U. S. Chief Justice Vinson Dies of Heart Attack

572 Lose Lives in Holiday Accidents

Traffic Causes 403; State Toll Held Down to 23

Police Get Much Credit for Weather Tempted Many on Highways

(By the Associated Press)

At least 572 persons lost their lives in accidents during the nation's Labor Day weekend, but traffic took fewer lives than the pre-holiday estimate.

A survey today showed 403 traffic deaths for the period between 6 p. m. (local time) Friday and midnight Monday, compared with a prediction of 440 computed by the National Safety Council engineers.

During the 78-hour holiday period there were 70 drownings. Ninety-nine persons died in other types of accidents—including 18 victims of a tenement fire in Chicago.

Commenting on the traffic toll, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the safety council, said, "a toll of 403 lives is a tragic price to pay for celebrating a holiday, but, in view of the fact that the traffic volume was up, and this Labor Day toll is the lowest in three years, some progress has been made."

The council estimated that 40 million automobiles used the nation's streets and highways during the 78-hour weekend period. Near perfect weather in most parts of the nation helped to make it a mobile holiday.

The unusually close surveillance which police kept on Michigan highways over the weekend was credited today with keeping the state's Labor Day weekend traffic toll down to 23 lives—10 less than the 1952 toll.

The Michigan total was surpassed only by Ohio which listed 24 traffic deaths. New Yorw had 20.

Governor Williams complimented police, newspaper and radio stations and motorists for their part in keeping the Michigan figure below that of last year.

Fatalities reported since Sunday included:

David Smith, 18, of Gladstone, killed on US 24 in Delta County Monday when his car ran into a ditch.

Henry Oudbier, 51, of Grand Rapids, killed Monday in a collision of two cars near Grand Rapids.

John Olli, 65, of Rudyard, killed on US 28 in Luce County Monday when his car hit another head-on.

Justus G. Wilson, 58, of Walled Lake, lost his life on Commerce Lake in Oakland County Monday. He fell from his outboard motor boat. A post mortem was ordered to determine whether he drowned or died of a heart attack.

Warren Becomes One-Way Street

Warren street between North Saginaw and Wayne streets has been posted as a one-way street for west-bound traffic only, according to Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

"One-way" arrow signs have been installed, Straley said, and "Do Not Enter" signs placed at the intersection of Wayne and Warren.

Liner Liberte Runs Aground

51,839-Ton Ship Stuck in Mud and Sand Near LeHavre, France

LE HAVRE, France (AP) — The 51,839-ton French liner Liberte ran aground in a heavy fog today just after leaving this English channel port with 1,075 New York-bound passengers.

The giant luxury liner, formerly the German ship Europa, which was awarded to France as reparations in 1946, was stuck in mud and sand. Three tugs immediately went to its side.

French Line officials said they thought the ship could be refloated at high tide.

There was no immediate indication, however, whether the ship had or had not been damaged and whether it would be able to continue to Southampton, England, to pick up more passengers for the Atlantic voyage.

The Liberte, which was heavily damaged by fire while the French were refitting it in 1949, left Le Havre at 1 p.m. (8 a.m. EST). A half hour later, a half mile out of the port, it was stuck in the mud.

French Line officials said poor visibility was probably the cause of the accident.

500 in Area Ticketed Over 4-Day Holiday

Almost 500 motorists were ticketed for traffic violations in the Pontiac area over the four-day Labor Day weekend, with speeding violations heading the list.

Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post issued 125 tickets, almost double the number issued on an ordinary weekend.

Pontiac Police records show a total of 242 tickets issued, with 159 of them for moving violations. Oakland County sheriff's deputies ticketed well over 100 motorists.

Law enforcement officials indicated the high number of tickets issued could be attributed to heavy volume of traffic and the fact that every available officer was assigned to traffic duty.

Governor Says Free Labor Fights World Communism

Gov. G. Mennen Williams told an estimated 1,000 persons at Murphy Park Monday that the creation of free labor unions in other parts of the world would help check the spread of communism.

Appearing at a Pontiac Labor Day picnic during a round of speechmaking in the state, the governor lauded labor union members for combating communism in the United States and for raising the living standards of American workers.

"Labor can look back on a job well done," the governor commented, "but don't spend too much time looking back—there's still a lot of work to be done."

"The American people have benefitted greatly from free labor unions and the same type unions must be established in other parts of the world, especially Europe, to combat the infiltration of subversive forces that would destroy freedom."

Gov. Williams was met at the city limits on Woodward avenue by Mayor Arthur J. Law, and Commissioners Benjamin M. Gates, Ronald C. Hallenbeck and Dr. Roy V. Cooley.

A police motorcycle escort led the governor's motor caravan to the park at 2 p.m.

State Rep. Leaun Harrelson (D-Pontiac) and Oakland County Democratic Committee Chairman Willis M. Brewer also accompanied the governor.

Law and Harrelson spoke briefly at the picnic grounds on South East boulevard and then introduced Gov. Williams to the crowd.

After a short talk the governor walked about the picnic grounds talking to informal groups of supporters.

Philip A. Hart of Birmingham, the governor's legal adviser, was forced to cancel his scheduled appearance in order to address a group at Manistee.

Gov. Williams and his entourage drove to Pontiac Municipal Airport, where they boarded a plane for other Labor Day apearances at Adrian, Grand Rapids and Iron River.

Series Ducat Prices Reach New Heights

NEW YORK (AP)—A new high for prices of World Series tickets was announced today. Representatives of contending clubs met to make plans for the fall classic. The series will open Wednesday, Sept. 30, in the American League park.

The new ticket scale is $10 for box seats, $8 for reserved seats, $4 for standing room and $2 for bleachers. Last year the scale was $8, $6, $4 and $1.

The series, as in recent years, will see the first two games in the American League park, the next three—if it goes to five games—in the National League park, and a return to the American League park for the final two games. also if necessary.

Games will start at 1:05 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, except on Sunday in New York and Brooklyn when the starting time will be 2:05.

Justus G. Wilson Drowning Victim

Walled Lake Man Fell From Fishing Boat on Commerce Lake

Justus G. Wilson, 58, of 824 Oakley Park Road, Walled Lake, drowned in Commerce Lake about 2:30 Monday afternoon. He apparently fell from a boat from which he had been fishing alone. Other fishermen who discovered his empty boat circling in the lake located and recovered his body.

Efforts of Commerce Township firemen to revive him were unsuccessful. Dr. I. C. Prevette, deputy coroner, pronounced the death due to accidental drowning.

A native of Alpena, Mr. Wilson was born May 28, 1895. He was a welder by trade and came to the Walled Lake area from Detroit in 1936.

He is survived by his widow, Edith; five sons and three daughters: Gordon of Flint, Donald of Milford, Jack, Douglas and George at home, Mrs. Cecil Shelton of Pontiac, Eleanore and Nancy at home. Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Blanche Houghton Wilson of Walled Lake; and two sisters, Mrs. W. J. Roberts of Detroit and Mrs. James Haley of Plattsburg, N. Y.

The body will lie in state at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Walled Lake, and service will be held there at 2 p. m. Thursday with the Rev. Clarence King officiating.

City Educators at Conference

Teachers and Officials Meet in Preparation for School Opening

Pontiac teachers and school officials gathered at Pontiac High School today for the annual "Pre-School Conference."

The all-day program features a talk by Dr. Harold Hand, professor of education at the University of Illinois. His topic is "Education for the Air Age."

Morning coffee served by Pontiac Education Association in the boys' gymnasium opened the program, followed by a general assembly with Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent of schools, presiding. Music by Pontiac High School band also preceded Dr. Hand's address.

After a noon luncheon in the new high school cafeteria, Pontiac teachers split into groups for "workshop" sessions on classroom techniques in their various fields of education.

All are viewing the film "United 6534" this afternoon and attending an afternoon "coffee" served by Pontiac PTA Council.

Week to Be Cool in Pontiac Area

Cool weather is expected to remain in the Pontiac area at least through Saturday, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The bureau predicts little change in temperatures Wednesday, with partly cloudy skies and a high of from 74 to 76 degrees. A low of 50 degrees is forecast for tonight.

Although Thursday may be slightly warmer, scattered showers are expected to bring cooler temperatures Friday and Saturday.

Pleasant weather, with a low of 54 and a high of 69 degrees, was recorded here on Labor Day.

The mercury rose from 53 degrees at 8 a. m. today to 70 degrees at 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac.

Bread Price Advancing Cent a Loaf in Area

The first of a general 1-cent increase in retail bread prices was reported today by Maurice J. Croteau, president of the Oakland County Food Dealers Association.

He said the Continental Baking Co. of Detroit boosted its wholesale prices a cent, and the other major bread distributors in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties are expected to follow suit by Thursday.

The wholesale price advance will require grocers to raise their price correspondingly, added Croteau, sending the retail price from 21 to 22 cents.

Dispute Brewing Between U. N., Reds Over PWs

Both Demanding Return of Men They Claim Are Still Held

PANMUNJOM (AP) — A full-scale dispute over the exchange of war prisoners was building up today. The Communists accused the Allies of holding back captives and the U. N. Command drafted a demand for the return of Allied POWs it asserts are still in Red hands.

While Peiping radio asserted the U. N. Command withheld 357 Chinese and Koreans from repatriation, Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters worked over a list of Americans believed in Red captivity.

The names were collected from interviews with returned prisoners, from Communist broadcasts and lists and from letters written by captives.

The U. N. list, after careful rechecking, will be handed to the Communists with the demand that the Reds either return or account for the missing Americans.

Allied spokesmen said the names will be announced in Washington, but there was no indication when. Nor was the number disclosed.

Peiping claimed a check of prisoner lists showed the Allies held back 228 Koreans and 129 Chinese who wanted to return to their homelands.

Both sides have insisted that all POWs who wanted repatriation were returned during the 33 days of Operation Big Switch, which ended Sunday.

Meanwhile the eighth and last troopship to return American prisoners sailed from Inchon with 297 ex-POWs for San Francisco.

That left only 18 American repatriates in Korea. All were medical cases scheduled for evacuation shortly.

Other ailing POWs were en route home by plane from Tokyo.

Meanwhile, the stage was being set for the next phase of the armistice—settling the fate of prisoners who have refused repatriation.

The U. N. Command began moving the first of nearly 23,000 Communist POWs from camps in southern Korea to the demilitarized zone.

At the rate of about 2,500 a day, the job is scheduled for completion by Sept. 18.

The Reds say they hold about 300 Koreans and 20 non-Koreans who have refused repatriation.

The balky POWs will be guarded by Indian troops under the control of a five-nation repatriation commission.

For 90 days, Allied and Communist officers will be allowed to talk with the POWs in an effort to convince them to return home.

Prisoners who still balk at going home will then be turned over for 30 days to the Korean political conference.

If the conference fails to settle their fate, the POWs will be released.

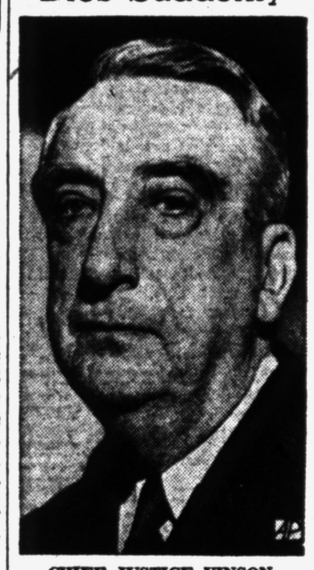
Dies Suddenly



CHIEF JUSTICE VINSON

A heart attack suffered about 2:30 a. m. today in Washington brought death a short time later to Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, of the United States Supreme Court.

State Finances Might Balance

Williams Sees Chance of Wiping Out Potential $90 Million Deficit

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams declared today there is a "bare outside" possibility the state will be in the black financially at the end of the current fiscal year, wiping out a potential general fund deficit of $90,000,000 in one year.

At the start of the past fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1952, the general fund had accumulated a deficit of $65,300,000. Without new revenues, financial officers saw it reaching $90,000,000 by the end of that fiscal year.

State Controller Robert F. Steadman reported today that nearly complete accounting of the year's fiscal operations showed the deficit was down to $32,000,000 on June 30, 1953, the end of the fiscal year.

Steadman said that if business conditions permit the sales tax to maintain its present pace and the legislature's new business receipts tax meets expectations, the deficit may be down to $10,000,000 or less by June 30, 1954.

But after conversations with Steadman, Williams said there is an outside chance that the state could wipe out the deficit entirely this year.

Both Williams and Steadman pointed to the effect on state revenues which would result in any decline in retail business. This would pull the sales tax down. This year it is running 18.7 per cent above 1952.

Autopsy Is Planned in Car Fire Death

An autopsy in the death of a White Lake Township motorist, whose charred body was found slumped in the front seat of his burning auto Monday morning, will be conducted today by Dr. Richard E. Olson.

Olson, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, will attempt to discover the exact cause of death of Merle J. Howell, 56, of 501 Lakeview Dr.

Howell, who lived with his daughter and son-in-law, Lucille and Paul Lowes, was found by the pair at 5 a.m. when they investigated the continued blowing of an auto horn in the driveway of their home.

They told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies they had not seen Howell since Sunday when he left to visit a son in Waterford Township.

Supreme Court Vacancy Comes at Critical Time

Death of Kentuckian, 63, Opens Way for Ike's 1st Bench Appointee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson died early today of a heart attack—only four weeks before the Supreme Court is to meet for its fall session.

Vinson, 63, was stricken in his apartment and a physician was called at 1:30 a. m. (EST). The chief justice died 45 minutes later. Mrs. Vinson and a son, Fred Jr., were with him.

Many weighty issues—some of possible far-reaching effect on the nation's economic and social structure—are scheduled for consideration at the Supreme Court session beginning Oct. 5.

For President Eisenhower, therefore, the sudden and unexpected death of the chief justice presented an urgent question of whether he should make an early recess appointment to the court.

Nominations to the highest tribunal are subject to Senate confirmation. But with Congress in adjournment, the President could appoint a justice who would act pending Senate consideration.

It appears improbable, however, that Eisenhower would fill so important a post without at least unofficial consultation with members of the Senate Judiciary Committee and other leading senators.

The court will meet as scheduled whether or not the vacancy is filled. In the absence of a designated chief justice, Justice Hugo Black would preside as the senior member of the court.

In Denver, where Eisenhower is vacationing, there was no immediate hint as to what he might do about possibly the most important appointment of his administration.

The President issued a statement expressing shock and grief over the death of a man who had been his close personal friend. He called Vinson "an outstanding citizen whose death is a loss to America."

Eisenhower also sent a personal message to Mrs. Vinson.

From over the nation, others joind in tributes to the chief justice.

Definite funeral arrangements had not been announced early this afternoon, but relatives of the chief justice said in Louisa, Ky., there would be a brief ceremony in Washington to be followed by a service in the Louisa Methodist Church and burial in the family plot at Pine Hill cemetery on a bluff overlooking Louisa.

Vinson had served in Congress and held many top government posts before President Truman appointed him chief justice on June 24, 1946, as successor to the late Harlan F. Stone.

When Truman named the affable, middle-of-the-road Vinson as chief justice it was widely believed he was chosen as a peacemaker in the wrangle then going on between Justices Robert H. Jackson and Hugo L. Black.

Truman himself noted Vinson was to become the 13th chief jus-

Coastal Oil Suit May Be Junked

Justice Branch Asking U. S. Court to Throw Out Arkansas' Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department today asked the U. S. District Court here to throw out a suit by the state of Arkansas challenging the right of coastal states to oil lands underneath the marginal seas.

Congress enacted legislation at its last session recognizing claims of the coastal states to the lands. Arkansas filed a suit contending the legislation was unconstitutional.

In reply, the Justice Department filed a dismissal motion contending that Arkansas has no legal interest.

The department contended further that Arkansas does not have the right to sue the federal government without the consent of Congress.

Arkansas has until Sept. 17 to reply to the motion. After its reply is filed, a date will be set for arguments on the matter.

Wainwright Goes to Rest After Last Military Salute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright was buried in Arlington National Cemetery today with quiet dignity and a soldier's epitaph—"He gave more than his life to the service of his country."

Several hundred mourners joined the nation's top military leaders in saying a hushed farewell to the hero of Bataan. He was buried among the trees near the graves of his parents after a traditional cavalryman's funeral.

Among the military great who turned out to pay homage to him were the present chiefs of staff; Gens. George C. Marshall and Omar N. Bradley, former chiefs; and retired Maj. Gen. E. P. King, who was with Wainwright during the bitter seige of Bataan and Japanese imprisonment a decade ago.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Wainwright's "beloved commander," did not appear.

Bataan was not mentioned today but it overhung the last rites.

The saber which Wainwright gave to the Japanese then, and was subsequently recovered, followed him to the grave. In the funeral procession, it hung from the empty saddle of a cavalry horse on which empty boots were placed backward in the stirrups — the traditional farewell for a cavalryman.

At the graveside, Lt. Col. Charles E. Brown of Denver, the Washing-

Gales Shove Freighter Atop Sand Bar Off Cape Cod; Coast Guard Rescues 17

BOSTON (AP)—The 3,500-ton Panamanian freighter Evgenia, driven aground in hurricane-lashed seas, rode a sand bar at the tip of Cape Cod today while her captain and six seamen waited for rescue tugs to pull her free.

Seventeen others were rescued by Coast Guardsmen — 13 by breeches buoy over 20-foot combers and four more by an amphibious duck — after the 225-foot vessel piled up on dreaded Peaked Hill Bar yesterday in gale winds and boiling seas.

The Evgenia, en route without cargo from Baltimore to St. John, Nfld., was driven ashore when a screw broke.

While more than a thousand anxious spectators lined a nearby beach, Coast Guardsmen again and again braved the surf to rescue the Evgenia's crew. Most of them were Greek and only one could speak English with fluency. He was the cook, Michael Moskouris, first man brought ashore by breeches buoy.

"We knew it was bad," he said in broken English. "We were tossing around in a light ship without a cargo."

Twice the breeches buoy broke. The second time was when the 13th man was being hauled ashore. He was dumped into the water 400 feet out. A Coast Guardsman and six civilians risked their lives swimming out to aid him.

The force of the hurricane did not reach much of New England. Nantucket Island, closest to the big blow, was swept with 50-mile winds as was the northern coast of Maine. Some sections had rain and high winds and fog spread along the coast.

The hurricane veered away from Nantucket yesterday morning and headed across the Gulf of Maine. Nova Scotia was hardest hit but New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island got fringe winds that broke down trees and cut power and telegraph service.

Clogged sewers in Moncton, N. B., flooded streets with two feet of water.

Two inches of rain fell at Yarmouth, N. S., within 24 hours.

The storm was expected to move east of Newfoundland today.

Birmingham Commission to Eye Revised Proposal on Rezoning Porritt Land

(From Our Birmingham Bureau)

BIRMINGHAM—Meeting tonight instead of last night because of the holiday, city commissioners will consider a revised proposal submitted by the W. E. Reid Development Co., concerning rezoning of the Porritt property.

The new plan for the Troy Township property on Adams between Maple and Lincoln, would reduce from the original offer, the number of residential units from 266 to a maximum of 240.

A manager's report discussing sewage treatment problems will be heard so the city can present tentative plans when a representative attends a meeting of the Water Resources Commission in October.

Possible ways to treat the city water supply when Detroit's supply is available to the city, anticipated by the summer of 1955, will also be under discussion.

Commissioners will be advised that a Troy Township Zoning Board hearing set for Sept. 15, has been canceled until the board can consider Birmingham's withdrawal of a petition to rezone the Walker Gravel Pit property.

Contracts will be awarded for construction of a water main on North Woodward and the commission will consider leasing a piece of property to Redeemer Lutheran Church.

Budget report for the fiscal year 1952-1953 will be given and the manager will recommend approving installation of a traffic signal at Fourteen Mile and Southfield. He will also recommend drilling two test wells on the Springdale Park property.

A request from the Kiwanis Club to sell peanuts to the public on Sept. 26, National Kids Day, will be considered, as will one from United Foundation asking permission to place slogans on the sidewalk and change two street names during the Torch Fund campaign.

Recent organization of a Sister Kenny Anniversary Club here has brought results. It was discovered at the last executive board meeting that through soliciting this summer, members had secured the full time services of a nurse to work at the Sister Kenny Polio Treatment Center.

Members decided to increase their efforts along these lines, when it was brought out that the center has had to reject patients because of lack of help.

Women with nurse's training are asked to contact Dr. Ethel Calhoun at the center in Pontiac. Those wishing membership in the club may contact Vice President Charles J. Salinas.

Car owners in need of license plates for the balance of 1952 now can obtain them for half price at the Chamber of Commerce, according to Charles Mortensen, secretary of the organization.

He said the half-year order became effective Sept. 1 and is designed to accommodate new car buyers, persons who have moved here from other states and owners of vehicles used only part of the year.

The Rev. Harold Towne said today that fire damage estimates on the St. James Episcopal Church fire in July are still not completed.

The Rev. Mr. Towne predicted a three-month delay from the fire caused by a faulty element in a ventilating fan.

Modified services, he said, may be held there by February. Meanwhile he is negotiating for a place to hold services, which now are being held at the Community House.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley has indicated in his August accident summary that the violation of following too closely had been shown as the cause in 16 of the last 48 accidents, or 33 1-3 per cent, during July and August.

This is the violation, Moxley said, "when one vehicle strikes another that has slowed down or stopped for a signal or stop sign."

Total accidents were listed at 22, with two personal injury accidents and two persons injured.

Besides eight violations of following too closely, there were three for improper turns and two each for improper starting from a parked position and failure to have the car under control.

The others were one each for defective brakes, excessive speed and violation of the right of way.

Robber Added to FBI Listing

Midwest Man Figured in Number of Daring Prison Breaks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lloyd Reed Russell, 32-year-old midwestern robber, today was added to the FBI's list of ten most-wanted fugitives.

Russell, who has figured in a number of daring prison escapes, is the last man remaining at large from a group of seven convicts who burned their way out of the Marquette Branch of Michigan State Prison last May 22.

Russell at the time was serving a long sentence for the shooting of a Michigan State police detective after making a previous escape from a prison farm at London, Ohio.

In the Michigan break, he and six other inmates were working on a repair job inside a cell block when they obtained an acetylene torch, armed themselves with pipe wrenches and homemade knives and over-powered two guards. They used the torch to cut their way through the cell block bars and fled into a nearby woods. Within less than a month, all except Russell were recaptured.

When Russell and a companion escaped from the Ohio prison farm, they made their getaway by going hand over hand on a high tension wire for 200 yards to drop outside the walls. After robbing a postoffice and grain elevator at Toledo, the two got across the Michigan state line and ran through a series of police road-blocks, at one of which they opened fire on pursuing officers, severly wounding one of them.

The figitives were finally captured near Boot Lake, Mich., in May, 1950.

Expensive Blowout

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — It was a $12,000 blowout. It didn't cost Bradshaw $12,000; it cost Sandusky county.

The blowout was costly because it threw Bradshaw's car into the rail of a 50-foot bridge. The bridge collapsed.

Besides his mother, he was survived by a brother, Donald, of Chicago, and a sister, Helen at home.

Mr. Burlingham died at his home Sunday afternoon.

Ralph W. Gearhart

After an illness of a year, Ralph W. Gearhart, 73, of 24 Norton Ave. died at the Veteran's Hospital at Dearborn at 3 a.m. today.

Born in West Decatur, Pa., April 28, 1880, he was the son of John W. and Anna McDowell Gearhart. He was in the ice cream business at Clearfield, Pa., for 10 years before coming to Pontiac 18 years ago. He was formerly employed here for GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Mr. Gearhart, who was a veteran of the Spanish-American War, was a member of F&AM at Morgantown, W. Va., Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and United Commercial Travelers.

Besides his widow, the former Margaret R. Coffey, whom he married in Bloomsburg, Pa., he is survived by two sons and two daughters, Mrs. Madelyn Greer and George L. Gearhart of Colorado Springs, John W. and Mrs. Lonnie Riggs of Pontiac.

Also surviving are three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Pearl Kline and Harold Gearhart of Pontiac, B. B. Gearhart of Brimley, J. R. Gearhart of Katonsville, Md., Mrs. W. W. Riggley of Clearfield, Pa., Mrs. Jane Kurtz of West Decatur, Pa.; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The body will be at the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home Wednesday until 4 p.m. when it will be sent to Clearfield for service and burial in Crown Crest Cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Heacock

After an illness of five weeks, Mrs. Margaret Heacock, 40, of 4468 Sedum Glen, died Monday morning at Pontiac General Hospital.

Born at Brimley, Aug. 27, 1913, she was the daughter of Robert and Anna Deuman Collins. She married Walter B. Heacock Dec. 14, 1950, in Pontiac.

Mrs. Heacock came to Oakland County 13 years ago from Cheboygan and was employed in the cut and sew department at Fisher Body Division.

Besides her husband and mother, she is survived by four sons and two daughters, Joseph A. and Richard Moody, Cathy F., and Burt W. Heacock, Mrs. Margaret Ann Rothie of Pontiac and Patrick Collins of Cheboygan.

Also surviving are five sisters, Mrs. Cecelia Zimmerman of Pontiac, Mrs. Gertrude Charles of Brimley, Miss Monica Collins of Cheboygan, Mrs. Irene Hudson of Terry and Mrs. Allen Moody of Pontiac.

Funeral will be Wednesday at 11 a.m. from the Pursley Funeral Home. Burial will be in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Rosary service will be tonight at 8 o'clock in the funeral home.

Merle J. Howell

Merle Jerome Howell, 56, of 501 Lakeview St., died yesterday at his residence.

Mr. Howell was born in Utica, on June 14, 1897, the son of Frank and Effie A. Messenger Howell. A resident of Oakland County for 35 years he was a member of the Methodist Church in Attica.

Surviving are two sons and five daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Stone, of Hayward, Calif., Mrs. Lucille Lowes, Miss Judith Howell, Miss Dorothy Howell, Robert and Ward all of Pontiac, and Mrs. Beverly Ann Tucker of Hawaii. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Mertie Weaver of Pontiac.

The body is at the Pursley Funeral Home.

Gregori Puscas

Gregori Puscas, 59, of 187 W. Wilson Ave., died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Sunday after an illness of three months.

He was born in Zaharesti, Romania, June 14, 1894, the son of Constantine and Paraskiva Varteniuk Puscas. He married Catherine Buliga in Detroit Aug. 8, 1925, and was a member of St. George Romanian Orthodox Church.

Surviving besides his widow is a son Gregory Puscas at home, and one brother George Puscas of Toronto.

Funeral will be Thursday at 1:30 p. m. from the St. George Romanian Orthodox Church. Burial will follow at Oak Hill Cemetery. The body is at the Pursley Funeral Home.

William G. Moyses

Funeral for William G. Moyses, 81, of 1851 Birchcrest in Waterford Township, will be Wednesday at 1 p.m. from Sparks-Griffin Chapel. The Rev. A. J. Baughey of Evangelistic Tabernacle will officiate and burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery at Owosso.

Born in Shiawassee County Nov. 11, 1871, he was the son of John and Mary Gabriel Moyses. He married Mae Taylor in Flushing Oct. 10, 1894, and came from Osceola County to Oakland County 25 years ago. He was a retired farmer.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Berneda Holland and Mrs. Julia Smith of Owosso; two sons, John H. and Earl C. of Pontiac; three sisters, Mrs. Elida Thomas and Miss Susie Moyses of Detroit and Mrs. Victoria Fritz of Owosso.

Also surviving are 11 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Moyses died Sunday at 11:45 p.m.

George R. Steere

Burial service was held today in Owosso for George R. Steere, brother of Frank W. Steere of Watkins Lake.

Mr. Steere died Tuesday in Ipswich, Mass., and funeral service was held there on Friday.

