France Gets Tough on Latest Violence

PARIS (AP) — Premier Georges Pompidou declared today the overnight explosion of violence in Paris and other areas of France was an attempt to start civil war and called upon forces of law and order to crush further demonstrations immediately and relentlessly.

The wild night, with violence reaching its highest peak since this crisis began three weeks ago, resulted in the deaths of two persons, injuries to many hundreds and the arrests of hundreds more—648 in Paris alone.

★ ★ ★

It provided a resounding but negative echo to an appeal by President Charles de Gaulle to a turmoil-tormented nation to give him a massive affirmative response to his proposed June referendum on university and economic reforms.

The Municipal Hospital Service reported 456 persons treated in Paris for injuries, of whom 178 were hospitalized.

RIOT VICTIMS

A 26 year-old man died here of knife wounds.

In Lyon a police commissioner was crushed to death by a rock-laden truck that rampaging students pushed into police lines.

★ ★ ★

Streets in Paris' Latin Quarter and in Strasbourg were like battlefields, a litter of felled trees, vehicles and paving stones thrown together for makeshift barricades by students battling police into the small morning hours.

A heavy rain drenched Paris in the morning.

WORST VIOLENCE

The overnight disorders began only minutes after the 77-year-old president broke a long silence to propose to the nation in a radio television address a referendum on university and economic reforms. The vote is expected June 16.

It was the worst violence Paris had experienced in the three weeks since the crisis began.

De Gaulle laid his presidency on the line in a brief speech demanding a massive "yes" vote for his referendum proposal. A "no" vote, he said, would mean he would quit the presidency he has held for 10 years.

Less than two hour's after de Gaulle's speech, rampaging youths shook open the high iron gates before the Paris stock exchange—the Bourse—swarmed onto the trading floor and set fire to booths and quotation boards. Before firemen could extinguish the blaze, the area was badly burned.

FARMERS JOIN

Farmers joined the protest Friday. They blocked national highways with barricades and clashed with police in Agen, Periguxeu, Lyon, Nantes and Rennes. De Gaulle's farm policy, they said, was ruining them.

U.S. Could Absorb Surtax, Says Roche

DETROIT (AP) — The board chairman of General Motors Corp., the nation's largest corporation, says that U.S. consumer purchasing powers appear large enough to absorb the income tax surcharge, which is pending in Congress.

★ ★ ★

Board chairman James M. Roche said at the 60th annual GM stockholders meeting yesterday that the nation's purchasing powers could support or even improve the new car sales rate set this year, despite a tax increase.

★ ★ ★

Roche predicted at the stockholders meeting that U.S. auto sales would total nine million this year.

The prediction came a day after Ford Motor Co. Chairman Henry Ford II estimated a 9.3 million sales year for the industry.

UPWARD TREND

Roche, who lives at 425 Dunstan, Bloomfield Hills, described the U.S. economy as "not only running at a substantially higher level than in 1967, but on an upward trend."

He said assuming a continuation of the basic strengths in the nation's economy and consumer confidence, "we believe that the 1968 industry sales of motor vehicles forecast at 10,750,000 units appears fully attainable. This would include nine million passenger cars."

★ ★ ★

At a news conference following the meeting, Roche said that GM will have to face a decision in the fall on whether to raise automobile prices.

Roche said he didn't anticipate "the electric car will come in my lifetime", but reported GM is experimenting with cars of many shapes and sizes and power plants.

MORE THAN 50 PCT.

GM President Edward N. Cole, noting that the giant automotive firm continues to hold down more than 50 per cent of the U.S. market, said the firm's profit margin, based on income after taxes, was equal to 8.1 per cent of sales.

Pointing to the sale of 767,000 foreign imports in the U.S. new car market last year and rising sales this year, Cole told stockholders yesterday "we intend to be competitive and on an economic basis."

★ ★ ★

"We are considering all possible approaches," Cole said with reference to the compact car market now being filled by imports, but that is as close as he came to saying GM might consider production of a smaller car in the United States.

"GM introduced a redesigned Chevy II in our 1968 product line-up, which is offering increasingly effective competition," Cole continued.

★ ★ ★

"In my opinion, this is our logical and first line of attack." Cole lives at 1371 Kirkway, Bloomfield Township.

U.S. Pressing Hanoi to Admit Role in the War

PARIS (AP) — The United States intends to step up pressure on Hanoi's negotiators in the Paris talks to admit that thousands of North Vietnamese troops are fighting in South Vietnam.

"How can we ever get anywhere in these discussions," said one official, "if we can't even agree on the basic facts we have to deal with?"

★ ★ ★

North Vietnam has up to now denounced any suggestions that it had forces in the South.

Some experts here believe North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong may have made a basic move toward a concession on that point yesterday when he said in a speech in Hanoi: "Wherever the enemy exists, our Vietnamese people have the right to go there and fight him."

STOPPED SHORT

This stopped short of admitting that northern troops had gone into the South but provided a basis for such a concession later—probably much later.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Xuan Thuy, the North Vietnamese representative, will meet again Monday after a four-day recess, to open their third week of talks. But U.S. authorities are now predicting heavy enemy offensive thrusts and more hard fighting in South Vietnam as the Communists strive to strengthen their position at the conference table.

★ ★ ★

Senate Passes Sunday Liquor

LANSING (AP)—Sale of liquor on Sunday won Senate approval yesterday as legislators agreed to extend the deadline for passage of bills.

Senators voted 21-15 and sent to the House a bill permitting liquor to be served after 2 p.m. Sunday. The measure is similar to a bill passed by the upper chamber last year that was defeated in the House.

★ ★ ★

It permits liquor to be served only by establishments such as resorts, restaurants and hotels that receive more than 50 per cent of their income from sources other than bar revenue.

Sen. John F. Toepp, R-Cadillac, amended the bill to prohibit liquor sales until 2 p.m. The original bill called for sales to begin at noon.

Protest Hits Home for Key House Dem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite problems in their own mud-filled back yard, the Poor People's demonstrators are broadening their target area to include the homes as well as the offices of government figures.

About 100 of the poor clapped, sang and shouted their disapproval last night outside the apartment building of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., a chief architect of the welfare program.

★ ★ ★

They laughed and clapped in derision after singing "Happy Birthday" for the powerful chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

But Mills, who turned 59 yesterday, had left earlier in the evening. An aide said he had a prior commitment.

POLICE BAR DOOR

Police barred the door of the building.

Afterward, they left the fashionable area on Connecticut Avenue and returned to their muddy shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial. So did nearly all the other 2,000 residents, in spite of earlier indications most of them would be evacuated for reasons of health and comfort.

★ ★ ★

The leader of the demonstration outside Mills' apartment building, Dr. George Wiley, denounced him as a man who "would take food out of the mouths of hungry people."

And he pledged the same harassment for Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who administers food distribution programs for the needy.

★ ★ ★

The campaign leader, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, said if Congress adjourns without acting on demands of the poor, they would follow congressmen to the political conventions in August.

Abernathy made the statement in New York, where he conferred with civil rights leader Bayard Rustin about the giant demonstration the poor people plan in Washington June 19. Rustin was organizer of the 1963 civil rights march on Washington.

Senate Unit Cuts School-Lunch Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee has voted to slash $14.4-million from the school-lunch program, prompting one Democrat to voice hope it was not a punitive action aimed at the Poor People's Campaign.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Appropriations Committee did, however, restore nearly $5 million which the House has cut in special food programs for children of the poverty-stricken. Such aid is a prime stated goal of the Poor People's Campaign, now encamped in Washington to pressure Congress for programs aiding the destitute.

Kinkajou's 'Fine Pet for an Apartment'

KINKAJOU GETS A GRAPE — Showing how gentle and affectionate a kinkajou is, Mrs. Ted Gohl feeds it a grape from her mouth. Looking on is her husband. They feel he's a fine pet for an apartment.

By ED BLUNDEN

"He's cute, he's cuddly and we love him," is how Mrs. Ted Gohl describes her unusual pet. The animal is a kinkajou, a cat-sized member of the raccoon family from South America.

The animal has a lot of things going for it in starting a new pet fad.

According to Mrs. Gohl of 305 S. Telegraph, the animal will eat a large variety of foods, is extremely well-behaved (it sleeps most of the time), can be litter-box broken and is very affectionate.

★ ★ ★

"It's a swell pet for our apartment," Mrs. Gohl comments. She said she and her husband were looking for a puppy about a month ago. "But we saw the kinkajou in the pet shop and we just had to have him," she said.

'HONEY BEAR'

The kinkajou (potos flauus) is an inhabitant of the South and Central American forests. It has the nickname of "honey bear."

Mrs. Gohl said she feeds it honey, but the animal also eats a wide variety of foods — raw hamburger, raw eggs, vegetables and fruit, especially grapes.

★ ★ ★

"He has thick soft fur, big button-sized eyes and is so affectionate . . . he'll go right to sleep on your shoulder," Mrs. Gohl said.

The animal, just four months old, has a few peculiar but interesting habits. It sleeps all night and most of the day, too. Mrs. Gohl said she and her husband awaken the animal when they come home from work at 5 p.m. It stays

Absentee Foes Spook Candidates in Oregon

By the Associated Press

Absentee opponents are spooking the visible ones as they go into the final laps of campaigning for the Oregon Republican and Democratic presidential primaries.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, for instance, won't be on the ballot in the Democratic contest Tuesday, but there is a strong effort being made by organized labor to drum up support for him.

President Johnson is listed among the Democratic contenders despite his March 31 statement that he won't accept another term. The AFL-CIO is urging Democrats to vote for Johnson to show they back Humphrey.

On the Republican side, the most potent unseen force is California Gov. Ronald Reagan. Reagan hasn't campaigned in Oregon but his name is on the ballot and his people are in there pitching for him.

Political handicappers figure the GOP winner will be Richard M. Nixon, and he agrees.

Arriving yesterday to unleash an abbreviated campaign, he said he figures he'll take 55 per cent of the Republican vote, Reagan will get about 25 per cent and the leftovers, about 15 to 20 per cent, will go as write-ins to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller campaigned in Georgia and South Carolina yesterday and will go after Republican decision-makers next week in Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming.

Meanwhile, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, complained that his fellow Democratic contenders, Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, have all but stopped discussing issues.

'COLD VICTORY'

They are concentrating only on "cold victory," he charged.

The Minnesotan drew a crowd of about 7,000 last night at the University of Oregon and again challenged Kennedy to meet him in face-to-face debate before the votes are cast Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy wrote a new chapter in the history of American political shenanigans yesterday when he took off his suit and went swimming in his undershorts in the chilly surf at Astoria.

★ ★ ★

Before his 10-minute dip he extracted a guarantee from the ever-present photographers that no one would record it on film.

Area Girl Is State Pick for U.S. College Queen

A White Lake Township girl is the state's representative in the National College Queen Pageant to be held June 17 in West Palm Beach, Fla.

KURNZ

She is Virginia A. Kurnz, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Kurnz of 221 Shotwell, a junior at Eastern Michigan University.

★ ★ ★

She was nominated by her sorority, Alpha Xi Delta, and selected tops in the state early this month by pageant officials in New York City.

Judges rated applicants from the nation's colleges on scholastic accomplishment and leadership in campus activities.

GRADE AVERAGE

Virginia carries a grade average above 3.0, reports her mother.

Campus activities include her sorority, of which she is an officer, the university debate team and two honorary sororities. She recently was selected one of the top 10 Greeks on campus.

She is majoring in speech and English and plans to be a teacher. Her studies are financed by a scholarship for her participation on the debate team.

★ ★ ★

While attending Walled Lake High School Virginia held several student offices and was active in forensics, her mother recalled.

After she completes exams June 6, she immediately leaves for New York City where, with the 49 other contestants, she will tour the city and meet officials of the United Nations.

WASHINGTON STOP

The group will be in Washington, D.C. June 11 for receptions with Congressmen and government officials and a tour of the White House.

Virginia then flies to West Palm Beach, the scene of the contest.

The dozen competitive events planned include seminars for expressing opinions on education and campus life, current events, career goals, fashion and quizzing on the girls' general knowledge. The girls also will be tested on homemaking, arts and general knowledge.

Contest prizes include a trip to Europe, a car and a wardrobe.

Election Loser Seeks $50,000 in Libel Action

A $50,000 libel suit was filed yesterday against a Pontiac minister by an unsuccessful candidate for the Pontiac City Commission for allegedly damaging his reputation with a newspaper advertisement.

★ ★ ★

The suit was filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by John F. Leonard, 65 N. Edith, against the Rev. Robert Garner, 69 S. Astor, pastor of the Friendly General Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

Leonard said the advertisement appearing in the April 11 edition of The Pontiac Press cost him the April 15 election for city commissioner from District 6. He was defeated by Wesley Wood, the incumbent.

Leonard's attorney, Bernard Girard, said that defamatory statements in the ad alleging Leonard had a long police record can be proven false.

Flint Buses Guarded

FLINT (AP) — Police officers were assigned to six Flint Transportation Authority buses yesterday, when drivers threatened to refuse to make afternoon runs to Northwestern High School for fear of personal safety. The drivers said their fears stemmed from fire-cracker and rock-throwing incidents in the last week at the school. Last week, students reportedly commandeered a city bus and drove it for several blocks.

$10,500 Blaze Is Being Probed

A fire which caused an estimated $10,500 to a storage building at a construction site last night is under investigation by the Pontiac Fire Department.

★ ★ ★

Fire officials said that while the cause of the 9:45 p.m. fire has not been determined, arson is suspected for the blaze that gutted the building off North Perry between Lowell and Madison.

★ ★ ★

Materials used in the construction of nearby apartments owned by Herman Ross of Detroit were stored in the building, according to firemen.

The pet, named "Sammy," has to sleep up high so the Gohls provide it with a tree limb to climb and sleep on. When it gets older it will be able to hang by its tail.

When the Gohls take Sammy out for a walk it follows alongside like a well-trained dog and doesn't need a leash.

★ ★ ★

The animal has a few drawbacks — for instance, it cost the Gohls $80.

And being from a warm climate, the kinkajou can't stand temperatures below 70 degrees. "When we take him out in the winter we have to wrap him up real good," Mrs. Gohl said.

★ ★ ★

Evacuation was in high gear in the vast flood area. An entire Ohio community of 3,000 was cleared. National Guardsmen, Civil Defense boats and trucks moved into southern Ohio, where thousands upon thousands had to leave their homes.

DISASTER CENTERS

Red Cross disaster centers were set up in half a dozen communities.

At least two persons drowned in swollen streams and rivers in Athens, home of Ohio University. More than 100 roads were closed throughout the state, which received as much as five inches of rain in 24 hours.

★ ★ ★

Athens County Sheriff Harold E. Shields said he expected the Hocking River to crest in Athens today. "There's 23 feet of water now and flood stage is 17. The river is still rising."

U.S. Rep. Chalmers Wylie, R-Ohio, toured the flooded areas and said there was "considerable amount of devastation."

WEST VIRGINIA

Rivers and streams ran wild in West Virginia, where many roads were impassable. About 100 families evacuated Parkersburg, which received nearly four inches of rain in 12 hours yesterday. Authorities expected the Little Kanawha River at Glenville to crest at 25 feet today.

★ ★ ★

News Briefs From Wires

PRAGUE (AP) — Troops from the Soviet Union and other Communist nations will march on Czechoslovak soil next month in Warsaw Pact maneuvers that may rekindle fears of a Russian pressure play in the face of the liberalization here. The maneuvers were announced yesterday by Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, in Prague for a short rest.

4 U.S. Planes Downed

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist gunners in South Vietnam shot down four U.S. aircraft today. But North Vietnamese missilemen failed in a rare attempt at hitting a B52 bomber with a guided missile, American military spokesmen said. The North Vietnamese missile lauching at a B52 operating near the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam was evidence of stepped-up Communist antiaircraft activity in the area.

Aid for Youth Programs OK'd

A federal grant of $49,824 for summer youth programs has been approved for the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO), according to Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

The funds will supplement existing programs and provide for programs in communities without them, Revis said.

ADDED FUNDS

An additional $15,000 will be provided by local communities as a participating share, mostly in the form of providing services and equipment, he said.

★ ★ ★

Last summer about 10 per cent more was provided and this year's reduced figure represents nationwide cuts in OEO spending, according to Revis.

AN IMPORTANT NOTE

All of the programs described in this series have been established by law and many have been in operation for years. However, the amount of money to operate these programs varies from year to year, depending on appropriations voted by Congress. Availability of some funds and openings in training programs may vary locally depending upon demand.

A military aid program can help you through college. You must, however, pledge yourself to two to four years of active military service and several years of reserve duty after graduation.

A parallel military scholarship plan will pay all your college expenses if you qualify. But you must agree to accept a commission in the regular Army, Air Force, Navy or Marine Corps.

★ ★ ★

The four-year aid program varies among the services. In general, these cadets receive free textbooks and uniforms and are paid $40 a month during the school year and an extra allowance for a special training period between their junior and senior years.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) and Naval ROTC students take the normal academic courses they prefer at a college they choose (if it has an ROTC or NROTC unit.)

MILITARY COURSES

In addition, each cadet takes military courses and participates in drills and in a four-to-six-week training course or training cruise between his junior and senior years in college.

★ ★ ★

To be eligible, candidates must be high school graduates of "good moral character," in "sound physical condition" and at least 14 years of age. They must pass a qualifying or aptitude test.

In general, a student is first enrolled for a two-year basic course in his freshman and sophomore years at college. The best qualified are selected for the advanced course given during the junior and senior years.

Some students, of course, spend their first two college years at a junior college or other institution which does not provide ROTC or NROTC.

SUMMER TRAINING

If you are such a student and shift before your junior year to a school with reserve officers training, you may be eligible for the two-year Army or Air Force ROTC program.

Candidates must take a six-week summer training course between their sophomore and junior years to be eligible.

The Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps scholarship program pays all college tuition and fees, the cost of textbooks and uniforms, the expense of travel to and from college an doffers a subsistence allowance of $50 a month.

Graduates must accept a commission in the regular Army, Navy, Air Force or Marine Corps, if offered.

As with the military aid students, these cadets take regular courses, military classes and participate in drills. They attend a summer camp or training cruise between their junior and senior years.

★ ★ ★

Candidates for the Navy and Marine Corps scholarship programs must be unmarried and between the ages of 17 and 21.

They must agree to remain unmarried until they are commissioned. Army and Air Force candidates must be at least 17 years of age.

Army candidates must be able to complete their college work and be commissioned before age. 25.

MUST BE CITIZENS

Air Force candidates must be eligible for commissioning before age 28. All candidates must be U.S. citizens.

The Army, Navy and Air Force offer a variety of aid programs for medical, dietetic, physical therapy, occupational therapy, nursing, and veterinary students.

★ ★ ★

Women students are eligible for most of these programs. Aid is given in exchange for service for specific periods of time.

Bikes Bring More

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City officials in suburban Wyoming are pondering this one. An auction sale Thursay of 41 bicycles bandoned in the city brought a gross profit of $510 while 28 derelict autos, one a 1961 model, went for a total of $82.50. Police Sgt. Gilbert Klinge commented on the cars after the sale, "This was a poor bunch. No one was interested in bidding."

Police in LA Get Aid From Youngsters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In a low-income area near downtown Los Angeles, a new police unit is forming without funds and without official sanction by the city.

The members don't even have uniforms. But the "Police Boys" don't care.

★ ★ ★

"I figured they were trying to help us," explained Rudy Alday, a 6-year-old who proposed the idea two months ago. "So I wanted to help them."

Capt. Floyd Phillips gave Rudy and his buddies a 60-day probationary period with certain rules to follow: Don't pick fights at at school, get good grades, mind your parents, brush your teeth, keep clean, etc.

BETTER GRADES

Since "Police Boys" began, Rudy is doing better in school. Phillips says the half-dozen other members also show improvement in school and at home.

Teachers Need Training in Understanding Pupils

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON
University of Southern California

Teachers cannot teach something they do not know — even though they can guide students in their independent study in fields of knowledge other than their own.

NASON

Getting a student to want to learn is the most important part of the teacher - learning process. Students are compelled by law to attend school, but you cannot make them learn by passing another law.

* * *

The influencing of behavior is at last becoming a science. And the behavioral sciences should have greater stress in the training of teachers. It is hoped that the next generation of teachers will be experts in influencing pupils to engage in learning with enthusiasm and determination.

It is not enough that the teacher present the subject matter in an interesting fashion. What goes on in the mind of the pupil is perhaps even more important.

GETTING INVOLVED

If something in the student's thinking is keeping him from learning as he should, the teacher should have all of the available knowledge that will influence a change in his thinking.

For example: The teacher of the future should be able to sense when a student lacks an acceptable goal. He should be able to help a student discover not only worthwhile goals but reasonable and possible procedures through which the student feels that he can attain them.

This may mean getting involved with the student's concept of how his parents feel about him and his future, with his own personal feeling of being a worthwhile person; in fact, with all the complex causes of an individual's behavior.

For example; Joe as a high school junior was listed as a preengineering student. He was not succeeding well in math and science. Joe's statement was: "I am not too interested in math and science; I do not wish to be an engineer, but my parents insist. Consequently, I have listed engineering as my goal."

HOW HAPPY

Joe wanted to become an actor but he dared not tell his parents. I convinced him that he should discuss the matter with them.

I talked to his mother later and she said, "We are extremely pleased that Joe has a goal of his own. We never did care whether or not he became an engineer. We chose that for him because we know it was important for him to have some goal. Now that it is out in the open, we are all happy about the situation."

Joe completed his high school with satisfactory grades. In fact, he was given a scholarship to pursue a major in dramatic arts at a fine college.

U.S., S. Korea to Discuss Viet

SEOUL (AP) — Additional South Korean troops for Vietnam will be among the main subjects discussed in the first U.S. - Korea defense conference in Washington next Monday and Tuesday, military sources said today.

It has been an open secret, the sources said, that the commanders of the 48,000-man Korean expeditionary force in Vietnam have been asking for more men. The government reportedly considers the request reasonable.

One reason the field commanders seek more men, the sources said, is to provide reserve units for major operations. There also were hints that the Korean forces want some planes of their own in Vietnam so they can conduct joint air-ground operations that now depend on U.S. air support.

Defense Minister Choi Yung-hi leaves for Washington Saturday.

Also on the agenda is discussion of an increase in U.S. military aid to help South Korea equip its 600,000-man army with modern weapons. The sources said the conference also will decide on specific items to be included in the $100 million of additional U.S. military aid President Jonhson recommended early this year.

There was an upsurge of incidents along the demilitarized zone early in the year following North Korean seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo in January and a North Korean commando team's raid on Seoul in an attempt to assassinate President Chung Hee Park.

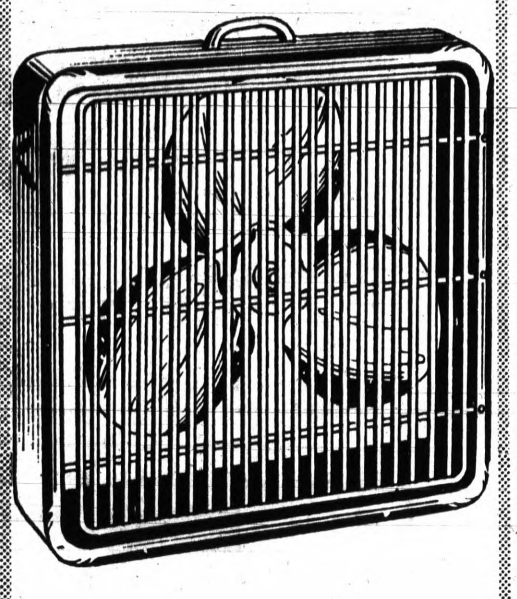

The United States and South Korea signed an agreement today for U.S. payment of $11.19 million for combat rations for the Korean forces fighting in Vietnam during the fiscal year that begins July 1.

Judge Appeals for Preventive Action

Oakland County Circuit Judge ARTHUR E. MOORE made an excellent point Thursday when he appealed to state and Detroit area officials for an intensive crime prevention program.

MOORE

Judge MOORE hit hard at crime and delinquency as factors which seriously hinder our efforts to do away with ghettos and the squalid social and moral elements which breed crime. Along these lines he put his words into action, sentencing a man to 1 to 50 years imprisonment on a second degree murder charge and recommending that the maximum sentence be served.

★ ★ ★

Judge Moore proposed that we must find a method to immediately remove juvenile delinquents and law violators from a troubled community before we can make headway on upgrading that community.

This is significant because, in our troubled times punctuated with one antipoverty program after another, we seem to have been caught up in the notion that to cure a rising crime rate we must first eradicate the environmental elements which breed crime and delinquency.

★ ★ ★

Judge MOORE agrees that changes in social conditions and moral standards are needed, but he points out that the existence of juvenile delinquents and law violators in a community interferes with effective community betterment.

In other words, first rid the community of these criminal elements and then go to work, without interference, on the conditions which bred those elements.

★ ★ ★

Judge MOORE pointed to "society's licentious permissiveness" as the real culprit fostering crime, delinquency and civil disorder. He cautions us that "real freedom is not freedom to be selfish, undisciplined and a law violator."

We heartily support Judge MOORE's plea for strong preventative action and hope that this lone voice will be heard and heeded by those with the power and authority to initiate such programs.

LBJ's Candidacy Nix Brightens Public Image

A public opinion poll shows President JOHNSON's popularity with the voters has zoomed since he announced he would curb the bombing of North Vietnam and would not run for re-election.

This must make him feel pretty good—except that it may be a little discouraging to discover that the way to win popular approval of the way you're doing your job is to promise to give it up.

Pollution in Step With Russia's Industrial March

Conservationists appear to be fighting a losing battle in Soviet Russia where government-owned industry is less concerned with public opinion than is private industry in the United States.

According to a story in The New York Times News Service, "a mood of defeat and despair appears to be emerging in a bitter, decade-long struggle by Soviet scientists and conservationists to prevent Siberia's Lake Baikal, the world's largest body of fresh water, from being transformed into a polluted, industrial cesspool."

A vast industrial complex is developing around the lake with little provision for pollution control. Such attempts as have been made at purifying industrial wastes have not been effective, according to reports. Very likely, by the time the Russian bureaucratic mechanism solves the technological problems, it will be too late.

In the U.S., where industry is privately-owned, we do not have the problem of government-owned enterprise trying to police itself. It is automatically on the side of progressive industry and the public in endeavoring to solve problems of air and water pollution.

Bill Introduced for 'Ombudsman'

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

Americans have been hearing something now and again in recent months about a public office holder in some European countries whose title is "ombudsman." He helps citizens in trouble.

DIRKSEN

Is the draft board giving you a bad time? Is Social Security shortchanging you on your monthly payment from the government? Is the Internal Revenue Service attempting to collect from you more income taxes than you really owe? Is one of your relatives in prison as a result of an unfair trial?

★ ★ ★

Well, keep your cool. It may be that an answer to solving your problems that may arise out of troubles with the government will take shape. There is a bill in the United States Senate that would create a pilot project for an Administrative Ombudsman.

In Sweden, Great Britain and in some other countries the ombudsman is a sort of official complaint department where the average citizen who has a complaint or problem with a government agency, can go and get help.

A counterpart office in the U.S., for example, would try to help the otherwise voiceless citizen, the citizen who might not be able to get anybody in government to listen and to relieve what is troubling him.

Senator Edward Long of Missouri introduced the bill to create the project. It would be a test operation to run for two years only in the State of Missouri, where virtually every federal agency is represented with an operating office and where there are 63,000 federal employees.

The idea back of the bill is this: The federal establishment has become such a huge, sprawling operation that the ordinary citizen scarcely knows where to go or to whom when he's in trouble or outraged by what he is convinced is an injustice to him.

Under the provisions of the bill, the troubled citizen could go to the office of Administrative Ombudsman. That official, who would be a presidential appointee, or his deputy, would assemble all the facts to determine whether the complaint had merit. If it did, the Ombudsman's office would cause an investigation to be made. His powers would be extremely broad.

If there were no adequate remedy in existing law for the problem presented, or if the matter were outside the jurisdiction of the Ombudsman's office, of if the complaint were trivial, the Ombudsman's office would not pursue the matter.

If he did decide, however, that the circumstances of the complaint merited action, the Ombudsman would act with vigor.

The real force of the office would come from the fact that the Administrative Ombudsman could direct any federal agency to reconsider or modify or cancel whatever action it had taken with respect to the complaining citizen, and the agency would be directed to comply with the order.

There is still another reservoir of power in the bill as drafted. That is that none of the proceedings or the decisions or the report of the Ombudsman can be challenged or quashed or called into question in any court.

Certain it is that, if the bill reaches the stage of consideration in the full Senate judiciary committee, and if it then reaches the floor of the Senate, such a broad grant of power will be examined with the utmost care.

It is interesting to learn that the office of Ombudsman is not an easy answer to any complaint. Not in Sweden, for example, where as many as 80 per cent of the complaints made to that Ombudsman have been found over the many years to have no merit.

In Great Britain there is a safeguard against abuse of the right to complain to the Ombudsman — the complainer must first present his complaint to a member of Parliament, who may in turn refer it to the Ombudsman.

It is still a bill, so don't be impatient. I fancy, however, that if and when it is enacted into law, the Administrative Ombudsman will be a very busy person.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Robson Sampaio de Almeida of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, found the strength of his faith through a tragic accident that handicapped him for life. While attending college in Houston, Tex., he worked part time in a paper plant and a huge roll of paper fell on him, leaving him paralyzed from the waist down.

A devout Baptist, he was determined to make a purposeful life for himself and work with the disabled and handicapped. With the insurance money he received he returned to Brazil and in the town of Meier outside of Rio established a rehabilitation center for all types of handicaps—polio, cerebral palsy, paraplegics, mentally retarded and alcoholics.

