Find 3-Year-Old Girl in North Wilderness

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Lost 13 hours in Upper Michigan wilds, 3-year-old Carol VanHulla of Niagara, Wis., was found alive and well today.

Searchers found the child in a wooded area after bloodhounds picked up a new trail this morning that crossed a country road and went east of Norway Lake.

Hundreds of volunteers had joined the search led by 80 state troopers and sheriff's men.

Dickinson County Sheriff Harry R. Julian said the girl wandered away late yesterday and got lost in forests populated by black bears near the Wisconsin border.

RELEASE SUSPECT

The sheriff had checked the possibility of abduction.

The sheriff said that Ronald

Nelson, 21, of nearby Niagara, was released following a check of his story that he knew where the girl was buried.

The sheriff said Nelson was in Niagara at the time the girl disappeared and had not been near her. He said Nelson had several times before admitted crimes he did not commit.

A searching party of more than 1,000 men was being organized. The sheriff said he wanted skilled woodsmen only to search the thick forests and boglands.

The area has a larger number of black bears which could be dangerous if a child came too near a mother bear's cubs.

A helicopter was being sent from the U. S. Air Force base at Kinross, to help searchers. Civil Air Patrol planes flew over the woodlands.

ONE OF FIVE DAUGHTERS

Carol is one of five daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph VanHulla. She wandered away from picnic grounds at Norway Lake Park on the edge of forests at 6 p.m. Sunday. The family had gone to the lake for an outing.

Two bloodhounds led police into the woods on the trail of the girl and followed it back to a spot along a nearby highway. There the dogs lost the trail.

The sheriff said a single small footprint was found at the edge of the lake. Otherwise, there hadn't been a trace of the girl's whereabouts, he said.

The area in which Carol disappeared is about seven miles west of the spot where the body of four-year-old Kenny Scott of Iron Mountain was found last September. The boy also disappeared on a family picnic. He was found four days later dead of exposure.

Monitors Gear to Boot Hoffa Out of Office

Report Drive to Oust Teamster Boss Slated Within Month

DES MOINES (AP) — A drive for the ouster of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa will be started by the court-appointed Board of Monitors within the next month, the Des Moines Register and Minneapolis Tribune said today.

Monitor Chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue already has discussed some of the steps necessary for the ouster with Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts, the papers' Washington Correspondent Clark Mollenhoff wrote.

It will be suggested that a federal court referee be appointed to rule on whether Hoffa should remain president of the union, instead of allowing the executive board of the Teamsters to make the decision, the newspaper said.

Here are the steps the papers said have been proposed:

If Lawrence Smith of New York replaces resigning Godfrey Schmidt on the Board of Monitors, Smith will move to Washington to give full time to the Teamsters cleanup.

A large Washington law firm will be hired to fight the big staff of Teamster attorneys who have been filing so many legal actions that it has bogged down the work of the monitors.

The Board of Monitors will stop turning information and complaints over to the Teamsters Union for investigation, and will insist on doing it themselves.

Action would be instituted to make lawyer Edward Bennett Williams decide whether to represent Hoffa or the International Teamsters Union. Schmidt contends Hoffa's interests are opposed to those of the union, and therefore Williams is in a conflict of interests.

'Copter Aids Fire Victims

DIFFICULT RESCUE — Searchers were still probing today for more bodies after a freak tragedy near Meldrum, Ga. Sunday afternoon. A freight train derailed and turned cooling fun into flaming, screaming terror for many, as a butane gas car exploded. Helicopters were pressed into service to remove the injured as searing flames blocked ground assistance.

Flames Spewed From Tressle

Butane Gas Blast Kills 19

MELDRUM, Ga. (AP) — Rescue teams renewed dragging operations in the Ogeechee River today searching for more victims of a freak butane gas explosion that already apparently has claimed 19 lives. Many others were burned at least 10 critically.

The blast occurred about 3:30 yesterday afternoon. Two railroad tanker cars spewed flaming death on some 175 fun-seekers in a recreation area beneath a 30-foot river trestle which the Seaboard Air Line train was crossing.

No one could say whether all bodies had been recovered, but Coroner Harold M. Smith said reports that dozens were unaccounted for were greatly overdrawn.

Smith said at the time he had accounted for 17 dead.

Since then two children died of burns in a Savannah hospital. They were listed as Wayne Smith, 3, and Terry Lane 9. Their addresses were not known.

A complete casualty list was not available but 14 dead have been identified. Some bodies were so badly charred, identification was difficult.

The railroad said the explosion of one butane tanker set off a second loaded with 10,000 gallons of the cooking and heating fuel. Two trainmen were injured in the blast and the pileup of freight cars near the end of the long train.

The blast turned the Ogeechee River bank into blackened ruins several hundred yards from the trestle. It caught some of the victims in the water, others on the bank. Children scared by the flames floundered in the river or ran screaming from the spot.

SECOND BLAST

A second but lesser explosion came after rescuers reached the scene near this East Georgia town about 18 miles northwest of Savannah.

Most of the 124 cars in the Seaboard Air Line Railroad freight had cleared the 25-foot high trestle before the crash at 3:30 p.m. None fell in the water, but several piled up on the bank and burned through the night. Some of the cars were telescoped. Flat cars dangled from a 75-foot long break at the end of the 250-yard span.

First reports said the journal on one of the cars apparently broke. Some observers thought the trestle gave way.

Sparks caused by the wreck may have ignited the gas, turning the area into an inferno, or the escaping gas may have been ignited by a riverbank campfire.

The explosion came over the water with a big boom, and after that you could hear children screaming and yelling," David Parker, one of the injured, said. "It was awful after it happened not to be able to save the children, but there was just nothing to do."

The weatherman promises tonight what several hundred thousand sweltering weekenders couldn't find at Oakland County's jam-packed parks and lakes—relief from the heat.

