

Meet Our New Interior Secretary

ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENT — President-Elect John F. Kennedy introduces Rep. Stewart Udall of Arizona to newsmen in New York after revealing the appointment of Udall as his secretary of the interior. This is the third cabinet position filled by Kennedy who says he expects to name the secretary of state soon.

Udall Named to Cabinet

NEW YORK (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy today selected Rep. Stewart Udall of Arizona to be his secretary of the interior—the third of the 10 cabinet posts to be filled for the new administration.

The Arizona house member will serve alongside two governors, Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Kennedy's choice for secretary of health, education and welfare, and Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, who will be the new commerce secretary.

While cabinet appointments are coming along slowly — Kennedy says he wants to make sure of getting the best possible men for the positions — he said Tuesday night he expects to announce soon his choice of secretary of state.

While the president-elect conferred over the breakfast coffee cups with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations, there was no indication whether the American political scene and the State Department post came into the talks.

The two conferred for an hour and a half. Neither commented at the conference's conclusion.

Kennedy said in a statement that the 40-year-old Udall will bring to the position "vigor and imagination," for the important task of preserving and developing "America's vast and abundant natural resources."

The Udall appointment was by no means a surprise. It had been a virtual certainty for days.

Kennedy also had a luncheon engagement with a British representative at the United Nations, David Ramsey Gore, a longtime friend.

During the afternoon he hoped to get in some Christmas shopping. With Udall by his side, Kennedy held a news conference at the Carlyle Hotel on the Upper East Side to confirm the appointment.

Lawmakers Meeting Today on Sales Tax

Both Parties Hope to Finish Job by Tonight, Williams to Sign

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators opened a special session at noon today to raise the state sales tax from three to four cents.

Republicans and Democrats alike voiced hope the job would be completed by tonight.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, House Democratic floor leader, and Allison Green, R-Kingston, his Republican counterpart, headed a bipartisan group that submitted the bill to add a penny to the sales levy.

Lawmakers, including nearly a score who will leave office at the end of the year, answered the summons of Gov. G. Mennen Williams who also will soon depart from the Capitol.

The governor, in a special "averting" message, called on legislators to "responsible public officials" to vote the increase.

Williams supported an income tax as the best solution of the state's financial problems, but said he would sign the sales tax increase measures without delay.

"Whatever may be our personal opinions, the increases have been approved and are sanctioned by the electorate," he said.

Williams reminded the legislators that the one percent increase will not replace a big general fund deficit carried over from last year.

It can, he said, "relieve all anxiety of immediate fiscal embarrassments and be the first step in the tax reform that many studies and many of you have advocated — a tax reform which the state of Michigan will look to you to accomplish shortly."

Gov.-elect John R. Swainson, said there was "virtually unanimous" support for a quick session that could be wrapped up in a matter of hours. As lieutenant governor, Swainson will preside over the Republican-controlled Senate for the last time.

The added penny on the sales tax would raise about $130 million a year in new revenue for the debt-plagued state treasury. The higher rate would start Jan. 1.

Freighter Still Aground

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The battered Liberian freighter Francisco Morazan spent her eighth day aground on a Lake Michigan reef today. Troublesome northwest winds of 25 knots prevented salvage operations.

Radar Errs, Says Attack Is on Way

OMAHA (AP) — The Strategic Air Command said today the moon-fused electronic device gadgetry into flashing a warning of a missile attack.

But a quick check proved the error and there was no alert of SAC's worldwide bomber and missile force, a spokesman said.

The previously unreported incident occurred Oct. 5. SAC said computers at the ballistics missile early warning system (BMEWS) station at Thule, Greenland, mistook the radar signals received for a missile approaching the United States from Russia.

The signal was flashed as a local error in SAC's underground control center. A quick check disclosed the error almost immediately — "in less than 60 seconds" — the SAC spokesman said.

Nobody touched the red telephone, the SAC war room's direct contact with its units around the world, the spokesman said.

Jobless Man Kills Woman

Royal Oak Resident, 23, Dies After Knife Attack in Detroit Office

DETROIT (AP) — Marilyn Donohue, 23, a stenographer from Royal Oak, was stabbed fatally by a man who robbed her in her Detroit place of employment today.

Miss Donohue died of wounds in her chest at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital a few hours after she told police she had been attacked by a Negro in her office.

The girl had been stabbed four times in the left chest and twice in the arm. She apparently had fought with her assailant.

On the way to the hospital, Miss Donohue, 807 N. Wilson, Royal Oak, told police the man was sitting in the office when she arrived for work.

She said the door was open and "when I walked in he leaped at me with a knife."

The man swore at her and said "I can find a job," Miss Donohue said.

Miss Donohue was employed by the Robert C. Engel Co., manufacturers agents, 1971 James Couzens Highway, Detroit.

CO-WORKER FINDS HER — Another employee, Dorothy Baragana, 39, of Detroit said she came to work to find Miss Donohue "sitting and staring at a wall and clutching her wounds and bleeding."

Tigers Get Bruton in Swap for Bolling

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Detroit Tigers today traded second baseman Frank Bolling and a minor league player to be named later to the Milwaukee Braves for outfielder Bill Bruton, second baseman Chuck Cottier, catcher Dick Brown and rookie pitcher Terry Fox.

The interchange deal was announced at the Major League meetings under way here.

Manager Bob Schefeling of the Tigers said Bruton will play centerfield and Al Kaline will move back to right field. Rocky Colavito will shift to left in the Tiger outfield.

The other player going to Milwaukee, according to Vice President Rick Ferrell of the Tigers, is "an acceptable minor league player" to be designated on or before March 1.

Bolling, 29, hit .254 for the Tigers last season. He has been with Detroit since 1954 and is considered one of the better defensive second basemen in the American League.

Bruton, 31, has been a regular center fielder for the Braves since 1952. A left-handed batter, he hit .286 last year with 27 doubles, 13 triples and 12 home runs. He drove in 54 runs and stole 21 bases.

Cottier, 24, played briefly with the Braves in 1959 and last season played in 55 games, hitting .227. He is considered a top defensive man.

Bruton was acquired by the Braves from the Chicago White Sox last week. A right-handed hitter who originally was owned by Cleveland, he batted .363 in 16 games with the White Sox. He spent most of the 1959 season with Miami of the International League.

Fox, 25-year-old right-handed relief pitcher, has been in the Milwaukee organization since 1954. He pitched in five games with the Braves at the end of last season. He spent 1959 and most of 1960 with Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League. He has no win-loss record with the Braves.

The deal was the second-major trade of the meetings. Saturday, the San Francisco Giants traded left-handed Johnny Antonelli and outfielder Willie Kirkland to the Cleveland Indians for outfielder-infielder Harvey Kuenn.

Bolling also is the second second baseman obtained in the last five days by the Braves, trying to plug the gap caused by the illness of Red Schoendienst. Saturday, Braves paid $40,000 to get Billy Martin from Cincinnati.

"Getting Bolling puts the wrapping on talks that started in the last week," a source said.

Morning westerly winds at 10 miles per hour will become northerly westerly late tonight.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 28 degrees. The mercury reading at 2 p.m. was 31.

Involves Alleged Misuse of Union Funds in Florida

Former Detroit Local President, Ex-Manager of Bank Also Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters Union was indicted by a federal grand jury at Orlando, Fla., today on mail fraud charges involving alleged misuse of union funds.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, who announced the indictment, said it also names Henry Lower, former president of a Detroit Teamsters local, and Robert E. McCarthy Jr., one-time branch manager of the Bank of the Commonwealth, Detroit.

Rogers said the indictment accuses the three of using more than a half million dollars of Teamsters funds in a land development project in Brevard County, Fla.

The 13-count indictment charges use of the mails to defraud on eight occasions, and use of interstate telephone or telegraph service for the same purpose on three other occasions.

The land development project was launched in late 1954 by a company known as Sun Valley, Inc., which maintained its principal offices in Detroit with Lower as president.

The indictment said Sun Valley's operating funds came from four Detroit Teamsters locals—Truck Drivers No. 299, Ford and Beverage Drivers No. 331, Automobile Drivers No. 278 and Teamsters Joint Council 42.

The grand jury charged that Hoffa, Lower and McCarthy conspired to defraud these four Teamsters units, and falsely represented that the Sun Valley company was sponsored by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, whereas it was owned, operated and controlled by Hoffa and Lower.

The indictment said Sun Valley in November 1954 bought an option to purchase 2,675 acres of land in Brevard County for $130,000, and that the defendants opened a checking account in the name of Sun Valley in the Florida National Bank at Orlando, and obtained bank loans by depositing $300,000 of union money in that bank.

CITES 2ND LOAN — The indictment said another loan for $200,000 was later obtained after a deposit in that amount had been made.

Hoffa and Lower were accused of using Sun Valley's funds for their personal use.

The grand jury said the land development was represented as an ideal location for retired Teamsters and that building lots were advertised as being "full of high dry and rolling land, whereas in fact, many of the lots offered and sold were so low and permeated with water as to make them unsuitable for building."

Here Are Helpful Hints for Christmas Shoppers

By JANET ODELL

Aunt Matilda's gift is giving us a little trouble this year; we're not ready to choose it yet. In the meantime, here are a few miscellaneous suggestions. Perhaps one is just the gift you're looking for.

A couple of banks are interesting. One is made of plastic and stands about two feet high; you have your choice of a grandfather's clock or a lamp post. They would take years to fill.

Parking Free for Shoppers

No Charge Saturday to Christmas in City Downtown Lots

There'll be free parking for Christmas shoppers in the downtown municipal lots for two weeks beginning Saturday, thanks to an informal agreement made last night between the City Commission and leaders of the Downtown Merchants Assn. (DMA).

Free parking will continue through Christmas Eve. Metered parking will be in effect, as usual, on the streets, however.

Estimated revenue of $4,500 for the period is to be deposited in the parking fund on a 50-50 basis by the city and the DMA, $4,500 apiece, the city's share out of unappropriated surpluses.

"Free parking will mean an added convenience to make downtown Pontiac an attractive center for Christmas shoppers," said Clifford Grogg, DMA president.

The DMA has provided free parking during brief sales periods in the past, but never for an extended period during the Christmas season.

This is also the first time the city has agreed to chip in to make up revenues for the fund that pays off the parking revenue bonds.

MEETING OF THE BORED

U.N. Working on Congo Today

West Must Fight Reds Who Want Recognition of Lumumba

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The western powers mobilized today to beat back a Soviet move to scrap the U. N. Congo operation and put imprisoned ex-prime minister Lumumba back in the saddle.

The Security Council was slated to hear Soviet demands that Congo authorities release Lumumba and disarm the troops of Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congo army chief.

The West headed off an attempt by the Soviet Union to bring Zairian council president for December, to call a snap meeting Tuesday night. The Western powers insisted on at least 24 hours notice to allow them time to prepare their case.

The Soviets gave a clear indication of the line they were taking in a statement Tuesday accusing Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld of playing a "diabolical role" of servility to the West in the Congo.

The statement blamed the Western Big Three and Belgium for the latest events in the strife-torn African state. The four main Soviet demands:

1. Free Lumumba at once along with other imprisoned members of his ousted regime.
2. Disarm Mobutu's forces.
3. Allow the Soviet Union to participate in finding out who is financing Mobutu's army.
4. Expel all Belgian nationals from the Congo.

The Soviets already have drawn up plans for financial liquidation of the entire Congo operation. This would mean disbanding the 20,000-man U. N. force sent to restore peace to the Congo.

The Soviets have refused to pay one cent of their share of the $66-million cost of the Congo operation for 1960 or the estimated $120 million for 1961.

Judge Recount More Intern Housing

Changes Slight OK'd for City Hospital

BRIEF NEW CLERK — Mrs. John H. Little, appointed Bloomfield Township clerk yesterday, discusses new duties with Township Treasurer Homer Case (left) and Supervisor Arno Hulet. Mrs. Little was named to the job after Robert H. Dudley, township clerk for 14 years, resigned to devote more time to private business. Mrs. Little, who has been employed by the township six years, lives at 3185 Franklin Road, Bloomfield Hills, with her husband and two daughters.

More intern housing for Pontiac General Hospital was approved last night after it was reported that more cuts may be sought in the nonresident surtax.

City commissioners authorized purchase of a four-unit flat at 647 Seminole Ave., immediately south of the hospital, for $29,500.

The money is to come out of the $187,000 being set aside by the hospital this year for depreciation. said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

Because the city is ultimately responsible for capital improvements at the hospital, the expenditure is eventually to be deducted from the debt hospital owes to completion of the east wing, said City Manager Walter K. Wilman.

Adams filed his petition to protect himself should Lodge's recount prove to be in error.

The clerk said he expected Adams to withdraw his recount petition of 53 precincts if the recount of Lodge's 90 precincts continues to show no major changes.

Fiscal 1960 Surplus More Than Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States ended the 1960 fiscal year with a bigger budget surplus than it had expected.

The Treasury Department announced Tuesday that the surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30 had reached $122,000,000, or $156 million more than the department had anticipated in its preliminary calculation.

Final figures put revenues for the year at $78,452,872.73 and expenditures at $77,233,885,451.09.

Snow and Sleet Sweep Across Central Plains

The Associated Press reports heavy snow and sleet sweeping across the central and western states today as cold weather continued in most of the central and western states.

More snow fell in the southern Plains region, the southern Rockies and the southwestern Plains, with falls ranging from 4 to 6 inches in some areas. The snow changed to sleet in the warmer southern Plains and to freezing rain in a narrow belt from the lower Pecos Valley to western Oklahoma.

More snow was reported in northern North Dakota and extreme northern Minnesota, with flurries along the southern shore of Lake Superior and the eastern shore of Lake Michigan.

Clarkston Man's Car Third One Struck

Yesterday's Pontiac Press in an auto accident story mistakenly stated that a car driven by William Carney, 26, of 6140 Eastview St., Clarkston, was the first one struck in a series of related crashes on a downtown street the evening before.

Actually the Carney car was the third and final car struck when a yellow allegedly left a trail of damaged autos behind.

The only one apparently injured in the three accidents, Carney was treated and released from the hospital afterward. However, he was admitted to the hospital Tuesday, complaining of headaches.

Swainson Behind Con-Con Plan

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Elmer B. Swainson says he will recommend voter approval of a constitutional convention.

He said he will speak out for the proposal that will go before Michigan voters at the 1961 spring election in April.

"The people have spoken; I am going to support the will of the people," he told newsmen.

The governor-elect fought against a constitutional convention proposal approved by voters Nov. 8, revised the system for electing delegates, easing the voting requirement for calling a convention and set the stage for a state-wide vote on the question.

Throughout his campaign, Swainson stressed that he supported constitutional reform, but through amendment rather than wholesale revision.

The proposal got another boost last weekend when the Michigan AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) reversed itself and announced support.

Following the election, Swainson indicated he would not oppose the April ballot proposal. Tuesday's statement that he would actively support it put him on the side of Gov. Williams and other Democratic leaders who endorsed a constitutional convention.

Last week, Swainson appointed Dr. James W. Miller, soon to become president of Western Michigan University, to head a bipartisan commission that will plan for a convention in the event it wins voter approval.

The frauds charged are punishable by imprisonment up to five years and a fine of up to $1,000 or both on each count.

The Justice Department said shortly after the indictment was announced that Lower had been taken into custody at Detroit.

It said the others at that time were still at liberty.

13-MONTH INVESTIGATION

The Justice Department said the Orlando indictment was the result of more than 13 months of investigation by postal inspectors, internal revenue agents, the FBI and the staff of department attorneys.

Hoffa, now 47, and the provincial president of the international union since 1957, has repeatedly clashed with federal authorities.

Westerlies Let Winter Slip Through

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The high westerlies have changed course again, and instead of a generally mild winter it looks as though we're in for a generally nasty one.

The high westerlies have a lot to do with what kind of weather we have. They are great air currents which sweep across the Northern Hemisphere from west to east.

During the first half of November, the westerlies off the United States coast had veered south, allowing the polar regions, fending off invasions of cold air from the polar regions.

If they had stayed on that track, the continental United States would have enjoyed a generally mild winter — "generally" being a term meaning "occasionally mean."

But they didn't. Jerome N. Munn, chief of the Weather Bureau's extended forecasts section, said the westerlies took to meandering about 10 days ago in great south-south loops.

As a result, cold air from Alaska and Canada has broken through to trigger an early onset of winter. This is in contrast to last winter when the bad weather held off generally until the mid-February to mid-March period.

Dixie Waring to Be Married

Daughter of Famous Musician Takes Out License in Pontiac

Dixie Lyn Waring, 26-year-old daughter of orchestra leader Fred Waring, and her father's stage manager, Albert Wilson, 39, took out a marriage license at the Oakland County Courthouse shortly before noon today.

The marriage was to be performed this afternoon in the home of Fred Waring in the Bloomfield Hills area, possibly either the Ernest Tucker or George Webb, but Wilson wasn't sure where.

The arrangements are all being handled by her friends, said Wilson, and I am not familiar with the details. He was to meet the Waring family at the home before the ceremony.

This will be Wilson's fourth marriage and the first for Miss Waring.

They are acquainted with her father and his orchestra, "The Pennsylvanians," appearing tonight at the Masonic Temple in Detroit.

Dixie Lyn Waring is the featured soloist in the orchestra.

They arrived in the area this morning from Milwaukee where the troupe was appearing last night, and are scheduled to leave tomorrow morning for Warren, Ohio, next stop on the tour.

"We've been trying to get married for some time," said Wilson, "but one-night stands have prevented us from having time to get a license and married at any one place."

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore waived the 3-day waiting period here today.

Wilson said the honeymoon would have to wait until they finish their tour Dec. 15. "I don't know where we will be going then, we haven't made any plans yet," he said.

Waring gave Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., as her home address. Wilson listed his as Deer Head Inn, Delaware Water Gap, Pa., on the marriage license application.

Got a Headache? Take Aspirin . . . Made in Michigan

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan is the automotive capital of the world. Everyone knows that.

But how many know that the state is also the aspirin capital?

This was one of several startling facts revealed by the Michigan Week Products Committee which is busy laying out publicity for Michigan Week, May 21-27, 1961.

Another shocking revelation from the state product promoters is that the brand used in Boston for Boston-based beans wasn't really from Boston at all.

That's right. They're from Michigan.

"We want to make people aware what contributions our products make to the state's economy," said Wesley E. Baker, head of the products committee.

Baker, executive assistant for the S. S. Kresge Co. of Detroit, met with his committee here Tuesday.

Among promotion plans for Michigan products are extensive advertising displays in schools and menus for meals made from Michigan products, all to be featured during the week.

White Enrollment Bigger Again

School Pickets Clam Up

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—White mothers, their blockade of an integrated school smashed by police, stood by silently when carloads of white children arrived for classes.

After more than two weeks of screams, curses, and stonings, the silence around William Frantz Elementary school today was startling.

At least six cars brought white children to the school to attend classes with Ruby Nell Bridges, the lone Negro girl in the school.

Newsmen counted at least 20 children going in, but it was believed more had entered through side doors.

Police kept up their barrages a block away from the school. About 20 white women stood on a lawn across the street from the school, but made no noise when the children arrived.

Police suggested the cameramen leave and he did.

Patrolmen kept watch through the trees of the homes of Gabrielle, who was harassed out of his job as a meter reader, and the Rev. Andrew Foreman, a Methodist minister, after the homes were damaged in reprisal for their daughters' attendance at William Frantz.

Not one white student showed up at McDonogh 19, the other integrated school, where three Negro girls are attending.

Caroleers Discover Death of Retired Schoolteacher

DENISON, Tex. (AP)—A group of caroleers gathered around the front steps of the home of Gail P. Brouse, 72, a retired school teacher, and sang several Christmas songs Tuesday night.

Although the lights were on, Brouse failed to come to the door. They knocked but received no answer. Inside they found him slumped in his favorite chair.

They called police, who said the former teacher had died several hours earlier, apparently from natural causes.

Area Residents on Plan Board

3rd Named to Accident Body; Among 19 Listed by Gov. Williams

Two Oakland County residents were named today by Gov. William G. Milliken to the Detroit Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

Another county resident was reappointed to the State Accident Fund Advisory Board.

They are among 19 appointments announced today by the governor to serve on interior boards and commissions.

Appointment to the planning commission were Fred Elias of 2041 Tweed Road, Birmingham, and William P. Hull of 2012 Greenfield Road, Southfield.

Grant L. Siver of Oak Park was reappointed to the advisory board.

Elias' term expires June 26, 1961, and Hull's, June 26, 1961. Siver's term expires Oct. 16, 1961.

Other appointments made were:

State Appellate Commission—James Friday, Clinton, for a term expiring April 1, 1961, to succeed Oliver C. Lawrence, Benton Harbor, resigned.

Detroit Metropolitan Planning Commission—Frank Ventura, Warren, for a term expiring June 26, 1961, succeeding C. P. McGrath.

Oakland, Detroit Settle Welfare Charge Dispute

Detroit and Oakland County welfare officials appeared to have ironed out their differences over an accusation by the city that welfare clients were being sent there to lessen the load being borne by Detroit.

They agreed it was a difference of policy between the two departments.

Detroit officials apparently have backed down from a previous threatened lawsuit against Oakland County after a 1½-hour clarification conference this morning in the social welfare building.

"It's closed as far as I'm concerned," said Daniel J. Ryan, general superintendent of the Detroit department, at the conclusion of the meeting.

At the outset of the meeting, however, Ryan continued his charge that Oakland had deliberately withheld rent—a commodity as precious as bread and butter—to prompt them into Detroit.

He brought along Benjamin F. Cornelius, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, with him for affidavits from two former Oakland welfare recipients stating their case workers here had encouraged the move to Detroit.

Both case workers, Mrs. Edna Cooper and Mrs. Mae Larson, were present to deny the charges. They said they signed counter affidavits.

During the course of the conference, supposedly called to see if there had been any violation of a law which prohibits any inducement of any kind to relocate a recipient from one area to another, each side pleaded innocent to any wrongdoing.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor asked Detroit officials whether in the future any similar disagreements couldn't be settled with a phone call between the two departments.

Ryan nodded agreement.

Insurance Goes Up on Compensation

LANSING (UPI)—An average 7 percent rate increase for workmen's compensation insurance has been approved by the State Insurance Department, it was announced today.

Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford said the rate change was filed by the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Rating Bureau on behalf of companies writing workman's compensation insurance in the state.

The amount of change will vary for individual classes of employers, Blackford said, depending on the loss experience of each class.

The bureau cited adverse experience and an amendment to the second injury fund law as reasons for the increase.

In a sharp but brief exchange with Ryan, Blackford said, director of the Oakland department reminded Ryan that Detroit had sent "most" of the families to the low-cost housing project, from which two cases in question came, in Royal Oak Township in the first place.

The policy difference, officials agreed, was over one department paying back rent and the other not doing so. Ryan says Detroit does to a point. But said the county's policy is not to in most cases.

"FORCED PEOPLE OUT"

Instead, Ryan said, Ford's department was "frankly forcing people out of the community" by paying the rent, and turning

The Day in Birmingham

Flemish Art Exhibition Inspires Festival Program

BIRMINGHAM — A festival program inspired by the exhibition of Flemish art at the Detroit Institute of Arts will be presented Dec. 14 at the Community House by the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women.

According to cochairmen Mrs. David H. Goodfriend and Mrs. G. Knight Houghton, considerable talent has been discovered among the AAUW members. They will present the Christmas program at their monthly luncheon.

"Virgin and Child in an Aspe" by a master of Flemish will be the inspiration for a tableaux presented by Mrs. M. A. Rosenfield and Mrs. L. E. Quinn. Mrs. William M. Milligan will give a reading.

Selections by Robert Frost, Ben Johnson, Vivian Campbell and Louis MacNeice will be presented by the choral reading group under the direction of Mrs. Frederick W. Pines.

Mrs. Joseph A. McCann will lead a choir singing three Flemish carols.

The AAUW members have visited the multimillion-dollar exhibit room inspired by the exhibition of Flemish art at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Another group will take a conducted tour of the exhibit Dec. 15.

The Studio Theater Guild of Birmingham, a recently organized nonprofit company, will present its first production Dec. 14 and 15 at the Community House.

The play will be the comedy "Bell, Boon and Candle," and will begin at 8:30 p.m. both days.

The theater company and school result from a year's planning by Melvin L. Whitte, producer and director of the group.

He said he hopes the students who participate in the Studio Theater Guild Players will form a nucleus of what may become one of the drama or so resident stock companies operating during the winter throughout the county.

Whitte also will take part in the first production.

