Group Supports Express Artery Through Area

The north-south arterial expressway proposed by the Oakland County Planning Commission has received the endorsement of the Downtown Pontiac Assn. — a new group formed to promote the welfare of the downtown area.

The temporary 15-member board of directors of the association voted unanimously to back the road proposal which would link the Detroit area to Bay City and points north as part of a chain of interstate highways.

According to Monroe M. Osmun, temporary chairman of the group, the members listed three major reasons why they favored the road, which would pass through the city.

"First, it would be very advantageous to the downtown area; secondly it would make a very easy access to this area; and thirdly, it would tend to increase the land values in the downtown business district," Osmun outlined.

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce was the first group to overwhelmingly approve of the route.

As proposed last December, the 4½-mile arterial is slated to tie into a Southfield interstate highway to the south, and a proposed relocation of U.S. 10 to the north. It will pass within a quarter mile west of downtown Pontiac.

It will be six-lane and 350-feet wide. Its daily capacity is expected to be 80,000 vehicles. Provisions for two additional lanes would increase the capacity to 105,000 vehicles.

Copies of the proposal are in the hands of state, county and city officials for study.

ONE OF SEVERAL

"This route is one of several that must be studied thoroughly by the State Highway Dept., the Bureau of Public Roads, the county, and the city, before it is approved," Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

J. Robert F. Swanson, chairman of the county planning group, said he was shooting for an approval of the road between the state and the city, by this summer.

The Downtown Pontiac Assn. is composed of downtown merchants, businessmen, professional men, and property owners.

Ike Considering Warmer Climate to Combat Cough

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is considering a trip to "a warm, dry climate" to combat a cough which has bothered him since Jan. 21, the White House said yesterday.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference that "whether he (Eisenhower) would go to an area like Tucson (Ariz.) has been, of course, discussed. But there has been no final decision."

Last week, Eisenhower mentioned to a White House visitor that it might be a good idea for him to get away to a warm, dry climate for a while. He mentioned Tucson as a possibility.

Any such trip apparently will not start before this weekend since Hagerty released Eisenhower's engagement schedule through Friday morning.

Senate May Act on Ike Proposal

Johnson Has 'Hopes' for Adoption of Mideast Policy Plan Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Johnson (D-Texas) expressed belief today the Senate will approve the Middle East resolution by a "lop-sided' margin.

The majority leader said he would do "everything I can to get a final vote today."

Johnson talked with newsmen just before the Senate went to work at 10:30 a.m., an hour and a half before the usual time.

Developments in the Middle East, topped by Israeli's agreement to withdraw her troops from Egyptian territory, make quick Senate action "more urgent' than ever, Johnson said.

Johnson said if a vote is not reached by 7 p.m., action might be delayed until tomorrow since some senators are attending a White House reception tonight.

In addition to its military provisions, the resolution would relax restrictions on 200 million dollars of available aid funds which could be used for either military or economic assistance in the Middle East.

The opposition lost its major battle Saturday when the Senate defeated 58-28 an amendment to strip all economic authority from the proposals.

Mitchell Denies Appointment to Teamster Head

Claims Union Leader Extends European Stay to Avoid Probe Call

WASHINGTON (INS) — Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell refused last night to accept Teamsters Union president Dave Beck as a U.S. delegate to an International Labor meeting after conferring with the chairman of the Senate's special labor racketeering investigation.

Mitchell, after meeting earlier with Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) announced that he was rejecting Beck's nomination to attend a meeting of the International Labor Organization transport committee in Hamburg, Germany, this month.

The Labor Secretary implied almost directly that he was refusing Beck accreditation to the Hamburg meeting because the powerful union chief had used the ILO assignment as an excuse to postpone testifying before McClellan's committee.

The sensational inquiry into labor racketeering got under way last week with the spotlight focussed on charges that an unsavory alliance existed between the Teamsters Union and the underworld in the Pacific Northwest.

Mitchell noted that Beck had been requested by McClellan to be on hand as a witness but said the Teamsters chief "thus far failed to do so, giving as one reason among others that he expected to be out of the country attending the . . . meetings in Hamburg."

The Labor Secretary said he is asking AFL-CIO President George Meany to name a substitute for Beck.

Beck was recommended as a delegate by Meany in mid-December before the investigation of Teamster Union operations by the Senate.

He had promised the Senate group that he would testify after his return to the United States on March 26.

The AFL-CIO recommends labor representatives for meetings of the ILO, an affiliate of the United Nations.

Israeli Civilians Leaving Gaza

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

Israeli troops are scheduled to begin withdrawing from Gaza and the Gulf of Aqaba area tomorrow.

Truckloads of steel-helmeted police carrying anti-riot shields and clubs rushed to the main square of Jerusalem, alerted for possible rioting when the Herut opposition party began protesting the withdrawal decision.

Israeli officials said four Arab gun-runners were killed last night near the Gaza Strip. (Jordan said its troops repulsed an Israeli patrol attempt to steal cows in the Jerusalem area last night. Two cows were the casualties. Jordan complained to the U.N. Armistice Commission.)

Southfield Man Solves Mystery of 'Chief Pontiac'

Long, a former auto dealer, claimed the six-foot plaster of paris statue that was found abandoned in a Bloomfield Hills ditch Monday morning.

The statue, which has graced the Long home as a lawn ornament during the past year, was stolen Feb. 22, apparently by pranksters.

Long, saying the 350-pound statue was worth between $300-$400, decided to leave it temporarily at the Bloomfield Hills police station until insurance investigators have determined the amount of damage.

Long said, "It's mine, but, brother, it's sure beat up now."

200 Firemen Wipe Out Threat to Businesses; No One Injured

Sixteen rural fire departments quelled a $200,000 blaze which threatened the business section of Oxford last night, and destroyed the Oxford Masonic Temple.

Twenty members of the Oxford Blue Lodge meeting on the third floor escaped to safety after being warned by patrons of a tavern located on the ground level.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Oxford Fire Chief Ralph Van Wagoner said it began in the basement of the structure, and swept upward through the three floors.

Some 200 firemen, many from volunteer departments, fought the blaze from 9 p.m. until 8:30 today, confining the flames to one building. Three fire fighters were briefly overcome by smoke.

Five stores adjacent to the 20 Washington St. structure received smoke and water damage.

The Oxford Tavern, owned by J. O. Miller, and the Oxford Electric Shop, owned by Francis Mosser, both on the first floor, were destroyed beyond repair.

Some 20 pieces of fire apparatus crowded into the downtown street to fight the flames through the night.

First notice of the flames came when one of the six tavern patrons noticed smoke behind the bar.

Assisting the Oxford Department were units from Orion, Independence, Waterford, Addison, West Bloomfield, White Lake and Brandon Townships, and also Atlas, Metamora, Davisburg, Goodrich, Hadley, Ortonville, Lake Orion and Gingellville.

Investigation of the cause continued today.

RAF Plane Crash Takes Toll of 21 Lives

DRAYTON, England (AP) — A Royal Air Force transport plane crashed into two farm houses near its base today and the Air Ministry announced 21 persons were killed.

Seventeen were airmen and four were occupants of the wrecked dwellings.

Six police dogs aboard the plane also perished.

The 70-ton, four-engine Beverly transport had taken off from the Abingdon RAF base for Malta with 20 men, but developed engine trouble and turned back.

It was making an approach about two miles from the base, 75 miles northwest of London, when it smashed into the farm houses and burned.

No Ballot Stuffing, Either

Police Vote Against Auxiliary for Wives

Ninety members of the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. face third-degree questioning methods today, as their wives try to find out who killed a bid to form an auxiliary.

Balloting for the third time yesterday, the officers voted 45 against the plan, and 43 for it.

Two abstained, although their votes could have created another deadlock.

It won't be the first time that Daddy unbuckled his gunbelt to face a barrage of questions on how he voted. Earlier ballots resulted in a 17-17 deadlock, and still later, a stuffed ballot box.

Although the meals may diminish to bread and water rations, most of the pistol-packers aren't talking. Just who voted which way is the secret of the ballot box alone.

Yesterday there was hope for the women, who have held several meetings and elected officers. At 1:30 p. m., it was 41-41, with eight officers not voting.

But with the dawn and change of shifts, the tide turned, and the womens' hopes dimmed. Detective Herbert Cooley, president of the group, announced the news.

It isn't all over, even now, according to the women. President Mrs. Orville Johnston has called a second meeting of the defeated auxiliary, for tomorrow.

On the agenda is the vote that smashed their ambitions, along with mundane matters of dues, entertainment, and programs.

Diagnosed Own Illness Year Before Death

Doctor Leaves Taped Advice to His Children

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A courageous young doctor who was the first to diagnose the leukemia which caused his death a year ago today has left a spoken heritage for his children.

Nine tape recordings made by Dr. Loyd Judd Jr. during periods when he seemed to be recovering from the disease were released yesterday. They were directed to his children Jacque Ann, 9, and Loyd III, 5.

They cover subjects ranging from safe driving — "There have been more people killed driving cars than in all the wars of man" — to his chosen profession —"If you place personal problems ahead of the life of your patient, get out of medicine; it has no place for you, or you for it."

Judd awoke one April morning in 1955 with puffy gums and swollen salivary glands. The next day he ran a blood test at the clinic he and Dr. John G. Rollins shared in Prague, a small town in central Oklahoma. The test showed leukemia.

There followed months of tests and treatment at the Oklahoma Medical Research Center here during which Dr. Judd offered himself as a human "guinea pig." Various injections brought temporary periods of progress, but the experiments failed finally on March 5, 1956, when he was 33.

"Are you willing to get out of a warm bed in the middle of the night when you desperately need rest, drive 20 miles knowing that you will not be paid to see someone you know can await morning and the completion of your rest? If you can answer yes to this, I feel you are qualified to start the study of medicine."

Near the end of this recording, Judd said, "I would not trade the five years I have been in medicine to be rid of leukemia, and there is a fair chance that (my) leukemia resulted from the practice of medicine."

Gleason Put Out of Stork Club

Billingsley Claims Actor Was Loud and Obscene Last Night

Billingsley said, however, that Gleason not only was loud but was downright obscene.

After a bit of a tussle, it was said, the comedian was escorted out. Billingsley decreed that the latch-string will not be out hereafter for Gleason.

It was all a bit vague, but it appeared Gleason, with an unidentified blonde on his arm, arrived at the club about 11:30 p.m.

Billingsley said Gleason became loud and boisterous as soon as he and the blonde were given a table.

Gleason was requested to leave. He refused. A tussle began.

When it was over a few moments later, Gleason and the blonde were outside.

Spinning Plane Creates Big Stir at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A private plane went into a spin over San Francisco's crowded Mission District area yesterday and the pilot pulled it out safely just 30 feet from the ground.

District residents flooded police switchboards with calls reporting that the plane "barely missed a couple of church steeples."

Herbert Bourne told Ted Bolliner, Civil Aeronautics Administration investigator, that he was flying from Bolinas, north of San Francisco, to San Jose when he lost control in turbulent weather over San Francisco.

San Francisco International Airport control tower heard Bourne's distress call, picked him up on radar and directed him in a climb through the overcast to regain his bearings.

Bolliner said Bourne was too shaken over the narrow escape to give a full account.

Couple Hurt Monday Listed Satisfactory

A Sylvan Village couple, injured in a two-car accident yesterday afternoon in Pontiac Township, was listed in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today.

Both Thomas B. Alderson, 72, of 2310 Garland Rd. and his wife, Florence, 67, suffered concussions and facial cuts.

Their car struck a fence at the corner of Adams road and South boulevard after it was in collision with the auto of Mrs. Violet Angdahl, 59, of 113 Moreland Ave.

Mrs. Moreland was released from the hospital after treatment of a minor knee injury, authorities said.

Alder to Supervise New Center in City

A veteran Salvation Army officer and former resident of Pontiac, Major Ernest Alder, has been named to direct the new Men's Social Service Center soon to open in the city.

Alder left Pontiac in 1928 to enter the Salvation Army Training School. Prior to his entering the organization, he was with the engineering department of the old Oakland Motor Car Co. here.

For the past three years, Major Alder has been stationed at the Detroit Men's Social Service Center where he has served as financial secretary and assistant manager.

CENTER TO OPEN

The center here is to open at 118 W. Lawrence St., the site of the former Whitfield, Walter & Dawson wholesale grocery warehouse. The Salvation Army purchased the two-story building last July.

Alder said that remodeling of the building will begin shortly. Limited operations are slated to begin June 1, he said, with full operations expected by late summer.

The center will be a rehabilitation headquarters for some 50 men. They will be housed at the center. There will be shops for the reconditioning of salvaged goods which will be sold at a resale shop thus making the center self-supporting, Alder explained.

Bill by Broomfield Seeks Flood Study

A bill to study Oakland County flood control was introduced yesterday in Washington by Congressman William S. Broomfield, of Royal Oak.

The bill calls for Army engineers to make a survey of all Oakland, Wayne and Macomb County streams flowing into Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River.

Selfridge Ready to Probe Noise

Will Investigate 'Boom' Over Auburn Heights Heard Yesterday

Selfridge Air Force Base today promised an investigation of complaints an unidentified airplane yesterday shattered the sound barrier east of Pontiac.

Residents near Auburn Heights reported an explosive noise thought similar to that created when a plane passes the speed of sound, at about 4-4:30 p.m. yesterday.

Capt. Wallace Shirey, base adjudant, said operations schedules would be checked to determine if any Air Force flights were in that vicinity at the time.

Breaking of the sound barrier is strictly forbidden under standing Air Force rules, Shirey said.

"Serious disciplinary action can result," he said, "against any pilot who has caused what we call 'sonic-booms,' which can cause damage to homes in the area."

There was no damage reported in yesterday's incident.

One resident, Mrs. Paul Torretta, recalled that her husband was standing in the doorway of their home, 3370 Greenwood Rd., when the explosion occured.

"He felt the whole house tremble and then saw an airplane streaking through the sky. He wasn't able to identify it, though," she said.

Detroit Socony Continues Strike

Pontiac Yard Not Struck but Employes Hesitant to Work at Outlet

A strike of some 200 workers at the Detroit Socony Mobil Oil Co. is still blocking fuel oil and gasoline deliveries out of the company's Pontiac distribution yard, a company spokesman confirmed this morning.

He said pickets from Detroit were preventing incoming and outgoing deliveries locally "to further their efforts down here."

The official said no bargaining session was scheduled today to seek the end of the dispute which began last Thursday when members of Local 11-389 of the Oil, Chemical, and Atomic Workers' International Union, AFL - CIO stopped work at the Detroit plant.

Basis for the walkout, the Detroit official said, was a demand for higher pay for the 200 members of the operational department of the company.

He emphasized that members of the Pontiac yard were not on strike but apparently were not attempting to go into the yard at 521 S. Telegraph Rd.

The yard distributes gas to some 100 Mobilgas service stations in the Pontiac area, and fuel oil to "thousands of homes and businesses," the official reported.

Youth Strikes Woman, Steals Purse and $89

A woman was struck and robbed of her purse and $89 last night on Tregent street north of N. Saginaw street, Pontiac police said.

Mrs. Ruth Willis, of 9 Tregent, said a boy about 16 years old came up behind as she was walking home.

He struck her in the back, forcing her to fall to the sidewalk, Mrs. Willis said. The youth then escaped with the purse.

Oxford Firemen at Scene 45 Seconds After Alarm

According to a local fireman, the group of 21 reached the $200,000 11-hour Oxford Masonic Temple fire within 45 seconds after receiving the call last night.

The fire station is located on Washington street about four adjoining buildings from the scene of the blaze which started in the basement and soon rushed through top of the third floor.

J. O. Miller, owner of the Oxford Tavern, located on the first floor of the building which was swept by fire, regrets he said such a little word as "no" about two weeks ago.

TURNED DOWN OFFER

Miller said someone offered to give him $37,000 for his tavern and he refused. He added he couldn't estimate the total amount of damage, although he was sure he had about 150 cases of beer.

A Mason himself, Miller said the 45-year-old building was insured for $50,000 although the local lodge estimated they had $125,000 invested in the building.

The electric store and tavern were on the first floor. The second floor consisted of a large dining room and pool room. Meetings were held on the third floor.

The Day in Birmingham

Another Delay in Sight for Rezoning of Land

BIRMINGHAM — Another delay is in sight for the rezoning of a parcel of land bounded by Hunter, Oakland, Lawndale and Madison roads. George D. Cram, representing Mrs. Harry Barton and Mr. and Mrs. James P. Cummiskey Jr. expressed irritation since the original request has been before city planners and commissioners since 1954.

Now zoned for residential purposes the owners of the property are meeting stiff opposition from area residents in their request for business development.

Last nights hearing brought out one of the largest commission attendances in many months as Cram again stated petitioners requests.

Throughout his remarks Cram hinted of possible legal action, should the petition be denied. City planner, Herbert Hersberg, pointed out that business C zoning specially adapted for professional offices and the like had resulted primarily from this request.

PLAN NEW SESSION

Planners have approved the request but additional items brought out at last nights meeting created a plan for still another session between the plan board and the commission.

The hearing will be continued again on March 18 following a session the preceding Wednesday night between the two city groups, Cram and a small representation of opponents.

Forbes Haskill, former city attorney, and himself a resident in the area, suggested that a broader study should be made considering a much larger area than that under discussion.

Civilian Officials Pulling Out of Gaza

The Premier was scheduled to address the Knesset at 8 p.m. (1 p.m. EST), an hour after a cabinet meeting.

Ben-Gurion's task — explaining why he had agreed to the evacuation without iron-clad guarantees against future Egyptian aggression—was complicated by new border incidents.

The Israelis said they would not begin the military withdrawal from Gaza until the UNEF contingent at El Arish in the Sinai Desert was ready to move in.

ROUGH SCHEDULE

This, a source said, was roughly the schedule for Gaza which Ben-Gurion would disclose to the Knesset:

1. Evacuation from Rafa in the southern tip of the strip in the first week.

2. Withdrawal from Khan Yunes in the central part of the strip in the next week.

3. Finally, pull-out from areas bordering Israel itself. During the withdrawal, it was learned, Israeli civilian and military liaison personnel will be attached to the UNEF contingents to help run local administration.

Israeli troops on the Gulf of Aqaba were said to be packed and ready to move out on short notice.

Getting news out of Gaza and the occupied shore of the Gulf of Aqaba was extremely difficult but all reports indicated that the withdrawals would be accomplished quickly.

Lansdowne Group Wants Action

Ask Waterford to Finish Road

A delegation of four residents living on Lansdowne street were present at last night's Waterford Township Board meeting, seeking a solution to their torn up road.

The street services residents abutting Williams Lake.

Frank Ardner and Ewald Markfort, speakers for the group, told board members that Lansdowne was a connecting road, used by many school buses and was practically impassable during the spring thaw.