State Real Estate Group Convenes Wednesday

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Michigan Real Estate Association opens its annual three-day convention here Wednesday. An attendance of 500 is expected. President Arthur E. Early of Kalamazoo will preside.

Charles B. Shattuck, of Los Angeles, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will speak opening day.

Press Announces Two Promotions

Howard Fitzgerald Is Business Manager, John Assistant to Editor

Promotion of two Pontiac Press staff members was announced today.

Howard H. Fitzgerald II was named business manager. He has been a member of the business staff since Aug. 1, 1946. During World War II he went through France, Germany and Austria with the infantry in the 44th Division.

HOWARD H. F.

John W. Fitzgerald was named assistant to the editor. He has been a member of the news staff since 1937. He served for several years in the army during the war, most of which time was with the photographic division.

He was made head of the Press' photographic department in 1945, and one year ago he was also made picture editor. He will continue to carry out those assignments in addition to the added responsibilities he is taking on in the news department.

JOHN W. F.

Both men are members of the Board of Directors of the Press.

Jail Third Time Jail Second Time

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Police today sought Gordon Schemenauer, 19, a convicted auto thief who escaped from the Van Buren County Jail last night for the third time within a year.

The Bangor bandit surprised Deputy Frank Rogers, who was making his rounds of the cellblock.

Schemenauer threatened him with a knife and forced his way out.

He last escaped from the Van Buren jail, April 27, with Sebastian Russo, who is still at large. Schemenauer was recaptured Aug. 2.

He wriggled free the first time, shortly after being sentenced, early in April.

Schemenauer is described as five feet, 11 inches tall. He weighs about 150 pounds and wore a khaki shirt and blue overalls when he escaped.

Charge Indecency

A warrant charging gross indecency was issued today by Oakland County First Assistant Prosecutor James G. Hartrick against Ralph E. Rose, 39, of 12869 Hough Rd., Memphis. Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post accused Rose of taking indecent liberties with a boy.

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Josephine from Voorheis road to James K; Midway avenue from Sanford to East boulevard; Erie road from Menominee to Wenonah drive; and on Ontario road from Wenonah drive to Menominee.

Public hearings will be held on the following matters:

An assessment roll for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Raeburn from East boulevard to Michigan Airline Railway.

Rezoning to C-1, the north 395 feet of lot 3, assessor's plat 37.

Chief Justice Vinson Dies in Washington

tice in U. S. history, and called it "lucky for the United States and lucky for Mr. Vinson — at least I hope it is."

Truman was informed of Vinson's death shortly before boarding a plane at Detroit bound for his Missouri home.

"It is a terrible loss and a terrible shock," the former President said. "He was a great man and a great justice as well as a great citizen of the country. We'll all miss him."

Vinson as chief justice did not write a large number of the court's opinions, but a number of important cases came before the tribunal during his stewardship.

One of the most famous involved condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg last June. Vinson summoned his associates back to the bench shortly after the court had officially recessed, to weigh a last-minute stay of execution granted by Justice William O. Douglas. The court swept aside the stay on June 19 and the Rosenbergs were executed that night.

In a formal opinion issued later Vinson said Douglas had the power to issue the stay, but he defended the court's action in setting it aside and said the body had acted properly in meeting in prompt special session.

Vinson's elevation to the high court seven years ago capped a public career that included service in all three branches of the government. He was secretary of the treasury before being named chief justice.

During World War II he was appointed by former President Franklin D. Roosevelt to head in turn the Office of Economic Stabilization, the Federal Loan Administration and the Office of War Mobilization. Truman then chose him as treasury boss.

The Kentuckyian first gained national fame as a member of the U. S. House of Representatives, to which he was elected initially in 1922 and for six Congresses thereafter. As chairman of a house ways and means subcommittee he championed the 1936 revenue act which contained a controversial provision on undistributed profits.

Vinson liked to say he was born "in jail" on Jan. 22, 1890 — his father was the jailer at Louisa, Ky., and the family lived in the front part of the jail.

In his youth Vinson played college baseball as a shortstop and was good enough to win a berth later on a semi-pro club. He always retained his love of the sport.

Besides his wife and Fred Jr., he is survivied by another son, James R. Vinson, a grandson, James R. Vinson Jr. and a sister, Miss Lou Vinson.

Cranbrook Bulletin Cites State Botanist

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—A Michigan botanist who gave new names to 1,300 plants and published over 155 scientific papers has been commemorated in a bulletin recently published by Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Entitled "Farwelliana," the study deals with the life and botanical work of the late Oliver Atkins Farwell who conducted some of his extensive field research in Oakland County.

Farwell built up an important botanical collection for checking identification of plants used in drug manufacture which was presented to the University of Michigan. His personal collection of over 40,000 specimens was bequeathed to Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Dale J. Hagenah of the herbarium committee of the institute was one of the editors of the bulletin.

Especially 'Hi, How Are You'

Dutch Girl at Cranbrook Finds She Likes America

BIRMINGHAM—A 28-year-old Dutch girl, recently arrived in the United States, likes Americans because of the nice way they say, "Hi, how are you?"

She is Miss Margot Cramer of The Hague, Holland, who will work as a research assistant in the museum at the Cranbrook Academy of Arts during the next year.

MISS MARGOT CRAMER

Miss Cramer will study American museum practice with an eye toward picking up some credit toward her Doctor's degree from the University of Leiden in Holland by writing a paper comparing art education in the two countries.

"American technology is the thing that impresses we Dutch the most," she noted. "I can see the difference in museum practice already. Your photographic and filing departments are much more elaborate.

"Hollanders realize the benefit they have received in material goods from America, but I think they get the wrong impression of the American nature from tourists."

When asked how it felt to live in a land which would be almost entirely under water if not for man-made dikes she said, "Floods don't excite us. A few feet of water in the street is nothing to get alarmed about."

Miss Cramer, who speaks fluent English as well as German and Dutch, has already demonstrated her value by describing the museum to groups of foreign students in their native tongue.

The girl from the land of tulips says she won't miss that flower too much because "We kept ourselves alive by eating tulip bulbs and sugar beets one winter during the German occupation in World War II."

Influence Case Will Be Aired

House Subcommittee to Disclose Data Involving Republican Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee said today it will disclose complete details of a new case of alleged "influence peddling" in a determined effort "to stop this sort of thing."

The case involved Warren L. Stephenson, Washington Republican leader, who was said to have sought a 4 per cent fee to help a California manufacturing firm get more business with the Navy.

Testimony before a House armed services subcommittee said Stephenson quoted secret Navy figures on rocket launchers during his negotiation for a job with Century Industries, Inc., of Burbank, Calif.

He was after a contract that would have paid him a percentage on any order the Century firm received for more than 25,000 of the devices. He did not get it.

Reports of the testimony leaked out over the weekend. Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), chairman of the subcommittee on defense activities, acknowledged the affair for the first time today.

In a statement Hess said the subcommittee has decided to release the testimony as soon as it is printed. The subcommittee also "will express its own opinion in a separate report," Hess said.

The chairman said that despite two days of questioning, the subcommittee was unable to learn what service Stephenson "really renders" for his present employers.

Stephenson was said to have testified he made $2,000 a month as a representative for manufacturers including the Drayer Hanson Company of Los Angeles, the Donahue Steel Erector Company of Chicago, and the R. T. & E. Electrical Company of Milwaukee, Wis.

Stephenson was executive secretary of President Eisenhower's inaugural committee. Earlier he was chairman of the Taft Committee for the District of Columbia, when the late Ohio senator was seeking the Republican presidential nomination.

At Virginia Beach where he was vacationing, Stephenson said last night, "I have no statement to make."

Hess said he hoped that after the release of the testimony and the subcommittee's report, "the businessmen of American who seek to do business with our government will come to realize that Washington is not a good climate for influence peddlers."

Hornsby Believes Woman a Suicide

CHICAGO (AP) — Rogers Hornsby said today he believes a woman he described as a personal friend and his personal secretary "took her own life" in a plunge from an apartment window.

Hornsby, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs and a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, testified at a coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Bernadette Ann Harris, 55.

Mrs. Harris plunged to her death Monday from her third floor apartment in a North Side hotel.

Hornsby, 57 and gray-haired, stated on the witness stand that Mrs. Harris had been a personal friend since 1945 and had been his personal secretary since 1945.

He said she handled some of his personal affairs and most of his financial affairs.

Hornsby, who has been separated from his wife, Jeanette, since June 1952 testified that Mrs. Harris had been depressed.

Ragweed Haul Nets $50

TRAVERSE CITY (UP) — Glen Blow of Route 2 collected 11,061 pounds of ragweed to win the $50 first prize in the Grand Traverse Bay area's attempt to make the area sneeze free.

4 Men Questioned in Twin Investigation

Four men were questioned over the weekend in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Hallie Perkins and the attack on a 16-year-old girl Aug. 15 near Beverly and Baldwin Aves., according to Detective John DePauw, investigation coordinator.

The four men, later released, bringing to 57 the total number of persons questioned in the crimes. Twenty-seven were released after police show-ups, the others after questioning alone.

DePauw said the number of tips has increased since the Pontiac City Commission offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer.

Clarke Harper Dies in Water Accident

BIRMINGHAM—Clarke Harper, 32, of 2168 Yarmouth, Bloomfield Village, drowned yesterday when he was pulled under by an undertow at Inverhuron Beach, Owen Sound, Ont.

Police said Harper and an unidentified companion had moored a sailboat near their cottage to swim to the beach, when the current pulled him under. His body has not been recovered.

Harper had been a former teaching fellow at University of Michigan.

ton district chaplain, delivered the brief farewell.

"Greater love hath no man than to lay down his life for his brother.

"He gave his life — he gave more than his life — in the service of his country."

Navy Capt. Jonathan Wainwright V, the general's son, wiped his eyes on occasion as the ceremony proceeded. With him were his wife and Col. O. I. Holman, Wainwright's former executive officer.

The general's wife, who is confined to a Colorado hospital, was unable to attend.

The 70-year-old general won the nation's gratitude for helping to save a war while losing a campaign, the bitter stand on Bataan and Corregidor after the escape of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He died in San Antonio, Tex., last Wednesday — eight years after witnessing Japan's formal surrender. Maltreatment in Japanese prison camps contributed to the end.

The troops marching today with cadenced step to the grave were under the command of Col. Dennis M. Moore, one of Wainwright's staff officers in The Philippines and himself a survivor of the Bataan "death march" and eight Japanese prisons.

Rita and Haymes Plan Marriage This Month

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS) — Ofttmarried actress Rita Hayworth and singer Dick Haymes have announced jointly in Las Vegas they would be married "sometime in the week of September 20."

Haymes, facing deportation from the United States, said he and the famed ex-wife of Prince Aly Khan, will be free to marry probably around Sept. 24th. It will be the fourth marriage for each.

McCarthy to Aid Senate Hopefuls

GOP Plans to Use Him in Efforts to Defeat Key Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some GOP leaders, convinced the voters generally look with favor on Sen. McCarthy's investigations of communism, intend to feature the Wisconsin Republican in some of next year's senatorial campaigns.

The Senate Republican Campaign Committee already has begun to line up ammunition against five Democratic senators it regards as best bets for displacement in the November 1954 elections.

They are Senators Frear of Delaware, Douglas of Illinois, Gillette of Iowa, Humphrey of Minnesota and Murray of Montana.

* * *

A committee official who didn't want to be identified by name said that if present plans mature, McCarthy will be used in behalf of GOP candidates in some of these states.

McCarthy took an active role in the 1950 senatorial campaign in Maryland, which saw Sen. John M. Butler defeat the veteran Millard E. Tydings a Democrat. A Senate elections subcommittee which investigated unanimously called it a "despicable . . . back street campaign" and criticized some of McCarthy's tactics.

McCarthy himself was re-elected to a six-year term last year. While he won handily, he ran well behind the GOP margins polled in Wisconsin by President Eisenhower and Gov. Walter J. Kohler Jr.

* * *

McCarthy, disclaiming any knowledge of committee plans, said he probably will make some political speeches next year but has no schedule.

The senator told reporters he had received 619 invitations for speeches since the first of the year, and that "many of these invitations came from members of Congress."

Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, chairman of the Senate campaign group, said future plans have not yet jelled. But he left no doubt he regards McCarthy as a definite asset. Dirksen said that at a recent Illinois meeting, the crowd gave its greatest cheer to his mention of McCarthy's investigations.

Ex-Prime Minister of Japan Dies at 77

TOKYO (AP)—Nobuyuki Abe, Japan's Prime Minister in 1939, died at his home here yesterday after a protracted illness. Funeral service will be conducted Thursday.

Abe, 77, was governor general of Korea at the time Japan surrendered in World War II.

A graduate of the Japanese Military Academy, he became a full general in 1933.

His Cabinet resigned en bloc after four months in the face of a strong nonconfidence threat put up by the opposition.

Like all other wartime leaders, he was purged. His rights were restored automatically when Japan regained sovereignty in April 1952 but he kept out of politics.

Politician Skirts Death in Jump With Parachute

DETROIT (AP)—A parachuting politician narrowly missed serious injury yesterday when he jumped from a plane over the Detroit River for the second time in two weeks.

Don Taylor, 56, who staged the parachute leaps to add oomph to his campaign for Detroit mayor in this fall's election, missed the river this time and dropped on the Windsor, Ont., waterfront. He suffered several cuts and was shaken up when he grazed wires and the side of a waterfront building in the neighboring Canadian city.

Last time, Taylor hit his target and was fished out of the river by friends and the Coast Guard.

Enraged Motorists Held Back by Police

NEW YORK (AP) — Police restrained 50 motorists yesterday from turning on a driver who, officers said, endangered them by weaving and speeding before he sideswiped an automobile.

Police said an auto driven by Rudolph King, 23, overturned when it sideswiped a second car, which also rolled over. Enraged motorists stopped behind the wrecks on the Grand Central Parkway and descended upon King. However, three police officers happened by and immediately intervened.

King was charged with assault with a car, driving without an operator's license and dangerous driving. His brother, Dewitt King, 26, was booked for felonious assault after he arrived on the scene in his own car and, police said, got into a fight with an angry motorist.

Gruenther Says Army Will Stick

Cites Mission of NATO Forces as Defense of Western Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther says the mission of his Western European army is to defend the area and that, if the Russians attack, "we are not planning to retire—we intend to stay."

Gruenther said, in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report made public last night, that if the nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization stick together, "we are going to reach a position of strength which will make aggression so unprofitable that it will never take place."

* * *

The general, who recently succeeded Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as Nato commander, was asked whether his forces, which he said had doubled in strength since 1951, could hold a beachhead in Europe in the face of Russian attack.

"Oh, we could hold a beachhead if that were our objective," Gruenther said, and he added: "The question of whether or not we could hold a beachhead involves a retreat concept. This command is not organized to plan a withdrawal. We intend to stay."

He conceded, however, that if the Communists were willing to pay the price they could win the first phase of any new war in Europe.

* * *

"We would not be a pushover for them," he said. "We are reaching the point now where the aggressor would have to handle his forces with consummate skill. He could not afford to make many mistakes against us, even if he should attack in force.

"Yet, if they were willing to devote the air power and the ground forces to the effort they could set us back today."

Adenauer Win Pleases Ike

President, Secy. Dulles Hope Landslide Brings German Unification

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are hopeful the landslide election victory of West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will lead to unification of all Germany —and greater Allied unity throughout Europe.

Dulles said so after a 2½-hour conference with the President yesterday, and added the pro-American Adenauer government's triumph was a source of satisfaction to both of them.

* * *

And Dulles told newsmen at the summer White House that Eisenhower had voiced no displeasure —"none whatsoever"—over Dulles' pre-election endorsement of Adenauer last week.

Nor did the Chief Executive drop any hint of displeasure over Dulles' remarks about Trieste, India or Japan, the secretary added.

Dulles' statements last Wednesday and Thursday regarding all of these matters kicked up a storm of protest abroad and prompted a published report that the President summoned Dulles to Denver because the secretary had caused him grave concern.

* * *

But Dulles said Eisenhower "saw nothing out of the way" about the controversial statements.

For that matter, Dulles went on, the President said that in the case of the secretary's pre-election endorsement of Adenauer, "The answer was in the results, which were far more than we had dared to expect."

* * *

The long Labor Day conference at Lowry Air Force Base dealt with a wide range of foreign policy matters.

Dulles said he and the President discussed Korea and plans for the proposed political conference, "which we hope will bring about unification of Korea."

As for the prisoner of war exchange, the secretary said in response to a question that he was "not aware of any evidence" that the Reds are withholding any American prisoners.

* * *

On the explosive Trieste dispute, he said the ambassadors of the United States, Great Britain and France in both Italy and Yugoslavia are "using their good offices to allay a crisis."

Dulles reported that his conference with the President also covered Indochina, Iran, the U. N., plans for Washington talks starting tomorrow among the foreign ministers of the United States, Australia and New Zealand, and forthcoming U. S. diplomatic appointments.

Dulles flew back to Washington after the conference and the President played a round of golf at Cherry Hills Country Club.

Police Find Neighbor Is Burglary Suspect

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Police for four months have been seeking a man suspected of committing a series of burglaries.

Yesterday they arrested a man crouched in the attic of a cafe and said he had chopped a hole in the roof to gain entry. Detectives identified him as Robert Elmer Nicholson, 22, and said he admitted the burglaries.

The whole four months, they learned, he had been living across the street from police headquarters.

Released Fliers Report Torture

Give False Confession on Germ Warfare to Save Lives

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

INCHON, Korea (AP)—A greying Marine colonel and a young Air Force lieutenant said today there was only one way out of "confessing" germ warfare charges — death.

"I could either die from their mental treatment or serve my country better by giving the Communists the fantastic information they wanted," said Col. Frank H. Schwable, who was freed only yesterday from a Red war prisoner camp in North Korea.

* * *

"The Chinese gave me a choice of life or death . . . They put words in my mouth and I said them," said Lt. Floyd B. O'Neal of Fairfax, S. C.

Other fliers returned on the final day of exchange said the Reds got the "confessions" they wanted with torture ranging from mental cruelty to letting maggots crawl inside a wounded man's ear.

Schwable and O'Neal met newsmen after a day's rest—and described how the Reds relentlessly ground away at their resistance with threats, physical torture and unceasing questioning.

* * *

Asked if the charges were true, the 45-year-old Schwable answered:

"It is fantastic that anybody could believe that sort of thing could be used. It is utterly fantastic.

"They have enough fleas, flies and mosquitoes in North Korea without our adding to it."

Schwable was captured in July 1952 when he and his co-pilot, Maj. Roy H. Bley of Cabool, Mo., were shot down over North Korea.

On Feb. 22, 1953, the Red Peiping radio broadcast a long "confession" saying Schwable took part in germ warfare under direction of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. The broadcast said he was aiding in plans to establish a "contamination belt" across Red Korea.

* * *

How did the Reds do it?

"Simply slow mental torture over a long time."

They put him in solitary in a tiny lean-to.

"They made me sit there and sleep there on a small table without moving, without exercise.

"After a while it gets a man down. Every day an interpreter came in and asked me to confess. When I refused . . . he would just turn around and leave me.

"They hammered away this way through September . . . in October, when it got a bit cooler . . . and then in November when it got cold

* * *

"They gave me padded clothing —it's good—but sitting in one position slowly freezes a man. I suffered frost bite on my fingers and then I started thinking about the cold and how they would leave me here to die from exposure."

Weeks went by, the Red pressure never ceasing. He said he knew the Reds would not kill him because they figured the weather would do it and they could say he died from the cold.

Schwable said it was then he made up his mind to sign a confession, "a damn good plan, so downright ridiculous that I don't know how they ever swallowed it.

* * *

"I made it sound realistic by naming dates and places, the plan would have to have some realism, but sense would tell whoever heard it that it was all so ridiculous . . .

"I hope to God I did make it ridiculous. I pray to God I did."

Schwable said he rewrote his confession several times before the Communists would accept it and before they made him record it for Peiping radio.

* * *

The story told by the 25-year-old O'Neal was just as brutal.

O'Neal related that after three months of incessant interrogation he was told to sign the purported confessions within 48 hours on threat of death. He said one of the Chinese soldiers present pointed a bayonet at him.

* * *

Col. Walker M. Manhurin of Fort Wayne, Ind., an Air Force hero of two wars, declared

"I would say that the boys who did not write 'confessions' should get the Medal of Honor.

"It depends on the individual how long he can fight the problem."

Some 60,000,000 people have learned to read in their own languages during the past 20 years through the efforts of Dr. Frank C. Laubach, missionary educator.

Home Really Broken in This Divorce Case

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A judge and two attorneys turned architects when a divorce suit came up in court.

Pending a decision, Superior Court Judge Orlando H. Rhodes and the attorneys for the couple decided to split the home in half, as both the husband and wife wished to live there.

The husband was allotted one side of the swimming pool, his wife the other. She got six rooms, and he was allowed the use of the others. He could use the kitchen only while his wife was away from home.

Adenauer's Landslide

For several reasons Chancellor ADENAUER'S sweeping victory in the West German election wrote current history of great importance.

It was a personal triumph for the 77-year-old pro-Western leader of the Christian Democrat-Free Democrat-German Party coalition.

It was a crushing repudiation of the neutralism between East and West advocated by ERICH OLLENHAUER, leader of the chief opposition Socialist Party. At the same time Moscow suffered a humiliating defeat of its desperation program aimed at preventing West German rearmament and wrecking the Western Alliance.

★ ★ ★

Sunday's election was a disaster for the West German Communist Party which lost all of its 15 seats in the Bundestag. The voting also ended fears of a political resurgence by Nazis and the hopes of several splinter parties among the 17 which had candidates on the ballots.

The big surprise of the election was the landslide scope of the coalition's victory. Many observers had expected ADENAUER to retain power, but with a reduced number of seats.

Instead, the Christian Democrats won 244 of the 487 seats in the lower house. This is a one seat majority. With the 48 seats won by the Free Democrats and the 15 by the German Party, the coalition will have a total of 307 seats, or a working majority of 64.

The probability that the tiny Center Party and the Refugee Association which won three and 27 seats respectively, will vote with the coalition, is important. It means that ADENAUER will have the two-thirds majority needed to change the constitution in case the Supreme Court rules German rearmament illegal.

★ ★ ★

Besides being a boon for the free world and the cause of collective security, the ADENAUER victory was heartening proof of the strength of West Germany's democracy. Eighty per cent of the 33,000,000 eligible voters went to the polls to reject not only neutralism, but the extremism of both the Communist left and the Nazi right.

Loss to Education

Dr. LEE M. THURSTON was one of those rare persons able to accomplish much while avoiding the limelight.

It was typical of him to turn down the security of the post of Dean of Michigan State's new College of Education to become U. S. Commissioner of Education.

Typical, too, were the energy and enthusiasm with which he plunged into the work of the Federal office. His first success there resulted in restoration of all but $26,000 of a $426,000 Congressional cut in his department's appropriation.

★ ★ ★

Michigan will remember him best for his distinguished service first as Deputy Superintendent and later as State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Having devoted most of his adult life to his profession and having both great ability and a fine academic background, he was in the fullest sense an educator's educator.

★ ★ ★

While State Superintendent he advocated and effected school consolidations, expansions of junior colleges and a general program of bringing the educational system closer to the people. Much to the annoyance of some politicians, he shared with his predecessor, Dr. EUGENE B. ELLIOTT, the belief that the Office of State Superintendent should be removed from politics.

His death at 58 after a short illness, is a heavy loss to education at all levels —local, State and national.

Nixon's Courageous Words

During its St. Louis convention the American Legion heard much that needed to be said, including Vice President NIXON'S remarks on the Korean War.

The Nation's second highest elected official displayed both political courage and intellectual honesty in telling the delegates President TRUMAN was right in taking us into the war.

He could have gone no further than the Republican platform of last year. He might have ignored the heavy burden assumed by the former President in charting our course in this highly controversial military action. Instead he rightly chose to give credit where credit is due.

"Let's recognize right now," he told the delegates, "that the decision to go into Korea was right. It was right because the Communists had to be stopped . . . On this issue President TRUMAN was right and he deserves credit for making that decision."

★ ★ ★

At the outset there was strong support for Mr. TRUMAN'S history making decision. Much of the controversy which has developed arose out of dissatisfaction with the manner in which his administration conducted the war.

In his St. Louis address the Vice President has helped show the world that despite partisan political disagreements ours is a united Nation in the field of foreign policy.

The Man About Town

$300 in U. S. Bonds

That's Prize Offered in 1953 Football Contest

Daffynition

Subtlety: The art of saying what you want to say and then getting out of range before it is understood.

The 1953 Man About Town footbal. contest gets under way today. The prize is $300 in U. S. Savings Bonds. A few minutes' time may win it for you.

You don't have to be an expert—not even a football fan. All you need is a pencil and piece of paper. It costs nothing to enter, and every member of your family is eligible, but all entries must be on separate pieces of paper.

It is not necessary to buy anything, clip a coupon, hunt for a missing word, write an essay or tell any of your family secrets.

You simply predict which team you think will win each of the 11 football games listed below or, if you think any of them will end in a tie, you may so designate:

Sept. 19—Texas A. & M. vs. Kentucky.
Sept. 26—Notre Dame vs. Oklahoma.
Oct. 2—Fordh m vs. Detroit.
Oct. 9—Pontiac High vs. Flint Central.
Oct. 17—Minnesota vs. Illinois.
Oct. 25—Detroit Lions vs. Forty-niners.
Oct. 31—Pennsylvania vs. Michigan.
Nov. 7—Michigan State vs. Ohio State.
Nov. 14—Colorado vs. Nebraska.
Nov. 21—U. C. L. A. vs. Southern California.
Nov. 28—Army vs. Navy.

You will note that the games selected include nine college or university contests, one professional and one high school tilt.

This is a straight elimination contest, and all entrants agree to abide by these rules, and the decision of the judges will be final.

Before the first game all entries will be divided into three piles; those who pick Texas to win, those who picked Kentucky, and those who forecast a tie game.

After the first game the pile representing the correct choice will be divided in accordance with the selections made for the second game. The others are eliminated.

This process continues until only the final winners are left. You are in the contest only as long as you forecast correctly.

Everyone is eligible to compete except employes of the Pontiac Daily Press or members of their families. Only one entry is allowed from each person.

All entries must be in the Pontiac Press office by Saturday noon, Sept. 19. Be sure that your entry is received by that time. In previous years many entries have been disqualified because they did not arrive before the closing hour.

The contest is open to both sexes and to all ages. In past years the ladies have been quite consistent winners. Last year the $300 was won by a child.

In case of a tie, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. Your opportunity to qualify for $300 in the best investment in the world is as good as that of anybody else. It is all up to you. Do you want $300?

Address your entry to Football Contest, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich., and send or bring it to this office so it will arrive before noon on Saturday, Sept. 19. The best time to do it is NOW.

C. L. Carter Declares It Is Up to Those Who Believe to Take Stand Against Sin

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature).

Leona Gould had a good thought but seemed to be just a bit mixed up.

If Christians don't take a stand against evil, who will know just who is who?

I don't think one should just be hard or mistreat another. Just be nice but let them know just where you stand.

Love is grand, but light and darkness don't mix. We can have friendship with the others, but not fellowship. The love of God draws a line at sin, and false religion also.

"And what do you do for a living?"

German Election Swing Is Big News, Showing U. S. Prestige High, Not Low

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Any news that shows the way to peace in the world is big news and good news—and that's why the election in Germany has a significance far beyond the borders of that country.

For by an overwhelming majority the people of Western Germany have voted to take their place on the side of the democracies as a bulwark of opposition to Communist imperialism—checking it at the very threshold of its threatened advance into Western Europe.

The prestige of the United States which some gullible American tourists returning from abroad have assumed was at a low ebb is actually running at the highest tide since the close of World War II.

For plainly the German people have chosen to support the American proposal for a European Defense Army as against the "neutralists" who wanted to let Germany operate as a fluctuating and unreliable influence first on one side and then on the other.

