New Evidence Points to Decline in Smoking

SADISTIC REVENGE — Ten rebels, captured by villagers in northeastern Congo, are shown being stomped to death in retaliation for having butchered two live women in front of the village just two days before. The photo, taken last month, was just released in Brussels. (See story, Page 13).

Seek to Settle Dock Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Associates of Thomas W. Gleason, head of the Longshoremen's Union, say he will seek meetings of all the union's locals here today or tomorrow in efforts to end the two-coast dock strike.

They said Gleason would try to "sell" the proposed New York contract which was rejected by the union members, and get another vote on it.

The rejection was a major factor in triggering the strike by the 60,000 - member union which went into effect in most ports from Maine to Texas at 12:01 a.m. (EST) today.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, who had been trying to prevent the strike, scheduled a meeting here today with the union's 23-men executive council.

Gleason called in the union officials from the affected ports for what he described as a strategy meeting.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds went to Washington last night to report to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

OCTOBER WALKOUT

The walkout, in effect, is a resumption of the one-day walkout last Oct. 1 when the work contract expired.

At that time, President Johnson invoked the Taft-Hartley Act and a federal court injunction sent the men back to work during an 80-day cooling-off period.

The government's injunctive power now is exhausted.

★ ★ ★

The White House gave no indication of any presidential action in the new strike. Informed sources in Washington said President Johnson probably would act only if it appeared there would be an immediate crippling of the national economy.

OVERTIME PAY

Extra longshoremen were employed in New York and several other ports at weekend overtime pay rates to speed passenger and cargo ships to sea before the strike deadline. More than 20 ships left the port of New York Sunday.

Scores of ships were stranded in various ports, however.

The strike resulted primarily from the action of New York members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association in rejecting the proposed contract with the New York Shipping Association.

Agreements reached between the ILA and the association, which represents 145 shipping and stevedoring companies, traditionally set the pattern for contracts in other ports.

CONTROL DISPUTES

There also were contract disputes on local issues in several

Crewmen Burned to Death in Ohio Crash

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Two heavy freight trains collided and burst into flames at a crossing today killing five—and possibly six—crewmen.

Three bodies were pulled from the smoldering wreckage and at least two were still pinned there.

Picture, Page 2

The state highway patrol, which had listed six deaths earlier, said a third body might still be in the wreckage.

The crash shook houses nearby in Sterling, where the Erie Lackawanna Railroad double main line crossed tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

The four-diesel unit of the B&O, pulling 107 freight cars, was moving slowly into the track intersection when the Erie engine — also a four-diesel unit —collided with it.

Chester Winkler, fire chief at Sterling, which is 35 miles southwest of Cleveland, was awakened by the crash, less than 200 feet from his house.

FLAMES SHOOTING

"I looked out and saw flames shooting 100 to 150 feet in the air," he said. The chief said there were four or five explosions and "I figured I couldn't get my men close for a while."

It was several hours before the fire was controlled.

The only survivor was 54-year-old Clyde H. Masters of Marion, Ohio, an Erie brakeman. He was thrown clear.

"I heard a crash, and the next thing I knew I was flying through the air," Masters said. He told Highway Patrolmen he had gone to the trailing unit of the engine because of a problem with the radio.

Killed were Erie Engineer Donald Narney, 42, and a brakeman Carl Porter, both of Marion, and these B&O crewmen: engineer Carl R. Duckworth, brakeman F. C. Druschel, fireman G. S. Williams, all of New Castle, Pa., and a sixth man not immediately identified.

Surveys Show 7 Pct. of Men Quit Since '62

Surgeon General Ties Consumption Cut to Ominous '64 Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgeon Gen. Luther L. Terry today reported first evidence of a sustained reduction in cigarette consumption, and indicated it might be largely due to the ominous report of a year ago blasting cigarette smoking.

He said new evidence gathered from a national sampling of households regarding smoking habits indicated that an additional 7 per cent of the nation's adult males have quit cigarettes since 1962. That brought the number who have sworn off at some time in their lives to nearly one in four.

★ ★ ★

And, Terry said, surveys by the Public Health Service show smoking among women also has declined since 1962—to a smaller degree but "the first time on record in which the trend has been downward."

"If smoking habits had continued at the level of three years ago there would be about 3.5 million more smokers than there actually are today," Terry said in an address prepared for delivery to the recently formed National Interagency Council on Smoking and Health.

He attributed much of the decline to the report of a year ago today that labeled cigarette smoking a hazard to health, associated it with several diseases and said it far "outweighs all other factors" as a cause of lung disease.

★ ★ ★

Still, the health service said, cigarette smoking remains a "national catastrophe."

DEATH TOLL

An interagency spokesman said it accounts for at least 125,000 and possibly as many as 300,000 American deaths each year.

Terry conceded that his "preliminary" evidence on reduced consumption does not tally with the trends indicated by tobacco warehouse shipments and tax returns.

These point to a resurgence of cigarette smoking after a pronounced decline last spring.

★ ★ ★

The surgeon general said the decline found by the health service and other evidence directly challenge "the charge that 'noth-

Burch Is Presiding Officer

GOP Picks Leadership Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders today set up a 22-member Republican coordinating committee designed to give their party unified leadership. Embattled GOP National Chairman Dean Burch would be its first presiding officer.

The new broadened leadership group is to include 11 congressional leaders, the five living former Republican presidential nominees, five representatives of the GOP Governors Association, and the national chairman.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen told a news conference that putting Burch in as presiding officer had nothing to do with the chairman's uphill fight to keep his office.

Burch, as national chairman, has been presiding at the weekly meetings of the House and Senate GOP leaders. He attended today's session at which the coordinating committee plan was approved.

Burch told reporters he has no intention of resigning his office in advance of the Jan. 22 GOP national committee meeting in Chicago and that he expects to remain as chairman.

PUBLISHED REPORT

This was in response to a published report that he would step out soon in favor of Ohio Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

Today's news conference, already dubbed the "Ev and Jerry" show, was the first Dirksen has held with House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford, Mich., who replaced Rep. Charles A. Halleck, Ind., in an election last week.

The new leadership organization is authorized to set up task forces to study "major national problems and issues."

But Dirksen and Ford emphasized that congressional Republicans "will guide Republican party policy at the national level, in the absence of a Republican president and vice president, by the record they write in the Congress."

They said additional counsel should come from the former presidents and nominees for president and from the elected governors and other party leaders.

Ford announced that Burch has been asked to "immediately invite" the other participants to join in forming the coordinating committee.

Sitting in with the council would be former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and four others who ran unsuccessfully for the presidency — Alfred M. Landon, Thomas E. Dewey, Richard M. Nixon and Barry M. Goldwater.

Rights Murders Jury Told: Ignore Outside Influences

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Harold Cox cautioned a federal grand jury today not to be swayed by "any influences inside or outside" as it takes another look into the slaying of three civil rights workers.

A lone Negro spectator sat in the courtroom as Cox told the 23-member, biracial jury that it was called back into session at the Justice Department's request.

Armed with what it says is a confession, the Justice Department is seeking indictments in the deaths last June near Philadelphia, Miss., of Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both of New York, and James Chaney, 21, Meridian. Schwerner and Goodman were white. Chaney was a Negro.

The government reportedly rests much of its case on a written statement the FBI claims it obtained from Doyle Barnette, Cullen, La.

Barnette was one of 21 persons arrested last month in connection with the June 21 slaying. He and the others subsequently were freed after the alleged confession was ruled inadmissible at a preliminary hearing.

A man who refused to identify himself told the Associated Press today that Barnette was inside the federal building here. The report could not be confirmed.

Before sending the grand jury off to hear the government's new evidence, Cox told the jury, "Don't let anybody inside or outside usurp your power to reach a decision."

This was the second time the grand jury has considered the case. Last October at Biloxi, the jury listened to evidence but did not return any indictments.

John Doar, head of the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division, headed the government attorneys as the jury reconvened.

2 Drugstore Bandits Flee With $2,000

After tying up three store employes last night, two bandits robbed the Thrifty Drugstore, 6 S. Telegraph, Waterford Township, of more than $2,000.

Police said a robber pulled a gun on Ethel Hartley, 2669 Voorheis, Waterford Township, at the cosmetic counter shortly before 10.

Pulling a white handkerchief over the lower half of his face, the robber ordered the woman to the back of the store, police said.

At the back of the store the woman clerk and a pharmacist, Eugene Schantz, 4741 Whitlow, Commerce Township, were ordered to lie down and their hands were tied, according to police.

Meantime, a third employe, Margreth Sterling, 137 W. Rutgers, returned to the store after warming up her car.

SECOND WOMAN

Police said the second woman was followed into the store by a second man, who police theorize was a lookout.

Township police said $36 was taken from the employes' wallets, while $2,000 was stolen from the cash registers.

The robbers also made off with some cigarettes and Consumers Power Co. bill receipts.

Junior Miss Crown Goes to Commerce Twp. Girl

A 17-year-old Commerce Township girl has been named Pontiac's Junior Miss for 1965.

Emilie Lou Beaupre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beaupre of 3352 Westwind, was crowned last night in the finals of the contest at Pontiac Northern High School.

Emilie, who played a saxophone solo for her talent presentation, is a member of the Walled Lake High School National Honor Society, the student council, concert band, and Future Homemakers of America.

Following graduation in June she plans to attend Cornell University to study home economics.

First runner - up in the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce contest was Evelyn Dougherty, 17, a senior at St. Michael's High School, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dougherty, 197 Wolf.

Miss Beaupre will represent Pontiac in the state Junior Miss Pageant, scheduled for Feb. 4-6 at Pontiac Northern High School.

GOP Readying 2 Health Care Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Republican senators are drawing up a health care plan for the aged which Sen. Leverett Saltonstall says would cover some doctors' fees, going beyond the measure proposed by President Johnson.

The senators' alternative program came on the heels of one proposed in Chicago on Saturday by the American Medical Association.

The AMA, long a foe of plans for Social Security medical care for the aged, also said its version would be broader than the administration's plan.

A third alternative is in the works, according to House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford.

FORD INTERVIEW

He said Saturday in an interview that Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee would unveil a proposal in the near future. Ford said work has not been completed on it.

The administration measure would be administered by Social Security and financed by a separate payroll tax.

Saltonstall, a Massachusetts Republican, said the proposal he and his five colleagues would introduce tomorrow would include some doctors' fees and drugs outside the hospital and thus go beyond the administration measure which includes hospitalization, nursing home care, home health visits and outpatient hospital diagnostic services — but no medical or surgical bills.

GOP PLAN

The GOP senators' program would be financed from general Treasury revenues plus contributions from the states and individuals participating rather than through a pay roll tax.

The AMA plan also would sidestep Social Security, being financed with federal and state funds plus individual contributions according to need.

Here are the major features of the Republican senate plan:

● Financing would come from the general Treasury plus contributions by the states and individuals.

★ ★ ★

● Three plans would be offered participants. They would be a short-term diagnostic package, a long - term castrophic illness plan or a private insurance policy option.

LIMITED PARTICIPATION

● Participation would be limited to individuals with an annual income of not more than $3,000 or couples with an income of $6,000.

● Participation would be voluntary for all persons over 65 not on the old age assistance rolls.

● All participants would have to pay an enrollment fee ranging from $10 to $120 a year based on income.

The federal government would pay 50 per cent of state administrative costs and 60 to 80 per cent of other costs depending on a state's per capita income.

Joining with Saltonstall on the plan are Sens. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, George D. Aiken and Winston L. Prouty, both of Vermont.

Major features of the AMA proposal:

● Over - 65 citizens would enroll in a health care program through a private company.

● Eligibility of the subsidized program would be determined on the basis of what ward called a "simple income statement."

SLIDING SCALES

● Premiums for individuals with certain incomes would be paid by state and federal funds. A sliding scale would be used to set up specific incomes under which percentage of the premium would be paid by government money. Some persons would receive no government help. Ward gave no income specifics.

● The policies would be provided by Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans and health insurance companies. The degree of coverage would vary by state.

All of Viet Marines Moved to Binh Gia

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The entire Vietnamese marine corps moved toward embattled Binh Gia today to hold the area from the Communist Viet Cong.

Four marine battalions totaling 2,500 men began the transfer by helicopter and road to the Catholic refugee settlement 40 miles east of Saigon where government forces this month suffered their worst defeat of the war.

★ ★ ★

U.S. military sources said the marines plan to remain in the area indefinitely in an effort to pacify two largely unpopulated provinces that were free of Communist infiltration until two months ago.

Some U.S. advisers called the plan a mistake.

CONG WINS AGAIN

"The Viet Cong have won another victory at Binh Gia. They are tying up the whole marine corps, and preventing it from doing useful work elsewhere," one American said.

★ ★ ★

"The only reason the marines are being sent down there is to keep the road to Cap St. Jacques open," said another.

Cap St. Jacques is a popular sea resort 120 miles from Saigon.

AP Photofax

WAR PAWN — A Vietnamese child, deserted with women and other children in an encampment near Binh Gia by fleeing Viet Cong forces, stares at the camera while stuffing his mouth with food.

However, other advisers said the marine deployment would prevent the Communists taking over the provinces to close "the ring of steel" around Saigon. Others said it would boost morale after the government defeat at Binh Gia.

Six Americans were killed and two others captured in the nine-day battle, longest single encounter of the four-year U.S.-supported guerrilla war. Government forces suffered about 500 casualties, including 121 dead.

JUNGLE AREAS

Intelligence reports indicate that several Viet Cong battalions still occupy jungle areas around Binh Gia. The fresh marine battalions are replacing three paratrooper units that have been seeking without success to make contact with the elusive Communists.

On the political front, strained relations between the Vietnamese armed forces and the civilian government eased over the weekend, and a three-week crisis appeared to be over.

Data Shows Smoking Cut

ing has really happened' and that the smoking habits of the nation are right back where they were" before last year's report by his advisory committee.

NOT OFFICIAL

The council, his forum today, is not an official government agency.

Its members include representatives of the health service and of 16 federal and private agencies interested in health and education, among them the American Cancer Society.

Terry said a random nationwide sampling last fall of 3,500 American households found — on the basis of a preliminary analysis — that:

★ ★ ★

- The number of male cigarette smokers in the population dropped from 59 per cent — as reported in both 1955 and 1962 — to 52 per cent, a decline of 7 percentage points.
- In the same span, the percentage of women smokers dropped from 31 per cent to about 28 per cent.

The surgeon general said other studies conducted by the agency in the past year indicate that "many smokers have become uneasy about the relationship of cigarettes to illness. Millions of adult cigarette smokers are ready to be fully convinced that the time has come to change their smoking habits."

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

There were these other developments at today's session:

- Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger, D-Ore., long an advocate of smoking-control legislation, charged Congress—especially "tobacco state congressmen" —with "default of responsibility" for failing to act so far on proposed legislation "calling for strong and meaningful regulation of the labeling and advertising practices and for massive educational programs."

She criticized the public for "apathy' about the whole situation.

- The Public Health Service endorsed a proposal that tobacco companies voluntarily dispense with cigarette advertising — and concentrate more heavily on producing tobacco for pipe smoking and cigar smoking.
- The Interagency Council chairman, Emerson Foote, who recently resigned from an advertising firm, charged that the tobacco industry through its present advertising of cigarettes, is encouraging people "to kill themselves."

Board Will Air Sale of Sanatorium

The proposed sale of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium will top the agenda tomorrow when the Board of Supervisors convenes.

Sale of the institution to Oakland County's new Community College was recommended Dec. 17 in a joint meeting of the buildings and grounds and ways and means committees.

College officials offered $927,000, the appraisal price, for the facility, which includes the main hospital, annex, heating plant, garage and storage building, nurses' home, four residences and a garage apartment and 84 acres of land.

Among those advocating sale of the TB Sanatorium is Dr. Bernard D. Berman, Oakland County health director, who said the steady decline in the number of TB cases makes continued operation of the facility economically unsound.

★ ★ ★

Some opposition to the sale is expected, but its approval by the board of supervisors appears likely, according to county officials.

OTHER BUSINESS

Other items to come before the board will include a resolution by the equalization committee that a new schedule of multipliers issued by the State Tax Commission for 1965 assessment of personal property be turned over to the Supervisors Inter-County Committee for study.

Following adjournment, the board and other county officials will be guests of the City of Southfield for a luncheon at the city's new parks and recreation building.

TOUR PLANNED

Mayor James Clarkson, Southfield supervisor, will conduct the group on a tour of the city's new $2-million civic center.

Oregon Cattleman Loses His Empire

BEND, Ore. (AP) — Robert A. Eslinger, 37, married with two children, is a $300-a-month cowhand in central Oregon.

Two years ago he was the millionaire operator of eight Oregon cattle ranches and owned considerable land in California.

★ ★ ★

Today, Eslinger is in the midst of bankruptcy proceedings with more than 200 creditors and debts of $4.4 million. He lists his assets at $625 — all exempt.

The cowboy came to Oregon three years ago from California where he owned 20 properties, including office buildings in Fresno and Oakland, sugar beet ranches and cattle ranches.

NET WORTH

He estimated his net worth then at $1,250,000.

While in California, Eslinger had formed the Bar T Cattle Co. and began buying ranches in eastern and central Oregon.

By 1962, the company had purchased eight ranches and 5,000 head of cattle for $1,780,000. Eslinger owned two-thirds of the stock in the Bar T.

His problems started in 1963 when land values in California dropped and his holdings collapsed. Eslinger says: "I didn't leave behind good enough management. It all depended too much on me."

$3 MILLION

He said he had only equities in most of the properties, an estimated $750,000 of his own funds invested in properties valued at $3 million. On one ranch where he had $25,000 invested he said he was stuck for more than $200,000. Other foreclosures followed. Then cattle prices dropped 25 to 30 per cent.

★ ★ ★

He lost his cattle, then he started selling ranches to pay off creditors. He let regular employes go, sold his equipment and finally in June 1964, the Bank of California took all his stock in the Bar T.

★ ★ ★

Among other reasons for the collapse of his cattle empire, Eslinger said, was "my own optimism. I thought central Oregon was the best place in the world and that the cattle business was the best business in the world. I thought everyone else thought so too."

Eslinger says he isn't out of the cattle picture forever. He wants to get going again and "pay back as much as I can."

Eslinger figures he owes more than $1.35 million. Of his more than $4.4 million in debts, more than $3 million are secured claims.

Hotels, Union in Agreement

DETROIT (AP) —Settlement of the five-day old strike-lockout at eight of nine major Detroit hotels was reached today, according to a spokesman for Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Only the Statler Hilton Hotel was not represented at the meeting, he said. Members of the Hotel Employes union continued to picket there.

Included in the settlement was a union agreement to drop unfair labor practices charges filed earlier with the National Labor Relations Board in connection with lockouts at seven of the hotels.

Details of the settlement were withheld pending ratification, which was expected at a special meeting later today.

In announcing the settlement, Mayor Cavanagh, who had called today's meeting, urged "quick ratification" of the agreement.

No Dropouts Interested in City-MESC Program

BIRMINGHAM — The city's plan to help high school dropouts has fallen through.

Its offer to train four young men under the Michigan Youth Work-Training Program met no response.

The city in October contracted with the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) to train the four under the experimental program established by the State Legislature during its 1964 session.

The trainees were to work and study for nine months in the Forestry and Parks Department.

★ ★ ★

Two were to learn the ropes as tree trimmers and two as park maintenance personnel.

COST TO BE SHARED

The program was open only to unemployed high school graduates or dropouts. Cost of the project was to be shared by the city and the state, with each contributing $1,440 for the salaries of the trainees.

Scheduled to start Oct. 1, the classes and on-the-job experience would have continued through June 30.

But now, three and a half months after the city agreed to participate, there have been no applicants.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen at the Royal Oak MESC office noted the apparent indifference toward Birmingham's program is not indicative of what's going on in the rest of the state.

Detroit's youth work-training program, they said, is very successful.

Luther C. Olson, office manager, commented that Birmingham is an "affluent community" with apparently little need for the program.

"The schools, the board of education, were unable to supply us with anyone that needs this training," said Frank Thompson of the office. "They seem to take care of their own."

South Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Gleason said he was "shocked" by the contract rejection in the port of New York in a union membership vote last Friday.

He had called the contract the best in the 72-year history of the union.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said yesterday that the New York stalemate was caused by failure of the union membership to understand the contract terms. Reynolds said he thought the strike would fail.

Before leaving for Washington, Reynolds said: "If any one has any illusion that there will be changes in the contract, it should be dispelled. The bargaining process is over."

The shipping industry here asked yesterday that President Johnson and Congress put pressure on the union to submit the dispute to compulsory arbitration.

The appeal was submitted to Reynolds during a meeting with Gleason and the 14-men labor policy committee of the New York Shipping Association.

TRAINS COLLIDE — Flames shot nearly 200 feet in the air early today after two freight trains collided at Sterling, Ohio, near Wooster. Five crewmen were killed in the collision and a sixth is feared dead. The two locomotives came together at a track crossing, apparently when one was unable to stop for a signal. The fires broke out when fuel tanks ruptured.

13 Guerrillas Captured

11 Indonesian Invaders Hunted by Malaysians

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The remnants of the latest Indonesian inaders of Malaysia were believed trying to get back home as security forces continued to search for them on the beaches of the southern mainland.

Four fishing boats were reported stolen at the seaside town of Pontian Kechil in Jhore State near the spot where the party of 24 landed Friday. Eleven were still at large.

★ ★ ★

Thirteen of the invaders including a major who led them, have been captured. Indonesian guerrillas have been landing on the Malaysian mainland in small groups since last August.

The British military buildup against a major Indonesian attack continued on Malaysian Borneo. British Army Minister Fred Mulley flew to the area today.

Britain's 500-man 2nd Parachute Battalion, flown to Singapore from England last week, started jungle training at Ulu Triam camp on the Malaysian mainland.

The Royal Navy and Royal Air Force in the area have been reinforced in recent weeks.

Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman made a new appeal for U.S. help.

"If the Americans want to help us, now is the time. It is useless to give help when it is already late," he said in an interview.

REJECT U.S. LOAN

Malaysia has rejected a U.S. defense loan because it considered the terms too harsh. They called for repayment of the loan over seven years at 5 per cent interest.

Indonesia's chief delegate to the United Nations, L. N. Palar, returned to Jakarta to report to his government. Antara, the Indonesian news agency, said he conferred Sunday night with Foreign Minister Subandrio and Subandrio approved the 'attitude and policy' followed by Palar's delegation.

★ ★ ★

Indonesian President Sukarno announced last Thursday that his country had walked out of the United Nations because Malaysia was seated on the U.N. Security Council. U.N. officials do not consider the withdrawal official because no written notice has been filed.

Malaysia said last week it would seek help from the United Nations if Indonesia increased the scale of its attacks, but the United Nations probably could not act if Indonesia opened a full-scale attack on Malaysia. The general Assembly is paralyzed by the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over peace-keeping finances. The Soviet Union is expected to veto any move in the Security Council to send forces against Indonesia.

U.N. WALKOUT

Indonesia's walkout from the United Nations may force it to quit the conference of African-Asian nations in Algiers in March. Malaysia wants a seat at the conference. Presumably if it was seated, the Indonesians would refuse to stay.

Of all the African-Asian nations, only Communist China and her Asian satellites support Indonesia's withdrawal from the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

Red China again blasted the United Nations as a tool of the United States in a broadcast Sunday, leading to speculation that it would not accept an invitation to join the United Nations if invited.

★ ★ ★

Communist nations have tried for the past 15 years to bring Red China into the world organization as a replacement for Nationalist China. Every effort has been voted down, but support for Peking membership has been growing.

SUKARNO FRIEND

Japan announced Sunday that Shojiro Kawashima, an old friend of Sukarno's, will be sent to Jakarta to try to persuade him to reconsider the withdrawal. Kawashima is vice president of Premier Eisaku Sato's Liberal Democratic party.

The Indonesian government assured U.N. missions in Indonesia that their safety, interest and properties in this country will be safeguarded. Four police guards were posted at the U.N. headquarters in downtown Jakarta.

U.N. Group Refuses to Leave Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) —United Nations officials here today ignored Indonesia's order to cease operations and get out of the country.

A U.N. spokesman said representatives of the organization will stay on until expressly told to leave by New York headquarters. Such an order is not expected until Indonesia sends formal notification of its decision to withdraw from the United Nations.

The blue and white U.N. flag was hosted as usual today over at least three of the 12 U.N. technical agencies operating here — the U.N. Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF), the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and the Social and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

Additional Indonesian police were posted at the offices of Vojko P. Pavicic, resident director of U.N. activities here.

★ ★ ★

It was clear that the government views U.N. presence in Indonesia unfavorably.

INSIGNIA RIPPED

A U.N. insignia was ripped from the front of the UNICEF office Saturday. Identifying insignia were stripped from cars assigned to U.N. agencies and several have been taken over by Indonesian ministries for their own use.

President Sukarno announced his intention to pull out of the United Nations last week after Malaysia, Indonesia's archenemy, was assigned a nonpermament seat on the Security Council.

Sukarno and Foreign Minister Subandrio planned talks today at the presidential palace with Lambertus N. Palar, Indonesia's ambassador to the United Nations. He returned from New York yesterday.

Before his departure, Palar told U.N. officials of his country's decision to quit. But no written confirmation was delivered.

U.N. POSITION

The U.N. takes the position that Indonesia technically remains a member until a formal declaration is forthcoming.

