1,100 More Pontiac Motor Workers Idled by Strike

Some 1,100 additional Pontiac Motor Division workers were sent home at midnight last night as the strike of Fisher Body plant employees entered its third day without any apparent settlement in sight.

From 2,000 to 3,000 more Pontiac workers may be laid off the first of the week, a spokesman for the company said, as the result of the Fisher walkout Tuesday of 4,300 union members.

Kalamazoo Gas Dealers Drop Trading Stamps

KALAMAZOO—An end to trading stamps was announced here by gasoline dealers in the area. Dealers ran a full page ad in the Kalamazoo Gazette advising customers that they had discontinued trading stamps. The ad told customers an alternate to dropping stamps would be to increase gas prices or lower the service and they were opposed to both.

No Baloney: This Balloon Went Looney

One of Pontiac's Christmas parade balloons has just been reported from Pine Bank in Green county, Pennsylvania. This means the fragile little fellow traveled approximately 250 miles, granting that he followed a bee line course. Of course, if he were buffeted by the vagaries of cross winds, this may have been increased appreciably.

A note pops in, reading: "On Nov. 24, 1936, at 10 a.m. while hunting grouse on a hillside in Pine Bank, Green Co., Pa., which is 16 miles south-east of Waynesburg Pa., Fayette Co., I found your advertisement on these very branches. . . . James Gabeletto, Rd. 1, Mason-town, Pa., Fayette Co."

Expect Some Rain to Come Tonight

The U.S. Weather Bureau reports that tonight will be mostly cloudy with rain turning to sleet. Tonight's low will be 26-30. Tomorrow promises to be warmer with sleet or snow and a high of 36-40. The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 25 degrees.

28,000 Strike Hungary's Huge Steel Combine

Defy Red Tanks, Army; Demand Labor Leaders Release From Jail

BUDAPEST (P)—An estimated 28,000 workers in Hungary's biggest industrial complex—the huge Csepel iron and steel works south of Budapest—defied Russian tanks and troops today to stage a new sit-down strike.

About 80 per cent of the Csepel works' force of more than 36,000 joined thousands of workers in a dozen other Budapest factories in demanding that puppet Premier Janos Kadar's regime release the workers' two top labor leaders.

The workers reported to their plants but refused to produce.

At Budapest's biggest electrical products plant, the Bejolanis electric factory, 6,000 workers refused to man their machines in defiance of troops and police who had seized their plant.

Sandor Racz, chairman of the outlawed Budapest Central Workers' Council, and Sandor Bari, council vice chairman, were arrested yesterday after they had ordered a two-day general strike which paralyzed most of the country's industry and commerce Tuesday and Wednesday. Racz and Bari were employed at Bejolanis.

The Csepel protestors were defying Russian officers and troops as well as Hungarian Communist militia and police.

A Kadar government commission headed by two Soviet Army colonels marched into the huge works yesterday, declared the plants workers' council dissolved and took over. But it could not force the workers to produce.

A Csepel worker outside the plant's gates told Western reporters: "When they think they can arbitrarily arrest our leaders they have another think coming."

TANKS RING PLANTS

The Csepel complex was again ringed by Soviet tanks and armored cars. The workers said Russian officers and soldiers were inside the plant and posted at strategic points to support forces of armed Hungarian militia and police.

Vernon Grooms Dies When Car Overturns Near Kalamazoo

In a tragic ending to a trip to their Arkansas home town, a 20-year-old Pontiac man was killed and his 15-year-old wife seriously injured in an auto crash near Kalamazoo today.

Police said Vernon Grooms of 348 E. Beverly St., apparently lost control of his car four miles east of Kalamazoo on U.S. 12. It ran off the road, struck a signpost and overturned.

Grooms was dead on arrival at Kalamazoo's Bronson Hospital. His wife, Patsy, is in serious condition. The couple reportedly were on their way to Leachville, Ark., their home town.

Clyde Housewife Wins Award

MRS. CLYDE DEPUÉ

HOWARD FITZGERALD

Hits Pot-O-Gold for $925

A former Pontiac resident now living in Clyde put her puzzle-solving ability to work last week, and got take-home pay of $925 from The Pontiac Press bulging Pot-O-Gold yesterday.

Cracking the pot barrier over some 9,638 other entries, Mrs. Clyde DePue, 43, of 4922 Milford Rd., chose the correct 15 words in puzzle No. 27.

It came too late for her Christmas shopping lists, which when notified by telephone of his wife's good work.

He's been kidding me quite a bit about winning—I've never won anything before," Mrs. DePue said yesterday.

"I still can't believe the money is really mine!" Mrs. DePue has been working the puzzles for the last five or six weeks, she said, spurred on by the increasing size of the prize.

The last winner was accounting student Lawrence J. Daily, 21, of 1099 Berkeley St., who netted 1,225 for his work in October.

For Mrs. DePue's correct solution, turn to page 32. And for the current puzzle, see page 35.

Housekeeper Faces Charges

To Question Woman With 15 Aliases About $80,000 Swindle

A 63-year-old housekeeper who roused the suspicions of her Cleveland employers by wiping her fingerprints from coffee cups will be returned to Detroit today on tomorrow to face questioning about a reported $80,000 swindle in Northville.

The woman identified herself to Cleveland police as Elisabeth La Rue and later as Miss Betty Williams.

Police say she is Yvonne Chauvin, now charged with passing a bad check for $2,500 and suspected of large-scale confidence operations in Northville.

Police say Yvonne Chauvin, who has had 15 aliases and a police record dating to 1934, allegedly represented herself in Northville as an heiress in order to float an expanding network of loans.

One Northville man holds her L.O.U. for $10,000, and her chauffeur and housekeeper claim she owes them $1,600, police say.

Miss Williams, who said she will waive extradition proceedings from Ohio, will be returned to Michigan by State Police Det. Jack Woolley today or tomorrow.

Miss Williams was hired by Henry Young as a housekeeper two weeks ago. Young and his wife, Joan, live in Parma Heights, a Cleveland suburb.

The couple said their suspicions first were roused when Miss Williams came to work for them with only the clothes she wore and a toothbrush.

When they noticed her apparently absent-minded habit of wiping her fingerprints from dishes and glassware, they said, they called police.

5 Infants Suffocate

Make Grandmother's Gift Imaginative This Year

By JANET ODELL

Let's buy Grandmother a present today. And since she is no longer a doddering old lady who spends much of her time in a wheelchair, she'll want as smart a present as anyone.

Cater to her hobby if she has one. If she likes to paint figurines, you can get her some lovely ones all ready for the brush. Sheet copper is available in any quantity; get her some for copper tooling or some copper disks for jewelry. You might even buy her some semi-precious stones to set in rings.

Grandma will like a new pair of driving gloves. We saw some unusual ones with leather palms and cotton backs. Maybe she'd like a car coat for her numerous trips to club meetings and her voluntary jobs.

Grandmother is probably up to date in most things; but perhaps she had her ears pierced as a girl. We saw recently an entire collection of earrings for pierced ears.

When you have trouble reading the numbers in the telephone book—even if you hold it at arm's length—you appreciate a good reading glass. Grandmother will take comfort in the fact that her grandchildren will also enjoy looking through this magnifying glass when they come to visit; it won't be for her alone!

Of course Grandma is an excellent cook. She'll just love a small wooden bowl with a pestle for mixing salad dressings. There's a recipe printed on the side of the bowl. Or buy her an egg timer with a gong attached.

Through the years Grandmother is sure to have collected a lot of jewelry. Wouldn't she be pleased

Yellow Pages Make Sgt. Blue Look for Green

WINTHROP, Mass. (A)—"Find it fast in the yellow pages." That's the message inscribed on the Boston classified telephone directory.

But Army Sgt. Raol Reyes, 25, looked through 9,000 directories and couldn't find what he was looking for—$320 to be exact.

He had placed that amount for safekeeping in his 1936 "yellow pages" directory. In his absence yesterday his baby sister gave it to the telephone book distributor in exchange for a 1937 edition.

Reyes and six helpers went through 9,000 copies of the 1936 book in a Medford warehouse and couldn't find the money.

County Law Officers Defend Use of Unmarked Cars

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG
"The traffic violator doesn't have the right to gripe when he is caught by an unmarked police car," is the consensus of three major Oakland County Law enforcement agencies.

Justice. We are concerned with the protection of the public and nothing else."

