

They Will Mold the Future

Message From Planning Parley:

County Growth Must Be Guided

By DECK HANSON
The suburban giant that has sprung up on Oakland County's rural scene will continue to grow, and must be nurtured on sound planning if that growth is to benefit the community.

This was the message from the first countywide planning conference held yesterday at Michigan State University Oakland.

The county's present 200,000 population will double in the next 12 years, J. Robert F. Swanson, chairman of the Oakland County Planning Commission, predicted.

Comprehensive planning of the sort being carried out by the commission is essential to assure a desirable environment for this growth, said Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The planning conference consisted of workshop sessions at which county, township and city officials could discuss their problems with experts in all phases of planning.

AT BANQUET
Paul Oppermann, executive director of the Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan (Chicago) Area Planning Commission, was the principal speaker at a banquet attended by more than 400 persons interested in the county's future.

He drew a comparison with what is being done for orderly planning in Oakland County and the Chicago metropolitan area.

"The importance of comprehensive planning is that it allows the community to plan for the future, to anticipate the needs of the future and to make decisions today that will guide the future," he said.

He further warned that comprehensive planning must always be flexible "because changes yet to come may shake us more than those of recent years."

Oppermann described planning as a "way of sharing our environment" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

What can a community do to attract industry, thus providing new jobs and broadening the tax base?
Area planners gained an insight to the answer during a conference yesterday at MSU.

Three top-flight representatives of industry headed a workshop on "Planning for industrial growth." They were: William M. Young, Detroit Edison Co.'s assistant director of area development; Kenneth E. Horn, a research laboratory manager of Bendix Corp.; and Ralph J. Stephenson, vice president of H. F. Campbell Construction Co. in Detroit.

The community should determine exactly what types of industry it desires to locate within its boundaries and what it has available to offer this industry, they asserted.

QUALIFICATIONS
Suppose it is a research industry that is being sought, they said. Qualifications would include: A friendly atmosphere; pleasant, natural surroundings conducive to an easy flow of thoughts on the part of scientists; rapid transportation facilities such as a jet airport nearby; so that scientists and administrators can be whisked about to conferences and symposiums across the country.

Other facets to be considered, they added, are a suitable climate (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Once again Pontiac area temperatures plunged below zero but the Weather Bureau said the mercury will rise to the high 20s during the next five days. The low will average near 15.

Residents in Brandon and Oakland Townships reported early morning temperatures plunged to 20 below.

The bureau said low temperatures will dip to 18 tonight and climb to 24 Saturday.

State's Financial Picture Bad, Warns Sen. Roberts

"I believe the present financial crisis in the State of Michigan to be much worse than has been pointed out to date by the governor," State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, said today.

"Present estimates," he said, "show that by June 30 of this year the state overall deficit will be $100 million."

Based upon this year's general fund budget which will end the year at about $842 million, we find that $212 million must be added for next year, to cover civil service increases over which we have no control."

If the Wurzel secondary school aid bill passes, the jump in general fund obligations will rise by another $37.7 million. If the legislature holds higher education increases to $5 million and mental health increases to $4 million, they will be once again more than holding the line with respect to higher education and making it virtually impossible to solve the mentally retarded and blind problem. The mentally retarded backlog is the worst in the history of the state.

"The role of metropolitan area planning is to bring the engineers and planners of the various components together to tackle overall problems."

"We are on the road to rebuilding our country — our society," he stated.

URGES FLEXIBILITY
He further warned that comprehensive planning must always be flexible "because changes yet to come may shake us more than those of recent years."

Groundhog for a Day
WAYDOWNUNDER, U.S.A. — Today is the day that some members of the human race go batty over us.

On 364 other days of the year we groundhogs are nothing more than useless creatures that sleep away the day. Along comes Feb. 2 and the farmers, historians and city editors think we're the nuts — know-it-alls, prophets and magicians of sorts.

Right now there stand two of them trespassing on my absolute, one stand, bounded from the cold, pencil and pad in hand like a cub reporter, and the other is a squirrel sort, peeping things in my face. The nerve.

"Get the cover off the lens you dope!" one screamed.

"I'll take the shot and you write your usual tripe," countered the other.

Tax to Aid Colleges Praised by Varner

The chancellor of Michigan State University Oakland today hailed as "one way to solve universities' building problems" a State Senate bill filed yesterday which would finance a six-year, $160-million college building program by increasing cigarette and telephone taxes.

Chancellor D. B. Varner was commenting on reports of the bill introduced into the State Senate yesterday by Senator Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo). Varner stressed, however, that he had not seen the full text of the Morris bill.

"From what I know about it, I wouldn't say that this particular bill is the only way our building needs can be solved," Varner told The Pontiac Press. "But some bill like this makes sense."

"We are faced with a tremendous increase in enrollment, but no provision is made immediately, we are faced with turning back large numbers of enrollees."

The Morris bill would establish a higher education building authority with power to issue revenue bonds for up to $25 million each year for six years.

The bill also provides for a one-cent hike in the present cigarette tax and for taking away one-half cent of the present tax to be used for college and university building.

PROPOSED WIRE TAX
The other $10 million, he said, would come from reimposing one of the so-called nuisance taxes on telephone, telegraph and leased wire services. This levy would be four per cent.

Though he did not say so, a particular problem or difficulty inherent in reports of Morris' bill, Varner said that "the governor also has a program to help us meet our building needs."

Gov. Swanson's plan would establish a state building authority from which universities could borrow after approval of the State Legislature — to pay for new buildings. The loans would be repaid in form of a "rental" charge taken out of the universities' annual budget. The Swanson program has been called another way of long-term financing.

"The Morris plan," Varner said, "appears to have the advantage of being a pay-as-you-go program."

Based on his figuring on an annual expected revenue of $18 million from the cigarette and phone taxes, Varner said the revenues would be enough to make annual payments on buildings needed by state colleges.

JFK, Rusk Considering Putting Total Embargo on Trade With Castro

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States was expected today to direct prompt and urgent appeals to its NATO allies and other Allied countries to cooperate with the newly adopted inter-American policy of isolating Cuba.

The U.S. government itself is reported ready to make more extensive use of its naval forces in an effort to cut off Cuban arms shipments to subversive groups in other Latin American countries.

President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also are looking into the possibility of slapping a total embargo on U.S. trade with Cuba, one effect of which would be to deny Cuba a source of income amounting to about $15 million a year at the present rate of trade.

In connection with the possible abolition of all trade with Cuba, Rusk charged Thursday at a news conference that Cuba was using American dollars to promote subversion in other countries. He didn't explain the remarks.

The possibility of some move by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro against the U. S. Naval base at Guantanamo is also under careful watch here, it was learned. In event of serious harassment, U.S. dependents at the base would be brought home.

Tanks Enter Paris to Stall Any Coup

PARIS (AP)—French army tanks converged on Paris today to forestall any attempt by the right-wing Secret Army to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle as reports of an imminent peace pact for Algeria persisted.

With mounted machine guns, two squadrons totaling 32 tanks moved on the capital to give a crucial statement on the long secret negotiations with the Algerian Nationalist Liberation Front to end the seven-year rebellion.

French public opinion was being prepared for a deal with the rebels to carry out De Gaulle's policy of putting Algeria on the path to independence.

Well-informed diplomatic sources said the agreement already had been drafted and needed only the formal signatures of both sides.

FEAR ATTEMPTED COUP

France's allies reportedly have been notified that the De Gaulle regime seriously fears an attempted coup by the right-wing extremists either in France or Algeria.

There were reports that some French officials hoped to provoke the Secret Army into an uprising in advance of a peace announcement on the theory that a premature push would be easier to crush—at least in metropolitan France.

Security forces also were reinforced in hotbeds of rightist terrorism in Algeria. Two hundred crack assault commandos moved into Algiers Thursday to reinforce French troops already put on emergency footing.

REBELS MEETING

The Algerian rebel cabinet was meeting today in Tunis, reportedly to take up the projected peace accord before putting it before a special session of the National Revolutionary Council—a sort of rebel parliament—in Tripoli within the next two weeks.

Approval by the French Parliament is not necessary in a referendum in 1961 the French voters gave De Gaulle a free hand on Algeria policy.

DETROIT RECORDS MINUS 2 AND PELLSTON 26 BELOW; NORTHEAST BITTER ALSO

From Our News Wire

Subzero temperatures were the rule rather than the exception in most of Michigan today as a bitter cold wave held the state in its grip.

Pelleton again claimed the lowest reading — a bone-numbing 26 below zero. Alpena recorded 14 below. Traverse City minus 14. Bay City-Saginaw 11 below, and Muskegon and Lansing 6 below. It was 2 below in Detroit.

Biting cold weather stung sections in New England and upstate New York today as the season's longest spell of frigid weather held a tight grip across most of the Northeast.

An unofficial reading of 45 below was reported in Broomfield, N.Y., in the foothills of the Adirondack Mountains, for the lowest mark in the snow belt.

In New England, temperatures varied 45 degrees, with readings ranging from 27 below in Old Town, Maine, to 35 above in Nantucket Island. Boston had its coldest day of winter with a reading of 3 below.

Today was the third day of zero or below weather for much of New York State. Some frigid readings included -21 in Plattsburgh, -30 in Massena, -35 in Watertown, -30 in Syracuse, and -40 in Buffalo. New York City was out of the extreme cold belt with a low of 18. Some snow fell in the metropolitan area, in downstate areas and in southern sections.

Also, he added, while the national debt has soared to nearly $300 billion, the government wants to study ways of using monetary strategy to control inflation.

Another point on the agenda is studying the diving reflex and volume receptors in the seal.

Byrd called these items from a list running to more than 100 pages, he said. "It is my purpose to make further inquiry into the nature and costs of research projects which are being undertaken in the name of public health."

"MONKEY BUSINESS"

Byrd said he learned that the National Institute of Mental Health made the grant to Dr. Harry F. Harlow of the University of Wisconsin to study the monkey business.

The budget bureau told him, Byrd said, that Dr. Harlow will study the "nature and development of the affectional relationship of the infant monkey and his mother," and will also go into more esoteric things like "visual exploration and curiosity."

These research grants are running into thousands of projects which are costing tremendous sums of money, Byrd said.

1,300 Butchers Taking Vote on Monday Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Nearly 1,300 butchers, meat cutters and clerks at 38 supermarkets in southeastern Michigan planned a strike today and Saturday.

All members of Local 529, Meat Cutters and Butchers Union AFL-CIO, they are employed by 13 supermarket chains in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Washtenaw, Genesee, Saginaw and Midland counties.

The butchers scheduled to vote on whether to accept an offer by the United Supermarkets Association. If the offer is rejected, Samuel Simmes, executive secretary of the State Labor Mediation Board, said a strike could be called by Monday.

Issues include the work week, which the Union wants cut, and higher pay and rest periods and fringe benefits.

Cofounder of Area Ad Agency Honored by Associates

Forty-seven senior members of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills, gathered Wednesday in Bloomfield Hills Country Club to honor W. A. P. John, cofounder of the advertising agency, on his 67th birthday.

Host of the luncheon was agency president Ernest A. Jones.

John of 556 Tooting Lane, Birmingham, together with the late W. F. MacManus and James H. Adams, formed MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., in 1934.

Now chairman of the advisory committee, he has seen the firm grow to one of the largest advertising agencies, representing 100 clients in this country and abroad.

Associates at the luncheon had a combined tenure with the agency of nearly 1,000 years.

Ten have been with the company since its founding in 1934. They are Joanna Ashley, Ray Blackwell, vice president and treasurer, Leo A. Hillebrand, J. W. Ingham, Stephen Lukacs, senior vice president, John R. MacManus, vice president, Kenneth H. MacQueen, George W. Mott, Paul Seely, and Armin Seiffert.

New Soviet Berlin Plan Rejected by U.S., Allies

BRITAIN, France and West Germany before Thompson was authorized to turn it down.

Thompson, who is engaged in a battle with Berlin "revisionists" talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, rejected the plan at his meeting Thursday in Moscow with the Russian official.

U.S. officials described the Soviet proposal as a clever propaganda maneuver which they said would have a certain amount of appeal, "published. The proposal contained no language concerning "democratic rights" which would be guaranteed.

But they pointed out that it added little to previous Soviet proposals for creating a free city in West Berlin, other than the idea for creating the new state in the United Nations.

It was linked with a previous Soviet offer to admit both West Germany and Communist East Germany to the United Nations.

The United States and its Allies have rejected that plan because it would give the East German Communists de facto recognition which the Western powers believe they do not desire.

The Soviet suggestion for an independent Berlin in the United Nations appeared to be part of a new Russian peace offensive designed to convince the world that the Kremlin is taking a more reasonable line on the critical problem.

Interest to Be Increased on Unpaid Assessments

'BIRMINGHAM — A higher interest rate on unpaid special assessment installments will become effective Feb. 15.

The City Commission established the new rate recently on the recommendation of James H. Purkiss, director of city finances.

The change from 4 to 6 per cent is intended to give the city a greater return on city funds now used for this type of financing, according to Purkiss.

He also noted that the higher rate will allow the city to make maximum use of the limited amount of revolving funds that are available for this form of financing.

The 4 per cent rate was established in July 1947.

A 6 per cent interest also will be levied on all invoices for city-rendered services if unpaid after 30 days. Interest will be computed one-half of 1 per cent each month after the 30-day period.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will begin its third year of participation in the "Great Decisions" program on Monday.

The program provides citizens with study current issues of foreign policy through a series of discussions. The meetings will be held each Monday during February and March at the homes of church members.

Even Top-Mark Law Students Can Flunk

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON
President of Education
University of Southern California

Gentlemen of the jury, why do so many top students flunk out of law school? And, even more to the point, why do the ranks of the failures include so many students who had made top grades in previous courses?

This is a case that has stumped the experts. With the possible exception of military and medical schools, no schools are more selective in picking students than law schools. None put greater reliance on grades, entrance examinations, aptitude tests and intensive interviewing.

Yet the failure continues at a staggering rate and with a staggering waste of time, money, brains and badly overworked facilities. In an attempt to correct the situation, many law schools have tightened their entrance requirements.

To insure a steady flow of students with sound general education, in addition to specialized knowledge, they have added a series of tests on English composition, grammar, and social studies.

They summarize what they hear and observe. They must be able to write cogent briefs. They must be able to talk factually and persuasively enough to sway judge and jury.

Often one I have taught the student better study methods and improved techniques in preparing for and taking examinations. These are some of the things I have written about in this series of articles.

Frequently I have been able to help brilliant students who have flunked out of law school to get in.

This may be the reason why students with an engineering background frequently do better in law school than those with a general education or even a pre-law background. I've never known a top grade engineering student to flunk out of law school.

In order to be successful, a law student must be able to:

1. Organize knowledge as he receives it.

2. Organize and summarize knowledge as he receives it.

3. Present knowledge in an organized fashion in writing.

4. Present knowledge in an organized fashion in speaking.

On this basis, it is possible to determine before a student enters law school whether he is likely to succeed in his law studies, and whether he is likely to become a good practicing lawyer after he graduates.

Good lawyers listen attentively to their side and the opposing side.

The Murderers—15

By HARRY J. ANSLINGER
U. S. Commissioner of Narcotics and WILL OUELIER

The tentacles of narcotics addiction reach into many unsuspected areas, often far removed from the organized underworld.

I recall one case in which the addict was one of the most influential members of Congress. His decisions and statements helped shape the destiny of the United States and the free world.

I learned on incontrovertible evidence that this legislative leader was a confirmed morphine addict who would do nothing to help himself. It was a delicate moment in world affairs.

There was imminent danger that the facts would become known and there was no doubt that they would be used to the fullest in the propaganda machines of our enemies.

I called on this lawmaker and told him that I knew exactly what the situation was.

"THAT'S TOO BAD"
"Well, that's too bad, isn't it?" was his answer. "But I wouldn't try to do anything about it, commissioner. It will be the worse for you."

"What do you mean by that?" "Simply that if you try to stop my source, I will go directly to the pushers. If I have to, and it winds up in a public scandal and that about hurt this country, I wouldn't care."

"You are in a position because of your power in this Congress to hurt America gravely," I said. "If you weren't I would throw the book at you. But I'm not going to let you hurt this country—no matter what it costs me."

"And just what can you do, commissioner?" "I want your pledge not go to the pushers—if I see that you get what you need."

He shrugged. "Why not?" he said. "I'll see that you get all the drugs you need. I can do this legally because of your age. But you are to get them through one store only."

I did not like the situation but I felt we had no other course open to us. As the Congressman tested his supplies regularly for purity, any attempt at gradual reduction would have failed. No one behind this addicted lawmaker and myself—and an obscure druggist on the outskirts of Washington—knew what was happening.

On the day the lawmaker died, I thanked God for relieving me of my burden.

One addict we picked up—I will call him Dr. Howard—had a distinguished record. He had been on the staff of two hospitals in Michigan and one in Canada. All that Dr. Howard lacked was formal medical training. He had never had an hour of it.

STILL DID WELL

Everything he knew he had learned from observation and from reading medical texts. In spite of this, he had delivered babies, assisted at numerous operations, performed autopsies and written innumerable prescriptions.

On some of his hospital records he had claimed that he was a former flight surgeon in the Air Force, and had been with the Flying Tigers in Burma. (He was actually classified 4F in the draft.)

We learned that he had started out as a laboratory technician in a Detroit hospital, left after six weeks at the "suggestion" of a doctor who thought the technician was overstepping his role, and got a job in another hospital, posing as a third year medical student at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo.

"They took me at my word and never checked up," he told us.

Unfortunately, he became addicted to drugs. He continued their use regularly as he shifted from hospital to hospital. In Canada he presented himself as a graduate physician, was given a job in a hospital as a resident doctor, taking full charge of the most serious medical cases, in many of which life or death hung in the balance.

Officials in the Canadian hospital were shocked when they learned Howard was not a physician. "He came to us as a newly discharged lieutenant of the Army Medical Corps," they revealed.

"From the first," Howard told us, "when I had nothing but a fast line and a flight surgeon's uniform, it was all easy. You have no idea how easy. I am familiar with most medical terms. My qualifications were never questioned. I had a forged medical school certificate and none of the hospitals ever bothered to check up on me."

QUITE COMPETENT

"I feel quite competent to handle the most medical cases and I have discovered that there is a good deal of mumbo-jumbo in medical practice."

His deception might have gone on indefinitely had it not been for the fact that the druggist whose suspicions were aroused by the heavy load of narcotic prescriptions sent him by "Dr. Howard."

He pleaded guilty to narcotics charges, was given two years in the penitentiary plus two years in a state prison for violating state laws concerning medicine. "And while you are in jail," the judge enjoined him, "don't try to pass yourself off as the prison doctor."

There is no single set way to deal with those trapped in the tentacles. The addict in one case was a

Washington society woman. I had known her personally for some years. She was a beautiful, gracious lady. She had become so badly addicted to demerol that no doctor would prescribe for her; her demand was too great.

