Ford's Profit in 1st Quarter Tops All of '58

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. made a record first quarter profit of $134,800,000 this year — a return greater than its entire 1958 earnings. This was equal to $2.46 a share.

Henry Ford II, president, announced the figures yesterday. For all of last year, when car sales in general slumped, Ford's net income was $116,200,000.

Sales of passenger cars, trucks and tractors were 36 per cent above the 1958 first quarter, Ford said.

Ford was the first of the car industry's "Big Three" to report first quarter earnings.

OTHERS UP TOO

On the basis of production and sales reports for 1959 model cars, both General Motors and Chrysler also are expected to show improved financial pictures.

Ford's $134,800,000 January-March net compared to $29,800,000 or 55 cents a share for the first quarter of last year.

The company said its consolidated net sales for the first three months were $1,475,300,000 as against $1,095,800,000 for the same period last year.

This year's first quarter was second high in Ford's history for any quarter. It was exceeded only by the $136,700,000 earnings of the second quarter of 1955, the auto industry's best profit year.

The previous first quarter record was the $107,000,000, or $2.01 a share, of 1955.

Recently Ford restored its 60 cents a share common stock dividend. The dividend was cut to 40 cents for the second and third quarters of last year.

FINAL QUARTER BLACK

Last year Ford lost $28,600,000 during the second two quarters but had a profit of $115,000,000 in the last quarter.

Ford said its first quarter earnings came from sales of 565,512 passenger cars, trucks and tractors, a 36 per cent gain over last year's first quarter total sales of 415,598.

Passenger car sales were 466,077 as against 340,390 for last year. Truck sales were 82,548 as against 60,029. Tractor sales were 16,887 as compared with 15,179.

The company said the current financial report represents a new accounting system including equities and net income of previously unconsolidated subsidiaries and foreign branches.

Ford said that under its previous system it would have reported a first quarter net income of $125,600,000 or $2.31 a share compared to $22,700,000 or 42 cents a share last year.

$15,000 Bank Shortage Found

Woman Faces Charge of Embezzlement at Orion Institution

A Lake Orion woman today faced a charge of embezzlement stemming from a $15,000 shortgage uncovered in the records of the former Lake Orion State Bank.

Mrs. Edith A. Sumner, 28, of 284 W. Clarkston Rd. was to be arraigned in Federal District Court in Detroit this afternoon.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, which is handling the case, said it would make its own audit of the bank's books to verify the shortage.

The shortage was uncovered Saturday, said A. C. Girard, president of Community National Bank, where Mrs. Sumner was employed as a bookkeeper.

Girard said that the funds were embezzled from the Lake Orion bank from 1951 to October 1957, when the bank merged with Community National and became its Lake Orion branch.

Mrs. Sumner was head bookkeeper of the Lake Orion bank during the time the shortages occurred, said Girard.

CLAIMS CONFESSION

Thomas J. Gerapy, district FBI head, said that a warrant against Mrs. Sumner may be forthcoming this afternoon.

Gerapy said the woman confessed the embezzlement Saturday, when Community National asked the FBI to enter the case.

Girard said the funds were embezzled through Mrs. Sumner's own checking account.

He said she issued checks in relatively small amounts for cash or in payment for purchases, then charged them off on other customer's accounts.

DOUBLE RECORDS

At month end, he said, Mrs. Sumner would manipulate the books and issue month-end statements to customers that didn't reflect the losses.

The shortages were discovered through a routine check by the bank's auditing department, which

Praise of Herter Pleasing to Ike

Appointment of New Secretary of State Heads for Quick Okay

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower sends the nomination of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state to the Senate today, confident that his new cabinet member will be approved quickly.

During the weekend, Eisenhower studied the reaction to his Saturday announcement that Herter would succeed John Foster Dulles. The White House described Eisenhower as pleased not only by the reaction from Republicans and Democrats in Washington, but particularly by the warm reception given news of Herter's selection in other free world capitals.

Public hearings on the nomination will begin tomorrow before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Herter was returning to Washington to prepare for his appearance before them.

A trickle of complaints to the committee seemed unlikely today to delay Senate confirmation.

NO FORMAL PROTESTS

Committee aides said they had received some verbal protests, from persons they didn't name.

No formal objection has been filed, however.

Eisenhower, himself, was expected to return to the nation's capital by plane late tomorrow.

Experts Gather at MSUO Seminar

HOW TO EDUCATE ADULTS? — Michigan State University Oakland Saturday called these five outside experts for advice on setting up an adult education program. They are (from left): Dr. Paul A. McGhee, director of the Adult Education School, New York University; Dr. Cyril O. Houle, professor of adult education, University of Chicago; Dr. Harry and Bonaro Overstreet, husband-wife authorers and lecturers; and Robert Blakely, vice president of the Fund for Adult Education.

MSUO Advised to Program for 'Age of Learning Society'

By MAX E. SIMON

World civilization stands on the threshold of a golden age, the "Age of the Learning Society," five of the nation's top authorities in adult education agreed Saturday.

The specialists participated in a day-long seminar on adult education at Michigan State University Oakland, offering advice on how the fledgling institution should set up an academic program for adults.

"For the first half of our century, we have been living in an age of anxiety," said Dr. Paul A. McGhee, director of the Adult Education School, New York University.

"Now the world approaches an exciting new era, the 'Age of the Learning Society.'

GEAR FOR TOMORROW

"Your university must gear itself for this tomorrow," McGhee told MSUO officials.

Adult education, he said, will play an increasingly important role in the future of world citizenry.

"With increased stress on adult education will come a new dimension of education," McGhee predicted, "for adults will be taught to question the facts of existence."

Other members of the panel were Dr. Cyril O. Houle, professor of adult education at the University of Chicago; Dr. Harry and Bonaro Overstreet, husband-wife authors and lecturers; and Robert Blakely, vice president of the Fund for Adult Education.

Dr. Houle warned the university against what he called "taking the easy way out" in its adult education program.

KEEP STANDARD HIGH

"Offer work which is at a university level," he said. "Don't fill the curriculum with routine service courses."

★ ★ ★

The Chicago professor advised MSUO to maintain close ties with its parent university, Michigan State University.

Instructors hired by MSUO will be busy working with day students, Houle said and MSU faculty members could be employed for night students.

MSUO, he also pointed out, will be an ideal place for MSU academicians to do research.

★ ★ ★

One of the important responsibilities of the MSUO faculty, Houle said, will be to indoctrinate young students to continue to learn for the rest of their lives.

"Too often," Houle declared, "this plea for continuing education is made only over the wriggling bodies of graduating classes at commencement exercises."

MUST ATTRACT

He said that more professional men continue their educations than liberal arts students do.

"If you can attract students into continuing their liberal arts work after graduation, you will have performed a great service," Houle said.

The Overstreets, authors of the best-seller, "What We Must Know About Communism," said adult classes should give the students "a chance to think about things he's not supposed to think about—the mysteries of life."

Mrs. Overstreet said two different groups in the world are today bidding for the spirit of man, the "Explorers and Deplorers."

She said "Explorers, as Colum-

Quiz Due in Area Slaying

Oakland County Sheriff's Detectives today hope to question Mrs. Sarah Sue Lawrence, 32-year-old Berkley mother, held in the slaying of a Clarkston woman Saturday.

Mrs. Lawrence, of 2652 Oxford St., was described as "improved" at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today where she remains under police guard.

She suffered a bullet wound on the leg in a struggle following the shooting of Mrs. Wyvona D. Crenshaw, 33, of 6230 Snow Apple Dr., Clarkston, who had married the former boy friend of Mrs. Lawrence, David Crenshaw, 26, last January.

Detectives believe the motive behind the fatal attack was jealousy. Mrs. Lawrence admitted shooting the Clarkston woman when State Troopers talked to her briefly at the hospital Saturday, a spokesman at the Pontiac Post said.

Sheriff's Detectives Leo Hazen and Marion Bauman, in charge of the investigation, said they were unable to take a statement from Mrs. Lawrence Saturday or yesterday due to her incoherent condition, brought on by shock and sedatives given her.

The Berkley woman, they said, was going to enter Mercywood Sanatorium, near Ann Arbor, Saturday afternoon voluntarily for treatment of an emotional disorder.

HAD HEAD INJURIES

"She had suffered head injuries in an auto accident at Northwestern Highway and Shaffer road on Jan. 1, 1957," said Hazen. "According to her husband, Wayne, she had acted strangely and shown signs of mental and emotional

Armada of Ships Set for Passage

Mass at Montreal for Historic Initial Trip Through Seaway

MONTRAL (UPI)—An armada of ocean-going freighters formed in the Montreal area today ready to make world shipping history by being among the first to transit the 130-mile St. Lawrence Seaway to the Great Lakes.

Port officials declined to tip their hand on which would be the first ship through the initial lock near here. They also gave no hint of its nationality.

The government icebreaker D'Iberville, carrying Transport Minister George Hees, Canadian and U.S. legislators and newsmen, will lead the multi-nation fleet through the waterway system Saturday.

A large proportion of the 53 salt-water ships berthed along the 10-mile Montreal waterfront today was expected to head up the seaway after unloading or loading here. More than a dozen other ships that already have cleared Montreal were anchored off Lanoraie, 30 miles downstream, waiting for the April 25 opening.

A third group of 26 ships was reported by the Federal Transport Department's signal service to be in the Gulf of St. Lawrence bound for Montreal.

Discoverer II on Way Down; Cone Still Sought

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Discoverer II is on the way down.

It may have already perished, according to an Air Force spokesman. He said the shape of the satellite's orbit indicated it would burn up in the atmosphere between 7 a.m. EST today and 10 a.m. EST Tuesday.

Discoverer II was fired into a polar orbit April 13 from Vandenberg Air Force Base, 150 miles north of here. It ejected its nose capsule over the arctic. The cone is still being sought.

Each orbit has been bringing the satellite closer to the altitude where the friction of thicker air will burn it up. Sunday night it was 150 miles from the earth at its closest point.

Washington 'Boaring' to Highbrow, 8

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the opinion of some sage observers of the going-on hereabouts, Master John Smith, age 8, of Waterbury, Conn., takes a sound view of Washington.

A lot of it is pretty "boaring," he finds.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund S. Smith, wrote his impressions for Rep. John S. Monagan (D-Conn) after a recent trip to the capital.

John quickly picked up the Washington habit of name-dropping (like "seniter Dodd"), displayed a sensible apathy toward "inportent buildings" and suffered usual difficulties with view-blocking adults.

