Popularity Count Dips for Kennedy

WASHINGTON (U)—Despite a dwindling popular margin from a record turnout, Sen. John F. Kennedy held 300 electoral votes today as he prepared to take over the presidency 71 days hence.

With counting continuing in California, and Alaska, Kennedy had captured 22 states with 300 electoral votes 31 more than the needed 269. Vice President Richard M. Nixon took control in 25 states with 188 votes.

Jobless Count Jumps 191,000

October Figure Usually Declines but Total Now
at 3.5 Million

WASHINGTON (U)—Unemployment jumped by 191,000 in October although the rate normally declines in the fall. Employment dropped by 277,000.

When the figures were released at the Labor Department, a government spokesman acknowledged in response to questions that the report could have been announced before Tuesday's election.

Some Democratic partisans had contended the administration was holding up an unfavorable employment report for political reasons.

The October report showed that unemployment rose by 191,000, increasing from 5,588,000 in September to 5,779,000. The fall figure usually declines by around 300,000 in October.

This contra-seasonal climb in unemployment led the seasonally adjusted rate from 5.7 per cent in September to 6.4 per cent in October. This is the highest rate of the fall in proportion to the total work force since December 1958.

Employment declined from 77,767,000 to 77,576,000. October usually brings a seasonal increase of about 400,000 jobs.

The number of long-term unemployed, those idle 15 weeks or longer, rose to nearly one million.

For many months, the figure on long-term unemployment has been around 800,000.

Seymour Wehlin, the spokesman, asked whether he thought the October job report looked "ominous," said he likely to say today that it was an expression, but considered the worsening job picture as "significant."

WASHINGTON (U)—The possibility remains that after late tabulations of Tuesday's election, President-Elect Kennedy will end up with a minority of the popular vote. His lead, 323,468, is less than half a percentage point as of today.

NEW YORK (U)—American Airlines said that one of its stewardesses, listed as dead in a California automobile accident three days ago, is alive in a hospital and that a girl believed seriously injured is dead. The discovery was made when the body was returned here today for burial.

Checks Out Monday for Christmas Clubs

Pontiac banks are readying checks totaling nearly $11 million for about 12,000 Christmas Club depositors.

Checks totaling $333,000 for 4,730 depositors at Pontiac State Bank are to be mailed Monday.

Community National Bank is to distribute its checks Monday. The bank will distribute $625,000 to 7,500 depositors.

Savings plans for Christmas 1961 will begin Monday at both banks.

party candidates. With returns yet to come and tallies for minor parties, it appeared that Kennedy's presidential victory might come at less than a majority of the popular vote cast.

His 50.2 per cent of the popular vote made it the tightest election since the first Benjamin Harrison-Grover Cleveland race in 1888. Republican Harrison won an electoral victory then while running more than 100,000 behind in popular vote.

Plans already were under way for Kennedy representatives to work with administration officials in arranging for the changeover next Jan. 20.

Forecasting a "difficult and challenging" period during the next four years, Kennedy said Wednesday that "there is general agreement by all our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960s."

"All of our energies will be devoted to the interests of the United States and the cause of freedom around the world."

Working with him will be a Democratic-controlled Congress in which, however, Republicans will gain some gains over the next line-up. For the last six years, Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties.

Tuesday's election provided a Senate make-up of 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans to replace the 66-34 division of the present Senate. With tabulations in the House races incomplete, the Democrats had elected 27 members and the Republicans 15. The old line-up, including vacancies, was 283-154. The Republicans had gained 22 seats.

But the Democrats registered a net gain of one among state governors, raising their statehouse total to 34—(their highest since 1933). Of the 27 state positions at stake, Democrats won 15 and the Republicans 12, with political changes taking place in 13 states. Six incumbents were defeated.

Kennedy has said he will wait at least two weeks before designating any of the top officials who will make up his administration. But he will need to designate soon the man he expects to step into the shoes of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state. Among those mentioned by this role are Adlai E. Stevenson, Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, Chairman J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the former New York governor, W. Averell Harriman.

Kennedy will have to decide whether to go himself or send an agent to the mid-December NATO meeting in Paris, Herter, and possibly Eisenhower, will attend.

Kennedy Ponders Selection of Transition Liaison Aide

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (U)—John F. Kennedy called his first formal press conference as president-elect for later today, presumably to announce the initial steps in arranging liaison with the Eisenhower administration.

Kennedy conferred with his aides this morning about the selection of a representative to act as liaison with President Eisenhower's aides.

Kennedy had not yet replied to Eisenhower's telegram on the question of "the orderly transfer of executive responsibility."

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said "We expect to have the answer some time today."

There was no indication whom Kennedy would name as his representative, Salinger said. He was going ahead with his plan to make public the President's message. Hagerty said he did not know the reason for Kennedy's delay.

In urgent advance consultation on foreign policy, Eisenhower told Kennedy that California had gone about as he expected. He said he always felt certain about Texas.

Meanwhile, the president-elect also was studying a telegram from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Khrushchev's telegram appeared to indicate a desire for direct discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union on the most dangerous world problems.

Kennedy apparently had no illusions about the slimness of his victory margin over Vice President Richard M. Nixon. In fact, Robert Kennedy said that in his own opinion, without the television debate with the vice president the Democrats' standard bearer "wouldn't have been close" to Nixon's strong campaign finish.

He replied: "The margin was not the important fact. The important fact is that the senator won and he is grateful for that. He won certain states that he didn't expect to win and lost other states that he didn't expect to lose. The election developed a pattern that defied prediction."

Robert Kennedy, the senator's campaign manager, told correspondents that California had gone about as he expected. He said he always felt certain about Texas.

He'd Meet Jack Any Time That It's Convenient

Between His Aides and

Augusta, Ga. (U)—President Eisenhower offered today to meet with President-Elect John F. Kennedy "at any mutually convenient time" to arrange an orderly transfer of governmental power.

The President also said he would welcome meetings between designated Kennedy representatives and those of the Eisenhower administration, particularly Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

In a message sent from his vacation headquarters, Eisenhower suggested that Kennedy send an aide to meet with the White House chief of staff, Wilton B. Parsons, to make the arrangements.

"I would like you to know that I stand ready to meet with you at any mutually convenient time to consider problems of continuity of government and an orderly transfer of executive responsibility on Jan. 20 from my administration to yours," the President said.

Eisenhower sent the message Wednesday in a telegram to Kennedy at his Hyannis Port, Mass., headquarters. Press secretary Pierre Salinger made it public this morning after an expected Kennedy reply had not arrived in time to be released simultaneously with the President's wire.

Hagerty told newsmen he understood Kennedy's answer—prompted by an acceptance of Eisenhower's offer—would be released as soon as it is received sometime during the day.

Hagerty said he had told Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press representative, in a telephone conversation this morning that he was going ahead with his plan to make public the President's message. Hagerty said he did not know the reason for Kennedy's delay.

Of Course He's Smiling

Michigan Voters Ignore 'Time for Change' Cry

LANSING (U)—Michigan's crazy-quilt, pattern of political alignments was virtually intact today. The cry of "it's time for a 'veto bloc' that repeatedly headed off Democratic and House-approved legislation in the 1959-60 sessions.

A Democratic administration that would be a Republican-controlled legislature. A Democratic Supreme Court... but a Republican-dominated congressional delegation.

Voters indicated they either have short memories of the long legislative sessions touched off by the bitter warfare between Democratic Gov. Williams and the Republican-run legislature during two years of cash crises, or else they agreed generally with what each had done.

They elected Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson to take over when Williams steps down next month after a record 12 years as governor. They also left Democrats in complete control of the eight-man Administrative Board, sometimes referred to as the governor's Cabinet.

On the other hand, they left the Senate division exactly the same, 22-12 with Republicans still predominating. And they gave the GOP a 56-54 majority in the House, breaking the 55-55 split that frequently had turned floor sessions into noisy, unending stalemates.

By electing 35-year-old Justice Theodore Soria, voters left Democrats in 5-1 control of the technically nonpartisan Supreme Court.

Once again, they sent 11 Republicans and 7 Democrats to Congress, and Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara goes back for another six years in the U.S. Senate.

Results of the gubernatorial and legislative contests set up the possibility of more stubborn stand-offs of the variety that entangled Williams and the lawmakers since the governor's first election in 1948.

That already was evident in a statement Wednesday night by Sen. Clyde H. Keenleyside, chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee and a member of the so-called "veto bloc" that repeatedly headed off Democratic and House-approved legislation in the 1959-60 sessions.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. We're interested in buying a cockatiel. What can you tell me about this bird? —Mrs. W. W. H., Dunedin, Fla.

A. The cockatiel, like the parakeet, hails from North Australia. These birds don't offer a wide color selection, as they haven't been in this country long enough for extensive mutations.

Both sexes range from black to gray with red-orange spots over the ears, but the male has more yellow around his face. The most distinctive feature of the cockatiel is a beautifully shaped crest on the head which is raised and lowered according to the bird's mood.

Some people feel the cockatiel is less proficient in the art of conversation than other talking birds, but this is debatable.

They make gentle, amusing pets, and will live as long as 10 or 15 years. These rare birds are also distinguished by the fact that they remain true to their mates.

Di Salle Takes Blame for Loss

Ohio Governor Thinks His Own Unpopularity Beat Kennedy There

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Gov. Michael W. DiSalle said his own unpopularity may have lost Ohio for Sen. John F. Kennedy in the presidential election.

"I suppose we're going to have to find a scapegoat and it might as well be me," DiSalle said during a long post-mortem with newsmen.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried Ohio and its 25 electoral votes by 51,000. DiSalle also blamed Kennedy's Ohio setback on a wealthier, better organized Republican campaign, newspaper support and "biased coverage" of the campaign, Ohio's tendency to vote Republican in presidential elections and the religious issue.

RELIGION IMPORTANT

"I would be less than honest if I did not admit the religious issue was a very important factor in Ohio. This was the swing factor," DiSalle said. DiSalle and Kennedy are Catholics.

DiSalle said he thought his decision to seek one third of a billion dollars in new taxes from the legislature in 1959 "unbalanced the budget—in both services and dollars" was reflected in Kennedy's Ohio loss.

He said the fact that some Democratic candidates for county commission outdid Kennedy in a number of rural counties was evidence of the effect of religion in the campaign.

Thrown Out of Poll, Ghana Envoy Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ghana Embassy has complained to the State Department that an African diplomat was thrown out of a polling place in Georgia by two policemen.

H. V. H. Sekyi, a second secretary at the Ghana Embassy, was assigned by Ambassador W. M. Q. Hahn to observe presidential election procedures in Georgia.

R. M. Akwei, embassy counselor, said the incident occurred in Mapletown, near Atlanta, when Sekyi, another Ghanaian and a local representative of the Commerce Department, who acted as the diplomat's official guide, visited the polling place.

Akwei said that shortly after the Ghana diplomat went into the polling place in Mapletown, a "kind of confusion" started with groups of white voters "apparently resenting his presence."

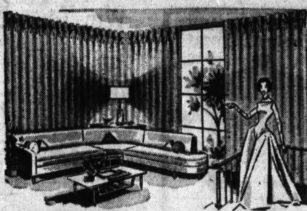

Akwei continued that because of the confusion policemen told Sekyi "to get out or there will be trouble."

Sekyi protested saying that he was a diplomat visiting a polling place on the invitation of Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

"Sorry, we have to see you," Akwei quoted the policemen. He said the policemen "pushed Sekyi out of the building and roughly handled him."

Coya Goes Home Again — in Silence

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Coya Knutson went home tonight today about future political rallies from home and hearth.

The former Democratic congresswoman, who blamed loss of her home seat in 1958 on a "Coya come home" letter allegedly written by her hotel-keeper husband Andy, lost a comeback attempt Tuesday to Republican incumbent Rep. Olin Langen.

Langen took over the lead early and defeated Mrs. Knutson by more than 5,000 votes in Minnesota's sprawling 9th District.

"The 'Coya come home' letter in 1958 urged Mrs. Knutson to forsake Washington for domestic affairs and led to the Knutsons' brief separation.

The couple later announced a reconciliation and Knutson campaigned for his wife this year.

Mrs. Knutson had no immediate comment on future political plans. Her comeback bid was an uphill fight from the start.

Rejected by state political leaders, including Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., Mrs. Knutson carried her primary campaign to the people and won the Democratic-farmer-labor nomination in September despite official party opposition.

No Nursery for Jackie's Tykes

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—In the White House, where she and her husband will take up residence next Jan. 20, Jacqueline Kennedy, who will be the youngest first lady of the century, faces a unique problem. She expects her second child in three weeks and there's no nursery in the White House.

Not since Grover Cleveland's young wife Ruth gave birth on Oct. 5, 1891, has there been a nursery in the White House. It is tradition not to alter the use of any of the historic rooms, which would leave the young Jack or Jacqueline only a makeshift place in the White House; probably a redesigned dressing room.

But the Kennedy women, particularly the society-born first lady, are an enterprising lot.

There was proof of this in the critical early-morning hours when her four sisters-in-law—Pat, Jean, Ethel and Eunice—all wearing slacks, helped man telephones and tabulate election returns with frightening efficiency in campaign manager Robert Kennedy's house.

Jackie, daughter of the late John Bouvier III, was schooled at Vassar College and abroad and speaks three foreign languages—French, Italian and Spanish—fluently. Her social contacts are worldwide, extending even into the newspaper field because of a year-long stint as inquiring photographer on the Washington Times-Herald.

Her tall, dark looks have caused some envious women to brand her overly sophisticated and too chic.

Although eight months pregnant and weary after a plane flight from Boston, Mrs. Kennedy gracefully faced scores of photographers on her back lawn. She even smiled off a very definite "No" from daughter Caroline when the child refused to take her mother's hand upon request.

The blue-eyed, blonde girl, although she will turn only three on Nov. 27, already shows a sense of poise with reporters.

World Papers Seem to OK Kennedy

Moscow Applauds and Peiping Frowns

LONDON (AP)—The giants of the Communist world split today in their reaction to the election of John F. Kennedy. Moscow was friendly, Peiping hostile.

While most of the Free World looked to the U.S. president-elect for dynamic new leadership, Soviet Premier Khrushchev fired off a congratulatory telegram to Kennedy declaring readiness for "most friendly relations" and proposing negotiations on disarmament, Germany and other cold war issues.

Red China's official New China news agency, however, described the president-elect as a member of one of America's richest families and called him an advocate of military spending and war preparations.

The differing Red reactions reflected the Moscow/Peiping argument over peaceful coexistence—with Khrushchev holding that view is not inevitable because communism can triumph by peaceful competition, and the Red Chinese arguing that "just wars" are inevitable as long as capitalism exists.

VATICAN APPROVES
The election of the first Roman Catholic president was received with satisfaction at the Vatican.

Most Western newspapers viewed the election in the light of the cold war and looked to Kennedy to put new life in the Western alliance.

"The big sleep ends" said a headline in London's conservative Daily Mail.

"The White House will soon be as it rarely has been since the war—the throbbing center of Western power," the Mail predicted. "From now on the emphasis will be on action rather than reaction, on the fresh approach, on effort."

London's mass circulation Daily Mirror said Kennedy was the man to dig America out of the Cold War trenches.

The London Times commented: Kennedy either divided or induced a mood in the American people in which "they were disposed to regard their immediate past with regret, their present with some doubt and their future with anxiety. Far from having to apologize for his lack of years, he found them ready to cheer for youth of high interest rates."

coming to the rescue of a tired and flagging policy."

PAPERS COMMENT
In Switzerland the Independent Tribune de Geneve said "American diplomacy will everywhere seek to take the initiative."

Stockholm Expressen, Scandinavia's largest newspaper, said the tremendous task ahead in checking Communist advances and said the Free World hopes Kennedy "will be able to turn the tide."

Norway's Socialist Premier Einar Gerhardsen said he believed the election of Kennedy will contribute to the possibility of an improvement of the international situation.

West Berlin newspapers gave big headlines to an interview in which the president-elect pledged

"we can never permit Berlin to fall under Communist influence."

Cuba's government-controlled press gave the expected secondary and acid-treatment to the election. La Calle, referring to Kennedy and Nixon, said one candidate was "as much a bandit as the other."

But many Latin-American newspapers expressed the hope a new administration would give more attention to their national problems. Mexico City's Diario de la Tarde said Latin America expects a sort of Marshall Plan.

What Will He Do With Front Porch After Defeat?

MUNCIE, Ind. (UPI) — Congressman Randall Harmon was looking for a new job today, despite his front porch campaign for re-election.

The Democratic House member upset veteran GOP Rep. Ralph Harvey two years ago, but was himself soundly defeated by Harvey in Tuesday's election — 104,822 to 78,465.

Harmon seemed to enjoy the publicity and even used the front porch motif in his 1960 campaign, hauling a front porch on the back of a truck for two weeks before the election.

Shaving Commercial Slapped by FTC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Menken Co. of Morristown, N.J., was charged by the Federal Trade Commission today with selling false advertising in a television commercial for its shaving cream.

An FTC complaint said the shaving cream applied to the actor's beard was actually a mixture of Menken Sof' Stroke and toothpaste. This, the complaint alleged, makes the shaving cream cling to the actor's face and "falsely disparages competitive products displayed in the sequence."

Rickover's Father Dies

India's Rising Population Perils Economic Growth

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's desire to bring his people's per capita income near to Western standards by 1967 may be thwarted by India's exploding population, he declared.

India's per capita income is about 61 U.S. dollars per year, he said.

The government has set up 1,500 family planning centers throughout India. The majority of married couples, however, have refused to cooperate.

Experts have predicted that in the present trend continues, India's population will shoot up to 433 million by next year.

Women Bound to Circuit Court; Larceny Charged

Two women accused of stealing over $10,000 worth of fur coats from Northland Shopping Center in Southfield and stores in Detroit last month were bound over to County Circuit Court yesterday on grand larceny charges.

Kathleen Jones, 28, and Betty Stringer, 25, both of Kansas City, were released on $3,000 bond each by West Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle, pending their appearance in Circuit Court at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 21.

Shopping center detectives apprehended the women when they allegedly walked from a shop with their stolen fur coats in their possession Oct. 23. Redford State police said they found over $10,000 worth of stolen furs stashed in the trunk of the women's car in the shopping center parking lot the same day.

—The drop in infant mortality in particular and the death rate in general.

—Improved economic conditions.

—Refusal by the government to legalize abortion.

Additionally, orthodox Hindus believe children are God-sent and people have no right to prevent them from coming into the world. They are, therefore, reluctant to practice family planning.

SOME OFFERED

Public leaders like President Rajendra Prasad, Swatantra Party Leader C. Rajagopalachari and Gandhi's spiritual successor Vinoba Bhave have always been against family planning.

Both Prasad and Rajagopalachari have several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Bhave is a bachelor but is not against marriage.

India presently spends about $10 million annually on the family planning movement.

To make it a success the government has opened hundreds of clinics throughout the country. It has also engaged scores of workers to educate the illiterate or semi-literate public on needs for population control.

The workers' activities are confined mainly to urban areas where people are apt to understand family planning more easily than in the villages.

In these centers, the males are told about the advantages of a smaller family and the use of contraceptives.

Experts here said that women take more time to be convinced than the males. For example, they said women generally reject the idea of using contraceptives. They also show little enthusiasm in keeping menstrual charts to enable them to know the "safe period."