Although another session of blistering, 90-degree heat is expected this afternoon, tonight the mercury should fall to a blissful 62, snapping a four-day-hot spell.

Tomorrow's high should be a mild 80 degrees.

The temperature, hitting 90 yesterday for the third straight day, was able to dip only to 79 early this morning.

Swarms of lake-bound cars filled Oakland County highways over the weekend, reaching a peak yesterday.

Dodge State Park on Cass Lake was occupied by a capacity crowd of 36,000 all day, while bathers and picnickers were turned away from Pontiac Lake Recreation Area.

Paul Wigg, park manager at Pontiac Lake, who estimated the crowd at 15,000, said that more than 400 cars were turned away between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m.

There were 44,473 persons counted at Kensington Metropolitan Park yesterday, with traffic at the park's entrances and exits backed up four miles most of the time.

FILLED AT 10 A.M.

The week with Cass Lake's Saturday crowd fixed at 28,000 and 10,000 at Pontiac Lake.

The Cass Lake parking lot, with spaces for about 500 cars, was filled at 10 a.m. yesterday, three hours after the park opened.

Keweenaw Harbor police reported that Cass Lake park traffic filled Cass Lake and Orchard Lake roads bumper to bumper from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Highways were so crowded everywhere that traffic was reduced to a crawl and the number of serious accidents was smaller than usual throughout the state.

One of the worst spots in the state was Oakland County's Farmington-Brighton Expressway between Detroit and Kensington Park.

At 11 a.m., the full length of the route, from Eight Mile Road to the park, was virtually filled with cars headed for the park.

Ike to View Exhibit, Meet Kozlov Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The first deputy premier of Russia, Frol R. Kozlov, took a walk today—to the vast dismay of ponip-minded police officials.

Passing up arrangements for an elaborate motorcade across town, Kozlov at the last minute set off afoot on the one-mile hike between his country's diplomatic headquarters and the coliseum where a Russian Cultural and Scientific Exhibition is being held.

A dozen aides accompanied him while surprised police brass hurried along as escort. The chauffeurs of waiting limousines just scratched their heads. Motorcycle cops circled a few city blocks along the route, then gave up.

The group strolled without incident from Park Avenue and 38th street, where the Soviet United Nations delegation resides, through Central Park to the exhibit hall at 60th street and Broadway.

Kozlov arrived from Russia yesterday to preside at the opening tonight.

President Eisenhower flies here today to get a preview of the display, and presumably will meet Kozlov briefly. Vice President Nixon is taking part in the formal ceremonies.

The show opens to the public Tuesday.

The affable, gray-haired Kozlov—called the No. 3 man in the Kremlin—will go to Washington Tuesday to talk with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Kozlov arrived in the world's biggest airliner, a Soviet prop-jet TU114, which set a record for flying time between New York and Moscow.

It was the first nonstop flight between the two capitals. The flying time was 11 hours and 6 minutes for the 5,092-mile trip. That's an average speed of 460 miles an hour.

KOZLOV JOKES

Kozlov is a square-faced man of 50, with a ready smile and a loud voice. He smiled often and made several jokes after his arrival.

During a three-hour boat ride around Manhattan, the view of the skyline prompted him to say "those who created this city certainly chose a very good site."

He chatted amiably with two pretty American models on the trip. They will display fashions later at the American exhibition in Moscow. Smilingly Kozlov told one of them: "I hope you like Moscow but you'd better not keep saying 'da.'" ("da" means "yes" in Russian).

New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner greeted Kozlov as he stepped aboard the boat.

Welcome Is Warm, Spontaneous

Queen Captures Ontario

By JOE HAAS

TORONTO, Ont.—As she gets further from the French dominated maritime provinces, and closer to the United States, the Canadian welcome for Queen Elizabeth gets closer to the unanimous. Her gracious manner and pleasing countenance are winning out.

The city of Cornwall, much smaller than Pontiac, on Saturday received more conclusive evidence of her desire to get at the grass roots of the situation than had previously been apparent.

Following her hectic time in Montreal and the fog-bound tactics of the St. Lawrence, she arrived at Cornwall three hours late for the Moses-Saunders Lock dedication with Vice President Nixon.

At the close of this ceremony it was suggested to her that she could catch up on most of the delay by eliminating her auto tour of Cornwall, and returning directly to the Britannia.

But she refused to disappoint the Cornwall people, and spent over an hour in driving through crowd lined streets where she was greeted with an acclaim that proportionately outranked anything on her tour to date.

When the Cornwall tour ended she said, "I hope I made those good people as happy as they made me."

Sunday the Queen was brought into conclusive evidence to prove how the seaway has conquered the great St. Lawrence in its most tempestuous section and transformed it into a world wonder of usefulness.

In this connection, it is highly refreshing to a Pontiac area resident to reflect on the fact that our own rivers, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Dems See Hawaii Victory

Heavy Primary Vote Indicative

Expect Final Sweep to Elect Democratic Governor, Legislature

HONOLULU (AP)—Democrats jubilantly claimed today their heavy vote in Hawaii's primary means victory for them in the island's first state elections next month.

They contended that the big Democratic vote was the forerunner of a sweep that would send three of their fold to Congress and elect a Democratic governor and Legislature.

Republicans were quick to answer that GOP candidates ran unopposed in the nominating primary Saturday while Democrats engaged in vote-drawing contests. They said the Democratic outpouring was expected.

Some GOP leaders nevertheless conceded that the party would be the underdog in the Aloha State's first election July 28.

Both parties turned to campaigning in the wake of the primary and a simultaneous statewide plebiscite in which Hawaiians voted approval of statehood by a whopping 17 to 1 margin.

The 12,788 yes votes so dwarfed the 7,841 votes against statehood that it exceeded even the most optimistic predictions.

