Jet Crashes Near Grayling

Pilot Bails Out, Lands Unhurt in Thick Woods

Companion Ship Sends SOS; 'Copter Goes to the Rescue

OSCODA (AP)—The pilot of a jet fighter-interceptor whose plane crashed and burned in the heavily-wooded area near Grayling bailed out and was rescued unhurt today.

Pilot of the plane was Lt. Joseph Szabo, 27, of Lorain, Ohio.

His swift pickup by helicopter from the Coast Guard station at Traverse City was possible because the pilot of another jet radioed for help and circled the crash scene to direct rescue operations.

The pilot of the other plane was Maj. Dale Hudson, now living at Oscoda.

The two planes, from the 63rd fighter-interceptor wing of the Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda, were on a routine training mission at the time of the crash at 10:20 a.m. (EST).

Air base authorities said the jet went into a "flame-out" and out of control. Szabo was ejected by the automatic release system and parachuted to safety.

The plane crashed, exploded and burned in the wooded area about 6 miles east of Frederic in Crawford County.

Shortly after noon today, State Police from the Grayling post were still pushing their way through the snow-blocked woods trying to reach the crash scene.

Police borrowed a jeep with a snowplow attachment from a nearby conservation-prison camp.

Maj. Hudson radioed for assistance after he saw Szabo parachute safely into the thickly-wooded area. His call was picked up by the radio station at Port Austin and relayed to the Traverse City Coast Guard station, which sent out the rescue helicopter.

Maj. Hudson then circled the crash scene and directed the helicopter to Szabo. He was picked up and flown to Grayling where a quick checkup showed he suffered no injuries.

From Grayling he was flown by Air Force plane back to the Oscoda base.

Discuss Area's Sewage Problems

SEWAGE CONFERENCE—County, state and local officials met Wednesday to talk over sewage problems in the fast-growing areas west of Pontiac. Looking over a county map were Ralph A. Main, Oakland County drain commissioner; Lloyd L. Anderson, Waterford Township supervisor; Donald M. Pierce, Michigan Health Department's sewage disposal chief and Milton P. Adams, executive secretary, Michigan Water Resources Commission.

Dondero Elated Over Seaway

Wires Press That Bill Should Be Presented to House This Month

Federal legislation authorizing U. S. participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway project should be before the House by the end of this month, Rep. George A. Dondero told the Pontiac Press.

The House Public Works Committee voted approval for the bill, 26 to 3, Wednesday. It already has Senate approval.

Dondero wired:

"Committee action marks successful culmination of my fight over two decades to bring about seaway construction jointly between United States and Canada.

"For nearly 20 years I have introduced bills for this purpose in Congress.

"Immediately after committee vote I telephoned President Eisenhower assuring him his strong support of seaway legislation was the final determining factor in its success.

"Compilation committee report on seaway bill for submission to House Rules Committee and rules committee action is expected to consume 10 days. Hope to get the bill to floor of House before end of current month.

2nd Clinton Sewage Plant Advised for City and Area

Michigan officials suggested Wednesday that Pontiac City and surrounding townships build a second sewage treatment plant on the Clinton River to handle wastes from the whole Pontiac area.

The suggestion came after Waterford Township laid its snowballing sewage problem before county and state officials at an afternoon meeting.

Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of Michigan Water Resources Commission, presided at the conference, called by Oakland County Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main.

Lloyd L. Anderson, Waterford supervisor, and Johnson and Anderson, engineers, said the township has some 35,000 people now—all using septic tanks. "We've had complaints of pollution from Silver Lake, Scott Lake, Watkins Lake, Elizabeth Lake," the supervisor said. "The situation's bad—and it's getting worse fast."

Anderson said the township's problem, if it can finance a sewer system, is where to put the treated waste.

Adams agreed that the only river big enough is the Clinton River. Officials agreed putting a large amount of even the best-treated wastes in the river above Pontiac

Senate Group OKs Alaska Statehood

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate Interior Committee today approved statehood for Alaska and set the stage for a showdown fight on the Senate floor over the admittance of both Hawaii and Alaska into the union.

Committee Chairman Hugh Butler (R-Neb), announced that the group voted 14 to 1 to approve the Alaskan measure which follows up its decision last week urging the Senate to approve statehood for Alaska.

Butler refused to identify the lone committee dissenter but it was reported that Sen. Russell Long (D-La), voted against the bill.

Butler and several other Democrats said that the group's approval of the Alaska measure does not mean that all members will support it during Senate debate.

West Ministers Await Molotov's Vote Proposal

Hope for Serious Plan; See His Plebiscite Idea as Propaganda

BERLIN (AP) — The Western Big Three saved their big ammunition today for the new plan for all-German elections they expect from Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

They brushed aside as a trick his proposal for a plebiscite to decide whether the Germans conclude a peace treaty with the Big Four now or an alliance with the West.

The Westerners said Molotov's plebiscite proposal, made late in yesterday's session of the Big Four ministers conference, contributed nothing to German unity.

American, British and French officials agreed that the election proposal anticipated from Molotov would have to be taken much more seriously than the plebiscite idea.

Molotov was believed ready to pop his plan almost any minute. If it resembles in any way the free election proposal put forward by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, the West will certainly be surprised.

As the conference went into its 10th session, with British Foreign Secretary Eden presiding in the Soviet Embassy, Western officials expressed considerable disappointment that Molotov in the previous sessions had not come to grips with the free election issue on which the Western Powers base their plan for German unification.

There was some feeling among American officials that Molotov was stalling to avoid making clear Russia's position on German elections.

Speculation was that he may have been consulting with Moscow on precisely what line the Soviet Union should take on this issue.

Western diplomats regarded the plebiscite proposal as more of a propaganda gimmick than a serious policy maneuver. They did take seriously Molotov's promise that he would have a new proposal later on and they believe this would be on free elections.

The way Molotov has jumped from crag to crag without settling down in any one valley of thought has the West pondering if it isn't time to try to salvage at least "smaller potatoes" out of the parley.

Broomfield Raps Comics, Asks Sen. McCarthy's Aid

LANSING (AP)—Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) today asked Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to investigate "the creators of these monsters of hatred and moral destruction"—the comic books.

"Is their loyalty to our democracy unquestioned? Have they taints of subversive leanings? Are their past and present lives free of hostility toward our system of free enterprise?" Broomfield asked.

Broomfield said that a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision invalidated most state laws designed to regulate comic books. He asked McCarthy, chairman of the Senate permanent investigations committee, to look into the matter on the federal level.

"The attention of your valuable committee," Broomfield wrote, "to this rapidly-spreading evil could well be the forerunner to a reawakening by the American people of the menace that is destructively eating into the very core of our economic and moral welfare."

Broomfield said that the "comic books" appeal to "the illiterate, the adolescent and to adults of weak character, inflaming their minds with violence."

"What better means than this for those who seek world conquest than to weaken and undermine the morals of our youth?" he asked.

Broomfield said that he wished to "warmly applaud you for the magnificent job your committee is attempting to accomplish in bringing out of hiding subversive groups who seek to tear down the moral and economic fiber of our great nation."

Vote on Bricker Bill May Wait

Sen. Knowland Sees 10-Day Delay in Action on Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican leader Knowland (Calif) said today final Senate decision on the Bricker treaty-power amendment may have to be put off for 10 days or more.

As the Senate pushed ahead with its seventh day of formal debate on the hotly disputed plan, Knowland told newsmen he now is "not too sanguine" about getting a final vote this week.

That would mean putting it off until the week starting Feb. 14 because there is an informal understanding there will be no important Senate business next week when many Republican senators will be out of town to make Lincoln Day speeches.

Knowland said he will try to get votes this week on all the important alternative proposals.

These can be accepted or rejected by majority votes but final passage of whatever is agreed upon as a constitutional amendment would take a two-thirds vote.

Knowland said it might be a good thing if a final vote is delayed 10 days or so. That would give the country a chance to study the proposed amendment in its tentative final form and make its reaction known, he observed.

Knowland said he plans to hold a night session tonight, but would not estimate how late it might run.

The weeks of maneuvering have split the Senate four ways and raised doubts in the minds of some senators that any constitutional amendment will actually come from the proposal by Sen. Bricker (R-Oho) to limit the scope of treaties and to provide for congressional regulation of other international agreements.

Reds Advance Steadily Along a 60-Mile Front

Fort, Airfield Guarding Capital of Laos Is Lost in Indochina

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—The French high command today conceded the loss of the important military post at Muong Ngoi, guarding the approaches to the royal Laotian capital of Luang Prabang.

The command said that forces of the Communist-led Vietminh rebels occupied the post in the Nam Hou River valley as part of their advance along a 60-mile front. Muong Ngoi is 65 miles northeast of Luang Prabang.

In the same drive, the Vietminh captured two other French forts, one at Muong Sai, about 60 miles northwest of Luang Prabang, and the other at Ban Nam Bac, about 60 miles north of Luang Prabang. Muong Sai was considered important because of its airstrip which the French could use as an auxiliary airfield.

The Vietminh were reported to be steadily advancing in the jungle despite the rain of bombs and napalm showered by French aircraft. Scores of refugees from the combat zone were streaming toward Luang Prabang.

Earlier, the French lifted their blackout curtain on northern Laos operations to disclose the establishment of an airlift to pump men and supplies into the threatened capital.

French military sources here today estimated it would take the rebel columns at least 10 days to reach Luang Prabang. The French were expected to make a stand north of the city of 150,000, which the Vietminh threatened last May before they withdrew.

Union Lake Pair Killed in Crash

Ernest Arvesen's Car Skids Into Big Truck Near Fowlerville

Ernest B. Arvesen, 40, and his wife, Lillian, 42, of Union Lake, were killed near Fowlerville late Wednesday when their car went out of control and crashed into a truck on US 16.

The couple had been to Lansing on a business trip and were returning home.

Arvesen, as he attempted to pass an auto, apparently jammed on his brakes in the middle of the three-lane highway to avoid on-coming traffic and skidded into a truck driven by Roy Parden of 53 W. Strathmore Ave., according to Michigan State Police of the Brighton Post.

Parden, on his way to Muskegon with a load of automobiles said he drove for the ditch when he saw Arvesen's car skid into his westbound lane but could not avoid a collision.

He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for knee injuries and multiple leg bruises.

Arvesen operates an electrical contracting business with offices at 24296 Telegraph Rd., in Southfield Township.

Two sons and a daughter survive. Ernest and Ronald attend Walled Lake High School and Marilyn is a first year student at Michigan State College. Mrs. Arvesen's mother, Mrs. Mary Autinrieb also made her home at the Union Lake address, 7388 Hardesty Rd.

Other survivors include Arvesen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enior Arvesen of Cocoa, Fla.; two brothers and a sister also of Cocoa.

Besides her mother, Mrs. Arvesen is survived by two half-sisters, one living in Grand Rapids and one in Florida.

Funeral plans are incomplete at Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Walled Lake, pending notification of relatives. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

Final Decision Near on Long Controversy Over St. Lawrence Seaway

By JAMES C. MUNN
Associated Press Writer

Regardless of how it acts, the House of Representatives will bring to an end this year the controversy that has raged for decades over United States participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Confronting the House, before its expected July adjournment, are these two choices:

1. It can follow the Senate in approving St. Lawrence legislation. If it does, the United States is assured a voice in the construction and operation of the 27-foot-deep waterway over which much of the world's shipping could go from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes.

(Congressman George A. Dondero wired the Pontiac Press that the heavy vote in favor of the bill in the House committee Wednesday forecasts adoption in the House).

2. It can defeat or refuse to vote on the bill. In that event Canada, in effect, will say:

"The time for decision has ended. We will now carry out our previously announced intention and build the seaway entirely on our own side of the St. Lawrence River."

The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff are concerned about the defense aspects of the seaway. Should Canada be a neutral in a war involving the United States, this country, as a billigerent, could not expect to use the canal's facilities.

As the Joint Chiefs and other high Pentagon officials have repeatedly told Congress, the seaway will be an important inland means of transportation to bring rich, high-grade Labrador iron ore to the steel mills of the Midwest.

The Labrador deposits, now being developed by U. S. financial interests at a cost of more than 200 million dollars, are considered one of the principal continental sources of iron ore to replace the rapidly vanishing supplies of Lake Superior's Mesabi region.

Canada, some scoffers to the contrary, is not bluffing when it says it is determined to build the seaway alone if the United States again declines to participate. Its intention has been the subject of diplomatic notes between the two countries.

With New York State and the Province of Ontario virtually ready to build a giant 600-million-dollar power project in the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence, there is no longer any natural barrier to constructing the seaway.

Once the river's rapids are tamed by the power dams, the seaway becomes a simple engineering problem.

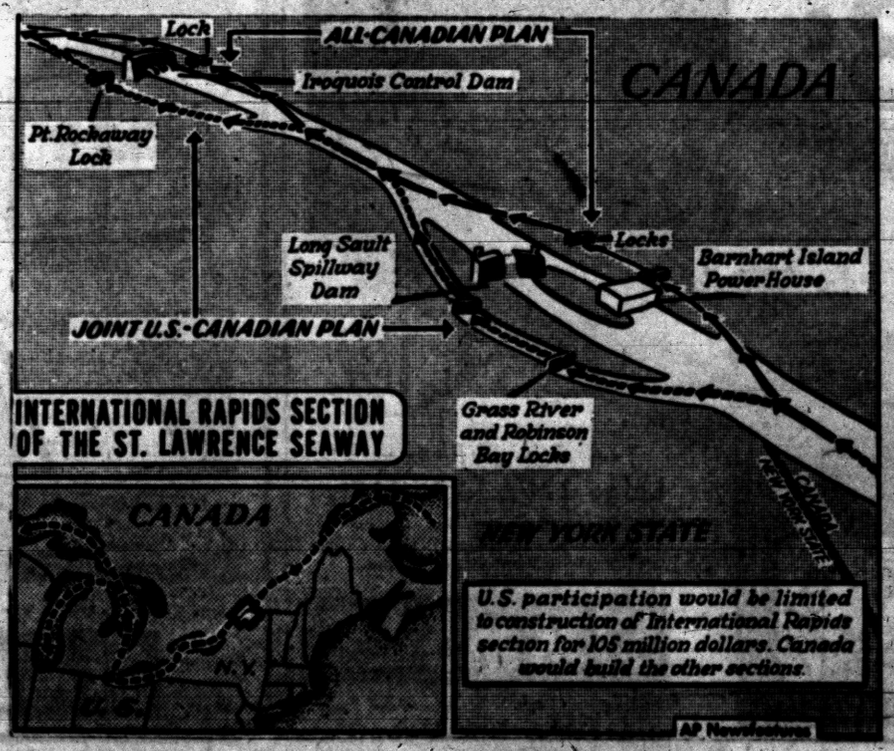

Cost of the power project, to be borne by New York and Ontario, will greatly lessen the U.S. share of the seaway construction cost—assuming the House agrees with the Senate to permit such participation.

Latest estimates are that the U.S. cost will be about 105 million dollars. Canada's share will be roughly 175 million dollars. Actual construction, engineers estimate, will require five to six years.

Opinion is divided as to the effect the seaway will have on existing means of transportation and on Atlantic and Gulf coast ports.

Eastern railroads, including such giants as the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, have consistently maintained that the waterway will be detrimental to their interests. But they have never specifically shown to congressional

Gifts to Community House Roll Call Fund Deductible for Federal Tax Purposes

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Solicitation of business contributions for the Birmingham Community House Roll Call fund drive, already under way, got some federal aid this week.

According to Walter Skinner, drive chairman, a ruling issued from Washington Jan. 25 by the Internal Revenue service says contributions and donations to the Birmingham Community House are deductible for federal income, gift and estate tax purposes.

In previous years the Community House has been ruled exempt from income tax on its own income, but now the exemption has been extended to permit deductibility by donors.

"It is known that many friends of the house have felt restricted in the amounts of their contributions to the annual Roll Call by the knowledge of the former tax situation," Skinner said.

"It is, therefore, our hope that such friends will reappraise their support of the house in the light of this ruling which permits them complete tax deductibility," he added.

Volunteers from Birmingham service clubs met last week with the business solicitation committee of the Roll Call, and have started to pursue their share of the $45,000 being sought.

Final Decision Near on Seaway Project committees the extent of the claimed damage.

Proponents of the project, taking the opposite tack, say that possibly the seaway will be helpful to the railroads by generating new traffic. But no specific evidence has ever been offered on this point either.

The situation is the same with the ports—with one exception. Most of the big ports—New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and the others along the Atlantic and the gulf coasts—argue that the seaway will divert traffic to Montreal, almost a thousand miles inland from the Atlantic.

But Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), during recent Senate debate on the Seaway legislation, made the surprising statement that his studies showed the effect on Boston would be "minor." Kennedy thus became the first Massachusetts member of Congress in more than 20 years to declare himself for the seaway.

2nd Sewage Plant Is Being Advised

might make it "objectionable" as it flows through the city.

Waterford could build several small sewage plants on streams in the township, Adams said, to solve the problem temporarily "while you plan for the future." The Clinton above, Pontiac might take a small amount of treated wastes, state officials said.

Adams and Donald M. Pierce, Michigan Health Department's sewage disposal director, agreed that an "area" sewage plant on the Clinton River below the city would be the "ideal long-range solution."

Such a plant could be built with each township and the city paying its share of the costs, they suggested.

A second plant, they said, would take care of the township problems, keep the Clinton clean through the city and meet Pontiac's own future needs.

City officials say the newly-expanded city sewage plant is just big enough for Pontiac's daily 15,000,000 gallons of sewage.

Pioneer Highlands Remains With City

Map of the county's new state legislative districts, published Tuesday in legal advertising as a part of the Oakland County Supervisors proceedings, contained a slight error.

The western boundary of District 2 (Pontiac City) was drawn as a straight line. Actually the area west of Telegraph road known as Pioneer Highlands, is a part of the incorporated city, and remains in District 2 for representation in the legislature, according to Lynn D. Allen, county clerk.

Oakland County will elect six state representatives starting with the general election in the fall, instead of five as previously.

BIRMINGHAM — James H. Purkiss, 35, of Pontiac, has been named the city's new director of finance by City Manager Donald C. Egbert.

This follows the resignation of William J. Johnson, from the post early in January.

A graduate of Pontiac public schools in 1937, he studied business administration at Detroit Institute of Technology. With his wife and two sons, he presently lives at 290 Pioneer Drive, Pontiac, but plans to move here shortly.

Purkiss will assume his duties Feb. 16, Egbert said.

Triangle Zoning Called Outdated

Witnesses in Land Suit Say Railroad Too Near for Single Homes

BIRMINGHAM — Witnesses called by the Industrial Land Co. yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court in its suit to break the single family residence zoning on a triangle of land bounded by Eton road and the Grand Trunk Railroad testified the site was of little value for single family residences.

The company is seeking to have the zoning changed to business A, and contemplates a shopping center there. Previously they modified their demand to a change allowing terrace development.

Henry Pfeiffer, 4102 Haverhill, Detroit, until recently an appraiser for the Federal Housing Authority, said the FHA's policies would not guarantee mortgages on property within 300-600 feet of railroads, due to hazards and nuisances.

Pfeiffer stated that zoning the parcel for multiple dwellings would add to the depreciation of adjacent single family homes, but a shopping center would bring added convenience to area residents.

The Industrial Land Co. brought the suit, being heard before Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Doty, when the city commission refused to rezone the land.

BIRMINGHAM — Roy Whitten, manager of the parking lot behind the Briggs Bldg., has announced plans to open a 100-car lot on the Brown street former site of the Lawson and Son Lumber Co.

The lumber company was destroyed by fire Feb. 14, 1953.

House Group Favors 4 Cents for Letters

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Post Office Committee voted today to raise the cost of mailing first class letters from three cents to four cents.

The committee action, taken in closed session, is estimated to add 150 million dollars a year to postal revenues, if it finally goes through.

The vote, however, is still subject to possible reversal when the committee completes its section-by-section study of rates and votes on the entire bill later.

Beauty Contest Won by Mona Lee Weaver

Mona Lee Weaver, 105 W. Fairmount, won the title of Miss Pontiac Retail in a beauty contest conducted by the Michigan Joint Board, Retail & Department Store Employes, CIO, at Lincoln Junior High School Monday evening. She is an employe of Waite's.

Shirley Allard, from the Lions Store, was second, and Elaine McCracken, of Simms, was third.

Miss Weaver's victory in the local contest places her in the state contest for the title of Miss Michigan Retail at the Sheraton-Cadillac in Detroit Feb. 20. The state winner will get a plane trip to London and Paris.

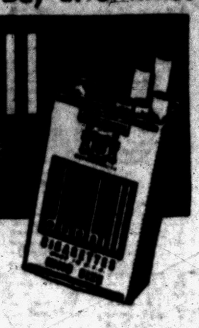

Contestants from the Pontiac Federal Store did not enter the local contest. They were to hold a contest in each of their stores, then a contest to select Miss Federal, who will enter the state contest.

New Gadgets Aids to Living

Ulcer Pill Soon to Be on Market; Refrigerator Has Ice Water Tap

Along with other new help-in-living aids, a new pill which contains six different ulcer-relieving compounds — four anti-acids to counteract excess stomach acids, an oatmeal extract that binds them together and a gummy material that lines the stomach as a protective coating—may soon be on the market, according to an item in a late issue of a national magazine.

Another thing to watch for are reductions in the prices of TV sets. All the news about color TV has made black-and-white sets hard to sell.

Yet only between 100,000 and 200,000 color-receiving sets will be made this year, and they'll cost from $800 to $1,000, maybe more. It may be another two or three years before color sets get down to even $500.

For men already thinking about fishing, and those located where the climate is right for it, split bamboo fly and casting rods are beginning to come on the market.

In the line of household appliances and gadgets, a new cleaning and polishing cloth that works without soap or elbow grease has turned up. Called "Magi-Weave," it can be bleached and laundered without losing its effectiveness and is sold in dime stores.

In the refrigerator department, one is featured with a facuet which makes it possible to draw ice water or other beverages without opening the refrigerator door. Besides door shelves, it also has roll-out interior shelves.

Another 1954 upright-model freezer dispenses food packages like a candy machine; as the bottom package in an adjustable rack is removed, all others drop one notch. This freezer holds 665 pounds of frozen food.

And about that indispensable item, food, prices are unlikely to come down much this year and careful planning of food purchases is more important than ever.

Undoubtedly, the best way to save money on food is to make the right kind of shopping list and stick with it, resisting casual food purchases you can't afford.

Tourist Buying Relaxed

County Reports Drop in Disease

Chicken Pox, Measles Decrease, but Mumps Cases Rise

Oakland County's chicken pox and measles rates dropped slightly last week.

Reports from Oakland County Health Department, released by Dr. John D. Monroe, director, showed 61 new cases of chicken pox last week as against 72 the week before.

New measles cases totaled 141, compared with the preceding week's 173 cases.

Mumps jumped to 75 cases last week from the 53 reported the week before.

	Week Ending Past Week	Jan. 23, '54	Jan. 31, '53
Chicken pox	161	72	153
Measles	141	173	30

Pontiac also had more mumps cases last week than the week before. Pontiac City Health Department's weekly report, released by Dr. Monroe, listed 10 new mumps cases last week. Only three were found the week before.

A few cases of measles, chicken pox and whooping cough also showed up in city report, which reads as follows:

Relief Provides More Support Than a Husband

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Judge Louis Comerford of the Court of Criminal Correction observed yesterday that a woman forced on relief when her husband leaves her and their children many times has a bigger income without her husband than with him.

"Consequently," said the judge, "there's little chance for reconciliation."

"The women no longer want to live with their husbands because they are better off financially—and they don't have to put up with the men either."

Supporting the judge's theory was a case before him yesterday. The woman received $303 monthly on relief and with contributions from her husband. The husband earns only $260 a month.

Michigan 'Free Land' at Bottom of Lakes

ADRIAN (UP) — The county clerk here discovered recently that free land which the bureau of land management said was available, really doesn't exist — at least not visibly.

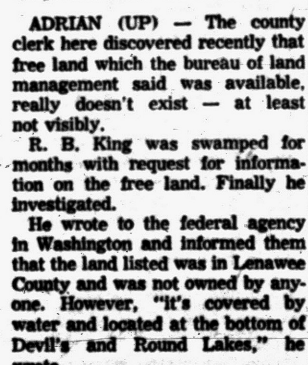

R. B. King was swamped for months with request for information on the free land. Finally he investigated.

He wrote to the federal agency in Washington and informed them that the land listed was in Lenawee County and was not owned by anyone. However, "it's covered by water and located at the bottom of Devil's and Round Lakes," he wrote.

Apparently no eyewitness survey was ever made of the land, carried on the agency's records, as being vacant, since early settlers took up the surrounding land and the federal government therefore carried it as vacant, King said.

The calorie, which dieting persons watch so closely, is the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one gram of water one degree centigrade.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1954

Cramton's Amendment

Lapeer's veteran representative, Louis C. CRAMTON, wants to amend Section 16, Article 2, of the State Constitution to meet the needs of the times.

It is this section which includes that vital sentence in the Fifth Amendment to the Federal Constitution which says "No person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself."

As the lengthy and disturbing record shows, it is this amendment which so many persons suspected of Communism have invoked to avoid testifying. President Eisenhower last October authorized heads of Federal agencies to dismiss employes who refused to testify on the grounds of possible self-incrimination.

With the aim of accomplishing the same thing in Michigan, Rep. CRAMTON would add to Section 16, Article 2:

". . . Provided, that any public officer who, upon being called before a grand jury, or a duly authorized tribunal, or in any investigation under authority of law, to testify concerning the conduct of his official duties, refuses to answer any relevant questions concerning such matters before such grand jury, or authorized tribunal, or investigation, on the ground that his answers might tend to incriminate him, shall be removed from office by the appropriate authority."

★ ★ ★

President EISENHOWER was right in issuing his order to department heads. For the same reasons we believe Rep. CRAMTON'S amendment deserves favorable legislative action calling for a vote of the people on it next November.

Frustration at Berlin

Whatever else can be said of the Foreign Ministers meeting in Berlin, so far it has run true to the old frustrating pattern of all previous East-West conferences.

This parley was agreed upon for the purpose of settling the German and Austrian questions. Yet it has been marked by a parade of suggestions advanced by Russia's MOLOTOV for the obvious purpose of preventing discussion of these two issues.

Like a magician pulling tricks out of his sleeve he has proposed bigger and better conferences to accomplish many things. Among them he seeks admission of Red China to a Big Five parley and settlement of all outstanding East-West issues including Korea, Indochina, disarmament and abolition of atomic weapons.

Latest of his tricks, a MOLOTOV draft of a German peace treaty, has been rejected by the West like all other of his delaying proposals.

Western experts quickly spotted the plan for what it is — another transparent effort to lay the groundwork for making Germany a Soviet satellie. The plan not only would neutralize Germany but bar it from any alliance with the west and thus wreck the European Defense Community.

