Gov. Swainson Gives Up Hope on Income Tax

Assails State GOP as Wrecker of Efforts for Fiscal Reform

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson has thrown in the towel in his battle for fiscal reform, killing off virtually the last chance for passing of a state income tax this year.

Swainson, with an angry blast at what he called "a Republican mess in Michigan," conceded yesterday that any further attempt to push an income tax package through the legislature would be futile.

"I regret to announce that insofar as I can determine, fiscal reform is dead in Michigan in 1962," the Democratic governor told a special news conference. "It is dead because the Republican party killed it."

The governor's decision very likely sets the stage for majority Republicans to put through a package of "nuisance" taxes on beer, cigarettes, telephone service and like items.

It also should clear the way for adjournment of the legislature, which has languished in a bitter stalemate in the battle over taxes.

Until yesterday, there was no end in sight in the partisan tug-of-war that threatened to carry up to the state's new fiscal year July 1 and beyond.

In clipped and angry words, the governor told newsmen:

"The way things are, there is no hope of anything happening in the legislature. They took a long weekend again yesterday after very few hours of working. Time is running out."

STILL FAVORS REFORM

Swainson, who has fought hard for two years to win legislative approval of a tax program, geared to a personal and corporate income tax, said he still favors sweeping reform of the state tax structure.

"But I'll probably be faced with the choice of two evils," he said. "No increase at all, which would result in chaos, or nuisance taxes. Faced with that choice, I'll keep the state afloat."

Destructive Earthquakes Hit Mexico

From Our News Wires

MEXICO CITY — A new series of sharp earthquakes shook an extensive area of South-central Mexico today, disrupting power and communications facilities.

At least three persons were killed in Mexico City as the direct result of the tremors. Another 15 were reported injured.

The heaviest damage appeared to be in the West Coast area of Acapulco, hardest hit by the quake May 11 that killed three persons and injured 100 others.

The quakes were felt in Mexico City, where large buildings swayed, and in seven states of the republic.

COMMUNICATIONS CUT

Telegraph communications between Mexico City and the United States border to the north were suspended as a result of line breaks, the government communications department said.

Of the known dead in Mexico City, one man, an American, Roy A. Blay, president of Aluminio Industrial Mexico, collapsed of a heart attack. A 37-year-old girl was killed in a fall from a building and an unidentified pedestrian was fatally injured by a taxi that went out of control.

VICTIM'S CAR — This is the 1961 white Pontiac owned by slain first assistant Oakland County Corp. Counsel Charles A. Davis, which has centered the search for the murderer in Milwaukee, Wis. The car was involved in a hit-run accident in that city Thursday.

Rain Should Put End to Heat Wave Tonight

Scattered thundershowers this evening will put a damper on the five-day record-breaking heat wave that has been roasting the Pontiac area in 90 degree temperatures.

Cooler temperatures with a low of 65 is predicted for tonight. Partly cloudy skies with a high of 80 is the forecast for Sunday. Fair weather with normal temperatures for this time of year are predicted for the area on Monday.

The last heat wave occurred the last three days of June and the first day of July in 1961. Temperature averaged then from 90 to 97.

Thousands Flock to Area Parks for Outdoor Fun

Thousands of Pontiac area folks have already taken advantage of cooling waters and scenic woods for outdoor fun, as park officials brace themselves for one of the biggest seasons in history.

This week's hot weather attracted more than 5,000 people at Dodge Park No. 1 and most of those were bathers according to park manager Carlton Allthoff.

A department spokesman said Estes was served with a "department control order" by the immigration Service last night at his home in Peconic, Tex.

The order notified Estes that any plans he may have to leave "were not in the best interests" of the United States.

Estes has been indicted for fraud and four government officials have lost their jobs in the investigation of his dealings with the government.

In Houston, Horace C. Harris, officer in charge of the city's immigration and naturalization office, said last night that airline and shipping companies are being notified they will be penalized if they give Estes passage out of the country.

In Washington, James L. Hennessy, executive assistant to the commissioner of immigration and naturalization, confirmed issuance of the notice to relay to transportation firms.

He described the order as "a fairly routine under the McCarran-Walter Immigration Law."

A grand jury will look into the mysterious death of an Agriculture Department agent who had been investigating Estes' dealings in cotton allotments.

District Atty. Bryan Russ ordered the probe yesterday "to clear the cloud connecting this with the Billie Sol Estes case—there is any connection."

The jury will meet at nearby Franklin, Tex., Monday.

The death was that of Henry Marshall, shot June 3, 1961, on his farm near Franklin. Local authorities said he died, perhaps five hours after he fired perhaps five bullets into his abdomen from a 22-caliber, bolt-action rifle.

Many heat-stricken Pontiac area residents took to the water and parks during the week to escape the hot spell, while the kids found the cool spray of lawn sprinklers ideal to beat the heat.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 65. At 10 p.m. the mercury at the Press measured a high of 78.

Morning winds were light and variable. They became southerly at 10 to 20 miles per hour in the afternoon and are expected to shift to westerly during the night.

The bicycle found Thursday afternoon in front of the slain man's home at 2665 South Blvd. has been identified as one stolen from 175 Florence St. near the grounds. It was taken between 7 and 10 p.m., police said.

Mental Patient Is Being Sought in Milwaukee

Davis' Car Discovered
Following Accident in Wisconsin City

By DON FERMOYLE
Fingerprints found at the scene of the Charles A. Davis murder have been matched with those of an escaped Pontiac State Hospital mental patient being sought today in Milwaukee, Wis. for the slaying.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department this afternoon obtained a first-degree murder warrant for the arrest of Sheldy A. Topp, who fled the hospital grounds Tuesday night hours before the killing.

Davis' car was discovered following a hit-run accident in Milwaukee Thursday morning. A youth answering Topp's description was seen fleeing on foot from the damaged car.

The fingerprints have been identified as those of Topp, a 22-year-old Mount Clemens youth with a record of sex offenses, according to Detective Charles Whitlock of the Sheriff's Department.

Whitlock said the fingerprints provide a second clue which links Topp to the fatal stabbing of Davis, Oakland County's first assistant corporation counsel.

Whitlock said a General Motors Truck and Coach Division employee reported seeing a husky Negro about 17 or 18 years old riding a bicycle east on South Boulevard about midnight Tuesday.

Topp, a Negro, is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs about 170 pounds. He walked away from the hospital grounds about 10 p.m. Tuesday, according to Dr. Walter H. Obenshain, Pontiac State Hospital superintendent.

Say Hoffa Took $1 Million Illegally

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) —

Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa was indicted by a federal court jury here Friday on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Law and collecting some $1 million illegally.

The two-count indictment, which involved payment through an auto transport firm incorporated in Nashville, was revealed in a Washington report by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

Hoffa, who pleaded innocent earlier Friday to a charge of assault passed by a union aide, declined to discuss the new indictment with newsmen. But a teamster official in Chicago said Hoffa "shed no tears" when informed of it.

Hoffa, who flew to Chicago for two scheduled talks after his Washington court appearance, sent Harold Gibbons, executive vice president of the Teamsters, as a substitute at a scheduled Chicago press conference.

"If it (the indictment) is anything like other indictments against labor leaders in this country," Gibbons told newsmen, "the essence of it is anything but truth."

If convicted, Hoffa could be sentenced to up to one year in prison and fined $10,000 on each of the two counts.

At Orlando, Fla., federal court has under advisement a petition by Hoffa's lawyers to dismiss a federal mail fraud indictment based on a land development deal involving alleged misuse of half a million dollars of teamster union funds.

Indicted with Hoffa at Nashville was Commercial Carriers, Inc., a Detroit auto transport firm charged with setting up the Tennessee firm, Test-Elect Corp., and throwing lucrative Cadillac auto hauling business its way.

At the time, Commercial Carriers had a labor contract with the Teamsters Union.

The indictment charges Hoffa and the late Owen Brennan, former Teamster vice president, received $1,000,000 from Commercial Carriers through Test-Elect, the stock of which had been transferred by Commercial Carriers to Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Brennan under their maiden names.

There are no plans now to send any additional troops to Thailand, he said, but added it is still an American objective to reach a political solution in Laos.

It is not anticipated, Gen. Decker told a news conference, that U.S. forces in Laos will have to do any actual fighting. He said there presence is a sign of American determination to prevent any Communist takeover or infiltration.

"Of course," he added, "the forces are under orders to defend themselves if attacked. That is the responsibility of any commander."

'New Responsibilities Hike County Budget'

A $1,709,616 increase in next year's tentative budget for county government yesterday has been partly blamed on a shifting of responsibilities by the state.

"Many public services which have in the past been handled by state government have grown in size and scope to the point where, rightly or wrongly, the state no longer completely supplies the care, facilities and services required," County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard told the County Tax Allocation Board.

"These include the welfare program, medical care and mental health where the county is carrying a larger share of the load each year," he added.

The statements were made in presenting the county's $18,555,262 tentative budget to the tax allocation board with a request for $1.8 million to finance the budget next year.

Barnard made the opening presentation before the board. Following are the other reasons he cited for the raising cost of county government.

"Many major public facilities which serve more than one city or township and are too large to either be financed or constructed by one local unit of government must be handled by a larger agency, such as the county."

EXPANDED ACTIVITIES
"For example, in recent years the county has taken action in the field of public works, drains, water systems and sewage treatment and disposal systems, public health including clinic and laboratory facilities, home and school nursing and sanitation to mention a few."

"Due to a nationwide and possibly worldwide trend, the public has grown to expect 'government' to provide many aspects of care and services which were formerly provided by families or by individuals themselves."

"Here again the county's welfare, medical care and mental health programs are affected."

"Modern technology has tended to expand the services required of government both in size and depth. Now that we know more about (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Debre Calm at Salan Trial

PARIS (UPI) — Former Premier Michel Debre testified at the treason trial of Algerian Secret Army (OAS) leader ex-Gen. Raoul Salan today and apparently dashed defense hopes that his evidence would turn the case into a major political affair.

For an hour and 45 minutes, Debre, who resigned as President Charles de Gaulle's prime minister after the Evian cease-fire agreement on Algeria, spoke calmly and forcefully to the special high military tribunal on two major issues.

He denied all complicity or knowledge of the famous January 1957 attempt to kill Salan with bazooka shells.

Defended his about-face in Algerian policy in September 1959. He said changing conditions in the world made decolonization of Algeria necessary and that De Gaulle's policy was the only way France could keep her influence in Algeria.

FARRIED EFFORTS

Defense attorneys headed by Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancourt had hoped to draw politically sensational material from Debre. But he quietly parried their efforts.

"After Debre spoke today, the court president asked Salan whether he wanted, because of the importance of the witness, to ask him any questions.

Salan simply shook his head, remaining silent as he said he would do after making an opening statement at the start of the trial.

OAS Gunmen Attack Police Headquarters

ALGERIA (AP) — Secret Army Organization terrorists attacked police headquarters in Algiers today, then fled before a determined counterattack.

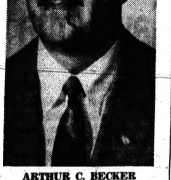

The tough mobile gendarmes poured out of their headquarters and encircled the entire district after engaging the terrorists in an exchange of rifle and machine-gun fire. The secret army commanders fled into a wooded hillside area.

There were no reports of casualties on either side in the battle.

The Summer Palace once was the home of France's delegate-general to Algeria, but now houses detachments of the mobile gendarmes, a military-type police force.

The mortar shells were lobbed into the grounds of the palace and burst in the lush tropical gardens. No one was injured.

First Candidate Files in County

Southfield Republican Making Second Try for Drain Commissioner

While others talk politics, Art Becker acts.

At the moment, the 44-year-old Southfield Republican is the only official candidate for any office in Oakland County.

Others have declared their intentions to run, but Becker, taking his second crack at the drain commissioner's post, is the only candidate to file nominating petitions for the Aug. 7 primary.

That's what it takes to make a talking candidate a real candidate, according to the election clerk's office.

Filing deadline this year is June 19 and most candidates wait until the last moment, much to the dismay of county election officials.

Not Becker. Without formal announcement, he set out to circulate petitions and has filed the required number.

Becker will oppose Daniel Barry, incumbent Republican drain commissioner.

Becker, who lost to Barry in the 1958 primary, is vice president of Becker Brothers Printing Co. in Detroit.

He is vice commander of an American Legion post and a member of the VFW.

In 1960, Becker lost a primary bid for the 4th Detroit legislative district to Rep. Ray Baker, R-Berkley.

State Queen Has Chicken Pox

'Bumped' From Throne

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Karen Ejan Southway, somewhat embarrassed, has been forced to cancel out her engagement as Miss Michigan for the next few weeks.

Karen, 18, has the chicken pox. The attractive girl says she has been forced to drop all of her scheduled Michigan week appearances and probably won't be back for public appearances until a June 30 date in Battle Creek.

Miss Southway says she believes she contracted the childhood illness at a recent appearance before a children's group in Grand Rapids.

"You can joke about it," she said, "it's really funny. But no pictures please."

Mercy Sisters May Buy Estate

Plan to Use Property in Wood Creek Farms for Novitiate if OK'd

The Sisters of Mercy who operate Mercy College in Detroit will purchase the Shasta Bush Dean estate on 12-Mile Road in Wood Creek Farms if an educational and religious use of the property is approved by the village's zoning board of appeals.