In many respects the result of Sunday's German election is the most important event since the last war. It shows that a people which bore the burden of a disastrous war bears no enmity toward the nations which sent conquering armies into and bomber planes over their land.

It shows that the policy of openhanded friendship — which has been the consistent effort of the United States under both the Truman and the Eisenhower administrations — toward the German people has yielded its greatest moral triumph.

The German election could be a spectacular lesson to the people of Soviet Russia and to the peoples of the satellite countries.

American leadership has been firmly insistent that only by joining together former foes and friends in a community for self-protection can economic and political and military unity be achived.

Moscow thought that by its threats it could dissuade the people of Western Germany to take no sides.

* * *

The Soviets must be devoid of a sense of humor for in their offical newspaper "Pravda," they complain that the election in Germany wasn't "free" but was carried on under conditions of "crude pressure." One wonders since when the Soviets have become experts in free elections.

* * *

The result of the voting in Germany reveals that both the party of the former Nazis and the Communist Party were wiped out by failing to poll the minimum vote needed for party recognition.

This will surely have a profound effect on Soviet diplomacy. For Moscow cannot commit itself now to a disunited Germany by threatening to build up East Germany's government. That could make a deep-seated issue among the 18,000,000 Germans living in that area.

Moscow, on the other hand, cannot call now for an election under a phony "all-German" government with any confidence that a government of Communist stripe will emerge.

The Soviet regime has been dealt a serious blow and the encouragement which the election will give to rebellious elements in the satellite countries will be immeasurably great.

Chancellor Adenauer emerges, moreover, as one of the greatest statesmen of the postwar period. This correspondent, who interviewed him in Bonn in May of last year, found him just as meticulous in his expressions of regard for President Truman and Secretary Acheson as he was for the leaders of the Republican Party.

The German chancellor showed in every way his fidelity to the cause of Democratic government and to the importance of aligning his government and his people with their friends in the United States.

In government circles, in business circles, even among Socialists privately, the importance of getting closer to America was always emphasized.

Chancellor Adenauer will offer the olive branch of peace to the Soviet people but at the same time will urge the rearmament of his country in conformity with the European Defense Treaty which will doubtless be ratified soon.

His election victory will challenge the governments of France and Italy to a similar manifestation of support for the European Defense Agreement.

Germany has done her part toward European unity in a spectacular demonstration of popular approval. What will France do now?

So long as there is a democratic republic in Germany there can be no danger for France inasmuch as the composition of the European Defense Army would make impossible a rebirth of Naxi militarism.

The election victory in Germany was a triumph for the cause of freedom in the world. Americans, irrespective of party, can rejoice that American leadership in the world has been dramatically demonstrated to be in the ascendancy.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Dr. Crane Says Everyone Relishes Sincere Praise

Kay wants to win friends. And there is a surefire method for doing so. It applies just as well to 10-year-olds as to their parent generation. And it is speedy, too, so be sure you follow the advice below. Then get your Sunday school class or Scout Troop or schoolroom to join in this thrilling experiment, too.

BY. DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case H-380: Kay B., aged 10, is a delight to any teacher, for we people who are hungry for information.

"Dr. Crane, I am ten years old, Kay began, "and I am in the fift' grade.

"I have no difficulty with my school work but I don't seem to get along with the children.

"I want to be liked by everybody. Will you please help me? Do you have a booklet for a girl my age on how to make friends?"

Yes, Kay, and you are to be praised for so clearly stating your problem and for your desire to get a remedy.

Whether a person is 10 or 20 or 50 years old, the same formula must be employed to win friends.

You must just make the other person happier, as a result of being with you, than he would have been if you hadn't been present.

And how can you do this?

Well, become a social detective. Look for good points in your classmate or co-workers or employes or parishioners or patients.

Search for talents or merits. Start with surface things, such as clothing or hair-do or complexion or erect carriage or pretty teeth or a ready smile, etc.

Or dig deeper and compliment your companions on their clear voice or neat work or good scholarship or tact and efficiency.

You can likewise compliment them indirectly by praising their children or their new furniture or their automobile or their pet dog or cat or canary. And ask them for advice.

"I want to feel important" is true of everybody. That includes President Eisenhower on down to the lowliest citizen.

For we are all born with a tremendous ego hunger. We want to be liked, as Kay so simply states it.

And compliments are the best way to make our companions feel important. People relish sincere praise.

"But isn't flattery very obvious? somebody may inquire.

We psychologists don't recommend flattery. You may notice that I don't use the word in this column except to show how flattery differs from compliments.

Compliments are honest statements of praise for virtues that are apparent and which merit commendation.

Everybody has some virtues, and we can see them if we just divorce ourselves from our prejudice or bias. Even our enemies have merits, too.

And it is perfectly right and proper to pay compliments to our enemies. Oh, we may dislike doing so, but if we force our words of praise even across our clenched teeth, they will work magic.

For somebody must break the ice and speak first in trying to resolve or change enemies into friends.

As a sheer act of will, therefore, force yourself to analyze your foe for a merit. Then praise him thereon.

He will soon begin to thaw out and regard you with more respect and liking.

For we cannot think ill of people who think well of us! And your compliment shows him you think well of him, so he will soon reciprocate your praise.

Send for the "Compliment Club" bulletin, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. It will help you become a miracle worker.

If you don't believe this is a three-dimensional democracy on wide screen amendments take the next 11 paragraphs in your stride.

Adlai Stevenson plunked himself down in Manhattan after whipping through 30 foreign nations al fresco. He was interviewed by 200 reporters all trying to make his opinions match theirs.

The day before prexola Eisenhower registered in New York for the November mayoralty election. Barney Baruch met him at the airfield with his town and country bench.

Ike proceeded quietly down the Avenue called Fifth proceeded by 99 motorcycle cops. Who had left their lead pencils home in honor of the occasion.

This is a terrific town. Even Lady Godiva would have to ride a zebra to attract attention.

Ike registered on Broome Street. He marked an "X" under the Republican eagle. We'll save him one of the eggs.

At the same time Bill O'Dwyer says he is coming back to New York and hire the Dodgers' baseball park for a speech. He knows he wouldn't have any chance against Leo Durocher in the Polo Grounds.

Bill has been in Mexico so long he wears one of those four-poster hats. Manhattan politics have changed since Bill left. We are counting the votes again.

Bill Farley is for Vince Impellitteri in the November ruckus. Tammany is split up the back like an over-ripe tomato. The last time a Republican was elected mayor of New York was the last time.

Prolonged Confinement to Chair or Bed Means Calcium Loss, Is Serious Effect

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The deleterious effects of bed rest on aged persons are well known. So says Boas (Treatment of the Patient Past Fifty) -- one of the 20 outstanding medical textbooks of the past 20 years.

The author further states that—

"Bed rest induces loss of muscle tone with wasting of the muscles. There is a remarkable loss of calcium from the skeleton; the calcium excretion may increase by as much as 400 per cent.

"The resulting "calcinuria" (probably this unique word means more than the normal amount of calcium in the urine) "may be sufficient to cause renal calculi" (kidney stones).

"Bed rest further leads to urinary retention and aggravation of prostatism" (bladder trouble from obstruction by enlarged prostate gland in men), "constipation and loss of appetite. Pulmonary congestion" (stagnation of blood in the base or lower part of lungs) "and bronchopneumonia are common."

As numerous physicians have observed, the loss of calcium which attends prolonged confinement, not merely confinement to bed but confinement to chair, room or house, is just as serious in the growing child or young adult as it is in the elderly invalid.

The "remarkable loss of calcium" accounts for the brittle state of the bones of one who takes little or no exercise for weeks or months.

You folks are not to blame—you got a bum steer in school when the physiology textbook solemnly stated that "the proportion of animal matter to mineral matter is half and half in youth, while in old age the mineral is greatly in excess."

The truth is that there is a steady loss of mineral (calcium phosphate) from bones and teeth with advancing age.

A good many doctors, especially doctors who sound off from time to time about the danger of "deposits" of calcium in arteries, joints etc., if you follow a high calcium diet or supplement your ordinary calcium-poor diet with calcium and vitamin D, still share this nineteenth century misconception.

Probably this explains why the doctors so commonly fail to combat the decalcification process which inevitably attends prolonged disability.

Likewise, perhaps in lesser degree, decalcification occurs when a man or woman retires from active work to inactive or too sedentary life.

The greater liability of such a person to sustain a fracture from comparatively slight injury is but one of the many manifestations of calcium deficiency.

Another is the vague "rheumatis" of which so many mature adults complain. Still another is adult tetany—painful cramps in legs, sometimes in arms, occurring usually in the night time.

Read all about it in The Calcium Shortage, Little Lesson 26, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Free Booklet Reveals Why Loss Of Hearing Should Be Checked Immediately

CHICAGO (Special)—Does a hearing impairment become progressively worse? Are persistent or recurring ear noises a sign of deafness? Does lost hearing cause other complications?

These and other important questions of vital interest to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing are answered in an authoritative new illustrated booklet, "How You Can Help Yourself to Hear Better." It is now available to the hard of hearing readers of this newspaper without cost or obligation.

Colleges Expect Big Enrollment

Survey Shows Most Predict Increase or No Loss in Student Load

(By United Press)

Universities and colleges of the United States reported generally today that they expected either substantial increases or no losses in the enrollment of students this fall.

Smaller institutions, particularly, anticipated receiving students in greater numbers this month, while some of the larger ones expected no enrollment gains, and at least two predicted drops in the student body count.

Of the 32 colleges and universities checked by the United Press across the country, 17 estimated enrollment increases ranging all the way from "slight" to as high as 20 per cent—afigure estimated by the University of Miami in Florida.

Twelve reported their enrollment was shaping up "about the same as last year." Only three anticipated decreases. The latter included New York University, which with an enrollment of 42,000 last year, is the largest in the country.

NYU estimated its enrollment would drop about 10 per cent, for a total this year of 38,000. It gave as the reason the fact that almost all of the World War II veterans are now finishing up with their schooling, and, further, the fact that there has been a drop in registration for the junior and senior classes.

The other two institutions reporting expected losses in the student body were Temple University in Philadelphia, Pa., and the University of Denver, in Colorado.

Temple thought its over-all drop in enrollment, about 14,000 last year, would be about three per cent, due to the fact that last year's graduating senior class was much larger than the incoming freshman class.

The University of Denver thought its decrease would amount to about five per cent from last year's total of 6,200. It is a private institution and tuition rates recently were raised.

Among the colleges expecting substantial increases, aside from the University of Miami, was Georgia Tech, which anticipated an increase of from 5 to 8 per cent, adding to its total of last year of 3,700 students.

Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., was another, reporting that its enrollment should increase by more than 10 per cent.

Institutions estimating increases ranging from three per cent up to five per cent included the University of New Hampshire, Washington State, University of California at Los Angeles, University of Wisconsin, and the University of Tennessee.

Columbia University in New York City, with an enrollment of 25,837, reported its student body would be about the same as last year.

Little change was expected, too, by the University of Pittsburgh, Michigan State, University of California at Berkeley, University of Pennsylvania, Ohio State, and Northwestern.

The colleges and universities reported in some sections electrical and mechanical engineering, science and certain technological courses appear to be gaining in popularity with the students, perhaps due to the defense effort.

Most of the institutions reported a rise in the enrollment of young men who are veterans of the Korean conflict.

Boy's Mouth 'Washed'; Irate Druggist Accused

BALTIMORE (AP)—A druggist annoyed at three small boys asking for "3-D comic books" while he was trying to fill prescriptions, was fined $50 yesterday for forcing a swab of ammonia into the mouth of one of them.

Stephen Golander, 9, testified that the second time he and his two chums asked druggist Stanley S. Taub if he had comic books, Taub came after them with a piece of cotton and a bottle.

Taub denied touching Stephen and said he was only trying to scare the boys away.

Adenauer Gets Regime Started

Is Forming Government Dedicated to Freeing East Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—German's victorious Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today began welding a new German government dedicated to the "liberation" of East Germany and close armed alliance with the West.

The 77-year-old Christian Democrat chief opened talks with political leaders on the shape of his new administration after thanking West Germans last night for the votes that put him firmly in the saddle for another four years.

Speaking to a huge victory rally gathered in the Bonn town square, Adenauer called on his people for a mighty, united effort to release the 18 million East Germans from the "yoke of Soviet oppression and slavery."

* * *

The Chancellor's consultations on his new government were expected to be short. He is scheduled to present plans for the new lineup Thursday to a committee of his party.

The new government must be approved by the incoming Bundestag (lower house of Parliament), which is expected to meet here for the first time Oct. 2.

Some sort of coalition seemed inevitable. The big question today was how many parties would be represented.

* * *

The voting Sunday gave 48 Bundestag seats to the Free Democrats and 15 to the German party, both members of Adenauer's government bloc since 1949; 3 to the Centrist party, which said it would vote henceforth along with the Chancellor; and 27 to the new Refugee party formed by the millions of fugitives from Communist-occupied Germany.

The opposition Socialists garnered the other 150 seats.

Adenauer certainly again will include the Free Democrats in the government, giving him a safe majority of 97 votes.

* * *

He hinted to reporters last night that he might also continue his previous alliance with the German party, telling the newsmen the election had shown the peoples' faith in the old grouping and that would be borne in mind in the building of the new government.

There was also speculation Adenauer might try to bring in the Refugee faction. Its 27 deputies would give the Chancellor the two-thirds majority necessary to change the Constitution and authorize German rearmament if the West German supreme court decides the projected German participation in the European arm is unconstitutional.

Romanian Farmers Granted Big Tax Cut

LONDON (AP) — The Bucharest radio announced today Romania's Communist government has granted farmers a big tax cut, reaching 75 per cent for cooperative groups, in a drive to spur agricultural output.

While the cooperatives were the chief beneficiaries, Soviet-type collective farms and peasant associations shared in tax cuts up to 50 per cent, the announcement said.

"Direct taxation is being reduced by 50 per cent in the case of individual peasants marketing their produce," the broadcast said.

World's Fastest Plane Claimed by British

LITTLEHAMPTON, England (AP)—Britain claimed today that her new swept-wing Hawker Hunter jet is the world's fastest fighter plane.

She based the boast on RAF Squadron Leader Neville Duke's record-setting average speed of 727.6 m.p.h. in the aircraft yesterday.

Duke's record, still subject to official confirmation, topped by 11.91 m.p.h. the mark of 715.69 set in July by U.S. Air Force Lt. Col. W. F. Barns in an American Sabre.

A Slow Process, but Iron Nails Hurt Your House

CHICAGO (AP)—Iron nails can become coffin nails for a house, hastening its deterioration, the American Chemical Society was told today.

Laboratory tests indicate that wood exposed to iron and moisture breaks down faster than wood exposed to moisture, said Dr. Eduard Farber of the Timber Engineering Co., Washington, D. C. But he said homeowners shouldn't be alarmed—the deterioration from wood's contact with iron is a relatively slow process, and the action is slowed down by paints and other protective coatings.

Happily Housed Hogs Get Fat With Less Food

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — A happily housed hog costs far less to fatten than a hog in a hovel, a pig expert reported today.

D. S. Soutar, of the North of Scotland College of Agriculture, said poor housing for hogs may be costing Britain as much as four million pounds ($11,200,000) a a year in extra feeding bills. He gave the figure in a speech for the annual congress of the British Veterinary Association.

Soutar cited a recent survey in Denmark which showed it cost an average of three pounds eight shillings nine pence ($9.62) more per head to fatten hogs in shabby pig pens than it cost to fatten those which were well-housed.

See Big Future for State Ores

Methods for Extracting Iron in Cheap Deposits Helps Michigan

ANN ARBOR — Future discoveries are likely to turn up new deposits of mineral resources in Michigan, said two University of Michigan geology professors recently.

James T. Wilson, geophysicist, and James H. Zumberge, glacial geologist, participated in the program celebrating the 50th anniversary of the School of Natural Resources.

They predict that more efficient use of Michigan's wide variety of minerals will characterize the future.

* * *

Michigan was once a leading iron-ore and copper producer, but since the turn of the century it ranks only second in the nation in iron-ore production, and copper production has decreased even more.

The problem is to extract iron ore at a profit, and where 50 per cent ore is being mined now, the day may come when lower-grade ore will be used, they pointed out.

A process for liberating iron ore from low-grade taconite, a slag containing 30 to 40 per cent iron, has been devised recently. It may become used extensively enough to offer competition to the market.

* * *

Oil, Michigan's second most important mineral, comes from the lower two-thirds of the lower peninsula, and is not quite as high on the national list as it once was, says Professor Wilson. There is hope, he claims, for a good many more discoveries.

Gypsum, which is used in plaster of paris and wallboard, limestone, sand and gravel are other important Michigan mineral resources. Sand and gravel will be of increasing value, because they are highly important in the preparation of road beds.

Many complex processes and long periods of time comprise the geological history of Michigan's mineral deposits, Professor Zumberge explains. The invasion of salt water left limestone deposits in which is found oil, and the glacier's advance left Michigan rich in sand, gravel and clay.

Uranium deposits in Michigan, Professor Zumberge reports, have been found in the Keweenaw area in small strikes, although later tests have shown them as commercially unimportant. He concluded that only time can prove Michigan's richness in this mineral.

Hal Boyle Reports:

Joe Steady Says It's Fine to Go Back to Work Today

HOMETOWN, U. S. A. (AP) — Early on this morning after Labor Day, the phone rang in the home of Joe Steady, America's average working man.

"Am I speaking to the master of the house?" asked a voice.

"No," mumbled Joe sleepily. "Jussa minute an' I'll call her."

"Oh, Mr. Steady?" said the voice. "You're the one I wanted to speak to. This is Jim Beagle, reporter on the Hometown Daily Eagle. My city editor wants a feature story on how a typical working man and his family enjoyed Labor Day. You know—king for a day, and that sort of thing."

"I don't know about that king business," said Joe. "But if $65 bucks a week makes a typical working man, I'm your joker, Buster."

"Heh, heh, well, well. Would you mind telling me all the homey little details about your big day off?"

"There wasn't nothing homey about it—that's the trouble," said Joe. "We didn't stay home. I was trying to catch me some shuteye, and the missus says to get up, we're going on a picnic. I said no, and she said whose day off did I think it was, so we went on the picnic."

"Who was in the group?" pursued the voice.

"Oh, just me, her, and the kids —Junior, sis and the baby," said Joe.

"It took me three hours to tune up the carburetor on the car, and I hadda drive a hundred miles to the lake for the picnic. Hadda go to that one on account of my wife's relatives live closer to that one.

"A cop stopped me on the way and gave me a $25 ticket for speeding. He said I was hitting 45 miles instead of 35, when as a matter of fact my old bus wouldn't do 45 on a downgrade unless I got out and pushed it. Hey, can you help me fix the ticket?"

"Sorry," said the voice. "What else happened?"

"Well," said Joe, "one of my brothers-in-law borrowed ten bucks from me. Later they got me to umpire a softball game, and the only close one I called at the plate got me a pop bottle in the eye, and off the record I think it was my other brother-in-law that threw it, on account of I wouldn't lend him a dime."

* * *

"Nothing else sir?"

"Well, I came back and brushed the ants off the food, and I guess I kinda over-et, so I stretched out to grab me some shuteye, and all of a sudden Sis started crying because she lost one of her jacks.

"Then my missus hollers the baby must've swallowed it on account of she was playing in the grass with sis, and we gotta do something quick."

"So?"

"So, I step on the gas on the way to the hospital and who should I meet but the same cop, but he let me go this time. So we get to the hospital and they floor-scope the baby."

"Had the baby swallowed the missing jack?"

"No, Sis found it in her pocket later. "The doc said all the floor-scope showed in the baby was what looked like the remains if a couple of grasshoppers and something else that looked like a small garter snake, but of course he couldn't be real sure."

"Was the baby upset, sir?"

"No, but my wife was. Still is. Kept yelping about it all the way home. We got home about midnight, and all three of the kids was crying, and I finally told the missus to Oh, shut up, and she said who's telling whom to shut up, and so we finally got to sleep about 3 a.m.

"I was just getting ready to shave when you called, Mr. Seegle."

"Beagle, sir, not Seegle. Well, you had quite an adventure. One final question. Every working man naturally likes to count his blessings on Labor Day. What, sir, would you say is the greatest blessing?"

"Ain't no doubt about it, Mr. Fleegle," said Joe. "It's the fact you can go back to work the next day and get some rest."

Trucking Firm Plans to Show 'Oxen' Days

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An ox team may make a one-day comeback on St. Louis streets.

Austin C. Knetzger, manager of the St. Louis Team and Truck Haulers Assn., think it would be interesting for present day St. Louisans to see what was used before trains and trucks took over the job of hauling merchandise.

He plans the appearance for a national conference of cartage firms Sept. 23.

But he has one problem — he hasn't been able to find a pair of oxen or a cart.

Washington Farms Offered War Veterans

EPHRATA, Wash. (UP) — The Bureau of Reclamation is offering for sale to veterans 108 Columbia Basin farms, the largest single number of family-size units yet offered in a single land sale on the huge central Washington project.

The farms, varying in size from 38 to 107 acres, are among 680 units totaling 52,295 acres which will receive irrigation water furnished by Grand Coulee Dam beginning next year.

Some 200 farms had been sold on the project prior to this sale. Ultimately, 1,029,000 acres will be irrigated in the basin and 14,000 irrigated farms will be created.

4 New Records Set at Air Show

Jets, Helicopter Smash Old Marks as Crowds of 200,000 Watch

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Record setters of the three-day National Aircraft Show which ended here yesterday expect their glory to be shortlived.

Most of them feel it will be no more than a year before planes now in the experimental stage shatter the new marks, just as old ones fell in quantity here over the holiday weekend, before crowds totaling 200,000.

* * *

Four new world records came out of the closing day's program. But they resulted from pre-show runs which were not announced until yesterday. Cool, cloudy weather ruled out any chance of bettering the pre-show marks before a final day crowd of about 50,000.

Helicopter speed and altitude records disclosed yesterday were set earlier by Air Force Capt. Rullell M. Dobyns of Norfolk, Va. Because of unfavorable weather he did not even try yesterday to beat his altitude record of 22,289 feet set last Wednesday or the helicopter speed mark of 146.735 m.p.h. he made Friday for a 1½ - mile straightaway. Both world record performances were in a Piasecki YH21 "Workhorse."

* * *

The Thompson Trophy Race, once the multi-entry thriller of the national air races, was a solo flight by Brig. Gen. J. Stanley Holtoner, 42-year-old commander of Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The 681.576 m.p.h. he flew yesterday in a North American F86D Sabre jet stands as a jet record for the race.

But last Wednesday Gen. Holtoner in a Sabre jet and in better weather zipped around the 100-kilometer (62-mile) closed course in 690.118 m.p.h. That shattered a world mark Jacqueline Cochran set for the 100-kilometer closed course last June 3 in a Canadian-built F86E.

"I expect this record won't stand too long," Holtoner said. "We've got experimental planes which could break it tomorrow. I was flying a standard production model."

* * *

Capt. Harold E. Collins of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., also flying an F86D, made low altitude upwind and downwind straightaway passes of about 15 kilometers (about 8 miles) before yesterday's crowd, but the rough weather kept him well under a world's record he made here a week ago: 707.889 m. p. h. The old record of 675.47 m.p.h. was set by Miss Cochran last June 3.

Collins said he believed his time yesterday was a little over 700 m.p.h. He, too, flew a standard ship but said the outside of it had been waxed. He does not believe his record will last beyond next summer before "some new type of plane" excels it.

FROM HORSEPOWER TO HOBBY HORSE—Peter Chrouser, 19-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chrouser of Stratford, Wis. sits astride a play horse that keeps him in the backyard. He has decided to wait awhile before trying the highways again. In a neighbor's car borrowed for a recent junket he ripped through a baseball field, slid past home plate and plopped into a five foot deep stream. His mother pulled him out unharmed. But the car did not fare so well.

Bolivian President Holds 300 Political Prisoners

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—President Victor Paz Estenssoro's government disclosed today that it is holding some 300 political prisoners accused of plotting against the regime.

But Interior Minister Federico Fortun told a news conference the government isn't worried. He said the alleged plotters were "only a small group who offered no threat to the government and are dangerous only to themselves." Paz Estenssoro, he added, has no fear of being overthrown.

5 Hurt in Accident on U.S. 10 Near M-15

Five persons were treated at Pontiac General Hospital Sunday for injuries received when two cars collided on U. S.-10 south of M-15, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

A car driven by John R. Brewer, 46, of 14226 Kilbourne, Detroit, swerved across the center line, deputies said, to avoid hitting a car stopped in front of him, and smashed into another driven by Clarence Clohset, 38, of 600 Pierce, Birmingham.

Clohset is reported in good condition, suffering from a fractured knee-cap. His wife Virginia, 38, and daughter Kaye, 10, were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

Brewer also suffered cuts, the hospital reported. His wife, Elsie, 45, is reported in good condition with a fractured pelvis.

Fire Destroys Lumber Company of Jesse Jones

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The business through which former Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones began his climb to wealth has been destroyed by fire.

The half - century - old Farrar Lumber Co., founded in 1902 by Jones, as the South Texas Lumber Co., burned yesterday with an estimated loss of between $350,000 and $400,000.

No Backfire, but Dulles Will Be More Careful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles' open pre-election support of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer did not backfire, but that apparently does not mean the United States will adopt similar strategy in critical future elections.

Informed diplomats said today Dulles, although jubilant over Adenauer's smashing victory, may nevertheless weigh his words more carefully when asked to comment on future foreign elections of interest to the United States.

* * *

The secretary, they said, fully realizes that anything smacking of American intervention in elections is a risky business.

Accordingly, they said, the secretary would be guided by specific developments in the future when deciding whether to make a vigorous declaration favoring any particular candidates or parties.

In the past, American policy has been to avoid studiously any acts or statements which might be interpreted as intervention in foreign elections.

Officials did not rule out the possibility that Dulles might again someday speak out forthrightly.

* * *

Last Thursday, two days before German voters went to the polls, Dulles told a news conference defeat of Adenauer would be a disaster which would indefinitely delay chances of German unity and restored sovereignty for the German people.

The landslide proportions of Adenauer's victory have convinced American observers that the secretary's remarks cost the German leader no votes and possibly helped him.

53-Year-Old Sturgeon Attended 28 State Fairs

DES MOINES (AP)—Old Oscar is dead, but he'll be mounted for posterity.

Oscar was a 53-year-old black sturgeon who had been exhibited at every Iowa State Fair since 1925. He died yesterday, "apparently of old age," the Iowa Conservation Commission said.

Stevens Willing to Aid McCarthy

But Army Secretary Won't Disclose Secrets Demanded by Prober

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) may learn today whether the Army will turn over to him the names of persons who gave loyalty clearances to government workers the senator has labeled as tainted with communism.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, just returned from a Western vacation and a chat yesterday with President Eisenhower, said he planned to telephone McCarthy today and arrange for a conference.

McCarthy, who could not be reached for comment, had said earlier he wanted Stevens to testify today at a closed session of the Senate investigations subcommittee he heads.

* * *

The secretary told newsmen at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Denver that he wants "to cooperate to the limit which I can with the committee," and would testify if McCarthy wanted him to.

At the same time, Stevens said he would follow the terms of an executive order issued by former President Truman in March 1948 which forbids disclosure of any secret government loyalty information. The secretary said he had not discussed the case with Eisenhower.

* * *

McCarthy says his subcommittee, at four days of closed hearings in New York last week, turned up evidence that three persons working for the Army are disloyal. He did not name them, but said one woman who had access to data on Army troop movements was a "100 per cent Communist."

McCarthy demanded the names of those responsible for giving loyalty clearances to these persons. Army personnel in New York refused to supply the names, citing the secrecy directive, and McCarthy then said he intended to get them if he had to appeal to Secretary of Defense Wilson or the President.

