Steel Union Wants Probe of Issues by Fact-Finders

Parched Lawns May Get Rain This Friday

Area residents can expect little rainfall for their parched lawns before Friday when scattered thundershowers are predicted.

Low temperatures for the next five days will continue in the 60's and the high will range from 78-87. Thursday's high is again predicted in the upper 80's, the weatherman reports.

Precipitation for the period will total about one-half to three-fourths of an inch in scattered showers Friday through Monday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 63 degrees. At 2 p.m. the reading was 85.

Ike Reaffirms Stand on Berlin

Says Soviet Recognition of Allied Rights Must Precede Summit Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today Russia must give clear recognition of Allied rights and responsibilities in West Berlin before he will agree to a summit conference.

He reaffirmed, at a news conference, his determination to avoid any surrender of Allied rights in the quarrel with Russia over the future of the divided city.

He said firmly that the United States will not make any retreat which could be looked on as clear evidence of weakness.

Eisenhower, in replying to questions, said the resumed East-West talks at Geneva have gotten off to what he called a slow start.

But, while he said there is no rift in the clouds at present, he will keep plugging away for some kind of understanding with Russia.

The Big Four foreign ministers went into formal session at the Palace of Nations at 10:01 a.m. (EST) today.

The Big Four conference on Berlin was badly snarled today by disagreements not only between the Soviet Union and the West but also among the Western powers themselves.

Taft-Hartley Use Rejected by Ike to End Strike

McDonald Offers Plan for Neutral Party to Enter Dispute

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK—The Steelworkers Union today proposed the industry agree to submit strike issues to a fact-finding board to be headed by a neutral selected by Chief Justice Warren of the United States Supreme Court.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower said today present conditions do not warrant invoking the Taft-Hartley Law in an effort to end the steel strike.

At a news conference in Washington, Eisenhower declined to speculate on when steel stockpiles might be reduced to a point which would imperil national defense.

The Taft-Hartley Law permits the government to seek a court order to end any work stoppage which the President finds is a threat to national security.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union president, made the union proposal in a letter to the industry's four-man negotiating team.

McDonald proposed that the industry and union agree to the fact-finding procedure to sift the facts involved in all strike issues.

The union proposed that the investigating board be composed of a man named by the union, another by the industry and an impartial member to be named by Warren.

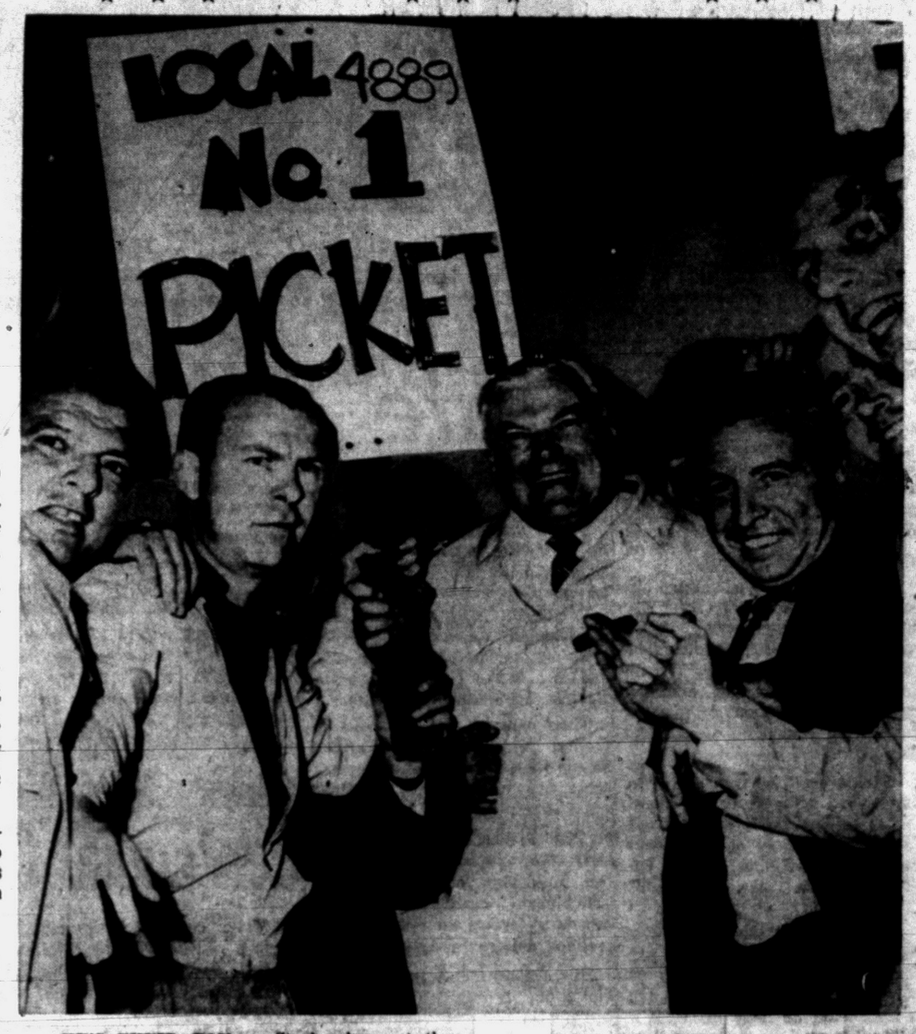

IKE HAS HOPES

Discussing the strike which commenced last midnight, Eisenhower again expressed hope that free bargaining between the steel companies and the union will result quickly in a new contract.

The President was asked specifically to estimate, on the basis

'Crystal Clear Hoffa Won't Clean Union'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said today it is crystal clear James R. Hoffa never will clean up corruption in his Teamsters Union.

The Senate rackets probers headed by McClellan wound up Tuesday a 2½-year investigation of Teamster President Hoffa and scandals in the union.

As a parting shot, committee counsel Robert S. Kennedy denounced Hoffa to his face as a taker of payoffs from employers.

Kennedy said he has no plan for further questioning of Hoffa. But he said the committee still could change its mind and investigate the Teamsters further.

In hopeful tones, Kennedy told reporters the board of monitors appointed by a U.S. District Court to help police the Teamsters could "make the problem academic" by removing Hoffa as the union's president.

In a separate interview, McClellan said he felt sure the inquiry at least has "fortified the monitors in their purpose to supervise and direct a cleanup."

But, the senator said, "Hoffa and his henchmen by their performance have made it crystal clear there can be no cleanup from within the union."

The inquiry ended just about where it had started. Hoffa made lengthy replies to every question the committee asked but they contained little information.

He testified he will move—"in due course"—to deal with charges that gangsters, racketeers, extortionists and narcotics peddlers have risen to power as his aides in important union offices.

McClellan said the final hearing dramatized one of the big problems of the whole investigation—getting real answers to questions.

Hoffa parried demands that he help disclose the source of $10,000 in 50-dollar bills which had figured in the testimony.

"Ask Brennan," Hoffa suggested to the committee, pointing to Owen Bert Brennan, his right hand man in Michigan Teamster affairs.

Committee investigators said the $10,000 was traced from Brennan to lawyers for Bernard Spindel, co-defendant with Hoffa in a 1957 wiretap conspiracy trial in which both were acquitted.

Spindel also refused to tell anything, pleading that answers might incriminate him. So did Walter Schuler, a business agent in Brennan's local.

Hoffa had told the committee Schuler had a hand in raising a Teamsters defense fund for Spindel, who never has been a member of the union.

McClellan appealed to Schuler to whisper his answers to Hoffa, so that Hoffa might give them to the committee. Schuler balked at this, standing on his Fifth Amendment privilege.

Invited to ask Schuler for the answers, Hoffa refused. "I do not want to infringe on a man's right to exercise a constitutional privilege," Hoffa explained.

"You get it," Hoffa retorted curtly.

Gomez Killing Self-Defense

Pontiac Police Detective Absolved in Inquest Asked by Mexicans

A six-man coroner's jury ruled early this afternoon that a Mexican citizen shot to death by a Pontiac police detective was killed by the officer in self-defense.

The verdict ended an inquest into the death of Manuel Gomez, 53, of 38 W. Wilson Ave., who was shot June 22 by Det. August R. Martinez.

The inquest had been demanded by the Mexican government after numerous protests from the Mexican community in Pontiac and papers in Mexico.

The inquest ended suddenly when George Mendenez, legal adviser to the Mexican consul in Detroit, announced that the Mexican consulate agreed to waive the calling of a dozen witnesses in the case.

"Most of their testimony would be repetition and largely based on hearsay," Menendez explained.

The jury deliberated for 20 minutes before reaching a verdict. It was unanimously agreed by the panel that Gomez was killed while assaulting police officers and that the lives of the policemen were "in imminent danger."

Murmurs of protest were heard in the Oakland County Board of Supervisors chambers where the second session of the inquest was being held.

After the verdict was announced, Menendez announced that the case was closed as far as Mexico was concerned.

"The killing was a tragic mistake as the police had not received proper training," he said. "But we are convinced no brutality or discrimination was involved."

Gomez was shot in his apartment by Martinez after tear gas had been thrown into the building.

Witnesses this morning were Martinez, Patrolman Gerald Navarre, and two of Gomez' neighbors, John Gayton, 19, and his sister, Rosemary, 21, of 30 W. Wilson Ave.

To Appeal to Supreme Court Again

Kierdorf Gets 'Last Stay'

IN-AGAIN, OUT-AGAIN — Former Teamster agent Herman Kierdorf was in jail again this morning, but only briefly. Here, Uncle Herman, as he has been dubbed by newsmen, leaves an Oakland County Jail cell after being granted a stay of execution of his 1-5 year prison sentence on charge of possessing a pistol silencer.

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Another 48 hours of freedom has been granted Herman Kierdorf as he continues his desperate struggle to escape going to Jackson Prison for possession of a pistol silencer.

In a surprise move this morning, Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams granted a stay of execution of Kierdorf's 1 to 5 years sentence until 1 p.m. Friday.

Kierdorf's attorney, Eric E. Zisman, said he would petition the State Supreme Court immediately to reconsider his application for leave to appeal Kierdorf's conviction, and at the same time request that the high court allow a bond which would permit Kierdorf to remain free should they grant a reconsideration.

Judge Adams, who sentenced the former aide to Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa last November, said he would grant no further stays.

The 68-year-old Madison Heights resident happily strolled out of the county jail at 11:45 a.m., a free man again. He looked bewilderedly at Zisman, not knowing whether he was headed for Jackson or Madison Heights, when the jail turnkey brought him downstairs from his cell.

"Gee, I was just getting comfortable," Kierdorf said after reading a release order signed by Judge Adams.

He jovially stuck a fresh cigar in his mouth for the benefit of a photographer and casually walked down the jail steps accompanied by Zisman and his son, Richard of Saginaw.

Zisman freed him from his brief, 1½ hour stint in jail by pleading with the judge that he had received no official notice that the Supreme Court had denied his application.

Car Makers Set for Steel Strike

No Halt Expected for Rest of '59 Run; Have 60 to 90-Day Supply

The auto industry in Pontiac and Detroit foresees little or no effect by the steel strike on the rest of the 1959 production year.

"Pontiac Motor Division took every precaution to protect schedules in event of a steel strike and the division sees no curtailment of production in the near future," an official announcement said.

"We have enough steel on hand for the immediate future," a spokesman for GMC Truck & Coach Division said.

"However, we can't say definitely whether the strike will interfere with production by our more than 2,000 suppliers."

It is generally expected that automobile manufacturers will be able to survive a 60 to 90-day strike with no particular strain.

The auto industry normally absorbs about 15 to 20 per cent of the total steel production.

All the automakers have vast steel stockpiles, plus about one million 1959 models already built and ready for sale.

60-DAY SUPPLY

This inventory of new cars should last about 60 days, even if no more 1959 models are built. That would carry dealers close to the introduction dates for 1960 models.

Long-range plans call for all Chrysler Corp. production of 1959 models to end by early August and for General Motors production to end during August. Ford division planned to run until early September with other Ford Motor Co. production shutting down in August.

Ford will be the least affected by the strike since it normally makes about 50 per cent of its steel at its Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn. This plant is ranked 13th among all U.S. steel plants in capacity and can make 1,898,600 tons of ingots in a year.

Police Reserve Assn. Offers Counter Plan

By DICK SAUNDERS

The Pontiac Police Reserve Assn. last night served notice that it will not "buy" all the proposals by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman aimed at restricting the authority of reserve officers.

The association made this known in announcing a list of its recommendations, which were forwarded to Eastman two weeks ago.

"We do not entirely disagree with his (Eastman's) proposals governing our organization's relationship with the police department," said Winford E. Bottom, association president, "but there are many things we cannot possibly adhere to."

In answer to reserve limitations proposed by Eastman Bottom said:

"The only time a reserve is a reserve is in active police work. He must have the proper respect, since he abides by the rules and regulations governing regular police officers when on duty."

The proposals concerning authority read in part:

"Reserve officers shall exercise the same authority as the regular officer while performing his duty. Reserves filing complaints or making arrests while in the line of duty shall be honored or considered by the regular police department."

"We request that a resolution or ordinance be passed by the City Commission authorizing the use of the reserves."

In support of this, Bottom said, "We feel that in an industrial town such as Pontiac, we are certainly of aid when performing our regular duties on a Friday or Saturday night. On these nights I don't feel one-man cars are adequate."

'NOTHING BAD'

Disturbed by what he cited as an inference in Eastman's proposals that some reserve members had criminal backgrounds, Bottom said, "they are certainly mis-

Abductor Seen Without Girl

Visits Aunt in Commerce 3 Hours After Report of Kidnaping

Pontiac State Police captured John Thompson and rescued Ann Piri in an open Commerce Township field at 2:45 p.m. today. The girl apparently was unharmed. Although Thompson was armed with a rifle, there was no shooting.

The search for a 22-year-old Highland Park man, identified by Detroit Police as the abductor of his 17-year-old former girl friend early today, took a dramatic turn into Oakland County this afternoon.

The suspect, John Thompson, reportedly visited an aunt, Mrs. William Tilson, in Commerce Township only three hours after the kidnaping.

Detroit Police said Thompson dragged his former blonde sweetheart, Ann Piri, from her Highland Park home at gunpoint around 4:30 a.m.

Pontiac State Police questioned his aunt at her home, 5604 Tuscola Rd., shortly before 1 p.m. She told troopers her nephew had been there around 7:30 a.m. but was alone.

She said she saw his car through a window and didn't see anyone in it.

The woman said Thompson left, saying he would be back in about a half-hour. He hadn't returned by 2 p.m. Police were continuing their search at the park.

Herman Kierdorf Given 'Last Stay'

He said he had to rely on newspaper accounts to learn of the denial.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem urged that a further stay of proceedings be rejected. He said the first denial was unanimous by the eight justices and "that chances of granting a rehearing are extremely slim."

Should the Supreme Court justices be in recess for the summer, Zisman said one justice has the authority to grant a bond, necessary if Kierdorf is to remain free past 1 p.m. Friday.

Chewing on his customary cigar, the 68-year-old former aide to Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa waited patiently outside the courtroom of Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Judge Adams yesterday ordered Kierdorf's bondsman, Carmen A. Mitchell of Pontiac, to produce Kierdorf at 10 a.m. or deputies would go out after him.

Judge Adams never saw the suntanned Kierdorf as he was escorted off to the county jail by Sheriff Frank W. Irons and Undersheriff Donald M. Francis. He checked into the jail at 10:05 — cigars and all.

Kierdorf, convicted last fall of possessing a pistol silencer, will be headed for Jackson Prison to start a 1 to 5 year sentence this afternoon unless his attorney can pull some more legal strings.

FORCES SMILE

Dressed in a single-breasted blue suit and a white sport shirt with blue polka dots, Kierdorf forced smiles as he awaited the inevitable fate of going to Jackson. The Supreme Court yesterday refused to grant his application for leave to appeal his conviction of last Oct. 22.

Kierdorf will be transported to Jackson carrying with him memories of his old boss. He had with him a copy of a national magazine turned to a story entitled, "Hoffa Takes the Stand."

As deputies at the jail checked him in this morning, Kierdorf predicted that he would never last out the maximum five-year sentence should he have to serve it.

"As far as I'm concerned," he said, "I'll die in the joint if I have to do the limit."

When Judge Adams imposed the sentence upon him last Nov. 10, Kierdorf said he would "just like a death sentence for me."

Zisman said he would get around the possibility that the eight Supreme Court justices might have gone home for the summer by either visiting Justice Talbot Smith in Ann Arbor or Justice George Edwards in Detroit.

However, Kierdorf gave newsmen the impression he was ready to take his medicine and get the prison term over with.

"I'm ready to go anytime," he said.

Kierdorf, who newsmen have tagged "Uncle Herman," was the uncle of Frank Kierdorf, Flint Teamsters business agent who died last Aug. 7 from severe head-to-toe burns suffered when he and another Flint Teamster, Jack D. Thompson, attempted to burn down a cut-rate dry cleaning establishment outside Flint.

Thompson is already in Jackson Prison serving 1½ to 10 years. His attorneys, too, are still engaged in legal maneuvers seeking to appeal Thompson's conviction on arson.

Herman Kierdorf popped into the Kierdorf case soon after he visited his nephew at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Vowing vengeance on who might have turned Frank into a human torch, Herman went into hiding for 13 days casting suspicions on him, authorities said at the time.

State Equals Time Record

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 1959 Legislature, meeting for the 117th time, today equaled a record set by the 1933 legislative session, longest in the state's 132-year history as measured by working days.

Twenty-six years ago, the Legislature finally adjourned on July 18 after passing the state's first sales tax law. It was called into special session the following November.

There was no agreement in the Capitol yesterday on how much longer the lawmakers will have to meet before resolving the stalemate over new taxes.

The $5,100,000 payroll for 26,000 state employes will go out on time Thursday even though Michigan's cash shortage is zooming toward an estimated 90 million dollars by July 31.

This was decided yesterday by the State Administrative Board, which also released about $300,000 for paychecks to be distributed today to legislators, legislative staff members and judges.

The board also indicated that $5,300,000 in welfare obligations due late this month will be met, but made no further commitments.

There were signs of a tight squeeze ahead of disbursements due at the end of the month to the three major state universities and for another state payroll.

ALL NEED CASH

Michigan State University, University of Michigan and Wayne State University officials all have said they need state cash to meet faculty payrolls within the next three weeks.

The July monthly installment of $6,500,000 against 1959-60 operating appropriations for the three institutions is past due. In addition, Wayne is owed $4,049,000 from the fiscal year ended June 30.

An urgent plea for funds from Wayne was received and filed by the board at yesterday's special meeting.

Rival plans for a state income tax and a boost in the use (sales) tax headed today for speedy showdown votes in the House, with both sides predicting victory.

Barring delaying actions, both are scheduled for votes tomorrow.

House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) forecast an armistice in the tax war within two weeks with enactment of the GOP proposal for a penny raise in the three-cent use tax.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit), Democratic floor leader, predicted at least 50 of his 55-member force would rally behind the flat rate income tax package put together by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton).

Conlin, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, said he expected to muster at least six Republican votes. If Kowalski makes good on his voting strength, this would give the 11-bill package 56 votes, the bare majority.

Four Republicans sided with Democrats last month in a losing attempt to push through a "piggy-back" income tax tied to federal income tax liability.

Gov. Williams, who asked for a graduated income tax, gave his support in turn to the piggy-back levy and then the Conlin plan.

Conlin sent letters yesterday to newspaper editors across the state urging them to back his program, keyed to a 2 per cent tax on personal income. Corporations would be taxed at 5 per cent and banks and other financial institutions at 7 per cent.

With reduction or elimination of other business taxes, the state would net 142 million dollars a year.

Conlin attacked the use tax package as unworkable, unconstitutional and inadequate. Enactment, his letter said, "only assures us that an income tax package will soon be forthcoming because there will be no other place to turn." A "patchwork" package geared to a use tax increase, he said, would produce inadequate revenue and set the tax for another tax battle in a year or two.

Conlin also boosted his program as the only one offered which would ease the tax burden on business.

Advisory Group Started Ball Rolling

Centennial Committee Ends Work

With a centennial organization running nearly full steam ahead, the Greater Pontiac Centennial Advisory Commission went into retirement yesterday.

The 35-member citizens committee was excused from further work by John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, acting in the absence of Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

The committee was appointed by Rowston in April to get initial centennial planning under way.

Meeting for the last time yesterday, the committee was told:

A move to incorporate a permanent centennial organization will be made within a few days. This group will be named the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission, Inc.

The corporation's seven directors chosen by the committee, have enthusiastically supported the committee's choice of a general chairman to run the centennial — Stuart E. Whitfield, vice president of Pontiac State Bank.

Whitfield said he would tackle the difficult job wholeheartedly, with the blessing of Milo J. Cross, president of the bank.

"I anticipate — and Mr. Cross is fully aware of this — that the centennial chairmanship will probably keep me away from my bank job for a full six months leading up to the centennial's climax," said Whitfield.

The John B. Rogers Producing Co., a professional centennial production firm, has begun negotiations with the board of directors, outlining an initial proposal during a 2½-hour session earlier yesterday.

It was the citizens committee that opened negotiations with the Rogers firm, with an eye to staging a giant outdoor extravaganza to climax the centennial and provide the chief source of centennial revenues.

Wallace D. Lafferty, a field representative for the Fostoria, Ohio company, gave a general indication of the type of celebration Rogers and Co. had in mind for Pontiac during its 100th birthday observance in 1961.

CAST OF 1,000

He said the company tentatively was thinking of producing a historical pageant in Wisner Stadium during the month of June, 1961, with 1,000 or more Pontiac citizens acting in the cast.

Lafferty thought the production should run about nine days, during which time centennial events would be brought to a climax.

Parades, exhibitions and other big events calling attention to various aspects of Pontiac's past and future should be staged during this period, he said.

Minor centennial events would take place throughout the year, with the centennial date itself—March 15, 1961—marked by a significant community observance.

"Every group in Pontiac should be invited to take part in the centennial," said Lafferty. "It should be the centennial's aim to allow participation by everyone in the Pontiac area in some way or other. It is possible that 5,000 to 6,000 persons will be asked to take definite jobs on the various phases of the celebration."

One of the tentative recommendations is that the adult male population of the city be asked to grow beards.

TO STUDY PLAN

Whitfield said he would study the Rogers Co. proposal in detail during the coming weeks. No decision on hiring the Rogers Co., is expected until this fall, said Hirlinger.

In the meantime, Whitfield said he would begin forming an executive committee to run the centennial and divisional chairmen to guide various programs.

Whitfield said there are no plans to raise money through general subscription to finance the centennial.

Rowston has already asked the City Commission to consider loaning the centennial $50,000 to be paid back from centennial revenues.

City Develops Plan for Tornado Action

City commissioners have been asked to make Pontiac one of the first Michigan cities to adopt a municipal plan of action in event tornado strikes the city.

The plan, drawn up by Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, was presented to the Commission for study last night.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would ask for the plan's adoption next week or the week after, if there are no objections.

"This plan was drawn up to fill a gap in our disaster planning," said Willman. "It would be an addition to the civil defense disaster control plan which already is in effect in the city.

"Experience in cities which have been struck by tornadoes indicates a pre-established plan can be very useful in bringing order out of the chaos which exists after a tornado has struck.

"The plan we propose is based on the idea that city personnel and equipment should be fully utilized in case of a disaster."

The plan assigns duties to all city employes, with the lion's share of the work being done by the Police Department.

With the Public Safety Building as headquarters in the event of tornado, the police are expected to rush men to the disaster area immediately, at the same time informing key civil defense personnel of the tornado strike.

Initial emphasis will be on first-aid and fire control, a job assigned to the Fire Department, and the Oakland County Chapter of the Red Cross.

Police will be in charge of making an initial survey of the damage, establishing a field command post, blocking off traffic and prevention of looting.

It will be up to the police to call in the reserves and other auxiliary agencies as they are needed.

Other duties include setting up a temporary morgue, routing of ambulances and assistance in the identification of any injured.

The various jobs are assigned to the branches of the police department best able to handle them. For instance, detectives are assigned to investigation of looting and identification of victims, while juvenile officers are to take care of homeless or orphaned children.

The plan suggests a time-table by which disaster action is to proceed, with major steps to be taken immediately after the tornado and other, less important jobs to be put off for several hours.

The plan calls for the cooperation of such agencies as the hospitals, utility companies, ambulance companies, health services, press and radio.

Doesn't Have to Warn Driver

Court Says Passenger Not Responsible, Ruling Reverses County Case

LANSING (UPI) — A front seat auto passenger did not have responsibility to warn the driver of impending danger, the State Supreme Court said yesterday in a 5-3 ruling that reversed the Oakland County Circuit Court.

A jury in the court of Judge Clark J. Adams delivered a verdict for the defendants when Margaret Yarabek sued Raymond O. Brown and Georgia M. Brown for injuries suffered in a 1951 collision of the Yarabek and Brown cars at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph roads in Waterford Township.

Justices John R. Dethmers, Harry J. Kelly and Leland W. Carr said the lower court ruling should stand because Mrs. Yarabek, a front seat passenger next to her driver-husband, should have called his attention "to the impending danger which she must have observed" when the Yarabek car made a left turn into the path of the other car.

But Justices Thomas Kavanagh, John D. Voelker, George Edwards, Talbot Smith and Eugene F. Clark held the circuit judge should have eliminated the issue of contributory negligence from jury consideration.

It was noted the case was tried in circuit court before the change in the Supreme Court rules declaring contributory negligence a matter of affirmative defense to be pleaded and proved as such by the defendant. Under the old rule, the plaintiff had to prove freedom from contributory negligence to collect.

Fatal Heart Attack Preceded Car Crash

Bloomfield Township Police reported yesterday that Gustave A. Schettling, 73, who died in an auto accident Friday night, was not the victim of accident injuries.

Dr. Richard E. Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, said an autopsy performed on the Bloomfield Township man disclosed he died of a heart attack seconds before his car was involved in a head-on collision at Telegraph and Square Lake roads.

Schettling, of 1664 Old Town Rd., had been listed as the county's 39th traffic death this year. The toll now drops to 38. His wife and the other driver also were injured in the collision.

of his knowledge regarding steel stockpiles, how long the strike could continue before it interfered with defense production.

Eisenhower replied that he could make no accurate estimate. But, he said, if all of the inventories on hand should be used up, there would be a very serious situation.

A reporter asked whether Eisenhower thought, now that a strike is under way, that the government should have pursued any different course in its efforts to head off a shutdown.

Eisenhower replied that he is convinced the government course was right. We have to have free bargaining in such situations, he said. If there is too much government pressure, then bargaining is not free.

Eisenhower then went on to note the Taft-Hartley Law's provision that the government may seek an 80-day injunction to halt strikes imperiling national health and safety.

Those conditions, Eisenhower said firmly, are not here at the moment.

The President again called for management and union officials to display statesmanship and responsibility in efforts to settle the strike. He noted that representatives of both sides have agreed to meet today with officials of the Federal Mediation Service.

McDonald expessed hope the industry would accept the fact-finding procedure to "avert unnecessary harm and suffering for the workers, the industry and the public."

McDonald's letter was given to reporters by Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel. Goldberg said it represented the union's desire to help promote an early strike settlement "on the basis of economic reasons instead of economic force."

The union earlier had proposed that President Eisenhower name such a fact-finding board. This was before the strike began. The President refused on the basis there was no specific legal authority authorizing him to do so.

The chief of the Federal Mediation Service scheduled separate meetings with steel industry and union leaders today in an attempt to bring them to agreement they failed to reach by themselves in more than nine weeks of talk.

Each side bitterly blamed the other for the strike which punctuated their failure to write a new wage contract for the industry's half million workers.

Cheboygan Daily Paper Bought by Publisher

CHEBOYGAN (UPI) — Purchase of the Conine Publishing Co. interest in the Cheboygan Daily Tribune by Myrton M. Riggs, publisher, was announced today when negotiations were completed.

The Conine Publishing Co. is a Traverse City firm which owns the Manistee News-Advocate and the Big Rapids Pioneer. Riggs has been a stockholder in the Conine firm since 1927.

He joined the firm in 1927 as advertising manager of the Tribune, became its business manager a year later and became publisher of the Tribune in 1945 when he acquired it through lease of the interests of his associates in the firm.

In purchasing the Conine Publishing Co. interest in the Tribune, Riggs thus expands his newspaper publishing and printing properties which also include the Weekly Cheboygan Observer, which he bought in 1948, and the Great Northern Printing Co., a commercial printing firm, as well as the Shoppers Guide.

In addition to the publication of his own newspapers, Riggs prints The Town Crier, the Mackinac Island weekly. Riggs is also a stockholder in two other Michigan dailies.

In 1685, only 2,000 persons lived in Belfast, which is now the capital of Ulster, of Northern Ireland, and has a population of 450,000.

The Day in Birmingham

Kids to Compete in City Physical Fitness Program

BIRMINGHAM — Youngsters from each of the six Birmingham area playgrounds will assemble at the Pierce School Field next Wednesday to compete in Birmingham's physical fitness program.

Meanwhile, each playground will hold tryouts to select individuals deemed best qualified as tournament representatives.

Participants will compete in three age groups, and each group will be composed of boy and girl teams.

The City Recreation Department is co-sponsoring the event with the Princeton Prep Shop of Birmingham. Various prizes will be awarded.

The first two contestants in each event will qualify to represent Birmingham in an area physical fitness tournament July 30 in Plymouth.

A water main at Evergreen and Beverly roads in Beverly Hills, to serve the new Wylie E. Groves Junior-Senior High School, will be installed by the Marrocco Construction Co. of East Detroit.

The firm's low bid of $35,308.25 was accepted Monday night by the Beverly Hills Village Council after nine bids were reviewed.

Also signifying approval were representatives of the Birmingham Board of Education, which will pay initial costs, and will be reimbursed by tap-in charges in the area.

Member of the Senior Men's Club of Birmingham are looking forward to a shuffleboard match Friday with Bushnell Retired Men's Club of Detroit.

The Bushnell team will arrive at the Community House in Birmingham in time to attend the regular 10 a.m. meeting.

Shuffleboard play is set for 1 p.m.

The Birmingham Recreation Board has named officers to serve for the 1959-60 term.

Elected chairman was William E. Spence, also a member of the board of education. Roland Reese, Birmingham postmaster, was named vice-chairman.

William Burgum, a member of the Birmingham City Commission was elected clerk of the board.

Mrs. Dan O'Madigan, 340 Chesterfield Rd., Bloomfield Hills, was elected fourth vice-president of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County during its biennial meeting Monday at the Waldron Hotel, Pontiac.

During the month of June, the City of Birmingham issued a total of 51 building permits, according to Building Inspector Andrew F. Butt.

Alterations to single family residences led the list with 15 permits, 12 new private garages and 11 new single family residences followed.

In all, permits were issued for 27 new structures and 24 alterations.

Eastman has proposed that reserve members be screened by regular officers.

"If they took the time to really look into our procedure, they would find that all our members came to us recommended, have certainly been checked through fingerprint files in Lansing, here in Pontiac, and even through the FBI in Washington, D.C.," Bottom said.

Eastman also had recommended the reserve uniforms be different from those of regular police officers and that reserves not wear insignias of regular officers.

"Reserve officers shall wear the same uniforms and badge as the regular officer," the association's proposal countered.

"Command officers of the reserves will not wear the same insignia while working with regular officers, but may do so on special events if they desire," the proposal conceded.

'NO GUNS'

Eastman requested reserves to have "proper firearms instruction," but "reservists will not carry weapons on the streets."

"This insinuates we haven't had proper instruction," said Bottom. "I don't agree with that."

The reserve proposal requested that "all reserves shall carry regular police firearms and equipment while in the performance of their duty" and "shall receive instructions on the firing range once a month."

"All members have been instructed in the handling of firearms and we are proud to say that in the past six or seven years we have never abused this privileges, and feel that the past record will speak for the future," the proposal said.

The reserve organization requested that Lt. Clayton A. Randolph be retained as its co-ordinator.

Eastman requested the "reserve should be legally established by an order of the city manager, or through action by the City Commission."

"A little checking would have assured Mr. Eastman that we are and always have been legally protected. The city has liability coverage on us, all that is necessary," Bottom said.

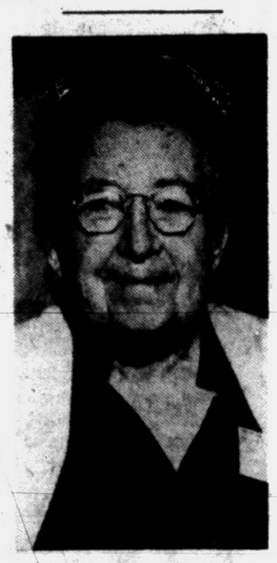

'WANT RESPECT'

He described parts of Eastman's proposals as "double talk." "We are volunteers. We save the city a great deal of money. All we want is the proper respect due us."