Ganis Harsono, a foreign office spokesman, said yesterday a formal letter of withdrawal would be drafted and sent to New York. He did not say when the letter would be dispatched.

Harsono added that Indonesia may decide to remain a member of those U.N. organizations which existed before the parent body was created. These include the International Postal Union.

★ ★ ★

Communist China, in a dispatch over the weekend, congratulated Indonesia for renouncing its U.N. membership. Peking termed the United Nations "A paper tiger" which has become "a club for a few big powers to manipulate international affairs."

PROTEST SENT

Pavicic sent a protest to the Indonesian government over the removal of the UNICEF insignia, but his complaint was turned away.

Government officials said Pavicic no longer had any status.

Snow Buries East; Travel Is Disrupted

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow storms swirled through the Northeast Sunday, disrupting air travel and endangering highway traffic. Officials announced schools would be closed today in many areas.

Virginia's first major storm of the season dumped a foot of snow in the northern and western parts of the state, closing schools in five counties.

In West Virginia, three persons were killed on icy U.S. 460 near Princeton, and driving conditions throughout much of the state were hazardous. From two to six inches of snow blanketed the western and southern sections of the state and nine inches was recorded in Martinsburg in the Eastern Panhandle.

To the north, special snow plans were put into effect in the Philadelphia area, where a swirling snow storm left 5 to 12 inches, slowing air traffic at the Philadelphia International Airport. The Harrisburg-York airport was closed all day.

INTO STREAM

Near Ebensburg, Pa., a Greyhound bus swerved off a snow-covered highway ramp, plunging down a 30-foot embankment into a small stream. Ten persons were hospitalized and nine others were treated and released.

Gov. William W. Scranton was forced by bad weather to cancel a scheduled appearance at the Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg.

★ ★ ★

The Washington, D.C., area struggled under 4 to 8 inches of snow and emergency plans were set in motion in nearby Baltimore and 19 Maryland counties.

Heavy snows in the New York City area forced cancellation or diverted more than 200 flights at Kennedy International Airport, although operations were not shut down. Inbound transatlantic flights temporarily were rerouted to Boston and Montreal.

MAJOR ROUTES

Vehicles without chains or snow tires were banned from major arterial routes in New York. Five inches of snow fell in midtown Manhattan and eight inches covered some suburbs.

New Jersey had up to 8 inches of snow, and a 3-year-old boy was killed in a weather-connected accident.

★ ★ ★

Upstate New York got by with just flurries and bitter cold temperatures.

The northern New England ski area, suffering from a lack of snow, also were bypassed, but the southern section of the six-state area received heavy amounts.

WIDELY SEPARATED

Snow storms also struck several other widely separated areas of the nation.

In northeast Arkansas, wet snow knocked out electric and telephone service for more than 5,000 customers and a repairman was killed by a live wire.

★ ★ ★

Eight inches of snow fell in central and northern Idaho, but most roads were expected to remain open.

High winds kicked up old snow, closing two sections of U.S. 89 east of Glacier National Park in Montana.

DRY WEATHER

The Midwest had generally dry weather, but temperatures plunged below freezing over the weekend and dropped as low as 31 degrees below zero in Hibbing, Minn. One woman died near Virginia, Minn., when she tried to walk home in 30-degree-below cold when her car went off a road.

Northwestern California still was suffering from the consequences of torrential floods of the past few weeks.

Pound Rises, Gold Falls After Warning

LONDON (AP) — The pound rose and the price of gold and gold mining shares came down with a bump in London today following the U.S. Treasury's warning to gold speculators.

The price of gold fell 4.375 cents from the $35.185 reached Friday night after a near-record scramble for the metal.

This mornings's official price was fixed at $35.14125 dollars an ounce. This was only three-fourths of a cent below the official price fixed Friday mornig, but on Friday the price rose steadily as the Bank of England met the demand from speculators but made it increasingly expensive for them to gamble on a gold price increase.

This development gave a healthier look to both the pound sterling and the dollar.

★ ★ ★

Both these currencies, widely used in international trade, had been under speculative pressure last week.

JUMPED BACK

In the foreign exchange market today, the pound jumped back to $2.79-1-16. On Friday, when the gold rush was on, the rate was held at just under $2.79 with the Bank of England buying pounds to give support.

On the stock exchange gold shares, which boomed last week on speculation that the world gold price might be raised, fell by as much as seven shillings (98 cents) from Friday's closing prices.

The U.S. Treasury put the brakes on the upward movement of gold with its statement, after the London markets closed Friday, that the price of gold would not be raised and warning speculators that they would burn their fingers.

★ ★ ★

Baby Specialist Dies

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Dr. Josephine Hemenway Kenyon, 84, a noted baby specialist, died Sunday. Her book, "Healthy Babies are Happy Babies," has been translated into five languages.

Soviets Try to Wipe Out K's Image

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union is trying to write Nikita S. Khrushchev out of the history books.

Attacks in the Russian press on the former premier, ousted three months ago, are always indirect. His name is never mentioned. But the intended target is always clear.

The objective of the new Kremlin leadership's anti-Khrushchev campaign is to erase his image from the Russian mind and to consign him to the dimmest corner of Soviet memory.

Soviet authorities appear to be making Khrushchev an historical "unperson."

★ ★ ★

Portraits of Khrushchev, once sold freely in the capital, now are scarce.

DESK CALENDAR

The manufacturer of the standard desk calendar has issued a new insertion to replace April 17, the date of Khrushchev's birthday. The new page does not contain the notation of yesteryear: April 17 — 1894 — N.S. Khrushchev was born.

★ ★ ★

Citizens are asked to insert the new page into their calendars, along with pages which mark the birthdays of Premier Alexei S. Kosygin and party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, on Feb. 21 and Dec. 19.

The most recent attack in the press on the former premier came yesterday in the satirical magazine Krokodil, in a poem by the senior Soviet litterateur, 67-year-old Alexander Bezymensky.

Oldest newspaper on file in the Library of Congress is the Boston News Letter, which had its begining in 1710.

Iceland is seeking new trees to replace its depleted birch forests. The loss of the forests is causing serious erosion.

'Bugging' Curb Said Possible

Missouri's Sen. Long to Lead Investigation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., whose subcommittee plans to investigate eavesdropping this year, predicts legislation may be passed to curb the practice.

Long said in an interview yesterday that unless strong laws were enacted to restrict various forms of spying and prying, personal privacy would become impossible.

The subcommittee's inquiry, which is expected to start next month, will range from wiretapping through use of concealed recorders to mail covers and peepholes in public and private rooms of public buildings.

One of the prime targets will be government agencies. Long described them as "among the worst offenders" in the invasion of privacy.

★ ★ ★

Long said the public hearings would be "so revealing we may be able to pass some legislation."

GREAT OUTCRY

He said that "when the general public finds out how much of this evil is going on, I think there will be a great public outcry for action."

The senator conceded it would be no easy task to write an all-inclusive law protecting the right to privacy. But he thinks electronic eavesdropping, plus sanction of official snooping, has reached the point where action has to be taken.

Present federal law does not prohibit wiretapping. It only prohibits divulgence of information gained that way.

Expression Originated in the 16th Century

The expression th "laugh up one's sleeve" originated in the 16th century, when people dressed in clothes with wide sleeves, particularly in the royal court. To hide offensive laughter, they would put the whole sleeve over their heads.

It Seems to Me . . . .

President Johnson's Speech Gives 'Blueprint of Paradise'

President JOHNSON's first program on legislative problems is reasonable and sound. His midweek outline on disease and health stands as the first of several such Congressional suggestions. JOHNSON's long personal experience in Congress will stand him in good stead and I'm sure he will find greater success with his own legislation than did his predecessor.

★ ★ ★

The earlier speech — Monday night — was one of the most platitudinous that has emanated from the White House. It was reminiscent of Calvin Coolidge's famous dissertations on a certain worldly subject. Quoth he:

"Sin? I'm against it."

So's Johnson.

But it took Johnson 30 minutes to catch up with Cal. The greatest commentary on the talk came from a Republican Senator who said sardonically:

"It's a glowing blueprint of Paradise."

★ ★ ★

There's the most succinct and descriptive commentary that an embryo 1965 has produced. This "glowing blueprint of Paradise" was interrupted 57 times by dutiful party applause. The hand clapping was an official duty, and it proclaimed itself as such.

Now that we've verbally cleansed the Aegean stables in a scholarly Democratic epic, let's ease into the outer shades of that "glowing blueprint of Paradise" and get down to work.

Three Cheers . . . .

Let's arise in unison from coast to coast and cheer "MIKE" MANSFIELD.

The Montana Democrat and Majority Leader declares the current Congress should stop this namby-pamby plan of giving the same or more foreign aid to nations that accept our alms with one pious hand and thumb their nose at us with the other.

We've been Uncle Sucker too long.

★ ★ ★

These ingrates and traitors accept the cash that you — and you — and you provide as taxpayers and then they help mobs rip our embassies asunder and make "Yank Go Home" a national motto.

Is there a new national backbone?

Is there?

Some students believe Congressmen have heard from so many irate voters back home they're beginning to sense the furor that exists.

Baker Case Stalled . . . .

The BOBBY BAKER scandal and revelations were sidetracked by Democratic partisans last fall "as they would embarrass the President in his fight for office."

Now the whole mess is swept back under the rug again, this time it "will embarrass the President in his relations with Congress."

★ ★ ★

There's one very obvious and palpable reason behind these "postponements." The ruling party hopes it can stall everything until it slides into the dim and distant limbo of forgotten things. The taxpayers and voters who have every right to know, must be slapped down and fooled. Just how scandalous the over-all Bobby Baker case may be has been hidden by the reigning Democrats at every turn of the road. The GOP brought a lesser affair right into the open, discharged one man and sent another to prison.

But the scared and panicky Dems are giving one of the most amazing exhibitions of dragging dirty feet that has ever been seen in any U.S. government activities.

Patriotic Group . . . .

Now that the 89th Congress is under way, we can look for dubious elements to renew the fight against the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

★ ★ ★

This staunch group is regularly assailed by Communists and others who favor soft, yielding attitudes towards our avowed enemies without and within the government. This is their legal right and they exercise it anew at every Congressional session. This Congress should follow the footsteps of its predecessors and ignore the tiny furor and vote additional money and power so this patriotic group can continue its battle for America.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Overheard (feminine): "A fool and his money make the perfect date." . . . . . Insider's Newsletter suggested Defense Secretary MCNAMARA might become Secretary of the Treasury. I'll wager a dozen sugar cookies he'll come home before he leaves Defense for the Treasury. Just to keep the record straight: MCNAMARA is the strongest man in the Washington political picture . . . . . In an unsigned message I'm called "stupid" for endorsing Christmas clubs and the banks are castigated for not "paying interest." The bulk of the Christmas clubs are run at a loss because of the individual bookkeeping they necessitate. Who's really stupid—and cowardly for hiding?

MONITA

Trusted scouts suggest Monita Calhoun deserves nomination as a very attractive young lady in the area. . . . . Overheard: "If ladies' styles follow present trends, we'll soon see the gownless evening strap." . . . . . A Californian is experimenting with turkeys and has already produced one weighing 70 pounds and has set 100 as his goal. . . . . Have you seen the cigarettes with the built-in lighters? . . . . . Last year U. S. airlines carried 71 million people 50 billion miles with only 121 lives lost. Bicycles and bathtubs killed several times that many.

★ ★ ★

A man dining with EMILY POST said: "Are you really EMILY POST?" She nodded—very modestly—whereupon he declared: "then what in Sam Hill are you doing eating MY salad?" . . . . . Washington rumors say CARL ROWAN may be the first Negro in the President's cabinet (HEW). . . . . The N.Y. Yanks finished first and drew 1,300,000 spectators. The Mets finished last and notched 300,000 more . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—JERRY FORD and his victory; the J's—the "applause" at JOHNSON's recital last Monday night.

"The Americans Can Go Jump In The Lake!"

David Lawrence Asks:

Broadcasts Prayer Ban Answer?

WASHINGTON—At last there has emerged a possible solution to the controversy that has recently arisen as to whether the worship of God and the reciting of prayers shall be continued in the public schools.

LAWRENCE

For the government itself apparently has found a way to overcome the handicap imposed by those decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States which were widely construed as forbidding any governmental connection with instruction on religious subjects in the public schools.

The system that could be used in the schools now is being employed by the "Voice of America" — a U.S. government agency — in 15-minute religious programs broadcast five times each Sunday to the people of Europe, the Middle East, the Far East, West Africa, East Africa, Latin America and Southeast Asia.

All this is paid for by U.S. Treasury funds derived from federal taxes, and there is no reason why the government cannot similarly finance such programs for listeners in the schools of the United States.

★ ★ ★

The "Voice of America" programs are carefully balanced between the various denominations and faiths. They consist of choral or concert music, interviews, panel discussions and lectures or sermons.

SUPPLIED TO SCHOOLS

Phonograph records or tape recordings of these programs could be readily made and supplied to all public as well as private schools to be played in certain rooms over loudspeakers during a free period each day or at least once a week. Those students who didn't care to listen would not have to do so.

It could hardly be argued persuasively that this would be a violation of the First Amendment to the Constitution, since the "Voice of America" is already spending government funds to disseminate religious doctrines all over the world.

If the government itself can select programs on religious subjects and pay for broadcasting them overseas, the individual educational institutions of this country would be well within their rights in asking for a similar service from their government.

★ ★ ★

Surely what is broadcast to people outside the United States should also be available to children inside America.

There are so many advantages to the public schools in being able to give, on what appears to be a voluntary basis, programs of broad religious instruction that the whole plan may come to be considered as a way of ending the controversy which has confused and bewildered school authorities in the last several months.

Certainly, if the "Voice of America" can broadcast programs based on religion and use taxpayers' money to do so, there doesn't seem to be any logical reason why the same thing cannot be done for the public school children of America also by using government funds.

★ ★ ★

As long as the broadcasts do not have to be listened to by those who wish to dissociate themselves from particular faiths, the whole plan fits in with the argument for voluntary participation in religious exercises.

Bob Considine Says:

Russia Gets U.S. Secrets in the Bargain Basement

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . things . . .

According to the FBI, former Air Force specialist Robert Glenn Thompson received only $1,700 for his service as an accused spy for the Soviet Union.

If this should turn out to be the correct figure, it fits in neatly with the patterns of the past.

CONSIDINE

When the Russians go prospecting for secrets, they strike remarkable bargains.

During the trial of Alan Nunn May, the Canadian physicist who got 10 years for passing information about our gestation atomic bomb, it was developed that his reward was $750 and two bottles of scotch.

Whittaker Chambers testified that Alger Hiss settled for a rug and a surreptitious decoration.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs reluctantly accepted $500 after much debate.

The Rosenbergs dealt with a bit more money, but they served also as paymasters for others. When the Feds began closing in on that apparatus, the Rosenbergs gave $4,000 to David Greenglass, Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, to pay for transporting himself and family to Moscow, beyond the grasp of extradition.

Greenglass deliberated so long that he was nailed in New York, as was the $4,000.

Greenglass, who had been assigned to supersecret Los Alamos by sheer accident, earlier delivered to the Rosenbergs the involved method of triggering the A-bomb. For that vital information, he was paid $200.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Greenglass used $50 of it to buy a Defense Bond.

Julius Rosenberg got the Soviet Order of the Red Star, a console table to facilitate the microfilming of documents . . . and a chair—the chair at Sing Sing Prison.

Vice President-Elect Hubert Humphrey also wowed the girls at the Women's National Press Club dinner in Washington where Sen. Robert Kennedy said that he personally had no presidential aspirations "and neither does my wife, Ethel Bird."

Hubert, who once talked eight straight hours to Nikita Khrushchev, said:

"President Johnson has given me only two instructions for the next four years: No. 1, I must keep my eyes open."

Hubert paused for a long time, then said, "I don't think I have to mention No. 2."

Voice of the People:

Says It's Time to Unite Against 'Great Society'

It's time for middle class Americans to unite against Mr. Johnson's "great society."

★ ★ ★

The song of the "poverty pockets" is growing boring. Why not a more realistic program? A program in which:

- Any able-bodied person who is out of work and receiving aid because of it be forced to accept any paying job that will get him off the welfare roles.
- Sterilization of males and females who are unable to support children.
- An end to foreign aid to a country that burns our embassies, permits rioting around our buildings, or holds us in contempt.
- Tax relief for small business proprietors.

★ ★ ★

We who have paid so much for so many for so long deserve a break. And now in this "great society" in which there is something for everyone, except the white middle class taxpayer, let us have something, too!

'Let's Be Aware of Galloping Socialism'

A number of people disagree with pro-Socialist Eastman. However, the arguments are not basically convincing in view of present day trends.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Verhine laments the lack of vocational choice, opportunity and incentive that socialism creates. Convertibly, this is just what many union contracts do. Certain areas of industry provide just about what Mr. Eastman asks for. The best example of socialism in the country are the union corporate contracts with their seniority clauses and cradle-to-the-grave security.

★ ★ ★

Let's not lose sight of the so-called creeping socialism, but be aware of the galloping type that the union corporate contracts are foisting upon us.

Reader Terms Past Election 'Mixed-Up'

Millions of voters, unwilling to cast their lots with a Goldwater dominated by Miller combination, did give their votes to Johnson, notwithstanding those who voted for the Goldwater ticket in protest of the off-color denouncement of the Kennedy administration minus the personality of JFK, while praying that Johnson would get it. It is a sad plight that such a mixed-up election should have been interpreted as a mandate for the Johnson administration.

★ ★ ★

Actually, our Social Security level of security would have fared much better had we elected a president who did advocate a little easing off on the whole program.

Poverty War

The Martinsburg (W. Va.) Journal

West Virginians received some news which should be counted among the "good" variety. After all of these years of the politicians telling us how poverty-stricken we are here in West Virginia, we note that on the first tentative allocation of funds for President Johnson's "war on poverty" our state ranks 28th down the line in money to be spent.

★ ★ ★

We are to be allotted the grand sum of $423,811. This averages out to almost 25 cents per person. That really ought to wipe out our poverty in a hurry.

★ ★ ★

While West Virginia is to get $423,811 for the "war on poverty," guess how much is assigned to the fabulously wealthy state of Texas which just happens to be the home of President Johnson? $9,776,483. Admittedly, the population of Texas is almost five times that of West Virginia but it is going to get 23 times as much as West Virginia for the "war on poverty."

★ ★ ★

Minnesota, which is the home of Vice President-Elect Hubert Humphrey, has just about twice West Virginia's population but it is assigned $1,449,407, or more than three times as much as West Virginia.

New Jersey, which has always been regarded as one of our wealthier states, is being allotted the top amount of "war on poverty" money, $12,456,361. Kentucky, where a determined effort is being made to get rid of the two Republican senators, is to be the recipient of the second highest amount, $10,416,242.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson's own proud state of Texas ranks third with Oregon in fourth spot at $8,219,670. Oregon's population is just about the same as West Virginia's but they must be really hard up there financially to qualify for 20 times the amount set up for us.

★ ★ ★

The next time President Johnson or Vice President Humphrey or even David and Chet come carpetbagging around West Virginia and expressing their sympathy over our sad plight, West Virginians can hold their heads high and tell these "do-gooders" to clean up their own back yards.

Their home-state poverty is obviously worse than ours because we are sure these politicians who were so solicitous in the pre-election days would not let us down after the election, particularly since the great majority of West Virginians dutifully voted the straight Democratic ticket.

★ ★ ★

Now it's inflation-plagued Brazil that's getting $400 million from the United States. In neither instance is there any assurance of more than a temporary respite.

★ ★ ★

Claim How Much You Actually Donated

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It probably was an Internal Revenue auditor who first said: "There would be no mortgages outstanding on churches today if churches actually received all the money people claimed they contributed on their tax returns."

Perhaps that is why so many church officials are being queried by tax auditors these days to confirm contributions being reported on tax returns.

As in all other statements and deductions claimed on tax forms the burden of proof is on the taxpayer and it is a wise man who has a statement from his church or canceled checks to support his contributions.

Furthermore, there is no "rule of thumb" or "average amount" to be listed as a contribution. List what you actually gave. That amount is your deduction.

Of course, for the overly generous there are maximum limitations. Contributions are generally limited to 20 per cent of total income.

10 PER CENT

An additional 10 per cent may be taken if the money went to religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational organizations. This does not include tuition to a school or college but an outright gift.

In addition to your contributions to church you may deduct all contributions to nonprofit schools and hospitals, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Community Chest, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, the various health funds and societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

There are other items that are also properly considered as deductible charitable contributions.

★ ★ ★

Say you go to a theater party where all the proceeds go to a recognized charity. If the cost of the ticket is $50 and the usual charge for the entertainment or play is $5, then the additional $45 is treated as a contribution.

BOX LUNCH

Or you go to a church affair and bid $10 for a box lunch. If the fair market value of the lunch is $1.50, you have an $8.50 charitable contribution.

Should you give articles of clothing or household goods to a church or charitable agency then the fair market value of the items so given is deductible.

Many housewives overlook another charitable deduction now available to them.

★ ★ ★

If you are a volunteer worker at a hospital, a den mother to a Brownie or Cub Scout pack or the Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts you may have some deductible expenses which never occurred to you.

VOLUNTEER WORKER

As a volunteer worker, your cost of transportation to and from the hospital or welfare institution is deductible.

If you used your own car the cost of gas and oil plus parking may be itemized. Or you may simply use a Treasury-approved allowance of five cents a mile on the car.

Cost of meals and lodging while performing your donated service are also deductible.

★ ★ ★

Should you be required to wear a distinctive uniform which is not readily adaptable to general use its original cost and laundering expenses may also be included.

★ ★ ★

Den mothers who take turns holding meetings for Scout groups may charge off the cost of snacks served at meetings as well as transportation expenses when taking such groups on field trips.

CHURCH DELEGATES

Delegates to a church convention who are not compensated for their services or reimbursed for their expenses may deduct the transportation charges plus the cost of meals and lodging while attending to convention business.

★ ★ ★

Under no circumstances may you charge off any value placed on your time or services while performing such volunteer work.

★ ★ ★

Should you donate painting, a work of art, a bond, securities or anything of value to a religious or charitable institution, the fair market value of the item — it may be more or less than your original cost — is fully deductible.

Will Return to Ireland, Meg Says

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret, back with her children today after a turbulent Irish holiday, says she'll gladly risk more trips to visit her in-laws there.

"My husband's family are here," she told newsmen at Dublin Airport, "and we will always be coming back. We've had a wonderful time."

★ ★ ★

Thousands of Irish braved an icy rainstorm Sunday to give the princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, a warm sendoff. Police had to clear a way for the couple through the cheering crowd.

With the princess safely away from Dublin, the Irish police released 19 men taken into protective custody during her visit.

AWAITING TRIAL

Ten others remained in Limerick jail awaiting trial on charges of unlawful assembly. Police say they are members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, which staged a series of anti-British demonstrations during the week the princess was in Ireland.

IRA men felled trees across the royal route from Dublin to Birr Castle, home of Lord Snowdon's mother. On Thursday the couple moved to Abbeyleix House to visit Snowdon's sister, and the IRA shorted out an electric transformer three miles away, plunging the neighborhood into darkness. The transformer explosion also broke windows at Abbeyleix House.

★ ★ ★

"We heard a bit of a boom," said the princess Sunday and laughed.

Margaret and Snowdon traveled home on a regularly scheduled airliner but a compartment was partitioned off for them. Other passengers' baggage was checked minutely and security men screen all maintenance men who serviced the plane.

LONG LINKS

Ironically, Abbeyleix House has long links with Ireland's fight for independence from Britain. Among the ancestors of Snowdon's brother-in-law, Viscount de Vesci, was the 18th century rebel hero Lord Edward Fitzgerald, one of the first to fight for an Irish republic.

The London Daily Telegraph commented: "Perhaps last week's conspirators had forgotten all this — if they ever knew it."

N-Sub Collides With Freighter

Damage Negligible; Report No Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. nuclear-powered submarine Ethan Allen collided early Sunday with a Norwegian freighter in the Mediterranean Sea but damage was negligible, the Defense Department reported.

★ ★ ★

Both ships continued on their way after exchanging identifications. No casualties were reported.

The Ethan Allen, which cost $105 million, is one of three submarines carrying Polaris missiles on duty in the Mediterranean.

NO INFORMATION

The Norwegian freighter was the Octavian. No information was available here on its home port.

It was learned that the Ethan Allen was at periscope depth when the collision occurred — reportedly in the western end of the Mediterranean.

★ ★ ★

The official announcement said:

"While on a routine transit of the Mediterranean Sea the U.S. Navy submarine Ethan Allen had a minor collision with a Norwegian freighter SS Octavian. Damage was negligible and both proceeded with their normal missions after exchanging identifications."

RETURNING TO BASE

The Ethan Allen is based at the U.S.-Spanish naval base at Rota, Spain. Naval sources there said the sub probably was returning to the base for a routine crew change after a patrol assignment in the Mediterranean.

The passionflower is so named from a fancied resemblance of its parts to the instruments of Christ's crucifixion.

Defecting Czech in NY

NEW DELHI (AP) — A Czech architect who refused to return home after visiting India has reached New York, informed sources said today.

The man was identified only as Miroslav Novotny of Prague. The sources said the U.S. Consulate in Calcutta granted Novotny a nonimmigrant visa to visit the United States.

Mom's Clothes Fair Game for Daughter

By JOY STILLEY
Written for Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — I'm certainly in no hurry for my 14-year-old daughter to grow up, but I must confess I'm anxious for her to grow a little bigger.

