Castro Howls Warning at U.S. as He Returns

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro, swept back into the Cuban premiership as expected, by an enormous popular demonstration, served notice Sunday night he will be friends with the United States only if the United States does not get in his way.

The spectacular crowd estimated at nearly a million cheered wildly as he told them he would bow to "the will of the people" and resume office.

The demonstration again underscored that the bearded, 32-year-old revolutionary leader is Cuba's strong man.

The vast sea of humanity sent up reverberating cheers as Castro by implication told off critics in the United States.

He asserted that Cuba is not a protectorate or colony of any other country but a free sovereign nation and "we have to account to no one."

Castro said Cuba wants to be friends with all nations but can not be with those "who offend us, who insult us and who exploit us" nor with any vested interest which tries to "impose itself on the destiny of our people."

But in 2½ hours of talk, Castro failed to mention communism by name at all. He referred to it only obliquely, when hitting at his critics, but apparently did not feel it necessary to deny their charges that he is letting the Reds influence his government.

Uptown Havana's vast Civic Plaza was packed with the shouting, cheering throng. Castro told it emotionally that from now on the "symbol of our revolution will be the machete," the long, sharp knife used for cutting sugar cane.

FURIOUS RESPONSE

The announcement provoked furious response during which some 400,000 campesinos — farmers—brought from the provinces to swell the demonstration clashed their machetes in unison to add to the general uproar.

Castro whipped up another ovation when he added that if his enemies should ever think of coming back to Cuba," let them contemplate for just about five minutes those machetes."

Castro made it clear that such

Hoffa Accepts Challenge to Sue Robert Kennedy

Teamster Head Plans to Bring Libel Action Against Senate Counsel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teamsters president James R. Hoffa said today ne would accept a challenge to sue Senate rackets committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy for libel.

Kennedy hurled a half dozen charges at Hoffa on a nationwide television program and then challenged the peppery union leader to sue for libel.

Hoffa told United Press International he had "every intention" of bringing libel action against Kennedy for these charges and for accusations he made last Wednesday on "The Jack Paar Show." He said he also would sue NBC, the network that carried both programs.

The Teamster chief said he, union attorney Edward Bennett Williams and other lawyers would go over a transcript of the first program today to decide which portions to cite in the libel action.

Hoffa said the suit would be filed as soon as the necessary legal papers could be prepared. He said Williams would decide where to lodge the action and other details of the suit.

Kennedy charged on the program yesterday that the rackets investigation had shown "that Mr. Hoffa has made collusive deals with employers, that he betrayed the union membership, that he put gangsters and racketeers in important positions of power within the teamsters union, (and) that he has misused union funds."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy challenged Hoffa to sue him "immediately" for libel so that a jury could decide if the accusations were true. If Hoffa were found guilty of any of the charges, Kennedy said, he should resign as Teamster president because he would not be "worthy" to hold the job.

Hoffa said he watched Kennedy immediately following his own appearance on "Face The Nation" on the CBS network. He said the counsel "acted like a small kid again."

Kennedy, who also monitored Hoffa's appearance, said it was "most unfortunate" that the Teamster president was not asked to make some accounting for his acts and those of his chief lieutenants.

Hoffa notified NBC president Robert Sarnoff last Friday that he had instructed his attorneys to prepare libel action against the network, Kennedy, Paar, the sponsors and others connected with the ear-

Would Settle Up at Parley Table, Not Battlefield

Vice President Given Warm Leningrad Hello After Leaving Moscow

From Our Wire Services

LENINGRAD — Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew here today and said he and Premier Nikita Khrushchev agreed during their talks that "differences between nations must be settled at the conference table and not on the battlefield."

"So my message to the people of Leningrad from the people of the United States is peace for all the world," Nixon told a large welcoming crowd at Leningrad Airport.

Nixon flew here from Moscow with Mrs. Nixon, Soviet first Deputy Premier and Mrs. Frol R. Kozlov in a Russian TU104 jet airliner. They made the flight in one hour and nine minutes.

A crowd of between 1,000 and 1,500 persons gave the Nixons and the Kozlovs a cordial welcome at the sun-drenched airport.

Nixon in response to an official welcome from Chairman I. V. Spiridonov of the Leningrad Committee of the Communist Party, discussed his five hours and 45 minutes of "frank and complete talks" with Khrushchev.

NO ONE CONVINCED

"I had yesterday a very constructive and full discussion on some of the problems we have between our two countries," Nixon said.

"I can say that we had some differences with Chairman Khrushchev on points of issue. I would say it was not a case of his convincing me or my convincing him.

"But there is a point on which we did agree—that differences between nations must be settled at the conference table and not on the battlefield."

★ ★ ★

Spiridonov told Nixon in his welcoming speech that "our people want to live in peace and friendship with all peoples, especially Americans."

"I hope your visit will serve for better understanding between Russia and the American people, which we all ardently desire,"

LENINGRAD (AP)—Mrs. Richard M. Nixon described today how she and four other women sat and "didn't say a word" for close to six hours while her husband and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev held their dinner table conference yesterday.

"It's the first time I've heard of any serious conversation at a dinner table," admitted Mrs. Nixon, who is a veteran at such affairs.

Mitchell Hopeful on Steel Strike

Negotiations Resumed With Federal Mediators in New York Today

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell reported to President Eisenhower on the steel strike today. He said after their 45-minute meeting that the President was "particularly pleased" that negotiations have been resumed.

The President, he said, "hopes they will continue to negotiate constantly in an effort to get a settlement.

Negotiations were resumed at New York today under auspices of the federal mediation service in an effort to reach an agreement to end the 13-day old strike.

Asked about the outlook for an agreement, Mitchell replied:

"The fact that they are continuing to negotiate is, I think, heartening. Certainly both sides are well aware of the importance of a settlement.

"I would hope for a settlement in the reasonably near future. I wouldn't want to venture a guess."

Launch Full-Scale Manhunt for Pontiac Doctor's Murderer

Pontiac police today began an all-out manhunt for the killer of a 71-year-old city doctor who died of pistol wounds Saturday night in Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Lt. William Nesbitt, detective bureau commander, said clues are slim.

Dr. W. Carleton Warrick of 263 Chippewa Rd. was shot by the gunman around 7:45 p.m. Friday. He was found a few minutes later by a long-time patient, Lloyd Tunnell, 53, of 1755 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

A police guard had been stationed in front of Dr. Warrick's room Saturday morning after he told officers the gunman said to him: "I'm going to kill you."

LEAVES $1,365

Dr. Warrick told police Friday night that the gunman had held him up.

After the shooting, the gunman fled without $1,365 the doctor was carrying in a back trousers pocket.

About $100 in bills was found on the floor of the doctor's office.

★ ★ ★

The doctor was shot twice by the gunman, once in the abdomen. The other bullet hit his left thumb.

Police found four shells from what they believe to be the murder weapon, but so far have found only three bullets.

They were to return to the doctor's office today to continue their search for clues.

"The threads we're working on are slim," said Nesbitt. "No one apparently saw the killer enter or leave the doctor's office."

Nesbitt said, however, that police would press the investigation, hoping for a break which will lead them to the gunman.

★ ★ ★

He is survived by his wife, Joan, 44, and daughter, Carole, 5.

Formerly a member of the Elks Lodge and Pine Lake Country Club, Dr. Warrick also is survived by three brothers.

They are Homer, of Osceola, Ind.; John of South Bend, Ind.; and Bert, of Elkhart, Ind.

Service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Farmer-Snover Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Bay City to Launch Second Missile Ship

BAY CITY (UPI) — The second of four guided-missile destroyers will be launched by Defoe Shipbuilding Co. here tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The ship, the Lynde D. McCormick, was named in honor of the admiral who served as supreme naval commander from 1952 to 1954, the first boss of a peacetime international navy.

The ships are being built by Defoe under a $68,000,000 contract with the Navy. The first of the four missile destroyers was launched April 22. It was the Henry B. Wilson.

The Navy contemplates building 10 more guided-missile destroyers after the 13 under construction throughout the nation are completed.

Because of its work on four of the original 13, Defoe stands a good chance of getting some of the additional jobs.

U.S. to Try Out a 'Paddlewheel' Satellite Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States plans to launch a "paddlewheel" satellite from Cape Canaveral, Fla., around Aug. 7 to test feasibility of using solar power to operate radio equipment aboard space probes to be fired later at the planet Venus.

Reliable sources said today that if the paddlewheel shot is successful that National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), also plans:

—To launch a 375-pound payload toward the moon in early October with the hope that it will go into a lunar orbit.

—To fire a deep space probe in November into a trajectory which would take it to the vicinity of Venus if the planet were in a favorable position. Actually, Venus won't be in shooting distance of the earth again until 1961.

No Names, Lots of Smiles

Area AA Members Get Together Here

By PETE LOCHBILER

Some of the Pontiac area's heaviest drinkers of former years got together Sunday — over coffee and doughnuts.

There weren't any hangovers at the first district meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous ever held in Pontiac.

More than 400 persons—members of AA's Eastern Michigan District — gathered at Pontiac Northern High School's Little Theater. Most were from the Pontiac area and Oakland County. A few came from as far away as the Thumb area.

Getting to know each other for the first time, AA members were impressed by the force of their numbers.

★ ★ ★

"The feeling of unity with other AA members who are successfully battling the same kind of drinking problem helps give an alcoholic resolve to stay on the wagon," explained one AA.

"The same feeling of unity inspires in him the desire to help others who have not yet been able to overcome drinking."

There they deal together with the emotional troubles that in less happy days would have led them to drink. Each group stands ready to put in long, difficult hours helping obsessive drinkers who want to conquer the habit, but can't without help.

There are 14 such groups in the immediate Pontiac area, with memberships running from about a dozen persons to as many as 50.

"It is hoped that getting the various groups together at big meetings like this will spur AA's rehabilitative activities in this area," said the chairman of the program.

He, like other AA members, prefers to remain anonymous. The AA's wore identification tags, listing their home groups and first names, but not their last names.

It was easy for them to get acquainted, though, for AA's greet each other traditionally with a big smile, firm handclasp and friendly "Hi."

Among themselves, they talk about their homes, families, jobs, vacation plans. Most of the AA's were middle-aged or older, but there were a few younger couples and they brought their children.

With an outsider, the AA talks about his biggest source of pride —the fact that he is not drinking.

They like to say, "I've been five years sober," or six years, or whatever length of time they've successfully belonged to the AA program.

Russians Show Love for Cliburn With Candy

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Russians, who first proclaimed him a great pianist still love Van Cliburn, he learned yesterday.

At the Soviet exhibition here, a Russian official handed Cliburn a box of what he said was Russia's best-selling candy. It was shaped like a grand piano and carried a portrait.