But let John report on a scene familiar to millions of Americans (spelling and pronunciation are those of the young author):

"First we went to the Smithoion Insttood, that was very interesting. Then we got to go to the Pan American Union, that was very intersting too. I'm not sure that I know the next one but I think it's the National Gallary of Art.

"Then we went to the U. S. Capital and that was boaring. Then we went to the hotal.

"What a boaring day!

"Next day we took a lemoseen, and went to all the inportent buildings, like the Senate Office Building. And next day we left!

"Among the other things we saw and did was the Jefferson Mamorial, and inside that was the statue of Thomas Jefferson and some statements he made.

"And most of all the Lincoln Mamoria and in it was the statue of Licoln. And on the wll was the Gettyburgs Address, and another statement he made.

"And I went in the White House but I couldn't see white all I could see was feet.

"And what I forgot to menchen was that I saw in the Smithonion first plane to cross the Atlantic Ocean. And theres one other thing I did not mension was about the doom of the unknone Soldger and the changeing of the gards, (that was interesting).

"And most importent of all was I eat dinner with Seniter Dood, and Congressman John Monogon."

Weekend Toll in Michigan Is Peak for Year

Fires, Drownings and Other Accidents Bring Fatality Total to 22

By The Associated Press

Fourteen persons died in accidents on jammed Michigan highways Saturday, pushing the state's weekend traffic fatality count to the highest of the year.

A two-car collison Saturday near Bay City claimed five lives.

Four of the victims, Drs. Albert W. Farley, 67, and Newton J. Dobson, 61 both Bay City dentists: Daniel White, 31, of Saginaw, and Henry Grant, 41, of Flint, died at the scene of the collision on U.S. 23.

The fifth victim, Bay City attorney Arthur J. Kinnane, 59, died early Monday of injuries suffered in the accident.

Two small children also died in a home fire, four persons drowned and two persons were killed in miscellaneous accidents, bringing the weekend accidental death toll to 22.

Janet O'Jennus, 16, of Mohawk was killed Sunday night when the car in which she was riding failed to make a curve on U.S. 41 three miles north of Calumet and ran into a ditch.

Ekey Leverich Jr., 29, of Grand Rapids, was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding went off a curve on M37, near Grant, and struck a tree.

Fred Erndt, 15, of Birch Run, killed Saturday when his bicycle was struck by a car on a county road south of Frankenmuth.

James A. Wood, 34, and Wanda Dilworth, 23, both of Flint, killed Saturday in a car-train collision at a crossing in Flint.

Rex Smith, 9, of Hillsdale, killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding went off M43 west of Osseo in Hillsdale County.

Kenneth J. Neve, 39, of Lansing, killed Saturday when his car went off M57 five miles east of Greenville in Montcalm county.

Robert Wilson, 21, of Lansing, injured fatally Saturday when his car went off a rural road 7½ miles east of U.S. 27 in Clinton County and overturned.

Jenese McCloskey, 4, of St. Clair Shores, killed Saturday night when she was struck by a car while playing in front of her home.

After two months of miracle driving by Michigan motorists, the traffic toll has climbed steadily since March. The previous high for the year was 11 killed in the weekend ending March 29.

Australians Flock to Graham's Crusade

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham rested today at a vacation beach 25 miles north of Sydney after a strenuous opening week in his local campaign.

He will hold his next meeting at Sydney showground Tuesday night.

The opening week of Graham's four-week Sydney crusade has broken attendance records for similar missions in England and the United States, organizers said.

One official said attendance totaled 257,500 in Sydney during the first eight days, with about 17,000 decisions for Christ.

Winter's Motto for This Week: 'Never Say Die'

Plans for spring family outings may have to be put aside for a while, reports the weather man. Temperatures are expected to average 10 to 12 degrees below the normal 55 to 61 high and 34 to 40 low for the next five days.

Occasional light snow or rain mixed with snow is the forecast for tonight. The low will be near 35.

Tomorrow will be cloudy and continued quite cool with a high of 46.

Precipitation will total three to five tenths of an inch, occurring mainly Friday or Saturday as rain, probably accompanied by snow.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 36. At 1 p.m. the temperature reading was 50.

Sallade Rapped for 'Betrayal'

Elliott Scores Fellow Republican for Filing Income Tax Bill

Arthur G. Elliott Jr., chairman of the Republican Committee of Oakland County, today condemned Rep. George Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) for "betraying Republican principles and the taxpayers of Michigan" by proposing a graduated income tax bill.

"This action to soak the taxpayers of our state for $140 million a year in new taxes . . . without even so much as a thought to streamlining and reorganizing our state administrative departments so that efficiency and economies could be enforced . . . is reprehensible.

"It is inconceivable to me that any man interested in sound, efficient government designed to serve all the people could introduce a bill of this kind.

"Oakland County Republicans have publicly taken the position that any additional taxes should be temporary in nature, until such time as a thorough study of state government indicates a positive need for continuation of these taxes.

"This move has all the earmarks of political expediency. Mr. Sallade apparently is more interested in seeing that his name is kept in the limelight than in seeing that the people receive a fair tax shake."

bus did, open up new vistas. They break the pattern of the commonplace and make it strange.

"It is disastrously easy to sound naive if you are an explorer. It is almost fatally easy to sound profound if you are a deplorer," she warned.

She said more adults are turning to education because they "sense the important role thrust upon the United States in today's world crisis."

Learning, Blakely said, was once a body of facts preserved by the Church, universities and libraries.

"We're beyond facts now," he said. "Learning has shifted from a static to a dynamic force."

He urged MSUO administrators to insist upon instructors continuing their education.

"I'd have them do two papers yearly," he said, "one in their field and another in a subject they know nothing about."

Blakely said parents of students should be encouraged to study, "to keep up with their children."

★ ★ ★

The seminar was moderated by Mrs. William T. Gossett, chairman of the MSUO Foundation's Continuing Education Committee. Other policy-making seminars have been held in the fields of teacher education, business administration, liberal arts and enginering.

Although the university won't open its doors officially until September, night courses under the auspices of MSU are presently being offered on campus.

Soda Company Magnate Dies

A. N. Steele, Husband of Joan Crawford, Is Heart Attack Victim

NEW YORK (AP) — Soft-drink magnate Alfred N. Steele, husband of actress Joan Crawford, is dead at 57. He died in his sleep of a heart attack early Sunday at their lavish penthouse, just off Fifth Avenue.

Miss Crawford found him dead in bed about 9:30 a.m. He had gone to bed around midnight, commenting he felt unusually tired. Miss Crawford was placed under a physician's care.

In 10 years with Pepsi-Cola, Steele introduced radical changes that tripled sales. He was board chairman and executive officer of Pepsi-Cola at his death.

Steele and Miss Crawford eloped in May 1955. She described their marriage as more exciting than some of her screen roles. It aws his third and her fourth.

After the marriage, Joan, now 51, dropped her career and shared his life as a busy executive. "Ours is a husband and wife team," she said. She once estimated they had flown 125,000 miles around the world.

Steele was born in Nashville, Tenn., and attended Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

A onetime advertising salesman for the Chicago Tribune he was an executive of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, Detroit manager of the Columbia Broadcasting System, and an advertising executive before joining the Coca-Cola Co.

He was first vice president of Coca-Cola when he went over to Pepsi-Cola in 1949. In his 10 years with the company profits increased almost 10-fold—from $1,200,000 to $11,500,000-and sales went from 4 million to 136 million dollars.

Steele would have been 58 Friday. He had just finished a whirlwind six-week business trip with Joan, and they were to leave today on a 10-day vacation to Jamaica.

Mill Workers Ratify 1-Year Pact at Rally

HENDERSON, N. C. (UPI) — The nearly six months long textile strike which rocked this cotton mill town in a din of dynamittings officially ended yesterday.

Two locals of the striking Textile Workers Union of America overwhelmingly voted in favor of a one-year renewable contract at a mass rally.

The contract will be signed today by Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills and TWUA representatives.

The first of some 950 members of the TWUA who have been on strike for the past 23 weeks returned to work today.

U.S. Prosperity Tops Forecasts

Anderson Tells Press Leaders Economy Now Breaking All Records

NEW YORK (UPI) — Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson told newspaper executives today that the nation's prosperity is racing far ahead of the Eisenhower administration's expectations.

★ ★ ★

In a speech to members of the American Newspaper Publishers Association attending an Associated Press luncheon, Anderson reported that personal income and corporate profits have reached an all time high and total production and industrial activity have broken previous records.

Anderson predicted a bright economic future — "without inflation," which he said was not necessarily a part of the price of progress.

More than 1,300 executives of daily newspapers were on hand for the opening day of the ANPA's 73rd annual convention. During the four-day gathering they will attend panel discussions, hear formal reports on the state of the press, and talk shop at social gatherings.

Anderson, the government's top fiscal official, rejected as a "false assumption" arguments that "a inflation is good for economic growth." He added he was sure most Americans agreed with him.

"I am confident," he said, "that this nation is not going to adopt a philosophy that inflation is a necessary part of the price of progress . . . I have deep faith . . . that the American people are wise enough and perceptive enough to support the principles which can leave for your children and mine an America not ravaged by economic turmoil, but full of strength and growth and hope."

Anderson laid great emphasis on the need for preserving the value of the dollar, a favorite administrative theme.

5,000 Sightseers Jam Estate

Macmillan Flees Visitors

CHELWOOD GATE, England (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan abandoned his home and family for more than an hour yesterday when 5,000 sightseers jammed into the family estate to see how the other half lives.

"I don't mind opening my house, but I'm not opening myself," Macmilan remarked testily after an agile citizen made a bee-line for him through the family daffodils and tried to buttonhole the Prime Minister.

The man wanted to know when Macmillan's Conservative party planned to call the general election but Macmillan escaped the questioner.

"This is, after all, my day off," Macmillan told a friend.

The Prime Minister, dressed in country tweeds and cap, grabbed his friend's arm and headed for the woods, leaving behind his wife, his daughters and 10 grandchildren to cope with the traffic jam.

Lady Dorothy, Macmillan's wife, said she was "absolutely delighted" at the turnout. Entry cost to the estate was one shilling (14 cents) which Lady Dorothy donated to her favorite charity, one for retired district nurses.

It cost the sightseers another shilling to wander through the house where the jaunty white fur hat Macmillan wore on his recent trip to Moscow captured the most attention.

Next popular attraction in the absence of the Prime Minister was a big elk head on the wall that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave to Macmillan.

