State GOP Faces Split Over Extremism

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT — Michigan's Republican party — in the throes of an agonizing appraisal on the subject of extremism—appears today to be on the verge of developing a split political personality.

Unless the GOP presidential nominee, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, can reach an understanding with Gov. Romney, the governor is expected to go his separate way in his reelection campaign this fall.

Chances of an agreement coming at a "summit" conference of national Republican leaders are regarded by most observers as slim at best.

Romney made this fairly clear at San Francisco when he told newsmen "there isn't any question in my mind that the way we conduct the Michigan campaign is the way the national campaign ought to be conducted in Michigan."

News Analysis

He said it should be free of hate - peddling and fear-spreading and devoted to issues of the day.

★ ★ ★

Many of Romney's closest advisers are saying privately they cannot see how the national campaign can avoid becoming a dirty, mud-slinging battle involving extremist groups that wallow in bigotry, slander and racial slurs.

The Goldwater organization will set up a campaign headquarters separate from the regular GOP state central operation, but this in itself is not indicative of any split. Most candidates have separate operations.

But the usual close, co-operative liaison between a presidential candidate's camp and the state party headquarters will be missing if Romney disassociates himself from Goldwater.

★ ★ ★

This will not set well with the staunchest Goldwater supporters, who may in retaliation refuse to lift a finger to help

Wallace Out of Presidential Race

Claims Drive Against Rights Is Successful

To Support Candidate Who Is Conservative, States Rights Backer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, confident his anti-civil rights campaign has been successful, withdrew yesterday as an independent presidential candidate.

The governor pulled out officially with an announcement over a nationally televised program.

Wallace said he was withdrawing because his objective has been accomplished. He said: "There is now more states rights talk than in a quarter of a century. I was the instrument of this. My message has been heeded."

He pledged endorsement to no one in advance. To newsmen who asked if his withdrawal meant most of the vote he would have drawn would now go to Republican Barry M. Goldwater, the Alabama governor said only: "Time will tell."

He indicated he would know more after next month's Democratic national convention at Atlantic City, N.J.

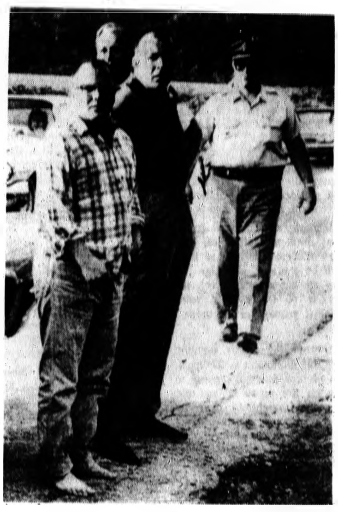

TO EYE VIEWS

Wallace, a Democrat, said he would support the major party candidate who proved to be the more conservative and zealous in supporting the principles of local government, private enterprise and states rights.

KIDNAPED OFFICERS — Berrien Springs officers Terry Hoadley (left) and Burton Cooper (stocking feet) emerged unharmed early today after being kidnaped, stripped and tied up by four armed bandits. All four were arrested in Benton Harbor later today on descriptions furnished by Hoadley.

Negro Mobs, Police Clash by Night as Riots Hit Harlem

NEW YORK (AP) — Missiles rained from roofs, crowds knocked down barricades, fists and knives flashed in the steamy heat, and police guns barked. Harlem was rioting.

While temperatures soared Saturday and Sunday nights in the packed Negro section, police and Negroes locked in surging fights in which one Negro was shot to death. More than 100 persons were injured, including two dozen patrolmen.

Plate glass windows fell in slivers and more than a score of stores were looted. One supermarket lost $2,000 cash, 200 cartons of cigarettes and 50 cases of beer. Every rifle in one pawnshop disappeared.

Included in the loot were cameras, clothing, jewelry and watches.

There were more than 100 arrests.

Tensions had lessened a great deal by today, police said, but they continued their patrol, still wearing steel helmets.

Last night, five civilians were treated at hospitals for gunshot wounds. Twelve patrolmen were injured by flying objects.

Also injured were a white television cameraman and several other newsmen.

SCORE ARRESTED

A score of persons were arrested.

The initial outburst followed protest rallies over the fatal shooting of a Negro boy by a white policeman. The violence left one man shot to death, 132 arrested, and more than 100 injured, including a dozen patrolmen.

The new flare-up followed funeral services Sunday evening for 15-year-old James Powell, slain last Thursday by police Lt. Thomas Gilligan, who said he fired when the boy came at him with a knife.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the Sabbath, Negro leaders, in speeches and in conferences with police and city officials, had demanded Gilligan's arrest.

URGE RESTRAINTS

The Negro leaders—including James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Bayard Rustin, leader of last year's civil rights march on Washington —urged Negroes to stay home last night. Both men were booed at a rally when they called for nonviolence.

Earlier, Farmer charged that some white policemen were frightened, hysterical or trigger-happy during Saturday night's fray.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy said such statements are "in complete contradiction to the facts."

About the time funeral services were under way, bottles and other missiles began crashing in the street. Patrolmen, waving nightsticks, began charging into crowds that poured from behind police barricades.

Guards Thwart Prison Break

Cache of Homemade Weapons Uncovered

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Four maximum security prisoners were thwarted in an attempt to break out of Washtenaw County jail Sunday night when guards uncovered a cache of homemade weapons.

★ ★ ★

One prisoner was subdued after attempting to overpower a guard with a makeshift blackjack, officials said.

Placed in solitary confinement were Stanley Guerin, 25, of Whitmore Lake; James A. Van Auberg, 28, of Webberville; Linnie Gardner, 21, of Inkster; and Joseph N. Killbourne, 21, of Port Huron.

Deputies said the prisoners attempted to lure guards into the cells by creating a ruckus.

Guards were called on to quell three separate disturbances before the prisoners were removed to solitary confinement.

NOT COMING OUT

Guerin refused to leave his cell, shouting: "I'm not coming out. Come in and get me."

As deputies Donald J. Payeur and Duane Troiz entered the cell, Guerin swung a sock weighted with a large block of

IT'S ALL DONE—The Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion and Lula C. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell are ready for the start of the Meadow Brook Music Festival Thursday night. Built at a cost of $300,000, the pavilion will seat 2,000 listeners. On the grassy slopes around the pavilion, there is space for many more music lovers.

First Concert Thursday

Pavilion Complete for Festival

The new $300,000 Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion on Oakland University campus is completed and ready for the first of 12 concerts in the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

Opening night is Thursday at 8:30 when the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will present its beginning program in the outdoor setting.

The Lula C. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell, designed by Christopher Jaffe of Norwalk, Conn., has been "tuned" by the acoustical expert.

Laminated reinforced fiber glass polycylindrical columns are used for walls around the orchestra on the stage.

★ ★ ★

Over the stage and for a short distance in front of it (like an eyebrow) there are multifaceted panels of fiber glass which can be tilted to any angle.

These surfaces help to disperse and balance sound throughout the stage and listening area. They may be adjusted at any time, even during a performance.

SEASON TICKETS

All season tickets for Thursday and Friday night concerts in the $6 and $10 range have been sold.

★ ★ ★

There are still $3 season tickets and individual 75-cent tickets for seats on the grass outside the pavilion.

Tickets for the Saturday night concerts are available in all price ranges.

The weatherman's been playing the same record since Thursday — hot with showers. We've had the heat, but have yet to see the showers.

And, yep, you've guessed it. He's predicted scattered showers again for tonight and tomorrow.

As for temperature, little change is expected. A low of 64 to 72 is forecast for tonight.

It won't be so warm tomorrow, that's if the rains come, however.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday's outlook is fair.

The low mercury reading prior to 8 a.m. today was 71 in downtown Pontiac.

Police Nab 4 in Spree of Crime

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Four young men kidnaped two police officers and another man and robbed at least four gasoline stations in an early morning crime spree today, police said.

The three victims were stripped of their clothing, weapons and a police car and left bound to trees and an old wagon wheel in an orchard just west of Berrien Springs in southwestern Michigan.

Late in the morning, some 50 policemen with drawn guns converged on a nearby Benton Harbor apartment house and took three men into custody.

A fourth was arrested several blocks away.

Berrien Springs auxiliary officer Terry Hoadley, 22, identified the captives as his assailants in one holdup.

IDENTIFY ADULTS

Detective Lt. Ronald Smith identified the adults as James Archibald, 22, (no permanent address); J. B. Daniels, 24, and Clarence McCullough Jr., 22, both of Chicago, plus a 16-year-old from Arkansas.

Smith said two shotguns and two pistols taken from Hoadley and Officer Bert Cooper were recovered in the arrests along with three other handguns.

Cash confiscated in the arrests was not immediately counted.

Berrien County Prosecutor Thomas McCoy said warrants charging three counts of armed robbery and kidnaping were being authorized against the adults in custody.

Officers were led by a tip to the apartment where the prisoners were staying. No shots were fired as officers broke in.

Berrien County Sheriff's deputies freed officer Bert Cooper and part-time officer Terry Hoadley of Berrien Springs from their bounds after Guy Smith, a Berrien Springs service station attendant, untied himself and walked nude to a nearby farmhouse for help.

Hoadley told deputies that he thought "they would have shot us if we'd said the wrong thing."

Rights Funds Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for an additional $13 million to implement the civil rights law. He reminded senators and representatives that the more promptly the law is made effective, "the sooner justice will be provided to all our citizens . . ."

Johnson, in a letter accompanying the budget request to the speaker of the House, added:

"Though some activities can and will be started immediately without additional financing, money is needed to support programs to increase popular understanding of the law, to provide help in coping with the problems caused by its initial impact and to increase the federal government's capacity to enforce it."

The President said he was "sure that the Congress which enacted this charter will wish promptly to provide the funds necessary to implement it."

★ ★ ★

An administration source said today evidence is being gathered by federal authorities to use against those who, in Johnson's words, try to "force, bully and intimidate" Negroes from claiming their constitutional rights.

There have been reports of a resurgence of the Ku Klux Klan in parts of the Deep South.

Johnson, although declining to say whether he specifically had the Klan in mind, told a Saturday news conference at his Texas ranch:

"Some of the factual reports which I read daily have recently given me cause for concern regarding organized violence by small groups who mask their identity.

"I condemn as do most Americans the use of violence and terror by clandestine hate organizations."

POINTED REFERENCE

Johnson's reference to those who "mask their identity" seemed calculated.

Members of the Klan wear white sheets and hoods.

The President flew back to Washington late last night after spending the weekend at his ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

105 Scouts From Area at Jamboree

One hundred and five Pontiac area Boy Scouts left the Pontiac Mall in three buses Wednesday night for Valley Forge, Pa., where they are attending the sixth National Jamboree.

They arrived about 10 a.m. Thursday and immediately started setting up camp.

Press Correspondent Randy Seiss writes that they soon realized how little sleep they had had on the bus trip when they started pitching their tents on the huge campground.

After setting up camp, the boys tried their hand at carpentry, building picnic tables. Some "were the oddest pieces of carpentry you ever saw," Randy writes.

After their first taste of Jamboree cooking, the boys gathered at the Trading Post to indulge in one of their favorite pastimes — trading patches.

"Those patches are like money here," Randy writes. "Three-color patches are worth more than two-color, — like the relationship of a quarter to a dime."

FBI Chief Hits Leniency

Crime Spiral Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 2.5 million serious crimes—four a minute—were reported in 1963 as the national crime rate continued a relentless climb, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

★ ★ ★

The 10 per cent increase and a high percentage of criminal repeaters prompted Director J. Edgar Hoover to renew his call against what he called excessive leniency which tends to "ignore the victim and obscure the right of a free society to equal protection under the law."

Crime has increased five times faster than the national population since 1958, the FBI said in its annual report. Hoover said the cost of crime now is conservatively estimated at $27 billion annually.

In 1963, there was a murder every hour, a forcible rape every 32 minutes and an assault every four minutes.

UP 11 PER CENT

Crimes against property were primarily responsible for the crime rate increase, jumping by 11 per cent.

Murders and rapes mounted by 1 per cent, assaults 6, larceny 13, auto theft 17, burglary 9 and robbery 5.

★ ★ ★

The FBI statistics showed that

—For every 1,000 persons in the United States there were 12 serious crimes and victims and 35 arrests for all types of criminal acts.

HIGHEST IN CITIES

—The arrest rate was highest in cities—42 per 1,000 persons—and lowest in the rural areas at 15 per 1,000 persons. The crime rate increase was highest in suburbia, 13 per cent, compared to 10 per cent in the city and 6 per cent in rural areas.

—The crime increase was sharpest in the northeastern states—13 per cent—and lowest in the north central states at 6 per cent.

—For the 15th consecutive year, law enforcement agencies showed an increase in arrests of juveniles, under 18, who made up 17 per cent of all arrests. The juveniles accounted for 63 per cent of auto theft arrests, 51 per cent of larceny arrests, 50 per cent of burglary arrests, 26 per cent of robbery arrests, 18 per cent of rape arrests and 8 per cent of murder arrests.

—The value of stolen property in 1963 exceeded $785 million. Police recoveries cut the property loss to 46 cents per dollar.

—The year brought 8,500 murders, 91 per cent solved by arrests.

★ ★ ★

For the first time, the FBI began to compile statistics on frequency of crimes committed by repeaters. Of the 56,000 offenders whose criminal fingerprint records were handled in 1963, 75 per cent had been arrested twice or more.

State GOP Faces Split

Romney's gubernatorial campaign.

At the Republican convention, Romney fought hard but unsuccessfully to strengthen the 1964 platform on the matter of extremism and civil rights.

Virtually all observers agree that implementation of the new federal civil rights law will be a major campaign issue on the national level, in view of Goldwater's vote against passage of the measure.

"One of the clouds hanging over this campaign is the question of how much it's going to turn on the views of and the pressures brought to bear by the racist and segregationist elements in this country," said GOP National Committeeman John Martin of Grand Rapids in an interview.

★ ★ ★

"I think the Republican party has to stand squarely on this problem and has to repudiate that kind of thing," Martin said. "It has to make sure this campaign is not conducted with any appeal to elements of that sort.

RIGHTS SITUATION

"The question of extremism is also tied to this civil rights situation because many of these extremist groups are also racist groups. So for that reason our position on extremism was also related to our position on civil rights."

★ ★ ★

Martin said there are extremists in Michigan who want to capitalize on fear and hate and bigotry — and who want to do it through the Republican party.

"We can see what's going on around the country," Martin added. "And it's absolutely vital that this party of ours not be allowed to be tempted by any of the possibilities that some of the extremist groups throw up to suggest that there may be votes to be gained by particular positions of that kind.

★ ★ ★

"We have the situation reasonably under control in Michigan, but they keep trying."

PACKED GALLERIES

Martin was disturbed by the booing and catcalls which reverberated from the packed galleries in San Francisco's Cow Palace the night New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, a Goldwater critic, spoke to the convention.

"This is typical of these groups, that is, a complete intolerance," he said. "They don't want the other point of view expressed."

An appeal to baser emotions is an easy thing to do, Martin believes.

★ ★ ★

"It's a typical demogogical approach which you get in politics in certain periods of our history," he said. "You have to fight it, and if you don't fight it, it takes over."

ROMNEY CAMPAIGN

Martin said Romney wants to conduct a campaign along the lines that he believes are right —and expects the national campaign to be conducted along similar lines. He added:

"But I don't think we're going to accept the business of high level from the candidate and a low level from all these people down the line who are part of the organization.

"We're not going to be a party to something like that."

★ ★ ★

"I don't suspect Goldwater of any double motives on this, but I do know a lot of other people who would be glad to see that kind of thing develop and promoted."

took many of his Southern supporters by surprise. Some expressed disappointment. Others were pleased, saying his action leaves Southern conservatives a clear-cut choice between President Johnson and Goldwater.

Within hours after his appearance in Washington, Wallace returned to Birmingham for a hastily assembled strategy meeting with his slate of unpledged presidential electors.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gov. James Allen, leader of the slate, announced afterwards that the presidential electors "have no intention of delivering the Democratic machinery over to the Republicans."

TO DECIDE LATER

Allen declined to say who the electors might support, and said they would wait until after the Democratic convention to decide.

There are 10 unpledged elector nominees. When they qualified to run they were not required to promise to support a Democrat, but each signed an oath not to vote for a Republican.

They face an opposing slate of Republican elector nominees in the November general election.

Wallace has long contended that unpledged electors could bring the two national parties to a position where they would have to adopt programs more acceptable to the South, particularly on the civil rights issue.

He carried this campaign into the primaries of Indiana, Maryland, and Wisconsin, where he polled a strong vote.

WEEKEND WEDDING — Dr. Samuel Sheppard gets a pat on the cheek as he holds marriage license shortly before his weekend marriage in Chicago to blonde German divorcee Ariane Tebbenjohanns. The pair flies to New York today to await an appeal court decision on Sheppard's request for freedom without bond.

Hopes, Fears Cloud Future for Sheppard

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard, happy in his freedom from prison and his new marriage, faced the future today with hope and fear.

He and his bride of two days, the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns, a German divorcee, made arrangements to fly to New York City. She said they would have interviews there, but she didn't go into detail.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot make any plans," she told a newsman. "We'll stay available. Perhaps by Wednesday Dr. Sam will have to go back to the penitentiary."

But Dr. Sheppard and his attorney, J. Lee Bailey, said they expected the physician to remain out of prison, where he served almost nine years for slaying his first wife, Marilyn, in 1954.

FREED THURSDAY

Sheppard walked out of the penitentiary Thursday on the order of a federal judge who ruled he did not have a fair trial.

The next step in the case will be taken Wednesday. A three-judge panel of the 6th U.S. Court of Appeals will decide whether Sheppard shall remain free on $10,000 bond while the state of Ohio appeals the order which freed him.

Dr. Sheppard, 40, and the 35-year-old blonde he married Saturday dined with friends in their honeymoon hotel Sunday and received telephone calls from others.

He spoke of teaching or doing other nonmedical work until his license to practice medicine is restored. Or, his new wife suggested, he could do administrative work in his family's clinic in Bay Village, Ohio. They plan to live in Rocky River, another community in the Cleveland area.

UNDER SHADOW

While obviously happy, Dr. Sheppard told a reporter he is living "under the shadow of rearrest and retrial."

But he also said: "I do not expect to be sent back to prison."

★ ★ ★

Bailey, Boston attorney who became interested in the case in 1961 and who helped Sheppard gain his freedom, was more positive.

"I'm satisfied beyond any doubt whatsoever that Sam won't go back—at all," he told a reporter.

SUPREME COURT

If a court should order him back behind the bars, Bailey said, "I'll get a staying order from the U.S. Supreme Court."

The new Mrs. Sheppard, who was divorced from the heir to a steel fortune in Dusseldorf in 1957, became interested in the Sheppard case in 1959. She began writing to Sheppard. They met early in 1963 while she was visiting the United States. She came to this country to stay a year ago.

Police Seek Hit-Run Craft

Water Skier Injured on Pontiac Lake

With a list of registered boats on Pontiac Lake Saturday, the Oakland County Sheriff's Office today began a process of elimination in its search for a hit-and-run power craft that severely injured a water skier.

Being sought is a green and white or aqua and white outboard boat that passed over Daniel Fleeger, 21, of 25514 Ivanhoe, Detroit.

Fleeger is in fair condition at Old Grace Hospital, Detroit, with severe injuries to both arms.

The accident occurred shortly after 5 p.m. while Fleeger and a companion, Carleton L. Seyler, also of Detroit, were in the water waiting to be picked up by a friend who had been towing them on skis.

★ ★ ★

Seyler told water deputies that he was about 10 feet from Fleeger when the unidentified craft cut across him.

CONTINUED ON

Seyler told Lt. Donald Kratt, director of the water safety division, that the hit-and-run craft stopped about 100 feet away and then continued on.

★ ★ ★

He was told that two men and two women were in the craft.

★ ★ ★

Deal With Pakistan Is Pleasing to India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An Indian government spokesman expressed pleasure this weekend at a barter deal made at Rawalpindi between India and Pakistan with a value of $17.85 million.

It includes Indian purchase of nearly 100,000 tons of rice in return for coal, spices and railroad equipment in the next year.

linemen arrived. People began getting knocked to the ground.

Robert E. Daly, 45, a news cameraman for the Columbia Broadcasting System, said 25 Negroes attacked him and three cargero crew members while they were taking pictures. Daly, who was hospitalized, said he was beaten with clubs and fists.

John Orris, a New York Times photographer, was punched in the eye by one of a group of Negroes. One bottle struck a Negro police sergeant.

New York's 28,000-man police force was put on 12-hour shifts until further notice because of the explosive situation.

The Negro killed Saturday night was identified through fingerprints as Jay Jenkins, 41, an ex-convict with a record of 10 arrests, police said.

They said he had been standing on the roof of a four-story building hurling bricks.

During the Saturday night battle, police ran out of ammunition and boxloads of shells had to be rushed in.

★ ★ ★

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm, public relations man for the department, blamed the riots on "rowdies."

'SAME PURPOSE'

He said they had the same purpose—looting—and the same excuse—alleged police brutality—as Harlem rioters in 1935 and 1943.

In 1935, one person was killed and 100 injured in a Harlem riot set off by reports that police had beaten a 16-year-old youth.

In 1943, five were killed and 500 injured in riots touched off when a Negro soldier was wounded by a policeman.

The 1943 riot, as on Saturday night, started at the 123rd Street police station.

In the Brownsville slum area of Brooklyn, six persons were shot and a youth hit by acid as long-standing enmity between Negroes and Puerto Ricans in the area boiled over Saturday night.

Police said snipers operating from roofs and behind parked cars accounted for most of those wounded.

Car Crash Forces Amputation of Arm

A Walled Lake man is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after having an arm amputated as a result of an automobile accident yesterday.

Sheriff's deputies said that the victim, Arthur W. LaMontagne, 31, of 1919 Weir was injured when his car left Welch Road near Pontiac Trail, Commerce Township, and overturned. His arm was pinned under the door.

LaMontagne refused to make a statement about the 4:30 p.m. accident to sheriff deputies.

Telegraph Changes Not Forgotten—State

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Local officials are beginning to sound more and more like they're expecting Telegraph Road to be wrapped in red tape and shelved.

★ ★ ★

State Highway Department spokesmen claim it isn't so.

"We have not reneged," S. J. Levine, district traffic engineer, said today.

The highway department is coming through with the safety improvements promised the township at a June 31 meeting —some will just take longer than others, Levine said.

★ ★ ★

"No-left-turn signs are going up now," he noted, "and the work order has been sent to the county road commission to paint the edges of the median with reflectorized paint."

PLAN 87 SIGNS

Some 87 signs were to be installed to prohibit left turns at unprotected crossovers.

Another outcome of the June meeting was a recommendation that Telegraph be widened north of Maple for better transition from three to two lanes for northbound traffic.

The snag in this project came when the cost estimate rose from $5,000-$10,000 to $50,000. The work to widen the road some four feet will require reconstruction of drainage facilities, Levine said.

★ ★ ★

However, he has asked the Lansing office to rush the plans through.

SUMMER HOPE

"We hope to put it into this summer's contract under emergencies and get it done," he said.

All of this is well and good, township officials agree, but they still want to know what's to become of the raised medians they cited as "treacherous."

They have attributed 11 accidents and two traffic fatalities to the strip so far this year.

★ ★ ★

The idea of installing a steel barrier down the center of the strip came up at the June meeting. Highway department spokesmen noted the barrier would cost some $132,000 for the five-mile length of the median.

BARRIER PREFERRED

They preferred the barrier, they said, to removal of the median which was being sought by the township.

The township was promised that a 1,000-foot barrier would be installed north of Maple, according to Supervisor Homer Case.

That project, according to Levine, has to go through the highway department's program committee.

"Until that's resolved, I don't know what will happen with the plate rail," he said.

James T. Bonnett

Service for James T. Bonnett, 88, of 1938 Bradford, Birmingham, will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Kinsey Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Masonic graveside service and burial will follow in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mr. Bonnett, a retired engineer for the General Motors Overseas Corp. and coowner of the Royal Vogue Shops, died Saturday after a long illness.

He was a member of Royal Oak Chapter No. 167, R.A.M.; the Moslem Shrine, Detroit; the Detroit Canistory; and the Alanson Lions Club.

Surviving are his wife, E. Grace; a son, Kenneth H. of Birmingham; and two grandchildren.

Guards Thwart Prison Break

soap at Payeur, the deputies said.

He ducked and the two officers quickly subdued Guerin, they said.

★ ★ ★

During the first disturbance, deputies emptied the cell block which holds prisoners charged or convicted of felonies.

UNCOVER WEAPONS

A search uncovered two spoons filed to sharp points, a long sliver of glass and a coat hanger converted into a pointed weapon.

The prisoners were returned to their cells, but later threw their food trays on the floor.

The four men were quieted but flooded the cell block a half-hour later plugging toilet drains and turning on water in washbowls.

Deputies said they later found a second stocking-type blackjack in Van Aberg's cell.

Deputies said Guerin is accused of beating his 14-month-old son, Steven, to death, and Gardner is being held on first degree murder charges in the shooting of an Inkster woman near Ypsilanti last February. Deputies said Gardner escaped fro mthe jail for about one hour last April.

Boys Break Into Prison

JACKSON (AP) — Two boys broke into Southern Michigan Prison here Sunday night.

It was just curiosity that prompted the move and they were released.

Richard Bramble, 16, and Edward Karr, 17, both of Detroit, told police they hitchhiked from Detroit to Jackson to see the prison.

Guards turned them away at the main gate, so the boys climbed a 10-foot fence, using a tree. They looked around the administration building and then left, but were nabbed at the gate.

9 Drown, 14 Die in Traffic Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Highway accidents and drownings claimed a total of 23 lives in Michigan as thousands of persons flocked to beaches and picnic grounds over the weekend.

Fourteen were killed in traffic mishaps. Nine drowned.

The Associated Press counted the fatalities from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

The victims:

TRAFFIC

Forrest Fleming, 33, of Alma, died Sunday night when his car ran a stop sign in Mason County north of Custer and was struck by another auto, state police said.

VEERED OFF CURVE

Leroy Graves, 27, of Burt in southern Saginaw County, was killed Sunday night when his car veered off a curve and crashed in Tuscola County west of Vassar.

Lois Ann Zachar, 19, of Saginaw, was killed Sunday when her car left Gleaner Road and ran into a ditch in Saginaw County's Swan Creek Township. Jack Batey, 26, of Lowell, was killed Sunday when his car struck a tree at the end of a deadend road in Boston Township of Ionia County.

Chester Krolckowsky, 38, of Detroit, was struck and killed by a car in Detroit Saturday night.

HEAD-ON CRASH

Lonzo Tarvin, 54, of Erie, was killed in a two-car, head-on collision on U.S. 25 near Erie Saturday. State police said Tarvin's car swerved into the other car.

Frank Hickerson Jr., 35, of Toledo, Ohio, died Saturday night in a two-car, head-on collision on U.S. 223 in Woodford Township of Monroe County.

★ ★ ★

Glenn Black, 30, of North Muskegon, a Fifth Army adviser to the Michigan National Guard, was killed Saturday in a two-car collision near Camp Grayling.

Michael D. Mus, 21, of Warren, was killed Saturday when his car ran into a ditch in Warren.

Robert J. Barck, 20, of Southgate, was killed Friday night when his car ran off a street in Allen Park.

Josephine Lopez, 16, and Caroline Decree, 17, both of Detroit, were killed Friday night when their car hit a tree and caught fire in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

John D. Chase, 33, of Fairgrove, was killed Friday night when his car ran off a Tuscola County road and overturned.

Lawrence Deickman, 53, of Stevensville, was struck and killed by a car on old M11 north of Stevensville Friday night.

DROWNINGS

Eli Jaynes, 16, of Toledo, drowned in Deer Lake, Hillsdale County, after diving from a raft Sunday night. His body was recovered.

William T. Donaldson, 14, of Detroit, stepped into a 25-foot-deep hole at Burt Lake near Cheboygan and drowned Sunday night, police said. His body was recovered.

★ ★ ★

Paul Freyberg, 4, of Carleton, drowned Sunday in Skylark Acres, a man-made lake north of Carleton near the Monroe-Wayne County line. His parents said he was swimming with his five brothers and a sister.

Curtis Simmons, 17, of Holland, drowned in Gilligan Lake near Saugatuck Sunday night while swimming. The body was recovered from 15 feet of water.

FELL FROM BOAT

Thomas Prevo, 24, of Alpena, fell from a boat while changing seats and drowned in Hubbard Lake in Alcona County Sunday night. Skin divers sought his body today.

David E. Sarazin, 12, of Lake City, drowned Sunday while swimming in Lake Missaukee near Lake City. The body was recovered in 12 feet of water.

★ ★ ★

Joan E. Dixon, 32, of Flint, drowned Sunday in Saginaw Bay about four miles south of Standish. Police said she was attempting to swim back to a boat after taking a life preserver to her husband, Ira, who was untangling a tow rope used for water skiing.

Thomas Schwanky, 15, of Detroit, drowned in Lake Shannon near Brighton while bathing Saturday.

James Grinnell, 37, of Sylvania, Ohio, drowned in Turk Lake in Montcalm County Saturday while bathing.

Congress Reconvenes, Facing Big Pile of Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress reconvenes today to tackle a mountain of major legislation—much of it highly controversial — in the partisan atmosphere of a between-conventions session of a presidential campaign year.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the Senate majority leader, opened a drive to clear the remainder of President Johnson's "must" program before the Democrats meet at Atlantic City Aug. 24.

* * *

First on the Senate calendar was a bill to ease pay restrictions for federal civilian employment of part-time workers and retired regular military officers, and a measure to increase the pay scales of almost all military personnel.

The House planned only a routine session, putting off all legislative business until Tuesday.

HOT DEBATE

In the month ahead, the Senate faces hot debate on such legislation as the $3.5-billion foreign aid authorization bill, a $962.5-million antipoverty program and other proposals. Under the circumstances, Mansfield offered no guarantee that Congress could finish its work before the Democratic convention.

* * *

But, appealing to colleagues in both parties to hold partisan in-fighting to a minimum, he said it can be done if members of both parties apply themselves with diligence "and leave the political take-off and campaign oratorial flights until later."

If Congress does not finish its work by then, he said, "we will be here in September and on to December if necessary."

One of the first big fights looms on announced efforts by a Democrat—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon—to cut at least $466,700,000 from the $3,468,700,000 foreign aid authorization bill slated for action this week.

President Johnson listed 30 must bills in a news conference June 23. Senate and House, showing unusual speed, already have sent eight of these to the White House.

Both houses have passed four of the other bills and are expected to reach compromises on them sometime this week. These are a $946-million military construction measure and a bill setting allocations for the federal aid to highway programs.

Sanctions on Cuba Endangered in OAS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A proposed list of compromise sanctions against Communist Cuba appeared endangered today because of the political reservations of an increasing number of member nations in the Organization of American States (OAS).

Latin American diplomatic sources said on the eve of the OAS Foreign Ministers Meeting here that at least three nations -- Bolivia, Chile and Uruguay -- have taken a stand alongside Mexico, which last week announced its opposition to any sanctions against Cuba.

At least two more nations—Argentina and Brazil — were reported wavering toward the Mexican position, which is in line with a traditional policy of nonintervention.

Since the sanctions need the approval of 13 of the 19 nations eligible to vote, there was no margin for additional opposition prior to the final decision-making session scheduled Thursday.

Yet other nations, such as Peru, are threatening the carefully planned session by speaking in favor of the sanctions but insisting that they win unanimous approval.