Disappointed Rocky Respects Decision

NEW YORK (U. S. — Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Wednesday he was "deeply disappointed" by Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential election victory.

But, in a statement issued through his New York office, the Republican governor went on to say:

"The people of the United States have made their decision. With this decision, all Americans will now unite behind their chosen leadership."

"This is the profound source of our national strength. It is this strength that confounds all tyrannies and all enemies of freedom."

Rockefeller extended congratulations to Kennedy and said he is confident that Kennedy will have the "prayerful support of all Americans as he undertakes the grave responsibility of leading our country in the days of hope and peril that lie ahead."

RICHWOOD, Ohio (U. S. — P. R. Adams has what may be the world's only transparent grandfather's clock. Clock maker Adams, who operates a jewelry store and repair shop, made the plexiglass case and every part of the brass and gold-plated works.

Birth Control Leader to Give Kennedy a Year

TUCSON, Ariz. (U. S. — Mrs. Margaret Sanger, world leader in the birth control movement, said Wednesday she would wait until the end of the first year of Sen. John F. Kennedy's administration before deciding whether to move out of the country.

Mrs. Sanger is founder and president emerita of the Planned Parenthood Federation.

Last July in Honolulu Mrs. Sanger said she would "find another place to live" if Kennedy became president.

She opposed him because of his religion. She said, "In my estimation a Roman Catholic is neither a Democrat nor Republican, nor American nor Chinese; he is a Roman Catholic."

Mrs. Sanger said in an interview, "Since I made that statement some of my friends who are also very close friends of Sen. and Mrs. Kennedy have told me they are both sympathetic and understanding toward the problem of world population."

"I respect the judgment of these friends. I will wait out the first year of Sen. Kennedy's administration and see what happens. I will make my decision then."

Small-try lunch: spoon cream mixed vegetables over cretons, then add a topping of hard-cooked egg forced through a fine strainer.

The American Humane Assn. is trying to eliminate the steel jaw leg hold trap which has been used by the fur-trapping industry since it was first introduced in England in the 1600s.

Vatican Pleased With Election

Religious Tolerance by U.S. in Kennedy Win
Cited by Papal Paper

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The editor of the Vatican City newspaper, Osservatore Romano, expressed his "intimate satisfaction" Wednesday that the United States had elected its first Roman Catholic as president.

During the long and heated presidential campaign the newspaper avoided comment on the religion of Sen. John F. Kennedy or the religious issue — an apparent command decision of the church hierarchy and perhaps a decision by Pope John XXIII.

Raimondi Manzini, editor of the newspaper, said today in an editorial regarded as reflecting the sentiment of the Vatican:

"It is naturally a cause for intimate satisfaction for Catholics to see so solemnly accepted the principle that a son of the Catholic Church — which enjoys great prestige in the United States — can reach the American presidency."

A high Vatican official put it this way: "What is really important is not so much the fact that the president of the United States is a Catholic but that a Catholic could become the president of the United States."

"The religious issue was evidently left out of the contest," the official said. He called this "a motive of great satisfaction as it shows a great amount of comprehension and religious tolerance among all confessions."

There was no speculation concerning diplomatic representation between the United States and the Vatican, Kennedy had said in pre-election comments this was not his intention.

The last U.S. representative at the Vatican was Myron C. Taylor who was appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt as his personal representative to the late Pope Pius XII. Taylor held the post through the Truman administration until 1950.

President Truman in 1961 nominated Gen. Mark W. Clark for the post of full ambassador to the Vatican but Clark asked his name be withdrawn. No further action was taken then or during the Eisenhower administration.

Suspend Debate on the Congo

U.S. Unsuccessful in Try to Delay Motion of Ghana and Guinea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Sudden suspension of General Assembly debate on the Congo three Western delegations into a series of strategy conferences today, seeking ways to advance President Joseph Kasavubu's bid for the Congo's seat in the United Nations.

Ghana and Guinea, supported by the Soviet bloc, pushed through a surprise motion to hold up the Congo debate at Wednesday's assembly session. Ghanaian ambassador Alex Quinsin-Sackey urged postponement until a 15-member Asian-African commission makes an attempt to resolve the differences between the rival Congolese politicians. The commission is expected to leave for the Congo next week.

SUPPORTS MOTION
Nigeria's Jaja Wachuku, supporting the Ghana motion, contended "any debate and muddling here will result only in making the work of that commission impossible."

The United States tried unsuccessfully to delay a vote on the Ghana motion but it was carried 48-30, with 18 abstentions.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said later that the Congo debate can be reopened at any time. But he said the United States has not decided whether it would make such a move.

At one point in Wednesday's debate, Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny was interrupted by desk thumping from the Communist and Ghanaian delegations. It was the first such display since Soviet Premier Khrushchev left the assembly.

Coveted Governorships Still Held by the Dems

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats were assured today of continued predominant control of the nation's governorships and all the political power that goes with it.

In a state of power shifts, Democrats captured control of seven Republican state houses and GOP nominees fopped Democratic rule in six states.

Governorships are coveted by the political parties as they key to building strong state organizations, through patronage and other means, to help win later state and national elections. The commission is expected to leave for the Congo next week.

traditional springboard to higher political office, including the presidency.

Democratic Chicago Judge Otto Kerner, 52, emerged as a political figure to watch by emphatically ousting GOP Gov. William G. Stratton in Illinois—probably the most glittering state house prize nabbed by the Democrats.

Another gubernatorial winner who moved into the national limelight was Democrat John B. Swainson who held on to the Michigan state house for his party by defeating Republican Paul P. Bagwell, a Michigan State University official. Retiring Gov. G. Mennen Williams tapped Swainson as his heir.

Republicans who scored impressively included prosperous contractor John A. Volpe who turned back the Democratic tide in President-Elect John F. Kennedy's home state of Massachusetts by defeating secretary of state John D. Ward.

Republicans maintained their power in Arizona, Maine, New Hampshire, Utah, Vermont and Montana. They toppled Democratic state house control in Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, South Dakota, New Mexico and Minnesota.

Second U.N. Soldier Survives Ambush

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A second U.N. soldier has survived the rebel ambush of an 11-man Irish patrol.

The second survivor was found Wednesday night near the scene of the ambush in north Katanga Province, a U.N. spokesman announced. Apparently he was wounded, but not badly.

The spokesman also reported recovery of a mutilated body in dense bush near the scene.

It was the fifth body found since the attack Tuesday. Another wounded survivor is recovering, and the four other members of the patrol are still missing and feared dead.

Heavily armed U.N. units began a piece-meal search of the area, which is near the shores of Lake Tanganyika and about 600 miles northeast of Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

The Australian sea horse is almost invisible when it is in the midst of seaweed because of the leaflike growths on its body.

Nixon Receiving Many Offers

Schools, Corporations and Law Firms Offer Vice President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several universities, law firms and corporations already have offered positions to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, an aide says. But his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said Wednesday night he had absolutely no idea what Nixon plans to do after leaving the vice presidency next Jan. 20.

There was no immediate word on any possibility of his remaining in politics.

The Nixons were cheered Wednesday night by a crowd of about 500 when they returned by jet airliner from California. With the vice president and his wife were their two daughters, Tricia, 14, and Julie, 12.

For Nixon, it was the end of a 44,000-mile quest for the presidency in which the grand prize had gone to Democrat John F. Kennedy.

In the airport crowd greeting the Nixons were Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, son of the President, and his wife, Barbara. The President had left during the day for a golfing vacation in Augusta, Ga.

Nixon told the greeters that the airport turnout was "the nicest thing, that's happened to us in the whole campaign." Mrs. Nixon nodded agreement, and the crowd applauded.

Then came the shout that had greeted the Nixons countless times during the long, tiring campaign: "We want Pat!"

Mrs. Nixon waved and smiled, but she said nothing.

The Nixon family had spent virtually all of its time during the cross country flight sequestered in their cabin in the forward section of the plane.

Newsman aboard the plane did not have an opportunity to question the vice president about his future plans, or anything else. Klein said he knew nothing about Nixon's plans for the next few days, but speculated that the Nixons probably would want to get away soon for a vacation.

De Gaulle's N-Force Voted Down 186-83

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle suffered a setback early today in his controversial effort to set up an independent French nuclear striking force.

After an all-night debate, the senate voted 186 to 83 against the plan, which had been rammed through the national assembly as a confidence issue.

The effect of the Senate vote was to delay but probably not to kill the project. A joint senate-assembly committee will now work out a compromise version which could be voted into law by the assembly.

U.S., Australia Negotiate

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The United States is negotiating with Australia for establishment of an upper atmosphere research station at Mildura, in southeast Australia. Supply Minister Allan Hulme told the House of Representatives today.

3 Weathervanes Blown to Pieces by Election

NEW YORK (AP)—Up until the turn of the century—Tuesday there were eight counties, scattered across the country, known as "weathervanes" in presidential elections.

All eight had unbroken records for at least a half century of voting for the winner in presidential elections.

Today only five had survived. Three counties—Albany in Wyoming, Vanderburgh in Indiana, and Jasper in Iowa—broke the tradition and cast a majority of their votes for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The veteran of weathervanes, Crook County, Ore., kept its slate clean and voted for the winner as it has for the past 78 years, although the state went to Nixon. Two New Hampshire counties that have voted for the winner shore in heavy swells.

Because Accra, the capital of Ghana, lacks a natural harbor, freighters anchor offshore and discharge their cargo in two-ton boatsmen who paddle a mile to that have voted for the winner shore in heavy swells.

Says Highways Can Cut Death

Engineer Cites Design as Key to Decreasing Modern Road Fatalities

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — A Texas highway engineer thinks the key feature of modern highways is that they will slash the traffic death rate by almost half.

Because of the relative safety of the new freeways and interstate roads, Talbot S. Huff, chief engineer for highway design for the Texas Highway Department, says speeds of 70-75 miles per hour should be common once laws are altered to keep up with the times.

Huff said at a meeting here that several factors will bring the decrease in traffic deaths. Major among them is design of the roadway itself.

Head-on collisions are almost eliminated as are grade crossing and intersection crashes. Still to be reckoned with are rear-end smash-ups and sideswipes along with the inevitable numbers who fall asleep or otherwise veer off the road.

In his own state of Texas, said Huff, the over-all death rate is about 6.1 per 100 million miles or 61,000 miles of secondary and non-interior roads.

On the 800 miles of controlled access and freeway highways, the rate is 2.5. Huff said many engineers agree the design can bring a drop in fatalities, even when the limit is in the 70-mile-per-hour category.

No one is presently thinking of attempting to build an accident-free highway for the simple reason it's probably impossible, Huff said.

The human element of error and chance-taking puts it outside the realm of practicality.

He said the nation's highway users won't be getting full advantage out of their multi-million dollar strips of concrete if maximum speeds aren't boosted to meet the standards for which the roads were designed.

The 60-mile-per-hour limits imposed in many states become outmoded on the multi-lane divided roads, he said.

The Hunters Become Hunted After Theft

EL DORADO, Kan. (U)—These burglars apparently are going fishing and hunting in a big way. They broke into a sporting goods store near August, Kan. and took: Thirty boxes of shotgun shells, other ammunition, a camp stove, 19 pairs of gloves, fishing tackle, 14 bottles of insect repellent, a pair of boat oars, one paddle, two gun cases, a flash light, three boxes of candy, one box of cigars. They also carted off 3,000 minnows.

Annoying Cat Revealed as Only the Gas Meter

JOPLIN, Mo. (U)—The Ralph Gifford family thought a kitten was meowing in the furnace.

Firemen were called. They heard the noise, too, but couldn't find any trapped cat.

They suggested tearing out part of the brick chimney for a better look.

The family started to call a wrecking crew. Then someone noticed the natural gas meter near the furnace. The meter was squeaking—just like a kitten.

'Sculptured' Styling on Cars May Boost Insurance Rates

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The "sculptured" side panels of most 1961 model cars may force car insurance rates up again.

Sculptured styling is being blamed as one of the big sales points of the 1961 model cars and stylists consider it a "dream" solution to the problem of varying the broad expense of sheet metal on the side of the car without cluttering it with chrome.

But if sculpturing is a dream to stylists, it is a nightmare to repairmen and insurance representatives.

You're sure to hear the word "sculptured" at least once if you visit any new car dealer in the country. But you're likely to get a blank look if you ask what it means.

An industrial designer, not connected with the auto industry, recently explained it this way:

"Sculpturing means any reverse curve imparted to the sheet metal which forms the side of a car. Because most side panels bulge out, sculpturing usually turns out to be a concave section."

Because the sculptured section curves in the opposite direction from the rest of the side panel, it always creates a ridge in the metal.

NEW TECHNIQUE
He went on to explain that sculpturing is a new styling technique because engineers have only recently learned how to draw metal in different directions and to create the ridge around the sculptured area.

Although sculpturing allows the stylist to break up the broad expanse of the side panels without the use of chrome, the highly polished decorative metal is still used in many cases to accent the highlights created by sculpturing.

But stylists generally agree that it allows a more tasteful use of chrome and adds to the overall beauty of the car.

Most repairmen and insurance representatives decline to argue that point but they still consider sculpturing as a nightmare and accuse the stylists of "torturing" the sheet metal.

REPAIRS DIFFICULT

They dislike it because it makes a car more difficult, and more expensive, to repair.

One repairman pointed out that it would be virtually impossible to bump out a fender that had been dented in an accident if the ridge surrounding the sculptured area had been damaged.

He also pointed out that the sculpturing is almost sure to be damaged in any accident involving the side of the car.

This means, he said, that fenders will have to be replaced, instead of being bumped out, in accidents involving most new cars.

The insurance companies refuse to say outright that the new sculpture styling on the 1961 models will mean a boost in insurance rates but they agree that it appears more difficult to repair and emphasize that increased repair costs are reflected in higher rates.

LONDON (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy's sister Caroline Lee married to Polish Prince Stanislas Radziwill—lay ill in bed as presidential election returns from the United States were flashed to Britain.

She has been ailing since the premature birth of her daughter, Anne Christina, three months ago. Progress reports on her brother-in-law's election chances were brought to her.

The princess, 27, and her husband went to the United States earlier this year and planned to be there for the election. But she became ill in New York and the baby was born there.

Later, she recovered enough to return to her home in London's West End.

The baby is still in New York, said a member of the household. She will be brought back to London by her nurse next month.

Director of Civil Defense Henry Sahlin said under the plan the government would finance the construction of the shelter and the property owner would have to make it available for public inspection for one year.

Dens Sweep Macomb; GOP Takes Lapeer

Each County Continues Strong for Its Party

Running true to form, Democrats in Macomb County turned out in record numbers Tuesday to sweep their candidates into office on county, state and national levels.

In the race for president John F. Kennedy polled 105,609 votes compared to 61,989 for his Republican opponent Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Final tabulation for governor gave Democrat John R. Swainson a wide margin of victory over his Republican rival Paul D. Bagwell. The vote was 101,597 for Swainson, 63,354 for Bagwell.

Four Democratic lawmakers representing Macomb County were re-elected to their present posts in relatively close races. James G. O'Hara of Utica defeated Robert J. McIntosh of Port Huron for the 7th District seat in Congress by a vote of 12,772 to 12,470. The district is composed of Macomb and five other counties.

Retaining his post as state representative from Macomb County was Raymond J. Apple Jr. He beat out Republican Kenneth N. Banks, who was making his second bid for the office he lost last year.

The tally was 20,841 for Apple to 19,425 for Banks.

In the race for the U.S. Senate Patrick J. McNamara, Democrat, garnered 104,581 votes. His Republican rival Alvin J. Bentley got 58,859.

Running for state senator Democrat George Steh received 104,294 votes with his GOP opponent Homer Hazelton getting 58,592.

Probate Judges Donald J. Parent and Joseph V. Trinci both won re-election. They beat out Prosecutor Cecil A. Byers, making a strong showing.

Drain commissioner is St. Clair Shores Mayor Thomas S. Welsh, and Harold Brockman of Roseville was named coroner.

The proposal that would have created a new Macomb County city, Moravia Hills, was soundly defeated at the polls, 10,586 to 2,558.

The plan for the new municipality involved incorporation of large sections of Clinton, Sterling and Harrison townships, from the shores of Lake St. Clair to the Oakland County line.

With the vote on the proposed city now a matter of record, Utica's Mayor Edward R. Church said today the proposal to annex portions of Shelby and Sterling townships to Utica can be revived.

The plan had been tabled for several months waiting to see whether Sterling Township would be involved in the Moravia Hills annexation.

Voters in Lapeer County—where a Democratic candidate hasn't won an election in 80 years—swept all Republican candidates into county offices by 2 to 1 majorities Tuesday.

However the unsuccessful presidential candidate, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, failed to reach the 72 per cent President Eisenhower received in 1952 and 1956.

Nixon's edge in this GOP stronghold was slightly better than 2 to 1. Nixon received 16,459 votes in Lapeer County while President-Elect John F. Kennedy totaled 5,008 votes.

In the state's gubernatorial race, Democratic winner Lt. Gov. John R. Swainson did better than Kennedy. Swainson took 5,123 of the county votes while GOP loser Paul D. Bagwell claimed 10,162 votes.

It was a familiar story in the race for the county posts, however. Republicans, many of whom were running unopposed, won by stable majorities in every precinct.

Incumbent Kenneth A. Parks led the GOP ticket in his bid for re-election as Lapeer County Sheriff. Parks won with 11,111 votes to lose Ralph J. Knack's total of 4,090.

Running unopposed but still totaling a great number of votes were Republican Prosecuting Attorney Michael C. Dionise, County Clerk Lyle E. Stewart, County Treasurer Lyle Goodrich and the two county coroners, William C. Heitsch and Ward W. Newton.

MORE REPUBLICANS WIN
Democrats also failed to beat GOP incumbents in the other two races.

Republican Mildred Johnson defeated Richard L. Moore for register of deeds by a 10,660 to 4,331 majority while Claude A. Stewart won handily over Edward Brecht for the drain commissioner's post.

George D. Lutz unseated Judge William H. Harvie from the county's probate bench. Harvie, who was appointed by Gov. Williams to fill a vacancy on the bench last winter, was defeated by Lutz, 7,854 to 5,071.

Lutz also was named probate judge to fill the unexpired term, which starts as soon as the vote is canvassed and ends Dec. 31. He was unopposed in this position.

Incumbent Republican Frank D. Beadle won the nod for state senator in the 31st district over Eldon S. Pringle.

GOP newcomer Roy Spencer of Attica defeated Democrat Ruth E. Knack for state representative in the Lapeer district. The county backed losers, both Republicans, for lawmaking positions.

Alvin M. Bentley received 3,968 Lapeer County votes in his race with Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, who garnered 5,001 votes here for U.S. senator.

Robert J. McIntosh of Port Huron got a 2 to 1 majority in the county, but was the loser for the 7th district seat in congress. Winner was James G. O'Hara of Utica.

Despite Vote at White Lake Twp.

Police, Firemen to Stay on Jobs

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—No resignations were expected today or in the future from members of the township police and fire departments because of the defeat of a millage proposal Tuesday that would have benefited both volunteer organizations.