"He doesn't really like this sort of thing," Lady Dorothy said of her husband and the trophy.

★ ★ ★

Macmillan finally returned to the house after the sightseers began trailing him through the woods.

Hold Four Teenagers in Detroit Attack

DETROIT (AP) — Four teenagers were held for investigation today in the terrorizing of a 16-year-old girl and her boy friend last night in what police said appeared to be a jilted suitor's vengeance.

Police said Miss Vavala and Staroscick were alone in her parents' eastside home when the four youths broke in, smashed furniture and broke a front window. Staroscick was beaten.

The teenagers were arrested by police later.

Held for investigation were Ronald Kozub, 17, and John Gendron, 18, of Warren.

Miss Babala told police Kozub had been bothering her since she stopped dating him recently. Two other boys, one 15 and one 16, were also held.

Screams Enable Trainer to Dodge Attack by Tiger

HUDSON, N. H. (UPI) — A veteran animal trainer, alerted by the horrified screams of 1,000 spectators, managed to escape an attack by a 500-pound tiger with only minor injuries.

★ ★ ★

Joe Arcaris, 45, employed by the Benson Animal Farm here for 18 years, took the incident in stride yesterday. After emergency first aid he went back into the cage and finished his act.

★ ★ ★

Arcaris, who once saved the life of a man attacked by four lions, was putting six tigers, including one named Rajah, through their act on opening day. He turned his back on Rajah to direct another animal and the huge beast leaped.

★ ★ ★

The spectators screamed and Arcaris whirled to find the tiger in mid-air. He managed to dodge the full force of the blow and escaped with scratches on his left side where Rajah's knife-sharp claws ripped through his trousers and boot.

★ ★ ★

Woman Suspected in Embezzlement

keeps separate records from the bookkeeping department, Girard explained.

★ ★ ★

The auditing department, he said, discovered that its records showed that the victims of the embezzlement had less money in their checking accounts than the bookkeeping department's records showed.

Community National, he said, would adjust the losses in all of the checking accounts. The loss to the bank is covered by insurance, he said.

Mrs. Sumner is the wife of Lyle D. Sumner. They have no children. The woman became an employe of the Orion bank in 1948, soon after her graduation from Lake Orion High School.

Too Many Others Now

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (UPI)—Walter Reid announced on his 99th birthday yesterday that he's going to give up driving his car. He started driving in 1912, Reid said, but "there are too many other fellows on the road now. I don't like driving in heavy traffic."

Six Deaths Laid to Weather

Snow Covers Plains Area

By United Press International

A giant snowstorm, which dumped up to nine inches from the northern Rockies across the north central plains, eased off Monday to snow mixed with rain in the upper Midwest.

South of the snow, a clash of cold and warm air masses triggered damaging thunderstorms and high winds.

At least six deaths Sunday were blamed on the weather, four of them in Illinois and one each in Wyoming and Oklahoma.

Don Taylor, 20, of Sallisaw, Okla., was killed when he was struck by lightning while feeding livestock. A woman was killed near Green River, Wyo., when her husband's car skidded on snow and struck a bus carrying 27 students. In Illinois, two priests and a woman were killed in a collision on a rain-slicked highway near Effingham, and a similar crash near Crossville killed a woman.

About eight inches of snow buried the Lander Wyo., area, Casper, Wyo., had seven and Cheyenne, Wyo., three.

Strong winds and violent thunderstorms occurred Sunday and early Monday in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana and in parts of the Ohio Valley.

The Day in Birmingham

Street Paving, Repairs Up Before Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Streets and street repairs will be the leading topics when Birmingham City Commissioners meet tonight.

Hearings on the paving of Landon, Purdy and Ann streets are scheduled along with the Landon street right of way hearing.

In addition, commissioners will discuss the general road oiling program estimated to cost $20,775 this year.

There are 50 streets slated for seal coat treatment only. The nearly 10 miles of surfacing will cost an estimated $17,212, according to Public Works Superintendent T. C. Brien.

Another 15 streets, about a mile in all, are being considered for light oil treatment. This has been estimated at $860, Brien said.

The four streets slated for oil mat and seal coat will cost about $2,700 for the 3,420 feet of street surface, he added.

Brien pointed out that in spite of the exceptionally hard winter, oil mat streets show less spring breakup than usual. He said it is probably because several past treatments have made them become quite stable.

Due to the extra snow removal and sanding needed during the winter months, the $16,000 appropriated for the job fell $20,000 shot. But a sum of $13,000 was realized through unexpected balances within the department, leaving a $7,000 deficit, Brien concluded.

Birmingham Police are investigating the theft of $140 plus an undetermined amount from vending machines at the Mars Drive-In restaurant, 1393 S. Woodward Ave.

Police said entry was made by prying open a side door of the building sometime after 5 a.m. today. The premises had been inspected by officers on patrol at that time and nothing was found amiss until later when the restaurant was opened for the day.

A graduate of Birmingham High School who is now a science senior at Albion College, has received a $2,000 Assistanceship in chemistry.

James Taup Jr., 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Taup of 32950 Romsey Rd., Franklin, will teach general chemistry at the University of Wisconsin while working for his doctorate in science.

Five circles of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will meet tomorrow.

Circle 1 will gather at the home of Mrs. Edward Meinzinger, 16943 Madoline St.; Circle 2 at the home of Mrs. Allan Shilts, 1235 Dorchester Rd.; Circle 3 at the home of Mrs. John Cooper, 851 Shirley Dr.; and Circle 4 at the home of Mrs. Frank Hilton, 1310 Shipman Blvd. These four meetings will be at 12:30 p.m.

Wesley B. Cross

Service for Wesley B. Cross, 83, of 2604 Manchester Rd., was held at 8 p.m. last night from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Burial is being held today at Mount Emblem Cemetery in Chicago.

Mr. Cross died Saturday at the Lakeview Convalescent Home, Pontiac, after a long illness.

He was a retired U.S. Post Office superintendent in Chicago and a member of Portage Park Lodge, F&AM, Chicago.

Bolivian Revolt Chief a Suicide

22 Dead, 50 Wounded as Rightist Party Fails to Seize Power

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—The leader of Sunday's short-lived revolt committed suicide after his rightist uprising was crushed, the government announced today. At least 22 persons were slain, and more than 50 were wounded in the course of the attempted coup.

The government of this poverty-plagued nation said Oscar Unzaga de la Vega, head of the Falange party, took his life Sunday night in a house in the outskirts of this capital in which he had hidden.

His bodyguard, Juan Gallardo, also shot himself to death, the government announcement said.

★ ★ ★

President Hernan Siles Suazo announced the defeat of members of the Falange party who tried to seize the city hall Sunday, attacked an army barracks and marched on the government radio station and municipal offices.

★ ★ ★

Government forces broke up the attacks and then began a cleanup of Falangist rebels.

★ ★ ★

Many of the wounded were reported to be bystanders caught in the crossfire betwen government forces and insurgents. Scattered shooting was still heard, but rebels were reported turning in their arms.

★ ★ ★

Two insurgent leaders were captured: Rafael Loayza, a retired colonel, and Luis Saenz.

A government radio station said Siles had declared a state of siege —modified martial law—throughout the country.

There were no reports of trouble outside of La Paz.

GOP Group Leery of State Income Tax

LANSING (AP)—The legislature has been urged to consider all other means of taxation before resorting to any form of a state income tax.

★ ★ ★

The Republican State Central Committee Saturday suggested the possibility of extending the score of the present 3 per cent sales tax or enacting other temporary taxes instead of an income tax.

★ ★ ★

The GOP asked that no income tax bill be passed until the people are given a chance to approve it at the polls.

★ ★ ★

The committee said any Republican legislator who sponsors a graduated personal income tax measure would be speaking for himself and not the party.

German Cannon Blocks Genesee County Road

FENTON (AP) — Startled deputies found Dauner road leading out of this Genesee County community blockaded by a German heavy artillery piece today.

The carriage-mounted field gun was attached to a jeep. Deputies said three men fled from the vehicle as police approached. One wheel on the gun mount had broken.

Investigation revealed that the gun had been stolen from in front of the Fenton post hall of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Police said the theft was believed to be the work of pranksters.

In 1914 the first sign to control traffic was installed in Detroit.

Give Ex-Patrolman Probation in Hoax

Former Oxford Patrolman Roscoe M. Zolman has been placed on six months' probation for making a fictitious report to police when he accidentally shot himself in the hand April 2.

Zolman sent police in southeastern Michigan on a wild goose chase looking for a motorist he said shot him after being stopped for a traffic violation.

The injured patrolman was taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Pontiac, where he later admitted the story was a hoax. He said he was "ashamed" to admit he had shot himself by accident when trying to kill a rat in the village dump.

Zolman was dismissed from the local police force. After his release from the hospital he appeared before Oxford Justice of the Peace Fred F. Stevens for sentencing.

Bob Considine Says:

Flight Pioneers Attend 'World Congress'

LAS VEGAS—People . . . places . . . and planes.

Gen. Frank Lahm, 82, first military man to fly an airplane—he was taught by the brothers Wright—was met by a reporter at the Las Vegas Airport when he arrived here with Mrs. Lahm for the World Congress of Flight. He had flown in from Tucson on a big commercial plane.

"How was the flight, General?" the reporter asked.

"Fine. Just fine. Smooth, comfortable."

"In other words, you think the airplane is here to stay?" the reporter joshed.

"Nope," snapped Lahm, looking at the DC6, "it's going on to Salt Lake City."

Jimmie Mattern, one of the top American fliers during the growing years of U. S. aviation, came to the air show with an old O X5 engine in his trailer.

"Finally got that old engine over the mountain," big, robust Jimmie said. "Last time I tried it, in a plane, she conked out on me."

Mattern has formed an association named for the famous Curtiss-built engine, the first mass-produced aircraft engine. Practically every well-known flier in the country—the Lindberghs, Doolittles, Rickenbackers, Twinings, etc., etc., etc.—were carried into the air for the first time behind an O X5.

It powered the famed Jenny trainer of World War I vintage. Its eight water-cooled cylinders produced 90 horsepower. Some are still flying after 40 years.

HAS MANY 'FIRSTS'

Mattern has had a life that is bound to make a great book and movie or a television series just as soon as the latter medium runs out of ammunition.

He established more "firsts" than perhaps any other flier of the 1920s and 1930s — including being the first American flier to be interned by the Russians (he was forced down in Siberia on an attempted solo flight around the world).