Right now she's exactly my size and all of my clothes fit her perfectly. Since she gets up earlier than I do, some parts of my wardrobe are missing when I start to dress.

★ ★ ★

One of my sweaters just happens to go perfectly with the skirt Gay is wearing that day. Or one of my skirts is an ideal accompaniment for one of Gay's sweaters. She even manages to borrow one of my skirts plus one of my sweaters at the same time by persuading me that her popularity, her grades, her psyche, her status with her peer group and her ability to conjugate in French will all suffer horribly if she isn't allowed to wear the outfit.

I got a beautiful pair of royal blue shorts last summer and was lucky enough to run across some canvas sneakers in exactly the same shade. Fall came along before I had a chance to wear them more than once, and about that time Gay got a plaid skirt with just that tone of blue in it. Even I have to admit it's a perfect match, but I hope I'll reinherit what's left of the shoes by next summer.

DAUGHTER SHARES

It's only fair to report that Gay is generous about sharing her things with me. The trouble is I don't often need hairbows, anklets, knee socks and sweat shirts.

Blouses are fair game for my young clothesnaper, and so are my slacks, raincoat, jackets and any gloves that happen to go with what she is wearing. She has her own supply of stockings, but emergencies seem to develop regularly when mine are the only runless ones in the house.

★ ★ ★

So far my dresses are a little too sophisticated for her and I hope they'll stay that way until she outgrows them. And I've managed to keep her out of my high heels too. That issue is pretty well settled now, because her feet have suddenly surpassed mine by half a size.

Come to think of it, could that be why she bought me size 7 black sneakers as a gift recently, when I take a 6½? She said the store was out of the smaller size, but I wonder. Her black sneakers are getting a little shabby.

Eye Shutdown of U.P. Mines

LANSING (AP) — A special governor's task force planned to spend today conferring with area officials on possible steps to ease the impact of two planned iron ore mine shutdowns in the Gogebic Range.

Pickands-Mather Co. of Cleveland announced last week the Carey Mine will close Jan. 28 and the Mauthe Mine Feb. 19, causing a layoff of some 450 workers.

"These discussions of immediate and long-range possibilities will pertain both to methods of making Gogebic-type iron ore more competitive and to placement and possible retraining of the workers affected," said Gov. George Romney.

Conferring with civic leaders, mining executives and labor leaders in the mine area, will be Malcolm Lovell Jr., director of the state's economic opportunity program; Thomas Roumell, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission; two of Roumell's staff members, and John Kavanagh, chief of the industry division of the State Economic Expansion Department.

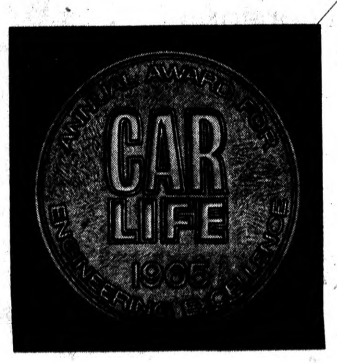
Mercury, year's most successful car, awarded year's top honor



The car you see on this page is the proud recipient of the hardest won award in the automobile business.

Receives Car Life honor.

Car Life Magazine is very particular about its Annual Award for Engineering Excellence. So much so, in fact, that last year they didn't give it at all.

In selecting Mercury for 1965, the magazine stated, "The 1965 Mercury shows a quality of concept, design and engineering far above the ordinary."

Car Life goes on to describe "the comfort and the quiet" of Mercury. Then the "briskness, massive handsomeness, and the good road manner."

Car Life isn't the only authority in the automobile field that's been praiseful of the 1965 Mercury.

Wide press acclaim.

The New York Times called Mercury "the surprise hit of 1965 in the medium-price field." Automotive News says it's "probably the most changed car in years." Life Magazine, the Miami News, the Pittsburgh Post Gazette have echoed these sentiments.

But what counts most, really, is customers—people who come in and say, "I like"—and then buy. Right now, the 1965 Mercury is getting the greatest customer acceptance in its history.

Production up 83%.

To assure meeting the increased demand, production schedules for Mercury have been increased 83%.

Credit for all this, of course, goes to the car itself. An entirely new kind of Mercury—built in the Lincoln Continental tradition. Beautifully proportioned. Solid, substantial and quiet. And with a long list of luxury features and options once reserved only for the most expensive cars. No medium-price car has ever come so close in luxury to the high-price class.

Come see what all the talk is about. Drive the new Mercury—in the Lincoln Continental tradition—today.

Junior Editors Quiz on MISSISSIPPI

QUESTION — How did the Mississippi River get its name?

ANSWER: Before the white men came, the Ojibway or Chippewa Indians, living in the forest regions around Lake Superior, knew of a river which flowed southward.

Perhaps they had paddled down it in their beautiful white canoes or heard the story from other Indians, since they knew something of its vast size. They named it "Mis" — meaning great — and "sipi" — for river.

So the name "Missipi" appeared on maps of the early French explorers. Pronounce this as written above and you will see how it almost seems to need the extra "ss" "p" and "i" which were later given to it.

In any case, it now sounds far more musical. Americans have given their greatest river several other names.

Sit down by its banks at its lower reaches, after it has received the waters of one-eighth of the United States, and you will understand the nickname "ol' man river" and the words of the famous song "he jus' keeps rollin along."

You'll also understand another favorite nickname: "the big muddy." But most moving of all names is another translation of the Indians' Missipi one: "Father of Waters."

With its more than 250 contributing rivers, the Mississippi drains an area from the Rocky Mountains on the west to the Appalachians on the east. It is the greatest inland waterway in the world.

FOR YOU TO DO: Check an atlas and see if you can find the names of some of the other large rivers that flow into the Mississippi.

Food Barges Get to Stanleyville

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI) — Eight barges with 900 tons of food have reached government troops and civilians in Stanleyville despite fierce attacks from rebels entrenched along the Congo River.

★ ★ ★

Reliable sources said the much-needed supplies arrived during the weekend. For months the 3,000-mile-long river had been closed to government traffice by rebel shore emplacements of machine guns and automatic 20-millimeter cannon.

Stanleyville is the former rebel capital. Since its recapture by the government two months ago, all foodstuffs for its more than 100,000 civilians have been flown in.

Rebels attacked the convoy from shore positions at Elisabeth, about 125 miles northwest of Stanleyville. The barges continued unscathed when government planes strafed and fired rockets into the rebel positions.

★ ★ ★

Administrative advisers were rushed to Stanleyville to supervise marketing of the foodstuffs. Few private shops have been reopened in the city; its many Greek, Indian and Portuguese traders left during the long siege last year.

★ ★ ★

Rebels still control a large portion of the northeast Congo. A government setback was reported yesterday at Mahagi, along the section bordering Uganda.

Congolese army troops were reported to have retreated from the town, the most advanced position reached by government forces seeking to cut off aid reaching the rebels through the frontier.

In the United Arab Republic, Sudanese Premier Sirr el Khatim el Khalifa announced in a Radio Cairo interview that his nation supported the Communist-backed insurgents in the Congo.

★ ★ ★

"The Sudanese government extends aid and hopes it can increase that aid," he said. "It also facilitates movements of aid coming from friendly countries to the Congo through its territory.

★ ★ ★

The Sudan borders on the northeast portion of the Congo. The Congolese government has charged that aid from the Soviet Union and other countries reaches the rebels through the Sudan.

CAPTURED ARMS — Three Tshombe mercenaries are shown examining what they claim are Soviet-made arms and ammunition captured from the rebels in northeastern Congo. The photo, which was taken late last year, was made available in Brussels yesterday.

Ford Seeks Taft-Hartley Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, the newly elected House Republican leader, advocated today an amendment to the Taft-Hartley labor law to prevent what he regards as misuse of union dues for political purposes.

Speaking on a recorded radio program, "From the People," Ford said also that he opposes repeal of the section of the Taft-Hartley law which makes it possible for states to pass legislation which bars compulsory union shops.

President Johnson in his State of the Union message stated his approval of the Democratic platform plank which calls for repeal of this section of the law.

Asked to cite examples of use of union dues for political purposes, Ford said:

"Well, the trouble is that they take these dues and use them for 'educational purposes.' And the educational purposes include the publication of . . . magazines or newspapers which are filled with partisan political propaganda.

ONE-SIDED

"I could show you one newspaper after the other which is about as one-sided as you can have a publication—99 and 9-10 of the time for the Democratic party.

"Well, there are a lot of good Republicans in labor organizations who deserve better treatment than they get from these labor bosses who use their funds for partisan political purposes, yes, I would support strongly some such an amendment."

ICC Approval Awaited on Rail Merger

CHICAGO (AP) — Approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission is the next step in the merger plans of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad and the Union Pacific Railroad.

Rock Island stockholders voted approval of the merger, over the objections of the Chicago and North Western Railway, by a 7-1 margin in balloting completed Sunday.

Holders of 2,280,789 shares — or 78.2 per cent of the 2,916,911 shares outstanding — voted to approve the merger. Holders of 297,380 shares — 10.2 per cent — opposed it.

Two-thirds of the Rock Island common shares outstanding was needed for approval.

After the vote was announced, Jervis Langdon Jr., board chairman of the Rock Island, and Frank E. Barnett, vice president and general counsel of the UP, said they would put the merger before the ICC for approval.

The proposal would give Rock Island shareholders one share of a new UP preferred stock with a pledged annual $1.80 dividend return for the first three years and convertible within a specified period into .85 share of UP common stock. The new UP preferred stock would have voting rights.

A merger of the two carriers would give the UP a direct entry into Chicago. The UP now uses the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad between Omaha and Chicago.

The Rock Island operates about 7,800 miles of road in the midcontinent. Its lines extend south and west out of Chicago to Galveston, Tex., Denver and Tucumcari, N.M.

Under the proposal — originally launched in May 1963 — the combined system would sell to the Southern Pacific Railroad all of the Rock Island's 3,500 miles of track south and southwest of Kansas City.

It's a Naval Tradition

Don't Give Up the Bean Ball!

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Navy tradition is rich with pungent quotations, two of the better known examples being "Don't give up the ship" and "Damn the torpedoes, etc."

WEST

Ranking right up there with these historic utterances, in my judgment, is the spirited motto coined by Capt. John N. Norrocks Jr., commissioner of the Navy bean ball league.

While serving as executive officer of the USS Springfield, where bean ball evoluted from a simple, unorganized game into a way of life, Norrocks spoke the immortal line: If there is one thing I hate it's a poor loser—or a winner of any kind . . . "

I first heard of Norrocks' quotation in a communication that I received from Capt. R. S. Crenshaw Jr., former skipper of the Springfield, who is known as "The father of modern bean ball."

My interest in the subject sprang from an item I saw in which Crenshaw was credited with drafting the first official rules for bean ball, which previously had defied all attempts at standardization.

GREW FROM FRUSTRATION

When I pressed the good captain for details of this extraordinary development, he reported that modern bean ball was an outgrowth of the frustrations encountered in trying to play volleyball on shipboard.

Volleyballs, he explained, either 1. bounce over the side of the ship, or 2. blow over the side of the ship.

The solution was to replace the air in the ball with rags, or some other solid substance.

★ ★ ★

"We actually tried beans," Crenshaw said, "but they were too heavy."

ASKS FOR COPY

I also asked Crenshaw to send me a copy of the bean ball rule book. In due course, I received three copies. The Navy does everything in triplicate.

Following are some of the more pertinent canons governing the conduct and ethics of a bean ball game:

"Bean ball may be played on any convenient surface. The court may or may not be marked.

★ ★ ★

Players have generally found an unmarked court conducive to play and a stimulant to active conversation."

'ANY NUMBER CAN PLAY'

"Any number of players may be in the game at any time, the general rule being that the smaller the court the larger the teams."

"Team captains should be the junior members of each team as no one pays any attention to them anyway."

"Each team shall be responsible for officiating its own violations. Conscience is the only umpire."

★ ★ ★

"Winning bean ball is not the result of skill, strength and agility, but rank."

McDonald vs. Abel

Rivals for Steelworker Post View Issues

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The United Steelworkers Union (USW) will vote Feb. 9 on whether David J. McDonald will remain in his $50,000-a-year post as president of the million-member union. USW Secretary - Treasurer I. W. Abel is trying to supplant him. Because of the bitter fight, the nationwide steel contract negotiations have been recessed until sometime after the union's Feb. 9 election. A UPI reporting team held simultaneous but separate interviews with McDonald and Abel. In the following dispatch, the rivals spell out their differences.)

★ ★ ★

By MAXWELL FARELL and GLORIA WOLFORD

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Two men similar in backgrounds, association and motivation told why they feel one will crush the other in a test of strength.

Each was certain of victory.

The antagonists are David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America (USW) for 12 years, and his long - time ally, I. W. Abel, secretary - treasurer and the union's No. 2 man.

Abel characterized McDonald as "too aloof" and "lacking interest" toward the rank-and-file millhand.

★ ★ ★

McDonald denied he has lost touch with the man in the mill:

"That's propaganda planted by Mr. Abel's public relations men," he said. "I have shaken more steelworkers' hands than Mr. Abel's ever seen."

Abel of Welsh parentage said he thought of running for the presidency for a number of years. He contended McDonald's leadership started to decline in 1952 — about a year after McDonald assumed the presidency following the death of the union's founder, Philip Murray.

The white - haired McDonald said he learned he would have opposition from Abel "the day it was announced."

"I knew there were a couple of locals trying to get someone to run," McDonald said. "But just two days before the announcement, one of Abel's top aides said to me, 'Why do you pay any attention to this, you know Abe wouldn't do anything like that.'"

★ ★ ★

"Discussion of my candidacy had been going on for a period of years. Union members tried to persuade me to run for the office but I reached no firm decision until the middle of October (1964)."

McDonald was asked why he thought Abel decided on running against him.

"I haven't the remotest idea. I thought he was my friend. He had said to me a short time before his announcment that he wouldn't run against me."

Both men were asked if they thought the recess in contract negotiations called last week would hurt the steelworker?

McDonald said he opposed the recess on grounds it would touch off even more stockpiling among steel users, ultimately damaging both the industry and the worker. He also firmly opposed any contract extension sought by the industry becasue of the recess.

"The men will be losing money if we extend the contract. They'll be working without any wage increase," McDonald said. "I have said repeatedly my job is to get a labor contract, and it transcends all politics. I will recommend to the wage policy committee Jan. 14th that the contract not be extended."

★ ★ ★

The union president said consumers "started stockpiling in October, according to reports. It (stockpiling) will hurt. The wage raise the steelworker will get in the new agreement won't do him any good if he's laid off, which is what stockpiling could lead to."

Abel, however, was not opposed to the recess, and he disagreed with McDonald's position on stockpiling.

The recess will not hurt negotiations 'at all,' he said. "In fact, it might be beneficial. I am quite hopeful that honorable people can reach a satisfactory agreement."

Of stockpiling he said: "I won't visualize as great a stockpiling as some newspaper people believe. The economy is booming, and requirements placed on the industry are taxing."

★ ★ ★

Discussing the actual negotiations, McDonald said he hoped the union could win major contract gains without a strike.

"It's easy to scream 'Shut the industry down' but its difficult to negotiate an agreement," he said.

Abel was confident his forces could negotiate a contract 'more to the liking of the membership.'

"We will have a more realistic approach to the problems and aspirations of the steelworkers," he said.

McDonald was questioned about rank - and - file complaints over work rules and the length of time taken to process grievances.

'Some companies work fast, others don't," he said. 'This will be worked out on a company by company basis. No general economic agreement will be signed before these are settled.'

★ ★ ★

McDonald said he felt "very confident" about the election.

Asked if he thought Abel will poll more votes than those obtained by Donald Rarick of McKeesport, Pa., when he ran against him in 1957, McDonald said, "I don't know."

'However, I will say Rarick had real issues, the Union dues. Mr. Abel has no issues," McDonald said. Rarick polled more than one-third of the votes as a "dues protest committee" candidate. He sought repeal of a dues increase of $2 a month.

★ ★ ★

McDonald said "about half" of the USW's 29 district supporters were backing him. Abel said 15 directors were supporting him.

★ ★ ★

McDonald said none who had announced support for Abel had informed him they had changed their minds. He said though, "I do not know some are very frightened, particularly by the rank - and - file's reaction to their (Abel and his backers) refusal to approve the staff organizing committee. Here are union men opposing union men."

The committee seeks recognition as the collective bargaining agent for 570 USW field staff representatives in the United States.

McDonald said Abel's decision to run against him "surprised" and "confused" rank-and-file members.

"They keep asking me why?

Congress to Get 4 More LBJ Messages This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sends four more messages to Congress this week to spell out details of his legislative program.

Tuesday there will be one on education, Wednesday on immigration, Thursday on foreign aid and Friday on space. They follow last Thursday's message on health and the President's State of the Union message delivered a week ago tonight.

★ ★ ★

Johnson's requests are piling up on a Congress that still hasn't had a chance to get organized. Both House and Senate hope to complete action on committee assignments during the week. Until they do, no action on legislation can be taken.

The President gave a hint of what he wants in the field of education and immigration in his State of the Union address.

$1.5 BILLION

He is seeking $1.5 billion for an education program touching all school years from prekindergarten to graduate school. The main effort will be directed at helping primary and secondary schools in low-income areas.

Little that is new is expected to be included in Johnson's specific request. What is new is the big Democratic majority in the House that offers the administration hope for programs that have been blocked in Congress for years.

WENT NO PLACE

Johnson's proposals on immigration are also expected to echo those submitted by his predecessor, John F .Kennedy, which went no place in the last Congress.

The key feature undoubtedly will be a plea for an end to the present fixing of immigration quotas for each country, with Western and Northern European countries given preference over all others.

In his State of the Union address, Johnson called for an immigration law "based on the work a man can do and not where he was born or how he spells his name."

He is expected to ask for elimination of the quota system over a five-year period. The total quota would be kept as an annual limit on immigration. But except for preferences given to job skills and the reuniting of families, persons would be admitted on a first-come, first-served basis.

There has been little advance information about Johnson's proposals for foreign aid and space legislation.

Although legislative committees have not yet been set up, the Senate Commerce Committee will hold a hearing Tuesday on Johnson's nomination of John T. Connor to be secretary of commerce.

★ ★ ★

Both House and Senate committees will be briefed by CIA Director John A. McCone.

One more battle remains to be fought in the leadership struggle going on among House Republicans. Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the new leader, is expected to dump the assistant leader, Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, by midweek for an as yet undisclosed choice.

The last census counted 524,000 American Indians.

Big Rocket Nozzle Heads for Georgia

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) —A huge rocket motor nozzle, described by a Rohr Corp. spokesman as the largest in the world, was en route here today from Ontario, Calif.

★ ★ ★

The nozzle will be attached to a 100-foot-long, solid-rocket motor expected to produce approximately three million pounds of thrust, or twice the thrust of any known motor produced today, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

The nozzle was built for Thiokol Chemical Corp. which built the rocket motor and has a facility at Brunswick. The nozzle weighs 10 tons, stands 19½ feet high and will project a flame 14 feet in diameter.

N. Y. Exec Succumbs

PORT CHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Kenneth P. Steinriech, 65, civic leader and president of the Fifth Ave. Coach Co., died Saturday after a heart attack. Steinreich, who lived at Rye, N.Y., was an executive with several New York financial institutions and was a former president of the Jacob Ruppert brewery.

American Designers Hold Shows

AP Wirephoto

Feathers fluttered as a New York model traveled the runway in Arnold Scaasi's strapless white feather ball gown. The pink bodice matches a pink sari stole not shown. This gown was part of the American Designer series now on display for fashion writers.

From Arnold Scaasi's made-to-order 1965 collection comes a dress and jacket costume in robin's egg blue embossed cotton-and silk. The forward movement of the sleeveless dress is effected by the foldover front of the skirt, and by a bow at the waistline. The dress has a low neckline.

The Spanish influence is seen in Adele Simpson's vivid yellow cocktail dress with jacket trimmed in black looped-edge braid. Fabric is Galey & Lord's rich, full-bodied ottoman of "Dacron" polyester and cotton, a favorite with the American couture. The unadorned dress with jacket such as this, for late day occasions, has become a basic for the stay-at-home or travel wardrobe.

AP Wirephoto

Elegance reigns in gowns for wear at formal spring social events. Arnold Scaasi's designs include this violet and pink metallic brocade dress. The skirt flares into fishtail fullness at the hemline.

Be Sensitive, Too

Jump Out of Situation

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem small to you, but it's big to me.

ABBY

Whenever my husband and I go to his parents', my father-in-law lies down on the living room floor and insists that I jump on his stomach as hard as I can.

I suppose he's trying to show off how strong he is. I've tried to get out of these demonstrations because it makes me feel so foolish, but my father-in-law insists, and rather than make a big scene I go along with it.

How can I get out of these silly performances without hurting his feelings? He is a very dear man otherwise, and quite sensitive.

PART OF THE ACT

DEAR PART: Even though your father-in-law may be "dear" and "sensitive," you, as a woman, are entitled to be "sensitive" about jumping up and down on a man's stomach.

If he must show off his abdominal strength, he shouldn't ask a woman to do a man's job.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for four years and the company where he used to work still sends a Christmas card to "MR. AND MRS. ——."

I feel terrible about this and wonder if other widows have the same problem. Or do you suppose they haven't missed my husband at work yet?

FEELING LOW

DEAR FEELING: I am sure they miss your husband. (I'll bet they took him off the payroll.) Notify the company that their Christmas card list needs revising.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is married and has a lovely family. Her doctor told her that she must either give up smoking or die young.

She's had pneumonia four times and her lungs are seriously weakened. I arrived the second day after she had quit smoking.

On the fourth day she invited two of her friends in for lunch and bridge. One is a chain smoker, so I offered to call this woman and explain the facts, and ask her please to refrain from smoking in my daughter's presence because she is tempted to smoke when others do.

★ ★ ★

My daughter wouldn't let me call. She said that her guests came first and she wouldn't want them to feel tense or uncomfortable.

I say that the hostess comes first and the guests are secondary. Which of us is right in the social sense?

Also, isn't there a moral principle of self-preservation involved here?

ANXIOUS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your daughter is right. She realizes that the strength to quit smoking must come from within, and attempting to isolate herself from temptation will not solve her problem.

It's her battle, Mother. Let her fight it her way.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Please stop advising people to call their hostesses the day after a party to "thank" them again.

When my guests leave, they say "thank you" and that is good enough for me.

The day after I entertain I am so bone-tired that all I want to do is crawl into a corner and stay there.

★ ★ ★

But now, thanks to you, Dear Abby, I have to jump up every five minutes to answer the phone and listen to somebody "thank" me again for the lovely evening.

I don't like written thank-you notes, either.

When the postman delivers one of those little envelopes I think it is an invitation to a party, and when I discover it is just a formal "thank-you" note, what a letdown!

Teens Need Supervision at Parties

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am the mother of a 15-year-old daughter. Every once in a while she and her boy and girl friends get together at one another's houses and have a party.

Whenever the group comes to my house, I make it a point to be at home.

When they go to the houses of some of the other boys and girls, the parents go out and leave these young people alone.

I thoroughly disapprove of this and have told my daughter and I don't want her going to these houses.

She has made a terrific fuss over this and thinks I am being very unfair. She says that as long as they are in a group, a chaperone is unnecessary. I think group or no group, an older person should be in the house to see that they behave properly. May I please have your opinion of this?

A: I agree. Young teens should not be left alone in a house even though they are in a group.

This last is no guarantee against imprudent behavior on the part of some, and an adult member of the family should be present in the house to chaperone them.

Engagement Announced

The Franklin S. Letkes of the City of Southfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Joan, to Robert Frank Solomon, son of the E. J. Solomons, North Ridgeville, Ohio.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Carnegie Institute, Detroit.

October vows are planned.

Parents Tell Engagements

Former Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton B. Edwards of East Davison Lake Road, Oxford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Sandra Carol to Gerald E. Pratt, son of the John A. Pratts of East Long Lake Road. The couple has set a May 1 date.

The J. L. Wierings of Emmons Street, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Sally Ann to Terry L. McCaslin, son of Mrs. Ward McCaslin of Hartline Street, Avon Township and the late Mr. McCaslin. The couple is planning a May 1 wedding.

The engagement of Linda Jean Power to Richard William Kehrer is announced by her parents, the Wendell L. Powers of Fourteen Mile Road, West Bloomfield Township. Her fiance is the son of the John P. Kehrers of Dawn Ridge Road, Commerce Township.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Every year at this time tens of thousands of women determine to improve their appearance, to lose overweight and banish bulges which have been making them self-conscious.

They resolve to invest, day by day, in beauty and health care which will make them look and feel years younger.

Each January I bring you my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP for short) to help. This is really a course I will be conducting through your newspaper, just as though I were teaching you in a class.

★ ★ ★

You do not have to wait for a year in order to become more attractive. You can improve your appearance a hundred per cent in just eight short weeks, the next eight weeks!

LOSE 15-20 POUNDS

In this length of time you can lost from 15 to 20 pounds, improve your posture, hair hair and complexion, and streamline your measurements. This is no idle fancy of mine.

Bip is fun because you will have so much company. When you follow the program you will know that thousands of other women are calorie counting and exercising and giving special care to their complexions, just as you are.

YOUR IDEAL WEIGHT

Now let's get started! First, if your goal is to lose weight, we must decide what your ideal weight is.

