

Johnson Says He Won't Be Deterred on War

Still Hope for Housing Bill Despite Rebuff by GOP

LANSING (U) — The open occupancy bill remained the exclusive property of the House today after Senate Republicans refused to take up the controversial measure.

Despite apparent lack of support among Senate GOP ranks, the bill's bipartisan backers in both houses still expressed hope for its passage during the remaining days of the special session.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Crosse Pointe, said the House will try to finish the complex lower court reorganization bill today or tomorrow "and get to work immediately" on open occupancy.

The open occupancy, or open housing, bill would bar racial discrimination in most real estate transactions.

The Senate move Tuesday was a slap at Acting Gov. William Milliken and the majority Republican leaders of both houses, who had agreed that the Senate should take over open occupancy while the House worked on the court bill.

But the Senate GOP caucus voted not to support a proposed resolution to allow introduction of open occupancy in the Senate.

Both houses would have to approve the special resolution. Both GOP and Democratic leaders had said earlier that they would not object to the move.

The secret ballot in the GOP caucus reportedly was 11-4 with 18 of the 20 Senate Republicans attending. One senator reportedly abstained.

Some legislators interpreted the vote as an indication that there are only six solid supporters of the bill among Senate Republicans.

Others felt it was a procedural vote and was not indicative of how the Republicans would vote on the bill itself.

If minority Democrats could come up with 10 votes for the bill, the Republicans would need another 10 to ensure the 20 votes necessary for passage.

Estimates by party leaders on how many votes each has for passage change from day to day.

Pressure from both sides of the open housing issue reportedly is increasing.

New Attitude on Crime Asked

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, addressing the annual Oakland County Law Enforcement Association Conference at the Pontiac Elks Club last night, called for a new attitude toward law enforcement to combat the nation's rising crime rate.

Kelley told a gathering of some 150 representatives of more than a dozen county law enforcement groups that "everyone says they're for law and order, but few are apparently willing to pay the price."

He cited three primary areas where this change in attitude should manifest itself:

- In the provision of funds for police agencies at the local level.
- In the concept of the police officer.
- In the approach of private citizens to the law.

STATE SUBSIDY

Kelley suggested state subsidy of local law enforcement "in support of local funding."

Kelley urged better recruitment programs, pointing out that private industry has recently absorbed the vast majority of potential college-educated law officers.

"Better pay and a revised system of entry into police ranks would facilitate this goal," he said.

2 Brigades Airlifted to Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The biggest airlift of the Vietnam war pushed U.S. troop strength in South Vietnam to about 475,000 today, more than the peak of 472,800 American fighting men in the Korean war at its height 14 years ago.

The U.S. Command took the security wraps off the transfer from the United States of two more brigades of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division, World War II's Screaming Eagles of Bastogne.

About 7,000 of the paratroopers have been flown across the Pacific since Nov. 17, and another 3,000 are due by Dec. 29.

Wearing combat fatigues with a 45 revolver and dagger tucked in his belt, the 101st commander, Maj. Gen. Olinto M. Barsanti, snapped a salute on his arrival today at Bien Hoa Airbase and reported to Gen. William C. Westmoreland: "The 101st Airborne Division is present for combat in Vietnam."

Westmoreland, now commander of all U.S. troops in Vietnam, was the Screaming Eagles' commander from 1958 to 1960.

TO RECEIVE TRAINING

The new paratroopers are not expected to go into combat immediately and will receive some training before heading into the field. Then they will join the division's 1st Brigade, which has been in Vietnam since July 1965.

When completed, the airlift will have involved 373 transpacific flights, which after discharging men and supplies generally took off within 15 minutes on the 9,783-mile flight back to 101st Division headquarters at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

U.S. spokesmen said the airlift is the longest and largest ever staged direct from the United States to Southeast Asia.

The U.S. Command also removed the security wraps today from a new American infantry operation 23 miles north-east of Saigon and said 52 Communist troops had been killed in six days. Total U.S. losses for the period were put at two dead and 25 wounded.

Oust Regime, Says Greek King

ATHENS, Greece (U) — King Constantine, evidently backed by part of the army, called on his people today to oust the military dictatorship and restore democracy to this land where it was born.

His appeal raised the specter of civil war in the wake of withdrawal of part of Greek forces from Cyprus in the face of Turkish demands.

The king repudiated the military coup of last April.

Shortly before he spoke troops and tanks took up positions around key buildings in Athens, and the state-run radio said the government was ready to defend itself.

The 27-year-old monarch declared leaders of last April's coup were only a segment of the army.

"A spirit of revenge will not prevail," he said, "but I will not accept any disobedience from now on and it will be crushed mercilessly. There will be no compromise."

He referred to the Communist-led civil war of 20 years ago and asked the people to assist him, follow him and support him.

The king spoke by radio from Salonika, the major city of northern Greece.

There were reports that the 3rd Armored Corps in Salonika had rebelled against the military dictatorship.

The leader of the corps is a Gen. Peridis, known as a strong supporter of the king and an opponent of the April coup.

The Greek Embassy in London said the Ministry of Information in Athens reported a coup had been attempted by a group of army officers.

Greece is a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but the United States showed its displeasure with the April coup by cutting off arms shipments.

Weather Satellite Rockets Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Beaming back strong signals to earth, a robot "interplanetary weatherman" named Pioneer 8 rocketed into orbit around the sun today to help weave a network that could warn astronauts of deadly solar radiation storms in space.

En route to the sun-circling path between that of earth and Mars, Pioneer 8's fiery Delta booster rocket successfully kicked a radio-relay communications satellite into orbit around earth.

Inquest Sought in Teen's Killing

A petition requesting an inquest into the death of Jimmie King, 17—shot by police attempting to escape arrest early last Thursday—was filed yesterday in Pontiac Municipal Court.

Although Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson ruled Friday that the killing was a justifiable police action, a number of civic leaders and organizations last night asked the suspension of the two police officers involved pending outcome of the inquest.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said the requests were somewhat unexpected. Speaking at the city commission meeting, he said the commission will review the case and reach a decision on the suspensions next Tuesday.

Albert Shaw, a Negro leader and executive board vice chairman of an interracial group known as Voice of Oakland County Action League (VOCAL), told

AFL-CIO Confab Roars Approval of LBJ Speech

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U) — President Johnson says he will not be deterred, influenced or inflamed by his Vietnam war critics "regardless of my polls and regardless of the elections."

Departing from his prepared text in a nationally televised and broadcast speech to the AFL-CIO convention here yesterday, the President said, "I am going down the center of the road — doing my duty as I see it — for the best of my country."

The representatives of organized labor roared their approval when Johnson said he would always be ready to hear and act on any proposal for ending the Vietnam war. And their volume increased when he added:

"But in the meantime I want you to know — and I want all Americans to know — that I am not going to be deterred. I am not going to be influenced. I am not going to be inflamed by a bunch of political, selfish men who want to advance their own interest."

The President also had harsh words for congressional Republicans, terming them "wooden soldiers" warring on progress.

ASKS LABOR'S HELP

He asked the representatives of the 14-million-member "house of labor" to help Democrats elect a "great Congress" in 1968.

About 2,000 convention delegates, officials and guests frequently interrupted Johnson's jibes at the Republicans with cheers, applause and laughter.

"The people know that the old Republican buggy can only go one way — backwards downhill," Johnson said.

"That old Republican buggy has been colliding with us all year long," he said of GOP efforts in Congress to block or alter his proposals on education, anti-poverty, medical care and Social Security.

Forecast Tonight Is Snow Flurries

Unusual Items Plentiful

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This the eighth in a series on suggestions for Christmas gifts available in Pontiac Area stores.)

By JUNE ELERT

If you enjoy shopping for gifts that are a "bit different," a little looking will reveal lots of items to draw surprised "ohs" and "ahs."

The dieter will be delighted with a gold-finish sacharin scuttle and tongs for a little over a dollar.

For those easy-going souls who always keep their cool, how about a game of "Frustration"? Keep the steel ball riding uphill on the rods and gain points for steady hands and keen judgment. $7.50.

The teen party miss will be delighted with a jeweled slipper-shape purse just large enough for lipstick and "mad" money, with instep zipper closure. About $2.

To go under the little misses' minidresses, how about some pretty panties embroidered on the lace-trimmed back pockets. In sizes 4 to 6-7 at $2 a pair.

A wild print is combined with psychedelic colors to accent freedom in a lounge-cubote for the lady of the house. Available in sizes 10 to 18 at about $12.

The party hostess will enjoy owning a cocktail-pick tree to add a touch of glamor to her buffet table. It comes with 12 hors d'oeuvre picks with green ball heads in a flower pot base, at $8.

Cheer buffs could fill a lot of traveling time with a compact set of tiny pieces in a zippered leather case. Imported from Germany, it has a magnetic board to foil spills. Only $6.50.

Funds for Pay Hike, Poverty Fight OK'd; Spending Is Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, clearing its decks of most major measures and aiming for weekend adjournment, has okayed spending bills of dollars for government pay raises and to fight poverty while endorsing a $4.1 billion over-all spending cut.

Congressional action Tuesday included these developments:

Romney Plan Finds Favor

Britons Like Idea to Neutralize SE Asia

LONDON (AP) — Gov. George Romney was reported Tuesday to have received favorable reactions in London on his idea of neutralizing Southeast Asia to help end the war in Vietnam.

The Michigan Republican, first declared candidate for his party's presidential nomination, is on a foreign affairs tour that will take him to Moscow later this week and Saigon during Christmas.

He began the tour in France and Britain.

Romney has identified himself with the idea of changing American objectives in Vietnam through keeping all the big powers out of Southeast Asia and allowing the countries in the area to work out their own policies. But he has not publicly spelled out the details of how such a policy could be achieved. One purpose of this trip has been to get different viewpoints on it.

SOME OPPOSITION

A source close to Romney said he had received many favorable comments on the idea of neutralization, although some of the governmental officials he saw disagreed. Disagreement seemed to come from those who supported present U.S. policy in Vietnam and were convinced it was working, the source said.

Among those Romney saw Tuesday was Sir Alec Douglas-Home, former Conservative prime minister. He favors neutralizing Vietnam, with the big powers guaranteeing its neutrality in the cold war through the U.N. Security Council.

Upon his return here next month, Romney has no plans to unveil any Vietnam "peace plan" immediately but the source said he believes that the Republican party and its presidential candidate criticize President Johnson's handling of the war during next year's campaign, they also will have to outline an alternative policy of their own for the voters to choose.

Both Senate and House passed and sent to President Johnson legislation for a $5.4 billion, three-step pay raise affecting 5.5 million federal workers and servicemen. The legislation also includes a hike in postal rates, raising to 6 cents the cost of mailing a letter.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a $1.61 billion appropriation bill for the Office of Economic Opportunity, $570 million less than Congress already has authorized for the antipov- erty program.

The Senate passed and sent to the President a bill requiring most federal agencies to cut most spending by 19 per cent — a move designed to save $4.1 billion.

BENEFITS BILL

Today the House is to take up a Social Security bill that would boost all benefits by at least 13 per cent as well as hike Social Security taxes. The bill provides for minimum monthly benefit payments of $55 compared with the current $44.

President Johnson is expected to sign the pay-raise bill for government employees and servicemen in time for them to get by Christmas retroactive increases from last Oct. 1. Total cost of the raises by 1969, when all stages are in effect, is estimated at $5.4 billion. It would give postal workers a 6 per cent raise, other government work- ers a 4.5 per cent hike and servicemen a 5.6 per cent boost.

The pay-raise bill included provisions for hiring new rates designed to bring in an additional $900 million annually.

Next Jan. 7 regular mail stamps will go from 5 to 6 cents, airmail from 10 to 12 cents, postcards from 4 to 5 cents and air mail cards from 6 to 8 cents.

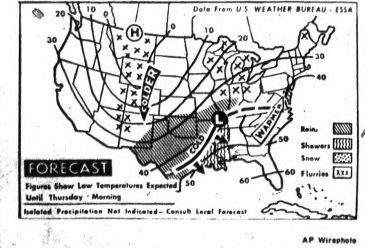

THIRD CLASS MAIL

Third class mail will go from 2.875 cents to 3.5 cents and to 4 cents in July 1969. But the rate for the first 250,000 pieces mailed in any year will be 3.5 cents.

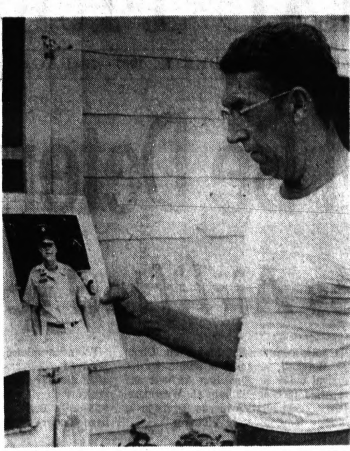

Second-class rates, covering newspapers and magazines, will go from 1 cent to 1.1 cents next year under the minimum rate, then to 1.2 cents in 1969 and 1.3 cents in 1970.

This legislation also includes a provision to ban any more hiring of relatives by congressmen, federal judges, postmasters and other federal officials.

The $4.1 billion spending-cut proposal approved by the Senate is a new kind of budget. Earlier in the session between the White House and House Ways and Means Committee. The committee said the administration would have to come up with spending cuts before it could consider the President's proposal for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

NATIONAL WEATHER — A large band of precipitation in the south-central states is forecast for tonight. Snow flurries are expected all along the Rockies and in the Great Lakes region. Warmer weather is predicted along the East Coast.

SAYS BODY ISN'T HIS SON—Fred Hettich, looking at a picture of his son, Cpl. Donald Hettich, says the body of a killed in Vietnam helicopter crash and shipped to Sarasota, Fla., for burial is not his son. Army officials, who first backtracked on the identity and agreed it was not the 19-year-old Hettich, now contend it is. They say the elder Hettich does not want to accept the death. Reports of a fingerprint examination and supporting data are being delivered to the Hettich family.

SPONSOR OF COURT BILL MAY VOTE NO ON IT

LANSING (AP) — The chief sponsor of Michigan's court reorganization bill says he may vote against it himself as a result of amendments passed by the House of Representatives yesterday.

Approved with four votes to spare were amendments by Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena, designed to insure that in the lower court system the bill would establish each of Michigan's counties would have at least one judge.

Rep. Donald Holbrook, R-Clare, sponsor and chief spokesman for the court bill, said he would try today to have Swallow's amendments removed. If he failed, he said, he would urge defeat of his own bill.

In counties of under 25,000 population, according to Swallow's plan, existing probate judges would assume duties of the district judges which the original bill would have created.

Holbrook's proposed system would combine groups of the smaller counties into single districts with two judges each. He said that under Swallow's one-county, one-judge system, many judges in the smaller counties would have little work to do.

LAWYER JUDGES EYED

He also noted that in 13 of the 34 counties which Swallow's amendments were intended to affect, the probate judges are not attorneys. Holbrook and the House Judiciary Committee had hoped all duties of the district courts would be performed by lawyer-judges.

Meanwhile, Holbrook's court bill came under fire again from Wayne County Auditor Richard Austin, who met with House members from Wayne County and urged them to defeat the measure in its present form.

Austin said the proposed court system would impose an "unfair and unwarranted financial burden" on his county. He estimated the net cost to Wayne County at $2.5 million.

GRAHAM CANCELS ALL ENGAGEMENTS

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, under strict orders from his doctor, has canceled all engagements—including major crusades—until April 1968, a member of his staff said Tuesday.

Quoting Dr. Walter H. Smith, Graham's director of crusades, the Atlanta staff member said the action came "after long consultation with Dr. Graham's physician, who is treating the evangelist in Jamaica."

Graham is recovering from pneumonia.

INQUEST SOUGHT IN TEEN'S DEATH

Milton Henry, a former city commissioner and a Pontiac attorney, who filed the petition for a coroner's inquest, said the same two officers—Travis Lively and Dennis Mutrynowski—had arrested King during the previous week.

Others asking for the two suspensions were Mansfield Samples, chairman of VOCAL; James McNeely, executive director of the Oakland County Commission of Economic Opportunity; James Dyer, an NAACP official; Donald Baur, regional director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission; Hubert Price Jr., vice president of the Black Organization of Pontiac Youth; Rev. Fr. Frederick Kietner, of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church; and Rev. Stanley Stefancic, of the Birmingham Unitarian Church, a VOCAL member.

'Fair-Housing' Bill May Die'

Sen. Kuhn Sees Link to Court Reform Issue

Sen. George W. Kuhn of West Bloomfield Township predicted today that fair-housing legislation will be a dead issue by the current special session of the lawmakers if another major issue — court reorganization — fails to pass the House this week.

"There will not be nearly enough time to debate the fair-housing bill in the Senate," said the Republican senator. "The whole session will be abortive."

Kuhn was one of 11 Republican senators out of 17 present yesterday who rejected a resolution that would have introduced open occupancy on the floor of the Senate.

"I think there were a number of general reasons for the mass rejection of the resolution," said Kuhn.

"First, there is priority," said Kuhn. "The special session was called specifically for the lower court reorganization and not open housing."

"Then there is the constitutionality of the fair-housing act. There are a number of senators who like myself have grave doubts that it is legal and would like to see pending cases involving the civil rights commission resolved in the State Supreme Court first."

If neither piece of legislation is adopted before a proposed adjournment date of Dec. 22, and possibly earlier, said Kuhn, they will have to be reintroduced when the Legislature reconvenes Jan. 10.

EXAM BEGINS IN KIDNAPING CASE IN CITY

The preliminary examination of Donald C. Olmsted, accused of the Dec. 5 kidnapping of his ex-girlfriend from her Pontiac home, began in City Municipal Court yesterday with testimony from the victim and her 24-year-old roommate.

Judge Cecil B. McCullum, who raised Olmsted's bond from $4,000 to $10,000, adjourned the hearing until Tuesday after Linda McConaghie, 24, testified that Olmsted forced her from her home at 1265 Featherstone and took her at gunpoint to a Pontiac Township motel.

The victim was released from a room at the King Motel, 1300 N. Opdyke, after police and Oakland County sheriff's deputies stood by for more than an hour.

Before the testimony began, McCullum cleared the courtroom of spectators at the request of Oakland County Asst. Prosecutor Rick Schmidt, "due to the nature of the case."

'Sewer Assessment Roll OK'd'

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — With approval of the special assessment roll of $86,140, sanitary sewers for the central district of Colonial Estates subdivision are on their way to completion in about four months.

The cost of $1,722 per site for 50 homes was approved by the Township Board Monday after a public hearing. Construction work is expected to begin in about one month, according to the township building department.

THE SECOND PUBLIC HEARING to confirm the assessments for sanitary sewers in the southern district of Colonial Estates is set for Jan. 8 at 8 p.m.

Approval was also given to an increase in fees for township licenses, permits and inspections.

SCHEDULE OUTDATED

The building department, which recommended the hike, reports that it has been operating under an outdated fee schedule which is below the standard in the area.

BIRMINGHAM — George Vihos, based in Birmingham, was the only Michigan artist to win one of the coveted Tiffany Foundation awards.

Vihos, who has a studio at 845 Pierce, received $2,000 for his work in the field of painting. Thirty-two other artists were also cited by the Foundation.

VIHOS is Visual Arts Coordinator for the Michigan State Council for the Arts, and instructor of drawing and painting at Arts and Crafts in Detroit. His residence is in Royal Oak.

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) — John C. Patler, accused assassin of American Nazi Party leader George Lincoln Rockwell, was expected to take the stand today before the defense rested its case in his murder trial.

Frank "the Holy Father" Smith, an ex-convict and close friend of Rockwell, was a character witness Monday for Patler.

Smith told the Arlington Circuit Court jury the slain Nazi leader thought of Patler as "almost a son." He said one month before the Aug. 25 sniper slaying, Rockwell confided to him that he feared for his life and "suspected treachery from within the party."

Smith also testified he saw a German Mauser pistol belonging to party member Robert Lyon in Richmond almost one year after Lyon testified he loaned the murder weapon to Patler and "never saw it again."

The prosecution alleged that Patler used the pistol to kill Rockwell at a suburban Washington shopping center.

'Sewer Assessment Roll OK'd'

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — With approval of the special assessment roll of $86,140, sanitary sewers for the central district of Colonial Estates subdivision are on their way to completion in about four months.

The cost of $1,722 per site for 50 homes was approved by the Township Board Monday after a public hearing. Construction work is expected to begin in about one month, according to the township building department.

THE SECOND PUBLIC HEARING to confirm the assessments for sanitary sewers in the southern district of Colonial Estates is set for Jan. 8 at 8 p.m.

Approval was also given to an increase in fees for township licenses, permits and inspections.

SCHEDULE OUTDATED

The building department, which recommended the hike, reports that it has been operating under an outdated fee schedule which is below the standard in the area.

BIRMINGHAM — George Vihos, based in Birmingham, was the only Michigan artist to win one of the coveted Tiffany Foundation awards.

Vihos, who has a studio at 845 Pierce, received $2,000 for his work in the field of painting. Thirty-two other artists were also cited by the Foundation.

VIHOS is Visual Arts Coordinator for the Michigan State Council for the Arts, and instructor of drawing and painting at Arts and Crafts in Detroit. His residence is in Royal Oak.

Working Hours Are Increasing

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Workers in the United States today are putting in more hours, not less, than they did in 1956, and the trend shows no signs of abating.

An economist with the Upton Institute of Employment Research, Dr. Herbert E. Steiner, challenges the common notion that U.S. workers face a future of too much leisure and too little work. Working conditions, he finds, are moving in the opposite direction.

In a paper called "The World of Work: 1964 and Beyond," Dr. Steiner reports that manufacturing workers put in 40.4 hours per week in 1956 and 41.4 hours in 1966. In mining, the increase amounted to nearly two hours per week.

During the same decade, overtime work went up by 40 per cent in the manufacturing and goods industries.

Some viruses live for three to five months on woolen fabrics but three to five days on cotton materials.

Paper Sale 'a Success'

The Waterford Township Goodfellows' annual newspaper sale to assist needy families has been termed successful by Ernest Latimer, president of the group.

"We went way over our goal of $2,000," said Latimer who disclosed that more than $2,500 was raised in Saturday's one-day drive. In behalf of the Goodfellows, Latimer expressed gratitude to members of the nine other organizations who sold copies of the Goodfellow edition of The Pontiac Press and to persons who donated money.

Latimer estimated that approximately $5 per cent of the 3,000 copies of The Pontiac Press up for sale were purchased.

Proceeds will be used to purchase food orders negotiable at area stores and to prepare food baskets for needy families.

SHOES AND BOOTS

Gifts, including shoes and boots for children, also will be given to the needy, according to Latimer.

Anyone knowing of a family needing assistance can contact Latimer at 3345 Curwood or Mrs. Clayton Soncrante at 3273 Pirrin.

Interfaith Breakfast Set

The Pontiac YMCA Ecumenical Affairs Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Milton Banks, has announced that it will sponsor an interfaith Christmas breakfast Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA, 131 University.

Kathleen McClure and Carol Haames are organizing the members of the Youth Council to prepare and serve the pancake and sausage breakfast to over 100.

The Rev. James L. Hayes, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak, will be the guest speaker. Prior to his present appointment, he served for six years as pastor of Pontiac's St. Michael Catholic Church.

Among the other participants at the breakfast will be William R. Kirk, the executive director of the Pontiac YMCA, and Rev. Jack Clark, executive secretary of the Pontiac Council of Churches.

Advance reservations are required for the breakfast. The $1 tickets can be reserved through the YMCA by tomorrow.

Deficit School Budget OK'd

TROY — The school board plans to meet next Monday to set up a millage election after approving another deficit budget last night.

The approval is contingent upon the opinion of the schools' attorney on the anticipated $233,000 deficit for the 1967-68 school year.

This deficit will be added to the $375,000 deficit from the last two school years, making a total of $608,000 (cash basis) in the red.

The tentative verbal opinion of the attorney, said Supt. Rex B. Smith, is that the deficit budget is legal if the budget includes a provision of borrowing on next year's state aid and local taxes within the legal limit.

With the deficits, the district is financially "approaching a dangerous point," stressed Smith. He recommended that the millage proposal to liquidate the deficit and provide for operational needs for the next five years be put on the Feb. 19 ballot.

PRIMARY DATE

This is also the date for the possible city primary and the city request for a half-mill tax increase for the new library. Smith suggested that the district still have the election even if the city doesn't have the primary because teacher hiring begins soon after February.

The superintendent emphasized that the board and administration together set the amount of the millage to be requested so that the proposal becomes "a true board proposal, not a 'Smith proposal' or a hurried citizens committee proposal."

District voters have twice this year defeated requests for 7-mill tax increases for one-year terms. The June 12 election was motivated by the school administration and a citizens' committee. Only a citizens' committee pushed for the Sept. 11 election.