The need was great and his money soon ran out, so to sustain the operation he started an organization called the "Optimists' Club," whose 8,000 members donate a small sum each month.

He receives no government help, although some doctors and technicians do contribute their time. Among his many problems is his recent eviction from one of his two buildings for nonpayment of rent. His facilities are substandard and his operation is still on a shoestring, but to the 35 adult and 31 juvenile in-patients and the 150 out-patients, his faith is a beacon of light in the darkness of indifference.

Confident Living:

Displace Your Fears With Faith

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

This fellow seemed pretty scared. And who can blame him?

The letter was from a boy serving with the Armed Forces in Vietnam. It is about his problem of fear — which is a universal experience that necessarily concerns everybody.

DR. PEALE

His letter begins: "I have just finished reading something you wrote about not letting anything frighten you. You mention the five G's — Guidance, Grace, Guts, Gumption and God—and say if you believe in these five G's you are not supposed to be scared.

★ ★ ★

"But what if you don't have time, like me, just before a fight? Just before a fight I am really scared. I don't know what I am scared of but I know I am scared. Maybe it's that I will never get to see my friends or loved ones again. Or what they will do to me if they capture me. Or even dying. Am I prepared to meet my God?

"I don't know which of these things it may be. Maybe it won't be any of them. But the fact is, I am still afraid. What could be my problem? Please write and give me an answer before it is too late."

★ ★ ★

Well, I certainly hope and pray that it is not too late.

Now, what would you say in reply to this soldier? The first thing I said was: "I do not wonder that you are scared when just about to go into action to be under fire. Who wouldn't be? I would."

Then I mentioned several short passages from the Bible — passages which have tremendous power as mind-conditioners for overcoming fear. I suggested to the soldier that he memorize some of these thoroughly, so he could instantly call the words to mind in frightening moments.

★ ★ ★

For example: "Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest." Or St. Paul's great affirmation that "neither death nor life . . . neither the present nor the future . . . nothing in all creation" shall ever separate us from God's love.

I do not know what part of the country this young man hails from. Arkansas? Nebraska? Massachusetts? California? His letter gives no clue.

★ ★ ★

A fellow born somewhere under the American Flag and ready to die for it if necessary — that is all I know about him. But wherever his life may have started and wherever it takes him, be it Vietnam or wherever, God's presence and love are with him there.

The same is true for each of us. And to realize and remember this wonderful fact is the essence of overcoming fear. It is the basic remedy. We can apply it any time we choose.

★ ★ ★

When assailed by fear, the thing is to affirm: "God loves me and watches over me. We are all in His unfailing care."

This is the way to displace fear with faith. It dissolves and eliminates fear. And its greatest power is to help us do the right thing even when we are afraid. Faith does not give immunity from fear, but it enables us to stand up to fears and act courageously in spite of them.

Dr. Smiley Blanton, the psychiatrist, used to tell how a certain Confederate captain of cavalry behaved one day when the call came to mount and ride into battle. He had a good idea what this battle would be like and he was really scared. He realized he was trembling — all over.

★ ★ ★

Looking down at his shaking legs, he said, "If you knew where I am taking you today, you wouldn't shake — you would collapse!" Then he jumped on his horse and led his men forward to the attack.

To have that kind of courage while feeling terrified is real bravery. And by affirming God's presence any human being can develop it. Faith lifts us above the normal fear experienced at times of real danger, so we can control our fears instead of them controlling us.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps we who have nothing worse to fear than possible minor setbacks or small inconveniences could benefit from measuring these against the situation of an American soldier thinking long thoughts in the dark night in some rice paddy or jungle, where at any moment may come the spatter of machine-gun fire or the bursting of a bomb.

Voice of the People:

'Deep Foreign Aid Cuts Not Cause of Revolution'

In his defense of foreign aid Secretary of State Rusk claimed deep cuts would result in violent revolution and the overthrow of moderate leaders in developing countries. The Secretary explained, "the developing countries are determined to fight their old enemies: hopelessness and poverty . . . we are not 'spending money on those foreigners' but are building peace in the world."

★ ★ ★

Revolution breaks out in the underdeveloped countries but not because of deep foreign aid cuts. Such cuts seldom, if ever, have been made. The reason for violent revolution is too much foreign aid. Here follows the prevailing pattern for revolution:

At AID's expense, young men for developing countries are sent to the U.S. for training. Their pay and way of life are on a grandure unknown in their native land. Many return home misfits, find their own government inadequate, perhaps corrupt, but rich in U.S. dollars. With weapons and training provided by AID, youth frequently revolts against his own government.

Such violent revolutions have taken place in South Korea, South Vietnam, Thailand, Greece, Turkey, Congo, Ghana, Cuba, Brazil, Ecuador, Bolivia, Guatemala, and Argentina.

★ ★ ★

The claim that foreign aid is building foreign markets is also empty. U.S. confiscatory taxes and high wages have priced us out of foreign markets. For the sake of our threatened financial position, foreign aid should be ended now.

Views Efforts to Bring Business Downtown

Being a lifelong resident of Pontiac, I have seen this City when business was at its peak and when it was at ebb tide. I favor any possible plan which will put our city back in the black. The parking mall between Huron and Lawrence is lovely but I can't see how this is going to bring business back to the downtown area. Parking fees will have to be eliminated if we ever hope to attract shoppers to the business district.

Discusses Need to Teach Negro History

Questions that appeared in this column need to be answered concerning Negro history classes. First, the name should be "The Negro in American History." As of now it is elective to high school students.

★ ★ ★

We wish to show the many contributions to American technology, social system and culture that the black man has made. Up to now, according to the white history books, the black existed only as a slave and troublemaker. The few exceptions that are mentioned are Nat Turner, Washington Carver, Fredrick Douglas. One of the first men killed in American Revolution was a black man. Black men fought alongside the white men of Lexington and Concord. Your history books are filled with white inventors that helped create the new technology, but is one black man mentioned?

★ ★ ★

Textbooks up to now do not teach history, they teach white man's propaganda or what he wishes to believe about himself. What the black man seeks is justice to his rightful place in the pages of all history books. Pupils needing this knowledge most are the white students.

Question and Answer

Does Oakland County have a mandatory retirement age for the Sheriff? If the sheriff would retire during his term, how is his successor chosen?

INTERESTED VOTERS

REPLY

There is no mandatory retirement age for sheriff. Should he retire while in office, Michigan Statutes Annotated 6.715 prescribes that the Judge of Probate, County Clerk and Prosecuting Attorney shall appoint a person to serve the remainder of his term. However, Sheriff Irons says he has no intention of retiring while in office.

Washington Notebook:

Capital's Tourist Picture Is Grim

By NOEL GROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—"My family and I were planning to come to Washington to see the sights," the San Francisco an told a staff member of the Washington Chamber recently, "but we decided there wasn't much left to see."

"Isn't it true," he added, "that many of the government buildings were actually seized and burned?"

★ ★ ★

Such misconceptions about the April riots here are the bane of Washington businessmen this spring, who have seen their tourist trade drop off as much as 20 per cent as a result of racial unrest.

Actually, it's a good time to see the sights, some tourists have been heard to comment. Crowds are way down, the exception, of course, being Memorial Day weekend, when thousands will pour in for the Poor People's demonstrations.

★ ★ ★

"My wife and I went around to some of the monuments and the National Gallery of Art this morning," said a New York visitor, "and there were no crowds to speak of at all."

"Few people realize," said Tom Peacock of the Washington Chamber, "that the destruction from this spring's riots were mostly in ghetto areas, away from downtown."

And the Poor People's campaign? "We have faith in their leaders, who are espousing nonviolence," said Peacock. "Besides, their shantytown along the reflecting pool will probably be of a great deal of interest to many people who visit here."

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, the tourist picture for April and May has been grim, he admitted. Hotel business is down an average of 20 per cent. The various monuments and government buildings around town have suffered in varying degrees, ranging from 7 per cent up to 20.

Strangely enough, the only monument to show a gain this year is the Lincoln Memorial, but Chamber officials are hard-pressed to explain it. Attendance was up substantially even before the Poor People's "Resurrection City" was set up just across the street.

On the surface, the extra homage to the "Great Emancipator" would seem to tie in somehow with racial disturbances, but no one can figure out exactly how.

He is the son of the Peter E. Meaghers of Onagon Trail. The bride elect and her fiance are students at the University of Michigan. An August 31 wedding is planned.

An early September wedding is planned by Ann Marie Auten and Wilfred E. Mazur Jr. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Duaine Auten of Athens, Mich., and the senior W. E. Mazurs of Ivanhoe Street, West Bloomfield Township. The bride elect is a senior at Oakland University, her fiance's alma mater.

College Session Set for June 4

For the fourth time Oakland University's Continuum Center For Women is offering a meeting for women who are considering going to college after a pause in their educational pursuits.

The program, entitled, "Entree Into College," will be held June 4 at OU from 1-3 p.m. in the Gold Room of the Oakland Center.

TOPIC

A variety of topics will be presented. Dr. Gerald Self, Continuum Center psychologist, will present a brief talk on "The Psychological Problems of College Re-entry." William Jorns, Continuum Center Educational Adviser, will discuss "The Many Aspects of Decision-making."

William Jones, Associate Director of Admissions at OU, will describe the various arrangements and procedures related to a woman's re-entry and stay at college.

★ ★ ★

On the same program will be a woman who has already returned to school. Featured will be Mrs. Jo Ann Robins who will describe her own problems and hardhips, joys and rewards.

Registrations should be sent to the Continuum Center, Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan 48063. There is no charge for this meeting.

Sports Outfit in the Pulpit Isn't Suitable

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me if it is ever correct for a minister to wear slacks and sports jacket when he is preaching from the pulpit. We have a new minister and we like him. But we would like to see him wear a dress suit on the occasions when he does not wear his robe. The other men in the church wear dress suits.—Mrs. X.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. X: There is a trend today toward making church services less formal, in keeping with our times, and in hopes of appealing to more young people. Popular music, acting during the service, and less formal dress are evidences of this.

However, this can be carried too far, making religion and the ministry such an ordinary thing that one feels no respect or reverence for it.

Many faiths do not require that their clergymen wear special vestments, but when that is so, the minister should dress in such a way as to show his respect for his position, and to set an example for others.

A dress suit is certainly more appropriate than sports clothes in church, and I hope that the men in your congregation may be able to tactfully point this out to your new minister.

Bad Taste Is No Laughing Matter; Inform Your Husband of This Fact

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What does a woman do when her husband won't keep his hands off her in public? Whenever George (not his real name) and I go out, he is forever slapping or pinching my behind, and he doesn't care who sees him. It is very embarrassing.

ABBY

Also when we go visiting, he keeps at least one hand on or above my knee the entire time we are there. It has gotten so I am ashamed to visit our friends. When we go to a movie, it's just terrible. I have to keep fighting him off soon as the lights go out because his hands begin to roam.

George and I have been married for two years now, and he has done this ever since we were married. I have tried to talk some sense into him, but he laughs it off and says I should be glad he finds me so desirable. I can't laugh it off. It's too embarrassing. What should I do?

PERTURBED

DEAR PERTURBED: Bad taste is no laughing matter, and your husband is exhibiting bad taste. Warn him beforehand that you will remove his roaming hands if he paws, pats or pinches you in public. Then, gently but firmly do so.

I would not ordinarily advise a woman to deliberately sit beyond her husband's reach in public—but in your case I will make an exception.

DEAR ABBY: I've got a problem that beats all. I am 32 years old, divorced, with two children.

My mother won't let me go out with men. She says it's disgraceful for a divorced woman to be seen with men. (My mother is a widow and I live with her.)

I can't stay in the house 24 hours a day. I'll go mad! It has been like this for four years. What can I do? Sign me

A "PRISONER"

DEAR "PRISONER:" I don't know what your financial circumstances are, but there must be a way for you to leave your mother's bed and board and make a life of your own. You may have to make some material sacrifices, but it's preferable to being a prisoner.

If you can't see this, at age 32, stay where you are. Your freedom might bring you more problems than your restrictions.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and I like this boy named Ricky, but he likes me only as a friend and that isn't what I want. I want him to like me as a girl friend. Ricky likes another girl right now as a girl friend but she isn't at all cute, makes average grades, has long hair (that's usually greasy) and everybody says she doesn't have as good a personality as I have.

Besides that, she tries to act sexy. Who do you think deserves him? And how can I get him away from her?

SECOND FIDDLE

DEAR SECOND FIDDLE: Regardless of who "deserves" him, the other girl has him, so be satisfied with second fiddle. (At least you're part of the orchestra.) And don't knock the competition or you'll never get a "beau."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: At every marriage ceremony I have ever attended, the preacher says, "I now pronounce you man and wife." Now if you stop and analyze it for a moment, it's all wrong. A preacher has the authority to pronounce a couple husband and wife, so why does he say "man" instead of "husband?" A man is a man, and a husband is a husband, and no one has the authority to pronounce a male a "man."

It would make just as much sense for the preacher to say, "I now pronounce you man and woman."

The point I wish to make, Abby is this: Just because something has been said for a hundred years, doesn't necessarily make it right.

Dr. Kenneth W. Jewell to Head Interlochen Vocal Department

INTERLOCHEN — Dr. Kenneth W. Jewell, widely known choir-director and for many years associated with the National Music Camp and the Interlochen Arts Academy, has been named chairman of the Academy's Voice Department.

In announcing the appointment, Dr. Karl Haas, Interlochen president, said it would become effective with the opening of the 1968-69 year in September and that Dr. Jewell also would continue to direct choral activities.

Dr. Jewell started teaching vocal and instrumental music at Romeo High School in 1934 after having taken a bachelor's degree in music education at Eastern Michigan University the previous June.

He remained there until 1942, meanwhile earning his master degree at the University of Michigan in 1941. From 1942 to 1957 he taught at Pershing High, Detroit, and from 1957 to 1964 at Osborne High, Detroit. In 1962 he was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of fine arts by Eastern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Retiring as a Detroit teacher in 1964, Dr. Jewell came to Interlochen as director of personnel and of the school's choirs. By 1967 the choral program had grown to a point that it required his full time and he relinquished his duties in personnel.

Dr. Jewell became associated with the National Music Camp as a choral director in 1949 and in 1962 started what have become the highly popular annual performances of Gilbert & Sullivan operettas. (His production this summer will be "Princess Ida.")

CHORALE

He was associate conductor of the Rackham Symphony Choir in Detroit from 1949 to 1962, then organized the famed Kenneth Jewell Chorale. This ensemble, the only professional group of its kind in the midwest, has given many concerts including appearances in concert series in Michigan and adjoining states.

★ ★ ★

The Chorale's most recent appearance in the area was at Christ Church Cranbrook for the "Bach at Cranbrook" Festival. In February, the group sang in Pontiac, in a concert sponsored by the Pontiac Area Federation of Women's Clubs.

It Pays to Advertise, Claims Suitor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dick Annotico, who wooed his girl in newspaper ads and radio commercials, finally has his answer.

It confirms the 37-year-old investment counselor's initial premise: It pays to advertise.

★ ★ ★

Annotico and Carole Appel, 26, a divorced mother of two, got their blood tests Monday, he said. They plan to obtain a wedding license later this week and be married within two months.

Miss Appel's acceptance followed public expressions of endearment.

MORE TIME

After going together two years and treating Miss Appel indifferently, Annotico said, he had a change of heart two months ago and proposed. Miss Appel, an interior designer, surprised him by deferring a decision.

So he started a campaign intended, he said, "to compensate somewhat for having treated her aloofly for two years."

★ ★ ★

First he sent her three records that sang of unrequited love. Then followed a three-foot-wide bouquet of flowers. Then a 500-word telegram. Then he bought a two-column advertisement in a newspaper.

"Carole Appel," it read, "I love you greater than life itself." He signed it with his initials.

Still without word from Miss Appel, he persisted, sending a rose and a 13-page love letter and placing paid commercials on radio.

Said Miss Appel: "His campaign showed a side of his personality that was a complete surprise. Now I love him just that much more . . . We're looking forward to a wonderful life together."

★ ★ ★

The wedding, Annotico said, will be private.

My Maxi-Chagrin in Mini Modes

By BETTY CANARY

Looking over the new fashions offered us, well, this beam in my eye may be complete misunderstanding but, in my defense, may I point out that most peculiar mode in the eye of the designer?

★ ★ ★

There is a choice this year, with several looks being in vogue, but my immediate decision was to try out the Darling Girl look. I've heard there is a bit of Scarlett O'Hara in every woman, and I'll go along with that.

I know I was relighted to discover this spring that I'd have a chance at a few draperies here and gathers there, along with some ruffles and bows. I was ready to agree with the fashion experts who say the new styles have wit as well as charm. Frankly, I could hardly wait to do some trying on.

Now, I can take a joke as well as the next person, but just because I want a bit of wit from the designers does not mean I expect them to be rolling in the aisles.

★ ★ ★

I tried the Darling Girl look. I thought I could grow accustomed to seeing myself in a dress that looked as though I had cut it out of my daughter's printed organdy bedspread with a sash made from my shower curtain. One glance into the mirror proved that I could never adjust to walking around looking like a limp lampshade.

The Mysterious East look tempted me. I was determined to go the Liz Taylor way, even though I so seldom am yachting on the Thames. I tried, but I had to give it up also. And I hated giving it up because I could imagine myself at our next dinner party, all flowing organza and ankle bracelets.

SNAG

I even conjured up a dessert I would call Ali Baba au Rhum. Where I hit a snag was in deciding on whether to redecorate the house to resemble a yacht or the garden of Allah.

Assuring myself that, really, I am the simple tailored type, I decided to adopt the Gangster Thirties look. All I need do here is practice my languid, leggy walk and hunt around for a submachine gun, is what I thought.

I hurried home with an outfit of midiskirt, beret and cardigan jacket. My enthusiasm was dampened when my husband asked, "Which one are you — Bonnie or Clyde?" Oh, I really didn't mind giving up the look, anyway. Actually, smoking that cigar was killing me.

Care of Sweaters

Button sweaters before washing them to help retain their shape. It also helps to keep the buttonholes from stretching. Washing sweaters inside out will prevent matting and pilling. Pilling means those little fuzzy balls that appear on a sweater's surface after several wearings. A wire brush may be used to remove them.

AP Wirephoto

When Gov. George Romney honored 50 award winners in Lansing Tuesday for "vigorous promotion of the State nationally and internationally," Mrs. Rita McKay, publicist for a Detroit hotel, added a touch of feminine glamour to the otherwise all-male group.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today there is a real revival of interest in exercise. This has been sparked by research and studies concerning its value to health, especially in avoiding heart disease and hardening of the arteries.

In the United States the late President John F. Kennedy helped activate this movement, and the famous heart specialist, Dr. Paul Dudley White, solidified it. Dr. White took care of President Eisenhower when he had his heart attack in 1955.

He is a great advocate of exercise and most enthusiastic about bicycle riding. He has said, "The better the legs, the clearer the brain." Dr. White is 81 years old and practices what he preaches.

There are some sports and outdoor activities folks can safely enjoy all through their lives. Bicycle riding is one of them. It can be as mild as one wishes to make it. It also has the advantage of getting you outdoors, and into scenic and lovely countryside. It can be a project all members of the family can enjoy together. It has no age limit!

BIKEWAYS

Bikeways which provide safe riding are springing up everywhere. In the United States an estimated 6,300 miles of marked bikeways have appeared since the first "safety route" was opened in Homestead, Florida in 1962. This doesn't include many paths and trails.

In New York City Central Park is closed to automobiles on weekends, and that city is planning a 50 mile trail for bicycles through a vast network of streets, connecting many scattered parks.

Bikeways are appearing everywhere. California has one of the most ambitous plans, that of connecting San Diego to Oregon with a bike trail.

★ ★ ★

Bike clubs are forming as new bikeways are being planned and old ones expanded. Jogging clubs are also popular many places. Yes, people are beginning to use their legs again! Bicycling is one sport women can enjoy at any age, with their boy friends, husbands, children and grandchildren.

Uniting Dogs With Owners Is Her Hobby

GERMANTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Angela Romelli is a matchmaker. She matches lost or stolen dogs with their masters, making both the animals and humans happy in the process.

For the past three years, Mrs. Romelli has been watching lost-and-found dog ads in area newspapers. She indexes the ads in ledgers and, when she pairs up a lost dog with one that has been found, she gets on the telephone to bring the owner and finder together.

"It's amazing how often losers and finders will miss each other's ads," she points out. "Or a person loses a dog. He advertises and if he doesn't hear anything for a few days, he gives up."

Mrs. Romelli's good samaritan work began in 1965 when she found a beagle and advertised. She had 40 callers. Although the beagle didn't belong to any of them, she realized how hard it was for owners to find their lost pets and decided to help them.

ROAD TO JERICHO — Some people drive cars, some ride the bus but the majority walk in Israel. Here is an Arab walking toward Jerusalem. The Jericho road from the Dead Sea winds through the wilderness of Judea some 25 miles to Jerusalem. The site is marked on the roadside and the wall of the old inn still stands where the good Samaritan helped the man by the side of the road.

GARDEN OF GETHSEMANE—Olive trees nearly 2,000 years old grace the Garden of Gethsemane with their gnarled trunks and gray green leaves. Mrs. James Millis of Lake Angelus is shown near the center looking over the valley between the garden and the Old City of Jerusalem. The Golden Gate of the wall may be seen in the distance.

Visit Mount of Olives

Holy Land Group in Jerusalem, Jericho

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third of a series of articles on a tour to Europe and the Bible lands with Dr. and Mrs. Tom Malone by Mary Anglemier, church editor of The Pontiac Press. The third stop with the group of 25 was Jerusalem — the Holy City.)

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Church Editor

As we left Cyprus for Israel I carried my huge orange given me by our guide in Nicosia. When showing my passport in Tel - Aviv, I asked if my orange could go into the country.

The desk official said "O yes, but we have bigger and better oranges in Israel." He was almost right for we had oranges about the same size and so delicious.

★ ★ ★

Because of the tension between Israel and Jordan, there were no planes to take us to Jerusalem so we rolled over the hills and valleys by bus. It was dark and nearly midnight when we arrived at our hotel.

Early the next morning we were taken to the Mount of Olives and Garden of Gethsemane.

From the beginning of our trip I dreaded going to the Garden where Jesus had cried out to God in His agony, knowing He would be betrayed by Judas, arrested, tried and crucified on the cross.

★ ★ ★

Somehow I felt terribly unworthy to even step inside the garden. But something happened when I entered. Flowers were everywhere, the sun was shining and a wave of peace came over me.

As I walked along the flower-bordered paths and gazed upon the century-old olive trees and a black and white kitten sleeping in the sun, it was as if He were saying "I'm glad you came." And I was.

The Basilica of Gethsemane and Garden are cared for by the Franciscan Fathers of the Catholic Church.

ST. STEPHEN'S GATE

From the Road to Jericho we walked up the steep incline to St. Stephen's Gate, one of the seven gates to the Old City now in use. The eighth gate known as the Golden Gate will open at the coming of the Messiah both Christians and Jews believe.

The Old City is fascinating and very dear to Christians as the city that saw the death and resurrection of the son of God.

The monuments and even the stones speak to us of the love of Christ.

★ ★

We visited the underground cave or grotto where Jesus' disciples met with Him and gathered for meetings after the crucifixion when Christians were martyred for their faith.

Near the eastern gate of St. Stephen, within the wall is the church of St. Anne and probatic pool where the blind man was supposed to have been healed.

Our walk in the Old City took us to where the Tower Antonia stood when Christ was tried and condemned.

WAY OF THE CROSS

From this area begins the Way of the Cross which every Friday at 3 p.m. the Franciscan Fathers follow along the Via Dolorosa. Christians and pilgrims join the group.

We walked the narrow street filled with people, and donkeys loaded with vegetables, merchandise, hay and fruit. It was the street Christ walked carrying the cross to Calvary.

★ ★ ★

The street was steep and trying with only a hand bag to carry.

The Old City bazaar just can't be described. You have to be there.

Along the narrow street about 10 feet wide are small shops on both sides. A leg of lamb might hang at the front of a shop with dresses and perfumes next door. This is all out in the open.

There are baked goods, fruit, candy, meats, clothing, trinkets, jewelry, beads and bread. It seemed like bedlam but so interesting and everyone perfectly behaved.

The Church of the Pater Noster is built where Jesus gave the Lord's prayer to His disciples. The prayer written in 53 languages adrons the walls of the colonnade of the church.

The day we headed for Jericho the road was closed. The Israeli and Jordanians were fighting again.

But the next morning guards let us through. As we passed tanks and trucks returning from the Jordan River where the fighting took place, Israeli troops called out "The show is over."

The road winding through the wilderness of Judea drops to 1,392 feet below sea level when it reaches Jericho and the Dead Sea.

SHEPHERDS

Shepherds were on the hillsides tending their sheep and seeking a green pasture among the barren rocks.

Orange blossoms in Jericho were so fragrant they perfumed the whole town.

Just north of the city is where Jesus was supposed to have been baptized by John the Baptist but because of hostile relations between Israel and Jordan we were not permitted there.

★ ★ ★

Everyone tasted the bitter water of the Dead Sea. According to our guide, six million tons of water flow into the Dead Sea every day, and the same amount evaporates daily. The Jordan River flows into the sea but there is no outlet.

★ ★ ★

I took an afternoon off to have an Arab cab driver take me to Ramallah, just 10 miles north of Jerusalem, to visit the Evangelical Home for Refugee Girls. Mary Grupp, one of the founders, is a friend of Mrs. Maxwell Shadley of 94 Ottawa.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Shadley, a member of Guild No. 11 of All Saints Episcopal Church, interested the group in making dresses for the girls and assisting with the support of the home.

WAR IN 1967

During the six-day war in June 1967, the home was bombed and two little girls killed. Miss Grupp was injured.

I arrived just in time for tea with an Episcopal bishop and his wife from Nigeria, and a bishop and his wife from Switzerland. The Episcopal Church contributes to the support of the home.

★ ★ ★

Miss Grupp took me through the home gay with color. There are 85 girls here presently. A school is under construction. When the chapel is completed it will be dedicated to the two little girls killed by the bombing.

★ ★ ★

As members of the group gathered for dinner we learned Mrs. Paul DeGrandchamp had not only made the raspberry red suit she was wearing but all the clothes she had with her on the trip.

She even sews for her daughters.

The suit was lovely as was the navy crepe with white ruching at the neck and wrist length sleeves.

On March 23 we left early in the morning for Nazareth and the sea of Galilee.

CHILDREN WAVE—Children the world over are the same. Israeli boys and girls in the picture waved and called "Hello," "Hello," "Hello," until we waved and called back to them. We had just visited the Church of the Pater Noster, built on the site where Jesus taught the disciples the Lord's Prayer.

TOMB OF LAZARUS—The entrance to the tomb of Lazarus is shown here at Bethany. It was at this tomb that Jesus spoke these words: "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (John 11: 25-26.) Candles presently light the interior of the tomb built of rocks.

BETHANY — Not far from Jerusalem lies the village of Axanyeh, the site of the ancient village of Bethany. It was here Jesus often came to rest at the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus, His friends. Flowers surrounded the entrance to this church. The ruins of the house of Lazarus were pointed out. It was in Bethany that a woman came with an alabaster box of precious ointment and anointed Christ.

TORAH SCROLL — Mike and Debbie Peters of 3860 Aquarina, Waterford Township, look over the Torah Scroll to be dedicated for use of the congregation of the New Temple. The service, scheduled for 10:30 a.m. on June 2, will be held in the Eagle School, 14 Mile Road at Middle Belt, West Bloomfield Township. The sacred scroll hand inscribed by quill on parchment will be dedicated on the Festival of Shavout. The day commemorates the time when Moses received the Ten Commandments on tablets of stone.

Purchased by Temple Youth

To Dedicate Torah Scroll

A Torah scroll liberated from the Nazis in 1945 will be dedicated for use by the congregation of the New Temple of Bloomfield Hills at the Eagle School, 14 Mile and Middlebelt on June 2.

★ ★ ★

The sacred scroll commemorates the giving of the Ten Commandments to Moses on Mt. Sinai centuries ago.

The special ceremonies accompanying the dedication will symbolize the passing of the Jewish heritage, spiritual and ethical, from one generation to another.

Young Robert Mitchell will deliver the Torah to Julian Scott, president of the New Temple, on behalf of the young people who earned the money to purchase it and who have traced its long and tragic history over the past several months.

★ ★ ★

This particular scroll was commissioned for the Jewish community of Taussig in what is now Czechoslovakia during the 19th century.

SENT TO PRAGUE

When the Nazis invaded that city and deported its Jews to extermination camps, the Torah was sent to Prague for safe keeping.

After World War I the Jewish community realized that its numbers had been so decimated that many of the scrolls would be unused.

So they sent the Taussig Torah to the World Union for Progressive Judaism in London for refurbishing and for use by another congregation.

★ ★ ★

The World Union informed its constituent synagogues just when the New Temple decided it should have a Torah of its own. The one presently in use was on a temporary loan from Temple Beth El, Detroit.

SEEK SURVIVOR

Young people of the New Temple are seeking a survivor of the city of Taussig (now known as Domazlice) so that he or she may be honored at the dedication service.

Mrs. Elliot Field of the congregation is preparing a red velvet mantle for the scroll.

The Torah committee is working with the Cranbrook Academy of Art on a design for the scroll's silver appointments.

The Torah committee includes Dr. Irving Friedman, Mrs. Martin Kabcenell, Mrs. Janet Lynn, Mrs. Morris Mersky, Rose Vainstein and Rabbi Ernst J. Conrad.

JORDAN RIVER—This picture of the Jordan River was taken north of Jericho near where Jesus was baptized. The Jordan rises from the melting snows of Mount Hermon and runs into the Sea of Galilee. It flows some 200 miles around mountains and through the desert before pouring six million tons of water daily into the Dead Sea. The same amount of water evaporates every day from the sea. There seems to be a light cloud hovering over the sea constantly.

