high-sounding statements in the winter time and mediocre performances on the field in the summer.

The get-together followed a board meeting at Briggs Stadium. Only routine matters were discussed.

Former club president Harvey E. Hansen called it "the best board meeting we've had since our group purchased the club more than three years ago."

"We actually had fun at the meeting," he added. "It was good to listen to a sound baseball man tell us where we stood on the important matters."

Hansen was referring to the appearance of President Bill DeWitt before the board.

"He gave us a better picture of our overall team operation than we've ever had," said Hansen. "We're very optimistic about having him with us. Of course, we all were optimistic before, but that was caused by the excitement of getting the club, and getting our feet on the ground in baseball.

"Now we've come down to earth. DeWitt filled us in on what he's been trying to do on trades with other clubs, and on the possibilities that exist. He's the man we've been looking for ever since we got control of the Tigers."

Like the other owners, Hansen is leaving the provocative statements and predictions to DeWitt and Dykes. And both of them confined their remarks to a simple, and safe hello.

Moore Included Among All-Star Prevue Winners

OMAHA, Neb. — Monroe Moore rolled a 187-216-403 series in the prevue action of the All Star Bowling Tournament here Wednesday night. The Pontiac kegler finished 11th out of 48 men on the last of five men's squads to win a squad prize of $17.50.

Carmen Salvino of Chicago paced the entire 240 man field in the warm up session with a fifth round 460 output. His sole reward was a first place squad prize of $100.

Conspicous by their feeble performances were the tourney's defending champions, Big Bill Welu of St. Louis had an embarrassing 354 while Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids hit 301.

A field of 240 men and women began their quest this morning for the championships on the 24 lanes that were especially installed in the Civic Auditorium for this event.

The men will roll six games for the four days of qualifying. After that, the top 96 in terms of total pinfall will matriculate to the semifinals.

St. Louis appeared to hold all the top attention in the field of 240 men. Defending the title is Weber of that city and seen as the top dark horse is Weber.

Weber has never won an All-Star tourney while Carter has won four of the 10 previous meets. But Weber was the recent Bowler of the Year choice of the Professional Bowlers Assn, sponsors of the All-Star tourney, because of his consistency in landing in the money in todrneys last season.

Raps Other All-Star Bowls

'Sr.' Founder Sounds Off

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—"We are not, mad at anybody," the president of the group which owns the Senior Bowl said after the Bowl's founder criticized other all-star bowls.

Jimmy Pearre of Nashville, Tenn., a contractor who started the game in 1950, said that other all-star bowls pay their players under the counter to keep from harming their amateur standing. Pearre is vice president and general manager of the senior bowl assn.

"We have a high regard for Jimmy Pearre as founder of the Senior Bowl game, but desire it understood that comments attributed to him derogatory of other all-star games were not official and do not represent the views of the trustees and officers of the Mobile Arts & Sports Assn., owners of the Senior Bowl game," the Association President, J. Finley McRae, said in a statement yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Pearre's remarks included a statement that he had affidavits from about 18 players in the 1954 and 1955 Senior Bowl games saying they received payments after competing in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, East-West at San Francisco, and North-South at Miami.

Pearre said he felt the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. should investigate the matter.

HAVING PROBLEMS?
By JOE WILMAN

★ ★ ★

1. If you find yourself drifting to one side or the other in your approach, try concentrating on keeping each single step in a straight line. Draw a mental line from your starting position to your finishing positions, and concentrate on going directly to the foul line.

★ ★ ★

2. If finishing sideways at the foul line gives you trouble, try to keep your feet first aimed directly at your target throughout your steps and slide.

★ ★ ★

3. If rushing your footwork is giving you trouble, compare your footwork to the acceleration of an automobile. It should start out slowly and gradually increase until you release the ball.

Don't start out fast. Take a short, firm step. Increase your speed and length with each step. The final two steps are when you shift into high gear and get your top speed without actually racing.

State Cage Semi-Finals All to Be Night Games

LANSING (AP)—Prep basketballings will spread all over the Lansing and East Lansing map for the semi-finals of their state tournament this year.

Previously, semi-finals of the state high school basketball tournament were held at just two centers—the Lansing Civic Center and Michigan State University, Jenison Gymnasium. This year, the games on Friday, March 18, will be scattered among six centers.

All games will be held in the evening. Last year, four were played in the afternoon.

Two Class A semi-final games will be played at the Jenison gym at 7 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. Two Class C games are scheduled for the Civic Center at the same hours.

Single Class B games will be played at Lansing Sexton and Everett High schools and single Class D games at Lansing Otto Junior High and East Lansing High, all at 7 p.m.

It was explained there was some criticism of afternoon games cutting into school time.

The High School Athletic Assn. also said the semi-finals sites were changed to make sure no fans would be turned away and to permit the games to end at an earlier hour.

'Y' Basketball Results

The Pontiac Central Gladiators drubbed Rochester Hi-Y, 38-14; Waterford Hi-Y nosed out First Christian Church, 36-33, and Clarkston Hi-Y whipped Lake Orion Hi-Y, 35-28, in YMCA Community League basketball games last night at the Pontiac "Y" gym.

Chiefs Collide With Bay City Here Tomorrow

By BILL CORNWELL

A victory-starved Bay City Central squad invades the PCH gymnasium Friday evening to meet the Chiefs in a Saginaw Valley Conference contest.

Plagued by troubles with seniors and an injury to a key performer, Bay City has absorbed convincing defeats at the hands of Midland, Flint Central and Saginaw High.

A victory over Bay City and a timely assist from the Hillites would give the Chiefs undisputed possession of 1st place in the SVC.

All but two of Ullenbruch's seniors have quit the squad this season and one of them, J. C. Dunn, still has not fully recovered from a football injury. Dunn, figured to be a starter in Ullenbruch's pre-season plans, will put on a suit for the first time Friday, but he is not expected to play.

Bay City's starting lineup will consist of the lone active senior, forward Ken Warren, juniors Ladd Irvine, Bob Crampton and Mitchell Simmons, and sophomore Tim Pete. Simmons is a 6-foot-7 center.

The Chiefs of Art Van Ryzin are unbeaten in four starts. They started slowly, but they've improved each time out and boast SVC triumphs over Arthur Hill and Flint Central and non-league conquests of Edsel Ford and Pontiac Northern.

Prep Cagers Start Fast Pace Friday

By CHUCK ABAJE

The Christmas holiday season is over for another year and that means the prep basketballers around the Oakland County area can expect a fast and furious pace from now through the March tournament games.

A scattered list of games ushered in the new year Tuesday but the first big night of 1960 comes up tomorrow with several complete league slates and some interesting non-loop affairs on the cage menu.

There appears to be no dominating team in any of the races involving local teams but almost certain to be the most unpredictable of the lot is the battle for Inter-Lakes honors.

Birmingham Seaholm travels to East Detroit, Ferndale visits Port Huron and Mt. Clemens is at Hazel Park in the Eastern Michigan. All have played only one league game.

Holly will be pushing hard for a home triumph over improved Milford with a chance of gaining a share of the Wayne-Oakland lead if unbeaten Clarenceville should bow to Clarkston. Bloomfield Hills will be gunning for another upset at Brighton and West Bloomfield, which seems to do better against Class A opposition, entertains Northville.

Avondale should have little trouble moving into a tie for 2nd in the Oakland B playing at Oak Park as Fitzzzgerald tries to gain a share of the top rung by downing Troy. Madison vs Clawson rounding out the schedule.

* * *

Doug Stott may be a surprise starter for Oxford as the Wildcats meet powerful Ortonville in a big South Central duel. Millington will play at Imlay City.

Anchor Bay puts its Southern Thumb lead on the line at home against Capac. Armada visits Memphis. Almont entertains Dryden and New Haven vs Brown City.

Elsewhere, Cranbrook is guest of Royal Oak Kimball, North Branch invades Kinde, Lamphere is at Country Day, Royal Oak Dondero vs. Wyandotte, South Lyon plays Dexter, South Lake tests Utica and Rhyal Oak Shrine vs. Holy Redeemer.

Pontiac Emmanuel, featuring Sonny Green, started the big weekend as host to Detroit Boys Republic this afternoon.

Northern has played its best ball in league games and should add another win to reach .500 overall. A victory at Farmington would be a big boost for Waterford. The same is true for Seaholm.

* * *

Holly, Milford, Bloomfield Hills and Brighton all turned in good showings in the holiday tourney won by Brighton. The Keego boys are fresh from their 2nd upset of an "A" school. Fitzgerald won a holiday meet which included Troy and has taken seven straight since bowing at Avondale.

Stott, one of the county greats in 1958-59, worked out during the holidays after missing the early games due to a kidney ailment. His service will depend on how he feels in the heat of battle. Rochester and Romeo are both showing 1-3 records. Orion is 3-1.

Tip Wins for Alma

HILLSDALE (AP) — Alma quelled a Hillsdale rally in the second half and went on to win an MIAA basketball game 68-66 last night. Len Wozniak tipped in a rebound in the closing minutes that put Alma in the lead to stay.

Pontiac Press Photo

BARON DUNKER — Howard Scheunaman, 6-5, is a rare giant at Bloomfield Hills. He will be trying to dunk a few Friday night at Brighton as the Barons and Bulldogs help make up the first big-prep hoop schedule of 1960. Lacking experience, the big guy has 26 points in seven games.

Hunt for New Fight Location

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) refused yesterday to give permission for the fight to be held at the Brigham Young University Fieldhouse in Provo, Utah, 40 miles south of here. The BYU Fieldhouse seats more than 11,000.

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson, expressed disappointment and said the bout would have to be staged out of state. The most likely sites, he said, were Denver, San Francisco, Milwaukee and Miami.

Jenson said he hopes the bout can be held in April. Fullmer won the National Boxing Assn. middleweight title by stopping Basilio in the 14th round last August at San Francisco.

Pro-Am Event Precedes Start of L.A. Open

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The golfing profession joined a host of celebrities today for a round of pro-amateur play on the eve of the start of the rich Los Angeles Open tournament.

* * *

Competition today was over two courses of the Fox Hills Golf Club. Tomorrow the pros and a select array of amateurs start shooting at the Rancho Municipal course—the pros for a purse of $44,500.

* * *

Villanova, LaSalle Keep Rolling; Dayton Wins

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia, home of the Liberty Bell, a kite-flyer named Ben Franklin and good basketball teams, has another couple of roundball dandies this season in Villanova and LaSalle.

Representing 50 per cent of the nation's skimpy list of four major unbeatens, both fattened their streaks last night in a doubleheader at the Palestra.

Villanova, maybe the tougher of the two, made it eight in a row with a 87-65 rout of Duquesne after LaSalle had run its unbeaten string to seven by drubbing Gustavus 82-68.

Sophomore Hubie White scored 25 points and junior Jimmy Huggard added 20 in Villanova's victory last night, a romp after Huggard and White shook the Wildcats free midway of the first half. Joe Heyer and Bob Alden set the pace for LaSalle, which coasted after breaking loose on a 21-10 spurt for a 44-31 halftime lead.

Eli Diddle got his 701st coaching victory at Western Kentucky, 86-65 over DePaul; Dayton won its ninth in 12 starts 54-51 over Xavier of Ohio; Temple (9-3) whipped Pitt 82-74, Holy Cross (7-2) downed Massachusetts 82-58, and Marquette (8-3) and New York U. (7-2) romped against small school foes in other Wednesday games.

Don Parsons scored 10 points and assisted on three other field goals in a 25-12 spurt that enabled Western Kentucky (8-1) to pull away from DePaul (8-2) early in the second half. Gary Roggenburk scored 16 points and grabbed 16 rebounds for Dayton, while Bill (Pickles) Kennedy was Temple's leader with 29 points. Don Kojis hit for 28 points and Walt Mancham for 27 in Marquette's 98-64 romp over St. Norbert (Wis), and NYU crushed Fairleigh-Dickinson 82-44.

★ ★ ★

Maine, a Yankee Conference member but rated a small school, won its 10th without loss 73-33 over Bowdoin, and Bucky Keller got six points in a late rally that enabled Virginia Tech to nail its second straight Southern Conference victory, 73-65 over Richmond.

Once-beaten Army and Navy won again—the Cadets over Colgate 91-48 and Navy over Gettysburg 64-61. John Haner scored 22 points and 6-8 Bob Mortal grabbed 24 rebounds for Virginia in an 83-71 thumping of VMI. Syracuse (4-2) handed Fordham its fourth straight loss, 84-65. Georgetown (DC) upset George Washington 86-82.