"My goodness," said Cliburn. "It's me."

Fenton Split on Proposed Race Track

FENTON (UPI)—A proposed $3,000,000 horse race track, the hottest issue to hit this southern Genesee County community in years, will be taken up by the Fenton Township board Aug. 12.

★ ★ ★

The township zoning board forwarded the proposal to the board without recommendation after deadlocking on it twice.

Grand River Amusement Enterprises Inc., Novi, asked for a permit to build the track between Fenton and Linden, about 13 miles south of Flint near the US23 expressway.

The area has split into two camps, one favoring approval because of the revenue it would bring to the area, and the other opposing it on moral grounds.

B. F. Gregoric, Wayne, spokesman for Grand River Amusement, said the firm has an option on 200 acres for construction of the track if it can obtain board approval.

★ ★ ★

Gregoric said two tracks would be built, one a mile oval and the other a half mile.

The smaller track would be enclosed under a transparent plastic roof which could be raised and lowered under aluminum trusses.

Plans also call for a 10-story grandstand, stables for about 1,200 horses and parking for 10,000 cars.

Break in Liquor Laws Maine-ly for the Tourists

Effective Jan. 1, 1961, after predicted approval by voters in a November, 1960, referendum, major restaurants may begin serving cocktails, highballs and other "hard liquor" drinks on a local option basis.

The law setting up the vote was passed by the state legislature in its last session.

Under the old law, only hotels and certain clubs were permitted to sell anything but beer and other malt beverages to patrons desiring drinks with their meals.

★ ★ ★

Passage of the new act was seen as the most drastic change in years in the state's conservative liquor laws.

The new act applies to all bonafide restaurants doing a gross business of at least $50,000 annually. The resort community voters generally are expected to approve the measure at next year's referendum.

Judge O'Brien Dies 36 Hours After Son

DETROIT (AP) — Patrick H. O'Brien, 91, a retired probate judge, died here today only 36 hours after the death of his son, D'Arcy W. O'Brien, state public administrator, in East Lansing.

Judge O'Brien was admitted to Jennings Hospital Friday for treatment of a liver tumor. He had not been told that his son was ailing.

Judge O'Brien served on the probate bench for 17 years before his retirement 2½ years ago.

D'Arcy O'Brien, 58, died of a stroke Saturday. He recently suffered a mild form of pneumonia.

Funeral arrangements for the judge were incomplete. His sole surviving son, Daniel P. O'Brien, said burial will be in Houghton where the jurist began his career of public service as a circuit judge.

A third son, Gerald K. O'Brien, former Wayne County prosecutor, died two years ago.

Auto Workers to Get Raises

Pay Increases to Start August 1 and Average 6 Cents an Hour

DETROIT (AP)—More than half a million hourly rated auto workers will get pay increases averaging six cents an hour Aug. 1.

The raises are provided in three-year contracts negotiated with the industry last year by the United Auto Workers union.

Those agreements specify that an automatic annual improvement factor of six cents or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater, shall be paid each year for the duration of the contract.

The raises will go to 330,000 hourly rated employes of General Motors Corp., 120,000 at Ford Motor Co., 65,000 at Chrysler Corp. and 23,200 at American Motors.

In most instances workers will get the pay raises in checks for the first pay period after Aug. 1.

The pay boosts are in addition to anything the employes receive under cost-of-living escalator clauses which gear wages to fluctuations in the cost of living.

Deny Townships Liquor License Fees

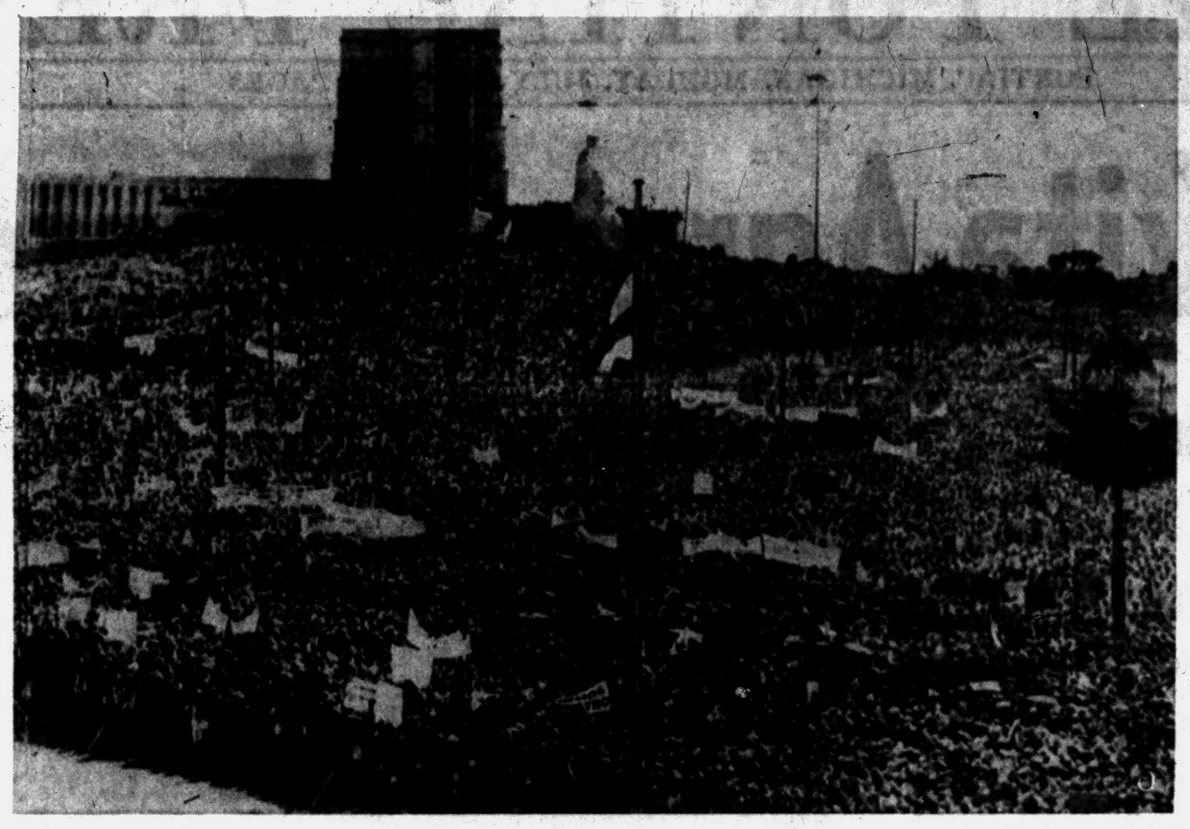

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today signed a bill providing for the return of 85 per cent of township liquor license proceeds to shriffs' departments unless the township maintains a full-time police or ordinance department.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Townships Assn. last week urged the governor to veto the measure, contending it would reduce enforcement of liquor laws in many townships. Many said they could not afford full-time enforcement.

The Michigan Sheriffs Assn. backed the proposal. About 3½ million dollars in license fees is returned to local governments for enforcement, more than two million dollars to townships who will lose their share under the new law, Backers said.

"Many townships were using these moneys not for the intended purpose of enforcing liquor control but for general purposes such as the purchase of street lighting, sidewalks or fire engines," Williams said.

mammoth demonstrations will be held whenever it is considered necessary to demonstrate popular support for his policies. That of Sunday, officially celebrating the anniversary of his 26th of July revolutionary movement, was called originally to demonstrate support for his land redistribution program.

Castro claimed it was only the will of the people that persuaded him to resume the premiership he left nine days ago to force the resignation of provisional President Manuel Urrutia.

The first announcement of his return to office came from President Osvaldo Dorticos, Urrutia's successor. It set off a wild, jubilant ovation, with the campesinos joyously throwing straw hats into the air.

Enormous showmanship went into making the rally the spectacular thing it was. Gimmicks included the release of a thousand doves as Castro made his appearance and release of hundreds of red, white and blue balloons trailing the black and red colors of the 26th of July movement.

Planes and helicopters zoomed low overhead dropping small, multicolored parachutes containing candy.

Before the speech, a Cabinet minister presented Castro with evidence of recovery of 20 million dollars in cash and 51 million dollars worth of property from collaborators of Batista.

The Rochester, N.Y., Red Wings of International League refused to take the field for their scheduled Sunday contest with the Cuban Sugar Kings as a precaution against shooting. Spent bullets which hit a player of each team broke up their Saturday game in a 4-4 tie in the 11th inning.

There were reports that 17 persons had been injured in various parts of Havana. A number of army officers were arrested for unauthorized firing of their guns to celebrate.

Nixon, Nikita Can Agree

Spiridonov said, "From the bottom of my heart, welcome."

It was a far bigger and warmer welcome than Nixon received on his arrival in Moscow. In the crowd were two American tourists who held up placards reading "Nixon welcome."

KOZLOVS SURPRISE

The Kozlovs were added starters on the trip to Leningrad. They turned up at the airport, gave newsmen a jovial good morning and announced to the newsmen they were making the trip too.

The Nixons paid an overnight visit to the Khrushchevs' big cream-colored country home, or dacha, in a wooded park abeut 20 miles outside Moscow. Nixon returned to the U.S. Embassy residence Sunday night and drafted a detailed report on the conversation for President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press aide, hinted the talk did little to solve any of the major differences dividing the United States and the Soviet Union.

"There naturally were major differences of opinion," he said, "but the discussions at all times were calm."

★ ★ ★

The meeting, sixth between Khrushchev and Nixon since the vice president arrived last Thursday, may be their last. Klein said, however, a farewell meeting was not ruled out when Nixon returns from a five-day visit to Leningrad and Siberia.

The two leaders talked during a long Sunday dinner on a grassy, tree-shaded knoll overlooking the Moscow River. First Deputy Premiers Anastas I. Mikoyan and Frol R. Kozlov and their wives, and U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, also were at the table. Aides said they sat silently as the vice president and the premier did the talking.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Khrushchev did not arrive at the dacha until shortly after noon. A U.S. reporter and photographer and a Soviet reporter were admitted to report the preliminaries.

The two leaders agreed that their rough and tumble debate at the American Exposition Friday had not offended either.

The exchange, they said, was hard hitting and frank — but not belligerent. Turning to Nixon, Khrushchev asked, "Were you offended?"

"Never," replied Nixon. "Mr. Khrushchev and I have some real and honest differences but we are alike in this respect: we both came from humble families and both have a practice of speaking directly and not beating around the bush."

"I agree," Khrushchev said.

★ ★ ★

Before lunch Khrushchev and Nixon went for a motorboat ride on the river, stopping eight times to shake hands and talk with bathers.

★ ★ ★

"Captive people?" Khrushchev would say in a reference to the U.S. proclamation of a special week of prayer for those in Communist countries.

