New Pope Appeals to Rulers of World 'Work for Peace'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII broadcast an appeal to all rulers of the world today to work for peace. His call was in the tradition of his predecessor Pope Pius XII.

The new sovereign pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, broadcasting from the Sistine Chapel less than 20 hours after his election, urged that weapons of destruction be converted into tools of progress.

His swords-into-plowshares appeal was taken as a firm sign that he intends to continue the fight for peace which made Pius XII known as the "Pope of Peace."

Pope John — Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, patriarch of Venice, until his election Tuesday by the College of Cardinals—prayed to God for strength and courage in his new tasks. He called especially upon the Virgin Mary for assistance.

The 76-year-old Pope spoke in Latin for 20 minutes in a firm and powerful voice. Before the address, he received the homage of the 51 cardinals gathered in the chapel.

ASKS GOD'S HELP

He asked God's help for those in countries where there is no religious freedom—an indirect reference to Communist-ruled nations—and for all who suffer. He told those who "have in their hands the fate of the peoples" that peace comes from the interior soul and cannot be imposed.

His quickness in going before the radio to give his thoughts to the world was taken as a sign that he intends his reign to be a dynamic one.

Radio was one of the means frequently used by his predecessor to give his messages to the world and to try to reach the peoples of Soviet Russia, Red China and other Communist-dominated lands.

The new Pope is expected to be crowned within two weeks.

The jeweled, three-tiered tiara of papacy, topped by golden orb and cross, perhaps will be placed upon his head Sunday, Nov. 9, in the climax at St. Peter's Basilica of the drama that began with the fatal illness of Pope Pius at Castel Gandolfo.

Two Athletes Among 7 Arraigned at 'M' for Gambling

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Six University of Michigan students, including varsity fullback Tony Rio and basketball Capt. Jack Lewis, stood mute today when arraigned in municipal court on charges stemming from football gambling on the campus.

All demanded trial by jury and Municipal Judge Francis O'Brien set trial dates starting Nov. 12 and running through Nov. 20.

All seven are specifically charged with engaging in an illegal occupation. Conviction could mean 90 days in jail and fines of $100.

They are accused of handling football spot cards. Ann Arbor Police said $10,000 a week was going off the campus in wagering. The prosecutor's office said the amount was closer to $3,500 a week.

Arraigned today along with Rio and Lewis: Nick E. Mitea, 21, Ecorse, Durwood J. Collins, 22, Houston, Tex., Michael G. Dodgson, 21, Grand Rapids, Carl M. Riseman, 21, Detroit, associate sports editor of the campus newspaper, The Michigan Daily.

Two student reporters on the newspaper helped uncover the alleged illegal operation by working their way into the gambling operations and posing as participants.

The arrests climaxed an investigation of nearly five weeks by Ann Arbor Police, sheriff's officers and state police. Detective Lt. George Stauch said "there was a leak somewhere at the key stage

Man Extricates 2 Fighting Deer Caught in Fence

The "ones that got away" were two buck deer which had locked antlers while fighting in a field near his home. Taylor said he first tried to free the deer by using a long pole.

He said the bucks threw themselves into a fence where one side of the antlers protruded through and he released them. Taylor estimated each of the deer weighed about 175 pounds.

Taylor said one of the bucks—a 10-pointer—appeared nearly exhausted when he freed them and staggered away. The second, with eight points, ran into woods nearby.

GM Production in City Reported Near Normal

Pontiacs Roll Off Line Since Yesterday, With Fisher Gaining Speed

Production was reported at near normal in Pontiac's three General Motors Corp. plants today in the wake of three weeks of strikes.

Automobiles began rolling off Pontiac Motor Division assembly lines yesterday, thanks to settlement Saturday of the Fisher Body Division strike, a Pontiac Motor spokesman said.

A Fisher Body spokesman said the plant was attempting to reach full production in the near future.

At both plants, as well as at GMC Truck & Coach Division, full employment was reported. Layoffs which occurred over the weekend at GMC Truck & Coach were ended yesterday.

An estimated 13,600 UAW workers were reported back on the job in Pontiac today. The three UAW local unions all went on strike Oct. 2, when the national GM strike deadline passed.

Although the national GM contract with the international UAW was signed later Oct. 2, local unions throughout the nation were given 20 days in which to negotiate local wage and seniority agreements.

GMC Truck & Coach settled Oct. 13; Pontiac Motor Division Oct. 21; and Fisher Body Oct. 25.

Labor leaders at all three plants reported satisfaction with the new three-year pacts and saw in them the basis for labor peace for the coming three years.

Spokesmen for the three companies hailed the fact that production was nearing normal again.

$130,115 Raised Toward Goal for 55 Agencies

Volunteer Workers Urged to Redouble Fund Seeking Efforts

Four hundred Pontiac Area United Fund workers were urged to redouble their efforts to meet "the tremendous challenge ahead," as they gathered for the Fund's first report luncheon held this noon at the Elks Temple.

Campaign Chairman Philip J. Monaghan announced earlier that the residents and workers of this area have pledged $130,115 or 26 per cent of the $501,000 goal, for the 55 community service agencies included in this year's Tenth Anniversary Appeal.

"Every segment of this industrial area is united in a common effort to prove that Pontiac is truly a city with a mighty heart," stated Monaghan. "Through our annual pledges to the United Fund, we are able not only to help those who cannot help themselves, but by giving once for all we help build and maintain a healthier, happier community."

The Commercial Division, under the dual chairmanship of Judge Clark J. Adams and Berkeley Voss has reached 35.5 per cent of its quota. In dollars and cents, this comes to $63,752 toward the division's $179,371 quota.

One of the highlights of the Commercial Division report was the announcement that Mrs. Gladys Bump's Waterford Commercial solicitors had topped 100 per cent of their $500 goal.

Alfred Girard's special gift workers continue to pace the Commercial Division with 95 per cent of their quota already audited.

The overall report of the door-to-door solicitors comprising the Women's Division pegged it at 69.1 per cent of its $20,790 quota.

Mrs. J. S. Tuttle, Lake Angelus Chairman reported that her workers have already surpassed their $1,800 quota by $50, and still had more calls to make.

Mrs. Donald E. White and her other two chief lieutenants, Mrs. Noel Buckner, Pontiac Chairman, and Mrs. Robert Giroux, Waterford Chairman, expressed confidence their division would surpass its quota.

The four townships which became affiliated with the Pontiac Area United Fund last year were represented at this noon's luncheon. Harry Hall, Oxford Campaign Chairman reported his township has reached $4,028 or 67 per cent of its $6,036 goal.

Mrs. Alfred Dacey, Orion's Women's Division Chairman announced Orion's eight day old

'Big 4' Push Campaign

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Gov. G. Mennen Williams mapped out a busy schedule in Oakland County, including visits to Hazel Park High School and Lincoln High in Ferndale.

Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, waging a strong campaign against Potter, planned to be in Macomb County today.

Hart and Potter made a joint appearance yesterday at a meeting of the Michigan Education Association in Grand Rapids' Civic Auditorium.

They took opposite views on the efforts of the Eisenhower administration to further American educational programs.

Williams, speaking before the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America yesterday in Detroit, said Republicans "are again talking about prosperity as an achievement of the GOP in the last five years."

Bagwell campaigned in a motor caravan through some 14 Oakland County communities yesterday, restating his charge that the "bad business climate" in Lansing is driving industry from the state.

GM in Black for 3rd Quarter

Only One of Big Three to Show Profit, With $65 Million Earning

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors is the only one of the big three auto makers to make a profit in this year's third quarter.

GM reports a third-quarter profit of $65,633,266, about halfway down from the $122,175,621 profit in the corresponding period last year.

Ford recently announced a loss of $21,600,000 and Chrysler a loss of $20,000,000 in the third quarter that ended in September.

General Motors' profits the first nine months of 1958 were reported as $399,147,515, down from $603,412,329 in the corresponding 1957 period.

Both Ford and Chrysler reported losses the first nine months of 1958. Ford's loss was listed as $16,200,000. Chrysler said its nine-month loss was $45,200,000.

GM said its earnings per share of common stock were 22 cents in the third quarter and $1.39 for the nine-month period, compared with 1957 returns of 43 cents and $2.14, respectively.

Sales in the first nine months of 1958 totaled $6,744,000,000 compared with $8,235,000,000 in the first nine months last year, GM said. Third-quarter sales this year were $1,623,000,000 compared with $2,321,000,000 in last year's third quarter.

Ike, Space Council Talk

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower summoned his space council to a White House meeting today to take up the explosive controversy between the Army and the new civilian space agency. Many authorities believed the Army's future in space exploration and rocket weapons development was at stake in its fight with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

Michigan Tax Tops in 8 State Survey

LANSING (AP)—The Geerlings Tax Study Committee has concluded that state and local taxes in Michigan burden business more heavily than those imposed in seven other states.

The findings were issued yesterday by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland), chairman of the Senate group. A House committee led by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) is surveying the entire Michigan tax picture. The report was prepared by Dwight B. Yntema, Hope College economics professor and committee research director, on the basis of 1956 data.

It compared state and local taxes paid by firms operating both in Michigan and in one or more of these other states: Illinois, Indiana, New Jersey, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Of 275 industries surveyed—including retail establishments, 233 — or 85 per cent — paid lower taxes per employe in other states than in Michigan, Yntema found.

In Ohio and Illinois, 109 plants—or 98 per cent of those studied—listed lower taxes than in Michigan.

"Only Wisconsin," the report said, "levies taxes on business that may be considered somewhat comparable to Michigan taxes and, even for this state, findings point to a moderately lower burden than in Michigan."

Of 186 plants engaged in manufacturing only, 163, or 88 per cent, listed lower taxes per employe than in Michigan. All with operations in Ohio and Illinois reported lower taxes than in Michigan.

Assuming typical annual nonpayroll taxes per worker in Michigan at $300, the report drew this comparison with other states: Illinois $120, Ohio $132, Indiana $159, New Jersey and New York $186, Pennsylvania $219 and Wisconsin $246.

Yntema said he believed the results were representative of all industry in the survey states.

5 Tests Today at Nevada Site

Slated Nuclear Firings Includes Area's Biggest Underground Blast

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —What could be the busiest day in the 13 years of nuclear tests opened with an atomic bang in the wee hours today.

The test, the oft-postponed Mazama, had power equal to not more than 1,000 tons of TNT.

It was postponed three times today because of a generator failure. Technicians, working in the crisp, desert morning finally repaired the generator and the blast went off almost two hours behind schedule.

Five tests, including a whopper underground blast, were scheduled in a speeded up program to beat the Friday test deadline.

If all go off, it will set a record for nuclear tests in a single day. Three in one day were the most fired previously.

Little Change Seen in Next Few Days

Little change in temperature is predicted by the U.S. Weather Bureau for the next few days. Fair and partly cloudy is the forecast. The low tonight will be near 38.

October's sunny skies will continue until Friday night when showers are possible. Saturday, Sunday and Monday will be slightly warmer.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 35. The thermometer read 35 at 2 p.m.

If City Voters OK Sewage Bond

Plan to Incinerate Sludge

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of six articles on Pontiac's sewage treatment plant, and the need for expansion of such facilities. A $3,300,000 bond issue for a new plant and expansion of the present one will be decided Tuesday when Pontiac property owners go to the polls.)

By PETE LOCHBILER

A $707,500 installation to turn sewage sludge into sterile ash will be the main feature of the new sewage treatment plant, if property owners approve the $3,300,000 bond issue Tuesday.

The sludge incinerator will be the city's first, putting an end to obnoxious sludge heaps at the present plant.

Sludge will be pumped from the present plant at East boulevard and Featherstone road to the new one at Auburn and Opdyke roads for incineration.

The incinerator also will be used on sludge that is digested at the new plant, thus the city won't be accumulating any more sludge heaps.

Another new feature earmarked for the new plant is a primary grease flotation tank. This would remove most grease (which is plentiful in industrial sewage) before it hits the main plant, thus avoiding troublesome greased-clogged lines.

Plans call for the new plant to straddle the Clinton River, into which the sewage would pass as clean effluent after it has been treated. Site and plans have already been paid for.

New buildings would be spread

Porch Lights Signal 'Spooks Welcome'

Six to 7 p.m. Halloween night is the witching hour recommended by the Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department and the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

It's suggested that people who wish to treat the youngsters with goodies turn on their porch lights between those hours Friday night so that the costumed kiddies will know which homes they're welcome at.

Pontiac reports that 22,000 boys and girls of school age are registered in the annual Mystery Treat Contest. Prizes will go to children who are home by the hours recommended by the recreation department.

Grade school children should be home by 9 p.m.; junior high students by 10:30 p.m. and senior high pupils by 11 p.m., the department says.

★ ★ ★

With the help of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Board of Education, the department will call youngsters' homes and if they're home on time, they'll get prizes.

A bicycle heads the list of prizes for the grade school division. Other prizes for grade schoolers are a radio and five silver dollars, and for junior and senior high schoolers, wrist watches, pen and pencil sets and two five dollar awards.

The prizes will be presented Friday night by the Jaycees.

The Parks & Recreation department in cooperation with PTAs, neighborhood associations and other community groups are sponsoring parties for boys and girls of elementary age at Herrington, Wever, Jefferson, Emerson, Wilson and Hawthorne schools. A junior high party will be held at 8:30 p.m. at Jefferson Junior High for pupils of that school.

Only 1 GM Plant Still on Strike

Another With Uncertain Status, but Fleetwood in Detroit Ordered Back

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors' slowly improving labor situation today showed only one plant on strike and another with uncertain status.

The United Auto Workers Union yesterday ordered one of the two remaining GM locals with unsettled plant grievances to return to work.

There was no decision immediately from Nick Cervelli, president of Local 15 which represents about 3,500 UAW members at GM's Fleetwood Cadillac Body plant in Detroit.

After Local 15's bargaining team came to terms with GM on plant grievances, the production workers rejected the settlement 744-689.

But skilled workers ratified the agreement 216-83 and UAW President Walter Reuther said the total vote—905-827—favored a return to work.

He ordered the strikers back to work but said if new negotiations didn't bring a satisfactory agreement in a reasonable time the UAW would authorize a new walkout for the local.

All 124 GM car-making plants were shut down by UAW strikes over local disputes in early October. The local walkouts continued to plague GM even after a new national agreement was settled with a companywide strike 12 hours old. GM resumed production only last week.

Following their arrests Tuesday, Michigan Athletic Director Fritz Crisler said of Rio and Lewis:

I think the publicity will hurt my football. No matter what happens, people will thing I'm wrong. They always take a negative attitude toward bad publicity."

Rio's trial was set for Nov. 20; Lewis' for Nov. 19; Riseman's and Dodgson's Nov. 13; Mitea's and Collins' on Nov. 12.

Chilly Breezes Continue to Fan Across North

PROGRESS AT MSUO — Roy J. Alexander, left, director of student affairs at Michigan State University Oakland, checks with Clarence Kremer, job superintendent for the Fredman Construction Co., on the status of the first academic building now under construction on the northwest part of the campus. The one-floor wing has been completely bricked, and one-third of this wing is now roofed.

To Be Ready for Classes Next Fall

MSUO Building 'on Schedule'

Large cranes, heavy steel girders, tons of concrete and hours of hard work are still the order of the day at Michigan State University Oakland.

Since construction began early last May, this has been the daily pattern as the first academic building rises on the rolling 1,600-acre campus.

"Sister" school to Michigan State University, but designed to be virtually autonomous with its own faculty and administration, MSUO will open its doors to a freshman class in the fall of 1959.

"We're right on schedule," comments Roy J. Alexander, MSUO director of student affairs. "The building will be ready late next summer and will contain 39 classrooms, two large lecture rooms, four elementary and advanced chemistry and physics laboratories, a library, and administrative and faculty offices."

In reporting on construction progress, George Karas, MSUO supervising engineer, revealed that one wing of the building has been completely bricked and one-third of this wing is now roofed.

The south end of the three-story, or classroom, wing has been bricked, with the remaining brick work slated for the next four to six weeks.

"Pre-cast panels faced with marble chips are now in place, and work has begun on pre-cast panels with enamel face plates on the columns of the wing," he adds.

Karas explained that a relatively new concept in school heating will be used at MSUO. "A boiler will be installed next week using hot water under high pressure — giving us more heat storage in the mains and making the transporting of heat more economical," he says.

Ike to End Election Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, back from a three-state campaign tour, will close his drive for election of a Republican Congress with a nationwide television-radio address from Baltimore Friday night.

The President returned to the capital by plane early today after a day and half of tub-thumping for votes in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York.

TO CLIMAX CAMPAIGN

★ ★ ★

However, he pitched his politicking on a less harsh note in New York Tuesday. He spoke at two rallies of party workers and urged election of Nelson A. Rockefeller as governor and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating to the U.S. Senate.

Rockefeller joined Keating in telling enthusiastic audiences of GOP workers that they as the ticket leaders were happy Eisenhower came to New York — and that his visit had helped them.

There were 300 to 400 campaign workers on hand as planned at each of the two party rallies at which Eisenhower spoke in New York. He hit out at the Democrats again, but not nearly so sharply as he did in Pennsylvania and West Virginia—and in California and Chicago last week.

'WING SHOT' AT DEMS

In New York he swatted at what he termed the dominant wing of the Democratic party. But he didn't say, as he had earlier, that the wing is made up of radicals and advocates of harebrained spending schemes. He put it this way:

★ ★ ★

"What we are fighting against is the dominant wing of the party, and it is that party which I believe does not, in its practice, in its teachings, hold to these straightforward, honest, sound and sane principles which have made America great."

At another point Eisenhower said the Republicans "believe in sane programs instead of hysterical programs."

Claim Office Set Up for Jet Victims

DETROIT (AP)—The Air Force is setting up a special office to process claims growing out of the crash of a British jet bomber in Detroit last Friday.

The Air Force said the office would be in operation from today through next Tuesday, and longer if necessary.

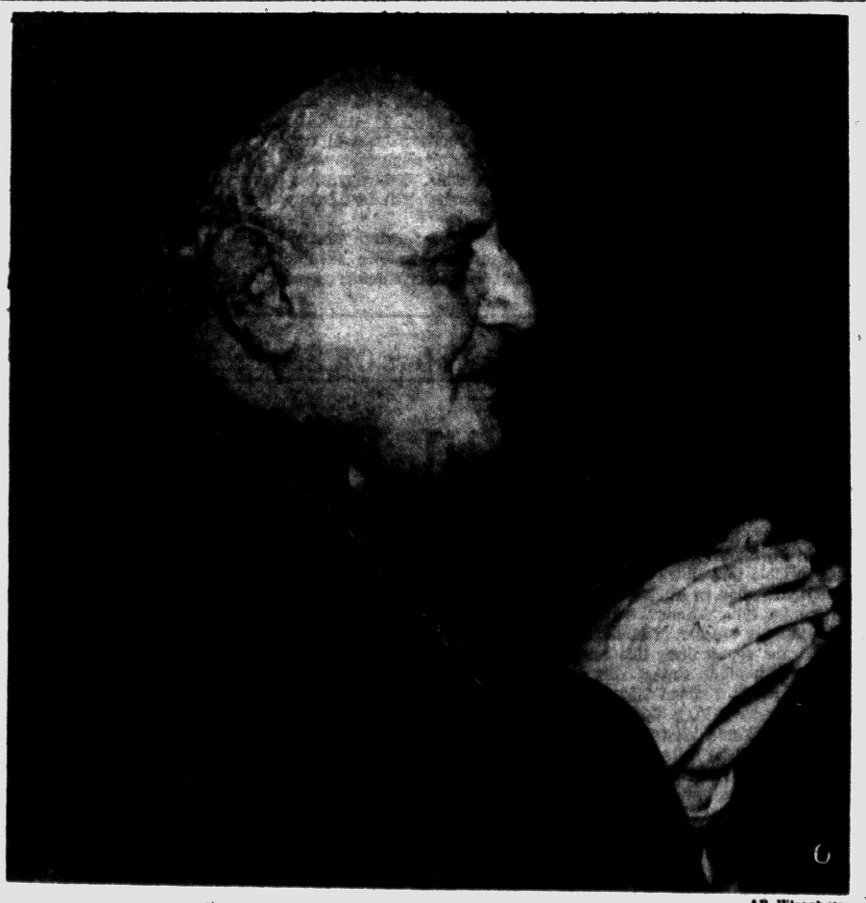

Three houses were demolished and about 60 were damaged when the delta-winged jet plunged to the ground in a middle class residential neighborhood.

Nobody on the ground was killed or injured seriously.

The six airmen, en route from Lincoln, England, to Lincoln, Neb., on a combined goodwill and training mission, were presumed dead.

NEW POPE AS A VATICAN NUNCIO—Pope John XXIII, chosen today as Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, was an apostolic nuncio at Paris when he was caught in this intimate closeup in 1948 in the French capital. He was Monsignor Roncalli at the time.

After his broadcast, Pope John ordered the reopening of the doors of the conclave area, where 51 princes of the church had gone through the three tense days of balloting that finally led to his selection.

Bells of St. Peter's and of Rome's 500 churches pealed.

ROME FESTIVE

A brilliant sun shone over the Italian capital, which was in a festive mood. Throughout the city the posters announcing the death and funeral services for Pope Pius had disappeared. In their places were bright new posters hailing the new pontiff.

There was jubilation in Pope John's native north Italian hamlet, Sotto Il Monte, and in Venice at elevation of the jovial, portly patriarch who in the Catholic view becomes the 262nd vicar of Christ on earth and a direct successor of St. Peter.

VENICE AGLOW

Venice glowed with lights. The city of canals went wild.

As one of the first acts of his pontificate, Pope John elevated Msgr. Alberto di Iorio to the rank of cardinal. Msgr. di Iorio, 74, had served as secretary of the papal conclave, and tradition is that the prelate who fills such duties is named a cardinal at the conclusion.

Could Influence $16 Million Plan

Public Works Unit Delays Its Action on Clinton River Project

Pontiac voters Nov. 4 may help to decide a big question mark in the plans for a $16,500,000 Clinton River Sewage District project by the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Harold K. Schone, acting DPW director, said the question is the degree to which Pontiac participates in the project.

Schone told a Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce audience yesterday that plans will go ahead whether or not Pontiac voters approve the $3,300,000 sewage treatment plant expansion bond issue Tuesday.

The occasion of Schone's talk was the first Foundation for Prosperity conference sponsored by the Chamber's Industrial Affairs Committee at Pontiac Elks Temple. The DPW head was the last of five speakers who stressed community and area plannings at the all-day conference.

Since the projected 250-square mile sewage district Schone is planning must find treatment facilities somewhere, there are four big questions which Pontiac must answer, he said:

(1) Will the city enlarge its present facilities, which at present are running at capacity?

(2) If the facilities are enlarged, would the city be willing and able to enlarge its service district to outside areas?

(3) If not, would the city be willing to release outside areas (such as Waterford Township and Sylvan Lake) from their sewage treatment agreements?

And (4) if Pontiac does not increase its own treatment facilities, would it be willing to turn to an outside disposal plant for service?

