Passed in Senate, Off to House

OK $48.5-Billion Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unanimous Senate approval of a massive $48.5-billion defense bill moved the record peacetime appropriation back to the House today.

There, leaders were expected to send the bulky measure to the usual compromise session of a Senate-House Conference Committee.

The bill returns to the House with nearly $580 million in Senate increases over what the House originally voted.

The differences must be resolved before the bill goes to President Kennedy.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., steered the big bill, carrying more than half the annual government budget, through the Senate in less than seven hours Wednesday. The vote for it was 88 to 0.

SLASH FAILS

Most of the debate centered around futile attempts of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., to cut out an extra $320 million voted by the Senate Appropriations Committee to hasten development of the big jet reconnaissance strike aircraft known as the RS70.

Both senators were defeated by wide margins as they tried to slice RS70 margins back to the $171 million asked by President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to continue limited development of the huge experimental aircraft.

Air-minded senators backed the full $491 million asked by top Air Force leaders to develop a complete weapons system, including long-range radars, new missiles and other special subsystems.

During the debate Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said Kennedy "told me Sunday that even if extra funds are voted," for the RS70 he wouldn't spend them.

Robertson told the Senate, however, that McNamara had informed him privately that "it might be wise" to put some extra millions into developing the RS70 as a future weapons system.

The House had voted $224 million for the RS70.

Also rejected by voice vote was an attempt by Proxmire to remove $280 million appropriated for another big aircraft carrier for the Navy.

The Senate bill would require that the Army's National Guard be maintained at a strength of 400,000 and its Reserves at 300,000 a year from now. The Pentagon had proposed 367,000 for the National Guard and 275,000 for the Reserves.

The House had provided an extra $60 million to avoid cutbacks but the Senate went a step more by including language to prohibit a cutback. The Senate also tacked on $11 million to expand Air Force and Navy Reserves.

Trading Follows Irregular Path on Stock Mart

Most Quotations Are Down Slightly From Previous Day

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices and volume of trading moved irregularly on the New York Stock Exchange today, and after more than half of the session most quotations were down slightly for the day.

The stock ticker, which ran late for a time in early hours of the market, was running on schedule before 1 p. m. (New York time) but fell slightly behind after that hour.

Such leading issues as American Telephone, Standard of New Jersey, Ford and General Motors were off slightly.

Most stocks, measuring their changes in fractions, began the day lower, rallied briefly and then trailed off.

Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks was off 0.44, at 55.06, at 1 p. m.

In a midday address in Washington, President Kennedy advised Americans not to look for inflationary pressures that would push up stock prices to a point where they sold at a high earnings ratio.

NOT STRONG

These pressures were not particularly strong at this time, he said.

Kennedy, who scheduled a news conference today at 3 p. m. (Pontiac time) a half hour after the market closes, discussed the market in an impromptu address before a Peace Corps trainee group at Washington.

He said the market found that the current situation did not justify an "earnings ratio of from 30 or 50 to 1."

Trading after three hours was at 3,020,000 shares, compared with 3,230 million the day before. At that hour, the Dow Jones index of 30 industrial stocks was 568.81, off 5.23.

Many changes were fractional in the market, which yesterday slumped to around its lowest levels for the year.

For a time tickers ran up to nine minutes late, but by 11:45 a. m. they were caught up. Trading by noon was slightly under the pace of the preceding day, and the "flash" prices, used to indicate the position of leaders out of the regular sequence of transactions, were absent from the tape.

Signs of Highway Progress

County Key Link in I-75 Freeway

Newest Route Will Eventually Reach All the Way to Florida

State Highway Department officials in Pontiac tell a long story.

It's all about the Interstate 75 freeway—close to 400 miles long.

I-75—part completed, part under construction, part still on the drawing board—is the vast concrete ribbon which will eventually tie the distant cities of Toledo and Sault Ste. Marie into one neat, commutable package.

Someday, the ribbon will overlap all the way to Florida.

Oakland County plays a brief, but key role in the long I-75 story: Some 40 miles.

The county freeway portion, when complete, will run from Eight Mile Road in Hazel Park to the Genesee County line south of Grand Blanc.

Everything from Pontiac north to Flint is scheduled for completion by October and will tie into previously opened sections from Flint to Bay City.

South of Pontiac, plans are nearing the construction phase. Only Wednesday the highway department opened bids for a 5.6-mile portion of I-75 from Walton Boulevard to Adams Road.

The entire portion from Walton south to 11-Mile Road will be under contract by fall and completion is expected by mid-1964.

Like almost any long story, I-75 has its complications. One of them, not to be completely resolved until the late 1960's, is near Bay City.

Charges Three-Way Agreement

Links Estes, Corporation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., charged today Commercial Solvents Corp. had assurance from the Agriculture Department it would get "every dime of payments" from Billie Sol Estes' grain activities before Estes ever had a grain contract.

Officials of the firm denied the statement, made before a House Government Operations subcommittee of which Bass is a member.

The charge by Bass came a day after testimony from Estes before a grand jury in Franklin, Tex., reportedly opened new avenues for investigation in the mysterious death on an Agriculture Department official.

Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ said last night he will subpoena three or four additional before the Robertson County grand jury holds its next session Monday.

PROBING SHOOTING

The grand jury is investigating the fatal shooting June 3, 1961, of Henry H. Marshall, 52, who was state chief of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

They questioned Estes, erstwhile farm financier, for nearly two hours Wednesday. None of his testimony was made public.

Rep. Bass said a triangle of interest existed between Commercial Solvents, Estes and the department when Estes began his grain activities in March, 1959, during the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Commercial Solvents officials denied they had done anything out of the ordinary and said they had obtained no assurances that Estes would be given any surplus grain to store.

W. S. Leonhardi, financial vice president of Commercial Solvents, said the 1959 loan which

Littler Grabs an Early Lead With 69 in the USGA Open

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, The Pontiac Press

OAKMONT, Pa. — Defending champion Gene Littler, who is playing some of the best golf of his career, took an early lead in the 62nd USGA Open at Oakmont Country Club with a two-under-par 69.

The little blond from San Diego, Calif., said his 100-foot eagle three gave him "a needed shot in the arm" after playing badly in his practice round two days ago when he scored an 82.

On the back side, Littler birdied 13, 15 and 17 and he bogeyed 10 and 18.

"I'm playing just as I did at Oakland Hills last year," he said. I only missed the fairway three times on the back side."

Littler said his putting was "beautiful" as he dropped a couple of 30 footers for birds.

MILD BREEZE

A mild breeze in the afternoon began to dry off the greens which remained lightning fast.

Close behind Littler among the early finishers was Bobby Nichols of Midland, Tex., with a one-under-par 70. Phil Rodgers was one-under-par after 17 holes.

The field was 40 minutes behind schedule but a large gallery watched Jackie Nicklaus birdie his first two holes and Arnold Palmer take a double bogey on the par four second hole.

Forest Lake's Bob Gajda ran into tough luck on the first few holes. He missed a 15-inch putt on No. 1 for a bogey-five.

On the second hole, his putt stopped on the lip of the cup for a par and on No. 3 his 45-foot chip shot rimmed the cup and stopped six inches away for a par.

Gajda finished with an even par 36 on the front nine.

K Says U. S. Gears for Surprise Attack

TOKYO (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev accused the United States of "trying to prepare for a surprise attack" on the Soviet Union in a letter to Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, it was disclosed today.

"It is a criminal act that a certain element is trying to prepare for a surprise attack on us by trying to attain the upper hand in the application of nuclear weapons," Khrushchev's note said.

It was in reference to the recent resumption by the United States of atmospheric nuclear tests.

JFK's Programs Suffer

Congress Playing Rough

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It can't be said that Congress has taken over the reins from President Kennedy, but it is certainly bouncing him around in the driver's seat.

In the 1960 presidential campaign he said "a do-nothing party will not do. Four more years of a Republican President blocking action by a Democratic Congress will not do.

What we need, what we seek, what this campaign is intended to bring, is action instead of drift-leadership, not salesmanship — and dedication in place of mediocrity."

The picture has changed and now a Democratic President is being blocked by a Democratic Congress, where Democrats far outnumber Republicans, in one field after another.

Major programs have been killed, abandoned, or bottled up. And most lately the House and Senate have frustrated him a bit in foreign policy. Even his right arm in the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, has called for a re-examination of Kennedy's Southeast Asia policy.

Kennedy has deluged Congress with proposals—too many as it turns out — for many will be thrust aside as members of both House and Senate hurry to get home early for this fall's congressional elections.

He himself admits Congress will not try to pass all the legislation he sent up. At last week's news conference he said, "I am sure we will have to come to a priority."

Then he added:

"These programs are important, however. Going down the list—medical care for the aged, youth employment, aid for higher education, the trade bill, the tax bill —there is a good many of very great importance."

Take a look at what has been happening to just these few major items he mentioned:

His medical care bill looks so lost in the House Ways and Means Committee — where Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10—that the Kennedy administration is willing to compromise now to save some fragments of it.

His youth employment opportunities bill is still in a House committee.

DIFFERENT VERSIONS

His proposal to aid higher education has passed both Houses but in different form and can't be-

Strike 'Inevitable'; Airline Talks Lock Wheels

Walkout Seen; D.C. Eyes Steps

Flight Engineers Fail to Reach Accord With Lines Despite U.S. Tries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government efforts to settle long-standing labor disputes between three major airlines and their flight engineers collapsed today.

Ron Brown, the union's president, said a strike appeared inevitable.

Informed sources said the White House is considering a number of steps to try to end a strike, if one develops. Officials said they had no doubt that a walkout would come, probably sometime tonight.

It was reported that the administration is considering an appeal to Congress for quick legislation. One possibility would be authority for the government to seize and operate the struck airlines. Another step, said to be under discussion, is special legislation banning airlines strikes and requiring compulsory arbitration of disputes.

Still another possibility under consideration is for the Federal Aviation Agency to reduce engineers' qualification requirements so that the airlines could quickly train extra pilots to take over engineers' posts in jet plane cockpits.

Brown, head of the Flight Engineers' International Association, was asked whether a walkout will take place on the three carriers — Pan American World Airways, Trans World Airlines and Eastern Airlines.

"It certainly appears so at this time," Brown replied.

He said the 1,700 engineers employed by the three carriers had authorized a strike some time ago. But he said he wanted to report back to the men involved and check again with them on their wishes.

Last ditch negotiations which extended for 24 hours broke off this morning.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said that further talks appeared useless and the union was "free to strike."

Goldberg left immediately to report to President Kennedy. He said the carriers had accepted but the union had rejected a last minute proposal by the President to submit the contract dispute to voluntary arbitration.

Union Attorney Asher Schwartz told newsmen that "arbitration would be industrial suicide."

He said the union had offered to arbitrate wage and other issues but not the key controversy — whether members of the flight engineers' union will still have jobs on jet planes when the carriers reduce present crews from four to three.

Key Role in I-75 Tale Occupied by County

way department plans, will eventually run north of Bay City along existing US23 to Standish. From Standish it will parallel M76 to Grayling, and there it will hook up with existing portions of I-75.

Presently, however, the real I-75 ends at Kawkawlin, a tiny town on US23 a few miles north of Bay City.

Highway engineers have devised an alternate route, now bedecked with I-75 signposts in addition to regular highway number markings, to carry motorists to the regular I-75 continuation at Grayling.

The alternate course flows along US10 from Bay City to Clare, where it switches to US27 toward Grayling and Gaylord.

North of Waters, between Grayling and Gaylord, to the Mackinac Bridge, all portions of I-75 but one are scheduled to be opened by the end of this month. The only unfinished section, between Gaylord and Indian River, should be completed by November.

I-75 will be Oakland County's link to the south with the Chrysler Expressway on Detroit's East Side. The Chrysler, in turn, will connect in downtown Detroit with a portion of I-75 running to Toledo.

Even though the final I-75 route from Toledo to the Soo will not be complete until the late 60's, some existing portions of the freeway will be linked with other major highways by the end of the year to form a direct north-south route.

A motorist then will be able to use parts of US23, I-75, US10 and US27 to drive 350 miles from the Michigan-Ohio border to the Soo along limited-access divided highway.

ROUTE

Here's the route he will follow: US23 from the Ohio border west of Toledo to the I-75 interchange near Flint.

I-75 from Flint to Bay City.

US10 from Bay City to Clare.

US27 from Clare to Grayling.

And, finally, I-75 again from Grayling to the Mackinac Bridge, over the Bridge to St. Ignace and onward to the Soo.

Only a short stretch of this top-to-bottom Michigan route will be unfinished at the end of the year—a portion south of the Soo now under construction.

Another feature of the highway is that it will provide a high-speed link with the new Canadian highway around the north shore of Lake Superior. A bridge connecting the American and Canadian highways is currently under construction.

It was chilly and wet today in many areas in the northeast and cool air spread across western sections of the nation.

Showers splashed broad areas in the Northeast and the Far West and a few spots in the South. But dry weather prevailed in most other parts of the country.

Army Plans Missile for Bigger A-Punch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army moved yesterday to start development of Missile "B"—a new battlefield rocket designed to give its divisions a heavier atomic punch.

This is the first new bombardment missile undertaken by the Army since the Pershing of four years ago.

The Army invited industry to submit proposals for development of the new missile, which would have a maximum reach of about 47 miles.

Missile B would replace two bombardment rockets now with Army troops — the 12-mile range Honest John and the Lacrosse, a rocket with a range comparable to that of long-distance artillery. Both have been operational for several years.

Detroit Firm Named Sylvan Lake Auditor

Haskins and Sells, a Detroit accounting firm, was selected last night by the Sylvan Lake City Council as city auditor for 1962-63.

The new accounting firm replaced the firm of Janz and Knight, at the request of Mayor Richard Jarvis.

The council also authorized City Manager LeRoy Trafton to increase the insurance coverage of city employees from $2,500 to $5,000.

FBI Checking on Recent Visitors

Did Prison Escapees Get Outside Help?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The three convicts who fled Alcatraz Island prison in San Francisco Bay may have had outside help, it was reported today.

The San Francisco Examiner said it has learned from a reliable source that the FBI is working on the theory the three men made it over the cold, swirling waters to the mainland and is checking on recent visitors to the prison.

A widening search by government agents is strengthening speculation the three—John Anglin, 32, his brother, Clarence, 31, and Frank Morris, 35—may have engineered the first successful escape from the 28-year-old maximum security institution.

Since the disappearance was discovered early Tuesday, heavily armed soldiers, now numbering 200, have been combing Angel Island in the possibility the convicts may have landed there on a driftwood raft in their flight from Alcatraz 1½ miles to the south. Alcatraz is 1½ miles north of the San Francisco shoreline.

4TH DIDN'T GO

A fourth convict was reported in on the escape plot but didn't flee. He was identified as Allen Clayton West of Atlanta, Ga. The four used spoons to chisel loose ventilator covers leading to a service passage behind their cells.

From there the Anglin brothers and Morris climbed up a pipe, over a roof and a fence and then down to the water's edge.

Warden Olin Blackwell said Tuesday he didn't believe the men could have made it to freedom by swimming without aid.

At a news conference Wednesday, Fred Wilkinson, assistant federal director of prisons, revealed that authorities now believe that Morris and the Anglin brothers are off the island.

Until Wilkinson's statement, officials had insisted it was possible the men were still holed up in a water's edge cave on Alcatraz itself.

Congress Balking at JFK's Requests

come law until the differences are ironed out.

His foreign trade bill, with additional power to cut tariffs, is out of the Ways and Means Committee which handled it but with changes which must have jolted him.

His tax revision bill passed the House but is bottled up in a Senate committee where, perhaps, it may be massacred.

And there are things he left unsaid: Last year he made a big pitch for aid to public schools but seems so much to have given up hope for it that, while it's still lying around, he has stopped talking of it.

He asked Congress to pass a law banning literacy tests in voting but the Senate killed that. He wanted a new department of urban affairs and housing but the House slaughtered that one.

Kennedy wants to raise the public debt limit from $300 billion to $308 billion. This is being kicked around in the House where there seems to be a strong mood to limit an increase to $306 billion or not raise it at all.

Allied Arms Offers Rejected by Soviets

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union categorically rejected today virtually all Western proposals for general and complete disarmament.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin lashed the United States and Britain as the 17-nation disarmament conference went into a month-long summer recess.

3,500 Laid Off at Lincoln Plant

Wixom Employes of Ford Motor Co. Affected by Ohio Strike

DALLAS (AP) — Henry Ford II, chairman of the board, said today the Ford Motor Co.'s manufacturing and assembly plants over the country will be closed down Monday because of a strike in Cleveland.

Some 3,500 hourly workers at Ford Motor Co.'s Lincoln plant at Wixom have been laid off due to a shortage of parts caused by a strike at the firm's stamping plant near Cleveland, Ohio.

The Wixom plant is the first to be affected among 16 assembly plants in 11 states threatened with idleness because of the eight-day-old walkout at the Walton Hills stamping plant.

The Lincoln plant shut down yesterday afternoon, Ford plans to close its Dearborn and Kansas City assembly plants today. Others would be closed tomorrow.

A total of 35,000 employes at assembly plants across the country are faced with layoffs unless the dispute is settled, a Ford spokesman said.

The dispute at the Ohio plant concerns work standards between the company and UAW Local 420, the spokesman said.

Wages are not involved in the dispute since Ford and UAW have a national three-year wage contract which was signed last fall.

The Day in Birmingham

400 Students Register With New Job Service

BIRMINGHAM — More than 400 students have registered with the High School Employment Service, recently organized at the Community House as an aid in finding them after-school, Saturday and summer employment.

Five schools in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area are participating in the program. They are Seaholm, Brother Rice, Marian, Groves and Bloomfield Hills High School.

Each of the schools have pledged sufficient money to back the service in case the program runs into financial difficulty.

There is one student and one faculty representative from each school on the board that organized the employment service.

Instrumental in getting the program started was Ward Ouradnik, executive director of the Community House, and Community House board directors, Mrs. John W. Fauver and Mrs. George H. Squibb.

The office of the new service is located in the Community House and is supervised by Mrs. Marian Thompson. Office hours are 3 to 5 p. m. on weekdays and 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

The service is also being offered to all merchants and businessmen in the area to help in hiring high school students for part-time employment.

Four new members have been elected to fill vacancies on the board of trustees of the Cranbrook Foundation, it was announced today.

They are: William H. Baldwin, partner in the law firm of Baldwin, Boos and Baldwin; Charles F. Moore Jr., vice president of public relations, Ford Motor Co.; Edward Lerchen, vice president of Detroit Bank and Trust; and Thomas E. Wilson, general manufacturing manager, General Motors Corp., Truck and Coach Division.

The Young Adult Club of the Birmingham YMCA will meet 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Y Building, 400 E. Lincoln Road, for a trip to Bob-Lo.

A weekend canoe trip is being planned for June 22.

All single men and women, 20 years of age and over, are invited to join the group.

Solon Links Estes With Corporation

Estes used to start grain storage operations probably would have been made even without the assignment of grain payments.

"And yet you just listed it as a primary factor in feeling you will get your money back," Bass commented.

'LOT OF DIFFERENCE'

"There's a lot of difference between 1959 and 1962," replied Leonhardt.

"Before he was in the grain business at all, the department had assured you that you would get every dime of payments," Bass said. "He didn't even have a grain contract until he signed over every nickel to you March 4."

Feminine Intuition an Actual Factor

Men Know 'Things' While Women Know 'People'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What surprises men most about women are the things they know—and don't know.

And as a man grows older, the more he somewhat grudgingly admires the unexpected wisdom he finds in woman as the custodians of human folk knowledge.

BOYLE

The big difference between the sexes in matters of information — allowing for numerous exceptions — is that the male mind concentrates on the big picture, the feminine mind on the little picture.

I thought my daughter summed up the situation the other day with a remark philosophically profound for a 9-year-old.

THINGS . . . PEOPLE

"Daddies know about things," she said. "But mommies know about people and families."

Isn't that really true? Don't men think more about the big events that make up the outside world, while women think more about the small events that control their personal worlds?

A man's knowledge is generalized; a woman's is specific.

Ask a woman about who fought whom at the Battle of Hastings and she is likely to reply blithely, "I didn't even know they had a quarrel. By the way, who are the Hastings?"

But if she does know a family named Hastings, she probably can rattle off the individual characteristics and ultimate fate of every member of that tribe for three generations.

WON'T LEARN

Men often become exasperated at women for some of the things they don't know—and never seem to care to learn. Such as: Importance of getting places on time, when to turn off their terribly acute memories, how to balance a bank account, how to drive a car properly or when to drop a subject and shut up—particularly if it's a subject she knows nothing about.

Of course, men are really wrong in some of these matters and cling to them only out of male prejudice and vanity. Most women who drive do so very well.

Most wives know how to balance a bank account at least as well as their husbands. If they didn't handle the money, the family would have gone over the hill to the poorhouse long ago.

A GOOD REASON

And when a woman keeps a subject going on which she is unfamiliar, it may be for a very good reason. She may not want a worse subject to come up.

It is in the relations between people, particularly those in her own family, that women are profoundly and uncannily wise.

She acts instictively and rightly in emergencies in which her husband stands helpless.

She can tell at a glance when her child comes in the door whether he has done something wrong or something went amiss at school.

She knows the state of her husband's health even better than he does. She realizes when his workaday rut is wearing him down, and that he has to take a vacation whether he feels he can afford it or not.

HER INTUITION

In a thousand small and unexpected ways she sees beneath the surface of daily life to respond to the needs of her family. Does she have an interior radar, sometimes called intuition, or do women have a body of human lore mothers have passed on secretly to their daughters through the ages?

A man can't be sure.

But the probable reason for the difference between what men and women know is that men spend more time reasoning with their heads, while women place more importance in what they learn by thinking with their hearts.

Paris Counts 92,000 Arriving From Algeria

PARIS (AP) — During the first dozen days of June about 92,000 European refugees came to France from Algeria, a government spokesman said yesterday.

The refugee program director Robert Boulin told the French cabinet more and more of the refugees are asking state aid, indicating they do not intend to return to Algeria after the North African country becomes independent.

Lansing Dem to Try Again to Win Seat

LANSING (AP)—Former Congressman Don Hayworth announced yesterday that he will try again to unseat Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, 6th District congressman from Lansing.

Hayworth, a Democrat and member of the Michigan State University faculty, served with one term in Congress in 1955-56. He was beaten by Chamberlain, a Republican, who is rounding out his third term.

Hayworth made an unsuccessful bid for re-election in 1958.

There are two things seldom worth listening to—that which is shouted, and that which is whispered. . . . Taffy Tuttle figured out what goes with Early American furniture—late American payments. . . . Posters Open British Drive on Cigarettes

LONDON (UPI) — The British government opened an anticigarette campaign yesterday with posters warning children to "think . . . before you smoke."

Copies of the posters were sent to teacher training schools, independent schools and youth organizations.

One poster shows a boy lighting a cigarette, the other a girl accepting one. Both read: "Before you smoke, think. Cigarettes cause lung cancer."

The basis for the campaign is a report issued earlier this year by the Royal College of Physicians citing evidence that cigarettes cause lung cancer.

Lowest annual mean temperature in the U.S. is 26.8 degrees at Mt. Washington in New Hampshire, a record held for several years.

Kennedy and Hope Had Better Luck

Makes Commencement Talk Under Difficulties

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The only thing tougher than listening to a commencement address is to make one.

"That's not your speech, I hope," the headmaster gasped as he stared at the flat brief case I lugged onto the campus.

No, we gulped, not entirely. The briefcase also harbored a clean shirt, tie, handkerchief and an unabridged edition of Bartlett's Familiar Quotations."

"Thank Goodness," the good man exclaimed, "We've got such a tight schedule, and the graduating class is so sick and tired of being lectured to, that I'd appreciate it if you held it to 15 minutes. Just to show them."

Show them what, we wondered, thinking wistfully of the polished gems that now would have to be ruthlessly discarded — to stay within the 15-minute restriction.

"Well," he said, "your son spread the story through the class that you have trouble saying 'hello' in less than an hour, and to expect the worst. The lads are quite concerned."

EIGHT MINUTES

Spoke eight minutes. After the first four minutes, during which time the graduating class and the rest of the gathering seemed oddly unmoved by my impassioned history of the school, the headmaster stopped the learned discourse with a whispered, announcement that the microphone wasn't working.

The last four minutes had to do with the standard theme of the great opportunities that lay ahead at this glittering dawn of the Space Age.

That latter dissertation was interrupted by an unexpected visitor. A locust landed on the back of my neck and started crawing into my collar.

A speaker doing an imitation of St. Vitus in an effort to delocust himself and fighting to keep his carefully written extemporaneous remarks from flying off the lectern in the high wind, tends to lose his audience.

Things went better at other graduation exercises.

Bob Hope got the biggest laughs at Georgetown University where his son received a diploma and Hope an honorary.

"I know these graduates would never forgive me if I didn't call on Bob Hope," Georgetown President Fr. E. B. Bunn, S.J., said in presenting Bob. "I know I would resent it, too," Hope began, and he had them in his pocket. His presence, he said, was an anachronism.

"Something like President Kennedy addressing the AMA." He reminded them that all commencement day orators bray "Go Forward." Bob's advice: "Don't."

The President did not address the AMA but chose an equally hostile mob—the Yales.

"I now have the best of two worlds—a Harvard education and a Yale degree," JFK remarked. "I am particularly glad to become a Yale man because as I think about my troubles I find that a lot of them have come from other Yale men. Among businessmen, I have had a minor disagreement with Roger Blough, of the Law School class of 1931, and I have had some complaints from my friend Henry Ford, of the class of 1940.

"In journalism, I seem to have a difference with John Hay Whitney, of the class of 1926—and sometimes I displease Henry Luce, of the class of 1920. Now that I am a Yale man, too, it is time for peace.

AND STEVENSON . . .

Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, at Tufts, seared the brows of the graduates with these soaring words: "The privilege — and penalty — of your eduction is that over the coming decades you will be the pace setters for political and social thought in your communities.

"You may not accept this responsibility, but that makes no difference. It is inescapable. For if you decided to set no pace, to forward no new ideas, to dream no dreams, you will still be pace setters. You simply have decided that there is to be no pace."

Ambassador Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, on the matter of brevity, told St. John's University grads, "They say when an Irishman gets up to reply to the toast at the annual St. Patrick's Day banquet practically everybody in his audience can make a shrewd guess in advance as to what he is going to say, and the only doubt in anybody's mind is as to how long it is going to take him to say it.

"I spent a year as president of the U.N. Assembly listening to the debates of that august body and if that experience didn't teach me to respect the virtue of brevity in public speeches, I must be completely beyond learning anything."

Shakespeare Course Planned at MSUO

"Shakespeare at Stratford," a summer course to be offered at Michigan State University Oakland, will focus on three plays showing Shakespeare at different points in his career.

The course begins June 25 and will be conducted 7:30-9:30, Monday and Wednesday evenings. Instructor for the course is Dr. Robert Hoopes, professor of English and dean of the faculty.

Dr. Hoopes will conduct six lecture-discussions dealing with "The Taming of the Shrew," "Macbeth," and "The Tempest."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has announced the awarding of two contracts totaling $4,149,159 to Ford Motor Co. for production of 1,932 four-door sedans and 1,439 trucks.

Impartial Look at Constitution Urged by Group

ADRIAN (AP)—A Methodist Church group urged citizens today to avoid "party or sectional interests" when they vote on the proposed new state constitution.

The church's Board of Christian Social Concerns, reporting to the Detroit annual conference here, also said voters should make their decision by considering the proposal's "total effect upon all the people."

The report suggested the Methodist churches help the entire state become a "classroom" for study of the proposal by carrying on discussions of the document.

Church congregations also were called on to step up a racial relations improvement program adopted by the Methodists in 1960.

Increase in Crimes During Summertime

With summer at hand, J. EDGAR HOOVER sounds a note of warning in regard to criminal activities that we face ahead. In his current report he says, in part:

"The arrival of summer signifies the vacation season—a time of outdoor activities. Regrettably, a great number will be the victims of the annual onslaught of crimes of passion and violence.

"Forcible rape will rise approximately 16 per cent. Murder and aggravated assault will climb 12 per cent each. A similar increase will be registered in depraved sex attacks on innocent and defenseless children. These represent crimes which will become known to police. Untold numbers of victims will remain silent.

"Countless individuals subject themselves to unnecessary dangers. Many throw precautions to the wind during the summer. Vacationing travelers, in a congenial mood, minimize the danger with hitchhikers. A hasty, benevolent act laces them in the clutches of a vicious killer. Great stress should be placed on the crimes by child molesters. Closing of the school year adds an extra burden to the important roles of parents and guardians in this regard. Children need extraordinary attention and supervision. This cannot be left to public officials. Parents should warn children to avoid secluded spots, to refuse rides and reject gifts from strangers.

"Many persons all but abandon their homes. Their absence could not be better publicized with blinking neon lights. Blinds are drawn and doors are often left unlocked, a 'red carpet' invitation to burglars. Unlocked automobiles are stolen, and luggage, clothing and other valuables left overnight in cars are taken by thieves. Some drivers race along the Nation's highways as if licensed to kill. And all too frequently they do.

"Most police authorities prepare for the worst and hope for the best, but the protective shield of law enforcement can be stretched only so far. As public servants who know of the exacting toll resulting from carelessness, we must get this message across."

Before Nearing Water—Know How to Swim

Summer is here and again the fortunate residents and visitors of our Water Wonderland take to its countless inland lakes and the larger bodies of water surrounding us.