The primary voting produced three candidates of Japanese or Chinese ancestry out of the six nominated for Hawaii's two Senate seats and one in the House of Representatives. At least one of the two appears certain to go to Congress.

Democrats nominated Frank F. East, 38, and former Hawaii governor Owen E. Long, 70, for the Senate.

East, a territorial senator, scored a major upset by beating Chinese American William H. Heen, 56, who had served 32 years in the territorial Senate and had come out of retirement to seek the nomination.

East polled 36,868 votes to 31,207 for Heen.

Youth Drowns in Dixie Lake

Would-Be Rescuer Dies of Heart Attack Hours After Tragedy

A 15-year-old Detroit boy drowned in Dixie Lake Sunday and one of the men who attempted to rescue him died of a heart attack several hours later.

The drowning victim, Jerry Bronzic, of 8370 House Ave., was in a canoe on the Springfield Township lake with a companion, John Madak, 41, of 8371 House Ave., according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

The Madak boy said Bronzic dove into the water about 100 feet from shore and was attempting to swim to shore when he evidently became entangled in heavy weeds.

His body was recovered from about six feet of water within 15 minutes after the tragedy took place at 11:45 a. m. by Deputy William Jackson.

Lewis Frantz, 46, of Center Lane, father of eight children, attempted to help the boy but could not reach him in time. Frantz, a summer cottage is located at 8011 Kings Rd.

Frantz, who helped deputies, complained of back pains. He collapsed shortly after 2 p. m. on the porch of his cottage.

Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette pronounced both dead. Prevette said the strain of aiding in rescue attempts evidently proved too much for Frantz, who suffered from a heart condition.

HEALTH MENACE — The owner of this home at 418 Harvey St., Felix Hooks, a 59-year-old Pontiac junk dealer, faces trial Thursday in Municipal Court on six different charges. He uses his home as junk yard headquarters. Garbage, rubbish and junk fill both the inside and outside of the home. City health officials have tried unsuccessfully for five years to have Hooks clean up his dwelling. A previous jail sentence failed to bring any improvement, they say.

After 5 Years, Officials Have Had It

Junk Dealer Faces Six Charges

BY MAX E. SIMON

After fighting a losing five-year battle, city health authorities have stopped speaking softly to a Pontiac junk dealer and decided instead, to use the big stick of the law.

Therefore, Felix Hooks, 59, of 418 Harvey St., will soon face trial on six different charges. If convicted in Municipal Court, he could be fined up to $500 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

The charges are:

1. Operation of a junk yard in a residential zone.

2. Violation of the city housing code. His home contains no water, toilet, sewer facilities, plumbing or electricity, it is alleged.

3. Harboring of six grown dogs without a license. Health authorities say the dogs are vicious and diseased.

4. Dumping of garbage and rubbish on the ground around his home.

5. Gathering junk without a license.

6. Creation and maintenance of a public nuisance.

Hooks maintains that he is innocent of all the accusations.

The battle between Hooks and the Health Dept. has been a long one. He first came to their attention in 1954 when he lived on Highland avenue in a semi-decayed house trailer.

Learning that Hooks was squatting on someone else's vacant lot, city officials notified the owner of the problem and he forced the junk man off the land.

Hooks, however, didn't move. He bought himself a parcel of land where the Franklin Elementary School stands today.

To it he moved his trailer, garbage, rubbish, and junk, and the complaints from neighbors continued to pour into City Hall.

Repeated warnings to Hooks failed to produce any results. In 1957, he was given a 90-day jail sentence because of the condition of the property.

Once behind bars, Hooks promised to turn over a new leaf. He'd build a home and remove the junk from his property, he promised.

As a result, after sitting only a few days in a cell, he was freed. He did get rid of the house trailer and built the shell of a home on the land. But the junk, rubbish and filth stayed, authorities said.

The Board of Education in April of 1958 bought his plot of land and moved the house to its present location at 418 Harvey St.

Horrified neighbors immediately started to protest when a junk yard began to blossom in their midst. Once again, health authorities pleaded with Hooks, but to no avail.

Officers of Reserve Pick Bloomfield Man

Michigan men continued their high place in the Reserve Officers' Assn. of the United States with a Bloomfield Hills man, Col. John W. Richardson, elected national president.

Richardson, who lives at 612 Remington Dr., replaced Rear Admiral Leon Jacoby of Detroit in elections held at the association's national convention which ended in Denver, Colo., this weekend.

Richardson has been active in the ROA and Air Force Reserve since the end of World War II, and has been chief of staff, 10th Air Force, for the past three years.

He also is presently serving his third term as national vice president for the AFR. Richardson is manager of Automotive Fabrics Sales, of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., in Detroit.

ties reported bumper to bumper traffic on both sides of the expressway most of the day.

Other areas in Oakland County's vast network of parks and recreation areas were, equally jammed.

Flint State Police and Oakland deputies were called out yesterday afternoon to handle traffic from the huge crowd visiting the Holly Area State Park in Groveland Township.

TWO-MILE BACKUP

Four-lane traffic on Dixie Highway was backed up two miles in both directions from the park entrance, Deputy Kenneth Hirt said.

Waterford Township police said the intersection of M59 and Elizabeth Lake road was one of the busiest in the area. South and Eastbound traffic was backed up several miles between 2 and 5 p. m.

Late yesterday morning, the press of cars into the county filled Northwestern highway, Telegraph road and Orchard Lake road.

It took an hour to drive from Eight Mile road to Pontiac, normally a 20-minute trip.

The weatherman said the break in the weather may last through the week.

Temperatures may drop two to seven degrees below the normal for the area, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

Showers or thundershowers Wednesday may drop up to three-quarters of an inch of rain in the Pontiac area, it was predicted.

In conjunction with the Birmingham Recreation Department's playground program, day camp at Springdale Park got under way today and is scheduled to run five days weekly through July 31.