Look at the following weight chart. The scientific method for determining whether you have a small frame, a medium frame or a large frame is too technical to describe here.

★ ★ ★

However, you can judge fairly well for yourself.

If you have small dainty bones you belong in the small classification. If your bones are large and heavy that's where you go. If you are in between you belong to the medium classification.

Look at your wrists. Are they small or large boned? Are your shoulders wide?

Tomorrow I will talk about measurements and how many calories you should have to start with.

All you have to do to join my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan is to follow the columns in this newspaper.

BIP KIT

If you would like to have the BIP Kit which gives you complete directions in a booklet and also contains a chart on which you can plot your progress and watch your beauty line rise as your weight line drops, send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling, with your printed name and address to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Edwards of Rockhaven Street, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Judy Lee of Dearborn Street, Avon Township, to James Kenneth Bridges, son of Alan C. Bridges of Cameron Avenue and the late Mrs. Bridges. He resides with his uncle and aunt, the David Blacks also of Dearborn Street. A Feb. 13 wedding is planned.

Shoemaker Lasts Then and Now

MANDAN, N. D. (AP) — Ole Syvrud has little sympathy with men who want to retire early. At the age of 90, he is still working at the shoemaker's trade he learned 75 years ago in his native Norway. He and his wife came to America in 1906, settling near where his wife had relatives.

He has had his shop in the same block for 57 years and puts in a full day's work there every work day.

Paying Off Loan Not Always Best Idea

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: We have just purchased a new car. We got a bank loan for $3200 for a three - year period. We have made two payments.

MARY FEELEY

My husband has now decided to pay off the loan. To do this he will withdraw the money from our savings account — leaving approximately $2,000 in it.

★ ★ ★

I am against this, because he is in business for himself, and this money represents security to me in case of illness or other emergency.

We would be able to replace the money in 18 months if everything goes as well as it is now. Is he right in feeling that we are just wasting the $400 interest charge on the loan? Mrs. B. J. H., Massillon, Ohio

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. H.: Let's look at it this way: if you pay off that car loan out of your savings, you'll save $400 in interest. If you leave the money in the savings account, it will earn $399. This is figuring 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly on $3200.

★ ★ ★

Of course, you've already made two payments. But the money difference is pretty small, either way you handle it. The privilege of buying on time costs you very little in this particular case.

For a man in business for himself, this can be important. Many businesses have failed because of lack of capital.

To me, the risk of reducing your savings account doesn't seem worthwhile. I'd go along with the present payment plan—and with your point of view.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Feeley: I have been a widow for the past 17 years, during which time I have raised a fine boy. But the time has come when I am faced with a problem I cannot handle alone.

I have met a wonderful man, a widower with two girls. We are very much in love. He is not a man of means; his wife's illness wiped out his savings, and being a construction worker, he loses many working days in the winter.

My question is this: I would like to know what it costs for a family of five to live moderately comfortably these days.

He pays $68 rent and $50 a week to his sister-in-law (his daughters lives with her.) My rent is $95 a month. My son, 17, is still atending school. My friend's two girls are 6 and 10.

I go to business but it is unlikely that I would continue to do so if we marry. Having been alone so long, I'm afraid of letting my heart rule my head. Mrs. J.D., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. D.: You haven't given me enough basic information, especially about your friend's income. If he averages $125 a week, you could think about giving up your own job when you marry.

CAN'T LIVE ON LOVE

I was born with the conviction that people can live on love. But a number of years spent dealing with the stark financial fact so life has taught me that it takes both a head and a heart to make a marriage work, to feed and educate children, and keep a roof over your head.

Look over this expense estimate — which includes something for savings — and see how you think your plans would work out:

Housing, $125; household operating costs, $30; food, $143; clothing, $30; savings, (this includes insurance) $20; personal allowances ($43 for him, $21 for your son who needs some spending money at age 17, and $13 for you), $77; miscellaneous, $20; medical costs, $15; recreation and entertainment (companionship will have to take the place of money), $15; school items, $10; transportation, $30. Total, depending on rent, about $515 per month.

In estimating your costs, try to see that rent doesn't exceed one week's salary (his in this case). This is a rule of thumb that seems to work best.

(You can get Mary Feeley's handy leaflet on Building Financial Stability by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long- stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Medley of Vegetables Makes a Good Salad

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

A letter last week from a reader in Ortonville enclosed an interesting recipe for vegetable salad.

The writer, Mrs. Olive Borst, also commented on the recent recipe for Raisin Squares in which ½ cup of flour appeared as part of the filling instead of ½ cup water.

Evidently, Mrs. Borst missed the later correction.

Mrs. Borst's salad is the kind you put on the buffet table. She says it will keep for weeks in the refrigerator.

VEGETABLE SALAD
By Mrs. Olive Borst

1 cup kidney beans
1 can whole kernel Mexican corn
1 small can peas
1 can green beans, French style
1 small can pimiento
1 onion, chopped
4 stalks celery, chopped
1 cup sugar
1 cup vinegar
½ cup salad oil
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon paprika

Drain all vegetables and mix. Beat dressing ingredients and pour over salad.

Let stand a few hours before serving to blend flavors; overnight would be even better.

Carl E. Durnells Wed in Double Ring Rites

Susan Anne Wolff exchanged vows and rings with Carl Eugene Durnell of Haskell Road, Taylor Township, Saturday in the Christ Lutheran Church.

A gown and train of white velvet for the daughter of the Lester F. Wolffs of Maceday Lake Road was styled with a deep cummerbund of sequined lace.

Her French illusion veil was fitted to a pearl tiara and the cascade bouquet of white roses and Stephanotis was streamered.

Karen Hunchberger, her cousin's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Beverly Poorman and Mrs. William Winnie, wore cranberry velvet.

American Beauty roses and Stephanotis rested on their white fur muffs which matched their pillbox hats.

Frank Renko was best man for the son of Mrs. Marion E. Seffern of Floral City, Fla. and the late Benjamin Durnell.

Kosygin May Beg Off on British Trip

By MURRAY J. BROWN
United Press International

It looks as if British Prime Minister Harold Wilson will have to go to Moscow for his first talks with the new men in the Kremlin.

Officially, hope is still being expressed in London that Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin will honor his promise to visit Britain early this year.

But signs are increasing that the Kremlin is having second thoughts and wants to delay Kosygin's first official visit to the West, if not call it off altogether.

TROUBLED TIBET: Some intelligence sources in Hong Kong believe there may be another mass exodus of refugees from Red-dominated Tibet in the coming months.

They say recent actions by Red China indicates unrest in the former Himalayan theocracy is even more serious than was believed.

They see no chance for the Tibetans to get rid of their Chinese overlords and believe more will flee to India if they can get through the rugged mountains and the strong Chinese military guards.

COSTLY EXPERIMENT: American military men in Saigon say Communist casualties in the next few big battles may determine whether the Viet Cong will switch from guerrilla tactics to more conventional warfare.

U. S. military spokesmen, while labeling four recent major clashes as an escalation in Viet Cong tactics, have been careful at the same time to describe them as a Communist "experiment.'

The big battles inflict heavy losses on the Communists as well as the government forces. The Reds lost two and won two of their tactical "experiments."

PARIS PROJECT: France hopes to get more Eastern European trade out of the forthcoming visit by Communist Janos Peter.

It follows visits to Paris in recent months by Romanian, Czechoslovakian and Bulgarian Communist leaders.

The French also would like to get a high-level Polish delegation to Paris soon but nothing has jelled yet.

MALAYSIA MANEUVERS: British authorities are bolstering Malaysia's defenses "just in case" Indonesian President Sukarno should decide to intensify his campaign to crush the federation in Southeast Asia.

LAY CORNERSTONE — Utica Mayor Fred E. Beck wields a trowel of mortar as the cornerstone for Utica's new municipal building was laid yesterday afternoon. The $130,000 structure will house the police department and library as well as city offices. Participants in the 2 p.m. ceremony were (from left) Mrs. W. Leroy Biesenthal, library board chairman; Mayor Beck; Neal Smith of Smith & Smith, architects of Royal Oak; Erwin Kerner of Utica, general contractor; and Robert Hirr, municipal building authority chairman.

On Urban Renewal

Utica Searching for Ideas

UTICA — Anybody have any ideas on urban renewal for the City of Utica?

★ ★ ★

The City Planning Commission wants them.

Before setting a date for a public hearing on the general development plan worked out by experts for Utica, the planning commission would like to have comments and suggestions on the plan from various public and private bodies.

Copies of the plan are now available at the municipal building for the inspection of interested persons.

★ ★ ★

The plan is the result of work which began when the city signed a contract with the state in April 1963.

PLANNING COST

Under that agreement, Utica paid $3,500 of the cost of the planning program, and the balance of the $13,998 total cost came from the federal government under the urban planning assistance program.

The planning commission worked with consultant Jacob Driker of Development Planning Co., Pontiac, on various portions of the program.

The general development plan which resulted summarizes major recommendations made over the past two years and was presented to Mayor Fred H. Beck in October 1964.

★ ★ ★

Beginning with an analysis of the area's economy and population growth, the plan makes a number of recommendations on the downtown area, highways and thoroughfares, the Clinton River Valley, neighborhoods, school sites, financial capacity and related matters.

OLD DOWNTOWN AREA

One of the recommendations made covers redevelopment of the old downtown area centering around Van Dyke and Auburn roads, including a perimeter loop road around the downtown core.

The plan suggests recreational development of the Clinton River Valley within the city limits, tying in with future recreational facilities in the lands owned by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority and the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Also covered is the location of a civic center complex, centering around the new municipal building on Auburn, west of the downtown area.

★ ★ ★

The cornerstone of the new structure was laid in a 2 p.m. ceremony yesterday.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

Other recommendations are for a professional office district north of Summers Street and west of Van Dyke and revisions in thoroughfares penetrating the downtown area for a smoother traffic flow.

Also proposed is major expansion of off-street parking in the downtown and commercial areas.

Along with the general development plan go a zoning ordinance and subdivision regulations recently adopted by the planning commission.

While the general plan is an over-all guide for long-range development, the zoning and subdivision documents help carry the plan forward on a current, day-to-day basis.

PREPARATORY STEPS

In accordance with recommendations made in the general development plan, the planning commission has authorized Driker to take preparatory steps for urban renewal in the downtown area, under the federal urban renewal program.

★ ★ ★

A field representative of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency in Chicago will survey the area Wednesday to determine the feasibility of urban renewal.

Proposed Zoning Law Will Be Aired in Oxford

OXFORD — Now that village officials have a general idea of how Oxford should look years from now, they are about to take the first steps toward making that conception a reality.

Residents will have an opportunity to air their views Wednesday on a proposed zoning ordinance that has a crucial role in the progress toward the Oxford of the future.

The 7:30 p.m. public hearing is for the purpose of explaining the zoning ordinance to residents, who may then ask questions about it and get answers from the planners themselves.

It will be held in the high school student lounge.

★ ★ ★

The proposed ordinance is one of the tools which will be used to effect the master plan accepted by the planning commission and Village Council as a general guide to decision-making.

HELPED DEVELOP

Consultants Vilican - Leman and Associates of Southfield, who helped develop both the master plan and the zoning ordinance, will be represented by Claude Coats at the hearing.

Also present to answer questions and explain details will be Village President Edmund Unger and Planning Commission President Lowell Prescott.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance will govern the way in which village residents and firms may use their land, setting aside specific areas for specific purposes ranging from residential to industrial.

Keego Office to Sell 1965 Plates 3 Nights

KEEGO HARBOR — Automobile license plates for 1965 will be sold at the Keego Harbor city office three nights this week.

Willis M. Brewer, manager of the secretary of state's Pontiac office, has been authorized to sell the plates from 6 to 9 p.m. today, tomorrow and Wednesday at the Keego Harbor office, 2965 Orchard Lake.

New Principal to Be Installed

Ex-Missionary Will Serve in White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Joseph F. Neubacher, a former teacher - missionary serving in New Guinea, will be installed Sunday as principal of Cedar Crest Lutheran School.

The formal ceremony is scheduled for 11 a.m. at the school, 485 Farnsworth.

Rev. Ronald A. Michel, pastor of Cedar Crest Lutheran Church, will officiate, assisted by members of the school's board of education and church officials.

Music will be provided by the school choir under the direction of Joanne Fuchs, who also will be organist for the service.

★ ★ ★

Neubacher succeeds Louis Abraham, interim principal since the resignation of Robert Litherland in September 1964.

TEACHING MINISTRY

A U.S. Army veteran who served on Okinawa from 1951 to 1953, Neubacher was graduated in 1957 from Concordia Teacher's College in River Forest, Ill., after preparing for a career in the teaching ministry of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

Neubacher served as a teacher missionary in New Guinea from 1958 to 1963.

Upon his return to the states, he completed studies toward a master's degree at Concordia Seminary and then taught in Pontiac for several months.

Neubacher, a widower, and his three children, Gloria, Steven and Cynthia, live at 4098 Rich, Waterford Township.

Auburn Heights Boys' Club Reports Increase in Service

AUBURN HEIGHTS—A year-end report indicates the Auburn Heights Boys' Club has made some large strides forward in the past 12 months in increasing its service to a growing group of boys.

An "open-door" policy was initiated in June, allowing boys to visit the club any day at their convenience for recreation of their choice.

A number of games and other activities are provided, including some new ones added after Christmas, and a snack counter has proved popular.

Eight craft clubs for boys in fourth through seventh grades were added in December, and carry such names as the "Weird Wolves" and the "Crazy Coyotes."

★ ★ ★

Program assistants Tom Hupp of 3016 Lincolnview and Dan McCarthy of 2127 Hempstead supervise projects selected by the boys themselves.

Each craft club operates as a unit, with its own elected officers, working in a newly-equipped workshop.

SPORTS

Sports came in for a lot of attention, in line with the Boys' Club philosophy of providing all boys, regardless of ability, with the opportunity for particiaption in athletic activities.

The 1963-64 basketball program saw 96 boys participate, with 17 intraclub teams and three meeting outside competition. The 1964-65 program has 136 boys currently participating.

The baseball program, with 13 intraclub teams and three in the Pontiac city leagues, provided activity for 212 boys.

★ ★ ★

TOUCH FOOTBALL

Four touch football leagues saw 144 boys participate.

Club members visited Oakland University on 33 occasions and went to Cass Lake four times for swimming.

Sam R. Sheehy, employed as the club's full-time director in June 1964, said drastic changes in the baseball program are planned this summer.

Those boys who have the time will be given an opportunity to play baseball in a more competitive league situation.

TOO LIMITED

On the other hand, boys whose time is too limited for baseball will be able to participate in a camping - summer play program open to all that will demand less time.

In the past year, the club has become a "main-line" club, chartered by the United States Congress and incorporated under Michigan laws.

In 1964, the club directors accumulated and disbursed a total of $16,716, including $1,797 for capital improvement.

★ ★ ★

An operating budget of $17,408 has been set for 1965, but capital improvement needs will call for the raising and disbursement of more than $20,000 during the year.

UNITED FUND

The Detroit United Fund, Pontiac Area United Fund and Avon Community Chest have pledged 45 per cent of the operating budget, and the Auburn Heights Lions Club has pledged $10,000 in capital funds.

A number of other area organizations, plus individuals, contribute to the club's budget.

Sheehy points out that individual contributions and patron-sponsorships are the "life-blood" of the Boys' Club, and are needed if the club is to continue to grow.

★ ★ ★

Since April, when the total membership was 240, the number of boys in the club has swelled to 361.

Oil Tank Explosion Starts House Fire

WALLED LAKE — A leaking oil tank being repaired with a blow torch exploded yesterday, causing some $3,000 damage to a local residence, according to Walled Lake firemen.

They said the defective oil tank was behind the house at 1143 Sigma occupied by the Moore family.

The blaze caused by the explosion spread to two bedrooms at the rear of the house.

Walled Lake firemen were assisted by those from Commerce Township in their 1½-hour battle with the fire.

★ ★ ★

The unidentified repairman who was working on the oil tank reportedly was uninjured. The Moore family was not at home at the time of the fire.

Imlay City Doctor Gets Chief of Staff Position

ALMONT — Dr. Glenn L. Smith of Imlay City has been reelected chief of staff of the Community Hospital.

Elected vice chief of staff was Dr. William L. Martin of Romeo and secretary - treasurer, Dr. Dorothy L. Leith of Imlay City.

Legal Battle in Hotel Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's hotel strike and lockout, with 2,500 service employes idle for a fifth day in a wage dispute, moved toward legal battle today.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit regional office of the National Labor Relations Board scheduled a hearing on a union charge that the lockout was an unfair labor practice by the hotels. The union charged coercion of its members.

★ ★ ★

Local 705 of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers, headed by Mrs. Myra Wolfgang, veteran Detroit labor leader, and the affiliated Bartenders International were the complainants.

'Y' Winter Program Under Way

ROCHESTER — Winter activities are in full swing at the Rochester Area Branch YMCA, which is offering a varied schedule aimed at satisfying the recreational needs of youngsters and adults alike.

Skiing comes in for a lot of attention when snow conditions permit, with a three-part program.

Children and their parents who are members of the "Y" Ski Club can ski on Tuesday evenings at Mt. Holly. Parents must participate in the program.

Members of the club can also take advantage of a Wednesday daytime ski program for adults, also at Mt. Holly.

★ ★ ★

And on Saturday mornings, family skiing is the order of the day at Oakland University. Children must be accompanied by parents, and all must have their own equipment.

GUIDES PROGRAM

The "Y" Indian Guides program is also under way, with at least two activities scheduled every month.

In addition to Nation Council Meetings in the first week of every month, there will be the following activities:

GYMNASTICS — For boys and girls 8-12 and 13-18 years old at West Junior High School, 7:30-9 on Mondays.

"Y" Squares SQUARE DANCE CLUB — Meets first and third Fridays at North Hill School, 7-9:30 p.m., limited to 30 boys and 30 girls in sixth through 10th grades with at least one series of lessons.

JUNIOR AIR RIFLE — For boys 8-12 years of age, meets Thursdays from 7-8 p.m. at the "Y" Activity Center.

The Rochester YMCA sponsors both boys and girls competitive swimming teams. Both squads have begun their winter schedule of meets.

The boy's team has 11 events ahead of it with two out of the way, while the girl's outfit has six more meets, having participated in two.

The boys will climax their season April 3 with the Boys State YMCA Championships at Saginaw, while the girls will wind up with the Girls State YMCA Swimming and Diving Championships at Oakland University on March 27.

★ ★ ★

Although Jack Zahn, the YMCA's first executive secretary, is leaving Jan. 15, all activities will continue under the leadership of laymen.

Farmers Told to Use Pesticides Carefully

Farmers should follow label directions carefully when using all pesticides, and they should keep a written record of all sprays and dusts on the farm. This will help avoid pesticide residues in milk, according to Michigan State University entomologists.

Claim 'Plant-Plowing' Reduces Soil Loss

"Plant - plowing," a type of minimum tillage, reduces soil loss from erosion to 60 per cent of that from conventionally tilled land according to Michigan State University crop scientists.

Plow-plant is plowing followed by immediate planting without subsequent tillage.

She's One Of 'The Boys' On Road Building Job

Will Plan Curves, Soft Shoulders

Woman Is a New U.S. Highway Engineer

By BOB DUBILL

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The federal government boasts some real live curves in its roadbuilding program — a shapely blonde who may wind up in charge of a construction crew this summer.

She's Judith A. Carlson, first female civil engineer to be employed by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

★ ★ ★

Her credentials include a degree in mathematics, love of the outdoors, and a penchant for detail that has won her plaudits even from those engineering colleagues who contend a woman's real place is in the home.

Marriage? "Perhaps some day. But I don't think I could ever find enough to do as a homemaker," said the attractive 25-year-old. "I like to be kept busy."

FAMILY DUBIOUS

She admits her family had misgivings about her decision to enter the government's highway engineer training program.

★ ★ ★

"I majored in mathematics at Michigan Tech College, near my home town of Hancock," she said. "My parents figured four years of college for a girl was enough and I should think about settling down."

★ ★ ★

But a year of programming work in the computer department of an electrical equipment firm in Arizona convinced Judith she could "never be happy chained to a desk."

She returned to Michigan Tech where two of her brothers had won engineering degrees.

ALMOST PERSUADED

"My brothers tried to talk me out of becoming a civil engineer and they almost had me persuaded," she recalls with a smile.

The federal bureau hired her after graduation last June at a starting salary of $7,050 a year and assigned her to its regional office at the New Jersey Capitol.

She and other federal engineers coordinate interstate road planning — from the design through construction stage. Her first few months have been spent largely in brushing up on administrative procedure.

She'll be assigned to Portland, Ore., in the spring to an office which supervises building of roads in national parks and forests.

KEY TRAINING

"This is one of the key parts of the training program," said Paul L. Kliminski, her supervisor in Trenton. "The trainees actually help build roads out there because the federal government has sole jurisdiction and builders aren't confronted with design problems that plague many construction projects in urban areas."

Miss Carlson wants and gets no special treatment because she is a woman.

"She's a pretty smart gal and is adapting herself very well to the unique nature of the job," says Kliminski. "Like most students right out of college she was reluctant to question things at first. But now she's getting to be one of the boys."

WENT TO THE TOP — Henry Mitnaul, 9, of Goldsboro, N.C., wanted his dad, Sgt. Woodrow Mitnaul, home from Korea because his mother was expecting her seventh child. So Henry wrote President Johnson, and a short time later, the senior Mitnaul received word from Washington to pack his bags and go on home leave.

Easygoing David Last in Family to Face an Operation on Heart

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Four-year-old David Brooks is next in line for the sort of heart operation undergone by both his sister, Susan, 6, and his father.

But David probably won't be as concerned over it as either Susan or their father was about Susan's surgery last week.

David is an "easygoing, happy-go-lucky type," said the father, Victor Brooks, Fanwood, N.J., sales engineer.

★ ★ ★

A 12-man team of surgeons and doctors corrected Susan's trouble in an operation at the University of Michigan Medical Center. She is expected to be released soon.

Brooks had a similar open heart operation two years ago at Cornell University Medical Center. David is to be operated on in June or July.

HOLE IN HEART

The condition, in layman's terms, is a hole in the heart.

The hole is in the wall separating the two auricles. The auricles are the heart's upper chambers. The hole interferes with the work of one of the auricles in pumping oxygen-bearing blood through the body.

This requires the heart to do twice as much work.

Susan and David have had the same heart defect as their father.

Since the operation last Thursday, Susan has been coming along excellently, her father said.

She and her brother differ in temperament.

★ ★ ★

In Susan's case the parents broke the news of the forthcoming operation a little at a time.

"She's a pretty high-strung girl," Brooks said.

On the other hand, David is a "pretty calm individual, not sensitive to needles and such."

For the parents, it's a trying occasion despite Brooks' own experience with the surgery.

★ ★ ★

"Having gone through it really doesn't help much," Brooks said, "because you are aware of the myriad of things that can go wrong in this type of operation."

"You can get into those areas where ignorance is bliss," he said.

★ ★ ★

Brooks said it was his understanding that the hole-in-the-heart condition was not uncommon.

★ ★ ★

"Lots of people, including football players, are running around with holes a quarter of an inch or so in diameter but they'll never notice," Brooks said.

How to Get More Soldiers?

British Army Hurt by Ending of Draft

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Under orders from President Johnson, the Pentagon is studying the possibility of ending the draft in the United States. In Britain, conscription was terminated in 1960. The following dispatch examines the effectiveness of the British volunteer system for meeting military manpower requirements.)

★ ★ ★

LONDON (UPI) — Elimination of the peacetime draft in Britain cut expenses but left unsolved the problem of how to persuade young men to take up soldiering as a career.

Military planners here regard the nonconscript army as best suited for Britain's needs.

Defense sources say elimination of the peacetime draft represented a big saving of money and manpower. They note that the draft meant extra training schools, tied up skilled men as instructors, and clogged the army with untrained or semitrained soldiers.

The problem is how to get young men to enter a military career when there is full employment at home, and, in general terms, peace abroad.

★ ★ ★

This makes it hard for recruiting officers to appeal to youth either through their pockets or patriotism.

Enlistments since ending of the draft have remained persistently short of target, especially among men with mechanical skills who are needed more than ever as the armed forces become increasingly modernized.

200,000 NEEDED

The army has fared worst under the volunteer program. Its actual needs now are estimated at about 200,000 men, because brush fire type troubles abroad have pushed its requirements beyond the original 180,000 quota.

During the years of the draft, or national service as it was called here, between 1939 and 1960, Britain called up an estimated 5.3 million men. In the postwar years those in the 21-26 year age group were inducted for two years.

Ten years ago Britain had 800,000 men in the armed forces of whom one third were draftees. This tapered off to 700,000 by 1960.

When it was decided to switch to an all volunteer professional force the then conservative government set its target at about 400,000 men — 88,000 for the Royal Navy, 165,000 - 180,000 for the army and 135,000 for the Royal Air Force.

Conservative Defense Minister Harold Watkinson said at the time that the case for a relatively small all regular force rested on greater mobility or hitting power. He said the 400,000 figure had been set because this was "as large a force as we can properly afford."

The army's present strength is about 170,000, and the latest enlistment figures show little real sign of a manpower breakthrough.

The air force is up to strength, partly because it has been reduced in size following the disbandment of the missile squadrons and other cuts.

The Royal Navy, however, has problems. It is finding it difficult to recruit technical specialists.