The roads have been prepared for blacktopping, and property owners feel that the work would be wasted unless it is finished in the near future.

Trustee Oscar Loomis, was authorized by the board to seek a cost estimate on finishing the work.

State Attorney General Thomas Kavanaugh has ruled that school districts do not have to acquire building permits for new structures, acting supervisor Louis Barry told the board last night.

Architects for new schools in the district had requested building permits before Barry requested the ruling.

Board members gave final approval to the owners of the Lotus Lake Subdivision No. 1 plat, located on Williams Lake and Maceday Lake roads. There are 50 lots included.

TO GET PIPE-PUSHER

Members of the board authorized Barry to purchase a pipe-pusher for the township at a cost of $850. The machine is used to put water service connections under roads without tearing up the pavement for the connection.

Licenses approved by the board last night include: Grace E. Nichols, of 1775 Williams Lake Rd., for a soft drink license; Wilfred Fleming and Leonard Schwartz for plumbing.

Members of the board waived a license fee permitting the West Pontiac Kiwanis Club to hold their annual Kiddies Carnival on M59 at Pontiac Lake road, May 29-June 2.

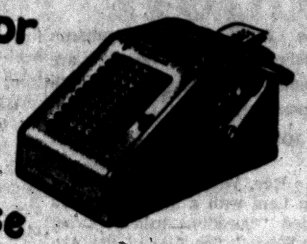

A transcript of merit from the high school principal, Thad Carr, asking that board members endorse Richard C. Gilchrist for an appointment to West Point or the Air Force Academy, at Denver was presented to board members.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilchrist, of 4660 Lakeside Dr., and was president of the senior class of 1955.

Pick Helicopter for Ike to Use

Choose Bell's Ranger for Flight From Port to White House

WASHINGTON (INS)—The White House has announced that the Bell Aircraft Company's Ranger has been picked as the helicopter for President Eisenhower's personal use.

The Ranger, which the Air Force calls the H13J, has a cruising speed of 100 miles per hour and a 200-mile range. It is built to carry five persons but will carry only three or four in presidential service, including the pilot.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty objected to a story reporting that the President would use the helicopter to fly from the White House to his golf club, the Burning Tree course in nearby Maryland, about nine miles away. Hagerty said it was possible that Eisenhower might use the plane for this purpose at some future date, however.

The only run now being planned, Hagerty said, is between the White House and the Military Air Transport Terminal across the Potomac River which serves as the presidential air field.

Hagerty said it probably will be at least two months before the President takes his first ride in the little "egg beater."

The two helicopters to be used, one for the President and the other for the Secret Service, will not be delivered by Bell's Fort Worth, Tex., factory until the end of this month. It will be another month before they are thoroughly tested and approved for the President's use.

Future uses could include commuting trips between the White House and the President's Gettysburg Farm, as well as aerial inspection tours of flood damage and similar disasters.

The Rangers cost about $60,000 which will come out of Air Force funds. The Air Force will also pay the cost of upkeep and furnish the flight and maintenance crews.

Mecosta Needs Donors to Keep Blood Bank

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — A Red Cross chapter executive says Mecosta County residents must contribute 355 pints of blood before July 1 to retain a blood bank program.

Mrs. Donald Scott, general chairman of the county's Red Cross blood bank program, has cautioned that its loss would mean payments of $25 a pint by patients and sometimes cause delay in securing the correct type of blood. The chapter provides 40 to 50 pints of blood each month for Mecosta County users, she said.

Security for You

Might of Mail Can Make Imprint

By RAY HENRY

Mrs. Beulah Fink knows congressmen pay attention to their mail. And, letters were the only weapons she had.

So, a couple of years ago she started bombarding Congress with mail from her home in Leavittsburg, Ohio. She wrote to President Eisenhower. And, for good measure, she wrote to anyone else who might push for a change in the Social Security law.

Her point?

She wanted widows with disabled children over 18 to receive Social Security payments for themselves and the children. After all, she reasoned, widows with children under 18 were receiving payments for themselves and their youngsters.

A widow with a disabled child over 18 is as unable to work and make a living as a widow with children under 18. In either case, home care is usually necessary.

Last August Congress acted. It changed the Social Security law to give payments to a disabled child of a retired or deceased worker after the child passes 18. The child must be unmarried. And, the disability must be so severe that the child can't work. It must have occurred before the child reached 18.

In addition, Congress provided for payments to widows caring for disabled children over 18. Previously, widows were only eligible for payments for themselves until their children—disabled or not— reached 18. They didn't become eligible for payments again until they reached retirement age.

No one can really say how effective Mrs. Fink's letters were. Two things are clear: She took her case to Congress and Congress changed the Social Security law.

Like most people who write congressmen, Mrs. Fink had a personal interest in doing so. She and her son, Paul, are now getting payments due to the law change.

OTHER CASES, TOO

Paul has been an invalid since birth and he never leaves his bed. He has to be cared for constantly and in every conceivable manner. His father died in 1952.

But, says Mrs. Fink:

"It wasn't just that I was pestering congressmen for benefits for my family. Paul and I would have gotten along somehow, but I knew there must be other cases, where the family hadn't been able to put away something for a rainy day."

She was right. More than 3,000 applications for disabled child's payments have already been received. The Social Security people believe that at least 20,000 will qualify during 1957. Nobody knows how many will eventually qualify.

In changing the law, Congress provided that the payments could start in January for all those who qualified on that date. Anyone who applies before the end of January, 1958, but who was eligible in January, 1957, will receive payments back to January. After January, 1958, payments will not be paid for more than 12 months back.

Applications for the payments are available in all Social Security offices around the country. If you don't know the address of the nearest office, you can get it at your local post office.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Find Toledo Milk in Michigan

MMPA Veep Speaks at Romeo Banquet

ROMEO—"We make changes as conditions warrant in a fluctuating market," Ted Laursen, vice president of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., told members of the Romeo Local at a meeting here last night.

Laursen, principal speaker at the Dairymen's annual banquet held in the Methodist Church, explained the current price agreement with Detroit dairies. Milk Producers began receiving $4.90 per hundred weight for Class I (drinking milk) March 1, he said.

Beginning May 1 they will get $4.65 per CWT for the next three months, he added.

The previous agreement which had given farmers $5.35 per CWT for Class I milk ended last Friday. The current price reduction is passed on to the consumer, Laursen stated, at a rate of 1 cent per quart.

MEMBERS COMPLAIN

When several members complained that they had never received the $5.35 price for their milk, the MMPA pointed out that they had for that portion sold as bottled milk. The monthly payment they receive is figured on a balance between the part of the milk that is manufactured and about 80 per cent of the base sold as Class I milk, he said.

"There is always the threat of cheaper milk from Toledo and Chicago," Laursen reported. "We have found some Toledo milk offered for sale down Telegraph road—costing some six cents per half gallon less than Borden's."

In talking to a store manager, selling Toledo milk, MMPA officials learned that his "spread between the cost and sale price was about the same" as Michigan milk, Laursen said.

He described MMPA sales committeemen as having more responsibility now in representing the dairy farmer than in years past. He also analyzed the growth and other change in the association over a period of 30 years.

Home Exhibition Gives Royal Pair Merry Evening

LONDON (UP) — Queen Elizabeth spent a lighthearted two hours last night watching Prince Philip upset the pomp of a royal visit and laughing at her husband's jokes.

It was the opening of Britain's annual Ideal Home Exhibition, a show of household goods and gadgets. But instead of the formal inspection and polite chit-chat arranged for the royal couple, the Prince insisted on poking behind the scenes and upsetting the show.

Guided to a new kitchen exhibit, he darted behind the slick showfront and found the place in a mess.

"Darling," he purred to the Queen, "I'm glad other cooks are as untidy as we are."

One exhibit the royal couple obviously enjoyed was a demonstration of a new potato peeler by a salesman with a fast line of patter. He wisecracked with the Prince about the product, then held up the gadget and announced: "Just the thing for the wife!"

The prince and "the wife" laughed delightedly.

MRS. DALE L. GULLIVER

Methodist Rite Read

Marian Knox Married

DRAYTON PLAINS — An altar decorated with palms and candelabras set the background for the marriage of Marian Yvonne Knox and Dale L. Gulliver. The 7:30 p.m. ceremony was performed before 350 guests at the Jefferson Avenue Methodist Church on Saturday.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Knox of 3569 Oakview, here, wore a gown of French lace and tulle with a scalloped modified V neckline. The dress was embroidered with seed pearls and had a fitted basque and tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt fell into a chapel-length sweep.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. George Johnston of Saginaw with Mary Last of Lansing, Mrs. Ronald Smith of Alma, Karen Knox of Detroit and Nancy Knox of Springfield as bridesmaids. Paula Knox of Drayton Plains was the flower girl.

Dale, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Gulliver of 3720 Genesee, Saginaw, had as his best man Bruce Gulliver, also of Saginaw. George Johnston and Ray Modlin of Saginaw, Harry Knox of Drayton Plains and Ron Smith of Alma served as ushers with Paul Knox as ringbearer.

A reception was given for the couple in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Bancroft.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Gulliver will fly to Bermuda for a honeymoon after which they will reside in Saginaw.

Autherine to Enter University of Texas

TYLER, Tex. (UP)—Mrs. Autherine Lucy Foster, whose attendance at the University of Alabama caused a furor, apparently can look forward to smoother going at the University of Texas.

The Negro woman was expelled from the Alabama school last year after charging university officials conspired in campus rioting over her attendance.

She said in an interview yesterday she would enter the University of Texas next September to study library science.

At Austin, a university of Texas spokesman said he didn't know of any legal requirements which would keep her from registering. The university now admits Negroes in both graduate and undergraduate schools.

Mrs. Foster's husband, the Rev. H. L. Foster, will become pastor of the Liberty Baptist Church of Tyler March 10.

Promises Extension of State Blue Shield

DETROIT (UP)—Within six months Michigan's Blue Shield will have an extended medical service plan "that will satisfy even the UAW," Dr. Arch Walls said yesterday.

Dr. Walls, Michigan State Medical Society president and Blue Shield vice president, told the Economic Club here that Michigan Medical Service has been working on an "out-patient diagnosis" plan for a year.

Dr. L. Fernald Foster of Bay City, Blue Shield president, said:

"We are working for an elaboration of service. We assure you this will be done, within the limits of realism and actual soundness."

They were questioned about Community Health Association, a new program proposed by Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

"CHA also will have its 'ifs' and 'buts,' its headaches and confusion," Dr. Walls said. "The Detroit area is not set up for the kind of group practice CHA suggests."

Sumatra Rebels Send Ultimatum

Tells President Sukarno to Install New Leader or Else Face Action

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UP) —East Indonesia's rebel command demanded today that the entire republic be placed under military rule with immediate self-government for the revolt areas.

The ultimatum, presented to President Sukarno, demanded removal of Prime Minister Ali Sastroamidjojo and his Cabinet. It also warned that the rebels would not tolerate any Communists in the government.

Lt. Col. Ventje Sumual, leader of the revolt in the eastern islants, said the rebels would take matters into their own hands if Sukarno did not heed their demands.

Informed sources said the ultimatum was "very serious" since the rebel leaders are not extremists. They warned there might be bloodshed if Sukarno persists in his plan for a "guided democracy" in which Communists would be included, in place of Western-style parliamentary government.

Sukarno has ignored the East Indonesian revolt so far. Sastroamidjojo has been conferring with Franz Umbas, deputy economics minister and a relative and personal adviser of Sumual.

Sumual's ultimatum disclosed that East Indonesia has formed a new military committee called the Eastern Sunlight Council.

Sukarno is expected to announce later this week that he will carry on with his plan for guided democracy. Sources close to the Jakarta police chief said if he does, there may be "serious trouble."

Lung Cancer Expert Dies of That Disease

ST. LOUIS (UP) —Dr. Evarts A. Graham, famous internationally for his work on lung cancer, died yesterday of lung cancer.

The 73-year-old surgeon had retired in 1951 but continued his research work. It was not determined until six weeks ago that he had lung cancer.

Dr. Graham insisted there is a link between it and cigarette smoking. He himself had smoked cigarettes, but almost none in the past 10 years.

He gained widespread fame in the 1920s for his use of X-ray photographs in the study of gall bladder diseases. In 1933 he became the first surgeon to remove an entire human lung successfully.

Cheating on College Exams 'Customary'

CHICAGO (UP) — A survey of American college students indicated today that "systematic cheating on examinations is the custom rather than the exception" at many large colleges.

The survey, conducted by Philip E. Jacob, social science professor at the University of Pennsylvania, was prepared for delivery to the 12th National Conference on Higher Education.

In contrast to what the report called "generally low standards in regard to academic honesty" were findings about college students' standards of sexual morality.

"Despite the boldness of college talk, dress and outward social conduct," it said, ". . . in personal practice and fundamental belief students generally hold to standards which are thoroughly conventional."

Jacob cited two specific studies which he said "point up the prevailing student code of sex morality."

At the University of Chicago "an intimate discussion of moral issues with a group of freshman women showed that the girls . . . were more orthodox than was attributed to them by their fellow students and that talk may be libertarian at a place like Chicago than practice."

At Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., "students by and large . . . attached little importance to chastity as a criterian for choosing a mate, yet few of them would justify a life of promiscuity." The majority "evidently found the canons of chastity appropriate to govern their personal lives."

Jacobs' study inquired into what influence colleges and universities have on students' social, moral and religious values.

The answer, he said, is that "for the most part" they seem to have no influence at all.

"The main over-all effect of higher education upon student values," he said, "is to bring about conformity to a body of standards and attitudes of the college-bred man or woman of the American culture . . ."

Although the "intellectual, cultural or moral climate of some institutions stands out," Jacob said, most colleges "will have to learn how to . . . salvage the most essential product of a liberal education — students who know what they value and why."

Although students generally seemed to profess reasonably high values, Jacob said, "it is with regard to cheating that the chinks in the moral armor of American students are most obvious."

"The situation varies greatly among institutions," he added, "but the practice is so widespread as to challenge the well-nigh universal claim of students that they value honesty as a moral virtue.

"Frequent cheating is admitted by 40 per cent or more at a large number of colleges, often with no apology or sense of wrong-doing."

King of Hobbyists Praises Collecting

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Sy Seidman is a man who will collect anything except hospitalization insurance. And in that statement lies a moral.

"You have enough hobbies to fill up your house and a warehouse on the side," says Sy, "and you never get sick. I say the reason people are so crazy in the head today, with their eyes poppin' out from television, is they don't have anything interestin' to put their hands on.

"Take these nice old can openers now..."

It has never occured to us to take old can openers, but Mr. Seidman is rather irresistible. When he is discussing old can openers, or for that matter antique shoehorns or musty old Indian wampum, you find yourself snowed under by a hoary nostalgia.

"They 'call me the King of Hobbyists," said the old fella, digging into a knapsack for a 19th Century apple corner of which he's particularly enamored, "and I guess they're right.

"I was 10 years old when I started collecting birds' eggs up in the wilds of the Bronx, and I haven't stopped since.

PASTIME, NOT HOBBY

"Keeps you young, lady, and what's yours?"

"Oh, golf," we said, "or horse-racing—"

"That's no hobby, girl!" Seidman was indignant. "That's a pastime, I keep trying to tell everybody. You've got to collect things to have a hobby, and there's money in it the same as there's youth.

"Now anybody who hasn't collected old almanacs or ladies' hats"—he was digging in the bag again—"couldn't know what a thrill it is."

With more than 200 collections in his possession, the wiry and wordy hobby king would certainly be called an eccentric by many. But Seidman doesn't care, because the people who deal with him know that he's smart and lively eccentric.

When he says, "I'm a sucker for anything that looks old, and anybody can sell me anything," hundreds of editors, department store heads and museum directors could say, "Yeah, and Seidman can sell us anything right back.

For he collects anything he finds any fascination in and, sooner or later, be it 10 years or 50, it will be of value for a rotogravure section, an exhibit, a commercial promotion—and suddenly he has his investment back, and more.

IMPROVES WITH AGE

"Anybody's a dope not to save things," he claims, pulling out some old horse liniment dating back to 1856. "Everything improves—in value, anyway—with age."

That is most surely true of Seidman himself. As a youth he was one of the first press photographers and cinemaphotographers, and the salaries were low. Now, thanks to his penchant for saving things, he's sitting pretty. On 17th Century stools, of course.

Seidman dropped into the office en route to Madison Square Garden where, beginning next week, he'll talk people's ears off about how collecting old things makes you young.

He drew something out of his pocket and dropped it on the desk. "To live good," he advised, "I'd suggest you stop getting gray working for plain ordinary money, and start looking for this."

It was wampum—what else?

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

FRIENDS OF THE FAMILY

2. Pirate Pete the Parrot

A parrot can be a lot of fun. He is a noisy, squawky bird who can bite when he wants to and his sharp beak has a cutting edge. But he becomes fond of a family, and likes to have his round red head scratched.

Here is a parrot that will make an attractive window shade pull and as he hange there in the window, swinging back and forth, you can imagine he's screaming "pieces of eight, pieces of eight" like Long John Silver's parrot in Treasure Island.

Paste this picture down on cardboard. Color it brightly with crayons. The back and breast and part of the wings and tail are green with brilliant red on the ends of the feathers, with a bit of yellow here and there. The claws are gray. Color the ring yellow.

Cut out carefully. Make a small hole in the loop at the top and slip a piece of string through it. If you do not want to cut out the spaces behind the bird, color them a bright sky blue. Tie the string around the ring on the shade, or fasten it to the wooden strip with a thumb tack.

Then Pirate Pete will swing in the window.

National Guard to Get Six Months Training

The Army and the National Guard have ended their disagreement over the Guard recruit training in a compromise largely accepting the Army's program.

After April 1, all Guard recruits without prior service will have to take six months of active duty training. Under the plan the Guard has been granted two exceptions to the six month rule. It will have the rest of 1957 to recruit youths of 17 to 18½ for 11 weeks training.

The current 11 week training program of the Air National Guard which includes a large number of Air Force veterans will not be affected. The Army also promises to supply the Guard with recruits if necessary.

Guard spokesmen told the House Armed Services subcommittee that six months requirement would ruin the Guard. However, General Roy Green of California's 49th Division testified that improperly trained California Guardsmen had been needlessly sacrificed at Okinawa in World War II. He said the six months training would make the Guard.

Secretary of Defense Wilson presented strong evidence for the longer training period. He stressed the suddenness with which globe girdling atomic bombers could bring war.

While the Guard is going to have better training, it must not be forgotten that the 1948 Gray Board Report suggested 90 reforms for the military reserves. Few of these have been put into effect.

Aim of all military training is to teach recruits how to avoid unnecessary risks. The extended training for Guardsmen should help in that respect.