Approval appeared certain after a public hearing revealed no objections by nearby property owners.

Purchase price has been estimated at $200,000.

A novitiate for postulants and novices and a provincial head-quarters for the Sisters of Mercy in Michigan, Indiana and Iowa will be constructed on the property if the purchase goes through, according to Monsignor Superior Mary Jeanne in Detroit.

Only zoning classification in Wood Creek Farms is residential, village clerk Mrs. Alice Billu said today, but the zoning ordinance provides for allowing a religious and educational use by special permission of the zoning board.

Deen was vice president in charge of the manufacturing staff at General Motors Corp. before his death last Sept. 2.

The estate is adjacent to the St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Home for Children at 12-Mile and Inkster roads.

4 'Bad Guys' on Bikes Tell of Black Deeds

LYNN, Mass. (UPI) — Four motorcycle-riding boys, all aged 12, have been accused of robbing two boys in Wild West fashion, police have disclosed.

Two boys would ride up to a newboy on either side and blockade him while the other two would wheel up from behind and start beating him, police said.

The juveniles were accused of the robbery of four newboys and the attempted robbery of two others. They will be arraigned Wednesday in juvenile court.

The boys said they learned their tactics while watching cowboys on television. And they said "newboys always have money and they are usually good kids who don't fight back."

Each robbery netted them less than $1, the boys said.

Reflections

FAME:

Fame is fickle. Men who aspire to this elevated height seldom reach it. Carry Nation's crusade began with end and ended by being laid; Sergeant York was retiring, shot his way to fame; Lindbergh was a superior pilot. While discussing the possibility of flying over the Atlantic inadvertently said, "It can be done." Babe Ruth was a showman; to give fans their money's worth he'd swing a ball over the back fence.

Millions of men and women will never hear wild acclaim and yet these men and women are famous in their hometown. Each of their homes is a Mecca for friends. Their children are trustworthy, obedient and thoughtful. When a neighbor is sick these obscure people are first to offer assistance. These are the people who shun publicity, who would rather visit with a friend than sit at the right hand of the Shah of Iran. Fame? They're happy with the love of people around them.

Author Dijas Gets Prison Sentence

'Conversations With Stalin' Being Published

NEW YORK (AP) — Milovan Djilas says Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin foresaw Communist gains from the last war in Europe and gleefully predicted another war in 15 or 20 years after 1945.

Djilas, ousted vice president of Yugoslavia, quoted those views in a book called "Conversations with Stalin," to be published next week by Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.

A Belgrade court this week sentenced Djilas to eight years, eight months in prison on grounds he disclosed state secrets in the book. He has already served two prison terms—three years under the pre-war Yugoslav royal government, and four years under the Communist government.

CONVERSATIONS

"Conversations with Stalin"

tells of meetings Djilas had with the Soviet leader on official Yugoslav missions to Moscow in 1944, 1945 and 1948. It is a story of gradual disillusionment.

Djilas relates that at a dinner in April 1945 Stalin said, "This war was not as in the past, whoever won, a territory also imposes on it his own social system."

He says Stalin added that he had to maintain solidarity because in 12 to 15 years the Germans would be on their feet again.

"He got up," writes Djilas, "hitched up his pants as though he was about to wrestle or to box, and cried out almost in a transport, 'The war shall soon be over."

We shall recover in 15 or 20 years, and then we'll have another go at it."

Stalin's armies, Djilas observes, "had already trampled half of Europe under foot, and he was convinced they would trample over the other half in the next round."

Djilas fails to mention that the Soviet armies were counter-attacking a German invasion. But he does say Stalin's own cruelities "did not worry him one bit, for he was convinced that he was executing the judgment of history."

At a meeting in January 1948, Djilas says, Stalin came out with the idea that postwar Germany must remain divided: "The West will make Western Germany their own, and we shall turn Eastern Germany into our own state."

He says Stalin also declared that since the United States and Britain would not permit a break in their Mediterranean line of communications, the Greek Communist uprising could not succeed and so must be stopped.

In that connection, Stalin remarked that after the war with Japan, the Russians asked the Chinese Communists to seek an understanding with Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese Nationalist leader.

Instead, he quotes Stalin as saying, "They mustered their forces and struck. It has been shown that they were right, and not we. But Greece is a different case."

Djilas charges that Stalin withheld support at decisive moments from the Chinese, Spanish and Yugoslav revolutions because "he felt instinctively that the creation of revolutionary centers outside of Moscow could endanger its supremacy in world communism."

He says Soviet policy is the same today.

Proposes Bill to Help
Rehabilitate Criminals

Prosecutor George F. Taylor has completed the draft of proposed legislation which he believes is the next step forward in the rehabilitation of convicted criminals.

Taylor said his proposal would allow Michigan courts to wipe out public criminal records of first-time offenders who demonstrate "exemplary behavior" after release from parole or probation.

The act will be introduced to the state legislature during its 1963 session, Taylor said.

Under the proposal, courts could order cancellation of a criminal record when they feel it would "assist in rehabilitation and be consistent with the public welfare."

RIGHTS RESTORED
All civil rights would be restored to the offender and he would be "treated in all respects as not having been convicted."

The only exception would result if an individual is convicted of a second crime. The first conviction could then be used by the court to determine sentence for the second offense.

Detroit Catholics Tell of Education Project

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Roman Catholic parishes will launch a massive promotion program tomorrow to acquaint people with the values of Catholic education.

The archdiocesan chancery announced the four-week effort. It said it would seek to reach the "public at large" as well as the Catholic.

The campaign is designed to explain the "true nature of the Catholic educational system."

Romper Suits Styled for the Sea

Bound for the blue waters and smooth sailing all day is Robert Sloan's ship-shape, crease-resistant coordinates worn of nub-weave of Fortrel polyester and cotton. The crisp skiff trousers and flared bias plaid top, sun drenched in shades of hot pink and orange, were designed by Sylvia de Gay. They wash and dry in a breeze.

Ship-shapes follow the sun, for fun aboy this summer!

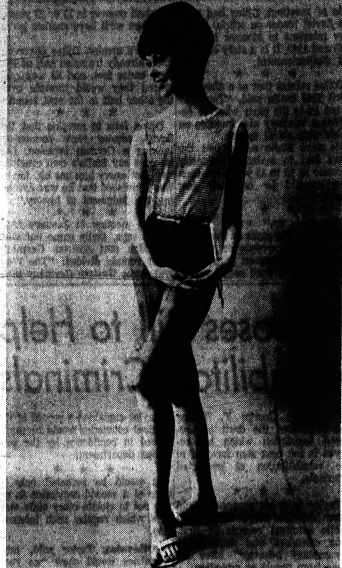

It's smooth sailing with one and two-piece romper suits that move well with you and do more for you by being partly bared, partly covered—all in the right places.

Navy's definitely nautical—we find bell-bottom trousers paired with no coats of navy blue but instead, long hauls of red and white pullovers. Some are sleeveless and some are the long drink of a sweat-shirt, but most slip in hip-hanging pants.

One sure forecast: All make the most of the gentle winds and ready you for a day's sail or a week's cruise.

Vintage bell bottoms return in a new look for summer wear, with a one-piece jump suit in navy and white. The sleeveless, V-neck outfit by Chestnut Hill Sportswear, division of Chestnut Hill Industries, Inc., sports its own brass-buckled navy marshmallow belt. For an individual look, try a matching or contrasting handkerchief tie sash, as illustrated.

Regatta sailmates are ship-shape in shirt and pants twosome of red, white and nautical blue. Here, Bobbie Brooks pairs a sleeveless gob shirt of cotton knit striped with cabin-boy pants in arnel and cotton.

Top Poppy Posters Are Chosen

American Legion Auxiliary of the local Cook-Nelson Post Unit 20, has announced winners in its annual Poppy Poster Contest.

The contest is conducted each year in conjunction with the American Legion Poppy Day Sale, slated this year Thursday through Saturday.

First prize winners in the three classifications are: Carole Graham of Pontiac Central High School, third class, grades 10-12; and Valerie White, McConnell School, first class, grades 4-6.

There were no entries in second class, grades 7-9. Winners in each division participated in the recent 18th District American Legion poster contest. Mrs. David H. Warrlow, auxiliary president and Poppy days chairman, announces that this year's theme is "Remember They Gave and Are Still Giving," adding, "Hospitalized veterans from both world wars and the Korean conflict have very little to look forward to. The poppy sale each year helps them feel more independent, as they make the flowers during the long winter months for funds which help their families and support themselves in a limited way."

Poppy funds are used for disabled veterans' families through the legion's welfare program.

Young Handicapped People Plan Their Club's Annual Card Party

Four years ago a club for young physically handicapped adults, The Tuesday Nites, was founded. Purpose of the organization was to encourage shut-ins to become active in social and recreational activities.

Since the club's founding, members—who must be at least 14 years old—have planned social and recreational activities covering a wide range of interests. Evenings of cards, square dancing and Saturday field trips to Canada have been enjoyed. The group also stresses crafts and music appreciation sessions in selections ranging from Bach to pop.

ACTIVE IN CHARITY

Active in charity work, the club sponsored a Christmas project making possible the presentation of a check to the orthopedic room at Mark Twain School for purchase of equipment. Members have cancer pads and place mats for Oakland County Medical Center Facility and have given holiday baskets to needy families. Easter baskets and Valentines are sent to Oakland County Children's Home.

Current club project is the annual card party at Mark Twain School, 7:30 p. m. Thursday. Proceeds will be used to pay part of camp expenses for members.

PLANNING AFFAIR

General chairman of the affair is John Donaldson whose assistants include Patricia Roehm, refreshments; Gary Burr, tables; Carolyn Fell, table prizes; and Sandra Colton, tallies and table favors. Concluding the committee list are Mrs. William J. Ryan, door prizes; Martin Brown, service; Elaine Schweitzer, tickets; Robert Blackburn, centerpiece; and Robert Jenkinson and Glenn Blackburn, setup and clean-up.

Interested area residents may attend any of the club's meetings held every second and fourth Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Mark Twain School.

Xi Pi Puts On Dinner

Xi Pi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, closed its club year at a dinner party Tuesday in the home of Mrs. John Black of Turgelwood Court, Foxcroft, Bloomfield Township. Cohostesses were Virginia and Margaret Luther and Mrs. Ralph Price.

Forty members attended the celebration of Founder's Day and installation of officers conducted by Margaret Luther.

Mrs. Price is incoming president; Virginia Luther, vice president; Mrs. J. C. Wilkes, secretary and Jean Warnock, treasurer.

Adah Shelly, a former director of the chapter and now honorary member of Beta Sigma Phi International gave a brief resume of several outstanding books she had read recently.

The Tuesday Nites, a recreational and service club for young physically handicapped adults, are completing arrangements for their annual card party Thursday in Mark Twain School. Joining club Secretary-Treasurer Elaine Schweitzer of East Walton Boulevard, (left) at the prize-wrapping table are Sandra Colton, Union Lake, and Robert Blackburn, Orchard Lake.

'Hi-Infidelity'

If the Lady Is a Slob, It May Lead to a Sob

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(Editor's Note—A condensation of Abigail Van Buren's new book "Dear Abby on Marriage" is appearing daily in The Pontiac Press in 24 installments under the serialized title "Hi-Infidelity.")

A wife can be attractive, witty and intelligent, but if she's neglectful of appearances—her own and her home's—she's no prize.

Take personal appearance. I hope your husband isn't the one who wrote this letter.

DEAR ABBY:

My wife sleeps with some deal on her head, and I can't tell whether she's going to bed or to the moon. Not only that, but at bedtime she sneezes a lot of goop all over her face, which has put an end to me giving her a goodnight kiss—or anything else. What's wrong with women today? They try everything in the book to trap a man and, afterwards, they get themselves up like slobbs just when they should look their prettiest.

—DISENCHANTED

The "disenchanted" probably number in the millions because so many women care less about how they look to their husbands than to the meter man. Such women are in the market for misery, and they are the first to write and complain to me that their husbands have started fiddling in greaser postures.

Shape up, ladies! When a woman looks her best, she feels her best. And when she looks like a witch, she acts like one. Ever met a woman on her way to the beauty parlor? She answers your polite questions with snappish monosyllables. But catch her on her way out and she's not the same woman. She lingers longer because she looks like a doll and she knows it. Dolls sometimes remain on the shelves—but a living doll winds up on her husband's lap.

Give your home the same beauty treatment you give your face. When a home is untidy every room whispers to your husband, "She doesn't care what you think of her or her home. She's no longer interested in pleasing you." Stop that whispering campaign. When he comes home at night to a cluttered house, his self-esteem does an about-face at the doorstep; for if you don't care about pleasing him, who does? "Father of Five's" letter is not unique. It could have been written about your neighbor.

DEAR ABBY:

What do you think of a wife who is so busy with Community Chest, PTA, church suppers and scouts that her home looks like a pig pen?

2 That's my wife. After she knucks herself out all day for strangers, she comes home exhausted and irritable and she isn't a fit wife or mother. How can I make her realize that she isn't fair to herself or to her family?