Straley said that the unmarked patrol car has a psychological effect on the motorist who might tend to violate a traffic law.

"But I wouldn't divulge how many we have just as I wouldn't say how many machine guns or tear gas bombs we have," he said. "The unmarked car is our weapon to bring the chronic violator to work aside from their use for traffic safety.

"The city is divided into sections for the cars to patrol," he said. "When we find a rise in the number of offenders in a section we put more unmarked cars to work in that section. Their use always brings results."

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta said that his department uses one unmarked patrol car to nab speedsters.

"We don't use it all the time," said Van Atta, "but bring it out once in a while when we think it is needed."

Through the years Grandmother is sure to have collected a lot of jewelry. Wouldn't she be pleased

THEORY
"It improves on the theory of 'out of sight out of mind,'" he added. "When motorists see a lettered patrol car they automatically check their speed. But now even when they don't see one they drive a little more cautiously. They are aware that we are patrolling the roads with an unmarked car."

Chief Van Atta also has an answer for those who complain that the method is an unfair tactic.

"I have one question to ask motorists who claim that plain cars don't give them a sporting chance. Is killing over 2,000 people and injuring 60,000 in one year a sport? Those are the traffic statistics for Michigan in 1935."

"The only ones who gripe are the violators of the law," he added.

U.S. Weapons Will Not Include Nuclear Parts

Wilson Informs Allies That Devices Can Use Ordinary Ammo

PARIS (A)—The United States today promised to supply modern weapons, capable of firing atomic charges, to its NATO allies but made it clear that the United States will retain possession of the atomic warheads.

A U. S. source said the new weapons to be made available have "dual capacity," meaning that they can fire either conventional or nuclear explosives.

He said that because of the U.S. law prohibiting transfer of military atomic elements to foreign countries, only the conventional explosives would be furnished to allies of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The U. S. promise came in a 15-minute report by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson in answer to requests from European NATO members for tactical atomic weapons. Wilson spoke at a closed session of the Ministerial Council of the 15-nation alliance.

The session also named Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, a middle-of-the-road socialist, as its new secretary general. Spaak, one of the leading workers for a united Europe, succeeds Lord Ismay of Britain, Ismay retires in April after holding the post for five years.

Wilson said that in addition to the delivery of new and modern arms—whose nature he did not specify—the United States would assist those allies who are willing and able to develop their own modern weapon systems.

He said America is prepared to make available promptly "certain items" of modern weapons and equipment, along with the technical data to help the development and production of such arms.

A high NATO source was asked if this meant the United States is prepared to help European countries produce their own atomic weapons. The informant said he could not answer that question now so beyond what Wilson had said.

The United States' European allies have expressed their mounting desires to transform their armed forces in line with the real (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Set City Share for 2 Projects

$750,000 to Be Paid for Widening of Perry, Grade Separation

The city's share of the completion of the Orchard Lake-Telegraph road grade separation project and the widening of Perry street will near $750,000, City Manager Walter K. Willman said this morning. The separation project will cost the city about $412,000 to complete, while the Perry widening will cost $330,000. The city has paid $59,000 toward the separation, Willman said.

He emphasized that the expenditures will have no effect on the city's tax rate, budget, or capital improvement program.

Payments are made from the receipts of the city's share of state gas and weight taxes, he said. "We're prepared to meet these costs for we knew they were coming," Willman explained.

In Lansing yesterday to learn the estimates on the projects, Willman was told that the Orchard Lake job might have bids let for its completion in spring. Bids on the Perry widening might be taken next summer, he said.

8 SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

Alleged Forger Back in State

Joseph R. Freer, 25, Being Held in County for Investigation

A West Bloomfield Township man who reportedly cashed forged checks valued at $2,000 in Pontiac stores and banks last summer was returned here from Minneapolis late Thursday night.

Joseph R. Freer, 25, of 240 Cass Lake Rd., was lodged in the Oakland County Jail following his arrest by Undersheriff Elmer McQuinn. McQuinn brought the fugitive back from Minnesota where he was being held on a warrant from the local Sheriff Department.

A former bookkeeper for the Newmyer-Carlson Construction Co. in Ashland Heights, Freer disappeared from this area last June after the alleged check cashing spree.

He was being sought on an uttering and publishing charge involving the reported cashing of a false $342 check and also for violation of the parole.

Oakland County detectives Leo Hazen and Harry Maur found 14 checks totaling $2,000 during an investigation after the first reported forgery. At the time, company officials estimated the total value of the forged checks might reach from $500 to $10,000 since they had found 44 of their blank checks missing. All recovered checks were standard company forms.

Approves Site for New School

Junior High for 1960 to Be Constructed on 25 North Side Acres

Purchase of a 25-acre site at the city limits for a future junior high school was approved last night by the Board of Education.

The site, costing a total of $62,500, is improved and has water and sewer facilities. It is on the east side of Baldwin Avenue.

The school administration has been negotiating for a site in the north side since last June.

On it will be constructed one of two new junior high schools called for by the Board's 10-year, $20 million building program to provide for the rapidly growing school population.

Construction is scheduled for 1960.

The administration is continuing to negotiate for an elementary school site in the south end of the city. Assistant Superintendent of Schools Dr. Otto C. Hufziger said.

Schools Superintendent Dr. Dana P. Whitmer reported last night on a trend by which state aid to schools is being directed more and more to rural areas at the expense of urban areas, such as Pontiac.

The Board agreed to seek a meeting next week with State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson and newly-elected State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge to discuss possible legislative action.

No action was taken last night on the parking problem at the senior high school.

Dr. Hufziger said the City Planning Commission has agreed to consider the situation.

Driver Slightly Hurt

A driver who turned left from a parked position on West Huron street yesterday afternoon suffered minor injuries, Pontiac police said, when struck by another car.

Robert W. Fawcett, 68, of 23 Porter St., admitted he pulled away from the curb to turn left on Pine street when eastbound traffic in the outer lane had stopped, police said.

Fawcett's car was hit by one driven by Henry N. McNab, 20, of 508 Lakeview Rd., eastbound in the inside lane.

Fawcett was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

Wait Decision of Trial Board

Police Officers Group Hopes for Meeting Date to Discuss Controversy

The Pontiac Police Trial Board will decide next week, a Police Officers Assn. member said today, when and if to meet with a committee of policemen to discuss their recommendations.

Committee secretary James L. Carr, said board secretary James J. McCarthy agreed last night to make known the board's decision after a board meeting Tuesday.

McCarthy said the board could not consider a meeting with police Tuesday because of an organizational meeting that night. Police had asked for the meeting next Tuesday after they voted Wednesday to seek civil service to replace the present trial board authority.

The association claims the board has refused to meet to consider police proposals for rules of procedure and discipline.

DENIED BY BOARD

The board has denied this, and announced a meeting would be considered only after two additional members were appointed to the five-man board. The appointments were announced this week.

The board also has denied police officers' criticism of undue influence by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, and that it operates without fixed rules.

The police officers voted to place on the April city ballot proposals which would amend the trial board section of the City Charter and set up a code uniting police and firemen under state civil service laws.

Flats for 11 new subdivisions in the county were recorded in November.

Majestic Unfolding of The Nativity to Be Recounted in Christmas Series

"... Unto Us a Child is Born"—a deeply moving series of eight stories on the background and the people vital to the first Christmas—begins Monday in The Pontiac Press.

George Cornell, religion writer for The Associated Press, sketches the story of Christmas from the words of forewarning written by the prophets one thousand years before the Nativity right down to the present when its mark can be found indelibly imprinted throughout the world.

"... Unto Us a Child is Born" tells the story of the dark and cult-haunted days before the Coming, and of the people before and after who played central parts in the great drama—the ulcerous Herod, Joseph, Mary, Jesus as a boy, John the Baptist. The series will conclude Dec. 22 with a summing up of the tremendous religious and historical legacy of that first Christmas.

Each of the stories will be illustrated with a drawing by Guy Rowe, one of the nation's most sensitive religious artists. A fellow of the Royal Society of Arts in London, Rowe has made a lasting contribution to religious art in this country with his interpretations of Old Testament figures in the prize-winning book, "In Our Image."

He also has drawn countless character studies for the cover of Time Magazine and only last spring collaborated with Cornell in producing a series of Easter stories for newspapers which won high praise.