CHURCH HISTORY

266, gospels, one the original apostles' gospel — then the original Catholic gospel — Now what the Apostles preached is found in the book of Acts. The book is called "The Acts of the Apostles" — Jesus put his gospel in the hands of the Apostles. And the Book of Acts is our history of what the apostles preached — then we have History of the original Catholic Church. The Mother of all Trinity or the founder of the Trinity gospel, but since 325 A.D., there has been added to the Trinity about 264 different gospels of the Trinity. Now this is true fact, ask your pastor or priest when your church started and who started it and why they didn't preach what the Apostles preached. If Trinity, why not Catholic? Because the Catholic are the original trinity — don't say I think you are wrong. This is facts and I can give written proof — if you want it just drop me a card or letter.

Big Jump in Centers

Camping Interest Grows

The use of Michigan camping areas is expected to jump more than 10 per cent this summer, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"This means that the weekend camper especially will have a harder time than ever before in locating a campsite, unless he knows where and how to find one quickly," states Jerry E. Fisher, Auto Club's touring manager.

Last year alone, Michigan — the third largest manufacturer of camping vehicles in the nation — produced 28,800 units. If all the 1967 Michigan manufactured vehicles were to head for Michigan state parks on any one given weekend, there would be over a 200 per cent site shortage.

"Fortunately, many of the units manufactured in Michigan are sold across the nation," adds Fisher.

PRODUCTION UP

Nationally the production of all recreational vehicles was up 10.6 per cent while the dollar volume rise was 12.6 per cent for 1967 over 1966.

These factors point out that not only will there be more campers at parks than ever before, but there will be bigger and more sophisticated equipment in use.

★ ★ ★

The Recreational Vehicle Institute states that the 1967 national production of travel trailers as compared with 1966 production was up 8.3 per cent, camping trailers up 9 per cent, truck campers up 13 per cent and motor homes up 73 per cent.

"Knowing in advance where camping vacancies will exist and what facilities are available will be of great importance this summer," states Fisher.

To aid the camper, Auto Club has compiled a listing of 67 state parks with almost 13,000 sites available to the public. The above map and information not only tells the location of parks, what facilities are available but lists phone numbers for the first time.

In addition to the growing number of campers throughout the state, Auto Club points out that Coho fishermen along Lake Michigan from Benton Harbor north to Harbor Springs will add to the usually crowded conditions at parks in West Michigan.

AREAS SUGGESTED

For those who want to increase their chances of finding a site at state parks with the first stop, Auto Club suggests these 17 areas which usually have vacancies even over the Fourth of July weekend when camping pressure reaches its peak:

Southern Lower Michigan — Bald Mountain and Ortonville.

Northern Lower Michigan — Bay City, Benzie, Cheboygan, Day, Gladwin, Hoeft, Onaway and White Cloud.

Upper Peninsual — Fayette, Lake Gogebic, McLain, Muskallonge Lake, Porcupine Mountains, Twin Lakes and Van Riper.

"There are also many privately owned parks in the state in addition to the county and township campgrounds plus state and national forests which have vacancies all summer," states Fisher. "However, when visiting some private or township parks, check and be sure what facilities are available and the cost before registering or getting settled in a spot," Fisher warns.

★ ★ ★

One township park near the Whitney Drain off US-23 (just north of Tawas City) charged $2.50 per night with no shower in operation during the April smelt season. Conditions were extremely crowded. Nearby Tawas Point State Park had all facilities (including trailer sanitation disposal and facilities for filling a camping vehicle's water tank) plus showers in operation for $2 nightly, he said.

Auto Club offers two tips for the weekend camper who wants to have the most success site hunting this summer:

- Avoid looking for a choice site late Fridays. Take what is available. Between 3:30 and 5 p.m. Fridays, preferred sites usually are filled.

PICK THE AREA

- Pick the geographical area in which you wish to camp. Choose two or three campgrounds. When within a half-hour's drive of an intended destination, stop and telephone the preferred park. If it is full, you can start checking alternate destinations. (Although many private parks offer a reservation service, all state parks operate on a first-come, first-served basis.)

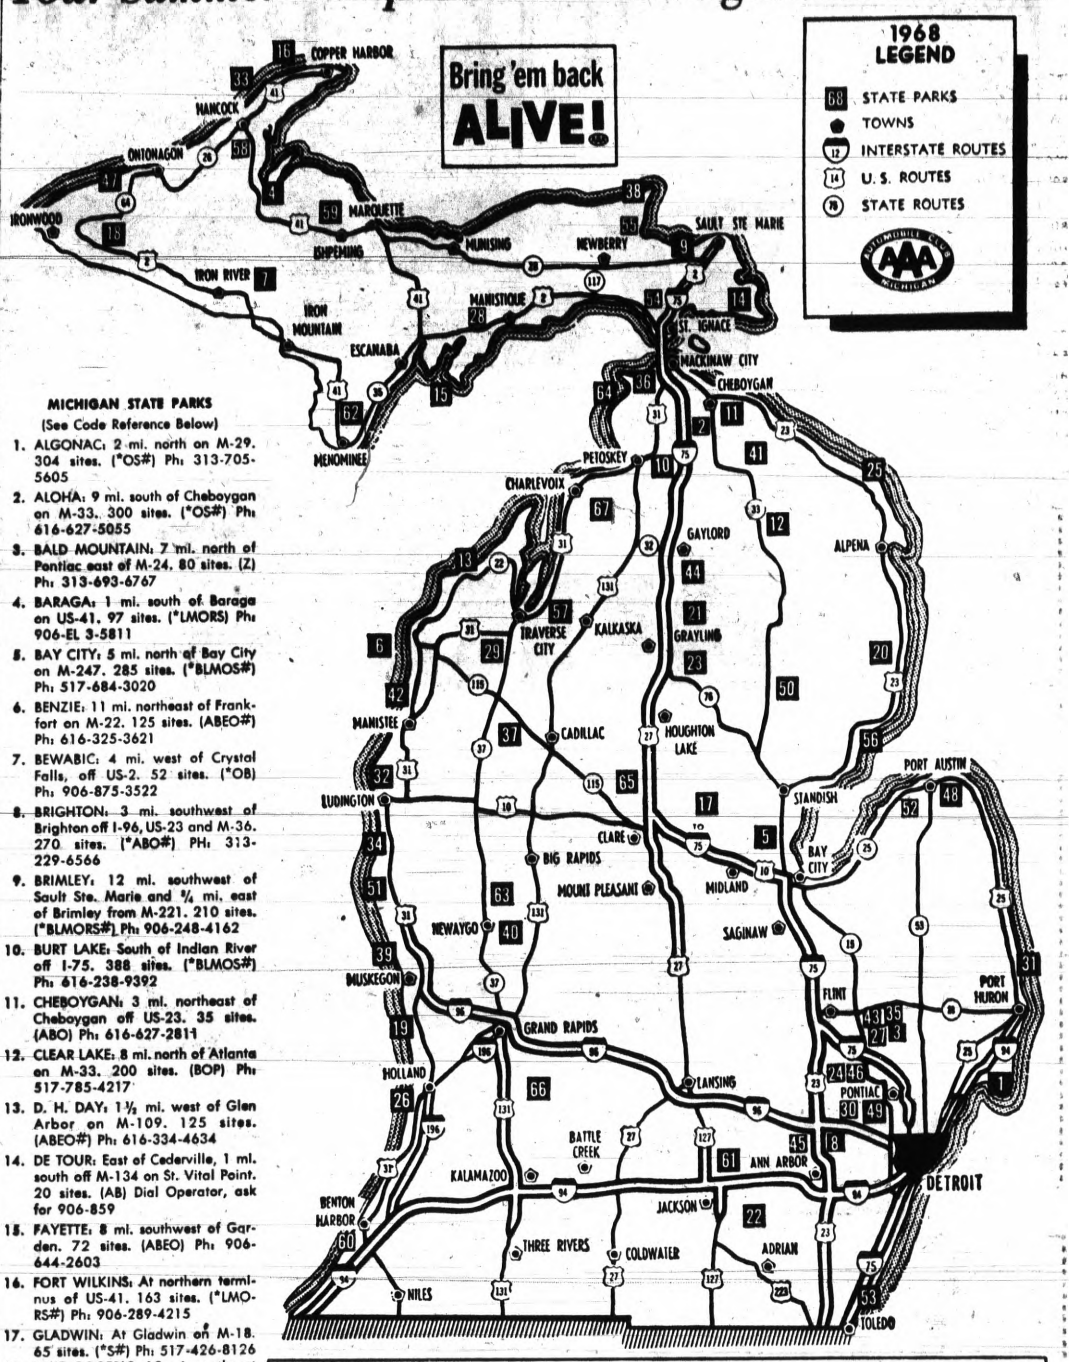

★ ★ ★

"The family that takes a week-long camping trip will have the advantage as usual," states Fisher. "Although there is always weekend competition for sites, campers can usually have their pick by Sunday afternoon, except for a few parks such as Holland and Warren Dunes where people wait in line almost any day," Fisher says.

A $3 annual Motor Vehicle Permit is necessary for residents to enter state parks, or a $1 daily permit can be purchased. Non-resident fees for entry permits are $5 annual and $2 daily. In addition, there are daily camping fees: $2 nightly at parks with all modern facilities; $1.75 nightly at parks without all sites offering electricity, plus 25 cents added if electricity is used, and $1.50 per night where no modern facilities are available, plus 25 cents if electricity is available and used.

The American Water Ski Association estimates water skiing enthusiasts now number more than 10-million.

Plans Modernized

Resorts Offer Variety

Just a few generations ago when a family went on vacation it was to an American Plan (AP) resort, which meant they were provided lodging and meals. The meals usually were served at a family table.

The American Plan resort still is popular, but it has been modernized, and added to the accommodations are other facilities and activities.

Amrican Plan operations today include many things — the same basic accommodations and fine food as always, but the resorts, hotels, ranches and other places also offer a variety of recreational facilities.

These usually include beaches or a pool and many have both, riding horses, golf, hayrides, tennis, shuffleboard, summer theater, musicals, movies and other attractions, all available at one rate.

There are new plush places that attract families in summer, conventions in spring and fall and turn magically into ski lodges at the first snow fall.

The federal government's Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission estimates that more than 10-million acres of new boating and fishing waters will be created by impoundments within the next 10 years.

EASY FOR KIDS — Youngsters find it easy to put up a Pop-Tent as no stakes are needed and it can be moved once it is up. It weighs only 13 pounds and gives the kids their own backyard campsite.

Small Fry Can Be Happy With Back Yard Campout

Camping is a family affair and some of the most enthusiastic campers around are junior-size.

In fact they've taken to camping so wholeheartedly many youngsters have their own tent set up beside their parents'.

If you've ever wished you could stretch the size of your pick-up camper, camp trailer or tent trailer, you might follow suit.

Unlike adding more space to a house, an "extra room" is easy to come by at the campsite.

EASILY STOWED

A lightweight, compact, easily stowed tent for two is the answer and the perfect camping accessory to your present camping facility.

If any of your campers are on the sunny side of their teens they'll want to claim this spare room as their domain.

★ ★ ★

The ideal tent for your "extra room" is a Pop-Tent which pops into shape. A ten-year-old can set up the tent and strike it by himself.

★ ★ ★

This small tent is seven feet in diameter and can be set up in less than two minutes. It can even be moved after it is up.

Youngsters like to be by themselves once in awhile, and a tent of their own adds to their enjoyment of camping.

MANY REFINEMENTS

Actually there are so many refinements to camping nowadays with well-equipped trailers and campers, youngsters often feel short-changed in the getting-close-to-nature department.

★ ★ ★

Now they can have the best of two worlds. They'll be snug and safe only a few yards away from your camper or trailer, yet they'll have the feeling they are camping out alone.

Kensington Playground Is One of Best

One of the finest year-around playgrounds in Michigan is Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford and southeast of Brighton. Fishing, boating, swimming, golfing, picnicking, hiking, canoeing, scenic drives, walks along the nature trails, a Nature Center and Island Queen "Paddle-Boat" excursion tours are among the attractions, with many facilities also open in the spring, fall and winter.

★ ★ ★

Attendance in 1967 was 1,761,000, the lowest in 10 years and below the attendance record of 1966 when over 2,140,000 persons visited Kensington Park, to top the previous high of 2,130,000 set in 1965. Kensington Park opened in 1948 and attendance that first year was about 95,000 persons. The largest single day was recorded on Sunday, June 30, 1963 when over 51,000 persons visited the 4,300 acre recreational site.

★ ★ ★

Kensington Park is located 33 miles from downtown Detroit via the John Lodge (I-696) Freeway, which connects with the Grand River (I-96) Freeway which carries traffic northwest toward Brighton. The park is 20 miles from Ann Arbor, 30 miles from Ypsilanti, 50 miles from Lansing and 50 miles from Flint and relatively close to many other communities in southeastern Michigan.

Need Clean Air

When getting you car ready for a vacation trip, remember to check the air cleaner. According to Champion Spark Plug Company, 9,000 gallons of air is used for every gallon of gasoline.

★ ★ ★

If the air cleaner is dirty, air supply will be cut leading to improper gas-air mixture and poor performance. Air cleaners should be cleaned every four months.

At Holland

New Attractions for Tourists

Two of Michigan's newest tourist attractions — the only authentic Dutch windmill in the United States and the largest musical fountain in the world — are found in Holland.

★ ★ ★

Here, too in one of the midwest's most attractive vacation areas, are fine and varied visitor accommodations, water sports unlimited on Lake Michigan and inland lakes and famous spring and summer festivals.

VACATIONLAND

From Lake Macatawa, and the city of Holland on its shores northward to Holland State Park, Port Sheldon, Grand Haven, Ferrysburg and Spring Lake, a distance of approximately 30 miles — is delightful as a vacationland.

★ ★ ★

Typical of the old country, is its old-country hospitality that brought about the annual Tulip Time festival 38 years ago and has grown steadily in its popularity each year.

More than a half million visitors from every section of the nation, from The Netherlands and other countries come to join in the gala spirit of the celebration, now rated one of the three top festive events of the United States.

Another highlight for visitors to Holland is the city's new Windmill Island Park, featuring the only authentic Dutch windmill in the United States. The 200-year-old, 60-ton mill with 80 foot wings, was moved to Holland from Rotterdam by special permission of the Netherlands government. The cultural and historical Windmill Island project, costing nearly a half million dollars, is open daily from May through October.

Beaver Island Luring Retreat

Thirty-two miles out in blue Lake Michigan off the Charlevoix harbor, Beaver Island is one of the world's most unique vacation retreats.

Here are historical sights dating back more than a century, water sports of all kinds, fine accommodations and mile upon mile of scenic beauty for relaxation or recreation.

Known as "America's Emerald Isle," Beaver Island, 14 miles long and six miles wide, is the largest and most extensively developed island in a group of 13.

CARRY VISITORS

The motor ship Beaver Islander, and airplanes, operated from Charlevoix carry visitors to St. James, only community on the island. In the summer the ferry makes two round trips daily and planes leave at convenience of passengers.

★ ★ ★

Many visitors take their cars to the island; others leave them on the mainland. Taxi service and car rentals are available on the island. The island also has an airport, scene of one of the nation's largest Dawn Patrol meetings the first Sunday in October.

★ ★ ★

Settled first in the early 1840's by a colony of Mormans under leadership of James Jesse Strang, who was enthroned as the only king ever to rule within the United States, Beaver Island was taken over 100 years ago by a handy band of Irish fishermen after fall of the Mormon empire with the assassination of Strang.

★ ★ ★

On the island are seven inland lakes, three of them providing good fishing for game and panfish. The 54 square miles of land on the island is virtually one forest.

Get Barbecue Gear in Shape for Quick Use

The aromas of charcoal broiled chicken and beef are beginning to waft across backyards and camping grounds of America as the barbecue season shifts into high gear.

Now's the time to get in early on pleasant weather, lengthening days and wholesome food, by pulling out the barbecue grill or habachi stove and readying it for the season ahead. Here are a few hints to improve your barbecue:

GOOD CLEANING

First, be sure your equipment is in good working order. This means cleaning dirt and grease left over from last summer, and removing winter's accumulated rust. A mild abrasive scouring pad such as a nylon Scotch-brite pad will do the job best, since it removes dirt and rust without gouging metal, and won't splinter and flake like steel wool.

★ ★ ★

When your equipment is clean, give the outer parts a going-over with a rust-inhibiting paint. This will smarten its looks and make it more presentable for company and outdoor events.

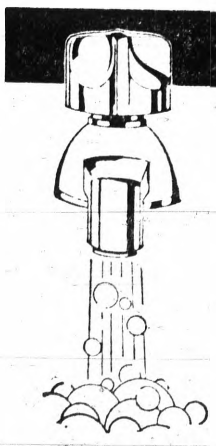

You can improve your cooking (and make clean-up easier) if you line the inside of the pan with heavy-duty aluminum foil, then put a few pebbles over the foil to help get air down through the charcoal.

During 1967-68, manufacturers of snowmobiles will produce some 150,000 units, ranging in retail price from $700 to $1,700, estimates the Johnson Motors News Bureau.

Placed on a patio, the picturesque gas lamp sets the stage for a relaxing evening in an outdoor "living" room. It lends a pleasant note of grace and charm to even the most informal occasions. Its gentle, ever-present radiance provides a warm welcome to guests — stretches outdoor fun into evening hours. It offers protection against intruders, too. Gas lamps are available in several styles, from "gay nineties" to "ultra-modern." Choose one to fit your decor.

It's easy to be an expert patio chef with a convenient gas grill. You'll have all the fun and flavor of outdoor cooking but none of the messy preliminaries...all you do with a gas-fired grill is light it and cook! You don't have to bother with the muss and fuss of starting a fire, then waiting for hot coals. And once the tantalizing, appetizing aroma wafts across the yard, your guests will hail you "King of the Barbecue!" Gas-fired grills are clean, economical, and available in a variety of styles and sizes.

Lake Whitefish Delicious Fish for Fishermen

Trout fishermen on Montana streams sometimes curse the bothersome whitefish as they seek their fairer game, but the whitefish of the northern lake country are another "kettle of fish."

* * *

Long sough after for their delicate, sweet-meated flavor, lake whitefish are now being rated as top gamefish by fly-fishermen and other light-tackle enthusiasts.

QUICK DISH

And — steaming hot, delectable whitefish, cooked in a savory sauce, can be served in 20 minutes after it is first placed in the oven.

1½ pounds white fish fillet
1½ teaspoons dried tarragon
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 10- or 12-ounce bottle 7-Up

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Place fish in a greased, shallow baking dish. Sprinkle fish with tarragon, salt and pepper and dot with butter. Pour 7-Up over fish. Bake 20 minutes or until fish flakes with a fork. Baste once or twice during baking with remaining beverage. Makes 4 servings.

Here's How to Fillet Fish the Angler Brings Home

The easy way to prepare bass, pike, walleye and other fish with large scales and big bone structure is set forth in a Johnson Reels booklet from which we reproduce these instructions. It says "You can, of course, scale, cut off fins, head and tail or skin the whole fish, but this takes time."

1. Take the fish as it comes from the water, lay it on a board and with a sharp knife make a straight cut through the skin from the back of the head right down to the top of the tail. Make a similar cut on the opposite side of the dorsal fin.
2. Now cut around the back of the head down to the rib bones, then make a straight cut from the first incision behind the head down to the back bone, running all the way to the tail.
3. With your knife and fingers, carefully free the flesh all the way along the ribs leaving the rib bones attached to the back bone.
4. Cut the fillet free at the end of the ribs. This leaves a strip of flesh with skin still attached. Repeat this on the other side of the fish.
5. Once the fillets are removed lay them, skin side down on the board. With the blade of the knife held flat, start a cut between skin and flesh at the tail end. Grasp skin and pull, still holding knife flat. The fillet will peel right off ready for cooking.

Check Boat Drain Plug

The most likely time to forget to put the drain plug in your boat is the first time you launch it in the spring, according to the boating experts at Evinrude Motors. Although checking to see that the drain plug is properly installed should be second nature to all boatmen, it is amazing how often boats are launched without them.

Pre-Travel Tips

Look Ahead to Vacation

For most Pontiac-area residents, summertime is still vacation time, and along with 65 million others this summer the vacation will be a trip by car.

With the thousands of new miles of the Interstate system now open, hundreds of thousands of American motorists will be traveling farther, faster and longer than ever before. Here are three sets of things you can do to make even surer than usual of enjoying your summer.

PRE-TRIP PLANNING:

The number one rule for happy and successful touring is adequate advanced planning. It is no longer enough to know simply where you want to go, and in which general direction it lies. Our road system, and the number of cars upon it, as well as the number of fellow citizens who can and will travel this summer, make planning more complex than ever. You will need the services of a trained, professional travel counselor.

Before you leave, be sure to check your car thoroughly. Get an engine tune-up for summer driving, and pay special attention to the safety features — the brakes, the headlights, turn signals, glass areas, and exhaust system.

If you own a recent model car with self-adjusting brakes, you should definitely have your wheels pulled and brake linings checked for wear. Now that we don't have to have the brakes adjusted by a mechanic, we tend to forget the linings still wear thin.

Another good tip is, when checking the air pressure in your tires, don't forget to check the pressure in your spare, before it gets snowed under by luggage in the trunk.

ON THE ROAD

This is a complex subject, and we can't cover everything here, but these points are, perhaps, the important ones.

Of course, if everything goes as planned, you're all right, but a little advance thinking can prepare you for emergencies if and when they arise. For example, get your family physician to give you copies of prescriptions for any special medicines you might need, depending on your personal health and that of your family, and pack a first aid kit. You may want to include aspirin and perhaps you'd like to have a bottle of kaopectate along, in case change in food or water causes diarrhea. Your doctor may have some other suggestions, too.

* * *

If members of your family wear glasses, get copies of the lens prescriptions for each. If glasses are lost or broken, a local optician can produce replacements in a day or less.

* * *

Every motel and hotel has one or more doctors on call for its guests, in case a real sickness crops up. If you are on the road when sickness strikes, stop the next policeman or highway patrol car you see for help. Criminals lying in wait for helpful motorists have made it difficult for people with real problems to get help by flagging down cars along the road, unfortunately, but you have to try and keep trying.

A tip which has nothing to do with sickness or danger, but which is a pure matter of courtesy is to call ahead to your next motel, if you find you aren't going to make it on time. If you are late, they will hold your reservation for you, and they will deeply appreciate it if you tell them in advance that you won't make it at all. That way they can let your room go to some other motorists who had to break his schedule.

* * *

The relatively high speed limits on the Interstate Routes are a temptation to many drivers to floor the gas pedal, but if you are not used to high-speed driving, which takes greater skill and fast reaction times, it is best to start out at accustomed speeds until you get used to it.

Air Mattress Soft

On small boats, the soft spot for sleeping is atop an air mattress. It offers considerable comfort and, when deflated and rolled up, doesn't require much storage space. Before leaving on a cruise, check it out for leaks, advise the camping experts at Mercury outboards.

Cookouts Popular in American Life

Cooking outdoors has been an American tradition for the past 10,000 years.

The first All-American Cookout, it is observed by the American Gas Association, was held by the Indians who migrated to this continent more than 100 centuries ago.

The reason for cookouts 10,000 years ago was simple. There just wasn't any indoors.

* * *

Today, however, as the nation strives to preserve its natural resources from being overwhelmed, cookouts become an ever more popular way for people to enjoy the great outdoors.

* * *

Millions of modern-day Americans are participating in the pleasure of eating outdoors (and more are being added to these numbers each year) in their own backyards as well as on picnics and while on fishing, hunting and camping trips.

COOLING WITH GAS!

What modern home today is complete without provision for a cookout on the patio?

* * *

Although outdoor cooking has been with us for centuries, methods changed little from those used in primitive times, until recent years.

Where the Indians used hardwood fire, so too have many latter day outdoor chefs. The first outdoor chefs used flint to ignite their fires. Until recently the only improvement over the flint was a match.

* * *

All of this has cahnged with the introduction of the gas-fired outdoor grill — a model that can be permanently set up in the backyard, or one that can be taken afield.

The gas grill eliminates the need for any fuel other than gas. The one in the backyard may be hooked up to the gas line that serves the home. The model that goes afield is operated by natural L-P gas fed directly to its burners.

Many gas grills also have pilot lights similar to those on modern kitchen ranges for instant ignition of fire.

SIMPLE TO CLEAN

In addition to these modedn convenience improvements, gas grills have the ability to begin cooking faster — after a warm-up period of less than five minutes, says AGA, which also claims cooking on a gas grill is better than other methods.

* * *

The primary reason is even infra-red radiant heat, it is explained. The heat is produced when ceramic or fire-brick briquets are heater by the gas fire producing an intense, even heat to provide the infra-red waves that create the searing action associated with grilled meat, fowl and fish.

* * *

The briquets are permanent and can be cleaned simply by closing the grill cover and turning the heat dial to the high position for 10 to 15 minutes.

The briquets also eliminate the problem of removing ashes from the grill after each use.

Tip for Trip to Beach

Going to the beach? Bring along a Pop-Tent to use as a cabana to change clothes. On the homeward trip, take the sandwich box out of your picnic kit and use the space to stow wet bathing suits.

Learn Fish Inhabitants in Angling Lakes, Waters

While bass fishermen reportedly outnumber the anglers who seek trout, the cold water products of mountain streams and lakes are a main reason for the annual summer migration to northern areas.

And, say the fishing auyhorities at Mercury outboards, this is the time of year to lay plans for the season's outings and to learn something about the fish that almost always plays an important role in a northern or western vacation.

* * *

In general, most families will find either cutthroats, browns, rainbows or brook trout filling their creels.

Lake trout might be considered, except that this fish inhabits extreme depths usually and is not generally taken without deep water gear.

FOLLOW PATTERN

The other trout, however, follow a similar pattern in their habits and are more accessible to everyone in the family. They frequent undercut banks, root tangles, shaded pools and feed on rocky bottoms that harbor aquatic insects. Trout less than one-half pound prefer flies, worms, small minnows and small crustaceans while larger fish add crayfish, mollusks, frogs and small fish to their diet.

* * *

Water temperature is of vital concern. When surface water is between 33 and 50 degrees, they lie in depths. Spring holes will usually be warmer than surrounding water during the early season and cooler during the warm days of summer — always good spots to look for trout.

When the water warms above 50 degrees, fish become more active and aquatic insects start hatching, the clue to use artificial wet flies. Temperatures between 55 and 68 degrees are best for dry flies — fish in shallow riffles and around cover. Above this temperature most trout get uncomfortable, stay deep and feed at night on natural baits.

These are only tips; when you deal with fish, no one can guarantee results!

Camping by Boat Offers Leisure Fun

The idyllic way to spend a vacation is to wander at leisure. One of the best ways to do that is to combine two leisure-time activities: boating and camping.

Thousands of miles of river banks and shoreline offer ideal camping sites, and boats offer a relaxing mode of transportation.

As the boatman becomes more sophisticated, the Johnson Motors News Bureau reports, he'll find himslf taking more long cruises. Overnight camping not only cuts expenses, it adds another ingredient of fun and adventure to the outing.

If you plan a boat-camping trip, be sure that items such as bedding and clothing are wrapped in water-tight packages. Dry or powdered food should also be protected from dampness.

Pick your campsite with care. Never pitch your tent on low ground, near marsh or swamp areas and do not set up camp in a dry wash or gulch where there is danger of a flash flood.

SPORTSWEAR SHOULD FIT THE OCCASION — Especially in a season when the Olympics turn everyone into avid sportsmen, says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. Here, a bright yellow golfer's "wet suit" consisting of a zip-front jacket and pullover pants, both in a lightweight nylon, added is a waterproofed hat, to combat any downpour on the course.

No need for Dad to miss his mid-morning coffee break just because he's on vacation. A Thermos vacuum bottle will keep extra breakfast coffee hot for hours.

Marshbank Is Pleasant Site

The entrance to Marshbank Park 115-acre site is on Hiller Road, is near the junction of Commerce Road approximately six miles west of Pontiac.

Although this park borders on Cass Lake, swimming is not permitted due to dangerously deep waters along the park's lake frontage.

A fence protects families and children from the water's edge. Stoves, shelters, tables, sanitary facilities, parking lots, playground equipment and heavily wooded areas make this site idea for picnics and family outings.

Open daily Memorial Day through Labor Day, and Sundays in the spring and fall. For information, phone 961-5865 (Detroit) or 685-1561 (Kensington Metropolitan Park, near Milford).

Shotgun Shooting Scores With Miss

Blasting a zipping clay target out of the air with a shotgun has its own special brand of satisfaction. Quite aside from the hours of fun involved, the ability to shatter the speedy clays with regularity — no matter how tricky the angles — is bound to gratify anyone's ego.

The "oo's" and aah's" the consistently good shooter elicits from his audience add immeasurably to his enjoyment. What he's doing may look difficult, but with proper technique, coaching and some practice, almost anyone can learn to do it.

Under the guidance of Winchester shooting development man, Jim Dee, the young lady in the accompanying photos learned the four basics involved in shotgun shooting.

PROPER STANCES

The first essential is proper stance. Feet are spaced comfortably, turned half right from line of fire, with weight forward and left knee slightly bent.

Next, the gun is mounted correctly, making sure the butt rests in the shoulder hollow, not on the arm muscle, while the cheek firmly nudges the stock.

★ ★ ★

The first two steps automatically give the shooter the proper sighting alignment — the third essential. The final basic is establishing the right lead or forward allowance, a smooth swing and follow-through.

★ ★ ★

Ready? Pull . . . zip . . . blam. Good shot . . . a powdered target.

THE SURFING LOOK is right for the young man in an Olympic summer, says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. Checking out the board, a vivid orange nylon pullover with hood, big front pocket and zip pocket on the arm, draw strings on the neck and waist. His slacks are white canvas.

