Heavy Schedule Faces President

Problems of Mideast, NATO, Foreign Aid, Budget on Ike's Agenda

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower packs his golf clubs today and flies back to Washington to deal with tough international problems and try to push his legislative program through Congress.

On the international front, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty envisioned "very difficult days ahead" for Eisenhower.

Hagerty put it that way—and mentioned the Middle East specifically — in speaking in Augusta last night at Georgia's State Rotary Convention.

The problems of building a strong Western Europe engage the President's attention first on his return to Washington.

Planning to meet him at the airport there was Secretary of State Dulles, who leaves by plane later in the day for a meeting of the North Atlantic Council at Bonn, Germany.

A major task the United States faces at the NATO session is to try to persuade its European allies against further reduction of their armed forces in the face of a continuing Soviet threat.

Still another problem confronting Eisenhower in the international field is the criticism in Congress of the administration's projected $4,400,000,000 foreign aid program.

Many lawmakers think the program is too expensive — and they are talking about a good-sized cut.

All the Eisenhower headaches are not in the international front by any means. His domestic legislative program is bogged down and he is being told by friends in Congress it will take a real personal effort to bring action on key programs before the lawmakers adjourn in July or August.

Witness Claims 'Consent' of Navy on Union Payoffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A manufacturer's testimony that he made payoffs to a Teamsters Union official with the "consent" of the government and with funds from the Navy sent Senate rackets probers off today on a new tack.

Earl P. Bettendorf, who operates pallet manufacturing plants at Ashdown, Ark., and Sandston, Va., variously called the payments "bribes" and denied they were bribes, in testimony at a public hearing yesterday before the Senate Rackets Investigation Committee.

Bettendorf appeared at his own request, to correct what he said were injustices done him by witnesses who testified in previous hearings by the committee.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) ordered a swift follow-through inquiry into the facts about Bettendorf's story that the Navy supplied him with $18,591.30 "so the union could be paid off."

The amount of the alleged payoffs remained uncertain, however.

Bettendorf said he paid a total of about $4,000. He did not explain what was done with the rest of the money.

Bettendorf testified that the payments went to Joseph McHugh, a business agent of the Scranton, Pa., Teamsters Union local.

The witness said the payments were made to get the union's permission for his trucks to make deliveries at the government's Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna, Pa.

"I was paying him a bribe," the manufacturer said of McHugh at one point. "I paid it with the complete knowledge of the U. S. government." He also said he paid with the government's "knowledge and consent."

But Bettendorf also insisted that he did not consider it was a bribe.

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) retorted that "there is no other word for it," and added, "A bribe is against the law."

McHugh and Robert Malloy, another business agent for the union, are under federal indictment in Scranton now on charges of receiving $4,200 from Bettendorf.

Bettendorf insisted that not only did the government know he was making the payments, but that he cooperated with the FBI for two years while the case was under investigation.

Bettendorf said that when his trucks first started deliveries to Tobyhanna in August 1953, the union demanded $13.12 each to let them in.

He said he got in touch with Washington and also with McHugh.

He said McHugh finally set-

Army Will Honor Roger M. Kyes for His Service

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Roger M. Kyes, former deputy secretary of defense, will receive the Department of the Army's Award for Exceptional Civilian Service, at a luncheon of the Associated Harvard Clubs here Saturday.

The award will be presented by Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker. Kyes, a vice president and director of General Motors, and a resident of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., left the company in January, 1953, to serve in the defense post. He returned to GM in the spring of 1954.

On Friday evening, as part of the three-day meeting of the Associated Harvard Clubs, Kyes will be one of the speakers at a symposium on "The Role of the University in Government."

14 Others Flee With 4 Adults as Home Burns

Elaine Knowlton's Body Found in Her Crib After Morning Blaze

A 2½-year-old girl suffocated in her crib as 14 children and four adults fled flames which destroyed their Rose Township frame home early this morning.

The body of Elaine Knowlton, one of eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knowlton, was found burned beyond recognition, by volunteer fireman Gerald Mereness.