Black Receives Nod to Head World Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eugene R. Black, a former official of the Chase National Bank in New York, has been re-elected president of the 54-nation World Bank. His second five-year term will start next July 1.

Black's re-election, announced last night, implied an endorsement of him by the Eisenhower administration. The bank conducts extensive fund-raising operations in this country, and its president almost necessarily must be an American acceptable to the administration.

The boards of governors of the bank and the International Monetary Fund will open their annual meetings here tomorrow.

When Quints Were Babies

19 Years Ago Their Birth Captured World's Heart

Nineteen years ago their birth—and survival—caught the world by its heartstrings. Now the Dionne quintuplets, still the most famous five sisters of our time, have come to a new milestone. Two of them are taking their first steps to a world apart from their own little group—Marie to a convent, Yvonne to art studies.

And suddenly the world remembers way back when the quints were babies. Here you see a flashback into history as memorable as anybody's family album in a series of historical pictures from the exclusive files of NEA Service.

The now-celebrated quints were born to an humble French-Canadian farm couple near Callander, Ont., on May 28, 1934. Two months later the first official family get-together produced the photo at left—Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, the parents, and Oliver Dionne, proud and somewhat awed grandfather. If you count noses under the blankets, you'll find (left to right) Marie, Emilie, Cecile, Annette and Yvonne.

Sharing the limelight with the quints was patient, kindly Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe (center), whose stethoscope must have seemed mighty cold to little Yvonne in the ramshackle farmhouse (top right) where Dr. Dafoe brought the quints through their first precarious days. Now home for the quints — and the whole Dionne family of 15—is the big house at lower right.

Confessed Killer of 5 on Trial in New York

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP) — Fred Eugene McManus, the 18-year-old Marine who confessed killing five persons on a cross-country crime spree with a teen-aged girl friend, went on trial today on a charge of first degree murder.

Conviction on a first degree murder charge carries a mandatory sentence in New York state of death in the electric chair.

He has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. A state mental hospital found him sane.

The specific charge in state supreme court today was the pistol killing of William Allen Braverman, 19-year-old Hobart College freshman who picked McManus up as a hitchhiker March 27.

McManus told authorities he killed Braverman for the bright red convertible, so he could take his girl west and get married.

Four days and 1,200 miles later, the young couple, still unmarried, was picked up in Dubuque, La. with Braverman's car. According to McManus' confession, four holdups and five slayings netted him less than $60 in cash.

Pontiff Praises Genetics Study; Issues Warning

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius has praised the contribution of genetics to modern life, but has warned scientists to distingusih between its applications to the vegetable-animal world and to man.

The Pontiff spoke yesterday to delegates from a dozen countries who came to Rome for an international symposum on genetics. His address — given in French — was released today by the Vatican press office. Genetis is a biological study dealing with plant and animal breeding, particularly with an aim to improving breeds.

"Genetics," said the Pope, "do not have a theoretical importance, but also an eminently practical one. It aims at contributing to the well-being of individuals, the community and the common good."

"But," he warned, "there are certain genetical and eugenical measures that good moral sense and, above all, Christian morality must reject both in principle and practice."

These, the Pope said, included racialism—strongly advocated by Adolf Hitler in his heyday — and and eugenical sterilization.

Eugenical sterilization is the sterilization of people considered of inferior breed or race.

The Pontiff recalled that both he and his predecessor, Pope Pius XI, had in the past declared not only eugenical sterilization, but "all forms of direct sterilization of an innocent person is contrary to the natural law."

Multiply Police Jobs by Auxiliary Force

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Childhood ambitions to become a cop can now be realized by all able-bodied men in Kentucky.

The Kentucky State Police is organizing an auxiliary force. Volunteers will serve without pay. They will be concerned only with attack on the United States. They would help state troopers control highway traffic and assist injured and homeless persons.

Training similar to that given regular police will be given to the volunteers.

'Fireblight' Control Seen in Use of 'Wonder' Drugs

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Control over "fireblight" — one of the worst bacterial plagues of apples and pears—appears within reach for the first time, a group of scientists reported yesterday.

They said the "wonder drugs" streptomycin and terramycin showed evidence of being the long-sought weapons against this malady "which can make an apple or pear orchard look as though it had been scorched by fire."

* * *

The scientists declared the disease has struck heavily at one time or another in all sections of the country where apples are grown. And one of them said, "Fireblight has more or less forced the pear out of existence in the central part of the United States."

Dr. Robert N. Goodman of the University of Missouri and Prof. H. C. Young and Associate Prof. H. F. Winter of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station made the statements at a news conference during the annual meeting of the American Institute of Biological Sciences (AIBS) convention at the University of Wisconsin.

* * *

Goodman had just reported to the AIBS that a combination of the two wonder drugs in a spray had completely protected all of some 60 Jonathan apple trees in a test he conducted.

The Ohio scientists said that in recent tests of their own, streptomycin alone protected up to 80 per cent. And these results, they said, compare with an effectiveness of only 56 per cent for the best chemical treatment previously available against fireblight.

* * *

All three researchers said the wonder drug treatment is at present "fairly expensive." But a representative of the drug manufacturing firm, Charles Pfizer & Co., which supplied the drugs for their tests, told reporters his company was working on the cost matter and eventually" it appears we'll be able to market a product of combined streptomycin and terramycin that will be economically feasible for such a use."

The three scientists said the success of the tests against fireblight suggested streptomycin and terramycin, or other drugs of the antibiotic class, might eventually lead to control of other still-stubborn bacterial diseases of various crops and fruits.

Atomic Power Needs a Ford

Private Enterprise Seen as Force Necessary for Useful Development

CHICAGO (AP)—Nobel Prize winner Harold C. Urey today urged giving some atomic Henry Ford a chance to create useful atomic power for Americans.

He said atomic power will come sooner if free private enterprise is set loose to work upon it. And he said if that happens he'd probably invest in a small company, betting on it to help speed along the atomic age much like Ford and others did to create the automobile age.

* * *

Dr. Urey, professor of chemistry at the Institute of Nuclear Studies in Chicago, worked on the atomic project during the war.

He told the American Chemical Society that he favors changing the Atomic Energy Act to "remove the government monopoly." He said industry and inventors should be allowed to patent their own atomic inventions or developments, and the government should sell uranium or other atomic fuels as reasonable cost.

"Atomic energy does me no good at all (as a private citizen) until I can press a button on the side of the wall and secure electric light at a price that is competitive with other sources of energy."

Dr. Urey declared we must think of a new industry "instead of always thinking of attaching the atomic energy program onto the tail of another industry."

"The automobile was not developed by the railroads or by the big electrical companies. It was developed by new, small industries which have now grown to gigantic size.

* * *

"If we had a government commission back in 1900 or thereabouts considering the development of the automobile industry, they would of course have tried to get the railroads to help them with this problem, and no one would have looked up Henry Ford or Walter Chrysler and a few people of this kind. And it is exactly the people of the kind of Henry Ford and Walter Chrysler and others that must be induced to help to develop this problem."

Patents are an important way of helping them, he said.

Ex-Area Physician Dies in Charlevoix

ROYAL OAK — Dr. Donald A. Cameron, 64, a retired Royal Oak physician, died yesterday at a Charlevoix hospital where he had been a patient for a short time.

Dr. Cameron, a native of Traverse City, was a graduate of the University of Michigan and the old Detroit Medical School. He had practiced in Royal Oak for 38 years prior to his retirement in 1946.

Funeral service will be held at Pontius Chapel in Charlevoix, Wednesday, with burial in Brookside Cemetery.

True Americans Really All Right, Thinks Visitor

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — A Moslem Indian from South Africa told a Moral Rearmament Assembly (MRA) meeting yesterday that in his country, "thanks to the movies, we have a misconception that everything in America is glamour, loose living, and gangsters."

Ahmed Essa, studying at Ohio University, said, "But here at Mackinac I have met Americans who look at their country with a clarity that will help it become a great nation."

"To you Americans I apologize," he added.

"I am going to take a story back to my nation of women who are glamorous, not with make-up but with a clear conscience and a clean heart," Essa said.

"Where man's most dramatic moments are not in battle with the gun and spear, but in that moment when they face personal change before God and ask forgiveness," he said.

Essa was among overseas students attending the MRA conference which closed today.

$70 Stolen in Breakin at Auburn Road Market

About $70 in cash was taken from the Brooklyn Market, 1744 Auburn Rd., Avon Township, yesterday after thieves entered by breaking open the back door, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Owner Robert Vandenberg told deputies the breakin must have occurred between midnight and 1 a.m. He said $60 in quarters and some bills were taken.

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Mrs. Sophie Uliczny, 65, of 3065 Andre, died today in Pontiac General Hospital after a brief illness.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. H. Barnett of Keego Harbor; a son, Edward, of Chicago, Ill.; and a brother, Peter Cinciak of Indiana.

The body will be taken to a Chicago funeral home for service. Arrangements are by C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home.

Sherman Lee Cary

ORTONVILLE — Prayer service for Sherman Lee Cary, 58, of 5765 Hadley Rd., will be tonight at 8 o'clock from C. F. Sherman Funeral Home. Thursday, the body will be taken to Diton Funeral Home, Central Lake, for service and burial.

Mr. Cary died yesterday from injuries sustained in an auto accident Saturday.

Born in Central Lake, he was a member of Clinton Chapter 75, F & AM and a veteran of World War I. He was a Michigan Conservation Department employe in this area for 27 years.

Surviving besides his widow, Mable, are two daughters, Dora and Ruth of Detroit; two brothers, Clarence of Central Lake and Harold of Detroit; and four sisters, Mrs. Edith Barnett of East Jordan, Mrs. Ethel Lamin of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Lillian Aneis and Mrs. Gladys Samlin of Central Lake.

Many Pay Respects to Dr. Lee Thurston

LANSING (UP) — State political figures and leading Michigan educators joined Monday to pay final respects to Dr. Lee M. Thurston, U. S. commissioner of education who died following a heart attack last week in Washington.

More than 300 persons jammed a mortuary chapel to hear Dr. William G. Kuhen, pastor of the Lansing First Presbyterian Church, preach the funeral sermon.

Burial will take place today at Central Lake, boyhood home of Dr. Thurston.

Dr. Thurston accepted President Eisenhower's appointment as U.S. commissioner of education in June, abandoning his earlier plans to become dean of the school of education at Michigan State College. He previously served as state superintendent of public instruction after a long career as school teacher and administrator.

Two More State GIs Freed on Last Day

(By United Press)

Two more of the Michigan men freed from North Korean prison camps during the closing days of "Operation Big Switch" were en route to their home state today.

Sgt. Bobby J. McCorkle, Detroit, was among the 21 former American POWs who arrived at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., on a flight from Honolulu, T. H.

Sgt. John Adams, Ypsilanti, was among 19 repatriates aboard a military transport which left Tokyo Monday night.

All told, 146 Michigan men were released in the prisoner exchange at Freedom Village. First Lt. Herbert E. Marlatt of Detroit was the only Michigan man among the Americans freed during Saturday night's final exchange.

Waterfront Group Plans New Bureau

MANTOLOKING, N. J. (INS)—The chiefs of the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission announced today that they will create a new bureau of investigation to help smash racketeer control of the Port of New York.

Lt. Gen. George P. Hays, New York representative, and his Jersey counterpart, Maj. Gen. Edward C. Rose, told newsmen that no one had been chosen to head the proposed bureau of investigation, although "several names" were discussed.

The two worked over the weekend at Rose's Mantoloking, N. J., home mapping the basic framework of the new agency.

Rose said that he and Hays were "pretty much in accord, with no major differences." Further talks will be held later this week.

Police Relieved as Box Loses 'Beware' Sign

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Kalamazoo Police took down "Beware" signs and breathed easier today.

They discovered a box full of mysterious liquid-filled vials and percussion caps was harmless.

Vernon Thompson was cleaning out his barn yesterday when he discovered the box. He called police and told them he had found a box full of nitro-glycerin and dynamite caps.

The law arrived and gingerly transported the "loaded" box to police headquarters where they put it in a vault. Meanwhile, pulses beat a little faster.

Captain of Detectives Riley Stewart was called in to examine the box.

He found that it contained the tubes used in carpenter's levels.

North Branch Girl Wed at High Mass Saturday

NORTH BRANCH — A Nuptial High Mass at SS. Peter and Paul Church here Saturday united Miss Lois Vielhaber of North Branch and Rudolph Loretitch of Cleveland, Ohio.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vielhaber of North Branch, was attired in a chantilly lace over white taffeta gown featuring a cathedral train. Her tiered net veil was caught in a headdress of orange blossoms. She carried carnations.

Serving as maid of honor was her sister, Margaret, gowned in green taffeta with matching headdress. Another sister, Grace, and the bridegroom's half sister, Margaret Repiz, were bridesmaids. They wore identical fuchsia gowns.

Kathleen Cartwright, the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl.

Serving as best man was Carl Dooghe of North Branch. Groomsmen were Leonard Zaleski and Frank Sray. Seating guests was Harold Vielhaber, the bride's brother.

A wedding breakfast was served at noon in the American Legion Hall where a reception for the 300 guests was held at 8 p.m.

The newlyweds will make their home in Center Line.

Job Drive Set by Civil Service

Commission Will Work With Other Agencies on Replacement Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Service Commission today announced a new series of steps in its campaign to find new jobs for career government workers who hae been laid off for reasons of economy.

It said it is prepared to direct that government agencies make room for displaced career workers if they can do so by firing other persons who have indefinite civil service status.

* * *

In the wake of budget cutting by the Eisenhower administration and by Congress, a number of civil service workers have complained that they were fired, sometimes after years of service, while similar jobs in other agencies are being held down by persons without civil service protections.

* * *

There has been no official estimate of how many persons are in that category, but the commission said today that more than 1,200 government career workers have appealed to it for help in finding new federal jobs.

The commission said in a statement that a series of conferences had been held with representatives of federal agencies, and that they "volunteered to work closely with the commission and to cooperate completely in these efforts."

If voluntary efforts fail, the commission said, it will take such steps as these:

* * *

1. Stop the pay of indefinite status employes who are kept on the payroll after issuance of commission orders for their displacement.

2. Withdraw from any noncooperating agency the authority to promote, demote or reassign indefinite status employes in the Washington area without prior commission approval.

3. Authorize agencies to fire voluntarily any indefinite status employes in order to hire laid-off career workers.

* * *

4. Cut in half, from 60 to 30 days, the time allowed agencies to survey their own bureaus in an effort to find a new job for a career worker who is laid off. During the 30 days, the worker given a dismissal notice would still be on the payroll. Under present regulations, the agency has 30 days after the last working day of the employe to make such a survey.

Blue Comb Disease Hits Poultry in State

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan poultrymen were warned today that blue comb disease of chickens is on the upswing in this state.

Dr. Ralph C. Belding, poultry pathologist at Michigan State College, said the disease has hit most parts of the state but is most severe in southwestern Michigan. The disease cuts egg output rapidly.

Dr. Belding said the disease is difficult to distinguish from cholera and that poultrymen who detect any disease in their flocks should summon a veterinarian at once.

He said the best preventative is to provide plenty of shade and fresh water for a flock.

World War I Governor of West Virginia Dies

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP) — John J. Cornwell, governor of West Virginia during World War I and former chief counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, died here today.

Cornwell had been a patient in Memorial Hospital since July 24, when he was brought here after being stricken with pneumonia.

The former governor and Mrs. Cornwell, who survives, had observed his 86th birthday at their Romney, W. Va. home last July 11. Cornwell was editor and principal owner of the weekly Hampshire Review, published at Romney.

Methodist Bishop Hits Committee's Conduct

GREENCASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Bishop Richard C. Raines told 500 Methodist ministers Monday that the House un-American Activities Committee "conducts its hearing in such a manner as to judge by its own whim rather than by law."

Speaking at the 12th annual School of the Prophets at DePauw University, Bishop Raines criticized particularly the committee's treatment of Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, former president of DePauw.

The speaker also criticized the reporting methods of some newspapers, without naming any.

Price Index Shows Decline

Farmers See Cash Crop, Feed and Meat Animals in Slump

EAST LANSING (AP)—The index of prices received by Michigan farmers dropped from 267 on July 15 to 265 on Aug. 15, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

The cash crop, feed crop and meat animal indexes all were down as a result of lower prices for potatoes, apples, cloverseed, hay, hogs, beef cattle and lambs.

The poultry and dairy indexes showed increases primarily due to higher prices for milk and eggs. The jump in milk and egg prices helped limit the decrease in the all-commodity index to 2 per cent. Without this help, a greater decline would have been shown.

THEN AND NOW—Judge and executive as they are now with the "buckboard" they built as teen-age boys. While reminiscing one day, they got the idea of resurrecting the ancient model. They were amazed to find the original motor worked—after 50 years.

Ancient Motor Still Runs

Judge, Executive Take Time to Revive 'Auto' They Improvised as Kids in 1904

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — Two dignified, gray-haired men recently trundled a strange looking nine-foot wheeled device out of the cellar of a house on Prince Street.

It was a home made automobile, powered by a primitive one cylinder engine. The pair had built it in 1904 when they were boyhood chums here.

One of the men was Woodruff W. Halsey, sales manager of a battery firm. The other was Federal Judge Edward J. Dimock, of the New York District Court, who recently presided at the trial of the second string Communists.

Dimock and Halsey got the idea of resurrecting the ancient "buckboard," as it was licensed in 1904 by New Jersey's department of state, while reminiscing last fall about the pleasures of their boyhood.

The car, sawed in half, still was in the cellar of Halsey's home.

Working on weekends, the judge and the executive restored the buckboard to its oldtime glory. They were amazed to find that the original motor still worked.

The car has bicycle type wheels at each end, connected by a plank. The motor is set up at the rear and there is a small hood at the front with a steering wheel. The width is about two feet.

It is a little difficult at first glance to tell which end is which. Especially since the operators sit back to back on the plank, one steering and the other fiddling with the motor.

The motor was started with a scratchy roar and the vehicle moved about a sixteenth of a mile down the track before a cloud of blue smoke emerged from the motor and it conked out.

Some delicate adjustments of the carburetor were made and the trial run continued.

"Our pride will be hurt if it doesn't go around the track once without stopping," said Halsey to the sole onlooker, a newspaper reporter.

Twice the buckboard negotiated about three quarters of the track before gasping to a stop.

The buckboard qualifies as one of the oldest operating motor vehicles in the state of New Jersey.

The boys first got auto fever in 1903 when they were in their early teens. They built their "model A" then, which was powered by a sail. It was a far cry from Henry Ford's model of the same name in later years.

The sail frightened horses and police banned it.

The youthful inventors then came up with "model B" equipped with a ¾-horsepower engine and a unique direct drive. It could only be stopped by turning off the gas and "hoping for the best."

"Model C," the present surviving vehicle, came next. It is chain driven and according to Halsey was capable of 35 miles an hour in its heyday.

A fourth car — "model D" of course — was built a year later and lasted four years. It met head-on with a huge Newfoundland dog one day and was never the same.

In the renovation, the men had tires custom made for the buckboard. Wood to restore the chassis was shipped down from Hartwood, N. Y., where Judge Dimock has a home.

Under the tiny hood in front is a battery, about one quarter the size of the modern batteries Halsey now sells.

In the center of the steering wheel is a metal handle to regulate speed. The car has no lights or brakes. An operating bar on top of the hood takes the place of a gear shift and a leather belt serves as a clutch.

Started Out as a Boy Soprano

Hit Top in Vaudeville, Films, Radio, Now at Peak as TV Star

HOLLYWOOD — Groucho Marx, star of TV's "You Bet Your Life," began his theatrical career as a boy soprano when he joined a Gus Edwards troupe in 1906 just before his 11th birthday.

Now, after almost 50 years in show business, during which time he reached the top in vaudeville, musical comedy, films and radio, he reigns as king of the radio-TV quipsters. As quizmaster of "You Bet Your Life" he has been acclaimed by millions who delight in his rapid-fire quips and sparkling repartee with contestants.

Groucho was born Julius Marx in New York City on Oct. 2, 1895. His father, Samuel Marx had emigrated from Alsace; his mother, Minna (Schoenberg) Marx, from Germany. There were five brothers; Leonard (Chico), Adolph (Harpo) and Milton (Gummo)—all born before Groucho—and Herbert (Zeppo), who was born after.

After Groucho's experience with the Edwards act, he joined a vaudeville troupe, the LeRoy Trio, which toured the country in 1908 impersonating girl singers. Groucho was stranded in Denver when his voice changed. Later, in New York, he acted in a vaudeville skit and sang between the acts.

The Marx act underwent many changes, through the years. Chico and Gummo finally teaming with Groucho and Harpo to become the four Marx Brothers.

During World War I, Harpo and Gummo went into the Army and Chico and Groucho toured Army camps. After the war Gummo left the act; Zeppo took his place. In 1922 the boys clicked when they bought a musical which they revised and titled "I'll Say She is."

The brothers retired from films in 1941 after "The Big Store" but returned by public demand in 1946.

Groucho started "You Bet Your Life" as a radio show in 1947 and it became a television show also in 1950 when Groucho moved to NBC. The George Foster Peabody award was given to Groucho in 1948 for his work on the program.

Groucho is the father of three children, Arthur and Miriam who are writers and little Melinda who was born in 1946. The TV and radio star lives quietly in Beverly Hills and during the baseball season can usually be found watching the Pacific Coast games.

The famous Marx mustache, incidentally, is a bona fide one grown to replace the former painted-on one.

THE MARXMAN — The sharp wit of Groucho Marx returns to television in September with a schedule of completely new programs. "You Bet Your Life," the critic-lauded quiz show begins its sixth year on video this fall. Highlighted by the crackling comments of the eyebrow-wiggling comedian, the summer series featured reruns of favorite shows seen during the past few seasons.

Trieste Riddle Tossed to Big 3

Premier Pella Worried Over Tito's Plan for Adriatic City

ROME (AP)—Angry and worried, Italy prepared today to throw the bitterly disputed Trieste question back into the laps of the Big Three Western Powers.

Premier Giuseppe Pella's temporary government kept a tight-lipped public silence over President Tito's speech Sunday in which he proposed that the strategic Adriatic port city be internationalized and Yugoslavia get the rest of the Trieste territory claimed by Italy.

* * *

But informed sources close to Pella's Cabinet said Italy would ask—or already has asked—the United States, Britain and France for concrete information on what they plan to do about Tito's newest tack.

* * *

Pella was expected to answer Tito in a speech next Sunday. It appeared certain he would reject flatly the Yugoslav proposals.

The Western Big Three in a declaration before the 1948 Italian elections said all of Trieste should be returned eventually to Italy. Since then, however, Tito and the Kremlin have split, and Yugoslavia and the West have grown steadily closer.

Caught between their NATO alliance with Italy and their desire to keep Tito on their side, the Western Powers now would like to see the disputants work out a Trieste solution for themselves. The dispute, however, has never reached the negotiation stage.

Tito's speech capped a week of steadily growing Italian worry over Trieste. Pella charged on Aug. 29 that Tito planned to annex the Yugoslav-administered southern zone of the territory. Yugoslavia denied the charges and countered that the Italian troop movements to the Italian-Yugoslav border constituted "provocations."

BBC in the Red Over $2 Million for Past Year

LONDON (AP) — Britain's state-sponsored broadcasting system announced today that it went in the red 759,610 pounds ($2,126,908) last year giving Britons radio and television without commercials.

But the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) blamed most of the deficit for the year ended March 31 on the government's take from the one-pound ($2.80) annual license fee British listeners and viewers pay each set they own.

Prior to last year, the government kept 5 per cent of this income, which is the BBC's chief revenue. Now the government retains 15 per cent.

The broadcasting corporation's board of governors warned in its annual report that unless its share of the license income is substantially increased, the BBC will be broke by the end of March 1955.

For their health funds the various state spend an average of 11 cents per person each year.

Polio Foundation Asks Fund Sharing

EAST LANSING (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis appealed today to county chapters to share their surplus polio funds with their less fortunate sister counties.

The foundation said it hoped to raise $4,000,000 by obtaining 50 per cent of the unused funds of counties having relatively light polio incidence.

The organization, which sponsors the "March of Dimes" campaign, said continued heavy polio outbreaks threaten a curtailment in its research and patient aid programs unless surplus funds can be returned to the national headquarters.

State Chairman Paul D. Bagwell of East Lansing said "a survey has shown that if all such chapters cooperate, there will be sufficient money at headquarters to carry on the gamma globulin inoculation program and to finance the long-awaited vaccine field trials this fall."

In Michigan, 42 of the 83 county chapters have exhausted their funds in the third year of heavy polio incidence and have received nearly $600,000 from the foundation's epidemic aid fund, Bagwell said.

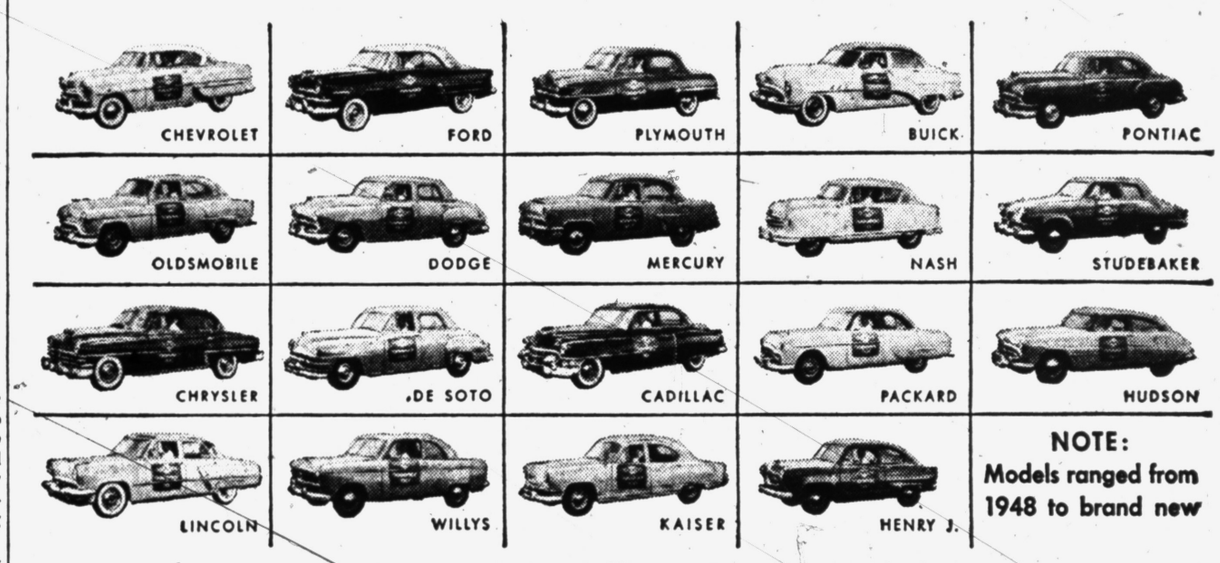
The proof of any gasoline is what it does in your car



NOTE: Models ranged from 1948 to brand new

In these cars, representing every current American make, 15 premium-priced gasolines were tested against Blue Sunoco

U. S. Testing Co. road tests prove

Blue Sunoco Beats 15 Premium-Priced Gasolines

Gives you up to 12.4% more miles per dollar... Matches 15 premium-priced gasolines in acceleration and performance!

High-Test Blue Sunoco was tested against 15 premium-priced gasolines, with all their latest "improvements". Yet Blue Sunoco, selling at regular gas price, matched the acceleration and over-all performance of these gasolines, which cost up to 3¢ more per gallon!

Here's news of interest to everyone who drives a car. The United States Testing Company certifies final results of the 5-state, 25-car road test of gasoline mileage. Of the 16 gasolines tested, High-Test Blue Sunoco, the only regular-priced brand, gave up to 12.4% more miles per dollar and matched the acceleration and over-all performance of its 15 premium-priced competitors.