Water sports of all kinds beckon with a friendly hand; but friendliness can change quickly to menace if due caution is not exercised and proper safety measures observed.

First and foremost, everyone, young and old, indulging in water activities should be able to swim —or plan to learn at once. Yet, despite general agreement on the wisdom of such preparedness, nearly 100 million Americans can't swim. Last year there were 7,000 drownings, a tragic loss of life that in large part could have been avoided.

But there are warnings for those able to swim. Of last year's drownings, (86 per cent were men and boys past 14), nearly half of the victims were alone at the time. Swimming is no sport for solitude seekers.

Many drownings result from overconfidence on the part of the swimmer, disregard of posted hazards or failure to heed bodily distress signals. Swimming is no sport for the careless or the showoff.

With agencies in every community prepared and eager to teach the exhilarating art of swimming to juvenile and adult, failure to take advantage of the opportunity offered seems inexplicable.

The familiar "sink or swim" dictum, so often uttered frivolously, may become terrifyingly fraught with grim reality.

By 1992 Grads'll Have Lots of Spare Time

College commencement speakers usually try to dangle before listening graduates the bright promise of jobs in the immediate future. Dr. GLENN SEABORG, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, recently chose to alter the format radically.

He asked this year's graduates at Northern Michigan College to imagine attending their 30th class reunion in 1992, then pictured a world in which it seems computers and similar electronic aids will do most of the work.

By 1992, he says, there'll be a home "control center" to plan menus, keep budgets, help figure income taxes, even take part in family policy decisions.

It sounds as if the class of 1962 could by then be meeting in almost continuous reunion, since they may not have much else to do.

Reunited After 43 Years; Advertising Pays Off

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

A 43-year search has ended happily.

Mrs. Wilma Davis

of 235 N. Cass, relays the interesting tale. Her father

Claude Barnett

and

of Kansas, were World War I buddies. As time passed, the urge of the Kansan to see his old friend became unbearable, and three years ago began advertising in the hope of making contact. Although the object of his campaign did not see the ad, a friend did. Result: The two wartime buddies are presently together for a short reunion including two other war comrades.

And then again, maybe President Kennedy's recent cancellation of 22 subscriptions to a New York newspaper was but a belated, though nonetheless welcome, first step in an Administration economy program.

Two of Pontiac's nicest families are celebrating "golden" milestones.

Dr. Frank B. Geris

of 4425 Motorway Drive, attended the 50th reunion of the class in which he graduated from University of Michigan's School of Medicine. Beginning general practice in September following graduation, he is thought to be the oldest practicing physician in this area.

And

of 5480 Cooley Lake Road, was thrilled by her attendance at the 50th reunion of her Olivet graduation class. A major in literature, she reported that a surprising 20 of 39 graduates appeared for the reunion, one traveling from California.

It comes to the MAT that residents of Bloomfield Hills hope that a certain jet pilot locates his girl. He cases the joint daily at low altitudes . . . What other reason would bring him back time after time, after time?

A warm, chatty letter (we like that kind) from

of Southfield, an accomplished horticulturist with a love for growing things, imparts interesting and helpful observations. Her father had an inflexible rule that first sweet corn must be in the ground by May 5. The MAT's correspondent has always followed that dictum and reports that as a result her corn this year was knee-high on June 3.

Last winter's ice cap killed her "Winter Hardy" Harvest Giant mums, but there is Iris in bloom that hasn't flowered for two or three years, many lilies around a bird bath "so beautiful it's breath-taking," enough Pink Cleome self-seeded from two plants to "almost plant a row to Pontiac," and a mass of Portulaca triple that . . . A strange winter indeed, she concludes.

David Lawrence Advises:

President Had Better Work FAST

WASHINGTON — John F. Kennedy could still make a great President. Only a professional partisan would wish him to fail.

LAWRENCE

Yet, if Mr. Kennedy fails in the present crisis, the Country's economy will fail, too. The sooner the President learns how to reverse his course and move forward, the quicker the whole situation will improve.

What can the President do that he is not now doing?

First, it is essential that all luxury spending by the Government —all so-called "welfare" items, for example, that are normally attractive from a political viewpoint —be postponed and expenditures confined to absolute necessities.

Second, it is essential that all spending in the foreign field that is not absolutely necessary is carrying on the cold war be deferred.

This will help materially to solve the problem of cutting down the flow of American gold to foreign countries, which is jeopardizing the future value of the dollar.

EUROPE, TOO

And it is time for the prosperous nations of Western Europe to do more to help on the economic side in the cold war.

Third, it is essential that the confusion about taxes be cleared up at once. An "across-the-board" cut in taxes with increases in other rates to offset losses in revenue, as the President proposed the other day, is a mistake.

The complexity of the subject means a delay in the enactment of selected tax changes that are really imperative and demand immediate attention—not next year but right now.

Fourth, much of the so-called "tax reform" program, involving changes in long-accustomed ways of doing business and conducting personal spending, should be postponed at least until recovery is here.

To the cry that "The Treasury needs the money," the answer can be given that a huge increase in revenues from both individuals and corporations will come quickly as a prosperous economy, with full employment, emerges.

Hence, this is not the time to reconstruct the whole system of taxation, even though there are certain inequities which need sooner or later to be corrected.

READY TO COMPETE

Fifth, it is essential that the American economy be made ready at once to compete in world markets. This means for at least a year or two a self-imposed restraint by labor on any substantial increases in industry's wage costs.

It means, also, that American industry be given at once an incentive to buy new machinery and equipment, and that the rules of taxation involving what are known as "depreciation reserves" be freed from all of the discouraging restrictions that make it impossible to plan over the next five years for the investment of corporate funds in the modernization of plants.

The "investment credit" of 8 per cent, which the Administration has proposed, is grossly inadequate and narrow in its application.

Sixth, it is essential that the President be surrounded by more experienced advisers. He should select a council of at least ten of the most successful businessmen in the country to sit with him regularly and advise him on all matters that affect the economy.

They need not all be "moderates" or hand-picked friends of the Administration. Some of the Administration's most vehement critics should be included so they will have a chance to argue directly with the President. That's the way go get at the truth about what's going on in the national economy.

The "joint commission" idea is just a debating society.

OTHER WAYS

There are many other things Kennedy himself could do—for instance, spending less time on ceremonial affairs and on political conferences and trips, and more time in dealing with the economic decline now confronting the country.

The President may regard himself as a good politician, but if he doesn't soon get a program to cure the economic ills of the country, he will not be able to rely on the political fences he spends so much time trying to build up nowadays.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Iodism Rarely Follows Intake of Daily Ration

Iodin is modern spelling of iodine.

Coryza, says Webster, is "an acute inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nasal cavities; nasal catarrh; cold in the head."

Iodism is a state of the body caused by iodin (iodine) or iodid (iodide), such as potassium iodide or sodium iodide, taken in excessive medicinal doses or overdose.

BRADY

In former days iodism was a common occurrence. KI (iodide of potash, potassium iodide) was the favorite remedy for syphilis in the third stage.

I gather from correspondence with elder readers that many of them still use KL on their own, as a remedy for various chronic ailments, such as rheumatism, asthma, arteriosclerosis, but I regret to say I doubt whether medicinal doses of iodin or iodid are remedial for any of these ailments.

That is, if I had third stage syphilis, chronic joint disability, hardening of the arteries, or asthma, I wouldn't take iodin or iodid in medicinal quantity; but I'd make sure to get an optimum daily ration of nutritional iodin —as described in the pamphlet, "The Iodin Ration," for which send self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The most familiar indication of iodism is coryza, with profuse nasal discharge, watering of the eyes, watering of the mouth (salivation), maybe frontal headache, and a peculiar metallic taste early in the morning.

For emphasis I repeat, iodism is due to excessive intake of iodin or iodid, as medicine, by inhalation or breathing volatilized iodin, by swallowing it by mistake or with intent to poison (it is seldom if ever fatal) or by absorbing it from abscess or cystic cavity where it has been injected for X-ray diagnosis or as a form of treatment.

But in my judgment it is absurd to ascribe iodism or any skin eruption (such as pimples, boils, hives) to regular intake of the amount of iodin required to maintain good nutrition. It is conceivable, of course —but we rarely find a mouse's nest in the cat's ear.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

K 4-14

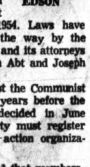
"Time spent planning for the future is wasted if we can't solve the present."

In Washington:

Red Registration Not Enforced

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — From 1953 through 1957, Department of Justice sent petitions to the Subversive Activities Control Board, asking for declarations that there were 24 Communist-controlled organizations operating in the United States.



EDSON

These actions were taken under the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950 and the Communist Control Act of 1954. Laws have been fought all the way by the Communist party and its attorneys —principally John Abt and Joseph Forer.

The case against the Communist party ran for 11 years before the Supreme Court decided in June 1961 that the party must register as a Communist action organization.

The court found that members of the party must also register. But so far neither the party nor any of its officers nor any of its members has been registered.

Department of Justice has had to go to court again to force compliance. The original deadline for registration was Nov. 21, 1961. The party and its officers refused to comply.

So a grand jury had to be convened to go all over the case once more. On Dec. 1, 1961, an indictment was returned against the Communist party and on March 15, 1962, against its General Secretary Gus Hall, and its National Secretary Ben Davis, for failure to register. Arraigned March 30, they pleaded not guilty. Trial has not been set. That's where the No. 1 case stands.

Fifteen other organizations which Subversive Activities Control Board has found to be Communist are:

International Workers Order, Inc.
Labor Youth League.
Jefferson School of Social Science.
Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade.
National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, Inc.
United May Day Committee.
California Labor School, Inc.
Civil Rights Congress.
American Peace Crusade.
Connecticut Volunteers for Civil Rights.
California Emergency Defense Committee.
Washington Pension Union.
Colorado Committee to Protect Civil Liberties.
American Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born.
International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

Thirteen of these organizations on which SACB issued orders requiring registration appealed to the U.S. District Court of Appeals. Seven of the cases were then remanded to SACB for determination whether the organizations are still active and if not, what effect that has on registration.

These cases, now under review by SACB, cover: Labor Youth League, Jefferson School of Social Science, California Labor School, Civil Rights Congress, American Peace Crusade, Washington Pension Union and the Colorado Committee to Protect Civil Liberties.

Four other organizations on which SACB has issued orders to register, with appeals still pending are:

Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, National Council of American Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born.

Two SACB orders on the Connecticut Volunteers for Civil Rights and the California Emergency Defense Committee have become final because time for appeal has expired. SACB hearings on the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers were dismissed by Department of Justice for lack of available witnesses and evidence.

SACB's most recent order on May 4, finding the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers was a Communist-infiltrated organization, was one of its most important and effective actions. It deprives the union of collective bargaining rights when order is made final.

But the union has now petitioned for a hearing that it is no longer Communist dominated, delaying decision.

What this SACB record shows is that enforcement of orders and court decisions against Communist organizations is a long and slow process, so far not too successful.

Penalties of $10,000 a day or five years imprisonment are provided for each day's failure to register. But so far not one cent has been collected and no Communist has gone to jail.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on May 31 began his third drive to force compliance. He petitioned Subversive Activities Control Board to require 10 members of the Communist party's national committee to register.

But it will take months and perhaps years of hearings, appeals and ultimately another Supreme Court decision to enforce the penalty.

'Need More Representation on Board of Supervisors'

How much longer is Pontiac going to lack representation on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors?

Our new Commissioner from district 5 voted to remove Rowston, Cummings, Anable and Mrs. Hill after they were appointed by the old Commission for their yearly term. All of these were fine able representatives.

Why doesn't he and his clique step up to their job and either reappoint or replace? We need full strength and voice on the board and only Clare Cummings has been renamed.

District 5 had Mr. Anable. Who do we get now — Mr. Ledford?

In reference to the letters in the paper the last couple days: Don't you leaders think it would be better scouting to work this out somewhere else? Why don't we get together. We all had better back up and take another look at the situation. How do we expect to teach our girls to get along if we can't handle a bad situation ourselves? Let's prove to them we still are scouts.

Expresses Pleasure in MAT Column

I am so glad "Man About Town" is back in The Press. It is one feature I always look for. I enjoy Mr. Heldenbrand's interesting column. Keep up the good work. I was afraid with Mr. Haas' death there wouldn't be a "Man About Town," but thank goodness it still goes on.

Says Newspapers Have Shortcomings

In your June 7 editorial you said it: "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." There were critical rebuttals but not very often were they published. Freedom of the press is important, but it does not mean everything is OK. According to the statement of the president of IAPA, progress of democracy in Latin America is a simple arithmetic. He fails to clarify the fact that it was the press, which was reporting and commenting about Castro's fight for freedom of Cuba. And it would be difficult to make a list of editorials, which brainwash the public.

When our press refers to Algeria today, all actions of European minority and OAS are nothing but terror and bloody murder. But when a similar action was going on for years by the hands of the Moslems, it was all legal fight for freedom.

Bombastic songs and ringing sermons are not required to preserve democracy and the "glories of freedom."

Racial Assimilation Prompts Comment

In answer to Brian MacKenzie, I don't believe my letter regarding racial assimilation made any reference to the time required. His letter implied that assimilation of the Negro depends upon his acceptance of the white man's standards. This bespeaks arrogance.

The white man in America will come to realize many of his values rest on unsound grounds. Take "illegitimacy." This concept is foreign to the African mentality. No African, and few Negroes, would think it moral, or civilized, to murder an unborn child, because it was conceived out of wedlock. Children, to the Negro, are to be cherished and loved, not wrenched from their mothers' wombs. If to be accepted by whites the Negro has to adopt this practice, then I hope he never gets accepted.

The African concept of tribal responsibility and discipline is more ethical than anything the white man practices. Further, no race has been more docile, forgiving, and lacking in belligerency than the American Negro.

I know countless, bigoted, intolerant, unthinking, belligerent whites, who go out of their way to interfere with the association of white and Negro persons who personally elect to associate.

I would be glad to debate with any bigot in town.

Milton B. Henry
84 Auburn Ave.

Mr. MacKenzie says assimilation will take time. Does he mean 100 years? He spoke of the Negro concessions, but why does he have house cleaning to do? The same faults are not peculiar to just Negroes.

Mr. MacKenzie said any Negro who has a sincere desire to become a first-class citizen is accepted. Is Dr. Ralph Bunche accepted? Many Negroes with better than average backgrounds, education and intelligence are not.

Has the Negro had equal opportunities? No. A Negro with more "polish" than 80 per cent of the whites is often referred to as "boy."

Auto Firms Step on Accelerator, Brag of Horsepower

By BEN PHLEGAR
Automotive Writer

Detroit—The auto industry's "noble experiment" in deemphasizing speed and horsepower is over.

Like a more famous "noble experiment" in prohibition in the 1920s, it never really worked, mainly because many whom it affected were at best lukewarm in their support.

Just as Americans learned the fine points of bathtub gin and bootlegging, auto engineers kept right on making bigger, hotter engines which powered passenger cars faster than they had ever gone before, and they had the clockings to prove it.

Five years ago this month the auto companies, acutely aware of pressure from Washington, agreed to substitute safety and reliability in place of their ever louder claims of speed and horsepower superiority.

Furthermore they agreed to get out of racing with their factory teams and not to "encourage or assist employes, dealers or others, or furnish financial, engineering, manufacturing, advertising or public relations assistance in connection with any such (racing) events, directly or indirectly."

As any follower of racing soon realized, this part of the agreement went by the boards in a hurry. Direct factory teams were disbanded but dealers, especially, were openly encouraged to race. If they needed factory help it usually was forthcoming, either in manpower, advice or materials.

Competition equipment, designed solely for racing, was manufactured by the passenger car companies and sold through dealers.

When the 1957 resolution was adopted by the Automobile Manufacturers Association, six stock passenger cars offered engines of 300 horsepower or more. Tops was the Chrysler 300 sports car with 375.

This year 12 cars have engines of 300 or more horsepower and seven are in the 400 plus range.

Significantly it was Henry Ford II, current president of the AMA, who first publicly broke away from the speed and horsepower resolution.

He said his company felt the rule had become so loosely interpreted, both by Ford and others, that it no longer had either effect or purpose.

Ford's grandfather, Henry Ford, raced his early cars to raise money. Henry II admitted he liked to see Ford cars win races.

This year Fords have won three of the biggest stock car races but have been virtually shut out by arch rival Chevrolet in drag strip competition.

Ford returned to racing through the back door after acquiring autolite 15 months ago. Autolite already had $2-million racing operation going. This year Autolite Division of Ford cosponsored a car in the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

PONTIAC BIG WINNER

Pontiac sales have boomed since 1959 and as a coincidence Pontiac has had outstanding stock car racing success from just about the same date.

Despite the ban, the companies have found ways to let it be known they had hot cars. Chrysler mentioned stock models of its 300 series had run in excess of 130 miles an hour at Daytona Beach.

Buick ran a 10,000-mile endurance test at an average of 120 miles an hour. Supercharged Plymouths set records for almost any distance.

The push on speed and horsepower had become so open recently that Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, asked the automakers to submit their recent advertising campaigns for study.

AN HONEST MOVE

Bill France, president of NASCAR, one of the two major sponsors of auto racing, greeted the Ford action as an "honest move."

Reaction from the other auto companies varied. American Motors, long an exponent of economy, was highly critical.

Chrysler Agreed the resolution had become inoperative. General Motors said it still supported the ban in principle. So did Studebaker.

In April, Studebaker announced its new Avanti sports car had been timed at more than 170 miles per hour. "But we're sellin; performance, not speed," said a company spokesman.

Since so much of the resolution had been honored in the breach rather than in the observance, chances of any immediate switch in tactics by the companies are unlikely.

A current ad of one o' the companies, written some time ago, already urges the public to put its foot down on the accelerator and feel the 405 horsepower.

Ford emphasized it still favors safety. Obviously, nobody is against it.

Legislators may get into the act again, especially Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts, D-Ala., who heads the house safety subcommittee. Roberts was an interested party to the 1957 AMA action and has frequently chided the Detroit manufacturers for what he regards as their failure to build safer cars.

Grand Rapids Paper Ends After 78 Years

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Michigan Times yesterday ended 78 years of weekly publication in Grand Rapids but hinted at a possible return as a twice or thrice-weekly effort.

Publisher Frank D. McKay, onetime Michigan Republican national committeeman and a former Michigan state treasurer, said the publication was suspended because of financial losses over the last two years.

The paper described its editorial content as reflecting "conservative" viewpoints. A closing editorial noted "new spending inflation, planned in Washington" and added ". . . we just can't seem to make ends meet any more."

McKay said, however, that publication might resume on a new basis if he succeeds in selling a hotel he owns and a $3.5-million apartment house he is building in Florida.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—More than 160 Grand Rapids business and professional men shipped out yesterday from Grand Haven aboard the SS North American on the 22nd annual greater Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce fellowship cruise of Lake Michigan.

The three-day journey touches seven ports with Manistee first on the list.

Baby Sitter, 20, Strangles Child

Unhappy at Losing Her Job Over Boy Friend's Long Visits

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 20-year-old baby sitter, apparently unhappy over losing her job because of too many visits from her boy friend, told police she strangled a 14-month-old boy with a silk stocking.

Miss Rochelle Posey was charged with first-degree murder in the death of Michael Magier. She had telephoned police that she killed the child Wednesday. The boy was dead before police got him to a hospital.

"I feel sorry about it now," Miss Posey told a reporter. "I'm guilty. I don't care what happens to me.

"I didn't want to have to find another job. I knew I couldn't hold it. I got pretty upset, so I decided to take the baby's life."

Police Chief Forrest Diefendorff of No ton Village said he and two patrolmen found the child lying on a couch with a pillow over his face. A woman's silk stocking was wound tightly around his throat.

Diefendorff quoted the baby sitter as saying her employer, Ruth Magier, with whom she stayed, called from work and asked if Miss Posey's boy friend was there. Told that he was, Mrs. Magier told the baby sitter to order him to leave.

FIRED HER

Mrs. Magier returned home and the boy friend was still there. She ordered him to leave, told Miss Posey it would be her last day of work there, and returned to work.

The baby sitter said she took Michael from his crib, laid him on the couch and got a stocking from the bathroom.

Diefendorff quoted Miss Posey as saying she choked the baby for 20 minutes.

She was held without bond in Summit County Jail.

Panamanian Leader Ends Capital Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Panamanian President Roberto Chiari wound up his three-day visit in Washington today and flew to New York.

Chiari and President Kennedy agreed yesterday that the Panamanian flag would fly beside the Stars and Stripes in the canal zone.

Kennedy also discussed with Chiari the possibility of greater benefits for Panama in canal operations. The discussions were held in two long meetings yesterday and Tuesday.

Ground Landings Eyed for Future Astronaut Pickup

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) —Future American astronauts may land in the New Mexico desert instead of the ocean.

Dr. Russell K. Sherburne, chief scientist at White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico, said in an interivew that as space vehicles become more sophisticated, land recovery will be preferable to water.

He said orbital vehicles hit the water at a speed of about 30 feet per second and safe ground landing could be made at 20 feet per second.

Eye Joint Orbit of Man, Chimp

Preliminary to Moon Landing Outlined by Space Agency Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans to put a man and monkey in orbit together as part of the preliminary experiments for a moon landing were outlined to senators yesterday.

James E. Webb, chief of the Civilian Space Agency, said the joint orbit of an astronaut "with an instrumented chimpanzee or other animal" would be a "step up to the so far successful ... project of putting a man in orbit.

Webb also told ... to add another 14,000 acres to the Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching area to handle the huge rockets and boosters now under development.

Accompanied by key defense and atomic energy officials, Webb asked the senate space committee to approve a $3,787,276,000 authorization for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

He asked restoration of $116,114,000 cut from the authorization by the house when it passed the bill. Actual funds will be provided in a later separate appropriation.

Webb explained that the bulk of new space funds, more than $2.25 billion will be spent on manned space flight.

He said plans now are to complete the three-orbit Mercury flights, which John Glenn and Malcolm Scott Carpenter already have made, and then extend these to include flights up to one day's duration.

That could mean 18 orbits of the earth in 24 hours.

Lake City Youth, 19, Dies After Car Crash

CADILLAC (AP) — Richard Baker, 19, of Lake City, died yesterday at Mercy Hospital in Cadillac where he was admitted Sunday with injuries suffered in an auto crash on a Missaukee County road about three miles southeast of Lake City.

He was a passenger in a car driven by James W. Hooker Jr., 18, a neighbor, who escaped serious injury.

Endorse Candidate for Prosecutor Post

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne County AFL-CIO yesterday announced its endorsement of Joseph B. Sullivan in the August primary for the Democratic nomination for prosecutor.

Sullivan will challenge incumbent Samuel Olsen, who has had the labor body's support in past elections.

Sullivan resigned his post as executive secretary to Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh to make his bid for the county office.

The recommendation was among several approved by a meeting of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE).

Mothers who are sad at sending their youngsters away to camp can look at it this way — they're not losing a son, they're gaining two turtles, a frog and a garter snake . . . . The man who doesn't know where all his money is going obviously has never gone shopping with his wife—Earl Wilson.

Detroit Museum Acquires First Picasso Painting

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Institute of Arts yesterday announced the acquisition of its first painting by the great Spanish artist, Pablo Picasso.

The painting, valued at $80,000, was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II, who have made several notable donations to the museum in the past.

Paul L. Grigaut, acting director of the Institute, said the Picasso—which will be put on permanent public display—is "the most important contemporary work acquired by our museum in the last 50 years."

Painted in 1909, it is a cubistic portrait of Pallares, a Spanish poet and close friend of the artist. Picasso gave it to Pallares, bought it back three years ago and then placed it on the market.

Ford Fund Gives $5,000

DETROIT (AP) — A $5,000 grant to the history conference, "Michigan in Perspective," has been made by the Ford Motor Co. fund.

The conference, aimed at bringing historians together to discuss mutual interests, is cosponsored by Wayne State University, the Detroit Historical Society and the Detroit Public Library.

Claims Control of A-Devices Is Foolproof

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—An officer of the U.S. Air Force in Europe said yesterday the control over atomic devices in Europe is foolproof.

"No man can unwittingly set off an atomic device," the official told a group of touring newsmen from the United States. "It takes at least two men."

His statement came after disclosure that the Davy Crockett, a bazooka-like weapon capable of firing nuclear rounds, was available to combat troops of the U.S. 7th Army in Europe.

Officers of the U.S. Armed Forces Command in Europe made it clear in earlier discussions with newsmen that aircraft do not carry nuclear weapons on training missions.

Army Plans More Chemical War Research

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Next year, Congress willing, the Army will significantly step up the dollars it spends on chemical-biological warfare research and development.

Defense Department planners expect to increase those funds through the next five years as fast as the research and development men can profitably absorb the money.

This is the plan, though no one in the Pentagon knows whether chemical biological weapons would ever be used.

Reports from the Soviet Union indicate a major push in developing new war chemicals and in perfecting work on disease spreading techniques. There is evidence of strong chemical-biological warfare troop training.

There is considerable Soviet writing on tactical training in chemical and germ warfare. There is a great deal of Soviet scientific research on chemicals and on germs of types very useful in chemical-germ warfare.

FEAR 'BAD' BALANCE

The current disarmament talks in Geneva, State Department men say privately, are expected to get nowhere on the chemical-biological weapons.

Defense Department scientists say a major worry in the Soviet Union and the United States is that the offense has gotten ahead of the defense. It would be a great deal easier to use chemicals and germs in war than to protect against them.

The only feasible way to protect large numbers of troops or civilians against chemicals or germs is by some mass treatment or inoculation. The scientists think it should be an aerosol spray type that could treat large numbers at one time.

The worry is that the Russians may be ahead in the development of this mass spraying. There are reports from the Soviet Union of large-scale experiments with human beings — experiments that some U.S. scientists say are too dangerous for American operators to attempt on humans at this time.

But what disease do you prepare against? Some 100 diseases or varieties new to the U.S. are discovered each year some place or other in the world. Most are unsuitable for germ warfare, but some are.

Russian scientific literature indicates their scientists have decided that it would be more effective if their chemical-bacteriological troops spread several diseases at once.

The combination, they say, has a much rougher effect than comes from spreading one disease at a time. The Reds also may be experimenting with mixing chemicals and germs in even more effective sprays.

Department of Defense experts calculate that within two to three years they could have—if called on—an ability to produce adequate amounts of some modern specialized chemicals and germs for use in war. The most effective chemicals and germs are classified secret.

COULD HAVE WARHEADS

Defense men say they could also have within two to three years the specialized missile "warheads" needed to deliver chemicals and germs.

These officials believe that in addition to effective "killer" chemicals, they will have developed within two to three years a family of "incapacitating" chemicals ready for quantity production, if ordered.

These are chemicals that might destroy a man's will to fight or his ability to concentrate, but they would not kill.

A major drive in the chemical-germ warfare development program for the next five years will be the development of techniques for using chemical-germ war in what Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara calls sub-limited war — the type of fighting now going on in South Viet Nam.

Typical sub-limited war problems the research men are working on:

"Incapacitating" chemicals could be used in attacking strong points such as pill boxes, caves and bunkers. In the Pacific War the Japanese troops were rooted out of these strong points slowly and painfully with flame throwers. Napalm was used in the Korean War.

Chemical land mines could halt massed charges of enemy troops. Scientists point out that the explosive and fire mines used in Korea halted only the first waves.

Chemical land mines could break up a sustained attack of wave after wave of enemy troops. Either "killer" or "incapacitating" chemicals could be used.

Crop killing chemical sprays could knock out the food supply of an enemy. But these might be impractical when operating in part-friendly, part-enemy territory.

Weed-brush-tree killing chemicals could clear an area where guerrillas might lurk.

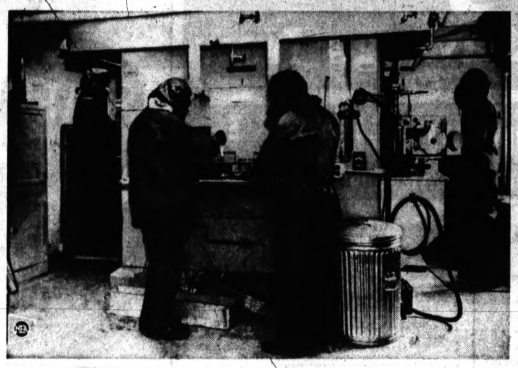
New techniques with germs also offer some frightening possibilities in intercontinental war. Defense Department scientists say a saboteur could bring enough germs into a country in a suitcase to start an epidemic. They note the ease with which Asian flu swept the country.



GERM WARRIORS — Technicians wearing protective clothing conduct bio-assay tests in the toxic munitions chamber at the Army Chemical Center, Maryland. Next year the Army plans to step up its funds for chemical warfare. Reports from the Soviet Union that the Russians are putting a great deal into their chemical war efforts.

Retired Bishop, 92, Dies

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Bishop Edwin J. Randall, 92, retired suffragan bishop of the Chicago Episcopal diocese, died Wednesday.

Macomb Goes for Swainson

TO REPRESENT STATE — The Curbstone Serenaders, whose members belong to the Oakland County and Pontiac chapters of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will compete for top honors with 45 other singing groups at the Society's International Contest and Convention in Kansas City, Mo., June 18-24. Shown from left are Bob Marshall of Berkley, Cliff Douglas of Pontiac, Tom Rafferty of Livonia and Ed Lilly of Clawson. Two other Michigan groups, both from Dearborn, will participate.

Signs Petitions Despite Bill Veto

Dem Governor Meets With Mayors, Top Party Men in County

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) —Gov. Swainson, campaigning through Macomb County, has received a nominating petition, something some party members had threatened not to circulate.