The eight room one floor building at 8500 Pepper Rd., 14 miles northwest of Pontiac, housed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benjamin and their seven children, in addition to the Knowlton family. All others escaped without injury.

Cause of the 2 a.m. blaze which the Springfield Township Fire Department fought was not immediately determined.

Assistant Fire Chief Marlon Hillman said when he and nine other volunteers arrived, "the house was leveled."

Mereness found the dead child as he searched through the remains of beds in the dwelling.

Smoke aroused Mrs. Knowlton at 2 a.m. She awakened her husband, and they began rushing the children from the house.

"It was so dark, I couldn't even see some of the kids," she said today. A quick count outside revealed that Elaine was missing.

Jordan to Accept $10 Million in Aid

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Jordan's new government has indicated it will accept an offer of 10 million dollars in U.S. economic aid so long as it doesn't commit the Arab nation to the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Talks on the American offer to bolster the country's shaky economy—previously dependent on the bounty of Saudia Arabia, Egypt and Syria — already were under way.

The Soviet Union, meanwhile, accused the United States of heading a plot to deprive the Arab countries of their freedom.

Moscow charged that the past three weeks of crisis in Jordan and other Middle East tensions resulted from the desire of "American billionaires" to become rulers of the area.

The U.S. Embassy announced the 10-million-dollar aid offer in recognition of the "brave steps taken by His Majesty King Hussein and the government and people of Jordan to maintain the integrity and independence of their nation."

Texas Geared for New Floods

Raging Rivers Threaten Worst Inundations Ever; More Rain Due

DALLAS (AP) — Cities and towns in east and southeast Texas are geared today for the worst flood threat in decades, as rain-swollen rivers raced toward the Gulf.

Virtually every major river in east and south central Texas was surging near or above major flood stages.

The Weather Bureau predicted another five days of the devastating heavy rain that has lashed the state for almost two weeks, flooding lowlands and forcing thousands of persons to evacuate their homes.

The April floods and tornadoes have been declared by the Red Cross as the worst disasters in the history of its Texas operations.

The Small Business Administration yesterday designated eight counties as disaster areas because of floods and tornadoes. These include Dallas, Tarrant, Bell, Coryell, Williams, McLennan, Smith and Gregg.

The action makes home and business owners whose property was damaged eligible to apply for rehabilitation construction loans at 3 per cent interest rates.

The worst flood threat in the state appeared to be on the Sabine River, which runs along the eastern boundary with Louisiana.

The Weather Bureau at Shreveport, La., which handles the upper Sabine, issued flood warnings for its entire length, from the headwaters deep in northeast Texas to the Gulf of Mexico.

Fly Addicts Score Well on 'Restricted' Streams

By JACK PATTERSON
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

GAYLORD—It's hard to believe that it isn't midsummer. Yesterday was nicer than anything we had all last June, July and August. Although we were on the spot to give the main stream an early workout we hesitated to do so when we learned that the Gay Herringtons, Ben Jerome Jrs. and Harold Hopkins had been giving it a weekend workout. Then we learned that Bill Hargreaves had been doing some concentrated work on the stream and decided to list the waters as fished out.

On the way over for our annual opening creel count at Woodland Springs we stopped on the North Branch at Lovells and pinned down the local conservation officer, Jim Corbett, on the "where's" and "what fors" of local fishing.

Generally, fishermen are doing very well in the restricted waters there. Stone flies, some Mayflies and a few caddies are hatching, enough so that dry fishing is definitely in order.

At Woodland Springs we found the boys had been doing very well. We were unable to determine the ownership of a 17½ inch brookie—which is a nice trout for

McHale Promoted to Tiger Front Office

DETROIT (AP) — John J. McHale today was named general manager of the Detroit Tigers, succeeding Walter O. (Spike) Briggs who resigned under fire five days ago.

McHale, 35, thus becomes the youngest general manager in baseball. The energetic young executive has been with the Detroit Tiger organization more than 16 years, moving up from the player ranks into the front office.