DEPENDS ON COOPERATION

Schone said that success of the project depends on the cooperation of Pontiac, which lies almost in the heart of the district to be served, and Macomb County, which lies in the eastern half of the Clinton River basin.

Plans for the Oakland County half of the district should be under way by Jan. 1, Schone said.

The DPW is seeking a $400,000 advance from the federal government to finance planning, he said. This would not be a grant, and would have to be paid back, Schone emphasized.

Communities involved would be Avon, Pontiac, Waterford, Independence and Orion Townships principally, plus parts of Oakland, Addison, Oxford, Brandon and Springfield Townships plus smaller portions of several other townships.

The DPW is cooperating with the communities involved in drawing up plans, said Schone.

NEED ADVANCED PLANNING

The DPW director emphasized the need for advanced planning in four big areas on which expansion in north Oakland County hinges: sewers, drains, water and roads.

Area planning is the answer, he believes. "We have had our heads in the sand too many years," he commented, saying there has been a lack of local planning and a lack of responsibility on the part of county and inter-county agencies.

He said some small governments seem "to fear" larger, inter-community projects while others tend to make their own improvements without regard for other communities.

"Our county is 10 years behind in finding proper funds to finance planning," Schone believed.

He chided the state legislature for failure to provide "many tools which," he said, the DPW, the first of its kind in the state, needs to push through projects.

"In many cases, metropolitan area legislation has been blocked by rural areas and sometimes individual, metropolitan area communities have sided against it too," Schone said.

'SOLVE PROBLEM OURSELVES'

For instance, Schone said, there are no major problems in north Oakland County in which townships are not involved. But he called the 15-mill township-county tax limitation "inadequate and antiquated" in the face of financing demands.

"It is my firm belief that we should be able to solve our drain, water and sewage problems ourselves," Schone concluded. "If we can't do it, then the federal and state governments will have to step in and do it for us.

"This would certainly be a blow to self-prestige and the right of self-government."

The Day in Birmingham

Youngsters Will March in Halloween Parade

BIRMINGHAM — Led by the Chrysler Kiltie Band from Highland Park, several thousand Birmingham youngsters will march in the annual Halloween parade Friday evening.

The line of march will form about 7 p.m. at Chester and Martin streets, and move off promptly at 7:30.

★ ★ ★

Prizes, refreshments and entertainment will be provided by the city's businessmen. Following the parade a dance will be held in the high school gym. Other dance parties will take place at Barnum and Derby junior high schools. Motion pictures will be shown at Baldwin School for elementary school youngsters.

All children of school age who live in the Birmingham School District are invited. Approximately 7,000 tickets have been distributed at the schools.

Following tradition, Birmingham youngsters take to the streets tomorrow night for "trick or treat" activities. Along with the costumed elves and goblins will be a group of boys and girls from the city's churches. Identified by orange badges, they will be seeking money for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

The Birmingham Council of Churches, which is sponsoring the fund-raising campaign for needy children across the seas, has divided the city into 10 districts. Five hundred youngsters are expected to participate in the house-to-house drive.

Apparently not satisfied with the $400 taken Monday night from the Birmingham Lumber Co. office, 1025 Haynes St., thieves ransacked the firm's office again last night.

Birmingham Police said only about $7 was missing from the doorless safe which was being repaired after having been broken into the previous night.

Files, ledgers and other contents in the safe were found this morning strewn about the office by William Rosso of Birmingham, co-owner of the company.

Robert Girardin, city recreation director, has been appointed by Recreation Association of Michigan as its representative to the National Association District Board. His term will begin next April.

Edward N. McDaniel

★ ★ ★

Mr. McDaniel had been employed as a gardener. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church in Lapeer and a veteran of World War I.

★ ★ ★

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Carl Neilson of Grayling and Mrs. William Cameron of Flint; two sons, Douglas C. of Manton and Richard N., stationed with the Air Force in Nebraska; one sister and one brother.

Mrs. Charles F. Miller

Service for Mrs. Charles F. (Anna) Miller, 85, of Highland Park, a member of a pioneer Birmingham family, will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Miller died Tuesday at William Beaumont Hospital following a brief illness.

Born in Detroit, she came to Birmingham with her parents as a small child, residing at what is now known as the Lambert Farm, located on 14-Mile road. She was a member of the Unity Lutheran Church in Detroit.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Andrew J. Kirkpatrick of Highland Park, Mrs. Frank T. King of Royal Oak and Mrs. Norman A. Purdy of Detroit; and one granddaughter.

Independence Township has collected $2,297 toward its $7,978 campaign goal, according to Mrs. DeVere Games, Women's Division Chairman.

Mrs. George Marble, Brandon Campaign Chairman, also attended the meeting; however, she had no progress report to make since Brandon's drive didn't kick off until last Thursday.

A highlight of the luncheon was the presentation of seven inch Indian Brave Oscars to leading workers who have surpassed 100 per cent of their quotas. Twenty-seven workers from the Women's and Commercial Divisions received the awards.

The Pontiac Manufacturers' Association sponsored today's luncheon. The businesses included in the P.M.A. are American Forging and Socket Company, Baldwin Rubber Company, Consumers Power Company, Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corporation, GMC Truck and Coach Division of General Motors Corporation, Jig Bushing Company, Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corporation, Pontiac Varnish Company, and Universal Oil Seal Company.

William Belaney served as Master of Ceremonies, and the Rev. Milton Bank, of Central Methodist Church gave the invocation.

Tentative Plans Call for Burning Sludge far apart to leave inner room for future expansion. Much of the city's 47-acre site would remain unoccupied, for future expansion also.

The new plant is designed to increase the city's sewage treatment capacity by one-third. The old plant will continue to handle an average 15 million gallons a day, while a 60 inch interceptor line leading to the new plant would funnel off an additional five million gallons a day in that direction.

In addition, the two plants would be tied together by a gas line. This would carry the methane gas, a by-product of sewage disposal, which is used to run plant pumps. The gas line would be two-way, providing a safeguard if trouble cropped up at either plant.

There also would be a laboratory at the new administration building, where chemical analysis can be applied to sewage samplings made not only at the plant sites, but also in spot checks throughout the city.

$411,000 — This covers the cost of the aeration tanks, pipe gallery and blower building which are the heart of the disposal system.

$275,000 — For two digesters, in which sludge would sit for 20 to 30 days to decompose before going to the incinerator.

$130,500 — For the initial screen and grit chambers to remove large items such as rags, leaves, bones, etc. This will be able to handle up to 90 million gallons on stormy days.

The administration building will cost about $93,600; the primary, settling tank, $66,000; final settling tank, $60,300; chlorine tank, $65,300; electrical work, $75,000; painting, $25,000; and Clinton River bridge, $32,000.

In addition, 15 per cent has been set aside for contingencies and engineering, financing and legal costs and another $31,000 earmarked for new land and rights-of-way costs.

There's $198,100 worth of construction earmarked for the old plant, including a new final settling tank to take pressure off the existing chlorine tanks; and two pumping stations, one to pump the dried sludge to the new incinerator.

Soviet Writer Won't Accept Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Soviet Author Boris Pasternak today refused to accept the Nobel Prize for Literature. He referred to "the society I live in."

★ ★ ★

"Because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in, I ought to say no thanks to the undeserved prize awarded me," Pasternak said. "Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will."

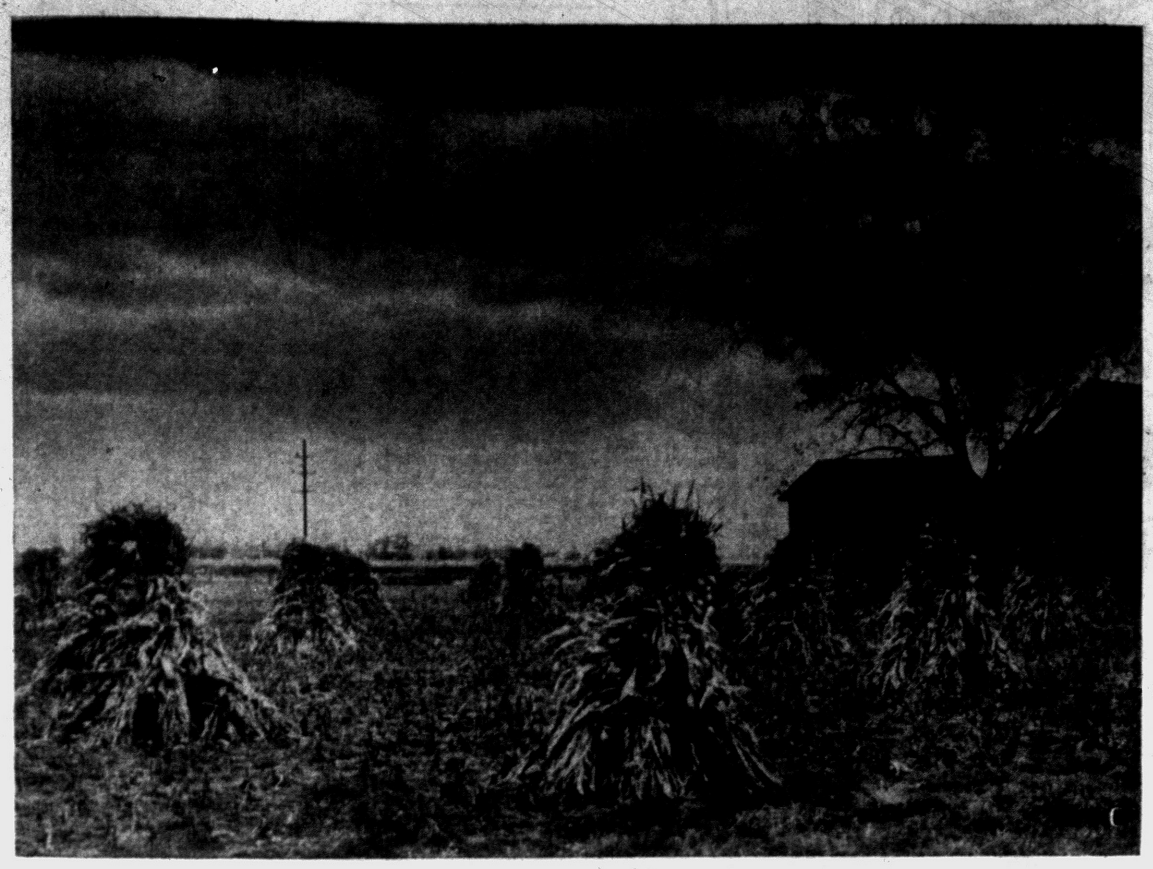

★ ★ ★

That cable read: "Immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed."

Today's cable indicated that in the meantime something had happened to Pasternak to change his mind. The author of the novel "Doctor Zhivago," which is critical of communism, has been under rigorous attack in the Soviet press.

Reds May Kill Test Ban Talks

Russia's Having Vetoed Year Suspension Seen as Likely Death-Blow

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Western diplomats at the U.N. grew increasingly fearful today that the Soviet Union plans to scuttle Big Three negotiations for an inspection system to enforce a ban on nuclear weapons tests.

★ ★ ★

The apprehension stemmed from the Soviet Union's latest flat rejection of the U.S.-British call for a one-year suspension of nuclear weapons tests, beginning with the opening of the Big Three talks in Geneva Friday.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told the U.N.'s 81-nation Political Committee Monday night that the Soviet Union was prepared to contribute "in every possible way" to success of the talks. He made plain, however, that the Kremlin would stick to its insistence on an unconditional agreement to suspend tests "immediately and forever."

The Western nuclear powers demand an inspection system to detect violations before agreeing to any permanent suspension of tests.

Zorin served notice once again that the Soviet Union intends to keep on with its nuclear weapon tests until their number equals the total the United States and Britain have set off since last March 31. On that date the Soviet Union announced it was suspending tests then resumed them Sept. 30.

★ ★ ★

Zorin's statement was the first public Soviet reply to President Eisenhower's challenge Saturday to the Soviet Union to join the United States and Britain in a one-year suspension of all atomic-hydrogen weapon tests. The two Western powers first proposed the one-year suspension last August. Later they proposed alternatively that tests be suspended during the Geneva talks.

Waterford School Head Cites Enrollment Increase

There has been an increase of approximately 6,500 pupils in the Waterford Township School District since 1950, according to a final enrollment report at the Board of Education office.

This year's enrollment of 808 more than last year, is the largest annual increase since the Pontiac Lake School District was annexed five years ago, according to superintendent William Shunck.

The number of pupils now enrolled in the Waterford Township School District, totals 11,335 who are attending 22 schools. These include 137 pupils at the Oakland County Children's Home and 12 at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

By the end of the next five year period, officials estimate that there will be an additional 3,000 pupils in the school district, and already most of the present buildings are operating with capacity loads, he said.

The Board of Education has authorized Shunck to obtain statistics, construction costs and other survey material for a suggested $5-million school building program to provide for the anticipated increased enrollment.

The plan would not effect a tax increase because of the rapid reduction of previously incurred indebtedness and of the increased valuation in the school district, Shunck explained.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It Seems to Me . . . .

Especially Worthy Candidates for Tuesday's Election Listed

A reasonably spirited "off-year" political campaign is drawing to a close. At first, the top level candidates proceeded cautiously and the general atmosphere suggested an aura of brotherly love, and a desire to placate.

★ ★ ★

However, as the campaign wore on, the kettle began to boil at the Presidential level and at about the same time, candidates from New York to California (including New York AND California) "took the silk off the hammer" and the fur flew.

This is a healthy condition.

★ ★ ★

Here in Michigan, the two Gubernatorial candidates went after each other hammer and tongs, following a TV debate and they've continued swinging. It's all to the good. This newspaper doesn't advocate mud-slinging or hitting below the belt, but a hard fought battle between two earnest men clears the atmosphere; and it uncovers any lurking skeletons that might rattle unseen, "and waste their sweetness on the desert air."

★ ★ ★

I believe PAUL BAGWELL will better serve the citizens of Michigan than will G. MENNEN WILLIAMS. BAGWELL charges that WILLIAMS drives industry and employment out of the State. WILLIAMS denies this, but from our humble niche on West Huron Street, the Governor certainly does not enjoy the confidence of those in a position to provide jobs.

★ ★ ★

I grant that he might be a delightful companion in a hunting camp or on the golf course, but that isn't sufficient. I doubt whether any considerable portion of Michigan industry believes in him at all, and the Walter Reuther stamp on him has been imprinted with indelible ink. He's the captives' captive. We want independence in public offices.

Also, we need more employment.

★ ★ ★

In the Congressional race, WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD has done a very creditable job—especially for a first year man. He has a good grasp of the situation and has shown an unusual willingness to work and dig into matters. Here is a comer that will be heard from in Washington. He has compiled a splendid first term on the Varsity.

★ ★ ★

In Lansing, L. Harvey Lodge has become a leading figure in the State Legislature and has prestige and standing that will aid Oakland County in matters that are pressing for solution. He has a good grasp of essentials and can analyze the problems. His long business experience will stand him in good stead.

★ ★ ★

Locally, I feel that ARTHUR J. LAW's years of experience on the City Commission and further as Mayor, qualify him particularly for the important House post in Lansing. The Legislature handles and disburses several hundred million dollars and this demands experience, plus political and business savvy. ARTHUR LAW is experienced in business dealings and has had the type of background that is valuable to the taxpayers who foot the bills.

★ ★ ★

In the race for the United States Senate, we see an unusually well educated and well qualified Oakland County boy running against an incumbent who has six years of U.S. Senate experience behind him. Opponents charge that PHIL HART will operate directly in the shadow of WALTER REUTHER and echo his slightest whims. I believe this of Governor WILLIAMS, but I can't reconcile such subjugation with PHIL HART's bringing up and the general philosophy of government which he outlined here in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit News is supporting Hart and The Free Press is upholding Potter. This will be a close race and the whole nation is watching. Charles Potter is an earnest, conscientious, two fisted fighter who wears no man's collar — that's for sure. I'm voting for him . . . . and four years ago I supported the Oakland County man for Lieutenant Governor.

★ ★ ★

In general, it seems to me that voters should bear in mind that we've just had the six most prosperous years the nation ever experienced. Our own automotive area suffered more than the average in the current recession, BUT EVEN IN THE SLUMP our total national income was at very high levels and the employment was above 60 million AT ALL TIMES.

★ ★ ★

Also, our young men were not asked to shoulder a musket and march into the front line trenches. The Republican administration refrained from declaring war on anyone. That's a big item. Isn't it?

★ ★ ★

And, the GOP gave us the first income tax cut since the Democrats started spending every cent in sight some 25 years ago.

These things add up to a Republican ballot in my book.

Let's have peace, prosperity and an independent government, beholden to no sectorism.

Go and vote!

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

This is supposed to be a hot tip from the inside: Don't overlook RCA-Victor's "Christmas Holidays at Radio City Music Hall." Good Christmas gift . . . . . The airlines have their first "second generation" hostess. She's EVELYN ANDERSON and her mother was a pioneer stewardess 25 years ago . . . . . Four of the men C. E. WILSON picked for assistants in the Pentagon building have arisen to cabinet stature: MITCHELL, ANDERSON, SEATON and GRAY . . . . . One taxi driver in New York this past summer had an air-conditioned cab with a tray of seven different drinks (hard and soft) which were iced.

New York schools are under unusually close scrutiny this fall as this is the first time all classes haven't "automatically passed." . . . . . Overheard in the Waldron powder room (but not by me): "Him? Huh, he's not worth my wiles." . . . . . Neither J. C. Penney nor Sebastian S. Kresge has ever taken a drink . . . . . Sign on marquee of a Carolina theater: "Closed — by popular demand."

★ ★ ★

Nomination as an especially good citizen: BERT HENSON . . . . . JIM DOWNEY calls those prompted TV contestants "Quizlings." . . . . . They're readying another act to replace EDDIE FISHER if the "listening audience" shrinks any further . . . . . Three loud cheers for the Telephone Science Series. I can't understand it all, but it's a very constructive contribution to general knowledge . . . . . Government figures show filter cigarettes now claim half the trade and the companies note with great satisfaction that filter smokers puff harder and more frequently. (Gals lead the whole herd in individual consumption.) For shame.

JACKIE GLEASON took off 64 pounds and his program Friday night was real good. That's more than I could ever say in the old days.

Claim It Usurps Rights of Congress

State Judges Attack High Court

At Pasadena, Calif., last Aug. 23, the Conference of State Chief Justices, by a vote of 36-8, approved a long, detailed report attacking the Earl Warren Supreme Court in language about as strong as lawyers ever permit themselves to put on paper.

The Warren Court, said the chief justices of the supreme courts of ¾ of the states, has taken to invading the territory of Congress and making laws on its own, instead of leaving that job to the Senate and the House, whose business under the Constitution is to make all federal laws.

As the state chief justices put it, the Warren Court "too often has tended to adopt the role of policy maker without proper judicial restraint."

This was a very tough indictment of the high court, because it came from judges of other courts. Therefore, it was expert testimony, not just some squawking by amateur critics not trained in the legal profession.

But there was worse to come for the Warren Court; and it has now arrived via the U. S. News & World Report, the esteemed weekly news magazine published in Washington.

When the state chief justices' complaint became public, the USNWR set out to poll all 351 of the judges, active and retired, on the U.S. district courts and U.S. circuit courts of appeals, as to whether they agreed or disagreed with the state supreme court chiefs.

Results of this poll have now been published in the magazine's Oct. 24 issue.

36 PCT. ANSWER

Answers to the short questionnaire were received from 128 of the federal judges, or 36.5 per cent of the total number. Professional pollsters such as Dr. George Gallup regard a response of 30-40 per cent in such canvasses as "very good" — far above average.

Of the 128 judges answering the questionnaire, 46 per cent agreed with the state chief justices in their denunciations of the Warren Court, 39 per cent disagreed, and 15 per cent wouldn't say yes and wouldn't say no.

Of those who did say yes or no, 54 per cent agreed with the state justices, and 46 per cent disagreed.

Thus, it is evident that there is strong disapproval of the Warren Court among a large percentage of those who know the Supreme Court best; namely, the judges on the lower levels of the judiciary pyramid capped by the Supreme Court.

What it adds up to is that the Supreme Court has been tried by a qualified jury of its peers (if not its superiors) in legal learning and judicial experience, and has been found wanting.

Its persistent invasions of Congress' lawmaking territory are a threat to the very survival of this country as a republic.

That is how serious the situation is, and how menacing to the traditional rights and privileges of all of us.

We most earnestly hope that the next Congress will pass some or all of the curb-the-Warren-Court measures which came within a whisker of passing the last Congress but were finagled to death by Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.).

Meanwhile, if you want to find out some of the things the Warren Court has been up to you can hardly do better than to come by a copy of the 1958 report of the American Bar Association's Special Committee on Communist Tactics, Strategy and Objectives.

This document summarizes the Warren Court's 20 worst pro-Communist decisions, in addition to giving the reader a working knowledge of how the criminal Communist conspiracy operates throughout the free world.

The report was mysteriously throttled in the ABA; but Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) got hold of a copy and inserted it in the Congressional Record.

It is now being distributed at 10 cents a copy (to cover mailing and production costs) by America's Future, Inc., 542 Main St., New Rochelle, N.Y., and we recommend it to all patriotic Americans.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Here Are Common Signs of Riboflavin Deficiency

Common signs, though not positive proof, of ariboflavinosis — the daily intake of riboflavin (formerly called vitamin B2 or G) — are the appearance of "bloodshot eyes"; in the mucous membrane covering the eyeballs; lachrymation, watery eyes or tears; burning or itching of the eyes or eyelids or irritation as though from sand or cinder in eye; photophobia, dislike of strong light.

DR. BRADY

If these signs fit your case remember, don't worry. Just boost your riboflavin intake by (1) consuming not less than 4 glasses (a quart) of milk or (2) supplementing your diet with two 5-milligram tablets of riboflavin daily for a period of not less than six weeks. Milk is the richest source of riboflavin.

Other manifestations of riboflavin deficiency are paleness of the lips, especially at the angles of the mouth, with maceration and piling up of whitish matter on a pink background. Slight fissures may appear at the site of wrinkles at the corners of the mouth.

The tongue is magenta or purplish red (whereas the tongue of a person who has good nutrition is pink) and may be painful and burn when food is taken. In some cases of "geographic tongue" (coating in irregular map-like patches), riboflavin deficiency is involved.

These signs may not in themselves spell ariboflavinosis. But when they occur in association with a peculiar kind of greasy scaliness of the skin on the sides and bridge of the nose, over the eyebrows and about the ears, correction of the ultrarefined, high calory but vitamin-poor and mineral-poor diet is surely indicated.

Besides milk and cheese, riboflavin-rich foods most desirable in the corrective diet are spinach, turnip greens, endives, kale, watercress, broccoli, cauliflower, dried peas, dried beans, lentils, bacon, ham, calf liver, heart, kidney, alfalfa, nuts, peanuts, plain wheat, sardines, fish roe, wheat germ, wheat bran and yeast.

Skim milk, acidophilus milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk or dried milk is equivalent to fresh whole milk as a source of riboflavin.