Included in the cast are Marti Allgood of Birmingham, David Boals of Royal Oak, Margaret Wood of Birmingham and Jerald Miller of St. Clair Shores.

Spray Perfume in Paris Subways to No Avail

PARIS (AP)—Despite massive doses of perfume, most Paris subway stations still smell like a football team's locker room at halftime.

City officials, fearing shoppers were using other transportation because of the odor, tried waiving perfume through miles of underground tubes.

That didn't help, so this week four subway lines are spraying the odor of violets along the tracks while another is trying to make passengers believe they are sniffing the refreshing odor of a pine forest.

S. Africa Europeans to Carry ID Cards

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI)—All European South Africans will have to carry identity cards beginning next year or they will lose their voting rights.

Presently, only the 30 million Africans must carry passes and they do not have the right to vote. The Africans must show their passes to police upon demand.

and if it is not on their person, they are liable to fine or imprisonment.

European South Africans will not be penalized in that matter if they fail to carry their passes.

Checking of Africans for passes led to the Sharpeville riots last March in which more than 70 of them were killed.

Dona Fabiola in Brussels to Marry King

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon, daughter of a Spanish nobleman, arrived by plane Tuesday from Madrid for her wedding Dec. 15 to King Baudouin.

The king and a military guard welcomed her. Dona Fabiola wore a mink coat and turban. In her luggage was a crown of gold, studded with em-eralds, diamonds and pearls. The crown was presented to her Monday night by Carmen Polo de Franco, wife of Generalissimo Franco.

Her mother, the Marchioness de Casa Riera, accompanied her. All other members of her family except her brother, Jaime, were at the airport to see her leave.

The brother was prevented from leaving Saturday for Paris along with it. Police inspectors said they had orders to prevent his departure, but they did not know the reason.

Police Problem Solved Without Major Fracas

A recent story in the news columns merits more consideration than the passing glance that serves the informational need. A problem in the Pontiac Police Department has been raised, discussed, and resolved, without fireworks, and with a definite benefit to the Pontiac residents whose taxes finance the department.

Acting Police Chief Joseph Koren felt that he could improve the patrol system by changing the plan of permanent shifts in the police department. Under the permanent shift situation, police officers did not spend one month on days, one on afternoons, and one on nights, but worked one shift regularly.

The day shift was decided by seniority, and Chief KOREN felt this led to an imbalance of senior officers on days, and a consequent lack of experienced personnel on the afternoon and midnight shifts. "An efficient and effective method of determining the placement of personnel as to platoons must of necessity be made with consideration given to merit and capabilities as well as seniority," Chief KOREN said.

He instituted a ballot among the department's officers to show their feelings on the matter, as a guide to his decision. This is an important point, and represents an apt decision on the part of Chief KOREN. Any employee likes to know that his boss is interested in his opinions on changes in the job.

Many officers did not want to change rotation of shifts, and an alternative was wisely provided. It was that shifts would not be rotated, but assignment to the day shift would not be based on seniority alone.

When the straw vote was completed, it showed that those voting (officers working on the three shifts, not office workers who favor the alternative to that of regularly rotating shifts).

The chief has improved the service to the community, and the officers feel better about the change because they were consulted. This is the way these things should be handled, with a minimum of fuss and a maximum of efficiency and good will.

Cuban Refugee Activity a Problem for America

The United States has officially labeled CASTRO's Cuban government Communist controlled and released $1 million to aid the thousands of Cuban refugees in Florida. The International Rescue Committee has been assisting Miami which so far has borne the brunt of caring for these people. Federal help certainly was called for.

Miami's Chief of Police Walter Healy estimates the number at 70,000, of whom 30,000 are in real need. Many are technical and professional men. Hundreds have no homes and sleep in parks and doorways and even more are living under overcrowded conditions.

Dade County schools are taking care of some 2,100 Cuban children with school officials providing lunch money in many cases. The number of these children increases daily.

To complicate matters there are numerous groups plotting another revolution for Cuba and preparing for the day when they can help to overthrow CASTRO. The Democratic Revolution Front operates from its Miami headquarters recruiting soldiers to serve in the hoped for revolution.

American officials are aware of all this activity and of the fact that arms are being smuggled into Cuba from Miami.

The danger in this revolutionary activity is that the stage is being set for an international incident which might embarrass this country and seemingly confirm Castro's emotional warnings of U.S. aggression. Already the Administration's extension of aid to the refugees was branded by Castro as a hostile act.

MORE bad news for the outrageous-imposed-upon American taxpayer: The Communist bloc of nations refuse to pay their share of the cost of the U.N. operations in the Congo.

The Man About Town

Big Canal Center Pontiac Was Scheduled to Become One 120 Years Ago

Calories: What some folks don't figure on—and have the figures to prove it.

Halted by the coming of the railroads, more canal excavating had been done in the Pontiac area than anywhere else in Michigan in an elaborate statewide program that was officially set up in 1837. Over 20 miles of a canal had been dug and was in use. In the program that was to make Pontiac a big water transportation center. None of the other projects in the state were ever excavated for a few miles.

Our completed canal used the waters of the Clinton River, starting near Mt. Clemens, and the big ditch was finished to a point near Rochester. Nearly a century and a quarter later it can be clearly followed through most of that course, especially east of Utica, where it left a big bend in the river and cut across country for a few miles.

It was to largely follow the river's course to Pontiac, where it would go southwest, using the waters of a chain of lakes, and then the Huron River and other lakes and streams, to a point on Lake Michigan opposite Chicago.

Financial difficulties pestered the canal project when the railroad reached Pontiac in 1844, and removed the needs for water transportation. But in the canal project, Pontiac first figured in the great program of transportation — which in the manufacture of horse-drawn vehicles and those driven by gasoline, has been its mainstay ever since.

Also working on the first automobiles made in Pontiac was Raymond W. Allen of 4832 Hatchery Road. He was a tester on the Welsh car early in the century.

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Should Brief Kennedy Often

WASHINGTON—What knowledge could President Eisenhower possibly impart in three and a half hours to President-Elect Kennedy to enable him to take over the reins of government with the least impairment of the public interest?

Under the Constitution, one man is president a few minutes before noon on Jan. 20, and another is president a few minutes later.

There are many decisions of a fateful nature which the new president will have to make, and it would be fine if he were not compelled to act before he had time to familiarize himself with all the nuances of national and international policy.

Ten presidents have come and gone in the last half century in this correspondence has watched the passing scene. Some have been inadequately prepared.

Others have been helped considerably by their predecessors. When there is a change of party—and this has occurred five times since the turn of the century—the transition is more difficult and likely to be more damaging than when the same party continues in power.

This time — January 1961 — the nation is in the midst of the most critical situation internationally that it has ever faced. Its safety is in danger. In 1913 and 1921 and 1933 and 1953, when parties changed in the White House, there was no direct threat to national security.

Though it is called a "cold war," the military forces of this country and its allies throughout the world are today on a 24-hour alert. Thus the role of the president becomes one of military decision as the commander-in-chief of all our armed forces.

Flow of information To aid the president, there is a constant flow of confidential information gathered by the Central Intelligence Agency and the FBI. This has been conveyed almost daily to President Eisenhower for nearly eight years.

From all this, he has derived certain impressions and formulated certain conclusions. How much of this now can be transmitted by a president to the president-elect in three and a half hours of conversation?

Most men like to form their own conclusions only after they have studied all the facts. It will take not weeks but months for the new president to gather the facts and learn the first hand the intricacies of international policy.

The reason why certain doctors want to keep what goes on in the delivery room a secret is not at all what you poor uninitiated customers are led to believe. A husband in the delivery room is no more likely to contaminate the atmosphere or to infect anybody than is a doctor or a nurse.

In the hospital they put a plaster what God hath joined together because it is much easier for the doctor to shift responsibility or to leave the patient in the hands of nurses or obstetric attendants if the husband is isolated or confined in the monkey cage with other goats.

Dr. Crane

"I've had a baby. Different doctors each time. Both doctors said my husband could remain with me if the hospital would allow it. Both times we found the hospital would not allow it."

"Our 5-year-old son had to have something done to his ear. The doctor took him to the hospital and my husband went along. At the door the nurse took the boy and told my husband he'd have to sit in the waiting-room."

DR. BRADY So when they came at the boy with the gas mask . . . "If you were five and they took you into such a frightful place, with a lot of strangers staring at you . . . wouldn't you yell?" Mrs. T.G.

I believe I would yell my head off under such cruel circumstances. But you can't put all the blame on the hospital. Ma'am.

The doctors are to blame for it. They, not the hospital, make the rules and modify duck responsibility by saying certain things your husband can share the miracle of childbirth with you if the hospital will allow it. Tell me, Ma'am, how can you put your faith in a doctor who deceives you like that?

If any hospital superintendent, physician, nurse or other "authority" questions the sanitary or aseptic propriety of an expectant father in the delivery room, I'll describe a few observations I have made in respect to that question.

It has been a long while since I have been childbed. I, a woman about indolence, and I hope it won't happen again, for my stomach is pretty well settled now.

The reason why certain doctors want to keep what goes on in the delivery room a secret is not at all what you poor uninitiated customers are led to believe. A husband in the delivery room is no more likely to contaminate the atmosphere or to infect anybody than is a doctor or a nurse.

In the hospital they put a plaster what God hath joined together because it is much easier for the doctor to shift responsibility or to leave the patient in the hands of nurses or obstetric attendants if the husband is isolated or confined in the monkey cage with other goats.

"Anybody can give birth to a child, but as with babies it's something that they grow up right that's difficult."

He will depend, of course, on the new secretary of state or the coming secretary of the treasury to do much of the spadework but in the final analysis, no president under our present system, can in a matter of weeks learn enough to deal wisely with the controversial questions that come before him.

A new president finds himself confronted by administrative and executive tasks as well as by policy-making. Kennedy has never had any experience as the top executive of a large corporation.

Most of our presidents have not had that kind of experience, though, in the case of governors elected to the office of chief executive, it may be said that they have become familiar with executive operations on a smaller but nevertheless analogous basis.

Maybe this is the reason so few men from Congress have ever been elected to the presidency.

RATES ADVICE HIGHLY Whatever else may be said about military commands and the tendency to use the staff system, the truth is that anyone who has had the highest military post in the biggest war of all history has been fully aware of the importance of getting the right kind of advice and making the right decisions.

For in war there is usually no second chance in which to rectify errors or correct mistakes of judgment.

The president-elect will be assuming office with many important policies hanging in the balance. That's why the readiness of President Eisenhower to transmit not only information but advice is an indication of his high-mindedness and devotion to the public interest.

Indeed, there should be many such conferences as occurred on Tuesday between the incoming and outgoing president.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Beauty Alone Won't Attain Dates

"Everybody has a secret tattoo branded across his breast at birth, and it says: 'I want to feel important.'"

"You have the tattoo as proof by your wish to have a boy show you off at the dance."

"But what about the boy's tattoo? Do you ever try to inflate his ego with false praise and a cheery smile and laughter when he takes a joke?"

Then I explained to her that on a date the girl wants to feel important but the boy likewise wishes to feel important, so a dilemma occurs.

"How can a coed feel important 'ant if she spends most of her time puffing up the boy's ego?" Vivian protested.

It's easy, she can simply look ahead to the fact she will then get a second date.

This may be a slightly delayed proof of her charm but I enable her to prove her feathers before her secretaries become.

Every woman becomes charming to a man if she uses his hair instead of her own.

But many college coeds try to make themselves look important; subsequently relying on the old adage that a boy will like to include important people among his friends.

"And it is generally true that we like to have friends who are VIP's."

But there is an even stranger rule of popularity that says a boy is more interested in himself than in even the most important companions.

Well, Vivian was a smart coed, so she got the point and shifted the focus of her attention to that tattoo on the boy's chest.

It said: "I paid dividends for the man to whom I introduced her."

Voice of the People:

Writes State Representative Concerning Deer Scarcity

An open letter to Arthur J. Law, Representative, 18th Congressional District: There has been a slaughter of deer in the last eight years. For the past twelve years, I have hunted the same area and this past season I saw only two. The Conservation Department blames the hunters and the weather.

I think if you have a doe season every five to seven years, this would be enough. Every hunter is of the opinion that the doe and fawn season should be discontinued for at least ten years.

I am planning to retire in Roscommon County. I am up there every two weeks and go for a ride every time. In the past three years deer have become noticeably scarcer and this year they seem to be almost gone.

Check the man at the head of the Conservation Department.

Favor Dr. Brady's Ideas on Childbirth

I read The Pontiac Press and enjoy it, even Dr. Brady, although I don't always agree with him. I cannot agree with the disturbed registered nurse.

When I read in the paper of the young man who chained himself to his wife during childbirth, I was overjoyed.

I think home is the best place to have a child if you do not have difficulty with childbirth, but a hospital is the safest.

Mother of Five

Dr. Brady follows the common sense approach God created us with a wonderful mechanism and intended good health. Dr. Brady only tries to point out that every part of our body was made with a purpose. It is too bad that his generation of good old-fashioned doctors is fading. We need more who care what happens to us personally, instead of so many who are ready to line their own pockets or shift responsibility to a hospital.

Young people should be encouraged to share the miracle of birth together, as he suggests, and if hospitals refuse to co-operate, it isn't Dr. Brady who should be ridiculed.

Thanks to The Press for letting us express our views.

Just Another Patient

Whenever Dr. Brady takes off on these pompous modern day birth deliveries I shout "hurrah." There is great satisfaction in perpetuating this inhuman aura of fear and apprehension in the expectant mother, rather than a straightforward, intelligent discussion of the processes of childbirth.

The sad truth is that the majority of our good doctors find it troublesome and inconvenient to deliver children at home. For them to instruct each of their obstetric cases in the fundamentals of aseptic free delivery would be a time consuming process. Saddest still is the undeniable fact that they are quite aware that delivering a child is so simple, a woman could deliver her own if she need be.

Her awareness of this fact would most certainly make for a decided difference in doctors' fees, which in recent years has soared out of all proportion to the actual service performed. Consequently, they are extremely reluctant to impart even the most elemental facts regarding childbirth.

Hoffa Out to End Kennedy Feud?

Teamster Boss Makes Bid to Ease Relations
With Editorial

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa has made a bid to improve his relations with President-Elect John F. Kennedy. The two have been feuding ever since the Senate rackets inquiry into the Teamsters.

Hoffa's conciliatory mood apparently did not extend, however, to Kennedy's younger brother Robert, who served as general counsel to the rackets group. A Hoffa aide said Robert was unfit for attorney general, a post for which he has been mentioned in speculation.

The Teamster chieftain, who opposed the Democratic nominee in the recent campaign, made his peace overture in an editorial in the December issue of the union's monthly magazine.

"In the aftermath of last month's national election," he wrote, "all Americans—those who voted for Kennedy and those who did not—will close ranks and work side by side for the welfare of our country and a better world for all."

"In all democratic institutions there is room for healthy dissent. Yet, when the vote has been taken and the majority will expressed, all members unite for the welfare of the group."

A Teamster official said this meant that Hoffa, who was the prime target of the rackets inquiry, was adopting a "live-and-let-live" attitude.

Another union official, Hoffa aide Harold Gibbons, told a news conference the Teamsters would give the president-elect "whatever support is available to us" in matters on which Kennedy and the union agree.

'Strike' Action May Come in SpringHoldback on Farm Goods Being Considered by NFO

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—The president of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) has told members to be ready for an "all-out holding action" of commodities from markets as early as next spring.

Speaking to 2,000 NFO delegates from 12 midwestern states, Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., said the holding action would "push the NFO collective bargaining program forward at a greatly accelerated pace."

At an August NFO meeting here Staley set July 1, 1960, as the deadline for the boycott, but he said discussions and caucuses meetings here may prompt the board of directors to push that date forward into early spring.

He called on delegates for "wholehearted" support of the program and said "The farmer has waited for someone else to do the job for him, but it's now time for the farmer to do it himself." Staley urged delegates to "divert business from those processors who won't contract with us here last August. He said the fact that 12 Midwestern 'breadbasket' states were represented at the meeting pointed

"There is no one in or out of up the growing numbers of 'farm-agriculture who does not recognize that organized agriculture can have the more bargaining power than industry and labor combined," he said.

"We should," Staley said, "continue to price products at a cost of production plus a reasonable profit—that has to be our goal."

"This is not an unreasonable goal," Staley said, noting that Midwestern farmers ask $6.45 per hundredweight in milk. "If they held for this price," he said, "the farmer is asking only 13 cents a quart."

Staley declined to reveal the numerical strength of the organization, but said there has been a slight but steady increase in NFO membership since the meeting held here last August.

He said the fact that 12 Midwestern "breadbasket" states were represented at the meeting pointed up the growing numbers of "farm-agriculture who does not recognize that organized agriculture can have the

Lakes Water Level Study Being Pushed

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Senators from the Great Lakes states are being urged to secure federal funds to enable the U.S. Corps of Engineers to complete its study of lakes water levels.

The Great Lakes Commission urged the senators jointly to request the President to include $145,000 in the 1962 budget to complete the study. The budget would be submitted to Congress next January.

John W. Van Ness, commission chairman, said "The importance of the study is indicated by its objective — to determine the feasibility of a plan for regulating the fluctuating levels of the Great Lakes in a manner that would best serve the interests of all water users, including the reduction of damage to shore properties, and the use of these waters for navigation and hydroelectric power development."

"If found feasible, regulation of lake levels additionally may offer the key to the solution of the long controversy in the diversion problem."

The water levels study was authorized by Congress in 1952.

Van Ness said that "after receiving about $600,000 in the first few years, work on the project in recent years has been prevented by lack of funds."

The commission is a joint agency of Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

GOING SOUTH—This is the snowy owl, Arctic predator once more believed headed south in search of food. The species has been seen recently around Long Island. They way penetrate to the Carolinas, or even Florida. The owls, about two feet long from beak to tail tip, move south periodically as their supply of food diminishes. Their exodus seems to coincide with the scarcity cycle of the lemming, rodent of the Far North that achieves enormous numbers, then in four years nearly vanishes.

Expect 7 Airlines to Switch to Metro

DETROIT (AP)—Seven major airlines were expected to agree later this month to transfer their operations from Willow Run Airport to Detroit Metropolitan Airport, Wayne County highway engineer Joseph W. Gross said.

"All details of a $24.25 million construction program to give them facilities at Detroit Metro have been worked out at informal meetings," Gross said. He handles airport negotiations for the county.

Gross said the facilities include an addition to the present terminal, a new passenger terminal building and four hangars. They will be finished by 1963 when the airlines make the move, he said.

Capital Airlines Vice President Robert J. Wilson, head of the airlines' negotiating committee, said the final lease is being drafted.

The airlines are Capital, Eastern, TWA, North Central, Lake Central, Mohawk and United. They now fly out of Willow Run which is operated by the University of Michigan. The university said it would continue to run the field.

Metro airport is about 15 miles closer to Detroit than Willow Run.

Kennedys Look for Retreat Spot

May Take Estate Forty Miles From Washington in Virginia

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy and his wife are looking for a house in Virginia as a weekend retreat from the White House next year. "I think it's good for young children to get out of the governmental atmosphere," Kennedy said Monday, explaining the reason for the house hunt.

The Kennedys have a 3-year-old daughter and a son who will be two weeks old on Friday. The president-elect said no papers had been signed. He did not mention the name of any house under consideration, but said he planned to lease one for only a year.

The Washington Star reported that rumors indicated Kennedy would lease Glenora, the big hunt country estate of Mrs. Raymond Turtletree near Middleburg, Va., 40 miles west of Washington.

The estate is in the area of the Orange Court Hunt, Mrs. Kennedy is an honorary member of the hunt.

$95-Million Estate Was Left in Tin Box

NEW YORK (UPI)—The largest estate ever left by a woman was the $95 million by Mrs. Hetty Green Wilks, 80, the daughter of the woman financier Hetty Green, in March 1952. Her will was found in a tin box with four pieces of soap.

Mac Disperses Merger Talk

A Misunderstanding, He Tells House of Commons—'Idea Ridiculous'

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan pictured himself Tuesday as the victim of a misunderstanding and said he opposes merging of Britain with the United States.

In a biting exchange in the House of Commons, Macmillan said such a "concept would mean leaving out not only the commonwealth but Europe as well."

Macmillan found himself in hot water on this subject following an off-the-record discussion he had with a selected group of American correspondents a couple of weeks ago.

According to some of the published accounts stemming from that meeting, Macmillan made the proposal that eventually Britain and the United States might become one big transatlantic country.

These accounts touched off protests in both the opposition Labor party and Macmillan's own Conservative party.

Under a hammering in the House Macmillan said he had been misunderstood, that he preferred that public reference should not be made to private discussions and that in any event it was ridiculous to think he had suggested a merger.

He cleared the Americans involved, however, saying: "In case there is any misunderstanding, I do not impugn anybody."

Asks Discrimination Verdict on Cemetery

BOSTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr. has asked the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination to determine whether Hillcrest Park Cemetery of Springfield violated the state's discrimination law.

The Rev. Ralph Stutzman of Springfield Unitarian Universalist church told his congregation Sunday the Korean bride of an American soldier was refused burial at the cemetery "because of the color of her skin."

The clergyman said he was told of the incident by the president of the cemetery board.

BUSINESS LAW

Massachusetts' public accommodations law forbids discrimination because of race, color or creed by persons doing business with the public.

J. Loring Brooks, president of the cemetery association, said Hillcrest was organized as a private cemetery for the Caucasian (white) race. He said deeds for lots carry this limitation, and court decisions indicate the association and lot owners cannot change or ignore it. Brooks asserted the limitation is a legal obligation the association has inherited "regardless of the personal feelings of the trustees."

The sculptor of the recumbent marble statues of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella in the Cathedral of Granada in Spain had a subtle way of showing that the queen was the more intelligent. There is a deeper depression on the pillow on which her head rests, indicating a greater brain.

QUEEN'S PERSONAL FLAG—This is an artist's drawing of the flag which Britain's Queen Elizabeth II has adopted as her new personal standard. It consists of the queen's initial, "E," topped by a royal crown within a chaplet of roses in gold on a blue field. The flag is edged in gold. The flag, which is the queen's own idea, will be seen for the first time during her tour of India and Pakistan early in 1961.

United Fruit Workers Win Big Pay Increase

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—The United Fruit Co. has settled a strike on its Puerto Armales plantation by agreeing to pay employees about twice as much as any other farm workers in Panama.

The prolonged strike kept shipping schedules back by about 500,000 stems and cost 6,000 strikers an estimated $500,000 in wages, but they won a minimum wage increase of nearly 50 per cent—from 25 to 36 cents an hour.

Terms of the settlement provide that the new contract, not yet worked out in detail, must be approved by the government.

President to Rent Private Office in Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI)—President Eisenhower plans to work from an office on the campus of Gettysburg College after he leaves the White House on Jan. 20.

Informed sources said that Eisenhower has decided to rent space in the unoccupied home assigned to college President Willard S. Paul to serve as his headquarters. Paul is living elsewhere in Gettysburg.

Under the presidential pension law, the Chief Executive is entitled to $50,000 a year in federal funds to pay office salaries and rent.

The President's office at the college will be a few miles drive from his Gettysburg farm and only a few blocks from the heart of this historic Civil War city.

Eisenhower already has said he will make Gettysburg his permanent base after he leaves the executive mansion although he has made it clear he also will do some traveling in the years ahead.

Must Resist Reds—Council of Churches

Congo, Cuba Not Lost, Say Protestants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 40-million-member National Council of Churches Tuesday took a close look at foment in Cuba and the Congo and was told: "We must not encourage the revolution to communism."

The tenor of the report, by the Division of Foreign Missions of the council, was that "the Communists misinterpreted" in the Congo, have gained a strong foothold in Cuba but have not necessarily won out yet.

"We must not write off revolutionary situations as lost to the Christian cause," said the report prepared for the General Assembly of the council, largest religious organization in the United States, embracing 144,000 churches.

The gospel itself is the root cause of creative revolution," the report on Cuba, based on findings of Dr. Howard W. Yoder of New York, a council missionary official whose field is Latin America, said "a social revolution was long overdue" and the fact that (Fidel) Castro took land without paying for it, that he is hostile to American capital, does not necessarily make him a Communist."

USING COMMUNISTS

"It would seem," the report noted, "that at some point Castro made the decision to use the Russians and Chinese in a desperate struggle for survival, believing that he could control them and that the distances involved made any physical conquest of Cuba impossible."

The report said the revolution has forced out some of the 250 U. S. Protestant missionaries among the 215,000 Protestants of Cuba's 6½ million people but many others are sticking it out, determined to keep the church there "dynamic and forging ahead."