Regarded as the "bright young man" in the Tiger organization, McHale quit the player ranks to become assistant to the then farm director Red Rolfe in June 1948. He became farm director in the fall of 1952 and last fall, the 11 new owners took control of the club and named him director of player personnel.

Ingle Calls Quits in Feud Over Justice Court Costs

By PETE LOCHBILER

Farmington Justice Allen C. Ingle yesterday confirmed he has bowed to an attorney general's opinion that squeezing local and county profits out of justice court revenues is illegal.

One odd consequence of the surrender, was a 10-cent fine imposed yesterday for reckless driving.

LOCHBILER

But Ingle explained that nevertheless, violators will not get softer sentences as a result of his decision.

The Farmington justice said henceforth he will charge only what Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh calls "the actual costs of prosecution," eliminating so-called "excess costs," which in the past have been earmarked for township or county coffers.

Ingle, president of the Oakland County Judicial Assn., had been the last defender of a system practiced several years in Oakland County and strongly attacked by Kavanagh and Aud. Gen. Frank Szymanski.

Thousands of dollars were accumulated for operation, generally, of local and county law enforcement.

Calling the system "economically sound and a step towards greater home rule," Ingle had continued to deny Kavanagh's opinion was valid.

He still denies it. But yesterday, the justice said he was "tired of fighting a one-man battle."

"It's the county that has been profiting from my court," Ingle said. "But the county officials don't seem to be interested in protesting what the attorney general has to say."

Before the opinion came from Lansing in February, justices generally had been charging more money as costs than actually was used in paying authorized fees.

What ever was left over after paying the justice his fee and other minor changes was retained locally or by the county, depending on whether the case was a violation of local or state law.

The system did not cost the violator any more money, Ingle consistently pointed out, since the total penalty was never increased. Justices simply charged more money as costs and less as fines.

Fines cannot be retained in the county, but must go to the state school library fund.

The system was profitably practiced for three years with the sanction of the county's legal experts.

TOWNSHIP PROFITED

One township, Waterford, was able to use justice court revenues to pay for five-sixths of its $120,000 police department last year.

Ingle, who mostly handles traffic tickets handed out by State Police for state law violations helped the county reap annual profits amounting to about $50,000 last year.

With Kavanagh's decision, however, Ingle and the other justices decided on substantial compliance, limiting assessment of costs usually to $10 a case.

Then last month, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem advised justices to follow the attorney general's opinion "to the letter."

Justices generally did, but Ingle was the major standout.

Yesterday, the Farmington justice said he was not going to become involved in bookkeeping odd change. That's where the 10-cent fine comes in.

Sentencing a reckless driver, Ingle said he wanted to impose a $5 penalty and a 10-day jail sentence.

"The actual costs of prosecution amounted to $4.90. I charge this, just as the attorney general wants it, and then fined the man an additional 10 cents to make it an even $5," he explained.

Court Fee Bill Dies in Lansing

Legislators Quelch Bid to Permit Townships to Keep Revenue

Legislation that would give townships a financial shot in the arm from justice court revenues has been turned down in Lansing, Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, of Waterford Township, said yesterday.

Despite last ditch efforts for a bill that would allow townships to retain fines and costs from some traffic tickets, the bill was killed by a House committee, Anderson said.

Anderson said a block representing state school library fund interests defeated the measure that would give townships the same "home rule" rights now enjoyed by cities.

Under present law, justice court revenues go to the library fund.

Failure of the legislation was a blow to townships that want to use revenues from traffic tickets to help support local police departments.

One township, Waterford, gained about $103,000 from such revenues last year for a 16-man police force. But last month this practice was abandoned as illegal until such time as the law is changed. Eight officers subsequently were dismissed from the force for lack of money to pay them.

Anderson, former township supervisor, yesterday admitted there is no possibility remaining that the law can be changed this year.

Jordan Will Accept $10 Million in Aid

said the Jordan government had requested the aid last weekend.

White emphasized that it would come out of regular foreign aid funds, not from the 200 million dollars authorized to combat communism under the Eisenhower Doctrine.