Running Lights Need Checking

Running lights aboard a boat are often neglected. The skipper feels he uses his boat only in daylight hours. He needs no running lights, he things.

The Evinrude News Service reminds all boatmen that they might find themselves in a spot where it could be unexpectedly necessary to operate at night.

Therefore, it is recommended that lights be hooked up and functional at all times. Lack of them can cause embarrassment, nothing more serious.

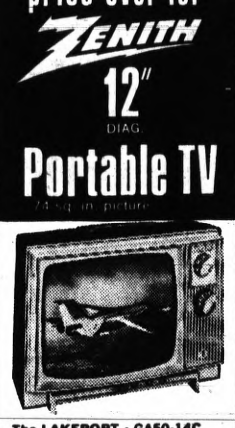

Check Manual for Trailers Before Trip

If you're one of the thousands of nomad boatmen who trail to your chosen boating site whenever you enjoy your favorite sport, getting your boat trailer set to go for the new season is relatively simple.

As an example, the owner's manual for boat trailers indicates that the most important area of maintenance is lubrication of the wheel bearings.

The tire pressure is very important.

Connect your trailer light system to your car and see that all lights are working properly.

When Taking Dog Along Here Are Comfort Tips

Today's world is well organized for travel. Even your dog can have a fine summer vacation.

Of course, most dogs would just as soon stay home. They like their own mealtimes, their own kennels and corners and they own familiar digging spot.

★ ★ ★

Yet thanks to cross-country jets and comfortable cars, a dog can comfortably share your two weeks with play.

You should, however, make a few special preparations for Fido.

Start with a visit to your veterinanrian to be sure your dog has had adequate distemper and rabies shots.

Some states are stricter than others but, for your own protection, it is best to obtain the shots, and proof thereof, in advance.

★ ★ ★

Check with the vet, too, about pet tranquilizers. Some dogs, like some people, develop motion sickness or become extremely nervous when they ride or fly.

Tranquilizers will take care of both problems.

Never let your dog ride with his head out the car window. Dirt may blow into his eyes and ears, or he may suddenly decide to chase a cat by the side of the road.

A dog without a carrying case should be assigned a special spot on the car's floor.

Packing for a dog is simple. Get a sturdy plastic bag, preferably the type with the drawstring top, and tuck in his travel needs: the canned food he likes best, his own water bowl and food bowl, his brush, a small container of cleaning fluid, "Q-Tips" cotton swabs and tweezers.

★ ★ ★

On summer vacations, a dog is invariably troubled by ticks. That's where the cotton swabs, cleaning fluid and tweezers come in handy.

To remove a tick, saturate a swab in the cleaning fluid and hold it against the tick's head. Using the swab makes it easy to pinpoint the tick without dousing your dog's sensitive skin.

Once anaesthetized by the cleaning fluid, the tick will be easy to pull out with the tweezers.

Avoid breaking off the head; you must also remove the part burrowed in the skin.

"SPORTSWEARLINGS" — Deceptively simple lines and the great contrast in textures for spring-summer individuality. A cotton ottoman princess line jacket and A-line culotte gleam with the trim of gold zippered pockets and combined with a muscle sleeve Mao collared shirt of silken Dacron and Avron. Fishing Helps Relationship

Teaching Son Fun for Dad

Teaching your son — or daughter — how to fish can be one of the most rewarding experiences of your life.

"Although skill is important," says Bill Cullerton, one of the world's foremost fishing experts and consultant to Johnson Reels, "it should play a secondary role when launching a boy or girl onto the path of being a fisherman.

NICE GOING — Bringing in a largemouth bass will give both the man and boy plenty of excitement. It will surely encourage his interest in fishing.

"Too many adults," he added, "overlook the fun aspect of fishing when taking youngsters out for the first time. We lose too many of them because the lessons become boring or dull."

★ ★ ★

One of the easiest ways of starting a beginner off on the right foot is to show him, step-by-step, how to rig a rod, put the line on a reel, how to set the reel properly on rod handle, how to attach swivel properly to the line, and how to tie the simple fishing knots.

It might surprise you to know such a refresher course may even help you, the teacher.

★ ★ ★

Cullerton feels the backyard is one good spot to start teaching any beginner the basics of casting.

"About 30 minutes of instructions," says Cullerton, "would lay the ground work for a sound, basic casting technique."

★ ★ ★

Just as important in being able to cast a lure 100 to 150 feet, is the necessity of being accurate with each cast.

It would do the beginner no good to be able to cast a country mile, if he can't lay his lure up against some log, or next to some lily pads, where the lunkers hide out.

★ ★ ★

To help the student angler in casting accurately, have him place a waste-paper basket about 20 feet out and try to cast the practice plug into that basket.

FIRST EFFORT

The effort at first will be pathetic. Being persistent will soon lead to hitting the mark more frequently. As improvement increases, keep moving the basket back until it is 50 to 60 feet away.

Outfitting a beginner doesn't cost much. It can be done for less than $15. Such an outlay would fetch a serviceable rod and reel, line, various lures, leaders, and swivels.

Start out slow. Don't harp about making big catches. Let the tyro learn the value and fun of tangling with fiesty pan fish like bluegill, perch, white bass, or bullhead.

Once the beginner makes a few catches, he'll be hooked on this sport just as much as any old grizzled veteran of the waters . . . witness the series of pictures above of Junior's first "reel" outing with Bill Cullerton.

Paper Products Add Color to Camp Trip

Color your camping trip a myriad of colors.

Pretty, appetite-appealing shades of every color and perky patterns can come to your gourmet picnics, the dinners that mean you're camping in style. The fancy dining is elegant but even less trouble since everything is disposable.

SUGGESTION

Try these suggestions. Let placemats of an adhesive covering such as Marvalon start off the picnic table setting. It's fun for young campers to let their imaginations run wild as they cut the placemats into a variety of shapes. Solid colors brighten the woodsy atmosphere and patterns are interesting and fun.

★ ★ ★

The pretty covering "sticks" to the table so there's no danger of placemats blowing away. When dinner is over, they're easily removed with no damage to the surface.

Paper plates have joined the paper parade, and they're available in the prettiest of patterns and solids. Serve in paper and store leftovers in the coated variety. When dishwashing time arrives, tableware and pots and pans are all that's left to wash. Everything else has been tossed away.

★ ★ ★

Dinner napkins are large, strong, and colorful! Deep colors of avocado green, Persian blue and antique gold come to the picnic table, coordinating with the rest of the table decor.

Try your hand at making the picnic table sparkle. Placemats in a watermelon pattern, for example, look picture-pretty with Kleenex dinner napkins in a fashion tone of green. A centerpiece of fresh fruits can serve as dessert later.

PLACEMATS

Another dinner might taste even better when served on placemats in a "Hot Daisy" pattern, teamed with antique gold dinner napkins. If you've found wild flowers, they'll come to the center, placed in a glass or coffee can.

★ ★ ★

And, if you're imaginative, camping is even more fun. Nobody tells us that it has to be "roughing it" all the way.

Disposables are delightful for camping. Enjoy them.

YOU CAN GO ANYWHERE

ON DUPLEX TIRES

Duplex tires have a big, wide grip on things. You can go over sand and mud and muck that bog down ordinary tires.

And with Duplex tires you not only go farther, you go safer. For with ordinary tires a camper will often end up overloaded; hard on springs and axles, apt to cause blowouts. Duplex tires can take on your load and still give you greater stability and a softer ride.

If you've already got a camper, ask about our low-cost Duplex change-over plan at your nearby Firestone Dealer or Store. If you're about to buy a new camper, make sure it has Firestone Duplex tires. Duplex®

Plan Boat Cleaning

One of those first warm weekends this spring, a good family project is getting your boat ready for the coming season.

What do you do? The owner's manual for Evinrude boats says simply that you do just about what you do with the family car.

★ ★ ★

You wash it, inside and out, and polish it. You can consult your marine dealer for his recommendation on a wax that you may apply.

PROP UP TRAILER

The easy way to wash the boat is to prop up the trailer tongue, remove the drain plug, and turn the hose on it.

Wash it down with soap and warm water and then rinse. Leave the boat propped up until all the water has drained out. Then put that drain plug back in so you don't forget it.

★ ★ ★

Be especially careful that you get the scum and dirt off the boat bottom. Though it may not look like much, bottom scum can cut down on your boat's performance significantly.

This is, of course, even more true if the boat is used in salt water and has picked up some marine growths. In salt water areas, you may have to apply a fresh coat of anti-fouling paint. Do it before the season starts.

CLEAN HARDWARE

Hardware should be cleaned and polished. If any is badly pitted or corroded, replace it. You wouldn't want a cleat to pull out sometime this summer when you are tied up.

★ ★ ★

If your boat has cable and pulley steering, lubricate the pulleys and see that they turn freely.

Be sure they are anchored securely. If you have mechanical steering, check its operation and lubricate according to instructions.

★ ★ ★

Aluminum, wooden and plastic boats can be shined up by washing. You may check the paint and varnish if your boat is wooden. Do not neglect the paint job. If it needs repainting, do this according to the painting directions for this type of boat.

Summer Resort Area in Alabama

EUFAULA, Ala. (UPI)—The state parks division of the Department of Conservation is building a wall and walkway around the original spring at Blue Springs State Park in Barbour County.

A bridge and archway also are planned as part of a restoration project.

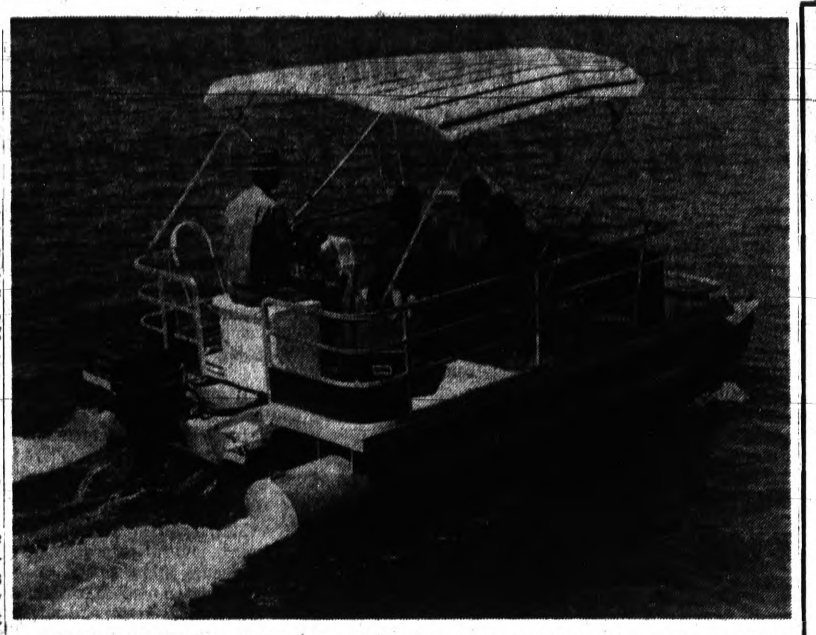

★ ★ ★

Already built are a swimming pool, bathhouses, picnic facilities, tennis courts and a fishing pond for youngsters.

The springs area once was known as "The Great Summer Resort" of Alabama.

First Gold Rush

Georgia, not California, touched off the United States gold rush in 1828, the National Georgraphic Society says.

WATER VERSION — This is the water version of the "surrey with the fringe on top." This jaunty pontoon boat, unlike Grandpa's horse and buggy, has 20 "horses" to propel it for family fun on lakes and waters.

Plenty of Elbow Room

Longer Boat Is Better for Fishing

The longer the boat, the better it is for fishing.

This simple statement may be controversial, but it's backed up with some facts that make sense.

First of all, a long boat offers the obvious advantage of holding more anglers than a short one. Elbow room may be no problem for still fishing, but when your partner winds up out in left field with a hunk of plastic bristling with treble hooks, you do have cause for worry. A 14-foot skiff will carry three passengers in complete safety, but it doesn't offer the extra four feet of "ear insurance" that an 18-foot boat does.

DEPENDS ON BEAM

A long boat doesn't necessarily mean a big boat. Size is as dependent upon beam as it is on length, and frequently long boats fall into the small-craft category as a result.

★ ★ ★

Typical examples are canoes, the long, narrow "John boats," and the slender, round-bottomed skiffs which have always been popular in Canada. All such boats are "naturals" for fishing.

Most of them function as both displacement and planing hulls, and require a minimum amount of outboard horsepower to push them along at a good clip.

★ ★ ★

Other advantages of the long boats for fishing use are ease of maneuverability, light weight, and shallow draft. They're built to get through tight places, to be lugged over portages, and maneuvered through waters where other craft can't go. Literally, they're designed for fishermen and fishing.

★ ★ ★

Although the current popularity of pleasure boating has created a trend toward wide-beamed boats suitable for hauling human cargo, it is doubtful if the proven long, slender designs will sink into antiquity.

★ ★ ★

Canoes, John boats, and skiffs are safe when used correctly, and they're the greatest fishin' craft a guy can own.

Use Right Amount of Oil in Mixture

The correct mixture of oil and gasoline for your outboard motor can mean good performance and better spark plug life.

Evinrude, for example, has built its outboards to operate on a 50:1 gasoline to oil ratio for several years. Excessive oil will not necessarily improve lubrication.

It very likely will foul spark plugs, however. Too much oil causes "smoking" of the motor and can contrubute to poor performance.

Too little oil, of course, may fail to give proper lubrication.

Use Old Tire in Beaching

If you ordinarily run your boat onto a beach when you come in from boating, lay an old auto tire flat on the sand with half of it in the water.

Dig a depression in the beach, sink the tire to half its depth and fill it with sand.

This gives you a firmly-anchored rubber "landing field," say the authorities at Mercury outboards, and prevents scratching of your boat bottom.

Reflective Tape Safe

If you have to cross many busy highways after dark when returning from a day afloat, affix several strips of reflective tape to the sides of your boat trailer to warn cars coming from the left and right of the length of your rig.

DO IT WITH Simplicity
Make Childsplay Out of Summer Lawn and Garden Maintenance!
Make this summer your on-the-go summer with more time for fun-in-the-sun and easy-going relaxation. Check the details and see why the economical Simplicity is America's No. 1 lawn and garden tractor.

compare!
• SELECTION? With Simplicity in 1968, you pick from five new tractors (5 to 12 hp) and a 4 hp riding mower. You get "job-tailored" tractor choice.
• NO-SCALP MOWING? If the mower's mounted on the tractor frame, you'll get scalping. By contrast, Simplicity's patented mounting suspends the mower from the front axle. Can't scalp—because the front wheels "telegraph" every change in ground contour.
• ARE ATTACHMENTS MATCHED? Some tractor-makers buy and "adapt" basic attachments. But Simplicity designs and builds its own. When you put a Simplicity attachment on a Simplicity tractor, the combination works in perfect harmony.
• WHAT'S INVOLVED IN CHANGING ATTACHMENTS? Don't take anybody's word for it. Insist on a demonstration. You'll be amazed at the quick-changing difference that results from Simplicity's made-for-each-other tractor attachment design.
• START COMPARING! Our yardstick of riding tractor values demonstrates the measurable difference between Simplicity and all other brands.

Family Room Heads Into Great Outdoors

Even the highly regarded family room is moving outdoors at the first sign of good weather. The cozy fireplace and leather chairs are being replaced by what is now frequently referred to as the outdoor living center.

The outdoor living center is basically a backyard-patio combination. It retains the basic elements of the patio or sun deck but it also includes some special extras.

★ ★ ★

The extras run the gamut from Olympic-size swimming pools to functional landscaping; from complete indoor-outdoor kitchens to lavish, enclosed areas for complete privacy and year 'round use.

More families are finding the great outdoors right in their own backyards. The outdoor living center, equipped with the latest equipment, like the Charmglow gas grill pictured above, is fast becoming one of the most popular places to entertain both youngsters and grownups alike.

The rise in popularity of outdoor living centers seems to be directly related to the increase in family-oriented outdoor recreation activities including camping, boating, fishing, and flying.

★ ★ ★

It appears that participation in these activities, away from home, has resulted in families spending more "at-home" recreation time together.

PRODUCTS EXPANDING

Most experts agree that the trend toward outdoor family recreation is here to stay. Manufacturers of outdoor equipment are finding greater demands being made for expanded product lines and have responded by developing equipment for the expert and novice alike and in every price range.

★ ★ ★

A relative newcomer to the field of outdoor recreation is the Natural Gas Industry. Yet it offers a vivid example of how outdoor recreation, especially at home, has become one of the most popular means of spending leisure time.

The industry now boasts of more than a dozen brands of gas fired outdoor grills, several styles of infra-red patio heaters, an almost endless variety of gaslights and pool heaters for every style and size of backyard swimming pools.

SALES SOAR

The American Gas Association, Inc. recently reported that during the past five years more than 1 million gas grills have been purchased by outdoor-oriented Americans in addition to 2 million gas lights, and over 400,000 infra-red patio heaters.

★ ★ ★

The outdoor living center is proving that urban Americans can create the "get away from it all" atmosphere found in the great outdoors right in their own backyards. No longer is the outdoor living center considered simply a place to hold a cookout.

★ ★ ★

It has become the quiet sanctuary for reading a good book, entertaining both friends and business associates, and gathering place for family recreation.

★ ★ ★

It is the "place in the country" where the avid fisherman can hone a sharp edge on his fly casting techniques, or the golfer can work on his putting and chipping game without leaving the comfort of his own home.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

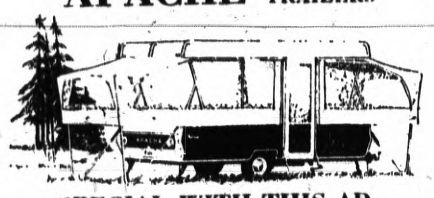

The charm of the outdoor living center lies in the fact that it offers each individual of the family something of interest and of value while offering the family, as a group, a place to be together for enjoyable recreation.

Old Attraction

MAMMOTH CAVE, Ky. (UPI) — Mammoth Cave, a popular tourist attraction, was opened to visitors shortly after the War of 1812. It was discovered around 1800.

The the program of stocking coho salmon in Lake Michigan portends "big business" is evident from this prediction by the Johnson Motors News Bureau: tre new sport of coho fishing will add a billion dollars to the Midwestern economy by 1977. The Lake Michigan coho stocking program was begun by the Michigan Conservation Department in 1966.

Carry Motor

If you own an outboard motor sufficiently portable to carry in the trunk of your car, it will pay to take it along on vacation. According to figures from the authorities at Mercury outboards, you'll have to pay up to $15 per day for the privilege of renting a fishing motor—when you can find one. Boats, on the other hand, are plentiful and normally rent for about $5 per day.

CYCLIST TRIP—Long distance bike trips are enjoyed by many groups and families. Many states have developed long-distance bike routes through scenic and historic areas.

Bike Vacation Offers Family Fitness, Fun

Getting there is no longer "half the fun"; it's all the fun!

And if you don't believe it, take a look at any of America's national parks in August, or even on the nation's highways.

★ ★ ★

There's a new idea in vacation transportation that can mean fascinating fun for the whole family — especially for those abiding by recent government pleas to stay home and see America first.

★ ★ ★

The idea is the bicycle. That plain, old two-wheeled bicycle!

Dad and mom and the kids all have bikes now. You'll see them neatly stacked on top of jalopies this summer as the family heads for vacation destinations. Bikes offer a new kind of mobility and independence — an alternative to auto-choked parking areas; the lines of humanity waiting for hot dogs.

★ ★ ★

Vacationers can taste a cross section of Americana, too, by using several state-sponsored Bikeways — long-distance marked scenic routes over little trafficked roads.

★ ★ ★

Like the idea of a bike vacation? You can get some help by writing to the Bicycle Institute of America, 122 East 42nd Street, New York, N.Y. 10017, and from American Youth Hostels, 20 West 17th Street, New York, N.Y. 10011. American Cycling Magazine, 1470 Fernwood Drive, Oakland, California 94611, carries a monthly feature story about a bike vacation to an interesting area.

FANCIFUL FLOWERS Bloom on this year's most popular swim shape for the young and slim-of-figure . . . the trim two-piecer. Cole of California Jr. complements this suit of Caprolan® nylon jersey printed in sunny orange, yellow and shocking pink with a choice of two cover-ups—a little girl dress with elasticized neckline that bares the shoulders and a flippy pantdress.

Many Facilities Available

Plan Ahead for Camping Jaunts

It may surprise you to know that you could cross the entire country and camp each night in a different National Forest. This fact illuminates the spread of facilities awaiting those who seek outdoor recreation.

But it's not the complete story. Every state in the nation has park systems offering camping sites to families of five for about $2 a day or less.

There is a lot more to the outdoors than just camping, but camping does, generally speaking, imply all the rest—fishing, boating, hunting, hiking and the sheer joy of traveling to the chosen area for a vacation.

GOOD PLANNING

Planning for any vacation should start with a definite objective in mind. What will you do when you get there; what do you want to see on the way?

★ ★ ★

Contacting Tourist, Fishing and Game divisions of the various states, or the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., will get you a wealth of stimulating information.

PLACES TO WRITE

For those specifically interested in boating and water sports, write the Outdoor Boating Club of America, Chicago.

Your happy hunting grounds — for game or any other outdoor recreation — range from the rock-bound coast of Maine to semi-tropical southern California, from the high mountains of the Northwest to the Everglades in Florida.

The huge X thus formed across the map of the Country marks America—despite the vast explosion of our metropolitan areas — as a nation with almost unlimited opportunities for outdoor recreation. Coursing in every direction from anywhere along the X, are facilities close enough for a weekend or a day's outing, for that matter.

★ ★ ★

Consider, as suggestions for places to go, the lakes of Wisconsin and Minnesota in the upper midwest; the TVA lakes of Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama; or Lake Texoma in Oklahoma for fishing and water sports.

AND HISTORY, TOO

There is the outdoors vacation wonderland of New England, with a lot of history along the way.

Think of exploring the luxury resorts, include opportunities for deep sea and surf fishing.

★ ★ ★

As someone observed recently: This is your country — See for yourself how full it is of opportunities for adventure, coastlines where you'll find pleasure, and for you to enjoy everything from "roughing it" to its Great Outdoors.

Five Flags Fly

Five flags — those of France, Great Britain, Spain, the Confederacy and the United States — have flown over Mobile, Ala., since its founding 1702, the National Geographic says.

A BOY, TOO, NEEDS TO FACE THE UNKNOWN.

It takes courage to leave the security of the known and break through to the new and unknown. Twenty-six of our Astronauts learned it at an early age. All of them were once newspaperboys.

While a child is growing up, home and family shield him from the world. But there comes a time, usually during the pre-teens, when a boy needs to "break away from his mother's apron strings" and develop the courage to face the world as a man. A newspaper route gives a boy just such an opportunity.

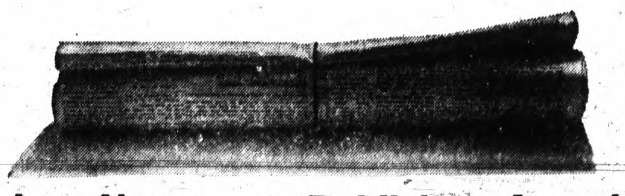

A route is a genuine opportunity for neighborhood service. It gives a young man a way to answer parents who say, "You're too young; wait until you get a little older." As a newspaperboy, he leaves the backyard. He meets strangers both cordial and cantankerous. He copes with weather and barking dogs. He learns that certain people don't pay their bills promptly. He learns that money isn't a handout from mom and dad, but instead is the result of performing a service that somebody needs and wants.

He learns that he can save money. He experiences that satisfying feeling of earning his way through his own efforts.

A boy today, perhaps more than ever before, needs activities that encourage real responsibility. He needs to feel that he's not an economic liability to the family, that he's more than a mere object of parental devotion. He wants to become a man.

What can be more important than this to a boy?

Let your boy explore the world on his own, yet under the supervision and guidance of a trained adult staff. Have him call us about a newspaper route. Who knows how far he can go?

Safeguard Vision During Summer Travel, Play

Remember the days when taking a trip required weeks, sometimes months, of planning to get all your clothes and equipment in readiness? What a chore it was to prepare for what was to be that well-deserved escape from a year's grind!

Not so today . . . since the arrival of the jet age, much of this has changed, and travel has more and more become a fun thing that one can look forward to. One piece of lightweight luggage now easily harbors all the necessities of the modern traveler — the featherlight drip-dry wardrobe, the collapsible umbrella, even an inflatable rubber float.

TAKE GLASSES

There is, however, one item that's too often forgotten and then most sorely missed, and that is a pair of truly good sunglasses, which the traveler may not be able to purchase in the desired quality or style at his destination.

★ ★ ★

According to some experts, and this seems to be a little known fact — a person's ability to see at night will be reduced 50 per cent (and up to 90 per cent), after a few hours in the sun without wearing good sunglasses.

Vacationers in the mountains, "should be particularly careful, because the thinner air does not filter out as much of the harmful ultraviolet rays.

A MANY-SIDED AFFAIR—Two contrasting moods from Robert Bruce reflect the general variety inherent in most knitwear lines this season: left, a lively one-piece tank top suit of 100 per cent Du Pont nylon looks the Gay Nineties era; right, a pale yellow coordinate set of 70 per cent "Dacron" polyester and 30 per cent mohair is classic in its simplicity. Yellow and blue plaid Corbin slacks in a blend of "Dacron" and cotton are a perfect complement.

Opening lead—♠ Q

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand is very much like yesterday's. South has exactly the same cards and North has the same except for the king of hearts instead of a small one.

JACOBY

The combination of an opening no-trump plus partner's 11 high card points is not likely to produce a slam and most pairs using ordinary methods would probably wind up in three no-trump.

The artifical bidding sequence shown in the box illustrates the scientific way to reach a slam.

North's two spade bid shows a minor two suiter of indefinite strength. South's three club bid merely announces that his clubs are at least as good as his diamonds. North's three heart call shows help in hearts, if his partner wants to try three no-trump. It also infers a singleton spade and is a force to game.

★ ★ ★

South's bid of three spades happens to be a slam try. North can't be sure that it isn't saying South has spades stopped two or more times so North merely goes to three no-trump.

This puts it up to South once more and he bids four clubs. This shows that South's taree spade call was a cue bid to show the ace and that South is definitely interested in a club slam.

North might jump to six clubs but he has been bitten by the science bug and bids four diamonds to show that ace. South replies with four hearts to show the ace of hearts and by this time North has had enough. He bids six clubs.

There is nothing to the play at six clubs. All South has to do is knock out the ace of trumps, draw the rest of the trumps and spread his hand.

Q—The bidding has been:

Thumb---Mecca for Travelers

The Thumb area is a vacationland dream, renowned for its hundreds of miles of Lake Huron shoreline, excellent resort and motel facilities, wide glistening sand beaches, curious rock formations and deep, gentle sloping bays. Perch and small-mouth bass feed along the bottoms in these bays.

Sebewaing, Bay Port, Caseville, Port Austin and Port Hope all shoreline communities have organized perch and bass fishing expeditions. Saginaw Bay offers pickerel fishing during the fall.

There are many fine golf courses, trailer and camping facilities. State Game Reserves and a large artificial harbor and dock with launching ramp. Basically an agriculture land, it has picturesque, neat farms, and cool stands of woods.

★ ★ ★

At the tip of the Thumb is Port Austin which offers one of the finest small craft harbors in the finest small craft harbors in the state.

The rich soils of the inland communities are supply centers for the verdant farmlands while the natural shoreline attracts thousands to it's resort and recreational facilities each summer.

Nighttime Golf an Acapulco Hit

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nighttime golf is the latest attraction at Mexico's Pacific resort of Acapulco, says the Mexican National Tourist Council.

Former President Miguel Aleman, now head of the Council, recently presided at ceremonies opening a nine-hole night golf course, illuminated by 84 2,000-watt light bulbs.

Many Species Available

Anglers Find Action in Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — A choice variety of fishing that includes more than 30 species of salt water gamesters is available in waters immediately surrounding Miami Beach.

A favorite sport of visitors and residents alike for more than 50 years, Izaak Walton's pastime will yield such famed trophies as 700-pound blue marlin to 15-pound bonefish.

Fishing methods include blue-water trolling, offshore drifting and light tackle casting. Each has its own devotees and each will produce many surprises and quite a few thrills

GULF TROLLING

Gulf Stream trolling is the usual way to try for white and blue marlin, sailfish, dolphin, wahoo, blackfin tuna, bluefin tuna, mako and bonito.

Comfortable ocean-going cruisers of 36 feet and more are chartered for trolling, usual rates being about $55 a half-day, $100 all day. As these craft fish four persons at a time, costs can be divided. The boat carries a crew of two with all tackle and bait furnished.

Drift fishing simply is still fishing from a boat drifting with breeze or tide. While sailfish, king mackerel and other pelagic species sometimes are taken on drift boats, the more usual bag are bottom feeders such as snapper and grouper. Rail space may be rented on these craft at a cost of $3.75 per person, up, for a half-day.

★ ★ ★

Night trips are especially popular in summer. The angler provides his own tackle and bait, or rents equipment on the boat.

OPEN CRAFT

Light tackle angling is done normally from 16 to 20-foot open craft with outboard power. Biscayne bay, channels leading from it to the ocean and close-to shore waters on the outside are worked by the spin, plug and flycasters.

Such fish as tarpon, permit, bonefish, snook, pompano, jack and spotted sea trout are the rewards in this type of Miami Beach angling. Guides provide the boat and sometimes the tackle for a half-day for two persons at about $40.

★ ★ ★

Visitors will find charter, drift and outboard boats at various docks along the bayfront. Ordinarily it is more satisfactory to visit the docks personally to engage a charter and inform the guide of the type fishing you prefer.