U.S. Growth Will Reach Incredible Proportions

Wheeeeeeeee.

This newspaper likes to believe it is optimistic and ready to receive rosy forecasts with open arms and an eager mind.

We believe in the future.

Our faith in America is tremendous.

In spite of a complete acceptance of our country's greatness, one of the current prognostications causes us to catch our breath. David Lawrence's U. S. News projects this nation's size into breath-taking realms.

To recapitulate briefly, in 1900 we had approximately 75 million people. In 1915, this increased to 100 million. Just before 1950, it touched 150 million and now, only seven years later, we nudge the 170 million mark.

By projecting these advances and then forecasting a weighted average for the years ahead and considering all known factors, Lawrence's staff arrives at some amazing conclusions.

In 1967, our population will be 200 million. This is a sizable gain but others have forecast similarly. So—let's move on.

Just after 1980, our population will be 250 million. This is an incredible level, as 1980 is only 23 years away. Most of the people who are here now will live to see it. Can you picture your own niche 23 years from now with a quarter of a billion neighbors?

Then, our intrepid soothsayers take another look-see into the crystal ball and the picture shows that in 1993, we will total THREE HUNDRED MILLION. That's only 35 years away, and most of you will be hanging around. Where will you personally fit into the 300,000,000 picture? Will you have the kind of a job that will survive?

And then, as an added climax, these same experts (and they're just that) predict that in the year 2,000, we will have a population of 338 million. That means the United States will have DOUBLED IN SIZE in the next 43 years.

Well, add 43 years to your own age and then hazard a guess as to whether you personally will witness this miracle. A reasonably large segment of the population will do so. We do not discredit these figures. They were worked out by men who understand that sort of thing, and were based on all the information and trends available now.

They make no forecast of the "work week" in the year 2,000 A.D. so we'll accommodate without benefit of invitation. By various logarithms, charts, tea leaves and trisected moonbeams, we arrive at the general national average.

It's six hours and 12 minutes.

Tired?

The Man About Town

Michigan Greatest

Things in Which Our Own State Exceeds All Others

Home surroundings: The ones which we would appreciate more if we gave them more study.

After an exhaustive and quite remarkable study, of 581 Alpeana Ave., has compiled a list of things in which Michigan leads the nation or the world. Here they are. Can you add any?

Ellsworth D. Stephens

Auto and truck production, breakfast foods, baby foods, canal traffic, oddest shape, oldest geologically, virgin salt and copper coast line, suspension bridge, museum, chemicals, pharmaceuticals, celery, birth of Republican party, furniture, Hiawatha, Paul Bunyan, sand and gravel, law and medical school, walled prison, zoo, fresh water fishing, any water fish liars, smartest men, handsomest women, most beautiful county and most romantic, hustling and sentimental county seat.

Mr. Stephens' zoo is Detroit's (in Oakland County), the museum is Greenfield Village, most of the sand and gravel deposits are in Oakland County, which have furnished the material for the major part of the construction in Detroit, Pontiac, Flint and other cities, besides thousands of miles of highways.

We hope he is right on his smartest men. We are absolutely positive he's right on the handsomest women, also on his most beautiful county (Oakland), and its county seat.

Since we already had an "Arcadia," the name of that street in the Lake Angelus area has been changed ot "Alpeana."

Many residents in this area recall the late Harold E. Talbott, former Secretary of the Air Force who just died in Florida.

A year ago during the holidays, the Talbotts were the guests of Secretary and Mrs. C. E. Wilson who entertained for them at a dinner dance.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

You Can Build Your Own Romance

Rachel is a lovely girl. But she leaves Jack cold. Yet he knows she'd make a wonderful wife and he would like to fall in' love with her. What can they do to develop butterflies in their stomachs and tingle at each other's touch? Love can easily be developed by the rules below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I met Rachel on a blind date just before I went to North Africa two years ago with the Air Corps," said a man named Jack, who is 31.

"And we corresponded for the two years I was gone from the States. We fell in love by means of our letters.

"But when I returned and called on Rachel, we both felt rather stiff and formal. And I don't believe either of us is ardently in love with the other.

"Yet I know we are admirably suited in that we have the same hobbies and religious outlook and racial background, etc.

"So what can I do to inject a greater romantic 'spark' into our relations?

"Our romance is too platonic. We are just good friends, but don't get butterflies in our stomachs when we meet."

TWO KINDS OF LOVE

There are two varieties of romance. One is love at first sight. The other is what we term "earned" love. In the latter case, a young couple like Jack and Rachel simply share innumerable happy experiences.

Maybe they attend a restaurant and enjoy a delicious meal. The gastric pleasure is then chalked up to the credit of the other companion.

Then they go to a movie. If it is exciting and romantic, that mood also becomes linked to the companion with whom they shared it.

In like manner, if they attend the opera or an art museum or go on a picnic, they will begin to develop pleasurable emotional memories that will inevitably be linked with each other.

This "conditioning" works in the field of love exactly as it does regarding foods.

Yesterday I explained why children prefer hot dogs to steak and fried chicken.

They simply fall in love with hot dogs because the latter are linked with the childhood emotional delights of picnics, bonfires, circuses, ball games and other gala events.

BUILD OWN ROMANCE

"Do it yourself" is now the slogan for home owners. And many books and tool kits are being offered for sale to let you make your own household repairs.

Well, we psychologists recommend that you employ the same "do it yourself" strategy when it comes to building true romances.

Pick your prospective mate by logical analysis. Use your head instead of your heart.

Be sure you also think ahead to your future unborn children, for you cast their proxy votes when you pick their o her parent.

Then fall in love afterwards, if need be, for you can take a total stranger and be ardently in love in less than three months if you will simply share many happy experiences together during that interval.

And always be liberal with honest compliments. For when you build up the ego of your companion and share many happy dates together, soon you will get butterflies in your stomach and tingle all over just at the sound of that person's voice on the telephone.

And this isn't malarky. I have personally paired off strangers and prescribed their social program until they soon were ardent sweethearts.

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Use these tests wisely before you fall in love and marry.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Namby-Pamby U.S. Diet Responsible for 'Misery'

"I had been to several doctors before I wrote you about the misery in my neck and shoulders, reports a Winchester reader, "and their medicine had no apparent effect. Not long after I began supplementing my diet with calcium and vitamin D, as you suggest in the booklet, The misery went away, and now I am fine." (Mrs. R. L.)

BRADY

Anyway, the doctors didn't try to make a federal case of it, by calling it neuritis, fibromyositis, or something equally impressive.

In the South the "misery" covers as many different ailments or complaints as "rheumatism" or "arthritis" does elsewhere.

If perchance you smile at the practice of calling an ailment the misery, you won't mind, I'm sure, if I smile—after all, a sourpuss can smile in a sarcastic way — at your childish acceptance of such names as "arthritis," "rheumatism," and "rheumatoid arthritis" for your ailments.

For the misery—and kind of persistent, frequently recurring or long standing ache or pain that seems to be in joints, nerves, and/or muscles—I suggest that you eat an optimum daily ration of calcium and D. Not for a week, but from now on.

This can't do any harm in any circumstance, and you never can tell—it may do as much good as it did for Mrs. R.L.

Please understand, this is not medicine. It is nutrition — nutritional elements which everyone should get but most persons fail to get from the typical mamby-pamby diet Americans generally consider adequate.

From many queries of southern readers, I gather that the manifestations of vitamin B-complex deficiency are commonly described as the misery.

CHIEF CAUSE

Probably various other factors besides nutritional deficiencies are responsible for the misery, but to the best of my knowledge (no experience practicing in the South) nutritional deficiency is the chief cause of the misery everywhere.

If you want to learn more about it, send me 35c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for "The Calcium Shortage" and "Wheat To Eat."

Whether you get your optimum daily ration of calcium, vitamin D and/or vitamin B complex from your food or in the form of a concentrate taken as a dietary supplement, please, please don't regard it as medicine.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Man Questions Age Limit Put on Job Opportunities

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am proud to call Pontiac home, but I'm wondering how many others are in the same boat I am. I contact all places trying to find work, answer all Press ads, and most of the time I get the same answer: "Sorry, but our age limits would not allow us to employ you, although your experience and ability are there."

It makes one wonder what is going to happen. I worked for eight years as a factory superintendent until it closed, have worked meeting the public for many years and figure I have brains enough to learn to do anything that's possible to learn. What can we do so we do not always get the same answer: "Sorry, you're too old."

'Postal Employes Should Get Raise'

In regards to the postal raise, everyone in the Baldwin-Walton area is wanting a new post office. I wonder just how many would sign a petition for a postal raise for employes who really deserve. I make $2.30 per hour, which is 48 cents more than the postman, yet he has to pay the same prices as everyone else. I am all for them getting a raise although I am a Pontiac Motor employe.

'Foreign Policy Is in Capable Hands'

"A Patriot" asks if we have "forgotten Korea when the enemy knew our strategy because it was UN action." Presidential order started that war, not Congress, UN or the military chief in that area. Congress has endorsed our present foreign policy. I don't want my boys fighting for the UN either, but neither did the Swedish and Norwegian parents of boys who were sent into Egypt.

We must take a hand in world problems for our own survival. This can't be done by shirking responsibilities or "avoiding war at any cost." The cost is destruction of our governmental system and death or slavery.

We must hold faith with other countries who oppose aggression. Our foreign policy now does that. Ike despises war and holds a deep belief in God's guidance. I didn't vote for Ike, but I sincerely believe our foreign policy couldn't be in more capable hands.

Incident at Light Scares Driver

I wish people would stop running red lights. The other day as the light turned green and I proceeded, a car came through the red light at a high rate of speed, and I was forced into the opposite lane. Luckily no car was coming very close, but I'm sure the man down the street wondered why I was in his lane going the wrong direction. It sure gave me a good scare.

'Pipe Flood Water to Plains States'

I read about a pipeline to Texas. If there's plenty of water in the lakes, why should anyone object? We help foreign countries, so why not Texas? I thought my idea was a little ridiculous until I heard of this, but why not pipe excess water from flood areas to Texas and other plains states? A newcomer to Michigan, I like it very much, but my heart aches to see my home state so desolate, and no matter how much I like it here, Texas is still my home.

Readers Second Bus Complaint

I agree about the disgraceful condition of Waterford school buses. I saw a driver nearly skid into a bus loaded with children because the bus had no stop lights or brake lights and there was no indication the bus had stopped. When I asked the bus driver about it, he said the bus had never had such lights, but to complain to the school board, not him. I reported the incident to the state police and they assured me they would check into it, as a law requires all vehicles to have such lights. It would be tragic if some youngster should lose his life before something is done.

Mrs. W. B. Tinsman

2816 Orange Grove

I hope that Mrs. David's letter will alert the Waterford School Board to take some drastic safety measures in the operation and maintenance of school buses. I have noticed several instances where the school buses load and unload at very unsafe points on their routes. They are sometimes parked in the road on curves unloading passengers. The buses are not visible to an approaching vehicle and presents a hazard. I suggest they load and unload at points clearly visible from both front and rear.

'Patriotism Taught by National Guard'

My husband was too young for World War I and too old for the second, but he did war work in the factory day and night, without overtime pay. However, he has always been proud of his National Guard service.

After building our garage, the first thing he did was to erect the flag pole, and he never missed putting up the Stars and Stripes on all special days. How many citizens bother to do this at their homes? Our flag was always about the only one shown on all those days, and we lived in a very good neighborhood.

The National Guard is OK, as it instills patriotism.

City Woman Asks for New Library

I am certain many others will join me in asking when the honorable city fathers of Pontiac will find they can spare enough money to build a new city library and get rid of the old one on Williams Street? 'Unmarked Cars Aren't Effective'

About the traffic situation on Dixie, it is my opinion that officers in plainly marked cars do just as much good as unmarked cars. When a motorist sees a marked car he will check his speed, but I don't think an unmarked car will have that effect. When a police car dashes out at high speed to catch a car going over the limit, instead of one speeding car on the road, there are two. A speeding police car can be just as much a menace as any other speeder. With a plainly marked car, there might not have been any speeder. Incidentally, I've driven on Dixie nearly every day for years and have not received a speeding ticket.

'Did City Raise Parking Rates?'

When have the rates for city parking meters been raised? The city is charging five cents for 15 minutes of time at the post office. Are city authorities trying to drive all business out of town? Also, why doesn't Pontiac have parking spaces marked with paint like other cities?

'Should Surmise Money's Needed'

A couple of weeks ago my husband lost his wallet containing $80. We have three small children, two have been sick all winter, and my husband has worked even when he was sick in order to keep things up. We also have large home payments. My husband wouldn't let me advertise, hoping the person would see the children's pictures and return it. But he's either not honest enough or worse off than we are. If I found a wallet with that much money, I'd know it was a week's pay and at least try to find the owner.

'Let's Bring Back Decoration Day'

I was both surprised and pleased to note that Rochester has a WRC post. I thought that organization had followed the carrier pigion, as I had not heard of it for years. Now if we will just bring back the old time Decoration Day. Armistice Day doesn't mean a thing . . . it just gave Hitler time to build up for a bigger and better war, along with the help of Japan.

Probably Builders of Great Pyramids

Excavations Reveal Tombs of Laborers in Ancient Egypt

CAIRO (INS) — A Dutch archaeologist has opened the way for casting "important new light" on history's oldest known dynasty.

Within sight of Egypt's famed Giza pyramids, Dr. Adolph Klasens of Holland's State Antiquities Departments has discovered 70 ancient tombs—containing skeletons of laborers who helped create the kingdom of the world's first known ruler more than 5,000 years ago.

Egypt's dry climate and soil have kept the bones in an "amazing" state of preservation since burials estimated to have taken place about 3,100 years before Christ.

Klasens said pottery found in the tombs as well as the positions of the skeletons enabled him to identify the discoveries with the First Egyptian Dynasty, which lasted 200 years until 3,000 B.C.

ALL SMALL PEOPLE

The skeletons are those of rather small people, about five feet tall, with skulls showing extremely high protruding cheekbones.

Klasens, who has been digging in Egypt off and on since 1953, said the bones were reddish-brown in color when he first unearthed them, but turned white after days of bleaching by the desert sun.

All the skeletons uncovered so far are believed to be those of men except one woman who was found wearing strings of colored beads around the neck.

No gold or jewels were discovered.

Klasens said there was evidence that nearly every tomb had been visited a thousand years ago by tomb robbers.

The ancient burial ground is right next to the Moslem cemetery of Little Abu Rawash village, about 14 miles from Cairo and seven miles northwest of the famous Giza pyramids.

Two types of tombs have been unearthed under rocky, sandy desert dunes by a dozen Egyptian workmen using picks and shovels.

The tombs of the poorer class are about three feet square with a connecting hidden chamber.

The middle class tombs are about six feet square with a small chamber in each corner containing reddish-colored earthenware such as bowls and jars, in which the ancient people placed food to sustain the dead in the hereafter.

The tombs are made of crude bricks and cover an area about 100 square feet in all.

Klasens has been working on the discoveries two weeks and expects to continue his excavations another two months.

The biggest disappointment so far is the lack of hieroglyphics or ancient papyrus, but he is still "hopeful" of finding markings to help him pinpoint the era.

3 in Holdup Ring Get Stiff Sentences

Three young men convicted as members of a holdup ring yesterday were sentenced to terms in State Prison of Southern Michigan by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Kenneth Marshall, 18, of 314½ Wessen St., was sentenced to 7½-15 years; Joseph Page, 21, of 497 Ditmar Ave., 5-15 years; and Velton Wilder, 18, of 476 Branch St., 5-15 years.

Marshall and Page had pleaded guilty to the $56 stickup Dec. 17 of Riddick's Pharmacy, 373 Franklin Rd.

Wilder was found guilty on a charge he helped hold up the Progressive Oil Co. station; 477 S. Saginaw St. for $170 last Dec. 20. Marshall also was accused as Wilder's partner.

Pontiac police said the convictions cleared up two other holdups last December. Masks were worn in all the robberies.

Cargo of Jewelry Disappears in West

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The disappearance of a heavy trunk and its expensive cargo of wholesale jewelry from a railroad station left police with hardly a lead to follow today.

The wholesale value of the merchandise was placed at $40,000 to $50,000 by Fred J. Cannon, a 62-year-old jewelry salesman for the Cannon-Schaefer agency in Los Angeles.

The 186-pound green, reinforced fabric trunk was reported missing by Cannon yesterday from the downtown Southern Pacific baggage room.

After checking the trunk in the baggage room, Cannon said, he removed his sample cases to display his wares to a customer. Then, he related, he put the jewelry back in the trunk. Baggage agents were unable to locate the trunk a short time later, and a check on outgoing trains proved fruitless.

Bob Considine Says:

Old Philadelphia Gets Face-Lifting

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Ben Gimbel, merchant prince, said, "We're a city that takes its time. We let things stay as they are sometimes for years, and then we burst out like nobody's business."

We were in the Grand Ballroom of the new Sheraton Hotel, first big pleasure dome built in Philadelphia in 30 years. It cost $15,000,000, stands 22 stories high, has nearly 1,000 rooms, looks something like the United Nations building without an argument.

It rises eloquently from the ground where the monstrous old Broad Street Station sulked in a brick-red funk for so many generations. It is the newest edifice along Penn Center Plaza, one of the greatest face-lifts in the history of U.S. city planning.

At No. 6 Penn Center Plaza is a new 18-story home office of the Pennsylvania Railroad, whose president, Jim Symes, is a guiding hand in this rebirth of what was once the second largest city in the British Empire.

At No. 3 is the huge Transportation Building. Going up at No. 1 is a 20-story, $15,000,000 office building.

Philadelphia is retoring the area around Independence Hall to the mall-like pastoral serenity the treasured old building once knew. The Penn Center area eventually will see 15 city blocks filled with buildings such as the Sheraton and its handsome neighbors.

GIANT PROJECT

The entire Social Hill area from Broad street to the Delaware River is undergoing redevelopment sponsored by town, business and industrial leaders banded together in a virtually nonprofit organization.

The federal government has helped a bit clearing the area which still echoes to the boots and voices of Washington, Jefferson, Adams, Paul Revere — who rode here from Boston in 1773 to bring news of a certain tea-dumping party — and of Button Gwinnett.

The three areas of development will cost about $350,000,000. It is easily the biggest cleanup and refurbishing job since Pittsburgh achieved the miracle of going clean, clear, and tall — a miracle which since has attracted city planners from all over Christendom.

One of the public rooms at the Sheraton is named for Connie Mack. The baseball immortal's widow, some other members of the family, and few of the greater ballplayers who passed through his hands, were present at the dedication Monday.

Has any baseball man been similarly honored? I doubt it. But it is no wonder in the case of Cornelius McGillicudy.