The Congo report, based on findings of a former Congo missionary, Dr. George Carpenter, of New York, a secretary of the International Missionary Council, said the Communists "staked too much on a very small group of Congolese leftist leaders," also underestimated the basic integrity and discernment of most Congolese leaders, who fear Russia and are aware of the danger of nation."

The report, which listed two million Protestants and five million Roman Catholics among the Republic of Congo's 13 millions, said the church "must help provide national leadership," "give first priority to secondary and technical education."

National Music Camp Gets $5,000 Bequest

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—The will of Mrs. Ella Brown Burdick was filed Monday leaving the bulk of an estate estimated at $1,035,000 to charity, and educational institutions.

Mrs. Burdick, who died Nov. 17, was the widow of Alfred S. Burdick, president of Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago. They lived in Highland Park.

Bequests included the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich., $5,000.

Red Chilean Poet Visits Cuban Official

HAVANA (AP)—Pablo Neruda, Communist poet from Chile, has arrived here as a guest of Carlos Franqui, Cuba's propaganda director.

In an interview published Tuesday in the semi-official newspaper Revolucion, Neruda said President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela has "lost or sold his head" to imperialism and is practicing "machine gun democracy." Neruda came here by way of Venezuela.

In 1953 Neruda was among winners of the Simon Bolivar Prize. He fled from Chile in 1948 when the government tried to arrest him for Communist activities but later was given amnesty.

Santa Takes C97 to Deliver Gifts to Korean Tots

HONOLULU (AP)—Santa Claus took off today in a New Hampshire National Guard C97 transport with 10,000 pounds of toys, clothing and food for Korean orphans.

Waiting in Seoul is Santa's helper, Lt. Horace D. Verry, whose letter to his hometown newspaper, the Keene (N.H.) Evening Sentinel, started it all. Verry requested a few toys for children in a nearby orphanage. Five tons of material is the result, with the Air Guard pitching in by scheduling the flight as a training mission.

Worshipful Master Will Be Installed

Pontiac Lodge 510, F&M, will install Harold C. Ryerson of 930 Scott Lake Road as new worshipful master at ceremonies Saturday in the Roosevelt Temple.

Past Master Clifford McLean will preside at the installation, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Also to be installed are Norton Lewis, the Keene (N.H.) Evening Sentinel, started it all. Verry requested a few toys for children in a nearby orphanage. Five tons of material is the result, with the Air Guard pitching in by scheduling the flight as a training mission.

Michigan Cities List Population

Dearborn Has 112,007, Lansing 107,807, With Flint at 196,940

DETROIT (AP)—Official 1960 census figures for the nation's cities of 100,000 or more population show for Michigan:

Dearborn's population now is 112,007 as against 94,994 in 1950. It is 109th on the list of cities. In 1950 Dearborn was 118th.

Lansing's population is 107,807 for 1950 place. In 1950 Lansing had 92,119 for 122nd place.

Flint is 62nd in size with its 196,940. Ten years ago Flint was 61st with 163,143.

Grand Rapids, where the population remained almost stable, fell from 36th place in 1950 to 1st. Grand Rapids has 177,313 population as compared with 176,515 in 1950.

World Fair, Designer Dies of Heart Attack

FLEMINGTON, N.J. (UPI)—Walter Downin Teague, 76, an industrial designer who helped design the 1939 World's Fair in New York, died Monday of a heart attack.

Teague also was one of a select group of designers asked to help plan the 1964 New York World's Fair. He was head of Walter Downin Teague Associates, of New York, and among his organization's projects were the interior of the Boeing 707 jet transport and the museum at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Add 9 Industrial Areas to Major Jobless List

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department Tuesday classified nine more major industrial centers as areas of "substantial" unemployment, placing more than one-third of the nation's big factory communities in this category.

Fifty-one of the country's 130 main manufacturing areas now have substantial joblessness, meaning 8 per cent or more of the workers are unemployed. The department forecast a further rise in unemployment next month after a job increase just before Christmas.

The department's bi-monthly report also added eight smaller industrial areas to the substantial unemployment list, making a total of 123. One smaller center was dropped.

President-Elect John F. Kennedy appointed a special committee Sunday to consider ways of helping such distressed areas.

Job cutbacks in steel, aircraft, aluminum and other durable goods manufacturing primarily were responsible for the new areas of substantial unemployment, the Labor Department said.

The report said the customary fall pickup in employment failed to materialize in some of the major industrial areas in October and November and was below seasonal expectations in other centers.

Unemployment increased in about 90 of the key factory areas in October and November, largely because of job layoffs in both durable and nondurable manufacturing. Some centers producing autos and auto parts reported manpower cutbacks after brisk employment gains earlier in the fall.

Employer hiring plans indicated a temporary employment rise just before Christmas, followed by perhaps a slightly more than seasonal decline in nonfarm jobs by mid-January, the department said.

The nine major areas newly classified as substantial unemployment centers are Bridgeport and Waterbury, Conn.; South Bend, Fort Wayne and Gary-Hammond-East Chicago, Ind.; Spokane, Wash.; Hamilton-Middletown, Ohio; Steubenville-Weirton, Ohio-W. Va.; and San Bernardino-Riverside-Ontario, Calif.

The smaller communities added to the list were Eureka and Ukiah, Calif.; Pueblo, Colo.; Ashtabula-Conneaut and Kent-Ravenna, Ohio; Bristol-John City-Kingsport, Tenn.-Va.; Provo, Utah, and New Marlborough, W. Va.-Ohio.

Rocky Mount, N.C., was dropped from the list.

Industrial areas having more than 6 per cent of their working force out of jobs are given preference in bidding for certain government defense contracts.

Issue Stamp Honoring John Foster Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department Tuesday issued a four-cent memorial stamp honoring the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who died May 24, 1959.

A dedication ceremony was attended by diplomats of many nations and high government officials. Mrs. Dulles, who had planned to attend, is in the hospital suffering from a fractured ankle.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just apply a little FASTTEETH, the adhesive (non-toxic) powder, to your plates. Fast teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not stain. Checks "plate color" breath. Get FASTTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Y's Women Make the Halls as Festive as a Holly Wood

This happy group of young women gathered Monday evening at the Pontiac Young Women's Christian Association center on Franklin Boulevard to open the holiday season with the traditional "Hanging of the Greens." Four trees were decked with tinsel and ornaments, and the old building's picturesque staircase was draped with roping and boughs in anticipation of the Y's "Twenty Days of Christmas" activities. Carol singing and refreshments followed.

Avenue; and Phyllis Edgar, East Tennyson Avenue. Later in the evening the girls paused to reflect on "The Christmas Story," as told by Mrs. Ervin Bartel.

College Personals

William Hertel, son of the Hugo C. Hertels of North Perry Street, attended the 35th annual convention of the American Association of Common Clubs at Denison University, Granville, Ohio. He is house manager and a junior of the Commons Club Chapter at Adrian College.

The American Commons Club is a national college social fraternity founded at Denison in 1921 as a democratic social group without membership barriers of race, creed, nationality, economic status, the "blackball system" or similar restrictions other than the character and scholarship.

Mrs. Sharon Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stallions of North Jessie Street, has been placed on the mid-term honor roll at Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., where she is a junior.

Central Michigan University student Beverly Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland S. Wells of Ramona Terrace, will appear with the Central Singers Tuesday evening in a Christmas program for the Clare Study Club in Clare Methodist Church.

Lyndon Sajathiel, son of the Lyndon Salathiels of Shoreview Drive, Sylvan Lake, will be among 14 Alma College students to receive certificates of honor at the annual convocation in the spring.

They will be listed in the 1960-61 edition of "Who's Who Among American College and University Students." These students were nominated by the student council and by the faculty for outstanding service to the school as well as for academic superiority.

Three Pontiac area students will sing in the chorus conducted by Professor David Strickler when the Albion College Choral Society performs Handel's "Messiah" in concert Sunday evening at 8 p.m. Gail Sedrick, sophomore, daughter of the William Sedricks of Mansfield Avenue, will be heard in the alto section.

Richard J. Hathaway, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway of East Iroquois Road, will sing in the bass section.

Barbara L. Jarvis will sing with the sopranos. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Parker A. Jarvis of Ortonville.

Richard and Barbara are juniors.

William Metz, a member of the University of Detroit debate team, participated in the recent fourth annual Jesuit debate tournament in Chicago. Eleven Jesuit colleges and universities took part in the two-day event.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Metz of West Berkshire Road, Bloomfield Township, William is a senior in the College of Commerce and Finance.

He argued the affirmative side of the proposition that "The Federal Government should adopt a program of compulsory health insurance for all citizens." His partner was Denis Latkowski of Detroit.

Party, Luncheon at Green Lake

Green Lake Women's Club members will celebrate their annual Christmas party and luncheon at noon Monday in Green Lake Community House.

Guests are welcome. Following a talk by Mrs. J. P. Carvito, Christmas songs will be sung by Mrs. Jean Carpenter, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Kolb.

Group singing of carols and a gift exchange are also on the program under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alfred Spengeman. Reservations should be made by Saturday with Mrs. Raymond Matuak or Mrs. Richard Elwood.

The Lawrence Ryans

Newlyweds at Home

The Lawrence Ryans are at home on South Marshall Street following their marriage Saturday afternoon in the home of Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan on Delaware Drive. The bride, formerly Mrs. Juanita Armstrong Knight, is the daughter of the Henry E. Armstrongs of Churchill Road, Pontiac Township. Her husband is the son of Raymond Ryan of Albany, Iowa, and the late Mrs. Ryan, former Pontiac residents.

A shoulder corsage of yellow tea roses complemented the bride's short-length dress of aqua Chantilly-type lace over taffeta, worn with matching velvet headpiece.

She was attended by Mrs. William Ryan of Albany, Iowa, wearing a light blue sheer wool suit and corsage of red roses. William Ryan was best man for his brother.

Dental Society to Dance, Dine

The Oakland County Dental Society has scheduled its annual Christmas dinner-dance Dec. 14 at Orchard Lake Country Club. The cocktail hour will begin at 6:30 p.m.

An orchestra will play for dancing in the ballroom. Drs. Stewart Scott, Louis Gach and William Daines are accepting reservations.

Mother Writes Abby

Teen Praises Her Parents

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was very angry when I found a letter on my daughter's desk addressed to "Dear Abby." I was very hurt to think that my daughter would write to you about her problem instead of coming to me.

So I did an inexcusable thing. I steamed open the envelope, and after reading the letter, I wanted to die of shame. I guess parents just have to trust their children. When you read her letter you'll know why. Here it is:

A PROUD MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: All my friends say I have a strict, old-fashioned mother, but I think she is wonderful. She doesn't let me do all the things my friends do, but I know she is holding me back for my own good. Sometimes I scream and carry on, but it doesn't do me any good. I love both my parents very much and wouldn't trade them for the world.

A LUCKY TEEN-AGER

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your remark about shooting wild birds and game. They are not "defenseless." Nature provided them with camouflage-coloring which changes with the seasons in order that they may hide.

Birds can fly and deer can run as swift as any arrow. Hunting is a sport and there is nothing "cruel" about it.

LOVES TO HUNT

DEAR ABBY: What you say may be true, but have you ever seen a duck that could shoot back?

DEAR ABBY: Fifteen months ago we had a little boy who was born with club feet. We have him in casts up to his hips. Everyone who sees him wants to know what's wrong with his legs.

We have our house up for sale now and when people come into the house, instead of looking at the house they run right over to the baby and say, "Oh, what's wrong with his legs?"

I'd like to tell them it's none of their business, but I haven't.

the nerve. They all have the same story that someone in their family or someone they knew had the same trouble. Please tell me what to say. I don't want to be rude, but I can't take it any more.

VERY VERY WEARY

DEAR WEARY: Your visitors don't mean to be rude, so you shouldn't become upset. It's perfectly natural to ask "what happened" when a baby is in casts up to both hips. Your best answer is this: "When he was born, his little legs were not quite normal — but he'll be fine soon."

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and my mother said if I started to go steady she would tan my hide. A real cute guy by the name of Jeff asked me to go steady. I can't say "Yes," but what reason can I give him?

I hate to say, "My mother won't let me." (It sounds so babyish.) Please answer soon, because he wants to know right away. BARBARA.

DEAR BARBARA: Tell him you can't go steady because your mother doesn't "approve." There's nothing babyish about respecting your parent's wishes.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HERB: If that is "togetherness" — try "apartness."

Plumbing Unit Holds Yule Party

Rotunda Inn was the setting for Pontiac Master Plumbers Contractors and the Women's Auxiliary's annual Christmas party Tuesday evening.

Following a family-style dinner, members gathered around a Christmas tree for caroling. Mrs. Lloyd S. Thornton and Mrs. Ezra Mason were in charge of decorations for the party, held in the Pinewood and Rotunda rooms of the inn.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Conpton, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Mason Jr., Mrs. E. J. Duffy and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conrad. Mrs. Conrad is auxiliary president.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn P. Seeley, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd S. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Mason, Jr. and Mrs. Curtis Thompson and William Fleming, a member for 41 years.

Completing the list were Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Schille, Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Walter Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cook, Floyd J. Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ferrell, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Temple and Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Williams.

Rotunda Inn was festive for the annual Christmas party of the Women's Auxiliary to the Pontiac Master Plumbing Contractors Association. With gaily

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Hoskinson Jr. of Drayton Plains announce the engagement of their daughter Claudia to Dale Owen, son of the Clarence Owens of Waterford Township. No wedding date has been set.

It Gives Brain a Rest

Sleep Is No Waste of Time

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Sleep is really a wonderful process. It is surprising when we stop to think of it that once every 24 hours we go through rituals and put on special garments before we lie down to become unconscious for a few hours. We even have equipment like beds to help us become unconscious. It is funny when you think about it, isn't it?

People sometimes say that it is a shame that we have to waste so much time sleeping. If you feel this way, you are kidding yourself. Actually, folks are only conscious in a very small way when they are awake.

It has been estimated that we spend only one minute out of every hour doing things which demand anything even approaching complete attention. Think how smart we would all be if we could increase that to two minutes. Five or less would probably make geniuses out of us!

There is no doubt that the more minutes we are aware, and the more keenly aware we are, the more successful we will be and the richer our lives will be. However, it seems wise to improve the quality of our awareness rather than decrease the amount of sleep we get.

Sleep is the rest period of the body. Our heart and respiration

Sleep, it's wonderful! Don't neglect it for it's vital to your physical and mental health. It is most important because it gives the brain some measure of rest.

slow down and most of the tension leaves our muscles. However, sleep is most important because it gives the brain some measure of rest.

Of course, the brain never rests completely. It still has vital matters to attend to and it even indulges in dreams.

A very interesting experiment was carried on during World War II at Camp Elliott in California. The idea was to find out how long a person can go without sleep and what effects prolonged loss of sleep has. The tests showed that lack of sleep was much harder on the brain than on the body.

Soldiers volunteered for this experiment. Several hundred of them stayed awake for four days without even a little nap. One set a record for a little more than eight days.

Medical examinations throughout the study revealed that the body showed little or no reaction to loss of sleep, but that the brain was importantly affected. It reacted with loss of memory, extreme irritation, illusions, hallucinations and all sorts of mental aberrations.

So, sufficient sleep is important for physical health, but even more so for mental health and efficiency.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Shuteye," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet No. 34. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Ask Aunt to Help You Pick

Good Taste Today

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: An aunt of mine told me she would like to give me a coffee table for a wedding present. She told me to pick one out that I liked and send the bill to her. I did think that being able to select my own table was a very good idea, but it does present a problem inasmuch as I don't know how much she is prepared to spend and therefore hesitate to choose one.

Would it be proper to ask her how much I may spend for this table or do I go ahead and choose one that I like regardless of the price and send the bill to her as she suggested?

Answer: It would be advisable to have some idea how much she expects to pay for the table.

If you would rather not ask her this question, you might select two tables that please you at different prices and tell her that you have found two lovely tables that you like very much and that you simply can't decide which you prefer and ask her to please pick the one she would like you to have.

Question: Last year I received a very nice Christmas present from my employer after having been here only six months. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to give him a Christmas present in return this year, and if so, what do you suggest?

Answer: His giving you a Christmas present is quite different from your giving him one, and unless a close personal relationship exists between you and there is some gadget for his desk that you think he would like, I would not advise your giving him a present.

Question: When a nice young man unfortunately chooses a piece of lingerie as a gift for a young woman, wouldn't it be needlessly hurting his feelings for her to refuse it? If refuse she must, how does she go about it?

Answer: She simply says, "This is a lovely gift and thank you so much, but mother would never in the world let me accept it."

Question: If a wedding present cannot be sent until after the wedding, is it sent to the bride alone or to Mr. and Mrs. even though he is a stranger—or perhaps only slightly known?

Answer: It is always correct to address wedding gifts to her alone. However, one sent after the wedding by an especial friend of his (or their together) is often addressed to Mr. and Mrs.

Americans Growing Indifferent to Violence

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Her youngster hit her. And she submitted to this violent release of grievance against her. Apparently it was her habit to let him hit her. But on this occasion she must have felt some slight doubt about the virtue of her leniency.

She must have wondered "Is it right to let other people hit me?" In her next day's session with her psychotherapist, she mentioned the episode to him.

"Why did you let Charles strike you?" the doctor asked.

"Oh, he's only a child," she said.

"He isn't old enough to understand what he's doing."

"That is not an answer to my question," said her doctor. "I didn't ask you to tell me why Charles struck you. I asked you to tell me why you let him do it. Can you tell me?"

She was unable to tell him. But last night in a lecture by her psychotherapist, he explained her condoning attitude toward her child's behavior as just another aspect of Americans' growing "indifference" to violence. He reinforced his view with a formidable list of examples.

Said Dr. Emanuel K. Schwartz, of New York City's Postgraduate Center for Psychotherapy:

"We munch crackers while we lean back in our chairs and watch the marshal crack the jaws of the bad boys on our favorite TV western."

"In our movie theaters our kids chew popcorn as the screen hero shoves the villain off the skyscraper's scaffolding."

"Without a word of protest we give up our public parks to mugger and hoodlums."

"In the market is a comic that teaches children how to gouge out eyes and deliver crippling kicks in the liver."

"Does your youngster buy it? How do you know? In 1958 we bought 78 million copies of murder mysteries."

Dr. Schwartz didn't pile up these nasty facts to hurt our feelings but instead to show us that indifference to violence is bound to involve an equal indifference to kindness, to respect, to peace itself.

"This indifference isn't helplessness," he said. "It offers us a choice that helplessness doesn't offer us. We have only to choose—and we can stop the child who is about to hit us just as we can switch off that brutal TV western."

"Right now we can take a stand against violence directed at us by the angry child or the movie gunman."

Localites in New Play at Vanguard

Don Bumgardner of East Beverly Avenue and Elizabeth Fleming of Crabtree Road, Birmingham—

both associated with Detroit's Vanguard Playhouse—are appearing in the professional resident theater's production of the farce "See How They Run," opening this evening.

The play will run nightly, except Mondays, through New Year's Eve. Tickets are available at the theater's box office on East Columbia Street. Reservations may be made by calling the playhouse.

Dr. William A. Gregory, managing director at Vanguard, has issued a request for "... fresh, new professional-caliber revue material—songs and sketches ... for a February 1961 production at the playhouse. Producers desire material for a cast of no more than eight performers: Actors, singers, dancers.

The revue chosen will receive first class professional mounting with a minimum of four weeks guaranteed.

Scripts may be sent, via registered mail for maximum insurance, to: Dr. William A. Gregory, managing director, Vanguard Playhouse, Inc., 50 E. Columbia, Detroit 1, Mich. All scripts will be returned.

Simmer Apple Halves, Serve With Sweet Sauce

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Most families eat simple desserts if they eat any at all. Fruit is always good. Apples prepared the way Mrs. G. W. Gibson does should be welcomed as a pleasant warm ending to a meal.

As a minister's wife, Mrs. Gibson's time outside of her home is spoken for.

BUTTERSCOTCH APPLES

By Mrs. G. W. Gibson

4 apples
1 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon vanilla

Peel, core and halve apples. Place in large flat pan and barely cover with water. Add the half cup of granulated sugar. Simmer until apples are tender. Remove fruit to a serving dish.

Add butter or margarine, brown sugar and salt to water in pan. (You may substitute granulated sugar and a half teaspoon of cinnamon if you like). Boil 2 minutes. Thicken with the cornstarch dissolved in a little water. Cook until clear. Add vanilla.

Pour over apples and serve warm or cold. Garnish with whipped cream or ice cream if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Group Has Yule Party

The annual Christmas party of orations and arrangements for the Lake Angelus Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, was celebrated Tuesday morning at the South Lake Angelus Shores home of Mrs. Max Kerns, horticulture chairman.

Life insurance statisticians say the lowest highway accident death rate is in the New England States while the highest occurs in the West's Mountain States.

Special guest was Mrs. Victor Lindquist, soprano, whose numbers included "Nymphs and Shepherds," by Purcell; "O Del Mio Amato Ben," by Donandy; and "Sapphis Ode," by Brahms.

She completed her program with "Over the Stoppel," by Greichardt; "The Little Dandelion," by Novello; "No Candle Was There and No Fire," by Lehman; and "I Wonder As I Wander," arranged by Niles. Mrs. Addison Oakley accompanied Mrs. Lindquist.

During a brief business session members discussed arrangements for an ingathering of presents, trees, decorations, food and clothing for the needy at 10 a.m. Dec. 15 in the Lake Angelus Shores home of Mrs. Charles Kern, Mrs. Clarence Butler and Mrs. Bernard Zinn listed ages and sizes for families the group will assist.

Juniors Play and Sing

The University of Michigan Alumnae were guests of Mrs. Theodore E. Wiersma Tuesday evening at her home on Iroquois Road.

A group of the Crystalites from Pontiac Northern High School sang "To the Manger" and "Mary's Lullaby" by Katherine Davis, also "Sleigh Ride" by LeRoy Anderson.

"Fraelindum" by Mendelssohn. Marlene Beale sang "My Goddess Cella" by George Munro and "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" by Rayn. Deanna Relyea was her accompanist.

Pamela Morris presented flute solos "First Movement, Suite X in B Minor" by Bach and "Scherzino" by Andersen. Her accompanist, Shari Isanhart, then played "Introduction and Fugato in D Minor" by Cuthbert Harris.

New members Marian Patch and Patricia McCandless were welcomed.

Assisting the hostess with dessert were Marion Lehner, Gertrude Martin, Hazel Potts, Maud Van Arsdale and Flora Wager.

Observe Enrollment Ceremony

Women of the Moose observed their enrollment Monday evening at Moose Hall with 31 members present.

Senior Regent Mrs. Vern Taylor introduced Mrs. Charles Mellor, social service chairman, who presented her committee.

Mrs. Harold Finn, past senior regent, entertained with accordion solos.

In ceremonies honoring Mrs. Ferman Huston, college regent, Mrs. R. L. Terroux was enrolled in Home Chapter.

Proceeds from the Christmas dance on Saturday will help defray expenses of the children's party Dec. 17 at 2 p.m. in Moose Hall.

Gifts will be exchanged by chapter members at a party on Dec. 19 and baskets filled for needy area families.

Buffet refreshments were served from a long table decorated in the holiday motif.

Plan for Annual Exchange of Gifts

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party and gift exchange when Avenue Chapter 503, Order of the Eastern Star, met Monday evening at Roosevelt Temple. The affair has been set for Dec. 19.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. William Cox and Mrs. Marion Holmes. In charge of refreshments were Mrs. Bernard Garner, Mrs. Albert Holton, Mrs. Russell Canterbury and Mrs. Lorn Palen.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Joyce Thoe, bride-elect of Ronnie Kilgore, was honored at two recent bridal showers.

Mrs. Craig Romeo of February Drive was hostess for a kitchen shower Sunday. Friday evening a miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. William Park and Mrs. Leonard Berglund at the Berglund home on Clintonville Road.

The bride-elect's attendants will be her sister Janet, maid of honor, and Judy Jacobson of Drayton Plains and Mrs. Warren Lindeke of Anoka, Minn., bridesmaids.

The couple, whose parents are the Fremont Thoes of Bordertown Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Newt Kilgore of Hammond Lake Drive, will be married Dec. 23 at St. John's Lutheran Church.

Tell Winners of Duplicate

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club had 12 tables in play at Monday's meeting in the Elks Temple.

Winners were Mr. and Mrs. Ericson Lewis, David Utley and Melvin Small, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Col.

Eunice Farmer Asks:

You Know How to Sew Simple Seams?

"Dear Eunice Farmer:
How can I keep the facings from slipping out and showing at the edges of my neckline? Most women who sew seem to have this same trouble."