Word of her case came to me through some of her friends. Was there any way I could help? The woman, I learned, was ready to kill herself. She would not deal with pushers nor would she take a cure or go voluntarily to the hospital.

Moreover, if I made a case against her, it would destroy her completely—along with the unblemished reputation of one of the nation's most honored families.

I agreed to try to help her, through a trusted physician to whom she appealed for drugs. She was not to know my role. I also learned that she insisted on receiving only unopened, sealed bottles of demerol from the druggist.

COMPLICATED PROBLEM

That complicated the business but a pharmaceutical manufacturer agreed to work with us. Each bottle of demerol, specially packaged and sealed, delivered in routine fashion from the drug store, on the prescription of the physician, contained less actual demerol than the previous bottle.

Within three months, without the woman realizing, she went from a large daily "ration" to none at all. What she was getting was sugar of milk.

Dope Addiction Reaches Into the Capitol

One day this woman was leaving on a liner for Europe. Of course, she had to have her supply of bottles in her suitcase. I was among those who came to say goodbye. I drew her to one side and told her:

"I have some news for you. You need never worry about those bottles any more. You are no longer addicted."

"You haven't had a narcotic at all for a month." "You mean that I'm cured? Right now? This moment?"

Cleveland Judge Dies
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Judge John J. Mahon, 71, who was a prosecutor at the Sheppard murder trial in 1954, died Wednesday of cancer and kidney failure. Two-thirds of the world's whales are taken in Antarctic waters.

Ex-Rifle Champ Dies
CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Maj. John W. Henson, 54, a former world's rifle champion, died Thursday.

Just-Wed Solon Thinks $2 Too Low for License

LANSING (AP) — Three weeks ago, Rep. Adam Sumeracki, D-Detroit, got married. Now he wants to raise the price of a marriage license from $2 to $3. Sumeracki, 50, and a bachelor until his marriage to the former Miss Gertrude Phillips of Detroit, returned from a two-week honeymoon in Florida and immediately introduced a bill to boost the cost of getting hitched.

"Two dollars is not enough to pay for the privilege of getting married," he declared. Then he added: "Of course, I may change my mind later on."

Offers Method for State Cash

Rep. DeMaso Suggests Budgets Be Figured on Average Take-In

LANSING (AP) — A Republican legislator, peeved by varying sets of figures on how much money the state is taking in, proposed a new system of revenue estimating today.

Rep. Harry A. DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, said it would help keep the legislature "from being left holding the bag year after year when state income doesn't measure up to predictions of the revenue department, the governor and various other sources."

"When that happens, we have no choice but to find more money to make up the difference so we can meet our obligations, and that has meant adding a new tax of some kind," he said.

DeMaso's bill, cosponsored by nine other House members, requires proposed state budgets to base revenue estimates on the average amount of money actually taken in by the state over the past three years.

"If that figure is not sufficient to balance the proposed budget, the author of the spending blueprint—usually the governor—would be required to propose specific taxes to make up the difference."

"It is time we start to fit expenditures to income rather than income to expenditures," DeMaso said. A similar plan has been adopted in Oklahoma, he said.

Karl Wallenda (Tense, Injured) Back on Wire

DETROIT (AP) — Karl Wallenda, tense and limping from a pelvic injury, went back onto the high wire Thursday.

Karl left Highland Park General Hospital Thursday morning and then put on two shows on the high wire at the Shrine Circus.

He was injured in Tuesday's plunge that caused the death of two of the Wallenda troupe.

Tuesday night the troupe suffered a fall during its aerial act and Dieter Schepp, 23, and Richard Faughnan, 29, plunged to their deaths.

Marlo Wallenda, 22, suffered head injuries and remains in critical condition. Jana Schepp, 17, was caught 88' the way down and received a mild concussion when she fell from a blanket used as a safety net. She said she was through with the act for life.

Freak Plane Collision in Colorado Kills 4

BROOMFIELD, Colo. (UPI) — Four men aboard two light airplanes were killed Thursday when their craft collided in a freak accident.

Both single-engine planes were approaching the Jefferson County Airport 10 miles northwest of Denver for landings. One overtook the other and sheared off its tail at about 200 feet above the ground. The planes fell about 100 feet apart. The weather was clear.

End-of-Business Sale to Cost Merchants $100

Going out of business will not be an easy thing to do this year, unless you do it quietly.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley today explained that any Pontiac merchant still can go out of business without fanfare at no cost as in past years.

But a fanfare will cost $100. "We have always operated under a state statute that requires a business owner to obtain a license permitting him to advertise a going-out-of-business sale."

"Up to now the license cost $2. A new state law has increased the fee to $100 this year," she said.

The license is good for 90 days and can be renewed for another $100 fee.

A complete inventory of the merchant's stock is required for the initial license and it cannot be renewed if the store owner has added new merchandise since beginning the sale.

There was a decline in the going-out-of-business licenses issued here last year and the clerk feels the fee increase will result in a further decrease in 1962.

Only seven licenses were issued here in 1961, one less than the previous year.

Is Government Trying to Limit Spending?

Recently a letter in the Voice of the People called attention to the fact that economy in government is passe. In fact, the writer mentioned that he had been waiting for someone to dare and broach the subject.

This newspaper would feel remiss to let this challenge go by without restating our long-time position of advocating economy in all types of government, whether it be local, state or Federal.

Certainly, the trend today which has been buoyed up by our "New Frontier" administration is ignoring economy. They just ask for more money. They just ask to President KENNEDY, EISENHOWER attempted weakly to hold the line on Government expenditures.

Sometimes he could, and other times it was just impossible. At least it is our feeling that over the eight years he was honestly attempting to hold down the cost to the taxpayers. Certainly he didn't succeed to everyone's satisfaction.

Now this has all changed. The Federal Government, along with our State Government is unquestionably on a spending spree. This has been the tone in all of the State of the Union messages by both branches of government.

We do not buy this philosophy now, any more than we have in the past. In fairness, we realize that in many categories increased revenues must be found. Just to say we need up to ten million or billion as the case may be, seems a bit presumptuous to us.

We recognize in many instances costs of operation have accelerated over the years. Since this is true it seems all the more reasonable to believe that economy should be studied in all Government agencies.

It is entirely possible that some cost savings within our Government could possibly cut back some of the requests for various operations.

An increased budget is naturally the easiest way to raise money for new or increased functions, yet it must come out of the taxpayer's pocket in one form or another in the way of new taxes.

The tax burden is growing... and no end is in sight.

Italy Will Try Pilot Strictly on Her Own

The free world is presented with an opportunity to allow NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV to stew in a sizable pot of his own juice.

MILUSC SOLAKOV, the hapless air force puppet who crash-landed in Italy right near one of our own bases will come to trial. You will recall that his airplane was jammed with so many established instruments for high-flight spying that he made no attempt to talk his way out of the difficulty.

When a like circumstance confronted the world in Russia, the U.S. pilot was made the central figure in a three-ring circus, complete with newspaper reporters and cameras, spotlights, radio, television and newscasts.

Francis Powers got the full treatment.

Current advice indicates that the Italians will try the Bulgarian bad boy without let or interference from Washington. Administrative circles feel this is the soundest strategy for the sake of our own position and to assist us in negotiating again for the release of POWERS.

Perhaps we can effect a trade.

Thus, Italy will be strictly "on her own." She can be tough, lenient or forgiving. Anyway it's a chance for the free world to demonstrate that this upper strata spying is a two way street. "What's sauce for the goose, etc."

Gals' Knees Still Show in Latest Fashions

Oh, me.

After a revealing season of milady's kneecap and even a suggestive stretch beyond, the die's now cast for the ensuing season.

Knees will still be seen.

Hemlines have inches cautiously downward according to the top dogs in old Paris, but the advance is almost microscopic and practically everything that bore scrutiny and inspection before still does.

The gals will spend another season unconsciously tugging, pulling, smoothing and stretching. It's second nature by now and they can use the training of the immediate past in the days ahead.

The Man About Town

Gets the Answers Phone and Mail Are Busy for Seeker of Bird Lore

Adult education: What has principally become a children's job.

A few days ago when this column published the request of

Mrs. L. Allen Raymond of Lake Orion for identification of some strangers at her bird feeding board, it was hardly expected that it would develop into a source of quite liberal revenue for the telephone company and our Uncle Sam.

A letter from her says that she is flooded with calls and letters telling her that they are evening grobawks. This bird is quite rare in this area, but had evidently been heard by the feathered grapevine that there was a top feeding place at Lake Orion.

She writes: "It is amazing: such a large number of long, friendly calls between total strangers, and letters telling of unique experiences."

Mrs. Raymond suggests that egg shells be saved, crushed and put out among the bird feed. The birds relish them, as they take the place of the grit which they are unable to pry loose from the frozen ground.

Most everybody will agree with the sentiments in a letter from Rodney Orson of Utica, who writes: "If we already haven't passed the middle of the winter, we'd better celebrate July 4 with a ski party."

"We have some young culprits without whom it would be a better world," phones Mrs. Hannah Jumison of Birmingham, in referring to those who call "chicken" other young people who refuse to take chances on thin ice.

A number of reports have been received in regard to the depth to which the ground now is frozen. They vary from six inches to three feet, according to the soil and its snow coverage. The average is about one foot.

Drayton Plains was a busy place at this season around the turn of the century, according to Arthur McGonigal of Auburn Heights, who then lived there, and is referring to the harvest of many thousands of tons of ice on Loon Lake, and other lakes in that area.

He Has Pretty Well Secured His Burden

David Lawrence Claims:

'Stockpiling' Needs an Explanation

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's instinctive passion for publicity and headlines got the better of him at his press conference this week as he chose the wrong method to achieve a rightful objective.

Instead of presenting to Congress in a comprehensive message the full details of the "stockpiling" program with

LAWRENCE, specific recommendations to curtail excessive purchasing, Kennedy made a vague statement and left the inference of scandal as he referred to "unconscionable profits."

It so happens that, at the "unconscionable" tax rates of today, the federal government gets back 52 per cent of all corporate profits and from 75 to 90 per cent of the income of any individual "profiteers."

Congress is primarily responsible for this program of spending, and the Democratic party has been in control of both houses for seven out of the last nine years.

Kennedy himself was a member of the Senate during six of the last nine years. Again and again Sens. Willis Robertson and Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, Democrats, have called attention in formal reports to the large expenditures in recent years for stockpiling of both metals and agricultural products, but to no avail.

TO START PROBE

The President asked Sen. Stuart Symington, chairman of the stockpiling subcommittee of the armed services committee, to undertake an investigation.

Symington was invited to the White House to discuss the problem and subsequently told reporters that he knows of "no wrongdoing by anyone."

There's more than meets the eye in the President's call for an investigation.

For what the federal government has been doing in the purchase of metals and other commodities has served to bolster the prices of these same articles, and this, in turn, has meant profits for the sellers. This also has been true, of course, in the agricultural domain.

As a matter of fact, it looks very much as if the President is trying to build up an alibi for the excessive stockpiling of farm products. For he made his charges about the supplies in metals on the very same day that he asked Congress in a special message for power to deal with the farm program by price supports.

Actually, the United States has stockpiled about $7.7 billion in war materials, but its agricultural stockpile is at about the same

All it will take to destroy civilization is for the wrong people to try to save it and the right people to fail to try.

Voice of the People:

'Thank Broomfield, Hill for Giving Opposition

I just finished reading the article about the federal government planning to spend $45,000 in Mississippi and the opposition of Representative Broomfield and Vice President Hill of Ford Motor Company.

Every voter in Michigan, should send a "thank you" to Mr. Hill and Bill Broomfield and then a letter to everyone in Washington asking them why taxpayers in Michigan have to pay for training tractor operators in Mississippi.

The only way federal spending will slacken is when thousands of taxpayers start screaming. Get out your pen and paper.

'Should Pupils Walk if Buses Don't Run?'

I would like to answer "I. L." who went to school in the Upper Peninsula before anyone heard of school buses. I, too, went to school in the U.P. and walked the two miles from the very first day. I even walked in blizzards and below-zero temperatures, but we didn't have the icy roads and the traffic problem.

I drive a school bus and am very grateful that we have officials who keep the buses off the road when driving is hazardous. Most schools are open even if the buses aren't running, so get out and take the "little dears" school or let the "little dears" walk. Times have changed!

F. M.

I'm wondering if "I. L." walked five to seven miles to school at the age of 5, 6 or 7? My children walked to a country school located a mile and a half from our home.

Now my grandchildren are transported by bus to schools that are located five to 10 miles from their homes. Never have I known their schools to be "closed because of snow." I see, yes. As the school wasn't closed to those who could get there because they lived on a main road.

Has "I. L." traveled on the ice now covering the side roads? Many of these roads are narrow and hilly and never sanded? I would rather all children missed school than risk one small life.

Too many men roam the roads just waiting for a chance to find a child alone.

Grandma

I imagine some walked five miles in storms and cold. I rode a school bus and stayed home when it stormed. Four of my six children go to the Decker Elementary School, five miles from home. I don't want my 1-year-old walking in this weather.

I don't think buses should try to get through when the weather is bad.

My kids aren't "soft." Johnny, 9, has driven the tractor two summers, and when the last baby was born my two girls, 9 and 10, did all the household chores for our family of eight.

No more complaining because the schools close for a day or two.

A Mother

"I. L." doesn't realize they have removed "watering troughs" and

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE L-423: Alice A., aged 16, a typical bubbled teen-ager.

"Dr. Crane, I am so unhappy I just wish I were dead," she began tearfully.

"I'm a poor student, I do my lessons but they aren't correct. I don't like school. But I also dislike being at home."

"For my family don't understand me, and they say I am silly. They also tell me I never do my work right so they can't depend on me for anything."

"I feel sorry for myself at times and indulge in self pity. I'm in the mood to run away from home, for everything is against me."

"Sometimes I think I am, even losing my mind. And I know I am unwanted at home and a failure at school. Oh, I'm miserable and I don't know what to do. Please help me, Dr. Crane."

LIFE'S A GAME

Hopes for Progress at Arms Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy told Congress Thursday he hoped and expects the forthcoming Geneva conference "will make significant progress toward the achievement of the goal of disarmament with effective methods of insuring compliance."

"Never before in the history of man has the importance of arms control and disarmament been so great," Kennedy said. Kennedy's statements were in a letter transmitting the first report of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

The agency was established last Sept. 26, but Kennedy's report also related the work of predecessor agencies.

Japanese Group to Keep Traditional Martial Arts

TOKYO (AP) — A nonpartisan organization for the "preservation and prosperity of Japanese traditional martial arts" was formed Thursday by 325 members of both houses of parliament.

All members are holders of degrees in judo, kendo and kyudo. Kendo is Japanese fencing, kyudo is Japanese archery. The association plans to build a museum, library and 2,500-seat stadium.

Malaria Kills 24 in Java

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Malaria has struck a tea estate in west Java and has taken the lives of 24 people, Antara News Agency said Wednesday. The Agency said 500 workers have been found to be suffering from malaria at Mirnare Estate, near Bandung.

Amid the discordant, frequently violent voices of Africa, it is a relief to find that there also are those which speak in tones of moderation.

This week in Lagos, Nigeria, representatives of 20 African states concluded what originally had

This was the so-called Monrovia group, generally moderate in viewpoint and composed primarily of former French African territories plus Ethiopia, Liberia, Nigeria, Sierra Leone and Somalia.

Conspicuously absent were the Casablanca group and its vocally nationalistic leaders whose self-proclaimed policy of neutrality and anticolonialism more frequently than not has seemed to serve the interests of personal ambition.

contemptuously rejected membership in the French community with the words:

"We prefer poverty in freedom to riches in slavery."

In it also is President Kwame Nkrumah who, under the guise of democracy, runs his small state with the iron hand of a totalitarian and who hopes to use port of his Soviet-backed successor, Antoine Gizenga.

Joined by Mali and Morocco these three boycotted the Lagos meeting because it failed to invite representatives of rebel Algeria.

The Casablanca group boycotted caused disappointment at Lagos but brought only the soft reply part of African common market which would remove trade barriers, unify transport and communications, coordinate industries and work toward better schools and health.

And it echoed the words of Nigerian Governor General D. N. Nnamdi Azikiwe:

"Today is no longer an era of anticolonialist harangues."

DRIVER IN DISTRESS — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie gives a convincing performance as a motorist in trouble to illustrate uniform distress signals adopted by the nation's state highway departments for drivers who must stop on freeways. Notice the raised hood and the white cloth tied to the car door handle. These are signs of trouble that will be immediately recognized by all state troopers. Aiding Mackie in the demonstration is trooper Billie Kellev.

A checking account helps keep family budgets healthy

How to discuss money and still keep peace in the family

There are married couples who can discuss money matters and smile.

It is not that they have better dispositions than others, but for them, the subject is a whole lot tidier. They know exactly where their money goes because they pay their bills by check.

And they simplify money matters by handling all their banking needs at the same full-service bank where they have their checking account.

Checking accounts are available only at full-service banks—such as ours. By law, these banks can do more for you than any other kind of financial institution—everything from checking accounts and savings accounts to all kinds of loans and really helpful financial counselling. You not only enjoy the convenience of one-stop banking, but it's the easiest and surest way to build a sound financial standing.

Discover for yourself the extra advantages which our full-service bank can offer you. A checking account is a good way to begin. Why not stop in and open one this week?

Bowling Alley Ripped
by Blaze in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A spectacular propane fire destroyed a downtown bowling alley today and forced 50 patrons of an adjacent all night theater to flee into sub-zero temperatures.

Police said no one was injured in the blaze which destroyed the Casino Bowling Alley at 2707 Woodward and damaged the roof of the adjacent Roxy Theater. Damage to the bowling alley was estimated at $300,000.

More than 50 pieces of fire equipment answered the alarm. Sub-zero temperatures blundered firemen and left streets and sidewalks in the area ice covered.

George Murphy
at GOP Dinner

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Actor George Murphy appeared for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon here last night at the Republican cross-country fund-raising rally, but he forgot his lines.

Nixon's doctor had ordered him to bed at his Los Angeles home because of a virus infection.

Murphy flew here to read Nixon's speech — but forgot to bring it with him.

Murphy asked a Nixon aide to dictate the speech over the telephone but it quickly became apparent that the job couldn't be done in time for Murphy to read it over a scheduled closed-circuit television hookup.

So Murphy delivered his own speech, calling for a unified Republican party to "close ranks, join arms and get on with the job."

India Prays, Hoping to 'Save the World'

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Priests by the hundreds gathered all over India today to pray for protection from any evil they believe may result from Saturday's conjunction of eight heavenly bodies.

Astrologers say the rare phenomenon, only one of its kind that will occur in this century, is a "sure sign of disaster" because it will occur in the "10th House of Capricorn," within 30 degrees of the sun's path. Many Indians believe them.