After the June defeat, the board made 27 cuts in the educational program.

CURRENT BUDGET

This year's budget lists expenditures of $3,587,713 and income of $3,354,736.

About 88 percent of the budget goes for salaries and fringe benefits. The three master agreements with employees completed in October delayed the finalizing of the budget, said Smith.

The remaining 12 percent of the budget finances fuel, utilities and supplies. Although income is up $432,638 over last school year, state aid is $40,000 less than the maximum hoped for this year because enrollment was about 200 less than expected last spring.

LOCAL INCOME

The superintendent also noted that

Detroit Arraigned on Marijuana Charge

DETROIT (UPI) — A Detroit man was arraigned here yesterday on charges of concealing and transporting 107 kilograms of marijuana worth an estimated $220,000, the U.S. District Attorney said.

Some of it was reportedly meant for Oakland County.

Rockey Stoup, 25, had also been arraigned Dec. 6 on a charge of possessing hashish, mescaline and marijuana, all hallucinatory drugs, worth an estimated $30,000, federal agents said.

Ross Ellis, district supervisor of the bureau of narcotics of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said the haul was the largest made by federal agents in the area over the last 30 years.

Stoup allegedly shipped 107 kilo bricks of marijuana from San Francisco to Detroit in three footlockers, Ellis said.

this year local sources will be paying about $440,000 more and state sources about $6,000 less than last year. He explained that locally derived income is up because of an increase in the state equalized valuation of property.

Expenditures are up $387,755 from last year due to increased costs of salaries, instruction, plant operation and transportation.

Smith added that although the "salary schedules are quite competitive with our neighbors . . . they are more than the present tax rate will support."

The budget was approved unanimously except for the dissent of Harold A.

James who said he wanted more time to study it.

After hearing an enrollment report, the board indicated that after Christmas it will be faced with a teacher shortage in the Hill, Troy Union and Big Beaver elementaries.

Principals of these schools have reported that enrollments have been increasing weekly since Nov. 10.

After the board approved payment of current expenses for stadium use, it commented that revenues aren't near expectations.

While the district has been able to pay bond principal and interest, it hasn't put any money into the stadium replacement and stadium surplus funds.

School Cutbacks, New Election Face Voters in Romeo District

ROMEO — Sharp cutbacks in school services for the balance of the current year and a new election Jan. 29 face residents of the Romeo School District.

The board of education voted Monday night to pare about $35,000 from its anticipated $100,000 deficit by cutting back in teaching and maintenance supplies and in transportation services and purchases.

The combined action was the result of a narrow defeat Nov. 27 for a renewal of three mills and an additional five new mills for the operating budget. The vote was 346 to 333.

School Supt. T. C. Filippula in announcing the decision for a new election recalled a closer margin of victory in 1956 which built the town's new high school. That issue, he recalled, passed by one vote.

The new millage, if approved, would not be levied until the December 1968, tax bills, Filippula said.

DEBT RETIREMENT

Three of the additional five mills sought are earmarked for debt retirement and the other two for additional maintenance, the purchase of six new school buses, plus some remodeling and salary adjustment.

The increase to the average property owner would amount, according to the superintendent, to about $40 a year of $5 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

"We are hopeful — and very much in need — of a favorable vote," Filippula said.

Renewal Funds Resolution OK'd

OXFORD — The Village Council last night approved a resolution opening the way for payment of $198,492 in federal government Title I funds to cover the cost of surveying and plans for the Central Business District Urban Renewal project.

The resolution will be forwarded to the Chicago office of Housing and Urban Development, according to Robert Smalley, village manager.

A report by Robert Pearl of Villan-Leman Associates of Southfield, in regard to the project, revealed that letters will be sent to about 100 residents of the involved area asking for information. He said the letters, in the form of census questionnaires would be kept anonymous.

The council gave Smalley approval to negotiate with Chester Bushman of Bushman Disposal Co. in regard to payments on village refuse pickup.

Bushman had asked that either his contract which runs until May be canceled or that he be given an additional $100 a week until that time. He said he was not breaking even on the operation.

Township Board Confirms Need for Sewer Setup

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board decided affirmatively on the necessity of a $74,520 sewer project for Medbury, Middle Belt and Hemlock streets in Supervisor's Middle Belt Ten Mile Plat No. 2.

The decision regarding the system to serve 52 lots came after a public hearing on the project Monday.

The second hearing on the project's cost will be held in about two months when the assessment roll is drawn up, said a township official.

In other action, the board approved three subdivision preliminary plats. They are:

- Independence Commons near Halstead, 11 Mile and Drake roads, being developed by Thompson-Brown Co.

- Wedgewood Commons on Farmington Road near Briar Hills subdivision, also being developed by Thompson-Brown.

- Philip Judson Gardens North on Drake Road south of Guy R. Polley subdivision, being developed by Leahn Associates, Inc.

Decoration Entry Deadline Is Friday

LAKE ORION — Home owners here have until 6 p.m. Friday to enter their homes in the Christmas decoration contest, sponsored by the Orion Area Jaycees.

Anyone in Orion Township is eligible to compete, according to Donald DeLong, Jaycee official. The club has received only five entries to date, he said.

Judges for the contest will be Village President Wallace Crane and Councilmen Arlie Reed and Fred Cole.

Subdivisions Get Preliminary OK in Oakland Twp.

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — The way was cleared for construction of nearly a hundred new homes here last night as the Township Board gave preliminary approval to plats for three new subdivisions.

Some 67 acres are involved in the new Coach Lamp Hills Subdivision being developed by Oakland-Rochester Development Co. of Rochester.

Located adjacent to Oakland Valley Subdivision on N. Rochester Road, the development in its first stage will contain 30 homes.

The board also approved preliminary plans for Oakland Valley No. 7 in the same area and gave first approval to the development of 40 lots by George Knorr of Rochester to Knorrwood Estates located in the area of Lak George and Orion Roads.

The board voted $50 a month subsidy on a six-month trial basis to Fleet Ambulance Service. That amount with the $500 voted by Avon Township and $300 voted by Rochester is expected to keep an ambulance stationed in the area.

It was pointed out last night that Oakland Township is also served by the ambulances from Lake Orion, Oxford and Romeo.

Senate Acts on I-696 Snarl

LANSING (AP) — A bill designed to untangle the dispute over proposed I-696 expressway in Oakland and Macomb counties and prevent future snarls over route locations received Senate approval yesterday.

The bill, approved 25-3 and given immediate effect, provides that communities, which now have veto power over interstate highway routes, must submit to binding arbitration in route selection.

The measure, already passed by the House, provides that once the State Highway Department has certified the need for arbitration in picking a highway route, the affected communities have 30 days in which to act.

They may agree either to a route or

Junk Car Complaints Heard

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Junk automobiles and rising taxes occupied the Township Board Monday.

Petitions from residents of the Taylor-Giddings roads area protested the alleged spread of a car-dismantling operation owned by Sam Gottesman on Taylor Road.

Supervisor Roy Wahl announced suit has already been brought against the owner. Gottesman will be required to show cause Monday in Circuit Court as to why he should be allowed to proceed, Wahl said.

Objections to rising taxes were taken up by Wahl after the meeting.

Township figures reveal that new tax bills are up 27 per cent over last year in the Pontiac School District and 21.88 per cent in the Avondale School District.

INCREASE MAGNIFIED

Clayton Lovelace assessor said a slight increase in millage had been magnified by the 11.82 factor with which he was required to multiply last year's valuations. The factor was needed, he said, to meet the state requirement for a 50 per cent valuation.

In other business the board passed a resolution backing the Oakland County Protective Service branch in Pontiac Township and tabled a request for new radio equipment needed by the fire department.

Holly's Council Gets Petition to Annex 238 Acres

HOLLY — A petition to annex 238 acres of mostly vacant property to the village was received last night by the council.

Jack Albright, Holly surveyor representing Fred Barton, the owner, asked that the council consider taking in 175 acres to the north which contains a trailer park on 63 acres and 67 acres to the south which is vacant.

The matter was referred to the planning commission with a decision due Jan. 9.

Advantages under village government would include refuse disposal, water, added police protection and a lower insurance rating.

Barton is reportedly interested in becoming a part of the city mainly for the refuse pickup that would be afforded his trailer park. The park already has a water and sewer system, according to village officials.

In other business last night the council approved a replat of Holly Bush Shores Subdivision No. 2. Previously the Wier Subdivision, it has been sold to Nicholas-Hudson Associates of Holly.

A discussion of the present water system enlargement and a street improvement program also occupied council members.

Youngsters' Yule Party Is Held at OU

Some 80 underprivileged elementary pupils from Pontiac schools went to Oakland University yesterday to attend a big Christmas party in their honor.

It was one of the last activities of Oakland University students before they take their holiday and end-of-semester break.

The youngsters have been going out to the campus weekly through a novel OU student volunteer program aimed at widening their experiences and strengthening their academic attitudes and abilities.

Each youngster received a small gift from his or her campus "big brother" or "big sister." Christmas carols were sung, cookies and punch were served and some of the children made greeting cards for their friends and family.

The party was culmination of the fall semester activities in a project known as POEAT, code name for Pontiac-Oakland Educational Assistance Team.

IN THIRD YEAR

Now in its third year, the project currently involves first through sixth grade pupils from Whittier, Franklin and Bagley schools.

Based on by the Pontiac school system, the youngsters work with an OU student volunteer who spends two hours each week serving as big brother or sister, confidante, tutor and friend.

David C. Bricker, instructor in education at the university and faculty consultant for the student volunteer project, said one of the main goals of the program is to open avenues of communication with the children.

"Almost all of the youngsters have verbal deficiencies in varying degrees," Bricker commented. "They are not used to talking and not used to people listening to them talk."

ONLY ADULT ATTENTION

"For a lot of them, this is the only adult attention they received."

All of the children come from deprived areas and many are from big families in which they are often overpowered by their brothers and sisters in competing for attention, according to Bricker.

Although the OU students and their youthful charges often get together in small groups, they are involved more frequently on a one-to-one basis.

During the fair weather they may wander around campus on nature hikes, play touch football or other sports or visit a farm or zoo.

MAY DROP IN

When the weather is bad they may drop into Kresge Library to read magazines, listen to tape-recorded foreign language instruction at the OU Language Lab, dissect worms in a biology lab or listen to a student's late pop records in his dormitory room.

Bricker said other Pontiac schools are hoping to involve their pupils in POEAT and that a meeting will be held at the start of winter semester to see if more Oakland students would be willing to expand the project.

Other volunteer projects vying for the students' interest include those of service organizations such as Circle K and the Association for Women students.

In addition, Oakland's Office of Volunteer Programs cooperates with the Detroit city schools and the Miller District Demonstration Project in a program known as Project Look Ahead.

INVOLVES BUSING

This program involves the busing of about 20 elementary school children and their parents to the campus each Saturday.

Like POEAT participants, the Detroit inner-city pupils are paired with individual university students to expose them to a campus environment and to give them, even at this young age, a desire to strive toward a college education.

At the same time their parents are involved in educational programs with students and members of the faculty and administration.

William D. Peterson, coordinator of OU volunteer programs commented on the various projects.

"Parents who accompanied their children to the campus on Saturdays indicated that their children looked forward all week to the chance to go out to Oakland and be with their college student.

'VERY REWARDING'

"The students who participated in Look Ahead also found themselves looking forward to Saturdays."

"Personally, I have found my work with volunteer program to be very rewarding, and I have seen a real responsiveness on the part of Oakland students to volunteer efforts."

"Students are eager to be involved in social action, but only if the social action has clearly defined goals and objectives. And they do not wish to be involved in projects which only serve to alleviate the guilt of the middle class over poverty conditions elsewhere."

9 Are Added to Rights Unit

Marks an Attempt to Intensify Activities

City commissioners last night made nine new appointments to the Human Relations Commission bringing the membership to a full 24 members.

The commission had been fairly inactive in the recent past and the appointments are part of an effort to broaden and intensify the scope of the commission's activities.

Appointed for terms to end in June 1968 were Mrs. Cornelia Jackson of 480 Ferry, Melvin Boersma of 1286 Locke and Floyd Miles Sr. of 180 W. Columbia.

Appointed for terms ending in June 1969 are Rev. Clyde Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church; Mrs. Dwight Heibling of 60 S. Genesee and Kenneth G. Hempstead of 185 Elizabeth Lake.

Samuel A. Baker of 576 Granada, Mrs. Jeremiah Hollis of 261 Whittier and Rev. James Wysocki of St. Michael's Catholic Church were appointed for terms ending in June 1970.

In addition three members were reappointed for terms to end in June 1970. They are Ronald Covault of 125 N. Johnson, Rev. Thomas E. McGrath of St. Vincent dePaul Catholic Church and Rev. Jack H. C. Clark of 497 W. Iroquois, executive director of the Pontiac Area Council of Churches and recently elected chairman of the Human Relations Commission.

City Approves Extension of Storm Sewer Lines

A $70,000 public works project to extend storm sewer lines along Kennett from Alcott to Elementary School west to a planned 525-unit rent supplement housing project was approved by the City Commission last night.

The funds will come from the city's capital improvement fund, which, officials say, is fairly solvent compared to the city's general operating fund.

In other action, the commission set a Jan. 1 date for receiving bids for construction of storm and sanitary sewers on water mains in the city's planned Industrial Park.

They also set a public hearing date of Dec. 19 for considering necessity of projects to provide sanitary sewers on Sarasota, Tallahassee to Kennett; and along Kennett from Alcott to Elementary School west to a planned 525-unit rent supplement housing project.

Both of these construction projects are necessary to provide utility service to the planned housing project, officials said.

Under the city's assessment formula, the city would pay $40,000 of the total cost estimate at $3,083.

Commissioners approved construction of sanitary sewers on Fern, Howland to Highland; Howland, Fern to Luther, Bloomfield, Fern to 405 feet north and Highland, Fern to 316 feet north.

She's Used to World of Law Enforcement

By HUD WILLSE

Mrs. Myrtle Burnia is a woman in a man's world.

She is the only female employee of the Waterford Township Police Department and the only woman member of the township police reserves which consist of 25 men and Mrs. Burnia.

But working among male law enforcers is nothing new for the mother of two sons, who was employed by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and the Livonia and Farmington police departments prior to joining the Waterford Township force in September 1961.

While employed at the Farmington Police Department, she served three years as a policeman.

Recently, she began working in a similar capacity with the Waterford Township Police Department, assisting policemen in cases involving women and female juveniles.

QUESTIONING

She helps interrogate female suspects and searches them. For six years, Mrs. Burnia, of 5418 Sarvis, Waterford Township, served the department as a clerk-typist and dispatcher.

Now she is in charge of all records, including complaints and arrest reports, in addition to her part-time "policewoman" chores.

Mrs. Burnia was sworn in as a member of the township police reserves about two months ago.

POLICE TRAINING

A native of Cleveland, she has taken numerous training courses in police work and is a qualified operator of Michigan's new, computerized law enforcement information network.

Make Christmas Merry--Not Scary

Christmas, traditionally a time of joy, can dissolve into misadventure or tragedy if due care is not exercised with respect to its symbol — the Christmas Tree.

Although the use of electric bulbs has reduced appreciably the danger once present in burning candles, the modern illumination does not entirely relieve householders of vigilance.

In selecting strings of lights, fire department officials caution that they should bear the UL (Underwriters Laboratory) stamp of approval — and safety.

Moreover, they warn against leaving an extension cord to the tree exposed so that an accidental footstep could cause a short circuit by damaging its insulation and exposing the wire. Lights should never be left burning during absence from the house or after the family has retired for the night. Burning bulbs have been known to explode and ignite trees.

A third source of danger is the combustible dryness of trees unless they are kept moist from the time they are put up until taken down. Incidentally, it is suggested that trees be dismantled and disposed of immediately after Christmas.

Finally, after presents are opened, the accumulation of wrapping and other inflammable material should be disposed of at once.

Keep your Christmas bright by doing right.

Now Where's That Old 'Protest' Spirit!

Congress in Jam on Welfare Aid

WASHINGTON — Congress is in a jam. It wants to put through a $3.6 billion increase in Social Security benefits, but the same measure happens to include some provisions intended to correct abuses in the use of "welfare" money by persons who do not wish to work. The two factions in Congress are nearly equal — those who want to retain the restrictions already in the bill, and those who think that damage will be done to such projects as "aid to families with dependent children."

So the second group argues that it would be much better to wait until January to deal with this program in a separate measure.

Meanwhile, the administration is inclined to take what it can get at this session, even though this includes some unpopular provisions on the welfare side, the theory being that a comprehensive revision can be undertaken at the next session of Congress.

The problem has been gnawing at the members of both houses for some time. Wide-spread complaints have been voiced.

In 1958, for instance, there were 756,000 families and 2.9 million individuals getting help under the Aid to Dependent Children program, at a cost of $900 million. This kind of assistance now goes to 12 million families and 55 million individuals, and costs $1.5 billion a year.

With the influx of Negroes, the big cities in the North have found their welfare rolls soaring year by year.

In New York City, for instance, Mayor Lindsay has said that women with dependent children account for 80 per cent of the relief load of the metropolis and that he believes such a percentage prevails in every major city.

The number of New York City's population on relief rolls has been growing at the rate of 12,000 a month, despite a decline in total population. Unfortunately, the problem is not easy to resolve because many of these children are illegitimate and the bulk of them are in fatherless homes.

In some instances, fathers not in the homes get the benefit of the checks, despite the efforts of many of the states to adhere to a "man in the house" rule so as to reduce cheating by women who say they have been deserted or abandoned.

Congress this time has tried to develop some incentives so as to persuade the father to remain with the family and give the youngsters a better upbringing.

Thus, pending legislation would allow families to retain a certain portion of their monthly income before public assistance checks would be computed.

In many instances husbands have really deserted their families, and the mothers feel that they cannot, if they go to work, get enough money to pay for the care of their children.

Bob Considine Says:

Judicial Ruling Reflects Lusty Life of Errol Flynn

NEW YORK — People ...

The late Errol Flynn's magnificent estate in Jamaica, crowded by a superb house that was completed just as he died at 50, nine years ago, has been a source of troubled litigation ever since.

Suits evolved around whether he was a resident of Jamaica, or Tasmania, where he was born, or California — where he made some of his bravest pictures.

In London last month Justice Megarry of the High Court handed down a legalistic ruling which also must have cheered Errol's mourning fans and other readers of Playboy.

His lordship ruled that Flynn, who died in Vancouver and whose will was contested in New York and England — to compound the other litigation — was legally domiciled in Jamaica.

He recalled that Errol first was attracted to the island in 1947 when bad weather forced his steam-driven love barge into a sea harbor there during a storm.

But that was just in passing, in his lordship's ruling. Speaking of one of the estate's assets, the white-wigged jurist said:

"INTENDED TO SELL." "It is plain that the book ('My Wicked, Wicked Ways') was intended to sell and to entertain. I do not doubt it has done both. I am not suggesting that what is said in the book is untrue but truth is impression is often given by what is omitted rather than what is said."

"As a sexual athlete he may have gained Olympic standards, and probably this was part of the public image which the book was intended to show."

The judge spoke, apparently with some feeling about Flynn's "full, lusty, restless and colorful life."

He added, regretably, "His emotional friendships with women were numerous and, although he enjoyed great success, his manner and scale of living was such that he never managed to conserve his earnings."

Beats our Supreme Court decisions.

Questions Effect of Picketing for Roads

I notice you gave front page coverage to a few Oakland Community College students picketing to have a rough road paved, presumably not at their expense.

As a taxpayer who lives on a rough road and whose taxes help support the college, please let me know if this front page publicity has created enough pressure on the authorities to get the road paved. If so, perhaps all of us in the County who live on rough roads can get up to photograph us picketing, with the pictures placed on the front page. Perhaps we can all get our roads paved.

'Utah Seldom Listed in Casualty Reports'

Is Utah exempt on Gen. Hershey's book? It is with sympathy for the "kin folks" that I read the war casualty reports listed by states and home addresses in the Pontiac Press. Utah has a population of 885,000 compared to Vermont with 383,000. We seldom see Utah listed in these casualty reports while Vermont appears in most reports.

Could it be that Mr. Hershey skipped the "U" in our alphabet in his schooling?

Views Waterford Township Tax Increase

I wish to question the Waterford Township tax office about our 1967 property taxes and I must not be the only one shocked by the $70 increase in one year, or they have the phone receiver off the hook. How can they increase the property valuation without any prior notification to the property owners? Most in this area are hard-working people and some are very old and retired and cannot afford tax increases, especially when we know it will be spent foolishly.

If we didn't have to give 44 1/2 per cent of our income to taxes, maybe we wouldn't have all these strikes. This country has never made more money, but we have never paid more taxes either.

'Many Mothers Face Financial Problems'

In answer to Ruby Key's letter on ADC, her only complaint is the high cost of living for all of us. A great portion of the people do not make as much as she is getting for doing nothing. I am a divorcee, and therefore a working mother, with a take-home pay of $410 per month. I pay a sister $170 a month and room and board, which leaves $240 per month.

It's a poor situation when the government pays people on ADC and welfare more money than the average class of people makes. I feel it would benefit all if they cut down the amount of money given and subsidize working parents during certain hard times.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Inflation ...

Chicago Tribune

High production costs, caused by inflation and the demands of labor unions for higher and higher wages, are pricing the United States out of the markets of the world. We are losing our competitive position and the consequences will be more inflation, and fewer jobs for American workers.

Our foreign trade surplus declined from 6.7 billion dollars in 1964 to 4.8 billion in 1965 and 3.7 billion in 1966. It increased to an annual rate of 4.2 billion in the first half of 1967, but during October exports dropped to the lowest level in 18 months — and devaluation of the pound sterling by Britain, our best European customer, will further adversely affect the United States trade balance.

The United States already is a trade deficit country. The figures, showing a surplus, include military grant aid, shipments to United States military establishments overseas, and subsidized agricultural exports under the "food for peace" program.

When these costs are included and the noncommercial exports are excluded, the trade balance is reversed from surplus to deficit. The accumulated deficit in all foreign transactions, including merchandise trade, was $3.3 billion dollars from 1959 thru 1966.

The character of our foreign trade is changing ominously. Technologically the United States is the most advanced country in the world, but in spite of enormous capital investment to increase industrial efficiency we are losing our competitive advantage in foreign markets because of labor costs.

Formerly we imported tropical products, raw materials, and finished goods with a low labor coefficient, while exporting mainly manufactured goods. Now we are importing manufactured goods and exporting mainly agricultural products, chemical raw materials, scrap iron, and other products with a low labor content.

In 1966, United States imports of manufactured goods valued at 6.3 billion dollars, compared with exports of 3.4 billion. We still had a large trade surplus in machinery and transportation equipment (exports 11.1 billion, imports 4.8 billion), but even in this category we face increasing competition from western Europe and Japan.

Imports of manufactured goods in 1966 included iron and steel valued at 13 billion dollars. This was 11 per cent of all the iron and steel consumed in the United States. In the first nine months of 1967, iron and steel imports totaled 8,134,000 tons, compared with 7,891,000 in the same period last year, and foreign manufacturers increased their share of the United States market to 11.7 per cent.

Edwin H. Gott, president of the United States Steel Corporation, attributes the import problem mainly to the disparity between American and foreign labor costs.

Rails Speed Freight Flow With Electronic Boost

The railroads of the United States are becoming one of the biggest users of miracle-working machines of the electronic age. High-speed information-gathering and processing equipment is being increasingly adapted to rail operations.

One of the most significant breakthroughs in transportation technology in many years is heralded by the adoption of an industrywide automatic car identification system to monitor the railroads' fleet of 1.8 million freight cars.

Rapidly rising demands for transport services make it essential that all available rolling stock be used to the utmost. Seasonal and regional freight car shortages in the past have often been occasioned by the difficulty of keeping track of available cars and scheduling their movements to various points in the Nation where they would be needed.

The complexities of spotting and routing cars can be appreciated when you consider that railroads serve 45,000 U.S. communities over 212,000 miles of right-of-way.

The new system will make possible rapid location of any freight car in the country. Electronically operated track-side scanners will read multi-colored "service stripes" on a freight car at speeds up to 80 m.p.h. even under severe weather conditions.

It is estimated that this new system will mean as much as a 10 per cent increase in the efficiency of current utilization — or roughly the equivalent of 180,000 new freight cars. This, combined with the 71,000 new cars acquired this year, will mean a significant increase in the Nation's rail transport efficiency and capacity.

Such self-improvement retards inflation as savings on shipping costs are reflected in the retail prices of almost everything we buy.

Congress Struggles to Regain Voice

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON — Whatever the final record of the 90th Congress, it is most likely to be remembered for trying to recapture influence and authority previous congresses have lost to the executive branch.