Day camp activities include demonstrations in nature study and woodcraft, plus Indian lore, games, cookouts and treasure hunts.

Children must register at the playground closest to their home in order to attend the day camp.

Busen will pick up day campers at their respective playgrounds at 9:30 a. m. and return them at 4 p. m. A fee of 25 cents is charged for the bus service each round trip.

The following schedule will apply:

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner passed the diplomatic buck yesterday when Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov told Wagner he understood New York City had the most polluted air in the world. "We can't be responsible for the air that drifts over from New Jersey," the mayor replied.

He also remarked on the record flight from Moscow, saying the distance between the two countries was being shortened by technical advances, and "opportunities for reciprocal meetings have expanded."

TAIPEI (AP)—Some 40 villagers were plunged into a ravine when an old suspension bridge near Taipei collapsed Friday. There was only one fatality—a girl of four whose head struck a rock.

On both days she attends the horse races, her favorite diversion, and for many centuries known in England as the "sport of kings."

Past maternal generations have also made it the sport of queens.

Elizabeth has even accented the inherited devotion to horses. She loves the race for the horses in it, and unlike the most of us, not for the cashier's window. On Tuesday she it to witness the 100th running of the Queen's Plate at the new local Woodbine Track which cost $13 million dollars, and is claimed to be the most opulent gambling spa in the world.

It has been my great privilege during the last few days to be very near the Queen and duke. They seem just like ordinary persons when you understand them and consider the perpetual strain on them lest they innocently do something that might be misunderstood or misconstrued.

They live in a perpetual goldfish bowl, and there are plenty who would cloud the waters.

On one occasion I happened to stand on the duke's right and he made a leveling motion with his hands in comparing our heights, but shook his head as he thumbed toward the 6-foot 8-inch man on his left.

On a later occasion he saw me in the crowd and winked at me, as he pointed me out to the Queen, who smiled without enough interest to make the same eye demonstration as her husband.

Insurance Committee Due to Report on Renewals

BIRMINGHAM — The City commission at tonight's meeting is expected to hear a recommendation of the Mayor's Insurance Advisory Committee for renewal of three segments of the city's insurance program.

Up for consideration will be workmen's compensation, automobile fleet and comprehensive general liability insurance policies.

A report also will be submitted on proposed false arrests liability coverage for the city. A letter to the commission from City Manager L. R. Gare states that to the best of his knowledge the city has never been sued for false arrest, although periodically threatened with such suits.

Also due to come up for discussion tonight are recommendations of City Manager Gare and City Traffic Engineer T. M. Vanderstempel in relation to parking in the vicinity of the Reid Building on N. Woodward avenue.

Four separate suggestions were made originally by the city manager on

Little Fellows Weather Recessions Better

Big Firms Fare Worse in Bad Times

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Do the biggest companies fare better in bad times than the small ones? Most persons probably think so. Certainly the giants seem to have the better staying power. And their rebound in good times is likely to be more impressive.

But records of the biggest corporations during 1958—year both of recession and recovery—show their sales and profits shrank by a greater percentage than the average and by more than the smallest. The big boys had farther to fall and many of them tumbled quite a way down the slope.

Also, none of the 10 industrial firms with the largest sales and profits was among the 10 companies with highest return on invested capital or with highest sales per dollar of invested capital, and only two were among the top 10 in return on sales.

Revenues of the 50 biggest industrial firms fell 8.2 per cent in 1958 from 1957 and net profits were off 20.8 per cent. By comparison, sales of the 500 largest industrial firms were down 6.1 per cent and profits off 17.8 per cent, while all other industrial firms showed a combined decline in sales of 3.6 per cent, although profits slipped 20 per cent.

Compiling these figures, Fortune magazine asks and answers this question: "Is corporate bigness a moderating force during major swings in the economy? The answer, apparently, is no."

Designer Hired to Start Work on Bridge at Soo

ST. IGNACE (UPI)—The International Bridge Authority has announced that Dr. David B. Steinman, designer of the Mackinac Straits Bridge, has been hired to prepare specifications for a $20,000,000 bridge to link Michigan and Ontario at Sault Ste. Marie.

The announcement was made by the authority along with the Michigan Highway Department and the Department of Highways in Ontario.

The $200,000 contract with Steinman calls for preliminary engineering reports, bid plans and specifications for a bridge which can be completed by the end of this year. The authority

BIGGEST BRAKES!

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any car in its field

The published opinions of independent experts, plus comparative facts and figures, bear us out on this. Chevy gives you 7 big bests over its competitors—beginning with biggest brakes. Not only biggest, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. To prove its advantage, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars in direct competitive tests conducted by NASCAR* of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST TRADE-IN

Check the figures in any N.A.D.A. Guide Book. Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

BEST STYLE

It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST ECONOMY

No doubt about it, two Chevrolet's won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car, 22.38 m.p.g.

BEST ROOM

Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.I. make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

BEST ENGINE

Every motor magazine has given Chevrolet's standard and Corvette V-8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS

CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

BEST RIDE

MOTOR TREND magazine calls Chevy "the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. Stop by your Chevrolet dealer for a look at a whole raft of little advantages besides these 7 big ones.

Demands Exam on Drunk Charge

Wixom — Man's Auto
Slams Two Houses in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — A Wixom man who rode his runaway car into two houses on Pontiac Trail yesterday demanded examination of a drunk and disorderly conduct charge today before Justice of the Peace Herbert A. Roth.

The examination has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday in Justice Court here for Maurice J. Southerland, 23, of 2557 Potter Rd., Wixom.

He first told Walled Lake police that his brakes failed, then that another car forced him off the road, causing him to lose control of the wheel, according to Police Chief Al Decker.

Chief Decker said eye-witnesses reported no other car near Southerland's when his vehicle tore off the front of an apartment house at 230 Pontiac Trail and smashed into the porch of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Philip's home next door.

