

First Indictments in Latest Probe Issued by Pratt

Indictments were issued today by the Oakland County Grand Jury charging three persons, including a Detroit auto broker, with conspiracy and extortion, and a Southfield attorney with perjury and obstructing justice.

To be arraigned today in Bloomfield Hills Justice Court on the extortion charges were Ben L. Faeder, president of the J-Z Buyer Service, Inc., his wife Leatrice P., and Allan H. Mann, a salesman at the Hamilton Motor Plymouth-Valiant Sales, Highland Park.

The Oakland County lawyer charged with the two counts is Frank E. Holtzman, 2411 Twyckelawn, who has offices in the Cadillac Tower, Detroit.

The indictments are the first issued since Grand Juror Circuit Judge Philip Pratt began taking testimony in mid-August.

Grand jury officials said today that the two indictments are only remotely connected, but noted that two women named in the information, and who play important roles in the issuing of the indictments, are neighbors, living in the same apartment building in Troy, at 2258 Coolidge.

The Faeders and Mann are charged with threatening to accuse Mrs. Barbara Wahl of forgery and fraud unless she paid them $5,000.

The alleged incidents are said to have occurred Aug. 11, and other times up to Sept. 15.

Because of the secrecy surrounding grand jury proceedings, details of the alleged threats were not immediately made known.

"I can only say that I think you'll find the (preliminary) examination on the extortion case extremely interesting," said Judge Pratt.

The written charges against Holtzman include a transcript of testimony he gave when he appeared as a witness before the grand jury Oct. 3.

LBJ Asia Trip to Be Major Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expanding his trip to the Manila conference into a major Asian tour with visits to New Zealand, Australia, Thailand, Malaysia and South Korea, as well as the Philippines.

Johnson's plans were disclosed today by governments of several of the Asian nations. There was no immediate word from the White House, but the President scheduled an afternoon news conference that was expected to bring his confirmation of the announcements from abroad.

The news conference was set for 2 p.m. EST.

The official visits to the five nations will be sandwiched around the Oct. 24-25 Manila meeting of chiefs of state of the seven countries with troops fighting Communists in South Viet Nam.

In Kuala Lumpur, the Malaysian government said both President and Mrs. Johnson would visit that country Oct.

29-31. It was the first official mention that Mrs. Johnson would accompany her husband on his Far Eastern trip.

Johnson plans to visit New Zealand Oct. 19-20 and then fly to Australia, before attending the Manila meeting, New Zealand Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake announced in Wellington.

Holyoake said Johnson had mapped an itinerary that "will bring him to New Zealand and then on to Australia, Thailand, Malaysia, and South Korea as well as to the Philippines conference on Viet Nam."

The Thai government's announcement said Johnson's visit to that country—which borders war-torn South Viet Nam—would come after the Manila conference, but a date was not given immediately.

In Seoul, President Chung Hee Park's secretary said Johnson would spend three days in South Korea, Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

The White House obviously was showing deference to desires of other Pacific nations to have the privilege of announcing visits from the American President.

But Johnson's news conference was expected to produce official confirmation of the extensive travel plans.

Since the Manila conference was announced 10 days ago, there has been broad speculation that as long as Johnson was so far out in the Pacific, he would visit such other allied nations as Australia, New Zealand and South Korea. And diplomatic officials had suggested there might be even more stops.

Cong Unit of 66 Men Surrenders

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A unit of 66 Viet Cong soldiers surrendered en masse today as American, Korean and South Vietnamese forces closed in on an entrenched, fragmented Communist force on the central coast.

The wholesale surrender raised to about 200 the number of prisoners taken by the combined allied force in five days of operation.

It was probably the war's biggest haul of prisoners, and in addition the allied forces claimed nearly 500 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in the pincer operation north of Qui Nhon.

To the north just below the demilitarized zone, U.S. Marines braved a hail of Communist grenades and waded in ankle-deep mud yesterday to capture the last hill along a four-mile ridge they had been clearing of North Vietnamese for 15 days.

Marine casualties were described as light, but three 50mm tank shells fired in support of the Leathernecks fell short, killing three Marines and wounding seven others in the base camp for the operation.

The Marine operations below the demilitarized zone for the second time in two weeks pushed American combat casualties last week above those of South Vietnamese forces although American losses were less than the week before.

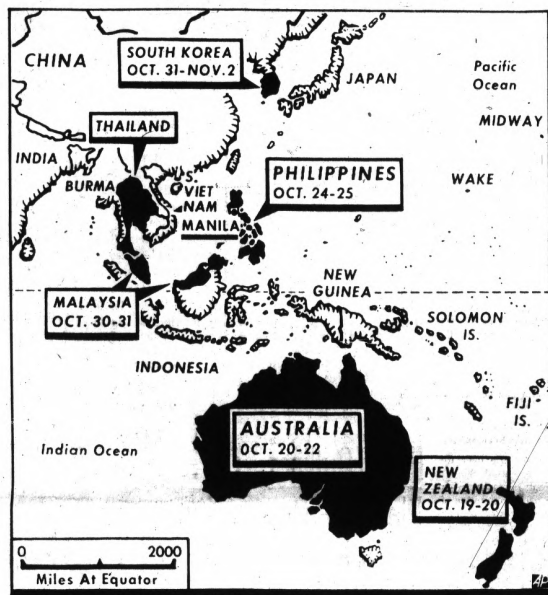

The U.S. command said 99 Americans were killed and 842 wounded during the week that ended last Saturday, compared with 87 killed and 508 wounded reported by the South Vietnamese.

Other allied forces reported 16 men killed and 48 wounded, nearly double the toll the week before.

Enemy losses reported were also down, 1,104 last week compared with 1,208 the previous week.

TOTAL KILLED
American casualties two weeks ago were 142 killed, 825 wounded and 3 missing or captured. The number of Americans missing quadrupled last week, to 12.

Totals reported for the year included 3,523 Americans killed, 6,859 South Vietnamese killed and 40,149 enemy dead.

ASIAN TRIP EXPANDED—President Lyndon B. Johnson, who originally announced he would attend a Southeast Asia summit conference in Manila, has expanded his tour to include five other nations. Spokesmen for New Zealand, Australia, Malaysia, South Korea and Thailand indicated LBJ would stop in their countries.

UF Division Sets Goal

"Make Pontiac the city of champion drivers, the inspired way—the volunteer way," the chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund commercial division told 225 solicitors at yesterday's kickoff luncheon.

Charles Woodhead, who was also master of ceremonies at the Elks Temple luncheon, announced a commercial division goal of $250,501.

Featured speaker Jess Foster, Battle Creek Boy Scout executive, advised listeners to tell donors:

"Give as much as possible, after you think about the matter carefully. We'll be happy to take what ever you give."

Woodhead also told solicitors to seek a 6 per cent increase over the 1965 pledges.

'STRESS PURPOSES'
Dr. Don O. Tatroe, general campaign chairman, requested solicitors "stress human purposes that lie behind the fund drive."

Executive director Donald J. Frey discussed the extensive surveys and actions leading to the PAUF's present positions toward the Waterford Boy's Club and the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council.

Team chairmen appointed by Woodhead are Harold Davis, small teams; Al Little, professional; John Napley, chapter plans; Mitchell Tendler, education; and Joseph A. Warren, government.

Heads of the other campaign divisions were introduced.

They are: William R. Freshour, campaign publicity and promotion; Mrs. James H. Cowen, women's division; Howard H. Fitzgerald II, advance gifts; Alger V. Conner, G.M., industrial division; and Robert Anderson, manufacturing division.

The luncheon was sponsored by J. L. Hudson Co., Pontiac Mall, and Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The general campaign kickoff is slated for Monday evening. The total UF goal is $1,042,000.

News Flash

Fire gutted a one-story ranch home on Pontiac's north side about 1 p.m. today, hospitalizing two young boys and a fireman.

Flames broke out at 451 Moore in the Herrington Hills subdivision and spread rapidly through the home, according to Fire Capt. Albert Rayner. The boys and the fireman were not identified.

Voters OK County Plan for Schools

Thanks to strong support from voters in the Walled Lake and Dublin districts, where record turnouts went to the polls, the Oakland County school reorganization plan passed 2,700 to 2,248 in yesterday's special election.

The 452 "yes" vote majority, decided by electors from five county school districts, resulted in two annexations—North Oxford to Oxford and Dublin plus a small portion of the Waterford Township system to Walled Lake.

The mergers, which officially become effective next July 1, had been proposed earlier this year as part of a state plan to eliminate school districts without complete kindergarten-through-12th grade programs.

Dublin (eight grades), North Oxford (six grades) and Novi fell in this category in Oakland County. Novi was allowed to strive for its own program.

In addition to the Walled Lake and Dublin districts, the county plan carried in Oxford.

WERE AGAINST
Waterford Township voters showed they were decidedly against losing the 400-acre White Lake Township area lying in their district, casting 1,351 "no" votes against only 91 affirmative votes.

The small area, which includes about 40 public school children, is situated west of Williams Lake Road and south of Elizabeth Lake Road.

North Oxford also voted in the negative, with 12 "yes" and 21 "no" votes.

In Walled Lake and Dublin, the single-proposition question passed overwhelmingly—1,929 to 815 in Walled Lake and 518 to 29 in the latter.

MILLAGE QUESTIONS

Walled Lake OKs School Bond Issue

Walled Lake School District voters yesterday approved a $9.7-million building program which will provide the district with a new high school, a swimming pool at the high school and two elementary schools.

A $9,150,000 bond issue to build and equip the new senior high school and two elementary schools as well as to purchase future school sites passed by a 2,071 to 678 vote.

The second proposition, seeking $550,000 to build a swimming pool at the new high school, was approved, 1,701 to 1,608.

Approval of the two bonding proposals will increase taxes by 1 mill or $1 per $100 of equalized valuation, according to Schools Supt. George G. Garver.

The new high school, to be located on Beck Road between Maple and Pontiac Trail is to be ready for use by 1969.

In addition to the use by high school students, the new pool will serve elementary and jr. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Congress Approval
Necessary—Rozelle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle said today the merger of the National and American Football Leagues will be called off if Congress fails to approve it.

In a statement presented to the House Antitrust subcommittee, the NFL commissioner said the threat of legal action against the merger by the Justice Department or private individuals makes a congressional grant of immunity mandatory.

With Congress driving for adjournment, swift action by the House would be needed to meet Rozelle's ultimatum. But chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., showed no intention of being pressured into quick action.

"The antitrust subcommittee intends to explore thoroughly the extent of antitrust immunity requested and the results that would flow from any such grant of immunity," Celler said.

Cells opened hearings on a Senate-passed bill that would exempt the merger from the antitrust laws, but was forced to adjourn them by an early meeting of the House before Rozelle could testify. The hearings will resume next Tuesday.

U.S. Charges Plumber Firms Price-Fixers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury charged 15 of the nation's biggest plumbing manufacturers today with illegally fixing prices.

The grand jury handed down two separate indictments in U.S. District Court at Pittsburgh, Pa., the Justice Department reported.

Named in the first indictment were eight companies, eight of their executives and a trade association. The second named the association, three of the same firms and seven other companies.

Square Lake Road to Open

Square Lake Road south of Pontiac was scheduled to open today in time for the evening rush hour traffic. The road has been closed five months for improvements.

Only two of the three new lanes in each direction between Woodward and Telegraph will be used immediately due to continuing construction, seeding and sodding of the median strip. Traffic has been maintained on a one-mile section of the road that is also being widened to six lanes from Woodward east to the I-75 expressway.

Traffic using the intersection at Woodward and Square Lake will be directed by temporary signs and lights until construction on the project is completed in late November.

Warmer Days in Next Phase

Crisp, near-freezing temperatures and patches of bright fall colors greeted early morning risers in the Pontiac area today. The low at 6 a.m. was 34.

The weatherman predicts Indian summer will be with us for the next few days. Temperatures falling to 34 to 43 tonight will rise to 64 to 72 tomorrow. No rain is expected.

Light, westerly morning winds will continue at 5 to 15 miles per hour.

At 2 p.m., the mercury reached 57.

Dream Turned Reality

This Family Shipped Out to Adventure

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — What family hasn't dreamed of sailing its own ship to a life of adventure in far-off lands? The Artie Wayne family did, and we're dreaming it now. The Wayne family, who will be able to see the results on television soon.

THOMAS

Artie Wayne was a pop singer who enjoyed success in nightclubs and recordings. His wife Vida was heiress to the Halliburton Oil fortune — adventurer Richard Halliburton was a relative. The Waynes had three teen-age children and were firmly anchored to the California life.

Then Wayne suffered a heart attack and his career went into limbo during his long convalescence. He and his wife underwent a reassessment of their values, and came up with the idea of buying a boat to tour the world.

Their choice was the Navy's minesweeper 288, built during the war for $2,500,000, but available as surplus for the bargain price of $41,000. The Waynes poured $200,000 into converting it for family living. It was also made into a floating movie studio with the notion of producing a television series to help pay for the trip.

TRIP LAUNCHED

And so, on Columbus Day of 1961, the Via Vida — roughly, way of life — left Los Angeles Harbor with ship and movie crews, plus a clutch of teen-agers and a schoolteacher.

"We had our first desertion in Honolulu 10 days later," when their schoolteacher and an engineer left the expedition, recalls Mrs. Wayne. "I took over the teaching, augmented by correspondence courses from the University of California."

The Via Vida first headed for Japan, docking at islands seldom visited by non-Japanese. The log of the ship's voyage reads like anyone's dream of adventures: Formosa, Hong Kong, Thailand, Saigon, Manila, Zambanga, Borneo, Singapore, Ceylon, Madagascar, Assumption Islands, Zanzibar, Kenya.

During all this time, the Waynes shot travelogues, amassing 400,000 feet of exposed film. "But we found out there wasn't enough of a market for travelogues to pay for the ship's expenses," said Mrs. Wayne. "We had some negotiations with the television networks, but the fact is that they are more interested about an idea if they originate it themselves."

The voyage was interrupted for a year while Mrs. Wayne recovered from an illness. Then the family, minus two children who went to college, returned to the Via Vida in Hong Kong and continued their travels.

"This time we decided to make adventure films, and the formula seems to work," said Mrs. Wayne. "We hire the best actors in every country — right now Artie's working in Manila. Twelve films have been shot so far, and they start on KTTV here this week. Later, they'll be syndicated all over the country."

Her assessment of the experience: "It has been great for all of us. The children developed a great sense of comradeship on shipboard, and they received an education they could have gotten no other way. They kept busy all the time, and kids are happier that way. It's only when they have nothing to do that they start fooling around with something like LSD."

New Hours Set for Dump in Waterford Twp.

Officials of the Cooley Lake Road Dump in Waterford Township announced today that new dump hours will go into effect beginning Nov. 1.

The dump, which is located between Hospital and Lochaven roads, will be closed Mondays and Tuesdays.

Operating hours Wednesday through Sunday will be from 8 a.m. to dusk.

Compatibility Unexciting?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government study of 200 young middle-class couples suggests that compatibility — at least as defined by the couples themselves — is not necessarily a sign of a truly happy marriage.

A government mental health researcher, Dr. Robert Ryder, said terms like "compatible," "harmonious," "comfortable," and "congenial" really may be synonyms for blandness or lack of excitement.

His comments came Wednesday in a report summarized for a publication of the National Institutes of Health.

Robbery Surge Slows Detroit War on Crime

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Police Department's war on crime got off to a slow start Wednesday.

Within hours after a departmental announcement of beefed-up holdup bureau to quell a rash of crime, five businesses, including three banks, were robbed.

More than $4,000 was taken in three bank holdups at branches of the National Bank of Detroit within a three-hour period.

Police reported a $200 stickup at Liberty Loan Corp. on the West Side and a $220 robbery at Greman Bakeries on the near West Side.

A police spokesman said a citywide surge in holdups during the first eight months of 1966 was prompting a staff increase of from 45 to 56 men in the holdup bureau.

Dearborn Mayor Hopes So

Will Viet Vote Spread?

DEARBORN (AP) — Mayor Orville Hubbard says this Detroit suburb's forthcoming vote on whether U.S. troops should leave Viet Nam is an excellent idea he hoped will catch on across the nation.

The proposal for the Nov. 8 ballot in Dearborn, a city of 112,000 persons, has stirred controversy over whether it is:

— "Psychological warfare," as one resident told the city council before it voted 5-2 Tuesday night to place the issue on the ballot.

— "Designed simply to embarrass the administration in Washington," as was said by a councilman who voted against it.

— "An excellent way to get an expression of how at least one group of people in this country feel about the war," according to Hubbard, a 63-year-old Republican.

OPPOSES INVOLVEMENT

Hubbard, a Marine Corps veteran who opposes the Viet Nam involvement, says the question will be on the ballot as "an advisory referendum."

It will ask the voter: "Are you in favor of an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of United States troops so the Vietnamese people can settle their own problems?"

"Our army is strictly drafted; boys grabbed by the hair of their head to shoot barefooted Vietnamese people who have never done anything to us or our country," said Hubbard.

Councilman Vincent Fordell, who voted against the proposal, said policy decisions should be left to "our elected officials in Washington. Getting opinion on Viet Nam is not the proper function of this council."

Merchants Push Community Good

Retail merchants are among the greatest boosters of downtown modernization and beautification. The successful merchants know that an attractive downtown area is essential to community growth and good business.

The theme of a recent meeting of the National Retail Merchants Association was "New Look on Main Street." The meeting was devoted to promoting ideas for improving central shopping areas. Case histories were presented describing what had been done in a number of communities. Topics discussed included the establishment of malls, sidewalk canopies, building modernization, historical preservation and over-all downtown beautification.

The modern retail merchant is among the most progressive of citizens. The evolution of the American mass-distribution system is eloquent proof of this. It is logical that retailers should lead the way in self-help to make communities more attractive.

By renewing faith in local initiative, retail merchants are rendering a service to the Nation far greater in magnitude than they realize.

Too Many Cooks Can Spoil Pollution Solution

Industrialized and urbanized America has dazzled the world with its material gains. But as a major oil company points out, the gains have often meant the loss of other things.

As a result, there has been a sudden surge of interest in the pollution problem—a surge that has at times approached the point of hysteria.

Last year, 175 air conservation bills were introduced in 30 state legislatures, and 30 of them passed. This year, with only half the state legislatures meeting, more than 150 such bills have already been introduced in 18 states.

Many people have yet to realize that intelligent pollution control is more than writing a law. To quote an authority: "There is no single cause of air pollution. There is no single substance, or industry, or weather condition, that can be pinpointed for all the blame . . . What this means, of course, is that there is no single, simple formula for conserving clean air."

To its great credit, the oil industry has for many years been a leader in pollution control. It has to date invested $200 million in cleaner air. Expenditures in the same direction for 1966 will top $40 million. The American Petroleum Institute organized research programs with leading universities, and earmarked $1.5 million for this year to further air pollution research.

The key to pollution control is based on knowledge acquired through experience and research. As that knowledge is applied to the problem of the Nation's urban and industrial areas, we will literally begin to breathe easier.

But there is no legislative panacea or shortcut.

Is White House-Business Accord Worn Thin?

If reports can be taken at face value, government and industry have for some time enjoyed a friendly partnership. Businessmen generally appear to have had a warm welcome in Washington—but now a different story may be developing.

Some Washington observers see the end of the government's honeymoon with business. Many business and industrial leaders share disillusion and concern over government policies relating to taxation, inflation and the war in Viet Nam. And a disquieting undertone to the sentiment is that many holding critical views decline to be quoted.

If big government, which is now spending $74 billion a year for goods and services, has reached the point where its influence is so vast that businessmen are reluctant to speak out on matters of public policy, the future of freedom under representative government is indeed bleak.

An economist offers an answer to the problem, if answer it is: "The partnership theme has been overworked. In the future, industry will not fight government as much as it will try to outdo it and compete in solution of economic problems. The emphasis will be not just on profits, but also on public service. This, really, is contemporary capitalism."

Whether we have contemporary capitalism or old-fashioned capitalism, there will always be need for leaders of business to speak out with conviction on important issues.

Officials Differ on Beauty

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—One man's meat is another man's poison, or, to put it a little differently: What is beauty?

The modern paintings now on loan to our embassy in Tokyo are another matter to Mrs. U. Alexis Johnson, wife of our ambassador-designate to Japan.

Therefore, as soon as Patricia Johnson arrives on the scene, the collection that those bureaucrats (and also apparently retiring Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer) thought typified the Great Society at its best will be returned to the State Department, and Mrs. Johnson will hang her own assortment of traditional oils on the embassy walls.

As another example, nearly everyone is for the beautification program in principle, but who is for it in actuality? It is actually left Cape Cod!