One Grade—Highest Quality

For over 25 years, Sun Oil Company has produced one—and only one—highest quality gasoline. This single-grade gasoline policy results in savings on tank ships, trucks, storage tanks, and pumps. These savings have been used to build special advanced manufacturing equipment. This, with Sun's exclusive processes, offers motorists a superior, premium-performing gasoline.

Test Blue Sunoco Yourself

Test High-Test Blue Sunoco yourself in your own car, and you'll see—it gives you premium gas performance at only regular gas price. While at your Sunoco dealer's, ask him for details, including the names of the premium-priced gasolines tested against Blue Sunoco in the road tests. Drive in at the Sunoco sign!

U. S. Testing Company Certifies Results

Famous U.S. Testing Company reports:

"Practically speaking, the results show no difference between Blue Sunoco and any of the 15 premium-priced gasolines tested in miles per gallon, acceleration or over-all performance."

PREMIUM GAS PERFORMANCE AT REGULAR GAS PRICE

HOW TO MAKE YOUR OWN 10-GALLON TEST

Wait until your tank is nearly empty, then fill with at least 10 gallons of Blue Sunoco. See for yourself the difference it makes in miles per dollar. Ask your Sunoco dealer what brands of gasolines were used in road tests. Drive in today!

Underwater TV Will Study Rocks

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's only underwater television camera will be used to study the tructure of dangerous Ripple Rock in the Seymou narrows near Campbell River, B. C.

Capt. H. R. Smuth, in charge of radio and electrical engineering trials for the National Research council, will supervise its use during the west coast experiment.

Ripple Rock has been a hazard to navigation for years, but previous attempts to remove it were unsuccessful due to its peculiar underwater structure and the strong tides surrounding it.

The camera is enclosed in a watertight steel cylinder weighing about 300 pounds. Images picked up by the sensitive camera tube are transmitted to television screens aboard the surface vessel, by means of a coaxial cable.

It has two viewing units—one for underwater observation, and an auxiliary unit fitted with a special movie camera which makes permanent records without interfering with ordinary observation.

Norwegian Girl Gives Birth to Quads, 2 Die

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The newspaper Aftenposten reported today that a 19-year-old Norwegian girl gave birth to quadruplets last weekend and that two of the babies —Siamese twins—died shortly after birth.

The paper said the young mother, Mrs. Anna L. Totsaas of Nordli, and the other two babies were getting along well.

Barmaids in Shorts Serve GIs at Dives

HINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — The commanding general of Camp Stewart asserts that nearby "dives and honky tonks" are "using barmaids in shorts to serve whisky and thus seduce the soldiers."

And, said Brig. Gen. Richard W. Mayo in a Lions Club address last night, the army will consider the moral atmosphere in deciding whether to make the big artillery post permanent.

He complained that conditions now are hamstringing the army's character-building program. They are such, he said, that sober soldiers might well ask "for compassionate transfer and later advise their friends against being stationed here."

Jewish Leader Urges Inspiring Ideals for Peace

WASHINGTON (INS) — A leading Jewish spokesman in a special Rosh Hashonah message, called on American Jews today to encourage the world-wide struggle against dictators by "setting inspiring examples" of what free men can accomplish in America.

Jacob Blaustein, president of the American Jewish Committee, said that the recent uprisings in East Germany and Czechoslovakia have demonstrated "that neither corroding propaganda nor the police techniques of tyranny can kill the spirit of freedom in men."

The message was prepared for Rosh Hashonah, the Jewish New Year, which begins at sundown Wednesday and ends at sundown Sept. 11.

Philip M. Klutznick, president of the B'nai B'rith, the Jewish service organization, also issued a message which said that events in Europe give "promise of taking a brighter turn in the very near future."

Klutznick said that Jews can begin the New Year "with more hope for peace in the world than we have had for some time."

Talks Off Cuff at Labor Dinner

Blasts Ike's Policies, Wants Dems to Stop Supporting GOP

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-President Harry S. Truman was in a "go after and get 'em" mood last night, urging Democratic members of Congress to stop supporting the Eisenhower administration.

Speaking off the cuff at an AFL-CIO dinner in his honor, the one-time artillery officer of World War I called for a barrage in the next session of Congress.

"I wanted this administration to succeed," he said. "I advised our people in the Senate and the House to give them a chance.

"We gave them the chance and they threw it out the window. Now let's really go after that outfit down there in Washington and get 'em."

Meanwhile, Truman's double-barreled attack on Eisenhower's policies before Labor Day crowds in downtown Detroit earlier in the day was drawing party line praise and criticism from elsewhere in the United States.

Sen. Milliken of Colorado, chairman of the conference of Senate Republicans, commented in his home state: "I believe President Eisenhower knows more about national defense than former President Truman."

And Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) put a similar reaction this way: "I am sure the country prefers to rely upon the wisdom of the man who commanded the invasion of Europe than on the artilleryman from Independence."

Truman, in his first speech on domestic affairs since leaving the White House in January, criticized the new administration's actions on interest rates, public housing, power development and labor-management law.

He termed the Taft-Hartley Act a bad law, and said he had failed to see it changed "as promised by the Republican candidate during the 1952 election campaign."

Overall, he told an AFL-CIO rally, "there are signs of a return to the old philosophy that the object of government is to help business."

Sen. George (D-Ga) said of the speech: "It sounds a little bit political to me. I think the former President has something in that direction in mind for the party if not for himself."

Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) said in Des Moines, however, that Truman had voiced a fear which he said is in most American minds, "and that is that the reactionary wing of the Republican Party seems to have taken control of the present administration."

"Their philosophy," Gillette added, "has always been not the greatest number but the serving of certain dominant interests."

GIFT FOR POLIO UNIT—In a Labor Day ceremony held at the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital, Pontiac, (located in the Oakland County Contagious Hospital) the American Federation of Technical Engineers, AFL, presented a portable chest respirator to the local polio unit. Navy May Build Big Atom Sub

'Super' Craft Would Do 35 Knots Under Water, Planners Say

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Navy is considering building a super atomic submarine which would be as big as a light cruiser and as fast as a destroyer, naval officials said today.

The proposal, however, was said to have touched off a heated controversy within Navy submarine circles, with one faction claiming the huge undersea craft would be a "sitting duck" target for enemy attack.

As envisioned by Navy planners, the submarine would displace 6,000 tons and would be capable of a speed of 35 knots underwater.

It would be the largest and fastest submarine every constructed, twice as large as the two atomic-powered submarines—the Nautilus and Seawolf—now under construction. The Nautilus is due to be launched early next year. The keel of the Seawolf will be laid next Tuesday at Groton, Conn.

There has been speculation that the Nautilus and Seawolf, which are similar in design but have different types of atomic engines, will be capable of making 35 knots under water.

A high submarine official said today, however, that their speed will be closer to 25 knots—about one third faster than convention submarines.

The first tip-off that the Navy was considering boosting the speed of future submarines came in a recent Atomic Energy Commission report stating that development had started on an "advanced" type of nuclear engine which would give submarines a "significantly higher" speed than the Nautilus and the Seawolf.

A Navy official connected with submarine planning termed the development of the new power plant "experimental" and said there is "no certainty" it will be installed in the third atomic sub.

Pupils Rooting While Teacher Vies for Crown

DOWAGIAC (AP) — When schoolbells ring Thursday, the youngsters in Miss Robbins' fourth grade class will have other things on their mind in addition to the usual routine of "readin, ritin, and rithmetic."

They'll be thinking too of their teacher and wondering how she is making out in the Miss America beauty contest which opens Wednesday in Atlantic City.

The teacher, 20-year-old Velva Robbins, is best known as "Miss Michigan of 1953." She's the pride and joy of the 6,500 people in this community, including the PTA and her school principal.

In fact, as School Board President Trygve Lund says, "Our big worry right now is that if Miss Robbins wins the Miss America contest, we'll be short a teacher for the coming year."

The good-looking young teacher won her "Miss Michigan" laurels in June. Almost immediately there were a flock of rumors that she would be dismissed for taking part in the beauty contest. "Not so," said school officials. "This is 1953, not 1903."

For the record, Velva is a blonde, fresh-looking queen. Her measurements run 35-22-35.

With just a trace of a southern accent — she was born in Missouri — Velva realized a childhood ambition when she joined the Dowagiac faculty in the fall of 1952.

"I always wanted to be a teacher," she says, "even when I was a little girl I liked to play school."

Unlike the other contestants, Velva will not sing or dance at Atlantic City to show her talents off. Instead, she will make a brief talk on why school departments need more money.

Board of Supervisors' Duties Cover Multitude of Affairs

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles on Oakland County Board of Supervisors.)

By PATRICIA A. WOOD

The main duty of Oakland County Board of Supervisors is to do just that — to supervise.

The Board of Supervisors, of course, can pass any laws it likes governing county affairs — so long as its ordinances don't conflict with state laws or interfere with the powers of each city, township, or village.

This, too, is part of supervision.

Oakland County government is a multi-million-dollar business with functions ranging from buying groceries and clothes for homeless people to providing a police force to crack down on crime.

This summer, county folks are turning over $4,500,000 in taxes to the county and its Board of Supervisors. Another $1,500,000 in fees is expected, giving the county treasury some $6,000,000 to use in 1954.

Departments which pay the "grocery bills" and provide clothes and bedding for homeless children and needy oldsters in the children's home and infirmary spend a good chunk of this money.

Other cash will pay the hospital bills of ill or injured citizens who have no funds and tide over families on welfare until their breadwinners can get new jobs.

Some will pay the salaries of the 500 county employes and provide police protection through Oakland County Sheriff's Department. Some will paint and repair county buildings and provide new ones.

It's the Board's duty to decide how much of this income will go for each purpose and to see that it's spent wisely.

But it would be a bit awkward for an 85-man board to travel about the countryside visiting each department and watching it work.

So supervisors delegate a good deal of their supervising to committees of three to nine members each, appointed by Board Chairman Clare W. Seery of Pontiac.

There's a committee for everything—roads, drains, civil defense, finances, animal welfare, veterans' service, markets, health, juvenile affairs.

There is even a committee to watch over and coordinate the zoning and planning that goes on within the cities and townships; and a committee studying the ins and outs of a new county courthouse-office building.

Under the supervisors' present setup, these committees function almost independently.

Each one checks on affairs under its jurisdiction, talks them over, hashes out the pros and cons of any contemplated move, and arrives at the board meeting with a report — or if it feels action should be taken — with a clear-cut recommendation.

Other supervisors may then question the committee's report or suggestion.

They often do.

Only the full board of supervisors can approve or vote down any committee-suggested action.

Because Oakland County isn't in debt, its borrowing power is strong.

With its voters' approval, the county could borrow up to three per cent of its total equalized valuation of $845,000,000 — that is, borrow some $25,000,000 — tomorrow.

Without voters' approval, the board could borrow half of any coming year's expected tax levy—or about $2,250,000 — simply by voting to do so.

Chest Respirator Is Added to Polio Hospital Facilities

A portable chest respirator was added to the facilities of the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital, Pontiac, on Labor Day when the American Federation of Technical Engineers presented it as a gift to the hospital.

Accepting the gift for the local hospital was Dr. Ethel T. Calhoun, medical director.

Coming from his headquarters in Washington for the presentation was Russell M. Stephens, president of the AFTE, an affiliate of the AFL.

"AFL organizations in the past have donated more than 1,000 of these portable chest respirators to hospitals and rescue squads throughout the nation," Stephens said. "The technical engineers wish to make their contribution to this institution bearing the name of the most valiant fighter of polio, Sister Kenny."

Stephens pointed out that the local ceremony was part of a nation-wide iron lung presentation in which hundreds of AFL organizations were participating.

"It is part of the giant Union Label Week celebration being held from coast to coast in the interests of community service and life saving," he said.

Dr. Calhoun said that the respirator would be invaluable in carrying on polio work at the hospital.

She said it would be moved along with the other Sister Kenny unit equipment to their new headquarters in the Children's Hospital in Farmington later this month.

This move, she said, will give not only the Oakland Contagious Hospital more space (the Sister Kenny unit has been occupying the second floor of the hospital on Telegraph Road) but it also will give the polio unit room for later expansion at the new hospital.

State Aid to Schools Above U. S. Level

LANSING (AP) — Public schools in Michigan get substantially more money from the state than the national average, the Michigan Education Journal reported today.

It said that 62 per cent of the public school's income in Michigan comes from state funds, compared with 45 per cent nationally.

In Michigan, local communities contribute 36 per cent of the cost of their schools, compared to 52 per cent nationally.

The federal government contributes two per cent of the cost of Michigan schools, compared to three per cent nationally.

The Journal said the state contribution in Michigan rose from 59 to 62 per cent from 1948 to 1953, while the local contribution was dropping from 39 per cent to 36 per cent in the same period.

Reuther Cites Union Progress

CIO President Hopes for More United Labor Front in America

AKRON, Ohio (UP) — Union chief Walter P. Reuther told some 25,000 persons attending a Labor Day rally here that organized labor has made great progress in the past year toward presenting a united labor front.

"I hope we can make much more progress," he said.

However, the CIO president, who heads the CIO United Auto Workers union, warned that "we of the CIO would not trade our production. He said such talk of a united front.

Reuther spoke here after taking part in Labor Day activities in Detroit, where he said in a radio address that labor was determined "there shall be no peacetime depression."

"If we have the capacity to create full employment and full production making the weapons of war," he said, "we must also demonstrate the good sense to create full employment and full production making the good things of life for people in peace-time."

"What we need to do is to provide the American people—workers, farmers, white collar and professional groups — with sufficient purchasing power to balance our productive power," Reuther said.

Israeli Army Unit Fired On in Desert

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — An Israeli army unit moving along the Egyptian frontier was fired on in the desert near Mount Azur last night, an Israeli spokesman announced today.

There were no Israeli casualties, he said, adding that hidden dumps of weapons and explosives were discovered afterwards at two places nearby.

In another incident, two casualties were inflicted on border infiltrators — presumably Arabs—who fled towards Egyptian territory under fire, the army spokesman added.

LANSING (UP)—The State Corrections Department today announced release of Le Roy Artis, 58, Flint, after he had served 22 years of a life prison sentence imposed for four felony convictions. Artis was released by parole board action following public hearings.

Thieves Take Over $300 From Store in Pontiac

Joseph V. Polasek reported to Pontiac Police today the theft of between $300 and $400 from his store at 349 S. Saginaw St. yesterday afternoon.

The money was stolen from a drawer at the front of the building, police said.

Symington Blasts Air Force Cutback

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Former Air Secretary Sen. W. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) renewed his verbal attacks on Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson during a Labor Day speech here.

Symington said a cutback in air-force production, ordered last week by the Republican administration, "apparently is a plan to meet Russian bombers with a firmly balanced budget."

The senator called the reduction of almost 1,000 planes by Wilson a case of "totally inexperienced civilians" going over the heads of Joint Chiefs of Staff "solely from a fiscal standpoint."

Symington, who was once Air Force secretary under former President Truman, said, "apparently the plan is now to meet Russian bombers with a firmly balanced budget."

The cut was ordered by Wilson as part of five billion dollar slash by the administration in the Air Force budget.

Seeks to Find Relationship of Canadians, Europeans

KILLARNEY, Ontario (AP) — A gray-haired American anthropologist, who has been looking into the way of life of Canada's pre-ice-age people for 16 years, plans to seek the relationship between these early Canadians and the ancient people of northern Europe.

Dr. E. F. Greenman of the University of Michigan, digging again this summer at the site of one of the most ancient cultures of the new world, says he will soon go to Scandinavia to continue his investigation.

The anthropologist has unearthed near this Georgian Bay community evidence of the Yuma culture which existed before the ice sheets covered the northern part of the continent.

He made his discoveries about 2½ miles inland from Georgian Bay. Once, said Dr. Greenman, the site was a beach but when the last ice sheet disappeared from the northern Great Lakes area there was an upheaval of the shoreline pushing the ancient campsite far inland.

The site of the Yuma culture was once a workshop where weapons and utensils were manufactured. So far the anthropologist and his staff have found broken pieces apparently thrown away by their makers. He believes that unbroken implements are lying buried in the hills near Killarney.

Four years ago the scientist discovered weapons which have distinctive features common to others found in Europe and North Africa. These were single-shouldered arrowheads such as other anthropologists have dug up in Hungary and France.

There is a belief among archaeologists that the culture represented by these arrowheads traveled eastward across Asia and entered the North American continent by way of the Bering Straits. Evidence of the same culture has been found in Mexico.

The ancient campsite being explored by Dr. Greenman is estimated to be 17,000 years old and is the oldest site of human habitation east of the Rockies.

Although the artifacts he has collected give him an idea of how these ancient Canadians lived, no evidence has been turned up to indicate what they looked like.

INDIAN FAVORITE—This Oakland County lake covers about 300 acres and once was a favorite gathering place of Indians. The first white settler on its shores arrived 134 years ago and wrote about the excellent fishing in the lake. Before the days of artificial refrigeration, the lake yielded trainloads of ice every year for Pontiac and Detroit. A considerable portion of its shoreline recently has been commercialized. Still wondering what lake it is? Turn to page 27.

Girl's Antics, Such as Going Steady With 6 Boys at Once, Mar Reputation

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Dear Miss Woodward: Everyone thinks that I'm a terrible flirt and a plain pickup because I go steady with six boys and play around with numerous others.

"What can I do to gain back my good reputation and my girl friends?"

The girls disapprove of your carryings-on, and not in silence, either. They've told you how they think you're breaking the rules. They firmly believe that no girl can go steady with six different boys at the same time—not if she knows what going steady means.

They firmly believe that no girl who has a real sense of dignity and self-respect will allow herself to rise to the bait of every strange boy she sees. They firmly believe that no interesting girl will let it be obvious that all she has on on her mind is boys, boys, boys.

They've dropped you because they felt they couldn't approve of you—they couldn't enjoy being with you—they found out that you didn't play the game according to their rules.

Of course, if you like playing the game your way, you won't care what the other girls think, and you won't make a move to change you system.

But your letter indicates that you aren't too happy about the reputation you've earned for yourself, and you miss the fun of being with the other girls.

So, the first thing is to find out what going steady means. I'm sending you a copy of my free booklet on the subject. It's called "How 'Bout Goin' Steady" and it lines up the do's and don'ts, the why's and why not's, pretty clearly.

It may help you see that you're free-lancing, which is quite o.k. so long as none of the boys you go with thinks he's "Mr. Big."

It may help you see that the other girls would consider you less dangerous if you'd pick out one of the boys and go only with him! When you settle down a bit the other girls will think differently about you!

Anyone else who'd like my free booklet on steady-going can have one by writing me for it, care of the Pontiac Press, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Mother keeps telling me not to call everyone a jerk, geek, et cetera, but the girls in my school do it and they're the most popular ones in school. What do you think?"

Such name-calling is far from elegant, complimentary or endearing. It hurts the victim and offends everyone else who overhears such "hightoned" conversation. Personally, I think people who call others by rude names, are geeks, grunes, and groilers!

Well-Kept Body Leads to Health Success in Life

Being a better you, from your outward apearance to your outlook on life is of your own making. Whether you're a man or a woman, the good Lord gave you individuality and some sort of ability which should be shown off like a fine picture in a fine frame.

To "look young, feel young, and stay young" is the birthright of everyone. Reducing plans, for both men and women, are based on one basic premise—good health.

Fat people aren't healthy people—many of them can't get insurance policies; people who aren't healthy cannot feel young because their bodies aren't functioning at their peak; and who can stay young if all the joy's been taken out of life and loneliness substituted because one lives under a self-constructed bushel basket?

If you're fat, get thin; if you're thin, build yourself up; use extra effort to be well-groomed and watch tehorw¼ effort to be well-groomed and watc the world see new qualities in you."

Whether you're walking the dog, headed to classes or to work, this heavy white plastic slicker with green corduroy collar really strikes a bright note on a rainy day. You can be assured that it will stay bright too, for soap and water keep both raincoat and matching hat snowy white.

Stroke In Lotion to Exercise Hands

A good daily exercise for hands is the stroking on of lotion. Cup a generous amount into your palm, then rub it into the hands just as if putting on a pair of gloves. Work each finger down smooth. Then stroke the back of the hand right down over the wrist.

As you smooth on the lotion like liquid gloves, use the ball of the thumb to rub the softening lotion in around cuticle and nails. This makes for soft, white hands and the daily exercise lends grace and prettiness.

Waist Cinchers Not for Fat Gals

Does anyone in your crowd wear a waist cincher (elasticized belt) with the intention of slimming her waist?

If so, you've probably observed that this way around the weight problem is the wrong one. Don't you agree that trying to take in inches by super-tightness about the waist gives the look of a sausage squeezed in the middle? The hour-glass silhouette is not in style, especially for teen-agers.

Waist-cincher belts have the advantages of staying put, holding skirts up well, and looking pretty on small waists. They weren't made to do a girdling job or to take a tuck in a girl's flesh. If you're keen on this type of belt—and many girls seem to be — get one that fits you with ease and doesn't squeeze you.

If you're on the bulky side, you'll look slimmer with a non-elastic belt that can't do any squeezing. Get the type called "contour." Thse belts are made to conform to the curve of the body and give you a good fit. A belt that's tapered in circumference, particularly if it's wider in back than in front, is another good slimmer.

Bridge Table Tops Easily Replaced

If your old bridge table top is scarred and worn, you can replace it easily with plywood. Have a panel of plywood cut exactly to size.

Sand down all the rough edges and nail it firmly to the top of the bridge table. Stain it or paint it as desired. When the wood is dry, put on at least two thin coats of fresh white shellac to protect the finish and make the surface easily cleanable.

Grandma Asks About Guest List

May Invite Some of Her Close Friends to Wedding

By EMILY POST

A grandmother writes: "My grandson is going to be married soon and he has given me permission to invite some of my friends to the wedding.

"Would it be proper to invite several very good friends of mine even though they do not know my grandson or his bride-to-be, or would this place them in the position of having to give a wedding present?"

Answer: The correct procedure is for you to send a short list of your most intimate friends to the member of the bride's family who is giving the wedding and ask that invitations be sent to those on the list. Invitations do not of themselves demand a present.

Dear Mrs. Post: Very soon we will have new neighbors next door to us and I would like to know if it is still customary for the old residents to call on new neighbors.

Someone told me that this practice is no longer followed. This is an old established neighborhood and we haven't had many changes in the past 25 years.

Answer: It is definitely kind, as well as correct, for the old neighbors to call on the new.

Dear Mrs. Post: When a nice young man unfortunately chooses a piece of lingerie as a gift for a young woman, wouldn't it be needlessly hurting his feelings for her to refuse it? If refuse she must, how does she go about it?

Answer: She simply says, "This is a lovely gift and thank you so much, but my mother would never in the world let me accept it."

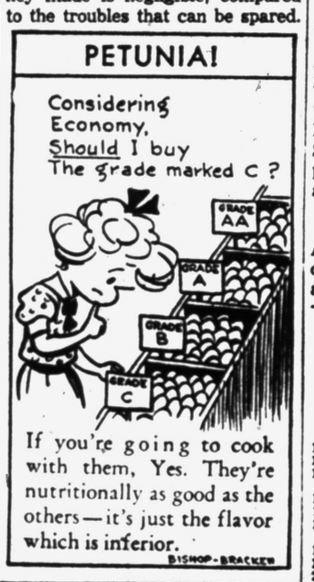
Dear Mrs. Post. Does a sandwich have to be cut more than in half? Usually it is served cut in half and then you'll see someone cut the half in half, with all the filling spilling onto the plate. I do believe they think it bad manners to take half up in the fingers.

Answer: A thin sandwich is eaten without further cutting. But a club sandwich — especially one with mayonnaise in it — would have to be cut in mouthful size pieces — unless a knife and fork are provided with it.

Hide Extra Key for Emergency

An extra key hidden in some secret nook around the outside of the house can prove very helpful in those lost-key situations.

And a car key tucked safely away on the body of the family auto can also save a lot of trouble. The expense of having the extra key made is negligible, compared to the troubles that can be spared.



Most of Today's Brides Intend to Purchase Desks

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

A survey of the home furnishings requirements of brides shows that 67 per cent intend to buy desks as part of their first furniture.

Designers of contemporary furniture, who seem to have a sixth sense and a long ear to the ground whether or not they have a set of statistics, now fit desks into nearly all their new groupings, even those which include relatively few pieces.

These desks are small and light looking to fit close quarters, and the big favorite of the coming season is the pedestal desk.

Here are three new pedestal desks which were sketched at fall previews. One, in mahogany, sketched at top, shows beautiful decorative treatment of the drawer fronts. It especially has the new look of suspending the drawers lightly and gracefully from above.

The center desk, designed by Allan Gould, provides extra stacking space with the slatted shelf which supports the drawers and a pull-out shelf for a typewriter. It is walnut and the legs and slat shelf are of ebonized wood.

The stretcher on the lower desk, by Paul McCobb, is brass to match the drawer pulls, leg trim and a top drawer edge. It is mahogany.

'Close-Up' Chores Important for Safety

Whether you're to be gone for a day, a weekend, or a long vacation, take no chances on forgetting to perform those "closing-up" chores so vital to the safety of your home.

Prepare a list of "must do's" ahead of time, and check off water, gas, and appliance shut-downs as you go. When the checkoff is complete, your house is secured and you'll have a worry-free mind.

Dry-Cleaning Requires Caution

If you dry-clean at home, be sure to use the fluid outdoors or in a well-ventilated room. There should be no pilot light or other illumination in the room.

Let the garments air thoroughly before wearing. Keep the dry-cleaning fluid in a fireproof container.

Clubs End Their Summertime Hibernation With Advent of September

Business Women's Group Among City Newcomers

With the advent of September and the fall season, club activities begin to perk up. Meetings resume after the summer break, new clubs are formed and old ones expand.

One example of an expanding club is the American Business Women's Association, which after four years has mushroomed to an organization covering 30 states, with a membership totaling 3,000 to 4,000.

A charter chapter of this organization is being established in Pontiac by Mrs. Nellie Voelker, national field director.

The association is a national organization with headquarters in Kansas City.

A three-fold program of employe training, professional advancement and social opportunity and participation is offered by the club.

Benefits include personality lectures and 'brush-up' courses in speech, grammar and vocabulary building, through the organization's monthly magazine.

Other advantages include individual personality analysis for members and courses in effective letter writing.

Mrs. Voelker is from Lansing, where she recently installed a charter chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mack and children, Sherron and David, have returned to their home on Nelson street after a three-week vacation in the West.

After stops in Colorado Springs and San Francisco, they were guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Duane G. Maybee of Cuyama, Calif.

They also visited Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Michels, former Pontiac residents, in Los Angeles. Mrs. Lizzie Hodgkinson of Edison street accompanied the Macks on their trip.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Koch and Albert Koch of Lake Preston, S. D., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jay L. Wilson of East South boulevard.

* * *

Shirley Ann Long is leaving this month for Lansing, where she will attend St. Lawrence College. She is the daughter of Mrs. Elwood F. Cochrane of Scott Lake road.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Larson of South Marshall street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Carolyn Beth.

The child's grandparents are the Robert Patersons of Valparaiso, Ind., and the Rudolph Larsons of South Marshall street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Leeland Barker of Draper avenue are the parents of a son, Burton Leeland, born Sept. 2 in Pontiac General Hospital.

The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hilliker of Draper avenue and Mrs. Ingaber Barker of Ramona terrace.

High Fashion Gloves Now Edge Higher

NEW YORK (INS)—Long gloves, in warm wool, can be as dressy as fancy doeskins this fall.

Wool knit gloves, which were once considered strictly casual-wear fashions, are now—by force of circumstances—being made into dress-up affairs.

The reason: As high-fashion coat sleeves get shorter, a woman's high-fashion gloves must get longer. And since winter is cold, the coziest cover-up for the arms is a lengthy woolen model.