Anything may happen during the coming week, the astrologers say, and probably will—local wars, earthquakes, tidal waves, maybe even World War III.

In New Delhi alone, 250 priests pledged to celibacy are staging a 21-day prayerathon. They plan to recite prayers to Chandhi, one of them 4.8 million times, and to burn 8,000 pounds of cooking oil and scented offerings in sacred fires which will be kept constantly alight.

Chandi is the Hindu goddess of destruction and power.

A bare-chested "holy man" has been standing thigh-deep in the supposedly sacred Jumna River since Jan. 5. He says he will stay there until Feb. 10 "to save the world from destruction."

Elsewhere in India, similar rituals are being held in special pavilions on the banks of other sacred rivers. Hindus by the hundreds are flocking to Benares, India's holiest city and therefore presumably its safest.

Washington Denies Plan to Invite Tito to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said Thursday there is no plan to invite Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to visit this country.

A spokesman told Pierre Salinger, press secretary, there was a report that a tentative decision had been reached to invite Tito.

There is no plan at all to invite Marshal Tito," Salinger replied.

Senator Files Bill

Wanted: Michigan Day

LANSING (AP) — Would you like a day off early in August to enjoy Michigan's summer vacationland?

Sen. Harold M. Ryan, D-Detroit, has introduced a bill to proclaim the first Monday in August as Michigan Day. It would be a legal, paid holiday if the bill goes through.

There is no legal holiday between the Fourth of July and Labor Day," Ryan explained.

"We need one in the heat of the summer."

Canada, he said, has its Dominion Day. Each state, Ryan said, should boom its own virtues. Eventually, he said, it could be a nationwide affair.

"We could get the tourists into Michigan for this holiday," Ryan said. "Also, the people sweating in the big cities in Michigan would have a weekend to take off north."

Cartoon to Fight Inflation

Buck Strong on the Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — Get set to meet Buck Strong, a wavy-haired little fellow with bulging biceps and a dollar sign for a torso.

He's going to ask your support in the fight against inflation.

Buck is a cartoon invention of Al Capp, and bears some resemblance to the inhabitants of Dogpatch down to his Li'l Abner shorts.

But Buck is on a serious mission. His job: To warn against the dangers of inflation and appeal for "sound dollar" policies by government, business, labor and the public.

He'll turn up on motion pictures, and television screens, billboards, plant posters and — naturally — the comic pages of newspapers.

He may even find his way into your mailbox, peering at you from the envelope containing your monthly department store bill.

Buck is being put to work by the Council for Economic Growth, and Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary chairman of this business-oriented, tax-exempt organization.

Senators Argue Over Scholle

Debate AFL-CIO Man Being on Conservation Commission

LANSING (AP) — While August (Gus) Scholle is continuing as a member of the State Conservation Commission, senators continue angry debate about his appointment.

In the latest blast on the subject of the controversial head of the state AFL-CIO, Sen. Basil W. Brown declared on the Senate floor Thursday:

"You have never challenged his integrity. You have never said he was an extreme rightist or a Communist. We can't say that about some of the members here."

Brown said the Senate "disgraced itself on the record" by refusing to vote on the Scholle appointment.

The appointment has been bottled up in committee. Sen. John P. Smeekens, R-Coldwater, had asked that the committee be discharged to call a floor vote on the issue.

Senators haven't discharged a committee since 1912 and Republicans voted down the motion, with Smeekens among those against his own motion.

"Purely political reasons are behind this disgraceful behavior," said Brown of the Senate action.

"This is an excellent appointment," said Brown. "He is a hunter and a fisherman and he has done a good job on the commission. He has been endorsed publicly and editorially by the press, which is generally against him."

Senate Debate on College Aid Bill Opens Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate begins debate today on the college aid bill with the question of scholarships the main issue.

The $2,674,000,000 Senate bill contains the classroom construction aid and student scholarships asked by President Kennedy, plus a grant program to help build community junior colleges.

The only major floor fight is expected over the scholarships, with some Republicans will seek to knock out.

Sens. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., were prepared to oppose the scholarships, substituting for them an increase in student loan funds under the 1958 National Defense Act.

Democrats sponsoring the bill, who long have advocated a program of scholarships for needy students, said they expected to be able to retain that feature of the bill.

Sen. Wayne Mose, D-Ore., floor manager for the bill, was scheduled to lead off the debate. Senate leaders expect the showdown votes on Monday.

State Universities to Receive Grants

NEW YORK (AP) — The University of Michigan and Michigan State University will receive grants of $100,000 and $30,000 respectively under an $8 million student loan program announced by the Ford Foundation today.

The loans will be distributed over a five-year period to doctoral candidates planning careers as teachers of engineering, a field in which the foundation says there is a growing shortage of qualified persons.

Wife Sues Van Johnson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Evie Johnson, estranged wife of actor Van Johnson, sued in Superior Court for separate maintenance Thursday and obtained a receiver-ship for Johnson's California property.

Twist Rates Higher Than Family Survival

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—The Board of Education announced several weeks ago a social dancing course which would include the twist. Thirty-two persons plunked down $10 each for the dancing lessons.

At the same time the board announced an "individual and family survival course," given free under Civil Defense sponsorship.

With only six persons signing up for survival, the school canceled the course.

Public Policy Leans Pro-Protestant

Editorials Admire President's Church-State Stand

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP)—Under such titles as "The Religious Issue Revisited," journals of religion throughout the country have been devoting a good deal of space lately to assessments of the first Catholic president's first year in office.

Most agree President Kennedy has been successful in allaying the fears of some Protestants that church-state separation would suffer with a Catholic in the White House.

Some went even further: "We have the phenomenon," writes John Wickham in American Judaism, "of a Roman Catholic holding to a stronger and more specific commitment on church and state than any Protestant ever gave."

Similarly, Christian Century, a nondenominational Protestant magazine, began a lead editorial with the flat statement that Kenedy "has compiled a better record on the issue of separation of church and state than any other president we have had in the past 30 years."

Says Almost Ready to Start Bus Line

DETROIT (AP)—Bert Jasper, former president of Intertown Bus Lines, said today that arrangements are virtually complete for the restoration of bus service to 14 downriver communities.

Jasper said the target date is Feb. 12. He is the president of the new and unnamed transportation firm.

Jasper said he would confer next week with P. J. Giacomini, former Intertown owner, and sign the papers needed to complete the deal. Intertown went out of business after a lengthy strike last year.

mented its Catholic appraisal of the President's first year.

CHURCH POLITICS

With respect to his church, America said, Kennedy had conducted himself "more or less as almost any Catholic president might have been expected to conduct himself in a land largely dominated, in the cultural sense, by a strong residual Protestant tradition."

The Jesuit journal noted that "for understandable political reasons," the President seemed to avoid close public association with his own church's dignitaries, but that on the other hand "photographs of the President with Protestant spokesmen like evangelist Billy Graham are pure 14-karat gold."

Kennedy, "has regularly bent over backward so as to make it dramatically clear to any Southern Baptist who might be watching that he doesn't give an inch." In reply, Baptist Press quoted its executive director of public affairs, C. Emanuel Carlson: "If the President is as politically motivated as the editor (of America) says he is, and if he is as conscious of the Southern Baptists as the editorial claims, then I am very happy that the Southern Baptists are not making great demands for appropriations from the government."

In his article in American Judaism, reporter Wickham said he had found that many who opposed Kennedy in 1960 on religious grounds today were "mollified but watchful," and that his election had not necessarily quashed the religious issue for all time.

Wickham said he had discovered that while most former opponents today "have little but good to say about the man they fought so hard," there still appeared to be no change in "the extreme anti-Catholic group that manifested itself so strongly" at the end of the 1960 campaign.

"There are plenty of folk in the Midwest and South," Wickham wrote, "who aren't going to let Kennedy's support of religious freedom get in the way of their prejudices."

Raise Big Stink in Rome

ROME (AP)—Rome city employees, among them street sweepers and garbage collectors, started a three-day strike Thursday for more fringe benefits. In some areas of the city, householders and apartment dwellers have dumped their garbage in the streets, where it is slowly accumulating.

Peru is bounded by five neighbors — Columbia, Ecuador, Bolivia, Chile and Brazil — the most of any nearby country.

Governor Urges New Rights Law

Seeks Measure to Halt
Discrimination in State
Housing, RestaurantsLANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson sent out a firm and insistent call to the legislature today to strengthen Michigan's civil rights law and prohibit discrimination in housing, schools and public restaurants and lodging.The governor told lawmakers that "perhaps the single most important responsibility of state government is the securing of the rights of its citizens.""If state government will not act," he said, "Let us, in Michigan, recognize our responsibility."Swainson proposed to expand the authority of the State Fair Employment Practices Commission to cover discrimination in housing, education, and public accommodations as well as employment practices. The FEPC would be rechristened the Michigan Commission on Civil Rights.Similar legislation has been introduced every year for the past five years but has been bottled up in committees without ever going to the floor for a vote.The governor laid special emphasis on the need for legislation to prohibit discrimination in housing.The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, headed by John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, has singled out discrimination in housing as the most pressing civil rights problem in Northern states, he said.

Hospital, Union Reach Agreement on Election

LANSING (AP) — Hospital and union officials reached agreement Thursday on ground rules for a union vote at Lansing's Edward
W. Sparrow Hospital, said Thomas
C. Walsh, chairman of a governor's commission studying a labor-management dispute at the hospital.The election will be held Feb. 9,
Walsh said.

Personal News

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Flemington of Birmingham were honored at a dinner party for seventy Sunday at Devon Gables marking their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The couple's six children are Norman Flemington of Iron Mountain, Clinton Flemington of Oxford, Mrs. Gordon Hild of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Millard Palmquist of Detroit, Herbert Flemington of Las Vegas, Nev., and Mrs. Knut Erichsen of Bloomfield.

The golden anniversary couple, long time members of Pontiac's First Baptist Church, has 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Birthday of Mrs. Delbert Hammett was observed by members of the Loyal Neighbors Club of Going Street Thursday evening with Mrs. Carl Peterson as hostess. Extending birthday wishes were Mrs. Grace Bollman, Mrs. Eric Larvik, Mrs. Grover Sturgis, Mrs. Laura Biehlheller, Mrs. John Bollman and Mrs. George Thompson.

The home of Mrs. W. Guy Seconder on Elizabeth Lake Road was the setting for a miscellaneous shower given Monday evening by her daughter, Mrs. Jackey Walters, honoring February bride-elect Judith Ann Johnson.

Among the 26 guests were Mrs. George Rickley, Mrs. Janice Dickman, Mrs. Richard Davies, Mrs. Ralph Putnam and Mrs. Edward Falconer, all of Waterford; Mrs. Joseph Lorenz, Joan Lawson and Mrs. Thomas Davies, Clarkston; Mrs. Paul Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Alfred Cooper, Drayton Plains; and Sue Chrysler, Southfield.

Others were Mrs. Vern Havery, Mrs. Mancel Lawson, Mrs. Joseph Vestrand and Mrs. Howard Lawson, all of Royal Oak; Mrs. Richard Lake, Clawson; Mrs. Albert C. Peterson, Birmingham and Mrs. Ronnie Schneider, Auburn Heights.

Daughter of Mrs. Hazel Johnson of Lakeview Street, Waterford Township, Miss Johnson will exchange vows with Daniel Bennett, son of the Edwin H. Bennetts of Stirling Avenue, Feb. 10 in St. Benedict Church.

Zeta Group Initiates 4, Plans Party

A beauty expert spoke on the care of the skin and hair and demonstrated the correct use of cosmetics when members of Zeta Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority met Thursday evening in the Ottawa Drive home of Mrs. Marjorie Cotterman. Mrs. John Borsvold and Shirley Friedly served as co-hostesses.

President Margaret Mackenzie named Dorothy Hemel, chairman of the nominating committee to be assisted by Elizabeth Halsey and Mrs. George Robins.

Four persons were initiated Sunday afternoon at a tea in the Southfield home of the president. They are Mrs. Mildred Berthelson, Detroit; Mrs. Thomas Metzford and Janice Margulie, Pontiac and Mrs. Caroline Muecke, Waterford.

Assisting the president with the ceremony were Mrs. John Borsvold, past president; Mrs. Elmer Thorpe, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Cotterman, historian; Shirley Friedly, sergeant at arms and Helen Voss, chaplain.

Mrs. Sam Hale, Pave Donelson and Mrs. Mary Wagner assisted the hostesses. Past president, Mrs. Eugene Carey and Mrs. Borsvold presided at the tea table.

A theater party is planned for the March meeting.

Meeting almost daily at the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Joseph J. Churches, (extreme left), a committee of women from the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of the National Council of Catholic Women is working busily and happily to prepare 20,000 sandwiches for the council's Feb. 14 Valentine tea and fashion show at Cobo Hall. Among the workers, who already have frozen 12,000 of the tea treats, are (from left) Mrs. William H. Mohrhoff, Birmingham; Mrs. Norbert Rybicki, Mrs. Howard Halpin and Mrs. Edward Greiner, all of Detroit.

Unit Elects New Officers

Officers for Welcome Rebekah No. 286 Sewing Circle were elected following a cooperative luncheon Thursday in the home of Mrs. William Fyfe on Lexington Place.

Mrs. John Schaffer is incoming president; Mrs. Albert Ruger, vice president; Mrs. Ivan Knackenbush, secretary and Mrs. Eyle, treasurer.

Hostess for the next luncheon meeting on Feb. 15 will be Mrs. Kugler in her home on South Roselawn Drive.

Methodist WSCS

Sees Norway Slides

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Central Methodist Church has completed plans for a smorgasbord at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland's building on Feb. 15. Mrs. Donald Porritt Jr. and Mrs. James Hon are co-chairmen.

Some 85 members of the WSCS attended a dinner Wednesday served by the Barbara Norris Circle under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Crawford in Fellowship Hall, Highland Road.

Devotional topic was "Testing Our Discipleship." Mrs. George Yansen who attended the 10th World Methodist Conference in Oslo, Norway, last summer showed slides of her trip and reported on the conference. Some 2,000 delegates from 52 nations participated in the event.

Mrs. Harold Upchurch and Mrs. George Boyce were guests.

Garden Group to Hold Tea in Birmingham

"God's Country," a nature study by Mrs. George Dunn will highlight the 1:30 p.m. Feb. 12 tea and meeting for Birmingham Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Members will meet in Birmingham Community House.

Mrs. Dunn of Huntington Woods has made a study of the balance in nature—the interdependence of animal, insect, bird and plant life—and the need for conserving wildlife. Color slides and tape-recorded bird calls also will be featured. Mrs. Robert Taggart, social chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. W. Franklin Graham, Mrs. H. John Lowry, Mrs. E. Robert Leeder, Mrs. Stuart N. Gastner, Mrs. V. E. Flaherty and Mrs. William L. Scherer. Tea table arrangements will be by Mrs. P. N. Askomnes. Mrs. Charles H. Davidson and Mrs. Fred R. Seghers will be at the tea table.

Temple Group Planning Rite

Members of Mirpah Temple No. 7, Pythian Sisters, met to sew for cancer patients Thursday evening in Fellowship Lodge Hall.

Officers and degree staff were prepared for the initiation ceremony on Feb. 15 in which Liberty Temple of Clawson will participate.

Most Excellent Chief Mrs. Charles Lennon has set a special practice of officers and degree staff of Mirpah Temple for 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Lewis Ellis and Mrs. Fred Wheeler.

Tiny Sandwiches, 20,000 of 'Em, Being Made by Church Women

For some six weeks, the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Joseph J. Churches almost daily has been the scene of a near colossal scale sandwich-making project by a committee from the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of the National Council of Catholic Women.

Working tirelessly, members are preparing the tempting array of party goodies for the council's Valentine tea and fashion show Feb. 14 in Cobo Hall, Detroit. At present about 12,000 of the 20,000 sandwiches needed have been frozen, awaiting the affair at which 3,000 women are expected.

Mrs. Churches and co-chairman Mrs. Edward Greiner have the services of women from Pontiac, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Grosse Pointe, St. Clair Shores and Harper Woods for "operation sandwich."

Each day's work session calls for some 25 loaves of bread, 10 pounds of spreads, 20 pounds of cheeses and 10 pounds of meat, caviar, shrimp and other delicacies. All of the leftover bits are packaged with care and sent to the cafeterias of various area institutions to be used in such dishes as bread pudding.

Latest addition to arrangements for the tea and style show is a Mystery Model, a celebrity whose identity will surprise the assembly of Catholic women.

Featuring styles by Saks Fifth Avenue, the show is one of several events planned to help raise funds for the November national convention of the Council of Catholic Women which is expected to bring 10,000 parishioners from throughout the nation to Detroit.

In this area tickets can be obtained by calling Mrs. Henry Simpson or Mrs. George Dun-

Velvet and Chiffon Worn by Bride at Carr Rites

Nancy Leigh Campbell appeared in a gown of velvet and silk chiffon for her marriage Saturday afternoon to Richard W. Carr in Sunnyside Chapel.

Rev. Jim Parker officiated at the double-ring rite. Parents of the newlyweds are the E. C. Campbells of Breaker Street, Drayton Plains, and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Carr, Elizabeth Lake Road.

Enhanced by three-quarter length tapered sleeves, the bride's gown was fashioned with white velvet bodice and gathered silk chiffon skirt. She wore a shoulder-length veil and held an arrangement of white carnations.

Barbara Campbell, her sister's only attendant, was groomed in full-skirted yellow chiffon.

Dennis Snyder performed the duties of best man.

Okay to Clear Up Gossip

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband works the graveyard shift, but that is not my problem. Listen to this: A very good friend of mine told me, that I am the subject of much gossip because for the past six months someone has been parking a car in front of my house practically all night long. She said my neighbors say I have been receiving a "caller."

ABBY

Now I am long past the age for that kind of monkey business, and I don't like those stories. Last night I looked outside and sure enough there was a strange car parked there.

I certainly wasn't going to sit up all night and try to meet the idiot who owns it. How can I find out who is giving me this bad name?

NOT GUILTY your police department and ask them to find out for you. After all, it's your right to avoid the appearance of evil.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 years old and have never gone beyond kissing a girl. I do not intend to go any further until I am married because I think a man has no right to ask a girl to be any more pure than he is.

When I express this opinion to other men, they look at me as though I needed psychiatric treatment. Am I such an unusual breed of cat?

UNUSUAL BREED DEAR CAT: It's refreshing to know that not all men come to the altar slightly used, but expect their brides to be perfect!

DEAR ABBY: I have four teen-aged children and, of course, they have friends who call them on the telephone. Our phone rings maybe 20 times in an evening, and this is getting my husband down.

He threatens to tear the phone from the wall because he can't stand the ringing. He tells me he does not need a phone, and neither do we.