Bottom continued, "We agree that all new members should be thoroughly screened and certain age and educational requirements observed.

"But we will not impose these on present members. No one is going to come in here and drop a man because he doesn't like the way he parts his hair, or he doesn't have the 'proper' education after the man has served five or six years of outstanding duty."

John W. Graham, chief of the reserves, asserted that "many citizens have shown alarm at the restrictions imposed upon us. We sincerely want to come to an agreement with Eastman and continue serving the city, but we can't work without the tools of our trade, so to speak."

MRS. JOE HAAS

Lifelong Holly Woman Dies

Wife of Pontiac Press Columnist Joe Haas Succumbs at Age 80

Mrs. Joe Haas, 80, died today at her home in Holly. While she had been in poor health for several years, she was critically ill only a few weeks.

Services will be at the Dryer Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Friday. The Rev. William Lankton will officiate, and burial will be in Lakeside Cemetery.

Winifred Gidley was born in Holly on Nov. 22, 1878, and had lived there her entire life. On June 24, 1902, she was married to Joe Haas who survives her.

For 35 years she worked with her husband in the publication of the Holly Herald which they sold in 1937.

She was active in Red Cross work for nearly a half-century, through both world wars. When she resigned from the Oakland County Red Cross Board she had served in that capacity longer than any other person.

Mrs. Haas was a life member of the Holly Monday Club, and had served as its president two years. She also was a member of Order of the Eastern Star.

Besides her husband, who is a member of the editorial staff of The Pontiac Press, she leaves three brothers: Edwin G. Gidley of Fremont, Neb.; William F. Gidley of Austin, Texas, and Allan B. Gidley of Phoenix, Ariz. and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Alligator Bites Hand That Tried to Feed It

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An alligator lost a home by biting the hand that fed it.

Someone sent the baby alligator to 16-year-old Victor A. Cohn of suburban University City. He wanted to keep it. His parents said no. So Victor took it to work with him at the car-wash where he is employed.

Victor put the gator in a water-filled hole, but when he went to feed the animal he was bitten twice on his hand. Anti-tetanus shots followed, and Victor's attitude changed.

Unless an alligator-lover shows up, the pet will be given to the Animal Protective Society.

Nevada's population in 1970 is expected to be 67 per cent greater than it was in 1955. Arizona is expected to grow by 66 per cent during the same period, California by 54 per cent and Florida 53 per cent.

She'll Be Launched July 21

Nuclear Merchant Ship Will Stress Automation

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Harry Bridges and his fellow longshoremen won't be happy July 21 when the first nuclear merchant ship slides down the ways, christened by Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

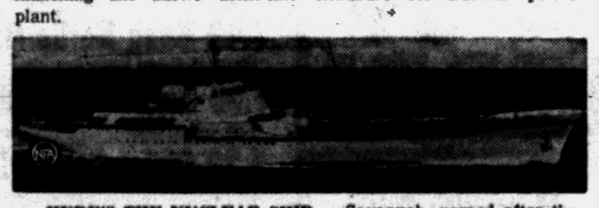

For the atom-powered 21,000-ton the U.S. with strikes on the East the virtual wiping out of the major longshoremen's unions which once almost paralyzed great areas of the N. S. with strikes on the East and West coasts and in the Gulf.

The Savannah could spark—indirectly—the recovery of the U. S. merchant fleets so that they could again meet foreign competition on the high seas.

How could this be, when the Savannah will cost 31 million dollars and a conventional ship of the same size costs but 20 million?

HERE'S THE NUCLEAR SHIP — Savannah, named after the first steamship to cross the Atlantic, will look like this when completed. Her vital statistics:

Length—596 feet.
Beam—78 feet.
Sustained speed—20¼ knots.
Passengers—60.
Cargo—9,400 tons.
Displacement—21,840 tons.
Hosepower—20,000 normal, 22,000 maximum.
Range—3000,000 nautical miles without refueling.
Cost — 31 million dollars.

And when the Savannah will cost 10 per cent more to operate than a conventional ship? And when experts estimate it will be 1970 before there are large numbers of atom-powered merchant ships on the oceans?

The answer is simple, says the experts. The whole idea of the atom ship is forcing a revolution in thinking about how all ships should be built.

To make any sense, an atom ship must be run by automation.

It should be loaded by automatic loaders on push-button piers. Cargoes must be packaged so they can be shifted swiftly from truck to train to shipboard, automatically by the truck or carload. Ships must get in and out of port swiftly to make a profit.

Such automation will create the same revolution in shipping it's already causing in some industries, where some unions have lost two-thirds of their membership and will lose more in the next five to 10 years.

Shipping men think this automation will cut down costs enough for U. S. ships to meet foreign competition.

The nuclear ship Savannah won't break any records. She will run at 20 knots, go three years without refueling. Her power plant, built by Babcock and Wilcox, costs about three and a half times as much as conventional installations. And with all her safety features she will never be cheap to operate.

But the Savannah has stirred up something. Already, a year before she'll travel on the high seas, people are writing in from all over the U. S. wanting to book passage "whatever the cost."

And a number of shipping companies want to build atomic tankers —if the U. S. Government will share the cost.

Actually, some shipping experts of the U. S. Maritime Administration believe it may be possible to begin building a commercially profitable atomic tanker next year —one that might go into service in 1965.

The Maritime Administration has almost completed plans for such an atomic tanker. Officials will keep them on the shelf until Congress votes building funds, probably in 1960.

But the Maritime Administration is now looking even further ahead. It's already had preliminary research done on an atomic submarine tanker. And it's planning work on an atomic ship on hydrofoils—one might almost say on water skis—that would carry 500 passengers and hundreds of tons of premium cargoes at 79 to 100 knots.

Indict 6 Union Members for Extortion, Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP) — Six members of the independent Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union have been indicted on conspiracy and extortion charges.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said they used threats of work stoppages to obtain $110,600 from 19 newspaper and magazine distributing companies from 1955 to 1957.

Four present or former officials of the union were among the six indicted Tuesday.

The six were already under federal indictment on charges of violating antitrust and antiracketeering laws in connection with the wholesale distribution of newspapers and magazines in the metropolitan area.

The six men were arrested Tuesday. They had been free on bail, pending trial on the federal charges.

After their arrest on the state charges they were freed in custody of their lawyers, pending bail arrangements.

Those indicted are:

Irving Bitz, 56, Great Neck, N.Y., described by Hogan as a "nominal member" of the union and vice president of the Bronx County News Co., and secretary-treasurer of the Bi-County News Co., wholesale distributors, of Garden City, N.Y.

Sam Feldman, 40, Yonkers, N.Y., president of the union from May 1956 until last May.

William Walsh, 59, Hzlet, N.J., business agent for the union from 1949 to 1956.

Michael Spozate, 59, Brooklyn, also described as a "nominal member" of the union and as vice president of the Pacific News Co., Inc., Brooklyn.

Former State Official Killed in Car Accident

KINDEE (UPI) — Funeral service will be held here today for Harry F. Schmidt Sr., former member of the State Waterways Commission and one-time aide to former Treasurer Miller Dunckel.

Schmidt, 54, Port Austin, was killed Sunday when his car struck loose gravel and overturned on U.S. 25 in Bad Axe.

Ex-Cuban Chief Slams Castros

Former Air Force Head Says New Leadership Is Communist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro's former air force chief today described Castro, his brother Raul Castro and others high in the Cuban government as Communist.

Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that instead of bringing liberty and freedom to Cuba, Castro has brought a Communist dictatorship.

Diaz gave his testimony at a public hearing which was suspended briefly because of a bomb scare.

He had hardly started testifying before Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss) said the subcommittee had received information from a source it considered reliable that an attempt would be made to injure Diaz.

Diaz, who described himself as a foe of the overthrown Fulgencio Batista regime, said he joined Castro's revolutionary movement late in 1956, feeling Castro would bring democracy and freedom to Cuba.

He resigned as Cuban air force chief June 30 and fled to this country.

Ike Gets Painting He Admired at Russian Exhibit

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a new oil painting hanging in the White House — the gift of the Russian government to President Eisenhower.

It's one of the paintings which Eisenhower admired when he toured the Soviet Union's exhibition in New York City on June 29. The President's host on that tour was Frol R. Kozlov, Russia's deputy premier who then had just arrived for a tour of the United States.

Russian officials asked Eisenhower — an amateur artist himself — which of the paintings he liked the best at the exposition.

The President replied they all were lovely and that he found it difficult to make up his mind. However, he finally selected one showing a group of peasants traveling aboard a raft.

For an unexplained reason the Soviet officials selected another painting as their gift to Eisenhower. It's a colorful river scene entitled "Spring is Approaching — 1952," with a background of white birches and a group of homes on the far bank of the river.

"The President likes it very much," Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said.

The census figures show that there are 105 to 106 males born every year compared with 100 females.

TV Phone Numbers Phony

You Can't Dial Them

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — When Joe Friday or Brenner or anybody else in a television show gives a telephone number while the plot is unwinding, they use dummy digits.

The telephone company has a special list of authentic-sounding numbers but they ring nothing. Broadcasters have learned from experience that the great big audience out there contains people curious enough to put in a call.

Hunting for such items is part of many people's jobs in a television industry. One executive employed by the National Assn. of Broadcasters says he caught a telephone number in a script—and found it was actually the number of a New York physician.

Names of characters are another area for watching. Occasionally the networks get squawks from annoyed citizens who claim that their names were given to unsavory characters.

Some writers and some editors, says Stockton Helffrich of NBC's Continuity Acceptance Department, use a system of taking common given names and coupling them with a place name—a lot of towns have handles which do nicely as surnames.

"We just try to use common sense," says Helffrich.

One of the more difficult problems is the complaints which come in when names of easily identified national origin are used. Recently there has been a lot of TV drama concerning the old prohibition gangster days, and complaints have come in from those of Italian descent.

Hart, McNamara Split on Two Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — How Michigan members of Congress were recorded on recent roll call votes:

Senate:

On adoption of Elledner (D-La) amendment to cut military aid in foreign aid authorization bill from $1,600,000,000 to $1,300,000,000: for—Sen. Philip A. Hart (D); against—McNamara (D).

On adoption, 49-53, of Church (D-Idaho) amendment to cut defense support in foreign aid authorization bill from $835,000,000 to $751,500,000: for — Hart; against — McNamara.

On passage, 65-26, of $3,543,320,000 foreign aid authorization bill: for — McNamara, Hart.

No major House roll calls.

Dog Succeeds; Car Fails as Boy in the Middle

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Manuel Cottingham, 10, was walking in a narrow alley near his home when he had to back up against a wire fence to avoid a car.

The car missed him but a white Spitz dog on the other side of the fence didn't. The boy was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for a bite on the right hip.

Legislators Disregard Strong Public Opinion

Apparently the lobbyists for a special interest group in Lansing wield a pretty heavy stick over our legislators on the issue of motor scooters.

Public opinion has made it quite clear that our law permitting 14-year-olds to ride the scooters should be changed to 16 years. Expressions from all sources point out the deaths and injuries to these young operators.

Other taxpayers point out the noisy nuisance these young scooter drivers are to an otherwise quiet and subdued subdivision. The motoring public rises in wrath because scooters are allowed on our already overly-busy and congested highways.

Our Legislature has shunned all appeals and even resisted the advice of police and safety organizations by not raising the age limit to 16. The Press feels strongly that 16 years is certainly the minimum age that should be required of the operators.

The Senate thinks that a youngster 15 is old enough to operate a scooter. Since this is before he or she can operate a four-wheeled motor vehicle, it sounds a little ridiculous.

They argue that it is a parental problem to decide when the children are old enough. Frankly, this sounds like a weak excuse when the legislators know right well that the parents will be pressured into abiding by the age set by law.

At best, motor scooters are dangerous. It would seem to us that it would be in the best interest of everyone if the present law were strengthened.

Russian Expert Bohlen Considered for Top Job

It is good news that CHARLES E. BOHLEN, U. S. Ambassador to the Philippines, is being considered for a top post in the Soviet affairs section of the State Department.

Ambassador Bohlen is an expert on Russia. Since 1934 his whole career has been concerned with Russian affairs. He speaks Russian fluently and was a translator and adviser at all postwar conferences with the Russians. From 1953 to 1957 he was our Ambassador to Moscow.

At a time when we needed to know everything possible about the Russians, he was transferred to the Philippines and for purely political reasons. It is to be hoped that Sec. HERTER can persuade Diplomat BOHLEN to postpone his retirement and give the State Department the benefit of his expert knowledge.

How Lavish Can They Be With Our Money?

Our tax dollars appear to be like so many seeds in a pod from the reports emanating from Capitol Hill.

Lest we be fooled into thinking that the slightest bit of conservatism exists in Congress, we should appraise the new $84 million House of Representatives office building.

Of course, the building is for its members and it has been worked out at $192,000 a room, and each Representative will have three rooms. This sounds like pretty expensive office space, when you figure each representative's quarters might house three dozen constituents and their families back home.

If using home building as a comparison is unfair, look at it this way. For slightly over half what the Congressmen are spending on their quarters ($46 million), Union Carbide is putting up a block square office building on New York's plush Park Avenue.

Could it be that these austere quarters would not be suitable for our lawmakers? Union Carbide is known for its sound business operation.

Office splendor in Washington with the taxpayers' money seems to be running rampant. Most of the lawmakers seem to settle for much less back home. They even use a front porch for office space occasionally.

How can we expect Federal money not to be wasted in far off places when the attitude in Washington is so indifferent as a flaunt it right in our faces.

It's high time the voters back home got a little excited.

ONE reason many people aren't broadminded is that they haven't enough brains to spread.

The Man About Town

The First Wheat

1959 Crop Is Coming to Market; Quality Is Fair

Cool: A condition the best way to which is don't talk about the weather.

Farmers in the Pontiac area are harvesting their wheat. As far as learned, of Lake Orion, was the first in Oakland County to haul his 1959 wheat to market.

J. M. Lomerson

The general yield per acre in this section is considerably below that of last year, the quirks of the weather causing the reduction. In many fields the straw was weak, tipped over, causing the grain to lodge, and this makes harvesting difficult.

It is conservatively estimated that 98 per cent of the wheat in this area now is harvested by combine, and the threshing machine has almost become a thing of the past.

The price this year runs around $1.70 per bushel, according to quality and other conditions.

A letter drifts in from

Burdick Smith,

now of Dayton, Ohio, which says he's coming to the Pontiac Centennial celebration in 1961. When a young man in Pontiac he attended the University of Michigan in 1902, and says the cost for board, room, tuition, books and clothing was $300 per year.

That lightning bugs are becoming extinct is the assertion of

of Drayton Plains, who wonders if some low ground near her home isn't the only place in the Pontiac area where they put on a miniature fireworks display most every night.

"You say so much about strawberries, how about raspberries?" phones

George Pharris

The Real Fight Is Under the Table

David Lawrence Says:

In Politics, Late Starter Has Edge

WASHINGTON — Now that Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota has "informally" announced his candidacy for the presidential nomination on the Democratic Party ticket, it may well be asked: Why are the other prospective candidates so hesitant and coy about doing the same thing?

LAWRENCE

The Minnesota senator is among the first to throw his hat into the ring. But he is more or less compelled to do so now, because he is up for re-election next year as United States senator and, if he doesn't make the grade for the presidential nomination, he will doubtless want time to arrange to run again for the Senate.

Strictly speaking, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, and former governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois have not announced—formally or informally—that they will be candidates for the nomination, but in public-opinion polls these names are frequently mentioned.

In addition, there are a number of "favorite sons," like Gov. Pat Brown of California and Sen. George Smathers of Florida, who will have the endorsements of their particular state delegations.

On the Republican side, where only two names are being mentioned, Vice President Richard Nixon and Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York have not announced their respective candidacies. There seems to be a basic strategy in politics never to announce too soon.

The argument usually made for this approach is that the front runner gets bombarded from all sides and that, if a candidacy is launched early, it subjects the would-be nominee to attack by all the other factions in a given state. For not all states have presidential-preference primaries, and hence selection of delegates is more or less controlled by the state and local organizations of the party.

CALLS FOR STRATEGY

The problem of getting a nomination is not the same as the campaign to win an election after nomination. In the latter case, it is merely a matter of wooing large numbers of voters. In the pre-convention campaign, it's a question largely of lining up the individual political leaders who pick the delegates.

This kind of campaign is more or less invisible, and, while popular sentiment enters into it somewhat, the local leaders are always anxious to put themselves into a position of power with a potential winner even though he is not out front early in the race. Local rivalries often cause politicians to line up for or against a candidate irrespective of his actual merits because of the political advantages that may come from defeating a local leader.

Nixon is well advised to bide his time before asserting himself as an active candidate. To emerge now with a lot of delegations in his pocket would give an opportunity for someone else to raise a cry of unfair advantage. It could precipitate the very fight that would help an opponent to gain ground on the theory that the "party bosses" were dictating the selection.

Rockefeller, too, is playing the game cautiously in refusing to announce his candidacy at this early stage. For, if there is a division in the sentiment of the party, he can await the opportune moment for crystallizing the opposition. If, on the other hand, the party seems bent on nominating Nixon, Rockefeller can tactfully cement relations with the party organization men for future campaigns by joining the "bandwagon" at the appropriate time.

Realism in politics makes it necessary always to be cautious. Issues change, and events arise that change the issues. A man who is popular today may not be strong, politically speaking, a year hence. A much more critical period will be reached in March or April of next year.

Dr. William Brady Says:

2 Quarts of Wine a Day or 2 Spoonfuls Excessive

"Will you please answer a question and settle an argument?" asks a Wisconsin reader.

DR. BRADY

"Is the consumption of two quarts of wine a day excessive?"

Yes. The consumption of two spoonfuls a day is excessive, in my opinion. But then, I'm a rabid teetotaler, I regard alcohol in any concentration or dilution as a narcotic; and if I were king, the use of alcohol would be as severely restricted as is the use of morphine.

Now perhaps you won't consider my view of your problem reasonable or fair, or the individual who consumes half a gallon of wine daily won't.

". . . excessive for a man fifty years of age? He says wine is a necessary stimulant for a man of his age and is a good food.

"I feel that two quarts of wine a day is excessive drinking and could become a harmful habit, turning a wonderful person into an alcoholic."

(Signed C. B. W.)

In the first place, alcohol, whether in wine, beer, or liquor, is a narcotic and not a stimulant. The poor deluded tippler imagines he is "stimulated" when he is under the influence of alcohol, but authorities agree that the effect of any quantity of alcohol, from that in a glass of wine to that in a pint of gin or vodka, is depressant.

It weakens the drinker's judgment, dulls his consciousness of what he is doing, impairs his capacity to think, slows his reaction time, makes him propose or agree to things which he will regret or maybe deny when he is not under the influence of the narcotic.

An absurdity of the law that encourages alcohol addicts to believe a few drinks stimulate without inebriating is that a concentration of alcohol in the blood indicates intoxication only when it is more than a certain arbitrary level. As long as this perversion prevails, some persons will exercise the right to drink and drive, maim and kill.

Perhaps the wine bibber is finding an excuse for his selfishness when he argues that wine is a good food. The food value of wine is far inferior to the food value of milk, bread, or meat.

Anyone who consumes half a gallon of wine a day is very likely to become, if he is not already, a sot and make his wife and children unhappy. If he depends on wine so much as "food" in all likelihood the man suffers from nutritional deficiency, malnutrition, and correction of this by supplementing his diet with optimal daily rations of calcium, vitamin D, and vitamin B would probably improve his health and vitality.

The Wisconsin reader should try to persuade her husband to visit an Alcoholics Anonymous group in his community. Look for A. A. in the telephone directory.

Voice of the People

Doubts Meaning of 'Time, Material Plus 10 Per Cent'

I signed a contract with Builder Blank on the basis of time and material plus 10 per cent. Once a week he presents such a statement, attaching the lumber company's bills without builder's discount.

I called the lumber company to ask if a builder's discount had been allowed, explaining the material had been delivered to my home. I was told it was none of my business. When I said I'd go to court, he admitted the discount and said he wouldn't lie about it in court.

I've read freight rate tariffs for over 20 years and haven't been backed down many times on interpretation, and I've heard some pretty weird ones. But this has me stopped. How can a judge, paid by all the people, render a decision that on time and materials plus 10 per cent, the poor abused contracter considers the discount of 10 to 30 per cent part of his profit, therefore any discount on materials is his.

Unless such a contract is interpreted as actual cost to the builder, it is meaningless and would be 22 per cent or more. Why mention the 10 per cent at all; or is this considered legalized sucker bait?

Add New Twist in Effort to Limit Public Domain

A new twist has been introduced in the never-ending efforts on the part of public officials to restrict the public's right to know.

American newsmen, and the public, have always assumed that speeches are in the public domain. The press has been free to make whatever use it saw fit of public address, from a one paragraph news item to the full text, as well as to comment upon the speech's merit or lack of it.

But now Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, the father of the atomic submarine, has taken to copyrighting his speeches.

The admiral's action evoked a prompt and vigorous protest from the Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism fraternity.

In an editorial in the July issue of Quill, magazine of the fraternity, it is pointed out that the copyright "not only restricted the use that could be made of the admiral's speeches, but also prohibited subsequent criticism."

The editorial goes on to say:

"While Admiral Rickover insisted that departmental regulations recognized his right to copyright material which he writes other than as a part of his official duties, he agreed to eliminate from future releases any time limitation on the use of his addresses.

"His decision, however, does not resolve the ticklish question of what constitutes the public's business and what is private business. Nor does it settle the basic issue of freedom of information, which is inherently involved.

"Obviously the indiscriminate use of copyright could be another device to censor information to which the public is entitled. M. B. Schnapper, editor of Public Affairs Press, in commenting on Admiral Rickover's letter to Mr. Newton, pointed out that freedom of the press is not a "commodity that should be dished out on a piece-meal basis by any public servant."

"The Public Affairs Press has filed suit asking for a declaratory judgment that the Rickover speeches cannot be copyrighted, as well as a determination of what restrictions can be put on a public official's writings.

"In all, Admiral Rickover placed under his private copyright twenty-four speeches dealing with atomic submarines, nuclear propulsion, naval seapower and national defense. Washington newspapers, in reporting the controversy, pointed out that most of the Admiral's speeches were printed and distributed by the Government before they were delivered and that some of them carried the official seal of the Department of Defense. Section 8, Title 17 of the U. S. Code states there can be no copyright 'in any publication of the United States Government.'

termine whether the unprecedented presumably must decide is whether the speeches of the Admiral can be construed as Government publications.

"There are other questions which demand an answer. If a public official writes or speaks on the subject of his official specialty, are his words public or private property? More important, how far can an official go in restricting the use of such writings?

"These are questions which directly affect the public as well as the press. The answers may determinew hether the unprecedented action of Admiral Rickover is to be upheld and the practice extended, or whether the basic right of the people to know will be recognized and the boundaries of the public domain clearly marked."

Are Wives' Complaints 'Excuses'?

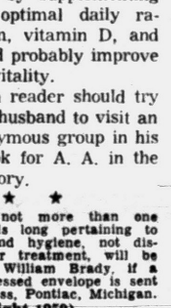

Husbands, please read Evelyn's sharp criticism of the average male and then see if you think she is telling the truth. Is she offering "excuses" instead of valid "reasons"? I'll let you husbands be the jury. And if any wives agree with Evelyn they better learn to budget household duties so they can pick up their matee's ardent cues.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-487: Evelyn B., aged probably 35, is an intelligent housewife who reads this column faithfully in the Indianapolis Star.

Ordinarily, all the cases I use in this educational feature are patients or people I meet in person.

DR. CRANE

But once in a blue moon I find it desirable to quote a letter, and that is why I am giving you the verbatim remarks of Evelyn B. That's how she signed her well written missive, and I have no other address, so she is really an anonymous reader.

"Dr. Crane," she starts out. "You make me sick!"

"I mean actually, downright nauseated! After reading your case about a wife's having to function as a one-woman harem to please her mate, it turns my stomach!

"If I thought every man felt like that, I'd kill myself because then there'd be nothing for a woman to live for, anyway.

"You blame the wife for rebuffing her husband's ardent advances. Well, maybe she is too tired to be romantic.

"You say a man doesn't pick a wife just to get a cook and housekeeper.

"Well, why do you think a wife gets married? She wants romance and physical affeciton just as much as a man.

"But a man's work is usually done after eight hours, while a woman's work is never ended. She slaves from dawn till long after dark and still never catches up with her duties.

"A woman NEVER rebuffs her husband's erotic advances except when she absolutely has no energy to respond."

"EXCUSES" vs "REASONS"

Husbands, suppose I were to let you reply to Evelyn. Have you ever seen your wives so "utterly exhausted" they couldn't spring to the telephone and gabble for 15 to 30 minutes?

Have you ever seen your mates so weary they couldn't perk up and put on a show of animation if company unexpectedly arrived?

Have you ever observed your wives show indifference or actually try to rebuff ardor because they feared pregnancy, even though they were full of pep otherwise?

I need not explain other fallacies in Evelyn's interesting letter for every good doctor knows how to sift true "reasons" from glib "excuses" offered to justify the patient.

Besides, a husband's ardor places very little demand on a wife's energy. In fact, it requires no more wifely calories than she expends in sipping a cup of tea, for most wives are almost entirely passive in their marital roles.

Besides, if a wife is so completely exhausted as Evelyn professes all women are, then they better learn to budget their household chores more efficiently.

For instance, it is smarter to hold your husband's devotion than to do the evening dishes. Pile 'em in

Women like Evelyn are the best "fans" I have, for they never miss a column I write and they can quote me verbatim.

Wives, I'll freely admit a harassed mother's work is never done, so call an arbitrary halt at 7 or 8 p. m. and pick up your husband's romantic cues, for that's a superb way to keep out of the divorce courts.

Wants to End Abuse of Insanity Defense

DETROIT (AP) — An amendment to prevent abuse of the insanity plea in crimes of violence was proposed Tuesday by Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen.

He said his amendment to the state sanity law would "prevent gross miscarriage of justice" by putting the prosecution on an equal footing with the defense in cases where insanity pleas were involved.

The law provides for a sanity commission but defendants need not cooperate with doctors under Fifth Amendment guarantees against self incrimination, Olsen said.

The prosecutor said his amendment would provide that in cases where a defendant refuses to cooperate with sanity commission physicians, the court may ignore evidence of insanity offered by the defense.

Olsen noted that in Detroit Recorder's Court last year, 101 sanity commissions were appointed for cases in which 47 defendants actually were found insane. Of 17 defendants claiming insanity in murder cases, Olsen said, only eight were found to be psychotic.

The prosecutor said he hoped to put his proposal before the fall session of the legislature.

Singled Out at New York Exhibit

Russian Fission Counter Is Outstanding Invention

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This device is Russian in idea and manufacture. You probably can't buy one anywhere else in the world.

Unless you're a scientist, you may not care.

But this ultra-sensitive sort of a king-sized Geiger counter is one of the hidden surprises of the Soviet exhibition at the New York coliseum.

PUZZLES MANY

Many of the visitors to the Soviet science display look at it in puzzlement, concluding that it is either a small rocket, an atom bomb or a hot water heater.

It is labeled mysteriously a "spontaneous fission counter."

Dr. Lyle Borst, New York University nuclear physicist, was asked by the Associated Press for an evaluation of the Soviet scientific and technological exhibit.

He singled out the strange looking invention. It is, he said, one of the few original pieces of Russian research at the science exhibition.

The Russian exhibitor, a scientist, explained that the device measured the rate in which atoms of uranium split all by themselves. The figures he quoted raised Borst's eyebrows.

On one element, thorium, U. S. measurements were more than a thousand times off the Russian measurements. If the figures are correct, U. S. scientists could be relying on information badly in error.

Besides their fission counter, the Russians showed off a difficult-to-design but highly efficient telescope and a compact device that can prepare ultra-thin slicings for microscopic slides.

These were the most original of the Soviet exhibits, Borst said.

SMALL CONVERTER

The Russians also showed in a quiet way a device that converts the hot flame of a kerosene stove into enough electricity to operate a radio.

The small device is especially useful in remote areas where no other power source is available. It uses about a cupful of kerosene an hour. Borst said that about 7 per cent of the kerosene's energy is converted into electricity by the device.

Using sunlight and atomic sources of heat, the United States also has devices that generate electricity.

They are based, as the Russian devices are, on two metal plates. One metal plate collects electrons, and one metal plate spits them out. When the two plates, joined together, are heated, they change. The one that liked electrons and collected them, suddenly begins to expel them. The other metal plate begins to collect them. The movement of the electrons generates electricity.

For the new visitor, the most impressive sight must be the gigantic final stage rocket that propelled Mechta into orbit around the sun. It's about as big as a small car, and is, of course, only a small part of the total rocket.

Janet Gaynor to Make Broadway Stage Debut

NEW YORK (UPI) — Janet Gaynor, who won Hollywood's first Oscar in 1928 and voluntarily retired from movie stardom 10 years later, will make her Broadway stage debut this fall as the star of a new play by Joseph Hayes, it was announced today.

Miss Gaynor, now 52, will play the mother in "The Midnight Sun," a play about a young man who returns to his family in the Middle West to re-establish his roots. The other starring roles, those of the son and the father, have not yet been cast, Howard Erskine, co-producer of the play with Hayes, said.

John J. Pershing was the only American ever to hold the rank of General of the Armies. President Eisenhower and others have held the rank of General of the Army.

Girl Abducted at Gunpoint

DETROIT (AP) — A 17-year-old Highland Park girl was abducted at gunpoint today by a spurned suitor. A statewide police alarm was broadcast for 22-year-old John Thomposn.

Police said Thompson dragged blonde Ann Piri down the stairway of her home and kept members of her family away by firing a shot in their direction.

The girl's brother, aunt and grandmother watched helplessly as Thompson drove off with her.

A half hour earlier Thompson fired a shot through the living room wall of his own home in Highland Park, a Detroit suburb. A neighbor said Thompson told him he had argued with his brother after a night of drinking.

Thompson was wearing a black leather jacket and tight fitting levis. He is 5-8 and has black, bushy hair.

Miss Piri, roused from sleep, was dragged outside barefoot and wearing a light robe over her night garments. Thompson forced his way into the house carrying a 30-30 deer rifle

Members of the family said Miss Piri had gone out with Thompson only a few times and did not want to see him any more. Her aunt said the girl went to visit her mother in Twin Lakes last month to avoid Thompson.

Miss Piri's parents are divorced. Her mother, Mrs. Virginia Tula, lives in Twin Lakes near Hancock-Houghton in the Upper Peninsula. Her father, Earl, lives in Highland Park.

India Asks U. N. Ouster of Nationalist Chinese

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — India announced Tuesday a new move to oust the Chinese Nationalists and seat the Chinese Communists in the U.N.

The Indian delegation said it filed a letter requesting the General Assembly to hold a full-scale debate on admitting the Chinese Reds in this fall's session.

The letter to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was signed by Indian Ambassador Chandra Shekhar Jha.

India has made similar requests yearly since 1956. But each time the United States has persuaded a majority of the Assembly to withhold consideration.

Report No Steel Violence

17,000 Idle in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — Some 17,000 workers were idled today as United Steelworkers Union pickets paraded in front of Detroit area steel plants. No violence was reported.

A walkout of 20 men early yesterday at the McLouth Steel Corp. plant in suburban Trenton gave Detroit a 20-hour head start on the nationwide steel strike.

The McLouth plant shut down at 8 a.m. Tuesday, idling some 2,600 workers. Steelworker members went on strike at Great Lakes Steel Corp. plants in suburban Ecorse at midnight Tuesday, swelling the number of idle.

Great Lakes employs some 10,400 members of Steelworkers Local 1299. McLouth employes in Trenton, Detroit and Gibraltar are represented by local 2659.

Other Detroit area plants struck are branches of Jones & McLaughlin, Sharon and Republic.

Picketing schedules were posted at all steel plants and union officers made arrangements for dealing with hardship cases.

Great Lakes workers told newsmen they were willing, if not particularly anxious, to go out on strike.

Most said money wasn't the main issue of the strike. They said the walkout was in support of demands for retention of section 2B of the present contract which governs job classifications.

"When your job runs out they want you to go to another job or go home," said a Great Lakes open hearth worker. "You could just as easily end up sweeping floors."

Death Notice

BABY GIRL LUCAS

Prayers were offered at the Drayton Plains Cemetery for Baby Girl Lucas, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lucas of 4323 Waterloo St., Waterford Township.

Surviving besides the parents are four brothers, Daniel, Kenneth, Keith and Dennis at home; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allan of Ortonville and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lucas of Waterford Township.

The infant was born Thursday morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and died there two hours later.

Funeral arrangements were by the Coats Funeral Home of Drayton Plains.

