

Lansing Hotel Fire Leaves Legislator Dead

LANSING (AP) — A legislator collapsed and died of a heart attack, a deaf woman leaped from a fifth-floor window and 188 guests were routed today in a fire at Lansing's Roosevelt Hotel.

A blind legislator, among 16 lawmakers forced to flee, required treatment for smoke inhalation, as did the man in whose room the $25,000 fire started.

State Sen. William Romano, a 55-year-old Warren Democrat, collapsed and died from a heart attack after groping his way to the sidewalk from a seventh-floor room, his face swathed in wet towels.

Miss Margaret Sawaya, 45, jumped four floors to a roof and was injured critically. The woman, who used a hearing aid and formerly was of Toledo, Ohio, required surgery.

Rep. Robert Mahoney, a Detroit Democrat who is blind, was led from his room to safety. He required hospital treatment.

SMOKE INHALATION

J. C. McDaniels, 42, of Lansing was hospitalized for treatment of shock and smoke inhalation.

Fire Chief Mark Keeney said the fire started in McDaniels' room, apparently from a cigarette.

of Democratic delegation lived there at one time during sessions.

SIMILAR BLAZE

To some, today's fire brought back memories of the Kerns Hotel fire here Dec. 11, 1954, when 32 persons in all perished, seven of them legislators. There were 20 injured in that blaze also.

Keeney said quick action by 30 firemen in containing today's fire prevented a major catastrophe.

"This was one of the finest stops of a fire you could make," he said. "It easily could have gotten out of hand."

Sen. Romano left the hotel in shirt sleeves and was on a front sidewalk talking with Rep. E.D. O'Brien of Detroit when Romano complained of chest pains and collapsed.

In NIGHTCLOTHES
O'Brien and his wife Margaret escaped in their nightclothes.

Proclaimed by some as a hero of the 1:32 a.m. evacuation was Simon Chappel, lobbyist for the Michigan Fire Fighters Association and a retired fireman from Highland Park.

Chappel was in a bar on the first floor when the alarm was given.

He rushed to the fifth-floor area of the fire and began pounding on doors to wake tenants and led them to a safety through the smoke-filled corridors.

S. Viet Marines Rout Protesters

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnamese Marines hurling tear gas grenades and firing bursts from automatic weapons broke up a howling mob of antigovernment Buddhist demonstrators here today after Buddhist leaders rejected a peace feeler from Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Earlier in the day, Ky and his archrival in the north, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, met secretly under U.S. auspices apparently to try to work out a settlement of their dispute.

About 10,000 persons jammed the Buddhist Institute in Saigon to hear Buddhist monks denounce the Ky regime.

Many in the mob carried antigovernment and anti-American banners.

After the speeches, 2,000 to 3,000 of the crowd took to the streets and, for more than an hour, milled through the streets near the institute without interference from police or riot troops.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Army field commander fresh from Viet Nam said today there is evidence that up to six regiments of North Vietnamese troops — perhaps 10,000 men or more — have massed in Cambodia in position to strike into South Viet Nam's midsection.

STOPPED SHORT
Finally, however, the marchers headed toward an intersection that would have led to a main thoroughfare leading into downtown Saigon.

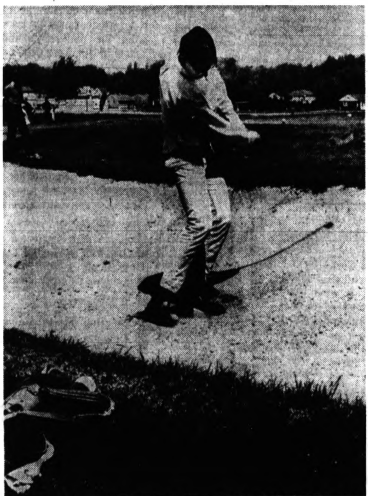

There, the Marines in combat gear moved in.

The crowd fled into the narrow alleyways and streets surrounding the Buddhist Institute as the Marines advanced, firing over the heads of the demonstrators.

Press Golfers 'Winded'

BLAST OUT—Rick Hurd, one of the leading prep golfers in the area as a member of Kettering High School's team, has to blast out of trouble near the No. 3 green at Pontiac Country Club today. This is the site of the 15th annual Pontiac Press Invitational High School golf tournament, in which 20 prep teams and 100 golfers are participating.

Strong winds, gusting up to 30 miles an hour, just about eliminated any chance of a record in the 15th annual Pontiac Press Invitational Golf Tournament today at Pontiac Country Club.

Twenty high school teams are competing.

Among the early halfway leaders for individual honors in the 18-hole medal event was Russ Streeter of Walled Lake who fired a one-under-par 35 on the back nine.

Bloomfield Hills, the defending team champion, is favored to take its fifth title and third in a row.

Other early nine-hole finishers included Dave McNeely of Pontiac Central with a 40, Kettering's Gary Quitiqui, 40, and Walled Lake's Russ Herron, 42. Twelve of the teams are competing in the Class A division and eight in B-C, although a team from either division can win the over-all honors.

Here are the scores:
Russ Streeter, Walled Lake 35
Mike High, Romeo 36
John Osterberg, Southfield 36
Paul Scott, Bloomfield Hills 37
Tom Chambers, Bloomfield Hills 38
John Stanton, Waterford 38

Police Hike Traffic Force for Weekend

Pontiac area law enforcement officials are readying the members for the annual influx of Memorial Day traffic on Oakland County roads.

State Police have scheduled beefed-up road patrols both for stiffer law enforcement and traffic assistance.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons and Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger each sounded warnings to motorists taking to the highways for the three-day weekend.

"If you've got a long trip, make sure and start early," Irons advised, "and take a break every two hours or so."

"A tired driver is not a good one."

'DIFFERENCE'
Hanger urged drivers to keep in mind the difference between high-speed expressway driving and motoring on city streets.

"Kids will be everywhere over the holiday," he said, "and it will take extra attention by drivers to keep our streets safe."

Still others were Patricia Polmar, Richard Wixom, David Seay, Helen Collas, Timothy Whiting, David Hohendorf, Margaret Homolod, Sandy Richardson and Dolly Gaskill.

Slaughter, who was not held, told police he was unable to avoid hitting the man.

Marshall told police on the way to the hospital he did not see the car and he thought he had fallen.

State Osteopath Chief Hits School Criticism

Dr. Philip Adler, DO, president of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, today voiced disagreement to a statement issued yesterday by the Oakland County Medical Society, which claimed that all 35 state colleges in Michigan will suffer if the new osteopathic medical school in Pontiac materializes.

The Oak Park osteopath referred to the medical society statement as "very shallow."

He said the real issue at stake is the state's dire need for new medical school facilities to alleviate a shortage of doctors and, subsequently, provide better health care for residents of Michigan.

Yesterday's statement was made by W. W. Henderson, MD, of Royal Oak, president of the Oakland County Medical Society.

Dr. Henderson had stated that another state-supported college would divert funds from all other schools in the state, pointing

House Approves Minimum Wage Bill

Romney Pleads for Holiday Safety

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has urged motorists to drive with headlights on during daylight hours over the Memorial Day weekend.

In his plea for safe driving over the weekend, Romney said: "Turn your headlights on during daylight hours as a reminder of the potential accident problem and a signal to others to drive carefully always."

Romney noted that fatal highway accidents so far this year are up nearly 100 from last year and asked motorists not to let inattention mar their driving.

"What better reminder do we need than the 2,129 persons killed in our state last year . . . to alert motorists of the lurking dangers resulting from careless driving," Romney said.

State Police, meanwhile, asked motorists to drive at reasonable speeds at all times over the weekend and to be especially careful when driving after dark.

WORST CAUSES

High speed and the extra hazards of night driving rank among the worst contributing causes to the state accident rate, police said.

Four airplanes will be used to keep Memorial Day weekend motorists informed on road, park and resort-area travel conditions, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The auto club said the aerial reporting is part of its "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" Holiday News Service.

Home Rule Bill OK'd in House

Tentative Approval to Weakened Measure

LANSING (AP) — After trimming out a section which would have allowed counties to levy any tax except an income tax, the House gave preliminary approval Thursday to a county home rule proposal.

Only the power to levy property taxes was left in the bill, and several legislators contended no county would be interested in trying home rule unless taxing powers were broader.

The home rule bill, designed to allow county governments to streamline their operations, was amended more than 15 times in four hours of debate. The bill already has taken 16 months of committee work.

One package of amendments spread out one man-one vote districting procedures for boards of supervisors in home-rule counties.

The taxing section also was the subject of one hour's debate Wednesday. Opponents of the broad taxing powers originally in the bill contended they could lead to a hedge-podge in which one county would tax lipstick, another would tax soft drinks, and so on.

Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, said the bill would try to work out proposals for uniform excise taxes which the Legislature might provide for home rule counties next year.

"I doubt if counties will choose to set up county home rule now," said Rep. Bobby Crim, D-Davidson. "There is no assurance the Legislature will give them more taxing power."

The Senate already passed the county home rule bill, but in much different form. Rep. Francis Beeson, D-Muskegon, a chief backer of home rule, was optimistic the Senate would agree to the House version.

Following a brief talk by Rev. Donald Kresmer, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Refuge Church, members of the parade will regroup and march to the city park on Ferndale on the lake for naval and air services.

Sponsored by David Belisle Post 4102, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Waterford Township parade will organize behind the Pontiac State Park building at Dixie Highway and Fremont.

The parade route will be north on Dixie Highway to Williams Lake Road and west to the cemetery.

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Chief Justice Paul Weick of the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday gave attorneys for both sides in the proxy fight involving Studebaker Corp. until June 6 to present briefs.

Following a one hour registration period beginning at 8:30 a.m., Oakland University Chancellor Durward B. Varner and J. Alexander, director of the County Department of Public Works, will open the session.

Four concurrent workshops are planned for the morning phase of the program.

The planning and road building group will have as participants Paul Van Roekel, highway engineer for the County Road Commission; Irving J. Rubin, executive director of the Transportation and Land Use Study for the metropolitan region; and Robert S. Boatman, planning director for the state Highway Department.

Mekong Delta Again Erupts as Cong Hit Vietnamese Unit

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnamese in the Chu-Lai area 340 miles northeast of Saigon. There was no immediate assessment of the toll taken by the shells.

Whatever their ideas about staging another monsoon offensive, the Viet Cong took the initiative in one of these actions. They threw about 600 men against a 350-man Vietnamese battalion based on the Inh Hoi Canal, 56 miles southwest of Saigon, and two nearby outposts.

The spokesman said an air-supported counterattack repulsed the Viet Cong and they left behind 20 dead, but government losses were heavy.

Contact of allied forces with the Communists elsewhere was described as light and scattered as the U.S. command took these developments.

While suffering "above average" losses themselves, they killed 31 of the Red enemy and captured 29 in 41 days of fighting.

Measure Now Goes to Senate

Would Boost Base Pay, Hike Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has given overwhelming approval to a bill that would increase the minimum wage to $1.60 an hour by 1968 and cover another 7.2 million workers. The measure goes now to the Senate where supporters predict it may be expanded further.

The 303-93 House vote yesterday sending the bill to the Senate marked a substantial victory for President Johnson and the AFL-CIO, which hasn't fared too well this year with its other legislative proposals.

In the Senate, the bill's supporters said today they hope to get Labor Committee approval next month.

The committee completed its public hearings on the legislation last year.

Supporters said they were confident the Senate would pass a bill fully as broad as the House version and perhaps even extend the coverage to a few more groups of employees.

SENATE ACTION

Senate action is complicated by a vacancy in the chairmanship of the labor subcommittee which must handle the bill. The post was held by the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., is expected to be named soon to fill the vacancy.

The bill's managers lost one round in the House yesterday but they were indications this helped consolidate support for the measure.

In this skirmish, the House voted 205 to 193 to delay one year the second step increase taking the wage floor to $1.60. The new date will be Feb. 1, 1969. The provision boosting the pay on their last day to $1.40 next Feb. 1 was left undisturbed.

July Draft Call to Triple June's

Oakland County's draft call for the month of July will triple the total for the previous month, according to an announcement from Selective Service headquarters in Lansing.

The July quota is 243. In June, only 87 men are to be called.

The increased total came along with instructions from state director, Col. Arthur A. Holmes that local draft boards review all college student deferments, "particularly to weed out part-time students" from the deferred list.

Of the Oakland total, 25 men will be called by Board 65 in Pontiac; 35 by Board 67 in the southwestern sector of the county; and 40 by Board 331 from northern Oakland County.

In addition, Farmington Board 328 is scheduled to take in 52 men and the three Royal Oak boards will call 91.

Veterans' Tax Proposal Fails

Democrat Legislators Give Up for the Year

LANSING (AP) — Majority Democrats in the Legislature have given up for the year on a controversial proposal to expand veterans' property tax exemptions. House Speaker Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, said Thursday.

"It can't be done in time any more," he told a news conference. "It would be tragic to give the veterans false promises and then not deliver."

Gov. George Romney told legislators last week it was the final week in which veterans' 1966 taxes still could be changed.

Democrats replied that Romney, who vetoed two veterans' tax benefits plans, should have cooperated earlier.

TAX EXEMPT

Some $2,000 Michigan veterans and veterans' widows now are exempt from taxes on the first $2,000 of state-qualified value of their homes.

Democrats wanted to boost the figure to $3,500 this year, while Romney has held out for exemptions based on degree of a veteran's disability.

The governor agreed for this year only to accept the $3,500 if widows of nondisabled veterans were limited to $2,500.

If widows of nondisabled veterans were to have the $3,500 exemption, he said, participants in the state's new property tax exemption program for elderly home owners could press for the same benefits and send costs soaring.

WITHIN LIMITS

"The Legislature must act within the limits of reality," he said Thursday. "I've done all I could."

Romney's plan would have cost the state slightly more than $10 million a year, and the Democrats' plan about $10.5 million.

Buses Idled; State Senior Citizens Not

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When 37 Michigan senior citizens were stranded in San Francisco by Western Lines Greyhound strike complications, they responded by singing and dancing in their hotel's lobby.

"We've had a tornado in Illinois, sleet in Los Angeles and now this," said tour director Betty Keller.

All members of the Pleasant Hours Club of Dearborn were on a 30-day chartered Western tour when Amalgamated Transit Union pickets stopped their bus yesterday in San Francisco.

The bus was operated by the unstruck Eastern Greyhound Lines. San Francisco Transit Union local spokesmen said, "any Greyhound bus that comes into our territory is going to be picketed."

Some union members threatened to lay down in front of the bus.

The group planned to leave for Salt Lake City today — by train.

Spain Said Eying Europe Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spain again is making diplomatic soundings about tying in with the European Common Market and, perhaps at some future time, with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was reported today.

Diplomatic sources said Madrid seeks early negotiations with the European economic committee on her bid for some form of association with the six-

Market bid and also has made approaches in other capitals. It was reported earlier, however, that the distance from Italy, Holland and Belgium, three of the market countries. The other three are West Germany, France and Luxembourg.

Because of its past record with the Axis powers, Spain has been something of an outcast in the postwar political alignment among the Allies. Opposition to Spain's membership in NATO has continued especially strong in the north European socialist ranks, and Madrid has not turned in a formal application for membership.

The United States has maintained large air bases in Spain, however, and with France's defense from the NATO defense setup, the question of military cooperation, particularly in the area of the Mediterranean, and other rights in Spain could become increasingly important.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Great Lakes Commission voiced strong opposition Thursday to a proposal for a 10 per cent increase in toll charges on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Slain Woman's Son Testifies in Coldwater Murder Trial

COLDWATER (UPI) — The eldest son of a slain woman testified in court yesterday how he and some friends hid in the basement while his mother was shot to death.

Ricky Church, 12, was one of three children of Mrs. Annie Church, 32, a Coldwater waitress killed March 11. Two of them testified in the murder trial of Harold Leroy "Otto" Fry, Coldwater.

Ricky told the court Fry appeared at the Church home while his mother and older sister, Becky, 13, were at a movie. He said Fry left but returned with his mother and he could tell his mother was angry.

Fry told him to leave the room, Ricky said. He found his younger brother Randy and a visiting friend in another room.

At that moment, he testified, he heard his mother scream and saw her run through the hall, Fry closed behind with a gun in his hand.

HID DOWNSTAIRS

The three boys hid in the basement where they heard two shots. Ricky said he discovered his mother's body outside when they emerged from their hiding place about 10 minutes later.

Becky also testified yesterday, saying Fry had spent the previous night on a couch in the Church home. She said several men had spent the night in the Church home.

CONE CRUSHER—A smashed highway marker dismays Jo Ann Cain, but it helps General Motors design a safer car. A typist, Jo Ann is one of the 25 GM Proving Grounds volunteers who test-drive experimental combinations of automobile controls to find the one best suited for the average driver.