Mrs. J.E.H.

Dear Mrs. J.E.H.

I don't know of anything that makes a garment look more homemade than to see the facings. If the facings were under-stitched, this would never happen. Before the under-stitching can become effective, you must clip and grade your seams correctly. The following instructions apply to finishing a curved or scooped neckline.

1. After the neckline has been stitched, grade the seams to avoid a ridge when pressed. Grading the seam means to trim both seams to about half their original width. Now trim the facing seams in half again.
2. Carefully clip to the stitching line, every inch or so. This is always necessary for an inner curve in order to release the fabric and permit the neckline to lay smoothly.
3. To prepare for under-stitching, you must hold your garment fabric only in one hand and all the other seams toward the facing in your other hand. Machine stitch through all the layers of fabric except your garment itself. This stitching should be done as close to the seam as possible and is done on the facing.
4. This is called under-stitching, and should be done with all faced edges except the front of a suit or coat. It will prevent the facing from ever slipping out.

"Dear Eunice:
When finishing a coat collar, etc., with a running stitch by hand, is there a special way to do this?"

Mrs. H.E.K.

Dear Mrs. H. E. K.:

The stitch you are referring to is called hand picking, and you will find it on many coats and suits made of camel hair, cashmere, or any other soft fabric. It usually is found on collars, pockets, and the fronts of suits and coats. It serves two purposes: it is decorative on a plain fabric, and it will keep the facing and the garment fabric from separating.

Hand picking is done with buttonhole twist to match the garment. Each stitch is taken separately and is made with a series of tiny back stitches. These stitches should be about 1/4-inch apart.

After your needle comes up on the right side of your garment, take a tiny back stitch and then go forward to the next stitch.

These stitches should not be pulled tight, but should almost look like a tiny French knot. If you are doing the hand picking where both sides of your garment will show, be careful not to make more than a prick on the wrong side.

Hand picking is also a beautiful way to finish a zipper. A zipper is certainly not a decorative touch to your clothes, therefore an invisible type stitch is much more attractive than machine stitching, especially on plain colored fabrics.

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:
Would you please list the items necessary to make up a complete sewing basket. So many women on my Christmas gift list do their own sewing that I thought I might give them a sewing aid this year. Do you think they would appreciate this type of gift?"

Mrs. W.G.J.

I think this is a terrific idea. So many of us spend our time and money on gifts that have no real value. What a joy to receive a special sewing aid that we would have considered an extravagance to buy for ourselves.

The mainstay of a well-equipped sewing basket would be: silk pins, pin cushion, needles in assorted sizes, large spool of white thread for handy bastings, beeswax, thimble, tape measure, 5-inch metal ruler, small, sharp scissors for clipping and general use, and marking chalk.

Some of the extras which any woman who sews would cherish are: Pinker shears, 9-inch cutting shears, pin-it skirt marker, steam iron, sewing basket, tailor-trix pressing board, and a large cutting board. Add special value to the new scissors by attaching a note "For Mother's Use Only."

The little troubles you encounter when you sew may be shared by many women. Let me know what they are and I can help you. Submit your questions to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press, for answer in the column.

BRIGHT EYES
Holiday gay days... and nights ahead... and you will want to sparkle! If you are a bit timid of eye make-up and do not want to go all out for shadow, lines and the heavy look... try these hints for modification: Use a lid liner (your brow pencil will do) only on the upper lid from the center out a fraction beyond the lid. Even Without Background of Her Own

Mother Can Encourage Child on Science

Even a mother who has no special background in science can do a great deal to encourage her child's scientific interests.

The kitchen is a fine place to examine seeds and other living things, to observe how heat changes the consistency of substances.

The fuse box in the cellar can start an interest in electricity. Any parent can take his child out to look at the stars, and can learn with him about the solar system or how light travels through space.

ANSWERS NEEDS

"Growing Up With Science," newly published by McGraw-Hill, answers the needs of parents who have wondered what they can do to prepare their child to hold his own in a world in which science plays an increasingly important part.

The book is not limited to parents of scientifically talented children. Its basic tenet is that science interests can help any child to grow, and that the home is as important as school in developing such interests.

In this unusual book, the author, Marianne Besser, has brought together suggestions from leading scientists such as Nobel prize winners Harold Urey and Herman Muller, biologist James Bonner and others, plus the advice and experience of parents whose children have won top prizes in the National Science Talent Search.

Many of these parents had no scientific background, yet they helped their youngsters with interest and understanding, and by learning with them and exposing them to the world in which they live.

The mother of one girl biologist says:

"Our home has been a showcase of the various projects the children were interested in. We hang boxes with mounted butterflies on the wall, had bottles of pollwogs on the bookcase and tried to be interested and willing to learn along with the children."

She adds: "At times it would have been very easy to chuck the whole thing but any effort that we put forth has been repaid many times over."

(This mother also tells how proud she was when she learned to identify various butterflies).

PLEASURE FOR ALL

"Growing Up With Science" is filled with anecdotes and personal experiences which show how the home, the community, vacations, weekend trips, books and family discussions can introduce science knowledge in a way that provides pleasure for the whole family.

The book also describes the hobbies, games, materials and personal attitudes which encourage science interests in children from age 2 to teen-age.

Basic to the development of any interest is the encouragement of the child's curiosity, imagination and ability to think for himself. Miss Besser has devoted chapters to each of these subjects.

Dr. Margaret Mead, renowned anthropologist, highly recommends "Growing Up With Science."

"This is a very valuable book and it will meet the needs of all kinds of parents," she says.

"They will find identification in reports from the many real parents of the winners in the National Science Talent Search who come from all walks of life and many kinds of backgrounds."

Marianne Besser says she intends to follow many of the suggestions in the book with her own daughter Krista.

Miss Besser and her husband Joseph Alvarez live in Greenwich Village, New York, with their two cats, an aquarium and a score of plants.

Miss Besser was born in Germany and educated in Europe and the United States.

She is a Phi Beta Kappa, cum laude, graduate of Ohio State University.

MAGAZINE WORK

In England she worked with youth groups, and in this country she was a staff member of the leading educational magazine Highlights for Children.

After several years as editor of The Digest she became a freelance writer and has contributed to such magazines as Reader's Digest, This Week and Good Housekeeping.

The young man on your list will be in high spirits if you gift-wrap a wool blazer for him. In authentic university styling, it is available in bright red, gold or rich olive. Available locally in boys' and prep sizes.

Will Have Drawbacks

Future Pinups to Be BIG Beauties

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UPI)—Famed pinup artist Alberto Varga laid down his paintbrush and sketched a verbal picture of the American woman of the future.

"She'll be a stupendous beauty," he said. "Taller, more curvaceous and healthier, but unfortunately also more manish."

The way he figures, the statistics will be — height, 6 feet; bust, 39; waist, 26; hips, 35. Today's statistics, as Varga sees them: height, 5 feet, seven inches; 37-34-37.

The artist, whose youthful looks belie his 63 years, is one of the recognized connoisseurs of beauty in America. Ava Gardner, Jane Russell, Anne Sheridan, and Lily Damita are names on the list of the world's beauties whom he has painted. His Esquire calendars and World War II pinup pictures decorated many a barracks wall. During the "roaring twenties," famous showgirls who worked for Flo Ziegfeld sat for him.

The artist said in an interview that the woman of tomorrow will be an outdoor girl.

"She'll be the healthiest animal on earth because she'll know how to diet, use cosmetics, take care of her health. She'll be a stupendous beauty, but it will be a hollow beauty," he predicted.

"Take a bird on the desert island who loses the use of his wings, the American woman is losing her spiritual beauty — the inner beauty."

"She will regret it," he said. "If any of the other girls of the world achieve her beauty without losing their femininity."

He traces the erosion of femininity to two world wars and prohibition. The wars — "because women began competing with men." Prohibition — "because our moral concepts took a nosedive from which they've never recovered."

The contemporary American woman also got the uncover. Varga said her figure is more natural today because of her outdoor living. He said fewer and fewer artificial devices are being used to put curves in the right places and eliminate them from wrong places.

"Contemporary women," he said, "are healthy, firm and beautiful until age 50 and in many cases, even longer."

'Programs Holding Up'

Mild Dips in 1st Quarter of '61, Say Businessmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Businessmen, with production capacity to spare, are trimming spending for factory expansion and modernization, the government reported today.

It said investment outlays now are below planned levels and have been declining gradually since June.

A survey of business plans indicated a further mild dip in the first three months of 1961 in many industries.

Government economists said the slippage in capital spending would help contribute to an expected slowdown in the economy generally. But they considered the retrenchment in business investment plans light, and not a major depressant of economic activity.

"Nobody is slashing any programs," one expert commented. The survey was made by the Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission. Their report estimated that outlays for plant and equipment for all of 1960 would total $35.75 billion, about 10 per cent more than last year but about 4 per cent below the level projected by business at the beginning of the year.

Many of the cutbacks — either made already or planned for the future — reflected the fact that 1960 demand and production in many manufacturing lines have failed to meet expectations. Factory output was 1.1 per cent below last year's level.

Honeymoon Ends With a Thud for Barrymore

ROME (AP) — The honeymoon seemed over today for John Barrymore Jr. and the Italian film starlet he wed five weeks ago amid a flurry of court actions.

Barrymore and his bride, Gabriella Palazzoli, got into an argument in a restaurant and exchanged slaps, Barrymore later collapsed.

Miss Palazzoli showed up at the restaurant at 10:30 and asked if her husband was there. He was, at a table with seven others including actor Guy Madison.

There was a brief argument and Barrymore shoved her out of the door. The argument continued outside, punctuated by slapping.

Friends separated them. Miss Palazzoli left and Barrymore went back into the restaurant where he collapsed on the floor. Friends revived him, but he refused to let them take him to a hospital.

He went for a walk instead. When he returned to the restaurant his wife was back, waiting for him.

The argument broke out again, but this time it was soon over. At Barrymore's request, friends took his wife home.

None of them would say what started the spat.

Sign Construction Pact for Health Building

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Representatives of the World Health Organization, the Swiss Confederation, and the Republic of Canton of Geneva signed agreements Monday night for the construction of a new WHO headquarters.

The project, by Swiss architect Professor Jean Tschumi, is a 10-story building of contemporary design.

These outlays hit a high rate of $36.3 billion in the June quarter, then slipped to $35.9 billion in the following three months. Only the survey indicated a $36.9 billion spending rate for the third and fourth quarters of 1960.

WAIT FOR SUMMER Economists said there were some indications the gradual downturn would persist beyond March. The consensus of 1961 forecasts has been for no real pick up in the economy until summer.

Large cutbacks were reported for the railroads and the airlines. Officials said the railroads had a poor year in 1960 and have little internal financing available for purchasing new equipment. Airline investment has been dropping since spring, when jet buying hit its peak.

Lesser declines in capital outlays were reported for iron and steel, electrical machinery, autos, paper and petroleum.

The next government survey of capital spending plans will cover all of 1961. A McGraw-Hill study for next year has projected a decline of 3 per cent. That would be not nearly so bad as the 17 per cent drop which occurred in 1957 — still a record year — to 1958.

RUNS GANTLET — Mrs. James Gabrielle walks her daughter Yolanda across a street from integrated William Frantz School to a waiting car for a police-escorted trip home after classes. She is one of the few white parents to keep her child in the school despite angry, jeering segregationists who daily hurl insults and sometimes eggs at the defiant mother.

Land Mine Kills Pair of Arab Farmers in Gaza

GAZA (AP) — Two Arab farmers were killed Tuesday by explosion who occupied Gaza in 1956.

Surplus Outlay Over $9 Billion

Rises by $150 Million in Month but Shows a Decline From 1959

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's investment in price-support wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, grain sorghums, and other surplus commodities climbed to $9,120,773,000 on Oct. 31.

This was an increase of more than $150 million over the previous month, but about $100 million below the investment in October 1959.

Wheat continued to be the major item in the investment. The government owned outright slightly more than 1.1 billion bushels worth almost $3 billion. It held loans on more than 281 million bushels valued at more than $688 million.

Corn in inventory totaled 1.4 billion bushels worth almost $2.4 billion. Loans on 280 million bushels were valued at $315 million.

The cotton investment consisted of an inventory of 5.5 million bales valued at $953 million. No loans were reported.

Grain sorghums in inventory totaled 314 million hundredweight valued at $546 million. Loans on 19 million hundredweight were valued at more than $38 million.

Loans on 629 million pounds of tobacco totaled almost $401 million. Net realized loss on price support programs for July, August, September and October totaled $189,777,803. For the same period last year, the loss was $255,641,892.

In the fiscal year that ended June 30, the loss on price-support operations was $795,869,117.

Community Finds Its Law Officers Aren't Legal

BOYERTOWN, Pa. (AP) — This eastern Pennsylvania community found out that it had no legal police force despite a police chief and four patrolmen.

Roland A. Reed, the borough manager, discovered in checking records that the City Council in 1957 had passed an ordinance to create a police department.

The situation was remedied quickly. City Council Monday night passed an ordinance creating a police department.

Red China 'Warmly' Supports Manifesto

TOKYO (AP) — The declaration of the conference of 81 Communist leaders in Moscow, was received with "warm endorsement and support" by the people in Peking, the official New China News Agency said Tuesday.

It was the first Red Chinese reaction to the Communist world's declaration in favor of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful co-existence.

The agency article broadcast by Radio Peking, however, made no mention of Khrushchev's name or the words peaceful co-existence.

Says Dixie Will Back Kennedy

Won't Join GOP in a Conservative Coalition, Sparkman Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) predicted today most Southern Democrats will "resolve their doubts in favor of the administration" in voting on a Kennedy-Elect John F. Kennedy's legislative program.

Sparkman said he does not believe his more conservative Dixie colleagues will join in any firm coalition with the Republicans aimed at blocking Kennedy's programs.

"By and large, the members of Congress vote their convictions," Sparkman said in an interview. "Some of them will oppose some of the things Kennedy wants. But I don't see any signs of a coalition and I believe that most of the Southerners will resolve their doubts in favor of the administration."

Sparkman, who conferred with the president-elect Tuesday, has always been eye-to-eye with Kennedy. The Alabama senator was one of 16 Southern Democrats who voted earlier this year against a Kennedy-backed plan for Social Security financing of medical care for the aged. It was beaten by a 51-44 Senate vote.

KENNEDY, TOO

Kennedy has indicated he will ask Congress to act on a similar proposal after he becomes president. It is certain to stir strong opposition.

But Sparkman said he believes Kennedy will prove himself adept at the kind of presidential compromise and persuasion often needed to win congressional approval of controversial legislative proposals.

"Sen. Kennedy has never been a meat axe man," Sparkman said. "He has demonstrated that he is reasonable, that he is willing to compromise to get a job done."

In his service in the Senate I don't think he ever has taken the position that he would rather have an issue than have legislation. I think he will be able to get a large portion of his program through Congress.

Ex-U.S. Economist Dies

BELOIT, Wis. (UPI) — Dr. Lewis Severson, 64, chief economist for the U.S. Treasury from 1944 to 1948 died Monday after an illness for several weeks.

Severson was chairman of the economics department at Beloit College. He had been on the Beloit faculty since 1927.

FBI Watching Chicago Count

Justice Dept. Checking Vote Fraud Complaints in Texas, Also

CHICAGO (UPI) — Federal agents lurking in disputed precincts brightened the mystery of Chicago's probe of alleged Democratic double-dealing at the polls.

Evidence that vote fraud helped Sen. John F. Kennedy win in Illinois Nov. 8 could call for a federal grand jury investigation, the Justice Department said as it announced FBI agents are at work in both Chicago and Texas.

The department said in Washington it plans no "widespread investigation" but is following up a "substantial number" of complaints from voters or would-be voters.

The department cited alleged irregularities that "appear to be a violation" of federal election laws. Federal intervention dovetailed with a lull in the month-old vote squabble, as new Democratic state's attorney Daniel W. Wines suspended Cook County Grand Jury sessions for a week in order to examine evidence of alleged poll wrongdoings.

The GOP promptly charged the suspension would end up a week of the jury's 30-day extension and said the suspension was added in indication of Democratic attempts to conceal a "stolen" election.

Ward said he was forced to suspend the Grand Jury until he could decide whether to disqualify himself on grounds the validity of his own election was involved.

Wcmar, Shoots Is Out — With a Cap Pistol

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A woman moved out of an apartment house building site but not until she had taken a few shots at evicting officers Tuesday — with her cap pistol.

Martha M. Smith, 57, her home a target for objects hurled by neighborhood children for more than a month, moved her belongings and two dogs "around the corner" after a last stand against a redevelopment project.

Ex-News Artist Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Funeral service will be held Friday for Perry L. Sink, a retired Detroit News editorial artist, Sink died Tuesday. He retired from the News 14 years ago.

Lighthouse Cathedral, in Staffordshire, England, dates from the 12th century.

Pastor's Gifts of $5 Bills Astonish Congregation

DENISON, Tex. (UPI) — Imagine walking into church and having the ushers pass collection plates heaped with $5 bills and the preacher urging you to take one.

That is what happened Sunday at a Protestant service at Perrin Air Force Base. And it will happen again this weekend.

Chaplain Ransom B. Woods refuses to say where he got the money. He just smiles and says that "an anonymous Christian" has provided the funds to help unfortunate families have a better Christmas. He also refuses to say how much he has to give away.

How did the congregation take it?

"You should have seen the looks on their faces," Chaplain Woods said. "Some were skeptical of the whole thing and others were just plain flabbergasted."

At the first service, only 88 of the 130 persons present took one of the bills.

Woods explained that the donor asked that the persons who took the money find someone less fortunate than themselves and use it to help give them a better Christmas.

Woods said the donor asked only two things—that the recipient write an anonymous letter to the chapel explaining how the money was used, and that the recipient read Matthew 25, which includes Jesus' philosophy on charity.

"Even as you have done to the least of these my brethren, you have done unto me."

Fire Fighters Pick Officers in Waterford

The Waterford Township Fire-fighters Association last night elected Richard Lawson president.

Others elected were James Schuster, first vice president; Kenneth Squiera, second vice president; Edward Smith, treasurer; Ernest Tur, assistant treasurer; and Gregg Miller, secretary.

Harry Wormnest was chosen assistant secretary; Karl Dale and Keith Cushman, guides; Ernest Latimer and Alfred Benblossom, guards. Trustees elected were Lewis Goff, Russell See and Everett Decker.

Bendix Corp. Purchases Micrometrical Firm

DETROIT (UPI) — Bendix Corp. has purchased the assets of Micrometrical Manufacturing Co. of Ann Arbor for cash.

Bendix said it will use the land and building of the company under a long-term lease.

Malcom P. Ferguson, Bendix president, said Micrometrical manufacture of equipment used to measure surface finish of various types of materials. "fits into the continued expansion of Bendix and its interest in the needs of modern industry for more efficient gaging and measurement control systems and for automation-type equipment."

Canada Living Costs Higher on Average

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canadian living costs reached a new high between October and November despite a decline in food prices, the Bureau of Statistics reports.

The bureau set the Consumer Price Index — the nation's cost of living gauge — at 129.6 for November compared with a previous peak of 129.4 in October. A year ago, it stood at 128.3.

The index, which uses 1949 prices as a base of 100, now has gained a full two points from a midsummer level of 117.6. It represents a sharp five-month upward swing.

Increases in the clothing and shelter and "other" commodities and services components accounted for the October-to-November boost. They more than offset a decrease in the food index, the main factor in previous gains.

British Actor Can't Stand Own Pictures

LONDON (U) — Peter Sellers, an amazingly successful British actor at 35, wants to give up acting.

"I write when I see myself on the screen," he says. "I'm such a dreadful, clumsy, hulking image."

New Convention Bid by Detroit Legion

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit legionnaires have renewed their bid to bring the 1962 national convention of the American Legion to Detroit.

The first bid for the convention was rejected by the national executive committee because Detroit doesn't have a minimum of 5,000 hotel rooms.

The new bid, approved by 200 delegates from 120 posts straddled that the 4,750 hotel rooms in the city are supplemented by more than enough hotel rooms to exceed the 5,000-room mark.

Thomas E. Rodnell, Michigan representative to the executive committee, said he will meet with American Legion National Commander William Burke within two weeks to discuss Detroit as a possible 1962 convention site.

Fish Have Trouble Remembering Hook

Fortunately for the angler, a fish is not smart enough to remember being hooked once before, according to a University of Michigan zoologist.

John E. Bardach, U-M associate professor of fisheries and zoology, points out that a fisherman once hooked, or bumped by a car, would be wary of a subsequent similar occurrence.

"But from what little we know about learning abilities of fishes, you would have to hook a bass four or five, perhaps even ten times in a row within a relatively short period of time — say a week — in order that he would remember."

The zoologist adds that a fish may not be biting for other reasons — such as not being fooled by an artificial lure.

Beauticians Protest Shops in Homes

Professional beauty shop operators from Pontiac, Pontiac Township, Avon Township, Auburn Heights and Troy are protesting against licensed beauticians who operate shops in private homes.

The women who maintain beauty shops in store buildings are complaining that hairdressers working out of their homes are "operating illegally" and creating "unfair competition."

The beauty shop operators, who met at a special meeting in Auburn Heights, will meet Monday with Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney George F. Taylor to discuss legal action.

The group complained that enforcement of zoning ordinances in their municipalities has not been adequate enough to protect their interests.

Mrs. Beulah Schemansky, a Troy representative on the County Board of Supervisors, said women with shops in their homes are not paying for business telephone, property taxes and other expenses incurred by beauticians who maintain regular business places.

Mrs. Hugh Wood, operator of the Auburn Heights Beauty Shop at 2380 Auburn Road, said the group also is planning to attend Monday's meeting of the Pontiac Township Board.

The professional beauty shop operators attended a session of the Pontiac Township Board Nov. 21 when a request was made by a township housewife to open a beauty shop in her home.

The request was denied and the township board said it would serve violation notices to women operating beauty shops in private homes without permission.

Clayton Lovelace, enforcing officer for the Pontiac Township zoning board, said he knew of seven violation of this nature in the township.

Mrs. Wood, spokesman for the professional group, said yesterday she had checked with Lovelace and as yet no violation notices have been issued. She said her group intended to find out where the warrants were not served.

However, the board had set no time limit for Lovelace to serve

Arrest 5 Romeo Juveniles After School Damage

ROMEO — Five juveniles who have admitted breaking into two schools in the Romeo Community School District were arrested yesterday by Romeo State police.

The names of the five boys were withheld by police, pending investigation. All of them will appear in Macomb County Probate Court on charges of malicious destruction.

The principal's office at Romeo High School was broken into over the weekend. A window, a glass easel top and furniture were smashed by vandals.

Romeo Junior High School was vandalized Nov. 28. A court date has not been set for the five juveniles.

WILL HOST WORKSHOP — Avondale Junior High School will host the first junior high cheerleading clinic in Oakland County Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Some 200 cheerleaders are expected to attend from schools all over the county. Director of the clinic will be H. Marge Engle, state cheerleading chairman

New officers to be installed include Graham S. Patterson, worshipful master; Kenneth Johnson, senior warden; R. G. Winston, junior warden; Harold Dwyer, treasurer; and Gordon E. Stuyt, secretary.

Joseph Sall is the newly-elected chairman; Winford Rogers, senior deacon; Kenneth Thomas, junior deacon; and David Graves, Lewis Jenkins, Joseph E. Hayward, Billy Daugherty, Firmon Cantrell and Robert C. Reynolds, stewards.

Claude Parks will be married and Clarence Beardsley, tiler.

Choirs to Join for Cantata Sunday Night

GOODISON — The combined adult choirs of Paint Creek Community Methodist Church, Goodison, and Howarth Methodist Church on Silver Bell Road will present a Christmas cantata 8 p.m. Sunday at the Goodison church.

The cantata, "The Music of Christmas," by Ira C. Wilson, will feature Jean McVey, Caroline Phelps, William Reeves and Jane Collins as soloists.

The choir is directed by Philip Johnson. Joyce Major will accompany the singers on the organ.

Paint Creek Community Methodist Church also will be the setting for a candlelight Christmas Eve service at 7 p.m. Dec. 24. The sermon topic will be "God With Us."

The Sunday School of the local church will present its Christmas program Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. All programs and services will be open to the public.

To Sponsor Bake Sale

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Carpenter School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a bake sale beginning at 6 p.m. Friday and at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Tick Tock Market, 2880 Joyan Road.

Council Acts After Over 100 Complain of High Figures

By JIM LONG
WALLED LAKE — All property here will be reassessed within 90 days.