SOLIDARITY GIAL

A show of hemispheric solidarity in condemning the Fidel Castro regime for subversive activity in Latin America was the goal of an OAS committee that drew up the list of proposed economic and diplomatic sanctions.

To increase the possibility of unanimity, the committee compromised the original request by Venezuela and put two of the three direct sanctions in the form of optional recommendations.

The recommended sanctions call for breaking diplomatic relations with the Castro regime and suspending airline connections with Cuba.

A third direct sanction would impose a mandatory, collective trade and shipping embargo on the island.

KEEP RELATIONS

Bolivia, Chile, Mexico and Uruguay are the only nations in the OAS maintaining diplomatic relations with Cuba. Airline flights between Mexico City and Havana are Cuba's only air connections with all of Latin America.

The Venezuelan foreign minister, Ignacio Iribarren Borges, conferred throughout the day yesterday with ministers of nations taking the soft-line against the Castro regime.

He sought to win them over to Venezuela's position to make all sanctions mandatory. Venezuela also wants a collective suspension of all communication ties with Cuba. Iribarren said his nation found the sanctions "unacceptable" as currently written.

* * *

Diplomatic sources said it was doubtful that Venezuela would win its point. They said it was more likely that Venezuela would accept the compromise or even weaker sanctions in order to save the meeting.

HAS NO VOTE

Since Venezuela brought the charges against Cuba and requested the sanction, its delegation has no vote at the meeting. But Venezuela exerted a great deal of influence among the nations taking a hard-line approach to the Castro regime.

Rise Predicted in Lung Cancer for Women

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A cancer research specialist says women smokers who are counting on their sex to protect them from lung cancer will have a big surprise about 13 years from now.

By 1977 there will be as much statistical evidence to incriminate cigarettes as a cause of lung cancer in women as there is to prove the case in men today, says Dr. George E. Moore, director and chief of surgery at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Moore told the Postgraduate Medical Assembly of South Texas Sunday that lung cancer among women is running about 13 years behind cases among men.

Pope Sets Car Trip

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican weekly Osservatore Della Domenica reports Pope Paul VI will motor Aug. 11 to Orvieto, 62 miles north of Rome, to commemorate the 700th anniversary of the institution of the Corpus Christi religious feast. The city will present him a golden chalice.

Pontiac Twp. Party to Mix Duty and Fun

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — "If you can get the kids, the parents will come."

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Township board has decided to put this theory into practice in an attempt to increase the number of registered voters.

And what better way is there to attract children than with a party?

Balloons, hot dogs, pony rides and prizes will be offered all township youngsters at the event to be staged 3-7 p.m. Aug. 1. It will be held on the township hall grounds, 2099 Opdyke.

★ ★ ★

While the children enjoy the fun outside, Township Clerk Mrs. Greta V. Block will be signing up as many of the township's 500 nonregistered voters as she can.

MIX DUTY, PLEASURE

"We want to incorporate a day of fun with civic duty," she said.

"It will be both a registration party and a township get-together."

In addition to encouraging registration, the board will also be urging all those attending to be sure and vote in the primary and general elections.

★ ★ ★

In November 1962, 2,824 were attracted to the polls. The township has a potential electorate of some 4,000.

CANVASS, PROMOTION

Through door-to-door canvassing and nonpartisan promotion the board is seeking to have all township residents attend the affair.

Recreation and refreshments will also be provided for the adults.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Donald Swanson, 1114 Doris.

★ ★ ★

Besides choosing party nominees on the Sept. 1 primary ballot, voters here will also decide two local issues.

★ ★ ★

Proposed will be a half-mill tax to pay for applying chloride to all public gravel roads in the township, and abolishment of the township annual meetings.

NO BULL'S EYE — But this pair didn't do badly when it came to hitting the target with all their arrows at Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See yesterday. Pulling their arrows out are camper Bucky Holden of Birmingham (in foreground) and Roger Doerr of Auburn Heights, who was visiting his brother Dick.

Man Dies of Injuries

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michael Beaton, 22, of Grand Rapids died today at St. Mary's Hospital of injuries suffered Saturday hen the car in which he was riding rolled over several times off a curve on M 21 near the U. S. 31 bypass.

Donkey Ball Game Between 2 Cities

UTICA — Several members of the Utica City Council, Fire Department and Police Department are going to take a break from business for a little horseplay . . . rather, donkey play.

Council voted unanimously to form a team of representative officials to take on their Mount Clemens counterparts in a game of donkey baseball Aug. 22.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the competition, which promises to be filled with laugh-provoking action, will be turned over to the Macomb County Association for Retarded Children.

The game will take place in the Memorial Stadium, Mount Clemens.

Caused Lakeville Search

Little Girl Wasn't Lost

LAKEVILLE—Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, police and several hundred Lakeville residents frantically hunted through dark water and fields for a missing 4-year-old girl Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

The absence of little Kathleen Rumbaugh was first noticed by her sister Lenore, 11, about 6 p.m. In a short time, neighbors, townspeople, police and skin divers were vainly searching the land and lake.

Two-and-a-half hours after the hunt began, Mrs. Ted Rumbaugh, 582 Lakeville, pulled into the driveway of her lake-front home with her young daughter beside her.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rumbaugh, who had been at the laundromat and shopping in Rochester, explained that the child had crept into the car when she heard her mother talking about going into town.

★ ★ ★

Today Lakeville is again a village of summer fun, and a grateful Mrs. Rumbaugh is thanking her friends and neighbors for their aid.

TURTLES AWAY — These three boys are getting last-minute instructions for the final heat of a turtle race yesterday at Oakland County YMCA Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See at Hale. They are Scott McNally of Flushing, whose turtle won the race; Glenn Jackson of Pontiac, whose turtle placed second; and John Poletto of Allen Park. Supervising the race that highlighted Visitors' Day activities was Homer Roberts of Redford, nature counselor.

OK Pay Hikes in Oxford Twp.

Approved by Board for Elected Officials

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — A proposal to hike the pay of the township's elected officials has been given the unanimous approval of the township board.

★ ★ ★

Under terms of a new two-year salary schedule, the supervisor will earn $4,200 annually, an increase of $500.

The township clerk will receive $3,400, up $300, and the treasurer's salary will be hiked from $2,800 to $3,100.

Township trustees will gain a 50 per cent addition, with pay per meeting increased from $10 to $15.

★ ★ ★

Twelve regular meetings of the board are scheduled annually, in addition to special sessions.

OTHER RAISES

Board of review members will get a $2 raise, bringing earnings to $12 per day. The pay of elections inspectors would remain at $20 per day.

Conversion to the new scale is set for April 1, 1965, and is to continue to March 31, 1967, when it will be reviewed.

★ ★ ★

It was necessary to determine a new salary scale this far in advance because of the change in election dates, according to Township Clerk Mrs. Nina Chamberlain.

Roundup Set for Oldsters at Metro Beach

The annual Senior Citizens Roundup will be held at Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair Saturday.

Starting at 10 a.m. there will be competition in shuffleboard and horseshoes, a hole-in-one contest and community singing, with prizes for each event.

Participation in the games is optional, and many people are expected to just come and watch the fun. Card playing will be a popular pastime throughout the day.

Registration will take place at the open-air dance pavilion at the west end of the boardwalk. There is no charge for any of the events.

Last year senior citizens' groups from 18 communities in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties came to the Roundup.

Metropolitan Beach is four miles east of Mt. Clemens.

Tax Renewal to Be Asked

ORION TOWNSHIP — It's difficult to fight fires without financing. So the Orion Township Board is going to ask residents Sept. 1 for continuance of a 1-mill levy to pay for fire protection.

Voted in five years ago, the tax runs out this year. The board is asking for renewal, which will cost taxpayers no additional funds, for an additional five years.

The question will appear on the primary election ballot.

In other forthcoming township business the board has set July 28 as the date for opening bids on furnishings for the new library on M24, across from Buckhorn Lake.

Plan Teen Fun at State Fair

Music Contests Top '64 Feature's Agenda

The spotlight will be on music and fun at the 1964 Teen-Age Fair, which will be a feature of the 115th annual Michigan State Fair, Aug. 28 through Sept. 7.

The $3-million "fair within a fair" is expected to attract more than 200,000 teen-agers. It will spread across three acres adjoining the midway.

Among the musical features of the Teen-Age Fair the:

● A "Nonstop Record Hop," a 114-hour musical marathon sponsored by Capitol Records, with guest appearances by recording stars and audience participation games. Among the prizes—a personal phone conversation with the Beatles.

● A continuous "Battle of the Bands," pitting the area's top rock-and-roll combos against each other.

★ ★ ★

● A daily "Harmony Guitar Hottenanny" for folk music fans.

MISS TEEN PAGEANT

Another highlight will be the Miss Teen U.S.A. Pageant, with girls from throughout the Midwest competing for the Miss Teen Midwest title and a chance to compete in the national finals in Hollywood next spring.

For the girls, summer fashions will be presented four times daily in a musical fashion presented by Crowley-Milner Department Stores.

Movies will feature such subjects as hot-rodding, dragsters and surfing.

★ ★ ★

And car enthusiasts will get to see the $250.00 Turbo-sonic Turbine, the $50,000 Double Bubble Jaguar, and other custom cars.

Two Killed, One Hurt in Michigan Crash

CONKLIN (AP)—Two persons were killed and a third suffered critical injuries today when their car left the road and struck a tree near this northern Ottawa County community.

Sheriff's men identified the victims as John Norton, 36, of Coopersville and his wife, Marian, 37. They were passengers in a car driven by Ronald Jablonski, 29, of Conklin, who was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids.

READY, AIM — And fire 8-year-old Larry Halse of Farmington did as his father, Edward Halse, watches on the rifle range at Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See. Giving young Larry pointers on how to shoot was riflery instructor Bob Paulette of Ferndale. Many fathers tried to outshoot their sons yesterday at the "Y" camp at Hale — but few succeeded.

Schools Budget in Romeo Provides for New Official

ROMEO—The board of education has approved its budget of $1,226,672 for the 1964-65 school year. It includes a $10,000 allotment for a new assistant superintendent.

The school district has operated without an assistant superintendent since 1952. In the intervening period, student enrollment has increased from about 1,400 to 2,600.

Applications for the post are being accepted by Schools Supt. T. C. Filippula. He said there is only one problem involved with the creation of the new position—office space.

He hopes this will be remedied before the new man is hired, and school opens in the fall.

FOUR OTHER JOBS

Filippula also has four other jobs to fill—all teachers—an elementary, a commercial, a high school special education and a visiting teacher.

The new budget, which was adopted with only minor changes, is up $122,971 over last year's spendings which totaled $1,103,701.

It will necessitate a tax hike of just over a half mill, Filippula said.

★ ★ ★

The total tax levy will be 23.72 mills as compared to 23.28 last year. Of this total 18.73 mills are for operation with 4.99 levied for debts.

MAJOR OUTLAY

A major outlay in the new budget is for salary increases for school personnel. Teachers' pay raises account for most of the $85,765 figure.

★ ★ ★

More money also is needed for custodial help. The Custodians' hours were cut from 49 to 44 hours a week, thus requiring more men in this category.

White Lake Twp. to Hear Report on Master Plan

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Planning consultants drafting a master plan for the township will make their first predictions and recommendations about the future of the community tonight.

★ ★ ★

Brandon Rogers and John Haracz of Parkins, Rogers and Associates Inc. of Detroit will present the first report in the second stage of the 2-year program at the 8 p.m. planning commission meeting.

They will discuss the future population estimate and offer suggestions for land use, streets and traffic.

Goldwater Counting on Ike's Support; Makes Campaign Plans

By WALTER R. MEARS

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, counting on an active campaign boost from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, is setting his political counselors to work on battle plans for the race against President Johnson.

Goldwater flies back to Washington and his Senate desk today. Tentative thinking on the Goldwater campaign shapes up this way:

- It is likely to be a series of forays for major addresses with Goldwater based in Washington and Phoenix.

OLD-FASHIONED TRIP

- One old-fashioned whistle-stop stint is in prospect, lasting perhaps a week and covering the interior valley of California.
- Goldwater forces are drafting plans for formation of a citizens committee which would seek to rally Democrats and independent voters to the Goldwater cause.
- In the month ahead, the traveling campaign will consist largely of what one top aide called "a few sorties for special purposes."
- Goldwater, as he did in the California primary campaign, will rely heavily on television to carry his message to the voters. The senator probably will begin recording television appearances early in August.

The Arizona senator obviously was not unhappy about the withdrawal of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace from the presidential race.

Goldwater, who said he had never met the governor, urged that Wallace withdraw.

The conservative senator has made it clear he views the traditionally Democratic South as fertile land for Republican vote-hunting in the campaign ahead.

His formal statement said: "The governor's action was a surprise to me. I have no further comment at this time."

Later he told reporters: "I never gave the Wallace thing too much thought."

On the eve of the convention that nominated him, Goldwater had told Florida Republicans in San Francisco he feared the Wallace campaign could develop into a third party movement.

* * *

Goldwater said he hoped "ultimately in his wisdom—and he (Wallace) has lots of wisdom, he's a capable man—he would see he is adding more chaos to the chaos he says exists and would withdraw."

It Seems to Me . . .

Nomination of Goldwater Is Great Convention Victory

BARRY GOLDWATER really triumphed over his own party's back stage bosses and frantic front men so overwhelming that the control of the GOP may well pass from a self-anointed hierarchy in the East to a heterogeneous group representing the balance of the Nation.

The Pontiac PRESS endorses the GOP ticket of GOLDWATER and MILLER. Their associates are primed and eager to wage a royal battle.

★ ★ ★

The so-called Republican "King Makers" were thrown into confusion and they perpetrated all-out political expediencies; but all of them were soundly trounced, at every turn of the road. In fact, they were reeling and gasping in the wake of a victorious Goldwater who raced along the Glory Trail unattended, unaided and unadorned — by the smoky-room rulers, that is. He had his own cheering section which was tremendously demonstrative. After their devastating defeats, his opponents came around begrudgingly and pledged token support.

★ ★ ★

While many newspapers have favored GOLDWATER, he has drawn steady fire from an amazing number of columnists. Also, the TV commentators have lined up against the Arizona Senator. But his hardy and determined supporters were not one whit deterred. If, anything, it solidified their ranks.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Goldwater whipped everything in sight with the grass-root delegates cheering at every turn. And this wasn't a happening of the moment.

Barry was their boy.

Make no mistake about that.

★ ★ ★

They refused to trade, back away, or "make a deal" with the die-hards who have run the GOP for years. And what's wrong with that? As millions have said: "let's have a clean-cut, out-and-out fight between a real conservative and a real left-wing liberal.

Why not?

Let's tile the lodge.

★ ★ ★

Let's find out whether the bulk of our citizens want free spending, free wheeling, free foreign aid for everyone and a veritable army of eager hands dipping deeply into the political trough — or whether they want a change. Eisenhower didn't vary the ancient shopworn Democratic theme appreciably and neither did John F. Kennedy or Lyndon B. Johnson.

★ ★ ★

BARRY GOLDWATER has a concept of government that is at sharp variance with what we've seen in Washington.

One of the most significant points in all this GOLDWATER triumph lies in the source. It isn't a victory for the far West, the solid South, the industrial Middle West, or rock-bound New England. The demand for this Arizona Senator came from all 50 states. Delegates from coast-to-coast demanded GOLDWATER. He had support everywhere. It was a solid coalition of voices. And the more the ROCKEFELLERS, the SCRANTONS, the LODGES, and, yes, the EISENHOWERS, waved their arms, the more tightly knit became the unwavering loyalty to GOLDWATER.

He's really the overwhelming favorite.

★ ★ ★

And so, one of the most smashing victories in convention history brings a new face, a new picture and a new concept into focus. There isn't an ounce of "me, too" in Barry Goldwater. His GOP opponents were fed and nurtured on a wishy-washy, middle-of-the-road course that traditionally volunteered for that.

This victory was so complete and so overwhelming that the control of the GOP may well pass from a self-anointed hierarchy in the East to a heterogeneous group representing the balance of the Nation.

The Pontiac PRESS endorses the GOP ticket of GOLDWATER and MILLER. Their associates are primed and eager to wage a royal battle.

Why Not Us? . . .

What grudge does the Administration hold against the Middle West?

★ ★ ★

Prime contracts for governmental tests and research activities during 1963 show California received 41% of the total dollars. New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania were awarded 16%. And Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin received a piddling 5%.

★ ★ ★

With the expenditures running into billions, we ask:

"What's wrong with us?"

"Why ignore Michigan?"

We want the jobs, too.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

So We Bid Farewell to San Francisco

David Lawrence Says:

Politicians Are Often Confusing

EN ROUTE FROM SAN FRANCISCO -- The tumult and the shouting are over, but the real battle has just begun.

It isn't simply a debate between two rival candidates for the presidency. It is a struggle, by the use of all manner of communication media and party workers to LAWRENCE make millions of voters believe either that it will be a disaster to elect one nominee or that it means utopia to choose the other.

But things aren't always as political manipulation makes them out to be.

How bewildering, for instance, to watch on the TV all the emotional demonstrations for Gov. Scranton and to hear him say harsh things critical of Sen. Goldwater and of the platform, only to listen to him the next night imploring his own supporters to unite behind the party's nominee.

Then what was all the furor about?

This, it must be said in reply, is politics, and it wouldn't be half as ambiguous or misleading if the American people took the time to read, not just during a convention but through the years in between, the facts about their government and the practices of the politicians.

IMPRESSION OF CONFUSION

Conventions often leave an impression of confusion.

Even the dictionaries do not give satisfactory definitions of the words used in the war of epigrams. Nor can the statements that get the most applause on the stump always be readily understood.

Sen. Goldwater, for instance, said to the convention in his acceptance speech:

"I would remind you that extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. And let me remind you also that moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

★ ★ ★

This could be taken to mean that the Arizona senator was reaffirming the right of our forefathers to revolt against an English king. It could mean that the disorderly demonstrations conducted recently by some of the Negro organizations are defensible because the objective was considered by them to be worthy.

NOT POLITICAL

The two sentences quoted could have been aimed, on the other hand, at those who wanted to insert in the Republican platform a condemnation of "extremism." Sen. Goldwater has since said that he didn't have "political extremism" in mind.

Party conventions are sometimes spectacular, but they do not always reflect the wishes of the people — and yet it is not easy to know what the people want or how they feel.

In sections of the press, moreover, there is too much emotional criticism and not enough objective analysis.

Sen. Goldwater has been portrayed, for instance, as an irresponsible, imprudent and impulsive man.

ACCEPTED AS GOSPEL

He has been thus pictured by some writers and speakers in this country whose viewpoint is accepted as gospel by European editorial writers, and the latter now hysterically predict America is about to go down the drain.

Nor can it be said that an opposition party either here or in Europe always exercises forbearance when it comes to characterizing the incumbent.

So, unfortunately, the coming campaign will be a battle of words -- of invectives and innuendoes, of glowing promises and boastful pledges by both sides.

NEW YORK — Barry Goldwater's challenge to Nelson Rockefeller to define "extremist" raises what could become one of the raging debates of the campaign.

CONSIDINE

Goldwater is an extremist to Nelson Rockefeller. Lyndon Johnson considers fellow Texan Sen. John Towers an extremist, and vice versa.

It promises to be the Quemoy and Matsu of the 1964 campaign, and, like those two, will disappear from the language as soon as the final vote is in.

As for the delegates to the late GOP convention at San Francisco, they're for extremism all the way, judging from the ovation they gave Goldwater's "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice . . . moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Gen. Eisenhower coined the understatement of the election year when he said he isn't quite sure how much help he'll give the Goldwater-Miller ticket.

Ike made comparatively little effort to campaign for the Nixon-Lodge team four years ago, and he liked that combo very much.

He doesn't approve of the Goldwater-Miller ticket.

Being the honest fellow he is, and taking into consideration his boredom with the whole spectrum of politics, I'd say he'll give the team a pat on the back and a hippur, which is a scaled down hip hip hurray!

★ ★ ★

Sen. Thruston Morton, the permanent chairman of the convention, burst a treasured old prejudice this week when he said, near the end of the sixth and final "spontaneous demonstration," that he thought it was time for the people to knock it off.

"You must be very tired," he said: "I've seen the same faces marching past here all day."

We had always marveled at how shrewdly we could identify the allegiance of a banner carrier just by looking at him or her.

If we consider their man a living, breathing cornball, then the demonstrators all look like pure corn.

If we think the candidate is brilliant and deserving, then all his cohorts (no matter how ridiculously they are rigged) look like Rhodes Scholars.

If we think he has Hitlerian overtones, the dearest kid in the snake-dance looks like an embryo SS man.

But Morton found them to be just about all one and the same jerk.

Voice of the People:

Waterford Board Praised for Lake Level Action

Lake levels are dropping. Water is not only a necessity for industry, commerce, and recreation, but is also a vital commodity for survival.

Locally, citizens have been aware of water problems for over 10 years. The continued struggle by them to maintain lake and water tables by seeking assistance from various county and past local boards and officials for the most part has been futile.

★ ★ ★

Recently, the Waterford Township Board reviewed the actions and appeals of the local lake residents, particularly Williams Lake. Positive action was taken to help restore this lake level and preserve the level of neighboring lakes.

Action was also taken to encourage county action on development of plans for lake water preservation of 15 local lakes by stream, dam, and surface water control.

★ ★ ★

The Williams Lake Water Level Committee commends the Waterford Township supervisor for his personal efforts and his board on their foresight and courage in alleviating a pending health problem, restoring property values, and in preventing a once beautiful lake from becoming an unsightly mudhole.

'Attack on Graham Was in Poor Taste'

The remarks the CORE leader made about Billy Graham was in poor taste. Then, after making another derogatory remark —this time about prayer and Mrs. Graham—the CORE leader said the demonstrators were going to stand in silent prayer. Mr. Graham is more sincere in his praying than those who are disobedient in civil affairs and try to get arrested.

Suggests Ways to Check Rising Inflation

The steps which need to be taken to check runaway inflation, applicable to our own country as well as the nations of Europe are:

- Keep wage increases in line with productivity.
- Keep government expenditures in line with Gross National Product.
- Effective use of the tax weapon.

In Germany the emphasis is on capital expansion rather than consumer expansion, the latter of which dominates most European nations at this moment. Germany is exporting capital through purchase of bond issues to both developed and developing countries.

To illustrate this point, we have but to examine the tremendous growth in transportation in Europe. The 1963 rate of production of vehicles was 50 per cent above that of the previous year, and continues at this rate in 1964.

★ ★ ★

More significantly, however, and as a former automobile man, I was impressed by the lack of used car lots and old car graveyards in Europe. I did see a few junk car lots, but not a single used car lot. This means that the majority of cars are still in the hands of the original owners, at least to the extent the new car dealers can handle the volume.

This fact alone gives some indication of the rapidity with which Europe is becoming motorized.

Mural Offensive?

The Arab World

The American public has witnessed an amazing example of Zionist pressure, but this time public sentiment appears to be on the side of the Arabs.

★ ★ ★

Zionist organizations have been claiming that a mural in the Jordanian pavilion at the World's Fair is "offensive" to Israel. Great pressure was exerted to force Jordan to remove the mural. It shows a young Arab refugee boy in the arms of his mother lamenting the loss of his home in Palestine. "Before you go, have a minute more to spare, to hear a word on Palestine, and perhaps to help us right a wrong?" it declares.

★ ★ ★

The mural then adds: "Ever since the birth of Christ and later with the coming of Mohammed, Christians, Jews and Moslems, believers in one God, lived together there in peaceful harmony."

"For centuries it was so, until strangers from abroad . . . began stirring up the people. Neighbors became enemies and fought against each other." The mural finally concludes, "Today, there are a million of us, some like us, but many like my mother, wasting lives in exiled misery waiting to go home."

★ ★ ★

When the Zionist objections were brought to the attention of King Hussein, he said, "About half of the population of Jordan are Palestinian refugees, and the plight of these refugees is an important part of the country's history. I don't see how the picture of a refugee woman and child and the sad story of their flight from their home, could be offensive to anyone." The American public reacted almost the same way as the Jordanian King.

★ ★ ★

"Let's give them the right to state their case," said R. Dean Goodwin, a Baptist minister from Valley Forge, Pa. In other words, the objective American public did not find the mural offensive. On the contrary, they were interested and eager to learn the facts.

The action of the Zionist organizations is nothing more than an attempt to suppress the truth. That nearly one million Arabs have been expelled from their homes by Israeli terror is a fact no one can deny. We agree with the claim that in this case the truth is "offensive," but the right to tell the truth can never be offensive.

Reading on Increase

The Cincinnati Enquirer

There seems to be a widespread impression that books for years were read only by a college-educated minority, and since television reared its beckoning head, by only a shrinking fraction of that educated elite.

The facts to prove or disprove this hypothesis are not easily come by. But a few publishers have tucked return postcards into their first editions, to find out who their readers are. And some market surveys have been made.

★ ★ ★

One study in Chicago indicates that while upper- and middle-class people buy more than their numerical share of books, fully 47 per cent were bought by foremen, skilled and semi-skilled workers, and the like, and 11 per cent were bought by unskilled workers. There just isn't any "book-reading class," if that survey can be trusted.

★ ★ ★

Paperbacks have widened the book-buying public greatly in the last 15 years. But if paperbacks, textbooks, and children's books are all put to one side, and only hardbound adult books of general interest are considered, it is a fact that sales of such books rose by 60 per cent in an eight-year period, while population was rising by less than 20 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Serious general reading is very much on the increase, and is not limited to any single category of people, no matter how broad the category.

Neutralist Laotian Forces Win Strategic Point

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist troops striking to head off a threatened Communist attack have captured the north side of strategic Phou Khoutt Hill, a military spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the three neutralist battalions under the command of Gen. Amkha Soukhavong are meeting stiff Communist resistance on the southern side of the hill.

* * *

He said one battalion of Communist Pathet-Lao and Viet Minh troops from North Viet Nam is defending the southern slopes. The neutralists are trying to push them back across the Nam Ngum River, 12 miles to the south, he said.

* * *

Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist premier, said the assault was launched at dawn Sunday before a Communist buildup could smash the last neutralist stronghold in the Plaine des Jarres area 110 miles north of Vientiane.

EARLIER MESSAGE

Earlier a Defense Ministry communique said the neutralists had taken the village of Na Kho, 2 miles from the hill.

American-supplied T28 fighter-bombers apparently played a big part in the initial neutralist success.

* * *

Phou Koutt is about 6 miles north of Muong Soui, the last neutralist stronghold in the Plaine des Jarres area. Muong Soui straddles Route No. 7, the main east-highway across Laos. Phou Koutt overlooks the road.

Muong Soui has been threatened by a recent buildup of Communist troops. A Communist artillery attack against Muong Soui's advance positions last Thursday was stopped by T28s and artillery, the government said.

DESTROY WEAPONS

The Defense Ministry communique said the neutralists in capturing Na Kho destroyed four 105mm cannons, four 85 mm guns and an antiaircraft weapon, but made no mention of casualties.

* * *

The neutralists have an estimated six battalions or about 3,000 men, in the Muong Soui sector. There was no estimate of Communist strength in the area.

* * *

Phou Koutt Hill has changed hands at least four times in the past two months.

Goldwater Indirectly Aids De Gaulle, Tories

UPI Foreign News Analyst

HOW LONDON SEES IT — London political observers see two major effects in Europe of Sen. Barry Goldwater's Republican presidential nomination.

It is expected to reinforce French President Charles de Gaulle's appeal for a loosening of European ties with the United States and the creation of a European third force.

* * *

British Conservatives, facing an election of their own in the fall, now will put new emphasis on their claim that Britain must retain its own nuclear deterrent, independent of the United States.

Labor has proposed abolishing the British deterrent in favor of relying on U.S. nuclear power.

RED SUMMIT — There will be little public fanfare when Nikita Khrushchev journeys to Poland this week for a meeting with Walter Ulbricht of Communist East Germany, Wladislaw Gomulka of Poland and Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia.

* * *

But it is expected that Khrushchev may outline his next move to read Red China out of the Communist camp.

BERLIN — Whatever may be the results of the Polish summit meeting, Western officials in Berlin expect no serious fireworks there in the immediate future.

* * *

They believe Khrushchev has given orders to keep it quiet in the city.

ROMANIANS TO PARIS — The official visit to Paris by Romanian Premier Ion Maurer later this month is regarded by the French as an important further indication of the weakening of Communist-bloc solidarity.

* * *

The Romanians are aware of this and may try to cash in by asking for French economic aid.

A $200 million loan is being mentioned, but the French, as might be expected, are playing it cagey.

DE GAULLE AND THE LATINS — President de Gaulle will hold another news conference on July 23, and he is expected to use it to give renewed assurances that his one-month grand tour of Latin America in September and October will be purely a goodwill trip and is not intended to undermine United States influence in the area.

* * *

French officials say he purposely will be vague about any offers of additional economic aid because France is not in a position to give out on a large scale.

HAVES AND HAVE-NOTS — Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio's visit to Moscow and the Soviet pledge of military assistance to Indonesia were hailed widely in Jakarta except by the Indonesian Communist party, the third largest in the world outside of a Communist country.

The Indonesian Reds have been leaning over backward to appear neutral in the Sino-Soviet split.

* * *

Privately they have been gratified by Moscow's lavish show of support for Indonesia's crush-Malaysia campaign.

Russia can contribute arms to the campaign. The Red Chinese cannot.

Soviet Editor Is Visiting in W. Germany

DUESSELDORF (AP) — Alexei Adzhubei, editor - in-chief of Izvestia, arrived today and dodged questions about whether he was laying the groundwork for a visit by his father-in-law, Premier Khrushchev, to West Germany.

Adzhubei and his wife, Rada, will be in West Germany for two weeks at the invitation of three newspapers with close contacts to Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democratic party.

Asked about the chance of a Khrushchev visit, Adzhubei told a newsman:

"If I tell you everything right here and now, I might as well take the next plane back."

* * *

Adzhubei told reporters he is interested in seeing the Ruhr Valley, "the economic power of your country." It is his first visit to West Germany, he said.

4 Chicagoans Hurt in Airplane Mishap

WATERVLIET (UPI) — Four members of a vacationing Chicago family were injured slightly yesterday when their plane overshot a runway and nosed over in a gully at Watervliet Airport.

* * *

Joseph Marra, 37, suffered face cuts and bruises. His wife, Eugena, 37, was treated for shock and cuts; their 13-year-old daughter, Christina, suffered back injuries, and another daughter, Mary Ellen, 14, received facial cuts. A son Joseph, 7, was not injured.

* * *

The plane left Chicago's Midwest Airport about 10 a.m. About an hour later, it landed at Watervliet, but the plane's brakes apparently failed and the single-engine craft went off the end of the runway into the gully.

Owner's Son Arrested
Home Wrecked by Party

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 19-year-old Marine was arrested yesterday and charged with keeping a disorderly house after police broke up what they said was a three-day party that caused heavy damage to a $75,000 home.

Daniel Chidester was arrested at his parents' home in the city's Oakland section.

Chidester said 25 persons there at the time were helping clean up.

Police were summoned by Chidester's aunt and uncle who had been asked to look after the house while Chidester's parents were in Europe.

* * *

Officers said 200 to 300 persons had attended the party at various times.

They said the house was littered with bottles and cigarette butts and that damage included a $10,000 rug that was described as ruined.