Rep. Hastings Keith of Massachusetts took the House floor the other day to express his horror on learning that "the charming town of Truro" in his district had been chosen "as the first community in the U.S. for 'beautification' under the federal landscape and scenic enhancement program, the so-called Lady Bird beautification crusade."

Expressing amazement at the news, he declared: "It is appalling that the taxpayer-ers' dollars, especially in this time of inflation, are being spent on such a frivolous and wholly unnecessary project . . . this ridiculous undertaking."

TOOK AIM
Two Cape Cod weekly newspapers also took aim at Washington bureaucrats who had the effrontery to suggest that Truro needs beautifying.

Under the title, "Why Gild the Lily," the Provincetown Advocate declared that town officials were not even consulted before Big Brother began spending $72,399 to plant azaleas and other flowering shrubs along the highway within the city limits.

"Down through the years the people of Truro have had a reputation for self-reliance," the editorial lectured. "They have been staid men and women with stout hearts and strong arms, and when a job needed to be done for their town they rolled up their sleeves, went to work and got the job done."

"They have been proud of their highway, and visitors who drove through Truro have found its native charm delightful. And now it is being 'pretitled' up without so much as a by-your-leave."

Both the Advocate and the Cape Codder editorialized that there is a stark beauty to the Truro area that provides a welcome relief from the clipped hedges, trimmed forsythia and dwarf planting of many cities.

'Tell You What I'm Gonna Do, Friends--'

David Lawrence Says:

Faculty Makeup Is U.S. Target

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Department of Justice, through acting Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, has notified the House Rules Committee that the federal government feels it has complete power to order the reassignment of teachers to schools.

LAWRENCE, members of the staffs of any educational institution receiving federal assistance if there is any reason to believe that "racial allocation of faculty" denies to students "equality of educational opportunity." Clark submitted a lengthy opinion which contends that, even if the schools are desegregated as to pupils, the presence in the faculty of too many teachers of one race could nevertheless affect the quality of the education given to the students.

A U.S. Court of Appeals decision, however, in July 1966—which is cited in part by the Department of Justice memorandum as a basis for the action now advocated—denies discrimination in the selection of teachers but does not conclude that racial imbalance is necessarily unlawful.

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 specifically says in Title IV: "Desegregation" means the assignment of students to public schools and within such schools without regard to their race, color, religion, or national origin, but 'desegregation' shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

Yet the Department of Justice now claims that Title IV is virtually superseded by Title VI, which is called "nondiscrimination in Federally Assisted Programs."

But Section 604 of Title VI says that no action which withholds federal funds is authorized "with respect to any employment practice of any employer."

Teachers, of course, are employees, and their employers are local governments. Yet in the document submitted by the acting attorney general is the following declaration suggesting interference with employment practices in hiring or assigning schoolteachers: "The assignment of teachers to particular schools could be a most effective means of practicing racial discrimination against students who are the intended beneficiaries of a federally supported educational program."

"Surely, if a school district pursued an official policy of assigning teachers with class 'A' teaching certificates only to schools attended by white students, the discrimination against the Negro students would be obvious."

"Congress could hardly have intended by the language of Section 604 (Title VI) to exclude such a gross discrimination from the reach of the statute."

The Department of Justice today is assuming, in effect, that a teaching staff denies equal opportunity for education just because there are many more teachers of one race than another in public school or university receiving federal assistance.

Bob Considine Says:

Former Big Leaguers Finding Niche in Japan

TOKYO—Don't cry for the American ballplayer who drops down the ladder from the glimmer of the U.S. big leagues to Japanese baseball.

Some of them never had it better. Daryl Spencer, second baseman for the Hankyu Braves, makes about $440,000 a year for a shorter season than the ones he played for the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds in his younger days. And for less money, Daryl is pushing 40.

He is something of an exception, but not outrageously so. The Japanese teams pay American players as much or more than they made at home, treat them well, are more patient with their peccadilloes than their American managers ever were.

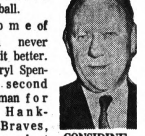

The best team in Japanese baseball, the Yomiuri Giants, perennial winners in their league, the Central, and in the playoff against the winner of the rival Pacific league, will not accept American ballplayers.

The owner of the Giants, Matsubara Shokki, now in his 80s, introduced America's national pastime into Japan. But he wants no part of paleface players, and for a direct reason.

World Dream
Shokki dreams of expanding baseball's World Series to the world, sees a day when the top Japanese team—preferably the Yomiuri Giants—will be involved in such a playoff. Thus, he wants to field a Japanese team, not a piggyback.

The Americans travel by air with their Japanese teammates, but generally live in different hotels—Western style.

They don't tear the league apart. Japanese pitchers, though not as fast as American hurlers, serve up more stuff, largely "junk," that U.S. hitters find difficult. Or, at least, it has been found difficult to hit by the likes of Larry Doby, formerly of the Indians, and Don Newcombe, who came here as an outfielder.

There is a feeling here that, in a pinch, an American is militated against.

'PURPOSELY PASSED'
Spencer found himself being purposely passed on many occasions last year when it appeared that he might top the league in home runs and runs batted in.

The American ballplayers have learned to read the averages and box scores in Japanese. Naturally. After all, it's their bread and sukiyaki.

'Basic Needs of Soldiers Not Adequately Supplied'

Our son is stationed in Chu Lai, Viet Nam. We didn't expect to hear of lush living conditions but he was appalled by his letters. He asked us to send him a rain suit as the monsoon season is beginning and he has been unable to purchase a rain suit. We always thought the government supplied its troops with clothing necessary for their station. He asked for a wash basin and mirror for shaving plus some basic electrician's tools, as the ones he had been given to use were worthless. His classification in the Marine Corps is "Electrician."

We are wondering what the servicemen do whose families cannot afford these expenses. We become bitter when we read of the billions of dollars being spent in aid to countries which support communism or openly trade with our goods and monies to Communist countries.

Why don't our servicemen have the basic equipment necessary to do their jobs? What is all this money being spent for?

'Rusk's Diplomacy Does Not Merit Praise'

I disagree with your editorial praise of Secretary of State Dean Rusk who tells us we are fighting communism in Viet Nam. Russian soldiers are manning missile crews and training North Vietnamese anti-aircraft gunners; Russian missiles and anti-aircraft guns are shooting down our planes; Russian satellite Czechoslovakia's weapons are used by the Viet Cong against American troops.

Dean Rusk's state department consummated the "wheat deal" a few years ago, to feed these same Russians. American wheat was sold to Russia at a low price and on five year credit—which is to say, a loan of U.S. taxpayers' money. Dean Rusk's state department gave Communist Poland a steel mill and OK'd shipment to Russia of special machines for grinding missile bearings to make Russian missiles more accurate. It now proposes to give Russia "a most favored nation status" to increase trade.

Does this merit praise?

Question and Answer

Is there something physically unique about Indians that makes them respond more violently to alcohol than other races? I'm thinking of the old laws forbidding sale of liquor to them.

R. H. D.

REPLY

Frederick J. Dockstadter, director of the Heye Foundation Museum of the American Indian in New York, tells us it's not so much a difference in physical effect as psychological and social pressures that add to the result. Formal studies of the problem indicate that with racial and economic discrimination the drinker "hits the bottle" much harder to escape frustration, so the result is far more severe than in less pressured consumption. When an Indian got drunk he expressed himself more wildly, by white standards. In addition, the simple factor of fear by white settlers made establishment of restrictive laws a considerable psychological factor in relations between the two races.

Parents Win School Fight

DETROIT (AP)—After a two-year fight to keep a son and daughter out of classes for slow learners, J. A. Marshall says the children now "are in regular classrooms, just like all the other kids."

Probe Records Are Available

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court voted Wednesday to permit Judge George Bowles, the Wayne County one-man grand juror, access to the records compiled in the recent investigation of Grand Juror Edward Piggins.

The high court's unanimous order also made the records available to the state "for its unlawful use thereof in prosecutions and other proceedings arising out of the Piggins Grand Jury."

The court order granted a Sept. 28 petition by Judge Bowles, which was prompted by a legal question.

The Wayne County circuit bench empaneled Bowles as a juror almost immediately after Piggins' year-long probe ended. State law forbids extension of a one-man grand jury beyond one year.

seven days of school this fall and 72 days last year because their parents refused to let them attend classes for slow learners in the suburban Hazel Park school system.

Marshall, a 35-year-old assembly worker at a Chrysler Corp. plant, reached agreement with school officials this fall to enroll his son William, 9, in the second grade and his daughter, Mary Ann, 10, in the third grade. He said school personnel at first refused to accept the children in classes other than those for slow learners.

OKAY NOW
"Everything is perfect now," Marshall said.

The children, who a psychologist found last year to be "backward and slow," took reading instruction in summer school.

In the second grade this fall, "William has read through two books completely," Marshall said. "Now he's in the third reader. He's doing fine."

Mary Ann, enrolled in the third grade, "is doing good in her reading, too," the father said.

Ordinarily the youngsters would be in the fourth and fifth grades, but Marshall said they were placed "where they could start at the bottom, because that's where they were at."

B. N. Grba, assistant administrator of Hazel Park schools, declined to comment on enrollment.

ment of the Marshall children in regular classes. School officials had insisted last year the children attend classes for slow learners.

Marshall has fought to keep the youngsters out of special classes, describing such classes as "a mental institution" where "they didn't have reading classes or spelling classes or nothing so a kid could learn what he's supposed to in school."

EDUCATION NEEDED
He says it is important for the youngsters to attend regular classes because "You can't get a job without education."

"I quit school (in the 10th grade), and from six months after I quit school, I've been sorry ever since."

Last winter, when the Marshalls refused to send William and Mary Ann to special classes, a Hazel Park municipal judge signed a warrant for their arrest. It charged the parents with violating Michigan's compulsory school attendance law.

The judge dismissed the warrant two weeks later after the couple took William and Mary Ann to South Irvine, Ky., and enrolled them in school there.

After a week in the South Irvine school, the Marshalls took the youngsters to Philadelphia, Miss., where Mary Ann and William finished the school year. They returned home for the summer.

Accord Sought on Aid Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees meet today to seek a compromise on their respective foreign aid outlays, both well below President Johnson's request.

The President had asked $3.4 billion. The House voted a $3.09-billion appropriation. And the Senate Wednesday voted $2.93 billion.

Before passing its version Wednesday by a vote of 52 to 22, the Senate trimmed $110 million out of the measure, most of it military aid.

Leading the cutback effort was longtime foreign aid foe Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La. He said about $48 million of the cut would prevent resumption of military aid to India and Pakistan. It also would halt sales on credit of American arms to developing nations.

Little MEMO Is Big Boost

State Project Gives Stay-in-School Help

EAST LANSING (AP) — A MEMO on a bus helped put Gloria Clocklin in college — where educators thought she should be, but where her pocketbook said she couldn't be.

MEMO — More Education, More Opportunity — is a Michigan program aimed at giving a stay-in-school boost to the student whose grades aren't tops but who has a "glint in the eye" to succeed.

In searching for that student, MEMO placed advertisements around the state, including placards on buses.

That's how Miss Clocklin discovered the program.

WORKING AS TECHNICIAN

"It has always been my desire to become a registered nurse," she wrote to MEMO headquarters here. Miss Clocklin, who graduated from a Grand Rapids high school in 1964, was working as a technician at Grand Rapids' Butterworth Hospital.

"My grades were above average but nothing spectacular," she wrote, "so competitive scholarships are not the answer. My financial situation leaves much to be desired."

Miss Clocklin added that her mother was sole support for a brother and sister still in school.

From MEMO headquarters the letter went to Miss Edna Sargent, registrar at Northwestern Michigan Community College in Traverse City. Miss Sargent investigated, received excellent recommendations for the girl, and found the "need was absolute."

ARRANGED FOR LOAN

The school arranged for a $400 National Defense loan and $400 in matching funds from its Economic Opportunity grant allocation for Miss Clocklin.

"I would say MEMO has made it possible for a very fine and above-average student and young lady to attend college without being constantly harassed with working, and worrying about where her next tuition money was coming from," said Miss Sargent.

"I'm anxious to get started," said Miss Clocklin, 20, who will finish her nursing studies in about two years.

Gordon A. Sabine, who leads Michigan's MEMO project, in spare time from duties as a vice president of Michigan State University, calls this a typical MEMO case.

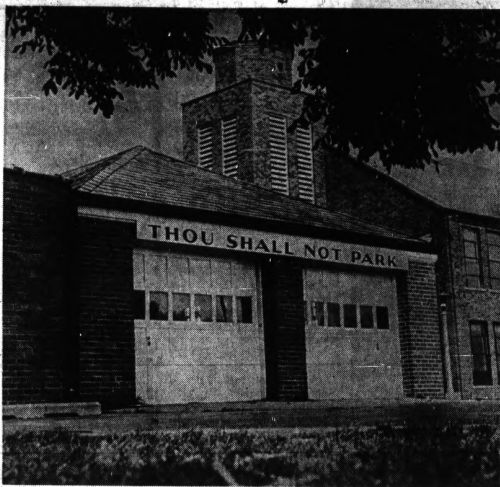

NO TYPICAL STUDENT

But, he said, there is no typical MEMO student. The project aims at helping the student who may not be thinking about more education because he can't afford it or never has been motivated to study more, Sabine said.

The boost may be toward college, community college, or trade school. It may mean just a note to the student that "someone believes in him, someone is interested, someone will be proud when he uses his brains for all they are worth."

While the project has only a $100,000 federal grant to operate — and no scholarship money — it will try to find any financial aid a student needs.

Sabine said the ads had brought about 1,000 responses and 700 cases had been referred to colleges.

The DRC Story

THE POPULATION EXPLOSION HAS HIT THE HORSE WORLD, TOO

The Quiz Masters.

There are times when I feel as though I am on a television quiz panel. With a growing interest among Michigan sports fans about Thoroughbred Racing, the questions asked are frequent and pertinent.

The one tossed at me most often is:

"How many race horses are there in the United States?"

I think the answer may surprise you. You may not realize what a boom there has been in the Thoroughbred World during the past 10 years.

Last season, 38,502 horses went to the post in races at tracks in the United States. This compares with 28,000 horses racing a decade ago.

It takes a lot of horses to conduct a race meeting such as ours at the Detroit Race Course. We have over 1,200 horses stabled on our grounds at all times. We are racing daily, except Sundays, from now through November 5.

There were 17,128 Thoroughbreds foaled a year ago and registered with The Jockey Club. Obviously, not all of them will go to the races, but there probably are 15,000 newcomers each season.

The racing span for most Thoroughbreds extends from the time they are two year olds until they are five or six. There are more durable performers who go on and on, of course. The oldest performers I found among the starters last year were Copper Buster and Agreed. Each is 15 years old.

Race horses are bred in sizeable numbers in 19 states. Kentucky, the long-time center of the Thoroughbred industry, is the leader, with California second and Florida third in the number of foals.

The breeding industry in Michigan is growing, but still is comparatively small. There were 217 foals registered last season. While this total is modest, it still is more than double the State's Thoroughbred production of 10 years ago.

Racing is a Sport of many facets. I think the more you know and understand about it, the more interesting you will find it. It is our constant aim at the Detroit Race Course to provide you with top entertainment in surroundings of beauty, comfort and convenience.

We have two excellent dining terraces, "The Winner's Circle" and "The Mile Terrace." They offer the finest in food and beverages. From your table, you can follow the racing action every step of the way around the track.

"Ye Olde Thired Horse Pub" is an authentic old English pub, where there is never a cover or a minimum. It offers you delicious snacks and refreshing beverages.

We have Close-in parking for 12,000 cars with Easy-In, Easy-Out entrances and exits off Middlebelt, Schoolcraft and Inkster Roads.

I invite you to visit us soon.

British Unions Changing

By TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LONDON — A quiet revolution is taking place among British trade unions as the result of the severe economic crisis into which Britain has been plunged.

The Trades Union Congress, which represents 8,800,000 unionists, voted to surrender rights as a free bargaining agent that have been won over nearly a century of bitter struggle with employers.

As a result, no British union will ever be quite the same again.

The TUC, which is the British equivalent of the AFL-CIO, has not only agreed to a six months' pay freeze, but it now recognizes the state's right to interfere in wage negotiations.

Kier Hardie, the cloth-capped father of the British Labor party, and the Tolpuddle martyrs, who preferred exile to Australia to giving up their union principles, would have been enraged at such a decision.

WAGE DEMANDS

However, it is being studied with interest in the United States, where the recent airline strike settlement has touched off a new round of wage demands.

Only the severity of Britain's present sterling crisis would persuade trade unions to back a pay freeze here and, at least, the motion was carried by a majority of less than 500,000 votes.

Few here doubt, however, that the TUC's action marks the end of an epoch.

From now on, there will be no more wage increases that are not tied to increased productivity.

On their way out, too, are such restrictive union practices as featherbedding and demarcation disputes.

Henceforth, unions will be required to act as responsible bodies and, to trim their sails according to national policy.

Infant Killer Disease Is Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors are launching an intensive new probe of the mysterious, nameless disease that kills thousands of apparently healthy babies each year.

The year-long project by a six-physician research team here is aimed at what is known as the "sudden infant death syndrome."

The condition has no medical name, but the Public Health Service rates it as one of the top killers of infants with between 10,000 and 20,000 victims annually in the United States and thousands more in other countries.

Dr. James R. Patrick, 35, chief pathologist at the District of Columbia Children's Hospital, heads the research team. He said he believes a combination of factors may make certain infants more susceptible than others to the disease.

SPECIAL VIRUSES

Patrick's team will be looking, among other things, for any special viruses or combination of viruses that might prove fatal to infants.

"Since this disease may have multiple causes," the Yale graduate said, "we may not get the whole answer. But certainly we will learn much more about the role of viruses as a contributing factor."

Once the cause is known, researchers can concentrate on finding ways to prevent the deaths.

Patrick said his team will start actual research work when special equipment arrives in a few weeks. The project is being conducted under a $185,300 contract with the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, part of the National Institutes of Health.

Chrysler Pact Vote Is Today

Firm Set to Resume Production on Friday

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. prepared today to return 42,600 workers to their jobs, pending ratification of an agreement to end an Ohio stamping plant strike.

The firm said it would resume production starting Friday at its Twinsburg, Ohio, facility if the United Auto Workers Union ratified an agreement to settle grievances at the Ohio plant.

A ratification meeting was set today for the 4,300 strikers at Twinsburg who walked out seven days ago over 14 grievances ranging from the quality of cafeteria food to alleged faulty brakes on lift trucks. Tentative agreement was reached Wednesday but details were withheld until workers vote on it.