Arizin Back in Spotlight as Warriors Beat Hawks

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rookie Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia has shoved veteran teammate Paul Arizin into the shadows in National Basketball Assn. play but Arizin doesn't mind as long as the Warriors are winning.

"It doesn't bother me," the former Villanova All-America said last night after he dumped in 34 points to lead the Warriors to a 121-101 victory over Western Division leader St. Louis in the nightcap of a Convention Hall doubleheader. It was their fifth straight victory. Bob Pettit was high man for the Hawks with 24 points.

In the opener Jack Twyman connected for 30 points to boost Cincinnati to a 129-113 triumph over the New York Knicks. This was the only action in the league.

Last year it was Arizin who usually emerged the high scorer and grabbed off the spotlight. But this year it has been Chamberlain, the 7-1 ex-Kansas All-America, most of the time with Arizin second.

Last night was an exception, though, as Chamberlain was the runner-up with 27 points.

"We're winning this year with him and last year we didn't win without him," Arizin said of Chamberlain. "He's a tremendous asset to the club. We're a much better club this year."

Arizin, who is in his eighth season of NBA play, said his own best shot is probably the jump or one-handed shot. He explained his accuracy by saying he just tries "to take the good shots rather than go for anything."

"As long as I continue to be a part of winning," Arizin added, that's very satisfactory in itself. It doesn't matter whether you're the main cog or the second cog."

Annual Kandahar Ski Jump to Be Held Sunday

Kandahar Ski Club will hold its annual Ski Jump, endorsed by the Central United States Ski Association (C.U.S.S.A.), Sunday, January 10 at Kandahar in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area.

Highlighting the event will be many of the Midwest's top skiers including the Thunderbird jumpers from Milwaukee, the Norge Ski Club jumpers from Chicago, Racine Ski Club from Wisconsin and Iron Mountain, Ishpeming and Briar Hill jumpers from Michigan.

Trophies will be awarded by C.U.S.S.A.-approved judges as prizes for style and distance. Defending champion is Dave Freeman of Waterford.

Kandahar ski area can be reached by driving west from Pontiac on Rt. M-59 past Pontiac Airport to Williams Lake Road, then turning north to Maceday Lake Road. Signs are posted at regular intervals.

Tickets are $1.00 and can be obtained at the gate on arrival. Teen-agers will be admitted for half-price, children under twelve years of age, free of charge.

★ ★ ★

In the event there is no snow in the area, club members will pack the jump with a snow and straw base so that the Kandahar Ski Jump can take place as scheduled.

Local Skiing Is Good; Snow Base Well Packed

A large crowd turned out for skiing at Grampian Mt. over the New Year's Day period and with four slopes in operation currently, the skiing is reported real good. The entire area should be covered for the weekend with a base of 8 inches from the snow making machines.

At Mt. Christie there is an 8-inch base on the beginner's and main runs with skiing reported very good. All facilities are in full operation.

Dryden has limited skiing and is awaiting a snowfall to get into full operation.

In other ski areas:

OTSEGO SKI CLUB—4-6 inch base with 2-3 inches new powder. Skiing excellent.

AU SABLE RANCH AND SKI CLUB—9 inches base, 9 inches powdered snow. Skiing excellent.

SNOW VALLEY—4-6 inches base with 6-10 inches new snow. Skiing good to excellent.

SYLVAN KNOB—3-6 inches base, 6 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

MID MT.—4 inches base with 3 inches powder. Skiing excellent.

KOSHAWAY WOODS—6 inches base with 4 inches fluff. Skiing excellent.

PIONEER HILLS—4-8 inches base with 3-4 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

NUB'S NOB—4 inches base, 14 inches new snow. Skiing very good.

Summit's Ski Schedule to Run Full Seven Days

Mt. Summit ski club, near Fenton, has started a 7-day, 7-night skiing program for the remainder of the season. Previously, the ski resort was closed on Mondays.

Skiing this week at Summit is very good as all but two slopes have 4-6 inches of good base.

Saturday night socials and movies will continue at Summit.

Olympic Skiers in Tournament at Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (AP) — U.S. Olympic ski jumping team candidates arrived yesterday for four days of practice prior to the annual Eau Claire Ski Club tournament Sunday.

The tournament will be on a 136-feet high hill.

Red China Purging Party 'Undesirables'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China is waging a mass purge of "counter-revolutionaries and undesirable characters who have wormed their way" into the Communist Party.

* * *

An Tzu-wen, onetime confidential secretary to Mao Tze-tung, has confirmed widespread speculation that the 27,000 peasant communes and party committees are being overhauled from top to bottom.

* * *

A Glimpse Into Fabulous '60s

Michigan Needs More Park Land

GERALD E. EDDY

(Editor's Note: In this, the fourth article of the Fabulous Sixties series, State Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy writes his projection of the next 10 years in Michigan.)

By GERALD E. EDDY
Director, Mich. Dept. of Conservation

LANSING (AP) — Conservation in Michigan during the forthcoming decade will revolve around the fact of an exploding population. Attendant problems will be acute, and basically they will be related to unprecedented pressures on the state's natural resources.

Competition for public land—some seven million acres of state and federal-owned land—will increase with each passing year. To preserve this trust and to add to it when and wherever possible presents a major challenge.

The look ahead is not shadowed by pessimism, however. Lessons of the past indicate quite clearly that conservation in Michigan will keep pace; that the decade will be progressive.

There will be game to hunt, fish to catch, land and water to enjoy. Limitations on the use of these resources may undergo changes and the behavior patterns of those who use them may also be altered, but the resources themselves will be there, for reasonable utilization.

Generally speaking, pressures on Michigan's resources will come from two directions: from industry, and from outdoor recreation seekers.

Pressures from industry will be especially noticeable along the shorelines of the Great Lakes.

The St. Lawrence Seaway, expanded port facilities, development of atomic energy plants, increasing demands for oil, gas and metallic minerals from the bottomlands—these will create new conservation problems in the decade ahead.

To solve them, Michigan may need new laws in many cases, an additional strength in old laws in others.

General industrial growth will have an effect on the state's water resources. Measures to control pollution will become increasingly significant. The entire subject of water rights will require an analytical review.

Accompanying industry's growth will be the expansion of urban areas into high-value recreational lands and here again competition for acres will take on new significance.

On the eve of the new decade there are warning signs which must receive constant attention. An example of this is the already widespread use of insecticides, herbicides and other chemicals on forests, agricultural lands, and in lakes and streams. Uncontrolled, they may present problems never thought of in the past.

Hunting and fishing during the next 10 years will of course undergo changes, but they will not be drastic. To be sure, there will be more hunters and more fishermen, but their numbers will not increase in the same proportion that the state's population increases.

This became evident in recent months when sales of hunting licenses rose very little and fishing license sales actually declined in some categories.

Chances are there will be no new game species introduced, but there is the possibility that quail and mourning doves may become legal game in Michigan before the end of the decade.

Hunters will find less and less land available as private land owners tighten restrictions on the use of their properties. That fee hunting will be on the increase is a foregone conclusion.

This is another reflection of the population explosion and is another reason why lands now in state ownership must be preserved at all costs.

Bag limits on game may undergo revisions, and generally downward. Hunters will have to place more emphasis on the recreational aspects of their sport and less on the meat.

Deer hunters can look to reasonably good hunting. The deer management program of recent years is a proven success and is ready to meet the decade's challenge with a year-after-year harvestable crop in balance with its range.

There is good reason to believe that fishing will remain good in Michigan waters for many years to come. Fisheries research has made significant strides and will continue to be marked by progress.

This research is coming close to answers to problems related to better survival of trout, better balance in warm-water fish populations, increased production and carrying capacities in lakes.

Continued progress will be made in control of the lamprey in the Great Lakes and along with this will come stepped-up production of fish in hatcheries to re-establish the lake trout in the Great Lakes.

Michigan's forestry program will take on new importance with increased emphasis on recreational uses. State forest campgrounds will be expanded and increased. There will be continued planting of trees in accordance with best game and forestry management procedures. The multiple use of state forests for wood products, recreation and wildlife will continue to guide all forestry practices.

The population growth's pressure will be felt most acutely in state parks, already bursting at their seams. Here the need for more land and increased facilities will undoubtedly be of great concern throughout the decade.

Michigan's non-renewable resources, her gas, oil, salt, sand, gravel, copper, iron and other minerals will continue their vital role in the nation's welfare.

Development of new products, new markets, new production methods; for example, low grade ore beneficiation, along with generally increasing needs will present these resources prominently in the state's economic picture throughout the 10-year period. It is quite possible that legislative controls on their use may need strengthening as pressures increase.

The decade ahead will most certainly not be static in conservation in Michigan. One of its most critical needs will be for a constant awareness on the part of the public of its problems and a general desire to cooperate in their solutions.

This awareness and this desire will in themselves made it a decade of progress. They will constitute reasons enough for concerted efforts on the part of conservations, professional and others get done when there are compelling reasons for doing them.

Predicts Woe for Farmers

Agricultural Economist at MSU Sees 1960s Prosperous for Others

EAST LANSING (AP) — The 1960s will be a prosperous decade for all Americans except farmers, an agricultural economist at Michigan State University has predicted.

Dr. William A. Cromarty said the country can expect substantial increases in population, production of goods and services, and personal income.

1. The number of farms, farmhands and farmers will decrease.

2. Farm products will be supplied by fewer, but larger, farms as the trend toward consolidation continues.

3. Farm production costs and required investment will continue to soar, forcing low-income farmers into other jobs.

4. Agricultural output will climb about 30 per cent by 1970 but the country will still be plagued by surpluses.

5. The nation's food bill will be some 25 billion dollars larger in 1970. But farmers will only get about three billions of the increase with the rest going to manufacturers, service industries and distributors.

Turning to Michigan, Cromarty estimated that a million acres of farmland will be lost in the next 10 years to housing developments, highways and recreational uses.

At the same time, the number of farms will slump from 128,000 to about 100,000 while the state's population is rising to near 10 million.

Key State Witness Testifies

Tearful Maid Describes Mrs. Finch's Violent Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state's key witness, a slim, 19-year - old Swedish housemaid, burst into tears on the witness stand after describing Barbara Finch's violent last moments of life.

* * *

Finch, 41, and Miss Tregoff, 23, are charged with murdering his 36-year-old estranged wife so they could marry and retain community property valued by Mrs. Finch at $750,000.

Miss Lindholm came to this country in September, 1958, to study English. A girl acquaintance found her a job with the Finches.

She told a six-man, six-woman jury and a packed courtroom on direct examination Wednesday of the hectic night of July 18 at the Finches' swank home in suburban West Covina.

* * *

This was her testimony:

She heard Mrs. Finch scream, ran to the garage of the $65,000 Finch home, and saw the pretty, tennis-loving socialite unconscious on the garage floor.

Dr. Finch smashed Miss Lindholm's head against the garage wall, then brandished a gun and ordered her into the family car. The doctor made Mrs. Finch—who apparently had revived—get into the car. Mrs. Finch fled. The doctor pursued her.

The maid said she heard a shot and a scream—"help"—a moment later.

Mrs. Finch was found shot to death on the lawn next door. Finch and Miss Tregoff were found by police the next day in Las Vegas, Nev.

Mighty Debate in Rail Industry

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

"Who's getting rich?"

That's the challenge raised by the big five railroad unions when the industry sets up a howl about engineers and firemen getting four or five days' pay for a day's work.

The industry, for example, says a typical case is the 1,034-mile run between Chicago and Denver which a fast passenger train covers in 25½ hours.

Since pay is based on a long-established rule of a day's basic pay for each 100 miles, the railroad has to pay 10 1-3 days' pay for each engine crew position on the Chicago-Denver trip.

"All right," says the unions, "if that's the way you want to play, let's analyze it. Let's see who is getting rich on all this fabulous pay."

UNION'S CASE

During the first half of July 1958, engineer M.E. White drove the Burlington Zephyr over the 162-mile stretch between Lincoln, Neb., and Creston, Iowa, on the Chicago-Denver run, averaging 2 hours 51 minutes per trip. For this he received $32.11 a trip on the mileage-pay basis.

In 15 days, White spent 210½ hours on duty or laying over at the far terminal between trips, and he received $481.63, or $2.29 per hour for the total elapsed time he spent in service.

"Is that too much for a highly skilled worker?" the union asks.

ROADS' REBUTTAL

"What the engineer actually got paid was $481.63 for 15 trips totaling 42¾ hours of work, or $11.26 an hour. That means he gets paid at the rate of $90.08 for an eight-hour work day or $450.40 for a 40-hour week. No wonder the railroads are taking a licking?"