The new Democratic chairman of Macomb, Sen. George Steeth of Mount Clemens, presented Swainson yesterday with nominating petitions bearing 5,000 signatures.

Some members of the party had declined to circulate the petitions after Swainson vetoed the Bowman Bill. The bill, which would have prevented Detroit from taxing the income of commuting nonresidents, was popular in this area.

Swainson shook hands with workers at the Dodge plant in Warren and breakfasted with some 40 mayors, councilmen and party leaders in the county.

AS GOVERNOR

He told the group "as John B. Swainson, individual, I might like to do many things for the people of Macomb, but as John B. Swainson, governor, I must act in the interest of all the people of Michigan," explaining his veto of the bill.

Swainson said he wants statewide fiscal reform, "but when your back is to the wall, you have to take action," he said.

The governor kept his informal talk brief, allowing some Warren city councilmen to leave for Port Huron where George Romney was scheduled to address a group of supervisors.

Swainson remarked as the councilmen departed:

"I know who the speaker is in Port Huron. While you guys are there, I want you to ask him what he's going to do (about fiscal reform)?"

Farmington Faces Decision on Rezoning for Quigley Co.

FARMINGTON — The future of a manufacturing firm here may be decided Monday by the City Council.

The council at that time is expected to announce its decision on a proposal that would allow the Quigley Manufacturing Co. to expand its plant by three times its present size.

This can only be done by the rezoning of four residential lots at the rear of the lighting equipment firm, 30966 Grand River Ave.

In January the rezoning request was turned down after nearby homeowners objected to the expansion, saying it would decrease the value of their property.

Another public hearing was held June 4 to reconsider the rezoning after Charles Quigley, owner of the firm, and city administrators prepared an alternate set of plans for the expansion.

Protesting homeowners were still in the majority at the meeting, so the council delayed its decision for two weeks until it could study thoroughly the new proposal.

Quigley, who has operated his business in the city for 15 years, said the expansion would cost an estimated $250,000.

The expansion would almost triple the size of the building. Company offices will be housed in a second-story building facing Grand River.

SIX FOOT FENCE

The new set of plans would make it mandatory for Quigley to erect a six-foot fence around the plant along with a six-foot wide green belt; and to complete the outside walls of the addition within six months.

He would also have to file bonds with the city for work completion and maintenance of the borders.

The agreement also states that Quigley would not attempt to expand the plant any further in the future.

When Quigley's original request was rejected, he received numerous offers from other communities to relocate his operation.

The Michigan Economic Development Commission expressed interest in the problem and has given it close attention ever since.

Quigley, who says he wants to continue operations in Farmington if at all possible, has indicated, however, that he may have to move from the city if his business is to grow.

Millage Election Decision Put Off

Lyon School Board to Study Feasibility of Alternate Proposal

SOUTH LYON—The Lyon School Board last night delayed scheduling a special millage election called by citizens until it learns if it is feasible to submit to voters at the same time an alternate proposal that would provide additional funds.

The citizens committee, opponents of the 6.5 mill operating tax renewal that was defeated Monday, has presented the board with petitions demanding that an election requesting four mills be set within two weeks.

The board, however, does not believe the millage would provide sufficient funds for operating the schools.

A special meeting of the board will be held 8 p.m. Monday to discuss the findings of study to be made over the weekend by a finance subcommittee and the possibility that a companion proposal for additional millage be tacked on the four mill request.

The proposal that was defeated Monday would not have increased taxes. It would, however, have provided more money for operations because 2.5 mills would have been transferred from a building and site fund.

This 2.5 mills was to be used chiefly for teachers' salary increases and was anticipated when the budget was prepared.

The defeat of the 6.5 mill renewal this week was the second time in a month that the proposal had been turned down.

To Show Jewish Film

ROCHESTER — Rev. Ben David Lew, a former rabbi, will present a 75-minute film on Jewish customs and the Passover at 8 p.m. Monday at the Rochester Nazarene Church. The film showing is open to the public.

Spear-Cooper Rites

Married in Candle Glow

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—Kaedonna Louise Cooper became the bride of George L. Spear in a candlelight service Friday evening at the First Free Methodist Church, Pontiac. Rev. Lyal Howson performed the nuptials in the presence of 250 guests.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil G. Cooper, 2591 Glen Rose St., the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta for her wedding. It featured a Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves and a tiered skirt.

A snug-fitting cap held her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion, and she carried a colonial bouquet of Carol Anding rosettes with white carnations and stephanotis in a pearl cuff.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Nancy Schwab of Owosso. Bridesmaid was Sandra Lockwood of Alexandria, Va.

The bridegroom, son of Irl Spear of Kingston and the late Mrs. Spear, was assisted by Roger Gast of Owosso as best man. Groomsman was Paul Walborn of Pomona, Calif.

The guests were seated by Marvin R. Cooper, brother of the bride, and Alvin Orchard of Sandusky.

Following a reception held at the Pontiac Township Hall, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Niagra Falls. They will live in Owosso.

Says Solons Seek to Quiet Retarded Care Criticism

DETROIT (UPI) — A spokesman for the Michigan Association for Retared Children said yesterday that members of the association had been urged to silence their critical remarks about the state legislature.

Mrs. Kermit Charron said legislators "had complained to Charles Wagg, director of the mental health department, that he'd better see we stopped our criticism or else."

She charged last week that budget cutbacks had forced the use of retarded patients with a mental age of less than 6 years in the day-to-day care of other patients.

Mrs. Charron said State Sen. Clarence F. Graebner, R-Saginaw, was mentioned in a recent meeting in Lansing as one of the lawmakers who complained to Wagg.

Graebner said, "I had a conversation with Richard Vander Veen (chairman of the Mental Health Commission). And I jumped on Wagg after that fake film on Lapeer. It's a pack of lies. There were people callin me who'd never even been there."

Michael Kreider, executive director of the MARC, supported Mrs. Charron's account of the meeting in Lansing although he said he could not remember Graebner's name being mentioned.

Wagg denied that the name of any senator was mentioned at the Lansing meeting. He said, "It is not my policy to criticize the legislature. We attempt to develop a program to fit the needs. Anyone can find out what it is."

Plan Underpass for Pedestrians

To Go Under Main Road at Novi Twp. Park for Beach Traffic

NOVI—A 60-foot pedestrian underpass will be built at the Novi Township Park within two weeks to permit movement from the picnic area to the beach without crossing a heavily traveled road.

The tunnel will be constructed under South Lake Drive as a safety measure, particularly for youngsters running back and forth between the Walled Lake beach and the park, according to Township Clerk Hadley J. Bachert.

Work on the project is expected to begin next Wednesday if construction bids prove satisfactory, he said. The bids are to be opened and a contract awarded tomorrow.

Revenue collected from nonresidents using the park will finance the construction of the underpass, estimated to cost less than $8,000, said Bachert.

The 6- by 7½-foot underpass will be lighted. During the hour the park is closed the passageway will be blocked by gates at both ends.

Awarded BA Degree

KEEGO HARBOR — Sharon Simoneau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Simoneau of 1716 Rustic Lane, has graduated from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, receiving a bachelor of arts degree in English.

She will teach at the Walled Lake High School in the fall.

Doctor to Aid Drive for Building Hospital

ROCHESTER — Appointment of Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr. as vice chairman of the building fund drive for the Rochester Unit of the Crittenton Hospital has been announced by Howard L. McGregor Jr., general chairman of the drive.

Dr. Geist has been cochairman of the campaign's medical division soliciting contribution pledges from members of the medical profession in the Oakland and Macomb county areas to be served by the new hospital.

The Area Redevelopment Administration has designated Cheboygan as an economically depressed area.

Cheboygan Tries to Keep Icebreaker

CHEBOYGAN (UPI)—The Chamber of Commerce here has launched a "save our ship" campaign to keep the icebreaker Mackinaw from being reassigned to Port Huron.

The S-O-S drive was touched off yesterday after Rep. James O'Hara D-Utica, announced that the Coast Guard was considering the move from Cheboygan.

Chamber members plan to solicit the city's population of some 6,000 to get signatures in support of the idea.

The signatures will be affixed to telegrams to be sent Friday to Rep. Victor Knox, R-Mich.; Sens. Phil A. Hart and Pat McNamara, Michigan Democrats; President Kennedy, and the commandant of the Coast Guard, Edward Roland.

A contribution of 25 cents will be asked for each signed to pay for the messages.

The chamber says that moving the icebreaker from Cheboygan would be a blow to the city's economy. Chamber members point out that the Mackinaw crew numbers more than 115 and several businesses here depend on the crew for much of their trade.

Rites in Walled Lake

Marie Trusty Is Wed

WALLED LAKE — The Church of God here was the setting recently for the wedding of Marie Trusty and Ron Hill. Officiating was Rev. D. O. Davis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parley Trusty of 1576 Ladd Road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Manley of Pasadena, Calif.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of taffeta and appliqued lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place with a rhinestone tiara.

A white orchid was centered among white carnations that rested on the prayer book she carried.

Jane Noel of South Lyon was the maid of honor and Rodger Jankins of Commerce Township best man. Guests were seated by John Sparks of Walled Lake.

A reception was held immediately following the afternoon ceremony at Stonecrest.

The newlyweds are residing in Walled Lake.

Disarmament Conference Still Stuck

Hamstrung Geneva Parley Recesses

GENEVA (AP) — The 17-nation disarmament conference starts a month-long summer recess today with the Soviet Union and the Western powers still deadlocked on all key issues after three months of negotiations.

Western delegates took a gloomy view of the first phase of the conference of Western, Communist and nonaligned nations.

"I feel the negotiations have not been entirely useless," said one diplomat, "but on substantial matters we have achieved absolutely nothing."

The Westerners were hopeful the conference at least had served to explain some of the complexities of world disarmament to the eight nonaligned nations who joined the East-West negotiations here last March.

BAD LITTLE CONCEPT

The eight—Brazil, Burma, Ethiopia, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Sweden and the United Arab Republic—have no nuclear weapons, no large armies and no far-reaching military treaty obligations. Thus they had little concept of the problems that complete disarmament would pose for a major power.

The West and the Communist bloc appeared as far apart as ever on two key issues—international controls and an international police force to keep the peace in a disarmed world.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union advanced plans calling for effective verification of disarmament measures by international inspectors and for a watchdog force to replace national armies after disarmament.

The Western powers—the United States, Britain, Canada and Italy—claim the Soviet Union is paying only lip service to the two concepts.

WATERED DOWN

They say Soviet control arrangements are watered down to prevent any reliable disarmament verification.

The West insists the Soviet version of a peace force would be virtually inoperative and too weak to protect any country from a potential aggressor secretly remaining in violation of a disarmament accord.

Western diplomats claim the negotiations have made clear that the Soviet Union considers disarmament only a possible instrument to further the professed Communist goal of world domination.

Hell Doesn't Like Devilish Slogans

HELL (AP) — If you believe "hell is heaven on earth" — or said something to that effect in your entry in the Hell slogan contest — you don't have the chance of a snowball in July of winning, Mel Reinhard, president of the local chamber of commerce said today.

His small Livingston County village received some 2,000 entries from Italy, France, England, Ireland, all Canadian provinces, and from 50 states in the contest that closed this week, Reinhard said.

But it got only one from neighboring Pinckney—a mile away.

Some 35-90 per cent of the entries were duplications or variations of the heaven-on-earth theme, Reinhard said. They won't win, he added. The winner will be announced next Monday.

Several people wrote to say they didn't believe in Hell. They are being sent invitations to come and see for themselves, Reinhard said.

The response was surprising, considering the prize is $25 and a "pass through hell," he added.

Yugoslavia produces aluminum for the United States and other customers. Since 1955 the Balkan nation has doubled production. It turned out 25,000 tons in 1960.

Rebels Burn and Bomb in New Algiers Attack, Demand Concessions

ALGIERS (UPI) — The Secret Army Organization (OAS) struck property in Algiers with fire and explosives today and threatened to pull all Europeans out of Algeria unless Moslem leaders grant them new political concessions.

A small mountain of tar sacks was set afire on the waterfront, two plastic bombs seriously damaged the manual labor exchange in the Bab-El-Oued quarter and fire gutted the Sahara region cooperation office in the El Biar quarter for the second time in 24 hours.

Similar attacks have destroyed scores of public and private buildings in recent weeks in the OAS "scorched earth" campaign.

The Algerian Press Service, semiofficial agency of the Moslem rebel leadership, reported that French Legionnaires massacred 11 members of one family at Sidi Bel Abbes Tuesday night. However, there was no confirmation of this from any official sources, either European or Moslem.

Airlines and shipping companies anticipated a sharp increase in the already heavy flight of Europeans to France as a result of Moslem refusal to bow to OAS pressures.

Williams Attacked by S. African Press

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Die Vaderland, a newspaper here recently taken over by Premier Hendrik Verwoerd's press group, has denounced G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, for his views on decolonization in the continent.

Die Vaderland said yesterday the former Michigan governor must be "incurably blind" to praise French and British decolonization programs as intelligent and efficient.

Die Vaderland said "When Mr. Williams sees . . . a real future for the whites in integration with nonwhite leaders of the liberated countries, he must be incurably blind."

Capital Newsmen Urged to Freshen Ties With Homes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The executive editor of the Detroit Free Press and the other Knight Newspapers said here last night that newsmen assigned to Washington should return home often "to get a different view of America than we do from Washington."

Lee Hills, who also is president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, said the danger facing the reporter in Washington is something called "the theory of substitution."

This theory describes the person who is assigned to represent somebody or something and comes to think of himself as that somebody or something instead of its representative.

Hills said "everybody in this city represents somebody or something out in the 50 states of the union and if they want to keep their roots fresh, and their reports up to the minute, they should go home again, everytime they get a chance."

Sings for 33,000 at Graham Rally

Ethel Waters Steps From Choir to Solo at Chicago Crusade

CHICAGO (UPI) —Negro blues singer Ethel Waters stepped out of the 1,500-voice choir last night and sang "His Eye Is on the Sparrow" to some 33,000 persons at Billy Graham's Chicago crusade.

Miss Waters, 61, collapsed last March while singing at a Youth for Christ rally in Los Angeles.

Two years ago she was hospitalized with a serious heart ailment, which threatened to end the singing career she began in 1924 in a show called the "Plantation Review." Her autobiography, also titled "His Eye Is on the Sparrow," was a best seller 10 years ago.

Graham had spotted Miss Waters, of Pasadena, Calif., in the choir and invited her to do a solo.

In his sermon last night, Graham said persons who perform the rituals of Christianity are not necessarily Christians.

Neither, he said, are persons who possess "moral virtues" or live "respectable" lives necessarily Christians.

"A Christian is a person in whom Christ dwells. Millions of men and women in sight of salvation are bogged in confusion because they don't know that the cross they see is the way to victory," he said.

Graham said the encounter with a living Christ cannot take place until a person realizes he has broken God's laws. "Then we must be willing to receive God by faith, and be willing to obey Him."

Ties With Israel Must for Jews, Ben-Gurion Says

JERUSALEM (AP) — Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion told American Jewry Wednesday night Jews abroad can keep their group identity only if they maintain the closest personal and educational ties with Israel.

To survive as communities, Ben-Gurion said, Jews throughout the world should also learn Hebrew as a second language.

"It isn't so difficult to learn," Ben-Gurion said in a speech before an American-Israeli "dialogue" conference sponsored by the American Jewish Congress. At the three-day meeting nearly 1,000 American Jews and Israelis are exchanging ideas on strengthening relations between the two countries.

Army Confirms Antiguerrilla Activity

U.S. Forces Train Latin Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today teams of its special forces — experts in antiguerrilla warfare—have been in and out of Latin America during the past year.

A spokesman said these 12-man teams were invited to help train native military forces in techniques of combatting insurgency of the sort pro-Castro elements might launch.

He declined to name the nations involved, but indicated the training was a fairly routine operation.

The antiguerrilla training teams were drawn from the 7th Special Forces Group based at Ft. Bragg, N. C. This group—one of four in being — is oriented toward Latin America.

The spokesman made his statements in response to questions about a story in Newsday, Garden City, N. Y., reporting on the Latin American operations of the troops.

DETAILS SKETCHY

In a copyrighted story from Ft. Bragg, N. C., staff writer Art Perfall said 12-man teams from the special forces group are training Latin American forces "in an apparent move to thwart attempts by Cuba's Fidel Castro to export his most successful weapon—guerrilla warfare—to the South American mainland."

Perfall said Col. Clyde Russell, commander of the 7th's 1,300-man group, returned recently from an inspection tour in South America but "refused to give details of the operation or to say where they were being carried out."

Specialists from several Latin American countries have been training under U.S. Army commanders in Panama, but Newsday's article would indicate that the program has been extended to the countries themselves.

The article quoted an Army spokesman in Washington as confirming that the teams—the same troops used to train and direct Laotian and South Vietnamese forces against Red guerrillas — "have been in and out of several South American countries."

The spokesman declined to say whether any actually had been under fire. The article quoted him:

"The operation of these teams in South America is still a highly classified and an extremely delicate subject.

"All that we can say is that special forces teams have been in and out of several South American countries at the invitation of the governments involved. The specific countries and the specific work the teams are doing there is still classified and we can say nothing more."

Newsday points out that Colombia has been the scene of Castro-type riots, bombings and sabotage, with guerrilla fighting in remote areas; Venezuela, where a military coup failed last week, has had guerrilla fighting and has accused Castro supporters of smuggling in arms; and Guatemala, where a Communist regime was overthrown in 1954, has had guerrilla operations and has seized arms shipments being smuggled in from Cuba.

OK Economic Boost for Otsego County

LANSING (AP) — The State Economic Development Department has announced approval of a temporary economic development program for Otsego County under the Area Redevelopment Administration.

The bid for federal loans to the county has been forwarded to Washington for seconding of the approval.

County projects contemplated include development of a central maple syrup evaporating plant and encouragement of local potato, beef cattle, feeder pig and forest products industries.

Requests Study on Tax Impact

Legislator Says Levy on Cigarettes Could Spark Bootlegging

LANSING (AP)— A Democratic legislator wants the House to set up a special committee to study the potential impact of a cigarette tax increase on bootlegging activities.

Rep. Edward H. Jeffries, D-Detroit, said the committee would consider whether tax stamps should be affixed to cigarettes packages when the tax is paid, as proof that they are sold in Michigan.

Massachusetts and Michigan are the only states that don't use tax stamps, Jeffries said.

The $76 million nuisance tax package passed by the legislature last week includes a two-cent increase in the nickel-a-pack tax on cigarettes. It is expected to raise $20 million a year.

HIGHER THAN NEIGHBORS

The increase will raise Michigan's tax above those of any neighboring state. Indiana has a three cent tax, Ohio five cents, Illinois four cents and Wisconsin six cents.

In debate over the cigarette levy, legislators pointed out that bootleggers could make 40 cents a carton by buying cigarettes in Indiana and bringing them to Michigan for resale.

"Even allowing for a deduction, a bootlegger could easily make $35 or $30 a day this way," said Rep. Elmar Erlandsen, D-Escanaba.

Erlandsen proposed to raise money for enforcement by putting a $10 tax on every retailer and by hiking other cigarette license charges. He figured the increases would raise more than $350,000 a year.

The proposal passed the House but was rejected by the Senate.

Jeffries said he would make his proposal when the legislature returns June 25 to wind up its activities for the year.

Thai King, Queen Begin Tour of Military Camp

KORAT, Thailand (AP) — King Bhumibol Adulyadej and Queen Sirikit began a three-day tour today of military camps where Thai, American and Allied troops are stationed to guard Thailand's northern and northeast frontiers against Communist invaders.

The king welcomed the American troops as friends who have "come to help us in a difficult time."

The royal couple flew in helicopters to this big Thai military center after a half hour visit with the 2,000-man U.S. infantry battle group camped 40 miles south of Korat.

The king and queen were accompanied by Premier Marshal Sarit Thanarat, Air Marshal Dawee Chullasab and Interior Minister Gen. Praphas Charusathien.

Thant Offers U.N. Plan to Lift Living Standards

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Acting Secretary General U Thant put forward today a broad 10-year U.N. program for increasing the living standards of millions of people who are hungry, ill-clothed and unable to read or write.

Described as "proposals for a U.N. development decade," the multibillion dollar program is an outgrowth of a proposal made by President Kennedy when he addressed the General Assembly last Nov. 25. He urged that the current decade be declared "a U.N. development decade."

Under the leadership of the United States and 15 other nations, the assembly approved unanimously a resolution giving that name to the decade. Thant called the action "perhaps as significant in its potentialities, as any resolution ever adopted by the United Nations."

There has been no announcement by the United States — the principal supporter of U.N. aid programs in the past — as to just how much money it would contribute. The Soviet Union, which also voted for the resolution, has not made any specific commitments.

In general, the main objective is to create conditions under which the national incomes of the developing, or "have not" countries, would increase at a rate of 5 per cent annually by 1970 and continue to increase at that rate thereafter. The present rate of increase is estimated at 3½ per cent.

"If this can be done," Thant said, "and if the population of the developing countries continues to rise at its present rate of 2 to 2½ per cent yearly, personal living standards can be doubled within 25 to 30 years."

ISSUES WARNING

He warned that if the population increase goes beyond that rate — as some experts say is possible — it will take correspondingly longer to double living standards.

If the 5 per cent increase is to be realized, the report said, manufacturing output in the developing countries will have to be increased by at least 130 per cent.

As to the financial implications, the report recommends expansion in the flow of capital and assistance that would add $4 billion to $8 billion annually to the present level.

This would include a $25 million annual increase in the U.N. expanded program of technical assistance and the special fund, with the 1970 target set at $300 million annually in these two areas alone.

It was estimated that, to reach an adequate nutritional level, food supplies would have to be increased by 4.3 per cent annually in Africa, 4 per cent in the Middle East, 4.3 per cent in the Far East and 4.2 per cent in Latin America.

The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) estimates that one sixth of the world's population —roughly 500 million people — still suffer from lack of sufficient food, and twice that number have diet deficiencies.

Arm Sewn On, Boy Dreams of Pitching Again

BOSTON (UP) — A courageous little league baseball pitcher, whose severed right arm was sewn back on in a miracle operation, was back home today dreaming of returning to the mound.

Everett Knowles of Somerville, Mass., a 12-year-old, freckle-faced righthander, went home yesterday from Massachusetts General Hospital where he had been a patient since the accident May 23.

A team of surgeons "reimplanted" the severed arm in a 7½ hour operation which never before has proved successful. Everett was given "one chance in a million"' of regaining use of the arm.

But it appears that he might have won that single chance. Said one hospital official: "It's working so well it's frightening."

Says JFK Abhors His 'Paper Image'

MOSCOW (AP) — The newspaper Sovietskaya Rossia said yesterday President Kennedy will not look at the New York Herald Tribune for the same reason an old lady will not look in the mirror—he doesn't like the image.

The newspaper of the Communist party in the Russian republic claimed the White House in cancelling its subscriptions did not want to take notice of the Billie Sol Estes case and "decided to punish the newspaper that exposed these facts."

Goodwill Gesture Brings Ailing Woman to Home

LAKE ODESSA (AP)—Mrs. Mary Guy, about 75, was under care of friends yesterday at Lake Odessa where she was brought, after suffering a collapse, by an Amherstburg, Ont., ambulance as a goodwill gesture.

She was among 41 members of the Woodland Women's Club on a charter bus trip Tuesday when she collapsed in an Amherstburg restaurant. A physician advised that she be kept quiet and in a prone position.

Her plight, more than 100 miles from home, was eased when a waitress suggested contacting the Amherstburg ambulance service.

The service offered to transport Mrs. Guy to her home free of charge as a gesture of good will. The club returned by bus after each tour member voluntarily contributed $1 to help defray the ambulance cost.

Chicago, the world's largest rail center, has about 7,800 miles of rail trackage. There are 208 freight yards with a total capacity of approximately 250,000 freight cars.

OAKLAND COUNTY HOMEOWNERS' and TAXPAYERS' ASSOCIATION

in The Pontiac Press Monday, June 11, 1962 one sentence in the closing paragraph was unintentionally deleted . . . This paragraph should have read:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this Commission does hereby register objection to the expenditure of County tax funds for this unrealistic and visionary project which, if completed, will bring injury and damage to the home owners of the City of Pontiac whose property is in the flight pattern of aircraft using this field and to that end this Commission instructs its representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors to take all legal steps to cause the abandonment by the Board of Supervisors of this project as being an unnecessary, wasteful and unjustified expenditure of tax funds needed for more worthwhile projects.

Debt Weighs Heavily on Retiree

Rushes Around After Money

LONDON (AP) — A retired American businessman traveled by plane, train, taxi, ocean liner and tugboat today—just to pay a hotel bill.

"I can't stand owing money," said Henry S. Woodward, a retired broker from Delray Beach, Fla. "I had to do something about it."

He couldn't meet his bill at a fashionable hotel — the Washington.

But he knew he could settle the matter shortly, for his sister, Mrs. William S. Finlay, was on her way to Europe aboard the France of the French Lines.

THE RUN AROUND

Explaining this to the hotel, he flew to Paris. There he learned that the France would dock in Southampton, England, before it did in Le Havre, on the French side of the English Channel.

So he made a night flight back to London on an airline travel card. At 5:40 a.m. he took a train to Southampton. At Southampton he hired a taxi to the pier. By this time he had 10 shillings—$1.40—left.

Woodward talked his way aboard the liner.

He finally located Mrs. Finlay, explained the situation, got cash and a check and then, to his horror, discovered the France had shoved off for Le Havre.

Again he explained.

The France summoned a tugboat from Southampton. The liner halted. Woodward got off and returned to Southampton.

Then he took another train to London—and made a bee-line for the hotel.

"We know him well," said a hotel spokesman. "He didn't have to do this at all, but he's one of those honest Americans who've got to get things settled. And as you say, brother, he did."

As he left the hotel, Woodward said:

"I feel wonderful. Now I'm going back to Paris to meet my sister. A man's just got to pay his debts."

Suspend, Fine 2 U.S. Officers

Yanks Penalized for Beating Korean Caught in Their Area

CAMP HOWZE, Korea (AP)—Two U.S. Army officers were reprimanded, fined $600 and suspended from command functions for six months today for beating a Korean.

The incident had touched off a storm of South Korean demands for jurisdiction over American servicemen who commit offenses while off duty.

A nine-member court martial imposed the sentences on 1st Lts. David W. Swanson, 25, of Galesburg, Ill., and Thomas M. Wilde, 25, of Wordsworth, Ill.

PLEAD GUILTY

The two pleaded guilty of unlawful detention, assault and battery and giving false testimony under oath. The military court deliberated on the sentence for more than an hour. The fines are to be paid in $100 monthly installments. The sentences are subject to review by higher military authorities.

Swanson, a company commander, and Wilde, his executive officer, were accused of roping and beating Lee Il-yong, 30, after the Korean was caught inside their area May 29. Lee suffered head injuries, a broken finger and multiple bruises, the Army said.

The incident touched off student demonstrations last week at two universities in Seoul and one in Taegu, South Korea's third city, demanding that the United States quickly sign a status-of-forces agreement with the Seoul government.

Saarinen Subject of 'Accent' Program

Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on Channel 2, "Accent" will present an intimate look at the life work of the late Bloomfield Hills architect, Eero Saarinen.

The half-hour program, titled "Eero Saarinen: An Appreciation," will include a visit to New Haven, Conn., sites of two new Yale University colleges and the David S. Ingells skating rink, all designed by Saarinen.

Atlanta Family, Bereft of 6 in Crash, Loses 7th

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Only Padre, a long-haired dachshund, was left when six members of the Frederick Bull family were killed in an Air France jetliner crash in Paris June 3.

Neighbors had been keeping the dog while the Bull family was abroad.

Padre was killed by an automobile last week.

U.S. Fires N-Device at Nevada Test Site

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has announced detonation of another nuclear device at the Atomic Energy Commission's underground test site in Nevada.

Wednesday night's blast, the 37th announced by the government since the underground series was begun last Sept. 15, was described as a low yield test. This means the explosion had the force of less than 20,000 tons of conventional explosives.

Elect President of Christian Reformed Synod

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Rev. John C. Verbrugge, a delegate from Ontario, was elected president of the annual synod of the Christian Reformed Church opening yesterday.

He is pastor of a congregation at Bowmanville, Ont.

Two ministerial and two elder delegates—for a total of 124—from each of the denomination's 31 geographical subdivisions in the United States and Canada are attending the sessions at Calvin College.

The 251,000-member denomination is headquartered in Grand Rapids and operates the college and seminary.

Rev. Peter Holwerda of Kalamazoo was elected vice president of the synod which is the denomination's highest governing body and will be in session at least 10 days.

Dr. Paul Schroetenboer of St. Catherines, Ont., was named first clerk. Raymond Holwerda, principal of Holland Christian High School and a church elder, was elected second clerk. He is one of few laymen ever to hold synodical office.

PIN POINT ENLARGEMENT — Dr. Erwin W. Muller of Pennsylvania State University showed this photograph to fellow scientists in Chicago Tuesday and described it as an enormous enlargement of the point of a pin in which the atoms were visible. He said magnification is more than five times as great as the electron microscope and 5,000 times that of the most powerful light microscope — powerful enough to give a clear view of atoms of the metal.

Child Mails Out 'Letter'

'Come Home Mommie'

DEARBORN (AP) — Postman Kenneth Butler found a sheet of ruled paper in a mailbox.