Typical Reactions Studied

Woman Driver Aids GM Research

MILFORD — Jo Ann Cain, a typist, is helping General Motors design a safer car. To do this she must drive a car at a fixed speed over two warring rows of rubber cones placed exactly 10 inches apart from the wheels of the car — and avoid as many as possible.

Her performance, as an average driver, helps General Motors engineers recommend further design improvements to make tomorrow's car go more precisely where the average driver steered it.

For the test, Jo Ann waits until the speedometer reaches 60 then switches in the speed control, releasable at a touch of the brake.

As the car speeds along, she must swing the steering wheel, striving to follow the course. Past the end of the test lane, she turns the car around, waits until cones that have been overturned are righted, then drives back over the course.

STAFF WATCHES

GM Research Laboratories staff members note each of the cones toppled during the two runs, then reset the course for the next in a series of test runs.

Jo Ann and some 25 fellow-workers, all volunteers, are participating in the study designed to determine the best possible combination of automobile handling equipment based on the reactions of typical drivers in various test track situations.

The GM engineers and psychologists at work on the study have titled it "Analysis of Driver-Vehicle Capabilities in High-Speed, Detailed Handling." To Jo Ann and her colleagues it is known as "cone crushing."

Although the Proving Grounds employs dozens of professional test drivers, they are not used in the project because their driving skill might compensate for the handling eccentricities deliberately introduced into each test vehicle.

DRIVER REACTION

The volunteer drivers — clerks, stenographers, guards, receptionists, mechanics — take the test cars through the course to determine the drivers' reactions to the pre-selected equipment alterations.

From the number and placement of the cones crushed or overturned, engineers and psychologists are able to plot the performance of each driver in each test situation.

From this information come recommendations on the handling equipment combinations best suited to the average driver.

FARMINGTON — Memorial Day activities will feature the largest parade in the history of the community, beginning at 10 a.m. with an Air Force National Guard passover of RF-4 Thursday at Avondale High School.

The parade will include personnel and mobilized units and equipment of the military forces, along with various veterans' organizations.

Founders Day Queen Dee Lawton of 17148 Melrose, Southfield, will be seated on a military float flanked by a military court of honor.

ROTC units from Mumford, Cady, McKenzie, Cooley and Redford high schools will form an entire military brigade. Scottish Highlanders, Scout units and school bands will also be on hand.

VFW's Queen Vicky Weatherford of 2609 Holly Hill, Farmington Township, "Junior Miss Americanism of 1966," will ride on a Navy float. Her court of honor will carry flags in keeping with the parade theme of "Respect for Your Flag."

Distinguished visitors will include Mrs. Mary Note, national president of the Blue Star Mothers of America, and Maj. Gen. William W. Lapsley, commander of the Army Mobility Command and senior ranking active military stationed in Michigan.

Also expected are Charles F. Woodbury Jr., state president of the Reserve Officers Association, and Robert L. Tremplin of 4339 Oakgrove, Bloomfield Township, senior assistant prosecutor of Oakland County.

Following the parade there will be a special banquet at the Knights of Columbus Hall to honor guests and the Gold Star and Blue Star Mothers.

There will also be an open-house for veterans and their families at the American Legion Hall.

At St. Mary Commencement

Catholic Leader to Be Honored

ORCHARD LAKE — The Fidelitas Medal for 1966 will be presented to the Very Rev. Mother M. Alexander, C.S.S.F., superior general of the Felician Sisters, when she gives the commencement address June 6 at St. Mary's College.

A native of Buffalo, Mother Alexander entered the Felician Province of the Immaculate Heart of Mary there in 1915.

New Kidney Device Works

$100 Unit Keeping Southfield Man Alive

SOUTHFIELD—Albert Blumendorf, 48, of 17365 Sherfield is depending on a $100 artificial kidney machine to keep him alive.

Blumendorf's machine, which he bought for $85 and assembled for $15, can be operated for less than $2,000 a year. Hospitals using older, larger machines spend $7,500 to $10,000 a year.

There aren't enough hospital machines, either, to serve every one who needs them. In fact, Blumendorf said, he was turned down by hospitals because their devices were already being used around the clock.

Blumendorf reportedly is one of seven persons in the nation using one of the new portable artificial kidneys developed at the University of Maryland Medical School.

EIGHT HOURS

For about eight hours twice a week, Blumendorf is connected with the kidney, which looks a little like a car battery, by two tubes permanently planted in his arm.

His heart pumps blood through the machine, which filters out impurities just as a normal kidney would. Foreign matter is sucked away through tiny holes in a membrane in the machine.

The Michigan Kidney Foundation estimates that a practical, workable artificial kidney could save 10,000 to 20,000 lives a year in the United States alone.

Helping the Blumendorns learn to use the new device is Sheldon Brozman, a medical student at Maryland. Brozman said any "normally intelligent" person could learn to run it.

DANGER OF INFECTION

He said the only difficulty so far encountered by users of the machine is infection caused by the tubes in the patient's arm. Keeping the arm clean and dry helps, he said.

While his blood was flowing through the device Wednesday, Blumendorf laid on a couch and talked about the new development.

Summer School for Elementary Grades Planned

Brandon Teachers Get Raises

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — The Brandon Board of Education last night approved a $400 to $500 salary increase for the district's teachers.

The increase was smaller than that requested by the Brandon Education Association, bargaining agent for the teachers, according to Schools Supt. Burl A. Glendenning. The new schedule has not yet been presented to the teachers, he said.

News of the Area

The new salaries will range from a starting salary of $5,600 and increase to $8,000 after 10 years for teachers with a bachelor's degree.

Those holding a master's degree will start in the system at a salary of $5,900 and after 10 years earn $8,300.

The raises are scheduled to go into effect for the next school year.

PRESENT SETUP

Under the present salary schedule, teachers with a bachelor's degree start at $5,200 and advance to a top salary of $7,500. Those with a master's degree start at $5,500 and advance to $7,800.

In addition to the salary increases, the teachers were granted duty-free lunch periods. They will not be required to supervise children who bring their lunches to school.

Glendenning said the teachers asked for a salary schedule ranging from $6,000 to $10,000, plus, Romeo, was traveling north on Van Dyke when he lost control of his car, struck a percentage of any railroad flashing signal and new monies such as additional overturned.

state aid, that might become available.

He said board members felt this was not a just request.

$60,000 SET ASIDE

Glendenning said about $60,000 was set aside in the 1966-67 budget for new salaries.

This included increases for the district's 60 teachers, non-instructional staff salaries and four new teachers.

Salaries for the noninstructional staff have not yet been determined.

Glendenning said the board will probably take action on them next month.

Romeo Man Is Injured in Macomb Mishap

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — A Romeo man is in satisfactory condition at Almont Community Hospital today following an accident early this morning at Van Dyke and 29 Mile.

Romeo State Police said Bryant T. Burgess, 31, of 280 Proving Ground, was traveling north on Van Dyke when he lost control of his car, struck a percentage of any railroad flashing signal and new monies such as additional overturned.

Union Lake Unit to Meet

The Union Lake Shores Association will hold its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at K. E. H. Elementary School, 2200 Keith, West Bloomfield Township.

Committees were formed to work with county and state officials in offsetting the problems facing lakeside residents.

Membership in the association is open to all property owners in the Union Lake area who have lake privileges.

The president is Milton Dolan of 7825 Locklin, West Bloomfield Township. Roy Lee, 7845 Locklin, is membership chairman.

Shelby Twp. Home Damaged by Blaze

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A fire of undetermined origin gutted the back end of a house at 53755 Mound about 11:30 last night.

Sgt. Gerald VanEpps of the Shelby Fire Department said damage has not been estimated on the house, owned by Gerald Schilke.

He said the fire is believed to have started in a garage built beneath two rooms in the back of the house. He said no one was hurt.

Shelby received assistance from the Washington Fire Department, the fire was put out about 2 a.m.

Church Safe Robber Gets 3 to 15 Years

DETROIT (AP)—One of two men charged with the $4,000 armed robbery of a church rectory last November, in which a priest was shot, was sentenced to three to 15 years in jail here Thursday.

Visiting Circuit Court Judge John M. Wise sentenced Jerome Martinico, 24, who had pleaded guilty in Recorder's Court to armed robbery.

Judge Wise adjourned the case against Martinico's alleged partner, Charles Leach, pending the outcome of Leach's appeal on an armed robbery conviction.

The two men, police charged, entered St. John Berchman's rectory Nov. 22 on the pretense of arranging a funeral. The two men, according to police, took $4,000 from a safe and then Leach shot the Rev. Dominic Manzo, when he hurled a chair at them.

New Trial Is Asked for Prohibition Mobster

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—An attorney for Thomas Licavoli, a leader of the notorious "Purple Gang" which operated in the prohibition era in the Toledo-Detroit area, petitioned yesterday for a new trial, contending police had used "third-degree methods" on his client.

Licavoli was imprisoned in 1934 on a first-degree murder conviction. His parole requests have been denied, and the Ohio Supreme Court refused last December to hear his appeal for a new trial.

Thieves Like Pigs

INVERNESS, Fla. (AP)—Pig stealing is more common than fruit stealing in Citrus County, Fla.

According to a crime report prepared by State Attorney Gordon G. Oldham Jr. for 1965, larceny of hogs was second only to breaking and entering as a major crime in the country.

Donkey Bite Is Fatal to Boy

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP)—Clamped in a donkey's jaws and carried 200 yards after wandering into a pasture, Troy Edwards, 2, died yesterday of his injuries.

The beast dropped the boy when his mother, Mrs. Morgan Edwards of nearby Douglas, yelled at the animal.

The child and his mother were visiting a farm on which the donkey was pastured Wednesday when the child was seized.

A Holland spokesman attributed death to extensive internal injuries. The child also had chest, back and stomach bruises.

Officials planned to determine whether the donkey has rabies.

Cheer Romney's Third-Term Bid

Although it was not unexpected, Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY's announcement of his candidacy for a third gubernatorial term comes as good news for those who have Michigan's best interests at heart.

ROMNEY

ROMNEY would be the first to disclaim sole credit for the remarkable progress the State has made since he took office in 1963. But the fact remains that the deficit of $80 million he inherited from 14 years of Democratic administration today stands as a $130 million surplus.

Moreover, this outstanding fiscal turnabout was not achieved at the expense of government services or neglect of obligations. Romney can point to a 91 per cent increase in state aid to education; reorganization of mental health programs with a 47 per cent increase in their support; and citizens' programs in the areas of juvenile delinquency, senior citizens and civil rights.

Because ROMNEY's policies reflect governmental and social progress keyed to fiscal realism, opponents will be hard put to pick flaws in his over-all administration and philosophy of government. The Governor's own words are a fitting summation of his stewardship when he said that he believes he has done "the best possible job . . . in the interest of all."

The Press acclaims Gov. ROMNEY's decision to stand for reelection and congratulates the citizenry of Michigan on his availability.

LAWRENCE

For many months now, uncertainty about the future of the Viet Nam situation has been hanging like a cloud over the whole economy.

Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, in a speech this week before the International Bankers Conference in Madrid, declared that basic decisions on the Viet Nam war constitute "the critical issue and the major problem" for the American economy.

President Johnson, himself, has said he is trying to avoid a tax increase and wage-and-price controls.

Coincidentally, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has just made a speech in New York City which clarifies the American position and should have a decisive influence in bringing the Viet Nam problem closer to an early solution than was deemed possible a few weeks ago.

For the United States has clearly entered up many things. One of them is that America is not going to be swayed by the internal friction in South Viet Nam and intends to continue to protect that country against aggression.

More important, however, is what Rusk has said to the rest of the world about the American position. His statement would remove all doubts that recent events would cause the United States policy to waver or withdrawal.

The secretary did not mention Sen. Fulbright, but in the course of his speech rebutted some of the arguments that it could amount only to appeasement if accepted. Rusk said:

"If mankind is to achieve a peaceful world order safe for free institutions, it is of course essential that aggression be eliminated — if possible by force, if it occurs, by repelling it."

"The clearest lesson of the 1930s and 1940s is that aggression feeds on aggression."

"SHOULD NOT FORGET"

"I am aware that Mao and Ho Chi Minh are not Hitler and Mussolini. But we should not forget what we have learned about the anatomy and physiology of aggression."

"We ought to know better than to ignore the aggressor's openly proclaimed intentions or to fall victim to the notion that he will stop if you let him have just one more bite or speak to him a little more gently."

Rusk reiterated the declaration he made in Bangkok in March 1961 that the United States would, under the treaty, continue to assist the free nations of Southeast Asia "who are struggling for their survival against armed minorities directed, supplied, and supported from without."

The more the United States government emphasizes to the rest of the world that it is determined, no matter how long a time is required, to attain the objectives of its policy in Southeast Asia, the sooner will the North Vietnamese realize that it is futile for them to continue their aggression and that they would fare much better if an honorable peace settlement is achieved.

Bob Considine Says:

Air Transport Exec Talk on UFOs Is Provocative

NEW YORK — This report of the years of hoots against flying saucers suffered a nasty setback here at the national convention of the Aviation and Space Writers Association.

The new boss of the writers' airline body swore he believed in them.

That's what Kunt Hammarck, 44-year-old nephew of the late secretary general to the U.N., told a room of writers, Air Force officers and industry people.

To their astonishment, the apple-cheeked youth-looking new director general of the International Air Transport Association was dead serious.

When there was no immediate response, but only embarrassment for him, Hammarck asked two hypothetical questions.

What makes us so sure that only the earth, among the countless millions of heavenly bodies, is occupied?

Could it be that we have come under observation only recently because only now are we beginning to venture in space ourselves?

He anticipates no early arrival of regular space shuttles at the Pan Am Building's towering heliport, but concluded, "It is certainly something to which we must give serious consideration in the future."

Hmmmm . . .

Sept. 11 will be election day in South Viet Nam.

Anything can happen. But a lot must happen in the meantime just to bring it off, regardless of the outcome.

Somebody must create an electoral system and build its physical gear.

Somebody must protect the voters from VC reprisals before, during and after voting.

Somebody has to coin some new words for South Viet Nam's Montagnards. Their language has no terms for "vote," "franchise," "ballot" or "democracy."

And someone must remind people to keep ducking.

'Policeman's Sworn Duty Is to Arrest Offenders'

I am writing to commend your recent editorial on police brutality. A police officer cannot look the other way when an offense happens. It is his sworn duty to arrest the offender and bring him before a court of law to be judged.

As it was stated, a policeman cannot bow to lawbreakers who feel the best thing to do when apprehended is to strike the officer. If the officer defends himself and subdues the lawbreaker he is ridiculed and called brutal.

If more people took the attitude you have on subject and realized a policeman's job is to protect the people, my job would be less complicated.

Favors Acceptance of 'Senior Skip Day'

It's too bad when students whose parents try to teach them that honesty is the best policy are punished for an unexcused "Senior Skip Day" and Seniors whose parents said they were "sick" get off scot free. I'm told that the students should have asked permission to have a special skip day and then go on a picnic with teachers in attendance. This is "skipping" school?

'Skip Day' has become a tradition, just like the Senior Prom and a fitting climax to twelve years of hard work. Every year Seniors keep up the tradition, authorized or not, and even when threatened with not graduating. Why don't both sides get together and reach an agreement? Or would this take all the fun out of it?

Will the 'Girls' Vent Pent-Up Feminine Fury?

The Environmental Science Services Administration has announced the girls' names by which the United States will identify hurricanes in 1966.

There are 42 in all, divided equally between storms in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico and those of the eastern North Pacific.

For the former, the names are: Alma, Becky, Celia, Dorothy, Ella, Faith, Greta, Hallie, Inez, Judith, Kendra, Lois, Marsha, Thoren, Orpha, Patty, Rena, Sherry, Thora, Vicky and Wilna.

It's inevitable that we will come to know some of these names better than we have any desire to, but we can at least hope that as few as possible of these temperamental, unpredictable and destructive gals show up for their dates with the weathermen this summer.

Moment of Truth for Guidelines

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON — The administration's wage-price guidelines may be headed for extensive alterations or the scrap heap. That's the judgment of some labor-management relations experts who have good administration contacts.

Their opinions cannot be documented officially because the Johnson administration, until it has a better stabilization device to offer as a substitute, is bound to insist 3.2 per cent is now and ever shall be a reasonable, fair and noninflationary wage increase.

Nevertheless the search for a better device or a revised formula has begun. That's the job for which President Johnson recently revived the Labor-Management Advisory Committee. He asked its advice on how to "cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy."

Labor has repudiated the "voluntary" guidelines. In effect the guidelines impose a ceiling on workers' wages, the union say, while allowing price and corporation profits to soar.

COMPROMISE SOLUTION
Can a better, but still voluntary way be found—one acceptable to both labor and management?

Some clue may come June 2, when the 21-member committee—seven members each from industry, labor and the public—holds its second meeting in the offices of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, the chairman.

A six-member working subcommittee—

two leaders from each of the three sides—then will report on progress.