Rowe has developed an unusual technique for his drawings. He works on transparent acetate, using grease crayons and pencil for his rich blacks and subtle shades. With an etching knife, he cuts into the blacks removing color for fine highlights. When satisfied with the effect, he turns the picture around and mounts the picture so that it is viewed with the smooth side forward.

The events, facts, characters and chronology recounted in Cornell's articles were taken from Biblical or historical sources.

In some of them, descriptions of physical settings and emotional reactions—although in keeping with the participants and the circumstances affecting them—have been elaborated to give the accounts fuller dimensions.

Unmarked Cars Defended by Officers tests that the department's tactics don't give the motorist a chance.

The unmarked cars are used in a program started two months ago to nab violators of the school bus law. Irons said: "We have been using two unmarked cars each morning to follow the school buses. Most of the time we just warn the violators and explain the law to them."

Deputy Stephen Navarre, director of safety, said that the main purpose of the campaign is to educate the motorist.

"We found that most people are not familiar with the law that requires the driver to stop behind a school bus when it stops," said Navarre.

"But that is not the whole problem. The driver may proceed cautiously around the bus under ten miles - per - hour after he has stopped."

"The trouble starts when traffic piles up behind a bus and motorists angrily pull out into the road because someone up front won't go ahead."

Survey Police on Check Frauds Fastest Growing Crime to Get National Analysis

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — Check fraud — believed to be the country's fastest-growing form of crime — will soon be studied intensively in a nationwide survey of police officials.

The study will cover 1,300 police departments in cities and towns of more than 10,000 population. Questionnaires, now being prepared with the aid of police officials, will be mailed in January.

The survey is being undertaken by The Todd Co., Inc., of Rochester, N. Y., a subsidiary of the Burroughs Corp. of Detroit, and a leading manufacturer of protected, insured checks and protective equipment.

The survey will seek up-to-date information on such questions as the types of businesses most often victimized by forgers and other check artists, the relative number of men, women, and juvenile check crooks; percentage of professional crooks as against amateurs, and the degree of cooperation obtained from merchants by police.

Information obtained in the survey will be used by The Todd Co. in its research into fraud-preventing checks and machines. It will also be put at the disposal of law enforcement agencies, civic groups and business associations to help protect the public, which is victimized to the extent of nearly 500 million dollars a year through this form of crime.

A similar study in 1954 covered 98 police departments, in cities of 40,000-and-up population. It indicated that check fraud was rapidly becoming America's No. 1 crime, easily the most profitable.

and by far one of the most frequent.

Check crime in the 98 cities surveyed increased an average of 5 per cent in one year. The study also indicated that with national check volume reaching new peaks there was no corresponding increase in check handling precautions by the public.

According to George W. Adlam, consultant to The Todd Check Fraud Laboratory, "This second survey is being undertaken because, apart from our 1954 study, check fraud statistics are not available anywhere — not even in the yearly F.B.I. report. Law enforcement and business groups continually request the results of our original survey for use in alerting the public against this costly menace. Now, new information is needed."

Third Avenue in New York City, a gloomy, dark street before the elevated railway was recently torn down, now has fluorescent lights which make it 40 times brighter than moonlight.

Survives 3,000-1 Odds, Small Baby in Home

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Beth Regina Myers, now 13-weeks-old and a hearty 5 pounds and 8 ounces, has gone home from Bronson Hospital.

As babies go, Beth Regina still is a little tyke. But she's a whopper for now compared with the 2 pounds 1 ounce she weighed at birth.

Doctors figured her chances at first were only one in 3,000, but she thrived in an incubator.

She is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Myers of Kalamazoo.

Diphtheria Toll at 162

DETROIT (AP) — One new case of diphtheria was reported yesterday, bringing the city's case count for the year to 162. Five cases have been fatal.

Uranium Oxide Production Up

More Than Double Rate in U.S. in Single Year, AEC Announces

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) reported today that the rate of U.S. uranium oxide production has doubled in less than a year.

This was the first release of such information, in line with a new policy announced last night with the aim of speeding development of peaceful atomic power.

U.S. mills currently are producing at an annual rate of more than 8,000 tons of uranium oxide, compared with 4,000 tons at the beginning of the year, the AEC said.

Uranium oxide is a concentrate that may be refined into metal for nuclear reactors or into chemicals for gaseous diffusion plants.

The United States, Britain and Canada said last night they will release much information on nuclear power techniques and resources heretofore kept from the public. AEC said in explanation that the world is "on the threshold of practical atomic power development."

Today's report on uranium oxide output was accompanied by an estimate that the United States had 60 million tons of uranium ore reserves as of Nov. 1.

Of these reserves, 68.4 per cent were in New Mexico, Utah has 12.5 per cent, Colorado 6.8, Arizona 4.3, Wyoming 3.8, Washington 2.5 and all other states 1.7.

The information was given out simultaneously with an estimate in Ottawa that Canada has 225 million tons of known reserves of the ore.

"Extensive private drilling during 1956, almost twice that of any previous year, greatly increased ore reserves," AEC said. "This was particularly true in the Ambrosia Lake area of New Mexico where large reserves were proved on lands previously classified as potentially ore bearing."

MSU's Policewoman to Instruct Coeds

EAST LANSING (AP)—A tall, blue-eyed blond has been added to the campus police force at Michigan State University.

She is six-foot Shirley Lazrecki, a graduate of MSU's school of police administration. Although she carries a gun, she says her main job will be educating coeds not to leave their valuables in obvious places.

"Girls seem to have just five hiding places — jewelry box, top, second or third dresser drawer or the desk drawer," Officer Lazrecki said. "It makes it awfully easy to steal."

Mexico's Insurance Up

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The growth of Mexico's economy has tripled insurance business in five years.

The National Insurance Commission says total premiums paid in 1955 amounted to $86,600,000 U.S. compared with $30,800,000 in 1950.

CARTOONIST HONORED — Al Vermeer, left, noted NEA cartoonist who created the popular comic "Priscilla's Pop," receives from Maj. Gen. George C. Stewart the plaque of the 1956 National Safety Council Public Interest Award. Through his comic strip, Vermeer organized "Priscilla's Safety Club" through which nearly 50,000 children throughout the United States and Canada competed for prizes for the best traffic safety slogan. The award, presented in San Francisco, cited Vermeer for "bringing safety to the youngsters of America in a way they could enjoy, remember and willingly accept."

Ishibashi May Be Prime Minister Shortly Economist to Japan's Presidency

Once he gains the prime ministry, Ishibashi is expected to seek a rapid expansion of Japan's trade with Communist China. Recently he announced his Ministry of International Trade was seeking special permits to sell the Red items barred by the Western embargo on strategic materials. Critics claim Ishibashi is an "inflationist" and may upset the conservative, deflationary policies followed by the Hatoyama Cabinet. He favors heavy government investment and public works regardless of whether the budget is balanced.

Ishibashi was the son of a Buddhist priest. He studied Western philosophy at Waseda University, became a newspaperman, and for years before the end of World War II headed the company which publishes the Oriental Economist, a leading Japanese publication in the field.

His brief political career has been stormy. He entered politics as finance minister in the first postwar cabinet in 1946. The allied commander, MacArthur, had him removed from office in 1947 on charges of "ultranationalistic activities" in connection with wartime writings in the Oriental Economist. His backers contend he was ousted because he disagreed with Allied economic policies.

Returning later to politics, he was elected to the Diet and openly disagreed with his own Liberal party, headed by then-Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida. The party kicked him out twice. The second time he switched to Hatoyama's Democratic party.

When the Liberals and Democrats merged and Hatoyama became prime minister in 1954, Ishibashi entered the Cabinet again. Although only a year younger than Hatoyama, Ishibashi appears much more youthful and robust. The present Prime Minister has been in poor health for years.

PAC Endorses Two Wayne County Men

DETROIT (AP)—The Political Action Committee (PAC) of the Wayne County CIO Council has endorsed two of the six Wayne County Judges appointed by Gov. Williams earlier this month.

The 92-man committee failed to take action on the other four at last night's meeting.

Alex Barbour, Council Secretary-Treasurer and a PAC-man, said, "We simply need more time to analyze the political situation and potential opposition to the appointees."

All six Williams' appointees must face elections in the spring to serve out the balance of their terms.