Signed letters not more than one page of 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Doctors Back Marriage Bureau

Why are physicians, dentists and business executives among the most avid rooters for the Scientific Marriage Foundation? Well, there is an invisible barrier which they generally raise between themselves and their patients or employes. They know it is not wise to mix romance with their daily business contacts.

★ ★ ★

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DR. CRANE

He and Mitch Miller had extended a long time invitation for me to come over and have lunch with them, for they had made "Little Sandy Sleighfoot" the leading Christmas song hit last year.

And that was the consuming goal of my oldest son before he was killed in his jet plane crash, for he "discovered" that cute story and song.

So I had a few free hours in New York recently and went to lunch with Mr. Kapralik. Mitch Miller happened to be in Havana at the time, so I missed him.

And Mr. Kapralik invited another staff member to accompany us. She became intrigued with my explanation of the Scientific Marriage Foundation.

I had mentioned that physicians and dentists, clergymen and other talented professional men were sending in Applications.

"Dr. Crane, why should a doctor or any other professional man have difficulty finding a wife?" she protested, in disbelief.

So I explained to her that business executives and professional men are often the very ones who want help.

For there is an unvoiced code in medicine and other fields that a man should NOT try to mix his personal love life with his business!

Thus, a busy physician or dentist treats all his patients alike and does not regard them as eligibles for marriage, even though some of them are unmarried.

By the same token, a business executive may have 20 girls working at typewriters in his office, most of whom are eligible for marriage.

But a smart boss soon learns that he simply MUST ignore the romantic charm of his employes, or havoc may result.

If he does start courting one of his workers, she soon begins to take advantage by coming to work late and by flaunting her immunity to other office regulations.

This fact promotes discord and jealousy, so the efficiency of the entire office goes down.

As a result, smart professional men and business executives learn to place a "verboten" sign over their female workers or patients.

TOPNOTCH APPLICANTS

And where will they be able to meet eligible young women AFTER their working hours?

The churches have not had time heretofore to combine their efforts in conducting a Scientific Marriage Foundation, though they are ardent supporters of the idea.

So these professional men are hampered in meeting women of the same religion, hobbies, attitudes and racial background.

Over the years, I have been deluged by letters from such talented men, asking me to send them the names of certified women of compatibile natures.

In fact, the men who wish to take advantage of this Scientific Marriage Foundation are usuallyssuperior individuals in education, culture and earning capacity. They are not the culls or misfits.

And they feel it is high time that the blundering, inefficient rule-of-thumb methods be discarded and science be applied to the widespread need for introducing certified people of the opposite sex for friendship.

A British newspaper publisher started the Sunday School in 1780 and it has zoomed to a vast interdenominational aid to religion.

The Scientific Marriage Foundation is likewise a current interdenominational aid that has sprung up through the splendid pioneering of American newspapers.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-address envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Halloween Begging Brings Several Readers' Letters

I agree with the mother and grandmother who think children should stay in their own neighborhood when asking for Halloween treats.

★ ★ ★

I like to treat my neighbor's children, but can't afford to buy for the 50 or 60 who come from other parts of town, especially when they come back the second time.

★ ★ ★

Widow

I'm with "Grumpy Gram" as far as handing out treats to more than just neighborhood children. I handed out about 300 pieces of candy last year and I know more than half weren't from around here. I don't mind handing out as long as I have it, but when it comes to kids that look like high school kids and when they say they're not from this suburb, I hesitate.

★ ★ ★

Let's leave begging to the little ones who have fun doing it and wouldn't do any mischief even if they didn't receive goodies. When dads and moms drive their kids from suburb to suburb just to collect loot, I say it's unfair. I finish handing out to neighbor kids in an hour, but the strangers are still out at 8:30 and later.

★ ★ ★

Drayton Giver

I remember when we would go begging as late as nine or ten o'clock at night and seldom met an oldster who wasn't having as much fun as we. Children now are "allowed" to beg only one hour and then we're told to turn out our porch lights and discourage the children. My daughter is only six and it doesn't give her very much time to get very far.

★ ★ ★

It doesn't take much time and very little money to bake a few cookies and if you'd let yourself go and perhaps decorate them, you might even have a little fun. We have about 100 children here every year and we keep a list of the boys and girls. Some of them even have a song to do for you.

★ ★ ★

What if they do come from the country or sparsely populated suburbs to take part in this? They're all fun-loving children, living in a free, fun-loving country. The city sponsors a nice program for our children but nothing can replace the Tricks and Treats. Hooray for Halloween. Children grow up so fast. Then they have only memories of those wonderful days. Let's make them good memories.

No Soap on My Windows

I agree with Grumpy Gram. After three years this subdivision has had its share of people dropping off their children.

Bless the little children's hearts, they swarm from house to house like busy little bees. A very few say "thank you." Most of them say "Is that all?" I love children and don't regret what little I can give them. I'm not complaining or bragging, but last year I gave over 1,000 one-cent candies out, plus apples, pennies and five-cent candy.

This year, like most other men, my husband collected two days pay. How can we give to outsiders? Please, parents, if your children live out in the country where there are no other houses, they are more than welcome to what little I can give, but if you live in a well-settled neighborhood, please keep your children there.

★ ★ ★

Most people in this subdivision have been laid off completely or have just returned to work. Come back next year if times are better.

Not This Year, Children

'Come on, Harry, Let 'Em Have It'

I never saw the GOP so scared as it is right now. They're on the verge of losing everything and they know it. Come on, Harry, let 'em have it all over again.

Cheering Section

'Let Them Have Freedom Now'

If more people would let teenagers (young adults) act normal now, later there would be fewer delinquent adults. If they aren't allowed any freedom now, they'll take it later, regardless of the cost. Then there will be more little children to suffer.

If they want to holler, sing or dance, let them. The day will come all too soon for them to settle down. Police have better things to do than run for a bunch of cranks. When it's legitimate, sure, call them, but not just because someone gets noisy. Trust them a little. You'll get their thanks for it.

For All Young Adults

'Guess They're Not So Happy'

It's surprising the number of supposedly happy married people of 20 or more years who wended their way to the high school auditorium for the do's and don'ts on sex life.

Must be their years of married life were not as happy as they would have people think.

Vote to Affect Nixon's Future

Campaign Tour Success or Failure Has Bearing on 1960 Chances

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon is gambling his reputation as a crack campaigner on a last-minute revival of Republican chances in the current campaign.

For Nixon, the outcome of next Tuesday's voting is likely to have a direct bearing on his chances to win the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

If the vice president can claim credit for having rescued some Republican candidates from the abyss of what looks to others as a potential Democratic landslide, he will have reinforced his reputation as the kind of a campaigner who could win if he were the party's standard bearer.

But Nixon's stature could be reduced by the defeat of any substantial number of the GOP candidates for whom he has campaigned.

Nixon returned yesterday from a campaign swing through nine states. Repeatedly in its latter stages, he has insisted that a Republican upsurge within the last 10 days will bring some surprise GOP victories.

Whatever happens in the election, however, Nixon believes his campaigning has been worthwhile on at least two counts.

The first and most important of these is his contention that the kind of vigorous bushbeating he has done has helped reknit a Republican party organization that was raveling badly at the seams in many states.

Nixon's second major accomplishment, as he views it, was his role as the personal instrument in raising campaign funds. His aides put the total thus far at $1,150,000. Of this amount, nearly half was raised at party rallies during the tour he just completed.

LUSCIOUS PANCAKES — "All you can eat for $1" is the theme of the Drayton Plains Parent-Teacher Association pancake supper to be held from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Monday. Tammy Van-Wormer and Ricky Oakes hold plate-loads of piping hot pancakes, as Harvey Hernandez gets in practice for the anticipated rush. Only a 50c charge for childern has been scheduled, and all proceeds will be used for PTA community and school projects, according to co-chairmen, Mrs. Arthur Ward and Mrs. Asa Rice.

Old Museum Reopens

STOCKHOLM — Sweden recently reopened the oldest museum in Europe outside Italy, the Antiquities Museum in the Royal Palace in Stockholm. It was established in 1792. The statuary, mostly collected in the 18th Century, was reassembled at the personal initiative of King Gustav Adolf, who is interested in antique art and archaeology.

Private Takes Stand at Sergeant's Trial

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP)—The government will seek to prove today that a veteran sergeant forced a recruit to shout obscene phrases before fellow members of an Army training company.

Moman pleaded innocent Monday to all seven specifications contained in the general charges of assault and battery and maltreatment of recruits at this infantry training center.

Moman, a veteran of Korean combat and 11 years in the Army, faces a maximum sentence of 5½ years in prison and dishonorable discharge if convicted on all counts by the court-martial board composed of six officers and three nlisted men.

Arrest Suspect for Burglaries

8 Robberies in Area Admitted by Man, Say Policeman, Trooper

Persistent detective work by Waterford Township Police Lieutenant William Stokes and State Trooper Alfred Strilecky, has resulted in the arrest of a thief who has admitted to eight area burglaries, including a safe cracking job.

The pair began working on the case October 3, when a 500-pound safe containing $1,800 was stolen from the Aris Pharmacy at 3526 Sashabaw Rd.

Jack C. Swartbaugh 24, of 5340 Pine Knob Rd. was arrested when the two officers spotted his car in a gas station at Clarkston and gave chase over ten miles of narrow gravel roads before bringing him to a stop near Lake Orion.

Swartbaugh admitted the safe burglary, along with stealing loose change from cigarette coin machines in three gasoline stations, $200 from the Lakeland Pharmacy and adjoining Ranzilla Hardware store on Airport Rd., the officers said.

He also admitted to a series of automobile break-ins reported by individuals in the Pontiac Lake Recreation area this summer, they added.

The investigation began when two Waterford Township teenage boys reported finding the safe in a swamp behind the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club the day after the burglary.

Several suspects were eliminated by the officers until they checked Swartbaugh's activities, and car license.

Peces of the fire wall from the safe matched those found in Swartbaugh's house, and tools with gray paint marks as those on the safe, were found in the suspect's car, police said.

Swartbaugh failed to furnish a $10,000 bond when he appeared in Justice of the Peace Patrick Daly's court

Cut in Gasoline Price Announced by Sinclair

DETROIT (UP) — Sinclair Refining Co. is cutting 1.7 cents a gallon off the wholesale price of its gasoline. If passed along to consumers, the reduction will leave prices at 28.2 cents a gallon for regular and 32.2 for premium.

This was the first general wholesale price reduction in the Detroit area since Oct. 16 when Standard Oil dropped its price 1.3 cents a gallon.

Pontiac City Affairs

2 More Expansion Moves OK'd for Municipal Airport

Two more expansion moves at Pontiac Municipal Airport were approved by City Commissioners last night.

Approved were five-year leases for space on which two firms plan to erect hangars. They are the Huff Refrigeration Co. and Ridge Associates, of Flint.

The Ridge firm rented a 100 by 150 space for a hangar to house twin-engine planes at a rate of $75 a month. The Huff company rented a 50 by 75 foot space for a 33 by 70 hangar at $20 a month.

Commissioners, in other business, last night approved City Manager Walter K. Willman's using city funds to promote passage of the $3,300,000 sewage treatment plant bond issue Nov. 4. Willman said he may spend up to $175 on direct mailing, $200 on newspaper advertising and $100 on radio announcements.

A public hearing was scheduled for Nov. 12 on an assessment roll for a new sidewalk on the west side of East boulevard north of Michigan avenue.

No objections were raised at a hearing on intention to construct sidewalk on the east side of Stirling avenue, Madison to Baltimore.

No objections were raised at a hearing on intention to vacate the alley from Sanford to Ardmore streets between Pike and Lois streets.

Nine assessment rolls were confirmed, including one for grading and graveling on Arlene avenue, Madison to Columbia; two others for sanitary sewers on the north side of Montcalm street at Lakeside drive and on the north side of Montcalm, Wing to Portland; and six on sidewalks, including the west side of Seminole avenue, Menominee to Algonquin; both sides of Joslyn avenue, Perry to Linda Vista; west side of Joslyn, First to Second; and the north and west sides of Cherry court, Hill to the end of the street.

Pontiac Woman Injured in Two-Car Crash Here

One person was injured yesterday in a two-car collision on Baldwin avenue north of Oakland avenue.

Lillian Post, 45, of 103 Fairgrove Ave., suffered lacerations to the forehead, and was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Muriel Post, 29, of 103 Fairgrove Ave. Their car struck a vehicle owned by Donald R. Hall, 28, of 220 W. Strathmore Ave., which was stopped along the curb.

Lynn Bari Seeks Custody of Son Due to Conflict

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Lynn Bari says phone conversations between her and her 10-year-old son John were monitored by Judy Garland, who told her:

"We are running things. You are all through, kid."

★ ★ ★

Miss Bari opened a court fight Tuesday to regain custody of John from her ex-husband Sid Luft and his present wife, Miss Garland. Miss Bari described her son as "upset and emotionally disturbed because of the conflicts and altercations between the defendant and his present wife."

Russia-Egypt Dam Deal Looks Harmful for U. S.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

★ ★ ★

That's putting the best possible hard to see how the United States can get anything but damage from this deal.

★ ★ ★

True, it's possible the Russians will run into trouble with volatile Egyptian President Nasser, that the dam won't get built, and that Russian-Egyptian relations will turn sour.

★ ★ ★

Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced last week the Soviet Union would not only lend Nasser 100 million dollars for the dam but participate in building it.

So, the American problem with the dam has made a full turn of the wheel. It's been a turn full of shock and surprises.

In these past two years Nasser has been busy spreading his influence in the Middle East and creating hatred for the United States.

Despite his victories outside Egypt, it's questionable he could have retained the Egyptians' devotion indefinitely unless he began to make good on his promises of better things at home.

Some optiimsts no doubt would like to think Nasser may become so involved in his internal improvements that he'll quiet down on his outside adventures.

★ ★ ★

Probably the opposite will happen, for with visible evidence of big improvements at home the Egyptians are likely to back him more strongly than ever in the trouble he causes abroad — particularly for the United States.

15 Entertainers Stave Off Panic on Stricken Plane

One of the U.S. Overseas Airlines DC6B's four engines started spurting oil about 300 miles off the California coast en route from Hawaii Tuesday. The pilot feathered the propeller, called for a Coast Guard escort plane and landed safely here 2 hours and 22 minutes later.

"We were hired to entertain the passengers on the flight back from Hawaii," said Hawaiian dancer Beck Bodnar, one of 15 entertainers aboard. "When the engine went out, we really whooped it up."

★ ★ ★

Tina Cannon, Austin, Tex., a Hollywood starlet, said: "We were a little scared at first, but they pulled the curtains and the entertainers took over. Before long we had forgotten where we were."

Man Who Shot Son, Relative Arraigned

MONROE (UP) — Claude Collins stood mute when arraigned yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to murder in the shooting of his infant son and mother-in-law.

The 37-year-old Collins, of Monroe, was held under $7,500 bond.

Mrs. Clarence Maude Smith, 46-year-old mother-in-law of Collins, and Collins' 8-month-old son Jerry were shot in Mrs. Smith's home Saturday night.

Both were hospitalized in critical condition at University Medical Center at Ann Arbor. Hospital officials said their condition was

Bomb Hits Fire House

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP) —A crude bomb made with a lead pipe — tossed through an open window of the Walnut Creek fire station — exploded with damaging effect Tuesday night but all eight occupants of the building escaped injury. Police expressed belief it was the work of juveniles.

Money Means Nothing

BENNINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — One of the first things Mrs. Robert F. Kenyon will teach her infant son is the value of money. While out riding, Mrs. Kenyon gave the baby her wallet to play with. Too late, she learned the infant had thrown the wallet containing $148 out the car window.

More is spent on concerts by music lovers in the United States than on professional baseball games by sports fans.

No Gifts Required of Guests

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow in the early forties and plan to remarry soon. We will be married in church and have a small reception afterwards.

"My problem is this: Would it be proper to send invitations to my friends and relatives who were invited to my first wedding? They gave me gifts at that time and I would not want to hurt their feelings by not inviting them. What do you suggest?"

ANSWER: There is no obligation to send presents to a second marriage and I doubt very much that any of your friends who sent one to your first wedding will now send a second. Intimate friends who were unknown to you at the time of your first marriage are the ones who will feel like sending you presents this time.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell my husband and me if it is necessary to tip the usual 15 per cent when dining out at high-priced restaurants? I think possibly when a check is very large it could be 10 or 12 per cent but he seems to think it is the same regardless."

Answer: I agree that it does make a great difference as to the size of the check — especially if the foods have been expensive rather than numerous. In this case, a slightly smaller percentage would seem fair.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What titles may be abbreviated under normal circumstances, such as on visiting cards, formal invitations, etc.?"

Answer: Mr. and Mrs. are always abbreviated. Dr. in place of Doctor is used if his name is unusually long—otherwise the word written out is in better taste. "The Reverend" is definitely preferred by the fastidious, but "The Rev." is more generally used.

Shrugs Off Male Protests

Saint-Laurent Designs to Please Women Only

NEW YORK (AP) — Yves Saint-Laurent, 22-year-old successor to the late Christian Dior, doesn't care whether men like his clothes or not, just so women wear them.

"Consider men? Never! Why should I?" asked the youthful Parisian designer, in New York for the opening of his American spring collection.

Reminded of the almost universal male protest against the recent chemise and trapeze silhouettes, the slight, bespectacled youth shrugged and remarked:

"Sometimes a fashion which conceals the figure is more intriguing than one which does not. I think a woman should look mysterious — not too much revealed."

His current collection, however, is highly revealing above the belt, running to plunging necklines and off-shoulder effects which appear somewhat hazardous. Belts are high, but the general silhouette is rounded, both above and below the belt, with a number of full skirts in both daytime and evening fashions.

Saint-Laurent inherited the mantle of the storied Dior about a year ago, and his life since has been devoted solely to carrying on the great tradition of his mentor, acknowledged dictator of world fashion. But when asked if he found it hard to live up to the standard of Dior, he replied:

"Not at all!"

U.S. TOUR ENDS

For four years, since the age of 18, Saint-Laurent has been designing for the house of Dior, and he indicates that he has no doubts as to his ability to carry on. His New York appearance wound up a two-week tour of the United States, during which he visited Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago. He sails for Paris Saturday aboard the liner United States.

Fame and fortune have made no difference in the young man's life, he insists. He has bought no sports cars, diamonds or fancy clothes. He has wasted neither time nor money on wine, women or song. He has no hobbies, no sports, no interests except fashion.

Lower Windows Before Raising Voice—Abby

Fights Are Talk of Neighborhood

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: How does a person go about changing the opinion of the entire neighborhood? My husband and I have had some pretty awful battles (with words). I've had the windows open and now the word has passed that we are not getting along, which is true to a certain extent, but I would prefer the neighbors to think differently for the sake of the children. I have to blow off a little steam now and then because life would be pretty boring if a man and his wife didn't have a few arguments."

TOUCHY

ABBY

DEAR TOUCHY: If you are concerned about what the neighbors hear, don't raise your voices until you've lowered the windows.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am at my wits' end with my son. He is 25 years old and hasn't worked steady since he came out of the Army five years ago. He's healthy, good-looking and considered smart. He gets jobs handed to him on a silver platter—but he doesn't keep them more than a week. He walks the streets all day and comes home to eat and sleep. He says he "didn't ask to be born" etc., and if we don't help him out he will find some woman on welfare with children and go bunk with her. I spoke to my clergyman, and he said, 'That's too bad. I will pray for him.' Please tell me what to do about him, Abby. He is breaking my heart."

HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR HEARTSICK: If I were in your boat I would throw him out into the icy waters of reality and let him sink or swim. He is 25 years old, Mother, and it's time you cut the cord and told him to cut the nonsense.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who is 13 years old. I have quite a few boy friends who like me but I like one special boy better than the rest. My mother says she doesn't want me rushing things so I can't go steady with him. When we go to a show or something and he walks me home, he goes to kiss me on the lips, but I always give my cheek.

"He says this is 'babyish' and maybe he's right, but I don't think I am ready to kiss a boy on the lips yet. When I give him my cheek and he complains, what should I do?"

SUE

DEAR SUE: Turn the other cheek!

"DEAR ABBY: I am 82 years old, am the mother of seven children, eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. I have always been in good health, worked hard, am active and live alone in my own home. I like it that way. I go and come as I please, sleep when I like and am in no one's way.

"Now the children feel that I am too old to live alone. They want me to break up my little house and live among them. I can't see why I can't go on living as I have. I live only one block from one of my sons, have a phone by my bed and I am happy here. Should I do as the children say? Please give me your opinion. Thanking you in advance."

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: This decision should be left up to your doctor. If he feels that you are able to live alone, I think you should definitely continue to maintain your independence.

"DEAR ABBY: If people have to wear glasses, why don't they wear glasses? I have a friend who passes me up on the street all the time. I practically have to knock her over to get her to recognize me. Then she says she is sorry but she wasn't wearing her glasses. If people who need glasses think they look better without them, they are sadly mistaken. They squint and screw up their faces until they look like monkeys. I hope those guilty parties will put on their glasses and read this."

TWENTY-TWENTY

DEAR TWENTY: Perhaps the ladies believe the little rhyme: "Men never make passes at girls who wear glasses." If so, they should get modern and learn: "Contact lenses trap more menzes."

It's a State of Mind

Vigilance Will Maintain Weight

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

With thousands of you now losing surplus pounds with my new Trick and Treat Diet, I would like to give you a few suggestions which will help you keep your ideal weight once you have achieved it.

In order to do this you must think of your reducing diet as a guide to a way of life.

By this I do not mean that you should continually keep your calorie count at the low reducing level or forever forego party foods and therefore be different from others on all social occasions. However, if you mentally throw your hat over the goal post after losing those overweight pounds, and think, "Well, thank heavens that is over!" you will never hold that lovely line.

What a shame it would be to subject yourself to the discipline which reducing requires and then have all of the lost pounds back within a few weeks time. As I said, holding your weight at the ideal point requires a certain way of life, or even better, a certain state of mind.

For instance, if you know that you are going to a dinner party in a night or so you can cut your calories a little lower for a few days preceding the party. If, unexpectedly, you run into a day of heavy eating, you can cut down for a few days afterwards.

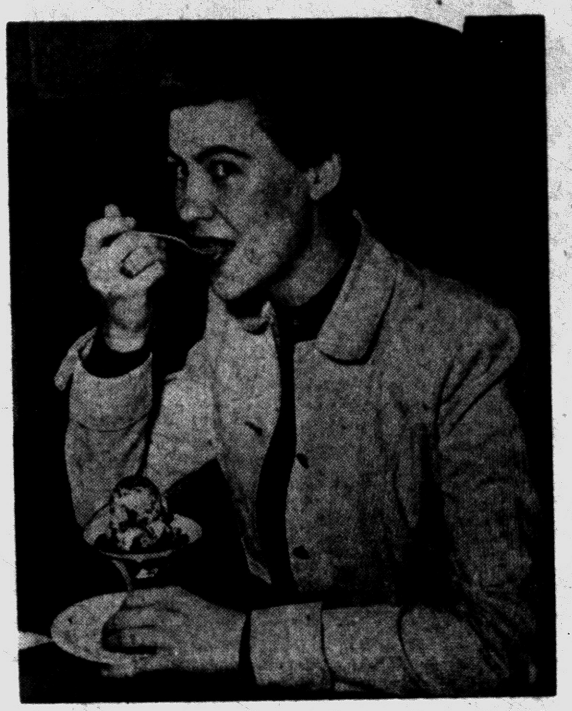

If you lead an active social life, then you may need to adopt even more strenuous methods, but you do not need to talk about them to others. When the hors d'oeuvres are passed, choose the carrot sticks, the celery, the salmon or cucumber or shrimp canapes rather than rich creamy or cheese ones.