There are indications that hard, sincere effort is being poured into the search by the unseen but influential six. Only the labor pair has been identified. They are AFL-CIO President George Meany and United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel. Presumably the management men have equal stature in industry; if they come up with an idea, they will be listened to.

TWO HARDEST MEN

Perhaps Meany and Abel will be the two men hardest to satisfy. Labor has come to feel it was sold an unintentional bill of goods when President John F. Kennedy posted the guidelines.

Now, in the fifth year of an unprecedented five-year boom, things have heated up. The price creep has become a trot, and profits have set records.

As the guidelines have come to be interpreted, the gains in worker productivity over the past five years should have led to a wage guideline increase from 3.2 per cent to 3.6 per cent this year.

But the White House is sticking to the 3.2 formula, even as the Labor Department reports the real spendable earnings of factory workers have declined over the past year because of price rises.

So the AFL-CIO has served notice it will henceforth for everything it can get, unless there is assurance of some effective restraint on prices and profits. That poses the threat of a real price-wage spiral unless the labor-management advisers bring in some bright ideas soon.

Complex Control

The Wall Street Journal

According to Agriculture Secretary Freeman, the recent 15 per cent increase in wheat acreage allotments signals a "new era" in agriculture. It's difficult, however, to see how the situation has changed substantially.

True, the Government's surplus boards of most farm commodities have decreased. But a major factor in these declines has been poor agricultural planning in India and other less-developed nations, rather than any brilliant thinking in Washington.

While the Government, to its credit, is putting increased emphasis on self-help measures in the less-developed lands, their demands for imports from the U.S.—subsidized or otherwise—seems sure to continue large for some time. Since other demands also seem a fine time to be big moving agriculture back toward a free market.

The Government of course, plans nothing as revolutionary as that. Washington instead intends to stay firmly in the farm business, fiddling with its array of complex and coercive controls to try to get output to the ups and downs of demand. That prospect would not be quite so depressing if there were any indication that the Federal planners have become any more adept at managing farming than they have been right along. As it is, rising acreage yields and the vagaries of weather promise to continue to confound the controllers' efforts.

Insofar as the farm programs help anyone, moreover, the chief beneficiaries still will be the large operators who least need assistance. Furthermore, the political cast of the entire enterprise certainly hasn't changed; the White House fanfare for the wheat acreage boost was plainly aimed at placating farmers irritated by Federal moves to limit some farm price increases.

To the Agriculture Department all of this may add up to a new era. To some of us, however, it seems but a sorry extension of the old.

Convict Views Lost Right to Vote

By PETE SIMER
Southern Michigan Prisonmate
It is election day.
Much is at stake in my state. But most of my town's 4,700 inhabitants are chronic misfits who couldn't care less.

The name of my town is Southern Michigan Prison.
In the morning chow line, a young murderer and a middle-aged burglar come close to blows in a debate on the abilities of Gov. Romney. An alert guard breaks it up just in time.

The burglar is serving his fifth term in my town. I know him well. So, after he cools off, I needle him a bit, saying, "I take it you voted for Romney."

"NEVER VOTED"

"You kiddin'?" he said. "I never voted in my life. I got sense enough to know no matter who's elected, the best John Q. Public's gonna get is the worst of it. The hell with votin'!"

That's seditious philosophy, isn't it? "The hell with votin'!" means down with democracy, your country, your government and consequently every home (where government really begins) in the land.

Yet, I've voiced such seditious myself. It came out something like this: "Couldn't make it to the polls. I had other things to do on election day."

The reflection lured me into deep concern and held me down with this hard and heavy fact: I am stripped of my voting rights for many elections to come. What I feel leaves no room for self-esteem.

I began to wonder how my fellow-inmates feel about not being allowed to vote. Later, I question nearly 300 of them.

Almost 90 per cent merely shrugged or otherwise indicated lack of concern. Eighty individuals admitted that they'd never voted! (Could the deeds that landed us here be germane to such disregard for democracy?)

Consider three responses to the question: "Did you vote regularly when you were free?"

* * *
Gambling syndicate underling (age 33, serving 5-10 years): "The organization always saw to it that I voted; even told me who to vote for."

* * *
"BOTTLE OR TWO"

Alcoholic (doing 1-3 for non-support): "They'd let us off work in time to make it to the polls, all right. But I'd stop at a buddy's house to talk the election over."

* * *
"There'd be a bottle or two around. And somehow, before I considered all the issues and candidates and decided who'd get my vote, it was either too late or I was too loaded to care any more."

* * *
Vote fraud fall-guy (age 72, serving 1½-3 years): "Election days was gravy days for me. I always voted. Got five bucks a ballot. Sometimes I made $50."

* * *
As for me — well, it's occasionally difficult to face the mirror of patriotism and like what you see.

GONE FISHING

Instead of voting, I've often gone hunting or fishing; attended to selfish matters of assorted kinds. Indeed, I've leaped on every lame excuse in the book. But the future will offer opportunities to prove my determination never again to skip a chance to vote.

Scotland Yard Probes Prison Break Plot Case

LONDON (UPI)—Scotland Yard yesterday took over the hunt for five escaped "desperate and violent" convicts when an apparently simple prison break assumed the proportions of a well-organized underworld plot to spring two highly dangerous criminals.

Nine convicts escaped Wednesday night from a civilian bus taking them back to the top security prison at Parkhurst, Isle of Wight, after they had testified in a court case at Winchester.

A strong police net thrown around the Bishop's Walham area, where the men made the break, recaptured four of the convicts.

Yesterday Scotland Yard detectives visited the homes of friends of the other five men and their known haunts in London, seeking clues as to whether any of them had reached the capital.

* * *
Police sources said they believed the break had been organized as a cover to allow two of the convicts to reach an automobile which was waiting to drive them away from the escape area.

* * *
HANDCUFFS FOUND
They said some of the handcuffs the five men had been wearing were found open and intact, indicating they had been provided with a key, probably inside the prison, before making their getaway.

* * *
Home Secretary Roy Jenkins told the House of Commons there were 13 prisoners in the bus, escorted by seven prison officers, when the break was made.

* * *
Four of the officers had prisoners handcuffed to them, while some of the prisoners were handcuffed in pairs.

The police had only clubs for weapons, but the bus was escorted by a patrol car with three policemen.

Romney Signs Bill on Senate Eligibility

LANSING (AP)—A measure simplifying methods of qualifying for election in the 9th Congressional District. The seat was opened with the appointment by Romney of Robert Griffin to McNamara's vacant Senate seat.

In addition, the measure allows youths between 18 and 21 to become challengers at the polls. It is aimed at interesting young people in politics.

The bill does away with the requirement of two separate sets of qualifying petitions, one for a short term and the other for the regular term.

Although the vacancy was filled by appointment, state law requires that there be two separate elections — one for the short term from Dec. 1, 1966, to Jan. 3, 1967, the other for the regular six-year term.

TWO TERMS

It also requires separate qualifying for the ballot for the two terms.

Under the new law, given immediate effect, those filing petitions for the six-year term automatically will qualify for the short term. The reverse does not apply—those filing for the short term will not be automatically qualified for the regular term.

The new law establishes the same procedure for those filing

Chiropractic Art Redefined

Expansion Limited in Senate-OK'd Version

LANSING (AP)—Chiropractors won expansion of their healing art area from the spine to the rest of the body Thursday.

The Senate approved 23-11 legislation which redefines chiropractic. But it expressly prohibits such doctors from intruding into the practice of any other healing art—such as medicine.

After a lot of political footwork, the definition was narrowed slightly from the version passed by the house.

Chiropractors now are limited to hand manipulation of misaligned or displaced vertebrae.

MANIPULATION

The Senate version permits manipulation by hand, mechanical or electrical methods of incomplete dislocations of the human body in order to correct nerve interference.

The House would have permitted treatment of all joints of the body without limiting to incomplete dislocations.

The Senate approved 27-9 a measure making it a misdemeanor for law enforcement personnel to willfully and knowingly fail to enforce the law so that a person is denied his legal rights.

It goes back to the House for concurrence in amendments.

Twelve other routine or technical House-approved measures also were passed. Sixteen other bills were moved into position for final passage.

Kowalski Hits Romney

LANSING (AP)—House Speaker Joseph Kowalski said yesterday Gov. George Romney, in announcing for reelection, took credit for legislation he had not even recommended.

The Detroit Democrat also told a news conference that majority Democrats in the House planned to issue a paper in several weeks on Michigan's tax problems, what has been done and possibly what should be done.

Kowalski said Romney "complimented the Legislature back-handedly by taking credit for work we've done in the last two years."

Romney issued what was almost a miniature State of the State message with his reelection announcement Wednesday. He cited an increase of 83 per cent in state support for primary and secondary education over four years, 82 per cent for colleges and 194 per cent for community colleges.

That was the Legislature's doing, Kowalski said, adding Romney did not recommend increases that large.

The speaker also objected to Romney's statement that "we have enacted minimum wage . . . legislation." That, too, was all the Legislature's doing, Kowalski said.

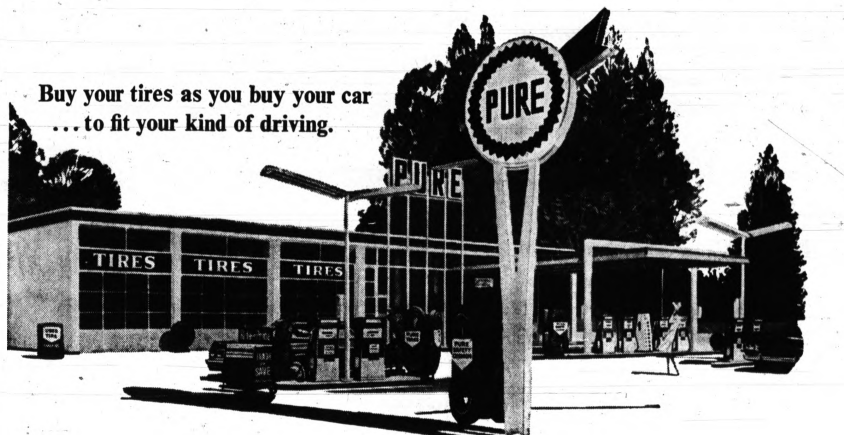

Kowalski also said the only type of tax reform Romney has proposed was to help business and industry.

"Negroes are fighting (in Viet Nam) for the freedom of other peoples when they themselves are not free—not totally free. They don't enjoy equality. "Actually they should be back here in the United States joining forces with the people there who feel the Negro is equal and who are fighting to give the Negro freedom and equality." Adams told a questioner he did not feel his broadcasts put him in the same category as "Tokyo Rose," the American-born Japanese who broadcast for Japan in World War II. Asked why not, he replied: "Because in Viet Nam Congress has not declared war."

Slain Negro 'Very Drunk'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An autopsy surgeon told a coroner's inquest yesterday that slain Negro motorist Leonard Deadwyler was "very drunk" the night he was shot by a white police officer.

Dr. Thomas S. Noguchi also testified that Deadwyler's inner left arm bore 15 pinpoint scars "that could be caused by small objects such as a needle."

Deadwyler, 25, was fatally wounded by traffic patrolman Jerold M. Bova, 23, after a high-speed chase through south-central Los Angeles last May 7.

Bova testified Wednesday the shooting was accidental and occurred when the victim's halted car lurched forward and knocked him off balance.

Deadwyler's pregnant widow claims the killing was deliberate and without provocation.

END IN SIGHT The seven-day televised inquest now is expected to conclude either late today or next Tuesday, allowing for the Monday holiday.

The jury of eight men—one a Negro—and one woman can rule the death was accidental, justifiable or criminal homicide, with or without recommending that someone be held to answer.

April Bond Investment $27.6 Million in State

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan residents invested $27.6 million in savings bonds during April, the Treasury Department office here reported. This represents an increase of 5.5 per cent over purchases of $26.2 million in April 1965.

"I am not interested in anything like that now," he said. "I am only interested in seeing my family again and finding work to make a living for myself and my children."

In China today, Adams said, "everyone seems to believe the United States will attack China at any time. They have prepared air raid shelters everywhere. Everyone is in some kind of military training. They have made all the preparations I think they are able to make at this time."

ULTIMATE PURPOSE

"The Chinese—so far as I know both the officials and the people—believe all the American bases in Asia have been established for the ultimate reason of attacking or invading China."

Adams said he himself did not believe the United States had any intention of invading China.

"I don't think they (the Americans) would be that foolish," he said. "I can't see the U.S. winning a land war in China. And I don't think our politicians or our generals can see that either."

Adams said Chinese propaganda calls for volunteers to fight in Viet Nam have subsided in recent months.

Happy Veep Has Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey celebrated his 55th birthday today and said "I'm a very happy man."

"Good health, a lovely wife, a fine family, good friends and the opportunity of public service. What more could anyone want?" he added.

Humphrey and his wife planned to fly to their Waverly, Minn., home tonight with Agriculture Secretary and Mrs. Orville L. Freeman as their houseguests.

Mrs. Humphrey has invited 35 friends there to an informal birthday buffet tomorrow.

a change of heart

Sometimes, a deep change of heart can affect a man's whole pattern of life. He sees things differently. It's the change that comes through a clearer idea of God, when you catch a glimpse of the real meaning and joy of life. Another word for it is reformation. You're invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by Otto Bertschi of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. Title: "The Meaning of Reformation." Everyone is welcome.

2-Hour Lunch Custom in France Is Under Fire From Government

PARIS (UPI) — That hallowed French tradition, the two-hour lunch, is under attack and from a most unlikely quarter — President Charles de Gaulle's government.

The government wants to cut down the time spent by its officials traveling to and from home at lunch time.

In exchange, it is offering to let most of them have Saturday — or at least Saturday afternoon — off.

The workweek will remain 45 hours. But in the constant pursuit of leisure time which the affluent society demands, more and more Frenchmen are seeking to make "le weekend" longer.

It is also significant that the government hasn't yet tried out its scheme in the provinces, whose inhabitants are traditionally more conservative and resistant to change than the Parisians.

But the eating habits of Frenchmen are changing.

ONLY 45 MINUTES

Workers in ministries, the town halls of the city's 20 district and in police headquarters have been given only 45 minutes for lunch.

Some still try to make it home and back in that time. But most either bring lunch and eat it at their desk or grab a bite in a government-sponsored canteen where a three-course meal costs less than a dollar.

The working day continues to start around 8:30 a.m. and runs until 6 p.m. But in exchange for lopping 75 minutes off their lunch hour, there is all that free time on Saturday.

So far there are no indications as to how the scheme is progressing.

SOME GRUMBLING

Some traditionalists have grumbled at the loss of the traditional "dejeuner familial," when father comes home from work each day to eat with mother and the children.

There were 100 men and 42 women in the Mayo study group, ranging in age from 50 to 70. When the cancer was diagnosed and treated early, more than half of the patients survived five years with no recurrence, but early diagnosis could be made in only 36. Treatment was given over a 10-year period with cobalt 60.

It is Dr. Scanlon's theory that the two-phase dosage destroys more cancer cells, perhaps all of them, than would one continuous treatment with the same dose of radiation.

The Largest Orchid

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — Botanist Francisco Ruiz Alarco says he has grown the largest orchid in the world, measuring more than 60 centimeters (27.2 inches). Ruiz says the scientific name for the flower is phragmopodium caudatum.

Find Split Dosage of Radiation Best in Nose Cancer

By Science Service

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Interrupted radiation dosage has nearly doubled the survival rate of persons treated for cancer of the nasopharynx, or back of the nose.

Half of the intended dosage of radiation was given to 142 patients over 12 to 15 days, followed by a wait of three weeks and then a similar dose over another 12 to 15 days, Dr. Paul W. Scanlon of the Mayo Clinic, American Radium Society meeting here.

The fourth annual Falcon Day at Rochester High School begins at 6 this evening.
Sophomores and juniors are challenging the defending champions, the seniors.

The classes will compete in 17 field day activities on the football field and track.

Doug Fox, Falcon Day chairman, and his committee have added two new events — the bicycle-wagon race and the girls' tug-of-war.

In the tricycle-wagon race, a boy rides a tricycle to the 50-yard line; a girl then pushes a wagon another 50 yards.

The tug-of-war pits the sophomore boys against the juniors.

The winning class then challenges a senior team.

Following the field day, the Student Council is presenting a dance in the cafeteria and courts. Proceeds go toward the foreign exchange fund.

Most Youths Say Nonworking Teens Should Not Have a Car

Gilbert Youth Service

The teen-ager has long since won the battle of the automobile. State laws permit him (and her) to drive cars at ages ranging from 15 to 18.

In most cases, the minimum age for actual ownership of an auto is somewhat higher.

But this is academic, since cars driven by teenagers are registered ordinarily in the name of one of the parents.

When a young man or young woman is working and can afford to contribute all or part to ward the purchase and maintenance of a car, the parents generally cooperate.

