Grumbly House OKs Rise of Debt Lid to $295 Billion

4 Points for Highway Survival—Article One

Traffic Safety Is People

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the four-point legislative program of the Traffic Safety Committee of the Michigan Press Assn. and what various state agencies are doing to reduce the toll of accidents and fatalities on Michigan highways and streets.)

By AL HAUGNER
Editorial Writer,
Port Huron Times Herald

You spend several days talking to Michigan law enforcement officers, state officials and engineers and professors who are dedicated to highway safety and exploring new approaches to a problem that threatens to grow with our surging population rise.

But when you digest the wealth of material, graphs and conclusions and seek one principal conclusion: traffic safety is people.

All the other contributing factors in a study appear secondary to the conclusion that the driver, the man or woman behind the wheel, is the only important factor which can make or break a safety record.

All other factors, statistics and conclusions pale into insignificance when compared with the job which must be done on only one factor in a multiplicity of factors—the human element.

SHAMED OR PRAISED

He can be educated, he can be appealed to, he can be persuaded. He can understand, he can cooperate, he can be shamed and he can be praised.

There were 1,375 persons—not all of them Michigan residents—killed on state highways in 1958. Nearly 60,000 were injured, causing a loss to our economy of at least $180,000,000.

Increased emphasis on safety by the special session of the Legislature in November 1955 has paid big dividends. The result was that the toll of fatalities and number injured has fallen.

Heartened by the progress made and eager to continue the further decline of accidents, the Michigan Press Assn. in February this year adopted a four-point program of its traffic safety committee of which F. Granger Weil, Port Huron, is chairman.

The program follows:

1. Support the adoption of the State Police budget submitted by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

2. Continuation of the high school driver education program.

3. Creation of a new legislative study committee to review all phases of traffic safety, and prepare a comprehensive plan of traffic and safety improvement to meet present problems which will become more aggravated during the next 10 years.

4. Continued support of the Michigan Traffic Safety Commission.

In 1955, 2,016 persons lost their lives on Michigan highways. Had we continued killing at the rate we did in 1955, 1,500 more persons would now be dead.

What then is the problem and where is the field for improvement? The best analysis shows that 85 per cent of all accidents are caused by human failure with the other 15 per cent caused by vehicle failure or road conditions.

Still, despite the fact that the human element is responsible for 85 per cent of all accidents, close to 95 per cent of all drivers

Hospital Use Tops Agenda of Supervisors

Lively Debate Likely on Proposal to Keep It for Office Space

Whether to accept a special committee's suggestion that the vacant Contagious Hospital be kept for county offices will be the biggest question before the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Monday.

Debate on the question is expected to enliven a rather routine agenda for supervisors as they meet in Pontiac for one of three statute-required annual meetings.

The committee's recommendation comes after nearly a year of considering numerous offers for use of the 80-bed facility at 1075 N. Telegraph Rd.

It has been sitting idle since last August when Pontiac General Hospital's two-year lease ran out.

The committee, headed by Fred W. Smith, Royal Oak supervisor, decided this week to retain the 33-year-old brick, two-story edifice to be used for unspecified county offices as the county awaits construction of its new courthouse. It is going to be built directly across the street from the Contagious Hospital.

Should the Board approve Smith's recommendation, it would be doing so over the objections of some 43 municipalities and groups.

The organizations, urged on by the Oakland Chapter of the Michigan Mental Health Society, flooded the Board of Supervisors during the past year with resolutions asking that the empty hospital be used for temporary housing of the county's mentally ill.

There's a need for such housing, backers say, because many mentally ill persons have to be housed in the county jail or remain at home while they await scarce beds in mental institutions.

The county's financial conditions prevented it from accepting many lease offers under which the county would have had to expend a large share of the operating costs, Smith said.

Besides several annual reports from different supervisors' committees, the Board Monday will be asked to appropriate $10,000 as the county's share in paying for the paving and drainage of Squirrel road at the entrance to Michigan State University Oakland.

Nice Weekend Predicted for Pontiac Area

Golfers, boaters and those going on picnics will have wonderful weather for their outings this weekend, the weatherman says.

Busy Schedule Wearies Queen

But Canadian People Hail Her Majesty With Great Delight

CORNER BROOK, Nfld. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II, working nearly 12 hours a day on her tour of Canada, is already showing signs of weariness.

The Queen and Prince Philip are passing through the "wilderness leg" of their six-week journey, inspecting logging and paper-making operations and flying deep into the heart of Labrador today to descend into an iron mine.

The royal couple began the third day of their trip—and for the Queen its not easy going.

Elizabeth looked tired during the morning and there were lines around her wide blue eyes. She smiled seldom and spoke little to persons presented.

In the afternoon, however, she seemed more spirited and her famed smile began flashing again.

But, if it is hard work for the Queen, it is sheer delight for the people of Newfoundland.

The royal party drove through the beautiful northern forests past little settlements that were hardly more than clearings in the woods.

But each little cluster of homes and stores was gaily decked out with flags and pennants.

In Press Big Fish Derby

OFF TO A GOOD START — Michigan's black bass season got off to a good start this morning, at least for one Pontiac angler. Fishing in Lake Orion, Mrs. Melvin Womack, 104 Fisher St., took this 4-pound, 4-ounce largemouth. Her catch was the first formal entry in The Press' 1959 "big fish derby." Awards totaling $150 go to winners in bass, pike and bluegill divisions.

Press Gets 1st Entry in 'Big Fish Derby'

By H. GUY MOATS
Outdoors Writer, Pontiac Press

The Pontiac Press had its first official entry in the 1959 "Big Fish Derby" this morning when Michigan's black bass season got under way.

Success, however, for the several thousand avid anglers from the metropolitan area was more or less a spotty proposition.

Some fishermen, like Mrs. Melvin Womack, 104 Seneca St., had good luck. Many there were blanked or took only small fish.

Mrs. Womack is the first entrant for The Press three-way contest that opened today and runs until Sept. 7. The Pontiac fisherwoman, who admitted she goes fishing every chance she gets, brought in a 4-pound, 4-ounce largemouth, taken from Lake Orion at 7 a.m. The fine specimen was 20 inches long. There are also divisions for northern pike and bluegill.

Another lucky angler was Jack Boothe, 110 East Hopkins St. Boothe caught a 4-pound largemouth at 7:30 a.m. on Little Silver Lake. Booth's bronzeback was 20 inches long. It fell for the wiggles of a jitterbug lure.

Reports from many popular county waters were that the turnout for the bass opening wasn't as heavy as expected.

None of the lakes was jammed with fishermen, although the fleets of "kickers" and rowboats ran from 40 to 75, boat liverymen said.

While "bugs," some flies and various types of plugs were producing results, the best fish were apparently taken on natural bait like the nightcrawlers that lured Mrs. Womack's prize.

Mrs. Womack was fishing with her husband and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Don Teed of Lake Orion. She dropped the lure at the terminal of a 6-pound test spin line in a weedbed, and the hungry bass grabbed it instantly.

More Battling Before Passage Seen in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the sixth time since President Eisenhower took office in 1953, the House has passed a bill raising the ceiling on the national debt.

This time it is a peacetime top of 295 billion dollars. That was exceeded only by a temporary ceiling of 300 billion dollars during World War II, but the actual debt then was smaller than it is today.

Grumbling and blame-laying, House members Friday sent the booster bill to the Senate by a vote of 255-117. There it is expected to run into further opposition, but pass in the end.

Heavy House opposition meant protests in both Republican and Democratic parties over increased government borrowing at a time when the budget already is 13 billion dollars in the red.

House leaders who backed the bill noted that some nay votes were cast by members who have been among the strongest supporters of big spending measures.

State Legislators Rap Deluge of Bills After Months of Delay

LANSING (AP)—The last-minute rush to piece together a 1959-60 state budget left some lawmakers steaming under the collar today.

Some of the saltiest debate of the year erupted on the House floor yesterday as budgetmakers pushed for swift approval of major appropriation bills.

A short-lived move to send State Police on a search for some of the 24 absentee members added to the confusion.

"I don't know what's in all these bills and I doubt if anybody else does," said Rep. William Romano (D-Warren).

"The common herd, the peons in the legislature haven't been let in on anything," he said in a slap at the House Ways and Means Committee, which drafted the spending bills.

Appropriations committees in both the House and Senate dallied with nine of the 10 big spending measures until this week in hopes lawmakers would come to terms on a tax plan.

Agreement on the level of new taxation would have set the pattern for spending. When none appeared, budget framers slapped together a spending program pegged to between 410 and 420 million dollars and rushed the bills to House and Senate floors, urging approval before the end of the fiscal year June 30.

Gov. Williams recommended 424 millions, not counting provision for a deficit that will total 110 million dollars July 1.

The first major budget bill, providing $70,283,457 for social welfare purposes, is waiting the governor's signature.

From Mackinac Island, Gov. Williams said Michigan faces "a new and more desparate cash crisis" within 10 days.

The governor told the Michigan Bankers Assn. convention that the critical period will begin with the end of the fiscal year June 30.

Williams explained that almost no revenues are due in the first two weeks in July.

"The treasury will be down to the bottom of the barrel," he said.

Local Army Reservists Off for Wisconsin Tonight

The main body of the 151 members of the 2nd Battalion, 333rd Basic Training Regiment, will leave Pontiac tonight for two weeks training at Camp McCoy, Wis.

The 2nd Battalion, made up mostly of former members of Pontiac's 703rd Tank Battalion which was abolished on May 1, will begin its first summer encampment after its re-designation and its new mission.

Maj. Frank D. Thompson, 967 Berwick Blvd., commander of the new battalion, said that the mission of the battalion is "to train individual soldiers in basic combat subjects."

"Our job is to train six-month active duty reservists who are not members of an active reserve unit, but who are considered members of the stand-by reserves, by keeping them abreast with the latest basic combat tactics," Thompson said.

Thompson, an assistant composing room foreman at The Pontiac Press, served with the 1st Infantry Division from 1941 until 1946. The division was in seven major European campaigns including D-Day, Sicily and Normandy.

He has been a member of the Army Reserves since 1946 and served with the 5503rd Inf. Trng. Bat., 51st Tank Battalion, and most recently the 703rd Tank Battalion of which he was executive officer and battalion commander.

The 333rd Regiment, a part of the 70th Training Division, is commanded by Col. Harold G. Dumanous of Flint.

This year at Camp McCoy, members of the 2nd Battalion will spend most of their time in refresher courses on basic combat training so that next year they can begin training troops.

The group will leave by train at midnight and arrive at Camp McCoy about 3 p.m. Sunday.

The reservists will arrive back in Pontiac July 5.

Farewell, Spring: Summer Arrives Here Tomorrow

Summer officially arrives tomorrow.

Its arrival will bring the longest day of the year, with 15 hours of daylight.

If you are the celebrating kind, summer starts at 10:50 p.m.

Despite the fact that the sun will reach its northernmost point on Sunday, the warmest days of the summer aren't anywhere near.

Per usual, the heat will really hit during the early days of August.

According to astronomers, as long as more heat is received during the day than is lost at night, temperatures will continue to rise.

The same sort of a heat "lag" occurs daily with the warmest part of the day in the afternoon.

As soon as the rate of heating falls below the rate of cooling, temperatures begin to drop.

'Then There Was One . . .'

Coming Up Monday

They were eight happy, clean-cut youngsters, and it was high school prom night at Shelbyville, Ill.

For seven in that group, that night was also their last. Five minutes past 12, at nearby Mattoon, a train struck their car and they became part of a national statistic.

In similar manner, 37,000 Americans met death last year . . . And close to 400 may be killed this coming Independence Day weekend.

To get at the shattering human story behind such figures, AP Newsfeatures Writer Saul Pett has reconstructed the last evening of the Shelbyville eight.

His extraordinary article appears Monday in The Pontiac Press. Step by step, hour by hour, Pett assembles the gripping minutiae of doom. It is a picture you will not soon forget. It is called 'And Then There Was One.'

Who's the Boss in Louisiana?

Lieutenant Governor Is Asking Legal Advice Before Taking Reins

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana officials were at loggerheads today as to who was the state's chief executive since Gov. Earl Long indicated he may be plotting another court battle to free himself from court-ordered treatment in a mental hospital.

Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar, a friend of the 63-year-old ailing governor, said he wants legal advice before formally taking over as acting governor.

Secretary of State Wade Martin Jr., a political enemy of Long, said he would continue to recognize Long as governor. He challenged Frazar's right to take over without formal certification of Long's inability to act.

"Gov. Long has been irresponsible for some time but there has been no legal declaration of that," Martin said.

Long called for legal counsel from his lonely ward at the Southeast Louisiana Hospital at Mandeville, 54 miles to the east of this capital city where he and his brother, the late Huey P. Long, began thriving on peppery politics in the 1920s.

State police and sheriff's deputies overpowered the cursing, fighting governor Thursday night and rushed him to Mandeville.

A physician and a psychiatrist said he suffered from paranoiac schizophrenia (delusions of persecution); with a maniac depressive psychosis.

Martin said he would challenge Frazer in court if the 54-year-old former president of McNeese State College attempted to act as governor.

Frazar said he would not shirk his duty if an emergency develops. But he wants legal advice before formally taking over.

CONTINUES POLICIES

"Until then I will continue policies, and carry them out, of my close friend, Earl K. Long," Frazar said.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said Frazar could take over. Martin disagreed, saying the court order that sent Long to Mandeville did not declare the governor's inability to act.

Long himself or some official body, Martin said, first must certify Long's inability.

Frazar named Gremillion as one of his attorneys.

LIMIT CATCH

One Detroiter, he said, took a limit catch. Two others landed eight nice fish by their joint efforts. "Biggest fish reported here," Shorty said, "was a 19-inch largemouth."

Several good catches also were taken at Union Lake, Gregg's boat livery reported early today.

Another successful Pontiac fisherman, not a "basser," however, was Frank Gorle, 719 E. Mansfield, who brought home a fine 6-pound, 5-ounce brown trout from the Big Manistee river at Mesick.

The lunker, 25 inches long, was taken in fast water on nightcrawlers. It was Gorle's all-time biggest trout and he's going to have it mounted.

COUNTY'S VACANT CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL — The future use of the county's Contagious Hospital building, 1075 N. Telegraph Rd., will be decided Monday by the Board of Supervisors. Vacant for nearly a year, the building has been sought by several organizations. A supervisors' special committee, however, after considering the numerous offers, this week recommended that it be used to house county offices. The Board will decide Monday.

Citizens Start Movement to Solve State's Problems

EAST LANSING (AP)—A nonpartisan but politically conscious group of Michigan citizens has launched a movement aimed at solving the state's problems and restoring its national reputation.

They met at Michigan State University and named their movement "Citizens for Michigan."

Romney was elected temporary chairman.

He said the group would strive to:

1. Arouse citizen interest in state problems.

2. Study these problems and recommend solutions to the public and to elected officials.

Attending the meeting were publishers, editors, merchants, professors, college presidents, school officials, corporation heads, farmers, lawyers, bankers, union officials, clergymen, judges and active members of both major political parties.

Despite their varied interests, most expressed dissatisfaction over the legislative stalemate and the state's cash crisis.

Romney, in keynoting the meeting, said:

"Many of us believe there is evidence of inadequate objective leadership in the interest of the total community.

"We are concerned that excessive political partisanship and economic self-interest have thwarted progress, brought a sense of frustration to our citizens and jeopardized our future.

"I don't think any one person or any one organization is responsible for the situation.

"If we trace it back, the ultimate responsibility rests with the citizens of Michigan."

He said the organization must neither sponsor nor endorse political candidates or try to translate its movement into a political crusade.

He speculated that the group might strive to give citizens a stronger voice in the management of state affairs within a few years and then dissolve.

The group will seek financial support but decided to limit individual contributions to $100 a year. No money will be accepted from organizations except possibly grants for research or educational foundations.

Romney emphasized "Citizens for Michigan" will not assess dues and is open to any Michigan resident.

A temporary planning committee was elected to select public issues for study.

Among those suggested were legislative reapportionment, taxation, public schools, Michigan's business climate, exploitation of the St. Lawrence Seaway, mental health, metropolitan planning, natural resources and the state's governmental structure, services and public relations.

The group will meet again later this year after the planning committee submits its study proposals.

Harold C. McKinley Jr. of Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Council of Church, was elected temporary secretary of the organization.

Joseph V. Bradley of Howell, an insurance official, was named temporary treasurer.

Elected to the planning committee were Rabbi Morris Adler, Detroit; Rev. Fr. Robert Allen, Detroit; Lester Biederman, Traverse City; Elwyn Bodley, Bay City; C. Lawrence Boyle, Detroit; Joseph V. Brady, Howell; Robert P. Briggs, Jackson; Samuel Brownell, Detroit; Martin Butzel, West Bloomfield Hills;

City's Retarded Children Wait

Lack Special Teachers

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

It will be a long summer for the parents of 20 mentally retarded children. They are waiting for help.

They probably won't know until fall whether their youngsters will get seats next semester in special education classes of the Pontiac Public School System.

Present classes are overcrowded. These parents are on a waiting list and have been turned down before.

"The problem is a lack of qualified teachers, not money or facilities," says William Wright, director of special education.

"We don't have any more room in our present classes for children who are recommended for special care.

"The County Superintendents Association has approved expansion.

"The state will provide aid and so will the county with the one-half mill for our purposes.

GET GO-AHEAD

"We have the go-ahead and the rooms to open two additional classes. Tentatively, we are considering one class for mentally retarded children at Macomb School on the elementary level, and one on the junior high level at Jefferson.

"But so far we haven't been able to find two teachers who possess the necessary qualifications to conduct these classes."

A special education teacher must be certified and have the approval to teach mentally retarded and certain other handicapped children.

"The Pontiac Schools are offering education to children who might otherwise find no place in the regular classroom," says Wright. "Mental retardation has become a major problem in our society and particularly so in education.

"How to educate children who cannot benefit from the regular school program to become well-adjusted, useful citizens of the community is a challenge."

Wright explained that since these youngsters recommended for placement in the special classes do not all have the same ability, three programs are provided to fit their individual needs.

SOME LIKE NORMAL

"Some retarded children are socially very much like normal youngsters," according to Wright, "but weak in the so-called academic subjects. These children spend part of their time in regular classes and the remainder in the special education classroom.

"The special education teacher-consultant helps the student and the participating teacher with learning and teaching problems.

"Other children are retarded in both social and academic areas. For these, the competition of the regular classroom is too great. They are assigned to a special education teacher for almost all of the school day.

"The emphasis in this type of program is upon growing in social skills as well as academic achievement."

There are still other retarded youngsters whose academic and social abilities are so far behind the others that they are given a trial period in a special education class.

"After they have been observed and tested in this special class, a decision is reached by all the professional personnel concerned as to whether the child can benefit from public school special classes," Wright said.

The Pontiac School Board has given a group of parents of severely retarded children permission to use a vacant room in one of the city's elementary schools. This "Jack and Jill" room is organized for the purpose of self-help and safety training.

Ministers Recess Until 13th of July

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers today recessed their conference until July 13 without breaking the East-West deadlock on Berlin.

Western officials forecast a new Soviet drive for the summit following the failure of the talks.

They said Soviet Premier Khrushchev is trying to frighten the Western powers into a summit conference instead of offering concessions on Berlin as a lure to the West.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other Western diplomats are reported to have decided two weeks ago that this was Khrushchev's strategy.

Western interest in breaking off the negotiations here dates from that time.

The West came to Geneva believing it held one trump card—Khrushchev's desire for a summit meeting.

A new period of mounting tension in the Berlin crisis was foreseen, especially since West Germany has decided to hold an assembly to elect its new president in West Berlin on July 1.

The Communists, who are trying to force the Western allies out of West Berlin, have assailed this West German meeting as a provocative act in the city 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

The period between now and July 13 also is expected to be a busy one for Western diplomacy, with exchanges among Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle, as well as with Khrushchev.

In Herter's view, the foreign ministers' conference took a bad turn about two weeks ago when Soviet Minister Andrei A. Gromyko proposed a one-year time limit on Western occupation of West Berlin. The West denounced this as a Soviet ultimatum.

BEARS OUT ESTIMATE

The negotiating line followed here by Gromyko is regarded by the Western leaders as having borne out their estimate of Khrushchev's strategy.

They think it probably means the Soviet Premier considers the Western position weak and feels he doesn't have to bargain away anything to get a summit conference.

Highway Survival Key Is People

quizzed considered themselves above average drivers.

Dr. William A. Mann, professor in the teacher education program and Highway Traffic Safety Center of Michigan State University, said most accidents are caused by one or more of the following conditions: (1) lack of knowledge; (2) lack of alertness; (3) projection of personality characteristics.

The second concept of accidents is that most of them do not have a single cause but result from a number of things going wrong at the same time.

While there is an easy inclination by some to blame most accidents on teenagers, drunks, a few reckless drivers or on elderly people, the truth is—and the facts show—that more than 50 per cent of fatal accidents are caused by drivers who have a reasonably good driving record.

Further, in a limited study, experienced drivers "flunked" a test of safe driving practices. The average score of 68 per cent would be rated unsatisfactory in any high school in the state.

In the matter of alertness—or lack of it—even an extra half-second in reaction at 60 miles an hour brings a driver 44 feet closer to an accident.

And, in the matter of the projection of personality characteristics, there are two definite classifications: Conservative drivers behind a slow moving vehicle will wait for safe passing distance, the more aggressive driver will break out of position and attempt to pass four or five cars ahead.

Drivers with emotional problems present another challenge in safety work. In this category the concern is with those with a considerable range in intensity, from those with only slight losses in personal efficiency up to those that should be identified and given treatment.

WHAT A JOB — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko seems lost deeply in thought after the Big Four session at Geneva yesterday. Western ministers turned down Russia's proposal for a time limit on occupation of West Berlin and the talks were broken off for a three-week cooling period.

The Day in Birmingham

Police Quiz Brothers in Abduction, Robbery

BIRMINGHAM — Two brothers are being questioned by Pontiac and Bloomfield Township police today in the robbery and abduction of a Pontiac man Wednesday.

David Eastham, 24, of 474 Oakland Ave., Pontiac, was captured yesterday in Battle Creek. He was turned over to Pontiac Police.

Eastham's brother, Richard, 19, was captured shortly after the holdup Wednesday.

Police in Battle Creek said they found David asleep in the apartment of a friend. A sawed-off shotgun was found in his car outside, police said.

Both brothers are in the Oakland County Jail. They will be arraigned Monday in Pontiac on kidnaping charges and in Bloomfield Township for armed robbery.

They are accused of the holdup of John R. McAlevy, 29, who lives at the Roosevelt Hotel, Pontiac.

McAlevy told police he was held up as he left the Jet Bar in Pontiac and was forced to drive into Bloomfield Township.

The two gunmen fled. Richard was nabbed in a wooded area two hours later.

Scheduled to get under way on that day is family swimming at Birmingham High School and Derby Junior High School pools.

Also set to begin Monday are instructional swimming classes at the Barnum Junior High School pool and at the high school and Derby Junior High School pools.