Deaths Elsewhere

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. J.S. Ladd Thomas, 84, dean emeritus of the Temple University School of Theology, died Tuesday. Dr. Thomas, ordained a Methodist minister in 1902, was a former president of the Philadelphia Federation of Churches and onetime member of the board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was born in South Wales and came to the United States in 1897.

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — William J. Pelissier, 98, believed to have been the world's first telephone operator, died Tuesday. Pelissier got the job at the Telephone Despatch Co., the first telephone company office, in Boston when he was 17 years old. He was born in Boston.

Pan Am Airways Strike Set Tonight

MIAMI (UPI) — Flight service personnel of Pan American World Airways plan to strike at midnight tonight.

Art Hallgren, vice president of TWU Local 500, said PAA mechanics will honor the flight service picket lines.

In all, some 8,000 workers may be idled, including about 200 stewards, stewardesses, pursers and mechanics here.

The 1,500 workers at the Cape Canaveral missile test center will not be affected, according to Transport Workers Union official Ernie Mitchell.

A spokesman for the airlines said in the event of a strike "the company will continue to operate normally with supervisory help."

The walkout announcement yesterday came as a result of a deadlock in negotiations at New York City over a differential pay increase for flight service personnel on jet flights.

Soviet Production Goal Exceeded by 5 Per Cent

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union said today it had exceeded its industrial output goals for the first six months of 1959 by 5 per cent.

Radio Moscow said 1.7 million tons more pig iron and 2.3 million tons more steel were produced in the first half of 1959 than in the same period a year ago.

Tonnage Booming at Michigan Port

MUSKEGON (AP) — This Lake Michigan port's overseas tonnage was booming today.

The 10,700-ton Angelo Fazio, largest ocean vessel ever to call at Muskegon, was scheduled to discharge a cargo of 300 foreign autos for delivery to South Bend, Ind. The Fazio also is the first vessel of Italian registry to call at Muskegon.

Meanwhile, Harbor officials received word that the Hutchinson Steamship Co. of Cleveland was routing 11 of its ore-carrying vessels to Muskegon in view of the impending steel strike. The port sheltered 28 such carriers for a month in the steel strike of 1956.

The Fazio's cargo places overseas shipments at about 17,500 tons handled by Muskegon facilities thus far this year. It would mark an all-time record for any previous full shipping season, but at least three months remain of the 1959 season.

Still scheduled for this week are three more foreign vessels. Port officials are predicting a possible 40,000 ton year for Muskegon's overseas shipments, more than double any previous foreign shipping tonnage.

Japan Princess May Have Child, Doctors Report

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Prince Akihito's bride may be pregnant.

A chamberlain of the Imperial Household announced today that the royal doctors had reported Crown Princess Michiko "may be with child." He warned newsmen, however, that the doctors' findings were not conclusive.

Akihito and Michiko, a commoner, were married April 10 after a storybook romance that had all Japan agog. She is 24; he is 25.

Word of Michiko's possible condition was carried to the public by radio and TV broadcasts. Hopes immediately soared that Michiko might bear a son. Empresses have ruled in Japan, but Akihito's great grandfather, Emperior Meiji, changed the law to permit only male successors.

May Cut Elsewhere, However

Senate Exceeds Ike's Budget With Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate so far has exceeded President Eisenhower's budget requests by 568 million dollars with passage of the biggest of the money bills—the 40-billion-dollar defense measure.

Despite this record, however, Congress still seems to be in a good position to make some overall cut in the President's total appropriations requests when it winds up the 1959 session.

Democratic leaders have been predicting such a cut, although Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) has been saying recently the final total may not be too much below the Eisenhower budget.

The Senate passed the big defense bill 90-0 Tuesday after two days of debate. It included in the measure $39,594,339,000 of new money as well as 450 million of transfer authority from revolving funds.

The new cash was 346 million more than President Eisenhower asked and 746 million more than the House voted.

The Senate put into the measure 380 million for the nation's second nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, instead of the 260-million conventional carrier budgeted by Eisenhower. An amendment proposed by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) to eliminate the 380 million was defeated.

The Senate approved also its Appropriations Committee's Action in adding 405 million dollars to the $1,024,000,000 Eisenhower asked to give the Army more modern weapons and equipment.

The longest floor debate involved a relatively small provision earmarking 100 million dollars for commercial airlines out of the 293 million the bill would provide for the Military Air Transport Service.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) called this a subsidy to the private carriers and sought to cut it to 80 million. He lost on a tie vote, 46-46.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was in the chamber and could have broken the tie, but elected not to do so.

The Senate made fairly small cuts totalling 223 million dollars in the first nine regular appropriations bills for fiscal 1960. The year started two weeks ago on July 1.

But it more than wiped out the savings by going 365 million over the budget on the bill for the Labor and Health-Education-Welfare departments. Most of this was for health research.

Then it exceeded Eisenhower's requests by 80 million on the public works bill carrying money for water projects for all parts of the country. Finally, it went 346 milion over on defense.

But all three of these increases probably will be whittled down somewhat in conference since the Senate allowances are well beyond those voted by the House.

Slate Legion Convention

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Michigan's American Legion, its womens auxiliary and allied groups are scheduled to be represented by about 4,000 persons in Grand Rapids Thursday through Sunday at the state organization's 41st annual convention. A two-hour parade is scheduled Saturday as a convention highlight.

8-Year-Old Drowns

BARAGA (AP)—Frieda Jacobs, 8, of Baraga, drowned Tuesday when she fell into deep water while playing in Keweenaw Bay near U.S. 41 between Baraga and L'Anse.

INJURED GUEST SUES FOR $4500 DAMAGES

Host Avoids Big Loss Through Insurance

Miss S. W., a guest at a private bathing beach, tripped on a defective diving board and injured her back. She brought suit against her host, Mr. L. T., for $4,500 damages. Mr. L. T. carried Hartford Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance to cover such claims, and his policy paid in full a $2,100 settlement of this lawsuit against him.

Herter to Delay Bohlen Decision

Secretary of State Says He Won't Act Until After Geneva Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has assured protesting Senate GOP leaders he will make no decision on whether to use diplomat Charles E. Bohlen as a top Russian adviser until after the current Geneva conference.

This was learned as Senate Democratic whip Mike Mansfield said that Bohlen would have "general Democratic support" in any showdown on his future status.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) and chairman Styles Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate GOP policy committee object to Bohlen as chief adviser on Russia.

Bridges was one of the 11 GOP senators who voted against Bohlen when President Eisenhower appointed the career diplomat U. S. ambassador to Russia in 1953. The unsuccessful battle was led by the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

After his service in Moscow, Bohlen was appointed U. S. ambassador to the Philippines, where he is still stationed.

Bridges said he told Herter of his objections before the secretary left Friday for the second round of the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

"I'm absolutely opposed to him being used as chief adviser on our relations with Russia," he said. "The reason I'm opposed is that over a period of years Bohlen was associated with some of the basic failures in our dealings with Russia and that apparently he still was defending these failures."

Asked what "failures" he referred to, he said "Yalta is a good example."

Officials Extend Military Control in Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — Military authorities today cracked down on all public functions in Indonesia and said special permits would have to be obtained for gatherings ranging from birthday parties to educational lectures.

They also issued strict rules for newspaper coverage of politics.

The decree extended military control beyond the political field. Last month, with President Sukarno out of the country, Army Chief of Staff Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution banned political activity. The ban still is in effect.

Sukarno since has returned to the country, put parliament temporarily out of business and taken over rule of the country by decree. Nasution is his defense minister.

Sukarno, prompted by Nasution, has said the action was necessary to pull Indonesia out of its economic and political turmoil.

AMA Hits Free Care for Nation's Oldsters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Medical Association (AMA) told Congress today that a plan to give free medical care to old people would impose government regulation on doctors and patients alike.

The AMA charged that the union-backed proposal to expand the social security program to include health benefits simply adds up to a form of "National Compulsory Health Insurance."

The medical group said the plan would carry a "staggeringly expensive" price tag of two billion dollars a year to start and noted that some people want to broaden it to cover the entire population, at a cost 10 times that sum.

Views of the AMA were presented in testimony prepared for delivery to the House Ways and Means Committee by Dr. Frederick C. Swartz, Lansing and Dr. Leonard Larson, Bismark, N. D.

The committee is hearing the pros and cons on a bill by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R. I.) which would, in effect, provide people on social security rolls with paid-up hospital and medical insurance for life.

Organized labor is strongly behind the bill. The Eisenhower administration has come out against it.

Claim What They've Reclaimed

That's an official ultimatum to farmers along the sandy banks of the Colorado River.

The Department of Interior has ordered some 150 farmers cultivating 27,000 acres of rich land between Hoover Dam and the Mexican border to get out.

The department says the farmers have no business there, and it wants to develop a recreation area along the river which forms the boundary between Arizona and California.

The farmers claim the land but they don't own it.

They have banded together under the name of Associated Farmers of the Lower Colorado River to fight for the land in the courts. They concede that the law is with the federal government but believe the moral issue is on their side.

After all, they contend, their money and efforts have turned unused, brush-covered land into productive farms which enhance the economy of the area.

The land was withdrawn from public entry by the Department of Interior in 1902.

As the rampaging Colorado River burst its banks in flood periodically, it changed its course, leaving islands and shoreline high and dry. Then, with the building of Hoover, Davis and Parker dams, the river's flow was regulated and more loamy land was exposed.

Pioneers like William Y. Murphy, now president of the Associated Farmers, moved in and started clearing the land of a jungle of salt cedars and willows. Murphy has been on the land 46 years.

The disputed land includes about 10,000 acres in the Yuma, Ariz., area; 10,000 acres in the Palo Verde Valley of California; 4,000 acres in the Parker, Ariz.-Needles, Calif., region; and 3,000 acres in the Cibola Valley of Arizona.

House Chops Labor Penalty

Charged With Cutting Reform Bill of Section Rapped by AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Labor Committee Tuesday stripped the Senate-approved labor reform bill of a section providing for stiff criminal penalties against union leaders who violated Democratic rights guaranteed to rank-and-file workers.

The action was taken by a narrow 14-13 vote and drew charges from some Republicans that the committee was "gutting" the Senate measure.

But Rep. Ludwig Teller (D-N.Y.), sponsor of the move, denied this. He said supporters of his amendment still intended to write some type of penalties—civil or criminal—into the "bill of rights" section of the reform measure.

The deleted provision would impose a blanket penalty of up to two years' imprisonment and $10,000 in fines for any violation of the "bill of rights."

Teller said he and others who supported him felt that the Senate-approved blanket penalty was too severe to be applied to each and every one of the proposed rights.

The blanket criminal penalties were one of the chief objections of the AFL-CIO to the "bill of rights" section, which the Senate added to the labor reform measure at the insistence of Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee.

The AFL-CIO withdrew its support from the reform legislation after the "bill of rights" section was tacked on to the measure.

Humphrey Opens Drive With Blast on Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey gave a sample of his presidential campaign line today with a fire-eating civil rights speech not calculated to win friends in the South.

The Minnesota senator, first avowed candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, called for congressional action this year to help carry out Supreme Court decisions against racial segregation.

Humphrey, who first claimed national attention with a party-splitting civil rights speech at the 1948 Democratic convention, was publicly advanced yesterday as a candidate for the White House.

He praised the Supreme Court for its decisions against segregation but said President Eisenhower "and Congress, too, should be instruments of national education." He attacked the record of the Eisenhower administration on the civil rights issue and said "the record of Congress is little better.

Humphrey said he was willing for Congress to remain in session until Christmas to wear out a southern filibuster against a bill carrying provisions to deal with segregation.

About 600 pounds of coal must be consumed in a powerhouse boiler to light one average home one year.

Dems Attack Butler for Slap at Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler's prodding of his party's leadership has drawn fire from three more Senate Democrats.

Sens. James E. Murray (Mont), Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (Mo), and Sam J. Ervin Jr. (NC) took Butler's television comments of a week ago — that congressional Democrats should push a program regardless of anticipated presidential vetoes—as a personal attack on Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) and reacted accordingly.

Murray wrote Butler that Johnson is the best majority leader the party ever had in the Senate.

Sales Tax Take Up in Fiscal '59

State Collections Top Previous Year by About Three Million Dollars

LANSING (AP)—State lawmakers were told last night that sales tax receipts of the fiscal year just ended topped 1957-58 collections by about three million dollars.

Two-thirds of sales tax funds are constitutionally earmarked for school aid. One-sixth is routed back to cities, villages and townships. The remaining one-sixth goes to the general fund.

The tentative final figures, compiled by the State Revenue Department, put sales tax income for 1958-59 at $301,411,188.

Because of a rising trend of receipts in recent months, state experts now expect the sales tax in the new fiscal year to produce about 312 millions as against 308 millions estimated earlier.

The revenue department figures showed a $5,400,000 dip in business activities tax collections to $55,325,637 and use tax receipts virtually unchanged at $19,739,000.

Gains of about four million dollars were registered by the inheritance tax, which produced $14,352,447, and of about $1,500,000 in property taxes on utilities, which yielded $22,351,761.

About 3,000 miles of Cuba's railways are owned by the sugar companies.

Tries Adoption to Spite Wife

Governor Long Admits He's Nuts—About Kids

(What's life like for the wife of Gov. Earl Long? This is the third of a series of articles on the Louisiana governor and the storied Long machine.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
Special to The Pontiac Press

BATON ROUGE, La.—Cunning Gov. Earl Long denies that he is crazy, but the alumnus of the three mental clinics admits that "he's nuts about kids."

The unpredictable governor took a shine to a strapping 14-year-old Texas lad when they played poker and checkers together at the Galveston hospital where Long was flown by family and friends. On the governor's invitation, the boy later visited him at the executive mansion.

The head of the Long dynasty wanted to adopt the boy. The youngster's father, fortunately, had sense enough to say "no" to that one.

The childless, ailing old man, apparently seized on the idea of adopting a boy to spite his estranged wife, and also his former public relations counselor, Mrs. William Schley, who seeks to adopt the 11-months-old baby she was been rearing since birth.

Long, who used to swear by Mrs. Schley, viciously turned on her when he heard that she had told internal revenue agents about some alleged campaign funds she once held for him. Running true to form, the vindictive old man promptly struck back by trying to halt her adoption proceedings.

The Schleys fled the state with the baby, but a divorcee who claims to be natural mother of the child filed an affidavit withdrawing her consent to the adoption. Even the governor's loyal retinue concedes that "Ol' Earl probably put her up to it."

A former newspaperwoman who took her twin babies to call on the governor blushed with mortification when one of the moppets had an accident while being bounced on his knee. "Uncle Earl" didn't care. Bellowing with laughter, he said it was the best time he'd had in a coon's age.

Long's legion of critics has always said that the best thing about him was his wife. Refined, pretty Blanche Revere met the younger brother of "Kingfish" Huey Long while both were attending Tulane University in New Orleans. They were married at the home of relatives in Estes Park, Colo., more than a quarter-century ago, and the mystery since then has been how the cultured lady could endure life with the crude, cursing uncouth politician.

"She likes the bright lights," Earl used to grin explanation, but whenever she was entertaining a group of women at the executive mansion, the governor made it a point to stalk into the room, peel off his coat and tie, and snap his inevitable galluses to louse up the party.

Recently, he exploded to a state trooper, "Man, that's the meanest woman God ever made." The embarrassed cop, glancing at the charming first lady of Louisiana, drawled: "Now Governor, you know that ain't true. My wife's a lot meaner than Miz Long."

"You're a liar," the old man shouted. "Ain't ever been a woman made as mean as this wife of mine."

Later, when he won his release from a state mental institution to which she had had him committed, he roared that she was "the most jealous woman on God's green earth." He also accused her of hiring a man to try to kill him, but later sheepishly withdrew that fantastic charge. Then he was reported pining for his long-time helpmate and "kinda' wanting her back."

A friend, in trying to analyze why Mrs. Long "put up" with the governor so many years, mused: "They say opposites always attract, but I swear to goodness I never saw such opposites as that gettin' together."

Before his latest troubles "Uncle Earl" used to delight in gathering youngsters around him and handing them autographed dollar bills. It is, of course, illegal to deface the currency in this manner, but Earl — like older brother Huey — likes to boast that he is above the law.

He proved this after he was taken to task for commandeering national guard planes to fly him to racetracks around the East. "Hell," he shouted, "I'll use 'em anytime I want to — tomorrow if I have the occasion." It made no difference to Ol' Earl that his pleasure flights were costing the taxpayers $135 an hour.

Mrs. Long, now in residence at the beautiful new home she built on "millionaire's row" in Baton Rouge, used to infuriate her husband by refusing to go to his "little pea patch" farm in Winnfield parish. She called the house "Earl's tin hut" and no one could blame her.

An intimate of the governor told his correspondent:

"Ol' Earl got me to sleep in that place just once — and believe me never again. If I ever have to spend another night up there I'll sleep on the ground outside; it's cleaner. The beds have filthy old rags for blankets, the tin roof leaks, and you have to step hard on a plank to get the door shut. It's no place for a lady like Mrs. Long."

Another friend recounted that living room floor slants so sharply that once, when a blazing log popped out of the fireplace, it rolled right down the room. The governor, he said, merely opened the door and let it roll on outside.

The last time Long stayed at the farm before his Fourth of July appearance he ordered lackeys to call in some of the construction people who owed him favors and "tell 'em to move the house back 25 feet, so's it won't be so noisy near the road."

The job was completed in record time, and the exhausted old man stayed there that weekend, despite the fact that power and water lines had not yet been connected.

Lack of water undoubtedly proved no inconvenience at all since the governor took his bourbon neat.

Ike Too Busy Even to Think of a Vacation

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower has not dared think of a vacation here this summer because the nation's problems are so complex.

Mayor Henry C. Wilkinson disclosed Tuesday night the President had so written him in response to an invitation to return to this famed community. The Eisenhowers have vacationed here the last two summers.

Congressman Slams Judge for Jailing Son

WASHINGTON (AP) — The jailing of his son by a federal judge in connection with demonstrations against construction of a missile base in Omaha, Neb., is decried by Rep. William H. Meyer (D-Vt) as "judicial dictatorship."

Karl H. Meyer, 22, received a six-month jail sentence from Judge Richard E. Robinson last Friday. Young Meyer and others had been arrested a week earlier on charges of trespassing. At that time the judge fined him $500 but suspended a jail sentence on condition Meyer stay away from the missile site.

The youth went back to the site last Thursday, was rearrested, and ordered to serve his sentence.

The congressman, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, wrote his son that Judge Robinson's condition in suspending the first sentence "was in my opinion an example of judicial dictatorship."

Ask Court to Remove Ban on 'Naked Maja'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. District Court here is asked to judge whether a postal card reproduction of Goya's painting "The Naked Maja" is "obscene, lewd, lascivious and filthy," as held by Postmaster General Arthur J. Summerfield in banning it from the mails.

United Artists Corp., which has a motion picture called "The Naked Maja" and is using the cards as promotion, filed suit to force the Post Office Department to remove its ban on the card.

Cadillac

Hoped for the Best... and Got It!

Just a short time ago, he walked into his dealer's showroom—with his hopes high—to see if the time had come for his first Cadillac.

Well—his fondest hopes were realized—and here he is today with the car of his dreams.

What were the facts about Cadillac that made this happy and memorable moment possible? Let us count them off.

First of all, the original cost of a new Cadillac is remarkably modest—so much so, in fact, that many models are actually priced competitively with other motor cars of American manufacture.

And when you consider the fact that Cadillac's initial price includes so many important and basic features that cost extra with other makes—Cadillac becomes the price rival of automobiles of far less stature.

There is also Cadillac's extraordinary economy. The car is amazingly frugal with gasoline and truly marvelous in its dependability.

And then there is the way a Cadillac protects its owner's investment. For such is the demand for Cadillac that the car returns an exceptionally high percentage of its original cost at the time of resale.

Those are the facts—and the conclusion, we feel, is obvious: if you are considering any motor car—even in the medium price field—you owe yourself a visit to your Cadillac dealer's showroom.

He'll be waiting for you—with the most surprising and inviting economy story of the year!

Hearty Sandwiches Go to Patio Picnic

As the mercury reaches its summertime high, more and more weekday meals are being served patio style. While "patio picnics" are a treat for the family, the homemaker frequently finds herself at a loss for foods that are easy to serve, yet different from burgs and franks.

The menu should be a hearty one for energetic children and working husband, but one containing foods which can be prepared in advance with only a little attention just before mealtime.

Try these easy patio sandwiches. They can be made in the morning hours and placed on an ovenware platter ready for warming. Then take them from the refrigerator to oven to the table.

Hearty Patio Sandwiches

8 hard French rolls
1 pound sharp Cheddar cheese
1 cup ground cooked ham
½ cup tomato sauce
1 large onion, chopped
¼ cup chopped green pepper
8 sweet pickles, chopped
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

In the morning: Cut French rolls in half lengthwise, and hollow out centers of both halves. Mix all ingredients together and fill rolls with mixture. Replace top of roll.

Place sandwiches on an ovenproof platter and cover with transparent plastic wrap to retain freshness. Refrigerate.

Just before mealtime: Preheat oven to 350 degrees (moderate). Remove plastic wrap and heat rolls for about 15 minutes. Serve warm.

As of Dec. 31, 1958, there were only about 100 television receivers in use in India, which had just one TV station.

Clove, Cinnamon, Sherry Spice Pot Roast

For a richly-flavored pot roast, try this Spanish trick: insert a strip of bacon that has been dusted with powdered clove and cinnamon in the center of a boneless piece of beef (chuck or bottom round), using a sharp knife first to cut a narrow pocket. Sear the meat over high heat, then add ½ cup Spanish sherry, amontillado type, and 1 cup water. Cover tightly, simmer 2½ to 3 hours.

To make a luscious dark brown gravy, skim off excess fat from liquid, add a thin paste of 1 tablespoon flour blended with water and use this to thicken the sauce in the pot. If much liquid has cooked away, add enough water to make 1½ cups; simmer until smooth and thickened. The clove, cinnamon and Spanish sherry penetrate through the meat to give it delightful spiciness.

Having a party? Bake rich cornbread and cut into small squares; split and sandwich with mustard-butter and slivers of baked ham.

Don't Underestimate Value of Dry Milk

ANN ARBOR — Powdered skim milk is a boon to the budgeting housewife, say dietitians at The University of Michigan Medical Center. It costs one-third as much as does fresh skim milk.

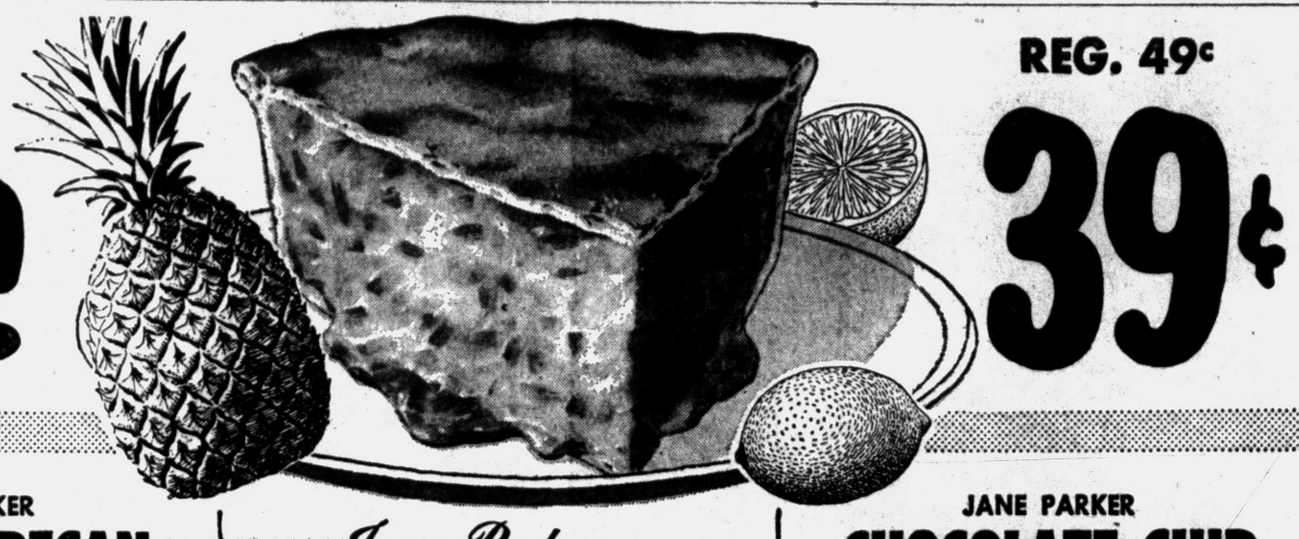

Powdered skim milk is an excellent, inexpensive source of protein, calcium and B vitamins needed by our bodies each day. It may be mixed with water and consumed as liquid milk.

Skim milk powder can be added in the preparation of such foods as mashed potatoes, cooked cereals, hot breads, creamed dishes, puddings, and cakes to insure adequate amounts of protein, calcium and B vitamins in the daily diet.

For those on reducing diets, powdered skim milk may be used instead of whole milk both for drinking and cooking. One cup of reconstituted powdered skim milk contains one-half as many calories as does a cup of whole milk.

Trucker Braves Flames to Avert Major Disaster

MAX MEADOWS, Va. (AP)—A 26-year-old truck driver may have averted a major disaster Tuesday after his truck caught fire near two tanks of propane gas.

Firemen, rescue squad members and police from several surrounding towns evacuated residents from the immediate area. The flames were extinguished in four hours.

The truck driver, Billy E. Jones, suffered first and second-degree burns but he went ahead and turned off a valve and compressor in a small pumphouse where he was working.

"If I could just have gotten to the other valve, I could have cut the connection between the truck and the tank entirely, but it was so hot I couldn't get close to it," Jones said.

The truck was within 20 feet of a nearly full 18,000 - gallon bulk storage tank and a 10,000-gallon railroad tank car.

Scouts Invade Manila for World Jamboree

Humphrey Backer to Visit Williams

LANSING (AP) — Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman has notified Gov. Williams he will attend a conference of economists at the Williams' summer home on Mackinac Island this weekend.

Freeman had a hand in yesterday's announcement by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota as the first major Democratic presidential candidate.

Williams said the weekend meeting with seven top-flight economists was to discuss "adequate rate of growth and employment."

There has long been talk that Williams has national aspirations. Some saw the meeting with Freeman as a preliminary to straightening out signals with Humphrey.

Kassem Promises Elections in Iraq

BEIRUT, London (AP)—Iraq's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem says his regime will hold free elections for a new National Assembly before the end of 1960.

In an address to the graduating class of the Iraqi Military Academy, broadcast to the nation Tuesday night, Kassem also promised that political parties can operate once more beginning next Army Day — Jan. 6, 1960.

Kassem made his pledge on the first anniversary of the revolution which destroyed Iraq's monarchy. Since then the constitution and the Assembly have been suspended and all political activity banned.

Pontiac City Affairs

Next Meeting Set Monday

For the first time in many months, the weekly City Commission meeting will be held on Monday next week.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston asked for the change from Tuesday, the regular meeting day, because of personal reasons.

Next week's commission meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m Monday in the Commission's City Hall chambers.

An easy agenda faced the commission last night.

2 ZONING CHANGES

Two zoning changes were approved after no objections appeared during public hearings.

The north side of West Huron street, between Thorpe and Mark, was rezoned from residential to personal service, and seven lots on the north side of Perry street, Clarence to Glenwood, were rezoned from partially residential and commercial to wholly commercial.

Commissioner William W. Donaldson refrained from voting on the West Huron street change, saying he had a real estate interest there.

Deleted from this summer's public improvement program was a sidewalk on the east side of Parkwood avenue, Perry to Manhattan. Commissioner John A. Dugan said the project should be dropped because a majority of the affected property owners are opposed to it.

There were no objections raised during public hearings on seven other sidewalk projects, including the west side of East boulevard, between Michigan and the Clinton River bridge; both sides of Arlene avenue, Madison to Columbia; 300 feet on the south side of Perry street, Joslyn eastward; 1,000 feet on the north side of Perry, Madison southward; both side of Robinwood avenue, Baltimore to Manhattan; south side of Rundell street, Saginaw to Hamilton; and the west side of North Saginaw street, Rundell to north of Virginia.

HEARINGS SCHEDULED

Hearings were scheduled for July 28 on six other sidewalk projects, including the south side of east Pike street, Paddock to Mariva (including several lots on the east side of Paddock street south of Pike); east side of Roselawn avenue, Fiddis to Maines; east side of Stirling avenue, Baltimore to Mt. Clemens; west side of Stirling, Madison to Mt. Clemens; both sides of Tasmania, Maines to Michigan; and the west side of Tasmania, Michigan to Lois.

Four assessment rolls were confirmed, covering curbs, gutters, grading and graveling on Colgate avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; and sidewalks in front of six lots on Bartlett street and on the west side of Going street, Irwin to South boulevard and Ferry to Central.

City Attorney William A. Ewart was asked to inform the Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Contractors Assn. in Detroit of the city's decision not to establish a refrigeration code.

Declared a public necessity was a water line and storm drain on Palmer street, south of Mt. Clemens. Petitioning for the improvements were a majority of the residents, representing 31 per cent of the property.

Plead Innocent in Park Row

Two Area Men Claim Ranger Pulled Knife on Them First

Two brothers involved in a scuffle with a state conservation officer at Bloomer State Park No. 1 Friday night have pleaded innocent to charges of assault and battery.

Ernest D. Bunner of Clawson and his brother Fred of Royal Oak demanded a jury trial when arraigned before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Both were released after furnishing a $100 bond. No date has been set for the trial.

Ranger Albert Jaasko charged the men attacked him and he fled into nearby woods.

The defendants insisted Jaasko delivered the first punches, wielded a knife at one of them, and that they were set upon by two dogs Jaasko unleashed.

They were picnicking with their families and another couple, they said, when they saw a man going through their cars. "When we asked him for identification, he let loose his dogs, and slashed at us with a knife," said Bunner.

Jaasko maintained he had been the one who was first assaulted. The complaint was answered by Oakland County sheriff's deputies and police from other area police departments.

They'll Get No Compensation

Strikers Tighten Belts

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The nation's striking steelworkers will be ineligible for state unemployment benefits and will receive no financial aid from their national union during the strike.

The United Steelworkers Union has no strike fund from which it could make strike payments. However, a union spokesman said each local will form a strike welfare committee which will make financial aid available to "hardship" cases.

Top union officials, including President David J. McDonald, who draws an annual salary of $50,000-a-year, also will go without pay during the strike. Their pay was suspended automatically at the strike's outset in accordance with a 20-year tradition.

Secretarial and clerical employes in union headquarters, however, will continue to work and draw salaries.

CREDIT OFFERED

Retail stores in key steel centers have put signs in their windows informing steelworkers that they can buy now and pay after the strike. Local feed stores also have made a practice of extending credit to steelworkers during strikes.

Since most steel companies pay on a two-week basis, some workers will still receive full pay checks two weeks hence.

There are now about 40,000 pygmies in the Belgian Congo's Ituri Forest. They stand little more than four and a half feet tall.

Pontiac Aglow as New Lights Shine Downtown

Consumers Power Co. workers were beginning installation of new fluorescent street lights on Saginaw street from Oakland avenue to Auburn avenue.

Installation the full length of the business area will take about a month, said Edward Karkau, Consumers' district manager.

Already in operation are new fluorescent lights on Huron street between Mill and Cass avenues. These were placed into position Monday and Tuesday.

Karkau said the Saginaw street lights would take longer because of complicated welding necessary at each lamp post.

The shining new silver posts are higher than the old ones, each projecting its bright light further over the street by means of a longer arm.

The lamps are each 35,000 lumen in strength, far stronger than the old bulb lighting, Karkau said.

The new downtown lights will cost the city about $5,000 more a year in light bills.

RR Right-of-Way Bill Trap for Motorists?

LANSING (AP)—Lawyers rose almost in unision last night to fight a proposal they said would relieve railroads of all liability in collisions with cars at unmarked crossings.

It's an amendment to a Senate-approved bill dealing with stop signs and, in effect, would force all cars to stop before crossing railroad tracks not marked by flashing red lights.

It would create a legal obligation for the motorist not to get hit, said Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit), an attorney who led the opposition forces.

"If he did get hit under any circumstances, he would be guilty as a matter of law," said Lesinski. "Other facts in the case, even if the train appeared to be at fault, would make no difference."

Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City), chairman of the House Roads and Bridges Committee which tacked on the amendment, said it was designed to save lives by forcing drivers to exercise caution at railroad crossings.

"It's not designed to save lives," shot back Rep. Andrew H. Wisti (D-Hancock), another lawyer. "It's designed to save railroad companies millions of dollars at the expense of the public."

Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, Republican from West Bloomfield Township warned passage would set the stage for traffic jams by cars coming to a halt at crossings in populous areas.

The measure was moved up to passage stage.

Lodge's Urging Revives State Watercraft Bill

LANSING (AP)—The state watercraft registration bill defeated in the Senate last week was revived last night and readied for minor amendments expected to lead to its final approval.

The Senate acted on the motion of Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County), who said passage of the bill is needed to preserve the state's jurisdiction over boats using Michigan and adjacent waters.

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams explained today why he got such a closely cropped haircut.

He said it was just too hot to have long hair.

"It's what my son calls a Princeton," Williams said when asked to describe the style.

However, some observers agreed his hair was still too long to be called a Princeton.

PONTIAC AREA

by RAY STORM, District Manager

Many things go into the making of a good community—schools, churches, hospitals, industries, etc. Industries play a vital role in a community and I thought you would be interested in some facts about your Telephone Company as an industry here in the Pontiac area. In our area Michigan Bell employs 713 people with an annual payroll of about 3½ million dollars, or over 2% of the entire area payroll. So you can see that Michigan Bell is important to the community from an economic standpoint as well as from the standpoint of providing communication services.

OUTDOOR TELEPHONE BOOTHS are really handy to have around—so much so, in fact, that a vacationer was found living in one in the resort town of Carolina Beach, N. C. He had set up housekeeping with an old broom, a small oil stove, a frying pan, cooking oil, eggs and cheese. There seems to be no limit to the convenience of these outdoor booths. But at the request of those who were waiting to make a call, our friend was encouraged to do his homesteading elsewhere. Folks in Michigan, incidentally, are never far from a public telephone. Michigan Bell has over 4,000 outdoor booths conveniently located along the state's highways and byways.

SONG WRITERS have been inspired by the telephone ever since 1877, just a year after its invention by Bell. That's when two marches, a polka and a solemn piece called "The Wondrous Telephone" were published. More than 70 song titles have appeared since then, many of them using the rhyme of "alone" and "phone" or "telephone." Now a new Columbia record album with songs by Polly Bergen is available. It carries the over-all title of Irving Berlin's 1924 hit, "All Alone by the Telephone"—something you needn't be any more with friends and family just a quick call away.

"My exercise consists of walking to the funerals of my friends who died from exercising."—MARK TWAIN

Stay Alive Longer!

That Bay Window May Be Costly Addition

By LELORD KORDEL
Installment Three

Do you eat as much now as you did when you played college football 15, 20, or 30 years ago? If so, you're asking for trouble . . . and you'll get it. First, perhaps, in the form of a slight paunch. "A portly look," you tell yourself. A well-fed, filled-out, successful look that you consider rather becoming at first. Not bad for a fellow who used to be a string bean.

LELORD KORDEL

When the portly look gets out of bounds and becomes a definite bay window, you try to laugh it off: "My chest must've slipped down!"

But you can't laugh off the increasing shortness of breath, the pangs of "indigestion," the difficulty in tying your shoelaces, and the constant fatigue.

You can blame the high-fat, high-starch American diet for much of your body degeneration. During the past 50 years, Americans have increased their fat consumption by more than 50 per cent, and now eat more per capita than any other people in the world. Our sugar consumption has multiplied 500 per cent.

The average American male knows when his eating habits are all wrong. He has been told that he should eat a high protetin, low-fat, low-sugar diet, combined with plenty of sleep and moderate exercise. But does he do anything about it?

He does not! He rationalizes: The rules don't apply specifically to him. He's different.

Grandfather ate his flapjacks, and then went out to chop down trees for fuel and shelter. His grandson consumes the same high-energy meals, and sits all day at a desk in a well-heated office. Grandfather needed 4,000 calories a day to chop wood. Grandson needs only 1,900 to be a chair-warmer.

RUSTING-OUT

Within your life span there is a relatively consistent sequence of events which gradually adds up to a physiological "rusting-out."

Watch a boy of 10 at play. How filled with energy and enthusiasm he is! How clear and bright his eyes appear. Yet the lenses of those young eyes have already begun to lose elasticity. By the time the boy is 20, a slow continuous decrease in the volume and acidity of the digestive juices begins.

Each individual, however, can help slow down his own rusting. Much of the deterioration seen in human aging is not necessary.

Authorities studying new ways toward greater longevity think that man perhaps has the potential to live 150 years. They believe 100 years is a figure to which gerontologists may reasonably aspire. In the United States about one person in 33,000 actually does live that long.

Theoretically there is nothing to prevent others from doing so. But consider this appalling fact: One man out of every 60 now dies of a heart attack, many of the victims before they have gone even halfway to the 100-year mark.

WHAT PRICE SUCCESS?

You're only 30, you say. Your nerves are steel and your stomach is cast iron. Fine! Keep them that way with proper food, adequate rest and regular physical examinations to guard against the diseases that sneak up on you.

Work hard if you like, but ease up a bit as you grow older. Play a little, relax a lot, and no doubt you will live to be 100! Unless . . .

"Americans have the ugliest faces in the world. They show the marks of strain, tension and inner conflict that you don't find elsewhere. And these form marks of ugliness."

According to Dr. Wood, New York is the worst city of all for faces marked with this particular type of ugliness. Why? New York is the busiest, most hectic city in the world.

There are at least 15 million Americans with these faces—the harassed executive, straining every nerve to keep abreast of competition; the teacher, on whose shoulders rests responsibility for the future generation; the statesman, who decides the fate of the nation, and the actor, who lives by his emotions.

TENSION COSTLY

One hour of living on sheer emotion is equal to five hours of labor.

The tensions of modern business are prevalent wherever a man has to keep driving hard to order to get ahead, and harder still to stay ahead.

So you are only 30, but years pass. So swiftly that you hardly realize the changes that occur. Ten years . . . 20 . . . 25 . . .

Can this be you? It can't be! This tense and harried man with the consuming ambition that will never let him rest until it destroys him? This man who has all the money he needs, but won't take time to enjoy it? Who, at his present tempo, won't even live to enjoy it? Yes, it is you, and you, and you.

Your name is legion.

There are four common ailments that spell the differences between a healthy and a sickly old age. They are, in this order:

1. Disorders of the heart and circulatory system: Hypertension, hardening of the arteries, coronary thrombosis and apoplexy.
2. Cancer
3. Arthritis
4. Nervous and mental disorders

Heart disease tops the list of causes of death in the United States. In spite of all the modern medical facilities available for detection and amelioration, heart ailments caused 45 per cent of New York's 81,588 deaths in 1955.

Of all heart diseases, the No. 1 killer, coronary thrombosis, is the most preventable. It occurs when one of the heart's two arteries becomes clogged with rough materials on its inner wall.

A blood clot forms, and the artery is blocked or closed. The result: Blood cannot get through to feed the heart, just as water is unable to flow through old, rusty pipes when they finally become clogged.

Doctors and scientists are doing research on two theories advanced to explain hardening of the arteries and the coronary thrombosis that follows ultimately in its wake.

According to the first theory, which shows definite promise, hardening of the arteries is due to a diet containing too much indigestible cholesterol and fats in combination with high-starch foods.

In other words, we can prevent the hardening of our arteries by what we eat—and how we eat it.

The second theory is that the arteries suffer from sheer mechanical strain, or wear and tear. We try to accomplish too much in too little time, and wear ourselves out doing it. This is the stress theory.

Since 97 per cent of the victims of coronary thrombosis suffer from arterial difficulty prior to their attacks, I shall point out in subsequent chapters the effects of faulty diet and stress and how to eliminate these factors. As between diet and stress, the first is the easier to control. Diet depends on you; stress involves many external factors, and your reaction to them.

Super Bomarc Shot on 2nd Test Flight

The solid fuel engine spurted a long trail of white smoke as the rocket headed over the Atlantic. It was only the second test for this new missile, called the Bomarc-B.

The Air Force announced the purpose of the flight was to test the missile's air frame, boost system and general aerodynamic behavior.

The weapon was not scheduled to be flown its full 400-mile range, nor was it fired at a target, the Air Force said.

The U. S. Census Bureau was made a permanent part of the government in 1902. It outdates the Departments of Labor and Commerce which were established about 1903.

Spends 4 Busy Days in Texas

Long to Resume Trip

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana planned to resume his Western vacation trip today after four tumultous days here.

The 63-year-old governor, whose doctors agree with his statement that he still is a very sick man, had a busy day Tuesday.

Up late from a midnight dinner and party that extended into the wee hours, he had only a few hours sleep before starting a day-long round of conferences with key political advisors summoned from Louisiana.

Today the governor was to hold another news conference and then head for El Paso, Tex., with a possible stop at Lamesa, Tex., where he once lived as a young man.

He planned to visit the race track at Ruidoso, a mountain resort in south-central New Mexico.

Although earlier he spoke of going to Mexico and even Canada, members of his party indicated he might be back in Lousiaiana by Sunday.

Long praised Texas Gov. Price Daniel after seeing a front-page editorial in the Tyler, Tex., Courier-Times labeled "Gov. Long — Go Home."

The editorial said, "legally sane or not, his disgraceful actions are destructive of the citizens' faith in representative government. They reflect most unfavorably not only on his own state, but on the whole South and Southwest."

Playboy Rubirosa Starts Duties as Belgian Envoy

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Porifirio Rubirosa, playboy-diplomat of the Dominican Republic, took up his duties as Dominican ambassador today and presented his credentials to King Baudouin.

Rubirosa's last diplomatic assignment was as ambassador to Cuba. He left Havana early in May after a bomb was tossed at his home. Cuba broke diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic on June 26 as the result of a long feud between the two nations.

Faubus Must Reveal Plans for Segregation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock School Board Tuesday night challenged Gov. Orval E. Faubus to reveal what plan, if any, he has for legally maintaining segregation in public high schools here.

Unless a valid, legal plan exists, the board said, its "sole remaining choice is to proceed with a plan to open the schools this fall under a pupil assignment law designed to minimize integration."

Pre-registration of high school pupils begins next week.

Faubus, vacationing in northwest Arkansas, could not be reached for comment.

Bus Runs Wild Killing Girl, 3, 90 Campers Safe

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—A bus returning 90 youngsters from a mountain day camp lost its brakes on a grade Tuesday and careened wildly down a tree-lined suburban street.

The bus left a wake of three smashed cars and the broken body of a 3-year-old girl before it overturned.

None of the campers was seriously injured.

The girl, Corrine Matson of Arcadia, was killed when thrown from a sedan hit from behind by the bus.

Two adults in the smashed cars were injured.

"I tried to keep from hitting traffic," said bus driver Brady Bolt of Los Angeles. "I had no horn, no air, no brakes."

The bus loaded with the 90 Catholic Youth Organization campers and eight counselors was returning to this Los Angeles suburb from a day outing in the nearby San Gabriel Mountains.

TV Producer Dies at 44

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — William F. Broidy, 44, producer of the Wild Bill Hickok television series, died Tuesday after a long illness. Survivors include his widow, Frances; three children, and a brother, Steve, president of Allied Artists Productions.

A Surgical First

Tooth Transplanted

LONDON (AP)—A Canadian dental surgeon Tuesday reported he had performed the first successful operation for transplanting teeth from one human being to another.

Dr. Samuel W. Leslie of Toronto described the operation in a paper read to the International Congress on plastic surgery here.

A tooth bud, completely enclosed in its follicle, was removed from an 11-year-old girl and grafted to her 22-year-old brother.

The girl had been in pain with an extra tooth bud which appeared near the upper jaw incisors—the cutting teeth. Her brother was lacking an incisor.

One year after the operation the tooth was developing normally in the brother's jaw, Leslie said.

The operation was performed in Toronto over a year ago.

Scheduled for compliments is this gracefully skirted silhouette in new imported "Broche." Designed by Young Viewpoint of New York, the midnight satin roses on black chiffon are floated over emerald, nude or royal taffeta. Available locally.

The couture look is the shape of things to come in this satin-touched crepe costume shaped by Young Viewpoint in New York. The dress solos with elegance, covers more occasions with its cover-up.

This soft crepe by Young Viewpoint of New York would win plaudits in any language. Its simply stated lines are sparked with bits of brilliance, the neckline curved for flattery. This dress comes in green, blue, mulberry and black and is available locally.

Getting Set for Fashion Showings

Designers Insist Upon Privacy, but Trends Are Known

ROME (AP)—Seamstresses are working in sizzling summer heat to put the final touches on suits and dresses Italian couturiers are preparing for next winter.

The results will be unveiled at high fashion showings in Rome and Florence starting Thursday.

The designers insist they are working in secrecy, but, as usual, an idea of fashions-to-come has leaked out of the attic workshops. The word is that the trend will be toward calm classicism with an emphasis on man tailored suits for every occasion.

Such a trend is a logical sequel to the shirtwaist dresses of spring and summer styles.

Buyers and fashion writers already are moving into Rome, where the Italian showings start. They continue here through July 23.

When Italian showings are over, the European fashion focus shifts to Paris. Rumors filtering through the frontier emphasize the trend toward the simply tailored suit.

Designers are generally evasive but several hints have been dropped. Fontana, for one, is featuring the suit from breakfast to midnight supper. Gattinoni's suit jacket is lengthening, as well as the suit skirt.

De Barentzen probably will emerge with a loose-waisted two-piece solution with wide and flat shoulders and hips. Irene Galitzine, whose thigh-low jacket appeared ahead of the times last season, undoubtedly will show more of her hip-hugging peplums.

In fabrics, smooth-surfaced materials are likely to be more important than last year's whiskery wools. Rock red, burnt-sugar brown and forever-black are the colors spied the most so far.

Jackets Are Fitted, Longer

Suits Take On New Lines

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—The biggest change in a woman's fall wardrobe will come in suits.

Last year, suit jackets were short — either waist length or just to the hips — and were loose-fitting and straight-cut.

This year, suit jackets are longer—often wrist-length —and are fitted.

Ben Reig, one of 60 houses taking part in the New York couture group's semi-annual showings, came up with eight variations of the suit silhouette. Included was the "riding master" jacket — a single-breasted suit with long, wrist-length jacket fitted at the waist. The jacket flared slightly below the waist to balance the longer sleeves. The skirt was straight.

The "swagger suit" had a jacket coming to the upper hipbone, with just a suggestion of fit at the waist.

The "flying tunic" had a bloused jacket, with narrow peplum gathered under a slim leather belt. Reig included a few knife or flat, box-pleated skirts with his suits.

The swagger line also turned up in dresses with bloused backs, cinched belts, and soft, unpressed pleated skirts.

The bolero cropped up in town dresses, cut in one piece with a short bolero effect.

One unusual silhouette was the "flying wedge, a triangular waist-to-knee sized panel attached to the front of a straight skirt. A chunk of the fabric went around the hip to form a narrow, pleated peplum.

In Reig's luxury-class "International Line" was a long, shaped suit jacket lined with black mink, costing about $650. An "international" coat came in blonde herringbone wool, lined with blonde mink. Price tag—about $895.

Much interest was centered on the underside of garments. White mink lined a white peau de soie evening coat and sable bordered a shoulder cape.

Highlight of other collections:

Harry Frechtel—This house showed tunic suits, longer jackets worn with or without belts, double-breasted suits, and "reasonably short" jackets, slightly longer than the hipbone. One example is a black French boucle wool suit with a leopard shawl collar.

Herbert Sondheim — This collection emphasized the costume look, with longer belted jackets, fur trim, and natural waistlines, although some dresses had arched waistlines. Dresses and after-dark costumes had slim, below-elbow sleeves. Evening gowns were full length and ankle-length, some with belled skirts, others in sheath form.

B. H. Wragge — Hipbone and waist-length jackets, camisole tops, and straight, belled and wrap-around skirts were staples of this casual house. Suit fabrics included velveteen and wool tweed mixed with reindeer hair.

Maurice Rentner — A variety of suits, from mannish types with long, double-breasted jackets to short-jacketed tunics and easy-fitting styles. Most spectacular were the cocktail and evening clothes — sari dinner dresses; long, slinky, beaded ankle-length gowns; an ermine-sleeved black cocktail dress; satin coat lined with black lace ruffles to match the gown underneath; and a "powder puff" short gown with a satin top and skirt of tiers of white feathers.

Mollie Parnis — Her favorite daytime silhouette was the "Cavalier tunic"—a simple bodice, slightly belled tunic reaching just above the knee, and wide, belted waist. One late-day outfit was a slim black satin dress with collarless neckline cut to a modest V. The matching jacket is a copy of President Eisenhower's famous battle jacket of World War II.

Hannah Troy — Daytime dresses and costumes are trimmed in fox, sable and mink. Theater and dinner suits come in moire, velvet, and broadcloth with jeweled buttons. One interesting pair—a slim sequined sheath and camel's hair greatcoat.

MRS. LOUIS D. SOVERINSKY

Married Saturday evening in Detroit were Marilyn Mae Goode and Louis D. Soverinsky.

Soverinsky-Goode Vows Spoken at Adas Sholom

Marilyn Mae Goode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Goode of Cherokee road and Louis Donald Soverinsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Soverinsky of Detroit were married Saturday evening at Adas Sholom in Detroit.

Rabbi Jacob E. Segal and Cantor Nicholas Fenakel officiated at the double-ring candlelight ceremony.

The bride's gown was white silk peau de soie with an empire bodice and short sleeves of Rose Pointe Chantilly lace. Garlands of Rose Pointe lace were appliqued on the floor length skirt that formed a chapel train. Her two tiered fingertip veil of white silk was held by a tiara of pearls and she carried a bouquet of Eucharist lilies and stephanotis on her confirmation Bible.

The bridegroom's sister, Marlene Soverinsky was maid of honor and Mrs. Jason Goode, the bride's sister-in-law was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Arlene Martin, Carolyn Ruth Goode, Joan Schneider and Carolyn Rita Goode.

Dr. Conrad Goode, the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were Dr. Jason Goode, another of the bride's brothers; Marwin Goldsmith, Marshall Goldman, Arnold Smith, Elliott Folbe, Elroy Woolf and Harvey Zalesin.

The couple are honeymooning in Miami Beach, Fla., and Nassau.

What Happens If it Rains?

Disposable paper clothes from a coin vending machine will appear in the "not too distant future," predicts a Chicago product development firm.

Paper clothes provide more variations in both styles and color. And they will be cheap enough to be thrown away after one day's wearing, said A. G. Dreis, president of the firm.

Dreis didn't say what the consumer would wear until he gets to the vending machine in the morning.

GOP Federation Hears Address by Sen. Lodge

Senator L. Harvey Lodge was speaker at the annual meeting of Republican Federation of Women's Clubs held Monday afternoon at Hotel Waldron.

He discussed the importance of women and the effect they have in home, community and the nation.

He also stressed the importance of writing to elected officers to tell them of interest and wishes regarding laws proposed to them.

REPORTS GIVEN

Former representative George Dondero and Mrs. Dondero will be special guests at the picnic and Mrs. Katherine Gibbs, national committee woman, will be speaker.

His Animals Star in Fashion Parade

Uncle Remus Goes High Hat

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Those once humble little animals—the raccoon, the civet cat and the opossum — have come out of the Uncle Remus stories and into the spotlight of high fashion.

Brer Fox is here, too, in all his glory —and even Peter Rabbit shows up occasionally in budget lines.

The animals are star performers in the current fall fashion previews of the New York Dress Institute, staged for the benefit of 240 fashion editors from newspapers throughout the United States.

The second day of the crowded press week showings ended on a high note, with lush collections by Nettie Rosenstein, Philippe Tournaye of the House of Marquise, and Ceil Chapman, designer of after-five fashions for many personalities of stage, screen and television.

Nettie Rosenstein, famous as America's leading advocate of the "little black dress," shows it in many versions, but this season adds glamor in the form of elegant evening gowns in rich brocades. She also introduces her favorite color of the season, "Opossum," a soft taupe, which she teams with real 'possum fur hats and accessories.

Ceil Chapman introduces a new ankle length in her severely tailored dinner suits, in fabulous fabrics such as metallic brocades, satins and cut velvets. A highlight in her "sceptre" suit in rose-patterned red-and-white cut velvet, with plain box jacket over a slim wrapped skirt with hemline about eight inches from the floor. This is worn with a wrapped blouse of white matte jersey.

The ultimate in casual opulence is achieved by her theater ensemble of silver brocade, the coat lined in chinchilla, the world's most expensive fur. Both coat and dress are cut on the simplest possible lines, leaving the drama to the fur and the fabric.

Let Spouse Go to Niece's Wedding

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I accepted a wedding invitation to a dear friend's daughter's wedding. Now this morning we received one from my husband's niece who is going to be married the same day and practically at the same time. My husband feels we ought to go to this one.

"I think that having accepted the invitation to the first wedding we are obliged to go to it and that it would hurt my friend's feelings if we now declined her invitation in favor of another. Will you please tell us what is proper in this situation?"

Answer: Your husband is really right in that your duty to a niece is more important than that to a friend. A possible way out of your dilemma would be for you to go to the wedding of your friend's daughter because you accepted it first, and your husband to go to his own niece's wedding because she is his niece.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A neighbor recently had an overflow of guests (family) and I offered my spare bedroom which was accepted. They were no trouble. Since they left I have found on the dresser a nice thank-you note and a small sum of money with a request that I buy something for myself. Should I return this money?"

Answer: Nothing could hurt their feelings more than to misunderstand their kind intentions. You really cannot do other than follow their request and write a thank-you letter telling them what it was you bought.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The friends we would like to ask to be the godparents of our baby cannot be present at the christening. Are friends ever asked to be godparents when they cannot be present personally?"

Answer: Yes, it is not at all unusual, and in such cases somebody in the immediate family simply acts as proxy at the ceremony for the absent godparents.

Plastic eyelashes are becoming more practical for those who like to wear them. They now can be washed in soap and suds without harming the adhesive strips and worn over and over again.

Theater School's 18th Season

Cranbrook Presents Series of Plays

Cranbrook Summer Theater School, now in its eighteenth season, presented its third consecutive Monday evening of short one-act plays July 13. Students present the dramas on Cranbrook's Greek Theater stage to an audience of parents and friends.

The Junior and Intermediate Divisions, directed by Patricia Hogan, presented a program of four shows. These included "The Wizard of Oz" with Karen Hinds, Barbara Oleshansky, Nancy Yaryan, Lucinda Crim, Lynne Allman, Phil Torrey, Brooke Raymond, and Mary H. Lorenz. Their director was Joby Frederickson.

Carol Kilpatrick directed Lisa Slawin and Judy Sperling in "Spring Party." Linda Friedlaender, Donna Adler, Louise Brenstein, Jane Koenigsberg, Louise Katcher, and Peggy Manegold appeared in "Dragonboat" directed by Ted Wade.

Patricia Hogan also was director of "Turtle Dove." Featured in the cast were Judy Alexander, Julie Smith, Denish Hersh, Cheryl Lambert, Kathy Quinn, and Robert Sklar.

Following a ten-minute intermission, the Senior Division under the supervision of William Hollingsworth presented a program of six plays, "The Letter," directed by Bernice Baumgartner, included Lyn Metzer, Sandra Eakins, and Gary Sklar in its cast. "The Reefer Man" was enacted by Ron Vener, Kitty Scripps, Barbara Davis, Larry Green, and Jules Aaron. Director was Katy Bigge.

Nancy Porter directed two shows. The first was entitled "Trinkets" and has Leslie Victor, Dave Gass, Nancy Walker, and Joan Torrey as its cast. "Angel Child" was the second show under her direction and Barbara Maxson, Al Perlstein, Dan Jakovich, Nancy Nahabedian, Candy Cedar, and Julie Graham performed.

Janet Simpson was director of "Your Order Please." The cast included Lee Hayes, James Dyer, Judy Sutkin, and Mike Levy. Sandy Storm, James Curran, and Gretchen Kuschwa under the direction of Joseph Barrett presented a cutting from "Dear Brutus."

The stage crew was supervised by Dave Burnett. Costumes were by Rachel Berrospe and make-up under the direction of Miss Bigge and Miss Baumgartner.

Sharon Green Becomes Bride of Larry D. Combs

Sunnyvale Chapel, Waterford, was the scene of the Friday evening wedding of Sharon Jean Green and Larry D. Combs. The Rev. James Parker officiated at the ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace with a modified Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The bouffant floor-length skirt formed a chapel sweep. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a pearl crown, and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

The newlyweds will make their home in Plymouth after a honeymoon to Northern Michigan.

MRS. LARRY D. COMBS

Breakfast Canceled

The Pontiac Woman's Club scholarship fund breakfast has been canceled until further notice. Members were to have met Monday, July 20, at the Crescent Lake road home of Mrs. William Bedard.

Betta L. Angell Becomes Bride of James Middleton

White gladioli, roses, and carnations banked the altar of Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford Saturday for the marriage of Bette Lane Angell and James H. Middleton. Approximately 300 guests attended the double-ring candlelight ceremony performed by the Rev. Arvid Anderson.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. K. R. Hallenbeck of Watkins Lake and Leland W. Angell of Waterford, James' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Middleton, reside in Lake Orion.

MRS. JAMES MIDDLETON

IN LACE AND TULLE

Bette's Chantilly lace and tulle gown featured a fitted bodice with long tapering sleeves pointed at the wrist and a Peter Pan collar. The bouffant floor length skirt of lace draped over tiers of ruffles. A Swedish crown of pearls accented by iridescent sequins secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Jean Miller served as maid of honor wearing a ballerina-length dress of pink nylon chiffon with a draped bodice, bouffant skirt and flowing back panel. A matching chiffon bow with a short veil was her headpiece, and lilac carnations and pink rosebuds comprised her colonial bouquet.

Bridesmaids included Michael Sue Hallenbeck, sister of the bride; Linda Harvey, of Detroit, Carol Way and Barbara Cleaver of Port Huron, cousins of the bride. They were gowned like the maid of honor, only in lilac chiffon, and carried pink bouquets.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Attending the bridegroom were Marvin Middleton, his twin brother, as best man and Robert Middleton, another brother, Bob Watts, Eddie Rossman, all of Lake Orion, and Dick Gray of Pontiac, as ushers. Rocky Hallenbeck, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

Guests present for the reception, held in the church parlors following the ceremony, included some from Los Angeles, Calif., Panama City, Fla., Lynn, Mass., and Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Hallenbeck chose a street-length dress of beige lace and chiffon with champagne accessories, and a corsage of rubrum lilies and garnet roses. Mrs. Middleton wore an aqua lace dress with white accessories. Her corsage was comprised of lilies and tiny yellow roses.

For traveling to Niagara Falls and Upper Michigan, the new Mrs. Middleton chose a black sheath dress with black and white jacket and matching accessories. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon returning, the couple will reside in Lake Orion.

Use Paper Doily for Nut Holder

Want to fashion dainty holders for nuts and mints at any kind of a shower? Take a small size lacy paper doily and dip it in melted parrafin wax. As it cools work swiftly and shape it in the shape of an umbrella top. Attach a pipe cleaner for a handle bending it in the shape of a handle.

This can be attached with melted wax. You can make these any color by adding wax crayon to the wax and melt them both together. These umbrellas are quite attractive attached to the side of a glass of punch.

ELLEN RAE GOODE

Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Goode of Richwood street announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Rae, to Carroll D. Dickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dickerson of Walnut road. An April 16 wedding is planned.

Tell Them Facts of Life—Abby

Her Neighbors Inviting Trouble

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My neighbors must not have a brain in her head. She has two darling little girls under five years old and she lets them run around outside naked. Not a stitch of clothing on!

With so much in the papers lately about young boys and crazy men attacking children, I think there ought to be a law against mothers like her.

ABBY

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Your neighbor is many miles from me. But she is near enough to you so that you could speak to her about it. Perhaps the dangers you so wisely point out never occurred to her. Tell her in plain language. If she doesn't then clothe her children—notify the police.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who won't let her 14-year-old son go swimming alone after he has passed his YMCA Shark test which is the step just before the Pre-Life Saving? I would appreciate your answer to this because it might help other boys with the same problem. Thank you

DAVID

DEAR DAVID: I think your mother doesn't believe in taking foolish chances. Even a boy who can swim like a fish is a sucker to go swimming alone. If a lone swimmer is ever seized with a cramp, he's a goner. Be wise—go with the guys!

DEAR ABBY: Our 14-year-old daughter says we are "square." Are we?

She belongs to a club. Most of the girls are her age. They're planning a week-end slumber party at a cottage owned by one of the girl's parents. It's quite a distance out of town. The chaperone? A 70-year-old caretaker who is deaf. He lives in a cottage about a block away.

My husband and I discussed it and decided she couldn't go. She stormed around for hours accusing us of trying to keep her a baby forever, and ruining her socially. Are we wrong or not? SQUARE PAIR

DEAR SQUARE: If there were more "square" parents like you, there would be fewer kids going around in circles. Young girls should not attend slumber parties unless there is a chaperone within hearing distance who can hear.

P. S. I don't think much of parents who can't stay home one night to chaperone their children's parties.

DEAR ABBY: We have a small business in the country. Our son, who is 16, helps us. He has his friends out on weekends and we don't mind that. Except for this one boy.

He helps himself to candy and pop. His parents are having trouble with him and they think he is safe here. He rushes around trying to help customers with his shirt tail out and a silly straw hat with flowers.

I don't mind him staying a couple of days at a time, but I don't want him here all summer. Our boy doesn't work very well when he has company. We hate to hurt his parents' feelings, but how can we get rid of him?

TROUBLED MOTHER

DEAR TROUBLED: Tell the boy's parents that you enjoy having their son for a few days, but when he stays longer he keeps YOUR son from working. Either make it plain that you don't intend to provide their boy with a permanent stamping ground or prepare to have him all summer.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALEX AT THE GARAGE: Just read your 33-page letter and am sending you a personal reply. If you must cry over spilt milk—next time, please condense it.

Teacher to Study Air Techniques

Among more than 150 elementary secondary and college teachers enrolled in aviation and aerospace study at Montana State University is Maureen Slosson.

A third grade teacher in Grand Rapids, she is attending the course sponsored cooperatively by the University, Civil Air Patrol, U. S. Air Force and Montana Aeronautics Commission.

This National Aviation Education Workshop is designed to update teachers on air developments that might affect the outlook of the students they teach.

The workshop also provides these teachers with the latest information, materials and teaching techniques to explain air power in relatively simple and understandable terms.

Air power as an instrument of peace is being stressed rather than as a military weapon.

Be Moderate

Don't Punish Self With Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Happy eating and happy dieting can go hand in hand! When you are sticking to a short reducing diet for a quick loss of a few pounds, naturally your calorie intake will have to be more drastically curtailed than when you plan to lose weight more gradually.

If you have only a few pounds to lose, the quickie diet is most satisfactory. It is also valuable as a starter on a longer slimming period because it is so encouraging.

In a way it is incorrect to call some foods "fattening" and some "reducing." All foods are fattening if you eat enough of them because they all have calories. No foods are reducing for the same reason.

Nevertheless, on a drastically curtailed calorie count we do not have room for calorie-packed items. Fortunately the foods essential to health are comparatively low in calorie count. It is only the manner of cooking them and the additions to them which add the pounds.

Just the same when considering a long reducing trek it is important to take your psychological and emotional needs into consideration. If you feel that no meal is complete without a sweet at the end of it, have one occasionally. Take a smaller portion and have it on a day when the main course is low-caloried, such as broiled chicken, shrimp or lobster, or a lean meat or fish dish.

You can have some of your favorite foods once in a while. You do not have to cut them out entirely. Just count them in when you do your daily reckoning. Of course you must not take this theory too far, but you are more apt to stick to your diet and to hold your weight after you reach your ideal if you are not too extreme.

Spread your weight loss over a month or more. When folks leave off every favorite food it is not surprising that after a loss of weight their suppressed craving for certain foods causes them to begin to put on weight again within a few weeks time.

Of course the hidden calories, or those we forget about, or fail to count zoom our intake unless we are informed. The seasoning for meat and vegetables, the butter on bread and especially the salad oils and dressings you use may be sabotaging you.

You can make your own low-calorie dressing or you can buy one of the many low-caloried ones on the market. One French type dressing has only one calorie to a tablespoonful.

If you would like to lose from five to 10 pounds or would like to get a flying start on a long reducing period, you may want my 9-Day Reducing Diet booklet. Send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the 9-day Diet booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Candlelight Sets Stage for Double-Ring Rites

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Shepard of Auburn Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Romer of Avon Township.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace with a boat neckline outlined in iridescent sequins. The bouffant skirt was of scalloped lace and net ruffles and her illusion veil was held by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of orchids on a white Bible.

Elaine Line of Auburn Heights was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Roberts of Keego Harbor, Carol Bowman and Julia Johnson of Auburn Heights.

All were dressed in ballerina length dresses of lace over taffeta with matching chiffon panels and picture hats. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations.