The two the PAC voted to support are Elvin Davenport for Common Pleas Judge and Ernest Boehm for Probate Judge. Still without endorsement are Horace W. Gilmore, Joseph Rashid, Victor J. Baum and George E. Bowles. All were appointed to circuit judgeships.

Takes Wrong Route: Jail Not North Pole

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—When Matthew J. Stina, 50, was discharged as a department store Santa, he told youngsters "sorry, kiddies, but Santa has to go back to the North Pole."

City detective Tom Morris said that instead of heading for the pole, the ex-Santa strolled through another store and shoplifted a musical clock. Morris charged Stina with petty larceny.

Ford Foundation Unit to Merge With FAE

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ford Foundation says its activities in the field of education and those of the Fund for the Advancement of Education will be combined after Jan. 1.

Henry T. Heald, foundation president, said the program for the immediate future would stress means to "increase the supply and improve the utilization of superior teachers." He termed this "the most urgent need in education today."

Clarence H. Faust, president of the fund, will become a vice president of the foundation. He also will continue as president of the fund during the expenditure of the remainder of 25 million dollars granted by the foundation to the fund in 1954.

William McPeak, vice president of the foundation in charge of educational, behavioral science and the humanities programs, will continue in the last two capacities and undertake development of new foundation programs.

Texas Bank Robbery Nets Thug $25,000

SOUR LANE, Tex. (AP)—A dark, 200-pound man ended a business conference yesterday with E. A. Luce, president of the Sour Lane State Bank, by showing a pistol at him and robbing the bank of $25,211.

Luce said the man had been around Sour Lane two or three days using the name "Rankin." He came into the bank just before closing time and talked for an hour about plans to build a canning factory.

Suddenly he pulled the gun and forced five employees to lie on the floor while Luce complied with his orders to gather up all the small denomination bills from the tellers' cages. Then he herded everyone into the vault.

Police threw up roadblocks in a wide area of east Texas.

Hungarian Revolt Is Close Second Editors Rate Suez Crisis Top News Story of Year

NEW YORK (INS) — The Suez crisis topped by the Israeli and Anglo-French invasions of Egypt ranked as the biggest story of 1956 in the opinion of International News Service editors.

Close behind the voting by the INS editors to select "the 10 biggest stories" of the year was the bloody and bitter Hungarian revolution which climaxed months of unrest in the Soviet European satellites.

The other stories receiving top billing for 1956 were, in order:

Russia's "do - Stalinization" program, which was launched in February with a speech by Communist Party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, attacking Stalin and which continues to have repercussions throughout the Communist world.

The Andrea Doria-Stockholm collision at sea the night of July 25-26 in which 50 persons died, but thousands were saved in one of history's greatest marine rescue operations.

LIKE CAMPAIGN RATED FIFTH

The presidential campaign and national elections, with the re-election of Eisenhower and the election of a Democratic Congress. President Eisenhower's health, his decision on Feb. 29 to run again, and his leisure operation in June.

The continuing controversy over integration of public schools in the South, including the Clinton, Tenn.; Clay and Sturgis, Ky. incidents.

The wedding of actress Grace Kelly to Prince Rainier of Monaco in Monte Carlo in April.

The collision in flight of the TWA and UAL airliners over the Grand Canyon on June 30 which killed 128 persons.

The "death march" at Parris Island, S. C., in which six Marine recruits died on April 8 and the subsequent trial of Sgt. Matthew McKeon, who led the fatal night march.

Scattered votes also were given by INS editors to Don Larsen's "perfect" world series game; the Polish "bread and freedom" riots in Poznan; the Olympics; the Weinberger baby kidnap-murder; the exchange of messages between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, and developments in the earth satellite program.

Asks Fast Hungary Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover has urged Americans to give "freely and quickly" to Hungarian refugee relief. Hoover is honorary chairman of First Aid for Hungary, Inc., which is collecting money and clothing for refugees escaping into Austria.

Charlene Wharton Tells of Trip to South America

Oakland County Social Workers Hear About Journey at Yule Meeting

Members of the Oakland County Branch of the National Association of Social Workers heard one of their own members relate events of a 34-day trip to South America at the annual Christmas meeting Thursday.

Speaker for the gathering at Kingsley Inn was Charlene Wharton, graduate of the University of Colorado and the School of Social Work in Atlanta. At present she is with Oakland County Family Service in the Royal Oak office.

As a social worker, Miss Wharton's work has taken her to Europe and throughout the Far East. It was while in Manila 10 years ago that she planned the trip taken this year to South America.

Flying from Canada to Mexico as the first part of the journey, the traveler later visited in 17 countries. She told of the progressiveness of Guatemala — of the modern, beautiful buildings in Argentina.

She also noted the unrest, the tenseness of the people in Argentina. However, they were celebrating their independence with fireworks and parades.

REAL EXPERIENCE
Entering Brazil, she said, is a experience. If you enter with no friends, you leave with many. People here are the friendliest of all. Miss Wharton said, and her position as social worker was well accepted.

In Central America social workers are not so well accepted, she said, as the term has a different meaning to the people. They believe it to have something to do with communism.

Miss Wharton spoke of the inflation in Chile, saying that the value of money changes every day.

An interesting note was the slum housing projects in these countries, where residents must take training courses teaching them to live in and care for good buildings.

The speaker visited libraries (most were inadequate), museums, ruins, palaces and parks. A great deal of attention is paid to parks, she noted.

Allan Copley and Mrs. Mary Mulvey were in charge of the program.

Job's Daughters Hold Election of New Officers

Patricia Lawrence was elected honored queen at the recent meeting of Job's Daughters Bethel 40.

Serving with her are Andrea Roberts, senior princess; Marilyn Vernon, junior princess; Kim Nixon, guide; Doreen Santala, marshal; Rita Lester, recorder; and Thelma Leitch, treasurer.

Others elected were Zelma Leitch, librarian; Barbara Mitchell, chaplain; Nancy Cunningham, musician; Penny Hanson, senior custodian; Claudia Lessel, junior custodian; Sharon Smith, inner guard; and Sandy Smith, outer guard.

Serving as messengers are Carol Crosson, Judy Ross, Marion Tucker, Judy Johnson and Christine Knisel.

Luncheon Attended by Pioneer Sisters

Mrs. Harry Stowell was hostess to members and guests of the Pioneer Sisters in her home on Elizabeth Lake road Wednesday for a cooperative luncheon.

Devotions were given by Mrs. L. R. Rubey who used "The Christmas Story" as her subject. Following the brief business meeting members enjoyed a Christmas party and gift exchange.

Mrs. C. L. Clough invited the group to her home on Glenwood avenue for the February meeting.

Paris Loves Garb Made of Leather

PARIS (INS) — Leather clothes are the craze of fashionable Parisiennes. Since Dior has shown leather blouses with elegant suits, animal hide has now even entered drawing rooms and chic restaurants.

For the winter season smart women in Paris consider a black suede coat as the most practical style in leather. It can be worn over sweater and tweeds during the day and with a mink neckpiece and a diamond clip in the evening.

Seven pages today in Women's Section

For spring, new colors in leather will be fashionable in Paris. Dutch leather expert "Vico," who also exports to the United States, has just revealed his color-palette for spring in Paris.

For the chic, all-purpose leather jacket he proposes a new camel hair color to be worn with a camel hair skirt. It looks best in a suede finish.

Another spring classic will be a navy blue leather jacket or coat. The smartest Vico model is of shiny navy blue leather with saddle-stitch trimming.

New fancy leather colors include "jungle green" for sports and country wear and an "old rose" shade for the city and seaside. Several leather garments are in orange hues, such as coral and shrimp.

Vico's new spring styles closely follow the latest Paris trend. Raglan shoulders, cuffed breast and hip pockets and wide half-belts give classic leather garments a modish 1957 look.

Gold Star Mothers Hold Dinner Party

Mrs. Mary Hawks and Mrs. Lewis Young led the Christmas carol songfest at the dinner party held Wednesday evening by American Gold Star Mothers, Chapter Nine. Husbands were guests at the Christmas affair held at the American Legion Home.

Mrs. Joe Doyle invited the group to meet in her home on Oakwood drive Dec. 19 for an all day meeting.

Shown as they arrived at Hotel Waldron Wednesday evening for the buffet supper given by the Oakland Chapter, National Society of Professional Engineers, are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moe of Farmington.

Margaret Sullivan Mum About Her Acting Future

NEW YORK (INS) — Actress Margaret Sullivan, "in great shape" again after a mysterious disappearance two months ago, won't say if she plans to return to acting.