Participating in the Golden Anniversary Celebration of the Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council, Friday evening in Wisner Stadium, were Rebecca Ann Morgan (left), Buckingham Drive, White Lake Township; Mrs. Elwyn E. Tripp, Voorheis Road, council president and Mrs. Edward R. Shields, Oakland Avenue, member of the first troop of girl scouts in Savannah, Ga., in 1912. Monica Bueno of Newton Street, wearing a daisy collar, attends Baldwin School.

8,000 Girl Scouts Assemble

Wisner Stadium buzzed with activity Friday evening when the 8,000 girl scouts of Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council staged their golden anniversary celebration, honoring 50 years of girl scouting in America.

As a fitting prelude to the event, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Shields of Oakland Avenue were driven to the speakers platform in an automobile of 1912 vintage.

Mrs. Shields was a member of Juliette Low's first troop of girl scouts in Savannah, Ga., in 1912.

Some 300 girls marching across the field behind the American and World flags, preceded the first float which carried girls and leaders dressed in Girl Scout uniforms from 1912 to the present.

Richard Morse directed the Pontiac Central High School band which formed the trefoil symbol of girl scouting and a huge "50" formation on the field.

A circle dance and another group appeared in an interpretive dance on the daisy theme.

A nature float featured girl "blossoms" with bees and butterflies.

After the Virginia reel and a square dance, campers filled the field demonstrating hiking, troop and day camping. Resident campers even brought their own portable canteen and canoe.

Two games, Roman riders and dodge ball, preceded Maypole dances performed at the four corners of the field with arts, crafts and homemaking in center field.

Depicting the international phase of girl scouting were dances from Scotland, Denmark, Ireland, Greece, the Slavic countries and Japan.

The Japanese dancers feigned fright and scampered off the field at the appearance of a twisting green dragon with flashing red eyes.

A Senior Girl Scout speaking chorus interspersed the Girl Scout laws earlier in the program and mariner scouts, in bright blue uniforms, properly included a boat in their float.

CARRY SIGNS The senior round-up delegates and alternates carried signs designating their patrol names, the "Apple Lassies" and the "Oakland 50's."

They showed the elder press they have made to take to the national encampment at Button Bay, Vt., and to Three Lakes, Wis., this summer.

Cider-making as a typical Michigan industry will be demonstrated.

Mrs. Elwyn Tripp, council president, gave special recognition to 47 girls who received the Curved Bar Award, highest award in scouting, and 12 Senior Girl Scout graduates.

The playing of taps and retiring of the colors concluded the program.

What a Waste of Energy!

Abby Chokes Over Story

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: If you want to do your readers a big favor, please print my story: I quit a wonderful job and flew to Reno, Nev., to divorce my wife. I set up a six weeks' residency thinking that all I needed.

My wife flew to Reno to contest the divorce. I had to pay for her first-class jet fare and all her expenses. I have spent up in the thousands and still no divorce. Tell those who think it is easy to get a divorce in Reno to save their money and stay home unless they have an agreement before they go.

J.J.
DEAR J.J.: Your story chokes me up. If more married people would spend as much money, time and energy on making their marriages work, as they do on trying to dissolve them, we could turn our divorce courts into bowling alleys.

DEAR ABBY: Your "OLD

MAID" is asleep on her rights. There is a National Old Maid's Day. It was founded in 1949 by Miss Marion Richards of Norristown, Pa. The official date is June 4.

The purpose of establishing Old Maid's Day was not to get "lost," as your correspondent suggested, but to honor less fortunate and unappreciated old maids. For instance, last year I entertained a group of maiden women from the County Home for dinner.

Sincerely,
MISS M.W.
DEAR MISS M.W.: Lovely. Does anyone know if there's a Bachelor's Day? If so, perhaps these two groups could get together and entertain each other.

DEAR ABBY: Who said there ought to be a special day set aside to honor "old maids"? There are two such days. One is "Independence Day" and the other is "Thanksgiving." Sign me—

OLD MAID
DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column from a little boy, who couldn't understand why God didn't answer his prayers when he prayed so hard, remind me of this wonderful story: Tommy, a church-going, 7-year-old, told his playmate that he had been praying all year for a bicycle for Christmas. Christmas came and went and little Tommy did not receive the bicycle.

His playmate asked, "Where is that bicycle you prayed for all year, Tommy? You told me that God answers all our prayers." Tommy thought a moment and then replied, "He answered mine. He said NO!"

How to Keep Your Husband Alive

Many Pains Are Mental

(Editor's Note — Following is the twelfth in a series of 12 articles by Dr. Kenneth C. Hutchin, English doctor and noted author, "How Not to Kill Your Husband.")
BY KENNETH C. HUTCHIN, M.D.

When you see a man paying excess baggage at the airport because he has to take a suitcase full of patent medicines with him, you can be pretty sure that he could save himself money, worry, and pain by leaving them all at home.

A great many people who devote that amount of care to their stomachs have nothing wrong with them. Many are on self inflicted diets for their self inflicted stomach troubles. The measure of how much it ails them is that they have to take various medications immediately after their diet.

A little later they have to take another medicine to counteract the effects of the medicine they have already inflicted on their stomachs, and so their life goes.

FIRED IN MIND
In some ways, stopping this habit is like stopping smoking. If you stop buying stomach medicines, you have nothing to take. "But, doctor," they may answer, "if I do not take my medicine I shall have all this pain." But, sir, if you have all this pain and X-rays have proved that there is no reason for the pain, then I would like to suggest that the pain is in your mind, not in your stomach.

It may be that your husband has been told that his pain is due to spasms of the stomach. This may be true, but the spasms are due to his way of life. Or, he may have made up his mind that if he has all this pain and X-rays can only get there if he swallows it. Gas is not produced in the stomach from the effects of fermentation or acidity.

HE SWALLOWS AIR
Your husband must find out how and when he swallows all this air. You may find it difficult to believe that all this belching, all this pain and distention, are a result of swallowing air when he smokes, when he eats, and most likely, when he drinks. Some people breathe. Many people swallow air every time they try to belch.

Worry will produce sustained loss of appetite. Imagine the situation of a man suffering from nervous dyspepsia due to stress which is preventing his stomach from pouring out hydrochloric acid to digest his food; the level of hydrochloric acid does not rise, therefore the door to his small intestine remains closed.

He pays more alkali — the reverse of acid — into his stomach so that his door continues to remain tightly shut, and digestion is delayed further.

He continues to feel uncomfortable so he takes more alkali and delays matters even more. No wonder he feels uncomfortable. His stomach may even go into a spasm in order to force open the valve into the duodenum so he has some pain. This makes him think he has an ulcer. He then begins to worry about his nonexistent ulcer. So he takes more alkaline powder or more tablets to cure his ulcer.

Now this man has a very simple remedy for his troubles. He can have his case properly investigated so that he can be shown that he has no ulcer.

His doctor can then tell him exactly what he can do with all his powders and pills and medicines. He can then go home and leave his stomach behind at the doctor's.

Other things, aside from a state of aggravation, can cause the stomach to bloat.

There is a form of self-injury common among businessmen in which they hurt insult upon insult at their unfortunate stomachs. They are constantly eating too much of the wrong food and getting too little exercise. They smoke incessantly and drink too much alcohol, often on an empty stomach.

This prolonged overstimulation often results in peptic ulcers. An ulcer is an area in which the mucous membrane lining of the stomach has broken down, so that the underlying tissues become exposed to the action of acid.

Such an ulcer may be in the stomach or in the duodenum. If it is in the stomach, the patient suffers pain in the upper abdomen about half an hour after meals, due to the action of the acid secretions on the exposed tissues. This type of pain is relieved by taking alkaline stomach powders. If the ulcer is in the duodenum the pain is known as "hunger pain" because it occurs about half an hour before meals. It is caused by the fact that the previous meal, plus acid secretions, have passed through the valve into the duodenum where they irritate the ulcerated area. This type of pain is relieved by taking more food.

An ulcer patient may have a period of some weeks or months without any symptoms at all. Then, when he has some minor infection, like a cold, or when he is particularly overworked or overagitated, or when he has neglected himself in some way, the symptoms will recur.

CURE FOR ULCERS
The body is always trying to heal these ulcers. If it were possible to protect the ulcerated area for some time, healing would take place rapidly. The best thing is to reduce the amount of acid by stimulating its secretion, and at the same time to stimulate whatever acid is present by constantly having food in the stomach, and by the aid of long acting alkaline medicines. In some cases an operation known as a partial gastrectomy is performed.

If your husband has an ulcer he must have bland, non-irritating foodstuffs every two hours in order to use the acid in his stomach. Your doctor will order the diet, but it usually consists of four main meals and five extra feeds.

To cure his ulcer, your husband must first stop being easily aggravated, a luxury he cannot afford. Strong feelings are as bad for him as strong drink.

An excellent method of unseething bottled-up aggravation is to talk oneself. You should encourage your husband to do this if you find yourself unable to listen to him without disagreeing with him.

Talking to oneself is an age-old way of relieving pent-up ill feelings which it would be unwise to voice in the hearing of an employer, superior officer, or wife.

Women Gather for Sewing Day

Cancer Pads, Clothing to Mission Hospitals in Making Monday

"How Beautiful is the Green Earth" will be the theme of Rev. F. William Palmer's sermon at 11:15 Sunday morning in the United Presbyterian Church of Auburn Heights. His thought for the service was taken from the German folk song which points out that unless we fill this earth with love its beauty is for nothing.

The Women's Association will sponsor a cooperative luncheon for those gathering Monday for a sewing day. Cancer pads and clothing for mission hospitals will be worked on. The day begins at 10 a. m.

The church softball team will play the second games of the season at 6 p. m.

Families and young people who enjoy roller skating will meet at the church at 8:30 p. m. Monday for an evening of fun at University Roller Rink.

At the Women's Association meeting Tuesday the movie "Through These Hands" will be shown. The picture depicts the work carried on in the church hospitals both in Korea and at Taxila, Pakistan, where Dr. C. A. Brown is located.

Dr. Brown who is particularly associated with the Auburn Heights congregation labors in the eye clinic there.

Special Services at Citadel

Special services in recognition of National Salvation Army Week will be conducted Sunday through May 27 at Pontiac Citadel under the supervision of Lt. Gary B. Crowell.

"We cordially invite the residents of North Oakland County to worship with us in our Corps as we rededicate ourselves to extending a hand of mercy to the poor, the hungry, the troubled and the lonely in the name of Christ," said Lt. Crowell.

At the Sunday service at 11 a. m. tomorrow traditional Salvation Army will be provided by the Citadel Singers and Band.

Guests during the week will be Cadet and Mrs. John Key who will be graduated from the School for Officers' Training in Chicago and commissioned into full time ministry on June 11.

The Keys will conduct services tomorrow and on May 27 as well the midweek service Wednesday evening. They also will conduct services in nursing homes, on the street corners of Pontiac, and visit shut-ins and the sick.

Before entering the Salvation Army ministry, Mrs. Key taught school in Indiana and Michigan. She is a graduate of Taylor University.

Cadet Key was graduated from Taylor University in 1957. He received his master's degree in 1959 from Michigan State University. He taught United States history, physical education and coached football and track.

Despite the rigid attitude of society a century ago, the Salvation Army, founded in the slums of London in 1865, campaigned for more compassionate treatment for society's outcasts and at the same time extended "hands of mercy" to the unfortunate.

Unmarried mothers discharged from hospitals carrying babies in their arms found the doors of society shut to them.

The Salvation Army saw the need for homes in which the mother could remain until suitable arrangements could be made for her and her child.

The Salvation Army has befriended and aided the discharged prisoner and his family. "Hands of Mercy" are stretched out to all those who are troubled, discouraged or despairing.

OFFERS COUNSEL
The troubled family finds help with its problems through the Army. Recreational and character building activities as well as camp experiences help guide children and young people to responsible maturity.

Older people find fellowship through senior citizen's programs.

The Salvation Army through its emergency disaster service, provides hot food and coffee for disaster workers, as well as securing food and shelter for disaster victims.

The Salvation Army in Pontiac was started in 1892. Its early work was held in a livery stable, fish market and an old building before moving into the present site.

In 1921 Captain Herbert Fugnure and the Salvation Army business men's advisory board were responsible for the erection of the present citadel.

Current members of the board include Milton F. Cooney, chairman; Milo J. Cross, vice chairman; Emma C. Kirby, secretary; Emma H. Reynolds, treasurer; Ralph T. Keeling and Bruce J. Amnett.

Others on the board are Stephen J. Cloonan, John C. Cowe, Newton D. Wigant and Elbert Wilnot.

OFFERS COUNSEL—Among the many services a Salvation Army leader performs is that of offering counsel. Here Lt. Gary B. Crowell listens to a young woman who stopped at the citadel, 29 W. Lawrence St. for advice and counsel.

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Atlanta, Ga., will be among the featured speakers at the 1962 annual meeting of the American Baptist Convention and related agencies in Philadelphia, Wednesday through Sunday.

An estimated 18,000 American Baptist delegates and visitors are expected to attend the meetings. Among other speakers will be Harold E. Stassen of Philadelphia, former special assistant to President Eisenhower; the Rev. Dr. Harold Cooke Phillips of Nashville, Tenn., long recognized as one of America's leading preachers; and J. Lewis Miller, Columbia, S.C., layman-president of the National Council of Churches.