He was a bigger man here, in triumph and disaster, than any Philadelphian that comes to mind. He rates historically not with Clothiers, Biddles, but with William Penn himself.

TENDER THINGS

In the years to come, whenever people gather in the room named for him, they'll remember many tender things about this spare and spindly old fellow who was a part of the nation's folklore years before he passed away.

They'll remember him as one of the founding fathers of the present-day game. He was one of the first catchers to use a mitt and move in close behind the batter, and lived to see the game become a multimillion dollar cartel.

He was a frugal man in many ways, but he introduced important money into baseball with his "$100,000 infield." He knew greatness as a manager, then abysmal failure and greatness again, and never changed.

He called most of his players "Mr.", a relic of a day when he campaigned to have good hotels accept baseball players as guests.

The handsome room named for him is a kind of end result of his ancient crusade to put a necktie on what was a ruffian's sport.

Useless Job, Writes Rep. Norblad

Protests Hiring of Stylist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Norblad (R-Ore) has protested against the hiring by the Air Force of a woman "fashion coordinator" to encourage stylishness among Air Force wives overseas.

Norblad, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, wrote Secretary of the Air Force Quarles that "in this day and age of high budgets and high taxes it seems to me that this is about as useless a job as could be created by the Defense Department."

The letter was made public by the congressman's office.

Norblad said he understands the fashion coordinator's job is to "fly to France, Italy, Turkey, Morocco, Libya, Spain and other places where air bases are located" and "interpret the prevailing mood of fashion in the United States for wives and families of service personnel abroad."

The Oregon Republican said he has no quarrel with any woman's desire to "keep up on the latest fashion." But he said "I cannot conceive of this being a duty or obligation of the Department of Defense."

The Air Force said the job has been in existence for several years, that it was established at the request of the Post Exchange Service in Europe, and that it is paid for from exchange profits.

A spokesman said Miss Northcross will receive approximately $6,000 a year, and that her work will be to improve the line of goods carried in overseas exchanges, particularly items in demand by the wives and families of servicemen.

The spokesman said none of her salary is derived from appropriated tax money.

Anonymous Donor Buys Adrian Dorms

John H. Dawson, college president said work will start this spring on a campus center building and a central dining hall. Total cost was not announced.

Dawson described the plans at a special assembly program. The one-story structures will provide lounge facilities, a cafeteria, dining room and bookstore. Students at the assembly paid a standing tribute to the anonymous donor.

Completion of the project, Dawson said, will permit razing of two campus dormitories built in 1895 and 1859. Two new dormitories are now under construction.

Sure Sign of Spring

JACKSON (AP)—Despite the cold weather, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McMillin think Spring will be early this year. Their pet blackbird, which goes south every winter, has returned to the family's backyard bird feeder. They have been feeding the bird, named Redwing, for 13 years since they discovered it as a fledgling in May, 1944. McMillin says the bird's arrival varies about a week each year.

Nominations for Oscar Cause Unpleasant Stir

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—This year's Oscar nominations are causing an unpleasant stir in Hollywood and the outcome is likely to be a nasty kettle of fish.

Stars, directors, producers, writers and just plain folks are generally displeased with the outcome of the recent voting.

"This is the craziest set of nominations we've had in 10 years," one industry executive declared.

One of the biggest beefs is the fact that Dorothy Malone, Robert Stack and Mickey Rooney, who received star billing in "Written on the Wind" and "The Bold and the Brave," respectively, switched to the supporting role bracket to snag a nomination.

This policy, put into practice in past years, is frowned upon by many movietown notables, but it continues to flourish.

Last year, actor Jack Lemmon switched from star status to supporting actor to win an award for "Mr. Roberts," And the previous year, Frank Sinatra dropped to supported category to win an Oscar for his performance in "From Here to Eternity."

Many onlookers were disappointed in the acting selections and felt that certain top talent was overlooked by the academy.

Some thought Paul Newman should have been nominated for "Somebody Up There Likes Me"; Audrey Hepburn for "War and Peace"; Earl Holliman for "The Rainmaker"; David Niven and Cantinflas for "Around the World in 80 Days"; and Charlton Heston for "The 10 Commandments."

Others thought director Elia Kazan should have been nominated for "Baby Doll," a film with controversial overtones, but one in which the performances were largely controlled by the director.

Still others felt that James Dean should have won an Oscar last year (he was nominated for "East of Eden"), instead of being renominated this year for a more minor role in "Giant."

And then there is the unexplainable nomination of the "Bowery Boys" film, "High Society," which voters confused with MGM's "High Society," the Grace Kelly starrer.

All in all, the Oscar race is slated to wind up with some very unexpected results.

More than 30 women's clubs of Oakland County were represented at the meeting Monday when the topic was the possibility of a Girls' Ranch Division of Camp Oakland. New Toys May Upset U.S. Homes

Kit Even Permits Junior to Analyze His Parents

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Writer

Since this is the week when the nation's merchants flock to New York to select toys for next Christmas, I feel it only fair to warn parents that this time the toy manufacturers have gone too far.

As if today's children weren't already critical enough of their elders, one of the country's biggest toy firms is introducing a new kit by which small fry can analyze their parents. This promises to create further pandemonium in American homes, as well as at the Toy Fair, where it is to be unveiled.

When Pop tells Junior he can't have the car tonight, he may from now on expect Junior to whip out his analyst kit and announce:

"Your psyche is all out of whack and you're harboring a power complex. You are living in the past and you're just not hep. It says so right here."

The new kit provides the means for analyzing handwriting, having been worked out by a handwriting psychologist, and proves that the way you make your p's and q's may have dire meanings.

There are other things too that may well make the Christmas toy pack an ominous affair. There are building blocks to build structures big enough to be occupied by several children — so if today's small boy decides to leave home he can build his own residence in the back yard.

There are frighteningly efficent electric drills and lathes, and chemistry sets with which Junior might well construct his own bomb if he grows annoyed with conditions at home.

Beware of Pre-Ticketing!

By ALICIA HART

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Girls, we bargain hunters have got to look out for a new, slick racket.

A trick used by small-timers for years, it's now assuming larger proportions and fooling people right and left, according to officials at the Federal Trade Commission.

The main reason seems to be that buyers fall for fancy, mass-produced labels. Here from FTC files is how a typical consumer got caught. See if it has ever happened to you.

"This is a real bargain," said the lady to herself while eyeing the wool comforter. Through the cellophane cover she could see the manufacturer's labeled price of $14.95.

Then she looked at the store's placard offering the comforter for only $4.99 plus any other $5 purchase.

A MERE THIRD

Quickly she calculated that she would be getting the comforter for a mere third of its regular price, and the other $5 could be spent for things she needed anyway.

He was offered the comforters by a manufacturer who provided him with flamboyantly printed "fliers" to be inserted under the cellophane envelopes protecting the comforters. The broad stripes of colored paper carried the conspicuous price of $19.95.

In this particular case the retailer thought this was carrying it too far, so he demanded a supply of more "honest" fliers showing the price to be a respectable $14.95. And all he actually paid for the comforter was $4.50.

As it turned out in this instance, the FTC obtained a cease and desist order against the manufacturer enforceable by a $5,000-per-day offense fine for further violations.

"Normally we have been going after the manufacturer to get at the source of the trouble," says Sherman Hill, FTC projects attorney.

Recently the FTC has been making an intensive effort to stop harmful pre-ticketing and about a dozen big cases are in the works.

"We're investigating manufacturers who supply the retailer with price tags that are obviously higher than the expected price," emphasizes Hill. "We never bother with honest reductions."

One company now being checked by the FTC went so far as to send out promotion sheets to retailers with their pre-ticketing prices and resale prices, Hill reveals.

From perfume to furs to belts to slips to hosiery to watches, people are being baited by official-looking labels produced by the manufacturer.

NEVER QUESTION

"Most consumers won't give a second look to a retailer's price tag that has been marked down, but show 'em a snazzy manufacturer's label and they never seem to question its validity," explains an investigator.

The same industrial skills that produce modern and attractive packaging are now employed to dress up these phony price tags, according to experts.

They come in a rainbow of colors. Some are embossed on gold foil, others in silver and black. And even the original boxes have spurious prices conspicuously printed on them.

FTC officials are careful to point out, however, that most big-name manufacturers and the great majority of the nation's companies look down on this practice.

Those that do not are doing damage, however. And they're breaking the law since this kind of pre-ticketing is not only unfair competition but a deception that the FTC has the authority to prevent.

"Sometimes the items are well worth what the customer pays," says Gale P. Gotscall, an FTC investigator. "But it's not right that he should think he's getting a lot more for his money than he pays."

Very Susceptible to Dermatitis

Housewives' Hands Endangered

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Over and over again you have seen advice concerning care of the hands. Today I would like to bring you some scientific information.

Proper care of the hands is extremely important not only for good looks but for comfort and efficiency. Did you know that dermatitis of the skin accounts for more than 65 per cent of all occupational diseases, and that dermatitis of the hands is one of the most prevalent disabilities in the modern scene?

This long has been a problem in industry and it now has become a hazard in the home, in fact so much so that it even has a special name—Housewife's Eczema. We readily can see why this is true when we think of the great number of substances the housewife's hands come in contact with during the course of a day.

Some of these are soaps and detergents, polishes, waxes, bleaches, dry cleaning fluids, cleansers, dyes and so forth. The average woman in the home has her hands in and out of water all day long, especially if she has young children. Hands which are sensitized by a great deal of wet work may be attacked by these and many other products.

As most of you know, the skin is protected from injury by an outer layer of horny cells which are arranged much like the shingles on a roof. Their reaction is more acid than any other skin area.

This so-called acid mantle of the skin is important in maintaining the health of the skin. Of course water and soaps and detergents interfere with this mantle temporarily.

It has been discovered that when hands are in water much of the time, the outer, protective horny cells may swell and wash away thus leaving the lower skin exposed and susceptible to dermatitis or eczema.

Dermatitis of the skin can be developed by the primary irritants, or substances which would irritate any skin, such as strong chemicals, and substances to which some individuals are allergic. The foundation for dermatitis caused by either of these is laid by incorrect care of the hands.

There are many things the busy housewife can do to avoid dermatitis of the hands, the most important being the habit of wearing rubber or waterproof gloves while doing her housework .Dermatologists advise this as well as other preventative measures.

When speaking of dermatitis of the hands one well known dermatologist said, "You can perform a real service to your readers by emphasizing prevention since treatment is complicated."

Cotton Knits Practical for Weekend Trips

The bulky cotton knits, so much in favor just now, make wonderful weekend wardrobes. For instance, you can choose a striped knit middy cardigan, a solid color knit sheath, a pair of tapered knit pants or shorts—depending on where you do your weekending.

There will be no wrinkles, no packing problems, no laundering problems. Wash and hang them up to dry.

Those three pieces alone constitute a smart, versatile, practical wardrobe.

Wash Skin Clean

Proper skin cleansing involves both thorough washing with soap and thorough rinsing. Instead of using a washcloth, rinse your face with your cupped hands after washing. Splash water on your face till your hands stick or "grab" at your skin. Then you'll know your face is really clean.

Why do most Americans brush their teeth?

Brushing our teeth has become an everyday habit with most Americans. But did you know that it is not a habit with most of the rest of the world's people? And did you ever think why not?

Through advertising, manufacturers of dentifrices and toothbrushes have for years been urging the beauty, cleanliness and health benefits of their products. Today most of us brush our teeth as a matter of habit—and are better off for doing so.

Advertising keeps telling people about new or improved products, whether it be dentifrices or dishwashers. Nowhere else in the world is advertising used so effectively and extensively as in the United States—and nowhere else is there so high a standard of living. You are the one who profits most from advertising.

Good or Bad Life Depends on You

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is an old saying to the effect that we select our emotions, as we selectour foods, because we like their taste. This seems to be particularly true of many older people.

Some older people simply collect negative emotions and negative impressions.

According to them, things are going down hill at a terrible rate: Young people aren't what they used to be, food isn't what it used to be, "they" no longer write decent songs, today's comedians can't touch those of years gone by—and so on through the dreary years.

Other oldsters take an optimistic view and see around them a world full of improvements compared to the world as it was when they were young.

The important thing, I think, is that we have the choice. We can look at the world, which is a mixture of good and bad, and we select the good or we can select the bad.

HEALTHY AND HAPPY

If we select the good, we will be young at any age, healthy, happy and in demand socially.

If we select the bad, we will tend to be oldish at any age, not so healthy, perfectly miserable and a social outcast.

I know a woman, whom I shall call Mrs. B., who actually did make a switch—and she was over 60 at the time.

She had always been a cranky, close-minded, negative type; then, after her 60th birthday, her world began to fall apart.

"People don't ask me anywhere," she complained to me. "I'm lonely as can be. And don't tell me to go out and meet new people. With my health as frail as it is, I haven't the energy."

Then she recited a list of her favorite grievances. She ended up by saying, "Why has God treated me so miserably?"

HER OWN MAKING

As far as I was concerned, it was ridiculous to blame God for difficulties which were entirely of her own making.

I suggested that she begin trying to collect good things, even if they were minor little things like "the breakfast coffee was good and hot."

If she could collect a string of good things to take the place of her long list of grievances, maybe there'd be hope for her. If not, I told her rather severely, I gave up and she could just stop bothering me.

Well, they say you can't teach an old dog new tricks, but it isn't so. Mrs. B. began working on her "good list" and, before too long, she had one.

More than that, her health began to improve and people began to warm up to her a little.

It wasn't an instantaneous, miraculous change. But Mrs. B. did begin to change the flavor of her mind from bad to good, and her life began to change accordingly.

MR. and MRS. R. A. JACONETTE

Married Saturday were Mary Frances Crawford and Rudolph A. Jaconette. Mary, of West Huron street, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dennison of North Perry street. Rudolph is the son of Theresa Jaconette of Orchard Lake avenue and the late Joseph Jaconette.

Mary Frances Crawford Weds Rudolph Jaconette

Mary, of West Huron street, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dennison of North Perry street. Rudolph is the son of Mrs. Theresa Jaconette of Orchard Lake avenue and the late Joseph Jaconette.

For the service, the bride chose a blue silk chiffon dress and carried a cascade arrangement of white roses with an orchid center. She was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Dennison.

The bride changed to a lilac-colored suit with mauve accessories for traveling to Kentucky and Florida. The newlyweds will make their home on West Huron street when they return.

Pre-Party Gathering Irks Hostess

Guest Is Criticized for Inviting Others to Cocktails

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "I was invited to a party at a friend's house recently. The night of the party I asked several other friends who were also going to come up to my apartment for a cocktail before going on to the party. With it I served potato chips and some salted nuts.

"When we arrived at the party someone mentioned this to the hostess who seemed to think I was wrong to do this and that I had interfered with her party. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: If your party was very brief there was certainly nothing wrong in what you did. If you detained your guests so that they arrived late at the other party, that would have been inexcusably rude to your hostess.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Who should take my mother's place at the wedding reception? My mother is not living. Can my father receive the guests at the door, and if he does, would the bridegroom's mother stand next to him as she usually does when the bride's mother is there to receive? What about the bridegroom's father in a case like this?"

Answer: Your father should receive the guests and the bridegroom's mother and father both receive with him. Or it would be equally proper for your father to receive alone and for the bridegroom's father and mother to stand somewhere else by themselves.

If they are strangers, however, it would be best to have them standing next to your father so that he can introduce people to them.

Black Slipper Smart

When you're buying evening slippers, you're usually safest in buying a simple black satin pump. It goes with most dinner and party clothes and can be worn in any season. And it's a more durable buy than white or tinted satin.

Man Lambastes Women 'Helping to Earn Living'

Says Wives Should Make Real Home, Not Work to Purchase Luxuries

By RUTH MILLETT

"What does the working wife and mother mean when she talks about 'helping to earn a living'?" a reader asks.

"What is this that she is claiming to help earn?"

"Doesn't she really mean that she is helping to earn luxuries she doesn't want to go without?

"Isn't she really working for a better house in a so-called better neighborhood, better clothes, a car she is proud to show off, allowances for the children they don't do anything to earn?

"It is odd how having money enough to keep up with some of the neighbors and a step ahead of others seems more important to many mothers today than creating a real home and being at home to bring up children as only a mother can."

And then the writer of the letter—who is not a stay-at-home wife as you may have expected, but the husband of one, goes on to say! "My wife doesn't work. For 19 years she has found homemaking to be a full-time job.

$5,000 AT THE MOST

"My highest earnings for a year amounted to just over $5,000 (and that year I worked a lot of overtime and have never made that much since) and yet our two children are well dressed and see the dentist and doctor regularly.

"Our furniture is good, our car is paid for, we have money in the bank and my wife buys a new hat whenever she wants to.

"More important, we have a real home and neither of us envies the two-income families who seem to keep making more and more down payments on more and more things.

"Our hearts go out to the children whose mothers work to give them more things that money can buy but don't give them the security of a home with a mother in it.

"I say a wife should figure out how to manage on her husband's income and that if she does that she is doing far more than by taking a job to help him 'earn a living.'"

How about it, men? How many of you feel the way this husband does?

'Space Men' Are Elite of Science Pioneers

(They don't carry ray guns or wear weird metal helmets, but there are "space men" hard at work today in the U.S. This article tells you about the men of "Project Vanguard," building and preparing to launch the first man-made earth satellite.)

By EDWIN DIAMOND

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS) —The men on this earth satellite project, 32-year-old Elliot Felt Jr. said by way of summing up, "have their heads in the stars and their feet on the ground."

Right now the Vanguard men are building things never fabricated before to withstand forces never encountered before. And they are doing this under a tight schedule with the scientific prestige of the United States at stake.

But star-gazing and the lure of working on the frontier of the unknown and unexplored have infected the satellite people with enthusiasm and excitement.

JUST LIKE US

In many ways they are just like you and me: They live in suburban ramblers, raise kids, watch the fights on TV, try to save a few dollars and admire sports cars in the show windows.

Mostly they are in their thirties and early forties, young in comparison with men in positions of similar responsibilities in other occupations.

But their work has set them apart, even from engineers and other scientists. The world of rockets and space flight has required new techniques, new knowledge.

It means working in isolation at remote and heavily guarded bases. In the "early" rocket days a generation ago, the idea of interplanetary flight, inevitably entwined in rocket research, was considered crackpot thinking.

Felt, a Philadelphian who is operations manager for the Glenn L. Martin Company's part in Vanguard, recalls the ribbing he and others took when they were working on the Martin-U.S. Navy Viking rocket in the late 1940. Said Felt:

"The men on other, 'more practical' projects used to say 'here comes the space men,' or 'hey, Buck Rogers, blast off.'"

Viking was the first big upper-air research rocket and still holds the announced single rocket altitude record of 158 miles.