ENLISTMENT DRIVES

Recruiting officers have used all available media to persuade men to enlist — there have been television campaigns, newspaper drives and old fashioned posters.

Pay for men in the forces has been brought into line with that of civilian life.

In base establishments, weekend duty has been cut to a minimum, and boring drill and guard routines reduced. Servicemen have been given greater liberties for wearing civilian clothes.

Life in the British Army has, in fact, been humanized to a point where it is virtually unrecognizable to old soldiers. Age limits have been dropped, too, to bring in youths of 17.

ENTHUSIAM WANES

But the recruits still have not rolled in, and serving soldiers have shown diminishing enthusiasm for staying in.

Various reasons have been put forward — other than the attraction of civilian life as compared with military life.

One feature of the modern soldier is that he tends to marry young. This has caused a great shortage of family quarters, especially at overseas bases. Wives separated from husbands for long periods put pressure on their men to quit.

★ ★ ★

The present military manpower situation in Britain while difficult is not regarded as dangerous to national security.

LITTLE PRESSURE

As one commentator said, no one expects the Russians to pour through the gaps left by the withdrawal of a British regiment from Germany.

There is little real political pressure for reintroduction of the draft because it would be an unpopular move in an electorate presently sensitively balanced between the Labor and Conservative parties.

But both inside and outside parliament there has been mounting concern about the ability of Britain to get by voluntary recruiting the necessary man power for its forces now strung around the world.

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, among others, has said the call up should be reintroduced. Recently the independent Sunday paper, the Observer, said some Labor MP's thought some form of renewed conscription might be inevitable.

15 Miners Feared Dead in Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — At least 15 miners were trapped today in a southern Serbian coal mine after an explosion. Officials said there was little hope that any were alive.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred last night in the Jarando Coal Mine, in the Ibar Valley coal basin. Rescue teams dug through the night. The rescue attempt continued today.

★ ★ ★

An explosion of a compressor, used for pneumatic drilling, caused the disaster. It set off a rock slide and fire. Nineteen miners were believed to have been in the mine at the time of the mishap. Four escaped.

Engineers Open Detroit Exposition

DETROIT (UPI) — The annual Society of Automotive Engineers' Engineering Congress and Exposition opened today at Cobo Hall.

★ ★ ★

Officials said this year's exposition would feature the greatest number of exhibits and the largest number of technical papers presented of any congress in history.

An estimated 20,000 engineers designers, researchers and technicians from all over the world were expected to attend the five-day exposition.

Guns Are Taken From Store in Holly Twp.

Sheriff's deputies apprehended three 16-year-old youths early yesterday morning during a break-in at the Airport Gun Shop at 2527 Grangehall in Holly Township.

The boys, all students at the Adelphian Academy in Holly Township, were placed in the Juvenile Home pending further investigation.

The owner of the gun shop, Francis Nissle, said he was awakened at about 2 a.m. yesterday by the burglar alarm.

He said he ran from his house, which is adjacent to the shop, and saw two youths in the building loading a pistol.

★ ★ ★

Nissle told deputies he fired a shot through the front window of the store to scare the youths. Officers arrived on the scene and apprehended the three, who had possession of five pistols from the gun shop. The handguns were valued at $378.

UNLOCKED WINDOW

Deputies said the youths had been in the store Saturday afternoon and had apparently unlocked a window.

Officers said the youths were carrying silk-stocking masks and had apparently planned the break-in for several weeks.

One of the three was from Waterford Township. The other two were from Cheyboygan and River Canaro, Ont.

Overflights to Continue, Say Nationalists

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Military sources indicated today that the Chinese Nationalist air force will continue U2 reconnaissance flights over Red China despite Peking's claim to have downed another of the high-altitude planes.

★ ★ ★

The Nationalist air force confirmed that the plane was missing on a flight over North China Sunday. It was piloted by Maj. Chang Lih-yi, who had flown five missions over the mainland in recent months, the air force said.

Peking claims it has shot down three other U.S.-built U2 planes since 1962.

PANAMA (AP) — National Guardsmen remained on duty today at the edge of the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone as ceremonies continued marking the first anniversary of bloody anti-American riots. The observance ends Tuesday.

Four American soldiers and 21 Panamanians were killed last year in the violence along the border.

Guardsmen used tear gas grenades Saturday to keep about 40 demonstrators at bay. Carrying anti-U.S. banners and chanting slogans, the demonstrators dispersed about a block from the zone.

The riots erupted last year when American high school students in the zone refused to permit the Panamanian flag to fly alongside the U.S. flag.

LEPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — A leader of the revolt in the south Sudan says he is preparing to go to Khartoum to talk peace with the Sudanese government.

William Deng Nhiaal, secretary-general of the rebel Sudan African National Union, said Sunday the union has ordered a cease-fire to prepare for the peace talks.

★ ★ ★

The four million black Africans in south Sudan have been in conflict with the 10 million Arabs in the north since 1955, seeking autonomy. Hatred between the races erupted into violence last month in Khartoum; 40 persons were killed and more than 500 injured.

Deng said he favored a new constitution giving the Sudan a form of federal rule.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A private news agency claimed today that more than 1,000 educated youths forced to develop virgin land in mountainous border areas in southwest China rebelled in early December when their demands for cotton-padded winter clothes were rejected.

The Chung Hsing news agency, attributing its information to intelligence sources, said the revolt was supported by tribesmen in the area.

★ ★ ★

It said the rebels attacked food depots and supply stations with revolvers, hand grenades and rifles.

The agency said Chinese Communist troops were rushed to the area to suppress the revolt.

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Labor government is getting ready for a tussle with private business over a widespread increase in prices of consumer goods since the new year.

Prim Minister Harold Wilson is believed considering setting up a price review council which would require private firms to give it advance notification of any price hikes.

The government has asked 18 trade associations to explain the increases on hundreds of articles. None is obliged to reply.

The administration's critics say the increases are due to such government economic policies as the 15 per cent import surcharge, the 7-cent increase in gasoline taxes, higher freight and passenger charges on the nationalized railways and a high bank rate which makes credit expensive.

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Rebellious tribesmen seeking to break away from the union of Burma are suffering heavy casualties in renewed fighting against the government with the end of the rainy season.

The Defense Ministry says more than 100 guerrillas have been killed and 200 have surrendered during a month of intensified activity against the rebels.

★ ★ ★

The dissidents come from Burma's five autonomous tribal states — Shans, Kachins, Chins, Kayahs and Karens. Only one major faction among the Karens has negotiated a peace settlement. Peace talks with the other rebels have collapsed.

A government spokesman said that William H. Merrill, chief assistant U.S. attorney, filed Information with the clerk of Federal District Court, Detroit, last Thursday.

Smith, who now resides in El Monte, Calif., formerly operated the Brace-Smith Funeral Home at 138 W. Lawrence.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for the commission in 1954, '56 and '58.

W. Germans, Swiss, Austrians Help

Egyptians Building Military Jet Planes

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt is building jet fighters and fighter-bombers with materials from more than 20 West German, Swiss and Austrian firms. Four hundred German scientists, technicians and engineers are helping 4,000 Egyptians in Gamal Abdel Nasser's aircraft industry.

★ ★ ★

The top designer is an Austrian, Ferdinand Brandner, 60. An occasional adviser is Willy Messerschmitt of World War II fame.

★ ★ ★

German military aid to Egypt and Israel has become a source of tense dispute in the Middle East.

Neither Bonn nor Jerusalem will confirm any aid to Israel, but it is generally accepted that tanks, guns and armored cars have been provided. Bonn has given no direct military aid to Egypt but German firms sell it goods of military value.

ROCKET PROJECTS

In addition to the Germans aiding in airplane production there are 18 or more German scientists working on Cairo's rocket projects.

These activities, under private contract to Gamal Abdel Nasser, have brought protests to Bonn from Jerusalem.

★ ★ ★

Nasser's aircraft industry is at Helwan, a half-hour drive south of Cairo. Designer Brandner says the foreign technicians' assistance is nearing its end — "I think we will be finished in 1965 and then the Egyptians can go it alone."

Egypt is building two planes Messerschmitt developed in Spain — the HA200 fighter-bomber and the HA300 jet fighter.

TWO YEARS

The HA200 has been in production two years. The HA300 has been delayed by the need to build — instead of import — the jet engines.

Materials and equipment for the planes and their engines come mostly from Germany, channeled through Swiss firms.

★ ★ ★

Brandner said he and Messerschmitt had exchanged visits and information with another German aircraft designer, Kurt Tank, who is in India helping build a jet fighter.

He said the Indians had contracted with Egypt to provide an Egyptian jet engine for their fighter plane. He predicted that other Afro-Asian countries would turn to Nasser for military and civilian craft.

GERMAN SPECIALISTS

Brandner referred to Israeli irritation that German aircraft specialists are working in Cairo, and commented: "What we are doing here is nothing but help for an underdeveloped country.

"Bruno Kreisky, who is Austrian foreign minister and is a Jew himself, recognized this when he came to Cairo last spring and thanked us for our work."

Polio Nearly Erased in U.S. in Decade

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Polio has almost vanished from the United States within a scant decade in one of medicine's most dramatic triumphs over an ancient scourage of mankind.

"It is apparent that with a continued effort to avccinate the yet unreached young people and the newborn babies, we can eliminate poliomyelitis as a public health problem in this country in the near future," a government agency reports.

★ ★ ★

That is a statement from the Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service. It comes only 10 years after Salk vaccine opened the way to conquer polio.

The statistics behind that statement are even more impressive.

TERRIBLE PEAK

It was in 1952 that crippling polio reached a terrible peak in the United States. That year 57,879 persons fell victim to the disease, 3,145 died and nearly 20,000 were left with the crippling effects of polio.

Last year there were only 121 persons stricken in the entire nation. Fewer than 10 died and far less than 100 had paralytic after-effects.

★ ★ ★

Ten years ago, Dr. Jonas F. Salk provided the first break in the fight against polio with his vaccine. This was buttressed six years later by Dr. Albert Sabin's vaccine.

Medicine thus found the key to a disease that had killed and maimed long before its cause was known — perhaps as long ago as 1400 B.C. Polio had been a vague, mysterious malady until 1840 when Dr. Jacob Heine, a German bone specialist, described its nature.

SMALL VIRUS

In 1902, an Austrian immunologist, Karl Landsteiner, proved that the disease resulted from a minute virus. Then three Harvard bacteriologists, John F. Enders, Frederick C. Robbins and Thomas H. Weller, developed a process for growing the virus in tissue cultures.

That made possible the development of the vaccines and the phenomenal victory over polio in the United States.

★ ★ ★

But the danger is never over.

Dr. Pierce Gardner, chief of the polio surveillance unit at the CDC, warned that approximately four million babies born each year must be vaccinated promptly. He said poorly immunized persons must be found and vaccinated.

"People believing polio is no longer a problem may become indifferent to measures to keep up immunity, particularly in the newborn," Gardner said. "Since polio is largely a disease of young people, it would not take long to accumulate a dangerous population of susceptibles."

6 Feared Dead in Plane Crash

HONOLULU (AP) — A huge U.S. Air Force cargo plane capable of lifting 50 tons plunged into the Pacific Ocean less than a minute after takeoff from Wake Island Sunday. No trace could be found of its six-man crew.

★ ★ ★

The Cargomaster exploded and burned as it hit the water about a mile east of Wake. Control tower officials said the takeoff had appeared normal as the four-engine aircraft left the runway.

Federal Aviation Agency observers in the tower saw the explosion and dispatched crash boats to the scene. Darkness hampered the search. After daylight, about five hours after the crash, searchers found debris on the water but no trace of survivors or bodies.

CREW MEMBERS

Aboard the Dover (Del.) Air Force Base plane were:

★ ★ ★

Capt. Arthur F. Wiegand, 30, Clearwater, Fla., the aircraft commander; Maj. Herman D. Stephan, 44, Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, Canada, copilot; 1st Lt. Jon B. Parker, 24, Silver Spring, Md.; T. Sgt. James O. Smith, 29, Elmira, N.Y.; S. Sgt. Anthony Panzarella, 36, Queens, N.Y., and S. Sgt. James Gold, 34, Squantum, Mass.

Two other Air Force men were aboard the plane when it landed on Wake but did not leave with it.

Akron Bus Drivers Strike Over Service Cut

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — This city of 293,000 was without bus service today as Akron Transportation Co. drivers went on strike.

The drivers carried out their threat to walk out if the company carried out its plan to eliminate a number of trips, including some "owl" service runs which were used to pick up drivers at their homes and return them after their work tricks were finished.

Ex-British Aide Dies

LONDON (AP) — Viscount Monckton, 73, former minister of labor and a central figure in the 1963 constitutional crisis leading to the abdication of King Edward VIII, died Saturday of pneumonia. Monckton was a friend and legal adviser to Edward when the king left the throne to marry Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Still Missing at Sea

SEOUL (AP) — Forty-four South Korean fishermen have been missing off Korea's east coast since last Thursday, police reported today.

The fishermen were aboard three boats that were scheduled to return to their home port by Saturday. Snowstorms have battered the eastern coast for the past two days.

Tea, which today is a popular drink, at one time is believed to have been used primarily as a medicine. It is known that tea was used for medicinal purposes by the Chinese more than 2,500 years ago.

Will to Learn Primary Key to Education

What constitutes "excellence in education?"

This has been argued since the time of Plato and Aristotle. The discussion is still going on.

DR. NASON

No wonder it took California teachers four years and nine drafts to come up with a clear statement of their views on the factors which create "excellence in education." The primary key, the California Teachers Association says, is "stimulation of the will to learn."

I am in full agreement with their contention that a will to learn is developed not by the subjects studied but by how the individual has studied and been taught.

Subject matter, as the statement says, is "the raw material out of which educational experience can be built. It should stimulate learning appetites and should not destroy them by an over-demanding emphasis on possessing a mass of factual data."

The theory of interest rests on the principle that the more a student knows about a subject, and the more clearly it is organized in his mind, the greater is his drive to learn more about it. Once a student has felt the joy of learning through mastery of one subject he is more confident; in fact, he may be eager to learn in another field.

I am pleased that problem-solving competence is placed so high on the list of goals and that a special effort is to be put forth by California teachers to improve students' problem-solving ability through practice in "recognition" of problems.

However, I am fearful of the effects of further downgrading of practice in the fundamental skills which seems to be indicated.

Communication and computation skills, reading, writing, speaking, listening and mathematics can best be achieved, teachers say, by reducing mechanical drill "in favor of practice which arises out of prior understanding of what the drill is about and for which there is some satisfying return on the investment in effort."

While "purposeful practice" should always be used in place of mechanical drill, it is more practice, not less, that our students need.

For example, the theory that students would practice handwriting "as they saw the need for better handwriting" has proved false. Without definite practice, handwriting facility deteriorates. College seniors as a group show less skill in handwriting than they did in junior high.

Any skill that is used as a tool must be maintained at a sufficiently high level so that its operation does not interfere with the task at hand. In the case of reading, writing and arithemetic this means they must approach the automatic response level. This level of skill can be maintained only through practice.

Opening lead—♥ J

By OSWALD JACOBY

It is always worth-while for declarer to plan his play at trick one by using the code word ARCH where "A" is Analyze the lead; "R" is Review the bidding; "C" is Count your winners and losers and "H" is How to make this hand.

JACOBY

It is equally worth-while for the defenders to do the same thing. It is almost impossible for them to get any value out of "C" but they can change "H" to How to beat this hand and get some mighty good results.

Thus, if you are sitting East you note that your partner has opened the jack of hearts against South's four spade contract. Is it a singleton lead? No. That would give South seven hearts. Is it a doubleton lead? No! That would give South six hearts and hearts were never bid.

Thus you should take your ace of hearts and look for three more tricks.

Should there be a play to beat the contract? Yes! North does have 19 high-card points and he has bid strongly, but South has not shown much except a probable five-card trump suit.

Where are three tricks coming from? Not in a red suit surely. How about two club tricks? Most unlikely! If your partner held ace-king of clubs he would have opened the suit. How about one spade, one club and a club ruff?

Now you have found your one chance. Instead of blindly and hopelessly returning your partner's lead, you play the nine of clubs. Your partner will take his ace and return the suit. You will have to follow this time, but later on when he gets in with the king of trumps—he will lead another club for you to ruff.

Q—The bidding has been:

You, South, hold:
♠ K 10 5 4 ♥ A Q 6 4 ♦ 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6
What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. You have nine points and both major suits.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid two clubs and your partner bids two spades. What do you do now?

HEADS FOR A FALL — Larry Jeffrey of Detroit Red Wings topples over Chicago Black Hawks' goalie Glenn Hall while trying to score in the first period of hockey game last night in Chicago. In background is Chicago's Pierre Pilote (3). Hawks won, 3-2.

AFL All-Star Game Switched to Houston

Hawks Nip Wings, Move Atop League

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks, with the Detroit Red Wings as an unwilling contributing party, shook up the standings of the top teams in the National Hockey League Sunday night.

The Hawks, administering a second defeat in two days to Detroit, seized first place on the strength of a 3-2 victory on three first period goals.

★ ★ ★

With the Hawks supplanting idle Montreal in first place by one point, the Red Wings tumbled to fourth place underneath the Toronto Maple Leafs, 6-0 winners over the New York Rangers.

Chicago's leap upward was a direct result of the Hawks' treatment of the Wings over a 24-hour span.

SET STAGE

At Detroit Saturday the Hawks walloped the Wings 7-4, setting the stage for Sunday night's coup.

★ ★ ★

The Wings, now six points off the lead and one point out of third place, fell for a second time although holding Bobby Hull scoreless.

Two goals by defenseman Pierre Pilote and another by rookie Dennis Hull gave the Hawks all the margin they needed in the first period though they had to battle to hold it.

★ ★ ★

Scrappy Ted Lindsay drew a penalty for fighting and Bill Gadsby was ousted on a game misconduct in the Detroiters' effort to save the game.

Goals by Gordie Howe and Ron Murphy brought Detroit back in contention in the second period and things were rough from then to the finish.

★ ★ ★

Hawk goalie Glenn Hall, back in action for the first time in six games, made two great stops on Alex Delvecchio and Floyd Smith in the third period. He came out of his net to block a shot by the former and a moment later dived to his left in gloving a drive by Smith.

Gadsby got his penalty for shouting too much over the referee's disallowance of an apparent goal by Ed Joyal in the third period.

The puck entered the net but referee John Ashley ruled he had blown the whistle beforehand in the course of a center ice fight between Al MacNeill of the Hawks and Larry Jeffrey of the Wings.

Lindsay and Pilote were banished together for fighting in the violent third period. The Wings outshot the Hawks 8-4 in the wild 20 minutes and twice had manpower advantages because of Hawk penalties.

Players Quit New Orleans Contest Site

Claim Discrimination as Pro Grid Loop Also Changes Meeting

HOUSTON (AP) — The 1965 American Football League All-Star game will be played Saturday afternoon in Jeppesen Stadium here, Houston Oiler officials announced today.

The league called off the game scheduled in New Orleans when Negro players complained of discrimination and walked out Sunday.

Jeppesen Stadium, which seats 35,000 has been the home field of the Oilers since the league was formed. The Oilers, however, will play home games in the new domed stadium beginning next season.

The league meeting, scheduled for New Orleans Wednesday, will be shifted to Houston, according to AFL commissioner Joe Foss.

Even before the game in New Orleans was officially canceled, the 21 Negroes players packed their bags and left.

"We're not wanted here so we are leaving," said halfback Clem Daniels of the Oakland Raiders.

"We all encountered similar problems Saturday night. We were refused cab service and admittance to French Quarter clubs," Daniel continued.

"We came here to relax and enjoy ourselves and put on a great game. You can't do those things under the existing circumstances."

DECISION STANDS

Foss, in a statement issued here, said "Since all players are members of the official league family, the league must abide by their (the Negro players') decision not to play."

David Dixon, head of the group sponsoring the All-Star game, worked frantically to get the Negroes to change their mind. He arranged for the players to have access to all of the better class establishments — restaurants and night clubs — in the French Quarter.

★ ★ ★

The players also charged they were refused service by taxicabs. Some said they even had trouble getting to their hotels from the airport because cabs refused to take them.

Before the Negroes made their final decision to pull out, Dixon told a newsman:

"If they walk out, this blows pro football for New Orleans."

Dixon has been striving for four years to gain a franchise for New Orleans — either in the AFL or the rival National Football League.

ONE SQUAD

Only the West squad turned up for the first practice session Sunday.

At first, there was a report that all the uniforms hadn't arrived and the practice had been delayed for a day.

But Sid Gillman, coach of the San Diego Chargers and head of the West All-Stars, said it wasn't true.

"We're having trouble," Gillman said. "The Negro players have threatened to quit. They had some trouble with the cab drivers and in the French Quarter."

There were 20 Negroes on the All-Star squad.

★ ★ ★

The 21st Negro, Dick Westmoreland, a defensive halfback for the San Diego Chargers, was here as an alternate member of the West team. He would have played only if one of the regular squad members was hurt before the game. Another Negro, Matt Snell of the New York Jets, had been scheduled to come here as an alternate but had to go into the Army.

NCAA, Pros Discuss Problems

Amateur Unit in 59th Huddle

Skirmish With AAU on Athletic Agenda

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association moved into its 59th convention today with some minor skirmishing completed and the big guns primed in the long-standing war with the Amateur Athletic Union.

Some problems with the professional football leagues, meanwhile, appeared headed for amiable, co-operative solution.

★ ★ ★

Jim Corbett, representing the 600-member NCAA, met with Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League Sunday night, but declined immediate comment until after meeting with his committee today.

Corbett also met with National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle Friday night on the same problem — the premature signing of college players by the professional leagues — and termed the meeting "most co-operative, in a progressive spirit."

TV POLICY

The NCAA's Extra Events Committee, meanwhile, recommended to the council — the group's policy-making organization — that legislation be enacted requiring the same television restrictions for bowl games as for regular season games.

The recommendation was aimed, chairman Bud Jack of Utah said, at restricting professional representatives from the field. Jack said the action came as a result of the video broadcasting of several college players signing pro contracts during or immediately after participating in bowl games.

"This was not in good taste and was detrimental to the college game," Jack said. "We don't think it should be allowed."

The legislation, however, probably will not be enacted until the 1966 convention.

The first general session of the convention was scheduled today, with the long-standing, bitter and extremely complex power struggle with AAU the prime topic.

HOLDS FRANCHISE

Simply, the fight is this: The AAU holds the franchise to represent this country in international competition. The NCAA, protesting that college athletes make up a bulk of the competitors in such competition — including the Olympics — wants a larger voice in the selection and administration of the athletes. The AAU objects.

A cease-fire, ending with the Tokyo Olympics, was forged by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and this is the first NCAA conclave since the truce ended.

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Michigan basketball coach Dave Strack will probably continue the Big Ten campaign with his 'big lineup."

He used it Saturday as the Wolverines opened defense of their league co-championship successfully by turning back Illinois, 89-83, as Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin each tossed in 30 points.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's "big lineup" is obtained by substituting George Pomey at guard for John Thompson. Pomey, at 6-foot-4 and 195 pounds, becomes the Wolverines smallest player.

"It's a lineup we've experimented with in the past, but haven't used to such a great extent," Strack said after watching the Wolverines run their record to 9-2.

"I'm not sure if we'll continue to use it, or not. After all, Thompson played some very good basketball for us during the holidays."

What the situation amounts to is that Strack has a six-man team. Whether Pomey starts at forward or guard will probably depend on the opposition's guards—whether both are over 6-foot-3, or whether one is near the six-foot mark, like Thompson.

When Pomey starts at guard —unless he's dropped into the No. 1 substitute position he's occupied throughout the season— Oliver Darden will start at forward.

The Wolverines outrebounded the Illini, 62-42, and that's how they won the game—with muscle.

★ ★ ★

When Illinois pulled close, Michigan wouldn't let go of the ball until it had scored . . . and sometimes it took two and three shots to accomplish this.

★ ★ ★

In other league games Saturday, Iowa moved into possession of first place with a 2-0 record by downing Michigan State, 85 - 78.

Hot Shooting Buries Pistons

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals mopped up on the Detroit Pistons in the first half and went on to humiliate the Pistons 140-114 in their National Basketball Association game Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati, shooting for 57 per cent on field goals for the game, ran off to a 73-53 lead at the half and the Pistons never got close.

HOT SHOT

Oscar Robertson's marksmanship was an example. He sat out about eight minutes of the game but while in action connected on nine of 14 shots from the floor.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Lucas and Jack Twyman led Cincinnati with 24 points each. Terry Dischinger scored 21 for Detroit.

The New York Knicks ended a four-game losing streak by edging the third-place Baltimore Bullets 122-120 in the only other game played.

BLASTING OUT — Champagne Tony Lema misjudged the sand on this shot and blasted the ball 30 feet past the pin on the second hole during third round of $75,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament yesterday. Lema two-putted the hole for a bogie 5.

Playoff Is Possibility in L.A. Open Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A sudden death playoff will be in order in the event of a tie after Monday's final round of the $70,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

★ ★ ★

But among the disbelievers in such suicidal procedures are, in order, Paul Harney, Dan Sikes, Bill Casper, Jr., professional golfers all, to list a few.

Each thinks he can win the $12,000 top pot without benefit of extra holes.