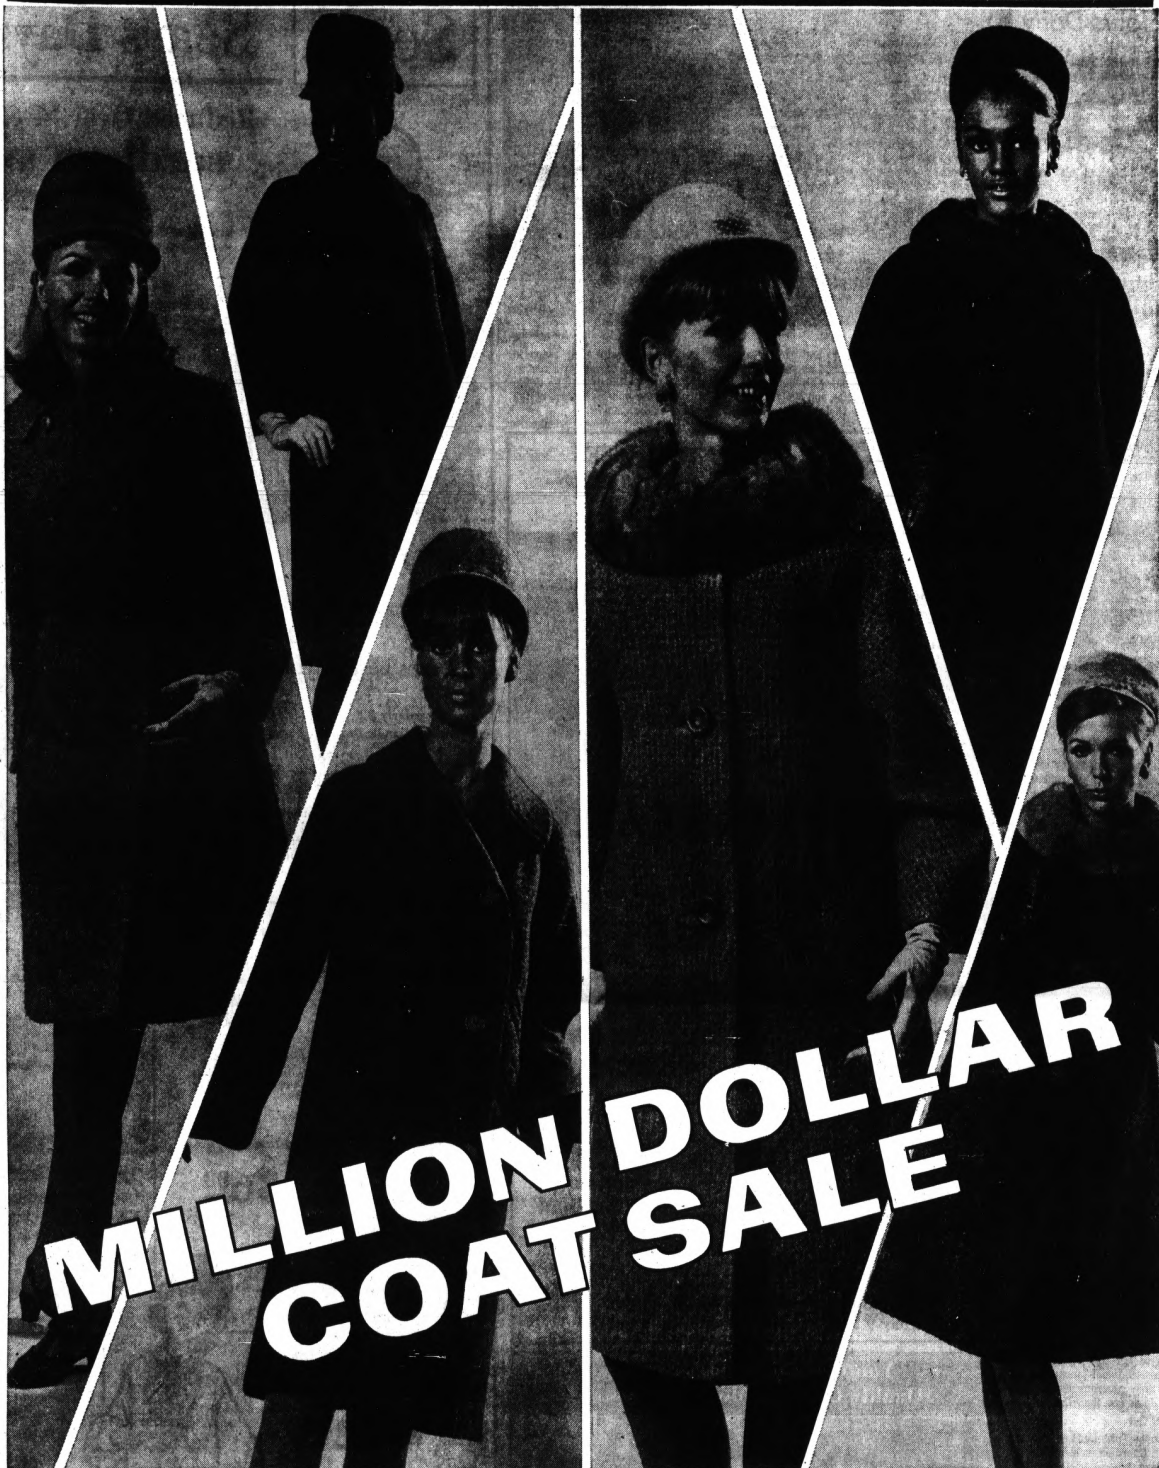

Chrysler laid off the 42,600 workers at plants around the country because of the stoppage at Twinsburg, which is one of only two of Chrysler's stamping facilities capable of producing all body sections needed to assemble Chrysler cars.

The firm said it could restore full production next week at the seven assembly plants closed because of the strike. Most would be operating by Tuesday. Partial layoffs would be ended by next Thursday at five other stamping plants, the company said.

Thirty-nine of the nation's 50 states are considered urban, according to the Census Bureau. In 1910 only 13 state and local were classified.

Red Captive Interrogated 4 Hours Daily

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Peace Corpsman Thomas Dawson, detained by the Soviet government for three weeks after wandering across the Soviet-Transian border, says Communist officials interrogated him four hours a day.

But he described his treatment at the hands of the Soviets as cordial.

Dawson, of Annapolis, Md., returned to the United States Wednesday night for a smiling reunion with his mother and sister.

"It's so nice to have him back, just wonderful," said his British-born mother. As he arrived at Friendship International Airport, Dawson, 24, a teacher told newsmen "one of my first thoughts was to find out how the Baltimore Orioles are doing."

ARRESTED BY STREAM

Dawson grinned when told the Orioles defeated Los Angeles 5-2 in the World Series' opener. "That's the way to do it," he said.

Dawson was arrested by Soviet border guards as he looked for shells along a shallow stream near the Caspian Sea. "I walked down the beach, past what was the Russian border, but I didn't know it at that time," he said. "There was nothing to indicate it was the Russian border. No signs, no people and nobody ever told me it was the border."

The Russian soldiers who apprehended him took him first to a nearby house, Dawson said. Later Soviet officials took him to Baku where he was detained until his release.

Of his confinement, Dawson said "they were reasonably nice to me, and in no way tried to threaten me. It wasn't hostile, it wasn't overfriendly."

Britons Rap Privy Council

Question Ceremony, Necessity of Body

LONDON (AP) — Britons are beginning to ask if Queen Elizabeth's Privy Council is really necessary.

And if it is, couldn't the council just get on the phone to the queen instead of flying across Britain when she's not in London?

Five men had to fly from London to Scotland and back Wednesday so the queen could approve the government order making Prime Minister Harold Wilson's freeze on wages and prices mandatory.

In a 10-minute meeting at Balmoral Castle, the privy council members presented the order to the queen. She didn't even have to sign it, announcing her approval in the Norman French phrase, "La reine le veut!" — The queen wishes it. There was no question of her not wishing it since constitutional monarchs do what their governments want them to do or lose their thrones.

EDITORIALS

The journey prompted editorials in the Guardian, voice of the middle-road Liberal party, and the conservative Daily Mail.

"Could she not have said yes by telephone, even in Norman French?" the Guardian asked. The Mail commented: "Mr. Wilson's recent productivity conference was concerned with getting more output from every worker, executive and director in the land."

"But its message has plainly bypassed government itself."

The Privy Council dates from the courts of Norman kings and once combined the functions of cabinet and Parliament. Today its main function is to hear the royal approval for parliamentary bills.

Why this beer tastes like it came from a keg. And why most beers don't.

Years ago, when the first bottled beer left the brewery, the more serious beer drinkers of the day were quick to notice something:

It tasted different. Oh, it was pretty good beer, they agreed. But it just wasn't like the draft beer down at Barney's Tavern.

Why? None of the boys knew for sure. Including Barney. But they did have a theory. "It has something to do with the way beer's bottled," they surmised. And they were 100% right.

Most bottled beer goes through a heat treatment before it gets to you. It sits through 140° of hot water in a big machine for 10 long minutes. It has to. Otherwise, it would spoil on the shelf at the store.

The draft beer at Barney's, on the other hand, never gets heated. Just the opposite. It's kept under constant refrigeration from brewery to truck to tavern.

Heat vs no heat. That's the difference. That's why the beer you get from a bottle usually tastes different from keg beer.

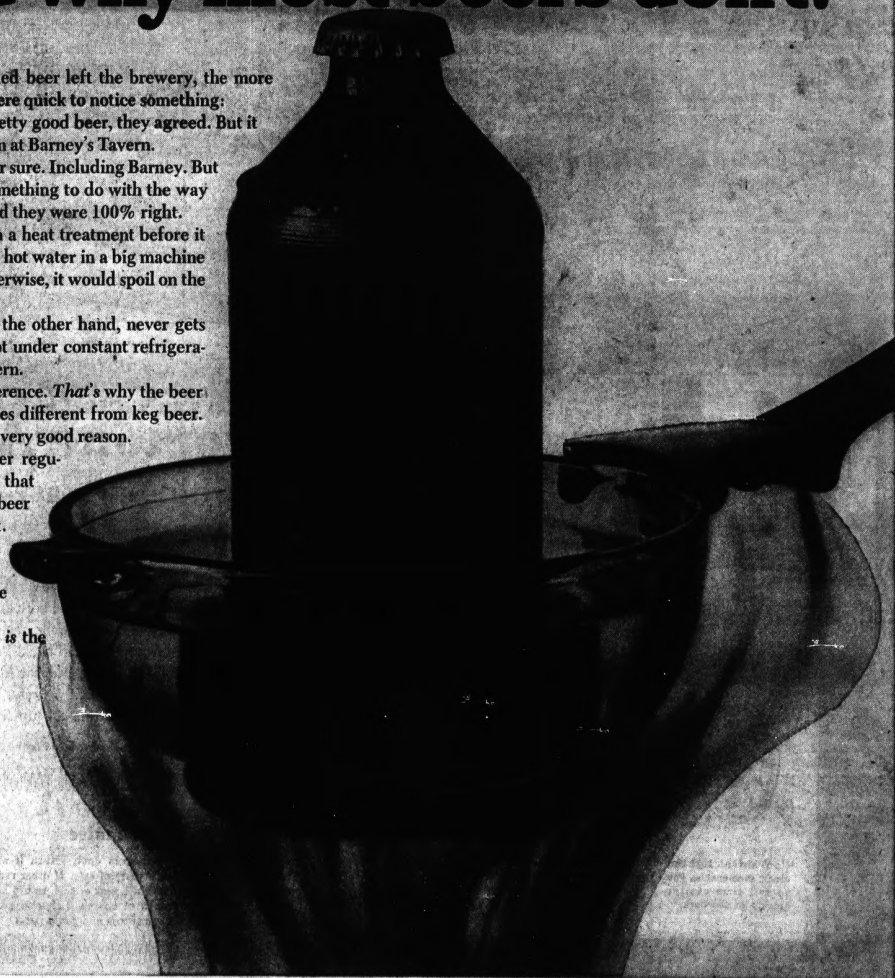

We use the word "usually" for a very good reason.

If you've been reading this paper regularly or watching TV, you know that Drewrys has found a way to put beer in a bottle without heating it. (Which is the only way to bottle draft beer today, by the way.)

It tastes exactly the same as the beer you get from a keg.

Because as a matter of fact, it is the same.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's forthcoming book is being discussed backstage of Dr. Peale and Bruce J. Annett of Sylvan Shores Drive. Subject of the new book is "Enthusiasm Makes the Difference" and it can be expected in the late spring of 1967.

Town Hall Series Starts

By BEA SWORDS

Do you ask people how they are and receive a 15-minute monologue on how they aren't? Do you frequently wish that life held fewer, preferably no problems for you?

Then positive and creative thinking isn't being used.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale in his lecture Wednesday morning at the Huron Theater spoke on "Creative Thinking and Creative Results." It was Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall's opening lecture.

Dr. Peale is known in virtually every country in the world and has been recognized as a leading religious figure.

He is a leader in the movement to bring religion and psychiatry into a common meeting ground. He also runs a weekly column in over 200 newspapers, including The Pontiac Press. But, as so often happens with public figures, we wonder what the man behind the label is really like.

Well, he is a smaller man than we expected. We somehow connect important people with size. He has a ready smile and a ruddy complexion.

The Dr. Peale at the podium is the Dr. Peale off stage.

We first met him at the back door of the Huron Theater with Bruce Annett, who was master of ceremonies for the lecture. There he was a friendly, sincere man taking in the autumn sunshine and a few breaths of air before going on stage.

When he began his lecture to the well-over-capacity audience, he was the same man with eyes twinkling warmly behind polished glasses. He said that positive thinkers need problems. A good problem is welcomed as a mental exercise, as one more hurdle to clear toward the goal of creative results. Those of us who shirk our duties by wistfully hoping our problems will dissolve are really being unimaginative.

His comment that one of the largest groups of people without problems can be found in New York's Woodlawn Cemetery brought forth a volley of laughter.

He explained that only in death are everyday problems at an end. Problems are the essence of the living. The more problems, the more alive we are or should be.

This Action May Cause Great Loss

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband has an old friend whom he sees once, or possibly twice, a year when he makes a business trip to the man's city. My husband usually invites this friend and his wife to dinner in a restaurant. After his last visit, he came home and told me that they invited us (my husband, myself and our son) to spend the weekend with them at their country home.

My husband and son are going. I am not! I feel that I should have had a note or a telephone call from the wife. I met her only once many years ago. Am I unreasonable? — J.M.

Dear Mrs. J.M.: Technically, you are justified, and the wife should write or call you. However, I think you are being quite unreasonable to stand on ceremony after such a kind invitation has been issued to your whole family.

If you do not go, you will surely endanger what has been a very pleasant friendship for your husband.

"Etiquette Tips for Teenagers" by Elizabeth L. Post, is now available to readers of The Press. This brand-new, 16-page booklet will answer many questions for teenagers and their parents. The Oakland County Bar Association Auxiliary opened the new season with a recent luncheon meeting in the Sylvan Glen Country Club. Mrs. Alfred Alfs and Mrs. William Lang were cochairmen.

Max Adams of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce spoke concerning "Involvement in Living."

Mrs. Gene Schmelz, president, and Mrs. David Pence are recipients, on behalf of the Michigan State Bar Association, of an award for the best booth at the State Fair.

New members attending were Mrs. John A. Kaichen, Mrs. Joseph D. Odenweiler and Mrs. Daniel Saura.

Hides Wear

The worn edges on pockets, cuffs and buttonholes on an otherwise good black woolen coat or dress may be covered with black silk braid to give the garment longer life.

Office Hanky-Panky Pits Boss Against Husband-Wife Rift

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an executive who admits he doesn't know all the answers. The wife of one of my employees visited me and asked me to discharge her husband. She claimed he was a good husband and father until he became involved with another employee here.

She said because of this affair her husband has failed to provide adequate support for her and their children, and she was sure if he were discharged he would return to his family.

DEAR ABBY: I have been involved in a marital crisis? Or do you think if a man does his job well, what he does on his own time is his own business? PUZZLED EXECUTIVE Area U. of M. Students Pledge 'Greeks'

By ROBERTA WINE
Classes at the University of Michigan have been in session for over a month. During this time Pontiac area students have had a chance to become involved in numerous campus activities.

A number of freshmen went through the often tedious chore of rush. Many then decided to join a fraternity or sorority.

Debbie Gordon of Pontiac and Joanie Stolorow of Birmingham pledged Delta Phi-Epsilon.

John Gillette and Richard Parks of Birmingham joined Alpha Tau Omega.

Cecelia Hunt from Pontiac pledged Alpha Kappa Alpha.

Maggie Fraser and Linsey Wood, both from Birmingham, joined Collegiate Sorority and Alpha Phi, respectively.

Joe McNeely, an Evans Scholarship recipient, was elected vice president of the Evans House.

Mary Rosner was selected as her corridor's representative to her dorm's council. Both Joe and Mary hail from Pontiac.

Kathy Devereaux of Pontiac moved into the French speaking unit of the Oxford Cooperative House. Nothing but French is spoken among the residents. In addition Kathy must work four or five hours a week.

Politics offers a diversion for many area students.

Ernestine Moore and Margaret Finnegan, both from Pontiac, joined the student Democratic organization, the Young Dems. They will help distribute campaign literature and conduct opinion polls.

HERE AND THERE

Other students are taking advantage of the many cultural opportunities offered by the University.

Nancy Luehmann and Ellen Warnock of Drayton Plains heard a concert by Ferrante and Teicher. Carolyn Hirneison, also of Drayton Plains, attended a performance of the Dave Brubeck Quartet.

Val Bunce and Lorna Richman heard the chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), Stokely Carmichael, speak before a capacity crowd at the University's Hill Auditorium. Eric Foxman of Keego Harbor joined the University Karate Club.

Elect Heads of WCTU Wednesday

Officers for the 19th District, Women's Christian Temperance Union, were elected Wednesday at the third annual convention in the Church of the Brethren.

Rev. Leonard Blackwell, pastor of the host church and Mrs. Ray Fleming, president of the Pontiac Union, hostesses for the meeting, welcomed the assembly.

For her talk, Mrs. Walter Mellan, state WCTU treasurer, chose for her subject: "Who We Are and What We Are Doing."

Mrs. Joseph Green of Royal Oak conducted the election and installation of the following slate: Mrs. Frank Deaver, president; Rev. Lola P. Marlon, vice president; Mrs. Rodrick Hoover, promotion secretary; Mrs. Ralph U. Graham, treasurer and Mrs. Alfred Eberle, recording secretary.

Mesdames Nellie Monroe, LeRoy Shafer, Morris Cole, Walter Eis, Joe Dziuban, E.C. McNair, LuVerne Paulson, also Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Fleming were appointed department directors by the general officers.

Leo Wedykes Mark 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wedykes of Farmington celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday. The couple was married Oct. 3, 1916 in Grosse Pointe.

Four daughters were hostesses for the party: Mrs. Clayton Stumpf, Detroit; Mrs. Carl Stipcak, Farmington; Mrs. Charles Dresser, White Lake Township and Mrs. William Wasagshik, Walled Lake.

There are 13 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. John S. Hart, Tully Road (from left), Mrs. Richard C. Allman and Mrs. George W. Davis, both of Birmingham, are working on the catalog for the annual Antiques Market and Sale sponsored by the

Slate Annual Antiques Market

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

It is time again for the famous Annual Antiques Market and Sale sponsored by the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries. The proceeds will benefit the handicapped employees of Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit.

Over 200 energetic women are busily preparing for their 19th sale which will take place at the Goodwill Industries plant on Brush and Grand Blvd. in Detroit Nov. 13-16. Invitations are in the mail for the Saturday preview.

This year the theme for the show will take you back to Old Detroit. About 48 dealers will exhibit at the Market. Many of the dealers have been exhibiting at this annual market since 1951.

Luncheons and dinners will be served and here you will meet Mesdames: Thomas T. Restrick and James Cahill, Robert A. Radtke and James E. Clark Jr.

Mrs. Charles Erickson of Morningview Terrace has charge of tickets. Area chairman for our community is Mrs. Robert C. Awrey.

In charge of the catalog is Mrs. Richard Allman assisted by Mrs. George W. Davis and Mrs. John S. Hart. Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Allick (she is the former president of the Goodwill) are working on the preview.

Mesdames George T. Wilde and John F. Cole are in charge of the patrons. Mrs. Robert E. McCollum, Mrs. George H. Souter, Mrs. Eric Horst are committee members.

Cochairmen for this enterprising and worthy event are Mrs. Clayton J. Barker and Mrs. Warren F. Kendall of Grosse Pointe.

Tuesday evening the Cranbrook Music Guild presented its first concert of the season at Cranbrook House. Mrs. Richard Jones was chairman of the coffee hour following the concert.

Recently Mrs. Graham John Graham entertained members of the membership committee of which Mrs. Duncan Augustine is chairman. Assisting Mrs. Augustine are Mesdames: Leonard T. Lewis, Teruko Yamasaki, Basil Brown, John T. Edgerly, David Booth, William W. Stewart and Charles H. Hutton.

The committee members wish to call attention to four outstanding programs which will take place on Nov. 22, Jan. 24, Feb. 28 and March 14 at Cranbrook House.

Won't Make Her Bed, What Can Mom Do?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: During the school year I make the family's beds, including our 15-year-old girl's. This summer she has time to make it but I still have to do it or it goes unmade. I have begged and begged her to take this responsibility, her bed, don't you?

bility as I have twice the housework now that all three of our children are in and out of the house all day.

But she will not do it. How do you get obedience from a self-willed child?

ANSWER: You resent making her bed, don't you?

So that makes two of you who resent making it. You and this child of yours feel exactly the same way about making her bed. So there's no need whatever to continue your angry "begging" for her obedience.

All that is needed is the statement that you share resentment of bedmaking with her. Make the honest statement:

"Listen. Making your bed bores me even more than it bores you. So I need company when I make it. Then come on upstairs — and while we make your bed together, we can both hate making it together, too."

I don't particularly relish commanding obedience. I don't like the command stance with its implication of my superiority to the child I'm commanding. I much prefer to reach for a shared feeling that produces a shared action. And in a situation like this we're just not allowed to claim the superiority of command — certainly not if we hate bedmaking as much as the child does.

It's our willingness to confess that we feel exactly as she does about it that not only gets us obedience but gets us the most desirable kind of obedience — that offered out of sympathy and shared feeling.

Don't run off with the notion that I'm afraid to command obedience from children. I'm not. I just prefer co-operative action that is offered to me to the kind that has to be wrenched from them.

In war, of course, military commanders have to go about commanding action from lesser mortals. But you and your daughter are not under attack by the Viet Cong, are you? Her obedience isn't a possible matter of her life or death under a sniper's bullet.

There's plenty of time to reach for the better kind of obedience — shared action which results from shared feeling.