By ordering substantial cuts in spending before it will even consider President Johnson's request for a tax increase, Congress has told the administration it wants a larger voice in controlling the growth of the federal government.

By transferring control of important education and anti-poverty programs from the federal bureaucracy to state and local governments, it has called for a halt in the long trend toward centralization of authority in executive agencies in Washington.

Also under challenge is the President's authority to send U.S. forces into overseas combat without congressional approval. A resolution calling on the President to get such approval is awaiting Senate debate.

Such congressional declarations of independence would have seemed ludicrous to an earlier breed of congressmen accustomed to dealing with passive presidents.

NEW DEAL

But the exercise of presidential power that marked occasional administrations became an overpowering force in the early days of the New Deal. White House occupants since Franklin D. Roosevelt have consolidated and added to his gains.

Where presidents once were content to suggest programs for Congress to act on, they now send the complete draft of bills to Capitol Hill and fight any attempt to alter them.

Under the shadow of nuclear war and recurring foreign crises, presidents since 1950 have tended to act first in foreign affairs and then ask Congress to back them up.

"We want to pause in the head-long rush toward ever bigger government," said Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee in touching off the revolt against Johnson's tax request.

TYRANNY THREATENED

The Senate resolution calling on Congress to "reassert its constitutional authority over the use of the armed forces" said until it does "the American people will be threatened with tyranny or disaster."

Whether the 90th Congress will be able to follow up what it has begun remains to be seen. The move is essentially a reaction to the Vietnam war and its economic dislocations.

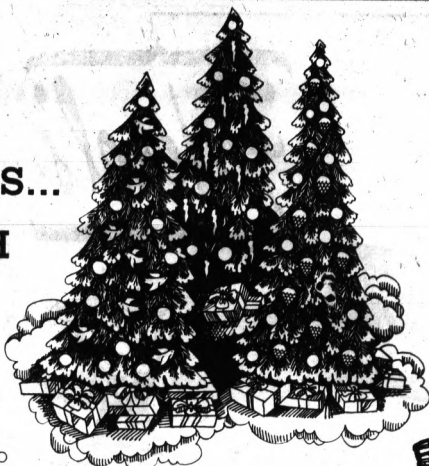

An improvement in the war situation might cool congressional ardor for a fight with the President, particularly in an election year with its stress on party loyalty.

"But the things that are being said now about the need for Congress to reassert itself have a validity beyond the moment, and if not the 90th, a future Congress may heed them."

Area Firms Begin Counseling Program at Pontiac Central

A new program designed to help high school youths know about job opportunities began at Pontiac Central High School last week.

The first of some 35 to 40 companies to take part was Pontiac Motor Division which had a display in school last week and a regular employment expert on hand to counsel youth.

The program was begun with cooperation of the high school officials by the Pontiac Area Urban League.

Clarence Barnes, executive director of the Urban League, said the first week's results are encouraging.

Some of the knowledge gained from corporation representatives will enable high school students, both boys and girls, to plan their school subjects and aim toward particular jobs or careers after high school, he said.

FOCAL GROUP

Barnes said the program is designed primarily to help students who will not go on to college, but it also helps those who will.

William Wallace, an interviewer with the salaries personnel department of Pontiac Motor Division, said that while special information can be of value to the students seeking jobs right after graduation, the company tries to encourage every student to continue education or training beyond the high school level.

This can be pursued at a variety of schools, such as trade, technical, colleges and universities, he said.

Wallace said many students are not aware of the different occupations that they can enter, and sometimes when they are looking forward to a particular job they do not take the necessary preparatory courses.

SECRETARIAL TRAINING

"For instance, a lot of girls think that to be a secretary they should concentrate particularly on business courses.

"But, sometimes they do this without giving themselves an adequate background in English. It's far more important to have a good understanding and grasp of the English language, although the other courses are helpful, too."

He said a good secretary can be a help to her boss by transforming "shop jingo" into easily understandable language.

Wallace said there are many opportunities for high school graduates through job training and apprenticeship programs.

PONTIAC DISPLAY

As an encouragement to the students, the Pontiac display spells out the various programs available through General Motors.

One shows what happened to a typical class of apprentices who completed their training in 1948.

Of the 48 in the class, one became a plant superintendent, one an assistant superintendent, three design engineers, three that an "end run" into North Vietnam, while offering military advantages, should not be undertaken because of wider considerations.

GOP Group Says Wider War Indicated

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—The Wilson Society, a liberal Republican research group, reports recent developments could indicate an American invasion of North Vietnam.

"In the context of past plans and discussions, a number of publicly recorded events point in the direction of a wider war," the society said in an article prepared for the January issue of its magazine, Forum.

Among these, the article said, is the buildup of several well-trained divisions in North Vietnam, the exhaustion of bombing targets, the movement of two brigades of the 18th Airborne Division to South Vietnam and a warning to some defense contractors to expect manpower controls comparable to those imposed in World War II.

The article called for a level-headed inquiry "into the possibility the war in South Vietnam might spill beyond that country's border."

The society said the article was "not designed to predict an invasion of North Vietnam or a new Gulf of Tonkin incident," but to build a case for public concern.

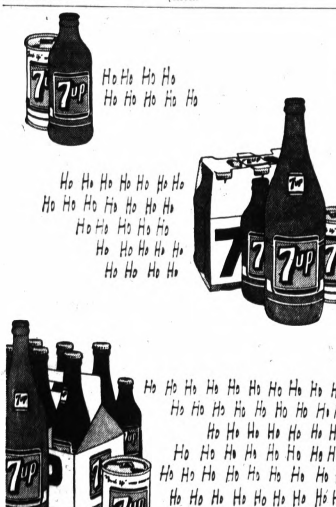

FULL COSTS

"The time to consider the full costs of an escalation in Vietnam should not be postponed until a moment of crisis and excitement.

"The matter should be discussed now and the full implications examined.

"Both Congress and the press have a duty in this regard, and we call the matter to their attention not to spread alarm but to encourage sober debate and to responsible inquiry," the article said.

As an example of the kind of intelligent discussion it believed needed, the society pointed to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's recent statement that an "end run" into North Vietnam, while offering military advantages, should not be undertaken because of wider considerations.

PROFILE OF POVERTY — Richard Church, officially a member of the poverty class, wants nothing more than a fire wagon for Christmas. It isn't much, but he probably won't get one. His father, an out-of-work West Virginia coal miner, gets $121 a month from the welfare department, and that has to stretch over six kids, a mother and an old family dog.

Christmas in Appalachia

Fire Wagon Is Unlikely Gift

By TOM TIEDE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WELCH, W. Va. — A mile and a half into the hills off State Route 10 near here, 7-year-old Richard Church waits excitedly for Christmas Day.

He wants a fire wagon.

"Boy," he says, "oh, boy, I can hardly wait."

Frankly, his wish is a selfish and impractical one. He needs other things worse.

He needs shoes, for instance. He needs a haircut badly. He could even use a pair of stockings so that one might hang over the door Christmas eve.

IMPORTANT TO BOY

But, then, a fire wagon is important to a boy, even a boy who has nothing else.

And besides, shoes would hurt his feet, his hair would grow shaggy again, and a stocking over the door would very likely go empty.

So, a fire wagon.

"Oh, boy!"

Will he get it? Probably not. Young Richard Church is one of the 34 million Americans who await the holidays this year under the official government pronouncement of belonging to the poverty class . . . that is, a member of a family whose total income is $3,000 or less each year.

EARNS NOTHING

In Richard's case, his family earns nothing each year.

His father, an out-of-work coal miner, gets $121 a month from the welfare department, and that has to stretch over six kids, a mother and an old family dog.

Take two or three meals a day for eight mouths, the rent, the electricity, enough clothing to keep the chill away . . . and the rest of December's $121 may not cover a fire wagon, not even a cheap one, which is the only kind under consideration.

Richard's mother, Patricia, 35, says the family will definitely celebrate Christmas.

A GOOD MEAL

She promises a tree, because they can be freely harvested from the immediate Appalachian hills. And she promises, with food-stamp aid, a good meal.

But a fire wagon?

"Well," she shrugs, "we'll see."

Actually, young Richard Church understands the impossibilities here. And he tempers his wishes with knowing restraint.

A kid who seldom gets anything he asks for is hardly an optimist. A kid like that is suspicious of hope.

HE KNOWS

And the boy is icily realistic anyway. He knows full well the way it is.

In his time he has had most of life's cold water tossed at him.

He is, for one thing, cross-eyed. His right pupil turns decidedly inward.

When he wants to see anything clearly, which is most of the time, he must cock his head to one side to get the correct focus.

SIDE EFFECTS

This sight problem itself isn't so bad, perhaps, but the side effects are dangerous.

The deformity has upset Richard's sense of balance and often falls for no reason . . . down the stairs, in the dirt, on the rocks.

It happens daily.

"Like to scare us to death," his parent admits.

Mrs. Church says a clinic doctor in Bluefield prescribed corrective lenses years ago. But she didn't know where to get them. "So I never did."

TOO BUSY WORRYING

But actually, getting the spectacles has never rated high priority in the Church family. Nobody really pays that much attention to Richard's eyes. Everybody is too busy worrying about the rest of him.

"He is," says the mother, "also an epileptic."

Richard is, in fact, a serious epileptic. He has a seizure almost daily. And virtually all of his waking hours are spent in periodic fits of less intensified but completely uncontrolled shaking.

"He'll just be sitting there or something," says Mrs. Church, "and then it'll happen. He just goes to pieces. Ain't nothing we can do for him at all."

HASN'T RETURNED

Combined, Richard Church's physical miseries have forced him into a shut-in's existence.

He attended a preschool program two years ago but kicked himself out during a fit and hasn't returned to class since.

HIS DOG STANDS GUARD — As the family dog stands watch, Richard Church slumps in a corner of his house in West Virginia. An epileptic and cross-eyed, he seldom leaves his home, which is unpainted and almost unfurnished. Plastic sheets are nailed to the windows. The roof leaks. And coal dust covers everything.

Today he seldom leaves his home, which is a half-century old, unpainted and almost unfurnished.

Plastic sheets are nailed to the windows. The roof leaks. A stain of coal dust covers everything . . . including Richard.

DREARY DAYS

His days are dreary and monotonous. Morning. Afternoon. Evening. All the same. Sleep. Wake up. Begin the whole thing over again.

Mostly, the boy plays with whatever is available, which isn't much.

He runs around the rubbed yard without shoes. He likes to dig the ground with sticks. He sits on the porch. There is an old, woeful television set.

"He don't do much," his mother says, "he needs something."

In truth, Richard Church needs almost everything. Medical attention, balanced meals, education, decent clothing. But as of now, this Christmas, there is scant possibility of this classic case of privation getting any of them.

Not even the fire wagon.

U. S. Air Toll: Who Is Right?

Hanoi Exaggerating,
Says Yank General

SAIGON (AP) When Hanoi broadcasts that it has shot down 3½ times as many planes as the United States admits losing, what is the answer?

"They started off exaggerating, and now they're stuck with it," says Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, chief of information for the U.S. Command.

"We guarantee the figures we're giving out. Hanoi has been exaggerating for two years. They can't very well go back. I don't have the slightest idea why they do it. It is so far removed from reality, it doesn't make any sense."

There is a possibility of duplication in Hanoi's reporting of U.S. planes shot down, he added.

SEEKING FORMULA

"For example," he said, "one gunner shoots at a plane from the east of Hanoi, another from the west and another from the north, and they all turn it in."

Studies have been made seeking the formula the North Vietnamese use.

"We tried taking the duplicating factor into consideration but that didn't work out," Sidle said. "We tried all kinds of complicated devices and none of them worked out."

Gen. Jammie M. Philpott, deputy chief of staff for intelligence for the U.S. 7th Air Force says: "They overclaim."

U.S. REPORTS

Radio Hanoi has claimed North Vietnamese gunners have shot down 2,507 American warplanes since the United States bombing campaign began in February 1965. The U.S. Command's reports last week listed 758 American planes shot down.

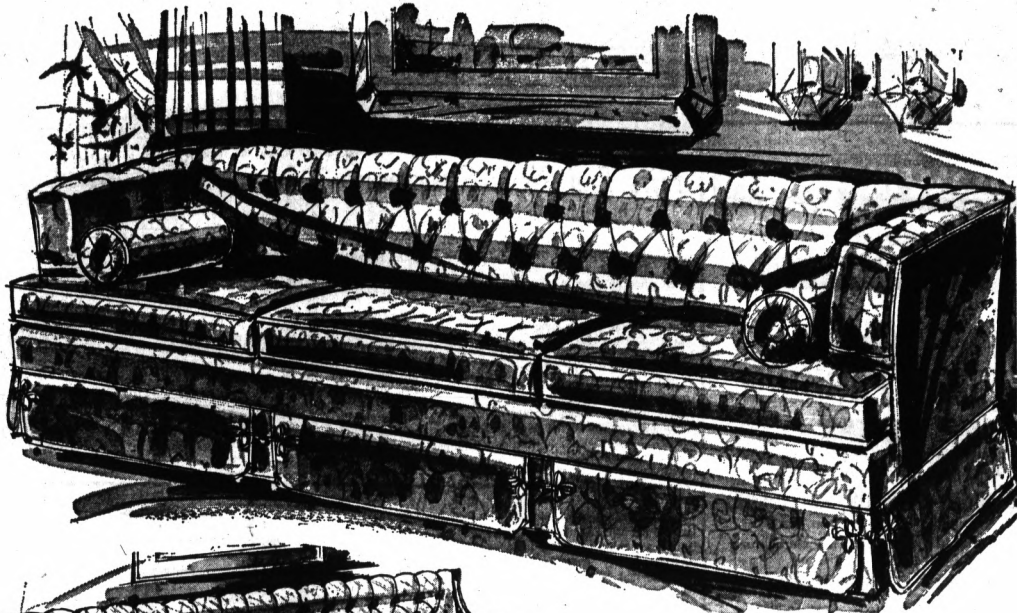

"Four surface to air missiles may be shot at one plane and it is shot down, but they claim two or three," Philpott theorized. "The flow of information and the recording of information is fast. There is no time to analyze."

Philpott said the United States sometimes is trapped the same way. During raids on the Phuc Yen airfield in October, he recalled, first reports from pilots indicated that 17 MIG interceptors had been destroyed on the ground. This information was passed on to news media but analysis of reconnaissance photographs showed four MIGs were destroyed and eight damaged on the ground.

Astronomer: Mars Probe Is Imperative

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — One of the nation's foremost astronomers says it is of the utmost importance that the United States reinstate plans for exploration of the planet Mars.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Institution's astrophysical observatory, told a recent meeting of the American Astronomical Society in New York that it is imperative that man search the planet for evidence of life.

Recent congressional cuts in the space agency's current budget virtually killed the Voyager project that was to land unmanned spacecraft on the Red Planet in 1973 and 1975 to look for life.

"We very badly need a soft-lander on Mars to find out if there is any life there," Whipple said in an interview.

If there is, he said it would show that the life force in the universe "must be immensely powerful and practically omnipresent wherever conditions are remotely favorable."

MARINER PROBE

America's Mariner 4 probe two years ago found that the Martian atmosphere is only about 1 per cent as thick as Earth's and that the planet closely resembles the moon.

But Whipple said that, even though Mars is far more inhospitable than had been anticipated, "We must not be discouraged by the practical elimination of possible settlement forms existing there."

"It is of the utmost importance that we reinstate our original plans for continuing exploration of this planet," he said.

Rider on Pay Bill Was Sneaked In

Dem Wins Ban on Nepotism

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Iowa congressman has won his six-year fight for passage of legislation to ban nepotism in the federal government— from the smallest post office to Congress and the White House.

Rep. Neal Smith, a Democrat serving his fifth term, says the power of federal officials including judges to hire relatives or get jobs for them in other federal agencies is unfair to other job seekers.

"I don't think the government gets its money's worth when anybody is getting his rider through," Smith said in an interview. "There are exceptions—some of these relatives work hard—but the bad overcomes the good."

Smith's antinepotism proposal was a rider to a bill raising the pay of federal workers and hiking postal rates. Congress passed the measure Tuesday and sent it to President Johnson, who's expected to sign it.

The measure will not affect relatives already working for congressmen and other officials.

Smith said some absent opponents of the plan weren't happy when they found out what he did. "But if they were interested in amendments they should have been there," he added.

Once the rider was in the bill, congressional sources said, it would have been embarrassing for any member to fight it.

"About half the relatives working in Congress do their work; half don't earn their pay," Smith said.

Complaints Dip for Police in Waterford

The Waterford Township Police Department investigated three fewer complaints last month than the previous November, however, complaints through 11 months this year are far ahead of last year's total for the same period.

Last month, township police investigated 817 complaints, including 147 larcenies, 77 malicious destruction of property reports, 56 break-ins and 13 automobile thefts, according to a report accepted by the Township Board last night.

Through 11 months this year, the department has investigated 9,646 complaints compared with 8,700 for the same period last year.

The complaints already have exceeded the 1966 total of 9,571, the report indicated.

Arrested last month were 77 adults and 25 juveniles. Police cited drivers for 86 traffic violations, 78 involving adults and eight juveniles.

Dog warden complaints investigated last month totaled 381. Eleven citations were issued by the animal welfare department and 120 dogs were transported to the Oakland County Animal Shelter.

Town Rallies Behind Fake Doctor

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The man who was a Texas lumber town's only doctor for more than five months—until jailed as an ex-convict imposter last week—says he is astonished at the way townspeople have rallied around him.

"I'm amazed by these people, by their faith in me and their desire to help," said Freddie Brant, alias Dr. Reid L. Brown.

He referred to the residents of Groveton, who have circulated a petition urging for leniency in prosecuting Brant on perjury and forgery charges. They also have talked of raising money to send him to medical school so he can become a legitimate physician.

"I wouldn't be accepted by any medical school because of my prison record," the crew-cut Brant, 44, said at a news conference Tuesday in the office of his lawyer, Emmett Colvin. He posted $10,000 bond at Kaufman, Tex., earlier in the day.

"I'd rather they'd donate any money they collect to the hospital fund," he said.

During his stay at Groveton in eastern Texas, he helped organize a drive for a hospital in the town of 1,200. The nearest doctor was more than 30 miles distant before Brant moved into an abandoned clinic in July.

Brant said he'd like to return to Groveton when free of his legal entanglements—as an X-ray laboratory technician, for which he is qualified, rather than as a make-believe physician.

"It will feel wonderful to work again without fear of something happening," he said, adding that it "was a great relief" to be found out.

The charges stem from his posing as Dr. Reid L. Brown from 1964 to last May at Terrell State Hospital in Terrell, Tex., where he worked as a physician taking psychiatric training.

Detroit Poverty Official Hits Del Rio's Subpoena

DETROIT (UPI)—State Rep. James Del Rio sought to publicize his own personal views about Detroit's poverty program when he signed a subpoena against two top city poverty officials ordering them to turn over financial records, one of the officials has charged.

Del Rio, a Detroit Democrat and chairman of the Michigan House committee which is investigating the administration of the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development (HRD), Monday signed a subpoena against Richard Simmons, acting director of HRD, and Bernard Klein, city controller.

He said his committee wanted to find out what had happened to the $53 million spent in the Detroit poverty program, and charged that "stalling tactics" had been used in turning over documents to an investigating agency.

In a letter to the Michigan House of Representatives yesterday, Simmons said Del Rio seems to have shifted "from a previously announced desire to investigate numerous complaints regarding irregularities in the local administration of the poverty program to publicize his personal views about Detroit's Community Action Program."

Simmons called on Del Rio to substantiate or retract his charges, and said that the records and files of HRD are open for public inspection, since it is a public agency.

"I would only be too glad to meet with the House or any of its committees at any time," Simmons said.

Another on NY Mayor's Team Resigns

NEW YORK (AP) — When he took office Mayor John V. Lindsay recruited a breed of bright young men he called "urbanists" and assigned them key posts in his administration. But their turnover has been high: In less than 24 months 10 Lindsay appointees have resigned—some under fire, some in anger, some with regret and some with relief.

The latest to leave, Water Commissioner James L. Marcus, one of Lindsay's top political advisers, resigned Tuesday while the district attorney's office was investigating a complaint about his activities as an investment counselor before he joined the city administration.

Marcus, slated for a top job as head of the Environmental Protection Administration, one of the mayor's proposed super-agencies, fit the Lindsay specifications perfectly.

LONG HOURS

At the time of his nationwide talent search, close aides said the mayor was looking for a "Kennedy-type" administration, meaning "young, brainy and vigorous." Selection, they said, was based on a man's ability to work long hours and his absence of political affiliation.

Marcus, the 37-year-old son-in-law of John Davis Lodge, former governor of Connecticut, was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, spent several years in business, joined Lindsay as a mayoral assistant and began a steady climb to the top of the Lindsay team.

His surprise resignation was announced as political leaders speculated on the status of Health Services Administrator Howard Brown, who is in the hospital with a case of infectious hepatitis.

It has been rumored that Brown had also handed in his resignation, but Lindsay said Tuesday he would make no comment until Brown leaves the hospital.

Lindsay was initially pleased by the success of his talent search. At the end of his first year in office, he said one of his major accomplishments had been the installment of "competent young men—the 'urbanists' that new breed of nonpolitical government specialists—in key municipal positions of responsibility and judgment."

However, the rash of resignations since the Republican mayor's appraisal—seven since February—drew sharp criticism Tuesday from City Councilman Edward L. Sadowsky.

"The first requirement for the successful operation of our agencies is for administrators to stick with their job," the Queens Democrat said. "What appears to be a precipitous departure of top executives in recent months alleged shakedowns and promotion payoffs in his department. The 56-year-old sanitation chief was not personally mentioned in any charges.

First to leave the Lindsay team was Sanitation Commissioner Joseph F. Periconi, who resignation was announced, Lindsay resigned his $30,000-a-year post in November after a probe into on his desk—from Deputy Mayor

Robert Price and Press Secretary Woody Klein.

Price, 33, Lindsay's closest political adviser and manager of his four successful congressional campaigns and his mayoral campaign, left his protegee to become an executive with the Dreyfus Fund, Inc.

Mrs. Hillerman Keeps 'Sew' Busy

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Initiative and independence have always been the hallmark of Americans. These traits have not been lost and anyone who thinks they have should make the acquaintance of Myrtle Hillerman.

For over 25 years, Mrs. Hillerman has operated her own tailoring shop in Pontiac. This spunky little woman says she'll never retire. She believes that working every day keeps her from growing old.

Southern Illinois was her birthplace and she lived on a farm and in small towns until her graduation from high school.

All the women in her family sewed so it was natural that she learn the skill. Everyone made her clothes at home in those days.

CLAN ARRIVES

One of Myrtle's sisters had come to Pontiac to live and Myrtle came for a visit that was to become permanent. Eventually, a number of brothers and sisters followed them here.

For a while, she ran a multigraph for General Motors Corporation. But she left that job to take up her first love—sewing.

She was with Barnett's Clothing for 12 years, resigning only when she opened her own shop. Sydney Barnett was her first customer.

Freedom of work and hours is what appeals to her as an independent business woman. She does both altering of men's and women's clothing and makes new garments.

She is training a grandniece who helps her weekends and who expects to pack her sewing machine when she goes to college next fall.

For nearly 50 years Myrtle has been married to Arnold Hillerman; they will celebrate their golden anniversary in April. The couple has a daughter, two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Holding a full time job doesn't stop Mrs. Hillerman from participating in the civic affairs of Pontiac.

She was president of the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs from 1958-1960. At that time, the Pontiac Citizens Committee on Youth was formed and she became a member. This is a post she still holds; she is in her second year as president of the group. She is still on the Federation board.

She has been on the board of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra since it was formed.

The first edition of "Who's Who of American Women" lists Myrtle Hillerman. What does Myrtle Hillerman do if and when an hour of leisure presents itself? She does needlepoint.

Guest Conductor Is Scheduled at Detroit Symphony

Sergiu Comissiona, recently appointed music director of the Goteborg Symphony Orchestra, makes his first appearance as guest conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra this Thursday and Saturday. Concert times at Ford Auditorium is 8:30 p.m.

Comissiona was born in Bucharest, Rumania in 1929. His musical training included violin, chamber music, theory and composition plus special training in conducting.

From 1959 until this season, he was conductor and musical director of the Haifa Symphony Orchestra.

PROGRAM

Comissiona's program will include Ravel's complete music for the ballet "Daphnis and Chloe," with chorus. The Wayne State University Choral Union, conducted by Malcolm Johns, will participate, in conjunction with the Centennial Celebration of the University.