BRAKE CONDITION GOOD

A check of the brakes on Southerland's car proved them to be in good working condition, Chief Decker added.

Philip was painting in a room on top of the porch when Southerland's car rammed into it. Unhurt by the crash, Philip was badly shaken.

Luckily, no one was injured in the four-dwelling apartment house. Jack Gumm, who lives two houses away, had taken his two youngsters Sharon, 6, and Pamela, 5, from the front lawn of their home minutes before Southerland's car veered across it, out of control.

Southerland, who fell from his car when it came to rest in the smashed porch of the Philip home, was treated for cuts and abrasions in a doctor's office, then taken to Oakland County Jail.

Mrs. Ivy Wills and her three children, who live in the front apartment where Southerland's car tore through, were visiting in Detroit at the time.

Damage to the building was estimated by Chief Decker at about $1,500.

FLINT, Mich. (UPI)—Alois Karacsony, 49, of Flint, was killed today when he was struck by a car on Chio Road in Mount Morris Township. State police said it appeared he jumped into the path

DEDICATE NEW HOSPITAL WING — Mrs. Robert Paton, Armada, president of the Auxiliary of the Community Hospital, located on M33 between Romeo and Almont, cuts the ribbon opening the new 18-bed addition which was dedicated yesterday. James T. Ligon, Hospital Foundation Board treasurer, by microphone, was master of ceremonies.

New Hospital Addition Dedicated Near Almont

ALMONT — Some 75-100 hardy souls stood out in the blazing sun yesterday to watch the formal dedication of the new 18-bed addition to the Community Hospital, located on Van Dyke road (M33) just south of here.

Main speakers of the afternoon were Dr. G. Clare Bishop of Almont, the hospital's chief of staff, and Douglas Giles, vice president of the Manufacturers National Bank, Detroit, who is in charge of the Highland Park branch.

Dr. Bishop gave a progress report on the use of the new hospital since its opening just over five months ago. He pointed out that even the new addition has been fully occupied right from the moment it opened about two weeks ago.

Giles cited the Hospital Foundation's foresight in establishing a hospital in a location to meet the medical needs of residents within a 15-mile radius who otherwise would have had to travel long distances to a hospital.

Johns-Tisch Vows Spoken at Lake Orion

CLARKSTON — Upon returning from a honeymoon in Canada, newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Johns, plan to reside in Royal Oak.

The former Patricia Tisch, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Tisch of 8511 Lakeview Dr., Walters Lake here. Parents of the bridegroom of Royal Oak are Mrs. Edna Mae Johns of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, and the late Edward Johns.

The Saturday morning ceremony was held at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Lake Orion, with the Rev. R. Vincent Myrick officiating.

Carol Shepherd of Newberry was the bride's only attendant. Serving as best man were Leonard Frankwitz of Royal Oak and ushering were Dan Shanahan of Detroit and Martin Brennan of St. Clair Shores.

A reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall at Pontiac immediately following the wedding.

German Arms Deal Opposed

Angered Ben-Gurion Set to Resign Post in Israel

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel's soon receive Soviet MIG19 bombers, superior to Israel's bombers, whether to accept an arms deal with West Germany or the resignation of Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion.

Ben-Gurion told leaders of his Socialist Labor party—the Mapai—he would resign if left-wing "opposition from within" his Cabinet failed to approve the sale of an estimated 250,000 grenade throwers to West Germany.

A special Cabinet meeting was called to vote on the sale, but it was not expected that the Achdut Avodah and Mapai parties would reverse themselves.

Ben-Gurion said he would try to form a new government without members of the two parties. With out them his government would control only 40 of the 120 seats in Parliament. The Mapai itself has only 10 seats. But if a prime minister resigns, Israeli law permits the president to ask him to remain in office as head of a caretaker government until the next election. That will come in November.

Last Friday the Cabinet approved, apparently by a split vote, the sale of the grenade throwers to the Bonn government. Most of the machines reportedly have been delivered.

The Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv quoted Ben-Gurion as saying the sale was necessary for Israel's defense. The report did not indicate whether Israel would receive arms in exchange or whether the currency realized would be used for arms purchases elsewhere.

Ben-Gurion said Egypt, leader of Arab opposition to Israel, would

2 Kansas City Papers Return as Strike Ends

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A 10-day strike against the Kansas City Star and the Kansas City Kansan ended Sunday when striking printers accepted two-year contracts.

The Star resumed publication today with an 18-page edition of its morning Times. The newspaper, which contained no paid advertising, summarized news events since the paper was shut down June 18 and brought readers up to date on comic strips.

Key issue in the strike was a union demand for higher holiday pay. The printers had sought 7 1/2 hours of double time pay for 5 hours work on six recognized holidays. Under the new contract, they will work a 5-hour holiday at double time. Printers whose normal days off fall on any of the holidays, and who do not work, will receive 5 hours pay at straight time.

Ex-Bookie Accused of Beating In-Law

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police have arrested Harry Gross, 44, a New Yorker accused of beating his wife's elderly grandfather.

Gross was identified by officers as chief of a 20 million-dollar bookmaking ring in New York 10 years ago.

Police said Harry Black, 81, is in critical condition at General Hospital with head and neck wounds.

Gross, booked Saturday on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder, denied the charge. He said, "The old man and I are good friends."

Black told officers Gross attacked him after an argument over $2,000 which he said he loaned the ex-bookmaker and his wife.

Gross was sent to prison in 1951 after pleading guilty to 66 counts of bookmaking and conspiracy.

Ugly Hands, Ankles Only Pitiable Features

By PHYLLIS BATTELE
LAS VEGAS—"Madame Bluebell," who is Paris' chief expert on the beauties and amours of the world's great showgirls, has no particular sympathy for females with homely faces. Nor can she keep for the bumpy thigh or the mousy mane.