Union: "What about his layover time at the far terminal? And remember, he doesn't get paid for away-from-home expenses — hotel room and meals — nor does he get paid a differential for night, Sunday or holiday work."

Railroad: "Are we supposed to pay for the time he's sleeping at the far terminal between runs? What company pays its employes for sleep time?"

Ticking off other points raised by the unions, the industry says that in World War II the five train-operating unions accepted a special award of five cents an hour to compensate them for away-from-home expenses. The award remains in the present pay structure.

PREMIUM PAY DENIED

As for premium pay for working on holidays, the industry says Presidential Emergency Board 116 denied extra holiday pay to trainmen because their mileage-pay rules put them "in a much more favorable position, earnings-wise," than nonoperating employes.

Yard employes, says the industry, get either extra pay or higher hourly rates for working on holidays.

Commenting on the unions' observation that few if any railroad employes are "getting rich," the industry says one reason is the unions' own spread-the-work rules which set a limit on the number of miles train crews may work and hence restrict their earnings.

The industry says passenger-train engineers received an average salary of $10,000 a year in 1959, with a maximum of $14,000 a year. Firemen averaged $8,887.

But the unions, quoting Interstate Commerce Commission figures, say railroad employes—excluding executives—averaged only $2.47 per hour in mid-1959, compared with $3.10 for steel workers, $2.69 for auto industry employes and $3.23 for soft-coal miners.

So it goes.

ADMIT OVERHAUL NEEDED

Some union officials concede privately that mileage-pay and some work rules are obsolete, based on conditions which prevailed half a century or so ago, and that both need a general overhauling.

But they insist that any revision must not result in the firing of thousands of employes.

The 100-mile formula for a day's basic pay—or "unit of work," as the unions prefer to call it—was born in the days when it took considerable sweat and hustle to drive a pokey coal-burning locomotive 100 miles. It wasn't unusual, in those days, for a brawny fireman to shovel 10 to 12 tons of coal in a day's run.

Today, powerful oil - burning diesels zip over the tracks twice as fast as the old Iron Horse, and the fireman, with no furnace to feed, serves chiefly as an extra lookout for possible danger.

Thus the railroads contend they are being forced to perpetuate jobs as outmoded as the chief whip tester in a buggy whip factory. They say it costs them 230 million dollars a year to provide surplus firemen in freight and yard service alone.

UNIONS DEFEND FIREMEN

But the unions insist the fireman is just as important to railroad safety as the co-pilot of an airliner.

Far from twiddling his thumbs, the unions say, the fireman must keep a constant safety watch on the blind side of the cab—keeping tabs on wayside signals, speed zones, track obstructions, hotboxes and highway traffic at crossings.

In addition, he acts as standby pilot in case the engineer suffers a heart attack or stroke. Even the famed "dead-man's throttle," they say, doesn't always work.

Industry: "We're not asking for removal of the fireman as 'copilot' on passenger trains — only in freight and yard service."

Unions: "What if the freight engineer dies and the dead-man's throttle fails? Who wants a 200-car freight train running wild?"

Industry: "It wouldn't run wild, even under those circumstances. You forget, the head-end brakeman also rides with the engineer on all freight trains."

"It is true," he says, "that the fireman has no rugged physical labor to perform on a diesel. For that matter, a railway president doesn't perform any physical labor, either.

Gronchi Postpones Trip to Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP)—President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy postponed his visit to the Soviet Union indefinitely. He was to have arrived Friday.

Gronchi is ill in Rome with a severe cold. Italian Ambassador Luca Pietromarchi told Deputy Foreign Minister Valerin Zorin the trip was postponed for health reasons but he hoped it can be rescheduled shortly.

The Soviet press, radio and television had been whipping up enthusiasm for the visit, but it has run into opposition in Italy from some political as well as religious circles.

City Synagogue Defaced; Blame Pranksters

The incident was reported to Pontiac Police yesterday by Rabbi Nathan Hershfield of Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Rd. It is believed to be the work of pranksters or juveniles, Rabbi Hershfield said.

Numerous acts of anti-Semitism have been reported throughout the world in past weeks.

Grain Futures Steady in Active Dealings

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures were generally steady to firm in active early dealings today on the Board of Trade but soybeans were under light profit taking and eased slightly.

Most buying appeared to be evening up commitments until some conflicting opinions are resolved about President Eisenhower's state of the union message to Congress.

A report that India bought almost two million bushels of hard wheat overnight had a steadying effect in that pit. Trade advices also said that India has asked offers on 16 million bushels and will continue intermittent heavy buying for the next several days.

By midmorning the market was mostly mixed with wheat ¼ cent a bushel higher to ¼ lower, March $2.03⅞; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, March $1.14⅛; oats ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, March 76⅛; rye ⅛ higher to ½ lower, March $1.28⅛; soybeans unchanged to ⅜ lower, January $2.13⅜.

Award Area Man Top Engineering Honor

George J. Huebner, 275 Guilford Rd., Bloomfield Hills, has been named recipient of the Buckendale Award, one of the top national honors of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Huebner is executive engineer (research) for Chrysler Corp.

Presentation of the award will follow Huebner's lecture on "Computer-based Selection of Balanced-life Automotive Gears" on Jan. 12 during the SAE annual meeting in Detroit.

Tells of Embezzling From Auto Agency

A 51-year-old Detroit man has confessed embezzling $4,000 from the Scribner-Bohm Co. auto agency in Royal Oak where he was employed, police reported today.

William W. Murray said he lost nearly all the money betting on horses over a three-year period.

Arthur Scribner, a partner in the firm at 1430 N. Woodward Ave., said the shortages first were noticed last fall. He added that Murray, a trusted employe since 1956, admitted manipulating the books.

Interest Rates Worry Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined again today, taking a fairly sharp loss as Wall Street continued to worry about stiffer interest rates. Trading was fairly active early this afternoon.

Among "glamor" stocks the losses were worse, Texas Instruments falling more than 7.

Brokers said the market seemed to be starting another string of "nervous Thursdays," based on the fact that the Federal Reserve Board usually meets on that day and a boost in the discount rate is feared.

This was prompted by the hike in rates for brokers' loans, which depressed yesterday's market, and the fear that other categories of interest rates would be raised also.

* * *

Steels, Big Three autos, electronics, oils, rails, utilities and electrical equipments joined in the downswing.

Jones & Laughlin fell more than a point and Republic Steel was about a point lower. Ford and Chrysler were each down a point or so and General Motors dropped a fraction.

J. C. Penney jumped about 2 at best on plans for a 3-for-1 stock split and a raised dividend, then trimmed the gain slightly. General Time, which spurted 6½ yesterday on similar news, lost about half of it on profit taking.

* * *

CBS' Space Race Report Straightforward, Effective

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—The series, CBS Reports, gave America's missile and space complexion the once - over - lightly treatment last night in an hour-long study called, "The Space Lag: Can Democracy Compete?"

* * *

I'll let Congress and the press deal with the disclosures made during the program and focus on the hour as a TV presentation.

In simple, straightforward but highly effective fashion, the rocket-missile state of the Union was summed up in a series of fascinating film clips and questions put to civilian, military and government experts by newsman Howard K. Smith.

We learned of the problems that confronted and still confront the Pentagon and also heard some illuminating second-guesses on a few fundamental decisions that were made.

* * *

It seems that each mass space problem involves compromise decisions, since red tape, politics, the 40-hour week, interservice rivalries, budgetary factors, come into play.

The faces, gestures and words of the speakers captured the frustrations they often encounter in graphic style.

There was, however, one point I thought the program failed to touch upon.

It's my feeling the program could have addressed itself to the questions: "Why is this space race so important? What's the hurry?"

* * *

Anyhow, the ground that was covered was covered well. Once more, TV performed an important service.

* * *

Last April, when Joey Bishop first subbed for Jack Paar, he seemed ill at ease and basically unready for the job.

This week, Bishop's work during Paar's vacation has shown more strength, sureness and control over the show's meanderings.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Love and Marriage leaves NBC-TV after its Jan. 25 episode. Riverboat moves into the Monday night 7:30-8:30 (EST) time slot the following week . . . Elvis Presley, a quarter of a century old on Friday, celebrates with a transoceanic telephone chat to Dick Clark's American Bandstand show on ABC-TV . . . Jack Paar's effort to add Mickey Rooney to the cast of his NBC-TV Startime special, scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 26, met with an "unavailable" from the actor.

No RR Strike, Claims Mitchell

Detroit Paper Reports Labor Secretary Wins Negotiation Promise

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit News said in a front-page story today that Labor Secretary Mitchell "is convinced a threatened nationwide railroad strike has been averted."

The story said Mitchell's optimism follows months of behind-the-scenes work and "is based on a promise by both railway labor and management that their fight over featherbedding will be referred to committees for study and recommendation."

The Washington story by J. F. Ter Horst said the secretary obtained this pledge after more than 30 private meetings with railway executives and leaders of the railway brotherhoods.

The railroad controversy over work rules has threatened to bloom into a costly and crippling strike.

* * *

Rail officials have said they intend to cut down drastically on what they term "featherbedding" which they say contributes to waste and inefficiency of operation. The Union denies that the work rules foster inefficiency and waste.

* * *

Agreement by the two sides to refer the work rules dispute to committees for study and recommendation is similar to the one Mitchell and Vice President Nixon exacted from the United Steelworkers Union and the steel industry in settling the nationwide steel strike Monday.

Mackie Claims GOP Planned Hatchet Job

LANSING (UP) — Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, a Democrat, has contended that part of the nuisance tax law was planned by Republican Senate leadership "to do a hatchet job on the State Highway Department."

Mackie said the program pumped estimates by contractors almost two per cent in yesterday's $2,825,000 bid letting.

"The hooker in the nuisance tax bill that subjected materials used in state highway work to the three per cent use tax," Mackie said.

"The architects of the new tax program clearly have sought to rob gas and weight tax money, earmarked by Michigan's Constitution for highway purposes only, by taxing the use of this money for road building and putting the profit into the general fund," he said.

"It amounts to the state taxing itself in a desperate effort to rob Peter and pay Paul."

Mackie said the materials-tax was aimed at showing the department's road-building program. He pointed out it applies only to materials purchased by contractors for state highway projects and not on road jobs for cities or counties.

* * *

The Republican Senate leadership drafted this section of the nuisance tax as part of an organized campaign to do a hatchet job on the State Highway Department -- but the guy that's really getting hurt is the motorist," Mackie said.

He said the tax will cost motorists about $3,600,000 this year — about the price of six or seven miles of new expressway.

Mackie has been feuding with the GOP Senate since he replaced Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, a Republican.

Hospital Supervisor to Keep State Post

Mrs. Nellie Young, for 28 years general supervisor of women at Pontiac State Hospital, has been reappointed to the Michigan Board of Nursing by Gov. Williams, it was announced today.

Mrs. Young, 44 Putnam St., was first appointed as a psychiatric attendant nurse member of the Board in 1957. The purpose of the Board, she said, is to see that good standards of nursing practice are maintained in Michigan.

Autos to Make U. S. Debut in 9th Sports Car Show

Several autos never shown before in the United States are among the nearly 50 entries at a "Sports Cars in Review" exhibit opening tomorrow.

This is the ninth annual sports car show sponsored by and held at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn. It will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. until its conclusion Jan. 31.

* * *

All cars on display are high performance vehicles, designed primarily for competitive driving, according to Alan R. Symonds, show chairman.

Shown for the first time in this country are the Alfa Romeo Bat-9; the V-8 Ferrari Dino and the Maserati 61, all Italian models, and the English Aston Martin DB-4.

* * *

Area firms represented include Falvey Motor Sales of Ferndale, with nine entries; and Birmingham Imported Cars, Inc. of Birmingham, with two.

Fire's Sole Survivor Macomb Court Ward

Nine-year-old Debra Langlois, sole survivor of a fire which claimed the lives of her mother and five brothers and sisters in a Mount Clemens fire last July 13, has been made a temporary ward of the Macomb County Probate Court.

* * *

She has been living with her father, Robert, a Pontiac factory worker, and other relatives since her release from the hospital.

* * *

A hearing has been set for Jan. 19 to determine if Debra should be made a permanent ward of the court.

110-Pound Girl Grabs Intruder Weighing 240

DETROIT (UP) — A 110-pound girl who subdued a burglar outweighing her by 130 pounds has been recommended for a civilian citation by police.

Sharon Williams, a 5-foot-2 brunette, grabbed six-foot, 240-pound Thomas Mines, 38, of Toronto, after she saw him lurking in a Fisher Building office where she works.

Sharon, 20, a secretary, said she waited for Mines to leave the office. He came out into the hall and she asked him what he was doing inside.