Paris Vend Machines Readjusted for Coins

PARIS (AP)—Coin vending machines that have been readjusted recently to take the new 50-centime piece instead of the old 50-franc coins of larger size are faced with another change to accommodate an announced third type coin of the same value—10 cents.

Pay telephone users must carry four different types of slugs and coins for different slots.

German Phone Cost Up

BONN (AP)—The West German government, owner of the telephone system, has boosted rates 25 per cent and upward despite administration appeals to hold the line against price increases.

Just What Do We Mean When We Say . . .
"THERE'S MORE TO INSURANCE THAN PROTECTION"
We may be somewhat old-fashioned but for the three generations of our business life we have never deviated from the belief that it is SERVICE which makes insurance protection come alive. Naturally the word and the deed are important to us . . . important to our clients. Selfishly, for us, personal, dedicated, service has paid off handsomely the past fifty years and more . . . and, you can bet a cookie it has paid off for our customers, too. If this way of doing business strikes a responsive chord, call us for any information or council you may want on any type of insurance . . . life . . . home . . . health . . . car . . . accident . . . maring . . . and all forms of business insurance. No obligation, of course.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Seek Ventilation if You Work in Fumes

BRANDSTADT

Q — A few months ago I started using ammonia to clean some woodwork. The fumes nearly nibble me pass out a couple of times. I would get severe pains in my chest when I'd use it. Could inhaling those fumes have damaged my heart?

A — When a person is exposed to a heavy concentration of ammonia fumes as in an industrial accident, severe poisoning can occur.

This is more likely to injure the lungs, liver and kidneys than the heart.

In your case, the worst that could happen would be an irritation of the throat and eyes.

* * *

These effects disappear within a few minutes to a few hours. Whenever you use any kind of cleaner with noxious fumes you should do so on the back porch or by an open window to minimize the concentration in the air you breathe.

Q — For the last three years I have had bleeding from superficial vessels in my bladder. Would aspirin cause this?

* * *

A — If you can be sure the blood is coming from your bladder and not from your kidneys, the cause could be bladder stones, acute cystitis, varicose veins in the bladder, tuberculosis of the bladder or various types of benign or malignant tumor.

* * *

I doubt that aspirin would cause it. The treatment would depend entirely on the underlying cause.

* * *

My doctor says I have fibrocystic disease of the breast. What is this? Will it become cancerous?

A — It is common for women to have an inflammatory enlargement with soreness of the breasts with each menstrual period.

In some women, after several years, this may lead to the formation of nodules and cysts of various sizes in the breasts.

This is fibrocystic disease. Your condition is not necessarily cancerous. In some women, it never becomes cancerous; in many others, it does.

* * *

For this reason, anyone who has this condition should have a biopsy specimen removed and examined microscopically.

You should also have a physical checkup twice a year with this in mind.

When your menstruation ceases at the menopause, your fibrocystic disease will subside.

Q — I have been told that my blood sugar threshold is low. Could you explain what this means?

* * *

A — The threshold is the level at which the sugar in the blood spills over into the urine through the kidneys.

The normal level of sugar in the blood is about 110 milligrams per 100 milliliters of blood.

If as a result of a lowered threshold you have sugar in your urine, you have some degree of diabetes.

This is one of those conditions that can be controlled but not cured.

Williams Urges Aid for Red 'Captives'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A State Department official called Sunday for free people everywhere to support the citizens of Iron Curtain countries in their aspiration for freedom.

Speaking at the sixth observance of Captive Nations Week at nearby Kennywood Park, G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, said:

"No one who knows the world today can deny that men and women behind the Iron Curtain are beginning to reach for greater freedom with some success."

Two Chosen to Reign Over Indian Festival

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—"Mourning Dove" and "Running Deer" are presiding over a Chippewa Indian celebration this week commemorating the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the Indian reservation here.

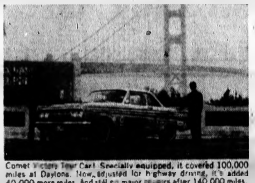

Linda Quigno was given the name "Mourning Dove" after she was chosen "Indian Princess" at a pow wow Saturday, and Alvin Chamberlain was named "Running Deer" after he was chosen "Indian Brave."

Cyprus Pact Is Violated

Armed Factions Won't Remove Troops, Guns

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Greek and Turkish Cypriot forces played an armed game of hide and seek near the threatened Turkish Cypriot village of Temblos today in violation of a U.N. withdrawal agreement.

Greek Cypriot forces pulled back a row of field guns from Temblos Sunday. Canadian U.N. troops patrolling the area had little success, however, in getting the armed Greek and Turkish factions to pull back from the village on the northern seacoast of Cyprus.

* * *

Turkish Cypriot refugees from other areas have swelled the population of Temblos, a no-man's land between the opposing communal forces. Not a shot has been fired but the village has been in a state of crisis for a week.

Across the Kyrenia Mountain range near the Turkish village of Pileri, a Greek Cypriot position fired machine guns at three Canadian U.N. soldiers escorting Turkish shepherds through fields.

A U.N. spokesman said the Canadians fired one shot and the shooting stopped. No injuries were reported.

TRUMP HEAT WAVE — Four young men looking for a place for a cool game of cards in 96-degree heat set up in the middle of Minnehaha Creek near Minneapolis yesterday. Agreeing it was a perfect spot, the four spent the day playing their favorite games.

That's the Ticket

Birthday Suit Beats Heat

DIDCOT, England (UPI) — A naked man, explaining that it was just too hot (73 degrees) to wear clothes, walked into the railway station yesterday and asked for a ticket to Oxford.

Left told him he couldn't go to Oxford like that," said stationmaster Percy Hieatt. "So he got a sheet or two of newspaper out of a little bin, wrapped them around him and sat down on a seat."

Police, alerted by telephone complaints, persuaded the man to put on the shorts and shoes that he had left by the roadside. Then they waved him aboard the train.

"As far as we are concerned, that is the end of the matter," a police spokesman said. "There was no evidence of indecency."

Harlem During Rioting

Longest Mile in Reporter's Life

(EDITOR'S NOTE — UPI correspondent Robert Muller covered the rioting in New York's Harlem last night and early today. In the following dispatch, he tells how he reached his assignment.)

By ROBERT MULLER

NEW YORK (UPI)—I walked a mile through Harlem last night. I was scared.

I was at home just about ready for bed, when the phone rang.

"Get up to Harlem," the editor said.

I got dressed, hailed a cab and asked the driver to take me to the police precinct house at 123rd Street which had been bombarded earlier in the day by rocks, bottles and Molotov cocktails.

"The hell with you, Jack," the driver said, when I told him where I wanted to go. "I'm not going anywhere near there."

I managed to talk him into taking me to a place about a mile from the police station.

ANOTHER TARGET

I got out at 100th Street and 7th Avenue and the steelhelmeted policemen at the barricades there greeted me with: "Hy, there's another target." (Several newsmen had been the victims of pop bottles and beatings during the evening.)

Police informed me that shortly before I got there there had been a gun battle. Their offers to escort me to the station on foot were turned down.

I figured a lope white man would have a better chance.

As I walked, catcalls mounted. Negroes bumped into me in increasing numbers.

* * *

I reached 110th Street.

BRUSHED AGAINST ME

One Negro about 25 brushed against me halfway down the block after I passed 112th Street.

"Hey boy. You one of those reporters we been takin' on?"

"Yes," I said. "I'm going down to relieve one of our people. Want to walk along?"

I had a companion for three blocks.

SHOTS RANG OUT

I reached 115th Street.

Across the street shots rang out. Around the corner came about 20 Negro youths running at breakneck speed.

Behind them about five cops, guns drawn, chased them down the block.

* * *

WAITED FOR LIGHT

I reached 115th Street.

Waiting for the light to change at the intersection another Negro brushed against me.

"What you doing up here?" he asked.

* * *

I walked quickly across the street as the light changed.

I quickened my pace again, almost to a run. Shots rang out in front of me. I couldn't see what was happening because of the blur of people pushing me along who wanted to be in on the developing event.

At 121st Street, a few patrolmen, steel helmets tilted forward, billy clubs in their hands, guns at the ready, walked past me.

I reached 122nd Street. I'm relieved by the sight of about 20 policemen standing in front of 123rd Street which has been barricaded solidly. I walked through the barricades.

* * *

It was the longest mile I ever walked in my life.

First Yemeni Budget Totals $32.8 Million

SANA'A Yemen (AP)—The first annual budget in Yemen's history was announced today. It totals $32,889,000, but does not include $15 million in loans for development projects.

* * *

The Republican government announced a three-month budget last year and extended it for three-month periods. Before the monarchy was ousted in the September 1961 coup, Yemen had no budget. Revenues were deposited in the king's personal safe and expenses were doled out personally by him.

Follow Convention Style

Let President Pick VP in Emergency

By LYLE WILSON
United Press International

The Republicans in their San Francisco convention demonstrated for all citizens how best to deal with the situation created when a president dies and is succeeded by a vice president for whom there is no immediate vice presidential successor.

* * *

That was the situation when President Kennedy was assassinated and that is the situation now.

Lyndon B. Johnson stepped up from vice president to be president.

Next in line to succeed Johnson is Speaker John W. McCormack, a 34 year veteran of the U.S. House of Representatives and now in his 73rd year.

* * *

It is no reflection on the Speaker that the consensus is against his adequacy for the presidency. He is, in fact, inadequate by reason of background, experience and age.

FOR BETTER OR WORSE

Yet, if Lyndon Johnson's once-damaged heart should fatally fail him before next Jan. 20, the Speaker would become president for better or for worse.

Therefore, citizens should attend to the lesson offered them by the Republicans in San Francisco and to be repeated by the Democrats assembled in national convention in Atlantic City.

The lesson is that nominees for president usually select their vice presidential running mates.

* * *

This is a very personal selection. The nominee may seek advice but is not required to do so. He simply names his man and the convention obliges, usually with a unanimous vote.

NOTHING UNFAIR

It follows, therefore, that there would be nothing unfair or in violation of our principles of conduct if a vice president who had succeeded to the presidency should nominate his successor as veep.

The nomination would be submitted to a joint session of Congress for confirmation by majority vote.

There is no practical difference between selecting a vice president in that manner and the convention system of selecting a vice presidential nominee.

There is an urgency about renovating the law on presidential succession.

PRESIDENTIAL CHOICE

Perhaps it would be necessary to amend the Constitution to empower a president and Congress to choose and to elect a vice president.

But the Constitution has been so often and variously amended of late, by opinions of the Supreme Court as well as by the more usual processes, that there should be no pause on that score.

The process by which Sen. Barry Goldwater named his running mate is a perfect model for the repair of the act of presidential succession.

* * *

It does not surely follow that the Democrats will duplicate that process in Atlantic City.

GOSSIPY TALK

Persisting is the gossipy Washington talk that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy wants the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Persisting also is the idle talk that President Johnson does not want any part of Kennedy unless the political situation appears to be such that he cannot win without JFK's brother on the ticket.

These rumors, gossips and reports could mask a really explosive political situation.

* * *

GOOD POLITICIANS

No matter who won that kind of an intraparty battle, both sides in the long run would lose.

* * *

So, since Kennedy is as good if not a better politician than Johnson, it is reasonable to believe that they will use their skills to avoid that kind of trouble.

Negro Official Not for Barry

BOSTON (AP) — Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, a Negro and a Republican, says he will not support GOP presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater unless he disavows many statements.

Brooke said, however, that he would not leave the Republican party or campaign for President Johnson.

Brooke, who holds the highest elective office of any Negro in the nation, told newsmen Sunday night he was particularly upset with Goldwater's declaration that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice." He said Goldwater's acceptance speech "came perilously close to a call to arms for both the radical left and right."

* * *

Brooke, who is seeking reelection, also said he finds "great fault" with the voting record of Rep. William Miller of New York, the GOP vice presidential candidate.

106 Japanese Dead After Heavy Rains

TOKYO (AP)—At least 106 Japanese are dead and 31 missing as a result of disastrous rains which triggered floods and landslides in central and western Japan over the weekend.

Police said at least 24,000 persons were homeless and at least 219 injured.

The rain measured 5 to 13 inches along the coast.

Shimane prefecture, 400 miles west of Tokyo, was hardest hit.

Freighter Captain Describes Seizure of Ship by Reds

PORT SAID, U.A.R. (AP)—The captain of a U.S. freighter which took American grain to the Soviet Union says armed Soviet sailors commandeered his ship in international waters and held it for five hours.

"I was ordered off my own bridge at gunpoint," Capt. Arthur H. Fertig told reporters Sunday after docking here. "We were treated like animals."

* * *

He said the Russians fired warning cannon volleys over his ship, boarded it, confined the crew to quarters and conducted a search.

* * *

The incident occurred last Wednesday outside the Black Sea port of Novorossisk after Fertig refused to pay what he considered an excessive charge for unloading the cargo.

AMERICAN GRAIN

His ship, the tanker Sister Kuniga, had unloaded 32,000 tons of American grain. Fertig said the payment procedure had been guaranteed by a U.S.-Soviet agreement.

The seizure followed 20 tense days which came to a head when Fertig chose to pay stevedores $3 per hour per man for unloading the cargo. The Russians demanded 50 cents a ton.

* * *

Fertig, 44, of Wading River, N.Y., said his ship was halted by Soviet patrol boats outside the harbor and ordered to return to port, but he refused.

* * *

The Russians searched the ship thoroughly, then let her leave after Fertig signed a long-hand statement in Russian which was not translated to him.

BOAT FOR CUBA

Fertig and Chief Officer Daniel Jamieson both said they saw the American wheat they delivered being loaded on a Soviet ship for transport to Cuba.

"We learned from Soviet sailors that the grain was going to Cuba," Jamieson said.

In Washington, the United States announced Friday night it had made an oral protest to the Soviet Union for what it called excessive behavior.

But U.S. authorities conceded that "under international law Soviet authorities may have been within strictly legal rights in the particular circumstances."

SHORTY A 2-Minute Short Story

Copyright 1964 by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

'The Turncoat'

By HERMAN A. TINNER

Catherine Symington was tall, stout, stately. Her pepper-salt hair, coiffeured in a prominent upsweep, suggested queenly dominance.

With head held high, she stiffly strode across her sumptuous living-room peering through a pince-nez at her abstract oil-paintings.

A white-haired, short and frail man, in butler's garb, materialized from nowhere. He inquired in hass voice: "Did you ring, Madam?"

"Yes, Carson. Did my husband go to work this morning?"

* * *

"No, Madam, Mr. Symington didn't go to the bank. He stubbed his toe and is—ah—tieing one on."

'DUE FOR PROMOTION'

"How devastating! He's due for promotion to assistant manager. Now he'll wait another 10 years."

"Begging your pardon, Madam, I hear front door chimes."

"Don't bother, I'll answer it. In the meanwhile, have Mimi prepare lobster-thermidor for lunch."

"Very good, Madam!"

* * *

Marching forward in Sherman tank style, Catherine Symington opened the front door.

STRANGER

Her eyebrows lifted sky-high as she viewed a shabby unshaven stranger whose bony elbows stuck from jacket sleeves.

"Beggars do not approach the front door. They present themselves at the rear," she bellowed.

The shabby man's face pictured complete astonishment as he said, "Why, Kate. Don't you remember me? I'm your long lost brother-in-law, William."

* * *

"For the present, I'll disregard Chester's tragic relationship. You'd better use the rear entrance.

ADDS INSULTS

"If I allow you to enter here, I shall be forced to use strong disinfectants.

* * *

"Regardless, I feel democratic this morning. I'll talk to you on back porch."

William ambled around the house to the back porch where he sat down on a wooden box. Mrs. Symington squished henlike until comfy on a cushioned wicker chair.

"You know, Kate, it's been 20 years since we last met. I've been living in South America."

* * *

"You're the proverbial rolling stone," she grated.

"With a little help, I'll be back on my feet, Kate."

"Refrain from calling me Kate," she snapped. "Familiarity breeds contempt. I'm oozing with the latter. What sort of help do you need?"

"When I see Chester, I'll talk to him."

"Might as well talk to a stone wall. I do my husband's thinking.

* * *

"He's my brother. He'll see me through," said William.

"Not if I have anything to say."

"I only need a few dollars for food and lodging."

VOICE COLD

Her voice was frigid as she said, "No money but I'll give you yesterday's left-overs.

"You may eat on the porch. You can sleep in attic of garage."

William jumped to his feet. Bewilderment covered his face. "I don't get it," he said.

* * *

"You have this mansion, a flock of cars, servants, and Chester has a bank position."

REVEALS PLIGHT

The grey-haired woman seemed to shrink, her shoulders sagged.

"To be truthful," she said in a meek apologetic voice, "we've blocked off the upstairs portion of the house.

"As for the cars and servants, our credit is good."

* * *

"But Chester earns big money at the bank."

"No, he doesn't," she corrected. "Our neighbors aren't aware of our calamity. He receives, as a senior clerk, a school teacher's salary."

WILLIAM SHOCKED

"Heaven above! How deplorable! Chester a mere senior clerk! I dont get it," said William aghast.

"The truth is, he was a vice-president of the bank at $25,000 a year.

"He sponsored the wrong candidate for mayor and the bank board demoted him. Now we are pretenders," she confessed.

* * *

"My butler receives a pension from the army. Now and then he buys me rare tid-bits. My chauffeur does moonlighting and helps out too."

IN DISGUISE

"Kate, I too must confess. I've been misleading you," said William.

"These threadbare clothes are a disguise.

"Actually, I'm extremely wealthy. I don't wish to repeat an old cliche, but the rich get richer and the poor get poorer."

* * *

His hand flew to his inner jacket pocket, withdrawing a slip of paper which he handed to Catherine Symington.

'GIFT FROM HEART'

"It's not nonsense but a gift from the heart," he said. "This check will pay all your debts and keep you and Chester in grand style for the rest of your lives."

The elderly woman accepted the check, eyed its amount, gasped, and screamed wildly.

"You beast! You must take me for an imbecile.

"As you know, I am penniless and live in a fool's paradise.

* * *

"I feast on dreams of grandeur and receive the deepest devotion, respect and sympathy from those who surround me."

She tore the check to shreds and added, "And that's the way I like it."

Politics Hasn't Changed Him

Past Is Key to Barry Personality, Credo

By ROB WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A friend once said of Barry Goldwater: "He does everything the hard way. In baseball he even batted emshanded."

Politics didn't change. Goldwater.

* * *

After his election to the Senate in 1952 it didn't take him long to raise the nation's blood pressure.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, said publicly: "Goldwater is the nation's No. 1 political fanatic, labor baiter and peddler of class hatred."

MILITARY COMMANDER

A high-ranking military commander once said privately: "Barry Goldwater may be the only man who can lead this nation out of the mess in which it is trapped."

Before he had completed his first Senate term, Goldwater had become the recognized leader of the conservative cause.

He is 6 feet, weighs an unchanging 185, has curly salt-and-pepper hair, a jutting jaw and an outdoorman's tan.

He has expensive tastes, as proven by his home atop a hill overlooking Phoenix, equipped with electronic gadgets.

PUSH-BUTTON GADGETS

Next to his desk is a VHF radio that provides weather reports. He can press a button and a movie screen rolls down from the ceiling of the study. His lawn-sprinkling system is electronically operated and the sound of a miniature waterfall in his garden is piped over his hi-fi system. One bathroom is papered with snapshots taken by the senator.

How was this man created? The past holds some answers.

* * *

His grandfather, Michael Goldwasser, one of 22 children, escaped the horrors of the ghettos and oppressive anti-Semitic laws of his native Konin, Poland, in 1848.

His travels carried him to Paris, to England, to New York and finally to the gold fields of California. He prospected the streams and the mountains until he opened a saloon, a venture that ultimately resulted in the Goldwater department store empire of Arizona. Big Mike believed anyone could be a success in the United States if he had guts and a willingness to work.

HAD TUBERCULOSIS

Barry Goldwater's mother came to Arizona from Illinois in 1909 at the age of 25 with a doctor's word still fresh in her mind: She had tuberculosis and only six months to live. At the age of 89, Josephine Goldwater watched her son nominated as Republican presidential candidate Wednesday night.

She often told her son: "Don't enter a race you can't win. If you lose don't tell me about it."

INDIAN SCHOOL

From the time Barry was a toddler, his mother took him with brother Bob and sister Carolyn to the U.S. Indian school some two miles from the old family home in Phoenix. They made the trip daily, in rain, wind or scorching Arizona heat. They went to see the flag ceremonies. Barry would stand at attention as Old Glory slid down the flagpole and hold that position until the last strains of the Star Spangled Banner.

Barry's Uncle Mike, a Democrat and a political conservative, schooled his nephew in the ways of politics. And he told him repeatedly that if a man's belief in an issue was firm and honest, he should stay with it no matter what the odds, nor how heavy the criticism.

From the grandfather, the uncle and mother came the shaping of an Arizona senator.

FINAL TOUCHES

On an April morning in 1957, Goldwater refused a luncheon invitation from President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Goldwater was putting the final touches on a speech blasting the GOP administration when the President called with the invitation. Goldwater decided it wouldn't be fair to dine with the President, then blast him verbally on the senate floor.

* * *

That day Goldwater said, "It is disillusioning to see the Republican party plunging headlong into the same dismal state experienced by the traditional democratic principles of Jefferson and Jackson during the days of the New Deal and Fair Deal.

"To hear a president tell us, as Mr. Eisenhower told the Washington Conference of the Advertising Council, that we must educate Americans to a need for federal aid to domestic schools, welfare, and health programs astounds me. Mr. President, every item in the federal budget can, and must, be reduced."

OWN ROUTE

From then, Barry Goldwater traveled his own route, a road of conservatism that steadily attracted new followers.

The senator returned to his home state in 1958 to seek re-election. Again he faced ex-Governor Ernest McFarland. Again the polls predicted a Goldwater defeat.

This time Goldwater won by 43,000 votes, compared to his narrow 7,000 vote victory of six years before.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE PLANETS

QUESTION: Is there a possibility that a planet exists beyond Pluto?

* * *

ANSWER: Astronomers whom we consulted about this interesting question tell us that there is such a possibility — that it is even a probability.

Pluto was discovered because something was causing deviations in the orbits of the planets Uranus and Neptune. Photographs showed a tiny dot moving past the fixed stars (upper left) and astronomers realized a new planet had been found, which was named Pluto.

Yet, say the astronomers, Pluto does not seem large enough to explain fully the deviations in the orbits of Neptune and Uranus.

That is why they suspect there may be still another planet beyond Pluto. But it may be so far out as to be impossible to find.

If we can't show you a planet beyond Pluto, we can tell of objects which you could see and touch which scientists think have come from the bitterly cold and lonely region beyond Pluto.

They think there is a kind of enormous shell of material left over after the planets were formed, and that this extends from beyond the outermost planet to an enormous distance in space.

They think comets come from material in this slowly rotating shell. Fragments from these comets are thought to be the meteors, some of which, as meteorites, have survived the fall to earth and may be seen in certain musums.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Halley's comet, the magnificent one in the picture, will be seen again about 1986. Then why did we put such funnylooking costumes on the children? Try to guess the explanation. The costumes are like those worn in 1911, when Halley's comet was last seen.

Big Waves Still Pound West Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Big waves and riptides continued their assault on California beaches for the ninth straight day. At least four persons are believed to have drowned in the heavy surf.

Lifeguards rescued 335 swimmers as an estimated one million persons swarmed the beaches yesterday. The rescues total 2,400 since July 11.

Red danger flags snapped in the breeze and lifeguards shouted warnings at swimmers through loudspeakers.

"The waves are averaging five to six feet," said Newport lifeguard chief Robert Reed, whose men have rescued 975 persons.

"They come in sets of three to seven waves, and draw swimmers straight out from the shore."

TROPICAL STORMS

Weathermen say the big waves might be caused by two tropical storms off the Mexican coast and may continue for at least two more days.

Southern California's surfers are riding the big waves with gusto.

"The surfers know the waves and the currents," said a lifeguard. "And they're nearly all strong swimmers. We're not worried about them."

Cuba Charges U.S. in Fatal Shooting

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban sentry was shot and killed Sunday by shots fired from a guard post at the U.S. naval base, Guantanamo Bay, Havana radio charged today.

Ramon Lopez Pena, 19, was struck by two of six shots, the Miami-monitored newscast said. Although the Cuban government repeatedly has claimed U.S. guards shoot at, and sometimes wound, Cuban guards along the border, this was the first reported death.

Mediators Call Talks in Strike of 2 Detroit Papers

DETROIT (AP) — Mediators called a negotiations session today in the strike that has closed Detroit's two daily newspapers since last Tuesday.

The printing pressmen, one of two striking unions, were to meet with publishers. The scheduled talks were the first since last Wednesday's with the plate and paper handlers, the other striking union. New contract terms are in dispute.

Negotiations were revived after intercession by the Inter-union Council of Unions in the newspaper industry. The council includes all unions whose members work at the struck Detroit News and Free Press.

Area Couple Sees World With International Guests

Pontiac Press Photo

Mrs. Russell R. Grinnell, Hatchery Road (left) was hostess Saturday at a delayed wedding reception and bon voyage party for Mr. and Mrs. Sikan Zaman, Pakistani students at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Zaman is the Grinnells' adopted daughter while she is in Ann Arbor under the Experiment in International Living program. The young couple is leaving for a year in Paris.

By MIRIAM NEAL

Instead of going to Pakistan, Mr. and Mrs. Russell R. Grinnell of Hatchery Road had Pakistan come to them.

Admittedly, she is a small version of Pakistan—only 5' 3" and what the fashion world calls "petite."

* * *

But she is, nevertheless, Pakistan. She has the deep brown eyes sparkling with humor. Her excellent English is touched by the habits of her native tongue, Urdu, and clipped by the influence of the British. She wears the modest woman's garb of a sari or a shalwar kameez (long blouse worn over wide trousers.)

WELL EDUCATED

She is also uniquely Aquila Ali, 25. From Lahore in the northwest part of West Pakistan near the Indian border, Aquila has three degrees to her credit—a B.A. from a college in Peshawar, a master's degree in English from Punjab University and an LL.B. degree from Punjab.

And she came to America for more education.

She came under the auspices of the Experiment in International Living to study at the University of Michigan.

While here, she was to have at least a month's stay with an American family under the experiment's homestay project.

So on a Thursday late last August, Mrs. Grinnell became Aquila Ali's "mother," at what turned out to be one of the most important periods in Aquila's life.

Aquila Ali acquired more than a family and education.

WEDDING BELLS

On April 9 in Ann Arbor, she acquired a husband. She had traveled approximately 10,000 miles to the United States to marry a man who usually lives 650 miles from her home city.

Sikan Zaman, 27, is from Karachi in West Pakistan. Karachi is located on the coast of the Asian Sea, southeast of Lahore.

* * *

He is a scientific officer in the Pakistan Atomic Energy Commission.

His studies at the University were sponsored jointly by his native country's atomic energy commission and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration of this country.

TO PARIS

The young couple are leaving Ann Arbor on Tuesday for New York. Later this month they will go to Paris for a year where Sikan will do further study on space aeronautics.

Mrs. Grinnell found out about the marriage by letter. Before that she didn't "have any idea anything serious was going on."

She did know however that young men were attracted to Aquila.

* * *

The Grinnells received Aquila's letter of introduction last July and she arrived at Willow Run Airport the day she was supposed to register at the U of M.

Using whirwind tactics Mrs. Grinnell whisked Aquila to Ann Arbor. Got her out of usual orientation program and took her on a trip through northern Michigan and Canada accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chalk.

The next time they could get together was last Thanksgiving when Aquila brought "home" another experimenter, a gentleman from Paris.

SEVERAL VISITS

During the winter, Aquila spent several weekends with the Grinnells and on several occasions they visited her in Ann Arbor.

* * *

On Saturday the Grinnells held a "wedding" reception for Mr. and Mrs. Zaman who were married in a civil ceremony. It turned out to be a bon voyage party as well.

Cohosts for the affair are the Mr. and Mrs. Chalk and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Van Camp of Romeo.

* * *

The homestay project is only one of many programs sponsored by the Experiment in International Living. Since 1932 it has been engaged in an educational exchange designed to develop mutual respect about the people of the world.

CROSS CULTURAL

Its main purpose is to provide an intensive cross-cultural experience for each participant.

"With it Mrs. Grinnell says, you get the benefits of travel while staying home." She adds that it provides "person-to-person contact important to understanding and world peace."

International Guests

Mrs. Russell Grinnell is the Experiment in International Living's homestay project chairman for this area.

She first became interested in the experiment through a friend of hers in Detroit with whom she had worked in the state's youth hostel program.

Her first 'child' was Karl Hunz Gruber, a 20-year-old Austrian who was here in 1962. Since his return to Austria, he won a national contest for interpreters for the 1964 Winter Olympics.

Mrs. Grinnell is also involved in a hospitality program for foreign visitors.

Based in Detroit, the program is open to any who would like to entertain visitors from other countries during their trips to the Detroit area.

Local Women Attend National Convention

Mrs. Raymond L. Cole, president of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club, is a delegate this week to the national convention in Detroit.

More than 4,000 members are in attendance at this annual meeting. The 176,000 member Federation is organized in 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

MARGARET SMITH

Opening speaker at the convention Sunday evening was Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, a past president of the Maine Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Sen. Smith was introduced by a past national Federation president, Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, Texas.

Virginia R. Allen, national president of the Federation, a native of Detroit and executive vice president of the Cahalan Drug Stores, Inc., will preside at the five-day convention.

The agenda includes business meetings, workshops, training sessions, all aimed at the accomplishment of Federation objectives. Final item of business on the agenda is the election of the national officers for 1964-65.

* * *

Emphasizing the Federation theme "Responsibility of Full Partnership," outstanding leaders from across the country are scheduled to address the Convention.

Speakers on the program include Mrs. Esther Peterson, assistant secretary of labor and special assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs, and Mrs. Mary Keyserling, director of the women's bureau, Department of Labor.

ATTENDING

Others from the Pontiac area who will participate in the meetings are Mrs. E. C. Carlson, Rosamond Haeberle, Mrs. Lucinda Wyckoff, Mabel Smith and Helen Kinney.

Completing the list are Mrs. G. A. Flessland, Mrs. Eva Clark, Mrs. Paul Hammond and Vera Bassett.

Program Given

The Insurance Women of Pontiac were guests of the Consumers Power Company at a recent meeting.

Barbara Zimmerman and Harriet Cannon, home service advisers at Consumers Power, showed color slides and spoke on kitchen planning.

Julie Ann George Has Gay Round of Parties

An evening party Thursday in the Juniper Lane home of the Thomas J. Petersons will conclude a gay round of entertaining for Julie Ann George.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. George of Bloomfield Hills, Julie will wed Glenn Allen Pope Jr., Saturday, at Kirk in the Hills.

* * *

In Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Glenn S. Glass and Mrs. Carleton A. Smith gave a recent tabletop shower and tea for Miss George.

Mrs. Lloyd Sherwood and daughter Ann, were hostesses at a luncheon and linen shower.

ALPHA PHIS

The bride - elect's Alpha Phi sorority sisters from Northwestern University honored her at a luncheon and kitchen shower, given by Elizabeth Burroughs of Birmingham, in Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. H. S. Stevenson of Mt. Clemens gave a luncheon-shower and Mrs. Arthur Warner Jr. of Flint was hostess at a luncheon and recipe shower Friday in Dearborn Inn.

* * *

The bridegroom's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Pope of Sacramento, Calif. will be hosts at the rehearsal dinner, Friday in the Detroit Athletic Club.