If the Air Force goes through with its plan to send an F-100 trainer-fighter around the world non-stop in 34 hours (refueling it in flight), Jimmie will ask for the jump seat.

The most daring of the daredevils who performed in the firepower and aerobatics here last week was Capt. Ceoletta, the solo flier of the startling Italian team. We ran into him later and found him surprisingly mature.

He is shaped like, and has a striking likeness to, Benito Mussolini. He flew Italian pursuit planes against the U. S. Army Air Force until Italy dropped out of the war in 1943.

"I shot down some of your B17s," he said with considerable pride. Then his face clouded and he put his hands in the posture of prayer.

"I'm sorry," he added.

Scott Crossfield, North American Aviation's chief test pilot, the man who will fly the X15 into space and bring it back, has an interestingly concise description of same.

"Space," he told us, "is the biggest hunk of nothing we've ever found."

SAVED FROM IRONY

The pilot of the villainous-looking mile-a-second experimental plane, which will climb to an altitude of 100 miles when released from the wing of a B52 barely escaped injury while talking to us. An NBC mobile camera vehicle nearly backed into him. I yanked him out of the way.

"Thanks," Crossfield said. "That would have been true irony if I got run over by a truck."

The most daring suggestion of the air show week was made by a gentle Presbyterian minister, Chaplain John F. B. Carruthers, Air Force chaplain from Claremont (Cal.) College.

"I suggest that the next World Council of Churches meet in Las Vegas," he said, "and at the same time as the World Congress of Flight. There will be much for the churches to think about by then, with space travel unfolding."

Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb, thinks it would be a good idea for the U. S. to detonate a nuclear bomb 100,000,000 miles out in space and then check what drifts down, and in which succession, as a counter-check on the validity of the Einstein theory. We don't know what that means, either, or whether it would increase taxes if it turned out that Einstein goofed.

Somebody asked Teller if he thought there was life on Mars

"It would be undemocratic for us to deny it," he answered.

Last year 4,250,000 automobiles were scrapped.

Mike Myers, or I should address him by his full name, Vergil Myers, joined Michigan Bell thirty-four years ago. His entire service with us has been right here in the Pontiac district. We are proud of his record, too. It's typical of so many of our present supervisors. Mike began his more than quarter century as a lineman. By application, study and genuine interest in his job, he received repeated promotions until today he is Supervising Installation Foreman. He heads a department of seventy-four people who are doing a great job for us. Mike's a good citizen, too. He lives at 3690 Lincolnshire Road with his wife, Nora and has two sons, Donald and Vergil, Jr. Like many other good citizens, Mike is active in Masons, Boy Scouts, Church, PTA and loves to fish and boat. His fellow employes think much of his ability, too, for he served them as president of their local union.

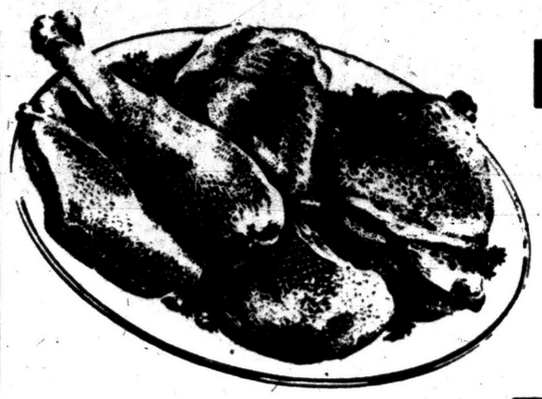

Mike, we are proud of the record you have compiled with Michigan Bell and want our subscribers to know the kind of folks we have working for us and serving them.

Begin With Diet

Work on Weight, Muscles and Posture

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In spring flowers bloom on hats as well as in gardens! This is the time of year when women long to be lovely more than at any other season. That is why I bring you my package of SPRING MAKE-OVER columns at this time.

Because of the grace and beauty of spring and the lovely clothes which are shooting up all about us, we just naturally think of our figures. There are four factors which seal our fate.

First there is our bony structure. We can no more change that than we can our ancestors. Next there is our weight. Overweight blurs otherwise attractive lines with fatty deposits.

Next we must think of our muscles. Lax slumping muscles cause many a figure fault. Also fat is much less apt to settle over active muscles than over inactive ones. Then there is our posture. This can make all the difference in the world in our figure as well as in the general impression we give.

So, when beginning your spring makeover think of your weight, your muscles and your posture. You will have to diet in order to lose pounds, exercise for firmness and think constantly of your posture. Singly or in combination, these three categories account for most figure defects.

Many women use my 9-day slimming diet for a quick loss when they have gained from 5 to 10 pounds. Others use it as a springboard for a flying start when they have a bigger reducing job ahead of them. Therefore, I include the menus from the diet in my Spring Makeover package.

TUESDAY
Breakfast
Half grapefruit
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast, Black coffee
Mid Morning
Glass of tomato juice
Luncheon
Green salad with lemon or reducing dressing, 1 slice lamb roast (don't eat the fat)
One glass skimmed milk
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
Mid Afternoon
Glass of tomato juice
Dinner
One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (five or six ounces)
One-half cup squash (yellow preferable)
One-half cup string beans
One glass skimmed milk, One apple

Tomorrow we will print the menus for the following day. We'll continue with the menus the entire nine days of the diet. Better start now.

I also promised you an exercise a day. You can begin with this one either today or tomorrow. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor overhead. Bend the left knee up close to the abdomen. Return leg to floor. Bend the right knee up. Return to floor.

Continue, alternating left and right. Do this 20 times, counting both legs. If your muscles are strong enough, you can bend both legs at this same time. If not, you can do so later on.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my complete 9-day diet in a small booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "The Road to Health Is the Road to Beauty, Too."

Bend the knee up in this position, then return to floor. Do this with each leg. This exercise is a part of your Makeover plan.

Some Problems Can Be Solved Alone

By RUTH MILLETT

A woman can solve a lot of her problems without help from her husband — if she will only refrain from crying, "How can I make him understand?"

A reader has just such a problem. Not long ago she and her husband moved onto a farm but were unable to make a go of farming, so her husband took a job in town.

Having three small children and no close neighbors she is alone all day. When her husband gets back from work he is tired and wants to stay at home. "How can I make him understand," she asks, "that the children and I need to be with other people some of the time?"

Why try to make him understand? Even if you succeed, the fact remains that with a job in town and country chores to see to and a long drive to and from work he isn't going to have much time for social life.

So instead of expecting your husband to solve your problem for you, why not try solving it yourself?

Why not invite some of your city friends to bring their children and spend a day with you occasionally? It would be a treat for them and a treat for you. You have something to offer them that they would enjoy. In return you would find yourself invited to spend a day in town occasionally.

That way you would have guests to plan and cook for and enjoy. And you would also have the anitcipation of visiting to look forward to and an occasional exciting day spent away from the quiet of the everyday life you lead.

By sparking up your own days you would no longer be lonely and frustrated and unhappy because your husband doesn't understand your problem.

★ ★ ★

Any time a wife can solve a problem by herself she ought to do it. For men also have their problems — most of which they have to solve without the help of their wives.

New Necklaces Feature High, Bunchy Look

Higher and higher is the rule for necklaces of all kinds. The high, bunchy look gives a beautiful touch to open necklines. The bibs are set high on the throat and cascade to new, shorter lengths.

Chokers are high and bunchy, nestling at the base of the throat, or simple, flat and tailored, with textured or other surface interest to complement suits and shirtwaist dresses.

The dog collar is a fashion reality — and a flattering one — in many different forms. There is a big emphasis on mixing size, shade, shape, form and colorings of necklace stones and beads. Necklace fastenings are more ornate and finished to fill their role of showing with the open-necked summer clothes.

Shavers Injured

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Shaver of Sylvan Lake City are patients in Tampa General Hospital, Tampa, Fla., recovering from injuries received in an auto accident.

Dry Corduroys in Dryer

Corduroys thrive on dryer-drying. You'll save dry cleaning costs and be more pleased with the results. Remove garments while there's still some hint of dampness.

Straighten seams, collars and hems with your fingers. Touch up with ironer to smooth seams if desired. Use a buffer load of towels when drying corduroys to raise nap to "like-new" finish.

Shoe Polish Takes On Scent of Blossoms

NEW YORK (UPI)—Women feeling down at the heels may now brighten their lives with perfumed shoe police.

A publicity release for the manufacturer explains that there is a different aroma for each type of mood — and shoe material.

The release itself is rather flowery. It describes the scents in the following terms:

Plain old lavender.

Young Driver Starting Off With a Bang

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Deputies who rushed to a supermarket to answer a burglar alarm found a plate glass door smashed and a tiny, 2½-horsepower car inside.

The driver was Gregory Skeen, 5, who had driven straight through the door.

The boy had been practicing driving in the store's parking lot, police said. He wound up in the hospital with minor cuts and bruises.

No charges were filed. The boy's daddy, Maj. Henry B. Skeen, said he will pay the $300 damage bill.

Panama Hunts Former Envoy

Roberto Arias Charged With Plotting Revolt Against Government

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian sea forces today hunted former Ambassador Roberto Arias, husband of famed British ballerina Margot Fonteyn, with a warrant charging him with revolutionary activity.

Arias, former ambassador to Great Britain, and his wife were reported on a fishing trip in the Gulf of Panama. Minister of Government Max Heurtematte said their launch was spotted once Sunday but disappeared.

★ ★ ★

Heurtemate said Arias' arrest was ordered after an informant said he planned to lead an attack on the National Guard post in Chorrera, about 20 miles from Panama City.

Arias, 41-year-old son of ex-President Harmodio Arias, is the latest prominent politican implicated in a revolutionary wave which President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. charges is building up against his regime.

★ ★ ★

Three small rebel bands, mostly of students, began operating from mountainous sections of the country early in April, apparently trying to ape the guerrilla tactics Fidel Castro used to overthrow the Cuban dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista. Four rebels have been killed and six captured in skirmishes with the National Guard, Panama's army and police.

★ ★ ★

De la Guardia last week charged that Panamanian revolutionaries were plotting an invasion from Cuba using hired troops. National Guard troops have been stationed on likely landing beaches. The U.S. Caribbean Command has increased security measures in the U.S. - controlled Panama Canal Zone.

Harmodio Arias split with De la Guardia last year and his newspaper chain began attacking the president. One Arias son, Gilberto, resigned as finance minister because of the break, and Roberto quit his post in London.

