Farmington Twp. Slaying Suspect Captured

Red China in Civil War, Says Leader

TOKYO (AP) — Communist Chinese Defense Minister Lin Piao, believed to be No. 2 man to party Chairman Mao Tsetung, was quoted today as saying "the entire country is now in a state of civil war."

The Peking-based correspondent of the Tokyo Yomiuri said Lin's statement appeared without official confirmation in one of the thousands of wall bulletins which have turned the Chinese capital into a paper and ink city.

The defense minister, 59, is in the forefront of the battle to oust President Liu Shaochi and restore Mao to the position of state power he once held.

Dr. Lin Yutang, noted Chinese author and scholar, predicted in Manila that the current upheaval in Communist China will leave Mao's regime a "wreck."

Arriving from Taipei, Formosa, for a goodwill visit, Lin told a news conference: "The worst is yet to come. By the time the purging of Communist leaders is completed, Mao's machinery will be a wreck and shaken to the bottom."

Whether there is civil war in the classic sense or not, there could be no doubt that the vast Chinese mainland and its 720 million people were in the grip of civil confusion.

Mao-Lin supporters since the start of the year have assaulted the city proletariat, the provincial Communist party committees and the organs of propaganda — all strongholds of Liu power.

They have made some gains, but by their own admission have yet to consolidate their victories.

Yankee Store Damage Is Put at $375,000

Damage was estimated at $375,000 in yesterday's multi-alarm fire which destroyed the 4-year-old Yankee department store at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

Bloomfield Township firemen, who along with store officials were busy inspecting losses today, placed damage at $200,000 to the 36,000-square-foot building and $175,000 to the contents.

Cause of the blaze was still under investigation.

Two nearby businesses, Foy-Johnston Paint and Wallpaper and the Lion Store, sustained smoke and water damage. Both were closed today, but expected to reopen Monday.

The Bloomfield Township fire department, which was summoned at 11:57 a.m. yesterday, was assisted by six other fire-fighting units.

The blaze was under control in about three hours, according to firemen who remained at the scene until 12:30 this morning.

SMOKE INHALATION

No one was injured in the fire, but at least two firemen became ill from smoke inhalation. Neither required hospitalization.

Bloomfield Township police officer Harold Panker, one of the first at the scene, said that smoke billowed throughout the store within five to 10 minutes.

"I was behind the store and went around to the front to check," said Panker. By the time I got there the smoke was so thick it forced me out of the door."

Firemen were able to keep the fire from spreading to other stores.

Store manager Paul E. Meeker said the fire was first spotted in a rear storeroom by two stock boys who reported it to him. He said he had been in the back only 10 minutes previously.

He said 75 to 100 customers and employes in the store at the time were calmly ushered to safety.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized appropriation of $60,000 for a jail construction study and an updated master plan of the county service center.

A total of $40,000 will be advanced from the county's general fund for the board of auditors to instigate and direct a study on jail construction.

The study will determine what requirements will be needed in a new jail facility for the county and will include a schematic plan.

Completion of the study is expected by early summer and then county officials will decide whether to proceed with the project.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County's present jail at 104 Wayne is 46 years old and generally considered obsolete. Its 259-prisoner capacity also is considered inadequate by some county officials including Sheriff Frank Irons.

PROJECTED TO 1990

Supervisors authorized a $20,000 appropriation for development of a total master plan for the county service center projected to the year 1990. Completion is slated by the end of this year.

★ ★ ★

A prior master plan was developed 10 years ago but the service center already has grown to the limits of that plan, according to Joseph Joachim, who is director of engineering for the county.

★ ★ ★

Both the jail proposal and master plan updating issue were introduced by the supervisors' buildings and grounds committee Jan. 4.

OU Coed Stabbed in University Parking Lot

The condition of the 20-year old Oakland University coed senior stabbed in a university parking lot Thursday continues to improve, according to William Beaumont Hospital officials in Royal Oak.

She was stabbed in the stomach with a six-inch ornamental dagger, allegedly by Roger B. Shaw of 26116 Wyoming, Huntington Woods, an ex-boyfriend.

JOHN MERLO

MRS. JOHN MERLO

A Farmington Township man sought for two weeks in the gunshot slaying of his wife in a beauty shop was captured yesterday in a Philadelphia bank.

John Merlo was seized and disarmed by a bank employe who told police he pulled a gun while being questioned.

Merlo, 25, is charged with murdering his 18-year-old estranged wife, Sharon, Jan. 6 while she was working on a customer's hair in the Crest Beauty Salon, 27432 Eight Mile.

She was dead on arrival at Botsford General Hospital, reportedly shot three times.

Officials of the Western Savings Fund Society, said Merlo had been in Thursday seeking to close out a $1,243 account in the name of Morris Cohen. He was instructed to return yesterday.

★ ★ ★

'PULLED REVOLVER'

Frank Morris, 54, the employe who captured Merlo, told police Merlo yanked out a revolver when questioned about the pass book. Police said Morris, a retired detective, then wrestled Merlo to the floor.

Detectives who later questioned Merlo said he told them about the slaying of his wife. Murder and fugitive warrants had been issued for him.

Farmington Township police said at the time of the slaying Merlo and his wife, parents of a 3-month-old son, Jeff, were separated.

★ ★ ★

VISITED SHOP

Mrs. Lyle Stanfield, owner of the beauty shop, said however that Merlo frequently visited the shop, where Mrs. Merlo had worked for two years.

★ ★ ★

Farmington Township Police Chief Irving H. Yakes said witnesses reported that Merlo entered the shop Jan. 6 through a rear room and talked briefly with his wife, who then returned to a customer.

★ ★ ★

Airport's No. 1 Need: Instrument System

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second of a three-part series.)

By DICK SAUNDERS

Which comes first: The runway or the landing system?

There is little disagreement that Pontiac Municipal Airport's biggest need is an instrument landing system (ILS).

SAUNDERS

In taking over the city airport this year, Oakland County officials will also inherit an airport master plan prepared for the city in 1963 which places a priority on an ILS in any future development of the airport.

Airport Manager J. David VanderVeen puts an ILS at the top of the list of airport needs, with a new 5,000-foot north-south runway second.

Indeed, there may be little choice. Since the city committed itself to purchasing land and easements for an ILS several years ago, the federal government most likely won't participate in the cost of any other airport improvements until the ILS is installed.

★ ★ ★

This commitment will be borne by the county when the air facility changes hands, according to VanderVeen.

SAMPLING OF OPINION

A sampling of opinion from pilots, aviation company owners and operators solidly supports an ILS as the No. 1 need.

"An ILS would really increase the use of this airport," said Ned Gerndt, chief pilot for Standard Airways. "There are days when we can only land at Detroit Metro."

Frank P. McCartney, president of Aerodynamics, Inc., compared Pontiac to other major airports in the state.

"Detroit City and Metro, Willow Run, Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, and Battle Creek, all have an ILS. Jackson is getting one.

"We handle more traffic than all but two of these airports, yet we don't have an ILS."

McCartney pointed to the airport terminal building and control tower, construction of taxiways, runway widening and installation of lights as "good progress" made prior to a stalemate on improvements which began about two years ago.

"You can't expect airline traffic to land here if there's an ILS at another airport nearby," he commented.

Thornton E. Benson, general manager of Commander Aviation Division, Jim Robbins Co., said, "The only time we're limited on operation is when the weather is bad and we can't land."

An ILS permits landing in poor weather where the visibility is less than a mile and ceiling is less than 500 feet.

Strobe lights will help in borderline weather, but we need an ILS the most right now," Benson said.

Strobe lights are high intensity, white, flashing lights at the end of a runway. Their value was explained this way by Clark F. Cryderman, owner of Cryderman Air Service:

"It's like approaching an intersection at night. You can see a flashing stop light long before you can see a stop sign."

★ ★ ★

While Cryderman agreed an ILS tops the major needs, he thought "the first thing to get is strobe lights. We need them badly."

HEAVIER PLANES

"An ILS won't matter much to small private aircraft, but should attract more corporate

flights and heavier planes," he noted.

"We run into problems where we have to divert flights to Flint or Detroit in bad weather. This costs us money."

When a plane has to land elsewhere, crew and often cargo still has to be returned to Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Cryderman said he is currently considering the addition of some heavy planes to his fleet.

BASED ELSEWHERE

"We may base our big planes elsewhere," he noted, "if no headway is made on an ILS here."

There is no accurate, up-to-date cost estimate available on the ILS, according to VanderVeen.

The federal government pays for furnishing, installing and initial maintenance of the system. The cost of land and easements is borne by local, state and federal governments.

In the 1963 master plan, total cost of land and easements was estimated at $447,000, of which the local share was $208,500.

OVER $500,000

"The total cost now would be well over $500,000," VanderVeen estimated.

The 15-acre area is divided into 22 privately owned parcels. In 1963 it contained 17 homes. No count has been made since then to determine if any additional homes have been built in that area, according to VanderVeen.

★ ★ ★

"The airport is operational about 85 per cent of the time right now," he added. "With an ILS we'd be about 95 per cent operational."

NEW RUNWAY

However, not everyone is sold on the idea that an ILS is the No. 1 need.

★ ★ ★

"ILS is needed but not as bad as a major north-south runway," said Frank A. Gineman. His opinion carries some weight.

★ ★ ★

Gineman is FAA tower chief at the airport.

FRIENDLY PERSUASION — Introducing them to a custom of Tanzania, Peace Corpsman Jerome R. Skarbek (right) demonstrates an East African handshake to two Pontiac Northern High School seniors. Paul Bowers, 2590 Silverside, Waterford Township, and Rosemary Deni, 87 N. Marshall, were among those Skarbeck tried to sell on the idea of a school partnership program with a developing nation.

Seeks City Students' Help

Pitchman 'Sells' a Country

By PAT McCARTY

The "hard-sell" technique of Peace Corpsman Jerome R. Skarbek goes something like this:

He gathers a group of students around him and tells them about Tanzania — about its mountains, lakes and villages, but mostly about its people.

Skarbek, whose face lights up frequently as he talks, recalls the two years he spent in the new East African nation and how its people helped him grow up.

★ ★ ★

Leaving the bush country after his stint was up, the 24-year-old Skarbek volunteered to serve for another year to sell the idea of a school partnership program to Michigan students and to help put the project into effect.

Endorsed by Gov. Romney, the program would be an innovation for the Peace Corps, because it would align the people of a specific area with the people of another.

The goal is to raise enough funds — $50,000 — to buy materials so the Tanzanians can build 50 two-room schools.

"We really don't need much—just some cement, lumber and corrugated iron," he said. "The people want to do the building themselves."

★ ★ ★

The idea is for one school here to raise enough money to build one school — or at least part of a school—there.

WOULD LEARN

In the process, American students would learn about the people they were helping.

They would correspond with Tanzanian villagers and receive samples of their carvings and cloth for display.

"It could involve the whole school," Skarbek said. "A drama group could put on a skit about Tanzania. A home economics class could find out about their menus and prepare a meal.

"It would establish rapport between students here and there and could give meaning to all subject areas," he said.

VISITS 3 SCHOOLS

The youthful salesman established a bit of rapport himself as he visited Pontiac Central and Northern High schools and Kennedy Junior High, where he met with representatives of all Pontiac's junior high schools.

Skarbek and a fellow volunteer, Calvin Click, now are touring the state to do their selling job.

So far, they've had a good share of takers and students at several area schools now are planning fund-raising projects.

six or seven months, but broke up last month, according to detectives.

The stabbing occurred in Shaw's car in the parking lot near North Foundation Hall. Shaw then drove the victim to the hospital, where he was arrested.

Ships, Jets Hit N. Viet Targets; Fierce Fighting Flares in South

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. destroyers fought two gun duels with North Vietnamese shore batteries Friday while American bombers hit rail yards and rail bridges north and south of Hanoi, the U.S. military command reported today.

In South Vietnam fierce fighting flared. Tough South Vietnamese Paratroopers reported killing 108 Vietcong in two clashes Friday night.

Fighting was reported from the southern tip of South Vietnam's northernmost Quang Tyi Province, but no major engagements were reported by either the American or Vietnamese military commands.

Operation Cedar Falls continued at a slower pace with U.S. troops in the Iron Triangle reporting only light contact in the operation area 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon. The biggest development was the uncovering of a massive tunnel Friday, believed to be the headquarters of the Vietcong's 4th Military Region.

In another action, two companies of the U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade ran into heavy Communist fire Friday while attacking a supply depot 14 miles southeast of the capital. They were supported by U.S. Navy and Vietnamese river patrol boats and landing craft which served as a blocking force on rivers and streams in the area. This force reported killing four Vietcong while the infantry raiders captured 45 tons of rice and 10 cases of TNT and held 320 suspects for questioning. Allied casualties were termed light.

Market Holdup in City Nets Over $1,200 for Bandit

Some $1,200 to $1,500 was taken yesterday from George's Market, 462 Saginaw, by a man wielding a pistol, it was reported to city police.

John George, 80, said he was working behind the counter at about 10 a.m. when the bandit pointed what appeared to be a 25-caliber automatic pistol at him and ordered him to lie down.

The man was described as Negro, about 35, six feet tall and 185 pounds.

'Cost of Living Rise to Slow'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs will keep going up in 1967 but not as sharply as last year's nine-year record rise of 3.3 per cent, a government official predicts.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said the expected 1967 rise of 2.5 per cent "would not be too high a price to pay" to avoid the alternative of a recession.

AF Probes Wreckage of Jet in Which 9 Died

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Air Force investigators today probed the wreckage of a KC135 jet tanker that crashed in the foothills of Mt. Spokane with the loss of nine airmen.

The tanker, which the Air Force said may have been blown off course by gale force winds, failed to clear a small hill and crashed Thursday night.

It had begun a landing approach for its home field, Fairchild Air Force Base, after a flight from Hawaii on which it was escorting a group of Air Force jet fighters back to the United States.

The victims were identified by the Air Force as Capt. Billy E. Cammack, 33, Matador, Tex., aircraft commander; Capt. Herbert O. Zoeller, 30, Watertown, Wis., pilot; Capt. James O. Wakeland, 27, Godley, Tex., navigator; M. Sgt. Orville Montgomery, 38, Saginaw, Mich., boom operator; Lt. Col. Clifford J. Agenbroad, 44, Nampa, Idaho, instructor-pilot; Capt. Valentine F. Hemm, 35, Mt. Dora, Fla., aviation physiologist; S. Sgt. Ralph D. Ogle, 33, Watertown, Tenn., maintenance crew chief; Airman 1.C. Terry O. Fletcher, 23, Pasco, Wash., and Airman 3.C. Michael R. Cave-In Victim Is Still Critical

A workman, injured yesterday while at work on construction of a new Hamady Bros. Market in Lapeer, remained in critical condition today at Lapeer County General Hospital.

A 15-foot section of frozen ground caved in on Thrasher as he worked at laying water mains in a 7-foot ditch around the market.

Lapeer police said he was completely buried for a period of a few seconds, but that his head was soon freed.

★ ★ ★

Troy Firm Gets $2-Million Pact

The contract is for three airplane elevators to be installed on the aircraft carrier, USS Midway, now being overhauled on the West Coast.

Classes were being held in two shifts that ran from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. because of delay in construction.

Covington students will get an extra day off Thursday and both schools will be off Friday so teachers can prepare for the new setup, according to Dr. John B. Smith, superintendent of schools.

New hours for both schools after Jan. 30 will be 8:30 a.m. to 3:40 p.m.

★ ★ ★

At Covington, pupils will have to carry their own lunch until April 1, Dr. Smith announced. Milk will be available.

'Murderous Assault,' Says U.N. Command

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. command today accused Communist North Korea of a "murderous assault" in the sinking Thursday of a South Korean navy patrol craft in which 40 South Korean sailors were killed or missing.

In a strongly worded protest, the U.N. command said the attack was "one of the most serious violations of the Korean armistice" and a "murderous assault on a boat which was in pursuit of a peaceful non-hostile mission."

★ ★ ★

U.S. Army Maj. Gen. Richard G. Ciccolella presented the protest at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission called at Communist request to discuss the incident.

Ciccolella admitted that the 650-ton patrol craft was in waters several miles north of the demilitarized zone and 3.5 to 5.1 miles off the North Korean coast when it was fired upon by Communist shore batteries. Its location, however, did not constitute a violation of the 1953 Korean armistice agreement, he said.

RESPONSIBILITY

He proposed that the commission ask the four-nation Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission to conduct an investigation and fix responsibility for the incident.

North Korean army Maj. Gen. Park Chung-kook, chief Communist delegate, rejected the request for an investigation and charged that the South Korean boat was shelled because it opened fire first.

Ciccolella denied that the South Korean ship fired first.

Head Start Critic Backed

The executive board of the Oakland County chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People has voted unanimously to support its educational committee chairman in his criticism of the Head Start program in Pontiac.

The board has voted to back Charlie Harrison Jr. in his allegation that the program does not have as an "evident objective" the reasonable integration of ethnic groups and representative neighborhoods for instructional purposes.

It stated further that the Pontiac School Board has not shown a willingness to fully explore certain recommendations of the executive board's advisory committee.

According to James E. Dyer, county chapter president, an Office of Economic Opportunity organizational memo dealing with the progress of the Head Start program is misleading.

BELGRADE (UPI) — President Tito will pay a brief unofficial visit to the Soviet Union at the end of the month at invitation of Communist party First Secretary Leonid Brezhnev, the Tanjug News Agency reported today.

Supervisor Seeks Evaluation of 3 Proposals on Committees

A supervisor from Madison Heights yesterday called for an evaluation of three proposals in connection with the committee function of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Speaking at the meeting of the 86-member board of supervisors, Monte R. Geralds suggested that the following be referred for consideration of the supervisors' bylaws committee:

- Should a limit be established on the number of committee memberships for a supervisor?
- Should provision be made to remove supervisors from committees for inadequate attendance at meeting?
- Should a minimum time requirement at a committee meeting be established for payment of per diem compensation?

NO SPECIFIC COMPLAINT

Gerlads, an attorney who lives at 28162 Lorenz, said that he had no specific complaint on the present committee bylaws structure but felt these questions deserved consideration.

The board voted to send these proposals to its bylaws committee for evaluation and a report.

A previous referral to the bylaws committee on literature distribution at supervisors' meetings was returned yesterday in the form of a recommendation and adopted by the board.

It amends Rule 7 by specifying that no literature other than official documents coming from county departments be permitted unless signed or endorsed by at least one member of the board.

ACTION ASKED

Committee action on literature distribution was asked Nov. 10 by Duane Sanford, former supervisor from West Bloomfield Township.

He raised the objection when Paul McGovern was distributing literature at a board meeting in support of his bid for an appointment by the board to the County Road Commission.

In other business yesterday, the board amended a Dec. 14 resolution that specified that the county retain control of the parking lot adjacent to its building at 1 Lafayette until Dec. 31, 1968 and authorized the City of Pontiac to take immediate possession of the lot.

★ ★ ★

TRIBUTES

Also yesterday the supervisor paid memorial tributes to two members who died recently.

Francis J. Voll, Sr., supervisor from Oakland Township, died Dec. 18 and Else V. Mercer, supervisor from Walled Lake, passed away Dec. 19.

Ousted College Head Blames Politics

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — President Clark Kerr of the mammoth University of California, who was fired Friday by the Board of Regents, blames partisan politics for the startling move that sent shock waves through the state.

"The university should serve truth and not political partisanship," Kerr told newsmen after his ouster.

Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan, an ex-officio regent, and Mrs. Randolph Hearst, a regent and wife of the newspaper magnate, said the vote came after Kerr demanded a vote of confidence during the regents' debate over university budget cuts and imposition of tuition, which Reagan wanted and Kerr opposed.

In a closed session at which Kerr was not present, regents voted 14 to 8 after a "fierce fight" to immediately oust Kerr from his $45,000-a-year job as head of the nine-campus, 87,000-student university. He had been UC president since 1958.

CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Reagan, who left the meeting an hour before Kerr's dismissal was announced, had made criticism of the university an issue in his campaign for election. In Los Angeles later, Reagan called the firing "very reasonable."

Kerr had made it known that he was prepared to battle any administration moves to cut the university's budget or charge tuition. Reagan had suggested both two weeks ago.

Reagan, during his campaign last November, hinted that he didn't like the way Kerr was running the university and charged that he was allowing political activity on the Berkeley campus on behalf of Reagan's opponent, then Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a Democrat.

The meeting Friday had been billed as one to thrash out the university money crisis. University officials were bowled over when it resulted in Kerr's dismissal. UC Vice President Harry Wellman was named acting president.

Kerr told a news conference later, "The university should serve truth and not political partisanship. I was not at the meeting, but the vote was 14 to 8 and the governor was one of the 14."

The 55-year-old educator said regents were obliged "not to respond too quickly to the swirls of political winds in the state. Because there is a new governor doesn't mean there needs to be a new president of the university. This has never happened before in the United States."

★ ★ ★

Reagan said the Kerr issue "was not on the agenda and his request (for a confidence vote) came as a "decision one way or another."

Mrs. Hearst called Kerr's demand for a vote of confidence the president's "second ultimatum" to the regents and said she voted against him because "I reluctantly came to the conclusion that the president lacked the qualities of stable leadership so imperative to the future of the university." Kerr, she said, "stated he would never resign." She did not give details about the first "ultimatum."

Also, the vaccine has not been approved by the U.S. Public Health Service and therefore cannot be administered outside of Ohio.

5 Convicted for Protest

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Mario Savio and four other non-students were convicted early today on nuisance charges resulting from a November sit-in at the University of California.

The other defendants were Jerry Rubin, 28, Steven Hamilton, 23, Stewart Albert, 26, and Michael Smith, 25, all of Berkeley. Hamilton was also convicted on trespass charges.

The jury failed to reach a verdict on trespass charges against the 23-year-old Savio, Rubin, Albert and Smith. It also could not reach a verdict on nuisance and trespass charges against William Miller, 25, a sixth defendant.

Judge Floyd Talbott set Wednesday for sentencing.

Utility Expansion Good Barometer

Another sign of progress and expansion in the Pontiac area is the announced construction of a $3-million service center by Consumers Power Co.

The new facility, to be situated at Featherstone abutting tracks of the Grand Trunk Railroad, will provide offices and warehouse and storage space for the Pontiac division of the company.

To insure maximum service to its customers, which have nearly doubled in the past six years and now number 60,000 in the local area, Consumers will continue sales and customer-service operations at its present building at Lawrence and Wayne.

Serving 67 of the 68 counties of Lower Michigan, Consumers Power Co. has earmarked $136 million for new and expanded facilities at various points around the State. It foresees a total gain of 54,000 gas and electric customers during 1967. Combined, Consumers currently serves one and three-quarters million utility users.

Math Prof Will Teach by Wire

Campus interest at Oakland University is keen over a teaching innovation scheduled for next week.

DR. STUBBLEFIELD

Dr. BEAUREGARD STUBBLEFIELD, associate professor of mathematics at the school, will instruct two OU math classes by telephone as he conducts a class at Texas Southern University in Houston, 1,105 miles distant.

Although the concept of telephonic instruction is not new, Dr. Stubblefield has refined it by the introduction of transparencies, in lieu of a blackboard, projected on-to a screen by an assistant here to illustrate the lecture heard over a loudspeaker.

Dr. STUBBLEFIELD's plan has two advantages over TV telecasts of educational programs. The cost is less, and its feedback feature enables students to question the remote instructor.

Should the local experiment prove successful, the OU professor envisions general adoption of multiple-class instruction by telephone, which would do much to relieve the serious shortage of math instructors of college caliber.

We commend Dr. Stubblefield on his initiative and will watch with interest the outcome of it.

Double-Talkers Tend to Call a Spade a Shovel

Used by experts, they can come out so simply, so clearly, so articulate that their meaning is unmistakable.

Used by others, just as expert, they can be so vague, so obtuse, so circuitous that they successfully fuzz up whatever meaning the genius who used them might have had to convey.

This art of frank and honest double-talk is at its best with public officials and others who have frequent occasion to wiggle off a hot spot.

A fair example of how a real pro can handle a sticky situation like this was offered recently when Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler addressed the U.S. Savings and Loan League in New York.

FOWLER was letting his audience in on the goals of U.S. fiscal policy in 1967. And he gave it to them straight and hard, no punches pulled, when he said:

"Although specific measures can help achieve these results, the most fruitful approach would seem to be to shift the mix of policy so as to permit some easing of monetary policy."

★ ★ ★

How's that for a stunner?

Here was something the man on the street could dig. But just in case he couldn't, the wire service carrying the story added:

"When government officials talk about shifting the mix of policy, they generally mean either raising taxes, cutting Federal spending or both."

When a speaker has expressed himself so ably that it takes an editorial footnote to give you a clue to what he said—well, this guy has hit the obfuscatory jackpot.

Now, let's see. "Obfuscatory" means. . .

Powell Still Has a Chance

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell seems to have a reasonable chance to stay in Congress if he doesn't keep on doing what he did last week and an investigation of him doesn't turn up something too indigestible.

MARLOW

Last week, Powell called this Congress "the biggest bunch of elected hyprocrites the world has ever known" after his fellow Democrats took his committee chairmanship away and the full House refused to let him take his seat.

This 52-year-old Harlem Negro, a successful politician with 22 years in Congress, is both a preacher and a good-time-Charley.

He has called Jesus Christ a "religious beatnik" and compared himself to Julius Caesar.

Not all white members of the House have had angelic records, and among Negroes, reacting strongly against the treatment given Powell, some call it racial discrimination.

DIDN'T DO RIGHT

A Harlem beauty shop operator put it this way: "I don't say he did right, but if it was a white man, he'd have gotten away with it."

Because of the broad Negro resentment, the House may not go all the way now and throw Powell out.

Negroes make up a big part of the voters in some congressional districts, particularly Democratic ones, and a Negro backlash over Powell could ruin a congressman who voted to unseat the Harlemite for good.

In some districts, Democrats may have to worry about a white backlash if Powell keeps his seat.

The membership of a nine-man committee — five Democrats, four Republicans — named yesterday to investigate Powell further was good evidence the leaders of both parties in the House want to be careful.

As soon as this new Congress got down to business last week a private, Democratic caucus voted to deprive Powell of his plum job, the chairmanship of the powerful House Education and Labor Committee.

Then, in the full House, Southern Democrats joined forces with Republicans to refuse to let Powell take his seat until a special committee — the nine-man group — could investigate him.

★ ★ ★

In the end, no matter what the nine-man committee recommends, the full House will have the final say on barring Powell or letting him be seated.

TOOK THEIR TIME

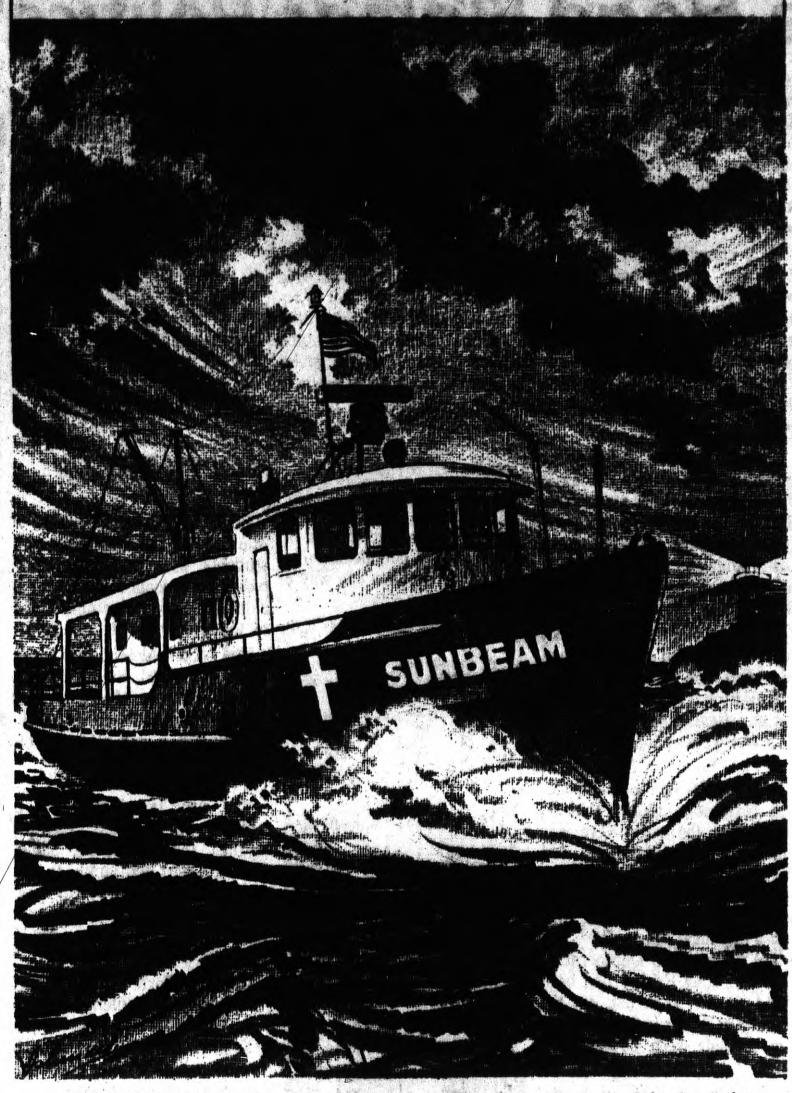

Democrats and Republicans both took their time in picking members for the committee although the reason for the Republicans' foot-dragging probably was simple tardiness.

★ ★ ★

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

To isolated communities and families along the coast and on the islands of the state of Maine, the boat Sunbeam III is a symbol of Christian hope, help and brotherhood. It is the working arm of The Maine Sea Coast Missionary Society. In all kinds of weather it carries the tangibles and intangibles of Christian service. The mission ministers make hundreds of parish calls, hold services and give special attention to the aged and ill. At Christmas the Sunbeam delivers 1,500 gifts to lonely villages and lighthouses.

The Maine Sea Coast Missionary Society has grown and flourished since 1905 because of the faith of many people across the country.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, one time president of the board of the Society, wrote a poem titled "Little Ship Sunbeam." He read it at the launching of Sunbeam II in 1926. The last stanza could well be the watchword for the Society.

Then let the wind blow high or low,
Serene and brave our boat shall go;
For Jesus sails the sea again,
Along the granite coast of Maine.

Confident Living:

Everyone Wants Abundant Life

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

One summer's morning I was having coffee at a sidewalk cafe in the Piazza San Marco in Venice. As I sat watching the passing crowds I suddenly asked myself: What is it that all these people are really after? What do they want?

DR. PEALE

I turned the question to myself. What do I want? And the answer came: I want life. But, I wondered, what else do they all want?

So I put a question to the people with me. "Suppose I climbed up on that balcony over there and shouted down to these crowds that I had a secret which would give them life. Would they listen to me?"

"They might," someone answered, "but people generally would probably shrug you off as a crackpot."

"But," I added, "suppose you got up on the opposite balcony and shouted that you were giving away a million lire, then and there. To whom would they listen, you or me?"

"That's easy," he answered. "They'd listen to me because money is something tangible you can get your hands on. You can spend money and buy things you want. But after people got my lire they might then listen to your offer because in the long run life is more important than expendable possessions."

Those comments were rather wise I thought, for most likely most people would respond as suggested.

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Those are the famous words of Jesus offering vital life. And of course basically every one of us does want to live fully and vitally. Real life is energy, freedom, growth and dynamism.

Sadly enough, some people do not maintain a vibrant life very well. They complain of aches and pains, sickness and troubles. Discouragement saps their vitality and leaves them dull, lethargic, apathetic. It is sad indeed to die in your spirit while you live in your body.

It is equally tragic to be asleep in life when you should be wide awake to this great world.

Once I spoke on the same platform with another speaker who had been advertised as "The Greatest Speaker in the United States." While that seemed quite an extravagant claim to make about anybody, actually he was a super-good speaker. The temperature was a sweltering 105 degrees in the auditorium. Nevertheless, this man held his audience spellbound.

He did not say anything particularly outstanding. He conveyed the human touch, and to cleverness and sincerity was added a definite spiritual note that was inspiring. His hair was white, the years were upon him; but he was alive and dynamic. His secret was very much alive and he conveyed that aliveness to everyone present.

It does mean a lot when a person is fully alive. It is important never to allow yourself to become dead in your thoughts or sleepy in your responses. And if you have been around awhile, never have anything to do with old-age thoughts. Never say or think, "I'm growing old."

Just assume that as long as you are here on earth Almighty God is re-creating in you a continuing force of mind and body. And if you keep in constant contact with the source of all energy, you will have plenty of life and vitality and all the energy you need to live for as long as you live. And that, of course, is what everybody wants.

Washington Notebook:

New Senator Adds Light Touch

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA)—William Spong, the new Democratic senator from Virginia, made quite a hit at the congressional dinner given by the Women's National Press Club.

He started a short speech by telling the audience of his surprise at being named to the Senate's District of Columbia Committee, which handles such issues as home rule for Washington. Said he:

Spong said, jokingly, that he plans to give a lot of attention to problems of international copyright law. He explained:

"I'm worried about the pirating of American music in Hong Kong.

"First I took it up with the senator from Hawaii, because he's closest to the problem. Then I took it up with the senator from Louisiana, since American jazz was born in New Orleans.

"Now I'm ready, and I think we can introduce something called the Long-Fong-Spong Hong Kong song bill."

★ ★ ★

As Congress' official diary, the Congressional Record reports all proceedings on the floors of the Senate and the House of Representatives. But each legislator is given the opportunity to revise his remarks before the Record is printed.

Many are thus spared embarrassment from slips of the tongue. Take Carl Albert, D-Okla., the House majority leader, for example.

Rising to defend Rep. Adam Clayton Powell during the hectic debate on whether or not to seat the Harlem Democrat, Albert solemnly intoned:

"The American way is first to give a man a trial and then convict him."

As the majority leader sat down, the House dissolved in laughter. When things finally quieted down, the flustered Albert rose again.

"Mr. Speaker, I was not given an opportunity to finish," he said. "I was going to say the American way is to first give a man a trial and then convict him . . . or ACQUIT him!"

When the Congressional Record appeared the next day, the world learned that what Albert "really" said was: "The American way is first to give a man a trial and then to pass judgment on him."

★ ★ ★

Theodore C. Sorensen, former aide to John F. Kennedy, has been named head of a group whose aim is to consider ways of strengthening the Democratic party in New York State.

Rep. Samuel Stratton, upstate New York Democrat, promptly fired off a statement inquiring why the job had fallen to a man with virtually no background in New York affairs, who votes in his native Nebraska.

"Hello, senator," boomed Stratton with cheerful sarcasm.

Sorensen laughed and replied:

"Now I've turned both cheeks, and I have no more to turn."

Is there a minimum wage scale for women and does it apply to houseworkers and baby sitters?

ELEANOR PHILLIPS
40 PUTNAM

REPLY

Mr. Fred Cooper of the Wage-Hour Division of the Department of Labor tells us the State minimum wage applies to anyone whose employer has four or more employes between the ages of 18 and 65. Therefore, houseworkers and baby sitters could come under the minimum wage law, but in most cases would not.

Group Backs City on Sewer Decision

The City Commission's recent decision to continue to "go it alone" in construction of a Galloway Creek trunk sewer has won some unsolicited support.

The Civic Improvement Advisory Committee approved a resolution at its January meeting to support the commission's "go it alone" position.

Planned both as a city project and as part of Oakland County's projected Clinton-Oakland Interceptor, the north end trunk sewer is to be constructed as a city project.

After handing the county a deadline, the commission ordered the "go it alone" policy when the deadline was not met.

★ ★ ★

City officials have indicated they would not reconsider their decision of last summer, despite a request from the county to do so.

ALLEVIATED

The CIAC resolution noted that the city's acute housing problem would be somewhat alleviated by the opening of the northeast section to development via the new trunk sewer.

Also, the resolution noted that the city would realize greater revenues with the area developed.

The committee further suggested that a public hearing be held to allow the public to support the commission's decision.

BUYING A BUG . . .

OR A CAR?

You'll find that a car will do a lot of things that a bug will not. Cruise at 80 mph while averaging an honest 35 mpg. And when it comes to comfort, well, a car is a car and a bug is a bug. Best looking—do you really think bugs are cute?

Money? Believe it or not some bugs cost more. You might as well drive a car, especially if you already have a pet!

Junior Editors Quiz on EYES

QUESTION: Why do the pupils of a person's eyes dilate?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The camera (upper left) has a lens which gathers light rays and sends a small image, upside down, toward the sensitive film in the back, producing the negative from which a final positive print will be made.

The camera is fitted with a round overlapping set of plates, the diaphragm, which can be opened up or closed down to allow just the right amount of light during the exposure.

Human eyes work in much the same way. There is a lens that gathers in light rays and sends an image to the rear of the eyeball. The pupil of the eye does the job of the camera's diaphragm automatically.

When it's dark, the pupil dilates or opens, in order to let in more light. When there is to much light, the pupil grows smaller, so as to reduce the glare.

The image thrown on the sensitive retina in back of the eye is almost miraculously sent along the optic nerve to the brain, being turned right side up as it goes. With one image after another being received by the brain, a human being is able to see.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch the pupils of a person's eyes when it's dark to see how they open up to let in the light.

Will Continue Testimony Next Week

Baker Denies Pocketing Campaign Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bobby Baker, after fervently denying he pocketed $80,000 of senatorial campaign funds, plans to offer further testimony next week in his U.S. District Court trial.

His appearance on the witness stand Friday was marked by reference to his "best friends" on Capitol Hill—Lyndon B. Johnson and the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla.

The former secretary to Senate Democrats, on trial for larceny, tax evasion and conspiracy, said that in 1962 he needed money because of problems in building the Carousel Motel in Ocean City, Md.

He testified he took his problem "to the best friend I had around the Capitol, the then vice president." Johnson was vice president at the time.

CALLED KERR

"He picked up the phone," Baker said, "called his friend and my friend, Sen. Kerr, and then advised me to go see Sen. Kerr, which I did immediately."

The result, he said, was that the multimillionaire Kerr arranged a $250,000 loan for him from an Oklahoma City bank and pledged a $50,000 personal loan which Kerr gave him in installments.

Baker said one of the installments, $25,000, came out of a $50,100 batch of campaign cash donations from California savings and loans executives. Baker said he had turned the donations over to Kerr and that the senator remarked at the time that he would replenish the campaign fund from his own money.

All told, Baker contends, he turned over about $100,000 of campaign funds from California to Kerr. The government charges Baker kept $80,000 of the money and spent it largely on the motel. It has produced testimony that he met mortgage interest and operating costs of the motel with piles of $100 bills.

DECLINES COMMENT

As the trial neared the end of its second week Friday, defense counsel Edward Bennett Williams asked Baker: "Did you steal that money?"

"I did not," Baker replied. The White House declined to comment on Baker's testimony. "This is a matter pending in court," said press secretary George Christian. "I don't have any comment and won't have any on it."

★ ★ ★

Baker also testified that through oversights and mistakes he actually overpaid his taxes in the years in question, 1961 and 1962.

He acknowledged he did not report one item, a $268 interest check on a Florida land investment in which he engaged along with Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla.

SECRETARY KILLED

He explained that this was because his secretary, Miss Carole Tyler, placed the record in the "Smathers file" instead of his tax file. He explained he kept a file on each senator.

★ ★ ★

Miss Tyler, former Tennessee beauty queen, was killed May 9, 1965, in a plane crash near the Carousel. Sen. Kerr died Jan. 1, 1963, of a heart attack.