On dry land, Monday is also the kickoff for tennis instruction at the Eton Park courts, archery lessons at the Eton Park archery range and golf tutelage at Springdale Golf Course.

Registration for instrumental music classes is also set for Monday at Birmingham High School.

Detailed information on all of the recreation programs can be secured by calling the Recreation Department, Midwest 4-1800.

Four Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills residents are expected to participate in the Detroit Horse show, June 23 through June 28.

Local exhibitors are Irving A. Duffy of 85 Manor Rd., Birmingham, and Robert C. Egan of 845 E. Long Lake Rd., Mrs. E. E. Fisher of 927 Lone Pine Rd., and Mrs. Graham J. Graham of 2101 Woodward Ave., all of Bloomfield Hills.

More than 350 horses have been entered in the competition and the show is expected to be the largest ever held at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, Long Lake road and Woodward avenue.

Spectators will see horses work in 16 divisions of hunters, jumpers and western, as well as junior equestrian teams, and dressage events.

Ribbons, silver trophies, and cash prizes will be awarded. The show is open to the public.

House OKs Hiking Federal Debt Limit

on their record,"' one Democratic leader observed.

It was the third time in the past 18 months that President Eisenhower has requested a raise in the debt ceiling.

House leaders said that a fiscal emergency exists, and that failure to vote the Treasury more borrowing power would endanger the government's credit and solvency.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), floor manager of the bill, said the bill must become law by midnight June 30 if the government is to meet obligations falling due in excess of the present debt limit.

The 295 billion top is a temporary one-year ceiling. It would revert on June 30, 1960, to a new "permanent" limit of 285 billions.

It is expected the Treasury will seek another temporary rise at that time.

The present permanent limit is 283 billions. The present temporary limit, in effect until June 30 of this year, is 288 billions.

The actual debt currently stands at around 286 billion dollars.

Democrats blamed the situation on the administration's tight money policy. They said it restricted credit and contributed to the 1957-58 recession.

Republicans blamed what they called Democratic "spenders and budget busters."

Some members of both parties urged mandatory budget balancing and annual payments to reduce the debt.

Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La) said, "We can demagog as much as we want to on this issue, but it is not going to make it go away."

"There is only one issue here," declared Rep. Abraham J. Multer (D-NY). "That is, whether the government can pay its bills."

HOWARD K. KELLEY

Royal Oak Loses Mayor in Death

Howard Kelly, 40, Dies After Vein Surgery Complications

Howard K. Kelley, serving his third term as mayor of Royal Oak, died at the age of 40 last night in William Beaumont Hospital of complications from surgery for inflammation of the veins.

He entered the hospital Memorial Day.

Hailed as Michigan's youngest mayor during his tenure, Kelley would have completed six years in office in November.

The attorney headed the Southeast Michigan Water Authority which was formed to build a pipeline to tap Lake Huron's water supply.

Four years ago Kelley unsuccessfully sought the Republican nomination as state representative in Oakland County. He served as chairman of two of the county's Republican conventions and the South Oakland Republican Club.

A Royal Oak resident for 30 years, Kelley served on the City Commission since 1948. He was elected mayor in 1953.

He was graduated from Royal Oak High School and the Detroit College of Law. He also studied at the University of Michigan, Detroit Institute of Technology, Wayne State University and the American Institute of Banking. He was a World War II veteran.

The body will lie in state at the William Sullivan and Son Funeral Home, 705 W. 11-Mile Rd., until 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Funeral service will be held 2 p.m. Tuesday at St. John's Episcopal Church at 11-Mile road and Woodward. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

Jobless Worker Charged With Stealing Food

An unemployed Pontiac factory worker who was arrested in the People's Food-O-Mat, 465 E. Pike St., early Friday morning, faces prosecution on a burglary charge.

James Perry, 27, of 76 W. Strathmore Ave., admitted the burglary to Pontiac police. He said he was "getting food for his wife and two children."

Perry was in the store when police officers discovered the break-in. They found him crouched between shelves with $4 worth of groceries.

Perry waived examination on the charge yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court where he will be arraigned Monday.

Crippling Polio Case Rate Up

'59 Toll Nearly Double Last Year's Figures Through June 13

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paralytic polio cases are continuing to run far ahead of the comparative 1958 figures, the Public Health Service said today.

There were 55 paralytic cases, last week compared with 25 in the same 1958 week and 36 in the week ended June 6.

For the polio disease year which began April 1 there had been 265 paralytic cases through June 13, compared with 128 a year earlier.

Since Jan. 1 there had been 452 cases as against 231 in the first 23 weeks of 1958.

Iowa reported the largest number of paralytic cases last week —nine. The cases were concentrated in the Des Moines area.

The Des Moines concentration is the second of its kind reported this year. Earlier there was one among members of a religious sect in Missouri.

States neighboring on Iowa also showed some paralytic cases last week, with two each reported by Minnesota, Nebraska and Kansas and one by Missouri. These five states plus North and South Dakota are grouped in the service's report as the west north-central states. The Dakotas listed no cases.

There were increases in the South Atlantic states, the west south-central states, and in California.

Arizona has had 14 paralytic cases this year, as compared with three a year ago, and five have occurred on three Indian reservations.

Dems in Full Retreat on Spending Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The heavily Democratic Congress has furled its antirecession battle flags and is in full retreat from its promised spending programs, the Republican National Committee said today.

The committee in its publication, "Battle Line," said "the hastily improvised switch is taking place in full view of a prosperous nation and a highly bemused press gallery."

The committee said Democratic leaders earlier this year used their big majorities to put through what it called huge, veto-inviting spending bills on airport aid, housing and depressed areas.

Then, the committe said, there was a long stall, caused by an aroused public opinion against inflationary spending, an accelerating boom in the economy and in employment, and firm opposition from President Eisenhower and Republicans in Congress.

Now, the committee added, a Democratic retreat has set in.

Long's Replacement Dreamed of Top Education Post Instead

Never Hoped to Be Acting Governor

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—There's a bit of irony about Lether Edward Frazar, 54.

You see, he never wanted to be acting governor of Louisiana.

He dreamed of becoming president of Louisiana State Unversity.

Frazar himself is an oddity in this state given to the rambunctious in politics, where the late Huey P. Long reigned unchallenged as "the kingfish" and his younger brother, Earl, rode out the Louisiana scandals and molded a vote-getting machine unrivaled in recent years.

It may be Lt. Gov. Frazar gave up his dream of heading LSU some place along the tight rope he walked with Gov. Long. He hasn't said.

PERSONALITY REMAINS

But, certain it is he didn't give up the personality that fit so admirably into his previous jobs as president first of Southeastern Louisiana Institute at Lafayette and next of McNeese State College at Lake Charles.

Watch him as presiding officer of the Louisiana Senate.

When things got fouled up, he'd laugh and say in that light voice: "Let's back up and start all over again. Let's make out it never happened." Somehow, it worked, too.

Then, later, he'd be talking to legislators or voters, joshing readily, popping out his quick, hearty laugh, his eyebrows arching.

The first job Frazar ever had was in Longville teaching history. There he met and married Miss Lily Hooper, an English teacher.

He is noted for his devotion to his wife; to his 18-year-old daughter, Brenda, and to Christie Clark of Lake Charles, the elder daughter and mother of three children.

Louisiana citizens, for Frazar's tenure as acting governor, will have to get used to a different tempo, slower and easier. Perhaps there's a key in his nickname of LSU college days. Friends of those days still call him "Mule."

WORKHORSE REPUTATION

As Gov. Long's field general, he acquired the reputation of a workhorse.

He was the 1960 heir-apparent to the governor's job.

A few months ago Lt. Gov. Frazar collapsed from overwork, maybe with a slight stroke. Then stepped forward the fiery Long to announce his plan to run again.

Then, there's that irony again.

A few days ago, Gov. Long, ailing, shouted from a mental hospital window in Galveston: "Frazar wants to run for governor, but he can't even walk."

But, even so, the loyal lieutenant governor walked not ran to the acting governor's chair. Probably he'd still rather be teaching kids history.

Traffic, Zoning Regulations Mean Nothing

Diplomats Flaunt Laws in Washington

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — This capital of the free world is a city of special privilege—for the privileged few. At least 4,500 of our inhabitants are above the law, and free from arrest.

No one can vote, except the legislators and temporary government employes who can still cast ballots in their home communities.

Not even the taxpayers have a voice in the government of Washington—none but the non-taxpaying diplomats who can simply defy our stringent rules and regulations.

Because the civil servants of the District of Columbia are unanswerable to the people, it is more difficult to obtain a permit and meet regulations for installing a swimming pool here than in any of the 50 states of the union. This is true, despite the fact that Washington is listed as a "semi-tropical" post by many foreign governments.

Our zoning regulations are more stringent than perhaps any other spot in America; yet ambassadors can blithely turn palatial private dwellings into busy chanceries, and erect office buildings in purely residential areas.

Zoning officials are still smoldering over the manner in which the Canadian government two years ago turned a deaf ear to their adamant refusal to permit the construction of an office building on lovely, tree-shaded Massachusetts avenue in the heart of Embassy Row.

The structure is now completed, occupied, and bustling with activity. District officials are biding their time until the day comes when Canada may want to sell the building to an American.

Permission, they vow, will be refused, but our good neighbors to the north couldn't care less. It's a dandy building, which they intend to occupy at least during current lifetimes.

While many local residents live a life of quiet frustration because of their inability to meet the fantastically difficult requirements for pool construction, the embassies merrily install their own, without a thought to zoning regulations.

The diplomatic community tears up traffic tickets by the hundreds every week, without bothering even to protest them. After all, District police are powerless to arrest them, or even to protest their multiple violations.

CAN VIOLATE LAW

Because of a diplomatic immunity law dating back to 1790, ambassadors — including their families, staffs and servants—can park wherever they choose, speed, violate no-turn laws and run red lights without so much as a by-your-leave.

Recently this correspondent went to lunch with the No. 2 man at one of our largest embassies. As he prepared to abandon his car in a clearly marked "no parking" zone on a busy downtown street, I called his attention to the sign. With a grin and a shrug, he responded: "Are you forgetting that I'm a diplomat?"

Last week the Argentine embassy had 16 illegal parking tickets canceled. The figure would have run to dozens more, except that police chose to ignore the fleet of embassy cars parked daily across the street from the embassy in a restricted zone.

Since all embassies and chanceries are located in residential areas, neighbors are subjected to the indignity of having signs placed in front of their own doorsteps, forbidding them, or their guests, to park there. The space is reserved for "diplomatic cars only."

U.S. personnel accredited to foreign nations enjoy similar immunity, but one wonders if it buys us many friends abroad. Certainly the time-honored custom adds to our woes in this crowded capital city, where local residents must pay ever increasing real estate taxes to compensate for the ever-expanding diplomatic corps which relentlessly continues to buy up more and more of our choice real estate —thus removing it from the tax rolls.

It's a headache, to be sure, but Washington still remains the most beautiful, fascinating, wonderful city in the land. It's a privilege to live here, even if we're not among

Sen. Kennedy Sure Hoffa to Be Booted

SEATTLE (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) says he is confident James Hoffa will be removed as president of the Teamsters Union.

Kennedy, considered one of the leading Democrat presidential candidates for 1960, made the comment to newsmen last night as he started a three-day visit to Washington State.

Kennedy said the Teamsters Union leader had surrounded himself with "racketeers and hoodlums" and that Hoffa's regime was not in the best interest of either the public or union members.

"Hoffa's election at Miami last year was unfair," Kennedy said. "I am confident that eventually he will be removed from office. The monitors appointed by the court to oversee Teamsters Union affairs may oust Hoffa."

The Massachusetts democrat said the rise to power of Hoffa was one of the reasons he was pushing his Kennedy-Erwin labor reform bill, which has passed the Senate but ran into trouble in the House.

Detroit River Yields British Flier's Body

DETROIT (AP) — The body of Flight Lt. Brian Peacock, 27, one of six British airmen killed in the crash of a Royal Air Force jet plane last October, was recovered from the Detroit River yesterday.

Police said identification was established through a pocket folder and a photograph of Peacock. Police said the body would be turned over to the British consulate here for return to England.

The six airmen were killed when their Vulcan bomber crashed in flames in an east side residential area near the river. No civilians were killed or seriously injured, but three homes were destroyed.

Ethel Barrymore's Body to Join Brothers' in Crypt

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The body of Ethel Barrymore will be placed Monday in a crypt beside her actor brothers John and Lionel. The crypt is in the Calvary Cemetery Mausoleum in Los Angeles.

The famed actress died of a heart ailment Thursday. She would have been 80 Aug. 15.

Recital of the Rosary is tentatively scheduled for 7 p.m. Sunday and the Requiem Mass for 10 a.m. Monday at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills.

Florida Law Prevents Forced Integration

TALAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida now has a law which prevents a child from being forced to attend an integrated school.

Gov. Leroy Collins allowed the legislative act to become law Friday. The law permits the transfer of a pupil objecting to integration and if a local school board refuses, the child cannot be compelled under the state's compulsory attendance law to attend racially mixed classes.

Collins did not sign the bill, but allowed it to become law without his signature.

FATHER'S DAY

June 21st is his day. What shall we do to show him our affection? A tip! The simplest act you can do; a kiss, a hug or pat on the back will quickly find a responsive chord in his emotions. He'll understand.

All fathers have a blind side. With some that blind side is carving wood, others like to hike in the woods, or stay a stiff game of chess, or go after the big ones in a deep, dark pool—there are as many "blind sides" as there are dads, but you know what your dad likes best. Knowing that, it is easy to arrange a Father's Day he'll remember a long, long time. And that is precisely what you want—his happiness.

It Seems to Me . . . .

American Cancer Society's Plan for Independent Drive Is Selfish

United Funds all over the nation are facing open rebellion. In a belligerent mood, the American Cancer Society announces it will not take part in any general drive. No, sir! It expects every community in America to hold its regular area-wide campaign for half a hundred agencies—and then stage another just for American Cancer Society.

The best reply I can think of is to reiterate the terse and pointed comment of the American general at the Battle of the Bulge when the Germans demanded that he surrender.

Said he:
"NUTS!"

That's the way I feel about the American Cancer Society's determination to thumb its nose at the other half hundred agencies that cooperate pleasantly with the one drive idea. The cancer attitude is selfish to the nth degree. In its own opinion, this one society and this one society alone stands superior to all its brother agencies.

Phooey!

The Southeastern Michigan Division of the A.C.S. does not subscribe to this high and mighty attitude on the part of the parent body. "We have had an excellent experience with our various United Funds," it says, "and we are quite happy to continue."

But the top national officials say: "No. We won't let you. And furthermore," they continue, as they pull the big stick out from behind their backs and wave it in the faces of our people, "if you persist, we'll revoke your franchise and leave you holding the bag."

However, the American Cancer Society overlooks one very important point. This bag won't be empty. In fact, it will be chuck full of community good will, which is more important than the desks, typewriters and the folding chairs. The Southeastern Michigan organization is planning on affiliating with the Michigan Cancer Foundation and continuing in the United Funds. Its money is used locally and the area will probably receive even more financial aid.

If we agree there should be two drives, one for 55 agencies, and one for Cancer, we are opening the door for a campaign a week within a short time.

Personally, I hereby promise The American Cancer Society that I won't lift a finger to aid this backbiting attitude and The PRESS hasn't the slightest interest in the campaign. We're not going to help tear down a very successful United Fund.

The Cancer Society might be intrigued by some past history in Pontiac. Several years ago, Red Cross had a $38,000 budget in the United Fund. National headquarters said: "Get out of that and run your own campaign."

But some of the kindly Chest brethren left it in and we raised the whole goal. On orders from National headquarters, the local chapter refused the funds and several months later staged its own "campaign."

It was a sorry thing.

Community leaders weren't interested.

And so, Red Cross came up with a grand total of $3,700. Chastened, national officials came to the United Fund and said:

"How about that $38,000?"

And the local officials, always kindly and always friendly and helpful, replied: "Sure — minus the $3,700."

If American Cancer wants to declare war, we accept the defy.

And in Conclusion . . .

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

The Faith Americans Live By

A tall candle symbolizing God is bedded in a plate of salt, the earth. Small candles are ignited from the central one, symbolizing flames of good in the hearts of members. Thus, meetings of the Women's Prayer Crusade for World Order and Peace, Interfaith begin.

A grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gibbs, of East Aurora, N. Y., was instrumental in starting the crusade, which has inspired thousands of women around the United States to do something personal for peace. She had heard her husband remark at a party, "It looks as if it's going to be up to the women to bring peace about." Today several thousand members believe that peace is God's plan and that each person may become an instrument of that peace through right ideas, attitudes and action.

In response to the crusade the mayor of Buffalo proclaimed a moment at high noon during World Day of Prayer last year for citizens to pray for peace. The crusade sponsored radio broadcasts by clergymen of all faiths. They distributed lenten daily prayer calendars:

"1st day, Let us pray for ourselves — that peace may be within our walls . . . 4th, Let us pray for our neighborhoods . . . 31st, Let us pray for Universal peace, that religion may be renewed in the hearts of men . . ."

Days of All Faiths

Lazarus' Plight Mostly Symbolic

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Lazarus was the poor man who sat begging at the rich man's gate in the parable told by Jesus in Luke, chapter 16. The rich man is generally called Dives, though he is not mentioned by name in the story. Both names are really only symbolic and not proper names at all. Lazarus means "helped by God", Dives, "a wealthy person."

You will recall that Lazarus during his lifetime was in a pretty unpleasant physical condition. The parable tells that dogs came to lick his sores. This has been taken to mean that he had leprosy, and the Order of St. Lazarus, which was founded during the Crusades and which specialized in the care of lepers, was named for this man.

A real person who had leprosy would probably not have been permitted anywhere near a rich man's gate, but this is only a story, so that detail is not important.

Both Lazarus and Dives died. Lazarus went to heaven and Dives went to hell. Dives tried first to get Abraham to send Lazarus to him with a little water. When that request was denied he tried to have him sent back to earth to warn the brothers who survived Dives.

This was an old and popular tale. Jesus did not make it up. As a story with a moral it is, in the old form, a little hard to understand. Apparently Lazarus' only virtue was his poverty and Dives' only sin was his wealth. Besides this, the only truly unselfish concern in the whole cast is Dives' interest in helping his brothers avoid his own misfortune.

The Lord uses this old parable to make a point. People were always after Him to give them "a sign," some spectacular demonstration of the supernatural. Jesus was saying here that signs and wonders will not be any good.

If we are blind to the revelations already available in the Scriptures and in God's Creation all around us, we will be just as blind to sudden miracles.

In spite of the fact that Lazarus was a fictitious character, the Abyssinian church observes June 21 as St. Lazarus' Day.

"There was a man sent from God" said St. John the Evangelist (John, chapter 1, verse 6). "Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet," said Jesus. (Luke, chapter 7, verse 28). Both were talking about John the Baptist, whose birth is commemorated in the Christian calendar Wednesday. Although not technically a Christian, he is ranked above all other saints except the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Since John was known to be exactly six months older than Jesus, it was easy enough to establish his birthday six months ahead of Christmas. The reason it is on the 24th instead of the 25th of June is that they reckoned backwards from the end of the month —December 25 is one full week before the first of January, and June 24 is the same number of days before the first of July.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Milk Keeps Her Feeling Tranquil as Summer Day

"Found all you say about milk to be true. After three months of a quart a day, I am as tranquil as a summer day. I like all your teachings. (Mrs. R. McH.)"

Answer—Thank you, ma'am. I regard calcium (of which milk or skim milk is the best source) as nature's own analgesic and tranquilizer.

"Teenage boy has dandruff. Have used everything anybody has told me about. It clears up for a day or two and than comes back. I have asked the barber and the doctor. Some say it's from the nerves. Some say it is a vitamin deficiency. Should I consult a specialist—a skin specialist? (Mrs. A. W.)"

DR. BRADY

Anwer—Best advice I can give is that the boy follow faithfully the routine described on Page 4 of the booklet The Hair and Scalp, for which send me 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Rash on neck and left arm, recurring at different times in the year, so it can't be from garden weed. It is dreadfully itchy. (Miss R.A.)"

Answer—I have a hunch that your trouble may be primrose dermatitis. Any primroses in your environment? Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for free pamphlet "Relief for Allergy."

"Prespiration was always a problem with me, especially in winter, but thanks to your pamphlet I am no longer embarrassed. (Mrs. R. G.G.)"

Answer—Any reader may have a copy of the pamphlet Excessive Sweating by asking for it and providing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Ask in writing and do not change the title—being a lowbrow I do not react pleasantly to affectation.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Child Knows Meaning of the Bible

Carol made a very good diagnosis of the strange lady who befriended her on the street corner. And this case shows the type of splendid home background which Carol has received. Alas, however, we occasionally find crooks among the most religious people, and that was true even of Judas Iscariot.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B - 466: Carol D., aged 5, moved from San Bernardino to Lancaster, California.

It was at the opening of the school term, so when Carol started to kindergarten, a couple of little boys in the neighborhood escorted her.

DR. CRANE

But at noon, they were not around to take her home. Although Carol lived only 4 blocks from the school, she was lost in that strange neighborhood.

However, she bravely set out for home. After the first block, she grew frightened and stood on the corner, crying.

As the big tears rolled down her cheeks, a kindly neighbor woman stopped to offer aid.

"What's the matter, Little Girl?" asked the lady.

"I'm - sniff - sniff - I'm losted," blurted out Carol.

So the good lady reassured her that they would go back to the school and find her teacher.

Soon they learned Carol's address and the kindly lady escorted her to the door.

GOD'S FRATERNITY PIN

Later, Carol was telling her Grandma about her sad experience. When she described how the strange lady had assisted her, Grandma admitted the lady had been very kind.

"But you must be VERY careful, Carol," advised Grandma, "for you should not go with any stranger. Sometimes strangers are bad people."

"Oh, but, Grandma, this was a very good lady," protested Carol.

"Yes, I am sure she was, but how did you know it was safe to trust her?" queried Grandma.

"Well, I knew she must be good," added Carol, "for she was carrying a Bible in her hand."

It might be called Gods fraternity pin, and indicates that the bearer is probably trying to practice the Golden Rule.

CHURCH CROOKS

But some crooks actually feign a religious interest in order to hoodwink gullible folks.

And many thieves have the gall to steal from church collection plates.

At the Chicago Temple, for example, the ushers have often been warned to be on the lookout for sneak thieves who filch money from the collection basket.

Other churches are entered and robbed of electrical fixtures and any other merchandisable goods that can easily be carried off.

Some professional thieves actually will quote scripture and even carry a Bible in order to impose on the generosity of saintly mothers who are usually a soft touch for anybody who is apparently down and out.

If ever there is an unforgivable sin, this sort of crime should rank close to that nefarious category.

For anybody who is so depraved that he will take money from a Salvation Army Christmas kettle or a church or a Red Cross or other purely unselfish organization, is affronting God.

But in general, it shows a splendid home background when a 5-year-old like Carol will diagnose a strange lady as good because of a Bible in her hand.