MOTHER OF FOUR DEAR MOTHER: Ask the telephone company to "ad just" the bell on your telephone. It's probably as shrill as a fire alarm. If it were changed to a softer jingle, your husband's nerves wouldn't jangle.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, The Pontiac Press.

Miss McEnery Plans to Wed Vincent Styrna

At a family dinner Thursday in Rotunda Inn, Pine Lake, the engagement was announced of Colleen M. McEnery to Vincent J. Styrna, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Styrna of Union Lake Road.

The bride-elect, daughter of Eugene C. McEnery of East Colgate Avenue and the late Mrs. McEnery, attended Notre Dame College, Kalamazoo. Her fiancé is presently enrolled at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Among the guests were Mrs. Perry Coleman, Indianapolis; Mrs. Robert Schumde, Mrs. Earl L. Clark, Mrs. Erwin Rogers, Harry Chapman, Frank Allen and Everett Peterson.

Lee-Marcy Engagement Announced in Boston

By RUTH SAUNDERS
BILCOMFIELD HILLS — Mr. and Mrs. David W. Lee have returned to their home on Pembroke road from Boston, Mass. where they attended a very important cocktail and buffet supper party Saturday at the Algonquin Club.

Given by Mr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Marcy of Fortunate Rocks, Biddeford, Maine, the party announced the engagement of the Marcy's daughter Mary Louise to the Lee's, son, David Walker Lee Jr.

David was graduated from Cranbrook School and is a senior at Brown University, Providence, R.I.

Mary Louise was graduated from Dana Hall, Wellesley, Mass., and will graduate from Garland Junior College, Boston, in June.

Dave's good friend Ron Swanson also attended the reception. The Dennis A. Dinans and the John Patrick Macfarlanes came from New York.

One of Mrs. Ralph Polk's famous "Round Robin" letters has been received by close friends who are lucky to be on her list. She writes news of her trip back to her secretary who makes copies and sees that they reach her very interested friends at home.

Mrs. Benjamin Brewster is in New York visiting her daughter Betsy in her attractive apartment, while Mr. Brewster is on a brief trip to the West Coast.

On her return Mrs. B. will look forward to St. Dunstan Guild's mid-winter show "The Gioconda Smile," to be presented the evening of Feb. 9 and 10, 15, 16 and 17.

The show on the 15th will be a benefit performance for the North Woodward branch of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. The three-act play will be directed by Mr. and Mrs. John Coppin. Mrs. Dave Burnett is production manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Bethel B. Kelley and their daughter Nancy are due home from a visit

Piano Contest Slated

Michigan Music Teachers Association has announced a piano scholarship contest March 18 at Flint's Woodside Church.

Junior and senior high students are eligible to participate by meeting the entry deadline Feb. 15. Winners will be chosen from three audition centers — Grand Rapids, Marquette and Flint. Mrs. Leo E. Gerhart of Flint is contest chairman for this area.

Full contest details can be obtained in the Michigan Music Teacher Journal or by contacting Amy Hogle, acting president of the Pontiac Music Teacher Guild.

The senior and junior finalists from each audition area will compete April 21 at the MMTA state convention where the two state winners from each division will be

Mrs. Van Dyke Honored by Churchwomen

Thirty members of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church attended a luncheon at Devon Gables Tea Room Wednesday, honoring Mrs. Earle Van Dyke Jr., outgoing president. Spring flowers in yellow baskets centered the U-shaped table.

Mrs. Galen E. Hershey gave the invocation and Mrs. Leslie Ellis welcomed past presidents of the Women's Association and board members who served during Mrs. Van Dyke's term.

A humorous skit entitled "Gems from Mrs. Van Dyke's Life," written by Mrs. Neil Gray, was presented by Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel, Mrs. Floyd Salow and the author.

Mrs. Richard Wright presented Mrs. Van Dyke with a silver water pitcher on behalf of the group.

A horoscope of new president, Mrs. John Hefsch, was read by Mrs. Salow as a welcoming gesture.

Organ Unit Will Meet Tuesday

The meeting of the Hammond Organ Society of the Pontiac area Tuesday in the Grinnell Bros. Auditorium, will open with an organ duo playing favorite musical comedy numbers.

Premiere showing of a technical color film produced especially for the United States Air Force stationed throughout the world will highlight the evening's program which opens at 7:30 p.m. The film carries the subject "Faith" which depicts the work of the chaplains of various religious faiths in the service of the government.

Guest organists from Detroit, Lake Orion, Rochester, Royal Oak and Birmingham will be present. All types of organ music will be presented.

Dr. and Mrs. Tom Malone and western Baptist Seminary, with a special vocal trio from the Mid-their organist Kenneth Brown, will entertain. Rabbi and Mrs. Israel Goodman and a group of Sisters from the Dominican Order at Oxford, will be guests.

A technical color film entitled "Music in the Home," with a comedy touch, will also be shown. Membership certificates and cards will be distributed at the meeting.

BUFFALO, N. Y. — One of Buffalo's heavy snowstorms choked traffic on the State Thruway here recently, leaving workbound motorists fuming.

Redistributes Weight

Exercise Helps Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN (The Question Box)

Q. "Can exercise have any effect at all on the figure without dieting?"

A. Yes. If you are overweight, you will have to diet, too, but if you are the correct weight, specialized exercise will redistribute your weight more attractively. Even if you are overweight and must count calories, individually prescribed exercises will speed the loss where you wish it.

Q. "What is the difference between a deodorant, and an antiperspirant?"

A. A deodorant banishes the odor of perspiration, and an antiperspirant slows up perspiration. Today, you do not have to buy two products. You can get both benefits in one.

Q. "Some people seem to think that a woman looks younger when she is older if she is overweight. What do you think?"

A. I think that there is a point on the scales which is perfect for every woman. There is a point at which her figure is good and her face looks best. When she is older, this is usually about five pounds more than her ideal weight at the age of 55.

Q. "I just do not know how to fix my hair! I have a round face and I have been wearing my hair long below my neck, with bangs on my forehead. Somehow this does not seem right."

A. How right you are! Get rid of the bangs as soon as possible and build your hair high on top. Then bring it close to the sides at your face. Your hair should extend below the ears, but not down to the shoulders.

Q. "My friends keep telling me that if I keep shaving my legs I will have much more hair on them."

A. There is no scientific evidence that this is true, so far as I know, and if it were, most women would be walking about with forests on their legs.

Q. "People keep telling me that wearing my hair in a pony tail will make it fall out. Is this true?"

A. There is some evidence that fact. Some authorities suspect any style or habit which puts that the pony tail and the habit of pressure on the hair for long peeling the hair up every night may rods of time may have some of be detrimental.

Even if your weight is correct, exercise will help distribute your pounds more attractively. The exercise pictured is a good one to begin with. Simply bend as far as you can. This will benefit your waist and prepare you for more strenuous exercises.

Inexpensive Later Gift Thoughtful

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My employer, to whom I have been secretary for about two years, is undergoing surgery in another state. I would like to know if it would be appropriate for me to present him with a welcome back gift or perhaps a pen, book ends, etc., (which I know he would have use for in his office) rather than send him flowers or a book.

A: I don't know what type of book he would enjoy reading but I'm sure he will be getting such items from friends, of whom he has many. I would very much appreciate your advice regarding this matter.

A: Your idea of a welcoming back gift instead of flowers is excellent, but choose something that is inexpensive or it might be embarrassing for him to receive it from an employee.

Q: If a man doesn't make any move to help the lady he is escorting on with her coat, even though he is standing right there, could she hand him her coat and ask him to hold it for her? Might this imply that he is lacking in courtesy and embarrass him?

A: If she says, "This coat is hard to pass on. Would you help me?" this should not embarrass him.

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to introduce a Protestant clergyman? Should he be introduced as Mr. John Smith or The Rev. John Smith?

A: You address a letter to him as The Rev. John Smith but you introduce him as Mr. Smith, or Dr. Smith if he is a D.D.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

HOW DO YOU HANDLE A ROOM THAT'S HARD TO HEAT?

The quick and economical answer is to supplement the present system with flameless electric heat. It goes exactly where it's needed most, and independently, automatically adjusts for any degree of warmth. One of the modern units illustrated below can end your part-time shivering for good. Here's the simple way to turn a problem area into a cozy, liveable one.

WHAT'S THE BEST WAY TO HEAT A NEWLY FINISHED UPSTAIRS, BASEMENT, ENCLOSED PORCH OR BREEZEWAY?

Electric heat's the answer since it imposes no burden on your present heating system and assures real comfort at all times. You can keep the room cooler when it's not in use, then feel it warm up quickly at a touch of its independent thermostat. Several types of electric heating units are available, all easily installed at minimum cost and with minimum disruption of the household. You might also consider a room heat pump. This one unit, installed in a window or wall, gives you winter heating plus summer cooling.

WHAT IF YOU'D LIKE TO CONVERT THE WHOLE HOUSE TO MODERN FLAMELESS HEATING?

Once again electric heat comes to the rescue. And every room will be under separate heating control—readily adjustable for the comfort of the people who are in it, when they are in it. You ought also to consider the ultimate in modern climate control—a central electric heat pump for both winter heating and summer air conditioning. Often existing air ducts can be the distribution system for a heat pump. In any case, good insulation, plus storm doors and windows, is recommended.

Older Homemakers Could Help Brides

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"In St. Louis 100 retired men have formed Experience, Inc., whose members not only offer business aid to firms that need it but have volunteered to the mayor for appointment to civic committees and have offered to serve on grand juries." That little item ought to give women an idea.

Successful, retired men aren't the only ones who have a lot to offer their communities.

Successful homemakers whose children are grown and gone from home, widowed homemakers and wives of retired men could band together to give their communities the benefit of their years of successful homemaking.

Many a young bride or harried mother of a host of young children could do with some help from a group of experienced housewives who might call themselves "Experienced Homemakers, Inc."

A woman who has kept house for years and brought up a family could give invaluable advice to a young wife who feels swamped and overwhelmed by her job.

Running a home takes every bit as much know-how as running a business concern — and yet many brides start out today not knowing anything at all about the job of homemaking.

"Experienced" Homemakers, Inc., could also volunteer for civic committees and community projects — thereby giving their members some new and challenging interests and relieving younger, busier housewives of such responsibilities.

We put such a value on youth here that we sometimes overlook our citizens who have the know-how that comes only with experience.

With families as much on the move as they are today—young wives are often too far from their own relatives to turn to them for help when they are establishing their homes and families.

If those who need a helping hand could turn to a group of experienced homemakers, then some of the knowledge acquired by experience could be passed on. It's an idea for women to think about.

Impatient People Actually Contemptuous

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One day when Mrs. P. was 7 years old she had a temper tantrum. Partly she had it because her mother had angered her by refusing to let her wear her new Sunday dress to school. Partly she had it because she was fairly sure it would work. And work it did. Though her mother had stated her wish that the dress be reserved for special occasions, Mrs. P. figured that she would relinquish it as soon as she was sufficiently frightened.

Accordingly, she frightened her mother. Ripping off her school blouse, she tore it, yelled, "I hate it! I hate it! It's old and ugly!" and started to scream at the top of her voice.

She got what she wanted. But as the permission was granted her, her triumph was mixed with thoughts that suddenly shaped into conviction in Mrs. P.'s mind. She thought:

"People are fools. Their wishes are so flimsily held that they deserve no respect. MY wishes are the only ones I can trust."

However, as it is difficult for a child to live with a parent whom he knowingly regards as a fool, Mrs. P. soon forgot that conviction forged in the heat of intense experience — and grew up believing that she felt deep admiration for mama's "gentleness."

But we don't so easily rid ourselves of such deeply felt conviction. So, today Mrs. P. is a stickler for "instant obedience" from her children. This afternoon when Eddie delays going on an errand to work on the broken strap of a roller skate, she will become very angry.

She will jerk the skate from him, crying, "Didn't you hear me tell you to go to the store? What are you dawdling over this for?"

Parents who are infuriated by children's dawdling are often victims of a childhood conviction like Mrs. P.'s.

They are literally unable to consider the idea that Eddie's wish to repair his skate is as important to him as their wish for his service is to them.

Their old contempt for other people's wishes is always exposed by their angry response to, children's dawdling. Usually, they imagine that the dawdling is a special experience. This is not the truth.

They can tolerate no delay in anything they want. They are the people who fuss at traffic lights which won't change, who become impatient in queues waiting at ticket offices and whose husbands must have the car around at the side door as soon as they're ready to get in it.

Why other people's wishes should always strike them as unimportant and contemptible they usually prefer not to ask. One can understand this.

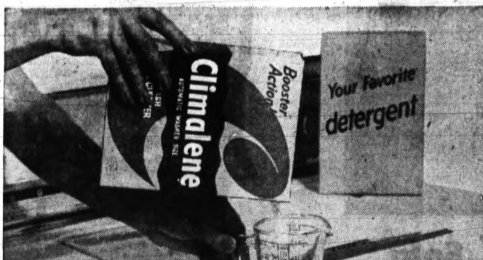

It means going back to revise that opinion of mama's "gentleness." It means remembering the contempt they felt for her weakness.

Georgia has yielded to California in peach production but this state still leads the nation in other crops such as peanuts, watermelons, plums and pecans.

C. of C. Lauds, Slaps Tax Plan

Directors of State Chamber Approve Part of Swainson Program

LANSING (U)—Directors of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce came out Thursday partly against and partly for Gov. Swainson's tax reform program.

The group commended the governor for recognizing the need for a broad base tax reform and a reduction in taxes on business and industry.

They also endorsed his recommendations for a cutback in personal property taxes on business; flat rate type income tax, if and when it is adopted; and replacement of tax revenues lost by local governments through tax revision.

Chamber directors said the governor should have come up with a plan to enable local governments to levy more taxes. The proposed half per cent tax on personal and corporate income, to be collected and distributed by the state for local governments, would give some municipalities more than they need and some less, the report said.

HIT REDUCTION

Swainson's plan is built around a 3½ per cent tax on personal and corporate income.

Chamber directors criticized his proposal to reduce the net increase on individuals by exempting food and drugs from sales and use taxes.

"This tax has served Michigan well for 30 years," they said. "Today, personal income is at an all-time high and the tax on food and drugs is a smaller percentage of income than ever before."

The group said Swainson's proposal for exemption of manufacturing machinery and equipment from personal property taxes should have been extended to include inventories. It applies to some business, but not to all, they said.

Airliner Lands Safely After Engine Failure

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—Emergency units went on standby at Kent County Airport Thursday when a United Airlines DC-8 with 44 passengers aboard reported one of its four engines cut out shortly after take-off.

Airline officials said, however, the craft returned to Grand Rapids without incident and its passengers were switched to another flight.

Statistics Tell Pontiac Story

Some Counts Up, Some Down

By DICK SAUNDERS

Little secrets about the ways and times of a community are contained in a seemingly dry, uninteresting list of figures released this week by Pontiac City Clerk Olga Barkley.

The 4,842 licenses worth $30,065.58 issued in Pontiac last year tell a story of people and what they're doing.

Pope Sets Opening of Ecumenical Gathering of 3,000 Churchmen

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII today set Oct. 11 for the opening of the Roman Catholic Church's first ecumenical council in nearly 100 years.

The meeting will bring an estimated 3,000 cardinals, archbishops, bishops and heads of religious orders to Rome from all over the world for discussion and decision on internal church matters and contacts with non-Catholics.

Church committees have been preparing for the meeting for three years.

The Pope made the announcement in a brief message on Candlemas Day—the feast of the Purification.

He said he chose Oct. 11 because it coincides with the anniversary of the start of the Council of Ephesus 1,531 years ago.

The Council of Ephesus declared the Virgin Mary to be the mother of God.

Pope John announced plans for the council shortly after his coronation Nov. 4, 1963, and the church has been preparing for it ever since.

The Pope disclosed in a message last Christmas Day that some non-Catholic churches already have accepted Vatican invitations to send observers to the meeting.

The council will be the first since 1870 and the 21st in the history of the church.

It will be designed to rally Christians against modern paganism, including "militant atheism operating on a world scale," and explore Christian unity.

compared to five the year before.

The energy of our youth might be boundless, but it's also boisterous. Two years ago a new item was added to the license classifications when three permits were issued for trampoline centers.

Last year there were none — bounced right off the books.

While Pontiac danced less and stopped bouncing, it still kept rolling right along. Two roller skating rinks were licensed, the same number as in 1960.

Pontiac residents love ice — you can't argue with cold facts. There were 14 ice plants, vehicles and machines operating in Pontiac last year, three more than in 1960.

Records also indicate that man's best friend is fast becoming the city's No. 1 lawbreaker. Health department authorities estimate the city's dog population around 6,000, but only 2,073 dog licenses were issued last year.

This follows a downward trend from 2,237 in 1960 and 2,350 in 1959.

It might have taken you longer to get clipped in 1961. The city counted 149 barber chairs, six less than in 1960.

Here's one for lovers of the phrase "figures don't lie." Last year, with its huge centennial celebration, was about the most festive in our history. But you couldn't prove it by license statistics.

There were about twice as many festival licenses issued the year before.

Pool sharks had three more pool halls and billiard parlors to frequent; there were 16 fewer pinball machines and other mechanical amusements licensed; and the ladies had 64 more excuses to avoid the awful truth

Imprisonments Up by 76 in County Courtrooms

Seventy-six more persons were imprisoned last year than the previous year by the circuit court judges in an annual report of the Oakland County Probation Department shows.

Ordered incarcerated in prison or jail for any of 54 crimes ranging from murder to opening a coin box were 279 men and women, one third of whom were under 21 years of age.

"The increase in the number imprisoned is due to the fact that many were repeat offenders and probation violators," explained Chief Probation Officer Arthur P. McKenna.

Although still an advocate of probation over incarceration, McKenna disclosed that the percentage of those who failed on probation increased by more than 5 per cent last year. He attributed this to having 54 shoozies — or probationers who flee the state and must eventually be listed as a failure. Circuit Judges H. Russell Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer, Stanton G. Dondero and Frederick C. Ziem placed 268 persons on probation. As the case of those sent to prison, one third of these were under 21.

Burglary continued to be the most frequent crime. Fifty-one were placed on probation for breaking and entering during the nighttime and 44 went to prison. Thirty-five persons were either placed on probation or imprisoned for sex crimes.

Crimes involving bad checks meant Jackson Prison for 39 persons and probation for 30 others.

547 INVESTIGATIONS

Before a judge passes sentence on the criminal he orders a presentence investigation of the person's background. Four county probation officers, and three state officers assigned to the Oakland department, conducted 547 such investigations last year.

The judge then receives a recommendation from the officer but is not necessarily bound to it.

These same officers have the responsibility of seeing that those placed on probation live up to their terms. Probationers must report to the office in the courthouse once a month either by writing or in person.

McKenna said due to the large number of probationers it is often impossible for a monthly home visit to be made by the officer. An officer has been added to the staff this year and this will lessen somewhat the load of about 90 probationers each officer had to supervise in 1961, he said.