Mrs. Thomas E. Walsh Jr. (Laurel Kimbrough) of Bergenfield, N.J. will entertain the bridal party at brunch on Saturday in the home of her parents, the E. Price Kimbroughs in Bloomfield Hills.

Wisner Home Toured by Group

Chapter 34, Oakland County Gold Star Mothers, met Friday evening at the Waldron Hotel with Mrs. Eva Welch. The group then visited the Moses Wisner home.

* * *

Mrs. Welch has just returned from a tour of England, France and Germany. While in Germany, she visited her army son and his family.

No More Mildew

A thin coat of wax applied to the soles and uppers of shoes will keep mildew from forming upon them when they are stored from one season to another.

Auxiliary 49 Has Meeting

Oakland County Auxiliary 49, Veterans of World War I met Sunday in the American Legion Hall on Auburn Avenue.

A report on the state convention in Grand Rapids was given. Mrs. George Ault of Milford was installed as president of District 5 and Lucile Gries, Milford, was appointed State Legislative Chairman.

Worn-Out Welcome

House Is Not His Home

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How does a father tell his daughter's fiance that he hangs around her house entirely too much?

He comes over here even when he knows our daughter isn't home.

ABBY

The young man has an apartment of his own, but he has started coming here straight from work every afternoon.

My wife has her routine housework to do and she doesn't feel comfortable going about it with him in the house.

He's a good-hearted fellow, and we don't want to hurt his feelings, but we don't think we should have to entertain him when our daughter isn't home.

So how do we tell him?

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Either the young man has been made to feel that he is welcome any time, or he is taking too much for granted.

In any case, he should be set straight. And your daughter is the one who should do it.

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I entrusted an important letter and some valuable literary material to a friend of mine, who promised that he would type them up for me.

Every time I ask him for the material he makes some excuse. I have written letters to him asking him to return my material, typed up or not, but he ignores my letters.

Can I accuse him of stealing them and have him arrested?

I would like to teach him a lesson.

"N"

DEAR "N": Don't make any charges against anyone without first consulting some legal counsel lest you find yourself in even more serious trouble than you hope to get your friend.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell what's-her-name not to be too concerned about "canned music" in a business place — at least she can walk away from that.

How would she like to be blessed with a whistling neighbor who hangs his "canned music" on a contraption in his back yard every weekend while he gardens from sunrise to sunset?

After five years of this, we have put our house on the market and hope that it is raining or he has laryngitis when a prospective buyer comes.

Why don't people who are hard-of-hearing get a pocket radio with a hearing piece instead of entertaining the whole neighborhood with baseball games or beatnik music?

Tell Suzibell that if she can WALK AWAY from "canned music" she is indeed very lucky — we can't.

Seldom See Girl Curtsy Nowadays

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: When I was a little girl I was taught to curtsy when greeting my parents' guests.

This was one of the things that every well brought up child was trained to do. One seldom sees this in the present day.

I think it is a charming custom and would like to teach my young daughter to curtsy but don't want to do so if it is an outmoded custom. May I have your opinion on this?

* * *

A: While it is still perfectly proper for a little girl to curtsy when greeting and leaving her parents' friends, it is seldom done today outside of dancing school.

In the present day, most little girls merely shake hands politely.

Q: I am a woman in the early 30s and am confused about handshaking. Will you please tell me just when a woman is supposed to offer her hand?

A: When you are hostess, you must shake hands with every guest, man or woman, whom you have invited to a party.

When you yourself are a guest, you shake hands with your host and hostess when greeting and leaving them.

You also shake hands with a friend whom you haven't seen in a long time.

When you are introduced, you offer your hand or not as you choose, but should anyone extend his or her hand to you, you must, of course, take it.

Q: When a husband and wife attend a church wedding together, how are they properly seated?

Do they walk up the aisle together preceded by the usher, or does the wife take the usher's arm and her husband follow behind them?

* * *

A: The wife takes the usher's arm and her husband follows them.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Table Rules of Importance," describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods.

Insure Your Wife— She's Valuable, Too!

Losing your wife, through tragic death, could be the most expensive thing that ever happened to you.

Most American husbands give little thought to being a widower since statistics seem to favor the longevity of wives. Since the men generally are the breadwinners, and wives are heirs to all they possess, life insurance coverage on wives usually is nominal.

Yet there are at least ten solid reasons for insuring your wife's life, according to Alfred B. Hastings, Jr. with Massachusetts Mutual in San Marino, Calif.

- Pay final expenses in the event of your wife's death which average $5,000.
- Pay increased estate taxes which may result if your wife dies first with the resulting loss of the marital deduction from federal estate taxes.
- Pay increased income taxes resulting from your return to single status.
- Pay the cost of a housekeeper if there are young children.
- Protect equity in a business in which the wife owns stock.
- Plan to convert wife's insurance in later years to income if she lives.
- Insure the wife when the husband is uninsurable for the potential savings.
- Provide for favorite charities through wife insurance.
- Supplement your own retirement income through the use of options in your wife's policy.
- Use joint ordinary life coverage on your wife to pay off the mortgage of your home in the event of the death of either mate.

Wedding Bells for Area Couples

Barr - Edwards

A reception in the Rochester Elks Temple followed the vows of Carol Ann Edwards to Calvin Grant Barr, Saturday, in the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Edwards of Oakmont Avenue, the bride appeared in a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta.

SEQUIN TRIM

Iridescent sequins accented the bateau neckline and the double crown which held her shoulder-length tulle veil. She carried white orchids, roses and ivy.

* * *

With honor attendant Mrs. Stanley Watkins, were the bridesmaids Florence Kitchen of Alba, Cheryl Hall and Janet Crocker.

The bridegroom, son of the Calvin C. Barrs of Devondale Street, Avon Township, had Stanley Watkins for best man. Danny Reagan, Russell Godin and Joseph Hammond seated the guests.

* * *

Charles Christopherson of Midland, the bride's nephew, carried the rings used by Rev. William Palmer in the candlelight evening ceremony.

Bramble - Rahja

All Saints Episcopal Church was the setting for the Friday afternoon vows of Martha Arlene Rahja and Seaman Rct. Gary May Bramble.

A reception in the Voorheis Road home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Rahja, followed the ceremony performed by Rev. C. George Widdifield.

SATIN GOWN

Alencon lace motifs enhanced the bodice of the bride's gown of white satin styled with court train.

A silk pillbox held her fingertip length illusion veil.

Stephanotis and white carnations encircled the white orchid in her bouquet.

Mrs. Gary Lessel attended as honor matron along with junior bridesmaid Teresa Kay Bramble. Edward W. Rahja was ringbearer.

* * *

Jack W. Price stood as best man for the son of the William H. Brambles of Desiax Avenue. Gary Lessel and Martin A. Rahja were ushers.

The bridegroom is attending U.S.N. officers' candidate school and will study for his master's degree this fall at Indiana State College. The couple will live in Terre Haute, Ind.

ROSCOE-BRINKER

United in a Saturday evening ceremony performed by Rev. Charles A. Colberg in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church were Carolyn Ann Brinker and Walter Charles Roscoe of Summerhill. Parents of the newlyweds are Mrs. Charles Edwards of Phillips Drive and the late Warren C. Brinker and Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Roscoe of Minneapolis, Minn. Mrs. Robert T. Brinker was matron of honor for her sister-in-law and Carl Cronkright, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Robert T. and Warren E. Brinker. Following a honeymoon in northern Michigan the couple will make their residence on Mt. Clemens Street.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

When my daughter was a very little girl she was trying to describe a woman she had just met. She said, "She just has two eyes, a nose and a mouth. You know what I mean."

I was somewhat puzzled and wasn't sure that I knew what she meant. I took a stab and asked, "Do you mean that she never smiles?" My darling answered, "Oh, she smiles, but she still has just eyes and a nose and a mouth."

Haven't you known people like that? When they smile nothing comes out from the eyes to meet you. When they laugh it somehow turns into a grimace, lacking all gaiety.

When you thing about it, eyes, a nose and a mouth can seem downright comical or weird with no inner light to warm them up. I began thinking of these features separately. A nose is really a very strange thing when you look at it alone.

* * *

Eyes are too, and a mouth is really just a slit in something shaped like an egg or a ball or an oblong or a diamond.

INSIDE PERSON

And, these appear just as ridiculous if they are classically beautiful when judged by the usual standards, unless something inside the person quickens them to life.

As my readers know, I am all for the paint pot and lubricating creams and figure molding, but there is much more to beauty than that. The plainest features take on a glow when backed up with warmth, enthusiasm, understanding or humor.

So, if you have a mole on your nose have it removed. If your hair is straight, have a permanent. If you have gray hair and don't like it, have it colored. If you have too many pounds, lose the extra ones.

* * *

If you have wrinkles do what you can about them, but never forget that real magnetism comes from an inner fire.

Dread boredom and lack of enthusiasm more than wrinkles; and a hardening of the mind and lack of perception more than gray hair.

It is so wasteful of life when a woman allows some physical defect which she cannot correct to ruin her happiness and her contribution to the happiness of others.

Dread most of all having "Just two eyes, a nose and a mouth."

FLOR-KREILACH

Sherry Lee Kreilach and Ronald Arthur Flor exchanged vows Saturday evening in the Clawson Methodist Church before Rev. Ivan E. Hodgson. Wearing a floor-length gown of white embroidered silk organza over taffeta with a chapel train, the bride carried a cascade bouquet of white Glamelias. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl crown. The bridegroom's gift of a cultured pearl necklace was also worn by the bride. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kreilach of Utica had Mrs. Alan Blackwell of Royal Oak as her matron of honor. Her other attendants were Ann Kreilach, Nancy Flor, and Nancy Hart. Thomas Flor was best man and Alan Blackwell and Roger Bauer ushered. The Oscar Flors of Clawson are parents of the groom. The newlyweds will honeymoon in the Upper Peninsula and Niagara Falls.

Lemon Aids Chore

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Our sprinkling system made hard water stains on our picture window that were hard to clean without a lot of elbow grease until I hit on the following idea:

I merely cut a fresh lemon in half, rubbed the pieces over the entire window and the stains disappeared right before my eyes.

One lemon does this big window with some to spare. Rinse with clear water and the windows are sparkling clean.—ANN

DEAR POLLY—Twice I have run out of gasoline when driving the car. It is always possible to buy a gallon of gas from the nearest station but it is not always accompanied by a funnel or can with a spout.

This presents a real problem with the newer model cars which have gas tanks hidden behind the license plates or under the tail light.

A make-shift funnel can be made by using a road map. After using a map in this manner, be sure to dispose of it in the proper place.—CAROL

DEAR POLLY—I particularly like the column because it is filled with practical suggestions and not a lot of things that are more trouble than they are worth.

My idea will help those women who make dresses for Barbie, Tammy and other such dolls.

I make them to sell and found the necessary pressing of those last seams inside the sleeves was almost impossible until I invented my doll pressing board.

I used a frozen sucker stick, padded it on both sides and then wrapped it with surgical gauze and sewed the ends together.

This will slide inside the sleeve (inside out, of course) and the seam can be pressed open without flattening the sleeve.—MRS. K.K.K.

DEAR POLLY—I had trouble with my ears breaking out from wearing costume jewelry earrings until I discovered that one or two coats of clear nail polish applied to the part that touches the ears was all that was needed.

No more trouble.—MRS. W.T.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

Broiler Rotisserie Works All Year

Summer barbecuing can stay around all year via a portable electric broiler - rotisserie that works with no smoke or fumes.

The unit produces the same searing heat as charcoal, says the manufacturer, and is ideal for grilling, broiling, roasting, frying, toasting and cooking.

Tips to Better Photographs

- Men—give a new haircut a couple of days before being photographed.
- Women—give newly set hair at least one day before being photographed.
- Wear the clothes you like best for your photograph, regardless of color or pattern.
- The best photographs generally are posed — not candid shots.

Choosing Suit Important, Requires Care

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

When the average man buys a suit, he's using up a substantial part of his entire year's clothing allowance. In most cases, it's a business investment, because how he looks has a direct bearing on how well he does in this world.

MARY FEELEY

So he ought to devote the same careful consideration to choosing a suit that he gives to any other financial deal.

However, when it comes down to basics, does he know what to look for? I was talking with the merchandise manager of a big department store the other day and he had this to say:

"Some men always pay a certain amount for their suits. They don't always get value. But they can't imagine living in a less expensive suit. So they just buy a price tag."

* * *

Clothing makers report that more and more men seem to want to spend more on suits, even if they aren't quite sure what they're getting. In some stores the best-selling suits now are around $100, while three years ago they were around $80.

MOVING UP

And there's more promoting of $150 suits than formerly. In lower-priced departments, the top price of $65 is moving up to $79.95.

Price naturally gives some clue that the suit is as well constructed as it appears to be. But it's not necessarily a guaranty. So it's up to the shopper to take a good look at all the details that are visible, and ask questions about the ones that aren't.

According to this men's clothing expert, the two most important points, from a quality standpoint, are Fit of the suit. This is easy enough to determine.

Shape retention. This calls for a close look and a little knowledge of what you're looking for.

* * *

When coat fronts—the foundation between the outer cloth and the lining — are of high grade materials and workmanship, they feel soft and springy, and resume their shape quickly if squeezed in the hand.

NATURAL LOOKING

Shoulders of good suits are natural looking, but carefully shaped, usually with haircloth, a wiry, extremely resilient material.

Linings in good suits have a soft and smooth texture, and are lightweight. The material is of fine yarns with close, firm weave.

Poor quality lining is coarse and loosely woven, with a crisp feel. Quality lining smoothly fitted without wrinkles, and hand-stitched detail is done with matching silk thread.

* * *

Patterns in better-made suits are laid accurately with the grain of the cloth, and seam allowances are generous.

RELIABLE GUIDE

A "hand-tailored" label is not necessarily a reliable guide to quality construction. It may simply mean that the suit coat was made with the minimum 21 specified hand operations.

Look for the sewing details — button holes, pockets, etc. The work should be neat and finely done.

The way a coat sleeve hangs is one guide to quality workmanship. Sleeves should be set so that they bisect the side pockets—so that the front fold of the sleeve comes to the middle of the pocket as the sleeve hangs naturally.

* * *

Otherwise the sleeves will restrict arm movement uncomfortably and wrinkle badly. And check both sleeves! In some poor quality suits, the two sleeves often hang differently.

REINFORCED INSIDE

In good suits, pocket openings are reinforced inside with lightweight fabric for durability. The reinforcement is tacked to the coat foundation, to take the strain of use, and keep the pockets from developing torn ends and baggy openings.

Read labels for facts about fiber content. Unfortunately there's no requirement to specify type of linings, interfacings, and padding used, although some suits will carry this information in a pocket stuffer or tag.

Why all this eagle-eyed scrutiny, when the suit looks perfectly all right to start with? Because when a suit has been worn and cleaned, quality or lack of it really shows up.

* * *

Poor workmanship is apparent in labels that get out of shape, armhole tape that leaves a puckering at the seam, pockets that have an unpressed look because they were made without inside stays.

* * *

Training the shopping eye invariably pays off. You'll be surprised and gratified some day to discover how much you can take in at a single glance. And how much you can learn by asking the right questions.

MILLER-CORNELL

Married Saturday evening by Rev. Walter Teeuwissen, Jr. in the United Presbyterian Church of Drayton Plains were Marilyn Kay Cornell and Joseph Daniel Miller. Parents of the newlyweds are the George Cornells of Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Miller of North Ardmore Avenue. Some 250 guests witnessed the candlelight ceremony as Mrs. Richard Barry was matron of honor. Attendants were Henretta Lampi, Mrs. Allen Lawrence and Duane Shram. Jack Miller was best man. Ushering were Richard Barry, Jerry Cornell and Allen Lawrence.

Local 653 Picnic Sets Attendance Record

Pontiac Press Photos

No Glittering Restaurant Can Beat The Old Picnic Grove

Used to helping their employer set new records this year, members of Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 established one of their own yesterday.

* * *

An estimated 12,000 turned out for the local's annual picnic at Walled Lake Amusement Park, believed the largest crowd since the annual event began 10 years ago.

* * *

Local officials said they were amazed at the number, but no less over the 108,000 free ice cream bars and 15,000 cups of pop passed out to picnickers.

* * *

Earl Whiteman, 4694 Jamm, Orion Township, proudly went home with the biggest prize of all.

* * *

He won a new Pontiac Catalina hardtop, with full equipment, in a drawing.

* * *

A 14-year Pontiac Motor employe, he is a machine shop department crankshaft grinder.

WE MADE IT — So thinks John Maye, (above) president of Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653, looking over the crowds of auto workers he represents and considering the two months planning that made yesterday's picnic one of the most successful events sponsored by the local.

* * *

PHOTOGRAPHER'S DELIGHT — A favorite picnic shot is a youngster munching stringy cotton candy. The trick is to find an enthusiastic eater like Cheryl Carper, 7, of Pontiac, who doesn't mind posing as long as it doesn't interrupt the fun.

THE WATCHERS—If the ride is fast and thrilling, fence-liners are composed of two varieties: those building up courage, and others who just got off but linger on to feel the rushing wind and hear the shouts. Amusement rides lacked neither passengers or observers at yesterday's Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 picnic.

MIDSUMMER DREAM — Barely able to keep from drowsing off is Viola Valdez, quietly storing memories of the clattering roller coaster, the whirling ferris wheel, and just how much walking an 8-year-old can do at a big picnic.

OLD SOFT SHOE?—Three-year-old Wilona Green's fascination with a brightly colored parasol seems to turn into an impromptu dance routine as she finds a private world of imagination in the midst of thousands attending the Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 picnic.

News From Around the World

Marine Sentry's Shot Kills Japanese Woman

TOKYO (AP)—American and Japanese officials are investigating a shooting which the Americans hope won't mushroom into another Girard case.

The U.S. Marines said Pfc. Manuel A. Covarrubias of Wapato, Wash., killed a 45-year-old Japanese woman, Yuki Katsumata, with a shotgun blast at Camp Fuji north of Tokyo. The Marine was on sentry duty.

The Marine press office said Covarrubias saw the woman coming out of a tent before dawn in the middle of the camp. It said he challenged her three times in English and again in Japanese, then fired when she did not halt.

Accounts in the Japanese press questioned whether it had been necessary to shoot the woman. American Minister John K. Emmerson called on Vice Foreign Minister Takio Oda to express regret.

RECALLS INCIDENT

The incident recalled the 1957 case of U.S. Army Specialist William F. Girard which set off a furor in Japan and in Congress. A group of Japanese scrap collectors had trespassed onto a U.S. firing range. Girard inserted an empty cartridge backwards in the muzzle of his rifle, pulled the trigger and killed a Japanese woman.

Although the United States had jurisdiction over the case, Girard was turned over to a Japanese court to quiet the public outburst and tried on a manslaughter charge. The Japanese court gave him a suspended three-year sentence.

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Israel has denied reports that it lost a jet plane in an air battle with Egypt and suffered six casualties in a border clash with Syria Sunday.

In Cairo a military spokesman said four French-built Mirage Israeli jets were intercepted on a reconnaissance flight near Alexandria by Egyptian fighters. He said one Israeli plane was shot down and a second hit.

* * *

An Israeli army spokesman called the Egyptian claim "a complete invention."

In Damascus, a Syrian army spokesman claimed six Israelis were killed or wounded in a 30-minute battle north of the Sea of Galilee. The Israeli spokesman confirmed the clash but denied the casualties.

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP)—A band of about 50 Indonesian guerrillas fled back across the border to Indonesia Sunday after a British platoon repulsed their attack.

An army spokesman said there were no British casualties but it was believed several Indonesians were killed or wounded.

CONAKRY, Guinea (AP)—Three Portuguese deserters from Portuguese Guinea claim that rebel forces control all of that tiny West African territory except Biassau, the capital, and several towns.

Santos Carvalhi, 36, former sub-chief of security police in Biassau, said he deserted to "protest the violence and oppression" of Dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's regime.

* * *

Portuguese Guinea, which is virtually worthless economically, has a population of 560,000, including 3,700 whites. An estimated 4,000 rebels have been fighting a sporadic guerrilla war against about 10,000 Portuguese regulars.

NASA Launches 2 Engines in Test of Space Flight

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)—Two small electric engines, designed for interplanetary flights of the future, soared more than 2,000 miles into space today in their first flight test.

The engines, for the unmanned spacecraft they may power in the future, appeared from early indications to have operated successfully.

However, scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration delayed definite claims to complete success until they complete a study of radio telemetry data from the flight.

The spacecraft housing the engines, fell into the Atlantic east of Bermuda, more than a thousand miles from this launching site.

TELEMETRY SIGNALS

Telemetry signals indicated that all four stages of the Scout rocket operated as planned, and that the 375-pound payload separated from the burned - out rocket on schedule.

The flight was designed to provide 53 minutes of weightlessness during which NASA planned to operate and test a cesium-powered engine for about 20 minutes, then turn it off and test a mercury-powered motor for a similar period.

* * *

The engines work on the same principle. They expel electrified gas at velocities of more than 100,000 miles an hour.

Although their thrust will be slight, on a sustained basis in the near-vacuum of space it would be sufficient to accelerate spacecraft to the speeds required for the tremendous distances of interplanetary flight.

40,000 POUNDS

The 72-foot tall Scout rocket, 40,000 pounds of fuel and metal, blasted off at 6:53 a.m.

The spacecraft separated as planned from the booster and the engines deployed as planned.

The ion engines were housed in the rocket's nose.

NASA said the main purpose of the test was to verify that the ion engines actually could produce thrust in space. Scientists said this can be accomplished only if the positively charged ion exhaust beam can be neutralized effectively.

The scientists said that methods of neutralizing the beam appeared to work in tests in vacuum tanks on the ground, but since in a vacuum chamber it is possible for electrons to be emitted from the sides of the tank, the ground tests are not conclusive.

Officials said that if the test indicates that beam neutralization is completely effective, they can continue to develop ion engines for space missions with confidence, using ground vacuum chambers.

AEC Plans to Loft More N-Detectors

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Atomic Energy Commission scientists plan more sophisticated nuclear detection satellites to follow a pair maneuvered into patrol positions 65,000 miles above the earth over the weekend.

Sentry satellite No. 2 was jockeyed into position Sunday when a radio signal from the ground shifted it out of a great elliptical orbit onto a circular path in which the high and low points are about the same.

* * *

A companion satellite was fired into a similar orbit Friday night. The twin watchdogs are traveling about 100,000 miles apart as they scan more than 200 million miles of space in search of illicit nuclear explosions.

* * *

The sentries are forerunners of a network of operational stations intended to police the limited nuclear test-ban treaty. The treaty, signed last year by more than 100 nations, forbids nuclear testing in the atmosphere, under water and in space.

BUNDLE OF THREE

The satellites were in a bundle of three launched from Cape Kennedy Friday by a single Atlas-Agena rocket. The third satellite, a 4.5-pound "pygmy," continues on the elliptical course ranging from 120 to 65,000 miles high. It is measuring electrons in the Van Allen radiation belt.

The sentries joined two others orbited in a similar triple shot last October.

* * *

Work is under way on a third pair of experimental vehicles scheduled for launching in several months. They reportedly will carry optical devices to monitor not only space nuclear blasts but also those in the earth's atmosphere.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

2 Shootings Are Blamed on the Heat

CHICAGO (AP) — Two shootings, one allegedly sparked by a water-sprinkling incident, sent scores of police cars to a west side neighborhood late last night.

* * *

But police blamed the incidents on hot weather and said there apparently was no racial motivation involved.

A father and his son were arrested after one shooting.

Police said Willie Saunders Sr., 53, and his son, Willie Jr., 34, claimed Richard Tarsa showered them with water as they passed on a sidewalk.

* * *

Police said Tarsa, 28, who was watering a lawn, became involved in an argument with the men. Police quoted Tarsa as saying one man tried to shoot Tarsa's dog, then turned the pistol on Tarsa, hitting him in the groin.

NOT SERIOUS

He was not seriously injured.

The elder Saunders was charged with aggravated battery and the son with aggravated assault.

In the other shooting, police said Charles Taylor, 22, was shot in the shoulder by five members of a youth gang who call themselves the "Cobras."

* * *

Police said Taylor was approached by five youths, and when he failed to give a proper "password" was shot.

YOUTHS ESCAPE

The youths escaped and Taylor was hospitalized in fair condition.

Police quickly broke up crowds which gathered at both incidents.

Crystal Dance Hall Scene of Teen Riot

CRYSTAL (AP)—Some 1,000 teen-agers hurled rocks and bottles for nearly two hours as they clashed with police outside a ballroom on Crystal Lake Saturday night just after closing.

* * *

Officers said two youths had been fighting in the Crystal Palladium shortly before the midnight closing, and when the ballroom was emptied at midnight the crowd began smashing windows.

* * *

Six state police troopers and nine Montcalm County and Crystal city officers were called to the scene. No serious injuries were reported and no arrests were made.

Believe Cave Paintings Are 13,000 Years Old

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Cave paintings discovered accidentally last year at Escoural, in southern Alentejo Province, are estimated to be 13,000 years old, a leading Portuguese archeologist said today.

* * *

Dr. Ferinha Dos Santos said the series of caves found while workmen were blasting at a nearby marble quarry probably would take 10 years to investigate for paintings. Nine have been uncovered.

Colleges produced 158,357 students with bachelor's degrees eligible for teaching certificates last year, the National Education Association disclosed.

Two Atlanta Shootings Involve Negroes, Whites

ATLANTA (AP) — Two shooting incidents involving Negroes and whites struck the same neighborhood within hours of each other over the weekend.

The neighborhood—where Negro and white residential sections meet—had these incidents Saturday night:

• A white family told police that four Negroes in a passing car fired a shotgun blast at them, wounding two members of the family.

• Police said the white owner of an integrated restaurant shot another white man who was trying to eject Negroes from the establishment.

The shotgun blast of the Wylie Keith family evoked memories of the slaying last week of Lemuel Penn, a Negro educator from Washington, D.C., as he was driving through rural northeast Georgia.

As in the Penn case, still unsolved, Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia instructed agents of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation to aid local police in their investigation of the shotgun incident.

"We are going to pursue this just as vigorously as we have been pursuing the unfortunate slaying of Lemuel Penn in North Georgia last week," Sanders said.

'MUST HAVE ORDER'

"When I say we are going to maintain law and order, I mean this; and it applies to all citizens — white or Negro," he added.

In the second incident, police said Maurice Lawson, 22, was in satisfactory condition at a hospital recovering from a stomach wound inflicted by a pistol.

Police arrested a white restaurant owner, Redell Crosby, and charged him with shooting another. Crosby was released on $1,000 bond yesterday.

Atlanta Police Det. Tony Quave said Lawson and some other white men entered Crosby's restaurant, went over to two Negroes eating and told them they would have to leave. One of the white men, Quave said, punched one of the Negroes in the nose.

Crosby pulled a pistol and ordered the white men to leave, but Lawson remained and threatened Crosby with a beer bottle, the detective said.

Crosby started shooting and one of five shots struck Lawson in the stomach.

Quave said Lawson would be charged with assault and battery. Four other whites involved also have been charged with assault and battery, he said.

Police Nab Swimming Suspect

A Waterford Township man, suspected of breaking into a service station, was apprehended by police at 2:05 a.m. yesterday after he tried to swim to freedom.

* * *

Waterford Patrolman Al Doud noticed a broken window at Jack's Standard Service, 3866 Cass - Elizabeth, as he was patrolling in that area.

Doud drove around the building. He spotted a man running from the station and got out of the car and pursued him.

Moments later, Doud found Joe Collier, 27, of 4059 Chenlot laying on a dock at Elizabeth Lake.

* * *

Chenlot refused an order to stand up, according to Doud, and then slid into the water and attempted to swim away. Doub ordered him out of the water and he responded.

Collier, who was in possession of $23.85 in change, was to be arraigned today in the township justice court on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Seek Warrant in Gun Death

Man Shot on Street; Another Is Arrested

A first-degree murder warrant was sought today by Pontiac police for a 31-year-old man being questioned in connection with a street shooting Saturday night.

Police said Charles W. Randolph, 303 E. Wilson, admitted to them that he fired the gun that killed Raymond C. Draper, 23, of 104 Hughes.

He was arrested at his home about an hour after the 11:15 p.m. shooting which occurred a few doors away from Draper's home.

Randolph said he shot Draper in self-defense when Draper forced his way into the car in which he was riding. Police were told by witnesses that Draper was intoxicated.

Melissa Williams, 32, of 500 California, Draper's sister-in-law, told police that she was walking with Draper and his wife, Hanna, 32, when the car stopped and "words were exchanged."

She said the car then went up the street — turned around and came back.

It was then that Randolph pulled the gun and fired when Draper lunged at it, she said.

Driver Can't Get Licensed

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Leonard Melling has a $3,000 car, a job in which he drives 1,000 miles a week, and no driving license.

During World War II, Leonard was an army driver. Since then he has paid $1,400 for 115 driving lessons and more than a thousand hours of instruction.

But he has just failed his eighth driving test in two years.

"I must be Britain's most advanced learner-driver," he said.

ONLY WAY

Leonard's job as a catering manager pays him $11,200 a year. But the only way he can legally drive his car is to display white plates bearing a red letter "L"—for Learner— at front and rear and take along a licensed driver beside him.

During the week, Leonard pays $19.60 for a retired police driver to accompany him.

* * *

"But he wants his weekends free," said Leonard. "And when the weekend comes round it is terrible trying to explain to my 2-year-old son why we can't take the car on a trip to the park."

"My wife can't drive and all our shopping has to be done by bus," he adds.

PLANS NOTE

Leonard said he plans to write to the transport minister, Ernest Marples, before he takes his ninth driving test.

"I want him to come on a drive with me so that he can judge for himself," said Melling.

The ex-police driver who accompanies Leonard said: "I have been thousands of miles with him and I have found him competent, confident and considerate of other road users. Why he can't satisfy the ministry examiners is a complete mystery to me."

Higgins Backs Barry, Planks

FERNDALE (AP) — George N. Higgins, aspirant for the Republican nomination for governor, says he is supporting presidential candidate Barry Goldwater and the GOP platform and challenges Gov. George W. Romney to state his position.

Higgins, former Republican state senator, called Romney his "wishy-washy competitor-Imposter" in a weekend telegram to the GOP State Central Committee.

* * *

He asked the committee to ascertain the stand Romney will take in the September primary election "and to which party he will profess his allegiance after his September defeat."

* * *

Romney has declared dissatisfaction with both Goldwater and the Republican platform since the GOP San Francisco convention.

Burton's Health Better; Back on 'Hamlet' Stage

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Burton says his health has improved and he will be back on stage at the Lunt - Fontanne Theater tonight to resume his performance of "Hamlet."

The actor walked off last Friday night, forcing cancellation of the evening show. Saturday's matinee and evening performances also were canceled. Burton has no understudy.

A spokesman for the theater said Burton is suffering from an inflamed nerve in his neck and shoulders. He still has "quite a lot of pain" but insists upon returning to work, the spokesman said.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park accepted the resignation of Communication Minister Hong Yun-pyo today. A warrant has been issued for Hong's arrest on suspicion of taking bribes.

Conventions Cancel Annual GOP Fete

Oakland County Republicans will have to draw election year nourishment from other than their usual annual ox roast.

Scheduling of both county and state party conventions in September left no choice but to remove the popular ox roast from the month's activities, said County Chairman Charles L. Lyle.

The GOP county convention will be Sept. 12 at Southfield High School with Mrs. George Romney as keynote speaker.