Is De Gaulle Mellowing?

PARIS (UPI) — France is willing to put some of its armed forces under NATO command in time of war if it sympathizes with the cause, according to allied diplomatic sources.

They said yesterday the 60,000 French troops currently stationed in West Germany might take part in a joint allied military effort if war started—but only if France was in sympathy with the NATO goal.

The sources said this was a substantial change in French President Charles de Gaulle's previous position that French troops are entirely independent of any NATO command.

The French government and the NATO high command promptly denied the report.

★ ★ ★

Allied diplomats cautioned the apparent mellowing of France's go-it-alone stand did not mean it was reneging on its pledge to quit NATO's military structure.

HOLDING TALKS

They insisted, however, an agreement that French troops in Germany might be used as part of an allied emergency effort had been worked out in talks here between allied Supreme Commander Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer and Gen. Charles Ailleret, head of the French Joint Chiefs of Staff.

★ ★ ★

The two generals have been holding talks here for the past six weeks in an effort to work out a method whereby French troops could retain their links with other allied forces.

Students Mass in Jakarta, Crying 'Death to Sukarno'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Nearly 2,000 students massed outside army headquarters today, accusing President Sukarno of being a Communist and shouting "Death to Sukarno" and "Hang Sukarno!"

The students chanted charges that Sukarno was involved in the Communist coup attempt of Oct. 1, 1965, and had a hand in the murder of six generals in the abortive revolt.

★ ★ ★

Sukarno's white palace is about 500 yards from the two-story army headquarters building, but the president was 80 miles away in his mountain retreat at Bogor when the demonstration occurred.

Armed troops ringed the headquarters building. As students surged against the gates, one of army Gen. Suharto's deputies came out to tell them he would present their demands to Suharto.

★ ★ ★

The students called for an end to Indonesia's dual leadership, now split in name at least, between Sukarno and Suharto. They also demanded an immediate settlement of the tense political situation.

Waving banners and flags, the students sang songs assailing Sukarno's Japanese-born wife, Ratna Sari Dewi, now in Tokyo awaiting the birth of her first child.

★ ★ ★

"Dewi is the rival of Hartini (Sukarno's second wife)," the youths chanted. They then turned on Hartini, who was accused of being a member of the women's Communist organization which is now banned.

★ ★ ★

Leaders of Indonesia's Congress decided Friday to hold a full congressional hearing in March or April to review Sukarno's position as president. The hearing could result in Sukarno's removal, but diplomats noted that such action has been demanded before and Sukarno is still president.

★ ★ ★

In a statement last week Sukarno refused to account for his responsibility in connection with the coup and the nation's economic problems. He attempted to shift the blame for the coup to Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, now chairman of Congress, who at the time was minister of defense and security.

Alleged Killer Found Insane

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI)—Eighteen-year-old Mathew C. Lamb, accused of the sniper slaying of a young girl last June, was found not guilty yesterday by virtue of insanity.

Lamb had been charged with capital murder in the slaying of Edith Chayoski, 20, on June 26, 1966.

Capital murder is equivalent to first degree murder in the U.S. and carries the death penalty.

Welcome

"Does a Religious Liberal Need a Church?"

Many a religious liberal walks alone through life. Working in solitude, such men have contributed much to humanity.

Why, then, is a church an important factor in the lives of Unitarians?

If Unitarians profess no creed, why is it necessary for Unitarians to seek the fellowship of others in a church?

"We unite," says the Constitution of the Unitarian Unviersalist Association, "to strengthen one another in a free and disciplined search for truth as the foundation of our religious fellowship. . . ."

Unitarians accept the concept that no man is an island unto himself; that the ideas of man are tested and improved when exposed to the critical analysis of other men.

Man's body of knowledge does not exist in a vacuum. It grows through reaching out, testing, conflict and combination.

Miami Editor Visits Agricultural Area of N. Vietnam

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following copyright story was written Jan. 16 by Bill Baggs, editor of the Miami (Fla.) News. Baggs spent eight days early this month in North Vietnam.)

By BILL BAGGS
Editor of the Miami News
Copyright 1967 by the Miami News

MY TRUNG, North Vietnam, (AP) — The way to the village lies over a narrow dirt causeway. Indeed, the road, winding through watery rice fields, is not much broader than an automobile.

A mist in the darkness challenged the vision of the driver. Now and then a tire kicked pebbles on the edge of the causeway into the water. Once we stalled, everyone got out and examined our predicament, and then we all joined in the democratic pleasure of pushing the car. It was late in the evening when we reached the village.

My Trung is in the back reaches of North Vietnam. It is almost 80 miles south of Hanoi, and it is farming country. The rice they eat in Hanoi is grown here and elsewhere in the Nam Ha Province.

Now the rice harvest is over, and the morning light reveals a green and wet country. Bananas and tangerines and oranges and papayas decorate the landscape. Pigs are a crop here, and the water buffalo, strong and moving deliberately across a field, is called "the living tractor."

FRUIT FACTORY

Not much industry hums in Nam Ha Province. There is a factory which cans fruit, a glassware plant, and a factory which produces farm implements, we were told, otherwise it is all farming. So you come here to study the agriculture of North Vietnam.

The old worry of the north has been not enough rice. For centuries, North Vietnam got more than half its rice from the south, but the war down there has cut off the supply.

Some foods come in from China, but an intense campaign has begun to grow enough rice here for the population of the country.

* * *

When the French governed Indochina, there was only one rice crop a year. After World War II, the government headed by Ho Chi Minh seized the old lands and distributed them into collectives. Each farmer got a small plot for his personal use, such as to grow fruits and vegetables and flowers for his family. An ambitious scheme to control the water was started with the construction of many dikes.

TWO RICE HARVESTS

Now there are two rice harvests each year, but Nguyen Viet Ca, who lives in the province and keeps records on agriculture for the government, said larger rice crops are needed. With water control and an extra harvest, and improved techniques, he said, the crops today are three to four times as heavy as when the French ruled.

But more rice is a necessity if the country is going to be independent of foreign sources.

State Road Deaths Hit New High in '66

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michiganites killed each other on the highway in greater numbers and at greater cost than ever before in 1966, the State Police reported yesterday.

They said that at least 2,270 persons lost their lives on Michigan's streets and highways last year in accidents that cost about $410 million.

It was the bloodiest year on the state's roads.

His Job Is Not To Be Envied

LANSING (AP) — "What," people ask Irwin Booth, "is a guy with a degree in forestry doing buying panties for women?"

Booth, a buyer for the state's purchasing division, has a job no man should envy.

Ever tried to buy a dress or an intimate undergarment for a woman? She exchanged it, we'll bet.

Booth buys for thousands of women. Every kind of garment. Men and children, too.

He is the buyer for all textiles, household and janitorial equipment purchased by the state.

A big part of his job is purchasing clothing for the patients at the state's mental institutions.

NEW ATTITUDE

"There's been a big change in the attitude in buying clothing for these people," Booth said. "The emphasis now is on therapy.

★ ★ ★

"We don't buy uniforms any more or anything we can get. We get them bright colors if they want and clothing anybody would be proud to wear."

A lot of patients at the mental institutions are released into the community part of the time to mingle with other people as part of their therapy. Children in an institution might attend a local school.

"We don't want them to be identified by their dress,' said Booth.

Booth tries with painstaking care to please the ladies. As an example, when buying cloth coats he sends samples over to the institutions to give a selection of fabrics.

"You think the job is worthwhile when you feel you are helping somebody," he said.

Irwin Booth, a buyer for the state purchasing division, buys dresses by the thousands. His philosophy in buying for women in state mental institutions is to pick gay colors and something "any woman would be proud to wear." Booth is retiring after 42 years in state service.

Let Children Learn This by Example

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the most interesting one for this week. Unfortunately, the writer did not include her name and address and I cannot send her a copy of Emily Post's Etiquette.

Readers, when you write to me, please include your name and address!

Dear Mrs. Post: Your article in today's paper is certainly one with which my husband and I agree. Now here is something I'd like to add. Do you also agree that besides teaching good manners and habits to your children they must see and hear them practiced in their home?

★ ★ ★

If they live with these habits day in and day out, then they will not be forgotten so easily.

I can't go along with the theory that "I am the head of the house so may do as I please, but my family must do as I say, regardless!"

As father and head of the house, I say he should do as he says himself to make any impression. How can I teach good manners to my children if they are not shown to them constantly? — A regular reader

Dear Reader: I have written, talked and lectured innumerable times about this very thing. The most important thing in bringing up children correctly is EXAMPLE.

★ ★ ★

As you point out, you can talk yourself blue in the face, but if the example is not there in front of them, children will not listen. On the other hand, if the example is consistently there, very little talk is necessary. We have no right to expect our children to behave better than we do ourselves.

Much of the trouble we are having with the youth in this country today is not because they are innately bad, but because their parents have been too lazy and have not cared enough to set them a good example.

ABSENT FATHER?

Dear Mrs. Post: When a girl comes here from a foreign country to be married and is a perfect stranger, who gives the bride away? Would it be proper for the groom's father to do so? — Leila

Dear Leila: Yet. It would be a warm and friendly act to have the groom's father stand in for her absent father.

Much Later Than You Think --Don't Put Off a Kindness

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About seven years ago you printed a letter in your column signed "TOO LATE."

ABBY

Abby, I must have read that letter a hundred times. I finally cut it out and framed it because I realized that I had been guilty of neglecting my own parents in their declining years. I made up my mind then and there that I would turn over a new leaf while there was still time, and I did.

Not only did I try to make up for the times I was "too busy" to go to see them, but I explained to my children how important it was to give their grandparents the pleasure of seeing them often. Now I know that I will never have to write a letter like the one I framed. Perhaps if you were to print that letter again, it would do for others what it did for me. God bless you.

GRATEFUL

DEAR GRATEFUL: Thank you for your letter. Curiously enough, the custodian of a cemetery wrote to tell me that "TOO LATE's" letter had been framed and was hanging in the chapel. What a pity that it would be read by those for whom it was also too late.

How much more good might be accomplished were it posted on the bulletin board in a high school. Here it is:

DEAR ABBY: I am the most heartbroken person on earth. I always found time to go everywhere else but to see my old, gray-haired parents. They sat at home alone, loving me just the same. It is too late now to give them those few hours of happiness I was too selfish and too busy to give, and now when I go to visit their graves and look at the green grass above them, I wonder if God will ever forgive me for the heartaches I must have caused them.

I pray that you will print this, Abby, to tell those who still have their parents to visit them and show their love and respect while there is still time. For it is later than you think.

TOO LATE

DEAR ABBY: I am single, in my early fifties, and have a good position. I live with my mother and we get along fine.

Last winter a cousin (about my age) passed away. Her husband has been coming here very often to visit "us." It has become very plain to both mother and me that he is interested in ME. Abby, how can I let him know that I am not interested in HIM? So far I have been able to get out of being alone with him, but he is very persistent.

If he keeps coming over here I will have to insult him to get the idea across, unless you tell me an easier way to go about it.

NOT INTERESTED

DEAR NOT: Keep the conversation impersonal. Continue to thwart all his efforts to get you alone. Stay out of his reach and retire early. He'll catch on.

P. S. — Why not introduce him to someone? One woman's leftovers can be another woman's banquet!

DEAR ABBY: I love my parents very much, but here is my problem. When they ask me to baby sit with my younger sisters and brothers they never tell me where they can be reached in case of emergency.

I have baby sat for others, but they always leave a number where I can reach them. Sometimes my parents will leave on Friday and stay away until Sunday night and I never know where they've been until they come back and tell me.

I have asked them many times to please give me some idea of where they are going, but they say, "We don't know. If anything happens, call the ambulance." My parents have been married for 20 years and I think they deserve a good time, but don't you think they should at least call in or something? WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Yes, I do, but if your parents are not sufficiently concerned about possible emergencies, there is nothing you can do but keep your eye on the little ones and pray you never have to call the ambulance.

It may take an emergency to change their attitudes. Let's hope their luck holds out.

HEALTH SERVICES
Why is America the healthiest nation in the world? There are many reasons, but here are two of the most important:
With only about 6% of the world's population, the United States has approximately 28% of the world's trained physicians!
And, we have about one-fourth of all the world's pharmacies!
This means that health services and products are more available to Americans than in any other major country on earth.

Thailand Aims 2-Pronged Offensive at Communists

By FRED HOFFMAN

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—With strong American support and encouragement, Thailand is mounting a two-pronged offensive against the growing Communist insurgency problem in its northeast provinces.

The Thai approach to the threat is aimed at strengthening security in the vulnerable areas and at bringing the northeast into the mainstream of the nation's economic, political and social life.

"We're trying to do two things at once—throw water on a burning house and bring about long-range development," an American aid expert said.

In the security field, the Thais are centering their counterinsurgency measures in the national police, with the 85,000-man Thai army backing them up.

The national police have been beefed up to 55,000 men and the plan is to increase the force to 62,000 by midyear.

The target date for a general improvement in police and security operations is next June, and some of the programs are only now off the ground.

★ ★ ★

The main objectives are to promote what is called "remote-area security" by stationing policemen in villages where they were only occasionally—and often unwelcome—visitors in the past; by creating a citizens' police militia, by organizing helicopter-borne "quick-reaction strike forces," and by installing a wide-coverage police radio net.

"This is a matter of concern," said a U.S. police adviser. "The Thai police up there in the northeast were not the best, by a long shot. Now, they are sending better men.

"I'm not saying the cops are now demigods. I'm not suggesting some of them aren't still pretty bad. But the national police and the provincial governors are concerned, and are doing something about it."

★ ★ ★

The police used to live off the peasants, demanding food and lodging. Now, officials say the police pay for these things. The government had been three years behind in paying police living expenses. This has been overcome.

Some Americans who travel upcountry find that many villagers are more afraid of quick-to-shoot policemen than they are of the Communists.

As one avenue to neutralizing hostility and suspicion, the national police are getting into civic action work of the sort that U.S. and Vietnamese troops do in Vietnam.

Thai provincial and border police are being trained to dispense medical aid, to help build schools and dig wells, and give the peasants a friendly lift in other ways.

★ ★ ★

The police-oriented security program is being pushed with the aid of nearly $14 million in U.S. funds and 43 American advisers drawn from civilian U.S. police departments, FBI-trained lawmen, customs service veterans and the ranks of retired Army Special Forces officers.

Air Chief Marshal Dawee Chuvalasapya, Thailand's chief of staff, contends that "we can fight against the Communists by ourselves."

But he adds that his country needs more and better weapons and other equipment, and he does not rule out the possibility that Thailand may have to ask the United States for more direct aid.

"If the Communists get the upper hand in Vietnam," he says, "no doubt they will come in force against Thailand."

U.S. FORCES

There are about 35,000 U.S. servicemen in Thailand, twice the commitment of a year ago. Of these, 25,000 are involved in air operations against North Vietnam and supply routes through Laos into South Vietnam. Many of the remaining 10,000 are building roads, bases and other facilities. Others are advisers attached to Thai military units.

A unit of 356 Special Forces troops is here to train Thais in counterinsurgency work.

This program is said to be temporary, and the Thais are not flown into combat zones but rather to forward assembly points, whence they move out against the guerrillas.

ORDERS

All Americans working with Thai forces, a top U.S. military source said, "are ordered not to get involved in any fighting or to put themselves in a position where they might get involved."

Thailand's own defense force is small—upwards of 85,000 in the army and about 25,000 each in the navy and air force.

In the economic field, the U.S. mission says, current aid is "related to security rather than to economic conditions within the country."

This is a source of strong criticism from some Americans who contend that the policy means that the northeastern, and to some extent southern, provinces are getting all the benefits while other areas of the country are shortchanged.

Aid officials deny that the rest of the country is being neglected in development projects because of the concentration on the northeast.

They claim the Thai government, which matches U.S. aid dollar for dollar, is carrying out extensive rural development work throughout the country. They also contend the critics do not take into account the aid projects supported by 19 nations and the World Bank.

PCH at Best Against Handy; Northern Rolls Past Stevenson

Hill, Wilson Spark 92-69 SVC Victory

Chiefs Play Saginaw in Key Tilt Tuesday; Half Game Behind

Special to the Press

BAY CITY — For the past four seasons, Bay City Handy has brought out the best in Pontiac Central.

Including the 1963-64 season, the Chiefs have whipped Handy six times in a row, and in all of those victories, the Pontiac quintet has scored more than 80 points.

They took the floor here last night and the speedy Chiefs raced past the defenseless Wildcats, 92-69.

The victory raised the Chief's record in Saginaw Valley Conference play to 5-1, leaving them a half game back of Saginaw (5-0), and it upped the PCH over-all mark to 7-2.

★ ★ ★

The triumph also set the stage for the showdown Tuesday afternoon on the PCH floor between the Chiefs and Saginaw. The game is set for 3:30, rescheduled as an afternoon game because of an incident following the PCH-Flint Northern game last week.

WINS EIGHTH

Saginaw, ranked third in the Associated Press Class A prep poll, ran its over-all record to 8-0 last night with a nonconference 68-58 win over Flint Northwestern.

★ ★ ★

In other SVC games, Flint Central downed Midland, 88-81; Arthur Hill topped Bay City Central, 67-63; and Flint Southwestern downed Flint Northern, 68-61.

The Chiefs only win over Handy last season was a 92-47 performance, and their offense matched that total last night.

Using a tight defense and taking advantage of their speed on offense, the Chiefs rolled up a 28-14 lead after one quarter, but Handy pulled a surprise in the second frame to slice the lead at halftime, 47-40.

But with guard Prentice Hill hitting from outside and forward Alton Wilson shooting from close range and carrying a big load in the rebounding department, the Chiefs outscored the Handy crew, 25-11, in the third stanza to break the game open.

TOP EFFORTS

Wilson and Hill wound up with their top scoring efforts of the season.

Hill closed with 28 points and Wilson added 26. Walter Causey contributed 16 and John Childs added 12 to the PCH attack.

Leading Handy was Jerry Wagner with 20. Jim List tossed in 13. The setback was the 10th in a row for Handy in a streak dating back to last season.

RO Shrine's Streak at Servite, 57-52

Royal Oak Shrine's six-game winning streak came to a halt last night as Detroit Servite avenged an earlier defeat by pinning a 57-52 setback on the Knights.

The loss left Shrine with an over-all 8-2 record.

But Servite stormed back in the third, outscoring the Knights, 16-7, to take a one-point lead.

Showdown Is Easy for Groves, 81-55

The deadlock in the Northwest Suburban League was broken last night and Birmingham Groves did it with ease in whipping Livonia Franklin in their showdown, 81-55.

★ ★ ★

The class A rated Falcons now stand 9-0 for the season and will probably run away with the league title.

In other games, Oak Park defeated John Glenn in a battle to stay out of the cellar, 77-56, and Thurston moved ahead of N. Farmington into third place, 96-61.

Groves led 36-24 at halftime, had a 48 per cent shooting mark for the night and pulled down 47 rebounds.

LIMPING LAKER — What little rebounding West Bloomfield had against Bloomfield Hills last night was severely hampered when center Steve Westjohn injured an ankle in the second quarter and went to the Lakers' bench for the night.

ANDING HAS ANGLE—West Bloomfield's Larry Anding has control of the basketball on this first-half play under the Lakers' basket despite the guarding of Bloomfield Hills' Kerry Heidel (10) Friday night. The hot-shooting Barons later took charge at both ends of the court and posted a 70-41 victory.

Birmingham Rice Best

The battle of the Brothers — Birmingham Brother Rice and Chicago Brother Rice, was played for the third time in their short rivalry and the Oakland County quintet defeated the Windy City five for the first time, 63-56.

The Chicago Rice team led 26-25 at halftime and it was a see-saw battle through the third quarter.

In the final stanza Mel Boomer hit six key points to help pull it away for the Birmingham Brothers.