The "wear-right" company, following this obvious style trend, today introduced some "couture knit" gloves which were generally just below the elbow length models woven in close-knit, but often lacy, weaves.

The gloves managed to look decorative and yet be sturdy and warm. They featured novelty-ribbing, sometimes were woven with a nubby tweed look, and often had fringe or lacey open work at the top of the gauntlet.

They are fancy enough for wear with a mink stole, and warm enough for wear in a snow storm.

Wait Awhile, Ask Parents Before Eloping

You've decided to elope! Of course it means giving up your childhood dream of a beautiful wedding with yourself the radiant star. But you're madly in love and you don't want to wait.

However, before you go rushing off into the night on a project that will affect the rest of your life, a recent magazine suggests that you take a moment to do a little thinking.

There may be lurking in your mind a desire to show people, especially your parents, that you're capable of leading your life without interference. But a secret marriage is not a good way to prove you can manage life.

Another thing, do you really want to hurt your family? For no matter how they appear to take the news, they will be hurt. Maybe your friends will think that eloping is gay and brave. Your family's friends won't.

They'll think that there is something wrong in the family relationship or something to conceal about your future spouse. And the author is inclined to think they're right. Usually there is something wrong when couples marry furtively.

So we urge you to talk to your family about it. You may find them surprisingly cooperative and the obstacles you anticipated may be cleared more easily than you think. Make a few compromises yourself. Agree to wait a while.

Later your families may still object to your marrying. In that case, the matter is up to you. But parents have wonderful ways of coming around if you don't insist on rushing into things. And your chance of a successful marriage is infinitely greater if you approach it with your families behind you instead of against you.

Shower Given for Doris Robb

A miscellaneous shower was given recently to honor bride-elect Doris Robb by Mrs. Max LaValley and her daughter, Ethel, at their home on West South boulevard.

Doris, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Robb of St. Mary's street, will become the bride of Max LaValley Jr., son of the senior Max LaValleys of West South boulevard.

Converted Garage Makes Extra Room

If it's an extra room you need for your home, why not convert your connected garage into a study or den? The expense isn't too great nowadays, what with all the low-cost wallboards available.

Your nearest lumber company can give specific directions.

A knit Eisenhower battle jacket teams with frontier pants in black capeskin for fall country wear. The jacket is in shaker stitch with elasticized band at the bottom, utility patch pockets and modified mandarin collar.

Discussing the game with her after the Saturday competition is her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hanley Dawson Jr. (left) of Birmingham, who kept the distinction in the family by finishing as runner-up.

New Times Are Set

Press Deadlines Listed

Clubwomen and publicity chairmen are again reminded of the new deadlines which have been set for the Pontiac Press women's pages.

Copy for publication on any given day must reach the social desk by 9 a. m. that day.

For example, if a club meeting or other social event occurs on Monday, the person in charge of publicity should see that the information is written clearly and completely. This information should be placed in the box provided for that purpose just outside the front door of the Press building Monday evening or Tuesday by 8 a.m.

This box is opened at 8 each morning. If the copy is brought in later than 8 a.m., it should be brought directly to the women's department before 9 a. m.

Publicity chairmen should include their names and phone numbers since it may be necessary for the women's department to seek more information.

If it is absolutely necessary to phone in information, the new deadline on such calls is 9 a. m. for publication that day. Publicity chairmen also are asked to remember that not more than 12 names can be taken over the telephone.

Can Pappy Use Smart Advice?

So, Pappy has the look of a benign cherub—round of face, pink of cheek, and slightly (?) padded through the middle.

Many a heavy-set man is more self-conscious about the way he looks than he cares to admit, so some surreptitious morale-building can do a lot to give him more poise.

Next time you send his suits to the cleaners take inventory of his wardrobe.

Make a mental note that next time he has an important appointment that he wears his most conservative dark suit, preferably the double-breasted one. Note also that he should wear a subdued four-in-hand tie instead of the gay bow!

Nothing whittles a man into heroic proportions better than his own self-assurance. If he "looks young," his body is compact, well-groomed, and consequently he is healthy.

If he is healthy he will feel young. And if he feels young, no doubt he has a happy outlook on life, a friendly and expansive attitude to those he loves and works with.

Coming Events

Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 1370 will meet this evening at 8 at 398 S. Saginaw St.

Women of the Moose will meet this evening at 7:30 in the Moose Hall for Publicity Chairman Night Program.

Duchess Ignores Dior's Command to Up Hemlines

BADEN-BADEN, Germany (AP)—The Dutchess of Windsor has ignored Paris designer Dior's call for raised hemlines, a German newspaper noted today.

The Windsors are the most prominent guests in this fashionable West German spa. They arrived last week for a 10-day stay accompanied by Woolworth heir Jimmy Donahue, a cousin of Barbara Hutton.

"The women noticed that the very tastefully dressed duchess does not follow the new fashion of Christian Dior," said Munich's Sueddeutsche Zeitung.

The Sueddeutsche Zeitung's writer was even more impressed by the Windsors' three dogs, two pugs and a black terrior.

"They are the most distinguished dogs I have ever seen," he wrote. "They do not bark, do not scratch their ears and do not deign to take even a single look at the other guests of the hotel."

Avoid Kitchen Bugs With Cleanliness

Prevent insects in your kitchen with immaculate cleanliness. Scour sink after each use. Scrub drainboards and work surfaces with hot water and soap.

Seal up any cracks and crevices near work surfaces. Have all cleaning brushes and sponges dry and odor-free.

Have bread box and canisters thoroughly clean. Leave no spills or crumbs or traces of food around.

Water Softener Eases Washing

If you live in a hard water area and your laundry refuses to come clean no matter what detergent you use, try fortifying its action with additional powdered water-softener added to the usual amount of soap or synthetic detergent.

Living in Small Community Needn't Be Obstacle to Job-Seeking Woman

Widow Turns This Liability Into Asset by Opening a Driver-Training School

BY ANNE HEYWOOD

A great number of women who live in small communities use this fact as an excuse to explain why they can't get a needed job.

"If I were only in New York," they say, "I could get a wonderful job. But there's no opportunity here."

Occasionally, though, I meet a woman who has approached that same so-called liability in the opposite manner and turned it into a real asset.

Mrs. B. E. is one such woman. She is a widow, who is bringing up three teen-aged children on a tiny income. She lives in a small city which, due to defense plants, is beginning to boom.

"One day," she told me, "I was straining my brains, trying to think of something I could do to increase my income.

"Our city, I thought, is so remote, and so modest in size, that I don't suppose there is anything to do here.

"That thought was so discouraging that I decided to attack it the other way—that is, what did I like to do?

"The first thing that came to mind was that I like to drive a car and I have taught a good many of my friends to drive.

"This made me think of my last visit to New York several years ago, when I had seen a driving school where they taught people how to drive a car. They charged a flat fee for a specified number of lessons.

"So I talked to the members of our Chamber of Commerce and found that our city didn't have any such service and that they felt that, with all the new people moving into town, there might be a need for it.

"With that encouragement, I set up my own little driving school. I have only two cars and one assistant, and we don't make a lot of money at all. But what we do make gives me the extra I need.

"For me, the fact that I do live in a small, remote city has created the opportunity instead of being a hopeless obstacle."

Try It

Make Autumn Cornucopia

The leaves are beginning to change color a little bit now and we seem to know that fall will soon be here. Even though it still is warm, Mother Nature is beginning to think about changing into her fall dress.

Crops are now being gathered for the winter, and in the old days our ancestors celebrated the fall season with get-togethers.

A cornucopia always had a part in this, for the cornucopia means "horn of plenty." Usually a horn-of-plenty has fall fruits and vegetables tumbling out of it. How about making one of these for a fall party table centerpiece?

The base is formed by cutting a large triangle of chicken wire, then pressing it into a horn shape.

The end of the horn should be the small part of the triangle and can be pointed or bent into a blunt end. The mouth of the cornueopia is round and the mesh can be turned back under a little so that there are no rough edges.

Cover this with a layer of cotton batting and start at the tip end to cover it with crepe paper. This should be cut into strips and wound around and around. Fill with fruit.

A Ladder Is Safer

Use of a wobbly chair or table for climbing is a dangerous practice. It's much safer to purchase an inexpensive step stool or step-ladder.

Lighten Up Murky, Dim Basements

Make Every Inch of Window Space Do Its Job Well

By HUBBARD COBB

The trouble, as we see it, with most basements is that they are just too darn dark, and the reason they are dark is that they don't get enough light because they don't have enough windows.

Once a house has been completed, trying to put additional windows in the basement 'can be an expensive job.

What you can do, however, is to make every square inch of existing window do its job and then be sure that the light you do get into the basement isn't absorbed by some dark surface.

In many homes the shrubs and bushes around the foundation keep a good deal of light away from the basement windows.

These shrubs should be removed and placed far enough away from the windows not to interfere with the passage of light.

Many basement windows are just plain dirty and this keeps out a good deal of light.

Washing the windows and removing some of the earth directly under the windows so it won't splash on the clean glass during a rain will help considerably.

You'll be surprised at just how much good giving the basement walls and ceiling a light coat of paint will do. The walls should be painted with a paint suitable for masonry surfaces.

As for the ceiling, you don't even have to cover the exposed beams if you don't want to — just give them a coat of light paint.

Of course, covering the ceiling with building boards and then applying the paint to this makes a more efficient and attractive job.

Correct Drying Saves Wet Hats

If your husband's hat gets soaked in the rain, be sure it's allowed to dry on a flat surface away from heat.

Rest it on the turned-out sweatband, push out the dents in the crown, and shape the brim.

In line with this year's tweeds and sports clothes, one company has created the beloved watchcase compact in a new form. Covered with genuine alligator, this slim, light compact can either be worn on your shoulder, pulled through your belt, or fastened on your lapel.

Deep Dish Pie Topping Uses Cheese

Mrs. Ralph Kors Gives This Dessert an Original Touch

By JANET ODELL

(Pontiac Press Food Editor)

It is a pleasure to talk with a woman who is an imaginative cook, one who likes to experiment with food. Mrs. Ralph Kors enjoys trying out new dishes and adding original touches.

Her work in business leaves her less time at home than she would like to have with her two teenage sons. Her favorite diversion is reading.

You will like Mrs. Kors' recipe for her deep dish pie. The topping she uses for it also would be good on cakes or salads.

CRUSTY DEEP DISH PIE
By Mrs. Ralph Kors

½ recipe plain pastry
2½ tablespoons flour or tapioca
¾ cup dark brown sugar
⅓ cup white sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
6 very ripe peaches
4 apples
Juice of one lemon

Line deep dish with pastry, building firm, high ridges. Sprinkle with flour or tapioca, half the sugar and butter (in bits). Add peeled and sliced fruit and any peach juice that has drained out. Sprinkle over the rest of the sugar and butter and the spices.

Crumble together and spread over the pie the following ingredients:

2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons flour

Bake in a 350 oven for about 45 minutes. Serve warm or chilled with Nippy Topping.

Nippy Topping

1 pint chilled coffee cream
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons cheddar or any sharp cheese spread
2 tablespoons sugar

Beat cream until it begins to thicken, add lemon juice, sugar and cheese a little at a time. Continue beating until firm. Set aside for about 15 minutes to thicken.

Look Your Best by Colette

IF slim, tall look—

Nothing, but nothing adds height and slims as matching coat and skirt and blouse, or suit and blouse all one color.

Miss T. L.—The costume theme consisting of important separate pieces "that go together" makes an entire wardrobe this fall. The full length coat and skirt and blouse or two piece dress is one of the newer approaches.

Rugs Won't Slip

Rubber jar rings attached to the underside of small rugs act as suction cups and keep the rugs from slipping.

Year-Round Cottons Fill Winter Need

Thermomenters can hover in the 90's, beaches can be swarming, air conditioner sales can skyrocket, but on the stroke of Labor Day out of the mothballs come the tweed suits and woolen dresses just like bears emerging from hibernation. It may be fashionable, but it's not sensible!

Climate conditions are changing rapidly according to meteorologists. It seems the good old torrid zone is inching up into our territory making our summers hotter and our winters milder, so it's only sensibfe to start changing a few fashion rules, too.

Hope Skillman, fashion textile designer who has changed a lot of "fabric rules" during the 10 years she has had her own business, decided that it was about time to change a few more. The designer has just set out on a cross country "Test Tube Tour" with a suitcase-full of fashions made of her own unique cool weather cottons.

From sizzling Texas in early September to chilly Minnesota in late October, Miss Skillman will "test" her wardrobe under all kinds of weather conditions.

The capsule wardrobe includes everything from a dress and jacket custome in bright red cotton tweed for traveling to a short evening dress in satin-checked cotton with its own tiny reversible jacket. Fall accessories are represented, too, by a tiny bright red hat and matching gloves in cotton satin.

Bulgarian-Yugoslav Border Clash Reported

LONDON (AP)—Belgrade radio today reported another brief skirmish on the Bulgarian-Yugoslav border. There was no mention of casualties.

It was one of many involving President Tito's forces and those of his satellite neighbors since Yugoslavia broke with the Kremlin in 1948.

Victor Mature Stays Happy With Contract

By JAMES BACON

(For Vacationing Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Vic Mature, a guy who loves his sociable security, is one actor more than happy to stay under contract to a studio.

He wants no part of the current Hollywood vogue for free lancing. A vogue, by the way, that is sometimes voluntary among actors but more often enforced by studio economics.

Vic believes that the free lancer's career can be seriously damaged with one lousy picture.

"Four of my pictures would kill a free lancer," comments Vic. "Me? I have a contract. They have to pay me anyhow. I get just as much for the stinkers as I do the good ones."

Mature, one of the shrewdest financial heads among the stars, wants the weekly paycheck, whether he's making a picture or not. The free lancers only get paid when they work.

"So they knock themselves out doing television between pictures. Me, I make more money off television than the actors who are doing it." He owns a chain of television and appliance stores in Los Angeles.

Next to the money, Vic likes the friendships he makes by working at the same stand.

"I like working with the same people week after week. Who wants to skip all over the world making pictures — making new friends all the time?

"It takes a while for people to get to like me. I may seem like a weird character at first but once you know me, I'm an okay guy. Of course, I may have to buy some of them a house first, but eventually they get to like me."

Vic is a likable fellow and probably boasts more friends among rank-and-file studio employes than most stars. He socializes more with them than he does with other actors.

"You know," adds Mature, "this whole interview could sound silly if Fox forgot to pick up my option. I might change my whole attitude toward free lancing."

Piper Laurie, Vic's co-star in "Rangers of the North," joined us in the dressing room.

She reported that the director wasn't satisfied with the ending wherein Vic rescues Piper from a glacier fall.

"Tell him we'll have the snow melt when I kiss you. Then we can make a sequel called 'Whatever became of Glacier National Park?"

Vic is sequel happy since completion of "The Robe." His bosses were so happy with his portrayal of the slave Demetrius that they immediately made "Demetrius and the Gladiators."

This could lead to that inevitable Hollywood cycle of "Demetrius Strikes Back" and "Son of Demetrius."

Raining Cats and Dogs?—No, Just Few Frogs

LEICESTER, Mass. (AP) — The rains came—and frogs too.

A downpour soaked this central Massachusetts community west of Worcester yesterday and afterwards thousands of frogs were found scattered for a mile on Paxton avenue.

There were almost as many explanations as frogs.

One popular guess was that they were carried aloft by 50-mile winds accompanying an offshore hurricane. But Weather Bureau men scoffed. And townsfolk laughed at another popular theory that a pond had overflowed in the rain and washed the frogs onto the road.

52 Beauties Ride Floats in Parade at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A parade of pulchritude today gives boardwalk strollers their first glimpse of each of the 52 beauties seeking the "Miss America of 1954" crown.

The boardwalk parade will display each contestant on a special float as 19 bands marching alongside provide brassy fanfares.

But the real grind for the girls doesn't get under way until tomorrow night when they start matching curves and talent on the stage at Convention Hall.

* * *

It will all be over Saturday night with one of the beauties winning the crown, plus a total of about $50,000 in personal appearance fees, scholarships, endorsements, wardrobe and a car.

Until then, it's strictly "no dates" for the contestants. Pageant rules require the girls to stay away from men unless chaperoned.

* * *

The gals spent yesterday signing the pageant register and getting official badges, ribbons and rules. At night they went through their first rehearsal.

Leading today's parade will be crooner Eddie Fisher, this year's grand marshal.

The girls will be judged on a point system in bathing suit, evening gown, talent and personality competition.

Tarzan Claims Lana as Mate

Lex Barker, Actress Wed in Italy, Embark on Secret Honeymoon

TURIN, Italy (AP)—Lex (Tarzan) Barker and his newest mate, Lana Turner, set off for a secret honeymoon spot today—reportedly the Isle of Capri.

Before departing they sent her daughter and his two sons, all three by previous marriages, to visit friends in Paris. The children had been with Barker and Miss Turner in the villa here of a wealthy Italian textile manufacturer.

For part of the summer the couple had been guests there, and it was there they spent their wedding night.

The beauteous couple were married yesterday in a civil ceremony at Turin's City Hall after a summer-long romantic vacation together in southern Europe's favorite vacation spots.

Barker and Miss Turner exchanged shield-shaped gold wedding rings but put them on their little fingers instead of the traditional third digit. Barker has been married twice before, she four times—twice to the same man.

* * *

The couple tried to keep the nuptials secret but photographers awaited them at City Hall. The bride at first threatened to call off the proceedings but finally posed and the 10-minute ceremony was said by Municipal Assessor Emilio Bachi.

The vital statistics:

The bride's costume—Pearl gray dress, ribbon of the same color in her curly, short hair, long orange topcoat, black lacquered sandals, double strand pearl necklace, large topaz ring.

The groom's—Summer weight blue suit and black necktie.

Witnesses — Attorneys Luciano Salza and Guido Abrasino.

Honeymoon house—The villa of a wealthy Italian textile manufacturer where they and their children have been guests.

* * *

Bride's previous husbands—Band leader Artie Shaw, Hollywood broker Stephen Crane (twice) and millionaire Bob Topping.

Groom's previous wives — New York socialite Constance Thurber, actress Arlene Dahl.

Her daughter—Cheryl, 10, by Crane.

His sons—Alexander, 6, and Lynn 4, by Miss Thurber.

Lex, born in Rye, N.Y., is 34. Lana; a product of Wallace, Idaho, is 33.

The muscular Barker entered pictures after World War II Army service and established himself as filmdom's postwar Tarzan. She got into films in 1937, was the original sweater girl and has been a top star for years.

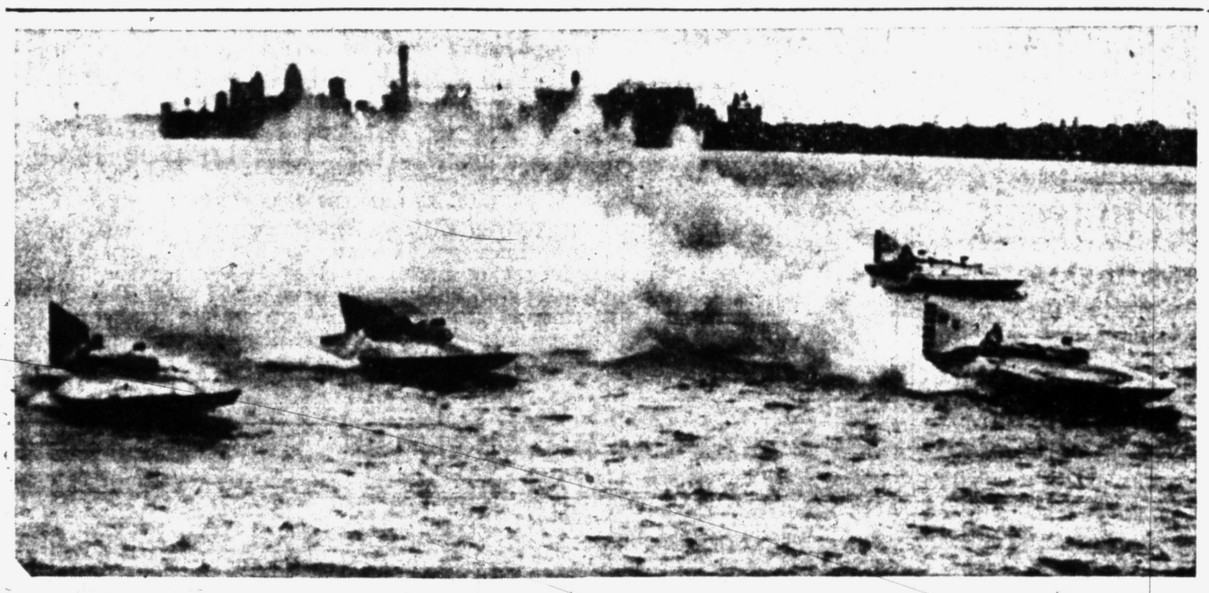
Stiff Penalty Given 2 Top Harness Men



AP Wirephoto

SLO-MO FAILS—Stan Sayres' favored Slo-Mo-Shun V (second from left) trails two Such Crust boats of Detroit at start of the third heat in Monday's Silver Cup regatta on the Detroit River. Slo-Mo, a Seattle, Wash., boat, developed wet motor troubles a short time later and was unable to compete in the fourth and fifth heats. Gale II of Detroit (extreme left) won the trophy.

Year's Ban for Smart, Larsen in Doping Affair

Inglis, However, Lifts Suspension Imposed on Castleton Stable

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan harness racing rocked from one of the stiffest penalties in its history today.

The United States Trotting Association and Michigan Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis slammed suspensions at three men yesterday accused in the doping of the horse Abbasong before it won a race at the Wolverine Raceway here Aug. 18.

Wayne (Curly) Smart, one of the nation's top harness drivers who trains and drives for Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., owners of Abbasong, was set down for a year, announced USTA Executive Secretary Don R. Millar.

Effective today, the 49-year-old Smart is suspended from all harness tracks in the country.

The USTA also banished Smart's assistant, Carl Larsen, for a similar period and a Castleton groom, Richard Lane, was given a 30-day suspension.

The USTA decision was announced after Inglis handed out similar suspensions against the three men, banishing them from Michigan harness racing.

While Millar and Inglis were handing down their decisions, Smart was at the Indiana State Fair for the opening of the Grand Circuit program. There, he proceeded to drive My Scotch Belle, another Castleton horse, to a new season record for 2-year-old pacing fillies with a 2:02.2 heat.

Smart admitted that Larsen had given three horses medicine with hypodermic needles. But he claimed it was the drug ACTH, administered only to loosen up the horses' muscles.

Inglis said urine tests showed "positive traces of the drug benzedrine" in Abbasong.

The commissioner said Van Lennep and his wife, the former Frances Dodge, auto heiress, had no knowledge of the injections. A temporary suspension imposed on their stable last week was lifted.

Inglis ordered Abbasong's $1,000 winning purse redistributed to the second, third and fourth finishers in the race.

Hopman Responsible

Overwork Blamed for Collapse of Aussie Stars, Rosewall and Hoad, in Nationals

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It is not pleasant to see a nice kid being thrown to the wolves, even though the spectacle proves entertaining to a stadium full of spectators and produces a welcome tennis victory for this country, for a change.

We have in mind the humiliating defeat inflicted upon a little 18-year-old named Ken Rosewall of Sydney, Australia, in next to the last round of the championships which ended yesterday at Forest Hills. Our own husky Tony Trabert of Cincinnati larruped the daylights out of the weary, woebegone youngster, producing a sad anti-climax to a match that had been looked forward to all week.

Rosewall's showing against Trabert was disillusioning to thousands who were watching him for the first time and had no way of knowing the boy was at about 70 per cent of efficiency.

The ones who knew best were the American players and Rosewall's teammates. Though they were happy to see Tony win, the former shook their heads and whispered it was too bad about Rosewall, whom they greatly admire. The other Aussies were afraid to say anything out loud, as their dandy little manager-coach, Harry Hopman, was braying to all who would listen that Ken was in perfect shape.

Hopman knew better, of course, and he knew he had been largely responsible for beating a fine group of youngsters down both physically and mentally during the five harrowing months they have been his command since they left home for a trip around the world.

* * *

It was suggested to Hopman over a month ago by well-intentioned persons that he was overdoing the iron discipline and keeping kids under too tight reins for too long a period. He was strongly urged to give his company-controlled tennis pawns at least a two-week rest from the game sometime before our Nationals. He didn't listen, and he drew his reward when both his 18-year-olds, Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, were knocked off in straight sets.

Furillo 3rd Victim

National Loop Batting Leadership Proves Jinx

NEW YORK (AP)—Nothing good has come of holding the National League batting lead this season. Just ask Carl Furillo, Monte Irvin and Red Schoendienst.

Furillo holds the top spot today with a .344 average but the Dodger outfielder is lost to the club for the remainder of the season with a bone fracture in his left hand, the result of a melee in front of the New York Giant dugout last Sunday.

Irvin was the NL's pace-setter on Aug. 9 with a .339 mark, when the Giants' flychaser crashed into Del Rice, Cards' catcher, at home plate and was sidelined until yesterday with a sprained ankle.

Schoendienst, Cardinals' second sacker, topped the circuit's hitters with .335 on July 21 when he fell victim to the jinx. He was forced out of the lineup for more than a week when he was hit by a thrown ball by Alvin Dark while trying to outleg a grounder.

Until his injury, Furillo was on a torrid hitting streak last week, collecting 10 hits in 27 times at bat for an eight point gain. Schoendienst, in second place, climbed one point to .341 with 9-for-24.

Jackie Robinson of the Brooks is third with .339 followed by Irvin with .337.

In the American League, Mickey Vernon of the Senators maintained his slim advantage over Cleveland's Al Rosen Vernon showed a two point gain to .331 and Rosen had the same increase to .328. Rosen also is the No. 1 man in home runs with 39 and RBI's with 131.

Eddie Mathews, who hit four homers during the week, continued to lead the National League in that department with 45.

Wolverines Put Stress on Play of Linebackers

Bennie Works 4 of His Prospects for 2 Spots in Defensive Pattern

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Defense, the obligation of every playing squad member under the new limited substitution rule, was the big subject in the Michigan football camp today.

And no phase of defense was getting as much attention as the selection of a pair of linebackers for the 1953 Wolverine team.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan has four top prospects for the two jobs behind the Michigan line: Dean Ludwig, John Morrow, Louis Baldacci and Jim Bates.

Ludwig and Bates are center prospects on offense. Baldacci the sophomore from Akron, Ohio, is the top quarterback prospect. Morrow is a possibility at either center or tackle.

If Ludwig, a Marion, Ohio, junior, and Baldacci win out, it will solve problems for the Michigan coach as they appear the top offensive possibilities in their specialties.

However, if Bates, a Farmington junior, or Morrow, a sophomore from Ann Arbor, impress sufficiently, Oosterbaan will face the problem of finding them a place in the offensive scheme. Bates, an end who played briefly before being injured a year ago, is being groomed as a center.

Oosterbaan's hope is that Bates and Morrow will become prime replacements with Ludwig and Baldacci, carrying the big load.

Both 190-pounders, they have shown strong potential on offense but need defensive development. Toward that end Oosterbaan has started giving them as well as the others, intensive daily workouts behind the line, where the ability to diagnose the opponents play and the speed and ruggedness to get there quickly and stop it are paramount.

Their daily lessons were worked in yesterday in lengthy defensive drills against the reserves that also serve as practice for the defensive backs and linemen.

Charles Again Faced by 'Win or Else' Bout

Ex-Champ's Title Shot Rides on Meeting With Harold Johnson

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ezzard Charles, who has been coming back almost as long as Little Sheba, keeps another one of those "must win or else" boxing engagements tonight against Harold Johnson, young, aspiring Philadelphia light heavyweight.

* * *

The two Negro boxers are scheduled to mix it up for 10 rounds at Connie Mack Stadium.

Should the 32-year-old Charles win, he has been promised a crack at the heavyweight title he once owned.