It was intended to be a letter but it carried no stamp—only a child's drawing of one in purple crayon.

The note was addressed simply "To Mommie" and was decorated with small flowers, drawn in several hues of crayon.

The message said: Dear Mommie, Come home, love, Jerry.

Charge Israel Guard Killed by Jordanians

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel charged that an Israeli border police guard was killed and three others were wounded in Jerusalem today when Jordanians opened fire on them.

An army spokesman claimed the Jordanians directed their fire from across the Jordan-Israel armistice demarcation line — which splits Jerusalem — toward the Musrara quarter in the eastern part of the Israeli sector.

An official statement said one member of the border police unit was slain, a second seriously wounded, and two others slightly injured. Israel submitted a sharp complaint to the U.N.-sponsored Israel - Jordan mixed armistice commission.

Honors of Father's Day Become an Awesome Trial

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — A father, celebrating Father's Day, is a noble thing.

He is brave when, instead of sleeping on Sunday morning, he smiles at his children descending early upon his bed.

He is soignee as he laughs, without apparent shock, when the neckties are presented.

He is gracious when he says thank you for the unaccustomed kisses, and he is unflinching as he listens, with a straight face, to promises of good behavior for the next year.

He is ingratiating when he accepts an ice cream cone bought with his own 15 cents from an eager little hot hand.

He is stoic as he rescues his child from the neighbor's child who started slugging when the subject of whose father could beat up whose father on Father's Day came up.

He is appreciative when his wife gives him a golf ball, even though he has foregone his Sunday golf game to celebrate his special day.

He is courageous as the day wears on and he wears down.

He is revived when it is suggested that a sumptuous family dinner will soon climax his special holiday.

He is spartan when he learns that he is to cook it, on the outdoor barbeque.

He is calm as he takes out the garbage.

HE IS BLESSED

He is understanding as the kids, tired and fretful, go to bed without saying goodnight.

He is philosophic as his wife does the same.

He is dazed with the wonder of Father's Day as he, himself, finally slumps into the sack.

He is blessed. He is appreciated. He is loved.

And boy, is he a terror at the office next day.

We thought the belittling of father was a fairly recent fad. Not so. A clipping from June 1927, in a New York morning newspaper begins:

"Today is Father's Day.

"For 364 days of the year he is a poor, downtrodden, inconsidered nonentity, but today he will get a little respect and courtesy.

"That is, he will if he's lucky."

The chief complaint among the beleaguered fathers of that generation, the story goes on to report, was that the day was too commercial and that "someone is trying to work off those 'Lucky Lindy' ties on us."

Nothing changes. Except national idols. Col. John Glenn is 1962's "Father of the Year," and the "Lucky Lindy" tie is merely being replaced by the "astronaut ascot."

Outside of that, papa's day hasn't been altered much in 35 years. It still is the day to kid, unnerve and adore the biggest man in your little world!

Defendant Would Use Softer Brand of Justice

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — Peace Justice Elwin Brown recalled the time a man was arrested for driving through a barricade of a road under repair.

"Let's just change places," Brown said. "How do you think — in justice — that I should handle this situation?"

"Well," said the man, "I think a good talking to would do me more good than anything else."

Indian Admits Goof in Immigration Policies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Joe Sanders, a member of the Arizona Indian Association, testified at a U.S. Civil Rights Commission hearing—

"Speaking from an Indian point of view," he said, "I hope you don't louse up your immigration policies as badly as we did."

Paperboard boxes made for the U. S. military services are waterproof they can be submerged in water for 24 hours or more without danger of their falling apart.

Sanity Hearing Slated for Topp

Additional Testimony Requested by Defense, Okayed by Judge Beer

The question of Sheldry Topp's sanity, apparently answered in a circuit court ruling last week, will be asked again Monday.

Topp's attorney, Gilbert Davis, has been granted a request to offer additional testimony about the accused slayer's mental competency.

Davis indicated one of his witnesses would be Dr. Walter Obenauf, superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, where Topp, 17, was confined before his escape May 16. Davis would not name other witnesses he plans to call.

A new hearing is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Monday in circuit court.

Last week, a commission of three court-appointed psychiatrists who examined Topp testified he was not psychotic and could assist in his own defense.

Judge William Beer, after hearing the doctors' testimony, ruled Topp mentally competent to stand trial for the murder of Charles Davis, first assistant corporation counsel for Oakland County.

At the new hearing, Judge Beer will decide whether to uphold his earlier ruling or reverse his opinion.

Prosecutor George Taylor, who petitioned for the first sanity hearing, said he did not object.

Davis said he may ask the court to allow a psychiatrist of his choice to examine Topp and report his findings.

Question Suspect in Case of Dead Abandoned Baby

Pontiac state police said today a woman suspect was being questioned in Detroit in the case of the abandoned baby boy found dead in a trash can Monday afternoon in Springfield Township.

State police trooper George Plummer said he and a fellow officer from the Redford State Police Post were questioning the woman after they received a tip that she may be the infant's mother.

The woman's name was not released. Plummer said she is not being held by police.

The infant's body was discovered in the trash can at a roadside park on Dixie Highway at Ratalee Lake Road Monday afternoon by two State Highway Department workers.

The fully developed baby died of suffocation and exposure, according to Asst. Oakland County Coroner Dr. Robert Buehrig. Dr. Richard Olsen, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital pathologist, estimated the child was born last weekend.

The child was found wrapped in a receiving blanket under two containers of trash in the barrel.

The ceremonies were held at the Jaycees installation banquet at Michigan State University Oakland and were attended by 86 members and their guests.

Plan 19th N-Test at Johnston Isle in a Few Days

HONOLULU (AP) — Joint Task Force 8 signaled Wednesday night that it was nearing readiness for the 19th nuclear test shot of the current Pacific nuclear series.

A rectangular zone around Johnston Island was closed to ships and planes.

A task force announcement said the 600 by 800-mile zone would be dangerous for ships and for planes flying at any altitude.

The announcement said that planes and ships near the area may see "a startling but not hazardous" flash when the nuclear device is set off.

The megaton nuclear blast—equivalent to one million tons of TNT—may come this weekend or possibly Monday, sources said.

Many Disgruntled Over Curb Put on Civil Service

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last in a nine-part series by The Associated Press on Michigan's proposed constitution.)

LANSING (AP) — While Michigan's constitutional convention may have picked up courthouse support with four-year terms for county officers, another change very likely cost its new constitution votes it might have got otherwise from the state's 31,000 civil employes.

Now the state's four-member Civil Service Commission has exclusive power to fix pay rates, and the legislature is required to come up with the necessary money for any raises.

Under the proposed new constitution, the legislature may within 30 days by a two-thirds vote of each house "reject" or reduce increases in rates of compensation authorized by the commission.

Immediately thereafter, however, it is specified that the legislature may not reduce pay rates in effect before the recommended increase. In other words, while it could veto any increases it couldn't cut pay.

Another item of controversy inserted in the article on public officers and employment gives appointing authorities (department heads) the power to create or abolish positions "for reasons of administrative efficiency without the approval of the commission." Prior commission approval now is required.

CAN APPEAL

"Any employe considering himself aggrieved by the abolition of a position shall have the right of appeal to the commission through established grievance procedures," the article continues.

Dr. James K. Pollock, a Republican delegate from Ann Arbor and the principal architect of the constitutional civil service section which the voters approved in 1940, and 35 dissident Democrats joined in opposing the changes. Both contended they would weaken the system.

The Republican majority argued that the legislature was entitled to at least some restraint on commission-recommended pay increases, and insisted if two-thirds of both houses agreed to veto any they likely weren't justified in the first place.

These delegates also said department heads, in the interest of administrative efficiency — and only for that reason — should have authority to make changes without first having to go to the commission for authority.

TO PERMIT EIGHT

The number of exempt or non-civil service jobs is raised to eight for the governor's office, but the commission would recommend the rate of pay for them.

The head of each principal department, including such elected officials as secretary of state and attorney general, would be entitled to two exempt employes each, and the commission is empowered to exempt up to three more in each department if their jobs are of a policy-making nature.

The limit now is two per department. But the new constitution directs reorganization of 100-plus "administrative offices, agencies and instrumentalists of the executive branch" into "not more than 20 principal departments."

Reorganizations of various departments subsequent to the first would be submitted to the legislature by the governor, and would become effective 60 days therefore unless a majority of both houses voted to veto them. Approval would not be required.

The legislature would be given more authority over state agencies having power to promulgate rules and regulations with the full force and effect of law.

These now are subject to approval of the attorney general and to court review, but the new constitution would provide:

"The legislature may by concurrent resolution empower a joint committee of the legislature acting between sessions to suspend until the end of the next regular legislative session any rule or regulation of an administrative agency promulgated when the legislature is not in regular session."

Democratic dissidents complained that "an administrative agency could find its hands tied indefinitely by summary interim committee suspensions, even though the legislature had never, by formal action, approved this suspension."

Republicans contended that rules and regulations with the effect of law should be subject to legislative restraint, even if the legislature were not in session at the time.

They denied the provision was aimed at so-called Rule 9 of the Corporation and Securities Commission banning discrimination in real estate sales.

One of the proposed new constitution's shortest sections got the convention into one of its knottiest parliamentary tangles. It reads simply:

NO LOTTERIES

"The legislature shall not authorize any lottery nor permit the sale of lottery tickets."

Irked because a majority refused to include a proviso that would have legalized bingo sponsored by charitable or religious organizations, some delegates succeeded in selling the convention temporarily to "go all the way" and include a ban on parimutuel betting which brings the state $8 million a year from the horse and harness tracks.

A few days later, with some delegates referring to "previous hasty and precipitate action," the convention voted to take out both bans and then reinserted, 80 to 48, that covering only lotteries.

The new constitution would continue a rule that banking legislation require a two-thirds vote in the legislature.

Authority of the legislature, by a two-third vote of each house, to order an election on constitutional amendments also is continued. So is that by which voters may force an amendment on the ballot by a petition signed by 10 per cent of the total voting in the last preceding general election.

The new constitution would require submission of the question of calling another constitutional convention in 1978 and every 16th year thereafter.

Under terms laid down in the new constitution any subsequent convention also would be made up of one delegate from each House and one from each Senate district, chosen in partisan elections.

In the event of a vacancy occurring in any subsequent convention, the governor would be required to appoint a replacement from the same political party as that of the departed delegate. Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson drew Republican fire for naming Democrats to vacancies left by resigning GOP members.

If any elections, $1 would be continued as the minimum voting age.

While the new constitution would provide four-year terms for state senators and officers, it specifies that those chosen in 1964 shall serve only two years, "notwithstanding any other provision in this constitution."

It also spells out under "temporary provisions" that the first four-year elections shall be in the 1966 general election. The new constitution in connection with elections, would bar incumbency designations for legislators and other partisan candidates.

The new constitution would continue Michigan's long-time ban on the death penalty and would bring itself right up to date by providing the legislature with authority to "enact laws on safety and use of atomic energy."

In one of its very last sections, the new constitution empowers the legislature by a two-thirds vote to refund bonds of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, which delegates estimated would save $1 million a year in interest charges.

Jet's 'Tire Trouble' Just a False Alarm

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An airliner from New York with 59 persons aboard circled Miami International Airport 15 minutes Wednesday night while its crew inspected a nose wheel for possible tire trouble.

They found none and the Northeast Air Lines Convair 880 jet landed without incident.

Parking Meters in Miami City Cheat on Time

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Robert King High says some of Miami's parking meters are crooked and he's going to help taxpayers fight City Hall to straighten things out.

High said he personally tested meters on Biscayne Boulevard after hearing complaints from irate motorists who felt they didn't deserve $2 overtime parking tickets.

One meter High tested gave only 27 minutes for a nickel, instead of the promised 30.

"There's no telling how much money has been collected in this sneaky fashion," High said.

High is Miami's mayor.

Otherwise, It Is Chaos for All

Prepare Tot for 1st School Day

What is chaos?

It is 40 five-year-olds away from their parents for the first time, unable to dress themselves, and under the charge of a strange woman.

In other words, a kindergarten full of children who were not prepared for their new experience.

Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, notes, "Experience is making us increasingly aware that the foundations which are laid in kindergarten and in the early grades are tremendously important in the child's later school and adult life."

This is why the child should be prepared to take on these experiences, he said.

It is important that this preparation provide a smooth and gradual adjustment, say other education specialists.

Many disturbing experiences, they point out, may be caused by not knowing what to expect. That is where parent and teacher can work toward the same goal.

AT WHITFIELD

At Whitfield School, a program has been set up to give the youngster a first-hand look at school before entering. The program is a series of three meetings between the child, parent and teacher.

This year is the first attempt at this program, but Vida Walker, principal of the school, said that the orientation had been a great success.

On the first meeting, the parents and child meet the teacher, principal and school nurse. The child is given a chance to talk with the librarian and a movie is shown to him.

The parents meet a mother who has already gone through the experience of sending a child through kindergarten, and she relates her experiences to them.

SECOND MEETING

At the second meeting, the children and parents go to the kindergarten room, and see how it is run. The children are given an opportunity to use the room and get better aquainted.

The teacher, at the same time, may observe the children which she will have in the fall.

At the third meeting, the child is registered, and is allowed to play in the kindergarten room again.

These meetings show the youngsters and parents what the kindergarten is like, and makes the future pupil feel more at home when he begins school.

Plans are being made by school officials to allow the future kindergartners to mix in the last few sessions of that year's kindergarten before it is dismissed for the summer.

Parents should begin early to prepare their children for school, says a booklet called "Off to Kindergarten," prepared by the Pontiac Board of Education.

The child should be able to tell his name, address and phone number, tie his shoes and dress himself.

He should have good toilet habits and use handkerchief or tissue to cover coughs and sneezes.

Being able to stay away from his parents for at least three hours is also essential.

SAFETY IMPORTANT

Safety is also an important feature of preschool preparation, says the school board. The child should know enough to walk on sidewalks, look both ways before crossing a street and obey traffic signals, be warned of the danger of running between parked cars.

A child entering kindergarten should be experienced in play with other children. The parent should teach the child self-control, to share and to wait for his turn.

Expanding the child's world by visiting the neighbors, and having baby sitters, will help him realize that the separation from his parents is only temporary.

HIS CLOTHES

What should he wear?

Clothing that is simple, sturdy and easy to manage is the best type for the kindergarten child. The parent should be sure to label all clothing with the child's name.

Before school starts, the parent should show the child the best route to take to school, and walk with him the first day.

After the child enters the school, the parent will want to visit the classroom. This is good, the school board says, but should be done only after the child has been given a few weeks to adjust to his new surroundings.

Then the visits should be frequent but short.

Problems with the teacher should be discussed with her, the principal, or the board of education, but not in front of the child.

The parent should begin now to acquaint the child with an atmosphere which respects and enjoys education.

Petoskey Legislator to Retire From Post

PETOSKEY (AP) — State Rep. John Kilborn, 72, R-Petoskey, will not seek renomination. He said a physician has advised him to avoid nervous strain.

Kilborn, who has served eight years in the legislature, was Emmet County sheriff for 14 years before going to the capital.

Clark Most Sr., Kilborn's opponent in three previous primaries, again will seek the nomination in the district, which comprises Emmet, Otsego and Cheboygan counties. Most is a Cheboygan County real estate broker.

Water warmer than 70 to 75 degrees Fahrenheit is not suitable for trout.

New Lighthouse Most Powerful in Hemisphere

WASHINGTON (AP)—The most powerful lighthouse in the Western Hemisphere —20 million candlepower — will be turned on at Charleston, S.C. tomorrow.

The Coast Guard, announcing the date today, said the light will be visible for 20 miles.

The navigation aid, 140 feet high, stands on Sullivan's Island on the north side of Charleston Harbor entrance. It replaces a lighthouse built in 1876. Beach erosion had left the old structure a quarter mile offshore.

Common law marriages are valid in 23 of the states.

Nebraska has had a unicameral legislature since 1937.

Hurry, Hurry, Berries Now Ripe

STRAWBERRY JEWEL DESSERT — Strawberries crown the dessert that climaxes the meal. The base is a molded rice mixture. Whipped cream holds the crimson berries in place on top of the rice. Enjoy this dessert often while Michigan strawberries are in season.

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Thanks to the warm weather we had in May the strawberry crop in the southwestern part of the state is about two weeks earlier than last year. That puts the peak of the crop this week. Berries grown in the eastern part of the state will come along a week or so later. All of the berries will be gone by the fourth of July.

May we remind you of a few rules that will insure you of the best berries. These hints come from Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent.

"Buying strawberries" — Look for glossy, dry berries, that are full red in color. Color indicates ripeness and flavor. Berries do not ripen after picking. Misshapen berries are usually of poor quality and flavor. Dull lusterless or shrunken berries usually overripe, or are not fresh.

"Care" — Remove berries from box and roll in to a flat dish so they are not more than one or two layers thick. Remove slightly decayed or softened berries. Cover with wax paper, and refrigerate. Wash just before use, with caps on. Drain, then remove caps.

"Yield" — One quart equals 5 one-half cup servings. Two quarts equals a pint of preserves or three pints, frozen. One crate (16 quarts) equals 20 to 24 pints, frozen.

Strawberries are low in calories — if you don't put sugar on them. One cup counts up to about 54 calories. Like citrus fruit, they are an excellent source of vitamin C.

Rice is an excellent foil for strawberries. In the recipe below the rice is chilled in a bowl. After unmolding, you garnish the top with whipped cream and strawberries glazed in a simple manner. Sounds pretty good.

Strawberry Jewel Dessert

1 1-3 cups packages pre-cooked rice
3½ cups milk
1-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 quart Michigan strawberries washed, drained, and capped
½ cup sugar
2-3 cup liquid (juice drained from berries plus water)
1 tablespoon cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon each mace and cloves
¼ teaspoon almond extract
red coloring (optional)
1 cup heavy cream

Combine the first 5 ingredients in a large saucepan; cover loosely. Bring to a boil, then reduce heat and simmer for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour rice into 1 quart mold or bowl; chill. Mixture thickens as it cools.

Cut strawberries in half; sprinkle with remaining ½ cup sugar and let stand 30 minutes. Drain juice from berries and add water, if necessary, to make required amount of liquid.

Combine cornstarch, spices and liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Add almond extract, and red coloring, if desired. Pour sauce over berries, and mix gently to coat each berry with sauce. Cool thoroughly.

Whip cream to stiff consistency. Unmold rice and spoon cream around top and bottom edges of mold. Spoon berries on top and base to complete the jewelled crown effect. Makes 8 servings.

Strawberry Fluff Pie

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
3 to 4 tablespoons cold water

Strawberry Fluff Filling

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub shortening into flour until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Roll to circle ⅛-inch thick and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Trim and flute edge. Prick with fork. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes.

Strawberry Fluff Filling

1 quart fresh strawberries
¾ cup sugar
⅓ cup water
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
Dash salt
2 egg whites

Wash, hull and drain strawberries. Combine sugar, water and cream of tartar in saucepan. Cover and bring to boiling. Uncover and cook to 240 degrees using a candy thermometer — do not stir the syrup.*

Meanwhile, add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff peaks are formed. Pour the hot sirup a little at a time over egg whites, beating until mixture will form peaks and hold shape.

Slice strawberries and fold into egg white mixture. Pile into cooled pie shell. Garnish with strawberries and place in refrigerator to set. Makes one 9-inch pie.

*Or, bring syrup to boiling, boil for seven minutes then remove from heat.

The third red and white dessert is made with cottage cheese and sour cream. This one has a French origin. We think you'll like that hint of orange and lemon in the strawberry sauce.

Coeur A La Creme

4 cups bakers cottage cheese
2 cups dairy sour cream
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
½ cup milk
Fresh strawberry sauce

Beat cottage cheese, sour cream and salt until smooth. Sprinkle gelatin on milk to soften; stir over hot water until dissolved and blend into cottage cheese mixture. Spoon into mold which has been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm. Serve with fresh strawberry sauce.

Fresh Strawberry Sauce

¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¾ cup orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
1 pint fresh strawberries
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind

Sift together sugar and cornstarch into small saucepan. Stir in orange and lemon juices and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened; remove from heat. Reserve a few strawberries for garnish; dice remainder. Stir diced berries and lemon rind into sauce; chill. Yield: approximately 2 cups.

Gelatin Salad Made With Buttermilk

When you have buttermilk in the house, you may wish to use some of it in this molded salad.

Peach Orange Salad

1 package (3 ounces) peach flavored gelatin
1 cup extremely hot orange juice
1 cup buttermilk
Grated rind (1 tablespoon) of an orange
Salad green and mayonnaise

Stir together the gelatin and hot orange juice until gelatin dissolves. Add the buttermilk and orange rind; mix well. Turn into 6 one-third cup molds; chill until set. Unmold and serve on salad greens with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

New Casserole Topping Makes Use of Bran Flakes

Here's a tasty main dish with a crispy topping. Brown ground beef and combine with cooked macaroni and a medium thick cheese sauce. Place in a baking dish.

Sprinkle the top with a mixture of one cup bran flakes browned in melted butter and lightly mixed with ¼ cup grated cheese.

Whipped Cream Mounds Keep Well in Freezer

If you whip more cream than you can use for a meal, freeze the leftover amount in the freezing compartment of your gas refrigerator. Margaret Spader, home service consultant to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, suggests you place a layer of foil on a cooky sheet and drop mounds of cream on it. Freeze uncovered.

* * *

Then quickly remove each mound and drop at once into a moisture-proof container. The cream defrosts rapidly so get it back into the freezer quickly. Use within a month.

Make Up Yummy Sauce for Hot Weather Sundae

For a real honey of a sundae try vanilla ice cream topped with luscious Honeyscotch Sauce and a sprinkling of crunchy chopped pecans. To make the smooth sauce with its honey-butterscotchy flavor combine ½ cup sugar, ¾ cup honey, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup butter and 1-3 cup evaporated milk in a saucepan.

Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, to soft ball stage (234 degrees), then stir in an additional 1-3 cup evaporated milk and cook until sauce is thick and smooth, about 3 minutes longer. This makes about 1½ cups sauce that is wonderful served either hot or cold.

ROUND DOG STYLE — The newest way to serve the favorite frankfurter is Round Dog style, set on individual pizza pies made with tempting sauerkraut. Your pizza dough is made with biscuit mix that has a touch of garlic added to it. Try this unusual combination for your next patio party.

Curled Franks Crown Sauerkraut Pizza Pies

A frankfurter by any other name still tastes as tempting! The Germans originated it, and in Sweden, they refer to it as korv. The French call it saucisse; the Italians know it as salsiccia; the Dutch as saucijsjes. Even the Greeks have a word for it . . . loukaniko.

The Americans like to slit the frankfurter so that it curls, when cooked, into a circle, and team it with tangy, refreshing kraut. It's then called a Round Dog . . . the latest fashion in frankfurters and kraut.

Kraut-filled Round Dogs fit perfectly on hamburger buns. At more sophisticated festivities, try them on individual kraut-topped pizza pies for an intriguing foreign flavor. But, no matter how you make them, when you serve them, what you call them . . . Round Dogs with kraut are clever and easy, always appropriate, and indisputedly delicious!

Round Dogs on Kraut Pizzas

8 frankfurters
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
4 cups biscuit mix
1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 cans (6-ounces each) tomato paste
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon basil
¼ teaspoon oregano
3½ cups sauerkraut, drained

Cut 10 deep slits in each frankfurter without cutting all the way through. Cook in boiling salted water 5 minutes; drain.

Stir garlic powder into biscuit mix. Add milk and stir until dough forms. Turn out on floured surface. Knead gently 8-10 times. Roll out on lightly floured surface into 8 6-inch circles. Place circles on ungreased baking sheet. Brush with some of oil. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 10 minutes or until lightly browned.

Combine tomato paste, cheese, lemon juice, sugar, basil and oregano; blend well. Spread tomato mixture over biscuit circles. Top with kraut. Brush kraut with remaining oil. Top kraut with round dogs. Bake 5-10 minutes longer. Makes 8 servings.

Honey and Dates

"Honey-Date Sundae" will satisfy that sweet tooth to perfection. Heat ½ cup honey. Stir in ¼ cup butter and dash of nutmeg. Cool and stir in ½ cup sliced fresh California dates. Spoon over vanilla ice cream.

Molasses Sauce Browns, Flavors

In the Middle Ages, the office of "Saucier" . . . master sauce maker . . . was invested with great importance. Youths were apprenticed to the master to learn his culinary skill.

At outdoor grills in America today, Father, sauce brush in hand, might easily personify the "Saucier" of old. His modern-day apprentice in the art of sauce making, and possibly his most able assistant is, however, a pantry shelf staple: unsulphured molasses.

Many meats, fruits and vegetables, cooked indoors or out, respond happily to a barbecue sauce. But the secret of a good barbecue sauce lies in one or two basic ingredients. Unsulphured molasses provides the logical base, because it is a sugar and thus aids in browning foods during cooking.

Combined with vinegar, this fine molasses creates a tart-sweet base on which the modern cook can elaborate with ease. Because of its velvety texture, unsulphured molasses blends easily with other ingredients, and its rich brown color is naturally coupled with barbecued foods.

For instance, take our Western Barbecue Sauce. Unsulphured molasses blends perfectly here with the prepared mustard, onion, and tomato sauce; celery seeds provide an added fillip.

The resultant sauce takes the simplest mixed grill of hamburgers and franks out of the realm of ordinary outdoor cooking, making the meats handsome to view and delectable to eat.

Mixed Barbecued Grill

Place hamburgers and frankfurters over glowing coals on outdoor grill. Brush with preferred barbecue sauce. Grill to desired degree of "done-ness." Place drained cling peach halves on grill last 5 minutes of cooking time, brushing lightly with barbecue sauce.

Western Barbecue Sauce

¼ cup unsulphured molasses
¾ cup prepared mustard
¼ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 tablespoon fresh or instant minced onion
2 teaspoons celery seed, optional

Put molasses and mustard in a 2-cup measure; blend until smooth. Stir in remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour into jar; cover tightly. Makes 2 cups — enough for 2 dozen hamburgers, 2¼ dozen frankfurters, and 14-16 cling peach halves.

Ever add grated orange or lemon rind to plain muffin batter? Nice for tea.

Many Foods Cook Well on Charcoal Grill

There are many treats in store for charcoal grilling enthusiasts who take advantage of the first pleasant cook-out weather. Spring lamb cooked on the rotisserie over wood charcoal briquets can be a weekend feast. Pink-skinned new potatoes buttered and cooked in foil could go along.

Garden fresh asparagus or peas or young beans can simmer on the charcoal fire too. Another fine way to greet the spring cook-out season is with charcoal grilled salmon steak served with hot cross buns and fresh cucumber salad.

Chicken and a Cake Honor Father

On Father's Day, June 17th, the best is none too good for dad. In addition to the presents he gets on that occasion, father rates a special dinner on his special day. That's why chicken, a favorite with everyone, has been selected as the official main course by the Father's Day Council.

This year, celebrate Father's Day by serving Pecan Stuffed Chicken Breasts, the first-prize winner in last year's National Chicken Cooking Contest. This blue-ribbon winner is sure to be a winner with your own family. The chicken breasts are baked on a mound of stuffing given marvelous texture and flavor with chopped pecans.

Serve the chicken with two of its traditional companions, cranberry sauce and candied sweet potatoes.

All the year long, chicken is a special boon for the father who watches his waistline. According to the National Broiler Council, chicken has fewer calories than any of the leading meats. An average serving of broiled chicken without skin, for instance, yields only a modest 115 calories.

The dessert course will come as happy surprise to dad. It is a Telegram Cake that wishes him a Happy Father's Day. The beige frosting has a delectable butterscotch flavor, which comes from handy butterscotch morsels. Here is butterscotch flavor the quick, convenient way.

Pecan Stuffed Chicken Breasts

4 small whose chicken breasts
Lemon juice
6 tablespoons melted butter, divided
3 cups toasted bread crumbs
½ cup finely diced celery
½ cup chopped onion
¾ cup chopped pecans

1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup water

Brush chicken breasts on both sides with lemon juice and 2 tablespoons of the melted butter. Combine remaining 4 tablespoons butter with remaining ingredients; toss lightly.

Make 4 mounds of stuffing and arrange on 4 squares of double thicknesses of aluminum foil; place on baking sheet. Place a whole chicken breast, skin side up, on mound of stuffing. Fold foil securely around chicken to make individual packages. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees), 40 minutes. Increase oven to moderately hot (400 degrees). Fold back foil and bake 10 minutes longer, or until chicken is browned. Yield: 4 servings.

1 cup boiling water
¾ cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 medium-size avocado
Membrane-free sections from 2 oranges

Add gelatin to boiling water and stir to dissolve. Stir in cold water, lemon juice and salt. Halve avocado; remove seed; strip off skin; cut into thin slices about the length of the orange sections.

Fragrant Baked Beans a Natural for Outdoors

It has been said that Boston runs to brains, beans and brown bread. But you don't have to hail from Boston to know that beans, flavored with molasses and baked to perfection, make the tastiest dish ever for outdoor dining.

Next time you move the dining room outdoors, take along this old-fashioned bean bake as an accompaniment to grilled hamburgers. It is easy to prepare because it makes use of canned beans in tomato sauce, thus eliminating the need for soaking beans overnight and cooking them to tenderness. In this dish, flavoring is done by three pantry self staples: unsulphured molasses, prepared mustard and vinegar.