★ ★ ★

As play began on the par 36-36 —71 Rancho Municipal course, the front-runners with their 54-hole totals were:

Harney, 207; Sikes, 209; Casper and Howie Johnson, 210; Bobby Nichols, 211, and to skip a few brackets, Tony Lema, 213; Arnold Palmer, 215, and Ken Venturi, 217.

Obviously Palmer and Venturi would be in favor of sudden death, but it would have to be a mass affair.

DEFENDING CHAMP

The 35-year-old Harney, from Sacramento, Calif., scored a repeat performance, only better. A year ago lanky Paul came from behind to take the lead in the third round by one stroke and went on to win.

This time he has two shots on the crowd.

Casper and Sikes, 34, from Ponte Vedra, Fla., started Sunday's round at 138, with Harney at 139.

★ ★ ★

Harney shot 33-35—68; Sikes 38-33—71, Casper 37-35—72, and Johnson 36-33—69 to pose an additional threat.

"I must putt better today than I did yesterday," said Harney.

In view of his history here, is he fond of this course?

"I've made up my mind you can't fight this course. You're bound to make a few bogeys. You've just got to make enough birdies to make up for them."

Someone asked Casper, rather aimlessly it appeared, if he thinks he has a chance to win.

"Certainly," said the affable William. "Three shots on this golf course don't mean a thing. All you have to do is hole a couple of putts, have the other guys miss a few and you're in like a burglar.

Venturi Gains Writers' Vote for Comeback

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Three years is a long time to be kicking dust. I don't believe any athlete has ever been as low as I was."

So reflected golfer Ken Venturi today as he commented on the latest of many honors bestowed upon him in recent weeks — he was named in the annual Associated Press poll as the Outstanding Comeback in Sports in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Venturi, 34, a serious-minded, dedicated young man, suntanned and handsome, captured the U.S. Open Championship at Washington, D.C.

At younger age the San Francisco lad was a brilliant amateur, turned pro as one of the game's brightest prospects, and then rather abruptly went into a slump.

The Open victory obviously intrigued the fancy of the AP voters. They voted Venturi 91 first place votes.

N.Y. Jets Eye Another Passer

Club After Columbia QB Archie Roberts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Football League's free-spending New York Jets are out this week to land still another star passer to go with the $600,000 worth of quarterbacks they've signed in Joe Namath and John Huarte.

The object of the Jets' attention now is Archie Roberts, the brilliant Columbia quarterback who also is being lured by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League and the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League.

★ ★ ★

Roberts, who broke all the old records set by Columbia heroes Sid Luckman and Paul Governali during his career at the Ivy League school, plans to continue his medical studies at Columbia, Western Reserve or McGill University.

His choice of which pro team he'll play for is partly dependent upon the arrangements he can work out for those studies.

MUSKEGON — Beefed up and fired up Muskegon took charge against the Pontiac Nationals in the second period Saturday night and stayed in command for a 124-112 victory before 1,500 home fans.

The triumph pushed the Panthers into third place past the losers who suffered their second straight loss and sixth in ten North American Basketball League starts over-all.

At the outset Muskegon had a 6-2 lead but the Nationals parlayed some strong offensive rebounding and hustle into several three- and four-point margins throughout the first quarter.

It ended with Pontiac on top, 26-23 despite not having a strong shooting effort.

The visitors had their biggest lead early in the second period when Henry Hughes' field goal made it 31-26. The Panthers came back and after the lead changed hands three times took the upper hand for good on Herschell Turner's basket, 49-47.

A hot spell near the end of the half saw them spurt in front 60-52 as Jimmy Darrow hit two two-pointers and a three-point field goal.

Willie Merriweather, the Nationals high scoring cocaptain, recovered from a cold first half for 22 of his 29 points in the second half but it wasn't enough to offset the balanced Muskegon attack.

A Merriweather field goal made the deficit 58-61 shortly after the third quarter opened. The nationals closest after that was 89-93, again following two points by the 6-4 guard.

Each time Pontiac drew within four of five, the Panthers managed to retaliate with three or four quick baskets. All eight players used by the winners made significant contributions.

Of the nine players the Nationals had available, only seven played enough to contribute and they were able to maintain a consistent effort.

Player-coach Bob Bolton missed the contest due to the scheduled action of the Walled Lake High School team he also guides. The Pontiac pro cagers are not scheduled to play this week. Guard John Hannett handled the coaching reins.

Muskegon had three new faces in its lineup since the last meeting of the two teams. Joe Roberts, Turner and Ralph Honderd have been added to the Panthers' roster and played vital roles in the victory.

TOWNSHIP FOES — Waterford's Rick Ziem (left) and Kettering's Tim McGrath will be in the lineup when the two schools meet tomorrow night on Kettering's basketball court. Ziem is the offensive leader for the Skippers. McGrath handles most of the rebounding chores for the Captains.

Captains Hold Edge in Series With Skippers

OL St. Mary Duels Farmington Our Lady in Key Contest

A prestige tilt and a possible title game highlight the Tuesday night high school basketball schedule.

★ ★ ★

The prestige contest finds Waterford at Kettering, while Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows moves into Orchard Lake to meet St. Mary in what could be the battle for the crown in the Northwest Catholic League.

Waterford and Kettering have tangled on the basketball court six times with Kettering coming out ahead, 4-2.

The teams split in 1961-62 and 1962-63 and Kettering ran off with two victories last season.

Waterford dropped a close 78-70 decision to Farmington last Friday, pushing the Skippers under the .500 mark at 2-3.

RECORDS SET

Kettering raised its record to 3-2 with a record-setting performance against Oxford Friday. The Captains won, 89-48, with the 89 points establishing a new school record, and Jim Nyberg, a 6-0 forward, set an individual Captain mark with 40 points.

★ ★ ★

The Eaglets at OL St. Mary have racked up six wins in a row and a victory over FOLS would almost assure the squad of a basketball championship.

FOLS (6-1) fell to St. Michael in its second game of the campaign, 54-53, but since has reeled off five wins in succession.

A full slate of action is on tap in the Southern Thumb League where four teams are tied for the lead.

Sharing the lead with 3-1 marks are Dryden, New Haven, Anchor Bay and Almont.

★ ★ ★

Almont plays host to Anchor Bay so one of the leaders will be ousted. Other tilts have Brown City at Armada, Capac at New Haven and Memphis at Dryden.

★ ★ ★

Other games on the Tuesday slate have Flint Northwestern at Bay City Handy, Warren Cousino at Clawson, Troy at Hazel Park, Lutheran East at Oak Park, Ortonville at Byron, Port Huron at Ferndale, Utica at Southlake and L'Anse Creuse at Lamphere.

Western Division All-Stars Rout Eastern Pros, 34-14

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Football League's top players scattered today after a rousing 34-14 victory for the West over the East in the annual Pro Bowl.

★ ★ ★

The Western All-Stars, spearheaded by Fran Tarkenton, Johnny Unitas, Terry Barr and Gino Marchetti, turned the game into a rout before 60,698 fans in sunny Memorial Coliseum. They scored in every quarter while holding fast against the Eastern offense's big guns — Frank Ryan, Sonny Jurgensen, Jim Brown and Paul Warfield.

Tarkenton, the little scrambler from the Minnesota Vikings, and Barr, Detroit Lions' fleet flanker, were voted the game's outstanding players.

Barr set up two of the West's touchdowns with acrobatic catches of Tarkenton passes.

Marchetti, appearing in his 10th Pro Bowl — a record he shares with retired Leo Nomellini — says he's definitely quitting the game. He came back last season on the pleas of Baltimore Colt Coach Don Shula, but Shula said he won't ask anymore.

HIT HARD

"How long can you keep asking a guy to play? He's given everything he has," Shula said.

The East attack was hard hit by quarterback injuries. Ryan, blitzed by Merlin Olsen and Marchetti, left the action with a shoulder separation early in the third quarter. Jurgensen, with a sore throwing shoulder, took over but couldn't generate any offensive fire except for a scoring toss to Jim Brown late in the game.

East Coach Blanton Collier said he had planned to use Jurgensen only sparingly, but changed strategy when Ryan was hurt.

"My shoulder really bothered me in there," Jurgensen said. "I couldn't throw long at all."

The victory was revenge — but not sweet enough — for West Coach Shula, whose Baltimore Colts were humiliated 27-0 by the Collier-coached Cleveland Browns in the NFL title game.

"It's a satisfying victory but I'd trade it for a National Football League title," Shula said.

New Quarter; New Lineup; New Result!

The new academic quarter has been kind to Bill Shinsky, coach of the Michigan Christian Junior College Warriors of Rochester.

Winless in their first five games this year, the Warriors underwent a drastic roster revision when the new quarter started as the coach added some much needed height from the incoming students.

It payed off quickly. Michigan Christian ripped off two victories over the weekend, upending Great Lakes Bible College, 86-81 Friday, and Detroit Bible College, 113-74 Saturday.

The latter conquest set a new school scoring record and boosted the Warriors to 2-3 in the state Christian College Athletic Association basketball race, tied with Midwestern Baptist Seminary (Pontiac) for fourth place.

Bud Pressley, 6-3 from Royal Oak, hit 46 points, Bob Kellogg had 35 and Dan Davis 33 in the two games as new faces in the lineup. Ex-PCH player Art Wiggins scored 16 in the Saturday win.

Further information may be obtained by contacting William Cameron in Highland Park, TO 8-3939.

A pair of Donkey Basketball games are on the Wednesday night schedule at Clarkston Junior High School.

The Jaycee All Stars and Rotary Old-Timers will ride the donkeys in the first tilt at 8 p.m. The Jaycee Jewels will battle the Faculty Finks in the second contest.

Farmington's Cawley 4th in High Hurdles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Olympic gold medalist Rex Cawley of Farmington, Mich., finished fourth in the 60-yard high hurdles Saturday at the San Francisco Invitational Indoor Track Meet.

Cawley, representing the Pasadena AA, normally runs the intermediate hurdles, 440 yards. The event was won by Blaine Lindgren of the Utah Track Club in 7.2 seconds. Lindgren finished second to Detroiter Hayes Jones in this event in the Tokyo Olympics.

Hayes Jones Joins Clinic's Speakers' List

Pontiac's Hayes Jones will be one of the featured speakers at the Thumb Area Track Clinic scheduled for Saturday from 7 until 9 p.m. at Vassar High School in Vassar.

Some 500 high school athletes and 30 coaches are expected to attend the clinic, which is being sponsored by the Western Thumb Association and the Thumb B League.

Top-Ranked UCLA Cagers Roll to 11th Straight

By United Press International

If there's one thing the UCLA basketball team is sorry about this season, it's that they didn't invite Illinois to play them in Los Angeles last December — if they had, they might still be undefeated.

The top-ranked Bruins lost their season opener to Illinois at Champaign on Dec. 4 but since that time have been virtually unstoppable.

On the other hand, the ninth-ranked Illini have been unbeatable on their home court but have found the going mighty rough on foreign hardwoods.

A quick glance at last Saturday's games shows how the season has been going for the two teams since they met last month.

The Bruins rolled to their 11th straight victory by crushing Oregon State 83-53 while the Illini lost a tough 89-93 contest to second-ranked Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Saturday was actually a full day for most of the nation's top-rated teams. In games involving the top 10, third-ranked Indiana downed Northwestern 86-73, Wichita, also ranked No. 3, edged Cincinnati 65-61, sixth-ranked St. Joseph's Pa. trounced Boston College 93-71, seventh-ranked San Francisco crushed Santa Barbara 102-69, and eighth-ranked St. John's tripped Loyola of the South 74-54. Fifth-ranked Duke joined Illinois in the lost column, however, by bowing to North Carolina 65-62.

NO PROBLEMS

UCLA had no trouble at all with Oregon State as the Bruins out-rebounded and outshot their opponents by a wide margin. The defending NCAA champs jumped off a 9-3 lead in the early minutes of play, built up a 39-26 halftime advantage and coasted through the second half.

Indiana tied a Big Ten conference free throw record in its victory over Northwestern. The Hoosiers hit on 20 of 21 from the free throw line to tie their own record set last year.

Wichita had to withstand a late Cincinnati rally to defeat the Bearcats.

Leading by 32-21 at the half, the Shockers nursed the lead until late in the game when the Bearcats hit a hot streak from the floor and rallied to within striking distance. It was a case of too little too late, however, as Wichita resisted the charge and held on to win.

Senior Bowl Tied, 7-7

Namath Steals Show

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The Senior Bowl football game ended in a 7-7 tie, but no one in the sellout crowd was asking for his money back after watching Joe Namath of Alabama put on another one-man passing show.

The annual contest, which marks the pro debut of most college seniors, attracted a capacity crowd of 40,605 — its first in history — and it was Namath who filled the stadium Saturday.

★ ★ ★

They came to see why the New York Jets of the American Football League paid $400,000 for three years of this young quarterback's services and he didn't disappoint them.

Namath, despite a painful knee that has hobbled him all season, completed 22 of 38 passes for 246 yards and his team's only touchdown. But the South had to settle for the tie as Namath's receivers just couldn't hang onto the ball on the big plays.

MADE DECISION

Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, who coached the South, said he played Namath most of the game because he knew that was what the crowd had come to see.

"They paid their money to see him and I just left him in," he said in explaining why he didn't use Steve Tensi of Florida State more.

Namath was disappointed in his own performance and the fact that the South didn't win. He said his sore knee didn't bother him too much, but that his timing seemed to be off a little.

★ ★ ★

The most spectacular play was a 53-yard touchdown pass from Namath to Bob Hayes, who lived up to his billing as the world's fastest human. The former Florida A. and M. star and Olympic gold medal winner, pulled the pass away from the outstretched arms of two defenders so fast that they crashed together and he galloped untouched the final 15 yards to the end zone.

The North scored its touchdown on a one-yard quarterback sneak by Rich Badar of Indiana in the second quarter to cap its only scoring drive of the game.

Gold Issues Down

Stock Mart Turns Scrambled

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold mining stocks declined and airlines rose in a mixed stock market early this afternon. Trading was fairly active.

The gold mining issues took some sharp losses in reaction to a decline in the London price of gold and to U.S. government statements published over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Airlines continued to be cheered by the rise in air traffic.

Cigarette stocks were down in advance of a new report on smoking and health but rallied above their lows on publication of the report which, apparently, was not as severe as some investors had feared.

STEEL, MOTORS

Steels, motors, drugs, rubbers and nonferrous metals were mixed, electronics higher and chemicals lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 327.7 with industrials up .6, rails up .2 and utilities unchanged.

★ ★ ★

The dock strike cast a pall of uncertainty over Wall Street. Fear of an eventual steel strike was also cited as a factor in market caution.

U.S. Steel eased and Republic Steel lost a fraction. Bethlehem was steady.

MOTORS

Chrysler and General Motors lost fractions. American Motors was up a little. Ford and Studebaker were about unchanged.

Prices were mixed in fairly active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Giant Yellowknife was under selling pressure and sank about 2 points after opening on a delayed block. Driver-Harris rose about 2. Syntex gained a point. New Park Mining and Gulf American Land lost fractions.

Woman Flier's Plane Burns in Crash Landing

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The twin-engine airplane in which aviatrix Joan Merriam completed a 27,750-mile solo flight around the world last May 13 is no more.

★ ★ ★

The plane, covered with the autographs and good wishes of her fans, was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon after Miss Merriam, 28, of Long Beach, Calif., crash landed in the Mojave Desert when a fire broke out in one engine.

★ ★ ★

Neither Miss Merriam nor her passenger, William Eychison, of Harbor City, Calif., was seriously injured. The plane, a Piper Apache, was named 'The City of Long Beach." Miss Merriam said the aircraft was fully insured.

Need Workers for Date Trees

Mexicans Once Did Picking, Pollination

COACHELLA, Calif. (AP)—Sex, high in the sky, is big business here, and it faces disaster soon if new male agricultural midwives aren't located in a hurry.

Trouble is, the pollination of a date palm takes place at the top of a 50-foot ladder.

★ ★ ★

Growers say most men trained for this rugged work have returned to Mexico, unable to work here because the controversial bracero act expired last Dec. 31. New workers, they say, don't like the work at that altitude.

Braceros, Mexican laborers admitted for agricultural work, were trained over many years to pollinate and otherwise care for the date crop. They also picked the annual $8-million crop.

PICKERS NEEDED

An estimated 750 date pickers are needed now to work on the 4,000-acre Coachella Valley crop with about 25 per cent of last year's fruit remaining to be picked.

Growers will also need about 350 men for the pollination chore, which usually gets under way in March or April.

★ ★ ★

Leland Yost, manager of the Coachella Valley Farmers Association, said the growers are willing to train new workers "if we can get men willing to work. They have to be motivated."

Yost said that "if the pollination is not done, there will be no crop next year."

BIGGER DATES

Pollination once was done by the wind. Since then, man has streamlined things to produce more, bigger and better dates.

Under natural conditions, when date groves grow from seeds, male and female trees grow in about equal numbers. Today, in modern groves, growers depend on the harem principle.

No Dates, So He Went 'Solo'

Supersleuth Back From Russia

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Robert Vaughn, the super - sleuthing man from U.N.C.L.E., has returned from the Moscow caper. His report: a friendly reception, though not from the Russian belles.

THOMAS

The actor went to Russia over the holidays for a visit that grew out of a chance meeting on a movie set with high-jumper Valery Brumel.

"Last year MGM hosted a lunch for the Russian track team that was here for a dual meet with the U.S.," Vaughn related.

★ ★ ★

"When they visited the sets, the only actor Brumel recognized was me — because 'The Magnificent Seven' was one of the few American films that has appeared in Russia.

"He embraced me and presented me with one of his medals. He said I should come to Moscow and see it as it should be seen — with him as guide."

WRAPPED UP

Vaughn decided to take his year-end vacation from "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." for the Moscow trip. As it turned out, he was so wrapped up with other commitments that he didn't see Brumel until the last of his five days there.

And, unlike his image as Napoleon Solo on TV, he wasn't able to manage a date.

★ ★ ★

"The Russian women are highly unflirtatious," said Vaughn, one of Hollywood's leading bachelors. "If they are out with a man, they look at no one else. If they are walking alone on a street, they gaze neither to the left nor the right."

In other aspects Vaughn rates his trip a success. He covered a wide panorama of Moscow life, particularly in the arts. He visited the leading theaters, toured movie studios and even lectured to students at the Moscow Art Theater.

SAME METHOD

"They were fascinated to find out that they studied the same method of acting that I had learned in my early days in New York," he said. "But one thing they couldn't understand: why a person who had studied for two years wasn't automatically an actor at the end of his training.

"That is the way it is in their country. After the training period, they are designated actors, just as others are called engineers or doctors. And they remain actors all their lives."

★ ★ ★

He told of seeing a Moscow Art Theater play which the actors had performed together for 20 years. "It was a masterpiece of teamwork," he commented. "The actors said they didn't get stale because they performed a different play every night. They couldn't understand how actors could do the same play for a year, as they do on Broadway."

He found an enormous sympathy among the people for the late President Kennedy. Vaughn made a big hit by passing out Kennedy half-dollars from a supply he took along. He came back with a bagful of medals. "The Russians are great medal-givers," he said.

3 Teen-Agers Held in Detroit Slaying

DETROIT (AP)—Three teenagers were held today in the fatal stabbing of an apartment house caretaker on the weekend.

One of the three, Robert Willingham, 17, was booked for investigation of murder. The other two, both 16, were turned over to juvenile authorities.

★ ★ ★

Lee Hudson, caretaker of an East Side apartment house, was the victim. Police said he had warned the three from annoying him and that they retaliated by attacking him. Two knives were found at the scene.

California with 18.1 million residents is the largest state in terms of population, while Alaska, with only 250,000 residents, is the smallest.

Unmanned Satellite Launched by Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched the 52nd unmanned satellite in its Cosmos series today, Tass announced. The satellite carries instruments designed to further a space exploration program launched March 16, 1962.

The Soviet news agency said Cosmos 52 made its first flight around the earth in 89.5 minutes. The instruments were reported functioning smoothly.

The state with the greatest loss in population in recent years is West Virginia where the population shrank by 10 per cent (200,000 people) between 1950 and 1964.

Canada Slide Being Probed

HOPE, B. C. (AP) — Bulldozers tried today to dent a 100-foot wall of broken mountain that buried a highway and became a graveyard for four persons over the weekend.

Two bodies still were missing as searchers probed the devastation, where tons of earth crashed down into a valley, rumbled across its half-mile width and swept up the other side early Saturday.

Volunteer rescuers, who uncovered two victims Sunday, worked with one eye on the mountainside above them. Tiny clusters of rock tumbled intermittently down the sheered-off slope, and one civil defense spokesman said nobody knows how much danger still exists.

The victims were killed as they tried to extract a convertible trapped in a small slide that preceded the main one.

★ ★ ★

They were identified as Vance Beck of Penticton, B.C.; Thomas Starchuk of Aldergrove, B.C.; Dennis Arlitt, 23, also of Penticton, and Mary Kalmakoff, 21, of Shoreacres, B.C. The bodies of Arlitt and his girlfriend still are missing.

SHEARED OFF

The mountainside sheared off under the weight of deep snows and the effect of a sudden thaw. It came down 10 miles east of Hope, 110 miles east of Vancouver.

A truck driver who warned the victims to move out of the area said he knew more mountain was going to come down.

"I could hear it working and rumbling up there," said Norman Stephanishin, 42.

★ ★ ★

"I told the two boys (Beck and Arlitt) to get away from the car. But they were determined to free it."

WENT FOR HELP

Stephanishin then went for help and warned approaching vehicles, including two buses, of the slide danger.

Stephanishin returned to the area just as dawn was breaking.

"When the light started to come, the whole valley looked different. We couldn't figure out what was wrong," he said. "Then we saw it was a landslide."

In the dicade from 1953 to 1963, U.S. Mint figures show, annual coinage of pennies was increased by 1.4 billion; of dimes by 316 million; of quarters by 121 million and of half dollars by 61 million.

Says Liz to Get Passport Back

Renunciation Attempt Is Ruled Insufficient

LONDON (AP) — An American Embassy spokesman said today that actress Elizabeth Taylor's U.S. passport — which she is trying to shed — would be returned to her in London.

★ ★ ★

"Her American passport has been in the Paris Consulate," said the official, "but we understand it's being sent to our consulate here. When we receive it, it'll be returned to Miss Taylor."

The 32-year-old actress, wife of British actor Richard Burton has dual British and American nationality because she was born in Britain of American parents.

In Paris on Oct. 26 Miss Taylor tried to renounce her American citizenship, which during her extended stays outside America would exempt her from considerable U.S. income taxes.

★ ★ ★

She turned in her passport but refused to sign the required oath swearing away "all allegiance and loyalty to the United States." She said she still feels "a deep sense of loyalty and gratefulness to America."

ANOTHER OATH

The embassy in Paris allowed her to sign another renunciation statement without the "allegiance and loyalty" clause but the U.S. State Department refused to accept the amended statement.

Since then Miss Taylor, who is now in England with her husband, has been traveling on a British passport.

The State Department said she could still renounce her American citizenship by signing the prescribed form.

★ ★ ★

But an American official said the United States does not recognize a two-passport system and when Miss Taylor visits the United States, she cannot use her British passport. She must use her American passport, unless she renounces her American citizenship.

STATUS QUO

A spokesman for Miss Taylor said:

"The situation is status quo. We are waiting to hear what the lawyers have to say."

★ ★ ★

Miss Taylor's American lawyers are reported to feel that she has, in fact, renounced her American citizenship. A legal wrangle with the State Department is not ruled out.

Face Charges in Store Deaths

Woman Implicates 3 in Southgate Slayings

DETROIT (UPI)—The Wayne County Prosecutor's office planned today to press charges against a gang of holdup artists for the slaying of two Southgate men in a drugstore robbery New Year's Eve.

★ ★ ★

Asst. Prosecutor John Nowatt said the case was broken when a Flat Rock woman admitted a part in the robbery and implicated three men in her statement.

Willidean Baker, 21, named two River Rouge men, Fred Rogers, 28, and Starr Card, 28, and William O'Guin, 30, Hazel Park, as taking part in the holdup.

They were among five rounded up Saturday by police in Southgate, Ecorse, Detroit and Flat Rock.

★ ★ ★

The fifth member of the gang, Everett Broadwater, 30, River Rouge, was accused by police of taking part in the holdup of a Madison Heights drugstore shortly before the arrests were made.

HOLDUP VICTIMS

Emil Bacilla, 52, and his brother, George, 60, were victims of the New Year's holdup.

Emil died Friday night of his wounds, and George died Jan. 2.

The prosecutor said the woman told him she hid under the counter of the drugstore when the gun battle raged around her.

★ ★ ★

Rogers was wounded in the forehead during the fight.

Presents Show Biz Award With a Twist of Proverb

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Barbra Streisand grasped the microphone at the Hotel Gotham the other morning and presented Sammy Davis with Cue Magazine's award as Entertainer of the Year. Miss Streisand, last year's winner, said, "They say it is better to give than to receive but"—here she looked affectionately at the award—"I tell you it is better to receive!"

Barbra, recalling that Diahann Carroll, Zero Mostel and she had won, added, "Next year a Gentile is gonna get it!"

Were Billy Eckstine's assailants really "muggers" — or could they have had some mysterious grudge motive? Detectives say muggers don't hold people captive 36 hours; they grab the loot and run.

Gags flew fast: "I know where Mr. B. was, he was doing a benefit for Joe Bananas" (Brooks Arthur).

Billy's pained look off the floor at the Americana convinced professional skeptics that he had been hurt—that the disappearance was not a stunt—and that there is much more to be told.