"No, no. Peace and friendship," was the swimmers' standard reply.

"Peace and friendship" the vice president would echo in Russian.

At the last stop Nixon turned to the premier and said, "You know, Mr. Khrushchev, I must admire you. This is the eighth time you've stopped. You never miss a chance to make propaganda."

"No, no, I don't make propaganda," Khrushchev said. "I tell the truth."

★ ★ ★

Standing on the grassy knoll in front of his dacha, Khrushchev pointed to his restful surroundings and said, "We should have a summit conference here, instead of sitting in Geneva many months eating so many pies."

Search Grand Canyon for Priest, Youth

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (UPI)—Searchers transported by helicopters scoured a remote area of the Grand Canyon floor today for a Roman Catholic priest and his hiking companion. A third member of the hiking group was found yesterday.

Ranger Vincent Hefti said tracks were found leading away from the body and believed those of Father Gavigan, and Manson Ownes, 16. The three hikers were believed from Savannah, Ga.

Now a highly successful business man in Saginaw, Jack hit the skids early in his drinking career.

He described three years on Detroit's skid row while still relatively young. Rescued by friends, Jack got a job but didn't give up the bottle.

"Seventeen years I worked my way up in my company until I was nearing the top. Seventeen years I went on drinking, trying to kid myself and my bosses that I wasn't an alcoholic."

In and out of hospitals several times, Jack finally drank himself out of his job one weekend. That's when a friend from AA found him and helped him.

Like most AA's, Jack believes he got his chance to beat the bottle through the help of God.

Virtually all AA's are churchgoers and when they get together they bring their faith into the meeting in a non-denominational way.

Sunday, they recited the Lord's Prayer together. No mumbling over the words, but with loud, firm voices in almost-perfect unison.

They talked of God in their daily lives, of practicing the kind of brotherly love which Christ called charity.

"We try to keep our lives simple, free of emotional problems," explained one AA.

"For that reason we try to be direct, honest and sincere with other people, friendly, understanding and, above all else, humble."

The alcoholic paused, then said with emphasis:

"This is a very successful, happy way to live. In fact, most people would like to live like we do.

"In a way, alcoholism cured has many rewards. Our greatest curse turned out to be our greatest blessing."

Lone Policeman Nabs 2 Burglars

Pair Admits $368 Theft From Waterford Dairy Store Safe

A Madison Heights policeman alone on routine duty surprised and captured two burglars within hours after they admittedly took $368 from a Waterford Township store yesterday.

Arrested in the safe burglary of Richardson's Farm Dairy at 7350 Highland Rd. were William D. O'Guian, 35, of 327 W. Otis St., Hazel Park, and J. F. Crampton, 32, of 32328 Brush St., Madison Heights.

On patrol duty at 5:30 a.m. yesterday, Sgt. Hauston Cod said he noticed a car parked back of a dirt stockpile on 13 Mile road between John R. and Dequindre.

Cod said he found the two men removing coins from paper wrappings and putting them in cloth bags. The officer ordered the men from the car and called for another car.

The men, wanted in four communities on charges of breaking and entering, admitted the Waterford burglary, police said. They were turned over to Waterford police and held for investigation of burglary.

★ ★ ★

Police said entrance to the dairy was made by prying open the back door of the building. The safe in a rear office was opened with a cutting torch. A sledge hammer and crow bar were also found on the floor.

Police said more than $1500 in change in a box in the rear of the safe was overlooked by the burglars.

Mitchell Hopeful of Steel Accord

ation Service, reiterated his warning that no early or easy settlement of the 13-day-old strike appears likely.

Finnegan, who arranged the joint talks last week, said on his arrival from Washington Sunday night: "They can't settle this strike by not talking."

He said he received no indication during the weekend that either side had changed its position. Finnegan had held separate meetings with union and industry representatives since the strike began.

Heading the negotiating teams for today's talks are David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

The strike of 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers has shut down plants that produced almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel. The stoppage has idled an estimated 78,000 employes in other industries, with railroads the hardest hit.

The union's demands include a 15-cent-an-hour package increase in each year of a new contract, plus fringe benefits. The industry, rejecting the demands, contends that an increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and thus help spur inflation. The union contends that industry profits and increased productivity make a wage rise possible without a price increase. Prestrike wages averaged $3.10 an hour.

Religious Bias in U.S. Colleges Shows Decline

NEW YORK (UPI) — Religious discrimination has declined in American college admissions policies to the point where "no significant evidence" of bias exists, the American Jewish Congress reported yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The report, based on a questionnaire filled out by more than 1,200 high-ranking high schools seniors in the state, said there was a "marked decline" in discrimination since similar surveys in 1949 and 1952.

★ ★ ★

It said not enough replies were received from Negroes to determine whether racial prejudice exists in college admissions offices.

Bloomfield Police Charge 5 With Reckless Driving

BIRMINGHAM — Despite warnings of a crackdown last week by Capt. Walter Sluiter of the Bloomfield Hills Police Dept., five drivers were charged with reckless driving on Woodward avenue in Bloomfield Hills during the weekend.

Picked up for reckless driving Saturday at 1 p.m. were Gerald A. Friedman, 22, of Detroit and a juvenile from Troy unidentified by police.

The two had engaged in a race on Woodward avenue near Lone Pine road. Freidman was fined $50 before Justice of the Peace A. J. Richardson and the juvenile was referred to the Oakland County Juvenile Court.

At 10:15 p.m. Saturday, Bertrum Green, 20, of Lake drive, Waterford Township, was arrested on charges of reckless driving which involved cutting in and out of traffic on Woodward avenue near Opdyke road.

A second pair of racers were nabbed Sunday at 2:15 a.m. on Woodward avenue near Long Lake road. James M. Howard, 18, of 3643 Rockingham St., Royal Oak, and John W. MacIver, 18, of 24935 Waycross Ct., Pontiac, were both released on personal bond to appear today in Justice Court.

Birmingham Police have reported receiving complaints — five during the weekend — of raccoons tipping over garbage pails on N. Woodward avenue near the city limits.

So far, police have been unable to catch any of the culprits.

JP Makes Profitable Protest

Serves 159 Blue Law Notices

BRISTOL, Pa. (AP) — "There's more than one way to skin a cat," figured Justice of the Peace Earl B. Dougherty. That, he said, is the theory he applied Sunday to Pennsylvania's Sunday blue laws.

★ ★ ★

Daugherty spent the day driving through Bucks County, just north of Philadelphia, handing out 159 conviction-on-sight notices. The recipients included actress Peggy Cass, two toll booth collectors, a radio announcer, numerous plant guards, a druggist, a newspaper editor, adn the reporters and photographers followed him.

"I'm actually against the Sunday blue laws," Dougherty said. "They're chaotic and outmoded and if they were strictly enforced would strangle Pennsylvania's entire economy.

"I'm a justice of the peace and it's my duty to enforce the law. So I did."

He reached the Bristol Playhouse, a summer theater, during the first act intermission and asked to see Miss Cass.

"Are you worldly employed?" he asked, after introducing himself.

"Yes,' said Miss Cass.

"Are you being paid?"

"Yes."

"I hereby convict you on view for violation of the Sunday blue laws." He handed her a notice.

"Why I've never won a thing, and I'd rather not win this," the actress joked.

But, like the others, she must, according to the notice, appear today before Dougherty and pay a $4 fine plus $9 costs.

The same thing happened at the Levittown Times, where employes were working on the weekly paper, and at WBCB, Levittown, where announcer Mike Mayo allowed him to state his question on the air.

Then there was a taxicab driver, a Bell Telephone Co. maintenance man, bowling alley and golf driving range operators, and guards at a half-dozen factories, including a Radio Corp. of America plant and the struck Fairless works of U.S. Steel Corp.

Dougherty said he wanted to serve the workers in some of the plants, but he couldnt get by the guards.

★ ★ ★

Two toll collectors at an interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike referred the notices to higher-ups. A spokesman said the Turnpike Commission's legal department was studying the case, but the commission felt the turnpike is a necessary function.

"The toll collectors are being paid, aren't they?" said Dougherty. "They're worldly employed, and that is prohibited by the blue laws."

★ ★ ★

Dougherty's tour came at a time when the State House is considering a Senate-passed bill increasing the fine for violating the 1794 blue laws to $100 for the first offense and $200 for each subsequent offense. The purpose is to discourage merchants who consider the $4 fine a business expense.

★ ★ ★

For years, the blue laws were almost never enforced, but two years ago a department store objected to a nearby discount house doing business on Sunday. Since then arrests have been made throughout the state.

Soviet Censors Still Plague U. S. Newsmen

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia has hit on a neat system of applying its censorship to resident foreign correspondents covering the Nixon visit but extending complete freedom to file to those who came over with the vice president's party.

★ ★ ★

Just why such a twist in censorship seemed logical to the Russians was hard to understand by either group of correspondents. Here is how it works:

A newsman coming from Washington with Nixon could put in a telephone call, dictate his story, or file in by telegraph, without passing it through the censors.

But not, so far, the resident American correspondent who covers Moscow on a day-to-day basis, even though he might write an almost identical story.

The censor often cuts great chunks out of the story and almmost always delays its movement by 30 minutes to more than three hours. Protests were ignored.

Life Sentences Go to Child-Stranglers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Wanda Brogdon and her former lover, Archie Merriam, were sentenced to life imprisonment for strangling her two young sons.

The Rockford, Ill. couple were convicted of first-degree murder last Thursday. The same jury fixed their punishment Sunday.

Merriam admitted he strangled Virgil Brodgon Jr., 5, and David, 3, last May 2, but said he did so at their mother's instigation. She denied it.

The prosecution sought death for both Mrs. Brogdon and Merriam.

"I had expected to die," Mrs. Brogdon said. "I wanted to be with the boys."

Other Nations Question Castro's Know-How

As The Sunday Graphic says in England:

"The art of governing is rather more difficult than the art of growing a beard. Fidel Castro has made this discovery — but too late in the day for the health of Cuba."

★ ★ ★

Well, CASTRO may not be quite that far gone, but he's on the skids. They're greased, too—and lightning fast.

His resignation was purely an act to impress the world and it probably did. The demand for his return may have been synthetic in part but he still has an immense following in Cuba and his loyal supporters were found on every hand. They answered the call.

★ ★ ★

CASTRO was a dashing world figure when he visited this country at the invitation of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He was wined, dined and the red carpets ran in all directions.