The actress, who vanished on the eve of a TV performance Oct. 8 and was later located in a rest home, refused to talk to the press after her attorney announced that she was completely restored to health.

Her husband, British businessman Kenneth Wagg, likewise played mum, but their attorney, H. William Fitelson, declared that Miss Sullivan "is in great shape and back in circulation."

"She's gone to the theater, visited with close friends—she's been all around town," Fitelson declared.

He added that Miss Sullivan "had a grand time" in her New York City outings, and denied that the sale of her Greenwich, Conn., home had any significance in reported marital difficulties between the actress and Wagg.

"Miss Sullivan and her husband have no domestic problems of any kind," Fitelson said.

Sale of the Greenwich house, and a scheduled auction today and Saturday of all the house furnishings merely means, Fitelson emphasized, that the actress and her husband "are just going to provide themselves with new surroundings."

Everything in Miss Sullivan's home, from a grand piano to a Matisse painting, are up for sale in a Greenwich store.

The actress is still living in the house until the new owners take possession, but "is not home" to telephone calls, she and her husband also have a New York Riverside drive apartment, but are not taking calls either there or at Wagg's New York office.

Fitelson, after disclosing Miss Sullivan's return to health, would not say if she will return to TV or theater work. The attorney said he was not prepared to answer whether the famed actress will resume her career.

The Games home was decorated in the Christmas theme with a red silk and lace umbrella belonging to Mrs. Luttrell centered in the floral arrangement on the tea table. Mrs. Luttrell and Mrs. Leon J. Forsyth presided at the tea service.

Detergents, Soap Won't Harm Hands

CHICAGO (U) — Fear of developing a severe case of "housewife's hands" should be no excuse for ducking a bout with the dishpan or washing machine, a team of medical investigators report.

They said tests on more than 200 women indicated that a strong laundry detergent and an all-purpose soap powder tested caused no ill effects, either on normal skin of among persons suffering from various skin disorders.

They displayed an exhibit of their study at the 15th annual meeting of the American Academy of Dermatology and Syphilology.

The investigators, Drs. Raymond R. Suskind, Samuel R. Scheen and Morris Meister of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, said that "commonly used household soaps and synthetic detergent products do not appear to sensitize the skin allergically."

They said the trouble in some women may be caused by other chemicals or solvents with which the housewives come into daily contact. Chronic bacterial or fungal infection of even the "tensions and stress of social environment."

About 75 gallons of water are used to make one pound of rayon.

From the new resort wear collection comes the linen sheath in pale colors. Sheath has string shoulder straps and empire line, created by band of matching satin. Jacket has collar, cuffs and buttons in the satin.

Fashion Hint

Few things look hotter than straggly hair. Short hair, chignons and hair pulled on top of the head and off the neck always look cool, but most important is a clean, well-brushed look. Oily hair makes one look hot.

What Causes That Tired Feeling?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(Friday's Question Box)

Q. "If a person is too tired to get up in the morning and too exhausted to do any heavy housework, and after being examined there isn't any organic trouble, to what would you attribute this tired feeling?"

A. Low blood pressure is often the reason, but if you have had a physical checkup evidently this is not the cause of your trouble.

Your fatigue may be psychosomatic in nature. Nothing is so tiring as boredom. Do you have enough active interests in your life? If not, add some to your daily routine.

Malnutrition is also sometimes the culprit. Be sure that you eat a well-balanced diet and perhaps your doctor will prescribe vitamins for you.

Q. "Please tell me if having eyebrows dyed will injure the eyes."

A. Many women have their brows dyed. However, you should be sure to have an allergy test first. If you are allergic to the dye this can be most serious and dangerous.

Q. "I am 16 years old and am 4 feet 9 inches tall. My measurements are: Bust 32, waist 25, and hips 32 inches. I do not know what I weigh. Will you please tell me how much I should weigh?"

"My mother will not let me eat breakfast over the weekend. She says I will gain weight. Is she right?"

A. Your ideal weight depends partly on your bone structure.

However, I would guess that you should weigh around 100 pounds.

Evidently your mother feels that you are overweight but going without breakfast is not the way for you to lose. You badly need the foods you get at breakfast, such as whole grain cereal, eggs, and fruit and milk. Watch your diet by leaving off the extras, rich desserts and chocolate sundaes and so forth.

Q. "Will you tell me if there is any special way to put my lipstick on which will make me look my age? I am 16 and just started using lipstick. My brothers tell me that I look about 18 when I wear it."

"They say the reason it makes me look older is because I am so short. Does lipstick make short people look older? I don't know whether or not I should go on using it if it makes me look older than I am."

A. Being short has nothing to do with it. It probably makes you seem older simply because children do not use lipstick. Perhaps you are using a shade which is too dark and not natural looking. Try one of the lovely light pinks and be sure to follow the natural outline of your lips.

Tomorrow: "Daily Bath Essential Now as in Summer."

Gardeners to Hold Greens Workshop

A Greens Workshop will be held Friday at the home of Mrs. Vivian Tubbs on Tubbs road by members of the Dirt Gardeners Club. Plans were completed for the workshop at the recent meeting of the group.

Mrs. Charles Furier opened her home on Westlawn drive for the cooperative luncheon and gift exchange. Plans were also completed for a basket the group will give to a needy family at Christmas.

Nothing is so tiring as boredom.

Soap and Water is Best for Blemished Teenagers

ATLANTA (INS) — Soap and water is still the best cleansing product for a teenager with a blemished skin, according to one makeup expert.

Miss Susan Stringer, special representative for a large cosmetic manufacturer, says:

"Soap and water cleansing is definitely recommended for the removal of surface oil."

For stimulation of circulation and healing, however, she suggests cosmetics.

The attractive, gray-haired consultant points out:

"The right type of mask will help to stimulate surface circulation and throw off whatever may be clogging the pores."

MEDICATED LOTION

Mrs. Stringer recommends the use of a medicated lotion as "very essential to the healing process" and says that in many cases the lotion can be used as a powder base "to conceal and soothe the affected areas."

She does not feel that teenagers should use foundation makeup unless it is necessary to conceal the blemishes.

In such a case she suggests the use of "a foundation that will not clog the pores or interfere with the normal function of the skin."

Her most emphatic statement in regard to dealing with blemishes, however, is:

"Never pick on them. Your fingernails can inflict untold damage on your skin."

Put Feet Forward in Best Condition

You can't put your best foot forward if it's covered with corns and calluses. The best time to get at them is after your bath, when they are still soft from soaking.

Rub on a coating of soap, then stroke lightly with a pumice stone. Follow this routine regularly to put yourself on a comfortable footing.

Don't Act Foolish at Office Party

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Nothing is so calculated to spoil your holiday, let alone jeopardize your job or your husband's job, as foolish behavior at an office party.

Why this practice continues is beyond me, but it looks as if the office party has become an American institution, and is here to stay.

Men, it seems to me, cope with it much better than women do. Or maybe it's just that the sight of a woman making a fool of herself is more distressing.

At any rate, here are some pointers for women, based on years of first-hand experience with the pitfalls of office Christmas parties. If you're a wife and are invited to the office party, don't go. Plead babysitting, gift-wrapping or anything, but don't go.

You won't speak their language, you'll be tempted to have too many drinks, you might get too confidential about your hubby to his boss or his secretary and, most of all, you won't have any fun. Office parties are almost invariably dreadfully boring.

IF YOU MUST GO

If you're a career girl, you'll probably have to go or at least show up for a time. Keep the following points in mind:

1. Don't overdress.

Don't come in the morning of the party with dangling earrings, bracelets, a Christmas corsage and a low-cut cocktail dress.

It doesn't make you look festive. It makes you look as if this is probably the only party you'll be invited to.

Wear what you would wear on any working day.

2. Don't stay longer than an hour, whatever happens.

LOYAL EMPLOYEE

That's probably as long as the top brass will stay, so you'll get credit for being a cooperative and loyal employee. If you stay longer, you'll run the risk of making a fool of yourself.

Even if you manage to be sensible, you'll see others making fools of themselves. And when they come to, they'll have a funny feeling which will make them uncomfortable with you—maybe forever.

3. Don't stay with one group.

Use your hour to move around and meet the people in the other departments.

Too often in a business organization you don't get a chance to meet people face to face, although you work with them on the phone or through office memos.