Commenting on a report that a mass resignation would follow the rejection of one-mill tax increase proposal that would have supplied $14,000 annually for the operation of the departments, Supervisor Edward Cheyz said:

"It won't happen. The men of both departments take their jobs too much at heart to resign. But they would like to see the issue placed before the people in another election."

New funds for the operation of the departments were turned down in the general election Tuesday by township voters when they split their ballot on two propositions.

Both propositions had to be approved before the additional funds could be made available. The first proposal seeking authority to exceed the 15 mill county limitation was defeated, while the second proposal asking for the additional one mill was approved.

Presently there are 28 volunteer firemen and 11 volunteer policemen. Only the police chief receives a salary.

Beer and Liquor Proposals Nixed

4 Lapeer Communities Defeat by-the-Glass, Sunday Propositions

Proposals concerning the sale of liquor and beer by the glass in four Lapeer County communities were defeated in Tuesday's election.

Final tabulations made yesterday showed that the sale of liquor by the glass in Elba, Mayfield and Attica townships was rejected by voters.

Also turned down was a proposition requesting the sale of beer by the glass on Sunday in the city of Lapeer. The city voters rejected a second local issue, which would have legalized dancing in taverns.

A liquor-by-the-glass proposal was not placed on the ballot in the village of Dryden as scheduled because of an order issued by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Shortly before the election, the state commission notified Dryden officials that it is illegal for a village to put such an issue on the ballot during a state election.

The proposal was taken off the ballot and will appear in the village's spring election. The liquor proposal in Elba Township, which had been placed on three other ballots, lost out by a 76-vote margin.

A similar issue in Mayfield Township, where the proposition was being tested for the first time, came closest to passing, but still was 46 votes shy of approval.

The issue was defeated, 378 to 294, in Attica Township. The proposals on dancing in taverns and sale of beer by the glass on Sunday both were soundly beaten in the City of Lapeer.

93.7 of Midland Votes
MIDLAND—Midland cast 12,692 votes in Tuesday's election—93.7 per cent of its total registration of 13,455. It was a new record for Midland. The old one of 89.3 per cent was set in 1956.

No Decision Reached on Wixom Millage Limit

WIXOM—No decision to enforce the city's millage limitation was reached by members of the Wixom Civic Association last night.

Herbert R. Abrams, president of the association, said the meeting ended only with a discussion and another meeting will have to be called, probably early in December. The association's executive board will set the date.

The long-time dormant civic group met last night at the Wixom Elementary School to consider a recommendation of the executive board that action be taken to amend the city charter.

Purpose of the amendment, Abrams said, would confine the city to levying "an honest" 8 mills on each $1,000 of assessed valuation without applying the state equalization factor.

Abrams states that the city has exceeded the tax limit set by the charter by $1.22 since adopting the state equalization factor.

The move by the City Council to adopt the ruling is legal but Abrams said the city has a moral responsibility to stay within the charter limitation.

Abrams calls the equalization factor a "loophole" by which the city has increased taxes.

The executive board is seeking members' approval to have petitions circulated in the city to have the charter amended.

Some 105 signatures, or 15 per cent of the total registered voters, would be needed on the petition before it could be presented to the City Council.

All city officers at the meeting last night took part in the discussion, Abrams said.

Nixon Regains Lead

Hawaiian Election a Real Cliffhanger

HONOLULU (UPI)—Citizens of the 50th state will have to wait several days before they learn the official outcome of Tuesday's general election.

Three electoral votes are at stake in Hawaii's first presidential election—and they could go either way.

The election outcome took a turn Wednesday, when auditors found a small but glaring error in the tallying.

When the final tally sheet was recorded by the lieutenant governor's office, President-elect John F. Kennedy was declared the winner by a scant 102 votes.

However, the figure was reduced to 92 votes later—and then it was discovered that one precinct on Oahu failed to give Vice President Richard M. Nixon 250 votes credited to him.

The 250 votes gave Nixon a 168 margin and victory in the Hawaiian race, one of the closest in U.S. history.

The finding set off a landslide of events, as both parties unofficially asked for a recount of ballots. However, there was no official statement regarding a possible recount.

The official announcement as to who will get Hawaii's three electoral votes will be decided when the outside island tally sheets are received and tabulation by the lieutenant governor's office.

A spokesman said this would take several days, as some of the ballots were being transported by ship.

As of today, Nixon is leading the state by 117 votes. The Republican candidate has 92,288 to 92,151 for Kennedy.

However, the figures are based on the audited Oahu ballots and unofficial returns telephoned in from outside islands Tuesday night.

More than 93 per cent of Hawaii's 202,154 registered voters cast ballots in their first opportunity to choose a president.

Pay Boosts Go to State Victors

Swinson, Ad Board Will Get $5,000 Hikes in New Terms

LANSING — From the governor on down, winners of state contests in Tuesday's election will taste the spoils of victory when their salaries go up in January.

The legislature last spring voted sizable pay boosts for the legislature, the State Supreme Court and top state officials.

LI Gov. John B. Swinson will collect $27,500 a year when he takes office, $5,000 more than Gov. Williams is paid.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, Secretary of State James M. Hare, Aud. Gen. Ois M. Smith and State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown also will get $5,000 increases, raising their pay to $17,500.

Justice Theodore Souris, at 35 the newest and youngest member of the State Supreme Court, will be the first to rate the $7,000 in pay.

crease approved by the legislature in the high court's current $15,500 pay rate.

Others on the eight-man court are not eligible for higher pay unless they are re-elected to new terms.

Legislators voted themselves $1,000 pay boosts, up from $5,000, and added $250 to their $1,500 expense accounts.

Rep. T. John Lesinski of Detroit, will get a similar increase when he becomes lieutenant governor. Swinson gets $5,500 a year in the job.

Chinese Mourn Jack's Election

Nationalists Fear He Won't Back Their Claim to Offshore Islands

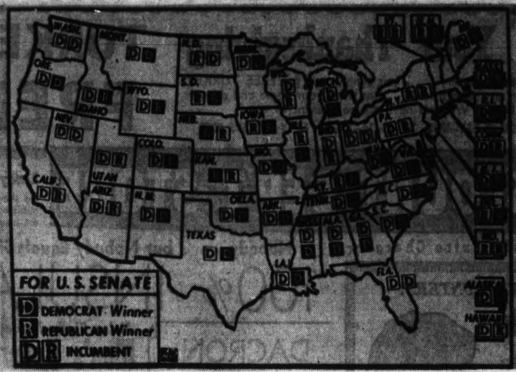

TAIPEI (UPI) — The news of John F. Kennedy's election was received in an atmosphere almost of mourning by Chinese who fear the new president will insist they abandon their outpost islands to the Communists.

Opinions expressed by Kennedy in his TV debates with Vice President Richard M. Nixon created belief here that the Democrat would not carry on President Eisenhower's policy of holding the line against the Reds.

Foreign office spokesman James Shen, who described Kennedy's views on the outpost islands as "ridiculous" three weeks ago, said last night he and Vice President-elect Lyndon Johnson should be "sincerely congratulated."

Government sources said President Chiang Kai-shek will cable congratulations to Kennedy, but that the text of the message probably will not be made public immediately in Taipei.

DEMOCRATIC SENATE EDGE — With the final count showing 21 Democrats and 13 Republicans elected to the Senate in Tuesday's elections, the Senate remains predominantly Democratic.

AP Photofax
The Democrats have 43 holdovers while the Republicans have 23. This leaves the final count at 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans in the Senate in the 87th Congress.

Sheriff Wins Election in Muskegon County

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Marion J. Calkins, who was appointed Muskegon County sheriff earlier this year after Arthur Davis resigned the office just before being charged with assault and battery against a woman who was a prisoner in his jail, has won a full term as sheriff.

unofficial count of 36,837-28,444. Robert J. Danbolt, current U.S. district attorney for the Western District of Michigan, was defeated by incumbent Robert A. Cavanaugh, a Democrat, in the race for Muskegon County probate judge. Democrat Calkins defeated Republican William C. Snyder by an Remember HST and Dewey?

Hairline Wins Are Old Hat on the U. S. Political Scene

NEW YORK (AP) — Hairline victories are nothing new in American politics.

There was 1948, for instance, when Harry S. Truman barely scraped through to beat Thomas E. Dewey when practically everyone — except Truman — figured Dewey had it in the bag.

And then there was the celebrated case of 1916 when Charles Evans Hughes went to bed on election night as the winner and woke up the next morning as the loser.

This year's contest between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon is likely to be remembered for a long time for its hanging complexion through the long hours of vote counting.

California's electoral votes played a key role in the hectic 1916 election, as they did this time.

The contenders that year were Republican Charles Evans Hughes, an associate justice of the Supreme Court, and President Woodrow Wilson, a Democrat seeking re-election.

Early returns gave Hughes a comfortable lead and in many quarters he was quickly heralded the victor.

But the Associated Press was not among them. It clung to a position that the vote was too close in some states to be certain.

For 48 hours the returns kept coming in, and Hughes' electoral tally began ebbing. At last, everything hinged on California — and Wilson eventually won it by 4,000 votes.

When the result was flashed, an AP editor put in a midnight phone call to Hughes in a New York hotel. A Hughes aide informed him that "the president-elect has retired for the night and cannot be disturbed."

"Well," said the AP man, "when the president-elect wakes up in the morning tell him he isn't president-elect any more."

17 Female Legislators on Capitol Hill

2 Women Senators Once Again

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Margaret Chase Smith and Maureen Neuberger have become the first two women in history to be elected simultaneously to the Senate for full six-year terms.

They will sit on opposite sides of the senate aisle since Mrs. Smith is a Republican and Mrs. Neuberger a Democrat.

It will be the first time since 1934 that Sen. Smith has had female company in the Senate. That year a Nebraska woman was elected to fill a two-month vacancy.

Sen. Smith's victory in Maine meant her third straight six-year term. Mrs. Neuberger was elected to the Oregon seat held by her husband before his death earlier this year.

Mrs. Smith also was involved in another female "first"—the first woman vs. woman contest for a senate seat in history. She defeated Democrat Lucia Cormier.

By winning in Oregon, Mrs. Neuberger became the 10th woman to serve in the senate.

Arkansas Democrat Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, who served 13 years and one month before her term expired on Jan. 3, 1945, was the first woman ever to be chairman of a Senate committee.

The 1960 election almost brought off another first—the highest number of women in Congress. As 41 in 12 women were elected to the House. This means the 87th Congress will match the record high of 17 females who served in the last Congress.

The record was almost set by Democrat Miss Dorothy O'Brien running for the 15th Congressional district, she was defeated by veteran Rep. Nosh Mason, senior Republican on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee.

ALL RENAMED TO HOUSE.

Not one of the 14 women House members who sought re-election was defeated. The 15th House seat was captured by Mrs. Neuberger's state of Washington by Democrat Mrs. Julia B. Hansen. One of the few Democrats to get a GOP seat, she was elected to the spot left vacant by the death of veteran Republican Rep. Russell S. Mack.

In one of the nation's more publicized races, Mrs. Coya Knutson was defeated in Minnesota.

She was the only Democrat unseated by a Republican in the 358 congressional elections, and she blamed her narrow defeat then on her husband's "Coya, come home" plea.

This time her husband gave her full support, but Mrs. Knutson Democrat Miss Dorothy O'Brien District in Illinois. In a narrow

Jack to Swear on Douay Bible

But Magazines Agree That Church's Influence Will Stop There

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When President-Elect John F. Kennedy takes his oath of office next Jan. 20, he probably will rest his hand upon a Douay Bible used by the Catholics rather than the King James' Protestant version.

This innovation can hardly be said to strike at the roots of the U.S. Constitutional system. Will there be other, more basic ways in which America's first Catholic president will differ from his 33 Protestant predecessors?

During the campaign, a number of Protestant clergymen voiced fears that a Catholic president would take orders from the Pope and would seek in various ways to give his church a preferred position in American society.

But many knowledgeable Protestants and Catholics expect precisely the opposite. They are convinced that Kennedy will go out of his way to display his independence of ecclesiastical control, and his devotion to church-state separation.

Even before Kennedy was nominated, the Catholic magazine Commonweal observed that there would be no "organizational advantages for the church" in having one of its members in the White House.

More recently, an article in the Protestant journal Christian Century asserted that Kennedy, being immune to any charge of anti-Catholicism, is "better equipped to deal with hierarchical pressures" than a Protestant president might be.

Those who hold this view note that it was an Episcopalian president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who sent a special envoy to the Vatican, and a Baptist, Harry S. Truman, who proposed sending an ambassador.

Kennedy has said that he opposes any U.S. diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

Ex-Officer Jailed for Espionage Work

PARIS (UPI) — Five more persons, including a former Spanish Republican Army general, were jailed Wednesday on charges of working for a Polish espionage network in France.

The Communist mayor of the town of Penain and seven other persons were arrested on the same charges last week.

Gen. Luis Fernandez, 46, was among those jailed, police said he was the leader of the clandestine Spanish Communist party.

State Has First Husband-Wife Team of Jurists

MARSHALL (UPI) — Michigan has its first husband-and-wife team of jurists today, after Mary Coleman won election as Calhoun County probate judge.

She is the wife of former State Sen. Creighton Coleman, who is now Calhoun County circuit judge. She won a hard-fought race against Battle Creek Municipal Judge William Burke, by 23,161 votes to 15,311 votes with one precinct uncounted. Her father-in-law is Mayor-Hewitt Coleman of Marshall.

Winter Tips for Motorists

Riding Ease Up to You

Michigan's winter driving conditions are capable of producing unpleasant problems that would hardly occur during more favorable weather.

Freezing temperatures, mud, slush, snow and ice-covered highways team up to make life miserable for the unwary motorist.

"Winter motoring difficulties," according to H. A. Hales, general service manager for Pontiac Motor Division, "can be easily avoided if your car is in excellent mechanical condition before the advent of wintry weather."

"Even though your car may not need a general tuning, a thorough check should always be made to make certain that every part is functioning properly," advises Hales.

SPECIAL ATTENTION
Special attention should be given to cooling, lubrication, electrical units, tires and fuel and heating systems.

Here are some of the more important things recommended by Hales:

Poorly maintained cooling systems seem to be the most frequent cause of winter driving troubles.

The radiator should be drained, flushed and refilled with fresh antifreeze in amounts recommended for the geographical area which the car will be operating.

All cooling system components should be checked, including drive belts, thermostats and water hoses. One faulty hose can make life miserable.

Efficient operation in cold weather demands a good battery and electrical system. Battery connections should be cleaned and tightened, while the voltage regulator and all lights should be checked.

To insure quick and easy starts the engine may need new plugs, points and condenser.

REFILL CRANKCASE
The crankcase should be drained and refilled with oil of proper viscosity for winter temperatures and the chassis should be completely lubricated.

To prevent condensation and the resultant fuel line freeze-up, the gas tank should be maintained at full level whenever possible.

Tires should be properly inflated, including the spare, and evenly adjusted brakes can prevent a bad skid on slick pavements.

And don't overlook solvent and anti-freeze in the windshield washers to get rid of mud and grimy slush.

Winter means long stretches of driving with the windows closed and this means the car's entire exhaust system must be leak proof so fumes can't seep into the passenger compartment.

Nothing adds so much comfort to winter motoring as a good heater and defroster. Thus a thorough check for adequate heating is time well spent.

Motor vehicle fatalities in the first half of 1960 resulted in 23,000 life insurance death claims for a total of 62 million dollars, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Because of its low salt content, large sections of the Baltic Sea freeze over for three to five months each winter.

Putting Foot in Mouth Hurts More Than Cavity

LONDON (U)—Queen Elizabeth's husband coined a new word Wednesday out of the personal and painful experience—dentopodology.

"Dentopodology is the science of opening your mouth and putting your foot in it," Prince Philip told the General Dental Council in London. "I've been practicing it for years."

Headlined in Europe

LONDON (UPI)—Western European newspapers proclaimed the election of John F. Kennedy as president of the United States in whopping headlines and introduced him to readers as a bright and refreshing new leader of the Western world.

They're Products of Michigan Soil

Test Anticancer Substances in State

LANSING (U)—Two anticancer substances hopefully being pushed to advanced stages of testing, but as yet tried only on animals, literally are products of Michigan soil.

"We began by isolating a whole variety of organisms in farm soil," said Dr. Singer Olsen in explaining the discoveries.

"Why the soil? It's a good place to find bugs."

The spotlight has flickered momentarily on 11 years of painstaking scientific work at the State Health Department laboratory.

series, directed by Olsen, a biochemist, since 1951.

It played briefly on twin results of courses of tests that now have ranged over 35,000 substances in the search for valuable disease-fighting chemical compounds.

The State Administrative Board approved applying for a U.S. patent on one discovery so new it as yet has no name, described only as a "compound with anticancer activities."

As to the other, called alpha sarcin, the board ratified agreements authorizing three commercial drug firms to further research, and, if human trials are successful, offer it to the public.

Abbott Laboratories, Parke Davis Co. and Upjohn Co. all would gain the right to state licensing, returning the state 5 per cent on net proceeds.

Olsen said alpha sarcin, tried on mice, rats and hamsters, inhibited growth of 13 types of malignant animal tumors. It gets its name from sarcosine, a type of cancer of supporting tissue against which it is effective.

Exactly what it is? Olsen and other health officials were reticent. Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said extensive disclosures now might interfere with potential applications here and abroad.

However, they said the substance is the product of an organism found in soil.

IT'S A TAN POWDER

After soil is shaken for three days and strained, and elements are run through culturing, fermentation, purification and other processes, the substance itself emerges in the form of a tan powder.

Heustis said the state laboratory has just about reached the limit of its capacity, and manufacture of volumes needed for clinical research requires facilities available only to big drug firms.

"It's like going from a 10-gallon tank to a 10,000-gallon tank basis," he said. "With us, to go on would be like cooking eggs in a test tube. To feed an army takes a long time."

In 1953, the state applied for and was granted a patent on a substance called synnematin, an antibiotic that combats typhoid, syphilis and gonorrhea.

Development work still is going on at the University of Michigan and the U.S. Public Health Service. "There was so little typhoid in Michigan and the country that no one was much interested for a time in the investment necessary to carry it through," Heustis said.

The commission faced the program from 1946 when the legislature first set aside money specifically for research into antibiotics.

The object was to work against diseases then without any specific therapy—tuberculosis, whooping cough and certain typhoid-like diseases.

Some laboratory energies were channeled into the fight against cancer early in 1957 after substances being tested as antibiotics were found to have tumor-inhibiting characteristics, Heustis said.

Of the 35,000 substances tried out, the number under investigation has been "weeded down" to several score.

Godfrey Undergoes Surgery for Tumor

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (U)—Arthur Godfrey underwent surgery Wednesday for removal of a fatty tumor from his back.

The television and radio entertainer was "feeling fine" following the operation in Columbia Presbyterian Hospital, a spokesman said.

Surgeons said the tumor was "benign." Godfrey underwent a cancer operation for removal of his left lung in April 1959.

The red-haired entertainer expected to be discharged Saturday. A spokesman for Godfrey said there would be no interruption of his daily radio show, which was taped in advance.

Sheriff Riddles Alibi

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (U)—Sheriff's Deputy Ray Cartwright tells this one: A woman telephoned asking if her husband had been in jail over the weekend. Cartwright checked the records and answered he had not. Then he heard the woman shout at someone at her end of the line: "You bum, you're lying to me. You've been out with that blonde again."