To the credit of the Big Three in general and Secretary DULLES in particular, the West has accomplished two things. First, it has made Russia understand that there is no intention of abandoning EDC or of letting Red China into the family of civilized Nations by the back door.

★ ★ ★

Second, it now must be clear to all that if the Berlin conference fails, the fault will be Russia's. At this stage it is fair to say that if any surprises are to come out of the Berlin meeting, the biggest would be Russia agreeing to settle anything.

Court Decree Wise

Ohio's Supreme Court has moved to ensure that nothing shall be allowed to interfere with or detract from the dignity of judicial proceedings in that State.

To that end it has decreed that photographing, broadcasting or televising such proceedings shall not be permitted in any Ohio court. In discussing this action Chief Justice Weygandt pointed out that it is not subject to appeal or to change by the state Legislature.

"Proceedings in court," he said, "should be conducted with fitting dignity and decorum. The taking of photographs in the courtroom during such proceedings and the broadcasting and televising of such proceedings from the courtroom . . . should not be permitted."

The ban is based on one of 36 judicial canons proposed by the American and Ohio State Bar Associations. Originally it covered only photography and radio, but telecasts were included by the seven member court.

The Press considers this decree wise in that it will protect the courts against the danger of being turned into three ring circuses. In so doing it will safeguard the rights of persons involved in court proceedings without hampering in any way the people's right to know what is going on.

Oakland County Farmers Are Giving Rights on Property

Daffynition

Co-ed: A girl who didn't get her man in high school.

Oil lease operators are busy at several points in Oakland County. Wells sunk at three widely separated locations here have thus far brought no satisfactory results, although reaching depths of over a mile. But when oil was recently struck in adjoining Washtenaw County, within a couple of miles of the Oakland County line, it spurred at least five of the major petroleum corporations to renewed activity here. At least 250 farmers in Milford, Lyon, Springfield, Waterford, Independence and other Oakland County townships already have signed up for the oil rights on their property.

Press Reader Says Realtors Are Urged to Support Proposed Bricker Amendment

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Alexander Summer, Newark past president of National Ass'n. Real Estate Boards, recently pointed out that realtors have an interest in the proposed Bricker amendment because of its relationship to the pending Covenant of Human Rights which has a bearing on real estate.

The proposed United Nations Covenant refused to recognize the right to own property as a human right and its terms would obligate a government becoming a party to it to guarantee adequate housing to its citizens as a matter of political right.

Realtors learned of this covenant through Mr. Summer who obtained the information while in Paris. A letter from Mr. Summer to Warren Austin, U. S. representative to the U. N. about the matter never received a reply.

Under terms of the proposed Bricker amendment such a covenant could not become effective in the U. S. unless authorized through legislation by Congress.

In view of the importance of the subject to property and property ownership, Mr. Summer expressed the hope that realtors will support the Bricker amemdment.

Durkin, on Leave of Absence; Gets OK; Beeson, in Line for Pension, Is Doubted

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—What is sauce for the goose evidently isn't sauce for the gander after all. Democrats in the Senate who didn't object but voted to confirm Martin Durkin as secretary of labor a year ago, even though he retained his ties with the International Plumbers' Union, are now making quite a fuss over the fact that Albert C. Beeson, nominated for membership on the National Labor Relations Board, may some day derive a pension from his former employer.

Beeson's company has stated flatly that he has no contract or agreement that provides for his return to the company whenever he terminates his service on the labor board, but there are members of the Senate who think an eventual pension raises "doubts" about his impartiality.

Everybody knows that in any case involving a former employer the member of the labor board affected usually would disqualify himself from sitting in that particular proceeding.

But to argue that a commitment to receive a pension some day from a company makes a man so prejudiced on the side of management that he can never be fair in hearing any cases of management and labor is to erect a barrier which was conveniently overlooked last year by the same Democrats who are objectiong now to the confirmation of Beeson.

Durkin became secretary of labor in the Eisenhower Cabinet notwithstanding an agreement in writing which provided for his resumption of the post of presidency of the union whenever his service in the government would be terminated.

Incidentally, Durkin, as secretary of labor, was to assume a post that in many respects is just as much a quasi-judicial office as that of any member of the labor board.

For the secretary of labor has authority to determine minimum wages to be paid under government contracts under the Walsh-Healy Act and the Davis-Bacon Law.

When Durkin went before the Senate Labor Committee last year, he got a different reception than Beeson is getting today. Here is an extract from the official testimony on Jan. 16, 1953, just before the committee voted unanimously to recommend confirmation to the Senate.

"Mr. Durkin: . . . If I am appointed to the position of secretary of labor, I have already made arrangements to leave my post as general president of the United Association (Plumbers' Union) without any ties whatever to the union other than being a member, without any salary, and without any compensation for expenses or any moneys of any type. . . .

"Sen. Taft: And you will resign your position as president of the United Association, you said? I think you said you would leave your post. . . .

"Mr. Durkin: I have taken a leave of absence with no authority to transact any of the affairs. I may return at some later date, and, of course, that is entirely—

"Sen. Taft: You may return: Is there an agreement that you will return if necessary?

"Mr. Durkin: Oh, no; no agreement.

"Sen. Taft: You mean you may; you are eligible to return, of course?

"Mr. Durkin: As a member, I am eligible to return."

So, when a labor-union executive gets "leave of absence" from his position as a top union officer to enter the government, no objections are made by the radicals and so-called "liberals" in the Senate.

Yet, when a man has absolutely no contract or agreement to return to his former employer but merely will derive a pension some day when he reaches an advanced age, these same radicals and "liberals" agrue that he cannot possibly be impartial and must of necessity be biased in favor of management.

Apparently it's all right for a former union official to come into the government and retain connections, but not so for a management man. That's an odd conception of "impartiality."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Children Are Confused About Right and Wrong

Priests and clergymen of all sects, please ponder this Case Record seriously: For many of you are now riding black horses and thus confusing our children. So you thoughtlessly place stumbling blocks in front of them. If you don't want to ride white horses before our youth, then get out of the pulpit.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-316: A recent advertisement caught my attention. It has been sponsored widely by the independent Electric Light & Power Companies.

It depicts a group of youngsters viewing a TV show. One little girl seems uncertain about who is the hero vs. the villain.

"The baddies never ride white horses," explains her older brother, who looks to be 6 or 7 years of age.

And that is true of the Western Movies. For the bad guys ride the dark horses. They may also have some teeth missing. And those that do remain are discolored by tobacco juice or eaten away by alcoholic Red Eye.

On the contrary, the hero and his pals always ride the white horses! They also have a full set of even white teeth, thus typifying purity and fair play. Children can thus tell the good from the bad far down the canyon.

Alas, things are not that simple in real life, due either to the thoughtless or greed of many modern adults.

For millions of supposedly intelligent and good people, now follow the crowd and adopt bad habits.

Even physicians and dentists, who certainly have dozens of medical arguments to prove the folly of drinking alcohol or smoking, will stampede into these current habits, too.

So what are children to think? They are confused about right versus wrong.

Some of our religious denominations are even using weasel words to excuse the fact that their clergymen are likewise setting a bad example in their personal life before the youth.

"But it helps humanize us clerics," one such clergyman recently defended his use of liquor and cigarets.

Clergymen never need worry about humanizing themselves. They are all plenty human without deliberately trying to add further bad habits.

If they mean they don't know how to strike up a casual conversation with parishioners, then cigarets and liquor glasses are not the proper way to bridge the gap.

Instead, learn the art of carrying on graceful conversation. We offer you a bulletin on this very topic, entitled "The Formula for Being an Interesting Conversationalist." It costs you but 10 cents, plus a stamped return envelope, which is much cheaper than your cigarets or liquor.

Or join the "Compliment Club." Or become more athletic and mingle with your teen-agers on the gym floor or in a swimming pool.

For clergymen are always supposed to ride the white horses in our American society!

We parents and Sunday school teachers, as well as the leaders of Hi-Y and Boy Scouts, drill that into our youngsters.

So why do you men in high positions of religious and scientific leadership, then confuse our children?

Even in our science classes in grammar school, we teachers point out the hazards of tobacco and alcohol. Our National Safety Council does the same regarding liquor.

So why do you leaders of society then confound our youngsters by riding the black horses, when your job is to ride the white steeds?

This is becoming a serious problem in America. As a teacher of advertising and sales courses, I must admit the cleverness of the advertising men who are stampeding Americans into buying their special brand of tobacco or liquor.

But you ethical leaders must stick to your white horses! For the good guys should never ride black horses, either in the movies or in real life!

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Present administration is doing fancy stitching on social security inherited from the demur-crats.

They've demurred about this and they've demurred about that. But have no partisan objections to everybody getting into the patriarchal pay-off.

First bonus is at 65. Room temperature for the old folks care barn. But the payments are at convenient table-top height and they're as sure as shooting fish in a puddle.

Ike intends to broaden the base. Which the Democrats realize the years do anyway.

10,000,000 more deserving citizens will be bracketed in the cradle-to-the-grave parentheses. Ike will insert a carousel or two to break the jump.

There are now 70,000,000 Americans spoon-feeding themselves for the future. The next quota of 10,000,000 might be potential Republicans. An Indian custodial force may hold them in a demilitarized zone until they make up their minds.

If you want to save something for your old age save yourself. At present the congressional citation for breaking 70 is 25 boffos per month. In case you have an oven-ready appetite that's about six dollars a week.

For that you can get one pound of coffee, one four-pound chicken, one pound of butter and one daily double at Tropical Park.

The Republicans figure to boost the take-home loot to 30 per month. That's not exactly bribery.

Good Doctors, Honest Clinics Are Fine but He Fights Racketeers, Says Brady

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

I have recovered from a long siege of arthritis (writes a reader) and I, too, am tired of hearing about the "wonder drugs," but nevertheless the doctor used gold salts and cortisone together.

This was the only treatment that did me any good. I have been entirely free from pain and swelling for over a year now, so you will understand that I appreciate this very much.

The cause of the arthritis (continues the reader) was infection which has been removed. It was mostly sinusitis.

Good nutrition (the reader concedes) may have prevented some of my trouble 40 years ago, but what I needed was good medical treatment right now.

Why do you belittle the efforts of some doctors to do what they can for people? (the reader continues).

Where do you draw the line between a trick doctor and a poor clinic? I mean a clinic where people without means can get treatment. Isn't there such a thing as a good clinic or a poor doctor? (Miss G. R.)

Many correspondents have reported their disappointment with the effects of treatment with gold and sodium chloride.

Many more have reported disappointment with cortisone treatment of arthritis.

Yours is the first and only favorable report of the sort I have received, Ma'am. So I am happy to pass it along to other readers who may contemplate such treatment.

For three years of experience with gold salt treatment of arthritis in the Arthritis Clinic of Presbyterian Hospital in New York City — a genuine clinic, as the term clinic is defined in Webster — Dr. R. H. Boots concluded that gold treatment offered definite promise for rheumatoid arthritis but should not be used for any other form of arthritis because of its toxicity.

Maybe I'm just showing my ignorance, but I must say I don't know how a doctor can distinguish so-called rheumatoid arthritis from any other chronic progressive degeneration of joint structure — just plain rheumatis.

I have never belittled the efforts of doctors to do what they can for people.

I have never deprecated or in any way disparaged a genuine clinic. Nor a real specialist.

What I have tried to warn you people against is the trick "specialist" and the racket which I call kli-NICK.

The law has nearly caught up with the kli-NICK racket in California — as of now the state will not issue a license for a private pay clinic, but, unfortunately, the racketeers who had set up their fake clinics before Jan. 1, 1954, can continue trimming the public same as ever.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 150 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to diseases, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?

John 8:46

* * *

Give us that calm certainty of truth, that nearness to Thee, that conviction of the reality of the life to come, which we shall need to bear us through the troubles of this.

H. W. Beecher.

Hal Boyle Says:

Baby Can Strike Terror to Heart of Bravest Parent

NEW YORK (AP)—Every time a child is born two cowards are created. They are the parents.

There is nothing like a baby to turn a couple of normally courageous adults into a pair of timorous mice.

Some six months ago a five-week-old lady called Tracy Ann moved a crib into our home and adopted Frances and me. Coming into our life after 16 childless years of marriage, she brightened up the place like a welcome candle in a dark cave.

* * *

Our life was pleasant enough before. But now it has a shining luster, and it is a wonderful feeling to come home and open the door and be greeted by a small sunrise smile and a trill like a meadowlark.

* * *

"Are you sure it won't trouble you that the baby isn't your own flesh and blood?" a cautious friend asked shortly after Tracy Ann decided to be our favorite income tax deduction.

Trouble us? It is just the other way around. Frankly, it is a relief.

"Baby, we didn't bring you into the world," I feel like telling her. "All we have is the chance to make as nice a world for you as we can, and if we fail you in that, then you got a real right to holler."

* * *

When Tracy Ann had been in our house a week, she already was more than our flesh and blood. She was our blithe spirit, and she becomes blither every day.

I have no hesitancy in advising any childless couple who can get a baby to adopt them to go and do so at once, and quit postponing paradise. But paradise has a price. Ordinary parenthood will turn the bravest human being into a craven wretch; adopted parents are doubly craven.

In four years of war reporting I learned to condition myself so that I was afraid only when in actual danger. A man who gets the fear-sweats before he goes to the front, or after he comes back and is out of peril, won't last through very many battlefields.

* * *

But raising a baby is much more terrifying than working on a battlefield. On a battlefield you know when to be scared—when you can relax. But in raising a child, you live with a tight knot of terror at the back of your brain day and night. So many things can happen.

"Don't worry," the pediatrician says. "Whatever you are doing for this baby, just keep right on doing it. There is absolutely nothing wrong with her."

I guess that is what frightens me. Everything has gone so terribly well for Tracy Ann. Right now she has two upper fangs and two lower fangs bursting out of her deep pink gums, and I must admit does look, when she grins, a bit like a cross between an old grandma and a young alligator.

* * *

I lift our little tomboy aloft in my two hands, remembering the strong feel of my father's hands as he did the same thing to me so many, many years ago, and tell her:

"Honey, there are moments when I wish you didn't love life quite so much, weren't so terribly healthy, weren't always so good and always so happy, because I am afraid now of how hard you may be hurt later. But if I knew of a single germ anywhere that was plotting to get at you, I'd shoot it with a shotgun."

Tracy Ann just looks down with her gap-gummed grin and babbles, "Ma-ma-ma-ma-ma-ma-ma!" . . .

That shows she is just a crazy, mixed-up kid. But it certainly gives her old man a warm, motherly feeling.

A whale when first born may sometims exceed a third the length of the mother.

Kodak Employe's Idea for Camera Pays Off

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—An Eastman Kodak Co. employe, who received $125 for a suggestion, suddenly saw his award mushroom into $2,454 a year later.

Paul Ratigan of the production planning and control department suggested that a winding knob for a certain camera be made of plastic instead of metal that required certain finishes.

During the year production of the camera increased and further refinements were made that were possible only because of the adoption of Ratigan's suggestion.

Result: a surprise added award for the worker.

Wily and Ruthless Kashani Threatening Again in Iran

By Phil Newsom
United Press Foreign Editor

A spidery little man whose name is synonomous with terrorism and assassination comes up in the news again this week from Iran.

He is Seyed Ayatollah Kashani whose authority springs from his position as Iran's most powerful religious leader and from his street gangs which roam Tehran's Bazaar and the twisted streets of the old town behind it.

Now he threatens to overthrow the government of Premier Fazlollah Zahedi which is about to reach final agreement with Britain in the long dispute over Iranian oil.

It is not likely he can make good his threat but it would be wrong to count out this wily little man who at an indeterminate age, somewhere between 70 and 80 already has been sentenced to death once, jailed three times and exiled three times.

Kashani hates all Western influence and he centers his hatred on the British whom he blames for the death of his own father.

His present threat against the government is another supreme effort to prevent any agreement with Britain and in a broader sense with the whole Western world.

It makes little or no difference to Kashani that without agreement Iran eventually must go bankrupt and probably fall to the Communists.

Equally, he cares for Iranian nationalism because his dream is of far greater Islamic state and he believes the people can be wooed from Communism just as he would lead them from the West.

Efforts to settle the dispute between Britain and Iran are closer to success now than at any time since Iran seized the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and nationalized the oil industry in March 1951.

In the meantime, a government has fallen, the shah was driven from his country only to make a triumphal return and the issue of Iranian oil has become global, involving the world court at the Hague, the courts of Japan and Italy and the world's great oil companies.

Iran's oil was seized and nationalized by the deposed former premier, Mohammed Mossadegh, who now has been convicted of treason and accused of leaving the Iranian government with a $500,000,000 deficit despite stop-gap aid from the United States.

The man receiving much of the credit for bringing the two sides together where others failed is Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of the former United States President.

Before the decision to nationalize her oil, Iran received from Anglo-Iranian about $12,000,000 a year. It represented a major portion of her income and the great bulk of her foreign exchange.

But meanwhile conditions have changed. Other sources have filled the gap left when Iranian oil went off the world market.

That's why eight major oil companies, including five American, have been meeting in London in a move which actually would reapportion the world market.

And before the American companies could participate, it was necessary for the Justice Department to rule that they would not be prosecuted under U. S. anti-trust laws.

It is into that situation that the ancient Kashani has injected himself again, possibly in a deliberate move to invite arrest and make himself a martyr.

Pontiac Scouts to Name Garroway as 'Mayor'

Dave Garroway will accept the honor of being named "Honorary Boy Scout Mayor of Pontiac" next Monday morning during his "Today" show, seen locally on Channel 4.

That is the day Pontiac Scouts will take over the city government in a celebration of National Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13.

Farmers Team With Chemists To Boost Output

WILMINGTON, Del. (UP)—A heartening report on the results of teamwork between science and agriculture was revealed through a 50 per cent step-up in farm production in the U. S. in the past decade.

The increased agricultural output was made during a period when the nation's population jumped 25 per cent.

In sharp contrast to this country's farm production gains, world production inched up a scant five per cent, while the world's population was increasing by 18 per cent during the 20-year period.

The figures demonstrate how the farmer in this country is reaping the benefits of more leisure time for less demanding physical labor through the use of agricultural chemicals.

While only about 12 per cent of America's population was engaged in farming, the nation was producing more through teamwork between technologists and farmers.

The problem of feeding the world's increasing millions is heightened by the fact that man is gradually pushing toward the limit of cultivatable land.

Therefore the world must work toward stepping up production per acre through science, if we are to minimize the effects of population increases.

Average depth of the world's oceans is about 2½ miles, with the Pacific having the greatest average depth.

Actress Jean Ames Gets Divorce Settlement

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Actress Jean Ames isn't going to climb any mountains or swim any rivers, as she once vowed she would, to get back her husband, Vincent Brooks Evans, former air force major and wartime bombardier.

Miss Ames obtained a divorce yesterday, saying Evans walked out on her and their two children. She was awarded $300 monthly for their support. Evans now is a furniture manufacturer.

They were married in 1944.

Molotov's Smiles Contrast Intolerably With His Past

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Molotov smiles in Berlin — and it's front page news.

Molotov smiles in Berlin — and radio and television commentators all over the free world make mention of it.

Molotov is "much more at ease" than Russians were at earlier conferences with foreign ministers, and "western diplomats think it's because Stalin is gone."

So "life for Molotov is gay in Berlin." He's evidently given orders to his staff to be friendly." He's "personally cordial . . . his staff dine and wine the Western staffs constantly."

The quotes are from an Associated Press dispatch, and I dare say citizens all over the world are supposed to greet the news with sighs of relief and paeans of praise.

As for me, it made me mad.

What's a better indication of the intolerable attitudes the Communists have struck all along?

What's better proof of their insufferable manner in the past against men who have tried to deal reasonably with them?

For the moment, there's been an about face and we're temporarily spared the scowls and slanders that have been "regulation behavior" in Communist foreign policy since the end of the war.

And for this respite, Molotov and his staff are to win instant and profuse gratitude? They'll certainly expect it if they read the papers I do.

The smiles and gayety I'd prefer to read about — before I throw any hat in the air — are some new smiles and new gayety on the faces of a few million Czechs and Poles and Russians behind their various Iron Curtains.

The wining and dining that warm my heart with new hope would be a little something among the slave-labor gangs in Communist prisons.

If the orders "to be friendly" had gone from Molotov, not to his own staff, but to the swarms of secret police who beat and torture any suspected anti-Communist, who force children to spy on parents and wives to betray husbands — if the kindly orders had only gone to them, that would indeed be front page news to gladden the world.

Jury Acquits Man Accused of Fraud

CHICAGO (AP)—A judge, who as prosecutor had accused lawyer Maurice Weinzelbaum of running off to Brazil to escape a half million dollars in debts, heard a jury acquit the man of a fraud charge last night.

The Criminal Court jury reported to Judge Richard B. Austin after deliberating nearly four hours. Weinzelbaum, 44, was acquitted of bilking a suburban Evanston jeweler and optometrist of $10,000 by promising big interest on short-term loans.

Only two men, including Jeweler-optometrist Marshall A. Stone, 38, signed compaints against Weinzelbaum. Austin contended others were owed a half million dollars but declined to sign complaints because they feared publicity.

Weinzelbaum was seized last June by police at Houston, Tex., after his return from Brazil.

10-Foot Python May Be Evicted From Building

CHICAGO (AP)—Leona Rohrer, operator of a South Side apartment building, doesn't want tenants keeping pythons in her apartments, she told Municipal Judge Casmir Cwiklinski yesterday.

She is seeking to dispossess Rajah, a 10½-foot Indian rock python owned by Mrs. Victoria Kocourek, who appears as "Princess Elvera" in a night club dance with the snake.

"I've lost 20 pounds worrying since that monster moved into my building," Miss Rohrer told the court.

Said Mrs. Kocourek: "Rajah has more brains, honor, intelligence, loyalty and devotion than many people I know. He is a perfect dear." But she promised the court she would find another home. Meanwhile, Rajah is being boarded with friends in another building.

Wants Sample of Texas, Preferably a Horse

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas Secretary of State Howard Carney had an out-of-state request today for a "sample" of Texas from Miss Andrea Michalik of Minneapolis. She said she would prefer a horse.

"There must be some rancher who has so many he can spare me one," she wrote.

She enclosed 10 cents for postage.

Reno Layman Marries 4,741 Couples in a Year

RENO (AP)—For the second year in a row, Justice Laurance Layman was the busiest man in Reno's busy marriage business last year. The annual tabulation by the Evening Gazette shows Layman said the vows for 4,741 couples in 1953. The customary fee is $10.

Jesse James Quits

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Jesse James quit his job here yesterday. He said a policeman's pay just wasn't enough.

Candidate for 2 Offices to Get Lecture on Civics

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Secretary of State Beatrice Roach says she is going to have to explain a bit of civics to Angus MacGillivray of Algodones. She says the Sandoval County Republican has filed as a candidate for both state treasurer and state corporation commissioner, and election law just won't stretch that far.

Accident Deaths Triple Last War

Nation's Toll in '53 Runs Way Above American List for Korea

CHICAGO (INS) — The nation's accident death toll in 1953 was more than three times as great as the number of Americans killed during the entire Korean War.

That fact was disclosed today by the National Safety Council in its annual report.

The council said 95,000 persons died and 9,600,000 were injured in accidents last year.

It is estimated that the economic cost to the nation of accidents was $9,100,000,000.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, declared:

"We do not believe that any civilized nation can long endure this tragic and disgraceful waste of manpower and resources from accidents that are avoidable."

However, the council noted that huge as it was, the 1953 accident death toll dropped 1,000 below the 96,000 fatalities reported in the previous year and was the lowest on record.

Fatal traffic mishaps remained the nation's No. 1 killer last year with 38,000, a one per cent increase over last year. The figure was the greatest in the nation's history except for 1937 and 1941.

The second greatest number of accidental deaths — 28,000— took place in the home. The figure was 1,000 under 1952.

Public accidents, including deaths from burns, falls, railroad mishaps, air crashes and drownings, claimed the third largest same as in 1952.

Accidents taking place in factories and at other places of employment amount to 15,000, the number of lives — 17,000, the same as in 1952.

California led the nation with 3,398 traffic deaths followed by Texas with 2,942, Illinois 2,170, New York 1,930 and Michigan 1,574.

Seventy-six cities of 10,000 or more population completed the year without a traffic death. Mount Vernon, N. Y. with a population of 71,900 was the largest city to achieve a perfect record, while Raleigh, N. C. was second and Norwalk, Conn., third.

Dog Vaccination Clinics Get Underway Sunday

County Canines to Be Inoculated

Anti-Rabies Shots Cost $1.50 at Five Centers in Oakland Area

Oakland County dog owners may have their pets vaccinated against rabies for $1.50 Sunday as the county's 1954 series of non-profit rabies inoculation clinics gets under way.

Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County Health Department director, says clinics will run from one until 4 p.m. this Sunday at Waterford, Keego Harbor, Leonard, Clarkston and Commerce.

"The Oakland County Veterinarians Association and county board of health sponsor the clinics, with veterinarians donating their time," Dr. Monroe says.

"We plan to set up Sunday afternoon clinics in about 20 different places during February."

Dog owners living in areas covered by the county's animal welfare division, headed by Dr. Frank R. Bates, should have 1954 county dog licenses by March 1. The tags may be bought at township halls, the Sunday clinics or at the county animal shelter, 1200 E. Walton Blvd.

License fees are $1 for each male dog and $2 for each female, Dr. Bates says. The county won't issue dog licenses without proof that the dogs have been vaccinated against rabies within the last 12 months.

Waterford's clinic Sunday will be at Waterford Fire Hall, 4993 Highland Rd., with Dr. Benjamin Bisgeier and Dr. Burton Ross in charge.

Dr. L. A. Hartrick will vaccinate dogs at West Bloomfield Township Fire Hall on South Willow Beach road in Keego Harbor.

Clarkston's clinic at Clarkston Fire Hall, Main and East Church streets, will have Dr. J. W. Eastman as veterinarian in charge. Dr. D. J. Francisco will supervise the clinic at Commerce Fire Hall at Huron and Ponderosa Streets.

Dr. Monroe says locations for other clinics will be announced early next week.

PONTIAC MOTOR EXPANSION—The above photos show three views of construction now under way at Pontiac Motor Division here. The addition, a new car finish building, is part of General Motors' billion-dollar expansion program announced recently. Covering 120,000 square feet, the new building will house water test facilities, paint finish inspection, touch up painting, air conditioning tests and headlight adjusting. According to R. M. Critchfield, general manager, the building is expected to be occupied by early summer.

County to Take Surfacing Bids

Eleven Miles of Roads to Be Retopped in the Summer

Oakland County will take bids Feb. 18 on five resurfacing jobs covering 11 miles of Eight, Nine and Ten Mile roads.

Robert O. Feit, Road Commission chairman, says the work will be done this summer. The Road Commission has already taken bids on some 10 miles of resurfacing.

Feit says the commission, now entering the third year of its drive to blacktop old concrete pavements before they break up too badly to repair, will probably put new surfaces on about 40 miles of county roads this season.