Officers Begin Dance Duties

New officers will assume duties Saturday for the Square Set Club of Pontiac. They are Frank Strubler, president; Donald Bradley, vice president; Mrs. Jack Ralph, secretary, and Mrs. Horace Nance, treasurer.

Dancing will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Herrington Hills School.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. I. W. McElroy of Spicewood, Texas and MacDill AFB, Tampa, Fla., announce the engagement of their daughter Catherine to Airman 2.C. Daniel Emil Cerano of MacDill Field, who leaves for Viet Nam in November. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cerano of Buckingham Street, White Lake Township.

Vanity Dresser for Daughter

You can give little daughter her own vanity dresser just like mom. If there isn't room in her room for one, place it in front of a window.

Let either flowered or solid color drapes be hung at the window but let them be of a light shade and pulled together so as to form a pretty background for her dressing table.

She will really be pleased if she has bedspread and vanity bench cover to match the draperies.

Fine China Plays Part 'at Table'

As jet age speeds quicken, taste turns nostalgically backward to the easy graceful days when hospitality was the watchword instead of instant cookery.

Nowhere is this trend more welcome than at the dinner table when the designs of yesterday call forth the warmth of family, fireside and festivity.

A guiding force in preserving the old American way of life has been the Henry Ford Museum with a creative program of reproductions that has placed once-rare furniture, fabrics, rugs, pewter and glass within everyone's decorative reach.

Now, the happy news for tables, circa '66, is The Museum Collection by Iroquois, a reproduction of furniture originals, translated into fine, translucent china, sturdily ovenproof as well.

LONG HUNT

"Originals" describes a set of English dinnerware, made in the early 1800's and painstakingly assembled by Ford experts, piece by piece and pattern by pattern, in the flea markets of London and the barns and attics of American country byways.

Imports for the table were much in fashion for our forbears; no real china factories existed in the Americas and cargo after cargo crossed the seas in clipper ships. There were even special export decorations for china, planned to catch the cruder eye of "the colonies."

PATTERNS

Patterned or plain, the curved, footed silhouettes conjure quaintness at a glance. "Museum White" names the classic choice, sans decoration, where the shape's the thing and table setting plans admit a dashy blend of wood, pewter, basketry and color. Designs all have the touch of blue that has meant hearth and home to countless generations of homemakers.

"Greenfield Village" harks back to the "Gaudy Welsh" patternings that delighted colonial housewives, a bold wreath of strawberries drawn in red, blue and green, and polished with a glint of copper.

"Periwinkle" is neat as fine embroidery from a lady's workbasket, tiny blue flowers, leaved in emerald, each precisely centered on a panel, then repeated in a narrow ring.

"Clinton Inn" is redolent of the spice trade, an intricate border of chrysanthemums and scrolls in shadowed indigo.

Skin.Blooms Again with 2nd Debut

With this non-surgical face lift, lined, prematurely aged faces appear to have suddenly been reborn. Hard to find are even the most fearsome signs of on-coming crow's feet and crinkles that inconsiderately shout your age just a short time ago. Smoother now is your skin to a finger-tip touch with a fresh young feeling of moisture, bloom, and rose tinting your cheeks. For 2nd Debut gives a simulated lift about the surgeon's scalpel — a lift that lasts a long time, an ageless look that's much more intriguing than common youthfulness. The lift comes from underneath as you apply 2nd Debut on the surface. 2nd Debut (with CBF 600) for the woman of no more than 40. 2nd Debut (with CBF 1200) for the impatient lady a few years older — at good department and drug stores.

The flavor of the past revives with one glimpse of the silhouettes of The Museum Collection by Iroquois. Tall coffee pot is beveled like a lighthouse; cream and sugar are miniature versions. Soup tureen is gracefully footed, fluted of handle, has china ladle to match. Covered casserole echoes the shape. Ample soup bowls have traditional, broad rims. All boast the contemporary plus of oven-proofing and are made in classic Museum White and three patternings.

Fresh folk art that brightened colonial farm kitchens returns in Greenfield Village from The Museum Collection by Iroquois, a splashy, light-hearted wreath of cobalt, cranberry and green, touched with the coppery glint of old lustre. Cloth for the buffet copies an antique coverlet in another Ford Museum reproduction by Greeff, wicker lap trays are lacquered a soft red, and the menu stays temptingly hot in ovenproof casseroles atop copper warmers. China available locally.

Garters to Make

Make loose elastic garters for your bedroom window curtains, and keep them on a hook on each side of the window.

Three-fourth yard of elastic makes a nice size garter. Slip it out and over the curtain and draperies when the window is open at night. It will hold the curtain back gently but securely.

In the morning you can drop the curtain back in place and there will be no wrinkles.

New Candle Is in a Can

Designed for easy storage and a quick light-up is a new candle that comes in a can. Pop open the lid, much the same way a beer can is opened, and the can serves as holder.

Store Alone

Silverware should be stored apart from cutlery or other sharp kitchen tools. A silver chest is fine. Or, if you store silver in drawers, try lining them with a clean soft terry cloth as a cushioning material.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Mrs. Farmer:

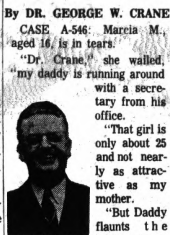

If you only knew how we depend on the sensible advice in your column! I am very long waisted but very small in the bust. If I make the pattern bodice long enough in the back, the front of the bodice comes below my waist and just hangs there. I never know what to do. If I shorten it in front, I have a very curvy seam at the waistline as it curves down for the back. There must be a way of solving this fitting problem. Mrs. H. C. Dear Mrs. H. C.

The clue to your problem is that you are not only long waisted but small in the bust, therefore, your adjustment will be made at the underarm dart.

• Check measurement from the shoulder to the waist in front and then in back. Chances are, the measurement in front is the same as the back. It might even be slightly longer in back. You must make the side seams come out even!

• Since you are small in the bust, you will not need as large a dart as the pattern has allowed for, therefore, you will make it smaller which will drop the underarm seam down so that it should match the back underarm seam.

• Be sure to experiment first, but I think you'll find this a relatively easy adjustment to make. Next week I will discuss the problem of the gal who has a very large bust and needs more length in front than in back.

DR. CRANE

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-546: Marcia M., aged 16, is in tears.

"Dr. Crane," she wailed, "my daddy is running around with a secretary from his office."

"That girl is only about 25 and not nearly as attractive as my mother."

"But Daddy flaunts the other woman in front of Mother and is humiliating me before my own high school classmates."

"For in this small city, everybody knows what is going on."

"Is my daddy losing his mind? He used to be wonderful. Now he acts as if Mother and I are strangers to him."

"What can I do to help prevent a divorce between my parents?"

MOTHERS GET HEP

Many children, even in grammar school, write to me for similar help in trying to restore happiness between their daddy and mother.

This is an unfair burden to load upon the shoulders of any youngster!

So will you mothers please wake up to the facts of life? Remember, men don't run away from happiness!

If they have a satisfactory siren at home, they are not likely to affront their children, as Marcia's daddy is doing.

At first glance, most of you wives and mothers would jump to the defense of Marcia's mother.

And you may attack me for siding with the husbands too much.

But, for heaven's sake, get hep! If you would satisfy your mates in the boudoir, then even Cleopatra or Elizabeth Taylor couldn't steal them away from you!

For a satiated man doesn't expend the extra energy needed to run downtown for a restaurant meal or to chase around with a paramour.

Most of you wives overly feed your husbands at the dinner table.

But you then try to ration him in the boudoir to your own meager erotic appetite.

Yet men were created by God Almighty to crave not only far more food calories than you do, at the dinner table.

But there is an even greater difference in the erotic demand of men.

Patriarchal Jacob thus had 4 wives.

Modern husbands have as much erotic hunger as did Jacob.

But our laws prohibit more than one wife.

Which means that you better function as a 4-woman harem to your husband if you wish to avoid the tragedy that is stalking Marcia's home.

The average philandering husband would much prefer an "affair" with his own wife, as hundreds have confessed in my office.

"But, Dr. Crane," the protest, "my wife rebuffs, re-neges or shuns ardor."

"She seems to think we should resign ourselves to a senile grandparent relationship though we are still only 45, 50 or 60, and thus still in our prime."

"So I gave her many chances to pick up her cues. She didn't."

"Why should she now blame me if I seek erotic food elsewhere, after her starvation menu at home?"

Wives, you must answer that widespread challenge. For when you rebuff your male too often, he may grow impatient toward you and thus flee to a more stimulating female who still can exert boudoir magic on him!

Gloves Have Odd Start

Fashion historians report wearing gloves first came into vogue as a means of covering the ugliness of dirty hands and nails.

In an age before soap was common, even royalty depended on handsomely embroidered and perfumed gloves.

Give Daily

All caged birds must have gravel, as it takes the place of teeth for them.

Ordinary sand should not be used as it is dusty, of no digestive value and may have harmful impurities.

Buy sand especially for them and sprinkle a little on the floor of their cage daily.

Old Towels Have a Use

NEW YORK (UPI) — Here's a new use for old Turkish towels: cut and stitch them into mittens for washing venetian blinds.

Home-cleaning experts say the rough terrycloth surface makes your hands perfect tools for sudsing off both sides of each slat in a single motion.

TAILOR-TRIX WINNER

Mrs. N. K. Rosenberger, Altoona, Iowa, is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her suggestion.

"At last, a way to tie a square neck scarf so that it will really stay in place and not ride out of your dresses or suits. I love it and wanted to share it with others who read your wonderful column!"

"This works for any square silk or sheer scarf, large or small. Pick the scarf up at the center and tie a single knot (center peak will extend slightly). Now grasp the diagonal corners in each hand and tie at the back of your neck. Your scarf will have the soft look of an ascot and really look neat and stay in place."

Dear Mrs. Farmer:

How can you tell the right from the wrong side of wool?

Dear Mrs. R. R.,

When the fabric is 100 per cent wool it is always folded with the right side inside. Occasionally you will find imported fabrics unfolded. You will have to examine the selvage carefully. The most finished looking selvage is the right side.

Don't forget, some of the most interesting effects are achieved by using wool on the wrong side, but whatever way you decide upon, be sure that each piece has been cut and assembled the same way.

Was Romney Threatened?

Guard Was Boosted; but Reason Is Cloudy

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney indicated yesterday his life was indirectly threatened. But his bodyguard denied it and his press secretary said it was a misunderstanding.

Romney told newsmen that a state police guard was posted for a time at his home late last month after Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley disclosed he had been threatened with "bodily harm" for backing a grand jury investigation of organized crime in Wayne County.

Romney indicated he had been threatened indirectly. But Jay Kennedy, chief state police bodyguard for the governor, said Romney was not threatened at all.

"We were worried about the possible carryover from the Kelley thing, and increased our security," Kennedy said.

Charles Harmon, Romney's press secretary, said the governor presumed when he saw a guard at his house that someone had threatened him.

"Romney told me the reason he said what he did to newsmen was that it was his understanding at the time the extra guards were put on that this resulted from some threats," Harmon said.

Merit Test Results Trigger Blast at State

LANSING (AP) — A Washington-based council of education has criticized Michigan public schools because of what it called a poor showing by Michigan students in the 1965 National Merit Scholarship tests.

The State Education Department called the criticism by the nonprofit Council for Basic Education unjustified and unfounded.

An official of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. agreed with state officials that merit test results should not be the vehicle for comparing the quality of education in various states.

Michigan ranked 33rd in the council's listing for the 1965 tests. The council said only 1.18 per cent of Michigan high school juniors who took the tests qualified for the select group, compared with a national average of 1.69.

CONNECTICUT FIRST
The council ranked Connecticut first with 3.22 and New York second with 3.18. Mississippi was last with 0.45.

"I think this is a pretty shameful showing by a state like Michigan," George Weber, the council's associate director, said from Washington.

quality, said Harold Harding, assistant to the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp. of Evanston, Ill.

He said migration into Michigan of low-intelligence persons could lower Michigan's over-all intelligence level.

IF THIS IS TRUE . . .

If this is true, Harding added, he would have to conclude that Michigan was doing a good job in education by keeping the level as high as it is.

On the other hand, Harding said, some Eastern states have pockets of intellectuals, and their children score high on the tests, bringing up a state's average.

In another council listing, Weber said, Michigan ranks 19th, with 18.1 per cent draft rejections for flunking intelligence tests, compared with a national average of 29.9 per cent. But he said, this still was a shameful record.

"If a state was really doing its job," he said, "it would be about 2 per cent—and at the most 3 per cent."

Rusk Has Fete for Romanian

NEW YORK (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk gave a dinner last night for Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu with U. S.-Romanian trade relations and the Viet Nam war the main courses.

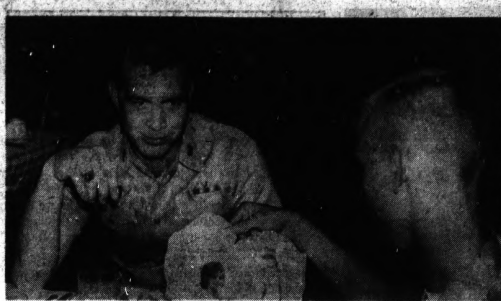

Manescu said at the end of the four-hour dinner meeting that American-Romanian economic ties were "not at the level they could be" and said Bucharest was interested in expanding economic contact with the United States.

The foreign minister, accompanied by a three-member party, said his talks with Rusk were held "in a businesslike atmosphere" and "touched upon bilateral problems between our countries and, of course, matters of international importance," presumably Viet Nam.

A State Department spokesman confirmed Manescu's report of the talks and said, "Both sides expressed interest in ways to expand trade."

A tip-off that trade talks dominated the dinner was seen in Rusk's selection of State Department aides to attend the dinner.

They were Arthur Solomon, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, and Walter Stossel, deputy assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

DISPLAYS CLIPPINGS — Helicopter pilot Franklin D. Beggs (left) displays clippings of an Associated Press story of how he got into the Army by divorcing his wife because he had too many dependents to be allowed to enlist. About three months after his 1965 divorce, he remarried Linda Joyce Beggs, his wife since 1960. Beggs leaves for Viet Nam today. Anthony Ruh (right) of Lompoc, Calif., is also scheduled for duty in Viet Nam.

2 Senate Aides in Viet Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan says two Senate Investigations subcommittee aides have been dispatched to Saigon to check reports of misuse of government property and funds.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the parent Senate Government Operations Committee, was asked if the reports concerned bribery or corruption.

"That may be involved," he replied. "We're not sure what all will be found." McClellan would not disclose the origin of the reports, but said they were "of sufficient reliability" to warrant dispatch of the two aides—Jerome Alderman, the subcommittee's general counsel, and Phillip Morgan, chief counsel for the subcommittee's minority.

A Junior Editors Quiz About BUTTERFLIES

QUESTION: How do caterpillars change into butterflies or moths?

ANSWER: Butterflies and moths are in the adult stage of life. Before that, they were larvae or caterpillars, and before that, they are eggs.

It is in the caterpillar stage that the insect does all its growing. Its powerful jaws enable it to eat plant food voraciously.

It must store up tissue material to be used when it turns into an adult. Soon it outgrows its original size.

The skin splits, and the caterpillar crawls out and goes on growing. After shedding a number of skins and reaching full size, the larva is ready for the remarkable change which will turn it into an adult.

It constructs a hard shell around itself, the pupa, inside of which the body structure of the adult can replace those of the caterpillar.

Sometimes, the pupa is enclosed in a silken cocoon (2) in which the larva may hibernate through the winter, although certain kinds may pass the winter in the caterpillar stage, building a cocoon in the spring.

When the time is right, the pupa and its cocoon split open. Out crawls a magnificent moth or butterfly, ready to spread its wings and fly away in search of a mate. Then eggs will be laid; the cycle will start over again.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to find a cocoon. Take it indoors and keep it to see what happens.

Don't Scoff at Cough

Beware of Political 'Hacks'

By DICK WEST

United Press International
WASHINGTON — A new method of measuring the appeal of political candidates has just been introduced. It is called the "cough meter."

Political polls frequently show candidates running neck and neck, but this device makes an even closer comparison.

It indicates that five prominent politicians frequently mentioned as possible future presidential nominees currently are running throat and throat.

The cough meter, a complex hookup of oscilloscopes, digital counters and stuff like that, determines the popularity of candidates by recording the "cough quotient" of an audience during a campaign speech.

The machine was developed by Vick Chemical Co., which, through one of those incredible coincidences that continuously make life so astonishing, happens to sell cough medicine.

The company also has published a little handbook titled "Harrumphs, Smoke-filled Room and Other Hazards for Public Speakers." It is being distributed to office-seekers along with a "cough control kit."

The theory is that when the meter registers a high rate of coughing, it means the audience is restless and bored. But I question the scientific soundness of that theory.

It could merely mean air pollution controls aren't working.

Furthermore, it seems to me that if just one spectator at a rally opened a bag of peanuts and got a huck caught in his windpipe, the cough meter might give a misleading figure.

Their average rating was 4.1 CPM (coughs per minute per 100 persons).

A spokesman said only "half a cough" separates the highest reading from the lowest. He said that was not a significant variation.

For what it might be worth, Kennedy had the lowest cough quotient. Of the three Republicans, Romney was lowest.

President Johnson's score on the cough meter has never been recorded. As we all know, however, the President's guideline for other matters is 3.2.

I imagine that if an audience were to exceed that level, he might summon the U.S. surgeon general and have them all vaccinated for influenza.

It's Not the Same Old Shillelagh

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — It's official: The U. S. Army's potent Shillelagh guided missile is now Grade A. And just as with eggs, the rating means that it is the best of its kind.

Designed to be used by tanks and other armored vehicles, the Shillelagh has been classified by the Army Materiel Command Technical Committee as "the most advanced and satisfactory for a specific requirement."

The missile is launched from a 159-mm gun that will be carried on such vehicles as the U.S.-West German Main Battle Tank of the 1970s and a modification of the current M60 tank.

Diagnostic Pitfall Cited

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Don't panic if you notice an inflammation in your lymph nodes. Twenty to one it is not cancer but an after-effect of a vaccination.

Pathologists and surgeons were warned here of a "diagnostic pitfall" in spotting post-vaccinal lymphadenitis.

Dr. Robert J. Hartsock, chief of the hematologic pathology branch at the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, reported analyzing 20 cases, none of which should have required surgery.

Nine of them had been diagnosed as malignant lymphomas, and in 14 cases the history of vaccination was overlooked before an operation was performed. Twelve of the 20 patients complained of a mass that caused pain or was tender on pressure. All 20 had received smallpox vaccine, but 10 of them had also been inoculated with tetanus, typhoid, typhus, cholera, diphtheria, pertussis, influenza or Salk vaccine.

The median age of the group was 20, the youngest being nine months old and the oldest 34 years of age. The median interval between vaccination and biopsy was 35 days, with the shortest interval four days and the longest 180 days.

Milk Inspection

EAST LANSING (AP)—Nearly half of all Michigan farmers producing for the fluid milk market have passed inspection under Michigan's new Grade A milk law, a Michigan State University extension dairyman says. Donald Murray said indications are that by the end of the year, nearly all the 11,570 dairymen selling to the fluid milk market will have received permits after state inspection.

Death Sentences in U.S. Becoming Rare but Still Not Extinct

NEW YORK (AP) — The death rows of state prisons today hold 265 men sentenced to hanging, electrocution or the gas chamber for crimes such as murder, kidnapping or rape.

But so far this year only one criminal has been executed in the 37 states which still have capital punishment. Few of the other death sentences are likely to be carried out. For the year, the total of legal executions may prove to be the lowest ever.

The reasons, an Associated Press survey indicates, are twofold:

1. Recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions throwing out confessions for criminal suspects who were not advised of their rights to legal counsel, and to remain silent under questioning.
2. An apparently growing distaste on the part of state officials and the public for the taking of human life by law.

SEVEN KILLED

In 1965 only seven persons — a record low — were put to death by American states. In 1964 the total was 15.

These figures compare with 199 executions in 1939 when the federal Bureau of Prisons began compiling statistics on capital punishment.

cells before all appeals have been exhausted.

One prisoner in Washington State has been in a condemned cell since 1960 and his appeal of a murder conviction is still pending.

In Florida, Gov. Haydon has exhausted all legal remedies. Burns has not signed a death warrant since he took office in January 1965. He says that none of the 53 condemned men death house had to be enlarged to accommodate the 58 prisoners who have been sentenced to the gas chamber.

The last execution in California was on Jan. 23, 1963, and the death house had to be enlarged to accommodate the 58 prisoners who have been sentenced to the gas chamber.