Only when she sees a pair of bulbous ankles or ill-shaped hands does she pity a girl.

"All these laments about bad figures and unpretty faces—so much tempest in a spot of tea," says Madame. She was raised in England. "I have never seen a face on a woman that could not be made jolly attractive—nor a figure that could not be taught to stand and walk with enough grace to attract admiration from a man. In any case, a face or figure can be lifted with good makeup and smart clothes."

"But the ugly ankle or the unattractive hands—how, how, do you change them?" With slacks, perhaps, you hide them. With diamond rings, you camouflage. "But only temporarily." She shakes her head with genuine sympathy. "No, these are the only girls in the world I feel sorry for."

"The rest of them, if they can not lure a man, or hold an audience are just unimaginative."

Madame Bluebell knows her subject well. She has spent the last quarter-century, since she was exactly the age of consent, scouting the world for beautiful girls to perform in the most spectacular night club shows.

It started when as an ambitious ballarina, she was made "captain of the line" at the Folies Bergere in Paris at age 20. Her most recent success took place last week when she introduced her famous "Lido de Paris" troupe at the Stardust Hotel here in Las Vegas. It is, as I observed, the most spectacular of night club entertainments, featuring in quick succession an ice-skating sequence, a giant waterfall, a fireworks display. But the attraction that lures Las Vegas visitors the most in Madame's delicious assortment of 16 "Les Bluebell Girls" (who dance) and 12 "Les Lido Modeles" (who merely walk, wearing $250,000 worth of brilliant costumes draped dramatically, but never superfluously, over their magnificent birthday suits).

WILL GO ANYWHERE

"I never have had a mink stole," Madame says, "because I will go anywhere to discover a beautiful girl for my troupe—and of course I pay my own travel costs. By this time I know immediately when a girl comes into the room whether she can be made into an appealing woman, both to men and women. It's something you can't explain, really, except to say that there is a brightness and shine about a female that is going to show through."

if their ankles and their attitude are right."

Madame Bluebell, herself, has an extremely "cute" face. Irish born, British bred, and French-made famous, she began life as a struggling ballet dancer in Liverpool. Hired at 16 to hoof with a night club corps in London, she quickly proved that she was too intelligent merely to dance.

She has often regretted stepping out of the spotlight and into the business of finding lovely dancers physically for night club spectacles, because she was an excellent ballerina. And "ballerinas never want to remove their shoes." But now she has "Bluebell Girls" dancing in smart shows in seven countries, and for her contribution to after-dark entertainment the lady from Liverpool is hailed everywhere as "the best English export after Scotch whisky."

That's enough to set any woman on her toes psychologically if not physically.

Move Iron Ore Seven Times Faster This Year

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (AP)—Iron ore from steep rock mines at Attokan is moving out of this Lake Superior port seven times faster this year than last.

Figures show more than 70 ships have loaded 818,329 tons of ore so far this year. Only 11,263 tons had been cleared by this time in 1958 and the 70-ship mark was not reached until September.

About 95,000,000 bushels of grain have been loaded this year compared with 175,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1958.

MRS. LaMAR A. MacNUTT

Married Saturday afternoon at First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham were Janet Ann Burwell and Dr. LaMar A. MacNutt. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Burwell and Mr. and Mrs. Omar E. MacNutt.

Janet Burwell Wed in Birmingham Church

Wearing a white Italian silk gown trimmed with Alencon lace, Janet Ann Burwell was married to Dr. LaMar A. MacNutt at First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham Saturday afternoon. Dr. Glen Harris officiated at the double-ring ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Burwell of Birmingham and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Omar E. MacNutt of Neome drive.

A chapel-length train accented the bride's gown and a white silk cap held her finger-tipped veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white miniature roses.

Mrs. William W. Adams of Jonesville was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Leah Mae MacNutt and Mrs. Richard L. Wood of Royal Oak. They wore dresses of white organza over light blue cotton and dark blue picture hats and they carried dark blue corn-flowers in baskets.

Best man was Ronald K. Leighton and ushers were Waldo Roeser, Dr. Richard Mackenzie of Ann Arbor, Robert Ward of Cincinnati and Dr. Adams of Jonesville. Ring bearer was Torey Burwell of Torrance, Calif.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Before leaving for a honeymoon through Michigan, the bride changed to a navy blue silk suit with navy and white accessories and a white rose corsage.

The bride attended University of Michigan and received a Master of Social Work Degree. She was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of U. of M. School of Dentistry and was affiliated with Delta Sigma Delta fraternity.

Mrs. Burwell wore a rose beige sheath dress with a skirt of silk organza over taffeta and a lace bodice and matching accessories. A corsage of green cymbidium orchids were pinned to her purse.

Mrs. MacNutt wore a blue sheath with a chiffon back panel and matching accessories and a corsage of white Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Bigger Babies All the Time

GARDNER, Ill. — Babies are getting bigger all the time.

This word comes from a manufacturer who has been making baby clothes here for almost 40 years. Before World War I clothes for new babies looked like doll clothes. Now these standard items are almost twice as big.

Then one yard of fabric could be cut into three baby gowns or kimonas. Today it takes two yards.

Today's sizes one to three, says the manufacturer, are comparable to sizes two to four of 40 years ago.

Mother Cannot Play Role of Both Parents

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

They sat at a table in the big expensive roadhouse on the outskirts of one of our most expensive exurbs. The father might have been a rising young TV or advertising executive. The mother, in her tricky simple red linen sheath, was slim as a high fashion model and wore the same look of bored disdain.

But when she turned that look on the exuberant little boy beside her who wanted more black olives, it had no effect at all. When she removed the relish dish, saying, "No, you've had enough," he reached over to his sister's plate and grabbed her olives.

In her cool, overcontrolled voice, his mother said, "Stuart, you heard what I said. Give the olives back to Melinda."

He shoved them into his mouth.