In the "early days," Viking launchings at White Sands Proving Grounds near Alamogordo, N. M., were frustrating affairs. Motor blow-ups, steering failures, slipping gyros, frozen valves assailed the rocket men and molded them into a tight little group.

PRESTIGE IN ROCKETS TODAY

Today that's all changed. Viking's eventual vindication and the great prestige attached to Vanguard have made research rocket people the honored elite instead of a conspiratorial group of off-beat technicians.

Who are some of these men attempting to boost man into outer space?

There is Dr. John P. Hagen, a soft-speaking, pipe-smoking astronomer who once taught physics at Wesleyan University in Massachusetts.

He has been studying the stars and worlds beyond since his undergraduate days at Boston University. Dr. Hagen, with over-all responsibility for Vanguard at Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D.C., says he will be most happy if his men succeed in getting just one satellite sphere in "long playing" orbit.

Technical director for Vanguard is Philadelphia-born Milton N. Rosen, the engineer who nursed Viking from drawing board to upper-air triumphs.

Rosen was chairman of the American Rocket Society's Space Flight Committee when, in 1954, it helped get the earth satellite project to the U.S. government's attention.

He is a thin, intense-looking person, and colleagues fear he has been driving himself too hard.

TOLD VIKING STORY

A top rocket technician, he wrote "The Viking Rocket Story," a popular account of this pioneering vehicle set forth in sparse, dramatic prose.

In charge of the actual nuts-and-bolts operations is 39-year-old J. Paul Walsh, a mechanical engineer who grew up in Providence, R.I. He can claim experience with the atom-sub Nautilus and with the Atomic Energy Commission in the Pacific bomb tests.

Slim, crew-cut, ivy league in dress, Walsh will be in charge of all the groups of men clustered around the instrument consoles. When he feels assured about Vanguard, the firing button will be pressed. No sooner.

At the first test launching of Vanguard on the Pearl Harbor anniversary date last Dec. 7, Walsh sat cool and collected in the swirl of tension, excitement and raw nerves. Several "holds" in the count-down delayed firing more than five hours before the test rocket pierced the sky at 1:03 a.m.

It was the first rocket firing Walsh had ever witnessed, and he was in charge of it.

Ike Proposes States Share Drought Aid Costs

Would Expand Federal Relief

Bill to Ask Local Units to Pay at Least 25 Pct. Disaster Expense

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed today that state and local governments pay more of the cost of programs for relief of drought and other farm disasters.

In a special message to Congress on agricultural disasters, Eisenhower urged prompt congressional consideration of proposals for cost - sharing and for some expansion and other changes in present programs. Details were suggested by Secretary of Agriculture Benson in an accompanying letter.

Benson said the administration will offer a bill which would require affected states to pay at least 25 per cent of the cost of such programs in their states.

A spokesman said states have been contributing less than one per cent.

Neither the President nor other officials gave an estimate of the total cost of disaster programs for the coming year.

STATES CONCLUSIONS

Eisenhower said the federal government should insure effective measures in helping to alleviate emergency conditions, but added he had drawn two general conclusions from his study of the problem:

"The first is that administration of emergency disaster programs must be kept close to the local people.

"The second is that state and local governments should assume a greater part in alleviating human distress and hardship and other local needs in times of disaster, calling on the federal government only to supplement their own resources."

TO CONTINUE AID

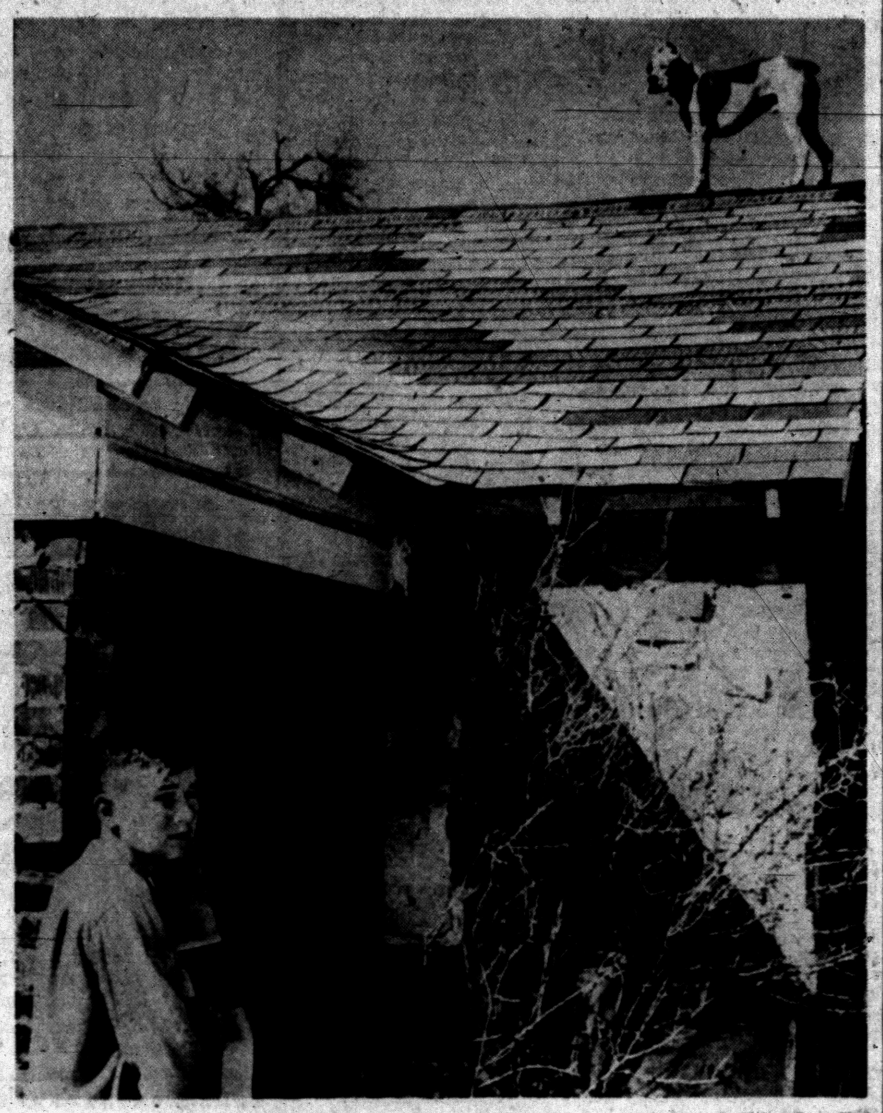

To meet needs arising from the present drought disaster in the Great Plains, Eisenhower said present "extensive" emergency programs will be continued "with appropriate" modifications from time to time.

These programs include the offer of surplus feed grains at reduced prices, federal contributions toward the cost of shipping hay into shortage areas, contributions of surplus food to distressed farmers and the extension of emergency credit.

In his letter, Benson said Congress will be asked to authorize funds for a deferred livestock grazing program in drought areas.

Foresees Policy of Ghana as National, Not Neutral

ACCRA, Gold Coast (AP) — Vice President Nixon predicts the new nation of Ghana "will be national but not neutral" after it achieves independence from Britain tomorrow.

After a private meeting with Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah, Nixon said the U. S.-educated Gold Coast leader told him: "We can never be neutral."

Nixon told a news conference Ghana, a British Commonwealth nation formed from the Gold Coast and Togoland, will "force policies which under no circumstances will accept foreign domination from any quarter."

He added that the plan was "for what we might term the democratic way of life.

"Speaking for myself," Nixon said, "I believe this is very significant because this could indicate the trend which will be followed in other African countries as they acquire their independence."

The area making up the new nation has been administered by Britain under a U.N. trusteeship. It will become independent within the British Commonwealth.

Nixon's private meeting with Nkrumah was the Prime Minister's first with any of the representatives of the 70 nations gathering here for the celebrations marking the birth of Ghana.

The vice president said he offered Ghana U.S. technical aid but made no promise for large American financial assistance to help build a giant hydroelectric plant on the Volta River. The plant is the major development goal of the new government. Nixon said the project will be developed by British and Canadian interests and possibly the World Bank.

He added that Nkrumah expressed great interest in diversifying agriculture and in establishing local industries to guard against any economic threats to the nation's independence.

Nixon, who has been throwing off a three-day flu attack, turned out for a big "ceremony of national welcome" in Accra's municipal sports stadium.

The vice president said the Soviet official told him Russia was having a "banner farm crop" this year and gave part of the credit to the visit a Soviet farm delegation made to U.S. farming areas last year.

Up Miner Wage and Coal Prices

Some 5 Million Others Will Get Pay Increases Boosting Cost of Living

NEW YORK (AP)—On April 1 the soft coal mines will start paying miners 80 cents more a day. At the same time the mines in the South will raise the price of coal 25 cents a ton and those in the North may take like action.

The cost of living—as measured by the government's consumer price index—has just risen to another new record high. Automatically about 1½ million workers got a raise in hourly wage scales.

The sweet and the sour are closely blended in these two news items. A fatter pay envelope is a thing of joy. Higher monthly bills aren't.

There's nothing unique about these two news items either. The Labor Department reports that existing labor contracts call for five million workers to get pay increases this year. Other contracts are up for negotiation this year.

President Eisenhower has urged that both management and labor use voluntary restraint in the matter of seeking higher wages and raising prices. His plea set off again a debate as to what causes the rise in the cost of living. Is it the steady climb in wage scales, as management contends? Or is it a drive to fatten corporate profits, as labor claims?

Mystery Noise Reveals Pleasant Surprise to Man

Investigating, he found a $25 defense bond lodged against the radiator. It was dated June 18, 1954, and made out to Arthur T. Sullivan of Fenton, Mich.

Informed of the discovery, Sullivan said, "But I haven't lost any bonds. I haven't even bought any for two years."

Then Sullivan recalled that he had signed for a bond-a-month program when he was foreman at a plant in Holly, Mich.

"The plant closed down in 1954," he said. "When I left, I didn't think I had another bond coming. But it must have been left in their files and forgotten until somebody else moved into the place. Apparently it was thrown out with all the papers and trash."

But how did the bond get into Gohl's truck?

Educational TV Boon —or a Boondoggle?

CHICAGO (AP) — Educational television: Boon or boondoggle? Boon, a Chicago educational man said yesterday.

Boondoggle, said a Michigan educator—and "a real and present menace to the freedom of the teacher and the learner."

John W. Taylor, executive director of Chicago's Educational Television Assn., and Prof. Earl C. Kelley of Wayne State University, Detroit, discussed TV in a sectional meeting of the 12th national conference on higher education.

"The machine has almost 'got' us already," Kelly said. "The television screen can become the final triumph of machine over man."

Kelly said science has demonstrated that "each individual is unique, and must and will learn what has meaning for him."

"The herding of 100 to 500 unique individuals into a hall to listen to a lecture is hardly in keeping with what is now known about learning," Kelley said.

EASY DOES IT — Giving his all for science, Patrick Lay of England gets a shave from a pair of mechanical hands. The unusual barbering technique was designed to show the precision tasks which can be performed by the new machine, called the "Master Slave Manipulator." Designed for long-range research with radioactive substances, the manipulator can duplicate all the movements of the human hand, enabling experimenters to conduct radiation research without exposure to deadly rays.

To Unfreeze U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials are making plans to unfreeze U. S. aid to the embattled Middle East area this month in a further effort to restore tranquility there.

All aid programs in the immediate area were necessarily suspended last fall when the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt forced the recall of 199 foreign aid officials, together with their families, to avoid injury.

That left nobody in the area to administer the aid programs under way in Israel, Egypt and Lebanon.

Officials said today orders to return to their posts will go out to these 199 experts sometime this month — presumably as soon as Israeli troops complete withdrawal from Gaza and Sharm el Sheikh, and the last sunken ship is cleared from the channel of the Suez Canal.

Congress has appropriated 750 million dollars for military and economic aid in the Middle East during the fiscal year ending next June 30. President Eisenhower has an additional 100 million dollars to use as he sees fit.

Awaiting congressional approval is Eisenhower's request for a freer hand in spending 200 millions of available funds in the area.

American officials expect the Israeli withdrawal to be swift. Likewise, they look for clearing of the Suez Canal by mid-March.

Guard Border of North Ireland

Leaders of All Parties Denounce Violence as Eire Elects Dail

DUBLIN (AP) — Armed guards patrolled the Irish Republic's northern border today as the Irish voted in a national election enlivened by a bid from Sinn Fein supporters of terrorism.

Despite the flurry caused by Sinn Fein's entry into the lists, the campaign to choose the new 147-member Dail (Parliament) was the quietest since Ireland's 26 Southern counties won their independence 35 years ago.

Sinn Fein, political arm of the outlawed Irish Republic Army advocated violence to end the partition of the six Northern Irish counties which Britain still holds. The extremists appeared to be getting little support, and leaders of all major parties denounced any such resort of violence.

American-born Eamon De Valera, whose Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) is trying to win a majority and return the former Premier to office, declared the partition problem would not be solved by violence.

John A. Costello, 65-year-old lawyer who served as premier the past three years and is running on the Fine Gael (United Ireland) ticket, predicted the extremists would be repudiated.

De Valera, 74, and nearly blind, was given a good chance of regaining the post he held for 18 years. He wound up his campaign at a traditional election eve rally on Trinity College green in Dublin.

The election was forced by the resignation of Costello's coalition government after the rise of an economic crisis.

Although out in front, there was some doubt whether De Valera could gain the over-all majority he wants in Parliament. He has spurned the idea of taking part in a coalition.

Result of the election may not be known for several days because of the complicated system of counting.

5th Annual Safety Forum Opens

Pilots to Debate Air Traffic Control

CHICAGO (INS) — The Airline Pilots Assn. opens its fifth annual safety forum today with the growing problem of air traffic control high on the agenda.

The three-day meeting in Chicago will be attended by 200 pilots and airline representatives as well as industry and government safety experts.

Clarence N. Sayen, 36, president of the 1,200-member ALPA, explained the function of the forum this way:

"It's sort of a sounding board at which we can exchange information about air transportation from the viewpoint of the manufacturers, government bodies, the airlines and the pilots."

GUY UP FRONT

Sayen said ALPA inaugurated the forum because "we figured if we take care of the guy up front, the rest of the ship will take care of itself."

One of the six papers given on air traffic control will be by James Anast, systems planning advisor of the Curtis committee.

The committee, headed by Edward P. Curtis, was appointed by President Eisenhower following last July's collision of two airliners over the Grand Canyon in which 128 persons died.

According to Sayen, the Curtis report is expected to recommend a completely new control set-up. It will incorporate wider use of radar, faster ground to air communications, better airport lighting, and a new computer and display technique to replace the slow and cumbersome method of manual flight strip posting.

The safety forum is also vitally interested in pilot training requirements for the new jet airliners.

These luxury crafts will fly about 550 miles per hour at altitudes of 23,000 feet.

Although the jets will fly much higher than today's airliners, Sayen said the air traffic problem will not be alleviated. He explained:

"These jets have to fly high in order to gain maximum efficiency and all the airlines will be clamoring to use the best possible flying altitude.

Woman, 72, Asks Road Fixed; Bike Ride Too Bumpy

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A 72-year-old woman wants the holes in her street repaired so it will be easier to ride her bike to the grocery store.

Perky Mrs. Blanche Glass, making the request to Emmet Township officials, said it's hard enough what with three hills in the mile-long stretch.

But those potholes and ruts, she says, now make the ride bumpety, bumpety, bump."

"I used to breeze up those hills," she says ruefully. But sometimes I have to get off and walk the bike up. I get a little short of breath."

Mrs. Glass, one of 14 children, grew up on a Nebraska ranch and has used a bicycle for transportation ever since she learned how to ride.

She recently bought a new one and uses it for shopping and taking her nieces and nephews for rides. Last winter she even pedaled the eight miles into downtown Battle Creek.

Leaders to Discuss Seaway Tolls, Locks

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. and Canadian officials meet this week to talk more about tolls to be charged ships that will use the St. Lawrence Seaway, scheduled for completion early in 1959.

The meeting will be held here Thursday and Friday. In addition to tolls, the conferees will discuss the size of ships that will use locks on the 27-foot-deep international waterway, and coordination of work on two pending seaway projects.

Host for the two-day discussion is Administrator Lewis G. Castle of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., the agency created by Congress to construct and administer the U.S. portion of the project.

Castle's counterpart, Lionel Chevrier, President of the Canadian St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, will head the nine-member Canadian delegation to the conference.

The two pending projects up for discussion are the highway bridge over the river's south channel in the international rapids section, and dredging of the north and south channels.

Little Light on the Subject: Not Checking 'Blindness'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The city's new light meter, used to determine if there is enough visibility in bars, is getting some unexpected results.

Detective Charles J. Carreno reported that when he and his partner took the meter into a bar three customers rushed out after one said to the others:

Farm Surplus Plan Dangerous

Bruce Calls Program Double-Edged Sword; Stirs Senate Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—David K. E. Bruce, ambassador-designate to West Germany, says the program for sale of surplus U.S. farm commodities to foreign countries is "potentially dangerous" to normal trade and should be re-examined.

In a report published today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Bruce called the disposal program "a double-edged weapon" of foreign aid. The report, on foreign aid operations in South America, is one of a series ordered by the committee.

President Eisenhower's appointment of Bruce, a Democrat, already has drawn some Republican protests.

His comments on the surplus disposal program may add to the controversy over his selection. Sen. Aiken, (R-Vt), a member of both the Foreign Relations and Agriculture committees, has labeled the report as "weak."

Aiken said in an interview that while Bruce made no specific recommendations for abandoning the agricultural surplus disposal program "his report reads like he wants to kill it."

"I'm one who thinks this program is worth all it costs us and is less expensive than piling up unmanageable farm surpluses at home," Aiken declared.

Under the program, the United States sells farm surpluses for local currencies and then loans or gives the major part of these receipts to the local governments for economic or military projects.

Bruce said in his report that while the program has many benefits for both this country and the purchasing country, it also could be dangerous to normal patterns of trade, and to the ability of participating countries to discharge other indebtedness.

Agriculture Council to Plan Program

The Oakland County Agriculture Advisory Council will meet Wednesday to plan the county's agricultural program for the next several years.

Council president Eldon Green, of West Bloomfield Township, will conduct the session which will discuss plans with Leonard Kyle, extension specialist from Michigan State University, and R. C. Lott, district extension supervisor.

The advisory council is made up of representatives of commodity and special farmer interest groups in the county.

Schedule 2 Meetings for County Farmers

The first two of four scheduled meetings of Oakland County farmers has been scheduled by the Agricultural Extension Service to discuss "What's New in Agriculture."

On Monday, March 11, Oxford area farmers meet at 8 p.m. at the Oxford Elevator, and on March 13, South Lyon farmers will meet at the South Lyon Elementary School.