"We would welcome any assistance from anywhere provided it is offered unconditionally and would not interfere in any way with the freedom, sovereignty and independence of Jordan."

DOCTRINE NOT ISSUE

Rifai said the Eisenhower Doctrine "isn't the issue before this government," and that Jordan has no intention of inviting James P. Richards, the U.S. President's special Middle East envoy, to come to Amman to explain the anti-Communist doctrine.

Hussein and his new government already have made important strides in ridding Jordan of Communist and leftist elements.

Officials of the U.S. operations mission to Jordan began talks with government officials on ways to use the new funds. The mission director, Harold S. Nelson, said the 10 million dollars is in addition to five million already on hand for development projects in Jordan.

Hussein and his government, meanwhile, were trying to restore the public semblance of unity with Egypt and Syria, which are joined with Jordan and Saudi Arabia in an Egyptian-commanded military alliance.

A joint communique on Sunday's talks in Saudi Arabia between Hussein and King Saud said the two Arab rulers agreed that the Jordanian government crisis was "entirely an internal affair."

Congress Hears of Mideast Cost

U.S. to Pay $6,583,000 on Bill in Suez Crisis, U.N. Police Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Congress approves, the United States will pay about 40 per cent or $6,583,000, of the cost of the United Nation's peace-keeping force in the Middle East.

The special force, made up of contingents from countries with no direct interest in the Middle East crisis, was sent into Egypt after the British-French-Israeli invasion.

The proposed financial arrangements were disclosed yesterday with publication of closed-door testimony taken April 2 by a House Appropriations subcommittee. They are included in a special bill providing funds for agencies which overspent their appropriations.

Other testimony released showed that closing of the Suez Canal cost the U. S. Navy an extra eight million dollars for fuel transportation.

The State Department reported it had spent about a million dollars evacuating 3,213 persons from the afflicted area. Some of these costs, but not all, will be repaid, witnesses said.

Testimony about the cost of the U. N. Emergency Force came from Asst. Secretary of State Francis O. Wilcox, who told the subcommittee the proposed U. S. contribution is made up of two components.

The first, $3,333,000, represents approximately a third of the 10 million dollars the United Nations originally estimated the force would cost. This cost was assessed against the U. N. members in proportion to their regular U.N. contributions.

But later the cost estimate was revised upward by an additional 6½ million dollars. The General Assembly asked for voluntary contributions. The U. S. delegation offered, subject to congressional approval, to pay half.

Wilcox said the Soviet Union had declined to pay anything, claiming Israel, Great Britain and France should foot the bill. Wilcox said also that "as far as I know" no other country yet has actually contributed to the 6½-million-dollar fund.

Three Rezoning Petitions Denied by Commissioners

BIRMINGHAM—Three petitions for rezoning were considered by commissioners who followed Planning Board recommendations of denial, last night.

The request of Harold Turner to be permitted to store new automobiles on three Bowers street lots was denied in view of the fact that city planners have a long-range project for rezoning the entire area to multiple family.

The Mike Haribedian petition for Business A classification at Birmingham's extreme eastern line also is in the multiple family use in future planning. Both petitioners will be notified that they may have a public hearing if so desired.

Attorney George Cram, representing Harold K. Turner, indicated that he would like the hearing set for June 10.

A third petitioner, the Birmingham YMCA, was told that the present zoning of income bungalow makes a change unnecessary for their Lincoln avenue building. However, should their expansion plan include dining and dormitory facilities it will throw them into a non-conforming use of the present zoning.

City planners indicated that this could not be accepted.

Wisconsin Honors Fluoridation Backer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dr. Frederick S. McKay, Colorado Springs, Colo., dentist whose research led to fluoridation as a method of preventing tooth decay, has been made an honorary member of the Wisconsin State Dental Society today.

Dr. McKay, here to address the society's 87th annual convention, said in an interview yesterday that opponents of fluoridation have been getting stronger.

"They are putting their side across better than we are," he said, "by using emotional appeal and scare techniques, such as saying fluoridation is poison. This is utter nonsense."