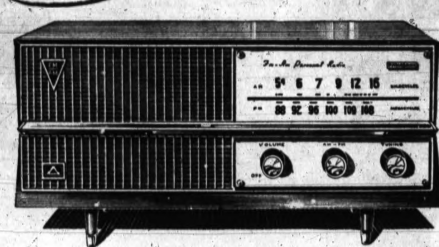

Zuckert Hopes B70 Can Be Tested in '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert told senators Thursday he hopes tests can start by the end of this year on the 2,000-mile-an-hour B70.

Zuckert said the big bomber "could be the next generation of flying machines." Testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee, Zuckert said the plane's "indicated performance is in line with our feeling that the manned military aircraft has not reached the ceiling or limit of its capabilities."

Palmer 4th but Feared

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Just a few years ago the gamblers called Ben Hogan "The Hawk" and no one cared to have the great golfer strong enough to sweep the prize money from the rough and clawed talons of the birds.

The pro's feel much the same today about Arnold Palmer, the current "Hawk" of the game, as they did about Hogan. Palmer, 33, won the $50,000 Palm Springs Classic last week.

True, Arnold was four strokes behind the leader, C. B. Bryant, but he had rounds of 67-67 for 132.

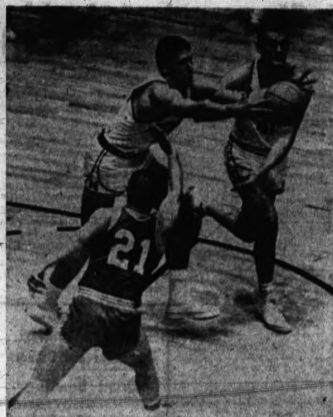

But there are three more rounds to go in this 90-hole marathon and it appeared that Palmer would have shipped the two toughest of the four courses to play, Tamarisk and Eldorado.

Neither Leonard, who drove over 100 miles to watch the play, nor the others in front of Palmer at this stage can claim this advantage.

67-67-36 left him eight strokes under par 72 for the two courses. Today Palmer played the less demanding par 71 Thunderbird course.

Two more shots off the tee were Jacky Cupti, Longview

Short Trip to U. of M. Worth While for Titans

ANN ARBOR (AP) — In the age of jet travel, 65 miles isn't much of a road trip for a basketball team.

For the University of Detroit, starved for victory in four previous ventures beyond its campus this season, it was a journey well worth the effort.

Behind the shooting and rebounding of 6-5 Dave DeBusschere, the Titans took a 42-38 halftime lead and a 53-47 lead at the end of the 32-17 rout over Michigan on Tuesday.

Not only was it Detroit's first victory on the road, it was the first in three outings against Big Ten competition in the last three meetings with the Wolverines.

DeBusschere has had better nights as a shooter—he scored at least 20 points in each of the last three games—than he has finished as the night's top scorer with 23 points on 10 baskets and three for three from the foul line.

missing practice, largely but not couldn't hold up against the Titans.

The Titans built their edge to 21 points, 58-37, in the second half when DeBusschere's desperate, a belated surge by the Wolverines.

Capt. Jon Hall, taking up the scoring slack with Michigan, paced the offense with 19 points, a career high. John Harris added 12 before fouling out.

The loss was Michigan's 11th in 13 games and the ninth in non-conference play. The victory gave Detroit an 11-6 season mark.

LeRoy Moore Inks Patriot Contract

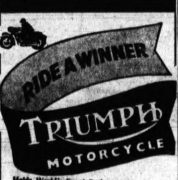

LeRoy Moore, former Pontiac Central football player, signed his 1962 contract with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League.

Moore, who played at PCH during the 1949-51 seasons, had trials with the Bears and Lions of the NFL. After the 1950 Lions' Buffalo of the AFL and then to Boston where he played the entire season in 1961.

The Patriots finished second in their division with a 9-4-1 record last year and will play again against Oakland, 137, was the result of Moore recovering a loose fumble in the end zone.

He played both offensive guard and defensive end in college, which has Pontiac's Wall Beach on the roster as a defensive back.

Presently, Moore is local district representative for the labor unions of Detroit, makers of salves for muscular ailments.

By DON VOGEL

Dick Hall, Pontiac Northern basketball coach, would like to see an influx of tall transfer students at his school.

The Huskies are having their problems on the court this season, and one of the reasons is a lack of height. This has meant a definite disadvantage in the rebound department.

"There are no boys in school six-five or better who are eligible to play," said the coach. "We aren't figuring on much help in this area in the next couple of years."

"No tall prospects are coming up in the junior high. Without a big player who can rebound, we are going to have tough sledding."

Hall is wondering how the smaller schools in the county "can come up with those big players."

"There seems to be plenty around," he said. "I don't know why we don't have a few."

The Huskies have gone against several teams with towering players.

Pontiac Central has 6-4 Otto Kennedy. Rochester sent Mike Wilson 6-9 against PNH. Southfield has Joe Andrews, 6-5; Farmington utilized Walt Grimala, 6-5, Northern lost last time.

SEVERAL OTHERS

Other rangy cagers in the county are Dean Marlowe, 6-11, Oakland; Mike Corneley, 6-8, Kettering; Hank Akin, 6-8, and Tom Kelly, 6-5, Troy; Wright Roberts, 6-6, Clawson; and Mike Rappaport, 6-5, Oak Park.

Hall would settle for a 6-4 rebounder and scorer.

Burdell Pritchett, Pontiac Central's state champion shot putter last spring, is going to college.

The 6-4, 230-pounder has enrolled at Southern Illinois Col.

2 City Hockey Teams Ousted

The Pontiac Optimists and Drayton Spades went to the sidelines last night in the city's National League double-elimination hockey tournament.

Standard Forge skated to a 3-0 first-period lead and went on to crush the Spades, 5-1. Dennis Dahlmann scored three goals for Forge.

Boys Club handed the optimists a 7-1 thrashing with Mike Cady netting three goals and Vaughn Medina two. The winners scored four times in the 3rd period.

The Mountain View Rangers meet the Union Lake Optimists tonight at 8:30 at Northside Park in the next NL round. The Pontiac Central Raiders face Standard Forge at 8 o'clock in American League tourney action.

Two games are slated Saturday morning. On the NL front, Forge plays Boys Club at 10:30 a.m. In AL activity, the Rangers, already in the final, will battle the Forge-PCH winner at 9:00.

Bloomfield Skater Leads Novice Class

Special to the Pontiac Press
BOSTON—Tim Wood, 13 year old son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Wood of Bloomfield Hills, held the lead in the novice division of the National Figure Skating championships which started in Boston yesterday.

Tim, an eighth grade student at Bloomfield Hills Junior High, won the right to go to the Nationals.

Roberts Drives Pontiac to 159 MPH in Practice

DAYTONA BEACH—Glen "Fireball" Roberts, driving a 1962 Pontiac, hit speeds of 180.121 m.p.h. in practice runs for the 4th annual Daytona "500" yesterday at the Daytona International Speedway.

Roberts holds the two-lap time trial record of 187.180 set last July in a 1961 Pontiac.

Sunday, the racers will compete in a 25-mile race for the right to earn the inside pole position for the big race, Feb. 18th.

when he won the Midwest championship at Denver last month.

He is one of four Michigan skaters participating at Boston.

Gary Visconti, 17, member of the Great Lakes Figure Skating Club in Troy, is competing in the junior division. Others in the national meet are Denise Maki and Myras Bodek of Detroit.

The leader in the men's senior division was held by Monty Hoyt, a 17 year old skater from Denver. Hoyt, last year's junior champion, compiled a huge lead when four or five judges picked him first and the other had him tied for first. He had 5 1/2 originals.

Wood compiled 7 1/2 originals by gaining first place cards of three judges, a tie on another and third place by the 5th judge. He leads by one ordinal over Paul McGrath of Milton, Mass., who took the only first place which Wood missed. Maki was in 4th place behind Wood with 21 originals.

Visconti finished 4th in the Nationals at Colorado Springs last year. It was immediately after the Nationals meet that a plane crash tragically wiped out the U.S. boys on its way to Budapest for the International meet.

The U.S. Skating Association is hoping to rebuild its team with entries from the Nationals.

Wood, who has been skating for four years, said, "I'd like to go on to the World championships and possibly the Olympics in 1964."

The figure skating competition is being held at the Boston Skating Club. Free skating is being held at Boston College.

MEASURE A BIG ONE — Angus Colter and his son Angus Jr. size up a freshly-cut oak tree that will soon be reduced to planks in Colter's sawmill, background, on Orchard Lake in Keego Harbor. Colter has operated the small lumber mill for 40 of his 76 years. The sound of the large whirling saw blade won't be heard; however, until next month because the frozen logs are too brittle this time of year.

Smashup Kills Oak Park Man

Report 1st Fatal Mishap in S. Oakland County Takes Salesman's Life

OAK PARK — A 58-year-old clothing salesman from Oak Park was killed yesterday in an auto-mobile accident while on his way to work.

It was the first fatal traffic mishap in South Oakland County this year.

Victim was Joseph Kimmel, 2631 Park lawn St. The accident occurred 9:30 a.m. at Oak Park Boulevard and Greenfield Road, a mile from Kimmel's home.

Kimmel died of severe head injuries at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, 45 minutes after the accident.

Kimmel was traveling west on Oak Park Boulevard when he apparently pulled in front of another car driven by Howard R. Benson, 54, of 2309 Kipling Oak Park police.

Kimmel was thrown from the car as a result of the impact and the driverless vehicle continued across Greenfield and struck two mail boxes before coming to a stop.

Benson was treated at the hospital for minor injuries to his legs and released. He was not held by police.

The victim was employed at Price's Men's Wear Shop in Dearborn.

His body is at the Ira Kaufman Funeral Home, Detroit.

Pine Knob PTA Sets Fathers' Night

CLARKSTON — Fathers' Night will be observed 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Pine Knob Parent-Teacher Association meeting.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Paul F. Thams, Oakland County director of special education. He will discuss various phases of special education offered by both the county and Independence Township.

Unfavorable weather conditions in January forced the postponement of this program until Monday.

2 Stockbridge Brothers Share Onion Title

EAST LANSING — Dan and Dan Baldwin of Stockbridge were to be crowned Michigan Onion Kings at a Farmers' Week luncheon today at Michigan State University.

The brothers produced 1,532 50-pound bags of onions per acre. Selection was made on the basis of quality and yield, spokesmen for the Michigan Muck Farmers' Association said.

88 Die on State Roads

EAST LANSING — Traffic accidents have killed 88 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 106.

It is believed that vertical-align aircraft will be used to reach jet-plane airports located at considerable distances from centers of population.

Saving Logs After 40 Years

Still Runs Keego Harbor Mill

By KERA HEINTZELMAN
KEEGO HARBOR — After nearly 40 years, the little old-fashioned saw mill in the heart of Keego Harbor is still buzzing merrily along, despite the thriving metropolis surrounding it.

Huge oak logs are stacked in neat piles just outside the antiquated mill, and the freshly cut ends show the life-expectancy of a once-proud tree, from its birth to death.

Down through the years the little mill has had only one owner.

Victim was Joseph Kimmel, 2631 Park lawn St. The accident occurred 9:30 a.m. at Oak Park Boulevard and Greenfield Road, a mile from Kimmel's home.

Kimmel died of severe head injuries at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, 45 minutes after the accident.

Board Sets Special Tour at Avondale Junior High

The Avondale Board of Education will inspect the recently completed special education department at Avondale Junior High School, 2000 Waukegan Road, during the regular meeting Feb. 5.

All school board meetings are open to the public and citizens have been urged to attend, Schools Supt. Leroy B. Watt said today.

Home accidents take two-thirds as many lives as auto crashes on Michigan highways.

er-Angus Colter, and as far as he's concerned, that's the way it will be until he's gone.

Colter and his wife have enjoyed good times, raised nine healthy boys and girls and suffered through a couple of depressions in a small house back of the mill.

HEAD FOR WOODS
Now at the age of 76, Colter is nearly as agile as he was 40 years ago. Each morning he and his son, Angus Jr., pile into a flat-bottomed two-ton truck and head for the woods.

First the father marks the most perfectly shaped, and largest trees. Then he and his son get to work with a big chains saw. "If Pop were ten years younger, I couldn't keep up with him," young Angus said.

The 150-pound dad stands five feet nine inches tall. There's not a wrinkle in his ruddy-complected face and he moves around with alarming dexterity.

After the trees have been cut, two men hand-load the timber onto the truck where it is hauled back to the mill. This operation is strictly a winter project.

Very little actual sawing takes place during the cold months, as the frozen logs are as "brittle as glass."

However, about the middle of March, machinery is oiled up and the huge single blade is set whirling.

EXPENSIVE BLADE
"People don't believe it," Colter explained, "but that blade costs almost $500 and we have to replace it about every four years."

The day saw mill turns out construction work, like truck-wood for all types of outdoor beds, sewer projects, boat docks and railroad ties.

During the war, Rock Elm for constructing airplanes was shipped out through contracts from the government. "We still have some government work," Colter added.

When asked what species of trees were the most numerous in the area, the gentleman cocked his head and replied, "Just how do you think Oakland County got its name — the sturdy oak — naturally!"

Willy Loman, played by Victor Kink, spends most of his life in "Born Yesterday." "Golden River" and "Witness for the Prosecution." He has been with the Players for 5 1/2 years.

A founding member of the Players, McGowan, who was a founding member of the Players, has directed their productions of "Maine Animal," "Born Yesterday," "The Diary of Anne Frank" and "Tarzoo."

He also has acted with the group.

Zink has had starring roles in "Born Yesterday," "Golden River" and "Witness for the Prosecution."

At issue is whether Denise De-Parment witnesses before the subcommittee should name the individuals who made specific charges in censured speeches.

Acting on instructions from McNamara, one Defense Department report declined to do that Wednesday.

Plan Michigan Week
LANSING (AP) — Planning for school-college participation in Michigan Week activities May 20-26 has begun in Lansing. The Michigan Week Committee is seeking students' participation for the annual salute to state industry, resources and assets.

CLARKSTON — Two travelogue color movies with background music and commentary will be shown at 8 p.m. Feb. 10 at the Little Theater in the Clarkston High School.

"Western Adventure" depicts a trip through the Badlands of South Dakota, Mt. Rushmore, Yellowstone National Park and highlights of Montana, Washington and the coast of Oregon.

The second film, "Just a Dusty Road," is the story of a cowboy and exploring the Southwest desert country in the springtime.

This story is the result of five yearly trips into the desert and covers areas and scenes seldom seen by the average tourist.

Anchorville Nurse Killed in Auto Crash

MOUNT CLEMENS — Mrs. Maria Schultz, 34, finished her nurse's shift and left St. Joseph Hospital yesterday morning. An hour later they brought her body back — a victim of an auto crash.

Mrs. Schultz of Anchorville was killed in a head-on crash six miles from the hospital.

The driver of the other car, Arthur J. Landfair, 32, of Highland Park, and a passenger, Arthur Britt, 37, of Detroit, suffered head injuries. Witnesses said the Landfair car skidded on a patch of ice.

State Lets Contract

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department says it awarded a $7,452 contract for 219 roadside picnic tables to the Ottawa Road-Trust Co. of Zionsville, Ind., at a low bid of $33.94 per table was made.

Right-to-Work Issue Threatens to Spark Row on Con-Con Floor

LANSING (AP) — A controversial "right-to-work" proposal introduced on the floor of the constitutional convention threatened today to ignite new fireworks of oratory.

The Democratic delegation, including several AFL-CIO officials, were known to be violently opposed to any such constitutional provision, which they regard as a "union-busting" measure.

But Democrats, outnumbered 86-45 by Republicans, were endorsing the strategy of keeping silent during debate — thus forcing the GOP delegates to do all the talking on an issue which could prove politically embarrassing to their party.

The provision was introduced by Don F. Seyferth, a Muskegon manufacturer, as an amendment to a civil rights proposal.

HEITS UNIONS
"No other segment of our Michigan economy has as much unbridled legal monopoly power as labor unions," Seyferth declared. "Is there any doubt why unions object so strongly to the right-to-work provisions?"

Seyferth's proposal would abolish union shops, where all employees must join the union to hold their jobs.

The amendment provided that no corporation or individual could enter into any agreement whereby a worker could be excluded from employment "because of membership or nonmembership in any labor organization."

It added that no persons could be compelled to pay dues, fees or charges to any labor organization as a requirement of employment or as a condition of continuing employment.

In offering his amendment, Seyferth said he disagreed with the action of the committee on rights, suffrage and elections in rejecting his idea earlier on grounds it was a legislative matter and not constitutional.

Of the 19 states which now have right-to-work laws, he said, seven are by constitutional provision and 12 cover the subject by statute.

Seyferth said his proposal would help Michigan's industry to provide jobs for the future by providing an "equalizing ground rule."

"UNFORTUNATE NECESSITY"
Right-to-work laws, he declared, "must be considered an unfortunate necessity to restore balance between management, the individual and the union."

Introduction of the right-to-work proposal came just as the convention was about to vote on a new civil rights statute.

Dr. James K. Pollock, R-A-N-I, said he was "not in a position to take a stand on this issue."

Stennis said he planned to meet with McNamara if possible and wanted to include Senators Leverett Saltonstall and Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., other members of the subcommittee studying alleged military "muzzling."

At issue is whether Denise De-Parment witnesses before the subcommittee should name the individuals who made specific charges in censured speeches.

Acting on instructions from McNamara, one Defense Department report declined to do that Wednesday.

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department says it awarded a $7,452 contract for 219 roadside picnic tables to the Ottawa Road-Trust Co. of Zionsville, Ind., at a low bid of $33.94 per table was made.

Arbor, chairman of the rights committee, which recommended adoption of the section, told the delegates the civil rights proposal involved "one of the most progressive and momentous decisions we have to make."

The proposed new section said: "No person shall be denied the equal protection of the laws; nor shall any person be denied the enjoyment of his civil or political rights or be discriminated against in the exercise thereof because of race, religion, sex, or national origin."

"The legislature shall implement this section by appropriate legislation."

Delegates, who have completed their work on committee proposals and now face full floor debate on them, got tangled up Thursday on a proposed new work schedule for plenary sessions.

FINALLY DECIDED
The convention must finish its work by April 1 if the new constitution is to be submitted to the people for a vote in the November election.

After nearly an hour and a half of arguments, which degenerated at times into a shouting match punctuated by cries of "tag rule," the convention voted to meet at 4 p.m. on Mondays and 9:30 a.m. Tuesday through Friday.

Richard Van Duse, R-Birmingham, chairman of the rules committee, charged that some delegates were dragging their feet.

"This looks like a deliberate slowdown by the Democrats," Van Duse said.

Mervin Nee, D-Detroit, said he deeply resented Van Duse's remarks which he considered to be "stupid and abominable."