As in the April spring convention, delegates and alternates will be chosen for the party's statewide meeting. This will be Sept. 19 at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

COUNTY FEATURE

Lyle said a new feature of the county convention will be holding of city and township caucuses at 9:30 a.m., an hour before the full session is called to order, to draw up delegate lists.

Named as convention arrangements chairman is Richard D. Ernst, 4980 Orchard Hill, Bloomfield Township.

In another appointment, attorney Walter Koch, 153 Lakeside Royal Oak, will be county GOP assistant campaign director to director Dale Feel.

Arthur Saltzman, director of special events, said a factor affecting the decision to cancel the ox roast was Gov. Romney's busy September schedule.

County Dems Get Aid From Republicans

Always glad to accept campaign donations from any source, Oakland County Democrats joyously predict they'll be getting a financial assist from Republicans.

* * *

They've even set up a "Stop Goldwater Fund" and taken a mail box number to which gifts may be discreetly sent.

The money, of course, will be used to help President Johnson continue his stay in the White House.

The fund was created at the request of a number of county Republicans and independents who are deeply concerned about the nomination of Barry Goldwater," said County Democratic Chairman Sandy Levin.

* * *

"They feel his extreme positions and many issues are not in the best interest of the Republican party, or the country as a whole."

OFFER HELP

To back up his expectations, Levin said some 35 known Republicans and others describing themselves as Independents called Democratic headquarters to offer their help following Sen. Goldwater's nomination in San Francisco.

* * *

The private mail drop, Box 99, Bloomfield Hills, is for those who want to help the Democratic cause without revealing their identity, explained Levin.

Local Democratic leaders say Republicans have come forward in the past to aid their cause in state elections, but they can't recall anything like the recent offers of help in a presidential election year.

Firm Gets Contract for Sewer Building

A $170,831 contract for sanitary sewer construction in Pontiac Township was awarded this morning to Loselle Construction Co. of Southgate by the Oakland County Department of Public Works board.

The job, originally estimated at $337,275, is known as the Walton Heights Sewer Arm of the Oakland University sewage disposal system.

* * *

Loselle submitted the lowest of 11 bids on the job. The highest was $356,708.

DPW Director R. J. Alexander said the contract was awarded subject to the sale of bonds.

British Living Cost Up

LONDON (AP)—The cost of living index in Britain in mid-June rose to 107.4, the Labor Ministry reports. The measure of 100 was established in mid-January 1962.

In Movies, That Is

David Rose Happy for Beatles

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The Beatles are a big hit in their first movie —critics call them the new Marx Brothers—and no one is happier than movie composer David Rose.

Rose is a serious musician noted for his lush use of strings.

* * *

Until the Beatles' reviews came out, Rose thought maybe he had approached music from the wrong direction.

"I went up to my teen-age daughter's room the other day," he says. "The walls were plastered with pictures of the Beatles.

FATHER'S PLIGHT

"There were no pictures of me. Worse, there were none of my albums in her record collection. What does a father do in a situation like that?

"I'm glad the Beatles are successful as movie stars. Maybe now they'll get out of the music business."

* * *

Oddly, Rose's biggest hit was an out-of-character number as noisy as the Beatles.

"When MGM made 'Sweet Bird of Youth,' with Paul Newman and Geraldine Page a few years ago, the song 'Ebb Tide' was used as background music," he said.

BIG SELLER

"MGM Records asked me to record it, which I did. It was expected to be a hit. It wasn't, but the other side of the record is my all-time big seller—'The Stripper.'"

How that came about is one of those show business mistakes that boomerang into big money.

* * *

"After 'Ebb Tide,'" Rose recalls, "I had to leave the country for awhile. The company wanted the record on the market fast so somebody—I later heard it was an office boy—went through some of my old tapes for a fill-in recording for the flip side.

* * *

"The Stripper' was some background music I had composed for a television show of the old play 'Burlesque.' I had forgotten about it. The office boy liked it and put it on the other side of 'Ebb Tide.' It's still selling and my last figure had it past the 3-million mark.

RIGHT IDEA

"Isn't it ironic that I, who had made a reputation with strings, should get my greatest fame from some honky-tonk, brassy, loud, drum-beating song?

"Maybe the Beatles have the right idea after all."

Fires Record 271 at Columbus

Lady Luck Smiles on PGA Champion Bobby Nichols

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Bobby Nichols had fallen off a cliff he'd have won the high-diving championship on the way down.

This was the week when he could have gotten down in two strokes from the deck of a sinking ship.

* * *

There apparently is no oil in the area of the Columbus Country Club, or Nichols would have struck it with a seven-iron.

Life was like that for Nichols, the 28-year-old Louisville boy who won the PGA Golf Tournament Sunday by three strokes with a record total of 271, nine under par. About 71 of his shots were downright impossible.

"I couldn't believe them myself—but I have witnesses," Nichols said.

67 IN FINAL

The baby-faced youngster, 5-foot-2 and 200 pounds, finished with an astounding 67 that held off an incredible 64 by defending champion Jack Nicklaus, who was playing before the home folks.

* * *

Nicklaus made up five strokes on Arnold Palmer in the final round, playing head-to-head with Palmer before an enormous gallery that trooped through the broiling Ohio sunshine.

They tied for second, at 274, three strokes back.

That was the best finish yet for Palmer in the PGA, the only major title he has never won but still no cigar for the general of Arnie's Army.

* * *

It made three runner-up finishes this year for Nicklaus in major championships, the Masters, the British Open, and the PGA, and meant that big Jack will not be around for the ultra-rich television world series which he won the last two years.

"It was probably the finest round of golf I ever played," Nicklaus said. "It just wasn't good enough."

TORRID PACE

So torrid was the pace that Mason Rudolph, the Tennessean who wears thick eye glasses, shot a 69—with nine threes on the card—and faded to fourth at 276, five strokes behind Nichols.

* * *

U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, a tough man when it gets hot enough to poach eggs on the fairways, finished with 33 on the back nine for 69 and 279. He tied Tom Nieporte, a club pro from Locust Valley, N.Y., who went to Ohio State and won the NCAA Championship in Columbus back in 1951.

* * *

While Nicklaus was charging and Palmer was putting together a 69 in front of him, Nichols strode along behind, refusing to fold.

"It was a great break to be paired with Mr. Hogan, uh, Ben," Nichols said. "He was an inspiration to me."

Hogan—who didn't know him—wrote Nichols an inspirational letter when Nichols was recovering from an automobile accident that appeared to have ruined his athletic career in 1952.

He knocked in putts from all over the greens. On the seventh hole his tee shot was headed out of bounds, crashed into a tree and wound up in the middle of the fairway. He made a birdie 3.

At the 10th hole, when he was temporarily tied with Palmer and Rudolph, Nichols went ahead for good with an eagle putt from 35 feet.

STILL MORE

But there was more to come. At the 15th, Nichols drove into the rough, and produced "my best shot of the tournament"—a bear from that rum cheer to the green. He promptly dropped an 18-footer for a birdie.

That was the way things had been going all week. Time and again during the tournament, Nichols made par or birdie from deep rough, sand traps or even the wrong fairway.

* * *

Once he hit the ball sideways when he couldn't even see it.

With the pressure deepening, Nichols hit into a trap at 16, came out strong and made a 16-center for a par. And on the short 17th, he knocked in a putt that he stepped off at 51 feet.

That ended it.

* * *

The victory was worth $18,000 in prize money for Nichols, plus twice that in immediate extra benefits.

Some of the money will go to a shrine to St. Jude. "I sort of promised that I would build one if I won," Nichols said.

St. Jude is the patron saint of the impossible.

Bengals in Boston After 3rd Baltimore Loss

Orioles Hold League Lead With 5-4 Win

Tigers Drop Series, Gain Only Triumph in Twin Bill Split

BOSTON (AP) — Thwarted in weekend efforts to dethrone the American League-leading Baltimore Orioles, the Detroit Tigers try seventh-place Boston for size tonight.

Detroit, just a notch above Boston in sixth place, salvaged one victory from a four-game series with Baltimore.

But the Orioles concluded the series by whipping Detroit 5-4 Sunday in a game notable chiefly because it was the only single contest of a crowded major league schedule of doubleheaders.

ONE VICTORY

The Orioles victory followed the split of a doubleheader Saturday after Baltimore triumphed Friday.

Detroit won one contest 3-0 Saturday and Baltimore the other, 6-1. The Orioles shut out Detroit 5-0 Friday.

Each team slugged three solo homers Sunday. In the first two innings, Boog Powell, Sam Bowens and Charley Lau connected off Tigers starter Dennis McLain for a 3-0 lead.

* * *

Jerry Lumpe smashed a homer for the Tigers in the sixth.

Dick McAuliffe led off the seventh with another home run, one that caused the removal of Orioles pitcher Wally Bunker who, nevertheless, was credited with his 10th victory against two losses.

Bill Freehan greeted reliever Dick Hall with the Tigers third homer. Hall was replaced. Stu Miller hurled the last two innings for Baltimore.

Tonight, Phil Regan (4-8) will pitch for Detroit against Boston's Bob Heffner (5-2).

Victory Puts Nichols in World Series Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bobby Nichols' victory in the PGA Golf Championship Sunday qualified him for the $100,000 World Series of Golf in September at Akron, Ohio.

The event is open to winners of the major pro tournaments.

Other qualifiers are Arnold Palmer, Masters; Ken Venturi, U.S. Open and Tony Lema, British Open.

Jack Nicklaus, who won the $50,000 top prize the last two years, didn't make it.

Bertram-Frechette Mixed-Ball Champs

By FLETCHER SPEARS

A twosome that vowed to do 'better next year' carded a 36-42-78 Saturday to win the Pontiac Mixed Two-Ball championship at the Municipal Golf Course.

Paulette 'Feather' Frechette, 16, and Francis Bertram, 40, a member of Clarkston Golf Club, were one of the first teams to finish the 18-hole round and left the course because they didn't think their score was low enough.

"We had a 78 but didn't think it would win," Bertram said. "But we told Mr. Barner (L. C. Barner, manager of the course) that we would do better next year."

The 78 stood up over the 5,677-yard, par 69 course, and Francis and Feather, playing together for the first time, wound up with the championship in the 27-team field.

Two strokes back of the winners were Sybol Zahn and Gary Balliet along with Jim and Bobbie Miller with 80's.

* * *

Balliet, 14, and Mrs. Zahn won the playoff with the Millers when Balliet carded a birdie on the first hole.

EX-CHAMPS 7TH

The defending team of Stan Savage and Zadah DeBolt fired an 84 to finish in a tie for seventh.

Feather and Francis picked up birdies on the seventh and eighth holes but took a double-bogey on the ninth to finish the front side with a two-over-par 38.

They had bogey problems on the back side, going seven over par despite a birdie on No. 15.

* * *

Francis' next tourney will be the Ford Motor Company championship at DunRovin Golf Course in Detroit next Saturday, where he will be cast in the defending champion's role.

* * *

Feather, who made it to the quarter - finals of the Women's Michigan Golf Association tourney last week at Tam O'Shanter, will journey to Oak Park, Ill., where she will compete in the Women's Western Amateur, August 8-9.

Finale Losers Play 46 Holes

Geiss-Murphy Birmingham Champs

By Bruno L. Kearns
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

A pair of non-resident members came back to walk off with the 19th annual Birmingham Invitational, played in 95 degree heat and finished in complete darkness.

Jack Geiss, ex-club champion now working out of Cincinnati and Jim Murphy, now out of Houston, Texas duplicated 1-up victories in the morning semi-final and the "night" finale to win the crown.

Having disposed of Elmer Ellistrom and ex-state amateur champion Bud Stevens, Geiss and Murphy then took a par-5 on the 18th hole to defeat Angelo Lotti of Birmingham and Tony Lopucki of Washtenaw in the finals.

For Lotti and Lopucki it was a long tiring day. They started the day at 9:00 a.m. against defending champions Tom Draper and Connie Frye and at 3:00 p.m., they finally won their semifinal match 1-up on the 28th hole.

* * *

It was the longest match in history of the Birmingham tournament. Draper, the veteran state amateur golfer also commented, "it was probably the hottest."

Within the hour, Lotti and Lopucki started their final match and it was very close all the way with each team going 1-up three times and halving the other holes until the 18th.

The last three holes were played in darkness. On 18, Geiss sunk a putt for the par 5, while Lotti with a chance to tie missed a short one and three putted to end their day with 46 holes of golf.

In their process of winning, Geiss and Murphy defeated ex-state champion Mike Andonian and his partner Jack Andrews in Saturday's quarter-finals.

In the first flight, Len Malis and William Curtis a duo which missed playing in the championship flight because of a low card draw at qualifying score of 71, defeated John Panelli and Flowers, 2-up.

* * *

Papelli and Flowers also had a 71 in qualifying and were one of the three teams which had to go into first flight play because of the draw of playing cards.

In the second flight Harry Hyvonen and Chuck Byrnes defeating Ray Levandoski and Jerry Levan, 1-up, and in the third flight it was Tom Crews and Bill Nettle over Jack Stetler and Gib Mason, 3 and 2.

* * *

In 4th flight, Chuck Pfister and Doug Smith defeated Bill Heebsh and Harry Kazajanian, 8 and 6; 5th flight winner was Charlie Coffin and John Jennings over Fred Rollins and Joe Dimond, 1-up; and 6th flight it was Gene Tappero and Harold Monroe over Russ Knecht and John Basinski, 4 and 3.

WINNING PAIR — Former area residents Jack Geiss (left) and Jim Murphy, who are still non-resident members of Birmingham Country Club, won the club's invitational tournament yesterday by defeating Angelo Lotti and Tony Lopucki in the finals, 1-up, in complete darkness.

Another Win for Clark

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) —Jim Clark of Scotland drove his Lotus to victory Sunday in the Grand Prix of the Solitude for Formula One cars. Clark averaged 91.468 miles per hour for the 141.86-mile race, over a rain softened track.

Olympic Spot Assured Pilot

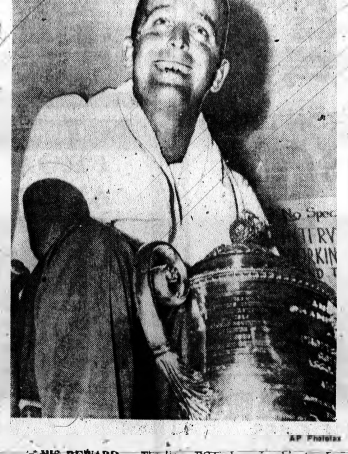

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Lowell North of San Diego clinched his bid for an Olympic berth as the U.S. Dragon Class skipper Sunday by winning the sixth race of the Olympic trials going away.

* * *

Willis Boyd of Long Beach, who was North's only competition before the start of the race, could do no better than ninth in the heavy going.

The San Diego skipper's score of 8,108 is unassailable, even by the second place Boyd, who has 5,230.

Identify Body as NFL Back

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Arrival of a dental chart Sunday provided the confirmation authorities needed in identifying the body of Terry Dillon, former Montana football star.

Dillon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin M. Dillon of Irving, Tex., also arrived in Missoula Sunday.

* * *

Funeral services were set for Monday.

Dillon, 23, defensive halfback for the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League, drowned May 28 when he fell through temporary decking on a bridge construction site west of Missoula.

A body was found Friday by a fisherman, John Clawson, near Tarkio, about 17 miles downstream from the bridge site.

* * *

Investigators had little doubt about identification but asked the Vikings' office to forward his dental records as a final check.

Callison's Homer Keeps Phillies Atop League

Paints Colorful 'Blank' Scene

Angel Hill Ace Artistic

By The Associated Press

People can say a lot of things about Dean Chance, but one thing they have to say is he's patriotic.

Chance, 23-year-old pitcher for the Los Angeles Angels, paints the town red, whitewashes the opposition and makes them feel blue.

* * *

The ace right-hander pitched his third straight shutout and sixth of the season Sunday as the Angels stopped Minnesota 4-0 for a sweep of their doubleheader and moved into the American League's first division for the first time since the first week of the season. The Angels won the first game 8-6.

Chance, whose nights and early mornings on the town with teammate Bo Belinsky threatened to become legend in their time, hasn't allowed a run in 27 innings since he started for the AL in the All-Star Game.

BEST AVERAGE

In a nine-day period, he blanked Chicago on four hits, Detroit on five and Minnesota on four. And while increasing his record to 8-3, he has reduced his earned run average to 1.76, best in the majors.

Only Whitey Ford, 12-3, has more shutouts this season. The Yankee veteran has seven, but he has made four more starts than Chance.

* * *

Meanwhile, Ford and his New York teammates were the victimes of another shutout. Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 23-year-old Cuban righthander, stopped the Yankees 3-0 on four hits in his first major league game. The Yankees won the opener 6-2.

The Orioles edged Detroit 5-4.

Not so fortunate as Chance an Tiant was Wes Stock, a Kansas City reliever whose 12-game winning streak was halted by the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 13 innings. Stock hadn't lost since July 12, 1962. Chicago also won the second game from the A's 4-3, moving into second place, one game behind league-leading Baltimore.

The Orioles edged Detroit 3-4 while Washington nipped Boston 5-4 in 10 innings after losing the opener 11-10 in other AL action.

Dave Nicholson's two-run homer and Ron Hansen's solo blast offset, Rocky Colavito's bases-empty homer and Jim Gentile's two-run homer for the A's in the second game.

* * *

Mike Brumley's two-out single in the 10th inning gave the Senators a second-game victory. Boston scored three runs with the help of three Washington errors, two by Ed Brinkman, who homered and scored the winning run after singling.

Don Lock drove in six Washington runs in the doubleheader with two homers in the opener, two doubles and a single. His first-game hitting was overshadowed by Ed Brinsoud's three-run homer, two-run homers by Tony Conigliaro and Felix Mantilla and solo blasts by Carl Yastrzemski and Dick Stuart, all for the Red Sox.

Giants Take 2 From Houston

Braves Sweep Bucs, Move Into 4th Place

John Bateman and Johnny Callison played give-and-take with the National League lead but the Milwaukee Braves made their mark playing leap-frog.

Houston catcher Bateman flyibed a two-out-third strike in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader against San Francisco and two pitches later Jim Ray Hart homered for a 4-2 Giants victory.

The Giants also won the nightcap 1-0 and had the league lead in their grasp until Philadelphia's Callison took it away from them.

POST SCORE

The Phils had dropped their doubleheader opener to Cincinnati 7-4 and were trailing 2-1 in the second game when the Giants-Colts final was posted on the scoreboard.

Then Callison duplicated his All-Star game heroics with a three-run ninth inning homer. The Phils held on for a 4-3 verdict and a first place margin of four percentage points over the Giants.

The torrid Braves trimmed Pittsburgh twice 6-2 and 5-4 and climbed from a tie for sixth place into fourth, six games off the pace.

They now have won 10 of their last 13 games and 16 of their last 22.

* * *

Elsewhere in the NL, the Chicago Cubs pounded out 27 hits for 8-2 and 9-1 decisions over the Los Angeles Dodgers while St. Louis rallied for four ninth inning runs and edged the New York Mets 7-6 in the second of a pair after the Mets won the opener 3-2.

Callison's 15th homer, off reliever Bill Henry, followed a single by Clay Dalrymple and a walk to Cookie Rojas. The Reds rallied for a run in the bottom of the ninth but Chris Short came out of the bullpen and got Vada Pinson to hit into a game-ending force play.

Pinson's second triple, a single by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich's two-run homer overcame a 4-3 deficit in the eighth inning of the opener.

BOLLING GETS 3

Frank Bolling drove in three Milwaukee runs with two singles in the first game and Tony Cloninger tossed a six-hitter.

Bolling doubled in two more runs in the nightcap. Hank Fischer relieved starter Denny Lemaster in the sixth inning and blanked the Pirates the rest of the way.

* * *

Dick Ellsworth pitched a five-hitter against the Dodgers in the opener and the Cubs collected a dozen hits, including two-run homers by Ernie Banks and Billy Williams.

Lew Burdette allowed six hits in the second game and Ron Santo went 3-for-5, including his 17th homer, to lead the 15-hit attack. Burdette, making his 350th NL start, won his sixth game in eight decisions.

Dick Groat's fourth hit of the second game scored Ken Boyer with the winning run and capped the Cardinals' ninth inning explosion. Boyer had doubled home Lou Brock for a 6-6 tie.

All three Met runs in the opener were unearned. Jack Fisher scattered eight hits for the victory.

Bill Adams Winner of MPGA Tournament

Members of the Michigan Publinx Golf Association were as hot as the weather yesterday in their 18-hole handicap tournament at Rochester Country Club.

Sharing the spotlight with Adams was Adam Weissmuller of Livonia, who bagged his first hole-in-one with a 7-iron shot on the 148-yard No. 4 hole.

The hottest player in the 244-man field was Bill 'Chick' Adams of Detroit, who turned in a three-under-par 31-38—69 to pick up medalist honors.

* * *

Weissmuller carded a 39 on the front side but soared to a 47 on the back nine, finishing with an 86.

Adams sizzled on the front nine of the 6,468-yard par 72 course.

* * *

He started with three birdies in a row, followed with three pars and finished birdie-par-birdie for a five-under 31.

He picked up a pair of bogeys on the back side to go with one birdie. The Detroiter also paced the handicap division with a net 65.

Two strokes back of Adams were Mike Andonian of Pontiac, 33-38—71, and Sal Pomante Jr. of Center Line, 37-34—71.

* * *

Tom Balliet and Charles Barker, both of Pontiac, turned in identical scores of 39-36—75.

Proud Yanks Pass 'Buck'

NEW YORK (AP)— All four Yankee infielders touched a ball that Johnny Romano of Cleveland beat out for an infield hit in the ninth inning of the first game of a doubleheader.

* * *

With a man on first, Romano hit a bouncer off third baseman Clete Boyer's glove and the ball caromed to Phil Linz at shortstop. Linz tossed to Bobby Richardson at second for the attempted force, but the second baseman wasn't on the bag.

Richardson then threw to first baseman Pedro Gonzalez, who was pulled off the base as Romano beat the throw for an infield hit.

* * *

All four infielders actually handled the ball but no one touched a base.

All-Star Tourney Set

Walled Lake and Milford will open the District 4 Little League All-Star tournament tomorrow at 5 p.m. at Walled Lake's Riley Field.

The winner of tomorrow's game will take on North Farmington Wednesday with the victor advancing to the tournament at Farmington.

Weather Hurts Showings

Area Thinclads Sparkle

Pontiac area athletes made favorable showings under rather unfavorable conditions Saturday at the annual state Track and Field Federation Meet at Central Michigan University.

The hot, humid and hazy weather kept times, heights and distances below peak efficiency in almost all events.

Robert Gordon of Pontiac brought home a first place medal in the junior's 100-yard dash with a 10.4 seconds timing.

Joe Watson of Farmington won the 880-yard run for juniors in 2:01.6, better time than the senior event winner posted.

Another Farmington resident John Karwoski was runner-up in the junior's mile run with a 4:49.5 clocking.

Pontiac's Art Wiggins had a second in the junior high hurdles at :16.2, and he was a fourth in the broad jump with 19-feet-2.

Brian Miller from Lapeer posted a second in the discus and a third in the senior shot put with heaves of 122-feet-11 and 43-feet-6¾, respectively.

Pontiac Central's junior relay team took second place with a 3:51 mile.

Leads Ladies League

Mrs. Dorothy Timoff led the Silver Belles Golf League with a gross 53 last week at Silver Lake Golf Course. Mrs. Rose Ann Saboie carded a low net of 35.

Injured Michigan Driver Returning to State Today

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UPI) — Johnny White of Warren, Mich., the Indianapolis 500-Mile driver acclaimed "Rookie of the Year," was scheduled to be moved to a Detroit rehabilitation center today from a Terre Haute hospital where he hovered near death for many days.

White was critically injured last month in a sprint-car race in Terre Haute when his car went out of control and barrel-rolled across a three-foot guard rail.

* * *

His upper spine was crushed. He was near death and several times was on and off the critical list. He has recovered some sensation around his shoulders and can move his hands somewhat.

He was scheduled to be moved by a private air ambulance and was expected to arrive at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport at 1 p.m.

Texan Grabs 4th Win in Tour of North Tracks

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) —Billy Wade of Houston, Tex., who has stormed the Northern stock car racing circuit this season, roared to his fourth straight Northern victory at Watkins Glen Sunday.

Wade hit speeds up to 150-miles per hour in the 66-lap, 150-mile second annual Grand National at Watkins Glen. He had won previous editions of the Northern late model stock car racing circuit at Old Bridge, N.J., Bridgehampton, N.Y., and Islip, N.Y.

Birmingham Doubles Title to Hall-Brown

Bob Hall of Orchard Lake and Don Brown, a professional at Pine Lake Country Club, walked off with the doubles championship in the Birmingham Athletic Club's Invitational Tennis Tournament yesterday.

Hall, a member of the club, and Brown, his guest partner, breezed through their first two matches without losing a set and fought off a rugged challenge by Ed Meyers and Don Moncrieff in the finals, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

* * *

Moncrieff and Meyers had trouble in the opening round, winning 3-7, 6-3, 6-4, but they came on strong to win their semifinal match, 7-1, 7-3.

Hall and Brown displayed a sharp net game with rifle-like smashes that killed several budding rallies by Meyers and Moncrieff.

Assistants Tee Off in 36-Hole Meet

Assistant professionals from clubs throughout Michigan teed off this morning at Knollwood Country Club in the 36-hole Michigan Assistant Pro tournament.

The 74 assistant pros started a 6:40 a.m. at Knollwood and following completion of the first round, they moved to Edgewood Country Club for the second 18-hole round.

Greenskeepers and caddy masters were also on the course. They started at Edgewood and switched to Knollwood this afternoon.

Ben Davis of Rackam Memorial and Pete Soncrant of Monroe were the first assistant pros to leave the tee this morning.

Dick Delano of Orchard Lake left the tee at 1:14 and another Orchard Lake assistant, Jack Corbett, joined the 8:52 group.

* * *

Other area pros among the starters are Jim Chapman and Jim Picard of Tam O'Shanter, Don Britschi and Larry Blanco of Franklin Hills, John Chester of Birmingham, Tom Watrous of Oakland Hills and Jerry Prieskorn of Pine Lake.

Dallas Squad Opens Drills in California

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, in summer training here, get down to heavy drills this afternoon, after a session of sprinting.

Rookie Mel Renfro, a back from Oregon, clocked the fastest time Sunday in the 40 - yard sprint — a speedy 4.5.

His best time in the 50-yard sprint was 5.6, a bit slower than that of another Oregon man, Mike Gaechter, a defensive back and a three - year veteran, who ran it in 5.5. Gaechter's 40-yard time was 4.6.

Linebackers Chuck Howley and Leroy Jordan clocked the best 40-yard times on the line—4.8 and 4.9 respectively.

* * *

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams, will concentrate on heavy scrimmaging Wednesdays through Fridays until their final dress rehearsal scrimmage Aug. 1 in preparation for the annual Times Charity Game Aug. 7 against the Dallas Cowboys.

Coach Harland Svare has had his squad toughening up with interval running, starting at 110 yards and increasing daily, on the track at Chapman College here.

Svare said he feels his men are ahead on their conditioning in their current summer training program.

Transport Fire Kills Three Trotting Horses

DETROIT (AP) — Three race horses burned to death when a van being used to transport them from the Toledo Raceway to a meet at the Crosswell County Fair caught fire Saturday on I 75 in Brownstown Township.

Charles Carpenter, 24, of Elmont, N.Y., told police he stopped the van after he heard the three trotters moving around in their stalls. He said he tried to release the animals but was driven back by flames.

Taylor Township firemen were summoned but were unable to save the horses, valued at $35,000 to $30,000.

Lion Rookies Report Today, First Drill Slated Tuesday

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The initial welcome of 51 players—25 rookies and 26 veterans is scheduled by Detroit Lions' coach George Wilson for 8:00 p.m. tonight at Cranbrook.

By next Sunday, however, when the remainder of the 42-player veteran roster is scheduled to arrive, many of the new faces will have learned what their chances are in making the squad.

* * *

Some of the old timers reporting today will also learn a few things this week—that is what their physical status will be for the hot training camp days ahead.

All of the team's hospital cases of last year, along with the newly obtained players, plus Alex Karras and quarterbacks Earl Morrall and Milt Plum are due in camp today.

First drills are scheduled for 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Tuesday. They will continue on a twice-daily basis until Sunday.

NEXT WEEK

First full squad workout is slated for next Tuesday afternoon and all players including those who as yet have not signed their contracts must take part in the drills.

* * *

Among the new players reporting in today is offensive tackle J. D. Smith whom the Lions obtained from the Eagles in a trade for Floyd Peters.

With Karras returning to his defensive tackle post, Peters was expendable, however the death of rookie Lucien Reeberg last spring weakened the offensive line this was a big factor in obtaining Smith.

Michigan schools will be well represented in the group of rookies.

Four of the state players have been signed as free agents while Doug Bickle of Hilladale was the team's 14th choice.

* * *

Linebacker Mike Currie, brother of Packers' Dan Currie, from Michigan State is among the free agents along with J. B. Elzy a halfback from Albion, Willie Jones a fullback from Hilladale and Uwe Wiese, a guard from Central Michigan.

ANOTHER SPARTAN

Bill Quinlan, another Michigan Stater whom the Lions obtained on waivers from the Eagles, is also reporting into camp early.

Quinlan was a member of the Packers' championship team two years ago before being traded to Philadelphia.

The "hospital" crew which will be given their legs and knees a few early knocks to see how they will stand up before regular camp starts includes linebacker Carl Brettschneider, Gary Lowe, Pat Studstill and Larry Ferguson.

The Lions, who finished with a 5-8-1 record last year after a series of injuries depleted their ranks, will have a seasoned veteran at every position.

With 42 veterans returning the task for any rookie to gain a berth on the allowed 40-player roster will have to start at 10:00 a.m. Tuesday.

In Exhibition

Softball Teams Split 2

The top two squads in the Pontiac American Softball League split an exhibition double header with a Waterford All-Star team last night at Drayton Plains Park.

* * *

Arro Realty, American loop leader, downed the All-Stars 5-2 in the first game, and the Stars rebounded with a 4-3 triumph over 300 Bowl in the nightcap.

Harry Avesian tossed a four-hitter in the opening contest. Bud and Bill Hayward paced the attack with two hits each.

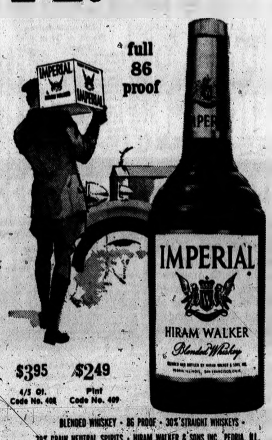

The Stars committed five errs in the opener, resulting in three unearned runs for Arro.

Jim McClelland collected two hits and scattered eight hits to win the second game. The winners scored the winning runs in the bottom of the fifth on consecutive doubles by McClelland, Paul Atkins and Jim Patterson.

Tom Studt and Art Ruelle picked up two hits each for 300 Bowl.

Hills Driver Winner at Waterford Track

Corvettes took the big share of victories in the annual Mid-Summer sports car races at Waterford Hills yesterday, but consistency paid off for Joe Mulholland, Bloomfield Hills racer, in his Jaguar.

Tom Swindell of Pontiac won the all class production in his Corvette with Mulholland finishing second, however in the 15-lap production finale, Swindell was forced out with engine trouble.

* * *

Mulholland, racing in B-class, won the feature and took home the trophy.