BACK TO CAMPAIGN — Charles Percy returned to his campaign for U.S. senator from Illinois in Chicago yesterday. He had been in seclusion since his daughter, Valerie, was found slain Sept. 18.

Current Books

THE TIME BETWEEN THE WARS. By Jonathan Daniels. Doubleday, $6.50.

From the Armistice of 1918 to Pearl Harbor, the United States was the scene of a tremendous rush of events, both great and small.

In politics it was the time of Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt. The League of Nations went down, and the League of Nations went down. The League of Nations went down.

The story is all here, written by a man who was a close observer of many of its scenes, as a reporter and later as a member of Roosevelt's staff.

OPEN THE DOOR. By Hildegarde Dolson. Lippincott, $4.95.

Janet Campbell, a manuscript editor who at 33 is resigned to spinsterhood after an unfortunate affair with a middle-aged author, lives and works in an old apartment house in Greenwich Village.

The Aldini family moves into the building temporarily, and life suddenly takes on a riotous tone. The Aldini children, Robbie and Nona, two of the most lovable little hellions in town, manage to monopolize her attention.

Meanwhile their garrulous mother Connie has matchmaking ideas, and Janet finds herself paired off with "Uncle" Ben, a shaggy-dog type who soon will inherit a lot of money.

THE FIXER. By Bernard Malamud. Farrar, Straus, $5.75.

Malamud has created an heroic figure out of a scrap of humanity in a dark place of a dark period.

The scene is the Kiev area of Tsarist Russia in the early years of this century.

Yakov Bok is by birth a Jew, but he does not follow his religion, and as a self-educated man considers himself a free thinker.

In the beginning, Yakov lives the incredible poverty of his home district in a vivid, nightmarish journey to Kiev.

A job at the brick plant is a wonderful chance, but the brick plant is in a district barred to Jews. On a frightening gamble, Yakov takes the job.

Then the body of a boy — a Christian — is found in a cave. Yakov, the clandestine Jew, is arrested on a charge of ritual murder — that ancient fiction that Jews kill gentiles for a blood ceremony.

The story is on a somber theme — based on an actual event and filled with revelations of human weakness, fear and hatred. It does not make pleasant reading, but then the life it mirrors was anything but pleasant.

Many condemned convicts will escape capital punishment through court appeals. The sentences of others will be commuted to prison terms by state authorities. In some states informal moratoriums on executions are in effect pending legislative action on bills to abolish capital punishment.

In many states where capital punishment is the supreme penalty, it has not been exacted for years. The last legal executions in New Hampshire and South Dakota were in 1939. In Massachusetts in 1947, in Nebraska in 1959, in Tennessee in 1960.

NO EXECUTIONS

Even in populous Illinois and Pennsylvania there have been no executions since 1962, and in Ohio, New Jersey and California, none since 1963.

During the first nine months of 1966 the only legal execution in any state was that of James D. French, a 30-year-old Oklahoma convict. French died in the electric chair on Aug. 10 for strangling a prison cellmate. He was serving life for another killing.

San Quentin prison in California has 58 death row inmates. Florida has 53, Louisiana 26.

Rules Can Protect Children From Sexual, Criminal Attacks

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Steps must be taken to protect children from individuals who might commit sexual, or other crimes against them.

Parents need not become panicky nor should they frighten their children. They should take normal precautions and instruct the children accordingly.

The young child tends to be friendly with everyone he meets. The criminal and deranged person takes advantage of this situation.

This shouldn't discourage friendliness, but should lead the child to observe several rules for his protection. The best protection is actually prevention. Once an incident has occurred the physical or psychological harm has been done.

An older child faces similar problems. Teen-agers are more capable of protecting themselves and preventing incidents. MORE VULNERABLE.

On the other hand they are also more open to criminal attack since they are not as closely supervised. They are also outside at later hours and in more dangerous places.

What advice should be given to children? It is important that they understand the dangers, but should not become constantly tense and frightened.

With this in mind, you should consider making the following recommendations to your child with the appropriate adjustments depending upon his age.

Never hitchhike or accept a ride from a person you do not know. Politely express thanks but refuse the ride. If possible, obtain the license number and a description of the car and person. The offer of a ride should be reported to parents, police or teachers.

TEMPTING PROMISE
Don't take money, candy, or gifts of any kind from a stranger. The promise of some exciting gift is often used to tempt someone into an improper or dangerous act.

Avoid going with a stranger who asks for directions to some place. It is even advisable to avoid getting into a conversation with a stranger. This would eliminate any problems.

Parents should always be informed of visits to another person's home. In addition parents should check carefully before you do any kind of work for a stranger.

It is dangerous to play alone in alleys, in woods, on the beach or in other deserted areas. Try to be with one or more friends when going to playgrounds, to movies, on hikes, etc. There is usually greater safety in numbers.

PUBLIC PLACES
Don't stay around public toilets, school theaters, or other public buildings. Always leave immediately. Individuals who wish to do harm of any kind will often wait around public places looking for stragglers.

If you remain in school past the normal hours, arrange for your parents to pick you up. In other situations, always call ahead when detained for any reason.

Never allow a stranger to touch you. Parents should be told immediately of any such attempt.

It is also a good idea to report the presence of any strangers who might be loitering in a neighborhood with no apparent purpose.

CALL POLICE
Any of the above or other suspicious incidents should be reported to the police. Children cannot be supervised all of the time. It is therefore necessary that they be instructed concerning proper safety measures.

George Washington was the first president of the Society of the Cincinnati.

OUR POLICY!

Our Policy, simply stated is "To be a Service to the Community." In our business we can only be a "Service to the Community" if we have in our store the items of merchandise that you have a "RIGHT" to find, at the time that you need them and at a "FAIR" Price. This we have tried to do. We say "If we don't have in stock what you want, we won't promise to get it for you, but we sure will Try." About 95% of the time we are successful. Let us know if there is something you want. Then, and only then can we live up to our Policy. Our Merchandise is "First Quality." However sometimes a flaw in goods will slip through the Inspectors. We will make it right to you. We intend to please you. If we can, we will be successful.

Things New Brides Get Tired of Hearing

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Reminds that young brides get tired of hearing:
"I made a list of the wedding presents for you, dear. You got 12 electric toasters, 18 silver trays, 7 sugar and creamer sets, 29 dish towels, 3 $10 gift certificates, $18.27 in cash — and a rabbit's foot."
BOYLE

"After all, we've been married a full two weeks. Why shouldn't I spend a night out with the fellows? You don't expect me to be a hermit, do you?"
"Maybe it would be better if we took nothing for granted and started at the very beginning. Well, then cooking consists of the application of heat to raw food material to help make it more tender, tasty and easily digestible. If you are sure you comprehend that, we can go on to the next step."
"It isn't that I mind burnt toast — but why is it you always burn it on just one side?"

NICE COMPLIMENTS
"Yes, it's a darling apartment, Jill. You and Jack were lucky to find it. But I'm all out of breath from climbing so many stairs. And aren't the rooms a bit on the small side?"

"I'm your neighbor down the hall, kiddo. Say, we're fresh out of gin. Could you lend us a cup?"

"Of course, I expect you to get up and fix me breakfast every morning, honey. My mother has done it for my dad for 30 years, and my grandmother did it for grandpa for 55 years. On their golden wedding anniversary, she even brought him his breakfast in bed."

"Sure, it was a great honeymoon, but you have to realize the honeymoon is over."

SO ROMANTIC
"Maybe it is romantic to eat by candlelight, but candles cost money. Anyway, I like to be able to see what's on my plate."
"Well, you don't have to make a federal case out of it the very first time I stop off for a couple of quick ones with the guys where I work."

"I suppose he told you he wanted you to quit your job as soon as you get the furniture."

Georgia Dems Pick Moderate

Succeeds Weltner in Congressional Race

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Atlanta Democrats — to fill the void left when U.S. Rep. Charles L. Weltner withdrew from the congressional race rather than support an ardent segregationist for governor — are relying on the self-described middle-of-the-roader Archie L. Lindsey.
Lindsey, 55, a real estate agent, was picked Wednesday by a party committee to face Republican opposition in the Nov. 8 general election.

Weltner withdrew from the race Monday, saying his principles do not permit him to support Lester G. Maddox as the Democratic nominee for governor.

Lindsey will support Maddox. "I have been a Democrat all my life, have always supported the party ticket and will do so this time," he said.

CLOSED MEETING
He was picked at a closed meeting of the Fulton County (Atlanta) Democratic Executive Committee, which considered more than a dozen persons.

A veteran of city-county politics, Lindsey will resign from the county commission post he has held 14 years to take on State Sen. Fletcher Thompson, the GOP nominee who got on the ballot by petition.

Weltner said in Washington he was pleased at the committee's choice and predicted Lindsey would win easily despite a late start in the race. "He's not an unknown like his Republican opponent," Weltner said.
When he withdrew, Weltner explained he could not break a party loyalty oath he signed to become a candidate and neither could he vote for Maddox, a segregationist.

paid for? My little man said the same thing to me when we got married back in 1941, and now I'm wearing an office 25-year pin and still pounding a type-writer."
"You must be kidding about having to go to the beauty shop, thought after girls married they fixed their hair at home. What else have they got to do?"

TOLD YOU SO
"As your mother, Jill, you know I want you to be happy, but remember I was the one who told you from the start that Jack would give you trouble."

"Whatever he does or doesn't do, don't just cry about it. Make a scene. Husbands can't stand scenes."

"When you're as old as I am, you'll understand that they're all beasts — yes, every blasted one of them."

"We simply can't afford an electric dishwasher. If you want the application of heat to win it in a box top contest."

PERFECT NOW
"You liked me pretty well as was before we were married. Why do you want me to change all at once now?"

"For Pete's sake, Jill, quit calling me at the office. The other guys are razzing me about it — and the boss doesn't like it."

"Okay, okay, so you fixed the casserole for me as a surprise. Well, after eating it, I'm still surprised. What was it — corn flakes in codfish gravy, or Hungarian graham crackers and meat sauce?"

"Gee, here it is 9 p.m. and Saturday night. Wonder what I'd be doing now if I was still a bachelor."

"Of course, I still love you. Do you want me to write it on a piece of paper and paste it on the kitchen wall?"
"As an older woman, Jill, all

I can tell you is that after the honeymoon life usually gets a lot worse before it gets much better."
"Go dancing? Honey, we're married now. How about going bowling?"

Freezer Burn Changes Good Flavor of Meat

CHICAGO — You may be losing flavor if you don't wrap meat properly for the freezer.

"Freezer burn" or drying of the surface occurs when meats are not well wrapped. Freezer-burned meat has a dry or spongy, light-colored surface and its flavor is slightly different. Although it is safe to eat, the quality is not good.

Properly frozen meat is quickly frozen, held at a constant temperature and comes from the freezer as bright in color and almost as juicy and flavorful as it was when first frozen.

Transparent wraps on meat from the self-service case give sufficient protection for freezer storage periods of one or two weeks only. For longer periods, overwrap or re-wrap with proper freezer wrapping material.

Good wrappings are moisture proof: heavy gauge aluminum foil, polyethylene wrap or bags, moisture-proof cellophane, 40-pound locker paper with heavy wax or polyethylene coating, for example. They keep the moisture inside, impart no odor or flavor to the meat and are tough enough to withstand freezing and handling without damage.

Here's a method of wrapping meat recommended by the American Meat Institute:

- Use enough freezer paper so the edges may be folded down at least three times.
- Place the meat in the center of the paper.
- Separate individual servings.

Colorful Dessert

Make lemon tapioca pudding as label directs; fold a diced fresh nectarine into the cooled dessert. Spoon into stemmed glasses and serve on underliners decorated with fresh flowers.

Top for Waffles

For a late-party snack, cap hot waffles with succulent slices of fresh California nectarines. Serve with softened honey butter.

Fragrant With Orange Bake Sugar-Crusted Twists

Finger length Orange Twists are for party occasions. Featherly light and rolled in orange sugar, they are a delicacy for afternoon or morning coffees. They make a fine start for Sunday brunches, too, these fall days.

Just flank the fragrant little sweet buns with fruit, cereal and milk, and you have the makings of a modern light yet adequate morning meal.

The dough is an adaptation of German Krapfen or doughnuts. However these twists are baked rather than deep-fat fried. Rolled oats contribute distinctive flavor.

The recipe produces a light, airy bread which keeps well, so take these when you have the time.

Orange Oat Twist

- 1 cup milk, scalded
- 1 cup rolled oats, uncooked, quick or regular
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 package active dry yeast (10-115 degrees F.)
- 1 egg, beaten
- ¾ to 3¾ cups sifted flour
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- Four hot milk over cereal.
- Stir in ¼ cup butter or margarine, ¼ cup sugar and salt. Let cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Add to cereal mixture. Stir in egg and flour. Turn onto lightly floured board.

Knead until dough is smooth and elastic. Shape into ball. Drop dough into a greased bowl, turn and grease top.

● Bring two edges of paper together above the meat and fold down in ½-inch to one-inch folds until the paper is tight against the meat.

● Press the wrap closely to the meat to force out air.

● Seal edges carefully with freezer tape, or fold over ends at least twice and the security.

● Mark each frozen meat package to show contents, number of servings and date of freezing.

The meat should then be quickly frozen and stored at 0 degrees F. or lower. Use all meats as soon as possible to be assured of the original fine flavor.

Marinate Steak Before Broiling, Slice Very Thin

If you want this flank steak to be at its best, serve it rare and slice it very thin.

Broiled Savory Flank Steak

- 1 top-quality flank steak (1½ pounds)
- ¼ cup soy sauce
- ¼ cup sweet (cream) sherry
- 1 large clove garlic, crushed
- Remove any membrane or excess fat from outside of steak. With kitchen scissors, snip short ends of steak at 1-inch intervals to keep meat from curling.

In a shallow container, stir together the soy sauce, sherry and garlic. Place steak in marinade, spooning some over top. Marinate for several hours, turning once midway.

Saving marinade, broil steak on rack in shallow pan rather close to high heat for 3 to 5 minutes on each side. Slice very thin, across the grain, holding knife almost flat to make wide strips.

If you like, you may strain the small amount of marinade and heat it to serve as a dip. Makes 4 servings.

Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk.

Punch down, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Turn onto a lightly floured board. Roll into a rectangle 16x8 inches. Cut in strips 4 inches long and 1 inch wide.

Twist each strip and place on greased baking sheet. Let rise until double in size. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) until done, 10 to 12 minutes.

Meanwhile mix remaining ¼ cup sugar and orange rind; let stand to flavor sugar. Melt remaining ¼ cup butter or margarine. While twists are still hot, dip into melted butter or margarine then into sugar mixture. Yield: 32 twists.

ORANGE OATS TWISTS — Orange Oat Twists, delicately tender and turned in orange sugar are delightful food for morning coffees or brunches.

Corny Casserole

Made With Cheese

Combine 3 cups uncooked corn cut from the cob, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper and ¼ cup shredded Swiss cheese.

Dot the bottom of a 2-quart casserole with 3 tablespoons butter and pour in mixture. Sprinkle top with another ¼ cup shredded Swiss cheese and dot with 3 more tablespoons butter.

Add ¼ cup evaporated milk (undiluted) or heavy cream and bake uncovered about 20 minutes. Check to see if corn is tender and cheese melted before removing from oven. Serve piping hot.

Sauce Mix

Is Marinade

Beef stew seasoning mix makes a quick marinade for beef shish kebab. Cut 2 to 3 pounds of sirloin into 1½ to 2-inch cubes. Let stand 1 hour in ¼ cup salad oil mixed with 1 (1 ounce) envelope of beef stew seasoning mix.

At mealtime, alternate the cubes on skewers with small tomatoes, mushrooms, caps, small whole onions or chunks of onion; using 12 of each vegetable for the entire recipe.

Broil until beef reaches desired doneness. Brush occasionally with the oil mixture. Makes 6 servings.

Butter cookies sprinkled with grated lemon peel and sugar before baking have a citrus tang.

What could be quicker and easier to prepare than Deviled Ham Trio? It's a tasty spread made simply by covering each of three unadorned three ounce cans of deviled ham with poppy seeds, sesame seeds and caraway seeds. Boston Circles are filled with thin slices of ham and Tea Party Delights are lovely small hors d'oeuvres heaped with frozen boneless turkey roast which has been mixed with butter and spices.

Special Pies Are Very Impressive

By JANET ODELL

Foodie Press Food Editor

When the dinner is somewhat less than exciting, you can improve the overall impression with a splendid dessert. This is especially true where men and children are concerned. They like these.

In these days of weight watchers, it is good to know that the right dessert can add more than just needed calories to the diet. Sugar is good. It is necessary. But it adds little to nutrition all by itself.

The three pies we're spotlighting today all have some fruit in the filling. But they are not the usual fruit pies.

Take, for example, Orange Pecan Pie. In addition to the crunchy nuts, the filling contains both orange juice and grated orange rind. It's a delicious version of the southern classic recipe.

ORANGE PECAN PIE

3 eggs, slightly beaten
¾ cup dark corn syrup
¼ cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated orange rind
1 cup pecans
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell

Combine all ingredients, stirring in pecans last. Pour into pie shell. Bake in a 400 degree oven 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350 degrees and continue to bake 35 to 45 minutes longer. Filling will be puffy and moist in center. Yield: 1 8-inch pie.

Grape Chiffon Pie is completely different. Made with bottled grape juice, it is a smooth creamy dessert. Whipped evaporated milk in place of whipping cream cuts the cost.

Use the filling sometime for a dessert all by itself, served in parfait glasses.

GRAPE CHIFFON PIE

1 cup bottled grape juice
1 pkg. (3 oz.) lemon flavored gelatin
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup evaporated milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
9-inch baked pastry shell

In a small saucepan heat juice to boiling. Add lemon gelatin, sugar and cinnamon. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool, then chill to consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Meanwhile, pour evaporated milk into ice cube tray and chill until partially frozen. When gelatin reaches proper consistency, whip partially frozen evaporated milk until stiff.

Add lemon juice and whip until very stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture lightly but thoroughly. Turn into baked pastry shell and chill until set, about 2 to 3 hours. Serves 6 to 8.

Finally for those who must restrict their intake of sugar, we offer a recipe for French Pear Tart. Sucaryl is the sweetening agent in this continental-type recipe.

FRENCH PEAR TART

(Low-Calorie)

Pastry for single crust
¾ cup water

2 tablespoons liquid sucaryl
1 tablespoon lemon juice
8 pears, pared, cored and sliced into sixths
1 8-ounce jar sucaryl-sweetened apricot preserves
Nutmeg

Roll pastry to fit a 12-inch tart pan. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) 12 minutes or until golden brown; remove from oven and cool. Combine water, sucaryl and lemon juice in a saucepan; add pear slices, a few at a time, and poach about 5 minutes, or until tender. Cool slightly, drain and save ¼ cup of the liquid.

Arrange pear slices, spoke fashion, in tart shell. In saucepan, combine a pinch of preserves and reserved liquid; heat until bubbly. Force through a sieve, then spoon over pear slices to glaze. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Chill until ready to serve.

Makes 12 servings, each 123 CALORIES; 1.5 grams protein; 3.5 grams fat; 30 grams carbohydrate.

FRENCH PEAR TART

Pancakes Are Good Anytime

For a Sunday morning brunch, for an evening supper party, for a luncheon main dish, these new apple buttermilk pancakes are the best choice. They are easy to make, easy to eat, and guests and family will ask for seconds.

APPLE BUTTERMILK PANCAKES

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
2 cups buttermilk
2 tablespoons shortening, melted
2 cups very finely chopped apples

Mix and sift flour, baking soda, salt and sugar. Combine eggs, buttermilk and melted shortening; add gradually to dry ingredients; stir until smooth. Fold in apples. Drop by spoonfuls on hot griddle. Bake until surface is covered with bubbles that do not break. Turn and brown on other side. Makes about 20 griddlecakes.

Serve with Cheese Sauce*. Delicious with scrambled eggs for brunch.

*Cheese Sauce

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 cups milk
2 cups sharp cheddar cheese

Melt butter or margarine. Stir in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk, stirring over low heat until mixture thickens and bubbles. Add cheese; stir until melted. Makes about 3 cups.

Forget Calories With Chicken and Zucchini

Chicken is one of the low-calorie foods that always satisfies the dieter because it tastes so great. Combine the bird with delicate summer squash and you have a low-calorie dish that makes the dieter forget he's weight-watching.

Chicken With Zucchini

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
1½ teaspoons salt, divided
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ medium onion, sliced
3 tomatoes, peeled and cut in pieces
½ teaspoon oregano
1 pound unpared zucchini, sliced

Sprinkle chicken with 1 teaspoon of the salt, pepper and paprika. Brown under broiler heat 10 minutes, turning once. Remove chicken to skillet.