★ ★ ★

The uninitiated may well leave the trip in the hands of the guide, who knows the waters, is informed as to what is "running" and will be helpful with advice and striking and fighting the quarry.

BASIC SPIN-CASTING

Spin-casting is the simplest type of casting to learn. The principles of spin-casting are similar to casting with a conventional level wind reel. The main advantage of spin-casting is the elimination of backlash — line peels off a stationary spool. You ought to reach 50-60 feet after a few tries.

THE BASIC OVERHAND CAST

OTHER CASTING TECHNIQUES

The side cast is dangerous when fishing with other anglers and more difficult, but very useful when casting out from under trees. The underhand cast is for the experienced angler and of limited value.

For Sulky Racer

His Life Is in 'Harness'

When Pat Sweeney, a stock keeper at GMTC, lived on the farm as a boy his love for horses gave him a strong desire to get into horse racing.

At 200 pounds however, his ideas about being a jockey were out of the question, so he decided that he would devote his interest to harness racing.

On nearly 200 acres on Hurd Road in Metamora, there are 22 standard bred horses which belong to the entire Sweeney family, and most of the horses are trained for sulky racing.

TRAIN MR. RIPPER

Pat and Barbara Sweeney and their three children have six horses of their own and the most promising is their newest, a three-year-old colt named Mr. Ripper, being trained as a pacer.

Sweeney is an owner, driver, trainer and at times even a would-be veterinarian to his horses, which carry the Black and Blue colors Wolverine Raceway, Northville and Hazel Park.

Mr. Ripper, who is being trained as a pacer, gave the Sweeneys a bad scare recently when he became ill with yellow jaundice. With directions from a veterinarian, Sweeney had the task of "doctoring" the colt back to health.

"We had to feed him through the veins and we spent a lot of hours getting him back on his feet," said Sweeney.

HAVE OWN HORSES

All of the Sweeney children are horse lovers. Mike, 13, has his own horse he calls Butch, and Julie, 7, has a horse which has been racing, named Miss Czar Mac. Shawn, 5, is also keen on horses.

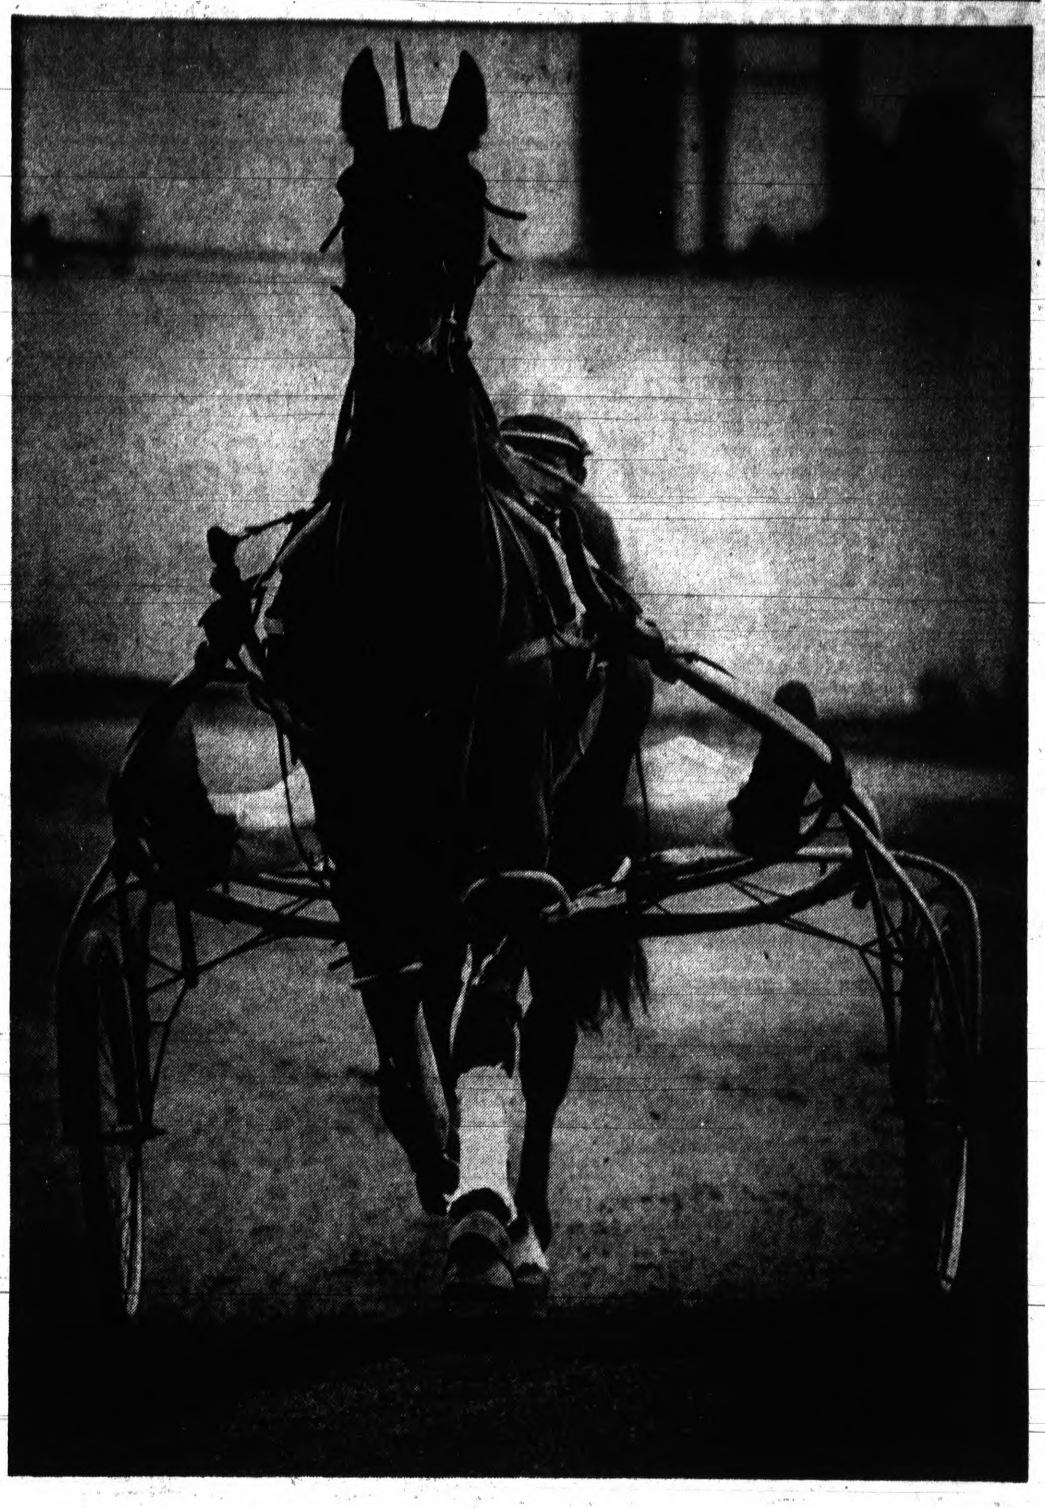

★ ★ ★

Weight is an important factor in jockey racing, but Sweeney feels that "good strong hands are needed for the sulky driver."

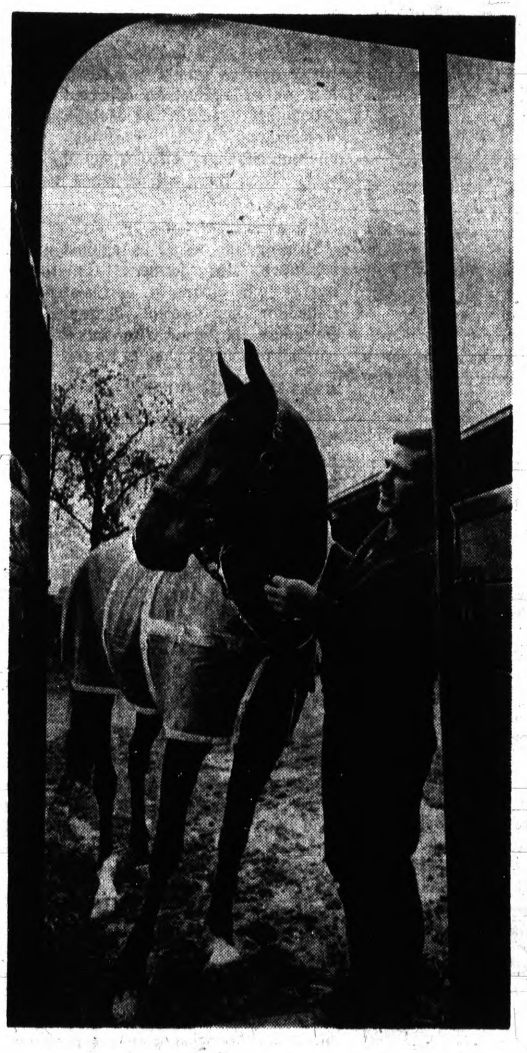

Sweeney is presently driving sulkies at Wolverine which closes at the DRC on Middlebelt next Wednesday. From there sulky racing will continue in Michigan at Northville, Hazel Park and Jackson Raceway.

Southfield Wins Press Golf Title

Soph Collects Medalist Honor in 17th Tourney

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Trips to Pontiac are becoming profitable for the Blue Jays of Southfield High School.

The latest athletic success for the Blue Jays in Pontiac competition came yesterday when they flew away with one of the state's top golf prizes — the Pontiac Press Invitational.

The Blue Jays turned back 24 other squads in taking the 17th annual championship on a warm, windy day at Pontiac Country Club.

NO SURPRISE

That the Southfield squad won came as no real surprise since the Jays went into the tournament as one of a handful of cofavorites. The margin by which they won, however, was a trifle surprising.

★ ★ ★

With three of the four Jays scoring in the 70s over the 6,305-yard, par-72 layout, the team rolled up a score of 315, while runner-up Royal Oak Kimball was nine strokes off the pace at 324.

ORION THIRD

Lake Orion was a bit of a surprise in taking third with 325 followed by Waterford (326), Walled Lake (327) and Pontiac Central (329).

Southfield, winning this title for the first time, journeyed to Pontiac last year and made off with the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Championship. The squad will be around next week to defend that title.

★ ★ ★

Coached by Thomas Ridley, a 1959 graduate of Southfield, the Blue Jays earlier bagged the Southeastern Michigan Association title and the state regional crown.

TOP SHOOTERS

Doing the shooting for the Blue Jays were seniors Bob Scheuer (79) and Keith Mohr (77), along with juniors Marv Blemley (78) and Pat Walters (81).

Southfield held only a three-stroke lead after nine holes, but the Jays continued their steady play while the opposition wilted.

★ ★ ★

Behind by only three at the turn were the Chiefs of Pontiac Central, but they shot themselves out of contention with high scores on the back side.

WIN 'B' TROPHY

Claiming the Class B trophy were the Knights of Bloomfield Hills Lahser who were competing in their first Press tournament.

★ ★ ★

Leading the Knights was 15-year-old sophomore Jamie Frith who also emerged as the medalist of the tourney with a three-over-par 75.

Helping Frith with the scoring were juniors Doug Leonhard (89) and Peter Smith (82) along with another sophomore, Karl Daiek (91).

SOPH OVERLOOKED

Frith, who also won the medalist in the state regional a week ago, was overlooked in this event.

But when the bigger guns began to misfire, young Frith took charge and managed a steady 37-38 — 75. He birdied No. 3 and bogeyed Nos. 8 and 9 on the front and spoiled what would have been an even better round by bogeying 15, 16 and 18.

★ ★ ★

Just a stroke behind Frith was Charles Patrick of Kettering. Mike Church of Royal Oak Kimball and Mohr of Southfield were in with 77s.

Two Tiger Balks Hurt in 2-2 Rainout

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics and Detroit Tigers battled to a 2-2 tie Friday night in a game that was halted by rain after seven innings. All records count.

Detroit scored its runs in the second inning on consecutive homers by Bill Freehan and Willie Horton.

★ ★ ★

Oakland tied it with single runs in the fourth and fifth innings helped by Earl Wilson's two balks.

Bert Campaneris scored the first run on a single, stolen base, infield out and a balk by Wilson.

ANOTHER BALK

The second run came on a single by Jim Pagliaroni, a sacrifice, another balk by Wilson and a single by Reggie Jackson.

Wilson left after five innings because of a bruised right heel. Daryl Patterson pitched two scoreless innings before time was called.

Oakland pitcher Jim Hunter gave up only three hits — all in the second inning.

It was the first time in Oakland's brief major league baseball history that rain has delayed or halted a game.

CLEVELAND LOSER, 2-1

ANAHEIM (AP) — George Brunet pitched a four-hitter and Bobby Knoop singled home the winning run as the California Angels nipped Cleveland 2-1 Friday night.

Brunet, 5-3, lost a shutout in the eigth inning when Tony Horton blooped a double to right and scored on a single by Larry Brown.

The Angels won the game from Steve Hargan, 3-4, when Knoop singled home a run in the seventh inning to put the Angels ahead 2-0. A walk to Jimmie Hall and a single by Bob Rodgers set up the run.

Hargan, who has lost five straight decisions to the Angels, gave up a run in the fourth inning when Roger Repoz, Don Mincher and Rick Reichardt hit successive singles.

Bob Foster Flattens Foe

KAYO PUNCH—Dick Tiger heads for the canvas after taking a knockout punch from Bob Foster at 2:05 of the fourth round in the light heavyweight championship fight last night at Madison Square Garden.

Tiger Unseated by Left Hook in Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — It cost Bob Foster and his backers about $21,000 to get the light heavyweight title from Dick Tiger. The gangling, newly crowned champion won't waste much time getting it back. Floyd Patterson or George Chuvalo may be the next big target.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after the 29-year-old Foster bombed the 38-year-old Biafran with a thunderous left hook to the jaw for a knockout in 2:05 of the fourth round Friday night, his bankrollers started lining up nontitle fights.

FIGHT SITES

"Bob will fight in Albuquerque, N.M., where he was raised, in about three or four weeks against an opponent to be determined," said Vince McMahon, the Washington, D.C., promoter who guaranteed Tiger $100,000 for the title shot. "Then there will be other nontitle fights for a while."

★ ★ ★

The big one would be against either Patterson, the former two-time heavyweight champion, or Chuvalo, the Canadian heavyweight champion, in Baltimore in about two months, according to sources close to Foster.

HEAVYWEIGHT BOUTS?

How about Joe Frazier, a five-state heavyweight champion, or Jimmy Ellis, the World Boxing Association's heavyweight king?

★ ★ ★

"I'm the light heavyweight champion and I'm going to fight as one," said Foster at first. But later he said he would be happy to fight either "if the money is right."

★ ★ ★

"We'd love it, if the money is right," said Yancey Durham, Frazier's manager. "Joe would eat him up."

RETURN OKAY

While Foster said he'd be glad to give Tiger a return bout — "for the same $100,000 we got up" — and Tiger said he'd like another chance, a second fight between the two is highly unlikely after the rout at Madison Square Garden. Foster was an 11-5 favorite as a challenger.

★ ★ ★

A crowd of 11,547 paid $113,728. The net gate was about $107,000, with $25,000 more coming in for the ancillary rights, including television. Foster collected 60 per cent of this — about $79,200 — and paid Tiger $100,000, for a loss of $20,000.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — The Michigan State Spartans must get past number 13 today to win the Big Ten baseball championship. And they have two games to do it.

The Spartans, who earned their 13th conference victory against Iowa Friday, need only to split a doubleheader against second place Minnesota today to wrap up the championship.

WON, TIED

The Spartans, who have two losses in Big Ten play, defeated Iowa Friday in the first game of a doubleheader, 5-2. However, the second game was called because of darkness after the eighth inning with both teams tied at 4-4.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota, who was even with MSU going into Friday's contests, had both games against Michigan rained out at Minneapolis. A University of Minnesota spokesman said they probably will not be replayed.

That gives Michigan State a half-game edge going into today's crucial doubleheader.

In the opener Friday, Spartan hurler Mickey Knight sparked the MSU drive, coming on in the sixth with runners on first and third with one out and retired the side. Knight pitched 3⅔ innings of perfect ball to earn his sixth win of the season against two losses.

Marichal First to Win Seven Games This Season

From the Press Box

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Tom Draper, whom Lloyd Syron calls the Master of Psychology in Michigan golf, thought about using some of that psychology to jinx his playing partner Bud Stevens in the third round of Michigan Medal Play at Orchard Lake today.

"It would be dirty pool for me to walk up to the practice putting green tomorrow and tell Bud that I heard he hasn't three-putted a green this year," said Draper, longtime one of Michigan's top amateur golfers.

Syron recalled that when he was 16 years old and playing in the state amateur championship at Jackson, his opponent in the first round of match play was Draper.

EGO SKY HIGH

"On the practice green he was saying how badly he had been playing and how horrible his putting was," said Syron, "and being just a kid and so excited about playing Mr. Draper, my ego went sky high.

"I thought I was really going to beat him if he was playing so poorly," added Syron, himself a former state amateur champion.

★ ★ ★

After three holes Syron was 3-down and he finally lost the match to Draper, 3 and 2.

"I learned then not to take anyone's 'bad' game for granted," he concluded.

FAVORS MATCH PLAY

Draper, who has won just about every amateur title in Michigan, says the fun in tournament golf went out the window with match play.

"Playing in medal play tournaments today would be like playing in a cemetery, playing by yourself," said Draper, "match play has always been more fun."

★ ★ ★

"Golf must have been 300 years old before medal play became popular, and now because tournaments have become so commercialized and the pros have all gone to medal play, the amateurs have followed the trend."

"Golf has always been a game to build comradeships and it has always been more fun to match strokes with friends than just shoot for score," he expressed, "and this is still evident in a game between friends who have more fun matching shots and holes rather than total scores."

★ ★ ★

One of Draper's biggest wins in golf was the North-South Amateur, a match play tournament, and because of the match play format it is the reason why he plays in so many club invitationals in the area.

"When the pros go back to match play, and someday they will when they start dividing the best players from the average ones, then I suppose the amateurs will be back in match play.

"I don't know why we have to follow the pros. The true essence of golf is match play, and this is the way the amateurs should be playing."

Draper has been known never to turn down a challenge for any stakes in match play and anyone knowing of his fondness for this method of golf it would be a psychological strike for any worthy challenger.

ROB RYAN OF THE FOREST — Rob Ryan must have felt like Rob(in) Hood in his forest yesterday at Orchard Lake Country Club where he had his troubles trying to make the cut in the Michigan Medal Play championship. Ryan, the 1962 Trans-Miss Champion, who now resides in the area, missed the 36 hole cut by one stroke yesterday, and the final three holes of the morning round were his doom. He finished with a 76, but took three straight double bogeys on the last three holes. He had 79 in the afternoon round.

Green Leads Medal Meet

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pete Green doesn't have to kid anyone. When he plays his home course, Orchard Lake Country Club, the ball he uses seems to have eyes.

"It sure looked like it," said Green after coming in with a second round 68 to lead the Michigan Medal Play Championship with a 73-68—141 after yesterday's 36 holes.

"It was one of those days that everything I hit on the green just seemed to drop in, because I wasn't really hitting the ball too good off the tees," he said.

Green, who has been club champion and Blue Coat Invitational champ at OLCC, had a 3-stroke lead going into today's third round over Hunter McDonald of Oakland Hills.

CUTOFF AT 25 GOLFERS

The cutoff after 36 holes yesterday included 25 golfers. The cutoff score was 154.

★ ★ ★

The third round started today at 10:34, with Green, McDonald, Frank Groves and Jim St. Germaine going out at 11:28 a.m.

Green started the day with a 73 and this included a bogey 6 on the 12th hole after hitting an out of bounds drive. In order to get the bogey, Green had to sink a 24 foot putt.

In the afternoon round, he put together seven birdies and three bogeys, giving him a total of 10 birdies for the day.

MISSES EAGLE

He had only 27 putts for the afternoon round, missing an eagle on No. 9 when his chip shot rimmed the hole and rolled an inch from the lip.

His birdies included a six footer on No. 2, 10 footer on No. 5, one inch on No. 9, 15 footers on Nos. 12 and 13, two footer on 14 and an 8-footer on 17.

★ ★ ★

McDonald, paired with Green, missed three short putts under five feet which would have given him an even more fantastic round than his fine 67.

There was 10 strokes difference in McDonald's morning and afternoon rounds and it was "because I relaxed more and was more firm with my grip than in the morning," he said.

In his 33-34 — 67, McDonald took 30 putts and his most disastrous hole was at No. 18 where he putted downhill and missed from only two feet forcing him to come back three feet and a bogey.

★ ★ ★

Four strokes behind Green was University of Michigan student Frank Groves with 72-73 — 145, and in a three way tie at 146 are former Northville High star Jim St. Germaine, Bud Stevens and Jim Funston.

GETS 17 PARS

Stevens, who recently led the local qualifying for the U.S. Open, who shot a morning round of 75, came back in the afternoon with 17 pars and a birdie for a 71.

★ ★ ★

The husky long ball hitter from Western Golf and Country Club who crosses his fingers and says he hasn't three-putted a green in tournament play thus far this spring, started with three bogeys in the first four holes in his morning round.

Gene Eyler, another top local amateur who was forced to play his morning round of 81 with borrowed clubs because he had left his bag at Oakland Hills, started the afternoon round with his own gear and used up only 10 putts on his front side 33.

★ ★ ★

He had three bogeys on the last four holes however and finished with 73 — 154, which was the cutoff point.

Among those who failed to make the cut were ex-Pontiac city champ Dick Robertson, and ex-state amateur champ Lloyd Syron.

Rob Ryan, former 1962 Trans-Miss champion from Oklahoma, now a local resident who decided not to defend his Indianwood Invitational crown to enter the Medal Play event, also failed to make the cut by one stroke.

★ ★ ★

In his morning round of 76, Ryan finished with three double bogeys, which cost him the qualifying berth.

Terry Hoy, state publinx champion from Pontiac and Pete Jackson ex-GAM Champion from Oakland Hills both missed the cut at 156.

WOLL Ace Flips No-Hitter

Titans Second in Loop Race

Soph Yezbick Fans 10 in 2-1 Decision

Pontiac Catholic and Waterford Our Lady wrapped up league baseball action yesterday with impressive performances.

Junior Jerry Yezbick flipped a no-hitter as WOLL downed Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, 2-1, while sophomore Jeff Solwold yielded only two hits and fanned a school record 16 batters in Pontiac Catholic's 2-1 nod over Ferndale St. James.

BAD NEWS

But on the bad news side, at least for the Titans of Pontiac Catholic, Detroit St. Rita downed Royal Oak St. Mary, 10-4, to win the Northwest Catholic League crown with an 8-2 record. The Titans closed at 7-3.

★ ★ ★

In another Northwest game, pitcher Tim Megge stroked a bases-loaded single in the bottom of the 11th to give Orchard Lake St. Mary a 3-2 decision over St. Francis de Sales. Megge collected four hits and went the distance on the mound.

BIG BLOW

Tom Jamnik lashed a two-run double in the third to account for all of Pontiac Catholic's scoring. They had filled the bases on a walk to Jim Boucher, a single by Jim Benthem and another walk to Tim Boyer with two out.

★ ★ ★

Yezbick fanned 10 and walked seven and his teammate pushed across a couple of runs in the third and he made them standup. Mike Webster drove in one with a sacrifice fly and the other came in on an error.

★ ★ ★

In a Central Division game, Birmingham Brother Rice handed Detroit Austin a 3-2 setback. Dave Girard drove in two runs and Steve Fisher collected three hits to spark the Brother Rice attack.

One Point Separating Four in Net Regional

Four schools were separated by one point today going into the semifinal and final rounds of the state high school regional tennis meet at Royal Oak Kimball.

Birmingham Seaholm had 7½ points and right behind were host Kimball and Berkley with 7, plus Birmingham Groves with 6½.

Rochester, with singles ace Rick Krumline playing in the semifinals this morning, was tied for fifth with Bloomfield Hills Andover at 3. Southfield and Dondero posted 2½ points and Troy had 1.

Krumline met Berkley's Tim Marks in one singles semifinal, and the other paired Kimball's Dan Richards against Groves' Mark Epstein.

Seaholm's hopes were carried by two doubles units. Bob Beel and Mike Jehle played Neil Austin and Dennis Vura of ROK, while Todd Deel and Tom Scrips of the Maples tangled with Groves' Bruce Borden and Lew Forman.

At Flint, Clarkston trails Flint Central, 14-12½, and Lapeer (11½) is a close third. The Wolves from Clarkston had four players alive after Friday's action.

Reaching the doubles semifinals were Tom Bullard and Kim Beattie with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Flint NW's Dave Peterson and Dave Lenz. Kim's brother Kirk and Mark Erickson posted rugged third-round singles wins.

Beattie ousted Waterford's Roger Reed, 8-6, 7-5; and Erickson beat Lapeer's Carl Henderson, 8-6, 10-8.

Waterford had 5, Pontiac Northern 4 and Pontiac Central 2 to place well down in the standings.

League champion Livonia Stevenson closed out the conference campaign yesterday by downing Pontiac Northern's Huskies, 5-1.

In another league outing, Waterford handed Walled Lake a 5-4 loss in 17 innings and wound in second place in the I-L.

Farmington stepped outside the league and suffered a 5-4 setback at the hands of Waterford Kettering.

The loss at Livonia left the Huskies with a 8-8 season record. Their only run came in the fifth when Larry Crivea singled Bill VandaGriff across.

Ron Henderson rapped out a couple of hits and drove in three runs to spark the Kettering victory.

CLEARS BASES

Tony Himmelspach socked a bases-loaded triple for Farmington in the first and Bob Henke singled home the other run for the Falcons in the third.

Waterford pushed across a run in the bottom of the seventh to deadlock its game with Walled Lake at 4-4, and then the two traded blanks until the 17th.

Frank Ballard's single to left brought Rick Eagle home with the winning run to end the marathon contest that took four hours and 15 minutes and finished at 8:15 p.m. Eagle was running for Mike Murphy who had walked and he legged it to third on a double by Rick Goit to set the stage for Ballard's blow.

In another game, John Baumann tossed a no-hitter as Bloomfield Hills Andover downed Clawson, 4-0. It was the second no-hit job in the last three games for Andover. Biran Parrott turned the trick last week.

Golfer Helped by Polio

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Larry Hinson believes he might not be a professional golfer today and challenging for the $20,000 top prize in the Memphis Open Golf Tournament if it hadn't been for polio 18 years ago.

"It proves anyone with a handicap can do what they want if they don't let it get them down," said the NCAA college division golf champion from Douglas, Ga.

Hinson's left arm is one inch shorter than the right, but he powered long drives and drilled in long putts Friday to shoot a four-under-par 66 for a two-round total of 133, just one stroke behind leader B. R. McLondon Jr. of Birmingham, Ala.

Southfield Wins, 3-2, Takes SEMA Crown

A three-run rally in the sixth inning brought Southfield from behind for a 3-2 win over Berkley, a victory that carried with it the baseball championship in the Southeastern Michigan Association.

★ ★ ★

The triumph left Southfield with a final league mark of 10-4, just a shade better than Seaholm (10-5), which closed the campaign with a 2-1 nod over Royal Oak Kimball.

SECOND STRAIGHT

The championship was the second in a row for coach Ed Bryant in the SEMA and fourth over-all. He won two others when Southfield was a member of the Inter-Lakes.

Berkley kept Bryant and the Blue Jays sweating for awhile by taking a 2-0 lead on single runs in the third and fifth.

Local Squad Soccer Host

The Birmingham Soccer Club Sunday morning will be host to Rochester, N.Y., at Cranbrook School in the Eastern U.S. Junior Challenge Cup finals.

Coached by Cranbrook instructor Edgar Soudek, the Oakland County boys whipped three state opponents, then edged Cleveland, 3-2, and won by default from Fall River, Mass., to gain the Eastern finals.

The winner of the 11 a.m. encounter tomorrow will meet the Western U.S. survivor for the national cup laurels.

The teams are comprised of boys 18 years-and-under.

Bags Hole-In-One

Jack Saylor of Drayton Plains scored a hole-in-one last week at Morey's Golf Club. The ace came on the ninth hole of the 'Red' course. He carded a 35 for the round.

NFL Owners Cite Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits are down and salaries are up, the National Football League clubowners have told their players who want more money and improved benefits.

The owners held a press conference Friday in answer to statements by the NFL Players Association that they had refused to budge on the Association's demands.

Theodore Kheel, New York attorney and labor mediator who is counsel for the owners, said an unaudited statement of NFL income showed a drop in average before-tax income from $827,159 in 1966 to $635,125 in 1967.

Kheel said that the average player payroll had risen from $1,161,875 to $1,373,801 in the same period. Kheel said the owners would agree to an audit of the records by a reputable firm. The players said Thursday they wanted such an audit.

Kheel said the average player income in the NFL was $25,000, including pension benefits and pre-season pay, and actual salary averaged $22,500.

Kheel said the owners had agreed to increase the minimum salary to $10,000 and to hold an All-Star game with the American Football League for the benefit of the pension plan as soon as possible, but not next season.

The owners refused, however, to grant the Players Association request for $500 payment for play in exhibition games. Kheel said each player's contract was for the whole season, including preseason games.

Stars Acquire Forward

Son of Famous Singer Is Ready to Make Move

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOOD (AP) — "I've traveled 315,000 miles to become a singer. Now I think I'm ready to make my move."

The serious young man making this comment was Frank Sinatra Jr., and his move will be signaled next month with "Dean Martin Presents the Golddiggers," a summer show on NBC. Young Frank stars on the variety hour with Joey Heatherton and Paul Lynde. It's a takeoff on the fads and fashions of the 1930s, produced by Greg Garrison, the man behind the Martin winter show.

A Sinatra starring on a Martin show? Young Frank is well aware of the talk that this evokes.