"I'm just leaving," she quoted Mines as saying before he started running.

"I yelled for help, but no one came," said Sharon. "So I grabbed the belt of his coat and just kept on yelling while he ran down the stairs."

Other office workers came to Sharon's aid and held the burly intruder for police.

To Sponsor Dances at Waterford Center

The Waterford Township Community Center, 5640 Williams Lake Rd., has announced it will sponsor weekly dances on Saturdays, beginning Jan. 9, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The dances are open to the public. Music will be provided by a 10-piece band.

'Bring Detroit Gamblers In'

Inspectors Told to Get Busy; Cases Dropping Way Below '58 Count

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit's police superintendent, Louis J. Berg, has ordered precinct inspectors to tighten enforcement of gambling laws.

At a meeting of inspectors yesterday, Berg voiced concern because the number of court cases involving gambling handled by the precincts had dropped off between 40 and 45 per cent during the last half of 1959 as compared to the same period in 1958.

* * *

Berg said over-all gambling arrests are remaining at the same level.

The superintendent asked inspectors, "Is it because you are not obtaining sufficient evidence for your court cases? Is it because it is more difficult to obtain evidence? Is it because the gamblers are becoming sharper?"

The inspectors were ordered to instruct their men to gather evidence so gambling cases can be taken to court.

Informed of the orders, Mayor Louis Miriani said, "It is a matter of record ever since I took office that I have instructed the police department, time and time again, to exert utmost influence at assuring that Detroit be a clean town and that the strictest enforcement particularly be made against gambling and/wice. I have assumed that the police department has followed these instructions and that Detroit is a clean town."

Meanwhile, Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen said the arrest of 22 persons, yesterday broke up a record size numbers gambling ring in the suburb area. The arrests were made in the village of Inkster and Nankin Township.

Straw Vote Favors Nixon and Johnson

Fire Damages Building on Baldwin Road Farm

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Fire caused an estimated $700 damage to an apple storage building on the Shibo Hayashi farm, 957 Baldwin Rd., early this morning.

The blaze was discovered shortly after midnight and was brought under control in about an hour and a half by the Oxford Fire Dept.

Slate Classes to Explain New Electrical Code

Oakland County electrical contractors, journeymen, and other interested persons will have a chance to get first-hand information on the 1960 National Electrical Code and the local supplementary rules beginning next Wednesday at Pontiac Northern High School.

That is the date the first of five classes will be held, sponsored by the Joint Council of Electrical Contractors and local electrical inspectors.

Acting as instructor at the Pontiac sessions will be Clayton McCoy, Pontiac electrical inspector.

* * *

Other classes will be held at the same time at Warren, Lincoln Park and Plymouth. The basic theme is "Knowledge Is Power—Know the Code."

Registration for courses may be made at the Pontiac Electrical Inspection Office, the Pontiac City Electrical Dept. or the Joint Council in Detroit. Fee for the series of courses is $5.

Classes run two hours each Wednesday night.

* * *

Other instructors will include: Stanley Korenkiewicz, Bob Geniusz, Stan Skiba, Joe Gibaratz and Joe Plourde, all Detroit inspectors, H. B. Love, Detroit chief inspector; Robert Lowe, assistant chief inspector in Detroit; and Pat Sarkuer, Warren inspector.

Delaying Choice for Water Panel

Oakland Wants More Hunting Before Detroit Board Appointment

Appointment of an Oakland representative on the Detroit Board of Water Commissioners was postponed today so that a special supervisors committee can spend more time finding an official to represent all water interests in the county.

* * *

The Detroit commissioners on Nov. 16 invited the county to send one representative to attend weekly meetings to "familiarize himself" with plans and operations of the board.

It's preliminary to a proposal that Oakland and Macomb counties will purchase Detroit water to supplement a dwindling supply.

Roy F. Goodspeed, Ferndale supervisor and member of the Board of Supervisors' special water committee, suggested appointment of an interim representative while the committee consulted with Oakland communities who have or will have water-purchasing contracts with Detroit.

GOES TO FULL BOARD

Goodspeed's motion, approved by the only three other committee members at today's meeting, will be referred to the full Board of Supervisors Jan. 15.

* * *

Chairman Delos Hamlin is expected to make the interim appointment.

Chairman of the special committee, Fred L. Yockey, Huntington Woods supervisor, today declined the appointment made by fellow members, believing Hamlin should name the representative.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Oakland and Macomb county officials drafting a proposed contract for the purchase of Detroit water have scheduled a meeting for Mount Clemens next Tuesday.

Clip Off Raul Castro's Ponytail

From Our News Wires

HAVANA — Raul Castro reportedly has shed his ponytail — the revolutionary badge he grew instead of a beard.

A Havana radio station said the Prime Minister's younger brother, who is minister of the armed forces, got a haircut in fulfillment of a promise to trim up once Cuba's land reform program became a reality.

The broadcast said the shearing ceremony took place in eastern Cuba's Oriente Province, where bearded Fidel Castro launched the revolt that overthrew Dictator Fulgencio Batista on New Year's day 1959.

In a more serious vein, the revolutionary government Wednesday called for immediate organization of a military training program for scores of thousands of teen-age high school students in Cuba.

* * *

Bolstering the recently announced and growing "people's militia," organized ostensibly to aid the regular army in the event of emergency, the education ministry announced that Cuban high school boys and girls henceforth must learn to bear arms for the fatherland.

New Jersey Dems to Go for Meyner

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey's Gov. Robert B. Meyner today joined the ranks of favorite son candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination.

* * *

State Democratic leaders agreed at a meeting Tuesday that New Jersey's 41-vote delegation to the party's national convention at Los Angeles next June would support the governor.

New Coolant for Car Engines Acts Any Time

Oakland GOP Officeholders to Unite in Race

A winning ticket of Republican county officeholders—including the new face of Prosecutor George F. Taylor —will stick together in seeking re-election this year, The Pontiac Press was told yesterday.

Democrats have not come up with a full slate of opponents, according to Carlos G. Richardson county chairman.

"But things are shaping up pretty well," he said.

A check of incumbents finds veteran Treasurer Charles A. Sparks, Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr., Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Burry, Taylor and Surveyor Ralph A. Main decided on seeking the GOP nominations in August.

Sparks, the leader of the local GOP ticket, will be seeking his 13th consecutive two-year term. He was first elected in 1932. He is the oldest elected county official in length of service.

ZIEM MISSING

Missing from the ticket for the first time in the last eight years will be former Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, who was elected Circuit Court judge last year.

Replacing him on the ticket will be Taylor, Ziem's former chief assistant.

Although their slate is not firm yet, it was reliably reported that two young attorneys were considering seeking the Democratic nomination for prosecutor. Weighing the decision are George J. Fulkerson, a Birmingham attorney living in Bloomfield Township, and William H. Merrill, a Detroit attorney living in Birmingham.

'HANDS-OFF' PLEDGE

Both Richardson and Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county GOP chairman, have declared their committee would take a "hands-off" attitude in support of candidates until after the primary.

Richardson, however, confirmed that Fulkerson and Merrill were considering running for prosecutor. James P. Lawson, 1958's Democratic nominee, apparently has decided to stay out of the race and keep with his work as Farmington Township justice.

Richardson said he had heard that John E. Kronenberg and William K. Benson, Democratic nominees for clerk-register and treasurer, respectively, in 1958, would in all likelihood run again.

Richardson said that as yet he's heard of no prospective candidates for sheriff, drain commissioner and surveyor.

Clip Off Raul Castro's Ponytail

From Our News Wires

HAVANA — Raul Castro reportedly has shed his ponytail — the revolutionary badge he grew in steal of a beard.

A Havana radio station said the Prime Minister's younger brother, who is minister of the armed forces, got a haircut in fulfillment of a promise to trim up once Cuba's land reform program became a reality.

The broadcast said the shearing ceremony took place in eastern Cuba's Oriente Province, where bearded Fidel Castro launched the revolt that overthrew Dictator Fulgencio Batista on New Year's Day 1959.

In a more serious vein, the revolutionary government Weingday called for immediate organization of a military training program for scores of thousands of teen-age high school students in Cuba.

Bolstering the recently announced and growing "people's militia," organized ostensibly to aid the regular army in the event of emergency, the education ministry announced that Cuban high school boys and girls henceforth must learn to bear arms for the fatherland.

DIXIE DILLY — Seven inches of snow draped the Memphis, Tenn., area during the first part of the week. It was washed away by light rains today after the South's worst winter storm in a decade raged from Texas to the Carolinas, plunging temperatures below freezing as far south as Louisiana. More than 18 deaths were attributed to the storm. The snow was the most Memphis had seen since 1948.

State of Union Message Gives Rosy Forecast

Congress Told Better Relations With Reds Seem Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower predicted today that 1960 will be the most prosperous year in America's history. And he declared the world is entering a vast new technological age which can "make poverty and human misery obsolete."

He also expressed guarded optimism about better relations with the Soviet Union. "We must strive," he said, "to break the calamitous cycle which, if unchecked, could spiral into nuclear disaster; the ultimate insanity."

In his annual State of the Union message to Congress, the President personally told a joint session of the House and Senate the nation is armed with enormous defensive military might which must be meticulously maintained until the Soviet Union agrees to effectively safeguarded disarmament.

Eisenhower predicted no nation ever will risk general war against the United States if this might is maintained. He announced spectacular new advances in precision use of this country's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

The President also rejected criticism that the Soviet Union's development of superthrust rocket engines threatens America in the military missile field. The U. S. program is that field "does not suffer from our present lack of very large rocket engines, which are no necessary in distant space exploration," Eisenhower said.

He added this country is pressing forward with development of engines with tremendous thrust, and said spending for space projects will be practically doubled—to about a billion dollars a year.

In his lengthy address, carried nationwide on television and radio, the President spoke of record prosperity in 1960 and also called for vigorous new efforts to check inflation.

He expressed gratification over settlement earlier this week of the marathon steel dispute, and said both management and labor must make every effort to increase productivity and thus avoid price increases.

In his State of the Union message, the President said the potential danger to the nation of such prolonged labor-management disputes must be met. However, he proposed no remedy through legislation.

Instead, he said he intends to encourage regular discussions between management and labor, outside the bargaining table.

APPEALS FOR HARMONY

To the newly convened Congress sprinkled with presidential hopefuls, Eisenhower—noting he is beginning his last year in office—appealed for harmony in relations between the White House and the Democratic-controlled Congress.

"Every minute spent in irrelevant interbranch wrangling is precious time taken from the intelligent initiation and adoption of coherent policies for our national survival and policies," he said.

Probe for Arson in Fire at Harrelson Jr.'s House

The investigation was requested by Harrelson himself. He is president of Teamster Local 614.

Fire struck the $10,000, five-room frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Leaun Harrelson Jr., 4580 Clinton St., Independence Township, shortly before 6:30 p.m.

Frank Ronk, deputy fire chief for the township, said he had no reason to suspect arson.

Ronk said he conducted a preliminary probe after the fire was extinguished at 9:30 p.m., but found no evidence of foul play.

But the Pontiac Teamster leader, whose name has been linked with arson in the past, apparently wanted an official investigation.

He requested the probe last night from Charles Leaf, Pontiac state police detective. Leaf and Sgt. Orsanel O'Farrell, head of the Detroit area State Police Fire Bureau, began research of the damaged home today.

They have not issued a report yet.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Harrelson.

Neighbors called Waterford and Independence Township fire departments and five engines were at the scene within minutes, but firemen were unable to save the one-story home from being gutted.

Mrs. Harrelson said she had dumped cigarette butts from several ashtrays into a container on the back porch earlier in the evening.

Later she heard crackling coming from the rear of the house and went to investigate. She found flames sweeping across the porch deck and up wood paneling on the walls, Mrs. Harrelson told firemen.

Shouting "fire," she ran back into the living room to usher her two children from the burning house. Her husband's visiting cousin, Sharon Harrelson, 10, with her six-month baby escaped, also. Young Harrelson was not there.

Last night's fire recalled an August, 1958, blaze that swept the apartment of a girl friend of Leaun Harrelson Sr., and another that destroyed the plush Bloomfield Township home of Detroit teamsters business agent Charles O'Brien last July. Both fires were called the result of arson following investigations by state police.

Mortgage Bills in Area Going Up

Notices of higher monthly mortgage payments are on the way for an estimated 212,000 home owners in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Mortgage Bankers Assn., ascribing the increase to increased costs of local governments, said today home owners will be sent the notices this month.

Local government expenditures, principally in school construction and expansion, are responsible with their resultant higher taxes, the association said.