On hand will be county agricultural agents, Lyle Abel, Jay Poffenberger and Wayne Seiffert, to discuss: the agricultural outlook for 1957, use of lime fertilizers, new crop varieties, growing of the smaller fruits, new tillage methods and soil bank information.

Priest Found Dead in Orion Rest Home

A Miami priest, who had been residing at 1840 Scripps Rd., Orion Township, a rest home for members of the Catholic clergy, was found dead in his room Saturday night.

Father Francis Finnegan, 54, was last seen in the basement of the home at 3 p.m. He was later found hanging in a closet.

The priest had been "very despondent," a spokesman said.

Willman Is Named to Advisory Group

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman has accepted a position on the Advisory Committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Oakland County Congressman William S. Broomfield recomended Willman to the committee.

It studies flood control, navigation, irrigation and the conservation of water and soil resources in the country.

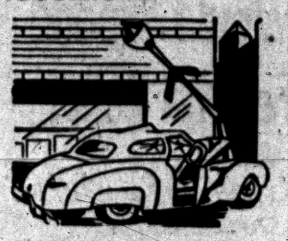

Willman said he hoped his appointment on the committee would aid the city in its studies of urgently-needed drainage changes in Pontiac.

LAKELAND—From the front office right down to "Mr. Fan" optimism for the Detroit Tigers' chances in 1957 is at its highest peak since the 1950 season when the Bengals finished in 2nd place under manager Red Rolfe.

The new owners, led by Fred Knorr and John Fetzer, are determined to give the club everything it needs to make it a pennant contender.

Spike Briggs is sure the few new faces which came to the team via trades are just what the club needed to strengthen the bench.

Manager Jack Tighe is bursting with optimism and faith in his crew. He set down his laws for training and discipline and asked only an honest day's work from every player.

He also made it clear that there will be woe in store for anyone who violates his trust.

The players are in a far different frame of mind than has been seen here at Henley Field in several seasons.

Individualism seems to have disappeared. They are helping each other, and they are also putting forth a little more. Little things, like straggling onto the field and sneaking out early, are taboo. The players themselves see to it.

"The spirit is far different from what it was last year," said Tiger publicist Neal Fenkell.

The lackadasical attitude carried into the early part of last season and the Tigers were hurt by the slow start. The team finally started to jell after the all-star game when the Bengals surged to a .600 average with 48 victories and 32 defeats including 20 wins in 27 September games.

Now the players are eager to start where they left off, on a winning ledger. Billy Hoeft, Frank Lary and Paul Foytack give the Tigers a strong sequence of starting pitchers.

Jim Bunning who won five of six as a reliefer after coming up in August is figured highly in this year's plans. Duke Maas is expected to finally make the grade, and with Jack Crimian aboard, along with Al Aber and Steve Gromek, the mound corps is at its best strength probably since the era of Bridges, Rowe and Trout.

Even Tiger fans are looking for better things. Director of ticket sales Bill Loll reports a rise of 27 per cent in orders received for home games.

Lakeland is surrounded by this air of enthusiasm. It should move northward into Michigan before long.

'Coach of Year' Honor Accorded Iowa's 'Evvy'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Forest Evashevski of University of Iowa was named football coach of the year at the 26th Knute Rockne testimonial dinner last night.

Gov. Hershel C. Loveless of Iowa presented the award.

Awards were made to about 40 persons, including Lyman L. Frimodig, Michigan State University athletics business manager, who received the "Christy Walsh Sportsman Award."

Rain Hits Tigers; Coan Quits Game

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — Rain washed out all activity at Henley Field yesterday giving Jack Tighe time to plan the first real intra-squad game involving all of the Tiger regulars for Wednesday afternoon.

To date only Ray Boone, trying out his position at first base, and several of the pitchers were the only first stringers who have been in actual game drills against the rookies.

"Wednesday we will split our regular squad to get ready for the Red Sox game at Sarasota Saturday," said Tighe, "and we will use some of the more promising rookies where we need them."

Right now the lineup of the first string regulars looks like Jim Finigan at third, Harvey Kuenn at short, Frank Bolling at second and Boone at first. Al Kaline, Charley Maxwell, and Bill Tuttle are expected to hold down their regular outfield positions.

Much of the conversation centered on rookie third baseman George Risley, whose fielding and hitting in intra-squad games to date has pleased the Tiger staff.

In the first intra-squad game last weekend Reno Bertoia started at the hot corner, but after Risley's showing behind Bertoia, the husky 24-year-old native of Fairfield, Connecticut was given the starting nod the next day.

Risley nicknamed "Baba", was signed out of Holy Cross and sent to Jamestown in 1952. Last year at Sacramento he hit .289 and had 31 doubles and eight homers.

Even though Finigan is expected to start against the Red Sox Saturday, Tighe said "Risley will see plenty of action, he looks pretty good out there."

Finigan, the infielder obtained by the Tigers in their winter trade with the Kansas City Athletics, was thrown into trade talk yesterday by Manager Jack Tighe.

"We're certainly not going around offering him for trade," Tighe said of Finigan, "but if we could get a good pitcher or some outfield help, I wouldn't be opposed to trading him."

Another player whom Tighe is satisfied in keeping with the absence of Gil Coan, is Mel Clark, 30-year-old outfielder who hit .310 with Louisville last year.

Coan was asked to report early to drills at Tigertown. "We went as far as we are going with Coan," said general manager Spike Briggs.

Coan was drafted by Briggs to help the outfield. But Tighe is unconcerned. "Clark will do just as good a job as Coan," Tighe said.

In respect to the thumping pitcher Paul Foytack took from the rookies Sunday when two homers, a double and two singles were given up in three innings, Tighe said," Paul wasn't throwing too hard, I told him to take it easy and think more about his control." He did not walk a man in three innings."

Coan Decides to Quit Game

LAKELAND — The Tigers learned today that Gil Coan had decided to quit baseball and devote his time to his insurance business in Brevard, N. C.

By his decision Detroit has to face a $10,000 loss which was paid to Minneapolis for Coan. The 33-year-old outfielder was reported asking $15,000, but Tigers were willing to pay only $12,000.

It was also learned today that a team captain would be named on Saturday. Presumably it will be Harvey Kuehnn. This will be the first time the team has had a captain since the departure of George Kell.

NBC Approves 9 Grid Dates for '57 Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Company will provide nationwide telecasts for nine dates on the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. football schedule during the 1957 season. NBC was awarded the rights yesterday in a joint announcement by Robert Sarnoff, president of NBC, and Robert J. Kane, chairman of the NCAA TV Committee.

The plan calls for eight Saturday games to be televised nationally. The ninth date will be Thanksgiving Day, when three games from different parts of the country will be shown on a split network basis.

For the past two seasons NBC also carried the national "Game of the Week" series. The 1957 plan is basically the same.

Players Behave Better

MONTREAL (AP) — National Hockey League players appear to be better behaved this season.

The league reported today that with the exception of the Boston Bruins, all teams show a decrease in penalty-box time. Aggregate decrease for all clubs was 682 minutes. The Bruins had increased their penalty time by only four minutes as of Feb. 26.

Dodgers' Ace Hurts Arm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The entire Brooklyn Dodgers camp at Vero Beach, Fla., was holding its collective breath today wondering just how badly ace pitcher Don Newcombe had injured his arm.

The towering 27-game winner twisted his elbow making a hurried throw to second base during pickoff practice yesterday. Ten minutes later he abruptly left the mound because, he said, the arm was bothering him.

"He will have to rest and take heat treatments," said Harold (Doc) Wendler, Brooklyn trainer. "There's no way of telling how long he will be out. We'll have to wait and see how much it tightens up. It could mean trouble though."

Newcombe, named the Most Valuable Player of the National League last year, said he wasn't worried.

"I felt a twinge and quit," he commented. "Certainly it's nothing like it was last September."

He was referring to an injury at the end of the '56 season. He subsequently was knocked out of the box in two starts against the New York Yankees in the World Series.

Casey Picks Lineups for Intra-Squad Tilt

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The old shuffler — Manager Casey Stengel of the world champion Yankees — has set his lineup for the Yanks first intra-squad game tomorrow.

Searching for a power packed batting order, Stengel will play Bill Skowron at third base, and two Denver stars, Marve Throneberry at first and Woody Held in left field. Skowron is a first baseman, Held an infielder. Throneberry will play his normal position.

Sooner Matman Compiles Great Winning Record

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's national champion football team has an amazing record of 40 straight victories, but there is an even more spectacular athletic accomplishment at the university that few know about.

It is being compiled by Olympian Danny Hodge, the Sooners' tremendous 177-pound senior wrestler, who hasn't lost a bout in seven years of American style grappling.

That period covers wrestling four years at the Perry, Okla., High School and three years on the varsity at Oklahoma. His college record is 38 straight going into the Big Seven Conference tourney here this weekend.

This year the lightning - fast Hodge has attained his peak, winning all eight of his matches by falls to run his string of pins to 16 consecutive against collegiate opponents. And he doesn't waste any time, polishing off his last six opponents in just nine minutes and 19 seconds.

'Put It in Writing' Stevens Tells Moore

DETROIT (AP)—Archie Moore was told yesterday by the National Boxing Association to sign for a June defense of his light heavyweight crown by March 18 or prepare to abdicate.

NBA president Floyd Stevens said he wired Moore and his manager, Charlie Johnston, to sign to fight the winner of the Chuck Spieser-Tony Anthony bout in Detroit April 5.

Moore, idle since losing to Floyd Patterson in a heavyweight title bout last November, last defended his light heavyweight championship last June with a knockout victory over Yolande Pompey in London.

Moore has agreed verbally to defend his championship in Detroit June 7.

Hoosier Star Wins Big 10 Point Race

CHICAGO (AP) — Indiana's Archie Dees won the Big Ten all-games basketball scoring title in a breeze, outdistancing his nearest opponent by more than 100 points.

Kentucky Engineer Leads Pin Classic

CHICAGO (AP)—James Spaulding, 38-year-old civil engineer from Louisville, Ky. has taken the lead in the $202,752 Peterson Bowling Classic.

He rolled out in front Sunday with a total of 1,597 in an eight game series.

Young Pitcher Impressive

Proctor May Be First Negro to Join Tigers

By DAVE DILES

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The fact that the Detroit Tigers never have had a Negro player on the major league roster often has been a touchy, but never a controversial subject.

Baseball being indefinite by nature, no one can say just when a member of the Negro race will play for the Tigers in Briggs statium. But as it stands now, a slender righthanded pitcher by the name of Jim Proctor from Brandywine, Maryland, stands a good chance of being the first member of his race to do it.

Proctor is working out at Tigertown, and it's not sufficient to say that he has been "noticed" by manager Jack Tighe and his staff of 13 assistants. To say that he has been watched closely would be closer to the truth.

They put the 21-year-old pitcher to work a few days ago in an intra-squad game, and he had all the poise of a tried and tested major league veteran. He faced only seven men in two innings and didn't allow a base hit, getting credit for the victory in the process.

Jim's a quiet, likeable lad who is much more concerned about the 1957 season than he is about the 1958 season, and whether that year, or the following year, will find him in Detroit.

LA Delegation Seeks O'Malley

Mayor of Coast City Hopes Brooklyn Will Move West

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor Norris Poulson and an official delegation are off to see O'Malley, the Poobah of Brooklyn-ville, who has hopes of bringing his Dodgers to Angeltown, some day.

The mayor and five others leave by plane this morning for Miami. The word from the Dodgers' training camp is that Walter O'Malley is sending Brooklyn's private plane to pick up the Los Angeles group in Miami tomorrow morning and fly them to Vero Beach.

O'Malley has carefully avoided any commitment, or even speculation, as to whether the Dodgers will move to Los Angeles, now that Brooklyn owns the Los Angeles franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

Bell Says NFL Players' Contracts Tops in Sport

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Professional football players in the National Football League have the best contracts in sports history says Commissioner Bert Bell.

Bell called a press conference here yesterday to answer congressional critics of the pro game, especially Rep. William E. Miller, New York Republican.

Miller had criticized the player draft and reserve clause which binds a player to a team, charged the owners with boycotting players, suggested a guaranteed annual salary and an injury protection clause, urged recognition of the Players' Assn., defended the rights of players to training camp expenses and exhibition pay, and urged league expansion.

"Without the reserve clause and selection system the rich clubs would get richer and the others would go out of business." The clause binds a player to a one year contract with a one year option after which he can bargain for himself with any club.

Bell said he never knew of any player boycotted for exercising these rights.

The draft "has equalized our teams to such an extent that if a team has won only one or two games, the fans know that on a given day it still may beat any team in the league.'

The player draft, he added, has "made for great competition and lucrative radio and television deals and as a result player salaries have gone up three times what they were in 1950."

Miss Romack Highly Rated

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Barbara Romack, who won her third victory in the South Atlantic Golf Tournament last month, was among favorites in a field of 800 teeing off here today in the 29th annual Florida East Coast Tourney.

Miss Romack, U. S. women's amateur champion in 1955 and winner at Palm Beach earlier this year, has never won the East Coast play.

Grace De Moss of Corvallis, Ore., a two-time winner here, will be seeking her third victory and permanent possession of the Mrs. William R. Kenan Jr. Cup.

The 32 low scorers from today's qualifying round will make up the championship flight and match play will begin tomorrow. The final will be Saturday.

Tony Views Tennis Scene

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Trabert took a wide-screen view of the tennis picture from his new position as a printing executive today and came up with the following conclusions:

1. Open tennis is no more than five years away, to be speeded by the saging state of the American sport.

2. There is a tennis reawakening in Europe which may see England, Italy, France and others breaking the U.S.-Australian monopoly on the Davis Cup.

3. Professional Pancho Gonzales at 28, is at the height of his career. There's nobody in sight, not even Lew Hoad, likely to knock him off for three or four years.

4. Lew Hoad may be finished as a competitive player — "when you start fooling with a man's backbone, it's dangerous."

"I think the open tennis tournament is inevitable," Trabert, former Wimbledon and U. S. Amateur champion and recent victim of Gonzales on the pro tour, said. "It has to come because our amateur tennis situation is so bad.

"We'll need an open tournament with the 'name' players, to perk up national interest."

Banks May Play 3rd, 1st

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — When Manager Bob Scheffing said none of the Chicago Cubs was sure of his job, he meant it, even to nudging one of the best shortstops in the majors, Ernie Banks, to a new position.

Scheffing said today that Banks, who holds the big league home run record for shortstops at 44, may wind up at first or third base if ex-collegian Gerry Kindall can make the grade at short.

"I feel that if a man can play shortstop well, he can play any place in the infield," Scheffing said of Banks, whose .297 batting average led the Cubs last season for the second straight year.

This puts three men on the spot. Kindall, a 6 foot, 2½-inch star of the University of Minnesota's NCAA champions, has to prove he can hit major league pitching as well as he did college hurling by leading the Big Ten last spring with a .440 mark.

Baltimore Signs Two

BALTIMORE (AP)— The Baltimore Orioles Monday announced the signing of two young players to contracts with teams in the club's minor league system.

Has New Pitch

Branca Begins Comeback

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—At 31, Ralph Branca has a new pitch and the same old faith in himself as a major leaguer.

The big, solid-featured righthander — remembered more, perhaps, for that one shattering pitch to Bobby Thomson in the 1951 pennant playoff than for any of the thousands of successful pitches he threw for the Brooklyn Dodgers — is trying for a comeback with the National League champions, who insist pitching isn't one of their worries.

"I know everyone says it'll be tough to break into this pitching staff," admitted Branca, the sweat dripping from his nose and chin as he sat in the sun after 15 minutes of running. "But I think I can make this club. I'm still a major league pitcher.

"I've still got my legs. And I've got my fast ball. I can throw as hard as I did in '51, although not as consistently yet. I haven't done much pitching since I was released by Minneapolis in July 1955. But my arm will get stronger.

"I'm working on a screwball. Maybe it's that pitch that gave me a chance down here," he said.

Dukes May Get Another Bid for NAIB Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Duquesne, a National Invitation Basketball Tournament fixture for the past five seasons, may get another bid this year.

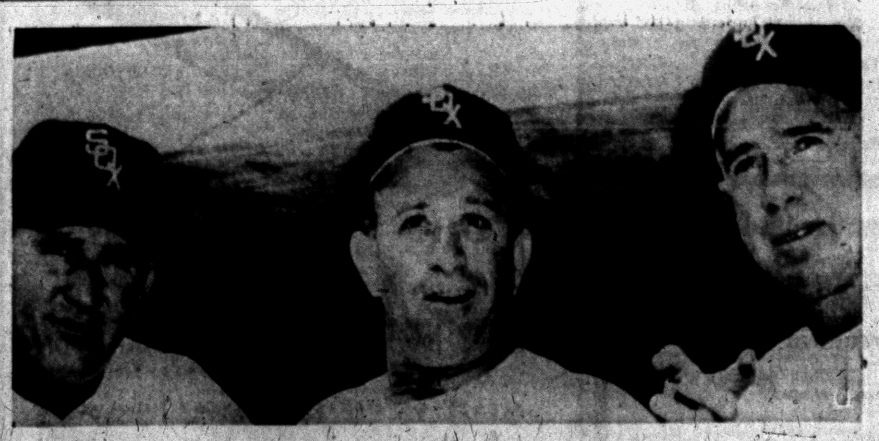

Three berths remain to be filled and the Iron Dukes made a strong pitch for one with an impressive 68-54 victory over Temple in Pittsburgh last night. They avenged a previous 64-60 setback.

The victory gave the Dukes a 16-7 record while Temple, still hopeful of either an NCAA or NIT bid, finished with 17-7.

Pittsburgh yesterday became the 16th team picked for the 23-entry NCAA major tourney. The Panthers were chosen as an Eastern "at large" selection.

Most of last night's collegiate action involved the Big Ten. Michigan snapped Michigan State's 10-game winning streak with an 81-72 triumph that forced the Spartans to settle for a first-place tie in the Big Ten race.

Indiana gained a share of the title, whipping Illinois 84-76. Ohio State could have made it a three-way tie by defeating Minnesota, but the Buckeyes bowed 76-69 to finish in a third-place tie with the Grophers.

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW . . .

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

The Milwaukee Braves lost the National League pennant by one game last season. Had they reversed even one of their 62 defeats they would have finished in a tie with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

SAUL ROGOVIN

(Key: (R) righthanded; (L) lefthanded.)

Lew Burdette (R) is pitching for Milwaukee in the last of the sixth as the Braves and Phillies are deadlocked 2-2 at Philadelphia. There is one out when Elmer Valo walks and takes second on a single by Willie Jones. Granny Hamner grounds out, the runners advancing one base each. Solly Hemus is intentionally walked, filling the bases. Starting pitcher Saul Rogovin (R) is the next scheduled batter with Richie Ashburn (L) on deck. Rogovin had one hit in 23 times at bat going into this game.