'U.S. Public Isn't Aware of Danger Country Faces

The American Public is not aware of the danger we're facing. Tens of thousands of Communists have found their way into Government positions, military services, labor, churches, schools and radio. The Commies are in such a position of power that they could take over Government, industries and war preparations in a few days. We could not have the chance to help England.

I've solved this dog matter for all concerned. Keep dogs penned up or chained up unless they're taken out on a leash. I lived in a city that had a law like this and dogs were no problems to neighbors, mail men, newsboys, cats, birds or other dogs.

Basic Research Vital to Science

Quest for Knowledge Without Thought of Usefulness Is Essential

WASHINGTON—Scientists in recent years have taken the temperature of whales, measured the blood pressure of giraffes, induced ulcers in monkeys, and ground up thousands of fireflies to find out how they light.

They have passed days counting the feathers on birds, traveled half way around the world to look at the stars, and spent thousands of dollars carefully cultivating the molds that infest old bread.

The odd pursuits are part of one of the most profitable enterprises mankind has undertaken: basic research.

In contrast to applied research, basic research aims at the acquisition of knowledge for its own sake, without thought of immediate practical benefits. Over the years, however, the "useless" knowledge has proved almost fabulously useful, the National Geographic Society says.

"Basic science," President Eisenhower said recently, "is the essential underpinning of applied research and development. It represents the frontier where exploration and discovery begin."

The President said that today only 30,000 scientists — less than one-fiftieth of one per cent of the United States population — are engaged in basic research.

He noted that educators and scientists have warned that this effort must be stepped up if the the nation is to move forward on the broadest scientific front.

Scientists cannot begin to guess all the uses that may be made of what they learn about the world, but they do know that, over and over again, tremendous benefits have come from apparently useless knowledge. The curiosity of generations of scientists investigating electricity and sound made it possible for Dr. Alexander Graham Bell to invent the telephone.

Sometimes applied research unexpectedly turns the tables on basic research. About 25 years ago a radio engineer working for the Bell Telephone Laboratories was trying to find the cause of a peculiar static on transatlantic radio-telephone messages.

Methodically, the engineer, Karl Jansky, eliminated one possible cause after another. Finally, in 1933, he reported that the source lay about 26,000 light years away at the center of the Milky Way, the disk-shaped galaxy which includes the sun and billions of other stars. Thus a new field—radio assearch by an odd feedback from an industry it made possible.

Arrest Four Negroes in School-Girl Rape

NEW YORK (AP) — Six Negro youths, aged 14 to 17 have been arrested in the Corona, Queens, school yard rape of a 14-year-old white girl. She was attacked three times.

The victim, a pretty blonde eighth grader in the junior high school, was assaulted Thursday night after attending a recreation program at the school. Her name as withheld by police.

The girl identified as her assailants John Rich, 16, Edward Jacobs, 17, and Jacob Bethea and Henry Stokes, both 16.

Police said Rich and Bethea admitted assaulting the girl, but that Jacobs denied it. They said Stokes admitted holding the girl down while the others attacked her. Rich is employed as a messenger boy. The others were students at the Brooklyn Automotive School.

All four will be arraigned today in Ridgewood Felony Court.

Journey To Love

CHAPTER XXI

When Leilani spotted the peak of Mauna Kea, visible briefly between the clouds, the short flight was almost over.

A brother-in-law of Bea's was waiting at the Hilo airport with a car.

As he drove them to Bea's house, Kathie marveled at the lush tropical gardens, even more striking than those she had seen in Honolulu.

But it had been a long and full day, and she was drooping with weariness.

Dusk was falling as they turned into the garden of a low, comfortable-looking house on the hillside above the town, and Kathie had difficulty keeping her eyes open as she was led through the comfortable rooms to the one she and Leilani would share.

In the morning she wakened to a cool shuttered room and the songs of what sounded like hundreds of birds outside her window.

Leilani had already risen, and a moment after Kathie opened her eyes she put her head in the door and called a cheery good morning.

Breakfast on the lanai," she said.

Leilani was already dressed in white shorts that showed a maximum of slim tanned legs, and a colorful jacket cut with an Oriental straightness of line that last night she had called a pake.

Kathie jumped eagerly out of bed. As she showered in the pretty blue bathroom, she thought wonderingly of Leilani's claim that she and her mother were "poor as church mice."

Afte ra moment's consideration, she dressed in a playsuit almost as brief as Leilani's shorts, leaving her hair in the long dark pigtails that with her bangs made her look little-girlish.

Bea Powers was already pouring coffee at the table on the broad porch Leilani had called the lanai. Screened, it jutted out into the garden to give a view of rolling clipped lawn, a fantastic many-trunked tree, and bright splotches of colorful blossoms against the green of the hedges which shut out the adjoining lawns.

Tiny delicate orchids floated in a crystal bowl on the table.

"There are millions of them in the garden," Leilani said, with careless pride.

Long wedges of chilled fresh pineapple were at each place. Kathie sat down and took the cup of coffee Bea offered before she unfolded her napkin.

WELCOME LEILANI

They were still at the table when the first carload of young people arrived to welcome Leilani home. They piled into cars and began what turned out to be a series of informal visits, the group snowballing at each stop.

Kathie met more girls and young men than she could possibly remember and found herself drawn into a life so gay and casual and relaxed that it all seemed like an extraordinarily pleasant dream.

During a momentary lull, it occurred to Kathie to ask Leilani how she and Alex had grown to be such friends when their homes were on islands 200 miles apart.

Leilani gave her a curious look. "Oh, heavens, I went to school in Honolulu!" she said, somewhat impatiently.

It was when they returned home late in the afternoon that it again struck Kathie how strange it was that the Powerses should be Uncle Job's family!

She had said as much when Bea asked her at dinner that night how she liked Hilo. The older woman's eyes flashed a quick interest at the mention of Job Hammer, but she only said again, with a vague wave of her hand, "Well, of course, it was quite different in those days."

Kathie had wanted to pursue the line of talk, but Leilani had insisted on talking about Uncle Job some other time. Kathie had to give in.

HER OPPORTUNITY

It was not until two days later, when Leilani had left the house to resume her music lessons that Kathie had her opportunity to talk with Leilani's mother about her great-uncle.

Bea had gone to her room to rest, but Kathie knew that if she did not seize this moment, there might not be another one free from interruptions.

Nevertheless, she crossed the floor of the bedroom a dozen times before she could make up her mind to confide in the older woman and ask her for information.

At last she went down the wide hall and rapped on Mrs. Powers' door.

"Yes?" Bea's drowsy voice answered.

Kathie entered her bedroom. Bea was reclining against some pillows on a narrow punee, a carelessly folded silk scarf lying across her eyes.

"I'm sorry," Kathie said hesitantly. "I did want to talk to you alone, but if you would rather I didn't—"

"What is it that's so important?"

"It's about a deed Uncle Job left me," Kathie said. "A deed to some land in Honolulu."

"Yes?" Bea's tone was still light, but the girl noticed that her body seemed to have frozen into attention. She had a sudden feeling that Bea had been waiting for this moment, that it was for this she had been asked to Hilo.

Kathie sank down on a taffeta hassock near the punee. "I thought maybe you could help me figure it out. Why did Uncle Job save the deed all those years if it is worthless? Or for that matter, why the deed at all—when there's another one to the same property, and from the same man—Phineas Redd?"

"Let's start at the beginning!" Bea said.

3rd Century Arena Uncovered in Rome

ROME (AP) — Archaeologists Friday reported uncovering important new ruins of ancient Rome, including a palace and a circus almost as large as the great Circus Maximus.

Giulio Iacopi, Rome superintendent of arts, disclosed the discovery of the ruins which date back to the early 3rd century.

In a signed article carried by the Rome newspaper Giornale d'Italia, he said the newly discovered circus was perhaps smaller in measure, but only a little, than the Circus Maximus.

The Circus Maximus, which seated up to 200,000, extends almost 2,000 feet in a hollow between the Palatine and Aventine Hills. It is a favorite tourist attraction of Rome.

Iacopi called the newly discovered sports field the Varian Circus because its site presumably had been the gardens of the Emperor Varus.

The palace appeared to have been surrounded by spacious gardens and to have been connected with the circus. Ruins of an ancient court of law also were found.

Digging started last December. Iacopi said the discovery was of "immense value" and when completed in several months would provide important information on the last period of the Roman Empire.

A pessimist is a person who, when smelling flowers, looks around for the funeral . . . It isn't true that a woman always has the last word. Sometimes she's talking to another woman. —Earl Wilson

Argentine Prexy Quells Crisis

But Frondizi Doesn't Tell Concessions Given for Militarist Support

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Arturo Frondizi remains president of Argentina after surmounting — at least temporarily — the gravest crisis of his 14-month administration.

But the price he paid remains to be seen.

Following waves of tension touched off by military plotters, a meeting of top army brass Friday night voted confidence in the president's war ministry.

Frondizi, grim faced and tired, met newsmen to say he was still performing his presidential duties. But he did not indicate what concessions he gave the militarists for their support.

Announcement also was made that two alleged leaders of the plot had agreed to submit to detention on sedition charges.

They were Rear Adm. Arturo Rial, hero of the revolution that overthrew ex-dictator Juan Peron, and retired Lt. Gen. Arturo Ossorio Arana. The government ordered their arrest Wednesday, but security forces had been unable to find them.

Informed sources said Rial and Ossorio Arana led a military group that felt Frondizi had not dealt severely enough with Peron backers. They were said to have demanded the ouster of all government officials with Peronista leanings and strong measures against labor leaders who have called countless strikes that plague the national economy.

Many union leaders are Peronistas or Communists.

Despite recent government concessions, the anti-Peronista militarists, known as "gorrillas," presumably were not satisfied. But in a showdown, they apparently could not convince their fellow officers of the necessity of booting Frondizi.

The latest troubles apparently were touched off by Peron, living in exile in the Dominican Republic, releasing a document purporting to be a pact he signed with Frondizi promising Peronista support in the last elections. The government branded the document a forgery, but some apparently still believe it is authentic.

Say Discoveries in Space Won't Alter Christianity

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) —Discovery of life on other planets will not alter Christian doctrines, a large Lutheran denomination decided Friday.

The Augustana Lutheran Church, at its 100th Synod, approved a resolution concerning the church and future space discoveries. The idea for the resolution came from St. John's Lutheran Church in Stamford, Conn.

Roy W. Johnson, director of advanced research projects for the Defense Department, is a member of the St. John's Board of Deacons.

Delegates, representing the denomination's 600,000 members, agreed that space explorations could not damage the traditional church concepts of a Holy Trinity —the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost.

"We need not be afraid of what we may find," said the resolution. "If our faith is to be living, our footsteps forward must be confident and inspired."

The resolution said Christians should not be apprehensive about what may live in the reaches of space, for God is "infinitely greater than the universe He has created."

Dalai Lama Approves Nehru, Chou Meeting

MUSSOORIE, India (AP) — The self-exiled Dalai Lama of Tibet said today he would welcome a meeting between Prime Minister Nehru of India and Premier Chou En-lai of Red China to thresh out a solution to the Tibetan problem.

The fugitive god-king told his first news conference since he arrived in India two months ago that he was undecided about his future but would not stay in India indefinitely.

The Dalai Lama said he was pleased that India, his host country, had championed Tibet's cause, as it did that of Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia.

He said he would welcome a summit meeting between Nehru and Chou En-lai "if the actual events in Tibet were considered in their true perspective."

TV Considered Good as Teacher of Young

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Because TV programs present good and evil in simple ways, TV probably does children more good than harm, a network executive said here.

"It isn't the violence on a program that makes it unacceptable for young viewers, but the difficulty in distinguishing what's right and what's wrong," said George D. Crothers. He is director of public service broadcasts for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Crothers told the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges that TV must be considered a plus force in the moral training of children.

Beauties Warn Replacements of Living Costs

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"Buy a car. It's cheaper than taxis."

"Try and survive without a doctor, because even a shot costs $10. Under no circumstances go into a hospital unless convinced you are dying, because it costs $20 a day."

Those are some of the suggestions left for a group of curvy incoming European beauties by a group of curvy outgoing European beauties.

Firestone and Tutor to Open Law Offices

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Harvey S. Firestone III and his tutor through eight years of college plan to enter law practice.

Firestone, 29, crippled son of the chief executive of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., graduated from Stetson University's law school here May 29.

He placed third in his class. His tutor, Everett E. Cushman, 50, led in academic honors.

MICHIGAN MEANS BUSINESS

THE PONTIAC PRESS

Once upon a time in American history, mom and the kids looked up to dad for leadership and guidance. But certainly not now! Mom and the kids go helter-skelter merrily on their way, forgetting that dad is the breadwinner and provider and the one to go to with glad tidings and problems.

It's time mom and the kids put brakes on their own independent lives and became more dependent upon dad. Father's Day is an ideal time to pay homage to the "head of the household" . . . that guy who gives them the money and wherewithall to do all those wonderful things. A good idea is to celebrate his special day in a quiet, dignified manner.

Every Dad Has His Day This June 21

The third Sunday in June marks the forty-ninth Father's Day. Since 1910 this has been a high spirited occasion when a little known creature named "Father" crawls from beneath his mountain of paper and pencils. As he once again sees the daylight of the home world he is showered with applause and smiles and presents. From subtly wrapped thin oblong boxes he pulls new ties and from smaller ones a pair of cuff links or socks. The once a year tribute to the man of the house is a skyrocket in two stages. After the sweep of gifts, the day usually showers into an outing with the children at the zoo or the park. The day ends happily with everyone very tired and Father very happy.

30,000 Boys, Girls Rate Dad Over Pat Boone, Rock 'n' Roll

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—So you think you're the forgotten man, dad? Take heart. Children across the country rate fathers above Pat Boone, rock and roll, and the family car.

That's the word from more than 30,000 boys and girls from 10 to 16 years who entered the third annual "Letters to Father" contest sponsored by the Cigar Institute of America.

First prize for boys went to Bruce D. Marshall, 16, of Englewood, Fla. He wrote: "I behave myself or go without the choice is mine. If my dad sounds tough, he is. Furthermore, I'm happy he is because I've learned to earn my rights and privileges. He's the kind of fellow who would rather be right than president. And to tell the truth, I'd rather be his son than the son of a president."

Among the girls, first prize winner was Naomi Greenberger, 10, of Flushing, N. Y. She thanked her father for "teaching me how not to be afraid" and for "helping me laugh at the little tragedies that happened to me."

The children emphasized that they learn by watching their parents, enjoy dad's companionship, and admire his virtues.

Elizabeth Otte, an eighth grader from Omaha, Neb., wrote: "Your patience and calmness have been helpful because I have quieted down in imitation of you, which has helped me think more clearly.

"You have never brushed aside important questions, but have insisted that I think them through before asking them.

"I like your sense of humor, your optimistic outlook and generous nature, but most of all your quiet encouragement when things really seemed beyond me. 'You can do it, Elizabeth, just try a little harder.'

"In general there are two types of fathers," another child explained. "The first type is just called a father by name, because he has a child and is not a mother. The second is not only a father but a pal."

Patrick Tracy, 11, of Tacoma, Wash., took a fling at being the man of the house while his father was on a business trip.

"I never realized before what a task it is," Patrick wrote. "I know now that there are many trials and tribulations that a father must endure in order to earn and keep the respect and discipline of a happy family."

Not all youngsters were so serious, however. Letters included such comments as: "I'd take you for a father instead of Pat Boone!" and "I wouldn't trade Dad for anything less than seven rock and roll records."

Fathers are endowed with such superman qualities: "Doing all the things normal people can't do" and the ability to "Teach the facts of life which some parents don't even understand."

Another child called Dad the "pillow" of the family, and hoped "there is not any children who likes their father because he gives them money."

Chaplain's Aid Group to Present Mission Party

A mission party sponsored by the Chaplain's Aid Committee of the Northwestern Deanery, Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held at 1 p.m. June 24 at the J. L. Hudson Co. auditorium in Detroit.

Included in the afternoon will be a fashion show, card party and tea and door prizes sent from Japan by friends of the Rev. Joseph J. Spae, of the Immaculate Heart Mission there.

The Deanery will use funds raised at the party to assist Immaculate Heart Mission, as well as the Maryknoll Mission in Korea and Consolata Mission in Africa.

Deanery President Mrs. N. C. Dillon, Clawson, Mrs. Lawrence Power, Birmingham, Mrs. Vincent Vavrek, Pontiac, Mrs. Emmet Young, Birmingham, and Mrs. Harry Ferguson and Mrs. John Blasquiere of Berkley are all on the hostess committee.

50 Attend Garden Meeting

Sylvan Unit Holds Annual Picnic and Installs Officers

Over fifty members and guests of the Sylvan Lake Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Dombrowski on Garland avenue Wednesday for the annual picnic luncheon.

Retiring president Mrs. R. Dale Aumaugher presided at the business meeting. Annual reports of the various committees were read and retiring officers given a vote of thanks.

Installed by Mrs. J. A. Rammes and presented with corsages were the following officers: Mrs. A. E. Kohn, president; Mrs. Wayne Smith, first vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Ollis, second vice president; Mrs. Harry J. Wood, recording secretary; Mrs. W. J. Sanderson, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Eugene Johnson, treasurer.

The new president, Mrs. Kohn, appointed standing committees for the year.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 17.

Club Awards Business Scholarship

Mrs. Charles Van Trease Jr. of Beverly avenue was hostess to The Business Institute Women's Club Wednesday evening. Mrs. William Kovin was cohostess.

Following a buffet supper announcement was made that the recipient of the Luvella Minard Scholarship to the Pontiac Business Institute will be announced within the next few days.

Members of the club, all women graduates of the institute, then attended a hairstyling show.

The Byron Chapins have invited the members and their families to their home in Lake Orion for a picnic meeting July 11.

Lyon Group Hears of Schweitzer Visit

Mrs. A. Barclay Robertson of Wilson street, Drayton Plains, was hostess to the Mary Lyon Group of First Congregational Church Wednesday.

During the meeting, Mrs. Wallace Edwards read a letter from her parents who are visiting Dr. Albert Schweitzer in Africa.

Swim Pool Added at Summer Camp

A new swimming pool will be an added feature when the Roeper Summer Day Camp opens for its twelfth year Monday.

The camp operated on the grounds of City and Country School of Bloomfield Hills is situated on 11 acres of rolling hills and woods.

Entirely supervised by qualified counselors who are licensed teachers, the camp is open to the following groups: nursery, two and one-half to four years; kindergarten, five years; and children six to 11 years.

Each group has a separate program, and children may attend for four or eight weeks. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. five days a week, Monday through Friday.

Activities at the camp include outdoor group life, creative activities, swimming, observing animal life and hiking.

Youngsters are given experience in arts and crafts, music, dramatics, dancing, gardening, nature study, shopwork and animal care.

A special event at the camp is an overnight hike on the camp grounds for children six years and older, accompanied by counselors.

Further information about the camp program may be obtained from George and Annemarie Roeper of North Woodward avenue, Bloomfield Hills.

THELMA J. DICKERSON

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Dickerson of Matthews street announce the engagement of their daughter, Thelma Joyce, to Terry Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond of Mann road. No wedding date has been set.

JEAN TWEIT

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph T. Tweit of East Mansfield street announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Charles Bosley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome A. Bosley of Birmingham. A Sept. 12 wedding is planned.

RUTH ZEGELIEN

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Zegelien of Frembes street, Drayton Plains, announce the engagement of their daughter Ruth Arlene to Morris Cavil, son of Edwin Cavil and the late Mrs. Cavil of West DePere, Wis. No wedding date has been set.

CAROL VAN HORN

Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Van Horn of Elizabeth Lake road announce the engagement of their daughter Carol Ann to Gale Lee Wigner, son of Mrs. Glenn Coffey of Filer avenue and Max Wigner of Lounsbury street.

CAROL ANN SAMPEY

Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Sampey of Joswick road announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Fred G. Nemer. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Nemer of Detroit. The couple is planning an Oct. 17 wedding.

Karen Underwood Wed in First Baptist Church

Karen Ann Underwood became the bride of Robert L. Murphy in a ceremony held Friday evening at First Baptist Church. The Rev. H. H. Savage officiated at the candlelight rite before some 500 guests. The altar was banked with baskets of White gladioli, delphiniums, and chrysanthemums.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Underwood of Hatchery road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Murphy of Windcroft drive.

A floor length gown of rose point lace featuring pleated nylon ruffles forming a chapel sweep and a portrait neckline was chosen by the bride. A seed pearl tiara held her pure silk French illusion veil, and she carried a white Bible with cymbidium orchids, stephanotis, and variegated ivy.

The attendants were gowned alike in ballerina length dresses of blue nylon dotted Swiss with bouffant skirts and contrasting blue organdy bows at the waist back. They carried cascade bouquets of white daisies and ivy.

Flower girl was Robin Underwood, wearing a pink nylon ruffled frock and holding a basket of daisies and ivy.

MRS. ROBERT L. MURPHY

of the bride, was ring bearer.

Attending as best man was Windle Beaird. Ushers were Robert Pike, James Brian, Roger Manning, James McGuire, Charles Stalions and ValGene Younger, all of Pontiac.

* * *

Mrs. Underwood wore a pale blue lace over tafetta dress with a flared skirt and matching headpiece with a corsage of rubrum lillies. A light pink embroidered silk organza sheath dress with matching headpiece and a corsage of rubrum lillies was the choice of Mrs. Murphy.

Plan Wedding

A June 26 wedding is planned by Valda Mae Wood and Gary Robert Classens. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marion W. Wood of Euclid street and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Classens of Frankfort.

Will First Cousin See Second One?

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A cousin I rarely see gave birth to a baby about the same time I did. We bought each other gifts, but I could not use hers as I already had such an item. Another cousin of mine recently had a baby and I was thinking of giving this gift to her for her baby.

"My husband says it would be very wrong to give her someone else's gift and that I should buy something else for the baby. I would appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: If there is any chance that the cousin who gave the gift to you might see it among the gifts of the second cousin, you had better follow your husband's advice and buy something else for this new baby.

"Dear Mrs. Post: In less than two months my fiance and I will be married in spite of our parents' disapproval. My parents will not attend the wedding and my fiancee's mother is not sure she will.

"Because of this I am planing a small chapel wedding with very few guests in attendance. I am in my late twenties and live alone. I would like to send announcements to our friends.

"Would it be proper to use my parents' names on the announcements under these circumstances? If not, how should the announcements be worded?

Answer: You cannot use your parents' names on announcements of a marriage of which they disapprove. You and your fiance should announce your own marriage as follows:

Miss Mary Smith
and
Mr. John Jones announce their marriage
etc.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When introducing a younger person to an older one, do you mention the older person's name first, or do you present the younger person to the older one first?"

Answer: "Mrs. Older, may I present Mrs. Younger" is correct and formal. "Mrs. Older—Mrs. Younger" is simpler and equally correct.

Warn Your Husband . . . Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I've heard about some pretty impossible mothers-in-law, but I'll put mine up against any of them.