MAKE OVER PAGES

Get a chance to see Miss Blank in accounting. You might even make some new friends.

LEAVE PROMPTLY

4. Go when you say you're going to go.

I've known girls to spend two hours leaving a party, because they just had to have one more word with this one or that one.

If you haven't the will power needed, get somebody to pick you up—husband, cousin or grandmother, it doesn't matter.

But be sure you leave at the end of the hour. It'll prevent a lot of regrets.

Green Bedroom Decorative Tip

LOS ANGELES (INS)—If green is the theme of your bedroom, carry out this color combination in your accessories.

Green glass ornaments—colorful but not gaudy in their bottle green hue—make the perfect match to combine with green bedspreads and green drapes.

If you use solid green for your spread and drapes, use green as an accent color only in the wall-paper. Natural like grey or tan are best for the dominant color to avoid over-bright decor.

London will have a memorial to Lord Baden-Powell in the form of a center for visiting Boy Scouts.

The drapable stole is in the soft, shadowy natural brown mutation mink, a fur that adapts itself to day or evening fashions. It has long tapered ends and a graceful standing collar.

Fashionable Cocktail Coat Smart for Any Occasion

PARIS (INS)—The cocktail coat, according to Paris fashion stylist Pierre Cardin, is running heavy competition to the cocktail dress.

The young designer, who started his career in Dior's workshop, said that many of his clients are ordering a new dressy coat in preference to a cocktail dress this season. And the explanation is simple.

"When you go to one of those 'drop-in' cocktail parties you often leave your coat on. At a restaurant and at the theatre women want to make a noticed entrance," Cardin said.

"In wearing a strongly colored silk, satin or velvet evening coat you will be remarked at once as an elegant woman, even if you wear last year's cocktail dress or a plain black sheath underneath," he explained.

IDEAL FOR BISTRO

It is also fashionable in Paris after a cocktail party or the theater to go to a little "bistro" for supper. Here again a showy, décolleté dress is out of place, and in taking off the glamor coat she wore for the previous occasion, a woman will feel better in a simple dress.

Cardin makes his new 1957 evening coats in silk or satin. And he uses the same fabric for the lining so the coat is the same shade and same material inside and out.

"You can carry such a coat over the arm and it will look as if you had a stole," he said.

The loveliest cocktail coat in Cardin's collection is a flame-red satin coat cut in a Princess style with a semi-fitted front. It has a Chinese stand-up collar and is buttoned with five ball buttons covered with silky black braid. The same flame-red satin is used for the lining. The designer shows it worn over a simple black sheath in Empire style and with a low-cut décolleté.

Another cocktail coat is made of turquoise silk and cut full to look almost like an egg-shaped cape. Cardin uses salmon colored satin for another cocktail coat while a third one is made of a mixture of silk and wool with a silvery finish. All these dressy coats have sleeves of three-quarter length.

By wearing such a coat, complete with a dressy hat and elegant long gloves, a lady is ready for any fashionable cocktail party, dinner in a restaurant or an evening at the theater.

A lively, vivacious personality is required for those who favor velveteen hostess pants. The hostess pajama is a more ladylike approach.

For holiday at-home entertainment wear, the gay, vivacious type is best in velveteen pants with ruffled bib shirt for the feminine touch. More gentle, easier to wear at every age is the hostess pajama.

Bicycles Always Win Youngsters' Hearts

Traditional Christmas gifts for boys are electric trains and bicycles, time-worn ideas, but like dolls for girls they are always sure-fire hits.

More than a million boys and girls find shiny new bikes under their Christmas trees every year. Nowadays too, just as girls get a new wardrobe for a favorite doll at Christmas, a boy who owns a bicycle is likely to find brand new accessories for it under the tree.

There is an enormous assortment of bicycle accessories available including a dozen different types of warning devices, colored tires, saddle bags, luggage carriers, plastic and wire baskets, speedometers and built-in locks.

Special snow tires are made for the youngster who uses his bike to get to school in winter months.

CHECK ON SIZES

The one mistake a parent may make shopping for that new bike is getting the wrong size.

It's a good thing to remember that all American bikes come in four basic sizes depending on the diameter of the wheels. A youngster of from 3 1/2 to 5 should have a 16-inch bike with "outrigger" wheels that can be removed when she, or he, learns balance.

A 20-inch bike is considered the proper size for youngsters from 5 to 7. Eight to 10-year-olds will be happy on a 24-inch bike. Children 11 and up may take a full-sized 28-inch bicycle.

The new "middleweight" bike, a cross between a racer and the standard balloon tire model, is popular. It has a light frame with coaster brake.

Maintenance and repair costs are at a minimum because parts for these American bikes are available in every community.

Mary Lyon Group Has Yuletide Party

Mrs. Charles Hawn of North Johnson avenue was hostess to the Mary Lyon Group of First Congregational Church for a Christmas party Wednesday.

The Story of Christmas was the theme of devotions given by Mrs. Wallace Edwards. "This Is the Christmas," written by Ruth Sawyer, was presented by Mrs. Ross Hulet.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hawn assisted by Mrs. Robert Clift.

Mrs. Dean Olds, Mrs. Edgar Gillies, Mrs. Leonard Sundahl, Mrs. Delbert Burnett and Mrs. Hulet were guests.

Fellowship Holds Christmas Meeting

The Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church recently held its Christmas meeting and program at the church.

Mrs. William Hoyt was program chairman. Youngsters taking part by telling of Christmas in other lands were Pamela Morgan, Martha Brown and Carol Hoyt.

For the worship service Mrs. Denzil Flowers and her children, Cindy, Karen June and Jeanie, were featured in a Christmas tableau. Mrs. Ruth Elam read the Christmas story and Mrs. Harry Kuse sang a solo. Refreshments were served by the Dorcas Circle.

Two Events Scheduled by Players

Birmingham Village Players have scheduled two activities for Dec. 15, beginning with the Christmas party for members' children from 3 to 5 o'clock at the playhouse.

Mrs. Michael Remondino will play the piano for carol singing. A film cartoon and balloon artistry by Mel Snyder will precede the presentation of gifts by Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, the William Martins, and their helper, Marc J. Parsons.

In the evening, beginning at 9 o'clock, an original play, "Space on Earth" written by Mrs. Alice Farnie, will be presented.

The play, with a cast of 25, runs about 45 minutes and tells the story of space men coming to earth, thinking Christmas here is quite dreary, until Santa appears and shows them the happier side of Christmas in the American home.

Portraying Santa is Mr. Martin, with Thorndyke C. Dwelley playing the space man. Mrs. Frank N. Mosher is director of the play assisted by Mrs. Howard J. Thomsen. The Afterglow, with punch and cake, will be supervised by Mr. and Mrs. H. Gene Manley and Mrs. Andrew F. Butt. Mrs. Ralph Skinner Jr. is in charge of refreshments.

Hospital Auxiliary Names Auditor

Vera Bassett was elected auditor of the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital at the Wednesday meeting of the executive committee.

Auxiliary members will assist with registration for diphtheria shots when given in the city. The American Hospital Association asked the group for a description and information regarding the puppet shows written and produced by Mrs. William McClure for youngsters in the pediatrics ward at the hospital. The association plans to publish the information in the National Hospital Auxiliary Newsletter.

An article appeared recently in the Modern Hospital Magazine regarding the project.

Omega Mu Sigma Holds Yule Party

Mrs. Harold Frack assisted Mrs. Kojima during the social hour when Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Stylish Shoe Will Have Pointed Toe

By VIRGINIA KACHAN
CHICAGO (INS) — The toes have never been more pointed than in the shoes that are coming out for spring, madame.

But you will find them more comfortable, promises Grace Hill, fashion director for one of the style leaders in the industry.

Miss Hill said designers have built in engineering tricks to make the closed, pointed toe easier on the feet for women accustomed to wearing shoes with open toes and heels.

In interviews with models wearing the latest styles at the National Shoe Fair in Chicago, many admitted that the pointed toe silhouette often calls for a larger shoe size than open toe models — usually a half size longer.

TINY FOOT IS OUT

But, according to Miss Hill, a fashionable women's feet are supposed to look thinner. "The ideal is no longer tiny feet," she asserted, "but the elongated, slim foot."

Today's fashion models, Miss Hill said, are tall and thin with feet to match, and women should strive for the same look.