The sweetness of unsulphured molasses contrasts perfectly with the nip of prepared mustard and vinegar. Yet together the trio impart the richness, flavor and aroma of a barbecue sauce to the beans. In fact, equal parts of molasses, mustard and vinegar, blended and brushed on hamburgers, frankfurters or spareribs during grilling act as both flavoring agent and delicious barbecue glaze.

As a complementary note to any outdoor meal, serve a large and varied collection of crisp garden-fresh vegetables.

Old Fashioned Bean Bake

¼ cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
3 cans (1 pound each) baked beans in tomato sauce
2 medium onions, sliced
2 tomatoes, sliced

Combine unsulphured molasses and mustard; add vinegar; mix well. Turn beans into casserole or baking pan; stir in molasses mixture. Arrange onion and tomato slices on top of beans, or layer with beans. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 35 minutes.

YIELD: 8 servings.

Double Quick Toasting

The quickest way to prepare toast to put under fresh asparagus, steaks or big hamburgers, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, is to preheat the oven to 425 degrees and lay slices of bread on the oven racks. Both sides will toast simultaneously in less than five minutes.

BAKED FOR A BARBECUE — Baked beans are always satisfying fare whether eaten indoors or at an outdoor barbecue. For speed preparation, make use of canned baked beans in tomato sauce. For special flavor appeal, season them with fragrant unsulphured molasses.

Custard Sauce Tops Spice Cake Dessert

You'll delight one and all with a dessert of warm and fragrant spice cake topped with sliced bananas and a heavenly Honey Custard Sauce.

To make the sauce, first beat 2 eggs in the top of a double boiler. Add 1-3 cup honey and ⅛ teaspoon salt and blend well, then add 1 tall can evaporated milk. Stir in 1 cup boiling water. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats a spoon, about 4 to 5 minutes.

Remove from heat and place top of double boiler in cold water. Stir frequently while custard is cooling. When cool, stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla and ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg. Makes about 3 cups sauce.

Caramel Sauce

Fine Food Found in Can of Salmon

Here is an example of a dish, delicious at any time, in which luscious, appetizingly tender flakes of salman are blended and baked with rice, eggs and delicate spices. Easy to prepare, this salmon-egg casserole is inexpensively elegant and eminently satisfying as a main course for luncheon, dinner or supper.

Salmon Egg Casserole

¼ cup butter
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon basil
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups milk
2 cups cooked rice
A 1-pound can salmon, drained and flaked
6 hard-cooked eggs, quartered

In a saucepan melt butter. Add onion and celery and saute for 10 minutes. Stir in flour, basil, thyme, salt and pepper. Gradually stir in milk and cook over low heat, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened.

Arrange rice in bottom of a 2-quart greased baking dish. Top with the salmon and eggs. Pour sauce over salmon and eggs and bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 25 to 30 minutes. If desired, serve with sour cream. Serves 6.

Little Heart Flutters With Flag

Pontiac Press Photo

Proudly setting a patriotic and pretty theme for Flag Day today is little Margaret Louise Lyle, almost 2, of Bloomfield Terrace. Public schools began the special observance in honor of our flag in 1889, and 1897 the governor of New York by proclamation ordered display of the flag over all public buildings in the state. A direct descendant of Benjamin Franklin, Mrs. Elizabeth Duane Gillespie, offered a resolution proposing that the day be known thereafter as Flag Day.

Crank Needs to Be 'Fixed'—Abby

Call Halt to 'Childish Prank'

DEAR ABBY: I am not the type to start trouble, but a girl (about 14) should be talked to, and I don't know how to go about it.

ABBY

I got a telephone call one afternoon from a girl who asked, "Is your husband home?" (I've been a widow for three years.) I replied, "No, he isn't."

Then she said, "Tell him Sylvia called to thank him for the flowers." Then she hung up.

A friend of mine told me that she had a similar call, only the girl said, "Tell him Ruth called to thank him for the candy." (My friend's husband is living.)

A neighbor of mine told me there is a teen-aged girl in the neighborhood who has been known to pick any name out of the telephone book and make calls like this just to start trouble. What should I do, if anything?

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Report your experience and that of your friend to the telephone company, giving all details. They will keep the information confidential while putting a stop to the misuse of the telephones.

DEAR ABBY: How do you get people to go home? I have to get up at 6 in the morning to go to work six days a week and some of the people who visit us in the evening do not have enough sense to leave at a reasonable hour—say around 12 o'clock.

Should I start throwing hints about how early morning comes? My wife says this is rude. Please give me some ideas on this.

EARLY RISER

DEAR EARLY: People who NEED hints wouldn't know a hint if it came up and hit them in the eye. When you feel that the evening should end (say about 12 o'clock) tell your guests quite frankly that you are an early riser and need your rest. Then go to bed.

Invitation May Seem Pushing

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I have been going out with a boy whom I like very much, for the past six months. We are not engaged. I have been invited to his house on quite a few occasions and his parents have always been very nice to me.

I would like my parents to meet them. Would it be proper for my mother to invite them to our house some evening for dinner?

A: Unless it is at the boy's suggestion, or his parents have expressed a wish to meet your parents, it would not be advisable for your mother to invite them as this might seem to be pushing on her part.

Q: I am a private secretary and work very closely with my boss. He has a son who is getting married soon and I have received an invitation to the reception which I will not be able to attend. I have never met his son.

Am I required to send a gift anyway or will a card be sufficient? A friend tells me that under the circumstances I should ignore the invitation completely. I feel this would be rude and that some recognition should be made on my part. Will you please advise me?

A: You must answer the invitation regretting that you are unable to accept but neither gift nor card is necessary.

Q: A friend of mine called me on the telephone the other day while I was out. My daughter told me of the call when I returned home but said there was no message. As it was late and I had to get supper started, I didn't call her back.

The next day I met her at the market and she was perturbed because I did not return her call and implied that I was very impolite not to have done so. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A: Unless your friend had left a message that required an answer, you were not impolite not to call her back.

First, You Must Be Good Friend

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK — If you want to get a husband, don't go where the boys are. Don't even exert yourself to attract them.

Just make yourself so fascinating they flock to you, advises Helen Gurley Brown.

Oh sure, you say, nothing simpler.

But heavy sarcasm is lost on Mrs. Brown, who until she was 37 enjoyed the state of spinsterhood herself. Enjoyed is the right word.

"I think it's terrific being single — as long as you're smart, interesting, fascinating.

"Of course you feel very alone sometimes, especially when all your friends are getting married around you.

"But if you want a husband, you'll get him—and a far better one at that — if you make it a secondary aim. First become a whole, complete person. Stop looking for a husband and start looking for your own personality."

THEORY IN BOOK

Mrs. Brown realizes she sounds like Pollyanna on a soapbox. But her philosophy worked well for her and some of her friends. "Of course we WERE pretty sophisticated and not too guilt-ridden."

The down-to-earthiness basics of her plan she put in a recently published book called "Sex and the Single Girl," in which she takes up everything from how to manage career, diet and apartment to what to feed the boyfriend for breakfast.

Mrs. Brown, who was born in Little Rock in a poor family, started out as a secretary and has worked up to advertising account executive.

She belittles her looks, but she's actually a very attractive brunette without an extra ounce — "fat is for babies" — in complete control of a soft, low voice and big brown eyes that gaze levelly at you.

Now 40 — "and I've never felt more alive, never had such a good time" — she says if she could do it, anybody can become fascinating and affianced.

NOW RECOGNIZED

"I'm no one special at all. I had no college, no family background, no beauty. But what have I got? A lovely husband (motion picture producer David Brown), and some recognition as the highest paid ad writer in Los Angeles."

This is the way you bring it off: "Every day you do everything you can to improve yourself, to succeed WITH trying—but in a quiet, nonbrassy way.

"A married woman can get caught up in taking care of children and home and let her personal development slump. But she does have those around her to love and protect her.

"A single girl doesn't have an excuse in the world. She has the time to make something of herself. All she needs is incentive.

"She should work hard at her job, do everything to improve her appearance, go in for extra-curricular things such as learning French or reading the Great Books or taking up a sport.

"Instead of going out with the girls on Saturday night she should do extra work or win contests to make money so she can get better clothes or a handsomer apartment or take a trip to Europe."

PLENTY OF MEN

There's no doubt about it, she says, it helps to have money. And most single girls who learn how to handle the stuff will be in a pretty position financially by their 30s.

Even if she doesn't intend to marry she can have plenty of men around her. "Little girls looking for husbands are so selfish, so wrapped up in their own wants," she says. "A single girl needn't be without men depending on her, — not as a wife, but as a friend, a colleague to tell their troubles to.

"And if she does decide to marry she'll make a better wife for knowing so much about men."

MRS. WILLIAM J. GILLOW

Wed Saturday in the First Methodist Church, North Branch, was Elizabeth A. Ferkowicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ferkowicz, of Silverwood to William J. Gillow, son of the Harold L. Gillows, Ascot Road, Waterford Township.

Waterford Man Is Wed in North Branch Rites

Rev. Karl Patow officiated at the candlelight nuptials of Elizabeth A. Ferkowicz to William J. Gillow Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church, North Branch.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ferkowicz of Silverwood, the bride appeared in floor-length tiered white silk organza accented with sequined Chantilly lace.

A crystal tiara secured her bouffant veil of silk illusion. She carried white orchids and gardenias combined with stephanotis and ivy.

Carrying yellow carnations in complement to their dresses of aquamarine silk organza were bridesmaids Tamara and Marlene Kastruba, Washington, Mich. and Mrs. James C. Evans, Waterford.

The bridegroom, son of the Harold L. Gillows, Ascot Road, Waterford Township, had James C. Evans as his best man. Seating guests were Arthur McCracken, Alma, with John and Gary Ferkowicz, of Silverwood.

The newlyweds are motoring in Canada this week and will reside in Alma where the new Mrs. Gillow is dean of women and instructor at Northwood Institute. She taught at Pontiac Central High School and is a graduate of Michigan State University. Mr. Gillow is an alumnus of Alma College and Wayne State University School of Mortuary Science.

For the ceremony and church reception, Mrs. Ferkowicz chose a pale pink-lace sheath dress while the mother of the bridegroom was attired in a turquoise organza sheath dress with overskirt. Both wore deep purple orchids.

In Poll of Teachers, Students

'Trimester Plan OK...in Theory, Not Practice'

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

With summer vacations coming on, high school and college students and teachers are of two minds about the trimester system.

That's the system under which school would last 11 months a year and enable a student to graduate in two and two-thirds years instead of four.

The catch is it would knock out long summer vacations.

In theory, nearly everybody thinks it's fine — especially the high school teachers and the college students. High school students are only a little more skeptical about it, but college professors are barely favorable.

Such an attitude over-all among the several hundred students and teachers we interviewed surely will be heartening to college authorities in Florida where the system is actually going to be tried, with prospects it may spread throughout the state.

But, getting away from theory and down to brass tacks, we found the facts somewhat different.

Only half as many high school students think they themselves would like it as those who say they would not. The percentage on college students is hardly more encouraging. And the teachers, both high school and college, split evenly on the matter.

As for trying the trimester system in high school rather than college, both high school and college students view this dimly. Only 29 per cent of the high school students and 32 per cent of the college would approve.

Getting back to theory again, we asked all hands whether they thought the trimester system would raise the educational level.

High school teachers were quite positive it would; college teachers much less so. On the other hand, college students were frankly skeptical, and high school students were doubtful too.

If the results of our survey were not decisive, there was nothing indecisive about the opinions of those interviewed.

But Danny Waterman, 16, of Chicago, thought the trimester system would separate the "real students from the ones who go to college for fun." And Maxine Barasch, 17, of Brooklyn, asserted such a plan would meet the need for producing more scientists, doctors and teachers more quickly.

As for putting high schools on trimester, Sharon Kuwana, 14, of Honolulu, expressed quite well the feeling of her mainland fellows when she wrote "We need rest! Also summer school to make up courses."

But Cheryl D' Argonne, 18, of Metaire, La., said resignedly "the students would get used to it just as they get used to everything else."

"Boring and hot," snorted Ben Barr, 18, of Kansas City.

Whether or not they may be bored, do the teachers and students really need a long summer vacation?

MRS. LAWRENCE R. OLLIFFE

Receiving her bachelor of arts degree from Central Michigan University June 3 was Mrs. Lawrence R. Olliffe of North Hilldale Drive. Mrs. Olliffe will teach in the Clare Elementary School system next September.

Contrasting sharply with what they said about the desirability of the trimester plan, most said yes indeed they do need the long break.

Seventy-three per cent of the high school teachers, 63 per cent of the college professors, and 58 per cent of the high school students all proclaimed it a necessity.

Even among college students the vote on need was 45 per cent, with 47 per cent merely saying they like it, and the rest not sure.

Most vocal by far on this subject, the teachers and professors said they need the time for research, for further study, for recruiting their own mental energy, and for "living like human beings."

"A teacher gets taught out after nine months," said Henry Wasser of the City College of New York.

"No one should be expected to teach eleven months a year," snapped Ralph M. Albright of Indiana State College.

"The average student isn't rich enough to go to school 11 months a year," — said 17-year-old Ray Yamuchi of North Pocatello, Ida.

"Modern youth is not prepared to do that much work," added James McFerrin, 16, of Kansas City, Mo., "without facing a breakdown."

MRS. CHARLES L. GREEN III

Elizabeth Cronan Is Wed in St. Michael Service

Elizabeth Margaret Cronan became Mrs. Charles L. Green III in a noon ceremony performed by Rev. Francis O'Donnell, Saturday, in St. Michael Church.

Her parents, the Charles Cronans of Arlis Drive, Union Lake, were hosts at an evening reception in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, Keego Harbor. The bridegroom is the son of Charles L. Green Jr. of East Mansfield Avenue and the late Mrs. Ovedia Green.

A Sabrina neckline and Alencon lace applique enhanced the gown of white bridal taffeta styled with Chantilly lace tiers and chapel train. Silk illusion veiling fell from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. The bride carried white carnations and stephanotis.

Marie Cronan, her sister's maid of honor, wore cotillion blue silk organza. Bridesmaids Ethel Browning of Kingston, Patricia Harbert, Joann Moore and Mrs. Alan Way wore powder blue silk organza, styled with bubble skirts. All carried blue carnations.

Edward Lauinger was best man. Seating guests were Gerald Nicholas, Daniel Evans, Gerald Hoganson and the bride's brother Joseph, Union Lake.

Orange carnations complemented Mrs. Cronan's dress of champagne beige taffeta. Mrs. Green chose Bermuda blue cotton with corsage of white carnations.

The couple will live in Pontiac upon returning from a honeymoon in northern Michigan.

Attending their niece's wedding were the Roy McKerveys, Grand Rapids; the Jack Cronans, the Alex McKerveys, Ray Sperrys, Raymond Cronans and the Stanley McKerveys, of Cheboygan. Former Pontiac residents Mr. and Mrs. George Tebo came from Punta Gorda, Fla.

To Yourself, Country

Keeping Fit a Service

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We can do ourselves a great service and our country a great service by improving our physical condition, by building health and stamina. Thinking selfishly, there is nothing we could do which would add to our zest for life and our enjoyment of it so much as a personal physical fitness program.

Many folks allow overweight to accumulate and, just as damaging, let their muscles become lax because of lack of regular exercise. Good muscle tone usually means good posture. It also saves us from the flabbiness which so often detracts from good looks, especially from middle age on.

NEED STRONG ABDOMEN

A set of strong abdominal muscles discourages a protruding abdomen. These muscles also hold our organs in place, thus avoiding the internal slumping which may lead to constipation, fatigue and backaches.

Good muscle tone is necessary to keep the back straight so that the lungs and heart are not crowded. Good muscle tone saves us from many strains which poor posture imposes.

A country is only as strong as the individuals who are a part of it. Sometimes high standards of living, soft living, lead to physical deterioration. We must have physical health to back up our convictions and our ambitions and our dreams.

Tests have shown that it is not only the middle-aged who are in poor condition, but young people and even children, too. Mechanical devices, push-button luxuries and cars, are all wonderful things which should add to the pleasure of living, but unless we are careful they may rob us of health.

TESTS

We see children and college boys "thumbing a ride" for only a few blocks. Mother dashes for the car if she has to go around the corner, and daddy gets practically no exercise at all until he knocks himself out with an exhausting and even dangerous splurge of exercise during the week end.

Some time back I watched the screening tests which were being given to freshmen at Russell Sage College in Troy, N. Y. These determined the kind of exercise the pupil needed.

Naturally, any testing you do yourself will not reflect your condition as accurately as it would had it been administered by a trained person.

However, you might have fun with a few of these tests and they can act as a guide which will enable you to get some idea of your physical condition. If you would like to have my leaflet, "Test Yourself" which lists some physical tests you can take to measure your physical ability, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Goals, Role of Women Top at 'Y' Conference

Women's goals and role in today's society will be the topic under discussion at the Young Women's Christian Association's national conference in East Lansing, Friday through Tuesday.

Over 200 women, ages from 17 to 25, from across the nation will participate. They have been selected by their local YWCA's and represent a cross-section of the economy, social strata and educational levels.

A series of workshops will enable YWCA executives to learn from delegates something about women's concerns, needs, problems and interests.

Subjects under study include women's employment, financial planning, marriage, religion, family and philosophy.

The five-day program at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education is the first of its kind in the country according to conference officials. Knowledge gained from the meeting will be used in setting up more effective YWCA programs.

The conference is sponsored by the National YWCA, in cooperation with the MSU College of Education, Science and Arts, and Business and Public Service.

Sorority Planning Luau Party

Omega Mu Sigma Sorority completed arrangements for their "luau" party for members and their husbands during their business meeting Tuesday.

Others are: Mrs. William Katich, treasurer; Mrs. Harold Clifford, chaplain; Lola Strom and Mrs. Leo Halfpenny, auditors; Mrs. Cullen, publicity; and Mrs. Merrill Petrie, parliamentarian.

* * *

Mrs. Harper is in charge of flowers and cards and telephone committee chairman is Mrs. Katich. Nominations and elections will be handled by Mrs. Orville Springer and Mrs. Floyd Wilson.

Hosts Shower for Bride-to-Be

Mrs. Myron L. Leighton of Lake Angelus Shores was hostess at a bridal shower honoring Vivian O'Roark of Clarkston who will marry John Sapsford July 7. Cohostess was Mrs. Elsie Smith.

* * *

Guests included the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Edward O'Roark, Mrs. Robert Leighton, Mrs. Jack Scott, Mrs. Paul Baytarian, Mrs. James A. Taylor, Mrs. Fred Leighton, Mrs. Mel D. Stapp and Mrs. LeRoy Rathbun.

Woman Wins Title Man of the Year

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Anita Loeber, an analyst on the staff of the county manager, held an unexpected honor this week. She has been named Man of the Year among the nation's top management executives.

By winning the award from Systems and Procedures Association, an international group of ranking businessmen, Miss Loeber is in the running for the worldwide title of management Man of the Year.

Asked how she felt about the title, Miss Loeber said, "It was the only one they had. I guess nobody expected a woman to win this one."

Salk Sees Rein on Virus Sickness

Multidisease Vaccine?

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—Dr. Jonas Salk has predicted development of a single vaccine to protect man against all virus-caused diseases.

Salk, who developed the first effective polio vaccine, spoke yesterday at the 58th annual New York State health conference and later to reporters.

He said continuation of the current trend in research would lead to a multidisease vaccine and "ultimately to control of virus disease generally."

He also said specific forms of cancer may be brought under control through immunization of the population against other virus-caused diseases, such as polio and smallpox.

Secretary Stahr Hails Army's Safety Program

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Army Secretary Elvis Stahr Jr. says the Army's safety program has produced results nearly three times better than in civilian industry.

Stahr was to address the Puget Sound Industrial Safety Conference Wednesday night but arrived late. His speech was read by Lt. Gen. John L. Ryan Jr.

Stahr's speech said only one Army man in 44 was injured in the course of a year, compared with one in 16 in the nation's labor force.

Star Never Read the Book

'Lolita' Premiers in New York, With Sue Lyon, 15

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Sue Lyon is a well-adjusted, quiet-mannered girl of 15. When she walks along Fifth Avenue, no one turns. She is just another sweet blonde.

But by the time she is 16 (in July), Sue Lyon expects to be famous. She expects this because people she respects have told her to expect it.

She is the "overnight star" of the Seven Arts MGM film "Lolita," which premiered last night in New York, and which cannot help but cause international talk.

This was her first press interview, and Sue was totally unflustered . . .

"No, I'll have to admit I've never read 'Lolita,'" she said. "Even when I got the role I couldn't make it. I started a couple times to read it and then I said: Ah, come on — you know you'll never get through this.

"Not that the book it dull. But it's very hard reading, let's face it, for people who haven't ready very much.

"My favorite book is the collected sonnets of Edna St. Vincent Millay." The girl who plays the role of a juvenile caught in the clutches of an aging pervert smiled apologetically.

"I know loving Edna St. Vincent Millary makes me sound like a 16-year-old schoolgirl, but that's okay. It's what I am. Almost."

MOTHER ON JOB

Miss Lyon said, however, that her mother managed to wade through the book, then to have long discussions with the film's producer and director about whether or not this was a "nice" picture for Sue's debut. "Finally, mother had so much confidence in them that she said okay."

Sue is glad of that. Because "now I'm part of that never-neverland, like Sandra Dee."

Throughout her long, lethargic life, until she was 13, Sue had no ambition except (mildly) to be a veterinarian. Her father had died when she was 10 months old, and her mother supported her and an older sister and three brothers.

They lived near Hollywood. One day the older sister suggested that maybe Sue could contribute to the family coffers by doing some modeling. .

"That's when I was 13, and it sounded fun. I had some pictures taken, and we took them around to agencies, and the first job I got was a television hair commercial. They only showed the back of my head." (The back of Sue's head is small and pale blonde.) "Then I got two bit parts in TV, acting parts, that it, and finally — when I was 14—I was interviewed for the 'Lolita' role."

She shrugged happily. "It was so easy and so fun, we decided my brother should try to be an actor. He's 19. I think he'll make it too. If you really want to act you can do it, if you don't look like a freak —and even freaks make it sometimes."

Sue still lives at home with her mother, in a pink bedroom with a roommate named "Cha-Cha" who is a long-haired Chihuahua. She is finishing her high school courses with a tutor, and hopes to make her way through to a master's degree while working.

She has a seven-year contract, hopes to build "a fine career," will not mind one bit being famous, and eventually wants to have a good husband and children.

"I don't think anything is as important as having a happy marriage and children," said Sue Lyons.

Atta girl, Lolita. Keep it up and they won't ban you, even in Boston . . .

No Problems Found With JFK's 707 Jet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said Wednesday President Kennedy's jet, the same type aircraft that crashed after takeoff from New York last March, is inspected frequently and no problems have been uncovered.

Pierre Salinger, press secretary, told of the check-ups when asked if any special attention had been given the plane as a result of a Federal Aviation Agency report on a possible cause of the New York crash, which killed 95 persons.

The FAA said Wednesday the crash might have been caused by loss of a small bolt from a control mechanism. The FAA sent messages to all users of the Boeing 707 jet advising them of the possibility.

South Gets Nearly Half of Every Space Dollar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Forty-one cents of every dollar the United States spends next year in its effort to beat Russia in the space race will be spent in the South.

No other section of the country will benefit more on a dollar and cents basis from the multibillion dollar space program.

And only one state — California — ranks ahead of the South's three space giants — Florida, Louisiana and Alabama — in the amount of money to be spent on construction, research and development, and salaries.

Only South Carolina among the southern states will not share in the bounty.

The estimated distribution of National Aeronautics and Administration Agency funds for fiscal 1963 shows a blank for South Carolina as well as Idaho, Kansas, Maine, Nebraska, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota, Vermont and Wyoming.

NEARLY $4 BILLION

NASA expects to spend $3,787,376,000 during fiscal 1963, of which $1,563,824,000 will be spent in nine southern states. During the fiscal year now coming to a close, NASA spent $1,827,750.

California with the test site at Vandenberg AFB and its numerous space-age industries will be the recipient of an estimated $947,767,000 next year.

Next on the list is Florida, jotted down for $543,262,000, which includes construction funds for launching sites for the moon-bound Saturn rockets.

FLORIDA AND LOUISIANA

For the third straight year, Florida will receive the biggest amount for construction, a record $361,963,000.

Louisiana, a late-comer to the space age, ranks third nationally. The bayou state will get $305,325,000 in fiscal 1963. This compares to about $48 million in 1962 and only $88,000 in 1961.

Alabama — site of the Huntsville Laboratories — ranks fourth with an outlay of $341,935. Alabama will again lead the country in the amount spent on salaries with a record $70,370,000.

Ancient Dike Is Huge

COLOMBO — In Ceylon many centuries ago a reservoir was formed by a man-made dike 11 miles long and 70 feet high, with a total volume of 17 million cubic yards of earth. In ancient India water was impounded behind a man-made barrier stretching 30 miles.

Body of Music Student Found in Lake Ontario

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — The body of Donald Dodge, 21-year-old Niles music student and U.S. men's singles Kayak champion, was recovered from Lake Ontario near here yesterday.

Dodge drowned May 24 while paddling his one-man kayak in Ontario's choppy waters. He was a junior at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester.

Expects Extra Welfare Funds

Department Director Predicts Supplemental Appropriation

LANSING (UPI) — The director of the State Department of Social Welfare says he thinks the legislature will pass an $8 million supplemental appropriation to carry the welfare department through the year.

The department granted the last of its funds yesterday to Gogebic, Luce and Lake counties. The grants totaled $80,000.

W. J. Maxey, director of the department, pointed out that since the counties' fiscal year ends December 30, most counties still have enough money to make welfare payments. He said no other counties were in serious trouble, but added that if the delay in appropriations continues other counties might be in difficulty.

Both houses of the legislature have passed supplemental welfare bills. The bills are being considered by a joint House and Senate committee for action when the legislature meets June 25. Lawmakers have recessed for two weeks.

John Gambotto, supervisor of the welfare department's County Audit Division, said the state's share of county welfare costs is usually 30 per cent.

But Lake County, according to Gambotto, had been getting about 70 per cent support from the state because of its financial problems. He added that Gogebic county had one of the highest unemployment percentages in the nation.

175,000 Homeless Cats

Dallas Full of Meows

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Cat-crowded Dallas is toying with the idea of limiting four cats to each household.

Dr. J. W. Bass, city health director, confirmed Wednesday that city officials are considering such an ordinance "but this is as far as we've thought of going."

Dr. Bass said the ordinance would not include kittens. Exactly at what a age a kitten becomes a cat has not been determined.

Belton P. Mouras of the humane society estimates there are 175,000 homeless cats in Dallas.

Reuther to AMA: Co-operate With Us on Medicare

NEW YORK (UPI) — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther believes the heads of the American Medical Association (AMA) should "come out of their propaganda orbit" and work with the labor movement in finding the best means to provide medical care for the aged.

Reuther said yesterday labor's quarrel was not with individual doctors but "the small group of doctors who control the AMA. These men don't practice medicine," he said, "they manipulate the policies of their association. I call them political witch doctors."

He said the labor movement is totally dedicated to the struggle for the principle of health care for the aged through Social Security.

Talking Divorce

James Masons at Odds

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Pamela Mason, outspoken wife of James Mason, says she and the British actor aren't estranged, "but we darn well ought to be."

She commented Wednesday on reports that Mason's lawyer had sent her a letter asking for a divorce.

NO LETTER YET

"I haven't received any letter. I don't know anything about it and I doubt if James does either. I talked to him on the phone Tuesday night and he said only that he would be home in 10 days and we would discuss things," she said.

Mason, in New York, denied any divorce action.

"There have been many rumors of this type in the last three years," he said.

Mrs. Mason said she consulted an attorney two years ago about a divorce, but her husband talked her out of it.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Being the wife of a movie star is full of little surprises," she said. "James' trouble is that he wants to live like a movie star, but doesn't want to work at being one. I've been the only one working in the family for nine months and I can't afford to keep up this big house by myself. I don't want to wind up like Mickey Rooney."

Rooney, who filed for bankruptcy Tuesday, claimed debts of a half million and assets of $500.

Top Fair Prize Is Trip for Two

18th Annual CAI Event to Last Friday Through Sunday in Waterford

A 10-day trip for two to the World's Fair in Seattle and Yellowstone Park will be the grand prize of the 1962 Community Activities, Inc., Fair this weekend in Waterford Township.

The 18th annual fair will begin Friday at 7 p.m. and continue through Sunday at the CAI Building, 5040 Williams Lake Road.

Robert Bauer, CAI director and fair manager, reported that 20 local merchants will have display booths inside the building while 10-cent rides will be operating outside. There will be parking for over 1,000 cars on the CAI premises.

SPECIAL FEATURE

A special feature of the fair this year will be a lapidary exhibit in which the art of stone cutting, polishing and engraving will be demonstrated.

The event will end Sunday at 6 p.m. when the 1962 CAI Fair Queen will be crowned. Contestants for the title are married women. A year ago the contest was limited to single girls.

Selection of the queen will be made on the basis of votes deposited in canisters which have been placed in various local business establishments. The winner will receive a trip for two to New York.

All proceeds from the fair will be used for improvements and maintenance of the CAI Building, according to Bauer.

ONE WILL BE QUEEN — Contestants for the title CAI Fair Queen for 1962 are shown here with last year's queen, Carol Kloppman (top left). Seated (from left) are Marguerite Sidock, Hazel Griffin and Janet Earl. Standing (from left) are Miss Kloppman, Virginia Everett and Marge Aiken. The 18th annual Community Activities, Inc., Free Fair will get under way Friday evening.