Every time she sees my husband she tells him how "tired" he looks. She tells him (in front of me) that marriage has made an "old man" out of him.

The last straw was when she had a set of twin beds delivered to my house, because she said I wasn't letting him get his rest. She said it was an "anniversary gift" and made a deal to trade in our big double bed without our permission. The men just came and took away our double bed and moved in the twins.

She constantly compares me with his old "sweetheart." Yes, after 19 years I've been told this girl is still "waiting for him." Help me, Abby, before I put my fist right through her mouth.

END OF ROPE

DEAR END: The chatter about how "tired" your husband looks, and the "childhood sweetheart" should go into one ear and out the other, but her "gift" of the twin beds should go out the door. Tell your hubby that if she continues to egg you on, you won't be responsible for what you say . . . and that's no yolk!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a well-to-do bachelor of 65. I met a young woman of 22 and asked her to marry me. I told her my right age. I am afraid that by telling her my right age I ruined my chances with her. Would my chances have been better had I told her I was 55?

BACHELOR

DEAR BACHELOR: Your chances probably would have been better had you told her you were 75.

DEAR ABBY: There are five kids in our family and when we go for a ride in the car everybody wants to sit by the windows. The older ones always win out and I have to take the younger ones on my lap to keep them quiet. I can't enjoy the ride myself for all this fussing. Is there a better way of keeping peace?

MOM

DEAR MOM: Before the ride, have all the kids draw cards out of a deck. The highest cards get a "window." The next time, eliminate the ones who have sat by the windows, and so forth.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am an unmarried woman of 34. I was lonely and thought I wanted to see something of life and have a little fun. I met a man, but his idea of "fun" and mine were not the same, so the fling was short. He informed me that probably I would remain an old maid for the rest of my life. I told him I certainly would and by preference if he was an example of what men were like. I was told that no man would consider buying a pair of shoes unless he tried them on first. I ask you!

ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: Ask this man if he would go shopping in a second-hand store if he wanted a pair of shoes.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BROKEN ENGAGEMENT": Wish them luck. They should make a lovely couple. She's got rocks in her head and he's a born chiseler.

"Why don't my parents trust me?" For What Every Teenager Wants to Know, send 25 cents and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Take Care of Details That Please Husband

By RUTH MILLETT

How long has it been since you've —

Told your husband he's a mighty handsome fellow?

Cooked your husband's favorite dish, the one that is quite a bit of trouble to make?

Let your husband know you appreciate how hard he works for you and your children?

Put your husband first when something he wants you to do conflicts with something the children want you to do or that you feel you should do for them?

Wondered if your husband is as content with the life you lead together as you are?

Made a point of repeating to your husband a complimentary remark someone has made to you about him?

Shown any real interest in your husband's work outside of the routine, "Did you have a hard day?" when he comes home at night?

Made a real effort to do something about a situation you know annoys your husband?

Done something kind and thoughful for your husband's parents?

Taken the trouble to make your husband think you were as enthusiastic as he was about something you knew he really wanted to do but you didn't care much about?

Built your husband up to others?

Took the trouble to look as pretty as possible for an evening at home with your husband?

Let him know you think you are a lucky woman to be his wife?

Pony Tails Are Pert but Hair Suffers Strain

Teenagers who skin their hair back into pony tails are asking for hair trouble in the future. It's a simple hairdo, true, and not much trouble. But because it strains the hair back from the face, it also tends to thin out the hair in that area.

And the teens are a time when a girl shouldn't pick a hairdo because it's easy to do or even because everybody else is wearing it. Have a sweater just like your girl friend's if you must but don't become her twin in every respect. What's dashing on one girl can be disastrous on another.

The movie stars whom you admire learned early to develop their own particular types. Had they gone about copying each other endlessly, few of them would have stayed at the top. A short and fluffy hairdo is every bit as easy to keep as the pony tail and far prettier.

Keep Up Vitality

Eat Better, Stay Healthier

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some of my readers still are confused concerning the different food types, so here we go.

First, let us consider the carbohydrates. These are the starches and sugars. They supply us with lots of energy. We all know about sugar and we need some of this in our diet. Potatoes, bread and cereals, are the best known starches although there is some in many other foods.

During the last few years the importance of proteins in the diet has been greatly emphasized. The foods which come under the protein classification are meat, milk, fowl, eggs, fish, sea foods, and cheese. Meat is especially important because of its amino acids.

Gelatin is a fine protein also. One of the youngest 80-year-olds I know (a physician) has had the gelatin habit for many years and recommends it highly.

Cheese gives us much in health value, vitamins and calcium and protein. Cheese can be used in so many ways and there are so many kinds that it builds up our protein intake most happily.

Then of course there are the fats about which we hear so much today. These are butter, margarine, oils, gravy, lard, fat meat. Nuts have a lot of fat in them and so does the yellow of the egg. For this reason these usually are restricted in a diet which must be low in cholesterol.

WE ARE WHAT WE EAT

The time has passed when the intelligent person thinks of diet only in terms of pleasing the taste buds. The old saying that we are what we eat is much truer than any of us thought at one time. Diet is being tied in more accurately and closer all the time with prolonged youthfulness and vitality. Many diseases and signs of age seem to have some correlation with nutrition.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Vitamins on Your Budget" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 38. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

If you're confused about the different food types, read "Why Grow Old?" for some useful information.

Knit Dress Takes You Anywhere

NEW YORK (NEA) — The girl who hasn't yet discovered what knitted fashions can do for her wardrobe is missing a whole lot.

In travel, the knit dress is indispensable. A sheath with a little jacket can take you from one coast to the other looking impeccable. It won't wrinkle and it won't show signs of strain. It will keep you looking neat and fresh when you emerge from plane or train at the end of your trip.

At home, the knit suit, separates, coats, dresses, all lead an active life. The flat knits are perfect for business and city wear; the bulky or nubby knits take to country living with zest.

This spring, the knits are blooming in blond colors. They complement the pale woolens, the sandy silks, creamy cottons and champagne-colored leather accessories. A knit vest and skirt worn with silk shirt, all in blonde shades, makes a stunning costume.

If you're not familiar with the 1959 knit, then you don't know that it won't sag, wrinkle or stretch. Manufacturers have worked long and hard to eliminate these chief faults of the old knits. But further, their designers have worked equally hard to give knits a styling that's young and chic. There are knits for every kind of life and from morning to evening, when cocktail knits bound in satin make an appearance.

HIGHEST REWARD — Mr. and Mrs. Douglas G. Child of 612 N. Perry St., kneel to receive Communion from their son, the Rev. John Child, at his first Mass in St. Michael Church, following his ordination to the priesthood June 6 in Detroit. The parents said the "highest reward" they could receive is to see their son giving his life to the service of God. The new priest was appointed this week as assistant pastor at the St. Norbert Catholic Church, Inkster, by Archbishop John F. Dearden. He will take up his duties on June 25.

ARAMAIC BIBLE SCROLLS
The Bible was written in ancient Aramaic, the language which was spoken by Christ.
The true meaning of the Aramaic word was determined by the dots, which were placed above and below that word. The Greek scholars who translated into Greek did not know the true meaning of the dots so errors were introduced into the Bible.

Roger Anderson to Study, Visit Baptists in Russia

A special service of recognition will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday at Bethany Baptist Church for Roger Anderson, a member of Bethany who will leave next week for a summer of study in Russia.

SIDNEY BARNETT

A sophomore at the University of Michigan, he won a Lisle Fellowship Scholarship to spend three months in Russia to study the life and culture of that country.

His major at the university is speech and Slavic studies.

The board of education at Bethany in providing a supplemental scholarship to make it possible for Roger to visit Baptist groups in Russia.

The fund will be presented by Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, pastor, at the recognition service.

Following the worship hour, the board of missions will sponsor a coffee hour for Roger so the congregation may give personal greetings. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anderson of 393 W. Iroquois Rd.

At both morning services the pastor will preach on "Knowing the Right People." A dedication of children will be observed at the latter service.

Youth assistants tomorrow will be Charles Green at the 8:45 morning service and Janet Kneale at 11 a. m. The ordinance of baptism will be observed at the early hour.

Protestant Churches to Ask $11 Millions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Church World Services announced this week a 1959 fund raising goal of more than $11,250,000 to help homeless, hungry and destitute people abroad.

Harper Sibley, chairman of the national council of churches department, said the goal marked an $850,000 increase over the 1958 quota.

The money will be collected in Protestant churches across the nation, with the highlight of the 1959 united appeal being the "one great hour of sharing" observances on Sunday, March 8.

'Fathers,' Theme at Presbyterian

Vacation Bible School Boys, Girls to Present Program for Parents

"Jesus' Ideas on Fatherhood" will be the theme of Dr. William H. Marbach's sermon at 9:30 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

At 11 a.m. the Rev. Galen E. Hershey, associate pastor, will preach on "A Father and His Family." The choir will present "Seek Ye the Lord."

Barbara Graybiel, Christine Bos and Janet Minthorn will attend the camp for 9th graders conducted by the Synod of Michigan at Greenville Sunday through June 27.

Boys and girls attending Vacation Bible School will receive awards and present a program for their parents at 11 a.m. Friday in the sanctuary.

Openings for 10 families are still available for the family camp at Yankee Springs Camp near Hastings from July 12 through 18.

The board of deacons will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday to sort, pack and send clothing through Church World Service. Gordon Doule will be in charge.

Father's Day to Be Observed

Dedication of Babies Set for Morning Worship at First Christian

Father's Day will be observed at the morning worship at First Christian Church tomorrow with the Rev. D. D. McColl, pastor, preaching on "Our Heavenly Father's Love."

The message will center around the fact that God hears and answers our prayers when they are offered in sincerity and reverence.

The dedication is not an ordinance, the pastor said, but a recognition of our fellowship with God in sharing the responsibility of loving and guiding our children in the paths of righteousness.

A rosebud will be presented the parents of each baby as a token of God's care and the church's interest in the parents and the little ones, the Rev. Mr. McColl said.

Vacation Bible School to Start at Sylvan Lake

A Vacation Bible School will begin Monday at the Sylvan Lake Church of Christ, Inverness Rd. at Orchard Lake and Middle Belt Roads.

Children will be graded according to their school class and will be accepted from three years of age through high school. A class for adults also has been arranged.

Sessions will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. daily. At 7:30 p.m. Friday, a program will be presented by the classes showing handwork and other projects.

Marvin W. Hastings, minister of the church, will continue the series of sermons preaching at 10:45 Sunday morning on "Add to Your Knowledge, Faith."

"Preparation and Equipment" will be his subject at 6 p.m. Sunday School classes are scheduled at 9:45 a.m.

"GOSPEL MEETING STILL IN PROGRESS"
The GOSPEL MEETING which is being conducted at the Church of Christ, 210 Hughes Street, by Roosevelt Wells, is moving in great strides. Many are coming every night to hear the 1st century gospel without addition or subtraction. In this meeting we are endeavoring to present CHRIST AND HIM CRUCIFIED, THE WAY OF SALVATION, and that THE WAY OF THE CROSS LEADS HOME. Won't you come and study with us this last week, for we have not a new doctrine, not a new gospel but simply the gospel which Paul preached. Jesus said in his sermon on the mount, BLESSED ARE THEY WHICH DO HUNGER AND THIRST AFTER RIGHTEOUSNESS FOR THEY SHALL BE FILLED. Mt. 5. If you are desiring to be fed with the true word of the living God then won't you attend the meeting this week? Come and let us REASON TOGETHER, YEA, COME AND LET US SEARCH THE SCRIPTURES TOGETHER.

County 4-Hers to Live With Kentucky Families

A contingent of 16 Oakland County 4-H Club members today embarked on an experience of the Kentucky way of life.

The youngsters will live with families in Hopkinsville, the seat of rural Christian County, for one week. They are scheduled to return June 29.

"The program enables the youngsters to exchange ideas, philosophies and ways of living in other areas," said Jack Worthington, Oakland County 4-H agent.

Christian County will send its own 4-H Club representatives to live with Oakland County families the week beginning July 13.

Robert Metzger, 880 Granger, Ortonville; Robert Brewer, 5966 Flemings Lake Rd., Clarkston; Larry Middleton, 2610 Stoney Creek Rd., Lake Orion; Tod Young, 2810 Indian Lake Rd., Oxford; Robert Hollis, 1066 Doris Rd., Pontiac; Gary Hunter, 2623 Orion Rd., Lake Orion; Sidney Miller, 3410 Dartmouth Rd., Oxford.

Also, Virginia Guthrie, 173 Hillfield Rd., Pontiac; Sue Simonson, 1957 Cragen Dr., Bloomfield Hills; Janet Radar, 2182 S. Livernois, Rochester; Karen Koonce, 1880 June St., Rochester; Carolyn Canfield, 57241 Grand River, New Hudson; Carolyn Bowers, 4105 S. Hill Rd., Milford; Sharon Templeton, New Hudson; Jeannie Mott, 5487 Sunnycrest Dr., Birmingham and Mary Lovelace, 2404 Harrison, Rochester.

THOMAS GATES — A new look at missiles and bombers.

Defense Man Is Anti-Missile

Gates Would Put More Emphasis on Greater Land, Sea Power

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The appointment of Thomas Gates as No. 2 man in the Defense Department means a shift in the U. S. military strategy.

Gates' predecessor, the late Donald Quarles, was a strong advocate of intercontinental massive retaliation.

Gates is an outspoken enemy of a defense strategy and budget based chiefly on big missiles and big planes.

The new deputy secretary wants more emphasis on other weapons. He favors greater land and sea power, wants to put more U. S. chips into getting ready for brush fire wars.

You can count on Gates fighting to eliminate appropriations for some expensive missiles and cutting back on others. And on his taking a strong hard look at some of the big bomber programs.

The illness of Gen. Nathan Twining may intensify the shift in defense emphasis. With Air Force General Twining as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Air Force, with its intercontinental retaliation strategy, dominated the JCS. It held half of the four major seats.

But if Twining's comeback from his lung cancer operation is slow, and he decides to retire, then it's the Army's turn, by rotation, to head the Joint Chiefs.

Most likely Army successor: Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, retiring Army Chief of Staff. And Taylor, as chairman, would head a JCS dominated by men who think as he does. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, the next Army Chief of Staff, and Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, Chief of Naval Operations, have minced no words in fighting against what some officers call a "one-weapon" arsenal.

If General Taylor goes ahead with his retirement plans, then Lemnitzer is the next best Army bet. Burke, the obvious Navy choice.

U. S. MAY MISS

Dr. Herbert York, new top scientist in the Defense Department, is a man of the same school. He fears the U. S. may be missing out on some new key weapons by putting too much of its money into one basket — missiles.

They and their aides point out that the Russian Army has modernized itself completely since World War II, while the bulk of U. S. Army equipment is still of World War II vintage. They note the Russians now have in the hands of troops superior tanks and artillery, and a new, startling mobility.

If Mr. Poodle Can't Go, Hermione Stays Home

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"Dog Lovers of the World, Unite!" cried Hermione Gingold while "Mr. Poodle," 14, up on the divan beside me, stuck his nose in my pocket.

"People who love dogs ought to get together and dog-sit for each other," she preached vehemently.

WILSON

"Here I was all ready to go to Las Vegas for a wonderful vacation!" blazed the British comedienne who is an irregular regular on the Jack Parr TV show. "I splurged. I bought cowboy hats . . . high boots . . . I was terrified I'd be bitten by snakes if I went walking in the desert . . . I was going to gamble . . .'. Lena Horne was going to show me around.

"But now it's all off. I couldn't find one hotel who'd take 'Mr. Poodle' in," she said sadly.

Hermione has had this trouble many times over her devotion to "Mr. Poodle." Once in London she heard of a well-to-dwo woman who dog-sat for pleasure.

"My friends told me, 'This woman is almost a dog herself,'" Hermione recounted laughingly. She came to the door, very dignified — and she was eating a dog biscuit! I suppose she was a bit absent-minded. She probably gave the dogs her dinner and ate theirs."

HERMIONE

Tales like this flowed constantly from Hermione. She alleged that sometimes Jack Paar's office "rings up and says, 'My God, nobody's going to be here tonight — will you come?'

"The other night they had on this professional insulter. I wonder whether there's any other country where people make a living insulting you

"It would be nice, though, if you could insult people in the legitimate theater. If you could stop during a speech and say 'Shut up your coughing out there!'"

Hermione believes she has the only Chinese fan club —it started in San Francisco—and she also has a mysterious fan who sent expensive gifts backstage. One night the doorman said, "The gentleman who's been sending you the presents is here."

"I anticipated an elderly mustachioed swain in a limousine. He was a boy of 16 with braces on his teeth! He said: 'I hear you're going to Las Vegas. I brought you a roulette wheel.' Does anybody need a roulette wheel?" Hermione asked the world at large.

Twice married, Hermione doesn't expect ever to get married again, to teenager or creaking millionaire.

"I do think, though," she announced suddenly, "that everybody should be married twice."

"Why, for Heaven's sake!" queried the reporter.

"You've got to have experience to be a success at anything! The first time you're married you really don't know anything about it!"

Hope Dyna-Soar I Will Be Feature Bomber of Strategic Air Command

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sometime before 1965, a super X15 rocket ship called Dyna-Soar I will blast off from Cape Canaveral, Fla., circle the globe and land an hour and a half later at Edwards Air Force Base in California, if all goes well.

If it works, it could be the bomber of the future.

This insight into the highly secret Dyna-Soar program came from Lt. Col. Harold G. Russell, test director of the program at Edwards in an interview at the summer session of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences Thursday.

Like the X15, it is to be carried aloft by a B52 mother ship and cut loose to land on a dry lake bed at Edwards.

Then Dyna-Soar is to be taken to Cape Canaveral for unmanned launchings and landings on islands in the Atlantic missile range.

Within two years after the start of the tests at Edwards, the rocket ship is expected to be ready for its big jump atop an intercontinental ballistic missile such as the Atlas, to be blasted out beyond the earth's atmosphere.

Its pilot—perhaps a member of the X15 team—will begin a series of stairstep glides back into the atmosphere, to avoid burning up from air friction.

"We hope this will turn out to be the Strategic Air Command's bomber of the future," Col. Russell said. "It will be manned and to some degree controllable and extremely fast."

Benjamin Franklin used playing cards as insulation in the electrical friction machine which he built in 1731.

132 Boy Scouts Set for Agawam Camp Opening

ORION TOWNSHIP — Boy Scout Camp Agawam opens tomorrow with 132 boys registered for the first week, Camp Director Dale Daly reported today.

The camp, on Tommy's Lake near Lake Orion, is expected to be operating at near capacity for seven weeks of scout activities, the teaching of outdoor skills and training in group living.

Largest units on hand for the first week are troop 39 of the Elmwood Methodist Church and troop 41 of Walnut Lake School.

Daly said that registration for the summer season is close to the 1,000 mark, about 300 ahead of this time last year.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A sharp-eyed reader who recognized a face peering out from a newspaper photograph gave the FBI the tip Friday that led to the capture of one of the nation's 10 most-wanted criminals.

Betrayed by a balding head he hadn't disguised, Walter Bernard O'Donnell, 57-year-old master of masquerade, surrendered meekly to federal agents who trapped him in the corridor of a downtown hotel.

O'Donnell had been posing for four days as a U.S. postal inspector, and had been so convincing he had wangled an invitation to speak Friday night before the local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous.

He was wanted on a variety of charges in Pennsylvania, Michigan, California, Ohio, Florida, Illinois, New York and the District of Columbia.

The informant asked the FBI not to reveal his name.

O'Donnell was held on $25,000 bond. He was wanted specifically for robbing a woman in Philadelphia after giving her sleeping pills. Agents said he made a habit of giving sleeping potions to feminine robbery victims after posing as a doctor.

4 Juveniles Wreck Easy Loan Setup

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — "There is no legacy like honesty," the sign said.

Below it, on the bulletin board of Pan American College here, were tacked dollar bills. A student needing a small loan could take a bill or two, with the understanding it would be repaid as soon as possible.

It all worked fine, officials said, until four nonstudent juveniles dropped in. They cleaned off the board — $27 worth — with no plans for repayment.

Juvenile officers picked up the quartet and turned them over to their parents. Police didn't say how much money was recovered.

Hollywood Headlines

Sentiment Coaxes Lauren Into 'Goodbye Charlie'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—There's a sentimental angle to Lauren Bacall's decision to star in "Goodbye Charlie," George Axelrod's new comedy which Leland Hayward is bringing to Broadway.

It was Mrs. Hayward (then Mrs. Howard Hawks) who brought the magazine picture of Betty when she was a fashion model, to the attention of Howard Hawks.

Howard cast her opposite Humphrey Bogart in "To Have and Have Not" in which Bacall spoke the memorable line, "If you want me, just whistle."

That was the beginning of the love story of Bogart and Betty. With her two children she arrives in the U.S. from England late in August and starts rehearsals early in September.

The play opens in December after a road tour of eight weeks.

With the "7th Voyage of Sinbad," which cost peanuts, already piling up $6,000,000 for Columbia you hardly need an IBM machine to realize why the same star, Kerwin Mathews, and the same producer, Charlie Schneer, are teaming up for another storybook fling, "Gulliver's Travels."

The Jonathan Swift classic starts in Spain on July 19 with Kerwin as Gulliver. Like Gulliver, young Mathews is a bit of a travelin' man, himself.

Just back from Berlin where he made "Man on a String" with Ernie Borgnine, his new assignment takes Kerwin to London as well as madrid.

And, of course, it's a repeat visit to Spain as "Sinbad" was shot there last year.

With nine solid months of work in Hollywood ahead of her, Jean Simmons is giving up ranch life in New Mexico.

She and Stewart Granger are renting Pier Angeli's house while Jean finishes "Spartacus," gets ready for "Elmer Gantry" (starts Aug. 1) and then "Summer and Smoke" for Hal Wallis.

Jean is very excited about playing the woman evangelist in "Gantry." She said, "Billy Graham is in Euprope now, but when he returns to this country I'm going to fly to wherever he preaches to get pointers."

Meanwhile she's visiting Angelus Temple, the home of the late Aimee Semple McPherson, for the same reason.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Poor Gary Crosby opened with his brothers in their nightclub debut in Phoenix with a face swollen up the size of the moon from dental work—but he saw it through.

Harry Brand, that well-loved head of 20th Century-Fox publicity on the coast, is off on that well-earned vacation to Europe. Just what we newspaper people will do without his genial telephone calls I don't know. He'll be missed—but we all want him to have fun.

Ingrid's Daughter to Visit Mother in Europe Soon

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The 20-year-old daughter of Ingrid Bergman will visit her actress mother in Europe this summer, it was disclosed yesterday.

Jenny Ann Lindstrom, who will be a senior at Mills College next fall, was granted approval today ot spend $850 from her $24,000 guardianship estate for the trip to Europe.

Dr. Peter Lindstrom, Salt Lake City, Utah, father of the girl and first husband of Miss Bergman, petitioned Superior Judge Kenneth N. Chantry for the authorization. The estate consists of gifts from the girl's parents.