SMALL SERVINGS

When at a dinner party you can take some of everything — but you need not give yourself a large serving or eat all of the carbohydrates. You can take a hot roll and dessert and leave part of them. You can, without being noticed, leave some of the rich sauces or gravy.

Cut out the habit of inbetween meal snacks. If you drink, choose whisky and water rather than an Old Fashioned or a Manhattan.

So, after losing extra pounds, start slowly and cautiously in giving yourself more leeway. Two or three pounds variance is not alarming but when it's five pounds too much you had best begin using some of the preventative measures I have mentioned, or even better lose the five before they multiply.

She's just finishing a reducing diet and thinks she deserves a treat. With this attitude, she'll never hold that lovely line.

Lipstick Is the Exclamation Point

. . . to your appearance. If you reach for your old standby red lipstick when you wear clothes in high-key colors, set it aside and see what a brighter shade can do. All lipsticks range from light to medium to dark, with undertones of blue or yellow. Pink, rose and plum tints are related to blue. Coral, orange and rust are underscored by yellow. Choose a blue-red for garments with a blue cast and yellow-red for orange tones and yellow-greens. Your faithful shade of red will compliment your darker clothes and white, but don't depend on one lipstick for everything. Own at least three.

Mild-Flavored Leeks Are Excellent in Lamb Stew

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you have never tasted leeks, you are in for a treat when you try these recipes. We had our first taste of the mild onion-flavored vegetables in New York last month. Leeks are now appearing in the farmers' market so it's time to use them.

★ ★ ★

Both recipes come from Mrs. Robert Johnson who is Armenian and likes to cook Armenian dishes. Because she has a full time job she enjoys few outside activities. She does belong to the Mary Lyon group of her church.

LEEK STEW
By Mrs. Robert Johnson

1 pound lamb shoulder, cut in pieces
2 bunches leeks
1 large onion, sliced
3 cups water
Salt and pepper
1 cup canned tomatoes

Wash leeks thoroughly, strip off outside leaves and cut stalks into 2-inch lengths. Brown meat in heavy pan. Add rest of ingredients and simmer at least 2 hours, or until meat is tender.

★ ★ ★

LEEKS IN OLIVE OIL

Salt and pepper
2 cups water

Wash, trim and cut leeks into 2-inch lengths. Place in shallow pan with onions and water. Cook until half tender. Add lemon juice, sugar and oil. Season to taste. Cook another 15 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving.

How to Take Headache Out of Moving Problems

A change of address does not have to be a harrowing experience. With a little preplanning and organization, you can take most of the headache out of M-Day.

★ ★ ★

A booklet prepared by a moving company is chockfull of hints to help you. It advises, for example, that you get a cost estimate — in writing — before you displace a single teacup. This service is free and doesn't obligate you at all.

In addition to sound storage and packing hints, the moving firm offers this handy list of do's and don'ts:

If you're taking your refrigerator, defrost it first, wipe it dry, have it serviced for moving and the motor bolted down.

Have your gas stove disconnected. Before moving day, ask your mover about your television set and washer which may need servicing.

★ ★ ★

Remove casters from furniture and place each set in individual sacks with tags identifying to what piece of furniture they belong.

Remove all jewelry or cash from drawers. If personal papers are left in desks or bureaus, lock the drawers.

If possible, provide the mover with a floor plan of your new home . . . showing where all furniture is to be placed.

★ ★ ★

Don't roll up mattresses. This causes damage to both springs and fabrics. Special mattress cartons are available from your mover.

Don't overpack any container. This not only makes them difficult to handle, but may result in damage to contents.

Don't wrap fabrics in newspapers. Much damage can be caused by ink stains.

President Mrs. Walter Schmitz appointed Charles Wilson chairman for the Guild's piano and organ recital, to be held Nov. 25 followed by a regular meeting.

Hosting the affair will be their six children, Mrs. Owen Thomas, Mrs. Larry Yates, Mrs. Kenneth Fuchs, Mrs. William Visniski, Leo F. Hooper and Oscar J. Hooper Jr. The couple, who have 28 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren, have lived in Pontiac 40 years. Mr. Hooper, employed at Pontiac Motor Division for 22 years, is now retired.

Develop Style Your Very Own, Let Rest Copy

What's good for one teenager is no good at all for another. The fact that your girl friend looks a raving beauty in a pony tail doesn't mean that it's for you. She may look great in fluffy ruffles while you look like a frosted cake.

★ ★ ★

So don't be tempted to copy another's style. Develop your own so that others start copying you. To do this, you will need to study your own face and figure carefully, then evolve the best hairdo and style of dressing for you.

★ ★ ★

It will take time to get your own style right but it will be worth it.

Select a Woven Fabric

From a practical standpoint — a college dorm bedspread should be sturdy. From a student viewpoint, this item should be colorful and attractive.

A woven fabric takes harder wear and less care than a tufted or chenille spread. Comparatively inexpensive and practical for long service, woven spreads often have companion matching draperies. They can be found in solid colors as well as plaids and stripes.

For greater satisfaction, the textile technicians advise shoppers to check the labels to see that these spreads are colorfast to sunlight and laundering and are preshrunk. If not preshrunk, the fabric may shrink 4 to 6 per cent during laundering.

Shoppers should make sure that the college-bound student has an adequate supply of towels. When buying, check especially for colorfastness. And, choose close, large and thickly-packed loops, says a laundering institute, which indicate that the towels will be absorbent and will give good service.

Corduroy Favorite in Slacks

Tapered slacks are the favotite off-campus lounging outfit of the school set.

And this year, corduroy is the favorite fabric for these machine-washable casual pants —some plaid, others striped, and still others splashed with large exotic roses.

Not only is corduroy, extra hardy, but it rarely needs a trip to the ironing board after laundering—if the wrinkles are tugged out while still damp.

When light pressing is needed, hold the steam iron over not on the fabric. This lets the hot vapor raise the pile of the cloth instead of crushing it flat.

Married Saturday at Sunnyvale Chapel were Beverly June Simmons and Herbert Devone Stone. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stone.

MR. and MRS. HERBERT D. STONE

Beverly Simmons Is Wed

Beverly June Simmons and Herbert Devone Stone were married Saturday afternoon at Sunnyvale Chapel. The Rev. James Parker officiated at the ceremony before 180 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Simmons of Crescent Lake road and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stone of Norton street.

Mrs. Richard Rollman was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol Simmons, another of the bride's sisters; Mary O'Connor, Ellen Wagner and Patricia Yarger.

Their dresses were of taffeta with lace overskirts and matching accessories. The matron of honors' dress was rust colored and the bridesmaids were dressed in pink, yellow, beige and gold respectively. Their bouquets were bronze, white and gold chrysanthemums with white roses.

The bride changed to a brown and black checked wool sheath dress with a beige hat and white rose corsage before the couple left on a honeymoon to northern Michigan. They will live on Mt. Clemens street. The bridegroom is attending General Motors Institute.

Mrs. Simmons wore a blue silk dress with a rose velvet hat for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Stone was dressed in a purple print silk dress with a lavender velvet hat. Both had white rose corsages.

Roof Garden Beauty Spot Year Round in Waterford

When Sonya Zoch of Waterford Township gets tired of mixing up prescriptions in her Elizabeth Lake pharmacy, she just goes up the back stairs to relax in her "penthouse way up in the sky."

On the main floor of the facebrick building there is a modern drugstore with a laboratory in the back where registered pharmacist Mrs. Sonya Zoch combines ingredients for all types of prescriptions.

Upstairs, there is a tiny four-room apartment, full of individuality. However, the most unusual area in the entire building is a huge roof garden over the front part of the drug store.

PLACE FOR BIRDS

In the center, a large pyramid planter surrounds a birdbath. During the summer months hardy petunias, marigolds and geraniums fill the three-tiered square planter, and these last until late November.

In each of the four corners of the roof there is a potted pine tree, surrounded by hardy plants and bushes, which attract many types of birds. Redwood lawn furniture, an umbrella, table and chairs complete the roof garden.

In the summer, Mrs. Zoch's two grandchildren play in a huge swimming pool "up in the sky." Drainage is no problem as the gravel-type roof was scientifically constructed so that all water flows to an outlet and is carried away down an eavespout.

In the spring, Japanese cherry trees are in full bloom in huge pots, along with hibiscus and gardenias from Florida. "Up here, the air is filled with the fragrance of these flowers," Mrs. Zoch explained.

Around the screened-in porch that adjoins the spacious living room there is a big planter box which Mrs. Zoch has filled with tulips, narcissus, hyacinths, crocus and snowdrop bulbs. Begonias and gladioli follow the spring flowers.

As for future improvements for her roof garden, Mrs. Zak plans on having black dirt hauled up and a carpet of new-type short root sod planted next year.

A money making project has been planned for the November meeting. Proceeds from both meetings will go to the scholarship fund.

UF Agency Helps Boy, Executive, or Widow

Girl Scouts Found on Job Everywhere

Four Pontiac residents sat down to dinner last night at their homes in different parts of the city. None knew each other but all had one thing in common.

Their situations were quite different, one being a sinewy factory worker, another an elderly widow, the third a prominent executive, and the fourth a 10-year-old school boy.

However some facet in the life of each had been aided by one or more services volunteered by the Northern Oakland County Council of Girl Scouts, a United Fund agency.

Mr. Smith, surely the picture of robust health, had not too long ago fallen down a flight of stairs. When the extent of his injuries became known, he faced several weeks in a hospital bed and then may more at home.

He was attended to in many cases by a trained Girl Scout nurses aid while in the hospital. She spent many hours with him reading, running small errands, and assuring him that all was well at home.

Mrs. Case, 85 and living alone, had been befriended by Girl Scouts in her neighborhood many times. In fact, the local unit had "adopted" her as one of their many projects.

They visited her frequently, brought her baked goods, did sewing and knitting for her, ran errands, and even brought her a special basket of gifts and food at Christmas.

Mr. Jones, a prominent civic leader, was on the spot several years ago to see that an event sponsored by his civic club was well publicized.

The Girl Scout unit nearby offered to hand out posters and handbills to local merchants and residents. Mr. Jones' project was a booming success due to their voluntary aid.

The same scouts are now helping his Civil Defense group gain a larger membership in much the same way, and tomorrow night a senior scout will baby sit for the Jones' while they are out enjoying an important social event.

Little Joey, a top notch student at a local elementary school, might have been way behind in his studies if it hadn't been for girl scouts.

A year ago when Joey was in a children's hospital, the girls helped him with his studies. The Brownies at Joey's school made his recovery much happier by making tray favors, place mats, scrap books, etc., for him and his shut-in friends.

The scouting organization is not only a great service to any community, but offers fun, friendship, and training in its many varied programs and fields of interest.

This year's theme, "International Friendship" is just another step in the expansion of the Girl Scout principle, made possible by United Fund support.

Fall Hats, Costumes Slenderize

The fall 1958 fashion in millinery acknowledges the importance of the head-to-toe "costume." Silhouettes are based on the balance required by the much-emphasized "Empire" or high-waisted costume shapes.

Hats of the 1800-1814 period were greatly diversified. Many modern interpretations of this style have a relationship to the French Empire characteristic "poke" bonnet. In general, hats fit close to the cheeks with high-arched brims and tall crowns.

Immensely flattering to the "average American woman," the new hats give a lady the effect of added inches in stature, tend to slenderize the face and figure and enhance smooth complexions. They are delightfully feminine.

Antiques Get Place in Modern Homes

By RUTH MILLETT

There's a boom in antiques these days that the dealers themselves find hard to explain.

Perhaps it means that many Americans have lived with streamlined modern furniture and decorations long enough to have found them a little cold and hard to love.

Possibly by adding an old mirror here, a satin glass bowl there, the graceful lines of an old love seat or a pair of old andirons a modern house with its functional furniture and up-to-the-minute conveniences may gain warmth and charm and the look that modern decor so often lacks.

But whatever the reason for the revived interest in the fine craftsmanship of the past, it is all to the good. It's important for the old things to find new homes, for their beauty to be restored and again cherished and enjoyed.

The craze for purely functional furniture swept the country because there was a real need to make family life easier and more informal. But we went a little overboard for modern efficiency and our houses too often looked more like display rooms in furniture stores than like homes.

This new appreciation for antiques will help to change that deficiency.

For with the new and functional for comfort and the old for beauty and a feeling for the past, our houses can combine the old and the new in a way that will make them much more individualistic.

And think of all the fun women are having hunting through antique shops, going to auctions, searching in attics, and digging through dusty second-hand stores in search of beauty left over from the past—especially when they discover it hidden by a dozen coats of paint or a blanket of dust and grime.

Pint-Sized Set Will Appreciate Tiny Washcloth

Making junior-sized washcloths that a small child can handle comfortably may be just the simple trick that leads to more joyous use for face and hand washing.

Children, who are intrigued by miniature items scaled to their own dimensions, love to use things that are indubitably their "very own."

The minute washcloths can be cut from toweling into squares sized to suit the age of the youngsters. Make enough to provide at least one clean cloth daily.

National Debt Soars to Hit Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national debt has reached an all-time high of $280,851,000,000.

The Treasury disclosed today that the total direct and guaranteed debt had shattered the old record Thursday—the most recent day for which government accounts have been tallied.

Until then, the highest debt was that recorded Dec. 31, 1955, when it was $280,821,000,000.

The biggest chunk of the direct and guaranteed debt is $280,739,000,000 owed directly by the Treasury.

The rest is 112 million dollars of securities sold by the Federal Housing Administration which the Treasury must pay in the unlikely event that FHA defaults.

Congress includes these FHA obligations in its discussions of the debt but the Treasury prefers to think in terms of the direct debt alone. The direct debt is still about 29 million dollars shy of its Dec. 31, 1955, record high.

Free Preacher Who Tried to Wed 11-Year-Old Girl

SEVIERVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Rev. George Washington Rollins, who failed in his attempt to marry an 11-year-old girl, has been freed by the Sevier County grand jury.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

A judge previously had dismissed a kidnaping charge against the Missionary Baptist preacher when Frieda testified she went to Georgia willingly to be married to the divorced father of five children. Rollins was arrested during the three-day waiting period required before marriage.

Recruits' Virus Major Mystery

Oddball Type Infection Attacks Military Group but Not Civilians

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A virus that apparently has a yen for military service has created a major mystery for the medicoes.

It's one of the so-called "adenoviruses" — a crew of germs that can cause cold-like illnesses, sometimes pretty severe ones.

The viruses first were discovered several years ago. Since then 23 separate types have been found in humans, including some that cause conjunctivitis, an eye infection.

One of them — called "type 4" — is a real oddball, the American Public Health Assn. was told Tuesday by Dr. Harold S. Ginsberg of Western Reserve University Medical School.

The severe, cold-like infections that it produces are confined almost exclusively "to militarily clothed adults" — and mainly to recruits — Ginsberg related.

The reason for this, he said, "remains a major epidemiological mystery."

Type 4 has somewhat of a rival in Type 7 as a military pest, but the latter is not so exclusively a camp follower.

Ginsberg said that while each of the 23 adenoviruses are known or believed to affect civilians at times, only two of them — Types 3 and 8 — are of epidemic significance among civilians. And these are largely limited to children.

But he said the viruses constitute a real tough problem for military forces both in this country and in other parts of the world, with Types 4 and 7 being the chief culprits.

He said a large majority of recruits become infected within eight weeks after induction.

But there's a chance that Type 4, despite all its peskiness, may eventually get some kind of a good conduct medal — for indirect service to science.

At least, Ginsberg said that if researchers can find out why the wily critter virtually scorns civilians in favor of the armed forces, this may shed light upon the general problem of how virus diseases of all types originate, spread and do their insidious work.

Ayub Is Named Pakistan Head

Sworn In as Premier After Mirza Resigns as President

President Iskander Mirza resigned Monday night and handed over all his powers to Ayub, the former army commander in chief with whom he had joined Oct. 7 in a peaceful military revolution that abolished all semblance of democratic government.

Earlier Monday Ayub had been sworn in as premier, heading a cabinet of three other military men and eight civilians. He will continue to govern under martial law.

Mirza said he stepped aside to give Ayub a free hand in revitalizing Pakistan's governmental structure and to end an "unfortunate impression" at home and abroad that he and Ayub "may not always act in unison."

Ayub said Mirza's quitting "will in no way affect my policies."

"Let us now resolve to face the tasks ahead of us as a nation and get down to solid and honest hard work without indulging in any speculation."

Charging that politicians had made a mess of running Pakistan, Mirza and Ayub on Oct. 7 overthrew the Cabinet of Premier Firoz Khan Noon, declared martial law, abrogated the constitution, abolished the National Assembly and opened a campaign against corruption in government, profiteering and black marketing.

The army and apparently most of the population supported them, and there has been no violence.

New Pope Kindly, Tolerant, but No Appeaser

By United Press International

"Traveler of God" — "Fully a pastor" — "A man who always sees the good side of things."

He also is described as the good natured son of an Italian sharecropper. He has served 27 years as a successful Vatican diplomat.

It is said he was always a bishop at heart and when the late Pope Pius XII created him a cardinal in 1953 he was less thrilled by the cardinal's red hat than by the chance to devote himself at last to episcopal work.

"Here I have a new chance," he said at the time, "to be entirely a pastor.

"I am convinced that the ministry of the pastor is the most fascinating, the finest that a man can be offered in his life."

DOOR ALWAYS OPEN

As a cardinal, the 76-year-old prelate's door was always open to anyone—friend or foe.

It was this openness and his humorous joviality that earned him success in one of the most difficult posts in Vatican diplomatic history —nuncio to Paris in the stormy postwar years, when French leaders had not forgotten that the Vatican had maintained relations with the wartime government of the late Marshal Philippe Petain.

Slowly and steadily he sowed the seeds of good will, and when he left the Paris post in 1953 after more than eight years, relations between the Vatican and France were excellent.

But his tolerance and forebearance could not be taken for appeasement. When the Christian Democrats of Venice in 1956 started talking of forming a city government with the pro-Communist socialists of Pietro Nenni, he issued a pastoral letter which minced no words in condemning the idea from a religious viewpoint.

SPEAKS 5 LANGUAGES

Cardinal Roncalli became known as a learned historian and art lover. He speaks Italian, Latin, Greek, French and some Turkish, which he learned as apostolic delegate in Istanbul. He also is familiar with German, Spanish, Romanian and has some knowledge of oriental languages.

In his capacity of 139th bishop and 43rd patriarch of Venice, he held the same post which was held by Giuseppe Cardinal Sarto when he was elected Pope in 1903 to become Pius X.

He is a native of a small North Italian village and his church career was unsensational.

He was born Nov. 25, 1881, in the village of Sotto Il Monte near Bergamo about 40 miles east of Milan, the third of 13 children. One of his sisters and two of his brothers still live there on the family farm. The family has been there for five centuries.

His father had counted on Angelo Guiseppe to help him in the fields, but when, at the age of 11, his third child and eldest son said he wanted to be a priest, the father raised no objections.

The boy went to study first at the Bergamo Seminary from 1892 to 1900, then at the Apollinare Seminary in Rome where he graduated in theology in 1904 at the age of 22.

He was ordained a priest in the Rome Church of Santa Maria in Monte Santo Aug. 10, 1904 and that year officiated his first Mass in St. Peter's Basilica.

The nine years that followed were indecisive in his spiritual and practical formation. From 1905 to 1914 he served as personal secretary to Msgr. Giacomo Count Radini-Tedeschi, Bishop of Bergamo and one of the greatest prelates of his time. He described the bishop as "the polar star of my priesthood."

★ ★ ★

It was as right-hand man of the Bishop that Father Roncalli started what at the time were daring innovations, such as publishing parish and news bulletins. The practice was a success and spread rapidly to other dioceses. It now is a common practice everywhere.

MADE FRIENDSHIPS

It also was as Bishop Radini-Tedeschi's collaborator that he soon became acquainted with some of Italy's leading prelates and with the organizers of the fledgling Catholic Action Movement.

One of his most illustrious acquaintanceships was made through his leanings toward historical research. The young priest delved into the ancient books in Milan's Ambrosiana Library and became acquainted with the librarian, Msgr. Achille Ratti, who in 1922 became Pope Pius XI.

In addition to his work as secretary and his historical research, the Rev. Roncalli found time to teach church history, apologetics and patristics at the Bergamo Seminary.

At the outbreak of World War I, he was drafted into the Italian Army and served for a year as a sergeant in the medical corps and then as an Army chaplain in various Bergamo hospitals with the rank of lieutenant.

After the war, he founded Italy's first "students home" for aid to middle-class students in public schools.

He also played an active role in the Catholic Action Movement, which was then starting to develop into a powerful force.

CALLED TO ROME

His activity attracted the attention of Pope Benedict XV, who already had met him. The pontiff called him to Rome to work with the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith.

He became a monsignor, an honorary canon of Bergamo and a domestic prelate of the Pope. He played a leading role in reorganizing the Association for the Propagation of the Faith, a lay body supporting missionary activities. He was president of the association's Italian branch and a member of its general council.

In that capacity he visited European centers and spread the association's activity "not with the noise of a storm, but like slow, fertility-bringing water."

During this time he never gave up priestly activity. He kept working as a preacher, a confessor and a spiritual director.

It was in 1925 he started his diplomatic career with appointment by Pius XI as "apostolic visitor" to Bulgaria. He simultaneously was appointed titular archbishop of Areopolis and consecrated at the age of 43.

In 1935 he was promoted to the twin posts of apostolic vicar and delegate to Turkey and apostolic delegate to Greece with the titular title of archbishop of Mesembria. He served in that capacity for nine years, with headquarters in Istanbul.

Esteem for him was so great that in December 1944 Pope Pius XII appointed him nuncio to Paris, to the archbishop's surprise.

"I am not fit for that post," he is reported to have said.

But it was the Pope's personal will, and the archbishop took on the difficult assignment.

When he was appointed patriarch of Venice on his elevation to cardinal, he was known as the "quiet after the storm" in contrast to his predecessor, the austere Msgr. Carlo Agostini.

Even after his appointment to the Venice post, Cardinal Roncalli did not abandon his activity as a "traveler of God." He served as papal legate to a Marian Congress held in Lebanon in 1954 and again to this year's centenary celebrations of the French Shrine of Lourdes.

Waterford to Set Up New Bike Ordinance

A new bicycle ordinance for Waterford Township will go into effect March 1, 1959, and license plates will be issued at various schools in the township by Civil Defense auxiliary police.

Before an individual is issued a license plate for a 25 cent fee, his bicycle must pass tests for adequate brakes, steering and tire inspection, according to police chief Millard Pender.