"Fluoridation," Dr. McKay said, "is the first opportunity to exercise mass control over caries (tooth decay). All other methods up to the present time—vitamins, brushes, additional calcium —have failed. The decay rate actually is increasing where fluoridation is not used."

Wisconsin, with about 100 cities now fluoridating their water supply, leads the nation. About 1,425 cities through the nation are using fluoridated water.

Australians Scramble for $500,000 Top Prize

Lotteries Dangle Big Bait

By DENIS N. HAWKER
Visiting Australian Journalist

Talk in Pontiac sometimes turns to lotteries —

HAWKER

It may not be a safe investment — it seldom is — but that does not prevent hundreds of thousands of Australians from testing Lady Luck regularly by buying lottery tickets.

Lotteries are big businesses in Australia where gambling of one type or another is a national characteristic.

So big has the lottery industry grown that state governments, which impose heavy taxes on turnover, are finding that it would be hard to balance their budgets without lottery contributions.

5 OF 6 STATES

Five of the six states — South Australia is the exception — have lotteries.

The Golden Gasket in Queensland has about $1,400 as its normal top prize and is drawn in Brisbane two or three times a week. The New South Wales lottery, with headquarters in Sydney, has a similar scale of prizes, but is drawn as often as twice a day. West Australia has its own lottery.

The lottery industry in Australia was founded in Tasmania — my home state — near the end of last century, by an entrepreneur named George Adams. His Tattersalls lottery with regular top prizes of about $25,000 for a 50 cent ticket attracted a worldwide subscriber list and was the nation's main lottery business.

LOTTERY MOVES

Two or three years ago the state of Victoria managed to interest Tattersalls in transferring from Hobart, the capital of Tasmania, to the much bigger city of Melbourne.

The Victorian government from lottery taxes is now able to devote many millions of dollars a year to hospitals.

But Tasmania was not too happy about this deal. It stood to lose a big piece of income, and so it encouraged an entrepreneur to establish another lottery licensed by the government.

LOTTERY WAR

And so has started a lottery war. In recent years lotteries have been challenging each other with bigger and bigger prizes until today a $500,000 first prize with scaled down minor prizes is not uncommon.

Lotteries are conducted for instance on the Melbourne Cup — one of the world's richest horse races. A few lucky ticket holders draw horses and one very lucky investor draws the first horse and a mammoth prize.

Tickets in the big lotteries can range in cost up to $200, but for regular small prize drawings the usual cost is about 40 cents.

BASED ON TURNOVER

Taxes imposed on lotteries are based on turnover. The normal disbursement is 60 per cent returned in prizes, 30 per cent contributed to state treasuries, and 10 per cent retained for conduct of the businesses and profit.

With many millions of dollars invested by the public the return to governments is considerable. This, of course, is no answer to the question whether lotteries — gambling under another name — are moral.

Their supporters point to the practical benefits in hard cash. Opponents on the other hand — and there is a hard core of opposition — say the practical view cannot hide the moral point at issue.

Board Cancels Agreement for Waterford Public Dump

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
of Our Waterford Bureau

At their regular meeting last night, Waterford Township board members acknowledged the problem of dumping waste material has again become a vital issue.

The board revoked the license and canceled an agreement with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson, of 7265 Pontiac Lake Rd. to operate a public dump near their home.

About 150 residents had filed petitions in December for the canceling of the agreement. The board waited till last night to take action, however.

The agreement was drawn up April 29, 1956, exactly a year ago yesterday.

INSIST ON ACTION

Thirty residents in the area near the privately owned dump last night insisted on action.

The board in other action approved no parking zones for Hickory Nut and Lamothe streets in the Elizabeth Dale Subdivision and on Pine Grove street between Morningride and Cooley Lake road in the Elizabeth Shores Subdivision.

Residents requested the zones, claiming the cars parked on both sides of the road were traffic hazards.

EXTENSIVE SURVEY

An extensive survey and approval for the zones have been made by the Oakland County Road Commission, State Police, Sheriff's Department and the township police.