Con-Con Work to Roll Soon

Elections Director Will Call On Both Parties for 3-Year Job

LANSING (UPI) — The wheels will begin grinding again soon on a three-year period aimed at constitutional reform on the basis of the three-pronged constitutional convention proposal approved in Tuesday's election.

"I'd like to bring a few of the lawmakers from both parties together to write new legislation for the con-con," said Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery.

The Legislative Service Bureau actually has the task of writing the legislation as requested by lawmakers or constitutional amendments, but the elections division will play a major role in this job.

"There has been some mention of changing the law to elect delegates on a nonpartisan basis," Montgomery said, "but neither party has expressed much interest in such a plan."

SPEED NECESSARY
"So I hope we can get some lawmakers in here to discuss the legislation," he said.

The elections chief said speed in changing the legislation early in the 1961 session was of utmost importance because of the timetable behind the con-con amendment passed Tuesday.

At the beginning of the petition drive the timetable ran like this: April 1961 — Spring election vote on whether to hold a con-con.

Aug-Sept. 1961 — Election of Delegates completed during this period.

Oct. 4, 1961 — Start convention in Lansing, to continue until business is completed.

Jan. 1, 1962 — Possible adjournment of the con-con to meet deadlines for placing proposed amendments or a new constitution before the voters.

April 1962 — Possible special election to vote on amendments or new constitution recommended by the convention.

Each date on the timetable, of course, relies on the previous "deadline."

Great-Grandfather Lived There

Irish Town Proud of Kennedy

NEW ROSS, Ireland (UPI)—It was a great day for John Fitzgerald Kennedy in the United States and the Irish in this east-coast town of County Wexford.

For this is the town from which the American president-elect's great-grandfather left for the United States as a penniless emigrant during the potato famine of the 1840s.

Kennedy's victory in the U.S. presidential race was the biggest thing to happen to New Ross since the British repulsed an attack by rebellious Irishmen in 1798.

And townspeople made the most of it. Victory bunting decorated homes and buildings. The United States flag flew over the town's Royal Hotel. Pubs did a roaring business.

More than 15,000 visitors, here for a plowing contest, joined the town's 5,000 inhabitants in celebrating the historic electoral victory by a descendant of one of their "boys."

Chairman Andrew Minahan

of the local council cabled official greetings to Kennedy.

"The people of New Ross, Ireland, overjoyed at your election," the message read. "Congratulations and best wishes."

RECALL VISIT
Many here recalled the day 10 years ago when a tall, thin stranger came on a nostalgic pilgrimage to the nearby Hamlet of Dungstown to trace his Irish ancestors.

But nobody then could foresee that the quiet man who sat in the kitchen of his cousin's house would someday occupy the White House in Washington.

The cousin, Jim Kennedy, 34, said he and his family took a "quiet interest" in the presidential elections.

"It is a great thing," he said, "for a man whose great-grandfather came out of an Irish cottage to be elected president of the United States."

Recalling his American cousin's 1959 visit, Kennedy said:

"John came in the kitchen and had tea with us. He was not overtalkative but he was very interested in our way of life and what we knew of the Kennedy."

"He took a lot of photographs and was particularly interested in a very old ruin near our farm which probably belonged to his great-grandfather."

Then, with a note of pride in his voice, the elder Kennedy added: "My family and I will always remember that we shook hands 14 — STATE SMOTHER with a man of destiny."

Dior Designer Gets Treatment

Undergoes Deep Sleep, Is Discharged From French Army

PARIS (UPI) — Yves Saint Laurent, former "wonderboy" chief designer of the fashion House of Dior, today left the Paris military hospital where he has been undergoing "deep sleep" treatment for the past two months, informants said.

The sources said the move followed the confirmation by an army commission of Saint-Laurent's discharge from the army on medical grounds.

The Val de Grace Military Hospital, always secretive, refused to confirm the report directly, Saint-Laurent's discharge from the army was decided in principle last month, after he had been lying in the military hospital in an induced coma for five weeks.

Saint-Laurent collapsed with what was described as a "nervous condition" a few days after he was drafted Sept. 1.

In mid-September the House of Christian Dior announced his replacement by Marc Bohan, 35, his former chief assistant.

When Saint-Laurent's discharge was discussed, a Dior spokesman

Food Supplies for '61 to Be More Ample

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department said today food supplies through 1961 will be a little larger than this year.

Retail food prices in 1961 are expected to average close to those of this year. Total expenditures for food next year may be a little higher than in 1960 because of increased production.

Consumer demand is expected to remain strong next year, and food consumption per capita likely will be about the same as in 1960, the department said in the 1961 outlook issue of "The National Food Situation."

HERE! EASIER GOING FOR THE DRIVER AND THE LOAD. LONGER LIFE FOR THE TRUCK!

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on.

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvaire 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!

Sees Little U.S. Change
TOKYO (AP) — Japanese Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka Wednesday predicted a more energetic but basically unchanged U.S. foreign policy under the presidency of Democrat John F. Kennedy. The opposition Socialists said Kennedy's victory probably would make it easier for them to realize the neutralist policy that they want Japan to adopt.

Says Machines Will Teach Soon

Expert Claims Device Will Multiply Worth of Professors

NEW YORK (UPI) — (By the second half of the 1960s, most of the "systematic" teaching in American schools and colleges will be done with teaching machines and new programmatic textbooks, an educational psychologist believes.

"The new machines and new style textbooks, far from replacing teachers, will give our schools and colleges the equivalent of the services of many extra teachers we can't afford now," Dr. Norman Crowder said.

Teaching machines costing $800 or even $5,000, and programmatic texts costing a lot more than today's textbooks will make sense to school boards and trustees when their potential is worked out to the point where it is clear that they multiply the efficiency of the teacher many times.

Crowder says these machines and books will never be used to teach the humanities—history, literature, art, philosophy, etc. But their experimental use already has indicated they will bring about a revolution teaching mathematics, the sciences and many "systematic" subjects.

"We've had enough experience already to know that calculus and some other systematic subjects now in the university curriculum can be learned readily by high school students. As a stunt, we successfully taught computer programming to fifth graders at Santa Monica, Calif."

Nixon Still a Favorite in His Home Town

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — Although Vice President Richard M. Nixon lost the presidential election he was a better than two-to-one choice in his home town. Final returns from this Los Angeles suburb showed 14,417 votes for the Republican nominee to 6,713 for the Democratic winner, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Premier Hopefuls in Japan Sate TV Debate

TOKYO (UPI)—The three leading contenders for the Japanese premiership will debate foreign policy and domestic issues Saturday in the nation's first televised debate on such a scale.

Premier Hayato Ikeda, head of the Liberal Democrats, acting Socialist Chairman Saburo Ieda, and Democratic Socialist Chairman Shuichi Nishio will take part in the 90-minute debate. Each will read a statement and answer questions submitted in advance by local newspapers.

Ieda favors continued defenses with the United States. His opponents want a neutralist Japan. Ikeda was favored to win the Nov. 20 election.

Macmillan May Fly Here

Allies Cheer Kennedy

LONDON (UPI)—Leaders of East and West welcomed President-Elect John F. Kennedy with congratulations today and Allied chiefs looked forward to taking his measure in personal meetings.

Diplomatic sources said British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan may fly to Washington after the inauguration to get Anglo-American cooperation off to a good start in the new administration.

Macmillan believes this partnership eventually will be the salvation of world peace and the future of mankind.

Other leaders, particularly West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, also were reported anxious for an early get-together.

French President Charles de Gaulle and Macmillan are in their 60's and Adenauer is 81. They are more than intrigued at the prospect of dealing with a new world leader only 43 years old.

DeGaulle, uncertain just what Kennedy's election will mean in regard to the U.S. attitude on Algeria, nevertheless was warm in his message to Kennedy.

"I greet you, my dear partner, with my heartfelt congratulations," he said. "I send you in the name of France all my wishes for the United States."

an argument with Probate Judge Berga Lindy.

Lindy was defeated in his bid for another term by David R. Nugent, 1,799-1,484.

GM's President Gordon Says:

Yearly Changeover All to the Good

By DEN FOLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (U.P.)—The giant of the automobile industry has once again put itself firmly on the side of annual model changes with the claim they are good for the nation's economy as well as for car buyers.

John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, says the yearly changeover is dynamic obsolescence.

Critics call it planned obsolescence. Gordon told a New York gathering last week that "neither our industry, nor any other industry for that matter, need apologize for dynamic obsolescence. It makes a substantial contribution to our economy and to our customers."

Some critics felt this statement ranked somewhere near another famous quotation attributed to another president of General Motors. Back in January 1953 during a closed Senate hearing, Charles E. Wilson was reported to have said "What's good for General Motors is good for the country."

The record showed, however, that Wilson never made the remark. The correct version was, "For years I thought what was good for General Motors was good for the country."

Gordon backs up his arguments like this:

"If manufacturers did not change models each year the 20 million new car buyers who now come to market over a period of three years might well come to market once in six years."

NO INCENTIVE

"In other words, they would continue to use the same car as long as it gave satisfactory service. There would be no incentive to replace it."

"Obviously, this would cut our annual sales in half. With volume reduced, each car would cost more to produce, and I am sure that this increased cost would more than offset any saving resulting from not changing models."

Gordon maintains annual model changes spur automotive advances because they keep designers and engineers "close to the boiling point." These men know, Gordon says, that if they don't perfect improvements promptly they will lose ground to competitors who do.

NO HOLD BACK

Gordon hotly denied suggestions the manufacturers hold back on quality because they know the product will become obsolete.

"We are certainly planning obsolescence but only on the basis of improving the quality of the product," he declared.

George Romney, president of American Motors, has been the most outspoken critic within the industry of what he refers to as planned obsolescence.

When he introduced his 1961 model Rambler American he virtually promised it would remain unchanged for at least three years. It had gone 10 years without a major restyling.

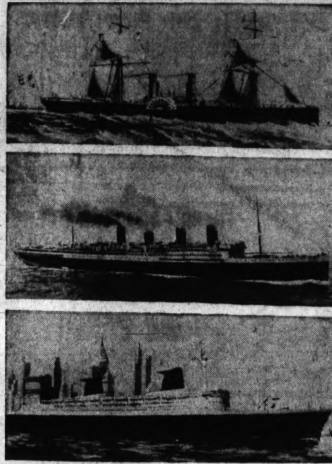

In an article he wrote last year Romney said, "While the typical customer will continue to seek improvement in automobiles, he is already disenchanted with recurrent sheet metal changes as an expression of improvement."

And he added, "Unless engineering improvements that produce customer benefits again predominate, annual new model introductions might well become a meaningless rite."

Some observers noted the compact cars underwent only minor changes from the 1960 to 1961 model year. Gordon was asked whether this trend could be considered indicative of the future.

"I think as the market increases you will see changes," he replied. "The same requirements are there; the same desire is there, let us say to maintain their attractiveness and keep improving them, so, I think you will see a rate of change in the small cars that will be comparable to that in the larger cars."

And so the argument continues.

NAME'S THE SAME — These three liners were all christened "France" but that's where the resemblance stops. Top is the first, a sail-and-sidewheeler steamer built in 1864 and in service till 1910. Center is the giant four-stacker in use from 1912 to 1934. Bottom is the newest "France" which was launched May 11 at Saint-Nazaire.

Scrap Industry Thrives

That Poor Old Junkman Has Gone Big Business

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The humble junkman who used to poke a battered horse-drawn cart or a battered pickup truck through the streets and about himself hoarse offering to buy old metal has become a big business man.

In fact, the scrap dealer in recent years has compiled a record of progress and productivity that other industries can envy, according to Luria Brothers, a big New York scrap firm.

The progress began with need for scrap metals during the war. For 20 years before that, the scrap industry almost stagnated.

In 1929, the Census Bureau says, there were only 600 scrap processing yards in the United States employing only 6,100 people.

By 1958 there were 4,270 yards employing 34,000 people—yet production per worker in the yards had gone up from around 1½ tons an hour to over 15 tons an hour. Scrap presses could handle 15 tons an hour in 1945—today they press 60 tons an hour.

But the huge "guillotine" type scrap shears that make this high speed junkyard operation possible cost from $100,000 up—up, that makes the junk man a big business man.

Nobody really knows how much money is invested in the scrap business, Luria Brothers said.

An "educated guess" made back in 1953 by the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel was that the junkyard represented an investment of $500-million in machinery, trucks, land and warehouses.

Scrap metal, of course, has become of increasing and vital importance to the country as industry diversifies and new raw ores get scarcer.

In 1955, the Scrap Institute estimated that, working a single shift in the yards, the scrap men could process 43 million gross tons a year. But in an emergency, with two shifts, that obviously could be enormously increased.

Russ Hail Jack's Win

MOSCOW (U.P.) — The Soviet press and radio, ignoring official Soviet neutrality, hailed John F. Kennedy's victory today as a step toward better U.S.-Russian relations.

TRAVERSE CITY — Richard Harwood has been re-elected president of the National Cherry Festival board and dates for the 1961 event have been set for July 12-14.

Tips on Good Venison Cookery

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Need we remind you that deer season opens in a few days? Some of our feminine readers, being reminded of this, will groan. Others are looking forward to it as much as their husbands are.

It would be hard to estimate how much venison is brought back into the Pontiac area. We do know that many women dread the thought of cooking this meat. Maybe this article will help.

We've been talking with hunters. We've talked with three women—long time hunters themselves—who gave us their favorite recipes. All of them tell the same story.

How you take care of a deer after he is killed affects the taste of the meat. The deer must be bled and cleaned promptly. He must be hung to cool as soon as he is dressed. And all the fat must be cut off. If these procedures are followed, the meat should be as good as any beef—better, some eaters will say.

Mrs. John A. Seator of Waterford has hunted with her husband for many years. Her husband says she's a crack shot and rarely misses her deer.

"We didn't know until we talked with Mrs. Seator that you have to get a special license to eat your deer in camp. The Seators usually eat dry food while they're hunting. Their favorite cuts are steaks and chops. Steaks should be thick, TRIM OFF ALL FAT. Then Mrs. Seator pan fries these cuts in bacon fat to keep them moist. She serves them with fried onions.

over with big slices of raw sweet onions.

When she roasts a cut of venison, Mrs. Seator always lays strips of bacon over the top and bastes the roast often with the bacon fat. The bigger the roast is the better, she says.

The Seators make venisonburgers, combining pork with the venison. These also are served with lots of onions.

Mrs. Dolis Hamilton of Farmington sent us several recipes after we had talked with her. She also has hunted many years with her husband.

She gave us such the same suggestions as Mrs. Seator did, adding that "venison should be served on sizzling plates due to the fast congealing fat."

Here are two of her recipes:

Barbecued Ribs
Spread ribs with sauce and place under broiler for 10 minutes on each side. Then add more sauce as needed while baking in 350-degree oven until meat is well done.

Sauce
2 cups tomato puree
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup onion juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup garlic salt (optional)

Mix all together and spread on ribs before baking or cooking on a rotisserie. For variety, you may add 2 tablespoons celery seed, 2 tablespoons chili powder, 1 tablespoon salt and 2 tablespoons paprika. Venison stew with dumplings. Cut venison in 2-inch cubes. Soak overnight in salt, vinegar and water. (1 teaspoon of salt to equal amounts of vinegar and water.)

Next day dry venison with a cloth. Dredge with flour. Add salt and pepper. Brown in bacon drippings. Add water and cover. Simmer until meat is tender.

Add carrots, onions and potatoes and cook until vegetables are done. Add 1/2 cup sour wine. Add dumplings.

Mrs. John C. Edwards Jr. of Oxford Township has used up all her vacation time and can't go hunting this year. This she regrets, but she's looking forward to cooking venison her husband hopes to get.

Adding her voice to the others, she stresses the necessity of removing all fat. When she cooks venisonburgers, she pours off the fat as it accumulates in the pan.

One of the Edwards' favorite venison recipes is this one:

Venison Stragout

Cut venison into 2-inch cubes. If desired, marinate overnight in a mixture of salad oil, thyme, sage, oregano, garlic and red wine. Remove from marinade and dredge with seasoned flour.

Brown quickly in bacon drippings. Cover with water to which you add a bouillon cube. Simmer until tender. One-half cup of sliced onions may be added while meat is browning.

Just before serving add a can of mushroom stems and pieces. Stir in 1 cup sour cream and heat until mixture is hot, but no boiling (or cream will curdle). Serve over noodles or rice.

VENISON IS CHOICE—Venison chops are but one of the dishes to appear in hunter's tables in the next few weeks. Cooks who have trouble preparing venison can get help from two booklets put out by MSU, Bulletin No. 232 "Good Eating From Woods and Fields" and Bulletin No. 253 "Venison". Are available for 10 cents each. Write the Cooperative Extension Service in East Lansing. The Venison booklet is available at the County Extension office.

Beat until creamy and mixture loses gloss. Turn into 8-inch square cake pan.

Bread Tomato Slices to Fry for Supper

The fall garden is ripe with magnificent fruits, vegetables and greenery—even fragrant honey, if you're lucky enough to be near a bee hive. And nothing is so good, good, good as the produce of summer's labor from the gardens.

If your bumper crop weighs heavily with the red-gold of tomatoes, you're in luck. Tomatoes rate high in vitamins. They also rate high in serving versatility. Tomato slices can be breaded and fried, or added to toast and bacon sandwiches—scoped tomato causes can be stuffed with cottage cheese, or baked with an egg in the hollow—and nothing can be more delicious than a juicy ripe tomato eaten right out of the hand with salt.

Serve a creamy soup made with milk as a beverage. The tart goodness of tomatoes and the smoothness of the soup were made for each other. The warm soup is a soothing potion—which gives your digestion a gentle nudge.

Mushroom Sandwiches Take Well to Freezing

Leftover roast meat or poultry can be used in many attractive ways but if you are a home-maker with lunch to pack why not utilize leftover roast venison or chicken or turkey for making up sandwiches in quantity to be frozen and packed in lunch boxes as needed. Just wrap in foil or freezer paper or transparent saran then pack in an air-tight container and freeze.

Sandwiches in a lunch box packed frozen at breakfast time will thaw by noon. And because they stay cool all morning—they will taste fresh and avoid any possibility of spoilage. Since raw vegetables do not freeze well they have not been included in this filling. Just include a small package of carrot or celery sticks or a wedge of cucumber or a whole

Figure Cost Per Serving When Buying Meat

The election at the voting booth is over, but the shopper's election of food for the family continues. Retailers report little change in meat prices since a week ago, states the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Fryer prices are lower and lamb prices may be down slightly while other meats remain about the same as before.

Shoppers looking for the thirteenth meat purchases may wish to check fryers at 23 to 33 cents per serving; round steak at 23 to 25 cents per serving; beef chuck roasts at 20 to 40 cents per serving; rib-end pork loin at 19 to 23 cents per serving; lamb shoulder at 18 to 28 cents per serving; rib shoulder at 22 to 33 cents per serving; or turkey at 24 to 28 cents per serving.

How do you figure cost per serving? The amount of meat there is to eat depends upon the amount of bones. You can make price comparisons if you remember that fryers yield 1 1/3 servings per pound; beef chuck, veal shoulder and turkey yield 2 servings per pound; rib-end roast of pork and lamb shoulder yield 2 1/2 servings per pound and round steak yields 3 servings per pound.