Malcolm Johns is associate professor of music at Wayne State University, and is organist and choir master of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The 120-voice Choral Union is primarily devoted to performing large choral works with orchestra.

The other work performed will be Stravinsky's "Petrouchka."

Teen Manners Sometimes Vary From Adult's

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I have always been taught that a gentleman gets off a bus first, turns and helps his lady companion off for fear of her falling. I was shocked to see a teen-ager on a bus almost knock her date down so she could get off the bus first. Then she stood on the street and held out her hand as if she were helping him.

I think this teen-ager was extremely wrong. Teen-agers read your column and I hope your answer will straighten out some of these discourtesies. — Paula Gilpin.

Dear Paula: You are right that an adult gentleman precedes a lady down steps and turns to help her as she follows. BUT — a teen-ager girl rarely needs such assistance. The youngsters you saw undoubtedly thought they were observing good manners when he let her go ahead of him.

Correct behavior must be taught from an early age, but it sometimes varies to fit the circumstances. It is difficult to say where to draw the line between what is right for youngsters and what is right for adults, but the child who is taught to base his manners on thoughtfulness and consideration will change his customs to adapt to his growing up.

When he reaches the age where his date needs assistance, he will — if he has been taught to be aware of such things — undoubtedly act in such a way as to provide it.

Is He Afraid or Just Fooling You?

Let Mate 'Relate' Own Feelings

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband works in an administrative group. They are all highly educated people.

In searching for new approaches to work, they bandy such terms as "creativity," "sensitivity" and "relating" to one another. My husband says it is tiresome and ludicrous.

Not only does this require special meanings, they also retreat to some dull ranch where there is a bar, pool, fine meals and overnight accommodations to relate to each other even better.

Left over spouses are not included, so we sit home for days, waiting for them to finish up all the relating they can't seem to accomplish in town at the office.

I think it's admirable to organize such outings for the unmarrieds to help lead them to closer interpersonal relationships with each other, but my poor husband gets fed up with all this nonsense.

He telephones to tell me how bored he is, and frequently he comes home early if he hasn't driven out with someone else. I asked him what would happen if he flatly refused to go. What do you think, Abby? FROSTED IN TUCSON

DEAR FROSTED: And what did he say? If the whole business is as tiresome and ludicrous as he says it is, why doesn't he flatly refuse to go and find out?

DEAR ABBY: My teen-aged daughter is convinced she is ugly, and she is right. The sad part of it is, she does it to herself. She is a very bright girl, and God gave her a pretty face, but she ruins her appearance by wearing her hair in an unruly mop and letting her posture go.

I have told her if she would cut off half that mop and take some time for exercise to strengthen her abdominal muscles and her ankles each day she would be attractive, but she doesn't listen to me.

Should I continue to nag and insult her? Or should I let her face the insults of the outside world?

LOVING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Leave her alone. If she is as bright as you say she is, she will soon realize she is losing out (if indeed she is) because of her appearance, and she will do something about it.

DEAR ABBY: I am trying to plan my daughter's wedding, and my problem is that her fiancé has too many parents. His mother was married six times and his father was married four times. They have remained friendly with all their ex-mates, and not only that, there are half-sisters and half-brothers and stepchildren galore, not to mention grandparents on all sides. The other night my daughter started counting them and she quit at 48.

If I invite all these folks to the wedding there won't be room for anybody else. Where does one draw the line?

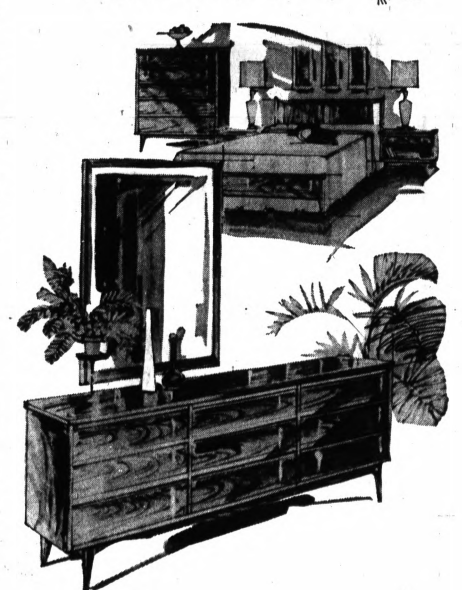

How can we tactfully get this message across to my daughter's fiancé?

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: Allow your daughter's fiancé "X" number of guests, and let him invite whomever he wishes.

Three Matinees Open to Public

The John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre will open three matinee performances of "Charley's Aunt" to the public.

The play begins Friday and continues through Jan. 14.

Managing director David Bishop said student matinees scheduled for Dec. 26, 27 and 28 have been opened to the public because of school Christmas vacations and heavy popular demand for tickets to the delightful farce.

Tickets to the Christmas holiday matinees, which begin at 1:30 p.m., are being sold at $3 on an unreserved-seat basis.

Evening performances are presented at 8:15 p.m. on Wednesdays through Saturdays, and at 6:30 p.m. on Sundays.

Exchange certificates for tickets to productions at the Meadow Brook Theatre are now available for use as gifts.

Company manager Donald Britton said the Theatre has prepared special, attractive gift certificates to meet increasing demand for Christmas and other occasions.

"Many individuals and businesses have requested a convenient way to give theatre tickets," Britton said. "It's difficult to give actual tickets," he explained, "because they must be chosen by the giver in advance for specific performances."

With the new exchange certificates, the recipient of the gift can choose any performance of any play. He simply presents his gift certificate at the box office in return for tickets of his choice.

Gift certificates can be validated for anything from a single ticket to hundreds of tickets, or for season tickets, and in any price range.

For gift information, write or call Meadow Brook Theatre, Oakland University.

MOSCOW (AP) — The wife of a Russian village tractor driver has given birth to healthy quadruplets, Tass reported.

Mrs. Anna Korotneva, who has one other child, gave birth to two boys and two girls in the village of Sergiyevsk, near Kuybyshev, 500 miles southeast of Moscow and "all four babies are feeling fine," Tass added.

Scarf Storing Tip

A handy way to quickly find the scarf you choose to wear each day is to mount a strip of foam plastic on a closet wall or door, and pin the scarves to the strip from one corner. They will be easy to see and choose from.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

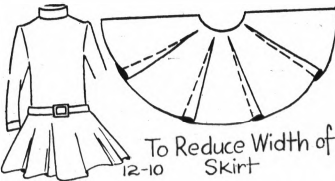

Dear Eunice Farmer,

My daughter loves the long bodice dresses with the circular skirts. However, she isn't too thin, and they are usually cut too full to be becoming. Is there any way the extra fabric can be taken out before I cut the skirt?

Mrs. L.R.

Dear Mrs. L.R.:

This isn't a difficult adjustment and could be used for all circular skirts to reduce the width at the lower edge.

Fold your pattern in several places on the skirt at even intervals. Pin a tuck resembling a dart in the paper pattern, beginning with approximately half inch at the lower cut edge and tapering to nothing at the hipline. The shorter the skirt, the less you will fold out of each tuck or dart.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I had a rather disastrous thing happen to a piece of velvet fabric. I bought it some time ago and didn't use it at that time. When I got it out to make, it had many creases in it. I placed it face down on a turkish towel and steam pressed it. Now it looks worse than ever. What, if anything, can I do?

Mrs. M.W.

Dear Mrs. M.W.:

There are only two ways velvet should be pressed unless you are a professional. The first is simply steaming the area to be pressed and brushing up the nap as it dries. The second is to use a velvet needle board for pressing seams etc.

This board is covered with tiny wires, and when the fabric is placed right side down over the board, you may press with the steam iron since the tiny wires protect the fabric. This makes a wonderful gift, even if you only use it once or twice a year, it can save a garment and is excellent for heavy napped fabrics as well.

I would suggest you take the fabric to a dry cleaners and see if they can save it for you. I wouldn't suggest any more home remedies. After this, whenever you purchase velvet, roll it immediately into eight or nine inch folds, and pin the selvages together with large safety pins and hang it from a hanger. This will keep the fabric in excellent condition until you are ready for it.

Between wearings, you may wish to hang your garment in the bathroom and steam it by running hot water in the bathtub and allowing it to penetrate the velvet. Brush the nap slightly as it dries and it will look new with each wearing.

Sell Pinatas

at Aztecas

Yule Bazaar

The annual Christmas bazaar of the Azteca Auxiliary will take place Friday from 5 to 9 p.m. in the cafeteria of Eastern Junior High School.

Typical Mexican fare will be served during those hours or may be purchased to be taken home. Tamales are a Christmas tradition of Mexico and will be available for snacks or take-outs.

Also for sale will be the pinatas shown in the accompanying picture.

The pinata is made by gluing a covering of paper mache over an inflated balloon. When dry, the balloon is pricked and withdrawn. The outside is decorated with crepe paper. Candy and small favors are dropped inside. When a lucky hit is made by a blindfolded player, a shower of treats is his reward.

Purchasers must provide their own sticks, which can be decorated with crepe paper streamers in keeping with the festive spirit.

Articles for home decoration will also be on sale.

Mrs. Ruben Flores of North Sanford Street, is president of the group, whose purpose is to improve the image of the Mexican segment of the population and stimulate interest in community affairs.

Proceeds of the bazaar will be added to the Auxiliary's building fund. Meetings are held presently in the home of the president.

A Large Pocket for Little Pickups

Make a large pocket in your cleaning apron to hold those many small odds and ends that have to be gathered up from everywhere while you are straightening up.

Such things as buttons, bobby pins, marbles, crayons, or small toys that the children have left on the floor. They are quickly placed in this pocket to be put away later when you are in the room where they belong.

Club Hears Chorus in Superb Program

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Pontiac Tuesday Musicales weeks ago with the Pontiac Chorus presented its annual Symphony Orchestra. Christmas concert yesterday afternoon at Central Methodist Church.

With Christine Gaensbauer as its director, the chorus was assisted by guest artists Betsy Fitzgerald, violinist and Sandra Myers, organist.

Soloists from within the group included Marilyn Chapman, Phyllis Gehman and Murle Mercer, sopranos, and Dorothy Pelton, flautist.

It was certainly a fresh and unhackneyed program, and the absence of the usual carols was a challenge to the musicianship and spiritual interpretation of director and chorus.

Ralph Vaughn Williams' contemporary "Magnificat" was the high point on the program; one could not help but compare yesterday's performance with the

In a lighter vein were a charming Latin carol, "Hasten Shepherds" with percussive background; "Rise Up Shepherd and 'S'wedish Dance Carol."

The program was climaxed with Bizet's "Agnus Dei," which featured Muriel Mercer in the solo voice part.

Miss Spain Selects Satin

A floor-length gown of white satin featuring sweetheart neckline was chosen by Eva Delores Spain for her Saturday nuptials with Vernon Orval Crowe Jr.

The bride, daughter of the senior Charles Spains of Summit Street, completed her ensemble with a flower, sequin headpiece holding a shoulder veil and carried white and blue carnations. Deborah Spain was her sister's maid of honor with bridesmaids, Pamela Gromer, Georgia Wilson and flower girls, Sandra and Patti Spain.

MEN Gary Crowe was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the senior Vernon Crowes of Rubbs Road. Ushers were Kenneth Karns Jr., Burtis and Benjie Crowe and Edward Gromer.

Big Drop in State Traffic Toll This Year Seen by Trooper Chief

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's new implied consent law requiring testing of drinking drivers and stepped-up enforcement, said, "With continued good luck, enforcement and good publicity, several inquiries have been received about Michigan's good record, one from New Zealand. The safety commission also was told that Michigan had the best traffic death record among the major industrial states at the end of eight months. The Michigan fatality rate is 4.2 deaths per 100 million miles of driving. * * * Davids reported breathalyzers now have been placed in all state police posts and 342 state policemen have been trained to operate the machines. The training course will continue until it is passed. Another 42 drivers refused to take the tests and State Safety Commission for the first time will have their cases judged by the license appeal board of the secretary of state's office. Secretary of state James Hore was reelected chairman of the State Safety Commission for the 14th consecutive year.

As of Tuesday, the state recorded 1,938 highway fatalities, down from 2,149 at that date a year ago.

Last year's final traffic death toll was 2,206, the highest on record. Delayed and late reported deaths helped make up the total.

"We believe the public has become more safety minded as a result of the generally increased emphasis on traffic safety," Davids said.

GOP Victor Will Go to Viet

Shirley Temple Black's Conqueror Tops Dem

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Republican Paul N. McCloskey, elected to Congress Tuesday on a Vietnam peace platform, says he will go to Vietnam as soon as possible.

Unknown before his upset primary victory over former child movie star Shirley Temple Black Nov. 14, McCloskey defeated Democrat Roy A. Archibald, 66,314 votes to 44,370, with all 567 precincts reporting in the affluent 11th Congressional District.

Winner of the Navy Cross and Silver Star while serving as a rifle platoon leader with the Marines during the Korea war, McCloskey ran as a Vietnam "dove," advocating negotiations for peace and a reunification of North and South Vietnam under the Geneva accords.

GOING TO WASHINGTON
The Portola Valley attorney told a news conference Tuesday night that he will go to Washington immediately to take care of applications for the service academies that piled up following the death of Congressman J. Arthur Younger last June.

As soon as he takes care of paper work, he wants to go to Vietnam, either as a congressman or in his present rank as a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Marine Reserve, he said.

"But if neither wants to send me, I'll pay my own way," he declared.

In both Washington and Vietnam, he said, he will ask: "Are the South Vietnamese willing to fight, now or in the near future?" "Are they willing to identify the Vietcong in their villages?" "Do they want to maintain an independent Vietnam at all costs?"

EARLY LEAD
McCloskey took an early lead and Archibald conceded only 40 minutes after the tabulations began.

Mrs. Black backed McCloskey after he defeated her in the primary by 15,000 votes. She disclaimed a write-in campaign by her supporters. She received 3,985 write-ins from a total turnout of 115,472, 51.6 per cent of the registered voters.

McCloskey is married and has four children.

A third-generation member of the California state bar, he won a landmark decision two years ago against the Atomic Energy Commission when he frustrated its plans to string overhead power lines past the community of Woodside, Mrs. Black's home town, to nearby Stanford University's two-mile-long atom smasher.

The courts upheld McCloskey's contention that this would violate local ordinances, and an agreement was reached with AEC to put the line underground at a future date.

Stranger Flushed Out Their Money

VERNON, Tex. (AP)—Five Vernon men rented a motel room Tuesday night and settled down to play poker.

The game had barely started when a stranger clad in blue jeans and a straw hat walked in and drew the top hand: A blue-steeled revolver. The stranger relieved the five of $2,500 in cash and their trousers, they told police.

New Fighter-Bombers Hold Big Promise

Monsoons Giving N. Viet a Breather

ABOARD THE RANGER (R) now. But virtually all of its 100 crew members are now in the Gulf of Tonkin from which strikes against North Vietnam are being launched. The northeast monsoon weather missions since the Corsairs of Tonkin from which strikes against North Vietnam are being launched. The northeast monsoon weather missions since the Corsairs of Tonkin from which strikes against North Vietnam are being launched.

Each of the $14-million Corsairs can carry about 10,000 pounds of bombs. Navy men say the Corsairs are stable, can go twice as far as an A4 with the same bomb load, and can stay on target hours longer.

They're roughly twice the size of the A4 is, said Cmdr. Jim Hill, 37, Davis City, Iowa, commander of the first A7 Corsair combat squadron now aboard the Ranger.

Now, Dr. Kit's experiments show that SV-40—a virus known to infect monkeys, hamsters, mice and cultured human embryonic cells—discards its protein coat and releases its genetic material (DNA) into the host cell's genes where it becomes one of them.

Some viruses attack cells by taking over their chemical machinery, forcing them to produce more viruses to infect other cells. But SV-40, Dr. Kit learned, actually becomes part of the cell's genetic material and releases the cell replicates, it carries with it virus genes that can be passed on to other cells.

Cancer Virus Pattern Found

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — New insight into the cancer-causing action of viruses was reported recently by researchers from a Texas laboratory.

From studies on mice, Dr. Saul Kit and co-workers at Baylor University College of Medicine, Houston, solved at least one case of the disappearing virus when they learned where a Simian Virus-40 goes after it infects a normal cell. Several types of cancer-causing viruses seem to disappear either from the cell or inside it after infection.

Now, Dr. Kit's experiments show that SV-40—a virus known to infect monkeys, hamsters, mice and cultured human embryonic cells—discards its protein coat and releases its genetic material (DNA) into the host cell's genes where it becomes one of them.

The Corsairs offer the pilot a great deal of protection with cockpit armor, self-sealing fuel tanks in critical areas and a dispersal of airframe components to minimize damage from Communist fire.

They also are equipped with two 20mm cannons, one on each side of the fuselage, and air-to-air missiles.

With a 3,600-pound bomb load and maximum fuel, they can fly more than 500 miles an hour.

Bringle said that the A7 "will be the workhorse as the A4 is now. The majority of the attack aircraft will be A7s eventually."

Bringle said in an interview before his news conference that the North Vietnamese probably get its real test as soon as there is a break in the monsoons. The bridges and likely a sea bad weather has kept Navy carriers away from the port of Haiphong for more than a month.

There is only one squadron of the A7 Corsairs, anywhere, striking North Vietnam from 20 to 28. This would in-aircraft will be A7s eventually.

Woman Unhurt, Ransom Recovered

Tyro Kidnapers' Victim Safe

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP) — armed men surrendered without a shot Tuesday when they held a woman's wife hostage for $50,000. Then, police said, they got only 11 blocks with the payoff.

A butcher and a cabinetmaker were taken into custody Tuesday when the ransom money and the unarmed hostage, Frances Howe, under a blanket on the floor of their car's back seat.

When a quickly mobilized police detail halted the car, the Hollywood.

As the two were being booked, Mrs. Howe and her husband, E. Frank Howe, related details of the two-hour ordeal:

Shortly after Mrs. Howe had gotten their 15-year-old son off to school, the doorbell rang at their $70,000 hilltop home in Glendale, a suburb northeast of Los Angeles.

"Two men with guns grabbed me and pushed me inside and told me they wanted money from my husband's bank," she said.

They commanded her to telephone nearby Van Nuys where her husband is vice president. On the phone, Howe was told to put $50,000 in a specified street trash can "if you want to see her alive."

When Howe said that much was ridiculous, the caller suggested $50,000. The banker said he didn't even have that much.

"Take it from the bank," he was told.

"That's also ridiculous," Howe said. "How can I take it from the bank? I'll have to tell someone."

"Then tell somebody . . . in case you think I'm not serious, I'll put your wife on the phone," Mrs. Howe told her husband shakily. "This is no joke. They mean it."

Howe called police, got the money from the bank, drove to the drop location and left the money in a paper bag. Some 50 police stalked out the location.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Howe said, the abductors tied her hands behind her back and put her in the back of the car.

"In a way, they treated me kindly and they were polite," she said. "They were not rough."

Police caught the car about two miles from where they saw one of its occupants pull the ransom money from the trash can.

Cheerleader Order Issued

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Kalamazoo school officials came up Tuesday with what they hope will be a solution to a hassle at Kalamazoo Central high school over Negro cheerleaders.

Dr. Richard N. Percy, Kalamazoo superintendent of schools issued a directive that cheerleader squads should be open to all candidates from now on.

In years past, tryouts were given and 14 cheerleaders were selected. This year's squad was all white, although last year's among them.

Under the new ruling, cheerleading will be conducted just like any varsity sport. Candidates will report for practice on a regular basis and coaches will pick the cheerleaders from some white students.

Mao Puts Public Security Under Control of Party

TOKYO (AP) — Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung has placed the mainland's public security directly under the Communist party rather than under local and national governments.

This tack, which Mao took in October, apparently was aimed at preventing followers of Mao's arch-enemy, President Liu Shao-chi, from seizing control of police and militia units through loosely organized revolutionary government committees on local levels.

Mao's instructions on this subject were couched with insistence that the army's prestige "must be resolutely safeguarded" during the cultural revolution. The details appeared in the Canton Wen-Ko Tungshin, a Red Guard tabloid of the Canton city government. A translation has just been seen in Tokyo.

"Public security organs," Mao was quoted as saying, "are a knife in the hands of the proletariat. If properly grasped, they can be used to attack the enemy and protect the people; if not, they can easily be used against us. If they are taken away by the enemy, there will be even greater danger. Hence, public security work can only be under the direct leadership of the party committee and cannot be under the vertical leadership of the relevant government department."

UNDER ATTACK

Mao's instructions on the army indicated that it has come under heavy attack in recent months. "The army's prestige must be resolutely safeguarded and there can be no doubt whatever about that," Mao was quoted as saying. "Publication of editorials on the need to support the army and cherish the people is the center of work at the present time."

Newark Mayor Recall Campaign: Flicker or Flop?

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A riot-sparked drive to oust Mayor Hugh Addonizio and elect a Negro is still flickering, its backers claim, but a city official contends it is a flop.

"Our feeling is that the recall movement is going very well," said Robert Curvin, a Negro active in the recall campaign, but neither he nor others involved would give any details on what the movement has accomplished.

"The campaign looks to us like a fizzle so far," said Don Malafronte, an aide who usually speaks to newsmen on behalf of the mayor.

"We would be surprised if it were successful, but if it were we would have to face it and then I expect we would win an election."

BLACK POWER

The recall campaign was announced during a Black Power conference in Newark last July, just a couple of weeks after five days of Negro rioting in the city claimed 27 lives.

Negroes make up slightly more than half of Newark's 400,000 population, but only 35 to 40 per cent are registered voters, Malafronte said. There was no estimate of the number of registered whites.

To bring about a recall election, 25 per cent—or about 38,000—of the Newark residents registered to vote in the last municipal election must sign petitions.

Curvin, a onetime Congress of Racial Equality leader who now is project director of the Rutgers University community action intern program, said there is no target date for the election. "It's going to be a very long, hard job and we have no illusions about accomplishing this in a short period of time," he said.

VOLUNTEERS CANVASS

Curvin and the movement's agent for the recall petition,

Mrs. Mary Massie, said 50 to 60 volunteers have been canvassing for signatures. Neither would say how many signatures have been obtained.

This is not the first attempt to recall the chunky, balding Addonizio, a former Democratic congressman who won a second term as mayor in June, 1966, by defeating former Mayor Leo P. Carlin in a runoff.

Last January, a group of white property owners began a recall campaign protesting an increase in the city's real property tax rate. The drive never got off the ground.

Crayons are for kids.

Color TV is for kids, too. But buying a set is for grown-ups. And that's where Highland can help. Nobody sells more color TV for less. Nobody. Handy portables. Sooper-doooper cabinet jobs. Everything in between.

If you're on the verge of color TV, ask somebody about Highland's low prices. Ask anybody about Highland's easier terms. Better yet, come in and see what all the shouting is about. If you're skeptical, it could color your thinking. Green.

Rocky Putting Cash on Romney, Aide Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is "putting his money where his mouth is" in supporting Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan for the GOP presidential nomination according to a close Rockefeller associate.

Rockefeller was pictured as working hard, both publicly and behind the scenes, to help Romney, providing him with top men and facilities needed for a presidential campaign, including a list of potential contributors.

"Money will be available as needed," the Rockefeller associate said.

Rockefeller is known to resent inferences that he is building up Romney as a front for himself, that he is merely waiting in the wings for Romney's bid to collapse before making his own move.

The New York governor, who twice has sought the Republican presidential nomination, reportedly will not enter the race again.

Bomb Scare Stalls Basketball Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — The basketball game between Georgetown and Syracuse was interrupted for 39 minutes in the first half Tuesday night while police searched for a bomb reportedly planted in McDonough Gym.

Note was found.

McNamara Tightens Office Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has ordered his staff to save money—even if it means canceling some newspaper subscriptions and making sure money spent on coffee breaks doesn't get charged on expense accounts.

Congress, said McNamara in a memorandum, has cut $2 million dollars from his office operating fund, leaving him with $33.7 million for the fiscal year which began July 1.

He ordered a freeze on hiring, a limitation on travel and a hold-down on overtime.

Fruit farms are the cheapest to maintain but the most expensive to harvest of any farm.

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The stones weep and the elf recovers. With all their weapons gone, Claus says they must now use their wits against the Pigwidgen. They travel to a great wall.

CHAPTER TWELVE

The Pygmies
CLAUS pushed on the tiny square door in the wall. The door wiggled but did not open. "It's locked," said Claus.

"It's such a little door!" scoffed Tweedleknecs. "We can knock it down!"

He beat on it and kicked on it and Claus pushed and they got a log and rammed on it but the door would not open.

Claus was discouraged. He put his hands in his pockets and hung his head.

DEFEATED BY DOOR

He thought of how he had sworn to break the curse the Pigwidgen had laid on all the children of the world and how he had come so far and now was defeated because he could not open a little door.