Judging from how the pretty model feet were fitted with pointed toe shoes, women can use an easy rule of thumb in helping to find the proper fit. That's to press the thumb on the shoe tip — if there's room for the thumb between the shoe's tip and the wearer's big toe, it's bound to be more comfortable.

It's the same test mothers have been using for years in getting their children new shoes.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Meets

Members of Phi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority met in the St. Joseph street home of Mrs. C. L. Johnson Tuesday evening. Mrs. Ray Slaughter and Mrs. William Long assisted the hostess.

Following a short business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Walter Hiller, president, a Christmas story was told by Mrs. Long. Secret pal names for the past year were revealed during the exchange of Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Hiller and Mrs. John Whitehead reported on the recent city council meeting of the sorority.

Newlyweds Make Home in Pontiac

Mr. and Mrs. M. Robert Redick are residing in Pontiac following their marriage Dec. 1 at First Assembly of God Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Morris of Watkins Lake are parents of the bride. Robert is the son of Mrs. Lucile Redick of State avenue and Halley Redick of Mechanic street.

Group Marks Yule

Mrs. William Enfield of Rose-lawn drive opened her home to members of Ani Chapter of the Armenian Relief Society for a recent Christmas party. Refreshments were served from a table decorated with a small Christmas tree and red tapers. During the evening gifts were exchanged, secret pals revealed and members sang Christmas carols.

The Pediatrics Ward of Pontiac General Hospital is being served this season by Brownie Scouts from Rochester. They make scrapbooks, collect crayons, storybooks, comics, coloring books and toys for the children in the

Sofas, Cars Follow Pattern

Points Parallel in Designs

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Ever notice a sleek sports car streaking down the highway next to you and consider it has a close connection with the very "modern" sofa you are contemplating purchasing?

A prominent San Francisco furniture executive, Fred H. Dilg, declares there is a close connection between the two, and that automotive and furniture design have evolved on virtually parallel tracks.

Dilg pointed out, in a speech before the Western Merchandise Mart, that "the whole concept of design preference in home furnishings has its best definition in the popular example of today's motor cars." He elaborated:

"Radical as design in cars seems to be, basically most motor cars are what they always were, with embellishments added. The design changes have been gradual to keep the continuity of 'accepted' forms.

"Really 'modern' or 'progressive' design is exemplified by the aesthetic sports car which intrigues the average motorist but is purchased only by those willing to put up with a little more wind and a little less of the comfort and luxuries of the conventional models."

He also points out that terms like "architectural" or "engineered" design in furniture represent a frame of mind—beautiful and functional when understood.

ORGANIST
With Own
Electric Organ
FE 5-7338

yet still a curiosity to a vast segment of the public.

Getting down to cases, Dilg said that "contemporary" was a term coined 20 years ago to serve as a palatable label for "different" or for what was "progressive" design in furniture.

"Modern," he added, "proved a better label because those who would accept it wanted it to be different from traditional patterns."

But "contemporary" today, he said, has real meaning in that it comprehends the restyling of traditional forms.

"So-called 'Italian Provincial' has been the outstanding contemporary theme in the past several years because it takes the traditional form and 'contemporizes' it, adapting the light ovals and brass accents of 'modern' to the accepted form and shape of traditional."

"It is accepted," Dilg stressed, "because it is understandably different."

This sofa, he says, retains its perennial comfort appeal but is reinterpreted to include a slightly lower back height, for accentuated length, and covered in a sparkling new fabric to give personality.

Village of Lu Ku Typifies Life Under Red Rule

(Editor's Note—David Lancashire spent six weeks in Communist China and toured over 1,500 miles. He is a Canadian reporter.)

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

PEIPING (U)—Lu Ku is a shabby, mud-walled village outside Peiping which looks as though it has not changed in the last thousand years.

But behind the sunbaked walls on the unpaved street where the mule carts raise a cloud of brown dust, lives have been altered and traditions shattered.

Now a propaganda poster is pasted to the wall of the outdoor latrine. There are telephone wires over the street and a red star over the door of the meeting hall.

Lu Ku is the center of the Sino-Soviet Friendship Agricultural Co-operative. It is a sample of the socialization which has transformed the lives of 108 million families in China and, to all appearances, brought them above the minimum subsistence level that has haunted the Chinese peasant 5,000 years.

Now a family in Lu Ku, by hand-tilling the soil seven days a week for eight months and working with a mule cart on construction projects for the other four, can earn the equivalent of $222 in a good year. Even in China this is not much money. But it is more than the peasants of Lu Ku have ever had before.

Without benefit of machinery, workers from the 10 villages which comprise the sprawling communal farm have by official account increased production from the time-worn soil by 600 per cent since socialization.

The Sino-Soviet is a thriving establishment of 1,504 families seven miles from the heart of Peiping.

Lu Ku is the administrative center of the farm, which began in 1951 when 180 families pooled their labor under the rulebook guidance of a staff of Communist cadres sent from Peiping.

Over tea, cigarettes and wet peanuts pulled from the farm's humanly fertilized soil, a director named Kuo Chen told of the co-operative's development. His practiced, sing-song recitation never hesitated for a fact or statistic. Kuo Chen has told the same story many times to many visitors.

Landlords were dispossessed and land redistributed on a common standard among the peasants in 1950. In 1951, said Kuo Chen, the village families formed mutual aid teams of five families each, retaining their own portions of land but working together on them.

The following year, mutual aid teams grew to 28, production increased and a semisocialist co-operative was formed, with peasants pooling their land and being paid for land and labor contributed.

Then the 10 surrounding villages combined into one advanced co-op of 15,000 mou (about 5,000 acres). All land animals and equipment were pooled into common ownership, and members were paid only for labor contributed.

Kuo Chen was asked what happened to the landlords who once owned the village.

"The landlords and the rich peasants (the interpreter used the word 'kulaks') are now in the co-operative," he replied.

"With equal privileges?"

"Oh, no. They're third-class comrades."

Second and third class co-op members have no voting rights in community matters, and are paid on a salary basis. A second-class comrade is a candidate member while a third-class is one who still opposes the movement theoretically, but works on the farm nevertheless. The director claimed they received the same salary as full members.

Among the co-op's new assets are five new schools for 1,260 children, a fully equipped clinic, a cooperative general store selling merchandise at city prices, and a short-range radio transmitter supplying music and news of a sort

Ideal Basement Dry, Has Own Entrance

Whatever you use your basement for, it should have these requirements. It should be dry. Simple precautions in building or the use of dehumidifiers and waterproof paints on walls after building usually are all that are needed.

It should have an outside entrance, for both safety and convenience. Whether it is used by one person or many, it will be easy to leave in the event of fire. An outside entrance permits persons to enter and leave the basement from outdoors without tracking through the house.

The basement steps can be covered with a steel basement hatchway that will afford full protection against the weather and is permanent and burglar-proof.

Who's Nervous Now?

EDMONTON, Alta. (U)—The thief who took 3,200 feet of film from the car of Arthur Bolle must have received quite a shock. There was 2,800 feet of film on nervous breakdowns and depressive feelings and 400 feet on digestive ailments.

through village radios and loud-speakers in the street.

The next step, Kuo Chen explained, was to mechanize the co-op with surplus funds accumulated the past year. Two days before my visit, the farm had purchased a Chinese-built cutting machine. In the yard outside three men were examining its mechanism.

One of the few women who did not do farm work was Liu Shu-wan, a 55-year-old grandmother. "Before the liberation we had nothing, no land, no money," she said. "Now look."

In the house were two wooden chests, a smoking coal stove, a dirt floor and a picture of Mao stuck to the flaking plaster wall. Along one wall was the big brick kiln, heated by a bed of coals underneath, where five persons slept. No decorations, no amenities, just the barest of essentials in one room.

Newsboys Take Last Stands to Bring Yule Cheer

Goodfellows Seek Funds in 6 Towns, 2 Townships

Last stands are being made today and tomorrow by Oakland County area Goodfellows in effort to make Christmas bright for the unfortunate. Sales will go on in Pontiac and Highland Townships, Oxford, Lake Orion, Milford, Gingellville, Farmington and Utica.

They have set a goal of about 2,200 papers, or $1,000 this year, says their seven-year chairman, Jim Sheldon. They hope to take care of Christmas baskets, clothing and toys for all the needy in the Orion area.