New sewage costs are the second largest item, according to the association.

CONSIDERABLE VARIATION

The increased payments are expected to vary considerably from one community to another and depending on property value.

Initial payments are expected to cover tax and insurance increases in both 1959 and 1960.

The mortgage bankers organization's members hold or service the mortgages on 400,000 homes in the tri-county area.

The association says payments will go up for about 30 per cent of the owners.

Holders of most mortgages requiring monthly escrow deposits for taxes and insurance must pay each month the equivalent of one-twelfth of the due taxes.

This applies whether they are conventional mortgages or the VA (Veterans Administration) or FHA (Federal Housing Administration) types.

TAX PATTERNS

Knudsen to Talk

Area Body Will Mark Its 50th Anniversary at March 16 Banquet

S. L. Knudsen, General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, will be the main speaker when the 50th anniversary of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce is observed at the organization's annual banquet March 16.

Other highlights of the Elks Temple event were also announced today by William J. Dean Sr., banquet chairman.

D. B. Varner, chancellor of Michigan State University, Oakland, and Glenn W. Griffin, president of the Pontiac School Board, also are scheduled to speak, Dean said.

Varner is slated to introduce the main speaker and Griffin will act as master of ceremonies.

The evening also will feature the installation of the 1960 officers.

With Election Ahead, Eye Middle of Road

Dems Rush Civil Rights

There was immediate response in the House to the broad hint by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) that gave civil rights advocates Wednesday to get moving. Within a few hours, another 16 members added their names to a petition to pry a pending measure loose from the Southern-led House Rules Committee. The petition had been hanging over from last year's session.

Members promoting the petition said the number of signatures had reached about 160. They claimed sufficient support to get the full 219 names needed. Several Southerners said they had no reason to doubt this.

There were broad hints, however, that if the petition appeared certain to succeed the Rules Committee would beat a strategic retreat and send the bill to the House under conditions as favorable as possible to the Southerners.

SENATE MAPS ACTION

In the Senate, meanwhile, Chairman Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) said the Rules Committee will hold hearings within a month on legislation to provide for appointment of federal voting registrars.

The Civil Rights Commission proposed such legislation last year to prevent discrimination by state voting officials against Negroes and other minority groups. Southern opponents consider the proposal unconstitutional, however, and the administration reportedly is not planning to support its enactment.

Hennings talked of completing agreement to bring up civil rights committee action on a registrar bill by early February, well in advance of scheduled mid-February civil rights debate in the Senate.

Rayburn said the House can get action on civil rights, if it wants a decision by the party leadership to let the fight open there. The major delays, however, were expected in the Senate, although Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson publicly revealed an speetion by federal officials.

Press to Sponsor Kitchen School

Classic Chance for Cooks

"Kitchen Classics," a cooking school produced by the National Live Stock and Meat Board and sponsored by The Pontiac Press, will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Jan. 26, 27, 28 and 29, at Pontiac Central High School Auditorium.

Each session will be two hours long, from 2 to 4 in the afternoon. There will be 10 or 12 different dishes prepared and demonstrated daily.

to be given at each demonstration. There is no admission fee.

Constance Weiser, a graduate home economist and staff member of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will conduct the school, assisted by Jane Lebeis, also a graduate home economist.

In connection with the cooking school a special section of The Press will be published Jan. 28.

This will include several hundred of the best reader recipes published in The Press in the past seven years.

High-Powered Jailbreak Plan Foiled in Detroit

Harbour said a guard discovered a loose light fixture in a cell block Monday. Under a bench he found five feet of wire that had been pulled from the wall.

Inmates said Harry Bordelon, 32, and Joseph Bellow, 43, planned to refasten one end of the wire to the outlet and the other end to a bar on the outside of the cell block. Harbour said the prisoners hoped the electric shock would knock out the guard so they could get his keys.

★ ★ ★

Both were placed in solitary confinement.

Bordelon is awaiting extradition to Memphis, Tenn., where he is wanted for larceny. Bellow received three to five years for burglary.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Police who spent three days investigating the disappearance of $3,682 from the Mar Monte Hotel safe are now trying to find out who returned the money. The cash was placed in a large stack of bills on a desk in the office some time yesterday when nobody was around.

State Supreme Court to Rule on Barring Married Athletes

LANSING (AP)— Should married teen-agers in high school be permitted to take part in athletics and other nonacademic activities?

The Michigan Supreme Court is expected to give its answer in the next few weeks.

The question was argued before the justices yesterday. The case came before the court on an appeal from a decision by Circuit Judge Howard L. Campbell. He refused to overrule a school board which barred two 18-year-old boys from playing high school football after they got married.

The school board at the village of Mesick in northwestern Michigan said its purpose was "to discourage child marriage."

Mrs. Maxine Virtue, an assistant attorney general, said the school board's rule "makes sense and class citizens of married students."

"The concern of the law," Mrs. Virtue said, "is to protect, not to attack, the state of matrimony, and to exalt, not to undermine, the security of legal marriages."

She said the Mesick School Board's rule could create problems in "shotgun wedding situations" although this question was not involved in the marriage of the football players who had the approval of their parents.

"To put it bluntly," Mrs. Virtue said, "this rule would penalize those youngsters who might in that situation decide to legalize their union, accept their responsibilities and make a home for their expected child.

"It would reward those who were unwilling to marry and it actually places a premium upon illegitimacy."

In a brief submitted the court, the board's attorney, Charles H. Miltner, argued:

"Students today are more ready to accept the actions of their peers as the thing to do. If any married students are in a position of isolation, the more desirous is the group to mimic."

Slightly Warmer Next Few Days, but Not Much

Following yesterday's high of 28 and low of 10 degrees, temperatures tonight will hit a low of about 25 degrees, rising to a high of 32-38 on Friday. Winds this morning were from the southwest at 18-18 miles per hour, and are expected to diminish slightly tonight.

The downtown temperature at 1 p.m. today registered 30 degrees.

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

An attempt by Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry to boost his deputy's salary with funds from the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal System has been ordered stopped by a committee of the Board of Supervisors.

At the same time, the Salaries Committee yesterday asked Norman R. Barnard, corporation counsel to study the law to see if Barry has exceeded his authority in hiking Robert J. Evans' 1960 pay $1,785.

The attempt was seen by some as evidence of Barry's dissatisfaction that Evans, a county employe since 1955, was receiving considerably less than a comparable position in the Department of Public Works.

The inter-department feud, if it is one, comes at a time when county legislators will seek to consolidate the two departments.

Several committee members yesterday voiced disapproval of Barry's attempt to "go over our heads" after they had already set plus year's salaries. Others questioned whether Barry might not have the authority.

"It's a matter of conflict between the two departments," said John Witherup, county personnel director.

Barry was not available for comment.

In a Dec. 18 letter to Witherup, Barry said he was transfering $1,785 from the system's drain funds annually toward Evans' salary to add to the $9,680 the county was paying him.

"Therefore," Barry instructed Witherup, "the salary of Mr. Robert Evans should be set at $11,465 annually."

This year, Donald W. Ringler, new deputy DPW director, will receive $12,500, Witherup said.

Barnard said county supervisors in 1956 delegated the drain commissioner as agent in charge of the disposal system, supervising all drains in the southeast section of the county.

Now the question arises as to who has the final authority over what the system's drain funds, derived from fees paid by users of the various drains, can be used for. It was the general feeling of the committee yesterday that since they had set salaries they should stay put.

"I'm in sympathy with the drain commissioner but I don't think he's using the right tactics," said Robert E. Lilly, secretary of the Board of Auditors.

"We've set his (Evans) salary and it remains at that," said Clawson Supervisor A. Taylor Menzies emphatically.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, however, Barry has been ordered not to adjust Evans' pay until Barnard surveys the law.

Man of the Year Deadline Near

Two Weeks Remain to Submit Entries for Area Jaycee Award

The deadline is two weeks away for nominations in the "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" contest sponsored annually by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Nominations may be made by individuals or organizations, said Charles Lewis, event chairman.

"We are seeking deserving candidates, who have contributed their energies and talents willingly to make our community a better place to live in," he said.

Candidates must be between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive, said Lewis. If the nominee will have reached his 36th birthday by the end of the year, he still is eligible if the activities for which he is judged were performed when he was 35.

Candidates need not be Jaycees, said Lewis, nor do they necessarily have to be residents of the Pontiac area.

"But their services should have been performed here," he added.

Temperatures Moderating All Over Nation

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather showed marked improvement today, with temperatures moderating in most of the northern cold belt and snow ending in southern areas.

★ ★ ★

But rainy weather continued in southeast sections from the Lower Mississippi River valley to the Carolinas. Snow flurries flecked a few areas in the Tennessee Valley.

★ ★ ★

Snow fell in scattered northern areas from the Rockies and eastern Montana eastward through Minnesota, the northern Great Lakes region and in New England. Amounts were light in most places.

PAT NIXON

Mrs. Pat Nixon To Appear Here

Republican women of Oakland County were happy today that "our country's next first lady"—Mrs. Richard M. Nixon—has accepted an invitation to a Feb. 13 reception during her husband's visit to Detroit.

It is believed this will be the only public reception for Mrs. Pat Nixon during the vice president's one-day speaking engagement in Detroit.

The invitation was extended by the Royal Oak Republican Women's Club. Acceptance was announced by Mrs. Leslie C. Consterdine, president, and Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county GOP chairman.

As yet no time or place has been settled on for the visit. However, it will be an afternoon reception for which invitations will be sent out, according to Mrs. William H. Chapman and Mrs. John H. Austin, general cochairmen for the affair.

Women across the county have already begun plans for what they call the visit of the country's "next first lady."

The reception will be cosponsored by the Royal Oak club and the Oakland County Council of Republican Women's Clubs.

The Council, today consisting of nine member clubs, including the Royal Oak group, will take advantage of Mrs. Nixon's special appearance here as a kickoff for a countrywide drive for membership in the Council.

Nixon is not expected to appear other than in Detroit.

The last time the Nixons were in Oakland County was in 1956 when the vice president's campaign train whistlestopped in Pontiac during the presidential campaign that year. Mrs. Nixon was introduced to a huge crowd gathered at the West Huron railroad station.

Russians Mark Their Christmas in Churches

Most of the worshipers were elderly. It was just another day of work for most Muscovites.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"The Soviet people do not need the gospel fairy tale about the nonexisting Jesus Christ," the broadcast said, charging that Christmas was dreamed up as a capitalist plot to keep the working people in chains.

"As these neighborhoods have developed and grown," he said, "more schools and public services have been added at a rapid rate, resulting in increased taxes."

★ ★ ★

Barnes said that in a number of communities tax assessments have been reduced on large industrial and commercial properties and home owners have been required to pay the difference to maintain public services.

U. S. Prosperity Will Top All Other Years in 1960—Ike

work with a Democratic-run Congress the last five of his seven years in office, remarked that nevertheless "we have weathered the storms." And he pledged in his final year to "devote my full energies to the tasks at hand, whether these involve travel for the promoting of world understanding, negotiations to reduce international discord, or constant discussions and communications with the Congress and the American people on issues both domestic and foreign."

★ ★ ★

The President's State of the Union message sketched the administration's 1960 program in only broad outline. The details will be set forth in his Jan. 18 budget message which he announced formally today will call for balanced spending and income in the new fiscal year, starting July 1. The reported scheduled spending figure is a peacetime record — about $1 billion dollars.

Eisenhower said that despite the long steel dispute, marked by a 116-day strike and then a back-to-work court order, the budget for the current fiscal year ending June 30 will show a surplus of about 700 million dollars.

The message contained no real surprises in the field of legislation. Among other things, he called for continuance of foreign aid to bolster the free world against communism; for enactment of the civil rights program he recommended last year, particularly with respect to protecting the right to vote; new farm laws—also recommended previously—to replace "an outmoded system which has failed to protect farm income" and a school aid program with federal incentives to encourage state and local classroom construction.

Alluding to the threat of the free world from communism, Eisenhower said: "With both sides of this divided world in possession of unbelievably destructive weapons, mankind approaches a state where mutual annihilation becomes a possibility."

He said recent Soviet deportment and pronouncements "suggest the possible opening of a somewhat less-strained period in the relationships between the Soviet Union and the free world."

FEARS FALSE LULL

Eisenhower cautioned free nations against being "misled by pleasant promises," but he said the United States intends to deal with the Soviet Union with the utmost seriousness.

Eisenhower made it plain he does not expect the Soviet Union to touch off an all-out war.

"It is my studied conviction that no nation will ever risk war against us unless we should be so foolish as to neglect the defense forces we now so powerfully support," he said.