Flower girl, Joyce Ann Shepard wore a white lace over taffeta ballerina length gown and a wreath of carnations. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Dennis Arft was best man. Ushers were Thomas Neighbors, Alfred Miller and Myron McLane. Thomas R. Shepard was ringbearer.

MRS. E. J. ROMER JR.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Before leaving for a honeymoon through northern Michigan, the bride changed to an orchid colored sheath with a matching jacket and white accessories. The couple will make their home at Ft. Knox, Ky., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Air Force.

Mrs. Shepard wore a dress of blue organza over taffeta and Mrs. Romer was dressed in navy blue lace. Both had orchid corsages.

SPEAKING of BEAUTY
donnell says:

HAS YOUR HAIR lost its sparkle Is it dull, lifeless, frizzy, dry, brittle? Have you tried home remedies without success? Have you asked yourself, "Is there a lotion or treatment that will revive my hair?" My answer to you is a capital YES!

o-o

First of all, what happens to your hair when it has been sun-broiled, over-bleached, wind dried, abused with faulty home permanents or just plain neglected? Let's try a one-minute experiment.

o-o

Maybe your hair isn't damaged or abused. Do you need these treatments? As an extra precaution you owe it to yourself and your hair to protect it now against the summer days ahead from sun-broiling and wind drying.

o-o

A hair conditioning treatment will brighten your hair with new lustre and life. Its natural color returns with new highlights. Gradually the neglected hair becomes easier to accept a permanent wave or a tint.

o-o

In fact hair conditioning treatment is a must before any hair service. Your hair will hold its set better and longer. Drop in and see us this week or sooner if possible. Call us for an appointment. We can help you and your hair.

From under the dryer:
The average man is proof that the average woman can take a joke.

Staying Young Is More Than Looks

By RUTH MILLETT

She is doing everything a woman can do to keep herself looking younger than her years. She spends hours in a beauty shop getting her hair tinted and set in a soft, becoming style.

She shops tirelessly for clothes, in an effort to find what is just right for her.

She goes regularly three times a week to an exercise class to keep her figure trim and graceful.

But she hasn't a young idea or attitude or interest to match the "young" look she works so hard to keep.

She won't go fishing with her husband because the sun is hard on her complexion.

She has no real interests of her own—so gossip is her chief topic of conversation. She spends hours each week on the telephone gathering and passing along the latest tidbits.

She is afraid to try anything new.

She sees the small group of friends, week after week and year after year. She hasn't time for or any interest in newcomers.

Her mouth turns down, instead of up. There's so much that annoys her. So many things she disapproves of.

So, though she doesn't know it, her efforts to stay young are wasted because she only "looks" young, she doesn't seem young.

While it is a good thing for a woman to look as young as she feels and acts and thinks, it is a waste of time and effort for her to try to look young if she is going to act old.

Have You Tried This?
Spiced Currant Relish Perfect Foil for Meat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

The currant season is such a short one that we should take advantage of it. How about making some Spiced Currant Relish to serve next winter with meat.

Today's cook is Mrs. Royce Ziegler. She obtained this recipe from her mother. She herself is the mother of three small boys. An occasional stint of modeling keeps her active in the world of fashion.

SPICED CURRANT RELISH
By Mrs. Royce Ziegler

Clean and stem 2 quarts of ripe red currants. Put in saucepan and add ¼ cup water, ¼ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon cloves and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Bring to a boil; allow to simmer 10 minutes, covered.

Measure 6 cups of above mixture into large saucepan. Add 1 package powdered fruit pectin. Mix well. Place over high heat until it comes to hard boil, stirring constantly. At once add 7 cups sugar.

Remove from heat. Stir and skim alternately for 5 minutes. Ladle at once into jelly glasses. Cover immediately with ⅛-inch hot paraffin. Makes about 13 glasses (6 ounces).

Washing Time

Automatic washers and synthetic fabrics make washday easier.

But for top results allow two to four minutes' washing time for delicate things and four to six minutes for sturdier items. Remove water with a slow spin for shortened final spin time.

For Pink Cheeks

Cold cream and ice water can bring the roses back to your cheeks. Soak a washcloth in ice water, wring it out. Then hold it against your face. Follow this with a generous amount of cold cream. Massage your face with the cream for about a minute before removing the cream with tissues.

Patricia McMahon Wed in St. Vincent Ceremony

Vases of blue and white delphiniums banked the altar of St. Vincent de Paul Church for the Saturday morning wedding of Patricia A. McMahon and William L. Zurbriggen Jr. The Rev. Fabian K. Weber officiated at the Nuptial High Mass before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McMahon of Judson street and Mr. and Mrs. William L. Zurbriggen of Crown Point, Ind.

The bride's waltz-length gown featured an Alencon lace bodice with a Sabrina neckline and a nylon organza skirt with a matching sash at the waist. Her elbow-length veil was held by a scalloped cloche trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls, and she wore a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Susan McMahon was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Gladys Lauerman of Crown Point, Ind. Both wore waltz-length dresses of powder blue nylon sheer over taffeta with scoop necklines and flared skirts. Their matching headpieces were of nylon braid and the veils were trimmed with pearls. They carried pink roses and white carnations in baskets.

A reception was held at Pontiac Country Club. Before leaving for a honeymoon to Magnolia Springs, Ala., the bride changed to a dusty pink linen suit with navy accessories.

The bride attended Mercy College of Nursing and the bridegroom attended Purdue University.

Mrs. McMahon wore a royal blue shantung dress with white accessories, and Mrs. Zurbriggen wore a pink silk embroidered sheath with white accessories. Both had pink rose corsages.

Water-Pranking Gets Princess Royal Spanking

LONDON (AP)—A Zulu rincess got a spanking Tuesday night for showering cups of water on bowler hatted London businessmen.

Princess Elizabeth Alexandra Agatha Dinizulu is 6 years old. Tuesday she was bored.

She looked out the window of her mother's second-story apartment in fashionable Jermyn Street and saw someone watering a windowbox.

The princess decided to do the same. But her window sill held only a solitary plant in a solitary pot.

Startled businessmen got drenched, looked up, encountered a melon-slice grin, hurried away. A crowd gathered on the other side of the street.

Two policemen arrived, hammered on the door and pleaded with her highness to desist. But she kept emptying her cup tirelessly.

Finally someone remembered Elizabeth's mother, 6-foot Princess Alexandra Albertini Palmer Dinizulu, was with her attorneys at the law courts. A phone call, and mother hurried home by cab, ending her daughter's five hours of fun.

Elizabeth will get a little spanking," Princess Alexandra announced.

If you're fond of flowered hats, keep them small. The large flowered hat tends to overwhelm any woman, even a tall one.

BROWN HAIR

If you answer the question of hair color with just plain brown . . . how uninteresting it makes you feel! It sounds like next to no color at all. Nothing stimulating . . . like jet, auburn or red. Yet, all you have to do to achieve a personality of color is to add or subtract enough of the brown to have a real live shade.

Hair coloring is no longer taboo, and with a bit of caution, we're all for it. Do follow the patch test method, the directions of your preparation, or call us for professional advice.

NO DOLLAR PROTECTED BY FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN INSURANCE CORPORATION WAS EVER LOST TO A SAVER

Celebrating 25th year of service

The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, a permanent agency of the U.S. Government, was created by Act of Congress in June, 1934. Today this system protects and insures more than 55 billion dollars of savings in the nation's 3,900 FSLIC-Insured Savings and Loan Associations. In complete safety you can invest your cash reserves and earn the above-average returns offered by these specialized savings associations.

YOUR SAVINGS ACCOUNT IS INSURED AGAINST ALL LOSS UP TO $10,000

Larger sums may be fully insured through the use of joint tenancy and trust accounts. You pay no fees for FSLIC insurance. Your association pays insurance premiums.

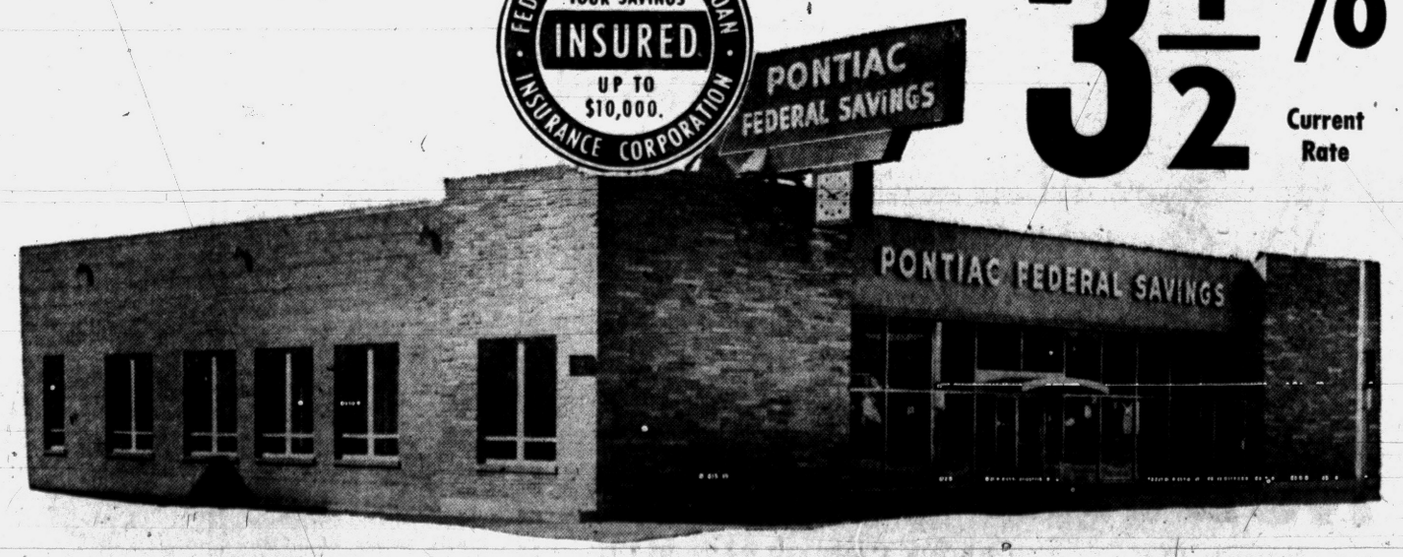

EARN AN ABOVE-AVERAGE YIELD WITHOUT SPECULATIVE RISK

You enjoy peace of mind when you know that the principal of your investment is ready to meet any emergency any time; it's always free from market fluctuations.

MORE THAN 18 MILLION DOLLARS OF SAVERS' FUNDS . . .

. . . are safeguarded and employed by Pontiac Federal Savings. Open your Insured Savings Account by July 10th and share in a full six months' earnings next December.

$243,514.28 in earnings was paid by Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Association on June 30th for the first six months of 1959.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Hal Boyle Says:

Seen Any Interesting Diseases Lately, Doc?

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that doctors get tired of hearing—or overhearing:

"Boy, I wish I was a doctor—and could park anywhere I wanted to without getting a ticket."

BOYLE

"While you're here, Doc, would you mind looking at our collie? The poor dear has got the sniffles."

"Seen any interesting diseases lately, Doc?"

"They say he's so rich now he hides his money in the crotches of trees."

"In other words, Doc, what you mean is—you're just guessing."

"Maybe I should have come sooner, but I've never had much use for doctors."

"Where do you get those old magazines in your waiting room—from the Salvation Army?"

"Not that I'm dissatisfied in any way, Doc, but what's the name of the physician you go to when you get sick yourself?"

"My cleaning woman says vinegar and honey are better than—."

"I want some pills just like the ones you gave Mrs. Taylor—the ones that look like pumpkin seeds."

"All I asked you is a simple question — will it be a boy or girl?"

"The word's going around town, Doc, that you have been playing poker with the undertaker."

"That's funny, Doc. The pain went away the minute I stepped into your office."

"I know you don't like to talk shop at a social gathering, Doc, but lately I been seeing spots in front of my eyes, and I wondered if you—."

"But you smoke like a chimney yourself, Doc."

"Is it true that you doctors save the best medicine for yourselves?"

"My husband says I should always pay you by check."

"Never mind the examination, Doc. Just shoot me full of penicillin, and I'll be on my merry way."

"You mean you want me to take off all my clothes?"

"I just want to pay for the operation, Doc. I don't want to buy the hospital a new wing."

"How could it be gallstones? We've never had gallstones in our family."

"Gee, Doc, you got cold hands."

"That's funny. I went to Dr. Zilch yesterday, and he said it was something else. Don't you fellows read the same books?"

"They talk a lot about the old family doctor, but the only place you can see one is in the movies."

"The best place to get sick is at the Country Club. You can find more doctors there than you can at Bellevue."

"What do you mean, I ought to cut down? I had an uncle who drank a quart of bourbon every day, lived to be 104 and never went to a doctor in his life."

"We'd like to pay you, Doc, but frankly, we had to send Roger to this expensive prep school and——"

"They were viruses last year, Doc. What are you guys calling them this year?"

"Don't you get bored with having people stick out their tongues and say-a-a-ah? Why don't you ask them to say Mississippi?"

"I'm sending this to you on account, Doc—on account of it's all I got to send."

West Side President Resigns

Tennis Club Governors Claim No Color Barrier

NEW YORK (AP)—The governors of the fashionable West Side Tennis Club say they would give "courteous and prompt attention" to a membership application by Dr. Ralph J. Bunche or his 15-year-old son Ralph Jr.

The governors have accepted the resignation of the club president, who told Bunche that he and his son were not eligible for membership because they are Negroes.

A statement by the governors Tuesday also said "it is the policy of the club to consider and accept members without regard to race, creed or color."

Bunche, a winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, said there seemed to be no immediate likelihood that he or his son would apply for membership.

Bunche, United Nations under secretary for special political affairs, announced recently he had been barred from the club, in the Forest Hills section of Queens.

He said he had been told by Wilfred Burglund, the club president, when he inquired about membership for his son, that the club did not accept Negroes or Jews. Bunche's announcement set up a storm of protest.

Several senators and city officials announced they would request that the Davis Cup matches, scheduled at the club next month, and the national championships, due to be held there in September, be held elsewhere.

The statement by the club governors said Burglund's resignation had been accepted to avoid further embarrassment.

Bunche said: "It was certainly a complete and clear statement. Had any such statement been made to me at the time I made my inquiry, there would not have been any West Side Tennis Club story."

The statement by the governors said the club now has members of "oriental and other ancestry and there is a representation of the Jewish faith among the membership."

"To the best of our knowledge," the directors said, "no Negro has ever applied for membership."

The statement called Burgland's remarks to Bunche "personal opinions of one individual to another," It added: "Some of these reported opinions are contrary to opinions and beliefs of the board of governors and other club members."

1st Nuclear Cruiser Gets Champagne Bop

QUINCY, MASS (AP)—The United States' first nuclear-powered cruiser, which will cost 250 million dollars, Tuesday was christened the USS Long Beach.

To be equipped with both the long and short range Talos and advanced Terrier missiles, it is expected to be virtually impregnable to supersonic air attack.

The 14,000-ton, 721 foot ship will be equipped for anti-submarine warfare.

And its power plant will include two nuclear reactors, each larger than the single reactor driving the atomic submarine Nautilus.

Just before Mrs. Craig Hosmer, wife of U.S. Rep. Hosmer of Long Beach, Calif., shattered a bottle of champagne on the bow of the big ship—where it was floated in a huge construction basin—Atomic Energy Commissioner Harold S. Vance hailed the Navy's nuclear power conversion progress.

Sturgis Phone Users to Get Dial Service

STURGIS (UPI) — General Telephone Co. has announced that dial telephone service in Sturgis will start about Dec. 20.

General officials said they hope to complete the changeover of equipment by Nov. 6 and will move into their new building, now 90 per cent completed, in the near future. Dial telephones are now being installed in all Sturgis homes, they added.

Panama Canal 'Invasion' Eyed

PANAMA (AP) — Two opposition political leaders have sounded a call for a peaceful symbolic occupation of the Panama Canal Zone when this country observes Independence Day Nov. 3.

The proposal was made by former Foreign Minister Aquilino Boyd and Ernesto Castillero Pimentel, who were the first to demand that the United States give Panama half the gross proceeds from operation of the canal.

Boyd first broached the occupation idea in a broadcast. He said Panamanians should place the national flag through out the Canal Zone Nov. 3.

This would be a repetition of "Operation Sovereignty" May 2, 1958, when university students put 50 Panamanian flags throughout the zone in what the Foreign Office called a symbolic act. The flags were quickly removed by police.

OAS to Try to Quell Unrest in Caribbean

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign ministers of the 21 American republics will meet soon — possibly in early August — seeking both to quell Caribbean unrest and to promote democratic principles.

They may name a watch-dog committee for the Caribbean, and move for stricter implementation of human rights.

The Council of the Organization of American States unanimously voted Monday to call the meeting.

The Dominican Republic requested OAS action after it was twice invaded by revolutionaries it said were backed by Cuba and Venezuela.

Professor Studies Naval Bases

In Antarctica, Cook Is King

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Antarctica is a weird world where the cook has higher social status than the scientist, work is prized and leisure feared, and a headache may mean you're an intellectual.

This is reported in naval research reviews by Dr. John H. Rohrer, who had two trips to Antarctica and visited seven bases to see how men adjust to isolation in the "cold, unfriendly continent."

Rohrer, professor of psychology at the Georgetown University School of Medicine, conducted his studies among civilian scientists and the navy personnel supporting their work.

He found that everybody arriving at Antarctica for the first time displayed anxiety "over not knowing what to expect." Work helped to alleviate this feeling and soon became "the most meaningful of the social roles that the isolated men have," he said.

Some men actually scrounged for more work to keep them busy longer. Since the amount of work that can be done is sharply limited by cold and darkness in the Antarctic winter, "signs of depression appear" in that season.

Some men can sleep only an hour or so a day. Others "return to an infantile way of living" and sleep 18 hours a day. Everybody becomes more irritable. Leisure begets boredom.

For some, the season is marked by a jump in the number of headaches they have.

"The group most bothered by the headaches are, for the most part," Rohre rsaid, "the intellectuals — the scientists as well as some of the navy men who work on jobs largely of an intellectual nature and who had, generally speaking, at least two or three years of college work."

Men in Antarctica have been forced by their isolation and the conditions of life to give up most of the "social gratifications" they enjoyed back home. This enhances the value of those gratifications, such as eating, which are left to them.

"The values attached to work roles in the Antarctic are organized somewhat differently from those at most places in the United States," Rohrer said.

"For example, the cook, who is directly related to one of the few socially approved gratifications permitted the men, achieves far higher social placement within the group than do the scientists who are making the observations.

"The radio operator, who maintains contact with the world outside the camp, is held in similar esteem."

Few men actually have gone off their rockers while on duty in Antarctica. Rohrer attributes this to psychiatric screening given to both civilians and navy men volunteering for a year of duty "on the ice."

Of 700 men who had undergone such examination before going to Antarctica, Rohrer said, only six had to be sent out for psychiatric reasons.

New Housing Bill Filed to Meet Ike's Objections

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans Monday introduced a new housing bill to carry out President Eisenhower's urban renewal and college housing programs and to continue FHA's ability to insure home mortgages.

Total loans and grants would be limited to 810 million dollars.

The bill omits public housing projects, housing for the elderly, college classroom loans and other features which prompted Eisenhower to veto the $1,375,000,000 housing bill passed by Congress last month. Eisenhower termed that legislation extravagant and inflationary.

Reps. Gordon L. McDonough (R-Calif) and William B. Widnall (R-NJ), called the new bill "within sound budgetary limitations."

The measure calls for a two-year urban renewal and slum elimination program; would provide 200 million dollars for college housing loans; 10 million for urban planning assistance; and an immediate authorization of five billion dollars for FHA mortgage insurance, plus an additional five billions later.

It would increase the mortgage ceiling on single-family homes to $25,000, raise the interest rate on rental and cooperative management housing to 5½ per cent, and on cooperative sales housing to 6 per cent.

The world merchant marine fleet grew by 7,787,650 tons in 1958 according to Loyd's Register of Shipping, which said this was the largest annual increase since 1948.

Cuban President Accuses Reds

Urrutia Claims They Plot Treason; Castro's Regime in Struggle

It added up to new trouble for the regime already beset by dissension in the armed forces and national police and threatened by "counter-revolutionary" conspiracies being uncovered throughout the country.

Urrutia, who has been seething quietly at Communist tactics in Cuba since the Castro revolution succeeded Jan. 1, went on television to denounce the which had criticized him. He Communist newspaper Hoy labeled it a "Soviet instrument in the cold war."

Urrutia said the Communists were doing "horrible damage to Cuba. . . trying to create a second front against the United States and in favor of Russia."

His words were by far the harshest anyone in the Castro regime has used against the Communists. Premier Castro himself has refused to condemn them, saying only that he welcomed anyone who worked for his revolution.

Lard Frees Gardener Stuck in Cattle Guard

TUBAC, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Eldridge, 60-year-old gardener, was running to catch a bus when his leg slipped between the rails of a cattle guard.

Friends pulled, pushed and pried, but the leg remained stuck. Sheriff's Deputy Abe Trujillo arrived with a can of lard. He applied it liberally, worked the leg up and down a few times, then pulled it free.

Customer Was a Heel

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Stanley F. Plante, 35, was jailed after he allegedly tried to rob a shoe salesman who had sold him a pair of shoes earlier in the day.

Wonder What Will Hatch

STEELEVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—Herman Dieckhoff thinks an ostrich may have slipped into his hen house. He found an egg weighing a half a pound. It measures 8¼ inches around the middle and 8¾ inches the long way.

The 21st verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra in the Bible contains every letter of the alphabet.

milk is the only practical source of calcium

Recent nutrition research studies reveal that millions of Americans, regardless of income, are getting less than the minimum daily amount of calcium recommended by the National Research Council.

How calcium starvation affects you.

Lack of calcium in the diet has a slow degenerating affect which may remain hidden for years. It can result in: Premature wrinkles and "leathery" skin that add years to your appearance. Excessive irritability, tense frayed nerves. Shorter "prime of life" that reduces your span of active, vigorous years. Lack of calcium can also cause improper functioning of heart muscles. And when your diet does not supply sufficient calcium for daily needs, the body withdraws calcium from the bones for use in the blood and soft tissues. This causes bones to become brittle—easily broken—especially among older people.

How much calcium do you need?

National Research Council recommends 800 milligrams of calcium daily for adults, 1000 to 1400 milligrams of calcium daily for children, depending upon their age. This is the amount of calcium supplied by three to five glasses of milk.

Most foods supply only slight amounts of calcium.

In order to get the calcium provided by 1 quart of milk you would have to eat: 7½ lbs. of carrots, 39 eggs, 27 lbs. of potatoes, 28 oranges or 6¾ lbs. of cabbage. Milk is the only practical source of calcium.

How much milk should you drink to get the calcium you need?

Children (up to age 12)	3 glasses daily
Teen-agers (age 13 to 19)	4 glasses daily
Adults (age 20 and over)	3 glasses daily
Expectant mothers	4 glasses daily
Nursing mothers	6 glasses daily

Why milk is nature's most nearly perfect food.

In addition to calcium, milk contains more of the essential nutrients—including proteins, vitamins and minerals—than any other food. Far from being fattening, milk is recommended for reducing diets because it supplies more nourishment per calorie than other foods. Whole, fresh milk also supplies more nourishment per dollar than other foods. From the standpoint of nutritional value, nutritional balance and simple economy, milk is nature's most nearly perfect food.

Black Panther Reported Seen Roaming County

5 Calls Received on Mystery 'Cat'

South Oakland Police Search Fails to Reveal Trace of Animal

Oakland County's mysterious "black panther" was reportedly sighted again last night by several area residents — this time in the southern part of the county.

Excited residents kept police of five south Oakland County communities busy from about midnight until 5 a.m. today hunting for an animal variously described as a lion, tiger or panther. All reports said the large feline looked black when seen by moonlight.

Patrolman Dennis McWilliams of the Berkley Police Dept. said the turmoil started a little after midnight when a resident called saying that a large cat-like animal was seen running down Columbia road in Berkley.

McWilliams said the first call was ignored as a prank. But when four other similar calls from different parts of the city followed, two patrol cars were dispatched to the vicinity of Buckingham, Beverly, Edwards, Greenfield and Elwood streets.

They were joined by two squad cars from the Southfield Police Station where five "panther" calls had been received, and another squad car from Huntington Woods, where two calls were received by police.

Patrol cars from the Royal Oak and Oak Park Police departments also were dispatched to aid in the search though no reports were received in either places.

SEARCH ALL NIGHT

The police cavalcade was joined by a number of carloads of excited residents. They searched for the "big cat" until 5 a.m. today winding up the hunt in the Roseland Cemetery in Berkley on Woodward avenue.

Ground, bone-dry from the current drought, failed to produce any paw prints though the searchers went over it inch by inch.

Reports of a "black panther" have been recorded in north Oakland County periodically over the past 12 years.

Although experts have disputed the credibility of witnesses, the theory has been offered that such an animal might have escaped many years ago from a circus troupe passing through, or that someone might have brought such an animal back as a cub from a trip to a natural habitant of such felines.

2ND THEORY

The second theory introduces the possibility that if such an animal was introduced to the county, it could have escaped and the owners failed to report their loss for fear of criminal action.

Past reports of a "black panther" roaming the countryside originated in the Leonard, Oxford Township and Romeo areas. "Eye-witnesses" in some cases said they got a good look at the animal crossing fields and jumping fences during broad daylight.

After one report in the Romeo area last August, conservation officers and State Police found paw prints measuring 5 x 5½ inches.

According to Trooper Orville Dalman of the Romeo post at the time, "It was a big animal. Six people saw it and it sounds like the truth." These people all called it a "black panther."

Farmers in Oakland County claim that this explains the widespread slaughter of animals, both domestic and wild, which has occurred in the area over the past 12 years. But until the "black panther" is caught it must remain a mystery.

Board Reviews Two Complaints at Meet

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Two complaints from local residents were reviewed at last night's board meeting.

The board promised persons living on Gunn and Buhl roads that letters of complaint would be written to owners of gravel trucks which traveled those roads.

Another letter will be written to the owners of the Pontiac-Orion Dump complaining of the smoke nuisance.

The board also will investigate possibilities of appointing its own plumbing inspector according to the State Plumbing Code.

By DENNIS DINAN

OXFORD — The dean of the Oakland County Bar Assn., Robert Corbit, is 88 today, and his shingle still hangs in the window of his home at 111 S. Washington Ave.

Corbit has been practicing law for 58 healthy years, since he graduated from the University of Michigan in 1901. "Only" 45 of those years have been spent in Oxford where he moved from Wyoming, Iowa.

It seems his vivid experiences don't stem from law practice, he says his practice has been largely in Probate Court — "not much litigation there," he explained. What the county's oldest attorney remembers is his youth in Iowa. In fact he remembers it so well that he wrote a book on it.

To call it a "book" would be unjust. Cyclopedia would be more apt. The hefty volume contains a scholarly 742 pages, pictures included. In the hand, it feels like five pounds.

The subject is Jones County, Iowa, and while gazing at the history Mr. Corbit commented, "It was one whale of a job. It took me six months to write it, and I have often wondered how I had the courage to undertake such a thing. I wouldn't even consider it now."

Those expecting a text book would be rudely surprised. Corbit's historical study describes newspapers, horse racing, political issues, and even members of fire companies.

What perhaps pleased Corbit most was when he journeyed back to Jones County in 1955 for the centennial and recognized 75 of his old friends, by count. "I thought it was most remarkable," he said.

Corbit and his wife Helen live in her father's home, built in 1875. Their one son, Clarence, lives in Birmingham, Alabama, and has provided them with two grandchildren.

He met his wife at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, while waiting on tables. She was at one of the tables. He came to U. of M. from Lenox College in Iowa. It seems there was a little trouble at Lenox.

Corbit told how he beat the defending debate champion who apparently didn't take defeat too easily. He said the dethroned champ became quite jealous and finally Corbit told him to "jump in the lake" and left for Michigan.

Asked if he had any retirement plans, Corbit said, "I haven't officially retired but I'm not doing as much as I used to. The doc just gave me a checkup and could not find anything wrong. I think he's sort of proud of me. I'm 88 you know."

Lathrup Village Can Still Prohibit Gasoline Stations

LATHRUP VILLAGE — Oakland County H. Russel Holland has refused to issue a writ of mandamus ordering the city of Lathrup Village to grant a building permit for a gas station.

In 1955 the Socony Mobil Oil Company, Inc. brought suit against the city requesting the writ so as to build a gas station on the northeast corner of Southfield road and Sunnybrook avenue.

In question was whether or not the city had on its book a zoning ordinance, regulating commercial construction, when the company petitioned for a building permit. Judge Holland ruled it hadn't.

However, Judge Holland upheld the city's right to prohibit gasoline stations within its limits. The city has only one, but many just outside.

"The exclusion of gas stations in the defendant city is reasonable and valid under the circumstances of this case," the judge ruled in denying the writ of mandamus.

Orion Club Sets Picnic for Area Republicans

The Orion Republican Club will hold a picnic Saturday, 5:30 p.m., at the Bald Mountain Recreation Area for Oakland, Addison, Oxford and Pontiac Township Republicans.

Representative Alvin M. Bently, of Owosso, will address the gathering.

The public in advised to bring eating utensils. The recreation area is south of Greenshield road and east of Bald Mountain road.

Oxford to Buy Cook Property

Desires Site for New Civic Center to House Community Offices

OXFORD — The village council decided to pick up the option to purchase the Cook property located at 22 W. Burdick St. for $15,250 last night in a regular meeting.

Terms of payment provide for $3,000 down and the rest over a four-year period. According to present plans, the proposed center will house the township and village offices, the police and fire departments, and later a library and community hall.

Also at last night's meeting the council told residents living on Cottage court that water mains will be installed after the street is dedicated to the village.

At a public hearing prior to the regular meeting one zoning amendment was passed. It places a distance limitation of 500 feet between filling stations and public buildings and 750 feet between stations.

Another proposed amendment setting the minimum depth of a front yard in Commercial I district at 15 feet was turned down for further study.

Carol Vanderwerp Wed in Florida Ceremony

ORTONVILLE — Residing in Lakehurst, N. J., are newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eugene Burnett. He is stationed with the U.S. Navy in Lakehurst. The couple were married recently at the Church - by - the - Sea, Madeira Beach, Fla., with the Rev. W. Fred Campbell officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

MRS. CHARLES E. BURNETT

Parents of the bride, the former Carol Janice Vanderwerp, are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Edward Vanderwerp of 250 Mill St., here. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Eugene Burnett of Madeira Beach, Fla.

The bride was gowned in white embroidered organza over bridal taffeta. Her intermission-length skirt was scalloped into a sweep train and the fitted bodice was accented by a satin band in back with a tailored bow and streamers.

The gown also featured a portrait neckline and cap sleeves. A queen's crown of tulle with seed pearls secured the bride's fingertip veil of English illusion and she carried a white Bible and cascade of white delphinium centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Douglas Brandt of West Palm Beach served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Vanderwerp, sister-in-law of the bride, Carol Abbott and Janet Gillespie. Myra Jane Redington was flower girl.

Mr. Burnett served as best man for his son. Ushers were Russell Whitehurst of Tampa, Fla., James Vanderwerp of Madeira Beach, Fla., and Ivan Westerby of Ortonville.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony.

Dublin School Area Voters OK Tax Hike

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Voters in the Dublin School District of White Lake Township have approved an 8-mill increase for normal operating expenses, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, school superintendent, announced yesterday.

This raises the total levy for operating expenses to 23.38 mills, and the total school tax in the district to 26 mills. It previously stood at 23 mills, constituting an overall increase of 3 mills.

The 1.62 mills of the total levy not accounted for in operating millage goes toward debt retirement, which is on a diminishing scale.

The operating millage increase was approved by only three votes. Of the total 307 votes cast, there were 150 "yes," 147 "no" and 2 void ballots.

Wasp Stings Fatal

MOUNT AIRY, N.C. (AP) — A Caa, Va., farmer, stung several times on the head and face Tuesday by wasps was dead on arrival at a hospital here. The Victim, Isaac Arlis Jones, 37, disturbed the wasp nest while plowing.

Muscovites Beat Heat

MOSCOW (AP) — It was only 79 degrees in Moscow Monday but the citizens of the capital thought it was hot. Pravda said today that Muscovites downed 100 tons of ice cream. The normal summer's day consumption is 60 tons.

MARY M. BECKER

An October wedding is planned by Mary Margaret Becker and John J. Holt. The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Becker of 11051 S. State Rd., Ortonville, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Holt of 9472 Ridge Rd., Goodrich.

One of the inventions patented in 1958 was a long-range projector to place advertising and other such images on clouds, banks of smog and on mountains.