Suddenly his hand closed around a small key in his pocket. He pulled it out.

It was the brass key that had dropped from the black purse when the curse had fallen on the children. The single word "Pigwidgen" was printed on the key.

"How could I have forgotten!" cried Claus.

HOLDING HIS BREATH

He fitted the key into the little lock. Holding his breath, he turned the key. Slowly the door swung open.

The opening was so small Claus had to wiggle through on his stomach. Even the little elf had to crawl through on his hands and knees.

On the other side they huddled against the wall and gazed fearfully around.

Here the wind did not blow sharply. Snow-blanketed hills so fiercely nor the cold bite so rolled down to a lake of ice. Near the lake stood a small castle.

"Who's afraid of a creature who lives in such a little castle?" scoffed Tweedleknecs. At that moment there was the sound of drums and bugles. Furling voices shouted, "Catch them! Don't let them get away!"

Tweedleknecs dived into a snowdrift. Claus dived in beside him. When nothing happened, they timidly poked their heads out of the snow.

They blinked in astonishment at the sight before them.

SHOUTED, HOWLED

Bands of pygmies were fighting in front of the castle. They shouted and howled and cut off each others' heads.

Even as the creatures lost their heads they rocked with laughter like schoolchildren playing tag.

At last it seemed not a pygmy was left alive. Claus and Tweedleknecs stepped out of the snowdrift.

MORE FIGHTING

Hardly were they out when all the fallen pygmies rose to their feet, put their heads back on their necks and began to fight all over again.

Claus and Tweedleknecs jumped back in their snow hole.

"It's a game!" blurted the elf in amazement. "They're doing it all for fun!"

HEADED AWAY

Everytime they reached a reindeer a curious thing happened: the reindeer rose in the air and FLEW away!

They swooped gracefully over the castle top, round and round, high and low, like sea gulls at the beach.

Claus thought he had never seen so pretty a sight.

The pygmies got ropes and lassoed the deer and brought them down from the sky. They drew their swords and shouted, "Horray! There'll be deer meat for supper!"

LEAPED IN FRONT

Before he knew what he was doing, Patrick Tweedleknecs shot out of the snow drift. He leaped in front of the rollicking pygmies and cried angrily, "Don't you dare!"

The astonished pygmies dropped the ropes and the reindeer raced away.

Tomorrow: The Pigwidgen

From their snowdrift, an astonishing sight greeted them.

'Tis the Season for New Money

Getting Crisp Bill for Stocking Is Easy

CHICAGO (UPI) — If you're planning on stuffing those Christmas stockings with crisp, new dollar bills, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago says it's willing to lend a helping hand.

Arthur Gustavson, vice president of the bank, said every day during the preholiday season, the bank puts into circulation a "tremendous amount" of new, clean currency.

"There's a great increase in the flow back and forth of money at this time," Gustavson explained. "People are borrowing from their banks and reducing accounts to purchase holiday gifts, so there's a big demand for the issuance of more money."

Gustavson said that right before and after Christmas, when the buying is completed, the flow of money begins back to the banks and the need for new money is reduced.

He said just as the amount increases before Christmas, the same phenomena occurs before summer vacations.

DEATH OF DOLLAR

The death of a dollar bill actually begins when it comes into the hands of a commercial banker who deems it "unfit for further circulation."

These bills are sent to the Federal Reserve Bank where standards of fitness that determine the bill's survival or destruction are applied, Gustavson said.

Bills that are usually dirty or limp are showing signs of age that send them to the incinerator, Gustavson said. A torn or patched bill may be recirculated if its condition is otherwise acceptable.

The indicated record winter wheat crop should enable the U.S. to add to its reserve and increase foreign aid shipments.

Senate Seen Sole Social Security Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Easy House passage and Senate approval after a fight—that's the outlook for legislation sharply increasing Social Security benefits and taxes.

The House takes up today the measure boosting all benefits at least 13 per cent. The minimum monthly payment would go from $44 to $55 a month and the maximum from $142 to $160.50. Wives over 65 would, as now, get 50 per cent in addition.

The Social Security tax would add up to a maximum of $52.80 in 1968, more in future years. House conferees generally prevailed when they met with their Senate counterparts on different versions passed by the two chambers. The final product cut back sharply higher benefit and tax figures voted by the Senate.

HOUSE OK EXPECTED

So the compromise, very much like the bill the House originally passed, is expected to be approved there without much

But there's a move in the Senate to defer final action until next year and meanwhile try to work out a new compromise closer to the Senate's expressed wishes.

It appears, however, that Congress' urge to get a Social Security bill on the books before adjournment, hopefully set for this weekend, would prevail. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he expects to call up the measure as soon as possible after the House acts.

Much of the controversy over the bill is centered outside the actual Social Security provisions. RELIEF OUTLAY

The omnibus measure also contains a section designed to slow the swift growth of relief outlays for families with dependent children. It would set a limit based on the present proportion of aided children to the total number of children in the state.

as many aid recipients as possible to paying jobs.

Some senators have talked of trying to separate and pass now the Social Security provisions, keeping the controversial welfare sections for further negotiation. But that move appeared to have little chance of success.

One of the oldest preserved forts in America is located in Beaufort, S.C. Ft. Frederick was constructed by the British to ward off pirates and Indians.

Increased Access to Capitol Sought

LANSING (AP) — The State Capitol would be open to the public seven days a week instead of the present five day under terms of a concurrent resolution introduced in the House Tuesday.

The resolution, sponsored by Rep. Matthew McNeely, D-Beaufort, calls on the State Department of Administration to provide public access to the Capitol each day of the week, at least from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The only days exempted would be Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's day.

KC Officials Win Vote

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City's reform city government, in office since 1963 and reelected this spring, won another decisive vote in a special election Tuesday.

Voters defeated by nearly three-to-one a proposal which would have shortened the terms of elected city officials from four to two years.

The unofficial vote against the proposed city charter amendment was 32,963 to 11,275. Only 23 per cent of the registered voters turned out. Had it been approved, the election.

Six Narcotics Agents Arrested in N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Six narcotics agents representing three branches of the government have been arrested in federal court here on charges of dealing in heroin, cocaine and marijuana.

The six — three New York City detectives, two investigators for the Nassau County District Attorney and a federal agent — were indicted by a federal grand jury last night and arraigned before U.S. District Judge Milton Pollock.

The city detectives were accused of trafficking in cocaine and heroin, the county investigators in heroin and the federal agent in marijuana. There was no indication that they had worked together.

U.S. Atty. Robert Morgenthau said their activities had been uncovered by New York City Police and U.S. Internal Revenue agents, working together in a massive investigation.

"The investigation is continuing," the U.S. attorney said.

Those arraigned were city detectives Charles W. Kelly, 37, of Commack, N.Y., Raymond R. Imp and Marvin M. Moskowitz, both of New York City; federal agent Cleophus A. Robinson II, 36, of New York City, and Nassau investigators Frank Dolce, 42, of Hicksville, N.Y., and Jack Gohde, 37, of Massapequa Park, N.Y.

All six were assigned to narcotics investigation for their various branches of the government.

Kelly, Imp and Moskowitz were charged with selling and ferrying marijuana on three occasions between Oct. 11 and Dec. 5, 1967.

A third indictment charged Dolce and Gohde with obtaining narcotics to be sold in Harlem. They were specifically charged with transferring a half-ounce of heroin on April 20 in Mineola, the Nassau County seat.

The county investigators also were charged with selling quantities of heroin for $300 on one occasion and $1,000 on another.

Stealing the Cannon Took Lot of Brass

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A search-involving the FBI, El Paso officers and military police—is under way for a 1,200-pound brass cannon, taken from the entrance to Ft. Bliss during the weekend.

Officers said it was one of two highly polished antique cannons embedded in cement at the Army post's gateway.

Officers said it must have taken the efforts of five or six men to haul away the cannon.

Milwaukee Bill Hit

Housing Law Approved

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Milwaukee Common Council has voted 13-6 to adopt an open housing ordinance. It was denounced immediately by civil rights advocates, who termed it "too little, too late."

Mrs. Dale Phillips, the only Negro member of the council, voted against the measure Tuesday, after four attempts to strengthen it with amendments failed.

The ordinance parallels existing state open housing laws, which cover an estimated 25 percent of the housing in Wisconsin.

"Thanks for nothing," Mrs. Phillips said to the aldermen after the proposal was passed.

"You are very much too late with very much too little." The council has defeated four stronger open housing bills sponsored by Mrs. Phillips.

HOLIDAY HONEY-DATE PUDDING

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Despite the trend to lighter desserts, a steamed pudding is the traditional Christmas sweet. One advantage of this kind of dessert is the fact that you can make it days ahead of time and reheat it on Christmas Day.

In old England, the Christmas pudding was made on Stir-Up Sunday, the first Sunday in Advent. Each member of the family had a hand in the stirring for this was said to bring good luck.

Keep the pudding wrapped in plastic wrap or foil in the refrigerator or freezer.

Scant Measure When Using Instant Flour

When is a cup of flour more than a cup of flour? . . . When it's instant flour, researchers in the U. S. Department of Agriculture say.

When baking with instant flour, they recommend taking two level tablespoons out of each cup of sifted regular flour called for by the recipe.

Instant flour is processed with steam or hot water after regular milling to make tiny granules stick together as larger particles, thus taking up less space in a measuring cup.

The result is that a full measure of instant flour in a cake or cookie recipe designed for sifted flour can alter the shape, texture, and flavor of the final product.

Instant flour weighs more per cup and takes up liquid at a faster rate than regular flour, so there's too much flour for the amount of liquid.

With imbalance of ingredients corrected by removing two level tablespoons, the quality of the product remains the same.

There never were any plums in plum pudding, but the name persists. Usually, there are raisins, dates and candied peels.

But you can have a delicious pudding with just dates and nuts. Evaporated milk and honey make this one extra good.

HOLIDAY HONEY-DATE PUDDING

1 cup butter
1 cup honey
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups cake flour, sifted
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup chopped dates
1/2 cup pecan pieces
1 cup evaporated milk

Cream butter until light and fluffy. Add honey, eggs and vanilla; beat one minute.

Sift together flour, baking powder, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg and salt; add dates and nuts and mix until dates are flour-coated. Add milk to flour mixture; stir until well blended. Combine two mixtures; pour in buttered 5-cup mold.

Cover tightly with lid that fits mold or with foil tied with strong cord. Place in pressure cooker on a rack. Pour in hot water to come halfway up side of mold. Close cooker lid tightly; start cooker on high heat.

Let steam escape for 30 minutes.

Place pressure regulator on vent pipe; when regulator begins to rock gently, cook for an additional 45 minutes at medium heat.

Remove; cool immediately with cool water. When pressure drops, remove regulator.

Remove pudding; take off lid or foil. Cool slightly; remove pudding from mold. Note: If pudding is steamed on a rack in a steamer, or large kettle, steam for 2 hours.

Lemon and Nutmeg Mix

1 egg
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
1/4 cup lemon juice
3 tablespoons water
1/4 cup butter

Beat egg; add sugar, nutmeg and lemon rind. Combine lemon juice and water; add to sugar mixture. Heat until boiling, stirring constantly. Add butter; cook for 5 minutes, stirring until butter blends evenly into sauce. Serve hot over pudding. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

All holiday puddings are not steamed. Here is a cranberry pudding that is baked. It has other good points too; it is both economical and easy to make.

DO-AHEAD CRANBERRY PUDDING

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup honey
2 eggs
1/4 cup soft shortening
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 cups fresh cranberries, cut in half
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
1-3 cup hot water

Combine flour, baking powder and salt; sift. Combine sugar, honey, eggs, shortening and lemon rind; beat well. Stir in dry ingredients. Add cranberries, walnuts and hot water; mix.

Spoon into a greased and floured 1 1/2 quart pudding mold with tube. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) until done, 1 hour 20 minutes. Cool, wrap in quilted aluminum foil and store in freezer to serve at holiday dinners or give as gifts.

To heat place foil wrapped pudding into moderate oven (375 degrees) until defrosted and heated 35 to 40 minutes. Serve hot with whipped cream or hard sauce.

Yield: 1 pudding 4 1/2 to 5 inches tall and 5 inches in diameter, or 10 to 16 servings.

Stately English Apple Pudding is an easy, modern day version of the time-honored favorite.

ENGLISH APPLE PUDDING

2 cups enriched dry bread crumbs
1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
2 eggs
3/4 cup light molasses
1-3 cup oil
1 can (8 oz.) whole cranberry sauce
1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) apple slices, drained

1 cup (4 oz.) chopped walnuts

Stir dry ingredients together. Blend together eggs, molasses, oil and cranberry sauce; combine with apple slices, nuts and dry ingredients. Blend well.

Turn into well-greased 2 qt. pudding mold; cover with lid. Place on rack in deep kettle, fill with hot water to half the mold's height and bring to a boil. Boil gently 2 hours; add more hot water, if necessary.

Remove from kettle, uncover and let stand at least 5 minutes. Loosen edge of pudding with knife, plunge quickly into cold water and unmold. Serve with Hard Sauce. Makes 10-12 servings.

BAKED CRANBERRY PUDDING

Serve on Best China

STEAMED TUTTI FRUTTI PUDDING

1 1/2 cups enriched all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 quarts coarse fresh bread crumbs
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup slivered candied cherries
1 1/2 cups slivered or diced candied fruits

1 cup milk
2 well-beaten eggs
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Sift the flour, baking powder, sugar and salt into a large bowl. Cut the butter in with a pastry blender or 2 knives. Add soft bread crumbs, orange rind, cherries and fruits.

Beat milk and eggs together; add almond extract and nutmeg. Combine both mixtures and blend well.

Pour half of batter into each of 2 well-greased (2 quart) ring molds. Cover tight. Place each on a rack in a deep kettle, filling the kettles with enough water to come half way up sides of molds. Cover the kettles.

Steam for 3 hours, adding more water, if necessary. Remove from hot platter. Serve with hot Lemon-Nutmeg Sauce. Yield: 16-20 servings.

Serve This Sauce With Broiled Ham

Sauce Danton

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 small onion, minced
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/4 cups milk
2 tablespoons tomato paste (from a 6-ounce can)
2 tablespoons dry sherry
1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon white pepper

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat, melt the butter; add the onion and cook until golden. Stir in flour, then milk; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened. Stir in remaining ingredients to blend and heat.

Serve with broiled ham slice; makes enough sauce for 4 portions.

STEAMED TUTTI FRUTTI PUDDING

California Walnut-Pumpkin Pudding

1/2 cup shortening (half butter)
1 cup brown sugar, packed
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup chopped California walnuts
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 cup canned pumpkin
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
Brandy Whipped Cream Sauce

Cream shortening, brown and granulated sugar and spices together until fluffy and light. Beat in eggs; stir in walnuts.

Resift flour with baking powder, soda and salt. Add to cream mixture alternately with pumpkin and sour cream. Turn into a well greased 1 1/2 to 2-quart mold.

Cover tightly. Set mold in pan of hot water. Water should come halfway up sides of mold; replenish water, if necessary, during steaming. Cover pan and steam pudding in continuously boiling water, about two hours.

Remove mold from water; let stand five minutes before removing pudding. Serve hot with Brandy Whipped Cream Sauce. Makes about eight servings.

Brandy Whipped Cream Sauce: Beat 1 egg until light and fluffy. Beat in 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine, 1 1/4 cups sifted powdered sugar, pinch salt and 1 tablespoon brandy extract.

Beat 1 cup whipping cream until stiff. Gently fold in first mixture. Cover and chill until ready to serve. Stir before spooning on pudding. Makes two cups sauce.

CALIFORNIA WALNUT-PUMPKIN PUDDING

This is a ho-ho-ho ham

'Tis the season to serve Hygrade's West Virginia Hams: West Virginia Semi-Boneless Ham, with one little bone rich in sweet marrow; or West Virginia Boneless Ham, all luscious meat. They're trimmed lean and tender and fully cooked.

This time of year we call them the ho-ho-ho hams, but we take their flavor very seriously.

Long, quiet hours in the smokehouse give them a juicy sweetness that goes center-deep.

Enjoy other Hygrade's favorites like Ball Park Franks and Ball Park Bologna during the holiday season, too.

MERRY CHRISTMAS WREATH — This wreath, fashioned of pumpernickel rounds and a rich and creamy mixture of tangy Danish Blue Cheese, butter, and minced clams, is as good to eat as it is to look at on your holiday hospitality table. Juleglogg — the hot wine punch of the season, is a perfect accompaniment.

Old Christmas Food Traditions Linger

Many of the Christmas foods, like a turkey with a capon, the quail with an ortolan with a capon with a partridge, the stuffed olive inside it. Bon Appetit with a quail and the petit!

• In Norway, a bowl of rice pudding, the traditional Christmas dessert, is left in the barn on Christmas Eve for the Christmas gnomes known as the Jule-nisser.

• The first course of the Lebanese Christmas dinner, a delicate lamb soup, can be traced to the Christmas Eve of killing a lamb as a sacrifice to Christ. While most of the meat is given to the poor, some is saved, which together with the bones, is used to prepare the Christmas lamb soup.

• The heart of every Christmas bird, be it the capon of Italy, the roast goose immortalized by Charles Dickens, or the monarch of the American table, the turkey, is the savory stuffing, creatively and imaginatively prepared and generously laced with love.

Perhaps the ultimate stuffing recipe comes from the French and was credited to Napoleon's Chancellor. It called for stuffing a turkey with a capon, the quail with an ortolan with a capon with a partridge, the stuffed olive inside it. Bon Appetit with a quail and the petit!

TRADITIONAL EGGNOG — Beat six egg yolks and 1/4 cup sugar until thick and lemon colored. Beat in two cups light or whipping cream, two cups milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt and two teaspoons vanilla. Beat six egg whites until they hold stiff peaks; fold into egg yolks mixture. Serve in chilled punch bowl; sprinkle with nutmeg. Makes 2 1/2 quarts of non-alcoholic egg nog.

Soft Drink Is Base of Punch

When friends drop in during the holiday season, casual entertainment can be easy and enjoyable. Just plan ahead by having the necessary ingredients readily available for this quick-as-a-wink punch recipe, and by having an assortment of doughnuts or cookies on hand.

A fruit-filled holiday punch will add a colorful note to your serving table. Add a grouping of festive angel figurines, surrounded by bright green holly leaves, on a red table cloth to complete the holiday setting.

Four-Fruit Holiday Punch
1 cup halved strawberries
1 cup canned pineapple chunks
1 cup sliced bananas
2 lemons, thinly sliced
3 cups strong cold tea
3 2-oz. bottles grapefruit soda

Arrange fruit in bottom of punch bowl; cover with cold tea. Chill for one hour. Then fill punch bowl with ice-cold grapefruit soda, (or Diet variety for weight-watchers). Makes about 30 punch-cup servings.

Helpful Hint: Always pour your carbonated beverages gently and slowly to retain maximum carbonation.

Sugar Helps Flavor of Canned Soups

There are two reasons why sugar is employed as an ingredient in canned prepared soups. Used in New England clam chowder, French-style petite marmite with beef chunks and vegetables, split pea with ham soup, and others too, sugar both intensifies and also blends individual flavors of other foods.

Gulf Kist Shrimp

fresh from the Gulf Coast, home waters for nature's tastiest shrimp

Gulf Kist captures all of the succulent and delicate flavor of shrimp from the sunny Gulf. No peeling, no waste. Already cooked for you. Good cooks keep several cans handy—ready for good eating any time. Ideal for weight watchers—only 170 calories in a whole can. Economical, too, one 4-1/2-oz. can is equal to a 10-oz. pack of frozen unshelled shrimp.

Form Cheese Mixture into Wreath

In Denmark, as in the rest of the world, some of the best decorations of Christmas are edible.

Cookie stars and reindeer are invitingly arranged on tiered epergnes, candy canes hang from the tree, packages of sweets are piled high in cornucopias, their gay wrappings gleaming in the light of the Christmas candles.

DANISH BLUE WREATH
12 ounces Danish Blue Cheese (3 cups crumbled)
1 1/2 sticks (6 oz.) butter
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) minced clams
2 packages (8 oz. each) pumpernickel rounds
Sifted Danish Blue and butter at room temperature blend. Drain clams well, add to cheese mixture. Chill.

Use as spread or shape into a long roll the diameter of the pumpernickel rounds, wrap in foil, and return to the refrigerator to become very stiff. Cut the cheese roll into slices.

Shape a wreath around the border of a flat platter with alternate slices of cheese and round pumpernickel, standing on edge. Press together firmly at the inside edges to hold the wreath shape. Chill again until serving time. Decorate with a festive bow.

To serve, separate the cheese from the same side of each pumpernickel slice with a sharp knife, remove slices of bread with cheese as needed.

JULEGLOGG
Danish Hot Spiced Wine Punch
2 bottles claret or other light red wine
10 cardamom pods
5 cloves
2-inch piece of cinnamon

Kind of 1/2 orange
1 cup blanched almonds
1 cup raisins
1/2 pound cube sugar
1 bottle Akavit or brandy
1/2 orange sliced thin for garnish
Empty the claret into chafing dish or glogg pot. Tie spices in a square of cheesecloth, add to wine. Add orange rind, nuts and raisins, bring to boiling point. Remove and discard spices and orange rind. At serving time, re-heat wine, if necessary.

Put sugar cubes into small saucepan that can be brought to the table, add Akavit and ignite. Pour the flaming liquor into the glogg pot and stir until the flame dies. Float orange slices on glogg.
Serve in small cups or glasses, with raisins and almonds as garnish. Makes 25 servings.

U.S. Believes Soviet Pilots Flying Against Yemen Royalists

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Some well-informed U.S. officials are convinced Soviet military pilots have been flying combat missions for Yemen's Republican government against Royalist forces attacking San'a, the capital city.

This reported involvement of Soviet fliers, using Soviet-made planes and supported by Soviet ground crews—is considered here to reflect Moscow's desire to establish power positions in the Middle East, once the exclusive domain of Western interests.

The possibility of Soviet fighter participation was raised a few days ago when a Royalist information minister said the body of a Soviet pilot, carrying Russian-language papers, had been found. In official quarters in Washington, it is said there's no doubt the downed airman was a Soviet.

Yemen has considerable strategic importance because—along with the neighboring region until recently known as Aden—it dominates the 12-mile-wide southern gateway into the Red Sea.

News Analysis

ON SUZ

It has a commanding position on the Suez Canal, linking the Mediterranean and the Indian oceans. The canal has been closed since the June war between Israel and the Arab states but is expected to be reopened eventually.

Washington authorities say privately they can't recall conflict similar to that in Yemen in which Soviet pilots have played such an active role.

There have been reports of such involvement in the past in troubled lands, but in the present case, responsible policy makers say they have no doubt the information is true. Whether this marks the beginning of a new phase in Soviet foreign operations is yet to be determined, they caution.

The war in Yemen is between the Republican regime and Yemeni Royalist forces which took to the hills in September changed the political framework, 70,000, as a result of a deal with King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, overthrown. The struggle has been going on, with periodic eruptions of violence, for five years, of his Soviet-armed troops, nancing following Egyptian de-

But two recent developments which once totaled around 100,000 in the June war.

Nasser had backed the Republican government and Faisal the Royalist group. The result of Egyptian withdrawal was to create at least a partial power vacuum.

Also within the last month, Britain removed its forces from Aden, giving way to a new nationalist regime which proclaimed itself the "Peoples Republic of Yemen" on the ground Aden is long foreseen and both the Soviet and Chinese Communists have maneuvered to take advantage of them. Johnson administration officials regard the prospects for the future there with some anxiety.

Curfew Wraps Capital City With Quiet

SAN'A, Yemen (AP) — Yemen's gray mountain capital was firmly in Republican control today and from no quarter was there any sound of Royalist gunfire.

San'a was under a curfew Tuesday night for the third night in a row and several gunshots were heard—but they signaled the end of Ramadan fasting at sundown.

"The Royalists have been claiming for the past five years that they were about to capture San'a," said Col. Abdullah Barakat, 40, acting interior minister. "It has not happened, as you see, and it will never happen."

Sitting in an office furnished with French Empire couches and chairs and carrying a grenade in a breast pocket of his khaki uniform, the colonel said peace would come to Yemen "when Saudi Arabia stops supplying the Royalists, from Saudi Arabia or any other source."

ROYALIST BANDS

He estimated the active Royalist force at only 300 men, operating in groups of five or less, and said the Republicans could not mount a big offensive to smash them because the Royalists did not have a real army, only tiny bands.

Barakat said that the closest Royalist bands had come to San'a was six miles. "Our soldiers are always waiting and always repulse them," he added.

The Republican official said he had information that European mercenaries, including Englishmen and a Belgian, fought with the Royalists in recent clashes with Republican forces.