Ken Neilsen of Clawson scored wins in the All-Formula class with his Lotus 20 and also the Formula Feature just ahead of H. S. Briggs of Pontiac, driving an Elva.

In the E-F Production class, Erhard Duhm of Detroit driving a Porsche, was the winner and he was followed by Pete Hutchinson of Birmingham in a Porsche and Bob Stout of Pontiac in an Elva.

Corvair driver Don Eichstaedt of Hazel Park won the small car production feature by passing Jerry Tobin of Detroit on the last turn and defeating the Sunbeam by a half car length.

In the All Sedan class, three Volkswagons driven by Jim Purcell, of Detroit, Larry Narr of Detroit and Barrett Wayburn of Bloomfield Hills finished in that order.

Paul Sonda, Detroit Corvette driver was Sunday's biggest casualty. His engine burst into flames during a race and he was uninjured.

Loon Lake Race Win for National Champ

National high point champion Dick Boyer of Germantown, Ohio, led a 53-boat field in the 2nd annual Loon Lake regatta held yesterday afternoon.

Boyer won his specialty in the 48 cubic class, followed by Jack Brown of Lafayette, Ind., and Paul Bauer of Deer Park, Ohio.

Brown then entered the 150 class and scored a victory ahead of George English of Detroit and Ray Weber of St. Clair Shores.

Chuck Thompson Jr., of Southfield, 24-year-old son of the famous Detroit Gold Cup racer who just missed victory in this year's event on the Detroit river in Tahoe Miss, won the 280 class yesterday.

A close race developed in the 7-liter class between Biol Sterrett of Owensboro, Ky., and Jim Miller of Royal Oak.

* * *

Miller blew a gear box and Sterrett emerged the victory.

There were no accidents and the race was held under perfect weather and water conditions, according to chairman Hank Ball.

Amateur Day Climax

Airway Nips All-Stars

Huron-Airway's 3-1 victory over the Class A League All-Stars last night capped a successfully sunny Sunday of Amateur Day baseball at Jaycee Park.

A large crowd enjoyed the pleasant nighttime weather and the tight victory by the defending city champions.

* * *

The weather was not so comfortable during the afternoon games of the younger recreational baseball participants, but the rain that had plagued the Amateur Day programs the two preceding years did not materialize.

Competition was close, hard played, and enjoyed by the players, parents, relatives and other fans who attended the annual affair.

The night game saw Huron-Airway take a 1-0 lead in the first inning aided by some shaky infield work by the All-Stars.

* * *

Catcher Jim Berg of CIO No. 594 singled home the tying run in the second inning for the All-Stars. It came off pitcher Don Sackett, the league's leading moundsman, and was the loser's only tally.

BLANKS H-A

Gary Kraft of Talbott Lumber, meanwhile, held Huron-Airway scoreless in three innings of relief pitching, escaping a bases-loaded, no-out jam in the fourth. This was the second big moment for the All-Stars in the contest.

* * *

H-A regained the lead, 2-1, in the fifth frame when big Al Barkeley stole home winning a close decision from the umpire.

The winners added an insurance marker in the last inning when pitcher Steve Wilson tripled and outfielder John Lucadam singled with one out.

Wilson, who took over the mound duties in the fifth inning from winning hurler Don Pichmann, blanked the All-Stars on one hit in the last three innings.

* * *

The losers had only three hits in the contest and only a seventh inning lead-off single by John Smith over the final five frames.

Milwaukee Yacht 1st in Race to Mackinac

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—The sloop Gypsy, winner of the Queens Cup race two weeks ago, finished first today among a field of 143 yachts entered in the Port Huron-to-Mackinac Race.

* * *

Charles Kolovic of Milwaukee piloted the craft the 235 miles, arriving at 6:19 a.m. The boats started leaving shortly after noon Saturday.

* * *

Corrected times, allowing for handicaps, determine the winner of the annual event and were to be announced late today.

New Yorker Sumner A. Huey Long brought his yawl Ondine in second. The 57-foot Ondine, which won Class A honors in last month's Bermuda race, made the passage in 7:02.00.

* * *

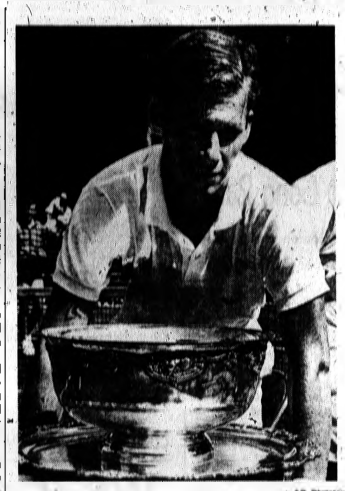

Unofficially, a twin - hulled catamaran owned by Charles Kretschmer of Saginaw finished first. Kretschmer brought his Hoilani, which was not entered in the race because of classifications permitting only single-hulled vessels, in at 6:19.20.

He said he joined the race to promote creation of a special class next year to allow the twin hulled "cats."

Kolovic, who won over-all and Division I laurels in the Milwaukee to Muskegon Queens cup, accepted the traditional award for first finisher today of the DeRoy "A" plaque.

* * *

All the defending champions in the five classes entered the race, with the exception of Blitzen which did not return to defend its Racing Class title. Blitzen's skipper, Tom Schoendorf, suffered a broken ankle several days ago.

Canada Set for Regatta

ST. CATHARINES, Ontario (AP)—The 83nd Royal Canadian Henley Regatta will give way to the 1964 Olympics and row all events at the 2,000-meter Olympic distance instead of the traditional one mile, 550 yards.

* * *

The regatta opens Wednesday with crews and individuals from 28 rowing clubs in Canada, the United States and Mexico competing on the sheltered waters of the old Welland Canal.

* * *

The biggest single club entry is from the host St. Catharines Club with 42 individuals and crews competing. The Detroit Boat Club has 14 entries and the New York AC 11.

Hazel Park Wrestlers Score in AAU Event

Wrestlers from Hazel Park picked up one first, three seconds and a fourth in the Michigan AAU Championship for boys in grades fourth, fifth and sixth at Flint Friday and Saturday.

Dan LeBlanc finished first in the 169-pound division with Robin McIlroy of Pontiac second. Don Nagy was second in the 75-pound class, and Bill Davids recorded another second in the 70-pound division.

Rickey King was fourth in the 55-pound class.

Hospital Case Captures Public Links Golf Title

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The National Public Links Championship, representing golf's grassroots, has wound up in typical fashion where the blades are green.

Carrying the title today is the smallest man ever to win it and a hospital case to boot. He is 5-foot-5 130-pound Bill McDonald.

Mac is a bespectacled, 20-year-old music major junior at Washburn University in Topeka, Kan. His dad is baseball coach there and a scout in the St. Louis Cardinal organization.

HAD BLISTERS

Billy wore blisters on his feet the size of silver dollars. This never happened to him while he was marching in the Washburn band as a trumpet player.

At the lunch break Saturday in his 36-hole finale against 31 year-old Dean Wilson, an Omaha postal clerk and four-time public links champion of his home town, McDonald was taken to General Hospital to have his feet treated.

The hospital gave him some pain-deadening salve and bandaged his feet. When he returned to the Francis Gross course, he found that he could not get his golf shoes on unless he removed the bandages.

He put on new white socks, some more salve and after a luncheon—of a salad—went out to face Goliath in the showdown.

He won 5 and 3. He became the grittiest little competitor to take the "working man's tournament" in its 39-year history. His goal now is to qualify for the national amateur at Cleveland in September and then, upon graduation, to become a music professor and college band leader.

In 95-degree heat on the 6,593-yard, par 35-35—70 Gross course the burr-headed McDonald never was down or even square in his battle with Wilson. He took the lead on the sixth hole in the morning round and kept it.

Ralston Trims '63 Champion in Net Finals

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston again will be Uncle Sam's one-two punch—take your pick—in the Davis Cup Challenge Round in Cleveland Sept. 25-27.

After Ralston's stinging upset of top-ranked McKinley for the National Clay Courts title Sunday, it's now a toss-up which may be the biggest gun in the U.S. Davis Cup defense.

Ralston, a half-foot taller, needed only 64 minutes to polish off the 5-foot-8 McKinley in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1. McKinley's touted service was broken seven times.

Shortly after Ralston's precise play had McKinley mumbling such self-reprimands as "I should have stayed in bed," the two teamed to dethrone Northwestern University's Big Ten pair of Marty Riessen and Clark Graebner, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2 for the clay court doubles title.

The women's singles crown easily was recaptured by Nancy Richey, daughter of a Dallas tennis pro, whose varied game bewildered newly wed Carole Caldwell Graebner, 6-2, 6-1.

Waterford and Utica turned in easy victories yesterday to remain tied for the lead in the Clinton Valley baseball race with 3-0 records.

* * *

Waterford knocked off Chesterfield Township, 13-3, and Utica trimmed L'Anse Creuse, 6-2. In a third game, Washington Township belted Lake Orion, 13-2.

Ron Paschal rapped out a single and two-run double and teammate Jeff Maxwell went three for five to pace the Utica attack.

* * *

Mark Johnson scattered five hits and struck out 17 batters for Washington. Mike Simunic and Butch Peraino collected four hits each for the winners and Peraino knocked in six runs.

In an exhibition contest Saturday, Utica dropped a 4-1 decision to Cranbrook.

Ruth Jessen Wins Yankee Title

GRAND BLANC (AP) — Ruth Jessen won the $10,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association Yankee Open and spoiled hopes of leading money winner Mickey Wright for a record-matching fourth straight tournament victory Sunday.

Miss Jessen of Bonsall, Calif., fired a 4-under-par 68 for a total score of 213, three under par.

Miss Wright, after leading through Saturday's 36 holes of the 54-hole tournament at Atlas Valley Country Club, placed second with 74 for a par 216.

Miss Jessen's victory avenged a close loss to the Dallas golfer in a playoff for the CSGA Women's Open title last week at San Diego, Calif.

AVENGES LOSS

Miss Wright had been shooting to match her own consecutive tourney victory record.

* * *

Sunday's victory meant $1,500 for Miss Jessen and $1,200 for Miss Wright.

Shirley Engleborn of Los Angeles shot a 75 for a closing 220 and third place. She won $970.

Displaying putting accuracy in the final round, Miss Jessen became the second lady pro this year to win more than one tournament. She first won at Beaumont, Tex.

She now is second behind Miss Wright on the money list with $16,960. Miss Wright has won $16,420.

In the last 18 holes, Miss Jessen used only 27 strokes on the green.

She one-putted eight holes and hit 13 of the 18 greens in regulation.

* * *

On the 6th, 7th and 8th holes, she scored straight birdies.

The tourney ended with a three - way tie for fourth place. Finishing with 221 totals each were Betsy Rawls, Mary Mills and Kathy Cornelius. Each won $967.

It was 93 degrees during the final round, and Miss Wright said the heat and a severe head cold conquered her. She lost a three-stroke lead, shooting a par 36 on the front nine but falling two off par on the back course.

Miss Wright took a bogey on No. 9, another on a bad tee shot at No. 12 and a third at No. 18 when she drove into a creek.

Judy Torluemke of Philadelphia was the only girl besides Miss Jessen to break par on the final round. She fired a one-under 71 for fifth place and $480 prize money.

No Upward Push Develops

Stock Prices in Minus Column

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices slipped into the minus column early this afternoon after a wobbly opening. Volume was no better than moderate.

Prices had opened at historic peaks, as measured by the market averages. However, no upward push developed despite almost universal Wall Street opinion that the six-week-old rally would be lengthened.

* * *

Oils, rails and some building material issues provided a majority of the list's plus signs. Steels, motors and utilities were generally off small fractions.

At noon the Associated Press 60-stock average was off .4 from its all-time high, at 321.6. Industrials were off 1.0, rails up .1 and utilities down .2.

STEADY ECONOMY

Weekend news indicated the economy was moving along at a steady rate. President Johnson said the Federal deficit in the year ended June 30 was $500 million less than expected in May. However, preliminary figures on the second quarter balance of payments deficit were unfavorable.

GM, which set historic highs in four of last week's sessions, was never higher. It showed a loss of about a point.

* * *

Prices were mixed in moderately active American Stock Exchange trading. King's Department Stores, Lease Plan International and Caldor Inc. were up more than 1. Paddington and Creole Petroleum lost more than a point.

* * *

Bond prices were steady.

52 Are Killed in Cong Raid

Women and Children Among Those Slain

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas slaughtered 40 civilians and 12 military defenders in a slashing attack today on the district capital of Cai Be, 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

Twenty - three women and children were found among the dead.

The raid followed up an attack yesterday on a military post 30 miles farther southwest in which U.S. spokesman said the guerrillas carried off almost the entire defense force of 120 men as prisoners.

The Viet Cong 261st battalion, numbering several hundred men, swept through a barbed wire - flanked minefield into the dependents quarters of 200 local civil guardsmen at Cai Be.

* * *

Burning every house to the ground, the Viet Cong slaughtered many of the families standing between them and the garrison.

The guerrillas pulled out after about three hours of intense fighting. Only two Viet Cong bodies were left behind.

FIND SLAIN

U.S. advisers moving into the shattered town later found the slain women and children included relatives of the local government district chief. The chief himself was wounded.

Twenty civil guards and many more civilians were wounded.

The Viet Cong partially overran the military defenses, seizing a 30-caliber machine gun and a 60m mortar, among other weapons.

RADIOED FOR HELP

The Cai Be radio post radioed for help about 3 a.m., and flare - dropping planes and artillery barrages were sent.

The Cai Be radio went dead a short time later but came back on the air in an hour or so reporting that the post still was fighting.

Some time after sunrise Monday, elements of the Vietnamese army's 7th Division mounted an operation to try to trap the Viet Cong hit-and-run force, blocking canals and roads north and west of Cai Be.

Prices Turn Weak on Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean and the feed grain futures came under a little selling pressure today during the first several minutes of transactions on the Board of Trade and prices turned weak in spots.

Wheat and rye were moderately firm on support which brokers said may have been mainly speculative. Transactions were rather light, however.

* * *

Brokers said rainfall over the weekend probably contributed to the weakness in corn and soybeans. Both crops were understood to have been benefited considerably.

OLDEST, AND NEWEST—The latest addition to the trucking fleet of Associated Transport, Inc., of New York City is shown beside a 1928 GMC truck first used by a parent firm more than 30 years ago. The old truck has been restored and returned to the fleet for promotional purposes. The 1928 GMC chassis was one of the first trucks purchased by Barnwell Bros. transportation company, which merged with Associated in 1942.

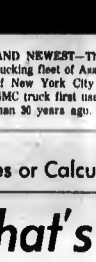

Hunches or Calculations?

What's Boosting Mart?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Emotion or computers? What is sending the stock market averages up: hunches or cold calculations?

For two straight weeks all three of the Dow-Jones averages — 30 industrials, 20 railroads, 15 utilities — have made new highs. This is the first time since 1929 that all three have set records in any one year.

DAWSON

When the industrials were climbing impressively, the rails were lagging. The utilities have gone their more unspectacular course, swinging either way far less than the others. Only this month have all three broken through their earlier highs so convincingly.

* * *

Is it the economic outlook? Is it political excitement and predictions? And who is making this market—the average stock holder or the pros?

The professionals get most of the credit, but what makes them tick? Many think that calculation is the clue to the stock market behavior today even more than ever.

COLDLY CALCULATE

The tradition is that insiders with all the tips and prior knowledge coldly calculate how this or that stock or the market in general will react to any foreseeable set of events.

More recently the notion has grown that the big investors—a comparatively few well-heeled individuals, but more the pension funds and other institutions—do the cold reasoning and buy or sell more or less in unison.

* * *

But veterans on Wall Street warn against this easy view of the market.

They point out that there are now estimated to be 17 million or more Americans holding stocks, each a potential buyer or seller. Most of them may belong to the odd-lotters, the ones who trade in less than 100 shares at a time.

LOOK DOWN

Pros tend to look down their noses at odd-lotters as always wrong. Maybe they are, but they aren't without influence on stock price trends—such as the summer rally now intriguing the watchers of the stock market scene.

And pros are people, too. The institutional investors may seem impersonal, but individuals make the investing decisions. Right now is it emotion or calculation that determines?

* * *

One flatly stated view is that of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, New York: "A view of the stock market as a vast exercise in rational judgement, dominated by professionals coolly clicking off computations and weighing alternatives on the basis of perfect information, is a myth.

"It neglects the side of the market where millions of seperate souls, many of them acting on emotion as often as on information or reason, collectively hold the preponderance of power. Fragmented, that power can be stabilizing; coalesced, it can become an irresistible drive up or down. Always it is there."

MOSTLY BULLISH

Right now the force seems to be predominately bullish.

Friday the market saw 635 shares advance and 432 decline. The popular averages were even more impressive.

The record high set Friday by the Dow-Jones industrials was 851.35, compared with a 1964 low of 766.08. The rails advanced to a record 220.98, an even more impressive advance from the 1964 low of 178.81. The industrials, also fairly steadily climbing from the year's low of 137.30, reached a record 148.25.

The Friday climb of all three duplicated that of the week before, when they also set new highs.

* * *

The general economy is booming, politics can influence individual traders, tradition calls for a summer rally in stock prices. All of these add up to cold calculation as to the course of stock prices.

But don't forget that other thing—the emotion which can work in short gusts (as on the day President Kennedy was killed) or in long cycles. In concentration it can be irresistible—and maybe right, maybe wrong.

Another Link in Chain of Chicago Mystery

CHICAGO (AP) — There's a new link in the seemingly endless chain of bombings of restaurants in the Chicago area.

The latest blast let go before sunrise Sunday in a doorway of the Gus Steak House on the near North Side.

* * *

It raised to about 40 the number of restaurants, night clubs and taverns that have been hit by bombs and fires in the last two years.

All are unsolved.

DAMAGE LISTED

The black powder bomb that went off at a side door of Gus' place damaged the door, a canopy and vestibule, and shattered nine windows in a building across the street which houses the Chicago Board of Health. Some windows in other nearby buildings were broken.

Milton Goff, a porter at work in the kitchen, was knocked down by the concussion.

The owner, Dante Corsiglia, said he had no trouble and had received no threats.

That's part of the pattern of mystery that has baffled and chagrined officials.

GOVERNOR AROUSED

Gov. Otto Kerner brought together officials of seven northeastern Illinois counties early in 1963. He was aroused by the blasts in the night.

"We have seen a show of force that laughs at law enforcement," he said.

* * *

The officials pledged cooperation in the fight against the unseen foe. James McMahon, assistant director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety, became coordinator of the campaign.

So far, there has been no solution of the wholesale whodunit.

FAINT HOPE

There is a faint ray of hope. Joseph Ragen, state director of public safety, said last week investigators have received some "good leads" to crime syndicate influences in the wave of bombings and fires.

He said they were obtained from questionnaires filled out by restaurant owners in the seven-county area.

Woman Dies After Surgery Set by Court

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 78-year-old woman whose leg was amputated by court order to save her life, died today.

Hospital authorities said the exact cause of Mrs. Regina Sovner's death was not at once determined.

The amputation was performed Saturday after Circuit Judge Hal Dekle, in a special bedside court session, ordered the operation done.

* * *

Dekle was told at the emergency hearing by Jackson Memorial Hospital Chief Surgeon Dean Warren that Mrs. Sovner certainly would die if the gangrenous right leg were not removed.

Mrs. Sovner had refused to permit the operation.

* * *

Just before she was taken to surgery she muttered a consent, but Dr. Warren said she was in a coma then and unable because of effects of her ailing leg to make a rational decision.

News in Brief

A total of 14 windows were broken last night by vandals at Beaumont Elementary School, 6532 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township.

Robert Thompson, 125 N. Josephine, Waterford Township, told police yesterday that miscellaneous tools, a shotgun and a tire, with a total value of $600, were stolen from his car.

Rudy Terbice, 29900 Sugar Spring, Farmington Township, told police yesterday that his water ski equipment valued at $165 was stolen at Holiday Park on Cass Lake.

Don't Give Up if College Too Crowded

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Have your favorite colleges rejected your applications?

"Sorry," they said, in effect, "but we have been swamped with many fine applications like yours. We just have no more room."

NASON

You are not alone. All over the United States, thousands of students with records as good as yours have received rejection slips. But cheer up, they may be doing you a favor!

The admissions officers who turned you down were striving to select those students who had the best chance of being successful in their particular colleges. They may have felt that the competition would be too tough for you.

* * *

They were probably right; you probably will do better in some other college. And that is important, because the record you make in college stays with you.

Don't give up now. A college education can still be yours. Although the crush at the doors of many colleges has filled them to capacity, a number of fully accredited colleges do need, and want, qualified students.

They may be smaller, less wealthy, and less well - known, but they are, according to the regional associations which rate them, qualified institutions.

It is still not too late to apply. Consult your school guidance counselor. He undoubtedly has a list of accredited colleges which would accept you on the basis of your record.

CHANGE FIELD

This time choose a field and a college in which you feel you have a better chance to be accepted.

There are organizations which put students in touch with colleges that have openings. They charge a fee of $10 to $15, which should be sent with your application and records. They are:

Association of College Admissions Counselors, 2300 Shermer Road, Northbrook, Ill.

College Admissions Center, 610 Church Street, Evanston, Ill.

College Admissions Assistance Center, 41 E. 65 Street, New York 21, N.Y.

Catholic College Admissions and Information Center, 3005 McKinley Street, Washington 15, D.C.

* * *

These centers will make your application and record available to colleges that still have room for students. Most of their applicants get invitations from one or more colleges.

Don't overlook junior colleges. They offer courses paralleling the first two years of university work designed for students who intended to transfer to four-year schools without loss of credit.

A junior college will give you a chance to improve your record and demonstrate your ability to do quality college work.

A year or two at a junior college can make you more welcome at a four-year college—even at the university of your choice which turned you down this year.

Success in college will depend upon your own efforts. It is up to you to improve your ability as a student.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

The writer of a bridge book has an easier time than the writer of a column. If you don't think so, look at this hand from Fred Karpin's book on decisions at trick one.

JACOBY

East's queen of clubs held the first trick and South made the mistake of playing the seven spot instead of the jack.

South won the heart return and cashed three top spades and three top hearts. Neither suit broke, so South led his jack of clubs.

West did not cover with the ting and South wound up going down one trick.

Fred points out that if South had dropped his jack of clubs under East's queen, he would have had no trouble making his contract in spite of the bad suit breaks.

The lesson Fred teaches is worthwhile. South surely should have thought and then dropped the jack of clubs, but South should have made the hand anyway.

After his jack of clubs held, South could simply have played ace and another diamond.

If East won the trick, he would be able to take a spade and a heart, but would have to concede the last trick to dummy's ace of clubs.

If East dropped the jack on the first diamond play, West would have been able to cash three diamond tricks, but would still have had to give dummy the last club trick.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Tuesday

"The wise man controls his destiny. Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Hold back on correspondence, travel, decisions involving long-range plans. Avoid definite commitments. Years are details which require study. Take time to be certain of facts.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Aid due from unexpected source. There are pressures to reason for action. But try to BALANCE EMOTIONS. Very good for delving beneath surface indications. But don't get lost!

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Don't be overbearing. Applies especially where domestic family activities are concerned. Your sense of humor may strike some the wrong way. Apply touch of DIPLOMACY.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Ideas sparkle . . . but you have tendency to put off action. Key is overcoming fear of unknown. Step toward the challenge! Show that you are confident. Others will express admiration.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): So much in your favor you may become suspicious! Free to maximize hearing degree of skepticism . . . but don't bite hand that feeds you. You have much to do. Get on with it!

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Conflict exists between what you want to do . . . and what must be accomplished. Key is to finish what you start. Answer to current problem comes from older family member.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Be "Libra" of many ground. MAKE COMPROMISE. Many may seek moral support. Resist tendency to criticize. Make new friends by defending sympathy — and by being right. Intuition high.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Pressures appear in area related to income, potential earning power. Could affect man or business partner. Be aware of economizing. Permit full rein to natural curiosity.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You are attracted to situation or person not necessarily good for you. Sense of fantasy surrounds you. Stress actuality is not what meets the eye.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Don't try to force issues. Better to relax — dine out, attend theater or other entertainment you would like. Any stable time, especially by insisting on immediate decisions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Excitement of INTELLECTUAL CURIOSITY prevails. You can find answers to current puzzles. Investigate. Ask questions . . . consult with experts. Remain alert, responsive.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Satisfaction due from job well performed. You can now receive recognition of one you respect. Day to enjoy fruits of labor. You are to be congratulated.

* * *

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you have way of attracting interest of important people. You would make excellent agent, promoter, salesman. People "like" to have you around!

* * *

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for SAGITTARIUS, CAPRICORN, AQUARIUS. Special word to LEO: Know when you are well off—don't upset apple cart.

Cholera Epidemic Toll Hits 87 in Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—One more death in Malaysia's cholera epidemic was listed today, bringing the total to 87.

A health ministry report said the number of confirmed and suspected cases of the disease, plus confirmed carriers, admitted to hospitals has mounted to 963. Most of the cases have occurred in the East coast states, but six cases have been listed as hospitals in Malacca on the the west coast.

Goiter has been all but eliminated in the United States by mixing iodine with table salt.

Judy Garland Suffers Injury to Her Wrists

LONDON (AP)—Judy Garland was treated at a London hospital today for injuries to her wrists.

The 42-year-old actress and singer was discharged several hours after her admission to St. Stephen's Hospital, Chelsea.

* * *

A hospital statement said she was "suffering from minor injuries to her wrists."

After she was discharged, the hospital said Miss Garland had requested it not to disclose her whereabouts.

LONDON VISIT

Miss Garland arrived in London three weeks ago with Mark Herron, an American actor with whom she was reported to have gone through a Chinese marriage ceremony in Hong Kong last month.

She said she would be in London several weeks on a vacation.

The singer was rushed to a Hong Kong hospital in a coma in May. Her personal physician, Dr. Lee Siegel, flew from Hollywood and reported she was suffering from pleurisy, the "aftermath of a coma of unknown origin."

Her sudden illness followed a stormy Australian concert tour. Herron said she was exhausted.

Miss Garland left the hospital June 1 and recuperated in Hong Kong.

Says Margaret Chase Smith

'America Lacks Clear National Goals'

DETROIT (AP) — America, says Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, suffers from a "tragic lack of clear-cut national objectives." She deplores what she calls a "vogue of self-deception and procrastination."

The Maine Republican, in her first public appearance since the San Francisco Republican convention where she was a candidate for the presidential nomination won by Sen. Barry Goldwater, gave her ideas to an applauding convention of women Sunday night.

* * *

Mrs. Smith, first woman in a major party to have sought the presidency, told the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs that the United States must have a strategy of "initiative" in order to meet Communism's "dynamic aggression."

* * *

The silver-haired lady in a blue gown made what usually comes under the heading of a fighting speech to her feminine audience in Cobo Hall.

'GRAVE DANGERS'

"We are faced," Mrs. Smith said, "with many grave dangers today.

* * *

"But the danger that concerns me most is the tendency to wring our hands and bemoan the complications of world conditions — and to use those complications as an excuse for avoiding decisions —or for delaying them until after elections for fear of losing votes.

* * *

Mrs. Smith told her Cobo Hall audience America must have leaders who "master crisis rather than debate it.

"In this vogue of self-deception and procrastination," she said, "the timid and the procrastinators quickly and loudly condemn those with a sense of urgency and decisiveness as irresponsible and reckless.

END RESULT

"The end result has been a tragic lack of clearcut national objectives and national strategy."

Mrs. Smith said the Communists, on the contrary, have followed a strategy of "dynamic aggression in the full spectrum of the exercise of power."

* * *

America must remain dedicated to peace, she said, but not at the expense of permitting such dedication to "degenerate into an attitude of peace at any price merely for the sake of survival."

Sinatra's Paris 'Gorillas' Were Really His 'Rat Pack'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Although Paris papers reported that Frank Sinatra was around that city with "gorillas," his friends actually consisted of Hollywood producer William Perlberg, actor Martin Gabel, playwright-producer Harry Kurnitz, agent Irving Lazar, comedian Joe E. Lewis, Dr. Leon Krohn of Los Angeles, and Jilly, the night club owner.

WILSON

Pictures showed Joe E. Lewis carrying a bottle when some of them went out nightclubbing, and a captain said, "Big Joe, the terror of the photographers, and his bottle of gin." Actually, Joe E. was toting a bottle of Jack Daniels for Frank.

'Subversives Not a Factor in Protests'

IMPERIAL BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Any subversive influences on demonstrations at the recent Republican convention in San Francisco were at a minimum, says Rep. August E. Johansen.

* * *

The Michigan Republican, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said he was at San Francisco to assess subversive influence on protest demonstrations. He commented at the home of a sister here.

* * *

"Frankly, I think it (subversive influence) was minimal, from all I've been able to learn," Johansen said. "I think law enforcement officers handled the whole matter with great discretion. And, having been here (in San Francisco) in 1960, I appreciate the contrast."

Johansen's latter reference was to 1960 committee hearings at which a riot broke out.

150,000 Shriners in New York for 1964 Convention

NEW YORK (AP)—The Shriners, 150,000 strong, are in town for their 1964 convention.

* * *

The red-fezzed members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine came Sunday from throughout the nation, Canada and Mexico.

The 90th annual Imperial Council session of the Masonic affiliate continues through Friday with meetings, parades and special ceremonies.

* * *

The Shriners, from 167 Shrine temples, brought 75 brass bands, 10 string bands, 60 Oriental bands, 10 kiltie bands, 50 drum and bugle corps and 20 mounted horse patrols.

Asia Mourners Riotous at Burial of Actress

HONG KONG (AP) — Movie star Lin Dai was carried to her grave yesterday while police wrestled with a crowd of 50,000, including a group of hysterical women who broke through police lines and threw themselves at the hearse.

* * *

Despite the riotous procession through Hong Kong, there were no reports of serious injuries. The 33-year-old actress, often called the most beautiful woman in the Orient, was found dead in a gas-filled bedroom Friday.

Trial of Hoffa in Final Stage

Expect Jury to Get Case by End of Week

CHICAGO (UPI)—The marathon fraud trial of Teamster boss James R. Hoffa and six associates reached the final argument stage today.

The federal government's second attempt this year to put Hoffa behind bars is expected to go to the jury by the end of the week.

But before the jury starts its deliberations it is faced with a review of thousands of pages of testimony and close scrutiny of thousands of documents.

Chief prosecutor William O. Bittman said his closing arguments would last about five hours.

* * *

Defense counsel George Callahan said each of the seven defense attorneys would need about two hours.

15,000 PAGES

The jury will have to consider more than 15,000 pages of testimony and more than 25,000 documents submitted as exhibits and review the 23 remaining counts of the indictment.

U.S. District Court Judge Richard B. Austin will give the panel lengthy instructions and read to them the remaining 21 counts of mail fraud and two of wire fraud.

The jury has heard 114 witnesses in the government attempts to back up its claim that Hoffa and the six others fraudulently obtained $25 million in loans from the Teamster pension fund.

* * *

The government contends they diverted $1.7 million, most of which went for trying to bolster a financially troubled Teamster retirement project in which Hoffa allegedly had a secret 45 per cent interest.

DENIES INTEREST

Hoffa has denied he had any interest in the project, Sun Valley, Inc., and also denied that he ever used his influence as a pension fund trustee to obtain loans.

* * *

Hoffa is presently appealing his conviction on jury-tampering charges earlier this year at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Bodies Found in Plane Crash

WAWA, Ont. (AP) — Police reported Sunday night they have recovered the bodies of four Jackson, Mich., anglers killed in the crash of their light plane near here.