Add onion, tomatoes, oregano and remaining ½ teaspoon salt. Cover; cook 30 minutes. Add zucchini; cover and cook 10 minutes longer. Makes 4 servings, 315 calories per serving.

Experts Offer Tips on Lettuce

A good head of lettuce should be firm, but not too solid. The greener the lettuce, the better it will look in salads, and the more vitamins it will have, stress Michigan State University home economists.

When storing lettuce always wash the outer leaves. The you can put it in a plastic bag. Remember to store lettuce in the refrigerator away from fresh fruit. A gas given off in the fruits may cause the lettuce to spoil.

A good head of lettuce, when properly stored, will stay crisp for about a week.

LAST OF THE TARAHUMARA? — Several Tarahumara Indians of Mexico, dressed in their Sunday finery, stand at the entrance to their cave home in an isolated mountain area. The Mexican government refused to permit carloads of food donated by Americans to enter the country, denying that the Indians, the last known cave-dwelling tribe, were dying of starvation.

Doctors Recall Mexican Tribe

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The Tarahumara Indians of Mexico have been in the spotlight of international news recently because the Mexican government refused to permit carloads of food donated by Americans to enter the country. The Mexican government denies that the Indians, the last known cave-dwelling tribe, were dying of starvation. The tribe is well-known to a group of Michigan doctors who visited them last summer. Here is what they found.)

By PHIL BROWN
Associated Press Writer
LANSING — Isolated high amidst rugged, splendid mountains in Mexico live the last known cave-dwelling Indians—if they can survive tuberculosis, malnutrition, typhoid and untreated injuries.

Seven Lansing-area osteopathic doctors paid them a one-week visit last summer to do what they could in an area where four out of five babies die before age 5.

Mothers walked sometimes five days out of the mountains to visit the Lansing group. Doctors went on "cave calls" to treat serious cases.

"I don't know how we could have worked any harder," said Dr. R. G. Curtiss, who organized the trip and now is planning another visit to the Tarahumara Indians in the Sioquich region of the Sierra Madre Mountains.

'LOST TRACK'

"We lost track of how many we treated," he said, "but we saw several hundred."

Members of DOCARE — Doctors of Osteopathy Care — are frequent visitors to the region, but this was the first time one community formed a complete team for a mission there.

Usually doctors from scattered areas gather at El Paso, Tex., about 300 miles northeast of Sioquich, for the risky airplane flight to the 2,000-foot clay landing strip in the mountains.

12-HOUR TRIP

While the flier faces short runways, thin air, bad wind currents and mountain peaks in the wrong places, the man who uses a jeep needs 12 hours to cover the 125 miles from the Mexican city of Chihuahua.

About 56,000 Indians live in the area and the population is increasing, despite the difficulties of existing on a meager diet of what corn and beans can be grown in the rocky area, Dr. Curtiss said.

Ordinarily, they don't live past age 42, he added.

Dr. Curtiss plans to return next year in the February-April period, when hundreds of the Indians die in epidemics.

In addition, Dr. Dean Olson, an orthopedic surgeon, has sort of an appointment with an elderly Indian who had fallen off a ladder 10 months before the Lansing team's visit and broken both his wrists.

After he walked one day to reach the doctors, Dr. Olson found that a severe skin ailment on the man's hands would prevent surgery. He treated the skin ailment and said the wrists would have to wait.

Despite the long wait, "the man just beamed at the idea that somebody actually would do something for him," recalled Priscilla Briney, a dental hygienist and wife of Dr. Stanley Briney.

"You knew everything you did for these people was greatly appreciated," she added. "If they said they hurt somewhere—their gratitude in their voices was more payment than money ever could be in cases like that."

"We found some situations that were pretty hard to believe," Dr. Briney said, "and we did things under circumstances we weren't accustomed to—such as major surgery with flashlights."

The team did quite a bit of major surgery, Dr. Curtiss said, and the Indians bounced back quickly afterwards. One 8-year-old girl had her appendix out and walked two miles home 30 hours later.

"We came back terribly exhausted," Dr. Curtiss said, "but it's the type of exhaustion you welcome."

"You think of a life that would be gone if you had not been there. You can't do this type of thing very long without having it do something to you spiritually and mentally."

Nicky Hilton Seen Bossing Hotel Chain's Foreign Links

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Big things are ahead for Nicky Hilton, now 40, who's just been made chairman of the executive committee of Hilton International. Nicky and his delightful clever wife, Trish (soon married 8 years and parents of Conrad Hilton 3rd, now 6) will probably have to station themselves in NY or Europe to run the vast foreign Hilton empire. They're among the finest people I meet on my World Beat.

Yeah, yeah, all you love-starved secretaries, Marlon Brando's due here Oct. 13 to film scenes for "Reflections in a Golden Eye" under John Huston's direction at Mitchell Field in Long Island. He'll shack at the Garden City Hotel for 10 days—fighting off femininity.

Jayne Mansfield frantically phoned . . . WILSON friends here for character witness support against husband Matt Cimber's "startling charges" in a suit in L.A. to get custody of his child . . . Killer Joe Piro taught the "Lindsay Hop" on the Library Steps to our Mayor. Part of the Sidewalks of NY Festival, produced fittingly, by Bob Shaaks, from Indianapolis!

Sophia Loren denies she's pregnant. Fact is, she flew back to Rome from NY, set for "Ghost, Italian Style," with Vittorio Gassman, and a David Wolper TV special at her villa. Keeps saying, "I wish it were true" . . . American mobsters are trying to move into London gambling, it's that lush.

Break With U.A.R. Is Final Blow

Tunisia Ends Stormy Episode

PARIS (UPI) — Tunisia's break of diplomatic relations with the United Arab Republic puts the final touch to a relationship that has been in a state of deep freeze for 18 months.

Tunisia's President Habib Bourguiba started the downhill turn in Cairo-Tunis relations in early 1965 when he called for the Arab countries to come to terms with Israel.

This led to the mob burning of the Tunisian ambassador's residence in Cairo, withdrawal of the ambassadors and full diplomatic staffs of the two countries in April 1965 and an increasing campaign of press and radio attacks on both sides.

Chadli Klibi, Tunisia's state secretary for cultural affairs, announced the break in relations Monday and said it was taken because of "the disparaging campaign against Tunisia by Egypt."

Quarters here, however, feel that Tunisia might have other reasons for the sudden break.

NASSERITE PLOTS

These quarters noted the Tunisian press and radio frequently spoke in recent months of "Nasserite plots" against Tunisia in general and Bourguiba in particular.

Tunisian-Egyptian relations have blown hot and cold for a decade.

Within a year of Tunisia's gaining independence in 1956, Bourguiba was attacking U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser for letting Salah Ben Youssef, Bourguiba's longtime political foe, use Radio Cairo to attack him.

Ben Youssef was later assassinated and the U.A.R. claimed the killing was the work of Bourguiba's agents.

'EMISSARIES OF DEATH'

In 1958 the first break in diplomatic relations occurred after Tunisia accused Nasser of sending "emissaries of death" to kill Bourguiba.

A Tunisian attack on the French naval base at Bizerte in July 1961 and the bloody fighting which followed provoked a wave of sympathy throughout the Arab world.

The U.A.R. moved toward a rapprochement with an offer to send troops to fight alongside the Tunisians. The offer was not accepted.

Later that year diplomatic contacts were resumed and they reached a peak of cordiality Oct. 15, 1963, when Nasser rode at Bourguiba's side through cheering crowds celebrating the first anniversary of the evacuation of the base by the French.

Bourguiba repaid the visit by going to Cairo in February 1965. He was received cordially by Nasser, but within a few weeks the two nations were feuding again.

Bourguiba said in a speech in Beirut the Arab countries should accept the existence of Israel within the boundaries set by the United Nations in 1948 if the Israelis, in turn, would agree to receive the 1.2 million Palestinian Arab refugees living in Jordan, the Gaza Strip, Syria and Lebanon.

The speech prompted wild anti-Tunisian demonstrations in the Arab world, including the attack on the Tunisian ambassador's residence in Cairo.

Naturalists Find 'Extinct' Possum

By Science Service

MELBOURNE, Australia — A pigmy possum, the first of its species in the world to be seen alive, has been discovered in a cave in the Victorian Alps.

Victorian naturalists say the discovery of the possum is as exciting as that of the supposedly extinct coelacanth fish in South Africa in 1938.

The Burramys possum was also thought to be extinct. It was known only from fossil remains of skull and jawbones found in two places — Wombeyan Caves, north of Goulburn, New South Wales, and Buchan Caves in Gippsland, Victoria.

The fossil remains came from the Pleistocene Age, dating back almost one million years.

First escalator in the United States was installed in a department store at Philadelphia in 1901.

Trio Captured by State Police

ADRIAN (AP) — Three men who reportedly broke out of a Kentucky jail and kidnaped an Indiana man Tuesday were awaiting extradition in the Lenawee County jail today.

Held on charges of kidnaping, armed robbery, carrying concealed weapons and stealing a vehicle were Victor Stubblefield, 21, Willie Willis, 25, and Charles Pepper, about 21.

Michigan State Police arrested the three men on U. S. 12, 15 miles northwest of this southern Michigan community early Wednesday.

Police said Stubblefield, Willis and Pepper were being held for federal marshals who are expected to return them to Kentucky sometime today.

The three men reportedly wounded three officers in escaping from the Franklin County Jail in Frankfort, Ky., Tuesday. Late Tuesday night, they allegedly kidnaped Elva Finch, 32, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and forced him to accompany them to Michigan in his car.

He said the three men threatened to harm him, but finally left after tying him to a tree with belts.

Retraining Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal grants totaling $1,386,000 for a manpower retraining project at the Skills Center in Detroit were announced today by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich. The project is expected to provide training for 660 unemployed in 20 occupations.

Good to the taste—smooth, mellow, satisfying. Good to the pocket, too. It costs only $4.80 and it's really worth much more. And, if you're skeptical about a value like that, here's how McMaster's does it. McMaster's is made and aged in barrels in Canada. It's bottled only after it reaches this country. That means solid savings on taxes, shipping,

Lodges in Girl

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Five-year-old Patricia Griffin was pronounced "lucky to be alive" by a team of neurosurgeons Wednesday shortly after she emerged from a two-hour operation to remove a car radio antenna lodged in her right eye socket and brain.

Doctors said Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Griffin of Plymouth, would probably be released from the University of Michigan Hospital today with nothing more than a black eye.

While playing with a neighbor child, Patricia leaped from her family's garage door to the trunk of the family car.

HEARS SCREAM

"I heard a terrific scream from the garage and ran in," said Mrs. Griffin. "Patricia was standing up on the trunk lid, holding the radio antenna. It had gone through her eye."

Doctors said the antenna slipped through a tiny aperture above the tear duct, past the eye socket and lodged an inch into Patricia's brain.

Impaled on the antenna, Patricia couldn't move. Mrs. Griffin called to a neighbor, Allen Finney. The two adults were unable to remove the antenna, so Finney unscrewed it from its base.

They strapped Patricia into a car, cradled the protruding antenna in a pillow, and drove to nearby Annapolis Hospital.

Hill-Hopping Marines, N. Viets in Constant Chase

By PETER ARNETT

NEAR THE DMZ, Viet Nam (AP) — For the weary U.S. Marine battalions inching their way across the roof of South Viet Nam, the next hill is always higher than the last, and there is always another hill. As the tangled jungle gets thicker, the enemy bunkers seem to get deeper, burrowing down into the very roots of the evergreens lining the ridges.

There is a bitter irony about the fighting that has developed in these remote, misty mountains on the border of South Viet Nam and the Communist North.

The hill the Marines fought for and captured one day may be back in enemy hands the next. The Marines keep pushing on to the hill ahead.

MUSICAL CHAIRS

When the Marines move off a peak, North Vietnamese troops crawl back on. This military musical chairs could continue forever unless the Marines hold all the hills they fight for.

But there are nearly as many hills up here as there are Marines in Viet Nam.

The Marines took to the hills in an extension of earlier strategy that envisaged the annihilation of the enemy in the fertile valleys running up from the South China Sea. North Vietnamese troops were moving down into these valleys from across the Demilitarized Zone.

High ground fascinates Marine strategists. They saw it looming above the valleys and stretching in increasingly higher tiers across to Laos, and into North Viet Nam.

With the enemy thrown from the valleys, the Marines took to the high ground. It has been a long, tough grind ever since.

PROVED OBSTACLE

The 3rd Battalion, 4th Regiment attacked one ridge after another. The first hill, a side hill,

"mere bump in the ground," according to Capt. J. J. Carroll of Miami Beach, Fla., proved a formidable obstacle of well-manned bunkers and sniping enemy machine guns.

Carroll's company made a lot of heroes. One Marine, Arthur J. Downey of Boston, won a battlefield promotion to sergeant for his heroic attempts to move up a hill under fire. In three tries, three men were killed by a side hill.

Scranton Predicts Romney Greatness

By the Associated Press
Gov. George Romney "will be a public figure of the greatest rank" in a couple of years, predicts Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Romney, often mentioned as a contender for Republican presidential nomination in 1968, heard Scranton praise him before an estimated 800 persons attending a dinner honoring Sen.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., House minority leader, told the audience Romney was "the finest governor in a good many years—if not in the history of the United States."

Scranton said he and Romney discussed the National Republican Governors Association and "world problems" in a 45-minute, private meeting Wednesday. Scranton, who last visited Michigan's capital in 1964 when he was a candidate for GOP presidential nomination, lauded Griffin's record as a congressman for 10 years and his five-month record as a senator.

Griffin launched one of his sharpest attacks of the campaign on G. Mennen Williams, his Democratic opponent for election to the Senate. Though he mentioned Williams by name only once, Griffin four times named August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president, describing him as the "political boss" of the former six-term governor.

Griffin challenged Williams to debate and to speak out on how he would have voted on the Landrum-Griffin labor bill. He called for Williams to speak out on the "credibility gap," described by Griffin as a loss of confidence by the people in what the government has told them about involvement in Viet Nam.

He said President Johnson has called for a cutback in student college loans and opposes tax relief for parents of college students. On those issues, "Where does my opponent stand?" Griffin asked. "With me or with Mr. Johnson?"

BOOST BY VEEP
The Williams campaign, meanwhile, got a boost today from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Humphrey scheduled a day-long tour with Williams, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Tost Perency and U. S. Rep. Weston Vivian, D-Mich.

The vice president's visit came against the background of President Johnson's Labor Day visit to Detroit, when Johnson failed to mention Williams' name during an appearance before AFL-CIO members.

Included on Humphrey's agenda were a lunch and dedication of a library in Monroe and a speech at a $106-a-couple dinner in Detroit.

WEST MICHIGAN
Williams, who toured west Michigan Wednesday, was asked on a television program about speculation whether his health would permit him to serve out a full, six-year term if elected to the Senate.

The former governor, who underwent a kidney stone operation in August, said "That's a lot of nonsense." He said his doctor believes that his recovery from the surgery has been remarkable.

Ferency Wednesday accused Romney of avoiding what he called the issue of tax reform for Michigan.

The Democratic state chairman displayed a folder appealing for volunteers in a women's

Plea Issued on Missing Picnickers

TAVARES, Fla. (UPI)—The parents of two young Florida women who wandered down a nature trail and mysteriously disappeared in a national forest Sunday appealed to the public for help today.

"If anyone has any information, please, please get in touch," said the parents of Nancy Lechner, 21, of Largo and Pamela Anne Nater, 20, of Clearwater.

Nancy, a green-eyed blonde, and Pamela, a brunette, were last seen strolling down a nature trail in their bathing suits.

They were on a picnic at Alexander Springs, a popular recreation area in the extreme southeastern portion of Ocala National Forest. About 300 to 500 persons were in the area from which they vanished.

A search party of 75, mounted on horseback, Monday looked through the swampy underbrush which abounds with snakes, bears and bobcats. One officer said, "We covered a 15-square mile area inch-by-inch."

TOO LEVELHEADED
The fathers of the women, Edward Lechner, a Largo businessman, and Herman Nater, general district manager for Montgomery Ward in Chicago, indicated they thought their daughters were abducted rather than lost or drowned.

"Nancy is too levelheaded to have had either happen," said Lechner.

Nater said Pamela is "well-disciplined. She wouldn't wander off the trail."

Deputy Sheriff Malcolm McCall said there was nothing to indicate the young women had been abducted, but said such a possibility wasn't being eliminated.

The girls were reported missing by their dates, who said Nancy and Pamela decided to walk down the nature trail but said they did not intend to swim in the surrounding springs because the water was too cold.

Both were said to be good swimmers and Nancy is secretary of a skin-diving club.

Craig Mackie, 21, who is engaged to Nancy, and Ben Dauterman, Pamela's date, rented a canoe and searched without success for the girls.

Mrs. Nater was visiting her husband in Chicago when informed her daughter was missing. Nater was transferred to Chicago three years ago, but maintained a home in Clearwater because his children, Pamela and Eric, 21, did not want to leave their friends.

Board to Examine Issue of Operating a County Morgue

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized a feasibility study to determine whether the county should build and operate its own morgue.

Requesting the study were the supervisors' health committee and County Health Director Dr. Bernard D. Berman.

Reasons cited in the study request were that the county has spent $25,000 for post-mortem services the first nine months of this year and that these costs may go as high as $70,000 next year.

The committee went on record as projecting that cost of operating a county morgue would not exceed the post-mortem fees being paid.

Dr. Berman made the same request a year ago and referred a preliminary drawing of the proposed $60,000 building to the supervisors' buildings and grounds committee.

OTHER PROGRAMS

The committee, however, rejected morgue construction due to the extensive county building program in the planning stage a year ago.

This committee as well as the ways and means committee and County Board of Auditors were designated by the supervisors to enter the study with the health department.

In other business yesterday, supervisors referred the practice of distributing campaign literature in their meeting chamber to the supervisors' by-laws committee for a ruling.

Duane K. Sanford, supervisor from West Bloomfield Township, objected to leaflets of a candidate for Oakland County road commissioner distributed at the last two board of supervisors meetings.

OFFICE SEEKER

He referred to handouts promoting Paul McGovern of Beverly Hills for the appointment to be made next month by the supervisors.

Sanford asked that supervisors pass a resolution abolishing such campaign tactics which he said were in bad taste.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors, then suggested that the by-laws committee review Sanford's objection. A motion specifying this action was passed.

Hamlin introduced two new board members, Roland F.

Webber of Birmingham and Alexander C. Perinoff of Southfield.

TWO VACANCIES

Webber fills the vacancy created by the death of Luther Heacock and Perinoff succeeds C. Hugh Dobay who resigned.

Hamlin also announced the full makeup of the supervisors' legislative liaison committee created last month.

Serving as chairman will be Carl Ingraham.

Other members are Hamlin,

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors;

Robert P. Allen, corporation counsel; and supervisors David

Levinson, William L. Mainland

also was announced by Hamlin. Wilnot succeeds Roy F. Good-

Up 20 Inches From '64

Further Great Lakes Rise Seen

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—The U. S. Lake Survey said Tuesday that Great Lakes water levels have risen as much as 20 inches from the record lows of 1964 and are expected to continue to rise for the next six months.

"Michigan's lake levels will continue their gradual rise," said B. G. DeCooke, chief of the water regulation branch of the U. S. Lake Survey, Army Corps of Engineers. "We can now assure the public and others in the state who consider the Great Lakes water levels vital because they are so important to business and industry that these levels are going to be above the 10-year average in the foreseeable future."

DeCooke will be one of the key speakers at the annual three-day meeting of the Michigan Section, American Water Works Association, which opens today in Traverse City. The organization includes some 500 superintendents of water systems and other public utilities throughout the state.

Some discussion is expected to center around ground-water levels which the Michigan Conservation Department says are not keeping up with the Great Lakes. The department says inland lake levels are about a half-inch below the 20-year median.

Burglar Suspect Fatally Shot in Detroit Chase

DETROIT (AP)—A 21-year-old burglary suspect was fatally shot by a pursuing police officer early Wednesday at the scene of a gasoline station break-in on the East Side.

Dead is Eddie Saunders of Detroit. Police said he died of a shotgun wound in the head two hours after he was hospitalized.

Patrolman Lawrence Anderson said he saw Saunders jump from a station window. Anderson said he gave chase on foot, shouted several orders to halt, and fired two warning shots before aiming at the fleeing suspect.

Courthouse Addition to Honor MacDonald

Oakland County's courthouse addition will be named in honor of John A. MacDonald, who died in August after serving 27 years as chairman of the County Social Welfare Board.

The memorial tribute to MacDonald was made yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors.