* * *

On the other hand, the 25-year-old Johnson's manager, Tommy Loughrey, claims Harold has been promised a light heavy title go even if he loses, providing of course, he makes a good showing.

A crowd of 14,000 fans paying an estimated $50,000 is expected at the fight. There will be no radio broadcast or telecast.

The bout figures to be a contest between two clever boxers with the veteran Charles a 2 to 1 favorite to regain prestige he lost last Aug. 11 in bowing to Nino Valdes, giant Cuban.

* * *

There seems to be no question but that Charles must win this one or go back to his Cincinnati gymnasium as another in a long list of former heavyweight champions who failed in their efforts to regain the crown. He is expected to weigh in at about 185 pounds and Johnson at 178.

Johnson has lost only five bouts in 41, those to Archie Moore (3), Joe Walcott and Bob Satterfield, beat Moore once and kayoed Satterfield in a return bout.

Tigers in 6th, Highest Position in Two Years

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tigers have boosted themselves into sixth place in the American League — their highest standing since 1951—and there's only one reason for it: Pitching.

Detroit's pitching staff leaves a lot to be desired but it's certainly much better than those of the Philadelphia A's or St. Louis Browns.

Tigers proved this Monday when they swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 6-2 and 4-2, behind the steady pitching of Ned Garver and Billy Hoeft. Garver tossed a six-hitter to even his record at 10-10 in the opener while Hoeft, shaking a slump, spaced eight hits in winning his ninth game against 13 setbacks.

This pitching boosted Detroit a half game ahead of the A's, who are having the blind staggers, and five full games ahead of St. Louis, which seems doomed to the cellar. Both dropped Labor Day doubleheaders.

Philadelphia and St. Louis have been sad in the last few weeks—and it's because of lack of pitching.

On the other hand, the Tigers have Garver, Hoeft, Ted Gray, Steve Gromek, Al Aber, Ralph Branca and, yes, even manager Fred Hutchinson on their side. It isn't a brilliant staff but it's fair and best of all it shows promise for the future.

While Garver and Hoeft handled the hurling yesterday, Walt Dropo and Ray Boone provided the hitting as the Tigers rallied in both games.

In the opener, Dropo came up with a pair of two-run singles as Detroit scored three times in the sixth and seventh innings. These outbursts erased Chicago's 2-0 lead.

In the nightcap, Tigers also won with a three-run rally—this one in the seventh inning. Ray Boone knocked in the tying and winning runs with a single to center.

Giles Indicates Durocher, Furillo Will Escape Fines

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn outfielder Carl Furillo will spend the rest of the season on the bench but both he and Leo Durocher, his target in Sunday's brawl at the Polo Grounds, apparently will escape unscathed as far as league officials are concerned.

Dr. Eugene Zorn, the Dodgers' physician, said Furillo has a double fracture of the bone behind the knuckle of the little finger of his left hand. He will be out of action until the World Series.

* * *

The major leagues' leading hitter with a .344 average, Furillo was injured in a melee near the Giants' dugout in the second inning of Sunday's Brooklyn-New York game.

He was hit on the wrist by a ball pitched by Ruben Gomez. He started toward the mound but was restrained. After he reached first base he dashed off the bag, heading for Durocher in the Giants' dugout. Players from both teams swarmed about and Furillo's hand was stepped on, breaking the bone.

"I'll get him the next time I see him (Durocher)," Furillo said grimly. "The next time we come face to face—on the street or anywhere—I'll let him have it."

But National League President Warren Giles viewed the brawl as a "typical ballplayer tussle." He indicated no fines or other penalties would be forthcoming.

Flanagan Trips Charley Riley

Expected to Get Bout With Willie Pep Soon in Brooklyn

NEW YORK (UP)—Glen Flanagan, who upset Charley Riley Monday night, probably will meet ex-featherweight champion Willie Pep at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway arena, Oct. 5, matchmaker Teddy Brenner said today.

Flanagan of St. Paul, Minn.—now campaigning as a lightweight—will accept the Pep match if he need scale no less than 133 pounds, Pep's manager, Lou Viscusi, said "that sounds reasonable."

Flanagan, former featherweight contender, weighed 135 pounds last night as he gave Riley of St. Louis a boxing lesson and won an upset unanimous 10-round decision before 1,200 at the Parkway.

Stocky Riley, who had beaten Glen in two of three previous bouts registered 132½. Riley was favored at 2-1 because of the previously victories and because of his explosive punch.

The fight was televised but not broadcast.

Stydahar Gets 'Revenge' Victory Over Rams, Pool

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jumbo Joe Stydahar gained the first victory in his feud with Hampton Pool by coaching the Chicago Cardinals to a 23-10 win over Pool's Los Angeles Rams in an exhibition professional football game here Monday night.

Stydahar, who broke with his former assistant when Stydahar was fired and Pool took over the Rams a year ago, fielded a spirited hard-charging team that dominated the game from the opening gun before 26,210 fans. This was the first time the two teams met since the break.

Cards' line kept the Rams back on their heels and an alert defense controlled Norm Van Brocklin's passing. Besides that, the Cards came up with a passing sensation of their own, Ray Nagel, former UCLA player, who completed the first nine passes he threw.

Nagel threw seven yards to halfback Charley Trippi for one touchdown and fullback Ralph Pasquariello scored the other two Cardinal touchdowns on short line bucks. Halfback Joe Geri added a field goal.

Rams' only touchdown was a surprise break through the line by fullback Tank Younger for 26 yards in the first period. Ben Agajanian added a field goal.

Tiger Tales

(By the Associated Press)

DETROIT—Overheard in Briggs Stadium:

Tigers are in sixth place but before you start any wild dances in your streets, consider this:

They have 15 games left to go—12 of them on the road . . . that means they'll have to protect their half game lead over Philadelphia on enemy territory.

Detroit can do a lot toward clinching sixth place when they open an eastern trip Wednesday night with a twi-night doubleheader in Philadelphia. It'll be the last time these teams will meet this season.

Fred Hatfield continues to boost his average. The Tiger second baseman had five hits in nine at bat Monday, pushing his average to .275. When he returned to the lineup as a regular about 10 days ago, he was hitting .247.

Tiger home attendance for 76 home games is 840,741 — three games are left on the schedule: Two week-end games with Cleveland and a night game with St. Louis.

Hershkowitz Wins 4th Straight Handball Title

DETROIT (AP) — A 34-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., fireman is the national outdoor three-wall handball champion today for the fourth time in a row.

Victor Hershkowitz took the crown yesterday by defeating Gus Lewis of chicago 21-6, 21-20.

A Chicago duo, Phil Collins and Leo Dressler took the doubles title defeating Sam Haber and Bill Baier, also of Chicago in a tight three games 21-16, 18-21, 21-17.

Ritz, Puertas Share Honors at 'Chief' Speedway

Betty Ritz and Joe Puertas of Pontiac shared top honors in Chief Pontiac Speedway's Labor Day hard-top racing program.

Betty won the Powder Puff Derby, finishing ahead of Wilma Fredericks of Holly and Virginia Davis of Detroit. Puertas won the 20-lap feature event, the trophy dash, and the second heat race.

Chuck Partello of Rochester was second in the feature and won the pursuit race. Elmer Ferstle of Clawson was third in the feature and won the fourth heat.

Harold Welch won the third heat, Jerry Davis took the old model stock car event, and George Rhyndress was first in the 14-lap semi-final. Latter three are all from Pontiac.

Phil Long Scores Ace at Twin Lakes Links

Phil Long, 68 Delaware, Pontiac, got his first hole-in-one Monday at Twin Lakes Golf Club. Second one scored at Twin Lakes this year, the shot was made with a five-iron on the 165-yard fourth hole.

Long registered a 43 for his nine-hold round. He was playing with Dick Ackerson, Burl Wright and Dan Bourque, all of Pontiac.

Harness Racing 'Triple'

DETROIT (AP)—Driver Joe Lighthill celebrated Labor Day with three winners at Wolverine Harness Raceway yesterday. He won with Mike Hall in the second race, Merle Rose in the seventh, and Kim Castle in the eighth, before a crowd of 7,807.

Jewelers Bow in State Test

Pontiac Softball Nine Eliminated by Bay City in Weekend Play

ESCANABA (Special) — Jack Greenwood, a Bay City pick-up pitcher, knocked the Pontiac Shaw's Jewelry team out of the men's Class A state championship softball tournament here over the weekend with a neat 2-hit, 4-3 mound job.

Greenwood, who hurled for Rogers Jewelry of Bay City during regular-season play, allowed both Pontiac hits in the 4th inning of the semifinal tournament game. He fanned 11 batsmen.

Glen Johnson went the distance for Pontiac and was touched for six hits.

Pontiac drew a bye in 1st-round play and lost to Grand Rapids Teamsters 8-3 Saturday night.

Spartans Work for Opener Against Iowa

Offense Is Ragged in Monday Drill at East Lansing

EAST LANSING (AP)—Labor Day was no holiday for the Michigan State football team—because the coaches are worrying about Iowa.

For the first time this fall, old charts and scouting reports on Iowa came into the practice picture. Spartans were starting to prepare early for the Big Ten opener against the Hawkeyes at Iowa City Sept. 26, just two Saturdays away.

Coach Biggie Munn's first and second teams alternated against the number three and four elevens, Iowans for the afternoon.

On the offense, the two top combinations tried to penetrate an Iowa-tight defense. On the defense, they worked at stopping Iowa's best plays of last year.

With more than 60 players reporting for practice and only 22 in the first two outfits, coaches had some good youngsters to pretend as Iowans.

Play was ragged, marked by bad timing, frequent fumbles and missed assignments. Coaches said it all could be expected so early in the practice.

Wins National Title

LANSING (AP) — Don Pink of Yonkers, N. Y., riding a Harley-Davidson, won the National Motorcycle Reliability Run staged here over the Labor Day week end.

Pink had 922 points out of a possible 1,000.

Fair Crowd Tops 1952

DETROIT (AP)—Turnstiles at the Michigan State Fair counted 132,588 visitors to the fairgrounds yesterday. It brought the four day total to 413,353, compared with last year's total for a similar period of 317,496.

Kazoo 9 Seeks Its 5th Crown

Victory Today Against Plymouth Would Turn Trick at Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—With a chance to capture its fifth straight title — which would be an unprecedented feat — Kalamazoo faced Plymouth tonight in the state baseball tournament at Bailey Stadium.

Kalamazoo, unbeaten in the double elimination tournament, moved into the final round Monday with a pair of victories while Plymouth advanced the easy way: by drawing a bye.

Kalamazoo blanked Saginaw, 4-0, and defeated Dearborn, 9-2. A win against Plymouth will give it the crown but a loss will extend the tourney to Thursday night, when the two teams would have to play again.

Against Saginaw, Bill Stuifberger, a 6-foot-3, 215-pound left fielder, was Kalamazoo's big batting noise. He sent Kalamazoo ahead 2-0 in the fourth inning by slamming a 400-foot double and then scoring himself.

Winner of this tourney will represent Michigan in the national playoffs, which also will be played here.

Other scores Monday (losers eliminated):

(Fourth round)—Battle Creek 6, Grand Rapids 5.
(Fifth round)—Dearborn 7, Battle Creek 0; Kalamazoo 4, Saginaw 0.
(Sixth round)—Kalamazoo 9, Dearborn 2; Plymouth—bye.

Odds Are Against Roberts Reaching 30-Win Mark; Williams Proves Hitting Eye Outlasts Legs, Arms

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—To show you how tough and rugged the road is to the 30-game pinnacle, the odds are now all against Robin Roberts, the almost phenomenal Philly, making the grade.

He reached the first day of September with 21 victories. This means he must win nine games during the final month and that means he must win every game he pitches between this spot and the final stand.

* * *

Roberts is young and strong. He will be only 27 years old on Sept. 30. He won 28 games last season. But he dropped only seven. He is losing too many games this year.

On Sept. 2, he lost his twelfth game.

It will be about all Roberts and his strong arm can handle to pitch nine games between now and the finish. If he works in more than this number it may be at the cost of a good arm next year.

Dizzy Dean lost only seven games when he won 30 in 1934, the last man to make this mark.

With slightly more than 20 games left the odds are Roberts will have trouble equalling his 28 mark of last season. Even this will call for high-class pitching in every remaining game he hurls.

* * *

Roberts is the strongest test to throw against the 30-game target. He has one of the finest arms in baseball and probably the best control in the game. He has not yet reached his prime.

* * *

It might be noted here that Ted Williams has again proved that good hitters remain good hitters after arms and legs are gone or going fast.

When Ted began warming up his bat he had sore and blistered hands, sore legs and sore feet. But he was soon assaulting the outfield palisades as well as ever. In fact, his average for the number of home runs and base hits was above his normal output.

* * *

Williams' sudden home-run surge is unusual because he needs better coordination than any other batter. This is due to the fact that he waits longer before he swings than other hitters in the game.

* * *

"When I was catching behind him," Bill Dickey says, "I was sure on many occasions he hit the ball out of my glove. I have never seen such wrist-and-hand action in my life.

"Williams has powerful hands and wrists. Johnny Mize, a great 20-year hitter, is a more deliberate swinger than Ted. He hasn't that quick action from the top of his swing. Williams can get his bat from the top of the swing to the ball in nothing flat. At least it seemed that way to me."

MSC Is Named Site for Skating Tourney

EAST LANSING (AP) — The 1954 Midwest figure skating championships will be held at the Michigan State college ice arena Feb. 11-12-13.

MSC said it was selected as the site for the tournament over Minneapolis and Colorado Springs, last year's championship site.

Approximately 200 top Midwest figure skaters in all divisions will participate.

Detroit Netters Win Valley Open Tourney

SAGINAW (AP)—A pair of Detroit tennis aces took both ends of the Saginaw Valley Open Tennis Tournament yesterday.

Michigan State senior John Sahratian took the men's crown. The 21-year-old set down Dick Lincoln of Ann Arbor 13-11, 6-3.

Norma Pritula coasted to the women's crown, defeating Jean Tway of Saginaw 6-4, 6-3.

Mrs. Pritula teamed up with her husband Vic, to take the mixed doubles setting down Miss Tway and Scott Reinhardt of Saginaw, 1-6, 6-1, 6-3. Harold Cook of Midland teamed with Lincoln to defeat Sahratian and Tom Wilson of Saginaw 6-8, 6-4, 12-10 for the men's doubles crown.

Trabert Turns Back on Idea of Pro Tennis

New U. S. Net Champ Wants to Win National Crown Again

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States' new tennis champion is a freckle-faced, 23-year-old ex-sailor from Cincinnati whose immediate interests are marriage, the Davis Cup and college—not a pro career.

* * *

"I haven't had any professional offers," tow-headed Tony Trabert said after crushing Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 in yesterday's finals of the National Tennis Championships at the West Side Tennis Club.

* * *

"If I had one, I wouldn't be interested. I'm not ready. I'd like to win this thing again, maybe a couple more times, and also Wimbledon. Then maybe—"

This is heartening news for American tennis, which during the past week has seen the pendulum of world supremacy swing again in its direction.

In Trabert and Seixas, the United States has the No. 1 and No. 2 players in amateur tennis—take your pick on the order—and will be heavily favored to take the Davis Cup from Australia next December.

"Sure, I think we'll win it," Trabert said after his surprising victory over Seixas. "Australia is counting on those kids (Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad both 18). I don't think they're old enough to stand the pressure."

* * *

Trabert and Seixas will carry U. S. Davis Cup colors against Canada at Montreal this weekend, and then into the Challenge Round against the Aussies.

* * *

Sometime before or after the Aussie event, Trabert plans to marry a stunning brunette named Shauna Wood from Salt Lake City, Utah. She was "Miss Utah" in the recent Miss Universe contest. She was here to see Tony's greatest triumph.

It's Time Out!

"Horton claims he plays better if he doesn't take the game too seriously!"

Hahn Appears in Exhibition Here Tonight

Paul Hahn, golf's leading trick shot artist, will appear in an exhibition tonight at 8 p.m. at the Pontiac Country Club. There will be no admission charge for the demonstration.

His exhibitions have covered nearly 100,000 miles in the past year and a half. Born in Charleston, S. C., Hahn turned professional at the age of 18.

It was interest in junior clinics that led to the development of Hahn's trick shot act. "The kids weren't interested in just a straight demonstration," Paul said, "so I began thinking up tricks to keep their attention."

Asked what the toughest shot in his repertoire is, Hahn declares that the "double action" shot, in which he hits six balls without stopping, with a club in each hand, alternating left and right, is his hardest shot.

Victory at Chicago Fourth of Year for Oxford Mare

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Sickle's Image, a 5-year-old light brown mare, pulled down the richest mile payoff of the horse racing season yesterday by winning the $165,200 Washington Park Handicap as a 24-1 shot.

Just as surprising as her victory was the contrasting disappointment to the 38,366 customers, who poured out for the finale of the Washington Park meeting, in Calumet farm's Mark-Ye-Well.

With veteran Eddie Arcaro aboard, the colt finished a well-beaten last in a field of 13 after being backed down to a 6-5 wagering choice. It was Mark-Ye-Well's third straight and worst loss at Washington Park in a comeback attempt following a six months layoff with a quartered hoof.

The Bull Lea colt, second leading money-winner in the nation as a 3-year-old last season and a sensational winter performer at Santa Anita before the injury, started and finished the race sound, according to reports from the paddock.

Clarence Hartwick, of Oxford, Mich., owner-breeder-trainer of Sickle's Image, said he planned to ship the Sickle Toy-Ariel thoroughbread to New York for fall stakes attempts the next two weeks.

The "miracle mile" victory was the choicest of her career for the Image. It was her fourth triumph in nine starts for the season and the $108,500 first prize boosted her winnings to a total $484,560 since she began racing.

Layne Is Faced With Big Test

Rex Can Re-Join List of Contenders Tonight by Beating Walls

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah's Rex Layne will be put to the test tonight when he climbs into the ring for a heavyweight encounter with 10th-ranked Earl Walls of Canada.

Tonight's fight will determine whether the new thyroid-treated Layne is really the old Layne after all. The test comes under the stars at the Utah fairgrounds.

Rex is the underdog in this showdown. Once ranked second-best among the challengers, Layne fell out of the listings and in his last outing against Walls—he suffered the worst licking of his career. Walls laid the Utah boy out with one hard jolt in the first round last July.

If Layne wins, he once again will join the list of contenders. But if he should lose, he'll have to start all over again on his climb up the fistic ladder.

Night Archery Test Held at OCSC Bow Range

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club archers held their 1st night shoot over the weekend. John Smith scored a 152 over the 14-target course to lead entries in the Expert Bowmen "A" class.

Al Orr's 106 was tops in the instinctive division, while Genevieve Marks led women with 52. Thirty archers competed in the event.

Veteran Redbird Player Is Most Popular in AA

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—If a player popularity contest were conducted among American Association fans, the winner would be Maurice (Mo) Mozzali, hustling first baseman of the Columbus Red Birds.

Mozzali had an edge over rival players in the circuit. The AA clubs constantly change their personnel, but the 31-year-old Mo is in his sixth full season with the Red Birds. That is the longest tenure in the loops.

Dismal showing of the present Red Birds didn't deter the hitting, hustling and humor of Mozzali. Adversity only made him try harder. He batted well over .300 and four times this season had hit extra-inning blows to win ball games.

Mo's biggest thrill, he says, came in the 1950 American Association playoffs when his 13th inning homer defeated Indianapolis and advanced the Birds into the Junior World Series.

A resident of Louisville, Ky., Mo isn't a husky fellow—only five feet nine and weighing 160 pounds

4-Man Teams Will Shoot in Police Tourney

Pontiac's Police Department will be represented by two 4-man teams in the annual Michigan Police Shoot at Jackson Wednesday.

Teams will be accompanied by Chief of Police Herbert W. Straley, who will compete in a special event for chiefs, and Lt. Oliver Lemeaux, department instructor and range officer.

Teams will be comprised of John Justice, Harry Nye, Ray Meggitt, Robert Gaines, Charles Thomson, Leroy Hartman, Rudolph Nartker and Harold Hayden. Team members were determined in an elimination tournament held by the department recently.

Midland Team Wins Softball Regional

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (UP) — Dow Chemical Co., team from Midland, Mich., was the new regional softball champion today after rolling over the Bluebird Tavern squad from Detroit, 8-1, in the finals here Monday to earn a trip to Miami, Fla.

The champs, gunning for their second world's title since 1951, were led by the four-hit pitching of Clyde Dexter. The winners will play in the world championship tourney at Miami this month.

Pin League Vacancies

Several vacancies for individuals and teams exist on the North Side Community Club Bowling League which will roll Mondays at 6:45 p.m. at Auburn Lanes Recreation. Those interested should call club president, Bryan French at FE 5-6973.

Ace at Birmingham

T. A. Chick scored a hole-in-one Sunday at Birmingham Country Club. He used a nine-iron to ace the 155-yard eleventh hole. The shot gave him a 104 for the round.

MONDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press)

BATTING — Eddie Yost, Washington Senators—scored seven runs and drove in three with three doubles, a home run and a single in Washington's 13-2 and 6-3 sweep of a doubleheader from Philadelphia's Athletics.

PITCHING—Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinals—hurled a six-hit 1-0 triumph for his 17th victory and his fifth shutout after the Cardinals had whipped Cincinnati's Reds 4-3 in the opener of their doubleheader.

West Michigan Nine Grabs State's 'A' Softball Title

ESCANABA (AP) — Grand Rapids is the state Class A men's softball champion today.

They swept through the finals, beating Bay City 5-1 yesterday on a three-hitter by Bob Warner. It kept the champs record clean. Two of the three hits made off Warner were blows by Bay City reliefer Jack Greenwood. One of the wallops was a home run.

Benton Harbor took the girls Class C title edging Flint 6-5 in an overtime eighth inning. Betty Lingle came up in the final frame to single home the winning run.

Meanwhile in Ludington, Midland was pushed to the limit but finally came out with the men's Class B crown. The Chemical City team lost to Port Huron in the afternoon round 12-0 but came back in a 10-inning nightcap to win the game 3-2 and the championship.

Port Huron fell to the last inning single of Mickey Barber with Dick Crower scoring the winning run.

Albion went undefeated to the Girls B championship topping Flint 3-0 in the afternoon.

Brooklyn Boosts NL Lead to 13 Games

By JOE REICHLER
(AP Sports Writer)

Too bad the National League season has only three more weeks to go. Otherwise the runaway Brooklyn Dodgers almost certainly would challenge Pittsburgh's record 27½-game bulge of 51 years ago.

* * *

With the pennant in sight, the Dodgers have been getting hotter by the minute. Since Aug. 7, exactly a month ago, the powerpacked Brooks have won 28 of 33 games to boost their lead over Milwaukee from 7½ to 13 games. Yesterday's two Brooklyn triumphs over Philadelphia while the Braves were knocked off twice by Chicago gave the Dodgers their longest lead of the year.

The Dodgers would have to win all their remaining 16 games while the Braves were dropping their 16 to better the 1902 pennant-winning Pirates' record. That, of course, is practically an impossibility.

Brooklyn gained its 95th and 96th victories yesterday by knocking off Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons by identical 6-2 scores. The Dodgers need only nine more to better the team record of 104 victories by the 1942 Dodgers.

The Phillies oined the Giants and Cardinals among the "dead" yesterday as Roberts absorbed his 13th defeat and Simmons his 12th.

Hank Sauer was the chief Milwaukee tormentor, leading the Cubs to a pair of triumphs, 4-3 and 6-4. The big outfielder drove in a run and scored twice with a double and single in the first game and accounted for two runs with a triple in the second game.

* * *

Cleveland's Indians shaved New York's American League lead to nine games, winning a pair from the St. Louis Browns while the Yankees were held to a split in a double-header in Boston.

Ted Williams hit his ninth homer with a man on base and singled in another run in the Red Sox' 7-4 opening triumph over the Yankees. Mel Parnell won his 19th but needed help from Ellis Kinder.

Washington trampled the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 13-2 and 6-3, as Jimmy Dykes' crew plunged into seventh place.

Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial led the Cardinals to a double victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs 4-3 and 1-0. Schoendienst singled in the winning run in the ninth inning of the opener. He had homered with a man on base earlier. Musial doubled in pitcher Harvey Haddix with the game's only run in the nightcap. Haddix permitted six hits for his 17th triumph and fifth shutout. The twin triumphs moved the Cardinals into third place.

Pittsburgh's last-place Pirates won their first double-header of the year at the expense of the Giants 9-7 and 5-3.

HONOR PRO'S MEMORY—Mrs. Jock Inkster, widow of the former veteran Pine Lake Country Club's golf professional, holds the fine new Inkster Memorial award, presented for a new club tourney this week. At right is the trophy's donor, Fred Zoellin of Detroit, who has long played the tree-bordered Pine Lake layout. A large entry has already been listed for the tourney, that runs for three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It is a medal play, best-ball test for club members.

Such Crust Sets Records but Gale Is Cup Winner

DETROIT (AP)—Two Detroit speedboats shared honors in the Labor Day Silver Cup regatta here.

Jack Schafer's Such Crust III, driven by Chuck Thompson, set three new speed marks for the event, while Gale II, driven by Lee Schoenith, of Detroit, retained the trophy by virtue of a slightly better point showing.

The new marks set by Thompson were 95.533 miles per hour for the 12 mile heat; 100.887 for the fastest three-mile lap and an average for the race of 84.306 miles an hour.

Former marks, also held by Thompson were 96.476 for the heat; 98.039 for the lap, and 81.811 for the race. Thompson made the former marks in Miss Pepsi, of Detroit, in 1951.

Gale II got the race victory on the basis of the point scoring system that gave her a final score of 1494 points for finishing first in two heats, and second, third and fourth in the others. Such Crust took two firsts, a second and two fourth positions for a 1438 point total.

The pre-race favorite, Slo-Mo-Shun V, owned by Stanley Sayres of Seattle, Wash., was an early casualty of the event. After winning the first 12-mile heat, with an average speed of 85.545 miles an hour, the Seattle boat finished third in the second heat. Developing carburetor trouble as a result of a drenching she took in the early stages of the third heat, Slo-Mo-Shun V, dropped out and did not return.

Archers' Fun Shoot Draws 250 Entries

More than 250 bow-and-arrow enthusiasts from throughout the state participated in the Pontiac Archers' Tom Grove Memorial "fun shoot" Monday at the Pontiac Lake Recreation area range.

Twenty-eight non-regulation targets and 16 life-size deer targets were shot during the day. Over-all top scorer was Jack Lowry of Pontiac with 452.

Connecticut Gun-Maker Is Rifle Champ

CAMP PERRY, O. (AP)—A Connecticut Yankee who makes his own gun stocks works in an ammunition factory and fires "a minimum of 50,000 rounds a year in practice," is the new National small bore rifle champion.

John J. Crowley of Clintonville, Conn., a quiet, stocky 38-year-old research foreman for Winchester Repeating Arms Co., ended four days of firing here recently with 3,197 points of a possible 3,200.

In addition to the shooting he does in his job, Crowley leaves his wife and seven-year-old daughter almost every night for range practice. He says he fires at least 10 rounds per practice and his yearly total adds up to "a minimum of 50,000." He uses rifles with stocks he makes to custom-fit his shoulder.

Spectator Aids Kroll's Win in Celebrity Test

But Steady Play Gets Ted Home Stroke Ahead of Lew Worsham

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ted Kroll won the national celebrities golf tournament Monday with an assortment of steady shots and a single wild one.

After it was all over, the 34-year-old from New Hartford, N. Y. thanked the Woodmont Country club for its courtesy "and the pleasant member who let one of my drives hit her on the back."

That drive came on the fourth tee of the first of the two rounds played yesterday. Badly sliced to the right, it struck a woman spactator and bounced back onto the green 15 feet from the cup.

"I hope she's feeling fine," Ted said, "and I want her to know how much I appreciate her hospitality."