It's not always wasteful to fertilize soil that is already rich, according to the Department of Agriculture. Tests show that land which yielded 138 bushels of corn without fertilizer produced 159 bushels when plant food was added.

Auto Financing Firm to Provide Loans for Homes

Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp., the nation's largest independent auto financing company, is extending its facilities to cover home owners' property improvements in the Pontaic area, according to William J. Winters, Pontiac district manager.

The firm's Property Improvement Plan will be offered through established contractors and dealers in the area.

The plan provides for the financing of such improvements to real property as air conditioning, heating equipment, extra rooms, kitchen remodeling, swimming pools, garages and other major improvements.

Socialists Gain on Adenauer

But Christian Dems Should Retain Control in 2 States

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party is expected to retain control of the state governments in Lower Saxony and Rhineland-Palatinate despite Socialist election gains.

Both of West Germany's major parties picked up support in the elections Sunday of new legislatures in the two states. The socialist gains were slightly larger.

In lower Saxony—a traditional labor stronghold — the Socialists were still the biggest party but again lacked a majority. The Socialist-Christian Democrat coalition government was expected to continue, with the Adenauer party having the dominant voice because of backing from the third-place German party.

★ ★ ★

With the Geneva foreign ministers' conference in the offing, foreign policy was the major issue in the campaign. The 83-year-old chancellor claimed that only Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would benefit if the voters endorsed the Socialist demand for more flexibility in bargaining wth Moscow.

Dateline Dither Gets Another Go-Round

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

OVER THE PACIFIC — A few minutes ago, somewhere between the lobster cocktail and the filet mignon, I got a day younger.

This was only justice. Last week, I had lost a day out of my life—while I was asleep, mind you—and it was quite a jolt.

Like any woman of sensitivity, I awakened intuitively upon crossing over the International Date Line and inquired of a passing stewardess if it had happened.

She nodded soberly, said "Yes." It had been Saturday night when I dozed off, and it was Monday morning when I woke up a few minutes later.

"Everything is rush, rush, rush," mused the man on my right. He held up his scotch glass. "Only my second," he said, "and I've lost a third of the weekend."

★ ★ ★

The confusion of crossing the International Date Line, and involuntarily dropping or picking up 24 hours (east to west, losing a day; west to east, regaining it) will be compounded next autumn when Pan-American puts its jets into service in the Pacific. You then will lose, or pick up, your days nearly twice as fast.

★ ★ ★

This means that if you leave Tokyo, say, at dinner time on a Friday, you may arrive in Honolulu in time for cocktails Thursday, depending on what time you start drinking and where the sun is, if at all.

If you continuously travel around the world, east to west by jet, as I understand it, which I probably don't, you could lose a day out of every two and begin your life at 40 before you're 21.

On the other hand, if you play it smart and circle the globe with the prevailing winds, you will only have a birthday every two years. And, if you're a woman, you can blatantly lie about your age without losing integrity.

Physiologically, you may be 50—but aeronautically, you are sweet 25!

Flying 14,000 feet above the Pacific at night, where the stars hang like scoops of whipped cream and the moon is closer than tomorrow, makes a man poetic. And nostalgic.

FLYING LIKE SKIING

"It's like skiing," mused this particular man. "I've never gotten over that feeling. You skim through stars as if they were snow. You never lose that clear sensation of rhythm—of the cleanest sensation of motion. It's a graceful business, flying. I've never met a good pilot who didn't make a good skier; or a good dancer, for that matter."

★ ★ ★

Capt. Kenneth Beer, as he spoke, was piloting a stratocruiser, the two-deck luxury plane that Pan-American flies (along with Super DC7s) from Tokyo to the U. S. Within a year, he should be the first pilot to fly PAA's Pacific jets.

He's been with the company 30 years—was one of the first to pioneer the Pacific in the line's "China Clippers," flying boats of the 1930s—is chief pilot of their Asia division.

★ ★ ★

"Sure, I look forward to jets. Almost twice as fast, everything, from pilot's reaction to flying time. Higher performance all the way. I've heard some folks regret their coming—everything going by so fast that there's no time to reflect on those stars out there. But not a pilot.

★ ★ ★

"He's like an auto bug driving a '49 coupe. It's comfortable. Handles easily. He likes it. But offer him a '60 convertible, and you think he'll think twice?"

FORESEES ROCKETS

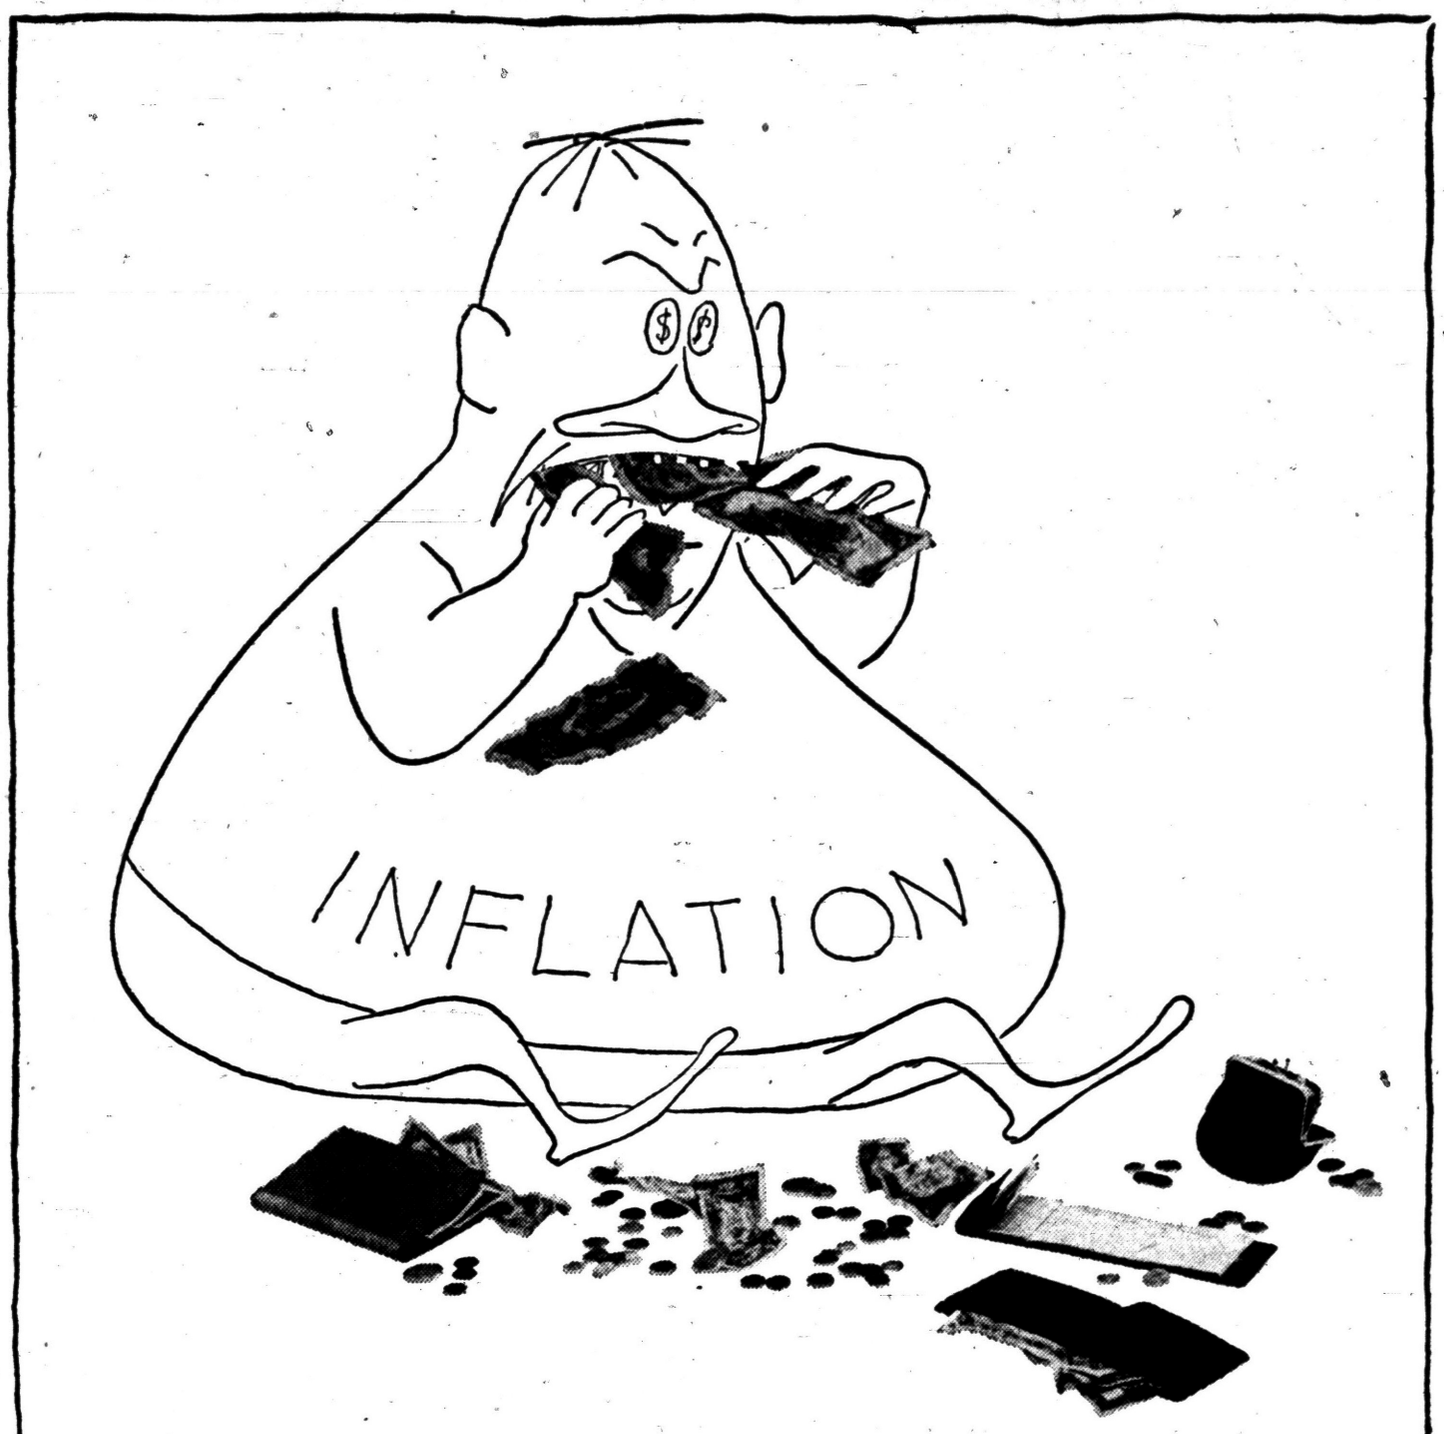

When Pan-Am flew the first venture into the Pacific, Captain Beer flew "China Clippers." ("When the winds were against you, you could carry only two passengers, along with the mail.")