Rev. Dr. Warner R. Cole of Detroit, president of the convention, will deliver the presidential address at the opening session 8:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Except for the dedication of the new national office building, all convention sessions will be held at Convention Hall.

At 7:45 p.m. Thursday the fourth-year emphasis of the Baptist Jubilee Advance will be launched. The theme of the year will be "Mission To The Social Frontiers." Rev. Dr. Robert G. Middleton, Kansas City, Mo., pastor, First Baptist Church, will speak on "Evangelism's Social Imperative."

A major address will be delivered by Gov. Rockefeller at a mass rally Saturday morning in Independence Square. Stassen will read a proclamation of freedom. The Cavalcade of Freedom, a motorcade of buses carrying an estimated 10,000 people, will then proceed to Valley Forge for a tour of the new Convention's national offices building.

After luncheon, there will be a dedication service at 2:30 p.m., at which time the general secretary of the convention, the Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Tuller, will deliver the address.

An event that consistently draws the largest audience is the annual missionary dedication service which will take place on Sunday evening. At that time newly commissioned missionaries, who will have across the United States and in many parts of the world, will be dedicated.

Clarifies Policy Against Bias

National Church Body Tells New Members of Rules for Parley Sites

The long-established policy of the National Council of Churches to hold out-of-town meetings only where "facilities are open to all parties" is the subject of a memorandum currently being circulated for the benefit of new members.

The document states that "no segregation of racial groups shall be made in room assignments; no discrimination shall be practiced against any participant in the use of meeting places, building or hotel entrances, lobbies, elevators, dining rooms or other building or hotel services; (and) when the name of the National Council or that of any of its units is used as a sponsoring or cosponsoring organization in regional, state or local meetings, above principle of American Lutheranism at Cobo Hall, Detroit, June 28 to July 1, to form the new Lutheran Church in America."

Noting that racially inclusive meetings can be held in many places where it was assumed they were not possible, the document adds that other places than hotels are available.

In places where transportation is restricted for members of other races, the document recommends that those planning meetings arrange private transportation to avoid embarrassment to delegates. When such arrangements are not possible, it says, "it may be necessary to locate the meeting where transportation facilities make the meeting accessible to all."

Silent Minister Preaches to the Deaf With Hands

POMONA, Calif. (UPI) — A Baptist minister forced into premature retirement when cancer on his vocal cords robbed him of his voice has found a new preaching career.

The Rev. E. Leeper had been a minister and preacher in Kentucky for 40 years when he lost his voice. He moved here to be near a son and found a new life through a missionary to the deaf who encouraged him to learn sign language.

Leeper now preaches with his hands.

Council Asks $7 Million

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — Funds totaling $7,804,509 are sought by the World Council of Churches' division of interchurch aid, refugee and world service in its 1962 program, an increase of $2,338,574 over the amount requested last year.

Women Salvation Army officers are fully ordained and accredited ministers. There are 3,188 women officers in the country.

WIN BANNER — Young people of the Wesleyan Methodist Church display the banner which they won at the last two meetings of the Metropolitan Area Wesleyan Youth sessions. Shown from the local church are (from left) David Wilkie of 146 N. Josephine St., JoAnn Smith of 3591 Walden Road, Lake Orion and Mrs. Walter E. Dumar of 305 E. Oakman St., Farmington. The Pontiac group will have to defend their right to the banner at a picnic on June 16 when they are hosts to the area group at Hawthorne Park.

4 Lutheran Churches to Unite in Merger

Four Lutheran church bodies, of four merging bodies — the American Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Augustana Lutheran Church, the United Lutheran Church in America and the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church (Suomi Synod) — to be held simultaneously, June 25 to 27, also at Cobo Hall.

It will be the largest Lutheran church body in North America, and will rank No. 6 among American Protestant bodies.

The historic constituting convention of the new church will be preceded by the closing conventions has been planning the merger since December 1956.

The Rev. Dr. George F. Harkins, New York, secretary of the United Lutheran Church, has been selected to serve as secretary of the constituting convention. Theme of the convention will be "One Lord, One Faith."

The opening service of Holy Communion, June 28, and the closing Service of Thanksgiving on July 1, will be held in the Convention Arena of Cobo Hall, with business sessions to be held in the convention ballroom.

Speaker at the convention banquet, June 30, will be Dr. Chauncey G. By, president of the ULCA's Theological College, Greenville, Pa., with Judge Luther Youngblood, Washington, D.C., of the Federal District Court, an Augustana layman, as toastmaster.

EVENING OF MUSIC

Another special event will be an "Evening of Music," scheduled for June 28, at Ford Auditorium, with attendance limited to the 2,528 seats in the auditorium.

A 50-piece concert orchestra, members of which will be drawn from the Detroit and Windsor, Ont., symphony orchestras, will be featured. The orchestra will be under the direction of Matt Hall, director of the Windsor orchestra.

Choral numbers will be sung by the Cantata Singers, under the direction of Rosella Durksen, Ann Arbor, including Miss Mason's modern arrangement of "This Be the Feast of Our Lord."

In addition to 1,000 official delegates, approximately 900 "official visitors" and several thousand visitors from all parts of the U.S., Canada and the Caribbean will attend the constituting convention.

Mrs. Regina H. Fryxell, Rock Island, Ill., of the Augustana Lutheran Church, will serve as convention organist.

The Rev. Dr. George T. Miller, Egg Harbor City, N.J., is official convention manager.

Religious Training Ready for Laymen

To prepare lay people to assist the clergy, The St. Pius X Institute in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Madison, Wis., is sponsoring a religious improvement program.

It consists of a two-year course given by a faculty of 11 priest-lecturers in six cities within the diocese. Classes are held once a week for 16 weeks each year.

Currently, the course provides lectures in theology, sacred scripture and methods of teaching religion. Plans are under way to add lectures in church history, liturgy and canon law.

A Cappella Choir Coming to First Free Methodist

The A Cappella Choir of Spring Arbor College will appear at the First Free Methodist Church for the 10:45 morning service tomorrow.

Spring Arbor College, prior to this time a junior college, will graduate its first baccalaureate degree class in June 1965.

Graduates of the college enter many fields of endeavor with the largest percentage of students entering the fields of public school teaching and the ministry, Pastor Loyal H. Howison said.

The Christian Youth Crusaders will hold an honor council and open house from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the church tonight.

The boys and girls have exhibits on display of Bible study work, nature study, maps of mission work, cooking, sewing and many others.

Boys and girls six years of age through 15 years are eligible for membership. They will receive awards and pins for achievements.

A king and queen will be crowned from each group consisting of the Herald, Cadet and Crusader.

Following the program an open house with refreshments will be held in the basement. Mrs. William Courtney is director.

over the dining room table; they are ceramic with gold trim. The dining room furniture is white. Chairs have violet upholstery. At the rear you can see the glass doors leading to the screened porch.

NEW ON SQUARE LAKE — The Bernard Johnsons moved into their tri-level brick and siding home on Square Lake the first part of March. Frericks Brothers were the builders. Brick is pink and stone trim on the porch all-color fieldstone. Since this picture was taken, the Johnsons have seeded their lawn and now worry about the lack of rain. Their house is on Dell Rose Drive.

Bernard Johnsons Moved Across the Street

BY JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

On the day the Bernard Johnsons moved into their new tri-level home on Square Lake, all they had to do was transport their belongings across the road. They now live on the east side of Dell Rose Drive. Their lot is about 200 feet deep with 146 feet on the road and 100 feet on the lake.

The Press photographers and I are used to being greeted at least with some enthusiasm by both humans and animals living in the houses we "do." But the Johnsons have the most beautiful and most suspicious German shepherd we have encountered in a long time. She took a wide detour around us every time she had to pass the place where we were working. (When Ed Noble went back for the exterior shot, she greeted him warmly.)

The Johnsons have three sons. Bruce is married and lives across the street in the house his parents recently vacated. It was his wife, Sue, who welcomed us and showed us the house. Mrs. Johnson, Sr. was working that day.

Gary is a junior at State. Roy, still in high school, lives at home. As you step into the entrance hall you see the living room ahead and the kitchen open at your right. The wall between this kitchen and the living room is just a half wall. When Mrs. Johnson is getting a meal ready, she can take part in company conversation.

Kitchen windows look out on the road. They are dressed with sheer white curtains trimmed in aqua and with aqua tie backs. Walls are white.

The floor is gold-speckled white tile. Counter tops are similar. Cupboards have a fruitwood finish. Twin sinks are turquoise.

The range is one of the new models with a double oven on top and burners that slide beneath the ovens when not in use.

The breakfast table is white Formica. Chairs have walnut backs and beige seats.

Above the counter and desk and half wall are three "Swiss cheese" hanging lamps. One is gold, one turquoise and the third white.

CURVED BAY

There are five windows in the curved bay of the living room. Down the room in the dining section are two more windows and a wall of glass separating this room from the porch. From all the front windows you can look across the lake and see the lights of Miracle Mile.

Floor-length white draperies hang at all the windows. The material has a rough textured horizontal line in it. Walls are white. The textured carpeting is turquoise.

There's a long Lawson type sofa against the end wall. This is upholstered in turquoise and purple material — one thread of each color making the pattern of the fabric. In front of this sofa are three square tables with butterflies in the tops.

Other furniture includes two white leather swivel back chairs. Near the door to the kitchen, halfway down the room, is a little blonde organ.

The dining room furniture is all white. There's a round table, a buffet and four chairs with pale violet seats and backs.

Out on the screened porch is white metal furniture. The table has a glass top. Chairs and the chaise longue have a turquoise and white rose patterned upholstery.

CERAMIC LIGHT

The fixture above the dining room table is unusual. It consists of three drop globes similar to the ones in the dinette area. However, these are white ceramic with a gold flower-trim below the globes.

The family bathroom is pink. Walls and floor are the palest of pink. Paper has pink butterfly. The fixtures are a deep-orange-pink, while the vanity top is covered with a marbled pink plastic. The white curtains which are sheer have pink hangings.

All the bedroom floors are polished oak. All the window sills throughout the house are marble.

Roy's room has cream walls. His bedspread and curtains resemble a leopard skin. Above his desk there is an amusing picture of a leopard stalking a butterfly. Throw rugs are bright orange. The furniture is painted cream.

In Gary's room the furniture is blonde. Bedspreads and curtains are a purple, turquoise and green paisley-like material.

There are interesting unusual touches through the house. For instance, in the upper hall is a sunburst clock. But Mrs. Johnson has painted the wooden spokes that delineate the numbers in alternating olive, turquoise and purple. The face is brass.

In the master bedroom there are criss-cross sheer white ruffled curtains at the windows. Walls are blue.

Chests on either side of the bed serve as night tables. The spread is blue. In one corner is a slipper chair with heart-shaped back. This is upholstered in blue corduroy with the back button tufted.

On the lowest level there's a family room. The floor down here is beige tile. Three walls are painted cream; the fourth one is paneled.

There is a handsome cut stone fireplace with a deep hood that's painted blue.

Draperies are beige with an autumn leaf design. In front of the wide windows there is a bench with orange cushions. A door leads to the future patio.

The sofa is Danish contemporary. Both it and the club chair are upholstered in white leather. The coffee table is oval shaped.

At the back of the room near the stairs is the laundry center. This is hidden behind louvered doors. Just at the left of the stairs as you come down is a little cupboard outside the laundry doors. On top of it is a planter. Above it hangs a brass cone light. Behind the laundry is a lavatory. Frericks Brothers built the Johnson home. The exterior is pink brick.

ROY'S ROOM — Unusual material in a leopard design is used for curtains and bedspread. By now, those trees visible through the window have leaved out, partly hiding the lake.

room? Walls are cream and throw rugs bright orange. The window has leaved out, partly hiding the lake.

GUARDIAN — This handsome German shepherd — Penny — was willing to pose for the photographer if she could keep her distance. She is in the lower level family room. The Johnsons have had no opportunity yet to use their attractive cut stone fireplace with its blue hood. The fireplace wall is paneled. Other walls are painted cream. The floor is beige tile. Leather furniture and plastic topped tables make this an informal room.

TURQUOISE AND WHITE — Mrs. Johnson has a perky turquoise and white kitchen. The fruitwood finished cabinets contrast nicely with the white counter tops and the turquoise double sink. There is turquoise trim on the sheer white curtains. Mrs. Johnson painted the clock above the door in the rear (it goes to the garage) turquoise too. The breakfast set is white Formica with walnut chairs.

CURVED BAY — The bay window in the living room is curved. Through it you can see across Square Lake where the lights of Miracle Mile brighten the sky. Walls and draperies are white. The carpeting is turquoise. That tall bottle is amethyst and the goblet next to the chair blue. The sofa upholstery combines turquoise and purple threads. The lamp next to it has a violet and white base.

Hardboard is Excellent for Stair Wainscoting

Children aren't responsible for all stairway maintenance problems, but their messy handprints and hard-to-remove shoe scuffs do create a problem in many homes. One of the most popular remedies for this problem is wainscoting with washable Marlite planks. The planks, which come in plain colors and high-fidelity wood grains, can be applied right over the old wall surfaces. A damp or sticky cloth will remove all evidences of hard wear. The paneling's tempered hardboard base will not split or dent from abrasion.