★ ★ ★

That was three short months ago and in the meantime he has discovered that speaking in faltering, broken English and "meeting a payroll" are light years apart. Cuban economy has been belted amidships. CASTRO's world standing has been greatly impaired as he has played footsy with the Commies — or as his aides have. He himself may stand relatively clear, but he breathes an unhealthy atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

Great nations are losing faith. He must bring about a sound economy in his country irrespective of his grand flourishes and his political pyrotechnics. Speeches and histrionics won't cut the mustard any more. It's time for constructive action and sound thinking. Are these within Castro's ken? They have evaded him so far. Time is running short and now he must produce. His great belief in himself, his popularity at home and his "way with the people" are all interesting, but there are other attributes and characteristics that finally creep ahead.

★ ★ ★

In the end, we must have first things first. CASTRO, the curtain has fallen on the sword waving, and the old order changeth.

Home Rule for Capital Given Senate Approval

For the fifth time the Senate has voted to give home rule to the District of Columbia, that is the City of Washington. The bill provides for an elected mayor, a nine member city council and a non-voting delegate to the House of Representatives.

★ ★ ★

For the past 85 years the District has had no voice in its own affairs and its people no electoral vote of any kind. They can vote only for delegates to the Republican and Democratic National Conventions, for the party national committeemen and for members of the local party committees. The new measure would give them about the same rights as Alaska and Hawaii had under territorial rule.

★ ★ ★

As things stand now the three commissioners who administer the District government are appointed by the President. Congress does all the legislating even to discussion of the price of dog licenses. Home rule advocates contend that this is ridiculously petty work for a national legislature. More important local problems also are neglected because House and Senate cannot take enough time from national affairs to act as a city council.

★ ★ ★

The injustice of the situation has long been recognized. President Eisenhower has repeatedly requested remedial action. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the House will pass the bill and that Congress at long last will give up its control of the people of the District and grant them some of the privileges enjoyed by other citizens.

David Lawrence Says:

Union Lock-in Tactics Rights Blow

WASHINGTON — The biggest scandal in local government in America today isn't attracting much attention. Is it generally accepted that American citizens can be denied police protection when they are prevented forcibly—upon the orders of a labor union—from working at their jobs?

LAWRENCE

This would seem to be a violation of the Constitution of the United States, which guarantees the "privileges and immunities" of all citizens.

Two big steel companies have been told that their supervisory personnel would not be permitted to enter and leave the plants without the consent of certain labor unions.

Thus are "civil rights" lost. If the right of entry were denied at a Little Rock School, there would be demands for a return of federal troops.

But in northern states today the local authorities which are supposed to preserve law and order and punish anyone who intimidates another citizen or threatens bodily violence, look the other way and let organizations continue their threatening and intimidating tactics.

Last week news dispatches telling of what was happening in the plants of two large steel companies were transmitted throughout the country by the press associations.

But not a single protest has come from Congress or its Civil Rights Commission, nor has any public official of the states or counties where all this has been happening explained to the American people why they ignore the loss of "civil rights" in their respective localities.

TRAGIC STORY

Here are extracts from two news dispatches from the United Press International that tell the tragic story of how American citizens are deprived of their right to work. One is from East Chicago, Illinois, dated July 24, and says:

"A dispute over an 'open gate' policy at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.'s Indiana Harbor Works seemed likely to delay the issuance of pay checks to striking united steelworkers there today. About 600 members of the United Steelworkers Local 1011 voted last night not to allow non-union personnel to enter and leave the plant."

It so happens that pay checks for a period just before the nationwide steel strike began are due now. The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. has several hundred supervisory employees who are not unionized, and they are locked up voluntarily in the plant because, once they leave, they would not be allowed back into the office building by the union pickets.

★ ★ ★

The unions had proposed that some union personnel needed for the issuance of the pay checks could go back into the building long enough to write the checks, but immediately after this task was finished, they would not be allowed to return, and the supervisors also would be locked out once they left the plant. The company refused to make such an agreement.

ANOTHER CASE

Another dispatch on the same kind of dispute came from Pittsburgh on July 21. It said that an agreement was reached to allow the free passage of personnel to and from the Pittsburgh and nearby Aliquippa Works of the Jones & Laughlin Corp.

But the agreement was made only after the company had applied for an injunction in the local county courts. The joint statement of the union and the company read as follows:

"The union and the corporation have agreed that all supervisory and salaried employees in the corporation having business in the Pittsburgh and Aliquippa Works will pass freely in and out of the Works.

"The corporation will promptly discontinue the injunction proceedings which it commenced against the union in the courts of common pleas of Allegheny and Beaver Counties."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Avoid German Measles, Expectant Mothers Told

In 694 cases of rubella (German measles) during the first 16 weeks of pregnancy, reports Dr. Julia Bell in British Medical Journal, 412 of the women bore defective children, some of the children having more than one defect.

DR. BRADY

Cataract was noted in 491 of the children, deafness in 263, congenital heart defect in 210. In many cases the defect became apparent only when the children were five or six years old or older. In most of these cases of congenital defect, the mother had rubella in the early months of pregnancy.

Formerly doctors regarded German measles as a mild ailment of no particular significance. Prior to 1940 standard medical textbooks said nothing about the effects of German measles in pregnancy.

I can't believe the doctors of yesteryear were so unobservant that they failed to notice the association of German measles in early pregnancy with the birth of defective children. However, I am not at present prepared to advance a plausible theory to explain the apparent discrepancy.

I suspect there's some error—it doesn't seem reasonable that such a mild illness as German measles in the expectant mother can so gravely mar the development of her baby. This doubt has made me reluctant to say anything about the effect of maternal rubella on the unborn child.

I know of no evidence to support the theory that injection of serum from rubella convalescents is advisable to immunize the pregnant woman against German measles or to minimize the effect on the unborn child if the expectant mother has German measles. But it may well be that this treatment or something like it has merit.

Anyway, it is well to remember that rubella is a respiratory infection, which, like measles, diphtheria, whooping cough, poliomyelitis, chicken-pox, small-pox, scarlet fever, meningitis and the other respiratory infections, spreads via the moisture spray given off from nose and mouth when the one who has or is coming down with the disease coughs, sneezes or talks.

The germs or virus of the disease are in the droplets—visible and palpable or invisible and impalpable droplets of moisture in the spray. Therefore no one purports to have a "cold" should be permitted to get closer than five feet to an expectant mother.

Mutual Destruction Likely if Big Nations Test Might

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON — Back of the sharp exchanges between Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the calmer but deadly serious diplomatic discussions in Geneva is the belief held by each nation that it is dealing from military superiority.

There can be pitfalls in following this philosophy. One of them could be wrong. Or worse, both could be almost right. Mutual destruction of both nations could be the result.

★ ★ ★

When Khrushchev says Russian rockets are better than American weapons and Nixon says the United States has good ones too, each is relying on what his military scientists and strategists tell him.

Neither Khrushchev nor Nixon is a military professional. Khrushchev was a political general in World War II, Nixon a reserve commander in the Navy.

In their "my-brother-can-lick-your-brother" arguments they must depend on the evalutions of their respective military professionals. And the enthusiasm of military men for things they create or plans they devise can overreach actual attainment.

NEVER TRIED

The two men tossed words about their missiles at each other. But except for the primitive, short-range weapons used in the closing days of World War II, ballistic missiles never have been tried in actual combat.

And the V2 missiles used then were German, not Russian or American.

There is considerable difference between launching a ballistic missile under the carefully arranged conditions of a test and firing one in the frantic atmosphere of war. An enemy wouldn't wait for long countdowns.

★ ★ ★

Nor, at this present stage of the art of missiles, is launching reliability the only problem. There is the matter of hitting what you aim at.

American experts express belief that while Russia may at the moment be ahead in propulsion, it trails in the field of guidance. Again, this is the opinion of one group of military men.

This may explain, in part, Khrushchev's loud demand for removal of U.S. bases in Europe. The importance of accuracy in guidance lessens as the range shortens; it is easier to aim an intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) than to hope to hit a target at 5,500 miles with an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

FEW IRBM UNITS

But Khrushchev's concern over American bases in Europe obviously isn't confined to missile launching pads. The United States is only beginning to deploy a comparatively few IRBM missile units abroad.

What also concerns the Soviet Premier is the presence of medium range bombers and shorter range light bombers and fighter-bombers, each capable of toting nuclear destruction, on airdromes in England and on the Continent, rimming Russia.

These aircraft would work with the long-range B52 bombers, and probably would be called upon to make the first retaliatory strikes before the B52s could reach Russian target areas.

★ ★ ★

To the long-range and medium bombers must be added the nuclear weapon planes of the U.S. Navy, with carriers in the Mediterranean and Eastern Atlantic.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Marriage Helps Men Live Longer

Men notoriously tease their wives about being a "ball and chain", but this is malarky. As soon as a husband becomes a widower, he is usually eager to marry again, for marriage is wonderful. It actually adds years to your lifespan, lessens your chances of peptic ulcer and heart trouble, and even puts more zest in the taste of food. See the proof below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I suppose I ought to get married," he admitted, "for I lead a lonely life, especially after I quit work at 5 p. m.

"And I notice that my married friends seem to be less tense. Few of them have ulcers. And I seldom hear of a married man with excessively high blood pressure.

"But several of my bachelor friends at the Club are constantly nursing ulcers or taking pills for high blood pressure.

★ ★ ★

"So please send me an Application Blank for your Scientific Marriage Foundation."

HUSBANDS ARE HEALTHIER

Happy marriage is a wonderful aid to a man's morale and also is good insurance for longer life.

You can always make your marriage happy, too, if you'll just follow the simple but basic rules outlined in this column from week to week.

"But, Dr. Crane," you may demand, "I know the insurance figures prove that married men live longer than bachelors. So please explain just why this is true."

★ ★ ★

And this act of exploding, relieves inner tension; hence, the married man is less likely to have a peptic ulcer or continue an elevated blood pressure.

Second, the married man eats regularly and better balanced meals. And his appetite is improved, for eating is a sociable event, starting when the baby is first able to sit in a high chair at tthe family dinner table.

★ ★ ★

As a result, in later adulthood, a vital part of the dinner situation is lacking when a person must dine alone. We subconsciously crave human companionship with our meals, and married men have this.

WIFELY NURSES

Third, a married man is coddled and nursed by his wife when he has the flu or any other malady.

Even though males are regarded as the strong, superior sex from the physical angle, men still relax more completely when they know they have a dutiful wife to serve as nurse.

Millions of bachelors and spinsters become "worry warts" over their health after they pass 40. For they conjure up all sorts of dire situations that might occur when they are all alone.

★ ★ ★

"Suppose I had a heart attack," they imagine, "and were all alone in the house! Why, I might die and never be missed for several days!"

But married folks realize their partner will call a doctor and look after them, which is a very consoling feeling.

Married people likewise keep more regular hours and thus get more sleep.