A booklet on road regulations and safety suggestions will accompany the numeraled license plates, and officials are now setting up specific rules which will be enforced, Pender added.

New Tax Revenue Source Pointed Out

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (UPI) — The U.S. Supreme Court opened a potential new source of tax revenue for some states by a decision recently, a Michigan State University economics professor said today.

Dr. Denzel C. Cline told the annual meeting of the National Tax Association that four decisions by the high court last March allowed Michigan and Wisconsin to levy taxes on manufacturers using property with title held by the federal government.

Cline said the Michigan cases involved the Borg-Warner Corp. and Continental Motor Corp. and upheld the legality of Michigan law aimed at preventing escape from local taxes of federally owned industrial plants.

Cline said that unless Congress prohibited such taxes, they might be levied on oil and mineral exploration and development, lumbering, power sites, water rights, livestock grazing and airport facilities.

Lovers on Spot as Science Aims for Moon

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — The question of the day, to all us deep-feeling shallow thinkers, is not when will science reach the moon. But rather, after science shoots the moon, will they have shot a great and necessary myth?

In other words, when the moon is exposed for what it really is, what will become of young love?

This may seem of petty significance to staid people over 21, to whom romance represents security and exemptions. But consider the young, innocent boys and girls who might never do aught but giggle and throw rocks at one another if it were not that someone told them the thing to do under the moon is kiss and quote Shakespeare.

The charm of the big white glob (which actually is not much, aesthetically) was its mystery and its reputation for winning hearts and influencing emotions.

Even before rockets, it was vulnerable enough (a reference to the "green cheese" theory has nipped many a romance, and when the man-in-moon was too distinct, many girls shied off a kiss with a subconscious fear of being watched). But no one could deny that, all in all, the moon was a force for good sentiment.

Now, when the unromantic scientists file reports revealing the moon in all its frigid, rugged, uncomfortable reality, it will be nothing but a statistic. And all that wonderful swearing by the moon will be as dull and disapproved as swearing by anything else.

I suppose the kids will find something else to make love by. Maybe the "milky way" is the ticket. Providing, of course, they drop the name, which is so wholesome it would give anybody inhibitions.

Speaking of romantic symbols, the nation's foremost authority on superstitions, Claudia de Lys, has a new book called "A Treasure of Parenthood and Its Folklore." Among hundreds of fascinating fallacies, she describes the origins of some romantic customs.

"Carrying the bride over the threshold," for example, stems from the primitive customs of the caveman. He carried his bride into the cave because it was the only way he could get her there, the brute.

"Kissing the bride," now subtitled free-for-all osculation, started strangely. In ancient Rome, suspicious husbands pressed their lips against their wives' to learn if the girls had been imbibing wine behind their backs.

This led to the betrothal kiss, somehow reversing itself into a show of trust. And then, gradually, everybody started kissing brides in good faith.

"June weddings" became popular, not because of delightful weather, but because of the goddess Juno after whom the month was named. She herself was said to have been a devoted wife to Jupiter. When marriages took place in her honored month, she guaranteed to take care of their happiness. (As many June weddings end in divorce as those in unblessed seasons.)

"Happy the bride the sun shines on" was more than whimsical nonsense when it started in foggye auld England. Marriages of the 16th Century took place in the open air, generally at the church door. When it rained for her wedding in those days, the bride was not only ill-omened—she was ill!

Formosa Strait Tension Eases

Reds Shell Quemoy, but Reports Conflict on Intensity of Artillery

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Communist artillery shelled Quemoy again today but there was a noticeable easing of tension over the offshore island crisis.

"Starting about midnight it was a constant boom-boom-boom that kept us awake for a long time . . . I'd say it was thousands of rounds . . . In my opinion it was the heaviest in some time," a Nationalist officer told AP Correspondent David Lancashire when he reached Quemoy today.

In Taipei, however, the Defense Ministry's official shell count said only 441 rounds hit the islands from 9 a.m. Tuesday to 6 a.m. today, followed by a 2½-hour lull, then a 181-round bombardment from 8:30 a.m. until noon.

Lancashire confirmed that the Communist artillery fired sporadically through the morning.

Wednesday was an odd-numbered day, meaning unlimited shelling under the Reds' strange announced new tactic. They said they would not fire on even-numbered days into Quemoy's landing areas and invited the Nationalists to ship in supplies then.

Firm Set to Close Plant at Brighton

DETROIT (AP) — John L. Barrett, a vice president, states that Detroit Gasket & Manufacturing Co. is closing its plant at Brighton "strictly as a matter of business economics."

"The plant is getting pretty obsolete," Barrett said. "Continuing operations there would require major capital expenditures which we are not prepared to make at this time."

Forty-two of the Brighton plant's 130 employes got layoff papers last Friday. An assistant plant manager said at the time the plant would be closed in four to six weeks.

The Brighton plant recently has been the object of a union organizing drive.

The firm also has plants in Detroit, Marine City, Alpena and Belding and Barrett said Brighton operations will be transferred to some of these.

The board of directors of the Michigan State Association of Life Underwriters are meeting today at the Waldron Hotel to discuss proposed legislation concerning life insurance and make preliminary plans for a Life Insurance Week in Michigan beginning May 18.

MR. and MRS. HAROLD J. HAMILTON

Covert Methodist Scene of Stayt-Hamilton Rite

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The Covert Methodist Church was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of Janet D. Stayt to Harold J. Hamilton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Stayt of Winslow drive. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hamilton of Oldsmobile drive.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Hamilton chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon over silk satin. Her fingertip veil of matching lace fell from a tiara crown, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Best man was Ed Passmore of Waterford Township, assisted by the bridegroom's brother, Michael. Ushers were Charles Calkins of Pontiac and Roland Houthoofd of Akron, Mich.

Mrs. Porter Johns of Walled Lake Dies

WALLED LAKE — Mrs. Mae Porter Johns, 82, of 433 E. Market St., died this morning at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital following an illness of about 10 months.

A pioneer Walled Lake resident, Mrs. Johns had been active in community and church affairs most of her life. She was clerk of the Walled Lake Baptist Church, secretary of the Walled Lake Cemetery Assn., a member of the Study Club, Garden Club and Civic Club, all in Walled Lake.

She was the widow of the late Cass Johns.

Service will take place Friday at the Walled Lake Baptist Church, with burial in Walled Lake Cemetery. Her body is at Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Walled Lake.

No New Polio Cases in Detroit for 1st Day

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit passed the first day in three months without a report of a new polio case Tuesday.

The count remained at 617 cases and 21 deaths in 1958, compared with 175 cases and two deaths in the corresponding period last year.

One new case was reported in sections of Wayne County on Detroit's outskirts. This brought the outcounty total for 1958 to 194 with one death, compared with 74 cases and one death at this time last year.

Macomb Ups Budget

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The Macomb County Board of Supervisors has approved a 1959 budget of $5,726,790, an increase of $366,126 over the county's current budget. The new budget provides for $1,000 pay increases for six county officers including Clerk Albert A. Wagern.

Capital, Strikers Still Deadlocked

Mediation Talks Fail to Bring Settlement of Airline Tieup

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strike of mechanics against Capital Airlines neared the end of its second week today with no progress reported toward settlement.

Federal Mediator Francis A. O'Neill Jr. conferred in separate sessions yesterday with Capital Vice President Robert J. Wilson and representatives of the striking International Assn. of Machinists. But neither side reported any progress.

The strike was called at midnight, Oct. 15, in a dispute over wage increases and other contract demands.

Although the union came up with a new offer, Wilson said there had been no change in the union's wage demands and that the union had revived other issues which he said a presidential fact finding board had rejected.

The machinists are asking a 42-cent an hour pay boost for the 2,500 striking mechanics. Their pay had averaged $2.46 an hour. Capital had offered an increase of 26 cents an hour but has since scaled that down to the 20 cents recommended by the presidential board.

The walkout, which has halted all Capital operations, threatens to extend Friday to Trans World Airlines. The machinists also have threatened to strike against Eastern, Northeast, Northwest and National airlines but have set no strike dates.

Suspected Bomb Found at Flint Postal Center

FLINT (AP) — Police are checking what they believe is a crude bomb found near Flint's new postal center, dedicated Monday by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield of Flint.

The object—a quart jar containing a white powder and a sulphuric acid tube held in place by stones—was found yesterday.

Police said it popped and spouted flames when they tested it.

Hunter Dies of Attack

HUDSONVILLE (AP) — Harry Gross, 66, of Grand Rapids, was found dead Tuesday in a farm field where he was hunting in Ottawa County. Police said he died of a heart attack.

8 Communities Plan Halloween Celebrations

'Beggars' to Call for UNICEF Pennies

Eight county communities have planned organized Halloween celebrations for this weekend, and "beggars" from three of the localities will seek pennies for food, clothing and medicine for their underprivileged neighbors across the seas.

Children in Oxford, Ortonville and Clarkston intend to defy the goblins and witches Friday night and, in costumes, comb the communities carrying UNICEF canisters.

They will be collecting pennies for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund instead of the usual Halloween treats for themselves.

Clarkston

Clarkston Elementary School children, who will participate in the "Treat for All the World's Children" drive, will receive their canisters at the school Friday afternoon.

The canvass in the Clarkston area Halloween night will be from 6 to 7 p.m. Children will then return to the school for cider, donuts and a movie sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club.

Last year this community collected $182, according to Mrs. Paul Eliason, chairman of the Clarkston UNICEF.

Ortonville

★ ★ ★

The annual Community Halloween party is a project of Community Activities, Inc., with Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Saunders as co-chairmen.

Sounding of the fire siren at 6 p.m. Friday will mean that children should present their Jack O'Lanterns at the Grange Hall Annex for judging and then pick up their penny canisters.

Silver dollars will be awarded for the three best carved pumpkins and the canisters with the most pennies, by the Women's Club later in the evening.

The parade of costumed children will form at the Town Hall under the direction of Norman Williams, scoutmaster, and then travel to the Fire Hall for judging.

Games and contests for preschoolers and pupils through eighth graders will be conducted next to the Fire Hall. The Veterans' Auxiliary, Rotary Anns, Brandon Veterans' and Rotary Club are assisting in the costume and game contests.

The auxiliary police and the fire department will serve refreshments at the Fire Hall. These two organizations also will be in charge of the teenagers' street dance which, in case of rain, will be held in the Town Hall.

Arlo Davis, president of Community Activities, Inc., said the cooperation of Bald Eagle Lake, Lake Louise and Ortonville businessmen, scouts, civic groups and clubs should make the evening a successful one.

Oxford

The Methodist Church School in Oxford will again sponsor the UNICEF drive.

★ ★ ★

The children will conduct the house-to-house drive tonight, Thursday and Friday.

Leonard

The Addison Township firemen will sponsor a Halloween party Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Fire Hall. Five prizes will be given for the best costume.

★ ★ ★

Hot dogs, cider and apples will be served, according to the co-chairmen, Mike Schlusler and Gary Sutherby.

Metamora

Main street of Metamora will be the scene of the Halloween costume party Friday night. It is being sponsored by the local Lions Club.

A parade of costumes for different age groups will be followed by the awarding of prizes and serving of refreshments.

The Senior Young People's group of Pilgrim Congregational Church will hold a Halloween party at the church tomorrow beginning at 6:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The evening will feature a magician, games, hayride, prizes and refreshments.

Orion Township

Children living on Brown road who attend Carpenter School will gather on the front yard of Charles Loucks Jr., 721 Brown Rd., for their party Friday.

★ ★ ★

Beginning at 6 p.m., the evening will include a hayride, bonfire, wiener roast and story-telling hour. The party is open only to children living on Brown road.

Troy

The Live Wire Fellowship group of Troy Methodist Church will hold a masquerade party Saturday at the home of Robert Schultz, 365 E. Square Lake Rd. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

Union Lake

The Huron Woods Civic Association in the Huron Woods Subdivision near Union Lake will sponsor a community Halloween party for children Friday beginning at 8 p.m.

The outdoor party will include contests, games, prizes, cider and donuts.

Held on a vacant lot on Alsup street near Crattage street, the party is being planned by Dan Herron with the assistance of Mrs. Clifford Alderson, Mrs. Fred Oesgher and Mrs. Clarence Sellers.

RUTHANN D. McKENNA

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Ruthann D. McKenna to Philip C. Swartz. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Ann McKenna of 129 Arvida, Walled Lake, and the late Clarence McKenna. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Swartz. The wedding date hasn't been set.

Boy's Jack o' Lantern Sets City House Afire

Firemen yesterday extinguished flames which caused an estimated $400 damages to the two-story frame home of George R. Landry, 262 Judson St.

The blaze broke out in a second-story bedroom where Landry's 7-year-old son, John, was playing with a jack o' lantern. The lantern set fire to a mattress and the floor, according to firemen.

Lake Orion Dinner Slated by Masons

LAKE ORION — Five hundred lodge members from southern Michigan are expected to attend the annual Master Masons' dinner Saturday at Lake Orion Community High School.

St. Andrews Lodge 588 of Detroit will exemplify the first and second sections of the Master Mason degree. The fellowcraft team will wear their native Scottish dress and give the work in the Gaelic tongue.

The dinner, by reservation for Master Masons only, will be served by Orion chapter 340, Order of the Eastern Star, from 5 to 7 p.m., with the Rainbow Girls assisting. Reservations may be made with Hugh Brady at Brady's Market.

Carter Gospel Team Appearing at Church

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — Starting this evening and continuing through Nov. 9, the Carter Gospel Team will lead a series of evangelistic meetings at the West Highland Baptist Church.

The Christian trio is the nation's only full-time inter-racial and interdenominational musical gospel team, according to the Rev. Gail G. Buckles, pastor.

Services will begin each night, except Saturday, with prayer meetings. Song services will follow at 8 p.m.

The public is invited.

FINAL DELIVERY — Leon Keefer, 50, of Keego Harbor, who has had a Pontiac Press route since 1935, makes his final delivery. Receiving the paper is Kern H. Murphy, 3054 Summers St., Keego Harbor. Murphy, a customer of Keefer's for 21 years, is production manager at General Motors Truck and Coach Division. Keefer decided to retire last week.

Pontiac Press Carrier, 50, Retires After 23 Years

Pontiac Press subscribers in the South Cass Lake road — Pine Lake avenue area of Keego Harbor Saturday saw what might be called an end to an era.

That was the day Leon Keefer, of 2248 S. Cass Lake Rd., decided to retire after owning and running his Pontiac Press route for 23 years.

Leon, who will be 51 next month, said he had "decided to take it easy. The route was getting to be a little too big for me."

He came to the Press in 1935. He had been laid off for a year and, because of poor eyesight, had trouble getting a job. Leon has been partially blind since childhood.

Since 1935 it is estimated he has delivered 1½ million papers.

"Through the years I guess dogs bothered me the most," he said smiling. "I was bitten several times, but none of the bites were ever very serious."

Many residents of Keego Harbor will miss Leon. One of them is Kern H. Murphy, of 3054 Summers St. Murphy has taken The Press from Leon for 21 years and says he never missed a copy.

Board Accepts Bids at Southfield Meet

SOUTHFIELD — The low bid of 1.87 per cent interest on a loan of $500,000 has been accepted by the Southfield Board of Education from the Detroit Bank and Trust Co.

The money will be used in anticipation of undistributed state aid to operate schools. The Board also authorized spending $17,081 for paving and blacktopping at the Lathrup and Magnolia school sites. The work will be done by B. J. Pollard Co. of Detroit.

Bids for equipping East Southfield and John Grace school cafeterias were let in a total amount of $21,074 to the Gold Star Products Co., Detroit.

The Board approved a revised operating budget of $2,503,735 for the 1958-59 fiscal year.

TO REPLACE 1837 TROY CHURCH — This is the architect's sketch of the proposed Troy Methodist Church to be located on a 10-acre site west of Livernois road, about a quarter-mile north of Square Lake road. The contemporary style edifice was designed by the firm of James B. Morison, A.I.A. Total cost of the building and its furnishings has been estimated at $250,000. The building plans include a sanctuary with seating for 380 persons and a fellowship hall to accommodate 350. The present church at 90 E. Square Lake Rd., built in 1837, has been occupied by the congregation since 1862. Several of its stained glass memorial windows and its bell will be installed at the new church.

Weep for Joy to Hear Brother Is New Pope

SOTTO IL MONTE, Italy (AP) —Outside, children danced around bonfires. People of the hamlet where Pope John XXIII was born shouted: "Long live Roncalli! Long live the Pope!"

Villagers exulted at the election of Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, 76-year-old son of a Sotto Il Monte farmer, to succeed Pius XII as sovereign pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church.

Inside the Roncalli family home, the picture was different.

Three brothers and a sister were sitting around a square kitchen table when they heard the Vatican's broadcast announcement of the elevation of Cardinal Roncalli. They wept.

For many minutes not a word was said. The emotion among the group, the youngest 64, was too great.

The parish priest, the Rev. Pietro Bosio, came in smiling.

"He will leave a clear mark of his reign — something that will last for the future," Father Bosio said. "He is in wonderful health."

Pope John's father, Giovanni Battista (John Baptist) Roncalli, died in 1935 and his mother in 1939. Of his four brothers and five sisters the only survivors are Zaverio, 75; Alfredo, 69; Giuseppe, 64; and the sister, Assunta, 73.

The brothers and their families live together in the newer, larger dwelling built on the site of the small stone farmhouse in the Alps where Pope John was born Nov. 25, 1881.

Also living here are 40 nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews of the new pontiff.

Giuseppe, father of 10, said food was not abundant in his childhood and their father was not rich.

★ ★ ★

"I remember sometimes when Angelo — he was a young man then and I was a child — was able to lunch on a dish of cornmeal and fried egg. He had the egg, and I had to content myself with cleaning up the dish. But we were always healthy."

Giuseppe said he believed the new Pope picked the name John "because our village church is dedicated to St. John."

"He was baptized there," Giuseppe said.

He noted also that their father and a brother who died in 1956 bore the name of the saint.

Hundreds of peasants from the countryside thronged into the village of 1,773 population to take part in the public celebration.

Bonfires blazed on the hills around the town and in courtyards and streets. There was a traffic jam for a time in the main square.

There was a celebration and bonfires also in the main square of nearby Bergamo, capital of the province in which Sotto Il Monte is located.

Dynamite Discovered in Virginia School

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — A janitor reached into a trash container at the 1,750-pupil E. C. Glass High School Tuesday and came up with a paper bag containing dynamite.

Inserted in the explosive was a cap and running from the cap was a coil of wire. A flashlight battery, not connected to the wire, also was in the bag.

The discovery came after pupils in the white school, where a bombing threat was received last Thursday, had left for home. Authorities had ordered the school evacuated after last week's threat but no explosive was found.

City Council offered a $1,000 reward for apprehension and conviction of the person who put the dynamite in a boy's lavatory of the school.

Only a portion of a stick of dynamite was in the bag. Police said the seal on the coil of wire hadn't been broken and that it could not have conducted a current to the explosive. Neither, they said, could the small battery have provided enough charge to set off the dynamite.

Pope Fulfilling Old Prediction of Irish Saint

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Eight hundred years ago Irish St. Malachy predicted that a future pope would be the "Pastor Angelicus," or Angelic Shepherd.

Catholics generally accepted that Pope Pius XII was the Angelic Shepherd. The Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, sees Pope John XXIII as a further fulfillment of the saint's prophesy.

The new Pope has been a shepherd of souls as high prelate of the church. And he comes to the papacy from the sea port of Venice, where as Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli he was patriarch.

Hope Shattered for 93 Miners

21 Bodies Recovered So Far From Cave-In in Nova Scotia

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (UPI) — Hope is all but gone for the miners still missing in the rubble of a cave-in and the death toll appeared certain to reach 93.

Yesterday a total of 21 bodies had been recovered from the No. 2 shaft of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company, which was hit by an earthquake-like jolt or "bump" Thursday night. Of the 174 men in the mine only 81 made it to safety.

Miners and specially trained mine rescue workers (draegermen) have been bringing out bodies one or two at a time. The rescue workers said it appeared as though most of the victims had been killed outright immediately after the bump. Some were crushed by falling rock and debris, while others were poisoned by the lethal gas.

They said the bodies were badly decomposed because of the humid conditions of the mine, and they feared many would never be identified. The bodies were being wrapped in plastic bags for transfer to the surface where attempts were made to identify them.

Zeppo Marx Engaged to Wed Blonde Model

★ ★ ★

They haven't set a date for the marriage, he said. They met about six months ago in Las Vegas, Nev., where the bride-to-be attended high school.

Ruling on Dismissal of Teachers Issued

LANSING (AP) — The attorney general's office has issued an opinion holding that the 60-day dismissal notice for probationary teachers required by the tenure of teachers act cannot be used without cause.

The opinion added that the notice "must have connection with whether or not the teacher's services are satisfactory."

It also held that a probationary teacher who has not been notified at least 60 days before the close of the school year that his services will be discontinued is entitled to employment for another year.

The opinion was requested by Juste A. Rosati, chairman of the Michigan State Tenure Commission.

The attorney general's office said the request stemmed from the action of some school boards in attempting to discharge probationary teachers without cause.

McElroy in Turkey

Private aircraft flew more than twice as many hours as all commercial aircraft combined in the U.S. in 1957.

Votes for Governors May Mean White House in '60

(The only national election this year involves Congress, but looming large at the polls will be the shadow of the presidential election two years from now. Some of the ways in which the results on Nov. 4 could have an important bearing on the 1960 presidential race are analyzed in the following dispatch by UPI Washington Bureau Chief Lyle C. Wilson, who has been covering and interpreting national politics since 1927.)

By LYLE C. WILSON

★ ★ ★

Michigan's Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams is gunning for a sixth term as a political partner of Walter P. Reuther, who long since emerged as the Mr. Big of labor politics. Williams scarcely can lose, nor could a Democratic National Convention easily brush off a six-time winner in Michigan.

Williams, "the man with the polka dot tie," is almost certainly the best known governor in Michigan history.

The handsome, towering chief executive has occupied the governor's chair four years longer than any other man. Now he's gunning for a sixth straight term, unprecedented in Michigan or any other state in modern history.

Perhaps most astounding, he created a political revolution that put all the state's top administrative offices in Democratic hands—this in a state which had been strongly Republican for most of a century.

If he succeeds in his bid for a sixth term, there is widespread speculation he will set his sights on the White House in 1960.

Running against him is Paul D. Bagwell, who, many Republicans say, has given the Republican party its hardest working candidate for governor in 10 years.

Neither his underdog role nor political nor personal handicaps slowed the 45-year old speech professor from Michigan State University in his second bid for statewide elective office.

If he overcomes the odds, Bagwell will turn in probably the most notable individual political triumph in Michigan history.

Even if he doesn't, his vigor will have left its mark on a party whose fortunes stood at an all time low ebb when he took over.

A big win would not provide Harriman with more than a mere chance to be nominated for President. A slim margin of victory or defeat, however, would close the door against him with a bang.

In New York, Nelson A. Rockefeller, grandson of John D. the first, is the Republican nominee for governor. Rockefeller and his political pals will run a high presidential fever if he is elected.