An electrical wiring system is no better than its poorest part. Aromatic red cedar closet lining is available at lumber yards in easy-to-handle packages.

Attic Living Area All Inclusive

Most older houses have attics that serve as a general catch-all for old books, broken furniture and every known item. But quite often, most of the attic space is wasted.

Any family with a population growth problem would do well to consider how an attic might be utilized as an extra room or small apartment. It may be that only minor remodeling is necessary to transform this wasted space into a truly livable area.

The area should include all possible conveniences, so the person living there will not have to come downstairs for everything he or she wants. A primary consideration is plumbing.

If possible, plan location of plumbing fixtures directly above a bathroom on the floor below to utilize existing supply and waste lines.

When you talk with a plumbing contractor, who can arrange for the entire remodeling job himself, be sure to ask about the many compact models of lavatories and water closets. Also, a square-type tub-receptor is ideal for a tub and shower combination in close quarters.

Perhaps a kitchenette is included in your attic remodeling plans. Here, too, take advantage of compact models in appliances and fixtures. If there is not room for even a compact stove, refrigerator and sink, consider combination units of stove and sink or sink and refrigerator.

A reputable plumbing contractor will be the best judge of what will work and what won't. His years of remodeling experience are invaluable for the homeowner seeking more livability.

Ceramic Tile on Stairs

If you're tired of repainting stair risers, or replacing carpeting on them, you can solve the problem for all time by surfacing the risers with ceramic tile. You also can eliminate one of the most dangerous household chores — painting the stairwell — by surfacing the walls with tile. The many colors and patterns available will assure an installation that will add permanent beauty to your home.

Two and a half man years are needed to build the average $15,000 house, reports the Home Manufacturers Association.

Line an unused toy box with aromatic red cedar closet lining to create a moth-proof storage area.

Dad Should Have Spot in New Kitchen

Don't forget Dad when you're planning a new kitchen!

Why Dad? In most cases he takes over a portion of the kitchen for his bar supplies, and usually it is right in the middle of the food preparation center.

One practical arrangement is to assign the cabinet space above the snack counter to Dad. That way he can keep all his supplies in one spot, and in a place away from small children.

The snack counter provides a handy spot for mixing drinks, too. He ought to have a stainless-steel bar more aesthetically pleasing, and it can be used on the counter and then put back in the cabinet.

To give this area a masculine decor, panel it with Marlite in a high-fidelity woodgrain. This paneling has a washable plastic surface that will resist alcohol and fruit staining, cigarette burns, and other causes of deterioration.

Hardboard Adds Grand New Look

Long accent walls in the living or dining room can be transformed into eye-catching color areas. These walls can dictate the entire "personality" of a room, according to experienced decorators.

A woodgrain wall in the living room, for instance, will create an informal atmosphere instead of the formal feeling usually associated with a living room.

A bright color on a long wall in a dining room with poor natural lighting will change the entire complexion of the room. In a home with a modern decor, alternating colors can be used on this accent wall.

Ideal for modernization projects are 16" x 8" Marlite planks, which are available at lumber dealers in attractive colors and high-fidelity woodgrains. The planks are installed with wall-board adhesive right over the old walls.

Marlite has a baked melamine plastic surface that can be damp-wiped clean. It never needs painting or refinishing, eliminating expensive redecorating bills in the future.

Another way to accent long interior walls is with 16-inch square blocks of the same plastic-surfaced hardboard material. The blocks come in 11 "companion" colors.

Mustiness Leaves in Wake of Cedar

A good way to improve the appearance of a basement recreation room and eliminate a musty odor is to panel the area with aromatic red cedar.

This wood has an aroma which is best known for its moth-repelling. The aroma is strong enough to overcome the average basement odor. If the odor is due to extreme dampness or dirty plumbing, however, other steps must be taken to eliminate it.

Aromatic red cedar is easy to handle. It is available at most lumber yards in neat packages. Each bundle contains enough cedar strips to cover at least 32 square feet of wall area.

The strips measure from 2 to 4 inches in width and up to 8 feet in length. They are tongue-and-grooved at sides and ends to speed application. Home handymen can install the material without professional help.

Plastic for Carpets

Carpets have become as modern as this minute, report building specialists of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division, and they are easy to contract. A wooden or metal frame can be covered with post-tinted plastic building panels that have a load strength of 100 pounds per square foot to attest their durability.

Stucco Remains Good as Exterior

Once the decision is made to buy a new home, the question arises as to what material the exterior finish should be. Years ago, this was determined by the architectural style of the house—wide wood siding for Dutch colonial designs, brick for colonial and stucco for Spanish and Italian. Today, however, improved and versatile building materials make possible a wide choice of finishes offering combinations of durability, low maintenance and beauty. One of the most popular and versatile of the finishes used in home construction today is stucco. The word "stucco" does not denote a specific material, but rather a combination of a plastic substance and the method of application by applying it in successive coats over a suitable base or backing.

ROOMY AND FLEXIBLE: Basically this is a one-level house with three or four bedrooms, but if built on a backward sloping lot (excavated, if necessary) two more bedrooms could be added plus a fully developed recreation area. A dramatic feature is the balcony extending around two sides.

FLOOR PLANS — Folding partition between living room and den could be changed into permanent wall and fourth bedroom created on main level. Two rear rooms on lower level beneath living and dining rooms cover as additional bedrooms. House contains 1,832 square feet on main level, 1,304 square feet on lower level not counting 528-square-foot garage.

Three Bedrooms or Six? You Can Take Your Pick

By JULES LOH

It's a fact that three-bedroom homes are the easiest to sell, and as long as this is true America's steadily increasing number of large families will tend to remain on the outside trying to squeeze in. No house-hunting couple with a gang of four or five or six kids needs to be told that their choice of new homes is severely restricted. For this reason, among others, today's House of the Week should feet of living area not counting the 528-square-foot garage. The optional lower level would add up to 1,304 square feet of additional living space. Dimensions of the house are 87' wide by 39'2" deep overall. It contains two full baths on the main level plus a lavatory on the lower level.

A striking feature of this house is the balcony around two sides. In fair weather it extends the usable area considerably, as a dining area, play area — even a sleeping area, for those hearty souls who go in for that sort of thing. Another attraction is the increasingly popular open plan of the living and dining rooms and including the den, too, if the partition were opened. All three rooms have double and triple windows plus sliding glass doors which open the broad expanse visually to the outdoor balcony and guarantee plenty of natural light.

The large foyer has a design feature which architect York liked well enough to use on his own house: a brick planter which runs "through" the front doorway glass. (York went even further on his own house, cutting a piece of driftwood in two and matching up the "pieces" half inside and half outside the glass.)

Closet and storage space are abundant in this house. The master bedroom has two walk-in-closets, and there is a walk-in in the second bedroom. And housewives who never can find enough cabinet space in the kitchen would have to look far to find more than this house offers: that wall of cabinets in the dinette is floor to ceiling.

A fireplace, shown as an optional feature, would be an exceptionally effective focal point of interest because of its location opposite the foyer. On the lower level it would become a corner fireplace, equally interesting.

The exterior of this house features generous use of brick in front. The architect suggests cedar shingles for side walls and gable ends would help emphasize its modified traditional character. The roof is asphalt shingle, preferably white, and York says if the brick is red the trim should be white. If a third color is used (perhaps some shade of blue) it probably should be confined to the front door or the underside of the roof overhangs.

Dark Horse Paint Lasts Longer Than White

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The color of your house determines how long it needs to be painted.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that good white paint lasts at least four or five years before needing renewal; tinted paints, five or six years; dark-colored paints, six to eight years.

Be Exact in Building New Storage Space

Buying or building additional shelves or cabinets will usually solve storage problems, but frequently it's difficult to determine how much storage capacity you need. The University of Illinois

Small Homes Council has prepared the following standards for commonly stored household items:

DISHES AND GLASSWARE: Use a cabinet at least 20 inches wide and 12 inches deep. Service for four can be stored in six linear feet of shelving, service for six in nine feet, for eight in 12 feet and for 12 in 18 feet. Nine to 12 items of glassware can be put on one linear foot of shelving. If the items are stored three deep.

BOOKS: About nine books will fit one foot of shelving. Make the shelf 10 to 12 inches deep, and leave a 3-inch vertical space between the top of the books and the underside of the shelf above.

TOYS: Overall height of the unit should be 48 inches or less, so that all shelves will be within your youngsters' reach. Most indoor toys can be accommodated on shelves 12 inches deep. Width is variable.

CLOTHES: You need roughly 48 inches of rod space per person. Men's and women's garments require two to two and one-half inches of rod space each; heavy garments require four inches. Rods used for adult clothing should be 64 inches above the floor (72 inches for robes and women's evening clothes); clothing worn by children six to 12 years old requires a 4-inch rod height.

Allow a foot of depth on either side of the rod. Closet shelves 12 inches deep will hold most apparel items.

INFANTS' EQUIPMENT: The best way to plan space requirements for baby carriages and similar items is to consider each one a cube. Add the cubes together and you'll end up with the total amount of room needed. This table should prove helpful:

| Item          | Length Inches | Width Inches | Height Inches |
|---------------|---------------|--------------|---------------|
| Baby carriage | 36            | 23           | 39            |
| Play pen      | 42            | 7            | 34            |
| Stroller      | 38            | 24           | 36            |
| Basinet       | 33            | 18           | 22            |

Use adjustable shelves wherever possible for flexibility. In enclosed units, doors should extend the full width and height of the storage space to provide maximum accessibility. Don't put the top shelf any higher than six feet above the floor if frequently used items are going to be placed on it.

Don't Just Day Dream About Remodeling

It's a good idea to keep up with your dreams about your home as much as possible. Some people get so accustomed to yearning for home improvements that eventually they content themselves just with ideas that some day it could happen.

If one can afford it, some of these desires should be put into reality so that one can feel progress. It's good for the morale.

Annual Tug of War Starts Over 15-Mill Tax Limitation

The annual tug of war over the 15-mill tax limit on Oakland County property owners has begun.

The County Tax Allocation Board, which meets today, will decide what the county's millage rates for schools, townships and county government will be.

The board has until the end of the month to determine what share of the 15 mills to give to each unit.

If all units were allocated the millage rates they have requested, 25 mills instead of the 15 set by state law, the board noted.

LAST TO PRESENT

County government was the last unit to present its budget to the board yesterday with a 6.18-mill request to finance operations in 1963.

Last year's allocation board gave the county 5.25 mills.

The tug of war began immediately. Allocating 6.18 mills to the county would mean cutting tax money for schools by $1.5 million, board member William J. Emerson said.

He also is county superintendent of schools.

A motion by Austin to allocate 6.18 mills to the county was defeated by a 4-2 vote of the board.

Ensuing motions to set the rate at 5.50 mills, 6 mills and 5.75 mills failed equally.

In each case Emerson argued that the schools should not be expected to trim their budgets for the benefit of county government.

In the last vote of the day, the board tied 3-3 on a motion to allocate 5.35 mills to the county.

ADJOURN TILL MONDAY

Members then adjourned until Monday when they are scheduled to resume consideration of preliminary rates.

Final rates cannot be determined until after the State Equalization Board decides what the county's equalized valuation as a tax base will be this year.

Meanwhile, the allocation board is basing its preliminary deliberations on a tentative $2,112,408,300 county equalized valuation.

Soviets Chase Boats From Fishing Bank

VADSO, Norway (AP)—Soviet torpedo boats drove about 50 Norwegian, French and British fishing vessels away from fishing grounds in international waters off northern Norway, a Norwegian shipper reported today.

Knut Blifkelt said he saw the Soviet flotilla intercept the trawlers Thursday at the Kildin Bank, 27 miles off Vadso, and well north of Soviet territorial waters.

Vadso, a Norwegian fishing center, lies 110 miles northwest of the Soviet port of Murmansk.

Lots of Speeches Vowed by Ike in 1962 Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee said yesterday that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has agreed to make a fair number of speeches in the coming congressional campaign.

The committee said one of the Eisenhower appearances would be in Boston around his 72nd birthday Oct. 14. A nationwide television hookup is possible if expenses can be raised.

A committee spokesman said another appearance will likely be in Indiana where he would speak for House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck.

The committee spokesman said Chairman William E. Miller expects Eisenhower to campaign in what was described as some key districts. No dates or places have been set.

Dismiss Contempt Case Against Singer Seeger

NEW YORK (AP)—A Federal Appeals Court today threw out the contempt of Congress case against folk singer Pete Seeger, who was sentenced to prison when he refused to say whether he ever was a Communist.

A three-judge U.S. Court of Appeals panel only recently rescinded the one-year prison sentence assessed against Seeger, but dismissed the contempt indictment against him as well.

Anne Busy Promoting All-Important Role

NEW YORK—Anne Bancroft marveled out loud the other rainy afternoon at all the years she has given to playing Helen Mirra's famous battered and bruised teacher, Annie Sullivan.

"They've asked me how old I was when I started working on the role. Well I was 37," Miss Bancroft said.

"And in September," she said, "I'm going to be 31. Patty Duke is a woman now. She was just a baby with dolls when we started. Now she's walking around in sweaters and skirts and talking about boys! I'm still working on that role..."