The five projects up for bids next week include two stretches of Eight Mile road—and the two and a half mile section between U. S. 16 and Farmington road and a two-mile span east of Pontiac Trail.

Also up for resurfacing bids is a mile of Nine Mile road between Greenfield road and Northwestern Highway.

Two sections of Ten Mile road are up for bidding Feb. 18—a three-mile stretch from Southfield road to U. S. 16 and 2.76 miles from U. S. 16 to Novi road.

Want to Lose Weight . . . Easy-Like?

Best to Weigh Same Time of Day, Every Third Morn

Chapter 8

By ELMER WHEELER

I learned to check my weight every three days. It varies too much daily to check it accurately.

The accurate checking time, I discovered, is just before breakfast after the morning bathroom. Then you are "accurate." That's when they check you in hospitals, you know.

For one thing, just staying in bed changes your weight. You burn up calories just sleeping through the night, and if that isn't a pleasant way to get rid of calories I don't know what is!

A night's sleep leaves you from 1 to 1½ pounds lighter by morning.

Then, when you eat during the day, you naturally add weight.

On humid days a person weighs more because his body can't get rid of as much water through prespiration, and after all, two glasses of water weigh in at around a pound.

Even so, though, that water won't stay with you if you don't eat a lot of salt.

It finally comes through, even though it may stay longer on rainy days. Your weight is likely to be less on days with low humidity.

* * *

Another thing I learned was that the food I eat today takes 36 hours before it is in my system in the form of weight.

My weight today has increased or decreased according to what I ate 36 hours ago.

This is another reason why it's best for me to weigh myself every three days to get the true picture.

Fat, they tell me, remains longest in the stomach, because it takes so long to digest. That's why it gives you that full feeling. Only trouble is, it's highest in calories.

Foods with high protein values, such as nuts, eggs, cheese, meat, and fish stay next longest in the stomach. They give you the full feeling also, but aren't so high in calories.

Carbohydrates — starch and sugar—burn up real fast in the system. This is why the candy boys can honestly advertise candy bars "for a quick pick-up."

Yes, in burning up fast, carbohydrates give you immediate energy—but there's always a joker in the deck, it seems.

Because carbohydrates, being quickest to shoot the works, leave the stomach empty the quickest and make you get hungry sooner, so that you're apt to overeat.

When I get starch-hungry, I may indulge in some spaghetti—and overdo it—but then I go light on everything else for that day.

I like toast and jam, too—but when I go overboard on this, I go light on the baked spuds. I try to balance my diet to keep a little of everything going into me.

I like variety.

I eat peanuts, have an occasional cocktail, even an ale off and on. I eat pork roasts, even fried chicken and gravy.

But I am darned sure not mixing them all into the same 1,500-calorie day, or it wouldn't be a 1,500-calorie day any more.

When there are no more seats in the balcony, you don't catch me selling standing room to peanuts and potato chips!

Result: I'm down to 200 pounds!

Red China Exile Recalls Free Old Days

By EDWARD HUNTER

(Edward Hunter, author of "Brain-Washing in Red China," introduced the word brain-washing into the English language. He was acting news editor of the Japan Advertiser in Tokyo before the war, then became editor of the Peking Leader and of the Hankow Herald in China.)

Philip Wang, a professor of Peking University, appeared in Hong Kong in coolie clothes. "I sneaked out of China," he told me.

He was not alone; there was a constant stream of teachers and technicians escaping, and each told of colleagues who wanted to do likewise, but couldn't, mainly because of relatives who would suffer.

"What made you leave?" I asked. "I thought you intellectuals got a lot of special privileges. Did you mix into politics under the old government? Did some of your friends accuse you in discussion meetings?"

"Oh, no, nothing like that," he said. "I've never been interested in politics. I had a nice home, and my pay was always on time, and the food rations in which it was computed were satisfactory."

"Then how could you leave Peking, of all places?" I pressed. "I can understand quitting Shanghai or Hankow, or Tientsin. But you just can't help falling in love with Peking. I did, when I edited the old Peking Leader, and when I taught journalism for a term in your university."

"I couldn't stand it any longer," he said.

"Haven't the Communists gone to great pains to improve the ancient capital?" I asked. "All the magazines show pictures of improvements."

"I had to go. Otherwise I'd have gone mad. Or learned to sound like a phonograph blaring forth slogans in place of using my brain.

"Peking was once the greatest intellectual center of the East. Nowhere else in the world did so many scholars, artists, writers, thinkers and doctors congregate and exchange ideas. But all that is gone."

I remembered how I used to sit at a table of world-famous names, and listen to an exchange of views that left everyone, everytime, a little wiser than before.

Philip Wang continued: "Now all spare time, which means all waking hours except those at work, must go to organized discussion meetings where 'able party members can guard against thoughts going astray.

"The last straw was a tea at my mother's. Several friends came in. Formerly, we never had time to say all that was in our minds. Now we could hardly fill the empty gaps with tea talk. Yet we had so much we wanted to talk about.

"What sent me fleeing was something my mother said afterwards. 'Wasn't it nice having them here?' she said. 'I had a job persuading them. They were daring to stay so long. Too bad, though, that you couldn't talk out, the way you used to, when you were boys. I thought that maybe, as they were all old playmates, you might be able again, this once.'

"I remembered then, with a shock, that these had all, indeed, been my boyhood chums. We had never had any secrets from each other. Now, after all those intimate years, we didn't dare speak freely to each other. We no longer could trust each other.

"This, then was no longer the city of my birth. So I had to leave it. Maybe I'll be searching for it all my life, now."

Dance Fan Divorced

DETROIT (AP) — From ballroom to court room is the divorce story of John J. Szewczyk, 45, of Detroit. His wife, Estelle, 39, has accused him in an uncontested divorce suit of spending $4,774 on 700 hours of dancing lessons. Szewczyk denied taking the lessons.

Detroit's Fort Wayne Gets New Commandant

DETROIT (INS)—The Michigan Military District today announced that Col. Edward J. Drinkert, district commander and commandant at Fort Wayne in Detroit, has been reassigned for overseas duty.

Replacing him will be Col. Normal L. Thompson, who has been in charge of civil assistance teams for economic and medical aid in Korea.

500 Hindus Dead After Stampede

Holy Men Draw Blame of Accidentally Starting Mob's Rush

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The bodies of 341 dead, most of them women, have been recovered at the site of the Hindu pilgrimage stampede at Allahabad. Newspapers estimated today that in all around 500 were killed and 1,000 injured.

The government radio disclosed the recovered dead included 252 women, 49 men and 40 children. Three million frenzied pilgrims were involved in the crush yesterday at the junction of the Ganges and Jumna rivers, holy waters to Hindus.

Many were washed downstream.

• • •

A communique said the stampede developed as a group of naked Naga Sadhus—holy men—headed back to camp with their elephants after bathing.

"The Nagas and the pilgrims came together when (some) pilgrims and one Naga were crushed, along with a ro wof beggars sitting on the procession route," the statement said.

The communique did not reply to an accusation that the Nagas, in order to save themselves, used the spears they habitually carry to fend off wild animals, but said: "The pilgrims got the impression the Nagas were violent and therefore ran for their lives, crushing to death the infirm, old, beggars and others who came in their way."

The deaths marred the great Kumbh Mela festival, one of the holiest in the Hindu religion. It is held at 12-year intervals to celebrate the victory of the gods over demons in a mythical battle at the site.

Prime Minister Nehru, who was in Allahabad for the festival, told a news conference the stampede was over before anyone in authority could do anything to avert the tragedy. He reported it ended within 15 minutes. He said a contributing factor was slippery ground, due to an overnight drizzle.

3-Time Colorado Governor Dies at 92

ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP)—William H. (Billy) Adams, 92, grand old man of the Democratic party in Colorado and the state's only three-time governor, died today.

He had been bedridden in his hotel room here the past several months.

In early manhood, Adams was a store clerk, cowboy, teamster and hay hand. He gradually acquired land and cattle until he became one of Colorado's most widely known cattlemen.

He voluntarily retired in 1933 after serving six years as governor, 38 years as state senator, two years in the State House of Representatives, two years as Alamosa mayor and two years as county commissioner.

Athlete's Exuberance Responsible for Injuries

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Two months ago while trying a difficult pool shot Walter Floto broke his cue and the splintered end cut his hand. Five stitches were required.

Last Sunday Floto became excited when a member of his bowling team missed a triple-header stake by one pin. He grabbed hold of a wall coat hanger, somehow got entangled and pulled the hanger loose. He fel land broke a wrist.

"I guess I'm just too exhuberant," Floto said.

Jan Murray Amused Mom

He Entertained Invalid Parent as Boy; Gained Her Encouragement

NEW YORK — Many successful performers have been known to say, "I owe it all to my mother." No doubt this is true, for few can say they don't owe a great deal to their mothers. But when Jan Murray credith his Mom with getting him started on the road to becoming a successful comedian, he is speaking more than figuratively.

In an effort to amuse his mother, who became bedridden when he was a child, Jan, who has emceed countless TV shows, would imitate local vaudeville entertainers, helping to make her forget her troubles. When she laughed at his imitations and told him that some day he would become a professional comic, she sowed the seeds of a lifelong ambition. Soon Jan began to do his comedy monologues for his neighborhood friends in the Bronx, and upon graduation from high school he sought a job in show business.

As social director at a New York resort hotel, 17-year-old Jan was required to organize the recreational activities of the hotel's guests and to appear nightly in the social hall as a comedian, delivering material he had written himself. It was a small beginning, and the years which followed were filled with equally humble appearances in small hotels, little-known nightclubs, presentation houses and burlesque shows.

Following the Leon and Eddie engagement, other well-known nightclubs booked the young comedian and he was offered guest spots on radio programs. In 1947, Jan Murray co-starred with Vivienne Segal in his first Broadway show, "Music in My Heart."

Hildegarde, the chanteuse, an admirer of Murray's radio style, signed him for a lengthy series of guest appearances on her show, and later he entered television as emcee of "Songs For Sale," "Go Lucky," "Sing It Again," "Meet Your Match," "Blind Date" and "Dollar a Second." In addition, he has played many of the top night spots in the country, including New York's Copacabana, the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas, Philadelphia's Latin Casino, Hollywood's Mocambo and the Paramount Theater in New York.

Jan has an athletic build and his hobby is weight-lifting. Born in New York City on Oct. 4, 1917, he is married to Toni Kelly, a former showgirl from the Copacabana. Together with their two children, Celia, three, and Howie, one, they live in a large home on Long Island.

Egypt Building 10 Arms Plants; 3 Now Operating

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt is building 10 arms factories and 3 already are in full operation, army chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Mohamed Ibrahim says. These plants are turning out training planes, rifles, land mines, hand grenades and shells.

This represents a beginning in a program of industrialization. Gen. Ibrahim and his fellow officers recall with bitterness the millions of Egyptian pounds squandered on low quality munitions under the Farouk regime.

The Naguib government has assigned the army about a fifth of the total budget of the nation.

A dozen training planes have been produced in Egyptian factories. The engines are German but Egypt hopes to produce her own soon.

In the near future, the plan is to export land mines, shells, rifles, and hand grenades to other Arab countries.

Light automatic weapons have been tested satisfactorily and some have been put in use. Location, exact type and nature of this work so far have been kept a top secret, however.

A plant for rockets is under construction, according to informed sources. This work is directed by German experts.

The Caspian Sea really is a lake because it is completely surrounded by land, but its water is salty.

Hong Kong Firm Fires Cannon to Do Penance

HONG KONG (UP) — A British shipping firm does public penance every day for giving its founder a 21-gun salute more than 100 years ago.

In the 1850's, Jardine-Matheson company decided it would go all out in welcoming to Hong Kong the head of the firm.

So it fired a 21-gun salute from a battered old cannon perched atop a mountain on the island as Jardine's ship sailed into port.

The Royal Navy was critical. Twenty-one gun salutes are for monarchs and heads of state, not for a shipping magnate, it said.

So the Navy sentenced the company to this perpetual penance:

"Since you like to fire your cannon so much, you can fire it every day, but just one round, at noon."

Since World War II, and the cannon just fell apart from nonuse, Jardine-Matheson was gleeful—no cannon, no noon round.

But the Navy wasn't going to let the firm get away with that. It gave Jardine-Matheson a brand-new cannon.

So to this day, sharply at noon, a single burst of cannon fire resounds through Hong Kong.

FOR THE PEOPLE
The immortal words spoken by Abraham Lincoln in his famous Gettysburg Address bring to mind the words of the Apothecary's Oath. For just as Lincoln's speech was motivated by his dedication to the freedom of all peoples—the Oath of Pharmacy is dedicated to freeing all from the shackles of pain and disease. It is fitting that we, as pharmacists, re-dedicate ourselves in service "for the people" on the occasion of the observance of Lincoln's Birthday.

Ike Concerned About Indochina

Views Fight as Critical Because Some Haven't Joined Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration showed growing concern today over the situation in Indochina, where Communist-led rebels are pressing a new assault in a war that has dragged on for eight years.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he views the battle as critical in the sense that there is some lack of enthusiasm for it. Later he put out a clarifying statement—the first such explanation of a news conference remark since he took office a year ago.

The statement said he meant no reflection on the Indochinese who are combatting communism. It said he referred to "a number of people in Indochina who have not committed themselves to the struggle."

• • •

The President's comments came against a backdrop of reports that France, bearing the brunt of the battle for the free world, is seeking 400 or more B26 attack bombers and mechanics to keep them flying. There also were reports from authoritative sources that at least a dozen C119 Flying Boxcars had been lent by the United States to the French in Indochina.

In Hong Kong yesterday Civil Air Transport, an American-owned airline which grew out of the volunteer Flying Tigers of China fame announced some of its American pilots, under contract with the French, would fly the U.S.-loaned C119s.

• • •

There was neither denial nor confirmation from the President, the Pentagon and the State Department on reports that some 125 U.S. Air Force technicians are at work in Indochina. These 125, it was said, are members of the Military Aid Assistance Group (MAAG) stationed there.

Eisenhower said he could not say whether members of the Indochina group are servicing planes. But one of its jobs, he added, is instructing in air.

The United States has sent 350 shiploads and hundreds of planeloads of military aid to Indochina during the eight years of fighting. More than 800 million dollars has been earmarked as U.S. aid to the beleaguered French and native forces during the year which ends next June 30.

Marlon Brando III, Won't Be in Picture

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Twentieth Century-Fox studio officials say they have been notified by Marlon Brando's New York physician that the actor is "very sick and confused," and that he will not be able to fulfill his contract in the movie, "The Egyptian."

The picture was to have started production yesterday but a postponement was announced until next Monday. Studio officials said they were attempting to reach Brando in the East and still have hopes of having him for the movie, a four million dollar enterprise.

Auto Thief Displays Exceptional Insight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Robert James Franks, 17, pleaded guilty to car theft before District Judge Langston G. King and received five years for stealing six cars.

King, noting the youth was wearing remnants of a military uniform, asked:

"Are you a soldier?"

"No, sir, judge," Franks replied. "This is the first trouble I've ever been in."

Indian Forced to Get License for Barbering

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The secretary of state has forbade a St. Regis Indian from engaging in scalping operations without a barber's license.

Thomas J. Curran reported yesterday that Peter Lazore of Hogansburg, near the Canadian border, had been fined $50 for barbering without a license.

Lazore based his defense on a 1790 treaty between his tribe and the federal government permitting braves of the St. Regis tribe to hunt and fish without licenses.

The State Department insisted that the pact did not apply to operations on the scalp. Peace Justice Nigel Leclaire of Bombay agreed and Lazore was fined.

Lazore has applied for a barber's license, Curran said.

Anthony Eden's Cousin Wins Parliament Seat

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—A cousin of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Conservative Thomas Lascelles Iremonger, is the new member of Parliament from the London suburb of Ilford.

Iremonger defeated Laborite Tom Richardson, a schoolmaster, almost 2-1 in a special election yesterday to fill the House of Commons seat vacated by Conservative Sir Geoffrey Hutchinson upon his appointment as chairman of the National Assistance Board.

The count in the traditionally Conservative district was 18,354 to 9,927.

Poison Candy Mystery Solved

Woman Says She Sent Arsenic - Spiced Fudge to Churchfellows

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The mystery of the poison candy sent to members of the First Baptist Church of Lake Wales was solved yesterday with an admission from a 49-year-old housewife, wife of the church's Sunday school superintendent.

Brought before U.S. Commissioner Paul Pinkerton here, the chief concern of Mrs. Letha Della Overton seemed to be her husband.

"I don't want to hurt my husband," she told reporters. "He is such a good man."

The only words she spoke to Commissioner Pinkerton came between sobs—"I'm guilty."

About 20 persons became violently ill after eating the arsenic-tainted homemade fudge, but all escaped death.

• • •

Commissioner Pinkerton set bond at $2,500. Date of the trial is indefinite.

Mrs. Overton came to Tampa voluntarily with her husband, Jesse Overton, a bookkeeper at Lake Wales. She was arrested on a warrant charging mailing poisonous matter last Dec. 8 with intent to kill or injure.

The motive was unclear. Police Chief K. M. Mellick of Lake Wales said Mrs. Overton indicated she felt neglected socially by other members of the church.

Plastic Dental Fillings Still Experimental

NEW YORK (AP) — A new plastic dental filling material that does not need heat to harden and does not dissolve or waste away is said to be the biggest advance in dentistry in half a century.

These plastic materials, known as self-curing or hardening resins, are still in the experimental stage. Dr. George C. Paffenbarger, chief of the American Dental Association research staff at the National Bureau of Standards, says that "not since silicate cement was introduced 50 years ago has any material made such an impact on operative dentistry."

One defect of the new substance is that at present it does not have the decay-preventing property of the silicate filling, Dr. Paffenbarger says. Research is underway to remedy this deficiency.

March 15 Is Nearer Than You Think

Do You Have a Mortgage or Contract? Then Add Up Interest as Legal Deduction

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Article 9

Up to now, the Tax Primer has been telling you how to report income on your Federal tax return.

Now, we take up the deductions you can use to reduce your income.

Every taxpayer can choose either to itemize his deductions or use the deduction of about 10 per cent of income which Uncle Sam allows those who do not itemize.

You can't choose wisely until you know what your itemized deductions are. Once you know this, then your choice is simple. Use whichever is the larger.

Remember, if you itemize deductions you must use Long Form 1040. If you file on Form 1040A or Short Form 1040, the tax tables will automatically allow you a deduction of about 10 per cent of your income regardless of what your legal deductions are.

Contributions can be itemized in the first schedule on page 3 of Form 1040.

You can claim as a contribution what you actually gave in 1953 to recognized, non-profit religious, charitable, educational and scientific organizations; to societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals; and to governmental organizations for exclusively public purposes.

You cannot deduct dues paid to social organizations even though they have charitable or welfare subsidiaries to which gifts are deductible.

You cannot deduct gifts to individuals no matter how needy they may be. Contributions to political parties or to any organization which uses the money to influence legislation or for the benefit of any particular individual are not deductible.

And you cannot deduct contributions in excess of 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

Any contribution claimed must have been actually paid in cash in 1953. A pledge to pay money in some future year is not deductible in 1953.

Printed with this article is a check list of some common organizations, contributions to which are deductible. There are many, many other organizations which also qualify for deductible contributions.

If you are in doubt, ask at the nearest district director of Internal Revenue's office.

Interest payments are the next category of deductions to be discussed. Many taxpayers have large enough interest deductions to make it worthwhile to itemize all deductions on page 3 of Form 1040.

For example, those of you who are purchasing a home by monthly payments are undoubtedly paying a considerable amount of interest each month.

Interest payments on all personal indebtedness except indebtedness incurred to purchase single premium life insurance policies, endowments, and tax-exempt securities can be deducted on page 3.

Usually when a loan is repaid a certain amount each month goes to interest while the rest is either applied to the principal or for insurance, service charges and the like.

If you don't know how much of your monthly payment is for interest, ask where you make the payment for a statement showing the interest payments you made in 1953.

Do not deduct as interest any financing fee or other non-interest amount included in your payments.

If you are buying on the installment plan, your sales contract must stipulate that interest is being paid or you cannot deduct any interest.

Many of the taxes you paid in 1953 can be deducted on page 3 of Form 1040 if you choose to itemize your deductions.

To be deductible the tax must be imposed on you and paid by you. That means you cannot deduct taxes you pay on your mother's property.

Page 10 of the official instructions lists taxes which you can and cannot deduct.

Most taxpayers do not have receipts or do not keep a record of small payments for deductions like gasoline tax and sales tax. The Internal Revenue Service will allow an estimated deduction provided it is reasonable.

The gasoline tax can be estimated by dividing the total number of miles your car operates on a gallon of gas. Then multiply this by the state and any local tax per gallon.

Do not include the Federal gasoline tax. A list of the state taxes on a gallon of gasoline is printed with this article.

The following plan will give you a reasonable estimate of the sales tax:

There is generally no sales tax on food, rent, insurance or savings. If you will add about what you spent on these things, and subtract it from your total expenses, the remainder will be about what was subject to sales tax.

To this remainder add anything you bought out of savings, or installments that would be subject to sales tax.

Multiply the sum of these by your sales tax rate. This will give you the amount to deduct as sales tax. If you live in a state where food is subject to sales tax, add what you spent on food to the amount subject to tax.

(Next—Other deductions.)

Brazil Fountain Sent to Indiana

South American Nation Sends Gift to Namesake in United States

RIO DE JANEIRO (UP) — The city named Brazil in Indiana is due to receive a beautiful, 60-ton granite fountain from its namesake republic south of the border—all because a president of Brazil once said "yes" to Tennessee, and "no" to Indiana.

The towering, hand-carved monument—a faithful reproduction of the 209-year-old "story-telling fountain" of Brazil's colonial museum-city of Ouro Preto—is a gift from Brazil to Brazil as a "token of friendship."

Composed of 105 granite units which weigh more than a Sherman tank, the fountain, packed and crated piece by piece, began its 6,000-mile journey by ship and train from Rio de Janeiro to Brazil on the last day of 1953.

In 1948, the then president, Eurico Gaspar Dutra, made a goodwill trip to the United States. He let it be known on his arrival in Washington that one of the things he most wanted to do was to pay his respects to one of the five communities in the U.S. bearing the name of his country.

The word came back from Brazil, Tenn., that the president was more than welcome to come and visit. Dutra snapped up the invitation, and still recalls his Tennessee friends as "perfect hosts."

But the press of time forced President Dutra regretfully to say "no" to the invitation from Brazil, Ind., the seat of Clay County.

Dutra decided he would show his appreciation, both for the invitation and "for the honor done my country" by the citizens of Brazil in giving their city that name, by some permanent gift, he hit on the idea of sending a replica of one of Brazil's most famous monuments.

The Brazilian congress swiftly approved the presidential bill setting aside the money to have the "story-telling fountain" of Ouro Preto reproduced.

The fountain going to Indiana carries a Latin inscription that reads:

"From the Republic of Brazil
A token of Friendship
The City of Brazil
1954"

Fire Brings Rescue to Folks Next Door

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Fire Marshal Eugene Mulligan and a fire department inspector went to a house next door to the scene of a fire to ask if they could use the telephone. They found Mrs. Helen Peterson and her seven children all partly overcome from lack of oxygen, caused by the flame in a ventless hot water heater.

"I guess the Lord sent us to that particular house," Mulligan said later. "I don't think they would have died, but they would have been much sicker if we hadn't arrived when we did."

Hunting Cause of Water Leak

Workers at Rochester Expect to Reach Main Later Today

ROCHESTER — Water department workmen should know later today if there is a leak or a complete break in the North Main street water main, according to Robert Slone, village manager.

Although the water was discovered gushing up through the pavement near the New York Central Railroad tracks Sunday, bad weather, old railroad tracks beneath the street and lack of special equipment have hampered operations.

The water main is buried 16 feet below street level.

Water supply to residents and business places from Fifth and Main north to Romeo street was cut off temporarily during the digging operations, but Slone said he did not believe pressure would be reduced today.

Cotton has more than 1,000 important modern uses.

U. S. May Seek to Free Captives

Will Carry Issue of 100 Americans in China to General Assembly

WASHINGTON (INS) — The United States government today mapped plans to demand United Nations help in winning freedom for about 100 American civilians now held prisoner in Communist China.

Final decision still must be made on whether to carry the issue to the floor of the U. N. General Assembly, but the chances appeared good in view of the strong effort Soviet Russia is making to push the Western Powers into negotiations with Red China.

Chinese Communist brutality to foreigners caught behind the "Bamboo Curtain" is one of the big arguments the Americans advance against recognition of the Peiping regime.

Frequently American diplomats cite this brutality in conversations with officials of other governments to emphasize the ruthless disregard of human rights by the Chinese Communists.

The issue of the 100 Americans was raised in the United Nations last spring but was not taken up as a major campaign. Some American officials feel that the time has come to go all out for U. N moral support in the effort to free the Americans and other foreigners still in China.

The State Department said "about" 100 Americans are in China, exclusive of the 21 POWS who decided to stay with the Communists after the Korean War.

Of the hundred, at least 31 are in jail, according to information compiled through tedious study of Red Chinese newspapers and radio broadcasts and through scores of interviews with people leaving China.

A handful of the remaining 70 or so Americans do not want to return home. These include a few priests still able to live in China without direct molestation, a few American women who married Chinese and have families in China, and one aged American man who has spent most of his life in China.

American authorities have received reports of the condition of most of the 100 behind the Bamboo Curtain, but a few are held in such secrecy that nothing has been heard of them.

Including among the latter group are three Americans seized by Chinese soldiers off Hong Kong last March. They are Donald Dixon of International News Service, Richard Applegate of the National Broadcasting Company and Ben Krasner, a merchant seaman from Brooklyn.

The three were captured while sailing a small yacht from Hong Kong toward nearby Macao.

American authorities have made continuing efforts to intercede in behalf of the captives through Britain, Soviet Russia and other nations which recognize the Peiping regime.

All these efforts have failed, and sentiment has developed within the government to abandon dependence upon diplomatic niceties and try to generate world public opinion to induce the Chinese to free Americans and other foreigners forced to remain in China.

Teamsters Ask Delay for Filing Appeals

Teamsters Union officials charged with extortion and bribetaking will seek a delay of their trial, scheduled to begin Monday in Detroit Recorder's Court, in order to appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Attorney George A. Fitzgerald, one of several attorneys defending union officials, filed a motion for temporary adjournment.

He is seeking a delay in the trial of William Buffalino and seven associates and of the separate trial of five other Teamsters officers and business agents.

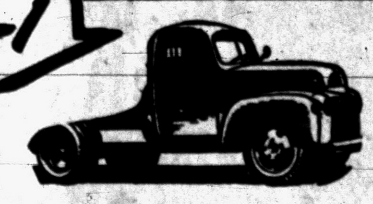

Recorder's Judge Paul E. Krause granted a motion to throw out two of four charges against Frank E. Fitzsimmons, vice president of Teamsters Local 299.