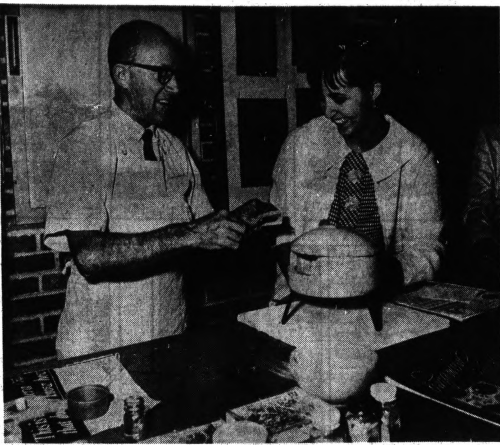

Scheduled for construction in about a month, the addition will be named the John A. MacDonald East Wing and will house a bronze medallion citing MacDonald's service to the county.

Besides voting to name the addition in MacDonald's honor, supervisors also designated County Treasurer James E. Seetzer as treasurer of the John A. MacDonald Memorial Fund.

Money donated by supervisors or other persons will be applied through the fund to the cost of the medallion.

SCHOLARSHIP

Funds beyond the medallion cost will be earmarked for establishment of a memorial scholarship at Oakland University which will be known as the John A. MacDonald Scholarship. Comprising the special board of supervisors' committee that recommended the memorial tribute were David Levinson, Willis M. Brewer and Harry W. Horton.

WATERFORD WORKSHOP — Justin Brady of the American Art Clay Co. of Indianapolis, Ind., explains the technique of metal enameling to Mrs. John England, 8200 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, a teacher

'Evolution by Mistake' Viewed

By Science Service
NOTTINGHAM, England — Another genetic theory — "evolution by mistake" — has been added to such well-known ones as natural selection and adaptation.

"Human beings are like autos! They are built to function," said Dr. F. J. Berry, a geneticist at the Royal Free Hospital School of Medicine, London, to the British Association for the Advancement of Science meeting here.

"To put it rather crudely," said Dr. Berry, "if their design is faulty, they can be a problem to both themselves and others. This is one of the reasons why we see so few genetic changes in the process of happening; useful genes have already been incorporated into our mechanism."

Man's relationship with his environment is so finely balanced, he said, that a change in environment is always liable to produce a change in the "pool of genes" to which we have access.

"For example, it is an advantage to carry the gene which causes sickle-cell trait of the red blood corpuscles if you live in a malarial region, because you will have some protection against severe attacks of subtertian malaria."

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) — To help avoid panic in case of a fire, Emerson Hospital uses chimes as an alarm inside the building.

More Calls Answered; but Damage-Cost Less

Seven more fires were battled by Waterford Township firemen last month than in August, according to a report released yesterday.

Township fire fighters responded to 40 fires in September, 23 in August and 28 the previous September.

Last month's total increased to 419 the number of fires responded to by township firemen this year. In comparison, they battled 393 blazes the nine first months of 1965.

However, direct fire damage this year is considerably less than a year ago — $126,330 to $188,875.

Including rescue and emergency runs and other calls, the fire department answered 63 alarms last month, against 55 in August and 46 the previous September.

The first nine months this year, firemen answered 632 alarms compared with 602 the same period in 1965.

Public to View Booster Rocket

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The Marshall Space Flight Center opens its doors to the public for the first time in five years Oct. 15 to allow a look at America's largest booster rocket.

The occasion is "Space Day 1966" and officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration expect thousands of visitors to view the Saturn V booster which is 33 feet in diameter and 138 feet long.

WSU Enrollment

DETROIT (AP)—Preliminary figures indicated Wayne State University's fall enrollment will reach a record of more than 20,000 students, President William R. Keast said Wednesday. He said this is a 6 per cent increase over last fall, with the largest increases in the colleges of law and social work.

Bobby Denies VP or President Bid for 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post today quoted Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as saying he would not run for President or vice president in 1968 "under any foreseeable circumstances."

Kennedy "made it clear that he would not be interested in being President Johnson's running mate even if the President asked him to," the Post article said.

The New York Democrat had said Sept. 1 in an Associated Press interview that he would support Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for reelection in 1968.

Lake Orion Has Quiet Hearing on Proposed Charter

LAKE ORION — About 20 residents of the village showed up last night to take part in a quiet public hearing on Lake Orion's proposed new village charter.

The charter, which provides for a village manager type of government similar to Oxford and Rochester is expected to go to the people at the March election.

Besides requiring a village manager, the charter provides that the council will have complete charge of the budget.

The current governing body which consists of five councilmen and a village president, elected by the people, would give way to a seven-member council with the council electing its own president and president pro tem in what was termed "a truly nonpartisan election."

A new fiscal year would begin July 1 in place of April 1 as has been the practice. The charter gives the council authority to make any necessary interim budget required.

MODERN CHARTER UNGED
Wesley B. Allen, chairman of the charter commission, told the audience gathered in Lake Orion's Youth Center, that a modern charter is needed due to the growing complexities of government.

He said the village needed a full-time paid employee such as a manager to efficiently deal with problems as they arose.

Council Robert Stokes questioned the wide powers of such a manager in regard to hiring and firing of all village personnel with the exception of the clerk and the attorney, who, along with the manager, are to be hired by the council.

Allen affirmed that such wide powers were, as a matter of course, the right of a village manager, but that any employee who felt he was unjustly fired could have recourse to the council.

REFERS TO INCIDENT
Stokes said, "That's what happened two years ago."

He was referring to the powers exercised by then Village President Clarence B. Rossman who attempted to fire attorney Robert Parenti.

Rossman ordered Police Sgt.

Leslie Perkins to remove Parenti from the council table at one session, and when Perkins refused, Rossman later attempted to fire him.

Councilman Stokes said last night he never wanted such a situation as that to happen again.

MILLAGE
Irvine Unger, a former village president and member of the charter commission, replied, "If we have responsible people and give them responsible jobs, those times you're talking about will never come back."

Rep. Robert Slingerling, D-Lake Orion, was present and asked the village to consider going on a 50 per cent assessment basis.

The village now levies 20.5 mills and assesses property at 25 per cent of market value. The new charter provides that millage cannot exceed 20.

Officials said some rearrangement would have to be made and that if assessments are brought up to 50 per cent in line with the state constitution, it will be possible to get operating money at less millage.

'COULD CLEAR CONFUSION'
Allen said if the village went to what it considered a 50 per cent assessment, it still might be at variance with what the state thinks is 50 per cent and still might get an equalization factor other than 1.

Slingerling replied, "It is the hope of state taxing authorities through a series of spotchecks to give each municipal unit an equalization figure of 1 based on a 50 per cent assessment of market value."

He said if Lake Orion complies much of the confusion existing about taxation would be cleared up.

'COULD CLEAR CONFUSION'
The new charter provides that members of a board of review be appointed for one, two and three-year terms.

SCHEDULING PROBLEMS
Allen said previously that such members were appointed about a month before they were due to assume duties and that many found they were not able to arrange their private schedules in order to do the job well.

Village President Wallace Crane complimented the commission on a job well done and said that the small turnout of Lake Orion voters appeared to be a vote of confidence in the commission.

He reported that the commission had agreed to remain on the job once the charter is accepted, and to update and rewrite village ordinances.

"It appears we are well on our way to streamlining the government of the Village of Lake Orion," Crane said.

The charter now goes to Gov. George Romney for his approval and then will hopefully be placed on the ballot next March at the same time as the council election.

Apartment Builder, Officials in Conflict

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP
Township officials are trying to prevent an apartment builder from renting any more apartments until he obtains an occupancy permit.

Township zoning inspector William Taylor said Irving Stollman, builder of the Botsford Place Apartments, has been in violation of the building code by failing to obtain a building inspection.

Taylor said he was also renting apartments without an occupancy permit.

Township Supervisor Curtis Hall said township officials had obtained an injunction to prevent Stollman from renting until he obtained an occupancy permit.

He said he understands now, however, that it has been postponed because Stollman is attempting to correct the violations.

NOT FINISHED
Taylor said the trouble first came to light when tenants complained that the buildings were not finished properly which proved an inconvenience for them.

Taylor said the complaints included such things as sand around the buildings and no control of dust, no air conditioning and water in the basements.

"They were a lot of little petty things that could have been resolved if there had been a building inspection," he said. Taylor said that following an inspection, Stollman was sent several warnings but failed to correct the violations except for putting in some sod.

WAS TRYING

"We sent him a registered letter notifying him of our intention," Taylor said, "and the last time I knew he was trying to correct the violations."

Taylor said there are three buildings in the complex located at Independence and Oxford streets. Two of the buildings, he said, were nearly filled by the time the matter came to his attention.

Troy Church Near Moving Experience
TROY — A new type of moveable building will house Troy's newest Methodist church congregation shortly.

The Planning Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals have approved plans for the unit, similar to a temporary school building, to be installed on church property at 4050 Coolidge.

Rev. Edward Duncan, recently appointed pastor, says that later when the congregation builds its permanent home, the relocatable building will be moved and used to start another church in a different community.

A general meeting of the congregation, as yet unnamed, has been set for 8 p.m. Monday at Harlan School.

Rev. Mr. Duncan came to Troy from New Haven, Conn. He served as minister there for four years while completing his seminary training at the Yale Divinity School in New Haven.

Reader Awards Given in Troy
TROY — Friends of the Troy Public Library recently presented certificates to children who took part in the summer reading program. Sixteen were present to receive awards.

Others who participated may pick up their certificates at the Troy Public Library during regular hours.

Fish Fry Scheduled

old Mensior, 1690 Oldtown, and Mrs. John Schrenk, 2626 W. Long Lake, all of West Bloomfield Township. The program will feature a film entitled "1966, a Decision Year," narrated by Ronald Reagan.

Independence Okays OEO Use of Hall

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The Oakland County Commission of Economic Opportunity has been given space in the Township Hall, 90 N. Main, Clarkston, for use as a substation of the North Oakland Opportunity Center.

The Township Board approved the request at its Tuesday night meeting.

About 25 subcenters are in the offering for Oakland County, according to OCEO. The first is slated to open in Highland Township next Wednesday afternoon.

To be operated on a part-time basis at the outset, the subcenters are geared to serve low-income residents in the outlying areas.

OCEO officials point out that more than 90 per cent of the persons served by the North Oakland Opportunity Center live in the city of Pontiac.

Low-income residents would be screened in the subcenters and would receive services at the North Oakland Opportunity Center, 7 W. Lawrence, Pontiac.

The center offers individual and family counseling, referral for medical and dental care and job placement service.

Township Attorney Paul M.

Mandel has been directed to represent the township's interests in the North Oakland Library Contract System (NOLCS).

Pontiac, the main cog in the organization, has announced its intent to withdraw from the system in which 17 communities financed and shared a 28,000 book collection.

Several of the communities, including Independence Township, had complained they were not receiving the services for which they paid and that they did not have representation in governing NOLCS.

Man-Made Lakes Get New Controls

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has adopted an amendment to its man-made lake ordinance providing for regular water inspection and for a new minimum depth of 12 feet. Previous minimum depth was 10 feet.

A final payment of $13,000 on a total of $131,000 was made to Nielsen & Son of Mount Clemens for installation of water mains and a meter well in connection with the usage of Detroit water in the southern portion of the township, in other action Tuesday.

A request will be made to the Macomb County Road Commission to prevent trucking on 24 Mile Road.

Final approval for Woodland Estates Subdivision plans was delayed until developers designate drainage and public easement areas.

McDonald Guest

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Jack McDonald, Republican nominee for Congress from the 10th district, will be a guest of the Township Republican Club at its Oct. 13 meeting.

Local candidates will also attend the 8 p.m. meeting at the township hall.

'Should Curb Pollution'

Joint Disposal System Viewed

WALLED LAKE — A proposed joint sewage disposal system with the village of Novi should ease the city's problem of water pollution control, City Manager Royce Downey said yesterday.

Walled Lake and Novi are one of three municipalities cited by the State Water Resources Commission for failing to control water pollution.

The city was charged with polluting Walled Lake, Wolverine Lake and Greenway drain and was given until June 1, 1969, to abate the problem.

City officials will meet with the Water Resources Commission on Oct. 27 to discuss the problem.

Walled Lake and Novi are planning a joint treatment plant, trunk line sewer and internal sanitary sewer system to serve residents of Walled Lake and those residents in the northern portion of Novi.

Downey said once this is completed, it should ease the pollution problem.

The city may soon have its third municipal park.

Tuesday night, the City

Council took an option on 11 acres of land in the northern end of the city for a city park.

The land is in the vicinity of Wabasso, Wanda and Quinliff streets.

Downey said it is the only land left in the north end of town of sufficient size for a park.

Long Arguments Remain on Top U.N. Job

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats know from hard experience that weeks of bargaining and compromise — along with possible aggravation of U.S.-Soviet relations — will precede agreement on a successor to Secretary General U Thant.

The list of those mentioned for the post is not promising. Some have been ticked off as unqualified, while others are obviously unacceptable to all the big powers.

That is why the diplomats have been reluctant to begin the search until they are convinced that Thant will not reconsider his decision to step down at the end of the year.

The choice of a secretary general involves a large element of chance, and the question in the minds of many is how long the United Nations can count on getting such men as Thant, Dag Hammarskjöld and Trygve Lie.

OPEN TO ALL

Under the U.N. charter the office of secretary general is open to all. In practice many distinguished leaders are barred by unwritten law, tradition and the threat of a big power veto.

It has been accepted by now that the secretary general must come from a small, nonaligned country and must be acceptable to all the big powers. This narrows the field to those who have either been relatively obscure or who have avoided involvement in major controversies.

This was not so in the beginning. When the United Nations began looking for its first secretary general 21 years ago, one of the first names suggested was that of Dwight D. Eisenhower. Trygve Lie himself suggested Anthony Eden, and he reported later that the British — now Lord Avon — was not averse.

This was in the tradition of the League of Nations, which had both a British and a French secretary general during its first years.

AVOID CHOICE

But a majority of the U.N. members felt that the new organization should avoid the selection of a big power representative. The United States also decided that it would not be right for an American to head the organization since its headquarters was to be located in this country.

As Lie himself tells it, "It was generally agreed that the secretary general should not be an American because this would give too much to a single member nation. The United States itself took the view that an American should not be secretary general."

The big powers decided each would have a representative in the "cabinet" of the secretary general. This was put into practice by Lie, although he felt that this decision encroached on his own authority to select his assistants.

Some of the men eventually selected under this arrangement went on to establish themselves as international figures, although none was ever considered eligible to become head of the United Nations. These included Ralph J. Bunche, who won the Nobel Peace Prize for his work in negotiating the Palestine armistice in 1949; Paul G. Hoffman, head of the U. N. Development program; David Owen, British economist who has been with the United Nations since its beginning; and two top Soviet members of the secretariat, Arkady A. Sobolev and Anatoly Dobrynin. Sobolev later returned as head of the Soviet U. N. Delegation.

Except for the fact that they were representatives of the big powers any one of this group might have been considered a logical choice for the post of secretary general.

The Soviet Union tried in 1961 to give the undersecretaries a bigger role in U.N. affairs after Premier Nikita Khrushchev failed to win support for his famed "troika plan." This envisaged replacing the secretary general by a three-man committee, made up of one Communist representative and one neutral.

It is no wonder the Russians had become unhappy with the role of the secretary general. In London, when the first secretary general was being selected, the Russians put forward the name of the Yugoslav Foreign Minister Stanoje Simic. The United States suggested Lester B. Pearson of Canada. They compromised on Lie, foreign minister in Norway's Labor government. Apparently the Kremlin believed that even though Norway was non-Communist, Lie himself was a Socialist and friendly to the Soviet Union.

Safety Exec Fears Cycle Death Spurt

CHICAGO (UPI) — Motorcycle deaths in the United States "might well total 3,000 a year by 1970" unless an accident-prevention program is started immediately, a National Safety Council official warned today.

Harry Porter Jr., the council's director of traffic safety, said sidesaddle riding and improved vehicle design are among steps that should be taken to reduce motorcycle deaths.

The Manchu dynasty was the last native dynasty to rule China.

Most of them, he says, are country lines bringing farmers

French Railroads Facing Deficit

PARIS (UPI) — For anyone who's ever ridden a New York commuter train, the French railroads look pretty good.

But it's all on the surface. Despite the seeming modernity of the railroads, and the jostling crowds who use them, the state-run network is facing a deficit of 1.6 billion francs ($20 million) — and the deficit is likely to increase.

The head of the SNCF (Société Nationale des Chemins de Fer Français), Roger Gilbert, estimates that 30 per cent of the network's lines are losing money.

Most of them, he says, are country lines bringing farmers to market from wayside stations.

The automobile and the truck have been making steady inroads into their passenger load since World War I and many a train now makes its 25-mile run — with seven stops — at less than one-quarter capacity.

'PRUNING' PLANNED

To redress the balance, Gilbert plans a "pruning" operation to cut away lines which aren't paying their way.

He says it won't be as drastic as the one launched by Britain's state-run railroad network three years ago — possibly because he wants to avoid the furor that broke out there at the time.

When uneconomical branch lines were closed en masse in Britain, there was such a public outcry that Dr. Richard Beeching, "Czar" of British railways and the man responsible, resigned.

Gilbert plans no really drastic measures, but he does intend to close down, by degrees, roughly one-tenth of the lines now open for passenger traffic in France.

This would bring parts of France into the same situation as large sections of the United States, with freight but no passenger service.

Dragons Host Rochester

Homecoming Tilts for Orion, Avon

Chances for a successful up three straight wins. And a 19-11 score at Warren Cousino there is little to stop the Fal before running into high-scoring Homecoming celebration looking into tomorrow's game, the Oct. 30, 1964. remote for Lake Orion and Spartans have won 12 games in Rochester has lost only to Fitz. Avondale. A row. Their last defeat was by gerald in three outings, and tions take on Troy and Avondale ter Nov. 4.

Both are taking on two of the powers in the Oakland A League and both are solid choices to absorb their fourth setback this season.

Lake Orion's Dragons are entertaining the Falcons (2-1) of Rochester, while Avondale is playing host to Warren Fitzgerald the ninth-ranked team in the state in the Class A prep poll.

Rochester owns a 1-1 record in league play and the Falcons have an outside chance of grabbing the loop championship. They may have to fight a dose of overconfidence at Orion.

Other O-A games tomorrow night have Clawson (1-1) at Troy (0-3) and Madison (3-0) at Warren Cousino (2-1).

INJURIES HURT

Avondale went into the season with a fair ball club and a lot of hope. The hope remains, but the club has been riddled by injuries and should be easy prey for Fitzgerald (3-0).

After meeting the Spartans in the Homecoming encounter, Avondale will take to the road for games against Clawson, Rochester and Troy. The team returns home Nov. 4 against Lake Orion.

Avondale dropped a pair of close decisions to Milford and Warren Cousino. Last week, the Yellow Jackets ran into a speedy Madison team and absorbed a 40-13 setback.

Fitzgerald, defending O-A champion, is playing its final season in the league. After this season, Fitzgerald, along with Cousino, will move into the All-Warren League. Utica and Romeo move into the O-A next season.

The Spartans have turned in impressive performances in pil-

Stiff Tests for Groves, Raider '11s'

Two Friday afternoon contests will feature the Northwest Suburban Activities Association gridiron race; while the South-eastern Michigan Association has a full night schedule tomorrow.

Defending Northwest titlist North Farmington will risk its share of the lead against Franklin's potentially dangerous invading eleven.

Birmingham Groves will risk its unblemished loop mark at Oak Park. Both are 3:30 p.m. contests. Detroit Thurston (1-0) will entertain Wayne John Glenn at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

SEMA CLASH

Meanwhile, Southeastern Michigan circuit action will have Ferndale visiting Birmingham Seaholm in the key game. Both opened with wins last week.

The Maples are 3-0 over-all and 14th rated in the weekly Associated Press Class A prep poll. Ferndale is 1-2 but always tough in league play.

Defending champion Royal Oak Kimball will attempt to stay even with the Seaholm-Ferndale winner against Southfield's ambitious Blue Jays. Hazel Park and Berkley will range with each seeking win No. 1.

Cranbrook and Country Day of Birmingham, both independents, have Saturday encounters after impressive victories last Saturday.

Cranbrook will travel to Romulus for a 2 p.m. tilt. Pontiac Central's reserves will go to Country Day for a 10 a.m. game.

Vikings to Visit Pontiac Northern Tomorrow

Waterford Has 1st Home Tilt

Skippers to Unveil
Permanent Seating

Although the football season is going into its fourth week, two Inter-Lakes League schools will be making debuts Friday night. Walled Lake goes on the road for the first time, meeting Pontiac Northern at Wisner Stadium. The Vikings have rolled up three straight wins at home and are rated No. 6 among the state's Class A teams.