Japan Premier Begins Talks With Johnson, Rusk Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Japanese Premier Eisaku Sato is to begin talks in Washington Tuesday on Japan's relations with Communst China and the U.S. tax on investments overseas.

The 63-year-old premier arrived in San Francisco Sunday.

★ ★ ★

He was due in Washington at 5:45 p.m. EST today and will confer Tuesday and Wednesday with President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

On Thursday he is scheduled to meet with U.N. Secretary General U Thant in New York.

NO CONFLICT

At a news conference in San Francisco, Sato said he saw no conflict between Japan's conducting trade with Communist China and the U.S. policy barring trade.

Sato termed the U.S. position "a rigid one" and told newsmen Japan and Red China conduct trade only because they were close neighbors.

★ ★ ★

The premier, who took over the post when ailing Hayato Ikeda resigned last November, said he would not be able to decide whether to change Japan's trade policy with Peking until after his discussions with Johnson.

He has been pressured at home by political foes and denounced by Communist China and businessmen who want to increase trade with the mainland.

ACHIEVED NOTHING

Sato said Japan has achieved nothing in its drive to end the U.S. equalization tax on foreign investments. The tax, initiated to curb the outflow of U.S. dollars, has made it difficult for Japan to attract U.S. investment capital.

"But as I understand it, the treaty is to be enforced for the remainder of the year," Sato said, "and so it would be my intention to ask the United States not to have such a law again or to repeat it."

Sato said he did not expect full agreement on all questions in his talks with Johnson and Rusk, "but the important thing is that through such contact we deepen mutual understanding."

He said he intends to clarify Japan's position with regard to Southeast Asia and expects "to get some understanding of the American side of the situation."

On the Indonesian-Malaysian dispute, Sato said he wants to obtain the opinions of other U.N. members.

"I intend to work in my own way and to continue my efforts to help Indonesia remain in the United Nations," he said.

People in the News

Field Marshal Lord Montgomery acclaimed Gen. Douglas MacArthur yesterday as the greatest American soldier of World War II.

But the British wartime commander said President Harry S. Truman was right to fire MacArthur in Korea.

Montgomery was reviewing MacArthur's autobiography, published in London under the title "Reminiscences," for the Sunday Times. He said:

MacARTHUR

"I always considered him the greatest soldier produced by the United States in the Second World War, and I am confirmed in that impression after reading this book.

Montgomery's only criticism of MacArthur was of his actions in Korea, where the general publicly disagreed with Washington's refusal to let him attack Communist China.

"President Truman relieved him of all his commands in the Far East—and in my opinion he had no option.

"The simple lesson remains for all service chiefs: The higher direction of war must remain in political hands."

End Viet War, Signers Ask

Lord Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher who has taken a leading role in campaigns against nuclear weapons, signed a petition in London today urging Prime Minister Wilson to use his good offices to stop the fighting in South Viet Nam.

Other signers included composer Benjamin Britten, actress Dame Sybil Thorndike and historian A. J. P. Taylor.

"We believe that this war only continues because the United States government is improperly interferring in the affairs of Viet Nam," the petition said.

Col. Grissom to You, Suh

Astronaut Virgil L. (Gus) Grissom, a major in the U.S. Air Force, soon will get a commission in the Confederate Air Force, and a colonel's at that.

Col. L. P. Nolen, deputy commander of the Confederate Air Force, said yesterday that Grissom will visit Mercedes, Tex., to pick up his commission in the CAF, now limited to 200 officers and a seven-man staff.

Grissom, who piloted the Mercury Liberty Bell 7 on its orbit of the earth in 1961, will be the only astronaut in the Confederate force, a fly-for-fun club.

If all goes according to schedule, Grissom is to be aboard the two-man Gemini capsule on a three-orbit flight this year.

Sihanouk to Enter Hospital

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, will enter a hospital at Phnom Penh tomorrow for a general examination.

A government statement said today that the prince was suffering from overwork.

King Raps 'Myth of Time'

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., says the argument that time will solve the civil rights problem is a myth.

"One of the myths that we must dispel if we are to reach racial equality is that if we wait 100 or 200 years everything will solve itself," King said last night in a speech sponsored by the Harvard-Radcliffe Young Democrats club at Cambridge, Mass.

"Time is neutral," said King, winner of the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize. "Human progress never rolls in on the wave inevitability. We must get out and work and help get rid of this myth of time."

FIRST CHOICE — Pontiac's new Junior Miss is 17-year-old Emilie Lou Beaupre, a senior at Walled Lake High School. She was crowned last night by Rose Marie Tripp, last year's winner, during pageant finals at Pontiac Northern High School.

Junior Miss Crown Goes to Commerce Twp. Girl

A 17-year-old Commerce Township girl has been named Pontiac's Junior Miss for 1965.

Emilie Lou Beaupre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beaupre of 3352 Westwind, was crowned last night in the finals of the contest at Pontiac Northern High School.

Emilie, who played a saxophone solo for her talent presentation, is a member of the Walled Lake High School National Honor Society, the student council, concert band, and Future Homemakers of America.

Following graduation in June she plans to attend Cornell University to study home economics.

First runner - up in the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce contest was Evelyn Dougherty, 17, a senior at St. Michael's High School, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dougherty, 197 Wolf.

Miss Beaupre will represent Pontiac in the state Junior Miss Pageant, scheduled for Feb. 4-6 at Pontiac Northern High School.

Area Mishap Fatal to Man

A Dearborn Heights man was killed Saturday in a chain automobile accident on Middle Belt near List in Farmington Township.

The body of Richard Denske, 67, was found some 20 minutes after the accident.

The station wagon in which Denske was riding was one of three vehicles involved in the crash.

His body, which had fallen under the front seat, was found after the buckled vehicle had been towed to a gas station.

The station wagon in which Denske was a passenger was driven by William F. Luoto, 52, of Detroit, now listed in poor condition at St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia.

The vehicle crashed into one driven by James R. Wallner, 39, of Livonia after being hit by one driven by Robert W. Moilanen, 35, of Detroit.

2 Drugstore Bandits Flee With $2,000

After tying up three store employes last night, two bandits robbed the Thrifty Drugstore, 6 S. Telegraph, Waterford Township, of more than $2,000.

Police said a robber pulled a gun on Ethel Hartley, 2669 Voorheis, Waterford Township, at the cosmetic counter shortly before 10.

Pulling a white handkerchief over the lower half of his face, the robber ordered the woman to the back of the store, police said.

At the back of the store the woman clerk and a pharmacist, Eugene Schantz, 4741 Whitlow, Commerce Township, were ordered to lie down and their hands were tied, according to police.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, a third employe, Margreth Sterling, 137 W. Rutgers, returned to the store after warming up her car.

SECOND WOMAN

Police said the second woman was followed into the store by a second man, who police theorize was a lookout.

Township police said $36 was taken from the employes' wallets, while $2,000 was stolen from the cash registers.

The robbers also made off with some cigarettes and Consumers Power Co. bill receipts.

Seek to Settle Dock Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Associates of Thomas W. Gleason, head of the Longshoremen's Union, say he will seek meetings of all the union's locals here today or tomorrow in efforts to end the two-coast dock strike.

They said Gleason would try to "sell" the proposed New York contract which was rejected by the union members, and get another vote on it.

The rejection was a major factor in triggering the strike by the 60,000 - member union which went into effect in most ports from Maine to Texas at 12:01 a.m. (EST) today.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, who had been trying to prevent the strike, scheduled a meeting here today with the union's 23-men executive council.

Gleason called in the union officials from the affected ports for what he described as a strategy meeting.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds went to Washington last night to report to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

OCTOBER WALKOUT

The walkout, in effect, is a resumption of the one-day walkout last Oct. 1 when the work contract expired.

At that time, President Johnson invoked the Taft-Hartley Act and a federal court injunction sent the men back to work during an 80-day cooling-off period.

The government's injunctive power now is exhausted.

★ ★ ★

The White House gave no indication of any presidential action in the new strike. Informed sources in Washington said President Johnson probably would act only if it appeared there would be an immediate crippling of the national economy.

OVERTIME PAY

Extra longshoremen were employed in New York and several other ports at weekend overtime pay rates to speed passenger and cargo ships to sea before the strike deadline. More than 20 ships left the port of New York Sunday.

Scores of ships were stranded in various ports, however.

The strike resulted primarily from the action of New York members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association in rejecting the proposed contract with the New York Shipping Association.

★ ★ ★

Agreements reached between the ILA and the association, which represents 145 shipping and stevedoring companies, traditionally set the pattern for contracts in other ports.

CONTROL DISPUTES

There also were contract disputes on local issues in several South Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Gleason said he was "shocked" by the contract rejection in the port of New York in a union membership vote last Friday.

He had called the contract

6 Crewmen Die in Rail Collision

All Burned to Death; Bakeman Escapes

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Six crewmen burned to death today in a fiery collision of two heavy freight trains at a diamond track crossing. A seventh crewman escaped.

★ ★ ★

The State Highway Patrol reported four bodies were taken from diesel engine units of the two trains. Two bodies still were pinned in the smoldering wreckage.

The crash shook houses nearby in Sterling, where the Erie Lackawanna Railroad double main line crossed tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

The four-diesel unit of the B&O, pulling 107 freight cars, was moving slowly into the track intersection when the Erie engine — also a four-diesel unit —collided with it.

★ ★ ★

Chester Winkler, fire chief at Sterling, which is 35 miles southwest of Cleveland, was awakened by the crash, less than 200 feet from his house.

FLAMES SHOOTING

"I looked out and saw flames shooting 100 to 150 feet in the air," he said. The chief said there were four or five explosions and "I figured I couldn't get my men close for a while."

It was several hours before the fire was controlled.

The only survivor was 54-year-old Clyde H. Masters of Marion, Ohio, an Erie brakeman. He was thrown clear.

★ ★ ★

"I heard a crash, and the next thing I knew I was flying through the air," Masters said. He told Highway Patrolmen he had gone to the trailing unit of the engine because of a problem with the radio.

LIST KILLED

Killed were Erie Engineer Donald Narney, 42, and a brakeman Carl Porter, both of Marion, and these B&O crewmen: engineer Carl R. Duckworth, brakeman F. C. Druschel, fireman G. S. Williams, all of New Castle, Pa., and a sixth man not immediately identified.

★ ★ ★

Two men in the Erie caboose escaped injury. They were identified as Fred Vestal and N. G. Tyson, both of Marion.

'Broader Than LBJ Proposal'

GOP Readying Health Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Republican senators are drawing up a health care plan for the aged which Sen. Leverett Saltonstall says would cover some doctors' fees, going beyond the measure proposed by President Johnson.

The senators' alternative program came on the heels of one proposed in Chicago on Saturday by the American Medical Association.

The AMA, long a foe of plans for Social Security medical care for the aged, also said its version would be broader than the administration's plan.

A third alternative is in the works, according to House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford.

FORD INTERVIEW

He said Saturday in an interview that Republican members of the House Ways and Means Committee would unveil a proposal in the near future. Ford said work has not been completed on it.

The administration measure would be administered by Social Security and financed by a separate payroll tax.

Saltonstall, a Massachusetts Republican, said the proposal he and his five colleagues would introduce tomorrow would include some doctors' fees and drugs outside the hospital and thus go beyond the administration measure which includes hospitalization, nursing home care, home health visits and outpatient hospital diagnostic services — but no medical or surgical bills.

GOP PLAN

The GOP senators' program would be financed from general Treasury revenues plus contributions from the states and individuals participating rather than through a pay roll tax.

The AMA plan also would sidestep Social Security, being financed with federal and state funds plus individual contributions according to need.

Here are the major features of the Republican senate plan:

- Financing would come from the general Treasury plus contributions by the states and individuals.
- Three plans would be offered participants. They would be a short-term dianostic package, a long - term castrophic illness plan or a private insurance policy option.

LIMITED PARTICIPATION

- Participation would be limited to individuals with an annual income of not more than $3,000 or couples with an income of $6,000.
- Participation would be voluntary for all persons over 65 not on the old age assistance rolls.

⅜ All participants would have to pay an enrollment fee ranging from $10 to $120 a year based on income.

The federal government would pay 50 per cent of state administrative costs and 60 to 80 per cent of other costs depending on a state's per capita income.

Joining with Saltonstall on the plan are Sens. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Norris Cotton of New Hampshire, George D. Aiken and Winston L. Prouty, both of Vermont.

Take Look at Evidence in Mississippi Murders

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Twenty-three Mississippians today take a second look at evidence in the slaying of three civil rights workers.

Armed with what it says is a confession, the Justice Department will go before a 23-member federal grand jury here.

The department is seeking indictments in the death of Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both of New York, and James Chaney, 21, a Meridian Negro.

The department rests much of its case on a written statement it claims it obtained from Doyle Barnette of Cullen, La.

However, there was a report — said to have come from government sources — that other evidence also includes a statement from another man. The FBI would neither confirm or deny this.

★ ★ ★

"I'm afraid I'm going to have to give you a no comment on that one," said Roy Moore, special agent in charge of the Jackson FBI office.

CHARGES DROPPED

Charges against 21 men arrested in the June 21 killing — including Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and Chief Deputy Cecil Price — were dropped after a Dec. 10 preliminary hearing in Meridian.

U.S. Commissioner Esther Carter declined to admit testimony by an FBI agent on an alleged confession.

The government claimed Barnette made a statement to the FBI after a three-day period in November. This came one month after the grand jury took its first look at evidence in the triple slaying and returned no indictments.

★ ★ ★

The jury was scheduled to meet today at the federal post office building with U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox of Jackson presiding.

RIGHTS VIOLATIONS

Since murder is a federal offense only when committed on U.S. property, the Justice Department was expected to press for civil rights violations.

If no indictments are returned, there is a possibility state charges might be sought.

'GOP Near Burch Agreement'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans are reported near an agreement for Dean Burch to step aside as GOP national chairman, sooner or later, presumably in favor of Ray C. Bliss of Ohio.

The peaceful settlement is being worked out by party leaders anxious to "prevent a vote and prevent a bloodletting" at the GOP national committee meeting in Chicago Jan. 22-23.

Reliable sources said that leading Republicans were being asked to avoid any public comment on the Burch dispute because a "negotiated settlement" might be disclosed this week.

A top supporter of defeated GOP Presidential Nominee Barry M. Goldwater said Burch would be in a weak position even if he won a vote of confidence from the national committee. In any case, he could not expect an overwhelming majority and would head a badly split body.

Rep. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., called again yesterday for the national committee "to accomplish the resignation of Dean Burch" at the Chicago meeting.

"If Burch is retained as chairmen, I think the fight to displace him will continue unabated and it will be the central theme of moderate Republicans, of which I am one," Javits said in a radio-television interview for New York stations.

Goldwater was reported to have made a last ditch effort in support of Burch last week with telephone calls to national committee members.

A Los Angeles Times article today stated that Burch is expected to resign possibly this week in favor of Bliss, Ohio GOP chairman.

★ ★ ★

The article, by Robert J. Donovan, Times Washington Bureau Chief, said Burch yesterday declined to comment on reports that various factions of the national committee were near agreement on installing Bliss as the new chairman.

However, the newspaper said highly placed Republicans said that former GOP Presidential Candidate Barry M. Goldwater has agreed to Bliss replacing Burch when the national committee meets.

1 Out of 4 Men Has Given Up, Surveys Show

Surgeon General Cites Health Service Statistics in Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgeon Gen. Luther L. Terry said today nearly one out of four adult men has given up cigarette smoking since 1962.

And, he said, surveys by the Public Health Service show smoking among women has declined — to a smaller degree but "the first time on record in which the trend has been downward."

"If smoking habits had continued at the level of three years ago there would be about 3.5 million more smokers than there actually are today," Terry said in an address prepared for delivery to the recently formed National Interagency Council on Smoking and Health.

He attributed much of the decline to the report of a year ago today that labeled cigarette smoking a hazard to health, associated it with several diseases and said it far "outweighs all other factors" as a cause of lung disease.

★ ★ ★

Still, the Health Service said, cigarette smoking remains a "national catastrophe."

DEATH TOLL

An interagency spokesman said it accounts for at least 125,000 and possibly as many as 300,000 American deaths each year.

Terry conceded that his "preliminary" evidence on reduced consumption does not tally with the trends indicated by tobacco warehouse shipments and tax returns.

These point to a resurgence of cigarette smoking after a pronounced decline last spring.

★ ★ ★

The surgeon general said the decline found by the health service and other evidence directly challenge "the charge that 'nothing has really happened' and that the smoking habits of the nation are right back where they were" before last year's report by his advisory committee.

NOT OFFICIAL

The council, his forum today, is not an official government agency.

Its members include representatives of the health service and of 16 federal and private agencies interested in health and education, among them the American Cancer Society.

Terry said a random nationwide sampling last fall of 3,500 American households found — on the basis of a preliminary analysis — that:

- The number of male cigarette smokers in the population dropped from 59 per cent — as reported in both 1955 and 1962 — to 52 per cent, a decline of seven percentage points.
- In the same span, the percentage of women smok-

Man Fatally Stabbed

DETROIT (AP) — A man found lying in a Detroit street Sunday and assumed by police to be a hit-run auto victim was found today to have been stabbed to death. The victim, David Yokum, 45, had been stabbed in the chest and back.

All of Viet Marines Moved to Binh Gia

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The entire Vietnamese marine corps moved toward embattled Binh Gia today to hold the area from the Communist Viet Cong.

Four marine battalions totaling 2,500 men began the transfer by helicopter and road to the Catholic refugee settlement 40 miles east of Saigon where government forces this month suffered their worst defeat of the war.

★ ★ ★

U.S. military sources said the marines plan to remain in the area indefinitely in an effort to pacify two largely unpopulated provinces that were free of Communist infiltration until two months ago.

Some U.S. advisers called the plan a mistake.

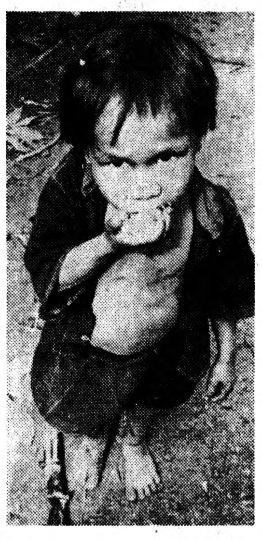
CONG WINS AGAIN

"The Viet Cong have won another victory at Binh Gia. They are tying up the whole marine corps, and preventing it from doing useful work elsewhere," one American said.

★ ★ ★

"The only reason the marines are being sent down there is to keep the road to Cap St. Jacques open," said another.

Cap St. Jacques is a popular sea resort 120 miles from Saigon.



AP Photofax

WAR PAWN — A Vietnamese child, deserted with women and other children in an encampment near Binh Gia by fleeing Viet Cong forces, stares at the camera while stuffing his mouth with food.

However, other advisers said the marine deployment would prevent the Communists taking over the provinces to close "the ring of steel" around Saigon. Others said it would boost morale after the government defeat at Binh Gia.

★ ★ ★

Six Americans were killed and two others captured in the nine-day battle, longest single encounter of the four-year U.S.-supported guerrilla war. Government forces suffered about 500 casualties, including 121 dead.

JUNGLE AREAS

Intelligence reports indicate that several Viet Cong battalions still occupy jungle areas around Binh Gia. The fresh marine battalions are replacing three paratrooper units that have been seeking without success to make contact with the elusive Communists.

On the political front, strained relations between the Vietnamese armed forces and the civilian government eased over the weekend, and a three-week crisis appeared to be over.

★ ★ ★

The military said it had restored full authority to the civilians and released a score of political prisoners arrested in the Dec. 20 military purge of the civilian government. Six of the prisoners were members of the High National Council, the provisional legislature abolished in the purge.

★ ★ ★

The United States had opposed the purge and had suspended discussion of new, enlarged aid programs until civilian rule was restored.

TO COOPERATE

The military leaders said in a communique that they would cooperate with the government of Premier Tran Van Huong but did not restore the legislative council as the United States wished. Instead the communique said the civilian government would organize a National Assembly, probably by a direct vote in the cities and an indirect vote in the country.

A U.S. embassy spokesman said the agreement was not "ideal," but it went far enough for the United States to deal once more with the government. Talks on the new aid were expected to resume soon.

No Dropouts Interested in City-MESC Program

BIRMINGHAM — The city's plan to help high school dropouts has fallen through.

Its offer to train four young men under the Michigan Youth Work-Training Program met no response.

The city in October contracted with the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) to train the four under the experimental program established by the State Legislature during its 1964 session.

The trainees were to work and study for nine months in the Forestry and Parks Department.

★ ★ ★

Two were to learn the ropes as tree trimmers and two as park maintenance personnel.

COST TO BE SHARED

The program was open only to unemployed high school graduates or dropouts. Cost of the project was to be shared by the city and the state, with each contributing $1,440 for the calaries of the trainees.

Scheduled to start Oct. 1, the classes and on-the-job experience would have continued through June 30.

But now, three and a half months after the city agreed to participate, there have been no applicants.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen at the Royal Oak MESC office noted the apparent ager, commented that Birmingham's program is not indicative of what's going on in the rest of the state.

Detroit's youth work-training program, they said, is very successful.

Luther C. Olson, office manager, commented that Birmighham is an "affluent community" with apparently little need for the program.

"The schools, the board of education, were unable to supply us with anyone that needs this training," said Frank Thompson of the office. "They seem to take care of their own."

Plan Try to Settle Dock Strike the best in the 72-year history of the union.

★ ★ ★

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds said yesterday that the New York stalemate was caused by failure of the union membership to understand the contract terms. Reynolds said he thought the strike would fail.

BARGAINING PROCESS

Before leaving for Washington, Reynolds said: "If any one has any illusion that there will be changes in the contract, it should be dispelled. The bargaining process is over."

★ ★ ★

The shipping industry here asked yesterday that President Johnson and Congress put pressure on the union to submit the dispute to compulsory arbitration.

★ ★ ★

The appeal was submitted to Reynolds during a meeting with Gleason and the 14-men labor policy committee of the New York Shipping Association.

NATIONAL ECONOMY

Alexander P. Chopin, chairman of the employer association, said the action should take effect when the strike began to threaten the national economy. He did not say when that might happen.

★ ★ ★

The proposed New York contract was rejected by a vote of 8,722 to 7,957. There are 24,000 ILA members in the port of New York.

Ex-GOP Power 'Critically Ill'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Frank D. McKay, 81, onetime power of the Republican party in Michigan, was reported critically ill today at the Miami Heart Institute.

The Institute did not give an immediate analysis of McKay's illness. He was reported under "intensive care," however.

★ ★ ★

A Florida resident of recent years, McKay wielded reputedly large power in the Michigan GOP from his Grand Rapids, Mich., headquarters in the 1920s and 1930s.

McKay, onetime poor boy who became a multimillionaire in banking and business, was a confidante of governors and presidents, including the late President Warren G. Harding, and was close to the late U.S. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg.

★ ★ ★

McKay's influence in the party began to fade in later years and he broke with the GOP, supporting Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams in 1948 and 1950.

Says Smoking in Decline

ers dropped from 31 per cent to about 28 per cent.

The surgeon general said other studies conducted by the agency in the past year indicate that "many smokers have become uneasy about the relationship of cigarettes to illness. Millions of adult cigarette smokers are ready to be fully convinced that the time has come to change their smoking habits."

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

There were these other developments at today's session:

- Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger, D-Ore., long an advocate of smoking-control legislation, charged Congress—especially "tobacco state congressmen" —with "default of responsibility" for failing to act so far on proposed legislation "calling for strong and meaningful regulation of the labeling and advertising practices and for massive educational programs."

She criticized the public for "apathy' about the whole situation.

- The Public Health Service endorsed a proposal that tobacco companies voluntarily dispense with cigarette advertising — and concentrate more heavily on producing tobacco for pipe smoking and cigar smoking.
- The Interagency Council chairman, Emerson Foote, who recently resigned from an advertising firm, charged that the tobacco industry through its present advertising of cirarettes, is encouraging people "to kill themselves."

★ ★ ★

- The council recommended that if tobacco manufacturers don't voluntarily suspend cigarette advertising they should be required by law to put a "clearly worded warning message" in all cigarette advertisements in newspapers and magazines — and at the end of all cigarette commercials on television and radio.
- Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, California's health director, reported that educational and other action "to combat cigarette smoking" is very much in evidence in 45 states and the District of Columbia.
- Foote said, "Evidence "Evidence confirming the lethal effects of cigarette smoking now amounts to a tidal wave — coming from all countries of the world, on both sides of the Iron Curtain." He said the "totally unique health hazard" from cigarettes is worse than any single hazard to life and health, short of war.

To View Sale of Sanatorium

Proposal Will Top Supervisors' Agenda

The proposed sale of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium will top the agenda tomorrow when the Board of Supervisors convenes.

Sale of the institution to Oakland County's new Community College was recommended Dec. 17 in a joint meeting of the buildings and grounds and ways and means committees.

College officials offered $927,000, the appraisal price, for the facility, which includes the main hospital, annex, heating plant, garage and storage building, nurses' home, four residences and a garage apartment and 84 acres of land.

Among those advocating sale of the TB Sanatorium is Dr. Bernard D. Berman, Oakland County health director, who said the steady decline in the number of TB cases makes continued operation of the facility economically unsound.

★ ★ ★

Some opposition to the sale is expected, but its approval by the board of supervisors appears likely, according to county officials.