* * *

The dead were identified as Walter Zimmerman, owner and pilot of the Cessna 180, Howard Kuntz, Wendell Whitney and Fred Dutton.

* * *

The aircraft hit a hill at the Sir James Dunne iron ore mine, two miles north of here.

* * *

The crash was discovered Saturday. The four men, who had planned a week of fishing in the area, were last seen when they stopped Friday to refuel at Sault Ste. Marie, 150 miles south of here.

Held in Fatal Beating

YPSILANTI (AP) — Police today held Kenneth Hussan, 25, of Wayne in connection with the fatal beating of Harold Barker, 38, of Romulus in a fight at a Romulus bar Saturday night. Officers said Hussan beat Barker to death with his bare hands.

State GOP Faces Split Over Extremism

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT — Michigan's Republican party — in the throes of an agonizing appraisal on the subject of extremism—appears today to be on the verge of developing a split political personality.

Unless the GOP presidential nominee, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, can reach an understanding with Gov. Romney, the governor is expected to go his separate way in his reelection campaign this fall.

Chances of an agreement coming at a "summit" conference of national Republican leaders are regarded by most observers as slim at best.

Romney made this fairly clear at San Francisco when he told newsmen: "there isn't any question in my mind that the way we conduct the Michigan campaign is the way the national campaign ought to be conducted in Michigan."

He said it should be free of hate - peddling and fear-spreading and devoted to issues of the day.

CLOSET ADVISERS

Many of Romney's closest advisers are saying privately they cannot see how the national campaign can avoid becoming a dirty, mud-slinging battle involving extremist groups that wallow in bigotry, slander and racial slurs.

The Goldwater organization will set up a campaign headquarters separate from the regular GOP state central operation, but this in itself is not indicative of any split. Most candidates have separate operations.

But the usual close, co-operative liaison between a presidential candidate's camp and the state party headquarters will be missing if Romney disassociates himself from Goldwater.

This will not set well with the staunchest Goldwater supporters, who may in retaliation refuse to lift a finger to help Romney's gubernatorial campaign.

At the Republican convention, Romney fought hard but un-

ENDS CAMPAIGN — Alabama Gov. George Wallace yesterday quit the presidential race he has been waging in an effort to bring his anti-civil rights views to public attention. Wallace declined to support any candidate and said he is not in touch with Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Wallace Drops Candidacy

Claims Drive Against Rights Is Sucecssful

To Support Candidate Who Is Conservative, States Rights Backer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, confident his anti-civil rights campaign has been successful, withdrew yesterday as an independent presidential candidate.

The governor pulled out officially with an announcement over a nationally televised program.

Wallace said he was withdrawing because his objective has been accomplished. He said: "There is now more states rights talk than in a quarter of a century. I was the instrument of this. My message has been heeded."

He pledged endorsement to no one in advance. To newsmen who asked if his withdrawal meant most of the vote he would have drawn would now go to Republican Barry M. Goldwater, the Alabama governor said only: "Time will tell."

★ ★ ★

He indicated he would know more after next month's Democratic national convention at Atlantic City, N.J.

TO EYE VIEWS

Wallace, a Democrat, said he would support the major party candidate who proved to be the more conservative and zealous in supporting the principles of local government, private enterprise and states' rights.

The governor's withdrawal took many of his Southern supporters by surprise. Some expressed disappointment. Others were pleased, saying

Police, Negro Mobs Clash by Night as Riots Hit Harlem

NEW YORK (AP) — Missiles rained from roofs, crowds knocked down barricades, fists and knives flashed in the steamy heat, and police guns barked. Harlem was rioting.

While temperatures soared Saturday and Sunday nights in the packed Negro section, police and Negroes locked in surging fights in which one Negro was shot to death. More than 100 persons were injured, including two dozen patrolmen.

Plate glass windows fell in slivers and more than a score of stores were looted. One supermarket lost $2,000 cash, 200 cartons of cigarettes and 50 cases of beer. Every rifle in one pawnshop disappeared.

Included in the loot were cameras, clothing, jewelry and watches.

There were more than 100 arrests.

Tensions had lessened a great deal by today, police said, but they continued their patrol, still wearing steel helmets.

Last night, five civilians were treated at hospitals for gunshot wounds. Twelve patrolmen were injured by flying objects.

Also injured were a white television cameraman and several other newsmen.

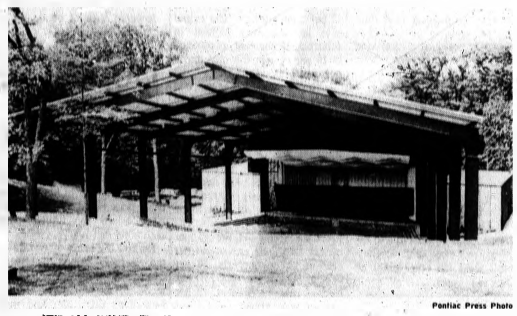

SCORE ARRESTED

A score of persons were arrested.

The initial outburst followed protest rallies over the fatal shooting of a Negro boy by a white policeman. The violence left one man shot to death, 132 arrested, and more than 100 injured, including a dozen patrolmen.

The new flare-up followed fu-

IT'S ALL DONE—The Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion and Lula C. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell are ready for the start of the Meadow Brook Music Festival Thursday night. Built at a cost of $300,000, the pavilion will seat 2,000 listeners. On the grassy slopes around the pavilion, there is space for many more music lovers.

Pavilion Complete for Festival

First Concert Thursday

The new $300,000 Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion on Oakland University campus is completed and ready for the first of 12 concerts in the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

Opening night is Thursday at 8:30 when the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will present its beginning program in the outdoor setting.

The Lula C. Wilson Memorial Concert Shell, designed by Christopher Jaffe of Norwalk, Conn., has been "tuned" by the acoustical expert.

Laminated reinforced fiber glass polycylindrical columns are used for walls around the orchestra on the stage.

★ ★ ★

Over the stage and for a short distance in front of it (like an eyebrow) there are multifaceted panels of fiber glass which can be tilted to any angle.

These surfaces help to disperse and balance sound throughout the stage and listening area. They may be adjusted at any time, even during a performance.

SEASON TICKETS

All season tickets for Thursday and Friday night concerts in the $6 and $10 range have been sold.

★ ★ ★

There are still $3 season tickets and individual 75-cent tickets for seats on the grass outside the pavilion.

Tickets for the Saturday night concerts are available in all price ranges.

Police Nab 3 in Crime Spree

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Some 50 police with drawn guns converged on a Benton Harbor apartment house today and took three men into custody in connection with a robbery spree and kidnaping.

A fourth person was being sought.

Officers were led to the apartment after Benton Harbor police "got a tip."

No shots were fired as the officers broke in to arrest the three and confiscated both money and guns from the apartment.

During the spree, two nearby Berrien Springs police officers and a gas station attendant were stripped of their clothing, weapons and police car and left bound to trees and an old wagon wheel in an orchard just west of Berrien Springs.

FOUR STATIONS

At least four gas stations were held up during the two - hour spree.

52 Killed in Cong Raid

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas slaughtered 40 civilians and 12 military defenders in a slashing attack today on the district capital of Cai Be, 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

Twenty - three women and children were found among the dead.

The raid followed up an attack yesterday on a military post 30 miles farther southwest in which U.S. spokesman said the guerrillas carried off almost the entire defense force of 130 men as prisoners.

The Viet Cong 261st battalion, numbering several hundred men, swept through a barbed wire - flanked minefield into the dependents quarters of 200 local civil guardsmen at Cai Be.

★ ★ ★

Burning every house to the ground, the Viet Cong slaughtered many of the families standing between them and the garrison.

★ ★ ★

The guerrillas pulled out after about three hours of intense fighting. Only two Viet Cong bodies were left behind.

FIND SLAIN

U.S. advisers moving into the shattered town later found the slain women and children included relatives of the local government district chief. The chief himself was wounded.

Twenty civil guards and many more civilians were wounded.

The Viet Cong partially overran the military defenses, seizing a 30-caliber machine gun and a 60m mortar, among other weapons.

★ ★ ★

RADIOED FOR HELP

The Cai Be radio post radioed for help about 3 a.m., and flare - dropping planes and artillery barrages were sent.

The Cai Be radio went dead a short time later but came back on the air in an hour or so reporting that the post still was fighting.

Some time after sunrise Monday, elements of the Vietnamese army's 7th Division mounted an operation to try to trap the Viet Cong hit-and-run force, blocking canals and roads north and west of Cai Be.

U.S. Gathering Facts to Expose Racists

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's public condemnation of "clandestine hate organizations" will be followed by legal maneuvers to expose those he has accused of fomenting terror, violence and savagery.

An administration source said today evidence is being gathered by federal authorities to use against those who, in Johnson's words, try to "force, bully and intimidate" Negroes from claiming their constitutional rights.

There have been reports of a resurgence of the Ku Klux Klan in parts of the deep South.

Johnson, although declining to say whether he specifically had the Klan in mind, told a Saturday news conference at his Texas ranch:

"Some of the factual reports which I read daily have recently given me cause for concern regarding organized violence by small groups who mask their identity.

★ ★ ★

"I condemn as do most Americans the use of violence and terror by clandestine hate organizations."

POINTED REFERENCE

Johnson's reference to those who "mask their identity" seemed calculated.

Members of the Klan wear white sheets and hoods.

The President flew back to Washington late last night after spending the weekend at his ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

★ ★ ★

Johnson faces a busy schedule of official meetings this week—with the prime ministers of New Zealand and Malaysia, with Latin American foreign ministers and with leaders of business and labor.

OVERHEATED DISCUSSION

One White House official who declined to be identified by name, told newsmen before the president's departure from Texas that Johnson fears "overheated discussion" of economic policy during the election campaign might undermine prosperity.

★ ★ ★

He conceded, under questioning, that it would be futile to expect candidates to maintain complete silence on economic issues. But he said Johnson does hope Congress can complete action on economic measures, including the antipoverty program, before the campaign.

Underground Blast Detected in Siberia

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — A new underground explosion in Siberia was registered by the seismological institute here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

It was the third in a series which seems to have an interval of nine weeks between blasts. The first took place March 15, the second May 16 and the third July 19.

★ ★ ★

The institute said it could not tell if they were nuclear blasts or "ordinary chemical explosions." All have taken place in the Semipalatinsk area in Siberia. Yesterday's was in the "lower kiloton class," said the institute.

105 Scouts From Area at Jamboree

One hundred and five Pontiac area Boy Scouts left the Pontiac Mall in three buses Wednesday night for Valley Forge, Pa., where they are attending the sixth National Jamboree.

They arrived about 10 a.m. Thursday and immediately started setting up camp.

Press Correspondent Randy Seiss writes that they soon realized how little sleep they had had on the bus trip when they started pitching their tents on the huge campground.

After setting up camp, the boys tried their hand at carpentry; building picnic tables. Some "were the oddest pieces of carpentry, you ever saw," Randy writes.

After their first taste of Jamboree cooking, the boys gathered at the Trading Post to indulge in one of their favorite pastimes — trading patches.

"Those patches are like money here," Randy writes. "Three-color patches are worth more than two-color — like the relationship of a quarter to a dime."

The weatherman's been playing the same record since Thursday — hot with showers. We've had the heat, but have yet to see the showers.

And, yep, you've guessed it. He's predicted scattered showers again for tonight and tomorrow.

As for temperature, little change is expected. A low of 62 to 68 is forecast.

It won't be so warm tomorrow, just 80 to 87. That's if the rains come, however.

Wednesday's outlook is fair.

The low mercury reading prior to 8 a.m. today was 71 in downtown Pontiac.

FBI Chief Hits Leniency

Crime Spiral Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 2.5 million serious crimes—four a minute—were reported in 1963 as the national crime rate continued a relentless climb, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

The 10 per cent increase and a high percentage of criminal repeaters prompted Director J. Edgar Hoover to renew his call against what he called excessive leniency which tends to "ignore the victim and obscure the right of a free society to equal protection under the law."

* * *

Crime has increased five times faster than the national population since 1958, the FBI said in its annual report Hoover said the cost of crime now is conservatively estimated at $27 billion annually.

In 1963, there was a murder every hour, a forcible rape every 32 minutes and an assault every four minutes.

UP 11 PER CENT

Crimes against property were primarily responsible for the crime rate increase, jumping by 11 per cent.

Murders and rapes mounted by 1 per cent, assaults 6, larceny 13, auto theft 11, burglary 9 and robbery 5.

* * *

The FBI statistics showed that:

—For every 1,000 persons in the United States there were 12 serious crimes and victims and 35 arrests for all types of criminal acts.

HIGHEST IN CITIES

—The arrest rate was highest in cities—42 per 1,000 persons—and lowest in the rural areas at 15 per 1,000 persons. The crime rate increase was highest in suburbia, 13 per cent, compared to 10 per cent in the city and 6 per cent in rural areas.

—The crime increase was sharpest in the northeastern states—13 per cent—and lowest in the north central states at 6 per cent.

* * *

—For the 15th consecutive year, law enforcement agencies showed an increase in arrests of juveniles, under 18, who made up 17 per cent of all arrests. The juveniles accounted for 63 per cent of auto theft arrests, 51 per cent of larceny arrests, 50 per cent of burglary arrests, 26 per cent of robbery arrests, 18 per cent of rape arrests and 8 per cent of murder arrests.

—The value of stolen property in 1963 exceeded $785 million. Police recoveries cut the property loss to 46 cents per dollar.

—The year brought 8,500 murders, 91 per cent solved by arrests.

* * *

For the first time, the FBI began to compile statistics on frequency of crimes committed by repeaters. Of the 56,000 offenders whose criminal fingerprint records were handled in 1963, 75 per cent had been arrested twice or more.

State GOP Faces Split

successfully to strengthen the 1964 platform on the matter of extremism and civil rights.

Virtually all observers agree that implementation of the new federal civil rights law will be a major campaign issue on the national level, in view of Goldwater's vote against passage of the measure.

"One of the clouds hanging over this campaign is the question of how much it's going to turn on the views of and the pressures brought to bear by the racist and segregationist elements in this country," said GOP National Committeeman John Martin of Grand Rapids in an interview.

* * *

"I think the Republican party has to stand squarely on this problem and has to repudiate that kind of thing," Martin said. "It has to make sure this campaign is not conducted with any appeal to elements of that sort.

RIGHTS SITUATION

"The question of extremism is also tied to this civil rights situation because many of these extremist groups are also racist groups. So for that reason our position on extremism was also related to our position on civil rights."

* * *

Martin said there are extremists in Michigan who want to capitalize on fear and hate and bigotry — and who want to do it through the Republican party.

"We can see what's going on around the country," Martin added. "And it's absolutely vital that this party of ours not be allowed to be tempted by any of the possibilities that some of the extremist groups throw up to suggest that there may be votes to be gained by particular positions of that kind.

"We have the situation reasonably under control in Michigan, but they keep trying."

PACKED GALLERIES

Martin was disturbed by the booing and catcalls which reverberated from the packed galleries in San Francisco's Cow Palace the night New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, a Goldwater critic, spoke to the convention.

"This is typical of these groups, that is, a complete intolerance," he said. "They don't want the other point of view expressed."

An appeal to baser emotions is an easy thing to do, Martin believes.

* * *

ROMNEY CAMPAIGN

Martin said Romney wants to conduct a campaign along the lines that he believes are right —and expects the national campaign to be conducted along similar lines. He added:

"But I don't think we're going to accept the business of high level from the candidate and a low level from all these people down the line who are part of the organization.

"We're not going to be a party to something like that."

* * *

"I don't suspect Goldwater of any double motives on this, but I do know a lot of other people who would be glad to see that kind of thing develop and promoted."

Expect Coin Shortage to End by Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's coin shortage probably will end early next year, a Treasury official said today.

* * *

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said in an interview published by U.S. News and World Report that a big jump in production should put an end to most coin hoarding in a few months.

Wallace Is Out of Campaign for the Presidency

his action leaves Southern conservatives a clear-cut choice between President Johnson and Goldwater.

Within hours after his appearance in Washington, Wallace returned to Birmingham for a hastily assembled strategy meeting with his slate of unpledged presidential electors.

* * *

Lt. Gov. James Allen, leader of the slate, announced afterwards that the presidential electors "have no intention of delivering the Democratic machinery over to the Republicans."

TO DECIDE LATER

Allen declined to say who the electors might support, and said they would wait until after the Democratic convention to decide.

There are 10 unpledged elector nominees. When they qualified to run they were not required to promise to support a Democrat, but each signed an oath not to vote for a Republican.

They face an opposing slate of Republican elector nominees in the November general election.

Wallace has long contended that unpledged electors could bring the two national parties to a position where they would have to adopt programs more acceptable to the South, particularly on the civil rights issue.

He carried this campaign into the primaries of Indiana, Maryland, and Wisconsin, where he polled a strong vote.

Farley Says Barry Bid Improves LBJ Chances

NEW YORK (AP) — James A. Farley says he thinks President Johnson's chances of winning in November have been improved by the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater as the Republican candidate.

Farley, former national Democratic chairman, said in a radio interview that Johnson might do better than President Franklin D. Roosevelt did in 1932 when he carried 42 of 48 states against Herbert Hoover.

WEEKEND WEDDING — Dr. Samuel Sheppard gets a pat on the cheek as he holds marriage license shortly before his weekend marriage in Chicago to blonde German divorcee Ariane Tebbenjohanns. The pair flies to New York today to await an appeal court decision on Sheppard's request for freedom without bond.

Hopes, Fears Cloud Future for Sheppard

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard, happy in his freedom from prison and his new marriage, faced the future today with hope and fear.

He and his bride of two days, the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns, a German divorcee, made arrangements to fly to New York City. She said they would have interviews there, but she didn't go into detail.

* * *

"We cannot make any plans," she told a newsman. "We'll stay available. Perhaps by Wednesday Dr. Sam will have to go back to the penitentiary."

But Dr. Sheppard and his attorney, J. Lee Bailey, said they expected the physician to remain out of prison, where he served almost nine years for slaying his first wife, Marilyn, in 1954.

FREED THURSDAY

Sheppard walked out of the penitentiary Thursday on the order of a federal judge who ruled he did not have a fair trial.

The next step in the case will be taken Wednesday. A three-judge panel of the 6th U.S. Court of Appeals will decide whether Sheppard shall remain free on $10,000 bond while the state of Ohio appeals the order which freed him.

Dr. Sheppard, 40, and the 35-year-old blonde he married Saturday dined with friends in their honeymoon hotel Sunday and received telephone calls from others.

He spoke of teaching or doing other nonmedical work until his license to practice medicine is restored. Or, his new wife suggested, he could do administrative work in his family's clinic in Bay Village, Ohio. They plan to live in Rocky River, another community in the Cleveland area.

UNDER SHADOW

While obviously happy, Dr. Sheppard told a reporter he is living "under the shadow of rearrest and retrial."

But he also said: "I do not expect to be sent back to prison."

* * *

Bailey, Boston attorney who became interested in the case in 1961 and who helped Sheppard gain his freedom, was more positive.

"I'm satisfied beyond any doubt whatsoever that Sam won't go back—at all," he told a reporter.

SUPREME COURT

If a court should order him back behind the bars, Bailey said, "I'll get a staying order from the U.S. Supreme Court."

The new Mrs. Sheppard, who was divorced from the heir to a steel fortune in Dusseldorf in 1957, became interested in the Sheppard case in 1959. She began writing to Sheppard. They met early in 1963 while she was visiting the United States. She came to this country to stay a year ago.

Police Seek Hit-Run Craft

Water Skier Injured on Pontiac Lake

With a list of registered boats on Pontiac Lake Saturday, the Oakland County Sheriff's Office today began a process of elimination in its search for a hit-and-run power craft that severely injured a water skier.

Being sought is a green and white or aqua and white outboard boat that passed over Daniel Fleeger, 21, of 25514 Ivanhoe.

Fleeger is in fair condition at Old Grace Hospital, Detroit, with severe injuries to both arms.

The accident occurred shortly after 5 p.m. while Fleeger and a companion, Carleton L. Seyler, also of Detroit, were in the water waiting to be picked up by a friend who had been towing them on skis.

* * *

Seyler told water deputies that he was about 10 feet from Fleeger when the unidentified craft cut across him.

CONTINUED ON

Seyler told Lt. Donald Kratt, director of the water safety division, that the hit-and-run craft stopped about 100 feet away and then continued on.

* * *

He was told that two men and two women were in the craft.

* * *

Kratt said that water deputies list the registration numbers of boats as a routine matter.

Deal With Pakistan Is Pleasing to India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An Indian government spokesman expressed pleasure this weekend at a barter deal made at Rawalpindi between India and Pakistan with a value of $17.85 million.

It includes Indian purchase of nearly 100,000 tons of rice in return for coal, spices and railroad equipment in the next year.

deputies freed officer Bart Cooper and part-time officer Terry Hoadley of Berrien Springs from their bounds after Guy Smith, a Berrien Springs service station attendant, untied himself and walked nude to a nearby farmhouse for help.

Berrien Springs is about halfway between Benton Harbor and Niles.

* * *

Hoadley told deputies that he thought "they would have shot us if we'd said the wrong thing."

STOPPED AT STATION

Police said Cooper and Hoadley had stopped at Smith's gas station when the four bandits drove up in a car.

The driver asked directions to Chicago. Copper walked over to the car.

Cooper told officers he spotted some money on the back seat of the car just as he felt a gun in his back.

* * *

The bandits disarmed the two policemen, took $80 from Smith, forced the three men into the police car and drove to the orchard.

STRIPPED NUDE

Smith and Hoadley were stripped nude, and tied to trees.

* * *

Cooper was stripped to his shorts and handcuffed to a wagon wheel.

The gang took two shotguns and a pair of revolvers from the officers, police said.

* * *

The two-hour crime spree began about 3 a.m., police said, when two service stations at the junction of M139 and 94 about two miles south of Benton Harbor were held up simultaneously. The bandits forced one attendant into a washroom and fled with $200.

NOT KNOWN

Police said it was not immediately known how much money was taken in the other robberies, including another on M139.

* * *

Police say the gang was believed to have stolen two other cars, including the one bearing Illinois license plates.

Critics to Be Taboo in African Nation

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—A Cabinet minister of this soon-to-be independent central African country has warned that criticism of Premier Kenneth Kaunda will be considered conspiracy against the state.

Lands Minister Solomon Kalulu told a meeting that in Malawi, which became independent July 6 "no one is allowed to speak ill" of Prime Minister Hastings Banda.

The same will be done in Northern Rhodesia, which will become the Republic of Zambia on Oct. 24—with severe penalties for "conspirators," he said.

Birmingham Area News

Telegraph Changes Not Forgotten—State

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Local officials are beginning to sound more and more like they're expecting Telegraph Road to be wrapped in red tape and shelved.

* * *

State Highway Department spokesman claim it isn't so.

"We have reneged," S. J. Levine, district traffic engineer, said today.

The highway department is coming through with the safety improvements promised the township at a June 31 meeting —some will just take longer than others, Levine said.

* * *

"No-left-turn signs are going up now," he noted, "and the work order has been sent to the county road commission to paint the edges of the median with reflectorized paint."

PLAN 87 SIGNS

Some 87 signs were to be installed to prohibit left turns at unprotected crossovers.

Another outcome of the June meeting was a recommendation that Telegraph be widened north of Maple for better transition from three to two lanes for northbound traffic.

The snag in this project came when the cost estimate rose from $5,000-$10,000 to $50,000. The work to widen the road some four feet will require reconstruction of drainage facilities, Levine said.

* * *

However, he has asked the Lansing office to rush the plans through.

SUMMER HOPE

"We hope to put it into this summer's contract under emergencies and get it done," he said.

All of this is well and good, township officials agree, but they still want to know what's to become of the raised medians they cited as "treacherous."

They have attributed 11 accidents and two traffic fatalities to the strip so far this year.

* * *

The idea of installing a steel barrier down the center of the strip came up at the June meeting. Highway department spokesmen noted the barrier would cost some $132,000 for the five-mile length of the median.

BARRIER PREFERRED

They preferred the barrier, they said, to removal of the median which was being sought by the township.

The township was promised that a 1,000-foot barrier would be installed north of Maple, according to Supervisor Homer Case.

That project, according to Levine, has to go through the highway department's program committee.

* * *

"Until that's resolved, I don't know what will happen with the plate rail," he said.

Police, Mobs Clash in NY

neral services Sunday evening for 15-year-old James Powell, slain last Thursday by police Lt. Thomas Gilligan, who said he fired when the boy came at him with a knife.

* * *

Throughout the Sabbath, Negro leaders, in speeches and in conferences with police and city officials, had demanded Gilligan's arrest.

URGE RESTRAINTS

The Negro leaders—including James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Bayard Rustin, leader of last year's civil rights march on Washington —urged Negroes to stay home last night. Both men were booed at a rally when they called for nonviolence.

Earlier, Farmer charged that some white policemen were frightened, hysterical or trigger-happy during Saturday night's fray.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy said such statements are "in complete contradiction to the facts."

About the time funeral services were under way, bottles and other missiles began crashing in the street. Patrolmen, waving nightsticks, began charging into crowds that poured from behind police barricades.

FIRED INTO AIR

Police fired shots into the air. Three bus-loads of antiriot policemen arrived. People began getting knocked to the ground.

Robert E. Daly, 45, a news cameraman for the Columbia Broadcasting System, said 25 Negroes attacked him and three camera crew members while they were taking pictures. Daly, who was hospitalized, said he was beaten with clubs and fists.

John Orris, a New York Times photographer, was punched in the eye by one of a group of Negroes. One bottle struck a Negro police sergeant.

New York's 26,000-man police force was put on 12-hour shifts until further notice because of the explosive situation.

9 Drown, 14 Die in Traffic Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Highway accidents and drownings claimed a total of 23 lives in Michigan as thousands of persons flocked to beaches and picnic grounds over the weekend.

Fourteen were killed in traffic mishaps. Nine drowned.

The Associated Press counted the fatalities from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

The victims:

TRAFFIC

Forrest Fleming, 33, of Alma, died Sunday night when his car ran a stop sign in Mason County north of Custer and was struck by another auto, state police said.

VEERED OFF CURVE

Leroy Graves, 27, of Burt in southern Saginaw County, was killed Sunday night when his car veered off a curve and crashed in Tuscola County west of Vassar.

Lois Ann Zachar, 19, of Saginaw, was killed Sunday when her car left Gleaner Road and ran into a ditch in Saginaw County's Swan Creek Township.

Jack Batey, 26, of Lowell, was killed Sunday when his car struck a tree at the end of a deadend road in Boston Township of Ionia County.

Chester Krolckowsky, 38, of Detroit, was struck and killed by a car in Detroit Saturday night.

HEAD-ON CRASH

Lonzo Tarvin, 54, of Erie, was killed in a two-car, head-on collision on U.S. 25 near Erie Saturday. State police said Tarvin's car swerved into the other car.

Frank Hickerson Jr., 35, of Toledo, Ohio, died Saturday night in a two-car, head-on collision on U.S. 223 in Woodford Township of Monroe County.

* * *

Glenn Black, 30, of North Muskegon, a Fifth Army adviser to the Michigan National Guard, was killed Saturday in a two-car collision near Camp Grayling.

Michael D. Mus, 21, of Warren, was killed Saturday when his car ran into a ditch in Warren.

Robert J. Barck, 20, of Southgate, was killed Friday night when his car ran off a street in Allen Park.

Josephine Lopez, 18, and Caroline Decree, 17, both of Detroit, were killed Friday night when their car hit a tree and caught fire in Detroit.

* * *

John D. Chase, 33, of Fairgrove, was killed Friday night when his car ran off a Tuscola County road and overturned.

Lawrence Deickman, 53, of Stevensville, was struck and killed by a car on old M11 north of Stevensville Friday night.

DROWNINGS

Eli Jaynes, 16, of Toledo, drowned in Deer Lake, Hillsdale County, after diving from a raft Sunday night. His body was recovered.

William T. Donaldson, 14, of Detroit, stepped into a 25-foot-deep hole at Burt Lake near Cheboygan and drowned Sunday night, police said. His body was recovered.

* * *

Paul Freyberg, 4, of Carleton, drowned Sunday in Skylark Acres, a man-made lake north of Carleton near the Monroe-Wayne County line. His parents said he was swimming with his five brothers and a sister.

Curtis Simmons, 17, of Holland, drowned in Gilligan Lake near Saugatuck Sunday night while swimming. The body was recovered from 15 feet of water.

FELL FROM BOAT

Thomas Prevo, 24, of Alpena, fell from a boat while changing seats and drowned in Hubbard Lake in Alcona County Sunday night. Skin divers sought his body today.

David E. Sarazin, 12, of Lake City, drowned Sunday while swimming in Lake Missaukee near Lake City. The body was recovered in 12 feet of water.

* * *

Joan E. Dixon, 32, of Flint, drowned Sunday in Saginaw Bay about four miles south of Standish. Police said she was attempting to swim back to a boat after taking a life preserver to her husband, Ira, who was untangling a tow rope used for water skiing.

Thomas Schwanky, 15, of Detroit, drowned in Lake Shannon near Brighton while bathing Saturday.

James Grinnell, 37, of Sylvania, Ohio, drowned in Turk Lake in Montcalm County Saturday while bathing.

James T. Bonnett

Service for James T. Bonnett, 65, of 1958 Bradford, Birmingham, will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Kinsey Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Masonic graveside service and burial will follow in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mr. Bonnett, a retired engineer for the General Motors Overseas Corp. and coowner of the Royal Vogue Shops, died Saturday after a long illness.

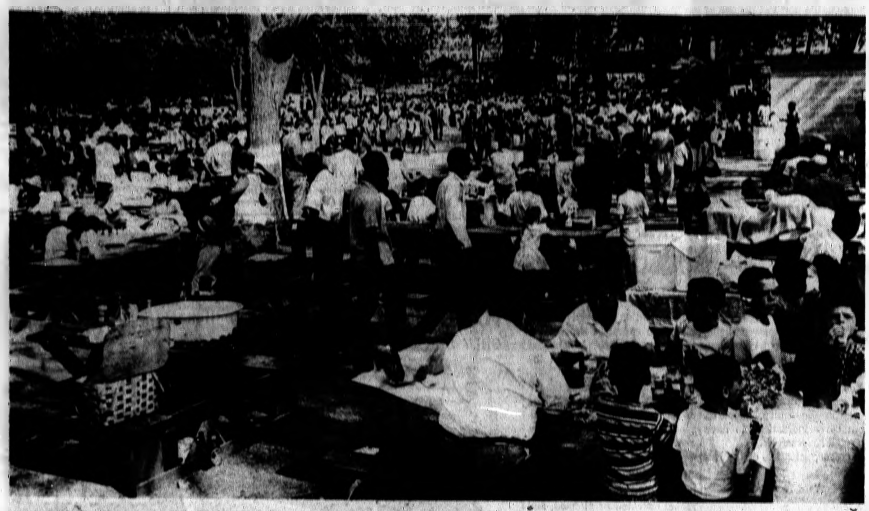

He was a member of Royal Oak Chapter No. 167, R.A.M.; the Moslem Shrine, Detroit; the Detroit Consistory; and the Alanson Lions Club.

Surviving are his wife, E. Grace; a son, Kenneth H. of Birmingham; and two grandchildren.

Pontiac Press Photo

No Glittering Restaurant Can Beat The Old Picnic Grove

Used to helping their employer set new records this year, members of Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 established one of their own yesterday.