Krause denied motions to quash proceedings against Mike E. Nicoletti, president and business agent of Local 247; Daniel J. Keating, president of Local 614; Samuel J. Marosso, vice president and business agent of Local 247, and Anthony J. Liuzzo, business agent of Local 247.

Superintendent Asks Lay Aid

Says People Who Have Studied Problem Have Vital Data, Ideas

ROCHESTER — "Community participation in the planning of school buildings is just as important as its interest in promoting a bond issue."

This statement was made this week by Donald Baldwin, superintendent of Rochester schools when he said that community lay people, in cooperation with professional faculty members, would be asked to help plan the proposed school buildings.

"We have many people who have spent hours and days touring other community schools and formulating ideas as to what they believe would be best in building plans for Rochester.

"Groups of mothers interested in better educational opportunities for their children and their neighbors have valuable information we should utilize," he said.

First committee named this week to help plan the new elementary building will include: Mrs. James Arcure, Mrs. Ralph Price, Mrs. Richard Jerome, William Parcells, Frank Chapman, Mrs. Hudson Hill and Mrs. Dale Martin.

Selected by the president of the Woodward Parent Teachers' Association, they will work with a faculty committee comprised of Douglas Lund, elementary coordinator; Lois Thompson, Florence Mortimer and Honora O'Connor.

Lund will serve as chairman.

This group will present planning ideas prior to the drafting of working drawings by the architects.

Baldwin said that it is hoped that other members of the community will feel free to offer suggestions to any member of this committee.

"Other groups will be named when planning begins for the new high school," said Baldwin.

Testimony Given in Land Dispute

Jurors Visit Property as Suit Enters Second Day in Court

A Circuit Court jury of 10 women and two men visited the property at 11-49 Parke St. today as the city's condemnation suit goes into its second day.

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick adjourned the trial one week ago but a subsequent compromise settlement was spurned by the city at a special meeting Monday night.

Testimony from the first witness in the slow-moving trial was heard yesterday after selection of the final juror.

Erwin O. Slater testified that he sold the disputed property to the Jack Habel Chevrolet Co. and that he never had any written agreement with the city concerning purchase of the property.

The land is being sought by the city for use as a 200-car metered parking lot to relieve downtown congestion. The disputed property is bounded on the east by Parke street on the west by the Clinton River, on the north by the Slater apartments and by a city-owned land to the south.

Resolution for Young Sidelined by Solons

LANSING (UP) — A resolution praising retiring Michigan State athletic director Ralph Young was sidelined Wednesday by the economy-minded Michigan house of representatives.

When the resolution came up for a final vote, Rep. Andrew Bolt said he thought such things were a waste of taxpayers' money. This touched off a 15-minute debate on Young's record at MSC during the past 30 years.

Although Central Falls in Rhode Island has 23,000 people in 1 square mile, the state also has a township of 49 square miles with only 700 people.

Lindy Back in Seclusion After Brief Public Speech

WASHINGTON (AP)— Charles A. Lindbergh, half-forgotten for years is 52 today, and the birthday finds a reawakened interest in the man, the enigma, the contradiction.

The younger generation, those who never knew the thrill of Lindy's solo flight from New York to Paris in 1927, is reading of his exploits in his autobiography. Serialized in a magazine last year, a fuller version in book form has become a best seller. Reports are that the Lindbergh story has been sold to the films for more than a million dollars.

Only last week the man himself emerged from a Garbo-like seclusion of more than four years, made a rather unusual speech, smiled, shook hands, and then retreated again to his Darien, Conn., home.

• • •

Lindbergh has managed to make himself so unknown to the public that he can—and does—go anywhere these days without being recognized.

Last week, for example, he and Mrs. Lindbergh walked into the Astor Hotel on New York's teeming Times Square, registered and went to their room, with no one giving them a second look.

He had come to address the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences, and to receive the institute's Daniel Guggenheim Award for "pioneering achievements in flight and air navigation."

• • •

More than 2,000 persons gamtled to hear the famed flier. But for his position in the center of the head table, few would have recognized him. Even fewer were able to spot his wife.

For Lindbergh takes satisfaction that no "recognizable" photograph of him has been taken in more than seven years. He has told friends he was driven to avoid photographers after he and Mrs. Lindbergh were followed about New York in 1947 by rude and curious passers-by.

The pictures of Lindbergh most frequently reprinted were taken in the decade following his transatlantic flight.

• • •

The Lindbergh of today has a round, full, almost cherubic face. He is stouter than of old, but not fat. His hair line has receded halfway back across the head.

Detroit - born. Minnesota-reared Charles Lindbergh took easily to fame, despite an inborn shyness, when it was thrust upon him on his arrival in Paris May 21, 1927. His modest behavior in months of travel to many countries contributed to American prestige.

His courtship of Anne Morrow, their marriage in May 1929, the birth of their son Charles Jr. in 1930, were events the whole world read and talked about.

Then came the kidnaping and slaying of 21 - month - old baby Charles, the arrest and trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, and the retirement of the Lindberghs to England a few months before Hauptmann's execution.

The Lindberghs endured their sorrow, reared more children and made pioneering flights about the world together. Mrs. Lindbergh gathered material for two successful books.

Housewife Can Paint Own Designs or Copy Art

NEW YORK (NEA)—The do-it-yourself craze that has hit hard throughout the country is a sound one.

Unlike the old waves of enthusiasm for such pastimes as flagpole-sitting or goldfish-swallowing, the do-it-yourself hobby is good both for the budget and the creative urge.

The woman who wants to have accessories that are the results of her own work can have them without being an expert.

She need not take long courses or follow exacting diagrams. There are many things that she can make with very little time, trouble or money.

Newest of these projects is the simple one of making your own lampshades. With the aid of a lampshade kit, you can turn out silk or parchment shades painted either with your own design or with one of a series of designs created by a group of American artists.

There's one kit that comes with plain shades and instructions for transferring onto them your own original sketch.

First step is applying color to the design on the shade. You can create your own color scheme to fit room furnishings or simply follow the number-painting instructions.

If you're making a parchment shade, you apply fixative and transculor oil. This step is unnecessary with silk shades.

Since the shades come with perforations at top and bottom for lacing, it's a simple matter to match these holes and lace up the side of the shade.

Then lace wire rings to shade at top and bottom and you're ready to apply a coat of light fixative to the outside of the shade.

All steps in making the shades have been simplified so a housewife who'd like to use a spare hour for a hobby can make a shade in that time or less.

And, since shades are always useful gifts, she can use spare time to make gifts for friends or even to beat the budget by doing her Christmas gifts throughout the year, wrapping and labeling them, then storing them away in a closet.

This is just one of many do-it-yourself projects that's equally interesting for one person or for the whole family. In most families, projects vary and members have fun comparing notes at the end of an evening's work.

Far removed from the painting of mustache cups or the adorning of little cushions with sentimental sayings, these new hobbies provide constructive work for the hands and closer family ties.

But probably the greatest single reason for their immense popularity is that they create real fun in the doing.

In this make-it-yourself era, a housewife can turn her hand to making her own lampshades without fear of failure. This housewife (above) is applying color to a design that comes on ready-to-make shade that's part of complete lampshade kit.

Care Gives Leather Bag Long Life

Most of us don't have too much trouble tending the essentials of daily grooming. It's the jobs that need to be done only occasionally that usually are forgotten.

Evidence of this is found in observing some of the handbags that are being toted around town. Overstuffed and dull-looking, they obviously are the victims of neglectful owners.

For, given just a little attention now and then, most handbags will maintain their smart appearance through considerable wear.

A good, leather bag can be counted on to give years of excellent service if one remembers to give it a rest every few days, not to overstuff it, and to give it an occasional cleaning.

Bags made of calf and other leathers, except suede and patent, should be cleaned with saddle soap. Apply a thick lather with a sponge and allow to dry thoroughly. Then restore the gleaming finish with a coat of neutral polish.

Suede bags should be cleaned very carefully with a rubber-bristled brush or a wire brush that has very fine bristles.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

If a child is old enough to come to the dinner table he is old enough to be taught that he must come with clean hands, clean face and combed hair. It is much easier to establish such rules in families where mother always looks well groomed at dinner and father wouldn't think of coming to the dinner table without his coat.

Children are always more impressed with what we do than with what we say.

Salesman Says Friend Is Disloyal

Potential Customer Advised Not to Buy Doubtful Product

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "A friend of ours is a salesman for a large company which makes a certain household item. We bought one from him recently and are not at all satisfied with it.

"When another friend of ours, who was thinking about buying one, asked us how we liked it, we told him frankly that we were very much disappointed with it.

"This got back to our friend, the salesman, who made a terrible fuss about it, saying my husband was very disloyal to him for running down his product and that he was the cause of losing a sale.

"The salesman has been a friend of ours for many years and we feel terrible about it, but don't you think, Mrs. Post, that it was our duty to tell our friend the truth about the product?"

Answer: If the product was something that didn't happen to suit your needs, but was all right otherwise, then you should have said to the other friend, "You might like it very well, but it was not very satisfactory for us."

But if it was no good at all, then I think to encourage a friend to spend his money on something that you knew to be very unsatisfactory would have been more unfair than letting the other friend lose his commission on the sale.

Dear Mrs. Post: It is a little over a year since my husband and I bought our house. It was not a new house and was much in need of repair, which we had to do gradually and which has only now been completed. Is it too late to give a housewarming party?

Answer: Certainly not! The fact that it has all been done over will surely interest your friends and neighbors very much.

Don't Allow Work to Trap Them

Artists Succeed Without Getting in Rut

By ANNE HEYWOOD

It has long been my conviction that the average person diverts enough energy into stewing and complaining about his terrible lot to correct it if he really wanted to do so. And once in awhile, someone comes along who illustrates my theory.

In this case, it's two people—a young husband and wife.

They met in art school, and were both good commercial artists. After graduation, most of their friends took good staff jobs which paid reasonably well and offered security.

"But we insisted on being our own operators," the wife told me. "We wanted a great deal from life, and while we were willing to pay for it, we wanted to do it our own way.

"We both love the country, and we figured that a life which kept us glued to a 9-to-5 city job was not worth it to us, no matter how big the money."

When they graduated and were married, they took a big one-room studio, unheated and cheap. There they settled down to work.

"We both loved to do wrappings and greeting cards," the husband said, "so we really worked on them. While one of us worked, the other made the rounds, trying to get art directors and buyers to take our designs. This gave us each a break in the work and a chance to get out.

"Little by little, we made sales. They weren't very big ones in the beginning, but they began to pick up. We worked steadily, so the law of averages was on our side.

"Our overhead was really low, and on bad weeks we ate beans — and in the beginning there were plenty of bad weeks."

That was eight years ago.

Now they are well-known designers of cards and wrapping paper. They have a charming city apartment and a beautiful house on the ocean. They spend six months in the country, with an occasional trip to town to see their "contacts."

They have a family now, two little boys, and an art student helps care for the children.

They came to see me the other afternoon, and after they left, I watched them amble down the street — a handsome young couple in their early 30s, with a 5-year-old holding his mother's hand, the 8-month-old in the carriage which the father was pushing. They headed toward the park for a leisurely afternoon walk.

I couldn't help thinking of all the people I've known who say, "In this modern industrial society, man is trapped . . . we have lost the opportunity to live . . . it's all the fault of this mechanical age" . . . and so forth.

But the fact remains that if you know what kind of life you want, and are willing to work for it, you can have it — in any age.

Quiz Program Ignores Order

'Strike It Rich' Goes on Air, Refuses to Get New York License

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's drive against radio-TV giveaway programs that get money from the public was defied last night by "Strike It Rich," first of the shows to be criticized.

The program went on the air without changing its format or waiting for the license the Welfare Department said it should have.

Welfare Commissioner Henry L. McCarthy yesterday declared that "programs like this are a national disgrace" and "play into the hands of the Communists."

The program questions people who tell hard-luck stories. They win prizes by correctly answering the quiz, and then people phone in to offer cash, jobs, homes and other aid.

* * *

This puts it in the same category as a charity, the Welfare Department rules, and should be licensed.

* * *

McCarthy's ire was directed at "Strike It Rich" because, he said, at least 55 families, lured by the promise of "easy money," have chased the program's rainbow from all over the country right onto New York City's relief rolls.

The Welfare Department suggested that producer Walter Framer change the program's format.

Warren Hull, the "Stike It Rich" master of ceremonies, briefly told listeners last night about the "Heart Fund," the part of the program under fire.

"We have never asked for any contributions whatever," Hull declared and told how the fund is audited.

* * *

He insisted that it's all gravy for the recipients, none of the money going for overhead.

* * *

"Some people sort of criticize 'Strike It Rich,' " he said. "I don't get it—it's a funny world."

People who appear on the show also get money put up by the sponsor, the Colgate-Palmolive Co., if they answer questions correctly.

Sidney J. Dubroff, the show's public relations man, told a news conference, "We do not want to step on Mr. McCarthy's toes (but) we do not feel any laws were being violated.

"We have courts for the adjudication of such problems."

Vatican Officials Publish Pope's Denial of Stories

VATICAN CITY (INS) — High Vatican officials strongly refuted today reports that Pope Pius XII is critically ill following a prolonged attack of hiccoughs.

The Pope's personal physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi Lisi, joined in denying the reports and stressed that the 77-year-old Pontiff is "definitely not in danger."

Anxiety over the Pope's inability to take food during the past weekend also was allayed after he found it possible to take and hold liquid nourishment. He has spent several restful nights following the illness that began Jan. 24.

After the Pope read in an Italian newspaper that he was "suffering from cancer" and that "an unidentified British doctor" who attended the late King George VI had been summoned to Rome, he became preoccupied with the possible repercussions of such false reports.

The Pontiff ordered the Vatican secretariat to issue an emphatic denial of the story.

He personally checked the wording of the denial which appeared in the Osservatore Romano, the official Vatican organ.

Forged Bonds Fool St. Louis Bankers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis today disclosed that at least two St. Louis banks have accepted $270,000 in forged bonds as collateral for loans in recent weeks.

William E. Peterson, in charge of examiners at the Federal Reserve Bank here, said the forgeries were uncovered in a routine bank examination.

The name of those involved were not disclosed and there was no indication whether any arrests had been made.

Peterson said he understood the banks were insured and would not suffer loss from the loans.

The bonds, he said, were forgeries of legitimate securities of Kerr-McGee Industries, an Oklahoma oil firm headed by Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla).

Hollywood Couple Signs Property Settlement

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—French actress Corinne Calvert and John Bromfield have signed a property settlement and she filed suit for divorce yesterday, alleging extreme and habitual cruelty. She did not ask for alimony.

The couple, married five years, parted last year on a trial basis. Her press agents said then the splitup was "because we are getting to look alike." They were reconciled but separated again Jan. 28.

Detroit to Get Direct Flights to Europe

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit will be connected with Europe by a direct air route from Wayne County Airport April 30.

Pan American World Airways yesterday became the first scheduled airline to plan using the facilities of the Wayne airfield.

Wayne Airport is closer to Detroit than the field at Willow Run now being used by all scheduled airlines.

Pan American surveyed the two airfields for three weeks before deciding on Wayne. Willow Run was declared "too confused and congested."

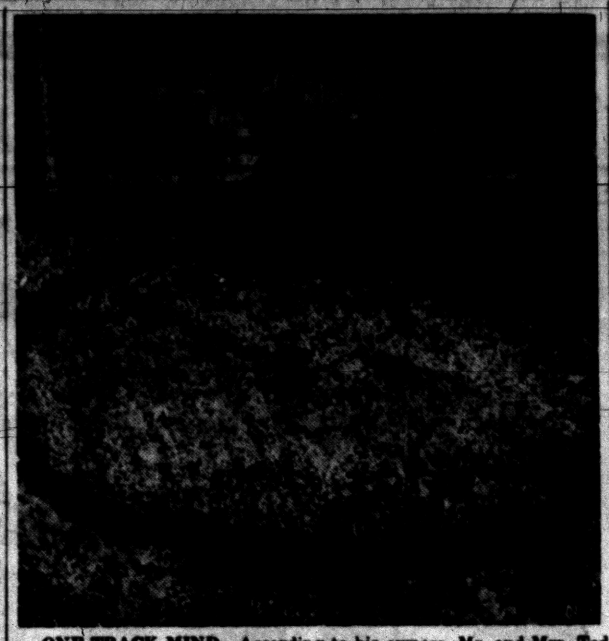

Pan American will inaugurate its direct flights to Europe with three flights weekly. They will take off Sunday, Tuesday and Friday at 5 p. m.

The Detroit-to-London flight will take 16 hours, with extension flights offered to Frankfurt, Hamburg, Copenhagen and Stockholm.

Planes will arrive from Europe at 8:15 a. m. on Mondays, and 4:20 a. m. on Sundays and Fridays.

Dope Peddler Sentenced

DETROIT (AP) — Pleading guilty to violating state narcotics laws, Burris Williams of Detroit today began a 5 to 10-year sentence in Southern Michigan Prison. Williams was arrested Dec. 9 when he sold 195 capsules of heroin to an informer, police said. Authorities said they confiscated $11,000 worth of heroin and marijuana from him.

ONE TRACK MIND—According to his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dealey of Dallas, Ch. Bachgen Glan of Harham, or "Monte" to his friends, is quite a thinker. And when he gets to thinking, the Welsh terrier walks in a circle. The more he thinks the faster he walks until finally he's thinking so furiously that he's going full steam ahead. Oddity is that he makes a track that forms a circle as perfect as a draftsman could draw, as seen above.

Insecticides Need Care During Household Use

WASHINGTON (UP)—Use household insecticides with care, the U. S. Department of Agriculture advises.

Entomologist L. S. Henderson cautions against exposing yourself to dust or spray mist from insecticides, or letting them get on dishes, silverware, or cooking utensils.

If you spill a concentrated insecticide on the skin, wash immediately with soap and water. When an insecticide container is emptied, dispose of it. Change your clothes if you spill insecticide on them — and wash the stained garments at once in hot soapsuds.

Cites Tucker Taxation Case

One of 20 Senator Says Are Proof of Inequity in Violation Punishment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The name of Preston T. Tucker, Ypsilanti, Mich., industrialist who went bankrupt in 1950 after trying to market a radically designed automobile, popped up on the Senate floor yesterday.

Tucker, founder of the defunct Tucker Corp., was among 20 tax cases cited by Sen. Williams (R-Del) as evidence that "as our (tax) laws now stand and as they are being enforced, there is no equality of justice between the punishments meted out to our larger and more flagrant violators as compared to that meted out to the fellow without any influence."

Williams told the Senate in a speech that "unquestionably in some of our courts' punishment for tax law violations has been swayed by influence peddlers.

He said that he conducted a study of the 20 cases "to determine the accuracy or inaccuracy of this suspicion."

The Senator said that the Tucker case involved federal tax claims and penalties amounting to $525,761 from 1945 through 1948. Williams said that when he last checked Sept. 1, 1953 the claims still had not been paid.

Williams quoted from an Oct. 30, 1953 Associated Press dispatch that John H. Chatz, trustee of the bankrupt automotive firm, said his attorney "still is negotiating for a reduction of the government's tax claim which already has been reduced from $2,302,701 to $245,948."

The Senator said that the total was "evidently" in addition to other claims. However, he said, he had no other details.

"In presenting these cases," Sen. Williams said, "I admit that they are among the more glaring examples. However, they are by far not the full list that could have been included . . ."

Boats Causing Traffic Jams, AAA Reports

WASHINGTON (UP)—Too many boats are crossing highways and disrupting traffic, the American Automobile Association said today.

The AAA said that draw bridges on inland waterways are being raised with increasing frequency to permit passage of small boats. This adds to highway delay.

Many of the boats, the AAA claims, are fishing or pleasure craft which could pass under lowered bridges except for outrigger poles, radio antenna or masts.

AAA President Ralph Thomas said his organization has asked boat builders to study the problem and provide boats with hinged or collapsible masts. Also the AAA wants future bridges built high enough to keep waterway and highway traffic interference at a minimum.

The title "Prince of Wales" is purely honorary, not hereditary.

Drunk-O-Meter Tender Is Crack Pistol Shot

DETROIT (INS) — Patrolman Bobby Taylor, who seldom encounters gunplay while at his post operating the drunk-o-meter test ranked today as the top pistol shot of the Detroit Police Department for 1953.

The 30-year-old officer with a score of 293 hits out of a possible 300, outpointed all other men in the department and was given the silver distinguished expert marksmanship medal by Commissioner Don Leonard.

Beef Continues Best Meat Buy

Sirloin, Pot Roast to Be Featured; Egg Prices Drop 2 to 4 Cents

By the Associated Press

"Overall, beef still looks like the best buy in meats," an official of a large food chain said this week. Data from stores in various parts of the country appear to support his statement.

Beef items such as sirloin steak, rib roast and pot roast will be weekend features at many stores, with reductions of up to six cents a pound. However, prices will not be cut everywhere; in some places ribs of beef will rise two to as much as six cents a pound.

Leg of lamb and shoulder lamb chops will be specials in some stores. In general, leg of lamb prices will be about the same as a week ago.

Pork chop price tags will be unchanged in most places, too.

Booming egg production is showing up at the retail level. Reductions of two to four cents a dozen will be fairly common this week. Increases in the flow of milk to market brought a reduction of a half-cent a quart in some areas.

Butter prices will be the same as a week ago in nearly all markets.

Produce men said wholesale prices declined on most vegetables this week. Outstanding buys, they said, are lettuce, potatoes, onions and cabbage.

Good buys include escarole, endive, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, broccoli and radishes. Among the few vegetables going higher are carrots and celery.

Good values in fruit are grapefruit, tangerines and apples. Oranges went up a bit in price on the wholesale markets while lemons moved lower.

Slow, Moist Heat Is Advised for Veal

In veal cookery, slow moist heat is the best for most cuts.

The use of sauces, imaginatively flavored, is a natural with veal steaks, cutlets and ragouts. With breast of veal, use well-seasoned stuffing.

Stuffed Breast of Veal

1 veal breast, about 3 pounds
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups bread, rice, or sausage stuffing
4 slices salt pork
1 cup water or beef bouillon

Wipe the meat with a damp paper towel. Trim out the large bones and sprinkle with salt.

Spread half with stuffing. Fold remaining veal over stuffing and fasten together with metal skewers.

Place the meat on a low rack in baking pan. Cover with slices of salt pork. Add water. Cover.

Bake in a moderate oven at 350 degrees for two hours. Uncover and bake 30 minutes. Thicken the broth in the pan for gravy to serve with the veal. Serves four.

Variations: Cook prepared small potatoes, onions and carrots around the veal during the last hour. Add 1 teaspoon curry powder or soy sauce to the gravy.

Use Kitchen Scissors

Put those kitchen scissors to work — cutting dates, raisins, marshmallows, or even parsley. Just be sure you rinse the blades occasionally in water when doing those sticky jobs.

Versatile Kitchen Devices Pamper Today's Cooks

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Goodness, we women are pampered creatures! The visit we paid to a demonstration of some modern electric appliances certainly shows that.

Remember how Grandma had to stoke the wood stove (maybe even carry in the wood) and regulate it with drafts and more or less kindling?

MRS. ODELL

She managed to cook three huge meals a day on the monster too. Plus doing all the canning and helping with the butchering. She never heard of frozen foods nor of half the items sold in cans today.

Today's cook can prepare a complete dinner without a stove to her name. Honestly! Give her a rotisserie, a roater, a deep-fat fryer and an electric blender, and she can turn out any dish in the cookbook.

The rotisserie will cook the roast inside and prepare vegetables or even coffee on the top. The roaster will cook meat or double as an oven (at one time when we were dependent on a two-burner kerosene stove and our roaster, we baked everything from cookies to a birthday cake in the roaster.)

The newest deep-fat fryers will French fry foods, bake beans, braise meat, pop corn, steam pudding or blanch food for freezing.

One clever trick shown by the demonstrator was using ready-to-bake biscuits for doughnuts. Cut each biscuit in fourths with the kitchen shears for bite-size doughnuts; or just cut a hole in the center for a regulation friedcake. Brown two minutes in the deep-fat fryer and dust with sugar.

The demonstration that held our interest the longest was the electric blender one. A tempting coconut chiffon pie occupied the place of honor on the demonstrator's table. It had been made with the blender, from the graham cracker crust to the whipping of the gelatin mixture.

Flanking it, ready for sampling were freshly made peanut butter, a sandwich spread, creamy mayonnaise and marshmallow-apricot jam.

As we watched, the demonstrator made up two beverages. For one she used a can of frozen fruit cocktail, unthawed. A little pineapple juice was added and the blender went to work. The resulting drink was delicious, combining the subtle taste of all the different fruits.

The second drink started out with grated carrots and pineapple juice. In quick succession, in went wedges of orange and lemon (leave the peel on for extra vitamins), a piece of banana (peel this), apple wedges (remove only the seeds, not the core), unpeeled cucumber, green pepper and a stalk of celery including the leaves.

Personally we liked the beverage when we tried it. Seems like a good way to use up all the odds and ends of vegetables and fruit in the refrigerator before the weekly cleaning.

It also seems like a good way to give raw fruits and vegetables to fussy eaters; or to make a tasty drink for someone on a liquid diet.

Glamor food is as easy for us today as a simple meal was a generation ago. If you have any of these wonderful new appliances, use them in all the ways suggested by the manufacturer. Only in that way will you get the full benefit from them.

To Drain Egg-Whites:

If your recipe calls for the white of an egg only, punch a small hole in each end of the egg and drain out the white. Then cover the holes with cellophane tape, and the yolk will keep in the refrigerator.

Sandwich Holds Liverwurst Roll

People have been enjoying sandwiches for over 150 years, ever since that fabled gentleman, the Earl of Sandwich called for slices of bread with beef between them, because he was too interested in a dice game to go out for lunch. He is credited with inventing a meal in one, named for him, the sandwich.

In the United States alone, it is estimated that over 30 million sandwiches are eaten daily. Sandwiches can be made in so many different ways that they fit every occasion.

One of the most versatile members of the sandwich family is the hot finger sandwich, made from protein bread, rich in body-building protein to help round out our healthful diets, and a hearty liverwurst and pickle spread.

Serve these finger sandwiches right out of the oven with a hot or cold beverage. Add a tray of your favorite cheeses and some fruit and you're sure to please every palate.

Hot Finger Sandwiches

¼ lb liverwurst mashed
2 tablespoons pickle relish
8 slices bread
4 tablespoons melted butter

Mix together liverwurst and pickle relish and roll mixture into eight sausage shapes. Cut the crusts from the bread. Place one liverwurst sausage diagonally across each slice of protein bread.

Bring opposite edges of bread together and secure with toothpicks. Brush canapes with melted butter and broil for five minutes or until protein bread is golden brown.

Serve hot. Makes eight sandwiches.

Removes Teapot Stains

Stains can be removed from china teapots by soaking them overnight in hot soda water, then rubbing them with a cloth moistened in vinegar and dipped in salt.

Tabasco Helpful in No-Salt Diets

Tobasco, which is a unique blend of peppers and high quality vinegar, contributes practically no sodium and can be safely used on salt-restricted diets.