Soon he'll be flying more than 100 passengers, 10 times as fast, in jets. Rockets, he believes, will be along in another decade.

San Francisco will be but a catnap from New Delhi—Washington a club sandwich from Honolulu. Sunset and sunrise will mush together, the sky will be zipping with action, the clouds will stand still.

"I've had some qualms sometimes," said Captain Beer slowly. "Qualms when I think I might not have picked flying as a career. Terrible to think I might have sat at a desk with my head in the clouds, instead of sitting up here above them."

The man whom Stevenson based his Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde dual personality was a neighbor of his, Deacon Brodie. He was a carpenter in the day time and a burglar after dark.

32¢ lost from your dollar just since the war

It doesn't matter whether you call it "inflation" or "dollar nibbling" or "higher living costs."

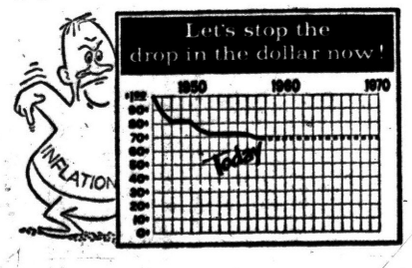

Of course you've felt it. The steady whittling away at every dollar you spend or save. The struggle to get through until pay day. The fight to make both ends meet, regardless of higher wages.

How can we stop the value of the dollar going down and down?

One of the greatest dangers to the purchasing power of the dollar lies in expecting the Government—whether federal, state or local—to play Santa Claus and bring us new services year after year. We simply can't expect to have all the services we would like, however desirable they may be. Not while we're carrying the biggest peacetime military budget in our history. By pressing for new benefits at a time like this, we face higher and higher taxes . . . or more and more inflation.

Your representative in Congress understands this. And he knows that in the end it is you who pay the cost of these projects. But he can't hold the line against inflation unless you and others make it clear that this is what you want. Support him in every effort he makes to tighten up on non-defense expenditures and to eliminate waste.

So that you can give your representative the backing he expects and deserves, keep yourself constantly informed of the attitude he is taking. A good place to get that information is through your newspaper.

When we have cut every expenditure that is unnecessary or postponable, we'll have taken a big step toward a balanced budget and away from inflation. We'll have also given millions of Americans greater incentive to add to their savings. Not only will a growing nest egg bring a comfortable feeling of independence and security. Those savings, as they are invested, will provide the capital needed for America's future growth.

America's growth, and your prosperity, both depend on a stable dollar.

• • •

Brought to you in the interest of every American who is concerned with preserving the value of the dollar.

Milford's 3 Water Beauty Sites Wiped Out

FOR DAM INSPECTION—Owner of the three Ford mill ponds in Milford claims that he has released water from his three ponds so that insurance inspectors may present rate-figures on liability policies. With the opening of floodgates of the Huron River dam, the river has receded more than 20 feet on each side, and nothing can be done about the situation, according to officials.

Ford Plant Owner Opens Huron River Floodgates

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Water from three big mill ponds in the heart of Milford has disappeared, the swollen Huron River has been reduced to a trickling stream and a near-by lake threatens to become nothing but a bed of muck.

All this is the result of the opening of floodgates on a major dam, on the Huron River, owned by James Robbins. He purchased the pond, three dams and 40 acres of property along with the old Ford Motor Co. carburetor plant here two years ago.

Robbins said that it was necessary to drain the ponds because his insurance company insisted on an inspection before issuing any liability insurance.

"If one of those dams were to let loose, it could cost our company several million dollars in property damage, and we could not assume that great a liability," he added.

The Robbins Inc. company manufactures all types of highway trailer components in the old Ford plant and the insurance involves liability on water resource operations of dams affecting the Huron River, Moore's Lake and the millponds.

It all started Friday morning when, for the first time stunned townspeople looked out on deep, empty mud-holes that were formerly landscaped beauty spots created by Henry Ford some 25 years ago.

When the gates at the main dam were thrown open, the water from the Huron River went pouring through the dam, on down into Kent Lake. This controled, man-made lake is always four feet lower in the winter, so there was no danger of a flood hazard at any time, according to Village Engineer George Hubbell.

With the Huron River lowered, water from the three ponds immediately began to spill down into the river and with nothing to stop the flow, by Sunday afternoon it all disappeared into Kent Lake.

GET THE FISH

State Conservation officials issued an announcement early Saturday urging people to go to the main mill pond and get the hundreds of dying fish flopping around on the nearly dry riverbed.

By noon, the area was filled with cars. Spectators watched men and boys wade knee-deep in the gooey muck, grabbing up choice pike, bass, perch and other varieties of floundering fish.

Some residents feel that the emptying of the mill ponds was a "strategy move" by Robbins, who wants to sell part of his land for a new shopping center.

It would mean rezoning the area from heavy industrial to commercial and council members have been tabling the zoning change for additional study, since last September.

Robbins said that the shopping center is something to be decided on by the people, and that it doesn't involve his company as it is an industrial operation.

Robbins explained that because of the Ford Motor Co's great buying power, insurance on this plant and its operation were thrown in with all of the other company policies. Ford also used all of the electric power produced by the dams.

He added, "We don't use the dams in any way. All we're doing is paying a high liability insurance rate for something we don't even need." He said that the rates are between $4,000 and $5,000 annually.

President of the Chamber of Commerce Archie Noon said that the businessmen would like to keep the area zoned as it is to lure industry to Milford.

"The council has already approved two different commercial shopping centers in the village, and we need heavy industrial zoned areas," he added.

Robbins owns the water rights to Moore Lake, just north of Milford. This artificial lake is fed by the over-flow from Pettibone Lake near Highland and is controlled by a dam which was included in the Ford-Robbins deal. Almost every lot on the lake has a cottage and in most cases people live year-round in the buildings.

Newly appointed city manager Oliver Taylor has contacted several different state departments and legal advisors regarding the situation and said that it all summed up to one fact—nothing can be done about the situation.

As owner of the ponds, dams and land, Robbins may do what he wants to about re-filling the ponds and controlling the Huron River water level, Taylor said.

Robbins said that after the insurance company inspectors compile their rate-figures, his company will decide what to do about re-filling the gapping mud holes.

"When we decide if the liability is greater than we want to assume we will establish that fact with the city and see what they want to recommend," he added.

None of the village engineers or government officials would predict just how long it would take to refill the ponds from the tiny Pettibone Creek their only water source. Some engineers say that it may take more than a year to replace the water, depending on weather conditions.

MEETING TONIGHT

A huge crowd of Milford residents are expected to attend tonight's "feel the pulse" public meeting at 8 p.m. at the high school, Taylor said.

A vote will be taken on whether or not the residents want another shopping center on the north end of town involving the Robbins property. Council members will then decide whether or not to permit the zoning change.

Robbins insists that the empty ponds have nothing to do with the shopping center site. "It's just a coincidence that the inspections were necessary just before the public meeting," he concluded.

FREE FISH — Hundreds of people slushed through knee-deep mud to get half-live fish from the bottom of an emptied mill-pond in Milford Saturday. George Heffler and his son Edward look over a 2-foot pike which they picked up early in the morning. Water has vanished from three scenic ponds and the Huron River was lowered when the owner of the dams released the floodgates Friday.

Addison Will Host Firemen's Meeting

LEONARD — The Addison Township Fire Department will host the annual dinner meeting tomorrow evening of the Northeastern Oakland County Firemen's Assn. at the Leonard Elementary School here.

★ ★ ★

Some 150 association members and guests are expected to attend the festivities which will get under way at 7 with a dinner to be served by Mrs. Harold H. Dearing, school lunch supervisor for the Oxford Area Community Schools.

★ ★ ★

Meat for the meal will be furnished by Melvin L. Lanphar, owner of Pleasant View Farms located near Leonard.

Special guests will be members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department including Undersheriff Donald M. Francis and Officer Donald Kratt.

William Jackson, department underwater diver, will also be on hand to explain how he works with area fire departments in rescue operations.

★ ★ ★

Other demonstrations showing how the Sheriff's Department cooperates with area fire fighting units in case of fire and other emergencies are planned.

There will also be displays by a number of area fire companies, according to Addison Fire Chief Edward Porter.

Members of the Northeastern Assn., in addition to Addison Township, are from Orion, Brandon, Oxford and Independence Townships, and from the villages of Metamora, Hadley and Gingellville.

★ ★ ★

Fire chiefs from outlying areas have also been invited.

Lyon Approves School Tax Levy

LYON TOWNSHIP — In Saturday's special election here, township voters favored the proposal to levy a four-mill special tax for school operation for three years by a margin of 240 votes. The tally was 843 yes to 603 no.

★ ★ ★

The Township Board of Education had asked for the extra millage to help defray part of the operating expenses of the district from 1959 through 1961.

★ ★ ★

This is the second request for a millage increase in recent months. The first was defeated by a sizable margin.

Band Boosters to Meet

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale Band Boosters Club will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night at Avondale Junior High School. Music will be furnished by the fifth grade band under the direction of teacher Richard Longfield.

Oak Park Ups School Budget

Asks $248,481 More to Hire 29 Staffers, Give Pay Hikes

OAK PARK — Dr. James N. Pepper, superintendent of Oak Park schools, was to submit his proposed $2,679,651 budget to the Oakland County Allocation Board today for its approval.

Tentatively approved by the sought is $248,481 higher than that for last year. Approximately $162,700 of the increase would go toward the hiring of 29 new faculty members and about $54,700 for possible salary increases, Dr. Pepper said.

An expected enrollment of an additional 650 pupils will necessitate the hiring of the new personnel, he added. There are approximately 5,300 pupils enrolled in the Oak Park School System at this time.

The new faculty members being sought include 24 full time teachers, an assistant principal for the Key Elementary School, two student counselors, a librarian and a part time teacher.