Newlyweds on Boating Honeymoon

ROCHESTER — Touring the upper Michigan lakes with their boat, Mr. and Mrs. Curnell A. Stanger plan to reside at 2621 Galpin St., Royal Oak, following their honeymoon.

Members of the immediate families and close friends attended the couple's wedding at St. Andrew Catholic Church here. The Rev. Edward Popielarz officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, the former Jeanne Marie MacLeod, is the daughter of Mrs. Edna MacLeod of 643 John R here and the late Alex P. MacLeod. The bridegroom, of Royal Oak, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Koscky of Otsego.

Jeanne chose a street-length gown of white nylon lace over taffeta, featuring a V-neckline, cap sleeves, an empire waistline adorned with three velvet bows, and a bouffant skirt. Her bouquet was of white roses and pick carnations.

Mrs. David Freeborn attended her sister as matron of honor with Susan, Theresa and Diane Freeborn of Rochester, Margaret and Susan Stanger of Royal Oak, and Judith MacLeod of Warren serving as flower girls. Jack Stanger of Royal Oak attended the bridegroom as best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

Would Need Farmers to Survive Attack

"This nation cannot survive and recover from attack without its farmers."

This statement was made today by Civil and Defense Director Leo A. Hoegh at Battle Creek in conjunction with the announcement of Farm Safety Week, July 19-25.

"Rural America has always carried a heavy burden in times of national emergency. In this nuclear age it is more important than ever before," Hoegh added.

He urged every farm family "no matter how remote it may be from a target, to build a family fallout shelter."

Free plans and designs of a suitable shelter can be obtained by writing the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization Rural Civil Defense, Battle Creek.

Ferndale Man Heads March of Dimes Drive

A Ferndale businessman has been appointed Oakland County campaign director for the Emergency Appeal of the March of Dimes to be held Aug. 1 to Aug. 25.

Ernest Goldsworthy immediately issued a call for volunteers to help with the special drive for $70,000.

"The polio emergency drive is necessary because the polio burden from past years is greater in this area," says Goldworthy.

They said they found such a bottle on the hillside where a resident, John Barnes, saw the first puff of smoke of the disastrous fire. The temperature was over 100 at the time, and the hill grass had been dried by a long hot spell.

If Rain Comes in Critical Weeks

State Heads for Big Corn Crop

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan is headed for another record corn crop this year if rain comes in the critical weeks ahead.

But last year's record per-acre yield of 56 bushels isn't expected to be duplicated, said A. J. Hintzman, agricultural statistician for the Michigan Agriculture Department.

Department experts forecast an overall record crop of 116,532,000 bushels for the year, about 10 per cent higher than last year's record production of 106,344,000 bushels.

While a higher total harvest is expected, the per-acre yield will be down from the record of 56 to about 52, Hintzman said.

Primary cause of the expected new total production mark is that Michigan farmers have planted a record acreage, putting about 2,241,000 acres in corn, compared to last year's acreage of 1,899,000.

The reason for this rash of planting is that the U.S. government lifted planting controls.

This removal of controls is expected to boost the national corn crop to 4,224,450,000 bushels—another record.

However, a drop in oats, barley and sorghum was expected to keep the total feed grain output down.

Michigan's anticipated record total harvest would put farmers over the 100-million bushel mark for only the third time, Hintzman said.

In 1956, total production came to 102,204,000, the first time the million-bushel level was snapped, and last year's harvest went over the mark by about 6,000,000 bushels.

Hintzman said removal of the planting controls shifted acreage used for other crops "in a big way."

"Corn looks like a good profit crop for farmers this year," Hintzman said, "but July and August are the critical months."

"Any rain would be an improvement now but it's needed soon."

Even with a heavy corn production, prices aren't expected to suffer much, according to Hintzman, because supports are still in effect.

But if bad weather results in a lot of soft corn, unsuitable for storage, price pinches could be felt.

This "pressure on prices," Hintzman said, could come if much corn could not meet the quality requirements necessary to be eligible for price support.

Says Confusion Exists in State Jobless Pay

LANSING (UPI)—A state of "complete confusion" exists on whether or not it is too late to extend jobless benefits to some 28,000 Michigan workers, Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) said last night.

Smeekens, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, made the statement shortly after he returned from a four-day trip to Washington to see if Michigan still has time to take advantage of federal action extending temporary unemployment compensation benefits.

Ginger Supplies Oriental Touch

Here's a peach of a ham recipe to take the work out of summer menus! It's tangy Smoked Butt Orientale, delicious and, oh, so easy to fix.

All you need to make it is a boneless smoked pork shoulder butt, 6 peach wedges (from a can), ¼ cup chopped candied ginger, a piece of aluminum foil, and an hour.

Remove the butt from its protective casing and cut serving slices ¾ of the way through the meat. Insert the peach wedges, garnish with chopped ginger, wrap it in aluminum foil, and put it in the oven at 325 degrees F. After half an hour, fold back the foil so the meat may brown, and then continue cooking for another half hour. It's just as simple as that!

Ham probably is the easiest of all meats to cook, so it's especially good for new brides, working girls, busy homemakers, and those of us who just love to take things a little easier in the kitchen now that the weather's so nice.

Ham is easy to buy now, too, because there are so many fine brands on the market. The best way to be sure of getting a good one—not too salty and not too dry—is to pick an advertised brand pork shoulder butt that is vacuum-sealed in Cryovac.

If you should have any leftovers from Smoked Butt Orientale, you'll find they're delicious in macaroni dishes, scalloped potatoes, omelets, etc., and make wonderful midnight snacks.

COFFEE CHARLOTTE — Dad will tell you that this dessert is almost a New Orleans special because it's sweet and rich, with plenty of coffee flavor. It's a combination of marshmallows, whipped cream, and instant coffee, layered into a serving dish with ladyfingers. A minute-saver, too, you make it ahead and then park it in the refrigerator until serving time.

Protein Drink Includes Dry Milk, Molasses

A double-strength protein drink calls for adding nonfat dry milk to fluid milk. To give the beverage an interesting taffy flavor and additional iron, stir in some unsulphured molasses.

To have a supply on hand, shake together 1 cup of nonfat dry milk, a quart of fluid milk, and 3 to 4 tablespoons of unsulphured molasses. Shake untill beverage is light and frothy and the dry milk has dissolved. Store in refrigerator for instant use.

Tasting Party

NEW YORK (UPI) — To introduce a new vegetable to the young child, try a "tasting party." Offer a small portion of the new vegetable at about two week intervals. The child will enjoy this game of "developing a taste" for the unfamiliar offering.

Instant Coffee Flavors Lady Finger Dessert

Poets and songwriters the world around have extolled the merits of coffee ever since it was first sipped by the Arabs in 1470 during religious ceremonies. Today, five centuries later, it has become not only a symbol of hospitality as a beverage, but one of our most popular recipe ingredients as well.

In our modern-day space age, the wise homemaker takes advantage of all the convenience foods on the market to help her prepare tempting, flavor-packed dishes quickly and easily. High on her list of favorites is instant coffee, for it's ready to drink or add to a recipe in an "instant."

Although the flavor of instant coffee is reminiscent of bygone days, there's nothing old-fashioned about the ease and speed with which you can turn it into an applause-winning dessert. We give you one example below which is a combination of cake and coffee at the same time. Called Coffee Charlotte Squares, it's smooth and sweet, with the hearty flavor of coffee in every spoonful.

Melted marshmallows are first combined with instant coffee and whipped cream, then layered into a serving dish with soft, chewy ladyfingers. It sounds fancy, but it's easy to prepare and you can make it ahead, then tuck it away in the refrigerator to mellow until refreshment time. Count on small servings for it's rich—and a pleasant way to end any meal!

Coffee Charlotte Squares

2 tablespoons instant coffee
1 cup hot water
½ pound (32) marshmallows, cut in eighths
1 cup cream, whipped
18 double ladyfingers

Dissolve instant coffee in hot water. Add cut marshmallows. Place over low heat and stir until the marshmallows are completely melted. Then chill until slightly thickened. Fold in whipped cream.

Separate ladyfingers; line bottom of shallow oblong serving dish. Cover with layers of coffee mixture and ladyfingers. Top with remaining coffee mixture. Chill 8 hours or overnight. Cut in squares. Serves 8 to 10.

A moderate (350 degrees) oven is the best temperature at which to roast loin of pork.

Better Pickles Will Be Result

CHICAGO (UPI)—Women across the country will can their own pickles and relishes this summer.

Whether sour or sweet, mild or highly seasoned, certainrules apply to all.

Choose a black spine cucumber. The cucumbers should be firm, small to medium in size, and used within 24 hours of picking.

Use enameled, glass, aluminum, stainless steel or stoneware utensils. Brass, copper, iron and galvanized kettles cause unattractive color changes in pickles, or react with the acid or salt to produce unwholesome substances.

Use pure dairy or pickling salt. If flake salt must be used, increase the measure by a scant one-half.

Use high-grade cider or white distilled vinegar of 40 to 60 per cent grain strength.

Use whole spices, fresh and of the best quality, unless the recipe specifies they should be ground. Tie them in a cloth so they can be removed before the pickles are canned. If left in too long, spices make the pickles dark and strong.

Seal the jars airtight while boiling hot, or process the jars in a waterbath canner long enough to destroy bacteria and molds.

Praise Relish of Grapefruit

You'll relish this tangy Grapefruit Relish! It does wonders for cold sliced ham, turkey and cold cuts, served so frequently during the summer months.

Planning a church picnic, fund-raising supper, reunion or club outing? Then you know that it is economical to buy whole hams and turkeys and large cuts of roast beef for slicing when serving a crowd. This Grapefruit Relish, (the ingredients can easily be multiplied to make large quantities) will enhance cold meats, and prevent summer menu monotony.

Canned Florida citrus products are one of summer's best food buys. Packed at the height of the fresh fruit season during the winter months, flavor and vitamin C are retained in juice and sections.

Canned grapefruit sections are low in cost yet high in convenience since they take up little shelf space, can be chilled just before serving time, and used straight from the can for breakfast, appetizer or dessert, combined with other fruits, or seasoned as in the following recipe:

Grapefruit Relish

1 can (1 pound) grapefruit sections
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 teaspoons instant onion
¼ teaspoon ginger

Combine all ingredients. Chill several hours. Serve with cold meat or poultry. 4 servings.

The comedienne Fannie Brice said that when she was first signed for "Ziefeld Follies" she wore out eight contracts in her first show—unfolding and folding them to show people. Her first "Follies" salary was $75 a week.

CANNED GRAPEFRUIT RELISH — Sections of tart canned grapefruit are combined with onion, vinegar, sugar and ginger to become a tasty relish. Serve it any time this summer with cold sliced ham or poultry.

Make Pretty Party Cakes From Store Angel Food

Small party cakes . . . With an angel food cake and your pastry tube, you can make adorable little party cakes with very little effort. To make 10 little cakes about one-inch deep and two-inches across, choose an eight-ounce packaged angel food cake from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. These cakes, made from cook book recipes, cut very easily.

Use a 1⅞-inch round cutter or a cheese spread glass or any round glass small enough to fit the cake will be just as good. Turn with a screw-like motion when cutting rounds, rather than pushing straight down on tender cake. Decorate with frosting or pastry tube designs.

Handle of 7th Lovett Must Rhyme

What's in a Name? Work!

TOKYO (UPI) — Jack Lovett, the U.S. Army sergeant who ran out of poetic inspiration after six children with rhyming names, was swamped with suggestions today for number seven.

The six other little Lovetts are Linda Fay, Larry Ray, Garry Jay, Glinda Kay, Brinda May and Winda Gay.

Lovett, of Alexandria, Va., is in Korea with the 6th medical depot. His wife is at her home in Whitesboro, Tex., waiting for number seven to arrive around October.

Together the Lovetts had no trouble finding names that would rhyme. Apart they just ran out of ideas. Lovett wrote to Stars and Stripes for help. These are some of the suggestions offered so far by readers:

And one poetic reader suggested that:

". . . (when) their FINAL babe is on the way
"Then they can call it—End O'Day."

Mt. Clemens Firm Moving to Manton

MANTON (UPI) — King Amusement Co. of Mt. Clemens, owners of three carnivals and manufacturers of carnival rides and equipment, has announced it will move its plant to this Wexford County community.

Construction will start soon on two buildings which will house the firm on a 10-acre site just south of the city. The firm employs 80 to 100 persons for nine months of the year.

Walter King, owner of the firm, said the carnival equipment and repair section will be located in the new buildings at first, but eventually all of the firm's operations will be moved here.

King's Mt. Clemens plant is located in an area designated to be leveled as part of an urban renewal project. Mt. Clemens has received a $3.5 million federal grant and King said he expects to come to an agreement soon on what the government will pay for his buildings in Mt. Clemens.

King said he has planned to move here for about a year. He said a large percentage of the malleable iron castings he uses are made by a Cadillac firm.

King also is in the Christmas tree business. He has about 2,000 acres of Christmas trees in Missaukee and Wexford counties.

Corrects Petition in Con-Con Fight

Former St. Clair Twp. Official Contends '48 Vote Was Misread

LANSING (AP) — A Port Huron attorney seeking a State Supreme Court order that would convene a constitutional convention filed a perfected petition with the court Tuesday.

The document made technical changes to one he filed last week.

Atty. Peter E. Bradt, acting in behalf of a former St. Clair Township official, Carl P. Stoliker, contends the State Canvassing Board misread results of a 1948 referendum on the issue.

The board interpretation was backed up the following year by a Supreme Court decision.

Bradt argues that the people ordered a convention to overhaul the constitution when a majority voting on the question approved the proposition in 1948. The same thing happened in 1958.

The canvassing board and the Supreme Court have held that approval of a con-con proposition requires the favorable vote of a majority of those voting at the election, a much stiffer requirement.

Bradt wants the Supreme Court to reverse its 1949 stand and order the canvassing board to certify that the con-con proposition carried in the preceding year.

The U.S. private and commercial truck fleet consists of some ten and a half million vehicles. Placed bumper to bumper, they would circle the earth.

School Problems in Detroit Shock U. of M. Professor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan professor who served as a consultant on a citizens group studying Detroit school problems says he was "overwhelmed" by the evidence of delinquency in the city's schools.

Howard Y. McCluskey, professor of education psychology, said some Detroit schools are shunned by teachers as "salt mines" because pupils are so difficult.

"I saw confidential statistics which would cause a revolution because the intelligence quotient of many children is so far below average," said McCluskey who served on the Detroit Citizens Advisory Committee. He said many children come from homes where there is no stable family life and where family relations are confused. "The street culture is very powerful," he said.

McCluskey criticized the city for building housing projects without considering the needs of children.

"It's fantastic how oblivious a city can be to human needs," McCluskey said. "How dumb can you be? Detroit has erected beautiful buildings towering to the sky without making any education or recreation provision for the children they house."

U.S. railroads employ a total of about 850,000 persons.

Spike Jones Hates It

Rock 'n' Roll Harmful

By JOE FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Spike Jones, compared by some music lovers to Atilla the Hun, says rock and roll is worse than anything he's ever recorded.

"It's pretty rough to make a record much funnier or worse than rock and roll singers do," he moaned.

"The raspberry sound effect we had in 'The Furher's Face' was better than those rock and roll singers who get gold records today for selling a million discs. And, that sound was the most vulgar ever recorded."

Sitting in his Moulin Rouge dressing room — equipped, by the way, with an oxygen tank and mask Spike is using to recuperate from a pneumonia attack — Jones said he feels rock and roll has done its best to ruin music.

"Recently I went to a composer's house to get permission to do a satire on 'I Only Have Eyes for You'," Jones said. "After receiving permission I went out to my car to go home.

"My car radio was on and I heard a rock and roll version of that beautiful standard much more harmful to the tune than anything I had in mind.

"I've never tried to ruin a tune," the back alley arranger insisted airily. "It would have been sacrilegious to wreck a beautiful song like 'Cocktails for Two' which was my biggest seller.

"I dont' think I've ever hurt the sale of a song's legitimate version," he claimed.

Spike's band contains the normal run of instruments plus such assorted music makers as gold plated cowbells, pistols, anvils, automobile horns, washboards and small cannons normally used for starting yacht races.

Probably the most unique musical instrument in history was invented by Jones when he took a toilet seat, laced it with strings and called it a "guitarlet."

Included in his orchestra is a pretty girl harpist who does nothing but sit on a rocking chair knitting a scarf.

He's gone through seven harpists and the girl is working on the second scarf — the first is 90 feet long.

"I can't find anybody big enough to wear that scarf so I've got it in a warehouse," the Spiker explained. "We just use the harp on picnics to slice hard boiled eggs.

"It sure is hard to find a girl harpist who knows how to play the instrument and will agree not to," he added ruefully.

Spike also had some remarks about the awarding of gold records to rock and roll singers he considers as opposition in the music wrecking business.

"Some of those rock and roll singers get one hit record and can't follow it up," he complained. "Then they have to go back to stealing hub caps."

Spike has been awarded a shellac record, honoring one of his renditions that sold only 500 copies, and six gold discs.

"I've only picked up one of those gold records," he said thoughtfully. "I'll go get the rest of them though. My kids are beginning to look at me kind of funny.

"They're starting to fluff me off in favor of Ricky Nelson," he said as he headed off to his band —and bedlam.

Atlantic Fares Will Be Increased

NEW YORK (UPI) — In-season passenger fares between the United States, Canada and Europe will be increased next year, it has been announced.

The Trans-Atlantic Passenger Steamship Conference, representing 26 steamship lines, said summer season minimum fares will be raised $10 in first class and $15 in cabin or tourist class.

The lines affected carry a million passengers annually between the United States, Canada and Europe. Of these, 600,000 travel during the summer season.

The increase will be the third in the last three years.

Approve Agreements for Nuclear Exchanges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agreements for the exchange of nuclear information or fuels among NATO partners have the approval of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

This joint committee gave its approval, in effect, by voting down seven House resolutios introduced July 2 by Rep. William H. Meyer (D-Vt) calling for disapproval of the pacts.

Ike Signs Money Bill for New Federal Prison

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has signed a money bill allotting one million dollars to begin construction of a new federal prison for hardened criminals near Marion, Ill.

The bill provided $648,941,000 to operate the state and justice departments and the federal courts in the current fiscal year.

Murder Trial Ordered for Detroit Boy, 15

DETROIT (AP) — Louis Roberts, 15, must face prosecution as an adult in the street slaying of Mrs. Patricia Cioffi, 27.

Probate (juvenile) Court waived jurisdiction yesterday. Louis, a Negro, is charged with first-degree murder.

Mrs. Cioffi, divorced mother of two children, was stabbed to death the night of May 21 as she was strolling alone in a residential district.

Police said Louis admitted attacking Mrs. Cioffi in yielding to an urge to molest women.

Jack Karp Started 30 Years Ago

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Thirty years ago today, a young New York lawyer left a promising practice to join the legal staff of Paramount Pictures.

THOMAS

Now Jack Karp is the new production chief of Paramount Studios.

He entered the firm at $100 a week just before the 1929 crash. Later, he found himself doing the work of six men had done before—and his salary was cut twice to $85.

But he stuck it out, and now he's top man at the studio. He is the symbol of the new kind of movie boss, following in the awesome footsteps of the fast-fading pioneers who founded the industry.

He appears able to pull Paramount out of its recent lethargy because:

1. He's a lawyer.
2. He has enthusiasm.

The legal background is of prime importance today. Karp says, "Most of the deals we make with established talent nowadays are independent setups. We spend more time in the legal aspects than we do making the picture."

Enthusiasm is a prime factor for the best movie makers, and Karp seems to have it.

"This is still a great business," he says. "The difference is that there is no movie business as such any more. People no longer go out to see a movie; they go to see shows. Our problem is to provide shows that people want to see."

Karp is New York-born, 56, with a strong face and whitening hair. His talk is easy and persuasive, punctuated with courtroom gestures. His sole contract with the artistic life in his youth was playing in the ROTC band at NYU. He could play every instrument in the band.

A friend kept after him to join Paramount during the advent of sound, when Paramount was trying to buy a music publishing firm. Karp finally agreed. The music purchase fell through three weeks later.

But he stayed on through depression, near-bankruptcy and reorganization. The studio weathered the storm and Karp served under a long procession of studio chiefs. Now he's it.

He works a spartan schedule from 8:30 to 7. He eats little breakfast and no lunch, taking noontime for a workout, steam and a nap.

"Dogs eat only one meal a day," he reasons, "and they never go see doctors."

Imprisoned by Budget

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Plans to make the Chittenden County jail "break-proof" were postponed because the cost of new locks exceeded the jail's entire budget.

Pays One Parking Ticket Twice, Wants $10 Back

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—W.E. Roush paid a $10 parking ticket twice and now the problem is in the hands of the City Commission. Roush paid the fine once, lost the receipt, and paid it again.

By the time he found the first receipt the second payment was so far along in the city's bookkeeping system that it requires legal processes to get it back.

TO THE PUBLIC

While news of a great motion picture travels fast, I have had the pleasure of seeing "THE YOUNG PHILADELPHIANS", and was so impressed by the entertainment quality that I want to make sure you know about it too.

When you see pictures as I do, not as a hobby, but as a business, you develop a certain attitude and it takes something unusual to lift you to the point where you want to tell the whole world about it.

The story is adapted from the best selling novel, "THE PHILADELPHIANS". It is a dramatic story of the young people of today. Young people living right here—daily facing the same problems about marriage, fears, jobs, ethics, parents and friends. This unusual motion picture rates special mention. It is something I know from theatrical experience that you will want to see "THE YOUNG PHILADELPHIANS". I urge you not to miss it.

Wally Smith Leading Michigan Qualifier in National Tournament

(Special To The Pontiac Press)

Six other Michigan players including Charles Barker of Pontiac and Stan Sabat of Birmingham failed to qualify for the match play rounds.

Sixty four golfers, led by champion Don Sikes, started match play this morning and by evening, after two 18 holes rounds, the field will be sliced to 16.

Besides Smith, the other Michigan players who qualified yesterday were Ed Briegel of Ann Arbor and Eikko Juholo of Clawson.

Smith was low among the three with a 146. He shot a par 71 on his first round and scored a 75 on the second.

Briegel scored 72-76—148 and Juhola 75-74—149. A score of 150 was required to qualify.

The 146 by Smith compared to the five-under-par medal score of 137 by defending champion Don Sikes of the University of Florida. Sikes shot 69-68.

Sabat and Tyler Caplan of Pontiac missed qualifying by one stroke at 151. Sabat had 76-75 and Caplan 73-78. Barker scored 75-77—152.

Other Michigan scorers were Casmer Jawor of Dearborn 74-80—154, James Law of Harper Woods 81-73—154, and Douglas Wilson of Ypsilanti 80-77—157.

Smith said he "putted horribly" as he missed two 7 footers for birds and two 4-footers for pars on the back nine.

Barker said his chipping fell short in the strong winds and high thin air.

Sikes, a 28-year-old law student, won medalist honors late yesterday by sinking a 12-foot side hill putt for a birdie 4 on the final hole.

He shot a 68 to go with the 69 he posted Monday for a 137 total—five under par but only a stroke better than three others. They were Mat Palacio Jr. 43-year-old San Rafael Calif., auto salesman; Rich Casabella, 18, of Louisville, Ky.; and Dr. Don J. Keith, San Diego, Calif., dentist.

Casabella holed out a No. 2 iron shot on the 18th hole for a double eagle 2 on the par 5 hole.

The Warren G. Harding trophy for the city the the best three-man team in the qualifying rounds went to Dallas with 425.

Ex-Spartan Joins Bears

CHICAGO (AP)—First-year Chicago Bears halfbacks Jim Ellis and Don Miller, join veterans in the opening next week of training camp at St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind., the club announced today.

Ellis, a regular on Michigan State's 1953 Rose Bowl team and now of Chicago, won three letters at Michigan State, and All-Big Ten and All-America mention in 1951 and 1952. He was an All-Army selection in Europe during his two years as first lieutenant.

18-Year-Old Meets Miss Sharp

4 Lady Ex-Champs Survive

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

JACKSON — Four ex-champions and a red-haired newcomer moved into today's quarterfinals of the Women's State Golf tournament at Jackson Country Club.

The three other quarterfinalists included a former Chicago area champion and a onetime Nebraska titlist.

Novice 18-year-old Sharon Miller of Marshall came through her first test yesterday with a 2 up victory over Mrs. Keith Leclair of Ann Arbor. Miss Miller birdied two of the last three holes and had a 77, best score of the day over the par 73 course.

Miss Miller was matched today against defending champion Sally Sharp of Birmingham, who easily defeated Nancy Way of Grand Rapids yesterday, 6 and 5.

Last year's runnerup, Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Mount Clemens, defeated Mrs. Jack Scripsema of Grand Rapids 4 and 2. Mrs. Marquardt goes against Mrs. C. U. Wilson of Ann Arbor, 1951 winner who defeated Mrs. Nels Nichelson of Lansing 1 up.

Five-time state champion Mrs. Harold Weiss of Flint was beaten 1 up on the 20th hole by Mrs. Edgar Reynolds of Lansing 1953 titlist. Mrs. Reynolds was matched today against Mrs. Lewis Goddard of onetime Nebraska champion, who was a 5 and 4 winner over Mrs. Blain Johnson of Jackson.

A former Chicago district champion, Mrs. Dwight Anneaux of St. Joseph, scored a 2 and 1 victory over Mrs. Helen Grinnell of Detroit. She will play Mrs. Samuel Gawne of Bloomfield Hills, who eliminated Mrs. Robert Vinton of Detroit, 2 and 1.

Another 18-hole round will be played tomorrow with the 36-hole final on Friday.

Miss Miller's upset victory over Mrs. Leclair and the extra-holes battle between Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Weiss provided yesterday's big drama.

After the 15th red-haired Sharon was one down to Mrs. Leclair, a veteran of many tournaments.

Sharon, under pressure in her first top flight tourney, won the three remaining holes on two birdies and a par. She also had birdied the 15th in sharing that hole with Mrs. Leclair.

Holding a one up lead through five holes, Mrs. Reynolds lost it at the 18th as her match with Mrs. Weiss went into overtime.

Both bogied the 19th. On the 20th Mrs. Reynolds emerged the victor with a par 5 when a 20-foot putt by Mrs. Weiss lipped the cup and failed to drop.

First round results in the women's state golf championship at Jackson Country Club yesterday:

Sally Sharp, Birmingham defeated Nancy Way, Grand Rapids, 6 and 5.

Mrs. Edgar Reynolds, Lansing, defeated Mrs. Donald Weiss, Flint, 1 up, 20th hole.

Mrs. Lewis Goddard, Birmingham, defeated Mrs. Blain Johnson, Jackson, 5 and 4.

Mrs. Harold Marquardt, Mount Clemens, defeated Mrs. Jack Scripsema, Grand Rapids, 4 and 2.

Mrs. C. U. Wilson, Ann Arbor, defeated Mrs. Nels Nichelson, Lansing, 1 up.

Mrs. Dwight Anneaux, St. Joseph, defeated Mrs. Helen Grinnell, Detroit, 2 and 1.

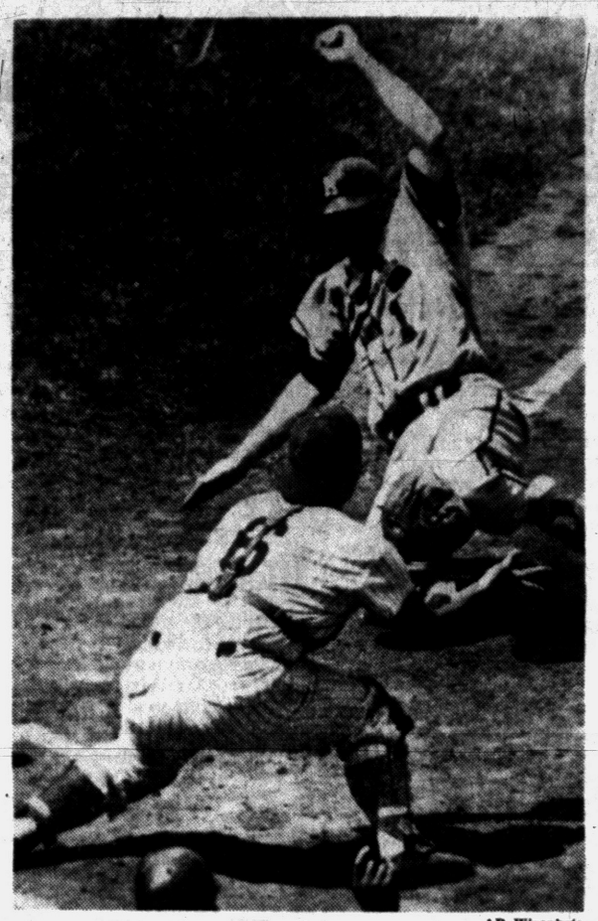

Mrs. Samuel Gawne, Bloomfield Hills, defeated Mrs. Robert Vinton, Detroit, 2 and 1.

In today's second round Miss Sharp plays Miss Miller; Mrs. Reynolds vs. Mrs. Goddard; Mrs. Marquardt vs. Mrs. Wilson; Mrs. Anneaux vs. Mrs. Gawne.

Mrs. Thompson WDGA Winner

Mrs. F. L. Thompson scored an eagle three on the first hole at Tam O'Shanter Country Club yesterday and went on to win the weekly Women's District Golf Association tournament by two strokes.

Mrs. Thompson toured the Tam layout in 82 strokes on a pair of 41's. Mrs. John Hume took 2nd place with 84, including 39 on the back nine, while Mrs. Frank Campsie and Mrs. R. G. Mitchell shared 3rd spot at 86.

SQUEEZE PLAY — Del Crandall, Milwaukee Braves catcher attempts to come home on the squeeze play in the 2nd inning against the Chicago Cubs yesterday. Cub catcher Earl Averill takes a throw from third baseman Alvin Dark to tag Crandall. The Cubs won, 10-5.

From The PRESS BOX

Former Tiger pitcher Ray Herbert has now pitched 18 scoreless innings for Kansas City as the A's beat the Orioles 1-0 in the first game of the twi-night twinbill yesterday.

Gordon Fleming of Flint goes into the second round of the singles competition in the Clay Court tennis tourney in Chicago. His next foe will be none other than Alex Olmedo, Davis Cup and Wimbledon champion.

Former Red Wing publicist Fred Huber and Milt Hopwood will jointly handle the public relations for the Detroit Raiders of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Ron Pruyt pitched a no-hit, no-run game the other day in the newly-organized Waterford Township Junior Baseball League. Pruyt posted 14 strikeouts as Pankey's Hangar Grill shut out Gabriel's Market, 11-0.

John Bowman of the Pontiac Orioles in the Class F division of the City Junior Baseball League followed in Pruyt's footsteps by tossing a no-hitter at the Eastside Dodgers as the Orioles recorded a 7-0 win. Bowman went a few steps past Pruyt, however, by fanning 19 foes.

Atlanta, Ga. will be host to the nation's top women golfers Sept. 17-20 in the first Atlanta Open under sponsorship of the Ladies Professional Golfers Association. It will be a 72-hole medal play event.

Tigers Tumble Into Second Division

Ramos' Pitching Long-Ball Power Conquer Detroit

Allison, Sievers Homer as Senators Beat Larry, 4-2, at Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Detroit Tigers dropped into the second division in the American League standings last night when the Washington Senators scored a 4-2 victory in a game interrupted by rain for almost an hour.

Pedro Ramos' eight-hit pitching and the Senators' long-ball hitting proved too much for the Bengals.

The loss dropped Detroit into fifth place in the league standings, a full game behind fourth ranked New York and 7½ games behind the leading Cleveland Indians.

Bob Allison hit his 23rd homer and Roy Sievers his 11th, both solo shots, while Hal Naragon and Billy Consolo came through with run-scoring triples.

Frank Lary, who turned in one one of the best Tiger pitching performances so far this season, suffered his seventh loss against 10 wins. The Senators didn't get a hit in the last four innings but the damage was already done.

Ramos went all the way to earn his 10th victory of the year, tops for the Washington staff.

Allison homered with two out in the third to give Washington a 1-0 lead. Rain interrupted at the end of the inning, then when play was resumed, the Senators scored three more times in the fourth.

Sievers opened with a homer. Jim Lemon walked and was forced by Faye Throneberry who scored on Naragon's triple. Consolo followed with another triple to make it 4-0.

Detroit came back with its first run in the fifth when the Tigers filled the bases on two singles and a hit batsman. Harvey Kuenn's sacrifice fly brought in a run.

Al Kaline and Red Wilson singled in the eighth, the former going to third. Gus Zernial's sacrifice fly produced the last Detroit run to end the scoring.

Jim Bunning was to take the mound tonight in the second of the Tigers' three-game night series with the Senators. He was seeking his ninth win against six losses as he faced Camilo Pascual (9-7).