Nord criticized what he said was "the big rush by the railroad gang."

Brandon Township — The new director of civil defense here has announced his intention to spark new interest in the organization by starting a broad new training program.

William McFeely said yesterday that he had a CD budget but has financed its operations so far out of the general fund. Next year, he said, the board will set up a budget for CD alone.

The village council hasn't offered financial support of the new program.

Previously the township has not applied for any federal matching funds for CD equipment. McFeely said this year he would ask for $1,000 worth of equipment, the cost of which would be split 50-50 between the township and the federal government.

The emergency medical care course would probably be set up on a countywide basis and would require prior first aid or medical training. McFeely said the radiological course also would be for area CD personnel and might be located in another township.

The Brandon-Ontario area is currently being surveyed by CD engineers for adequate community shelters as part of a nationwide program.

BURNS TO GROUND — This garage on the Jerome E. Schoof property, 7640 Campground Road, near Romeo, was destroyed by fire last night. Converted into living quarters for orchard workers, its sole occupant was Fremantle Brown, 33, who escaped without injury. The blaze, which was out of control before it was discovered, started from an overheated oil stove. Damage was estimated at about $4,000.

JFK Messages Set on Defense, Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said Thursday President Kennedy plans to send to Congress next week messages dealing with communication satellites, defense and civil defense, and education. Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the exact dates still are to be fixed but that it is the hope to get all three of the messages to the Capitol next week.

Handicapped Tots Aided Judy Garland

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Judy Garland is working in a movie with handicapped children these days.

If her reactions to them display more realism than acting, there is good reason. Children such as these once came to her aid at a time when everyone else seemed to desert her.

Judy is once again on top of the show world. She will probably be nominated for Academy award for her performance in "Judgment at Nuremberg," her first film in seven years. Her two-platter album, "Judy at Carnegie Hall" has sold a quarter-million copies. Her concerts are smash here and abroad, and she's doing a TV special.

She is getting back into films in a big way. She is starring with Burt Lancaster in "A Child is Waiting," then goes directly to England to do a musical, "The Lonely Stage."

When I saw her on the movie set, she was doing a scene in a classroom with retarded children, some of these actors, many of them actually handicapped. She joked and chatted with them all, even engaging in a yo-yo contest with one boy.

TELLS STORY

Between scenes, she told about her first acquaintance with handicapped children. "It happened at a time when I was feeling very lonely and sorry for myself," she recalled. "I was sick, and I went to Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston for treatment."

This was at a crucial period in her career. She had been battling for months with MGM, whose bosses were upset by her overweight and tardiness. The studio finally fired her from "Annie Get Your Gun" and cast Betty Hutton in the role. Judy underwent a breakdown and was sent to the Boston hospital.

"Next door was a children's hospital," she said. "I had no

'No Man on Moon Before 1980,' Solon Warns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A senior Republican member of the House Space Committee said today the U.S. space program was slipping behind schedule and that America would be lucky to land a man on the moon before 1980.

The pessimistic forecast was voiced by Rep. James G. Fulton, R-Pa., after the White House sent Congress a glowing report of U.S. space progress in 1961.

President Kennedy wants the United States to send a three-man expedition to the moon before 1970, possibly as early as 1967.

"There's no doubt our overall space program is slipping despite the high words and fine goals coming from the White House," Fulton said in an interview. "It continues to slip we'll be lucky to get a man on the moon before 1980."

Expect Booster for Glenn Shot OK by Saturday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — John H. Glenn Jr.'s Atlas booster is expected to be repaired by Saturday signaling a resumption of tests aimed at rocketing him into orbit about the earth on Feb. 13.

Trouble developed in the Atlas fueling system Tuesday while Project Mercury officials were preparing for a Thursday launching. The effort was put off until Feb. 13, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Thursday that this is, still the target date.

The NASA statement said that repairs are expected to be completed by Saturday and retesting of all systems to begin at that time.

Fun to 'Live' in Wacky New York City

By BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK — New York is the most wonderful, most wacky town in the land. The corner of the leading cliché directed against it as a metropolis got his signals and his syntax reversed. New York's a great place to live, but I'd sure hate to visit there. That's the way it should read.

The tributes to it have been as earnest, if not as lyrical, as the poetic verses blown at Athens, Rome, and other towns in Georgia. And at Paris, Texas, and London.

"Once you go through the Holland Tunnel it's all Bridgeport," Bugs Baer once wrote in tribute to Gotham. A Bowery cop saw a bum asleep in a gutter one night, kicked him upright and appealed to what remained of his manhood.

"Why don't you get out of this lousy town that made a bum outta you?" the law asked. "Get a fresh start somewhere. Look atcha. Get going, for your own sake."

"No," the guy said. "Give me one reason why you'd stay in this crummy place?" the heretic roared. The bum pulled himself up with great dignity and answered, "Because it's the only town where you can buy things late."

An uptight French maitre de at a joint that charges $2.50 to peel a grape looked over a fellow and his new girl just as the after-dinner brandy arrived, deposited the check, and said: "You must hurry and leave. I need this table."

LOSING FACE — The fellow with the girl was losing face at a dizzy rate. But he recouped with a crusher, and it wasn't a right to the jaw. He stood up and pushed his tough face close to the imperious head waiter. And in a barely audible whisper he hissed:

"Leave us alone, bum, or I'll or I'll..." "You'll what?" the head waiter said, looking down his aquiline.

"I'll spit on your spats," our man said. The maitre de fled.

Then there was the real scabrous bum who came into Shor's old place with his accompanying files and, for some nutty reason, slugged the nearest hunchback girl. A customer left the bar and flattened him. The customer was still standing over the bum when he opened one eye, an eye that was now soberer than it had been a minute before.

"Why d'ja slug me?" the bum asked, looking up. "Because you wouldn't tell me where you got that suit," our hero replied.

That's New York. Ought to be quite a city when they get it finished.

LONDON (AP) — President G. Powers has been charged with espionage and Premier Nikita Khrushchev has promised "We shall try him—try him severely as a spy."

This was reported today by the Soviet news agency Tass.

The penalty for espionage in the Soviet Union ranges from 10 years in prison to execution by firing squad.

The latest developments were announced in Tass broadcasts from Moscow today in the wake of the news conference Khrushchev held Wednesday at the Moscow questions will be asked at Eisenhower's coming to Moscow. Animations, laughter. "I would put it this way: One person, namely U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, has helped the President particularly in this respect. At his suggestion Herter made an announcement that this will continue in the future."

Part of Western correspondents' dispatches on the news conference had been held up in Moscow censorship. The Tass account of Khrushchev's remarks was carried in full after the news conference.

"Only countries which are in a state of war can act in this way. We are not in a state of war with America. Herter's statement says that the plan was endorsed by the government."

Herter's statement has made us doubt the correctness of our earlier conclusions that the President, the American government, did not know about the flights. Herter's statement says that the plan was endorsed by the government."

cause otherwise they would have had to bring Allen W. Dulles (head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) to account. Dulles, in turn, would have exposed the government by saying he carried out a plan approved by it, and, consequently, endorsed by the head of the government. REPORTS ON CONFERENCE — Secretary of State Dean Rusk holds a news conference Thursday after his return from the Inter-American Foreign Ministers' Conference in Uruguay. Rusk said Cuba is using U.S. dollars to promote subversion in other Western Hemisphere nations. At Rusk's left is Lincoln White, State Department press officer.

Bomb 2 Homes of Antirightists

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Homemade bombs damaged the residences Thursday night of two ministers who have been vocal in their criticism of rightwing extremism, police reported.

The two men, the Rev. John G. Simmons and The Rev. Brooks R. Walker, learned of the bombings while appearing together in a panel discussion entitled, "The Extreme Right—Threat to Democracy?"

Detectives said families of both men narrowly escaped injury in the explosions.

A police guard was ordered for the home of the third panel member, actress Marsha Hunt.

Both ministers live in the suburban San Fernando Valley, and both told of receiving previous threats and anonymous telephone calls.

The Rev. Mr. Simmons, pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran Church in North Hollywood, said the blast at his home wouldn't change his determination to battle what he called the radical right wing.

"I will not compromise my beliefs," he told a newsmen.

The Rev. Mr. Walker is pastor of the Emerson Unitarian Church in Canoga Park. He said that in addition to his appearance Thursday night, he has been attacking some phases of the ultra-conservative movement on radio.

The panel discussion was sponsored by the Los Angeles Business and Professional Chapter of the American Jewish Congress. It was held at Temple Sinai in West Los Angeles.

Detectives said that the front of the Simmons home—a section of the basement—a large window—was damaged. Damage to the Walker residence in Canoga Park was limited to the garage and a bedroom wall.

Pontiac Motor Division and GMC Truck & Coach Division produced about 14,000 more cars and trucks in January than they did in the same month last year, according to production figures released today.

General Motors Corp. followed the upward trend in domestic car production, led throughout the industry.

The nation's auto makers rolled 628,227 cars off the lines in January, about 212,370 more than they built in the first month of last year.

Pontiac Motor production was up about 15,000. The division produced (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Homo Sapiens Annoy Groundhog

By MONTY MARMOTA MONAX

us groundhogs are nothing more than quiet creatures that sleep away the days, along comes Feb. 2 and the day that some members of the human race go batty over us.

On 361 other days of the year

Right now there stands two of them trespassing on my abode. One stands huddled from the cold, pencil and pad in hand like a cub reporter, and the other is a squirrelly sort, popping lights in my face. The nerve.

"Get the cover off the lens you dope!" one screamed.

"I'll take the shot and you write your usual tripe," countered the other.

They're talking over some wild idea that I'm soon to surface from this Australian shadow. Let me tell you a shadow. Let the fools stand there all day and freeze.

"What's in it for me? I should leave the security of my home just to get my mug splashed across the front pages of America's newspapers. Not on your life."

Let them call the weather bureau to see how much more winter is in store.

I can see the face on their nose now when they come back empty-handed. (City Editor's note: And empty-headed.)

Maybe next year he'll send them down in here to see what living is really like.

Back to the sack for me.

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Two groundhogs, considered the official legendary weather prophets, emerged from their holes today and saw their shadows, signifying six more weeks of winter.

Rubbing a long winter's liberation from his eyes, Pansucawney Phil was the first to emerge in Pansucawney.

At 7:28 a.m., he shifted dutifully from his snuggly, squinted and spied his shadow decorating frozen Gobblers' Knob. He scampered back to his cozy burrow.

The Quarryville groundhog saw its shadow at 7:51 a.m., according to Robert W. Herr, chairman of the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs here.

U.S. Ready to Make Extensive Use of Navy in Halting Arms Flow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was expected today to direct prompt and urgent appeals to its NATO allies and other Allied countries to cooperate with the newly adopted inter-American policy of isolating Cuba.

The U.S. government itself is reported ready to make more extensive use of its naval forces in an effort to cut off Cuban arms shipments to subversive groups in other Latin-American countries.

President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also are looking into the possibility of slapping a total embargo on U.S. trade with Cuba, one effect of which would be to deny Cuba a source of income amounting to about $15 million a year at the present rate of trade.

In connection with the possible isolation of all trade with Cuba, Rusk charged Thursday at a news conference that Cuba was using American dollars to promote subversion in other countries. He didn't explain the remark.

The possibility of some move by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro against the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo is also up. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Once again Pontiac area temperatures plunged below zero but the Weather Bureau said the mercury will rise to the high 20s during the next five days. The low will average near 15.

Residents in Brandon and Oakland Townships reported early morning temperatures tumbled to 20 below.

The bureau said low temperatures will dip to 15 tonight and climb to 24 Saturday.

Morning southeasterly winds at one mile an hour will become southerly at 10 to 20 m.p.h. by evening.

May Ask Aid in Cuba Policy

They Will Mold the Future

By DICK HANSON

The suburban giant that has sprung up on Oakland County's rural scene will continue to grow and must be nurtured on sound planning if that growth is to benefit the community.

This was the message from the first countywide planning conference held yesterday at Michigan State University.

The county's present 600,000 population will double in the next 11 years, 4, Robert F. Swanson, chairman of the Oakland County Planning Commission, predicted.

Comprehensive planning of the sort being carried out by the commission is essential to assure a desirable environment. For this growth said Dekos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

AT BANQUET

Paul Oppermann, executive director of the Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan (Chicago) Area Planning Commission, was the principal speaker in a banquet attended by more than 400 persons interested in the county's future.

He drew a comparison with what is being done for orderly planning in Oakland County and the Chicago metropolitan area.

The importance of comprehensive planning to ward off such ailments of population explosion as slums, crime and public apathy was stressed by Oppermann.

He warned that Oakland County is an inextricable part of the metropolitan area and planning must be accomplished on that basis as well as at the local level.

"The role of metropolitan area planning is to bring the engineers and planners of the various communities together to tackle overall problems."

"Nowhere is this role being met; nowhere are the results adequate or meeting the challenge," declared Oppermann. "But this is no reason for discouragement."

"We are on the road to rebuilding our country — our society," he stated.

URGES FLEXIBILITY

He further warned that comprehensive planning must always be flexible "because changes yet to come may shake us more than those of recent years."

Oppermann described planning as a "way of shaping our environment and a good tool to solve both urban and rural problems."

"We are building a new American dream . . . What will happen tomorrow?" he asked.

Fogbound for 6th Day

FRENO — Thick fog hovered over central California for the sixth consecutive day today with no immediate signs of relief. Transportation remained paralyzed.

Area planners gained an insight to the answer during a conference yesterday at MSU.

Three top-flight representatives of industry headed a workshop on "planning for industrial growth." They were Wilbur M. Young, Detroit Edison Co.'s assistant director of area development; Kenneth E. Horn, a research laboratory manager of Bendix Corp.; and Ralph J. Stephenson, vice president of H. P. Campbell Construction Co. in Detroit.

The community should determine exactly what types of industry it desires to locate within its boundaries and what it has available to offer this industry, they asserted.

QUALIFICATIONS

Suppose it is a research industry that is being sought, they added, are a suitable campus site with aesthetic qualities, availability of a university for continued academic study. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

MSUO Chief Likes Plan to Aid College Building

The chancellor of Michigan State University Oakland today hailed as "one way to solve universities' building problems" a State Senate bill filed yesterday which would finance a six-year, $150-million college building program by increasing cigarette and telephone taxes.

Chancellor D. B. Varner was commenting on reports of the bill introduced into the State Senate yesterday by Senator Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo). Varner stressed, however, that he had not seen the full text of the Morris bill.

"From what I know about it, I wouldn't say that this particular bill is the only way our building needs can be solved," Varner told the Pontiac Press. "But some bill like this makes sense."

"We are faced with a tremendous increase in enrollment. If no provision is made immediately, we are faced with turning back large numbers of enrollees."

The Morris bill would establish a higher education building authority with power to issue revenue bonds for up to $15 million each year for six years.

The bill also provides for a one-half cent increase in present cigarette tax and for taking away one-half cent of the present tax to be used for college and university building. Morris estimated the bill would yield about $15 million.

PROPOSED WIRE TAX

The other $10 million, he said, would come from reimposing one of the so-called nuisance taxes on telephone, telegraph and leased line services. This levy would be four per cent.

Though he said he saw no particular problem or difficulty inherent in reports of Morris' "the governor also has a program to help us meet our building needs."

Gov. Swanson's plan would establish a state building authority from which universities could borrow — after approval of the State Legislature — to pay for new buildings. The loans would be repaid in form of a "rental" charge taken out of the universities' annual budget. The Swanson program has been called another way of long-term financing.

"The Morris plan," Varner said, "appears to have the advantage of being a pay-as-you-go program."

Based on his figuring on an annual expected revenue of $15 million from the cigarette and phone taxes, Varner said the revenues would be enough to make annual payments on buildings needed.

3 Children Injured in Mishaps

Three Oakland County children were injured Sunday when a 16-year-old Avon Township boy was seriously burned when his coat caught fire. Two Pontiac children were struck by vehicles.

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives today said they would check samples of material from a coat worn by William Fox, 16, of 2515 Rhinberry St., after the coat "burst into flames" yesterday.

"Fox suffered first, second and third degree burns from his waist to his legs and was in fair condition, the meeting at St. Joseph's Hospital."

A companion, Douglas Duch, 11, of 142 Bowdoin Hill Drive, Avon Township, told deputies Fox had been playing in the school yard and put the cigarette in his coat pocket to hide it from the driver as we got off the bus."

NOTICED FIRE

Moments later Fox noticed his pocket smoldering. He started to run to a friend's house, Duch said, "when the coat burst into flames."

Duch and Bruce Hart of 145 Bowdoin Hill Drive, rushed Fox to the hospital to receive the flames.

Detective Harry Mair said he would take the material to the health department lab in Lansing "to see if we can determine why it was so flammable."

HIT POSTAL TRUCK

In Pontiac, eight-year-old Leonard Duerden was in critical condition with multiple internal injuries at Pontiac General Hospital today after he apparently hit a postal truck while skating down an icy street into an alley.

The driver, Louis Zach, 41, of 3235 Oak Knoll St., Waterford Township, said he was driving the truck at three miles an hour through an alley between Palmer and Miller streets and was passing a garage when he heard a thud.

Zach said he stopped, got out and found the Duerden boy lying about 20 feet behind the truck. Leonard apparently had been skating behind the garage.

Seven-year-old Judy Williams was treated for face cuts after she was struck by a car yesterday while belly-sliding down a snow-covered embankment near her home.

Judy of 13 Union Court was taken to Pontiac General Hospital 5 p.m. yesterday.

She was struck by a car driven by John McHugh Cogley, 41, of 60 Douglas St., who told police he was going at five miles per hour when the girl suddenly slid into the street. No charges were filed.

State's Financial Picture Bad, Warns Sen. Roberts

"I believe the present financial crisis in the State of Michigan to be much worse than has been pointed out to date by the governor," State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, said today.

"Present estimates," he said, "show that by June 30 of this year the state overall deficit will be $100 million."

Based upon this year's general fund budget which will end the year at about $842 million, we find that $24 million must be added for next year, to cover civil service increases over which we have no control."

If the Warrel secondary school aid bill passes, the jump in general fund obligations will rise by another $37.7 million. If the legislature holds higher education increases to $5 million and mental health increases to $4 million, they will be one again more than holding the line with respect to higher education and making it virtually impossible to solve the mounting retarded bond load problem. Tanks Enter Paris to Stall Any Coup

PARIS (AP) — French army tanks converged on Paris today to forestall any attempt by the right-wing Secret Army to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle as reports of an imminent peace pact for Algeria persisted.

With mounted machine guns, two squadrons totaling 32 tanks moved on the capital to give a more support to 25,000 rioters alerted against the threat of an uprising by the rightist underground.

De Gaulle will address the nation by radio and television Monday night in what shaped up as a crucial statement on the long secret negotiations with the Algerian National Liberation Front to end the seven-year rebellion.