The decision to review some 1,800 parcels was made by the City Council last night before an audience of more than 100 property owners who had come to the meeting to protest high assessments.

The overflow crowd forced officials to adjourn the meeting to the Walled Lake Junior High School cafeteria from the city offices where it was originally to be held.

Council moved unanimously to have all property—residential, business and industrial—reassessed before the first week in March after receiving petitions signed by 117 property owners living in three major subdivisions.

Since those who had signed the petitions were the first to object to unequal assessments as a group, council gave them preference and directed the city manager, who is also the city assessor, to reassess their properties before reviewing the city as a whole.

The protesting home owners live in the Carroll Acres, Minion Knoll and Moorecrest subdivisions.

The purpose of having the job done by March is to give residents an opportunity to appear before the City Board of Review the first and fourth week of March if they feel the assessments are out of line.

The move to have all city property reassessed follows a recent Michigan State Tax Commission ruling that reduced considerably the assessments of two property owners in the Carroll Acres Subdivision.

CUT 17½ PER CENT
Submitting the test cases were Clyde A. Mottor of 1722 Bolton St. and Richard J. Watkins of 1641 Ashton St.

Mottor was given a 17½ per cent reduction in property assessments and Watkins received a 13½ per cent lower assessment.

Acting as spokesman for the petitioners last night, Mottor explained that after the ruling was handed down, he and Watkins felt it was only fair to inform other property owners of the action, and they began circulating petitions.

In a 45-minute prepared speech, Mottor reviewed his unsuccessful fight over the past four years to have unequal assessments reviewed.

Following the wholesale appraisal of city property by a Cleveland, Ohio, firm Watkins Associates, Mottor said a five-man, self-appointed committee discovered discrepancies in assessments. These were pointed out to City Manager George Shaw.

Shaw when told of the inequities explained that there could be no comparison made between front lot and acreage assessments, Mottor said.

Before the Board of Review met in March, Mottor went on to say, appraisal cards were brought to the attention of the city board and "We hope to be able to dip down as low as nine points soon as part of a safety drive," he said.

"For those below 12 points, it would be an educational program only with no penalties involved."

He said his office is working with the traffic safety center at Michigan State University on a technique of mass interviews to make the new program possible.

Gov. Williams accepted two awards from the Insurance Institute of Traffic Safety at Washington, D. C. One was for the state high school driver education program. The other commended the state for extending the program to students of non-public schools.

Williams, attending his last meeting of the group, also was presented a distinguished achievement award by the commission for leadership in sponsoring traffic safety.

LA Charles Holton of the state police traffic and safety division, said highway deaths this year are almost certain to surpass the 1,467 killed last year by at least 100.

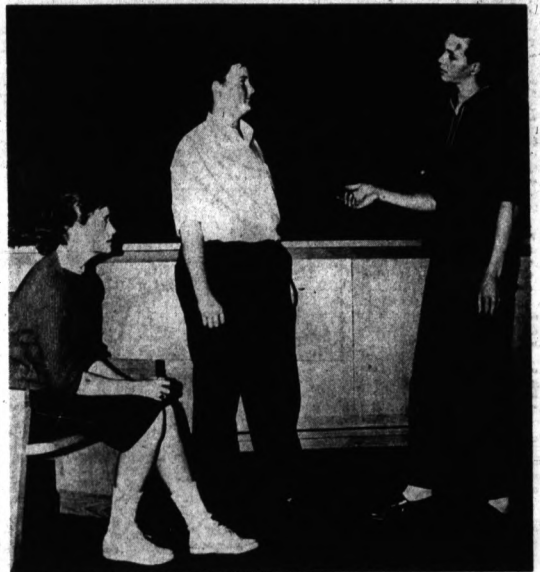

"The die has pretty well been cast now and we look for about a 7 per cent increase," he said.

There have been 1,634 traffic deaths reported so far. Statistics, he said, predict a year-end total of around 1,575.

Women Donate $500 to Community Hospital

ROMEO — Mrs. E. E. Anderson, president of the Romeo Chapter of the Women's Auxiliary of Community Hospital, turned over $500 to the hospital today, according to Hospital Director James Cray.

The group's donation represents a portion of the proceeds from a bazaar held last Thursday at the church, 531 E. Flint St. The family style serving will be from 5 to 7 p.m.

May Be Result of Millage Defeat

48 Empty Classrooms in Berkley?

BERKLEY — The Berkley School District may not have enough funds to staff 48 new classrooms here as a result of an election yesterday in which voters rejected a proposal for a seven-mill operational tax.

School Supt. Milburn P. Anderson said today that the result of the election came as a surprise to all members of the board of education.

At Haven Hill Lodge

200 Educators to Meet

Some 200 adult educators from Michigan will attend the annual workshop of the Michigan Association of Public School Adult Educators, a department of the Michigan Education Association, tomorrow and Friday at Haven Hill Lodge.

The lodge is located in the Highgate Recreation Area in White Lake Township.

Topics to be discussed are "What Constitutes Quality in an Adult Education Program?" and "New Programs and Goals for Adult Education in the '60s."

Major speakers will be Russell H. Seibert, vice president for academic affairs, Western Michigan University; and Robert A. Luke, executive secretary of the national association.

Several group and panel discussions will be held during the two-day session.

Brides, Parents Club Will Fete Children

The South Oakland Branch of the Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association will hold a Christmas party for members' children 2 p.m. Sunday at the Canadian Legion Hall, Royal Oak.

A highlight will be the appearance of Santa Claus. Another attraction will be a marionette show.

A boy from the Oakland County Children's Home, who is a protégé of the club, has been invited to the party.

Refreshments will be served, and cards, balloons and toys distributed to the children.

The association's monthly meeting Dec. 20 will feature a potluck supper with a turkey provided and cooked by the officers.

Each member will bring a gift, and dancing will follow the meal.

Slate Christmas Sing at Avondale PTSA

A program of Christmas music will be presented at tomorrow's 8 p.m. meeting of the Avondale Junior High School Parent-Teacher-Student Association at the school.

Community singing will be under the direction of Ronald Salow, music instructor in the Avondale School District. Entertainment also will be provided by the junior high school vocal chorus.

Squares to Celebrate Christmas Saturday

WALLED LAKE — The Lake Squares dance club will hold its annual Christmas party Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Twain Beach Elementary School.

The 6-year-old club has developed into one of the largest in the county with as many as ninety sets on the floor at one time, according to club president Donald Watkins.

Instructions will be given beginning at 8 p.m. and regular dancing will start a half-hour later.

May Be Result of Millage Defeat

son said today that the result of the election came as a surprise to all members of the board of education.

Anderson reported that the district does not have enough money to operate the new classrooms.

The school superintendent said he does not know what action will be taken by the board until after its meeting Monday night.

The school board said it needed the seven mills for operation in order to hire teachers, buy teaching supplies and provide maintenance for the classroom additions to Berkley High School and two junior high schools in the district.

Voters approved a $1.8 million bond issue in order to finance construction of the additions in April 1959.

Yesterday's operational millage request was defeated by a 94-vote margin. Voting was light. Of the 16,000 registered voters in the school district, only 2,600 came to the polls.

There were 1,790 "yes" votes on the millage proposition as compared with 1,880 ballots cast against it.

The board of education, which warned that the millage would be needed when last year's bond issue was approved, said the seven mills for operation actually would have been an increase of only four mills over the current tax levy.

Three mills of the current levy no longer are in effect since 1944 and $20 bond issues will be retired this year, school officials explained.

The problem of having new classrooms without the funds necessary to maintain or staff them also exists in Macomb County's Ulica Community School District and Wayne County's Dearborn Township School District.

Ulica voters approved a $3.98 million bond issue for construction of five new schools in 1954, but they also rejected a millage proposal which would have provided funds with which to operate them.

A new school has been built in Dearborn Township, and voters there also have turned down operational tax millage proposals.

Won't Extend School Year

Millage Defeat Means Armada District Can't Stretch It to 40 Weeks

The superintendent of the Armada Area School District said today that the school year in his district cannot be extended to 40 weeks now that voters have turned down a six-mill operational tax proposal.

The school year in the district was 39 weeks last year and was cut to 38 weeks this year because teachers could not be given salary increases, according to School Supt. Kenneth W. Stanley.

The school superintendent said that most schools in Macomb County operate on 40-week schedules.

The shorter school year had been approved by the Armada Board of Education in order to compensate the teachers for low salary schedules, he said.

The six-mill operational tax would have been a three mill increase over the tax now levied for school operation in the Armada district.

The proposal was soundly defeated in the heaviest vote ever recorded in the school district, Stanley said.

Since it is a nonregistration district, no figures were available for the total number of eligible voters. The millage request received support from only 159 voters who voted 353 not on the proposition.

The present operational tax runs out this year and Stanley said he did not know yet what the board of education would do about replacing the present millage.

Kensington Attendance Sets Mark

An estimated 50,000 persons visited Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford last month to provide its busiest November on record, according to David O. Laidlaw, park superintendent.

Comparative figures for November were 43,000 in 1959; 38,000 in 1958 and 30,000 in 1957.

Laidlaw pointed out that attendance at Kensington Park in November each year during the past four years has increased by some 4,000. This steady growth has taken place regardless of the varied weather conditions, he said.

Close to 4,000 persons visited the Nature Center to view exhibits, an attendance figure that has remained steady during the past few years, Laidlaw added.

However, due in part to the relatively good weather, there were more visitors walking along the nature trails than usual, the superintendent said.

Santa and the Boy Fish

by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

STROUD Michael, the son of a poor fisherman, has achieved his dream. He has a diving mask and flippers he found among the rocks of the sea. But the one who will believe him is his father. He will take him to the place where he told him the mask and flippers are good!

CHAPTER THREE

Michael could not believe his treasure was gone. He searched frantically under the rocks.

"They were right here — under this black rock! I wouldn't forget the place. Look — you can see where I kicked up all these little pebbles to mark the spot."

His father's father shook his head. "You've been telling stories again, Michael. There never were flippers and mask and you've never been to the bottom of the sea!"

"No, it's all true!" insisted Michael and he began snatching up all the rocks he could find, running wildly up and down.

His mother ran after him and caught him in her arms. "It's one of your dreams, son. Come home to supper now and forget it all."

"It wasn't a dream, it wasn't!" cried Michael and as his mother led him home he kept looking back over his shoulder, expecting any moment to see the treasure lying again on the cliff.

"Now, Michael," said his father at the supper table. "People in the village are beginning to think we have a queer one for a son. I forbid you to tell any more of your wild stories. It's for your own good. I say it."

"I'm going to ask Santa for them!" Michael cried.

HE DIDN'T LISTEN

Michael nodded obediently but there was a faraway look in his eyes. He was not really listening. He was remembering all the things he had found that day in the sea.

The next day he returned to the beach. He swam far out from shore and dove under the water. But he could not dive deep enough or see well enough to find the coveted mask he had discovered the day before.

The water was dull looking and stung his eyes. He returned to shore and spent the rest of the day searching for the lost mask and flippers.

At supper that night he was bubbling over with sudden good spirit. "What is it that makes you so happy?" asked his mother, relieved that he had forgotten his loss.

EYES SPARKLED

Michael's eyes sparkled. "I'm going to ask Santa Claus for mask and flippers. He'll bring them, I'm sure, because I've never asked for anything before and when I tell him what I saw under the sea he will want me to go there again and—"

The old fisherman pushed back his chair and rose from the table. "Enough!" he shouted. "You are out of your head!" And he strode angrily from the house.

Michael turned to his mother. "Isn't it true Santa brings children what they want most in the world?"

His mother gazed into his shining eyes. "I don't know, my son."

"But haven't you heard it's so?" She nodded reluctantly. "I've heard it's so," she whispered.

Michael rushed to his room and slammed the door. A long time later he came out carrying a letter and while his mother sadly shook her head he ran all the way to the village post office to drop it in the mail.

A few days later there was a tapping at Michael's window in the dead of night. The boy's eyes flew open and his heart pounded to hear the sound.

He slipped from his bed and crept to the window and he knew, even before he saw the face peering against the pane, who was there.

Try to Stop Junking of Adrian Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Last minute attempts to prevent the junking of a government-surplus plant at Adrian, Mich., were under way on two fronts today.

A five-member delegation from Adrian appealed to the general services administration to prevent sale of the facility to the high bidder — Strom Machinery Co., Hammond, Ind.

Michigan's two Democratic senators followed this up with a telegram to GSA Administrator Franklin Fioette urging that the plant not be sold without listening to further arguments in behalf of the Harvey Aluminum Co. of Torrance, Calif.

The Harvey firm reportedly is the only one of three bidders for the facility which wants to operate it in Adrian.

"We don't want this plant to go to a junk peddler," Mayor Roy McPhail said. "It is too important to the economy of Adrian."

Delicious Apples Add Color to Christmas

The bright Christmas red and gold of delicious apples lend themselves to every holiday use. It is highlighting the holly green of your Christmas table centerpiece, or adding fresh apple flavor to snacks, sauces, puddings, pies, cakes, and all the other favorite holiday goodies.

There's nothing lovelier to look upon—or to taste—than the traditional Wassail Bowl at Christmas. Its warmth and color offer a very special welcome to your guests, and the baked apples—yes, BAKED—floating in the ale and fruit juices add a fine flavor as well as a festive look. Serve this with a canape tray of your favorite and favorite cheeses and crisp delicious apple wedges, dipping the latter, of course, in lemon or orange juice. And for your guests of all ages, here are two tempting Christmas ways to put fresh apple flavor into holiday sweets for giving or eating. We recommend the Golden Delicious variety for these recipes as well as for salads and refreshing snacks.

Santa's Frosted Apple-Flingers

3 Golden Delicious apples, peeled, cored and sliced

1 cup boiling water

1 cup brown sugar

1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla

Place apple quarters in a pan, add boiling water, cook until mushy. Cool. Cream shortening and gradually cream in sugar. Beat one egg at a time into mixture. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Add 1 cup applesauce and sifted dry ingredients alternately to creamed mixture, beating well after each addition.

Add vanilla and pour batter into a large sheet-cake pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.)

about 30 minutes. Cool and spread with frosting.

Frosting

4 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
2 cups powdered sugar
3/4 cup water

Heat butter gradually to light brown color; remove from heat and add cinnamon and sugar. Thin the mixture to spreading consistency with hot water added a few drops at a time. Quickly spread over applesauce cake and cut into finger-length pieces about 1 inch wide and 1/4 inches long. Makes about 36 "fingers".

Stoney Apple-Squares

8 Golden Delicious apples, peeled, cored and quartered

1/2 cup boiling water
2 cups granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon orange extract
1/2 cup cold water
Powdered sugar

Place apple quarters in a pan with boiling water. Cook until mushy. Strain applesauce, measure 2 cups, add sugar and cook slowly until mixture is very thick. Sprinkle gelatin on cold water and let stand. Remove applesauce from heat, add gelatin and stir well. Add nuts and flavoring and pour into buttered 8-inch square pan to stand until firm. Cut in squares and roll into powdered sugar.

Traditional Wassail Bowl

12 Red Delicious apples
13 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup grapefruit juice
2 quarts ale

Core apples and fill each with 1 teaspoon brown sugar. Place in baking pan and cover bottom with 1/4 inch hot water. Bake in 350 degrees F. oven for 30 minutes, or until tender. Combine sugar and spices in a 4-quart saucepan. Add orange juice, grapefruit juice and ale. Heat, but do not boil, 15 minutes. To serve, pour mixture into punch bowl and float baked apples on top. Makes 12 servings.

For a First Course

Chicken stock on hand? Team with tomato juice and heat, seasoning with salt and freshly-ground black pepper. Nice garnished with a thin slice of lemon. The lemon can be fancied up by inserting whole cloves around the edges of the slices.

Cook Vegetables in Tongue Liquid

SMOKED TONGUE WITH VEGETABLES

Smoked beef tongue
Boiling water
1/2 teaspoon mixed pickling spices
1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
1/2 teaspoon whole peppercorns
1/2 teaspoon small potatoes
1/2 medium carrot
1/2 head green cabbage (about 1/2 pound)
Simmer tongue in boiling water to cover with spices and garlic until tender—about 1 hour per pound. Remove tongue; skin and trim off roots. Add scrubbed unpared potatoes to tongue cooking liquid and cook just before serving.

until tender—about 30 minutes. About 15 minutes before potatoes are done, add pared whole carrots are done, add cabbage cut into 4 wedges with core left intact. Remove vegetables with slotted spoon and serve with sliced tongue. Vegetables will make 4 servings.

Marinate First

When you are planning to use asparagus (from cans or jars) as the filling for rolled sandwiches, it's a good idea to marinate the spears in French dressing. Drain the asparagus well before the buttered bread is rolled around them; Tasty touch for brown beef to tongue cooking liquid and cook just before serving.

Kennedy Feels Queer Wearing Lid but Hatmakers Say: 'Please Do'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Backstairs with the president-elect. Sen. John F. Kennedy has been wearing a hat recently because the hatmakers of Connecticut thought he should and to tell him via Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, who is to be the new secretary of health, education and welfare.

The president-elect has worn hats in the past, but not often; usually, only when the occasion required or indicated it. He's still a little sheepish about being photographed in a hat.

The other day flying down to Florida with his three-year-old daughter Caroline, Kennedy played on his new gray felt hat in mid-flight.

He looked for all the world like a young Wall Street or Madison Avenue executive, on the way home to Westchester after a hard day in the office.

He kept the hat on for about 15 minutes during the flight, apparently to get Caroline accustomed to the sight of her father in a stylish lid.

The hotel which the president-elect is using as his New York headquarters today is the Carlyle which is more stylish than even his hat.

The Carlyle is largely an upper-upper class residential hotel and because of this, there is no room at the inn for the larger part of his party, the secret service and press.

Someone raised this point the other day in Palm Beach with Press Secretary Pierre Salinger and from the rear of his news conference came a concerned voice. "Suppose the Carlyle did let us in—who's got $45-a-day single?"

And speaking of Salinger, he's a busier speaker these days than his boss. Three speeches so far this week—the Women's National Press Club in Washington and Sigma Delta in New York, and a $50-a-plate Democratic fund raising dinner in Wilmington, Del.

Obviously Kennedy appreciated the full military honors accorded him when he visited President Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday. Buddies of the president-elect, however, say he would have been happier without the honor guard of soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen.

This was his first real taste of desk.

the formality awaiting him on in Palm Beach this Friday? J. Inauguration Day and thereafter, all goes well at Georgetown Hospital in Washington, Kennedy will be flying to Florida Friday with his wife and their new baby, John.

Some of the civic leaders are planning quietly for a not-so-quiet welcome at the airport, complete with flowers and a band playing "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

Next question: Will the president-elect hear about and request a change in plans for his arrival?

Police Keep Busy
JACKSONVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—When Police Chief Sam Bollinger returned from vacation he found that policemen on off-duty duty had repainted the police station and city hall. The officers also repainted the top of the chief's desk.

Sees Defense Against ICBM

ARPA Head Disagrees With Teller Statement That It Isn't Possible

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The chief of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency said Monday that "impressive" detection improvements now in sight will make possible a defense against intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Addressing the 15th annual meeting of the American Rocketry Society, Brig. Gen. A. W. Betts took issue with a statement by Dr. Edward Teller, originator of the H-bomb, that building a defense against ICBMs "cannot be done."

"I beg to differ," Betts said. "The important thing now is to get on with the developments of an active ballistic missile defense with all possible speed and the best available talent."

"This is going to be expensive, but the consequences of no active defense at all could be even more so, particularly in the absence of fallout shelters. We must also get on with effective civil defense."

Betts said that a radar system called "Tridex," to be tested on Rot-Namur island near Kwajalein in the Pacific, would furnish "impressively better" detection than has been possible on missile ranges.

He said the new radar will have a range of 2,000 miles, compared with 300 miles for present down-range instruments.

The research expert also called upon Congress to modify legislation which he said makes it difficult to get top scientists in missile defense work.

Farm Sprays Rank as Top Killer of Fish

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Public Health Service says that agricultural pesticides outrank industrial wastes as fish killers in polluted streams and lakes.

The service said that reports from 31 states showed that of 185 pollution-caused "fish kills," 73 were caused by agricultural poisons.

Industrial wastes caused 57, and domestic sewage accounted for 15. Seventeen fish-kills were due to other causes while 28 occurred for unknown reasons.

Insects, disease and fire kill 13 billion board feet of American lumber each year, enough to supply the wood needed for one million average-sized homes.

Dismiss Dope Charges Against Barbara Burns

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Narcotics charges against Barbara Burns, have been dismissed.

She was arrested Oct. 31 in a car with three men. Police said they found marijuana cigarettes in the auto.

Felony narcotics - possession charges were dropped in Superior Court here Monday after her arrest.

Big Breakage Bill

BOSTON (UPI)—An average of 225 windows per month are broken in New Haven Railroad passenger cars. It costs about $81,000 annually for window repairs.

U.S., Canada to Need Outside Supplies in '80s

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A trade group predicts that by 1980 the United States and Canada will need twice the amount of industrial raw materials they now consume and will have to seek some outside North America.

The Canadian-American committee, composed of 60 trade experts, said in a report Sunday that during the next two decades "both countries will... become more dependent upon sources of supply outside the North American continent."

Pontiac Press Home Editor
It's not too early to plan your meals for Christmas week. The more routine chores you do ahead of time, the more hours you will have to spend on special holiday projects.

Salads are an important part of Christmas eating. We think you may like to try some of these new ones. All of them are molded salads.

You might do what one friend of ours does. She spends a couple of hours every so often making up a variety of gelatin salads. Then she offers her family a choice. You could do this for a buffet supper, serving the salad molds on a large chop plate or platter. This first salad is a zesty tomato aspic, chilled right in the tomato juice can. Chopped green pepper and finely shredded cabbage give the salad some body. Serve this in slices.

Crimson Tomato Slice Salad
1 No. 2 can (3½ cups) tomato juice
1½ envelopes unflavored gelatin (1½ tablespoons)
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
Dash Worcestershire sauce
1½ cups finely shredded cabbage
1½ cups finely chopped green pepper

Remove top from can of juice completely. Soften gelatin in ¼ cup of the tomato juice. Heat but-ance of juice to boiling (but do not boil). Add onion, salt, Worcestershire sauce and softened gelatin, stirring until gelatin dissolves.

Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in cabbage and green pepper. Pour into tomato juice can. Chill until firm.

Unmold by removing bottom end of can and pushing contents out in one piece. Cut into 5 or 6 slices and place on salad greens. Top with salad dressing.

The second salad is a two-layer one with cranberry-orange jelly in the bottom layer. If you have bell or tree molds, use them for this pretty salad.

Pineapple Cranberry Molds
1 cup fresh cranberries
½ cup sugar
1 package (3-oz.) raspberry-flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling hot water
¾ cup cold water
1 package (3-oz.) lemon-flavored gelatin
¾ cup syrup from pineapple
2 (3-oz.) packages cream cheese
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 cup chopped chestnuts
2 cups drained pineapple tidbits
1 apple, diced
Mild green

Grind cranberries and orange together. Add sugar and set aside. Dissolve raspberry-flavored gelatin in 1 cup boiling water; add the cold water. Chill till syrupy.

Dissolve lemon-flavored gelatin in second cup hot water; add pineapple syrup. Cool slightly. Soften cream cheese with lemon juice. Gradually add cooled lemon-flavored gelatin. A little at a time, until mixture is smooth.

Chill until it will mound slightly. Fold in chestnuts, 1 cup pineapple tidbits. Spoon into about 8 individual molds or custard cups. Chill firm.

Blend cranberry and apple into thickened raspberry gelatin. Spoon over firm white layer. Chill firm.

Unmold and garnish each salad with greens, pineapple tidbits and a few pomegranate seeds, if you like. Makes 6 to 10 salads, depending on size of molds.

Avocado Wreath Salad is chilled in a large ring mold, then decorated with real holly leaves and cherries before serving.

Avocado Wreath Salad
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¾ cup cold water
1 medium, fully ripe avocado (1½ lbs.)
1 cup lemon juice
Holly leaves
Maraschino cherries
¾ cup mayonnaise
¾ cup heavy cream, whipped
Watercress

Soften gelatin in cold water, then dissolve over hot water. Meanwhile, mash the avocados. Add the lemon juice, salt and mayonnaise.

Add dissolved gelatin slowly, stirring constantly.

Fold in cream thoroughly but lightly and pour into a six cup ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on a chilled flat platter.

Place a circle of holly leaves around the salad, and add maraschino cherries for a touch of color. Place a sprig of leaves and cherries in the center of mold. 6 to 8 servings.