Two hundred Royalists are now under arrest in San'a, according to Barakat, who said no trial dates have been fixed for them. He said one prisoner was former Royalist Minister Ahmed Nasser al Sayaghi and another the former Royalist director of broadcasting, Yehya al Dulami. A handful of captured Royalists have died before firing squads.

WITH A&P's ECONO PRICES

WHY PAY MORE?

A&P is the Store that Saves you More

we care

It's America's most popular! Why?

We think it's excellence of product.

Years and years ago, when we decided to bake

Jane Parker Fruit Cake, we also decided to bake the best.

That's why Jane Parker Fruit Cake was then and is today over 2/3 fruits and nuts.

Just enough delicious cake to hold together the bounty of cherries imported from France, pineapple from the Far East, citron from Italy, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

We think, too, that value has made it popular.

IMAGINE, THE 5-LB. CAKE COSTS ONLY $3.99.

That's the same low price as last year which makes it an even greater value.

Now you know why Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular.

One other thing you should know: You can buy it only at A&P.

P.S. Wouldn't it make a great gift for someone?

Desserts Get Touch of Cranberry

Scarlet ribbons and lollipop flowerpots . . . what youngster wouldn't love to be turned loose in the kitchen to whip up such "lookable" and "eatable" confections!

Simple recipes and lots of decorating bits plus colorful cranberry-orange relish are the secret.

Scarlet Ribbons

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 3 cups quick-cooking oatmeal
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 jar (14 ounces) cranberry-orange relish
- 1 cup finely chopped nuts
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- Honey
- Red-colored sugar

Cream shortening and gradually beat in sugar; stir in eggs. Combine flour, oatmeal, baking soda and salt.

Stir dry ingredients and cranberry-orange relish alternately into shortening mixture, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Stir in nuts and vanilla. Chill 2 hours.

With floured fingers, roll piece of dough about the size of small plum on floured surface into rope about 8 inches long. Put rope on well-greased cookie sheet and twist into bow shape. Pinch edges together if dough cracks occasionally. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned.

After cookies have cooled, brush tops lightly with honey and dip cookies into red-colored sugar. Makes 40 large bows.

Cranberry-Orange Spice Flowerpots

- 1 package (1 pound, 2½ ounces) spice cake mix
- 2 eggs
- ¾ cup water
- ½ cup cranberry-orange relish
- 24 flat-bottomed ice cream cones
- 2 packages (6½ ounces each) vanilla buttercream frosting mix
- 5 tablespoons cranberry juice cocktail
- Green spearmint leaves
- Assorted colored gumdrops (large and small) or small lollipops

Prepare packaged spice cake mix as directed, using eggs and

Flavor Is Spicy

Keep everyone guessing as to the combination of flavors in this special Christmas relish.

Put through your blender or food grinder 2 cups raw cranberries, 1 cup watermelon pickles and ½ cup syrup from the pickle. Stir in ½ cup chopped toasted California walnuts; refrigerate until serving. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned.

After cookies have cooled, brush tops lightly with honey and dip cookies into red-colored sugar. Makes 40 large bows.

Prepare frosting as directed, using cranberry juice instead of liquid specified. Spread frosting on top of cake in cones.

Press skewers into spearmint leaves and gumdrops, then push into cake to resemble leaves and flowers. Serve with well-chilled cranberry juice cocktail.

HOLIDAY BEAN PIE—Beans in a pie? Of course. This is an unusual and hearty main course. Cut your pastry in bell shape to add a timely note to the dish.

Pork and Beans Filling for Different Pie

Festive, tasty and easy to eat out-of-hand as a pizza is a bean pie all dressed up for the holidays. Good however all year round, it can be a snack by itself or a hearty lunch or supper dish with soup and a salad.

Clever homemakers will decorate it to suit the mood of the occasion or even serve it open face. Try it with a variety of cookie cutter shapes for a children's party.

Holiday Bean Pie
2 tablespoons fat
1 pound ground chuck beef
¾ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped green pepper

½ cup chopped onion
1 (21 oz.) can pork and beans with tomato sauce
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste.
In the fat, cook all ingredients except beans and seasoning for about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in beans and seasoning and mix thoroughly. A few of the canned beans can be set aside before mixing and used to add to the design later.

Instant Molds

Use a muffin tin to freeze quickly individual helpings of gelatin. To be sure that your gelatin will set to the right consistency, place a few spoonfuls of the mixture in the refrigerator and allow it to set before you pour the entire mixture into mold.

Turn into a 8-inch pie pan lined with unbaked pastry. Top with bells or other designs cut out of pie dough or use a plain top crust. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, till pie crust is done, about 30 minutes.

Beef gravy may also be served with the pie. Makes six servings.

Baby Pizzas Made With French Rolls

Make these hot 'n' peppery cheese; sprinkle with 3 table-
"Miniature Pizza Slices" to go spoons grated Parmesan cheese.
with holiday punch. Slice 6 Broil till hot and bubbly.
French rolls into ½-inch slices. Makes 16 to 20 appetizers.
place on greased cookie sheet.
Combine 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, ½ teaspoon oregano and ¼ teaspoon garlic salt; something different and spoon on bread slices. Dot with ne served over rice and topped ½ cup diced cooked ham and with tiny butter-browned cubes

Tuna Sandwich Made With Olives

Hot Ripe Olive Tuna Broll is a favorite with teens.
Combine 1 cup chopped ripe olives, 1 (6½-ounce) can tuna, 1 cup grated American cheese, ¼ cup mayonnaise and ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire.
Spread over 6 hamburger buns and heat in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes.

You'll always find Michigan-Made Sugar in the finest places, like blueberry pie

- 3 c blueberries, fresh or frozen
- 2 T flour
- ¼ c Michigan-Made sugar
- Dash salt
- Flaky pastry for double 9-inch pie
- 1 T lemon juice
- 1 T butter or margarine

If fresh berries are used, pick over, discard stems and leaves; wash and drain well. If frozen berries are used, drain well. Combine berries with flour, sugar and salt; mix well. Line nine-inch pie pan with half the pastry; fill with the berry mixture; sprinkle lemon juice over top and dot with butter; carefully put on top crust, sealing well to edge of pan. Cut vents in top crust and bake at 450 degrees 40 minutes or until fruit is tender and crust is golden; if crust browns too fast, cover with a piece of brown paper. Cool completely on rack.

That's why 6 out of 10 Michigan homemakers buy Michigan-Made Sugar

(Eat once my Kluski and get to know what good is!)

Hearty, extra-thick Kluski egg noodles, so good in soup and with sauces, great with Goulash.

Noodles like mama makes with eggs from the barn fresh, special-made for appetites grown up in the country where great cooking is nearly all.

But I should talk so much!—Now I'm offering coupons so you should hustle and get my Kluski noodles. They come in the big bundle that's so pretty also. Such good noodles.

Dayan to Big Powers: Keep Out

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel's Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said Tuesday night that if the big powers kept out of the Middle East, Israel could make peace with the Arabs.

"If Israel was confronted with only 80 million Arabs, without interference or confrontation with the big powers," said Dayan, "we would be able to settle our differences."

Dayan, addressing a convention of his Rafi party, disputed U.N. Secretary General U Thant's statement that Israel's demand for face-to-face talks with the Arabs was "unrealistic."

"The return to Zion always meant the implementation of unrealistic aims," Dayan said.

LONG STRUGGLE

He warned that Israel faces a long struggle to achieve secure borders, full recognition from the Arabs and the solution of the Arab refugee problem.

The Arabs, Dayan said, "are intent on gaining time in the political struggle to rebuild their armies. There is no basic change yet in their nonacceptance of Israel."

In Cairo, the semi-official newspaper Al Ahran said the Arab countries will all tell special U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring the same things:

The Arabs have "reservations" about the Security Council resolution directing the special envoy to make the rounds of disputants in the June war to seek a settlement.

The Arabs expect Jarring to uphold U.N. resolutions calling for a settlement of the refugee problem and condemning acquisition of territory by force, which the Arabs interpret as calling for unconditional Israeli troop withdrawal from the occupied territories.

Jarring held his first talks Tuesday with Lebanese Foreign Minister Georges Hakim and was to arrive in Israel today.

His schedule calls for him to see Jordanian officials Friday and then end his first round by spending next Monday and Tuesday in Cairo, according to Al Ahran.

No details of Jarring's talks with Hakim were disclosed. Reliable sources in Damascus said Syria would refuse to receive Jarring because the Syrian government has rejected the U.N. resolution.

In other developments Tuesday:

The new British ambassador to Cairo, Sir Harold Beeley, took up his post and said his first task would be to discuss reopening of the Suez Canal.

FIGHT RIGHTS

The Arab League announced that airlines whose planes land at Israeli-held Jerusalem Airport or fly over Arab territory held by Israel may be refused landing rights on Arab fields.

Israeli border troops fought a gun battle with Arab cattle rustlers in central Israel. One rustler was wounded and captured but two others escaped. In another clash, one Israeli soldier was killed and four were wounded in a fight with Arab saboteurs near Tel Aviv. One saboteur was killed and one wounded.

Press reports in Tel Aviv said 20 Israeli Arabs were wounded in a street battle in the Arab village of Sakhin, in Northern Israel Monday. The reports said more than 200 Arabs fought with rifles and fists after a youth of one clan insulted the leader of another.

First Woman in Congress to Run Again?

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The first woman ever elected to Congress is now 87 years old, but she says she may run again on the same issue that helped make her a national figure—peace.

Miss Jeannette Rankin of Montana said in a telephone interview she is seriously considering entering the Republican primary in Montana's western district.

If she entered the race, she said, it would be "to bring the issue of peace in Vietnam to the people."

She said some Montanans have asked her to consider entering the race for the seat now held by Democrat Arnold Olsen. Miss Rankin said her decision will depend on the status of the war and whether she feels people in her district want her to run.

Miss Rankin made her comments from Walkerville, Ga., in a telephone interview with Wes Vernon, political reporter for KSL Radio-TV of Salt Lake City. She said she will return to Montana in March.

Stalin's Daughter Visiting Princeton

Asked about reports that Mrs. Alliluyeva would settle here, Mrs. Kennan said:

"Yes, I think that's true. She has peace and quiet and isn't pestered too much. You know, she might."

She has been living at the home of her translator in Locust Valley, N.Y.

Cardinal Spellman Trait: Concern for Brotherhood

Men of all faiths are mourning about changing the hearts of the passing of Francis Cardinal Spellman. He was a man of great personal warmth, and his many years as the spiritual leader of Catholics in New York and in the armed forces were truly marked by his concern for brotherhood.

I will always treasure the memory of one of the last times I saw him. I had just returned from my visit with Pope Paul VI at the Vatican last summer.

Cardinal Spellman heard of my talk with Pope Paul and the appeal I made for a strong condemnation of racism.

We were both scheduled to appear at the dedication ceremonies of a new building. As I mounted the platform, I saw Cardinal Spellman rise from his seat. He crossed the platform, embraced me, and told me how glad he was that I met with the Pope.

"We are with you," he said. And he always was with the forces who were fighting against segregation.

I always found him a warm supporter of the efforts the Urban League was making to enlist America's churches in the battle for equal opportunities. In fact, the Catholic Church has been in the forefront of this fight.

MORE MEANINGFUL

I'm not just talking about the visible signs like Father Gropi's marches for open housing in Milwaukee or the nuns and priests who braved racist mobs in Chicago and Selma. There are other elements less dramatic, but perhaps even more meaningful.

Some dioceses, for example, insist that all the businesses they deal with be equal opportunity employers. That means that if a builder or supplier doesn't hire and train Negro workers, he doesn't get church contracts.

Most people don't realize how important this can be, but America's churches rank just behind the U.S. government in annual purchases of goods and services.

So an economic boycott can really hit racist companies where it hurts, in their pocketbooks. We can talk all we want men, but sometimes the way to a businessman's heart is through his pocketbook.

We've been fortunate in having a religious community in the United States that is, by and large, aware of its moral responsibilities to eliminate racism. Leaders or organized Catholics, Protestants and Jews are almost unanimous in this.

Why then is racism still such a problem?

Part of the reason of course, is that many people will follow their spiritual leaders in purely religious matters, but back off when it comes to changing their set attitudes in other areas.

Another reason is that too many religious leaders just the appeal I made for a strong condemnation of racism.

TIMES OF CRISIS

But we live in times of crisis. Our urban problems just won't wait for them to conquer their timidity. Racism is a sin like no other, and the churches have to be in the forefront of the fight against it if they wish to be relevant institutions in today's changing world.

In addition to reaching brotherhood, churches can use their powerful economic muscle to force integration in the businesses they deal with.

They can seek out and buy from smaller, struggling Negro businesses. They can enlarge their education and social welfare programs in the ghetto. They can use their authority to push for necessary legislation like open housing, and can apply pressures on local authorities on behalf of the ghetto.

And they can educate their white parishioners in the morality and decency they need to overcome prejudice. For the so-called "Negro problem" is really a "white problem" in that it is the prejudice and irrational hatreds by white people which cause our racial dilemma.

America's churches have done a lot, but like the rest of us, they need to do more.

Kettering Halts Clarkston; Lakers Surprise Waterford

Evans, Powell Each Score 22 in First Win

By DON VOGEL
Waterford Kettering combined hot shooting with a strong defense in the second half last night to defeat Clarkston 69-58, for its first victory of the season.

The Captains overcame a 34-33 Clarkston halftime lead by hitting 10 of 21 field goals in the third period and making seven of nine close-in attempts in the fourth.

Pete Evans and Dave Powell each scored 22 points for the Captains who are 1-1 for the season.

The Wolves, who dropped their second game in three starts, were led by Mark Erickson's 11 markers and 10 each by Jerry Ostrum and Eric Hood.

The Captains delighted their partisans in the overflow crowd at Kettering by reversing a dismal first half shooting performance when they connected on only nine of 41 shots.

A jump shot by Evans and a one-hander by Joe O'Connor put the Captains ahead to stay, 41-38, in the opening minutes of the second half. Evans then stole the ball twice in a row and went in for easy layups and Kettering started pulling away.

The Captains held a 53-44 lead going into the fourth quarter and quickly increased the margin to 12 points. Clarkston third stringers went in with over four minutes to play.

CUT DEFICIT
They cut the gap to eight against the Kettering first liners, but the Captains quickly recovered behind Powell and reopened a 12-point advantage.

Powell (6-3) teamed with Gene Pankner (6-1) to control the backboards. The Captains clamped down in defense in the second, holding Clarkston to only eight baskets.

The Wolves were forced to shoot from outside against the Kettering zone defense for most of the game.

Only in the second period did Clarkston players manage to penetrate the key area. Ostrum, Hood, and Jeff Keyser sparked a rally that gained a 34-30 lead with one minute to play in the half. But Powell made a jumper and Joe Danules a free throw to move Kettering within one.

The Wolves displayed good accuracy at the free throw line in the first half, converting 16 of 19 attempts. They made eight of 15 in the last half.

Ball handling errors plagued the Wolves throughout the game. Evans' defensive work didn't help Clarkston. He stole the ball nine times before fouling out with a minute to play. O'Connor also was wily out on fouls in the closing seconds.

Clarkston moves back into Wayne-Oakland League play Friday at home against Clarenceville. Kettering, playing as an independent this season, but scheduled to join the W-O next spring, hosts Lapeer.

2 Red Wing Rookies Exchanging Positions

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings called up Gary Marsh, 21, from the Fort Worth Wings of the Central Professional Hockey League Tuesday, and sent Rick McCann, 21, to Fort Worth.

Marsh, a left winger, will play his first National Hockey League game Thursday against Chicago in Detroit, the Wings said.

McCann had played three games with Detroit without scoring a point. Marsh was the third-leading CPL scorer with 12 goals and 13 assists for 25 points.

Something has to give in the Northwest Parochial League, and the break for at least one of the three coleaders will come Friday night.

On top in the loop at present with 3-0 records are Orchard Lake St. Mary, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows and St. Francis de Sales.

One will drop down when de Sales invades Ol. St. Mary Friday night. Farmington OLS is expected to post its fourth league decision in a contest at Detroit St. Rita.

In action last night, Orchard Lake St. Mary romped past Royal Oak St. Mary, 70-49, de Sales bombed St. Rita, 97-76, and FOLS squeezed out a 62-55 victory over Ferndale St. James.

OLSM, running its over-all record to 3-1, had little trouble with the Irish on the ROSM court.

The OLM Eaglets rolled to a 19-8 first quarter lead, upped it to 34-19 at intermission and the reserves handled mopup action during most of the second half.

A balanced scoring attack kept FOLS unbeaten in the race for league honors.

Late Surge Sparks Lahser

A strong second-half surge carried Bloomfield Hills Lahser to a 61-55 basketball victory last night over a visiting Roseville Brabec squad.

Down 27-23 at intermission, the Knights of Lahser took charge, and during a 13-minute span of the third and fourth quarters, outscored the visitors 36-12 to open up a comfortable lead.

In a couple other games, Warren handed Hazel Park its first setback of the season, 67-45, while red-hot North Branch went on a scoring spree and posted a 104-69 verdict over Brown City.

Lahser ran its record to 2-1 by trimming Brabec, and the big lead late in the game enabled coach Bill Ullenbruch to give the reserves some playing time.

West Bloomfield Posts Easy Decision Over Skippers, 72-52

By FLETCHER SPEARS

What a difference a year makes. At this time last season, West Bloomfield's Lakers owned an 0-3 basketball record, and while they didn't know it at the time, they were headed for a 2-15 finish.

Most of those old hands who suffered through that dismal campaign are back. They're bigger and better and they appear capable of reversing that '66-67 mark.

The Lakers ran their record to 3-0 last night by surprising previously unbeaten Waterford Township (2-1), 72-52, which ended a four-game winning streak for the Skippers in the series.

Coach Art Paddy has a promising club in this year's crop of Lakers and he knows it. "First time in years we've had any height," he was saying before the game. "Oh, we had maybe one player 6-2 or 6-3, but nothing like we have this year."

Height the Lakers have and plenty of it. Three of Paddy's starters are over six feet and the other two are close to the six-foot mark. Another pleasant thing about those over six feet is that they're juniors and will be back next season.

Waterford, also flooring a tall, well-balanced squad, was simply outgunned and outplayed by the hustling Lakers, who overcame an early deficit to grab a 39-26 lead at halftime.

"They were just that much better than us tonight," said the Skippers' coach Bob Taylor. "We gave them too many shots in close."

The Lakers did a lot of shooting from close range and they shot well, finishing the evening with a hot 51 per cent — 25 of 54 — while the Skippers were ice cold in hitting on only 19 of 61.

Waterford built up a quick 7-2 lead, but the Lakers pulled even late in the first period and actually won the game at the start of the second period when the Skippers went flat.

After taking a 15-14 lead at the tail-end of the first frame, the Lakers then scored the next 15 points to open up a 30-14 lead with 3:50 left in the first half.

COOL PERIOD

Waterford managed 12 points in the second period and only five in the third and couldn't recover. The Lakers ran their margin to 29 points at one time during the second half.

Paddy's crop of juniors sparked the scoring attack.

Dave Karlson (6-3) led all scorers with 23 markers, Steve Westjohn (6-2) added 11, Curtis Britton (6-2) tossed in 10, and Dan Brown, a junior (6-1) forward, came off the bench to pick up 12 points.

Guard Mike Sheldon, who played a sharp floor game for the Skippers, wound up with 14 points while teammate Bob Finkle came off the bench to contribute 12.

The Lakers gained a 44-30 lead in the rebounding department, with Britton and Karlson doing most of the work on the boards.

Ziem, Wilson Face Injured Pioneers

NEIL WARRINER

It will be homecoming tonight at Oakland University, but not for the Pioneers. Albion College invades the O.U. gym for an 8 o'clock basketball game sporting a roster that is more Oakland College than O.U. team. Seven area players are with the Bruins and three possibly could start.

Mike Wilson, a 5-11 sophomore from Farmington, led the Bruins to their first victory last Saturday with a 29-point effort against Albion. Former Waterford star Rick Ziem, a 6-0 sophomore, poured in 30 in an opening loss at Washtenaw.

The only county player on the Oakland varsity is Jay Shutt from Birmingham. Several players from high schools just outside Oakland County are on the Pioneer roster.

Also on the roster are freshmen Tim Baughman from Country Day and Ron Boger from Bloomfield Hills.

ROAD GAMES

This will be OU's last chance of the year to post its first victory. The Pioneers have dropped three straight and will not play again until they start a five-game road engagement Jan. 5 at Wayne State.

The next home game will be Jan. 20 against Hillsdale. Oakland is hurting in more ways than in the loss column.

"We started the school year with 17 varsity prospects," said coach Dick Robinson. "Now we are down to six and may lose one more."

One player took a job; another was lost to illness; two suffered knee injuries that required surgery; three are ineligible; one is on social probation; one left school; and two were dropped for disciplinary reasons.

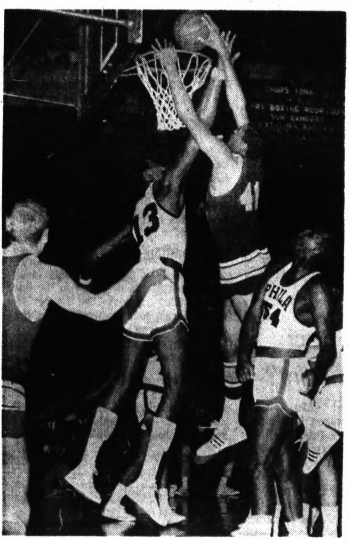

Shutt may be the next to leave. He has a knee injury and is not expected to see much action against Albion.

"A specialist is going to check it during the weekend," said Robinson, "but it doesn't look good."

And the injury list is longer. "Walking wounded" who will start against Albion are Chuck Clark and Gordy Tebo, both nursing sprained ankles.

Don Beier, a freshman from St. Clair, will take over for Shutt. Bob Papak and Gary Lincoln will be the other starters.

There will be no junior varsity game tonight — not because of the injuries, but because none is scheduled.

2 Lions Rate Line Berths on 2nd Team

NEW YORK (AP) — John Unitas, shut out without a vote last year, was named quarterback of the National Football League All-Star team selected for The Associated Press today by a panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Unitas' skill in guiding the Colts through 13 games without defeat was recognized by a landslide vote of the committee, three from each league city.

Despite the Colts' fine record, the old reliable Green Bay Packers still had the most men on the team with a total of six, two on offense and four on defense. Dallas placed four and Baltimore three. Nine of the teams had players on the first team. New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New Orleans, Minnesota, Detroit and San Francisco were blanked.

Two Lions were named to the second team.

Offensive guard John Gordy, 32, 6-foot-4, 240 pounds, from Tennessee and defensive tackle Alex Karras, 32, 6-2, 245, from Iowa, were both picked by a panel of sports writers and sportscasters for the second team.

Rams-Colts' Showdown Has Baseball Parallel

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Football League will stage its version of Bob Gibson vs. Jim Lonborg next Sunday when the Baltimore Colts play the Los Angeles Rams for the Coastal Division title.

The NFL version will be Johnny Unitas vs. Roman Gabriel and there are at least two interesting parallels to the baseball matchup. First, the pro football version matches a veteran star against a new star and, secondly, neither Unitas or Gabriel is the leader, percentage-wise, in his specialty.

But the weekly statistics released today by the NFL and further research by Don Weiss, the league's director of information, reveal the class of the two stars.

The Falcons (2-2) jumped into an early 13-5 lead but Bill Himmlsperger, the two Alsup and Jim Main registered punts as WTHS (4-0) swept the next five matches.

Eric Alsup has won all four of his starts by falls, and Joe has swept his three outings in the same manner.

Waterford will invade Port Huron tomorrow night in its final tuneup for Saturday's Waterford Invitational Tournament at Kettering High School.

PNH Matmen Rated Second

Pontiac Northern's Huskies occupy the No. 2 spot this week in the state wrestling prep poll issued by the Michigan Wrestling Coaches Association.

Holding the top spot is Lansing Eastern. After PNH come Ypsilanti and Owosso. Royal Oak Dondoro occupies the No. 7 slot.

The Huskies, winners of the state championship last year, ran their dual record to 2-0 last night by pinning a 2-3 setback on Royal Oak Kimball.

In another prep meet last night, improving Birmingham Seaholm knocked off Warren Fitzgerald, 32-12, with Kevin Wilson winning his 20th bout in a row in the 112-pound class. The triumph raised Seaholm's record to 3-0 for the season.

Elsewhere, Lake Orion posted its first victory (1-2) of the season with a 25-21 decision over Waterford Kettering, while Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows ran its record to 3-2 with a 28-14 triumph over Clarenceville.