I thought, "Oh, young mother, why don't you open that carefully lipstick mouth of yours and cry to your husband: 'Bill, help me! Sit on Stuart! Subdue him! I'm so fashionably thin that my sitting on him makes no impression. Indeed, Bill, I only seem to be sophisticated, self-sufficient, certain of all the answers—and am really unable to father our children for you. Squash Stuart, dear Bill, and I'll never quote Doctor Spock or Gessell to you again, so help me!"

She didn't say this, of course. So what happened was family surrender. The bright young executive father, at a nod of decision from his wife, untied the napkin from Stuart's neck. Slipping a bill to the bewildered waiter, he meekly followed wife and children to their parked car and home where Stuart, I can only presume, was served more olives.

I don't know how we women got stuck with this awful obligation to appear so independent, so self-assured, so superior to any need for husbandly strength and cooperation in the discipline of children.

How we got stuck with it doesn't matter if we could just register our resentment of it. We seem unable to. We just brood, smoke and drink too much, get headaches and divorces imagining we're mad at everything but the one thing that really grips us—the obligation to play father to our husband's children.

So, fooled by our front of self-sufficiency—our men have got to feeling uncertain, insufficient. Joining us in parental surrender, they leap to our nod of decision—and follow us obediently out of the restaurant instead of staying there, helping to quell Stuart and enjoying a fine roast beef dinner.

Nice Old Lady May Be Perkier Than You

By RUTH MILETT

Like a lot of other readers I got a kick out of the headline "Granny Breaks Sound Barrier" over the story of a 71-year-old great-grandmother who got a chance to ride in a Super Sabre Jet that twice during her ride exceeded the speed of sound.

This flying great-grandmother, Mrs. Zaddie Bunker, may have been the first great-grandmother to break the age barrier—the one that used to relegate women in their 70s and 80s to the role of "sweet little old ladies."

The sweet little old ladies have rebelled by the thousands against the old rockin' chair. And though most of them haven't swapped it for a flying machine, many of them have swapped it for lives that would have been pretty daring even a few years ago.

They don't move in with relatives any more if they can help it, but maintain and run their own homes. They drive their own cars, too; many of them thinking nothing of taking off alone or a cross-country trip.

They keep up an active social life, going to parties and having parties often enough so that nobody needs to think they've retired from the social swim.

They choose their clothes with care, and they go in for gay becoming colors instead of the black togs that little old ladies used to wear.

Their hairdoes are pert and becoming and their grooming makes many a younger woman look downright careless.

Some of them hold down jobs or are self-employed in such occupations as baby-sitting, catering or sewing.

They manage their own money, look after their business affairs and have a keen interest in what is going on in the world about them.

They've successfully broken the age barrier and if you ever refer to one of them as a "nice old lady" you'd better smile.

Dates, Chocolate Chips Enrich Torte Squares

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You've heard of date torte, also of chocolate chip cookies. Our recipe today combines the two ingredients to make a rich torte that should be good to serve with cool drinks.

Mrs. Chester Olson shares this recipe with us. She claims to be a stay-at-home person. Occasionally she has a part time job. The Olsons enjoy working in their yard.

CHOCOLATE CHIP TORTE
By Mrs. Chester Olson

1 1/2 cups flour, sifted
2 tablespoons cocoa
1 cup dates, finely chopped

1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup nuts, chopped
1 package chocolate chips (4 oz.)
Sift flour, salt and cocoa. Mix dates with boiling water and soda. Cool. Cream shortening, add sugar. Beat until fluffy. Add eggs. Add flour and date mixtures alternately, blending well after each addition. Add vanilla. Spread in greased 13 x 9 pan. Sprinkle with nuts and chocolate chips. Bake in 350 degree oven 45 minutes. Cool. Cut into squares. Serve plain or with ice cream. Serves 15 to 20.

Average Man Spends Year of Life on Phone

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Someone has figured the average man spends a year of his life on the phone. The average woman? Well, add a decade.

Many mammals enjoy eating eggs, but only two types of mammals lay eggs. You're really up on your nature study if you know the answer—the duckbill platypus and the spiny anteater.

Cultural note: Americans bought more new books in 1958 than the entire human race owned 100 years ago. For some reason more people will buy a book in a yellow cover than in any other color. But I prefer red jackets myself.

All jobs are like this: "This said thing about the acting profession," says Walter Slezak, "is that by the time an actor gets a role he really can sink his teeth into, he has no teeth left."

Do you speak too fast or too slowly when you talk? You should speak at a rate of about 125 words a minute, unless someone is trying to interrupt you.

Don't forget to thief-proof your house before you take off on your summer vacation. During July and August, 1,500 U.S. homes are burglarized every 24 hours.

Tain't so that most opera stars are pussies. Elaine Malbin, the petite soprano, works out in a gym almost daily. She can do 25 push-ups without a pause. Most sopranos of previous generations couldn't do five push-ups, even with the help of a baritone and two tenors.

Don't ask me why, but a survey showed that most adults drink less milk on Sunday than any other day in the week.

U. S., Canadian Seaway Stamps Are Rare Twins

WASHINGTON (AP)—A unique item for stamp collectors went to general circulation Saturday—The St. Lawrence Seaway twins issued simultaneously by the United States and Canada.

The seaway stamps, which had their first day sales at Massena, N.Y., and Ottawa Friday while the seaway was being dedicated, mark the first time the United States has joined with another country in issuing an identical design.

The new U.S. stamp became available to the public at American post offices Saturday. The day in the week.

Bertha Adkins Speaks at U. of M.

Institute Told U. S. Pays $12 Billion Year to Aged

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The federal government is distributing more than 12 billion dollars a year in benefits and services for older people.

This report came from Bertha S. Adkins, under secretary of health, education and welfare, in a speech Thursday before the National Leadership Training Institute.