Did you wonder why the big difference in prices of beef chuck roast? There are three kinds of beef chuck—blade, arm and English. Usually the blade chuck costs less than the other two from the same animal, because it has more bone and is more difficult to carve.

You may find as much as 20 cents per serving difference due to grade or quality of the animal. And some stores may lower the retail price on one of the roasts and use it as a feature for this week.

If you've been watching, you have already noticed that medium size eggs now give you the most egg for the money. Price comparisons this week show that medium size eggs are 34¢ to 44¢; cents per pound compared with large size eggs at 44¢ to 48 cents per pound. As the young laying hens lay more eggs the egg size increases. You'll find most eggs in the market will be of the large size by the end of the year.

Most markets are displaying nuts for holiday baking and current use. For those fruit cakes you'll be busy baking, you have a choice of shelled or unshelled nuts. If time is a problem, the shelled nuts may be a better value than the unshelled nuts. If there are children to help or if you have plenty of time it may be worth while to shell your own.

To get one pound of shelled nuts you'll need the following nuts in the shell. 1 1/2 pounds chestnuts; 1 3/4 pounds peanuts; 2 pounds almonds; Brazil nuts, pecans, pistachios; 2 1/2 pounds English walnuts; 2 1/2 pounds filberts.

Recipes specify nuts by cup measure. One pound of nuts in the shell will yield the following: 1 1/3 cups filberts; 1 1/2 cups almonds; Brazil nuts, pistachios; 1 2/3 cups chopped or 2 cups halved English walnuts; 2 cups chopped or 2 1/2 cups halved pecans; 2 1/2 cups peanuts.

To compare cost with shelled nuts, you will find the following helpful. One pound of shelled nut meats equals 3 cups almonds, pistachios, peanuts; 2 1/2 cups Brazil nuts; 3 1/3 cups filberts; 2 1/2 cups chopped or 4 cups halved English walnuts; 3 1/2 cups chopped or 4 1/2 cups halved pecans; 4 cups cashews.

VEGETABLES
Fresh produce received at the major terminal market averaged about the same as the previous week. Squash, potatoes, cabbage and carrots are vegetables in very good supply. Fall and winter squash is less than half the cost of the fresh summer squash being shipped from Florida.

Although harvest weather has not been very good, Florida grapefruit is in excellent supply.

Add Bits of Turkey If You've Had Bird

This hearty soup, quickly made from pantry-shelf ingredients, has excellent flavor.

Quick Turkey Chowder
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed turkey
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed chicken broth
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) tomato sauce
1 can (4 ounces) whole kernel corn
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Dash salt
Heat slowly the turkey noodle soup (undiluted), chicken broth, tomato sauce, corn (including liquid in can), sugar and seasoning mixture. Simmer about 5 minutes to blend flavors. Makes 4 hearty servings.

Seasoning Mixture: Use a pinch of onion and garlic powder, celery salt, savory and ground allspice.

Use Two Pie Tins
Do you find it irksome to "press the crumb mixture firmly against the bottom and sides of the pie plate?" Better Homes & Gardens magazine suggests you try this for Graham cracker and cookie crusts. Heap your crumb mixture in a 9-inch pie plate; then press an 8-inch pie plate into the crumbs. The crust will shape itself evenly on the bottom and sides.

Coming Holidays Call for Elegant Desserts

THE BIG DROP—Passengers of a disabled plane could be parachuted en masse in removable sections such as these. Two sections of an airliner's cabin, each holding half the persons aboard, would be escape pods with airtight doors and cargo would be dropped, according to Mechanix Illustrated, in case parachutes. Emergency supplies would be included. The pods of a sabotage bomb, collision, structural failure or fire.

How long has it been since you served a really elegant dessert? Not a dessert that is merely an afterthought, or what you always serve after steak, or the nearest can on the shelf, but a dessert that looks and tastes as though you prepared it as a very special surprise?

Whether you plan it for a family get-together, for a formal dinner for guests, as a party refreshment, or a holiday surprise, a Chocolate Mint Bombe is an ideal choice for your return to elegance. It has the delicious taste combination of chocolate and mint ice cream is used as a middle layer, and it is heaped on top. Then, meringue makes the prettiest, most delicate frosting.

But this dessert isn't difficult to make, or out of your budget's reach. For, it is made with a cake mix.

This elegant dessert should be served with a flourish. The dramatic moment when you slice down into the meringue to reveal the colorful combination of rich chocolate and pale green or pink ice cream is the kind of moment that every good hostess loves to create.

Why not use the Chocolate Mint Bombe as your excuse for going all-out for elegance during the holiday season? Your finest china, your best glassware, the silver you cherish, flowers arranged with care, and a sweet dessert that speaks of luxury and richness—yet takes so little time to prepare.

Chocolate Mint Bombe
1/2 gallon softened pineapple or other flavored ice cream
1 package chocolate mint cake mix
Italian Meringue
Green food coloring
Jar red cinnamon candy drops, or candied violets

Line both an 8-inch round layer cake pan and a 1-quart mixing bowl with strips of wax paper. Arrange strips so ends come over edge of pan and bowl. Divide ice cream between pan and bowl. Pack until firm. Freeze solid, approximately 2 hours.

Prepare chocolate mint cake mix according to directions on package. Pour into 2 greased and floured 8 1/2-inch round layer cake pans. Bake in preheated 350° oven for 30 minutes, or until cakes are done. Cool in pans 10 minutes before turning out on wire racks. Cool thoroughly.

Prepare meringue (see recipe below for Italian Meringue). Tint an attractive pale green with food coloring. Remove frozen ice cream from molds. Place one cake layer on large plate and cover with ice cream layer from pan. Add second cake layer and top with ice cream mold from bowl (rounded side up).

Quickly swirl entire bombe with a heavy covering of meringue to seal in coldness, or cover with meringue rosettes, pressed out through a large fluted pastry tube. Return to freezer until ready to serve.

Before serving, dot entire Chocolate Mint Bombe with gaily red cinnamon dots, or candied violets.

Italian Meringue
2 cups sugar
2-3 cup water
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
4 egg whites

In a saucepan combine sugar, water and cream of tartar. Bring slowly to a boil, then boil rapidly to 230-degrees, the soft ball stage. Beat egg whites until stiff. Pour syrup very slowly over egg whites, beating constantly. Add vanilla and continue beating until frosting holds its shape.

Remember that brown rice takes a good bit longer to cook than white rice and allow the necessary time when you are preparing it for a meal.

Offer Tempting Casserole for Company Food

A casserole prepared with savory ingredients, imagination, and loving care needs no apologies when offered to friends as a company dinner. And this ham and pineapple casserole does offer a dinner in a dish—with loving forethought but almost no last minute attention.

The person who invented it and served it is a business woman. She prepared the casserole the previous evening, refrigerated it and popped it into the oven the moment she arrived home.

The rest of her menu was—to begin with and served in the living room—a chilled bottle of unfermented white grape juice. For a salad, a sliced avocado and a quick-frozen grapefruit slices. Since there was rice in the casserole, she served no bread, just some crisp sesame seed wafers. And for dessert she offered butter pecan ice cream and a piece of plain cake.

Company Casserole
2 cups packaged pineapple slices (14 1/2 oz. can) sliced pineapple
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup onion soup mix
1/2 cup ground beef
1/2 cup ham, about 1 pound
2 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons catsup

Drain pineapple juice from slices into a pint measuring cup. Add enough pineapple juice to make 2 cups. Stir in onion soup mix, salt and ginger. Bring to a boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat. Add rice and allow to stand covered for 5 minutes.

Place cooked rice in well greased shallow 1 1/2 quart casserole and top with ham cut in 1/2 inch slices. On each slice of ham, place a slice of pineapple. Combine honey, catsup and ketchup and brush over pineapple slices.

Bake covered in pre-heated 375-degree oven for 20 minutes, then uncover and bake until very hot, about 40 minutes more. This dish can also be prepared ahead, refrigerated and baked when needed. Baking time will then be about 1 hour. Serve garnished with halves of maraschino cherries. Makes 4 servings.

Small fry usually take to cream of vegetable soup when it is sprinkled with diced crisply cooked bacon.

Potatoes May Look Tough, They're Not

Potatoes may not look fragile, but they really are, states the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Sawyer. Store them carefully to get the most from the potatoes you buy.

Look for a cool, dark place to store potatoes. For best keeping and cooking quality, potatoes need a 45 to 50 degree temperature. Higher temperatures cause sprouting and shriveling. Lower temperatures, even for a week or two, may cause potatoes to develop a sweet taste.

Light causes greening of the potato skin and development of a bitter taste.

Potatoes need air to circulate around them. If you store them in a basement or cellar floor, put a board or some other insulation under them.

Potatoes are living plants—handle them carefully for the best flavor and the least waste.

Fruit-flavored gelatin goes elegant when you serve it with a soft custard sauce made with cream.

1,100 Hear Carlos Romulo at Town Hall

By MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor,
The Pontiac Press

One of the great men of the century spoke to Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall Wednesday on one of the great problems of the century—"America's Stake in Asia."

Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States, Cuba and Brazil, vigorously exhorted an audience of more than 1,100 women at Central Methodist Church, labeling these times "dangerous and crucial days for America and the free world."

Calling the Sino-Soviet alliance the greatest danger of the free world, the famed author-lecturer-statesman, offered three premises to use as a yardstick in gauging objectively the international crisis we face.

"You must accept the fact that your United States is not an imperialistic country," he said.

"GENEROUS VICTOR"

"You proved this by your treatment of Germany and Japan. You were the generous victor ... the world admired you for this ... and for what you did in the Philippines."

"Secondly," he stated, "we must accept the fact that the basis of Soviet philosophy is world conquest. Khrushchev does not deny this but restates it whenever he has the opportunity."

Speaking of Khrushchev's tour of the U.S. as "that 30-day infamous visit," Gen. Romulo shared with the Town Hall audience a statement that the Russian premier made at the Washington, D.C., Press Club.

Khrushchev is convinced that just as feudalism made way for capitalism, so must capitalism make way for communism and ultimately, said the Russian, the flag of communism must fly over the world.

As a corollary to his third premise that as a nation we are engaged in a life and death struggle with communism, Romulo pointed out with conviction that wherever Soviet pressure creates a crisis in the world, it is the duty of America to resist.

"For communism, to achieve its objective of world conquest, must first defeat the U.S.," he said.

His voice heavy with emotion, this dynamic man who survived the Japanese siege of the Philippines and the horrors of Corregidor to lead his nation to independence concluded the first part of his speech with a grim warning.

"The aim of communism is to destroy your prestige and to present you to the world in the image of the dollarocracy 'ugly American,' he said.

"Communism is trying to subvert and destroy the American way of life by every means."

Touching on the historical backdrop of events following the second World War, Romulo said we did not see then and we do not see now Russia's aim. Ticking off the Central European countries that fell to communism, he mourned the millions of once-free men who were converted to robots when the iron curtain was rung down and the cold war started.

He commended U.S. action in Greece, the Suez and Iran, and said while the world watched what it believed was the irresistible march of communism, the United States took positive action with the Marshall Plan.

"I saw it with my own eyes. It was electrifying and galvanizing! You revived freedom's drooping spirits ... you helped contain communism in Europe, pouring your abundance and largesse into these countries and forcing communism to seek other areas of activity."

"PRESERVE CHAIN"

He spoke of the Korean War as a necessary defense action in maintaining a perimeter of defense with the U.S. which now stretches from the Aleutians through Japan, Okinawa, Formosa, Guam and the Philippines.

He spoke of this as a chain that can be only as strong as its weakest link. "If the chain snaps, you can lose all of Asia. If this should be so, we will lose democracy as we know it. It would be good by U.S."

He urged us to forget the distant, aloof Asia of Lascadio Heron and Marco Polo and consider it in the light of a next door neighbor. "... as Detroit is Pontiac's neighbor."

For the world has shrunk since 1918, he said. "Asia is vital to American security."

Its people are watching Russian space superiority and are impressed. They were impressed with American arms superiority in World War II, but America's world leadership, though only 15 years old, is already contested, he said.

"I came not to seek your agreement," he concluded, "but to provoke thought—to make you realize the seriousness of the struggle. You are pitted against the most scrupulous, implacable foe who is without ethics. You have never had such a foe. You must make friends and allies. You are experts in image-building—project yourselves in your true image as the truly great spiritual people you are. Show the people of the world your way of life, not your products. Be worthy of your forefathers who in their vision created the concept that all men are created equal."

"This is the message I have come hungry to convey to you today," the slight man of great moral stature concluded.

Question: Will you please print something in your column regarding lipstick stains on china, glassware, silverware and napkins? As a woman who uses lipstick from morning until bedtime I hate to see big half circles of red on coffee cups, etc., and I know it is unnecessary. I am sure many people find it most disgusting. Also, regarding the use of a linen napkin.

Answer: One woman who visits us occasionally doesn't just touch her lips lightly with her napkin but wipes it over her lips and the surrounding area, thereby getting not only lipstick but her tan makeup or powder on the linen.

Question: Recently my husband and I attended the funeral of his best friend's father out of town. Since he has always been considered close to the family, he felt sharply rebuffed when we were not invited to go back to the house with the family afterwards.

I always thought that it was a matter of courtesy to invite close friends, along with the relatives who attended the funeral, back to the house for something to eat.

Answer: It is probable that they were not prepared to take care of more than the family at the house, and your husband should not have felt rebuffed.

Question: When one receives a gift such as a lamp, table, picture or any other item intended to be useful and decorative but which, as it happens, is neither in our particular house, does one have to use it in order to avoid being rude?

Answer: I am sorry to say that to avoid hurting the giver's feelings, you will have to use it in whatever way you possibly can.

String Quartet Performs

A quartet of young string players from the Michigan Youth Symphony presented the program when the Women's Association to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra met Monday afternoon at the Miami Road home of Mrs. Jack Habel.

Violinists Jean Huttula and Patricia Forbes and violinist Karen Eichler and cellist David Eichler played the second movement of Dvorak's Quartet in F, opus 36, popularly called the "American Quartet."

A telephone committee of 20 was named. The group was reminded of the Nov. 23 symphony performance at which Velinda and John Dalley will be guest artists.

They will perform the Brahms Double Concerto for violin and cello.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. Standish Sibley and Mrs. Vernon Abbott. Mrs. John Ritchey and Mrs. Collis A. Scott presided at the tea table.

Majority Feel Folks Doing Good Job

Teen-Agers Pat Their Parents on the Back

PRESIDENT, GILBERT YOUTH RESEARCH CO.

While today's Junior and Junior Miss don't rule the household roost, our teenagers aren't the submissive youngsters of Victorian times. That's one thing that stood out when we asked 985 young people how they get along with their parents.

Ninety per cent replied they aren't afraid of their parents. And although the majority — 88 per cent — respect their folks, 18 per cent feel that better education has made them equal to their parents.

Bill Reuther, 18, of Coral Gables, Fla., spoke for many teenagers when he said, "No one should be afraid of their parents. They are there to help."

Indicating modern frankness in parent-child relationships, 46 per cent of the boys and 61 per cent of the girls discuss sexual matters with their parents; 26 per cent use profanity in front of their parents — although 74 per cent do not.

"We live in a frank, relaxed atmosphere," is the way M. J. Gordon, 16, of Charlottesville, Va., explains it.

An overwhelming majority of young people — 92 per cent — feel their parents are doing a good job in bringing them up. Eighty-six per cent believe it is difficult to be good parents these days.

"They have so many outside pressures," says Ann Hooper, 17, of Hingham, Mass.

Eugene Dayton, 17, of DeKalb, Ill., spoke for many when he said parents err in trying to give their children too much. Eugene feels his own parents are doing a good job "because I don't get everything I want and I am given responsibility."

The teenagers were split on whether it is difficult to be a good child, with 49 per cent saying yes and 48 per cent saying no. Boys apparently find it harder — 54 per cent gave yes answers compared with 44 per cent of the girls.

"I'm always doing something wrong," complains Robert McDonald, 16, of Waterbury, Conn.

We found a minority of young people feel the fact that they are better educated makes them superior to their parents. Woody Kee, 17, of Evanston, Ill., says, "My parents still know a lot more than I think they do."

As for confiding in their parents, 62 per cent of the girls and 56 per cent of the boys say they do.

Most young people agreed with Arlene Friedman, 16, of Miami Beach, who says, "It helps solve my problems and makes me feel closer to my parents."

As for discussing their dates, the teen-agers find mother the most sympathetic listener. Among the boys, 22 per cent, and among the girls, 41 per cent, talk things over with her.

Thirty-seven per cent of the girls talk over dates with their fathers but none of the boys do. Incidentally, most of the boys —

44 per cent — do not discuss dates with either parent.

DON'T HIDE SEX
Among the 53 per cent of teenagers who discuss sex with their parents, 47 per cent feel no embarrassment while 5 per cent do.

Expressing the majority view was Michael B. Allison, 18, of Coral Gables, Fla., who says "Sex is not a subject to hide behind sacred cloaks — such taboos are absurd."

But a number of young people say they have learned the essentials from their contemporaries and feel there is nothing further to discuss with their parents.

Annabelle Press, 16, of Miami Beach, explains, "When I start to talk about it, they change the subject, saying when I'm old enough I'll know everything — as if I don't know now."

We asked teenagers whether they ever lie to their parents and got this result: Yes, 36 per cent of the boys and 47 per cent of the girls; No, 44 per cent of the boys and 49 per cent of the girls.

As might be expected, those who admit lying consider it a good risk rather than face the consequences of admitting their wrongdoing.

"Sometimes I have to tell a lie when I do something my parents disapprove of," says Buddy Anderson, 17, Fresno, Calif. And Woody Kee, 17, of Evanston, Ill., says he lies "only when they pry too much."

ASK ADULT TREATMENT

We asked the young people for suggestions on how parents could improve their relationship and got some pointed replies: "Not to ask so many questions" (a boy, 15); "More freedom about who I go out with" (a girl, 16); "They should show more concern and affection for me" (a girl, 16); "Not use physical force to convey a point" (a boy, 17).

Perhaps the majority feeling was expressed by Carole Ervin, 17, of Haines City, Fla., who suggested that parents "listen to our problems and try to understand; consider us more adult and let us make some decisions."

Lodge Plans an Election

Officers for the Scandinavian Vasa Lodge No. 510 will be elected at a meeting Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall on Voorhis Road.

A Detroit orchestra will play for a Thanksgiving dance following dinner. All Scandinavians and their friends are invited.

Abby Aids High School Girl

She Wasn't the Teacher's Pet

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in high school. I don't have the kind of parents you can talk to so I started confiding in a man teacher.

He said he would rather I talked to the woman counselor, but I was afraid I couldn't trust her. I guess I made a pest of myself because he had my classes changed around so I wouldn't have study hall during his off period.

I got mad and told my girlfriends that about this man that were not true. She promised not to tell, but word got back to my mother and she went to see the superintendent.

The teacher wanted to talk to my parents, but they wouldn't see him, so I just had to say everything I said was true. He got fired and all he did was listen to my troubles. He moved out of town. What should I do? I feel just terrible.

GUILTY GIRL

DEAR GUILTY: Go to the superintendent and tell him the truth. Then ask for the teacher's address and write your apology to him. And vow never to bear false witness again. You are capable of being a good person. Your troubled conscience shows it.