Leading the Spartan attack was John Topie with 20 points, followed by Gary Nolin (18), Terry Schoenberg (16) and Wayne Brinker (10). Ken Kline tossed in 13 for Birch Run.

Farmington, Waterford Chalk Up Cage Triumphs

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It's time for the main event in the Inter-Lakes League.

The antagonists ridded themselves of preliminary foes last night, so next week it'll be Pontiac Northern and Farmington in the main event.

It's a bout both have been waiting for.

Farmington gained a slim 53-52 decision in their first meeting earlier in the season, and coach Jack Quiggle knows that Northern and Coach Dick Hall will be poised for a knockout next Friday.

★ ★ ★

Northern and Hall tuned for next week's match last night by easily disposing of Livonia Stevenson, 81-46, while Farmington ran into a little trouble before halting nonconference foe Roseville, 61-56.

WATERFORD WINS

★ ★ ★

The victory raised Northern's league record to 3-1, leaving the Huskies at Northern a game back of Farmington (4-0), so the scrap next Friday should settle the league race. If PNH wins, no doubt they'll share the title, since neither is likely to lose to any of the other loop foes.

Northern raised its over-all record to 7-2 in what turned out to be its easiest triumph of the campaign.

Stevenson, a new school fielding a team made of sophomores and juniors, suffered its fourth loop loss and seventh setback of the season.

★ ★ ★

GUARDS SHARP

The speedy twosome led the fast break and Clancy wound up on the payoff often enough to collect 22 points, best of the night, while Deaton fed the ball well and pushed in three buckets.

Don Hayward contributed 10 points to the PNH attack and senior guard Jack Brown, who came off the bench in the second period, picked up 14 markers.

"I know they'll be waiting for us," said Quiggle, referring to the PNH game coming up. "We'll be there."

★ ★ ★

Farmington (7-3) jumped off to a 36-21 halftime lead and had little trouble until early in the third when Roseville hit a hot streak and rallied to tie the game at 44-44.

CLICK AGAIN

The winners began clicking again midway in the fourth to pull out the victory. Greg Dorow led Farmingtonn with 15 markers while Ken Fiott tossed in 20 for Roseville (1-8).

★ ★ ★

Waterford won its second in a row and evened its record at 2-2, and in winning, the Skippers came up with their best offensive showing of the season.

After a 13-11 lead in the first period, Waterford tossed in 26 in the second frame for a 39-23 lead at intermission.

★ ★ ★

Bill Hill set the pace for the Skippers with 20 points, followed by Karl Arrington (17), Ben Benson (14) and Paul Thomas (12).

Greg Fogle, one of the leading scorers in Oakland County, flipped in 31 for Walled Lake (3-8).

Captains' Offense Rhythmic

Kettering 5 Beats L'Anse in 'Swinger'

By DON VOGEL

The banner on the wall proclaimed, "7-0 A Go-Go."

It took Waterford Kettering's basketball team a little over three minutes to get its winning rhythm last night. Visiting L'Anse Creuse then found the entire score very unsettling, particularly the final tune of 81-48.

★ ★ ★

The victory was the eighth for the defending Tri-County League champion and enhanced its chances of moving up from the No: 9 spot among the state's Class A powers.

The Captains now are 4-0 in league play which has reached the halfway mark. Romeo pulled into a tie for second with Oxford by whipping Lapeer, 77-55.

L'Anse opened against Kettering with a zone defense that effectively bottled up the middle and allowed the Lancers to slip into a 6-4 lead with three minutes gone.

★ ★ ★

Kettering's Jack McCloud was just as effective in ruining L'Anse's plan by hitting six-long one-handers from the side before the first quarter ended to spark the Captains to a 23-11 lead.

10 STRAIGHT

Guard Frank Hawthorne was

Country Day Hands Oxford Cage Shocker

What might have been a soft touch turned out to be a hornet's nest of sorts last night for Oxford's Wildcats.

Oxford, a Class B quintet, moved down a notch to take on Class C Country Day and it turned out a little embarassing as the Wildcats suffered a 70-44 setback.

Country Day's Yellow Jackets romped to a 33-15 lead at intermission and were never threatened.

Tim Baughman, who hit 12 of 21 shots from the field, finished with 26 points to pace the winners and teammate Paul Miller, who failed to score in the first half, collected 20 in the first 11 minutes of the second half.

Seaholm, Ferndale Set for SEMA Showdown

The Southeastern Michigan Association has settled down to a two-team race and that will be reduced to one next week.

Birmingham Seaholm, leading the league with a 5-1 record, turned back Hazel Park last night, 67-49, to remain a half game in front of Ferndale (4-1), a 66-60 winner over Southfield (3-3).

Seaholm, 8-2 over-all has a date in Ferndale next Friday.

In the other loop game, Royal Oak Kimball (2-3), raced past Berkley (2-3), 63-53.

★ ★ ★

After a slow start, Seaholm's Maples found the range and jumped in front at halftime, 30-22, and padded the lead after three quarters, 49-36.

TEN SCORE

Ten players entered the scoring column for the Maples with Whit Shea leading the way with 19 markers. Ron Kujawa tossed in 20 for Hazel Park (0-5).

Dave Cook, the Maples top rebound, tossed in nine points and Rich Copeland added eight.

Kimball took advantage of its opportunities at the charity line, hitting on 23 of 23 to provide the margin of victory.

Best of the charity takers was Fred Shellnut, who hit 11 of 11 and added a pair of field goals for a 15-point performance. Brent Terry added 14.

Bloomfield Hills Tops Lakers, 70-41

Clarkston and Northville continued their private war for first place while Bloomfield Hills and Milford gained ground in the battle for fourth place in Wayne-Oakland League basketball last night.

The players had their shooting eyes either from the field or the foul line to account for all the victories.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County scoring leader Dan Fife pumped in 24 points in the third quarter as Clarkston pulled away from Brighton for a 74-53 win after leading, 26-22, at intermission.

Fife finished with 38 points. Clarkston, who made 20 of 28 free throws, now has a 7-0 mark and remains one game ahead of Northville.

The Mustangs also were sharp at the charity stripe, making 13 of 16 to down third-place Holly, 61-54. The loser couldn't get closer than four points in the second half.

Milford nipped Clarenceville, 66-64, in overtime when Don Hill completed a 1½-minute stall by driving for the winning basket in the closing seconds. Bob McFarland's two free throws had tied the game at 63 with 42 seconds to play in regulation.

★ ★ ★

A 20-for-27 foul-line effort was instrumental in the Redskins' triumph that left them tied with Hills (3-4) for fourth place, one game ahead of Brighton and Clarenceville.

SHARP SHOOTING

Bloomfield Hills gunned down arch-rival West Bloomfield, 70-41, with a 55 per cent field goal record. The taller Barons took 54 shots to 36 by the losing Lakers, who only made 12 to Hills' 30.

Football quarterback Bob Calhoun found himself right at home in the bumpy early going, tallying all 17 of his points in the first half when the Barons built a 35-20 edge.

The stocky forward hit his final five goal tries for an eight-of-eleven night, a couple of which brought the sparse crowd to its feet. He also passed off for two other baskets.

His four second-quarter field goals all came in the closing four minutes of the half and enabled the winners to up their lead from nine to 15 points.

Teammate Bruce Hall matched Calhoun's 17 points with a strong second half in which he made three of four from the floor. He pulled down nine rebounds but Jon Ayers had 10 to lead everyone.

West Bloomfield's primary weapon was veteran Ted LaPratt, a slender jumper, who hit six of 13 field goal tries and grabbed one third of his team's 22 rebounds.

The Lakers were hampered by 20 turnovers. They had 11 of them in the opening half when Hills lost the ball only three times while taking control of the contest.

WHAT'S UP??—The elusive basketball is the wanted object by the outstretched hands of three players in the Rochester-Fitzgerald game. In the foreground are Gary Sovey (15) of Rochester and Dan Benson (15) of Warren Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald won the game, 70-53.

Rochester, Avon Suffer O-A Losses

Avondale and Rochester kept their games interesting for a half last night but both faded in the second half while dropping decisions in Oakland A League action.

League-leading Warren Fitzgerald ran its record to 9-0 in loop play and 10-0 over-all by bouncing Rochester, 70-53. Warren Cousino, holding second place in the O-A with a 7-2 mark, rolled past Avondale, 69-61.

In the other games, Madison (3-6) surprised Troy (4-5), 55-52, and Lake Orion (1-8) threw a scare into Clawson (5-4) before bowing, 57-55.

Rochester's Falcons grabbed a two-point lead late in the first half, but the visiting Spartans tossed in four straight markers to take a 31-29 halftime margin.

★ ★ ★

Fitzgerald quickly established its superiority in the third stanza by scoring three buckets to open a 36-29 lead.

CLOSES GAP

Rochester came back to close the gap to 52-47 with five minutes left, and with two minutes left, it was 58-51. At that point, Rochester hit a dry spell and the Spartans found the basket an easy target and blew the game open.

Archie Anderson and Bob Burt picked up six points each in the opening period to spark Avondale to a 16-11 lead, but after that brief flurry, the game belonged to Cousino.

★ ★ ★

COUSINS SHARP

Down by 16 points early in the fourth, Avondale fought back to move within six but the Yellow Jackets ran out of time.

Burt finished with 18 points to pace the Jackets' attack. Lee Saunders tossed in 17 and Anderson added 16. Along with their scoring, Saunders picked off 15 rebounds and Anderson hauled down 13.

★ ★ ★

Madison ended a five-game losing streak in squeaking past Troy, a team that had won five of its last six starts.

LEADS AT HALF

★ ★ ★

Blach, who paced Madison with 24 points, flipped in five baskets in the third period and it was his rebounding that kept Troy off balance.

Reserve Rich Wimble played an instrumental role in the win for Madison. He came on in the fourth and picked one basket and four free throws in a tight situation.

TOP SCORERS

Mikemen Rally at Holy Cross

FOLS Stays Ahead of OLSM Eaglets

Leaders in the Macomb and Northwest Parochial leagues survived minor scares in posting loop victories last night.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac St. Michael ran its Macomb record to 10-0 with a 63-61 decision over Marine City Holy Cross, while Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows (9-2) held onto a half-game lead in the Northwest by turning back St. Francis de Sales, 78-74.

In other Macomb games, St. Frederick handed Anchor Bay Catholic an 82-35 setback, and Waterford Our Lady of Lakes rolled past Detroit St. Rose, 51-33.

★ ★ ★

HELPS OUT

Butch Finnegan, who picked up 11 points for the Mikemen, followed Keller's feat with two charity tosses as the Mikemen opened up a six-point lead.

★ ★ ★

Guard Glynn led the Mikemen with 21 points, while Keller finished with 13. John Dietlin led all scorers with 35 for the losers.

Freshman Sam Brady, a 15-year-old forward, collected 32 points in sparking the St. Frederick onslaught. J. C. Bard and John Guillean added 13 each.

St. Fred (7-4) held a 49-9 lead at intermission. AB Catholic's record dipped to 1-9 with the loss.

Down at halftime, 30-27, OLSM's Eaglets came back to outscore St. Benedict, 36-25, in the second half.

LEADS EAGLETS

Terry Shaw led the OLSM (8-2) attack with 24 points and teammate Tim Megge added 14. Tim Murray flipped in 17 for the losers.

★ ★ ★

Tim Doyle collected 31 points and teammate Frank Carrico tossed in 24 to pace Farmington Our Lady (9-2). Len McCulloch picked up 19 for De Sales.

St. Rose's slow-down tactics coupled with WOLL's cold field-goal shooting gave the visitors a 16-14 halftime lead. But the Lakers found the range in the second half and pulled away.

Nicklaus in Crosby Lead Despite 3 Double Bogeys

PEBBLE BACH, Calif. (AP) — Masters champion Jack Nicklaus fell before a high wind for double bogeys on three of the final four holes but still staggered into a two-stroke second round lead in the $104,500 Bing Crosby golf tournament with a 142.

The 205-pound blond blazed through the cold, windy day to make the nine-hole turn five strokes under par at Cypress point and appeared set to make it a runaway.

The the gale winds hit the exposed oceanside course and he took a five at the 122-yard, par three 15th, another five at the perilous over-the-ocean 16th when his tee shot was blown into the sea and then belted into a cypress grove on the 17th and again went two over. He finished the round with a 73.

With only three of the 168 pros breaking par on the three courses as winds hit 35 miles per hour, Nicklaus finished with a two-stroke lead over Jerry Pittman, Jim Colbert, Steve Oppermann and Bob McCallister who deadlocked at 144.

Frank Boynton of South Euclid, Ohio, and Dow Finsterwald of Colorado Springs, Colo., were the other sub-par shooters with 71's at Cypress Point. Each had 148 at the 36-hole midway point.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus played an unbelievable round and, heading for his third double bogey commented, "This is a pretty good game. I'm going to have to take it up sometime."

First round leader Joe Carr tried Spyglass Hill, the new course at the site where "Treasure Island" was written, and his hopes of finding gold glimmered. He shot an 82 after an opening 68 had given him the lead.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Arnold Palmer rallied with three birdies on the final holes for a 75 at Pebble Beach and commented, "The wind on the seventh, eighth, ninth and 10th was so strong that I could hardly stand."

The Souchak brothers, Mike and Frank, combined for a best-ball 61 and the pro-am lead at 126. Pro Mike had a 73 on his own ball.

3-Way Deal in NBA Is Called Off

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets announced Friday that a three-way trade involving Rudy LaRusso of the Los Angeles Lakers, Ray Scott of Detroit and Mel Counts of the Bullets has been cancelled.

The Bullets said the deal could not be completed because the Detroit club of the National Basketball Association had been unable to persuade LaRusso to join it.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said the Bullets were informed of LaRusso's refusal to leave Los Angeles by General Manager Edwin A. Coil of the Detroit Pistons.

In the deal, LaRusso, a 6-foot-8 cornerman, was to go to Detroit; 6-foot-9 cornerman Ray Scott was to go to Baltimore; and 7-foot reserve center Mel Counts was to go to Los Angeles.

The Bullets said they still were interested in obtaining Scott and would try to work out a trade to get him.

The Bullets said that they were told that LaRusso, an eight-year veteran in the NBA, has been suspended by the Lakers.

Emmanuel is now 2-6 for the season.

'67 Olympics Bid Planned by New York

Lindsay told a news conference that the city is prepared to spend about $500 million to build a stadium, swimming pool, dormitories and dining facilities to accommodate between 6,000 and 8,000 athletes.

The Mayor said he would appoint a committee next week to draw up the city's formal bid which would have to be submitted to the U. S. Olympic Committee in six months.

New Mexico Becomes 2nd Cage Mystery

By the Associated Press

The apparent collapse of the New Mexico Lobos has started to intrigue college basketball fans already perplexed by the decline of the Kentucky Wildcats.

★ ★ ★

FOURTH LOSS

It was the fourth defeat, all on the road, against 11 victories for the Lobos who slipped from third to ninth in the current AP rankings after last week's setbacks by Wyoming and Denver. New Mexico State handed the Lobos their first defeat last month.

Unbeaten, top-ranked UCLA, the only other team in the Top Ten to see action, made it 13 straight with a 122-57 romp over Portland at Los Angeles, with sophomore Lew Alcindor pacing the attack with 27 points.

Stock Driver Dies in Crash

Bill Foster Is Killed in Riverside Track

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — (AP) Speed driver Billy Foster, 29, of Victoria, B.C., named rookie of the year in 1965, was killed instantly Friday in a practice run for the Motor Trend Riverside 500 stock car race at Riverside Raceway to be held Sunday.

Foster suffered massive head injuries when his car slammed against a retaining wall as he approached turn No. 9 while traveling at an estimated 135 to 140 miles an hour.

Dr. Irving Omphroy, course physician, said the well-liked Canadian was killed instantly.

Foster, whose car was the first involved in the multi-crash at the start of the 1966 Indianapolis 500 but who later was absolved of blame in the pile-up, had just started to brake on the mile long staraightaway where speeds up to 155-160 miles an hour are registered.

★ ★ ★

WKHS Win Streak Claims 8th Victim

The Captains went into a full court pressing defense in the second quarter and made a shambles of the contest. They stole the ball 11 times as the Lancers tried to either pass it in from the end line or get it over the center stripe.

They stored the press defense in the locker room, but came out with a slick exhibition of ball handling in the third quarter that left the Lancers' newly entrenched man-to-man defense a shambles.

The Captains chalked up an impressive statistic for any prep or college team by converting 15 of 16 free throws. They also connected on 33 of 65 field goal attempts for 51 per cent.

L'Anse Creuse players hit 16 of 51 for 31 per cent. A late surge did give the Lancers a 31-30 rebounding edge.

Dog Obedience Classes Set at Three Locations

Dog obedience training classes will get under way with demonstrations at three area sites within the next two weeks.

Demonstrations are scheduled next Wednesday at the CAI building in Waterford Township and Thursday at Whitfield school in Pontiac. A similar program will be held Feb. 7 at Walled Lake high school.

Starting time is 8 p.m. at the three locations.

Registrations will be accepted the same nights for the 10-week course conducted by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club.

Dog owners who plan to attend the demonstrations are urged to leave their pets home, according to training director Len Schell. Actual class work will start one week later.

Schell, of 2323 Little Trail, Walled Lake, will have charge of the Walled Lake class. Jim Richmond, 2188 Greer, Keego Harbor, will be instructor at Whitfield.

★ ★ ★

Sledder Dies After Injury

AOSTA, Italy (AP) — Leopoldo Gaspari, 1966 Italian four-man bobsledding champion, died in a hospital here Friday night, five days after his bobsled overturned during a training race.

★ ★ ★

Gaspari, who had been training for the national two-man bobsledding championship, fractured his skull Monday when his bobsled swerved off the track and he was thrown into the air and fell back onto the tumbling sled.

Women's Keg Mark of 792 Is Matched

★ ★ ★

Miss Ignizio, whose father operates a bowling alley in Rochester, bowled games of 256, 257 and 279 in the North Park Singles Classic League.

The International Bowling Congress at Columbus, Ohio, said Miss Ignizio tied the record held by Janet Harman of Norwalk, Calif., who rolled 792 Oct. 28, 1963.

Visconti Wins Skating Crown

Visconti's brilliant free skating rally Friday night led the 5-foot-3 junior college stylist to his second dethroning of 17-year-old Scott Allen in three years.

The next two finishers, third place Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills and J. Misha Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., said in agreement: "It was a very close competition, but Gary just went out and did better."

Not since Olympic gold medalist David Jenkins retired after winning the 1960 U.S. title has a national champion repeated. Bradley Lord, 1961 champion, died in the tragic plane crash that wiped out America's 18-skater world squad Feb. 15, 1961.

After that, Monty Hoyt and Tommy Litz had one-year reigns in 1962 and 1963 and then began the see-saw battle between Allen and Visconti.

Friday night's victories by Visconti and smooth gold dance team of Lorna Dyer and John Carrell of Seattle, Wash., left five championships to be decided in today's windup of the four-day national meet.

Two titles were considered already in the bag — the women's singles diadem by three-time winner Peggy Fleming, 18, of Colorado Springs, the reigning world champion, and the senior pairs crown by defending champions Cynthia and Ronald Kauffman, youthful sister-brother team from Seattle.

SHOO-INS

Both Miss Fleming and the Kauffmans completely dominated earlier compulsory figures and were regarded as shoo-ins in the free style finals.

The novice championships for men and women were to be settled this afternoon, and the silver dance finals along with the senior women and senior pair finals will be held tonight.

Visconti, last to free skate in the nine-man senior field, was a confident and graceful performer from start to finish in his five-minute program which brought a one-minute ovation from the crowd of 6,100 at Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum.

Allen, whose free skating appeared a little below par, and Visconti each wound up with two first place votes from the five judges in the over-all scoring. But the 120-pound Visconti collected second place votes from all three other judges while Allen's other votes were one each for second, third and fourth.