Actually, Anne's mostly traveling, promoting the movie version of the story now, leading in the predictions that it'll win next year's Oscar. She must rush off to film festivals in Spain, or greet a girl student from Helsinki who's playing "The Miracle Worker" twice a week there, talk to people like me who have great curiosity about her.

"How did it happen," I asked her, "that one day you were just a pretty little movie actress and the next day you were some kind of a sensation?"

"Arrived"—is that what you mean? Anne was thinking over the question.

She admitted that she "arrived" when she played Gittel Mosca in "Two for the Seesaw"—after several years of undistinguished picture acting—and she added, "I'd played the part of Gittel a year before, I couldn't have done it as well."

"I went into analysis, divorced my husband, gave up Hollywood and came back to New York, and went back to school."

"I found out how miserable I was. I was blaming everybody else for my troubles. I didn't know that sometimes it was my fault..."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Huma Cronyn, now working in "Cleopatra," wrote a friend, "Sometimes I have a nightmare—that we've finished the picture—and I discovered there was no film in the camera! ... Carol Channing, was asked if she'd do a Gracie Allen routine in her act with George Burns. 'Not quite Gracie,' she said kiddingly. 'I'm even dumber.'"

Comic Jackie Clark signed a three-year deal with the Las Vegas Riviera.

Veteran dancer Pat Rooney will be saluted on his 82nd birthday at Roseland, July 3... Ann Sheridan showed some of the old-time comedy, dug a hula at the Hawaiian Room.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Col. Glenn can't look forward much to his next vacation. After all, he's been everywhere three times.—Hugh Allen.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Economists say that in 1963 the average American will earn twice as much as an Englishman, three times as much as a Frenchman—and half as much as he needs.

EARL'S PEARLS: Life would be enjoyable if you didn't have to work your way through it.

Vito Pina of Cines watched opera star Cesare Siepi play a restaurant in the show "Bravo, Giovanni!" and said critically, "Very good—he knows how to seat a customer..." That's earl, brother.

Alert Idlewild Crash Crews Three Times

NEW YORK (AP)—Emergency crews were alerted three times within 30 minutes yesterday at Idlewild Airport after planes experienced mechanical difficulties. All the craft landed safely.

Between 11:25 and 11:55 a.m., crash crews stood by as:

Trans World Airlines jet DC-6 from Norfolk, Va., with only the crew aboard, landed with only three engines operating.

An Air Force four-engine Constellation also landed on three engines.

A National Airlines four-engine DC-6 from Norfolk, Va., with only the crew aboard, landed with only three engines operating.

EAST LANSING (AP)— With an assist from National Guardsmen, state police will step up their traffic patrols during Memorial Day holiday May 30.

State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs said yesterday guard members will work with troopers on two-man patrols, with special attention given to high accident areas.

Today's hand represents an experiment. I made it up and put it in play in a strong duplicate game. Every East player opened a diamond and nine South players arrived at four spades.

All Wests opened the queen of diamonds. Five South players covered with the king and four of them went down.

It seems that four East players were smart enough to figure that the second diamond trick would keep. Each one had the queen of clubs. It made no difference which club South used to win the trick.

Free World Import of Soviet Oil Should Be Curbed

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has reportedly served notice that as long as the United States is carrying the heaviest burden of free world defense, we intend to continue asserting strong leadership whether our critical Western Allies like it or not. Many congressmen are saying

"Bravo," and "We hope he means it." Sen. Kenneth Keating has gone a step further:

Warning of a new Soviet oil offensive, the New York senator has urged Kennedy to insist that NATO curb the free world importation of Soviet oil.

Keating flatly predicts that the Soviets will take over the oil markets of the world within three years, unless we act quickly.

Since he does not hail from an oil state like Texas or Oklahoma, his primary concern is not the loss of U.S. markets.

Rather, he is alarmed about security, through the squeeze that Russia can put on free nations who become dependent on her for their vital oil lifeline.

Reminding of what happened to Japan in 1936 when the Russians refused to honor their oil contracts, he said that if another Suez-type crisis arose in the Middle East "blocking oil shipments from there to Europe, the Soviets could use their increasing share of the market to influence vital political decisions."

That the Soviet drive is on is self-evident. Now engaged in the kind of ruthless price cutting and monopolistic tactics that are outlawed in this country, Russia is selling oil to Argentina for as little as $1.50 a barrel, while charging her next-door satellite neighbor, Poland, $2.87 for the same product.

The drastic undercutting is obviously for political rather than economic purposes, since no one can afford to sell oil for any length of time at such bargain-basement prices.

A prime example of the changing oil picture is Ceylon. Three major Western oil companies who have been supplying Ceylon for the past 40 years have suddenly lost that market to the Soviets.

We have been given Ceylon for decades; yet that once-sitting nation has abruptly appropriated the American and British oil companies, formed a government-owned monopoly, and signed a trade agreement to buy oil from Russia.

Western nations as usual are supplying the materials which make it possible for the Soviet Union to out-smart us at our own game. Thanks to its purchase of 240,000 tons of pipe from Italy, 150,000 tons from Britain and 130,000 tons from Sweden, Russia is tremendously expanding her pipelines to western Europe.

Among her eager cut-rate customers are Brazil, Chile, India, Egypt, Iraq, Bolivia, Austria, Norway, Sweden, Japan, Iceland, Afghanistan, Ethiopia and Pakistan. By increasing their economic dependence on the Soviet Union, these countries are leaving themselves wide open to future pressures, as well as current subversion. Soviet oil exports double as oil, and the export of pipelines and refinery equipment?

Or must we always be so sweet?

The world's second largest oil producer, Russia has practically limitless petroleum resources. Since armies as well as industry depend on oil, the danger to the free world is obvious.

America imports no Russian oil, and exports no pipelines to Iron Curtain countries.

The same cannot be said for our ever-loving Allies, who blithely carry on a flourishing trade which strengthens the Soviet Union, while demanding that we pick up the check for most of the free world defense against communism.

The security of three European nations rests largely on NATO, which is chiefly supported by us. Is there therefore any logical reason why we cannot insist on curbs against the imports of Soviet

Brief Meeting Shapes Up for Waterford Board

Monday's meeting of the Waterford Township Board is shaping up as a brief one unless some late items of business swell the presiding agenda.

The board will act on a request from the water department that Water Superintendent Kenneth Squires be allowed to attend the annual American Waterworks Association Conference June 17-22 in Philadelphia.

Requests also will be reviewed concerning the issuance of fireworks permits to the Waterford and Pontiac Drive-In theaters for their annual Memorial Day programs.

Three plumber bond renewals and one new plumber bond application will also receive consideration.

Judge Rejects Dismissal Move

Six Men Are Charged in Oakland Court in $100,000 Swindle

Motions aimed at dismissing fraud charges against six men were denied yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Visiting Judge Leon Dardas, of Bay County, denied the motions at a hearing in the courthouse law library.

All six men are alleged to have worked a $100,000 fraud plan through the Fedsale branch of the General Public Loan Co., 2248 Woodward Ave.

The defendants are Ivan Batten, 46, 2959 Half River Road, Southfield; Frank Bonas, 12225 Wale St., Huntington Woods; Peter Lazaros, 27, 2410 Daleford Road, Troy; Robert Levine, 27, Detroit; Gino Ronchetto, 33, Garden City; and William Teet, 29, Detroit.

Formal charges against the men are obtaining money under false pretenses, and conspiracy to avoid paying the state sales tax.

Another hearing is set for Thursday at which Judge Dardas will rule on motions demanding separate trials for the defendants.

Trial is scheduled to begin June 5 at the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Reports Gifts to Republicans

3 Oakland Residents Contributed $2,500 to Political Party

Republicans received total contributions of at least $2,500 last year from three Oakland County residents, including the late Charles E. Wilson, according to a report to the clerk of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Records show $1,000 apiece contributed by Wilson, former president of General Motors and finance secretary of defense, and Roger J. Emmert, retired GM executive living in Birmingham.

Another $500 contribution is credited to Max M. Fisher, of Farmington Township. Fisher is president and board chairman of American Gasoline Co. and finance chairman of George Romney's campaign for governor.

Federal law requires political groups receiving contributions of $500 or more to report them to the House clerk.

Henry Ford II, company board chairman, contributed $1,000 to the Democratic National Committee. The money apparently was spent for tickets to a $100-a-plate dinner for President Kennedy.

Ford was an early booster of former President Eisenhower.

Two contributions totaling $1,500 were made by Mrs. B. Ford, and one by his sister, Mrs. Walter B. Ford, of 5000 to the Republican National Committee office the Democratic party contribution.

Robert S. McNamara, who resigned as Ford president to become the present secretary of defense, was not listed as a contributor.

Gov. Swainson Gives Up Hope on Income Tax

Assails State GOP as Wrecker of Efforts for Fiscal Reform

LANSING (AP).—Gov. Swainson has thrown in the towel in his battle for fiscal reform, killing off virtually the last chance for passing of a state income tax this year.

Swainson, with an angry blast at what he called "a Republican mess in Michigan," conceded yesterday that any further attempt to push an income tax package through the legislature would be futile.

"I regret to announce that insofar as I can determine, fiscal reform is dead in Michigan in 1962," the Democratic governor told a special news conference. "It is dead because the Republican party killed it."

The governor's decision very likely sets the stage for majority Republicans to put through a package of "nuisance" taxes on beer, cigarettes, telephone service and like items.

It also clears the way for adjournment of the legislature, which has entangled itself in a bitter stalemate in the battle over taxes.

Until yesterday, there was no end in sight in the partisan tug-of-war that threatened to carry up to the state's new fiscal year July 1 and beyond.

In clipped and angry words, the governor told newsmen:

"The way things are, there is no hope of anything happening in the legislature. They took a long weekend again yesterday after very few hours of working. Time is running out."

STILL FAVORS REFORM

Swainson, who has fought hard for two years to win legislative approval of a tax program, geared to a personal and corporate income tax, said he still favors sweeping reform of the state tax structure.

"But I'll probably be faced with the choice of two evils," he said. "No increase at all, which would result in chaos, or nuisance taxes. Faced with that choice, I'll keep the state afloat."

Feel Titov Green by Our Scale

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP).—Officials of the U.S. astronaut program feel that Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov is "pretty green" by American standards of flight experience.

A spokesman for Project Mercury said this "relative inexperience" of Titov may have made him nervous during his flight and contributed strongly to the slight case of motion sickness he reported.

The spokesman, Lt. Col. John A. Powers, public information officer of the seven Mercury astronauts, volunteered these views when a reporter asked whether Navy Lt. Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter had any history of motion sickness.

Powers said Carpenter had no such history and that it was deemed unlikely he would experience any in his projected three-orbit flight. He noted that Titov had reported that he had had only 350 hours of pilot flight time in aircraft before soaring into space.

This compares, said Powers, with at least 1,000 hours for each of the seven Mercury astronauts. He said Mercury officials think that a nervous reaction due to relative lack of flying experience, possibly had a strong contribution to the mild but nauseous discomfort that Titov said he felt during the 6th of his 17 whirls around the planet.

Rain Should Put End to Heat Wave Tonight

Scattered thundershowers this evening will put a damper on the five-day record-breaking heat wave that has been roasting the Pontiac area in 59 degree temperatures.

Cooler temperatures with a low of 63 is predicted for tonight. Partly cloudy skies with a high of 80 is the forecast for Sunday. Fair weather with normal temperatures for this time of year are predicted for the area on Monday.

The last heat wave occurred the last three days of June and the first day of July in 1961, from 50 to 87.

From August 20 to 26, 1959, the mercury simmered Pontiac in temperatures that ranged from 70 to 90.

In midsummer of 1955, we had two heat waves. The first was from July 30 to August 5, when the temperatures averaged from 85 to 90. From August 18 to August 21, the temperatures rose from 80 to a scorching 100.

This past week's temperatures day 91 on Wednesday, and 93 on both Thursday and Friday.

Many heat-stricken Pontiac area residents took to the water and parks during the week to escape the hot spell, while the kids found the cool spray of lawn sprinklers ideal to beat the heat.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 69. At 1 p.m. the mercury at the Press measured a high of 79.

Morning winds were light and variable. They became southerly at 10 to 20 miles per hour in the afternoon and are expected to shift to westerly during the night.

Thousands Flock to Area Parks for Outdoor Fun

Thousands of Pontiac area folks have already taken advantage of cooling waters and scenic woods for outdoor fun, as park officials trace themselves for one of the biggest seasons in history.

Last week's count at Pontiac Lake was 1,450 and a total of 25,000 people have used the park since the beginning of the year.

Inspects Yanks on Laos Border

Gen. Harkins Flies to Check Defenses; Red China Issues Threat

From Our News Wire
UDON, Thailand — Gen. Paul D. Harkins flew on an inspection round of U.S. forces sent to bolster Thailand's defenses along the border of Communist-occupied Laos today and praised the speed with which the American Marines were digging in.

Heavy rains of the monsoon season lashed the rice paddy field where the Marines were camped near this town 30 miles from the Laos border, and the general declared they must soon be moved.

"The local Thais have been very generous," he said, "but we've got to get the men to suitable high ground. Where they are now it floods too easily."

Harkins, top commander of U.S. forces in Thailand and South Vietnam, was accompanied on his rounds by Lt. Gen. James L. Richardson Jr., chief of the Thailand command.