DETROIT (AP) — A special Flag Day ceremony was to be held today for the annual unfurling of the world's largest flag. The 1,600-pound, seven-story flag will be shown for the 39th time, once each year on Flag Day. It is owned by J. L. Hudson Co.

Arrest Expenses May Cut CORE Antibias Action

NEW YORK (UPI) — Desegregation activities of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) may have to be reduced because of costs stemming from arrests of "freedom riders."

CORE plans for a "freedom highways project" July 14 to Sept. 2 to desegregate restaurants of the Howard Johnson chain on the East coast of Florida and other projects may have to be curtailed.

"We might have to scale down the number of participants but it won't be cancelled," a CORE spokesman said yesterday. He described the financial position of CORE as "very serious" although the organization does not face a bankruptcy situation.

U.S. Woman Stabs Attacking African

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (UPI)—An American woman hitchhiking across Tanganyika drew her knife and wounded an African who tried to attack her Tuesday night in the desolate bush country near Mt. Kilimanjaro, according to reports reaching here.

Ellen Drake, 27, stabbed the African in the arm, the reports said. The incident occurred at Arusha, about 290 miles northwest of here and just west of Kilimanjaro.

The reports said Miss Drake went to a stream near a government rest house and was surprised by the African, who was wearing only a blanket.

During a struggle, she pulled out her knife and stabbed him. They fell into the stream and the African was reported to have bit Miss Drake before he ran off and disappeared in the bush.

OAKMONT, Pa.—"This would be a good course for Wally Burkemo," noted Bob Gajda sitting in the antiquated Oakmont clubhouse, which was jammed with golfers and writers who scurried off the course Wednesday because of a heavy rain.

"It's too bad Wally had to withdraw in the qualifying," Gajda continued. He could have done real well here."

It was here that Burkemo lost in the match finals to Sam Snead in the 1951 PGA. Snead was 23 under par in that tournament, and many golf fans in this area who saw Slammin Sam that year are pulling for him to win the open in his 22nd try.

As one of the writers pointed out however, Sam was 39 years old then. Today he is 50 and the rugged hills of Oakmont may be just too much for his legs.

"That's asking a lot of Sam," said Gajda, "even if he does real well in the first two rounds, remember those 36 holes on the final day takes a lot out of a guy."

OAKMONT DITTOS

Officials of the USGA and Oakmont Country Club expect all open tournament attendance records to be broken, surpassing the 47,975 at Oakland Hills last year. The single day high also at Oakland Hills was 20,439 for the finals.

The three practice rounds at Oakmont have drawn 17,000 and tourney officials say that twice the number of season tickets have been sold as compared to that of Oakland Hills.

New York writers continuously appear to emphasize on "betting odds." It was noted that one New York paper was even carrying the betting odds of Major League baseball teams in spring training, and yesterday a couple of the bigtown scribes were overly concerned that Palmer was a 5-1 favorite, Snead 8-1, Nicklaus 9-1, etc. Seems contrary to any news policies in regard to gambling.

It was reported that Bing Crosby has rented one of Oakmont's old but beautiful mansions as residence during the open. His guests are supposed to be Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin.

Rumors have it that a "stag club" made up of local Michigan golfers would be built on M-59 about 10 miles east of Pontiac, close to Rochester Golf Club. The plans, already completed by an architect, are supposed to include 18 championship holes with membership limited to the elite of Michigan amateur and pro golfers. As indicated by the name of course, no women members.

Big Hitters Don't Dread Oakmont's Treachery

Arnold Palmer Likes Greens and 280 Score

62nd U. S. Open Starts; Forest Lake Pro Cards 71 in Practice

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

OAKMONT, Pa. — All the talk about the treachery of Oakmont Country Club's 200 traps, built-in fairways or huge lightning-fast greens isn't causing any dreaded concern among the big hitters who teed off this morning in the 62nd version of the USGA Open.

Many of the big names scoffed at the prediction that the winning score would go as high as 286.

Arnold Palmer, the obvious favorite, playing in practice rounds with Forest Lake's Bob Gajda, said "these are the best greens the pros have played on in five years," and he commented that the winning score could go as low as 280.

Gajda, who is playing in his 7th Open, said the Oakmont course was "long and tough but very fair."

"The big ball hitters like Nicklaus and Palmer will hit over the trouble spots on the long holes," Gajda added after he, along with Palmer, Billy Casper and Sam Snead, all toured the course in 2-under par 71 in their practice round Tuesday.

NO PRACTICE

The course was closed to practice rounds yesterday as a constant heavy downpour drenched the area and flooded many of the deep traps. During the break in the rain most of the pros went out on the practice tees or on the chipping areas.

Gajda's 71 was the best he has ever scored either in a practice round or in any regular portion of the six other Opens in which he has participated. He made the cutoff point only at Inverness in 1957. In 1953 at Oakmont he had rounds of 80-73 as he failed to qualify for the final 36 holes.

Gajda personally sees Jackie Nicklaus as a strong choice at Oakmont. He noted that on the longest hole on Oakmont, the 508-yard, par-3, 12th hole, Nicklaus used a driver and a 2-iron and the ball went 30 feet over the green.

Most of the pros will play the hole with a fairway wood and a wedge or nine iron to get precision on the fail-away green which is well bunkered on the right and left. Pin placements on this hole will be very important as to the pro's choice of clubs.

Six holes on the course has been tabbed as "birdie" holes. On the front nine the pros will shoot for birds on 2-4-5-9 and on the backside they will try to break 11 and 17.

Several of the holes at Oakmont have a history of treachery for some of the greatest known golfers. Bobby Jones called Oakmont's sixth hole the most devastating of his fabulous career. The hole is par-3 and 183 yards but missing the green can be fatal.

V-SHAPED GREEN

The green on No. 6 is V-shaped with traps on three sides and rough behind it. Jones failed to hit the green nine straight times in the 1919 amateur and the 1927 open.

Cary Middlecoff has many unpleasant memories about the 10th hole. During the 1953 Open here he had trouble getting out of the deep bunker on his drive. Angrily he picked up the ball, dropped it on the fairway and then proceeded to hit out toward the road and withdrew from the tournament in in the third round.

Besides, Palmer and Nicklaus, the experts see Gene Littler, Billy Casper, Doug Sandees and Gary Player as best contenders.

Littler's chances for retaining the crown he won last year at Oakland Hills, have been termed very strong because of the similarity of Oakmont and Oakland Hills and his own philosophy in playing such courses.

He analyzed his 1961 performance at Oakland Hills, where he edged Doug Sanders and Bob Goalby by a stroke with 281, as one of "few mistakes and bogies."

He pointed out that he did not bogie a par-3 at Oakland Hills and he only made nine birdies in the entire tournament which indicated his consistency in pars.

EXPERIMENTED

In his practice round at Oakmont, Littler withdrew from his conservative thinking about pars and did some experimenting, he shot an 82, "must have had a letdown after Thunderbird," he commented, "but I was trying too many reckless shots."

Gajda teed off at 11:36 and the biggest galleries assembled for the Palmer-Nicklaus twosome at 11:00 p.m.

Weary Tigers Glad to Come Home

DETROIT (AP) —The burdened Detroit Tigers, trying to forget the immediate past, put their faith in the psychological lift of the home field today in hopes of a fighting comeback.

Idled by rain in New York yesterday, the injury-plagued Tigers flew home to take full advantage of a 48-hour resting spell before returning to the American League wars.

Today was an open date. The Tigers begin a 12-game home stand in a series with the Boston Red Sox starting at Tiger Stadium Friday night.

After their nightmare in the east during which they lost seven of nine games, manager Bob Scheffing and his team came home with a batch of new woes.

Mainly, these are the injuries to outfielder Billy Bruton and first baseman Norm Cash to go along with the continued absence of Al Kaline.

Today's rest was counted on to clear up Cash's stiff neck.

ONE RUN JINX

For what it's worth, all but one of the Tigers' games of the disastrous Eastern swing were decided by one run.

The outspoken Scheffing says now the Tigers may go nowhere in the American League race unless Rocky Colavito and Cash get going at the plate.

"Those guys are going to have to hit," Scheffing said.

Not counting Bubba Morton, reserve outfielder, and Vic Wertz, replacement at first for Cash, the Tigers don't have an available regular hitting .300. Bruton is high man with .277.

Cash has had 15 home runs and Colavito 10 and Rocky hit .324 in the east, batting in six runs. On the other hand, Rocky failed to hit with 20 men on base and Cash with 17. The bulk of them were in scoring position.

Cash, hitting .242, is 119 points under the .361 average which won him the league batting title last year.

Don Mossi (6-5) or Hank Aguirre (3-2) probably will pitch the opener of the Red Sox series tomorrow night.

Illinois Pitcher Signed by Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers signed left-hander Tom Fletcher, a 19-year-old University of Illinois sophomore pitcher Wednesday to a bonus contract which one Tiger source said was "$50,000 or more."

Fletcher had an 8-0 record with the Illini this year, and in winning five Big Ten games he established an amazing 0.38 earned run average, lowest in conference history for a full season.

John A. Campbell, Detroit vice president, announced the signing with the Tigers' triple-A American Association farm club at Denver. He will be optioned to Knoxville of the Class A South Atlantic League.

Oxford Sprinter Paces English Win

LONDON (AP) — A 20-year-old Oxford sprinter provided the spark as Oxford-Cambridge ran off from Cornell-Pennsylvania in the latest renewal of the Anglo-American track and field series.

The English squad won 11 events to 4 at White City Stadium Wednesday, with team captain Adrian Metcalfe setting meet records in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and helping establish a meet mark in the 440 relay.

Metcalfe ran the 100 in 9.9 seconds and the 220 in 21.4. Oxford-Cambridge's winning time in the 440 relay was 41.9.

Meet records were set in four other events, all by English athletes.

Michigan Lone Unbeaten in NCAA World Series

OMAHA (AP) — Michigan, a team with dramatic flair and the Hollywood notion the good guy must win, is in firm control of the College World Series.

The Wolverines are the only unbeaten team in the NCAA Championship event that enters the semifinal round tonight. The others—Florida State, Santa Clara and Texas—have lost once in the double-elimination tournament.

Michigan, down twice by four runs, came back in the final four innings and handed Florida State its first tourney loss 10-7 Wednesday night.

"All the way through, it's been a team proposition," said coach Don Lund. "One guy keeps picking up the other guy and that's the way it went for us all season."

The Wolverines spotted Florida State four runs in the second. They scored three times in the fourth on pitcher Dave Roebuck's homer. Roebuck promptly let Florida State get the three runs back in the bottom of the fourth.

As the late innings approached, the Wolverines went to work whittling the Seminoles' second 4-run lead. They scored twice in the sixth. Then they got two in the seventh to tie.

Finally Ron Tate, ninth-inning home run hero of Michigan's opening round victory over Texas, doubled. He eventually scored the winning run on a balk.

Michigan plays Texas tonight at 9:30 p.m. EST, after Florida State meets Santa Clara at 7 p.m.

Texas ousted Ithaca 3-2 and Santa Clara eliminated Holy Cross 12-7 in Wednesday's other games.

Finsterwald's Father Suffers Fatal Attack

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Russell W. Finsterwald, whose varied career included terms as Athens county prosecutor, an athletic coach at Ohio University and a Big Ten football official, died Wednesday night on the eve of his son Dow's scheduled appearance in the U.S. Open Golf Tournament.

Finsterwald, about 65, died while playing bridge at Ohio University's Berry Hall with a bridge club of which he had been a member for years. An apparent heart attack felled him.

His son withdrew from the National Open and left for Ohio upon learning of the death.

The senior Finsterwald, a graduate of Ohio University who received his law degree at Syracuse University, was an attorney here since 1919. He was a three-sport man at Ohio U. He was county prosecutor for four years and president of the Athens County Bar Association eight years.

He was head football coach at Ohio U. 1921-22, also serving on the school's basketball and baseball coaching staffs those years. He officiated Western Conference football games from 1929 to 1951.

Capers Halted on 19th Hole

Scantily-Clad Hostesses Suddenly Without Jobs at Oakmont C. C.

OAKMONT, Pa.—No more high-jinks at the 19th hole of the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

For two days an improvised bar in the basement of the staid Oakmont Country Club, scene of this year's Open, has been doing a landslide business.

The reason: Shapely hostesses in revealing tights imported from an after-hours night club in downtown Pittsburgh.

The place had a Gay Nineties atmosphere with the girls — blondes, brunettes and redheads —attired in skimpy, sequined costumes showing more than most bikini bathing suits.

Then suddenly Wednesday the girls reported for work and only to be told they were no longer needed. Orders had come down from the club's front office. There were reports members' wives had complained.

"I had nothing to do with it," said Joe Dey, executive director of the U.S. Golf Association, which runs the tournament. "I didn't know the place existed. I've been busy upstairs."

Orchard Lake Hurler Doing Well as Pro

Tom Willwerth, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Wilwerth of 4238 Green Lake Rd. Orchard Lake, has been going great guns as a relief pitcher for first place Dubuque in the Midwest League.

The 23-year-old southpaw was recently selected loop Player-of-the-Month for May in a poll of sportswriters and sportscasters of the member cities in the Class D league.

Willwerth compiled a 2-1 record and saved five other victories while making nine fireman appearances last month. In 25 innings, he allowed just five walks, eight earned runs and 14 hits while striking out 35 batters.

He will receive an award from a chewing gum company for his outstanding performance with the Cleveland farm team in Iowa.

Warren's 5th One-Run Loss

Koufax Edges Spahn, 2-1

By The Associated Press

It is not likely that Warren Spahn of the Braves will ever ask plaintively: "What do you have to do to win a game?" Since he has won 315 over the years, he knows the answer if any one does.

But he has a right to ask, anyway.

Spahn, who at 41 still shows only small signs of his age, set the Los Angeles Dodgers down with two runs in the eight innings he worked before departing for a pinch batter Wednesday night, but his Milwaukee mates got only one off Sandy Koufax, and the ancient southpaw dropped his fifth one-run decision of the year 2-1.

It was Spahn's second straight one-run loss and his second of the year by a 2-1 score. It left him with a 6-7 season mark.

The win opened a two game National League lead for the Dodgers over the San Francisco Giants, who could do almost nothing with Bob Purkey of the Cincinnati Reds. He beat them 5-0 on three hits and became the first major league pitcher to reach the 11 win mark in the process.

The third place Pittsburgh Pirates feasted on the Chicago Cubs 6-4 for their fifth straight victory, and the St. Louis Cardinals romped over the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1 for their ninth in the last 10. The New York Mets-Houston game was rained out.

In the American League, the Minnesota Twins pushed back into a virtual tie for the lead by defeating the Los Angeles Angels with three late inning runs 4-2. Cleveland split a twi-night doubleheader with Washington, losing the first 4-2 and winning the second 4-1, Kansas City edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 and the Boston Red Sox topped Baltimore 4-0 on Don Schwall's two-hitter. The New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers were rained out. The Yankees have a lead of 10 percentage points over Minnesota.

Koufax, who was still buying kiddie-price tickets when Spahn began winning in the majors, won his own game with his first major league home run in the fifth. A solo clout, it provided the deciding run, after the Dodgers got one in the second on singles by Tommy Davis, Ron Fairly and Daryl Spencer. Roy McMillan hit a homer in the sixth for the Braves' only marker.

The fireballing Los Angeles left-hander struck out six, a low total for him, and walked two. He gave up only three hits, and twice worked out of jams with men on third and one out. The win made him 9-2.

Spahn struck out seven, walked only one, and three of the seven hits he allowed were bunts.

Purkey threw a no-hitter at the normally potent Giants until Felipe Alou doubled with two out in the seventh, and gave only two more hits the rest of the way. The Reds, avenging a double defeat Tuesday night, got two runs in the fourth when Vada Pinson singled, stole second and scored on Frank Robinson's double. After Jerry Lynch flied out, Gordie Coleman singled Robinson home. They added one in the fifth and two in the sixth, including a solo homer by Coleman.

Reliever Elroy Face, who has worked in four of the five straight Pirate wins, came on to retire the last four Cubs and save the win for Alvin McBean. A three-run blast by Bill Virdon broke a 2-2 deadlock in the sixth and tagged Cal Koonce with the loss. Bill Williams, who boosted his batting average to .345 with three hits, homered in the sixth and scored on Don Landrum's single in the eighth before Face came on.

The Cardinals concluded a 9-1 home stand, as Bob Gibson struck out 12 Phillies and ran his record to 8-6. It was a career strikeout high for Gibson, who allowed nine hits, all singles.

Big Five Admits Washington State

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP)—The Big Five admitted Washington State University Wednesday and hinted that the 4-year-old breach between members of the old Pacific Coast Conference eventually will be closed.

The Big Five became the Big Six with this terse statement:

"Resolved, that Washington State University be admitted to full membership in the Athletic Association of Western Universities, effective July 1, 1962."

Washington State will be able to participate in conference championship events next term in all but football and basketball. In two years a round-robin schedule will be possible in basketball.

Lumber 9 Bows to Nicholie, 5-2

Butler Twirls Shutout to Highlight Activity in City Softball

Don Nicholie jumped off to a 3-0 first-inning lead and stayed off two late rallies for a 5-2 victory over Talbott Lumber Wednesday night in a Class A City League baseball game at Jaycee Park.

Dick Goldsworthy was the starting and winning pitcher, although he needed relief help from Darryl Thorpe in the 5th stanza. Talbott was limited to four hits, two by Lee Crawford. Tom McCormick and Ed Lovell each had two safeties to pace Nicholie's eight-hit attack.

In City League softball action last night, Dwight Butler pitched a five-hit shutout as First Presbyterian trimmed 200 Lounge, 5-0, in the top attraction of the four-game card at Beaudette and Northside parks.

CIO Local 653 collected 10 hits during an 8-3 trouncing of Harry's Hideaway; Pontiac State Hospital ripped Motorcar Transport, 11-1; and G&M Construction routed St. Joseph Hospital, 14-2.

WATERFORD LEAGUE

At Waterford, O'Neil Realty drove Sarko Investment deeper into the Class B cellar in a 10-2 romp. Rockcote Paint did the same to Haupt Pontiac in "C" winning 12-4.

Jerry Perna had three singles and Jerry Thomas fanned eight and scattered eight hits, one more than O'Neil garnered. Co-managers Ray Jergovich and Clarence Brown batted in three runs each for Rockcote. Jergovich homered, Brown had a double and single.

LA Pitchers Adore Those 'Wee' Hours

LOS ANGELES (AP)—No one knows how long the Los Angeles Angels can stay up there in the baseball standings, but a couple of their pitchers may have set an unassailable record for staying up at night.

It was getting on to five-ish Wednesday morning when Beverly Hills police came upon Bo Belinsky and Dean Chance, abroad in Belinsky's lipstick-red Cadillac with two lady companions.

One of the girls told police Belinsky beat her. As exhibit A, she offered a nasty cut over her left eye. Belinsky vigorously denied hitting her and the Angels believed him.

But, for abusing an unwritten curfew law with almost unprecedented abandon, Belinsky and chance were fined $250 each by Manager Bill Rigney.

Chance, a 22-year-old right-hander who looks like an overgrown chair boy, is evidently new to life—at least the kind that intrudes on breakfast.

But Belinsky—suddenly a celebrity after pitching a no-hitter last month — has consistently been beaten home by his milkman. To run bad checks on Belinsky, it has been suggested, the Angels would have to hire a five-o'clock shadow.

Chance was given a chance at some redemption Wednesday night, when Rigney let him pitch against the Minnesota Twins as scheduled.

"Gee, I hope you'll let me pitch tonight," Chance had told his manager.

"You don't know how close you've come to pitching for Dallas," Rigney replied, Dallas-Fort Worth is an Angel farm club in the American Association.

Belinsky was assigned to start against the Twins today.

The 25-year-old left-hander has been warned more than once in recent weeks that his nocturnal inclinations are not consistent with his baseball career. But it was 4:45 a.m. Wednesday when he and Chance left a party for singer Eddie Fisher.

With them were Gloria Eves, 33, and Bridget Whitaker, also 33, both of Hollywood.

Belinsky said a dispute developed and Miss Eves became belligerent. He said he ordered her from the car and pulled her when she resisted. The girl struck her head on the door, Belinsky said, and that's how she suffered the cut over here eye.

Miss Whitaker said: "The whole affair was an accident." Police did not hold Belinsky and Miss Eves said later she did not plan to seek a complaint against him.

She was treated at an emergency hospital. It took five stitches to close her wound.

Triumph Vaults Twins Within 10 Percentage Points of Yanks

By The Associated Press

Bob Allison is the latest hero in the rotating cast of stars for Minnesota's surprising Twins, who again find themselves barely out of the American League lead they've been pursuing since the firing started in April.

Allison clipped Los Angeles reliever Ryne Duren for a two-run homer with two out in the eighth inning Wednesday night, powering the Twins to a come-from-behind 4-2 decision over the Angels. The victory hoisted Minnesota back into second place only 10 percentage points behind the New York Yankees, whose home game against Detroit was rained out.

Meanwhile, Cleveland slipped back to third—but still only a half game off the pace—in a doubleheader split with Washington, winning the second game 4-1 after dropping the opener 4-2. Kansas City knocked over Chicago again, 4-3. And Don Schwall's two-hit pitching led Boston over Baltimore 4-0.

Dean Chance, fined along with fellow Angel pitcher Bo Belinsky for an early-morning peccadillo, started as advertised against the Twins and did well after being tagged for doubles by Lennie Green and Rich Rollins in the first. He finally was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and Minnesota proceeded to cash in against Duren.

The hard-throwing reliever issued a walk to Rollins leading off the eighth, then struck out Harmon Killebrew and Don Mincher before Allison rapped the first homer Duren has yielded in 23 appearances this year. Allison also delivered an insurance run in the ninth on an unusual force out, following a double by Zoilo Versalles, a sacrifice and a hit batsman. Leon Wagner dropped Allison's fly to shallow right, but threw out Green at second as Versalles scored.

Minnesota reliever Ray Moore was the winner with three shutout innings. The Angels got their two runs off Jack Kralick in the second when Lee Thomas singled, Bob Rodgers doubled and Felix Torres drove in both with a single.

Dick Donovan ran his record to 9-2 with a six-hitter for Cleveland in the second game at Washington, backed by John Romano's three-run homer in the fourth inning. The Senators won their fifth in a row in the opener as Claude Osteen and Steve Hamilton collaborated to hold the Indians to four hits. Ken Retzer and Joe Hicks homered, and Cleveland errors gave Washington two unearned runs.

Schwall showed the form that made him a 15-game winner and AL rookie of the year last season, handcuffing the Orioles in the wind and drizzle at Boston's Fenway Park. The Red Sox right-hander, winning for only the second time in nine decisions this year, gave up a two-out double to Jackie Brandt in the fourth and a single to Whitey Herzog with two away in the seventh.

Frank Malzone and Ed Bressoud singled in two Red Sox runs.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Seven private country clubs in Oakland County made a gesture toward area high school golfers this spring that should have been made a long time ago.

Through the efforts of Dr. Fred M. Adams of Birmingham, these seven clubs extended their facilities to a like number of prep golf teams for the conduct of dual meets during the 1962 season.

The granting of these privileges happened more or less by accident, but it eventually came about and Dr. Adams and the clubs involved are to be highly commended for their action.

Dr. Adams, better known as Fritz, became aware of the situation through his son Fred, a member of the Birmingham Seaholm golf squad.

"Fred informed me that Seaholm didn't have a place to play," Dr. Adams said, "so I decided to take a survey of the area to find out how many other high school teams were in the same boat."

DR. ADAMS

His survey revealed six other prep teams feverishly hunting for a golfing site — Bloomfield Hills, Royal Oak Kimball, Royal Oak Dondero, Berkley, Ferndale and Madison.

"Lack of facilities had created a rather desperate situation for these schools," Dr. Adams declared. "The increase in prep golf combined with growing public links activity produced a very definite problem."

The results of the survey sent Dr. Adams into action. He contacted various private clubs in Oakland County and received favorable response from Birmingham, Tam O'Shanter, Knollwood, Franklin Hills, Forest Lake and Pine Lake.

As an Orchard Lake member and former club champion, Dr. Adams was able to bring Orchard Lake C.C. into the seven-club family.

Dr. Adams' prompt action gave every school in distress a chance to hold worthwhile interscholastic competition — something that otherwise would probably have been denied.

Dondero played at Orchard Lake, Kimball at Tam O'Shanter, Berkley at Franklin Hills, Seaholm at Birmingham C.C., Ferndale at Knollwood, Bloomfield Hills at Forest Lake and Madison at Pine Lake.

The survey also revealed that prep play at public courses often had a disrupting influence because of greater demands by the golfing public. This gave additional emphasis to the private club maneuver.

"Every one of these boys behaved like gentlemen at all times and normal club procedure was not restricted in any way," Dr. Adams said.

"There was no charge to the kids and the schools involved were very appreciative of the opportunity to play at these clubs during April and May. The offer was made as a public service and, barring complications, it will be made again next year," Dr. Adams stated.

Dr. Adams also said that there were hopes, now merely in the discussion phase, of organizing a prep golf league. This too sounds like a noble idea.

A snappy salute to Dr. Adams and the clubs that answered a crying need is definitely the order of the day.

Mrs. Bornak Sets Pace

Mrs. Al Bornak took first place in the weekly Women's Silver Lake Golf League competition with a net score of 31. Second low net of 33 belonged to Mrs. Max Richardson. Mrs. Elbert Looney shot a par four at No. 2 to win the "blind hole" event and Mrs. Margaret Coopes captured putting honors with 13.

Mrs. Hume Is 9 Strokes Ahead

She's Making Runaway of WDGA Tournament at Red Run

Mrs. John Hume Jr. of Essex is making a shambles of the annual Women's District Golf Association 54-hole medal play tournament at Red Run Golf Club.

Mrs. Hume shot an 80 yesterday, five over women's par, to go with her sparkling 77 Tuesday for a 36-hole score of 157.

This is nine strokes better than her nearest rivals, Mrs. Samuel E. (Susie) Gawne of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Robert Gamble of Lochmoor.

Mrs. Gambel carded 81 Wednesday to deadlock Mrs. Gawne for 2nd place at 166. Mrs. Gawne shot her 2nd consecutive 83 yeaterday.

Mrs. G. H. Brainard of Plum Hollow was the first flight leader with 91-88—179.

Mrs. E. F. Cornish of Oakland Hills was leading the 2nd flight with 93-95—188 and Mrs. Paul Witt of Lakepointe lead the 3rd flight at 98-98—196.

There seemed little doubt that Mrs. Hume would continue her runaway today as the WDGA tournament entered the final 18 holes.

Wrong Softball Winner

An erroneous scoresheet resulted in Wednesday's Pontiac Press reporting that Hi-Way Collison had defeated Howe's Lanes, 2-1, in a City League softball game Tuesday night. The reverse actually was true. Howe's Lanes defeated Hi-Way Collision, 2-1.

Wins 3rd Straight Metro Event

Mrs. Koss Tough to Stop

It was the same old story Wednesday in the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament at Bob O'Link Golf Club.

Mrs. Joseph Koss chalked up another victory.

Mrs. Koss carded 38-45—83 to win the WMGA event by a single stroke. Mrs. W. H. Falco and Mrs. Douglas Graham each scored 84 to share 2nd place.

It was the 4th tourney triumph of the 1962 season for Mrs. Koss and her 3rd in a row.

Rain hindered play during the last 10 holes and eight players in the starting field of 88 decided not to complete their rounds.

Next Wednesday's Metro outing will be played on the Sunnybrook course, then the scene will switch to Rochester C.C. on June 27.

One American Still Alive in British Amateur

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — Richard D. Davies, the long hitting golfer from Pasadena, Calif., was the only American to survive the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Championship today as Robert Sweeny, Pat Brady and Ireland's three-time champion Joe Carr all were eliminated.

Davies, whose power-driving has been very effective on the 6,932-yard Royal Liverpool course trounced Peter Flaherty of Ireland 6 and 4. He plays in the fifth round this afternoon.

Sweeny, the 50-year-old Palm Beach, Fla., investment banker who won the British title in 1937, fell before Donald Palmer of England, 6 and 4. Brady, of Reidsville, N. C., was beaten 2 and 1 by John Taylor of England.

Senior Crown to Farley

JACKSON (AP)—C. J. Farley of Grand Rapids duplicated his first-round score of 77 yesterday to edge Detroiter Clifford Rugg in the Michigan Senior Golf Association spring tournament here.

Farley's 38-39—77 second round gave him a 154 total in the two-day tourney. Rugg was 78-77—155 and George Haggarty of Detroit was 79-77—156 to close out the top three positions in the event.

Cage Star Turns to Gridiron

Cleveland Browns Sign Ohio State's Havlicek

CLEVELAND (AP)—Will John (Hondo) Havlicek of Ohio State, one of the nation's greatest defensive basketball players, be able to switch his talents successfully to the rugged National Football League as a pass-catcher?

The Cleveland Browns signed the 6-foot-5 star yesterday.

GOOD OFFERS

"The boy has great hands, fine speed and great coordination," said Coach Paul Brown. "In addition, he's quick mentally and there's little doubt in my mind that he has all the equipment to become a fine professional football player."

The 22-year-old athlete said he passed up "good offers" from two champions—the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association and the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League —because "I want to find out what I can do in football."

The Browns drafted Havlicek in the seventh round last December. He saw his first pro grid game here in November and told Brown: "I'd like to try football if you're interested in me."