★ ★ ★

Visconti executed several crisp double axels and double lutz's and his blurring spin finish brought a roar from the crowd.

"In the middle of my fourth minute, I told myself 'I'm gonna win, I'm gonna win,'" Visconti said.

"I can do three different triple jumps, but it was too close tonight and I didn't want to take a chance of making the same mistake I did last year when I fell on a triple toe loop."

Allen politely said, "I was very pleased with my over-all performance, but Visconti was skating very well."

Olympic Style Speed Skating

FLINT (UPI) — Diane Holum, a pert 15-year-old from Northbrook, Ill., led a group of 116 hopefuls into the United States Olympic Style Speed Skating Championships today with four berths in the World Championships at stake.

Miss Holum, the defending junior women's champion, stole the show from her elders last year when she won every event and posted a better time than the senior women's winner in each race.

The three other defending champs also are back along with Terry McDermott, Bay City barber seeking a comeback to the style which won him a gold medal and a world record in the 500-meter in the Winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria, three years ago.

About 10,000 were expected to throng the cold slopes around Kearsley Lake where the contestants will skate in pairs around an Olympic oval track.

Bulls Leave Pistons in Last Place

By the Associated Press

The Detroit Pistons, who started the season with hopes of making the National Basketball Association playoffs, are back in last place in the Western Division.

Bob Boozer sank two free throws after time ran out in overtime to give the Chicago Bulls a 125-124 victory over Detroit Friday night. The loss, Detroit's sixth in seven games, dropped the Pistons into a last place tie with the Los Angeles Lakers.

In other NBA games, Wilt Chamberlain, sank his 27th consecutive field goal — a record— to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 119-108 victory over the Lakers.

John Havelick scored 33 points to lead the Boston Celtics to a 129-117 victory over the Baltimore Bullets. On the West Coast, the San Francisco Warriors broke away from the St. Louis Hawks in the third period and went on to a 142-115 victory.

The Pistons, who led most of the game, had grabbed a 124-123 advantage with four seconds remaining when Ron Reed sank a pair of free throws. After Chicago called time out, Boozer took a pass from Guy Rodgers and as he went up for the shot, he was fouled by Dave Debusschere.

Under the bonus rule, Boozer had three attempts to make two shots. He made the first shot to tie the game, missed the second and then converted his bonus into victory.

Brion to Play in Semifinals

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Former PGA champion Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., and Stan Brion, Orchard Lake, Mich., won semifinal matches Friday and will meet Saturday in the 36-hole finals of the PGA National Golf Clubs match play championships.

In semifinals, Harper defeated Jack Isaacs, Richmond, Va., 2 and 1, and Brion, assistant pro at TamO'shanter, downed Bill Krick, Ellenville, N.Y., 1-up over 19 holes.

Quarter-finals play saw Isaacs down Freddy Haas, Metarie, La. 3 and 2. Harper beat Marty Furgol, El Dorado, Ark., 3 and 2.

NFL Teams in Prestige Star Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The 17th annual Pro Bowl football game — and it may be the last in its present form — takes over the grid scene Sunday with the best of the National Football League on display in Memorial Coliseum.

It's East versus West as stars of the eastern and western conferences of the NFL go into action before a hoped-for-crowd of 50,000 and a national television audience.

CBS does the television with the kickoff set for 4:05 p.m., EST. Los Angeles and a radius of 75 miles are screened out.

This is a prestige game for the players who are selected to play by the NFL coaches, an honor that has significance when talking next season's contracts with the club bosses.

PICKS UNITAS

Coach George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams, the West's coach, named Baltimore's famed Johnny Unitas to lead off at quarterback, but Green Bay's equally celebrated Bart Starr won't be long coming on the scene.

Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, the East's guardian, selected his own quarterback, Don Meredith, to start, but as with the other team, Frank Ryan of the Cleveland Browns will share the honors.

Generally the Pro Bowl games are wide open since the coaches don't have too much time to perfect defenses.

Rain Hampers AFL All-Stars

Sixth Annual Game Slated Today

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Bewitched by fog and betrayed by rain, the American Football League's top gridders met today in their sixth annual All-Star game after a training period cut to three days because of the elements.

Coach John Rauch's West squad, with Kansas City's Len Dawson starting at quarterback, was listed as a seven-point favorite to turn back the East for the fifth time in as many meetings.

Final practice was called off for each 34-man squad Friday because of rain and the Weather Bureau said there was an 80 per cent chance of it continuing. Monday's workout also was scratched when a fog closed down the Los Angeles Airport after the "Super Bowl" game and disrupted assembling the squads.

Rauch and coach Mike Holovak of the East have used what time they could to install about 15 plays each and formulate defenses that will be standard and not tricky.

Records May Fall in Track Meet Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mile and two-mile records may be in danger tonight as stars from over the world converge on the Sports Arena for the Los Angeles Invitational Indoor Track Meet.

Jim Ryun of Kansas, who lowered the world mile mark to 3:51.3 last July, has been troubled with a back ailment and a chest cold but he said Thursday, "I'm in a lot better shape than I thought."

The tall sophomore will be running against a strong mile field that includes Dyron Burleson, Albany, Ore., twice winner of final Olympic trials; Tim Danielson, Brigham Young University, who has run the mile in under four minutes, and Dave Sirl of New Zealand.

Favorites in the two-mile are Jim Grelle, Multnomah, Ore., who with Ryun shares the American two-mile mark of 8:25.2; and Gerry Lindgren, Washington State University, who ran 8:34 at Portland last year.

Illinois Continues Suspension of 'Slush Fund' Athletes

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The University of Illinois announced Friday the continued suspension of four varsity basketball players who allegedly received illegal financial assistance.

Dr. Leslie A. Bryant, acting athletic director and faculty representative, said the four players cannot expect to regain eligibility at least until after the present season.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

They and seven unidentified football players were among those who allegedly received assistance from a $21,000 slush fund.

★ ★ ★

Bryant's statement was issued Friday after Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed had concluded his investigation of the irregularities.

Reed said he has set no definite time for turning in his report to conference athletic directors.

★ ★ ★

Bryant said "We will do every thing we can to assure these young men will continue with their undergraduate education.

I have expressed to them the university's and my personal regret that neither the commissioner nor the University of Illinois had any discretion in the application of conference rules once the fact of receipt of unauthorized financial assistance was established.

Key Post in House to Attica Legislator

LANSING (UPI) — House Speaker Robert E. Waldron yesterday continued his share-the-work attitude toward the equally divided House by naming nearly as many Democrats as Republicans to the powerful House Policy Committee.

The Grosse Pointe Republican named Rep. Roy L. Spencer, R-Attica, as chairman of the committee and Rep. Albert R. Horrigan, D-Flint, who was its chairman last year, as vice chairman.

Thursday, Waldron named Democrat George Montgomery of Detroit as vice chairman of the key Committee on taxation with Republican James N. Folks of Horton as chairman. Republicans will control that committee 8-5.

Spencer is associated speaker pro tem and Horrigan was speaker pro tem in the last legislature.

In all, five Republicans, including Rep. William P. Hampton of Birmingham, and four Democrats were appointed to the committee that has jurisdiction over House rules, resolutions and other matters of policy.

THIRD REWARD

Rebel Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, who enabled Waldron's election as speaker by voting with Republicans on a series of rules changes, won his third reward in being named to the policy committee.

He was named to the taxation committee Thursday and has been promised a seat on the powerful legislative council.

He did not hold a seat on House policy before.

Spencer, who has been on House policy for four years, said Horrigan's selection as vice chairman of the committee "clearly demonstrates a willingness by House Republicans to work in a bipartisan atmosphere during the coming session."

IMMEDIATE START

Waldron said the group would start work immediately to draft House rules.

Other Republicans named to the committee included Reps. Russell H. Strange, Mount Pleasant; Melvin DeStigter, Hudsonville; an Freshman William V. Weber, Kalamazoo.

Other Democrats besides Horrigan and O'Brien are Reps. James Bradley of Detroit and Dominic J. Jacobetti of Negaunee.

* * *

Spencer, Horrigan, Hampton, Bradley and Jacobetti are returnees to the committee. Bumped from it were Republican Don R. Pears of Buchanan and Democrat Vincent J. Petipren of Wayne.

That's the Only Way to Go

GREENOCK, Scotland (AP)—Douglas Lawrence, a local taxi owner, has started a special service to take drunk drivers home.

For the ordinary taxi fare plus 7 shillings and 6 pence ($1.05) the drunk driver is driven home while another driver takes his car home and garages it.

This experiment has gone on for some weeks and is highly successful, Lawrence said.

The dunks taken home agreed the dollar charge was cheap compared with a possible fine in court, Lawrence said.

Robert Earl Hughes, a 6-footer from Fish Hook, Illinois, weighed 1069 pounds, had a chest measurement of 122 inches and a waist measurement of 124 inches. He died at the age of 32 and his coffin measured 7 feet by 4 feet, 4 inches.

The world around us is always changing, and so are we. It's the only way we can progress. That basically is what "repent" means: to change our thinking, for the better. At the deepest level, it's a spiritual liberating process, impelling man towards his divine destiny. Hear this public lecture, "Why Not Change Your Thinking?" by ROY J. LINNIG, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand shows Eric Murray at work again. We approve of his double of one spade but sort of shudder at his two no-trump call.

JACOBY

On the other hand, Eric's style is to bid when it is his turn and his two no-trump bid produced fine dividends.

Sammy Kehela in the East went to three hearts and if South had only passed even Sammy would have had to work to hold his loss to down two.

Down two undoubled and not vulnerable would not have represented any real loss but if South had doubled three hearts, Eric's two no-trump call would have been a real loser.

As it was the bid produced a five International Match Point profit for the Canadian star.

South won the opening heart lead and returned the suit. East won and shifted to a diamond. South allowed this to run to Eric's queen and Eric led another heart.

South ruffed in dummy, discarded a diamond on the ace of clubs and led a diamond for a finesse. The finesse lost to Eric's king and because the defense still had to make two trump tricks, South was down one.

At the other tables, South was allowed to play two spades and with the play going the same way, these South players made the same eight tricks for a plus of 110 points instead of a minus of 100 points.

These small swings don't amount to much in a rubber bridge game but in IMP competition they actually determine who wins and who loses.

In the IMP scale a swing of 170-210 points is worth 5 IMPs. A swing of 750 points which represents the difference between a vulnerable game and a slam is only worth 13 IMPs so that three such part-score swings more than balance a missed slam.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1♦	Pass	Pass	1♠
Pass	3♣	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠AQ765 ♥43 ♦K832 ♣76

What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. Your partner must be trying for game and you have diamonds stopped.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Answer Monday

Chinese Claim Fiber Discovery

TOYKO (AP) — Communist China claims it is using limestone, salt and coke to produce a synthetic fiber which is light, crease-resistant and more durable than cotton.

Peking's New China News Agency (NCNA) identified the fiber as a polyvinyl chloride product. It said that the fiber has been successfully blended with cotton to produce twills, calicos, mosquito nets and hosieries.

Astrological Forecast

BY SYDNEY OMARR

For Sunday

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Check tendency to agree too quickly. Best not to become involved in activity which could upset financial, emotional applecart. Relative may be sincere, but not fully informed.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Discussion today could result in money-making proposal. Be aware, alert, anxious for opportunity. Social occasion is pleasant . . . but look beneath surface. Be perceptive.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Take special care with appearance. Visitors may arrive at wrong conclusions. Head off confusion by being at your best — in looks, conversation. Fine day . . . but you must help it along.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Be aware of words from wise individual. Get beneath the surface. Absorb meanings. Group or church activity especially favored. If family member reveals dilemma, be sympathetic.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Emphasis on hopes, wishes, friendships. Fine for entertaining at home. Seek harmony in domestic area. Don't force issues. If you can relax . . . you get what is required.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Surprise due. May be connected with organizational activity. If those behind the scenes make announcement — be ready. Face persons, situations as they actually exist.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Your appetite for achievement is sharpened. Steer clear of disputes. Today you can outline plans, proposals. Put thoughts on paper. Express gratitude to older individual.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Best to put finishing touches on project. Avoid premature starts. Permit mate, partner to take initiative. Money or investment problem comes to forefront. Be consistent.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Key is ability to observe. Study SCORPIO message. Don't be in too much of a hurry. Emphasis points to public relations. Means strive to make favorable impression.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): You have choice between moderation and extremes. If you choose latter you pay — get nothing in return. Moderate course enhances prestige . . . and you flourish. Act accordingly!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Plan creative activities. Improvement in domestic situation indicated. You can bask in glow of love — it's basically up to you. Some changes, concessions needed.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Necessary to be attentive. Applies especially where plans, contracts, details are concerned. Avoid careless actions, snap decisions. Double check. Use power of observation.

★ ★ ★

For Monday

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Decisions do not appear firm . . . or lasting. Be ready for changes. Being versatile saves time, effort. But having some doubt saves disappointment in first place.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): You may have to revise some plans. Obtain hint from ARIES message. If nothing else . . . BE PRACTICAL. If you give in to fears, superstitions . . . you defeat major purpose.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Like many others today . . . your plans are subject to alteration. Members of opposite sex, children enter scheme of events. Accent on personality, sense of humor.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Unnecessary travel could create problems. If you can stick close to home base, benefits accrue. Grass only appears greener far away. Know this — respond accordingly.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Discoveries made today apt to be valid. What you learn may cause some disillusionment. But in long run all works out best. Key is maturity, willingness to face facts.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): What appears beyond reach is moving closer than you might think . . . get ready for surprise. That which you require IS possible to attain. Maintain positive attitude.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Indirect approach now gets best results. Many want to learn, to help you. But some are shy . . . or waiting to "see what happens." Be tactful, poised. Relaxed attitude best.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Tendency to be extravagant should be overcome. Be creative without rocking boat of security. Emphasize practical approach. Be shrewd where spending is concerned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): If you insist on perfection you invite disappointment. Friend, mate is under pressure. Try to understand and act accordingly. Do plenty of listening, observing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Concentrate on solid base. Wisest to be charming but realistic. Accent today on basic issues, work, health. Key to success is MODERATION. Avoid extremes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Study CAPRICORN message. If practical you gain objective. Otherwise you could find yourself on emotional merry-go-round. Stress on romance and new discoveries, feelings.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Family influences are strong. Today you should decide one way or the other. End period of doubt by taking some action. Be definite. FOLLOW THROUGH ON DECISION.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Terror No Longer Reigns at Arkansas Prison Farm

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — The man at the gate wears a pistol. The men in the towers overlooking the flat farmland brandish shotguns. All are convicts.

They help guard at Tucker State Prison Farm, where terror reigned and money bought anything from sex to prison jobs and whisky until last August, convicts say in a confidential report prepared by the state police.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, in office only a week, released the report Monday and called for an investigation into conditions at the farm, a 4,500-acre facility about 40 miles southeast of Little Rock where about 275 young offenders serve time.

Most of the inmates who were interviewed yesterday said they thought there had been great strides toward improving conditions in the last few months. They indicated, however, that all was still not well despite the state police investigation in August that led to changes in the prison's operations.

NEEDS IMPROVING

Prisoners complained of overcrowding in the barracks, dirty and rotten mattresses, broken beds and a short supply of good clothing. One said the prisoners recently had to work in the fields in subfreezing weather.

"But when you were sentenced, didn't the judge say 'hard labor'?" asked Pink Booher, a former sheriff who has been assistant penitentiary superintendent in charge of Tucker since last Demberr.

Many inmates appeared guarded in their comments in the presence of Booher, who accompanied a newsman on a tour of the prison facilities.

The investigation, ordered by former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, led to the dismissal of three of the four wardens at the prison.

The prisoners' complaints now seem mild in contrast to the state police report in which inmates told of being tortured and of being beaten with chains, ax handles and other objects. Those questioned Friday said they knew nothing of this nature happening since the troopers moved in.

Some recalled that the most dreaded form of torture was to be "rung up" — given a jolt of electricity — by a device known as the "Tucker telephone," which they said was made of a crank telephone, two electrodes and dry cell batteries.

"It felt like somebody got hold of your legs and tried to pull them away from the rest of your body," said one inmate who said he was "rung up."

Sale of State Municipals Rises 25 Pct.

The sale of municipal bonds in Michigan during 1966 reached a new all-time high, according to Douglas H. Campbell, vice president, First of Michigan Corporation.

In spite of record high interest rates, the demand for new city and school facilities brought a total of $479,124,000 new Michigan bonds into the market. This is a 25 per cent increase over 1965, and represents 5 per cent of the bonds sold throughout the United States during the year.

Once again, bonds issued by school districts dominated the total borrowings, with $215,430,000 bonds sold.

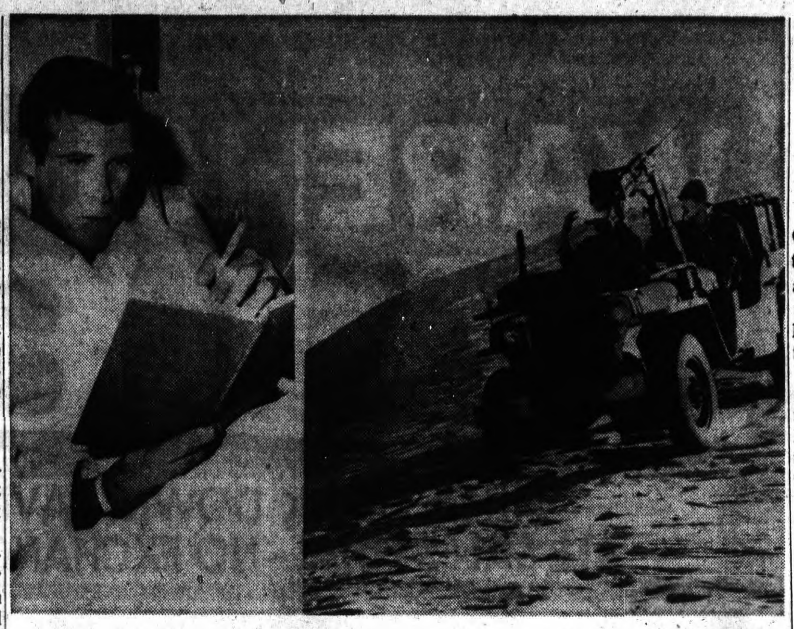

In addition, expansion of higher education facilities added $23,580,000 for community college districts, and $29,870,000 for state university buildings. The largest single bond sale of the year was a $24,100,000 State of Michigan Expressway issue, which will pay part of the cost of the Southfield, Fisher, Lodge and Detroit-Muskegon expressways.

The 30-day visible supply of Michigan bonds currently stands at $39,142,000, with an issue of $18,000,000 Peoples Community Hospital bonds accounting for nearly half of this total.

'Rat Patrol' Star Is From County

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie -TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "By all rights, we should be dead," remarked Christopher George, star of the desert war television series, "The Rat Patrol."

THOMAS

"It's a miracle we aren't," agrees costar Gary Raymond. They and another actor in the series, Justin Tarr, are survivors of a jeep accident that might well have been the end of their careers, as well as "Rat Patrol."

★ ★ ★

It happened recently on a dry lake bed at Rosamond, Calif., near Edwards Air Force Base. The company was shooting a simple scene in which Tarr drove a jeep around a wrecked German half-track during a battle. George was seated beside Tarr, and Raymond stood on the rear with a mounted 50mm gun.

"The whole thing happened as if in slow motion," recalled George, the rugged ex-Marine from Royal Oak, Mich. "I could feel the right side of the jeep lifting, and I began to think we were going to roll over. I had a Thomspon submachinegun in my hands and I figured it could hurt me if I didn't get rid of it. So I did.

JEEP FLIPPED

"I thought Gary could probably leap clear, since he was on the back. I looked over at Justin and guessed he would get killed, and probably I would too.

"The jeep flipped up and over and then started to come down on us. I said to myself, 'This is it.' But the jeep didn't come all the way down. The gun mount on the back had acted as a roll bar.