There are Republican regulars who would regard Rockefeller as something of a New Dealer and, assuredly, as a Modern Republican with emphasis on the qualifying word.

So, Rockefeller might maneuver a convention delegation which he controlled toward the nomination of someone other than Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is highly regarded by the party regulars. That might not prevent Nixon's nomination in 1960 for President but it would set up a real obstacle.

A pretzel manufacturer named Arthur T. McGonigle is the Republican nominee for governor in Pennsylvania. If he wins, this Republican would offer his party a new name, a new face and new hope that the GOP might re-establish itself as the major party in a big Eastern state.

MvGonigle is a business man who has made a lot of money for himself. He might attract a lot of Republican interest although the conservatives might count him a bit soft on the labor issue.

The last time Pennsylvania went Democratic was in 1944 when Franklin Roosevelt received 105,125-vote plurality. In pre-Civil War voting, it went Whig twice, Federalist once.

Nixon's presidential ambitions are challenged by the disruption of the Republican organization in California. Nixon contributed to this situation by joining in the pressure which compelled Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to abandon his plan to seek re-election this year.

Sen. William F. Knowland is the Republican gubernatorial candidate in California. Knight is running for the seat which Knowland will vacate. Knight refuses to endorse Knowland. This political mess becomes messier by reason of Knowland's endorsement of a right-to-work proposal to outlaw the union shop.

Knight objects to right-to-work. Nixon visited his home state in September in an effort to repair the party machine, to get Knight and Knowland together and to put some oomph into the Republican campaign in California. The word is that Nixon was unable to bring it off and, further, that Republican candidates in California probably will take a severe licking on election day.

That would be bad for Nixon, whose prestige rides in some degree on the performance of his party in his home state. On the other hand, if Knowland were elected governor he might decide to shoot in 1960 for the Republican presidential nomination. That would not be good for Nixon, either.

Democrat Edmond G. (Pat) Brown, 53, state attorney general is opposing Knowland. Only Democratic governor this century was Culbert Olson (1939-43) who won by 220,715 vote plurality.

Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill of Ohio is not soft on the labor issue. He is campaigning for re-election and for the adoption of an amendment to the state constitution which would outlaw the union shop. The nation and the Republican Party scarcely have been aware of O'Neill.

They will be plenty aware of him after Nov. 4, however, if he is returned to office by a fat margin of votes and if the amendment which he has endorsed is approved by the voters.

They might hear it from O'Neill, if he has such a voice, which remains to be determined. His record will be searched, if he is re-elected, and his performance in office will be observed closely during the next two years.

Opposing him is Democrat Michael V. DiSalle, fifty years old, an attorney and former mayor of Toledo.

With this election, the term of office becomes four years.

The last time Ohio went Democratic was in 1948 when Truman received 7,107-vote plurality. In pre-Civil War voting, it went Whig four times.

★ ★ ★

He is receiving token opposition from Republican George W. Johnson, a Greenwood attorney, 75 years old. In 1956, Faubus polled 80.6 per cent of the vote.

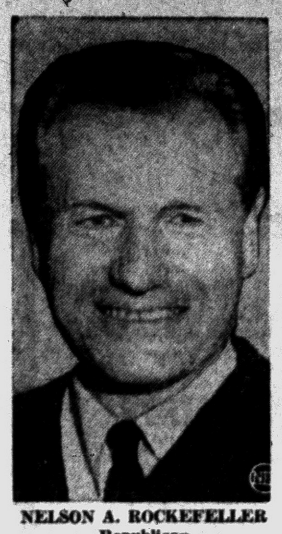

★ ★ ★

Massachusetts is the bailiwick of the Democratic Golden Boy, Sen. John F. Kennedy, an able and personable young man who inherited political ambition and a great deal of money. Kennedy is a shoo-in for re-election and the bigger his margin the better his opportunity to become the second Catholic to be nominated for President of the United States. First was Alfred E. Smith, of New York, in 1928.

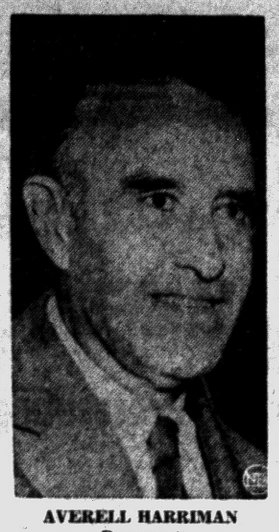

★ ★ ★

In the main, Republicans will be looking to New York, Pennsylvania, California and, somewhat to their astonishment, to Ohio for presidential pointers.

But One Third Will Stay Home

76 Million Entitled to Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A total of 76,565,504 voters are qualified to cast ballots in the Nov. 4 elections, according to official and unofficial estimates.

Both figures, if they are borne out, would be records for a mid-term election. They contradict in some degree widespread reports of disinterest in the election of the fourth Congress of the Eisenhower administration.

The tabulations are based on estimates and some official figures gathered by the Associated Press from state officials, party chairmen and in some instances political writers.

6.7 MILLION IN NEW YORK

It includes an official registration of 6,769,904 in New York State, made public last night. This is a record for a non-presidential year in the Empire State. It is believed to reflect unusual interest in the lively Harriman-Rockefeller gubernatorial battle.

The estimated vote of 48,131,226 includes the 284,226 already officially recorded in the Senatorial election in Maine Sept. 8. It represents a gain of more than 3½ million over the previous highest mid-term vote in 1954, and would be almost 63 per cent of the estimated registration.

Only a few states gather official registration figures and some of these are not available until election day or later.

The total registration estimate for the country compares with a Census Bureau estimate of 104,600,000 potential voters — citizens 21 years of age and over in most states; 18 and over in Georgia and Kentucky. The potential vote gained 4,377,000 over 1954.

Twenty-seven states show gains over 1954 in the number of persons who have registered, paid poll taxes, or otherwise have met state voting requirements. Largest gains are in California, 867,000; New York, 551,000, and Iowa and North Carolina 200,000 each.

Nine states have qualified fewer voters and 12 others have remained about the same as 1954.

Fight Chicago Bid for More Water

MANITOWOC, Wis. (UPI) — The Great Lakes Harbor Assn. yesterday repeated its opposition to diversion by Chicago of any more Great Lakes water into the Illinois waterway.

Delegates at the closing session approved a resolution which said the association was "unalterably opposed to increased diversion of water from Lake Michigan or the Great Lakes basin in excess of quantities fixed by the Supreme Court decree in 1930."

The 1930 ruling set the diversion rate at 1,500 cubic feet per second. Chicago sought unsuccessfully in the last two sessions of Congress to have the rate boosted to 2,500 C.F.S.

English-Soviet Soccer Match Hard on Fans

LONDON (AP)—It is the day of the season's biggest international soccer game, between England and the Soviet Union.

The typical British fan, who digs ditches for the Borough Council, has no ticket. If he is going to go, he will have to get one from a scalper at Wembley Stadium. The fan has assured himself he can afford neither a ticket nor the loss of a day's work. He will not go.

Shortly after noon he crams himself into a subway train along with hundreds of his peers, Wembley bound.

Along the parade way leading from the subway station to the stadium a religious organization has posted several signs. They read, in order: "Sin Is a Reproach to Any People," "All Have Sinned," "The Coming of the Lord Draweth Nigh" and "Prepare To Meet Thy God."

By the time he gets to the stadium the fan is in starting condition for a disaster.

He approaches a ticket spiv who demands 10 shillings—$1.40—for a three-shilling sixpence—50 cents—ticket to standing room in Section D, far behind one of the goals.

The fan ripostes with an offer of seven shillings sixpence $1.05—which is refused with hauteur. The fan forks over 10 shillings and wends his way to Section D.

★ ★ ★

By game time the concrete terraces of Section D are so crammed with people the fan would be unable to fall down if he fainted. He is screened from the playing field by a phalanx of men seven feet tall. Behind him is a covey of juvenile delinquents whirling wooden rattlers, one of which catches him an occasional clout on the ear.

From time to time there is a roar from the crowd. The fan assumes something is happening but is unable to confirm it visually. At halftime a kindly policeman informs everybody England is leading 1 to 0.

The fan badly needs a drink. He is afraid to go down to the bar for fear he would be unable to wedge himself back into Section D. The queue would be too long for him to get waited on anyway. Besides, all the money he has left is his carfare home.

As the game proceeds the cold creeps up from the cement through the fan's shoes all the way to his knees. He feels awful. He would leave early and avoid the crowd, but he knows he will never make it through the massed bodies.

After an eon the final whistle blows. The fan is extruded through the exit like toothpaste from a tube. He waits on the chilly subway platform nearly an hour before he can push into a train.

Tottering with fatigue he reaches home and turns on the radio. He learns that England has won, 5 to 0.

He will have to do without beer or cigarettes until payday.

He feels wonderful. He has been present, with 99,000 others, when England avenged the defeat which knocked them out of the world soccer cup in Stockholm last summer.

Canada to Give $150 Million Aid

Already Has Donated Twice as Much to Help South, Southwest Asia

SEATTLE (AP)—Canada's contribution to the economic development of Colombo Plan countries in South and Southeast Asia will amount to 150 million dollars over the next three years, a Canadian official said today.

J. M. Teakles, leader of the Canadian delegation to the Colombo Plan officials' meeting now under way here, said the decision of his government will enable countries in the area "to plan ahead in the knowledge that Canadian aid is assured for that period."

In a statement, Teakles declared that Canadian assistance since 1950 when the Colombo Plan was organized totals 292 million dollars. This includes 61 million dollars in grants and loans for wheat and flour.

Canada also has sent 120 technical experts to Colombo Plan countries and accepted more than 1,000 trainees for them to learn Canadian industrial techniques and receive training in government administration.

Over and above these Colombo Plan allocations, he said, Canada has made contributions and loans in wheat and flour amounting to 10½ million dollars to Pakistan, 8 million to India and 3 million dollars to Ceylon. These contributions were designed to help meet serious food shortages.

He said an additional 35 million dollar credit has been made available for the purchase of wheat and flour to supplement regular Colombo Plan aid.

★ ★ ★

Says Detergents Increase Skin Irritation on Hands

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Skin irritations on women's hands have increased tremendously since detergents have been manufactured as substitutes for common soap, a Mayo Foundation dermatologist says.

★ ★ ★

The specialist, Dr. Louis A. Brunsting Sr., told the Oklahoma City Clinical Society that detergents may destroy layers of skin leaving no defense against skin trouble.

The motto E Pluribus Unum (Out of Many, one) used on United States documents was the idea of Thomas Jefferson.

Policeman Survives Ride Outside Car

Countryman had stopped Mrs. Shippey for a minor traffic violation. As he reached his arm inside for her driver's license, she punched the button operating the electric lift on the car window and raced away.

Countryman fired three shots at the left front tire. But as the car picked up speed he decided to "ride it out." Countryman's patrol car partner finally forced Mrs. Shippey to the curb.

She said at police headquarters that she didn't know Countryman was a policeman, even though he was in uniform.

There Are Two Seas

A Parable by Bruce Barton

THERE are two seas in Palestine. One is fresh, and fish are in it. Splashes of green adorn its banks. Trees spread their branches over it, and stretch out their thirsty roots to dip of its healing waters. Along its shore the children play.

The River Jordan makes this sea with sparkling water from the hills. So it laughs in the sunshine. And men build their houses near to it, and birds their nests; and every kind of life is happier because it is there.

The River Jordan flows on south into another sea. Here is no splash of fish, no fluttering leaf, no song of birds, no children's laughter. Travellers choose another route, unless on urgent business. The air hangs above its waters and neither man nor beast nor fowl will drink. What makes this mighty difference in these neighbor seas? Not the River Jordan. It empties the same good water into both. Not the soil in which they lie; not the country round about.

This is the difference. The Sea of Galilee receives but does not keep the Jordan. For every drop that flows into it another drop flows out. The giving and receiving go on in equal measure. The other sea is shrewder, hoarding its income jealously. It will not be tempted into any generous impulse. Every drop it gets, it keeps. The Sea of Galilee gives and lives. This other sea gives nothing. It is named the Dead.

There are two seas in Palestine.

There are two kinds of people in the world.

Which kind are we?

Willman to Try to Drop Meters

Commission Gives OK to Propose Changes in Hospital Bond Plan

As a result of neighborhood protests, City Manager Walter K. Willman will try to drop parking meters on Oneida road and Seminole street from the Pontiac General Hospital parking lot plan.

After a 1½-hour protest session before city commissioners last night, Willman was authorized to make the proposal to bonding experts who drew up the $175,000 revenue bond plan to finance the lot.

The bonding plan has already been adopted and is due to go into effect in 13 days. Under it, the city is called on to erect 75 meters outside the lot to help bolster revenues, if necessary, within the 214-stall lot.

"There is no immediate intention to install meters on Oneida and Seminole," said Willman. "That provision is there merely as a precaution."

He explained the extra 75 meters by pointing out that under the zoning code, the city is required to furnish parking for 289 vehicles, 75 more than the lot would hold.

About 30 residents of the two streets attended last night's meeting to back up letters of protest submitted for 14 residents on Seminole and nine on Oneida by attorney Howard I. Bond.

After the meeting, many of them insisted they did not want to block the lot, only preserve the residential quality of their neighborhood.

"We have a terrible parking problem right now, mostly caused by hospital employes who sometimes block driveways when they park," said Randall B. Wilson, of 73 Seminole Ave.

"We would prefer no parking signs to parking meters."

"It's not the hospital visitors but the hospital employes who cause the parking problem," agreed Robert B. Les, 25 Oneida St., who suggested a lot strictly for employes.

Willman said he would ask the city's bonding attorney, Claud Stevens, about the advisability of stretching the 75 parking spaces along Huron street only.

Empty Apartments Gutted by Flames

An unoccupied two story apartment house at 4645 Woodhull Dr., Independence Township, was gutted by fire at 11:30 last night.

Three fire trucks from Waterford Township assisted the four from Independence Township and firemen battled the flames for more than three hours.

Firemen said the blaze started in a center bedroom where several gallons of paint were stored. However, the cause of the fire is unknown and damage to the $8,000 frame building is still being investigated.

Owner Sam Potafnick of Detroit was contacted and informed of the fire by firemen early this morning.

City Milk Ordinance Subject of Lawsuit

A Pontiac ordinance requiring dairies that sell milk in the city to process and pasteurize it here, is the subject of a lawsuit filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by the Ira Wilson & Sons Dairy Co.

The firm contends that the 1951 ordinance is discriminatory and unconstitutional and seeks a court injunction preventing the city from enforcing it.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said the law "is controversial," and said that a similar law in Grand Haven was ruled unconstitutional by the Michigan Supreme Court several years ago.

Circuit Judge George E. Bowles ordered Ewart to show cause Nov. 7 in Detroit why the company shouldn't be granted the injunction they seek.

2 Supervisors Among Dead

13 Miners Killed, 4 Escape in 2nd-Straight Disaster

SUMMERVILLE, W.Va. (UPI) —Thirteen miners, including two top supervisory employes, lost their lives Tuesday in a second straight coal mining disaster. Four others escaped after being trapped underground.

★ ★ ★

Only the day before, 22 men were killed in an explosion at the Bishop, Va., mine of the Pocahontas Fuel Co. on the Virginia-West Virginia border.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday's blast centered a mile and a half deep in the Burton mine of the Oglebay-Norton Co., a Cleveland-based mining, marketing, ore and shipping concern between here and Richwood.

Fifty-four men were at work underground, but 37 were working on the surface-side of the explosion and scurried to safety without injury.

The Burton operation is a slope mine, bored into the side of Curtin Mountain. It is located in a barely accessible hollow on the banks of the small Gauley River in Nicholas County.

The first of four men rescued reached the surface on his own feet, leaning on the shoulders of his rescuers, some four hours after the blast. He was Artie Humphreys of Craigsville.

Three others, two of them horribly burned, were brought out on stretchers.

Among the dead were mine Supt. O. C. Gates and Asst. Supt. Eddie Stephenson, both of Craigsville.

State Mines Director Crawford L. Wilson said all the evidence indicated a gas ignition.

Shall We Rewrite Our Constitution?

Home Rule for Counties a Big Issue

(Eighth of 10 Articles on Constitutional Conventions)

By ARTHUR W. BROMAGE
Professor of Political Science, University of Michigan

Two separate sources have been charted by the Michigan Constitution so far for local governments—one for the cities and villages and one for the rural units.

Even after the present constitution was framed in 1908, the form of county and townships governments went unchanged from what it had been under the 1850 constitution. These units operate under a constitutionally prescribed form, and the election of their principal administrative officers is required.

For cities and villages on the contrary, a new device was introduced in 1908. Michigan became the seventh state in the home rule movement, a list now including 22 states.

Municipal home rule mean that a city or village has authority under the state constitution and laws to draft and adopt a charter for itself.

Home rule released cities and villages to exercise their own initiative. In Michigan more than 200 municipalities have adopted their own charters, stimulating grass-roots interest in self-government.

As in other industrial states, some of the once rural counties in Michigan are being caught up in the metropolitan tide. In spite of this situation, attempts to achieve home rule for them have not succeeded.

While the country itself has changed, the plan of county organization has not.

Michigan has a constitutional form of county government which is, in substance, the same as it was 100 years ago.

As to townships, the tradition goes back to the territorial period before Michigan was a state. First described in the constitution of 1850, township government was carried over in 1908 as it always had been. Abolition of this local unit or even radical change is not imminent, but the option of a change in townships which have become urban areas is a possibility.

If a constitutional convention is called, home rule for cities and villages will not be at stake if judged on the record. The real issue relates to home rule for the once rural, now urban county unit.

Bury Victims of Mine Blast in Virginia

For the second time in 21 months, services are scheduled for miners whose lives were snuffed out in an explosion at the Bishop diggins of the Pocahontas Fuel Co.

Thirty-seven men died in a February 1957 blast here. Another explosion Monday morning claimed the lives of 22.

There was doubt whether a public hearing on Monday's accident would begin today as scheduled. Three top mine officials hastened Tuesday to Summersville, W.Va., 90 miles to the northeast, to assist in rescue operations for 17 miners trapped by an explosion deep within a coal mine. Thirteen of the miners died.

★ ★ ★

A possible cause of the latest Bishop explosion was given by a Pocahontas official who declined to be identified. He said a poorly placed blasting charge may have ignited gas inside the mine.

Recovery Broad for Business

Commerce Department Says Autumn Success Better Than Usual

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although some phases of the recession still linger, the Commerce Department says business has fared better than usual this autumn.

In its monthly survey of the business situation, the department said Tuesday that various economic indicators show the business recovery now is rather broad.

There were a few dark spots, however. The report gave this summary:

"The recovery in employment has been rather limited; investment in industrial and commercial facilities, although leveling off, is not yet advancing, and auto production still has not given the stimulus which will come with large scale output of 1959 cars."

But except for autos, the department said industrial production has shown a marked comeback.

The better-than-seasonal pickup, the report said, has been reflected in rising personal income which climbed by 1½ billion dollars last month to a record rate of 357½ billions a year. Most of the increase was credited to bigger wage and salary payments.

Meanwhile, the Internal Revenue Service reported that despite the recession federal tax collections during the fiscal year that ended June 30 fell only 200 million dollars below the previous year. ger wage and salary payments.

That figure is somewhat misleading, however, because the major impact of the recession on corporation taxes falls during the current fiscal year. The service said the tax total for fiscal 1958 reflected increased Social Security tax rates which went into effect in January 1957.

Altogether, the federal tax take for fiscal 1958 came to $79,978,000,000, second only to the record $80,172,000,000 of fiscal 1957.

Of the major revenue sources, tax collections on corporate income and profits declined about one billion dollars to a total of $20,533,000,000.

The nation's largest source of federal revenue, individual income and employment taxes, came to $247,213,000,000 — up 603 million over fiscal 1957. However, all the increase was accounted for by Social Security taxes.

Great English Classic to Have Japanese Star

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — One of today's horror-monster writers couldn't have thought up a better shocker title than "Confessions of An Opium Eater," the great classic authored by Thomas de Quincy now heading for the movies.

Japanese actress Miiko Taka is already signed for the femme lead and, of course you remember Miiko as Marlon Brando's screen love in "Sayonara."

Buddy Adler thinks she's so good that he is not waiting for the Harlow story, but has given her a very important role in "Say One for Me" opposite Bob Wagner.

Never heard the likes of negotiating with a whole state—(and Texas yet!) to get a script idea okayed. That's what happened after Harry Ackerman, vp of CBS, had the amusing idea of doing a series called "Mother Is The Governor of Texas."

What's more Harry already has "mother" all signed, sealed and delivered in the person of that great operatic personality, Helen Traubel. Helen was slightly terrific in the one and only film she made, "So Dear to My Heart," though, alas, that couldn't be said of the movie itself.

Has the long-time Monty Clift-Libby Holman Reynolds romance hit a snag? The illusive Mr. C. seems more than smitten with Broadway commedienne Nancy Walker, a switch, indeed, for him to be dating a lady of comedy. As far as anyone knows, Monty has had but three serious romances since his film career began, his infatuation for Liz Taylor starting during the making of "Place In The Sun"; second was Judy Balaban, who later married Jay Kantor—and recently Libby Reynolds has been the woman in his life for two years, anyway.

Nancy Walker, the newest flame, is getting her divorce from David Craig, the songwriter, and before that she was wed to Gar Moore. My New York spy reports that she and Monty are dating nightly around the big town.

Ava Gardner will be in Hollywood to observe her birthday Christmas Eve, and will remain through the holiday season.

New Pope Has Made Flight in Jet Plane

Committee Waits While Lesser Powers Try for Compromise

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Political Committee today held up its arms debate while the lesser powers made an 11th-hour attempt to work out a compromise satisfactory to both the Soviet Union and the United States. They were given little chance of success.

Indian Delegate Arthur Lall asked the committee to hold off meeting until this afternoon while efforts were made to work out a resolution that could get unanimous support and furnish a bright note for the start of the Geneva Big Three talks on a nuclear weapon test ban.

Lall's request came in the wake of a Nepalese proposal that Committee Chairman Rafael Urquia of El Salvador appoint a working party representing all views and the major geographical regions of the world to try to work out some compromise.

Many diplomats at the U.N. felt Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin had doomed any compromise when he told the committee again Tuesday night that the Kremlin was sticking to its demand the Assembly call for an immediate, permanent prohibition of nuclear weapon tests.

Zorin charged that the United States and Britain, in proposing to limit the test suspension initially to a one-year period, wanted to win time for "additional propaganda and the preparation of new tests."

The Western nuclear powers demand an inspection system to detect violations before going along with a permanent test suspension.

Trial Lawyer Presents Real Shocker, Indeed

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—'Twas a shocker.

Iodine May Be Answer

'Degerming' Major Surgery Problem

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK — Exacting tests have shown that the two chemical compounds generally used by surgeons to "degerm" their own hands and the skins of their patients, are only a little more effective for that purpose than a good scrub with plain soap and water.

★ ★ ★

There is a new chemical compound, however, which is nine times more effective than plain soap and water. This was the good news announced by Drs. Arthur W. Frisch, Gordon H. Davies and William Kippaehne of the University of Oregon Medical School, Portland.