Add ½ teaspoon of sugar and ¼ teaspoon of tabasco to vegetables as they cook. Sugar brings out the flavor, with the addition of tabasco the vegetables gain piquancy of taste.

If sugar is banned and you are using canned dietetic pack vegetables, tabasco can be used another way. Drain the liquid from the canned vegetables into a saucepan. Add ¼ teaspoon tabasco and boil liquid rapidly until reduced to one-half. Add vegetables and heat to serving temperature. Season with unsalted butter.

Here is a receipe where cooked vegetables are well-seasoned and served in attractive salad form.

Garden Mix Molded Vegetables

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
¾ cup hot water
¼ teaspoon salt
(or pinch of salt substitute)
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup mild vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoon minced onion
2½ cups diced cooked vegetables
(fresh, frozen, or canned)

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water, salt, Tabasco and sugar; stir until disolved. Stir in vinegar and lemon juice. Chill until mix is consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Stir in the onion and mixed vegetables. Pour into large or individual molds and chill until firm. Uumold and selve on salad greens with French dressing. Makes six servings.

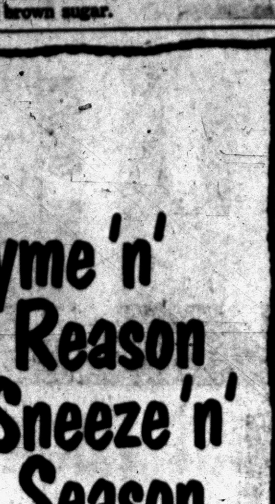

Make Cookie Cutter

You can use an empty soup can for a round cookie cutter by removing both ends with a can opener that leaves a smooth edge. If you are making sugar cookies, you can sprinkle the sugar into the can and onto the dough before pressing out.

Yam Pot Roast Full of Vitamins

Pot roast, an old-time favorite, becomes a company specialty prepared with yams. Rich in vitamins A, B-1, B-2 and C, vital minerals and carbohydrates, yams make nourishing meals.

Yam Pot Roast Dinner

4 pounds beef pot roast
Flour, salt, pepper
¼ cup melted fat
½ cup chopped onions
½ cup horseradish
6 medium sized yams, peeled*
8-10 small onions, peeled
4 stalks celery, chopped
1 10-ounce package frozen cut green beans
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
½ cup cold water
1½ tablespoons horseradish
Salt and pepper

Dredge roast in flour, salt and pepper. Brown in melted fat. Add chopped onions; cook five minutes. Add one-third cup horseradish and 2 cups water. Cover and cook three hours.

Add vegetables; cover. Cook 30 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables.

Combine flour and cold water; gradually add to stock and cook, stirring until thickened. Add 1½ tablespoons horseradish and salt and pepper to taste. Makes six servings.

Two No. 2 cans yams may be used, if desired. Drain and add five minutes before end of cooking period.

To mash cloves of peeled garlic, pieces of waxed paper and mashing them with thehandle of a knife. This will keep your hands free from garlic odor.

COCOA-MOCHA LOG—Here is a quaint "log" for a Lincoln's birthday party. In reality it is a jelly roll covered with a delicious frosting made with sweetened condensed milk. Serve it for your family next week in honor of Honest Abe.

Celebrate Abe's Birthday With Cocoa-Mocha Log

Since Abe Lincoln's day comes first in this month of celebrations let us consider this quaintly appropriate cake for the occasion. This is Cocoa-Mocha Log — a jelly roll with a creamy chocolate frosting that looks for all the world like the logs that Lincoln, the young rail-splitter, once took an axe to.

If you've never made a jelly roll, you are in for an intriguing time. You begin by making a sponge type cake and baking it in a 15x10 inch pan. After it has been baked for 13 minutes, quickly cut off the crisp edges and turn it out onto a cloth covered with powdered sugar.

Then you spread the surface with jelly. After that, roll the cake up carefully, wrap it in the cloth and place on a cake rack to cool.

Once cooled, your cake is ready to become a masterpiece. This is accomplished with a perfectly luscious cocoa-mocha frosting made with rich, creamy sweetened condensed milk.

This recipe is failure-proof when made with sweetened condensed milk so don't substitute any other kind of canned milk. And this is a quick frosting as well as an easy one that can be made without cooking.

Jelly Roll

¾ cup sifted flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
4 eggs beaten
¾ cup sifted sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup jelly (any flavor)

Sift flour once; measure. Combine baking powder, salt and eggs in bowl. Place over smaller bowl of hot water and beat with rotary egg beater, adding sugar gradually until mixture becomes thick and light-colored. Remove bowl from hot water.

Fold in flour and vanilla. Turn into 15x10-inch pan which has been greased, lined with paper to within one-half inch of edge, and again greased. Bake in hot oven (400) 13 minutes.

Quickly cut off crisp edges of cake. Turn out on cloth covered with powdered sugar; remove paper. Spread with jelly and roll. Wrap in cloth; place on cake rack to cool.

Cocoa-Mocha Frosting

½ cup sweetened condensed milk
1½ tablespoons strong black coffee
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ cups confectioners' sugar
2 teaspoons cocoa

Blend sweetened condensed milk, strong black coffee and vanilla. Add confectioners' sugar and cocoa, which have been sifted together. Bend thoroughly.

Spread on cold cake. Makes enough frosting to cover tops of two 9-inch layers, or top and sides of loaf cake, or about 18 cupcakes.

Many Spices Are OK in Salt-Restricted Diet

Pepper, paprika, herbs and spices are to be cultivated on the low-sodium diet. A recent study of the salt content of 41 spices showed that 39 were OK for salt-restricted diets. Dried parsley and celery flakes were the two ruled out.

Dieters who are on salt-restricted diets will find spices not only taste improvers, but calorie free.

Let It Jell Just Right

When preparing gelatin dishes, remember the gelatin mixture should be chilled to the consistency of an unbeaten egg white before the ingredients are added. Then the solids will remain evenly distributed.

Save Time or Save Cash on Meals---but Not Both

NEW YORK (INS) — The woman who wants to put her kitchen routine on a practical basis for '54 will have to decide first which is her most important saving — time or money?

Modern food processing and careful shopping can enable a homemaker to save either way — but not both ways.

By using ready-to-eat foods, baked goods, canned and frozen items, the homemaker can save herself time.

By using raw, separate ingredients and doing all the work herself, she can save money.

But you can't have it both ways — at least not at present price levels.

These shopping facts have been backed up by a limited study conducted by government specialists.

The government experts had housewives prepare two identical menus, one using ready-to-serve foods, and the other using separate ingredients sold with a minimum of commercial processing.

It took only one-fourth the time to prepare the menu using ready-to-serve foods.

But meals from the ready-to-serve class cost about one third more than those made when the cook used separate ingredients and did all the work herself.

Here's the breakdown on the test, using one day's food for four people as the menu basis:

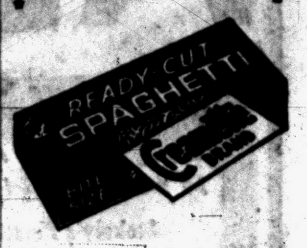

It took an hour-and-one-half's kitchen work to prepare the day's meals with ready-to-serve food; three hours work for the same meals with partially prepared foods, and more than five hours of work for meals prepared completely by the housewife.

The food for the day using supermarket prices, cost $5.70 for ready-to-serve items; $5.80 when partially prepared foods were bought, and $4.90 for separate ingredients that forced the housewife to do all the work.

The women who took part in this government experiment added a personal reaction — they felt the saving in time was large compared to the added cost for ready-to-eat foods.

The homemakers said they wanted to save money, of course, but that time was more valuable to them, especially if they had children. Any saving in money through extra work in the kitchen, they reported, didn't compensate for the loss of time that could have been used for family activities.

To keep hot breads from cooking at the table, keep them covered with a napkin.

Danish Sauce Tops Broccoli

If you have run out of ideas about what to serve for Friday night supper, try this vegetable-noodle dish. It can be made in a jiffy so it should be a happy choice for the career homemaker.

Noodles and Broccoli Supreme

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup all-purpose flour
2 cups milk
1¼ cups crumbled Danish blue cheese (about ¼ pound cheese)
1 10-ounce package frozen broccoli
Dash nutmeg
1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)

Melt butter or margarine and blend in flour; gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Add cheese and mix well. Reduce heat to keep mixture warm.

Cook broccoli according to package directions, adding dash nutmeg to cooking water.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Arrange cooked noodles on heated serving dish and top with cooked broccoli. Pour hot Danish blue cheese sauce over broccoli and noodles and serve immediately. Makes four-six servings.

Use Lemon Juice

Need just a little fresh lemon juice for something? Puncture the rind with a sharp fork or ice pick and gently squeeze out the desired amount of juice. Then tuck the lemon back into the refrigerator and it's ready for use again.

DUMPLINGS WITH KRAUT—National Kraut and Frankfurter Week is Feb. 4-13. Try this easy-to-prepare dish of caraway dumplings, frankfurters and sauerkraut at this time when stores are featuring these ingredients.

Caraway Dumplings Top Zesty Kraut and Wieners

Kraut and frankfurter fans will delight in this classic version of their favorite dish.

Light, tender dumplings, well-seasoned with caraway seeds, are a perfect choice for serving with plain-cooked kraut and frankfurters. A tray of relishes and a dish of mashed yams make up the rest of this flavorful meal.

Kraut and Frankfurters With Caraway Dumplings

1 No. 2½ can sauerkraut
10 small white onions, peeled
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons brown sugar
6 frankfurters
1½ cups sifted cake flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg, well beaten
¼ cup milk
¼ teaspoon caraway seeds

Combine sauerkraut, onions, butter or margarine and brown sugar; cook, covered, over medium heat until onions are tender. Add frankfurters and continue cooking until frankfurters are heated through, about 10 minutes.

Meanwhile sift flour, baking powder and salt; add egg, milk and caraway seeds. Mix until all ingredients are blended.

Drop by tablespoonfuls into kraut and frankfurter mixture; cover tightly and cook over medium heat five minutes. Place kraut in heated serving dish and top with dumplings and frankfurters. Makes four-six servings.

Don't Remove Broccoli Stems—They're Good

Wash 2 pounds fresh broccoli well. Trim off a bit of the ends of the stems, but do not remove the stems. The whole stalk is edible. If any of the stems are more than ½ inch in diameter, it is well to make lengthwise gashes through them (about 4 or 6) almost to the flowerets. The stalks will then cook as quickly as the flower buds.

Drop the prepared broccoli into a small amount of boiling salted water. Cover and cook quickly until just tender—10 to 15 minutes. Remove broccoli carefully from water to avoid breaking flower buds. Serve at once seasoned with salt, pepper and melted butter or margarine. Makes 5-6 servings.

Red Apple Rings Brighten Breakfast

Red apple rings make a colorful addition to the breakfast plate and they have a "just right" flavor on frosty mornings when appetites are heartier than usual. Serve them with sausage, bacon or ham and make plenty for second helpings. They're an excellent garnish for other meats at the noon or evening meal, too.

Grilled Apple Rings

2 Winesap apples
⅓ cup sugar
2 or 3 drops red food coloring
1 tablespoon water
Fat for frying

Add enough pork drippings or margarine to cover bottom of frying pan and place on medium heat. Wash apples and slice into ½ inch circles. Place cut side down in fat and fry for 2-3 minutes covered. Blend red food coloring evenly into sugar. Turn apple slices and place one heaping teaspoon colored sugar on each piece. Add water and cover. Cook for 3 to 4 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve hot with sausage or other meat. About 10 slices.

Glaze small whole cooked carrots in a mixture of honey and butter or margarine for a new way to serve this vegetable. Carrots prepared this way are delicious with meat, fish or poultry.

Corned Beef Skillet Really Special Dish

Here is a new idea for marvelous eating which you will delight in serving as much as your family will delight in eating. This corned beef main dish is fast as can be to put together and cooks while you set the table.

The corned beef and vegetable combination has "dream about" flavor. Plates will come back again and again because each food in this quick skillet meal seems to enhance the other to make a really special tasting, quick main dish.

Corned Beef Skillet Meal

1 12-ounce can corned beef
¾ cup uncooked rice
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 medium onion, sliced
1 green pepper, coarsely cut
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup water

In a large skillet, break the corned beef into pieces. Add the rice, tomatoes, onion, green pepper, salt, pepper and water. Place over a hight heat. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down. Cover and allow to cook slowly for 30 minutes or until the rice is tender. Serve from the skillet if desired. This recipe makes 8 servings.

Pencil Writes on Glass, Saves Label-Pasting

Tired of pasting labels on home-canned pickles and preserves? There's a new pencil that writes directly on the glass.

Another moisture-resistant pencil can be used to label tags in the garden. No matter how much it rains, the writing won't wash off.

Heart Cookies Say 'I Love You'

All out of new ideas for Valentines? Try the cookie kind. Cookie Valentines will be done in a twinkling if you make them with a package of basic cookie mix from the grocery store. It takes only two minutes to blend.

Great Big Heart Cookie Valentine

Follow directions on package of cookie mix for rolled cookies. Cut a cardboard pattern of a big heart. Place over rolled dough, and cut around heart with small, sharp knife.

Under "V" of heart, make two holes with knife, and insert toothpicks in holes to keep them open during baking. Transfer cookie to cookie sheet and bake. After baking, remove toothpicks.

Decorate around edge of heart with ruffling of pink frosting forced through paper cone or pastry tube. In same way, write romantic message with frosting in center of heart.

To finish the masterpiece, thread pink, white or blue ribbon through holes under "V" of heart, and tie a bow. Present this new kind of Valentine to the object of your affections.

Three-on-a-Ribbon Valentine

Follow directions on package of cookie mix for rolled cookies. Cut three small cookies with heart cutter, or cut around cardboard heart pattern. Place the three cookies on two narrow white ribbons, the ribbons running parallel a little space apart.

Roll the dough for these cookies a little thicker than usual to allow for pressing it well into the ribbons. Press the cookies into the ribbons. When the cookies have baked, they will be strung together on the ribbons.

With pink frosting, inscribe the words "I Love You," one word to a cookie, so that the cookies hang on the ribbons and spell a Valentine message.

Frozen Meat Wrappers Include Foil and Film

ATHENS, Ga. (INS) — Several satisfactory wrapping material for meats to be frozen are suggested by food experts at the University of Georgia.

They include metal "freezer foil," various plastic or synthetic films or bags and special heavily waxed paper made for the purpose.

The specialists directed:

"Press the wrapping close to the meat before sealing to drive out as much air as possible."

In Siberian lawsuits, natives took oath on the head of a bear, calling upon the animal to devour them if they lied.

Deviled Spuds Cut in Wedges

Now that potatoes are in such superabundant supply, you may want to try this recipe which we tried at home last week. It has really good flavor and is packed with food value.

Deviled Potato Pie

Shortening
1 small onion, chopped
1 small green pepper, chopped
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 cup cubed process cheese
6 large white potatoes, peeled and sliced thin
2 cans (3¼ ounces) deviled ham
Seasoning

Melt shortening in heavy skillet so generous layer covers bottom of pan.

Combine onion, green pepper, parsley, and cheese. Spread layer of thin-sliced raw potatoes in hot fat and sprinkle with vegetable-cheese combination, then dot all over with bits of deviled ham.

Continue to make layers in this way until all ingredients are used, seasoning as desired as you go along.

Press down firmly in pan and cook over moderate heat for about 10 minutes.

Cover skillet and continue cooking over low heat for an additional 25 minutes. To serve, turn out bottom-side up on hot plate and cut in pie-shaped wedges.

Makes six to eight servings.

DEVILED POTATO PIE—The season's plentiful potatoes take on new taste appeal when you serve them in a dish combining deviled ham and cheese. It's an easy top-of-the-stove main dish that should be a lifesaver on busy days.

Pointer on Baking

You'll have better and more uniform results in baking if you have ingredients at room temperature when you mix them. They'll blend more readily that way, too!

Baked Banana Dessert Suitable for Any Season

Smart cooks plan desserts according to the weather. That delicious tropical dessert, baked bananas, can match any weather. Just vary the flavors of the fixings baked with the bananas, and you'll capture the spirit of winter or spring.

Bananas are in season all year 'round, which may be nature's reminder that they're good all year 'round in all kinds of dishes.

For a spring dessert, serve baked bananas with a tangy lemon sauce. For a more wintry version, try baking bananas with such hearty flavored fixings as molasses, brown sugar, honey or syrup.

Bananas for cooking should have all yellow or slightly green-tipped peel. These are less ripe bananas that will stay firm during cooking, and develop a different, delicious, flavor you'll enjoy.

Baked Bananas for Dessert

4 firm bananas
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
Salt
Brown sugar, or molasses, or honey, or syrup, or lemon sauce

Peel bananas. Place into a well-greased baking dish. Brush well with butter or margarine and sprinkle lightly with salt.

Sprinkle lightly with brown sugar, or pour over one-half cup molasses, honey, syrup or lemon sauce just before baking, and bake at 375 15 to 18 minutes, or until bananas are tender, easily pierced with a fork. Serve hot. Four servings.

Important: When browning is desired, place the baked bananas under broiler heat for one to two minutes.

Lemon Sauce

½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¾ cup boiling water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice

Mix together sugar, cornstarch, salt and nutmeg. Add water gradually. Bring to boiling temperature and cook about five minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly.

Add butter or margarine, lemon rind and juice. Reheat to boiling temperature. Serve hot. Serve any extra lemon sauce with bananas at table. Makes about three-fourths cup sauce.

Pineapple Fritters

Add drained pineapple tidbits or chunks to basic fruit fritter batter and drop into hot fat. Cook until toasty brown and puffy. Sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Pasta Means Far More Than Spaghetti, Macaroni

What is a pasta? To some people it's just spaghetti, noodles or macaroni, made of flour and water, maybe an egg — a good dish to serve a crowd in a hurry. To the artist in the kitchen, the pasta means a good deal more—it's a joy to cook, a delight to eat.

The current issue of a household magazine says that pastas are not difficult to make yourself. And, of course, you will find a wide variety at supermarkets and Italian specialty shops — — noodles creamy or green, slender or broad, plain or twisted, wagon wheels, shells, tubes of many sizes.

The article points out that though the name is Italian, pastas are international. Besides the sundry spaghettis and macaronis of Italy, there are egg rolls and won-tons of China; preplach of the Jewish cuisine, noodles and strudels of Hungary; tortillas, tamales and empanadas of Hispanic peoples; blinis of the Slavs; filled crepes of the French, and slivered pancakes of the Japanese.

At the same time, pasta is an all-American favorite. Spaghetti and meatballs, according to a recent survey, ranks with steak, apple pie, ice cream, baked beans and chocolate cake among America's best-like foods.

You can find almost as many pastas in America as in Italy, where there are at least a hundred sizes and shapes known by perhaps a thousand regional names.

Why not try the well-known meatball and tomato sauce on other sizes and shapes for a change instead of on spaghetti? When you do yearn for tomato-sauced pasta, explore the possibilities in cans and frozen foods.

Be Sure to Sift It

Here's a tip for cake-makers. Flour tends to pack on standing, so always sift it once just before measuring. If you don't sift, you may put as much as an extra half-cup of flour in your cake and ruin it.

New Meringue-Type Oatmeal Macaroons

Here's a new recipe you'll like, we think. It's for dainty, meringue-type oatmeal cookies.

Scotch Macaroons

2 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon almond or vanilla extract
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
1 cup quick rolled oats, uncooked
½ cup chopped pecan meats

Add salt and flavoring to egg whites. Beat to stiff foam. Add sugars, a tablespoon at a time, and continue beating until mixture stands in peaks. Fold in rolled oats and nutmeats.

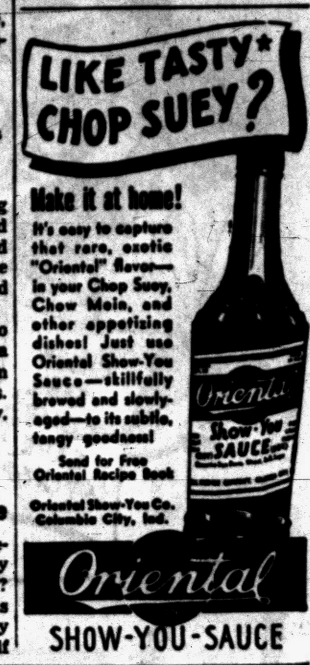

Drop from a teaspoon onto greased unglazed paper on a cookie sheet. Bake in a slow oven at 300 degrees 30 to 35 minutes. Remove from paper immediately. Makes 2 dozen.

Fix Crunchy Cereal to Go With Tomato Juice

Ever try fixing up crunchy cere-

Ever try fixing up crunchy cereal to serve with tomato juice?

Just melt a couple of tablespoons of butter or margarine in a heavy skillet and add one and one-half cups bit-size shredded rice biscuits. Stir over low heat for three to five minutes; sprinkle with salt and paprika. Serve warm or cold. Delicious!

"APPETEASER" TRAY—Nibble food is needed for the before-dinner lull or the late evening snack. Make up a variety of spreads and serve with crackers, toast rounds, fresh fingerfood vegetables, pretzels and potato chips.

Rice-Stuffed Meat Loaf Like Sandwich

Here's the kitchen-tested recipe for an unusual meat loaf. A fluffy rice filling is sandwiched between two well-seasoned ground beef layers.

Rice-Stuffed Meat Loaf

1½ pounds ground beef
¼ cup minced onion
½ cup day-old bread crumbs
2 eggs, slightly beaten
½ cup milk
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon sage
¼ teaspoon pepper

1½ cups cooked rice (½ cup uncooked)
1 egg, beaten
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup milk
¼ teaspoon thyme

Combine all ingredients for loaf and place half the mixture in a greased loaf pan. Combine ingredients for stuffing and spread on meat mixture; top with remaining loaf mixture. Bake at 325 for 1¼ hours.

Let stand 15 minutes before slicing. Serve with hot tomato sauce. 8 servings.

Taste-Testing of Foods Solves Flavor Problems

Time was when the captain of the company tasted the stew and declared whether it was good, indifferent, or bad enough to warrant court-martialing the cook. Oftentimes, with a battery of his favorite ingredients in hand, he "corrected" the flavor situation himself.

We do things differently today. A quick review of articles appearing in a food magazine during 1953 shows, for example, that the armed forces have relieved the captain of the company of his stew-testing activities and are scientifically studying what the soldier likes or dislikes these days.

The review also reveals that all over the United States taste-testing is being put to work to solve practical problems relating to the texture and flavor of foodstuffs. Many of these problems go far back—to the growing of the product itself. For example, what do spray materials and other types of insecticides do to product quality?

Well, out in western Oregon they grow filberts—groves of them. Insects, knowing a good thing, move in. Growers wage chemical warfare against them. To determine whether spraying or not spraying makes for better quality, taste tests were run on filberts from sprayed and unsprayed trees.

Judges rated the samples in terms of sweet-natural, slightly bitter, moderately bitter, very bitter, spoiled, and tasteless. Spraying, as opposed to not spraying, was shown to improve the nuts.

Not all sprays or insecticides do the trick. In Louisiana, where they raise lots of goobers, one spray material was shown by taste-test results to adversely affect peanut flavor. The faint wisp of the chemical was detectable even after processing.

In Maryland, they raise sweet potatoes. One spray material that was used to discourage insects succeeded in doing so—but left the eating quality of the product impaired. Other spray materials, however, had little or no effect on flavor, according to taste-test data.

Michigan cherry trees are a beautiful sight at blossom time and thousands of people enjoy the scene. Insects like the view and the menu, too, and take up residence to get the full benefit. The buzz of spray guns interrupts their trespassing activities.

It was shown by taste-test judgments that the spray materials used have no measurable effect on cherry quality—that cultural practices and weather conditions are far more important influences on flavor.

Another practical question that taste-testers answer is: What influence does soil and root stock have on product quality? Out in California they worry a lot about astringency in fruit products—that "puckery" effect caused by, among other things, tannins.

It was shown by taste-test methods that the amount of tannins in the soil does not appreciably correlate with astringency in the fruit. This finding necessitates looking elsewhere for the cause.

On the other hand, California taste tests seemed to indicate that bitterness in navel orange juice is a function of the root stock used to grow the fruit. As is generally known, navel orange trees do not grow from seed but are grown by grafts on various root stocks that have certain desirable adaptabilities to growing conditions. Root stocks differ in the amount of bitterness they contribute to navel orange fruit.

Taste-testers have probably evaluated, for one purpose or another, every product on the grocer's shelves. In the absence of objective chemical tests, the only instruments to detect flavor or texture changes in foods are human instruments.

If you find that smoked tongue is too salty for your taste, cover it with cold water and soak it overnight; cook by your usual method the next morning.

Baby Food Is Ideal Base for Quick 'Appeteasers'

Foods packed especially for the highchair trade have found new prominence in an entirely different light. For "clock-wise" homemakers those small cans of strained and chopped foods make a perfect base for dips and spreads for entertaining.

When they are quickly combined with seasonings, cheese, cream, a serve-yourself party tray can be made in minutes.

Creamy Beef Dip

Blend one can (3½ ounces) chopped beef with 1 cup (8 ounces) sour cream, one-fourth teaspoon salt and a few drops of Tabasco sauce; cover and chill. Makes about 1¼ cups.

Garlic Lamb Spread

Combine one can (3½ ounces) chopped lamb with 1 cup (8 ounces) cottage cheese, one-fourth teaspoon each salt and garlic salt, and one-half small onion, grated; cover and chill. Makes about 1¼ cups.

Chopped Liver Spread

Blend one can (3½ ounces) chopped liver with one package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened; stir in 3 tablespoons each mayonnaise and pickle relish and one-fourth teaspoon salt; cover and chill. Makes about 1½ cups.

Curried Egg Spread

Blend one can (3½ ounces) egg yolks with one package (8 ounces) cream cheese; add one-fourth cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, one-half cup chopped olives, 1 teaspoon curry powder, one-half teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; cover and chill. Makes about 2 cups.

Skaters Warmed by Mallow Mocha

When the crowd comes in from skating, how about a steaming bowl of spiced marshmallow mocha to warm them up?

Spiced Marshmallow Mocha

2 1-ounce squares unsweetened chocolate, grated
⅓ cup ground coffee
1 quart milk
2 3-inch sticks cinnamon
8 whole cloves
24 marshmallows

Combine grated chocolate, coffee, milk, cinnamon and cloves in a saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat; reduce heat and cook three minutes.

Strain; add marshmallows and cook over low heat until marshmallows are melted.

Tabasco Peps Cottage Cheese

Just as Tabasco adds its subtle zest to seafood, tomato juice and gravies, so does it perk up one of our favorite foods, cottage cheese. The addition of just a bit of this liquid pepper seasoning takes cottage cheese out of the bland class and makes it a real he-man food.

This cottage cheese spread is one of the quickest and easiest to prepare for buffets, and it goes well with potato chips, toast rounds or crackers. Mix a big bowl, and decorate the top with cut-out pimiento.