Would you:

a. Put in a lefthanded pinch-hitter for Rogovin?
b. Order a squeeze bunt with Rogovin at bat?
c. Let Rogovin swing away?

Result C — Rogovin bats and singles to center, scoring Valo and Jones. The Phils pick up another run in this inning and win 5-2 (July 27).

Cash Awards for Bowlerama

By CHUCK ABAIR

Outstanding men and women bowlers of the Pontiac area and all of Oakland County will be determined April 6-7 and 13 when The Pontiac Press Bowlerama is staged at four local alleys.

A host of fine cash awards and trophies are being arranged for the champions and top finishers in this singles tournament which is expected to eventually become a major event on the local sports calendar.

It comes right at time when the keg game is at its peak with leagues going full swing and many other tourneys recently completed or planned in the near future.

Several outstanding performances have been turned in thus far around the county with L. Redmond's 290 and a 288 by Dr. J. L. Bookie reported to be the highest single games rolled. Lou Koprince has had three 700 series. Ann Carlson tops the women with 255.

This Press Bowlerama will provide a stiff test for all entries in deciding the champions in both groups. It will mean participating at more than one establishment to win the championship, the more often proving stumbling blocks to persons used to their "own" alleys.

All qualifying will be completed on the 1st weekend with activity divided between Auburn Lanes, Land-O-Lakes and Dixie Recreation. Qualifiers will advance to the finals at the Huron Bowl on the 13th.

A handsome purse to match the city titles makes this event a must on every bowler's program for early April. The men's champion is guaranteed $400 and the female victor will take home $200. Runner-ups will get $200 and $100 respectively, with other prizes apportioned down the line to make it possible to present one prize for every 10 entries.

An overwhelming entry list would greatly increase the awards for both men and women with the entire prize fund charged in the entry fee to go towards awards along with contributions by The Press and the Bowling Proprietors Association of Greater Pontiac, which will play a major role in the operation of the tourney.

The Press will also present trophies to the champions and high qualifiers at each bowling house.

An entry blank for this big affair may be found elsewhere in today's sports section. It may be clipped out and mailed or delivered to tournament manager Les Rothbarth at the Press sports department. Blanks will also be available at any bowling arena in Oakland County. Deadline is midnight March 31.

Drott, with a 13-10 record, led the league in strikeouts, with 184, and in one game tied the Los Angeles club record with 15.

Royals Shock Jewelers in 'A' Playoffs

The Adult Class A City League basketball playoffs got off to a flying start last night at Pontiac High when the Lakeside Royals stunned Shaw's Jewelers for their 1st loss of the season.

Lakeside toppled the Jewelers in overtime, 73-71, to seize the spotlight in an evening which saw CIO Local 594 upend Walled Lake Super Market, 63-59, in another overtime game.

Field goals by Mel Tayor and Gene George and foul shots by John James and Chet Woodmore gave the CIO cagers their win over Walled Lake. The score was 56-56 after Woodmore had missed three times at the foul line in the closing seconds of regulation play.

Green Bay's Profits Drop Sharply in '56

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers reported today the National Football League club had a net profit of $48,049 before taxes for the 1956 season.

Vern Lewellen, general manager of the Packers, blamed the decline in profit on higher expenses and lower gate receipts from games away from Green Bay. He said total income last year was $680,936 and total expenses came to $632,887, or about three per cent higher than the previous year.

Mannisto Sets Pace for Northern's Win

MARQUETTE (AP) — Eight straight points by Bill Mannisto early in the second half put Northern Michigan out of danger last night and it went on to beat Bethel College of St. Paul, Minn., 81-73 in basketball.

Mannisto and Ed Peterson shared high point honors for Northern with 14 each. Les Borms had 18 for the losers.

Northern, which closes its season Saturday night in a game with Lakeland of Wisconsin, now has an 8-7 record.

Sports Exhibit Called Success

Figure 2,500-3,000 Pay Visit to Annual Show Ending Sunday

Annual Pontiac Sports Show came to a close at the Pontiac Retail Store Sunday with everyone connected with the event calling it "very successful." An estimated 2,500 to 3,000 persons visited the show during the four days.

Shooting exhibitions by State Police expert Lester Coykendall, a demonstration of casting by Ben Hardesty, a national casting champion, and an archery exhibition highlighted a big weekend which wound up the show in impressive fashion.

All types of outboard boats and canoes featured the outdoor display which gained the greatest attention from visitors. There was also equipment for camping, hunting, water skiing, and bow and arrow hunting, various types of motors, boat accessories, trailers for boats, games and novelties.

A litter of puppies loaned to the show by the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club and a unique stuffed animal display also came in for considerable viewing by young and old alike.

Ceccarelli Pulls Tendon, Sidelined for 2 Weeks

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Art Ceccarelli, Baltimore's 26-year-old lefthander with big league comeback hopes, will be out of action for at least two weeks.

Dr. J. L. Bookie, Pin Loop Prexy Hits 288 Total

Dr. J. L. Bookie of Pontiac turned in the 2nd best single game performance of the 1956-57 area bowling season recently when he rolled a 288 at the Dixie Recreation alleys. Lyle Redman still leads with a 290 posted in December.

Bookie hit the high mark after rolling a 169 in the St. Michael League. He did it with a spare and 10 straight strikes followed by a split on the last ball. The loop president then went back to normal with a 189 to give him an actual series of 646.

Aussie Team Wins 6-Day Bike Race

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A last-hour challenge by a pair of Germans failed to oust the Australian team of Johnny Tressider and Al Storm and the Aussies won the Louisville international six-day bike race last night.

The Australians outpointed Herbert Weinrich and Heinz Zoll of Germany 1,542 to 1,372.

The Germans repeated the same tactics they used to win the Cleveland race last month, but the Aussies refused to be passed.

Weill Is Still Hopeful

TORONTO (AP) — Al Weill, who managed former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano through most of his career, still has high hopes for his newest protege — despite a defeat in his first professional bout.

Young Dave Rent, former British Amateur champion who was brought across the Atlantic by Weill, lost a split decision to Emil Brtko of Pittsburgh in his first bout as a pro last night.

Rent, 20, forced the eight-round fight most of the way, and some observers thought he might have lost because the fifth round was taken away from him as a result of a low blow.

"We should have won it," said Weill. "But make no mistake. This kid Rent is good. Matter of fact, he did better than I expected. We'll fight Brtko again."

Brtko weighed 196 to 192½ for Rent.

Mickey Wright Wins 'Jax' Test

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—"The ball simply went where I hit it," explained Mickey Wright, winner of the $5,000 Jacksonville Women's Open Golf Tournament for the second straight year.

She was referring to a sensational eight under par 68 final round yesterday that not only erased a 5-stroke deficit but put her three strokes out front.

MSU Shares Title, Win NCAA Berth

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan State became part owner of the Big Ten basketball crown last night, but a hardy band of Michigan Wolverines seem to own the Spartans.

For the second time this season, the Wolverines devoured the Spartans. This time Michigan won 81-72 to add to a 70-69 conquest earlier in the season.

MSU had needed only one more victory to clinch the championship outright. But instead the Spartans wound up in a deadlock with Indiana, an 84-76 victor over Illinois last night.

Despite the defeat Michigan State will go to the NCAA tournament, having qualified when it trounced Indiana Saturday.

Spartans had won 10 conference games in a row in their climactic spurt from the basement to the top. After a dismal start in which they lost their first three games, they whipped every other Big Ten quintet — except Michigan.

They were a genuine Cinderella team, but last night Michigan tolled midnight for them and slipped away with the Spartans' glass slipper.

Before what is believed to be the largest and certainly the noisiest Yost Field House crowd in history — 9,800 boisterous spectators — the Wolverines settled the game in the first half.

They clicked on more than half their floor shots and rolled to a 52-34 lead at halftime. Led by their captain — Ron Kramer — the Wolverines collected their baskets in bunches to burst open a see-saw ball game in the last 11 minutes of the first half.

Spartans were handicapped when their best rebounder, spring-legged John Green, accumulated four goals in the first half and then spent much of the remaining time on the bench.

Michigan ended its season with an overall 13-9 record, the best during coach Bill Perigo's five-year tenure. Wolverines finished in a fifth-place conference tie with Purdue by compiling an 8-6 league mark.

State was 14-8 overall and 10-4 in the conference.

'March Madness' Is at Hand

By BILL CORNWELL

The annual "March madness" is upon us.

Starting tonight in a few scattered places and spreading like a prairie fire tomorrow, thousands of Michigan schoolboys will take to the hardwoods for the 1957 state basketball tournament.

Beginning with district action this week and swinging into regional play next week, the "insanity" will hit its peak at Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse on March 23 when the state finals are held.

When the smoke of battle has cleared and the cheering has faded away, only four high schools will survive. One prep quintet in each MHSAA class will receive the coveted trophy emblematic of state supremacy.

Oakland County is by no means immune to this "creeping hysteria." Schools throughout the county and surrounding area have their hopes for a state championship, too.

Very few, or possibly none, will make the grade. But you can't blame them for dreaming.

Two strong 'B' teams will likely clash headon in the district tourney at Troy. The Colts and Utica are destined for a showdown there. Holly will face a rough Grand Blanc squad on the latter's court while Lapeer goes to Lakeville. Orchard Lake St. Mary's capable team is the favorite at Bloomfield Hills.

The Class C field is not as strong. St. Michael and St. Frederick will probably not enjoy too long a life, although either one could get by the Pontiac district. Ortonville's chances for prosperity are also slim. Of all the area 'C' teams, unbeaten Imlay City may have the most luck.

Howe, Lindsay Still Fight for NHL Scoring Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — Detroit Red Wing teammates Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay continue to battle for the scoring lead in the National Hockey league.

Howe, highest scorer in NHL history in 1952-53, is slightly under a record-breaking pace with 79 points in 61 games, league figures released today disclosed.

Lindsay has scored 77 points, five shy of the record of 82 set for left wings by Herb Cain of the Boston Bruins in the 50-game 1943-44 season. Howe, a right winger, set the league mark with 95 points.

Montreal's Jean Beliveau, defending scoring champion, is third with 72 points as he battles time in a race to keep his title. The season ends March 24.

Gonzales Sets Pace in Pro Tennis Tour

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Pancho Gonzales and Ken Rosewall headed for Kansas City today with Gonzales boasting a 16-7 lead in their 100-match professional tennis tour.

Gonzales closed with a flourish yesterday to beat Rosewall 6-1, 2-6, 6-2 and complete their rain-interrupted match which started Monday.

Turner Stays in Welter Class

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil Turner, who came close to being washed up at the age of 26, decided today that from now on he's strictly a welterweight — the middleweights are too big and strong for him.

A veteran of 67 fights, many of them in the middleweight division, Turner stopped inexperienced Rudy Gwin of Cleveland last night in 2:19 of the fourth round of a scheduled 10 at St. Nicholas Arena.

"From now on I'm strictly a welterweight," said Turner, a Philadelphian who trimmed himself down to 150¾ pounds for his meeting with Gwin. "I felt good, better than I have in a long time."

Gwin, 146¼ who came up through the Golden Gloves and at one time was champion of the Navy, has had only a dozen professional fights. He was in far over his head against Turner.

Philgas Knocked Out of Running

Unbeaten Tar Heels Retain First

By BEN OLAN
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The North Carolina Tar Heels, who last Friday night ended an unbeaten 24-game regular basketball season, today maintained a commanding lead in the Associated Press' weekly poll, but Michigan State and Oklahoma City made the largest gains.

The Tar Heels collected 55 first-place votes and 711 points in the next-to-last poll of the campaign, participated in by 76 sports writers and sportscasters.

The Kansas Jayhawks remained in second place. They had eight first-place votes and a total of 605 points on the usual basis of 10 for first, 9 for second place, etc. The vote included games through Saturday, March 2.

The No. 3 through No. 5 positions also were unchanged with Kentucky, Southern Methodist and Seattle running in that order. Seattle, however, received five votes for first place to one each for the Wildcats and SMU.

Louisville, with victories last week over DePaul and Toledo, jumped from eighth place to sixth. UCLA, which lost twice, dropped a notch to seventh.

Michigan State, unranked a week ago, moved into eighth place on the strength of successes over Wisconsin and Indiana, which gave the Spartans the Big Ten conference lead.

Vanderbilt held the No. 9 position while Oklahoma City (17-8) moved up eight places to 10th. Bradley and Indiana dropped from the first 10.

Simmons Takes New Hope

Although the Phillies' lefthander is only 27, his career has hung by a thread since 1954. Only in the second half of the '56 season did he begin to get back in the groove.

Arm trouble began to plague Simmons late in 1954 and he couldn't throw a ball the next spring. When he was able to work during the regular season, he was ineffective and wound up with a poor 8-8 record.

"The day after I pitched I couldn't even lift my left arm," he recalled at the Phils' training camp. "I had to raise it up with my other arm."

Tree Doomed, Says Economist

Lumbermen Cut Ranks of Prosperous Aspen

ANN ARBOR (INS)—A University of Michigan resource economist says that Michigan's Cinderella tree—the aspen—is about to be swept off its feet in its whirlwind romance with the paper industry.

G. Robinson Gregory, an associate professor in the school of natural resources, explained that, as late as 1949, the aspen was considered practically worthless by lumbermen.

He said that paper producers adopted a process for converting aspen pulp into corrugated paperboard for shipping containers and production of aspen has been skyrocketing ever since. He added:

"In 1947, fewer than 40,000 cords of aspen were cut in the state. But the annual harvest is expected to reach 500,000 cords shortly, and aspen's now the leading pulp wood species in the lake states—Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota."

FIRE'S STEPCHILD

Gregory said:

"Aspen is the stepchild of fire. Large stands sprang up in the wake of cutting and burning which left bare soil, full sunlight and plenty of moisture—all of which aspen needs to prosper."

Professor Gregory said that new aspen isn't being established as fast as it dies out and is harvested, and the paper is looking forward to expanding its activities in aspen. He concluded:

Tymms Sentenced on Narcotics Charge

William S. Tymms, 22, of 67 Orion St. was placed on probation two years and assessed $100 court costs.

On Feb. 14 Tymms changed his original plea of not guilty to two counts, conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws and illegal possession of heroin.

Two others convicted of the conspiracy now are serving prison terms.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Want to know Carroll Baker's toughest and best-paying role?

No, students, it wasn't "Giant" or "Baby Doll." It was a cigarette commercial for TV.

She confessed as much during a whirlwind trip to Hollywood, her first since becoming a star and Academy Award nominee. She was here to pick up another award — from the foreign press correspondents.

About the TV commercial—she made it in the not-so-distant past when she was happy to get any kind of acting work.

"It was the hardest work I ever had to do," she commented. "I don't smoke, you see, and I had to appear that I was really enjoying the cigarette when I was really getting sick from it."

The ad was for a filter cigarette, but she was given a couple of cartons of the firm's strong, unfiltered cigarettes to practice on.

"I practiced for a week," she said. "It was very difficult, because my hand had to be in just the right place and I had to do every movement precisely. It took 10 hours to shoot the commercial and I was absolutely ill at the end of it."

But there was a silver lining to the smog. Every time the ad is played, she collects $50, and it's still being seen on TV. The one-day chore brought her more money than her months on the two Warner films that made her famous, she said.

How come?

Studios are shrewd in such matters. Before handing a newcomer a star-making role, they aim to tie the performer down to a "reasonable" contract.

"We had it around for a long time," she admitted, "but we finally settled by my giving the studio three pictures for 'Giant' and three for 'Baby Doll.' I'll do one a year for six years for their price. But I'll be able to make up some money by doing one outside picture a year. And there's always television."

Pro-Nehru Segment Gains in Kashmir

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP)— An opposition boycott has given Prime Minister Nehru's supporters a majority in the State Legislature of the Indian-controlled portion of Kashmir.

Of the 75 seats, 38 went to unopposed candidates from the pro-India National Conference party. Prime Minister Bakshi Ghulam Mohammad and all but one of his Cabinet won re-election.

India and Pakistan have disputed Kashmir since 1947 and now divide the Himalayan state along a U.N. cease-fire line.

Army to Try Missile Expert for Releasing Secret Data

ATLANTA (AP)—A 41-year-old expert on guided missiles at the Army's Redstone Arsenal near Huntsville, Ala., has been ordered tried by court-martial on charges he released secret information to unauthorized persons.

Trial of Col. John Nickerson, Jr., a 1938 graduate of West Point, is expected to begin within six weeks at Redstone Arsenal, where he is now restricted to the reservation.

Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, commanding general of the 3rd Army, announced the court-martial yesterday. Charges were brought against Nickerson Feb. 5.

A 3rd Army spokesman, who declined use of his name, said Nickerson was charged among other things with writing two memorandums critical of Secretary of Defense Wilson and the guided missile policy of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The spokesman said Army investigation determined that five unauthorized persons received copies of the memorandums and that others might have them in their possession. But the spokesman insisted that none of the memorandums went outside this country.

Contents of the memorandums were not made public but it was understood that Nickerson wrote in some detail about the missile battle between the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The 3rd Army charged Nickerson with violation of the 92nd and 134th articles of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. Eighteen specifications were listed.

The charges alleged he unlawfully caused the reproduction of a document containing classified defense information, the unlawful distribution of secret documents to unauthorized persons not in the military service, failed to safeguard secret defense information and that he was guilty of other acts prejudicial to good order and discipline in the armed forces.

Under Article 134, one specification alleged Nickerson sent three "secret" documents to Erik Bergaust, editor, Missiles and Rockets magazine, Washington, D.C., "a person not entitled to receive such documents and the secret information contained therein."

Two other specifications under Article 134 alleged Nickerson "wrongfully and unlawfully" said under oath he had nothing to do with getting a copy of a document entitled "Considerations of the Wilson Memorandum" to Drew Pearson, a columnist, and that he did not believe he gave a copy of the same document to John A. Baumann of the Radio Corp. of America.

Among the 15 specifications under Article 92 was one alleging that Nickerson sent four documents containing secret defense information to William F. Hunt of the Reynolds Metals Co.

At Huntsville, Robert K. Bell, a civilian, attorney for Nickerson, said that "the full facts regardless of whom it involves will be brought to light" during the trial.

"We . . . feel that when the facts become known," he added, "Col. Nickerson will appear in an entirely different light."

Group to Meet to Plan Camp for Homemakers

A committee of the Oakland County Home Demonstration Council will meet Friday at the Rochester home of Mrs. Mary Hixon, extension agent, to plan a Homemakers Camp for this summer.

The group will outline a program for the camp which will be held June 2-4 at Waldon Woods, Hartland, Livingston County, for extension club members from Oakland and Lapeer Counties.