The inspection tour followed a warning by Communist China that if war breaks out in Southeast Asia the United States "will suffer a worse defeat than it did in Korea."

In one of the strongest warnings in years, the communist Chinese said they "can absolutely not tolerate... any new military bridgeheads" by the United States in areas bordering on the China mainland.

"We must serve a fresh warning to the Kennedy government that it shall be held fully responsible for all grave consequences arising from its policy of playing with fire," the official Peking People's Daily said in an editorial.

Claims Autobahn Arrests

BERLIN (AP).—West Berlin police and newspapers said today the Communists are arresting travelers on the autobahn to Berlin raising fears the Reds may be trying to harass the main land route to the encircled city.

Mental Patient Is Being Sought in Milwaukee

Davis' Car Discovered Following Accident in Wisconsin City

By DON FERMOYLE

Fingerprints found at the scene of the Charles A. Davis murder were matched today with those of a Pontiac State Hospital mental patient who fled the grounds Tuesday night hours before the murder.

The suspect is being sought in Milwaukee, Wis., where Davis' car was discovered after a hit-run accident early Thursday morning.

The fingerprints have been identified as those of Sheldy W. Topp, a 17-year-old Mount Clemens youth with a past record of sex offenses. The Sheriff's Department has obtained a warrant, charging Topp with first degree murder.

Detective Charles Whitlock of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department said today that the fingerprints provide a second clue which link Topp to the fatal stabbing of Davis, Oakland County's first assistant corporation counsel.

Whitlock said a Detroit Motor Truck and Coach Division employee supplied seeing a "hulky Negro" about 17 or 18 years old riding a bicycle east on South Boulevard about midnight Tuesday.

Topp, a Negro, is 5'10" tall and weighs about 170 pounds. He walked away from the hospital grounds about 10 p.m. Tuesday, according to Dr. Walter H. Obermeyer, Pontiac State Hospital superintendent.

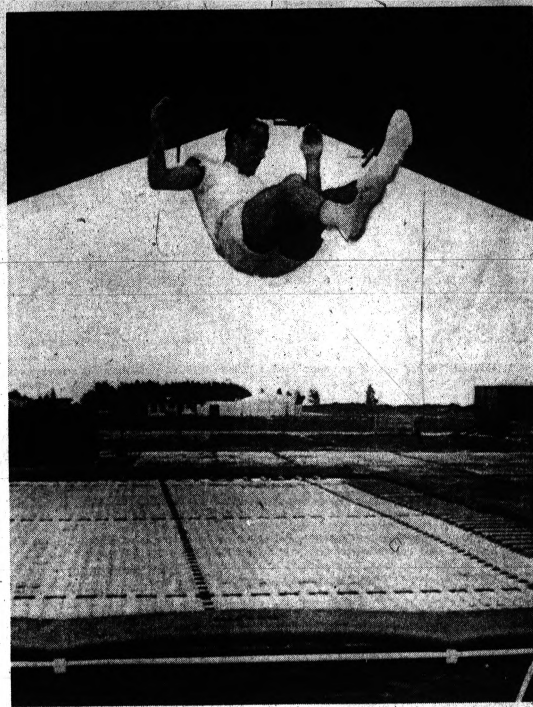

The bicycle found Thursday afternoon in front of the slain man's home at 2805 South Blvd. has been identified as one stolen from 178 Florence St., near the grounds. It was taken between 7 and 10 p.m., police said.

The Pontiac witness, whose name is withheld by police, also said the youth on the bike was wearing a red shirt or sweater. The witness remembers the youth well because his car headlights shone on him, according to Whitlock.

A Milwaukee Newshy who reported seeing a driver fleeing from a hit-run accident Thursday morning also described him as a young Negro wearing a red shirt. The car was discovered yesterday to belong to Davis. It was left at the accident scene when the driver fled on foot.

Charge Hoffa Took $1 Million Illegally

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP).—Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa was indicted by a federal court jury here Friday on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Law and collecting some $1 million illegally.

The two-count indictment, which involved payment through an auto transport firm incorporated in Nashville, was revealed in Washington by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

The attorney general, along with his brother President Kennedy, then a senator, participated in an investigation of the firm by the McClellan committee looking into improper labor practices.

Hoffa, who pleaded innocent earlier Friday to a charge of assault pressed by a union aide, declined to discuss the new indictment with newsmen. But a spokesman official in Chicago said Hoffa "shed no tears" when informed of it.

Hoffa, who flew to Chicago for two scheduled talks after his Washington court appearance, sent Harold Gibbons, executive vice president of the Teamsters, as a substitute at a scheduled Chicago press conference.

"If it (the indictment) is anything like other indictments against labor leaders in this country," Gibbons told newsmen, "the essence of it is anything but the truth."

If convicted, Hoffa could be sentenced to up to one year in prison and fined $10,000 on each of the two counts.

At Orlando, Fla., federal court has under advisement a petition by Hoffa's lawyers to dismiss a federal mail fraud indictment based on a land development deal involving alleged misdeeds of half a million dollars of teamster union funds.

Indicted with Hoffa at Nashville was Commercial Carriers, Inc., a Detroit auto transport firm charged with setting up the Tennessee firm, Test Fleet Corp., and throwing lucrative Cadillac auto hauling business its way.

At the time, Commercial Carriers had a labor contract with the Teamsters Union.

The indictment charges Hoffa and the late Owen Brennan, former Teamster vice president, received $1,000,000 from Commercial Carriers through Test Fleet, the stock of which had been transferred by Commercial Carriers to Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Brennan under their maiden names.

New Responsibilities Hike County Budget

A $1,709,616 increase in next year's tentative budget for county government yesterday has been partly blamed on a shifting of responsibilities by the state.

"Many public services which have in the past been handled by state government have grown in size and scope to the point where, rightly or wrongly, the state no longer completely supplies the care, facilities and services required," County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard told the County Tax Allocation Board.

"These include the welfare program, medical care and mental health where the county is carrying a larger share of the load each year," he added.

The statements were made in presenting the county's $16,555,282 tentative budget to the tax allocation board with a request for 6.18 mills to finance the budget next year.

Barnard made the opening presentation before the board. Following are the other reasons he cited for the rising cost of county government.

"Many major public facilities which serve more than one city or township and are too large to be financed or constructed by one local unit of government must be handled by a larger agency, such as the county."

EXPANDED ACTIVITIES
"For example, in recent years the county has taken action in the field of public works, drains, water systems and sewage treatment and disposal systems, public health including clinic and laboratory facilities, hospital and school immunization and naturalization office, said last night that airline and shipping companies are being notified they will be penalized if they give Estes passage out of the county."

In Washington, James L. Hennessy, executive assistant to the commissioner of immigration and naturalization, confirmed issuance of the notice to all ports in the nation for relay to transportation firms.

And in Houston, Horace C. Harris, officer in charge of the city's immigration and naturalization office, said last night that airline and shipping companies are being notified they will be penalized if they give Estes passage out of the county.

He described the order as a fair routine under the McCarran law. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Questioned on Science Exhibits

TRUTH AND CONSEQUENCES — Pontiac Schools Supt. Dana P. Whitmer yesterday took a lie detector test on the home-built equipment of fifth grader Larry Hecow (right), of 34 Cherokee Road and confessed at least six elementary School Science Fair exhibits deserved awards. Receiving the honors along with Larry are (left to right) Robert Yates of 5 Union

Court; Keith Lawrence of 155 N. Johnson St. and Jeffrey Ross of 305 Draper Ave., all three Webster City graders; Bonnie Bussard of 1081 Berwick Blvd., first grader; and Carol Haines of 206 N. Hammond Lake Drive, Whitford fourth grader. A total of 4,500 persons toured 461 exhibits at the recent fair.

Debre Testifies in Paris

Denies Salan Death Plot

PARIS (AP)—Former Premier Michel Debre branded lies today reports that he had helped organize an unsuccessful assassination attempt against ex-Gen. Raoul Salan in 1957.

Debre summoned as a witness in the treason trial of Salan, bitterly assailed the terrorist Secret Army Organization that Salan led until his recent capture in Algeria. He said the secret army was ruining chances for Europeans to live in peace in an independent Algeria.

SAT QUIETLY

Salan, accused of taking part in the Algiers generals' putsch in April 1961, and of leading the secret army, sat quietly in the prisoner's box as Debre testified.

Salan was summoned at Salan's request. He was the first witness at the fifth day of the trial, which could end in a death sentence for Salan, 62.

Debre, wearing a dark blue suit and tie, appeared solemn but relaxed as he stood before the nine-man military and civilian tribunal.

He pleaded for audience to President Charles de Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria and occasionally turned to ward where defense attorneys sat directly in front of Salan, but never looked directly at the silver-haired defendant.

BLAMES EVENING

Debre, who stepped down as premier only a month ago, bitterly blamed an old political enemy, Sen. Francois Mitterrand, for dragging his name into a 1957 bazaar shell fire aimed at Salan's Algerian offices killed an aide. Salan had departed moments earlier.

Debre said reports of his involvement had first been leaked to the leftist press almost a year after the attack occurred and that at that time Jacques Soustelle was mentioned as the most important plotter. Soustelle, then a deputy, aided in De Gaulle's return to power in May 1958. He long since has broken with the president.

He added there was a need "to plan our total educational enterprise in terms of the life-long education needs of individuals."

OAS Gunmen Attack Police Headquarters

ALGERS (AP)—Secret Army Organization terrorists attacked mobile gendarmes stationed in the Summer Palace with mortar fire today, then fled before a determined counterattack.

Other gendarme units were called into the area to throw a blockade around it as the palace unit and the secret army's commandos exchanged fire.

The rattle of automatic weapons fire sent people in the area scurrying into hiding.

The Summer Palace, a splendid white-walled building in Moorish style and surrounded by a white wall, was long the symbol of French authority in Algeria.

It is not far from the heart of the city on a broad, palm-lined street that was once a pleasant strolling place.

In suburban Guyotville a half-dozen uniformed men showed up at a trade school, ostensibly to receive the guard detail on duty. When the regular guards had departed, they blew up three small buildings.

First Candidate Files in County

Southfield Republican Making Second Try for Drain Commissioner

While others talk politics, Art Becker acts.

At the moment, the 44-year-old Southfield Republican is the only official candidate for any office in Oakland County.

Others have declared their intentions to run but Becker, taking the lead in the race, is the only candidate to file nominating petitions for the Aug. 7 primary.

That's what it takes to make a talking candidate a real candidate, according to the election clerk's office.

Filing deadline this year is June 19 and most candidates wait until the last moment, much to the dismay of county election officials.

SKIPS ANNOUNCEMENT

Not Becker. Without formal announcement, he set out to circulate petitions and has filed the required number.

Becker will oppose Daniel Barry, incumbent Republican drain commissioner.

Becker, who lost to Barry in the 1958 primary, is vice president of Becker Brothers Printing Co. in Detroit.

He is vice commander of an American Legion post and a member of the VFW.

In 1960, Becker lost a primary bid for the 4th District legislative seat to Rep. Ray Baker, R-Berkley.

As Astronaut Waits

Work on Parachute

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., (AP)—Engineers worked busily today to change the parachute system to return astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter safely from orbit.

And Carpenter—the man most concerned—can be expected to keep a sharp eye on the sudden engineering change which delayed his space ride until at least next Tuesday.

Carpenter, a Navy lieutenant commander, may also have to visit with his blonde wife, Rene, who came here to watch her husband's great venture into space.

Mrs. Carpenter is the first wife to come to this space port area actually to witness a flight. The Carpenter's four children, many also arrive, perhaps the day before the flight.

Whether it will zoom off on Tuesday depends partly on completion and checkout of the change in automatic controls designed to assure safe parachute landing chute to earth.

The parachute system had worked perfectly on five returns of capsules until John H. Glenn Jr.'s trip on Feb. 23. Glenn's small or drogue stabilizing chute popped out sooner than planned, at 27,000 feet rather than 21,000 feet. His real life saver, the 60-foot main parachute, did not open automatically as planned at about 10,000 feet.

But engineers and officials worried whether the same mishap could happen with the main parachute, said William B. Bland, an engineer of Project Mercury.

Tests to learn the cause of the Glenn incident continued to the last minute with indications that a stray electrical impulse might have triggered the premature release of the drogue. Bland told a news conference.

The engineering change decided upon after tests Thursday, calls for some rewiring and addition of another barostat, a device to measure atmospheric pressure.

Claims Failure to Plan Problem in Education

Failure to plan a person's learning for his entire life cycle is in part responsible for many of the failures in today's education.

This was the warning given last night by Maurice F. Seay, director of the education division of the Kellogg Foundation, while addressing the third annual recognition dinner of the faculty of the Continuing Education Division at Michigan State University.

Seay also cited the "failure to use effectively the many resources available and to avoid needless duplication and to eliminate serious gaps" as partly responsible for the dropout and youth unemployment problem.

Seek Mental Patient in Davis Slaying

body was discovered, Oakland County Sheriff's detectives theorized that the killer drove the bicycle to the home, loaded Davis and then escaped in his car.

Detective Sgt. Harry Maur of the Sheriff's Department said robbery no longer appears to be the motive for the killing. Whitlock and Maur agreed that someone could have entered the home, expecting to find a woman in the bedroom where Davis was stabbed four times and struck on the head with a flashlight.