★ ★ ★

Raymond, the British member of the cast, had jumped as the jeep started to roll. He lay on the ground with a broken ankle. Crew members rushed over to lift the jeep from the other two actors, who were pinned under it. George seemed to be the most seriously hurt; Tarr had escaped with only an injured arm.

All were taken to a desert hospital, and it was feared that George might have suffered a fractured skull and broken vertebra.

HAD CONCUSSION

"Now it appears that I had a concussion, tore something in my neck and may have a hairline fracture on the vertebra," said Gorge at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Hollywood. "I also had abrasions all over my body. By the time they bandaged me up, I looked as if I were dead, even if I weren't."

The future plans of "Rat Patrol" depend on his recovery. No prediction as been made as yet, since the extent of his injuries has not been determined. Raymond has been told that his ankle will have to remain in a cast for six weeks. But it's possible that his incapacity could be explained as a war injury in the script.

Something will have to be done within a month or so. The series has enough backlog to extend only into March.

★ ★ ★

"We really were pushing our luck on this series," commented Raymond. "It's amazing that none of us got seriously injured before this."

★ ★ ★

"We've been doing our own stunts in a lot of the action stuff," said George, "and that has been madness. I think we'll play it cooler after this. You can push your luck so far."

Buddy Takes Oral Swings at His Hearless Foursome

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Buddy Rich has been nicknamed "Mr. Warmth" and "Mr. Humility" by Johnny Carson because Buddy at the moment has successful feuds going with Vaughn Monroe, Russ Morgan, Artie Shaw and "Dusty" Springfield . . . and Boddy doesn't.

WILSON

The sometimes-called drummers' drummer, who has a big band album and a big band single on the best-seleir charts, is a plain-spoken Brooklynite with a weakness for telling people what's wrong with them.

★ ★ ★

"I'm very upset with a guy named Monroe putting down big bands," he blazed. "He doesn't know as much about music as some of these rock-and-roll groups. People don't pay much attention to him, anyway. But he had some big hits like that corny 'Racing to My Moon,' or whatever it was. Was it corny? Why, it was laughable! Even in the commercial days before this present garbage came in, it was laughable.

"For a guy who's made so much money out of music to put down big bands is wrong, and he should get out of it and count his money!"

Russ Morgan—"nobody's heard much about his except coal miners," Buddy said—"made himself look like a real idiot claiming if you want to eat steak you have to play straight corn and if you play good music you'll live on hamburgers.

"He's not a good musician, I hate everything he stands for!" Buddy said. "I can understand Vaughn Monroe because he's not too smart but for Russ Morgan to say that is insulting the intelligence of the American public."

Buddy was on a Johnny Carson program when Artie Shaw arrived and began talking about reading 20 books a day, most of them in French.

"Come off of it, Artie," Buddy said. "I know you, and when anybody listens to you for a while, they see you don't know what you're talking about."

★ ★ ★

"She took a swing at me," Buddy claimed. "She missed. If she'd ever connected it would have been the late Dusty Springfield."

Congressional Republicans Appear Split on Tax Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans, united in demanding spending cuts, appear divided on making a party issue of opposition to President Johnson's proposed tax increase.

No GOP leader has said flatly that under no circumstances he would support a tax increase. But two camps appear to be forming—one taking a hard-line, the other a more flexible attitude toward Johnson's proposed 6 per cent surcharge on corporate and most individual income taxes.

House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford has come as close as any to outright opposition to a tax increase.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin said in an interview, "I haven't taken a position adamantly one way or the other." As senior Republican member of the ways and means committee, Byrnes is considered the party's chief spokesman in the House on tax matters.

Byrnes said he does not believe Ford's statements amount to opposition to a tax increase under all conditions. In any case, he added, no party position has been taken.

It was learned, however, that some Republicans have been suggesting to Ford that too rigid a stance now could be embarrassing later if, after the budget is worked over, Congress still must choose between a tax boost and an unacceptably large deficit.

Ford said in a party publication Jan. 16, "I agree with Arthur Burns, chief economist in the Eisenhower administration that a tax increase would be a 'tragic mistake.'" He said Republicans will try to reduce nondefense spending enough to make an increase unnecessary.

Youth Charged in 2 Slayings

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Edward Joseph McGee, 19, of Nashville, who admitted seeing two Shelbyville girls playing in the city dump a day before their bludgeoned bodies were found, was charged Friday night with their murders.

Sheriff B. H. Sanders said McGee was charged on the basis of a report received Friday from FBI laboratories. He declined to say what the report contained.

The bodies of Deborah Lynn Ray, 9, and her cousin, Phyllis Seibers, 8, were found in a shallow ditch in the dump last Dec. 19. Officials said an autopsy showed the girls died of fractured skulls, and indicated their assailant had tried to rape them.

McGee is serving a three-year sentence at state prison in Nashville on a burglary charge. He was taken into custody the day the bodies were found. Officials said then that his suspended sentence had been revoked because he had a previous criminal record.

EAGER BEAGLES—With the Master of Beagles John Gelsner leading the way, a group of eager beagles walks across the stage during the rehearsal yesterday afternoon at New York's Philharmonic Hall. 'Exercise Okay for Elderly'

Think Young...Stay That Way

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Thinking young may keep you that way, a University of Michigan researcher says.

If you can't run a mile, lift 100 pounds, or do all those vigorous things you did in your youth, it may be because you really don't want to.

★ ★ ★

"There is no doubt that our population loses its physical conditioning and it may be completely unnecessary," says Dr. F. James Conway.

Dr. Conway told the Midwest regional meeting of the American College Sports Medicine Conference Friday night that his research has revealed no apparent medical cause for a man losing the capacity to do exercise as he grows older.

'BIG SURPRISE'

"This certainly has been a big surprise," he said.

The Public Health Service has financed the research by Conway, an associate professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan Medical School.

★ ★ ★

EASIER LIFE

His verdict is that man may lose his ability to do exercise simply because he stops wanting to exercise.

"I think the trouble with most of us is that life really gets easier as we get older," Dr. Conway said. "We become more proficient in a job; we just settle in.

★ ★ ★

"We're not used to exercising as much and gradually lose our desire to do so," he said. "Our muscles get weaker. Then we lose our inclination, feel less and less like doing it.

"We get the symptons," he said. "So we take it more and more easy, and then we say: I just can't do the things I used to do."

OLD AGE

The muscles could be toned up and strength regained, even in old age, through exercise, Dr. Conway told the meeting.

Dr. Conway's research started with hospital patients and was aimed mainly at determining what effect heavy exercise had on persons with high blood pressure.

"On the whole, we learned that people with high blood pressure—which includes about 15 per cent of the U.S. population—are better off than we thought they would be," he said.

Exercise is no handicap for them and, except for severe cases, normal work and activity can be done with no cause for worry, Dr. Conway said.

Significantly, he said, "we have found no evidence of heart disease or heart deterioration with age.

The Research Center of the Assn. of American Railroads, founded in 1949 on the campus of the Illinois Institute of Technology, is the focal point of much of this country's rail research for technological improvements.

Woods Add Beauty to Avon Home Site

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"Our lot was covered with trees when we bought it," said Mrs. John Bylen of Perrydale Drive, Avon Township.

"Before we could break ground, we had to clear foundation room.

"In fact, there were so many trees that 7½ years later, we are still burning wood from the original log pile."

As she moved toward the window to point out the remaining logs, a marauding rabbit snatched at fallen grain underneath the bird feeder and hopped back into the underbrush.

Three steps lead down from the broad slate-covered foyer to the living room. The monochromatic background theme in spruce green has a calming restful influence on the formal area.

Backing on the foyer's planter, filled with potted greens, is a spruce green love seat highlighted by bittersweet throw pillows. A walnut framed occasional chair in muted bittersweet completes the seating arrangement.

Take Tender Care of Shade Trees

Why should you take good care of your shade trees?

A large shade or ornamental tree may be impossible to replace in your lifetime.

★ ★ ★

And replanting trees may be quite expensive.

★ ★ ★

Plank Moppable

Wood plank flooring with a clear vinyl overlay that makes it wetmoppable is now available for kitchens, baths and family rooms.

Complain Housewives

Houses Haven't Changed

A subject that is dear to the hearts of women is their houses as a kaffee klatch group agreed the other day.

The gripe of the moment is that houses haven't really changed in 20 years — they're drearier and more monotonous looking, if anything, no matter what the style.

"Why must one look and look and look to find a house one wants to live in. The house may have the number of bedrooms required, a living room, kitchen, bathroom.

"But it is blah — certainly no one's dream house," says a woman house seeker in the group.

CLEAN, NEAT

That's all you can say for them, in the opinion of this group.

If you have any flair to be an individual in a community you must resent living in a series of boxes that have been put together and labeled "house."

"Why can't houses be built high, silo-style, permitting a beautiful view . . . why can't houses be built on many different levels . . . why is the living room always on the ground floor?

"Why must kitchens all look alike . . ." they say.

Too little time is put into the actual planning of a house as an individual thing. They're planned in "lots."

★ ★ ★

For example, why is it that a house that has had a wing or two added to it looks more charming than a standard house with the same number of rooms, asks one house kibitzer, who answers her own question "Time and effort is put into planning the extra space to make it look different and flatter the home and its occupants."

BUNDLE OF ROOMS

A house built from a plan that has gone the rounds of the community is just a bundle of rooms put together at the least cost to the builder, in her opinion.

If you have X-dollars you get an X-house. If you have XX-dollars, you get pretty much the same house with a few added attractions — fireplace, two bathrooms, a family room.

People buy incredible wrecks just to get a swimming pool, and one kaffee klatcher admitted her husband bought their present home just to get the compost heap that went with the big garden.

Few people brag about their homes as they did in the olden days, and anyone lucky enough to find an old design — Georgian, salt-box, Colonial — will brag.

But a so-called "modern" house that is within the pocketbook of the average person isn't worth writing home about.

People are ready for modern houses, but those that are built just make the old-fashioned houses, even gingerbread-Victorian, look more like homes.

★ ★ ★

The house hunters decided that everytime they walk through a new house that is an insult to their generation, they'll complain loud-like to real estate agent, builder, architect, anyone who wants to listen.

TURNED DOWN

"It's the only way the word will be passed as to why a house is turned down.

"But eventually you wind up with a similar one if there isn't anything else to accommodate your family," says a young woman with four small children.

The ladies become annoyed with such things as horrible bathroom colors . . kitchen appliances that look as if they've been pushed together with no thought of planning for footwork . . . windows that require difficult and espensive decoration.

★ ★ ★

Builders have been concentrating on supplying "chintzy" things, they say. Corny lighting cabinets in family rooms.

A work-table may be thrown in to intrigue the man of the house.

★ ★ ★

One woman is a perennial mover. She has lived in four different towns in three years. Her news for the girls was a little discouraging.

"It's the same no matter where you go," she says.

Scored Tiles Are Attractive

Scored ceramic wall tiles bearing attractive designs are decorating tools in the hands of the imaginative homemaker. Scored tiles are usually divided into two or four sections by grooves, which when filled with grout give the large tiles the appearance of smaller units.

★ ★ ★

The grooves also permit the tile contractor to actually cut the large tiles into the designated sections.

★ ★ ★

Think About It for Next Year

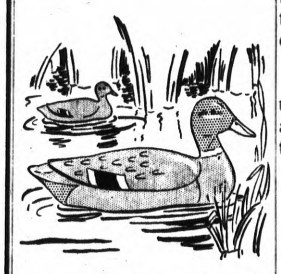

Installation of a swimming pool heater can greatly extend the home swimming season for a relatively small additional investment.

★ ★ ★

Pool heaters are available in sizes for virtually any swimming pool, and new engineering has made them compact and virtually maintenance-free.

Pretty Closets

Bedroom closets can be pretty. For a feminine touch, use bi-fold ponderosa pine louvered closet doors and antique them to a shade to match the bedroom decor.

THESE LIFE-LIKE DECOYS are so handsome that they are prized by sportsmen and are used for lamp bases or to display on cabinet shelves. They are surprizingly easy to make of shaped layers of wood built up with waterproof glue. Pattern 404, which gives actual-size cutting guides and shows finishing and painting steps, is 35c. This pattern is also one of four in the Sportsmen's Packet No. 24 for $1.

2-Family House Has 1-Family Personality

TWO-FAMILY CHARMER—Placement of the second-floor apartment in back of the main roof gives this two-family house the front-view appearance of a delightful one-story home. Cedar shingles are combined with stone veneer for a look of warmth and comfort.

FLOOR PLANS—Indoor-outdoor living is featured on both floors of this well-planned two-family house. Also, note interesting foyer arrangement: a main foyer for both families, yet a private foyer for each.

Many residential communities have relaxed zoning restrictions to permit two-family houses that conform to certain rules on appearance and construction.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern has created for House of the Week a two-family structure designed not only to meet such standards, but to be an aesthetic asset to the area in which it is built.

Even more, it is a two-family house that doesn't make the tenant feel like a poor relation.

This has been done visually by giving the house a charming one-story look from the front — and practically by providing living features that second-floor family usually doesn't enjoy.

★ ★ ★

There is a single main entrance, so that the family upstairs doesn't have to go around to the side or rear to reach the stairway leading to its apartment.

ENCLOSED STAIR

The stairway is open at the top to provide light and eliminate a closed-in feeling.

★ ★ ★

There is a decorative brick wall in this foyer which actually is the rear of the fireplace chimney, since this second-floor family has its own living room fireplace.

★ ★ ★

Since the balcony and the terrace blend together with no divider, it is possible to go onto th balcony from the living room and directly to the terrace.

It has a living room, dining sector, kitchen, foyer, full bathroom, bedroom and dressing alcove.

In addition to the features already mentioned, there is a private stairway from the upper deck to the garage and a separate door to the basement for the use of laundry equipment, shop and storage.

The basement can be partitioned in two for separate quarters for playroom or other activities.

★ ★ ★

Downstairs, there is all the livability provided on the second floor, but with additional space for a larger family.

LIVING ROOM

The fireplaced living room, 20' long, is to the left of a foyer which is separate from the main foyer that accommodates the residents and guests of the families on both floors.

A combined kitchen-family room is 17' 4" long and provides plenty of space for a breakfast table as well as the usual complement of modern appliances.

★ ★ ★

A bathroom, three closets and the stairways to the second floor and the basement all serve to separate the two bedrooms from the rest of the house for a full measure of privacy and quiet.

But a large family which likes the layout of Design G-72 could have the builder make two bedrooms upstairs, turning the kitchen area into a den or sewing room, and the dining section into a dressing alcove with closets.

★ ★ ★

The family then would have the advantages of the upper balcony, terrace and other features originally designed into the house to make living truly comfortable for a tenant.

G-72 STATISTICS

Design G-72 is a two-family house, with a living room, dining room, family room-kitchen, two bedrooms and a bath on the main floor, totaling 1328 square feet of livable area. The second-floor has 773 square feet, divided into a living room, kitchen, dinette, bedroom, bathroom and dressing alcove. Both floors have plenty of outdoor living space and each has a private foyer in addition to a large foyer that serves the two families. The over-all dimensions of 50' 2" by 58' 9" include the porch, terraces and two-car garage.

Transparent Wood Finish

★ ★ ★

According to the Southern Pine Association, finishes last indefinitely on interior woodwork when lumber to which they are applied is properly seasoned.

Read Manual, Learn Features

Some homemakers who invest in new automatic gas ranges remain "unacquainted" with this versatile and time-saving appliance because they don't read the instruction manual.

★ ★ ★

Take the time to learn about such features as the burner-with-a-brain and programmed cooking.

Experts May Disagree on Approach

Confused by the many rules of decorating and the seemingly conflicting philosophies of the experts?

Then take heart from the knowledge that even the professionals do not agree on starting points and the methods to reach the final goal.

Some interior designers steadfastly believe that the color scheme is the place to begin in planning the decor of a room or an entire home.

Another school adamantly believes that the proper relation of physical forms and space to one another is the logical first step.

★ ★ ★

Opinions on decorating sometimes have been regarded as inviolable rules. For instance, it used to be an accepted fact that blues and greens, though they make up one of nature's favorite color combinations, could not be used together.

PATTERN COMBINATIONS

Also, combinations of patterns were felt to produce only visual chaos. But such is the beauty of interior decorating, that it is as flexible and unlimited an art as the human mind permits.

Professionals certainly have their place as guides in the sometimes overwhelming task of achieving the "certain something" that makes a house a home.

There are more than 1,000 colors and color combinations, 500 designs and 100 shapes and sizes available in domestically made tiles. And ceramic tile is just one of 30,000 building products on the market.

No interior designer expects carte blanche from a client. He is there to eliminate confusion and bring order, control and interpretation that only the trained specialist or the very wise can provide.

Wood Brave in Elements

Wood is not afraid of weather. But install it so rain will drain off or evaporate.

And keep it up off the ground, unless it has been chemically treated.

Drinking Straw Fireplace Lighter

It keeps your hands clean, reaches the kindling easier, and is also safer to use than matches.

Fool Neighbors

Your neighbor will never know you're fencing him out if you use an attractive fence style like board-on-board or vertical louvers, then plan a planting bed on his side to give him a pretty view.

"CLUTTER ROOM" — Divided into three separate work areas, the room is really a complete laundry, sewing center, and home office. The box beam suspended ceiling offers other advantages besides an "Early American" appearance. The acoustical panels soak up noise, making the room quiet and comfortable. The luminous ceiling panels provide even, glare-free light. The vinyl-asbestos floor is durable, easy to maintain, and features the look of tiny mosaic chips arranged in swirl design.

Set Up Seasonal Plan

Color Key to Home Gaiety

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Color is the key to brightening up the winter-weary home. At the beginning of a new year we are likely to bear the burden of a drab home more than any other time.

During the holiday period, even spartan users of color are forced to admit some gaiety into the home.

Brilliant and glittering touches are then removed, leaving a background of cheerless grays or blues perhaps, and we are aware that something is wrong.

★ ★ ★

But some people soon get used to the pattern of somberness they have learned to live with most of the year until another holiday season or party setting permits a colorful lift to seep through the fog they call home decoration.

SEASONAL PLAN

Being amateurs at decorating, they decided to use the areas that had been decorated joyously as a pattern for future highlights. They are thrilled with the effect.

★ ★ ★

In spring they filled the basket with spring flowers, in summer with geraniums and variegated ivy. In fall, they filled it with dried grasses, weeds and flowers.

Inside in the traditional Christmas tree corner, they put up a home-made step arrangement about seven feet high, built for use in that corner.

★ ★ ★

It is wedge-shape with narrow steps at the top, wider at the base and fanning out.

STEP PLANTS

Each upper step has a plant or two on it, lower steps have three or four. The effect is great.

The plants were chosen for variety, and even in the cool North such plants as gardenia, lemon, orange and bamboo are thriving.

In summer, gardenia, lemon and angelwing begonia were moved outdoors.

★ ★ ★

They brought in colorful fuchsias, tuberous begonias, gardenias, lantana and so on.

TRAILING PLANTS

There is nothing gaudy about the house, and it is always more cheerful than others in the same housing development.

★ ★ ★

They found some good permanent arrangements of flowers for tables, including a handsome basket of beaded flowers.

Tiny waxed flowers such as pinoccho or tea roses offer more realistic effects than larger waxed flowers. Dried flowers were used also.

★ ★ ★

Oranges, lemons, apples, crabapples were placed in a foot-high arrangement, glued one to the other.

SPRAYED APPLES

Golden sprayed apples were placed in between. Spray paints make a project of this sort fairly simple. But it can't be rushed.

Fruits must be sprayed before one attempts to fit them together. They should be sized for fitness before they are glued.

A glass compote dish from six to eight inches may be used as the base of this fruit tree. The glass may be sprayed any color that is desired.

In warm climates and summer beach houses one may use a bare tree stuck in a large pot as the basis for interesting decoration, making it a focal point of a room. Starfish, shells, other crustacea may be used on branches as is or painted, silvered or gilded for an especially pretty effect.