Havlicek already had received overtures from the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL and the Montreal Alouettes. Brown said he talked with Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes and other Buckeye coaches about Havlicek.

"They all told us Havlicek was a tremendous athlete, probably the best all-around boy on the campus," Brown said. "We know that if he has the desire, he can be a great one. This is going to be quite an adventure for him. And I hand it to him. He's quite a boy."

Two weeks ago Brown invited Havlicek to a private workout at nearby Aurora. "We had Bernie Parrish, our best defensive back, playing against Havlicek and we liked what we saw. He can catch that football and he's a contact guy. He also ran 40 yards in 4.6 seconds."

NO GUARANTEE

Brown and Club President Art Modell declined to state the amount of the contract, but both stressed the 205-pounder must make the squad on merit in training camp along with other players. He has no guarantee against being cut.

"You could throw a blanket over them," said Havlicek's attorney, Robert M. Edwards of Columbus, in describing the pro contract offers. He said money was not too important, but rather the "challenge of football was the deciding factor."

A T-formation quarterback who won all-star honors at Bridgeport, Ohio, High School in football and basketball, Havlicek said the Aurora tryout "convinced me that I would like to try football."

Elsewhere, Johnny Olzewski agreed to Detroit terms as did No. 9 draft pick Murdoch Hooper of Houston, a guard and defensive end. The Lions also signed John Sharp of Michigan State as a free agent. Michigan's George Mans was among three Big Ten captains to ink Card pacts. The others were Iowa quarterback Wilburn Hollis and end John Elwell, Purdue. Big Albion star end Gary Methner entered the Washington fold. Minnesota grabbed Curt Cotton of Grambling and veteran Sam Huff signed with the Giants.

Coast Guard Choppers Are Water Samaritans

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Many a boatman in trouble this year may have his prayers answered from the sky.

Skippers aided by a Coast Guard helicopter report that it may look awkward for a guardian angel, but it becomes more and more beautiful as it roars in to give assistance.

Knowing how a helicopter does its job can help the boatman help the plane, reports Commander Wallace C. Dahlgren, officer in charge of all search and rescue along the Atlantic Coast from Rhode Island to Delaware.

One of the busiest boating areas in the world, 6,000 boatmen were aided here last year by Coast Guard shore stations, patrol craft, and planes.

First, the Coast Guard needs an accurate description of your boat, Commander Dahlgren points out, and a rough estimate at least of your trouble and where you are.

They can then dispatch aid by boat, plane, or both — depending on which will handle it best.

As the helicopter approaches, you can give the standard emergency signal: arms extended at the sides and moving up and down. If you have a radio, contact the helicopter on emergency frequency 21.82.

But after describing your situation, lower your radio antenna and any fishing outriggers or rigging that might tangle a cable lowered to you.

If a passenger in a sailboat needs medical attention, for instance, put him out away from you in a dinghy, if possible, so that the copter is clear of your mast and sails.

If your motor is working, don't stop dead in the water, the commander advises. Instead, keep a speed of about five knots, and head so the apparent wind is coming in over your port bow.

A helicopter uses maximum horsepower and fuel while in hovering attitude; motion forward gives it a little flying speed and easier operation.

If you have a crew member that needs to be picked up, for instance, the pilot can point directly into the wind and still be able to look down into your stern cockpit.

Otherwise he usually cannot see your boat and must rely entirely on directions from his hoist man.

Usually the helicopter will lower a basket. Don't unsnap the cable and secure it to your boat unless told to, since the copter will then find itself tethered to a bouncing boat. In some emergencies, however, the plane can tow you a short distance into deeper water.

Follow instructions printed on the basket and have the passenger sit inside. Occasionally a horseshoe sling or a mushroom-shaped rescue seat may be lowered.

They, too, have printed directions and the lift cable is kept in tion and th lift cable is kept in front where it can be held by the passenger with the sling under his arms and across his back, or seated on the round seat.

As the passenger is hoisted in, you will see the helicopter move down so that, until he is brought aboard, the passenger is never too high above the water. Two or three passengers can be lifted aboard. Once, in a shipwreck situation, 11 were taken ashore in one trip.

Coast Guard chopper pilots have tremendous skill, and the helicopter will do everything possible to find and aid the boat.

But please, they add, let them know if you reach port safely. They're willing to search all night if need be but would rather be ashore if you are too.

Climbing Hills Is Nothing New in Nassau Race

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

MIAMI, Fla. — Climbing hills by boat is a special sport for a few hardy skippers.

These are the sailors who speed over mountainous waves offshore in the powerboat contest from Miami to Nassau.

This race has been called the world's roughest. For 180 miles the sea tests pleasure boats — 18 feet up in size —and crews with a battering variety of waves and wind. Beneath are coral reefs to trip the careless navigator. A tropical sun broils.

Fitting out for this marine mayhem takes special preparations.

Strength of hull, engine and fittings can be more important than speed.

Spieser Flattens Foe

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — Chuck Spieser of Detroit knocked out Carl Boaman in the second round here last night in their scheduled eight round match.

Big Waves From Small Boats Menace

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

ISLE OF HOPE, Ga. (NEA)—Warning to boatmen: Be on the lookout for a big blue-hulled sportsfisherman.

If he plows his rolling wake through your anchorage, take to open water.

Our small cruiser was tied up at a village along the Intracoastal Waterway while we waited for the crew to get back from shopping ashore. We were on watch, but horizontally, lying in the forward cabin asleep.

Suddenly the boat took a tremendous roll and we were pitched out of our bunk to the sound of crashing dishes.

The next roll slammed us into the dock, then away. Half awake, we scrambled on deck to attempt to fend off from the pilings as each succeeding wave tried to smash our topsides over the slip.

Up the narrow channel, the big blue cruiser powered on its way at full cruise. "U-All III" and some northern port was gilded on his transom.

His engines made such a throaty rumble he couldn't have heard our shouts. We yelled after him anyway, adding our comments to the plaintive profanity rising to follow him from the marina.

They may use different boats, but too many similar skippers roil the water of harbors.

A boatman, by law, is responsible for the waves his craft pushes out. No nautical crime draws straighter wave lines pointing to the culprit — or can make a harbor full of enemies more quickly. Some skippers seem to forget they can end up in court if their wake causes damage or injury.

Many ports now have speed limits, but the sign "PLEASE — NO WAKE" is better.

A light hull planing along at 20 miles an hour can throw less wash than when it travels at five. Every power craft has speeds at which it pushes out little wake, as any skipper with average eyesight can find out.

When in doubt, slow down. Some superhighways now have minimum speed limits. But waterways are relaxing and more fun.

It is never a sign of ignorance or inexperience when a boat moves dead slow through a crowded anchorage, or areas where boats are tied up nearby along the shore.

Hope to Rescind Sale of Redlegs to Bill DeWitt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A spokesman for the Ohio Attorney General said Wednesday night his office is prepared to try to rescind the sale of the Cincinnati Reds baseball club to a syndicate headed by William O. DeWitt last March 23. He said court action may be instituted by the end of this week.

Ted Saker, first assistant to Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, said the move to rescind the sale will be made "whether there is any other buyer in sight or not."

Saker said investigation of the sale to the DeWitt interests by the Crosley Foundation "were not very advantageous." DeWitt was president of the club under the foundation ownership before the sale.

Two Australian Pacers Make American Debuts

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Two new pacing stars from Australia and New Zealand enter the international picture tonight when they make their American debuts at Yonkers Raceway. They are James Scott, Australian champion, and Patchwork, New Zealand's first lady of pacing.

North America's six fastest pacers will test the Anzacs in the $50,000 International Pace at 1½ miles. This is the first of a three-race series with the $65,000 Good Time Pace at 1¼ miles June 21, and the $75,000 National Championship Pace at two miles June 28.

Rich, Famous . . . and Single!

Elvis Shies Away From 'Serious' Girls

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Elvis Presley is 27 years old. Elvis Presley is rich. Elvis Presley is famous. But most of all Elvis Presley is single!

And if the calf-eyed, wrigly-hipped singer has his way he will, in all likelihood, remain unattached.

It isn't an easy goal.

Females flock around Presley like maybe he was a fire sale on three-way-stretch girdles in the Bon-Ton basement. Old girls, young girls, fat girls, thin girls, sane girls and addled girls surround him at every turn.

If there is safety in numbers Elvis may remain single for life.

"I want to get married and have children and all that," Elvis said without too much enthusiasm.

"I'm still looking. I'm still shopping around for a girl I'd like to marry."

Presley must be shopping on the black market. He is rarely seen in public with the local cuties.

"I guess I'm pretty shy and sneaky when it comes to avoiding gossip columns," he grinned. "People are entitled to know some of what's going on with movie folk, but I like to keep some things private.

"Anyway, most of the girls I date are out of the public eye."

Presley, whose manners and appearance are as impeccable as they were when he arrived here from Tennessee, excused himself to rehearse a scene for his new Paramount picture, "Girls! Girls! Girls!" The shot called for him to be surrounded by 30 gyrating thinly clad female dancers.

Somewhat winded from his twist excursion and by the proximity of so much bare feminine flesh, Elvis dropped into his canvas chair.

He looked at the gals with an appraising eye, almost as a connoisseur, and shook his head thoughtfully. "I almost got married once," he said.

BACK IN HIGH

"I was 18 years old and fresh outta high school driving a truck for a living. My girlfriend still had one more year of school to finish.

"Then I started singing and was away from town so much she got tired of waiting for me. Now she's married and has a couple of kids."

In a relieved voice Elvis added, "I'm not sure whether I've met the right girl or not. But it's not because I haven't been meeting a lot of nice ones.

"Trouble is time passes too quickly in this business. I'm 27 but I sure don't feel that old. The years just seem to creep up on me. I've been working too hard to get serious about any one girl."

Is Elvis afraid of losing his freedom?

"Heck, no," he said. "When a guy gets married he's got to expect to simmer down and obey the rules. I'm all for it, but I think maybe I'll just wait a little while longer."

Seat on Exchange Dwindles in Value

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices of individual stocks are not the only things to drop in value this year on the New York Stock Exchange.

An exchange seat, which gives the owner trading privileges sold yesterday for $125,000, or $25,000 less than the last membership to change hands — on May 16 — and the lowest price since 1959.

Prices ranged from $147,000 to $225,000 in 1961. The all-time high of $625,000 was paid for a membership in 1929. The lowest since the turn of the century was $17,000 in 1942.

Dismiss Water Suit by Romulus Township

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court yesterday dismissed a suit by Romulus Township, Wayne County, seeking to restrain Detroit and Belleville from carrying out a contract to draw water from the Romulus water system.

The high court held there was no evidence to sustain the claim by Romulus that drawing the water would reduce pressure in the local system and create a health hazard due to seepage of surface water.

Nine states direct by law that property taxes shall be levied against less than their full value. The tax fraction varies from 60 per cent in Iowa to one per cent in Vermont.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

No book on the play of the cards at bridge is complete without at least one example of the "Uppercut."

The Silodor-Tierney book gives several examples in its section on play.

The uppercut is a play by which the defender is able to use a moderately high trump to force declarer to use a high trump to overruff.

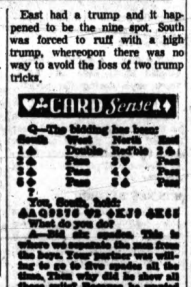
It did not require much imagination on West's part to see that only an uppercut could enable him to beat the four spade contract. Surely South held the king of clubs as part of his opening bid!

West also doubted if an uppercut could possibly happen, but there never is any harm in trying.

East overtook the king of hearts with the ace and returned the suit. West won with the jack and carefully led a low heart.

This said to East, "Ruff it you have a trump!"

East had a trump and it happened to be the nine spot. South was forced to ruff with a high trump, whereupon there was no way to avoid the loss of two trump tricks.



Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Friday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Down-to-earth attitude brings success, while seeking "pie in the sky" brings disappointment, possible loss. Steer clear of those who urge you to forget caution.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): You arrive at objective through oblique course, not direct one. See situation as it exists, recognize pitfalls. With eyes open plan method of accomplishment. You could achieve something regular!

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Good day for results. You may be asked to make choice between night of celebration and visit to one who is confined. Remember Golden Rule. Don't go to excess.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): By attitude of acceptance today rather than rejection, you avoid unhappiness. See others as they really are. Reject the artificial. Be true to yourself.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Some tasks must be performed early today . . . If you are to relax tonight. No more time to put off necessities. Need advice offered by family member.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): You know what must be done . . . and your ideas apt to be workable. But an associate, perhaps well-meaning, urges more "sensational" action. Take it slow and easy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Conservatism excellent key for you today. Better check what is going out, what is coming in. This applies to emotional and material aspects. Be aware.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): No matter what you do, do it with enthusiasm and originality. Today cycle is up. And this is no time to "hem and haw." Right objective and go after it!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): There is so much in your favor it would be sad state of affairs if you held back. By tonight you'll see that chips stack in favor of you. Move ahead today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Trying to be something you are not in order to please one close to you, is not wise. Friends, hopes, desires spotlighted. But, in long run, you must be true to yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Yes, there have been surprises . . . and some uncertainty. But you can go side by making basic changes. Communicate ideas. Take the initiative!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You are very sensitive to feelings of those around you. Trust hunches. Act, then ask questions. If you let opportunity pass by, you will be sorry. Be perceptive.

IF FRIDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . this is year featuring social contacts, finding a constructive outlet for nervous energy. Next month finds you in position to let others know what you really think.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There is nothing "halfway" today. Those who try to give only a little will find that another "attraction" soon takes over. Persons born under Scorpio and Leo apt to make news. Special word to Aquarius: Although you may have recently been "shaken up," you must be willing to take the lead.

Prices Mixed in Heavy Trade

Stock Mart Still Up and Down

NEW YORK (AP)—In another up-and-down stock market session, prices were mixed in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Showing how little change there was on balance, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off a minimal .10 at 212.40 with industrials down .30, rails up .20 and utilities off .10.

"It's pretty much like yesterday," said one broker, a decline at the start, a rally, then another decline."

Where the list would close was anyone's guess.

Gloom was thick at the start in view of the fact that the Dow Jones industrial average set a new 1962 closing low yesterday, penetrating a "support" level. After an initial drop, however, prices were supported once again by a rush of buying at the reduced prices.

The ticker tape ran as much as nine minutes late in the midst of the turnaround. Then, after posting a pretty good advance for the first hour, prices softened again with trading slower.

STRING OF PLUS SIGNS

Tobaccos held a string of plus signs but the pattern was scrambled in most other groups.

As a sample of the stock action, International Business Machines dipped fractionally to a new year-ly low at the start, spurted to show a net gain of more than 9, weakened to a net loss exceeding 5 points, cut its loss to a fraction and then dipped about 3.

General Motors was a fractional loser and Chrysler eased while Ford, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard traded about unchanged.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices opened mixed today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted long issues off 2/32 to 4/32 and intermediates off 1/32 to 2/32. There was little activity. One dealer described the atmosphere as one of general letdown.

There were relatively few changes among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Changes amounting to a full point or more were rare except in the convertible section. Utilities showed an upward trend but rails and industrials were mixed.

Boston & Maine Railroad 6s fell 1 at 36½ and Columbia Gas 3¾s added 1 at 89¼ at one time.

Viet Nam Clash Kills GI; 2 Hurt

Fight Reeds Near Laos Border; Troops Attack Rebel Stronghold

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — Communist Viet Cong guerrillas killed one American military man and wounded two others yesterday in a clash near the Laotian border 375 miles north of here, U.S. military sources said today.

The sources also disclosed that two battalions of South Vietnamese troops launched a heavy attack early this morning on Communist strongholds in the jungles north of Bien Hoa.

U.S. Army and Marine helicopters landed 800 South Vietnamese soldiers in a clearing 74 miles north of Bien Hoa after a concentrated aerial bombardment.

In Saigon, a concussion - type hand grenade was hurled into a restaurant where a group of American servicemen were eating late yesterday. A Vietnamese civilian, who was injured slightly, was the only casualty.

The restaurant was opposite the U.S. enlisted men's quarters in the heart of Saigon. The assailant escaped.

The American killed in yesterday's clash — an Army sergeant — was the 17th American to have died in South Viet Nam. One other military man is listed as missing.

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman described a claim by the Communist North Viet Nam news agency that the United States had suffered 101 casualties in South Viet Nam as being "blown up, as usual."

An officer and a sergeant were wounded in the battle near the Laotian border. They were pulled out of the combat zone by helicopters of the 8th U.S. Army field hospital at Nhatrang, north of here. An Army official said their wounds were "not serious."

Ex-Congressman Urges Federal Loans to Students

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Former U. S. Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, of Owosso, suggested here last night a "learn now, pay later" program of federal loans to college students.

In a commencement address at Grand Rapids Junior College, Bentley said such a program would be in keeping in the United States where time payment purchases are common.

He said "I would gladly support such a federal loan program."

Bentley, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman-at-large, said educational needs should be viewed not only with the present time in mind but to include "the generations of students to come."

Air Force Captain Is True to His Word

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Air Force Capt. David L. Elliott once said it would be a mighty cold day in Arizona when he got married—and he stuck to his word.

Jan. 20 it snowed in Phoenix for the first time most residents could remember.

U.S. Upbraided by Diefenbaker

Canadian Premier Hits Businessmen, Press Here at Campaign Rally

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker last night took a campaign poke at the United States, its "howling" businessmen and press.

The Conservative leader's remarks were the first of an anti-American nature injected 2into Canada's general election campaign.

Diefenbaker, whose government faces a strong test from the Liberals in next Monday's balloting, said at a rally in Guelph, Ont., that Americans hope the Conservative party is defeated.

This, the 66-year-old prime minister charged, is "because we don't do what we're told." He said his administration intends to look after Canada's interests first.

Diefenbaker defended Canada's dollar devaluation to 92.5 cents of its U.S. counterpart, possibly the No. 1 campaign issue.

He said he is more concerned with the welfare of Canadian exporters and the country's employment level than the "howling" of American businessmen and the press of the United States.

The dollar devaluation was announced May 3, shortly after the opening of the eight-week campaign, longest in Canada's history.

The Liberal party, led by Lester B. Pearson, 65, has charged the devaluation was made in panic and suggests living costs will rise because of it.

One thing appeared certain in the hectic campaign. The Conservatives — if they are returned to power — will not do so in the landslide fashion of 1958.

The party was reported running scared in the face of relentless attacks on government policies. Public opinion polls show the Liberals in the lead at this stage of the campaign.

Take Many Mortgages

United States life-insurance companies made $6.4 billion worth of mortgage loans last year, the most since 1956.

'Hollywood's War Cry: 'Down With the Stars'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The firing of Marilyn Monroe was a warning to all Hollywood stars that the studios, now hurtin' at the bank, are no longer going to put up with expensive foibles, idiosyncrasies and temperaments.

"The age of star-pampering is over," says one studio executive. "Liz Taylor won't get away with it again, either."

(Although, of course, if Marilyn wiggles back in, it doesn't seem such a serious war.)

WILSON

Marilyn's such a beautiful, wiggly, shapely creature that we're all ready to forgive her anything — since we're not paying—yet every reporter on the glamour beat knows how impossible she is at the little matter of keeping an appointment.

To wait an hour for Marilyn is to wait only a short time.

"She sits at the dressing table, fascinated by her own beauty, and can't bring herself to getting dressed," one express agent said.

"Due to her mixed-up life, she's shy, she's afraid, she finds it hard to face the public," another explainer explained.

Marilyn was punctual once.

Before she was so well known, she was to meet a famous director at his hotel in Hollywood at 8 a.m. and say goodbye to him before he left for Europe.

And at 8 a.m. she phoned the director from the lobby and said, "They won't let me come to your room at this hour."

The director, a great kidder, said, "Yes, they're very strict in this hotel. Just tell them you're a call girl and I called you, and they'll let you come right up."

Marilyn was so embarrassed that there's no record she was ever on time after that.

U.S. Fights Short Rule of Pro-Red Laos Prince

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is working to head off a situation that would put pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong in temporary control of Laos' new coalition government late this month.

The two other members of the three-man regime are scheduled to be out of the country, thus leaving the Red prince at the helm during the early pangs of the effort to turn the war-shattered little kingdom into a neutral nation.

U.S. officials said that at the very least they consider it bad psychology to leave command—even if only nominal—in the hands of just one member of the ruling group at this budding stage of the coalition.

As a result, the United States is reported to be urging that the neutralist premier - designate, Prince Souvanna Phouma, head Laos' delegation to a 14-nation Geneva conference late this month. The conference is to ratify an agreement pledging Laos to neutrality in the cold war.

WEDDING INTERFERES

The third member of the Laotian triumvirate, pro-Western General Phoumi Nosavan, is slated to lead his country's delegation to Switzerland June 24 or 25, news dispatches from Laos reported Wednesday. Prince Souvanna is scheduled to attend the wedding of his daughter in Paris June 28.

The neutralist premier was quoted saying that while Gen. Phoumi and he are out of the country "the whole burden of state affairs will fall on Souphanouvong."

U.S. officials, informants said today, are urging that Souvanna Phouma head the Geneva delegation and that Gen. Phoumi remain in Laos. If necessary, officials said, the opening date of the Geneva meeting could be adjusted or some other arrangement made so that Souvanna Phouma could attend the wedding without having to miss the meeting.

Officials Endorse Use of Seat Belts

CHICAGO (UPI) — National medical and safety officials today endorsed the use of automobile seat belts and predicted that 5,000 lives could be saved annually through universal use of the belts.

Reporting on the progress of a year-long seat belt campaign yesterday, National Safety Council President Howard Pyle said the use of the safety belts tripled last year and as a result, 100 lives probably were saved.

"More than two-million automobiles were equipped with seat belts during the past year," Pyle said. He added that if the trend continues, "it will result in an additional two-and-one-half million seat belt installations in 1962."

Machines Don't Impress Harness-Making Vet

ENGLISHTOWN, N.J. (AP) — Ira Hulsart hasn't much time for machines.

Cars may rule the highways, but there'll always be horses, he says. And he's the man to provide the harnesses.

A harness maker for 60 years, Hulsart runs his one-room shop without a single machine.

His formula for avoiding machine-age ills: "I just like to work good and hard, and when I get tired I sit down."

Boeing Official Hits Bolt Theory

Says Claim Missing Part Caused 707 Crash Lacks Evidence

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A spokesman for the Boeing Co. says the firm believes the theory that a small bolt was lost, causing the crash of a jet airliner in New York March 1, isn't supported by evidence.

The American Airlines Boeing 707 plunged into Jamaica Bay, killing 95 persons.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the bolt, which was part of the rudder mechanism may have slipped out of place if a nut securing it fell off. The nut is held by a cotter pin, and an FAA official said the pin may have been left off by mistake.

LEADS TO THEORY

He said information obtained from the flight recorder the plane carried produced the evidence that led to the FAA's theory, but the part of the wreckage which might prove it apparently is at the bottom of Jamaica Bay.

Boeing said it believed loss of the bolt would have made the plane snap abruptly on its back, whereas evidence indicates it rolled smoothly, although rapidly, onto its back.

Select Names for Subs

City Postmaster Presents Report

William Donaldson Has Talk With Top National Official in Bay City

Postmaster William W. Donaldson of Pontiac yesterday presented the assistant postmaster general with a report on the Pontiac Post Office, showing that mail volume is now running at the rate of over 6,000,000 pieces monthly.

Donaldson conferred with Asst. Postmaster General Frederick C. Belen at the state convention of the Michigan Chapter of the National Association of Postmasters being held a Bay City.

The assistant postmaster general — a native of Lansing — came from Washington to attend the sessions and discuss a wide variety of postal matters including the nationwide improved mail service programs, the "open door" employe relations programs, faster intracity deliveries and similar programs.

Other facts on Pontiac post office presented to Belen by Donaldson included:

Currently postal receipts are nearly double those of ten years ago (1961 — $1,630,550 compared to $835,076 in 1951). The number of patrons served is approximately doubled during the same period.

Reds Tighten Border Guard

E. Germans Strengthen Fortifications in Bid to Halt Escapes

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist fortifications along the East-West Berlin border have been strengthened in an attempt to seal all escape hatches to the Western sector, West Berlin police reported today.

The extra security measures caught two youths late yesterday just as they were about to try to swim a border canal to the West near the Brandenburg Gate.

But they failed to stop an East Berlin border policeman who climbed over the wall early this morning. He wore his uniform but no weapons.

TERROR CAMPAIGN

The Communists also have launched a new campaign of terror against a group of refugees who escaped to West Berlin last Friday aboard a river steamboat.

East German agents have sent threatening postcards to the refugees who are too frightened to leave their sanctuary in the West Berlin Marienfelde refugee camp.

West Berlin police said East German workmen, under the supervision of Communist border guards, have built six bunker-like protective trenches. They apparently are designed to give Red sentries cover when they shoot at fleeing refugees and western police who return their fire.

Communist guards also have erected sandbag barricades and made firing slits in bricked-in windows of houses along the East-West Berlin border.

Moscow Toasts Van Cliburn for Brilliant Concert

MOSCOW (UPI) — American pianist Van Cliburn was the toast of Moscow today for his brilliant performance at a concert where an emotional Russian audience showered him with flowers, applauded him wildly and clamored for his autograph.

The curly-haired Texan, who captured the hearts of Soviet music lovers when he won the Tchaikovsky music contest in 1958, made a triumphal return last night when he gave a concert in the great hall of Moscow's Tchaikovsky Conservatory.

An overflow audience of mostly young girls and elderly women—many of whom had stood for hours outside the conservatory waiting for tickets — jammed into the theater to hear him play Rachmaninoff's Second Concerto and Brahms' Second Concerto.

PLAYING IT SAFE — This quail evidently isn't taking any chances even though the hunting season in Kansas is many months away. It perched on this fence post with a 'No Hunting' sign on a farm northeast of Independence.

Limestone is the most widely used of all rocks because of its great variety and importance of its industrial use, and also because of its widespread occurrence.

DESCENDANTS WATCH FALL—The great-great-great grandsons of Schuyler Hodges, (from left) Joseph Patterson, 17, and his brother Schuyler, 13, were on hand yesterday to see the demolition of the Chapman Hotel (Hodges House) begin. Their ancester built the hotel 124 years ago. Storm damage April 30, made the building unsafe. The city has purchased it for urban renewal. Heavy equipment was moved in today from Detroit, when a light crane had trouble shattering the three-brick-thick walls. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Hodges Patterson, 81 Illinois Ave.

Senators Add $590 Million

OK Billions for Defense

Huge Bill Goes to House for Further Debate

Proposed Cuts Voted Down With Final Total of $48.5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unanimous Senate approval of a massive $48.5-billion defense bill moved the record peacetime appropriation back to the House today.

There, leaders were expected to send the bulky measure to the usual compromise session of a Senate-House Conference Committee.

The bill returns to the House with nearly $590 million in Senate increases over what the House originally voted.

The differences must be resolved before the bill goes to President Kennedy.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., steered the big bill, carrying more than half the annual government budget, through the Senate in less than seven hours Wednesday. The vote for it was 88 to 0.

SLASH FAILS

Most of the debate centered around futile attempts of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., to cut out an extra $320 million voted by the Senate Appropriations Committee to hasten development of the big jet reconnaissance strike aircraft known as the RS70.

Both senators were defeated by wide margins as they tried to slice RS70 margins back to the $171 million asked by President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to continue limited development of the huge experimental aircraft.

Air-minded senators backed the full $491 million asked by top Air Force leaders to develop a complete weapons system, including long-range radars, new missiles and other special subsystems.

During the debate Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said Kennedy "told me Sunday that even if extra funds are voted," for the RS70 he wouldn't spend them.

Robertson told the Senate, however, that McNamara had informed him privately that "it might be wise" to put some extra millions into developing the RS70 as a future weapons system.

The House had voted $224 million for the RS70.

Also rejected by voice vote was an attempt by Proxmire to remove $280 million appropriated for another big aircraft carrier for the Navy.

The Senate bill would require that the Army's National Guard be maintained at a strength of 400,000 and its Reserves at 300,000 a year from now. The Pentagon had proposed 367,000 for the National Guard and 275,000 for the Reserves.

The House had provided an extra $60 million to avoid cutbacks but the Senate went a step more by including language to prohibit a cutback. The Senate also tacked on $11 million to expand Air Force and Navy Reserves.

Elevator Moves Keep Market on Go Early Today

'Down, Up, Down' Is Pattern as 1.1 Million Shares Change Hands

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices moved in an up-and-down pattern on the New York Stock Exchange in early trading today, irregularly down at the start, then rallying briskly and then sliding off.

Volume was heavy, 1.1 million shares changing hands in the first hour, but at a little slower pace than the previous day when price levels were around their lows for the year.

The ticker tape ran up to nine minutes late in the first hour when a rally came. Flash prices appeared on the tape, but later prices showed leaders off from their day's highs.

At 10 a.m. (Pontiac time) the indexes, based on ticker prices, were slightly higher, Dow Jones at 575.84, up 1.80, and Standard & Poor's 55.63, up 0.15.

American Telephone & Telegraph rose to $103.87, up $1.63, Commonwealth Edison was $39.75, up 13 cents; AMF was at 23, up $1.

Steels and motors advanced in the first hour, and some electronics issues were up.

Traders looking at both the short and the long-range prospects of the market were inclined to wait for the effect of an address yesterday by Archibald Cox, solicitor general, in which Cox called for earlier entry of government views into wage-price controversies on behalf of the public.

'PRETTY SOUND'

But former broker Douglas Dillon, now secretary of the Treasury, said he believes he market is "pretty sound" and has fallen about as far as it will go.