Unmarried people tend to fret more about their inside organs

If you bachelors or widowers sincerely want to be introduced to congenial, charming women of good looks, high morals and jolly dispositions, then send for an Application Blank for tthe Scientific Marriage Foundation, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Congressmen Praise Nixon

Both Sides' Members Feel Vice President Is Matching Red Boss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is proving himself a match for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in the opinion of several Congress members.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, said Nixon is "making the best of a very difficult and delicate situation" during his visit to Moscow.

★ ★ ★

"He is rolling with the punches thrown at him by Khrushchev," Mansfield said. "He is also sending back some good punches."

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky), a former ambassador, said in a separate interview he thinks Nixon has matched Khrushchev in "directness and toughness" in their informal, caustic exchanges.

"Nixon is doing exactly what is needed," Cooper said. "He's talking the only kind of language Khrushchev can understand."

Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) said in a statement that Nixon's verbal encounter with Khrushchev was "a superb example of courage and intelligence."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), the Senate GOP leader, told a television audience he thinks Nixon has helped both himself and the nation by his actions, and added: "Frankly, I'm quite proud of his performance in the Soviet Union."

Bare Toes Are Taboo in Office

BY EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it bad taste for young women to go without stockings to a business office when the legs are deeply tanned? Does it matter that the toes show through the shoes — which in fact would be the only giveaway that stockings are missing. I am not comfortable in close-toed shoes, particular in hot weather."

Answer: If you wear open-toed shoes, you very certainly must wear stockings. With close-toed shoes and deeply tanned legs, lack of stockings would not be noticed and therefore is permissable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How should one address a wedding gift before the wedding day? And how should the card be signed by a husband and wife: Mary and John Blank or Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Blank?"

Answer: A wedding gift should be sent to Miss Mary Maidenname, and if you have a Mrs. and Mrs. visiting card you enclose it or write "Mr. and" before the engraving on your own card.

As a rule, "Best wishes" is written across the top of the card. If you have to use a plain card, then merely the name Mr. and Mrs. John Blank should be written on it or else, "With all best wishes from Mary and John Blank."

"Dear Mrs. Post: I gave a surprise shower for a friend of mine who is soon to be married. I did not invite the bridegroom's mother to the shower and have been severely criticized for not doing so. I have been told that both mothers are always invited to a shower. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?"

Answer: If the shower was limited to the bride-to-be's own young friends, it was certainly not necessary to invite the bridegroom's mother. But if other older people were invited she should have been too.

Andonian Wins Publinx Medal Title at Morey's

Shooting a one-under-par 213 for 54 holes, Pontiac Central teacher Mike Andonian captured the Michigan Publinx Medal Play tournament over the weekend at Morey's Golf Club.

The three-time State Publinx champion was the only entry able to break par although his three closest rivals were only a single stroke behind.

They were George Catto, the Central Michigan star who like Andonian was representing Sylvan Glen, Bob Evans of Brae Burn and Wally Smith of Sunnybrook all had 214.

Andonian had 14 birdies during the two days for scores of 105 and 108. He pulled away at the finish with two of the birdies on the last four holes.

★ ★ ★

Catto had been the opening day leader at 101. He bogied two of the last three to miss out. Smith eliminated himself by missing short putts on the final two holes. He was defending champ.

Soldier Holds Lead in Pentathlon Trials

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A twelve hour test of stamina in epee fencing put Pvt. Paul Pesthy in first place at the National Pentathlon Championship tryouts at Fort Sam Houston Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Pesthy was high individual winner in the second day's event with 32 victories. He was awarded 1,032 points, an almost perfect score by fencing standards. The Hungarian refugee, ineligible to compete in the Pan-American Championships because he lacks U.S. citizenship, is overall individual leader at the end of two days with 2,132 points.

★ ★ ★

SP4 Les Bleamaster, winner of the riding event Saturday, dropped to second place in the overall ratings after gaining only 872 points in fencing. His points now total 2,016. He ranked fourth in the fencing event.

Russell Sent to Packers for Ollie Spencer

Oliver (Ollie) Spencer today returned to the Detroit Lions squad in a straight player deal with the Packers for Ken Russell. Both are offensive right tackles.

Spencer returns to the Lions from Green Bay to whom he was traded in 1957 after starting his pro grid career with the Lions in 1953. That deal brought Tobin Rote to the Lions.

Two Veterans Split QB Duties in Sunday Drill

Big Defensive Tackle Is Second Newcomer to Leave Camp

Detroit Lions head coach George Wilson today described as "typical" his squad's first scrimmage of the season.

The club's rookies and several veterans in camp at Cranbrook yesterday underwent an intensive scrimmage for slightly more than an hour.

"It was a typical first scrimmage," Wilson said. "There were an awful lot of rough edges."

Rookies comprised the majority of the offensive squad. The defense, which had three or four veterans, far overshadowed the of-Jerry Reichow and Earl Morrall shared quarterback duties.

★ ★ ★

Dave Holden, a six-foot, seven-inch top rated defensive tackle, became the second player to leave camp yesterday. Wilson said Holden decided to return to his home in California. Ben Donnell, Vanderbilt, left Saturday without giving any reason.

PRO CAMP NOTES: ... ...

WESTMINSTER, Md. The baltimore Colts have less than a week of 1959 training behind them, but Coach Weeb Ewbank is already hesitantly comparing rookie Jerry Richardson with all-pro end Raymond Berry.

"He is already farther advanced at this period than Berry was when he first came up here," said Ewbank yesterday after watching Richardson drill with his National Football League champions.

"Shucks," drawled the 185-pound rookie, "I'm just plain scared. Where I come from, Wofford College — we only have an enrollment of about 500 — we'd tell the quarterback, I'm going in that direction. Here I got to learn 20 routes."

★ ★ ★

LAKE FOREST, Ill. — Walter Wolfner, general manager of the Chicago Cardinals, has spiked rumors that his club is interested in quarterback George Shaw of Baltimore.

"We are not interested in Shaw," Wolfner said yesterday.

"We have six quarterbacks in our camp, including three veterans, and we think we are in pretty good shape a that spot."

RENSSELAER, Ind. — The Chicago Bears are concentrating on their running and will not begin contact work for at least another week.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

MORAGA, Calif. — A freak injury in the San Francisco 49ers first pro football training workout Sunday put rookie Bill Curtis of Texas Christian out of action for the season.

WINOOSKI, Vt. (AP)—Frank Gifford, who will make an all-out effort to win the quarterback job, and regular quarterback Charlie Conerlyarrived with the rookies Sunday night as the New York Giants prepared their National Football League training camp.

MARINE HOTSHOTS — Oakland County Boat Club was the scene, Sunday, of what may have been the season's only big motorboat regatta in the Pontiac area. Above is the start of an early outboard hydro event on Sylvan Lake, with eight speedsters kicking up the spray. In the smaller photo is the hottest hotshot of them all, Sunday. Margie (S-1) was driven by Milford Harrison of Vermillion, Ohio, who won two events, the regatta's only double winner.

Outboard Fans Get Fill of Thrills in OCBC Test

Outboard motorboat racing fans converged on the Pontiac area, Sunday, with the focal point the all-outboard regatta at Oakland County Boat Club on Sylvan Lake.

★ ★ ★

Approximately 4,500 enthusiastic followers of the thrilling sport fully enjoyed the six-class regatta in which between 75-90 of the spectacular little speedsters performed.

Out of the welter of spray kicked up by the 60-80 mile-per-hour hydroplanes and runabouts emerged an Ohio pilot as the day's leading contender. He was Milford Harrison of Vermillion, who won the Class C and Class F hydro events, the regatta's only double winner.

Harrison drove his Margie (S-1) to victory in the two heat C-class, beating off hot challenges by Canadian John Dertinger of Delhi, Ont., and Dan Kirts of Elkhart, Ind. a 19-year-old pilot.

★ ★ ★

Harrison's victory in the Class F was the day's most exciting performance. He gunned his bouncing hydro up around 80 m.p.h. to take a first and a second in the two heats, with Lee Kratzer of Edwardsburg, Mich., and Bill Wells of London, Ont., chasing him all the way. Kratzer finished 2nd in the thrilling clashes, that saw John Maypole of Chicago flip over in the first heat, only to come back in the 2nd part for a 2nd place.

★ ★ ★

Maypole was tossed clear of his hydro in a spectacular upset, but was unhurt. This was his second dunking of the regatta. He went over in Class A, when caught by a cross-chop, and also came back in the event's next heat to gain a 3rd place.

The Chicagoan was one of a half dozen drivers who were spilled, none with any serious results. The only one requiring first aid was Ralph Dowling of Cleveland, who upset in a fast brush during the Class C racing runabout first heat. He had previously won the Class C service runabout event. He suffered bruises.

Paul Switch of Warren, Mich., was another who gave fans a thrill, when he was thrown out of his Class C service runabout. None of the craft was damaged beyond a thorough wetting. Choppy water was responsible for most of the spills.

The regatta was sanctioned by the Racing Outboard Drivers Association of America, whose Michigan division commodore Ken Saunders of Detroit, declared "we are coming back here next summer with an even bigger and better regatta."

A regatta ball was held Saturday night, with about 200 attending the dinner that preceded the event at OCBC.

The race results:

Class A hydros—1, Mel Kirts, Elkhart, Ind.; 2, Kay Harrison, Vermillion, O.; 3, Dan Thomas, Battle Creek. Fastest heat, Kirks 67 mph.

Class B hydros—1, Bert Blaskie, Battle Creek; 2, Dan Thomas, Battle Creek; 3, Walt Gabbard, Capac. Fastest heat, Blaskie, 70 mph.

Class C hydros—1, Milford Harrison, Vermillion, O.; 2, John Dertinger, Delhi, Ont.; 3, Dan Kirts, Elkhart, Ind. Fastest heat, Harrison, 68 mph.

Class C racing runabouts—1, Harry Demski, Midland, Mich.; 2, Ken Saunders, Detroit; 3, Fred Herbert, Tonawanda, N. Y. Fastest heat, Saunders, 70 mph.

Class F hydros—1, Milford Harrison, Vermillion; 2, Lee Kratzer, Edwardsburg, Mich.; 3, Bills, London, Ont. Fastest heat, Harrison, 80 mph.

New Skating Champion

BOSTON (AP)—A stocky speedster from Manasquan, N.J., today holds the 5-mile race title at the American Amateur Roller Skating Championships.

John Drewry beat defending champion Richard Edwards of Wichita, Kansas., by half a lap last night at the arena.

Drewry, 21, 5-3, was timed in 15:20 as only 7 of the 18 starters finished. He took the lead with 46 of the 70 laps to go.

87-Foot Yawl Ineligible

Sabre First at Mackinac

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—The speedy 87-foot yawl Sabre zipped across the finish line today to become the first craft to finish in the annual Port Huron to Mackinac Island yacht race.