French public opinion was being prepared for a deal with the rebels to carry out De Gaulle's policy of putting Algeria on the path to independence.

Well-informed diplomatic sources said the agreement already had been drafted and needed only the formal signatures of both sides.

FEAR ATTEMPTED COUP

France's allies reportedly have been notified that the De Gaulle regime seriously fears an attempted coup by the right-wing extremists either in France or Algeria or in both places—when the peace accord is announced.

There were reports that some French officials thought the Secret Army into an uprising in the event of a peace announcement. The theory that a premature push would be easier to crush—at least in metropolitan France.

Security forces also were reinforced in hotbeds of rightist terrorism in Algeria. Two hundred crack assault commandos moved into Algiers Thursday to reinforce French troops already put on emergency footing.

New Soviet Berlin Plan Rejected by U.S., Allies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Officials said today the United States and its allies have turned down a Soviet proposal that West Berlin be turned into a sort of independent state and made a member of the United Nations.

The Russian plan, outlined early last month to the U.S. ambassador in Moscow, Llewellyn E. Thompson, called for ending the Allied occupation and converting Berlin into a demilitarized free city as a prelude to this action.

The Soviet suggestion for an independent Berlin in the United Nations appeared to be part of a new Russian peace offensive designed to convince the world that the Kremlin is taking a more reasonable line on the critical problem.

mentally retarded backlog is the worst in the history of the state.

"If capital outlay increases are held to $55 million on a 'pay as you go' basis, need for a general fund budget will have arisen to $57 million.

"The state will commence next fiscal year with the worst deficit in its history. We not only should but must hold to a conservative estimate of income for the next fiscal year as the deficit will then be as great as to allow for any further errors.

A conservative prediction would be $482 million. With this as a prediction, although we hope income will rise above this, the general fund budget deficiency will then stand at $55 million.

"This allows no margin for retirement of the debt. Our present deficit cannot be ignored. If the legislature applies only $15 million toward the debt retirement, tax needs will approximate $100 million.

"We can cut the tax need back by bonding for capital outlay. This will merely aggravate the problem five and ten years from now.

"This prediction makes no allowance for correcting inequities in payments to hospitals for care of crippled and afflicted children ($62 million) or other increases beyond present levels of service.

"Nonsense! It's not to answer this need. If we pretend that they do, we are either fooling ourselves or the electorate. This budget also assumes that we are better off than in every field of government except that of our schools and mental health. A further postponing of capital outlay will make no great difference in this very gloomy picture."

State GOP Men Ask Romney for Confab

Michigan's Republican members of Congress have invited George W. Romney, potential candidate for governor, to have breakfast and talk politics with them Monday in Washington.

Romney, who said in Grand Rapids last night he still hadn't made up his mind whether to run, will meet at 8 a.m. with the 11 members, including Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County.

The meeting will follow his appearance Sunday on nationwide television on the "Meet the Press" program.

It could also be his last gathering with members of his party before his promised Feb. 10 decision. He has previously met with State Chairman George M. Van Puer, state representatives and state senators.

The American Motors Corp. president, a resident of Bloomfield Hills, talked politics when he spoke at Calvin College Thursday night. He called for the strengthening of the governor's powers, greater political participation by individual citizens, and the appointment rather than election of state administrative board members.

He said there was too much centralization of power in Washington and suggested if "the White House determines the national policy on wages and prices, the White House needs to be controlled."

He also called for a prohibition against direct or indirect political campaign contributions by business and labor.

"The business and labor barons also must be curbed now," he said.

Fire Rages in House; Damage Undetermined

Fire caused damage of an undetermined amount to a two-story frame house at 335 Orchard Lake Road, Kewego Harbor, this morning.

West Bloomfield Township firemen were still at the scene at 11 a.m., but the fire was under control. Firemen said a family was taken from the building. The house belongs to M. R. Scott.

The 72,000 member National Home Society in Bloomfield Hills is believed to be the largest specialist flower society in the world.

$1 Million for Monkeys Upsets Frugal Senator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., reported with fiscal indignation today that the government plans to spend $1,250,000 to see why baby monkeys love their mothers.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he did not want to be critical of medical research, "but it seems to me that much more care should be exercised in the expenditure of taxpayers' money, even in this important area."

Also, he added, while the national debt has soared to nearly $300 billion, the government wastes money on such projects as the study of why baby monkeys love their mothers.

Another point on the agenda is studying the diving reflex and volume receptors in the seal. Byrd called these items from a list running to more than 350 pages, he said. "It is my purpose to make further inquiry into the nature and costs of research projects which are being undertaken in the name of public health."

'MONKEY BUSINESS'

Byrd said he learned that the National Institute of Mental Health made the grant to Dr. Harry F. Harlow of the University of Wisconsin to study the monkey business.

The budget bureau told him, Byrd said, that Dr. Harlow will receive $1,250,000 for his study of the infant monkey and his mother, and will also go into more exotic things like "visual exploration and memory."

"These research grants are running into thousands of projects which are costing tremendous sums of money," Byrd said.

1,300 Butchers Taking Vote on Monday Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Nearly 1,300 butchers, meat cutters and clerks at 187 supermarkets in southeastern Michigan planned a strike today and Saturday.

All are members of Local 289, which is part of the United Food and Commercial Workers Union, AFL-CIO. They are employed by 13 supermarket chains in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Washington, Genesee, Saginaw and Midland counties.

The butchers scheduled to vote on whether to accept an offer by the United Supermarkets Association. If the offer is rejected, Samuel Simmons, executive secretary of the State Labor Mediation Board, said a strike could be called by Monday.

Issues include the work week, which the Union wants cut and higher pay and rest periods and fringe benefits.

The Day in Birmingham

Interest to Be Increased on Unpaid Assessments

BIRMINGHAM — A higher interest rate on unpaid special assessment installments will become effective Feb. 15.

The City Commission established the new rate recently on the recommendation of James H. Purkin, director of city finances.

The change from 4 to 6 per cent is intended to give the city a greater return on city funds now used for this type of financing, according to Purkin.

He also noted that the higher rate will allow the city to make maximum use of the limited amount of revolving funds that are available for this form of financing.

The 4 per cent rate was established in July 1947.

A 6 per cent interest also will be levied on all invoices for city-rendered services if unpaid after 30 days. Interest will be computed at one-half of 1 per cent each month after the 30-day period.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will begin its third year of participation in the "Great Decisions" program on Monday.

The program provides citizens to study current issues of foreign policy through a series of discussions. The meetings will be held each Monday during February and March at the homes of church members.

Eight different topics on foreign policy will be presented this year.

Persons interested in joining one of the discussion groups can contact Henry Himmrich, Joseph Miller or Dr. Raymond Walworth.

In other workshop discussions, county, township and city planners from throughout the county learned from experts on such factors as legal aspects of zoning, public works planning and design, zoning administration, comprehensive planning and the impact of expressways and thoroughfares on local planning.

Is Government Trying to Limit Spending?

Recently a letter in the Voice of the People called attention to the fact that economy in government is passe. In fact, the writer mentioned that he had been waiting for someone to dare and broach the subject.

This newspaper would feel remiss to let this challenge go without restating our long-time position of advocating economy in all types of government, whether it be local, state or Federal.

Certainly, the trend today which has been buoyed up by our "New Frontier" administration is ignoring economy. They just ask for more money, period. Prior to President Kennedy, Eisenhower attempted weakly to hold the line on government expenditures.

Sometimes he could, and other times it was just impossible. At least it is our feeling that over the eight years he was honestly attempting to hold down the cost to the taxpayers. Certainly he didn't succeed to everyone's satisfaction.

Now this has all changed. The Federal Government, along with our State Government is unquestionably on a spending spree. This has been the tone in all of the State of the Union messages by both branches of government.

We do not buy this philosophy now, any more than we have in the past. In fairness, we realize that in many categories increased revenues must be found. Just to say we need untold millions of dollars as the case may be, seems a bit presumptuous to us.

We recognize in many instances costs of operation have accelerated over the years. Since this is true it seems all the more reasonable to believe that economy should be studied in all Government agencies.

It is entirely possible that some cost savings within our Government could possibly cut back some of the requests for various operations.

An increased budget is naturally the easiest way to raise money for new or increased functions, yet it must come out of the taxpayer's pocket in one form or another in the way of new taxes.

The tax burden is growing... and no end is in sight.

Italy Will Try Pilot Strictly on Her Own

The free world is presented with an opportunity to allow NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV to stew in a stable pot of his own juice.

MILUSC SOLAKOV, the hapless air force puppet who crash-landed in Italy right near one of our own bases will come to trial. You will recall that his airplane was jammed with so many established instruments for high-flight spying that he made no attempt to talk his way out of the difficulty.

When a like circumstance confronted the world in Russia, the U.S. pilot was made the central figure in a three-ring circus, complete with newspaper reporters and cameras, spotlights, radio, television and newscasts.

Francis Powers got the full treatment.

Current advice indicates that the Italians will try the Bulgarian bad boy without let or interference from Washington. Administrative circles feel this is the soundest strategy for the sake of our own position and to assist us in negotiating again for the release of POWs.

Perhaps we can effect a trade.

Thus, Italy will be strictly "on her own." She can be tough, lenient or forgiving. Anyway it's a chance for the free world to demonstrate that this upstart strapping is a two way street. "What's sauce for the goose, etc."

Gals' Knees Still Show in Latest Fashions

Oh, me. After a revealing season of milady's kneecap and even a suggestive stretch beyond, the die's now cast for the ensuing season. Knees will still be seen.

Hemlines have inched cautiously downward according to the top dogs in old Paris, but the advance is almost microscopic and practically everything that bore scrutiny and inspection before still does.

The gals will spend another season unconsciously tugging, pulling, smoothing and stretching. It's second nature by now and they can use the training of the immediate past in the days ahead.

The Man About Town Gets the Answers

Phone and Mail Are Busy for Seeker of Bird Lore

Adult education: What has principally become a children's job.

A few days ago when this column published the request of

Mrs. L. Allen Raymond of Lake Orion for identification of some strangers at her bird feeding board, it was hardly expected that it would develop into a source of quite liberal revenue for the telephone company and our Uncle Sam.

A letter from her says that she is flooded with calls and letters telling her that they are evening grockers. This bird is quite rare in this area, but had evidently heard by the feathered grapevine that there was a top feeding place at Lake Orion.

She writes: "It is amazing; such a large number of long, friendly calls between total strangers, and letters telling of unique experiences."

Mrs. Raymond suggests that egg shells be saved, crushed and put out among the birds. The birds relish them, as they take the place of the grit which they are unable to pry loose from the frozen ground.

Most everybody will agree with the sentiments in a letter from Rodney Orson of Utica, who writes: "If we already haven't passed the middle of the winter, we'd better celebrate July 4 with a ski party."

"We have some young culprits without whom it would be a better world," phones Mrs. Hannah Jenson of Birmingham, in referring to those who call "chicken" other young people who refuse to take chances on thin ice.

A number of reports have been received in regard to the depth to which the ground now is frozen. They vary from six inches to three feet, according to the soil and its snow coverage. The average is about one foot.

Drayton Plains was a busy place at this season around the turn of the century, according to Arthur McGonigal of Auburn Heights, who then lived there, and is referring to the harvest of many thousands of tons of ice on Loon Lake, and other lakes in that area.

He Has Pretty Well Secured His Burden

David Lawrence Claims: 'Stockpiling' Needs an Explanation

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's instinctive passion for publicity and headlines got the better of him at his press conference as he chose the wrong method to achieve a rightful objective.

Instead of presenting to Congress in a comprehensive message the full details of the "stockpiling" program with specific recommendations to curtail excessive purchasing, Kennedy made a vague statement and left the inference of scandal as he referred to "unconscionable profits."

It so happens that, at the "unconscionable" tax rates of today, the federal government gets back 50 percent of all corporate profits and from 75 to 90 per cent of the income of any individual "profiteers."

Congress is primarily responsible for this program of spending, and the Democratic party has been in control of both houses for seven out of the last ten years.

Kennedy himself was a member of the Senate during six of the last nine years. Again and again Sen. Willis Robertson and Henry F. Byrd of Virginia, Democrats, have called attention in formal reports to the large expenditures in recent years for stockpiling of both metals and agricultural products, but to no avail.

The President asked Sen. Stuart Symington, chairman of the stockpiling subcommittee of the armed services committee, to undertake an investigation.

Symington was invited to the White House to discuss the problem and subsequently told reporters that he knows of "no wrongdoing by anyone."

There's more than meets the eye in the President's call for an investigation. For what the federal government has been doing in the purchase of metals and other commodities has served to bolster the prices of those same articles, and this, in turn, has meant profits for the sellers. This also has been true, of course, in the agricultural domain.

As a matter of fact, it looks very much as if the President is trying to build up an alibi for the excessive stockpiling of farm products. For he made his charges about the supplies in metals on the very same day that he asked Congress in a special message for power to deal with the farm program by price supports.

Actually, the United States has stockpiled about $1.7 billion in war materials, but its agricultural stockpile is at about the same

Back of the big sums involved in stockpiling is a market factor. Through the buying of these war materials, the surpluses are taken off the market, and this sends the prices up to artificial levels.

Naturally, the sellers make large profits, and that's what happens to those who deal in farm products, too. The whole idea is to bolster prices.

So, if there is anything "unconscionable," it is in the way the Congress has held prices of farm products, as well as metals, above what the law of supply and demand would normally make them.

Based on WAR. The whole stockpiling program has been based on the concept of a three- to five-year war. The process of accumulating surplus materials was stepped up in the Korean War, which lasted three years.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says: We Must Face Problem of Venereal Diseases

If a recital of unpleasant facts causes you to stick your head in the sand, ostrich-fashion, better skip this column. But if you are an intelligent teen-ager or a parent or a teacher of teen-agers, you might devote a few minutes to the following shocking statistics:

There are in the United States, approximately 12 million patients with syphilis in various stages, all in need of treatment.

Each year, approximately 1 million fresh gonorrheal infections are known to occur. Undoubtedly, many more are unreported.

The rate of infection is rising rapidly in middle and upper income brackets. And this rising incidence is more apparent in teen-agers and, especially, girls.

Nearly one out of every five cases of infectious syphilis (primary and secondary stages) occurs in patients younger than 19 years of age. In general, the infections occur at an earlier age in girls. And finally, to conclude this "chamber of horrors" for the moment, there were more girls infected with both gonorrhea and syphilis at age 18 than at any other age.

What makes these revelations so more shocking is the fact that we have in our possession simple and safe drugs that can both prevent and cure these venereal infections.

I would like to make the following special suggestions to parents and teachers of teen-agers, and especially to those responsible for the health and welfare of 19-year-old girls whose incidence of infection is highest at the age of graduation from high school:

By means of lectures with lantern slide demonstrations before all high school students of the risks of premarital intercourse. Warn these youngsters that much of the "red-hot dogs" they tell one another about venereal prophylaxis and contraception is just not true.

Voices of the People: 'Thank Broomfield, Hill for Giving Opposition'

I just finished reading the article about the federal government planning to spend $435,000 in Mississippi and the opposition of Representative Broomfield and Vice President Hill of Ford Motor Company.

Every voter in Michigan, should send a "thank you" to Mr. Hill and Mr. Broomfield and then a letter to everyone in Washington asking them why taxpayers in Michigan have to pay for training tractor operators in Mississippi.

The only way federal spending will slacken is when thousands of taxpayers start screaming. Get out your pen and paper.

'Should Pupils Walk if Buses Don't Run?'

I would like to answer "I. L." who went to school in the Upper Peninsula before anyone heard of school buses. I, too, went to school in the U.P., and walked the two miles from the very first day. I even walked in blizzards and below-zero temperatures, but we didn't have the icy roads and the traffic problem.

I drive a school bus and am very grateful that we have officials who keep the buses off the road when driving is hazardous. Most schools are open even if the buses aren't running, and get out and take the kids to school yourself or let the "little dears" walk. Times have changed!

I'm wondering if "I. L." walked five to seven miles to school at the age of 5, 6 or 7? My children walked to a country school located a mile and a half from our home.

Now my grandchildren are transported by bus to schools that are located five to 15 miles from their homes. Never have I known their schools to be "closed because of snow." I see, yes. And then the schools weren't closed to see how kids would get there because they lived on a main road.

Has "I. L." traveled on the ice now covering the side roads? Most of these roads are narrow and hilly and never paved? I would rather all children missed school than risk one small life.

Too many men roam the roads like waiting for a chance to find a child alone.

Grandma. Whenever there is a storm and schools close, someone says, "We walked to school, why can't kids nowadays?"

I imagine some walked five miles in storms and cold. I rode a school bus and stayed home when it stormed. Four of my children go to the Doctor Elementary School, five miles from home. I don't want my 7-year-old walking in this weather.

I don't think buses should try to get through when the weather is bad.

My kids aren't "soft." Johnny, 9, has driven the tractor for two summers, and when the last baby was born my two girls, 9 and 10, did all the household chores for one month of eight.

No more complaining because the schools close for a day or two.

A Mother. "I. L." doesn't realize they have removed "watering troughs" and

Twist Rates Higher Than Family Survival

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—The Board of Education announced several weeks ago a social dancing course which would include the twist. Thirty-two persons planned down $10 each for the dancing lessons.

At the same time the board announced an "individual and family survival course" given free under Civil Defense sponsorship.

With only six persons signing up for survival, the school canceled the course.

Redistributes Weight

Exercise Helps Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
 (The Question Box)
 Q. "Can exercise have any effect at all on the figure without dieting?"
 A. Yes. If you are overweight, you will have to diet, too, but if you are the correct weight, specialized exercise will redistribute your weight more attractively. Even if you are overweight and must count calories, individually prescribed exercises will speed the loss where you wish it.
 Q. "What is the difference between a deodorant and an antiperspirant?"
 A. A deodorant banishes the odor of perspiration, and an antiperspirant slows up perspiration. Today, you do not have to buy two products. You can get both benefits in one.
 Q. "Some people seem to think that a woman looks younger when she is older if she is overweight. What do you think?"
 A. I think that there is a point on the scales which is perfect for every woman. There is a point at which her figure is good and her face looks best. When she is older, this is usually about five pounds more than her ideal weight at the age of 25.
 Q. "I just do not know how to fix my hair! I have a round face and I have been wearing my hair long, below my neck, with bangs on my forehead. Somehow this does not seem right."
 A. How right you are! Get rid of the bangs as soon as possible and build your hair high on top. Then bring it close at the sides of your face. Your hair should extend below the ears, but not down to the shoulders.
 Q. "My friends keep telling me that if I keep shaving my legs I will have much more hair on them."
 A. There is no scientific evidence that this is true, so far as I know, and if it were, most women would be walking about with forests on their legs.
 Q. "People keep telling me that wearing my hair in a pony tail will make it fall out. Is this true?"