DEAR ABBY: If a woman proposes to a man, does she have to buy her own engagement ring?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: Only if the man doesn't offer to buy her one.

DEAR ABBY: My son-in-law is the biggest disappointment in the world. My daughter has been married to him less than a year and when he comes in the house she is lucky if he says hello to her.

He just grunts and drops his big carcass in the easy chair and in two minutes he drives you out of the room with his snoring. No one dares to say anything to her about him because she sticks up for him. ("He's tired, Mom.")

Don't you think that this big sloth should be told off? Or should we just let our daughter get as rude and boorish as he is?

MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR MOTHER: The "slob" is your daughter's hero and unless his behavior is a problem to HER, don't stir up anything.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE SWEETHEART OF SIGMUND FREUD" AT THE DOCTOR'S HOSPITAL. Take care of your id, Kid.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Speculation Runs Freely About Kennedy Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Chester Bowles, Sen. J. William Fulbright and ex-Ambassador David Bruce were reported today to be leading possibilities for secretary of state in the Kennedy administration.

Although President-Elect John F. Kennedy doesn't plan to announce his cabinet selections until after Thanksgiving or later, speculation was widespread on his probable choices for top government posts.

Bowles, retiring from Congress, was a foreign policy advisor to Kennedy in the presidential campaign.

Fulbright is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Bruce is a former ambassador to Germany.

MAYBE UN INSTEAD
Adlai E. Stevenson, often mentioned as a possible secretary of state, is believed to be out of the running now.

But he is reported under consideration as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Here is the speculation on other cabinet posts:

DEFENSE—Speculation centers around Thomas K. Finletter, former Air Force secretary; Dan Kimball, former Navy secretary; Frank Pace, former Army secretary; and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., another former Air Force secretary.

TREASURY—Names mentioned include Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the Bank of America in San Francisco, and George W. Mitchell, vice president, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

COMMERCE — Gov. Luther

Hodges of North Carolina is a possibility.

HEALTH, EDUCATION AND WELFARE—G. Mennen Williams, outgoing governor of Michigan, apparently is a leading candidate. ATTORNEY GENERAL—Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, an early Kennedy supporter, the center of speculation. Another name mentioned is former Detroit Lions football star Byron "Whizzer" White, a Denver attorney and prominent in Kennedy's campaign.

AGRICULTURE—Gov. Herschel C. Loveless of Iowa, Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota, Gov. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin. Loveless lost in his attempt to become senator from Iowa, and Freeman was defeated for re-election as Minnesota governor. Nelson was re-elected in Wisconsin.

INTERIOR—Gov. Stephen L. Elmcritch of Colorado. Other possibilities are Rep. Stewart L. Udall, D-Ariz., and Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif.

LABOR—Some speculation says a major political figure may get the job, such as New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner. Another possibility is Archibald Cox, a Harvard law professor and Kennedy's "braintrust" advisor on labor matters. A labor name mentioned is Arthur J. Goldberg, special AFL-CIO counsel.

SEN. E. L. BARTLETT

Alaskans Still May Go for Dick

State, Which Had Been Thought Democratic, Is Leaning Toward GOP

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Alaska, the state that Democrats had considered safe and Republicans had virtually conceded, still held its three electoral votes out of reach of either Vice President Richard M. Nixon or President-Elect John F. Kennedy today.

Returns were slow coming in from the far-flung voting units in the 48th state, and with more than half the precincts reporting, Nixon held a shaky 362 vote lead. That edge came to Nixon with reports from 189 of 300 precincts. It gave him 19,663 votes to Kennedy's 19,301.

Sen. E. L. Bartlett, the incumbent Democrat, easily fended off the Republican challenge of Dr. Lee McKinley, a Palmer dentist. And incumbent Democratic Rep. Ralph J. Rivers had little trouble winning reelection over J. Lee Rettig.

With 136 precincts reporting, these were the results: Bartlett 23,332, McKinley 13,944, and Rivers 21,339, Rettig 15,736.

Hot Prep Grid Rivalries Friday

By BILL CORNWELL

The 1960 football season may be coming to a close for Oakland County area high school teams Friday, but it seems like the best has been saved for the last— at least in a few specific cases.

Eight different prep rivalries, all of the torrid variety, will be resumed tomorrow to bring down the curtain on a campaign filled with upsets and surprises.

With the exception of the first annual Pontiac Central-Pontiac Northern dual Nov. 18 at Flint Stadium, and the traditional Thanksgiving Day battle between Flint Northern and Flint

Central, all area schools call it quits this weekend.

Flint Central at Pontiac Central, Bay City Central at Flint Northern, Saginaw High at Arthur Hill, Avondale at Rochester, Utica at Romeo, Southfield at Birmingham Seaholm, RO Dondora at RO Kimball and Hazel Park at Ferndale.

Thirty-three area teams ended their slates last weekend and all league titles have been decided except the Saginaw Valley, Eastern Michigan, Tri-County and South Central circuits.

With the possible exception of the Valley conference, which hinges on the results of the PCH-Central and Bay City-Northern games, all will be settled tomorrow.

Imley City, unbeaten in five league games, needs only to defeat weak Oxford on the Imley grid-iron to wrap up its 3rd straight South Central crown.

The Spartans will be favored to do just that, despite the fact they had a hard time posting a narrow 14-13 win over Oxford in their first meeting.

Fernside plays host to undefeated Hazel Park in a showdown for the Eastern Michigan title.

The Dales were dropped from the unbeaten ranks by Kimball last week and the Parkers were tied by Port Huron to soil an otherwise flawless record. A victory or even a tie will do the trick for Hazel Park. Fernside must win.

Roseville is a slim choice over Lapeer in their fight for the Tri-County championship at Lapeer. Both teams enter the contest with 3-0 league marks.

Michigan's No. 1 prep game takes place at Flint's Atwood Stadium where two unbeaten-united powers, Bay City Central and Flint Northern, collide head-on for the Valley crown.

Bay City, ranked No. 1 in this week's high school poll, and Northern, ranked No. 2, also will be struggling for the mythical state Class A title.

The Wolves added 40 in the SVCO and 56 altogether, while Northern is 3-0 and 70, respectively. It's the final game for Bay City, but the Vikings still face their Turkey Day challenge.

The Chiefs of PCH meet their oldest and most despised SVCO foe, Flint Central, on the winner turf in a game that could have a bearing on the outcome of the league race.

PCH can eliminate the Indians as a title contender by winning here and the Chiefs have high hopes of doing exactly that. The Chiefs also could place 3rd in the Valley with a triumph, which would be their first 1st-division finish since 1947.

The Indians currently occupy 3rd spot with a 5-1 mark and they must beat the Chiefs to stay alive. Defending co-champions with Northern, another title above is the best they could do and two wins plus a Bay City loss offers the only way out.

Utica and Romeo wind up disappointing seasons at Romeo in the renewal of an old and storied rivalry. Utica, with a 3-4-1 mark, is a slim favorite. Romeo stands 2-6.

Southfield, which divided this year's Inter-Lakes crown with Walpole Lake, squares off against Birmingham Seaholm on the Maple gridiron in another hot neighborhood feud. The Maples, with a 3-4-1 record, need a victory to break even for the season. The Southfield Jays have a 4-3-1 mark.

It's also been a disappointing year for Avondale, which has won only three times in eight starts, and the Yellow Jackets will try to salvage a little something by toppling Rochester. The Falcons, who are 5-3 for the year, get the nod.

Royal Oak's city championship will be determined in the 3rd annual duel between Dondora and Kimball. Dondora (7-1) has won both previous decisions over Kimball (4-3).

Saginaw and Arthur Hill resume their city feud at Arthur Hill Memorial Stadium to round out the Valley schedule. Both teams are hoping to escape the conference cellar with a victory.

Ortonville entertains Millington in a South Central contest and winless East Detroit invades Port Huron for an EML outing.

Other games of local interest tomorrow include Wayne at Warfield, Holly at Fenton, Osk Park at Oakland E co-champion Lake Orion, Howell at Northville and Birmingham Groves at Fitzgerald.

Maris Named American Loop MVP Over Mantle

RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP)—Roger Maris, the American League's Most Valuable Player for 1960, brushed aside comments on his award today with the declaration that the New York Yankees "should go on and win it again next year."

A four-year major league veteran, Maris edged Yankee teammate outfielder Mickey Vernon by only three points—225 to 222—in the voting of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Ten players were included in the voting, announced Wednesday with 14 points awarded for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Asked how he felt about being voted MVP, Maris said he was "pleased" and "glad to be in the company of the great players of the past."

Maris celebrated his fourth year in the majors—Cleveland one year, Kansas City two before becoming a Yankee—by leading the Yankees with 54 home runs and 112 runs batted in (RBI) and slugging percentages (.381). He batted .283 and hit 39 home runs, one fewer than Mantle.

It was the second closest contest in history of the award, started in 1952. The greatest one was in 1947 when Joe DiMaggio edged Ted Williams 202-201.

Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's talented third baseman, was third in the voting with 211 points. It was the first time in history of the award three players received more than 200 points.

Following Robinson in the voting were Minnie Minos, Chicago, 141; Ron Hansen, Baltimore, 110; Al Smith, Chicago, 73; Roy Sievers, Chicago, 56; Earl Battey, Washington, 37; Bill Skowron, New York, 36, and Jim Lemon, Washington, 36.

The Detroit Tigers were conspicuously absent in the voting. Only two Tigers—pitcher Jim Bunning and left fielder Charlie Maxwell—received mention among the 30 players who received votes.

Bunning received one eighth-place vote for three points and Maxwell received a ninth-place vote for one point.

Maxwell received a ninth-place vote for one point. He finished in a tie for 28th place with two points.

Red Wings Are Tied for 2nd Place

Another Rally in 3rd Period Nets 4-3 Win

Goegan's Goal Defeats Rangers; Bassen Earns 3rd Triumph

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings are tied for second place in the National Hockey League today, thanks to another last-period rally.

A three-goal blitz in the third period gave the Red Wings a 4-3 victory over the New York Rangers here last night.

The triumph, decided by defenseman Pete Goegan's goal with 1:27 remaining, was the Wings' fourth in a row and their second via the late-rally method this week.

Trailing the Boston Bruins 5-2 after two periods last Thursday, the Wings got a tongue-lashing from General Manager Jack Adams and roared to an 8-5 victory.

With goalie Lorne Gump Worsley back in the nets after a two-game absence, the Rangers dominated play in the first two periods to take a 3-1 lead.

Alex Delvecchio hit on a screened 40-footer at 12:45 of the third period, and ex-Ranger Park MacInnis tied it at 3-3 at 16:07 with a close-in shot.

Gordie Howe, set Goegan up with a pass and the Wing defenseman drilled a 30-footer past Worsley.

The shot shredded Hank Bassen, the Wings' substitute goalie, with his third victory in four starts. The fourth game was a tie.

Norm Ullman missed getting into the scoring column for the first time this season. The Red Wing center had made at least one point in each of the club's previous 13 games, tying a record set by Ted Lindsay.

The Wings play the Boston Bruins at Boston tonight.

Gold Cuppers Race Saturday

BOULDER CITY, Cal., Oct. 9—Gold Cup records are expected to fall Saturday and Sunday when unlimited hydroplanes compete over the 3-mile course at Lake Mead.

There are 16 contestants trying to qualify and eight of them have exceeded the required 100 miles an hour. Bill Stead of Reno, Nev., set the Gold Cup record average last year with 104.02, m.p.h., but all qualifiers this week have done much better.

A single engine craft, Miss Superst, owned by Jim Thompson of Canada, qualified easily yesterday at 110.02. Most of the hydroplanes are multi-engine. Thompson said Miss Superst will not be placed in the water again until Saturday.

The Wahoo, owned by Bill Boelling of Seattle, had the fastest qualifying time yesterday—113.20 m.p.h.

Expect to Announce Rematch Plans Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—The site and date of the third Floyd Patterson-Johannes heavy weight title fight probably will be announced within a week.

Managing Director Humbert Fitzguy of Feature Sports, Inc., announced yesterday two more bids have been received for the rematch, bringing the total to four outside of New York. He declined to disclose the details.

Casey Meets With Tigers

GLENDALF, Calif. (AP)—Casey Stengel met in conference with executives of the Detroit Tigers today after indicating he "might be interested" in managing the American League team in 1961.

"I want to see if it's a good situation they have, what their plans are for getting ballplayers, and making deals," said the crafty, 70-year-old ex-New York Yankee pilot.

"I do not want to get tangled up with any second division team unless it is willing to make some important changes."

Some observers took that to mean that Casey is not at all interested in the Los Angeles Americans, whose roster will be composed of non-exempts from other teams in the league.

Off The Grape Vine GAME

Everyone had his ups and downs on last week's Grapevine and, all in all, it was a rough weekend for each member of the Crystal Ball Association.

But when the picking was finished, Swami Cornwell had increased his lead by one game and he now heads the Swami panel by two.

Even though he's in the cellar, Swami Kearns turned out to be last week's champion upset-caller by predicting wins for Minnesota, Pontiac Northern and Georgia Tech.

With the exception of next week's PCH-PNH game, this is the final week for the preps. Then our fate lies with colleges and pros.

Michigan College Grid Card Dwindles

By The Associated Press
Hillsdale winds up its football season Saturday, along with most of Michigan's other teams, hopeful of fitting into its customary glory role.

A seventh straight MIAA championship and a like bowl bid await Muddy Waters' Dales, Hillsdale already is assured of a share of the crown.

A convincing victory over underdog Kalamazoo on the Hornets' gridiron probably will send Hillsdale into its third post-season game in four years. The Dales have had feelers from the Mineral Bowl to be played Nov. 26 at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Albion, still wishing for a share of the MIAA crown if Hillsdale flubs, meets archrival Alma and is shooting for a 7-1 record. That would equal Albion's best mark set in 1928 and duplicated in 1939, 1949 and 1952.

Elsewhere, little is at stake for Michigan eleven. Only Michigan, Michigan State and Detroit have games after this weekend.

at Mount Pleasant. The Chippewas are destined to finish the season since the founding of the IAC 11 years ago.

But Southern Illinois is leading the IAC and a victory for BUI Kelly's late-starting Chippewas would salvage something from a disappointing season.

Kelly feels his freshman-dominated team was jelled in recent weeks. Detroit regards Villanova as an important foe, but can't be blamed for looking ahead a week to the finale with Michigan State. The Titans are sporting their longest one-season winning streak—six—since their 9-0 season in 1928. Villanova has won only once.

Marshall visits Western Michigan for a Mid-American conference engagement. Marshall has only one victory, over Toledo, a team beaten easily by Western.

Hope plays Olivet in a match of MIAA also-runs.

Wayne State—an in-and-out—winds up with Taylor in Detroit.

Eastern Michigan, winless and injured, gets its last chance for victory in an IAC tilt with Western Illinois.

MacKay Leads U.S. Team Into Second Round

SYDNEY, (AP)—Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, led the United States Davis Cup team into the second round of the New South Wales tennis championships today.

MacKay, No. 1 foreign seed, beat John Souter, New Zealand, 6-2, 6-2 and Dennis Ralston, of Bournemouth, Calif., 6-3, 6-2.

This is the first tournament for the American team and he is being played at the White City Stadium where the Davis cup challenge will be played Dec. 26-28.

To reach the Challenge Round the United States first has to beat the Philippines in Brisbane Nov. 22-24 and Italy in Perth, Dec. 9-11.

Gophers' Brown Is Named AP's Lineman of Week

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Strange things happen to Minnesota football rivals when a restless mauler named Tom Brown looms in view. "Brown," smiled Gopher Coach Murray Warmath, "affects people that way."

He affected Iowa so painfully Saturday that the Hawkeyes tumbled and foundered, lost their big game to Minnesota 27-10 and surrendered No. 1 rank in the nation to the Gophers.

For his work Brown was named The Associated Press Lineman of the Week.

Brown is the 240-pound guard who is being compared with the great linemen of Minnesota history—players like Ed Widseth and Bill Evans.

This fellow is so tough his reputation alone bothers people. So does the general rattling of bones that occurs when Brown makes a tackle.

Dark Hires Former Mates as Coaches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Alvin Dark made his first decision Wednesday as manager of the San Francisco Giants. He hired two former teammates as coaches.

Dark was signed last week. Wednesday he selected Larry Jensen and Whitey Lockman and retained Wes Westrum and Salty Parker for his coaching staff. Bill Ponder was released to make way for Jensen as boss of the bullpen. Dark, Jensen and Lockman—stars when they played for the Giants—have a lot in common. They have reputations as gentlemen, quiet craftsmen who let their feats on the field speak for them.

State Colleges Plan Athletic League

YPSILANTI (AP)—A second athletic conference of Michigan colleges will be proposed soon. Initial steps will be taken by Eastern Michigan University, now a member of the Interstate Conference that has five Illinois schools and two Michigan universities as members.

Eastern once was regarded as one of the top powers in the Interstate conference, but the Hurons' fortunes have fallen off drastically in recent years—especially in football. Eastern was 3-3 in football in the league in 1958, 1-5 in 1959 and appears headed for a 0-6 conference mark this year.

Lloyd W. Olds, head of the department of health, physical education, recreation and athletics, told the Michigan chapter of the Football Writers' Association yesterday:

"We're sending boys against men in most cases, and I'm going to investigate the possibilities of forming a new conference of Michigan schools."

It is likely that Olds will ask Northern Michigan, Wayne State, Central Michigan, Ferris Institute and Michigan Tech if they are interested in such a league.

Central is with Eastern in the Interstate Conference. Central has expressed some hope of getting into the Mid-American Conference but that is an unlikely prospect. Observers feel that Central might go along in a proposed new league if it were left as the only Michigan school in the Interstate Conference.

Wayne State is a member of the Presidents' Athletic Conference but many of the influential alumni are dissatisfied with the strict decapitals of the PAC. Michigan Tech apparently is happy in the Northern State Conference, although the Huskies are

Northern Michigan and Ferris are independent.

F. L. (Frosty) Ferrance, Northern's head football coach and athletic director, attended the writers' luncheon. He said he was speaking only for himself, but indicated keen interest in the proposal.

Dr. Eugene H. Elliott, president of Eastern Michigan University, was questioned by the writers about the school's athletic program. Eastern has no grant-in-aid program for athletics, and no athletic scholarship program as such. There are a limited number of jobs for athletes.

The existing all-Michigan conference is the MIAA, one of the oldest in the nation. Its members are Alma, Albion, Adrian, Calvin, Hillsdale, Hope, Kalamazoo and Olivet.

Former IBC Man Will Become a Fight Promoter

CHICAGO (AP)—Ben Bentley, former matchmaker and publicist for the International Boxing Club, Wednesday announced plans to promote fights independently at Marigold Arena.

Bentley was cut adrift from the IBC's remodeled National Boxing Enterprises, Inc., which was dissolved recently by Jim Norris, wealthy sportsman.

Bentley reported he had family financial backing and said he would promote Monday night fights at Marigold, once a humming center of club fights.

His first promotion will be a Nov. 21 bout between veteran Virgil Alkins of St. Louis, former welterweight champion, and Philadelphia's Carl Hubbard.