The Sacbe, owned by Roman Brotz of Sheboygan, Wis., toured the 235-mile course in 40 hours, 6 minutes and 34 seconds. She left Port Huron at 2:15 p.m. Saturday and arrived here at 6:21 this morning.

Although first in, the Sabre is ineligible for the championship. Both she and the pintail are racing division craft and not eligible for the crown since all the others in the 85 boat field are cruising division vessels.

★ ★ ★

Dyna, a 58-foot yawl owned by Clayton Ewing of Green Bay, Wis., was sighted about 10 miles behind the sabre. The Dyna was favored to win the Hudson trophy.

The Kowloon, a class B boat owned by Nick Geid of the Chicago Yacht Club, was a few miles behind the Dyna. Other boats trailing close behind the Kowloon were the Gypsy, Apache, Great Lakes, Hilaria, and Tamara.

One entry, the 40-foot sloop Windquest, pulled out of the race yesterday after colliding with the Fria Via, a 39-foot sloop owned by E. J. Garmhausen of the Port Huron Yacht Club.

W. J. Hoover, owner of the Windquest, said he would file a protest with race officials. The Windquest suffered damage to her bow, but the Fria Via was not damaged seriously.

A record number of 85 boats started in the race Saturday from the Black River at Port Huron.

2 Players Hit at Havana

Play Halted by Bullets

HAVANA (AP) — The Havana Sugar Kings and the Rochester Red Wings are far from this trigger-happy city today, and the Red Wings, at least, couldn't be happier for there are no bullets flying around their ball park.

The Cubans are in Montreal and the Wings at home for the opening series tomorrow night against the Royals and Richmond Virginians, respectively. In fact the Wings have been home since yesterday.

★ ★ ★

They couldn't get out of this celebrating town fast enough following the hitting of two players by stray bullets, the calling of Saturday night's game after 11 innings with the score tied 4-4 and the cancellation of yesterday's doubleheader.

Yesterday's doubleheader was cancelled by approval of league president Frank Shaughnessy after he heard from the umpires a telephone report of Saturday night's incidents.

The Wings, whose Frank Verdi was knocked to the ground when a bullet struck his plastic protective helmet, refused to play and appealed their decision to Shaughnessy.

"I told them (Rochester) if they didn't want to play, they didn't have to. I wouldn't ask them to play under those conditions. This is the 26th of July and celebrations for Castro are still going on," Shaughnessy said yesterday.

Havana's Leo Cardenas was struck in the shoulder by a stray slug but was not injured seriously. The Havana management wanted to play yesterday's doubleheader but bowed to Shaughnessy's ruling.

★ ★ ★

Saturday night's incident was the result of the wild celebrations that rocked this country's capital as Prime Minister Fidel Castro's followers celebrated the anniversary of the beginning of the campaign to overthrow former dictator Fulgencia Batista.

★ ★ ★

Shaughnessy said he was informed that some of the fans in the stands Saturday night had tommy guns and were firing them into the air. The stadium is less than a quarter of a mile from the square where thousands of armed men from Cuba's hills were whooping and vigorously supporting Castro in a day-long celebration.

★ ★ ★

Verdi had replaced Rochester Manager Coot Deal as the team's third base coach after Deal earlier had been ejected from the game by the umpires.

"As I lay on the ground I thought I'd been hit by a thrown ball," a shaken Verdi said afterward. But he wouldn't compromise his luck:

"Look, I've a wife and four kids at home," the 33-year-old Bayshore, N.Y. player said. "As far as this town is concerned I've had it. We came here to play ball, not to be shot at."

Getting Cold Feet?

NEW YORK (UPI) — The number of marriages in the United States last year declined by about 4 per cent to 1,456,000, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. This represented a rate of 8.4 per 1,000 population, the lowest since 1932. The biggest statewide drop, 45 per cent, was recorded in Indiana.

Up to 90 per cent of all the wool shorn in Australia is sold at public auctions.

Can't Get Away at All

NEW YORK (UPI) — Not all summer heat comes from the sun. Heat-absorbing moisture from indoor cooking, washing and bathing will send temperatures up, according to the Allied Chemical Corp.

Exhaust fans in kitchens, bathrooms and washing-machine rooms may be a good investment.

Cork trees grow to about 30 feet in height and their trunks often reach a diameter of three or more feet.

Herald Baby's Birth

GRANBY, Mass. (UPI)—A sonic boom and three ambulances accompanied the birth of a son to Mrs. George Roberts.

The boom was apparently caused by a jet bomber flying over as Mrs. Roberts called for the town ambulance. It wasn't available, so everybody pitched in to locate a substitute.

They were so successful that three ambulances rushed to the Roberts home. By that time, the baby had already been born.

Candy With a Kick

BOONTON, N. J. (AP)—They may be changing the cocktail hour to the candy hour. That's the latest from the Ladies Auxiliary of Riverside Hospital. And if you want proof you'll find plenty of it—86 proof—in their latest candy recipe. So far, the women have sold 40 boxes of the bourbon-flavored candy.

Oil on Beaches Ruining West Michigan Tourism

LANSING (UPI) — Oil on beaches is driving some tourists away from resorts on Lake Michigan in the southern part of the state.

It's also costing motel and cabin owners money to have stained furnishings cleaned after oil has been tracked in.

★ ★ ★

"Our guests . . . only stay one day and then go away disgusted," said Mrs. Tony Angelo Sr. in a letter to the state attorney general.

"Not only are we losing room rentals, but our towels, rugs and bed linen are left in a deplorable condition and some of them are not fit to use again," said Mrs. Angelo, operator of the Sunset View Motel at Benton Harbor.

The oil, apparently from a barge that sank last November at Gary, Ind., is difficult and expensive to clean off the beaches, and resort owners are looking for somebody to pay the damages.

NO IMMEDIATE ACTION

An assistant attorney general said the state plans no immediate action.

But Jerome V. Maslowski, attached to the conservation section, has contacted the parties involved in the barge sinking and so have some of the property owners.

★ ★ ★

There were nearly 400,000 gallons of the stuff in a barge that belonged to Pure Oil Co. but was leased to Brooks Liquid Transport Co. of Berwyn, Ill. Some 20,000 gallons were recovered after the barge sank in a storm.

A Coast Guard investigation reported that no federal laws had been violated.

Oil drifted ashore and "seriously affected" beaches for 26 miles in Berrien County and spotted 12 miles of beach in Van Buren County.

'SEVERE SPOTTING'

Seventy miles of beach in Allegan, Ottawa and Muskegon counties were not affected, but 67 miles in Oceana, Mason and Manistee counties showed "severe spotting" possibly from the same source.

Iceland Wants U. S. to Buy Fish

Frozen Food Experts Visit NATO Link; Are Favorably Impressed

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland has fish for sale. If it has its way, the United States will buy a lot of it and thereby help this nation, a link in the North Atlantic defense system, built its economy and diminish any dependency on the Soviet Union.

A group of frozen food experts here from the United States agreed that the Icelandic fish is fine tasting food.

"We'll buy all we can get, just freeze it right, package it right and make the price right," said Walter Meier, frozen food broker from Milwaukee.

Meier indicated that the flow of Icelandic fish to the United States may be stepped up considerably. The government invited Meier, Dave Elggren of Salt Lake City, Brock Steel of Orlando, Fla., and others to investigate the possibilities.

As it stands now, the United States seems to have won the battle for Iceland's political support but the need is to cement the thing from an economic viewpoint. The fishing industry, representing 97 per cent of Iceland's exports, is the key.

Government people say the foreign reserves accruing from work on the NATO airbase are useful but they want American support for the island's principal economy and the one it will have to live on under all circumstances, cold war or peace.

Add Overseas Phone Cables

Pair Will Handle 36 Conversations at Once Under the Sea

WASHINGTON — Giant metal threads stitch America and Europe ever closer together.

The latest addition to the growing underwater network is the pair of telephone cables being laid under the Atlantic from North America to the coast of France, the National Geographic Society says.

When it goes into use this fall, the facility will be able to speed 36 conversations under the sea at one time. One strand will carry voices eastward; the other, west.

The new link is being created because of the success of the first transatlantic telephone cable, placed in service iin 1956.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company will own the cables jointly with the French Ministry of Posts, Telegraphs and Telephones, and the German Federal Ministry for Posts and Communications.

The western ends of the cables surface at Clarenville, Newfoundland. They will tie in to a cable that will cross Newfoundland and the waters of Sidney Strait to connect with an existing 575-mile radio relay route extending south to Portland, Maine, to join the Bell System's national network.

In Europe, the lines end at Penmarch, on the Brittany peninsula of France. Thirteen of the 36 circuits will terminate in France and 13 in Germany. Belgium and the Netherlands are alloted one apiece; Italy, Switzerland, and Spain, two each. Two spares can be used in any of the countries in the event of a circuit failure.

At present, there are one cable and nine radio telephone circuits between France and the United States, and two cable and 12 radio circuits between Germany and the United States.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (UPI) —Fire Capt. Martin Ruopp assured Gregory Gudz, 48, a deaf-mute, that everything would be all right after Gudz collapsed in his home. While his men operated an inhalator, Ruopp calmed Gudz by using sign language he learned 40 years ago.

Modest Gains Dominate Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Most stock market prices eked out modest gains in moderate trading early today.

Advances were limited to less than a point for the most part. A number of losers dotted the list.

Prices generally hovered around opening levels. Little enthusiasm developed to push them higher.

Most steels, motors and aircrafts stepped a notch higher. Some specially situated issues ran ahead.

Electronics, metals, chemicals and rails were narrowly mixed.

Rugged Training Pays: Princess Anne Is 3rd

LONDON (UPI) — Princess Anne's rigorous sprint training and some prerace coaching by the heir to the throne paid off yesterday with a solid third place in an all-girl foot race.

The Princess more or less disgraced the royal family by finishing dead last in the race last year among the sisters of boys at Cheam school, where Prince Charles is a pupil.

So far this year, palace sources said Anne got in some heavy spring training behind the screening walls of Buckingham Palace's garden.

Got Car the Hoggy Way

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Melvin Paschea of Granite City, Ill., believes in doing things the old fashioned way.

He traded his old car—and 192 hogs—for a new automobile.

The salesman who handled the deal then peddled the hogs.

He Couldn't Read Latin

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—One of the "wanted" posters in the St. Clair County Courthouse says a man sought for child desertion has a tattoo on his arm. It reads: "Semper Fidelis"—always faithful.

Grains Show Firming Trend

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market was mostly steady today during the first several minutes of transactions on the Board of Trade with wheat showing a continued firming trend in all contracts.

Dealers said there appeared to be a better volume of wheat buying on flour mill account and that hedge selling was somewhat lighter than expected.