"It is worldwide knowledge that any nation which might be tempted to attack the United States, even though our country might sustain great losses, would itself promptly suffer a terrible destruction.

"In 14 recent test launchings, at ranges of over 5,000 miles, Atlas has been striking on an average of within two miles of the target. This is less than the length of a jet runway—well within the circle of total destruction," he said of the Atlas missile.

The President said the nation's striking power in manned bombers is unmatched. He added that increasing numbers of nuclear submarines, some armed with deadly Polaris missiles, will be entering service.

In this presidential and congressional election year, with Republicans sure to hammer at peace and prosperity campaign themes, Eisenhower said:

"Today our military strength is apparent to everyone: 1960 promises to be the most prosperous year of our history."

Dr. Zimmerman Becomes Medical Society President

Dr. Walter J. Zimmerman, 32340 Sylvan Lane, Birmingham, last night officially assumed office as president of the Oakland County Medical Society at a dinner meeting held jointly with the County Bar Assn. at the Kingsley Inn.

George A. Dondero, former congressman from Oakland County, and Stanton G. Dondero, circuit judge, were speakers on "The St. Lawrence Seaway."

Named to the board of directors were doctors Albert E. Quarton Jr., Dale R. Drew, and incumbents Robert R. Wessels, Edwin J. Westfall, Robert M. Bookmyer, Harry Arnkoff and Thomas S. McInerney.

Chosen alternates were doctors F. Michael Sheridan, Rockwood W. Bullard Jr., Thomas G. Grekin, Vincent P. Russell, Elmer J. Mueller, Norman F. Gehringer, Paul T. Lahti and James R. Quinn.

$250,000 Approved for Interceptor Project

Federal Evergreen Sewer Aid OK'd

A federal grant of $250,000 has been approved for the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer project for eight Pontiac area communities.

The grant was announced today by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington.

Sen. Philip A. Hart said he was pleased by the action.

"This sewage treatment construction is necessary to meet a very real need," he said. "I know the people of Oakland County are not advocating any wasteful spending."

The grant—the largest possible at present was sought by the Oakland County Department of Public Works, which is directing construction of the $6,919,000 Evergreen system.

Federal participation means that local costs will drop.

Meanwhile, Hart expressed concern over the future of a new water pollution control bill, which might provide funds to aid Pontiac in construction of $3,000,000 worth of new sewage treatment facilities.

Referring to "rumblings from the White House about a veto," Hart said he hoped no veto will be forthcoming when the White House gets a compromise bill.

Pontiac is one of 29 Michigan communities that applied for aid this year for sewage disposal projects.

The communities asked for a total $6,100,000 in federal aid.

But the federal contribution for the current fiscal year (totaled only $1,250,000 enough for only seven of the communities. Pontiac's bid for $250,000 in federal aid—the maximum amount available at present—was not on the approved priority list.

Three other Pontiac area communities also placed too low on the priority list to get aid. Lathrup Village asked for $35,-250, Rochester for $37,000 and Utica $94,050.

The House and Senate passed different bills last year authorizing up to one billion dollars in federal contributions to state projects over a 10-year period and permitting larger federal contributions on individual projects. An anticipated White House veto kept the measures from going to a conference committee last year.

Backers of the measures plan to send them to a House-Senate conference committee early this year, although prospects for White House approval still are not considered good.

The present limit on the federal contribution is 30 per cent or $250,000, whichever is smaller. The House and Senate bills would up the money maximum to $400,000 in the case of the House bill and $500,000 in the case of the Senate bill.

Nikita Extends Tour to Burma

Leaves About Feb. 10 for India, Indonesia; Other Reds Also Trip

MOSCOW (AP) — Izvestia indicated today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev will stop in Burma as well as India during his trip to Indonesia next month.

The Soviet government newspaper reported that Khrushchev had been invited to visit by both Prime Minister Nehru and the government of Burma. Although the accounts did not say he accepted, it was assumed that the invitations would not have been extended and publicized unless acceptance had been indicated.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev is scheduled to leave Moscow about Feb. 10. He will be preceded Jan. 20 by President Klementi Y. Voroshilov, deputy premier Frol Kozlov and Ekaterina Furtseva, only woman member of the Communist Party Presidium. They will be making a state visit to India, and little of high political significance is expected to transpire.

His first was in 1955, when he and then-premier Nikolai Bulganin made a tour of neutralist countries, including Yugoslavia.

The Soviet news agency Tass today reported without comment the White House announcement of the visit by President and Mrs. Eisenhower to South America next month.

Will Arraign Housewife on Check Charge

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Nancy Harper, 17, of 1639 Avalon St., waived examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Monday. She was released from the Oakland County Jail under $500 bond.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harper was arrested Dec. 30 by Pontiac Police while attempting to pass a bogus check at the Perry Street branch of the Community National Bank.

The Day in Birmingham

Will Organize Chapter of Citizens for Michigan

The statewide nonpartisan committee, organized in September by American Motors President and Bloomfield Hills resident George W. Romney, will study state government problems and means for their solution.

A CFM representative will present its charter to the Birmingham chapter at the meeting.

Cochairmen of the Birmingham chapter, Raymond A. VanDrehle and David F. Breck said they applied for the charter immediately following and Oakland County organizational meeting in Pontiac last month.

Signing the application for the Birmingham charter were Mrs. J. B. Benedict, Jeanne Lloyd, William J. Cochran, Mrs. Joyce VanDreble, Leonard A. Karowski, Harvey Hieresou, F. F. Hilder, John McVay, Asa B. Kiely, Clifford C. Van Dyke, Charles Davison and T. L. Otberges.

The Junior League of Birmingham has announced it will devote a portion of its next meeting Jan. 13 to discuss the plans and programs of the Citizens for Michigan group.

The Ruth Shain Class in International Affairs will resume its weekly meetings at 10 a.m. Jan. 12 at the Community House.

Stephen K. Wirth

Service for Stephen K. Wirth, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wirth, 26875 Charles Lane, Franklin, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at Lutheran Church of the Shepard King, West Bloomfield Township.

His body will be at William Voss Funeral Home, Royal Oak, until 11 a.m. Saturday. Burial will be in Glen Eden Cemetery, Livonia.

Would Legislate Safer Automobiles

MONTREAL (UPI) — Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala) called today for passage of legislation to make automobiles safer and cut the traffic death toll.

Roberts, chairman of the House commerce subcommittee on health and safety, said highway deaths could be reduced "by giving the driver and his passengers a safer package in which to ride."

★ ★ ★

Roberts said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Royal Automobile Club of Canada that Congress should pass a bill setting minimum safety standards for passenger cars bought for government use.

Looked Good to Him

GREAT YARMOUTH, England (UPI) — Harry Boyle explained yesterday that he had taken the bicycle he was charged with stealing because his feet were aching and "it seemed to me that providence had placed the cycle there." He was fined $5.60.

Seeks Punishment in Shaving Incident

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korea will demand punishment of the Americans responsible for shaving the heads of two women prostitutes caught in a U.S. Army barracks, National Police Director Kee Kang-hak indicated today.

"The incident is a matter of great interest to the Korean people, and we will demand punishment of those responsible, depending on a study of the investigation results," he told newsmen.

He added that the U.S. Army is being asked to report its findings to Korean police. The Army has announced that two sergeants performed the shaving after midnight Jan. 2 on orders of a company commander who was cracking down on trespassing thieves and prostitutes.

★ ★ ★

The Army has not yet decided whether to prefer charges, and a number of front-line officers are known to feel harsh punishment is not warranted. But the Army said it did not condone such treatment of trespassers, and the commander of the battalion involved warned his officers against a repetition.

81-Year-Old Newspaper Sold in Boyne City

Purchase details were not disclosed in the announcement Wednesday by Mrs. Agnes B. Baker, owner and publisher the last 10 years.

Smith, a former naval officer, has been employed as editor of the publication and also was active as a free-lance newsman.

About 65,000 gallons of water are needed to produce one ton of finished steel, and about 5,000 are needed to grow one bushel of corn.

Israel Museum to Get Treasures From Billy Rose

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Museum of Israel will soon have a five-acre garden filled with heroic-sized statues by some of the great sculptors of modern times — all courtesy of showman Billy Rose.

Samuel Rubin, president of the America-Israel Cultural Foundation, announced the million-dollar gift Wednesday night at the foundation's annual dinner.

Rose will finance the construction of the sculpture garden in Jerusalem, in which will be displayed more than 50 pieces of sculpture. Karl Katz, curator and director of the Museum of Israel, has called Rose's collection one of the finest privately owned collections of sculpture in the world. Such greats as Rodin, Maillol, Daumier and Epstein are represented.

U.S. Baptist Leader Dies in N.Y. Hospital

★ ★ ★

Dr. Nelson also held membership on the central committee of the World Council of Churches, the general board of the National Council of Churches and its policy and strategy committee, and the executive committee of the Baptist World Alliance.

He retired from the Baptist post last year because of illness.

Dr. Nelson taught in Bethel Theological Seminary from 1937 to 1939, then became secretary of the Detroit Baptist Assn. He came to New York in 1945 as director of the Council on Missionary Cooperation of the American Baptist Convention and served until 1950, when he became general secretary.

Correct Error on Taxi Fair

Yesterday's headline stating that cab fares are going up erred inasmuch as new fares will cost riders 40 cents for the first third of a mile and 10 cents for each additional one-third, as against present rates of 65 cents for the first mile and 45 cents for each additional mile. New rates will go into effect with the installation of meters sometime in February.

U. of M. Sheepskins Will Go to 1,600

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Nearly 1,600 students will receive degrees at the University of Michigan's midyear commencement exercises Jan. 16.

Sydney Chapman, senior research scientist at the university's institute of science and technology and former head of the International Geophysical Year Committee, will be the main speaker.

Will Ask Extension of Credit, Debt Probe

FLINT (AP) — Rep. Homer Arnett (R-Kalamazoo) says the State Legislature, when it reconvenes next week, will be asked to extend the life of his committee which is studying consumer credit and debt management.

★ ★ ★

After a hearing in Flint yesterday, Arnett told a news conference the interim study committee is attempting to determine whether changes are needed in state laws regulating loan firms.

Arnett is chairman of the committee. Other members are Reps. Roger Townsend (D-Flint), William Hayward (R-Royal Oak) and Harvey J. Beadle (D-Detroit).

The legislative study followed a controversy between Flint Local 599 of the United Auto Workers Union and State Banking Commissioner Alonzo L. Wilson over use of wage assignments by a loan company here.

To Propose Bill Shortening Time for Campaigns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John S. Monagan (D-Conn) proposed today to save wear and tear on presidential candidates by passing a law to shorten their campaigns.

Monagan said he would put a bill in the hopper to require that the political nominating conventions be held not more than 60 days before the general election.

That's about half of the usual campaigning period. Monagan holds that the long campaigns nowadays are a waste of time, money, physical energy and everything else.

Monagan said the British seem to get along with considerably shorter campaigns than this country has, and "if England can do it I don't see why we can't, too."

Gets Jail Sentence in Flight With Bride

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Melvin Cook, 24, who eloped twice with his 15-year-old bride Janet Winthrop—the second time in defiance of a judge—drew three months in jail for contempt of court.

He has maintained consistently he loves Janet. He called the case a travesty on justice and said he doesn't intend to take it sitting down.

Juvenile Court Judge W. R. Galbreath in pronouncing the sentence Wednesday said Cook had shown little regard for the law or the rights of Janet's parents.

Lausche and DiSalle May Push Rivals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche (-Ohio) hinted strongly Wednesday he might run a slate of presidential convention delegates in Ohio against those pledged to Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Lausche, openly disturbed that Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has agreed to head a slate of Kennedy delegates, said in a statement:

"There is no sense of Democracy connected with a plan where the Democrats of a state having 10 million people have no choice on the selection of their presidential nominee.

"If anything, my earlier statement (that Lausche should) not to be counted out of the presidential primary in Ohio becomes stronger by force of the fact that unless I am a candidate the Ohio Democrats will have no opportunity to express a choice."

John Daly Gives Luncheon for Him

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The bright young Russian diplomat said, "No, no vodka. Since I am in America I will have an American drink Scotch."

* * *

This was at a luncheon given by John Daly, in return for the many favors the Russians had heaped on American reporters who traveled through the U.S.S.R. last summer with Vice President Nixon.

We pointed out some of the people in the old oaken room. Joe Di Maggio was there. The name didn't quite register. We explained who Joe is.

"I would like to see him play," the Russian said. It was hard for him to believe that Di Mag, who looks as he did 20 years ago, doesn't now play.