Dr. Lindstrom estimated the total cost of the Europe visit at $700. However, he said he would pay the remainder of the expense.

Miss Bergman, accompanied by husband Lars Schmidt, visited Hollywood in April for the first time since 1950.

She spent considerable time with her daughter during the stay in California, but told newsmen she still planned to make her home in Europe.

Miss Lindstrom, who will be 21 on Sept. 20, also received approval for expenditure of $1,750 in tuition for her final year in the Northern California college.

Vanderbilt-Stokowski Custody Hearing Ends

NEW YORK (AP)—Closed hearings ended Friday in the child custody battle between Gloria Vanderbilt and her former husband, conductor Leopold Stokowski.

State Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Nathan Jr., did not indicate when he would hand down a decision.

Stokowski sought to increase his custodial rights to the children, Stan, 8, and Chris, 7. His former wife, now Mrs. Sidney Lumet, sought to curtail them.

Veal, Thursday's Goat Becomes Tigers' Friday Hero in 11th

Inman's Single Brings Winning Run in Triumph

Even Killebrew's Homer Not Enough as Detroit Gains 6-4 Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — The skinny kid with the improbable name of Orville Inman (Coot) Veal said: "It felt just like someone lifted a piano off my back."

The Detroit Tiger handyman, the good-field, no-hit type, was accepting congratulations for his game-winning hit in the 11th inning last night. It lifted the Tigers to a 6-4 triumph over the Washington Senators.

Veal, who is on a major league roster only because of his glove work, blooped a one-out single into right field. It was only his third hit of the season in just his fifth time at bat, despite the fact he has appeared in 26 games.

Just a day earlier, the 26-year-old from Sandersville, Ga., was crying in the Detroit clubhouse. It was his two-out error that opened the way for a ninth inning Baltimore rally that led to a Tiger defeat.

Instead, they maintained 4th place, only 1½ games off the lead.

Manager Jimmie Dykes huddled quietly with Veal after the Baltimore setback. "Get your head out of the sand," Dykes told him. "An error is part of the game. Don't worry about it. It's all over and done with. Tomorrow's another day."

Veal admitted Dykes' words gave him quite a lift. "I was pretty low; because I messed up an easy grounder and lost a ball game," he said. "But winning a game with a base hit—well, that's something that doesn't happen to me very often. Matter of fact, I can't remember the last time I won a game with my bat.

"Heck, it must have happened sometime before though. I've been in baseball for eight seasons."

Barney Schultz was the winning pitcher, and his big league victories have been about as infrequent as Veal's clutch hits. The knuckle-balling righthander who had pitched only two innings since he joined the club from Charleston worked three hitless innings.

His only other big league victory came in 1955 with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Schultz relieved starter Paul Foytack, who settled down after he was damaged by first-inning home runs. Faye Throneberry hit a lead off homer and Harmon Killebrew added his 24th with a mate aboard. The Senators added their final run in the third.

Harvey Kuenn drove in a first inning run for Detroit and Lou Berberet doubled in two more in the sixth. Detroit tied it in the ninth with some assistance from ex-teammates Reno Bertoia and Ron Samford.

Samford was slow in fielding a potential game-ending double play grounder by Gus Zernial. Then Bertoia was slow in getting off the relay to first base. As a consequence, the slow-footed Zernial was safe at first and the tying run scored.

The Tigers got their deciding runs against Chuck Stobbs who pitched two relief innings after Russ Kemmerer went the first nine. Schultz started the rally with a single. He was tagged out at the plate after first baseman Roy Sievers threw away Frank Bolling's sacrifice bunt. Bolling got all the way to third base on the play. Veal singled him home. A single by Eddie Yost sent Veal to third and he scored on a sacrifice.

Season for Bass Fishing Starts in Trout Lakes

Normal Opening Seen by Deputy Director of Conservation

LANSING (UPI) — Many Michigan fishermen were up at the crack of dawn today and even earlier, to get in the first licks at the bass fishing season.

The season, which started at midnight last night, continues until September 13 in trout lakes and streams and Dec. 31 on all other lakes and streams.

A. B. Cook, deputy director of the conservation department's fish division, said the one hopeful sign for the season was that lake levels were on the way up. Low conditions are not good for bass fishing, he said, and a normal spring resulted in normal spawning.

"There is every indication there will be a normal opening," Cook said, "although local conditions can enter the picture and change everything. It may be a dangerous prophesy."

The minimum size limit is 10 inches and the daily limit is five.

The largemouth bass is found in shallow, weedy and mud bottom lakes and quiet rivers. The smallmouth version comes in larger lakes with open shoals and gravel or boulder bottoms as well as in the larger, fast-current non-trout rivers and along rocky shores of the Great Lakes.

Harvard Wins, 'M' 4th in College Dinghy Race

CRANSTON, R. I. (AP)—Harvard fought off a Boston University challenge and won the National Intercollegiate Dinghy Championships yesterday.

Princeton was third with 164, followed by Michigan 141, Columbia 115, Indiana 107 and Occidental 105.

After Today, Johansson Plans Nothing but Rest

NEW YORK (AP)—After today's final workout Ingemar Johansson will do nothing but rest, walk, golf and "let the strength flow into my body."

This camp with its "mystery right" is beginning to sound like Lou Nova in the old Yoga days.

"I was not really good," said the unbeaten Swede yesterday after a seven-round boxing drill for Thursday's heavyweight title fight with Floyd Patterson. "I think I need a rest now. If I do too much I will over train. Today I did not do so much."

Because Johansson's training methods differ from the American style, it does not necessarily follow that they are wrong. Edwin Ahlquist, the Swedish promoter who is Ingemar's "adviser," thinks the challenger is "just about right."

"You will see a new champion of the world Thursday night," said Ahlquist. His right will be there. I know Ingemar better than anybody else. He is better now than he was before the Eddie Machen fight, a one-round knockout victory. "He is trained to go 15 rounds at top speed.

"You Americans think a boxer should work right up to fight time. That is all wrong. Runners who break records rest before they race. A boxer needs a long rest before a fight to loosen up."

"Maybe you will see the right in his last workout. He won't have to worry about using his sparring partners anymore after that will he?"

Johansson's sparring partners have been having a gay time. Not one of them hit the deck in previous drills. Nobody was hurt. Ingemar concentrated on his left jab and defense. Occasionally he gets down low when he spars with his brother, Rolf, but usually he stands up straight, jabbing with his left and holding his right high.

A camp visitor yesterday was Joe Baksi, the hulking ex-heavy from Kulpmont, Pa. who "blew" a title shot with Joe Louis by losing in Sweden to Olle Tandberg in 1947. Big Joe wasn't much impressed by Johansson.

"When he throws that jab, he holds his right high," said Baksi. "What a good hook to the body would to to him. If he presses Patterson we may see a new and better Patterson than we ever saw before."

When it was all over, Baksi said:

"If this guy wins the title, I'm going to get in shape and make a comeback."

Dearborn Prepster Signs With Redlegs

DETROIT (UPI) — The Cincinnati Redlegs have signed a 17-year-old schoolboy to a three-year contract in excess of $50,000.

Marvin Fodor, a righthander from Fordson High School in Dearborn, will report immediately to Cincinnati's farm club at Seattle in the Pacific Coast League.

Fodor rolled up a 0.39 earned run and struck out 99 in 54 innings this year. He was sought by nine other Major League clubs.

Newcomer Helps Beat Indians, 3-2

Yanks Back in Business

By The Associated Press

The old Yankees are back in business, with the help of a newcomer who was a long time coming.

Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra, two guys you think of quick at mention of New York's champions, had the clutch hits last night as the Yankees, still fifth, closed within 2½ games of the top with a 3-2 victory over Cleveland's American League leading Indians.

But it was Jim Coates, a right-hander who spent seven years in the Minors, who put it away. The big rookie, 26, nailed the opener of a four-game series with one hit pitching for 3 1-3 shutout innings in relief of injured Whitey Ford.

Coates came on after Ford, who blanked the Indians on four hits for four innings, gave way because of a sprained ankle in a tying two run sixth.

That rally ended with Minnie Minoso's thwarted theft of home and the Indians lost their second in a row after winning seven straight. They now have only a one-game lead over the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles, who are in a virtual tie for second.

The White Sox, idled by rain at Boston, have a .001 percentage point edge over the Orioles, who swept a twi-night pair from Kansas City 8-2 and 2-0.

The Yankees, only .042 points behind Cleveland, scored the clincher with an unearned run on Bauer's two-out single in the sixth. Bobby Richardson raced home with the run that put them two games over .500 for the first time since April 23 after leading off with an infield single and reaching second on shortstop Woody Held's second error of the year.

Berra, whose tag on Minoso in a close play set off a rhubarb between the Injuns and umpire Charley Berry, collected his 1,200th RBI with a two-out single for the first of two runs in the fifth.

The Orioles, winning four straight for the first time in more than a month, put away the sweep on a joint shutout by Skinny Brown and Billy Loes backed by Gus Triandos' 17th homer—the 100th of his career—and Bob Boyd's RBI single. Brown (4-2) gave up five of the A's seven hits in the last two innings. Loes saved it by retiring pinch-hitter Ray Boone on a fly with the bases-loaded in the ninth.

Gene Woodling and Billy Gardner each homered and drove in three runs for Baltimore in the opener. Billy O'Dell (3-6) won it, allowing only four hits, one Jerry Lumpe's first home run. Johnny Kucks (1-4) and Rip Coleman (2-5) were the losers for the A's, who have dropped seven straight.

American Drivers Favored

LE MANS, France (AP) American drivers and Italian Ferraris were established as firm favorites in the punishing Le Mans 24 hour sports car endurance race, which got underway today.

The dark horse was the British Aston Martin team headed by Stirling Moss.

But America's Phil Hill and Dan Gurney in Ferraris were clear favorites.

Hill, of Los Angeles last year's winner, was again teamed with Olivier Gendebien of Belgium. Gurney of Riverside, Calif., who set the fastest trial time, was teamed with French champion Jean Behra.

The countryside of Le Mans was overflowing with race fans, foreign tourists and the just plain curious who were expected to swell to 300,000 during the race.

The fast, exacting and punishing 8.36 miles asphalt road track was blocked off early and officials scanned each smooth surface inch for flaws. New straw barriers were up and warning lights installed to help avert any repetition of the 1955 accident which killed 90 people.

Among the drivers, this race is generally regarded as the toughest and most coveted of them all. In distance, it equals five Indianapolis 500s.

Flesher, Shell Combine for Five-Hit Shutout

Arlo Flesher and Dick Shell combined their pitching talents for a five-hit shutout last night as Spencer Floor Covering defeated Drayton Drug 5-0 in a Waterford League softball game at Drayton Plains. Shell hurled the last two innings after Flesher injured his ankle.

Spencer scored all of its runs in the 3rd inning on four hits and three Drug errors. Jim Wheatley and Dennis Alden each made two safeties to lead Spencer's nine-hit attack off Bill Goulet.

Aussie Crampton's 135 Heads Canadian Open

MONTREAL (AP) — In three summers on the American golf tour, Bruce Crampton generally has been down under—and that doesn't mean back home in Australia. Now that he's finding his putting touch he may get up toward the top in golf tournaments.

Crampton, a good-looking 23-year-old Australian, led the way into the third round of the Canadian Open today. His two-day total of 135, nine under par for the Islesmere course, left him with only a one-stroke margin over three top pros from the United States.

But whether or not he wins, Crampton is a good bet for the highest spot he has held in any tournament on the tour this year. Coming to America for the Masters last spring, Bruce hasn't played better than 15th—that was at Oklahoma City. His winnings have been only about $1,000.

"I was putting quite well today and I was driving well," Crampton said after shooting a nifty 67 to take the tournament lead.

He holed a 12-foot putt for a birdie at the fourth hole and a 5-footer for another at the ninth and barely missed a 7-footer for an eagle at the 505-yard 12th.

One stroke back at 136 as the 100 survivors went into the third round were money-man Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., PGA champion Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and rotund Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif.

Wall, winner of three tournaments and nearly $35,000 this year, sprained an ankle slightly yesterday when he caught his foot on a hidden water plug. He said it didn't bother him. Two weeks ago a sprain forced him out of the Eastern Open at Baltimore.

Very much in the running with 137s were Doug Ford and Jay Hebert while Billy Maxwell, Don Fairfield and Walker Inman Jr., had 138s.

Al Balding of Markham, Ont., the first day leader, shot a second-round 75 for 141 while the new U.S. Open champion, Billy Casper, was back at 143 after a second round 69.

Balding had a double bogey seven at the 16th hole — where three of the day's seven eagles were scored.

Michigan PGA Takes Two-Day Spotlight

State Tourney Slated Monday, Trials Tuesday

By BILL CORNWELL

The Michigan Section of the Professional Golfers Association grabs the state golfing spotlight for two consecutive days early next week with tricky Lakepointe Country Club as the host on each occasion.

A total of 77 professionals, including defending champion John Barnum of Grand Rapids, will compete in the 36-hole Michigan PGA golf tournament Monday.

Most of this same field — 52 pros, to be exact—will remain at Lakepointe on Tuesday to enter the 36-hole sectional qualifiers for the National PGA tourney.

Barnum, the long-hitting pro from Blythefield CC, will be everyone's target in the State PGA event over the par 35-35—70 Lakepointe course.

"Big John" swept Michigan's major honors last year, winning both the PGA and Open crowns, and he will be gunning for his 3rd straight PGA title Monday.

Two years ago he won the PGA crown at Birmingham CC by defeating host pro Ray Maguire in a sudden-death playoff and last year he gobbled up the title again at Midland.

Pontiac's Gene Bone will be making his first start in the State PGA and the youthful Warwick Hills pro also will be on the firing line Tuesday in the sectional qualifying trials.

Frank Wilson, Pontiac Country Club pro, will make one of his rare tournament appearances Monday in the state test, but "Red" will skip the qualifying rounds.

As usual, Barnum's strongest competition in the PGA tourney is expected to come from Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills and Meadowbrook's Chick Harbert.

The Michigan Section will send at least nine and possibly 10 players to the National PGA test.

Burkemo and Harbert are exempt from the qualifiers since they are former National PGA titleholders while Barnum and Bob Gajda of Forest Lake also are exempt by virtue of their high finishes in the 1958 national event.

Monday's winner in the Michigan PGA will automatically qualify for the national tournament. If someone besides Barnum wins the title Monday, five national berths will be at stake in the trials. If Barnum repeats, six places will be available.

Twenty-five pros will be present at Lakepointe Sunday for an 18-hole pro-member tourney to make it a three-day golfing whirl.

Giants Take Lead in NL

By the Associated Press

If you think Sam Jones is the hero of the hour now that San Francisco has shoved Milwaukee's Braves out of the National League lead, forget it. Sad Sam is the Giants' hero of the month.

It took Jackie Brandt's two-run single in the bottom of the 10th to put the Giants .006 percentage points and a half-game ahead with a 4-3 victory over the Braves last night, but it figures as the least they could do for Jones.

The big right-hander had given up two runs and five hits in the first three innings—then allowed only three hits the rest of the way. Two of those came in the 10th and two were by Billy Bruton, whose fifth homer gave Milwaukee a 3-2 edge in the top of the 10th.

Then the Giants got busy, chasing Bob Buhl and ending Milwaukee's first-place stay that had begun May 13.

Ironically, it was Jones who was the loser when the Giants fell from first place May 5. And it was Jones who was beaten 4-2 by Milwaukee May 18, the day before the Braves took a 4½-game lead over the Giants.

Since then, a month to the day, the Giants have won 19—and Sad Sam has figured in more than a third of those victories. Now 8-6, Jones has won five of six decisions in that span and has added two saves in relief, having a hand in seven of the 19 victories in the Giants' comeback.

While the Giants and Milwaukee were having at it in the opener of a three-game set at San Francisco, third-place Pittsburgh closed within two games of the top with a 6-0 victory over St. Louis. Angeles rapped Cincinnati 6-2, and Philadelphia defeated Chicago's Cubs 8-7.

The Giants, who tied it 2-all on Jim Davenport's single, a walk and two force outs in the fifth, put it away after Buhl (6-5) walked Willie Mays leading off the 10th. Orlando Cepeda's only hit, a single, sent Willie scampering to third and chased Buhl. Reliever Don McMahon then walked Daryl Spencer, loading the bases for Brandt's third single that brought San Francisco's largest crowd of the year—22,984—to its feet screaming.

Jones struck out nine and walked but three while gaining a 3-1 season record against the Braves. He was 1-3 against them last year with the Cards, who traded him to the Giants last winter.

The Giants, who had 11 hits, now have won three in a row, while the Braves have lost five of their last seven.

Vern Law (7-4) shut out the seventh-place Cardinals, who had won nine of 11, on four singles, two by Gino Cimoli. The Pirates, winning seven of their last nine, backed him with eight hits, including homers by Ramon Mejias and Dick Groat against rookie Dick Ricketts (0-2).

Duke Snider drove in four runs with a pair of homers, his seventh and eighth, for the Dodgers. His first, with two on, triggered a five-run first inning that handed Brooks Lawrence (3-8) his seventh defeat in a row. Roger Craig, a one-time Dodger star just back from the minors, was the winner. He walked but one, struck out six and allowed only five hits, two by Frank Thomas, who hit his fourth home run.

The Phils had homers from Harry Anderson and Ed Bouchee while building a 7-2 lead, but needed an unearned run in the seventh to nail it. Gene Conley (4-3) won it, but gave way to relief after Ernie Banks' two-run, 19th homer in the sixth inning. Rookie Bob Anderson (3-6) was the loser for the sixth time in his last seven decisions.

Jewelers Are Rapped Again

It appears that Shaw's Jewelers, once upon a time the kings of Class A City League baseball, are headed for a long and dismal season.

The Jewelers are still looking for their 1st victory of the season and yesterday they absorbed their 7th licking in a row, an 11-2 drubbing from the Pirates at Wisner Field.

Four Shaw pitchers—Ted Reaver, Ed Leonard, Terry Anderson and Herman Bishop—paraded to the mound and all were treated harshly by the Pirates, who clubbed 11 hits, three by John Lucadam and two each by John Wert and hurler Dick Covrea. Leonard was charged with the defeat.

Covrea worked the route for the Pirates and scattered five Shaw safeties while fanning six and walking two. Bishop nicked him for two singles.

Jones, Cawley Impressive in Defeat at AAU Finals

From Our Wire Services

Hayes Jones of Pontiac and Farmington's high school sensation Warren Cawley turned in standout performance in defeat in the hurdles finals of the National AAU Track and Field championships at Boulder, Colo., yesterday.

Some 13 other finals are on tap there today to complete the annual meet.

Jones, a double winner in the NCAA finals lost out by the slimmest of margins to Lee Calhoun as both record times of 14 seconds in the 110 meter highs. Cawley ranked 5th in 14.5

Cawley drew considerable notice in the qualifying round for the 400 meter lows with the 2nd best time of 51.3. He ran 6th in the actual event in 51.9. New Mexico star Dick Howard won it in 50.7 beating out the famed Glenn Davis.

Yesterday's highlight was a meet record set by shotputter Parry O'Brien. He won his 7th AAU crown with a heave of 62 feet, 2¼ inches.

The big surprise of the day, Olympic star Bobby Morrow. He finished last in the 100 meter finals hampered somewhat by injuries. Bob had won that crown three of the last four years. He defends his 220 title today.

Ray Norton of San Jose State, who qualified in 10.4, won the 100 meters in 10.5 edging a teammate.

Temperatures were in the high 70s with 7 m.p.h. wind blowing intermittently for Friday's eight finals.

The pole vault and 1,500 meter run were among the features on tap today. World champ Bob Gutowski and eight others who have topped 15 feet will be out to better his vault record of 15 feet, 8¼ inches.

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Summaries of Friday's final events in the National AAU Track and Field Championships:

Hammer Throw — 1. Harold Connolly, Southern California Striders, 216 feet 10 inches. 2. John Lawlor, Boston AA, 208-½. 3. Bob Backus, New York AC, 197-3. 4. Al Hall, New York AC, 196-1½. 5. William McWilliams, U.S. Army, 185-10. 6. Stewart Thomson, New York AC, 181-56.

Shot Put—1. Parry O'Brien, Striders, 62 feet 2¼ inches. 2. Dave Davis, Striders, 60-4¾. 3. Dallas Long, Striders, 60-1¼. 4. Bill Nieder, Olympic Club, 60-¾. 5. Mike Lindsay, unattached, 58-2. 6. Charlie Butt, Striders, 57-11. (AAU record: old record 61-11, O'Brien, 1958).

High Jump — 1. Charlie Dumas, Striders, 6 feet 9 inches. 2. Errol Williams, Santa Clara Youth Village, 6-7 (awarded second because he had least number of misses). 3. Bob Gardner, New York AC, 6-7 (awarded third because he had last number of attempts). 4. Tie between Wayne Moss, unattached, and Dick Richardson, Chicago Track Club, 6-7 (tied because they were tied in all three categories — height cleared, misses and attempts). 6. Jerry Lane, unattached, 6-7 (awarded sixth because he trailed all others who cleared 6-7 in misses and attempts).

Dr. Adams Gets Golfing Rarity — Double Eagle

One of the rarest occurrences in golf—a double eagle—happened Friday at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Dr. F. M. Adams of Birmingham, club champion at Orchard Lake, knocked a five-iron shot into the cup on the 475-yard par five 9th hole for a double eagle two.

Dick Strictland of Bloomfield Hills, Adams' guest for the day and part of a foursome, sent his 2nd shot within five feet of the pin, but Adams' deuce apparently unnerved him and he missed his putt for an eagle three.

Completing the foursome were Dr. Robin Adair of Birmingham and Barney Tyler of Bloomfield Hills, also a guest at the club.

Green, Badger Oust Champs

The teenage tandem of Pete Green and Bud Badger pulled the first upset in the Red Run Invitational golf tournament yesterday by scoring a 1-up victory over defending champion Homer Van Hollenbeck and Dr. Albert LeCroix in the first round of match play.

Badger's putt dropped in the cup for a birdie three on the 20th hole to eliminate the 1958 titleholders. Green, a freshman at North Carolina, and Badger, a Michigan State freshman, were former high school golf stars at Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills, respectively.

FRIDAY'S RESULTS

George Linklater and Randall Ahern defeated Bob Whiting and Dick Whiting, 3-2.

TODAY'S PAIRINGS

New Champion Will Be Named in PYC Regatta

Because of a committment to sail in the Mills Trophy race at Toledo this weekend, Jim Schudel of Detroit, the 1958 champion of Pontiac Yacht Club's lightning invitational regatta, will leave the field today and Sunday wide open.

Fred Prince, PYC regatta general chairman, said, however, there was a number of outstanding skippers who can make the battle for a new champion really interesting.

They include Chuck Ellery of Detroit; Charles Grant of Crescent Yacht Club; Dick Dickman, Bayview Yacht Club; Jack Beal and Barney Crittenden of Devils Lake, Jackson; Jim Harrison, Gull Lake, Kalamazoo, and Herm Nickels (lightning builder), Lake Fenton.