STEAL FOR RED — Tiger catcher Red Wilson, the team's leading base stealer, takes third before Harmon Killebrew, Washington third baseman can take the throw form catcher Hal Naragon. Umpire Ed Hurley covers the play. Wilson doubled to start the inning and he made the steal as Rocky Bridges struck out. Red was left on base however as the Tigers lost the game, 4-2, last night.

Two Shutouts in City Softball

Two shutout pitching performances and a victorious 7th-inning rally were the highlights of last nights four-game City League softball program at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Arro Realty trounced Big Bear Construction, 9-0, behind the sharp one-hit hurling of Art Weiss. Paul Baird twirled a nifty three-hitter as Wright's Upholstery blanked Autos of Europe, 7-0.

The Blue Star Drive-In team jumped up with the winning rally, scoring twice in the bottom of the 7th stanza to nose out Moose Lodge, 4-3.

An error and two walks loaded the bases, then Moose pitcher Dick Vivian hit rival hurler Lloyd Harper to force home the tying run. Bill Ryan relieved Vivian and Lou Barribeau greeted him with a single to deliver the clincher.

Blue Star was outhit, 8 to 4. Jack Avery clouted a leadoff homer for the Moose in the 4th frame. Vivian absorbed the loss while Harper worked the route.

Buttercup Drive-In tallied five runs in the 2nd inning, climaxed by Dawsey Reed's three-run homer, for a 7-1 triumph over Huron Bowl. Chuck Martin tossed three-hit ball for the winners.

Vern Law Keeps Bucs in NL Pennant Race

By The Associated Press

When your two aces have won only four games and have lost 16 by the middle of July, there oughta be a law. For Pittsburgh, there is —Vern Law.

A year ago, the Pirates finished a sudden second in the National League race, with Bob Friend a 22-game winner and young George Witt winning his last seven in a row.

At the moment, Friend has a 4-10 record, Witt is 0-6. Yet the Bucs are fourth, just 2½ games shy of first, and it has been Law's job as a starting pitcher plus Roy Face's magnificent relief performance that has put them there.

Law won his 10th, a total bettered only by Face's 14 on the Pittsburgh staff, with a seven-hitter that beat Los Angeles 9-1 last night. It was the big right-hander's fifth success in six decisions and it pushed the Pirates within one game of the third place Dodgers.

First place San Francisco gained a full-game lead although rained out at Philadelphia. Second place Milwaukee lost 10-5 to the Chicago Cubs. St. Louis ended Don Newcombe's winning streak at eight by beating Cincinnati 6-5 in 11 innings.

Law (10-5) lost his shutout in the sixth when Charlie Neal doubled and Wally Moon singled. But he was home free from the start when seven consecutive hits—beginning with Dick Groat's one-out double and a triple by Bob Skinner—gave the Bucs five first-inning runs against Johnny Podres and Clem Labine.

Three Milwaukee errors gave the Cubs four unearned runs, three of them scoring in a four-run, tie-breaking seventh inning capped by a two-run single from winning reliever Bill Henry (6-4).

Lee Walls and Earl Averill homered for the Cubs. Walls' came with a man on in the first defeat since May 10 on singles by Ray Katt, Don Blasingame and Joe Cunningham after Stan Musial's eighth home run had tied it 5-all in the sixth.

Winning reliever Lindy McDaniel (7-10), who pitched the last two frames, and rookie Marshall Bridges blanked the Red on five hits over the last 8 2/3 innings. Cincinnati chased starter Larry Jackson in a four-run third, triggered by Frank Robinson's three-run, 23rd homer, his fifth in five days.

Stengel Hails Ace Relief Pitcher

Duren May Yet Save Yanks

By United Press International

An 0.83 earned run average and a string of 31⅓ consecutive scoreless innings stamp Ryne Duren today as the fellow who may yet save the New York Yankees' hide and pride.

Casey Stengel called him "my guy" after Duren saved Tuesday night's 1-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians and it's obvious no Yankee manager ever has relied so heavily on a relief pitcher since Buky Harris toasted Joe Page in wine and song back in 1947.

No American League relief pitcher ever has won a Most Valuable Player Award but Duren could be the first to do so. His 1-2 won-lost record is completely deceptive, of course, because he is credited with eight "saves" and the way he is pitching he could wind up setting two new league records.

With his string of consecutive scoreless innings, Duren is getting into position to threaten Walter Johnson's 46-year-old record of 56 straight. And Ryne's current 0.83 E.R.A is considerably lower than the 45-year-old league mark of 1.01 held by H. B. (Dutch) Leonard of the Boston Red Sox.

Duren did it again Tuesday night when Stengel hustled him out of the bullpen to protect the one-run Yankee lead which existed since the second inning. Ryne faced one hit and struck out three to protect Whitey Ford's first victory in three weeks and ninth of the year.

"I wanted to get my guy into the game when nobody was on base," said Stengel, explaining that Ford said he was a bit tired. "Didn't I tell you I had a guy who could protect a big lead if we could get it for him?"

The victory braked the Yankees' five-game losing streak and also enabled the Chicago White Sox to move within two percentage points of the Indians via their 7-3 win over the Boston Red Sox. The Baltimore Orioles beat the Kansas City Athletics, 3-1, after a 1-0 defeat in other A.L. games.

Bobby Richardson, who had driven in only seven runs all season, singled home the only run of the Yankee-Indian game off Herb Score in the second inning. Score had walked Elston Howard to start the inning and the New York first-baseman went to second on an infield out. Duren's season figures show 42 2/3 innings pitched, 53 strikeouts, 25 bases on balls and only 22 hits and four runs allowed. He hasn't been scored on since April 30.

Billy Pierce squared his record at 10-10 as the White Sox banged out 13 hits including a homer by John Romano and a two-run single by red-hot rookie Jim McAnany. Jackie Jensen hit his 21st homer and had two singles to pace the 11-hit Red Sox attack.

Milt Pappas pitched a five-hitter and drove in a run with a single to win his 10th game for Baltimore after Ray Herbert's four-hitter bested Billy O'Dell for Kansas City in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader. The Athletics won the opener when outfielder Joe Taylor slipped on wet grass and let a routine ninth-inning fly by Harry Chiti drop for a run-scoring double.

Tests at MSU on Aug. 7-11

'M' Jams Pan-Am Trials

EAST LANSING (AP)—The University of Michigan will flood in a host of swimmers to the U.S. Pan American team tryouts here Aug. 7-11.

Most of the top members of Michigan's powerful Big Ten and NCAA championship teams of the season just passed will compete in the Michigan State University pool.

Heading the Wolverine entries will be AAU champ Ron Clark and Frank Legacki, Dave Gillanders and Dick Hanley, each an NCAA winner.

Host team Michigan State will have one swim entry — breaststroker Frank Modine.

MSU will have about a dozen entries in the Pan-American wrestling tryouts here July 30-Aug. 1. Best possibilities are Ken Maidlow, AAU runnerup at 191 pounds, and Jim Ferguson, AAU 174-pound champ.

Michigan is expected to send three wrestling candidates.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Faulty wrist action.

DIAGNOSIS: Not a valid complaint.

TREATMENT: I'm setting up this complaint so as to preach against a false notion that continues among golfers despite the fact that all the best teachers have been knocking it down for years.

Just recently I was asked—for the umpteenth time—how the professionals like myself get so much "wrist action" in the shot.

The fact is that there are no muscles in the wrists that have to do with hitting a golf ball. In the golf swing, the wrists merely act as hinges.

The golf ball is hit with the body, the shoulders, the arms and, most particularly, the hands. You can see this plainly in the accompanying illustration. Actually, each of the component parts I have named delivers its power to the shot in the order I have listed them.

But that probably is getting a little too involved with the theory of the swing. The point I want to make here is that if you want to improve your swing, forget about "wrist action"!

Castellani Satisfied With Lakers' Script

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Johnny coach and an aspiring author, plans no sudden scrip changes in his new job as Minneapolis Laker coach.

Specifically, he has no intentions of experimenting with the team's rookie of the year, Elgin Baylor. Castellani knows all about Baylor from the two years he coached him at Seattle.

In naming the 32-year-old former Notre Damer, the Lakers apparently operated on the theory that any friend of Baylor's is a friend of the Lakers. Together they carried Seattle to the finals of the NCAA tournament in 1958.

Y Offers Program

Self-Defense Course Set

Students interested in the art of self-defense, known as Kara-te, can enroll in the courses to be offered at the Pontiac YMCA starting next Tuesday and continuing twice weekly for five weeks.

Horoshi Orito, art student studying at Cranbrook, will instruct the classes, teaching various holds, escapes, breaks and attacks.

For YMCA members the fee for the 10 courses is $15 and for nonmembers $20. Those who enroll today or tomorrow can attend an orientation class Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. free of charge.

Classes will be Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:30 to 9:30, and persons wishing to enroll can call Art Mann at the Y. Only males 18 and over are eligible.

Schoendienst Gets Set for Active Return

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Red Schoendienst, who fought a successful battle against tuberculosis, continued workouts today for his return to the Milwaukee Braves' lineup Sept. 1.

"I've been working out since the first of June and doing a little running," Schoendienst said yesterday, "and I hope to start batting practice the beginning of August. I also have been throwing a ball around and it feels great."

Schoendienst was found to have tuberculosis last November and was admitted to Mt. St. Rose Hospital. In February he underwent surgery to have a part of the diseased right lung removed.

Dr. William A. Werner, Schoendienst's physician, said the operation hastened recovery.

"Red thinks September first is the date and I agree," Werner said, "and next year he might be able to play all season."

Police Pistol Expert Wins Midwest Event

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Detroit police outshot state troopers to take first place honors in the police category at the Midwest Regional Pistol tourney last weekend at Bristol, Ind., state police said today.

A state policeman shooting for the Michigan National Guard took the guard championship, police said.

He was Trooper Dorr Wiltse, stationed at Ionia.

There were 19 military and law enforcement teams entered in the meet.

Trooper Robert Steinhurst, East Lansing, shot 2597 out of a possible 2700 for fourth place in individual competition. Shooting was in three calibers, .22, .38 and .45.

Full Afternoon of Baseball Is Planned by City

Pontiac Federation Will Receive Proceeds From Program at Jaycee

The Pontiac Baseball Federation and the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department have announced preliminary plans for the city's annual "Amateur Baseball Day" program, scheduled this Sunday at Jaycee Park.

A full afternoon of baseball in all classes is slated on the Jaycee diamond, the city's newest field at Walton and Joslyn.

The purpose of the game is to raise money for the betterment of baseball in Pontiac, according to league director George Gary.

Under a new arrangement between the Federation and the Recreation Department, the Federation will concern itself with fund raising projects for all classes of baseball while the Recreation Department will handle the rules and supervision of all leagues.

This is the only time of the year that the Federation asks city baseball fans for financial support, Gary said.

All classes of baseball will be represented, starting with 11-year-old boys and continuing through to the adult level. The four Jaycee diamonds will be in continuous use for the entire afternoon.

Sunday's action will begin at 1:30 p.m. and run until 5:30 or 6 o'clock. Food and drinks will be available at nominal prices, Gary said, with all proceeds going to the Federation.

Gary offered the opinion that it would be an excellent opportunity for families of the ball players to bring a picnic to the park and take in all the action.

Admission prices are 50c for adults, 25c for children and another 25c for parking.

Win For Senkowski

Badder Twirls 3-Hit Shutout

A three-hit shutout and a no-hitter that wasn't a shutout featured Tuesday night's action in the Waterford Softball League at Drayton Plains.

Dale Badder tossed the three-hit shutout as Sno-Bol defeated Drayton Drug, 3-0. Jim Cuthrell also gave up just three hits, but Harvey Render's two-run single in the 1st inning was enough to whip him.

Bob Fargher threw the no-hitter, but wildness after two men were out in the 7th stanza prevented the shutout as Nonne's trimmed the Eagles, 7-1. A walk to Harvey Keith, an error and two wild pitches spoiled the shutout. Jerry Caldwell tossed two-hit ball for the Eagles, but he walked five and hit two batters.

In Waterford Little League activity yesterday, Don's Pure Oil walloped Fisk, 12-2, in five innings.

HALIFAX, N.S.—Majic Carpet, a 53-foot yawl skippered by Peter Richmond of Riverside, Conn., appeared to be the winner of the 360-biennial Marblehead, Mass.—Halifax race on a corrected time of 48 hours, 56 minutes, 56 seconds.

Yanks Meet Soviets in Philadelphia

Track Coach Predicts Victory for U.S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Frank Potts, head coach of the United States men's track team that meets Russia this weekend, today predicted victory over the Soviet Union.

"I think we can outscore the Russian men," said the veteran coach who has been at Colorado for 32 years.

"We're strong in the 100, 200, 400, 800 and 1500 meter runs and the 110 meter hurdles," Potts added. "We've got as good a chance in the 400 meter hurdles as they have.

"I think we can win the shot and discus. They'll probably win the walk, decathlon and hop, step and jump. It's about even in the high jump, pole vault and javelin.

"They're strong in the 10,000 meter run but we've got better than an even chance in the 5,000 meter run.

"As you can see, our strength lies in the short races and weights. Their strength lies in the distance runs and decathlon. It's a tossup in the high jump, pole vault and javelin."

The 19-member American men's team and the full Russian squad of men and women worked out for about two hours yesterday at Pennsylvania's Franklin Field, site of the match Saturday and Sunday. A heavy early morning rain had dampened the field.

Meanwhile, Russian coach George Korobkov is expected to decide today whether the Russians will agree on the use of macadam runways.

Igo Ter-Ovanesyan of the Soviets, who will compete in the decathlon, practiced the broad jump from a the macadam runways and appeared well pleased.

But the Russian decathlon star, Vasily Kuznetsov, who scored a record 8,357 points in the 10 events at Moscow last May, appeared unimpressed with the runways after a workout.

St. Mike Thrives on Errors for Victory

St. Michael met Ritter's Market yesterday in a Class D City Junior League baseball game.

Ritter's made nine hits, St. Mike got only five. Final score: St. Mike 15, Ritter's 9.

The difference was in the field where the losers committed a dozen errors. St. Mike made seven miscues, but 12 fielding mistakes are worse than seven anytime and the difference paid off in victory for the Mikes.

Frank Borgon collected three of St. Mike's five safeties while Ray Collins clubbed two hits for the losers.

The same situation prevailed in another "D" contest yesterday when the West Bloomfield Boys Club outhit Don Nicholie, 10 to 6, but committed six errors and dropped a 15-5 decision. Roger Habrie homered in defeat for West Bloomfield.

In Class E activity Tuesday, Hetherington pitched a one-hit shutout as the Independence Township team drubbed Weldon's Sporting Goods, 9-0. The Junior Jets outscored the Eagles, 19-13, with the winners making 19 hits and Shorter contributing a home run to their attack.

Jim McCaslin slammed a home run to help Auburn Heights Boys Club trim J&R Auto Store, 9-3, and Our Lady of Refuge scored a six-inning 13-0 rout of Tel-Huron with Joe Myers hurling two-hit ball to wind up the Class E slate.

The Westside Kiwanis clobbered Malkim, 21-7, with Samiulow's home run pacing a 16-hit assault, and the Pontiac Orioles came from behind to nose out Perry Drugs, 6-5, in the Class F division.

Other "F" games saw the Willis Wonders and the Pontiac Fire Fighters stage a run-scoring duel with the Firemen winning, 25-24, and the Yankees whipped the American Leaguers, 12-6.

Also in Class F, Tom Laverdure pitched a no-hitter as the Northside Kiwanis shut out St. Michael, 20-0, with a 17-hit attack and the aid of 15 Mike errors, and the Auburn Heights Boys Club downed the Moose, 6-2, as center fielder Don Jenks and catcher Dwight Sherman combined for defensive heroics in the 7th stanza to cut off a Moose rally.

David Mason ruined a shutout for pitcher Randy Rhodes with a home run as the Blue Racers massacred the Wild Dogs, 29-1, in Widget action. Furtney Drugs came from behind twice and eventually defeated the Fighting 69ers, 14-5.

Del Hurlburt slammed his 5th homer in four games to lead the Little Senators to a 19-10 triumph over the Auburn Heights Boys Club. Dave Cox also homered. The Sheehy Aces scored an 8-2 victory over the Atlas Widgets with the help of a home run by John Monroe.

Jewelers Beat Knights, 8-4

Shaw's Jewelers have had very few moments of glory so far this season in the Class A City Baseball League, but they gained a little stardom Tuesday by toppling the league-leading Knights of Columbus, 8-4, at Wisner Field.

A four-run splurge in the 1st inning and a three-run uprising in the 4th on Herman Bishop's homer with two teammates aboard were enough to bring the cellar-dwelling Jewelers their 2nd victory of the year.

Dick Covrea pitched the distance for Shaw's and allowed eight hits, one a home run by Ken Burkhart leading off the 2nd stanza. The Jewelers reached three K.C. hurlers for 13 hits, three by Jim Berg and two apiece by Walt Honchell and Terry Anderson.

Hal Trott and Ernie Zubalik each garnered two safe blows for the Knights. Terry Hoy was the starting and losing pitcher.

In Class B action yesterday at Jaycee Park, Larry Gates hurled a sparkling two-hit shutout as Pontiac Business Institute defeated Griff's Grill, 2-0. It was the 1st time that Griff's had been whitewashed this season.

Bob Garrett tossed a three-hitter for the Grill club, but yielded two of them in the 3rd stanza—singles by Sonny Mallory and Art Harrison—when PBI scored both of its runs. Cates struck out 11 batters and Garrett fanned seven.

Norman Hired to Scout Minors for White Sox

BOSTON (AP)—Former manager Bill Norman of the Detroit Tigers has gone back to work.

Norman, who was fired by the Tigers in early May when the team was deep in the American League basement, was hired as a scout yesterday by the Chicago White Sox.

The White Sox said Norman is to be given a special assignment scouting the high minor leagues.

As a White Sox scout, Norman will be drawing two pay checks. The other is from the Tigers. The Tigers still are paying him under his unexpired contract as manager.

9-Game Schedule for State's Soccer Team

EAST LANSING (AP)—A nine-game fall schedule has been announced for the Michigan State Soccer team, unbeaten in the past three seasons of competition.

The Schedule:

Lions' Lineman Refuses Trade

DETROIT (UPI)—Veteran Bob Miller, a first string tackle with the Detroit Lions since 1952, said yesterday he would rather quit football than be traded to the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Lions made a deal Monday which would send the 29-year-old Miller to the Eagles in exchange for a 1960 draft choice. Miller wants no part of the deal.

"I told the Lions I wouldn't leave Detroit," Miller said. "It wouldn't benefit me or my family to pull up roots and move to Philadelphia."

Miller lives in Royal Oak and is employed as a salesman at a used car and die company there in the off-season. He said he likes his job and simply doesn't want to move.

"Somewhere along the line I've got to make a change," he said, in reference to quitting football. "If the Lions want to trade me, then it might as well be now."

He was emphatic about that point, saying that he would not play in Philadelphia or anywhere outside of Detroit.

World Title at Stake in Sept. 5 Canoe Race

Between 50 and 60 of the nation's (and Canada's) leading canoe teams are expected to participate in the coming world's championship race down the famed Au Sable river. These hardy paddlers include Holly's Widing brothers, Albert and LeRoy, rated high in national canoe-racing circles. They are now in British Columbia, where they will take part in the 130-mile Prince George marathon, on Saturday.

Start of the world event is at Grayling, Saturday, Sept. 5, at 8 p.m. and the finish line is at Oscoda, some 240 miles downstream. Officials estimate the first canoe in at the finish will appear at about 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 6. The race is one of the toughest anywhere, and is a non-stop test of human stamina and paddling skill.

Thousands of spectators annually line the banks of the fast-flowing stream. This will be the 13th Au Sable race, in which the winners share in cash and other awards totalling more than $3,000.

Sponsors are the Oscoda-Au-Sable Volunteer Fire Dept. and Crawford County C. of C.

Dog-Training May Be Started Today

The state's annual closed season for training dogs in the field ended today. Owners may now take their dogs afield for training, through Otc. 20.

Ban was on during the spring and early summer for the protection of newly-born game birds and animals.

FOSTER PARENTS! — LeRoy Niascorro, 14, of 481 Fourth St., and his brother Nicky, 16, have become foster parents for a pair of sturdy young crows. LeRoy holds the 4-month-old birds, above. They have refused to leave the home, where the boys raised them, after finding the bedraggled nestlings in nearby woods. A refuge in a tree provides a home for the birds, who come to the boys when called, walk into the house. Both boys are deeply interested in wildlife.

PKC to Hold School for Dog Handlers

With the date set for its all-breed summer dog show for Aug. 16, Pontiac Kennel club will conduct a school of instruction on handling dogs in the show ring. The school will be held at Murphy Park in Pontiac, from 5 p.m. until dark, on Wednesday, July 29.

There is no charge and anyone interested in learning how to handle dogs in the ring, is invited. The club hopes to make use of various breeds in the demonstration.

Murphy Park is at East Boulevard and Raeburn street.

The summer show will take place on the Waterford High School grounds, at M59 and Crescent Lake roads.

Judges for the show were announced today as follows:

Youth Shines at 4-H Show

Entries covering a wide area gave the 4-H is Trail Blazer Horse show its biggest all-time entry for the exhibition at Great Oak Farm. Some 180 or more horses, ridden by young equestrians provided what is regarded as the show's best performances.

Outstanding riders were 14-year-old Jill Greenwald of Rochester with her Arabian, Sarra-Sabba, and Harris Bryant of Pontiac, on Red Flash. Harris had 29 points as senior ace and Jill had 28 for the junior honors. Susan Scales, on El Morroco's Chip, won non-trophy mention. Diane Almas and Mary Boulton were show queens.

The winners:

Morgan (halter)—stallion, Springbrook Mansfield (Edgar Mansfield, Ypsi); mare—Hi-Crest Denise (Mansfield).

English pleasure—Jill Greenwald.

Junior speed, action—Sandra Pegg on Champ (Oxford); senior, Sandy Wells (Birmingham) San-Min.

Childrens west, pleasure—(1-15)—Judy Lowther (Wimphy).

Appaloosa (saddle)—Joan Wroten (Lincoln Park).

Cloverleaf—Ed Wrote (Livonia).

Horsemanship (11-15)—Judy Lowther.

English jumping—Sherill Chapman, Birmingham, on Domino.

Flag race—(1-10)—David Sadler (Milford) on Chico, also won $200 contestants saddle. He is 12 years old.

Men's Western — Charles Becker (Rochester), on Safirlas.

Ladies western—Christy Clark (Yale) on Kanaz.

Parade class open—Carolyn Curren, Lake Orion, on Gallant Parader.

Musical barrels—(15)—Donna Humbaugh, Pontiac, on Casey.

Reining class—Tom Godlewski, Flint Jubilee Belle.

Billy O'Dell of the Orioles led AL pitchers in 1958 in the fewest home runs yielded in more than 200 innings of toil on the mound. He allowed only 13 all season. The Yanks' Whitey Ford was next with 14.

'Students' Best Anglers

By The Press Outdoors Editor

The dedicated fisherman usually is a perfectionist of sorts. He's a purist with trout, sticks to particular styles, usually is a do-it-yourself tyer of his own fly patterns, operates with light equipment. Or, he goes after the big ones, with wet flies, comparable terminal tackle. All are students of their sport.

Michigan's many fine trout streams afford the serious angler plenty opportunity to test his ability. Oakland county's waters also provide action for the trouter.

One successful trouter in the area says it pays handsomely to study the waters one fishes, if he wants to be fairly sure of filling his creel. "Study your fishing water's layout," this angler says. "Test every foot of it, and when you find a 'live spot' note it carefully, for you can return again and again, and get fish.

SOLUNAR TABLES CAN BE HELPFUL

"Test of bottom and top water temperatures can help locate fish. Time of day is not too important, but notes should be made at atmospheric conditions, which have an important bearing on the action of fish. Generally, most action is found at or near a bottom-welling spring."

PERCH RUN BIG IN AREA WATERS

Some unusually large yellow (and black) perch are being taken from area waters these days. At least a dozen anglers have reported, during the last week's period, landing fish that were better than a foot, up to 14 inches and more, and tipping the scales from one to nearly two pounds.

Young Jerry Niensted, 4050 Sawyer, fishing with his pal, Gary Dexter of South Shore drive, "was scared" when a 14-incher grabbed his red worm lure on Watkins lake. "Biggest fish I ever caught," says Jerry.

Another 14-inch specimen was creeled by Carl Strutz, 71 LeGrande, at Loon Lake, also known as a good bass lake. Strutz' fish was 1- pound, 4-ounces in weight.

George Beddinger, fishing off the Orchard Lake' boat livery, first of the week took four nice rainbow trout, the largest of which was about four pounds.

Many successful area fishermen follow the solunar tables published each Wednesday on this page. Some have reported spectacular results after following the periods of piscatorial activity, as set up in the tables.

There are still bigger bass in area lakes, than the current Press contest leader (a 6-pounder), figures Lyle Roglitz, whose wife won the 1958 contest; Lyle dragged a 22½-inch smallmouth from Silver lake in Genesee county, a few days ago. It weighed 5-pounds, 2-ounces. Lyle is sure there must be a 7-pounder in some area lake, yet uncaught.

Dr. Edwin Ojay, 38 Fernberry Dr., took a fine, fat 5-pound smallmouth from Pontiac lake, with the help of his son Tommy, 11 who grabbed the fish by the gills when he had no net. The fish was 19 inches long, Dr. Ojay has a wager with a friend-angler for the biggest bass of the season.

SAFETY CHECKS FOR SUMMER SAILORS

Recent water safety reports indicate there have been 66,000 deaths caused by drowning, over the country, and a considerable number, says the source, were those of "summer sailors." Ignorance of good boating practices was responsible for many of the fatalities, say safety experts who suggest the following reminders to those who indulge in boating for fun:

Don't mix liquor and boating . . . don't overload your boat . . . observe all pilot rules . . . don't shove off in a leaky or poorly built boat . . . have someone else along who can handle the boat in case you are disabled . . . keep first-aid essentials aboard . . . stay out of dangerous or restricted waters . . . have life preservers ready at all times . . . keep motorboat bilges free of oil, water and grease . . . stay away from swimming areas, leave gasoline stoves ashore and know what to do in case of a capsize, or if a passenger goes overboard . . . be sensible in all operations afloat . . .

SAN FRANCISCO—John Brodie of the 49ers had the highest pass percentage in the NFL in the 1958 season, hitting on 60 per cent of his shots.

Raven Hill's Danes Win at Puppy Match

Two progeny from the Raven Hill Great Dane kennels at Clarkston walked off with blue ribbons at the reecnt puppy match (Great Dane Club of Michigan) at Livonia.

Raven Hill's Sugarfoot Stomp was first male in the 4-6 months old class. His sister, Raven Hill's Santuzza's Shadow (named for her grandmother) took distaff honor in the same class. It was Sugar's first match, the 2nd for Susie, who won her first one two weeks ago.

The puppies are owned by Wes and Mary Jane Roberts, who also own Tex, the big youngster that set what is regarded as a world record for weight at birth, for danes. Tex, at 4-months weighs 85 pounds.

Exterminator won the Pimlico Cup three straight years with three different riders — Clarence Kummer, Larry Ensor and Albert Johnson.

You're the Skipper

By JOHN BOHANNAN
Syndicated Boating Writer

An outboard skipper seldom realizes how much more maneuverable his craft is than a single-screw inboard. When approaching a dock at almost any angle, all the outboarder need do is to cut the throttle at the moment, put his motor in reverse and turn the engine toward the dock, gunning the throttle to arrest headway and at the same time pull the stern in parallel with the dock. The boat then can be eased forward until it has reached the desired position, using the reverse once more to come to a dead stop before getting lines ashore.

With the outboard, this ease of handling comes from the fact that you can direct the propeller stream at any angle, either forward or reverse, a powerful steering force under control at all times.

When an outboarder acquires a single-screw inboard he may be startled to find that his best landings are made with port side to dock. He can angle in at slow speed, then use the reverse to halt headway and swing in the stern.

However if he tries to land with the starboard side to the dock, he discovers to his dismay that application of the reverse only tends to move the stern farther away. Later he learns that the stern can be brought in with short bursts of power in forward gear against left rudder.

In a single-screw boat with the usual right-hand propeller, the stern wants to move to starboard in forward gear, and to port in reverse.

This peculiarity is caused by two factors. First, the propeller blades in the upper arc of their travel are passing through an area of cavitation, in which air bubbles prevent the blades from getting as good a grip as they do on the lower half of the arc. Second, where the propeller shaft is inclined downward aft, the effective pitch of the blades is greater on the down stroke than on the up stroke because of the difference of angle of attack.

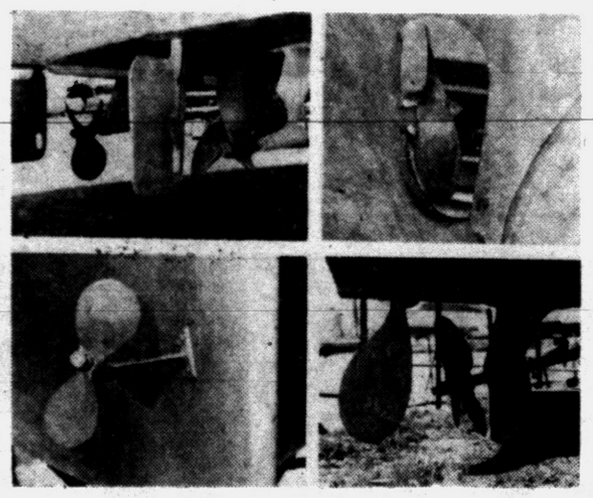

When docking, remember that a short burst of power in reverse with right rudder will move the stern to port, and a bit of gunning in forward with left rudder will move the stern to starboard.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A left-hand engine. A right-hand prop is one which rotates clockwise in forward gear when viewed from astern. The same rotation is called left-hand in an engine because its flywheel is viewed from forward.

Red Exhibition Bewilders Visitors

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Anyone who has visited the Soviet exhibition at New York's Coliseum knows the feeling of sputniks in the stomach. We used to have butterflies there, fluttering around wantonly among the nerve centers, but they were scarcely more than an inconvenience compared with the strong feelings of emotional sickness that came of seeing Russia's polished exhibition of technological power.

The most discomforting sensation of all resulted from watching the Americans who drifted from one scientific spectacle to another—utterly puzzled, and completely in awe.

Each shiny model of a phase of the Soviet's scientific strides was accompanied by a long explanation of its significance. The American visitors paused, read a few sentences, shook their heads in bewilderment, and passed on.

The realization came with a grim jolt that not one in 5,000 of us had enough knowledge about, or interest in, scientific progress to read through an inscription—much less understand it.

At the sputnik display, the largest crowd clumped about the replica of a small, furry-lined compartment where Laika, the dog, had gone to her death.

Dogs, we can understand, and caviar. And also the small dimensions of a Russian worker's apartment. One woman, looking at a model apartment, said, "That's not living. That's just existing."

And we thought, looking at the dozens of murals showing small Russian children studying test tubes and teenagers drawing blueprints—"existing" is not a word to be tossed off so disdainfully.

4 YOUNG MEN

To New York, helping to restore the native optimism torn down somewhat by the Soviet exhibition, came four young men from our United States. They were brought here by American Cyanimide, which is giving them up to $5,000 each for scientific study.

The youngest was Gerry Elman, 16, a chemistry major from Chicago. He got his first chemistry set at the age of five, and at age seven his second. ("It had a candle in it. The first set was for parents who didn't have fire insurance.")

Gerry said he liked science despite the fact that in grammar school the course was "lousy. They taught us about birds in the fall and leaves in the spring. Whatever I learned came from my outside reading."

His parents cooperated, even if our educational system didn't. In high school his dad gave him a super deluxe chemistry set, and his mother gave him an old kitchen table to work on.

Geoffrey M. Bushnell, 17, of Hamburg, N.Y., is crew-cut and aware of the tough job ahead for America. He began reading science-fiction books at the age of five, and felt "angry and jealous when the first space satellite went into orbit.

"I had read about things like this all my life, and I knew someday it would all happen. I was disappointed that it happened before I was old enough—but there will be other things, and I'll be in on them."

Ben Laden, 17, from Columbia, S.C., is a mathematician who got most of his knowledge—like the other boys—from extracurricular reading. Same goes for William Fuchsman, 17, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, who summed up the feeling all of them felt about science:

"You've got to make the assumption that truth is good. You can make an attempt to uncover truth in science. In science, you're working with nature. And nature won't lie to you like other human beings."

They all felt, too, that the days of the "scientist-hero"—the one-man achievement—are gone. We are too far behind; there is too much to accomplish; there must be teamwork. And fast.