"I know that a lot of people will maintain the opinion, publicly and privately, that the only reason I'm on the show is because my father and Dean Martin are so close." said Frank.

"Anyone who thinks that way is obviously a lightweight who doesn't know the real situation.

"As a matter of fact, neither Dean nor my father knew that I was being considered for the show. It was all Mr. Garrison's idea. He liked the way I worked on Dean's Christmas show, in which both our families worked.

★ ★ ★

"He still wanted to know more, so he sent people to look at me on the road. Then he himself came to see me in Las Vegas and at the Copacabana in New York. Even after he made his decision, it was up to NBC for final refusal. The network finally handed down the verdict approving me for the show."

The claim of parental intercession is something that the younger Sinatra has had to deal with from the start of his career five years ago.

Woodrow Offers Farm Fun

Woodrow the Woodsman and his animal friends leave their forest habitat to romp and frolic on a farm this week. This coincides with Michigan Farm Week.

★ ★ ★

Highlights of Woodrow the Woodsman, presented Monday through Friday at 6:30 a.m. in color and Saturdays at 8 a.m. on Channel 2, will include 4-H activities, the hatching (hopefully) of baby chicks, and Woodrow playing with a variety of farm animals and working on farm machinery.

Youngsters will delight and learn when they see Woodrow milking a cow, feeding a lamb, chasing geese, riding a horse, playing with rabbits and plowing a field. Woodrow's animal friends, as usual, do their mischievious best to get him into trouble.

For youngsters who have never seen a farm, watching Woodrow the Woodsman during the week of May 27 will prove to be a most entertaining and informational experience, WJBK-TV officials say.

Ancient Book of Acts Restored After 1900 Years

This claim is made solely by the author. The book, however, is amazingly different and contains new information about Jesus, Mary, Paul, the disciples, reincarnation and current events. It is based on a divine translation and not any new document. If you desire a copy, order now for there is already a waiting list and this book with the information it furnishes cannot be obtained through any other source.

Get the B.F.Goodrich Radial 990 today!

Radial 990 has a totally new cord pattern! In regular tires, the cords cross each other diagonally. As the tires flex, friction and heat are created, which reduce the life of the tires. Radial cords do not cross; they run parallel to each other from bead to bead. A belt of cords circles the tire like a hoop under the tread, reducing tread shifting on the road. So the Radial 990 runs cooler, lasts longer!

ABC-TV Changes Format

Reynolds to Head Newscast

FRANK REYNOLDS

Frank Reynolds, ABC News' White House correspondent for the past three years, will become anchor man of the network's evening television news program on Monday when the program adopts a new format.

In making the announcement, Elmer W. Lower, president of ABC News, said, "Our net format is going to emphasize strong and trenchant commentary on the stories behind the day's news and there is no broadcast journalist better qualified to guide the type of news program than Frank Reynolds."

★ ★ ★

Reynolds replaces Bob Young in the anchor man post. Young, who had been London correspondent for ABC News before joining the evening news program in January, will be reassigned to the New York staff.

The new format for the network's evening news program, as previously announced, will regularly include commentary from a staff of 20 to 25 experts prominent in the fields of politics, fashion, the lively arts, sports, science, finance, and international affairs.

During two periods last summer and fall when Reynolds filled in as anchor man on the ABC-TV evening news program, Lower noted that his contributing commentaries at the close of each telecast drew more letters and calls of praise than had any other feature of the nightly news program.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds brings to his new post almost 25 years of experience as a radio and television journalist. As White House correspondent, he has accompanied President Johnson on every major trip and conference since 1965.

★ ★ ★

These include the presidential flights to Vietnam last year, LBJ's summit meeting with Soviet Premier Aleksei Kosygin in July 1967, the President's meeting with the Organization of American States in Uruguay in May 1967 and numerous trips to the LBJ ranch outside Austin, Tex.

★ ★ ★

Last December, Reynolds was one of three network correspondents who interviewed Mr. Johnson in a program titled "A Conversation with the President," the third of these historical telecasts.

ROLE NOT NEW

The role of anchor man is not a new one to Mr. Reynolds. Prior to joining ABC in 1963, he was anchor man of a twice-daily news program as well as a weekend news program for WBKB-TV, the ABC-owned television station in Chicago. As such, he enjoyed considerable success, the news program being the most popular in Chicago.

★ ★ ★

On joining ABC News in 1965, Reynolds was assigned to the Washington Bureau and became the network's White House correspondent in 1965.

Last year, in addition to his reports on the network's evening news program, he programs: "Free Press, Fair Trial," a study of the responsibility of the press in covering trials, and two special programs related to the Middle East War.

DISTINCTIVE STYLE

Reynolds brings to his new post a distinctive style that is characterized by wit and incisiveness.

Master thief Alexander Mundy, portrayed by Robert Wagner, is shown in two scenes from Tuesday's "It Takes a Thief" show. He poses as a novelist and enlists the aid of pretty Nancy Ross-White (Katherine Crawford) to pull a heist during an embassy reception. The show starts at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 7.

Ferency Views Support Switch

'If McCarthy Fades, Bobby Would Gain'

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Zolton Ferency, in the role of representative for Eugene McCarthy, indicated backers of the Minnesota senator probably would switch their support to Robert Kennedy if McCarthy's presidential drive fades.

Ferency, former Michigan Democratic chairman, told a news conference Friday that McCarthy's campaign "started out last year as an antiadministration movement and it will continue in that vein."

★ ★ ★

"We want to be sure," he added, "that the campaign for a new direction for the nation on policies both foreign and domestic won't be destroyed by picayune arguments within the party."

Ferency, Massachusetts Sen. Edward Kennedy, representing his brother, and Sen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota, appearing for Vice President Hubert Humphrey, spoke at separate news conferences upon their arrival in Iowa for the state Democratic presidential convention.

OPENED LAST NIGHT

Iowa's 52 delegates to the Democratic national convention were to be selected at the state convention, which opened Friday night.

Sen. Mondale said he believes Humphrey has enough delegate support nationally to be "very close to a first-ballot victory" at the August national convention in Chicago.

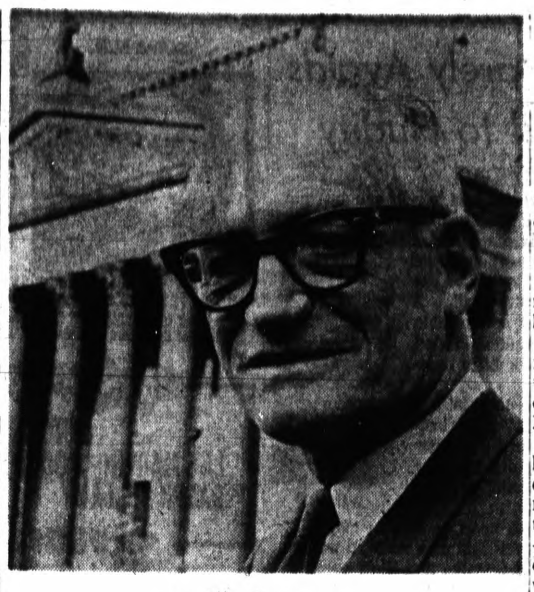

★ ★ ★

Sen. Kennedy said his brother has more backing in Iowa than any other candidate

Neither Kennedy nor Mondale would say how many members of the Iowa delegation were expected to back their respective candidates.

CHANGE OF HEART

Ferency said he believes McCarthy would gain support from 25 to 33 per cent of the Iowa delegates and "I hope that before the die is cast, some of the others will change their minds."

Barry Goldwater

Goldwater Awarded $75,000 in Libel Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — Barry Goldwater won a $75,000 award today in his libel action over a 1964 article in Fact magazine that said he was psychologically unfit to be president.

A federal jury of nine men and three women deliberated 12 hours before returning the verdict against the now-defunct magazine, publisher Ralph Ginzburg and former managing editor Warren Boroson.

★ ★ ★

Judge Harold R. Tyler Jr. said in his charge Friday that the facts must show "actual malice" in order to return a verdict in favor of Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential nominee.

The jury awarded $50,000 in punitive damages against the magazine, $25,000 against Ginzburg but no punitive damages against Boroson. All three defendants were assessed $1 in compensatory damages.

FEELS VINDICATED

Goldwater, whose suit originally asked $2 million in damages, told newsmen later, "I feel vindicated and I thank the jury for the action."

Ginzburg, 39, said he was "disappointed. . .Some very important First Amendment rights are involved here. The price that I'm being forced to pay is $75,000, but the price the American people will have to pay is incalculable."

Harris Steinberg, attorney for Ginzburg, said the verdict would be appealed.

Goldwater, 59, a former senator from Arizona, said in his suit that Fact and Ginzburg had maliciously libeled him in an issue entitled, "1,189 Psychiatrists Say Goldwater is Psychologically Unfit to be President."

The issue was published just prior to the 1964 election, which Goldwater lost to President Johnson.

The suit attracted wide attention because many legal authorities felt it could lead to establishing new guidelines in libel cases involving public figures.

★ ★ ★

Tyler told the jury in his charge that failure to exercise "ordinary or reasonable care in ascertaining the truth of published material, standing alone, does not render a publication liable for damages in a suit brought by a public official."

Jury Gets Case Monday

Mom on Trial in Death of Girl, 4

NEW YORK (AP) — Both sides have rested in the case of attractive, red-haired Alice Crimmins, accused of strangling her 4-year-old daughter. The state termed her an unfit mother and defense counsel said her morality is not on trial.

Following summations Friday in Queens Supreme Court, Justice Peter Farrell said he would charge the all-male jury on Monday.

In a crowded courtroom, as it has been during the 13-day trial, defense attorney Harold C. Harrison attacked the credibility of two key prosecution witnesses —and acknowledged former lover of Mrs. Crimmins and "the woman in the window."

NUMBER OF LOVERS

Calling attention to cross-examination of the 28-year-old ex-cocktail waitress, who admitted on the stand she had a number of lovers during her marriage and while she was estranged from her husband, Harrison said:

"Alice is not on trial for her morality. There is a higher court for that. What you heard on the stand was nothing but filth and moral character assassination."

Joseph Rorech, 39, a boyfriend of the defendant, testified that Mrs. Crimmins told him on Sept. 9, 1966, "Joseph, can you forgive me? I killed her."

★ ★ ★

Harrison termed Rorech "a perjurer, degenerate and sick, sick man . . . Someone tightened the screws on him. I wish I knew who it was."

Harrison urged the jury not to believe the testimony of Sophie Earomirski, a neighbor of Mrs. Crimmins whose anonymous letter to authorities on Nov, 30. 1966 led to Mrs. Crimmins' arrest. Harrison called Mrs. Earomirksi "a sick, pitiful woman" who "wants the world's attention."

CARRYING BUNDLE

Mrs. Earomirski testified she looked out her window and saw Mrs. Crimmins leave her home at 2 a.m. July 14, 1965, carrying a blanket-wrapped "bundle" and leading her 5-year-old son, Edmund Jr., by the hand. The woman said the defendant also was accompanied by a man.

The girl was found dead later that day in a weed-choked lot near the Kew Gardens Hills apartment occupied by Mrs. Crimmins. The boy was found dead five days later in another lot. Mrs. Crimmins is not charged in that death.

Bill on Police Reserves Clears State Legislature

LANSING (UPI) — Final legislative approval was given to a bill creating a special reserve State Police force for use in emergencies and today was on its way to Gov. George Romney.

The reserve unit was sought by the State Police after the Detroit riot last summer when it was demonstrated that a back-up force was needed to handle routine police duties while regular troopers were tied up by an emergency.

The Senate Friday gave its approval to a House amendment that restricts membership on the force to former county, city, state, federal or military policemen who have lived in Michigan for at least one year.

The bill was given immediate effect by both houses and so the emergency force can be set up as soon as Romney signs the bill.

FUNDS APPROPRIATED

The Legislature appropriated $50,000 for creating the emergency unit.

Negro members voted in the Senate for the bill after they were assured Negroes would be given an equal opportunity for inclusion in the special force. The House amendments were accepted on a 33-0 vote.

Dong Ha Fire Dept. Is Often Under Fire

DONG HA, Vietnam, (AP) — The old pumper has more holes than a gangsters' getaway car and the fire chief is only 19—but don't write off Dong Ha's fire department.

"It used to be worse," says the resident fire-fighting boss, Marine Cpl. Terrance Connors of Homestead, Fla.

★ ★ ★

"When I got here we had a plain old truck with fire extinguishers on the back. Everybody would pile on that thing and we'd haul out for the action. It was a riot."

Now, the fire chief is awaiting a second truck and hopes that maybe he'll even get enough fight-fighting hats to go around. There are just two now, and the other eight firemen wear ordinary steel helmets.

The fire department's claim to fame is that the big Marine base is only seven miles below the demilitarized zone that divides Vietnam. North Vietnamese gunners shell the sprawling complex almost daily.

Since the first of the year five men have been wounded. Connors became fire chief when the previous incumbent was blown out of the driver's seat of the "Dong Ha Express," the battle-weary pumper that boasts 25 shrapnel holes.

★ ★ ★

Dong Ha's firemen also get a hair-raising variety of blazes—ammo dumps blowing up, fuel stores aflame and various bits of military equipment burning.

The blue-eyed, sandy-haired fire chief came by his job naturally. At 16 he signed up with the suburban Union Park Fire Department in Orlando, Fla., and joined the Marines a year later, landing in Vietnam last September.

PRIDE AND JOY

The old fire truck—militarily known as a model 530 pumper—is his pride.

"She's had three tires shot off, shrapnel and we had to replace the windshield," Connors said. "But she's never missed a day of action."

★ ★ ★

She had her first shrapnel hole before her first fire. She arrived Feb. 24 and the following day was pierced on the way to a burning fuel dump.

The old pumper gets hit so often because the firehouse is right in the middle of the "impact zone," a target area for enemy gunners. When the North Vietnamese guns start a fire they then zero in on the smoke for further shelling.

DOUBLY HAZARDOUS

That makes it doubly hazardous for the firemen—they get shelled whether they go to the fire or stay in the firehouse bunker. With noonday temperatures at Dong Ha ranging around 110, they sweat it out either way.

Most are in their teens or early 20s and they get a kick out of clinging to the creening Dong Ha Express.

★ ★ ★

"The best part is always just getting there," grins 22-year-old Cpl. Frank Habitzreuther of Lancaster, N.Y.

"That old truck got four Purple Hearts in her first three weeks," Connors said proudly.

He got elevated to fire chief because one of those hits wounded the previous fire chief, Sgt. James Spyers of Troy, N.Y. who is now recovering in the United States. A shell blew up only 10 yards from the truck, blasting in the windshield and scattering fragments but not hitting any vital machinery.

The old pumper has no shining brass and no bell and is painted a dull green but Connors has installed a siren—rarely used.

★ ★ ★

A siren at Dong Ha means "attack" and consequently the fire truck uses it only in real emergencies. Still, says Connors, it is sort of professional to have a siren.

The Dong Ha Fire Department also has some other touches of home—the boys play pinochle when off duty. They would like to have a brass pole to slide down but that would be sort of useless since they usually sleep in an underground bunker.

Mystery Man Paid Owner of Suspect B25

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP) — The owner of a B25 plane, which Haitian President Francois (Papa Doc) Duvalier says bombed his voodoo island, told a news conference yesterday a mystery man gave him $1,000 to ferry the bomber from Arizona to Florida.

Jay Humphrey, a former Melbourne Beach resident now living in Freeport, Bahamas, said he knew the man only as "Johnny Knight."

★ ★ ★

"A thousand dollars is a thousand dollars," Humphrey told newsmen. "I didn't ask too many questions."

Humphrey made the statements in a special telephone hookup. He refused to appear in person.

★ ★ ★

Duvalier said he had information which proved one of two B25s which bombed his island Monday flew out of Melbourne, made an intermediary stop and then dropped explosives on Cap Haitien and set down troops.

"The map found on board a bomber gave very important information, leaving no doubt about is point of departure," he told the Associated press.

Debbie Just Barely Avoids Movies' Trend to Nudity

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Debbie Reynolds finds herself caught right in the middle in the nudity and lewdity battle.

"Either the censors should be a lot more strict or somebody should be shot," the famous goody-goody girl-next-door declaimed the other afternoon in one of the Regency penthouses. I'm against nudity. I don't wear bikinis. I'm just not comfortable in them. I'm kind of nervous walking around with everything showing. I'm a little modest."

WILSON

Yet there was a devilish note in her laugh as she discussed some "adult" bedroom scenes she does with James Garner in "How Sweet It Is," scenes which take her beyond her supposedly nude swiming in "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

"In this film I'm not . . . you know . . .uh . . . nude . . . but it seems like I am . . . but I felt that as a married woman who hasn't seen her husband in a while, and she's going to join him, she doesn't wear nightgowns from her head to her toes—so I didn't."

★ ★ ★

That was her "motivation" for the boudoir scenes with Garner—but very likely she faked the nudity because her husband Harry Karl, the shoe tycoon, confessed that she deceived us in the allegedly naked swimimng in "Molly Brown."

"She came home from the studio one day and said they wanted her to do a nude swimimng scene—and she wasn't going to do it," Harry said.

"She got them to make her something to wear that was flesh-colored, but she was well-covered," Harry said. "For this new picture, they got her into a bikini, but in her kind of a bikini, she was about as well covered as she'd be in a diver's suit."

Debbie gloated at the deception she'd maneuvered. "You're disappointed? You thought you saw me naked, you thought you saw something? That's my point. You don't have to go nude.

"I had a big argument with the director, Chuck Walters. I said I wouldn't. He said 'Debbie you have to go with the times,' and I said, 'I don't have to walk around naked to go with the times.' He said he'd get somebody else to do it. I said 'If you do I'll sue you and the picture and the naked lady getting out of the water.' So they got me this little suit, really, and I wore that, and if you're disappointed, I'm sorry about that."

★ ★ ★

Debbie said, "I won that point. Well, I just wouldn't do it the way they wanted it. I'd have lost the family audience and I wouldn't have been able to take my kids to see it."

But the new film has her departing even further from her previous depture from the Girl Scout image.

"We have some bubble baths. I've never taken bubble baths in pictures before.

"And in that one scene, I had the boys up top leave the set, you know the workers that are up there peeking down, little Peeping Toms . . . not leave the set, but just walk away a few feet . . ."

Debbie was prety shocked about "Hair," the stage show where much of the cast takes curtain bows nude. "I just couldn't believe it. No wonder the children of the country are all mixed up."

Did Debbie think people would eventually be walking naked on the streets?

"Oh, I hope not! You go to your museums and look at some of the famous works of art. The human body often is ugly. I think that's why somebody invented clothes."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Imogene Coca, who met Maurice Chevalier at Lord Jim's, got a photo from him inscribed: "I think you are adorable and I wish I were a little younger. As it is I can only romance with my eyes" . . . A motor Inn's seeking a couple to get married under water when its pool reopens. Any (gulp) volunteers?

Radley Metzger, producer-director of the sexy film "Therese and Isabelle," says eventually people will get so used to nudity in movies "they'll start asking, 'But what's the story about?'" . . . Al Hirt was signed for three more films . . . Photographer Peter Basch took some artistic nudes of singer-harpist Corky Hale (through harp strings) but they won't be seen in U.S. magazines—she thinks her family'll object.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack Benny bought a $1 lottery ticket, and it lost. "The way I figure it," he said later, "I blew $50,000 on the races that day."

Labor Dept. Pushing Job-Bias Showdown With Five Big Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department is moving toward a showdown with five big firms over their alleged racial discrimination in jobs, with the stakes amounting to millions of dollars in government contracts.

So far, the federal government has not canceled contracts on job discrimination grounds, winning voluntary settlements instead.

★ ★ ★

But the department said Friday efforts at voluntary conciliations have already been made with these firms: Bethlehem Steel Corp., Bethlehem, Pa.; Timken Roller Bearing Co., Canton, Ohio; Allen-Bradley, an electronics firm in Milwaukee, Wis.; B & P Motor Express, Pittsburgh; and Pullman Inc., Bessemer, Ala.

Edward C. Sylvester Jr., director of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance, told the firms they have 10 days to request hearings on the proposed contract cancellations.

INELIGIBILITY

"If no request has been received within that time, the director may enter an order declaring you ineligible for further contracts and subcontracts, and . . . may cause a termination of existing contracts and subcontracts," Sylvester told them.

Spokesmen for Bethlehem and Timken said their hiring practices meet standards required for companies doing business with the government.

The other firms had no immediate comment or their top officials could not be reached.

Norman Peterson, a Timken vice president, said his firm had not received Sylvester's letter but added the company "certainly would request" the hearing.

NOT DISCRIMINATING?

"We are certain we are not engaging in any discriminatory practices in regards to government contracts," Peterson said.

A spokesman for Bethlehem Steel said, "We have developed and instituted a comprehensive, affirmative action program designed specifically to meet the requirements of the Office of Federal Contract Compliance" as well as a presidential executive order against job discrimination.

★ ★ ★

The Bethlehem spokesman declined comment when asked whether the government's action might have resulted from a complaint earlier this year by the Congress of Racial Equality about alleged bias at the company's Sparrows Point, Md., shipyard.

The Labor Department launched a probe of Bethlehem in 1966 after CORE and Negro steelworkers at Sparrows Point complained about discrimination.

SUPERVISORY POSITIONS

A Labor Department report last February said that while Negroes account for 38 per cent of blue collar jobs, they hold 3 per cent of blue-collar supervisory positions. It also said the average Negro blue-collar worker was at least four pay classes below the average white in a comparable job.

Details on the government's complaints about the other companies were not available.

★ ★ ★

Bethlehem, largest of the firms involved, has some 125,000 workers around the world.

Available figures showed Timken has about 11,000 workers in several Ohio plants and Allen-Bradley has more than 6,000 workers in its Milwaukee plant.

RELATES EXPERIENCES — Col. David E. Lownds points out the Khe Sanh combat complex in Vietnam on a map as he holds a news conference at the Pentagon yesterday. Lownds commanded the 26th Regiment during the seven-week siege by North Vietnamese forces.

Khe Sanh Leader Says Men Wanted to Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Marine colonel says that although outnumbered four to one by enemy forces surrounding the Khe Sanh outpost in Vietnam earlier this year, his men wanted to attack.

The situation was not comparable to the Dien Bien Phu situation of 1954 in which the French met disastrous defeat at the hands of Ho Chi Minh, said Col. David E. Lownds.

★ ★ ★

"I'd be fibbing to you if I said the kids didn't want to go (on the attack)," Lownds said Friday.

Khe Sanh, a Marine outpost below the demilitarized zone, overlooked major Communist infiltration routes into the northern provinces of South Vietnam. The Khe Sanh siege lasted from January to mid-March.

'SET PIECE BATTLE'

The slender, graying colonel told a news conference higher military authorities decided on what he called a "set piece battle" primarily concerned with the defense of Khe Sanh.

But without appearing to be critical, he said, "If I had my druthers I'd rather be out attacking."

He said his mission to defend did not change during the siege.

When the outpost came under heavy attack, there was some questioning of the soundness of the U.S. strategy.

However, Lownds said, it would be wrong to think the Marines had been completely "buttoned up" by the 20,000 enemy troops. He said his men were able to conduct armed patrols nearly a mile outside the post.

Last Cavalry Horse to Get Military Rites

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — Chief, the last cavalry horse on the U.S. Army rolls, died Friday night in his private stall at the age of 36, the equivalent of 108 years for a human being.

His life span was extended by the special care he received after he went into semiretirement in 1950.

A military funeral for Chief will be held today.

The bay gelding was born in 1932 and was bought for the cavalry for $163 eight years later at Ft. Robinson, Neb. He was transferred to Ft. Riley in 1940, where about 6,000 horses were being used.

When the horse cavalry was disbanded in 1949-50, Chief was one of three mounts kept on the post.

As recently as 35 years ago Ft. Riley had three cavalry regiments — the 13th, the 2nd and the 9th—and had horses assigned to the Cavalry School. Many officers had their own private mounts.

Bill on Draft Rights Offered by Conyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to allow Selective Service registrants to have attorneys represent them in appearances before draft boards has been introduced in the House of Representatives.

Cosponsored by Rep. John Conyers Jr. D-Mich., and five other representatives, the bill is similar to a proposal rejected by the Senate earlier this week.

Under present Selective Service rules, registrants are not permitted to have attorneys with them.

★ ★ ★

Other sponsors of the House bill are Reps. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., Herbert Tenzer, D-N.Y., Harold D. Donohue, D-Mass., Charles M. Mathias Jr., R-Md., and Don Edwards, D-Calif.

County to Eye Okay of Bonds for Hangars

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be asked to approve sale of $315,000 in bonds for construction of 51 new hangars at Oakland-Pontiac Airport at the board meeting Monday at 9:30 a.m. at the county courthouse auditorium, Telegraph and Pontiac Lake.

The bond sale has the backing of two committees, ways and means and aviation.

★ ★ ★

The hangars would be built on the northwestern part of the airport in Waterford Township The hangars will be self-supporting. Rent is expected to pay off the bond issue within 25 years. Thereafter, rents would help support airport operations, according to officials

Also on the agenda is consideration of granting the U.S. Army 3½ acres of county land on Watkins Lake Road north of Pontiac Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

The Army wants to build a new Reserve center to replace the present leased building at 40 Walnut in Pontiac.

Fete for Pair Is Postponed

An open house to honor retiring Dryden Schools Supt. Frederick Patterson and his wife has been postponed.

The open house had been slated for tomorrow, but has been delayed indefinitely due to Patterson's illness.

Patterson, who underwent surgery this week, ends 22 years of service on June 30.

State House Takes Night Off After Passing Antiriot Measure

LANSING (AP)—Relieved of the pressure of a midnight deadline, the House gave itself the night off Friday after passing an antiriot bill which outlaws urging another person to commit a crime.

★ ★ ★

The House had met from morning until night Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, hoping to clear its calendar of Senate bills before the Friday midnight deadline. When that proved impossible, the House and Senate voted Friday to extend the deadline until next Tuesday.

Passed 80-12 by the House was a heavily amended Senate bill originally aimed at those who urge violence and destruction during a riot, but now expanded to include advocating any crime.

★ ★ ★

The House version of the measure defines "criminal solicitation" as urging another person to commit a crime with intent to cause its commission and where there is a "clear and present danger" that it will be committed.

★ ★ ★

Also given House approval were bills raising cosmetologists' license fees, boosting the penalty for practicing medicine without a license and requiring persons to stop on order of a conservation officer.

★ ★ ★

Unlicensed medical practice would be punishable by up to four years in prison and a $2,000 fine. The present maximum penalty is six months and $200.

★ ★ ★

Handily defeated was another attempt by some House members to vote themselves four-year terms. A resolution doubling House terms, while cutting the chamber from 1 0 members to 99, was defeated 19-69.

★ ★ ★

Put off until next week was a bill which would allow Detroit to double its 1 per cent city income tax. The measure would not apply to other cities with similar levies.

Here's News in Brief From State Capitol

By The Associated Press

THE GOVERNOR

Said he thinks the majority of the Michigan delegation to the Republican National Convention is "still loose" as far as a decision among the presidential aspirants is concerned.

Said he would seek congressional action giving state and local authorities to act in labor disputes such as Detroit's 192-day newspaper strike.

Welcomed visiting Japanese officials and told them he was sure Michigan could benefit from a proposed "sister state" relationship with their prefecture (state).

THE STATE HEALTH DIRECTOR

Said an outbreak of infectious hepatitis in the West Branch school district has been brought under control.

THE SENATE

Sent to the governor:

SB18, Zaagman. Create State Boundary Commission.

Passed:

HB2530, Pittenger. Permit Sunday sales of liquor.

HB4030, Engstrom. Permit airports with regularly scheduled airline flights to serve liquor.

x-HB3513, Hampton. Defining conflict-of-interest for state officials and establishing penalties.

x-HB3512, Hampton. Determine areas of possible conflict-of-interest for public officers and provide penalties for violations.

Defeated:

HB3725, Karoub. Require compulsory arbitration in labor disputes involving police and fire departments.

x-Amended.

THE HOUSE

Sent to the governor HB 3348, Engstrom. Authorize spending $398.2 million from various state restricted funds during fiscal 1968-69 (immediate effect).

Defeated HJR CCC, Snyder. Increase House members' terms to four years; cut number of members from 110 to 99.

Passed:

SB291, Schweigert. Raise fees and educational requirements of cosmetologists.

SB927, Fleming. Create crime of criminal solicitation; provide penalties for inciting others to commit illegal acts.

SB101, Vander Laan. Reduce penalties for violating Agriculture Labor Camp Licensing Act.

SB451, Rockwell. Make it a misdemeanor to refuse to stop on order or signal of a conservation officer.

SB1273, Faust. Increase penalties for practicing medicine without a license.

SB996, Vander Laan. Change name of Workmen's Compensation Department to Workmen's Compensation Bureau.

Senate Okays Slum Aid Bill

LANSING (AP) — It is hoped that private enterprise, working for a profit, will help the larger cities in Michigan redevelop and beautify some of their slum areas.

This is the purpose behind a House bill introduced by Rep. Thomas Ford, Sr., R-Grand Rapids now with both Senate and House approval.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids, succeeded in obtaining Senate passage by a 27-5 vote.

The measure now is back in the House for concurrence in numerous Senate amendments, mostly aimed at protecting the rights of the cities and the citizens in the areas that might be involved.

PURPOSE OF MEASURE

Purpose of the measure is to allow the creation of urban redevelopment corporations that would have the power to improve substandard and unsanitary areas in the cities.

MSU Programs to Draw 3,000

EAST LANSING (AP) — More than 3,000 Michigan high school students will attend advance programs at Michigan State University this summer. Programs will be offered in journalism, debate, radio and television, yearbook editing, theater, government, engineering, music and marching band.