Area Horses, Riders Win in Pointe Show

Winners included Blue Monday (Bob Egan) in lightweight working hunters, with Krys Glancy's Moonflight 3rd; green working hunters under saddle, Bantry Bay (Sue Foley); equitation, hunting Sally Sample of Northville and Jane Bugas, Bloomfield Hills 2nd and 3rd; lightweight hunters, Velvet Rose, Mrs. Robert Haass, Northville), and Jane Bugas, junior handy working hunters (Supreme Lady).

Sad Sack (Sue Wallace) was 2nd in FEI jumpers; Alison Cram, Birmingham, Sue Fisher, Bloomfield, 2nd and 3rd in equitation over fences; jumpers, ridden by amatuer Howard Miller (Rochester) 2nd with Flanigan; Sue Wallace and Jane Bugas 1st and 3rd in AHSA medal class.

MASTIC CARTRIDGE — This new quick-spread mastic cartridge container with 1-quart capacity allows both the professional and do-it-yourselfer to install up to 7 square feet of tile. Used with a pusher tube as shown above, the cartridge permits direct application to a wall. Mastic comes clean from the tube and leaves nothing on sides or edges to be thrown away, thus cutting down on cleanup time. If not completely utilized, the cap can be replaced on the tube for future use. The new mastic cartridge is being introduced by the Vikon Tile Corporation, Washington, N.J.

Complete instructions on use and method of application for three types of mastic are carried on the Vikon cartridge label. The new Vikon mastic tube can be purchased from any local tile dealer.

Types of Insulation Board Are Listed

Insulation board, a versatile building and remodeling material, is made in seven forms.

It's used in construction of buildings ranging in size from one-family houses to factories and sky scrapers.

The seven types of insulation board are:

CEILING TILE. These decorative squares and rectangles are available with smooth surfaces, and with sound absorbing perforations or fissures. You can apply the tiles yourself with adhesives, nails or staples.

ROOF DECK SLAB. These panels simplify roof construction for a home with an exposed beam ceiling. They provide the roof deck, finished ceiling and insulation in one product. Like the insulation board tile, roof deck slab is available with either a smooth or sound-absorbing surface on the side used for the ceiling.

BUILDING BOARD. This general purpose insulation board is normally supplied in ½ inch thick square-edged sheets that are 4 feet wide and 6 to 12 feet long. It makes an interior decorative finish for walls and ceilings.

PLANK. This material is similar to insulating building board, except that it's made in narrower widths — 8, 10, 12 and 16 inches — and is available with specially fabricated edges which permit concealment of the staples or nails used in fastening it. All planks are factory prefinished in a variety of colors.

SHEATHING. It is designed for use as a wall sheathing in frame construction. It may be integrally treated, impregnated or coated for additional water resistance so that it can be used without building paper in many cities. Sheathing is covered by such exterior facings as wood siding, wood shingeles, asbesfos cement siding, brick veneer or stucco.

ROOF INSULATION BOARD. This type of board is particularly suitable for flat roofs. It is covered with built-up roofing (pitch, felt and gravel, for example), and is applied over all types of roof decks.

SHINGLE BACKER. An undercourse, or "layer," beneath wood or asbestos iement shingles, it adds an attractive depth to the shadow line of the siding. It helps build strong, tight walls, insulates and helps reduce sound transmission.

Make It Dog Proof

Does your dog scratch at the kitchen door when it wants to go out? You can protect the wood en surface by covering it with a sheet of tempered hard board that is wear-resistant to canine toe nails.

Dining Deck Fills the Bill

With every passing year, more and more Americans discover the delights of outdoor cookery and eating. There are many, in fact, who claim that the best seasoning for any dish is good, fresh air.

Architects suggest that families with a bent towards picnicking in their own back yards should have an alfresco dining room, one which can literally replace its indoor sister three meals a day during summer months.

After putting down a good dining room floor of Douglas fir 2x4s — which should be spaced a quarter inch apart for water drainage and supported on framework to keep it free of the ground — architects say the next most important thing needed is weather control.

In particular, some type of sunshade is necessary, for really hot, direct sunlight is never a welcome guest at the feast. A simple, but effective canopy can be made with easy post and beam construction. Posts should be 4x4 inch Douglas fir, and beams can be 2x6s.

It isn't necessary to have solid roofing over this area; 1x6 inch louvers or an eggerate pattern crowned with wisteria make attractive, shade-giving parasols.

If there's a problem with wiley breezes snitching napkins off laps, windbreaks are in order to weatherproof the dining deck completely. Interesting windscreens can be built with gayly colored plastic panels set in a stout framework of Douglas fir.

The decking and sunshade can be left unstained to weather to a pleasing silvery shade.

Takes Time and Thought, Little Cost to Cool House

There is not too much cost involved in transforming your house into a cool haven for summer enjoyment. All you need is the desire and know-how. One ingenious young housewife has spray-painted all of her rooms in fresh delicate colors. She has fashioned, with her own hands, draw curtains from window top to baseboard in theatrical gauze, either in matching tones or white.

Chairs and ofas have new slipcovers in pale inexpensive cottons. In one room painted pale blue, she has used unbleached muslin, with delightful results.

British railways clear tracks of snow by compressed air which vaporizes the snow as well as removing it.

It Costs Less to Go First Class

The result is a trend away from quantity to quality housing.

"Builders are building truly quality homes, not 'quality-type'—that's a gimmicky catchall phrase that means nothing," says G. P. Oldham, vice-president of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division.

"The 1959 homebuyer can afford to be more selective than ever before, and builders are responding by using more durable materials than in the past," reported Oldham recently on his return from a swing around the housing circuit.

Today's buyer, for example, hears that rock wool insulation properly installed in a 1200-square-foot house will cost only $100 more than the cheapest insulation the FHA will approve, yet will save the homeowner $100 in fuel bills in three years. Obviously, a prospective buyer knowing this is going to ask some further questions about insulation.

"Another buyer may be aware that it costs no more, labor-wise, to apply a heavyweight shingle than the standard weight, and yet the heavy one may last half-again as long. The prospective buyer sees the long-range savings in the utilization of such materials and looks for their use.

"Builders are only too happy to comply when they know buyers prefer quality homes, and will design them accordingly," says Oldham. "Figures show that more than 23 million families can afford to pay $12,500 or more for a home, and more than 11 million can pay tag," concludes Oldham. "You can find it in a $9,000 home or a $90,000 castle."

"Actually quality has no price more than $17,500.

Better Quality, Too

The median-priced home in 1959 will be $14,976, according to a first-quarter study made by Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. This represents a 4 per cent rise over last year, but the 1959 shopper is likely to find a greater number of quality building materials such as asphalt shingles and fire-resistant gypsum board in this year's new homes.

Canada's total area is three per cent greater than that of the U. S. including the two newest states.

Your Neighbor's House

Architect's Bingham Farms Home a Bi-Level Brick Building

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When an architect designs his own house, we expect him to put into it all the pet ideas he has accumulated through the years. We didn't ask Neil Warren of Bingham Farms if that is what he did. We just admired his house.

The Warrens have two acres with a tiny stream cutting diagonally across their back meadow. All the homes in this area are on large lots and everyone has a view. An enormous walnut tree in the Warrens' back yard is one beauty spot. Across the creek there is a red house which lends color to the landscape.

Colored glass panels beside the front door tint the sun as it comes in. The floor is slate. At one side is a wrought iron bench with yellow cushions. Extending out from the living room wall is a cabinet which houses the television set. It can be serviced from the hall side. Mrs. Warren uses the top of this cabinet for interesting floral arrangements and a couple of ceramic ducks.

At the left is the kitchen. It is a bright room, but never too sunny or hot in summer. The special slanted overhang of the roof takes care of that.

All cabinets are pale yellow. One has a pull down door that opens to reveal a little planning desk. Wall oven, double sink and counter top range are all steel. Counter tops are gray linen weave Formica.

The peninsula counter containing the stove separates the working and eating areas. A round steel table with plastic top resembling wood is used for informal meals. Chairs are coral fibreglas.

Woodwork here and throughout the house is natural finished birch which has a reddish tone. This color deepens as the wood ages. Curtains in the kitchen are two shades of gray.

There is a pass-through in the wall between kitchen and dining room. This is closed with sliding birch doors. Drawers on the dining room side are lined with cloth to prevent silver from tarnishing. There are cupboards below with shallow sliding shelves for linens. Shelves above hold china.

The end wall in the dining room is pink brick. Mrs. Warren who has one of the greenest thumbs we have ever encountered has nursed along a leafy plant so well that it now hits the ceiling.

The rectangular dining room table is a Widdicomb design in bleached mahogany. The chairs are upholstered in beige. There is a pole lamp against the brick wall.

A white leather folding door can be used to shut off the dining room. There is a door to the screened in porch opposite it.

Carpeting in this living area is cream. Draperies at the two picture windows are floor length. Cream colored, they have a mesh weave. Walls are white.

Above the television cabinet we have already mentioned are open book shelves. Next to it is blonde spinet piano. Between the hallway and the living room there are birch louvers which close off space but not light and air.

The pink brick fireplace has a planter at one side next to the stairs. It is a low fireplace with a wide expanse of white wall above it. The slate hearth is an extension of the hall floor. At this end the carpeting and slate meet on the diagonal.

The sofa is a rosy coral. One arm chair and ottoman is rose beige. Near the bookcase is a brown barrel chair and next to the piano a gold arm chair. But our favorite is the upholstered chair near the sofa. It has a black frame and striped upholstery in pink, blue, brown and tan.

There is another small room on this level, the study. Here Mr. Warren has his drawing board and Mrs. Warren her desk.

The floor is cork. Walls are white. Curtains also are white with a design in emerald and royal blue. The corner desk and the woven seat of a birch chair are red. On the window sill there are red geraniums. You see these red geraniums all over the house. They're nice.

Blue carpeting covers the shallow flight of stairs to the bedroom level. It is continued in the hallway and both bedrooms.

In the guest room twin beds are placed against a corner table. Walls and curtains are white. The beds have gray spreads and bright throw pillows. A mirror above one of the book cases makes it usable as a guest dresser. There are sliding door closets. Also more red geraniums.

Three fragile glass ornaments swing in the breeze above the picture window in the master bedroom. They were bought as Christmas tree ornaments, Mrs. Warren says, but were so lovely and matched the room so well she has never taken them down.

This is a blue room with an attached bath also done in blue. Furniture is oak. The white draperies are printed in blue and aqua diamonds. The wide headboard of the bed has storage shelves with sliding doors.

On the lowest level of the Warren house there is a large room used for sewing, for meetings and occasionally for ping pong. This room has sliding doors opening onto the back patio.

The exterior of the Warren home is pink brick and redwood. Norman McColl and Sons of Detroit did the building.

BLUE BEDROOM — The master bedroom is done in a serene and cool color scheme of blue and white. Furniture is oak. Carpeting and spread are blue. The curtains are printed with diamonds in shades of blue and aqua. The attached bath is also blue.

Pontiac Press Photos by Tom Gerls

FOLDING PARTITION — The dining room end of this room can be closed off by a white leather folding door. It is housed in the small closet just beyond the piano. Walls and draperies in this room are cream color. The woodwork is natural finished birch. That brick wall at the end and the porch wall beyond are pink to match the exterior of the house. Dining room chairs are beige; the arm chair is gold, and the sofa a rosy coral.

COUNTER SEPARATES — The counter housing the range separates the work area in the kitchen from the eating area. Cabinets are all pale yellow. The table at the left is plastic topped. Chairs are coral fibreglas. Red geraniums grow in these windows as they do throughout the house. The curtains have an oval design in two shades of gray.

Write for Booklet to Get Right Idea

If you had difficulty painting asbestos-cement surfaces, maybe you are using the wrong system. There is a free booklet that will help you. It has been prepared by the Asbestos-Cement Products Association and the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association.

The booklet gives the composition of asbestos-cement products, and answers every conceivable question on painting problems. It also tells comprehensively the care, treatment and uses to which such products are adapted.

Send your name and address and your request for the booklet, "Painting Asbestos Cement Products," to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W., Washington 5, D.C.

Tips to Homeowners

Is Sound Conditioning the Answer?

Put sound-absorbing tiles on the ceiling and you'll solve many of the noise problems in your house.

But there are other steps you can take to do a proper job of indoor sound-conditioning, advises the Insulating Board Institute.

USE DRAPERIES

Use draperies and full-size carpets wherever your budget allows. Sound bounces off hard-surfaced walls and floors; the soft surfaces of rugs and drapes soak up sound much like perforated insulation board tiles do.

Put rubber pads or caster cups under chair and table legs to stop scraping noises as well as to save wear and tear on the floor surface.

Set refrigerators, washers and other mechanical appliances on mountings of rubber, cork or similar material that will absorb the vibration and reduce mechanical noises.

SILENT SWITCHES

Install the silent type light switches.

Replace worn faucet washers to stop the annoyance of dripping water.

Be sure that doors fit snugly. Solid core flush doors admit less sound than hollow core or panel doors. Weather stripping will add to the barrier against transmission of sound—even inside the house.

If you are building a house, locate the bedrooms as far away as possible from the living-play space. They should be on the side of the house away from the traffic noise. A study should not be an alcove off the living room, but a completely separate space with door.

To prevent party noises in a basement recreation room from penetrating to the living room overhead, cover the exposed floor joists with a heavy, impervious material like ½-inch insulation board, then apply sound-absorbing tile to it.

Wood Grain Patterns Have Unusual Names

Some of the rarest and most beautiful wood grain patterns are found in genuine mahogany. Not only are the figures unusual, but their names as well.

Mahogany monickers of rare grain patterns are colorful as well as descriptive. For example: plum pudding, blister, burning bush crotch, and bee's wing mottle, are a few of the names of rare mahogany grain patterns.

ON TOP OF THE HILL — The Waterford Hill House of '59 opens for public inspection today. It will be open daily afternoons. Built on Balmoral Terrace, on top of Waterford Hill, the house is a four-level model with swimming pool. It contains a two-car garage, two baths, two kitchens and three bedrooms. Turquoise sailcloth panels enclose the 24 by 42 foot swimming pool and redwood deck. You can enter this house on three levels. Carlo Construction Company did the building. White Brothers of Waterford are handling the sales. This is the deluxe model of the home and sells for $40,300. Other models start at $27,900.

Well-Built Frame House Needn't Decay

"A good, dry, well-built frame house is in practically no danger from decay if just a few normal precautions are taken."

These precautions are:

(1) Build on a well-drained site.

(2) Use only well-seasoned (dry) lumber.

(3) Do not allow the selected material to lie on the ground after it has been delivered to the job.

(4) Avoid construction that allows moisture to accumulate in joints or pockets.

(5) Do not allow untreated lumber to come in contact with the soil or with foundations or walls that are liable to be damp.

Ask Your Dealer

By inquiring at your paint dealers, you can discover all types of materials that aid in better maintenance in the home. For example, there are combinations of woodstain and lacquer in a pressurized container for re-finishing and touching up old finishes. These coatings are available in brown and red mahogany, brown and red maple, blonde and other shades.

According to the Southern Pine Association, more than 99 per cent of all new homes have a wood roof structure. There are four principle types; conventional joist-rafter, trussed rafter, standard plank and beam, and roof decking with glued laminated timbers for support. All types use standard grades of Southern Pine lumber.

THE SILCONITE WATER SHIELD 'A' STORY

WHAT IS IT?

Siliconite is a clear fluid penetrating the surface and covering the minute pores of the masonry with defense in depth against water. However the pores themselves are not blocked, and the wall or other surfaces can breathe. Siliconite can be brushed or sprayed, used properly, one coat will last for at least ten years.

WHERE IS SILICONITE USED?

Stucco, porous concrete block, marbles (many kinds), asbestos shingles, perma stone, brick walls, porches, steps, sills, precast stone. And many other material types.

Who Ever Has Enough Closets

The problem of storing clothing, accessories and other household items is as old as mankind, according to a new booklet on closet care and problems which was published in New York recently.

Entitled "You and Your Closets," the booklet is the result of an extensive study on closet care and problems conducted by Stuart M. Lerner Inc. among more than 2,000 home furnishing editors of newspapers, magazines and radio and television stations in the United States.

Typical comments received from the home furnishing editors and reproduced in the booklet include:

"One side of closets should have shelves underneath for blouses and skirts and there should be plenty of space for shoes . . ."

"Rods higher from the floor, leaving more room for shoe racks . . ."

"A planned closet, not just a hole in the wall . . ."

The booklet points out that although greater attention is being given to providing adequate storage space in the design of the modern dwelling, untold millions of families are still saddled with the old fashioned and cluttered closets.

Helpful tips for closet care and planning offered by the booklet include:

In building your home, talk to architect and builder about making certain that all present and future needs for closet space are anticipated.

Make certain that careful thought is given to the closets in the children's room, being sure that everything the child needs is within reach.

Built-in shelves and drawers can be a convenient way of affording needed space for personal articles and other household items.

It's a good idea to outfit closets with plastic hangers. There are many specialized designs which have been especially created to properly hang every type of garment.

The public may obtain free copies of the booklet "You and Your Closets," from Stuart M. Lerner, Inc., 855 Sixth Ave., New York 1, N.Y.

With today's paints only one gallon of paint per coat is needed to paint one average small room. If the walls are smooth and in good condition this is all that's required for a beautiful new room setting.

New Air Conditioner Resists Rust, Salt

DAYTON, Ohio — Remarkable new rust and corrosion-resistant room air conditioners—the first ever designed especially for seaside areas where saltwater spray and moist salt air constantly ravage metal parts—are being introduced by Frigidaire division of General Motors.

Announcement of the new products was made by Herman F. Lehman, GM vice president and Frigidaire's general manager, at company headquarters in Dayton, Ohio.

The new units, called "Saltaire Tuffy" models, were previewed recently in Florida at Miami, West Palm Beach and Daytona Beach where they were enthusiastically received by dealers and hotel and motel operators. This area was selected for the national preview because of the high concentration of units in the area and the severe salt air conditions under which air conditioners must operate.

Mr. Lehman stressed that the two new units are constructed entirely of rust-protected and corrosion-resistant materials which provide longer life and reduce maintenance costs.

He explained that all parts exposed to the weather are made of anti-rust Monel metal, red brass, aluminum, stainless steel or galvanized steel. Even the sealed-in-steel Super Meter-Miser compressor, which provides cooling, is weather-proofed by a protective Hydrolene coating.

"These new room units are designed to last as long and perform as well in beachfront operation as conventional units do in the Midwest where salt air is not a problem," Lehman declared.

Both of the unique new models have a cooling capacity rating 10,100 BTUs per hour. One, an "All-Seasons" model, also has a heating capacity of 8,700 BTUs per hour. Both units feature 2-speed fans, air directional controls and provisions for fresh air intake and room air exhaust.

Frigidaire engineers, who developed the first room unit over 30 years ago, have been responsible for a remarkable progression of advancements in the air conditioning field. Another recent development is a dry-cooling system for room air conditioners which provides extra capacity for dehumidifying a room as well as cooling it. Some of these other new models can remove up to three barrels of water from the air in a single week.

Produce Sheets of Ceramic Tile

The ceramic tile manufacturers of the United States have developed a procedure that make it possible to set as much as 15 square feet of tile literally "in one piece."

Although this procedure is not yet a commercial reality, it is regarded as "technically sound" by Dr. J. Vincent Fitzgerald, director of the Tile Council of American Research Center near Princeton, N.J.

Since the origin of ceramic tile—also known as clay tile, earthen tile and encaustic tile—7,000 years ago, the tiles have had to be set by hand individually (except that some tiles can be obtained mounted on paper or cloth membrane to facilitate proper spacing and prefabricated curtain wall panels).

The procedure developed at the Tile Council Research Center is the result of advances in chemistry and ingenuity in mechanical engineering. The chemical is a liquid epoxy resin. The mechanism is an assembly that aligns and bonds tiles edge to edge.

The resulting ceramic tile sheet (no backing) has such integrity that it can be saved—with a carborundum blade—and drilled.

Yet the liquid epoxy resin joining the edges of the tiles adds so little weight that such sheets can be handled by a single tile setter

Set Off Your Furniture With Flattering Walls

Furniture, no matter what its period, requires a flattering background in order to do it justice, and the background is created by the painted walls which surround it. A painted wall can be used to play up and set off one or more really important pieces or an entire roomful of furniture. They also provide an unobtrusive backdrop for beautiful furniture of pure design and the warm highlights of wood grains.

Color is a purely personal matter and nothing should be allowed to dictate your choice of wall colors. Not only are you free to select the paint colors you like, but you do not have to follow the color schemes of a particular period—unless you want to.

If you are interested in adding an extra note of old-world charm, or if you are fascinated by the idea of an "authentic" color scheme, here are some suggestions for painting your walls in colors which were popular during specific furniture periods. If you decide on "period" walls, then carry through by using one or two other appropriate colors for rugs, draperies and upholstery.

DIRECTOIRE — Strong reds, blues, whites.

EARLY AMERICAN — Yellow, deep reds, blue-gray, soft greens, olive, blue-green.

CONTEMPORARY—Rare is the color that doesn't harmonize with contemporary furniture design—from brilliant orange and lemon yellow to delphinium blue and sea-green. Contemporary furniture needs lots of color—clear and well defined.

Important as scenery is to a play, so the painted wall is to furniture. It matters not what paint color you select as long as you picture in your mind's eye how your furniture will look when set against it. And, of course, the time to determine this is before you paint.

It is an interesting challenge to try to duplicate the color schemes of a particular period; it is just as much of a challenge to dip into the several thousand paint colors here are available today and come up with a fresh new color scheme of your own. Whichever way appeals to you, painted walls will dramatize your best pieces.

Trick to Painting Gutters

Proper surface preparation is necessary for any painting job, and will save you expensive repair bills later on. Prepare the surfaces of gutters and downspouts by scraping, wire brushing or sanding and applying a primer containing zinc chromate. The insides of gutters should be cleaned and rinsed. New gutters should weather at least six months before painting, or they can be etched with an acid wash and then rinsed well with clean water.

Will the Name Be the Same in 1979?

Will a garage still be called a "garage" 20 years from now?

It's the considered opinion of many home planners and builders that, by 1979, millions of American homeowners may be applying any or all of a dozen different and more descriptive names to this important extension of the home.

Why? Simply because the garage will no longer be just a place to park the family auto.

Like the "basement" that has become a "recreation room," a "TV room" and even a "dining room" during summer months, the garage concepts currently being evolved will give the homeowner limitless opportunities for development to suit almost every need or desire.

Quality Always Pays

You will save money by using quality paints no matter what you are covering. This is especially true for painting barns and fences or similar outdoor structures. Quality paint wears longer, and provides a good foundation for repainting. When painting new wood, be sure to use a primer before applying one or two coats of the chosen color.

Whenever lumber is used in direct contact with the soil (such as poles in pole frame construction), it should be pressure treated, says the Southern Pine Association.

Can Change Stains

When an oil stain of the type used on interior wood surfaces is too dark, it can be lightened by thinning it with turpentine. A paler tone can be produced by wiping off excess stain before it has set. A stain that comes out too light can be darkened by applying another coat.