Trading was influenced somewhat on both sides of the market by the government report of last Friday showing stocks of grain in all positions as of July 1. Most interest appeared to center on the figures for corn and soybeans which some dealers said were of a slightly bullish tinge.

Wheat was ½ to ¾ cent a bushel higher than the first hour, Sept. $1.90¼; corn ⅛ to ⅜ higher, Sept. $1.20¾; oats ¼ to ⅞ higher, Sept. new type contract 68¾; rye ¼ to ⅝ higher. Sept. $1.29½; soybeans unchanged to ¾ higher. Sept. $2.20⅜.

Weekend Highway Toll Same as Memorial Day

By United Press International

Michigan recorded its worst weekend on the highways since the first week in May this weekend when 15 persons were killed in traffic accidents.

In addition, three persons drowned and one was electrocuted in the state, for a total weekend accidental death toll of 19—the same number as wal killed in all types of accidents during the Memorial Day weekend.

One traffic accident accounted for three of the victims, and two other crashes claimed two lives each.

State Police said the Bogner car swerved into the wrong lane to avoid hitting the car in front of it when traffic slowed near Petosky. The auto hit an oncoming vehicle and two others crashed in to the wreckage. Four other persons, all from Ohio, were in critical condition in Little Traverse Hospital, Petoskey.

Gerhard Halseet, 54, and Otto Olson, 66, two retired mechanics from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., were killed last night in a two-car, head-on collision on U.S. 23 east of Cheboygan. Five Persons were injured in the crash.

Chinese Reds Step Up Shelling of Matsu

TAIPEI (UPI) — Chinese Communist artillery today shelled the main island of the Matsu offshore island group, dropping 263 shells on the Nationalist outpost in 49 minutes, the defense ministry announced.

It was the fourth heaviest shelling of the Matsus by shore batteries since last year's Quemoy crisis. The defense ministry did not say whether there were casualties.

Honey for the Ants Plays Hob With Cars

KENT, Ohio (UPI) — Ants so dearly love the aphid's sticky secretion known as "honeydew" that they sometimes domesticate the tiny plant lice just to assure a regular supply.

But "honeydew," which the aphids obtain by sucking the juice from leaves and tender twigs of trees, also descends on automobiles parked beneath the trees. To remove it from your car with damaging the finish, tree experts recommend washing with warm soapy water.

May Birth Rate Lower Than '58

First Time in 1959 Figure Below Same Month Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Births during May dropped under those in the comparabe 1958 month, the first time this had occurred in 1959.

An estimated 338,000 live births were registered in May, 1.5 per cent less than the 343,000 in May 1958, the Public Health Service reported today.

The year's total for five months, however, was 1,709,000, up 1.8 per cent from the 1,679,000 in the similar 1958 span.

Since the nation's population increased between May 1958 and May 1959, the birth rate for the month this year was 22.6 per 1,000 population as compared with 23.3 a year earlier, a drop of 3 per cent. For the five months in each year it was 23.5.

Marriages held steady during May with 116,000 reported in each year. For the five months they totalled 507,000, up 2.8 per cent over the 1958 figure of 493,000.

Divorces continued an upward trend first noted in July 1958. Since that month the number of divorces listed by 29 reporting areas each month has exceeded the figure for the same month in the preceding year.

The 29 areas estimated 14,800 divorces during May, which was 0.7 per cent more than the 14,698 a year earlier. For the first five months, this year the total was 72,568, or 7.2 per cent more than the 67,714 in 1958 and 1 per cent more than the 71,851 in 1957.

Soviet Union's Missiles Weak

U.S. Defense Secretary Says Russia Incapable of ICBM Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has fewer than 10 intercontinental range missiles capable of hitting the United States, Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy says.

McElroy's statement Sunday contrasted with his news conference views six months ago when he said "We do not believe that Russia has an ICBM capable of operation against this country at this time."

★ ★ ★

McElroy made it clear Sunday that U.S. defense leaders believe over-all American weapons "could more than match whatever the Russians will have in intercontinental ballistic missile capability."

★ ★ ★

McElroy said during a television interview with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) the United States must retain an ability to destroy the Soviet Union if the Soviets should attack with large weapons.

Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif) said on another program that in the event of a massive surprise attack "I do not believe that we could retaliate to the extent that it would be an appreciable amount of damage to a foreign country." He is a member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

Lifeguard Saves Girl at Homestead Park

An alert lifeguard at Homestead Park in Commerce Township was credited by Oakland County sheriff's deputies with saving the life of a Hazel Park teenager Sunday.

Fred Honchell, of 2836 Rowan St., Waterford Township, said he noticed Lucille Rondan, 14, of 19 Sturtevant St., floating face down in the water at a park swimming area.

He rushed to her aid and carried the unconscious girl to shore where he revived her with artificial respiration.

She told deputies she had fainted.

'Asterisks, Asterisks, Thank You'

Censors in Field Day

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's a sporting tip for any Martian spies that may be lurking around:

Take a look at page 250 of "Space Propulsion," a transcript of hearings recently put out by the House Committee on Science and Astronautics.

★ ★ ★

Oh, it's censored all right; enough to be incomprehensible to mere humans. But the committee left something in—a name and three asterisks on each line, and there are lots of lines. And who knows what a cold, alien intelligence might be able to do with what's left.

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La) starts the exchange by asking Dr. Robert I. Strough, "What is the extent of the research and development program of the United Aircraft Corp.?"

As printed, Dr. Strough's reply is "..."

★ ★ ★

The transcript continues:

"The chairman...

"Dr. Strough's..."

It goes on like that for 72 more lines.

Or you might want to tackle Dr. Strough's original prepared statement, as published by the committee:

"Statement of Dr. Robert I. Strough, project engineer, Canel, United Aircraft Corp.

"Dr. Strough...

"The chairman...

"Dr. Sheldon Charles S. Sheldon II, committee techincal director..."

"Dr. Strough...

Slated at LeBaron School

Rodeo Time for Bicycles

Bicycle safety and fun are behind an experimental program the Department of Parks & Recreation will stage Tuesday for children in the LeBaron School area.

★ ★ ★

It's a bicycle rodeo in which skill, endurance and knowledge of safety rules will play a part, said Leonard T. Buzz, recreation director.

There are 25 youngsters entered in the contest so far and at least 50 to 70 are expected by the time the first event begins 2 p.m. Tuesday on the school playground, Buzz said.

Trick riding, an obstacle course and races will dominate the rodeo, Buzz said.

SERIOUS SIDE TOO

But there's another event in which the serious side of bicycling will be stressed, he emphasized.

Contestants will be required to demonstrate their knowledge of safety precautions, rules of the road, correct bicycle lighting and other safety measures, he explained.

"If the rodeo is successful at LeBaron, we will consider holding it at other playgrounds throughout the city next year," Buzz said.

★ ★ ★

Besides a 25-lap race and 200-yard dashes, the rodeo will have another racing event that promises amusement, Buzz said.

This is a 50-yard dash in which the slowest rider will be declared the winner.

The rodeo is open only to youngsters who have city bicycle licenses, Buzz said.

FOUR AGE BRACKETS

Boys and girls will be grouped in four age brackets for the contests: ages 6-7, 8-10, 11-12, and 13-15.

Of the six candidates running for the two Senate and one House seats, three are Orientals and two are heavily favored in their contests.

The race for the governorship is the only contest in which both candidates are Caucasian.

UAR President Tells Egypt to Walk Softly

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP) — Israel will be wiped from the map if she attacks Egypt, United Arab Republic President Gamel Abdel Nasser told a cheering crowd Sunday.

He was speaking at a rally celebrating the seventh anniversary of the 1952 Egyptian revolution that toppled King Farouk.

Nasser's bristling, confident speech was prompted by a statement from Israel's former army chief, Moshe Dayan, that his country should "return hostility for hostility" with Egypt.

Determined to Pass Housing Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate housing chairman John Sparkman (D-Ala) said today congressional leaders are determined to pass housing legislation this year, either by overturning President Eisenhower's veto or by drafting a new bill.

Sparkman made the statement as his Senate housing subcommittee called Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania and mayors Richard J. Daley of Chicago and Frank A. Sedita of Buffalo to testify on Eisenhower's veto of the big Democratic housing measure.

The subcommittee is holding hearings before deciding whether to try to override the veto or to write a less costly bill. Eisenhower vetoed the measure as "inflationary" and "extravagant."

West at Odds About Berlin

U.S., France Hold Out Against British Effort to Ease Demands

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and France were reported holding firm today against British pressure to cut down Western terms for a Berlin agreement with the Soviet Union and clear the way for an early summit conference.

As the Big Four foreign ministers conference moved into its ninth week, U.S. and British officials sought to play down the difference and deny any threat to allied unity.

Some privately conceded, however, that the maneuvering has created an appearance of weakness under Soviet hammering on critical Berlin and German issues.

Associates said Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is still determined to try to get an agreement from the Soviets' Andrei A. Gromyko to protect West Berlin. He is reported equally determined not to accept any deal which will put a deadline on Allied rights there.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, who conferred with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan over the weekend, reportedly believes that limited assurances already offered by Gromyko are the best the West can hope for and should be accepted conditionally.

★ ★ ★

The condition, British informants said, is that the U.S.S.R. for the time being drop its demand for agreement on direct unification negotiations between the West German and Communist East German governments. All three Western powers were reported agreed that this price demanded by Gromyko for a stopgap Berlin settlement is completely unacceptable.

Chicago to Defend Lake Diversion Need

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of Chicago's Metropolitan Sanitary District defend themselves today in a running battle over the district's sewage disposal methods.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) and four district officials were ready for resumption of hearings on a House-passed bill which would permit Chicago to take more water from Lake Michigan.

The Senate public works subcomittee hearing was called to permit Chicago to reply to charges raised earlier this month that the additional diversion is sought as a substitute for adequate treatment and disposal methods.

'Dick-Nik' Talk Program Kind to Long Remember

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—This is the year for so-alled "talk shows" on TV.

★ ★ ★

The three networks used some of their weekend time to run off a spectacular pilot film showing the newest talk show to bemuse their viewers.

This road version of Keep Talking featured Dick and Nik, better known as Vice President Richard Nixon and Soviet dictator Nikita Khrushchev, respectively, in 16-minutes of absorbing give-and-take that originated at the American exhibit's color TV studio in Moscow.

★ ★ ★

The very thought of these two important world figures haggling and exchanging cliches about their deeply-felt convictions made for an unprecedented, unforgettable TV show.

Diplomatic and political repercussions aside, this Dick-Nik TV show was stimulating, vivid and filled to the hilt with the immediacy of today's history.

★ ★ ★

Nixon, apparently uncertain about the propriety of arguing in public with his host, gamely tried to get the talk back to the subject of videotape and television.