More homes are discovering the joy of hanging baskets. These may be hung from brackets attached to the wall and filled in season with trailing things. In summer there are many colorful plants, especially begonias with their bright flowers.

Outdoor Private Swimming Pool for Tenants

Let Family Center Answer Chore Woe

There's a new kind of all-purpose, do-everything room called the "Clutter Room," which ought to be a major consideration in the next home you build or remodel, according to Virginia T. Habeeb, Food and Home Equipment Editor of "American Home" magazine.

Just what is a clutter room? It's a laundry; designed with the sink, storage cabinets, washer, dryer, and ironing board all within a few steps of each other.

★ ★ ★

Usually, a clutter room is also a playroom where Mother can keep an eye on the youngsters while she does her chores.

MOM'S VERY OWN

Above all, a clutter room should be the place that Mother calls her own. It doesn't need to be kept in apple pie order.

If the next door neighbor happens to drop in while the laundry is being folded, Mother simply walks out of her clutter room and closes the door, leaving her work out until she is ready to resume.

One expression of Mrs. Habeeb's "Clutter Room" was designed by the Armstrong Cork Company's Bureau of Interior Design. In designing the room, Armstrong decided several considerations would be of primary importance: noise control, lighting, ease of maintenance, and an attractive appearance.

The noise problem — the sounds of active children combined with the din of several appliances running at once—called for the use of effective acoustical materials.

The designers chose a box beam suspended ceiling with 2' x 4' acoustical ceiling panels. The acoustical panels soak up as much as 70 per cent of the sound waves striking the ceiling surface and make the room quieter and more comfortable.

Lighting is extremely important since the housewife will spend much of her time at the sewing table, the ironing board, or working at her desk. Bright, glare-free illumination was needed, and again, the ceiling provided the answer.

★ ★ ★

Translucent "luminous" ceiling panels, incorporated into the grid system directly beneath fluorescent fixtures over each major work area, provide an even, softly diffused light.

VINYL FLOOR

Vinyl-asbestos tile was selected by the designers for the floor of the clutter room for several reasons. Vinyl-asbestos tile is available in a wide variety of designs and colors, including many with embossed effects that are designed to complement the current consumer interest in natural home furnishings.

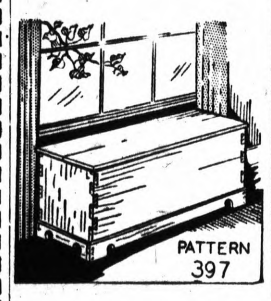

Two other factors helped swing the decision — low cost and easy maintenance.

Gay colored feature strips can be used with vinyl-asbestos tile to brighten the room and create a virtually unlimited number of custom designs.

The husband of the clutter room's prime occupant may even offer a helping hand with the floor, since vinyl-asbestos tile can be installed by the do-it-yourselfer with some adhesive, a paint brush, and a pair of household scissors.

A "Clutter Room" may be the answer to many of Mother's problems in running an active, modern household. By concentrating so many of her routine chores into a single area, she can plan her work more efficiently, giving her more time to spend with her family.

THIS BLANKET CHEST, of pine or cedar, has a removable top tray for storing linens. It is a copy of an old dower chest later called a hope chest. Pattern 397, which gives material list, actual-size cutting guides and directions, is 35c. There is even a guide for making the big dove-tail corner joints. This pattern also is one of four in the Simple Furniture Project Packet No. 62 for $1.

County Board OK's New Parking Rules

A set of parking regulations on county-owned property with designation of the board of auditors as the enforcing agent was adopted yesterday by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The eight parking recommendations, aimed at regulating traffic flow, were recommended by the supervisors' buildings and grounds committee.

One of the new regulations permits the board of auditors to establish parking fees, subject to approval of the board of supervisors.

This was challenged from the floor by Philip E. Rowston, supervisor from Pontiac, who said that one of the reasons for moving the courthouse to its present location from Pontiac was to provide free parking.

★ ★ ★

A roll call vote was taken on the deletion of this provision from the new regulations and it ended in a 34 to 34 tie, a defeat of the amendment.

VOTE TAKEN

Then a vote was taken on the full eight regulations and the resolution was adopted by a majority voice vote.

Robert E. Lilly, vice chairman of the County Board of Auditors, said that presently there are no plans for imposing fee parking on county property.

Other parking regulations specify that areas designated as "restricted" or "reserved" shall be used only by persons authorized by the agent and that "public parking" areas shall be used by visitors and may be used by employes.

★ ★ ★

Also included in the regulations is that the agent may designate certain areas for specific types of parking and standing and that only commercial and authorized county vehicles can use loading zones.

NO PARKING

That no parking or standing will be allowed on any street or approach to buildings or parking areas unless otherwise designated is another regulation.

★ ★ ★

Also specified in the regulations is that speed and other posted control signals must be obeyed.

Vehicles in violation of these parking rules may be ticketed and fined in accordance with Act 113 or be impounded with a payment of $10 for release the first day and $1 more for each additional day of impoundment.

Reflections
KEEP YOUR FRIENDS
The practice of showing superiority merely for our own ego's sake always hurts rather than helps. We should be kind with our friends, criticize only if really necessary. Perhaps their mistakes should be pointed out. But you must not take away enthusiasm. It is better, anyway, to pass easily over faults with only sufficient comment to make others anxious to correct a fault. Any of us can do the easy thing . . . to build our own ego . . . but to do so at another's expense is to lose a friend. Is it worth it?

Undersea Basins, Mountains Found in North Pacific

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The discovery of dozens of previously uncharted undersea mountains, mountain ridges and sea basins in the North Pacific and Bering Sea was disclosed by the U.S. Department of Commerce when six new maps of the sea floor surrounding the Aleutian Islands were published.

The maps cover about 400,000 square miles of seabed where thousands of earthquakes are spawned each year.

The bathymetric charts are the culmination of nearly 25 years of painstaking work and are the most detailed ever made of this region.

They were produced by the Environmental Science Services Adminstration using information gathered from more than 275 hydrographic surveys by vessels of the Coast and Geodetic Survey between 1943 and 1964.

Some commuters ride dugout canoes to their office jobs in Makati, ultramodern satellite city of Manila in the Philippines. The commuters cross the Pasig River standing in frail craft crowded to the point of swamping.

Farmington Twp. Slaying Suspect Captured

Red China in Civil War, Says Leader

TOKYO (AP) — Communist Chinese Defense Minister Lin Piao, believed to be No. 2 man to party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, was quoted today as saying "the entire country is now in a state of civil war."

The Peking-based correspondent of the Tokyo Yomiuri said Lin's statement appeared without official confirmation in one of the thousands of wall bulletins which have turned the Chinese capital into a paper and ink city.

The defense minister, 59, is in the forefront of the battle to oust President Liu Shao-chi and restore Mao to the position of state power he once held.

Dr. Lin Yutang, noted Chinese author and scholar, predicted in Manila that the current upheaval in Communist China will leave Mao's regime a "wreck."

Arriving from Taipei, Formosa, for a goodwill visit, Lin told a news conference: "The worst is yet to come. By the time the purging of Communist leaders is completed, Mao's machinery will be a wreck and shaken to the bottom."

Whether there is civil war in the classic sense or not, there could be no doubt that the vast Chinese mainland and its 720 million people were in the grip of civil confusion.

Mao-Lin supporters since the start of the year have assaulted the city proletariat, the provincial Communist party committees and the organs of propaganda — all strongholds of Liu power.

They have made some gains, but by their own admission have yet to consolidate their victories.

Yankee Store Execs, Firemen Check Loss

No immediate loss estimate was made, but the 36,000-square-foot building was valued at $200,000, not including the contents which also were destroyed.

Two nearby businesses, Foy-Johnston Paint and Wallpaper and the Lion Store, sustained smoke and water damage. Both were closed today, but expected to reopen Monday.

The blaze was under control in about three hours, but firemen remained at the scene until 12:30 this morning.

SMOKE INHALATION

Bloomfield Township police officer Harold Panker, one of the first at the scene, said that smoke billowed throughout the store within five to 10 minutes.

"I was behind the store and went around to the front to check," said Panker. By the time I got there the smoke was so thick it forced me out of the door."

Firemen were able to keep the fire from spreading to other stores.

Store manager Paul E. Meeker said the fire was first spotted in a rear storeroom by two stock boys who reported it to him. He said he had been in the back only 10 minutes previously.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized appropriation of $60,000 for a jail construction study and an updated master plan of the county service center.

A total of $40,000 will be advanced from the county's general fund for the board of auditors to instigate and direct a study on jail construction.

The study will determine what requirements will be needed in a new jail facility for the county and will include a schematic plan.

Oakland County's present jail at 104 Wayne is 46 years old and generally considered obsolete. Its 259-prisoner capacity also is considered inadequate by some county officials including Sheriff Frank Irons.

PROJECTED TO 1990

Supervisors authorized a $20,000 appropriation for development of a total master plan for the county service center projected to the year 1990. Completion is slated by the end of this year.

★ ★ ★

A prior master plan was developed 10 years ago but the service center already has grown to the limits of that plan, according to Joseph Joachim, who is director of engineering for the county.

★ ★ ★

Both the jail proposal and master plan updating issue were introduced by the supervisors' buildings and grounds committee Jan. 4.

JOHN MERLO

MRS. JOHN MERLO

A Farmington Township man sought for two weeks in the gunshot slaying of his wife in a beauty shop was captured yesterday in a Philadelphia bank.

John Merlo was seized and disarmed by a bank employe who told police he pulled a gun while being questioned.

Merlo, 25, is charged with murdering his 18-year-old estranged wife, Sharon, Jan. 6 while she was working on a customer's hair in the Crest Beauty Salon, 27432 Eight Mile.

She was dead on arrival at Botsford General Hospital, reportedly shot three times.

Officials of the Western Savings Fund Society, said Merlo had been in Thursday seeking to close out a $1,243 account in the name of Morris Cohen. He was instructed to return yesterday.

★ ★ ★

'PULLED REVOLVER'

Frank Morris, 54, the employe who captured Merlo, told police Merlo yanked out a revolver when questioned about the pass book. Police said Morris, a retired detective, then wrestled Merlo to the floor.

Detectives who later questioned Merlo said he told them about the slaying of his wife. Murder and fugitive warrants had been issued for him.

★ ★ ★

VISITED SHOP

Mrs. Lyle Stanfield, owner of the beauty shop, said however that Merlo frequently visited the shop, where Mrs. Merlo had worked for two years.

★ ★ ★

Farmington Township Police Chief Irving H. Yakes said witnesses reported that Merlo entered the shop Jan. 6 through a rear room and talked briefly with his wife, who then returned to a customer.

★ ★ ★

Airport's No. 1 Need: Instrument System

By DICK SAUNDERS

Which comes first: The runway or the landing system?

SAUNDERS

There is little disagreement that Pontiac Municipal Airport's biggest need is an instrument landing system (ILS).

In taking over the city airport this year, Oakland County officials will also inherit an airport master plan prepared for the city in 1963 which places a priority on an ILS in any future development of the airport.

Airport Manager J. David VanderVeen puts an ILS at the top of the list of airport needs, with a new 5,000-foot north-south runway second.

Indeed, there may be little choice. Since the city committed itself to purchasing land and easements for an ILS several years ago, the federal government most likely won't participate in the cost of any other airport improvements until the ILS is installed.

★ ★ ★

This commitment will be borne by the county when the air facility changes hands, according to VanderVeen.

SAMPLING OF OPINION

A sampling of opinion from pilots, aviation company owners and operators solidly supports an ILS as the No. 1 need.

"An ILS would really increase the use of this airport," said Ned Gerndt, chief pilot for Standard Airways. "There are days when we can only land at Detroit Metro."

Frank P. McCartney, president of Aerodynamics, Inc., compared Pontiac to other major airports in the state.

"Detroit City and Metro, Willow Run, Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, and Battle Creek, all have an ILS. Jackson is getting one.

"We handle more traffic than all but two of these airports, yet we don't have an ILS."

McCartney pointed to the airport terminal building and control tower, construction of taxiways, runway widening and installation of lights as "good progress" made prior to a stalemate on improvements which began about two years ago.

"You can't expect airline traffic to land here if there's an ILS at another airport nearby," he commented.

Thornton E. Benson, general manager of Commander Aviation Division, Jim Robbins Co., said, "The only time we're limited on operation is when the weather is bad and we can't land."

An ILS permits landing in poor weather where the visibility is less than a mile and ceiling is less than 500 feet.

Strobe lights will help in borderline weather, but we need an ILS the most right now," Benson said.

Strobe lights are high intensity, white, flashing lights at the end of a runway. Their value was explained this way by Clark F. Cryderman, owner of Cryderman Air Service:

"It's like approaching an intersection at night. You can see a flashing stop light long before you can see a stop sign."

★ ★ ★

While Cryderman agreed an ILS tops the major needs, he thought "the first thing to get is strobe lights. We need them badly."

HEAVIER PLANES

flights and heavier planes," he noted.

"We run into problems where we have to divert flights to Flint or Detroit in bad weather. This costs us money."

When a plane has to land elsewhere, crew and often cargo still has to be returned to Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Cryderman said he is currently considering the addition of some heavy planes to his fleet.

BASED ELSEWHERE

"We may base our big planes elsewhere," he noted, "if no headway is made on an ILS here."

There is no accurate, up-to-date cost estimate available on the ILS, according to VanderVeen.

The federal government pays for furnishing, installing and initial maintenance of the system. The cost of land and easements is borne by local, state and federal governments.

In the 1963 master plan, total cost of land and easements was estimated at $447,000, of which the local share was $208,500.

OVER $500,000

"The total cost now would be well over $500,000," VanderVeen estimated.

The 15-acre area is divided into 22 privately owned parcels. In 1963 it contained 17 homes. No count has been made since then to determine if any additional homes have been built in that area, according to VanderVeen.

★ ★ ★

"The airport is operational about 85 per cent of the time right now," he added. "With an ILS we'd be about 95 per cent operational."

NEW RUNWAY

However, not everyone is sold on the idea that an ILS is the No. 1 need.

★ ★ ★

"ILS is needed but not as bad as a major north-south runway," said Frank A. Gineman. His opinion carries some weight.

★ ★ ★

six or seven months, but broke up last month, according to detectives.

Pontiac State Hospital officials said Shaw voluntarily committed himself for a 10-day period last month and was under a doctor's care. They added that Shaw signed himself out.

The stabbing occurred in Shaw's car in the parking lot near North Foundation Hall. Shaw then drove the victim to the hospital, where he was arrested.

FRIENDLY PERSUASION — Introducing them to a custom of Tanzania, Peace Corpsman Jerome R. Skarbek (right) demonstrates an East African handshake to two Pontiac Northern High School seniors. Paul Bowers, 2590 Silverside, Waterford Township, and Rosemary Deni, 87 N. Marshall, were among those Skarbeck tried to sell on the idea of a school partnership program with a developing nation.

Seeks City Students' Help

By PAT McCARTY

He gathers a group of students around him and tells them about Tanzania — about its mountains, lakes and villages, but mostly about its people.

Skarbek, whose face lights up frequently as he talks, recalls the two years he spent in the new East African nation and how its people helped him grow up.

★ ★ ★

Leaving the bush country after his stint was up, the 24-year-old Skarbek volunteered to serve for another year to sell the idea of a school partnership program to Michigan students and to help put the project into effect.

Endorsed by Gov. Romney, the program would be an innovation for the Peace Corps, because it would align the people of a specific area with the people of another.

The goal is to raise enough funds — $50,000 — to buy materials so the Tanzanians can build 50 two-room schools.

"We really don't need much—just some cement, lumber and corrugated iron," he said. "The people want to do the building themselves."

★ ★ ★

The idea is for one school here to raise enough money to build one school — or at least part of a school—there.

WOULD LEARN

In the process, American students would learn about the people they were helping.

They would correspond with Tanzanian villagers and receive samples of their carvings and cloth for display.

"It could involve the whole school," Skarbek said. "A drama group could put on a skit about Tanzania. A home economics class could find out about their menus and prepare a meal.

"It would establish rapport between students here and there and could give meaning to all subject areas," he said.

VISITS 3 SCHOOLS

The youthful salesman established a bit of rapport himself as he visited Pontiac Central and Northern High schools and Kennedy Junior High, where he met with representatives of all Pontiac's junior high schools.

Skarbek and a fellow volunteer, Calvin Click, now are touring the state to do their selling job.

So far, they've had a good share of takers and students at several area schools now are planning fund-raising projects.

Ships, Jets Hit N. Viet Targets; Fierce Fighting Flares in South

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. destroyers fought two gun duels with North Vietnamese shore batteries Friday while American bombers hit rail yards and rail bridges north and south of Hanoi, the U.S. military command reported today.

In South Vietnam fierce fighting flared. Tough South Vietnamese Paratroopers reported killing 108 Vietcong in two clashes Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Fighting was reported from the southern tip of South Vietnam's northernmost Quang Tyi Province, but no major engagements were reported by either the American or Vietnamese military commands.

Operation Cedar Falls continued at a slower pace with U.S. troops in the Iron Triangle reporting only light contact in the operation area 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon. The biggest development was the uncovering of a massive tunnel Friday, believed to be the headquarters of the Vietcong's 4th Military Region.

In another action, two companies of the U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade ran into heavy Communist fire Friday while attacking a supply depot 14 miles southeast of the capital. They were supported by U.S. Navy and Vietnamese river patrol boats and landing craft which served as a blocking force on rivers and streams in the area. This force reported killing four Vietcong while the infantry raiders captured 45 tons of rice and 10 cases of TNT and held 320 suspects for questioning. Allied casualties were termed light.

Some $1,200 to $1,500 was taken yesterday from George's Market, 462 Saginaw, by a man wielding a pistol, it was reported to city police.

John George, 80, said he was working behind the counter at about 10 a.m. when the bandit pointed what appeared to be a 25-caliber automatic pistol at him and ordered him to lie down.

The man was described as Negro, about 35, six feet tall and 185 pounds.

Cost of Living Rise to Slow in '67--Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs will keep going up in 1967 but not as sharply as last year's nine-year record rise of 3.3 per cent, a government official predicts.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said the expected 1967 rise of 2.5 per cent "would not be too high a price to pay" to avoid the alternative of a recession.

★ ★ ★

Forecasting a food price rise of about 2 per cent this year, compared with 3.8 per cent in 1966, he said: "We could be wrong because food is hard to predict."

FINAL FIGURES

He also predicted clothing prices, up nearly 4 per cent last year, would go up only about half that much in 1967.

In reporting final 1966 figures Friday, the bureau said the consumer price index rose a moderate one-tenth of 1 per cent in December to wind up 1966 at a level of 114.7.

★ ★ ★

Grocery prices edged down two-tenths of 1 per cent in December and transportation costs dropped six-tenths. But a four-tenths of 1 per cent rise in housing costs, three-tenths for clothing and vie-tenths for medical care brought over-all living costs up.

AF Probes Wreckage of Jet in Which 9 Died

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Air Force investigators today probed the wreckage of a KC135 jet tanker that crashed in the foothills of Mt. Spokane with the loss of nine airmen.

The tanker, which the Air Force said may have been blown off course by gale force winds, failed to clear a small hill and crashed Thursday night.

It had begun a landing approach for its home field, Fairchild Air Force Base, after a flight from Hawaii on which it was escorting a group of Air Force jet fighters back to the United States.