OTHER BUSINESS

Other items to come before the board will include a resolution by the equalization committee that a new schedule of multipliers issued by the State Tax Commission for 1965 assessment of personal property be turned over to the Supervisors Inter-County Committee for study.

★ ★ ★

Following adjournment, the board and other county officials will be guests of the City of Southfield for a luncheon at the city's new parks and recreation building.

TOUR PLANNED

Mayor James Clarkson, Southfield supervisor, will conduct the group on a tour of the city's new $2-million civic center.

Oregon Cattleman Loses His Empire

BEND, Ore. (AP) — Robert A. Eslinger, 37, married with two children, is a $300-a-month cowhand in central Oregon.

Two years ago he was the millionaire operator of eight Oregon cattle ranches and owned considerable land in California.

★ ★ ★

Today, Eslinger is in the midst of bankruptcy proceedings with more than 200 creditors and debts of $4.4 million. He lists his assets at $625 — all exempt.

The cowboy came to Oregon three years ago from California where he owned 20 properties, including office buildings in Fresno and Oakland, sugar beet ranches and cattle ranches.

NET WORTH

He estimated his net worth then at $1,250,000.

While in California, Eslinger had formed the Bar T Cattle Co. and began buying ranches in eastern and central Oregon.

By 1962, the company had purchased eight ranches and 5,000 head of cattle for $1,780,000. Eslinger owned two-thirds of the stock in the Bar T.

His problems started in 1963 when land values in California dropped and his holdings collapsed. Eslinger says: "I didn't leave behind good enough management. It all depended too much on me."

$3 MILLION

He said he had only equities in most of the properties, an estimated $750,000 of his own funds invested in properties valued at $3 million. On one ranch where he had $25,000 invested he said he was stuck for more than $200,000. Other foreclosures followed. Then cattle prices dropped 25 to 30 per cent.

★ ★ ★

He lost his cattle, then he started selling ranches to pay off creditors. He let regular employes go, sold his equipment and finally in June 1964, the Bank of California took all his stock in the Bar T.

★ ★ ★

Among other reasons for the collapse of his cattle empire, Eslinger said, was "my own optimism. I thought central Oregon was the best place in the world and that the cattle business was the best business in the world. I thought everyone else thought so too."

Eslinger says he isn't out of the cattle picture forever. He wants to get going again and "pay back as much as I can."

Eslinger figures he owes more than $1.35 million. Of his more than $4.4 million in debts, more than $3 million are secured claims.

TRAINS COLLIDE — Flames shot nearly 200 feet in the air early today after two freight trains collided at Sterling, Ohio, near Wooster. The grinding crash killed five trainmen and injured a sixth. The two locomotives came together at a track crossing, apparently when one was unable to stop for a signal. The fires broke out when fuel tanks ruptured.

Snow Buries East; Travel Is Disrupted

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow storms swirled through the Northeast Sunday, disrupting air travel and endangering highway traffic. Officials announced schools would be closed today in many areas.

Virginia's first major storm of the season dumped a foot of snow in the northern and western parts of the state, closing schools in five counties.

In West Virginia, three persons were killed on icy U.S. 460 near Princeton, and driving conditions throughout much of the state were hazardous. From two to six inches of snow blanketed the western and southern sections of the state and nine inches was recorded in Martinsburg in the Eastern Panhandle.

To the north, special snow plans were put into effect in the Philadelphia area, where a swirling snow storm left 5 to 12 inches, slowing air traffic at the Philadelphia International Airport. The Harrisburg-York airport was closed all day.

INTO STREAM

Near Ebensburg, Pa., a Greyhound bus swerved off a snow-covered highway ramp, plunging down a 30-foot embankment into a small stream. Ten persons were hospitalized and nine others were treated and released.

Gov. William W. Scranton was forced by bad weather to cancel a scheduled appearance at the Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg.

★ ★ ★

The Washington, D.C., area struggled under 4 to 8 inches of snow and emergency plans were set in motion in nearby Baltimore and 19 Maryland counties.

Heavy snows in the New York City area forced cancellation or diverted more than 200 flights at Kennedy International Airport, although operations were not shut down. Inbound transatlantic flights temporarily were rerouted to Boston and Montreal.

MAJOR ROUTES

Vehicles without chains or snow tires were banned from major arterial routes in New York. Five inches of snow fell in midtown Manhattan and eight inches covered some suburbs.

New Jersey had up to 8 inches of snow, and a 3-year-old boy was killed in a weather-connected accident.

★ ★ ★

Upstate New York got by with just flurries and bitter cold temperatures.

The northern New England ski area, suffering from a lack of snow, also were bypassed, but the southern section of the six-state area received heavy amounts.

WIDELY SEPARATED

Snow storms also struck several other widely separated areas of the nation.

In northeast Arkansas, wet snow knocked out electric and telephone service for more than 5,000 customers and a repairman was killed by a live wire.

★ ★ ★

Eight inches of snow fell in central and northern Idaho, but most roads were expected to remain open.

High winds kicked up old snow, closing two sections of U.S. 89 east of Glacier National Park in Montana.

DRY WEATHER

The Midwest had generally dry weather, but temperatures plunged below freezing over the weekend and dropped as low as 31 degrees below zero in Hibbing, Minn. One woman died near Virginia, Minn., when she tried to walk home in 30-degree-below cold when her car went off a road.

Northwestern California still was suffering from the consequences of torrential floods of the past few weeks.

Pound Ries, Gold Falls After Warning

LONDON (AP) — The pound rose and the price of gold and gold mining shares came down with a bump in London today following the U.S. Treasury's warning to gold speculators.

The price of gold fell 4.375 cents from the $35.185 reached Friday night after a near-record scramble for the metal.

This mornings's official price was fixed at $35.14125 dollars an ounce. This was only three-fourths of a cent below the official price fixed Friday mornnig, but on Friday the price rose steadily as the Bank of England met the demand from speculators but made it increasingly expensive for them to gamble on a gold price increase.

This development gave a healthier look to both the pound sterling and the dollar.

★ ★ ★

Both these currencies, widely used in international trade, had been under speculative pressure last week.

JUMPED BACK

In the foreign exchange market today, the pound jumped back to $2.79-1-16. On Friday, when the gold rush was on, the rate was held at just under $2.79 with the Bank of England buying pounds to give support.

On the stock exchange gold shares, which boomed last week on speculation that the world gold price might be raised, fell by as much as seven shillings (98 cents) from Friday's closing prices.

The U.S. Treasury put the brakes on the upward movement of gold with its statement, after the London markets closed Friday, that the price of gold would not be raised and warning speculators that they would burn their fingers.

★ ★ ★

Soviets Try to Wipe Out K's Image

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union is trying to write Nikita S. Khrushchev out of the history books.

Attacks in the Russian press on the former premier, ousted three months ago, are always indirect. His name is never mentioned. But the intended target is always clear.

The objective of the new Kremlin leadership's anti-Khrushchev campaign is to erase his image from the Russian mind and to consign him to the dimmest corner of Soviet memory.

Soviet authorities appear to be making Khrushchev an historical "unperson."

★ ★ ★

Portraits of Khrushchev, once sold freely in the capital, now are scarce.

DESK CALENDAR

The manufacturer of the standard desk calendar has issued a new insertion to replace April 17, the date of Khrushchev's birthday. The new page does not contain the notation of yesteryear: April 17 — 1894 — N.S. Khrushchev was born.

★ ★ ★

Citizens are asked to insert the new page into their calendars, along with pages which mark the birthdays of Premier Alexei S. Kosygin and party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, on Feb. 21 and Dec. 19.

The most recent attack in the press on the former premier came yesterday in the satirical magazine Krokodil, in a poem by the senior Soviet litterateur, 67-year-old Alexander Bezymensky.

Oldest newspaper on file in the Library of Congress is the Boston News Letter, which had its begining in 1710.

Don't Give Up the Bean Ball!

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — Navy tradition is rich with pungent quotations, two of the better known examples being "Don't give up the ship" and "Damn the torpedoes, etc."

WEST

Ranking right up there with these historic utterances, in my judgment, is the spirited motto coined by Capt. John N. Norrocks Jr., commissioner of the Navy bean ball league.

While serving as executive officer of the USS Springfield, where bean ball evoluted from a simple, unorganized game into a way of life, Norrocks spoke the immortal line: If there is one thing I hate it's a poor loser—or a winner of any kind . . . "

I first heard of Norrocks' quotation in a communication that I received from Capt. R. S. Crenshaw Jr., former skipper of the Springfield, who is known as "The father of modern bean ball."

My interest in the subject sprang from an item I saw in which Crenshaw was credited with drafting the first official rules for bean ball, which previously had defied all attempts at standardization.

GREW FROM FRUSTRATION

When I pressed the good captain for details of this extraordinary development, he reported that modern bean ball was an outgrowth of the frustrations encountered in trying to play volleyball on shipboard.

Volleyballs, he explained, either 1. bounce over the side of the ship, or 2. blow over the side of the ship.

The solution was to replace the air in the ball with rags, or some other solid substance.

★ ★ ★

"We actually tried beans," Crenshaw said, "but they were too heavy."

ASKS FOR COPY

I also asked Crenshaw to send me a copy of the bean ball rule book. In due course, I received three copies. The Navy does everything in triplicate.

Following are some of the more pertinent canons governing the conduct and ethics of a bean ball game:

"Bean ball may be played on any convenient surface. The court may or may not be marked.

★ ★ ★

Players have generally found an unmarked court conducive to play and a stimulant to active conversation."

'ANY NUMBER CAN PLAY'

"Any number of players may be in the game at any time, the general rule being that the smaller the court the larger the teams."

"Team captains should be the junior members of each team as no one pays any attention to them anyway."

"Each team shall be responsible for officiating its own violations. Conscience is the only umpire."

★ ★ ★

"Winning bean ball is not the result of skill, strength and agility, but rank."

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Every year at this time tens of thousands of women determine to improve their appearance, to lose overweight and banish bulges which have been making them self-conscious.

They resolve to invest, day by day, in beauty and health care which will make them look and feel years younger.

Each January I bring you my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP for short) to help. This is really a course I will be conducting through your newspaper, just as though I were teaching you in a class.

★ ★ ★

You do not have to wait for a year in order to become more attractive. You can improve your appearance a hundred per cent in just eight short weeks, the next eight weeks!

LOSE 15-20 POUNDS

In this length of time you can lost from 15 to 20 pounds, improve your posture, hair hair and complexion, and streamline your measurements. This is no idle fancy of mine.

Bip is fun because you will have so much company. When you follow the program you will know that thousands of other women are calorie counting and exercising and giving special care to their complexions, just as you are.

YOUR IDEAL WEIGHT

Now let's get started! First, if your goal is to lose weight, we must decide what your ideal weight is.

Look at the following weight chart. The scientific method for determining whether you have a small frame, a medium frame or a large frame is too technical to describe here.

★ ★ ★

However, you can judge fairly well for yourself.

If you have small dainty bones you belong in the small classification. If your bones are large and heavy that's where you go. If you are in between you belong to the medium classification.

Look at your wrists. Are they small or large boned? Are your shoulders wide?

Shoemaker Lasts Then and Now

MANDAN, N. D. (AP) — Ole Syvrud has little sympathy with men who want to retire early. At the age of 90, he is still working at the shoemaker's trade he learned 75 years ago in his native Norway. He and his wife came to America in 1906, settling near where his wife had relatives.

He has had his shop in the same block for 57 years and puts in a full day's work there every work day.

Paying Off Loan Not Always Best Idea

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: We have just purchased a new car. We got a bank loan for $3200 for a three-year period. We have made two payments.

MARY FEELEY

My husband has now decided to pay off the loan. To do this he will withdraw the money from our savings account — leaving approximately $2,000 in it.

★ ★ ★

I am against this, because he is in business for himself, and this money represents security to me in case of illness or other emergency.

We would be able to replace the money in 18 months if everything goes as well as it is now. Is he right in feeling that we are just wasting the $400 interest charge on the loan? Mrs. B. J. H., Massillon, Ohio

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. H.: Let's look at it this way: if you pay off that car loan out of your savings, you'll save $400 in interest. If you leave the money in the savings account, it will earn $399. This is figuring 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly on $3200.

★ ★ ★

Of course, you've already made two payments. But the money difference is pretty small, either way you handle it. The privilege of buying on time costs you very little in this particular case.

For a man in business for himself, this can be important. Many businesses have failed because of lack of capital.

To me, the risk of reducing your savings account doesn't seem worthwhile. I'd go along with the present payment plan—and with your point of view.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Feeley: I have been a widow for the past 17 years, during which time I have raised a fine boy. But the time has come when I am faced with a problem I cannot handle alone.

I have met a wonderful man, a widower with two girls. We are very much in love. He is not a man of means; his wife's illness wiped out his savings, and being a construction worker, he loses many working days in the winter.

My question is this: I would like to know what it costs for a family of five to live moderately comfortably these days.

He pays $68 rent and $50 a week to his sister-in-law (his daughters lives with her.) My rent is $95 a month. My son, 17, is still atending school. My friend's two girls are 6 and 10.

I go to business but it is unlikely that I would continue to do so if we marry. Having been alone so long, I'm afraid of letting my heart rule my head. Mrs. J.D., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. D.: You haven't given me enough basic information, especially about your friend's income. If he averages $125 a week, you could think about giving up your own job when you marry.

CAN'T LIVE ON LOVE

I was born with the conviction that people can live on love. But a number of years spent dealing with the stark financial fact so life has taught me that it takes both a head and a heart to make a marriage work, to feed and educate children, and keep a roof over your head.

Look over this expense estimate — which includes something for savings — and see how you think your plans would work out:

Housing, $125; household operating costs, $30; food, $143; clothing, $30; savings, (this includes insurance) $20; personal allowances ($43 for him, $21 for your son who needs some spending money at age 17, and $13 for you), $77; miscellaneous, $20; medical costs, $15; recreation and entertainment (companionship will have to take the place of money), $15; school items, $10; transportation, $30. Total, depending on rent, about $515 per month.

In estimating your costs, try to see that rent doesn't exceed one week's salary (his in this case). This is a rule of thumb that seems to work best.

Medley of Vegetables Makes a Good Salad

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

A letter last week from a reader in Ortonville enclosed an interesting recipe for vegetable salad.

The writer, Mrs. Olive Borst, also commented on the recent recipe for Raisin Squares in which ½ cup of flour appeared as part of the filling instead of ½ cup water.

Evidently, Mrs. Borst missed the later correction.

Mrs. Borst's salad is the kind you put on the buffet table. She says it will keep for weeks in the refrigerator.

VEGETABLE SALAD
By Mrs. Olive Borst

1 cup kidney beans
1 can whole kernel Mexican corn
1 small can peas
1 can green beans, French style
1 small can pimiento
1 onion, chopped
4 stalks celery, chopped
1 cup sugar
1 cup vinegar
½ cup salad oil
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon paprika

Drain all vegetables and mix. Beat dressing ingredients and pour over salad.

Let stand a few hours before serving to blend flavors; overnight would be even better.

Hawks Nip Wings, Move Atop League

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks, with the Detroit Red Wings as an unwilling contributing party, shook up the standings of the top teams in the National Hockey League Sunday night.

The Hawks, administering a second defeat in two days to Detroit, seized first place on the strength of a 3-2 victory on three first period goals.

★ ★ ★

With the Hawks supplanting idle Montreal in first place by one point, the Red Wings tumbled to fourth place underneath the Toronto Maple Leafs, 6-0 winners over the New York Rangers.

Chicago's leap upward was a direct result of the Hawks' treatment of the Wings over a 24-hour span.

SET STAGE

At Detroit Saturday the Hawks walloped the Wings 7-4, setting the stage for Sunday night's coup.

★ ★ ★

The Wings, now six points off the lead and one point out of third place, fell for a second time although holding Bobby Hull scoreless.

Two goals by defenseman Pierre Pilote and another by rookie Dennis Hull gave the Hawks all the margin they needed in the first period though they had to battle to hold it.

★ ★ ★

Scrappy Ted Lindsay drew a penalty for fighting and Bill Gadsby was ousted on a game misconduct in the Detroiters' effort to save the game.

Goals by Gordie Howe and Ron Murphy brought Detroit back in contention in the second period and things were rough from then to the finish.

★ ★ ★

Hawk goalie Glenn Hall, back in action for the first time in six games, made two great stops on Alex Delvecchio and Floyd Smith in the third period. He came out of his net to block a shot by the former and a moment later dived to his left in gloving a drive by Smith.

Gadsby got his penalty for shouting too much over the referee's disallowance of an apparent goal by Ed Joyal in the third period.

The puck entered the net but referee John Ashley ruled he had blown the whistle beforehand in the course of a center ice fight between Al MacNiel of the Hawks and Larry Jeffrey of the Wings.

Lindsay and Pilote were banished together for fighting in the violent third period. The Wings outshot the Hawks 8-4 in the wild 20 minutes and twice had manpower advantages because of Hawk penalties.

Contest Slated in New Orleans Is Called Off

Claim Discrimination as Pro Grid Loop Also Cancels Meetings

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The American Football League called off its All-Star game — scheduled this Saturday — when Negro players complained of discrimination and walked out Sunday.

The league also canceled its owners' meeting, slated to begin here Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said in Chicago he would have a statement today about the future of the All-Star game — when, where and if it would be played in another city.

Even before the game was officially canceled, the 22 Negroes here for the All-Star game packed their bags and left.

"We're not wanted here so we are leaving," said halfback Clem Daniels of the Oakland Raiders.

"We all encountered similar problems Saturday night. We were refused cab service and admittance to French Quarter clubs," Daniel continued.

"We came here to relax and enjoy ourselves and put on a great game. You can't do those things under the existing circumstances."

DECISION STANDS

Foss, in a statement issued here, said "Since all players are members of the official league family, the league must abide by their (the Negro players') decision not to play."

David Dixon, head of the group sponsoring the All-Star game, worked frantically to get the Negroes to change their mind. He arranged for the players to have access to all of the better class establishments — restaurants and night clubs — in the French Quarter.

★ ★ ★

The players also charged they were refused service by taxicabs. Some said they even had trouble getting to their hotels from the airport because cabs refused to take them.

Before the Negroes made their final decision to pull out, Dixon told a newsman:

"If they walk out, this blows pro football for New Orleans."

Dixon has been striving for four years to gain a franchise for New Orleans — either in the AFL or the rival National Football League.

ONE SQUAD

Only the West squad turned up for the first practice session Sunday.

At first, there was a report that all the uniforms hadn't arrived and the practice had been delayed for a day.

But Sid Gillman, coach of the San Diego Chargers and head of the West All-Stars, said it wasn't true.

"We're having trouble," Gillman said. "The Negro players have threatened to quit. They had some trouble with the cab drivers and in the French Quarter."

There were 21 Negroes on the All-Star squad.

★ ★ ★

The 22nd Negro, Dick Westmoreland, a defensive halfback for the San Diego Chargers, was here as an alternate member of the West team. He would have played only if one of the regular squad members was hurt before the game. Another Negro, Matt Snell of the New York Jets, had been scheduled to come here as an alternate but had to go into the Army.

"Several people shouted insults at us in the French Quarter," Westmoreland said. "Doors were shut in our faces when we tried to enter several establishments."

NCAA, Pros Discuss Problems

Amateur Unit in 59th Huddle

Skirmish With AAU on Athletic Agenda

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association moved into its 59th convention today with some minor skirmishing completed and the big guns primed in the long-standing war with the Amateur Athletic Union.

Some problems with the professional football leagues, meanwhile, appeared headed for amiable, co-operative solution.

★ ★ ★

Jim Corbett, representing the 600-member NCAA, met with Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League Sunday night, but declined immediate comment until after meeting with his committee today.

Corbett also met with National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle Friday night on the same problem — the premature signing of college players by the professional leagues — and termed the meeting "most co-operative, in a progressive spirit."

TV POLICY

The NCAA's Extra Events Committee, meanwhile, recommended to the council — the group's policy-making organization — that legislation be enacted requiring the same television restrictions for bowl games as for regular season games.

The recommendation was aimed, chairman Bud Jack of Utah said, at restricting professional representatives from the field. Jack said the action came as a result of the video broadcasting of several college players signing pro contracts during or immediately after participating in bowl games.

★ ★ ★

"This was not in good taste and was detrimental to the college game," Jack said. "We don't think it should be allowed."

The legislation, however, probably will not be enacted until the 1966 convention.

The first general session of the convention was scheduled today, with the long-standing, bitter and extremely complex power struggle with AAU the prime topic.

HOLDS FRANCHISE

Simply, the fight is this: The AAU holds the franchise to represent this country in international competition. The NCAA, protesting that college athletes make up a bulk of the competitors in such competition — including the Olympics — wants a larger voice in the selection and administration of the athletes. The AAU objects.

A cease-fire, ending with the Tokyo Olympics, was forged by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and this is the first NCAA conclave since the truce ended.

Emerson Takes Title

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Michigan basketball coach Dave Strack will probably continue the Big Ten campaign with his 'big lineup."

He used it Saturday as the Wolverines opened defense of their league co - championship successfully by turning back Illinois, 89-83, as Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin each tossed in 30 points.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's "big lineup" is obtained by substituting George Pomey at guard for John Thompson. Pomey, at 6-foot-4 and 195 pounds, becomes the Wolverines smallest player.

"It's a lineup we've experimented with in the past, but haven't used to such a great extent," Strack said after watching the Wolverines run their record to 9-2.

"I'm not sure if we'll continue to use it, or not. After all, Thompson played some very good basketball for us during the holidays."

What the situation amounts to is that Strack has a six-man team. Whether Pomey starts at forward or guard will probably depend on the opposition's guards—whether both are over 6-foot-3, or whether one is near the six-foot mark, like Thompson.

When Pomey starts at guard —unless he's dropped into the No. 1 substitute position he's occupied throughout the season—Oliver Darden will start at forward.

The Wolverines outrebounded the Illini, 62-42, and that's how they won the game—with muscle.

★ ★ ★

When Illinois pulled close, Michigan wouldn't let go of the ball until it had scored . . . and sometimes it took two and three shots to accomplish this.

★ ★ ★

In other league games Saturday, Iowa moved into possession of first place with a 2-0 record by downing Michigan State, 85 - 78.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals mopped up on the Detroit Pistons in the first half and went on to humiliate the Pistons 140-114 in their National Basketball Association game Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati, shooting for 57 per cent on field goals for the game, ran off to a 73-53 lead at the half and the Pistons never got close.

HOT SHOT

Oscar Robertson's marksmanship was an example. He sat out about eight minutes of the game but while in action connected on nine of 14 shots from the floor.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Lucas and Jack Twyman led Cincinnati with 24 points each. Terry Dischinger scored 21 for Detroit.

The New York Knicks ended a four-game losing streak by edging the third-place Baltimore Bullets 122-120 in the only other game played.

BLASTING OUT — Champagne Tony Lema misjudged the sand on this shot and blasted the ball 30 feet past the pin on the second hole during third round of $75,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament yesterday. Lema two-putted the hole for a bogie 5.

Playoff Is Possibility in L.A. Open Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A sudden death playoff will be in order in the event of a tie after Monday's final round of the $70,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

★ ★ ★

But among the disbelievers in such suicidal procedures are, in order, Paul Harney, Dan Sikes, Bill Casper, Jr., professional golfers all, to list a few.

Each thinks he can win the $12,000 top pot without benefit of extra holes.

★ ★ ★

As play began on the par 36-36 —71 Rancho Municipal course, the front-runners with their 54-hole totals were:

Harney, 207; Sikes, 209; Casper and Howie Johnson, 210; Bobby Nichols, 211, and to skip a few brackets, Tony Lema, 213; Arnold Palmer, 215, and Ken Venturi, 217.

Obviously Palmer and Venturi would be in favor of sudden death, but it would have to be a mass affair.

DEFENDING CHAMP

The 35-year-old Harney, from Sacramento, Calif., scored a repeat performance, only better. A year ago lanky Paul came from behind to take the lead in the third round by one stroke and went on to win.

This time he has two shots on the crowd.

Casper and Sikes, 34, from Ponte Vedra, Fla., started Sunday's round at 138, with Harney at 139.

★ ★ ★

Harney shot 33-35—68; Sikes 38-33—71, Casper 37-35—72, and Johnson 36-33—69 to pose an additional threat.

"I must putt better today than I did yesterday," said Harney.

In view of his history here, is he fond of this course?

"I've made up my mind you can't fight this course. You're bound to make a few bogeys. You've just got to make enough birdies to make up for them."

Someone asked Casper, rather aimlessly it appeared, if he thinks he has a chance to win.

"Certainly," said the affable William. "Three shots on this golf course don't mean a thing. All you have to do is hole a couple of putts, have the other guys miss a few and you're in like a burglar.

Venturi Gains Writers' Vote for Comeback

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Three years is a long time to be kicking dust. I don't believe any athlete has ever been as low as I was."

So reflected golfer Ken Venturi today as he commented on the latest of many honors bestowed upon him in recent weeks — he was named in the annual Associated Press poll as the Outstanding Comeback in Sports in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Venturi, 34, a serious-minded, dedicated young man, suntanned and handsome, captured the U.S. Open Championship at Washington, D.C.

At younger age the San Francisco lad was a brilliant amateur, turned pro as one of the game's brightest prospects, and then rather abruptly went into a slump.

The Open victory obviously intrigued the fancy of the AP voters. They voted Venturi 91 first place votes.