Even without that break, Kroll might well have won. He was the steadiest player on the rain-soaked course, fashioning a pair of 71s, 1 under par, and getting home a stroke ahead of Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., who was second. Kroll's 72-hole total was 281—7 under par.

Worsham made a game battle of it and almost came off with a tie. On the last green, Worsham needed to sink a 12-foot putt to square matters with Kroll. A gallery of 5,000 let out a collective gasp as the ball rolled around the rim and vered off.

That gave Worsham second money of $1,800 and boosted his earnings for the year to $33,807, most for any golfer. The tournament was sponsored by the Washington Post.

First prize was worth $2,400 to Kroll, boosting his earnings to $18,057. It was his first victory of the year.

Two strokes behind Worsham at 284, was a three-way tie for third: Cary Middlecoff, Marty Furgol, and Shelley Mayfield.

Mayfield moved up with the hottest round of the day, a 68 on the last 18. Furgol, who was tied with Worsham going into the last round, had a 73 while Middlecoff came home in par 72.

Stagg Comes Out of Brief Retirement

Football's Grand Old Man Takes Aide's Job at Stockton

STOCKTON, Calif (UP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, football's grand old man, has come out of a retirement that lasted less than a month and announced he is back in the coaching harness once more.

The 91-year-old Stagg, who has been coaching football almost since the game was invented, said he had taken an active post as assistant coach at Stockton college for the 1953 season. He will be aide to Earl Klapstein, former pupil who starred for the old master at College of the Pacific in 1943.

Stagg, who will be entering his 64th year of coaching, announced his retirement last month when his wife and long-time coaching aide became ill. Last year he served as assistant to his son at Susquehanna College, Pa.

Two-Year Contract Given Ex-MSC Ace

DETROIT (UP) — Dorne Dibble, former Michigan State college end who recently returned from the air force, was under a two-year contract with the Detroit Lions today.

Signing of Dibble, a native of Adrian, was announced Monday along with the sale of defensive halfback Ed Mioduszwski to the Pittsburgh Steelers. Mioduszwski, a William-Mary graduate, was to join the Steelers today.

Detroit roster now totals 40 men, still seven over the National Football League limit.

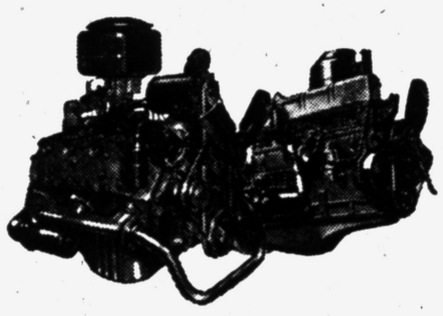
Here's what's behind the big swing to FORD

FORD GIVES YOU EVERYTHING YOU WANT AND NEED AT A PRICE YOU WANT TO PAY!



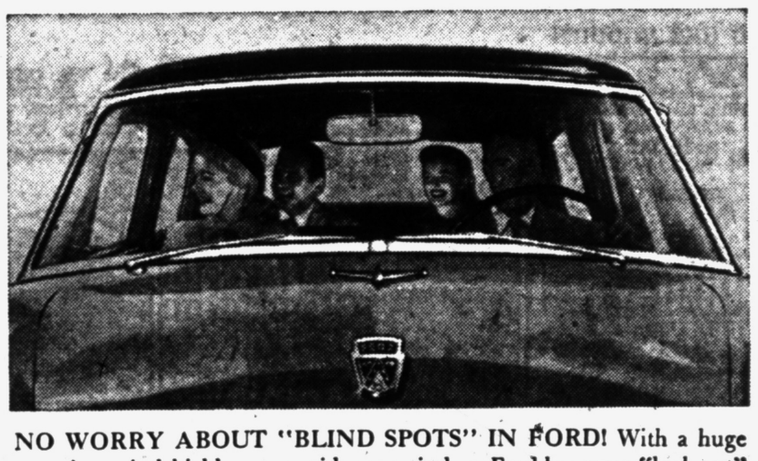
AMERICA'S COSTLIEST CARS ARE SWINGING TO V-8 ENGINES, but Ford's had one for years. (Ford's built more V-8's than all other makers combined!)

IF ITS A SIX YOU WANT, Ford has the most modern in the industry. Ford's Mileage Maker Six with Overdrive beat all other cars in the recent Mobilgas Economy Run!

DOES ANY OTHER CAR offer you a choice of V-8 or Six engine—or a choice of three great drives? How about foam-rubber in all seats in all models, extra trunk space, smooth ride—does any other car measure up to Ford feature for feature? You know the answer—that some cars do offer most of these features. But the only ones that do are costlier cars! Not a single one of them is in Ford's price field! And Ford offers you these "fine car" features, at half the fine car cost! No wonder the swing's to Ford!

YOU DON'T NEED A HEAVY LIMOUSINE FOR A SMOOTH RIDE. Ford's new rubber compression bumpers and more responsive spring and shock absorber action reduce front end road shock alone up to 80%. Takes you over bumps and ruts smooth as silk. Try a Test Drive!

FORDOMATIC DOES MORE THINGS FOR YOU AUTOMATICALLY—over a wider range—than any drive in the low-price field. It does all the shifting for you—better than you can do it! And Fordomatic combines smooth power flow with lots of "get-up-and-go!"



NO WORRY ABOUT "BLIND SPOTS" IN FORD! With a huge one-piece windshield . . . car-wide rear window, Ford has more "look out" area than any car in its field! It's truly Full-Circle Visibility. Fords are built with your safety—and your family's safety—in mind.

FORD'S MASTER-GUIDE POWER STEERING is the newest and finest in America—and it's the lowest-priced power steering in Ford's field! Unlike many systems, Ford Master-Guide gives help only when you need it . . . retains the natural "feel" of the wheel on straightaways.

CHECK THE USED CAR LOTS and you'll find that last year's Ford returns more of its original cost than any other car! No doubt about it, Ford's worth more when you buy it and when you sell it!

WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT . . .
WORTH MORE WHEN YOU SELL IT!

Last Big Panda Dies in Chicago

Zoo Head Says Export Ban Makes Replacing Animal Unlikely

CHICAGO (INS) — Mei-Lan, the last giant panda in captivity, is dead at Chicago's Brookfield Zoo.

Mei-Lan (Chinese for "Little Flower") was 15 years old and had been in the zoo since November, 1939.

A post-mortem conducted on the panda's body today by veterinarian Donald A. Schmidt revealed that the panda probably died of heart disease with kidney complications.

The post-mortem was witnessed by George B. McKillip, a representative of Lloyds of London, which had insured the rare animal for $7,500.

Mei-Lan was found dead in his pen last night. Zoo director Robert Bean said the panda had been ill for the past eight days. His weight had dropped from 300 pounds to 210.

Bean said that no replacement for Mei-Lan was expected so long as the Chinese government retains a ban on exporting pandas which was ordered shortly after the animal's arrival in the United States.

Youthful Bee Catchers Boon to Neighborhood

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — Bee-deviled housewives, fearful of an attack by a swarm of bees which hovered in their neighborhood, resorted to a 13-year-old boy, Jerry Waddle, for help.

The lad climbed a plum tree, put on a pair of leather gloves, and casually scraped the bees into a box. Meanwhile, brother, Billie, 16, trained the garden hose on the bees to keep them quiet.

This was the boys' fifth new swarm for their collection.

Research May Maintain Value of Antibiotic Drugs

By DELOS SMITH
(United Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK (UP) — The antibiotic drugs may maintain their sway over disease-causing micro-organizims indifinitely with the scientific strategy which was urged upon American surgeons today.

It was an attack on one of the most worrisome problems now engaging medical scientists. Micro-organisims have been developing greater and greater "resistance" to antibiotics, and that's bad news.

Some of them no longer succumb to say, a shot of penicillin. There are strains of micro-organisms which now treat penicillin and one or another of the other antibiotics as though they were a light lunch.

If the day ever comes when all or most micro-organisms are fully "resistant" to all antibiotics, it will be a sad day for humans. If the day should come, human beings who now have their lives saved by antibiotics will die; those who get over infections in days will be ill for weeks.

Dr. Frank L. Meleney and his associate, Balbina A. Johnson, of Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons, dealt with a matter of great importance to all of when they described a strategy for dealing with micro-organisms which scorn an antibiotic.

They found that two or more antibiotics may somehow combine and kill off micro-organisms which were resistant to either one separately. They found also that one antibiotic may make micro-organisms susceptible for a second time to another antibiotic to which they had developed resistance.

And they revealed that the percentage of resistant strains of sta micro-organisms responsible for a type of surgical infection — had actually declined in the outpatient department of Presbyterian Hospital, New York, with which the college is affiliated.

From 1947 to 1948, 17.8 per cent of 286 strains of this micro-organism were resistant to penicillin. In 1949, the figure of resistant straphylococcal strains had jumped to 29.1 per cent and then, in 1950 to 43.5 per cent. But in 1951, the increase was arrested — the figure was 43 per cent and 1952 brought a decline, to 31.1 per cent.

The two researchers told surgeons they should not feed any antibiotic to micro-organisms flourishing in the body of a patient until they knew positively which antibiotic will kill the micro-organisms and which would merely stimulate them into becoming even more resistant.

To do this, they described a quick and easy laboratory method by which micro-organisms taken from patients were multplied in test tubes and then subjected to tests that showed the antibiotic or antibiotics to which they were susceptible.

"Frequently" when the micro-organisms resist all tested antibiotics, two or more will combine to stop the micro-organisms. The question here is to find which ones will do it, and they described how.

Dr. Meleney is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, and the paper was published in the college's organ, "Surgery, Gynecology, and Obstetrics." His "plea," he said, was for "a constant and bacteriologic laboratory by every surgeon, so that the patients will derive the greatest benefit from our knowledge of these life-saving measures."

Grass From Russia May Restore Range

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A grass introduced into the United States from Russia 50 years ago may help restore livestock ranges in Arizona and New Mexico.

The crested wheat grass has been found to offer a quick and positive means for restoring range productivity in the cooler, more moist parts of the Southwest.

Value of the grass for reseeding purposes was discovered by the Southwest Forest and Range Experiment Station here.

The experimenters found the grass can increase forage productivity of deteriorated ranges by 10 or more times in two years. Cattle grazed on the grass during the fall have gained as much as two pounds a day.

Wheat Firms After Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat was firm but other grains mostly had a slightly easier undertone on the Board of Trade today.

There was some buying in wheat on hopes of an expanded domestic flour business now that the Labor Day holiday has passed. Selling entered soybeans after issuance of a government cotton crop report, boosting estimated production from a month ago.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1⅛-1¾ cents higher, September $1.91¾; corn was ½ lower to ¼ higher, September $1.55½, and oats were ¼ lower to ¼ higher, September 73½. Soybeans were ¾ cent lower to ¼ higher, September $2.58¼, and lard was 43 to 70 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $17.15.

Market Heading to Higher Level

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market headed higher today after a three-day recess for Labor Day.

Gains as well as losses were generally held to the smaller fractions with many leading issues unchanged.

Trading was quite slow. The pace was better than Friday's extremely low 770,000 shares, but it held well under the million-mark.

Railroads were higher for the most part as were utilities, coppers, oils, rubbers and chemicals.

Motors were unchanged to lower. General Motors traded a block of 2,500 shares off ¼ and continued trading at a small loss. Other sections of the market were mixed or steady.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, New York Central, American Telephone, Phelps Dodge, U. S. Rubber, International Nickel, Allied Chemical, United Aircraft and Westinghouse Electric.

Lower were Chrysler, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Boeing Admiral Corp., and American Tobacco.

Kibitzing Pays for Steelmen

New Markets, Ideas Result From Knowing Customers' Business

You wouldn't usually associate kibitzing with the steel industry. But, according to an article in Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, steelmen themselves are the first to admit its importance.

They explain that the development of new markets for steel requires their knowing as much about customers' products and manufacturing processes as the customers do. Playing the role of kibitzer like this has often meant the creation of new products and the improvement of old ones.

There's the case of the kibitzing steelman who revolutionized the bottle cap and saved a manufacturer about $1,000,000 a year. He noticed what he believed was an unnecessary duplication of manufacturing effort and his company found a way to cut the process in half.

Another steel company has helped customers develop new farm equipment. It sponsored a research proejct at Purdue University that was instrumental in changing the harvesting pattern on the American farm. Researchers developed a method for drying crops in storage structures without having to wait for mother nature.

Steel company files are full of such examples. So next time you notice a new wrinkle in design, finish, construction or contour — don't be surprised if it came as a result of steel's kibitzing. As the article points out, the steel industry has been responsible for new developments in everything from bathtubs to hurricane-proof antennas.

12 Barking Dogs Posted to Keep Prowler at Bay

The prowler who caused all the commotion at a rural Oakland County home last night probably will keep well away from that home in the future.

When Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies Homer Kelly and Thomas Brimhall went to look for the prowler, they found 12 dogs stationed at intervals around the house. And all the dogs were barking.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A general election in Northern Ireland will be held Oct. 22, Prime Minister Lord Brookeborough announced in Parliament today.

Reber Refuses to Give Names

McCarthy Threatens an Appeal to President to Force Answers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Miles Reber refused today to name the men who gave security clearance to Army employes Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) contends are Communist. McCarthy tartly announced he will appeal if necessary to President Eisenhower.

"I can't see how a President elected on a cleanup program" could refuse such a plea, the senator said after a committee hearing at which Reber was questioned.

The general, chief of legislative liaison for the Army, based his refusal to name the security officers on a directive issued in 1948 by former President Truman forbidding government officials to give such information to Congressional groups without Howe permission. Eisenhower never has withdrawn the hotly controversial Truman order.

McCarthy announced at the public hearing of his Senate Investigations Subcommittee that he would have lunch today with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and ask him to override Reber's refusal.

He added he was prepared to appeal next to Secretary of Defense Wilson and then to Eisenhower if Stevens said "no."

Warren Eyed for Court Post

Called Likely Choice for Vinson's Chair; Burton, Dewey Also on List

WASHINGTON (AP)—The death of Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson today put Gov. Earl Warren of California in the front rank of possible appointees to the Supreme Court.

Warren, who announced last week he will not run for re-election for a fourth term in California next year, is regarded here as most likely to be President Eisenhower's first appointee to the court.

There was no immediate indication, however, whether the California governor would be named chief justice, if he is given the appointment to fill the vacancy caused by Vinson's unexpected death.

Some politicians here thought the chief justice post might well go to Justice Harold Burton of Ohio, the only present Republican member of the nine-man court.

The supposition that Warren will become the new member of the court is based primarily on the fact that Eisenhower likes and respects the California governor and in the past has offered him a post in his administration.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York also was being mentioned in some quarters as a possible court appointee. Dewey was one of the earliest supporters of Eisenhower's successful bid for the GOP presidential nomination last year.

However, there are strong indications that Dewey has been getting ready to become a candidate for re-election in New York. Few of Dewey's friends believe the active New York governor would be very content with serving on the court.

Others who have been mentioned in some circles as possibilities for a Supreme Court post include Chief Justice Arthur T. Vanderbilt of the Supreme Court of New Jersey and Federal Circuit Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N. C. Both are Republicans.

New Type Spray Paint Gives Textured Accent

NEW YORK (AP) — For use in spray guns is a new type of paint which provides a textured look for interior walls. The paint covers wood, plaster, concrete and even metal.

It differs from ordinary paint in that each paint globule retains its color when sprayed on a wall, instead of having the colors blend together.

GM Launches New Program

Opens 1st of 35 Centers to Instruct Mechanics From Dealerships

The first of 35 General Motors Training Centers to be established throughout the country for instructing mechanics with GM car and truck dealerships was formally opened in Detroit today.

The Detroit training center at 7707 W. Chicago Blvd., was officially opened by William F. Hufstader, vice president of General Motors in charge of distribution staff, at a luncheon in its auditorium.

"The centers will make it possible for dealer service personnel to keep up to date on a systematic basis with improved service methods and technological advances such as air condition, power steering, power brakes and other major improvements," said Hufstader.

The Detroit center has eight specialized shop classrooms, one for each of the following GM divisions: Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, Cadillac, GMC Truck and Coach, Fisher Body and United Motors Service.

The center, which has more than 45,000 square feet of floor space, includes an auditiorium seating 300 and two conference rooms. It also has its own kitchen and a cafeteria seating 168 persons.

Each classroom is equipped with special service tools and other teaching aids for the automotive mechanical instruction.

The center will be managed by Franz Rooney of the General Motors Service Section. Eight instructors will complete the staff.

General Motors dealers and divisional personnel will inspect the center between now and Sept. 21, when first classes will be opened. The facilities permit the instruction of more than 500 persons at one time. The territory it will serve is Michigan and extreme northern portions of Ohio and Indiana.

Eligible as enrollees at the center will be experienced and apprentice mechanics from GM dealerships; mechanics from independent shops who may enroll through United training and mechanics employed by owners of GM vehicles fleets.

The appointments of R. E. Duffy Jr., E. L. Anderson and Charles W. Grinstead to supervise development of the new program of the Kaiser-Willys Sales Division of Willys Motors, Inc., in the southeast, Great Lakes and southwest regions have been announced by Roy Abernethy, vice president and general sales manager.

Duffy, Anderson and Grinstead have been named sales managers for the southeast, Great Lakes and southwest regions, respectively. Anderson's territory includes Michigan.

The appointment of John W. Raisbeck as assistant general sales manager of the new Kaiser-Willys Sales Division of Willys Motors, Inc., was announced today by Roy Abernethy, vice president and general sales manager.

New Lighting, Tubular, Flat, Floods Market

NEW YORK (UP)—Unique types of lighting figure in new products this week.

A bedside clock radio has a special panel which takes the place of the usual glass or plastic dial face. The light flows from the panel. Brightness is controlled by a knob. Thus the radio can double as a bedside lamp.

The company has coined a word for this technique of lighting—"Panelescent," meaning light coming from a large flat area.

In essence, the lamp is a luminous condenser with three layers sandwiched. A sheet of conducting glass, a layer of chemical coating, and a thin metallic backing make up the unit.

Other uses for the new lighting are seen in advertising signs, table top and control penels.

Another type of light product is aimed at warding off insects. It's a fluorescent lamp treated with a yellow coating. The wave length of the yellow rays repels bothersome bugs.

Fluorescent lighting is produced in long (6-8ft.) tubular lamps.

Previously, insect-repelling had been confined to incandescent lamps which produced light from a single source like a bulb.

The new fluorescent bug repeller is expected to go into use in roadside stands, restaurants and other places where food is served.

City Plan Group to Meet on Wednesday Evening

Regular meeting of the Pontiac City Plan Commission will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Municipal Court, plan consultant Henry C. Smith announced today.

An agenda of nine items is slated for consideration by the commission.

River Courses Through Lake Named for Bird

The Oakland County lake pictured today on page 17 is named for a bird. It has an area of about 300 acres, and a river flows through it.

It is located in a township with a name that makes one think of lakes. A super highway skirts its shores, and a railway embankment overlooks its waters.

This lake was a favorite gathering place of the Indians, and one of their chiefs held council in a grove on its shore.

Its vicinity was one of the first in the county to be settled by the white man. He came there 134 years ago and built a cabin in the primeval forest, and wrote about the good fishing in this lake.

A dam on the outlet to this lake for nearly a century furnished the water power to drive flour, feed and saw mills for the early settlers.

It is not dependent on the river waters to maintain its level, but has numerous free flowing springs in its depths.

Prior to the days of artificial refrigeration, this lake each year yielded many trainloads of ice which were shipped to the Pontiac and Detroit markets. A mushroom-growing business succeeded the ice houses.

It is not particularly outstanding for the large number of its year-around homes, but its bathing beaches are popular. A considerable portion of its shore line has been commercialized.

Though not incorporated as a village or city, one of the county's most progressive communities absorbs much of its frontage.

Early landowners on the shores of this lake included the Williams, Windiate, Stowell, Osmun, Way, Southard, Parshall, Hart, Kading, Ebner, Osborn, Shaw, Green, Riker and Earl families.

If you have not already guessed the name of this centrally located body of water, it is Loon Lake in waterford Township through which the Clinton Ricver flows. Its shores were favored by the Indian Chief Sashabaw, one of the white men's best friends. The Drayton Plains Community now nearly surrounds it.

Britisher Meets With Egyptian

High Officials Likely Talked Over Suez Zone Problems

Cairo, Egypt (AP) — Robert Hankey, British charge d'affaires in Cairo, met for 30 minutes today with Mahmoud Fawzi, Egyptian foreign minister.

Informed sources said the two men probably discussed the talks now going on in London between Prime Minister Churchill and Lt. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, chief British negotiator in the Suez Canal zone dispute. Robertson left Cairo last week for a bried visit to London.

Hankey himself declined to make any comment after the meeting.

Sone progress has been reported in recent weeks in current Egyptian - British negotiations stemming from Egypt's demand that British troops guarding the Suez Canal get out of the country.

A highly-placed Egyptian source said Saturday, however, that London had made last minute demands on evacuation terms and thus had raised a serious obstacle to success of the negotiations.

President Mohamed Naguib said Sunday Egypt "is prepared to consider Britain our friend" if the canal dispute is solved with due regard for Egypt's sovereignty.

Freak Plane Mishap Kills Michigan Man

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — An Air Force observer from Michigan died Monday of injuries he suffered 11 days ago when he accidentally was catapulted through the plexiglass canopy of a jet trainer.

The victim was Capt. William Phielman Paull, whose mother, Mrs. Elsie Phielman Paull, lives at Laurium in the Upper Peninsula.

Paull was thrown 40 feet into the air when the mechanism for ejecting personnel from the plane was accidentally triggered. The pilot was not injured. Paull had been at the Air Force hospital here since the accident.

SPEEDY SCULPTOR — Working against time is easy for sculptor Carlo Taliabue as he works to complete a bust of model Margery Leighton, at a meeting of the Society of Western Artists, in San Francisco, Calif. It took Taliabue, a teacher of painting and sculpturing, 20 minutes to complete the bust.

2 Boats Seized by South Korea

Fishing Vessels Cross 'Peace Line'; Japan to Demand Crafts' Return

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea's defense ministry said today two Japanese fishing boats were seized and four others chased Sunday two miles off Pohang on the Korean east coast.

A ministry spokesman said the seizures followed orders to the South Korean Navy that it enforce a "peace line" established by South Korea in 1952. Japan does not recognize the line.

The U.N. command lifted its Korean Sea defense zone Aug. 27. South Korea protested, saying the order endangered national security.

In Tokyo, the Japanese government reportedly was planning a strong protest to South Korea, and some cabinet members went so far as to urge that the coast guard be dispatched to protect the vessels.

Informed sources said the protest would be based on the claim that the "peace line" is not binding under international law. They said Japan would demand return of the boats.

Meanwhile, in Pusan, Rear Adm. Pak Ok Kyoo, chief of the South Korean naval operations, said "drastic measures" would be taken if Japanese fishing boats continue to cross the "peace line."

Modify Prize Movie for Scandinavians

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil's prize-winning motion picture, "O Congacerio" (The Bandit) has had to be modified for Scandinavian consumption. The film ends with the bandit chief, Captain Galdino, severly wounded.

Does he or doesn't he die? the Scandinavians wanted to know. The producer, Lima Barreto, said he intended to leave that to the imagination of the audience.

Scandinavian audiences don't like uncertainty, the exhibitors agreed. Kill Galdino, they said.

Haul Hurt Explorer From 70-Foot Cave

FRESNO, Calif. (INS)— A rescue party succeeded in hauling an injured explorer from the depths of a vast unexplored cave in the King's River National Forest last night.

The victim, Carroll Sleemaker, 30, of Hollywood, was taken to the Fresno County General Hospital where doctors said he had suffered a compound fracture of the left leg. His condition was pronounced good.

The rescue party, including a doctor, toiled for long hours in the winding, treacherous underground grottoes before they brought the injured man to the cave's mouth.

Sheriff's deputies and forestry men rigged a pulley arrangement at the cavern opening to lift Sleemaker up a sheer 70-foot face of rock to level ground.

Sleemaker fell and was injured while he and several other members of the Southern California Grotto Club were exploring the cave in an attempt to find a passageway believed to connect with the famed Boyden's cave.

Misses Her Fortune

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — The victim sought police aid in locating a client accused of stealing $370 and a diamond ring. The complaintant identified herself as a fortune teller.

Bob Considine Says:

U. S. Winning Over Reds but Losing Rest of Team

NEW YORK (INS) — The Communists have taken a bad licking in Western Germany. In Korea they had to yield on a point that had held up the truce talks endlessly, forced repatriation of prisoners.

In U.N. they have been beaten in their efforts to shove Red China into the body and their attempt to dictate the makeup of the coming Korean political commission. They have lost their big chance to bring Iran behind the Iron Curtain.

Diplomatically, we're heading the league by a dozen games. But, in a manner of speaking, the people are staying away from the ballyard in droves.

In gaining our point we have somehow antagonized the very friends whose voting support helped us gain the point. Most of our friends are paying only lip service to the things for which we stand in U.N. and in the world.

They are now so indebted to us that they can do very little else except string along with us. They follow us, but with no zest for where the leader is taking them.

If the United States announced today that she would abstain on the question of admitting Red China to U.N., and bear no grudge against any ally who wanted to vote Red China in, the country that waged such wanton warfare on United Nations forces in Korea would be overwhelmingly welcomed into the family.

And if the U. S. said to its friends through the world, "Just because we don't wish to do business with Russia, that's no reason why you should not," there would be a tremendous rush to buy from and sell to Russia.

We seem to have walked too fast for the rest of the parade of free nations. The left-behind body of the parade leans much more toward the British point of view regarding the enemy than toward our courageous line-hewing stand.

The British recognize Red China for a number of reasons: The desire to retain Hong Kong, the hope of extensive trade there, and the firm belief that diplomatic recognition does not (as we suggest) constitute approval. As for Chiang Kai-Shek, they'd be happy to recognize him again if he reconquers China. Until he does, he's nothing in their eyes.

They see great inconsistency in our iron-willed opposition to a U.N. seat for Red China. They say, "You stand still for Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, the Ukraine and Bylorussia — why not Red China?"

Anway, we're in the curious position of having set a noble goal, achieved it generally at the expense of a brutal foe of freedom who wanted things to turn out different. And yet our friends keep looking around anxiously for an exit.

Biggest single reason for our friends' desperate effort to get on better terms with the Reds: Russia's H-bomb.

In England, one hears more and more a complaint which runs, "Why are the Americans so concerned over an atomic war? If one breaks out, we, not they, will catch the brunt of it. And the first people bombed will be those of us who must live near the American atomic bases over here."

Beaten diplomatically and propaganda-wise, Russia now seems determined to see what it can do to widen the cracks that imperil the unity of the western powers. It will try with every means to sow dissension, increase suspicion of America's motives.

Its operatives in France are certainly under orders to capitalize to the hilt on French fears of a resurgent Germany; a Germany with a crack new army and air force built to take its place in the European Army.

A Frenchman does not have to be a Communist to hate Germany and its confounding ability to outwork, outproduce and out-morale easier-going France, and occasionally flog it. The Reds have a breeze there. Almost as sure-fire as their Stockholm Peace Pledge.

How are we going to keep our friends as alert to the Communist menace as we are, and as determined to fight it, now fawn upon it?

If you have the answer to that, you can have John Foster Dulles' job. Lately, Big John probably has wished somebody else had it.

Legion Posts Present TV Sets to Deaf School

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Youngsters at the Texas School for the Deaf had a big surprise waiting for them when school opened today.

It was seven new television sets, the school's first. They were a gift of several American Legion posts.

Eases the Pain

SALEM, Ore. (UP) — The City Council has voted to install 56 boxes in 28 downtown blocks where motorists may pay their overtime parking fines and no have to go to the police station. With each parking ticket placed on a car from now on, will be an envelope with instructions as to how the driver may pay his 50-cent fine.