Warriors Beat Midwestern 5

Michigan Christian JC Pulls Out Close Win

Michigan Christian Junior College closed with a rush Tuesday afternoon to defeat host Midwestern Baptist Seminary, 40-34, in a Michigan Christian College AA league contest.

The visiting Warriors and Midwestern entered the game tied for third place in the standings with 1-1 records, and they battled on even terms until the late going.

The host Falcons held a 10-point margin during the first half and were on top, 45-41, at the intermission. Midway through the closing twenty minutes Hal Greer put the score for the Falcons to offset.

Before the hopes of the 17,524 fans soared with Bradley and crashed with the final result. Hal Greer put on a little show in leading the Philadelphia 76ers past the Seattle SuperSonics 118-107.

Bradley missed the only shot in the first quarter but then hit on eight straight as the Knicks ran up a 108-86 lead with 6:55 left in the fourth quarter.

Sam Huff's 'Violence' Coming to End Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The name became synonymous with the bone crushing defensive play of the growing sport of professional football.

He was the subject of a television show, "The Violent World of Sam Huff," and was the subject of a cover story in Time Magazine. His dual with Jim Brown, the Cleveland Browns' great runner, have become legendary.

A graduate of West Virginia, the 33-year-old Huff played in 157 consecutive games before suffering an injured ankle eight weeks ago. He returned to action two weeks ago.

Special ceremonies will honor Huff before Sunday's game and already the Redskins are talking about trying to persuade him to play again. If Washington needs him for a championship bid next year, Huff indicated, he might be back.

Break Up Bureaucracy — Prof

LONDON (AP) — The man finds governments today getting who propounded the Parkinson law far away from the people. Law of expanding bureaucracy bringing democracy into a decline. His solution: Redraw the map, with a myriad of small states inside federal systems. He cites the United States as a model.

The world of George Orwell's "1984" creeps nearer every year, says Prof. C. Northcote Parkinson.

"When the tail of bureaucracy begins to wag the dog of government it leads to some form of totalitarianism—that seems to be the fashion of the day," he told an interviewer.

Europe, he indicated, could provide a powerful impetus in the other direction or the Common Market will never develop into a united political and economic force. It will be smothered by bureaucracy and wracked by bickering under the domination of West Germany, he says.

DRAWING ATTENTION

With a recent article in the Daily Telegraph Magazine and a new book, the 58-year-old author, journalist and former army officer is again attracting attention 10 years after his original "law" was published in the United States. It goes this way: "Work expands to fill the time available."

He gives a mass of figures to demonstrate the truth of his prophecy of 1957 that civil servants multiply as their responsibilities shrink.

NEW BOOK

His new book called "Left Luggage" blames Socialist governments for exaltations in the number of public employees.

The mushrooming ranks of government employees and the lists of companies dependent in some way on government, he says, threaten the freedom of the individual.

Parkinson predicts that by the year 2145 half of Britain's working population will be absorbed into public administration; by 2195 the entire working force will draw its pay from the government.

"The high public payroll can be rising to a point at which it has virtual control," he warns.

IMPOSSIBLE POSITION

"The position will then be impossible. People will vote as citizens for their own conditions of service as employees."

"Parliamentary government—already living in a dream world too far removed from the people—will then have to head for dictatorship of some form."

"Britain is one of the few instances of an attempt being made to govern 52 million people from one headquarters."

"France is trying to do something similar—but it has resorted to an individual."

"Government must be broken down into provinces or states so it is close enough to the people to give them influence."

LAST HOPE

The nationalist upsurges in Scotland and Wales provide the pointer, he says. Both have elected nationalist representatives to the London Parliament. This, believes Parkinson, is the one ray of sunshine.

"Europe can set up local legislatures," he says. "The model must be the United States—the biggest example in the world—where we find 200 million people divided into 50 states, giving an average of 4 million persons each."

At present, he says, "I wouldn't think a united Europe can come into existence. Is France going to have control, or Germany? I think it would be Germany. There can only be domination of one country over the others—something the other countries are not likely to accept readily."

"Britain could prepare itself for entry into the Common Market—which I don't think will be for sometime, incidentally—if it started to break itself down now. This is the real preparation for entry into a united Europe."

PREDICTION

Will this happen?

"It would be rash to predict. The rate of progress directly in proportion to the threat to the West from the Orient—at the moment, China. As anxiety grows the thought of it brings people together and makes them tackle problems or unity. "A small example of this is the way the Christian churches are talking about unity: the little churches are frightened an oriental religion will swallow them up."

"There is nothing inevitable about the situation. The problem is not superhuman."

"It is a question whether humans are intelligent enough to do something."

Term Committed

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has committed the sentence of former Detroit Thoma McDaniel, 53, who was convicted of first-degree murder by Detroit Recorder's Court in 1961. Romney's action makes McDaniel, an inmate of Southern Michigan Prison, eligible for immediate parole.

Crash Helmet or Crown of Thorns?

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. Juanita Silvey, who said the "helmet of salvation" of riding through the Bible was the only protection she needed, has lost her court fight to avoid wearing a motorcycle crash helmet.

The housewife had been fined $10 in Municipal Court for riding without a helmet. She filed a test case, contending the city ordinance was unconstitutional. Judge James H. Rexroad ruled the ordinance was constitutional.

"It is a privilege and not a right to operate a vehicle on the public streets, and no individual can be permitted to be the judge of his duty to obey laws enacted in the public interest and welfare," the judge said.

'Aggression' Eyed by U.N.

50 Nations Debate Need for Definition

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—One of the roles of the United Nations, under its charter, is to take collective measures "for the suppression of acts of aggression or other breaches of peace."

But the United Nations, like the League of Nations before it, has never been able to agree on what constitutes "aggression."

More than 34 years ago the Soviet Union asked the League of Nations to define it formally. It has asked the United Nations to do so, several times, initially in 1950.

This week more than 50 members of the 122-nation U.N. General Assembly debate a new Soviet proposal, declaring there is a need to define it.

DICTIONARY SAYS:

One dictionary calls aggression a "first or unprovoked attack or act of hostility," but it isn't that simple, politically speaking.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov said the United States is waging an aggressive war in Vietnam.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg suggested any definition must "mean the same thing to all of us regardless of ideology or power or political interest."

Park to Cater to Crippled

Facility in Georgia
Just for Handicapped

WINNER, Ga. (UPI) — Most Americans take outdoor recreation for granted, but a state park's trails and facilities often present problems for the handicapped.

Georgia, aided by a $642,243 grant from the Department of the Interior, is building a state park designed solely for handicapped persons and their families.

The park, to be located in the 1,680-acre Fort Yargo State Park in north-central Georgia, will feature braille direction signs, wheelchair trails and special equipment to make fishing, boating and other outdoor activities easy for the handicapped.

Now in the design stage and several years from completion, the park is expected to cost more than $1.3 million.

Many states have made their parks accessible to the disabled, but Fort Yargo will be the first park especially designed for the handicapped, according to Georgia park officials.

BLIND IN MIND

All facilities will be constructed with consideration of the convenience of the blind, those confined to wheelchairs and persons with partial or no use of their arms or legs.

The facilities will include trails, playground equipment, outdoor games, swimming, picnicking, fishing, boating and bicycling.

The park will be constructed around a group camp and a family cottage area — a unique feature of the project offering vacation style rental cottages to the families of the handicapped.

Lake beaches will be equipped with easy-access ramps and even the boats will have special apparatus to enable wheelchairs to be brought aboard easily.

Fire Total Up Last Month in Waterford

Reported fires in Waterford Township last month exceeded the totals for November 1966 and October of this year, according to a monthly fire department report submitted to the Township Board.

The report showed that 35 fires occurred in the community last month, compared with 29 the previous November and 28 in October.

Eighteen of last month's fires happened in buildings, seven in motor vehicles, six were classified as miscellaneous and four were of the brush and grass variety.

The number of fires through November this year stands at 389 as opposed to 497 for the same period of 1966.

However, direct fire damage this year totaled $224,078 after 11 months compared with $179,775 from January through November last year.

49 ALARMS

Including six rescue and emergency runs and four accidental alarms, township fire fighters responded to 49 alarms last month compared with 45 for the preceding November and 42 this October.

The total number of alarms answered by township firemen this year stands at 604 after 11 months against 739 for the same period of 1966.

Youth Guilty in Fight Death

Fatally Injured Teen on Royal Oak Street

A Royal Oak teen-ager was found guilty of manslaughter yesterday for fatally injuring another youth in a street fight a year ago.

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury deliberated about three hours in reaching the verdict against Robert Quinn, 17. He had been charged with the more serious offense of second degree murder.

Barrett died of respiratory failure Dec. 26, five days after suffering a fractured neck in the fight.

Quinn testified that he had acted in self-defense, but six witnesses for the prosecution said that Barrett had quit fighting and was walking away when Quinn grabbed him in a full-nelson wrestling hold.

BOTH FELL

According to Assistant Prosecutor John Davey, Barrett then pitched forward and Quinn fell on top of him.

The fight started in a hall at Dondro High School, where both boys attended, and then continued later across the street, Davey said.

Military Trial Set to Start for 36 on Greek Island

KHANIA, Crete (AP) — A military trial of 36 persons, including three former members of the Greek Parliament and two journalists, is scheduled to begin Thursday in this Greek island capital, it was announced Tuesday.

All 36 are charged with violating a 1947 emergency law against communism. Seven are also charged with setting off explosions last October in Iraklion, Crete.

The three ex-deputies, John Valirakis, Menelaos Xylouris and Tiliachos Plevis, all of Crete, are former members of the Premier George Papandreu's Center Union party.

The defendants can get maximum sentences of 20 years if convicted.

Blood Buys Less Work

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Albany Medical Center Hospital is fostering the spirit of holiday giving by giving its 2,000 employees time off with pay in exchange for donations of blood.

A hospital spokesman said each employee giving one pint of blood to the Red Cross would be allowed two to three hours off. Blood supplies in the area are low.

Villagers Flee

VENTIANE, Laos (AP) — All 75 people of Ban Bo Village in northern Laos have fled to Muong Maung because of increasing Communist guerrilla activities, the Lao army announced Tuesday. It estimated the number of refugees from the Communist Pathet Lao area is now about 250,000.

$3-Million Sale of Tax Notes Is OK'd for Pontiac

The State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved sale of $3 million in tax anticipation notes for the City of Pontiac.

The funds will be used for improving expenses and capital improvements.

The notes are necessary because of a shortage of operating cash at the beginning of the year, officials said.

While Pontiac's fiscal year begins January 1 the majority of funds cannot be collected until July when tax bills are mailed.

Heart-Switch Patient Sits Up in His Bed

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky continued to make "satisfactory progress" today, his doctors reported, after sitting up and dangling his legs over the side of his hospital bed for the first time since his heart transplant 10 days ago.

Washkansky will probably leave his bed later in the week, the doctors said.

Dr. Jacobus C. Burger, medical superintendent at Groote Schuur Hospital said a second heart transplant planned for early 1968 probably will be filmed.

American television companies are reported to have offered hundreds of thousands of dollars for a film of the Washkansky operation, but none was made.

"Had we foreseen this we would have arranged to have the operation filmed and it is more than likely the next one will be recorded on film," Burger said.

Couple Given Son's Posthumous Medal

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Elmy yesterday received a posthumous award, the Armed Forces Honor Medal, second class, for their son Pfc. Michael L. Elmy.

The presentation was made at Elmy's beauty parlor, 219 Auburn, by Captain John E. Clestone of Warren. Dr. Milton H. Bank, minister of the Central Methodist Church, was also present.

Pfc. Elmy was killed in a helicopter crash in Da Nang Bay, Vietnam, in May 1967. He was a graduate of Pontiac Central High School.

'VC Tried to Hide Massacre'

Percy Mulls Cause of Attack

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy said today he had been subjected to a Vietcong mortar attack because the Communists were trying to cover up a horrible crime, the Dakson massacre.

The Illinois Republican, 48, expressed that belief as he returned to Saigon from another swing over the countryside, this time to Da Nang and Cam Ranh.

He and his party had drawn Red mortar and small arms fire on an unsecured visit Tuesday in a chartered helicopter to Dakson, where a Vietcong battalion killed some 200 Montagnard tribesmen in a raid with grenades and flame throwers Dec. 5.

"There were many visitors to Dakson after the massacre," Percy told newsmen. "So why were we suddenly attacked? I think it was because the VC realized they had committed a crime so horrible that, when they saw people coming in, they decided they would try to scare future visitors away. This is the reason we were subjected to the mortaring."

NONE HIT

Percy said the mortaring proved that the Vietcong were resorting to desperation tactics.

Asked if this meant he believed the allies were winning the war, he said: "I don't think in a few days anyone can come to that kind of a conclusion. I am certainly encouraged by the dedication of the men I have seen here. Certainly the effort is working in some areas."

For example, he said, "The Vietcong are trying in every way to kill and murder the people who are participating in nation-building in this country."

Area Fire Chief Is Hospitalized

Waterford Township Fire Chief Lewis A. Goff became ill shortly after noon yesterday and was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital where he is listed in satisfactory condition in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Goff, 49, of 118 S. Tilden was home for lunch when he was stricken.

Married and the father of three sons and two daughters, all married, Goff has been employed with the department since 1950.

Asst. Fire Chief Russell See will serve as interim chief in Goff's absence.

Lump in Sofa Was a 'Coil'

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Yes, Mrs. Manuel Valencia, that lump in your living room couch probably did shift as you suspected.

After a week, Mrs. Valencia and her family grew accustomed of the lump and hardly noticed it at all.

Ambulance Takes Patient 700 Miles

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP) — A Klamath Falls man who needed treatment on an artificial kidney machine was taken to a Utah medical center 700 miles away by ambulance.

For weeks Dale Borah, 25, tried to get into West Coast hospital that had a kidney machine. He was finally accepted.

Borah's doctor finally made arrangements for him to go to Salt Lake City. But bad weather grounded airplanes on the day he was supposed to leave. So the owner of a Klamath Falls ambulance service agreed to drive Borah to the hospital in Utah.

Witnesses representing the Chicago and Northwestern, the Milwaukee Road, the Missouri Pacific, the Chicago Great Western and the Grand Trunk Western railroads testified before Edward L. Boies, hearing examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

They said the proposed merger would harm the five Midwestern rail firms through traffic diversions unless certain conditions were granted as part of the merger arrangement.

Asst. Fire Chief Russell See will serve as interim chief in Goff's absence.

Percy said the mortaring proved that the Vietcong were resorting to desperation tactics.

Asked if this meant he believed the allies were winning the war, he said: "I don't think in a few days anyone can come to that kind of a conclusion. I am certainly encouraged by the dedication of the men I have seen here. Certainly the effort is working in some areas."

For example, he said, "The Vietcong are trying in every way to kill and murder the people who are participating in nation-building in this country."

Witnesses representing the Chicago and Northwestern, the Milwaukee Road, the Missouri Pacific, the Chicago Great Western and the Grand Trunk Western railroads testified before Edward L. Boies, hearing examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

They said the proposed merger would harm the five Midwestern rail firms through traffic diversions unless certain conditions were granted as part of the merger arrangement.

'VC Tried to Hide Massacre'

Percy Mulls Cause of Attack

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy said today he had been subjected to a Vietcong mortar attack because the Communists were trying to cover up a horrible crime, the Dakson massacre.

The Illinois Republican, 48, expressed that belief as he returned to Saigon from another swing over the countryside, this time to Da Nang and Cam Ranh.

He and his party had drawn Red mortar and small arms fire on an unsecured visit Tuesday in a chartered helicopter to Dakson, where a Vietcong battalion killed some 200 Montagnard tribesmen in a raid with grenades and flame throwers Dec. 5.

"There were many visitors to Dakson after the massacre," Percy told newsmen. "So why were we suddenly attacked? I think it was because the VC realized they had committed a crime so horrible that, when they saw people coming in, they decided they would try to scare future visitors away. This is the reason we were subjected to the mortaring."

NONE HIT

Percy said the mortaring proved that the Vietcong were resorting to desperation tactics.

Asked if this meant he believed the allies were winning the war, he said: "I don't think in a few days anyone can come to that kind of a conclusion. I am certainly encouraged by the dedication of the men I have seen here. Certainly the effort is working in some areas."

Area Fire Chief Is Hospitalized

Waterford Township Fire Chief Lewis A. Goff became ill shortly after noon yesterday and was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital where he is listed in satisfactory condition in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Goff, 49, of 118 S. Tilden was home for lunch when he was stricken.

Lump in Sofa Was a 'Coil'

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Yes, Mrs. Manuel Valencia, that lump in your living room couch probably did shift as you suspected.

After a week, Mrs. Valencia and her family grew accustomed of the lump and hardly noticed it at all.

Ambulance Takes Patient 700 Miles

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP) — A Klamath Falls man who needed treatment on an artificial kidney machine was taken to a Utah medical center 700 miles away by ambulance.

For weeks Dale Borah, 25, tried to get into West Coast hospital that had a kidney machine. He was finally accepted.

Carols Are Called 'Meaningless Twaddle'

IPSLEY, England (AP) — wrote in his parish magazine, The Rev. Frederick Foreman thinks Christmas carols are "meaningless twaddle."

"There's 'God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen' where 'merry' could be interpreted in more senses than one. They are sung with 'great gusto and without thought,' he than one.

"And 'The Holly and the Ivy' is difficult to understand. 'Then there is all this sentimentality about the baby Jesus and carols like that. We don't pray to a baby, do we? 'There is very little connection events as they appear in the Bible. It is often just sentimentality.' But many of the carols the rector complained about will be sung in his church, 'because of public demand,' he explained.

Won't Be Deterred on War—Johnson

Senate Republicans Refuse to Take Up Open Housing

LANSING (AP) — The open occupancy bill remained the exclusive property of the House today after Senate Republicans refused to take up the controversial measure.

Despite apparent lack of support among Senate GOP ranks, the bill's bipartisan backers in both houses still expressed hope for its passage during the remaining days of the special session.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, said the House will try to finish the complex lower court reorganization bill today or tomorrow "and get to work immediately" on open occupancy.

The open occupancy, or open housing, bill would bar racial discrimination in most real estate transactions.

The Senate move Tuesday was a slap at Acting Gov. William Milliken and the majority Republican leaders of both houses, who had agreed that the Senate should take over open occupancy while the House worked on the court bill.

But the Senate GOP caucus voted not to support a proposed resolution to allow

2 Brigades Airlifted to Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The biggest airlift of the Vietnam war pushed U.S. troop strength in South Vietnam to about 475,000 today, more than the peak of 472,800 American fighting men in the Korean war at its height 14 years ago.

The U.S. Command took the security wraps off the transfer from the United States of two more brigades of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division, World War II's Screaming Eagles of Bastogne.

About 7,000 of the paratroopers have been flown across the Pacific since Nov. 17, and another 3,000 are due by Dec. 29.

Wearing combat fatigues with a .45 revolver and dagger tucked in his belt,

the 101st commander, Maj. Gen. Olinto M. Barsanti, snapped a salute on his arrival today at Bien Hoa Airbase and reported to Gen. William C. Westmoreland: "The 101st Airborne Division is present for combat in Vietnam."

Westmoreland, now commander of all U.S. troops in Vietnam, was the Screaming Eagles' commander from 1958 to 1960.

TO RECEIVE TRAINING

The new paratroopers are not expected to go into combat immediately and will receive some training before heading into the field. Then they will join the division's 1st Brigade, which has been in Vietnam since July 1965.

When completed, the airlift will have involved 373 transpacific flights, which after discharging men and supplies generally took off within 15 minutes on the 9,783-mile flight back to 101st Division headquarters at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

U.S. spokesmen said the airlift is the longest and largest ever staged directly from the United States to Southeast Asia.

The U.S. Command also removed the security wraps today from a new American infantry operation 28 miles north-east of Saigon and said 52 Communist troops had been killed in six days. Total U.S. losses for the period were put at two dead and 25 wounded.

AFL-CIO Confab Roars Approval of LBJ Speech

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Johnson says he will not be deterred, influenced or inflamed by his Vietnam war critics "regardless of my polls and regardless of the elections."

Departing from his prepared text in a nationally televised and broadcast speech to the AFL-CIO convention here yesterday, the President said: "I am going down the center of the road — doing my duty as I see it — for the best of my country."

The representatives of organized labor roared their approval when Johnson said he would always be ready to hear and act on any proposal for ending the Vietnam war. And their volume increased when he added:

"But in the meantime I want you to know — and I want all Americans to know — that I am not going to be deterred. I am not going to be influenced. I am not going to be inflamed by a bunch of political, selfish men who want to advance their own interest."

The President also had harsh words for congressional Republicans, terming them "wooden soldiers" warring on progress.

ASKS LABOR'S HELP

He asked the representatives of the 14-million-member "house of Labor" to help Democrats elect a "great Congress" in 1968.

About 2,000 convention delegates, officials and guests frequently interrupted Johnson's jibes at the Republicans with cheers, applause and laughter.

"The people know that the old Republican buggy can only go one way — backwards downhill," Johnson said.

"That old Republican buggy has been colliding with us all year long," he said of GOP efforts in Congress to block or alter his proposals on education, anti-poverty, medical care and Social Security.

Oust Regime, Says Greek King

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — King Constantine, evidently backed by part of the army, called on his people today to oust the military dictatorship and restore democracy to this land where it was born.

His appeal raised the specter of civil war in the wake of withdrawal of part of Greek forces from Cyprus in the face of Turkish demands.

The king repudiated the military coup of last April.

Shortly before he spoke troops and tanks took up positions around key buildings in Athens, and the state-run radio said the government was ready to defend itself.

The 27-year-old monarch declared leaders of last April's coup were only a segment of the army.

"A spirit of revenge will not prevail," he said, "but I will not accept any disobedience from now on and it will be crushed mercilessly. There will be no compromise."

He referred to the Communist-led civil war of 20 years ago and asked the people to assist him, follow him and support him.

The king spoke by radio from Salonika, the major city of northern Greece.

There were reports that the 3rd Armored Corps in Salonika had rebelled against the military dictatorship. The leader of the corps is a Gen. Peridis, known as a strong supporter of the king and an opponent of the April coup.

The Greek Embassy in London said the Ministry of Information in Athens reported a coup had been attempted by a group of army officers.

Greece is a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but the United States showed its displeasure with the April coup by cutting off arms shipments.

Weather Satellite Rockets Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Beaming back strong signals to earth, a robot "interplanetary weatherman" named Pioneer 8 rocketed into orbit around the sun today to help weave a network that could warn astronauts of deadly solar radiation storms in space.

En route to the sun-circling path between that of earth and Mars, Pioneer 8's fiery Delta booster rocket successfully kicked a radio-relay communications satellite into orbit around earth.

A petition requesting an inquest into the death of Jimmie King, 17-shot by police attempting to escape arrest early last Thursday — was filed yesterday in Pontiac Municipal Court.

INQUEST SOUGHT IN TEEN'S KILLING

Although Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson ruled Friday that the killing was a justifiable police action, a number of civic leaders and organizations last night asked the suspension of the two police officers involved pending outcome of the inquest.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said the requests were somewhat unexpected. Speaking at the city commission meeting, he said the commission will review the case and reach a decision on the suspensions next Tuesday.

Albert Shaw, a Negro leader and executive vice chairman of an interracial group known as Voice of Oakland County Action League (VOCAL), told to be used for testing America's man-to-the-moon tracking network.

The double payload blasted off at 9:08 a.m., EST. The tricky two-in-one shot closed out the 1967 launch schedule at Cape Kennedy.

Scientists refer to the Pioneer family of spacecraft as "interplanetary weathermen" and said sensors aboard Pioneer 8 could provide the best information yet on how great a danger radiation storms emitted from the sun pose to astronauts.

Working with other craft previously launched, drum-shaped Pioneer 8 could possibly lead to a foolproof means of predicting when dangerous flares will erupt on the sun — just as earth-orbiting weather satellites help forecasters predict climate on this planet. Manned space flights then can be scheduled around them, officials said.

RELAY STATION 42

Meanwhile, the eight-sided communications payload — called TTS for test and training satellite — was to act as an orbital relay station to exercise America's Apollo man-in-space global tracking network.

Scientists packed the TTS in the engine compartment of the three-stage Delta's second stage so it could spring free into Earth orbit while the upper stage propels Pioneer 8 into a sun-circling path.

TTS was designed to receive Earth-to-space signals on the same radio frequency used in Apollo manned flights, while returning signals to ground tracking stations on frequencies which will be used to report spacecraft and astronaut status during an actual mission.

Pioneer 8 was to team up with other radiation-studying spacecraft already operating, including Pioneer 6 located 144 million miles ahead of Earth and Pioneer 7, which is trailing this planet by about 68 million miles, to study solar events from different points in space.