★ ★ ★

"Degerming" is an increasingly more critical matter, particularly in hospitals, because some sickening bacteria have become "resistant" to the antibiotic drugs which once promised to make "degerming" no problem at all. Now it's a major problem again.

ONE OF THE BEST

The Oregon doctors pointed out in their technical report to the American College of Surgeons that iodine is one of the best degermers known to man. It kills more troublesome bacteria than any other, and kills them faster.

But it can't be used like soap and water. It can burn the skin and it always stains it.

In the new compound, it doesn't burn and it stained very little, they said; furthermore, it will kill such tough micro-organisms as the polio virus, the bacterium which causes tuberculosis, and influenza "A" virus.

It has a complicated chemical name; the doctors called it "Virac."

The surgically popular degerming chemical compounds which their tests put in the category of plain soap and water are hexachlorophene which is the active ingredient of medicated soaps and of surgical solutions, and alkylbenzonium chloride which is better known as "Zephiran."

★ ★ ★

Their method of testing was impressively scientific. Ten men scrubbed their hands with plain soap and water for one minute, rinsed their hands in a basin of water, then scrubbed them for another minute, and rinsed in a second basin.

ANALYZE RINSE WATER

From these basins, they went to more basins and scrubbed with the degerming chemical compound being tested, rinsing after each scrub. The basins of rinse water were analyzed for their contents of sickening micro-organisms, both as to numbers and varieties.

These counts were then manipulated mathematically into an "inde" which, by statistical analysis, was shown to be decidedly "valid."

The plain soap was a common grocery store variety which shall be nameless here because the scientists just happened to use it and there is no reason to think it is a better degermer than its competitors.

The sense of the experiments in this regard is that scrubbing with plain soap and water is an efficient way of killing germs on the skins of healthy people.

Boy Comes Through Heart Surgery Fine

BALTIMORE (AP) — Klaus Kaemmerer, the German boy whose heart operation was financed by American GIs in Germany, is out of the recovery room and in good condition at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The hospital said the 5-year-old youngster is eating well in his hospital room and his mother, Mrs. Sigrid Kaemmerer, is permitted to visit with him.

Klaus had been in th recovery room since undergoing a "blue baby" operation last Wednesday, aimed at correcting a congenital heart defect.

The operation was termed a success.

U.S. soldiers stationed in Karlsruhe, Germany, where Klaus' father is a motor pool dispatcher, raised $2,500 to finance the operation and the boy's trip to the United States.

Sees No Connection to Coldwater Probe

LANSING (AP) — State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs says that "to the best of my knowledge" there is no connection between a legislative investigation of the state hospital at Coldwater and the Friday suicide of Charles Trombley, an attendant at the institution.

Childs met yesterday with Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), head of a committee probing the Oct. 8 death of Joseph Kibiloski at the hospital.

Phillips said, "I have every reason to believe Kibiloski was mistreated. The committee wants to find out by whom."

The Branch County prosecutor has issued a report holding that Kibiloski's death was not due to mistreatment.

Phillips has asked Childs to arrange lie detector tests for certain members of the hospital staff.

The commissioner said he is awaiting transcriptions of testimony by witnesses questioned by the prosecutor and will compare them with testimony given by the same witnesses to the Phillips' Committee.

Athletes Suspended for Gambling at 'M'

Football, Cage Players Among Those Involved

Fullback Is Removed From Grid Squad by Fritz Crisler

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The University of Michigan's football fullback and basketball captains have been suspended from their teams in connection with football gambling on campus.

Police issued warrants for the arrest yesterday of fullback Tony Rio and basketball star Jack Lewis. Warrants also were issued against five non-athlete students.

All seven were to be arraigned today on charges of engaging in an illegal occupation in connection with handling football spot cards. All were released without bond.

Rio and Lewis, both 21 and from Chicago, share an apartment near the university's campus.

"We are removing from their respective athletic squads both athletes involved in these charges until their cases are decided," said Michigan Athletic Director Fritz Crisler.

"The coaches know all about it," said Rio. "I told them what part I had in it—which was nothing."

"The coaches have faith in me and will wait to see what happens," he said. "I think the publicity will hurt my football. No matter what happens, people will think I'm wrong. They always take a negative attitude toward bad publicity."

Lewis was unavailable for comment.

Other students arrested were: Nick E. Mitea, 21, Ecorse, Mich.; Durwood J. Collins, 22, Houston, Tex.; John A. Miller, 19, Utica, Mich.; Carl M. Riseman, 21, Detroit, associate sports editor of the campus newspaper, The Michigan Daily.

No comment was available from the five non-athletes.

The charges of the misdemeanor carry a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and a fine of $100 on conviction.

Police issued their warrants after investigation of nearly five weeks, said detective Eugene Staudenmaier, who helped break the case.

Detective Lt. George Stauch estimated the weekly take from the pool cards ranged in the neighborhood of $10,000. Campus sources said, however, that the weekly take was considerably less.

Booker T. Williams, assistant Washtenaw County prosecutor who authorized the warrants, said this about the football card operation:

★ ★ ★

"It was a spotty, uncoordinated effort with no one person or organization pushing the thing."

The football spot cards work this way:

A purchaser selects a number of teams he believes will win, either giving or taking points according to the point spread set up by the gamblers backing the cards. If all the selections are correct, the purchaser receives a cash prize, the size of which depends on the number of games the purchaser takes a chance on.

Police said cards bearing several different brands were distributed on campus. The cards apparently originated in different cities across the nation.

Rio Suspended

Sisinyak Takes Over at Fullback for 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Now Gene Sisinyak gets his chance with the University of Michigan Wolverines after waiting two years.

With John Herrnstein sidelined with a knee injury and Tony Rio off the squad because of his involvement in a police investigation of campus gambling, the No. 1 Wolverine fullback position goes to Sisinyak.

Although Sisinyak lettered the last two years, he played little. So far this year he has seen little action.

Naturally elevated with Herrnstein out, Sisinyak played behind Rio in Michigan's 20-19 triumph over Minnesota last week and came away the Wolverines' second leading ground gainer of the game.

He carried nine times and gained 54 yards, second only to Darrell Harper.

Although the surprising loss of Rio—it may be only temporary—will hurt twice-beaten Michigan's chances against the Hawkeyes, there was a note of encouragement in the fullback department.

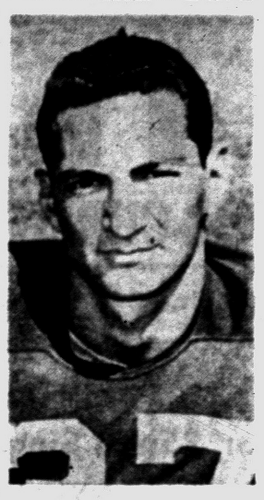

Jim Byers, out with an injury since the first week of practice, rejoined the squad yesterday and is reported ready to play against Iowa here Saturday.

Another fullback who probably will see action is John Walker.

Rio, who rose from the lower ranks to the top fullback job after Herrnstein was hurt against Navy, was dropped from the squad by order of athletic director Fritz Crisler.

But Crisler specified that Rio's expulsion was to hold "until the case is decided."

SUSPENDED — Two athletes suspended from their respective teams at the University of Michigan for being involved in a gambling ring are basketball captain Jack Lewis (above) and fullback Tony Rio. Police broke up a ring and involved the pair. They were suspended by athletic director Fritz Crisler.

Little Surprise Over Gambling Cards Is Felt

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Little surprise or shock was felt on the University of Michigan campus today after two star athletes were charged with operating a football card gambling syndicate.

"It's going on at all schools," said one student.

Bob Ashton of Memphis, Tenn., president of the inter-house council, quipped that filling parlay cards is "a new angle on selling magazines to get through college."

Another student thought it was "a pretty petty thing for the police and the university to do" in cracking down on the pool cards.

Brown Rides NFL Top Spot

Cleveland Back Has Scored 14 TD's Thus Far

Ex-Syracuse Gridder Has Average of 163 Yards Per Game

The rugged Negro back appears a cinch to snap the mark for yardage gained running in one season, and for most touchdowns scored in one year.

In the first 5 games of the season, the former Syracuse all-America has gained 815 yards, only 127 less than the total which last year won him ground gaining honors in his rookie season. The seasonal record of 1,146 yards was set in 1949, by Steve Van Buren, former great of the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Cleveland ace had scored 14 touchdowns in leading unbeaten Cleveland to 5 straight victories, only four short of the league record for a 10 game schedule and three shy of the 11 and 12 games schedules.

Brown, who is averaging 163 yards per game, needs only 204 yards in seven games to shatter Van Buren's mark. The Cleveland team is keeping the ball carrying race in the family with Brown's roommate, Bobby Mitchell, running second with 414 yards. Baltimore's Lennie Moore moved from sixth to third with 324 yards. Willie Gallmore of the Chicago Bears is fourth with 323.

There is a new passing leader, Vito Parilli of Green Bay, with an average of 9.95 yards on 28 completions in 56 attempts for 557 yards and 6 touchdowns. He took over from Eddie LeBaron of Washington, who dropped to third with a 9.08 average. Mack Reynolds of Chicago held the second spot with a 9.15 average—41 completions on 72 attempts for 659 yards and 5 touchdowns. Milt Plum of Cleveland is fourth with an 8.42 average.

The leaders in other departments:

PASS RECEIVING—Ray Berry, Baltimore, 27 catches for 453 yards and five TDs; R. C. Owens, San Francisco, 25, for 330 yards.

PUNT RETURNS—Billy Wells, Philadelphia, 12.5 yard average on 11 returns; Carl Taseff, Baltimore, 10.4 average on nine returns.

KICKOFF RETURNS—Leonard Lyles, Baltimore, 50.3 yard average for six returns; Leroy Bolden, Cleveland, 33.3 average for six returns. Lyles has returned kickoffs 103 and 101 yards.

PASS INTERCEPTION—John Butler, Pittsburgh, six. Five others have four apiece.

COMEDY CAGER — Basketball at its funniest will be presented at Pontiac Central Sunday evening when a team of Harlem Globetrotters meets a squad of the Philadelphia Sphas. This is Leon Hillard, forward on the Globetrotters' team. A feature highlight will be the preliminary between the Hollywood Queens, a classy girls' team, against a local squad.

Colleges Welcome 'Prodigal' Players

Injured Gridders Back in Lineups

By The Associated Press

Foremost is Bob Reifsnyder, Navy's All-America tackle who has yet to play this season. The big Valley Stream, N.Y. tackle suffered a pulled achilles tendon during a September practice session and has been sidelined since. He declared he would play against Notre Dame in Baltimore.

Middie coach Eddie Erdelatz has had to rebuild most of his first string line due to injuries but Reifsnyder's probable return will give Navy its strongest tackle displacement to date.

Duke, who plays Georgia Tech this week, added quarterback George Harris to its hale and hearty list. Harris has been out with a knee injury, suffered against Virginia Sept. 27.

Coach Dick Colman of Princeton, beset with a host of injuries, named Frank Schults at right tackle against Brown Saturday. Schults missed eight weeks of practice due to head injuries and only last week received the ok to play.

Marquette fullbacks Ron Fieber and John Lane both reported ready for Detroit, this weekend. Fieber has been sidelined since pre-season practice while Lane broke a finger in Marquette's opening game.

Ed Stubblebine, 244-pound Penn tackle, gets his first start in two years against Harvard this week. Stubblebine broke a leg in pre-season drills two years ago and was out of school last year. He has seen only spot action so far, but his play against Navy last week earned him the starting berth.

Missouri continues to prepare for its big eight battle with Nebraska, with end Dale Pidcock returning to duty after a knee operation. He will be available for limited service.

Georgia Tech's coach Bobby Dodd moved center Phil Baum to the left guard slot, where he lettered in 1955. He missed the last two seasons with a bad back, but returned this season as a center.

Maryland's Tommy Mont, whose luck has been mostly bad this year, will have his starting backfield in one unit for the first time Saturday against South Carolina. Halfbacks Ted Kershner and John Forbes, fullback Jim Joyce and quarterbacks Bob Rusevlyn or Dickie Scarbath, have all been plagued with injuries at some point during the season.

Football Clinics to Be Expanded

Four Sessions Planned Next Year Under Duffy and Wilkinson

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Plans to expand the 1959 "Coach of the Year Football Clinics" were announced yesterday by Duffy Daugherty, Michigan State coach and one of the directors of the clinics.

Grand Rapids, site of the 1958 clinic, will host the first clinic Feb. 5-7. Other clinics will be held Feb. 12-14 in Santa Monica, Calif.; New York City Feb. 19-21, and Dallas, Texas, Feb. 26-28.

Harvey's Coming Back

MONTREAL (AP) — Defenseman Doug Harvey, injured Oct. 12 skated again Tuesday. He probably will rejoin his Montreal teammates when they play Chicago here Saturday.

1st Waterford Basketball Meeting Thursday Night

The Waterford Township Recreation Department's first organizational meeting for the 1958-59 men's basketball program will be held Thursday night in the Community Center on Williams Lake road at 7:30 p.m.

Tomorrow night's discussion will center around eligibility, schedules and registrations. Two leagues will be run this season, one for advanced players and the other for less experienced cagers.

Players living in Waterford Township who are interested in competing in the league this season should attend Thursday's meeting, according to recreation director Tom Belton.

Michigan Prep Ratings

East Lansing's Trojans, who have not allowed more than a single touchdown to an opponent in racking up six straight victories, once again lead the weekly Associated Press Class B high school football ratings.

But the rest of the top ten underwent quite a shakeup. Except for East Lansing and fourth-place Ionia, every other spot in the rankings changed.

South Haven, trailing the leaders for weeks, dropped all the way to ninth after losing 25-0 to Grand Rapids Godwin, and Center Line, tied for seventh last week, bowed out of the top ten after losing 27-6 to Warren.

River Rouge gained strength by winning over Romulus 38-0, and jumped from fifth place to third. Cadillac beat Manistee 34-6 and took over second place.

Northville jumped a notch to fifth place after dumping Brighton 26-0 for its sixth without a defeat, and Grandville came from ninth to sixth on a 19-6 victory over Wyoming Park D— No. 6 in a row for Grandville.

Ram Ace Leads Busch by 1 TD

Lyon New County Leader

By CHUCK ABAIR

Hard-hitting St. Frederick fullback Jack Lyon has finally worked his way back to where he finished last year — in 1st place in the Oakland County individual scoring race.

★ ★ ★

The stellar senior tallied four touchdowns Sunday to finally overtake Birmingham star Ed Busch, who had tallied a pair Friday night. Lyon now holds a six-point edge at 78 to 72 but Busch has the advantage of having three games left to play to Jack's two.

Still 3rd in the race is West Bloomfield quarterback John Lucadam with 59. Harvey Chapman of Farmington jumped from 9th to 4th this week on a 19-point performance. He has 51. Tom Derocher of St. Fred has 48.

Lyon was the 1st county gridder to score four times in a game this fall. Chapman, Dennis Shaw of Avondale and Jim Jaffe of Country Day all went over thre times last Friday.

The county area point race is expected to be another battle royal. Ed Everhart's 4 TD showing for St. Benedict Sunday enabled him to tie teammate Dan Donar for the lead with 61. Bob Fisher of Brown City trails by only three and big Frank Hartway of Almont is 4th with 55.

Major Hoople Sez:

Florida Over Auburn

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Invented Cross-Body Block

HAK-KAFF! Vindictiveness is not a Hoople trait. Even during bitter rivalries I saw to it that my team did not embarrass the other side by piling points onto my usual substantial victory margin.

So it was in keeping with my normal behavior pattern when I rehired the entire staff I dismissed. Dr. Quentin Zlobotny, the fourth dimension scientist; Red Board Daly, salary expert; Dr. Vladimir McGrath, astronomer—egad! they are all aiding me with my football forecasts at this very moment.

I must admit this change of heart came during the elation which swept over me when Tulane turned back Navy in a monumental upset. News of it had, of course, first appeared in this space well before the contest took place. It was a feather in my cap, as they say.

In resuming staff work, a number of obstacles had to be overcome. First, I fell into strange working habits when I dismissed my staff for complacency. Egad! I wouldn't begin mathematical compilation until late in the evening.

This, of course, cannot be done with Dr. McGrath. As we well know, he is vitally interested in celestial bodies and his evenings are spent gazing at them. Ahem! Even bottles with five stars on them hamper his work at night.

Therefore, I am back on the day shift as it were. My amazing forecast will show the results, I feel, of startling concentration.

Ah, but that is only one of several. Dr. McGrath's observations show the rarified Colorado air will be too heady for Oklahoma. And Colorado will emerge a 28-13 victor!

Startling? Go on with the rest of this forecast for additional shocks:

Birmingham, Avondale, Oxford, St. Fred Eye League Crowns

4 Grid Titles at Stake This Week

By BILL CORNWELL

The "fat is in the fire" for half a dozen Oakland County high school football teams this weekend in their bid for 1958 championship honors.

Conference crowns on the line are the Eastern Michigan, Oakland B, South Central and Suburban Catholic.

Birmingham, handed a 20-18 last-second defeat by East Detroit last week, invades Port Huron Friday night for an Eastern Michigan showdown with the Big Reds.

Port Huron currently leads the EML with a 3-0 record, followed by the Maples at 3-1. This is the final league game of the season for Birmingham and the importance of the game is obvious.

Carl Lemle's Maples can clinch a share of the title by tumbling Port Huron, which has its league finale on Nov. 14 at home against Hazel Park. A win for Port Huron will eliminate Birmingham and virtually put the title in the bag for the Reds, who will be heavily favored to beat the Parkers.

East Detroit, which has a 2-1 conference mark and a chance of its own at the crown, will be hoping for an assist from the Maples. The Shamrocks visit Mt. Clemens Friday and meet Ferndale in their EML windup at home Nov. 14.

Avondale, the surprise of the Oakland B loop, moves into Clawson Friday evening for a showdown fight with the Trojans. Avon presently paces the circuit with a 3-0 record, followed by Troy at 2-1 and Clawson at 2-1-1.

The Yellow Jackets can guarantee themsleves a co-championship by toppling Clawson, but they would still have to dispose of Troy on the following Friday at home to win the title outright. Troy will be strongly favored to defeat Lake Orion this Friday at Troy and remain in contention until the last loop game.

Oxford is undefeated in three league games and goes for broke in its final conference outing of the season. Imlay is unbeaten in two circuit starts and has weak Ortonville remaining after Friday's tussle with the Cats.

Sunday will be an all-important day for St. Fred, which faces dangerous St. Benedict in an afternoon Suburban Catholic collision at Highland Park.

Gene Wright's Rams boast a 5-0 record in the circuit with St. Michael and St. Ben on their heels with identical 4-1 marks. Both the Mikes and the Bens can move into a 1st place tie with St. Fred if the Bens dump St. Fred and the Mikes get past St. Clement on the same afternoon in Wisner Stadium.

Only a so-so St. Rita team would block St. Fred's path to the SCL crown if the Rams hurdle St. Ben and they will go all out Sunday in an effort to settle the argument for keeps.

Pistons Await Royals Friday

DETROIT (UPI) — Coach Red Rocha and his Detroit Pistons were back at the University of Detroit Memorial Building today practicing for Friday night's second home game of the season when they meet the Cincinnati Royals.

★ ★ ★

The pistons will be seeking their second National Basketball Association win of the season, against three previous losses.

The only victory for the Pistons this year was a 117-112 decision over defending champion St. Louis Hawks.

Rocha had fond memories of the Pistons-Royals series last season after he took over the coaching assignment. In his first game as a coach, Rocha saw the Pistons take a 112-101 victory over the Royals. The teams finished even at 6-6 for the season, but Rocha's personal record against Cincinnati was 5-3.

Former Tiger Player Named Redleg Scout

CINCINNATI (AP)—Paul Campbell, former American League outfielder and first baseman, has signed with Cincinnati's Redlegs as a scout.

Team officials said today that Campbell will cover the area around his Charlotte, N. C., home, including Southern Virginia and West Virginia and the Carolinas.

Campbell, 41, broke into pro baseball in 1936 and his last major league playing days were in 1949 with the Detroit Tigers.

Hawks' Rally Ties Canadiens

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks rallied for three goals in the last six minutes last night and tied the Montreal Canadiens, 5-5, in a National Hockey League game.

The deadlock enabled the Hawks to move into a four-way tie for second place with Detroit, Boston and New York — all of whom were idle. However, they remained a full six points behind the league-leading Canadiens.

Bobby Hull and Ron Murphy paced the Hawk rally which began with 14:05 left in the final period. Trailing 5-2, Chicago's Murphy tipped in a long shot by Hull. Forty seconds later Murphy scored again to make it 5-4.

Hull finally tied it up when he converted on passes by Murphy and Eric Nesterenko. Henri Richard and Bernie Geoffrion had two goals each for the Canadiens.

Badgers First Opponent Favored Since '55

Yes, MSU in Underdog Role

EAST LANSING — Michigan State will be the underdog Saturday in its nationally-televised homecoming game with Wisconsin —the first opponent to be favored over MSU since 1955.

But coach Duffy Daugherty told members of the Michigan Football Writers Association yesterday he sees no particular advantage in the underdog role.

"We would like to be favored by two touchdowns — and have the power to score the points," Daugherty said.

Daugherty lamented that the 1958 squad is the first in recent years without a power runner that can be counted on for short gains against a stacked defense.

The Spartans have two losses and a tie in Big Ten play and hold wins over Pitt and California, a team that could well represent the west coast in the Rose Bowl.

Daugherty said he will make only one change in the lineup he revamped a week ago.

The game will be telecast in color as the "game of the week" by NBC.

Wisconsin has a season record of three wins, one loss and one tie.

Two one-time first stringers who were on the sideline with injuries last week probably will see action Saturday. Quarterback Mike Panitch is one of five field generals expected to dress for the game. Guard John Middleton probably will see frequent action.

He's gained 286 yards for a 4-yard-per-carry average and has scored three touchdowns.

Sixth Straight Win

Unbeaten Center Line High JV gridders yesterday compiled their 6th straight win of the season, 28-7 over Warren Jayvees. Touchdowns were all made in the 1st half, by Ed Anderson and Clyde Barnhart (two each). Warren's Martin scored in the 3rd period.

Football Honors President

Ike Accepts 1st Award by Grid Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — President Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose football career at West Point was short-lived because of a broken kneecap, nevertheless today held one of the game's greatest honors.

The President was selected as the first recipient of the Gold Medal Award of the National Football Hall of Fame.

The inscription on the medal read:

"Presented to Dwight David Eisenhower, President of the United States, in recognition of a lifetime of devotion to American intercollegiate football. October 28, 1958."

In addition to President Eisenhower, nine of the game's playing immortals were inducted into the football Hall of Fame. This brought the total to 118 players and 44 coaches.

Three of those inducted—Charles Barrett of Cornell, David C. Campbell of Harvard and Tad Jones of Yale—are dead.

The other six—Harry Stuldreher of Notre Dame, Marshall Goldberg of Pitt, Harry Kipke of Michigan, Francis Lund of Minnesota, Frank John "Dutch" Schwab of Lafayette and Harry Killinger "Cy" Young of Washington and Lee—were on hand.