There will be a special Christmas party for all the kids in town on Dec. 22 at 2 p.m. Five hundred children are expected at the State Theater, where Santa will visit in person. Murray Sutherland is party chairman.

In charge of repairing painting and redressing of toys for kiddies of the area is Harry Julien. Elmer Fairbanks is baskets chairman.

Gingellville

The fifth annual Goodfellow paper sale here is planned today and Saturday at the main intersection and in front of all business places in this area.

The Met Club has appointed Robert Williams chairman, and Harold Gingell and Carl Daniels complete his committee, with all the club participating.

The group usually buys 10 baskets for the needy from sale proceeds.

Farmington

Today is annual Goodfellow paper day in Farmington.

Gerald Grace, member of the Goodfellows committee says they hope to raise $3,100 for needy families this year, the largest sum they have ever sought.

Food baskets and toys for children between ages of 2 and 12, are planned. About 60 men have volunteered to sell papers.

Utica

Goodfellows here will conduct their annual sale from 6 a.m. until dark on main Utica corners today, with members of fire and police departments, Lions and Rotary Clubs, Utica businessmen, Boy Scouts and other civic groups participating.

They hope to sell 6,000 papers, thereby benefiting needy families in Utica, Sterling and Shelby Townships.

Milford

Early Saturday morning thirty-five Rotarian-Goodfellows will be at various spots in the Huron Valley area selling Pontiac Press newspapers to benefit the crippled children.

Fifteen hundred papers have been ordered and if sales run about the same as last year, should net over $600, according to Ben Bragg, originator of the Goodfellows in Milford.

The Rotarians gave $500 towards the building of a crippled children's home, which is not completed due to lack of funds. One hundred dollars was used for needy families in the local area.

All Huron Valley residents are urged to "dig down deep" when they buy their Goodfellow paper during the all-day sale Saturday.

Pontiac Township

Forty Goodfellows, Firemen and members of the Met Club, Spirit 16, here, will conduct a 12:30 to dark Pontiac Press Sale Saturday, aiming at a $1,000 goal.

With the money, they will attempt to see that no family in the area will be without a Christmas. Children's Christmas parties, scheduled to be held throughout the township will take place on Dec. 16, at the American Legion Hall in Auburn Heights.

There will be two sessions, the first at 1:30, for children through third grade, and one at 3:30 for fourth to sixth graders, inclusive. American Legion, Lions Club and Auburn Heights Firemen will sponsor.

On Dec. 23, at 1 p.m., a Yule party will be held at Joslyn Fire Station, for kids up to 13 years.

At Opdyke Fire Station, a party will be held the same day, at 3 p.m., for children in that area. Firemen of the two stations are staging these parties.

In charge of the Saturday Goodfellow sale is Fire Chief Carl Schingek, being aided by Leonard Bureo at the Joslyn Station and Elton Dexter, at the Opdyke station.

Highland Township

From noon till dark Saturday, says George Volkert, chairman of the Goodfellow paper sale here, Highland Goodfellows will stand on all main corners of the township in an effort to sell 900 Pontiac Press papers.

With proceeds of the sale the firemen make up about 20 big baskets, enough supplies to last a needy family about 10 days. Residents are donating clothing and toys for the baskets and Volkert says the department could use more of every kind of donation. Highland Fire Hall is donation headquarters.

Capt. Edwin Metting and Chief Asa Smith complete the committee for the Saturday paper sales.

Oxford

The Oxford Lions club will have its annual newspaper sale on Saturday. Proceeds from this sale go into the Lion's Goodfellow Fund which is used to help needy people and worthwhile projects in the following ways:

Money is contributed to the annual children's Christmas party; needy families are given food and clothing; glasses are purchased for children throughout the year; money is contributed to the Little League and Babe Ruth League for baseball equipment; also, to the Boy Scouts and Employer Scouts program and for the Wolverine Boys State Representative.

Contributions to the Leader Dog School for the Blind and money for the Welcome Home For The Blind; also, contributions for white canes. Two major items also are Celling Projector and hospital bed for the comfort of the sick in the community.

GOODFELLOWS PAPER SALE BY MILFORD ROTARY CLUB

FIRST TIME — Although Milford Goodfellows will be selling papers for the third consecutive year, this is the first time that they are selling Pontiac Press papers. From left to right, Bob

Emergency Phone Told at White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Forest Brendel, White Lake Township supervisor, stated today that township residents served by the General Telephone Co. may use a Milford exchange number, MUtual 4-6532 to report a fire.

He explained that because the township is served by two telephone companies, some residents have experienced difficulties in getting fire reports through quickly.

The Milford number is on a temporary basis pending a permanent fire phone. Previously, residents with General Telephone service had to call long distance to report a fire sometimes losing valuable time. Township residents having Michigan Bell phones will continue to call EMpire 3-3441 to report fires. After 9 p.m. at night MUtual exchange users will also have to call the Empire number.

Plan Carolling and Concerts

Favorites in Yule Song Offered in Area

Christmas songs, some old familiar carols, some traditional oratorios and cantatas given each year, and some less familiar folk music are being heard in practice sessions for programs in the Oakland County area.

Those wanting to hear their favorite songs can choose their concert. They can hear parts of the Messiah in Oxford, the sacred cantata, "Glory to God on High" at St. Paul Methodist Church in Rochester, or youthful renditions of "O Holy Night" in Dublin School and at St. Paul's.

At St. Paul's in Rochester, the church will ring with the cantata at the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. services. Frank Irish will lead the Chancel Choir's 35 voices and Mariel Howell, the 40-voice Crusader Choir. Instrumental interludes will break the presentation of the cantata, which is reminiscent of ancient minstrels wandering through Europe singing the tales of the Holy Days.

"O Holy Night" will be sung in a pageant-tableau at 4 p.m. Sunday at St. Paul's, the whole enacted by the children's division of the church school under Jean Lilly's direction. Parents and friends are invited.

A caroling party is set by the Senior Youth Fellowship for 6 p.m. Sunday, with a dinner before and a worship period following the singing rounds of the town.

At Davisburg, the Junior, Wesley and Chancel Choirs of the Methodist Church, and the Mt. Bethel Methodist Church's chancel choir will unite in Yuletide singing Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Davisburg church.

Solos and special arrangements will be directed by Mrs. Charles Swift. A candlelight service will conclude the evening's program.

Caroling throughout the town is planned by the Youth Fellowships of the Davisburg church on Christmas eve, with songs planned for children. Their Sunday School program will be at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 23. "Adeste Fidelis" will open "The World's Christmas Tree," a pageant at Dublin School set for Monday at 7:30 p.m. with 300 children to take part.

Kindergarten and first graders will be singing the opening, and

'Christmas Capers' Slated at Avondale

AVON TOWNSHIP—Stiles Stephens Square dance club members are holding their "Christmas Capers" dance at nine o'clock Saturday evening at the Avondale Community Hall on Auburn road.

Guests at the group's Sno Ball dance included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bedford of Lake Orion, Mr. and Mrs. Bob McWilliams of Lakeville, Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor of Royal Oak, Katherine Korff and William Tarrett of Rochester and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bond of Pontiac.

Northeast Dems to Meet Candidates on Sunday

At a session Sunday afternoon in Clarkston, members of the Northeastern Oakland County Democratic Club will meet candidates for Independence Township offices in the spring election and fill out vacancies in the ticket. The meeting, set for 2 p.m. in the Caribou Inn, is open to the public.

group for the "Messiah" numbers may join rehearsal at 4 p.m. Sunday.

At the concert, the Junior High Choir of 45 singers will perform, the Girls' Glee Club will do French and Latin carols and a medieval canon, and the mixed ensemble will offer two Waring arrangements of seasonal music. Three soloists will be featured.

Funds will be collected for the Omaha trip, but there will be no admission charge. Carols will take the fore in music for tomorrow night in the Oxford area, when choirs from four local churches meet with the high school chorus at 6:30 p.m. at the school.

Dividing into four groups they will tour Oxford, Stoney Lake, Mobile Manor, Parkhurst Trailer Court and Olive Subdivision. A short concert is planned at 7:30 p.m. in the Oxford village park, following the caroling rounds. Trumpeters from the high school band led by Gordon Mathie will play.

At Gingellville, Girl Scouts will be singing Yule songs in the business district at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Gathering first at the Fire Hall, they will proceed after singing to the Community Center for their party, gift exchanges and refreshments.