MSU Reshuffles for Northwestern

EAST LANSING (U)—Coach Duffy Daugherty is doing a big reshuffling of his players for Michigan State's last Big Ten football game, against Northwestern Saturday.

Daugherty once identified his units as offensive and defensive. But it turned out that the defense was making more ground than the offense.

So how defensive left half Bob Suci, also an excellent punter, is being moved up to the offensive unit. Suci is top runner for MSU.

Before the season started, the Spartans stars were figured to be senior left half Herb Adderley and junior right half Gary Ballman. They rate fourth and fifth in ground-gaining now. Also above them a pair of fullbacks, Carl Chavon and Ron Hatcher.

Quarterback Tommy Wilson, a question mark before the season started, is the only senior back producing as had been hoped.

Suci, a junior from Grand Blanc, has a 6.1 mark for 40 carries and a total of 254 yards.

Leading scorer on the team is Art Brandstadter, the left-footed kicker who has scored only one touchdown but added 12 conversion and three field goals for his 27 point total.

Coach Duffy Daugherty has let his injury-ridden team take it easy all week in preparation to the trip to Northwestern.

No Favorites in Laurel Run

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—There was plenty of speculation today about which horse would go post-ward the favorite in the Washington D.C. International Friday at Laurel Park. Some say Bald Eagle, last year's winner, others like Harmonizing, and still others swing towards the French Ace, Puisseant Chef.

The calm advice is—don't let it worry you. There have been eight and they're still waiting to greet a favorite in the winner's circle.

Most observers favored Bald Eagle, Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim's 5-year-old star, at around 7 to 5, with Henri Aubert's Puisseant Chef 5-2 and another French horse, Houain, 3-1. Harmonizing, the Johnny-come-lately, was 10-1.

Then the official track program odds-maker threw this early line at the "experts" and this was the recipe:

Harmonizing, 5-2; Bald Eagle, 3-1; Puisseant Chef, 4-1; and Houtain 10-1.

One-Armed Griddler Conquers All Odds

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Gerry Lebrasseur of American International College is a prime example of an athlete who has conquered major odds.

Born with one arm, Lebrasseur has written a life story of courage and inspiration.

The senior co-captain and center on the AIC football team thrives on competition. He is considered one of the finest linemen ever to play for the Aces.

And despite his disability, he has chosen to specialize in the roughest sports of all—football and hockey.

He's been a three-year starter in both and also has had a distinguished high school career in those sports.

At AIC, Lebrasseur also plays intramural basketball and is known to be an excellent swimmer. His major is in business, with a minor in education.

Hilton said he telephoned Lamar Hunt, AFL president and owner of the Dallas Texans, to inquire into reports that there might be a change in the picture.

Cougar Ace Has Record Hopes

Campbell Way Ahead in Pass Catching; Point Leader Still Gaiters

By The Associated Press
Washington State's Hugh Campbell is catching passes at a rate almost unprecedented in major college football. After eight games, the Cougar sophomore has snagged 53 for 712 yards and seven touchdowns. NCAA Service Bureau statistics showed today.

Only three players have caught more even during an entire season and if Campbell can pass them in the two remaining games, he likely will become the third record-breaker in a season that hasn't been notable for offensive football.

Already one NCAA modern record has been broken and two have been tied, all in our kicking department. Ed Dyas, Auburn fullback, has kicked nine field goals, a record for one season, and his career total of 13 equals another record. Nolan Jones, Arizona State placekicker, has booted 20 points after-touchdown without a miss, equalling the full-season record.

Kickers also figure rather prominently in the national scoring race. Bob Gaiters of New Mexico State, like last weekend, held first place with 98 points on 16 touchdowns and two extra points. Gaiters also is the individual rushing leader.

Swim Star Farrell Felled by Hepatitis

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP)—Olympic gold medalist Jeff Farrell, one of the world's finest freestyle swimmers, is being treated for hepatitis, a liver ailment.

The 23-year-old former Navy officer from Wichita, was brought to a hospital here Tuesday from New Haven, where he had been under observation for about a week.

Farrell had been studying in France since the Olympics. He returned to New York Nov. 1 to receive the Gustave T. Kirby Award for outstanding sportsmanship.

The sportsmanship award was given him for his refusal to accept an automatic offer to swim for the United States after he underwent an appendectomy only six days before the Olympic Trials at Detroit. He qualified competitively and at Rome anchored two relay teams to world records.

But 1-6 Record Hasn't Been Much Fun for Dickens

Hoosiers 'Playing for Fun'

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Coach Phil (short for philosophical) Dickens says his Indiana football team is "playing for fun" in this year of penance for transgressions of the recruiting rules.

But looking back on the wreckage of a season in which he has beaten only Marquette and been thumped by six other opponents, he must admit it hasn't been much fun.

Part of Indiana's trouble can be said to be Dickens' experimentation and his use of sophomores as a means of making today's "nocount" games count for something in the future.

He started the season with the only single wing attack in the conference and one of the few in big college football. In recent games, Indiana has abandoned it largely, in favor of the currently fashionable wing-T.

Dickens has used sophomores extensively. In the last two games he included five in his first string line, and may start an unprecedented nine sophomores—including all four backfield positions—against Michigan on Saturday.

If it's any further consolation to Dickens, he can count U-M coach Bump Elliott among those who believe Indiana might have fared better if its participation in the Big Ten race was more than token.

"Indiana is definitely not as bad as its record," said Elliott, for whom a victory over the Hoosiers is the key to a winning season.

"They've given some of their opponents—including Ohio State—a pretty rough time for at least a half and sometimes more."

"There's little question but that the probationary status of Indiana has affected its play. Remember, they were picked to be a pretty strong club before the season started."

Football Playoff Vetoed

ATLANTA (AP)—Southeastern Conference Commissioner Bernie Moore Wednesday vetoed the idea of a "sudden death" playoff in the Georgia Tech-Alabama football game Saturday.

Coaches Bobby Dodd of Tech and Paul Bryant of Alabama had agreed to play an extra quarter should the game end in a tie, with the first team to score in the 15-minute overtime period winning the game.

Moore said in Birmingham, Ala., that Dodd "agreed with me that it couldn't be done," referring to the proposed playoff. The commissioner said he and Dodd discussed the matter but that Dodd did not specifically ask permission for the overtime period, but only asked if it would be allowable. He said they agreed it would be contrary to rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Several high-ranking SEC officials were contacted Wednesday by the Atlanta Journal and said they were opposed to the plan for two reasons. They said SEC schools do not have the authority to alter the NCAA playing rules, and the actual outcome of the game could give either school an unfair advantage over the other SEC schools in the bowl picture and could affect Alabama an advantage in the race for the SEC championship.

Employees Fear It as Work Threat

Automation: Is It Good or Evil?

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—What to do about the worker who sees coming automation as a threat to his job is a growing problem for both industry and labor leaders. And with the election out of the way there may be new pressure on some government agencies to increase their study of the question.

A company whose products are a part of the automation that labor fears stresses that in its own shop the output is presided over by workers — in fact, that their personal skill can't be usurped by a machine.

Another company making mechanization devices is offering an automatic machine to retain persons displaced by the automation

SCHOOLS ON RISE
And schools spring up all over the land to teach workers how to handle the mechanical giants taking over in factories and offices. The skill is as specialized as any of the manual and mental ones being supplanted.

How critical is the problem is hotly argued.

United Steelworkers Union officials have charged that automation has been a major factor in eliminating 10,000 production and maintenance jobs in the last year. A Labor Department survey shows about one fourth of the old jobs disappearing when electronic computers come into offices. But it adds that about one-third of those displaced were given other work, and about 2 per cent were trained for the purely computer jobs.

MAKES NEW JOBS
Management's reply to labor charges is that automation creates new jobs as well as eliminating old ones, that speedier and cheaper production opens markets that in turn make jobs outside the factory, and that anyway mechanization has been going on since the industrial revolution with everyone benefitting in the long run.

The company that boasts of non-automated workers turning out automated devices is International Rectifier Corp. of El Segundo, Calif. It cites three examples in making its products.

Silicon power diodes require 27 in-process tests, most requiring personal attention, with no mass testing shortcuts.

Only superskilled workers can make rectifiers. They must be tested by people analyzing the results.

Solar cells are produced by techniques requiring human qualities the company says approach the artistic.

Election TV Viewers Stayed Glued to Sets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—TV experts and the analysts will be working over Tuesday's presidential vote for days and weeks to come and evaluating the influence of television politics.

Whatever their conclusions, it is obvious that never before have so many people stayed up for so many hours glued to their television sets as the returns rolled into the home screens. Thousands staggered off to work Wednesday morning without having gone to bed at all. "I just couldn't seem to turn off the darned set," complained one number of baggy-eyed, weary citizens.

And if the nightly television ratings for Wednesday night—including Perry Como—don't indicate a much smaller than usual audience because all us stay-up-lates are catching up on sleep, I'll never believe another audience-sampling TV HIGHLIGHT

Those who managed to keep their eyes open past 3 a.m. were rewarded with one of the most dramatic moments of the long night of mounting voting returns. That when Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his wife stepped before the cameras and

State to Hold Hearing on Employees' Raise

LANDING (U)—The State Civil Service Commission will hold a public hearing Nov. 22 to hear opinions on a proposal to raise the pay of state workers.

State workers, their bosses and union representatives are invited to attend.

The commission has been taking a survey of salaries paid in other private and public employment and is expected to recommend a pay hike for all state workers.

The survey will show exactly where most state employees stand in pay rates for comparable jobs outside state service," said Frank In J. DeWald, State Civil Service director.

He's Just Second-Youngest to Take U.S. Presidency

NEW YORK (U)—Sen. John F. Kennedy is the youngest man ever elected president of the United States, but is not the youngest ever to take over that office.

Kennedy will be 43 years, 7 months and 22 days old when he takes office on Jan. 20.

October Building Down in Waterford

Construction work in Waterford was down some $200,000 in October as compared to the previous month's high of more than $1 million, according to the Township building department.

Permits for 45 houses totaled $686,510. Only two commercial permits were issued. These were authorizations for a barber shop on Pontiac Lake Road and an office building on Elizabeth Lake Road, valued at a total of $22,500.

In the month of October, 123 permits were issued, valued at $813,347, as compared to September's 152 permits for $1,057,541. The township's valuation to date stands at $6,798,651 as compared to last year's October figure of $8,049,622.

Ike Offers Jack Transfer Confab

AUGUSTA, Ga. (U)—President Eisenhower offered today to meet with President-Elect John F. Kennedy "at any mutually convenient time" to arrange an orderly transfer of governmental power.

The President also said he would welcome meetings between designated Kennedy representatives and those of the Eisenhower administration, particularly Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Expect Order Blocking Vote

Royal Oak Township Civil Service Commission Hangs in Balance

A temporary restraining order to stop certification of the vote to abolish the Royal Oak Township Civil Service Commission is expected to be served today on two township officials.

The Oakland County Board of Canvassers also is named in the legal action in addition to Township Supervisor Elwood Dickens and Township Clerk Mrs. Arlie Gray.

The suit is being brought by Ernest Wilson, former township policeman.

Wilson charges that the top section of a voting machine in the township, which contained the civil service proposal, was not in service between 7 and 10:30 a.m. election day.

KENNEDY FAMILY—Democratic President-Elect John F. Kennedy poses for a photograph with his wife Jacqueline and his mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy at their Hyannis Port, Mass., summer home. The younger Kennedy already is working on the problems of changing the administration in Washington.

Kennedy Ponders Selection of Transition Liaison Aide

From Our News Wires
HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (U)—President-Elect Kennedy conferred with his aides today about the selection of a representative to act as liaison with President Eisenhower's aides.

Kennedy did not yet reply to Eisenhower's telegram on the question of "the orderly transfer of executive responsibility."

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said "We expect to have the answer some time today."

There was no indication when Kennedy would name as his representative, Salinger said the president-elect was meeting this morning with members of his staff "about our plans and other matters."

He said he expected to announce Kennedy's representative, along with information about the president-elect's travel plans within the next few hours.

Kennedy's brother Robert told reporters the president-elect probably would go to Palm Beach, Fla., to rest for 10 days or two weeks. There was surprisingly little post-election discussion at Kennedy's headquarters, Salinger was asked to comment on the razor-thin margin between Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the total popular vote.

He replied: "The margin was not the important fact. The important fact is that the senator won and he is grateful for that. He won certain states that he didn't expect to win and lost other states that he didn't expect to lose. The election developed a pattern that defied prediction."

Robert Kennedy, the senator's campaign manager, told correspondents that California had gone about as he expected. He said he always felt certain about Texas.

Meanwhile, the president-elect was studying a telegram from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Khrushchev's telegram appeared to indicate a desire for direct discussions between the Democratic standard bearer and the Soviet Union on the most dangerous world problems.

Kennedy apparently had no illusions about the aliveness of his victory margin over Vice President Richard M. Nixon. In fact, Robert Kennedy said that in his own opinion, without the television debates with the vice president, the Democratic standard bearer "wouldn't have been close" to Nixon's strong campaign finish.

In another post-election opinion, Robert Kennedy expressed his belief that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York would have been difficult to defeat than Nixon.

Electoral Tally 300 as 2 States Still Add Ballots

But Over-All Difference 325,000 in Century's Closest Election

WASHINGTON (U)—Despite a dwindling popular margin from a record turnout, Sen. John F. Kennedy held 300 electoral votes today as he prepared to take over the presidency 71 days hence.

With counting continuing in California and Alaska, Kennedy had captured 22 states with 300 electoral votes — 31 more than the needed 269. Vice President Richard M. Nixon took control in 25 states with 188 votes, eight electors in Mississippi and six in Alabama were not committed.

But in the popular vote, Kennedy held a margin of less than 325,000 votes in a tally of more than 66 million for the major party candidates. With returns yet to come and tallies for minor parties, it appeared that Kennedy's presidential victory might come on less than a majority of the popular vote cast.

His 50.2 per cent of the popular vote made it the tightest election since the first Benjamin Harrison-Cleveland race, in 1888. Republican Harrison won an electoral victory then while running more than 100,000 behind in popular vote.

Plans already were under way for Kennedy representatives to work with administration officials in arranging for the changeover next Jan. 20.

Forecasting a "difficult and challenging" period during the next four years, Kennedy said Wednesday that "there is general agreement that the country is facing a difficult period."

Tomorrow is Veterans Day, a national holiday, so that any business to transact at city, county, state or federal offices will have better do so today.

All city, county and state offices will be closed Friday.

This includes all area post offices, Community National Bank offices and Pontiac State Bank offices.

Savings and loan offices will also be closed.

All offices will resume their regular business hours on Saturday.

Temperatures are expected to dip into the low 20s. The weatherman predicts skies clear and a low of 20-25 tonight.

Friday will be cloudy and a little warmer with light snow or rain likely by evening. The high will reach near 35-36. Snow flurries and continued cold is the outlook for Saturday.

Northwest morning winds at 10 miles per hour will diminish tonight and become southeast at 6-12 miles Friday.

Thirty-two was the lowest recorded before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. At 1 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 37.

When the last voter had cast his ballot in Madison Heights' new Precinct 11, shortly after 11 p.m., precinct officials already knew they had been overwhelmed by a whopping 47 per cent turnout in an already over-sized voting district.

Mrs. Chamberlain said that 1,911 persons voted out of 2,500 registered in Precinct 11. The district had been created this summer, she said, in order to hold to the state maximum on precinct sizes, but huge fluctuations in this area had kept the 1,400-person limit.

Mrs. Chamberlain said she had shuffled the city's voting machines so that Precinct 11 had an extra day during Tuesday's election, but

'Time for Change' Cry Flops in State Election

LANSING (U)—Michigan's crazy-quilt pattern of political alignments was virtually intact today. The cry of "it's time for a change" didn't go over in Tuesday's general election.

Here is what resulted from the returns:

A Democratic administration... but a Republican-controlled legislature. A Democratic Supreme Court... but a Republican-dominated congressional delegation.

Voters indicated they either had short memories of the long legislative sessions touched off by the bitter warfare between Democratic Gov. Williams and the Republican-run legislature during two years of cash crises. Or else they agreed generally with what each had done.

They elected Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson to take over when Williams steps down next month after a record 12 years as governor. They also let Democrats in complete control of the eight-man Administrative Board, sometimes referred to as the governor's Cabinet.

On the other hand, they left the Senate division exactly the same, 23-12 with Republicans still predominating. And they gave the GOP a 56-44 majority in the House, breaking the 35-35 split that frequently had turned floor sessions into noisy, unyielding stalemates.

By electing 35-year-old Justice Theodore Souris, voters left Democrats in 5-3 control of the state's highest judicial body. Once again, they sent 11 Republicans and 7 Democrats to Congress, and Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara goes back for another six years in the U.S. Senate.

MORE POSSIBILITIES
Results of the gubernatorial and legislative contests set up the possibility of more stubborn standoffs of the variety that entangled Williams and the lawmakers since 1956. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

House Speaker Don R. Pears, R-Buchanan, long in the forefront of a Republican drive promoting the sales tax increase, said he would prod the governor to call a special session if there is any hesitation.

HITS NUISANCE TAXES
Pears said he would ask Williams to include in the special call possible revocation of all or most of the $35-million package of "nuisance" taxes the legislature passed together last year.

Meanwhile, a leader of the GOP anti-income tax bloc in the Senate indicated he will push for continuation of the "nuisance" taxes as an alternative to a full four-cent sales tax.

"I'm certain in my mind that the people would prefer the present taxes on such things as beer and tobacco than a four-cent tax on such things as groceries and clothing," said Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo.

Morris and Sen. Clyde H. Greening, R-Holland, chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, both expressed belief the legislature could provide for the state's financial obligations by passing a half-cent or three-quarter-cent sales tax increase rather than a full penny.

A penny increase would yield about $110 million a year. AP would go to the state.

Checks Out Monday for Christmas Clubs

Pontiac banks are readying checks totaling nearly $1 million for about 12,000 Christmas Club depositors.

Checks totaling $233,000 for 4,730 depositors at Pontiac State Bank are to be mailed Monday.

Community National Bank is to distribute its checks Monday. The bank will distribute $625,000 to 7,800 depositors.

The Christmas Club deposits represent savings accumulated during the past year.

New Ford Boss in Office

DETROIT (U)—A postwar Ford Motor Co. statistical "whiz kid" took over as president of the giant auto manufacturing firm today.

Henry Ford II announced the appointment of Robert S. McNamara, 44, a former Harvard business professor, to the post. Wednesday in a shuffle of top executives.

Ford, who had held the post himself since 1945, indicated as early as last year that McNamara would be the company's next president. The way was paved by the resignation of Ernest R. Breech as board chairman in July.

Ford will remain chairman of the board and in an added capacity as "chief executive officer."

The new president will be primarily responsible for operations. Ford said today Ford Motor Co. plans to spend $358 million in Western Europe and other foreign bases of operation this year and next. He said the expenditures would go for "facilities and tooling."

He declined a breakdown by countries but indicated expenditures would be heaviest in Europe.

Ford said his company is going to produce a new line of trucks in Argentina, approximately the 1957 models that were produced in the United States.

"European auto business is becoming more and more important every year," Ford said, and predicted that it will continue to grow.

Ford disclosed his company's two-year foreign expansion program after pointing out that General Motors recently had announced plans for spending $450 million overseas in 1960 and 1961.