* * *

An estimated 12,000 turned out for the local's annual picnic at Walled Lake Amusement Park, believed the largest crowd since the annual event began 10 years ago.

* * *

Local officials said they were amazed at the number, but no less over the 108,000 free ice cream bars and 15,000 cups of pop passed out to picnickers.

* * *

Earl Whiteman, 4694 Jamm, Orion Township, proudly went home with the biggest prize of all.

* * *

He won a new Pontiac Catalina hardtop, with full equipment, in a drawing.

* * *

A 14-year Pontiac Motor employe, he is a machine shop department crankshaft grinder.

WE MADE IT — So thinks John Maye, (above) president of Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653, looking over the crowds of auto workers he represents and considering the two months planning that made yesterday's picnic one of the most successful events sponsored by the local.

* * *

PHOTOGRAPHER'S DELIGHT — A favorite picnic shot is a youngster munching stringy cotton candy. The trick is to find an enthusiastic eater like Cheryl Carper, 7, of Pontiac, who doesn't mind posing as long as it doesn't interrupt the fun.

THE WATCHERS—If the ride is fast and thrilling, fence-liners are composed of two varieties: those building up courage, and others who just got off but linger on to feel the rushing wind and hear the shouts. Amusement rides lacked neither passengers or observers at yesterday's Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 picnic.

MIDSUMMER DREAM — Barely able to keep from drowsing off is Viola Valdez, quietly storing memories of the clattering roller coaster, the whirling ferris wheel, and just how much walking an 8-year-old can do at a big picnic.

OLD SOFT SHOE?—Three-year-old Wilona Green's fascination with a brightly colored parasol seems to turn into an impromptu dance routine as she finds a private world of imagination in the midst of thousands attending the Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 picnic.

Two Atlanta Shootings Involve Negroes, Whites

ATLANTA (AP) — Two shooting incidents involving Negroes and whites struck the same neighborhood within hours of each other over the weekend.

The neighborhood—where Negro and white residential sections meet—had those incidents Saturday night:

● A white family told police that four Negroes in a passing car fired a shotgun blast at them, wounding two members of the family.

● Police said the white owner of an integrated restaurant shot another white man who was trying to eject Negroes from the establishment.

The shotgun blast of the Wylie Keith family evoked memories of the slaying last week of Lemuel Penn, a Negro educator from Washington, D.C., as he was driving through rural northeast Georgia.

As in the Penn case, still unsolved, Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia instructed agents of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation to aid local police in their investigation of the shotgun incident.

"We are going to pursue this just as vigorously as we have been pursuing the unfortunate slaying of Lemuel Penn in North Georgia last week," Sanders said.

'MUST HAVE ORDER'

"When I say we are going to maintain law and order, I mean this; and it applies to all citizens — white or Negro," he added.

In the second incident, police said Maurice Lawson, 22, was in satisfactory condition at a hospital recovering from a stomach wound inflicted by a pistol.

Police arrested a white restaurant owner, Redell Crosby, and charged him with shooting another. Crosby was released on $1,000 bond yesterday.

Atlanta Police Det. Tony Quave said Lawson and some other white men entered Crosby's restaurant, went over to two Negroes eating and told them they would have to leave. One of the white men, Quave said, punched one of the Negroes in the nose.

Crosby pulled a pistol and ordered the white men to leave, but Lawson remained and threatened Crosby with a beer bottle, the detective said.

Crosby started shooting and one of five shots struck Lawson in the stomach.

Quave said Lawson would be charged with assault and battery. Four other whites involved also have been charged with assault and battery, he said.

Police Nab Swimming Suspect

A Waterford Township man, suspected of breaking into a service station, was apprehended by police at 2:06 a.m. yesterday after he tried to swim to freedom.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Patrolman Al Doud noticed a broken window at Jack's Standard Service, 3965 Cass - Elizabeth, as he was patrolling in that area.

Doud drove around the building. He spotted a man running from the station and got out of the car and pursued him.

Moments later, Doud found Joe Collier, 27, of 4059 Cheniot laying on a dock at Elizabeth Lake.

★ ★ ★

Cheniot refused an order to stand up, according to Doud, a then an old into the water and stand up, according to Doud, and ordered him out of the water and he responded.

Collier, who was in possession of $23.85 in change, was to be arraigned today in the township justice court on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Seek Warrant in Gun Death

Man Shot on Street; Another Is Arrested

A first-degree murder warrant was sought today by Pontiac police for a 51-year-old man being questioned in connection with a street shooting Saturday night.

Police said Charles W. Randolph, 303 E. Wilson, admitted to them that he fired the gun that killed Raymond C. Draper, 23, of 164 Hughes.

He was arrested at his home about an hour after the 11:15 p.m. shooting which occurred a few doors away from Draper's home.

Randolph said he shot Draper in self-defense when Draper forced his way into the car in which he was riding. Police were told by witnesses that Draper was intoxicated.

Melissa Williams, 32, of 800 California, Draper's sister-in-law, told police that she was walking with Draper and his wife, Hanna, 32, when the car stopped and "words were exchanged."

She said the car then went up the street — turned around and came back.

It was then that Randolph pulled the gun and fired when Draper lunged at it, she said.

Driver Can't Get Licensed

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Leonard Melling has a $3,000 car, a job in which he drives 1,000 miles a week, and no driving license.

During World War II, Leonard was an army driver. Since then he has paid $1,400 for 118 driving lessons and more than a thousand hours of instruction.

But he has just failed his eighth driving test in two years.

"I must be Britain's most advanced learner-driver," he said.

ONLY WAY

Leonard's job as a catering manager pays him $11,200 a year. But the only way he can legally drive his car is to display white plates bearing a red letter "L"—for Learner— at front and rear and take along a licensed driver beside him.

During the week, Leonard pays $19.60 for a retired police driver to accompany him.

★ ★ ★

"But he wants his weekends free," said Leonard. "And when the weekend comes round it is terrible trying to explain to my 2-year-old son why we can't take the car on a trip to the park."

"My wife can't drive and all our shopping has to be done by bus," he adds.

PLANS NOTE

Leonard said he plans to write to the transport minister, Ernest Marples, before he takes his ninth driving test.

"I want him to come on a drive with me so that he can judge for himself," said Melling.

The ex-police driver who accompanies Leonard said: "I have been thousands of miles with him and I have found him competent, confident and considerate of other road users. Why he can't satisfy the ministry examiners is a complete mystery to me."

British Living Cost Up

LONDON (AP)—The cost of living index in Britain in mid-June rose to 107.4, the Labor Ministry reports. The measure of 100 was established in mid-January 1962.

Higgins Backs Barry, Planks

FERNDALE (AP) — George N. Higgins, aspirant for the Republican nomination for governor, says he is supporting presidential candidate Barry Goldwater and the GOP platform and challenges Gov. George W. Romney to state his position.

Higgins, former Republican state senator, called Romney his "wishy-washy competitor-imposter" in a weekend telegram to the GOP State Central Committee.

★ ★ ★

He asked the committee to ascertain the stand Romney will take in the September primary election "and to which party he will profess his allegiance after his September defeat."

★ ★ ★

Romney has declared dissatisfaction with both Goldwater and the Republican platform since the GOP San Francisco convention.

Burton's Health Better; Back on 'Hamlet' Stage

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Burton says his health has improved and he will be back on stage at the Lunt - Fontanne Theater tonight to resume his performance of "Hamlet."

The actor walked off last Friday night, forcing cancellation of the evening show. Saturday's matinee and evening performances also were canceled. Burton has no understudy.

A spokesman for the theater said Burton is suffering from an inflamed nerve in his neck and shoulders. He still has "quite a lot of pain" but insists upon returning to work, the spokesman said.

Korea Minister Quits; Linked to Bank Bribes

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — President Chung Hee Park accepted the resignation of Communication Minister Hong Yun-pyo today. A warrant has been issued for Hong's arrest on suspicion of taking bribes.

Conventions Cancel Annual GOP Fete

Oakland County Republicans will have to draw election year nourishment from other than their usual annual ox roast.

Scheduling of both county and state party conventions in September left no choice but to remove the popular ox roast from the month's activities, said County Chairman Charles L. Lyle.

The GOP county convention will be Sept. 12 at Southfield High School with Mrs. George Romney as keynote speaker.

As in the April spring convention, delegates and alternates will be chosen for the party's statewide meeting. This will be Sept. 19 at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

COUNTY FEATURE

Lyle said a new feature of the county convention will be holding of city and township caucuses at 9:30 a.m., an hour before the full session is called to order, to draw up delegate lists.

Named as convention arrangements chairman is Richard D. Ernst, 4300 Orchard Hill, Bloomfield Township.

In another appointment, attorney Walter Koch, 185 Lake Angelus, Royal Oak, will be county GOP assistant campaign director to director Dale Fest.

Arthur Saltzman, director of special events, said a factor affecting the decision to cancel the ox roast was Gov. Romney's busy September schedule.

County Dems Get Aid From Republicans

Always glad to accept campaign donations from any source, Oakland County Democrats joyously predict they'll be getting a financial assist from Republicans.

★ ★ ★

They've even set up a "Stop Goldwater Fund" and taken a mail box number to which gifts may be discreetly sent.

The money, of course, will be used to help President Johnson continue his stay in the White House.

"The fund was created at the request of a number of county Republicans and independents who are deeply concerned about the nomination of Barry Goldwater," said County Democratic Chairman Sandy Levin.

★ ★ ★

"They feel his extreme positions and many issues are not in the best interest of the Republican party or the country as a whole."

OFFER HELP

To back up his expectations, Levin said some 35 known Republicans and others describing themselves as independents called Democratic headquarters to offer their help following Sen. Goldwater's nomination in San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

The private mail drop, Box 99, Bloomfield Hills, is for those who want to help the Democratic cause without revealing their identity, explained Levin.

Local Democratic leaders say Republicans have come forward in the past to aid their cause in state elections, but they can't recall anything like the recent offers of help in a presidential election year.

Firm Gets Contract for Sewer Building

A $170,831 contract for sanitary sewer construction in Pontiac Township was awarded this morning to Loselle Construction Co. of Southgate by the Oakland County Department of Public Works board.

The job, originally estimated at $337,275, is known as the Walton Heights Sewer Arm of the Oakland University sewage disposal system.

★ ★ ★

Loselle submitted the lowest of 11 bids on the job. The highest was $356,708.

DPW Director R. J. Alexander said the contract was awarded subject to the sale of bonds.

In Movies, That Is

David Rose Happy for Beatles

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The Beatles are a big hit in their first movie —critics call them the new Marx Brothers—and no one is happier than movie composer David Rose.

Rose is a serious musician noted for his lush use of strings.

★ ★ ★

Until the Beatles' reviews came out, Rose thought maybe he had approached music from the wrong direction.

"I went up to my teen-age daughter's room the other day," he says. "The walls were plastered with pictures of the Beatles.

FATHER'S PLIGHT

"There were no pictures of me. Worse, there were none of my albums in her record collection. What does a father do in a situation like that?

"I'm glad the Beatles are successful as movie stars. Maybe now they'll get out of the music business."

★ ★ ★

Oddly, Rose's biggest hit was an out-of-character number as noisy as the Beatles.

"When MGM made 'Sweet Bird of Youth,' with Paul Newman and Geraldine Page a few years ago, the song 'Ebb Tide' was used as background music," he said.

BIG SELLER

"MGM Records asked me to record it, which I did. It was expected to be a hit. It wasn't, but the other side of the record is my all-time big seller—'The Stripper.'"

How that came about is one of those show business mistakes that boomerang into big money.

★

"After 'Ebb Tide,'" Rose recalls, "I had to leave the country for awhile. The company wanted the record on the market fast so somebody—I later heard it was an office boy—went through some of my old tapes for a fill-in recording for the flip side.

★ ★ ★

"The 'Stripper' was some background music I had composed for a television show of the old play 'Burlesque.' I had forgotten about it. The office boy liked it and put it on the other side of 'Ebb Tide.' It's still selling and my last figure had it past the 3-million mark.

RIGHT IDEA

"Isn't it ironic that I, who had made a reputation with strings, should get my greatest fame from some honky-tonk, brassy, loud, drum-beating song?

"Maybe the Beatles have the right idea after all."

Lady Luck Smiles on PGA Champion Bobby Nichols

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Bobby Nichols had fallen off a cliff he'd have won the high diving championship on the way down.

This was the week when he could have gotten down in two strokes from the deck of a sinking ship.

* * *

There apparently is no oil in the area of the Columbus Country Club, or Nichols would have struck it with a seven-iron.

Life was like that for Nichols, the 28-year-old Louisville boy who won the PGA Golf Tournament, Sunday by three strokes with a record total of 271, nine under par. About 71 of his shots were downright impossible.

"I couldn't believe them my self—but I have witnesses," Nichols said.

67 IN FINAL

The baby-faced youngster, 6 foot-2 and 200 pounds, finished with an astounding 67 that held off an incredible 64 by defending champion Jack Nicklaus, who was playing before the home folks.

* * *

Nicklaus made up five strokes on Arnold Palmer in the final round, playing head-to-head with Palmer before an enormous gallery that trooped through the broiling Ohio sunshine.

They tied for second, at 274, three strokes back.

That was the best finish yet for Palmer in the PGA, the only major title he has never won—but still no cigar for the general of Arnie's Army.

* * *

It made three runner-up finishes this year for Nicklaus in major championships, the Masters, the British Open, and the PGA, and meant that big Jack will not be around for the ultra-rich television world series which he won the last two years.

"It was probably the finest round of golf I ever played," Nicklaus said. "It just wasn't good enough."

TORRID PACE

So torrid was the pace that Mason Rudolph, the Tennessean who wears thick eye glasses, shot a 68—with nine threes on the card—and faded to fourth at 276, five strokes behind Nichols.

* * *

U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, a tough man when it gets hot enough to pooch eggs on the fairways, finished with 33 on the back nine for 69 and 279. He tied Tom Nieporte, a club pro from Locust Valley, N.Y., who went to Ohio State and won the NCAA Championship in Columbus back in 1961.

* * *

While Nicklaus was charging and Palmer was putting together a 69 in front of him, Nichols strode along behind, refusing to fold.

"It was a great break to be paired with Mr. Hogan, ah Ben," Nichols said. "He was an inspiration to me."

Hogan—who didn't know him—wrote Nichols an inspirational letter when Nichols was recovering from an automobile accident that appeared to have ruined his athletic career in 1952.

He knocked in putts from all over the greens. On the second hole his tee shot was headed full of hounds, crashed into a tree and wound up in the middle of the fairway. He made a birdie 3.

At the 10th hole, when he was temporarily tied with Palmer and Rudolph, Nichols went ahead for good with an eagle putt from 35 feet.

STILL MORE

But there was more to come. At the 15th, Nichols drove into the rough, and produced "my best shot of the tournament"—a four iron that ran clear to the green. He promptly dropped an 18-footer for a birdie.

That was the way things had been going all week. Time and again during the tournament, Nichols made par or birdie from deep rough, sand traps or even the wrong fairway.

* * *

Once he hit the flag stick when he couldn't even see it.

With the pressure deepening, Nichols hit into a trap at 16, came out strong and made a 16-footer for a par. And on the short 17th, he knocked in a putt that he stepped off at 51 feet.

That ended it.

* * *

The victory was worth $18,000 in prize money for Nichols, plus twice that in immediate extra benefits.

Some of the money will go to a shrine to St. Jude. "I sort of promised that I would build one if I won," Nichols said.

St. Jude is the patron saint of the impossible.

Bengals in Boston After 3rd Baltimore Loss

Orioles Hold League Lead With 5-4 Win

Tigers Drop Series, Gain Only Triumph in Twin Bill Split

BOSTON (AP) — Thwarted in weekend efforts to dethrone the American League-leading Baltimore Orioles, the Detroit Tigers try seventh-place Boston for size tonight.

Detroit, just a notch above Boston in sixth place, salvaged one victory from a four-game series with Baltimore.

But the Orioles concluded the series by whipping Detroit 5-4 Sunday in a game notable chiefly because it was the only single contest of a crowded major league schedule of doubleheaders.

ONE VICTORY

The Orioles victory followed the split of a doubleheader Saturday after Baltimore triumphed Friday.

Detroit won one contest 3-0 Saturday and Baltimore the other, 6-1. The Orioles shut out Detroit 5-0 Friday.

Each team slugged three solo homers Sunday. In the first two innings, Boog Powell, Sam Bowens and Charley Lau connected off Tigers starter Dennis McLain for a 3-0 lead.

* * *

Jerry Lumpe smashed a homer for the Tigers in the sixth.

Dick McAuliffe led off the seventh with another home run, one that caused the removal of Orioles pitcher Wally Bunker who, nevertheless, was credited with his 10th victory against two losses.

Bill Freehan greeted reliever Dick Hall with the Tigers third homer. Hall was replaced. Stu Miller hurled the last two innings for Baltimore.

Tonight, Phil Regan (4-8) will pitch for Detroit against Boston's Bob Heffner (5-2).

Victory Puts Nichols in World Series Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bobby Nichols' victory in the PGA Golf Championship Sunday qualified him for the $100,000 World Series of Golf in September at Akron, Ohio.

The event is open to winners of the major pro tournaments.

Other qualifiers are Arnold Palmer, Masters; Ken Venturi, U.S. Open and Tony Lema, British Open.

Jack Nicklaus, who won the $50,000 top prize the last two years, didn't make it.

Bertram-Frechette Mixed-Ball Champs

By FLETCHER SPEARS

A twosome that vowed to do 'better next year' carded a 36-42-78 Saturday to win the Pontiac Mixed Two-Ball championship at the Municipal Golf Course.

Paulette 'Feather' Frechette, 16, and Francis Bertram, 40, a member of Clarkston Golf Club, were one of the first teams to finish the 18-hole round and left the course because they didn't think their score was low enough.

"We had a 78 but didn't think it would win," Bertram said. "But we told Mr. Barner (L. C. Barner, manager of the course) that we would do better next year."

The 78 stood up over the 5,677-yard, par 89 course, and Francis and Feather, playing together for the first time, wound up with the championship in the 27-team field.

Two strokes back of the winners were Sybol Zahn and Gary Balliet along with Jim and Bobbie Miller with 80's.

* * *

Balliet, 14, and Mrs. Zahn won the playoff with the Millers when Balliet carded a birdie on the first hole.

EX-CHAMPS 7TH

The defending team of Stan Savage and Zadah DeBolt fired an 84 to finish in a tie for seventh.

Feather and Francis picked up birdies on the seventh and eighth holes but took a double bogey on the ninth to finish the front side with a two-over-par 36.

They had bogey problems on the back side, going seven over par despite a birdie on No. 15.

* * *

Francis' next tourney will be the Ford Motor Company championship at DunRovin Golf Course in Detroit next Saturday, where he will be cast in the defending champion's role.

* * *

Feather, who made it to the quarter - finals of the Women's Michigan Golf Association tourney last week at Tam O'Shanter, will journey to Oak Park, Ill., where she will compete in the Women's Western Amateur, August 8-9.

Finale Losers Play 46 Holes

Geiss-Murphy Birmingham Champs

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

A pair of non-resident members came back to walk off with the 19th annual Birmingham Invitational, played in 95 degree heat and finished in complete darkness.

Jack Geiss, ex-club champion now working out of Cincinnati and Jim Murphy, now out of Houston, Texas duplicated 1-up victories in the morning semi-final and the "night" finale to win the crown.

Having disposed of Elmer Ellstrom and ex-state amateur champion Bud Stevens, Geiss and Murphy then took a par-5 on the 18th hole to defeat Angelo Lotti of Birmingham and Tony Lopucki of Washtenaw in the finals.

For Lotti and Lopucki it was a long tiring day. They started the day at 9:00 a.m. against defending champions Tom Draper and Connie Frye and at 3:00 p.m., they finally won their semifinal match 1-up on the 28th hole.

* * *

It was the longest match in history of the Birmingham tournament. Draper, the veteran state amateur golfer also commented, "it was probably the hottest."

Within the hour, Lotti and Lopucki started their final match and it was very close all the way with each team going 1-up three times and halving the other holes until the 18th.

The last three holes were played in darkness. On 18, Geiss sunk a putt for the par 5, while Lotti with a chance to tie missed a short one and three putted to end their day with 46 holes of golf.

In their process of winning, Geiss and Murphy defeated ex-state champion Mike Andonian and his partner Jack Andrews in Saturday's quarter-finals.

In the first flight, Len Malis and William Curtis a duo which missed playing in the championship flight because of a low card draw at qualifying score of 71, defeated John Panelli and Flowers, 2-up.

* * *

Panelli and Flowers also had a 71 in qualifying and were one of the three teams which had to go into first flight play because of the draw of playing cards.

In the second flight Harry Hyvonen and Chuck Byrnes defeating Ray Levandoski and Jerry Levan, 1-up, and in the third flight it was Tom Crews and Bill Nettle over Jack Stetler and Gib Mason, 3 and 2.

* * *

In 4th flight, Chuck Pfister and Doug Smith defeated Bill Heebsh and Harry Kazajanian, 8 and 6; 5th flight winner was Charlie Coffin and John Jennings over Fred Rollins and Joe Dimond, 1-up; and 6th flight it was Gene Tappero and Harold Monroe over Russ Knecht and John Basinski, 4 and 3.

WINNING PAIR—Former area residents who are still non-resident members of Birmingham Country Club, won the club's invitational tournament yesterday by defeating Angelo Lotti and Tony Lopucki in the finals, 1-up, in complete darkness.

Another Win for Clark

STUTTGART, Germany (AP)—Jim Clark of Scotland drove his Lotus to victory Sunday in the Grand Prix of the Solitude for Formula One cars. Clark averaged 91.466 miles per hour for the 141.86 mile race, over a rain softened track.

Olympic Spot Assured Pilot

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Lowell North of San Diego clinched his bid for an Olympic berth as the U.S. Dragon Class skipper Sunday by winning the sixth race of the Olympic trials going away.

Identify Body as NFL Back

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Arrival of a dental chart Sunday provided the confirmation authorities needed in identifying the body of Terry Dillon, former Montana football star.

Dillon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin M. Dillon of Irving, Tex., also arrived in Missoula Sunday.

* * *

Funeral services were set for Monday.

Dillon, 20, defensive halfback for the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League, drowned May 28 when he fell through temporary decking on a bridge construction site west of Missoula.

A body was found Friday by a fisherman, John Clawson, near Tarkio, about 17 miles downstream from the bridge site.

* * *

Investigators had little doubt about identification but asked the Vikings' office to forward his dental records as a final check.

Callison's Homer Keeps Phillies Atop League

Paints Colorful 'Blank' Scene

Angel Hill Ace Artistic

By The Associated Press

People can say a lot of things about Dean Chance, but one thing they have to say is he's patriotic.

Chance, 23-year-old pitcher for the Los Angeles Angels, paints the town red, whitewashes the opposition and makes them feel blue.

* * *

The ace right-hander pitched his third straight shutout and sixth of the season Sunday as the Angels stopped Minnesota 4-0 for a sweep of their doubleheader and moved into the American League's first division for the first time since the first week of the season. The Angels won the first game 6-5.

Chance, whose nights and early mornings on the town will teammate Bo Belinsky threatened to become legend in their time, hasn't allowed a run in 27 innings since he started for the AL in the All-Star Game.

BEST AVERAGE

In a nine-day period, he blanked Chicago on four hits, Detroit on five and Minnesota on four. And while increasing his record to 8-5, he has reduced his earned run average to 1.76, best in the majors.

Only Whitey Ford, 12-3, has more shutouts this season. The Yankee veteran has seven, but he has made four more starts than Chance.

* * *

Meanwhile, Ford and his New York teammates were the victimes of another shutout. Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 23-year-old Cuban righthander, stopped the Yankees 3-0 on four hits in his first major league game. The Yankees won the opener 6-2.

The Orioles edged Detroit 5-4 in 10 innings.

Not so fortunate as Chance an Tiant was Wes Stock, a Kansas City reliever whose 12-game winning streak was halted by the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 13 innings. Stock hadn't lost since July 12, 1962. Chicago also won the second game from the A's 4-3, moving into second place, one game behind league-leading Baltimore.

The Orioles edged Detroit 5-4 while Washington nipped Boston 5-4 in 10 innings after losing the opener 11-10 in other AL action.

Dave Nicholson's two-run homer and Ron Hansen's solo blast offset Rocky Colavito's bases-empty homer and Jim Gentile's two-run homer for the A's in the second game.

* * *

Mike Brumley's two-out single in the 10th inning gave the Senators a second-game victory. Boston scored three runs with the help of three Washington errors, two by Ed Brinkman, who homered and scored the winning run after singling.

Don Lock drove in six Washington runs in the doubleheader with two homers in the opener, two doubles and a single. His first-game hitting was overshadowed by Ed Bressoud's three-run homer, two-run homers by Tony Conigliaro and Felix Mantilla and solo blasts by Carl Yastrzemski and Dick Stuart, all for the Red Sox.

Injured Michigan Driver Returning to State Today

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UPI) — Johnny White of Warren, Mich., the Indianapolis 500-Mile driver acclaimed "Rookie of the Year," was scheduled to be moved to a Detroit rehabilitation center today from a Terre Haute hospital where he hovered near death for many days.

White was critically injured last month in a sprint-car race in Terre Haute when his car went out of control and barrel-rolled across a three-foot guard rail.

* * *

His upper spine was crushed. He was near death and several times was on and off the critical list. He has recovered some sensation around his shoulders and can move his hands somewhat.

He was scheduled to be moved by a private air ambulance and was expected to arrive at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport at 1 p.m.

Weather Hurts Showings

Area Thinclads Sparkle

Pontiac area athletes made favorable showings under rather unfavorable conditions Saturday at the annual state Track and Field Federation Meet at Central Michigan University.

The hot, humid and hazy weather kept times, heights and distances below peak efficiency in almost all events.

Robert Gordon of Pontiac brought home a first place medal in the junior's 100-yard dash with a 10.4 seconds timing.

Joe Watson of Farmington won the 880-yard run for juniors in 2:01.6, better time than the senior event winner posted.

Another Farmington resident John Karwoski was runner-up in the junior's mile run with a 4:49.5 clocking.

Pontiac's Art Wiggins had a second in the junior high hurdles at :16.2, and he was a fourth in the broad jump with 19-feet-2.

Brian Miller from Lapeer posted a second in the discus and a third in the senior shot put with heaves of 122-feet-11 and 45-feet-6¾; respectively.

Pontiac Central's junior relay team took second place with a 3:51 mile.

Mrs. Dorothy Timoff led the Silver Belles Golf League with a gross 53 last week at Silver Lake Golf Course. Mrs. Rose Ann Saboie carded a low net of 35.

Texan Grabs 4th Win in Tour of North Tracks

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) —Billy Wade of Houston, Tex., who has stormed the Northern stock car racing circuit this season, roared to his fourth straight Northern victory at Watkins Glen Sunday.

Wade hit speeds up to 150-miles per hour in the 86-lap, 150-mile second annual Grand National at Watkins Glen. He had won previous editions of the Northern late model stock car racing circuit at Old Bridge, N.J., Bridgehampton, N.Y., and Islip, N.Y.

Giants Take 2 From Houston

Braves Sweep Bucs, Move Into 4th Place

John Bateman and Johnny Callison played give-and-take with the National League lead but the Milwaukee Braves made their mark playing leap-frog.

Houston catcher Bateman flubbed a two-out-third strike in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader against San Francisco and two pitches later Jim Ray Hart homered for a 4-2 Giants victory.

The Giants also won the nightcap 1-0 and had the league lead in their grasp until Philadelphia's Callison took it away from them.

POST SCORE

The Phils had dropped their doubleheader opener to Cincinnati 7-4 and were trailing 2-1 in the second game when the Giants-Colts final was posted on the scoreboard.

Then Callison duplicated his All-Star game heroics with a three-run ninth inning homer. The Phils held on for a 4-3 verdict and a first place margin of four percentage points over the Giants.

The torrid Braves trimmed Pittsburgh twice 6-2 and 5-4 and climbed from a tie for sixth place into fourth, six games off the pace.

They now have won 10 of their last 13 games and 16 of their last 22.

* * *

Elsewhere in the NL, the Chicago Cubs pounded out 27 hits for 8-2 and 9-1 decisions over the Los Angeles Dodgers while St. Louis rallied for four ninth inning runs and edged the New York Mets 7-6 in the second of a pair after the Mets won the opener 3-2.

Callison's 15th homer, off reliever Bill Henry, followed a single by Clay Dalrymple and a walk to Cookie Rojas. The Reds rallied for a run in the bottom of the ninth but Chris Short came out of the bullpen and got Vada Pinson to hit into a game-ending force play.

Pinson's second triple, a single by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich's two-run homer overcame a 4-3 deficit in the eighth inning of the opener.

BOLLING GETS 3

Frank Bolling drove in three Milwaukee runs with two singles in the first game and Tony Cloninger tossed a six-hitter.

Bolling doubled in two more runs in the nightcap. Hank Fischer relieved starter Denny Lemaster in the sixth inning and blanked the Pirates the rest of the way.

* * *

Dick Ellsworth pitched a five-hitter against the Dodgers in the opener and the Cubs collected a dozen hits, including two-run homers by Ernie Banks and Billy Williams.

Lew Burdette allowed six hits in the second game and Ron Santo went 3-for-5, including his 17th homer, to lead the 15-hit attack. Burdette, making his 350th NL start, won his sixth game in eight decisions.

Dick Groat's fourth hit of the second game scored Ken Boyer with the winning run and capped the Cardinals' ninth inning explosion. Boyer had doubled-home Lou Brock for a 6-6 tie.

All three Met runs in the opener were unearned. Jack Fisher scattered eight hits for the victory.

The hottest player in the 244-man field was Bill 'Chick' Adams of Detroit, who turned the front side but soared to a 47 on the back nine, finishing with an 86.

Adams sizzled on the front nine of the 6,468-yard par-72 course.

* * *

He started with three birdies in a row, followed with three pars and finished birdie-par-birdie for a five-under 31.

He picked up a pair of bogeys on the back side to go with one birdie. The Detroiter also paced the handicap division with a net 66.

Two strokes back of Adams were Mike Andonian of Pontiac, 33-36—71, and Sal Pomante Jr. of Center Line, 37-34—71.

Proud Yanks Pass 'Buck'

NEW YORK (AP) — All four Yankee infielders touched a ball that Johnny Romano of Cleveland beat out for an infield hit in the ninth inning of the first game of a doubleheader.

* * *

With a man on first, Romano hit a bouncer off third baseman Clete Boyer's glove and the ball caromed to Phil Linz at shortstop. Linz tossed to Bobby Richardson at second for the attempted force, but the second baseman wasn't on the bag.

Richardson then threw to first baseman Pedro Gonzalez, who was pulled off the base as Romano beat the throw for an infield hit.

* * *

All four infielders actually handled the ball but no one touched a base.

Birmingham Doubles Title to Hall-Brown

Bob Hall of Orchard Lake and Don Brown, a professional at Pine Lake Country Club, walked off with the doubles championship in the Birmingham Athletic Club's Invitational Tennis Tournament yesterday.

Hall, a member of the club, and Brown, his guest partner, breezed through their first two matches without losing a set and fought off a rugged challenge by Ed Meyers and Don Moncrieff in the finals, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

* * *

Moncrieff and Meyers had trouble in the opening round, winning 5-7, 6-3, 6-4, but they came on strong to win their semifinal match, 7-1, 7-5.

Hall and Brown displayed a sharp net game with rifle-like smashes that killed several budding rallies by Meyers and Moncrieff.