The victims were identified by the Air Force as Capt. Billy E. Cammack, 33, Matador, Tex., aircraft commander; Capt. Herbert O. Zoeller, 30, Watertown, Wis., pilot; Capt. James O. Wakeland, 27, Godley, Tex., navigator; M. Sgt. Orville Montgomery, 38, Saginaw, Mich., boom operator; Lt. Col. Clifford J. Agenbroad, 44, Nampa, Idaho, instructor-pilot; Capt. Valentine F. Hemm, 35, Mt. Dora, Fla., aviation physiologist; S. Sgt. Ralph D. Ogle, 33, Watertown, Tenn., maintenance crew chief; Airman 1.C. Terry O. Fletcher, 23, Pasco, Wash., and Airman 3.C. Michael R. Kerr, 20, whose father is stationed in the Army in Germany.

Cave-In Victim Is Still Critical

A workman, injured yesterday while at work on construction of a new Hamady Bros. Market in Lapeer, remained in critical condition today at Lapeer County General Hospital.

A 15-foot section of frozen ground caved in on Thrasher as he worked at laying water mains in a 7-foot ditch around the market.

Lapeer police said he was completely buried for a period of a few seconds, but that his head was soon freed.

★ ★ ★

Completion of School to End Double Shifts

BIRMINGHAM — Double shifts at Berkshire Junior High, 21707 W. 14 Mile, will end Wednesday. Covington pupils will "drop out" and attend their own new school on Covington and Quarton beginning Monday, Jan. 30.

Classes were being held in two shifts that ran from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. because of delay in construction.

Covington students will get an extra day off Thursday and both schools will be off Friday so teachers can prepare for the new setup, according to Dr. John B. Smith, superintendent of schools.

New hours for both schools after Jan. 30 will be 8:30 a.m. to 3:40 p.m.

★ ★ ★

At Covington, pupils will have to carry their own lunch until April 1, Dr. Smith announced. Milk will be available.

TRANSPORTATION

Five early morning runs at Berkshire and all Covington buses, with the exception of those in Walnut Lake, Meadow Lake and one in the northwest Bloomfield Village area will be discontinued.

★ ★ ★

In addition, a Great Lakes Transit bus will run from Cranbrook and Lincoln, east to Glenhurst, to Midvale, to Cranbrook then north to Covington Junior High.

Dr. Smith also announced a half-day break concerning all schools for the purpose of teacher record-keeping.

N. Korea Hit for Sinking Ship

'Murderous Assault,' Says U.N. Command

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. command today accused Communist North Korea of a "murderous assault" in the sinking Thursday of a South Korean navy patrol craft in which 40 South Korean sailors were killed or missing.

In a strongly worded protest, the U.N. command said the attack was "one of the most serious violations of the Korean armistice" and a "murderous assault on a boat which was in pursuit of a peaceful non-hostile mission."

★ ★ ★

U.S. Army Maj. Gen. Richard G. Ciccolella presented the protest at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission called at Communist request to discuss the incident.

Ciccolella admitted that the 650-ton patrol craft was in waters several miles north of the demilitarized zone and 3.5 to 5.1 miles off the North Korean coast when it was fired upon by Communist shore batteries. Its location, however, did not constitute a violation of the 1953 Korean armistice agreement, he said.

RESPONSIBILITY

He proposed that the commission ask the four-nation Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission to conduct an investigation and fix responsibility for the incident.

North Korean army Maj. Gen. Park Chung-kook, chief Communist delegate, rejected the request for an investigation and charged that the South Korean boat was shelled because it opened fire first.

Ciccolella denied that the South Korean ship fired first.

Head Start Critic Backed

The executive board of the Oakland County chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People has voted unanimously to support its educational committee chairman in his criticism of the Head Start program in Pontiac.

The board has voted to back Charlie Harrison Jr. in his allegation that the program does not have as an "evident objective" the reasonable integration of ethnic groups and representative neighborhoods for instructional purposes.

It stated further that the Pontiac School Board has not shown a willingness to fully explore certain recommendations of the executive board's advisory committee.

According to James E. Dyer, county chapter president, an Office of Economic Opportunity organizational memo dealing with the progress of the Head Start program is misleading.

Russia Visit Set

BELGRADE (UPI) — President Tito will pay a brief unofficial visit to the Soviet Union at the end of the month at invitation of Communist party First Secretary Leonid Brezhnev, the Tanjug News Agency reported today.

Supervisor Seeks Evaluation of 3 Proposals on Committees

A supervisor from Madison Heights yesterday called for an evaluation of three proposals in connection with the committee function of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Speaking at the meeting of the 86-member board of supervisors, Monte R. Geralds suggested that the following be referred for consideration of the supervisors' bylaws committee:

- Should a limit be established on the number of committee memberships for a supervisor?
- Should provision be made to remove supervisors from committees for inadequate attendance at meeting?
- Should a minimum time requirement at a committee meeting be established for payment of per diem compensation?

NO SPECIFIC COMPLAINT

Gerlads, an attorney who lives at 28162 Lorenz, said that he had no specific complaint on the present committee bylaws structure but felt these questions deserved consideration.

The board voted to send these proposals to its bylaws committee for evaluation and a report.

A previous referral to the bylaws committee on literature distribution at supervisors' meetings was returned yesterday in the form of a recommendation and adopted by the board.

It amends Rule 7 by specifying that no literature other than official documents coming from county departments be permitted unless signed or endorsed by at least one member of the board.

ACTION ASKED

Committee action on literature distribution was asked Nov. 10 by Duane Sanford, former supervisor from West Bloomfield Township.

He raised the objection when Paul McGovern was distributing literature at a board meeting in support of his bid for an appointment by the board to the County Road Commission.

In other business yesterday, the board amended a Dec. 14 resolution that specified that the county retain control of the parking lot adjacent to its building at 1 Lafayette until Dec. 31, 1968 and authorized the City of Pontiac to take immediate possession of the lot.

★ ★ ★

TRIBUTES

Also yesterday the supervisor paid memorial tributes to two members who died recently.

Francis J. Voll, Sr., supervisor from Oakland Township, died Dec. 18 and Else V. Mercer, supervisor from Walled Lake, passed away Dec. 19.

Ousted College Head Blames Politics

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — President Clark Kerr of the mammoth University of California, who was fired Friday by the Board of Regents, blames partisan politics for the startling move that sent shock waves through the state.

"The university should serve truth and not political partisanship," Kerr told newsmen after his ouster.

Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan, an ex-officio regent, and Mrs. Randolph Hearst, a regent and wife of the newspaper magnate, said the vote came after Kerr demanded a vote of confidence during the regents' debate over university budget cuts and imposition of tuition, which Reagan wanted and Kerr opposed.

In a closed session at which Kerr was not present, regents voted 14 to 8 after a "fierce fight" to immediately oust Kerr from his $45,000-a-year job as head of the nine-campus, 87,000-student university. He had been UC president since 1958.

CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Reagan, who left the meeting an hour before Kerr's dismissal was announced, had made criticism of the university an issue in his campaign for election. In Los Angeles later, Reagan called the firing "very reasonable."

Kerr had made it known that he was prepared to battle any administration moves to cut the university's budget or charge tuition. Reagan had suggested both two weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Reagan, during his campaign last November, hinted that he didn't like the way Kerr was running the university and charged that he was allowing political activity on the Berkeley campus on behalf of Reagan's opponent, then Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a Democrat.

The meeting Friday had been billed as one to thrash out the university money crisis. University officials were bowled over when it resulted in Kerr's dismissal. UC Vice President Harry Wellman was named acting president.

Kerr told a news conference later, "The university should serve truth and not political partisanship. I was not at the meeting, but the vote was 14 to 8 and the governor was one of the 14."

★ ★ ★

The 55-year-old educator said regents were obliged "not to respond too quickly to the swirls of political winds in the state. Because there is a new governor doesn't mean there needs to be a new president of the university. This has never happened before in the United States."

★ ★ ★

Reagan said the Kerr issue "was not on the agenda and his request (for a confidence vote) came as a "decision one way or another."

Mrs. Hearst called Kerr's demand for a vote of confidence the president's "second ultimatum" to the regents and said she voted against him because "I reluctantly came to the conclusion that the president lacked the qualities of stable leadership so imperative to the future of the university." Kerr, she said, "stated he would never resign." She did not give details about the first "ultimatum."

HOPES FOR LEUKEMIA CURE—Hubert Kreutzer, 38, knows his 10-year-old son, Reinhard, has leukemia, but the youngster does not "quite understand he is dying," an uncle said. Kreutzer and his son, from Neuegg, Austria, arrived in Cleveland yesterday. The boy will be treated with a controversial anticancer vaccine developed here but opposed by the Cleveland Academy of Medicine. Also, the vaccine has not been approved by the U.S. Public Health Service and therefore cannot be administered outside of Ohio.

5 Convicted for Protest

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Mario Savio and four other nonstudents were convicted early today on nuisance charges resulting from a November sit-in at the University of California.

The other defendants were Jerry Rubin, 28, Steven Hamilton, 23, Stewart Albert, 26, and Michael Smith, 25, all of Berkeley. Hamilton was also convicted on trespass charges.

★ ★ ★

The jury failed to reach a verdict on trespass charges against the 23-year-old Savio, Rubin, Albert and Smith. It also could not reach a verdict on nuisance and trespass charges against William Miller, 25, a sixth defendant.

Judge Floyd Talbott set Wednesday for sentencing.

Group Backs City on Sewer Decision

The City Commission's recent decision to continue to "go it alone" in construction of a Galloway Creek trunk sewer has won some unsolicited support.

The Civic Improvement Advisory Committee approved a resolution at its January meeting to support the commission's "go it alone" position.

Planned both as a city project and as part of Oakland County's projected Clinton-Oakland Interceptor, the north end trunk sewer is to be constructed as a city project.

★ ★ ★

City officials have indicated they would not reconsider their decision of last summer, despite a request from the county to do so.

ALLEVIATED

The CIAC resolution noted that the city's acute housing problem would be somewhat alleviated by the opening of the northeast section to development via the new trunk sewer.

Also, the resolution noted that the city would realize greater revenues with the area developed.

The committee further suggested that a public hearing be held to allow the public to support the commission's decision.

St. Mike, Sorrows Escape Upsets

Mikemen Rally at Holy Cross

FOLS Stays Ahead of OLSM Eaglets

Leaders in the Macomb and Northwest Parochial leagues survived minor scares in posting loop victories last night.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac St. Michael ran its Macomb record to 10-0 with a 63-61 decision over Marine City Holy Cross, while Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows (9-2) held onto a half-game lead in the Northwest by turning back St. Francis de Sales, 78-74.

In other Macomb games, St. Frederick handed Anchor Bay Catholic an 82-35 setback, and Waterford Our Lady of Lakes rolled past Detroit St. Rose, 51-33.

★ ★ ★

HELPS OUT

Butch Finnegan, who picked up 11 points for the Mikemen, followed Keller's feat with two charity tosses as the Mikemen opened up a six-point lead.

★ ★ ★

Guard Glynn led the Mikemen with 21 points, while Keller finished with 13. John Dietlin led all scorers with 35 for the losers.

Freshman Sam Brady, a 15-year-old forward, collected 32 points in sparking the St. Frederick onslaught. J. C. Bard and John Guillean added 13 each.

St. Fred (7-4) held a 49-9 lead at intermission. AB Catholic's record dipped to 1-9 with the loss.

Down at halftime, 30-27, OLSM's Eaglets came back to outscore St. Benedict, 36-25, in the second half.

LEADS EAGLETS

Terry Shaw led the OLSM (8-2) attack with 24 points and teammate Tim Megge added 14. Tim Murray flipped in 17 for the losers.

★ ★ ★

Tim Doyle collected 31 points and teammate Frank Carrico tossed in 24 to pace Farmington Our Lady (9-2). Len McCulloch picked up 19 for De Sales.

St. Rose's slow-down tactics coupled with WOLL's cold field-goal shooting gave the visitors a 16-14 halftime lead. But the Lakers found the range in the second half and pulled away.

Nicklaus in Crosby Lead Despite 3 Double Bogeys

PEBBLE BACH, Calif. (AP) — Masters champion Jack Nicklaus fell before a high wind for double bogeys on three of the final four holes but still staggered into a two-stroke second round lead in the $104,500 Bing Crosby golf tournament with a 142.

The 205-pound blond blazed through the cold, windy day to make the nine-hole turn five strokes under par at Cypress point and appeared set to make it a runaway.

The the gale winds hit the exposed oceanside course and he took a five at the 122-yard, par three 15th, another five at the perilous over-the-ocean 16th when his tee shot was blown into the sea and then belted into a cypress grove on the 17th and again went two over. He finished the round with a 73.

With only three of the 168 pros breaking par on the three courses as winds hit 35 miles per hour, Nicklaus finished with a two-stroke lead over Jerry Pittman, Jim Colbert, Steve Oppermann and Bob McCallister who deadlocked at 144.

Frank Boynton of South Euclid, Ohio, and Dow Finsterwald of Colorado Springs, Colo., were the other sub-par shooters with 71's at Cypress Point. Each had 148 at the 36-hole midway point.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus played an unbelievable round and, heading for his third double bogey commented, "This is a pretty good game. I'm going to have to take it up sometime."

First round leader Joe Carr tried Spyglass Hill, the new course at the site where "Treasure Island" was written, and his hopes of finding gold glimmered. He shot an 82 after an opening 68 had given him the lead.

★ ★ ★

Arnold Palmer rallied with three birdies on the final holes for a 75 at Pebble Beach and commented, "The wind on the seventh, eighth, ninth and 10th was so strong that I could hardly stand."

3-Way Deal in NBA Is Called Off

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets announced Friday that a three-way trade involving Rudy LaRusso of the Los Angeles Lakers, Ray Scott of Detroit and Mel Counts of the Bullets has been cancelled.

The Bullets said the deal could not be completed because the Detroit club of the National Basketball Association had been unable to persuade LaRusso to join it.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said the Bullets were informed of LaRusso's refusal to leave Los Angeles by General Manager Edwin A. Coil of the Detroit Pistons.

In the deal, LaRusso, a 6-foot-8 cornerman, was to go to Detroit; 6-foot-9 cornerman Ray Scott was to go to Baltimore; and 7-foot reserve center Mel Counts was to go to Los Angeles.

The Bullets said they still were interested in obtaining Scott and would try to work out a trade to get him.

The Bullets said that they were told that LaRusso, an eight-year veteran in the NBA, has been suspended by the Lakers.

Lancers Laced by Lansing 5

It was a long ride to Lansing for Emmanuel Christian last night because the Lancers returned on a short end of a 78-29 lacing at the hand of Boys Vocational Training School.

Emmanuel is now 2-6 for the season.

'67 Olympics Bid Planned by New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor John V. Lindsay announced Friday that New York City will enter a bid for the 1976 Olympics.

Lindsay told a news conference that the city is prepared to spend about $500 million to build a stadium, swimming pool, dormitories and dining facilities to accommodate between 6,000 and 8,000 athletes.

The Mayor said he would appoint a committee next week to draw up the city's formal bid which would have to be submitted to the U. S. Olympic Committee in six months.

New Mexico Becomes 2nd Cage Mystery

By the Associated Press

The apparent collapse of the New Mexico Lobos has started to intrigue college basketball fans already perplexed by the decline of the Kentucky Wildcats.

★ ★ ★

FOURTH LOSS

It was the fourth defeat, all on the road, against 11 victories for the Lobos who slipped from third to ninth in the current AP rankings after last week's setbacks by Wyoming and Denver. New Mexico State handed the Lobos their first defeat last month.

★ ★ ★

Stock Driver Dies in Crash

Bill Foster Is Killed in Riverside Track

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — (AP) Speed driver Billy Foster, 29, of Victoria, B.C., named rookie of the year in 1965, was killed instantly Friday in a practice run for the Motor Trend Riverside 500 stock car race at Riverside Raceway to be held Sunday.

Foster suffered massive head injuries when his car slammed against a retaining wall as he approached turn No. 9 while traveling at an estimated 135 to 140 miles an hour.

Dr. Irving Omphroy, course physician, said the well-liked Canadian was killed instantly.

Foster, whose car was the first involved in the multi-crash at the start of the 1966 Indianapolis 500 but who later was absolved of blame in the pile-up, had just started to brake on the mile long staraightaway where speeds up to 155-160 miles an hour are registered.

★ ★ ★

The Captains went into a full court pressing defense in the second quarter and made a shambles of the contest. They stole the ball 11 times as the Lancers tried to either pass it in from the end line or get it over the center stripe.

They stored the press defense in the locker room, but came out with a slick exhibition of ball handling in the third quarter that left the Lancers' newly entrenched man-to-man defense a shambles.

The Captains chalked up an impressive statistic for any prep or college team by converting 15 of 16 free throws. They also connected on 33 of 65 field goal attempts for 51 per cent.

L'Anse Creuse players hit 16 of 51 for 31 per cent. A late surge did give the Lancers a 31-30 rebounding edge.

Illinois Continues Suspension of 'Slush Fund Athletes

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The University of Illinois announced Friday the continued suspension of four varsity basketball players who allegedly received illegal financial assistance.

Dr. Leslie A. Bryant, acting athletic director and faculty representative, said the four players cannot expect to regain eligibility at least until after the present season.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

They and seven unidentified football players were among those who allegedly received assistance from a $21,000 slush fund.

★ ★ ★

The infractions were reported to the Big Ten by the university last month and the suspensions were announced Dec. 23.

Bryant's statement was issued Friday after Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed had concluded his investigation of the irregularities.

Reed said he has set no definite time for turning in his report to conference athletic directors.

★ ★ ★

Bryant said "We will do everything we can to assure these young men will continue with their undergraduate education.

I have expressed to them the university's and my personal regret that neither the commissioner nor the University of Illinois had any discretion in the application of conference rules once the fact of receipt of unauthorized financial assistance was established.

NFL Teams in Prestige Star Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The 17th annual Pro Bowl football game — and it may be the last in its present form — takes over the grid scene Sunday with the best of the National Football League on display in Memorial Coliseum.

It's East versus West as stars of the eastern and western conferences of the NFL go into action before a hoped-for-crowd of 50,000 and a national television audience.

CBS does the television with the kickoff set for 4:05 p.m., EST. Los Angeles and a radius of 75 miles are screened out.

This is a prestige game for the players who are selected to play by the NFL coaches, an honor that has significance when talking next season's contracts with the club bosses.

PICKS UNITAS

Coach George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams, the West's coach, named Baltimore's famed Johnny Unitas to lead off at quarterback, but Green Bay's equally celebrated Bart Starr won't be long coming on the scene.

Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, the East's guardian, selected his own quarterback, Don Meredith, to start, but as with the other team, Frank Ryan of the Cleveland Browns will share the honors.

Sixth Annual Game Slated Today

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Bewitched by fog and betrayed by rain, the American Football League's top gridders met today in their sixth annual All-Star game after a training period cut to three days because of the elements.

Coach John Rauch's West squad, with Kansas City's Len Dawson starting at quarterback, was listed as a seven-point favorite to turn back the East for the fifth time in as many meetings.

Final practice was called off for each 34-man squad Friday because of rain and the Weather Bureau said there was an 80 per cent chance of it continuing. Monday's workout also was scratched when a fog closed down the Los Angeles Airport after the "Super Bowl" game and disrupted assembling the squads.

Rauch and coach Mike Holovak of the East have used what time they could to install about 15 plays each and formulate defenses that will be standard and not tricky.

Records May Fall in Track Meet Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mile and two-mile records may be in danger tonight as stars from over the world converge on the Sports Arena for the Los Angeles Invitational Indoor Track Meet.

Jim Ryun of Kansas, who lowered the world mile mark to 3:51.3 last July, has been troubled with a back ailment and a chest cold but he said Thursday, "I'm in a lot better shape than I thought."

The tall sophomore will be running against a strong mile field that includes Dyron Burleson, Albany, Ore., twice winner of final Olympic trials; Tim Danielson, Brigham Young University, who has run the mile in under four minutes, and Dave Sirl of New Zealand.

Favorites in the two-mile are Jim Grelle, Multnomah, Ore., who with Ryun shares the American two-mile mark of 8:25.2; and Gerry Lindgren, Washington State University, who ran 8:34 at Portland last year.