Ford estimated his company's facilities and tooling expenditures overseas this year would be $128 million and that they will total $220 million in 1961.

Jack's Pledges to Keep Him Busy

Roundup of Election as of Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The election at a glance: President John F. Kennedy elected in closest race since 1872. With more than 66 million votes counted, Kennedy had a popular vote lead of slightly more than 300,000.

But he had won 31 states with 337 electoral votes, 66 more than the number required for election. Vice President Richard M. Nixon had won 31 states with 152 electoral votes. Kennedy was leading in two still-undecided states with seven electoral votes.

Senate: Democrats lost two seats to the Republicans in Delaware and Wyoming, but will retain control by a wide margin, 64 seats to 36 for the Republicans.

House: Democrats won 257 seats and were leading for two others in still-undecided contests, for an indicated total of 238. Republicans won 171 seats, leading for three others, an indicated total of 173. Democrats retain control by comfortable margin, but GOP scored a net gain of 54 seats over last Congress.

House of Representatives: Democrats won 15 seats, Republicans 12. Democrats will now control 34 state houses, Republicans 16, a gain of one for the Democrats.

New Ford Head Takes Command

Ford said Renault is government owned and he thought it disgraceful for Dreyfus to "beg anyone for money to do something." It might find production to match Rockefeller's crowd and early summer.

The governor obviously would have to overcome a reservoir of ill will by created among Republicans with his prolonged criticisms of Nixon last spring and early summer.

Three other management changes followed the announcement of McNamara's appointment. James O. Wright, vice president and former general manager of the Ford Division, was appointed to McNamara's old post of vice president and group executive for the car and truck divisions.

Lee A. Iacocca, former vehicle marketing manager of the Ford Division, succeeds Wright.

Charles R. Beacham, vice president and former assistant general manager of the Ford Division, was appointed to a newly-created central staff post as vice president in charge of marketing.

Time for a Change? State Decides—No

The governor's first election in 1948.

That already was evident in a statement Wednesday night by Sen. Clyde H. Gerding, chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee and a member of the so-called "wet bloc" that repeatedly headed off Democratic and House-approved legislation in the 1950-60 sessions.

Gerding asserted that Governor-Elect Swanson "is committed to a spending program that will increase the budget by more than the $100 million that would be produced by a one-cent sales tax increase."

"I sincerely hope that he will meet with Republican legislators and work out a compromise that will lay taxpayers a break," Republican control of both the House and Senate, he said, will "open the door next year to a program of rigid economy."

Swanson, who served two terms in the Senate himself, campaigned against the penny increase in the sales tax ceiling that won voter approval Tuesday. He called for "total tax revision" and generally supported the "income tax concept" of doing it.

Conservative Barrier Ahead

New President Must Overcome Solid Bloc to Advance Ideas

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy made enough campaign promises and pledges for better living in America — to keep him busy for his four White House years.

"The theme of this campaign," he said, "is going to be action."

His actions—and his frustrations—begin as soon as he takes office and has to deal with a Congress where, although his Democrats retained control of it, there is a built-in stumbling block to some of his liberal ideas.

This is the old coalition of conservatives: most Republicans and the Southern Democrats. They can block, bludge and baffle the man in the White House.

A president can operate in one of three ways in dealing with Congress: forcefully, like Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt; belligerently, like Truman; or cautiously, like Harding and Eisenhower.

Those who know Kennedy expect him to be forceful. But his squeaky victory over Vice President Richard M. Nixon has deprived him before he starts of a few professional politicians have for a heavy winner.

Confronting Kennedy immediately will be two domestic problems involving money:

1. The country has had an economic downturn. He must try to avoid a recession.

2. Kennedy has never come up with a cost estimate for the program he proposes. Nixon said it would be $15 billion. Kennedy boasted at that. But soon after he takes office he will have to send his list of expenses—his budget—to Congress.

He has said he would not ask a tax increase. But he also promised to keep the budget balanced—spending no more than is taken through taxation. In times of national emergency or severe recession.

BUDGET PLANS
How then, in view of his broad and far-reaching promises, would he do the balancing? He suggests various federal programs he thinks expenses might be cut. And he is going to look for tax loopholes that can be plugged up.

Still, most voters probably never heard of, one-third or even one-fifth of the pledges and promises he made because they were contained so many times in prepared speeches which, although he stood behind them, he threw away in order to talk to crowds about something which occurred to him at the moment.

agreement by all our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960's.

"All of our energies will be devoted to the interests of the United States and the cause of freedom around the world."

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS
Working with him will be a Democratic-controlled Congress in which, however, Republicans will show some gains over the present House. For the last six years, Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties.

Tuesday's election provided a Senate made up of 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans to replace the 63-34 division of the present Senate. With tabulations in five House races incomplete, the Democrats had elected 257 members and the Republicans 173. The old one-up, including vacancies, was 283-154. The Republicans had gained 22 seats.

But the Democrats registered a net gain of one among state governors, raising their state-house total to 34—their highest since 1934. Of the 27 state posts at stake, Democrats won 15 and the Republicans 12, with political changes taking place in 13 states. Six incumbents were defeated.

Kennedy has said he will wait at least two weeks before designating any of the top officials who will make up his administration.

But he will need to designate soon the man he expects to step into the shoes of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state.

Among those mentioned for this job are Adlai E. Stevenson, Rep. Charles Bowles of Connecticut, Chester J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee chairman and former New York governor, W. Averell Harriman.

Kennedy will have to decide whether to go himself or send an agent to the scheduled NATO meeting in Paris, Herter, and possibly Eisenhower, will attend.

The Day in Birmingham

Voters to Ballot Again on Sewer Plan Bonds

BIRMINGHAM — A $15 million sewer bond proposal approved by Bloomfield Hills voters in October will have to be decided all over again.

The reason for the second election is the failure of an election notice to appear in an area weekly newspaper.

The issue will be put before city voters for the second time Oct. 19.

On Oct. 3 the bond issue carried by only four votes.

But among those who voted happened except that the second legal notice never appeared in the paper," said City Clerk Robert Stadler.

"Every property owner in the city received two notices of the election in the mail, but that still doesn't make it legal," he added.

The City Council has decided to hold another election instead of possibly getting bogged down in months of litigation if the election should be questioned, Stadler said.

The election will be held at the early date so bonds can be sold as soon as possible if the proposal is approved again.

The 30-year bond issue would finance the construction of sewers in the city which would end a hassle with the Michigan State Water Resources Commission.

The state commission has ordered the city to cease pollution of the Rouge River. Septic tanks now serve city residents.

Stadler said the date of the election will allow the city to answer any questions raised by citizens.

Ionia Businessmen Counsel Prisoners on Their Readjustment to Private Life

IONIA (U)—A dozen or more Ionia businessmen are lending a helping hand to youthful prison inmates in one of the nation's first business counseling programs.

The men answered an appeal from Ionia's new medium security correctional institution for help in getting the prisoners adjusted for their return to civilian life.

Each week businessmen in teams of two counsel 100 young prisoners in everything from missiles to religion and sex.

Devised by Robert Scott, chief of the Michigan Correction Commission's Youth Division in Lansing, the counseling amounts to a weekly "bull" session which Scott declares have been of undetermined value to young prison inmates here. Scott, a former college professor, recently was called to Albany, N.Y. to outline the Ionia and Michigan plan to Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

While the program has brought closer relationship between the Ionia community and its state institutions, the counseling program has been of great benefit to boys who come to the medium security institution after law violation convictions.

Scott believes the program, which includes one hour of confidential discussion between inmate groups of nine or ten and two businessmen counselors, has won acceptance from inmates who register for each 12-week session far in excess of the 100 group counseling places.

BUSINESSMEN VOLUNTEERS

Businessmen who spend an evening each week during the session of three months include an optometrist, insurance agent, doctor, postmaster, civil engineer, news agency owner, security salesman, shoe store owner, collection service owner, farmer, retired Detroit policeman, garage owner, telephone manager, newspaper manager, and others.

The concept of involving the community through businessmen was launched by Supt. Richard Handlon, a former parole officer now head of the medium security institution.

Assisted by the youth division of the corrections department, the program took the form of social education through group counseling, a process which has been tried experimentally in some of the department's youth camps.

Supt. Handlon talked to service clubs, church groups and public officials enlisting volunteer workers from all levels of business.

The mayor of the city, Tony Balice, who owns a newsstand, hasn't missed a three month session since the program was instituted.

Group counseling is a concept of social education intended to enable community, staff and inmate groups to perceive each other as individual personalities, Dr. Scott declared, rather than opposition groups with conflicting values, attitudes and interests. The best method of implementing this concept, he believes, is through the process of group counseling.

Explained by Dr. Scott, group counseling at Ionia is a process by which positive attitude and value changes are sought through informal small group discussions. The process differs from group therapy in that the focus is on social, attitude and value insights rather than deep-seated emotional conflicts.

ABILITY COUNTS

Ionia group leaders are local community volunteers selected for their ability to relate to people easily and who can accept individual difference without undue concern and who can guide conversations with tolerance and understanding.

Many counselors called the program a "two way street" in that volunteer leaders have developed new attitudes toward law violators and the correctional process, seeing the former as individuals rather than stereotypes and the latter as potentially constructive rather than merely repressive.

The program has become a growth experience for leaders as well as inmates. Each evening after the group session is over, leaders get together for further understanding of the process under leadership of a trained group leader.

One of the outstanding features of the experience has been the interests and commitment of the volunteer leaders. Fair weather or foul, they meet at 6 p.m. for an hour with their groups and another hour for evaluating or training. Absences are rare — and always with good excuse — but the pairing of a process which has been tried experimentally in some of the department's youth camps.

else, I look forward to it and I got a lot out of it."

Supt. Handlon believes the program has been of help to many inmates who have left the institution. Discussions which included religion, politics, marriage, home situations, parole, job, and others have been listed as meaningful helpers to parole bound inmates.

Nixon Carries Kennedy

KENNEDY, N.Y. (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried Kennedy by a vote of 622 to 578. Kennedy is in Chattanooga, Tenn.

When stuffed olives are used to garnish a dish, they may be sliced and the slices arranged in an attractive design.

Lodge Congratulates Kennedy for Victory

NEW YORK (U)—Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican candidate for vice president, sent a telegram of congratulations to Sen. John F. Kennedy Wednesday on his election as president.

Lodge's message said: "Sincere congratulations on your election as president of the United States. You have very earnest and genuine good wishes for an administration filled with useful and valuable accomplishments for the American people. Now that the voters have spoken, Americans should close ranks and present a united front before the world."

17 Female Legislators on Capitol Hill

2 Women Senators Once Again

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Margaret Chase Smith and Maureen Neuberger have become the first two women in history to be elected simultaneously to the Senate for full six-year terms.

They will sit on opposite sides of the senate aisle since Mrs. Smith is a Republican and Mrs. Neuberger a Democrat.

It will be the first time since 1954 that Sen. Smith has had female company in the Senate. That year a Nebraska woman was elected to fill a two-month vacancy.

Sen. Smith's victory in Maine meant her third straight six-year term. Mrs. Neuberger was elected to the Oregon seat held by her husband before his death earlier this year.

Mrs. Smith also was involved in another female "first"—the first woman vs. woman contest in a senate seat in history. She defeated Democrat Lucia Cormier.

By winning in Oregon, Mrs. Neuberger became the 10th woman to serve in the senate.

Arkansas Democrat Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, who served 13 years and one month before her term expired on Jan. 3, 1965, was the first woman ever to be chairman of a Senate committee.

The 1960 election almost brought off another first—the highest number of women in Congress. As it is, 15 women were elected to the House. This means the 86th Congress will will match the record high of 17 females who served in the last Congress.

The record was almost set by Democrat Miss Dorothy O'Brien running for the 15th Congressional race, she was defeated by veteran Rep. Noah Mason, senior Republican on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee.

ALL RENAMED TO HOUSE

Not one of the 14 women House members who sought re-election was defeated. The 15th House seat was captured in Mrs. Neuberger's state of Washington by Democrat Mrs. Julia B. Hansen. One of the few Democrats to get a GOP seat, she was elected to the spot left vacant by the death of veteran Republican Rep. Russell B. Mack.

In one of the nation's more publicized races, Mrs. Coya Knutson was defeated in Minnesota.

She was the only Democrat unseated by a Republican in the 1958 congressional elections, and she blamed her narrow defeat then on her husband's "Coya, come home" plea.

This time her husband gave her full support, but Mrs. Knutson District in Illinois. In a narrow still lost.

But Magazines Agree That Church's Influence Will Stop There

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When President-Elect John F. Kennedy takes his oath of office next Jan. 20, he probably will rest his hand upon a Douay Bible used by the Catholics, rather than the King James' Protestant version.

This innovation can hardly be said to strike at the roots of the U.S. Constitutional system. Will there be other, more basic ways in which America's first Catholic president will differ from his 33 Protestant predecessors?

During the campaign, a number of Protestant clergymen voiced fears that a Catholic president would take orders from the Pope and would seek in various ways to give his church a preferred position in American society.

But many knowledgeable Protestants and Catholics expect precisely the opposite. They are convinced that Kennedy will go out of his way to display his independence of ecclesiastical control, and his devotion to church-state separation.

Even before Kennedy was nominated, the Catholic magazine Commonweal observed that there would be no "organizational advantages for the church" in having one of its members in the White House.

More recently, an article in the Protestant journal Christian Century asserted that Kennedy, being immune to any charge of anti-Catholicism, is "equipped to deal with hierarchical pressures" than a Protestant president might be.

Those who hold this view note that it was an Episcopalian president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who sent a special envoy to the Vatican, and a Baptist, Harry S. Truman, who proposed sending an ambassador.

Kennedy has said that he opposes any U.S. diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

Ex-Officer Jailed for Espionage Work

PARIS (UPI)—Five more persons, including a former Spanish Republican Army general, were jailed Wednesday on charges of working for a Polish espionage network in France.

The Communist mayor of the town of Fernin and seven other persons were arrested on the same charges last week.

Gen. Luis Fernandez, 46, was among those jailed, police said he was the leader of the clandestine Spanish Communist party.

State Has First Husband-Wife Team of Jurists

MARSHALL (UPI)—Michigan has its first husband-and-wife team of jurists today, after Mary Coleman won election as Calhoun County probate judge.

She is the wife of former State Sen. Creighton Coleman, who is now Calhoun County circuit judge. She won a hard-fought race against Battle Creek Municipal Judge William Burke, by 23,161 votes to 15,511 votes with one precinct uncounted. Her father-in-law is Mayor or Hewitt Coleman of Marshall.

Congratulates Kennedy

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Premier Constantine Karamalis messaged congratulations to Sen. John F. Kennedy Wednesday night, for "your election to the highest office of the United States."

Ole Miss' Goes Aunt Yvonne de Gaulle Lives On Its Lonesome in Shade of Famed Husband

Rejects Both Major Candidates in Balloting for President

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Mississippi, alone among the 50 states, went its own way in the presidential election by rejecting both major party candidates and writing new racial segregation amendments into its constitution.

Following the lead of Gov. Ross Barnett, Mississippi named a slate of unpledged presidential electors. Barnett said repeatedly that "a vote for either party is a vote for integration."

Mississippi voters also overwhelmingly approved a constitutional amendment giving circuit court clerks the power to deny the right to vote to persons the clerks consider not "of good moral character."

They also wrote into the state constitution other amendments repealing requirements that the state provide free public schools and that jurors be registered voters.

Barnett, banking on predictions that the presidential race would be extremely close, urged the unpledged elector slate in hopes of keeping either major party from getting a majority of electoral votes and then bargaining with each for concessions on civil rights.

There was no indication for whom the state's eight electoral votes would be cast. But Barnett said he was "very happy" with the result.

Corny Search Locates Missing Colorado Boy

ATWOOD, Colo. (U)—There's a difference between hunting missing persons in Colorado's mountains and on the plains.

When Allen South disappeared, Mrs. Earl South, his mother, notified Under Sheriff Mel Honebein.

A search party of 20 volunteers was organized. Each searcher was assigned to three rows of corn.

Tony Gonzales found little Allen, sitting in a corn row a quarter mile from home.

By GODEFREY ANDERSON
AP Staff Writer

France's first lady, known affectionately as "Aunt Yvonne," has spent nearly 40 years of her marriage in the shadow of her famous husband.

Naturally shy and self-effacing, she accepts the publicity which is now hers as President Charles de Gaulle's wife. But in the gilded splendor of the presidential Elysee Palace in Paris she dreams of their next quiet weekend in their manner home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises.

It's said that when De Gaulle became president in January 1959, he promised her they would spend at least one weekend each month at home. So far they have managed to do so, despite their rigorous official schedule.

The story of the De Gaulles is the typical one of a young provincial girl who met and fell in love with a dashing army officer.

HELPS HUSBAND ENTERTAIN

As wife of the president she has to official standing in France. She helps her husband entertain visitors, supports charities, looks over schools and hospitals, but never appears at his side in official ceremonies.

When he travels, she makes the journey separately or directly takes her place in his plane ahead of departure time.

This self-effacing role suits her well. She has never sought public honors.

Mme. de Gaulle at 60 is a serious, deeply religious person. And she has the provincial French woman's customary care in handling the family budget. Officials say she watches expenses at the Elysee just as closely as she does at home in Colombey.

LIKES BLACK

In dress the president's wife favors classic two-piece suits, often in black, and cut on severe lines. Her evening dresses are conservative also and in dark colors. She wears little jewelry.

Her only known hobbies are flower arrangements and playing the piano.

The great tragedy of the De Gaulles' lives was the long illness and death of their youngest daughter, Anne, who died in childhood 12 years ago.

Anne's name was given to a foundation for backward children which is perhaps their greatest charitable interest.

Their three grandsons, children of Philippe, often stay with them at Colombey.

There Yvonne de Gaulle lives her happiest hours, watching the boys run cycle races in the park, driving to market in her tiny French car, and chatting with Philomena, the cook, about the children—a son, Philippe, commander of a destroyer in the French navy, and a married daughter, Elisabeth.

Through With Politics

Bagwell's Had Enough; Will Go Back to MSU

LANSING (U)—Paul D. Bagwell, says he never again will run for public office.

The defeated Republican nominee for governor made this declaration after he conceded the election to his successful Democratic opponent, Lt. Gov. John B. Swanson.

"I will not run again for public office," Bagwell said firmly. "I'm going to take a long vacation now and make up for some of the lost time by spending it with my family."

"I've been up to the altar three times," Bagwell said with a trace of bitterness. "I've always been a bridesmaid but never a bride. If they try to get me under the altar again it will be a shotgun wedding."

"I'm going to get out of this business," he added. "They want personality boys in politics—not issues. No human being should have to take the punishment."

Bagwell said he wanted to go on a long vacation first, then planned to rejoin the staff of Michigan State University.

"I wish to congratulate Mr. Swanson," he said, "and I express the hope that Michigan will do well under the stewardship of his administration to meet the many problems facing by our people."

"I want to thank," he added, "the thousands and thousands of volunteers who labored so mightily in my behalf and nearly defeated the powerful organization of the opposition. I will forever be grateful to them and the more than a million and a half people who expressed their confidence in me by voting for me in this election."

If you don't think scraping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on.

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95s

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,000 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvair 95s are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!