COULD SOLVE PROBLEM

This explanation could solve some inconsistencies in the robbery motive, according to the detectives.

Although the dead man's car was stolen, the house was not ransacked. There were no bills in Davis' wallet. However, the car could have been taken and money removed from the wallet only as an afterthought, the detectives theorized.

The intruder also made no effort to cover his trail from the kitchen of the home. A kitchen knife believed used in the stabbing was discovered in the backyard next to the garage.

Maur said the fingerprints which matched Topp's, were found in the kitchen of the Davis home.

Whitlock, who apprehended Topp on Auburn Road in one of two previous escape attempts from Pontiac State Hospital, said the youth may have been heading for his parents' home in Mount Clemens via South Boulevard Tuesday night or early Wednesday.

Dr. Richard E. Olsen, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital pathologist who performed the autopsy, estimated Davis died late Tuesday or early Wednesday, about two hours after eating.

A close friend of Davis, Steven Vogler, 43, 56 S. Squirrel Road, Pontiac, said he and the murder victim had a snack together about 11 a.m. Tuesday. Vogler said he was then driven home by Davis, who apparently then immediately returned to his own home.

Davis, who was living alone while his mother was visiting his brother in Yuma, Ariz., apparently was in bed when the killer entered his second-floor bedroom.

He was hit over the head with a flashlight and stabbed twice in the neck and once each in the face and chest, Dr. Olsen said.

The Davis home, about a half mile from the nearest neighbor, is approximately one mile east of Oakridge Road.

Dr. Ohsen said Topp came to the Pontiac State Hospital on Oct. 9, 1959. He was placed in a closed ward but managed to escape on Dec. 17 of that year and struck an aged woman over the head when she discovered him sleeping in her house, Ohsen said.

The woman did not suffer any permanent injury, and Pontiac Police returned Topp to the hospital the next day.

A second escape by Topp was recorded last year. He was captured the same day.

Before coming to the hospital, Topp had been by Boys' Republic. Dr. Ohsen said Topp was suffering from "an adjustment reaction to adolescence but was not psychotic."

Youth Released From Hospital

Ex-Hillsdale Student Bludgeoned Roommate to Death With Gun

IONIA (AP)—Patrick Flannery, who bludgeoned his Hillsdale College roommate to death with a shotgun nearly four years ago, yesterday was freed from Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

Condemnation Delay Denied

St. Alberts Birginal, medical superintendent of the hospital, testified that Flannery is now sane and his freedom will not constitute a danger to the community.

Flannery was picked up at the hospital by Louissell and was expected to return today to his parents' home in the Detroit suburb of Berkley.

The younger Flannery, a sports star at Royal Oak's Shrine High School and a freshman at Hillsdale at the time of the slaying, testified at his trial that he was haunted by visions of the devil.

The slaying victim was Thomas Nettling, 21, a Hillsdale student from Tecumseh, who shared a room with Flannery above the College Tavern, an off-campus restaurant and student hangout.

The petition sought to allow a delay in condemnation hearings while rulings by Circuit Judge William J. Beer were reviewed.

DENIES 3 MOTIONS

Judge Beer denied three motions filed by Attorney General Ramsey, said, at finding out what the city will do with parcels of land after acquisition.

The hearing began Thursday and was adjourned yesterday by Judge Beer until Tuesday.

A jury of 13 women and one man is hearing the case.

It is charged with deciding two issues: Pontiac's "necessity" to take certain properties and "just compensation" for owners if properties are taken.

Seventy-three parcels are involved in the dispute.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

The Apostles—IV

PAUL

"... we walk by faith, not by sight."

Paul, the great missionary of Christ, lived his faith. This philosophy carried him over parched lands and stormy seas, preaching and teaching. His zeal sustained him during his years of imprisonment by the Romans, during which time he wrote a number of his Epistles. He wrote over half the books in the New Testament, and always the core of his letters was the power and glory of God.

When Paul felt the end of his life was near, he wrote in his second letter to Timothy, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

Days of All Faiths:

Mother and Son Commemorated

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

In the Eastern Orthodox churches, Monday is devoted to Saint Constantine, the great fourth-century Roman Emperor for whom Constantinople was named, and Saint Helena, his mother. We could not have such a day in our Western calendar, because Constantine is not a saint in the Western church. St. Helena's day in this part of the world is August 18.

There is really not much reason why Constantine should be a saint. He did some very fine and helpful things for the early Christian Church back in the days when the going was hard, but his piety and his devotion to the faith were not the only reasons for his sainthood. He had the idea that religion was a game one played with God; for example, he postponed his baptism until he was dying in order to be sure all his sins were washed away just at that critical moment. This is a pretty wild distortion of the meaning of baptism.

One great thing he did, however, was to issue the Edict of Milan (sometimes called The Edict of Tolerance) in 313, which put a stop to the persecutions Christians had undergone for two and a half centuries and allowed the Church to operate freely and in the open. This one action probably affected world history as much as any one thing he ever did.

His mother, Helena, was a Christian for the last 17 years of her life. When Constantine became Emperor he proclaimed Helena to be the Empress. She was, therefore, First Lady of the world for some years, and yet we know almost nothing about her.

She is remembered and honored for one single action — her discovery of the Cross on which Jesus was crucified. As Empress of Rome she had gone to Jerusalem to superintend the building of a church on Mt. Calvary. It was during the excavation of this site that she and her workmen discovered Christianity's most precious relic.

If you lived in Israel it is fairly likely that you would be invited to a baptizing on Sunday. For this day, Lag B'Omer, is the day when four-year-old boys get their first haircuts.

It is quite a festive occasion, with relatives and friends gathered in the little boy's home and every guest getting a turn with the scissors.

During the day you would probably go to a wedding or two, for Lag B'Omer is a traditional day for marriages. No couple is allowed to marry during the 30 days between Passover and Shavuot, except on this thirty-third day of the long period. Naturally, many weddings are planned for this day.

Another custom is for children to make excursions into the woods, carrying bows and arrows with them.

It is hard to say just how Lag B'Omer got started or what its real meaning is. Jewish scholars say it existed first as an ancient pagan festival, which had to do with spring and the forests and which was observed by the heathen neighbors of the Jews.

Later it was Judaized by being connected with an event in Jewish history. The story grew up that this was the day on which a deadly plague had suddenly ceased among the pupils of the school of the great Rabbi Akiba. Another idea is that of this day the manna first fell from heaven to feed the Jews in the wilderness — Exodus, chapter 16, verse 14.

Lag B'Omer is the youngest of all Jewish festivals, although its roots are deep in antiquity. (Copyright, 1962)

Wants Reader to Feed Ripe Bananas to Baby

I'm interested in learning more about what is called "celiac disease." (Devout Reader)

Ans. — I'm not interested in an anonymous letter. Anyway, this is a health column, not a medical clinic. Other names for "celiac disease" are marasmus, infantile atrophy, chronic intestinal indigestion. Only suggestion I can offer is feed the infant as much ripe banana as he will take.

BRADY

I'd like to say, for the benefit of persons who suffer as I did, that hamamels, which I took on your advice, and ace bandages, brought about almost incredible improvement — no more soreness or pain and no sign of ulcer. My legs are like new. Standing used to be agony even a few hours only. I told a friend about it, and she has noticed improvement after consuming only 6 ounces. And, by glory, my general health is improved — didn't have a sniffle all winter! (S. E. L.)

Ans. — Thank you, Pamphlet No. 1, "Varicose Veins and Varicose Ulcers" is free to anyone who asks for it and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Please send me pamphlet, "The Grey Sickness" (deficiency anemia), in stamped, self-addressed envelope enclosed. I lose much blood each month, as I have a fibroid tumor. Doctor says let it alone unless it gives me more trouble. (Mrs. R. L. E.)

Ans. — Taking iron or other medicine for anemia would be like pouring water in a sieve. Fibroid is benign, not cancerous, and removal of the tumor would be the best treatment for your anemia.

For years, I've been paying high prices for refined bleached flour, wondering why poor people must pinch, even for food. We live in the wheat belt, practically nothing but wheat grown around here, but it never occurred to me that there might be electric mills for home use... (Mrs. J. D.)

Ans. — Addresses of firms that make hand and electric power mills for home use are given in Pamphlet No. 36, "Wheat to Eat," available free if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1962)

President Sings 'Happy Birthday'

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Norwegian Prime Minister Einar Gerhardsen threw a party for the Kennedys at Blair House, the official residence of distinguished guests.

Though Mrs. Kennedy didn't attend because she "had a cold," the President came and joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to the prime minister, 65.

Prime Minister Gerhardsen — who is also a prohibitionist — told a "wet" story during his visit, promising that if he came directly from the Soviet ambassador to Oslo.

It seems there was a man who came into a cafe every night and ordered two brandies which he slipped one after the other. The bar maid finally asked him why he didn't order one big brandy instead of two ponies.

"One is for myself," explained the man, "the other is for my friend, who is dead."

Some time later the man came in and ordered just one pony of brandy. The puzzled bar maid asked why, and got from her customer the answer: "I have stopped drinking."

'Write Senators Protesting Tax on Dividends, Interest'

Urge everyone to write to Senators Hart and McNamara to protest the 10 per cent withholding tax on dividends and interest. Most people do not realize how this will hurt their compounding power. For instance, $10,000 at 4 per cent return $400. However, instead of having $10,400 working for you the following year, you will only have $10,320. It's very clear how much you will lose in interest over a long period of time. Address your letters to Senator Philip Hart or Senator Pat McNamara, Senate Building, Washington, D.C.

Road Controversy Brings Comment

The Oakland County Road Commission and Addison Township residents are arguing about something that no longer exists. It is true, there was once a road there. It seems that the State Highway Department and the Oakland County Road Commission intend to return this area to the Indians, but have overlooked the fact that the modern Indian can no longer follow the trails of his fathers. Perhaps when helicopters have become more practical, the people of this area may be able to get out and see the rest of you sometimes.

Your news story about Addison Township brings recognition of the initiative you have taken in order to inform the public of the undesirable situation that exists in the northeast corner of our county. You should be commended for the quality of the article. It could be the forerunner to increasing the capabilities of our county as a whole.

Says Commission Asking for Trouble

The City Commission is asking for trouble again by voting a recommendation that Stanley be reinstated. It's time the people stop this. Has the Commission forgotten the mess and the trouble we had a few years ago? We should ask our Commissioners and protest this resolution. If this doesn't help, let's form committees to show that we will not go through a mess like we did a few years ago.

It Seems to Me ... Everyone Should Heed This Powerful, Truthful Message

Here's one of the greatest messages of its kind that you've ever seen.

It comes from Stewart D. Owen, managing editor of The Chicago Tribune, with the solemn admonition that I read it in a moment of quiet meditation and self-contemplation. The kindly Mr. Owen even had the temerity to suggest that I might profit (I think he said "mightily") from its precepts.

However, it applies to everyone. In fact, it's startling how accurately it characterizes mankind. This message should be pasted on the mirror where you wash your handsome face in the morning, read anew on each occasion and taken to heart.

We reproduce it herewith for everyone's benefit:

Lord, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older, and will some day be old.

Keep me from getting talkative, and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and every occasion.

Release me from craving to try to straighten out everybody's affairs.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details—give me wings to get to the point.

I ask for grace enough to listen to the tales of another's pains. Help me to endure them with patience.

But seal my lips from my own aches and pains—they are increasing and my love of rehearsing is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet; I do not want to be a saint—some of them are so hard to live with. But a sour, old man is one of the crowning works of the devil.

Make me thoughtful, but not moody; helpful, but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom it seems a pity not to use it all—but thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

There are nine paragraphs above and I confess quickly that all nine apply to me.

How'd YOU make out?

Continuing Service . . .

One of our most difficult ambassadorial posts will be ably filled by the appointment of ALAN G. KIRK to the Chinese Nationalist Government on Taiwan.

The reasons for the difficulties besetting this position are obvious. Although he has richly earned retirement, the Admiral has agreed to serve another hitch for his country and undertake one of our most delicate diplomatic assignments. The tension in this area is constant and the Chinese Reds will never abandon their campaign to secure U.N. recognition.

Kirk has the complete and wholehearted endorsement of W. AVERELL HARRIMAN, Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs. President CHANG has steadily insisted that his government is the only official one in China, and Washington authorities in both parties have beaten down all attempts to recognize the Chinese Reds.

Admiral Kirk enters a precarious diplomatic post where a complete understanding of the problems, plus the confidence of the Chinese Nationalist Government and our own officials, becomes an exacting requirement.

Oakland County residents have an additional interest in Admiral Kirk as his son married a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM R. YAW of Bloomfield Hills.

Stick to It . . .

As the end of the academic year looms across the horizon, The Pontiac Press strongly urges young men and women to remain in school.

This is the time of the year when the yen to "call it a day" creeps to the front. If the present semester's work hasn't been quite up to par and the summer appears just ahead, there's a strong temptation to "ditch it all" and forget school.

That's all wrong. Stifle the urge.

Statistics show that future earning power is invariably greater in proportion to the number of years you have of formal education. Further, additional study and association with fine teachers develop the inner ability to enjoy more worthwhile things on a broader basis.

Don't drop out of school.