Fresh winter pears garnish this last molded salad. Bright flecks of pimiento add the small touch of color needed for a Christmasy dish.

Merry Pear Salads
8 Anjou, Rome or Comice pears
8 maraschino cherries
Mold:
1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple
1 can (4 oz.) pimiento
1 package (2 oz.) lemon gelatin
1 cup cream, whipped
1 carton (1 lb.) cottage cheese

Combine pineapple and finely chopped, drained pimiento. Bring to a boil. Remove from heat; add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. When gelatin begins to set, fold in whipped cream and lightly whipped cottage cheese.

Pour into 1 large or 8 individual molds; chill until set. To serve: unmold salad on lettuce-lined platter or individual ice cream, cake or other dessert.

Massachusetts 4-H Tries Cranberry Syrup

Cranberry table syrup is making its debut in Massachusetts. The state's 4-H boys and girls will sell the syrup in their spare time for the State 4-H Club Foundation. If the new product succeeds in Massachusetts, consumers can expect to see it elsewhere in the future. The syrup is not too tart and not too sweet. It's for pancakes or waffles, grapefruit or other fruit.

Third Graders Prepare Good Breakfast at School

Plans set for a group of third graders at the Bagley School. With the help of their teacher, Mrs. James Moss, and the Homeroom Mother's Club, they recently planned, prepared and served a well balanced breakfast of orange juice, bacon, eggs, toast, jelly and milk.

Such learning experience at this age may carry over in later years and produce mothers who insist on making one-dish meal. Cook 1 pound of ground lamb over low heat, stirring occasionally, until browned. Drain drippings. Combine the meat

Ground Lamb Basis for Hearty Casserole

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lamb and vegetable casserole is an easy-to-make one-dish meal. Cook 1 pound of ground lamb over low heat, stirring occasionally, until browned. Drain drippings. Combine the meat with a 10-ounce package of frozen mixed vegetables, thawed, salt and pepper to taste, and a 10 1/2-ounce can of condensed tomato soup.

Arrange in a greased 1 1/2-quart casserole, top with 2 cups of seasoned mashed potatoes, and bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Serves 4.

Join Forces With Apple

NEW YORK (UPI)—Leftover roast pork is the basis for a fancy casserole, kraut francise. Combine one 10½-ounce can of condensed onion soup with 3 cups of diced cooked pork and 1 teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce. Mix lightly.

Turn 3½ cups of undrained sauerkraut into a greased 2½-quart casserole. Top with pork mixture and 2 medium apples, cored and thinly sliced. Bake covered in a 350 degree oven 30 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

Chicken in Casserole Gets Tropical Touch

Use frozen chicken (5 breasts or assorted pieces). Dredge with a mixture of ½ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper. Brown chicken in pan and remove to casserole. Blend 1 tablespoon of remaining seasoned flour into drip-plings; stir in 1 can consommé, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ¼ teaspoon ginger and 1½ cups drained pineapple tidbits (No. 2 can). Bring just to boil.

Pour over chicken in casserole.
Cover. Bake at 325 degrees F. for one hour. Serve with rice. Serves 5.

Frozen Punch Flavors Dessert

Flying high but down to earth is this extra special dessert which will enhance your reputation as a hostess, and make a perfect ending to a hearty meal. This light-as-a-cloud dessert is a combination of sour cream, fruit concentrate and egg whites whipped together and poured into an attractive mold.

Strawberry-Lemon Delight
8-ounce can frozen strawberry-lemon punch concentrate 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
4 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
1 pint commercial sour cream

Heat strawberry-lemon punch concentrate in a small saucepan. Soften gelatin in cold water. Stir into strawberry-lemon concentrate until dissolved.

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add sugar and beat until stiff peaks form when beaters are lifted. Add gelatin mixture beating at high speed. Add sour cream and blend thoroughly.

Pour into lightly oiled 1 1/2-quart mold. Chill until set (about 3 hours). To unmold, loosen edges and invert over serving plate. If necessary wrap in a hot towel for a few seconds. Decorate mold with whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Glazed Apple Tarts Nice Finish to Meal

Make up pastry from a favorite recipe, enough for six 3-inch tarts. Roll thin. Cut 5-inch circles from standard aluminum foil. Cut matching circles of pastry and place on foil. Prick all over with a fork. Turn up foil and pastry and pinch all around to form tart shells. Place on a cookie sheet and bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 12 minutes or until lightly browned.

Apple Filling
2 pounds Rome Beauty or Cortland apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons butter
nutmeg

Peel apples and cut in quarters. Place the lemon juice, sugar and water in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Add the apples and simmer until tender, being careful not to break them. Cool slightly; then lift apples from syrup and fill tarts. Add the butter to the syrup and pour over each tart. Dust with nutmeg. Cool, then arrange each tart on a second foil circle, crimping it attractively.

Always Excellent

Make up an extra batch of creamed chicken and freeze it. When you heat it add strips of green pepper and canned mushrooms plus sliced drained mushrooms. Serve in patte shells and call it chicken a la king!

LUCIA BUNS—Lucia buns and coffee are traditionally served for breakfast in Swedish homes on December 13th. They are good enough, however, to rate being served all day long any day throughout the festive season.

Bake Swedish Buns for St. Lucia's Day

Every country has its Christmas season traditions. In Sweden it is the custom to observe St. Lucia's Day, December 13, with special ceremonies in the home. Early in the morning, a young daughter dons the traditional white robe and crown of evergreens and lighted candles, and proceeds from bedroom to bedroom serving saffron-flavored buns and freshly-made coffee. Before entering each room with this simple breakfast-in-bed for family members and guests, she sings a traditional song, the famed "Santa Lucia", outside the door.

Lucia Buns take a little extra effort to make, just as fancy decorated cookies do. And in the same way, they are well worth the effort. Both the flavor and appearance of buns made with saffron are especially appropriate for this festive time of year, and Lucia Buns will be welcomed and enjoyed not only on December 13, but any day of the season.

The recipe below makes an easy-to-handle dough that may be shaped as directed, or, to save time, simply formed into 1 1/2-inch rounds before the second rising and baking.

LUCIA BUNS
(Saffron Buns)
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup margarine or butter
1 teaspoon saffron
2 tablespoons boiling water

1/2 cup very warm water
2 packages or cakes active dry or compressed yeast
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup sifted flour (about)
1/2 cup seedless raisins
Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and margarine; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile add saffron to boiling water; let stand.

Measure very warm water into large bowl. Sprinkle or crumble yeast in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, egg, saffron and 2 cups of the flour; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour to make soft dough.

Turn out onto floured surface; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down; turn out onto floured board; cover and let rest 10 minutes.

Divide dough into 18 pieces. Roll each piece into strip 10 to 12 inches long; cut in half. Coil both ends of each strip in to center of strip. Place two coiled strips back to back to make 1 bun. Place on greased baking sheet.

Cover, let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1/2 hour. Press a raisin deep into center of each coil. Bake in a moderate oven about 375 degrees.

Spicy Nut Doughnuts Take Well to Cider

Have a "fireside" get-together with the neighbors, friends or maybe just the family now that the backyard barbecue season is over. Plan some games that everyone can take part in or set up the bridge table for cards. When the time for refreshments arrives, serve hot cider and Spicy Doughnuts. These spicy rich doughnuts are easy to prepare and delicious to eat.

Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1/4 teaspoon ginger and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cream together 2 tablespoons shortening and 1/2 cup sugar. Add one egg and beat until light and fluffy.

Add flour mixture alternately with 1/2 cup milk. Gently stir in 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts and chill at least 1 hour.

Roll dough out on well floured board or pastry cloth to about 1/4-inch thickness. Cut with floured doughnut cutter or sharp knife. Fry in deep hot fat (375 degrees F.) as soon as doughnuts rise to top, turn. Turn frequently until doughnuts are golden brown.

Remove from fat and drain well. Dust with confectioners' sugar or granulated sugar while still warm. Makes about 1 dozen doughnuts and 1 dozen "holes."

Wants Rocket Built to Hit Moon by '67

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A government scientist said Tuesday that the United States could perfect a giant, low-cost, all-solid fuel rocket in time to put a man safely on the moon by January 1967.

This would be several years ahead of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's schedule for a manned trip to the moon powered in part by liquid fuel rockets.

H. L. Thackwell Jr. of the Grand Central Rocket Co., Redlands, Calif., proposed construction of a five-stage solid fuel rocket which would be manufactured in sections and put together at the launch site.

"Assuming a starting date of Jan. 1, 1961," Thackwell told the American Rocket Society, "it would be possible for the U.S. to land a man on the moon by January 1967."

New Jersey Officially Awarded to Kennedy

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy Tuesday was officially awarded New Jersey's 16 electoral votes.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner and the state board of canvassers met and officially certified returns which showed Kennedy carried the state by 22,081 votes.

The figures showed Kennedy got 1,385,415 votes to 1,345,334 for Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Kennedy's victory margin was less than one per cent of the vote cast.

The Republicans had sought a recount of the vote in five key counties but gave it up last week, after partial recounts produced a net gain of 139 votes for Kennedy.

Five states—Connecticut, Louisiana, Iowa, Ohio and Oklahoma—now are parolling highway traffic from the air.

Street Doesn't Deserve Proposed New Name

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The City Council wants to rename

Service Drive, but has rejected Churchill as a possibility. Councilman Richard Churchill is too august a name for a street only 1,500 feet long and 25 feet wide.

The Belvedere at Charlevoix

Landmark Falls Under Sledge

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — It's almost gone now. The spacious halls and rooms once crowded with the laughter of children and the lilting strain of the square dance now echo only to the heavy sound of the wrecker's boom. And, at the once-stately Belvedere Club House crumbles slowly, so does one of the last remaining symbols of a now almost-forgotten age in which life was lived leisurely.

But 82 years is a long time for a hotel to live. And it's better to die quickly under the wrecker's hammer than to starve slowly to death from lack of business.

Church Merger Plan Raises Local Hopes

The suggestion of Dr. Eugene J. Blah, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S., of the awareness of Protestant regarding a prospective organic union of four of the leading Protestant denominations may or may not be the reflection of the three or four million Presbyterians, said Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

"Before making a judgment of my own, I wish to have a clearer and fuller presentation of the proposal. I am always for any cooperation and harmonious blending of Protestant churches but I also know how slow and difficult the process moves.

"At this moment even the union of our United Presbyterian Church with the Presbyterian Church in the United States seems remote, although it is greatly to be desired," he added.

The proposal made by Dr. Blah to a sermon Monday at the week-long triennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches in San Francisco would consolidate Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Methodists and the United Church of Christ into a "Reformed and Catholic Church of the United States." Other churches would be invited to join.

The Rev. C. George Widdfield, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, said, "I view any efforts of reunion of the Christian Church with hope.

"The problems of the world today are so great that the Christian Church needs above everything to make a clear witness which is now hampered by the churches' division."

Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of Central Methodist Church, had this to say:

"Dr. Blah has given us a forthright and workable plan for reunion of our Protestant Churches. It is worthy of sincere study and earnest consideration. With bold daring the plan would break down denominational barriers and make it possible for us to work with complete accord for the coming of the kingdom of Jesus Christ through His Church."

The Rev. Donald A. Gabler of the Belvedere came into existence in 1878. It served its last season as a resort hotel this past summer. Then it was decided to raise the once famous Charlevoix landmark because it would cost $100,000 to refurbish, and enough people no longer cared for the long, leisurely summer stay in one place.

"That leisurely time has gone," says Mrs. W. P. Stevens of Grand Pointe Farms, a Detroit suburb.

NOW IT IS CARS

Mrs. Stevens, who had been going to the Belvedere for 40 years, said, "Now it is the motor cars and motels. The old timers died and the children became more interested in travel than relaxing for the whole summer at one lovely place."

And the Belvedere was lovely.

In its heyday families used to come from all over by train—getting off at a special station only 100 yards from the hotel—to spend a long summer in a place where bouquets of flowers decorated each of the bedrooms and each table in the great dining room.

The adults sat on the wide veranda and contemplated Lake Charlevoix over a glass of lemonade while the younger folks played tennis on the six courts or circled the private golf course.

Most of the summer visitors came from Detroit, Chicago and Cincinnati, but there were plenty of others from the East and South.

The Belvedere originated in a day when the Kalamazoo Baptist Association came by rail, steamboat or wagon to spend the summer near Lake Charlevoix. It began with cottages which in 1878 grew into a hotel that each season became more spacious and eventually boasted a great solarium and a casino.

Rules City Charter Fixes Board Line-Up

LANSING (UPI) — Representation of a city on the county board of supervisors is primarily determined by charter provision, State Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams has ruled in an opinion requested from Michigan County.

Adams advised Muskegon County Prosecuting Attorney Harry J. Knudsen a city can retain a fixed number of representatives on the county board until the number is changed by charter provision.

The attorney general said the Home Rule Act included a population formula for representation on the board of supervisors, but the charter of an incorporated city, being an act of the legislature, fixes the number.

Buy-American Program May Fall Flat — Expect GIs to Buy More Off Base

By The Associated Press

Shopkeepers near U.S. military bases abroad have taken a second look at President Eisenhower's "Buy American" program and some say now predicting improved business.

If their business intuition is right, there may be trouble ahead for part of Eisenhower's program to stop the flow of gold abroad. Concerned about U.S. gold and dollar resources, Eisenhower on Nov. 16 ordered a drive aimed at slashing overseas spending by a billion dollars annually.

One section of his seven-point program specified that military post exchanges abroad sell only American goods.

But some foreign shopkeepers are betting the GI will want foreign-made cameras, watches and liquor even if it means paying higher prices in stores off base.

"Instead of the American dollar going into the exchanges," an Okinawa businessman predicted, "that same American dollar will come to me."

In Tokyo, a post exchange official said: "Between us girls, everyone knows that if you can't get it on the giza" — Tokyo's main shopping center.

He said business in Japanese bars may pick up.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman in Heidelberg, Germany, said any servicemen who want foreign wines will have no trouble buying them in German stores.

Generally, if American servicemen want to buy foreign goods and have to turn to the open market they will pay much higher prices.

Military clubs and exchanges sell liquor for as little as $1.75 a bottle. That same liquor bought from a Japanese merchant costs about $10.

If servicemen want foreign-made goods badly enough, then an even greater expenditure of money may be required.

"Buy American" order was one of confusion and criticism in some places.

Robert Prosser, American editor of Okinawa's Morning Star said strict interpretation of the order "could quickly bankrupt a number of American-Ryukyuan (Okinawa) enterprises which now contribute substantially to the economy of the island."

He called the regulation "an economic monster that would be worthy of a place in an international freak show."

Sadashiko Otamine, vice president of the Naha Okinawa Bar Operators Association, said the order will have "ill effect upon the militarily based economy prevalent here."

Military authorities on Okinawa turned back a shipment from a local soft drink plant on the grounds it was not American-made.

It turned out the plant is 31 per cent owned by Okinawans but managed by Americans and the matter was straightened out.

One indication of the trend: Salesgirls in Tokyo exchanges are selling Japanese cameras at two or three times last year's price, though total sales remain about the same.

The other special days are Michigan Spiritual Foundations Day, Sunday; Our Government Day, Monday; Michigan Hospitality Day, Tuesday; Our Livelihood Day, Wednesday; Education Day, Thursday; and Our Heritage Day, Friday.

DIETZGEN Slide Rules

A slide rule is a lifetime possession... few purchases ever deserve such careful selection

This year, as every year, thousands of students will reach the point in their training where the purchase of a slide rule is required. This is not only a new experience, but one of much greater importance than most realize. A slide rule is not purchased like a text book for a few months' use and then sold or shelved when the classwork is over. A slide rule is a lifetime possession, a constant companion throughout the career for which the young man is training. If cheap and shoddy, it cannot possibly serve him properly... or inspire the respect for precision and fine craftsmanship which is so essential to success.

Oak Park Upsets Lake Orion; Holly, Dondero Win

Showing little concern for Lake Orion's rating as Oakland County B favorite, Oak Park handed the host Dragons a 41-37 beating in their season debut last night. It was the 2nd straight loop triumph for the Parkers following an opening defeat by Bloomfield Hills of the Wayne-Oakland.

Holly, the W-O power, whipped neighbor Pontiac 41-48, Birmingham Seashore suffered a 68-42 thrashing at the hands of Royal Oak Dondero. Madison slipped Grandbrook 41-39 and Kalamazoo to South Lake 53-41 in some of the other Tuesday games.

Lapeer, Imlay City and North Branch all were beaten while Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows was romping.

Oak Park controlled the backboards and outshot Orion 29 percent to 29 in posting the upset.

The home team led 8-6 after the 1st quarter but trailed most of the way from then on totaling only 13 points in the two middle periods. The Parkers putted away with a 13-5 2nd quarter edge and then held off a late Dragon rally.

Deve Stewart, who had only a total of seven in two games, hit 13 to pace the victory. Bucky Craven topped Lake Orion with 17. Tom Reed got 10 hitting the hoop for the 1st time late in the 3rd period following 10 straight misses.

Some outstanding foul shooting was a key factor for Holly as Fenton matched the Broncos in field goals.

Led by Ron Martin with 13-for-14, the charges of Bob Fenton converted 7 of 12 free throws. Six of Martin's came in the final quarter when the winners broke up a close tussle.

Fenton used a various pressing defense to hold Holly to two-point leads after the 1st two periods. A six-point edge cut in half with six minutes to play but the Broncos started holding the ball and pulled away largely due to George Blanchard 20 for the Cranes.

Newcomer Ray Kudej paced Holly with 13. Martin had 13 and Don McFadden 10. Kudej got 5 of his total in the clinching apex while Roger Hall was swishing two of his three baskets. Reserve Tim Trogan excelled on defense.

Dondero turned on the steam in the 2nd half to bury the Maples as Oaks Hill Fyles and Ron Gann combined to match the Seashore total with 55 and 17 points, respectively. The score had been only 27-29 at the intermission. Ron Nickels sparked Birmingham with 13.

Two foul conversations with 30 seconds left by Tom Redinger, clinched Madison's triumph in an impressive comeback effort. Cranbrook had led most of the way. It was 23-13 at halftime. Jerry Matson hooped 13 for MHS and which was featured by a 132 2nd period. North Branch was behind the way bowing to Kingston, 65-34. Lynn DeGroot got 14 for the hosts.

Farmington OLS belted Ecrouse, St. Francis 56-29 paced by Gary McLean's 18 digits and 10 apices for Jack Nell and Mike Sutter.

Holly, Dondero and Our Lady are now 2-0.

In other Tuesday games involving area schools, Berkley took a 39-29 parting from Dearborn Fordham 1/2 Aces Cruise led to Warren Lincoln, 62-40; Millington trounced Mayville, 61-44; Ferndale St. James defeated Detroit St. Cecilia, 68-46; and Villa Gerald bowed to Center Lane, 67-43.

Arthur Hill, Pontiac Central's 1st Saginaw Valley Conference for this season, won its 2nd game in as many starts with a 58-45 decision over Bay City Handy.

Saginaw High, the pre-season favorite to dethrone PCH, won its season opener by trimming Lansing Eastern, 75-63, and state class A champion Lansing Sexton beat Flint Northern in 2nd straight setback, 69-48.

South Central rivals Imlay and North Branch had a rough night. Oliville Lakeville led all the way to whip the ragged Spartans, 51-40. Roger Lomerson tallied 23 and Doug Perkins 12 in the loss.

Carter, Gloor Are Favored

World's Pin Meet Starts

CHICAGO (AP) — Champions Don Carter of St. Louis and Olga Gloor of Chicago join a select field of 30 men and women bowlers today in match game competition in the rich World's Invitational tournament.

The tough head-to-head play will continue through Sunday. The winner in the men's division will pick up $7,500 of the tournament's total prize money of $40,000. The new women's champion will collect $4,000.

In each of the five days of the finals, the men will bowl four games each against four opponents while the women will bowl two games each against four opponents.

Heading the men finalists, after 36 games of qualifying shooting, was Dick Weber, the St. Louis sharpshooter who has been the man to catch since the field of 128 started shooting last Friday. Another familiar name in major bowling, Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., topped the women's division after 24 games including 9 in the semifinals. The 46-year-old grandmother totaled 4,831 for an average of better than 201.

Mrs. Ladewig, National All-Star titleholder seven times, led runner-up Joan Holm of Chicago by 121 pins. Shirley Garna, another Chicago shooter, was in third place with 4,697.

Weber shot 12 games along with the other semifinalists Tuesday and topped the field with a total of 7,736 for the 36 games. In the 12 games, the 36-year-old National doubles match game champion, posted scores of 1,331 and 1,303 for his two sets of six games. He averaged better than 215 for the 36 games.

Bob Strampe of Detroit wound up his 36 games only three pins behind Weber. Veteran Joe Joseph of Detroit finished in third place with 7,611.

Carter, seeded into the finals, finished his 36 games with a total of 7,316. Mrs. Gloor, also seeded into the finals, posted a total of 4,425 for the 24 games.

Cage Tournament Sites Announced

The state journey quarterfinals will be played at several locations to be selected March 22. Semi-finals and finals will be played at Lansing and East Lansing March 24 and 25.

Rochester Five Withdraws From City A League

Four City League basketball games are scheduled tonight at Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern gymnasiums.

In a schedule change at PCH, the Lakeside Royals will meet the 300 Lounge in a Class A game at 8:30 p.m. The 7 o'clock opener will be a Class B contest between the Avondale Merchants and the Baldwin Merchants.

The Lakeside-Lounge tussle replaces the originally scheduled tilt between Rochester and the Lounge. Rochester, which forfeited its opening game Monday evening, has dropped out of the 'A' league, leaving four teams and forcing a schedule revision.

Two Class C games tonight at PCH will open off in that league: Town & Country faces "C" Battery at 7 p.m. and Smith Fuel meets the Pontiac Police in the 8:30 nightcap.

Circling Birds Guided Anglers to Big Marlin

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

Publisher, The Pontiac Press

The first time we ran into marlin, we were guided by the man-of-war birds. Two score were circling lazily, with a few hardy but misplaced sea gulls joining the aerial rodeo.

Gradually the circling birds flew lower and lower until they began plummeting into the sea to emerge with a fish. These small fry had been driven to the surface by the great fish beneath. These antics can mean marlin, sailfish or these infernal sharks.

Sailfish are one of the most beautiful creatures in the ocean. Often they come up, raise that great topside flap and glide easily through the water with this and the tip of their tails above the surface. It's almost an eerie sight at first for it's absolutely soundless.

Sometimes these big shot dentists of the deep swim right toward the boat, eyed us curiously and passed along with utter indifference. Apparently, nature has taught them that they can take care of themselves and to fear nothing.

The marlin has his own special rules for eating.

The boats drag two fish about 50 feet behind and when the wily marlin detects the morsel, he moves in and gives the tidbit the careful once over. Occasionally he overcomes his "victim" with one mighty swirl and dash. But usually he studies the deal; and when he's satisfied that this is really his cup of tea, he takes a vicious swipe at the bait with that great, protruding bill. This stuns the fish and he turns the hapless catch around and swallows it head first. Father Neptune's mannerly marlin is fastidious. He doesn't gulp or bolt his food.

To stimulate life conditions, you have to check the progress to the trolling fish after it has been hit, so an outrigger drops a swirl of extra line to check the forward motion.

Also, you take off the brake to let the line run loosely while the old marlin is mousing his lunch.

How much line?

Ah, there's the $64 question.

Impulse says: "Strike. Now. 'Hit him.' But striking too soon means the bait is snatched away.

The tricky art of hooking them takes considerable study but assuming you have him nailed, away goes your line and the reel sings. Soon the fish breaks water and leaps clear out of the sea and the result is spectacular.

If he's well hooked, he jumps again—and again—and again; and then he drops down a few fathoms to consider ways and means. In the meantime, you just hold on. Always pressure is kept against the fish.

Then he recalls the ancient adage about "he who fights and runs away..." And there he goes. The reel sings. Your pulse quickens and your heart pounds. The top of a powerful rod bends and the line melts from the spool.

Then he leaps. And again. And again. He comes clear out of water in the bright sunshine and shakes that great gleaming bulk to dislodge the hook. Water flies in all directions near the gleaming light of a strong Mexican sun and he leaves a half circle of spray that frames him.

Again he drops below and again he surfs, or plays a calculated waiting game. The hard pull on the line slowly eases and you reel frantically.

You're gaining.

Then you start that pumping motion known to deep sea fishermen and perhaps you acquire a sizeable amount of that line that really belongs to you anyway.

But all of a sudden this nautical fury darts away and there goes half the line you've gained. Every fisherman that has ever witnessed this spectacular battle can testify that one of the most amazing moments is when the line goes straight back from the boat, but the huge marlin suddenly leaps frantically clear off to the left—or right.