Let the rest of your menu be one which you can prepare well in advance, and which you know will ring a bell with your guests—such as tried and true baked bean and ham supper.

Tabasco, aged just like fine wine, enhances other food flavors. Here are recipes for the complete supper menu, enough to serve from 8 to 12 of your best friends.

Quick Cheese Spread

1 cup (8-ounce package) cottage cheese
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
Pimiento

Mix together cottage cheese and Tabasco; turn into serving dish. Garnish with pimientos. Serve as a spread with potato chips or crackers. Yield: One cup.

Heat Plates in Water

If you want to serve food on hot plates don't put the plates in the oven to heat. Dip the dishes in hot water instead since placing them in the oven can crack or discolor them.

Mid-Winter Needs Enriched Breads

It's February—time to check up on our early morning eating habits again. Time to make sure that everyone in the family is getting needed food value from the first meal of the day.

Wives and mothers who have the job of planning and serving breakfast 365 days a year know that it's no small task to keep up the interest of a sleepy-eyed family.

Maybe that is why the baker is relied on for breakfast breads. It saves much time and effort now that the baker can be depended on to put more taste appeal into breakfasts.

Tempting rolls and coffee cakes made with enriched flour play a big part in a healthful breakfast. These enriched breads supply added niocin, thiamine, riboflavin and food iron for better nutrition.

When you plan breakfasts, follow this simple pattern. Serve fruit or juice, preferably citrus or tomato; cereal, whole grain, enriched, or restored; milk; and bread and butter or margarine. Include an egg or breakfast meat as often as possible.

Only ROYAL INSTANT PUDDING is Super Homogenized FOR THAT "MELT-IN-YOUR-MOUTH" TEXTURE!

SPECIAL DIET PLATE—For an attractive "soft diet" meal serve strained meat, baby-food pack, in a fluffy ring of mashed potato. To tease the appetite, unmold a baked vegetable custard on the same plate. Dessert can be strained fruit folded into egg white or whipped cream.

If He's Sick and on a Diet, Why Not Baby-Food Him?

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Last week we talked about feeding the child who is sick in bed. But what about it when THAT MAN is ill? Even if he isn't flat on his back — and cross as a bear — there are times when he has to have a special diet.

We want to stress again the importance of following the doctor's orders if he has given specific instructions about food. But if he has just said to provide a "liquid" or a "soft" diet, you may welcome some suggestions.

A registered nurse with whom we talked gave us this list for a liquid diet: fruit and vegetable juices, broth, tea and bouillon. Milk is not included as it has a tendency to form large curds in the stomach.

Naturally, a soft diet gives more leeway. The foods to avoid are raw fruits, salads and red meat.

Those which may be included are fish, egg, cheese and chicken dishes; cereal; cooked fruits and vegetables; bread, toast and butter; and milk.

One of the easiest way of serving interesting varied meals to individuals on soft or bland diets is to make use of the canned baby foods.

The time consuming preparation is all done for you; the cans are small enough to be used up quickly; and these special packs are generally cheaper than preparing your own.

As shown in the accompanying picture, strained foods can be presented in a most appetizing manner. Meats and vegetables may be seasoned, if allowed, and served "as is" or quickly turned into custards or souffles, soups, spreads, creamed dishes or sauces.

Fruits lend themselves well to dessert whips, sauces, beverages, gelatin salads or frozen sherbets.

While children want food that is pleasantly warm, adults are often irritated if hot food isn't really hot. Lukewarm beverages are discouraging, for instance.

Even if you don't have a vacuum bottle to carry them in, you can keep liquids hot by scalding the cup first and then, after pouring the beverage at the last minute, covering it snugly with a saucer.

Small portions, carefully served on immaculate trays will tempt even the most fractious patient. Food that pleases the eye as well as the stomach is most important when one is ill.

Peaches, Berries Flavor Fruit Soup

Typical of its old world origin is this recipe for fruit soup. Currant-raspberry-flavored Danish dessert mix is the base for the soup. You add fruits and spice to suit your taste.

Hot fruit soup is quite different from our usual idea of soup—it's served plain or with whipped cream or croutons.

Spicey fruit soup can be served as a main luncheon dish. Cheese or meat sandwiches, or nut bread are good accompaniments.

Peach 'n' Blueberry Soup

1 package frozen peaches, thawed
1 package frozen blueberries, thawed
3 cups liquid (fruit juices and water)
1 package Danish dessert
1 cinnamon stick

Thaw fruit and drain well. Combine fruit juices. Add water to make 3 cups. Stir Danish dessert into liquid in saucepan. Add cinnamon stick. Bring to a boil; boil for one minute, stirring constantly. Add fruits and bring to a boil again. Remove cinnamon stick. Serve hot with croutons or whipped cream, if desired.

Treat Kiddies to Circus Party

Even pre-schoolers have their social obligations! You may find that your 3-to-5-year-old has attended an amazing number of parties lately — and now it's your turn to entertain.

Why not make it easy on the youngsters — and yourself — by having a lunchtime party beginning at 10:30, with a meal served at 11:30, and everybody home for their naps by 1. The children won't be confused and overfed, and you'll have the rest of the day to recuperate!

Here are suggestions for a menu for a circus party — you can adapt the food ideas to suit the particular holiday — or birthday — you're celebrating.

How about clown salad? Place a halved hard-cooked egg, yolk side down, on a thick slice of tomato. With tinted cream cheese in a pastry tube, make a clown's face of the egg; with white cream cheese, make a white ruff around his red collar.

On the same plate, serve finger-size peanut butter sandwiches and celery sticks. For dessert, have butterscotch pudding (pour it into paper baking cups to save clean-up) and a gorgeous easy-to-make circus cake.

Circus Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup vinegar
⅔ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup egg whites
1½ cups sugar
½ cup shortening

Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Combine vinegar, milk and flavoring. Beat egg whites and sugar together for one minute (125 strokes or medium speed of electric mixer).

Add flour mixture, shortening and half the liquid. Stir until flour is moistened. Beat vigorously one minute. Add remaining liquid. Beat one minute.

Turn into well-greased 8-inch layer pans, 1¼ inches deep. Bake at 350 (moderate oven) 30 to 35 minutes. Place layers side by side on platter. Frost with seven-minute frosting. (Use your favorite recipe or packaged mix.)

Outline two large circles in center of each cake. Sprinkle coconut (tinted green, pink or yellow if desired) inside these circles. Stand small plastic animals inside circles to represent animals in circus ring.

Cereals Extend Meat

Cereals are an inexpensive breakfast food. Use them, too, as an extender for meat. They add zest and extra-good flavor to hamburgers and meat loaves.

Kraut, Franks California-Style

Of course you don't need any excuse to eat kraut and frankfurters, but there are several timely reasons for serving these favorites during February.

One is that National Kraut Week is being celebrated Feb. 4 through 13. Another is that many new and tempting recipes, such as California kraut and frankfurter casserole, have been developed and tested especially to mark the event.

California Kraut and Frankfurter Casserole

1 No. 2½ can sauerkraut
1 cup chopped onions
1 No. 2 can tomatoes, drained
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons brown sugar
½ cup Burgundy or other red table wine
2½ cups buttered rye bread croutons
6 frankfurters

Combine all ingredients except frankfurters; mix well. Turn into greased 2-quart casserole. Arrange frankfurters on top.

Bake in moderate oven (350) 35 to 45 minutes. makes four to six servings.

Domestic Meat Rabbit Spotlighted Feb. 7 to 13

The domestic meat rabbit, and the growing throng of Americans who like him on the table fried to a crunchy crisp, will share the national spotlight during the week of Feb. 7 to 13, which has been designated National Rabbit Week.

A week for the rabbit to be king at dinner tables over the country was first set aside in 1941. Each year since then, National Rabbit Week has introduced the delicious white-meated rabbit to additional thousands of family tables and restaurants.

Domestic rabbits are all white meat, and only eight per cent of a dressed carcass is bone. It is regarded by many as a meat delicacy which is within the economical reach of any family grocery budget.

Dentists Favor Fruit-Eating to Scour Teeth

Did you know that by the time the average individual has reached 21, he has lost nearly five teeth from decay? And that 9 out of 10 youngsters are afflicted with tooth decay?

Parents interested in improving this poor record will want to know that dentists consider brushing teeth after meals one of the most helpful precautions against tooth decay.

A balanced diet and regular checkups at the dentist are also very important. Dentists regard fruits with favor not only for their fine nutrition but also for the "detergent" role fruits play between meals.

Fruits like apples and pears with their textures requiring thorough chewing act as scouring agents for the teeth, and are recommended as between meal snacks to help keep the teeth clean.

Most children love fruit, so it will be no problem to enlist this extra aid in your child's dental health.

Cabbie Dies of Injuries Incurred Aiding Motorist

DETROIT (INS)—Fred Kern, 64-year-old East Detroit cab driver, died in Detroit's Saratoga General Hospital yesterday of injuries suffered when he was hit by a car while he was aiding a fellow motorist.

Kern was getting out to help the troubled motorist Monday when a car driven by 25-year-old Virginia Addis of Detroit struck the open door of his taxi.

FANS LIKE THEIR SONGS—An unusual group of vocalists got together to help out at a Hollywood church benefit and the recording which came as a result is making people sit up and take notice. Called "Do Lord," the song features Beryl Davis, Jane Russell, Connie Haynes and Della Russell. The girls have no plans but some 6,000 fan letters may help change their minds.

Named vice-chairmen were William Hufstader, General Motors Corp. vice president; James Cope, Chrysler Corp. vice - president; Clair Taylor, Lansing, state superintendent of public instruction; Mrs. John Kistler, Grand Haven, president of the Michgian State Federation of Women's Clubs; Findlay Allan, secretary-treasurer of the Builders Trades Council (AFL); Norman Matthews, UAW-CIO regional co-director and John Santeiu, Dearborn.

Lew Ayres to Do Film on Religions

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When man understands, he no longer fears; when he no longer fears, he loves; when he loves, there is peace."

This is the principle that will guide Lew Ayres on a trip to film the story of religions around the world. He will abandon his acting career for the global tour, which he will finance himself.

* * *

I visited him in his home on the peak of the Hollywood hills, where he leads an almost monastic life. Long one of the town's most serious thinkers, he talked earnestly of his mission.

* * *

"I'm leaving Feb. 21 by air for Japan," he explained. "I'll fly all the way because it would take me two years by boat to visit all the places I want to see. An old friend, Bob Duncan, will go along and help me with the cameras and recording equipment. It would be too much for one man.

'I'll spend about two weeks in each place, perhaps longer if I find I need more time to get the material. I hope to get a variety of things. In some places, I'll record the ritual and liturgy of the major religion; in others, I'll do interviews with church leaders. I hope to present the major religions of the world without controversy. There will be no attempt to make odious comparison.

* * *

"That's why I want to do this job on my own. If I accepted support from organizations or even the State Department, I couldn't remain as impartial. I am a Christian, but a layman. I belong to no particular church."

* * *

How did he decide on the trip?

"You know how I have been interested for years in the brotherhood of man. There comes a time when you have to do something; man is not a mere vegetable. So I decided to make the move. I've had 25 good years in the movie business. The producers are not exactly breaking down my door with offers, although I still make a good living from pictures.

* * *

"I like acting. I always have. But I think it's time for me to do something positive to satisfy my great curiosity about life. I have looked into every religion. Now I would like to help other people to learn."

* * *

What will he do with his films?

"One thing is definite: I will take them on a lecture tour. I want to convey to people the personal contact I have had with these religions. I don't know how well it will go over, but I'm willing to talk in any place, from the biggest auditorium to a tent I might have to put up myself.

"Other things might come out of the films. There may be possibilities for presentation on a show like Omnibus or even a theatrical film like the March of Time. But that remains to be seen."

Fumes Kill Man, Wife

DETROIT (AP) — Carbon monoxide fumes which killed William Stecker Friday claimed the life of his 44-year-old wife, Helene, Wednesday. The couple were found unconscious on a bed in their suburban Warren Township home. Police blamed clogged filters in a gas furnace.

Motive Sought in Shooting Case

Birdshot Blast Weakens Theory That Gunman Intended to Kill

DETROIT (AP)—Investigators, disinclined to regard murder as the intent, looked for new clues and a motive today in the bird-shot gunfire at Herbert Koester.

Koester, 49, retired Detroit policeman and haulaway truck driver, was fired at through a window of his home in Northville early yesterday.

An unknown person fired a charge of bird shot through a French window. The shot missed Koester. Police said that if murder was the purpose the gunman more likely would have used buckshot.

An investigation was pushed, however, Oakland County authorities arranged to question Koester. Suburban Northville is on the Wayne-Oakland County line.

Koester's description of himself as a critic of the AFL Teamsters Union's James Hoffa and his expressed fear that his life was plotted against brought a scornful union reply.

Bert Brennan, teamster co-official with Hoffa, said Koester's story was "looney." He said he "never heard of this guy Koester." A check of union records later, however, Brennan said, showed Koester a member of Hoffa's Detroit Teamsters Local 299.

Brennan spoke for Hoffa who, he said, is in a hospital for minor surgery.

Koester said the shot was fired into his home after he had returned from a round of tavern visits about midnight.

State Police inquired among Koester's personal acquaintances in an effort to find clues.

Detective James Van Landegend of the State Police said Koester was found to have had "disagreements with a lot of people," including fellow Eagles Lodge members and others.

Between 1930 and 1940 the Pacific coast states showed an 18.8 percent population gain while west north central states increased in the same period only 1.7 per cent.

Last Minute Settlement Averts Bakery Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Some 1,500 Detroit area bakery truck drivers stayed at work today after a last-minute contract settlement averted a major bakery strike.

State and federal mediators and representatives of the Detroit Bakery Employers Labor Council and Local 51, AFL Teamsters, reached a settlement Wednesday night.

Exact terms of the agreement reached at the closed meeting were not known. However, the terms were reported to have met driver demands.

Butter Solution May Be Drastic

Agriculture Department Considers Three Plans to Reduce Prices

WASHINGTON (INS) — Administration leaders — suprred by that something be done about the price of butter — considered drastic steps today to move it out of government storage to American dinner tables.

The Agriculture Department has these plans under consideration:

1. A reduction of dairy price supports below the present 90 per cent of parity level — reducing payments to farmers but also decreasing by a few cents the ultimate retail cost.

2. A request for special legislation to provide direct government payments to producers to make up the difference between the free market price and the government support price.

3. As an alternative, to sell government-owned butter back to the dairy industry at a low price — possibly 40 cents a pound as contrasted with the 67 cents the government is now paying for it under the price support program. Producers would then blend the government butter with its own newly-churned butter and sell it at between 50 and 60 cents a pound. Current market price is 79 cents.

However, Howard H. Gordon, president of the Commodity Credit Corporation which is now buying butter at the rate of a million pounds a day, said the dairy industry is not enthusiastic about the alternative plan.

Road Blocks Set for Bank Bandit

State Police Searching for Amateur Gunman Who Got $500

DECATUR (AP) — State Police manned roadblocks all over southwestern Michigan today in an effort to intercept the lone bandit who staged a $500 robbery of the First State Bank of Decatur yesterday.

Hundreds of cars were stopped and searched at roadblocks last night but the one suspect picked up was released after Marcin McWilliams, 45, bank teller, said he was not the robber.

McWilliams said he was standing at his window at noon when a man, about 25 or 30 years old, walked up and at gunpoint forced him to turn over all the cash in his cage.

McWilliams said the man spoke softly and worked so quietly that two women clerks, working only a few feet from the teller's cage, failed to realize that the bank was being robbed.

The man ran from the building and escaped in a 1950 Ford.

Authorities believed the robbery may have been the work of an amateur. They based their theory on McWilliams' statement that the bandit seemed hesitant and uncertain.

McWilliams further described the bandit as 6 feet tall, dark, thin and bare-headed.

Decatur is about midway between Kalamazoo and Niles in Van Buren County.

House Inside a House Burns to the Ground

DETROIT (AP)—Mark Bourgeau, 5-year-old Detroit "home" owner, tearfully agreed he shouldn't have left lighted candles in his house.

It had been a beautiful house, two feet high with real windows in it.

Today it was a mass of blackened little timbers.

Mark's house burned to the "ground" yesterday in the basement of the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Bourgeau.

The parents' home was slightly damaged.

Church Sets Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. contributed $20,075,389 to benevolence causes in 1953—an all-time high.

Study '54 GOP Campaign Fund

Republicans See Need for Bigger Budget for Congressional Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans studied today an expanded 1954 campaign budget to help elect a Congress with a bigger proportion of members from the President's party.

The party's national Finance Committee was called into closed session amid talk the 1950 budget of $1,900,000 might have to be nearly doubled because of the prospect of increased use of television and radio. The year 1950 was the last when an exclusively congressional election was held.

The National Committee begins a two-day session tomorrow. The high spot will come tomorrow night when President Eisenhower speaks at the annual Lincoln Day box supper at a sports arena.

* * *

Women leaders and Young Republicans also are holding strategy sessions and each group is being received at the White House.

The Republican campaign plan calls for concentrating most money and speakers in eight of the 22 states where Democratic senatorial incumbents face re-election and in the 85 districts where Democrats or Republicans won by 5 per cent or less in 1952. Republican senators facing stiff fights also will be given more than usual assistance.

The Republican strategists say their best chances of turning out Senate Democrats will be in Minnesota (Humphrey), Montana (Murray), Iowa (Gillette), Illinois (Douglas), Wyoming (Hunt), Ohio (Burke), New Mexico (Anderson), and Delaware (Frear).

Loveland Ready for Postmarking Valentine's Mail

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP)—Postmaster E. M. Ivers and his assistants in this "sweetheart town" of the nation are bracing for the great rush of mail which hits here each year about this time.

The practice of sending Valentines to the Loveland post office for remailing started in 1947 and has become an annual practice for sweethearts throughout the world.

Last year about 60,000 Valentines were received from all 48 states and seven foreign countries.

A special crimson ink cachet is applied to remailed Valentines. The cachet is altered each year.

Laundryman Brands Bandit With Hot Iron

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two bandits invaded a Chinese laundry last night. Proprietor Song Lee, 37, effectively resisted the intruders and gave police a clue which speedily led to an arrest.

Officers picked up Henry Leong, 19, dazedly running through a vacant lot six blocks away, carrying in his hand a .32 pistol. On his forehead was the unmistakable brand of the hot flat iron Song was using when interrupted.

Simple Cautions Add Gas Milage

Adjusting City Driving to Normal Traffic Flow Cuts Consumption

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Automobile drivers who adjust their city driving to traffic flow and the timing of traffic signals can cut fuel consumption of their cars nearly in half.

A fuel-saving of about 25 per cent also can be achieved by lowering country speeds by 20 miles an hour.

Although the efficiency of engines and fuels has been increased greatly in the past 25 years, the economical operation of a motor car still depends upon the driver.

Here is a list of tips on economical driving:

1. A light foot on the throttle can save up to half your gasoline when starting and shifting gears.

2. Go easy on the accelerator when the engine is cold.

3. Fill the gas tank often; air in the tank mixes with the fuel and leaves moisture which may cause corrosion inside the motor.

4. Never overload the engine. Shift into lower gears as necessary, avoid surging the throttle, let the motor act as a brake in stops.

5. Criss-cross tires on wheels and spare rim every 5,000 miles. Keep tire pressure at the exact prescribed level.

6. Use the right weight of oil. Incorrect weight can cost as much as 7/10ths of a mile per gallon.

7. Keep the air filter clean, change exhaust lines and muffler every 30,000 miles.

8. Make sure all battery connections are tight and corrosion free.

9. Have complete car check-up twice yearly.

Detroit's Fort Wayne Gets New Commandant

DETROIT (INS)—The Michigan Military District today announced that Col. Edward J. Drinkert, district commander and commandant at Fort Wayne in Detroit, has been reassigned for overseas duty.

Replacing him will be Col. Normal L. Thompson, who has been in charge of civil assistance teams for economic and medical aid in Korea.

Some Folks a Bit Tardy Registering Their Births

ERVING, Mass. (AP)—Listed for the first time in the town clerk's annual report yesterday were the following births:

George J. Durand, June 2, 1882; Jennie Castine, Dec. 18, 1882; Durward D. Leeper, Oct. 3, 1889; and Timothy Sullivan, Nov. 25, 1914.

Town Clerk Florence Rankin said Sullivan's was a correction. The others, she said, apparently just never got around to recording their births.

Red Far East Air Force Twice the Size of U.S.

Editor's Note: In this second of three exclusive interviews, Gen. O. P. Weyland, U.S. air chief in Korea, assesses Communist strength and how American planes and fliers beat in down.

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO (AP)—The combined Communist air force in the Far East—Russian, Chinese and North Korean—totals over 6,500 warplanes, more than twice the size of the Far East Air Forces of the United States, says Gen. O. P. Weyland.

FEAF's head man, in an interview, put Chinese and North Korean strength at 2,000 combat planes, and said the Russians have at least 4,500 more based near Vladivostok, on Sakhalin and in the Kurile Islands.

"A preponderant number of these Soviet planes are fighters," Weyland went on, "but recently the Russians have converted many of their light bomber units to jets with the capability of reaching anywhere in Japan.

* * *

"They have enough of these bombers to constitute a good wallop, especially if they are carrying the atomic weapon.

"The Russians have converted about 85 per cent of their fighters to jets. These are fighter interceptors, primarily to guard their bases from attack.

"Likewise they have improved their bombers. They are replacing their old medium bomber, the Tu2, with an IL28, which is something like our B45. It is a fast jet with the capability of reaching anywhere in Japan or Korea.

* * *

"The Communist air force has not increased in numbers in the last year or two so much as it has improved its planes."

He said the airfields around Vladivostok make up "the largest complex of bases in the world."

In addition to the jet bombers, he said, the Russians have "an impressive number" of TU4s, which were copied from one of three of our B29s which made forced landings on Russian soil during World War II and were never returned.

"That amount of aircraft constitutes a definite threat in the Far East," he said, "but all we can do is sit and wait and watch."

* * *

He says there is no doubt in his mind but that the Communists have brought jets into their Korean air bases, contrary to the armistice.

"Of course they have brought jets into Korea," he declared emphatically. "But even if they hadn't, they were given the right to build up their bases anyway, and they could get planes on those bases from Manchuria in an hour at any time."

* * *

One question often heard during the Korean War was: Why not bring out the B36s and jet B47 bombers? Says Weyland:

"The answer is the B29 was plenty of airplane for Korea, so long as our range was limited to the Yalu River on the Manchurian border. The B36 has great range, but it wasn't needed since our B29s reached all North Korean targets from Okinawa and Japan with lots of fuel left.

* * *

"The B47 is primarily an atom bomb carrier, and so fast that it can outrun some types of jet fighters—those of the enemy and our own. But like the B36 it wasn't needed. The object was to make the enemy pay a price he couldn't afford. By constantly knocking out North Korean airfields, railway centers, industrial plants, supplies and troop concentrations, the B29 hit the Communists where it hurt with deadly accuracy, day, night or in bad weather, destroying millions of dollars in equipment that never reached the front. These B29s are slow in the jet age, but did a superior job because FEAF maintained air superiority all the way through the Korean War.

"But," Gen. Weyland continued, "if the Communists should start the war again the B36s and all-jet B47s might be needed. If they ever are, we could put them to work as soon as they arrived."

Horses Walk Trails Wearing Snowshoes

VANCOUVER (AP)—Some horses have been taught to use snowshoes on northern British Columbia winter trails and Morley Shier has produced snapshots of horses so equipped to convince doubters.

Shier said he first saw a horse on snowshoes in 1919 when he was hiking from Stewart, B. C., to Premier Mine.

Later he saw several pack trains of horses with snowshoes and was given one of the shoes by J. (Bill) Crawford, Stewart merchant.

Shier said at one time round boards were used. Now horse snowshoes are a circle of ¾ inch pipe, 12 inches in diameter, with chains to the centre and clips for the toe and side.

At first a horse is troubled, but soon learns the trick of putting one shoe over the other in walking on snow. When a shoe gets loose, the horse will stop, look back and wait for an adjustment.

Egg Smuggler Gets Stiff Jail Sentence

BERLIN (INS) — A 21-year-old East Berliner bought some expensive eggs recently.

Harry Danzmann bought 720 eggs from a truck-driver who worked for a Communist state-owned store.

Harry and his girl, Anneliese Klug, didn't know that the eggs had been stolen, however. So the two peddled a few eggs daily to West Berliners.

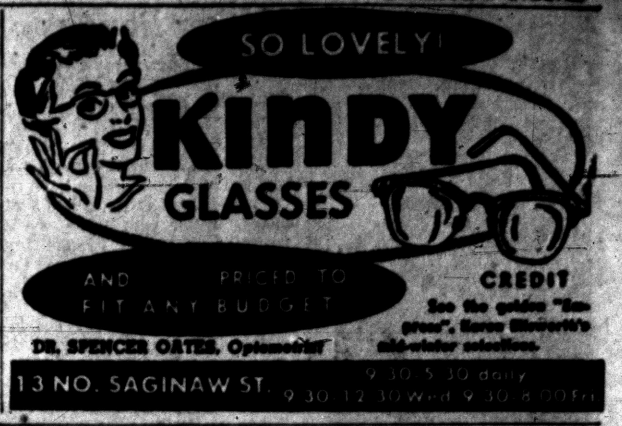

But a West Berlin court decided this was a clear cut case of smuggling East Berlin products into West Berlin.

For his initiative and free enterprise, Harry got one day in prison for each egg—720 in all.

New York Gets Coffee . . . and at Only 61 Cents

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—While the controversy bubbles over the high price of coffee, New York state has stepped out to market and bought some for 61 cents a pound.

It's top-grade coffee, you understand. The only hitch is that to get it at that price you have to buy 520,000 pounds in the bean. It's for use at state institutions.

Priest Finishes Study of Navajos

Franciscan Will Publish Book on Indian Rites After 54 Years

By STEVE LOWELL

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — A frail, white-haired Franciscan priest has completed the first study of the ceremony on which the Navajos base their lives.

The Rev. Berard Haile, OFM, who has lived with the tribesmen 54 years, has finished the story of what the Navajos call "blessing way."

Ready for publication, it's printed in Navajo accompanied by the English translation.

* * *

Father Berard, of St. Michael's, Ariz., started studying the language "the morning I got there," in 1900. After years of preparation, he worked out an alphabet. Then he was ready for this advanced work.

You might compare the ceremony to biblical legends on which Christians base all their varied interpretations.

This prehistoric ceremony explains why, if a Navajo holds to his religion, he always will have a traditional dome-shaped Navajo home, "the hogan, regardless of how wealthy he may become.

* * *

For in blessing way are found the strict delineations not only of the homes of "the people," as the Navajos call themselves, but of their entire life.

In general, it's a prayer for a blessing on the Navajos and their property.

It was a tremendous task for the little priest who always says "we" when he speaks of the Navajos. Although they affectionately call him "The Little One Who Drags the Garment"—his cloak—he encountered great difficulty in digging out details.