* * *

There, sitting with Cliff Daniel and Emanuel Freedman of the Times was Emmett Hughes, author of "The Vincible American." Our Russian friend responded excitedly. He had read Hughes' book on our chances of survival and had found it entrancing. Then he was puzzled.

"This is what I cannot understand," he said, his face showing honest bewilderment. "I have read that Mr. Hughes once was very close to President Eisenhower . . . helped with speeches. How is it possible that now he is critical?"

HAS RIGHT TO TALK

It was explained that Hughes has the right to change his mind.

"As Mr. Khrushchev changed his mind about Bulganin, Kaganovich, Molotov, Shepilov and the others," we suggested, trying to simplify the astounding mystery.

* * *

He shook his head. "That was different," he said, dismissing the very thought. "What confuses me is that Mr. Hughes changed his mind."

He had with him another book he was reading with great interest: Gen. Maxwell Taylor's "The Uncertain Trumpet," a sharp criticism of the Eisenhower administration's defense posture.

"Why did he not say these things many months ago?" The Russian asked. "Why not say them while still on the job?"

We tried to explain that our military, like Russia's, tends to muzzle the public statements of men on active service. So the general hung up his glove and said his piece through the nation's free press. The Russian shook his head.

The talk turned to the political scene, and the young man who had come up through the Communist ranks from childhood again expressed bewilderment.

The whole political structure of the U.S. has proved baffling to him: Politics at the ward and district level, the election of slates in state primaries, the number of candidates for the same office, the convention machinery.

"Our system is so much . . . simpler," he said.

ASKED ABOUT CHINA?

We wondered what reaction there was in China over Mr. Khrushchev's impending visit to India.

"It is Indonesia he is going to, not India — unless perhaps he stops on the way home, just for a little bit," he corrected. "There is no reaction. We see you write now and then of a day when our countries will stand together to resist the 'yellow peril.'

* * *

"We hope to stand together on many things, but not against the Peoples Republic of China. Our relations with the Peoples Republic are stronger now than ever.

"After all," he said, "our ideologies are the same. We share the love of peace."

We asked about the bombardment of Quemoy and Matsu ("This is simply a continuation of civil war"), the Chinese attack on U.N. forces in Korea ("Ah, but U.N. does not recognize China"), the border troubles with India ("It is hardly a border; rather an imaginary line drawn by the British"), and the conquest of Tibet ("Tibet was always Chinese, so it is not a conquest").

Our Russian friend estimated that a great majority of all graduates of Soviet universities now are accepted into the Communist Party (which numbers about eight per cent of the Soviet people).

The Party membership stays at about 8,000,000, he said, because of the deaths of old members and the elimination of such defectives as those who don't pay their dues (three per cent of the member's salary) for three months.

* * *

We asked him what he foresaw for the next century in Soviet-American relations.

He smiled boyishly and said, "You will all be Communists in 15 years, not 100."

One acre out of 10 planted in the U. S. is annually lost because it is damaged or destroyed by insects.

Mundt Facing Fight for His Senate Seat

MITCHELL, S. D. (AP) — Rep. George McGovern (D-SD) announced today he will be a candidate for the Senate this year.

He would thus oppose Sen. Karl Mundt has not yet announced his second term in the Senate after previous service in the House. Mundt has not yet announced his candidacy but is regarded as almost certain to seek re-election.

McGovern said at an appreciation dinner friends tendered him here last night that he had been urged "to play it safe and seek re-election to my House seat."

"But I did not go into politics for safety and security and I now seek a greater field of service with full awareness of the risks involved," he said. He pointed to the fact there is no salary advantage in the Senate berth.

McGovern, 37, a history and government teacher at Dakota Wesleyan University, became the first Democrat to gain high office in South Dakota in 20 years when he unseated Rep. Harold O. Lovre (R-SD) in 1956. He won re-election by an even wider margin in 1958.

As a Congressman, McGovern has pressed hardest for legislation to utilize farm surpluses to feed the world's needy. He also has been author of bills to aid the handicapped and mentally retarded.

Fight Death Decree in Jealousy Murder

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California Supreme Court hears arguments today in Elizabeth Duncan's appeal from a death sentence for the murder of her daughter-in-law.

* * *

Also to be heard are the appeals of two men she hired for the slaying — Agustine Baldonado and Luis Estrada Moya.

* * *

The prosecution contended Mrs. Duncan, 54, was so jealous of the pretty Canadian wife of her son, Frank, 30, that she engaged the two men to kidnap the younger woman from her Santa Barbara apartment and kill her Nov. 18, 1956. Baldonado and Moya confessed.

Defense Attorney Ward Sullivan contends the trial court erred in refusing to change the site of the trial. He also asserts details of Mrs. Duncan's life designed to show misconduct should not have been allowed as evidence.

READY FOR COLD — Jacko, year-old donkey of the Lloyd F. Randalls of Bremen, Maine, sports red velveteen "ear mittens" to protect his ears against the cold. The Randalls also used the mittens on Jacko last fall to warn hunters that he was only a donkey. You can't be too careful.

Productivity . . . Inflation . . . Pricing

Steel Rumbles to Continue

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The long steel dispute is settled but some of the questions it raised about productivity, inflation and pricing policies may rage on for months—perhaps years.

Even in agreement, the United Steelworkers and the industry disagreed whether the new contract's terms are inflationary.

USW President David J. McDonald told the union's 500,000 members in basic steel mills it is "the greatest contract ever." But he said it was not an inflationary agreement.

Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., said the pact "could hardly be regarded as noninflationary."

The differences over inflation just about boil down to the question of whether prices of steel should be increased. And that is a question union and management have been disputing for years.

Blough said his firm, the world's biggest steel producer, did not plan any immediate price increase. Just about everyone interested in steel drew a red circle around the word "immediate."

McDonald and his union long have argued that most of the increases in steel prices were not necessary because of labor costs.

Blough used percentage figures and said labor costs have gone up an average of 8 per cent annually for the past 20 years while steel prices have risen about 5½ per cent annually over the same period.

The union takes the opposite view. Before the settlement, McDonald used figures taken from a survey by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and said:

"In a period of the last 7½ years, all of the hourly wage increases and improvement benefits of production and maintenance employes raised the cost of a ton of steel by only $12.

"But in the same period the price of steel was raised $48 a ton or four times as much."

Second Atlas Missile Hits Planned Goal

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An Atlas intercontinental range missile streaked 6,325 miles to an Atlantic target Wednesday night, marking the 15th straight success for this nation's most powerful military rocket.

The Air Force announced the Atlas warhead impacted as planned beyond the South Atlantic island of Ascension. It was the second consecutive success for the missile over its full range.

The Atlas soon will be tested with a new model engine designed to boost its range to 7,000 miles.

Bridge Lessons to Start Tuesday in Waterford

An activity has been added to the Waterford Township Recreation program. Bridge lessons are scheduled to begin next month, according to Director Tom Belton.

An expert bridge instructor from Clarkston, Mrs. Helen Kempf will conduct classes from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. every Tuesday beginning Feb. 2.

The classes, for beginners, will be held for 10 consecutive weeks. There will be a $7.50 fee, with membership limited to 20 in each class.

Those interested in registering for the course may call the recreation offices for further information.

Golden Agers to Hold Waterford Election

The Waterford Township Golden Age Club's first meeting of the new year will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Community Center on Williams Lake road.

Election of permanent officers and adoption of a constitution is scheduled, with the remainder of the evening to be devoted to community singing, cards and fun.

Temporary club president, C. S. Baker has invited all residents in the Township who are 60 years old or more to attend and enjoy the evenings of fun with men and women their age.

There are now close to 100 members in the newly organized club.

Kalamazoo Hospital Chapel Funds Sought

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Plans for a 13-county subscription drive for funds to build a new $175,000 chapel at Kalamazoo State Hospital were announced Wednesday.

The newly incorporated Citizens Assn. for Kalamazoo State Hospital will conduct the drive from March until Mental Health Week in April.

The hospital, which has 3,500 patients, razed the old chapel in 1950 in the course of expansion. Since then, religious services for inmates have been held in the hospital gymnasium.

* * *

A spokesman said the drive has been sanctioned by the Michigan Mental Health Commission and the state will maintain the chapel once it is built.

Sam Rayburn, Hale on Birthday, Looks Far Ahead

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn was 78 Wednesday and indicated he might try for 100 or so.

He said he always had felt good, that he still does, and that under the circumstances he saw no reason why he should not be around for quite a while yet.

"My life has been satisfactory to me entirely," said Rayburn, who achieved in 1940 his boyhood ambition to be the speaker of the House. "I've attained everything I ever hoped I would."

Rayburn, replying to birthday greetings of newsmen, seemed inclined, as usual, to take the occasion more casually than some of his admirers always do.

BARON DUNKER — Howard Scheunaman, 6-5, is a rare giant at Bloomfield Hills. He will be trying to dunk a few Friday night at Brighton as the Barons and Bulldogs help make up the first big prep hoop schedule of 1960. Lacking experience, the big guy has 26 points in seven games.

Prep Cagers Start Fast Pace Friday

By CHUCK ABAIR

The Christmas holiday season is over for another year and that means the prep basketballers around the Oakland County area can expect a fast and furious pace from now through the March tournament games.

A scattered list of games ushered in the new year Tuesday but the first big night of 1960 comes up tomorrow with several complete league slates and some interesting non-loop affairs on the cage menu.

There appears to be no dominating team in any of the races involving local teams but almost certain to be the most unpredictable of the lot is the battle for Inter-Lakes honors.

* * *

Birmingham Seaholm travels to East Detroit, Ferndale visits Port Huron and Mt. Clemens is at Hazel Park in the Eastern Michigan. All have played only one league game.

Holly will be pushing hard for a home triumph over improved Milford with a chance of gaining a share of the Wayne-Oakland lead if unbeaten Clarenceville should bow to Clarkston. Bloomfield Hills will be gunning for another upset at Brighton and West Bloomfield, which seems to do better against Class A opposition, entertains Northville.

Avondale should have little trouble moving into a tie for 2nd in the Oakland B playing at Oak Park as Fitzzgerald tries to gain a share of the top rung by downing Troy. Madison vs Clawson rounding out the schedule.

* * *

Doug Stott may be a surprise starter for Oxford as the Wildcats meet powerful Ortonville in a big South Central duel. Millington will play at Imlay City.

Anchor Bay puts its Southern Thumb lead on the line at home against Capac. Armada visits Memphis, Almont entertains Dryden and New Haven vs Brown City.

Elsewhere, Cranbrook is guest of Royal Oak Kimball, North Branch invades Kinde, Lamphere is at Country Day, Royal Oak Dondero vs. Wyandotte, South Lyon plays Dexter, South Lake tests Utica and Royal Oak Shrine vs. Holy Redeemer.

Pontiac Emmanuel, featuring Sonny Green, started the big weekend as host to Detroit Boys Republic this afternoon.

Northern has played its best ball in league games and should add another win to retch .500 overall. A victory at Farmington would be a big boost for Waterford. The same is true for Seaholm.

* * *

Holly, Milford, Bloomfield Hills and Brighton all turned in good showings in the holiday tourney won by Brighton. The Keego boys are fresh from their 2nd upset of an "A" school. Fitzgerald won a holiday meet which included Troy and has taken seven straight since bowing at Avondale.

Stott, one of the county greats in 1958-59, worked out during the holidays after missing the early games due to a kidney ailment. His service will depend on how he feels in the heat of battle. Rochester and Romeo are both showing 1-3 records. Orion is 3-1.

Tip Wins for Alma

HILLSDALE (AP) — Alma quelled a Hillsdale rally in the second half and went on to win an MIAA basketball game 68-86 last night. Len Wozniak tipped in a rebound in the closing minutes that put Alma in the lead to stay.

Hunt for New Fight Location

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) refused yesterday to give permission for the fight to be held at the Brigham Young University Fieldhouse in Provo, Utah, 40 miles south of here. The BYU Fieldhouse seats more than 11,000.

Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson, expressed disappointment and said the bout would have to be staged out of state. The most likely sites, he said, were Denver, San Francisco, Milwaukee and Miami.

Jenson said he hopes the bout can be held in April. Fullmer won the National Boxing Assn. middleweight title by stopping Basilio in the 14th round last August at San Francisco.

Pro-Am Event Precedes Start of L.A. Open

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The golfing profession joined a host of celebrities today for a round of pro-amateur play on the eve of the start of the rich Los Angeles Open tournament.

* * *

Competition today was over two courses of the Fox Hills Golf Club. Tomorrow the pros and a select array of amateurs start shooting at the Rancho Municipal course—the pros for a purse of $44,500.