This means the line has bowed under water and you're worried and uneasy, so you reel frantically—if you can—straighten the bend.

Harry Pryale was over an hour and quarter on one of these powerful, heavyweight champions. There were some anxious moments when Harry's cohorts thought the marlin might win and pull Pryale into the sea instead of vice versa. Harry acknowledged that night he privately entertained some of the same disquieting thoughts himself.

Once when a member of our fishing party was struggling with an especially active marlin, Harry Klingler counted the leaps aloud. When he reached "twenty" he added, "I've done the counting myself, but I don't believe it." And the powerful fellow broke clear of the water five more times. It's an open question as to whether the fish is as exhausted as the fisherman.

(The concluding article runs tomorrow.)

But Not This Year

Possible Turkey Season in Michigan

ALLEGAN—For many years, State Forest back in 1954 when 200 failed "highbacks" shooting birds were set free in spring and areas near the Swan Creek wildlife refuge.

Today, six years later, the wild turkey total is now estimated to be in excess of 700 by Friley and Wilson. This after a couple of extremely rugged winters that played havoc with other species.

The original turkeys released in Allegan State Forest by the Michigan Department of Conservation were brought here from Pennsylvania. They caught on so well that, although no turkey hunting is planned this year, chances are good for at least a "limited" season on gobblers in the near future.

The wild turkey is a popular and challenging hunter's target in the eastern part of the United States and in the southwestern Michigan area is eager to try their hunting luck on the gobblers.

Turkey talk started in Allegan.

That is in the discussion stage and probably will come within a year or two.

But the first Friley, Wilson and other Swan Creek game workers will trap wild turkeys and remove this year's surplus to other areas in the state. One of the areas that will likely receive a release of wild turkeys is the Yankee Springs recreation area in nearby Barry County. Release sites will be determined by the conservation department.

If the Allegan broods continue to provide a turkey surplus in succeeding years, a limited turkey hunting season is certain.

When that happens, Friley and Wilson point out, hunters will have their work cut out. "Unlike the waterfowl hunting season where hunters remain in station and wait for their shots, the turkey hunters will have to do plenty of tracking before they get a shot at a wily gobbler."

'Beauties' Mother Guilty; Will Get Psychiatric Exam

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Convicted of mistreating her "sleeping beauty" daughters by drugging them with barbiturates, Lillian Fratantonio will undergo a psychiatric examination before she is sentenced.

A Juvenile Court jury of six men and six women took two hours to find the tiny, 29-year-old mother of five guilty late Tuesday and end a trial that began Nov. 21.

Jury foreman Robert Hillwig of suburban Strongsville said only one woman juror had any strong doubt about a guilty verdict.

Mrs. Fratantonio was released in custody of her husband, Vincent, 35, and her $1,000 bond was continued. Her attorneys said they would decide later whether to appeal. The conviction carries a maximum sentence of one year in jail and a $500 fine.

In allowing Mrs. Fratantonio to return home while he considers disposition of her case, Judge Albert A. Waldman commented: "This is a most unpleasant task. The court has in mind that you have an infant at home."

The judge set no date for sentencing. "First and foremost," he told her, "I'll order a psychiatric examination for you." Mrs. Fratantonio has been underground private psychiatric treatment since last August, a few weeks after her arrest.

When the verdict came, Mrs. Fratantonio dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief. Surrounded by relatives, she hurried from the courtroom by a back entrance.

Still to be decided by Judge Waldman is custody of the two little girls who became nationally known as Cleveland's "sleeping beauties"—Bernadette, 3, and sister Venita, 6. They have been in the care of a Catholic child nurse's home since September.

BLOOD TESTS REVEALING
In September 1959 Bernadette began falling into prolonged comas which mystified medical men. The cause of these comas was still undetermined when last July her sister Venita joined her at Mount Sinai Hospital with similar symptoms.

In early August blood tests at the hospital showed presence of barbiturates, a sleep-inducing drug, in the children's blood.

On Aug. 13 police obtained from their mother a statement in which she admitted giving her daughters barbiturates. During the trial she repudiated this statement.

The prosecution offered no motive for the druggings other than a brief reference in the mother's statement that she hoped giving the girls the barbiturates would bring her and her husband closer together.

In New Orleans

Integration Worker Forced to Quit Job

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A New Orleans gas meter reader, whose integration work helped break the boycott at an integrated school, said Tuesday he is quitting his job because of taunts from fellow workers.

James Gabrielle, formerly of North Providence, R.I., said his quitting date is Dec. 15 and he will try to find another job in New Orleans.

With only $150 to see him through until he finds other employment Gabrielle admitted he may have to leave the city, but "we won't be sneaking out at night."

Gabrielle's wife and daughter have been jeered by demonstrators at the William Frantz School, integrated with the entry of a Negro girl on Nov. 14.

One demonstrator crashed an egg against the car in which Mrs. Gabrielle and the girl left the school Monday.

Fellow workers, Gabrielle said, told him he "shouldn't be doing" what he is by sending the girl to school.

"Nobody is going to tell me how I should behave," Gabrielle told a reporter.

His boss told him, "I don't want to have anything to do with you," Gabrielle said.

One of the men said Gabrielle was contaminating the white race" by sending his daughter to school. "Crack telephone calls have come into the office, one of the callers saying Mrs. Gabrielle and the girl had been shot. When he told his

Nobel Winner, Wife Vanish in Puff of Smoke

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—American Scientist Donald Glaser, who won this year's Nobel Prize for physics, stepped off an airplane here Tuesday with his wife Bonnie, and disappeared in a puff of white smoke.

A huge reception committee and 25 reporters and photographers were waiting at the airport when the University of California scientist appeared at the head of the ramp.

Suddenly a white cloud enveloped the entire group. When it lifted, the Glasers were not to be seen.

Birmingham Architect Chosen

Awarded Fire Station Job

The Birmingham firm that designed the completed Pontiac Public Library building has been selected as architect for the next Civic Center development — the new main headquarters fire station.

The firm of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates got the nod from the City Commission last night in a 4-0 vote.

At the same time, a price ceiling of $375,000 was set on the project.

City Commissioner Milton R. Henry, who delayed selection of the firm two weeks ago, was absent last night. Henry had argued that the contract should go to some Pontiac firm.

Repeated last night were explanations from other commissioners about the bid.

They said the Birmingham firm had bid up to the $300,000 price ceiling on the library and had done "a wonderful job" there.

Set Baptismal Rite Date for Baby John

WASHINGTON (AP)—The infant son of President-Elect John F. Kennedy will be baptized Thursday in the quiet, white-walled chapel of Georgetown University Hospital.

It may be the chapel's first use for that purpose. It was built 13 years ago, and a Catholic sister assigned to the hospital for the last 10 years said she knew of no previous baptism there.

Plans for the baptism were announced by Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger. He said the sacrament will be administered by Father Martin Casey, pastor of Holy Trinity Church in Georgetown.

The child will wear the same christening dress in which his father was baptized.

The chapel is simply decorated, with a white altar against a background of red drapes. Although it can seat about 200 persons, Salinger said only a few persons other than Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy will attend.

Godmother to the infant will be Mrs. Charles L. Bartlett, wife of the Washington correspondent of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times.

Bartlett himself will stand in as proxy for the child's godfather, Stanislas Radzinski, a Polish priest who is married to Mrs. Kennedy's sister and lives in London.

Salinger said the Bartletts are good friends of the Kennedys, and the senator to his future wife.

Consumer Gas Hike Hearings Continue

LANING (AP)—A Public Service Commission hearing on a Consumers Power Co. application for a $13.5-million annual gas rate increase continued today with the commission staff and objectors holding the floor.

The extended hearing on the rate increase proposal is expected to continue Friday. It would affect some 320,000 customers in 30 Lower Peninsula counties.

Milwood Van Sooye, a Washington, D.C., utility consultant, testified Tuesday as a witness for the Michigan Utility Rate Payers Association, an objector.

Van Sooye told the commission that a "last written" for tax purposes of certain utility holdings should not be allowed for rate-making purposes. Under federal income tax law, utilities can speed up depreciation on some properties to realize a temporary tax saving.

Adams Rejected Plea to Appoint Ad Board

JACKSON (AP)—A State Administrative Board member says he wants his job to continue to be filled by popular vote instead of appointment by the governor.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams spoke out on the subject here Tuesday. Adams said he has heard proposals that the constitution be changed to provide that State Administrative Board members—such as the attorney general, secretary of state and state treasurer—be appointed by the governor rather than elected by the people.

"I believe it is vital to keep these important public officials close to the people," Adams said. "There are times when an administrative board member must take a position independent of the governor. His appointment by the governor could result in one-man rule."

Supports Buzzer Plan '100 Per Cent'

City Hails Defense Test Proposal

Civil Defense Day finds Pontiac CD officials hailing the proposal to make Michigan a test state for home-installed buzzers to warn against nuclear attack.

"We support the move 100 per cent," said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and urban renewal coordinator.

It is proposed that Congress allot $200,000 to provide special civil defense signal generators, transformers at key points throughout Michigan.

Leo A. Hoegh, director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization in Battle Creek, said the funds would be sought next session.

It would be up to the public to purchase the inexpensive home buzzers which the generators would be capable of activating through normal electrical outlets in the home.

If the proposal goes through,

Stierer said, Pontiac households will have before them the two big facets of civil defense: family fallout shelters and a home warning system.

For almost a year a prototype family fallout shelter has been open to the public for weekend inspection in the home Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dolsen, 88 W. Walton Blvd.

The shelter is open for inspection today, the 10th anniversary of Pearl Harbor, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Since 1957 when a home warning system was seriously proposed for the first time, the city has been "vitality" interested, said Stierer.

FOR OTHER PLACES, TOO

The system as proposed by Hoegh would be more than a home warning system, though. Not only does Hoegh envision warning buz-zers installed in all Michigan homes, but he wants them in all places of business and employment as well.

According to the 1960 census, Michigan has about 2.5 million homes and 155,000 places of business.

Involved is the little buzzer, contained in a black box about the size of a cigarette package, that has been named NEAR, short for National Emergency Alarm Repeater.

It has been under development for 3½ years and refinements are still being added, said Hoegh, although there was a successful test in Charlotte two months ago.

Pontiac CD officials, foreseeing the need for a home warning system to supplement home fallout shelters, volunteered Pontiac for the test as long ago as 1957. But the nod went to Charlotte. Since then, Pontiac officials have been watching the NEAR system progress, waiting for the day that the devices are put on the market.

"We have always planned to recommend a satisfactory device of this sort to Pontiac area households," said Stierer.

It is obvious to CD officials that the siren warning system is not a good warning for persons indoors because it is not always audible. Nor does it reach persons too far distant to hear it.

DEVELOPED BY GM

Development of NEAR buzzers is being completed by A.C. Sparkplug Division of General Motors Corp. under a federal contract.

It is estimated they will cost $5 to $10 each; the price being quoted today is $7.50.

Householders would plug the NEAR buzzer into a normal electrical outlet and keep it plugged in indefinitely. They could have as many buzzers in the home as they wished.

The $200,000 federal grant would supply an intermediate power charge between the buzzers and the button that would activate them. The button would be located at headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command in Colorado Springs.

If the button were pushed, the buzzers would sound for 50 seconds. This would be warning for households to tune their radios to the Concord stations—640 or 1240 on the dial—for further instructions.

The special generators would convert a small portion of the regular 60-cycle current in power lines across the state to the 250 cycles needed to activate the buzzers. The generators would start operating when the button was pushed.

It is estimated that it would take only one minute to alert the entire country, if all households and places of business had NEAR and some 400 to 600 needed signal generators were installed at a minimum cost of $50 million.

In Michigan, it's estimated that around 10 signal generators would be needed.

Hoegh said Michigan would make a good test state since OGD headquarters is located here and Consumers Power Co. already has cooperated in the Charlotte test.

SHOVE NEGRO PICKET — A Negro picket urging boycott of downtown Tallahassee, Fla., variety stores because of segregation policies, is shoved into the street by one of a group of white teen-agers Tuesday just before the white youths rip into the pickets and tear up their signs. Police broke up the tangle and dispersed the whites before any blows were struck.

Frosty From Start to Finish

Remember Ike-HST Meeting?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The friendly conference Tuesday between President Eisenhower and President-Elect John F. Kennedy recalls a similar White House meeting on Nov. 18, 1952.

Eisenhower and then President Harry S. Truman had a frosty encounter on that day, slightly more than eight years ago. Their relationship has never warmed up since.

Accounts of the 1952 confrontation between the outgoing Chief Executive and the victorious五星 general have described the atmosphere as somber, coolly formal and tense.

Eisenhower, who spent two weeks after the election at Augusta, Ga., received a hero's welcome on his first visit to the nation's capital as president-elect. An estimated half million persons cheered him during a motorcade through the city.

Truman, who was constantly attacked by the Republican standard bearer during the 1952 campaign, ordered full military honors for his successor at the airport. He also posted troops in front of the White House to salute "Ike."

He waited about two minutes for Truman to walk from the residence to the oval-shaped presidential office. The two men shook hands in greeting.

They talked alone in Truman's office for 20 minutes. A photographer who was admitted to take their pictures said they both had "very grim and determined looks on their faces."

The president-elect, wearing a brown double-breasted suit, was accompanied by two aides—budget specialist Joseph M. Dodge and foreign affairs adviser Henry Cabot Lodge.

Fights Blood Disease

SOLOTHURN, Switzerland (UPI)—Actor-director Gregory Ratoff, 63, is said to be in "very serious" condition because of a blood disease.

The Russian-born film veteran, hospitalized at the citizens' clinic here, stated:

"I'm fighting still. It's a tough fight. But I still have hope. I get the finest medicine that money can buy, and the best doctor."

"I hope to return to work some time, but you never know."

France, with an area of 212,659 square miles, is slightly smaller than Texas.

The Eisenhower-Truman talk was the first such conversation since President Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt had met before FDR took office in March 1933.

Roosevelt and Hoover, who met twice, stuck to foreign problems because of Roosevelt's refusal to talk about possible counter-attack to revive the nation's economy in the wake of the depression.

Roosevelt insisted that it would be unwise for him to make commitments to antidepressant measures before he assumed office.

U.S. Personnel Give

Books to Quemoy School

TAIPEI, Formosa (U)—A Christmas gift of 300 books in English and Chinese was presented by Americans Tuesday to the high school of the Chinese Nationalist island fortress of Quemoy.

Books were donated by the U.S. Information Service and by wives of officers of the U.S. air task force in Formosa. Though the island is under sporadic Red Chinese artillery fire the school has an enrollment of 560.

MURDER VICTIM — James C. Eaton, 34, well-known amateur athlete and partner in a Saginaw night club, was murdered early Sunday morning in Saginaw. State police said some $800, the club's night receipts carried by Eaton was the motive for the crime. Eaton was shot in the head as he was changing a tire in a gasoline station across from the club.

Washington, the leading apple state, grows a quarter of the Kansas River was completed at Little Rock in 1873. About 86 per cent of the out-of-state visitors in Arkansas in 1959 came by automobile.

Yet Audiences Won't Attend Clean Movies

Cry of Immorality Scares Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After two years of tinkering with movie morals, Hollywood is getting scared.
The film industry is once again confronted with the bogeyman of boycott. If there's anything that can create a scare with the movie makers, that's it.
Hollywood faced the boycott threat in the '20s, when scandals and racy films prompted the producers to hire Will Hays as purveyor. Again in the '30s, a loosening of moral attitudes in films brought public censure. This ended in a tightening of the Production Code with a close liaison with clerical moralists.

The measure of drift from church-favored morality was demonstrated last week by a statement from the Roman Catholic bishops of the United States.
"A national crisis" was what the bishops called the increase of morally objectionable films from Hollywood. They called for a reform of the "presently ineffective" Production Code. The Legion of Decency pledge to boycott indecent, immoral and unwholesome films will have added force next Sunday. On that day, faithful in every Catholic church will be asked to take the pledge.

DON'T IGNORE BISHOPS
The Motion Picture Association has largely ignored public reaction to its change of moral attitudes for the screen. But it couldn't ignore the bishops.
The producers agreed that films have been undergoing an evolution to "adult-oriented production," but denied any change of moral standards.

One wonders if they see their own movies. In "Strangers When We Meet," Kim Novak and Kirk Douglas have a blazing adulterous affair and come out of it unscathed, unscarred and unrepentant. Prostitution is treated in business-like terms in "The World of Suzie Wong" and "Butterfield 8." Homosexuality figures in "Spartacus" and "Suddenly, Last Summer."

Producers might well argue that they are dealing in nothing new. Adultery was a theme of the Bible and the Aeneid. There is eroticism in the Bible (Song of Solomon) and sadism in Shakespeare.

The trouble is that Hollywood doesn't always treat these themes classically. The result is too often shocky and sensational.
The trouble also is that American movie makers traditionally sell their product as family entertainment.
You can sympathize with part of Hollywood's dilemma. The studios want to stay in business. The pictures that sell nowadays are generally sensational — "Psycho," "From the Terrace," "A Summer Place," etc.

Boy Killed as Sled Runner Pierces Throat

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) — A boy was killed Sunday when his sled hit into the rear of another sled on his grandfather's farm near here.

Authorities said a runner on the front sled fatally pierced the throat of Daniel J. Leno, 12, of nearby Stoytown.
The youngster's sled crashed into the back of another boy's sled which had slowed down after hitting some melted snow.

Vapor Trail Tracking Idea for Satellites

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Space scientists say that there's a simple way of tracking descending spacecrafts or satellites: Have them release a trail of sodium vapor.
The vapor would be energized by radiation in the fringes of descent.

space and would glow brilliantly, just as sodium vapor lamps glow on streets and highways.
This explanation came Monday from Wallace Harper, ceramicist, and Ralph Armstrong, with temperature metallurgist, at Lockheed's missiles and space division.
They said the glowing trail would remain stable for about 30 minutes, and would make it possible for observers to plot accurately a space craft's angle of descent.

State Welfare Cases to Gain by Clean-Out

LANSING (AP) — Welfare recipients will get the bulk of $21.3 million distributed by Gov. Williams and his administrative board Tuesday in another clean-out of the state's general fund treasury.
The board earmarked $12 million for programs of old age assistance, aid to dependent children, the blind and others receiving welfare benefits. Another $20 million will be due Dec. 15.

Payrolls for 25,000 state employees Dec. 15 will consume $4.4 million and withholding taxes $1.9 million.
The remaining $3 million will pay bills to various vendors supplying state agencies and departments.
The payout will leave the general fund treasury with a deficit of $37.1 million.

Swainson Now Behind State Con-Con Plan

Says He Bows to Will of People: Was Against Idea During Campaign

LANSING (U-P)—Gov.-Elect John B. Swainson says he will recommend, yet approval of a constitutional convention.

He said he will speak out for the proposal that will go before Michigan voters at the 1961 spring election in April.

"The people have spoken; I am going to support the will of the people," he told newsmen.

The governor-elect fought against a constitutional convention proposal approved by voters Nov. 8. It revised the system for electing delegates, easing the voting requirement for calling a convention and set the state for a state-wide vote on the question.

Throughout his campaign, Swainson stressed that he supported constitutional reforms, but through amendment rather than wholesale revision.

The proposal got another boost last weekend when the Michigan AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) revised itself and announced support.

Following the election, Swainson indicated he would not oppose the April ballot proposal. Tuesday's statement that he would actively support it put him on the side of Gov. Williams and other Democratic leaders who endorsed a convention in the fall campaign.

Last week, Swainson appointed Dr. James W. Miller, soon to become president of Western Michigan University, to head a bipartisan commission that will plan for a convention in the event it wins voter approval.

Expect Fast OK on Sales Tax Boost

LANSING (U-P)—Michigan legislators arrived in Lansing today to raise the state sales tax from three to four cents.

Republicans and Democrats alike voiced hope the job would be completed by tonight.

Lawmakers, including nearly a score who will leave after the end of the year, answered the summons of Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who also will soon depart from the capital.

Gov.-Elect John B. Swainson, his Democratic successor, said there was "virtually unanimous" support for a quick session that could be wrapped up in a matter of hours. As business governor, Swainson will preside over the Republican-controlled Senate for the last time.

The added penny on the sales tax would raise about $120 million a year in new revenue for the debt-plagued state treasury. The higher rate would start Jan. 1.

Voters, in effect, authorized the increase at the Nov. 8 election by raising the constitutional ceiling on the sales levy from three to four cents.

The only opposition to the one-cent increase was likely to come from Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, Clyde H. Gierings, R-Ipsland, and perhaps a few other GOP senators.

Gets Urban Renewal Award

HOMEOWNER CITED—Mayor Philip E. Rowan (right) presents to Edward F. Fitzgibbon, 81 Willard St., a certificate for being the first property owner within the urban renewal area to complete repairs bringing his home up to the standards of the city codes. Commissioner Robert A. Landry, Fitzgibbon's City Hall representative, looks on. A retired Consumers Power Co. repairman, Fitzgibbon added a coat of paint, a new sidewalk and a new porch to the frame home he has lived in 40 years, all within a few months after the urban renewal program got under way. Attached to the certificate is a window sticker for display in homes that have been rehabilitated to urban renewal standards.

Parking Free for Shoppers

No Charge Saturday to Christmas in City Downtown Lots

There'll be free parking for Christmas shoppers in the downtown municipal lots for two weeks beginning Saturday, thanks to an informal agreement made last week between the City Commission and leaders of the Downtown Merchants Assn. (DMA).

Free parking will continue through Christmas Eve. Metered parking will be in effect, as usual, on the streets, however.

Estimated revenue of $4,300 for the period is to be deposited in the parking fund on a 50-50 basis by the city and the DMA, $2,150 apiece, the city's share out of unappropriated surpluses.

"Free parking will make an added convenience to make downtown parking an attractive center for Christmas shoppers," said Clifford Grogg, DMA, president.

The DMA has provided free parking during brief sales periods in the past, but never for an extended period during the Christmas season.

This is also the first time the city has agreed to chip in to make up revenues for the fund that pays off the parking revenue bonds.

'Beauties' Mother Guilty; Will Get Psychiatric Exam

CLEVELAND, Ohio (U-P)—Convicted of mistreating her "sleeping beauty" daughters by drugging them with barbiturates, Lillian Fratanotto will undergo a psychiatric examination before she is sentenced.

A juvenile court jury of six men and six women took two hours to find the tiny, 29-year-old mother of five guilty late Tuesday and end a trial that began Nov. 21.

Jury foreman Robert Hillwig of suburban Strongsville said only one woman juror had any strong doubt about a guilty verdict.

Mrs. Fratanotto was released in custody of her husband, Vincent, 31, and her $1,000 bond was continued. Her attorneys said they would decide later whether to appeal. The conviction carries a maximum sentence of one year in jail and a $500 fine.

In allowing Mrs. Fratanotto to return home while she considers disposition of her case, Judge Albert A. Waldman commented: "This is a most unpleasant trial. The court has in mind that you have an infant at home."

The judge set no date for sentencing. "First and foremost," he told her, "I'll order a psychiatric (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Pearl Harbor Stays Grim War Memorial

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (U-P)—The memory of a grim piece of history returned today—as it does each year—to remind Hawaii and the world of a searing lesson written in bombs and blood.

Nineteen years ago—Dec. 7, 1941—more than 2,400 sailors, soldiers, Marines and civilians died during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, called "the day of infamy" by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In the battleship Arizona alone, 1,102 men—from admiral to seaman—perished in a few minutes. Those first U. S. dead of World War II are still entombed in the sunken hulk in Pearl Harbor's depths.

On that Sunday 19 years ago, Pearl Harbor and its 30-odd ships were beginning to shake off the night's slumber.

On the northern side of Ford Island, in the middle of Pearl Harbor, was Battleship Row. The big ships, tied up singly and from the north, were the Nevada, Arizona, Tennessee, West Virginia, Maryland, Oklahoma and California. They were the core and backbone of the Pacific battle fleet.

Over the sea the Japanese air squadrons droned toward their target. It was a beautiful morning.

Between 7 and 7:30 a.m., a soldier plucked up the approaching attack force 123 miles at sea on his search radar at Kahuku, the northeast tip of Oahu.

He reported the sighting to his superior, who did nothing because he thought it was a group of expected B-17s.

At 7:55 a. m. time ran out. Planes came in waves—from the east over Diamond Head, and from the north.

They laid torpedoes in the harbor and dropped bombs. They strafed airfields, swooping down to a few feet from the ground.

The Arizona got it worst of all. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr., Pacific Air Forces commander, said in a Pearl Harbor Day statement.