The government's chief expenditure for the aged, the under secretary said, is in Social Security benefits.

"The President and congress believe," she said, "that while the primary responsibility for meeting the challenges and problems of aging is that of the states and communities and of the individuals themselves, the federal government should work jointly with the states and their citizens to develop recommendations and plans for action."

She urged states and communities to conduct conferences to give opinions before the White House Conference on Aging meets in January, 1961.

Dr. Charles J. Tupper, of the University of Michigan Medical School, told the institute that today's most important need in providing medical care for older persons is to produce more doctors.

"We now have 83 medical schools graduating 7,000 physicians a year," he said. "By 1970 we will need 4,000 additional physicians each year."

Dean Fedele F. Fauri of Michigan's School of Social Work declared that the elderly group now constitutes the most politically effective group in the nation, outside the farm bloc.

JACKSON (AP)—The gates of Southern Michigan Prison will close behind hundreds of persons here Tuesday. The institution will hold an open house for public inspection of its new all-faith chapel which was constructed through gifts and contributions.

Iron Mountain Editor to Retire

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—L. D. Tucker, editor of the Iron Mountain News for the past 12 years, will retire from active newspaper work on July 1, it was announced today by F. J. Russell Jr., publisher.

Tucker's retirement comes after 34 years of continuous service with the News, dating back to October 1925, four years after the newspaper was established by the late F. J. Russell Sr.

Three staff changes were announced in connection with Tucker's retirement. Russell, who also is publisher of the Marquette Mining Journal and the Escanaba Press, will be editor-publisher of the News.

E. O. (Buck) Erickson, associate editor, will become managing editor and L. S. Staple, business manager, will become general manager.

The changes are effective July 1.

Zsa Zsa Sues Shop Over Use of Her Name

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The name "Zsa Zsa's" shall not gleam in electric lights over a Hollywood Boulevard dress shop—for a while, at least.

Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor recently filed a $200,000 damage suit alleging the sign was put up to make the public think she had something to do with the management.

A judge Friday issued a preliminary injunction ordering the sign down pending trial. A lawyer for the store argued unsuccessfully that it has an employee known as Zsa Zsa who has given permission for use of her name.

All municipal white-collar workers in Oslo are now required to take specialized training courses before getting permanent appointments. Thirty-four appointees were graduated recently from the first course.

State Polio Cases Up

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's 1959 polio count stands at 25 compared with 16 cases in the same period last year, the State Health Department reports. Six cases—two of them paralytic—were reported this week.

Sen. Blondy Hits Additives for Sausages

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Charles S. Blondy (D-Detroit) says "additives" may be all right for gasoline but not for sausage.

Blondy spoke out yesterday against a bill sought by sausage makers who want to use bacterial "starters" of the lactic acid group to speed the curing process.

A year ago, the Legislature gave its consent to use of ascorbic acid in meat products to preserve the attractiveness of their appearance after hours in a show case.

It's time the housewives got more meat in sausage and less adulterants, Blondy said. He failed to slow progress of the bill which was advanced for a passage vote next week.

Michigan School Plan

LANSING (AP)—A three-man team of top national educators will spend two weeks in Michigan next fall evaluating the program of the Michigan Education Assn.

E. Dale Kennedy, MEA executive secretary, said the valuation should improve staff activity and help to specialize services provided to the association's 55,000 members.

CARS LOVE SHELL

These 2 gasolines with TCP set new standards for engine performance

-new power, more mileage and a smoother-running engine

If the maker of your car specifies "premium"

Super Shell with TCP

Gives you more power, more mileage and a smoother-running engine

Super Shell with TCP® is the most powerful gasoline your car can use! Its octane rating is so high engine knock is no longer a problem. Super Shell's extra power, from aviation fuel ingredients, converts automatically to extra mileage when cruising.

TCP additive stops spark plug misfiring—tunes and smooths your engine while you drive.

If the maker of your car specifies "regular"

NEW Shell Gasoline with TCP

Gives all-around performance no "regular" can beat—performance 88% of all regular gasoline fails to deliver

New Shell Gasoline at "regular" price is loaded with premium features—is higher in octane than premium grades of a short time ago.

And you get custom-volatility for easy starting; TCP to smooth out a rough-running engine. And new Shell Gasoline is made to give you more miles per gallon!

*Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research

PROPOSED XWAY ROUTE — This is the State Highway Department's map showing the proposed location of the southern portion of the Oakland County Expressway, running between Pontiac and Detroit. Double dotted lines indicate the expressway route, while the empty circles mark where bridges are planned. Circles with X's in them indicate proposed interchanges. The first section of the $50,000,000, federal-aid highway is scheduled to be under contract at the end of 1961. This is the portion between M24, northeast of Pontiac, and 11 1/2 Mile road. The 3 1/2-mile section between 11 1/2 Mile road and Eight-Mile road has no construction date yet. A public hearing on route location is scheduled for 2 p.m. July 9 in Royal Oak's Dondero High School. The four-lane, limited access highway is scheduled to become part of the national interstate highway system, connecting Detroit, Pontiac and Flint with expressways into northern Michigan.

Offer Vivien Leigh Role of Empress in 'Hellraisers'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS of U. S. Marines who, with the Hollywood—At a meeting between Buddy Adler and Jerry Wald, it was decided to go all out to try to get Vivien Leigh to play the dowager empress Tzu Hsi of China in "The Hellraisers," a $5,000,000 spectacle of the Boxer Rebellion. The empress of the Ching dynasty was one of the fabulous character of history. She forced all the missionaries out of China. "Hellraisers," a story by Barre Lydon, deals with the contingent

France Nuyn, who owes 20th a picture, will play one of the important concubines of the court. She will be out of "The World of Suzy Wong" by the time "Hellraisers" goes before the cameras.

You can't compile any list of promising young star and exclude Dennis Hopper. He practically stole the show in "Young Land."