* * *

"I had to ask specific questions about every part," he said, "for the Navajos think they lose something when they impart their knowledge. It's their breath—their life. They won't offer any more than what is specifically asked and paid for."

Chicago University supplied his "field costs."

Detroit Figures Say 254 Die in Home Accidents

DETROIT (INS) — Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Detroit's commissioner of health, disclosed today that 254 persons were killed in home accidents in the city last year.

The figures is two above the toll in 1952.

Dr. Molner said home accidents now rank sixth among the ten leading causes of death in the nation, compared with a ninth-place standing 10 years ago.

Hubbard Case to Resume

DETROIT (AP) — The ouster hearing of Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of Dearborn is scheduled to resume Monday morning before Probate Judge Wallace W. Waalkes Jr. of Grand Rapids. The hearing, which has been going on for four weeks, was temporarily adjourned Tuesday when the mother of Assistant Attorney General Irving J. Beattie became ill.

After the Revolutionary War, the first nation to recognize the new United States was Holland which provided a three million guilder loan.

Mother Repays Store Because of Son's Generosity

CLEVELAND (AP)—"I'm writing this letter with great apology and hop you will understand."

An unsigned letter with $15 attached began with those words. Received yesterday by the Seymour Warehouse Furniture Co., the letter continued:

"My son came home with a birthday gift for me. I couldn't understand where he got the money to buy such an expensive gift for me.

"He is a good boy and has never lied to me yet. So after questioning him, he told me he got an (electtric) iron at your store and didn't pay for it.

"We are a very religious family, so therefore I want to send you the money that will cover the cost. I'm very sorry this happened."

Alan R. Joseph, treasurer of the firm, said if he knew where the mother could be reached, "We'd love to send her a real birthday gift."

Stewardesses Stay Unmarried Longer

CHICAGO (UP) — Airline stewardesses don't shun marriage but they are staying single longer.

According to United Air Lines, the average sky girl during the World War II years spent 18 months on the job before being "grounded" by matrimony.

Now, the average length of service before marriage is 29 months, the airline said.

Sixty per cent of the girls are blondes, 36 per cent are brunettes and four per cent are redheads.

Conscience Stricken

MANCHESTER, Conn. (UP)—A conscience-stricken youth paid a startled supermarket owner $4 for two baskets of apples he said he stole two years ago. Frank Obremski, who has had other thefts recently, said, "Maybe this will bring on a rash of stricken consciences—I hope so."

Parliamentary Trick Kills New Constitution Chances

LANSING (AP)—Passage of a deadline today had killed parallel measures in the House and Senate to call a convention to revise Michigan's Constitution.

The bills died under a rule which requires bills to be reported from committees within 10 days of their introduction.

"No one showed the slightest bit of interest," explained Sen. Harry F. Kittle (R-East Lansing), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The same deadline killed a bill to remove political party emblems from the election ballots.

In the House Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit), minority leader, tangled with the Republicans on extending a committee to investigate the need for increased unemployment compensation benefits. The majority pushed the investigation through despite him.

"We have had all the studies we need," he said, "what we need now is action."

He said that President Eisenhower's recent statement calling on the states to increase benefits was evidence that there was no doubt increases were needed.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill raising some Circuit Court stenographer salaries. In the First (Hillsdale) District the wage was boosted from $3,750 to $5,000, in the Fourth (Jackson) District from $4,800 to $5,400, in the Sixth (Oakland) from $3,600 to $5,400, in the 31st (Port Huron) District two stenographers will get $4,700 instead of one getting $8,500 and hiring a helper at his own expense. The salary for the new 41st District in the Upper Peninsula was set at $4,000.

Paperhanger Starts Showing Sign of Age

ALDEN, N. Y. (UP) — Working on ladders and scaffolds hardly is the job recommended for women in their sixties. But to Mrs. Earl Nehrboss, a paperhanger for 25 years, it's a profitable living.

Mrs. Nehrboss scoffs at those who say paperhanging is not a woman's work.

"Papering a wall is much like making a dress," she said. "You have to cut, fit, match up your pattern and do a neat job."

Mrs. Nehrboss learned paperhanging many years ago by watching her father-in-law at work. One day he left the house and she took over.

"You do well enough to finish the job without help from me," he told her. After some pointers on joining and keeping wrinkles out of corners, she was on her own.

For years she papered friends' and relatives' homes free. When her husband was injured, she began accepting payment and built up a large clientele. She has a daughter and two sons, all of whom she sent to college.

The apple probably was a native of central Asia, introduced into America about 1629.

'Brilliant Future'

Brennan's Age Doesn't Bother ND Authorities

By JERRY LISKA

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—At 25, will Terry Brennan be too young to handle the helm of a Notre Dame football team which perenially plays one of the most rugged schedules in the land?

Irish authorities and players think the question of Brennan's youth is irrelevant, immaterial and inconsequential. So does Brennan, who can talk that way because he holds a law degree.

Brennan, last Monday named successor to 65-year-old Frank Leahy, has tremendous confidence in himself. The young man from Milwaukee says it wasn't experience, but a knowledge of the way kids tick that gave him a high school record unmatched in Chicago prep history.

As for the difference in handling players in their teens and those in their early 20's, Brennan says he accepted the Notre Dame assignment because he has a "good understanding of athletes and their problems."

Like Leahy, young Brennan is a stickler for fundamentals and conditioning. Furthermore, he knows exactly what help to expect from Irish sophomores, because last fall he directed the freshmen.

Johnny Lattner and Neil Worden, the last two great backs coached by Leahy, typified campus reaction.

"Don't worry about the fellows not playing for him," said Lattner. "I'd give up a year of professional ball myself to play a year for Terry." Worden simply said he thought Terry would be "a terrific coach."

Tomorrow: Brennan vs. Leahy and Rockne.

Pontiac High's basketball Chiefs will seek to repeat an early-season victory over Flint Central here Friday in the night's only Saginaw Valley Conference game.

Three other Valley teams are in action Friday against non-conference opposition. Bay City Central goes to Midland, while Flint Northern entertains Wayne and Saginaw plays host to Ann Arbor.

Coach Art Van Ryzin's crew beat Central, 56-54, in December but the Indians have since won four of six contests. Central is in 3rd place in SVC standings with a 2-3 record, while Pontiac is tied with Arthur Hill one notch back with a 2-4 mark.

Van Ryzin plans to start Dave Ballard and John James at forwards, Dick Blacklaw or Marv Caswell at center and Walt Poe and Bob Johnston at guards. Sophomore Bob Casteel, moved up to the varsity for last week's game with Northern, will alternate with Poe and Johnston at a backcourt slot.

Walt King, another speedy sophomore, also has been promoted to the varsity squad this week. King started the season as a varsity player, but was moved to the jayvee squad for seasoning.

Chiefs will find that Central's 1st five includes only one man that started against them in the earlier contest. Forward Larry Catlin, center Joe Quarles and guards Bill Lyon and John Fleser all have earned starting berths since that opening game. Chuck Crickmore has kept his 1st-string forward slot.

Lyon and Fleser have been recuperating from influenza attacks, but are expected to be ready for full-time action Friday, according to Coach Joe Dowdy. Quarles and Catlin, a pair of 6-foot-2 performers, have been pacing the Indian attack. Both men averaging better than 13 points per game.

Friday's varsity game will be preceded by a jayvee tilt at 6:30 p. m.

GM, Lumbermen Take Victories; Phalanx, Elks Win in 'D' Circuit

Superiority of the City Basketball League's "A" circuit over the "B" division was demonstrated Wednesday night when senior loop teams swept a 3-game exhibition card.

Former Oxford High and Michigan State College athlete Don Quayle collected 20 points to lead General Motors to a 55-34 triumph over Stadium Inn.

Poole Lumber overcame a 20-20 halftime deficit to win the 2nd contest, 50-40 over Boys' Club. Dore led the Lumbermen with 12 points while teammates Hodges and Oliver and Boys' Clubber Jim Honchell had 10 apiece.

Once-beaten Phalanx routed the winless Lakesiders, 94-21 in Class D play. Homer Harrison and Bob Brennan each piled up 23 points to lead the victors. Another "D" tilt saw Elks Lodge No. 723 bounce the Panthers 48-29.

Writer Lauds Spirit of Wheel Chair Cagers

Paraplegics Do Well on Court Despite Their Handicap

By JOHN BARRINGTON

NEW YORK (INS)—Best basketball being played in New York, or anywhere else, quite possibly is not that of the professionals or colleges.

It is, believe it or not, wheel chair basketball. Right now, the Flying Wheels of Long Beach, Calif., are in the midst of their annual nationwide tour, which has or will take them to such places as Kansas City, Urbana, Ill., New York, Washington, Richmond, Va., Memphis and Tulsa.

These are paraplegics — World War II or Korean veterans paralyzed from waist down by enemy bullets, polio or tragic accidents.

You go to one of their games, and for perhaps five minutes you are acutely aware that these athletes are playing their game on wheels, capable of normal activity only from the waist up.

Touring Californians lost last night to an outfit called the Jersey Wheelers, 47-36, but somehow it wasn't important. The important thing was that you yelled yourself hoarse, 1st for the Wheelers and then for the invading Flyers.

Full Game Card Set for Today in Junior Loop

All Suburban Junior High League basketball teams are in action this afternoon, as the circuit opens the 2nd round of play in the 1953-54 season.

Eastern's Indians, undefeated in four starts, open the 2nd half of their schedule at Lincoln while Jefferson travels to Waterford.

Washington, knocked from the unbeaten ranks by Eastern last week, is idle in SJHS play but sends its junior varsity to Wever.

All games were set for 4 p. m.

Nation Interested in All That Happens to Mantle

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—A baby-faced baseball player just past voting age had a cyst no bigger than a quarter cut off the underside of his right knee out at Springfield, Mo., yesterday, and full details of the surgery were sped on the news wires to every corner of the country.

• • •

The young man being sliced was, of course, Mickey Mantle, the "pheenom" who plays center field for the champion New York Yankees. The fact that it was only a minor operation on a young man who still has to prove himself a great ballplayer didn't matter. Anything that happens to the wonder boy from Oklahoma is of prime interest to every baseball fan in the land, as we have discovered by listening.

Ever since the kid came up three years ago, completely unheralded, to step into the starting lineup of the world champions, it has been so.

• • •

The explanation lies, we believe, in the common feeling that there is something tragic about Mickey. There has been an almost morbid interest in his star-struck career ever since it became known that he was a victim of osteomyelitis.

For two seasons he has played with the handicap of a tightly taped, sometimes painful knee that often kept him out of the lineup.

All the Yankees can do about Mantle is cross their fingers and hope. He could mean the difference between a sixth straight World Series melon and maybe second place to the Boston Red Sox. He knocked across 92 runs in his 136 games last year, second only to Yogi Berra on the club. If he wasn't great he was at least mighty comforting to have around.

Shamrocks Seek to Even Record Against St. Mary

Northsiders to Oppose RO Five Tonight on Home Floor

St. Michael's Shamrocks, beaten in four of their last five starts, will seek to even their season's record at 5-5 tonight, when Royal Oak St. Mary comes here for a Suburban Catholic League game.

Pontiac parochials edged St. Mary 28-23 in their 1st meeting early last month. Royal Oak has an over-all record of three victories and seven losses.

Tonight's game was moved up from Friday to avoid conflict with a social function at St. Michael's Church.

SCL contests on tap Friday night send St. Frederick to Orchard Lake St. Mary and undefeated St. Benedict to St. Rita.

Mark-Ye-Well Beats Santa Anita Record

ARCADIA, Calif. (UP) — Santa Anita declined today to seek certification of a world or American record for Calumet Farm's Mark-Ye-Well's fastest time for a mile and one-quarter on the turf because of a downhill start of the course.

Mark-Ye-Well, in his 1st appearance on a grass course, shattered the world's best time to take the $25,000 San Marcos Handicap Wednesday in 2:00 1-5 over the grass.

Despite the track's decision, Daily Racing Form's chart for the race termed it a world's record.

Fine Boxing Nucleus

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Julie Menendez, San Jose State's new boxing coach, has a fine nucleus going for him this season. Three members from the 1953 team that lost only one meet are back. They are Allan White, Joe Rodriguez and Dick Bender, all juniors. White a 139-pounder, won seven of 11 decisions last year.

Outlook Is Brighter

Hutch Cites Inconsistent Pitching, Poor Catching as Biggest '53 Faults

By FRED HUTCHINSON

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit club improved two notches in 1953, advancing from last to 6th place. It was gratifying in some respects but it was far from being a satisfactory team effort. We still were a 2nd division club.

Our biggest weakness last year was the inconsistency of the pitching staff plus the poor showing of our catching department.

Our pitchers hurled only two shutouts all year and our catchers committed 20 passed balls. Certainly our infield was nothing to brag about but is wasn't that bad.

Tigers, for 1954, will be improved. For one thing, young Herbert and Al Aber should be a little more sound. Then too, Ned Garver has fully recovered from a knee operation.

Harvey Kuenn, who enjoyed a successful first season at shortstop, could be even better next year.

Ray Boone, at third base, is another who should have a fine season. Boone played great ball for us last year after we obtained him from Cleveland.

Outfield should be more stable. Last year we couldn't decide on our regular outfield until the season got well under way. Now they will know where they will play. Right now I'd have to put Jim Delsing in center, Bob Nieman in left and Steve Souchock in right.

We have three or four rookies coming up very well recommended. Our scouting reports on Paul Foytack, a righthanded pitcher, is very comforting. He won 12 games and lost 10 at Buffalo.

Another rookie pitcher is Frank Lary, also from Buffalo. They tell me this 2nd baseman, Harry Bright, whom we drafted from Memphis, is a good prospect.

We drafted Charles Kress, a 1st baseman, who looked very good at Rochester last year, also Frank House, a young catcher, is back from the Army.

Club on the whole should be better. I'm not going to predict where we'll finish but it looks like the strong teams of 1953 will be just as tough again. Yankees are still the team to beat. Boston will give them the most trouble.

Ramblers' 'Rosy' Specializes in Stopping Stars

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP) —Dick Rosenthal, lanky center on Notre Dame's basketball team, may not get more than honorable mention for All-America this year, but coach Johnny Jordan wouldn't trade him even for any other player.

Look what he's done against the 'big men.' When he was a sophomore Don Schlundt outscored him, 17 to 2, but this year, Rosy held Schlundt to nine points. And he got 22 himself.

"When we played Kentucky he outscored (Cliff) Hagan, 25 to 17. And against Penn, he outscored Ernie Beck, 18 to 12.

"Then Togo Palazzi at Holy Cross was averaging something like 25 points a game until he played Rosenthal. He got nine points and Rosy got 22, and Palazzi had six points when Rosenthal left the game."

Notre Dame has won 11 of 13 games, losing only to defending national champion Indiana and Bradley, both on the road. Irish ranked ninth in the nation and seemed certain to get an at-large tournament berth in the Midwest eliminations.

Archery League Holds Contests

More than 60 men and women participated in the Waterford Recreation archery league Tuesday night in the township's Community Activities building.

The league's two leading teams, No. 5 (Duane Cross, John King, Claude Dauphinias and Bob Parent) and No. 11 (Allen Orr, Bill Garland, Francis Wesner, Tom Ostyn) padded their positions with victories.

All Waterford archery enthusiasts are invited to attend the Tuesday night shoots. Lessons are held from 6:30 to 8 p.m., preceding the competition.

Miller is a former University of Detroit righthander. His bride is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Thomas Maher of Detroit. They were married yesterday in ceremonies at St. Gemma Roman Catholic Church.

2-Man 'Quintet' Wins

WINNETT, Mont. (AP)—There are only six players on the basketball team at tiny Sumatra High School but two of them won an important game all by themselves.

Sumatra led Winnett 62-52 with two minutes remaining in the game. Four Sumatra men had fouled out. But Brent Edwards and Marvin Anderson staved off the Winnett quintet long enough to give Sumatra a 64-62 victory.

Michigan and Ontario Will Exchange Wildlife

LANSING (UP) — Michigan will receive its first shipment of "exchange" wildlife from Ontario game officials within two weeks when 50 wild Hungarian partridge will be stocked near Sault Ste. Marie, conservation department officials said today.

Game officers are rounding up grouse to be transplanted in Canada.

Ban on Felton Lifted

DETROIT (AP)—National Boxing Commission has lifted a three-week suspension from Lester Felton, Detroit middleweight.

Felton was suspended when he said he was going to sit out the remaining 14 months of a two-year contract with Eugene Maday, his manager.

Felton, Maday and the Michigan Boxing Commission met yesterday and ironed out the contract difficulties.

Phil Rizzuto, shortstop for the New York Yankees, broke into professional baseball with Bassett, Va., of the Bi-State league in 1937.

Javelin Mark Rejected

SAN ANSELMO, Calif. (AP) —Bud Held says he's "not too sad about the failure of the International Amateur Athletic Federation to recognize his 263-foot, 10-inch javelin throw as a world record.

Held, a seminary student here, made the long toss at a meet last August while representing the Olympic Club of San Francisco.

The U. S. Amateur Athletic Union recently recognized it as an American record.

During the 1954 racing season at Gulfstream Park there will be 18 stake races. A total of $337,500 in added money will be distributed.

Racing Group Clears 3 Chicago Area Ovals

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (INS)—Illinois Harness Racing Commission has cleared three Chicago area tracks of any connection with plants in New York State where the sport is periled by alleged unlawful practices.

William W. Downey, administrative assistant to Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, yesterday told newsmen that Maywood Park, Fox Valley and Chicago Downs were cleared by the commission report.

Seven Horses Make Bid

MIAMI (AP)—Seven horses have been named for both the $100,000 Widener here at Hialeah and the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap at California. They are: Straight Face, Olympic, Smart Apple, Impasse, Indian Hemp, Thirteen of Diamonds and Shazada. The Widener will be run Feb. 20 and the Santa Anita a week later.

Preacher Signs for '54

Honor Brennan, Lattner, Evashevski in Detroit

DETROIT (UP) — Terry Brennan, Notre Dame's 25-year-old head football coach, will be one of the featured guests tonight at the annual dinner of the Downtown Quarterback Club.

Brennan will accompany Notre Dame halfback Johnny Lattner, who will receive the clubs "Player of the Year" award. Receiving the "Coach of the Year" trophy will be Forest Evashevski, former Michigan quarterback now serving as head coach at Iowa.

10 Kent State Cagers Are Ruled Ineligible

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Commissioner David E. Reese of the Mid-American Athletic Conference has ruled 10 members of the Kent State university basketball team are ineligible for further conference competition.

In addition to declaring the players ineligible, the decision also causes Kent to forfeit its only conference victory, an 80-73 win over Western Reserve university.

Kent State immediately filed a protest against the ruling which was prompted by a complaint from Western Reserve.

Western Reserve's protest was based on a section of the conference code which declares that team members may not play on amateur teams not connected with their college until after the end of the season.

Marlowe, Kress Sign Tiger 1954 Contracts

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit's 1954 baseball roster stood at 23 today with the signing of pitcher Dick Marlowe and infielder Charles Kress to new contracts.

Kress, a newcomer on the Tiger roster was drafted from Rochester of the International League. The 32-year-old first baseman formerly played with the Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago White Sox in the major leagues.

Bow Hunters Show Upsurge in New York

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Bow and arrow enthusiasts who hunt big game in this state had a record year in 1953. The Conservation Department's Bureau of Game reported a kill of 407 deer and six black bear by the archers.

Also noted by the department was the bow and arrow folk had increased by more than 4,000 and that 1953 was the first year in modern times that bear had been bagged by the arrow.

Undefeated List Dwindles as Connecticut '5' Falls

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Perfect basketball records are vanishing as fast as the 5-cent cup of coffee.

Only three major college quintets were left today in the shrinking circle of the all-winning elite. Connecticut was knocked out last night by Fordham 70-63 after 14 straight, leaving only the twin terrors of the Blue Grass country—Western Kentucky and the University of Kentucky—and Duquesne.

• • •

The Kentucky teams tempt fate tonight. Western goes after its 21st triumph against Stetson and the University tries for No. 15 against Georgia. Duquesne, with 13 in a row, doesn't play again until Wednesday.

• • •

Seventh - ranking Notre Dame, the only one of the nation's top 10 teams in action last night, outclassed Butler 95-58. Joe Bertrand scored 26 points and Dick Rosenthal 20 as the Irish romped all the way.

Dick Nunneley sparked a final 75 second splurge that gave Tulsa a 66-63 verdict over Bradley, the 13th-ranking club, and Louisville, No. 20, drubbed John Carroll 104-57.

Durocher Faced With One of Baseball's Biggest Problems in Making a Flag Contender of Giants

By GRANTLAND RICE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.—There is a fellow in Los Angeles who carries in his breast one of the main problems in sport. His name is Leo Durocher.

• • •

There is nothing of the Lip about Leo Durocher this winter. He has been one of the quietest men in sport. It must be admitted he has enough to think about. Probably no man connected with the national pastime, has ever known as violent a reversal as Leo knew from 1951 to 1953.

• • •

In 1951 he started 13 games back of the Dodgers and in six weeks cut away this tremendous lead and won a pennant. In 1953 he was conceded a chance for the pennant and from mid-season on he spent his entire time in a tailspin, finishing 26 games behind Brooklyn.

• • •

Practically his entire team blew wide open. At least a good percentage did.

First the pitching exploded with a series of noisy detonations. Those who blew up were all good hurlers; namely Sal Maglie, Larry Jansen and Jim Hearn—the mainstays of the staff. After that, things went helterskelter and then straight downhill. These men had all pitched well, but after June they were not worth ten cents a carload.

If pitching conditions stay as they were after June, 1953, the Giants are not coming close to leaving the 2nd division. I doubt if they can finish in the first division anyway—ahead of Brooklyn, Milwaukee, St. Louis or Philadelphia.

• • •

Willie Mays is certain to be a big physical as well as psychological help. Willie is a very fine ballplayer with an inspirational sideline of chatter. But I doubt that he can make a decisive difference in overcoming the big margin which separated the Giants and Dodgers.

• • •

Giants may break out of the corral and move up. But if they don't, a bad year for them means a big loss to baseball. New York, in place of being a stronghold for baseball and football, has lately become one of the weakest representatives in the two games. It makes a sad and somewhat somber story.

Phoenix Draws Touring Pros

Mangrum Is Sentimental Favorite in Wide Open Tournament

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The touring golf brigade made its annual stop here today in what appears to be a wide open chase for the $10,000 Phoenix Open championship.

Although he hasn't been doing too much lately in California tournaments, Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., remains the sentimental favorite. Mangrum has triumphed two years running here and if he succeeds again, he will establish an all-time record in Phoenix.

In contention will be such standouts as Fred Haas Jr., winner at Palm Springs, Calif., last Sunday; Bo Wininger, co-runnerup in the same tournament; Fred Wampler, victor in the Los Angeles Open; Jimmy Demaret, Cary Middlecoff, Lew Worsham, Doug Ford, Walter Burkemo, Ed Oliver, Julius Boros, Jim Ferrier, and Dave Douglas, among others.

In the pro-amateur event yesterday Al Balding, professional of Toronto, Can., teamed with Bill Hule of Phoenix for a best-ball score of 60 to win top honors.

Yanks Deny Carey Trade, but Leave Pathway Clear

By HOWARD SIGMAND

NEW YORK (INS)—World champion New York Yankees issued an "open door" trading edict today, but denied they were about to close a deal which would send reserve 3rd baseman Andy Carey to the White Sox.

Chicago general manager Frank Lane said yesterday he was about to complete a deal with the Yankees for Carey. Yankee general manager George Weiss quickly denied that such a transaction was on the trade grill. But Weiss added:

"The door is not closed for a deal for Carey or any other Yankee player with the White Sox, or between the Yankees and any other club in the league."

It appeared to boil down to a "feeler" test on both sides. It's no secret that the Chisox are interested in landing 3rd base and outfield help for the coming season and that the Yankees would like to land a pitcher — Billy Pierce type preferred.

Carey, who is 22 years old, batted .321 as the sub for 3rd baseman Gil McDougald last season. Andy appeared in 51 games and is regarded as potentially topnotch vintage in the future.

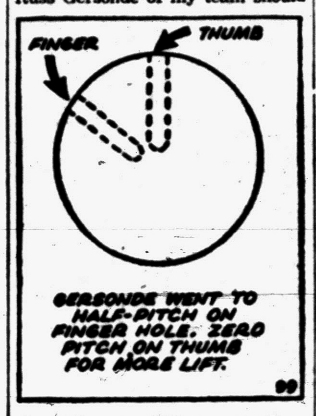

It also isn't a secret that the White Sox would like to acquire Hank Bauer, a fact which Casey Stengel has used to taunt Lane all winter. This, in addition to ranking the Red Sox as more of a pennant threat than the White Sox.

CASE—Short on Pitch.

Causes Dropping of Ball — For those of you who use two-fingered spheres and aren't getting hook turn on the ball, plus dropping it too frequently, a tip from tall Russ Gersonde of my team should season increased his average from 197 to 213. He had been using a conventional three-eighths pitch that gave him only a small right-to-left turn on slow "run" alleys. Not a "wrinkle" of break on fast alleys. So he got a ball with a zero pitch on the thumb, affording an easy release and getting it out first, ahead of the finger release. The finger-hole pitch was increased to a half or "full western," (see sketch). Not only does he get "lift" for hook-turn now, but he no longer has the feeling of losing the ball too soon, dropping it. He is swinging through long again, reaching out—and of course that's the answer for his fatter average. Just a little change in ball pitch effects a big difference in grip and ball release. That is why it pays to try a lot of rack balls in practice before having a ball drilled. Be sure of the pitch, and above all, whether you want a two or a three-fingered ball.

Extinct Wrestlers

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—Wrestling candidates for Montana State College's 167-pound class nearly became extinct. Coach Max Kimberly said the top three aspirants were eliminated by a hunting accident, a recurrent football injury and ineligibility.

'Dales, Maples Tilt Headlines Important Card

Troy Is in Vital Contest Against Roseville; I-L Tie to Be Broken

By JACK SAYLOR

One of the most important nights of the prep basketball season is coming up Friday with critical games scheduled for six Oakland County area leagues.

Teams that survive Friday night action will be in good position to continue on to all or a share of their league's titles. Best games shape up in the Oakland B and Eastern Michigan.

In the Oakland B, league-leading Colts entertain Roseville, which is seeking its 3rd straight title. Peyton Goodwin's high-scoring aggregation has won 8 of 10 games, with both losses being to non-league foes, Birmingham and Southfield.

Roseville dropped three straight games in December, but has rallied to win its last six in a row for an overall record of 8-3. Troy beat the Wildcats, 51-39, at Roseville and are slight favorites to repeat.

In the EML, Ferndale's lead is not endangered since the 'Dales have a 2-game bulge. However, the Maples are out to avenge an earlier defeat and ruin Ferndale's undefeated record in the process.

Ferndale squeaked by Birmingham, 51-46, in their 1st meeting. Maples record is 8-2.