More than enough Southern Pine lumber to build two average size homes went into the lamination of each of 12 giant wood arches used to support and decorate a sports arena at West Palm Beach, Florida.

Learn All About Painting Plaster From Booklet

Although improved paints and plastering materials have shortened the waiting period for painting newly applied plaster, certain conditions must still be recognized in order to avoid trouble. The surface must be in top condition to assure a satisfactory paint job and good adherence of the paint film.

You can get many valuable tips on painting new plaster by sending your name and address to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington 5, D.C., and asking for a copy of "Painting New Plaster." Waterford Hill House Opens for View Today

White Brothers of Waterford open their newest model home today on top of Waterford Hill. The Waterford Hill House of '59 is a four-level brick model with white trim. It has been furnished by Stewart Glenn of Pontiac. Carlo Construction Co. of Waterford is the builder. C. N. Wright is the architect.

On the first level there is a living room with picture windows framing a spectacular view. Outside this room is the 24 by 42 foot swimming pool, enclosed with redwood and turquoise sailcloth panels. There are sliding glass doors to a porch from the living room.

The kitchen has cabinets and woodwork of Japanese ash. It has a door to the attached garage.

On the upper level there are three bedrooms. One could be divided into two rooms but is to be the master bedroom. There are twin beds in one of the other bedrooms and an interestingly scrolled brass bed in the third bedroom.

On the lower level there is a family room with a white brick fireplace. The other two rooms on this level could be bedrooms but are to be a bar room and a second kitchen. There is a complete bath on this level. The basement occupies the fourth level and opens on the back yard.

The public is invited to visit this new home on Balmoral Terrace. It opens today and will be open from 12-8 daily. This deluxe model sells for $40,300.

Panel Wall With Hemlock in Diagonal Pattern

If you want something a little different for an accent wall, try paneling it with a prestige wood like vertical grain west coast hemlock. Instead of installing the panel boards vertically, the usual way, place them diagonally on the wall for a distinctively contemporary touch. Hemlock should be finished clear to capture its unusual champagne coloring.

What's a Curtain Wall

Used in all kinds of buildings, a curtain wall is an outside wall that is rigid but contributes no structural strength to the house. An exciting new development in this kind of construction is a pre-fabricated curtain wall panel of ceramic tile. The ceramic tile for such a wall can be "set" either on the site or at a factory — less expensive that way — and then hoisted and fastened into position at the building site in a matter of minutes.

More Rental Units Built but Total Stays Same

More quality rental units have come on the market in the last year but the total number of units and the vacancy rate remain about the same, according to a survey by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Oliver M. Walker, Washington, D. C., chairman of NAREB's Committee on Real Estate Economics, has released the survey of the rental market based on reports from 225 areas in all parts of the nation. It was prepared by NAREB's Department of Research.

Here are some highlights:

1. The increased number of apartments built last year boosted the quality and variety of rental units available now but demolitions and removals from the rental inventory—primarily of less desirable units—keeps the total inventory about the same as 1950 (20 million).

2. In most cities the vacancy rate is low, particularly in the more desirable units. This has kept down the vacancy rate and sent rents up, particularly in the West.

3. Some cities, notably in the South, reported vacancy rates exceeding 10 per cent. Reduced rents are being offered to attract and retain tenants in a few areas.

4. The rental market for single family homes is strong, with a vacancy rate of less than 2 per cent, and firm or rising rents in a large majority of cities.

5. NAREB findings are consistent with Census reports showing that vacant rental units comprise 2.3 per cent of the total housing inventory and 6.1 per cent of the total rental housing supply. About one-third of these vacant units lack bath rooms.

MULTI-FAMILY UNITS

Half the areas reported vacancies of 2 per cent or less. From 3 to 5 per cent was the vacancy rate reported by 29 per cent of the areas, while 12 per cent reported vacancies ranging between 6 and 9 per cent, and the remaining 9 per cent reported vacancies of 10 per cent or more.

SINGLE-FAMILY UNITS

About four out of five (83 per cent) cities reported vacancies of 2 per cent or less for single-family rental units, while 13 per cent reported vacancies of 3 to 5 per cent, 2 per cent reported vacancies of 6 to 9 per cent, and 2 per cent reported vacancies of 10 per cent or more.

These percentages "reflect the active demand of families being transferred to a new community for a home during an initial period when purchase decisions may be impractical," the report said. They also demonstrate the feasibility of renting a home pending a decision to sell, according to the survey.

Turn Unused Closet Into Laundry Center

A home handyman can transform a seldom-used basement closet into a compact laundry center by paneling the walls with moisture-resistant hardboard paneling and installing sliding doors to conceal the appliances.

Leftover scraps of the plastic-surfaced hardboard can be used to surface overhead shelves. The smooth plastic surface of the paneling will not snag sheer wearing apparel. The paneling does not require painting or any finishing work.

Space permitting, pull-out compartments for soiled clothes can be built adjoining the washer and dryer. Peg-Board in a color matching or harmonizing with the paneling can be used on the fronts of the storage units to provide adequate ventilation.

Plastic-surfaced hardboard also is available at lumber yards in easy-to-handle 16" square blocks, which can be used on the ceiling of the converted closet. Sliding doors can be obtained to close off the new laundry center when not in use.

Owner Can Install Thick Mineral Wool

Insulation for air conditioning can be installed in many areas of the house by the home owner himself.

Batts of mineral wool 6 inches thick (recommended for ceilings of air-conditioned houses) are available from building material dealers and can be installed between joists of an open attic floor.

Batts or blankets of mineral wool at least three inches thick should be used between studs of walls that are accessible. Floors over crawl spaces, attached garages, porches, and the like, need insulation 2 inches thick.

Sawdust Into Tires

Wood products are reaching more and more into the daily lives of Americans, largely due to increased use of sawmill leftovers. Now, a new tire cord, which promises extra safety for today's higher roadway speeds, is being made from wood pulp cellulose.

More than 3,000 Cherokee Indians live in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park in North Carolina.

MANSION-LIKE LENGTH — This wide seven-room ranch was designed by Architect Lester Cohen with a Southwestern motif. Its huge combined living-family room measures 23 by 20 feet. There are three bedrooms, a dressing room, and 2½ baths.

Wood Decking Goes From Floor to Roof

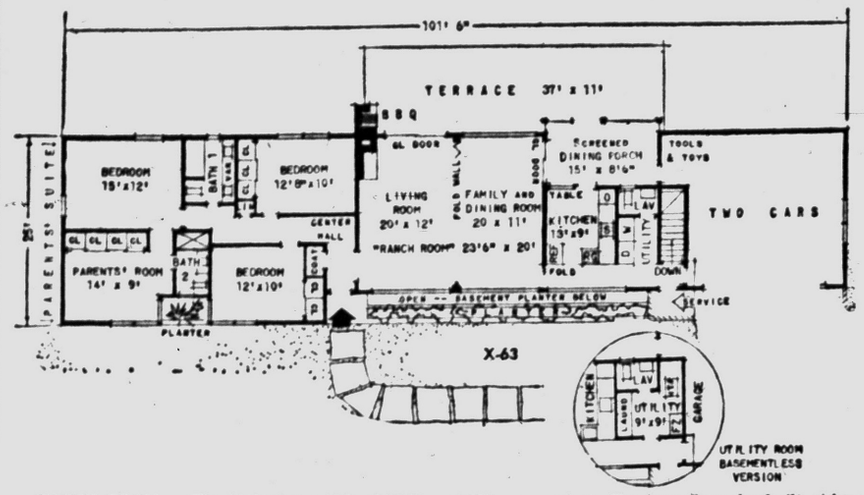
One of the most famous of the original uses for Southern Pine lumber was as decking for early America's famous frigates and clipper ships.

In the modern sense, however, the term applies more frequently to the roof rather than the floor, and to a home, school or church rather than a ship.

Southern Pine decking in two-inch thicknesses is a primary element of the roof structure in present day plank-and-beam construction. The planks are also exposed on their underside to give an attractive wood ceiling.



FLOOR PLAN — The 101½-foot width of X-63 makes it look much bigger than it actually is. Secret is shallow depth. Habitable area measures 1,675 square feet. The house can be built either with or without a basement.

Tip From Texas Makes House Long and Low

By DAVID L. BOWEN

An architect whose usual range is New Jersey recently took a swing through Texas and discovered for himself that folks there have big ideas about living space.

"Even in a home of moderate square foot area," Architect Lester Cohen reports, "I found combination living areas running about 500 square feet—much bigger than they usually are in the North and East."

Figuring that the rest of the country would find moving back the living room walls just as soul-satisfying as Texans do, Cohen came back to his drawing board, put on a 10-gallon hat, and laid out this home for people who don't like to feel fenced in. It looks like a mansion, but actually is a medium sized house.

The big departure from traditional design in X-63 is what Cohen calls the "ranch room," actually a combination living room and family or dining room that measures 23½ by 20 feet. While fold-away doors can divide the space when desired, there is no fixed divider at all in this huge living area.

It's the kind of room where you can entertain ALL the relatives without crowding anybody into the kitchen.

The "ranch room" runs from front to the back of the house, with through ventilation provided by floor-to-ceiling windows at the front and sliding glass doors opening to the terrace at back.

A handsome fireplace is set in a rear corner, with the chimney running through the wall and providing a terrace barbecue. Another set of sliding doors lead to the screened dining porch behind the kitchen.

MASTER SUITE

The house has a front foyer, routing traffic either into the big living room or into the center hall which services the sleeping wing. Cohen has provided a master bedroom suite of two rooms and a bath, although slight changes would make each of these a sleeping room and run the bedroom total to four.

If only three bedrooms are required, however, the second room of the master suite will serve admirably as a dressing room, study or sewing room. It has all four closets for the two rooms to provide perfectly "clean" walls in the master bedroom itself.

The other two bedrooms are served by a large bathroom with an alcove tub and dual sink vanitory.

KITCHEN WIDE OPEN

The kitchen and utility area are compactly grouped near the service entrance. Walls on both sides of the kitchen stop short of the front wall, leaving a natural hallway and promoting the "wide open" feeling.

The house has been engineered for construction either with or without basement. Both versions, however, have a utility room on the ground floor and a lavatory in the service section.

Windows in the front wall are an unusual feature of the basement. They look out on a sunken planter box. Another planter above this at ground level provides garden beauty for the wide windows of the "ranch room" and kitchen.

The house has a marble chip roof, and combines vertical siding, wide plywood panels, and big glass areas to achieve its warm, hospitable look. It covers 1,675 square feet, not including dining porch. Garage has 464 square feet of space. Overall dimensions are 101' 6" wide by 25' deep.

Keep All Metals Alike in Gutters, Downspouts

Never mix metals when you install or replace gutters and downspouts on your home. The use of two or more unlike metals sometimes creates a "galvanic action" that may quickly and mysteriously deteriorate this type of equipment.

An electric current can be conducted between two unlike metals by water and ultimately one or both of the metals will break down. Be sure, if possible, that every part of your roof drainage installation is of the same metal, including all hangars and accessories.

Natural Insulation of Wood Useful

The average house has 10,000 board feet of lumber in its structure, and the owner is overlooking a bet if he doesn't use the natural insulation of the material as well as its strength.

Heat and cold are transmitted slowly through wood, and the Southern Pine Association lists the following areas where the trait can be most valuable:

1) Sub-flooring, a layer of lumber between the floor joists and finish floor.

2) Wall sheathing nailed to the studs beneath the exterior wall finish.

3) Wood siding on west walls and others subject to severe sun.

Mark 25th Year of FHA With Dinner in Capital

President Eisenhower will attend the celebration on June 18 marking the 25th Anniversary of the founding of the Federal Housing Administration, when 16 trade and professional associations concerned with the construction and financing of homes will present an "Industry Salute to the FHA."

The Act of Congress establishing the Federal Housing Administration was signed on June 27, 1934.

The dinner and program at the Sheraton Park Hotel, in Washington, D. C., will bring together leaders in business, banking and Government from all parts of the country.

Special guests will be the first family that acquired a new home with FHA financing, Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Newkirk, 30 Hopper Place, Pompton Plains, New Jersey, who paid off the mortgage a dozen years ago.

Another special guest will be FHA's first employee. She is Minnie E. Dawson who became a clerk in the new Agency on July 14, 1934, 17 days after it was authorized to set up for business. Mrs. Dawson is now a corresponding secretary in the Controller's Division. Other employees who have been with FHA since 1934 also will be guests at the Salute. Its staff now numbers about 7,000 persons.

In the quarter-century span since the Newkirks moved into their new home and Mrs. Dawson seated herself at her new desk, it has been noted that "American crowded into a short 25 years what ordinarily might have been the experience of centuries."

The Nation has known war and peace, depression and prosperity, uncertainty and security. It also has witnessed the tremendous growth of cities along with the creation of totally new communities which have risen through Government - assisted housing. And a significant new type of partnership has been set up, between the Government and private industry.

In this period FHA has insured mortgages on nearly 5 million homes and 800,000 rental units and has insured approximately 22 million loans for modernization and repair. Dollar value of the FHA insured mortgages and loans aggregate about $53 billion of which insured home mortgages have run to $35 billion.

The FHA operation is entirely self-supporting. All U.S. Treasury advances to the Agency have been returned, plus $20.4 million in interest, and reserves of some $700 million have been accumulated. In addition, FHA has returned about $80 million to home-buyers from insurance premiums.

Among the honored guests at the Dinner will be Members of Congress, who through the years have been active in drafting and promoting housing legislation. They will include Senators Homer E. Capehart, A. Willis Robertson and John J. Sparkman, and Representatives Clarence D. Kilburn, Albert Rains and Brent Spence. Mr. Sparkman and Mr. Rains are Chairmen of the respective housing subcommittees in Senate and House.

The Sponsoring Committee also has invited many individuals who were active in promoting the original FHA legislation or who helped organize the agency.

Official Backs Teens of U.S.

Lieutenant Governor of Oklahoma Sees Great Potential in Them

"American youth is not going to the dogs," insists the 30-year-old Oklahoman. On the contrary, he said, the younger set holds the potential for future leadership of the country and the world.

"Young people today are more informed than at any other time in history on governmental affairs, probably more than the average adult," Nigh said.

"The important thing is that they know adults really do care about them and are concerned."

KEEPS BUSY

Nigh does more than his share of working with youngsters. Hardly a day goes by that a group of Boy Scouts or Campfire Girls doesn't visit his office. And he makes dozens of speeches a month in high schools throughout Oklahoma.

A former high school history teacher and state representative, Nigh also has served as adviser to 12 youth legislatures.

"Every generation has been condemned for one reason or another," he said. "We live in an age of sensationalism and it's the teenager who does wrong that you read about — not the one who does something worthwile."

"Teens are no different than adults. They go through typical fads — whether it be blue jeans and T-shirts or blue suede shoes.

"And take the bop. We thought it was so terrible. But nobody bops anymore."

For every "hipster," Nigh believes, there are many young boys and girls developing into future leaders.

PUSHED TO FRONT

"I can't speak for other parts of the country," he said, "but in Oklahoma young people are being pushed to the front as leaders."

He cited the accomplishments of Oklahoma youth in winning recognition in Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club programs and in other fields.

"And we've got the best example in athletics," he said. "I think Oklahoma probably has made more contributions than any other state."

Brown Commends California Legislature

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— The California Legislature has ended what Gov. Edmund Brown saluted as the "finest and most productive session" in state history.

What was also the longest session came to a close at midnight Friday — to the pop of firecrackers — with defeat for Brown's labor reform bill. He laid part of the blame on Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

But the new Democratic governor, noting success for 90 per cent of his program, didn't kick about the overall accomplishments in his freshman year.

Backed by the first Democratic majority in both houses since 1889, the Brown administration compiled an impressive record in the 166 days of lawmaking.

Brown got through a 1¾ billion dollar water plan, 220 million in new taxes, increased jobless benefits, higher pensions for blind and aged, repeal of ballot cross-filing and the state's fair employment practices act.

State Lawmaker Asks Probe of Trading Stamps

LANSING (AP)—The trading stamp system, a million dollar-plus business in Michigan, will undergo a legislative investigation if a Democratic lawmaker has his way.

Rep. John T. Bowman (D-Roseville) asked the House yesterday to appoint a four-member committee to study the system as it operates in the state.

"It is alleged that approximately 40 per cent of the stamps issued are never redeemed by the consumers, resulting in extraordinary profits to the issuing companies," Bowman said.

Bowman said House investigators would determine whether there was a need for legislative control of the stamp system.

The committee would conduct its study after lawmakers adjourn and report to the 1960 legislature.

America's ready-to-wear cloth industry is said to have developed out of the problem of meeting demands of the military forces.

Honored Rabbi Says Population Boom a Menace

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A prominent Rabbi said the "population explosion" in under-developed countries poses a grim threat to free society.

Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath of New York, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, called for joint action by all of the great religions of the world to cope with the population problem.

He said it might be necessary to "throw out habits of thought" which have become "dangerous anachronisms" in today's world.

One immediate goal, he said, should be to double the present amount of economic aid given to under-developed countries.

Rabbi Eisendrath, who heads the principal body of Reform Judaism in the United States, spoke before the annual awards banquet of the Religious Heritage of America. The inter-faith organization named him clergyman of the year.

Mrs. Michigan Wins Meat Baking Contest

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)— Mrs. Michigan won the meat baking contest yesterday as she and 50 other Mrs. America contestants awaited the selection of one of their number as the nation's champion homemaker.

Elizabeth Stokes, 37, of Traverse City, won't know until tonight whether she has won the top prize —the Mrs. America crown.

Yesterday was the last of four days of competition in the housekeeping arts for the women—one from each state and the District of Columbia.

State Units in Civil War 'Battle'

Bluecoats to Ride Again!

LANSING, — (UPI)— Look out rebels, the Michigan Bluecoats are coming.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced approval of a plan that will send Michigan troops to Virginia in July, 1961, to re-enact the first battle of Manassas Junction, called Bull Run in the North.

Chairman Floyd Haight of the Michigan Civil War Centennial Commission, is organizing a contingent that will include at least 30 National Guard troops in authenic uniforms.

The costumes will be provided by women's auxiliaries to National Guard units, Haight said.

Plans for the re-enactment were begun by Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, who invited the 23 states which had troops in the orginal battle in 1861 to send troops for the replay.

The first battle ended in a disastrous rout of the northern forces.

Michigan's First, Second, Third and Fourth Regiments had a total of 4,038 troops in the battle. Part of thier job was to cover the northern retreat.

"Mr. Haight and his commission have been promised the full cooperation of state agencies and I am confident that an equal degree of support will be forthcoming from civic minded groups in all parts of our two peninsulas," Williams said in a letter to Almond.

The Bull Run re-enactment will be the kickoff of the four year Civil War Centennial observance, Almond said.

Methodist Men Elect Mueller New President

Edward Walaims was chosen vice president; John Welch, program chairman; Cecil McFarland, secretary, and Robert Stasiuk, treasurer.

Donald Tews, Flint District lay leader, met with 25 men of the Oakland Park Church to help organize the club.

The fourth Thursday of each month was designated as meeting night. All men of the church have been invited to the 7 p.m. session Thursday said the pastor, the Rev. James W. Deeg.

State Police Warn of Summer Hazards

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police today cautioned against a couple of summertime hazards — flash fires on motorboats and some dangerous new fireworks devices.

Det. Capt. Glenroy Walker, chief of the State Police Fire Marshal Division, said most flash fires occur when boats are being refueled.

Sometimes spilled gasoline or its fumes are ignited either by an ignition spark or a carelessly tossed cigarette. Sometimes the boat operator forgets to turn the motor off during refueling.

All fireworks but caps for cap pistols and sparklers are illegal in Michigan.

Nevertheless, Walker said, a couple of new devices known as "atom pearls" and "tire jokers" have made their appearance in the state and are potentially dangerous, he said.

First elevated train in the United States began service along Greenwich street in New York City in 1867, a pioneer in L-line travel.

Ike's Trick Knee Can't Keep Him Off Golf Course

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower's trick knee is bothering him again — but not enough to stop his golf game. He set up another turn around the Gettysburg Country Club course Saturday morning.

The President was hoping for luck on his seventh round of golf in 11 days. He has been a bit off his game lately.

Friday he had to contend not only with that knee but also a stiff wind.

Eisenhower damaged the knee and simultaneously ended his football career at West Point years ago. And he was grumbling about "this old knee" as he started out from the first tee.

The wind played hob with some of the President's shots. His golfing partners were George Allen and Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Nevins (Ret.). The trio made a date for another 18 holes Saturday morning.

Allen, a Washington business man, and Nevins also own farms on the outskirts of Gettysburg.

The wind added 15 minutes to the half hour it ordinarily takes for the President to fly by helicopter from the White House to his country estate here.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan to return to Washington late Sunday.

Eisenhower is expected to receive an immediate telephone call Sunday from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter when Herter arrives home from the recessed foreign ministers conference in Geneva.

Another Chance, Asks Tailgunner

Could Have Got Him If Turret Wasn't Hit, Says Sailor

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — A U.S. Navy tailgunner wounded by Soviet-type guns off the North Korean coast wants "another chance" at the Communist plane that blasted him out of his turret.

Aviation electrician 2C. Donald Corder also said he thought he could have gotten the Communist plane of unidentified nationality if it hadn't hit his turret.

Corder of Jacksonville and Farmer City, Ill., was the first crewman to spot the MIG that shot and crippled the Navy P4M1 Mercator some 45 miles off North Korea last Tuesday.

Speaking from a stretcher a few minutes after doctors gave him an injection to ease the pain of 40 to 50 shrapnel wounds and a broken knee, Corder told newsmen the MIG was about 500 feet directly behind him when it opened fire.

"There was quite a bit of confusion. Everybody was talking at once. I was asking the pilot's permission to return fire. I called several times. Either the second or third time, he heard me and answered, 'Tail turret open fire.'"

The order came as the MIGs were making their sixth pass, Corder said.

"I dropped the microphone and started tracking. Just as I was getting a line on the lead airplane, I got hit. It blew me out of the turret. I saw sparks and hot lead."

Corder's report of a communications jam confirmed statements made earlier by his pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Donald R. Mayer of Litchfield, Conn.

Although there was criticism in Washington because the Mercator's forward guns were unmanned, Corder expressed doubt that a bow turret gunner could have fired because of the MIG's position.

Asked if he considered the plane adequately armed, Corder said he thought so, but "Nobody who flies those missions ever thinks he is going to be attacked. I was more surprised than scared."

Seaway Ship Pilots End Walkout Threat

MONTREAL (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway ship pilots and the Transport Department have patched up their differences, ending a walkout threat that could have left the seaway without pilots.

The pilots had set last night as the deadline for a general meeting that would have taken them off their ships indefinitely. As civil servants, the pilots could not legally strike.

The threat was not withdrawn until the pilots were notified formally of the government's approval of their proposals on wages and working conditions.

A total of 66 harbor and seaway pilots would have been involved in a walkout that could have put a crimp in plans to sail the Royal Yacht Britannia through the seaway next week.