Free-Form Rock Garden Complete With Italian Fountain In Bay Window Emphasizes Air Of Elegance In Formal Dining Room

Pot-Bellied Stove Is Conversation Piece In Informal Dining Area Overlooking Family Room

Decor Blends Formal, Cozy

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Elegance and simplicity walk hand in hand at the C. L. Dirks home in Avon Township as the decorating theme develops from the regally appointed foyer and formal living and dining rooms into the cozy comfort of the kitchen and family room.

★ ★ ★

Setting the background for the Mediterranean-influenced living room are off-white walls, gold carpeting and gold fleur-de-lis on off-white antique satin draperies.

★ ★ ★

A gold-leaf bas relief hangs above the room's custom-designed sofa covered in a white on white brocade. Gold pedestals support the black marble coffee table. A gold nut tree made by Mrs. Dirks' aunt tops the doored chest beside the sofa.

★ ★ ★

The matching tall-backed gold chairs that flank the bay window's free-form rock garden are served by fruitwood cigarette tables with wrought iron bases.

Continuing the gold color theme, the formal dining room features a fruitwood pedestal table with high cane-backed dining chairs. Gold grapes spill out of the crystal and brass compote centering the table.

★ ★ ★

For interest and to create the feeling of spaciousness, the Dirkses chose an Italian garden scene mural for one wall of the dining room. A wall-hung shelf of antiqued white and gold adorned by a black candelabrum with black candles completes the wall.

★ ★ ★

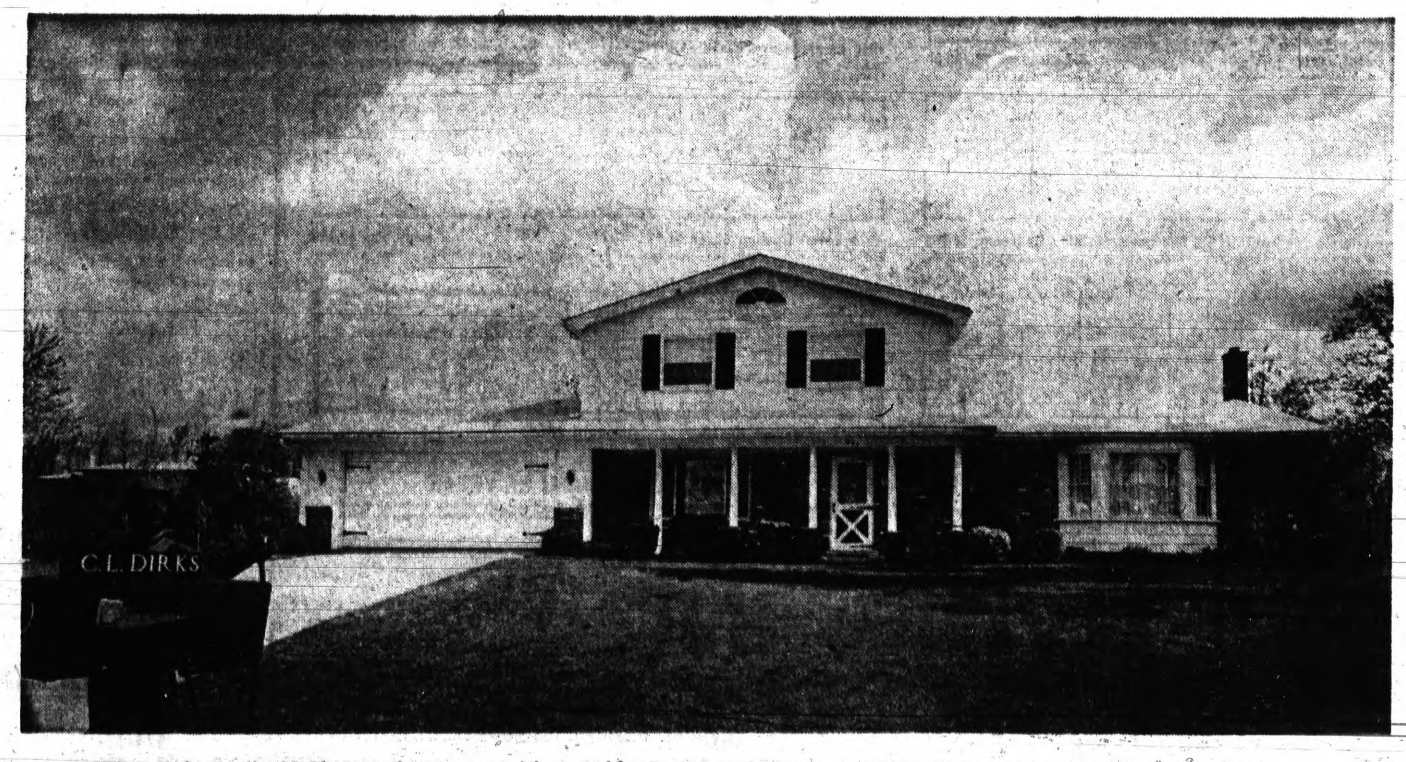

The nearby family room with adjoining kitchen and informal dining area does an about face with Early Americana as the dominant decorating theme.

★ ★ ★

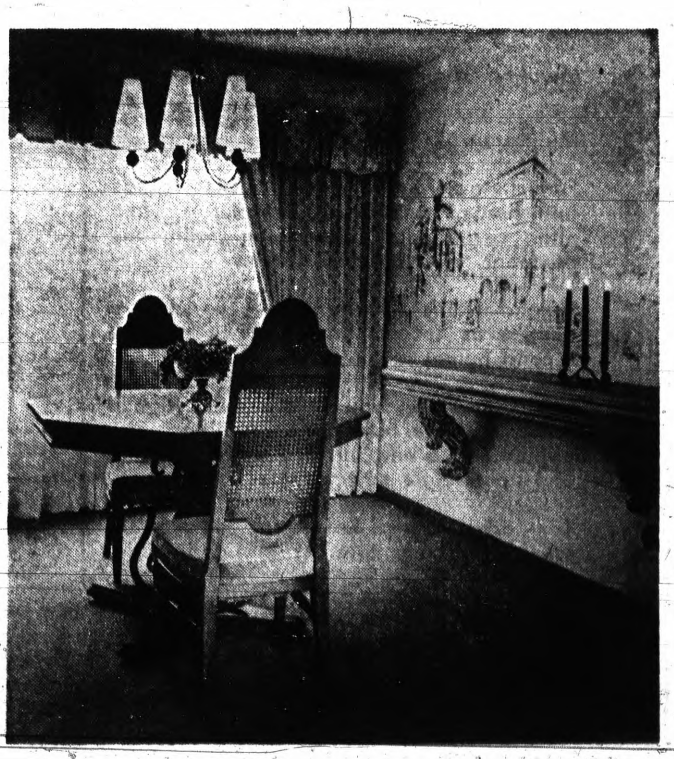

To benefit the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association — Rochester branch, the Dirkses will open their home to the public June 8 and 9 for the club's annual home and garden tour.

★ ★ ★

Tickets are available through branch members.

Second Home for Vacations

More and more Americans are buying, building or considering vacation homes each year. Vacation homes are now being built at an annual rate of 125,000 and it is estimated the figure will be 200,000 within a few years.

Vacation homes serve diversified purposes. There are beach houses, mountain cabins, ski chalets, hunting lodges and fishing shacks, weekend retreats from the rigors of urban life and homes planed for use in retirement.

★ ★ ★

But no purpose is likely to be well served unless the same kind of thoughtful planning and preparation goes into building or buying the vacation house that wise families put into the selection of their year-round home.

★ ★ ★

Does the area offer the kind of facilities desired? What about fire protection? Medical service? Transportation? Privacy? Hurricanes? Recreational use of lake, slope or beach? Is the property free of indebtedness? What easements on it are there? What building or zoning restrictions?

Construction of the vacation house will usually be less elaborate than that of the year-round home but low maintenance and upkeep will probably be of greater importance because of there being less time and less inclination to work at them.

Consequently quality materials calling for a minimum of maintenance and upkeep—ceramic tile on floors and walls, for example—should be chosen, or looked for in houses that might be bought.

In other words, don't take that vacation from careful decision-making until after you have your vacation home.

The Tillamook Burn, one of the worst forest fire disasters of modern times, is being reforested with substantial help from grade school pupils in nearby Oregon cities.

Since 1950, Portland students alone have planted 793,000 seedlings.

Construction Strike Paralyzes the Industry

The strikebound home-construction industry entered its 25th day of non-production in the Detroit area and outstate today, with upwards of 16½ million lost.

A tour of building sites in the area revealed that there was no work being done by carpenters and other workers in any of the thousands of subdivision and apartment projects in the region, which includes Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw Counties.

★ ★ ★

Gilbert B. Silverman, president of the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit, one of the four employer groups negotiating at the Federal Building, Detroit, with representatives of the Carpenters' Union said no progress had been made since the negotiations were resumed last Friday after more than two weeks of silence on both sides of the wage-and-hour dispute.

★ ★ ★

There was no meeting for negotiations from May 1, when the walkout and lockout started, until May 17. Bargaining sessions continued over the weekend and into the present week, with no significant progress reported by the employers or the unions.

AREA BUILDER

Meanwhile a delegation of more than 100 builders in cars invaded a subdivision in Oakland County on Old Perch Road, Avon Township, Tuesday, after having heard that the builder there was bringing in carpenters to start work on houses he has under construction. No violence was reported.

Silverman reported today that so far the strike has cost employers and the tradesmen sixteen and a half million dollars in lost time. This includes a virtual paralysis of the lumber supply industry, a huge business in the area which supplies practically everything in the way of materials and equipment going into homes and apartments being built.

★ ★ ★

Silverman said that checks were being made of municipal building departments in a number of the suburban municipalities — Southfield, Livonia, Farmington, and others on the north and east side. Reports are that permits for home and apartment construction are off sharply because of the strike and lockout.

★ ★ ★

Financial institutions in the area which supply most of the mortgage money for homes and other types of construction report a sharp decline of mortgage applications.

A report on mortgage lending in April was made today by Lawyers Title Insurance Corp. in its monthly mortgage summary. It said that some 70 financial institutions in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties loaned $145, 4 2, 04 in April for homes and home improvements, commercial and industrial production. Of this total, the summary said $82,629,568 was for homes and home improvements for that month.

★ ★ ★

Home-lending in the area runs into astronomical figures, according to the summary reports. In 1967, a total of $900, 791,900 was loaned for homes in the area. Total mortgage lending in the three-county area for all types of construction and property acquisition was $1,678,892,840.

A spokesman for the financial community said that the strike, if it continues through many more weeks, will have a devastating effect on the economy of the city, the metropolitan area and the state.

★ ★ ★

Paul Forcier, Chairman of the North Woodward Builder group, said: "We have a picture here of more than 4.6 million people in the tri-county area affected directly or indirectly by three major strikes — the one in the construction industry, the long-drawn-out newspaper strike, and the telephone strike."

"We in the building industry, as employers of thousands of men directly and indirectly, are trying every device we know that is within reason to reach a settlement that would allow construction of homes badly needed to start up.

"We feel we have made reasonable offers, in keeping with the financial ability of prospective buyers of homes we build. So far, we have met solid resistance."

Colors and Battens Aid Basement

Have a homely basement? Paint and a few boards will give walls a fast dress-up at low cost.

First paint the concrete walls a warm, sunny color like gold. Then run a 1x4-inch board flat across the top of the walls like a cornice molding.

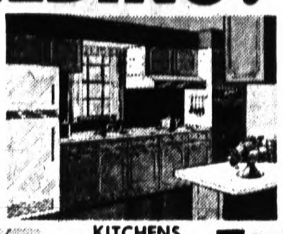

★ ★ ★

Do the same at the bottom of the wall, to make a base shoe.

Then apply 1x2-inch battens vertically at three-foot intervals across the wall. Stain the battens and the cornice and base moldings a rich charcoal brown and watch that basement room come alive.

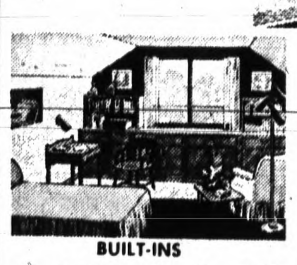

Electroluminescent lamps that are as thin as a dime and flexible are being made.

Don't Let Little Cracks Grow Into Big Ones

Nothing makes a place look as though it is going to seed as quickly as a crack in the wall.

Even the smallest crack will spoil the appearance of an interior wall and a crack in the foundation will give the impression that the house may be about to tumble.

★ ★ ★

Tiny cracks are seldom due to structural defects. Normal settling plus the bumps and bruises of daily living can cause them.

They are unsightly, however, and if you plan to sell your house they will turn away many a prospect.

DO IT NOW

But aside from appearances, there is another good reason for tending to cracks quickly.

Though not serious now, they can become serious through neglect. It doesn't take long to turn little ones into big ones.

Plaster is bound to develop a few hairline cracks in a new home as it settles. Older homes will develop cracks due to stresses.

★ ★ ★

Fine cracks can be filled with spackling compound, a material that comes ready to use.

Larger cracks should be filled with a patching material. Ready-mix plaster is good.

You just add water. Plaster of Paris can be used but is not preferred because it hardens too quickly.

CHIP MATERIAL

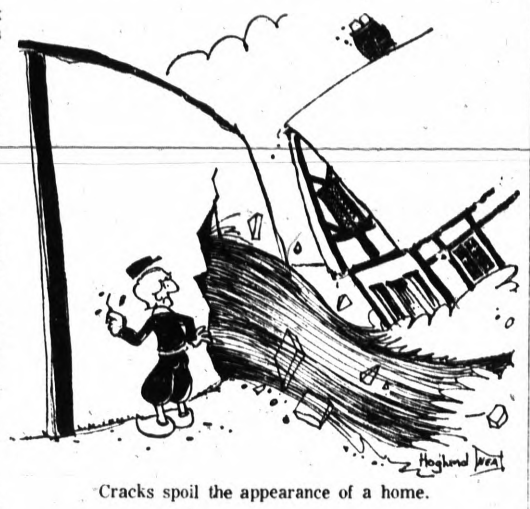

Chip out the loose material. Undercut the crack so that it is wider at the bottom than at the surface.

This will keep the patch from pulling out.

Wet down thoroughly and fill with plaster. Keep it damp for 24 hours for proper curing.

Cracks in basement walls should be repaired as quickly as possible to prevent seepage. Break away all loose and crumbling concrete.

Again make it wider at the bottom.

Cracks spoil the appearance of a home.

Apply plenty of water to the widened crack. Then fill with a ready-mix concrete patch, the kind you just add water to. Use plenty. You can always trowel away the excess.

Cracks in wood should be sanded since dirt and wax will keep fillers from sticking.

Use plastic wood or similar compounds. Fill over and then sand.

★ ★ ★

For very slight cracks or tiny dents the old reliable shellac stick will do very well.

These are available in colors to match the old finish.

WOOD SIDING

Wood siding will now and then develop a slight crack. A crack in length of clapboard won't make it any less strong.

★ ★ ★

It will not allow moisture to enter the house, but moisture will accumulate, keeping the board wet.

Use a putty knife to pry apart the board where the crack is. Then coat both edges with glue.

★ ★ ★

Since you can't apply a clamp you will have to figure out another way to apply pressure.

One method is to drive a few nails along the underedge of the part, a few inches apart and NOT all the way in.

★ ★ ★

Then bend up the nail. This will force up the board, pushing the edges of the crack together.

When the glue is thoroughly dry, yank out the nails.

Council Holds Heating Survey

Did you choose the type of heating system you now have? Would you choose a different type if you could? What do you dislike about your present heating system? What do you like about it?

★ ★ ★

These were among the questions asked of hundreds of housewives across the country in a recent survey conducted by the National Conference of the Plumbing-Heating-Air Conditioning Industry and the National Better Heating-Cooling Council.

The survey revealed that 55.4 per cent of the homeowners had not chosen their heating system and more than one-third — 36.9 per cent — would choose a different type of system if they had a choice.

Of this number, 35.8 per cent would choose a hydronic (hot water) heating system, compared to 22.9 per cent for warm-air heating.

★ ★ ★

Dirt, uneven heat and noise were the major causes of dissatisfaction. Carefree maintenance and even heat were the most popular features of the present heating systems, according to the housewives.

★ ★ ★

The Council — the information center for the hydronics industry — adds that the typical housewife who participated in the survey has two children, has lived in her own single-family home an average of 10 years, and the house averages $25,000 in value.

Natural Materials for Mellow Touch

Why do so many new homes built today feature woods, stone and brick in room interiors?

Part of the answer comes from a leading home magazine: "If a material looks mellowed to begin with, it will remain ageless.

★ ★ ★

A stone fireplace, a wall of rough-sawn wood or barn boards, distressed finishes — these improve with the years, ask almost no care."

America's motion picture industry grosses about $3 billion a year.

Jamaica World's Largest Garden

Jamaica has been described as the world's largest garden. It has 3,000 species of flowers in its 4,411 square miles. The topography, soil and climate make it easy for virtually anything to grow.

★ ★ ★

When Christopher Columbus spotted Jamaica in 1494, the island was forest from shore to mountaintop, except for a few Indian villages.

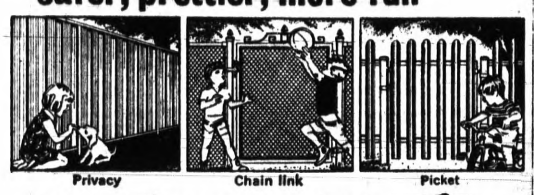

The English made Jamaica a garden late in the 18th Century. Hinton East, a Jamaican of English ancestry, brought in 600 species of flowering plants. His friends joined him, importing flowers from as far as Japan, Sweden and Brazil.

Jamaica has many beautiful public gardens.

Tile Risers Work Saver

Stair risers are always getting kicked and scuffed, and seem to always need repainting.

Surfacing them with decorative and durable ceramic tile won't do away with the kicking and scuffing of risers, but it will certainly put an end to repainting.

You'll be able to simply wipe away kick-marks and scuffs with a damp cloth.

Spring Service for Your Furnace

A good time to service your heating system is when the weather turns mild. This will insure that you will be comfortable when cold weather returns next winter.

Cleaning the chimney will increase the efficiency of the system and reduce the amount of fuel consumed.

No Waxing Floors

A new special process embossed solid vinyl resilient tile eliminates waxing. Only occasional sweeping is necessary.

Put Your Home in Today's Mood

When today's modern ladies want to be part of the "in" crowd, they raise their hemlines, cut their hair, make the scene with all the "pretty young people," at the local discotheque and dance the African Twist.

However, to make your home look and feel up-to-date it isn't necessary to hire tom-tom beaters or long-haired sitar players. Modernizing your heating system can be as dramatic as a Sassoon coiffure in putting new life into your home.

★ ★ ★

Wall-hugging baseboard heating allows you to place your furniture as far away from the center of the room as you please. Because the heating panels are low and narrow, valuable floor space is not lost to bulky, old-fashioned radiators. Moreover, draperies can hang floor length without fear of scorching, and carpeting can be laid wall-to-wall.

★ ★ ★

Not only will the rooms look younger, they will be more comfortable, too. Hydronic baseboard heating has long been recognized as the finest heating available since it emits an even, gentle warmth.

Oriental Study Decorated By Roberta Roberts Interiors Of Birmingham

2-Way Grill Built in Wall

A standard barbecue unit can be the core of an ingenious two-way grill built into the wall between kitchen and an adjacent dining or family room.

★ ★ ★

The barbecue unit is recessed in a fireproof ceramic tile counter. A revolving semicircular screen of sheet metal focuses it in either room and an overhead stack with exhaust fan carries off the smoke.

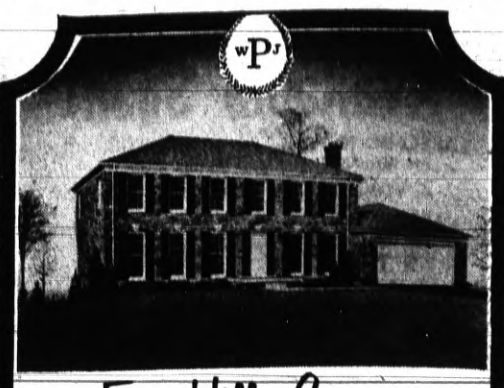

Box-Like Bench Saves Tracking

A boot bench by the back entry will stop mud right at the door. Build the bench box-style, but leave the front open so warm air can circulate inside.

★ ★ ★

Put a few pegs for coats, sweaters and scarves on the wall behind the boot bench, and you'll have all the kids' outdoor stuff organized in one small area.

Many beautiful and innocent-looking common plants are poisonous.

Piety Hill Place Now Open

The new, 5-story, $1 million-plus Piety Hill Place apartment building presented by the Thompson-Brown Company is officially open.

Set in the heart of Birmingham at Southfield and Townsend, Piety Hill Place includes 32 2-bedroom-2-bath apartments and eight 3-bedroom-2-bath suites in three distinct floor plans. The building takes its name from the original name of the city of Birmingham — Piety Hill.

It boasts the luxury of a security lobby with closed circuit television coverage. A phone receiver and an individual television screen are mounted in the wall in the entryway of each apartment.

★ ★ ★

After any tenant is called from the lobby, the tenant merely flicks on the security TV set in his apartment to see who is calling. He need not answer the call unless he wishes to do so.

PUSH BUTTON

Should he wish to receive the caller, the tenant pushes a button in his apartment which allows the visitor to enter the locked elevator lobby.

The unique security system also has an alarm system which can be activated by the tenant whenever he removes the security key in the TV panel in his apartment.

Should an improper entry be made into the apartment when the key has been removed, an alarm will sound in both the apartment entered and simultaneously in the resident manager's office.

★ ★ ★

Whenever the security system is turned "On", the alarm will sound automatically every time the entry door is open unless the security key is returned to its slot within a specific period of time.

★ ★ ★

Sound conditioning is a primary factor in the design of Piety Hill Place. Steel framework, reinforced concrete, and solid masonry commonwall construction, poured concrete floors and even "super-quiet" specially housed disposers in the kitchen of each suite add to the complete quiet and privacy of all residents.

ATMOSPHERE

In fact, the very location of Piety Hill Place itself, nestled amidst proud residences (yet only a stroll away from churches, shops, and clubs), foretells the pleasant atmosphere its residents will enjoy.

Each apartment includes a fully appointed kitchen with Hotpoint frostfree refrigerator, built-in dishwasher, oven and range, and super-quiet disposer, plus American Standard double compartment "Fiesta" sink. A private, master-bedroom-suite bath and an abundance of closet space, including walk-in closet, is provided in each apartment as well as storage lockers in the building basement.

★ ★ ★

Two hydrolic elevators, laundry facilities, and individual apartment controleld central air-conditioning all are provided.

The first floor of Piety Hill Place is devoted to lobby, service facilities, offices and a completely furnished community room (including kitchen) for use by Piety Hill Place residents.

★ ★ ★

A covered parking area for each tenant also is located on the first floor. Additional garden court parking is provided on the south side of the building.

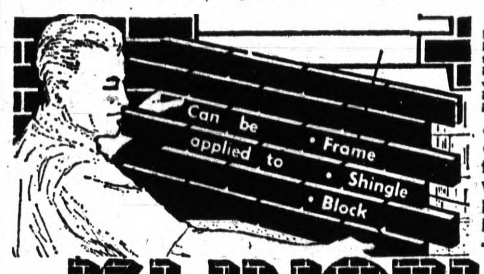

★ ★ ★

Built by the Thomas Franke Construction Company, Piety Hill Place rentals are from $370 to $491 per month.

It has been estimated there are more than four million skiers in the United States.

Head Is Baby's Danger Point

DETROIT (AP) — The first time a baby takes a fall, it's mostly likely to hurt its head, a Detroit physician says. A study of infants' first tumbles conducted by Dr. Margaret Z. Zolliker of the Detroit Health Department shows a domination of head injuries.

Dr. Zolliker urged mothers with new babies to begin the habit of not leaving a child alone any place where he or she could roll over, crawl or scoot, then tumble head-first to the floor.

Hike Forecast in Households

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of households in Michigan is expected to reach 2,767,000 by 1975 for a 16 per cent increase over a 10-year period, a New York firm reports after an analysis of recent government projections.

The financing firm, Meinhard-Commercial Corp., said the increase will give Michigan four per cent of the nation's total households, which will be a percentage decrease by .2 of a per cent over 1965.

The decrease is due to a rapid growth of households in a few states and a shift to western and southern areas of the country, the company said.

WHAT SHOULD A FUNERAL COST?

J. L. VOORHEES

Where a few years ago the "pine box" was the standard, today you will find cloth covered polished woods, fiberglass and metal caskets in many different styles, color and price range.

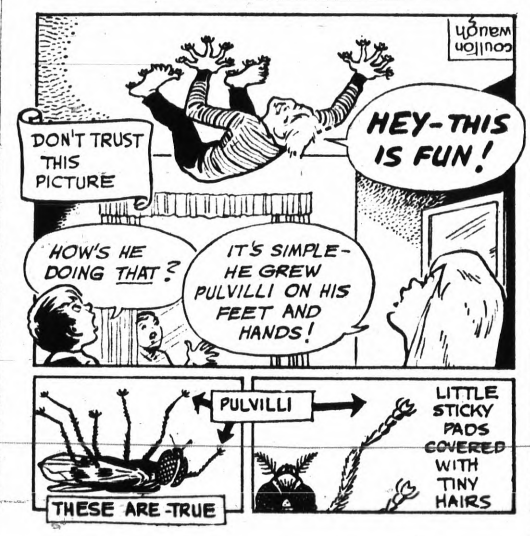

M. E. SIPLE

Should there be one casket at one price for everyone? This would not work any more than one type car for everyone. We understand this difference and that is why you will find units in our selection room that range from the most modest to the top quality produced.

A funeral should reflect your desire, and no family should ever select a service that will be a burden to them. We are here only to serve you, not to make decisions for you.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLIES

QUESTION: How can flies walk on a ceiling?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Most people have wondered what the answer to this might be. And many have thought it would be fun to be able to do a stunt like this. Our artist has made a funny picture of such an impossible event.

Flies are very light. Even if we had the equipment flies possess on their feet, our weight is so great we would fall down from the ceiling at once.

Flies can walk on a ceiling because they have little pads on each of their six feet called pulvilli. There are hairs covering the pads and these spread out a sticky solution. It is this glue-like substance which enables a fly to walk upside down and attach himself to a smooth surface.

Let's be glad we can't get around like flies, for these annoying little creatures are actually harmful. They breed in filthy places and can carry germs around on their bodies, some of these germs being able to cause sickness.

It's a good idea to keep a house as free from flies as possible. An interesting thing to notice about flies is that they have only two wings, whereas most insects have four.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

THINK ABOUT IT!

MEMORIAL DAY — WHY?

As Memorial Day approaches, the words of William E. Gladstone come to mind. He was the brilliant British political figure, 4 times Prime Minister who died in 1898 . . . "Show me the manner in which a nation cares for its dead, and I will measure with mathematical exactness the tender mercies of its people, their respect for the laws of the land and their loyalty to high ideals."

His words have special significance on our American scene. While Memorial Day is observed and all our dead are honored in every town and village, special attention is always centered on Arlington National Cemetery, our nation's Memorial shrine. Arlington National Cemetery occupies what was once the family estate of Mrs. Robert E. Lee . . . Robert E. Lee, as you know, was the Commanding General of the CONFEDERATE armies. This chosen location is proof positive of American tender mercies with loyalty to high ideals.

In next week's thought you will read about the tomb of America's Unknown Soldier. It will be interesting. Don't miss it . . . HUNTOON FUNERAL HOME: 79 Oakland Ave., Pontiac. Member National Selected Morticians. Phone 332-0189.

France Gets Tough on Latest Violence

PARIS (AP) — Premier Georges Pompidou declared today the overnight explosion of violence in Paris and other areas of France was an attempt to start civil war and called upon forces of law and order to crush further demonstrations immediately and relentlessly.

The wild night, with violence reaching its highest peak since this crisis began three weeks ago, resulted in the deaths of two persons, injuries to many hundreds and the arrests of hundreds more—648 in Paris alone.

★ ★ ★

It provided a resounding but negative echo to an appeal by President Charles de Gaulle to a turmoil-tormented nation to give him a massive affirmative response to his proposed June referendum on university and economic reforms.

The Municipal Hospital Service reported 456 persons treated in Paris for injuries, of whom 178 were hospitalized.

RIOT VICTIMS

A 26 year-old man died here of knife wounds.

In Lyon a police commissioner was crushed to death by a rock-laden truck that rampaging students pushed into police lines.

★ ★ ★

Streets in Paris' Latin Quarter and in Strasbourg were like battlefields, a litter of felled trees, vehicles and paving stones thrown together for makeshift barricades by students battling police into the small morning hours.

A heavy rain drenched Paris in the morning.

WORST VIOLENCE

The overnight disorders began only minutes after the 77-year-old president broke a long silence to propose to the nation in a radio television address a referendum on university and economic reforms. The vote is expeted June 16.

It was the worst violence Paris had experienced in the three weeks since the crisis began.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle laid his presidency on the line in a brief speech demanding a massive "yes" vote for his referendum proposal. A "no" vote, he said, would mean he would quit the presidency he has held for 10 years.

Less than two hour's after de Gaulle's speech, rampaging youths shook open the high iron gates before the Paris stock exchange—the Bourse—swarmed onto the trading floor and set fire to booths and quotation boards. Before firemen could extinguish the blaze, the area was badly burned.

FARMERS JOIN

Farmers joined the protest Friday. They blocked national highways with barricades and clashed with police in Agen, Periguxeu, Lyon, Nantes and Rennes. De Gaulle's farm policy, they said, was ruining them.

U.S. Could Absorb Surtax, Says Roche

DETROIT (AP) — The board chairman of General Motors Corp., the nation's largest corporation, says that U.S. consumer purchasing powers appear large enough to absorb the income tax surcharge, which is pending in Congress.