* * *

Tells of Embezzling From Auto Agency

A 51-year-old Detroit man has confessed embezzling $4,000 from the Scribner-Bohm Co. auto agency in Royal Oak where he was employed, police reported today.

★ ★ ★

William W. Murray said he lost nearly all the money betting on horses over a three-year period.

★ ★ ★

Arthur Scribner, a partner in the firm at 1430 N. Woodward Ave., said the shortages first were noticed last fall. He added that Murray, a trusted employe since 1956, admitted manipulating the books.

Stock Market Down Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined cautiously early today with little selling pressure. Trading was fairly active.

Losses of fractions to about a point were taken by most leading issues. A few bucked the trend with gains in about the same range.

A wider move was made by General Time, down about 4 after its spurt of 6½ yesterday on news of a proposal for a 4-for-1 stock split and raised dividend.

American Motors, alone among automotive stocks, advanced more than a point while the Big Three automakers declined, Chrysler dropping about a point. Studebaker-Packard changed little.

The boost in interest rates on brokers' loans continued to bother Wall Street with fears of other tight credit moves — possibly another hike in the Federal Reserve discount rate. Such decisions are frequently made on Thursdays and in the past have depressed markets when this action was feared.

Prices were mixed at the opening with a flurry of activity causing the ticker tape to lag two minutes behind transactions. As turnover slowed prices fell off gradually.

American Machine & Foundry up ⅜ at 53⅞ on 4,000 shares; American Motors up ⅞ at 87¾ on 4,000; Bethlehem off ⅛ at 55¾ on 3,500; and General Motors off ⅛ at 55⅝ on 3,000.

City Synagogue Defaced; Blame Pranksters

The incident was reported to Pontiac Police yesterday by Rabbi Nathan Hershfield of Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Rd. It is believed to be the work of pranksters or juveniles, Rabbi Hershfield said.

Numerous acts of anti-Semitism have been reported throughout the world in past weeks.

About 23 per cent of the passenger cars in use today are 13 or more years old, compared with four per cent in 1941. Another 33 per cent are 8 to 12 years old.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy we received during our recent bereavement. They will never be forgotten. The family of Thomas H. Booth.

WE WOULD LIKE TO THANK our many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the loss of our beloved son and brother Floyde. Special thanks to our minister the Rev. Waldo Hunt of St Andrews Episcopal Church, Mr. & Mrs. L. E. Wint of the Wint Funeral Home for their spiritual consideration, the Boy Scouts, DeMolay Brothers, Pontiac Motors, and Michigan Bell employes. The Auigur Family, Edgar, Francis, Allen and Johnny.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear father, Charles F. Clark who passed away 1 year ago January 7, 1959.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear
Fond memories linger every day
Remembrance keeps him near.
Sadly missed by Mr. & Mrs. Steven Clark & Sons.

Step Up Road Safety Program

State Drivers With as Little as Nine Penalty Points to Get Lecture

LANSING (AP)—Motorists with as few as nine penalty points for moving violations will start receiving invitations for a free lecture and movie by mid-February.

The State Administrative Board yesterday released $3,600 so the secretary of state's office could resume its driver education program for motorists with 9, 10 or 11 penalty points.

At present, only drivers with 12 or more points are summoned. A lifting of the license can result for the 12-pointers.

Last October, the secretary of state's office started calling in those with nine penalty points for a safety movie and what was termed a friendly lecture.

Two such sessions were held in Lansing before the program was discontinued as an economy move.

The $3,600 will be used to purchase motion picture projectors and other equipment.

Joseph Corcoran of the secretary of state's office said the multiple interview program will be resumed around Feb. 15.

First group meetings will be held in Lansing, Detroit, Flint, Saginaw, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo. Other major cities will be covered before the program reaches the smaller communities, Corcoran said.

Motorists who fail to appear will have three points added to their records unless they have a valid excuse.

Sec. of State James M. Hare estimated the program could reach 50,000 motorists this year. The project was approved by the State Safety Commission to try to cut the state's rising highway death toll.

Danes Barring A-Ship; Ask for Safety Data

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Denmark will not allow the U.S. nuclear freighter Savannah to visit here unless the United States supplies full information about its safety equipment, it was announced.

The Danes would not let the U.S. atomic submarine Nautilus call here last year because U.S. authorities refused to give details of the secret equipment that guards against radiation from its reactor engine.

Elder Statesman Vernon Brown Will Be Honored

LANSING (AP)—Vernon J. Brown of Mason, 83-year-old former lieutenant governor and an elder statesman of the Michigan Republican Party, will be honored at a testimonia luncheon here Jan. 23.

C. Ross Hilliard, Ingham County clerk and chairman of the arrangements committee, noted the date marks the 100th anniversary of the election of the first Republican testimonial luncheon here Jan. 23.

"No one more typifies the constructive spirit and philosophy of the Republican Party down through the years," said Hilliard of Brown.

Brown, retired publisher of the Ingham County News, is a former president of the Michigan Press Assn.

His public service started as clerk of Vevay Township, Ingham County, at the age of 23. Just last year he resigned from the State Civil Service Commission.

Brown was state auditor general from 1939 to 1944 and lieutenant governor in 1945 and 1946. He was also a five-term member of the House.

Need Time to Campaign

State Lawmakers Want Abbreviated '60 Session

By GEORGE WEEKS

LANSING (UPI)—Keep it short. That's the motto of election-minded lawmakers for the 1960 "caretaker" legislative session that starts Wednesday.

House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan), responding to a questionnaire sent to all lawmakers, said many want an earlier-than-usual start on campaigning "to mend fences which fell apart or weakened during the long session of 1959."

Senate majority leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) said he too thought the session would be short, but emphasized "it's not safe to make predictions around here."

"Many of us will have tough opposition in the primary election (Aug. 2)," said Rep. Andrew W. Cobb (R-Elsie).

Although the rule providing for "short" sessions in even-numbered years can be amended, most lawmakers expect the 1960 session to adjourn by late April or early May.

The 1959 "cash crisis" session lasted more than 11 months and produced an 87-million-dollar revenue package.

The budget, resolutions for a Nov. 8 referendum on taxes, and other major issues should be disposed of early in the year.

"The legislators I have talked to have had their fill of legislating for awhile," said Rep. George Montgomery (D-Detroit).

"This session will be a caretaker session, marking time until the issues are settled in the November election," said Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville). "There will be no major issues passed."

Reps. E. D. O'Brien (D-Detroit) and Alexander Petri (D-Ecorse) said the session could run longer than expected because of holdover issues from the 1959 session.

But Rep. Lloyd Gibbs (R-Portland) said he did not think the legislature should "churn all the old issues."

Joint rules of the House and Senate provide that Feb. 17 will be the deadline for introduction of all but money bills.

An attempt is expected to limit the session to consideration of money bills and those introduced by committees.

James Darren to Marry Danish Beauty Queen

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Jame Darren, 23, and Evy Norlund, 21, who was Denmark's entry in the Miss Universe pageant two years ago, plan to marry in about two weeks.

They will marry in the Little Church Around the Corner in New York City. They said they will then go to Copenhagen, where Darren will meet Miss Norlund's family.

Joseph Cotten's Wife Is Dead of Leukemia

She was hospitalized shortly after becoming ill Christmas Day. At the time, it was reported that she was suffering from pernicious anemia.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Cotten was to have been flown to the United States Friday with her American doctor, who arrived in Rome Wednesday from California.

He and Mrs. Cotten had been married nearly 30 years. They had one child, Judith.

Drop Social Security Age Limits for Disabled?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to remove the age requirement for disability benefits under the Social Security law was introduced today by Rep. Burr P. Harrison (D-Va).

Harrison is chairman of the Social Security subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee.

His bill would repeal existing requirements that individuals covered by social security must be at least 50 years of age before they can qualify for benefits if disabled and unable to work. All but disabled workers now must wait until age 65 to qualify for benefits.

She Weighs Only Wispy 83 Pounds

June Allyson Finds TV Hectic

By JAMES BACON

"And that gives you an idea of how hard my husband is working me," says she. In her years at MGM, June usually weighed around 97 pounds — a weight at which you can't afford to lose even an ounce.

"I thought I was just being a charming hostess for my husband," June recalls. The next day the sponsors asked Powell if his wife would be interested in television.

June says Powell said her off into television and then came home and let her in on the secret.

"I hadn't made a movie in a year and a half — and I was getting sort of contented. I'm not as ambitious as I used to be."

But Powell promised her that she would only have to work 41 days a year. "I don't know where he got that figure," says Mrs. Powell. "It's been more like 41 days a month."

But being close to the producer has its benefits. June is getting a new look for her anthology series. It started out strictly as a woman's show but June thinks it should be geared just as much to men.

Upcoming shows will feature action and suspense stories instead of soap opera. She also got a complete new Don Loper wardrobe for her hostessing shots.

WHERE'S SHE FROM

An example of June's hectic TV life came when a reporter casually asked what her hometown was. She couldn't remember.

"Let's see, we once lived in the Bronx and then we moved upstate. It was the last stop on the subway. You know."

Only someone from the Bronx or Manhattan would call the last stop on the subway upstate New York. All through the interview, this bothered June.

"I know," she said. "I'll call my mother. She'll remember. This is silly. I grew up there. I went to school."

Her mother's line was busy.

"Goodness," she fumed. "I never had trouble remembering my hometown when I was in movies. You see what television does to you?"

Her mother's line was still busy. The reporter started naming Westchester County suburbs. White Plains? Mount Vernon? No. Pelham?

"Oh, I'm glad you said that. It would have ruined my whole weekend. I come from Pelham Bay."

Detroit Bank Net Rises

DETROIT (AP) — The Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit reports 1959 net earnings of $6,603,983, equal to $3.08 a share. The net for 1958 was $5,378,840, or $4.23 a share.

CBS' Space Race Report Straightforward, Effective

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—The series, CBS Reports, gave America's missile and space complexion the once - over - lightly treatment last night in an hour-long study called, "The Space Lag: Can Democracy Compete?"

I'll let Congress and the press deal with the disclosures made during the program and focus on the hour as a TV presentation.

In simple, straightforward but highly effective fashion, the rocket-missile State of the Union was summed up in a series of fascinating film clips and questions put to civilian, military and government experts by newsman Howard K. Smith.

We learned of the problems that confronted and still confront the Pentagon and also heard some illuminating second-guesses on a few fundamental decisions that were made.

It seems that each missile-space problem involves compromise decisions, since red tape, politics, the 40-hour week, interservice rivalries, budgetary factors, come into play.

The faces, gestures and words of the speakers captured the frustrations they often encounter in graphic style.

There was, however, one point I thought the program failed to touch upon.

It's my feeling the program could have addressed itself to the questions: "Why is this space race so important? What's the hurry?"

Anyhow, the ground that was covered was covered well. Once more, TV performed an important service.

Last April, when Joey Bishop first subbed for Jack Paar, he seemed ill at ease and basically unready for the job.

This week, Bishop's work during Paar's vacation has shown more strength, sureness and control over the show's meanderings.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Love and Marriage leaves NBC-TV after its Jan. 25 episode. Riverboat moves into the Monday night 7:30-8:30 (EST) time slot the following week . . . Elvis Presley, a quarter of a century old on Friday, celebrates with a transoceanic telephone chat to Dick Clark's American Bandstand show on ABC-TV . . . Jack Paar's effort to add Mickey Rooney to the cast of his NBC-TV Startime special, scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 26, met with an "unavailable" from the actor.

Asserts Ford Would Pass On Steel Hike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Any increase in steel prices as a result of the strike settlement will have to be passed on to automobile buyers, believes vice president James O. Wright of Ford.

In New York for the first public display of the new small Falcon station wagon, Wright, who is general manager of the Ford Car Division, said the auto industry will hold the price line if the steel industry does.

But he said the auto men's profit margin isn't big enough to absorb even $1 more per car for steel. "A dollar a car is $1.5-million for Ford and I don't think our stockholders would want us to give that away," he said.

Wright said sales of the Falcon have been so good, the light car is outselling all foreign cars in the U. S. and running neck and neck with the leading U. S. compact car (Rambler).

As a result, Wright said, Ford has lifted its first year sales target for the Falcon from 250,000 cars to at least 500,000 with a possibility that 800,000, will be made.

Vehicle Title Certificates Processed at High Rate

LANSING (UPI)—Nearly 1,620,000 vehicle title certificates were processed last year by the Secretary of States' Department, nearly 250,000 more than for the previous year.

The 1959 number was second only to the top year of 1955 when the auto industry had record sales. There were 1,737,027 certificates processed then.