The amount of millage the school board will ask for in the June school election has not yet been decided by the board, Dr. Pepper said. The present three mills will expire this year.

Southfield Council Gets Xway Proposal Tonight

SOUTHFIELD — City Council approval of the Southfield expressway, as proposed by the State Highway Department, will be sought at tonight's council meeting, City Administrator Robert J. McNutt announced today.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Donald L. Swanson gave tentative approval to the state's expressway plans at a public hearing last week.

Chief reason that the state plan has not met with the approval of residents and the Council is that it calls for dumping six lanes of traffic into two lanes north of Nine-Mile road.

The City Road Commission has in the meantime promised to consider widening Southfield north of Nine-Mile road if the money can be found. None is available at the moment, they agreed.

★ ★ ★

The total estimated cost of the seven-tenth of a mile expressway in Southfield is $4,900,000, to be paid by the state. It is intended to tie up with the network of expressways from Detroit.

If approved, construction is scheduled to start in the fall of 1960 and to be completed in 1962.

Almont to Vote on School Tax

Issue Goes on Ballot 3rd Time in 9 Months on April 27

ALMONT — For the third time in nine months, Almont voters will be asked April 27 to authorize an increase in the school operating tax.

The Board of Education is seeking an additional three-mill tax to be levied for three years.

Last July, the electorate turned down a request for two mills by a two-to-one majority. Just a month ago, a proposal seeking a 2½-mill increase was defeated by 17 votes.

The school board said two of the three mills would be used to pay off an accumulated deficit which is expected to amount to about $40,000 by the end of the year. The remaining one mill is needed to balance the operating budget in the future.

The latest proposal has the backing of a newly formed group of citizens called the "Committee for Better Schools."

State's Winter Hid Destruction

Mice Ravage Orchards

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Michigan's recent severe winter made a field day for field mice whose ravaging of fruit orchards just now is coming to light.

The disappearance of high-pile snow has revealed thousands of trees girdled by the hungry rodents.

The damage went undetected earlier since mice tunneled under the snow as they gnawed bark from the trees, many of which may be damaged beyond repair. New plantings normally are protected by metal guards, but the snow allowed mice to reach above the guards.

Christmas tree plantings also were a target for the mice.

Clarence Mullett, district agricultural agent at Traverse City, conservatively estimates mouse damage to orchards at $100,000 in an area reaching from Manistee to Petoskey.

Some growers believe it will go as high as $500,000.

Damages estimates, says Mullett, include replacement value of the fruit trees plus their potential harvest return over several years.

Richard W. Reath, Kent County agricultural agent, declined to place a dollar value estimate on mouse damage to orchards in his area. He said, instead, that it appeared to be general throughout Michigan's west central belt of fruit counties.

One orchardist north of Belding reported more than 500 of his apple trees girdled. Girdling lays bare the cambium layer (sub-bark tissue) of the tree and prevents nutrition from being carried from the tree roots to the upper portion.

MAY TRY GRAFTING

Horticultural experts say apple trees lend themselves to the process of bridge-grafting as a means of overcoming the girdling damage.

It is a tedious process.

The grower takes a dormant shoot and attaches the cambium layer of one end of the root system of the tree. The other end is grafted to the tree trunk, bridging the girdled section, to carry food and water to the branches.

Mullett explains that apple and pear trees can be saved by such grafts but claims cherry, plum and peach trees seldom graft successfully.

He estimates three-quarters of the orchards in northern lower Michigan are planted to cherry trees.

★ ★ ★

Growers are hopeful that good weather in the new growing season may offset some mouse damage. Killing frosts in the early part of last May slashed deeply into fruit blossoms lured out by a warm spell a month earlier.

Tree development is slower this year because of cooler early spring weather.

Mullett says little winter weather injury has been noted in area orchards.

Cawley Sets 2 Mansfield Records

Giant Southpaw Stifles Cards With 8-Hitter

Antonelli Posts 3rd Win

Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco finally is getting a look at the real Johnny Antonelli, the man who must win and win big if the Giants are to jolt Milwaukee loose from the National League pennant.

A year ago Seals Stadium fans must have been wondering if it was true what they read about Johnny. He didn't win a game until April 26 and he didn't grab his third until May 18. He struggled around .500 until mid-season and finally wound up at 16-13.

★ ★ ★

This is a new year and a new Antonelli. The 29-year-old lefthander from Rochester, N. Y. boasts a shiny 3-0 record. He scattered eight hits Sunday while pitching the Giants to a 3-1 victory over St. Louis.

Because of the difference in games played at this stage of the season, the Giants now are even with the leading Braves in the "games behind" column but trail by .133 percentage points.

Los Angeles stuck on the heels of the Giants by scoring five in the eighth inning to beat Chicago 8-3. The Dodgers are only a half game behind the Giants going into the Monday night opener of their three-game series with San Francisco at the Coliseum.

Johnny Podres, who usually does his best in the Coliseum, received from a miserable start and threw a four-hitter at the Cubs for his first victory.

Duke Snider finally came through with his first homer of the year, moving into 10th place on the all-time list. It was his 332nd homer, moving him ahead of Hank Greenberg on the role of select sluggers.

Cincinnati's power-packed lineup did a little slugging at Crosley Field, burying the Phillies 12-5 despite some unsteady pitching by rookie Jim O'Toole. After the rookie had walked seven, Manager Mayo Smith brought in Bob Mabe to take over in the fifth. Mabe, acquired from St. Louis with Del Ennis and Eddie Kasko in the deal that sent Alex Grammas, Alex Kellner and George Crowe to St. Louis, allowed only two hits in 4 2-3 innings.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee had to postpone its scheduled game with Pittsburgh because of cold weaher.

Podres and Dave Hillman were locked in a 3-3 tie when the Dodgers broke loose in the eighth. Wally Moon's single drove in the first two runs. Junior Gilliam, Snider, Don Demeter and Charley Neal also singled in the big inning.

★ ★ ★

Jim Owens, first of four Phil pitchers, was charged with the defeat. The Reds knocked him out in the second when they scored four runs.

Suggs Is Tops in Cash, Score

Louise Earns $9,983, Has 73 Average; Wins at Dallas Sunday

DALLAS (AP)—Louise Suggs, as imperturbable as her putter, led women's golf both in money earned and stroke average today as the tour moved on to Spartanburg, S.C. She took over the top with victory in the $10,000 Dallas Woman's Open yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Winning three first places and three seconds in 11 tournaments and running her money total to $6,983.72, Miss Suggs is again the leader of all she surveys. She has been a pro since 1948 and is on the way to surpassing what she did in 1953 when she led women's golf in money winnings with $19,000.

★ ★ ★

Her stroke average is under 73 per round. She led with 73.85 going into this tournament and averaged 71.75 yesterday in winning the Dallas Open with 287 for 72 holes and taking down $1,662.50.

★ ★ ★

It was a dramatic finish. Miss Suggs came into the eighteenth hole tied with Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., for the lead if she got par 4 on the final green. She did better than that. She laced her second shot within eight feet of the cup and as a crowd of 6,500 gaped sank the putt that prevented a playoff.

★ ★ ★

Miss Suggs closed out with a 1-over-par 72 while Miss Smith had the same and finished with 288, winning $1,282.50.

His Brother Also in Accident

Crash Kills Race Driver

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Dick Linder of Pittsburgh was killed in his hurtling racing car yesterday when he tried to avoid a pile-up at the Trenton Speedway and crashed over the guard rail.

Linder's neck was broken as his $25,000 Indianapolis-type racer rolled over. He was pronounced dead at a hospital.

A few minutes later and several hundred miles away in Pittsburgh, Linder's brother, Gus escaped injury when his stock car was in a minor accident in a race there. He had just learned of his brother's death.

Linder's death came on the 58th lap. Jim Rathman of Miami signaled Don Branson of Urbana, Ill. to overlap him. But Branson's car rammed into Rathman's and then spun.

★ ★ ★

Linder, traveling close behind at almost 90 miles an hour, tried to go between Branson and the fence. But his car hit the front of Branson's machine and soared into the air.

Linder's car flipped over several times, flinging parts in all directions.

★ ★ ★

Linder, 36, began racing in 1946. Only last Friday a committee was formed to pay his expenses for this year's Memorial Day race at Indianapolis. It would have been his first try in the 500-mile event.

★ ★ ★

The dead driver operated a welding and body business in Pittsburgh. He leaves his widow. Bettenhausen covered the 87 laps on the mile asphalt track in 57 minutes 15.69 seconds.

Chiefs' Brooks Wins High Jump With 6-2 Leap

PCH Finishes Tenth; Farmington, FN, FC Also in Top 10 List

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

MANSFIELD, Ohio—Four Michigan track squads finished in the top 10 in the 28th annual Mansfield Relays here, Saturday, but the big winner was Dayton Roosevelt. Pontiac Central's crew, led by slim Fred Brooks and Bill Pritchett in the high jump and shotput, compiled 10 points for 10th place, one behind Flint Northern.

★ ★ ★

Dayton collected 28 points with a balanced team, to edge Cleveland Glenville at 26. Others in the top list included:

East Tech (Cleveland) 23½; Flint Central 13; Akron North and Farmington 12, along with Marion Harding and Cleveland Euclid.

Other Michigan scores were Birmingham 9, River Rouge 6, Willow Run 3, Lincoln Park 3, Flint Bendle 2, Monroe 1½.

The "big noise" for the meet was unquestionably the two records Warren Cawley of Farmington set in the hurdles. The flashy Cawley hit a great 14.3 for the 120-yard highs in the prelims, came back to win the final in 14.4. The first time broke a mark set last year by Don Lee of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., the final time equaled it.

Cawley, running against the wind, later sped to a 19 seconds flat 180-yard low hurdle record in a preliminary, did 19.7 in the final. The prelim broke Hayes Jones' twice, was over handily on his

The Farmington star nearly lost the final low-stick test when he was crowded, and almost fell at the last barrier. His great reserve strength pulled him in front by a scant yard. He accounted for all Farmington's points.

Rain and wind and a soggy track made Cawley's efforts all the more spectacular.

Brooks gave his best performance of the season in winning the high jump. The PCH successor to Charley Barge, Alex Barge and Hud Ray, won his gold medal with a 6-2 and ¾ leap, after two other contenders went out. Fred missed twice, was over handily on his 3rd trial. Arzo Carson went out at 5-10.

Coach Dean Wilson was delighted also with the way Bill Pritchett heaved the shot. Bill's 52 feet ¾ inch toss was good for 3rd place.