Even if your weight is correct, exercise will help distribute your pounds more attractively. The exercise pictured is a good one to begin with. Simply bend as far as you can. This will benefit your waist and prepare you for more strenuous exercises.

A. There is some evidence that. Some authorities suspect any style or habit which puts the pony tail and the habit of pressure on the hair for long peeling the hair up every night may loads of time may have some of be detrimental.

Older Homemakers Could Help Brides

By RUTH MILLETT
 Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.
 "In St. Louis 100 retired men have formed Experience, Inc., whose members not only offer business aid to firms that need it but have volunteered to the mayor for appointment to civic committees and have offered to serve on grand juries." That little item ought to give women an idea.
 Successful, retired men aren't the only ones who have a lot to offer their communities.
 Successful homemakers whose children are grown and gone from home, widowed homemakers and wives of retired men could band together to give their communities the benefit of their years of successful homemaking.
 Many a young bride or married mother of a household of young children could do with some help from a group of experienced homemakers who might call themselves "Experienced Homemakers, Inc."
 A woman who has kept house for years and brought up a family could give invaluable advice to a young wife who feels swamped and overwhelmed by her job.
 Running a home takes every bit as much know-how as running a business concern — and yet many brides start out today not knowing anything at all about the job of homemaking.
 "Experienced Homemakers, Inc." could also volunteer for civic committees and community projects — thereby giving their members some new and challenging interests and relieving younger, busier housewives of such responsibilities.
 We put such a value on youth that we sometimes overlook our citizens who have the know-how that comes only with experience.
 With families as much on the move as they are today — young wives are often too far from their own relatives to turn to them for help when they are establishing their homes and families.
 If those who need a helping hand could turn to a group of experienced homemakers, then some of the knowledge acquired by experience could be passed on. It's an idea for women to think about.

Inexpensive Later Gift Thoughtful

By the Emily Post Institute
 Q. My employer, to whom I have been secretary for about two years, is undergoing surgery in another state. I would like to know if it would be appropriate for me to present him with a welcome back gift or perhaps a pen, book ends, etc., (which I know he would have use for in his office) rather than send him flowers or a book.
 I don't know what type of book he would enjoy reading but I'm sure he will be getting such items from friends, of whom he has many. I would very much appreciate your advice regarding this matter.
 A. Your idea of a welcoming back gift instead of flowers is excellent, but choose something that is inexpensive or it might be embarrassing for him to receive it from an employee.
 Q. If a man doesn't make any move to help the lady he is escorting on with her coat, even though he is standing right there, could she hand him her coat and ask him to hold it for her? Might this imply that he is lacking in courtesy, and embarrass him?
 A. If she says, "This coat is hard to put on. Would you help me?" this should not embarrass him.
 Q. Will you please tell me the correct way to introduce a Protestant clergyman? Should he be introduced as Mr. John Smith or The Rev. John Smith? I am addressing a letter to him as The Rev. John Smith but you introduce him as Mr. Smith, or Dr. Smith if he is a D.D.

A psychiatrist is a guy who solves a problem you didn't realize you had in a manner you can't understand... Any man who ever laughed at women's hats never sat behind one in a theater. — Earl Wilson.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

HOW DO YOU HANDLE A ROOM THAT'S HARD TO HEAT?
 The quick and economical answer is to supplement the present system with flameless electric heat. It goes exactly where it's needed most, and independently, automatically adjusts for any degree of warmth. One of the modern units illustrated below can end your part-time shivering for good. Here's the simple way to turn a problem area into a cozy, liveable one.
WHAT'S THE BEST WAY TO HEAT A NEWLY FINISHED UPSTAIRS, BASEMENT, ENCLOSED PORCH OR BREEZEWAY?
 Electric heat's the answer since it imposes no burden on your present heating system and assures real comfort at all times. You can keep the room cooler when it's not in use, then feel it warm up quickly at a touch of its independent thermostat. Several types of electric heating units are available.

able, all easily installed at minimum cost and with minimum disruption of the household. You might also consider a room heat pump. This one unit, installed in a window or wall, gives you winter heating plus summer cooling.
WHAT IF YOU'D LIKE TO CONVERT THE WHOLE HOUSE TO MODERN FLAMELESS HEATING? Once again electric heat comes to the rescue. And every room will be under separate heating control—readily adjustable for the comfort of the people who are in it, when they are in it. You ought also to consider the ultimate in modern climate control—a central electric heat pump for both winter heating and summer air conditioning. Often existing air ducts can be the distribution system for a heat pump. In any case, good insulation, plus storm doors and windows, is recommended.

Reappointed to Council

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson Wednesday reappointed Dr. Myron E. Wegman of Ann Arbor, dean of the University of Michigan School of Health, to the State Council of Health for a term expiring June 30, 1967. The appointment requires Senate confirmation.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy turned up unexpectedly Thursday night at the National Theater to see a performance of "Saint Joan" by the touring Old Vic Company of London.

Imprisonments Up by 76 in County Courtrooms

Seventy-six more persons were imprisoned last year than the previous year by the circuit court judges, an annual report of the Oakland County Probation Department shows.

Ordered incarcerated in prison or jail for any of 54 crimes ranging from murder to opening a coin box were 279 men and women, one third of whom were under 21 years of age.

"The increase in the number imprisoned is due to the fact that many were repeat offenders and probation violators," explained Chief Probation Officer Arthur P. McKeena.

Although still an advocate of probation over incarceration, McKeena disclosed that the percentage of those who failed on probation increased by more than 5 per cent last year. He attributed this to having 54 absconders — or probationers who flee the state and must eventually be listed as a failure. Circuit Judges H. Russell Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer, Stanton G. Dondoro and Frederick C. Ziem placed 268 persons on probation. As the case of those sent to prison, one third of these were under 21.

Burglary continued to be the most frequent crime. Fifty-one were placed on probation for breaking and entering during the nighttime and 64 went to prison.

Thirty-five persons were either placed on probation or imprisoned for sex crimes.

Crimes involving bad checks meant Jackson Prison for 39 persons and probation for 30 others.

547 INVESTIGATIONS

Before a judge passes sentence on the criminal he orders a pre-sentence investigation of the person's background. Four county probation officers, and three state officers assigned to the Oakland department, conducted 547 such investigations last year.

The judge then receives a recommendation from the officer but is not necessarily bound to it.

These same officers have the responsibility of seeing that those placed on probation live up to their terms. Probationers must report to the office in the courthouse once a month either by writing or in person.

McKeena said due to the large number of probationers it is often impossible for a monthly home visit to be made by the officer. An officer has been added to the staff this year and this will lessen somewhat the load of about 90 probationers each officer had to supervise in 1961, he said.

Zuckert Hopes B70 Can Be Tested in '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert told senators Thursday he hopes tests can start by the end of this year on the 2,000-mile-an-hour B70.

Zuckert said the big bomber "could be the next generation of flying machines."

Testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee, Zuckert said the plane's "indicated performance is in line with our feeling that the manned military aircraft has not reached the ceiling or limit of its capabilities."

Central Meets Southwestern Here Tonight

Chiefs Still Have Hopes of Sharing Valley Title This Season

By BILL CORNWELL
The game that has been the most talked about in the Valley since the Chiefs of Pontiac Central met the Southwestern Trojans last Friday night, is the one that will be played here tonight when the Chiefs of Pontiac Central meet the Southwestern Trojans in a rematch of their 1-1 draw last Friday.

The Chiefs, who have been the most successful team in the Valley since the Trojans' upset victory last Friday, are looking for a repeat performance.

Ransom 4th, Douglas 8th Thompson of Saginaw Eyes SVC Point Title

There seems little doubt that Saginaw's brilliant Ernie Thompson will win the Saginaw Valley Conference basketball scoring championship.

The agile 6-foot-3 Thompson, who won most of the shots in the book, is doing his utmost to lead the Trojans to their second consecutive Valley crown.

Thompson has bucketed 161 points in seven SVC games for an average of 24.4 per contest.

This is three points a game better than Jim Yulie of Flint Southwestern, who holds 2nd place with a total of 147.

Pontiac Central's Rudy Ransom and Clarence Douglas are 4th and 8th, respectively, in both categories.

Ransom and Toles share 4th spot in the Valley race with identical 113-point totals for a 17.0 average. Ransom is averaging 17.2 overall, which brackets him with Saginaw's Brian Best.

Douglas has averaged 15.4 in Valley competition for the once-beaten Chiefs and he's shooting at a 35.3 clip altogether.

Four-Ply Card at Armory
A four-ply card is on tap for the Pontiac Armory tonight with Gino Brito facing Rynamite Johnny, Joe Smith against Percival Pringle, Keith Cruser Corral against Ron Mans and Larry Chase against the Great Masked Maphisto. The wrestling matches begin at 7:30 p.m.

READY FOR PARKERS
Avalanche's Bill Rice will be in the starting lineup tonight when the Yellow Jackets try to snap a four-game losing streak against Oak Park in an Oakland A League basketball game on the Avalanche court.

Victory-strained Walled Lake will entertain Southfield.

Romeo will play its 1st of two games in as many nights as guests of Rochester in Tri-City action which will also have L'Amour, Creuse at Lapeer. The Bulldogs play this Saturday. Rochester will visit Eureka tonight.

In the Oakland A, it will be Oak Park at Avalon, Troy and Fitzgerald in a key contest and Clayson vs Madison. Lake Orion goes outside to meet Oxford.

MIKES-OLD SATURDAY
Unpredictable St. Fred will host St. James and St. Rita is at Royal Oak. St. Joseph's at Northville. Saturday loop play will have Lady of the Lakes and North Plain playing at PNH and St. Benedict at St. Clement.

The Wayne-Oakland state will have Chaska at Northville. Helly vs. Milford, Bloomfield Hills at Clareville and Brighton against West Bloomfield.

Birmingham Schoolbus will visit Oak Park at the same time. The team will meet Texas star Ron Gaudin, who has done well on the Professional Bowler's Association tour.

Hence, the 300 Bowl staff member will have a shot at $20,000 in all tomorrow. Tour prize is $5,000, a 6th win on the night program will bring in another $1,000 and conversion of the big jackpot score would account for the final $14,000.

He brought home $1,850 last weekend by ranking 8th at Albany, N.Y. for $850 and continuing as sparemaster.

Lotus Adds 2nd Half Volley Ball Crown
Lotus Lake added the second-half crown to its first-half championship the easy way in the Waterford Township Recreation Department's volleyball league. Manager Norm Capistrano's Lakers won three games in the fourth round to drop a 25-15 Saginaw Valley team.

Runover Williams Lake swept three games from Highland Estates, 15-5, 15-5, 15-5. The other results: Comets blanked Scott Lake, 15-5, 15-5, 15-5; Union Street over St. James, 15-11, 14-18, 15-5; and Lake Oakland High over Pontiac Lake, 7-15, 15-7, 15-11.

Post-season playoffs begin next Tuesday night at Pierce Junior High.

Final second-half standings:
1. Highland Estates 11-1
2. Union Street 10-2
3. Scott Lake 9-3
4. Pontiac Lake 8-4
5. Saginaw Valley 7-5

12. Helly 0-12

Huskies to Host Farmington 5; Skippers Away

St. Fred and Avalon at Home; Kettering Goals on Road

By CHUCK ABRAHAM
Although still hindered by injuries and heavy underdog, Pontiac Northern will go into its home encounter with strong Farmington carrying up hope tonight.

The Huskies finally got their 1st Inter-Lakes triumph last week to leave lively Walled Lake alone 30-1 last place. They are certain to have their work cut out against the much bigger Falcons, Farmington won earlier by 10 points.

A victory for Coach Dick Hall's crew would throw the league into a struggle with Berkley's strong contender and Waterford hoping to stay alive.

The two top threats will tangle at Farmington 5, which is expected to be one of the top games on another big Friday schedule. Waterford will be seeking revenge for an earlier loss and a share of 2nd place in the battle at the Bear court.

Victory-strained Walled Lake will entertain Southfield.

Romeo will play its 1st of two games in as many nights as guests of Rochester in Tri-City action which will also have L'Amour, Creuse at Lapeer. The Bulldogs play this Saturday. Rochester will visit Eureka tonight.

Vikings, Parkers Win Central Wrestlers Lose

Walled Lake and Hazel Park continued their winning ways while Pontiac Central was losing in area wrestling action last night.

The Vikings whipped Berkey 27-17 in an Inter-Lakes match to make their overall record 6-2-1.

Central led 8-5 early but then bowed in six straight bouts to drop a 25-15 Saginaw Valley team.

Charley Bevers had his unbeaten record snapped by Wiley Vivrette, last year's loop and state champion, who has yet to lose. Wayne Leo had a draw with a former SVC and holiday tourney champion.

Powerful Hazel Park extended its season mark to 9-1 in a 4-5 wallop of Royal Oak Kimball.

Kaline-Tigers Bank Over Contract Terms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hard-hitting Al Kaline is having salary troubles with the Detroit Tigers.

Kaline held a salary conference with Vice President Rich Ferrell Thursday and the Detroit executive reported very little progress.

Kaline had 19 home runs and 82 runs batted in last season, and his .324 batting average made him runner-up for the American League batting crown to team mate Norm Cash, who also is balking at Ferrell's offer.

But while the stars were having their troubles, a flock of young stars, most of them rookies or minor leaguers, came to terms.

Among those inking 1962 contracts Thursday were: Detroit-catcher Mike Kourie, who hit .223 in 86 games with the Tigers last season.

Pittsburgh — Outfielder Larry Elliot and shortstop Dave Wiseman, Elliot, 24, hit .227 at Columbia in 1961.

Philadelphia — Pitcher Chris Short, the left-hander had a 6-12 record and 5.95 ERA with the Phillies in 1961.

New York Mets — Pitcher Bob Miller and Herb Moford, Miller was 1-3 at St. Louis and Moford was 1-2 at St. Louis.

San Francisco — Third baseman John Gory, and outfielder Bill Tomp and Lamar Jacob, all minor leaguers last season.

Milwaukee — Pitcher Ron Piche, who had a 2-2 record with the Braves and 14-7 at Vancouver.

PHILLY AND CELTS
Chamberlain's 53 Paces Hot Warriors; LA Streak Snapped

By The Associated Press
With Chamberlain and Co., more formally known as the Philadelphia Warriors, have a score to settle in Boston tonight.

This time, however, it isn't against their old nemesis, the Boston Celtics, but the Los Angeles Lakers, who have been the most successful team in the Valley since the Chiefs' upset victory last Friday, are looking for a repeat performance.

The Warriors play the Knicks in the first game of a double-header, New York is the only team owning a victory over the Warriors in their last nine contests, Philadelphia's most concerted drive to catch the leading Celtics, Boston leads by seven games.

Philadelphia, with Chamberlain scoring 33 points, cooled off Cincinnati 130-109 Thursday night, but failed to make any ground on Boston, which stopped Los Angeles 130-115 in College Park, Md.

A crowd of 13,000, one of the largest of the season, watched Boston use one of its patented scoring bursts to overwhelm the Lakers. Sam Jones struck for 16 points in nine minutes of the second quarter to Boston, outscored Los Angeles 42-24 and established a 66-48 halftime lead.

Chamberlain began to connect on his favorite fade away shot early in the second period against Cincinnati and the Warriors were off and running to a 9-45 halftime margin that stood up the rest of the way.

Stock Trading Is Active

Rally Continues Into 4th Day

NEW YORK — The stock market continued to push forward early today, continuing its current rally into the fourth straight session. Trading was active, but most of the day was narrow and a number of issues fell by the wayside, showing fractional losses.

Rails, steels, and most aircrafts were higher. Old edged upward on balance. Motors, for hacco and farm implements

Were mixed. Numerous metals were unchanged to lower.

General Dynamics, Boeing, Grumman and United Aircraft posted moderate gains. Republic Aviation, however, dropped about a point in heavy trading.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) continued active on news of its higher dividend but the price was unchanged. Texaco and Royal Dutch added fractions.

Bonds Remain Irregular

NEW YORK — The bond markets opened the final session of the week today in the irregular fashion that dominated the previous four sessions.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted upward on balance. Treasury 4 1/2% up a few 32nds but other issues held unchanged. Trading was light.

In corporate dealings on the New York Stock Exchange, rails were a little better and utilities were a bit flat. Few price movements

5-State Strike Apparently Over

Employees of Western Electric Due Back on Jobs Today

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Striking employees of the Western Electric Co. in a five-state area were due to report back for work today following the apparent collapse of a two-day walkout originating in Iowa.

Lack of support by international officials of the Communications Workers of America was cited as the reason for the strike being called off. Top union officials said the walkout had not been authorized.

Pickets from CWA Local 7290 were withdrawn Thursday from Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. installations in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, North and South Dakota.

The lock had 325 workers in 28 Iowa communities and they were called back to work.

Union officials said the strike was definitely off only in Iowa. A spokesman for CWA District 7 in Omaha said telephone installers in Nebraska and the Dakotas. A walkout of strikers during the strike in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Wheat, Corn Stocks Top January Record

LANSING, Mich. — The off-farm stocks of wheat and corn on the first of the year broke January records, says the Federal Reserve Crop Reporting Service.

There were 15 million bushels of wheat recorded as compared to 10 million a year ago.

Farm stocks of corn were the greatest on record. There were 22.5 million bushels of corn. Out of stocks of 976,000 bushels were 15 per cent greater than a year ago.

Treasury Position

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cash position of the Treasury compared with the end of 1961 was $1.2 billion better, the Treasury said today.

Means Much to Private Business

Varied Role for Stockpiles

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Government policies of stockpiling materials that might be needed in an emergency have played a stable and varied role in private business since World War II.

At all times the stockpile has afforded an increased market for a large number of commodities. Occasionally the stockpile has been tapped or acquisitions suspended to ease a critical shortage in civilian industry. Sometimes government buying has been used to maintain production when lack of civilian

Changes in stockpiling policies—rumors of impending changes—have at times upset commodity markets and affected prices of stocks of particular companies involved, either as producer or user.

The stockpile includes metals, rubber, oil, diamond, glass, iron ore, castor oil, fertilizers, quinoline, talc—name but a few.

It could be stepped up. The stockpile's role in private industry could be stepped up sharply as the result of President Kennedy's ordering of an inquiry into its size and procurement practices.

Some domestic producers would be affected if Congress orders a halt to further stockpiling. Overseas suppliers doubtless would complain loudly. U.S. government contractors are still in force to buy many materials which the President says the stockpile already has in excess. Some contracts run to 1965.

It happens the President calls excessive are put on the market, price disruption is a real threat, although the President promises to take action which will disrupt commodity prices.

Reducing the stockpile without affecting markets and prices will be a next trick for the Administration. It is a task that will be taken on by the President.

The President puts the present value of the stockpile at $7.1 billion. Experts say that is stated in current prices for the commodities stored, but the actual outlay was probably a billion more, since in many cases commodity prices are below their peaks.