The proposed camp would accommodate some 100 women chosen as delegates from each home demonstration club. The committee will discuss also the possibility of repeating the program in a day camp for women unable to get away for the regular camp.

Grants Too Much Power, Contends Fisher Local

Union Opposes $500 Fine

Members of Fisher Body Local 596 UAW have gone on record as opposing a proposed City Charter amendment which would allow the City Commission to fix a $500 maximum fine for violation of city ordinances.

Harold A. Grant, president of the local, said some 150 members of the local voted Sunday unanimously to oppose the amendment slated for a decision by Pontiac voters April 1.

"We feel it would give the commission too much power to impose the limit on any new ordinance they might draft," Grant said.

The City Commission took action earlier this year to place the amendment before the voters. This was upon the recommendation of City Attorney William A. Ewart.

MIGHT DICKER

"We hoped this might be a deterent to the many drunk and reckless driving cases in the city," Ewart said. "It would be up to the judges to determine what the fine would be on lesser violations, depending, of course, that it is within the limit set by the City Commission."

As it probably will appear on the ballot, the amendment will read: "Any city ordinance may stipulate a fine for violation thereof not exceeding $500 or imprisonment for 90 days or both in the discretion of the court." The present maximum is $100.

"It would be foolish to think that a judge would fine a motorist running a red light the $500," Ewart said.

He added that in order that present ordinances, such as those pertaining to drunk and reckless driving, might permit the proposed $500 maximum, they would have to be amended first by the commission.

CONSTIPATED?
New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe
Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.
To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.
And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.
Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.
It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Nationwide Tour on TV Screen —Doesn't Know It

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dancers from the Philadelphia Civic Ballet had an added starter yesterday when they performed on the Dave Garroway television show.

As they were dancing to "Barcarolle" from "The Tales of Hoffman" in the ballroom of the new Sheraton Hotel, a man described as "the executive type" appeared. He carried a briefcase and a newspaper under his arm. Ignoring the performance he walked between the dancers and the curtain backdrop and proceeded to whatever business appointment he had.

Israeli Pull-Out Boosts Stocks

Pivotal stocks were ahead fractions to a point or more.

The market rose at the start in active trading. Narrow gains were extended in later transactions but turnover became quieter.

Steels were in somewhat more demand than other groups but there was no great buying pressure.

Wall Street observers said it looked like a continuation of yesterday's general advance on news of the Israeli military withdrawal from Egyptian territory. This encouraged investors to expect more stable conditions in the Middle East.

Youngstown Sheet was up a point or so while U.S. Steel and Allegheny Ludlum rose major fractions. Bethlehem and Republic Steel were firm.

Gains of about a point were made by Phelps Dodge, International Nickel and Union Carbide.

Wheat Futures Rally Slightly

CHICAGO (AP) — New crop wheat futures rallied slightly today in quiet early dealings on the board of trade.

Corn generally was firm on buying inspired partly by continued government rejection of most bids by exporters. Soybeans dipped in slow early trading and then came back somewhat.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ to 1¼ higher, March $2.32⅞, corn ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, March $1.29⅛, oats ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, March 75¼, rye ¼ to ¾ lower, March $1.37½, soybeans ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, March $2.42⅞, and lard 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $14.65.

Although the same bearish factors existed in new crop wheat, traders had believed the market might be in for a slight technical rally today, because of the sell-off of the previous session.

OSHAWA, Ont. (AP) — R. Samuel McLaughlin, chairman of the board of directors of General Motors of Canada Ltd., announced yesterday that the board has elected Edwin H. Walker of St. Catharines, Ont., as president and general manager of the firm.

He succeeds William A. Wecker. The appointment is effective April 1.

The hiring of a Birmingham urban planning and renewal firm as planning consultants for Pontiac, is expected to receive formal approval by the City Commission tonight.

The commission and the City Planning Commission last Thursday agreed to engage the firm of Geer Associates headed by David S. Geer, "a pioneer in the state in the field of urban renewal," according to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Other action to be taken up on a 32-point agenda includes a resolution urging re-allocation of certain surplus natural gas supplies to provide home heating requirements for an estimated 7,000 Consumers Power Co. applicants.

A resolution is expected to be sent to Michigan's two senators urging action before the Federal Power Commission to provide for the re-allocation.

The reappointment of three members of the planning commission, whose terms expire this month, is expected tonight.

Upon the recommendation of City Assessor W. Raymond Ransom, commissioners are slated to approve a $5 per day pay hike for members of the City Board of Tax Review. They presently receive $20 per day.

Twenty-two items on the weekly slate involve public improvement projects prospected for this year in the city.

Deferred from last week, further action is expected on a proposed sidewalk project on the south side of Newberry street from Monroe to Murphy.

Public hearings are scheduled to be conducted this evening on the following six planned sidewalk jobs:

Both sides of Astor street from Auburn to East Pike; north side of Kennett road from Stanley to the west line of assessor's plat 144; south side of Liberty street from Dwight to Murphy; south of Newberry street from Waldo to the west line of lot 104 of the Recreation Park Subdivision; east side of Sanford street from Osmun to the south line of lot 11 assessor's replat of Osmun Subdivision; and on the north side of Spokane drive from the west line of lot 54 to the east line of lot 15 assessor's plat 109.

Another public hearing will be aired on a special assessment roll covering some $4,900 unpaid charges owed the city from property owners for last summer's weed cutting program.

There are nine engineer estimates and numerous special assessment rolls to be acted on tonight.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I guess I can never write for Confidential. "Expose" articles are very popular, so I decided to make a bum out of Jeff Chandler. I didn't know him but, I disliked him for being so good-looking.

Women are always trying to steal him from his wife—but in more than 20 years in this town, nobody's ever made a pass at me. So Jeff Chandler's got to be a bad guy. Makes sense, doesn't it?

It's sickening how they drool over him. On a tour he had to kiss a bunch of little girls at a "coketail" party. Then one of the little girls up and whinnied, "Now when do we get to kiss him?"

JEFF CHANDLER

In another town a woman kept phoning him for a date.

"That dame must have been psycho," I said nastily when I finally met Chandler and began needling him.

"An advanced case," he nodded. "She settled for another guy on the tour, proving how much I meant to her."

I tried heckling him about his publicity. "You saved Kim Novak from drowning," I said.

"The water was very deep—at least two feet," he grinned.

"Do you think you've got great talent?" I asked next.

"Talent!" He shook his head. "You've got to make the right kind of deals. Because if you make a lot of money, you're a good actor—no matter how much talent you got. That's the way Hollywood judges you."

So that's why I can't write for Confidential. Jeff Chandler, the double-crossing bum, turned out to be a nice guy.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

The "My Fair Lady" chorus gals will hang boxing gloves over Rex Harrison's dressing room door when he returns . . . Bob Hope signed Sinatra for his TV'er. Steve Allen's writing songs with piano whiz Errol Garner.

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Pepper Davis says it rained so hard in L.A. recently they saw a guy using his Jaguar to bail out his Cadillac.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: We suspect one modern artist is an alcoholic — all his still life paintings show flowers sticking out of a gin bottle. That's earl, brother.

12 Airmen Make Perfect Bail-Out

Good Discipline Saves Lives as Plane Fails; First Jump for All

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Twelve happy airmen congratulated each other today on a perfect bail-out in a night rainstorm as Air Force investigators probed the wreckage of a shattered Flying Boxcar from which the men jumped.

The commander of the smashed C119, Capt. Franklin Greenspan, credited "good military discipline" with saving the lives last night of the eight passengers and crew of four. None had ever jumped before.

The over-all reaction to the 5,000 - foot drop was succinctly summed up by the crew chief, Sgt. Eugene L. O'Konek of St. Cloud, Minn.:

One engine failed about 15 minutes out of Columbia last night in the flight from Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., to Charleston AFB S.C.

The crew scattered 1,000 pounds of cargo and personal baggage over the South Carolina countryside to lighten the ship, but still the plane continued to lose altitude.

Greenspan, who calls Rantoul, Ill., home, found his brief case waiting for him at Ft. Jackson, near here, where the 12 were taken to spend the night. The case was found by police.

The parachuting crew scattered over a mile area. They narrowly missed landing in Lake Murray, 10 miles wide at one point. All were located by searchers within an hour or so.

Boyne Falls to Vote on Glass Sale of Liquor

BOYNE FALLS (AP) — Voter approval of liquor by the glass sales in Boyne Falls has been declared invalid and another election on the proposal is scheduled March 11.

Lee Smith, village clerk, said the proposal originally was placed on the ballot in the presidential elections last fall. The State Liquor Control Commission ruled the proposal invalid, however, because it was not voted upon in a village general election.

The commission informed Smith it would have to be voted on again in a village general election. Voters will make the trip to the polls next Monday.

Sinatra, Boone to Be Featured

Walt Disney to Launch Adventure Film Called 'The Sign of Zoro'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It's early to be talking about next fall on television. But let's be early with ABC-TV, which is planning its biggest season.

When you corner Oliver Treyz, the energetic young vice president in charge of the network, he not only tells you how fast ABC is growing. He is specific about specific programs that should interest you next season. For example:

Frank Sinatra, who has signed a fat contract with the network, will make his debut as a regular television performer with a big hour-long live show Oct. 18. After the debut, Sinatra's program of music and comedy will be a half-hour on film every Friday evening.

Another star performer, singer Pat Boone, launches his first regular TV program on ABC-TV Oct. 3. Boone, who has been described as the answer to Elvis Presley, has sold six million recordings in the past two years and is the official idol of almost 3,000 youthful fan clubs.

Treyz said it has been deemed advisable to move Omnibus back an hour earlier Sunday evenings. Into its present Sunday night spot Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour will move next season.

Walt Disney is working on some elaborate special programs for the network next season, with detailed plans still to be announced.

Another new weekly Disney production which will bow in either the first or second Thursday in October is an action film entitled "The Sign of Zoro." This program, Treyz believes, "will have the impact that Douglas Fairbanks films had in the 1920s." With the lead still to be cast, it will concern the adventures of a Robin Hood type of character on the Pacific Coast early in the 19th century.

The network will continue its emphasis on "adult" Westerns, which have proved popular this season.

Plans are in the making to revamp daytime programing with emphasis on programs of interest to women.

Grand Rapids Man to Serve Rotary

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — John A. Collins, associated 27 years with East Grand Rapids and Kent County governmental posts, plans to devote his time after May to Rotary International work.

Collins, 74, has been chairman 21 years of the county supervisors' finance committee and a member of the committee 24 years.

He said he will ask the East Grand Rapids city commission not to reappoint him at its reorganizational meeting next May. District governor of Rotary International, he plans to leave May 11 as a representative of the organization on a visit to England and Europe.

Collins started work for Bissell Carpet Sweeper Co. in 1898 as an office boy and retired in December, 1953, as secretary and vice president. He was elected mayor of East Grand Rapids in 1933 and resigned after 11 consecutive terms in 1955, but was appointed county supervisor at-large by the city commission.

Guard Changes Training Rules

Enlistees Can Choose Between 2 New Plans for Active Duty

LANSING (AP)—New requirements for enlistments in the Michigan National Guard have been announced by Maj. Gen. George C. Moran, the adjutant general.

The new requirements result from agreement between the Department of Defens, the Department of Army, and the National Guard Association representing the Army National Guard.

Two plans are open to a man between the ages of 17 and 18½ who enlists in the Guard after March 31. He must take 11 weeks of active duty training with the Army, or he may volunteer for six months of active duty training.

If he takes 11 weeks, he must serve actively in the Guard until he reaches age 28.

If he volunteers for the six months' program, he must participate actively only three more years in the Guard. Then, he may be transferred to the standby reserve for the remaining four and one-half years of this total eight-year obligation.

Beginning next Jan. 1, any man enlisting in the National Guard between the ages of 17 and 18½ will be required to perform six months of active duty for training. The 11-week active duty training course will be discontinued.

Allen Park Votes on Becoming City

DETROIT (AP) — Suburban Allen Park, now technically a village, will vote for the third time in five years today on adoption of a city charter and elect city officials to serve if the charter passes.

Incorporation would sever the community from Ecorse Township and give the new city control of the 15 million dollar Edsel Division of the Ford Motor Co., now in the township. The firm pays about $50,000 annually in taxes.

The village rejected city status in 1952 and 1953. It has about 35,000 population and 18,406 registered voters.

Forty-two candidates have filed for city offices, three of them for the $3,600 a year job of mayor.

Uncurbed Union Monopolies Pose Menace to Citizens' Basic Rights

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Monopoly and tyranny go hand in hand, and the American people don't like either one, whether power is exercised by corporations or by labor unions.

Back in the 1890s the Congress of the United States, under the leadership of the Republican Party, became enraged over the abuses of power by corporations and passed the Sherman Anti-trust Law, which has been on the statute books ever since.

LAWRENCE

But today there is another movement in its incipient stages which, if Congress is not intimidated, will result in the passage of an anti-monopoly law forbidding labor unions to monopolize job opportunities and otherwise to use their power in restraint of trade.

At first glace it might seem that the antitrust laws should be sufficient to curb monopolies of all kinds, including labor unions, that restrain trade, but the Supreme Court of the United States a few years ago, when it consisted almost entirely of New Deal appointees, ruled that labor unions are exempt from anti-trust laws unless specificially mentioned therein. No law correcting this omission has ever been passed.

Today a teamsters union is being revealed in congressional hearings as an example of how far-reaching monopoly power can be. It can, by means of campaign contributions, threaten to take over a city government and prevent law-enforcement machinery from prosecuting wrongdoers.

PINBALL RACKET

It can ally itself with taverns and rackets in pinball machines carried on through union officials who lend funds to private enterprises and threaten to stop deliveries, for example, or beer and whisky unless tavern owners pay tribute to them. Here is a passage from the testimony:

"Kennedy (committee staff member): Could you tell the committee what was explained by Mr. Joe McLaughlin as to how this company was going to operate, and what the advantage of this company was going to be, and what the advantage of being tied up with the Teamsters was?

"Elkins (a witness): The advantage was simply that these other men wouldn't be let into the union until this Acme Company got the best locations, and they would only let in the smaller operators that were buying equipment from Budge Wright . . .

KEEP THEM OUT

"Kennedy: Was it agreed that you were going to keep the other operators out, even if they applied for membership, and the Teamsters (union) would keep them out?

"Elkins: That is right . . .

"Kennedy: And then they would send these Teamsters business agents around and they would tell the owner of the cafe that they had better have a union machine or otherwise they were going to have pickets outside and not allow beer to be delivered?

"Elkins: That's correct."

Efforts are being made by apologists of the compulsory membership idea and the boycott doctrine to argue that the Teamsters are an isolated case. Yet everybody knows that in nearly every city of any size there are analogous rackets. One union will deliver only up to a certain point, where another union will take over. Jurisdictional disputes are numerous.

America is suffering from many scandals growing out of this kind of monopoly power. It stems largely from the doctrine of compulsory unionization whereby the right to work is taken from an individual who conscientously objects to being a member of a union.

Originally, under the Wagner Labor Relations Act, passed during New Deal days, the states were deprived of the right to police their own labor unions, but later the Taft-Hartley Act permitted the states to pass right-to-work laws. The union leaders of America are almost unanimous in fighting the right-to-work laws of the states which, of course, are aimed at the monopoly power of unions.

For when the power to keep a man out of a job, unless he agrees to join the union within 30 or 60 days after he is hired, is exercised throughout the country, it builds up a monopoly bigger in its influence than all the monopolies that corporations ever exercised in the past.

RIGHT TO JOIN

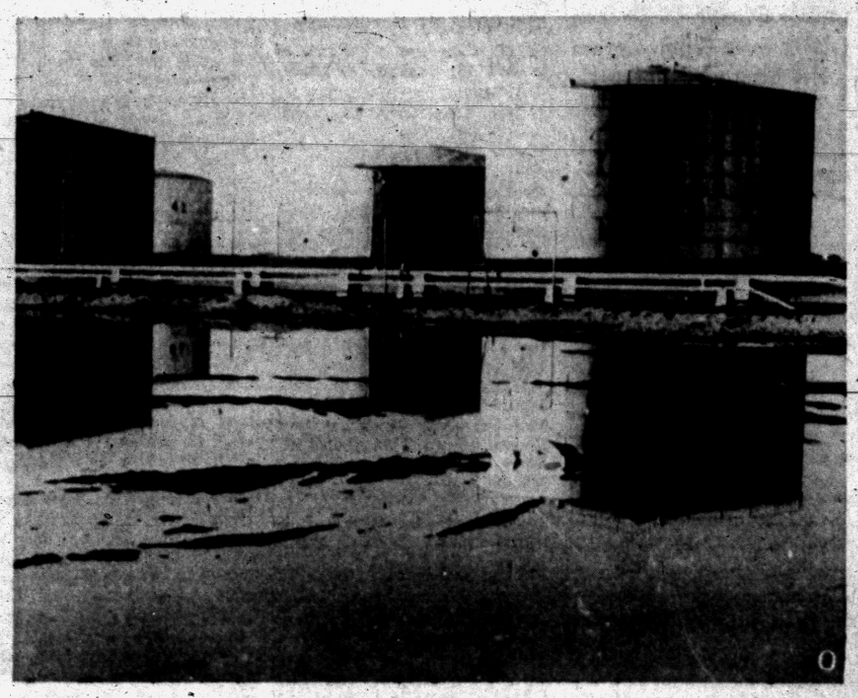

In these days, when there is much agitation about "civil rights," the so-called "liberals" stand foursquare behind the "closed shop" or the "union shop," as it is euphemistically called. Only the true liberals in America are championing the individual's right to join or refrain from joining a union as he pleases.

It needed the Senate committee's exposure of rackets to illustrate the evils of compulsory unionization. It is, of course, true that most union leaders are honest and will have nothing to do with rackets, but hardly any labor leader today, on the other hand, will concede the constitutional right of the citizen to a job if he is not a member of the union and doesn't want to be.

Congress has been delaying for a long time the imposition of a ban on the various "restraints of trade" utilized by labor unions in America today. If the present investigation only brings out some of the facts of monopoly power in trade unions, it will have served a useful purpose.

For it is the concerted power of the unions which has made "collective bargaining" a farce. Collective bludgeoning is a more realistic term in this era when strikes are too costly for employers to risk and hence prices go up and up as inflation goes on and on because the root of the trouble—monopoly power of unions—goes unrestricted.

Polio Patient Fights for Life in Weird Battle

But at the hospital, more trouble.

The first lung Thorne was transferred to leaked. A second lung developed trouble shortly after Thorne was placed inside and he had to be returned to his own lung while a third machine was brought over from another hospital.

When the new lung arrived, the rubber seals had to be replaced around the port holes before it would work properly.

Finally, at 8 p.m. Thorne relaxed in the newly arrived lung. "I had a real workout," he said.