★ ★ ★

Board chairman James M. Roche said at the 60th annual GM stockholders meeting Friday that the nation's purchasing powers could support or even improve the new car sales rate set this year, despite a tax increase.

★ ★ ★

Roche predicted at the stockholders meeting that U.S. auto sales would total nine million this year.

The prediction came a day after Ford Motor Co. Chairman Henry Ford II estimated a 9.3 million sales year for the industry.

UPWARD TREND

Roche, who lives at 425 Dunstan, Bloomfield Hills, described the U.S. economy as "not only running at a substantially higher level than in 1967, but on an upward trend."

He said assuming a continuation of the basic strengths in the nation's economy and consumer confidence, "we believe that the 1968 industry sales of motor vehicles forecast at 10,750,000 units appears fully attainable. This would include nine million passenger cars."

★ ★ ★

At a news conference following the meeting, Roche said that GM will have to face a decision in the fall on whether to raise automobile prices.

Roche said he didn't anticipate "the electric car will come in my lifetime", but reported GM is experimenting with cars of many shapes and sizes and power plants.

MORE THAN 50 PCT.

GM President Edward N. Cole, noting that the giant automotive firm continues to hold down more than 50 per cent of the U.S. market, said the firm's profit margin, based on income afttr taxes, was equal to 8.1 per cent of sales.

Pointing to the sale of 767,000 foreign imports in the U.S. new car market last year and rising sales this year, Cole told stockholders yesterday "we intend to be competitive and on an exonomic basis."

★ ★ ★

"We are considering all possible approaches," Cole said with reference to the compact car market now being filled by imports, but that is as close as he came to saying GM might consider production of a smaller car in the United States.

"GM introduced a redesigned Chevy II in our 1968 product line-up, which is offering increasingly effective competition," Cole continued.

★ ★ ★

"In my opinion, this is out logical and first line of attack." Cole lives at 1371 Kirkway, Bloomfield Township.

U.S. Pressing Hanoi to Admit Role in the War

PARIS (AP) — The United States intends to step up pressure on Hanoi's negotiators in the Paris talks to admit that thousands of North Vietnamese troops are fighting in South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

"How can we ever get anywhere in these discussions," said one official, "if we can't even agree on the basic facts we have to deal with."

★ ★ ★

North Vietnam has up to now denounced any suggestions that it had forces in the South.

Some experts here believe North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong may have made a basic move toward a concession on that point yesterday when he said in a speech in Hanoi: "Whereever the enemy exists, our Vietnamese people have the right to go there and fight him."

STOPPED SHORT

This stopped short of admitting that northern troops had gone into the South but provided a basis for such a concession later—probably much later.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Xuan Thuy, the North Vietnamese representative, will meet again Monday after a four-day recess, to open their third week of talks. But U.S. authorities are now predicting heavy enemy offensive thrusts and more hard fighing in South Vietnam as the Communists strive to strengthen their position at the conference table.

★ ★ ★

That position at the moment is a very tough one, and so is the American stand.

Senate Passes Sunday Liquor

LANSING (AP)—Sale of liquor on Sunday won Senate approval yesterday as legislators agreed to extend the deadline for passage of bills.

Senators voted 21-15 and sent to the House a bill permitting liquor to be served after 2 p.m. Sunday. The measure is similar to a bill passed by the upper chamber last year that was defeated in the house.

★ ★ ★

It permits liquor to be served only by establishments such as resorts, restaurants and hotels that receive more than 50 per cent of their income from sources other than bar revenue.

Sen. John F. Toepp, R-Cadillac, amended the bill to prohibit liquor sales until 2 p.m. The original bill called for sales to begin at noon.

Protest by the Poor Hits Home for Mills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite problems in their own mud-filled back yard, the Poor People's demonstrators are broadening their target area to include the homes as well as the offices of government figures.

About 100 of the poor clapped, sang and shouted their disapproval last night outside the apartment building of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., a chief architect of the welfare program.

★ ★ ★

They laughed and clapped in derision after singing "Happy Birthday" for the powerful chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

But Mills, who turned 59 yesterday, had left earlier in the evening. An aide said he had a prior commitment.

POLICE BAR DOOR

Police barred the door of the building.

Afterward, they left the fashionable area on Connecticut Avenue and returned to their muddy shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial. So did nearly all the other 2,000 residents, in spite of earlier indications most of them would be evacuated for reasons of health and comfort.

★ ★ ★

The leader of the demonstration outside Mills' apartment building, Dr. George Wiley, denounced him as a man who "would take food out of the mouths of hungry people."

And he pledged the same harassment for Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who administers food distribution programs for the needy.

★ ★ ★

The campaign leader, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, said if Congress adjourns without acting on demands of the poor, they would follow congressmen to the political conventions in August.

Abernathy made the statement in New York, where he conferred with civil rights leader Bayard Rustin about the giant demonstration the poor people plan in Washington June 19. Rustin was organizer of the 1963 civil rights march on Washington.

Senate Unit Cuts School-Lunch Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee has voted to slash $14.4-million from the school-lunch program, prompting one Democrat to voice hope it was not a punitive action aimed at the Poor People's Campaign.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Appropriations Committee did, however, restore nearly $5 million which the House has cut in special food programs for children of the poverty-stricken. Such aid is a prime stated goal of the Poor People's Campaign, now encamped in Washington to pressure Congress for programs aiding the destitute.

I-75 Mishap Fatal in Independence

A 24-year-old Flint man was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital just before midnight last night after an accident on the I-75 expressway in Independence Township.

Pontiac state police said Joseph S. Justus apparently lost control of his car while going south on I-75 at the Waldon overpass, about 11 p.m.

Police said the car veered into the median, rolled and Justus was thrown 55 feet, landing in the northbound lane.

KINKAJOU GETS A GRAPE — Showing how gentle and affectionate a kinkajou is, Mrs. Ted Gohl feeds it a grape from her mouth. Looking on is her husband.

By ED BLUNDEN

"He's cute, he's cuddly and we love him," is how Mrs. Ted Gohl describes her unusual pet. The animal is a kinkajou, a cat-sized member of the raccoon family from South America.

According to Mrs. Gohl of 305 S. Telegraph, the animal will eat a large variety of foods, is extremely well-behaved (it sleeps most of the time), can be litter-box broken and is very affectionate.

"It's a swell pet for our apartment," Mrs. Gohl comments. She said she and her husband were looking for a puppy about a month ago. "But we saw the kinkajou in the pet shop and we just had to have him," she said.

'HONEY BEAR'

The kinkajou (potos flauus) is an inhabitant of the South and Central American forests. It has the nickname of "honey bear."

The animal, just four months old, has a few peculiar but interesting habits. It sleeps all night and most of the day, too, Mrs. Gohl said she and her husband awaken the animal when they come home from work at 5 p.m. It stays awake with them until about 11 p.m., then goes back to sleep.

SLEEPS HIGH

The pet, named "Sammy," has to sleep up high so the Gohls provide it with a tree limb to climb and sleep on.

The animal has a few drawbacks — for instance, it cost the Gohls $80.

And being from a warm climate, the kinkajou can't stand temperatures below 70 degrees. "When we take him out in the winter we have to wrap him up real good," Mrs. Gohl said.

Absentee Foes Spook Candidates in Oregon

By the Associated Press

Absentee opponents are spooking the visible ones as they go into the final laps of campaigning for the Oregon Republican and Democratic presidential primaries.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, for instance, won't be on the ballot in the Democratic contest Tuesday, but there is a strong effort being made by organized labor to drum up support for him.

President Johnson is listed among the Democratic contenders despite his March 31 statement that he won't accept another term. The AFL-CIO is urging Democrats to vote for Johnson to show they back Humphrey.

On the Republican side, the most potent unseen force is California Gov. Ronald Reagan. Reagan hasn't campaigned in Oregon but his name is on the ballot and his people are in there pitching for him.

Political handicappers figure the GOP winner will be Richard M. Nixon, and he agrees.

Arriving yesterday to unleash an abbreviated campaign, he said he figures he'll take 55 per cent of the Republican vote, Reagan will get about 25 per cent and the leftovers, about 15 to 20 per cent, will go as write-ins to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller campaigned in Georgia and South Carolina yesterday and will go after Republican decision-makers next week in Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming.

Meanwhile, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, complained that his fellow Democratic contenders, Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, have all but stopped discussing issues.

'COLD VICTORY'

They are concentrating only on "cold victory," he charged.

The Minnesotan drew a crowd of about 7,000 last night at the University of Oregon and again challenged Kennedy to meet him in face-to-face debate before the votes are cast Tuesday.

Kennedy wrote a new chapter in the history of American political shenanigans yesterday when he took off his suit and went swimming in his undershorts in the chilly surf at Astoria.

KURNZ

A White Lake Township girl is the state's representative in the National College Queen Pageant to be held June 17 in West Palm Beach, Fla.

She is Virginia A. Kurnz, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Kurnz of 221 Shogwell, a junior at Eastern Michigan University.

Virginia carries a grade average above 3.0, reports her mother.

Campus activities include her sorority, of which she is an officer, the university debate team and two honorary sororities. She recently was selected one of the top 10 Greeks on campus.

★ ★ ★

While attending Walled Lake High School Virginia held several student offices and was active in forensics, her mother recalled.

WASHINGTON STOP

The group will be in Washington, D.C. June 11 for receptions with Congressman and government officials and a tour of the White House.

Virginia then flies to West Palm Beach, the scene of the contest.

★ ★ ★

The dozen competitive events planned include seminars for expressing opinions on education and campus life, current events, career goals, fashion and quizzing on the girls' general knowledge. The girls also will be tested on homemaking, arts and gneeral knowledge.

Contest prizes include a trip to Europe, a car and a wardrobe.

Election Loser Seeks $50,000 in Libel Action

A $50,000 libel suit was filed yesterday against a Pontiac minister by an unsuccessful candidate for the Pontiac City Commission for allegedly damaging his reputation with a newspaper advertisement.

★ ★ ★

The suit was filed in Oakland County Circuit Court by John F. Leonard, 65 N. Edith, against the Rev. Robert Garner, 69 S. Astor, pastor of the Friendly General Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

Leonard said the advertisement appearing the the April 11 edition of The Pontiac Press cost him the April 15 election for city commissioner from District 6. He was defeated by Wesley Wood, the incumbent.

Leonard's attorney, Bernard Girard, said that defamatory statements in the ad alleging Leonard had a long police record can be proven false.

Flint Buses Guarded

FLINT (AP) — Police officers were assigned to six Flint Transportation Atuhority buses yesterday, when drivers threatened to refuse to make afternoon runs to Northwestern High School for fear of personal safety. The drivers said their fears stemmed from firecracker and rock-throwing incidents in the last week at the school. Last week, students reportedly commandeered a city bus and drove it for several blocks.

$10,500 Blaze Is Being Probed

A fire which caused an estimated $10,500 to a storage building at a construction site last night is under investigation by the Pontiac Fire Department.

★ ★ ★

Fire officials said that while the cause of the 9:45 p.m. fire has not been determined, arson is suspected for the blaze that gutted the building off North Perry between Lowell and Madison.

★ ★ ★

'Hot' Capsule Hunt Gets Short of Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Time is running out for the Air Force and Navy in their search for two small ,radioactive capsules valued at $1 million.

The 2-by-6-inch metal alloy capsules containing plutonium-238 were lost one week ago today when the unmanned Nimbus 3 weather satellite plunged into the Pacific northeast of San Miguel Island, 26 miles offshore and about 150 miles west of here. The launch rocket veered off course and was destroyed.

★ ★ ★

High seas and winds up to 30 knots have hampered efforts to locate the satellite by using electronic gear to listen for "pings" from a sonar device attached to the booster rocket.

But a spokesman said Friday that even if the pinging device was not damaged when the Nimbus 3 crashed into the sea, it was designed to emit signals for only about 10 days—and eight days already have passed.

WILL TAKE INGENUITY

If the capsules are found, it will take ingenuity to get them to the surface.

The decay of the plutonium —reuseable and the reason for the search — makes capsules' temperature about 800 degrees fahrenheit and they emit a "soft" radiation, dangerous within a few feet, officials said.

Aid for Youth Programs OK'd

A federal grant of $49,824 for summer youth programs has been approved for the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO), according to Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Teachers Need Training in Understanding Pupils

University of Southern California

Teachers cannot teach something they do not know — even though they can guide students in their independent study in fields of knowledge other than their own.

NASON

Getting a student to want to learn is the most important part of the teacher - learning process. Students are compelled by law to attend school, but you cannot make them learn by passing another law.

★ ★ ★

The influencing of behavior is at last becoming a science. And the behavioral sciences should have greater stress in the training of teachers. It is hoped that the next generation of teachers will be experts in influencing pupils to engage in learning with enthusiasm and determination.

It is not enough that the teacher present the subject matter in an interesting fashion. What goes on in the mind of the pupil is perhaps even more important.

GETTING INVOLVED

If something in the student's thinking is keeping him from learning as he should, the teacher should have all of the available knowledge that will influence a change in his thinking.

For example: The teacher of the future should be able to sense when a student lacks an acceptable goal. He should be able to help a student discover not only worthwhile goals but reasonable and possible procedures through which the student feels that he can attain them.

This may mean getting involved with the student's concept of how his parents feel about him and his future, with his own personal feeling of being a worthwhile person; in fact, with all the complex causes of an individual's behavior.

For example; Joe as a high school junior was listed as a preengineering student. He was not succeeding well in math and science. Joe's statement was: "I am not too interested in math and science; I do not wish to be an engineer, but my parents insist. Consequently, I have listed engineering as my goal."

HOW HAPPY

Joe wanted to become an actor but he dared not tell his parents. I convinced him that he should discuss the matter with them.

I talked to his mother later and she said, "We are extremely pleased that Joe has a goal of his own. We never did care whether or not he became an engineer. We chose that for him because we know it was important for him to have some goal. Now that it is out in the open, we are all happy about the situation."

Joe completed his high school with satisfactory grades. In fact, he was given a scholarship to pursue a major in dramatic arts at a fine college.

U.S., S. Korea to Discuss Viet

SEOUL (AP) — Additional South Korean troops for Vietnam will be among the main subjects discussed in the first U.S. - Korea defense conference in Washington next Monday and Tuesday, military sources said today.

It has been an open secret, the sources said, that the commanders of the 48,000-man Korean expeditionary force in Vietnam have been asking for more men. The government reportedly considers the request reasonable.

One reason the field commanders seek more men, the sources said, is to provide reserve units for major operations. There also were hints that the Korean forces want some planes of their own in Vietnam so they can conduct joint air-ground operations that now depend on U.S. air support.

Defense Minister Choi Yung-hi leaves for Washington Saturday.

Also on the agenda is discussion of an increase in U.S. military aid to help South Korea equip its 600,000-man army with modern weapons. The sources said the conference also will decide on specific items to be included in the $100 million of additional U.S. military aid President Jonhson recommended early this year.

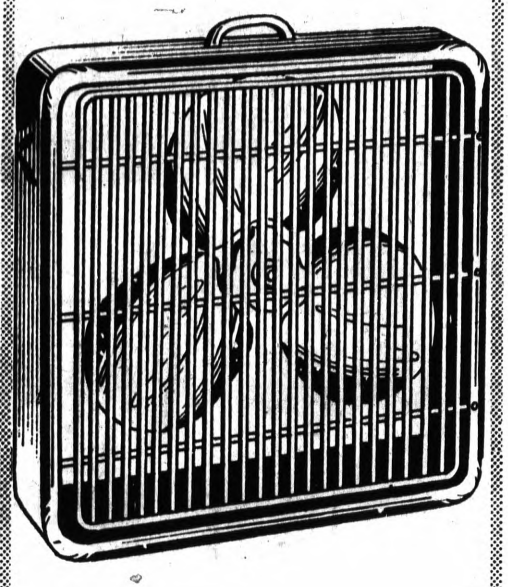

There was an upsurge of incidents along the demilitarized zone early in the year following North Korean seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo in January and a North Korean commando team's raid on Seoul in an attempt to assassinate President Chung Hee Park.

The United States and South Korea signed an agreement today for U.S. payment of $11.19 million for combat rations for the Korean forces fighting in Vietnam during the fiscal year that begins July 1.

Opening lead—♠ Q

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand is very much like yesterday's. South has exactly the same cards and North has the same except for the king of hearts instead of a small one.

JACOBY

The combination of an opening no-trump plus partner's 11 high card points is not likely to produce a slam and most pairs using ordinary methods would probably wind up in three no-trump.

The artifical bidding sequence shown in the box illustrates the scientific way to reach a slam.

North's two spade bid shows a minor two suiter of indefinite strength. South's three club bid merely announces that his clubs are at least as good as his diamonds. North's three heart call shows help in hearts, if his partner wants to try three no-trump. It also infers a singleton spade and is a force to game.

★ ★ ★

South's bid of three spades happens to be a slam try. North can't be sure that it isn't saying South has spades stopped two or more times so North merely goes to three no-trump.

This puts it up to South once more and he bids four clubs. This shows that South's three spade call was a cue bid to show the ace and that South is definitely interested in a club slam.

North might jump to six clubs but he has been bitten by the science bug and bids four diamonds to show that ace. South replies with four hearts to show the ace of hearts and by this time North has had enough. He bids six clubs.

There is nothing to the play at six clubs. All South has to do is knock out the ace of trumps, draw the rest of the trumps and spread his hand.

Marichal First to Win Seven Games This Season

From the Press Box

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Tom Draper, whom Lloyd Syron calls the Master of Psychology in Michigan golf, thought about using some of that psychology to jinx his playing partner Bud Stevens in the third round of Michigan Medal Play at Orchard Lake today.

"It would be dirty pool for me to walk up to the practice putting green tomorrow and tell Bud that I heard he hasn't three-putted a green this year," said Draper, longtime one of Michigan's top amateur golfers.

Syron recalled that when he was 16 years old and playing in the state amateur championship at Jackson, his opponent in the first round of match play was Draper.

EGO SKY HIGH

"On the practice green he was saying how badly he had been playing and how horrible his putting was," said Syron, "and being just a kid and so excited about playing Mr. Draper, my ego went sky high.

"I thought I was really going to beat him if he was playing so poorly," added Syron, himself a former state amateur champion.

★ ★ ★

After three holes Syron was 3-down and he finally lost the match to Draper, 3 and 2.

"I learned then not to take anyone's 'bad' game for granted," he concluded.

FAVORS MATCH PLAY

Draper, who has won just about every amateur title in Michigan, says the fun in tournament golf went out the window with match play.

"Playing in medal play tournaments today would be like playing in a cemetery, playing by yourself," said Draper, "match play has always been more fun."

★ ★ ★

"Golf must have been 300 years old before medal play became popular, and now because tournaments have become so commercialized and the pros have all gone to medal play, the amateurs have followed the trend."

"Golf has always been a game to build comradeships and it has always been more fun to match strokes with friends than just shoot for score," he expressed, "and this is still evident in a game between friends who have more fun matching shots and holes rather than total scores."

★ ★ ★

One of Draper's biggest wins in golf was the North-South Amateur, a match play tournament, and because of the match play format it is the reason why he plays in so many club invitationals in the area.

"When the pros go back to match play, and someday they will when they start dividing the best players from the average ones, then I suppose the amateurs will be back in match play.

"I don't know why we have to follow the pros. The true essence of golf is match play, and this is the way the amateurs should be playing."

Draper has been known never to turn down a challenge for any stakes in match play and anyone knowing of his fondness for this method of golf it would be a psychological strike for any worthy challenger.

ROB RYAN OF THE FOREST — Rob Ryan must have felt like Rob(in) Hood in his forest yesterday at Orchard Lake Country Club where he had his troubles trying to make the cut in the Michigan Medal Play championship. Ryan, the 1962 Trans-Miss Champion, who now resides in the area, missed the 36 hole cut by one stroke yesterday, and the final three holes of the morning round were his doom. He finished with a 76, but took three straight double bogeys on the last three holes. He had 79 in the afternoon round.

Pontiac Northern	3	5

League champion Livonia Stevenson closed out the conference campaign yesterday by downing Pontiac Northern's Huskies, 5-1.

In another league outing, Waterford handed Walled Lake a 5-4 loss in 17 innings and wound in second place in the I-L.

Farmington stepped outside the league and suffered a 5-4 setback at the hands of Waterford Kettering.

The loss at Livonia left the Huskies with a 8-8 season record. Their only run came in the fifth when Larry Crivea singled Bill VandaGriff across.

★ ★ ★

Ron Henderson rapped out a couple of hits and drove in three runs to spark the Kettering victory.

CLEARS BASES

Tony Himmelspach socked a bases-loaded triple for Farmington in the first and Bob Henke singled home the other run for the Falcons in the third.

Waterford pushed across a run in the bottom of the seventh to deadlock its game with Walled Lake at 4-4, and then the two traded blanks until the 17th.

Frank Ballard's single to left brought Rick Eagle home with the winning run to end the marathon contest that took four hours and 15 minutes and finished at 8:15 p.m. Eagle was running for Mike Murphy who had walked and he legged it to third on a double by Rick Goit to set the stage for Ballard's blow.

In another game, John Baumann tossed a no-hitter as Bloomfield Hills Andover downed Clawson, 4-0. It was the second no-hit job in the last three games for Andover. Biran Parrott turned the trick last week.

Titans Second in Loop Race

Soph Yezbick Fans 10 in 2-1 Decision

Pontiac Catholic and Waterford Our Lady wrapped up league baseball action yesterday with impressive performances.

Junior Jerry Yezbick flipped a no-hitter as WOLL downed Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, 2-1, while sophomore Jeff Solwold yielded only two hits and fanned a school record 16 batters in Pontiac Catholic's 2-1 nod over Ferndale St. James.

BAD NEWS

But on the bad news side, at least for the Titans of Pontiac Catholic, Detroit St. Rita downed Royal Oak St. Mary, 10-4, to win the Northwest Catholic League crown with an 8-2 record. The Titans closed at 7-3.

★ ★ ★

In another Northwest game, pitcher Tim Megge stroked a bases-loaded single in the bottom of the 11th to give Orchard Lake St. Mary a 3-2 decision over St. Francis de Sales. Megge collected four hits and went the distance on the mound.

BIG BLOW

Tom Jamnik lashed a two-run double in the third to account for all of Pontiac Catholic's scoring. They had filled the bases on a walk to Jim Boucher, a single by Jim Benthem and another walk to Tim Boyer with two out.

★ ★ ★

Yezbick fanned 10 and walked seven and his teammate pushed across a couple of runs in the third and he made them standup. Mike Webster drove in one with a sacrifice fly and the other came in on an error.

In a Central Division game, Birmingham Brother Rice handed Detroit Austin a 3-2 setback. Dave Girard drove in two runs and Steve Fisher collected three hits to spark the Brother Rice attack.

Spencer Floor (6-0) remained the only unbeaten team in Waterford Township softball action by disposing of Day's Sanitary (5-1) last night, 8-3.

A three-run double by Fred Milliron highlighted a four-run third that carried Spencer to victory. Jim Long helped the winners attack with three hits. Art Ruelle picked up two for the losers.

John Nellenbach tossed a five-hitter and collected three singles to pace Lighthouse Lanes (2-4) to an eighth-inning 4-1 win over Midget Bar (0-6).

Green Leads Medal Meet

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pete Green doesn't have to kid anyone. When he plays his home course, Orchard Lake Country Club, the ball he uses seems to have eyes.

"It sure looked like it," said Green after coming in with a second round 68 to lead the Michigan Medal Play Championship with a 73-68—141 after yesterday's 36 holes.

"It was one of those days that everything I hit on the green just seemed to drop in, because I wasn't really hitting the ball too good off the tees," he said.

Green, who has been club champion and Blue Coat Invitational champ at OLCC, had a 3-stroke lead going into today's third round over Hunter McDonald of Oakland Hills.

CUTOFF AT 25 GOLFERS

The cutoff after 36 holes yesterday included 25 golfers. The cutoff score was 154.

★ ★ ★

The third round started today at 10:34, with Green, McDonald, Frank Groves and Jim St. Germaine going out at 11:28 a.m.

Green started the day with a 73 and this included a bogey 6 on the 12th hole after hitting an out of bounds drive. In order to get the bogey, Green had to sink a 24 foot putt.

In the afternoon round, he put together seven birdies and three bogeys, giving him a total of 10 birdies for the day.

MISSES EAGLE

He had only 27 putts for the afternoon round, missing an eagle on No. 9 when his chip shot rimmed the hole and rolled an inch from the lip.

His birdies included a six footer on No. 2, 10 footer on No. 5, one inch on No. 9, 15 footers on Nos. 12 and 13, two footer on 14 and an 8-footer on 17.

★ ★ ★

McDonald, paired with Green, missed three short putts under five feet which would have given him an even more fantastic round than his fine 67.

There was 10 strokes difference in McDonald's morning and afternoon rounds and it was "because I relaxed more and was more firm with my grip than in the morning," he said.

In his 33-34 — 67, McDonald took 30 putts and his most disastrous hole was at No. 18 where he putted downhill and missed from only two feet forcing him to come back three feet and a bogey.

★ ★ ★

Four strokes behind Green was University of Michigan student Frank Groves with 72-73 — 145, and in a three way tie at 146 are former Northville High star Jim St. Germaine, Bud Stevens and Jim Funston.

GETS 17 PARS

Stevens, who recently led the local qualifying for the U.S. Open, who shot a morning round of 75, came back in the afternoon with 17 pars and a birdie for a 71.

★ ★ ★

The husky long ball hitter from Western Golf and Country Club who crosses his fingers and says he hasn't three-putted a green in tournament play thus far this spring, started with three bogeys in the first four holes in his morning round.

Gene Eyler, another top local amateur who was forced to play his morning round of 81 with borrowed clubs because he had left his bag at Oakland Hills, started the afternoon round with his own gear and used up only 10 putts on his front side 33.

★ ★ ★

He had three bogeys on the last four holes however and finished with 73 — 154, which was the cutoff point.

Among those who failed to make the cut were ex-Pontiac city champ Dick Robertson, and ex-state amateur champ Lloyd Syron.

Rob Ryan, former 1962 Trans-Miss champion from Oklahoma, now a local resident who decided not to defend his Indianwood Invitational crown to enter the Medal Play event, also failed to make the cut by one stroke.

★ ★ ★

In his morning round of 76, Ryan finished with three double bogeys, which cost him the qualifying berth.

Terry Hoy, state publinx champion from Pontiac and Pete Jackson ex-GAM Champion from Oakland Hills both missed the cut at 156.

WHAT SHOULD A FUNERAL COST?

J. L. VOORHEES

Where a few years ago the "pine box" was the standard, today you will find cloth covered polished woods, fiberglass and metal caskets in many different styles, color and price range.

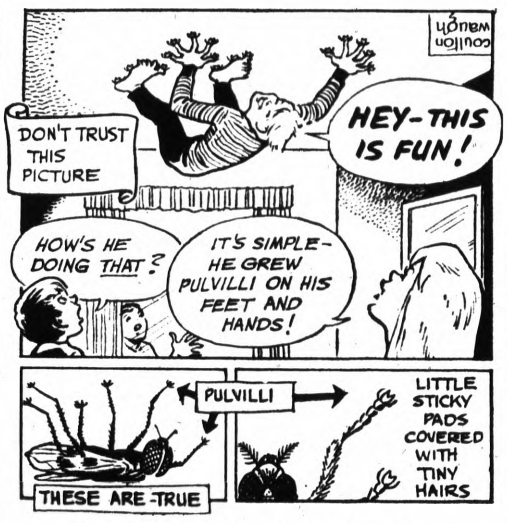

M. E. SIPLE

Should there be one casket at one price for everyone? This would not work any more than one type car for everyone. We understand this difference and that is why you will find units in our selection room that range from the most modest to the top quality produced.

A funeral should reflect your desire, and no family should ever select a service that will be a burden to them. We are here only to serve you, not to make decisions for you.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLIES

QUESTION: How can flies walk on a ceiling?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Most people have wondered what the answer to this might be. And many have thought it would be fun to be able to do a stunt like this. Our artist has made a funny picture of such an impossible event.

Flies are very light. Even if we had the equipment flies possess on their feet, our weight is so great we would fall down from the ceiling at once.

Flies can walk on a ceiling because they have little pads on each of their six feet called pulvilli. There are hairs covering the pads and these spread out a sticky solution. It is this glue-like substance which enables a fly to walk upside down and attach himself to a smooth surface.

Let's be glad we can't get around like flies, for these annoying little creatures are actually harmful. They breed in filthy places and can carry germs around on their bodies, some of these germs being able to cause sickness.

It's a good idea to keep a house as free from flies as possible. An interesting thing to notice about flies is that they have only two wings, whereas most insects have four.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

THINK ABOUT IT!

MEMORIAL DAY — WHY?

As Memorial Day approaches, the words of William E. Gladstone come to mind. He was the brilliant British political figure, 4 times Prime Minister who died in 1898 . . . "Show me the manner in which a nation cares for its dead, and I will measure with mathematical exactness the tender mercies of its people, their respect for the laws of the land and their loyalty to high ideals."

His words have special significance on our American scene. While Memorial Day is observed and all our dead are honored in every town and village, special attention is always centered on Arlington National Cemetery, our nation's Memorial shrine. Arlington National Cemetery occupies what was once the family estate of Mrs. Robert E. Lee . . . Robert E. Lee, as you know, was the Commanding General of the CONFEDERATE armies. This chosen location is proof positive of American tender mercies with loyalty to high ideals.

In next week's thought you will read about the tomb of America's Unknown Soldier. It will be interesting. Don't miss it . . . HUNTOON FUNERAL HOME; 79 Oakland Ave., Pontiac. Member National Selected Morticians. Phone 332-0189.