Dillon, at a Senate Finance Committee hearing in Washington, said he thought the market's decline came because "the investing public just decided that the prices were too high."

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday was 5,850,000 shares. So-called "blue-chip" issues declined for the third straight session and both the Dow-Jones industrial average and Standard & Poor's index of 500 top stocks closed near levels where they stood 17 days ago.

All of the 10 most active stocks on the exchange showed losses. American Telephone & Telegraph was off $2.88; International Business Machines lost $12.50, Polaroid dropped $5.88 per share and Xerox lost $7.13.

Charges Three-Way Agreement

Links Estes, Corporation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Ross Bass, D-Tenn., charged today Commercial Solvents Corp. had assurance from the Agriculture Department it would get "every dime of payments" from Billie Sol Estes' grain activities before Estes ever had a grain contract.

Officials of the firm denied the statement, made before a House Government Operations subcommittee of which Bass is a member.

The charge by Bass came a day after testimony from Estes before a grand jury in Franklin, Tex., reportedly opened new avenues for investigation in the mysterious death on an Agriculture Department official.

Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ said last night he will subpoena three or four additional before the Robertson County grand jury holds its next session Monday.

PROBING SHOOTING

The grand jury is investigating the fatal shooting June 3, 1961, of Henry H. Marshall, 52, who was state chief of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

They questioned Estes, erstwhile farm financier, for nearly two hours Wednesday. None of his testimony was made public.

Rep. Bass said a triangle of interest existed between Commercial Solvents, Estes and the department when Estes began his grain activities in March, 1959, during the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Commercial Solvents officials denied they had done anything out of the ordinary and said they had obtained no assurances that Estes would be given any surplus grain to store.

"Before he was in the grain business at all, the department had assured you you would get every dime of payments," Bass said. "He didn't even have a grain contract until he signed over every nickel to you March 4."

Bass said Estes received his first contract to store surplus grain March 9, 1959.

Earlier testimony brought out that Estes began his grain operations with $225,000 loaned him by Commercial Solvents. This was part of a $900,000 loan which also involved payments for liquid fertilizer.

The firm's president, Maynard C. Wheeler, testified meanwhile that sworn testimony that he said he would take over Estes' grain storage operation is "the most preposterous statement I have ever heard made."

Early Starters Teeing Off for the 62nd USGA Open

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, The Pontiac Press

OAKMONT, Pa.—Cool weather and cloudy skies prevailed for 129 pros and 21 amateurs in the opening round of the 62nd USGA Open being played on the rain-soaked course of Oakmont Country Club.

The fairways were soggy and greens slowed down a pace for early starters who began teeing off at 8 a.m. First off the tee was Leo Biagetti, Ashland, Ohio, pro who qualified for the Open in Detroit.

Biagetti could not handle the easier par-36 front nine as he went out with a 41 as result of two bogeys and a pair of double bogeys. He scored a birdie-2 on the sixth hole.

Most of the name players did not go off until midday. The top gallery-drawing two-some, Arnold Palmer and Jackie Nicklaus, 1-2 choices in the tournament, started out at noon (Pontiac time.)

Palmer, who toured the course with a 69 in a practice round, showed no effects of the finger injury he suffered earlier this week.

Dow Finsterwald, who was scheduled to go off at 9 a.m. with Tommy Bolt, had to withdraw from the tournament because of the death of his father late yesterday.

County Key Link in I-75 Freeway

Newest Route Will Eventually Reach All the Way to Florida

State Highway Department officials in Pontiac tell a long story. It's all about the Interstate 75 freeway—close to 400 miles long.

I-75—part completed, part under construction, part still on the drawing board—is the vast concrete ribbon which will eventually tie the distant cities of Toledo and Sault Ste. Marie into one neat, commutable package.

Someday, the ribbon will overlap all the way to Florida.

Oakland County plays a brief, but key role in the long I-75 story: Some 40 miles.

The county freeway portion, when complete, will run from Eight Mile Road in Hazel Park to the Genesee County line south of Grand Blanc.

Everything from Pontiac north to Flint is scheduled for completion by October and will tie into previously opened sections from Flint to Bay City.

NEAR BUILDING PHASE

South of Pontiac, plans are nearing the construction phase. Only Wednesday the highway department opened bids for a 5.6-mile portion of I-75 from Walton Boulevard to Adams Road.

The entire portion from Walton south to 11-Mile Road will be under contract by fall and completion is expected by mid-1964.

Like almost any long story, I-75 has its complications. One of them, not to be completely resolved until the late 1960's, is near Bay City.

Congress Giving JFK Rough Time

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It can't be said that Congress has taken over the reins from President Kennedy, but it is certainly bouncing him around in the driver's seat.

In the 1960 presidential campaign he said "a go-nothing party will not do. Four more years of a Republican President blocking action by a Democratic Congress will not do.

What we need, what we seek, what this campaign is intended to bring, is action instead of drift-leadership, not salesmanship — and dedication in place of mediocrity."

The picture has changed and now a Democratic President is being blocked by a Democratic Congress, where Democrats far outnumber Republicans, in one field after another.

Major programs have been killed, abandoned, or bottled up. And most lately the House and Senate have frustrated him a bit in foreign policy. Even his right arm in the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, has called for a re-examination of Kennedy's Southeast Asia policy.

Kennedy has deluged Congress with proposals—too many as it turns out —, for many will be thrust aside as members of both House and Senate hurry to get home early for this fall's congressional elections.

Take a look at what has been happening to just these few major items he mentioned:

His medical care bill looks so lost in the House Ways and Means Committee — where Democrats outnumber Republicans 15 to 10— that the Kennedy administration is willing to compromise now to save some fragments of it.

His youth employment opportunities bill is still in a House committee.

DIFFERENT VERSIONS

His proposal to aid higher education has passed both Houses but in different form and can't be-

Airlines and Engineers in Deadlock Over Jobs

Goldberg Done, Strike Likely

Pan Am, Eastern, TWA Facing Walkout After Long Talks Fail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government efforts to settle long-standing labor disputes between three major airlines and their flight engineers collapsed today.

Ron Brown, the union's president, said a strike appeared inevitable.

Brown, head of the Flight Engineers' International Association, was asked whether a walkout will take place on the three carriers — Pan American World Airways, Trans World Airlines and Eastern Airlines.

"It certainly appears so at this time," Brown replied.

He said the 1,700 engineers employed by the three carriers had authorized a strike some time ago. But he said he wanted to report back to the men involved and check again with them on their wishes.

Last ditch negotiations which extended for 24 hours broke off this morning.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said that further talks appeared useless and the union was "free to strike."

Goldberg left immediately to report to President Kennedy. He said the carriers had accepted but the union had rejected a last minute proposal by the President to submit the contract dispute to voluntary arbitration.

Union Attorney Asher Schwartz told newsmen that "arbitration would be industrial suicide."

He said the union had offered to arbitrate wage and other issues but not the key controversy — whether members of the flight engineers' union will still have jobs on jet planes when the carriers reduce present crews from four to three.

Key Role in I-75 Tale Occupied by County

way department plans, will eventually run north of Bay City along existing US23 to Standish. From Standish it will parallel M76 to Grayling, and there it will hook up with existing portions of I-75.

Presently, however, the real I-75 ends at Kawkawlin, a tiny town on US23 a few miles north of Bay City.

Highway engineers have devised an alternate route, now bedecked with I-75 signposts in addition to regular highway number markings, to carry motorists to the regular I-75 continuation at Grayling.

The alternate course flows along US10 from Bay City to Clare, where it switches to US27 toward Grayling and Gaylord.

North of Waters, between Grayling and Gaylord, to the Mackinac Bridge, all portions of I-75 but one are scheduled to be opened by the end of this month. The only unfinished section, between Gaylord and Indian River, should be completed by November.

I-75 will be Oakland County's link to the south with the Chrysler Expressway on Detroit's East Side. The Chrysler, in turn, will connect in downtown Detroit with a portion of I-75 running to Toledo.

Even though the final I-75 route from Toledo to the Soo will not be complete until the late 60's, some existing portions of the freeway will be linked with other major highways by the end of the year to form a direct north-south route.

A motorist then will be able to use parts of US23, I-75, US10 and US27 to drive 250 miles from the Michigan-Ohio border to the Soo along limited-access divided highway.

ROUTE

US23 from the Ohio border west of Toledo to the I-75 interchange near Flint.

I-75 from Flint to Bay City.

US10 from Bay City to Clare.

US27 from Clare to Grayling.

And, finally, I-75 again from Grayling to the Mackinac Bridge, over the Bridge to St. Ignace and onward to the Soo.

Only a short stretch of this top-to-bottom Michigan route will be unfinished at the end of the year—a portion south of the Soo now under construction.

Another feature of the highway is that it will provide a high-speed link with the new Canadian highway around the north shore of Lake Superior. A bridge connecting the American and Canadian highways is currently under construction.

Rain Splashes Cold Northeast; Dry Spots in U.S.

By The Associated Press

It was chilly and wet today in many areas in the northeast and cool air spread across western sections of the nation.

Showers splashed broad areas in the Northeast and the Far West and a few spots in the South. But dry weather prevailed in most other parts of the country.

Light rain, drizzle and fog dampened areas from the lower Great Lakes region and southern New England to the central Atlantic Coast. Showers and thunderstorms spread through the southern Atlantic Coast states and the central Gulf Coast.

In the West, showers and thunderstorms were reported in the Rockies while thundershowers sprinkled the northern Plains, the northern Plateau states and extreme northern California.

K Says U. S. Gears for Surprise Attack

TOKYO (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev accused the United States of "trying to prepare for a surprise attack" on the Soviet Union in a letter to Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, it was disclosed today.

"It is a criminal act that a certain element is trying to prepare for a surprise attack on us by trying to attain the upper hand in the application of nuclear weapons," Khrushchev's note said.

It was in reference to the recent resumption by the United States of atmospheric nuclear tests.

62nd USGA Open Play Begins in East

Pittsburgh district alternate Charles Smith of Elyria, Ohio, was named to replace Finsterwald.

Among the early starters, 52-year-old Charles Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., 1960 National Seniors champion, birdied two of the first three holes and then bogeyed No. 8 for a one-under 35.

HOT AND COLD

Joe Moore Jr. of San Antonio, Tex., had an inconsistent front nine when he birdied holes 1-4-5-7 and took bogeys on 2-8-9 for a one-under-par 35.

Sam Snead, trying for the 22nd time to win the coveted title, got off to a bad start on the first hole when he trapped the second shot and took a bogey five.

He then recovered and took a birdie-four on the fourth hole. Bolt went into the back nine with an even par 36 after a bogey on No. 3 and a birdie-three on No. 5.

Convict Young TV Actor

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Billy Gray, who played Robert Young's son on the "Father Knows Best" television series, has been convicted of illegal posession of marijuana.

FBI Checking on Recent Visitors

Did Prison Escapees Get Outside Help?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The three convicts who fled Alcatraz Island prison in San Francisco Bay may have had outside help, it was reported today.

The San Francisco Examiner said it has learned from a reliable source that the FBI is working on the theory the three men made it over the cold, swirling waters to the mainland and is checking on recent visitors to the prison.

A widening search by government agents is strengthening speculation the three—John Anglin, 32, his brother, Clarence, 31, and Frank Morris, 35—may have engineered the first successful escape from the 28-year-old maximum security institution.

Since the disappearance was discovered early Tuesday, heavily armed soldiers, now numbering 200, have been combing Angel island in the possibility the convicts may have landed there on a driftwood raft in their flight from Alcatraz 1½ miles to the south. Alcatraz is 1½ miles north of the San Francisco shoreline.

4TH DIDN'T GO

A fourth convict was reported in on the escape plot but didn't flee. He was identified as Allen Clayton West of Atlanta, Ga. The four used spoons to chisel three ventilator covers leading to a service passage behind their cells.

From there the Anglin brothers and Morris climbed up a pipe, over a roof and a fence and then down to the water's edge.

Warden Olin Blackwell said Tuesday he didn't believe the men could have made it to freedom by swimming without aid.

At a news conference Wednesday, Fred Wilkinson, assistant federal director of prisons, revealed that authorities now believe that Morris and the Anglin brothers are off the island.

Until Wilkinson's statement, officials had insisted it was possible the men were still holed up in a water's edge cave on Alcatraz itself.

come law until the differences are ironed out.

His foreign trade bill, with additional power to cut tariffs, is out of the Ways and Means Committee which handled it but with changes which must have jolted him.

His tax revision bill passed the House but is bottled up in a Senate committee where, perhaps, it may be massacred.

And there are things he left unsaid: Last year he made a big pitch for aid to public schools but seems so much to have given up hope for it that, while it's still lying around, he has stopped talking of it.

He asked Congress to pass a law banning literacy tests in voting but the Senate killed that. He wanted a new department of urban affairs and housing but the House slaughtered that one.

Kennedy wants to raise the public debt limit from $300 billion to $308 billion. This is being kicked around in the House where there seems to be a strong mood to limit an increase to $306 billion or not raise it at all.

Allied Arms Offers Rejected by Soviets

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union categorically rejected today virtually all Western proposals for general and complete disarmament.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin lashed the United States and Britain as the 17-nation disarmament conference went into a month-long summer recess.

3,500 Laid Off at Lincoln Plant

Wixom Employes of Ford Motor Co. Affected by Ohio Strike

Some 3,500 hourly workers at Ford Motor Co.'s Lincoln plant at Wixom have been laid off due to a shortage of parts caused by a strike at the firm's stamping plant near Cleveland, Ohio.

The Wixom plant is the first to be affected among 16 assembly plants in 11 states threatened with idleness because of the eight-day-old walkout at the Walton Hills stamping plant.

The Lincoln plant shut down yesterday afternoon. Ford plans to close its Dearborn and Kansas City assembly plants today. Others would be closed tomorrow.

A total of 35,000 employes at assembly plants across the country are faced with layoffs unless the dispute is settled, a Ford spokesman said.

The dispute at the Ohio plant concerns work standards between the company and UAW Local 420, the spokesman said.

Wages are not involved in the dispute since Ford and UAW have a national three-year wage contract which was signed last fall.

Negotiations were shifted yesterday to Detroit from Cleveland. The talks were to resume today.

Other Ford manufacturing plants could be affected by a continuing strike, the spokesman said, but he declined to estimate to what degree.

The Day in Birmingham

400 Students Register With New Job Service

BIRMINGHAM — More than 400 students have registered with the High School Employment Service, recently organized at the Community House as an aid in finding them after-school, Saturday and summer employment.

Five schools in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area are participating in the program. They are Seaholm, Brother Rice, Marian, Groves and Bloomfield Hills High School.

Each of the schools have pledged sufficient money to back the service in case the program runs into financial difficulty.

There is one student and one faculty representative from each school on the board that organized the employment service.

Instrumental in getting the program started was Ward Ouradnik, executive director of the Community House, and Community House board directors, Mrs. John W. Fauver and Mrs. George H. Squibb.

The office of the new service is located in the Community House and is supervised by Mrs. Marian Thompson. Office hours are 3 to 5 p. m. on weekdays and 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

The service is also being offered to all merchants and businessmen in the area to help in hiring high school students for part-time employment.

Four new members have been elected to fill vacancies on the board of trustees of the Cranbrook Foundation, it was announced today.

They are: William H. Baldwin, partner in the law firm of Baldwin, Boos and Baldwin; Charles F. Moore Jr., vice president of public relations, Ford Motor Co.; Edward Lerchen, vice president of Detroit Bank and Trust; and Thomas E. Wilson, general manufacturing manager, General Motors Corp., Truck and Coach Division.

The Young Adult Club of the Birmingham YMCA will meet 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Y Building, 400 E. Lincoln Road, for a trip to Bob-Lo.

A weekend canoe trip is being planned for June 22.

All single men and women, 20 years of age and over, are invited to join the group.

Army Plans Missile for Bigger A-Punch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army moved yesterday to start development of Missile "B"—a new battlefield rocket designed to give its divisions a heavier atomic punch.

This is the first new bombardment missile undertaken by the Army since the Pershing of four years ago.

The Army invited industry to submit proposals for development of the new missile, which would have a maximum reach of about 47 miles.

Missile B would replace two bombardment rockets now with Army troops — the 12-mile range Honest John and the Lacrosse, a rocket with a range comparable to that of long-distance artillery. Both have been operational for several years.

New Telephone Number Is Assigned MSUO

Michigan State University Oakland has been assigned a new telephone number —338-7211 — to replace its former number FE 8-4515.

The old number may still be used until September. Until then a transfer will be effected.

Feminine Intuition an Actual Factor

Men Know 'Things' While Women Know 'People'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What surprises men most about women are the things they know—and don't know.

* * *

And as a man grows older, the more he somewhat grudgingly admires the unexpected wisdom he finds in woman as the custodians of human folk knowledge.

BOYLE

The big difference between the sexes in matters of information — allowing for numerous exceptions —is that the male mind concentrates on the big picture, the feminine mind on the little picture.

I thought my daughter summed up the situation the other day with a remark philosophically profound for a 9-year-old.

THINGS . . . PEOPLE

"Daddies know about things," she said. "But mommies know about people and families."

Isn't that really true? Don't men think more about the big events that make up the outside world, while women think more about the small events that control their personal worlds?

A man's knowledge is generalized; a woman's is specific.

Ask a woman about who fought whom at the Battle of Hastings and she is likely to reply blithely, "I didn't even know they had a quarrel. By the way, who are the Hastings?"

But if she does know a family named Hastings, she probably can rattle off the individual characteristics and ultimate fate of every member of that tribe for three generations.

WON'T LEARN

Men often become exasperated at women for some of the things they don't know—and never seem to care to learn. Such as: Importance of getting places on time, when to turn off their terribly acute memories, how to balance a bank account, how to drive a car properly or when to drop a subject and shut up—particularly if it's a subject she knows nothing about.

Of course men are really wrong in some of these matters and cling to them only out of male prejudice and vanity. Most women who drive do so very well.

Most wives know how to balance a bank account at least as well as their husbands. If they didn't handle the money, the family would have gone over the hill to the poorhouse long ago.

A GOOD REASON

And when a woman keeps a subject going on which she is unfamiliar, it may be for a very good reason. She may not want a worse subject to come up.

It is in the relations between people, particularly those in her own family, that women are profoundly and uncannily wise.

She acts instictively and rightly in emergencies in which her husband stands helpless.

She can tell at a glance when her child comes in the door whether he has done something wrong, or something went amiss at school.

* * *

She knows the state of her husband's health even better than he does. She realizes when his workaday rut is wearing him down, and that he has to take a vacation whether he feels he can afford it or not.

HER INTUITION

In a thousand small and unexpected ways she sees beneath the surface of daily life to respond to the needs of her family. Does she have an interior radar, sometimes called intuition, or do women have a body of human lore mothers have passed on secretly to their daughters through the ages?

A man can't be sure.

But the probable reason for the difference between what men and women know is that men spend more time reasoning with their heads, while women place more importance in what they learn by thinking with their hearts.

Paris Counts 92,000 Arriving From Algeria

PARIS (AP) — During the first dozen days of June about 92,000 European refugees came to France from Algeria, a government spokesman said yesterday.

* * *

The refugee program director Robert Boulin told the French cabinet more and more of the refugees are asking state aid, indicating they do not intend to return to Algeria after the North African country becomes independent.

Lansing Dem to Try Again to Win Seat

LANSING (AP)—Former Congressman Don Hayworth announced yesterday that he will try again to unseat Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, 6th District congressman from Lansing.

Hayworth, a Democrat and member of the Michigan State University faculty, served with one term in Congress in 1955-56. He was beaten by Chamberlain, a Republican, who is rounding out his third term.

Hayworth made an unsuccessful bid for re-election in 1958.

There are two things seldom worth listening to—that which is shouted, and that which is whispered. . . . Taffy Tuttle figured out what goes with Early American furniture—late American payments. . . . Modern philosophy: Eat, drink and be merry—for tomorrow you may lose your credit card.—Earl Wilson.

Posters Open British Drive on Cigarettes

LONDON (UPI) — The British government opened an anticigarette campaign yesterday with posters warning children to "think . . . before you smoke."

Copies of the posters were sent to teacher training schools, independent schools and youth organizations.

One poster shows a boy lighting a cigarette, the other a girl accepting one. Both read:

"Before you smoke, think. Cigarettes cause lung cancer."

The basis for the campaign is a report issued earlier this year by the Royal College of Physicians citing evidence that cigarettes cause lung cancer.

Lowest annual mean temperature in the U.S. is 26.8 degrees at Mt. Washington in New Hampshire, a record held for several years.

Chicken and a Cake Honor Father

On Father's Day, June 17th, the best is none too good for dad. In addition to the presents he gets on that occasion, father rates a special dinner on his special day. That's why chicken, a favorite with everyone, has been selected as the official main course by the Father's Day Council.

This year, celebrate Father's Day by serving Pecan Stuffed Chicken Breasts, the first-prize winner in last year's National Chicken Cooking Contest. This blue-ribbon winner is sure to be a winner with your own family. The chicken breasts are baked on a mound of stuffing given marvelous texture and flavor with chopped pecans.

Serve the chicken with two of its traditional companions, cranberry sauce and candied sweet potatoes.

All the year long, chicken is a special boon for the father who watches his waistline. According to the National Broiler Council, chicken has fewer calories than any of the leading meats. An average serving of broiled chicken without skin, for instance, yields only a modest 115 calories.

The dessert course will come as happy surprise to dad. It is a Telegram Cake that wishes him a Happy Father's Day. The beige frosting has a delectable butterscotch flavor, which comes from handy butterscotch morsels. Here is butterscotch flavor the quick, convenient way.

Pecan Stuffed Chicken Breasts

4 small whole chicken breasts
Lemon juice
6 tablespoons melted butter, divided
3 cups toasted bread crumbs
½ cup finely diced celery
½ cup chopped onion
¾ cup chopped pecans
¾ teaspoon MSG
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup water

Brush chicken breasts on both sides with lemon juice and 2 tablespoons of the melted butter. Combine remaining 4 tablespoons butter with remaining ingredients; toss lightly.

Make 4 mounds of stuffing and arrange on 4 squares of double thicknesses of aluminum foil; place on baking sheet. Place a whole chicken breast, skin side up, on mound of stuffing. Fold foil securely around chicken to make individual packages. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees), 40 minutes. Increase oven to moderately hot (400 degrees). Fold back foil and bake 10 minutes longer, or until chicken is browned. Yield: 4 servings.

Telegram Cake

1 package yellow or chocolate cake mix
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
⅛ teaspoon salt
2¼ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
⅓ 6-ounce package (½ cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

Prepare cake mix and bake in two 8-inch square pans according to package directions. Melt butterscotch morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Blend cream cheese and salt. Stir in melted butterscotch morsels until smooth. Gradually beat in sugar until of spreading consistency.

Fill and frost top and sides of cake. Force melted chocolate through narrow opening of cake decorator or paper cone to write appropriate Father's Day message and telegram decoration. Yield: One 8-inch cake.

Green Avocado, Golden Orange Mix in Salad

Orange Avocado Salad

1 package (3 ounces) lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
¾ cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 medium-size avocado
Membrane-free sections from 2 oranges

Add gelatin to boiling water and stir to dissolve. Stir in cold water, lemon juice and salt. Halve avocado; remove seed; strip off skin; cut into thin slices about the length of the orange sections.

Arrange avocado and orange in six ½-cup molds; pour in the gelatin mixture. Cover and chill. Unmold and serve with salad greens and mayonnaise or French dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Fragrant Baked Beans a Natural for Outdoors

It has been said that Boston runs to brains, beans and brown bread. But you don't have to hail from Boston to know that beans, flavored with molasses and baked to perfection, make the tastiest dish ever for outdoor dining.

Next time you move the dining room outdoors, take along this old-fashioned bean bake as an accompaniment to grilled hamburgers. It is easy to prepare because it makes use of canned beans in tomato sauce, thus eliminating the need for soaking beans overnight and cooking them to tenderness. In this dish, flavoring is done by three pantry self staples: unsulphured molasses, prepared mustard and vinegar.

The sweetness of unsulphured molasses contrasts perfectly with the nip of prepared mustard and vinegar. Yet together the trio impart the richness, flavor and aroma of a barbecue sauce to the beans. In fact, equal parts of molasses, mustard and vinegar, blended and brushed on hamburgers, frankfurters or spareribs during grilling act as both flavoring agent and delicious barbecue glaze.

As a complementary note to any outdoor meal, serve a large and varied collection of crisp garden-fresh vegetables.

Old Fashioned Bean Bake

¼ cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
3 cans (1 pound each) baked beans in tomato sauce
2 medium onions, sliced
2 tomatoes, sliced

Combine unsulphured molasses and mustard; add vinegar; mix well. Turn beans into casserole or baking pan; stir in molasses mixture. Arrange onion and tomato slices on top of beans, or layer with beans. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 35 minutes.

YIELD: 8 servings.

Double Quick Toasting

The quickest way to prepare toast to put under fresh asparagus, steaks or big hamburgers, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, is to preheat the oven to 425 degrees and lay slices of bread on the oven racks. Both sides will toast simultaneously in less than five minutes.

BAKED FOR A BARBECUE — Baked beans are always satisfying fare whether eaten indoors or at an outdoor barbecue. For speed preparation, make use of canned baked beans in tomato sauce. For special flavor appeal, season them with fragrant unsulphured molasses.

Custard Sauce Tops Spice Cake Dessert

You'll delight one and all with a dessert of warm and fragrant spice cake topped with sliced bananas and a heavenly Honey Custard Sauce.

To make the sauce, first beat 2 eggs in the top of a double boiler. Add 1-3 cup honey and ¼ teaspoon salt and blend well, then add 1 tall can evaporated milk. Stir in 1 cup boiling water. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats a spoon, about 4 to 5 minutes.

Remove from heat and place top of double boiler in cold water. Stir frequently while custard is cooling. When cool, stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla and ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg. Makes about 3 cups sauce.

Caramel Sauce

Fine Food Found in Can of Salmon

Here is an example of a dish, delicious at any time, in which luscious, appetizingly tender flakes of salmon are blended and baked with rice, eggs and delicate spices. Easy to prepare, this salmon-egg casserole is inexpensively elegant and eminently satisfying as a main course for luncheon, dinner or supper.

Salmon Egg Casserole

¼ cup butter
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon basil
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups milk
2 cups cooked rice
A 1-pound can salmon, drained and flaked
6 hard-cooked eggs, quartered

In a saucepan melt butter. Add onion and celery and saute for 10 minutes. Stir in flour, basil, thyme, salt and pepper. Gradually stir in milk and cook over low heat, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened.

Arrange rice in bottom of a 2-quart greased baking dish. Top with the salmon and eggs. Pour sauce over salmon and eggs and bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 25 to 30 minutes. If desired, serve with sour cream. Serves 6.

Salk Sees Rein on Virus Sickness

Multidisease Vaccine?

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—Dr. Jonas Salk has predicted development of a single vaccine to protect man against all virus-caused diseases.

Salk, who developed the first effective polio vaccine, spoke yesterday at the 58th annual New York State health conference and later to reporters.

He said continuation of the current trend in research would lead to a multidisease vaccine and "ultimately to control of virus disease generally."

He also said specific forms of cancer may be brought under control through immunization of the population against other virus-caused diseases, such as polio and smallpox.

Secretary Stahr Hails Army's Safety Program

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Army Secretary Elvis Stahr Jr. says the Army's safety program has produced results nearly three times better than in civilian industry.

Stahr was to address the Puget Sound Industrial Safety Conference Wednesday night but arrived late. His speech was read by Lt. Gen. John L. Ryan Jr.

Stahr's speech said only one Army man in 44 was injured in the course of a year, compared with one in 16 in the nation's labor force.

Trading Active on Wall Street

Buying Jumps, Kills Bigger Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — A further stock market decline was resisted by increased buying early today as many stocks wiped out initial losses and started to rise. Trading was active and prices mixed.

The averages were still weighted to the downside by declines of some blue chips. Du Pont was down about 4 and Houston Light & Power more than 2 at the opening but Du Pont shaved its loss to a point or so.

After touching a new low for the year, International Business Machines rallied to show a net gain of about 5. Litton was ahead about 2, Xerox and Burroughs about a point each.

American Telephone opened unchanged at 102¾ on a big block of 10,000 shares, then showed a gain exceeding a point.

Polaroid, in a delayed opening of 10,500 shares, advanced ⅞ to 88¼ and stretched its gain to a couple of points.

The Dow Jones industrial average yesterday sank to a new 1962 closing low, bringing increased pessimism, but — as happens so often in the market — buyers rushed in for "bargains" when gloom was at its thickest.

Small gains were shown by most auto stocks. General Motors showed fractional loss. Steels were irregularly higher.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Anken Chemical was up about a point while fractional gains were made by Loral Electronics, Crane Carrier, Mead Johnson, and Occidental Petroleum.

O'Okiep Copper and Sherwin-Williams lost about a point each. Syntex, Creole Petroleum and Gulton Industries dropped fractions.

Bonds in Lazy Attitude

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices opened mixed today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted long issues off 2/32 to 4/32 and intermediates off 1/32 to 2/32. There was little activity. One dealer described the atmosphere as one of general letdown.

There were relatively few changes among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Changes amounting to a full point or more were rare except in the convertible section. Utilities showed an upward trend but rails and industrials were mixed.

Boston & Maine Railroad 6s fell 1 at 36½ and Columbia Gas 3¾s added 1 at 89½ at one time.