Forecast Tonight Is Snow Flurries

Christmas shoppers will be scurrying around town in the midst of a few snow flurries instead of rain and drizzle tonight.

The weatherman predicts cloudy and colder tonight with flurries likely and a low of 25 to 30.

There's a chance of snow or snow flurries with continued cold temperatures Friday.

Winds southwesterly at 15 to 25 miles per hour this morning will diminish a little tonight.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: 30 today and tonight, 40 tomorrow.

TEMPERATURES

An above freezing 35 was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury had edged up to 43 by 12:30 p.m.

New Attitude on Crime Asked

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, addressing the annual Oakland County Law Enforcement Association Conference at the Pontiac Elks Club last night, called for a new attitude toward law enforcement to combat the nation's rising crime rate.

Kelley told a gathering of some 150 representatives of more than a dozen county law enforcement groups that "everyone says they're for law and order, but few are apparently willing to pay the price."

He cited three primary areas where this change in attitude should manifest itself:

- In the provision of funds for police agencies at the local level.
- In the concept of the police officer.
- In the approach of private citizens to the law.

STATE SUBSIDY

Kelley suggested state subsidy of local law enforcement "in support of local funding."

Kelley urged better recruitment programs, pointing out that private industry has recently absorbed the vast majority of potential college-educated law officers.

"Better pay and a revised system of entry into police ranks would facilitate this goal," he said.

Unusual Items Plentiful

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the eighth in a series on suggestions for Christmas gifts, available in Pontiac Area stores.)

By JUNE ELBERT

If you enjoy shopping for gifts that are a "bit different," a little looking will reveal lots of items to draw surprised "ohs" and "ahs."

The dieter will be delighted with a gold-finish saccharin scuttle and tongs for a little over a dollar.

For those easy-going souls who always keep their cool, how about a game of "Frustration"? Keep the steel ball riding uphill on the rods and gain points for steady hands and keen judgement. $7.50.

The teen party miss will be delighted with a jeweled slipper-shape purse just large enough for lipstick and "mad" money, with instep zipper closure. About $2.

To go under the little misses' mimi-dresses, how about some pretty panties embroidered on the lace-trimmed back pockets. In sizes 4 to 6 at $2 a pair.

A wild print is combined with psychedelic colors to accent freedom in a bouncing culotte for the lady of the house. Available in sizes 10 to 18 at about $12.

The party hostess will enjoy owning a cocktail-pick tree to add a touch of glamor to her buffet table. It comes with 12 hors d'oeuvre picks with green ball heads in a flower pot base, at $8.

Chest buffs could fill a lot of traveling time with a compact set of tiny pieces in a zippered leather case. Imported from Germany, it has a magnetic board to foil spills. Only $6.50.

Deficit School Budget OK'd

TROY — The school board plans to meet next Monday to set up a millage election after approving another deficit budget last night.

The approval is contingent upon the opinion of the schools' attorney on the anticipated $233,000 deficit for the 1967-68 school year.

This deficit will be added to the $375,000 deficit from the last two school years, making a total of $608,000 (cash basis) in the red.

The tentative verbal opinion of the attorney, said Supt. Rex B. Smith, is that the deficit budget is legal if the budget includes a provision of borrowing on next year's state aid and local taxes within the legal limit.

With the deficits, the district is financially "approaching a dangerous point," stressed Smith. He recommended that the millage proposal to liquidate the deficit and provide for operational needs for the next five years be put on the Feb. 19 ballot.

PRIMARY DATE

This is also the date for the possible city primary and the city request for a half-mill tax increase for the new library. Smith suggested that the district still have the election even if the city doesn't have the primary because teacher hiring begins soon after February.

The superintendent emphasized that the board and administration together set the amount of the millage to be requested so that the proposal becomes "a true board proposal, not a 'Smith proposal' or a hurried citizens committee proposal."

District voters have twice this year defeated requests for 7-mill tax increases for one-year terms. The June 12 election was motivated by the school administration and a citizens' committee. Only a citizens' committee pushed for the Sept. 11 election.

After the June defeat, the board made 27 cuts in the educational program.

CURRENT BUDGET

This year's budget lists expenditures of $3,587,713 and income of $3,354,736.

About 83 percent of the budget goes for salaries and fringe benefits. The three master agreements with employees completed in October delayed the finalizing of the budget, said Smith.

The remaining 12 percent of the budget finances fuel, utilities and supplies. Although income is up $422,638 over last school year, state aid is $40,000 less than the maximum hoped for this year because enrollment was about 200 less than expected last spring.

LOCAL INCOME

The superintendent also noted that

Detroit Arraigned on Marijuana Charge

DETROIT (UPI) — A Detroit man was arraigned here yesterday on charges of concealing and transporting 107 kilograms of marijuana worth an estimated $220,000, the U.S. District Attorney said.

Some of it was reportedly meant for Oakland County.

Rockey Sloup, 25, had also been arraigned Dec. 6 on a charge of possessing hashish, mescaline and marijuana, all hallucinatory drugs, worth an estimated $30,000, federal agents said.

Ross Ellis, district supervisor of the bureau of narcotics of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said the haul was the largest made by federal agents in the area over the last 30 years.

Sloup allegedly shipped 107 kilo bricks of marijuana from San Francisco to Detroit in three footlockers, Ellis said.

POPCORN FOR VIETNAM—Junior high school students in Lansing bag and package popcorn to be mailed to American troops fighting in Vietnam. A popcorn company donated a ton of the grain, and the students volunteered their time after a local newspaper suggested the program.

this year local sources will be paying about $440,000 more and state sources about $6,000 less than last year. He explained that locally derived income is up because of an increase in the state equalized valuation of property.

Expenditures are up $387,755 from last year due to increased costs of salaries, instruction, plant operation and transportation.

Smith added that although the "salary schedules are quite competitive with our neighbors... they are more than the present tax rate will support."

The budget was approved unanimously except for the dissent of Harold A.

James who said he wanted more time to study it.

After hearing an enrollment report, the board indicated that after Christmas it will be faced with a teacher shortage in the Hill, Troy Union and Big Beaver elementary schools.

Principals of these schools have reported that enrollments have been increasing weekly since Nov. 10.

After the board approved payment of by next expenses for stadium use, it commented that revenues aren't near expectations.

While the district has been able to pay bond principal and interest, it hasn't put any money into the stadium replacement and stadium surplus funds.

School Cutbacks, New Election Face Voters in Romeo District

ROMEO — Sharp cutbacks in school services for the balance of the current year and a new election Jan. 29 face residents of the Romeo School District.

The board of education voted Monday night to pare about $35,000 from its anticipated $100,000 deficit by cutting back in teaching and maintenance supplies and in transportation services and purchases.

The combined action was the result of a narrow defeat Nov. 27 for a renewal of three mills and an additional five new mills for the operating budget. The vote was 3 to 2.

School Supt. T. C. Filippula in announcing the decision for a new election recalled a closer margin of victory in 1956 which built the town's new high school. That issue, he recalled, passed by one vote.

The new millage, if approved, would not be levied until the December 1968, tax bills, Filippula said.

DEBT RETIREMENT

Three of the additional five mills sought are earmarked for debt retirement and the other two for additional maintenance, the purchase of six new school buses, plus some remodeling and salary adjustment.

The increase to the average property owner would amount, according to the superintendent, to about $40 a year of $5 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

"We are hopeful — and very much in need — of a favorable vote," Filippula said.

Renewal Funds Resolution OK'd

OXFORD — The Village Council last night approved a resolution opening the way for payment of $198,492 in federal government Title I funds to cover the cost of surveying and plans for the Central Business District Urban Renewal project.

The resolution will be forwarded to the Chicago Office of Housing and Urban Development, according to Robert Smalley, village manager.

A report by Robert Pearl of Villac-Leman Associates of Southfield, in regard to the project, revealed that letters will be sent to about 100 residents of the involved area asking for information. He said the letters, in the form of census questionnaires would be kept anonymous.

The council gave Smalley approval to negotiate with Chester Bushman of Bushman Disposal Co. in regard to payments on village refuse pickup.

Bushman had asked that either his contract which runs until May be canceled or that he be given an additional $100 a week until that time. He said he was not breaking even on the operation.

Township Board Confirms Need for Sewer Setup

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board decided affirmatively on the necessity of a $74,520 sewer project for Medbury, Middle Belt and Hemlock streets in Supervisor's Middle Belt Ten Mile Plat No. 2.

The decision regarding the system to serve 52 lots came after a public hearing on the project Monday.

The second hearing on the project's cost will be held in about two months when the assessment roll is drawn up, said a township official.

In other action, the board approved three subdivision preliminary plats. They are:

- Independence Commons near Halstead, 11 Mile and Drake roads, being developed by Thompson-Brown Co.

- Wedgewood Commons on Farmington Road near Briar Hills subdivision, also being developed by Thompson-Brown.

- Philip Judson Gardens North on Drake Road south of Guy R. Polley subdivision, being developed by Lechner Associates, Inc.

Decoration Entry Deadline Is Friday

LAKE ORION — Home owners here have until 6 p.m. Friday to enter their homes in the Christmas decoration contest sponsored by the Orion Area Jaiques.

Anyone in Orion Township is eligible to compete, according to Donald DeLong, Jaique official. The club has received only five entries to date, he said.

Judges for the contest will be Village President Wallace Crane and Councilmen Arlie Reed and Fred Cole.

Subdivisions Get Preliminary OK in Oakland Twp.

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — The way was cleared for construction of nearly a hundred new homes here last night as the Township Board gave preliminary approval to plats for three new subdivisions.

Some 67 acres are involved in the new Coach Lamp Hills Subdivision being developed by Oakland-Rochester Development Co. of Rochester.

Located adjacent to Oakland Valley Subdivision on N. Rochester Road, the development in its first stage will contain 30 homes.

The board also approved preliminary plans for Oakland Valley No. 7 in the same area and gave first approval to the development of 40 lots by George Knorr of Rochester to Knorrwood Estates located in the area of Lake George and Orion Roads.

The board voted $50 a month subsidy on a six-month trial basis to Fleet Ambulance Service. That amount with the $200 voted by Avon Township and $300 voted by Rochester is expected to keep an ambulance stationed in the area.

It was pointed out last night that Oakland Township is also served by ambulances from Lake Orion, Oxford and Romeo.

ASHLAND, Wis. (AP) — George Paulsen, 30, of Ironwood, Mich., was killed Sunday in a two-car crash on Highway 2, 10 miles east of Ashland in the northern Wisconsin village of Odanah.

Bill to Prevent Disputes Okayed

Senate Acts on I-696 Snarl

LANSING (AP) — A bill designed to untangle the dispute over proposed I-696 expressway in Oakland and Macomb counties and prevent future snarls over route locations received Senate approval yesterday.

The bill, approved 53-3 and given immediate effect, provides that communities, which now have veto power over interstate highway routes, must submit to binding arbitration in route selection.

The measure, already passed by the House, provides that once the State Highway Department has certified the need for arbitration in picking a highway route, the affected communities have 30 days in which to act.

They may agree either to a route or

Junk Car Complaints Heard

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Junk automobiles and rising taxes occupied the Township Board Monday.

Petitions from residents of the Taylor-Giddings roads area protested the alleged spread of a car-dismantling operation owned by Sam Gottesman on Taylor Road.

Supervisor Roy Wahl announced suit has already been brought against the owner. Gottesman will be required to show cause Monday in Circuit Court as to why he should be allowed to proceed, Wahl said.

Counsel Studies Romeo Zoning

ROMEO — A new zoning ordinance formulated by Dryer Associates of Birmingham with the village planning commission has been referred to the attorney for study.

Clerk Norman Engel said the new ordinance provides for stronger and more enforceable zoning laws than the village presently has.

Three trustees, John Kegler, Kenneth Smith and Stanley Ludtke, were appointed to a committee to negotiate with the police officers' union on salary.

Patrolman James Reid was promoted to corporal.

The council voted to cover parking meters from Dec. 14 to 26 for free parking for Christmas shoppers.

A bill of $6,000, for construction of a sanitary sewer adjacent to the Ford property, was approved.

Brandon Schools Okay 2 Clinics

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Permission to build health clinics in each of the two elementary schools was won by Schools Supt. Henry Versnick Monday night at the Brandon Board of Education meeting.

Versnick said he would solicit bids on steel partitions to create permanent rooms for use by the Oakland County health nurse. The district owns most of the equipment necessary to furnish such rooms, he reported.

Objections to rising taxes were taken up by Wahl after the meeting.

Township figures reveal that new tax bills are up 27 per cent over last year in the Pontiac School District and 21.88 per cent in the Avondale School District.

INCREASE MAGNIFIED

Clayton Lovelace assessor said a slight increase in millage had been magnified by the 11.82 factor with which he was required to multiply last year's valuations. The factor was needed, he said, to meet the state requirement for a 50 per cent valuation.

In other business the board passed a resolution backing the Oakland County Protective Service branch in Pontiac Township and tabled a request for new radio equipment needed by the fire department.

Holly's Council Gets Petition to Annex 238 Acres

HOLLY — A petition to annex 238 acres of mostly vacant property to the village was received last night by the council.

Jack Albright, Holly surveyor representing Fred Barton, the owner, asked that the council consider taking in 175 acres to the north which contains a trailer park on 63 acres and 67 acres to the south which is vacant.

The matter was referred to the planning commission with a decision due Jan. 9.

Advantages under village government would include refuse disposal, water, added police protection and a lower insurance rating.

Barton is reportedly interested in becoming a part of the city mainly for the refuse pickup that would be afforded his trailer park. The park already has a water and sewer system, according to village officials.

In other business last night the council approved a replat of Holly Bush Shores Subdivision No. 2. Previously the Wier Subdivision, it has been sold to Nicholas Hudson Associates of Holly.

A discussion of the present water system enlargement and a street improvement program also occupied council members.

which reserve to local units of government the right to "reasonable" control of their streets and highways.

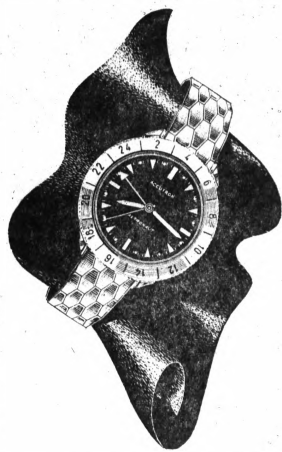

The completion of I-696 has been held up for months by the failure of six southern Oakland County communities to agree on a route.

"We've reached the end of the road on voluntary community agreement on a road," said Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, "and either the Legislature acts or I-696 will never be built."

"I think the vast majority of the people in the metropolitan area say they want the highway," he added.

The bill now goes back to the House for concurrence in the amendment.

Another on NY Mayor's Team Resigns

NEW YORK (AP) — When he took office Mayor John V. Lindsay recruited a breed of bright young men he called "urbanists" and assigned them key posts in his administration.

But their turnover has been high: In less than 24 months 10 top Lindsay appointees have resigned—some under fire, some in anger, some with regret and some with relief.

The latest to leave, Water Commissioner James L. Marcus, one of Lindsay's top political advisers, resigned Tuesday while the district attorney's office was investigating a complaint about his activities as an investment counselor before he joined the city administration.

Marcus, slated for a top job as head of the Environmental Protection Administration, one of the mayor's proposed super-agencies, fit the Lindsay specifications perfectly.

LONG HOURS

At the time of his nationwide talent search, close aides said the mayor was looking for a "Kennedy-type" administration, meaning "young, brainy and vigorous." Selection, they said, was based on a man's ability to work long hours and his absence of political affiliation.

Marcus, the 37-year-old son-in-law of John Davis Lodge, former governor of Connecticut, was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, spent several years in business, joined Lindsay as a mayoral assistant and began a steady climb to the top of the Lindsay team.

His surprise resignation was announced as political leaders speculated on the status of Health Services Administrator Howard Brown, who is in the hospital with a case of infectious hepatitis.

It has been rumored that Brown had also handed in his resignation, but Lindsay said Tuesday he would make no comment until Brown leaves the hospital.

Lindsay was initially pleased by the success of his talent search. At the end of his first year in office, he said one of his major accomplishments had been the installment of "competent young men—the urbanists, that new breed of nonpolitical government specialists—in key municipal positions of responsibility and judgment."

However, the rash of resignations since the Republican mayor's appraisal—seven since February—drew sharp criticism Tuesday from City Councilman Edward L. Sadowsky.

"The first requirement for the successful operation of our agencies is for administrators to stick with their job," the Queens Democrat said. "What appears to be a precipitous departure of top executives in recent months, alleged shakedowns and promotion payoffs in his department, effectively paralyze the operations of these agencies."

The 56-year-old sanitation chief was not personally mentioned in any charges.

First to leave the Lindsay team was Sanitation Commissioner Joseph F. Periconi, who resigned his $30,000-a-year post in November after a probe into his desk—from Deputy Mayor Robert Price and Press Secretary Woody Klein.

Senate Seen Sole Social Security Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Easy House passage and Senate approval after a fight—that's the outlook for legislation sharply increasing Social Security benefits and taxes.

The House takes up today the measure boosting all benefits at least 13 per cent. The minimum monthly payment would go from $44 to $55 a month and the maximum from $142 to $160.50. Wives over 65 would, as now, get 50 per cent in addition.

But there's a move in the Senate to defer final action until next year and meanwhile try to work out a new compromise closer to the Senate's expressed wishes.

It appears, however, that Congress' urge to get a Social Security bill on the books before adjournment, hopefully set for the weekend, would prevail. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he expects to call up the measure as soon as possible after the House acts.

The Social Security tax would add up a maximum of $2.80 in 1968, more in future years.

House conferees generally prevailed when they met with their Senate counterparts on different versions passed by the two chambers. The final product cut back sharply higher benefit and tax figures voted by the Senate.

So the compromise, very much like the bill the House originally passed, is expected to be approved there without much ado.

Many of the controversy over the bill is centered outside the actual Social Security provisions.

RELIEF OUTLAY

The omnibus measure also contains a section designed to slow the swift growth of relief outlays for families with dependent children. It would set a limit based on the present proportion of aided children to the total number of children in the state.

Also included in the bill is what sponsors term a work incentive program designed to put as many aid recipients as possible into paying jobs.

Some senators have talked of trying to separate and pass now the Social Security provisions, keeping the controversial welfare sections for further negotiation. But that move appeared to have little chance of success.

One of the oldest preserved forts in America is located in Beaufort, S.C. Ft. Fredericks was constructed by the British during the American Revolutionary War to ward off pirates and Indians.

Increased Access to Capitol Sought

LANSING (AP) — The State Capitol would be open to the public seven days a week instead of the present five day under terms of a concurrent resolution introduced in the House Tuesday.

The resolution, sponsored by Rep. Matthew McNeely, D-Detroit, calls on the State Department of Administration to provide public access to the Capitol each day of the week, at least from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The only days exempted would be Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's day.

KC Officials Win Vote

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City's reform city government, in office since 1963 and reelected this spring, won another decisive vote in a special election Tuesday.

Voters defeated by nearly three-to-one a proposal which would have shortened the terms of elected city officials from four to two years.

The unofficial vote against the proposed city charter amendment was 32,963 to 11,275. Only 23 per cent of the registered voters turned out.

Had it been approved, the charter amendment would have forced another municipal election of council members and municipal judges next spring.

FIGHT WITH FIREMEN

Leading supporter of the proposition was Fire Fighters Union Local 42 which has fought with the city administration over wages and hours the last 18 months.

Stanton M. Gladden, president of the local, said its aim was to "get rid of the people in city hall today—all of them."

Firemen circulated petitions which prompted the special election.

MERRY CHRISTMAS WREATH — This wreath, fashioned of pumpnickel rounds and a rich and creamy mixture of tangy Danish Blue Cheese, butter, and minced clams, is as good to eat as it is to look at on your holiday hospitality table. Julelogg — the hot wine punch of the season, is a perfect accompaniment.

Old Christmas Food Traditions Linger

• In Norway, a bowl of rice pudding, the traditional Christmas dessert, is left in the barn on Christmas Eve for the Christmas gnomes known as the Jule-nisser.

• The first course of the Lebanese Christmas dinner, a delicate lamb soup, can be traced to the Christmas Eve of killing a lamb as a sacrifice to Christ. While most of the meat is given to the poor, some is saved, which together with the bones, is used to prepare the Christmas lamb soup.

• The heart of every Christmas bird, be it the capon of Italy, the roast goose immortalized by Charles Dickens, or the monarch of the American table, the turkey, is the savory stuffing, creatively and imaginatively prepared and generously laced with love.

Perhaps the ultimate stuffing recipe comes from the French and was credited to Napoleon's Chancellor. It called for stuff-

TRADITIONAL EGGNOG — Beat six egg yolks and ½ cup sugar until thick and lemon colored. Beat in two cups light or whipping cream, two cups milk, ½ teaspoon salt and two teaspoons vanilla. Beat six egg whites until they hold stiff peaks; fold into egg yolks mixture. Serve in chilled punch bowl; sprinkle with nutmeg. Makes 2½ quarts of non-alcoholic eggnog.

Soft Drink Is Base of Punch

When friends drop in during the holiday season, casual entertainment can be easy and enjoyable. Just plan ahead by having the necessary ingredients readily available for this quick-as-a-wink punch recipe, and by having an assortment of doughnuts or cookies on hand.

A fruit-filled holiday punch will add a colorful note to your serving table. Add a grouping of festive angel figurines, surrounded by bright green holly leaves, on a red table cloth to complete the holiday setting.

Four-Fruit Holiday Punch
1 cup halved strawberries
1 cup canned pineapple chunks
1 cup sliced bananas
2 lemons, thinly sliced
3 cups strong cold tea
32-oz. bottles grapefruit soda

Arrange fruit in bottom of punch bowl; cover with cold tea. Chill for one hour. Then fill punch bowl with ice-cold grapefruit soda, or Diet variety for weight-watchers. Makes about 30 punch-cup servings.

Helpful Hint: Always pour your carbonated beverages gently and slowly to retain maximum carbonation.

Sugar Helps Flavor of Canned Soups

There are two reasons why sugar is employed as an ingredient in canned prepared soups. Used in New England clam chowder, French-style petite marmite with beef chunks and vegetables, split pea with ham soup, and others too, sugar both intensifies and also blends individual flavors of other foods.

Gulf Kist Shrimp

fresh from the Gulf Coast, home waters for nature's tastiest shrimp

Gulf Kist captures all of the succulent and delicate flavor of shrimp from the sunny Gulf. No peeling, no waste. Already cooked for you. Good cooks keep several cans handy—ready for good eating any time. Ideal for weight watchers—only 170 calories in a whole can. Economical, too, one 4-1/2 oz. can is equal to a 10 oz. pack of frozen unshelled shrimp.

Form Cheese Mixture into Wreath

In Denmark, as in the rest of the world, some of the best decorations of Christmas are edible.

Cookie stars and reindeer are invitingly arranged on tiered epergnes, candy canes hang from the tree, packages of sweets are piled high in cornucopias, their gay wrappings glistening in the light of the Christmas candles.

DANISH BLUE WREATH

12 ounces Danish Blue Cheese (3 cups crumbled)
1 ½ sticks (6 oz.) butter
1 can (10 ½ oz.) minced clams
2 packages (8 oz. each) pumpnickel rounds
Soften Danish Blue and butter at room temperature, blend. Drain clams well, add to cheese mixture. Chill.

Use as spread or shape into a long roll the diameter of the pumpnickel rounds, wrap in foil, and return to the refrigerator to become very stiff. Cut the cheese roll into slices.

Shape a wreath around the border of a flat platter with alternate slices of cheese and round pumpnickel, standing on edge. Press together firmly at the inside edges to hold the wreath shape. Chill again until serving time. Decorate with a festive bow.

To serve, separate the cheese from the same side of each pumpnickel slice with a sharp knife, remove slices of bread with cheese as needed.

JULELOGG

Danish Hot Spiced Wine Punch
2 bottles claret or other light red wine
10 cardamom pods
5 cloves
2-inch piece of cinnamon

Rind of ½ orange
1 cup blanched almonds
1 cup raisins
½ pound cube sugar
1 bottle Akavit or brandy
½ orange sliced thin for garnish
Empty the claret into chafing dish or glogg pot. Tie spices in a square of cheesecloth, add to wine. Add orange rind, nuts and raisins, bring to boiling point. Remove and discard spices and orange rind. At serving time, reheat wine, if necessary.

Put sugar cubes into small saucepan that can be brought to the table, add Akavit and ignite. Pour the flaming liquor into the glogg pot and stir until the flame dies. Float orange slices on glogg.

Serve in small cups or glasses, with raisins and almonds as garnish. Makes 23 servings.