The three-way tie for 1st in the Inter-Lakes will be at least partially broken. Berkley and Farmington collide on the latter's floor and Southfield goes to Van Dyke. Berkley and Southfield, currently the hottest teams in the I-L, rate the favorites' roles.

Berkley got off to a slow start, but has won five of its last six. Bob Watts' Southfielders have lost only two games of their last eight, one by three points to Plymouth and one in double overtime to Berkley.

Rochester, hoping to close Tri-County operations with its 3rd straight cage crown, can move a step closer Friday. Gene Konley's Falcons can clinch no worse than a tie by beating Lapeer and should Oxford spill Romeo the race would be all over.

Milford and Keego Harbor highlight action in the Wayne-Oakland with their contest on the Presidents' court. Redskins are in a tie for 1st with Northville.

In other games Walled Lake is at Waterford and Holly plays at Clarkston.

AAU Relays Highlight Sports Weekend at UM

By GLENN ENGLE

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A record field of 400 track and field athletes from 19 midwestern and Canadian schools has entered the annual Michigan AAU relays at Yost Field House Saturday.

The track meet is a highlight of a home weekend sports schedule that will send virtually every Wolverine into action.

Michigan, fresh from an impressive triangular meet victory Monday over Michigan Normal and Western Michigan, will present a full squad at the relays. So will Purdue and Ohio State.

Large delegations are expected again from Michigan Normal and Western Michigan and from Central Michigan, Kalamazoo College, Loyola of Chicago, Hillsdale, Albion, Adrian and the University of Toronto.

Michigan's powerful entry will be headed by four individual indoor Western Conference champions, abetted by several promising sophomores.

Title holders are Jack Carroll in the 440, John Ross in the mile, George Lynch in the two-mile, and captain Fritz Nilsson in the shotput.

Purdue will have every man who won points for the Boilermakers in the Big Ten meet last year, along with outstanding sophomores Gene Matthews in the two mile, and Tom Hughes in the hurdles.

Ohio's standouts are Joe Morgan in the shotput, Bob Coldren in the distance events, Meade Burnett in the middle distances, Willie Anderson in the high jump, and Bobby Fox in the sprints.

Preliminaries will be run off in the afternoon and the finals in the evening.

Michigan's basketball team, not content with its 7th place position in the Big Ten, will seek to boost its conference record to 3-3 in a Saturday night game at Illinois.

Illini are tied for 4th with 3-3. Wolverines return home to face 2nd place Iowa Monday.

Busiest of all Wolverine teams in the next few days will be the hockey sextet. Vic Heylinger's men meet Michigan Tech at Houghton Friday and Saturday nights, Denver here Monday and Tuesday, and Colorado here the following Friday and Saturday.

Michigan swimmers return from an extended road trip to face Purdue Saturday afternoon in their 2nd conference meet of the season. They earlier swamped Northwestern and also have beaten Iowa State and Oklahoma outside the conference.

Cliff Keen's wrestlers, boasting 12-straight dual-meet victories, go after number 13 Saturday against Purdue. Pitt, the last dual-meet conqueror of Michigan, comes in on Monday for another meet.

A's Sign Old-Timer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Athletics announced today they have signed Judy Johnson, star Negro 3rd baseman of a generation ago, as an assistant coach under manager Eddie Joost to help and advise two recently acquired young Negro players.

Johnson, a scout for the A's for three years, is believed the first Negro to receive a coaching position in major league baseball.

Anderson Gets New Five-Year Crusader Pact

Holy Cross Is Hopeful League Tieup Will Aid East's Grid Woes

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—While conceding that the Eastern intercollegiate football outlook is "not bright," Holy Cross has given Dr. Eddie Anderson, its head coach, a new five-year contract to replace the one that would expire after the 1954 season.

* * *

The Very Rev. John A. O'Brien S. J., president of Holy Cross, said: "We are pleased and proud we are assured of Dr. Anderson's services for at least five more years. In my opinion, he is second to none among football coaches."

Father O'Brien emphasized that Holy Cross has no intention of dropping intercollegiate football. "It has too many important values for all colleges, large and small, and especially for a predominantly resident college such as ours," he explained.

* * *

"Unfortunately the outlook for intercollegiate football, especially for the so-called independent and nonconference teams in the East, such as Holy Cross, is not bright.

"And it doesn't make sense to plan indefinitely on fielding a representative football team trained by a high-grade coach if it seems certain you cannot schedule suitable opponents in your area."

* * *

Anderson coached at Holy Cross from 1933 to 1938 before taking over at the University of Iowa. He returned here in 1950.

Athletic Director Eugene F. Flynn said Holy Cross has been approached by Syracuse to join a nine-team conference that also would include Boston College, Boston University, Colgate, Rutgers, Penn State, Pittsburgh and Fordham.

"We are certainly inclined to join such a group," Flynn said.

Terry Eyes Chicago Prep Coach, Fischer

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (INS) — Ed Miezkowski, Chicago high school coach, and Bill Fischer, guard on the Chicago Cardinals, today reportedly had the inside track to landing berths on Terry Brennan's varsity coaching staff at Notre Dame.

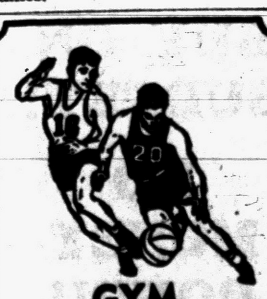

Miezkowski, who moved up as an assistant to Brennan at Chicago's Mount Carmel High school last season, is very close to the new Notre Dame coach.

Brennan, at week's end is expected to name at least four new coaches to his staff, intending only to keep John Druze and Bill Earley, holdovers from Frank Leahy's seven-man staff.

Selvy Still Shooting for More Scoring Marks

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Selvy of Furman is now concentrating on dispelling any lingering doubts about his rights to the title of the greatest scorer in the history of major-college basketball.

Selvy already holds the point record for a 3rd-year career, with 1904, surpassing the 1888 Clyde Lovelette scored for Kansas in 77 games.

Redleg Worker Once Was Trainer

CINCINNATI (AP)—The life of the groundkeeper at baseball parks in the early days was a busy one.

Matty Schwab, for 50 years head groundkeeper at Crosley Field where the Cincinnati Redlegs play, said he had to fill in as the trainer many years ago.

"We had no trainers in the early days," he claimed. "I used to get the grounds in shape, then take the mound for 30 minutes every morning and pitch to the batters. After the workout was over I went to the clubhouse and rubbed down their muscles.

"I got from 10 to 25 cents for helping knead and pound the boys into condition and keep them there."

Comets Defeat Bullets

Red Comets defeated Blue Bullets, 41-32, Wednesday night in a midget basketball game at Daniel Whitfield school's gym. 38 World Marks Get IAAF OK

Mal Whitfield Credited With 2 New Records

Ex-OSU Star's 880 and 1,000 Yard Times in IAAF's Archives

LONDON (AP)—Track and field record book today contained five new world marks set by Americans, two of them by Mal Whitfield, former Ohio State star.

The five were among the 38 records approved yesterday by the International Amateur Athletic Federation. Three other performances by U. S. athletes were certified by the IAAF but they were bettered at a later date.

Whitfield, Olympic 800-meter champion, received credit for new marks of 1:48.6 for 880 yards and 2:20.8 for 1,000 meters. Mal set both of them during a tour of Europe last summer.

The 880 clocking bettered the old mark of 1:49.2 held by Whitfield and England's Sidney Wooderson and his time for the 1,000 erased the record of 2:21.3 established by by O. W. Alberg of Sweden in 1952.

Parry O'Brien's shot put toss of 59 feet 2½ inches at Compton, Calif., last June 5 was recognized as a record after his 59 feet ¾ inch heave on May 9 at Fresno, Calif., had been approved. The old mark of 58 feet 10½ inches was held by Jim Fuchs.

Fortune Gordien also received approval of two discus throws with his 194 feet 6 inches at Pasadena, Calif., on Aug. 22 going into the record book. His 190 feet 7½-inch throw on July 11 was certified as Sam Iness' throw of 190 feet ½ inch at Lincoln, Neb., on June 20. Gordien held the old record of 186 feet 11 inches.

Walt Davis, former Texas Aggies high jumper now playing pro basketball with the Philadelphia Warriors, received recognition for his leap of 6 feet 11½ inches last June 27 at Dayton, Ohio. The jump improved on Les Steers' standard of 6-11.

Look Out Bevo, Dryden Cager Collects 43 Points

High scoring marked 1st round action Wednesday night in the annual Southern Thumb League basketball tournament at Capac High School.

Half of the six teams that played in the opening round passed the 60-point mark but the spotlight was stolen by one member of a losing team. Dryden's Jim Thomas pumped in 43 points though his team lost to New Haven, 69-63.

Deadly on side set shots and jumps from close in, Thomas collected 20 baskets and three foul shots. Dan Dryer had 25 for the winning New Havenites.

In the night's other games, Brown City downed Memphis, 69-52, with Snyder and Barnes teaming for 42 points. Wahls had 22 for Memphis. Capac defeated Almont, 50-45. George Diver had 21 points for Capac, but Almont's Spencer banged in 27.

Tourney resumes Friday with Capac meeting Brown City and New Haven playing Armada. Championship and consolation games are Saturday.

Rocky Won't Defend Crown Until Summer

NEW YORK (INS)—Rocky Marciano's next defense of his world heavyweight boxing championship won't take place until June—at the earliest.

That was the word today from Al Weill, Marciano's manager, who said he will begin negotiations next week with International Boxing Club president Jim Norris regarding a possible June outdoors fight.

Weill's decision to forego a winter defense, reportedly because of Marciano's tax situation, ended chances for a title go between the Brockton, Mass. slugger and Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia which the IBC hoped to stage in March.

Cowles Coaches West 5

NEW YORK (INS) — Minnesota coach Ozzie Cowles has been named to coach the Western team in the 8th annual East-West College All-Star basketball game at Madison Square Garden on March 27. Howard Cann of New York University will coach the Eastern five.

Braves Still Make 'Hot' News

Spartan Gridder Quinlan May Take Boxing Whirl

EAST LANSING (UP) — Bill Quinlan, 215-pound end on the Michigan State football team, may get his first crack at collegiate boxing when the Spartans tangle with Iowa State's NCAA champions Feb. 13, MSC coach George Makris said today.

Makris, who tutored Chuck Davey, Chuck Speiser and Jed Black from collegiate to professional ranks, said the towering sophomore may be called upon to fill in for heaveyweight Jack Reilly, who is moving down to the 178-pound slot to replace injured Bill Greenway.

Lattner Signs With Steelers

Irish All-America Is Quoted as 'Happy' With Pro Offer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — All-America halfback Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame has signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, the club announced today.

Steelers declined to disclose the cash terms of the contract with their No. 1 draft choice. A club spokesman said Lattner was signed last night by head coach Joe Bach at South Bend, Ind.,

The spokesman said the Steelers were elated to have signed the 21-year-old Chicago athlete who revealed previously had received two tentative offers from representatives of Canadian pro teams. Vancouver and Ottawa were reported interested in signing him.

Lattner was quoted as saying he was "exceedingly happy" to get a crack at the NFL and Steeler representatives said he undoubtedly would play at least one full season with the club before being called into military service. Lattner, a senior at Notre Dame, is an ROTC student.

Troy Knocks Out Ward in Clinchless TV Bout

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—How's this for a boxing oddity: a clinchless fight.

It happened last night at Olympia Stadium where smart Willie Troy, 159½, Washington, D. C., secured his position as 7th-ranking middleweight by knocking out Detroiter Moses Ward, 161, at 2:42 of the 8th round.

Referee Lou Jallos never had an easier time of it. Not once did he have to step between the two fighters.

As a matter of fact, Jallos' hardest assignment was tolling ten over Ward's limp body and then trying to haul him to his feet.

A left and right put Ward down for good but he was a victim of exhaustion more than anything else. He simply punched himself out.

Ward's defeat put a damper for the time being at least on his dream of going into big time.

In the early going Ward carried the fight to the taller Troy, who started extremely slow and seemed surprised by Ward's punching power. This went on for five rounds with Ward building an advantage on officials' score cards.

Then Troy's experience began to tell. Normally a counter puncher, he carried the fight for the 1st time in the 6th round. Ward, fighting only his 2nd 10-rounder, quickly tired.

Troy kept up a stream of light but effective punches and Ward finally crumbled in the 8th, falling face down.

It was the 1st time the young Detroiter had ever been floored.

It's Time Out!

"The bum tells me I don't graduate, dear . . . don't ask my why!"

Put Cooper on Waiver List, Get Thomson's OK

Ex-Giant Believed to Have Agreed to Salary Close to $35,000

NEW YORK (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, after recently obtaining Danny O'Connell from the Pittsburgh Pirates and then acquiring Bobby Thomson and Sam Calderone from the New York Giants, continued to hog the "hot stove league" spotlight today.

• • •

Thomson wasted little time in reaching a salary agreement yesterday by phone with General Manager John Quinn.

The best guess was that he would receive close to $35,000, which would make him one of Milwaukee's highest salaried players.

Veteran catcher Walker Cooper, a 13-year National League veteran, was placed on the waiver list by the Braves.

The New York Yankees didn't figure in any transactions.

The Brooklyn Dodgers brought their list of contented players for 1954 to 18 with the announcement that they had signed three more pitchers—Preacher Roe, Erv Palica and Ben Wade.

Other players who agreed to terms yesterday included: catcher Wes Westrum, second baseman Ron Samford, outfielder Ray Berns and first baseman Gail Harris, Giants; pitcher Bob Rush, Cubs; outfielder Jim Rivera, White Sox; infielder-outfielder Vic Power and pitcher Ed Monahan, Athletics; outfielders Hoot Evers and Charles Maxwell, infielder Ted Lepico and pitcher Bill Werle, Red Sox; outfielder Gene Hermanski and pitchers Cal Hogue and Vernon Thies, Pirates; pitcher Duane Pillette and Rocky Krsnich and pitcher Herm Wehmeier, Redlegs; outfielders Gil Coan and Kite Thomas and catcher Joe Tipton, Senators.

Tigers Obtain Rookie Fielder From Service

DETROIT (AP) — William Hoffer, a 22-year-old outfielder just released after two years in military service, has signed a contract with the Detroit Tigers.

Hoffer, a 6-foot-2, 190-pounder from Covington, Ky., signed with Little Rock, Detroit Southern Assn. farm team.

He batted .351 in 85 games for the Indian Town Gap (Pa.) team last year while in service. He also hit 27 home runs.

Hoffer, a Xavier university graduate, bats and throws righthanded.

Bob Considine Says:

2 U.S. Magazines Dispute Our Atom Attack Defense

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing scene—two national magazines are engaged in a bitter wrangle over a ticklish topic: Your neck. U. S. News and World Report recently claimed this country can stop enemy atomic bombers. Air Force, the magazine of American airpower, retorts:

"It is morally wrong to tell America that she can be defended today when tomorrow millions of Americans may perish in an atomic holocaust.

"This breed of irresponsible reporting must be countered head-on and debunked. The public must not be lulled into a sense of false security by talk about fantastic new weapons which are neither fantastic nor available yet for combat."

Air Force says radar isn't all it's cracked up to be; that in addition to many shortcomings indigenous to this electronic marvel it can be thrown out of kilter by enemy counter measures. Those known counter-measures could also throw our "homing" missiles out of line, too, and let the enemy's atomic bombers continue on unmolested. The Army's "nike"—a rocket built to locate an enemy plane many miles away and destroy it—won't be on an operational basis for months to come. And never will Nike battalions be able to rush from one big city to another, ahead of an enemy air attack.

The worst fear Air Force has, apparently, is that the Russians will come up with an intercontinental ballistic missile, with an A-bomb or H-bomb warhead. There is no known defense against such a weapon, just as there was no defense against Hitler's V-2.

Sweet dreams.

Wonder why someone in the U.N. doesn't bring up the question of actual Russian participation in U.N.'s defense of South Korea? Gen. Mark W. Clark, in the current Collier's, writes:

"Ever since MIGs first appeared in North Korean skies in November, 1950, there has been widespread speculation whether Soviet pilots were at the controls. I can say categorically that the U.N. Command possesses adequate information to show that Russian pilots—sometimes in considerable numbers—in fact did engage our jets in combat.

"The evidence includes our pilots' reports of intercepted exchanges in Russian on the MIGs' intercom system, and the testimony of returned U.N. war prisoners that they had talked with Russian combat pilots while in North Korean prison camps."

Harry A. Bruno, the man who introduced sky-writing to the American public, has been named president and a director of the newly incorporated public relations firm that bears his name. Bruno's great success in business dates from that introduction.

Bruno was doing publicity in 1924 for a British ace of World War I, Maj. Jack Savage, who brought the first sky-writing equipment to the U.S. Their target was testy, free-wheeling George Washington Hill, head of the American Tobacco Co.

With British Capt. Cyril Turner at the controls Bruno and Savage arranged a special showing of the device for Hill. Turner, high over Times Square, wrote out "Hello. U.S.A."

"Interesting," Hill muttered, "but it won't sell cigarettes."

Bruno had another idea. He sent the plane back into the air with instructions to spell out the phone number of the Vanderbilt Hotel. He had invited Hill to the Vanderbilt to await the results.

For three hours the Vanderbilt's switchboard was lighted like a Christmas tree. An appeal went out for extra operators. And Hill wrote a contract with the Skywriting Corporation of America for a million dollars worth of this celestial doodling.

This is the 50th anniversary of the invention of the tea bag, one of the few great boons still unclaimed by Russian science. All started in New York at the wholesale tea house of Thomas Sullivan. He used to give samples to prospective buyers, but classed up the gift by putting the tea in little silk bags. Someone, as a prank, dropped one of the bags into a cup of hot water.

Silk has long since given way to cheesecloth and gauze. Each bag now holds a blend of between 20 and 50 of the world's most accepted teas.

Purchase Wines to Meet Budget

Woman Offers Advice to Prospective Buyers of Beverage

CHICAGO (UP) — All women, even those living on a tight budget, someday will find they can serve good American wines as easily as they pour after-dinner coffee, says one expert.

The prediction comes from the only woman in charge of a major American wine cellar.

Mrs. Josephine Molera, head of the cellar at the famous Edgewater Beach Hotel, said she wants to end the pomp and circumstance which have surrounded wine serving.

"Most people must taste a number of wines to choose a favorite," she said. "I'd like to have my own wine shop, and stock a variety of good ones. Some budgets will allow elaborate glass service; others less expensive wares. I'd have all sorts in my shop."

Mrs. Molera spends her time in the basement doing business with wine merchants and seeing hat the bins arekept stocked with the right beverages. Her purchases at the hotel amount to $500,000 a year.

If she isn't busy selecting wines for a convention, or champagne for a dinner party, she's answering calls from the public.

Housewives ask what kind of wine to serve with certain meats; what type of glass to use and the correct place to put them.

"What really counts is what kind of wine you like," Mrs. Molera said. "Serve what you and your guests like best, no matter the type of meat. Skip the pomp and circumstance."

World's insect population is 25,000,000 per square mile, as compared with a human population of 50 per square mile.

Most Grains Slide Lower

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains tilted a little lower on the Board of Trade today although old crop wheat contracts managed to maintain a firm tone.

Dealings were rather slow with feed grains easing in view of fairly large receipts of cash corn, totaling 150 cars. Prospects of substantial export business was the main aid to wheat. Soybeans reacted after yesterday's advance.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ lower to ⅛ cent higher, March $2.11⅝, corn ¼ to ⅜ lower, March $1.52¼, oats ¼ to ½ lower March 78⅝, rye ¼ to ½ lower, March $1.22, soybeans one cent lower to ¾ higher, March $3.13, and lard three to ten cents a hundred pounds lower, March $16.92.

$100 Million Plans Revealed by Edison

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Edison Co. has disclosed plans for a huge $100,000,000 power plant at Harbor Beach — big enough to give the metropolitan Detroit area emergency service in time of war, tornadoes or other emergencies.

The project came to light when a bill was introduced in both houses of the Legislature asking permission for the company to buy for $18,000 about 88 acres of submerged lands at Harbor Beach.

The company said the new power plant, which would be located about 90 miles north of Detroit would be part of its plan to revise its services to minimize disruptions of service, such as were caused by a tornado in the Thumb area last year.

Dog License Case Postponed to Feb. 19

A show cause hearing why a dog license shouldn't be issued to a Waterford man who refuses to have his dog vaccinated was postponed from today until Feb. 19 by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Rex Abney, of 3125 Mann Rd., asked for the order when County Treasurer Charles Sparks refused to grant him a license for his dog last December.

The postponment was made today because a large number of spectators were unable to listen to proceedings because of crowded conditions in the court room.

Judge Hartrick is presiding at this time in the city's suit for condemnation of property at 11-49 Parke St.

Some Stocks Up 1 to 2 Points

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market swung ahead today with all major divisions joining in the rise.

It was the second day for buoyancy in the market which now is pressing ahead into new high ground on the current recovery movement.

Gains went to between 1 and 2 points in a handful of instances. Although most gains were rather small, there was a general absence of minus signs to hamper the rise.

Trading started quite fast with many large blocks on the tape. After that initial rush of overnight orders was cleared, the tape turned quiet.

Chrysler, the star of yesterday's market, opened today on a block of 5,000 shares up ½ at 60, and it continued trading around that level.

Railroads, which gave yesterday's market its early strength, were generally higher today at the head of the advance.

Bethlehem Steel opened on a block of 5,000 shares up 1⅜ at 56⅜ and continued trading near that price.

Federal Court Will Hear Henry's Petitions Monday

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard has scheduled a hearing for Monday to determine approval of two petitions submitted by Pontiac Attorney Milton R. Henry, representing Bolza Baxter, 28, of Detroit who has been subpoenaed by the House un-American Activities Committee.

Baxter, state chairman of the Labor Youth League recently labeled subversive by the U. S. Attorney General's office, is asked in the subpoena to present to the committee all records, books and names of members of the LYL.

The LYL was formed in 1952 upon dissolution of the Young Communist League.

Henry contends that the committee has the right to inquire but not the right to divulge the information to the public.

Judge Picard yesterday refused to issue the petition saying "You're asking me to put a stop on Congress. You'll have to show some law for that."

Judge Picard, said Henry, will either issue the injunction or call for a three-judge panel to rule on the petition.

Henry said that he would dismiss the petition to quash the subpoena if the LYL is declared subversive by the McCarran Committee now investigating the LYL.

Baxter has been ordered to appear before the House un-American Activities subcommittee expected to reconvene in Detroit Feb. 22.

Henry is a former Air Force lieutenant. He was ousted from the Air Force in 1944 following a court martial which convicted him of disrespect to superior officers and AWOL.

"The court martial," Henry claims, "developed after I had protested segregation of Negro troops at Selfridge Air Base." (Henry is a Negro.)

Henry denied he ever said that he would be a dictator after a revolution, but said that he referred to a change by a minority when discussing the base's racial problem with his company commander. He said his sstatements were later paraphrased and entered into the court martial records.

Weigh Commitment of Oakwood Youth

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today his office is "weighing the possibility" of proceeding to have Allen D. McMean, 18, of Oakwood committed as a mental patient.

McMean was arrested in the Oxford police station early Tuesday morning after threatening householders living near the station and breaking up the station office.

Dr. Isaac C. Prevette examined McMean yesterday.

Ziem said the alternative to the mental patient proceedings would be to have McMean charged with malicious destruction of property.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Winnie Miles of 9 Stanton St., Oxford, today credited one of her roomers, Marv Kirt, 29, with subduing McMean.

"For 50 minutes we were trying to get police out here," Mrs. Miles declared. "We called three of four times. We even called the sheriff's office but didn't get an answer."

She said Police Chief Albert Roberts told her later that he had to wait for help. " 'After all,' she quoted him, " 'you don't face an armed crazy man without help.' "

Brake Will Continue Gubernatorial Race

LANSING (AP)—State Treasurer D. Hale Brake denied emphatically today that he would drop his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor to accept appointment as a federal judge.

"I have said from the beginning that I am in this governorship race to the end and that still stands," Brake said.

Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard, mentioned for appointment in the eastern district of Michigan, said "I will not resign as Attorney General if it means Gov. Williams will appoint a Democratic successor to me. I would consider the judgeship if the Governor would appoint my deputy, Arthur T. Iverson."

Trapeze Artist Falls to Floor, Injuries Light

LANSING (UP)—A 29-year-old woman trapeze artist slipped and plunged 35 feet to the floor Wednesday amid the screams of Lansing schoolchildren.

The victim was Marg Nichols, a member of the "Flying Wallenda" high wire troupe which came to the United States from Germany three years ago. Doctors at Sparrow Hospital said her injuries were painful but not serious.

The accident occurred during the opening act of the first performance of the Polack Brothers Circus. The youngsters shrieked when they saw the woman fall and many cried while she was being carried away on a stretcher.

A fireman assigned to the circus floor, Lyle Phillips, saw the woman start to fall and began calling an ambulance on his walkie-talkie radio even before she hit the floor.

Bill Would Add 2 State Judges

Congress Passes Act Awaiting President's Signature

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to create 30 additional federal judgeships, including two in Michigan, awaited President Eisenhower's signature today before becoming law.

The Senate passed the bill yesterday and sent it to the White House just a few hours after the House passed it on a voice vote.

The Senate passed the measure without objection.

The omnibus bill provides for the creation of one new judgeship in both the eastern and western districts of Michigan.

It also provides for some changes in the county lineup in the state.

The measure states that court for the southern division of Michigan's eastern district will be held at Detroit and Port Huron, while court for the southern division of the western district will be held at Grand Rapids, Mason and Kalamazoo.

Both Michigan Republican Senators Ferguson and Potter will recommend candidates for the new posts.

The bill, a compromise between House and Senate versions passed last year, permits federal judges to retire at 65 after serving 15 years on the bench. All appointments are for life.

Boy Hospitalized by Car, Police Arrest Driver

A seven-year-old boy was struck by a car Wednesday afternoon at Auburn Ave. and Paddock St. by a motorist who, according to police, said he was hurrying to work.

The boy, Charles Johnson of 37 S. Jessie St., was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a concussion and multiple bruises. His condition was reported as good today.

The driver, Albert T. Polick, 18, of 1351 Merry Rd., Waterford Township, was held on a reckless driving charge by Patrolmen Herbert Cooley, Howard Lenigan and James Bale.

Polick told police he was late for work and when he saw the stop light turn amber he stepped on the gas, ran the red light and struck the boy who was just starting across the street.

Sen. Douglas to Offer Bills to Condemn Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) today planned to offer two resolutions to condemn Russia on grounds of violating pledges to permit free elections and grant basic liberties in satellite countries.

The resolutions would put Congress on record as asking the United Nations to take "appropriate action" to get the Soviets to redeem their pledges.

Also, Secretary of State Dulles, now at the Berlin conference, would be instructed to lay the document before the parley, and ask the Russian representatives to recommend to Moscow recognition of civil and religious liberties in the Red satellites.

The overseas possessions of France are 4½ times as large as the mother country.