"Nineteen years ago military installations in Hawaii were the victims of a surprise attack that started World War II. The cost of that encounter was heavy, and some of the scars still remain."

President-Elect Talks to Dag at Breakfast

Kennedy's Choice for Secretary of State Is Expected Soon

NEW YORK (U-P)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy today selected Rep. Stewart Udall of Arizona to be his secretary of the interior—the third of the 10 cabinet posts to be filled for the new administration.

The Arizona house member will serve alongside two governors, Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Kennedy's choice for secretary of health education and welfare, and Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, who will be the new commerce secretary.

While cabinet appointments are coming along slowly—Kennedy wants to make sure of getting the best possible men for the positions—he said Tuesday night he expects to announce soon his choice of secretary of state.

While the president-elect conferred over the breakfast coffee cups with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations, there was an indication whether the American political scene and the State Department post came into the talks.

The two conferred for an hour and a half. Neither commented at the conference's conclusion.

Kennedy said in a statement that the 40-year-old Udall will bring to the position "vigor and imagination" for the important task of preserving and developing "America's vast and abundant natural resources."

The Udall appointment was by no means a surprise. He had been a virtual certainty for days.

Kennedy also had a luncheon engagement with a British representative at the United Nations, David Ormsby Gore, a longtime friend.

During the afternoon he longed to give the invocation at the inauguration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy in Washington next month. Kennedy is a legal resident of Boston.

With Udall by his side, Kennedy held a news conference at the Carlyle Hotel on the Upper East Side to confirm the appointment.

"Udall, he said, will head a department with more than 50,000 men and a budget of more than $400 million."

"This department," Kennedy said in his statement, "is the guardian of that natural wealth which is the foundation of our present greatness and the key to our future progress."

"The coming years will witness an enormous increase in our need for natural resources if we are to meet our expanding commitments to our own people and to the free world."

Be Prepared for Light Snow; Thursday Cold

There's a chance of snow flurries or light snow late this afternoon or evening, the weathermen say. The low will drop to 27.

For the next five days temperatures will average two to four degrees below the normal high of 40 and normal low of 25.

Thursday and Friday will continue cold but temperatures may be somewhat warmer over the weekend.

Precipitation will total about one-fourth inch in snow flurries and showers or snow flurries again Saturday or Sunday.

Nov. 30 Injuries Fatal

FLINT (U-P)—Injuries claimed in a Nov. 30 accident suffered the life of William S. Siebert, 38, Clo, early today, state police reported.

All-Time Mark Set for November Cars Sell at Record Pace

DETROIT (U-P)—The automobile industry is in the midst of a "true boom" in car sales, Ward's Automotive Reports, statistical agency for the industry, claimed today.

The statistical agency based its claim for a sales boom on an all-time November new-car sales record last month.

It estimated 530,285 domestic-built cars were sold during November, compared with the previous November record of 528,179 set in 1955.

Retail sales in the final 10 days of November were 12.2 per cent above sales in the previous 10 days, Ward's said. Average daily sales during the final 10 days of the month were 23,153, the best daily sales rate for any 10-day period since June.

Despite the November peak, however, sales last month were about 10,000 behind the October total of 540,307 units.

Almost 30 per cent of the cars sold last month were compact, Ward's said. And shipments from the factories were still exceeding sales.

Ward's said factory shipments of new cars to dealers during November exceeded sales by about 50,000 units, giving dealers an inventory of about 372,000 new cars at the end of the month.

To Give Invocation

BOSTON (U-P)—Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, said today he will give the invocation at the inauguration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy in Washington next month. Kennedy is a legal resident of Boston.

Borough Chief Jack Guilty; Faces Ouster

NEW YORK (U-P)—Manhattan Borough President Hulan Jack faces automatic ouster from his $25,000-a-year post after conviction on conflict-of-interest charges involving a $4,400 deal.

Jack, a West Indies emigrant who fought his way to the top in the city's rough and tumble Democratic politics, is the highest-ranking Negro municipal official in the nation.

The verdict late Tuesday by an all-white jury stunned Jack. His attorneys said that he would appeal—and that Jack would not resign.

The city charter, however, makes it plain that any public official convicted of a crime automatically forfeits his job.

A spokesman for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said it was his understanding that with the conviction, Jack is now out of office and that no action by the Republican governor is necessary.

Jack could receive misdemeanor jail sentences totaling three years, plus fines of $1,000. He will be sentenced Jan. 16.

Specifically, Jack was found guilty of twice violating the city charter by permitting Sidney J. Ungar, a lawyer and real estate operator, to pay $4,000 to rededicate Jack's Harlem apartment.

At that time, Ungar was seeking city business, which needed board of estimate approval. Jack was a board member.

Jack also was convicted on an additional charge of conspiring to obstruct justice in telling the district attorney a false story to cover up the remodeling job.

The jury cleared Jack of a fourth count—accepting a gratuity. The jurors accepted his story that the transaction was a loan, rather than a payoff.

The guilty verdict came after the jury had deliberated only 4 hours and 35 minutes. An earlier trial on the same charges ended in a hung jury last July.

Here Are Helpful Hints for Harried Yule Shoppers

By JANET ODELL

Aunt Matilda's gift is giving us a little trouble this year; we're not ready to choose it yet! In the meantime, here are a few miscellaneous suggestions. Perhaps one is just the gift you're looking for.

A couple of banks are interesting. One is made of plastic and stands about two feet high; you have your choice of a grandfather's clock or a lamp post. They would take years to fill.

The other is a brass bell with a black wooden handle; it's a little more decorative—and smaller. Is your wife hinting for a milk stool? Present her with a fancy gold bank with the words "for my milk" on the front. Then she can start pinching the grocery money.

Have you seen the long plastic closet containers that can be used for purses or shoes? All the contents are visible and a full-length mirror makes selection simple.

The job is to be completed before the first session of the City Board of Review in March. (For details, see County News, page 24.)

Walled Lake OK's Total Reassessment

Walled Lake property owners will get new assessments within 80 days.

The City Council last night directed City Manager George Shaw to have the entire city reassessed following protests of more than 100 home owners objecting to high assessments.

In water-conscious Oakland and County, toy boats are most appropriate. We saw one large truck with four boats in it. Think of the fun a junior skipper could have with that.

One store is featuring a small car tool kit. It's a zipped leather case. In addition to an assortment of tools there is a polishing cloth included.

Everyone—but everyone—carries pictures around. A teen-ager might like the little leather case filled "Classmates." Another similar case has this inscription on the front: "SOG With PIP" (Silly Old Grandmother with Pictures in Purse) Fun!

Woman for Treasurer?

Two Michigan Cities Hit 100,000 Population

WASHINGTON (U)—There are now 130 cities in the United States with populations of 100,000 or more. Ten years ago there were 107.

Reporting on the basis of final figures from the April 1 census, the government said today 27 cities have been added during the past 10 years to those in the 100,000 class. At the same time, four cities lost enough population to drop out of the top rankings.

The census bureau said the cities which lost their places were Wilmington, Del., Reading, Pa., and Fall River and Somerville, Mass.

The 27 cities which have moved into the 100,000 class are: Tucson, Ariz.; San Jose, Calif.; Albuquerque, N.M.; St. Peter-burg, Fla.; Jackson, Miss.; Anaheim, Calif.; Fresno, Calif.; Lubbock, Tex.; Lincoln, Neb.; Madison, Wis.; Rockford, Ill.; Greensboro, N.C.; Topeka, Kan.; Glendale, Calif.; Beaumont, Tex.; Columbus, Ga.; Portsmouth, Va.; Newport News, Va.; Dearborn, Mich.; Hammond, Ind.; Winston-Salem, N.C.; Lansing, Mich.; Anaheim, Calif.; Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Wichita Falls, Tex.; Torrance, Calif.; and Santa Ana, Calif.

By coincidence, two of the above 100,000 cities were credited with exactly the same population and share the No. 96 ranking.

Juniors Play and Sing

The University of Michigan Alumnae were guests of Mrs. Theodore E. Wierwens Tuesday evening at her home on Ingersoll Road. A group of the "Crystalides" from Pontiac Northern High School sang "To the Manger" and "Mary's Lullaby" by Katherine Davis, also "Sleigh Ride" by LeRoy Anderson.

Juniors members of the Tuesday Musicals continued the program, Pamela Griffin played "Præstidium" by Mendelssohn. Mariene Beale sang "My Goddess Cella" by George Moore and "My Mother Rides Me Blind My Hair" by Raydn. Deanna Belyea was her accompanist.

Pamela Morris presented flute solos "First Movement, Suite X in B Minor" by Bach and "Scherzino" by Andersen. Her accompanist, Shariel Isanhar, then played "Introduction and Fugato in D Minor" by Cuthbert Harris.

New members Marian Patch and Patricia McCandless were welcomed.

Observe Enrollment Ceremony

Women of the Moose observed their enrollment Monday evening at Moose Hall with 31 members present.

Senior Regent Mrs. Vern Taylor introduced Mrs. Charles Mellor, social service chairman, who presented her committee.

Mrs. Harold Finn, past senior regent, entertained with accordion solos.

In ceremonies honoring Mrs. Fernan Huston, college regent, Mrs. R. L. Terroux was enrolled in Home Chapter.

Proceeds from the Christmas dance on Saturday will help defray expenses of the children's party Dec. 17 at 2 p.m. in Moose Hall.

Gifts will be exchanged by chapter members at a party on Dec. 19 and baskets filled for needy area families.

Buffet refreshments were served from a long table decorated in the holiday motif.

Plan for Annual Exchange of Gifts

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party and gift exchange when Aremie Chapter 503, Order of the Eastern Star, met Monday evening at Roosevelt Temple. The affair has been set for Dec. 13.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. William Cox and Mrs. Marion Holmes. In charge of refreshments were Mrs. Bernard Garner, Mrs. Albert Holton, Mrs. Russell Canterbury and Mrs. Lorn Folen.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Joyce Thoe, bride-elect of Ronnie Kilgore, was honored at two recent bridal showers.

Mrs. Craig Romeo of Fernbary Drive was hostess for a kitchen shower Sunday. Friday evening a miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. William Park and Mrs. Leonard Berglund at the Berglund home on Clintonville Road.

The bride-elect's attendants will be her sister Janet, maid of honor, and Judy Jacobson of Drayton Plains and Mrs. Warren Lindke of Anoka, Minn., bridesmaids.

The couple, whose parents are the Fremont Thoes of Dorchester Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Newt Kilgore of Hammond Lake Drive, will be married Dec. 23 at St. John's Lutheran Church.

Tell Winners of Duplicate

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club had 14 tables in play at Monday's meeting in the Elko Temple.

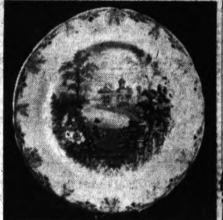

Winners were Mr. and Mrs. Ericson Lewis, David Utley and Melvin Small, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Col.

Eunice Farmer Asks:

You Know How to Sew Simple Seams?

"Dear Eunice Farmer:
"How can I keep the facings from slipping out and showing at the edges of my neckline? Most women who sew seem to have this same trouble."

Mrs. J.E.H.

Dear Mrs. J.E.H.

I don't know of anything that makes a garment look more homemade than to see the facings. If the facings were under-stitched, this would never happen. Before the under-stitching can become effective, you must clip and grade your seams correctly. The following instructions apply to finishing a curved or scooped neckline.

1. After the neckline has been stitched, grade the seams to avoid a ridge when pressed. Grading the seam means to trim both seams to about half their original width. Now trim the facing seams in half again.

2. Carefully clip to the stitching line, every inch or so. This is always necessary for an inner curve in order to release the fabric and permit the neckline to lay smoothly.

3. To prepare for under-stitching, you must hold your garment fabric only in one hand and all the other seams toward the facing in your other hand. Machine stitch through all the layers of fabric except your garment itself. This stitching should be done as close to the seam as possible and is done on the facing.

4. This is called under-stitching, and should be done with all faced edges except the front of a suit or coat. It will prevent the facing from ever slipping out.

"Dear Eunice:
"When finishing a coat collar, etc., with a running stitch by hand, is there a special way to do this?"

Mrs. H.J.K.

Dear Mrs. H.J.K.:

The stitch you are referring to is called hand picking, and you will find it on many coats and suits made of camel hair, cashmere, or any other soft fabric. It usually is found on collars, pockets, and the fronts of suits and coats. It serves two purposes: it is decorative on a plain fabric, and it will keep the facing and the garment fabric from separating.

Hand picking is done with buttonhole twist to match the garment. Each stitch is taken separately and is made with a series of tiny back stitches. These stitches should be about 1/4-inch apart.

After your needle comes up on the right side of your garment, take a tiny back stitch and then go forward to the next stitch.

These stitches should not be pulled tight, but should almost look like a tiny French knot. If you are doing the hand picking where both sides of your garment will show, be careful not to make more than a prick on the wrong side.

Hand picking is also a beautiful way to finish a zipper. A zipper is certainly not a decorative touch to your clothes, therefore an invisible type stitch is much more attractive than machine stitching, especially on plain colored fabrics.

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:
"Would you please list the items necessary to make up a complete sewing basket. So many women on my Christmas gift list do their own sewing that I thought I might give them a sewing aid this year. Do you think they would appreciate this type of gift?"

Mrs. W.G.J.

I think this is a terrific idea. So many of us spend our time and money on gifts that have no real value. What a joy to receive a special sewing aid that we would have considered an extravagance to buy for ourselves.

The mainstay of a well-equipped sewing basket would be: silk pins, pin cushion, needles in assorted sizes, large spool of white thread for handy basting, beeswax, thimble, tape measure, 5-inch metal ruler, small, sharp scissors for clipping and general use, and marking chalk.

Some of the extras which any woman who sews would cherish are: Pinkish shears, 9-inch cutting shears, pin-it skirt marker, steam iron, sewing basket, tailor-trix pressing board, and a large cutting board. Add special value to the new scissors by attaching a note "For Mother's Use Only."

The little troubles you encounter when you sew may be shared by many women. Let me know what they are and I can help you. Submit your questions to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press, for answer in the column.

A total of 1,788,392 people visited the American Museum of Natural History in New York City during the fiscal year that ended last June 30.

Mild Dips in 1st Quarter of '61, Say Businessmen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Businessmen with production capacity below planned levels and profits are trimming spending for factory expansion and modernization, the government reported today.

It said investment outlays now are below planned levels and have been declining gradually since June.

A survey of business plans indicated a further mild dip in the first three months of 1961 in many industries.

Government economists said the slippage in capital spending would help contribute to an expected slowdown in the economy generally. But they considered the retrenchment in business investment plans light, and not a major depressant of economic activity.

"Nobody is slashing any programs," one expert commented.

The survey was made by the Commerce Department and Securities and Exchange Commission. Their report estimated that outlays for plant and equipment for all of 1960 would total $35.75 billion, about 10 per cent more than last year but about 4 per cent below the level projected by business at the beginning of the year.

Many of the cutbacks—either made already or planned for the future—reflected the fact that 1960 demand and production in many manufacturing lines have failed to meet expectations. Factors include:

• By and large, the members of "Congress vote their convictions," Sparkman said in an interview.

Some of them will oppose some of the things Kennedy wants. But I don't see any signs of a coalition and I believe that most of the Southerners will resolve their doubts in favor of the administration.

Sparkman said he does not believe his more conservative Dixie colleagues will join in any firm coalition with the Republicans aimed at blocking Kennedy's programs.

Kennedy, too

Kennedy has indicated he will ask Congress to act on the similar proposal after he becomes president. It is certain to stir strong opposition.

But Sparkman said he believes Kennedy will prove himself adept at the kind of presidential compromise and persuasion often needed to win congressional approval of controversial legislative proposals.

"Sen. Kennedy has never been a meat axe man," Sparkman said. "He has demonstrated that he is reasonable, that he is willing to compromise to get a job done."

"In his service in the Senate I don't think he ever has taken the position that he would rather have an issue than have legislation, I think he will be able to get a large portion of his program through Congress."

Ex-U. S. Economist Dies

BELOIT, Wis. (UPI)—Dr. Lewis Severson, 84, chief economist for the U.S. Treasury from 1944 to 1948 died Monday after an illness for several weeks.

Severson was chairman of the economics department at Beloit College. He had been on the Beloit faculty since 1927.

The report estimated that plant and equipment outlays would slide to an annual rate of $34.9 billion in the first three months of 1961, compared to an estimated rate of $35.6 billion in the final quarter of 1960.

These outlays hit a high rate of $36.3 billion in the June quarter, then slipped to $35.9 billion in the following three months. Only three months ago the government survey indicated a $26.3 billion pending rate for the third and fourth quarters of 1960.

WAIT FOR SUMMER

Economists said there were some indications the gradual downturn would persist beyond March. The consensus of 1961 forecasts has been for no real pick up in the economy until summer.

Large cutbacks were reported for the railroads and the airlines. Officials said the railroads had a poor year in 1960 and have little internal financing available for purchasing new equipment. Airline investment has been dropping since spring, when jet buying hit its peak.

Lesser declines in capital outlays were reported for iron and steel, electrical machinery, autos, paper and petroleum.

The next government survey of capital spending plans will cover all of 1961. A McGraw-Hill study for next year has projected a decline of 3 per cent. That would be not nearly so bad as the 17 per cent drop which occurred from 1957—still a record year — to 1958.

RUNS GANTLET — Mrs. James Gabrielle walks her daughter Yolanda across a street from integrated William Frantz School to a waiting car for a police-escorted trip home after classes. She is one of the few white parents to keep her child in the school despite angry, jeering segregationists who daily hurl insults and sometimes eggs at the defiant mother.

Surplus Outlay Over $9 Billion

Rises by $150 Million in Month but Shows a Decline From 1959

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government's investment in price-supported wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, grain sorghums, and other surplus commodities climbed to $9,130,775,000 on Oct. 31.

This was an increase of more than $130 million over the previous month, but about $100 million below the investment in October 1959.

Wheat continued to be the major item in the investment. The government owned outright slightly more than 1.1 billion bushels worth almost $3 billion. It held loans on more than 381 million bushels valued at more than $688 million.

Corn in inventory totaled 14 billion bushels worth almost $2.4 billion. Loans on 280 million bushels were valued at $315 million.

The cotton investment consisted of an inventory of 3.5 million bales valued at $953 million. No loans were reported.

Grain sorghums in inventory totaled 314 million hundredweight valued at $846 million. Loans on 19 million hundredweight were valued at more than $30 million.

Loans on 639 million pounds of tobacco totaled almost $401 million. Net realized loss on price support programs for July, August, September and October totaled $189,277,803. For the same period last year, the loss was $26,641,862.

In the fiscal year that ended June 30, the loss on price-support operations was $755,469,117.

Community Finds Its Law Officers Aren't Legal

BOYERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—This eastern Pennsylvania community found out that it had no legal police force despite a police chief and four patrolmen.

Roland A. Read, the borough manager, discovered in checking records that the City Council in more than 125 years never had passed an ordinance to create a police department.

The situation was remedied quickly. City Council Monday night passed an ordinance creating a police department.

Red China 'Warmly' Supports Manifesto

TOKYO (AP)—The declaration of the conference of 81 Communist leaders in Moscow was received with "warm endorsement and support" by the people in Peking, the official New China News Agency said Tuesday.

It was the first Red Chinese reaction to the Communist world's declaration in favor of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful co-existence.

The article broadcast by Radio Peking, however, made no mention of Khrushchev's name or the words peaceful co-existence.

Says Dixie Will Back Kennedy

Won't Join GOP in a Conservative Coalition, Sparkman Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) predicted today most Southern Democrats will "resolve their doubts in favor of the administration" in acting on President-Elect John F. Kennedy's legislative program.

Sparkman said he does not believe his more conservative Dixie colleagues will join in any firm coalition with the Republicans aimed at blocking Kennedy's programs.

"By and large, the members of 'Congress vote their convictions,'" Sparkman said in an interview.

Some of them will oppose some of the things Kennedy wants. But I don't see any signs of a coalition and I believe that most of the Southerners will resolve their doubts in favor of the administration.

Sparkman, who conferred with the president-elect Tuesday hasn't always seen eye-to-eye with Kennedy. The Alabama senator was one of 16 Southern Democrats who voted earlier this year against a Kennedy-backed plan for Social Security financing of medical care for the aged. It was beaten by a 31-41 Senate vote.

KENNEDY, TOO

Kennedy has indicated he will ask Congress to act on the similar proposal after he becomes president. It is certain to stir strong opposition.

But Sparkman said he believes Kennedy will prove himself adept at the kind of presidential compromise and persuasion often needed to win congressional approval of controversial legislative proposals.

"Sen. Kennedy has never been a meat axe man," Sparkman said. "He has demonstrated that he is reasonable, that he is willing to compromise to get a job done."

"In his service in the Senate I don't think he ever has taken the position that he would rather have an issue than have legislation, I think he will be able to get a large portion of his program through Congress."

Honeymoon Ends With a Thud for Barrymore

ROME (AP)—The honeymoon seems over today for John Barrymore Jr., and the Italian film starlet he wed five weeks ago amid a flurry of court actions.

Barrymore and his bride, Gabriella Palazzoli, got into an argument in a restaurant and exchanged slaps, Barrymore later collapsed.

Miss Palazzoli showed up at the restaurant at 10:30 and asked if her husband was there. He was, at a table with seven others including actor Guy Madison.

There was a brief argument and Barrymore shoved her out of the door. The argument continued outside, punctuated by slapping.

Friends separated them. Miss Palazzoli left and Barrymore went back into the restaurant where he collapsed on the floor. Friends revived him, but he refused to let them take him to a hospital.

He went for a walk instead. When he returned to the restaurant his wife was back, waiting for him.

The argument broke out again, but this time it was soon over. At Barrymore's request, friends took his wife home.

None of them would say what started the spat.

Sign Construction Pact for Health Building

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Representatives of the World Health Organization, the Swiss Confederation, and the Republic and Canton of Geneva signed agreements Monday sign for the construction of a new WHO headquarters. The project, by Swiss architect Professor J.-an Tschumi, is a 10-story building of contemporary design.

FBI Watching Chicago Count

Justice Dept. Checking Vote Fraud Complaints in Texas, Also

CHICAGO (UPI) — Federal agents lurking in disputed precincts heightened the mystery today in Chicago's probe of alleged Democratic double-dealing at the polls.

Evidence that vote fraud helped Sen. John F. Kennedy win in Illinois Nov. 8 could call for a Federal Grand Jury investigation, the Justice Department said as it announced FBI agents are at work in both Chicago and Texas.

The department said in Washington it plans an "intensive investigation" but is following up a "substantial number" of complaints from voters or would-be voters.

The department cited alleged irregularities that "appear to be a violation" of federal election laws. Federal intervention dovetailed with a lull in the month-old vote squabble as a new Democratic state's attorney Daniel W. Sweeney took County Grand Jury sessions for a week in order to examine evidence of alleged poll wrongdoings.

The GOP promptly charged the suspension would eat up a week of the jury's 30-day extension and said the suspension was added in indication of Democratic attempts to conceal a "stolen" election.

Word said he was forced to suspend the Grand Jury until he could decide whether to disqualify himself on grounds the validity of his own election was involved.

Woman Shoots Is Out
—With a Cap Pistol

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A woman moved out an apartment house building site but not until she had taken a few shots at evicting officers Tuesday — with her cap pistol.

Martha M. Smith, 37, her home a target for objects hurled by neighborhood children for more than a month, moved her belongings and two dogs "around the corner" after a last stand against a redevelopment project.

Pastor's Gifts of $5 Bills Astonish Congregation

DENISON, Tex. (UPI) — Imagine walking into church and having the ushers pass collection plates heaped with $5 bills and the preacher urging you to take one.

That is what happened Sunday at a Protestant service at Perrin Air Force Base. And it will happen again this weekend.

Chaplain Ransom B. Woods refuses to say where he got the money. He just smiles and says that "an anonymous Christian" has provided the funds to help unfortunate families have a better Christmas. He also refuses to say how much he has to give away.

How did the congregation take it?

"You should have seen the looks on their faces," Chaplain Woods said. "Some were skeptical of the whole thing and others were just plain flabbergasted."

At the first service, only 88 of the 130 persons present took one of the bills.

Woods explained that the donor asked that the persons who took the money find someone less fortunate than themselves and use it to help give them a better Christmas.

Woods said the donor asked only two things—that the recipient write an anonymous letter to the chapel explaining how the money was used, and that the recipient read Matthew 25, which includes Jesus' philosophy on charity: "Even as you have done to the least of these my brethren, you have done unto me."