But what about the boy or girl who is not working, who is still going to school or simply doesn't have a job?

OWN AUTO

Should this teen-ager, in a family of average income, have an auto for his or her own use?

While it might be expected that most parents would give an emphatic negative reply to that question, it came as somewhat of a surprise to find that most teen-agers felt the same way about it.

More than 63 per cent of the 1,064 boys and girls we surveyed said that a nonworking teenager should not have a car of his own.

Only 32 per cent felt that a car was a necessity, job or no job. Three per cent said it depended on the circumstances, while the remainder gave no answer.

SEPARATE CAR

Martha Crawford, 16, of Middletown, Ohio, was against a separate car for a nonworker, but added: "However, I think that a teen-ager should be allowed to drive the family car whenever necessary and sometimes for pleasure."

James Jersteit, 15, of Smithville, Mo., said a young person should be allowed to have an auto even if he had no job because "then he would find out that he would have to go to work to pay for the upkeep."

A 14-year-old Oklahoma City boy, David St. John, expressed his philosophy this way: "A teen-ager should work for almost anything he gets."

Asked what improvements should be made on modern cars, many of the young men and women merely replied: "Make them less expensive."

STURDIER, STRONGER

Douglas Kimbrell, 15, of Gastonia, N.C., called for autos "to be built sturdier and slower." Mark Cohen, also 15, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, suggested "less beauty and more safety."

Britain's Cave-Dwelling Trogs Latest in Cultural Phenomena

Gilbert Youth Service

England, which has provided the world with the Beatles, the Mods and a lot of other cultural advances, has now come forward with the Trogs.

Whether they are exportable and are destined for greater popularity is something else again.

The nickname Trog is short for troglodyte, or cave dweller.

The Trogs are mostly teen-agers and from such industrial cities as Sheffield, Derby, Manchester, Stoke, Liverpool and Birmingham in the Midlands.

They have taken to living in caves in the Matlock region.

50 REGULARS

There are about 50 regulars. Some of these stay in the deep caverns for months at a time.

Often, they are serious pacifists who want to get away from it all.

A less faithful and far more numerous set are called the Ravers.

They arrive by motorcycle for weekends in the caves. These Ravers, say the regulars, are the ones who cause trouble.

"Trogs are young tramps on the run from home," says Kenneth Terhove, director of an evangelical religious organization based here.

"They hide in damp, dark caves around here. They hold mock marriages to ease their consciences."

Floods, Fires Hit West Texas

By The Associated Press

Water turned streets into small rivers and lapped over the doorsteps into some homes at Midland, an oil field center of 2.75 inches of rain descended in inches of rain poured down.

At Andrews, 40 miles north-west of Midland, muddy torrents flowed six feet deep after 2.75 inches of rain descended in inches of rain poured down.

13 miles west of Kerrville in the southwest Texas hill country. The U.S. Weather Bureau said he resulting runoff would cause a rise of 10 to 15 feet on the upper Guadalupe River.

Fire started by lightning destroyed a warehouse containing about 2,000 bales of cotton farther west at Pyote.

SMALL BLAZES

Small blazes also broke out in at least two houses at Midland as lightning flickered on all sides.

State police received an unconfirmed report a tornado funnel whirled through the air just south of Odessa. They found no evidence it touched ground.

Flooding was widespread on the west side of Midland and some cars washed off U.S. 80. Police said all motorists were able to wade to safety.

Some witnesses estimated at least 12 inches of rain fell within an hour at Midland. It was accompanied by hail up to three-fourths of an inch thick.

TREES SPLIT

Lightning split trees at Andrews, where both electrical and telephone service were disrupted temporarily.

The storms reached their height shortly before midnight while a wide stretch of west Texas was under a severe weather alert.

Heavy rains fell at many points. A 2.23-inch downpour drenched the area around Hunt, can count 10 potential winners. Five trumps, four clubs and a spade. The difficulty lies in the fact that South cannot afford to draw trumps until after he establishes all his side suit winners.

Those declarers who drew trumps never got to make their spade trick. When they cleared the club suit, West got a chance to lead a third diamond and knock out South's last trump so that East could take the last two tricks with his ace of spades and a diamond.

The winning line of play is to take one round of trumps only. Then you establish your black suit tricks. It does not matter how the play is worked out but the play must be calculated to save you from serious trouble if clubs don't break is to lead a spade first.

East will win with the ace and lead a diamond. You ruff and play a low club. It won't make any difference which opponent wins because no return can hurt you.

If a diamond is led back you ruff in dummy. A spade will be won in dummy, a club or trump in your own hand. In any event you win, pull trumps and go home with the rest of the tricks.

The road to Beni having been destroyed, aid operations are difficult and many families lack housing or medical care, Paluku said.

Bird Specie Again Flying Across Ocean

By Science Service

OXFORD, England — After a lapse of 39 years, lapwings have once again been recorded as having crossed the Atlantic from England to Canada.

The daily bird counts organized by the British Trust for Ornithology have shown big movements of birds including skylarks, fieldfares and redwings.

As many as 8,900 lapwings were counted crossing the coast at one spot, Rediff, Glamorgan, during a three-hour period on Dec. 27. This is said to be "a rather conservative" figure since the passage was in progress before and after the actual count took place.

A fortnight later, 670 lapwings were counted at a point on the Hampshire coast.

In the first week of January there was a report that 14 lapwings had landed in New Brunswick, Canada. Later, others appeared in Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Quebec.

The birds appeared to have been caught up in a strong easterly air flow which extended from England and Southern Ireland to Canada. This is the same as what happened when large numbers of lapwings descended on Newfoundland in December 1927.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Stay on the Straight Path

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: No offense to you, personally, but you're nuts! I agree with that girl who signed herself, "TOO NICE." She's right. If a girl is too nice she sits home. It's the fast girls who are popular. I am only 16 and I know from experience that the only reason a boy asks you out is for one thing, and if he doesn't get it, you don't see him again. That's no lie, either.

When you said, "if a girl has to fight with a boy to keep his hands off her, she must have led him on," you were wrong. She can be sitting next to him, doing nothing, and he will almost attack her.

Since January I have had to break up with three boys because they all tried to go too far. But I'll stay nice because I have my self respect. But so far it hasn't got me anywhere.

"TOO NICE," TOO NICE. DEAR TOO NICE: Another "nice" girl had this to say on the subject:

Dear Abby, I am 18 and have just completed my freshman year at college. I want to tell all those girls who wonder if boys really like a sweet, old-fashioned girl what I learned from experience: Don't be shocked if even the best boys try. After I painstakingly explained my views on the matters of morals, many more dates and fine friendships resulted.

Some jokingly called me prudish and mid-Victorian, but I was elected to a position of high honor by the student body. There were times when I actually pitied the girls who allowed boys liberties, thinking it would increase their popularity. (I have a brother, and boys talk.) The girls who parked with boys on dark roads at night were ignored by the same boys in broad daylight. Keep telling young girls that it pays to be nice, Abby, I am, and I am NOT SORRY.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. I am a 66-year-old woman who is engaged to a 69-year-old man. He has been a widower for nine years. He has asked me to go with him to visit his family. It would be a 700-mile trip by automobile.

My children feel that it would be "proper" for me to go with him if we flew, but "improper" if we drove.

I have known this gentleman since childhood and see nothing "improper" about making the trip with him regardless of how we went. Will you kindly advise me. OLD ENOUGH.

DEAR OLD ENOUGH: I see nothing "improper" here, except possibly that which exists in the minds of your children. Go along with your fiancé and have a wonderful time.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Children in the Head Start program at McConnell School had a picnic Thursday, then a trip to Cranbrook. Phillip and Cheri who are both five, try out the swings on the grounds of Birmingham Unitarian Church under the supervision of Mrs. Mark Newman, South Paddock Street.

Women like Mrs. Newman — men and teen-agers too — are needed as volunteers for the summer session of Head Start. Interested individuals may contact Mrs. Annamarie Hayes at the Pontiac Board of Education office.

Mother-Daughter Team Turns Out Art Work

By MADELEINE DOEREN
A mother-daughter art team has developed in a small art room called "One Step Beyond" in the Al Valentine home on Eastlawn Street, Independence Township.

The odor of paint, however, and an array of brushes, palette knives and an unfinished canvas on the easel quickly dispel any resemblance of "Twilight Zone" or outer space.

"The room is a 'haven of refuge' when things get too thick, and they do, with our many interests," Mrs. Valentine said. "Who knows, I may become another Grandma Moses some day," she added wistfully.

She has been drawing pictures since the age of two. Both she and her daughter, Suzanne, are members of the Clarkston Art Association.

Her specialty is doing portraits from photographs in family albums or from tintypes. She also does still life and miniatures. Her media include oils, pastels and charcoal.

"My favorite artists are Rembrandt, Renoir, Mordant, Gainsborough and Caravaggio and my greatest ambition is to study with Robert Thom of Foxcroft," she said.

Suzanne, who is 22, is completing the first in a series of Oakland County landmarks in oils. A graduate of Clarkston Senior High School, she attended Eastern Michigan University for one year.

EARLY SHOW
In 1960, her portrait of an uncle, (Gordon Phillips of Clawson at the age of four) was shown in the first Grinnell Art Show held in Royal Oak. She was the only young person whose work was selected along with 58 entries by adults.

She works with oils, using both brush and palette knife, pastels, watercolors, silk screens, block woodcut and charcoal. Her field includes portraits, landscapes, still life and silk screen Christmas cards.

Sue works six days a week, three days as a dental assistant and the other days as a parish worker at the Salvation Army in Pontiac.

Both Sue and her mother are members of the Salvation Army. Both teach Sunday-School and are League of Mercy Workers. Sue is also a visitation secretary at the Army.

The Valentines are life-long residents of Oakland County, having lived in Royal Oak and Oxford before coming to the Clarkston area.

Al Valentine owns and operates the Oxford Mining Company on Andersonville Road, Davisburg.

George Gardiner, a 14-year-old nephew, makes his home with the family.

Golf Season Brings Quiz on Manners

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The golfing season has rolled around again, even here in the late blooming north, and it's a good time to sit back and examine our golfing manners.

Golf is a game in which etiquette is essential to safety as well as enjoyment, so here's a chance for you to test your know-how about your favorite recreation.

Choose the statement you think best answers each of the following questions.

A foursome may go through (or pass) another foursome:

A. As soon as they catch up with the slower one.

B. When there is an empty hole ahead of the slower group.

C. When they're close enough to shout "Fore!" to warn the others they are about to play.

When playing a "blind" hole, or one on which you cannot see the area in which your next shot will probably land, you should:

A. Send a caddy or another member of your group ahead to see if there are other players just over the hill.

B. Wait until the group ahead of you sends back word that they have finished the hole.

C. Call "Fore!" before you hit your ball.

You will be a sought-after partner if, when you arrive at the green, you:

A. Stand absolutely still while the others putt.

B. Speed up the play by putting as soon as you reach your ball, regardless of the distance you lie from the hole.

C. Shout "Good putt!" even though the ball stops three feet short of the hole.

When you have the misfortune to find your ball in a trap, you should:

A. Take several practice swings in the sand to help you judge your shot.

B. Rake the sand, or, if you have a caddy, insist that he do so after your play.

C. Pick your ball out of a footprint left by a careless player playing ahead of you.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that we receive each week, we'll send a free copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette," revised by Elizabeth L. Post.

Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, and don't forget to include your name and address!

Photographed as they arrived at the opera in Detroit earlier this week are (top) Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gossett and Mr. and Mrs. Roger L. Kyes, all of Bloomfield Hills.

'Flame of Hope' Kindled in Memory of Late JFK

Sunday would have been John F. Kennedy's 49th birthday. There will be no birthday cake for the late President, but candles will be lighted in his memory.

This week, in department stores all over the country, the John F. Kennedy Flame of Hope candles have gone on sale.

These white candles, four sided and rising 18 inches high, have a star-shaped form near the base.

Down near the end of the wick is a metal band like those found on the ends of shoestrings. When the candle flame hits the band, it goes out.

Designed by Raymond Loewy, the candles are being hand molded in 12 workshops employing mentally retarded persons.

MADE BY RETARDED

The first candles were made by the retarded in the Kennedy Job Training Center, Palos Park, Ill.

Following this pilot project, the program has been expanded under a grant of $148,000 from the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

At a recent press conference, Eunice Shriver (Mrs. Sargent Shriver), the late president's sister, told reporters:

"The project was designed to show potential employers what beautiful work mentally retarded persons can do if properly supervised.

"Can you see? This project gives them something beautiful to work on as well as mentally stimulating to do."

"You have to fill a mind to make it grow."

FOUNDATION

Mrs. Shriver is executive vice president of The Kennedy Foundation which is dedicated to problems of mental retardation. Her sister, Rosemary, is a victim of this retardation.

Advisor to the project is Marvin Blank, a Cape Cod candle maker who lives within sight of the "Kennedy compound" at Hyannis Port, Mass.

He says the success of the project hinges on people's using the candles often. As demand increases so will opportunities for the employable among the retarded.

Flame of Hope candles are for sale in Detroit.

Alumnae Unit Will Benefit Disturbed Young

Mrs. William W. Decker, president of Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae, North Woodward Association will present a check for $1,000 to Mrs. Dale O. Miller, vice president of the Foundation for Emotionally Disturbed Children.

Presentation will take place at the Golden Key luncheon Thursday in the Village Woman's Club.

It will bring to a climax, the group's philanthropic projects for this year.

Highlighting the luncheon will be a fashion show of custom knit suits and decorated sweaters.

Kaymas modeling will be Mrs. Raymond W. Bender, Mrs. Kent Smith, Mrs. Thomas Rickette, Mrs. David Parker, Mrs. Paul Finney, Mrs. Joseph Shaw, Mrs. Carl S. Abbott, Mrs. Frederick B. Eilber, Mrs. R. J. Fisher and Mrs. Earl J. Potter.

Sorority Names Convention Goers

Mrs. Thomas Zielsinski and Mrs. Ronald Melburn were named delegates to the June national convention of Lambda Chi Omega sorority.

The alternate named at a recent meeting of Beta Omega chapter was Mrs. Robert Hutchings. The group met in the Lakeside Drive home of Mrs. Richard Erwin.

Oakland County volunteers of the American Red Cross honored Donald Millar, manager of the county ARC, at a reception Thursday. Millar is leaving the Red Cross to become an assistant administrator for the Pontiac Area United Fund. Offering refreshments from a silver tray, later presented to Millar, are (left) Mrs. Jarvis Barnhill, Topview Drive, and Mrs. John F. Reineck, West Iroquois Road.

Oldsters, Too, Have Fun

Cheerfulness Is Catching

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE Z-411: L. E. Gard is director of a beautiful, new nursing and convalescent home at Danville, Illinois.

Recently I addressed the old folks as their Sunday afternoon speaker. Many of them used canes or crutches. Some were in wheel chairs.

DR. CRANE

But a surprisingly large number were able to hobble around under their own power, even though they were past 90 years old. Dr. Crane, Mr. Gard informed me, "we often have people come here who are bed patients."

"But before long, they are stimulated to get up and walk again."

"I suppose it is the sight of others, even older than they are, who are walking around, don't you think?"

THE A. A. STRATEGY

Alcoholics Anonymous (A.A.) have demonstrated a similar strategy with chronic drunkards who are down and out.

When these despairing alcoholics attend an A.A. meeting and listen to the inspiring speeches of the members, they perk up.

For they hear talks by men and women who were worse drunkards than themselves, yet now see those victims back as well-dressed, highly respected workers in modern society.

"If they can do it," is thus the subconscious feeling of the new A.A. recruits, "then I can do it, too!"

Applied to decrepit older folks, this same challenge exists when they are in a Nursing Home.

But while they were living with their children, surrounded by active teen-age grandchildren, they may have made no attempt to walk or wait upon themselves.

For they figured they couldn't remotely compete with the younger generation.

Now that they are surrounded by other oldsters, often 10 years their senior, and find that such elderly folks can walk to the dining room or hobble around with a cane or crutches, they are stimulated to do likewise.

In brief, they figure they have a chance when competing with their own age group, but this spirit of rivalry is lacking at home.

Thus, your elderly relatives may actually work harder to stay on their own feet when they are in a Nursing Home!

And these modern Nursing Homes offer a happy, well-lighted environment.

Mr. Gard, for example, maintains a coffee urn in the large, airy dining room where anybody can get himself a cup of coffee at any time.

"Dr. Crane," he added, "one of the best tonics for the women is our Beauty Parlor."

"There they can have their hair curled and be made to look pretty."

"And as they leave, they also get some perfume squirted on them, which they relish."

Even in our mental sanitariums, we also find that cosmetic aids and colorful print frocks exert a very helpful influence on patients!

And will you relatives PLEASE remember to surprise your elderly folks with unexpected greeting cards, plus gala remembrances on their birthday and other holidays?