Birmingham's Bill Alcorn and Troy's Wendell Johnson figured in the top spots for the pole vault. Alcorn tied for first at 12-6. Johnson was 3rd with 12-3. Alcorn, last year's runnerup, later jumped 12-9 in an exhibition.

Flint Central's Crenshaw, Milum, Barnett and Fredrichsen won the two-mile relay, for the only other first place for a Michigan team.

PCH, defending champion, will be back next year, Wilson said today, with a stronger squad, when his sophomores and juniors get needed experience this spring.

Winners, with Michigan placements:
Four-mile relay—Akron North, 18:46.0 (record).
120-low hurdles—Cawley (Farmington), 14.3, record in prelim, 14.4 final; Gardner (River Rouge) 4th.
100-yard dash—Adams (Glenville) 10.0 flat; Poe (Willow Run) 3rd; Watkins (FC) 4th.
Mile—Fleming (Akron N.), 4:29.6 (tied record); Barnett (Flint Bendle) 4th.
Shot—Middleton (Marion Harding), 54-4¾; Pritchett (PCH) 3rd.
480-yard shuttle hurdles — Dayton Roosevelt 59.2; River Rouge 5th.
220-yard dash — Adams (Glenville), 21.8; Watkins (FC) 2nd; Pea (FN) 4th.
880-yard run—Heidemann (Akron Kenmore), 2.02.6.
880-relay—Glenville, 1:31; Flint N. 5th.
180-yard low hurdles—Cawley (19.0 and 19.7); Welch (RR) 3rd; Morrison (FC) 5th.
Medley relay—Mt. Lebanon, 7.58; Birmingham 2nd; Lincoln Park 3rd; PCH 5th.
Broad Jump—Willie Love (Cleve. E) 23-5¾; Hodo (FN) 2nd.
High Jump—Brooks (PCH) 6 feet 2¾ inches.
Discus—Middleton, 182 feet 4½ inches (record).
440—Hearst (Wellsburg W. Va.) 51.1; Wright (FN) 4th.
2 mile relay—Flint Central, 8:19.
Pole vault—Alcorn (BHM), Anger (Willoughby O.) tied 12-6; Johnson (Troy) 3rd; Jones (Monroe) 4th.
Mile relay—East Tech (Cleve.), 3:31.1; Flint Northern 4th.

Carter Gains Masters Lead

Rolls White Ball for 1,005 Total; Second Best in History

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Don Carter, using a new white bowling ball, knocked down 1,005 pins in four games at the American Bowling Congress Masters tournament last night for the second highest series in the nine-year history of the tourney.

The St. Louis star had games of 259, 199, 278 and 269. Joe Norris of Chicago, Carter's opponent, shot a respectable but outclassed 762 in the first round of the finals.

Powell rolled 989 for the third best quartet in Masters annuals, while his opponent had 931.

Detroit's Ed Lubanski, of the favorites in the race for the 1959 Masters crown, was upset by a 17-year-old St. Louis high school senior, Ray Orf. The youth shot only 770 for the four games, but his famous opponent mustered only 731. Lubanski leads two divisions and his team leads another in the regular ABC tournament.

OLSM Trips Shamrocks

Orchard Lake St. Mary's track team won its 2nd meet of the season, Sunday, with a 77½-31½ count against Pontiac St. Michael.

Eaglets were led by Ostrowski's 2:13 half-mile, probably the meets' best effort. Shamrocks won three firsts, paced by Bill Flanagan with wins in the 100 and 220. Mikemen's 880-relay also won. Flanagan's times were 10.7 for the century and 23.3 for the furlong.

Jimmy Gleason Planned to Wed His Housekeeper

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Only a few close friends knew that Jimmy Gleason had planned to marry his housekeeper of many years, Marion Harvey. The news came out when Jerome D. Rosenfield, Jimmy's attorney, probated the will and Jimmy left his entire estate, not in excess of $15,000, to Miss Harvey.

Atty. Rosenfiel d ,aclose friend of Gleason's, said that Jimmy had confided to him that Miss Harvey had done him the honor to consent to be his wife. Jimmy had been very lonely after the death of his wife, Lucille, and had looked forward to this marriage up to his illness and death.

Fascinating is the story of Mike Romanoff as Charlie Brackett is readying it for the screen at 20th Century-Fox. Mike tells about his childhood in an orphanage and that his cultured English accent came from association with well-born British. His early photographs show that Mike was very handsome, and Charlie said Tony Curtis is wanted for Mike's role.

Tony is interested and will no doubt accept if he can fit it into his busy schedule. He's one of the most sought after actors in our town now.

If Eva Marie Saint will say "yes," everyone at 20th Century-Fox will be happy. She's wanted for the top role in "The Best of Everything," the character of Caroline Bender. Buddy Adler gave his approval, and producer Jerry Wald has been in touch with her, but so far no contract has been signed. She owes 20th two pictures, but she has story approval.

Suzy Parker, who plays another top role of Gregg, the would-be actress in Rona Jaffe's novel, gets here next week for wardrobe fittings. Margaret Leighton had her fittings before she left for New York where the picture will go before the cameras May 4.

Good to see and hear Joan Fontaine feeling so well after her long illness. She's so well that she has agreed to star in summer stock for 12 weeks in Gerald Savory's play, "Hilary," which has been adapted especially for Joan by Don Mankiewicz. Her contract calls for her to start June 1. Mankiewicz, who will also co-produce with Michael McAloney, plans to make it into a movie if it's a hit on Broadway after its summer run.

Meanwhile, Collier Young has wrapped up the current season's production of his TV show "One Step Beyond" and he and Joan will vacation in northern California.

Keely Smith and Louis Prima were such a hit at the Chez paree in Chicago that more than 1,000 people were turned away opening night. Keely was a happy girl because Downbeat Magazine had just that day named her No. 2 of all recording artists, and she was No. 1 of all girl singers.

It is something for a woman singer to come in second since usually it's the males these days whose records win most of the applause. I suppose that's because so many of our teenage girls flip over our young male entertainers.

'Anatomy' Role Was Bing's Idea

Kathryn Grant Wasn't Sure She Could Do Part in Marquette Movie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

MARQUETTE (AP) — When Bing Crosby married Kathryn Grant, he was asked if he wanted her to continue her acting career.

"Certainly," he replied. "I want her to be fulfilled in every way."

That helps to explain why his wife, who is expecting their second child in the fall, is in this chilly Lake Superior town to play a role in "Anatomy of a Murder."

"It was Bing's idea," she explained between scenes at the Marquette County Courthouse. "When the role was offered to me, I didn't know whether I could do it. Bing said, 'It's an important property; you'd better accept.'"

So she is here, separated from Harry Lillis Crosby Sr. and Jr. But she'll be meeting both at her parents' home in Texas when she finishes her role.

Kathryn — she's on a campaign not to be called Kathy — fully expects the new baby to be a girl. Bing, too, has predicted that it will be his first daughter.

Though this will be her last picture this year, Kathryn will keep busy. She'll continue her studies to be a nurse; between learning lines here, she boned up on nerves for her psychology course.

"I like being pregnant, anyway," she remarked. "Bing is so attentive—it's wonderful . . ."

Why come all the way to Northern Michigan to shoot a courtroom scene that could be done on a movie stage?

"The reason is what happens to the actors," said Director Otto Preminger. "They believe what they're doing when they're in real surroundings."

"The sound has an authentic ring to it," said Jimmy Stewart as he studied the 55-year-old courtroom. "You've got a lot of added visual factors in a color picture. But in black-and-white, sound is vastly important." Stewart must be the king of the color films; this is his first black-and-white in nine years.

Preminger reports that Boston lawyer Joseph Welch will surprise audiences in his first acting assignment as judge of the murder trial. Welch said he had grave misgivings when he drove up to the set for the first time.

He had the same feeling only twice before: 1. When he accepted the assignment to the Army-McCarthy hearings; 2. When he entered the hurly-burly of the committee chamber and wondered, "Joe Welch, what are you doing here?"

★ ★ ★

Howard H. Fitzgerald II
Business Manager
Pontiac Press
Pontiac, Michigan

Dear Howard:

I wish to extend my congratulations to the Pontiac Press upon the attainment of a circulation of 60,000. This fine achievement is proof in itself of what I have always believed, that you have the finest newspaper in the country.

Too many people, who are priveleged to read the Pontiac Press, are, I know, taking it for granted as they do water and electricity, etc. Even as great a necessary service as the Post Office is just taken for granted. But, take these things away from us and we quickly are enlightened to the great need for these public services in our everyday living.

The Pontiac Press is a symbol of quality that every newspaper strives to attain. You have that quality. It glows in every issue.

I recognize also that this excellence did not just happen. It is the culmination of completely capable and qualified leadership in an organization headed by a top-notch publisher, ---, Harold Fitzgerald.

Pontiac should "bust its buttons" with pride, that it has your services.

With warmest personal regards,, I am

Yours very truly,

Robert C. Miller

Upjohn Reports Profit

NEW YORK (AP) — Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich. reported a net profit of $5,050,000 or 36 cents a share for the March quarter. This compared with $5,152,000 or 37 cents a share in the first three months of 1958.

Stock Splits Spur Market

NEW YORK (AP) — American Telephone and other issues affected by stock splits continued as pacemakers in a rising stock market early today. Trading was active.

The general run of key stocks advanced from fractions to about a point. There were a few small losers.

AT&T continued to respond to ratification of its 3-for-1 stock split, opening at 265 for a gain of 1⅛ on a big block of 10,000 shares.

AT&T when-issued shares, representing the future split, rose ⅝ to 89 on a huge block of 30,000 shares. The price still showed a premium over present shares.

Thiokol, in an exactly parallel case, spurted 7¼ to 149¾ on an opener of 1,100 shares. Thiokol when-issued, representing stock resulting for a 3-for-1 split, rose to 49⅞ on 7,000 shares. There was slight differential between these prices.

Ford, helped by record quarterly earnings, rose fractionally to pace a moderately higher automotive section. Selected oils, steels, rails, drugs and chemicals also moved ahead moderately.

Consisting of 12 three-day sessions in six Pontiac regional locations, the program is designed to improve business techniques through the exchange of experiences encountered by district managers in their individual zones.

Pontiac field men attending the "swap sessions" benefit from participation in approximately 22 hours of interchange while discussing 19 different field relations topics.

Conducting the division's new field program is M. R. Spears, assistant to the general sales manager—in charge of field relations.