Since it appears that Khrushchev enjoys ad libbing on TV, I'd like to book him into some future Groucho Marx show and let Groucho handle him.

SHORT SHOTS: Operation Noah's Ark on NBC-TV Sunday was an exciting and beautiful photographed documentary about the rescuing of wild animals from the Zambesi River in southern Rhodesia.

When it comes to smiling, Teamster boss James Hoffa makes Arthur Murray look like a Liberace. Or so it seemed when Hoffa appeared on CBS-TV's Face the Nation.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel to the Senate Rackets Committee, appearing on NBC's Meet the Press immediately following Hoffa's appearance, said he believed the CBS panel had agreed not to ask Hoffa any personal questions.

This brought from Ted Ayres, producer of the CBS-TV show, the following rejoinder: "Ridiculous; there was no such agreement."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy also was asked how he felt about Hoffa's threat to sue for libel because of Kennedy's comments on last Wednesday's Jack Paar Show.

Kennedy repeated his comments and welcomed Hoffa's law suit.

And so TV goes, weaving itself more deeply into the fabric of our life—when it feels like it.

It's Hot, Humid; but Christmas Comes in July

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—It was hot and humid outside Whitehaven Methodist Church here Sunday. Inside, air conditioners labored to cool the air and keep the wreaths of holly fresh.

★ ★ ★

It was Christmas in July.

The worshippers gave little thought to the heat. They listened attentively as the Rev. Dr. F. A. Flatt read the age-old Christmas story.

"I didn't begin to get the feeling until this morning," said pretty, brunette Tommy Seacat, 15. "But today did seem like Christmas. It was different — but no less meaning at all."

"The main purpose of having Christmas in July is to get away from the commercial aspects, the gift giving. We want to remind people of the real significance of the birth of Christ."

Dr. Flatt said it should not seem strange to celebrate Christmas now.

"Actually, Bible scholars don't know when Christ was born," he said.

GM Device Aids in Heart Surgery

Cuts Body Temperature 10 Degrees in 5 Minutes for Operation

LOCKPORT, N.Y. — An automotive-like transmission oil cooler device that can zoom a patient's body temperature down 10 degrees in as little as five minutes is now in use at the Duke University Merical Center, Durham, North Carolina.

Called a blood heat exchanger, it marks a new advance in safeguards for patients who undergo complex open heart surgery.

Formerly, patients were cooled with ice packs or refrigerated blankets. This process took an hour or longer and was hard to control in terms of desired temperatures.

Now, Dr. Wirt W. Smith of the Duke surgery staff said surgeons using the heat exchanger can lower a patient's temperature at an average rate of one degree Fahrenheit every 30 seconds raise it with almost equal speed and control it with an accuracy of one half of a degree.

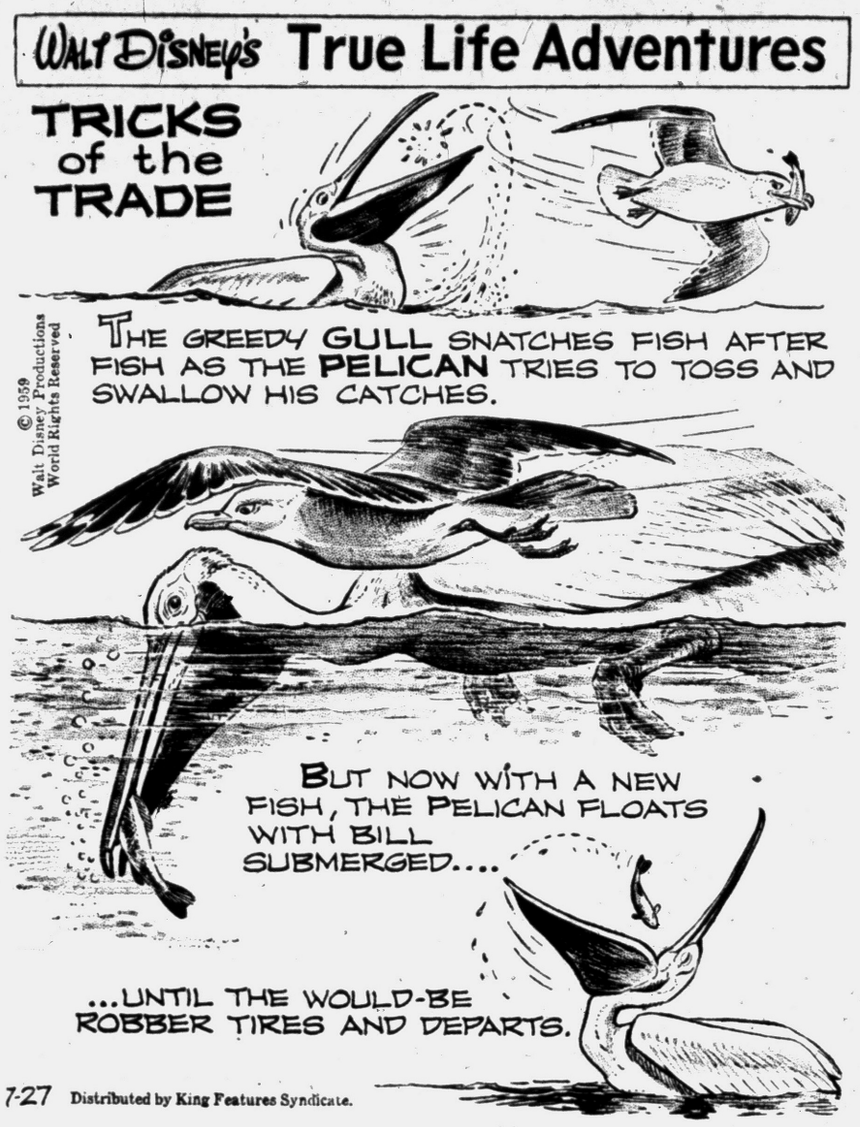

The heat exchanger was developed cooperatively by Duke medical scientists and research engineers at the Harrison Radiator Division, General Motors Corporation. It was especially designed to take into consideration the complex characteristics of human blood and to meet other safety requirements for use in surgery, the doctor pointed out.

The heat exchanger is being used at Duke in heart operations that involve an "artificial heart-lung" machine combined with hypothermia, or lowering the patient's body temperature. The heart-lung machine takes over the work of a patient's own heart and lungs. Then, surgeons can open the heart and repair congenital defects such as holes or obstructions.

Lowering the patient's temperature greatly reduces his oxygen needs and thus permits lower flow rates through the heart-lung, protecting the brain and other vital organs. Hypothermia also lessens damage to blood cells and reduces the chances of certain complications.

Basically, the heat exchanger consists of a group of slender stainless steel tubes enclosed by a specially constructed steel jacket. As blood flows through the tubes, water is circulated about them. The temperature of the circulating water is automatically regulated. The device is approximately 11 pounds in weight and about the size of a housewife's rolling pin.

Before the new heat exchanger was developed, patients were anesthetized and then cooled from a normal 98.6 degrees to around 86 degrees Fahrenheit, usually by means of ice packs or refrigerated blankets.

U.S. Guides Please Russians

Sears Catalog Star of Exhibit

By ALINE MOSBY

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two of the biggest hits at the U.S. exhibition in Moscow are the Sears Roebuck catalogue and the Russian-speaking American guides.

Russians have shown their enthusiasm for the exhibition that opened Saturday by climbing over the fence and crashing through the turnstile gate to see what the Americans have.

Bearded peasants in the traditional boue belted tunics jostled pretty girls in modern summer cotton dresses to examine electric blankets and adding machines.

But one smash success were the Sears Roebuck catalogues which were placed on reading racks and attached to the wall.

During a tour of the exhibition crowded with chattering excited Russians, three teenage girls were seen poring over the catalogue pages showing pictures of brassieres — which are not too common in Moscow stores.

The catalogues so far have outdrawn a display of arty and expensive books in the same section.

The Russians have almost a schoolboy crush on the Russian-speaking American guides in the exhibition. They are eager to make friends with the guides as well as compete with them in arguments.

Yesterday crowds of Russians were packed ten deep outside the glass pavilion hemming in an American guide who was engaged in a lively debate on eastern European politics.

Outside the controversial American exhibition home, a large crowd watched several Russian women questioning another guide about the homes of American workers, their wages and their families.

The arguments apparently were touched off by stories in the Soviet press pointing up the theme that America is not as rosy as the fair and Vice President Richard M. Nixon would have the Russians believe.

★ ★ ★

Pravda and Izvestia, the official newspapers, complained about the lack of technological progress shown. Pravda said "the thirst for knowledge of American achievements in engineering can be quenched with Pepsi Cola" which is being distributed free at the fair.

A Tass dispatch today reported tens of thousands of visitors attending the fair but it also said the U.S. guides had to admit the annual model changes constituted a plot to swell profits by the automobile corporations.

Tass also reported that one Soviet woman found the American washing machines more expensive than Russian machines.

An exhibition of abstract art at the fair has attracted great attention and at one point so many Russians crowded around an American guide to argue he had to flee to save the paintings from being crushed.

★ ★ ★

The Russians opened refrigerator doors, peered into automatic dishwashers and bounced basketballs. They ogled the modern three-room apartment where a guide was preparing dinner to the strains of "South Pacific."

Russians also mobbed the General Mills and General Foods kitchens where four American girls were busy baking cakes and cooking frozen vegetables. But a triangle-shaped purple upholstered chair and abstract sculptures brought giggles.

Russian Lessons Are No Trouble for Sullivan

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS — Ed Sullivan's studying Russian here with an honest-to-goodness professor who was a little nervous about his student because he'd heard him talk about his "rrreally great shew" on TV.

WILSON

The Professor, Alexander Malbin, vacationing from the Army Language School at Monterey, Cal., teaches Ed three hours a day —not at the swimming pool but up in Ed's suite.

"I figured I ought, as a courtesy, to try to introduce my acts in Russian when our show goes to Moscow next month," Ed said.

And Ed has made such good progress that the Professor was looking for more columnists to conquer and wanted to teach me Russian.

"What do I need wth Russian? I can already talk to Max Asnas," I said, that being a weak joke about the Russian-born proprietor of the New York Stage Delicatessen whose accent is much thicker than his corned beef.

By the way, Ed," I said, contributing my solitary chunk of erudition, "do you know that the Bible spells 'show' just as you pronounce it—shew?" And I mentioned that in the Book of St. John, and also elsewhere, the old English spelling is used.

MAY

"So I'm not only Russian but Biblical," said Ed, still eying the pool.

The Prof. said Ed's rolled-R which he emphasizes when he says "rrreally great shew" is helpful in Russian, which, he insisted, is an easier language than French.

"You vill speak it like a native," the Prof. told Ed.

"Sure Professor," nodded Ed. "Like a native American," he added, as he dived in.