For the elderly folks relish surprises almost as much as children do!

Stands 'Squarely' on Cover-up Issue

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The great exposure is on in fashion. Necklines dip to the waist. Punks have peep-a-boo porphires cut in at hip level. Where does it go, how did it start, and where will it end? These are some of the questions Jo Copeland, distinguished American designer, covers in the following dispatch.)

By JO COPELAND
NEW YORK (UPI) — The exposure of the female anatomy to a point of ridicule makes the motives of designers of such things suspect. We now have skirts four inches above the knees, bare navels, bare bosoms. It reminds me of the cartoon of the two men visiting a nudist camp and, pointing to a female nudist, saying — "Wouldn't she look great in a sweater?"

FORSEES CHANGE
I do believe the pendulum has got to swing in the other direction. Before long, I predict, a barrage of cover-up fashions will appear to recapture that precious but lost sex appeal. For thousands of years the art of half-revealing, half-concealing has been a successful formula and I, for one, intend to continue this approach at the risk of being considered square.

Another concern of mine is the preoccupation with youth to such a degree that it would not surprise me if someone suggests shooting all females over 30 years of age.

Then, we wouldn't have the problem of designing anything appropriate for them to wear.

'UGLINESS'
We could give ourselves over completely to the Mods, the Ye Ye's, the discotheque IN group, the underground she-nanigans, the gyrations that substitute for dancing, the offensive ugliness that is replacing beauty in the art world. I find this all extremely unwholesome and refuse to accept it as avant garde.

I think women should demand the kind of clothes they would enjoy wearing and be seen in. They are available and I think they would be eternally grateful to those who encourage the design of same — and help them find such clothes.

Clothes have a psychological effect on the wearer, affecting their conduct by subconsciously reflecting the mood of their clothes. This imposes a responsibility on the designer. It is for this reason I am sounding with alarm.

There were at one time many talented women designers, both here and abroad, dedicated successfully to making women more alluring, covering the less attractive parts ingeniously.

Today, women designers greatly are in the minority and, therefore, a small but insistent voice.

MALE MOTIVES
The male has taken over in overwhelming numbers. Some have great talent, but as for the majority, it is still an unanswered question as to what motivates their designing.

School Computer Sees All, Knows All

IN THE CARDS — Ninth grader 43300, also known as Katherine Jahne, 1246 Maurer, learns how to operate Madison Junior High School's part of the teleprocessing equipment now being tested at the Pontiac school. Principal George R. Yansen checks her work in the demonstration program.

By PAT McCARTY
Student 50779, where are you? The computer knows... heh, heh, heh.

This week a computer started keeping track of youngsters who attend, or are supposed to attend, Madison Junior High School.

The program is a simulation of the centralized teleprocessing system which one day will do all sorts of bookkeeping for all school districts in Oakland County.

It is to be the first of its kind in Michigan.

VARIED SERVICES

When it starts functioning in January 1968, the system will provide a variety of services ranging from the grading of tests to the planning of menus for school cafeterias.

Oakland Schools, which is coordinating the effort, now is negotiating for the purchase of the network machinery.

Thus far, six school districts have agreed to participate. They are Pontiac, Royal Oak, Farmington, Birmingham, Walled Lake and Huron Valley — representing nearly 50 per cent of the school children of Oakland County.

The month-long program at Madison Junior High School is meant to serve as a demonstration.

COOPERATION

Cooperating in the venture are Oakland Schools, the Pontiac School System, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and a computer manufacturer.

"Basically, we want to look at the accuracy level of the transmission of data as compared to the manual collection of data," said Merlin Reeds, director of data processing for Oakland Schools. "We expect it to be much more accurate."

At Madison, Roger Tyrrell, county child accountant, is helping to coordinate the program. Working with him is Melvin Staebler, director of data processing for the Pontiac School System.

Two students transmit the missing numbers of youngsters missing when roll is called in the morning and afternoon. It takes them about 14 minutes for each transmission period.

QUICK FIGURES

When the countywide program is developed fully, 150 schools will be able to send in information simultaneously via telephone lines.

The information accumulated by the computer will be quickly retrievable and will provide administrators with "better tools to do their jobs," Reeds said.

School administrators throughout the county will be keeping their eyes on the interim program at Madison.

With the experimental conditions set up around the computer, one variable has remained constant — absenteeism has remained at its normal 6.5 per cent.

It's Roundup Time in City

The spring kindergarten roundup will begin Wednesday in the Pontiac School System.

Children who will be 5 years old before Dec. 1 are to be registered by their parents on the days scheduled.

Youngsters will be registered at Frost and Whittier elementary schools Wednesday, at Central Elementary School Thursday and at Alcott, Baldwin, Webster and Wilson elementary schools Friday.

Registration is planned at Wever Elementary School June 6.

Scheduled for June 7 are Bailey, Emerson, McCarrill, McConnell and Wisner elementary schools.

On June 8, potential kindergartners will register at Crofoot, Franklin, Malkin, Owen and Rogers elementary schools and on June 9 at Bethune, Herington, LeBaron, Longfellow, Twain, and Willis elementary schools.

Airplane Is Full of Coincidence

LOUISVILLE (AP) — After Capt. J. D. Neubauer III, an Army pilot, took his seat on the airliner, the stewardess came along and asked his name.

"Capt. Neubauer," he replied.

"Oh, you've moved your seat," she said.

"No, ma'am, I haven't," he countered.

"But this is Capt. Neubauer next to you," the stewardess continued. It was Capt. Edward Neubauer of the Air Force.

SAME RANK
In addition to holding the same rank, both were in the Air Force and both were en route to Texas bases. They were almost the same age. J. D. 29 and Edward 30.

Adding to the coincidence, both were under orders to Viet Nam to land at the same airport in Saigon and to operate out of the same airfield.

Town Is Still Here but Store Is Closed

COMBINE, Tex. (AP) — The town of Combine is still here, but the store for which it is named is gone after 63 years of operation at the same location.

Owner Byron Lewis reluctantly followed his doctor's advice and closed the place his father had purchased in 1920 and where he himself has worked since 1924.

This town grew up around the barnlike store which opened early in the century. But it had no name until the Post Office Department informed the residents that one was needed before a post office could be established.

Since the store was a lot of different stores combined, the place was called Combine.

Giants' Marichal Posts 4th Shutout

By the Associated Press
About the only thing Juan Marichal hasn't done yet this season is pitch two shutouts in one day.
But he's working up to it. The unbeaten San Francisco right-hander was on his way there Thursday, pitching 14 innings before recording his ninth victory and fourth shutout in the Giants' 10 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Marichal has been virtually untouchable this season and surrendered only six hits against the Phillies while striking out 10 and walking only one.
Leading the National League — and the majors — in virtually every pitching department, Marichal's hurling borders on the astonishing when it's broken down into categories:

Hits — Marichal has allowed only 51 hits in 92 innings, the equivalent of a five-hitter for every game.
Runs — He has allowed only six earned runs in his 10 starts, has pitched 23 consecutive scoreless innings, has allowed only one run in the last 42 and has given up two runs in only one game this season.

Shutouts — He has pitched four shutouts, two in a row, and has lowered his earned run average to an infinitesimal 0.59.
Walks — He has permitted only eight walks — less than one a game — while striking out 60, a ratio of more than 7 to 1.
And he now has beaten every club in the league at least once with the exception of the Atlanta Braves.
But then he hasn't pitched against them.
Only two other games were played in the National League, Pittsburgh edging Houston 3-2 and St. Louis defeating the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

Marichal was locked in a brilliant duel with Jim Bunning until the 11th inning when the Phillies starter left for a pinch hitter after allowing only four hits. Then, in the 14th, Jim Davenport lined one to right center off reliever Darold Knowles. Johnny Callison tried for a backhand, shoestring catch but the ball got by for a triple.
Hal Lanier drew a walk and it was Marichal's turn to bat.

"I didn't want Herman (Manager Herman Franks) to let me hit and then be sorry for it," said Marichal. "So I went to him and told him, I've been hitting well but I'm not a good hitter."

Frank's tapped Jesus Alou to pinch hit and Knowles walked him intentionally. Pinch hitter Bob Barton then lifted a fly to center field, Davenport raced home with the game's only run and Marichal had a 9-0 record.

Manny Mota's third-inning homer proved decisive for the Pirates. The victory went to Steve Blass but he needed Pete Mikkelsen's relief help in the eighth inning after Jim Gentile tripped.

Avondale '9' Takes Second in O-A Duel

Avondale won a battle for second place in the Oakland A League baseball race yesterday by pounding Clawson, 12-4.

In other games, O-A champion Madison (10-0) wrapped up an unbeaten season in league play with a 3-2 decision over Lake Orion, and Warren Fitzgerald turned back Rochester (2-8), 6-1, behind the one-hit pitching of Bill Campbell.

In another O-A outing, Warren Fitzgerald turned back Rochester (2-8), 6-1, behind one-hit pitching of Bill Campbell.

Ahead by only one run going into the seventh, Avondale broke loose for eight runs to send Clawson (7-4) to third place in the loop.

Senior Harry Bartkowiak collected four hits and drove in three runs to pace the Avondale attack. Helping out with two hits apiece were Bob Burt, Dave Armstrong, Dave Erwin and Steve Brunell.

Randy Hinds, losing pitcher for Rochester, was knocked out of the box in the third inning, but he remained in the game at an outfield and spoiled Campbell's bid for a no-hitter by clouting a home run in the fourth inning.

In the other game, McAnally's Sales (4-2) routed Dixie Tool (0-6), 14-4. Bill Cox went four-for-four at the plate and scored three times and Ted Whary collected three hits and scored twice for the winners.

The high school golfing program could wind up in a little trouble if it continues along its present course.

The golfers are now hampered by that always unpredictable weatherman, and a new problem looming on the horizon is the overcrowded golf course.

At present, many—not all—of the public courses and a few of the private layouts make their facilities available to the prep golfers.

While most schools have no trouble at present finding a place to practice and play matches, that could change soon with the addition of new schools and with some of the older schools adding golf to their varsity athletic program.

There just might be more golfers than the courses could handle, and since the preps are using the facilities at a small fee, the course owner might find himself in an economic bind and the result would be to curtail the preps to ease the pressure.

The league golfers and others, caged by cold weather through the winter, are eager to get onto the courses as soon as the snow leaves the ground.

The prep golfers want to get in their links, too, and the result at times is overcrowding. And it'll get worse.

A SOLUTION

There's seldom an easy solution to any problem, but a procedure is available that would please the course owner if the schools would go along with it.

That would be to switch the prep golf season from spring to fall.

It would give the high school players more ideal golfing weather—September and October in contrast to April and May—and it would ease the problem of overcrowding since a great many golfers feel that the golfing season ends when September rolls around.

There's more to it, of course. With the start of bowling season, most of those bowling-golfers put away the clubs and haul out the bowling ball.

Such a switch would give the school a feeling of assurance in formulating a golf program or in planning a continuance of an already-established program.

Crash Victim's Father Pushes Road Safety

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Cecil Bassett Sr., the numb despair that comes when a son is killed in an auto accident, in letters sent to a newspaper in every city in the United States with more than 10,000 population.

Daily he receives replies from readers who have seen his appeal for careful driving and safer cars.

Cecil E. Bassett Jr., 27, a brilliant young doctor with ambitions to be a heart surgeon, fell asleep while driving near Baton Rouge, La., and was killed in June of 1964.

"The last letter we had, he told how he'd transplanted a heart into an animal and the operation was successful but the animal died. He had said 'Better luck tomorrow' — but there were no more tomorrows," said his father, in an interview.

PERSONAL CAMPAIGN

This spring, Bassett began a personal campaign to reduce the highway death toll.

He told of "the unbelievable horror, the numb despair that comes when a son is killed in an auto accident," in letters sent to a newspaper in every city in the United States with more than 10,000 population.

"I don't like government intervention but somebody has to check the cars more closely. Even more, they've got to check the drivers and nobody can do that but the drivers," he said.

In the letters, Bassett told of his son's last drive.

He told of "the unbelievable horror, the numb despair that comes when a son is killed in an auto accident," in letters sent to a newspaper in every city in the United States with more than 10,000 population.

Bassett hopes to answer each reply.

"I'm 62 and I don't get as much done as I used to. But I'll get to it. Maybe it will help them a little."

A Junior Editors Quiz About YEAST

THE YEAST PLANT

COMBINE YEAST WITH • FLOUR • MILK • WATER • SHORTENING • SUGAR • SALT AND YOU HAVE HOME MADE BREAD

QUESTION: How does yeast make bread rise?

ANSWER: Yeast is a tiny one-celled fungus plant, shown in the upper magnified view as it buds to produce new cells. Yeast can be kept as a compressed cake, with the plants dormant.

When such a cake is moistened with lukewarm water, the moisture and warmth start the plants into action. Flour and sugar are added.

The yeast changes the starch in the flour to sugar. This is then turned to alcohol and carbon dioxide gas.

This process is called fermentation. The gas bubbles through the dough, causing it to rise up in a fluffy, porous mass. Gluten, an elastic material in the dough, encloses the gas bubbles.

As the bread is baked, the alcohol and gas evaporate and the yeast plants are destroyed. But the light fluffy structure made by the gas bubbles remains, allowing the heat to thoroughly penetrate and cook the dough.

Making homemade bread is simple if you do it right. It is so delicious that many young cooks like to take a try at it.

We recommend following your cookbook directions closely and getting your mother's help and advice.

Remember that the yeast should be mixed with lukewarm water. If the water is too hot, the yeast plants are destroyed and then the bread can't rise.

FOR YOU TO DO: Pull apart a piece of bread and look into it with a magnifying glass if you have one. You can see the little holes made by the gas bubbles very clearly.

Vote to End Strike at Plant in Indiana

MARION, Ind. (AP) — Striking workers at the Dana Corp. plant voted Thursday to return to work after agreement was reached in a dispute over an employee's transfer.

A spokesman for Local 113 of the Allied Industrial Workers of America said the vote was "almost unanimous."

Plant manager William Schomburg said the plant would resume production immediately.

The walkout, called May 13, killed 850 workers and caused 13,000 employees of American Motors Corp. plants in Wisconsin to be furloughed.

'Ilyya' a Constant ShadowAlter Ego Pursues McCallum

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

PORTOFINO, Italy — David

McCallum was experiencing a rare moment of repose over dinner at an open-air restaurant in this jewel-like Mediterranean village.

"I have never been more tired in my life than I am at this moment," he announced.

At 9 that evening, he had THOMAS finished a day's shooting on his new movie, "Three Bites of the Apple." It is a spy chase which has had him racing over Italian scenery from here to Venice to the Alps, where he performed a strenuous fight with singer

Domenico Modugno at an 8,000-foot altitude.

But it seemed to be not merely physical fatigue that was afflicting him. He is pursued everywhere by his alter ego, Ilyya

Kuryakin, television's

PHOTOGRAPH

"Just before I went into the last scene tonight, an American tourist asked if I would pose for

back home,'" he sighed.

He remains grateful for Ilyya, who rocketed him to stardom in two television seasons. But he isn't quite sure how to cope with the clamorous following that he has attracted.

"After my last appearance at

Macy's in New York, I decided

I would do no more personal appearances in America," he reported. "Such things simply can't be controlled any more.

Why should I continue to run the risk of seeing people maimed and injured, including me?"

Then he went to England two

"Three Bites of the Apple." His

worse than Macy's!"

STILL UNKNOWN

He is still unknown to Italians, but that doesn't mean his privacy is preserved here. There are generally enough American and English tourists around to start a clamor.

As soon as McCallum finishes the film, he returns to MGM in Hollywood to commence 10 months of shooting

"U.N.C.L.E." The prospect of resuming the grind gave him a slight shudder.

"I seriously considered quitting," he admitted. "But if I quit the series, I would have given up acting altogether. There are other things I can do besides acting." He is a musician as well, and his album of orchestral numbers has been well-reviewed and purchased.

He finally decided against such a drastic course, and he will be returning to the rigors of portraying Ilyya. But he hopes to bring more sanity into his life.

"I have decided that all outstanding everything," he said.

The death rate for 1964 was 940 for each 100,000 of population.

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP) — Jefferson County Sheriff Celia Pritchard says she knows the identity of a white man who shot and wounded a Negro youth in Fayette Thursday night. But she declined to name him or to say whether charges were filed.

Mrs. Pritchard said the youth was en route to a civil rights meeting but did not disclose further details.

The FBI said its agents were investigating "to determine if there was a violation of federal law."

Bees Bumble Marigold Project

There's no longer any doubt how the bees got bumble in front of their name. At the Burpee Seed Company's Florida Farm in California the bees made such a bumble of things that for a while it was feared the whole F1 Hybrid Yellow Nugget Marigold project was going to stagnate in the hive.