Waterford actually will be involved in two firsts. The Skippers play at home for the first time this season and the game against Farmington will be their initial outing in league play.

The Skippers didn't exactly prosper on road. They posted a 1-2 record.

Northern has never defeated Walled Lake in six tries, and the outlook this time isn't too encouraging.

After an impressive 34-0 win over Troy, the Huskies have been unable to generate much offensive steam. The major problem has been lack of consistent passing.

Flint Northwestern and Farmington were able to stack their defenses to control the Huskies on the ground. Meanwhile, both teams found holes in PNH's pass defense and rode this route to victories.

Walled Lake can score either on the ground or in the air and the only problem Coach Dave Smith must combat is the Vikings looking ahead to next week's game at Ann Arbor, one notch above Walled Lake in the ratings.

SKIPPERS SLOWED
Waterford has been hampered by injuries, but Coach John Moffatt feels the Skippers gained valuable experience in last week's loss to East Detroit.

"East Detroit has a good football team, better than a lot of people think," said the Waterford coach. "But we made them work for their touchdowns and we were able to use quite a few players."

Dennis Galbraith, who replaced Steve Rogers at fullback, was named back of the week. Rogers is believed lost for the season with a knee condition. Tackle Steve Main and line-backer Jim Smith were named linemen of the week.

Farmington will use an airborne attack off the spread formation. It has been effective in giving Farmington a 3-0 record. There will be a third debut at the Waterford field. The new pre-cast concrete stands on the home side have been completed and the new press box finished.

Victories Sparse Over Wildcats

Chiefs to Invade BC Handy

Pontiac Central's Chiefs have made the long ride to Bay City a number of times and they have little to show for it. They'll make that ride again tomorrow night, their eighth journey to the north country since 1949. On only one of those trips were they successful.

Bay City Central knocked off the Chiefs with regularity at home from 1951 through 1960. Bay City added another school, Handy, in 1960, and the newcomer has enjoyed moderate success against the Chiefs.

Handy's the foe tomorrow night.

It'll be the sixth meeting between the two squads, a series that Handy leads, 2-1-2.

LONE WIN
PCH's only victory since 1949 at Bay City came in a 7-0 triumph over Handy in 1964.

The Chiefs are solid favorites to win their second one on a Bay City field tomorrow.

Other Saginaw Valley Conference games find Bay City Central, the No. 2 ranked Class A team in the state, at Saginaw Arthur Hill; while Flint Central visits Midland and Flint Northern entertains city rival Southwestern. In a nonconference outing, Saginaw visits Douglas MacArthur.

Victories have been few and far between for Handy's Wildcats.

Their last victory came early in October last year when they blanked Saginaw, 7-0. In their next six games, they lost four and tied two, and they've opened this campaign with three setbacks in a row. PCH owns an unimpressive 1-2 record, but the squad has played

Baseball Group to Make Tour of Viet Nam

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Four top-flight current baseball stars, a member of the Hall of Fame and a well known radio-television announcer will make a tour of Army installations in Viet Nam, Commissioner William D. Eckert announced Wednesday.

They are Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins, Joe Torre and Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves, Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, Ted Williams, famed Boston Red Sox hitter now in the Hall of Fame, and Mel Allen, the radio and television announcer. The group will leave Nov. 1. Eckert said their trip would be in the nature of a visit in contrast to the entertainment tours of Bob Hope and others. The baseball group will visit camps and hospitals and talk informally with American soldiers.

After a couple close losses, they won one, downing Flint Northern's Vikings, 20-18.

Fullback Bernie Williams, a 205-pounder, has been the big gun for the Chiefs. He's scored 12 of Central's 28 points and he gives the team good power and speed up the middle.

The Chiefs haven't shown much in the way of passing to date, but quarterback Lee White can throw the ball. The receiver

While there has been a lack of passing, the Chiefs used the air lanes in defeating Northern last week, the payoff coming on a 10-yard pass from White to Walter Terry and it turned out to be the Chiefs' lone pass completion of the game.

Wings Tumble, 5-1

Hull Sparks Hawks' Win

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Detroit defenseman Gary Bergman prevented a shutout as Chicago defeated the Red Wings 5-1 Wednesday night in a National Hockey League exhibition game.

Bergman fired in the last goal of the contest, midway in the third period.

INJURIES ARM
Chicago's Stan Mikita left the game with an injured arm, the result of an encounter with Detroit's Bob Wall who was penalized for slashing with his stick.

It was the third loss against two victories for the Red Wings. Detroit will play Boston Friday night in London, Ont.

The Wings played without

U. S. Golf Teams Share First Place

GLENEAGLES, Scotland (AP)—Three American teams, sharing the lead in the second round of a professional-amateur four-ball foursome handicap golf tournament, were expected to complete their rounds today on the three courses over which the tourney is being held. Players have been moving from the Kings and Queens courses at Gleneagles to the old course at St. Andrews and, after two rounds, the three U.S. teams each had a 119 aggregate score.

The teams are from Ridge-wood in Danbury, Conn., Saucon Valley in Bethlehem, Pa., and Scioto in Columbus, Ohio. The tournament ends Friday.

Upset Pots Brew in Wayne-Oakland

Upset pots are brewing at Mill-holts will have the favorite's suffered injuries in the last two weeks. The two Wolves' availability is a major factor in the Wolves' chances for win No. 3 over-all.

At Millford, highly regarded Bloomfield Hills is expected to have too much power for the host Redskins' unsteady defense. The Barons have bowled over three opponents and share the W-O lead with West Bloomfield after two league starts.

Kelly Pacing NFL Rushers

Bart Starr Holds First Among Passers

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Kelly, who has taken over for the retired Jimmy Brown as Cleveland fullback, also has replaced Brown as the National Football League's leading rusher.

Kelly gained 134 yards against New York last Sunday and now has 552, that's 23 better than second place Bill Brown of Minnesota, according to NFL statistics released Wednesday.

Green Bay's Bart Starr leads the passers with 37 completions in 88 attempts for 845 yards and six touchdowns. Don Meredith of Dallas is second with 34 completions in 88 attempts for 895 yards and nine TDs.

Bobby Mitchell of Washington has caught 21 passes for 412 yards and four touchdowns. Three players have caught 18.

Final Tryout Set by Area Hockey Team

The Oakland ice hockey entry in the Detroit Metropolitan Junior League will have final tryouts 10 a.m. Saturday at Windsor Wonderland on Schoolcraft east of Southfield Highway.

All boys 16-19 years old are eligible to compete. They should bring their own skates for the tryout.

Coaches Claude McLaughlin and Jim Garrison are arranging for a sponsor and are planning to begin regular practice sessions next week. The league season will begin probably late this month.

Brother Rice Star Paces Grid Scoring

Speedy Greg Pilette of Birmingham Brother Rice continues to set the pace in the heated Oakland County football scoring race.

In sparking Brother Rice to a 3-0 record, Pilette has scored nine touchdowns for 54 points, putting him nine points ahead of Cliff LaFond of Farmington O'Leary of Sorrows.

Jim Gudi of Madison and Dick Kraatz of Bloomfield Hills share third with 36 points.

In the Saginaw Valley Conference race, Kennon Murphy has piled up a two-touchdown lead.

Murphy has chalked up seven touchdowns for 42 points, while Tim Shredler occupies the No. 2 spot with 30.

Powder Puff Derby Drag Races Sunday

Motor City Dragway Sunday afternoon will have two features as the women drivers compete their season on the quarter mile track.

At least 40 women are expected to vie in the Michigan Powder Puff Derby drag race eliminations. Their time trials will begin at 12:30 p.m.

A best three-of-five contest is slated between Troy's Joan Williams in a 1966 Mustang and Highland's Larry Sawall in a 1964 truck powered by Buick engines.

Improving Lions Tuning Up for Rams

In Oakland U. Invitational

Cranbrook Junior Sets Mark

The high school cross-country record at Oakland University didn't last long.

In the Class A competition of the second annual OU Invitational Tuesday, Forrest Jennings of Hazel Park turned in a 10:36 clocking to erase a mark of 10:45 set a year earlier by another Hazel Parker, Ken Leconowitz.

In the Class B-C-D run yesterday, the mark was lowered again, this time by junior Mike Koerner of Cranbrook.

Koerner covered the two-mile layout in 10:22 to spark his teammates to a second place finish in the meet.

"When you see this course, you have to realize that his time was great," said Dick Robinson, meet director and basketball coach at OU.

Detroit St. Anthony won the event with 35 points, followed by Cranbrook, Orchard Lake St. Mary (85), Oxford (90) and Mayville (97).

Trailing Koerner in the individual competition was Gary Powers of St. Anthony, well back at 10:55.

John Lasky, also of St. Anthony, placed third at 11:03, followed by Clare Kreger (11:22).

Avon Runners Suffer Loss

A fourth-place finish by Tim Haney of Avondale prevented Oakland A League opponent Warren Fitzgerald from blanking the Yellow Jackets in cross country Wednesday.

The Spartans, led by Gary Gaisewski's winning 11:27 timing, posted a 17-51 victory. Haney ran an 11:40 effort.

Mistakes Hurt Detroit Squad

Team Takes 'Lead' in Fumbles, Penalties

When you hold runners like Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung to 36 yards rushing — your defense has to be pretty tough.

When you get the best 1-2 running punch of the season with Tom Nowatzke and Amos Marsh picking up a total of 150 yards against a team like the Packers, the Detroit Lions' running game must be improving.

And when the offensive line gives Milt Plum a chance to complete 15 of 24 passes against the Packers, it has to receive special praise after all the criticism it has taken.

"I can't begin to praise our effort enough," said coach Harry Gilmer, who must now bring the Lions "up" for the Sunday game at Tiger Stadium against the big Los Angeles Rams.

After playing their best game of the season and still losing to the Packers 23-14 last Sunday, the task might be difficult for Gilmer.

It was a combination of fumbles, penalties and a defensive lapse in the secondary which ruined the Lions and it would appear they will have to eliminate these mistakes and still play the same type of ball as they did against Green Bay to beat the Rams.

PENALTY FIGURES

Detroit had the uncom- monly large number of penalties — 28 for 310 yards in four games compared to the 14 for 101 yards by the opposition. Same thing in the fumble department.

Detroit has bobbled the ball nine times and lost it on seven of those miscues. The other teams have fumbled eight times, lost the ball on half of them.

In the Rams, the Lions are taking on a rebuilt unit coached by ex-Chicagoan George Allen, who has a 3-1 record. The Lions won both games last season, 20-0 and 21-7 and have lost only once in the last nine meetings.

The all-time scoresheet is close with the Lions winning 20, losing 19 and sharing a 17-17 tie in 1964.

A crowd of 50,000 is forecast with reserved seats still available. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m.

Long Shot Scores on Detroit Track

DETROIT (AP)—Yorgos S., a 177 to one shot, paid a record $135.60 in winning the 2,700 fifth race at the Detroit Race Course in suburban Livonia Wednesday.

The old mark of $347 was paid on Miss Profit on Aug. 29, 1957. Yorgos S. paid $135.60 to place and $42.30 to show. It was his first victory at DRC for the horse, ridden by Walter Hodges, owned by William Schuch and trained by Al Barron.

RECORD TAKE—Fans paid a record total—$57,336—to watch the first game of the World Series between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Baltimore Orioles yesterday in L.A. The paid attendance of 55,941 was not a record. That mark was set when $2,706 paid to watch the fifth game of the Series at Los Angeles in the Coliseum in 1959. Many movie stars were in attendance yesterday.

But They'll Return to See Sandy

Stars All Back Loser as Series Commences

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — You'd have thought it was Academy Award night with nothing but losers among the show business stars who watched their Dodgers lose the opening World Series game 5-2 Wednesday.

By the third inning dapper Cary Grant had shed his coat and necktie and rolled up his sleeves, exhorting the Dodgers to catch the Orioles.

Jerry Lewis sat a few seats away with three cameras, and shot more than 400 pictures of the players in action.

He was assisted by son Gary who refilled the cameras after father completed each roll of film.

Lewis, a late arrival, was told his car was being towed away and sent his chauffeur out to move it.

Frank Sinatra arrived in the second inning, escorting his bride, Mia Farrow. Accompanying the thin singer was his card-playing pal and Chicago Cub manager Leo Durocher, along with Sinatra's daughters Nancy Jr. and Tina.

By the end of the eighth inning with the Orioles leading 5-2, the Sinatra party fled the massacre to beat the traffic.

Rosalind Russell, who thinks of herself as the "10th Dodger," sat in Dodger President Walter O'Malley's box with comedian Danny Kaye.

They stayed until the last out. David Janssen and Barbara Rush sat in their regular season boxes in the Golden Horse shoe dugout section where season box seats for four go for $1,600 a pop.

It was a long, depressing afternoon for the glamour folks, but they'll be back in hopes that Koufax will even the series for their favorite team.

BLAME SELVES

The Dodgers — defending world champions — could only blame themselves for the loss.

They got only one run in third inning after Oriole starter Dave Dave McNally walked the bases loaded and Drabowsky forced in the tally with another walk.

"We didn't cash in," said manager Walter Alton in summing up the game.

Shortstop and captain Maury Wills had a little different slant on it.

"There was just no life on the bench at all," said Wills. "It was dead. I'd have to call it the dullest World Series game I ever played in."

Dodger starter Don Drysdale blamed himself.

"I didn't get the ball where I wanted it," he said. "It was up on both Frank and Brooks — over the plate. You can't make a mistake with those guys."

Frank Robinson, wearing an ear-to-ear grin, was asked how he felt after the game and he said, "great, great, great. The Dodgers didn't show us anything special."

3 Players Slated to Join Chiefs' 11

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs probably will activate veteran Jimmy Hill, kicker Mike Mercer and defensive back Solomon Brannan by Friday night.

Hill, an 11-year veteran of the National Football League, has been working out with the Chiefs since Tuesday. He came out of retirement after corner-back Fred Williamson suffered a dislocated shoulder in last Sunday's Buffalo game.

"Red" Holman, President of the Red Holman Pontiac Company in Wayne, writes: "When a medium of advertising can bring in 71 prospects a week, you've got a winner. That was our experience with our Yellow Pages ad during a 13-week test period. Our ad produced a total of 927 calls. As a result we've doubled the size of our ad. We've come to depend upon the Yellow Pages for real sales action."

Call it striking yellow, striking gold, or what you will. The Yellow Pages again has proved its effectiveness.

"Red" Holman's story is typical. The fact is that 30% of all the people who looked for auto dealers in Michigan during a 12-month period consulted their Yellow Pages before making a selection. 98% of these took action. And it's similar with other businesses.

Make sure your Yellow Pages advertising tells these ready-to-buy prospects enough about you to make them your customers. Call 883-9900 today—Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Bogus Bill Boom Tied to Better Photography, Printing

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there's one thing the Treasury Department dislikes, it's competition in one of its major endeavors — making money. Despite the department's phenomenal success over 101 years in eliminating competition, however, counterfeiting reached record levels during the year which ended June 30 and the heightened pace is continuing.

But the Secret Service, which was created in 1865 to combat widespread counterfeiting, also had some bad news for the makers of phony money. It reported record seizures and arrests for counterfeiting during its last fiscal year.

James J. Rowley, the Secret Service director, said the major factor in the bogus money boom is the improvement in photography and printing which has made it easier and quicker to produce counterfeiters.

And the service added that counterfeiters, in general, are turning out more phony bills per capita than they once did. It's simply a matter of running the presses longer.

"There's no indication that this criminal activity will lessen in the coming year," Rowley said. He added that the rise in counterfeiting generally follows the rise in the society's affluence and the increase in the amount of money in circulation.

At last count on Aug. 31, there was $8.4 billion in paper money in circulation.

Despite improvements in the quality of counterfeiters, they still fall short of Treasury standards — the parchment, for example, on which real money is printed has never been duplicated by counterfeiters.

BLUE AND RED

It's embedded with tiny blue and red ink swirls.

The Secret Service dislikes talking publicly about the techniques it uses to catch counterfeiters, but tipsters and under- find. In this way the service can trace a bill's circulation path.

But occasionally, the Treasury Department itself finds a bogus bill in the worn out money it receives from the Federal Reserve Banks for destruction.

Among the modern tools the Treasury uses are its laboratories where it can examine the minute details of paper, inks — also not duplicated by counterfeiters — and other characteristics peculiar to bogus bills.

The service also set up a close liaison with many printing shops after it discovered some years ago that the hired hands, unbeknown to the boss, were turning out their own bankrolls after hours.

At one time a counterfeiter used a magnifying glass and a graver to etch a bill's design on a steel plate. A skilled man took about six months to prepare a counterfeit plate and print his wares.

But now with high speed cameras, automatic engraving machines and ultrasensitive litho-graphic presses, technicians with limited capability can set up a plant and run off bills in a matter of days. They don't even have to buy their own equipment; in some cases they can lease it.

Dog Ordered Out of Town

Collie Must Leave NY or Be Executed

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete the collie goes into exile today with a one-way ticket — the city's ways of sparing him from a death sentence — fastened to his collar.

Condemned as a three-time loser under New York's two-bite limit, Pete was allowed to skip town after his owner signed an affidavit promising never to bring him back.

The two-year-old collie, described as predatory by the city, was put aboard a plane bound for Raleigh, N.C. He'll be cared for there by Andre, Crump, a relative of Pete's 10-year-old master, Anthony Jones of Elm-hurst, N.Y.

"I'm glad Pete is going to be with someone who loves him and who will take good care of him," Anthony said. "I'm very happy that he is going to stay alive."

LEGAL FIGHT

The dog was involved in a legal controversy that touched on the rights of pets to receive due process of law and a chance to face their accusers.

When Pete was condemned to death as a vicious dog after supposedly biting three people within 24 months, Anthony's father, William, protested. He asked the courts for a stay of execution until he and Pete could confront the neighbors he was said to have nipped.

Jailer Needs a Scorecard

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Jailer Carlos Morales Andrade says so many visitors swarm into the Juarez City Jail it is hard to tell them from the prisoners. He told the Juarez City Council that some of the better dressed inmates pose as visitors and walk out to freedom.

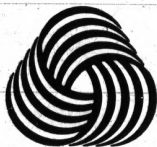

He has recommended that prisoners wear distinctive uniforms.

Road to Open

LANSING (AP) — The final section of the Lansing-to-Jackson Freeway, a seven-mile stretch of U. S. 127 from Mason to 148 at Lansing, will be opened Oct. 14, the Highway Commission said.

A GLOBAL GALLERIA

*A world of fine clothing
by Hart Schaffner & Marx made of the world's best...

Look the world over and you'll find no finer woolens. That's exactly what Hart Schaffner & Marx has done, tailoring premium fabrics into suits and sport coats that are among the handsomest (and best-fitting) in the world. We've assembled this fine clothing in a Global Galleria of the world's best... tailored in fabrics of pure virgin wool. Superb American cloths naturally dominate. And for a particular look and particular touch, HS&M goes abroad to capture new inspiration, and new concepts. Come in today and see the wonderful world of wool in our Global Galleria of fine clothing tailored in America by Hart Schaffner & Marx. All of it bears the wool mark label... mark of the world's best... pure virgin wool.

At right: HS&M OLIVINO SUIT. An authentic Italian inspiration that blends dark olive with wine tones in a fine basket-weave fabric of the world's best... pure virgin wool. Tailored by Hart Schaffner & Marx so the look you buy is the look you keep. $95.00

Flint Hunter Still Missing

EAST TAWAS. (AP) — Searchers for missing hunter Charles Thomas of Flint concentrated Wednesday on an area a mile and a half in each direction from the spot where his car was found.

Thomas, 29, of Flint, a bow and arrow hunter, disappeared Monday near East Tawas. The Wurtsmith Air Force Base is aiding in the search.

Isoco County Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell said there is a possibility that Thomas may have been shot to death and his body buried. O'Farrell said the terrain is being examined for a possible grave.

Thomas' car and raincoat and bow were found. The raincoat and bow appeared to have been struck by gun pellets. Used shotgun shells found nearby were sent to State Police laboratories at East Lansing for examination. A shotgun was found in Thomas' car.

Lodge to Install New Officers

Pontiac Encampment 26, Independent Order of Oddfellows, will install officers at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Lodge Hall, 2024 Pontiac, Pontiac Township.

They are George Singleton, 2412 Pine Lake, Keego Harbor, chief patriarch; Raymond D. Glenn, 385 E. Princeton, senior warden; Melvin Boersma, 1286 Locks, scribe; and Leon Reene, 4460 Midland, Waterford Township, treasurer.

Borrowing OK'd for Construction

LANSING. (AP)—The Public Co. of Ottawa County to borrow Service Commission has authorized $200,000 to finance a construction of the Allendale Telephone plant.