Technology, anyone?

Quarter Million Boats Registered Under State Law

LANSING (AP) — Boats registered under Michigan's watercraft licensing law have hit the quarter million mark, Sec. of State James M. Hare reports.

Registration rose sharply from less than 200 a day in May to more than 800 last month, he said.

Nearly 27,600 boats have been registered this year. More than 220,00 were registered last year, the first year the registration law was in effect.

The $2 fee has brought in $500,000, part of which has been distributed to counties on a matching basis for basis for enforcement of boating laws.

Only boats using inland waters must be registered with the state. A new registration system will go into effect next year under the Bonner Act passed by Congress last year.

The legislature currently is considering a bill to give the state jurisdiction of registration on both inland and Great Lakes wafers.

The U. S. Coast Guard will take over registration if the state does not assume jurisdiction by April 1.

More Americans were wounded in World War II than in all other U.S. wars put together.

Grains Suffer Profit-Taking

CHICAGO (AP) — Reports of scattered moisture and forecasts of more to come in the midwestern states caused some profit-taking today on the Board of Trade and prices eased generally.

Rye led the setbacks with losses running to well over a cent a bushel while soybeans eased major fractions. Brokers said, however, that in view of the sharp gains in those pits during the past two days, selling hardly could be expected to meet very strong resistance on any bearish factor.

Wounded Mate Won't Charge

Wife Shot Her Husband When He Hit Her and Laughed at Threat

No action has been taken to press charges against Mrs. Mabel Dillman, wealthy Rochester area matron who shot and critically wounded her husband during a family quarrel Monday night.

The husband, Charles Dillman, 38, has refused to sign a complaint against his 47-year-old wife, said George F. Taylor, Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor.

Dillman, a partner in a Rochester coal and lumber company, is in fair condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, recuperating from a .22 caliber pistol wound in his left arm and stomach.

Mrs. Dillman today was still in the same hospital under treatment for shock.

A police guard over the woman was lifted yesterday and she was released by Taylor to custody of her attorney, David C. Pence of Pontiac.

Taylor said the woman probably won't be prosecuted unless her husband takes a turn for the worse. The hospital said Dillman was responding well to treatment.

The shooting occurred in the Dillman's new $75,000 split level home at 6000 N. Rochester Rd. about two miles north of Rochester in Oakland Township.

A few hours earlier, the couple had been in several Pontiac area taverns, celebrating the seventh anniversary of their first date.

The argument started with Dillman's decision to skip dinner that night, although Mrs. Dillman wanted to eat out.

Dillman corroborated his wife's story, Taylor said, that he hit her in the face during the course of the argument, as well as on previous occasions during their 6½-year marriage.

Mrs. Dillman said that after she was struck, she shot her husband "in order to scare him or to hurt him."

"But if I had wanted to kill him I would have shot him in the stomach."

She said that Dillman laughed at her as she fired three deliberately wild shots, so with the fourth shot she aimed to hit him in the left side.

Boy Hurt as Scooter Hits Bump, Overturns

A 15-year-old Pontiac boy, Gary D. Oliver, suffered slight injuries yesterday when his motor scooter hit a bump on Orchard Lake avenue and overturned.

Market Takes Strike in Stride

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved generally higher early today with rails taking a back seat.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional. Losses went from fractions to a point or so.

Motor Products, which leaped 13½ yesterday, added about 8.

Zenith rose about 5, Texas Instruments 7 and Motorola more than 2.

Rails, the worst sufferers in a prolonged steel strike, took a long string of fractional losses but this could be only a corrective reaction to their lively advance of yesterday.

The losers included New York Central, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio and many others.

Steels made moderate gains. U. S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin and Republic rose fractionally. Lukens, which declared its usual dividend, was ahead more than a point.

Coppers and other nonferrous metals did well. Anaconda was up about a point. Kennecott, American Smelting, Homestake, Phelps Dodge and International Nickel added fractions.

U. S. Gypsum dropped more than a point. Douglas Aircraft lost a point or so.

Lorillard, Liggett & Myers, Eastman Kodak, American Motors and Chrysler lost fractions.

The ticker tape was late briefly at the opening.

Opening blocks included: Fairbanks Whitney unchanged at 9¼ on 8,000 shares; Aluminum Ltd. up ¼ at 38¾ on 7,000; Texas Gulf Producing up 1¼ at 39 on 4,700; and Glen Alden up ⅛ at 27⅛ on 1,500.

Clarke, president of the Clarke Oil Co., local Marathon Distributor.

Girl Testifies Against Dad

A blonde pig-tailed six-year-old girl was the chief witness for the prosecution today in a Municipal Court examination charging her father with the brutal beating of an 18-year-old baby sitter.

Judge Maurice E. Finnegan ordered Bruce M. Taylor be bound over for arraignment in Circuit Court Monday on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Conviction on the charge calls for a maximum penalty of life imprisonment, the same as that for second degree murder.

Taylor, a 32-year-old Pontiac butcher, admitted to detectives that he beat a woman sleeping on the living room couch of his former home on June 22 thinking it was his estranged wife.

Phyllis Jean Keel, 58 Wall St., was a pathetic figure as she took the stand, her head swathed in bandages. She told the court she couldn't remember anything after she went to sleep in the home of Mrs. Juanita Taylor, 223 W. Rutledge St.

HURT BADLY

She was in critical condition for more than a week in Pontiac General Hospital following the beating.

"I can't remember what happened," she said. Mrs. Taylor had gone to work and I was sitting for the kids (Carol, 8; David, 7; and Valerie, 6). I went to sleep on the couch. I forgot to lock the kitchen door. I put the ball bat on the landing. I woke up two weeks later in the hospital."

Taylor, a slight, balding man, didn't look at her as she spoke. He glanced once at his youngest daughter, Valerie, and his wife when they took the stand, but stared sullenly out the courtroom window during the testimony.

Permission was granted to allow Valerie to sit in her mother's lap on the witness chair. An attractive brunette, Juanita Taylor wore a blue dress with rhinestones. Both wept.

Judge Finnegan talked to the little girl to soothe her and asked a few simple questions. He asked if she loved her mommy and daddy. She replied, "Yes."

Then, as the only witness to the crime, she related what happened at 3:30 that morning in a small voice barely audible.

"Daddy came into my room and woke me up," she said. "He asked me where mommy was and I told him I didn't know. He told me to go back to sleep. About two minutes later I heard noises.

'BRUCE DID IT'

"I went into the living room and turned on the lights. I saw my daddy beating the baby sitter with a ball bat. He thought it was mommy. Phyllis kept on saying, "Bruce did it, Bruce did it."

Taylor had told detectives that the lights were out in the house and he found the woman on the couch by the flame of his cigarette lighter.

Assigned by the court as defense counsel attorney, William Whittfield asked for a lesser charge contending that Taylor had known the girl was still alive when he stopped beating her. If he had intended to murder her, Whittfield reasoned, he would have followed through and "finished the job."

Assistant Prosecutor Edward Shigley told the court Taylor showed intent to murder when he started the job by using a ball bat on the head.

Judge Finnegan concurred that the ball bat was a lethal instrument.

Taylor also faces trial on an assault and battery charge July 29.

His wife charged in a complaint that Taylor came to the home and beat her three weeks before the second incident.

Mother Suspects Children Died in Fire at Home

The wife of a Pontiac factory worker was still in critical condition in a Mount Clemens hospital today unaware, but suspecting, that five of her six children were dead after fire gutted their home Monday.

Robert Langlois told his wife, Margaret, 26, not to worry. "They're in very good hands," he said.

Stephen, 7; Rene and Roy, 4-year-old twins; Sharon, 3, and Russell, 7 weeks, were buried yesterday.

The Mass of Angels was celebrated as the five pink coffins rested in a semi-circle before the pulpit of Rev. Fr. Paul C. Beenan in St. Peters Catholic Church, Mount Clemens.

Eight-year-old Deborah Langlois, in the hospital with er mother, was the only child to survive the tragedy. She suffered a broken leg after Mrs. Langlois braved flames in a second story bedroom to throw her to rescuers waiting below.

A mechanic at General Motors Corp. Truck & Coach Division, Langlois thanked scores of people in a radio interview yesterday who had prayed and contributed donations to the remnants of the stricken family.

More than $1,000 has been deposited in the Langlois Disaster Fund to cover hospital bills, funeral costs and other expenses.

Langlois, 26, was "amazed."

"It's just wonderful," he said, "that so many people have been thinking of us."

Waterford to Send Junior Olympics Representatives

Ten Waterford Township playgrounds will send representatives to participate in the first annual Junior Olympics program beginning at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Drayton baseball field.

The Olympic events, sponsored ny the Township Recreation Department, will be followed by a softball game between the Class A Sno-Bol team of the Pontiac League and a group of Waterford Township All-Stars.

Managed by Carl Shell, the Sno-Bol team is currently tied for first place and is made up almost entirely of Waterford Township residents, according to Township Recreation Director Thomas Belton.

The Junior Olympics events ave ben divided into two classes, the field events, and the "goofy" events. The "goofy" events include a discus throw (paper plates), javelin throw (paper straws), ankle race, bowlegged race, three legged race and croquet shoot.

The field events include races, running, standing broad jump, relays, softball throw, basketball shoot and horseshoes.

Awards will be given to each of the 10 playground champions in the township, and a team championship will be awarded to the playground compiling the most points.

All Olympic contestans ave been asked to be at the ball park not later than 6:15, and the public has been invited to attend the no-admission-charge program.

Snake Also Bites Serpentarium Head

Paul Allen Jr. of Clarkston was bitten by a diamondback rattlesnake yesterday within 24 hours after the guide on his Mackinaw City serpentarium suffered the same occurrence.

Walter Williams, 24, of 3490 Floretta Dr., is in critical condition in a Cheboygan hospital from a bite inflicted while he was milking a six-foot snake Monday.

Allen, proprietor of the snake farm, is also listed in critical condition. Anti-venom serum was rushed to the scene in a police relay errand of mercy race against death from various points in the state. Some was flown in from Cleveland.

Hospital officials report that both men stand a good chance to survive.

Senate Subcommittee OKs Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate judiciary subcommittee today approved a two-point civil rights bill.

The bobtailed measure, approved by a 4-3 vote and sent on to an uncertain fate in the full judiciary committees, provides:

1. For the extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission from Sept. 9 of this year until Jan. 31, 1961.

2. That election officials be required to preserve voting records for three years and to make them available for inspection by the U.S. attorney general or his representative.

Dixon-Yates Combine Wins Damage Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Claims today upheld the claim of the Dixon-Yates combine for damages because the government canceled its controversial power contract.

Dividing 3-2, the court rejected the government's contention that the activities of Adolphe H. Wenzell constituted a conflict of interest. It ruled Dixon-Yates should be reimbursed for out-of-pocket costs before the contract was canceled.

Judge J. Warren Madden who spoke for the majority, said the court saw "not the slightest conflict of interest in Wenzell's position."

The court awarded $1,867,545.56, which was about what Dixon-Yates finally asked.

Originally the claim had been for about 3½ million dollars.

Wenzell served as a consultant to the Budget Bureau at the same time he was a salaried official of the First Boston Corp., which became financial agent for Dixon-Yates interests.

It was on this ground that the Justice Department contended the government should be relieved of paying anything to Dixon-Yates as a result of the contract cancellation.

The Dixon-Yates contract, entered into by the Atomic Energy Commission at the time it was headed by Lewis L. Strauss, called for a 107-million-dollar power plant at West Memphis, Ark.

Power generated by a Dixon-Yates firm, Mississippi Valley Generating Co., was to be supplied to the Tennessee Valley Authority system to compensate for electricity TVA fed into Atomic Energy Commission plants.

Miss First Round, Play Today

Olmedo, MacKay Upset River Forest's Slate

CHICAGO (AP)—Alex Olmedo and Barry MacKay, who did not appear during the first two days of the National Clay Courts tennis tournament, have caused more excitement than those who did.

The matches Monday and yesterday unfolded fairly routinely with only one major upset—R. Dennis Ralston, 16-year-old junior from Bakersfield, Calif., defeated Donald Dell, No. 7 seed of Bethesda, Md., 6-8, 6-3, 6-4 yesterday. Ralston later entered the round of 16 on a 6-0, 6-0 whitewash of Chicago's John Blasingname.

They were scheduled to appear early yesterday after European tournaments.

About noon, MacKay, who starred at the University of Michigan, phoned to say he could not arrive until evening, so his first round match was moved into today.

Officials telephoned Olmedo in New York and say that he refused to accept the call.

Then Alex appeared at the gate to the River Forest club in mid-afternoon and was refused admittance because nobody recognized him.

Officials rushed to the gate upon hearing of his plight, but they were in for a surprise. Alex, 22-year-old hero of the victorious United States Davis Cup team and newly crowned Wimbledon champion, told them he was on his way to meet with Perry Jones, Davis Cup team captain, and would not compete until the next day.

Hennessey and the rest of a surprised tournament staff said Olmedo and MacKay probably will have to play three or four matches today to move up to date in singles and doubles play.

Seeded players who advanced to the men's round of 16 included defending champion Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, Dallas; Earl Buchholz Jr., St. Louis; Whitney Reed, Alameda, Calif.; Chris Crawford, Piedmont, Calif.; Grant Golden, Evanston, Ill.; Ian Vermaak and Abe Segal, both of South Africa; Warren Woodcock, Australia, and Iyo Pimentel, Venezuela.

No Match Between Table and Hillsdale

By The Associated Press

Aimed at helping settle "Horse of the Year" honors, the head-to-head meeting of the two wealthy contenders was shelved Tuesday, at least for the present, by C. W. Smith, Hillsdale's owner.

Smith — emphasizing that he is not afraid of Round Table — said he decided his 4-year-old colt needed a summer vacation.

Hillsdale, the year's leading money-winner with $432,500 in the bank, has run 10 times this year, winning eight races and finishing second twice.

Smith said he wants his horse in the peak of condition when he meets Round Table, the all-time leading money winner who has won $1,452,639 during his career.

Third Try to Swim Lake Michigan Fails

CHICAGO (AP)—Husky Joe Griffith, beset by rough swells, gave up his third attempt to swim across Lake Michigan at 8:30 last night.

Griffith had been in the water 13½ hours and had completed about 16 of the 36¾ miles to Michigan City, Ind., when pulled from the lake.

It was the third attempt by the 31-year-old former lifeguard to become the first to swim from Chicago to Michigan City, Ind. He also failed in 1957 and 1958.

Won't Compete Unless—

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Amateur Athletic Union's women's basketball champions won't compete for the world title in Moscow in October unless somebody pops up with $20,000.

Dan Ferris, honorary secretary of the AAU, said yesterday his organization doesn't have the money to send a team and Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., the champions, does not have it either.

Studies Recreation, Outdoors Program

Korean Guest of State

LANSING — Professor O-Joong Kim, University of Korea, is being entertained by the Conservation Department early this month in conjunction with a foreign recreation exchange program sponsored by the International Recreation Association.

Each year, recreation and sports leaders are brought to the U.S. for about four months to study developments here in the fields of their special interest The Conservation Department has been an active member of the IRA's program since 1956.

As professor of physical education and director of the university's athletic center, Kim is interested in broadening the scope of recreation in Korea. He is already noted as a pioneer of recreation in that country and has written several publications dealing with physical education.

A brief study of outdoor recreation in Michigan has been planned for professor Kim's stay here. He will be shown how families and youths make use of the state's recreational facilities by visiting several outdoor centers.

Joy Harmon Changes Her Mind—and Figure

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Miss Joy Harmon, 19, proprietor of the most astounding figure east of Hollywood, has been trying to play down her sexy look lately—so I took her to dinner and let her tell me about it.

WILSON

"You see, recently they announced I was going to change my name to 'Joy Forty-two' because my measurement is 42," Joy said when we sat down and she ordered a fruit salad.

"Well, that was bad taste, and besides it wasn't true. I never intended to change my name. How would it sound on the phone—'Is Miss Forty-two there?'"

Joy, who plays Sam Levene's sexy secretary in "Make a Million," said "I'm not 42 any longer—I'm only 39½—I lost weight.

"I was always crazy about Marilyn Monroe. I used to wiggle like she did. I was very shy in school; I was embarrassed when the boys whistled at me. I used to eat my lunch in the ladies' room, I was so shy, but I would still wear the tightest sweater and skirts I could get to school. Wasn't that silly?"

Well, it wasn't so silly the night of Mike Todd's famous Madison Square Garden party.

"Mommy took a nightgown she'd hardly ever worn since she was married and made an evening gown out of it. It was the lowest cut evening gown I ever saw. Oh, it was real fitting. They had me sitting on top of a cake at the party."

"And now I have a fan club!" Joy exclaimed. "It has about 30 members. They send in $1 and get a wallet picture and a big picture, signed. They get a journal, too, of what I'm doing. Gladys Hart, the president, is also the president of Susan Strasberg's fan club."

Joy rides home every night after the show on the New Haven RR to Westport, Conn., and her father, Homer Harmon, former publicist at the Roxy Theater, meets her. "Mommy and Daddy are terribly strict with me—they think I ought to be married when I'm about 30!" she says.

Miss Harmon, whose big ambition is to be on Jack Paar's show (she's been on many others), was wearing a white cotton dress with a big red bow and white polka dots when we met. And her blonde hair was in a pony tail.

"I used to want to impersonate Brigitte Bardot, but it's no good. You have to be yourself. That's why I'm playing my figure down now!" Joy said.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Cesar Romero declined a Cuban gov't post. Gene Tierney turned down a fat offer to write a book about her experiences . . . Ingrid Bergman heard that Berlin mayor Willy Brandt was a fan, sent him an autographed photo.

Nat (King) Cole turned down a European tour and a round-the-world trip; he'll vacation at home, watching the Dodgers . . . Holly Brooke, a former Miss New Jersey, will appear in an off Broadway production.

Moderates Gain in Virginia Vote

Local Option Approach to Integration Taking Place of Resistance

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Virginia's moderate local option approach to integration, built from the ruins of the court-crumbled "massive resistance" laws, gained ground today as result of a hard-fought Democratic primary election.

Key legislators supporting Gov. J. Lindsay Almond's program of "freedom of choice" fought off segregationist candidates to win renomination yesterday.

The Almond forces even picked up one vote in the State Senate, where their margin of victory was only one vote last spring. Former Sen. Victor P. Wilson ousted incumbent Stuart E. Hallett of the "massive resistance" forces in Hampton and Newport News.

Also bounced from the Legislature was delegate Inez Baker of She was swamped by Donald—Portsmouth, who had called for a stronger anti-integration policy. Sandie, an Almond supporter, while Willard J. Moody who also supported Almond won renomination for Portsmouth's second seat in the House of Delegates.

Mrs. Baker's defeat was offset by the victory in Charlottesville, where school integration begins next September, of Harold M. Burrows who edged incumbent William R. Hill, an Almond backer.

The election battle centered on the Senate where Almond's program underwent severe tests last spring.

The "freedom of choice" program passed then allows localities to choose a number of courses rather than close their schools in defiance to accepting integration.

Russian Bosses Poorly Dressed

They Might as Well Be Wearing Blankets, Says Adolphe Menjou

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Adolphe Menjou, the very model of a well-dressed man, says Russian politicians are among the world's worst dressed.

"Look at any one of them," said the actor with a grimace. "Khrushchev. Gromyko. Mikoyan. They might as well be wearing blankets."

Menjou made the comment while preparing his own annual list of the best dressed men in the world. First, though, he expressed displeasure about the clothing worn by some Americans, particularly industrialists.

"Only a handful of our top business leaders dress smartly," he said. "And in my own backyard—Hollywood—I see very few examples which cheer me.

"Actors are on my list, but most of them discourage me. I went to the Academy Award show this year and saw a horribly dressed group. Almost every actor there needed a full-dress outfit."

Anyway, here's Menjou's list of 13 "best dressed" men:

TV News and Reviews

Andy Williams Refresher Best of Summer Season

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Summer TV has shown us just about all it has to offer, I guess, so this is as good a time as any to vote for "best" of the season.

My vote goes to the Andy Williams show on CBS-TV. With two shows gone, it is clear that Andy has a show that it is as informal as Brigitte Bardot's last beach party. Also, it is fresh. It swings. It experiments.

Last night, for example, a successful experiment involved an Americanized version of a Japanese Kabuki dance, in which Miyoshi Umeki sang, "They Can't Take That Away From Me."

Not experimental but charming nonetheless was Andy's duet with Miss Umeki in "Getting To Know You." The comedy highlight, to my mind, was the brief bit by mimic Frank Gorshin in the role of Boris Karloff playing opposite a recording of Sir Cedric Hardwicke in Ibsen's "Enemy of the People."

TWO IN ONE

Actually, the show is two shows in one. Andy Features "The World of LP's" a segment that samples some off-beat record albums and finds song-and-dance inspiration in them. It's a solid hunk of entertainment and deserves to be preserved after the summer.

SHORT SHOTS: Steve Canyon last night dealt with a crippled jet that landed on a foam-covered landing strip. Not a civilian in sight, along the runway, though. The Kingston Trio spanked some life into the Jimmie Rodgers show.

In the same show on NBC-TV, Jill Corey went sexy in a torch song but still looked too sweet for the role — The mother-daughter comedy team of Betty and Jan Rhodes was squeezed off the Andy Williams Show last night when the show ran behind time.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: An original TV drama by S. Lee Pogostin that David Susskind hoped to present as a Dupont Show of the Month on CBS-TV now is scheduled to kick off NBC-TV's new Sunday Showcase series on Sept. 20. Titled, "People Kill People Sometimes," the one-hour drama is being produced and directed by John Frankenheimer.

The word is that Susskind relinquished the property because his Dupont series once again will stick to accepted literary "originals" in the forthcoming season.

Paddy Chayefsky's first TV drama in four years will deal with the beat generation and will be produced by Fred Coe for Playhouse 90.

This same CBS-TV series will present a musical version of Stephen Vincent Benet's short story, "The Devil and Dan'l Webster" in the fall, produced by John Houseman.

Publishers Face Another Battle

Three Wayne County Newspapers Will Get New Trial in Libel Suit

LANSING (AP) — Publishers of three weekly newspapers faced another courtroom battle with a former Detroit police official today in a long-standing libel dispute that carried to the state Supreme Court.

The high court yesterday ordered a new trial in a libel suit brought by Kennedy Lawrence, deputy superintendent of police in Detroit from 1947 until his retirement in 1955.

The court held Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara of Wayne County erred in directing the jury to decide a complicated question involving "privilege" granted to news outlets publishing defamatory material. The question was a matter for the judge to decide, the court said.

Lawrence sued Jack E. MacGriff and Floyd E. McGriff for articles published in 1950 and 1951 in the Redford Record, the Brightmoor Journal and the Home Gazette. The three weeklies are published in western Wayne County and have a total circulation exceeding 16,000.

A circuit court jury in 1955 awarded Lawrence $20,000 damages and the defendants, including the newspapers and the Redford Printing Co., appealed. They asserted the articles were published to disclose "the truth concerning corruption in government."

Lawrence's suit contended they were published with "malicious intent."

That is the sole question the jury should have decided, said Justice Talbot Smith, author of the opinion. The newspaper, as such, was invested with the rights of privilege.

Meeting to Set Waterford Area School Tax Rate

The Waterford Township Board of Education at its meeting tomorrow night will set the school tax rates to be spread for the 1959-60 school year.

Other items on the agenda are a report by Schools Superintendent William Shunck relative to the handling of pupil overload during the next school year.

Bids for additional drive and parking areas at the new Thomas M. Cooley School will be received at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow, and the Board will open the bids at the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

There will be further consideration of school site acquisition, and consideration of architectural contracts for the new $5 million building program.

Elected Board of Education officers were Frederick J. Poole, president; Edmund Windeler, secretary; and Lester Carlson, treasurer.

Poole will name committee appointments for the coming year.

MSU Man Appointed Dean of Utica College

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — Dr. James W. Harrison of Lansing, Mich., has been appointed dean of Utica College of Syracuse University, it was announced today.

Harrison, who has been assistant director of continuing education at Michigan State University, succeeds the late Ralph F. Strebel at Utica.

Bomb Scare Delays Houghton-Detroit Flight

LANSING (AP)—A North Central Airlines DC3 en route from Houghton to Detroit with 11 passengers was stopped at Lansing last night after an anonymous phone caller said a bomb had been planted on the plane.

State Police and FBI agents searched the plane for 45 minutes. No bomb was discovered. The airliner, which started its flight at Green Bay, Wis., was allowed to proceed to Detroit after the search.

41 Dead, 16 Missing in Japanese Floods

TOKYO (AP)—Floods following torrential rains spread over southern Japan today and the unofficial death toll rose to 41, with 16 persons missing.

U.S. Air Force helicopters flew rescue missions. Three American Christian service groups shipped flour, milk and clothing to the hard-hit rice-raising areas of Fukuoka and Yamaguchi.

Road and rail traffic was paralyzed in most of northern Kyushu, Japan's southernmost island, and southwestern Honshu.

The Construction Ministry estimated damage to public works in the flooded areas at more than 5½ million dollars.

Japan Gets Russia's Bill for Rescuing Fishermen

TOKYO (UPI) — What price rescue?

Russia has just sent Japan a bill for 500,000 yen ($1,393) for expenses incurred when Soviet patrols rescued Japanese fishermen in distress off northern Japan.

The expense items included $223.03 for emergency appendectomies on crew members, $669.08 for "services," $75.27 for picking up five survivors of a sinking, and $278.78 for emergency repairs on ships.

They Reduce Fatigue, Says One

Experts Hail Safety Belts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Engineers, a physician, safety experts and an Air Force officer called "the fastest man on earth" all say the biggest automotive bargain today is a life-saving seat belt.

Col. John Stapp, who rocketed 632 miles an hour over land, told a House commerce subcommittee yesterday that automobile manufacturers should include seat belt attachments in all new cars.

Stapp traveled 632 miles an hour in a rocket sled during tests at Holloman Air Force Base in New Mexico, and was snapped to a dead halt in 1.4 seconds against, among other safety equipment, a three-inch webbed lap belt.

As a result of the tests, he recommended seat belts and head-high seat backs for all cars.

Stapp testified that he found seat belts are comfortable, reduce fatigue by keeping the back against the seat and prevent the driver from "side lashing" on turns.

Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, physician and executive director of the American Public Health Assn., suggested federal financing to support research efforts aimed at seeking the causes of accidents and preventing them before they occur.

Mattison said areas still to be explored included the psychological and emotional factors affecting a driver, the effects of fatigue and control of exhaust gases as health hazards.

A mechanical engineering professor at the University of Minnesota, James J. Ryan, presented a "safety package" he claimed could cut highway death and injury accidents 50 per cent if its use were made mandatory.

Ryan said a 1956 model Ford fitted with his safety features was driven into a solid barricade at 20 miles an hour with no injuries to the passengers and no damage to the car.

The "package" included a seat belt, shock-absorbing bumpers and shields, a steering wheel that retracted upon impact and a recessed dash panel, plus shock absorbers on the seats.

William I. Stieglitz, safety engineer for Republic Aircraft Co., said seat belts should be mandatory equipment on all new cars.

The subcommittee is considering legislation that would set up standards for all vehicles purchased for government use.

Krushchev Continues Long Tour of Poland

WARSAW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev left Warsaw today on the first leg of an extensive tour of Poland.

Khrushchev's visit is aimed at demonstrating the solidarity of the Polish and Soviet Communist parties. He was accompanied on the tour by Polish Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki.

Friday Khrushchev will fly to the Baltic port of Szczecin, where he is expected to make an important statement on the German issue and to pledge again the Soviet Union's support for Poland's retention of the territory taken from Germany after World War II.

6,200 Railroad Workers Laid Off in Steel Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad will furlough 6,200 employes Thursday because of the steel strike. A spokesman estimates the strike will cost the railroad about 20 per cent of its freight business.

Those to be furloughed, the spokesman said, include 1,200 maintenance of way workers; 1,000 maintenance of equipment; 3,500 transportation, including train crews, and 500 miscellaneous.

Even by cutting the work force the railroad "will not begin to offset its losses as a result of the strike," the spokesman declared.

Measure Asks Safety Devices for Official Cars

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government, a big buyer of automobiles, would be required to take the lead in putting safer cars on the roads under a bill approved by a House commerce subcommittee.

The bill, by Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-La), would specify that autos bought by the government be equipped with safety belts, padded dashboards or other safety devices selected by the secretary of commerce.

The subcommittee also approved a measure by Rep. Paul F. Schenck (R-Ohio) which would prohibit the use of motor vehicles that discharge excessive amounts of hydrocarbon, a factor blamed for creating smog over cities.

Iraq Flag Flies at U. N.

Federal Grading of Lamb May Cease

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Department officials are expected to announce soon a final decision on their proposal to drop federal grading of lamb.

If the grading system is eliminated, consumers will no longer have the impartial assurance of a federal grader's stamp designating the quality of the lamb they buy.

Top department officials were reported convinced they should eliminate the grading service Sept. 1, following the wishes of producer groups and spokesmen for big meat packers.

The final announcement has been delayed twice, however, to give opponents a chance to register complaints. The deadline for filing complaints is July 20.

While top policy-making officials were reported to favor elimination of grading, one of the agriculture department's leading career livestock economists recently published a strong defense of meat grading.

Federal grading of meat for quality cuts the cost of marketing and helps both farmers and consumers, economist Arnold F. Breimyer wrote in an agriculture department publication. "The Livestock and Meat Situation."

The government offers packers a grading service on a voluntary basis for beef, veal, and lamb, Breimyer pointed out.

Without the use of grades and standards — whether federal or private — the selling of meat would have to be done on the basis of a personal inspection of each carcass by the buyer, Breimyer said. This would raise the cost of handling meat and would both reduce returns to livestock producers and incerase prices of meat to consumers," he said.

"Selling graded meat by specification, by contrast, lowers costs and helps producers and consumers," the economist added.

Breimyer said grading is so essential to modern merchandising of meat that if there is no federal service it will be replaced by a privately-operated system.

"But there is a real difference" between federal and private rating, the economist said. If there is no uniform federal system, there will be as many grading methods as there are firms handling meat, Breimyer contended. Consumers would lose the benefit of having a simple system of quality grades.

Breimyer added that grade standards must be reviewed constantly to make certain they conform to the needs of the market.

The economist said grading helps small packers more than big packers who have the resources to promote their private brands on a nationwide basis. For this reason, Breimyer said, it's not surprising that big packers oppose federal grading of meats.

Lenawee Voters OK Special Education Fund

ADRIAN (AP) — Lenawee County school districts in a special election has approved a one-half mill tax to finance a special education program in the county for physically handicapped children.

The vote was 2,565 yes and 1,954 no.

The special tax will raise $115,000 a year for 15 years.

Cardinal, Ex-Communist Team Up to Do Expose'

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston and onetime Communist editor Louis Budenz of the "Daily Worker" are teaming up to write a catechism-like pamphlet exposing the "intrinsic evil of communism."

Cardinal Cushing, in a talk at Wethersfield Monday, said "We are up against an international conspiracy" in communism and that "all who believe in God—Catholics, Protestants and Jews—must get together to fight it."

Budenz now is a Roman Catholic convert.

There are about 1,200 cotton mills in the United States.

Dems Oppose Fee for Park Admission

LANSING (AP)—Strong Democratic opposition loomed today for a plan to charge a $2 annual admission fee to state parks.

Rep Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit), Democratic floor leader, attacked the Senate-approved bill last night as "a pill they're trying to make you swallow." The measure was scheduled for a vote today.

Gate charges, including a 50-cent fee for one-day visitors, would finance a five-million-dollar improvement program for Michigan's more than 60 state parks and recreation areas. The program, to be financed from revenue bonds, would not be started before 1960.

Some Democrats expressed doubts about a provision authorizing the State Conservation Commission to set size and pace of the improvement programs as well as the projects to be undertaken.

To meet the objections, Rep. Wilfred G. Bassett (R-Jackson) said he would introduce an amendment requiring legislative approval of major projects.

Rep. Hans C. Rasmussen (R-Ludington), chairman of the House Conservation Committee, said state parks officials planned admissions charges at only 28 parks. In the rest, he said, location, size or other factors make collections impractical.

Soviet-American Exchange Visits May Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet-American exchange visits of scientists, entertainers, artists and industrial experts may be extended for another two years.

Soviet and American diplomats tentatively plan to start talks here next month on details of an agreement to keep the program going.

The first exchange agreement, signed Jan. 27, 1958, has been 90 per cent completed. In the first year of the agreement, 953 Americans toured the Soviet Union in 81 separate projects. The Soviet Union has sent over 565 members of 70 projects, mainly in industrial and scientific fields.

By the time the agreement expires next January, both sides expect to have exchanged about 1,500 visitors.