Here's what happened. A few years ago Burpee's developed a dwarf hybrid marigold, only 12 in. high, with large flowers, up to 2 1/2 inches across. Because there has never been a dwarf hybrid marigold with big flowers and because of the tremendous demand for low-growing plants that have large flowers, they decided to go to work and perfect what was to become Yellow Nugget.

The bee problem all began because Yellow Nugget is a species hybrid, that is, a cross between a big large-flowered American marigold and a low-growing French marigold.

The trouble with the initial crossing procedure was that some seed produced the desired plants but some reverted to the bigger American types. This would have proven disastrous in the garden where the bigger ones would have stood out like green thumbs.

If the cross could have been made in this simple way the bees would never have staged their rebellion and Nugget would have arrived two years ago.

BEAT PROBLEM
To beat this problem it was decided to produce Nugget by using the regular French marigold for the father but to use a male sterile American Marigold for the mother. Burpee's had already used this procedure successfully for the popular Hybrid Zenith Zinnias.

Most flowers have both male and female parts. This makes hybridizing difficult because the flowers can pollinate themselves and the seed produced grows the same kind of plants.

The male sterile, by contrast, has no pollen and therefore can't be fertilized except by pollen from another flower. The male sterile appears in nature as a mutation, is almost colorless, has no petals and is completely female.

At this point Burpee's faced the second problem. It wasn't much of a problem compared to the one the queen bee created when she instigated the Great Bee Rebellion but, at the time, it seemed a tough bloom to open.

As mentioned, the male sterile is a mutation and the only way to get one is to twiddle your thumbs until nature produces it. David Burpee has always been a man of action and is the antithesis of a thumb-twiddler.

Besides, nature could have turned out to be even more uncooperative than the bees. Instead of waiting for the American marigold, that had been elected as a parent, to produce a male sterile Burpee decided to take a different variety, which had already yielded a male sterile, and remake it to fit the desired specifications. This was done and all the "bad" qualities were bred out of the line and all the "good" qualities were bred in.

Burpee's were now ready to begin production of Yellow Nugget seed. The result would be the first and only dwarf triploid F1 hybrid marigold. It would be early and everblooming. It would grow only 12 inches high and produce literally hundreds of 2 1/2 inch, double, carnation-like flowers per plant.

It would be virtually disease and insect free. It would be uniform and mound-shaped, spreading about 16 inches. Because it was a species hybrid it would, like the male, be unable to produce seed and all the plant's energy would go into making a profusion of bloom from early June until a killing frost. In short, a perfect plant for edgings, beds, borders, window boxes and pots.

At this point the bees upset the flower cart. The male sterile American marigold mother and the French marigold father were planted in alternate rows. The plants grew and were healthy. Two and a half million bees were brought to the fields. All that remained was for the bees to fit from flower to flower, carrying the pollen from the French to the American marigolds.

They didn't do it. The bees at Burpee's other fields were all working hard and meeting their quotas but the rebel colony at the Yellow Nugget fields had taken a holiday. They didn't flit from flower to flower. They just bumbled around irresponsibly, doing nothing.

It was decided that because the male sterile mother had no color, nectar, scent or pollen maybe the bees were just bored with it. To combat this possibility Burpee's started an incentive program. They sprayed all the mother plants with scents and honey solutions to entice the bees.

They were enticed. They came in like Genghis Khan and all his hordes. They sucked up the honey and fought for the best flowers.

There was one thing they refused to do. They refused to go to the French marigolds for pollen and carry it over to the American marigolds. In all fairness, it should be observed that through this period of bad labor relations a few conscientious bees did go about their business but there weren't enough of them to get the job done.

Finally the company ran ads for people who wanted to spend the summer being bees. They would have to do by hand what the bees could easily have done by foot. This proved costly, since bees are willing to work for room and board while people expect considerably more, but the job got done.

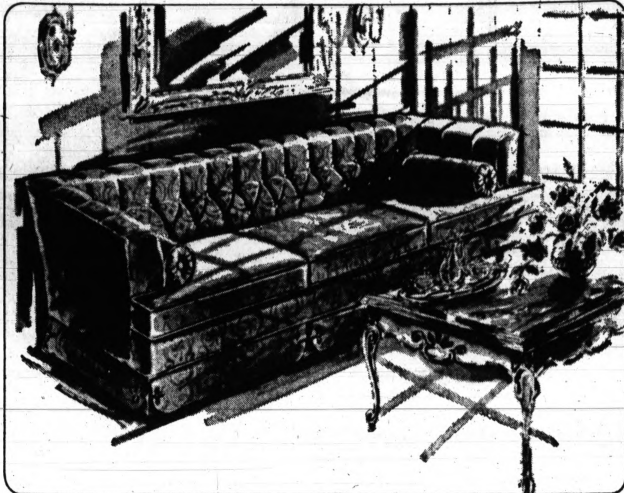

The bee rebellion has been very frustrating because, as anyone who's ever been stung knows, bees are extremely difficult to discipline.

Last year the Yellow Nugget production plots were completely isolated forcing the bees to live with the situation. This new arrangement proved better and many of the bees showed tendencies of increased cooperation. Burpee's think they are on the right road and hope to lick the problem in the near future.

Meanwhile, David Burpee who, as mentioned earlier, is not a thumb-twiddler, decided to go ahead with production on a hand pollination basis. As a result Yellow Nugget is now on the market for the first time and the advance reports indicate it'll be one of the most popular new varieties in many a year.

LET'S ENTERTAIN—All you'll need for this essence-of-springtime centerpiece are: three red tulips, four daffodils, and a half-dozen branch tips of forsythia, just coming to bloom. Cut stems short and include a little fresh foliage. A round, footed bowl used as centerpiece is in harmony with the tableware, though not an identical match. And a handful of small pebbles disguises the needle-point.

Executive Landscape Designed

The highly mobile state of some of the executives of many large corporations has caused nurserymen to work out practical landscaping plans for executives who may move to a new company location every few years or so.

Executives who move a great deal desire landscaping which is beautiful but they usually do not wish to install expensive long-range site development structures desired by more permanent home owners.

An answer to this problem has been worked out by nurserymen solely through the use of plants for beauty.

The plants generally are in shrub form, or small trees, flowering roses and other plants, some in containers to supply a well-landscaped look without becoming involved in extensive planning and structural work.

In this way, it is stated, the mobile executive can enjoy a more permanent home landscape look and comfort at very reasonable cost and he has received full value even though he has enjoyed it for only a few years.

Landscape Relates to Modern Gardens

"Isn't it possible that a garden or plaza or park or boulevard must finally be judged as an essay in the tenacity of the earth?" asks Elizabeth B. Kassler in her new book, "Modern Gardens and the Landscape."

The well-illustrated book emphasizes the relationship between the modern garden and the natural landscape.

Fertilizers More Potent for Lawns

The trend continues to high analysis lawn fertilizers, souped-up with just about every ingredient your turf may need. Proven lawngresses such as the fine fescues and Kentucky bluegrasses seldom suffer from minor nutrient deficiencies. The exception may be in highly alkaline soils.

There yellowing (chlorosis) may occur for want of sufficient iron. A very few lawngresses are quite touchy, such as centipede in the South. Centipede frequently suffers chlorosis because of minor imbalance when a fertilized more than lightly.

Though relatively few soils lack major nutrients, all lawns need the major ones—nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. Frequently secondary ones, too, sulfur, calcium and magnesium.

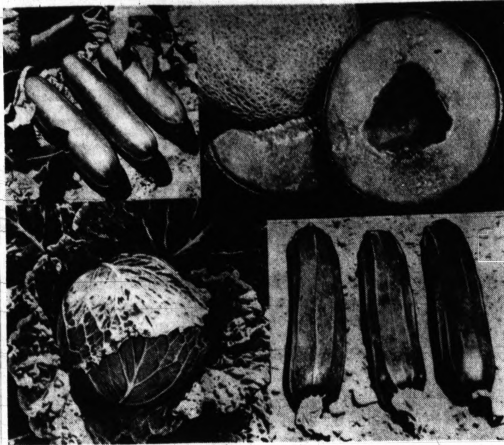

The vaulted blue-green of Highland bentgrass may prove less rich if the grass is not provided ample nitrogen. During the growing season bentgrass should have a pound of nitrogen per month for each thousand square feet of turf, of course in proper balance with other nutrients. Bluegrasses get by with only a third this much.

GOOD COVERAGE

The new high-analysis fertilizers give a lot of coverage—the sack goes two or three times as far as did the old garden type.

Formulations made especially for lawns are essentially non-burning. Of course if you spill mounds of anything—even limestone—you can kill the grass.

Established Lawns Do Resist Drought

Last year's drought and the seedlings become established.

Continuing national concern about water make people wonder whether or not they can ally themselves in dry shade, maintain a good lawn. Fortunately, well established grasses of the proper kind seldom die from drought. Of course they don't look their best if niggardly rainfall is not supplemented by irrigation, but underground parts survive, and of course they are better ways to control weeds and disease than drying up the lawn.

Fortunately, the recognized fine-textured lawngresses get along with only modest moisture.

Among the fine-textured grasses, the fine fescues stand out for adaptability to dry, poor soil conditions. As with any turfgrass, seed must receive moisture in order to sprout and not kill the grass, especially if it has been mowed considerably.

Bluegrass revives from the underground parts with the next soaking. Many times the revived grass is better than ever, the drought having been in a degree therapeutic, —i.e. it sets back weeds and disease more than it does the grass.

Of course there are better ways to control weeds and disease than drying up the lawn.

Grow Tasty Vegetables in Your Own Back Yard

It's enough to make your mouth water just to look at the pictures of these luscious vegetables (or do you contend that cantaloupe is a fruit?)

Did you know that you can grow them in your garden from seeds? Just order early and plant early so those taste buds will be satisfied.

These vegetables are a cucumber named Triumph, a cabbage named Savoy King, a squash called Chefini and that cantaloupe which is designated as Sampson.

Every one of them is a first generation hybrid and therefore possesses that important quality—hybrid vigor.

Triumph should be a boon to gardeners who have been troubled with cucumber diseases since it is resistant to cucumber mosaic and tolerant of downy mildew. It also is especially early in fruiting and has uniform 7 to 8 inch long fruits all season.

Savoy King is one of the family of beautiful curled and crimped leaved cabbages, a joy to grow and pick for the table because it is so lovely to look at.

MEDAL WINNER

This variety won a silver medal for its vigorous growth, high yield and the uniformity of its semi-fat heads.

Gardeners in the north can start seeds early in spring for a summer crop or in July for a fall crop. Southern gardeners can sow them the end of October for eating in May.

Chefini is a summer squash of the dark green Italian bush type. Its fruits look like Zucchini, slender and cylindrical, but they mature about a week earlier than those of Zucchini and keep on coming.

One feature of this new squash is that it may be eaten raw as an appetizer or in salads if picked while very young, for its skin is tender at that time.

Don't overplant this squash—a few plants are all you'll need unless you have an especially large family.

Sampson cantaloupe is another silver medal winner, resistant to two melon diseases—powdery mildew and fusarium wilt. Deep orange flesh in a slightly oval, 6-inches-across melon and above average sweetness (but not too sweet) should endear it to every melon lover.

This variety produces an unusually high number of fruits so, once again, don't overplant.

Painted Garden Tools

Save Needless Effort

Paint stripes on the handles of your garden hoe and trowels to indicate measures from 1 to 10 inches on up.

Saves carrying a measuring stick around with you when planting.

Experiments Produce Twice the Blooms

Nearly twice as many roses bloomed every month from May through November in an experimental planting in Texas treated three times each with fertilizer, mulch and fungicide, plus a root-starting solution at planting time.

The number of blooms totaled 235 for the season for the treated plots compared with 13 for untreated plots.

Seeds Make Centerpiece

A green centerpiece can be made from grapefruit seeds. Just plant the seeds thickly about a half-inch deep and keep well watered.

Seeds will sprout in about two weeks.

Newly-seeded lawn can be kept free of crabgrass with a chemical bearing the common name of siduron.

"Every Blooming Thing"

U.S. Is Best Landscaped Among World's Nations

A quick look at America's back yards proves that ours is the best landscaped nation in the world.

From California to the Carolinas a conscious effort reigns to create more beautiful grounds — to control and to maintain previously untamed land. According to a manufacturing company, who produces power mowers, this landscaping consciousness is pointed up dramatically in the power lawn equipment industry where a record shattering 4.7 million new mowers will be sold in 1966 — creating a mechanized lawn legion of more than 25-million machines.

Developing almost as rapidly as the annual sales, have been two distinct trends in the manufacture of power lawn mowers — safety and convenience.

Designing mowers with the safety of the operator and the convenience of the mower in mind, each manufacturer is attempting to produce a mower that will give him a greater share of the total sales.

Clinging Vines May Reduce Difficult Areas

Vines may help solve some of your landscaping problems. They may be used to advantage in areas difficult to tend, corners or slopes.

In your selection, be careful to choose those best suited for a particular area.

For instance, honeysuckle will spread widely unless it is planted where it will be confined by natural barriers, such as walks.

Vines have many uses. They often grow where grass will not flourish. Or they may be used as screening along fences or on lattices.

They help prevent soil erosion on slopes. Or a few vines may be planted in attractive containers to decorate a bare corner of a patio or porch.

Suggestions for planting in the south are bougainvillea, jasmine trumpet flower, mimosa, clematis, wintercreeper and honeysuckle.

Climbing hydrangea will do well in many parts of this country, as will others.

Some vines are selected for their flowers; others for colorful berries, such as pyracantha and hollies, or for foliage.

Safety will be sold on the 1966 models by all of the manufacturers who display the triangular Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI) Safety Seal on their mowers.

SPECIAL CARE

This will be indicating that they have taken special care to design their mowers to reduce the chances of injuries resulting from contact with moving parts of the machine or from any hurried objects.

Taking the lead on safety design, many manufacturers are including a grass catcher, which can contain many fast moving objects as well as grass, as standard equipment on their 1966 models.

Some feature a "stop go" control switch which stops or starts the machine with a flick of the operator's hand.

Already standard features on most mowers are safely located devices for adjusting the height of cutting blades. Instead of using the bar type cutting blade on its rotary models, one manufacturer employs four separate blades, each retractable when striking a solid object.

Still another safety convenience is a hole in the deck which allows the operator to safely wash out the mower underside with a garden hose while it is still running.

Although many of the safety features can also be considered convenience features, there are some unique features the consumer should look for in 1966. Many models will eliminate a lot of guessing with a gas gauge.

Most of the machines on the market this year have their controls within easy reach of the operator. One manufacturer has developed a fold-down handle that permits the mower to be stored in one-third the space it used to occupy.

GROWING TREND

Another rapidly growing trend in the power equipment industry is seen in the increased number of powered yard vehicles (tractors and riding mowers). Sales of tractors, alone, have increased 30 per cent over last year with a total of 180,000 units sold.

In 1966, industry wide sales of tractors will climb to 225,000 units, practically five times as many as were sold in 1961.

Although 85 per cent of all tractors are sold for rotary lawn mowing, one out of every three is sold with a snow thrower attachment.

The snow thrower, while being one of the more popular attachments, is only one of many number of cultivators, harrows, reel mowers, sickle bars, etc., that will transform the basic tractor into an all purpose piece of equipment for tackling year round grounds chores.

Dollar Outflow End Is Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler said today the United States means to end the dollar outflow without making U. S. tourists stay home, controlling capital or reducing American military forces overseas.

These and other harsh measures would hurt both the United States and "the economies, the aspirations and, indeed, the safety of all of the nations of the free world," Fowler said.

He called for more cooperation among free world nations on reform of the International Monetary System, reduction of tariffs and other trade barriers and aid to poor countries.

Fowler's appeal was contained in a speech prepared for the 12th annual monetary conference of the American Bankers Association at Granada, Spain. The text was made available here.

Attending the conference are many European bankers and public officials who are frankly skeptical about U. S. efforts to stop the dollar outflow and balance this country's international accounts.

Fowler conceded that the United States might have to forego eliminating its balance of payments deficit as long as the war in Viet Nam goes on. But ending the deficit is still the U. S. goal, he said.

Appointments Are Made on County Board

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, yesterday appointed four board members to fill seven existing vacancies on six supervisors' committees.

Elmer M. Wilnot of Pontiac was named to both the aviation committee and the special committee to study the possible acquisition of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

He replaces Edward A. Maier of Pontiac on both committees. Maier has resigned from the board.

Named as Maier's replacement on the building and grounds committee was Charles B. Edwards, Jr. of Madison Heights.

Edward R. Davies was appointed to the board of institutions replacing Robert A. Frye. Davies succeeded Frye this year as the Bloomfield Hills member of the board of supervisors.

ALSO NAMED

Also named to this committee was John Rusher of Royal Oak in place of Lee Walker of Madison Heights who was not reappointed to the board.

Philip E. Rowston of Pontiac was named to the intercounty committee in place of Maier and Davies replaces Walker on the local taxes committee.