Stuldreher, one of the famed Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, made the acceptance speech for the group.

200 Senior Golfers in Pinehurst Event

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—More than 20 golfers' open 54-hole medal play today for the Southern Seniors Golf Assn. title.

Defending titlist J. Walcott Brown of Sea Girt, N.J., who won the North and South Seniors tournament last week, heads a field including Tom Robbins of Pinehurst, U.S. Golf Assn. Senior champion, and Capt. Frederick Homes of Riviera Beach, Fla. Homes lost to Brown here last week.

Eighteen holes will be played daily on three Pinehurst Country Club courses.

Ronnie Stays Around

TORONTO (AP)—Ronnie Knox, 23-year-old passing wizard who has put the Toronto Argonauts into playoff contention in the Big Four Football Union, will stay with the club as long as necessary this season.

Lew Hayman, Argo managing director, announced today he has arranged a postponement of Knox's date in Hollywood next month for a movie role.

Favor Bermuda Sailors

NASSAU, Bahamas, (AP)—Bermuda's sailors loomed large in the Snipe Regatta today with a 3,044 team total as they went into the second of five races.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

Perfect bowling form is shown in today's drawing. The bowler in the stance position is relaxed and comfortable, his weight evenly divided between his feet. His left hand supports the ball's weight, and his body is squared away to his target.

But the thing I'd like to emphasize about this bowler is his concentration. He's looking directly at his target. His mind is completely devoted to the task at hand. Already sure what angle he's going to use, he isn't bothered by outside distractions.

A beginning bowler should pay particular attention to concentration at this point. Once the approach is begun, concentration is pretty easy. But before taking the first step, a bowler may be easily distracted by action on other alleys or comments from his teammates.

If a bowler learns correctly, these habits stay with him and becomes automatic. That's why I recommend such complete concentration in the stance position.

Pheasants Learning It's Safer to Run Than to Fly

By JACK PATTERSON

In a current magazine article Bill Mullendore, Ann Arbor outdoor writer, advances the notion that today's pheasants are much more prone to stay on the ground than their ancestors of a decade or so ago. Bill theorizes that most roosters that survive a hunting season have learned that it's safer to run far ahead of danger than to flush before the gun. Thus the surviving breeding stock is of a predominantly run-rather-than-fly persuasion, and this tendency is passed on to succeeding generations.

We're inclined to go along with Bill on this one, with the additional observation that today's birds seem particularly prone to run before dogs. In fact, much of the complaint over the scarcity of good pheasant dogs these days could be ill-founded.

Pointing and flushing dogs might be as good as ever, but changing bird habits might nullify their best efforts.

We have spent more than our share of hours afield chasing wide-ranging, false-pointing, fild-flushing dogs. If there is evidence that birds are becoming increasingly dog-shy, as there seems to be, there seems to be no reason to change view of 25 years standing that the proper pooch for pheasants is a "heel and retriever," who doesn't go into his act until a bird is down. This puts the burden of finding and flushing birds on the hunter which is no real strain when birds are plentiful.

★ ★ ★

An experience of a few days ago seems to bear out the theory that unsophisticated pheasants fly more readily than their more worldly brothers. Four men hunted a farm that hadn't been shot, except casually by "sneak-on" hunters, for the past 12 years.

Aside from the large number of birds, the most oticeable feature of the hunting was the easy flushability of both hens and roosters.

Birds flushed and missed could be marked down and flushed again by simply walking to the spot where they landed. Regardless of cover type, birds showed little or no disposition to run ahead of the gun. Average range of flushes was well within 10 yards. This is the way pheasants used to behave but seldom do today.

At any rate we're going to return, dogless, to see if the survivors, of which there are many, learned anything from their initial exposure to the gun. If they start taking to their heels, rather than to the air, we'll be more certain than ever that Bill Mullendore is on the right track.

Ortiz Beats Britisher

LONDON (AP)— Lightweight contender Carlos Ortiz of New York ended a long streak of American boxing defeats abroad by outpointing British champion Dave Charnley in a 10-round bout at Harringay Arena Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

The 22-year-old Puerto Rican-born fighter opened cuts over both of Charnley's eyes in the fifth and sixth rounds and won handily. Ortiz weighed 135½, Charnley, 134½.

129,276 Hunters Miss Out in Draw

LANSING — "It's the luck of the draw." This is the only answer the Conservation Department has for 129,276 hunters who applied for "any-deer" permits and will not get them.

★ ★ ★

For the 37 special areas where antlerless deer may be taken, the Department received 184,877 applications for 55,601 available permits.

Little Stories About Outdoors

More often than not, the pointer, setter, cocker, or beagle is a family pet, besides being an expert in the location and recovery of game in the field. It is quite often a real pal, an understanding "personality," occupies a position just like a member of the family. And when a man loses such a partner, it leaves a big void.

It was like that with Fred Baucom and his 11-year-old English pointer Baucom's Little Mike, winner of 37 events in field trials and a well-known area competitor. Fred and Mike were out Friday. Mike put up two birds. Back home Mike, looking tired out, lay down for the last time.

There's another side to the picture. Unwholesome desire to possess a good hunting dog occasionally leads misguided persons into "borrowing" without the owner's permission, or to outright theft. Such a situation hit Tom Carter of Lake Orion. Carter had a good working beagle, Joe. That is, until last Friday, when some one grabbed Joe and made off with him.

Carter, a toolmaker in a Detroit plant, downed a 38¼ inch rooster that might have been a leader in the weight division of The Press contest. But Carter cleaned the bird before seeking an entry. It weighed, "as is", more than three pounds.

Buffalo steaks will be the big gastronomical attraction at the annual Hunters Banquet for Oakland County Sportsmen's club, Nov. 6. The entertainment — a secret until the banquet night — has been planned by Pat Metzdorf.

★ ★ ★

Harry Barnes is the 1958 OCSC all-weapons shooting champion. He compiled a 23 total for skeet, pistol, rifle and archery events. Team title went to the pistol team, led by Stockton.

★ ★ ★

That Mississippi (Tunica) farmer who has been finding six-legged frogs by the thousands, doesn't have a corner on the extra-powered amphibians. Some weeks ago, an Auburn Heights boy found one of these "sextopeds", fully developed and lively. A southern biology professor speculated on the possibility of the frogs reproducing six-legged offspring. He wasn't sure about it.

At Federal Hearing in Washington

State Protests Cut in Aid

LANSING (AP)—Michigan conservationists had a strong representation in Washington today to protest a proposed cut in federal aid for the state.

A proposed new formula for deciding the amount of federal aid Michigan would receive from hunting and fishing license sales could cut the state up to a maximum of $282,270.

That is, if a person purchased a deer hunting, small game and archery license it would only count as one. The old formula only took in the license total.

The hearing was to be held in the office of the secretary of the interior. After a protesting letter from Gov. Williams was received, Fred Aandahl, acting secretary, replied that he was "very much concerned" about the differences of opinions arising and hoped the meeting would bring "an early settlement of the problem."

Nicholas V. Olds, of the attorney general's staff, reported that Michigan had one card up its sleeve to throw if the federal government insisted on the new formula.

The formula also is based on land area and Michigan could insist that Great Lakes bottom lands, extending to the middle of each bordering Great Lake, be included.

This would add some 40,000 square miles to the existing 50,000 square miles included in the formula, Olds said.

Wins National Field Trial

Michigan Dog U.S. Champ

A handsome, smooth working Michigan-owned dog is the 1958 National German Short-Hair Pointer Field Trial Assn. champion. Russ Dixon's (New Haven) triple FTCH Dixon's Shela, a 5-year-old female, won over a field of 49 of the country's best in the breed. Victory was a sweet one for Dixon, who bred and trained the top three finishers, regarded as a rare feat in the association.

No. 2 dog was also a female, FTCH Dixon's Bonnie, owned by James Henton, Detroit; No. 3, Skid-Do's Bee, a female, and a male, Nat. FTCH Bo-Bo Grabenbruch Beckum, No. 4, both owned by Dr. W. A. Schimmel of Atwater Calif.

Dixon, known as "Lefty" to the association, was overcome by emotion when Shela was named champion.

At the annual association meeting Medina Ohio Hill and Dale club was picked for the 1959 trial, last weekend in October. New president is M. M. Axelrod of Minnesota; secretary, succeeding Dr. Clark Lemley of Detroit, is Tom Sword of Ohio.

Trial was supported by 17 clubs, including several from California Utah, Colorado, Oregon and other western states, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, other midwest areas and eastern and southern state clubs.

State's Shotgun Champ Leader in Press 'Derby'

The Pace family kind of runs to shooting champions, what with Paul and his wife holding current state shotgun crowns, and brother Ray holding the same title a year ago. So it is not surprising to find one of them setting the pace in the long bird division of The Press "pheasant derby".

Raymond McCoy was an early entry in the long bird division with a 38-inch bird. Yesterday his brother Clay listed one a half-inch longer. Both work for the city, Ray at the waterworks, Clay as city electrical inspector.

★ ★ ★

Among other successful hunters were: John Dowling, his brother William and John Clark, with Norm Jostock of Lapeer, they took their limits hunting on the Dowlings' dad's land near Brown City. Saw many birds, scads of rabbits.

Eleven states permit wagering on harness horses in the United States.

"There certainly is a strong feeling of antagonism by many farmers in those sections, against permitting hunters on their lands" one hunter reported. "And you can't blame the farmer. When unthinking hunters go through standing crops like corn, and trample it down; spook cattle (one farmer told us a calf was scared by close by shooting piled into a wire fence and was badly injured).

★ ★ ★

"We asked permission at a dozen or more farms, were turned down because of these bad experiences.

★ ★ ★

"On another place the owner said his farm geese had been shot by hunters allowed on his land.

★ ★ ★

"One farmer told us" the local man added, "the state sold you a hunting license; let the state provide a place for you to hunt."

Grains Maintain Marginal Gains

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market held onto small gains today on the board of trade after fairly liberal profit-taking had derailed an earlier roundup.

It was the first rally of any consequence in several days and traders said the reaction was normal since speculative dealers had been hemmed in by limited price shifts.

Offerings were fairly well taken, however, with export interests still on the buying side. India was reported to have bought 3½ million bushels of wheat overnight and today. Japan took 330,000 bushels and Formosa bought 465,000 bushels of soybeans.

Wheat was ⅛-⅜ cent a bushel higher, December $1.93¼; corn ¼ higher on all deliveries, December old type contract $1.09⅛; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, December 63⅛; rye ⅛-¾ higher, December $1.31⅛, and soybeans ¼-½ higher, November $2.10⅝.

Stocks Advance Up to 2 Points

The market was buoyed by a number of encouraging reports on earnings, including General Motors and U.S. Steel which, although reduced from 1957, displayed an encouraging trend.

The market was taking off from yesterday's rise which snapped six straight declines for industrials. The big three motors, steels, coppers, electronics, rails, oils, tobaccos and drugs joined the advance.

Pfizer, Rexall and American Motors were ahead about 2 points. Zenith added 3 to a 7-point rise of yesterday, helped by record sales and earnings.

To Dramatize Weird Reality

Circle Theater Presents Variety of Explanations for Case Never Solved

NEW YORK — "The House of Flying Objects" — one of the most intriguing and baffling stories of recent times, involving the mysterious and still unexplained movement of objects in the Seaford, Long Island, home of James M. Herrmann in February and March of 1958 — will be presented on the "Armstrong Circle Theater" tonight on CBS-TV (10:00-11:00 P.M., EST).

Act I of the program will be a dramatization of some of the weird events that took place in the Herrmann household when bottles began leaping and popping their tops, and figurines, lamps, furniture and other household effects started flying around the rooms in some unaccountable and mysterious manner.

Acts II and III will consist of interviews, explanations and reconstructions of some of these phenomena, involving the people actually concerned: Mr. and Mrs. Herrmann; their children, Lucille, 13, and James Jr., 12; Nassau County Detective Joseph Tozzi.

Also: Dr. J. Gaither Pratt of Duke University's Department of Parapsychology; Dr. Robert L. Zider, physicist at the Brookhaven Laboratory on Long Island, and Dave Kahn, reporter for Newsday, a Long Island daily newspaper.

Many theories have been advanced in an effort to explain the eerie events. Dr. Pratt, for instance, believes that psychokinesis, the concept of mind having a mysterious effect over matter, could be a factor.

Dr. Zider, on the other hand, thinks the disturbances in the Herrmann home might have been caused by vibrations set up in the frozen ground by powerful pumps operating nearby.

Other theories include the presence of water streams beneath the Herrmann home, sonic booms from jet aircraft passing overhead, radio waves, underground vibrations, and the thought that perhaps a poltergeist was at work.

A poltergeist is the "noisy ghost" of folklore — prankish and playful but not malevolent — inclined to commit precisely the sort of nuisances taking place in the Herrmann abode.

"The House of Flying Objects" will recapitulate the theories and then remind viewers that they will be in possession of as many facts as the experts are, thus leaving them to make up their own minds as to what really happened in the little house in Seaford, Long Island.

Written especially for "Armstrong Circle Theatre" by Irve Tunick, "The House of Flying Objects" will be narated by CBS News Correspondent Douglas Edwards. Robert E. Costello is executive producer. Jacqueline Babbin is the producer and William Corrigan the director.

PERFECT FACE — Linda Darnell, who stars in the CBS Television Network's "Pursuit" production "Free Ride," this evening, is a Texas-born beauty who has long been described as "the girl with the perfect face."

In "Free Ride," she plays a lovely San Francisco beauty with too much money, a Nob Hill address and a somewhat fatal attraction for an ex-prize fighter.

Even Princesses Are Neglected These Days

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — This Jet Set columnist is sorry to inform you that British royalty's manners are getting slovenly. In fact, sloppy.

I saw Princess Margaret lighting her own cigarets at a very chic society ball here. The young lords and princes at her table paid no mind but kept their eyes on the floor show, watching Bea Lillie whirl some beads around herself like a hula hoop. Frank Sinatra distinguished this party by not attending.

Though he'd informed them he couldn't come, some of the young lords and ladies, sitting on the floor in their dinner jackets and evening gowns, kept chanting, "We want Frankie," to the embarrassment of less famous stars.

Miss Lillie had rushed over from "Auntie Mame" and she broke up the Princess with this poem titled "Mistaken Identity":

I was standing on a corner as quiet
When a big ugly old man tied his horse to me.

When Princess Margaret lit four cigarets without any help from the Marquis of Hamilton, Marquis Douru and others, I felt like busting over to give her a light myself. I might get away with letting my Beautiful Wife light two of her own, but never four.

PRINCESS MARGARET

Meg took them out of a gold cigaret box and inserted them into a gold holder and lit them from a packet of matches. Then she put her elbows on the tablecloth.

"There doesn't seem to be any one guy minding Her Highness," I said to some young lord who was standing on my foot. That's how crowded it was.

Her usual escort, Billy Wallace, was home with a cold. The Princess, who wore a new bouffant hair style, got a little bored long about 2 A.M. She whispered something to one of the young ladies, whereupon Her Highness and her whole crowd cut out.

But Meg was surely friendly to Antonio, the Flamenco dancer, and to Bea.

Bea's a big hit in "Mame" despite bad reviews. Producer David Pelham took one review which called the show "A horrible disaster" and made big advertisements out of it. And now you can't get tickets.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Mrs. Marlon Brando turned down a 10 grand newspaper offer to write about her bustup with Marlon . . . French singer Genevieve (of the Paar show) just did an album in English — but can't do one in French (because of an old contract).

Both West Point and Annapolis invited the entire Copa chorus line to their football games . . . H'wood buzz is that Mike Todd's biographer, Art Cohn (who died in the crash with him), left a bigger estate than Mike did . . . That's earl, brother.

Firecrackers, Gongs Greet Red Troops

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping welcomed Red Chinese troops back from North Korea today with cheers, gongs and firecrackers.

More than 200,000 persons hailed the soldiers of Gen. Yang Yung in a day-long celebration, radio Peiping announced. The Communists say all Chinese troops in North Korea, once estimated at 250,000 or more, have now been withdrawn. The third and last stage of the withdrawal was reported completed Sunday.

Premier Chou En-lai greeted Yang and the trainload of troops, saying: "I warmly welcome you heroes, who have returned in triumph."

Chou and the general drove at the head of a procession through the city. The streets were bedecked with banners and posters, many with anti-American slogans.

Later a separafe rally was held for the soldiers. Mayor Peng Chen, a member of Red China's Politburo, told 10,000 listeners: "U. S. imperialism can be defeated."

The U.N. Command in South Korea has rejected a Red demand for withdrawal of U.S. troops, who would have to be based much farther away than the Chinese if they pulled out.

4 Negro Mothers File Million Dollar Claim

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Negro women demand a million dollars in damages from the city on grounds their children suffered by attending inferior and segregated schools.

It charged that the rights of the children under the 14th Amendment and the state civil rights law are being violated through "the perpetuation of a public school system which provides segregated and unequal facilities for Negro and Puerto Rican children."

This alleged separation, the claim said, "tends to generate a feeling of inferiority as to their status in the community that may affect their hearts and minds in a way never to be undone."

The Harlem parents charged the system tended "to retard the educational development of Negro children and to deprive them of many of the benefits they would receive in a racially integrated school system."

The claim is expected to result in a lawsuit against the city — on the assumption the city will not honor the demand.

Detective 'Dreams Up' Clue, Gets His Man

He told his partner, Joe Durban that he had dreamed of arresting Albert Rodela, whom they had been hunting a month on a forgery warrant.

So the detectives went to the sister's home.

Sergeant Guilty in Abuse Case

Second at Ft. Jackson to Be Convicted of Mistreating Trainees

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP) — A battle-hardened Army sergeant has been convicted of requiring one private to shout obscenities and of conducting a mock hanging to discipline another recruit.

Sgt. 1.C. Charles L. Moman, 28, of Empire, Ala., Tuesday became the second Ft. Jackson sergeant convicted of maltreating recruits. He pleaded innocent of all charges.

M.Sgt. George L. Sovie, 30, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., was convicted last week of maltreatment charges.

Moman was reduced one rank to sergeant and fined $300. Sovie was reduced to sergeant first class and fined $450.

Both were top cadremen in the same training company, whose commander, Lt. Gerald M. Wheatley, 24, of Bridgeton, N.J., will be tried later this week. He is accused of neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming an officer.

Moman, a Korean veteran with 11 years of Army service, was convicted of these four of seven counts:

1. Requiring Pvt. Custis T. Hathorne of Hattiesburg, Miss., to make lewd remarks in a loud remarks in a loud voice on frequent occasions.

2. Threatening to hang Pvt. Jimmy Cope of Mountain Creek, Ala., in a move to discipline him for falling asleep on a rifle firing range.

3. Kicking a can of greasy solution into the face of Pvt. William L. Henry of Gainesville, Fla., while Henry was down in a mess hall grease trap.

4. Forcing other trainees to dip Pvt. James J. Moore of Parkersburg, Va., head first into the grease trap.

Only the Guest of Honor Enjoys Christmas Party

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — There was a Christmas party at a hospital here Tuesday, but no one except the guest of honor enjoyed it very much.

★ ★ ★

About two dozen friends, relatives and nurses crowded into the room of Eva Munoz, 13. They gave her presents, decorated a Christmas tree and ate ice cream and cake.

★ ★ ★

She has cancer.

Home Rule Decision Tied to Nov. 4 Vote

LANSING (AP) — The Senate committee on the study of home rule for counties has recessed its hearings after taking testimony from several municipal and civic groups. The committee reported the weight of the testimony was in favor of action to permit counties to set up the type of government best suited to their needs.

The committee recess was taken pending outcome of the Nov. 4 ballot on a proposal for a constitutional convention.

If the proposal is approved, the committee could then turn over to the convention all material obtained in its hearings.

If the proposal is rejected, the committee could then consider submitting a constitutional amendment to the next Legislature. This would set up machinery for the counties to submit plans to their voters for a type of county government best suited to their needs.

Woman Born a Slave Dies at 107 in Tennessee

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn. (AP)—Aunt Jo Taylor, who was born as a slave owned by Tennessee's famed Taylor family in 1851, died Tuesday at the age of 107.

Aunt Jo, who had been in ill health in recent years, often recalled what she called "Free Day," when the slaves were freed in 1865 by the Emancipation Proclamation. She was 14 at the time.

She was owned by Nathaniel Green Taylor, father of Alf and Bob Taylor, who opposed each other for governor in 1886, and who both later served as governor and U.S. senator.

DETROIT (AP) — Eight new cases and one more death were reported in the Detroit area polio epidemic Monday. They brought the case count to 810 and the death toll to 22 this year.

Stirs Interest in 6 States

Right to Work Vote Big Issue

NEW YORK (NEA) — Right to work proposals up for decision in six states are touching off more emotional fire than any other issue facing the nation's voters this fall.

The proposal, which generally provides that a worker need not join a union to get or keep a job, already stands as law in 18 states. Half those in the country would be covered if California, Ohio, Colorado, Washington, Kansas and Idaho should be added Nov. 4.

To block that outcome organized labor has undertaken the greatest electioneering effort in its history. On the other side, business organizations and businessmen have jumped into politics with unaccustomed fervor and frankness.

Supporters and opponents are pouring millions of dollars into their high-pitched campaigns. On the key battlegrounds the landscape blooms with billboards which shout their urgings. TV, radio, bumper stickers, pamphlets in a flood, all carry the message.

BITTERNESS PREVAILS

In Martins Ferry, Ohio, labor groups are said to have organized boycotts against known signers of the right to work petition.

Both sides know the stakes are high. California and Ohio are the first big industrial states to vote on "right to work." In each the issue is close.

Supporters say the right to work is vital to any American's normal freedom of choice. Mindful of the McClellan committee's racketeering disclosures, they portray the proposal as reform, arguing that workers free to join or not to join a union can't be bulldozed by corrupt leaders.

Organized labor condemns the legislation as "union-busting" and as leading the worker back to long hours and "sharecropper" wages.

Disgruntled union members launched the campaign in this state, but it languished until movie producer Cecil B. DeMille and former San Francisco Mayor Roger Lapham took over.

OHIO—Everybody's in it here, from Catholic bishops to shoe-shine boys. In office or factory or home or bar, no candidate's name rings out so often as does the phrase "right to work."

WASHINGTON—It's the second time around here, right to work having been beaten in 1956 by better than two to one. The campaign for it got its biggest shot of steam from William Allen, president of Boeing Airplane company.

COLORADO—Right to work has given the state's campaign its only snap this year. Its right to work committee includes a Denver housewife, a cattleman, and an airline mechanic at odds with his union.

KANSAS—As in neighboring Colorado, "right to work" is the only real reminder here that it's election time. The major parties aren't speaking aggressively on the issue. Democratic Gov. George Docking opposes firmly, and his GOP adversary, Clyde M. Reed Jr., says he'll follow the voters' mandate if elected.

IDAHO—The proposal failed in the legislature here by two votes in 1956.

It's the quietest campaign of all the six going. Observers think the proposal has the best chance of winning here of any place in the West.