State Police to Double Skin Diving Squad

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police are doubling the size of their skin diving squad in response to a growing demand for its services.

Two training courses at East Lansing headquarters this summer will boost the squad from 30 to 60 men, said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

State Police skin divers are available to any police agency for help in recovering submerged criminal evidence and the bodies of drowning victims. The first squad was organized in 1957.

Senators Hear TV Demands

Equal Time? It's All His

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testifying without the Uncle Sam suit he wears in campaigns, Lar (America First) Daly got all the time he wanted Friday to fight for the equal time rule on newscasts.

Daly's hopelessly unsuccessful campaign for mayor of Chicago led to hearings on changing the controversial rule. He began his testimony before the Senate Commerce subcommittee by demanding three or four hours to state his case.

The chairman, Sen. John O. Pastore (D-RI), told him:

"If your testimony takes 15 hours, you'll be given all the time necessary. But, no man is going to threaten this committee."

Daly did not take 15 hours or even three or four to testify, but he did talk at length. He mentioned, among other things, that he received only two votes in the election for mayor and that he plans to run for president in 1960.

Daly electioneered for mayor wearing an Uncle Sam suit and sporting a big sign marked "perennial candidate."

He demanded that a Chicago TV station devote as much time in its news programs to him as it did to the Republican and Democratic candidates.

The station refused, but the Federal Communications Commission later ruled that under present law Daly was entitled to as much time in newscasts as any other candidate. Despite a plea by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and a comment by President Eisenhower that the ruling was ridiculous, the FCC stood by its interpretation of the law.

Congress has been asked by radio and TV network officials to change the law. The networks said the FCC ruling would make news coverage of political campaigns impossible.

One bill before the committee, proposed by Sen. Vance Hartke (D-Ind), would also exempt debates and panel shows. It would set up definite standards as to who may be considered a legitimate candidate for public office.

This bill received the support of publisher Eugene C. Pulliam, who testified after Daly. Pulliam is the publisher of the Indianapolis Star and Indianapolis News, the Arizona Republic, Phoenix Gazette and other papers.

He accused the FCC of having "taken unto itself the right of censorship over radio and TV broadcasts," and added:

"In many areas of federal bureaucracy we already have government by decree, regulatory order or a fantastic interpretation of some law such as the Daly case."

Rate of Rise Far Faster Than Cost of Living

Warns Colleges About High Tuition

WASHINGTON (UPI) — College tuition costs have risen during the past five years at a much steeper rate than the cost of living.

While the official living cost index was going up 7 per cent in five years, tuition charges climbed 32 per cent at public institutions and 39 per cent at private institutions.

This was shown in a government survey which covered 196 representative colleges and universities in all parts of the nation. It was made by Dr. Ernest V. Hollis, director of college and university administration, U.S. Office of Education.

"This trend is disturbing," Hollis said in an interview. "College and university administrators should take these figures as a warning signal.

CAN'T CONTINUE

"They cannot continue indefinitely to solve the problem of rising educational costs by sharp increases in tuition, or they will run into the law of diminishing returns.

"If tuition costs keep on rising at the rate that has prevailed since 1954, many institutions will soon find they are pricing themselves out of the family income market they have been serving."

One of the most disquieting aspects of the survey, Hollis said, was the disclosure that the rate of increase has been steadily accelerating.

Average tuition charges at private institutions went up 8 per cent between 1954 and 1955. The average increase between 1957 and 1958 was 11 per cent.

Hollis' survey covered tuition changes through the 1958-59 academic year now ending.

It did not reflect substantial increases in tuition which many colleges and universities have already announced to go into effect next fall.

NEAR THE TOP

For example, Harvard and Yale are raising their tuition $150 (to $1,500); Columbia is going up $250 (to $1,450).

These Ivy League tuitions are near the top of the scale. The average suition at the 76 representative private institutions checked by Hollis was $820 during the academic year just ending.

Comparable figures for 1954 were $590 for private institutions and $135 for public institutions.

Hollis prepared a graph showing relative rates of increase in the cost of living index and in college tuitions over the last 20 years.

From 1939 until 1946, both went up about the same rate. Then, for several years, the living cost index rose somewhat faster than tuition. The lines began to converge again in 1951, and, since 1954 the tuition rise has been dramatically steeper.

"I believe this explains," Hollis said, "why there has been a noticeable increase in public protests about the cost of sending young people to college in the last few years."

Two years ago, Hollis published a detailed study of the costs of attending college, based on the actual experiences of students in public and private institutions.

OVER-ALL COST

It indicated that the over-all cost (including books, clothing, room and board and such items as well as tuition) averaged about $1,500 a year in public schools and $2,000 a year in private schools.

Because of the rise in tuition and living costs since 1957, Hollis said, current averages probably are around $1,750 for public institutions and $2,300 for private institutions.

Hollis said big-name schools that are swamped with applicants probably do not need to be immediately concerned about pricing themselves out of the market.

But smaller and less-favored colleges, he said, should recognize that the uptrend in tuition may prompt many middle-income families to "change their plans" for the education of their children.

Typical switches, he said, would be from a private college to a state university; or from a state university to a public junior college in the student's home town.

Guard Against More Rioting

South African Mayor Satisfied Police Can Handle Beer Ban Anger

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Police patrolled the restive Negro sections of this port city today after two days of riots and demonstrations against government curbs on brewing beer at home.

Mayor W. E. Shaw told newsmen Friday night he was satisfied the police had enough men to deal with any new outbreak. He pronounced the situation under control.

Four Africans were killed in clashes with police that began Thursday in Cato Manor, an African slum quarter. Twenty-four Africans were hospitalized, 13 of them wounded by police gunfire.

Twenty-five buildings were destroyed by fire, including churches, municipal offices, shops, schools, clinics and post offices.

The violence simmered down Friday. About 50 women were arrested for picketing and there were scattered demonstrations outside municipal beer halls.

The women say the ban on home brew drives their menfolk away from home to the beer halls. But Mayor Shaw says the brewing vats breed flies. He said health officers staged raids early this week on Negro speakeasies, called shebeens, to combat a recent typhoid epidemic.

Authorities agreed the raids on the shebeens led to the riots.

Body of Dead Monk Enshrined by Buddhists

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The gold-encased body of Buddhist monk Chih Hung was enshrined today in a hillside temple near the port of Keelung.

Chih Hung ordered in his will that if his body remained intact for five years, it should be encased in gold leaf and worshipped. He died five years ago at the age of 60.

The body, now under a glass case, was borne into the temple by a canopied sedan chair carried by four men clad in yellow robes.

Monks opened the earthenware urn containing the body on May 12. The tomb in which the urn stood was filled with water, but monks said no water seeped into the urn.

Officials Cut Own Pay

CASTILE, N. Y. (UPI) — Mayor August P. Neff and four members of the Castile Village Board slashed their own salaries by $100 each in order to avoid a community tax increase. Neff had been earning $400 a year and the board members $300.

Illinois College Quartet to Sing

Dr. R. E. Perry to Tell of Expansion Plans for Student Body

The Crusaders Quartet of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill. will present a program of sacred music at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the First Church of the Nazarene.

Appearing with the quartet for a brief message will be Dr. Ralph E. Perry, a member of the Olivet faculty.

Chairman of the department of religious education, Dr. Perry will tell of the progress of the college during the past 50 years.

He will also descibe plans for expanding the present campus to house and train an increase of 50 per cent in the student body, the anticipated growth during the next 10 years.

Lapeer Sheriff Quits in Feud With Supervisors

LAPEER—William J. Porter has quit his job as Lapeer County sheriff after a feud with the County Board of Supervisors over his hobby of conducting a dance band on weekends.

Another factor blamed in his resignation was recent budget cutting which has necessitated a reduction in police services, fellow officers said today.

Undersheriff Kenneth Parks has been appointed to complete Porter's unexpired term which runs until Dec. 31, 1960.

Parks said Porter had a chance to go into business for himself with his own dance band which he decided to do.

Porter's resignation was retroactive to June 15.

Steel Strike Nears as Talks Flounder

NEW YORK (AP) — Industry-wide steel wage talks recessed yesterday until Monday, with no progress reported in efforts to avert a strike threatened for July 1.

On Wednesday and Thursday, individual sessions were held between the union and representatives of the 12 companies. Friday, both sides reverted to the previous pattern of having four man teams negotiate on an overall basis.

A walkout of 500,000 United Steelworkers would halt about 90 per cent of the nation's steel production.

The companies taking part in negotiations are demanding a wage freeze as a curb to inflation. Union officials contend a wage hike could be granted out of profits without raising steel prices.

Boy Stabs Stepfather, Then Tries to Save Him

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A gangling high school youth stabbed his stepfather Friday night, then sought unsuccessfully to keep the wounded man alive by breathing into his throat.

Gerald Owen Johnson, 17, said he stabbed Robert Griswold, 46, when the stepfather refused to heed his pleas to stop beating him and his mother. No charges were filed immediately.

The mother, Jewel Fay Griswold, 46, collapsed.

Schedule Polio Clinic at Waterford School

A third polio clinic will be conducted from 3 to 7 p.m. June 30 at the William Austin Burt School, 581 S. Winding Dr., Waterford Township.

The clinic will be under supervision of Dr. Robert Albrecht with qualified personnel in attendance, according to PTA Health Chairman, Mrs. John Trerice.

Lambert and Stringham School PTA members are also assisting with the clinic operation.

Gov. William Francis Quinn of Hawaii wanted to become an actor. He chose law, instead.

A-Plant Planned by Consumers

30-Million-Dollar Unit Will Service Northern Lower Peninsula

JACKSON (AP)—Plans for building a 30 million dollar atomic power plant on Lake Michigan in northwestern lower Michigan have been announced by Consumers Power Co.

The utility's president, Dan E. Karn, said the plant is scheduled for operation in 1962. It will be located at Big Rock Point midway between Charlevoix and Petoskey.

Karn said, "we feel that Consumers Power Co. has the responsibility of engaging in research and development work for the utilization of nuclear fuel for the generation of low-cost electricity.

"Electric use in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula is growing steadily. And there is a certain amount of extra cost involved in transmitting power into the area from generating plants to the south.

"We believe that the construction of a boiling water reactor at Big Rock Point will be a sound means of meeting the growth of electric demand in that part of the state. It will also be an important step toward our goal of producing electric energy at reasonable cost by means of nuclear fuel."

County's 'Hams' Pick July 7 for Next Session

The Oakland County Amateur Radio Society will hold its next meeting 8 p.m. July 7 at the Consumers Power Co. building, 28 W. Lawrence St.

A short talk on "Direction Finding and Loop Antennas" will be given by Clayton Gilles. A movie on "Resistance — Capacitance—Inductance" will be shown.

The club has set July 15 as the date for a "Transmitter Hpnt" with details to be discussed at the next meeting.

A transmitter hunt is the stationing of a transmitter at a fixed location unknown to the group.

Then the "radio hams" attempt to locate the transmitter by using direction-finding antennas.

The club is holding a picnic at 5 p.m. today in the Bald Mountain Recreation Area.

Alcoa Sales Office Here Will Move to Flint June 29

The Aluminum Company of America will move its Pontiac branch sales office to Flint on June 29, it was announced today.

Branch Manager Frederick C. Pyne said most of Alcoa's Pontiac personnel will move to Flint.

C. R. Lomneth, a member of the former city's sales office since 1945, will continue to live in Royal Oak and serve customers in Pontiac and the southern portion of an area bounded by Pontiac, Bay City, Port Huron and Owosso.

New Shelter to Be Dedicated at Jaycee Park

The new shelter at Jaycee Park will be dedicated at 5 p.m. Monday.

Completion of the building brings to an end the major portion of improvements to the park, partially financed by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Clyle R. Haskill, Jaycee president, will present the building to Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

Also speaking will be David R. Ewalt, director of the Parks & Recreation Department. The Rev. Galen Hershey, assistant paster of First Presbyterian Church, will also participate.

Shoots 5 Youths in Detroit Feud

Coal Dealer Held in Shotgun Blast Into Taunting Group

DETROIT (UPI)—A coal dealer who said he was having trouble with neighbors and juveniles shot five teenagers last night.

The youths were all in temporarily serious condition in Receiving Hospital.

Police identified the assailant as Willie Jeter, 40, of Detroit. Jeter was held for investigation of felonious assault.

Tommy James, 18, was the most seriously injured on the five. He was operated on this morning by doctors who removed pellets from his face and neck.

The other youths were Joe Travis, 17; Lenris Pullen, 17; Willie Drive, 16, and Allan White, 15, all of Detroit.

Jeter told homicide detectives Lawrence Bleach and George Jackson he had been having trouble with his next-door neighbor, Mrs. Eleanor Long.

He said Mrs. Long chased his 15-year-old daughter with a butcher knife yesterday. Police arrested Mrs. Long for investigation of felonious assault.

Police said Jeter told them that when Mrs. Long's daughter came home last night and found her mother had been arrested she became abusive to the Jeter family.

"She said she would get her gang and made threats of that nature," Bleach quoted Jeter as saying.

Jeter said about 11:30 p.m. a group of 12 youths surrounded his home and began closing in. He claimed he heard someone say:

"Let's get him, let's take him."

He told officers he grabbed a 12 guage shotgun he had on the front porch and fired three blasts at the youths, hitting the five boys.

County Youngsters Jubilant

Handicapped Off to Camp

The children, ages 6-16, will leave Wednesday for a two-week stay at Camp Grace Bentley, 12 miles north of Port Huron on the shores of the lake.

They will be among 110 other state handicapped participating in this year's camping expedition sponsored by the Michigan League for Crippled Children.

"These are happy kids," says Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkby, executive secretary of the society. "They love to be doing the things that are as near the same as their normal brothers and sisters do."

Mrs. Kirkby says the youngsters will play outdoors regardless of the leg braces and wheel chairs . . . including games, wild life study, learn crafts and participate in athletics if able.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON SPECIAL assessment improvements by Bloomfield Township Board.

To the owners of the following described property:

Lots 1 thru 9 inclusive; Lots 11 thru 110 inclusive of Charing Cross Estates Section 24, Bloomfield Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

Please take notice that the Township Board of the Township of Bloomfield has tentatively declared its intention to make the following described improvements:

For the proposed improvement to the existing water system in Charing Cross Estates, including the construction of 1725 l. f. of 6" C. I. Water Mains; 19 Hydrants and such other necessary equipment for this improvement, in Charing Cross Estates, Section 24, Bloomfield Township, and has tentatively designated the special assessment district gainst which the cost of said improvements is to be assessed as consisting of all the lots and parcels of lands set forth above.

Plans and estimates have been prepared and are on file with the Township Clerk for public examination. The estimate of cost as prepared shows the cost of said project to be $21,000.00.

Take further notice that the Township Board will meet on June 22, 1959 at 8:10 o'clock p.m. at Bloomfield Township Hall, in the Township of Bloomfield for the purpose of hearing any objections to the petition, to the improvements and to the special assessment district therefor.

Join in Present to Japan

The Tau Alpha, senior high youth group of All Saints Episcopal Church, is joining more than seven thousand churches at home and abroad which are contributing to the nuclear reactor fund.

The reactor will be used for scientific and medical research at St. Paul's University and St. Luke's Hospital in Tokyo, Japan.

Approved by the Church's General Convention, the reactor will be a birthday present from the Episcopal Church to the Nippon Seikokai (Anglican Church in Japan), now celebrating its 100th anniversary.

It will be the second reactor and the first privately owned one in that country.

According to Douglas W. Overton, executive director of Japan Society, the gift will be a dramatic witness to the the belief we all hold, that we must work to beat our swords into plowshares.

"The reactor will stimulate futher theoretical research in all of Japan's 450 Universities," said Mr. Overton.

In addition he expressed his belief that it would increase both agricultural and industrial production, and that new medical techiques can be introduced and brought to nearly one million people.

Estimated cost of the reactor is $500,000. The Episcopal Church will contribute $360,000 towards this amount and Japan's Fuji Electrical Company has subscribed the balance.

Vacation Bible School to Start

Bill Reeves to Receive God, Country Award Sunday Morning

Mrs. John Emmert will be superintendent of the Vacation Bible School which begins at 9 a.m. Monday in the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

Classes will be held daily Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. The school will close July 3.

"Christ and Anti Christ" will be the Rev. Edward D. Auchard's sermon topic tomorrow.

Throughout the summer worship services and church school will continue to be held at 9 and 11 a.m. each Sunday.

The pastor will present the Boy Scout God and Country Award to Bill Reeves at the early service tomorrow.

The 21 young people who recently participated in a service of consecreation for campers will represent the Orchard Lake Church at youth camps and conferences sponsored by the Synod of Michigan of the United Presbyterian Church.

8-Year-Old Whisky to Float on Seaway

DETROIT (UPI) — The first shipment of eight-year-old Canadian whisky ever sent to the United States will be aboard the first ocean-going freighter to sail to the United States through the St. Lawrence Seaway after it is formally opened June 26.

Harry Jay Greenwald, vice president of Schenley Distillers Co., said a special cargo of 18,000 bottles of O.F.C. Canadian whisky will be aboard the only freighter in the flotilla accompanying the royal yacht Britannia, which will formally open the Seaway.

Greenwald said Schenley plans to introduce eight-year-old Canadian whisky on the American market during July.

Seek Answers on Birth Control, Urges Minister

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — A Methodist clergyman, urging consideration of the question of birth control, asks:

"Is it any more immoral to prevent babies from being born than it is to bring them into a world where we know they will starve?"

Dr. Roy L. Smith told the 109th annual session of the denomination's Southern California-Arizona Conference Friday:

"It is going to be impossible for the Christian church—at least the Protestant wing of the church—to ignore this very serious problem much longer."

He noted that U.S. population is expected to reach 225 million by 1968.

Slide Rule Beats Radar Speeding Rap

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP)—Daniel Buhl, 31, whose hobbies are mathematics and sports car driving, has won a dismissal on a charge of speeding.

Buhl told the court a radar unit will clock a short car at a greater speed than it is actually traveling.

Such a unit had clocked his 13-foot sports car at 38 miles an hour, but the difference in length between his vehicle and a normal 18-foot model would result in a deviation of 5.92 miles an hour, he testified. That would mean he was going within the speed limit.

Buhl produced figures worked up with a slide rule to prove his point. He invited the court to have a professional mathematician check his figures.

"I'll give you the benefit of the doubt," said Magistrate J. T. Shillington. "Case dismissed."

More May Lose Commerce Jobs

Strauss Rejection Adds to Woes of Battered Department

WASHINGTON (AP)— The historic Senate vote of no confidence in Lewis L. Strauss has given a new jolt to a Commerce Department high command already beset by uncertainty.

The 49-46 Senate vote rejecting Strauss as secretary of commerce came as the secretary's office faced a prospect of personnel cuts by Congress.

High officials said 51 employes out of a total of about 300 in the secretary's office have been put on notice that their jobs may be abolished on June 30. These notices went out after the House voted to cut $440,000 from the $2,940,000 President Eisenhower asked for running the office.

Earlier this week the Senate Appropriations Committee voted to restore $260,000 but the question is still up in the air, but even so, some 25 employes would have to be fired.

There was speculation that with Strauss on his way out the House might now be willing to provide more salary money. But it was unlikely the amount finally voted would exceed the Senate figure.

Many Senators felt that Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) furnished the vital momentum that brought rejection of Strauss' appointment.

KEPT SECRET

Johnson had kept his position on Strauss a secret until the final hours of the months-long nomination battle. Then, Senate participants said, he went all out to line up the vote against him.

Some of Johnson's colleagues professed to see in this what amounted to an exchange of Strauss' political scalp for less Democratic opposition to Johnson's policy of trimming spending bills to avoid presidential vetoes.

They said that Johnson also demonstrated to Democratic liberals that he was willing to stand with them on what they regarded as a vital issue, and also that he was not reluctant to take a strong stand against President Eisenhower.

BACKED STRAUSS

Eisenhower, who had backed Strauss to the hilt, said the nation was the loser because of this "sad episode."

Strauss accumulated many Senate enemies in his years as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. The most vocal of them accused him of deceit, arrogance and overweening vanity.

For his part, Strauss said he was confident history would be just to him. He retired for the weekend to his 1,500-acre farm in Culpeper, Va.

So far, there has been little speculation on whom the President will name in place of Strauss.

Strauss is expected to submit his resignation within a few days, although aides said he legally can hold the post until Congress adjourns.

When Strauss steps down, his duties will be taken over temporarily by Undersecretary Frederick H. Mueller, who will become acting secretary.

Novelist Finds Parisians Ignore Kissing Couples

BERLIN (AP)—Novelist James Jones, after a 10-month look at Europe, says:

"I don't think there's as much sexual frustration in Europe as there is in America. An oversimplified example are the young lovers walking along the quays of Paris and kissing. The French don't pay any attention to them, or at the most they give them a smile.

"In America, those couples would be kicked off the street.

"Also, I don't think European women are taught quite as much that they are sacred vessels. In Europe, women are something more than pedestal sitters. When they have a relationship with a man, it's a man-and-woman relationship, not a man-and-pedestal relationship."

Jones took a puff on his pipe and explained what he thinks Europeans could learn from Americans:

"All Europeans could stand a little more of the intrinsic human kindness which the Americans have.

"Of course, the Americans haven't had enemies around them all the time like the people in Europe. That may have some influence."

The author of "From Here to Eternity" and "Some Came Running" is working on a book about combat in the Pacific during World War II — "It is supposed to be a comic war novel."

He is also gathering material for a novel that will have a Parisian setting and the late French jazz guitarist Django Reinhardt is a model for its central figure.

Rats Threaten Invasion of Mexican Community

Residents attribute the numerous cat deaths to fumingations in an anti-malaria campaign.

The rats are multiplying fast and are invading fields, barns and homes.

As a result of the cat shortage, the price of kittens has gone up to 80 cents.

Argentina and Australia account for more than half the wool produced in the world. The United States is third in wool production.

Lutheran Missouri Synod to Meet Every 2 Years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After a century of meeting every three years, the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, is going to meet every two.

The synod's triennial conference so voted Friday night, accepting a proposal of its survey commission. The change will be affective after the 1962 convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

Ireland Pays Alimony, Cleared of Contempt

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor John Ireland was cleared of contempt of court charges Friday after paying $3,241 in back alimony and child support to the wife who divorced him 10 years ago.

By Elaine Ruth Ireland he has two sons, John, 15, and Peter, 12.

His ex-wife still has pending in court a request for an increase in child support payments.

Baptists Face Ouster Over Liquor Business

ANTLERS, Okla. (AP) — The First Baptist Church here has adopted a resolution warning members that they face explusion from the church if they enter the liquor business.

Oklahoma voted repeal of prohibition April 7 and the Legislature is now writing a statutory law governing its sale and use. Sale of liquor is expected to be legal by Sept. 1.

2 Missouri Newspapers Still Tied Up by Strike

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Residents of Missouri's two largest cities went without daily newspapers again today—Kansas Citians for the second day and St. Louisans for the 11th.