Indonesians Take Peace Bid to Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said today a surprise visit by an Indonesian military delegation to Kuala Lumpur promises an end to the 3-year-old undeclared war between the two countries.

"You now can see the ending of the confrontation," Razak said after talks with the delegation of eight high officers.

The Indonesians came to Kuala Lumpur today to complete preparations for peace talks between Razak and Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik which start in Bangkok, Thailand Monday.

The visit was "definitely created a very congenial and happy atmosphere" for the meeting, Razak said, adding the Indonesians now "are ready to make peace and end confrontation."

"COMPLETE CONFIDENCE" "They have put complete confidence in us," he said, pointing to the fact that most of the officers in the delegation came from the staff of the "Crush Malaysia" command.

The group, led by Rear Adm. O. B. Sjaaf and Brig. Gen. Kemal Idris of Kogam, brought it a message of good wishes and good will to Malaysian government leaders.

Malaysian officials embraced the Indonesians as they stepped off their plane and then took them to Razak. The Indonesian officers later flew to the northern city of Alor Star to meet with Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman who is vacationing there.

Hundreds of policemen guarded Kuala Lumpur's Subang Airport as the Indonesians arrived. More than a thousand spectators came to see them.

FIRST IN 3 YEARS

The officers are believed to be the first Indonesian officials to visit Malaysia since President Sukarno launched his campaign to crush the new federation of former British territories three years ago.

A foreign ministry spokesman told newsmen: "The visit is a significant step in the progress toward the ending of the Indonesian confrontation against Malaysia followed by the restoration of friendly ties between the two nations."

Sukarno had charged Malaysia was a device to maintain British power in Southeast Asia and thus a threat to Indonesia. Western observers generally considered Sukarno most feared Malaysia would block his ambitions to dominate the area.

Indonesian guerrilla raids across the border between Indonesian and Malaysian Borneo and the infiltration of guerrillas into the Malaysian peninsula came to a halt after an unsuccessful Communist coup in Indonesia last Oct. 1. The current peace campaign was initiated by the Indonesian Army leaders who took over Sukarno's powers in February.

Dominican Parties Discuss Merger to Pool Votes Against Bosch

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Negotiations are under way for the withdrawal of Rafael F. Bonnelly from next Wednesday's presidential election so his followers can support Dr. Joaquin Balaguer, reliable sources said today. An announcement on the result of the talks between the Movement of National Integration, backing Bonnelly, and Balaguer's Reformist Party is expected within the next two days. The talks began three days ago. Proponents of the merger believe it would insure Balaguer's victory over the other leading candidate, Juan Bosch of the Dominican Revolutionary Party. But supporters of Bosch are confident he can defeat Balaguer even if the latter gets the support of Bonnelly's followers.

Bosch so far has not touched on the subject in his speeches, but his aides said he plans to call on Balaguer to collaborate with him if he wins.

Bosch won the last presidential election in 1962 but was deposed by the military after serving only eight months. The bloody April 1963 revolution was launched in his name but did not restore him to the presidency. A provisional government was installed by the Organization of American States after U.S. Marines intervened.

Teachers OK Ecourse Strike

ECORSE (UPI)—Teachers in the Ecourse school system yesterday voted by more than a 5-1 margin to authorize their union representative to set a strike date.

The vote of 144-26 authorized the Ecourse Federation of Teachers to set the date if negotiations with the school board are not resolved soon.

Before class yesterday morning, 106 teachers picketed outside the school board to protest the failure of the board to settle the negotiations.

Science for You

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: An Unusual Touch Sensation. NEEDED: Two people.

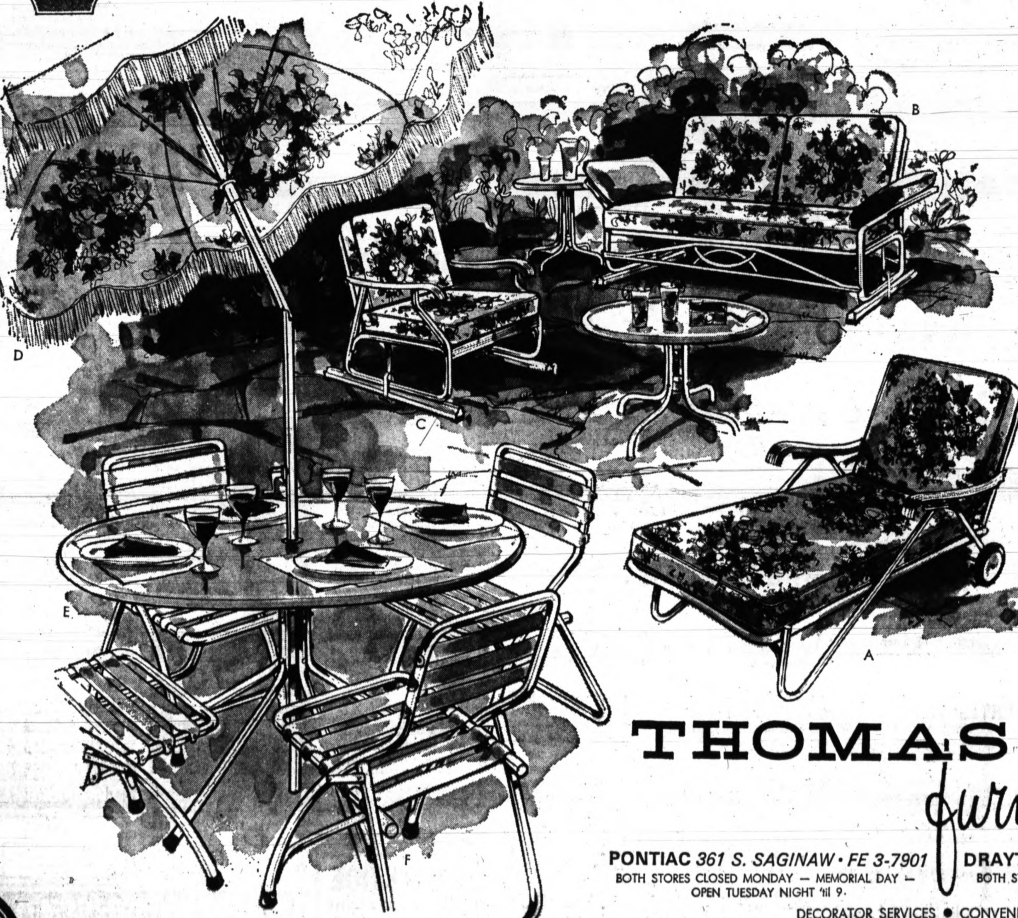

DO THIS: Hold fingers as shown in the diagram and rub them with the finger and thumb. The feeling will be a totally unfamiliar one.

HERE'S WHY: For years we have grown accustomed to touching our bodies in various ways and getting the same sensations each time. If the other person's finger is inserted in a place where we are accustomed to feeling our own finger, the difference in the pattern of feeling registered in our brain is quite astonishing. We are all creatures of habit and one of our important habits involves our consistent and dependable sense of touch. In this experiment we are playing a trick on our sense of touch.

A collection of these experiments can be found in your bookstore. The name of the book is Science Circus No. 2.

Milliken Says He'll Run for Second Term

LANSING (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken announced for reelection today but wouldn't be drawn into speculation about how any presidential drive by Gov. George Romney might affect his job.

Romney has endorsed Milliken for a second term.

Under Michigan election law, they will run as a team, winning or losing as one.

Milliken was asked if he expected to serve as acting governor increasingly more often during 1967 and 1968, but said he saw no evidence at this time that he would.

Romney is considered a prime Republican presidential possibility in 1968 but refuses to speculate on the matter.

'COMMITMENT'

Milliken, explaining why he was seeking a second term instead of a U.S. Senate seat, said, "I made a commitment to state government in 1960."

"I intend to stay here in Michigan at least for a long time in the foreseeable future."

He observed that "lieutenant governors, like vice presidents, sometimes are looked upon like spare tires—necessary but not important except in cases of emergency."

Press High School Writers Feted at Awards Banquet

High school correspondents were honored last night by The Pontiac Press at an awards banquet at Oakland University.

The 36 correspondents submit the weekly columns which appear on The Press' Tuesday and Friday school news pages.

Following a talk on "Journalism as a Career" by Harry J. Reed, managing editor, John W. Fitzgerald, editor, awarded gold pins inscribed "Pontiac Press Correspondent" to each of the teen-agers.

Mrs. Jody Headlee, school page editor, coordinated the evening's activities.

Pins and year guards, signifying two years as a correspondent, were presented Jamie Schutt, Kathy Morgan, Cathy Richardson, Jean Priestley, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Sunny, Cool Weekend Due

The U.S. Weather forecasts a partly sunny and cool weekend. Temperatures are expected to register from a low of 44 to a high of 72, the bureau reported. The daily breakdown looks like this:

FRIDAY — Partly cloudy with scattered showers or thunderstorms ending this evening with southwest 20-mile-per-hour winds today and northerly tonight. Low will fall to 44 to 50.

SATURDAY — Partly cloudy and cool with highs climbing to 67 to 72.

SUNDAY — Partly sunny and cool, not much change in temperature.

Police Hike Traffic Force for Weekend

Pontiac area law enforcement officials are readying themselves for the annual influx of Memorial Day traffic on Oakland County roads.

State Police have scheduled beefed-up road patrols both for stiffer law enforcement and traffic assistance.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons and Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger each sounded warnings to motorists taking the highways for the three-day weekend.

"If you've got a long trip, make sure and start early," Irons advised, "and take a break every two hours or so."

"A tired driver is not a good one."

'DIFFERENCE'

Hanger urged drivers to keep in mind the difference between high-speed expressway-driving and motoring on city streets.

"Kids will be everywhere over the holiday," he said, "and it will take extra attention by drivers to keep our streets safe."

State Osteopath Chief Hits School Criticism

Dr. Philip Adler, DO, president of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, today voiced disagreement to a statement issued yesterday by the Oakland County Medical Society, which claimed that all 35 state colleges in Michigan will suffer if the new osteopathic medical school in Pontiac materializes.

The Oak Park osteopath referred to the medical society statement as "very shallow."

He said the real issue at stake is the state's dire need for new medical school facilities to alleviate a shortage of doctors and, subsequently, provide better health care for residents of Michigan.

Yesterday's statement was made by W. W. Henderson, MD, of Royal Oak, president of the Oakland County Medical Society.

Dr. Henderson had stated that another state-supported college would divert funds from all other schools in the state, pointing out the millions of dollars it would require to build and maintain the proposed osteopathic college.

Interpreting Dr. Henderson's statement, Dr. Adler said: "Then there should be no expansion of anything."

"We can't stay at status quo. We have to continue to take care of the needs of the Michigan community."

Dr. Adler emphasized that previous state studies indicated Michigan needed two new medical schools — one of which could be an osteopathic college — in addition to expansion of present facilities at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Dr. Adler said that prior to 1959, when the U.S. surgeon general issued a comprehensive report calling for 21 new medical schools in the country, there hadn't been a new medical (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Heart Attack Kills Legislator Fleeing Blaze

16 Lawmakers Among Scores Routed; Leap Hospitalizes Woman

LANSING (AP) — A fire in a downtown hotel early today routed scores of guests, including about 16 state legislators.

One of the legislators—State Sen. William Romano, 55, D-Warren, suffered a fatal heart attack.

Romano, who had been in the Legislature since 1944, had emerged onto the sidewalk in front of the Roosevelt Hotel when he suddenly collapsed.

An ambulance crew standing by immediately administered oxygen. But Romano was dead on arrival at St. Lawrence Hospital, said Ingham County Coroner Dorwin Hoffmeyer.

The fire gutted rooms in one wing of the fifth floor of the hotel. Most of the legislators were on the seventh floor.

JUMPED 4 FLOORS
Miss Margaret Sawaya, about 35, originally from Toledo, Ohio, jumped four floors to a roof from her room adjacent to where the fire began.

She was hospitalized in undetermined condition.

Lansing Fire Chief Mark Keeney said the fire began when a hotel guest fell asleep while smoking.

Keeney estimated damage to the 40-year-old building at $25,000.

LEGISLATOR IN HOSPITAL

Mahoney, who is blind, had been led from his room by Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, and reportedly was unharmed by the experience.

The guest whom Keeney said was smoking, J.C. McDaniels of Lansing, was treated for smoke inhalation.

Most of the legislators said they had been awakened by the smell of smoke rising from the fire below them.

'WOKE HIM UP'

"My room adjoins Mahoney's," said Ryan. "I got awake, then woke him up."

"We opened the door into the hall and there was a lot of smoke, so we went back into the room. The floor was getting a little on the hot side."

"I looked out the window and saw the fire engines."

"We didn't want to open the door and I didn't want to start down the hall the wrong way."

Ky, Rival Hold Secret Meeting

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky met secretly under U.S. auspices today with his arch-rival, leader of the dissident troops in the northern provinces.

Both Ky and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi flew in U.S. planes to their surprise confrontation at the American Marine base at Chu Lai amid a wave of speculation that the 35-year-old premier was moving toward a showdown with his Buddhist and military opponents in Hue.

There was no comment from either of the generals.

But in Hue, the Buddhist bastion, U.S. planes evacuated 45 American and other foreign civilians, and Hue's pro-government mayor moved with 1,000 loyal troops to a fortified headquarters five miles southeast of the city.

Ky met with the man he fired as commander of the army's 1st Corps last March 10 at the U.S. 1st Marine Division's headquarters at Chu Lai, 45 miles south of Hue.

U.S. officials apparently guaranteed Thi's safety for the meeting. They have been playing a backstage diplomatic role in an effort to bring the feuding Vietnamese together and get the war against the Communists going again at full strength.

Ky, who flew north earlier in the day, also made an appearance in Da Nang. He defended the crushing of the revolt there and declared: "I'm ready to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Injuries Are Fatal to Birmingham Man Hit by Car

A Birmingham man died in Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, yesterday of injuries received Wednesday morning when he was struck by a car on Woodward near 14 Mile.

Police said Harry Marshall, 75, of 1995 Sheffield walked directly into the path of a car driven by James D. Slaughter, 20, of Ferndale.

Slaughter, who was not held, told police he was unable to avoid hitting the man.

Marshall told police on the way to the hospital he did not see the car, and he thought he had fallen.

Although the weatherman promised a sunny day, a threat of rain prevailed as the first foursome left the tee at 10 a.m.

Of the 20 teams in the tourney, 12 are competing in the Class A division and eight in the B-C, although a team from either division may win the over-all honors.

The teams play 18 holes' medal play over the 6,305-yard, par-72 PCC layout.

Defending champion Bloomfield Hills, winner of four of the past five events, is a slight favorite to take its fifth title and third in a row. CHALLENGERS

Chief challengers are Pontiac Central, Waterford, Kettering and Walled Lake.

The winners of the two divisions plus the tournament medalist will receive awards at a banquet at PCC immediately after play ends.

Romney Pleads for Holiday Safety

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney urged motorists to drive with headlights on during daylight hours over the Memorial Day weekend.

In his plea for safe driving over the weekend, Romney said:

"Turn your headlights on during daylight hours as a reminder of the potential accident problem and a signal to others to drive carefully always."

Romney noted that fatal highway accidents so far this year are up nearly 100 from last year and asked motorists not to let inattention mar their driving.

"What better reminder do we need than the 2,129 persons killed in our state last year . . . to alert motorists of the lurking dangers resulting from careless driving," Romney said.

State Police, meanwhile, asked motorists to drive at reasonable speeds at all times over the weekend and to be especially careful when driving after dark.

WORST CAUSES
High speed and the extra hazards of night driving rank among the worst contributing causes to the state accident rate, police said.

Four airplanes will be used to keep Memorial Day weekend motorists informed on road, park and resort-area travel conditions, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

The auto club said the aerial reporting is part of its "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" Holiday News Service.

July Draft Call to Triple June's

Oakland County's draft call for the month of July will nearly triple the total for the previous month, according to an announcement from Selective Service headquarters in Lansing.

The July quota is 243. In June, only 87 men are to be called.

The increased total came along with instructions from state director, Col. Arthur A. Holmes that local draft boards review all college students' deferments, "particularly to weed out part-time students" from the deferred list.

Of the Oakland total, 25 men will be called by Board-65 in Pontiac; 35 by Board-67 in the southwestern sector of the county; and 40 by Board-331 from northern Oakland County.

In addition, Farmington Board 328 is scheduled to take in 52 men and the three Royal Oak boards will call 91.

James Madison, in 1915, signed for Georgetown University the first Congressional charter to an institution of learning in the U.S.

Tentative Approval to Weakened Measure

LANSING (AP) — After trimming out a section which would have allowed counties to levy any tax except an income tax, the House gave preliminary approval Thursday to a county home rule proposal.

Only the power to levy property taxes was left in the bill, and several legislators contended no county would be interested in trying home rule unless taxing powers were broader.

The home rule bill, designed to allow county governments to streamline their operations, was amended more than 15 times in four hours of debate. The bill already has taken 16 months of committee work.

One package of amendments spelled out one man-one vote districting procedures for boards of supervisors in home-rule counties.

The taxing section also was the subject of one hour's debate Wednesday. Opponents of the broad tax powers originally in the bill contended they could lead to a hedge-podge in which one county would tax lipstick, another would tax soft drinks, and so on.

Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, said he would try to work out proposals for uniform excise taxes which the Legislature might provide for home rule counties next year.

"I doubt if counties will choose to set up county home rule now," said Rep. Bobby Grim, D-Detroit. "There is no assurance the Legislature will give them more taxing power."

The Senate already has passed the county home rule bill, but in much different form. Rep. Francis Beeson, D-Muskegon, a chief backer of home rule, was optimistic the Senate would agree to the House version.

Needs Blood Desperately

A young leukemia victim who has used 86 pints of blood in the last three months is in desperate need of an additional supply.

The plea for blood donors was made in behalf of a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Persons wishing to donate blood can do so by contacting the Oakland County chapter of the American Red Cross, 118 Franklin.

To insure that the blood is credited to the right person, donors should indicate that it is to go to the Carolyn Carr Chapter of the Children's Leukemia Foundation.

Plans for East Wing of Courthouse OK'd

Plans and specifications for the proposed $3-million east wing to the courthouse were approved yesterday by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Bids on the project, however, probably won't be taken until late August, according to Luther Heacock, chairman of the supervisors' buildings and grounds committee.

Heacock noted that lease agreements with the county building authority on the building will occupy and the building itself must be approved by the supervisors. This is expected at a meeting late next month.

Then, the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission will be asked to authorize the bond sale which is expected to take another two months.

Joseph Joachim, director of engineering for the county, estimated that construction would be under way by the end of September.

38 MONTHS
Completion of the wing, which will be similar in size to the present west wing, will take about 18 months, Joachim said. Remodeling of the existing courthouse tower, a $450,000 project planned in conjunction with the wing addition, will begin when the wing is completed and will require about six months for completion.

Month-Long Space Spectacular Ending

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 9 spacecraft has gone through three practice countdowns to enable technicians to check its complex electronic systems and inflight procedures.

At another pad a moon lander Surveyor craft was hoisted toward the tip of the Gemini booster rocket as the space agency headed for an end of the month spectacular.

Backup astronaut James A. Lovell Jr., a Navy captain, and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., an Air Force major, were at the controls for Thursday's tests.

They took over to give prime pilots Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene E. Cernan time to rehearse what Stafford calls a "far more challenging" flight plan than originally was slated before their Agena target satellite plopped into the Atlantic May 17, ruling Gemini 9's first try.

DETAILED REVIEW
For Air Force Lt. Col. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Cernan, who plan to chase a substitute target satellite into space Tuesday, Thursday's activities consisted of a detailed review of their revised flight plan and several hours inside a practice capsule.

Meantime, technicians raised a spiderlike Surveyor spacecraft to the top of its 11-story tall Atlas-Centaur rocket. The spindly Surveyor is due to blast off at 10:30 a.m. (EDT) Monday to begin a 60-hour, 230,000-mile trip to the surface of the moon.

Just before it arrives, a set of braking rockets hopefully will fire so Surveyor's padlike feet can set gently on the moon.

On this first Surveyor mission, project officials said they would consider the shot a success if they can get past a complicated midcourse maneuver.

Vietnamese forces reported three fights in the Mekong River delta in which 74 Viet Cong were killed. But in another delta action, they took a heavy toll when two battalions of Viet Cong — about 600 men — hit two Vietnamese outposts and a government battalion. Eventually the attackers were driven off by air support.

MEETING SET
Pontiac School Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said he would arrange a meeting this afternoon between parents and school officials to discuss the matter.

On hand for the demonstration were civil rights leaders from various groups.

The students have presented school officials with a nine-point plan they say will correct problems at the school.

Dr. Adler also replied to a remark of Dr. Henderson which stated that the school would be isolated from any large university and, in my opinion, we should not deprive the medical student of the beneficial contact with the various departments of the large universities, learning him educationally.

Dr. Adler said there are many medical schools that are far apart from the university which they are affiliated with, offering Cornell University as an example.

According to Dr. Adler, Cornell's main campus at Ithaca, N.Y., is about 300 to 250 miles from the university's medical school in New York City.

SFFILIATION
He also disclosed that an attempt is being made to obtain a university affiliation for the proposed osteopathic college.

Dr. Adler said, however, that this is "not absolutely necessary," printing out that many fine medical schools do not have university affiliations.

Dr. Henderson noted that Michigan has had voted for a school with osteopathy, but that establishing a new school in Pontiac would be "a backward step."

Observing that 89 per cent of practicing osteopathic physicians in Michigan indicated they were against amalgamation in a recent survey, Dr. Adler asserted that a merger of the groups would not produce a single new physician in the state.

"They want a merger," he said, "but they don't say why. It won't alter the fact that there is a shortage of doctors."

Teachers' Group, Board to Continue Negotiation

BIRMINGHAM — Negotiations will continue tonight between the Birmingham Education Association and the Board of Education at 7:30 in the Hill Building.

The BEA met yesterday to discuss taking salary grievances directly to the people, but no information was available on the decisions or outcome of the meeting.

Teachers have threatened to withdraw their services to the school system next fall if a contract agreement has not been successfully concluded by then.

Three Birmingham area cadets were commissioned 2nd lieutenants at ROTC graduation ceremonies this week at Michigan State University.

The Army cadets are: J. Michael Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Holman, 7004 Cathedral, Bloomfield Hills; and Richard B. Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Morrow, 4067 Fair Hill Drive, Bloomfield Township.

Cadet Charles R. Chadwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Chadwick, 948 Wakefield, Birmingham, received an Air Force commission in the ceremony.

Seventy-eight ROTC graduates, 47 Army and 31 Air Force, participated in the ceremonies, which marked the end of four years of officer training on the MSU campus.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — New officers of the Overbrook Homeowners Association have recently been elected.

They are: Fred Trow, president; Mrs. W. R. Small, first vice president; F. D. Hendrick Jr., second vice president; Duane Freese, third vice president; and James Groves, treasurer.

Groves, Freese and Mrs. Small were elected to three-year terms on the board of directors.

Elected to two-year terms were Jack Cochran, Oscar Messey, and Hendrick.

Elected to one-year terms were Harold Turner, Dewey Ott, and Freese.

The membership will meet June 8 at the Birmingham First Federal Savings and Loan. Among topics for discussion will be the plans for a recreational park.

FILED COMPLAINT
Mrs. Herron is reported to have filed a complaint with the Civil Rights Commission.

About 60 per cent of the 380 students enrolled at the school are Negroes.

Wiersema denied that he had mistreated the girl when he attempted to break up a fight between her and another pupil.

He said that she kept striking him and carried an instrument that looked like a stove used in an umbrella.

Cheer Romney's Third-Term Bid

Although it was not unexpected, Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY's announcement of his candidacy for a third gubernatorial term comes as good news for those who have Michigan's best interests at heart.

ROMNEY would be the first to disclaim sole credit for the remarkable progress the State has made since he took office in 1963. But the fact remains that the deficit of $80 million he inherited from 14 years of Democratic administration today stands as a $130 million surplus.

ROMNEY

Moreover, this outstanding fiscal turnaround was not achieved at the expense of government services or neglect of obligations. Romney can point to a 91 per cent increase in state aid to education; reorganization of mental health programs with a 47 per cent increase in their support; and citizens' programs in the areas of juvenile delinquency, senior citizens and civil rights.

Because ROMNEY's policies reflect governmental and social progress keyed to fiscal realism, opponents will be hard put to pick flaws in his over-all administration and philosophy of government. The Governor's own words are a fitting summation of his stewardship when he said that he believes he has done "the best possible job . . . in the interest of all."

The Press acclaims Gov. ROMNEY's decision to stand for reelection and congratulates the citizenry of Michigan on his availability.

Appeal of Municipal Judges Should Be Heard

Few will question the justice of the request by the City's two municipal judges that a third one be added to the municipal court bench.

It goes without saying that as the population of the Pontiac area has increased the case load of the municipal court has mounted commensurably. And, sad to relate, the continuous rise in the national and local crime rate has further swollen the dockets of the two courts.

Since 1956, the Oakland County Circuit Court panel has increased from four judges to seven, with two more to be added next year. Meanwhile the municipal court has struggled along with two judges for 15 years.

The third judge would actually involve little expense for Pontiac taxpayers, since it would enable the municipal court to handle some 9,000 civil cases now being heard annually in township justice courts to lighten the load of the local bench. The revenue from these cases together with an increase in filing fees would net the municipal court additional annual revenue of $61,000.

Procedure for increasing the municipal bench calls for primary approval by the city commission or an initiatory petition by the citizenry, followed by a vote on the proposal. If the measure is thus qualified, it would undoubtedly be included on the Aug. 2 primary ballot.

Judges MAURICE E. FINNEGAN and CECIL B. MCCALLUM have done an outstanding job in coping with the demands of their courts. The community can show its appreciation of their efforts by supporting them in their call for help.

Will the 'Girls' Vent Pent-Up Feminine Fury?

The Environmental Science Services Administration has announced the girls' names by which the United States will identify hurricanes in 1966.

There are 42 in all, divided equally between storms in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico and those of the eastern North Pacific.

For the former, the names are: Alma, Becky, Celia, Dorothy, Ella, Faith, Greta, Hallie, Inez, Judith, Kendra, Lois, Marsha, Noreen, Orpha, Patty, Rena, Sherry, Thora, Vicky and Wilna.

It's inevitable that we will come to know some of these names better than we have any desire to, but we can at least hope that as few as possible of these temperamental, unpredictable and destructive gals show up for their dates with the weathermen this summer.

Moment of Truth for Guidelines

By STERLING F. GREEN
 WASHINGTON (P) — The administration's wage-price guidelines may be headed for extensive alterations or the scrap heap.

That's the judgment of some labor-management relations experts who have good administration contacts.

Their opinions cannot be documented officially because the Johnson administration, until it has a better stabilization device to offer as a substitute, is bound to insist 3.2 per cent is now and ever shall be a reasonable, fair and noninflationary wage increase.

Nevertheless the search for a better device or a revised formula has begun. That's the job for which President Johnson recently revived the Labor-Management Advisory Committee. He asked its advice on how to "cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy."

Labor has repudiated the "voluntary" guidelines. In effect the guidelines impose a ceiling on workers' wages, the unions say, while allowing price and corporation profits to soar.

COMPROMISE SOLUTION
 Can a better, but still voluntary way be found—one acceptable to both labor and management?

Some clue may come June 3, when the 21-member committee — seven members each from industry, labor and the public — holds its second meeting in the offices of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, the chairman.

A six-member working subcommittee—

two leaders from each of the three sides —then will report on progress.

There are indications that hard, sincere effort is being poured into the search by the unseen but influential six. Only the labor pair has been identified. They are AFL-CIO President George Meany and United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel. Presumably the management men have equal stature in industry; if they come up with an idea, they will be listened to.

TWO HARDEST MEN
 Perhaps Meany and Abel will be the two men hardest to satisfy. Labor has come to feel it was sold an unintentional bill of goods when President John F. Kennedy posed the guidelines.

Now, in the fifth year of an unprecedented five-year boom, things have heated up. The price creep has become a trot, and profits have set records.

As the guidelines have come to be interpreted, the gains in worker productivity over the past five years should have led to a wage guideline increase from 3.2 per cent to 3.6 per cent this year.

But the White House is sticking to the 3.2 formula, even as the Labor Department reports the real spendable earnings of factory workers have declined over the past year because of price rises.

So the AFL-CIO has served notice it will hit henceforth for everything it can get, unless there is assurance of some effective restraint on prices and profits. That poses the threat of a real price-wage spiral unless the labor-management advisers bring in some bright ideas soon.

Dreams Of An Island Paradise

David Lawrence Says:

Viet War Is Clouding Economy

WASHINGTON — Uncertainty is one of the biggest factors that disturbs business. It affects not only long-range but current planning.

For many months now, uncertainty about the future of the Viet Nam situation has been hanging over the cloud like a whole economy.

LAWRENCE

Chairman William McCleskey Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, in a speech this week before the International Bankers Conference in Madrid, declared that basic decisions on the Viet Nam war constitute "the critical issue and the major problem" for the American economy.

President Johnson, himself, has said he is trying to avoid a tax increase and wage-and-price controls.

Coincidentally, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has just made a speech in New York City which clarifies the American position and should have a decisive influence in bringing the Viet Nam problem closer to an early solution than was deemed possible a few weeks ago.

For the United States has recently cleared up many things. One of them is that America is not going to be swayed by the internal friction in South Viet Nam and intends to continue to protect that country against aggression.

More important, however, is what Rusk has said to the rest of the world about the American position. His statement should remove all doubts that recent events would cause the United States policy to waver or perhaps bring about a withdrawal.

The more the United States government emphasizes to the rest of the world that it is determined, no matter how long a time is required, to attain the objectives of its policy in Southeast Asia, the sooner will the North Vietnamese realize that it is futile for them to continue their aggression and that they would fare much better if an honorable peace settlement is achieved.

Air Transport Exec Talk on UFOs Is Provocative

NEW YORK — This reporter's years of hoots against flying saucers suffered a nasty setback here at the national convention of the Aviation and Space Writers Association.

The new boss of the world's top airline body swore he believed in them.

That's what Kunt Hammarikjold, 44-year-old nephew of the late secretary general to the U.N., told a room of writers, Air Force officers and industry people.

When there was no immediate response, but only embarrassment for him, Hammarikjold asked two hypothetical questions:

● What makes us so sure that only the earth, among the countless millions of heavenly bodies, is occupied?

● Could it be that we have come under observation only recently because only now are we beginning to venture in space ourselves?

He anticipates no early arrival of regular space shuttles at the Pan Am building's towering heliport, but concluded, "It is certainly something serious consideration in the future."

Complex Control

The Wall Street Journal

According to Agriculture Secretary Freeman, the recent 15 per cent increase in wheat acreage allotments signals a "new era" in agriculture. It's difficult, however, to see how the situation has changed substantially.

True, the Government's surplus boards of most farm commodities have decreased. But a major factor in these declines has been poor agricultural planning in India and other less-developed nations, rather than any brilliant thinking in Washington.

While the Government, to its credit, is putting increased emphasis on self-help measures in the less-developed

'Policeman's Sworn Duty Is to Arrest Offenders'

I am writing to commend your recent editorial on police brutality. A police officer cannot look the other way when an offense happens. It is his sworn duty to arrest the offender and bring him before a court of law to be judged.

As it was stated, a policeman cannot bow to lawbreakers who feel the best thing to do when apprehended is to strike the officer. If the officer defends himself and subdues the lawbreaker he is ridiculed and called brutal.

If more people took the attitude you have on this subject and realized a policeman's job is to protect all of the people, my job would be less complicated.

It's too bad when students whose parents try to teach them that honesty is the best policy are punished for an unexcused "Senior Skip Day" and Seniors whose parents said they were 'sick' get off scot free. I'm told that the students should have asked permission to have a skip day and then go on a picnic with teachers in attendance. This is "skipping" school?

"Skip Day" has become a tradition, just like the Senior Prom and a fitting climax to twelve years of hard work. Every year Seniors keep up the tradition, authorized or not, and even when threatened with not graduating. Why don't both sides get together and reach an agreement? Or would this take all the fun out of it?

lands, their demands for imports from the U.S.—subsidized or otherwise—seems sure to continue large for some time. Since other demands also are strong, this would seem a fine time to begin moving agriculture back toward a free market.

The Government of course, plans nothing as revolutionary as that. Washington instead intends to stay firmly in the farm business, fiddling with its array of complex and coercive controls to try to gear output to the ups and downs of demand. That prospect would not be quite so depressing if there were any indication that the Federal planners have become any more adept at managing farming than they have been right along. As it is, rising acreage yields and the vagaries of weather promise to continue to confound the controllers' efforts.

Insofar as the farm programs help anyone, moreover, the chief beneficiaries still will be the large operators who least need assistance. Furthermore, the political cast of the entire enterprise certainly hasn't changed; the White House fanfare for the wheat acreage boost was plainly aimed at placating farmers irritated by Federal moves to limit some farm price increases.

To the Agriculture Department all of this may add up to a new era. To some of us, however, it seems but a sorry extension of the old.

'Reunited' Well Matched: Both Out of Their Minds

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The talk at Sardi's was about a famous producer and his estranged wife who are reported getting back together.

"But why are they reconciling?" somebody asked.

"Because," somebody else answered "they're perfectly matched — they're both out of their minds."

"Who's So-and-so with?" I whispered, pointing.

"With his wife—sorry to disappoint you!" Bacall said.