The board also approved the purchase of 14 signs for the two subdivisions. But property owners must pay to install them.

The monthly financial report was presented by Supervisor Elmer Johnson. It showed an April balance of $57,587.79.

On March 31, there was a balance of $70,906.72. Receipts in April were $23,612.28. Disbursements were $36,931.11.

Richard Lamberton, board member, was appointed to the Zoning Board of Appeals to replace Willard Johnson. There are two expired terms on the Zoning Board for which several names were submitted for consideration until the board's next meeting.

Bettendorf Claims Navy Supplied Payoff

tied on payments of $175 a week from Bettendorf, after first demanding $225, with instructions to send the payments in currency. After several weeks of paying, McHugh telephoned him to say:

"My God, don't send any more of those packages in here. The feds are after us."

He said he kept on paying at the same weekly rate, but less frequently and in amounts of $700 to $800 at a time.

Bettendorf said he never told the Navy he was paying McHugh $175 a week. He said, however, the Navy agreed to alter his contract and allowed him to charge an additional 19½ cents per pallet on his contract to cover extra freight and unloading charges, including, he said, 4¼ cents per pallet for the union.

Pallets are platforms which allow some clearance between a stack of goods and the floor, permitting the stack to be moved by power equipment.

Bettendorf said he kept books on the payments, and that the FBI placed the whole arrangement under surveillance with his cooperation. He said that if a hundred other businessmen would "put their heads on the block the way I did" they could end illegal activity by unions.

Bettendorf said he first had believed the money was being passed on through McHugh to unemployed Teamsters. But he said he changed his mind about this after McHugh told him not to mention the payments to anyone at the government depot.

Bettendorf, contending he was paying under duress, said:

"Every time I made one of these so-called payoffs . . . they always told me what they did to my competitors."

He said he would have had to shut down his factory unless he paid.

Fly Addicts Do Well in Restricted Areas

this day and age in Michigan—because Joe Hiltz, Lee Voorhees, Jim Clarke and Drs. Vern Abbott and Cleo Gatley all took credit for it.

Later on came a visit to the Hunt Creek experimental station, to see what biologists had to offer on the fishing situation. Fishermen were doing quite a bit of mischief in stocked waters, somewhat less well on native fish. East Fish Lake a designated trout lake, all but got fished out the first couple days.

We'd planned to stop at Blue Lake and show Howard Deeter something about fishing, but the sun was warm and the wind was easing and we couldn't help thinking of hatches on the North Branch

And hatches there were when we got back to the stream.

As all fly fishermen know, there are few more exasperating experiences than running into trout that have made up their minds to feed selectively. These had. We tried the usual gimmicks and then inadvertently hit on the proper ticket.

We've heard of many oddities on a trout stream before but fishing a nymph dry was a new one. And yet that did the trick. We found some horrible old caddis nymphs tied of polar bear hair and the fish couldn't resist 'em.

There was the usual spate of little ones but now and then a nice one got himself in trouble. Might have been there yet but we lost both nymphs to littoral addenda and nothing else worked. Best fish brought to hand was a 15 inch brown.

A somewhat better one freed himself before we could release him.

Highland Park Man Found Dead in Auto

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Police yesterday reported stopping an automobile for a routine check and finding a dead man in the car's rear seat.

They identified him as Wilbur Raymond Madderra, 33, Highland Park, Mich., and said the car was registered to him.

Patrol officer Kenneth Gandall said the car was driven by a man who identified himself as Alfred Franklin Norris, 39, a laborer from Stone County, Missouri. Norris told officers he wasn't aware that Madderra, whom he met here and with whom he said he had been drinking, was dead before the car was halted.

Officers found no sign of violence to Madderra's body. They said an autopsy was planned to determine the cause of death.

Marines Land in Middle East —on Liberty

ABOARD USS MOUNT McKINLEY, in Beirut (AP)—Marines of the U.S. 6th Fleet went ashore in the Middle East today, wearing tropical dress uniforms rather than battle fatigues and grins instead of grenades.

While 50 other ships of the fleet conducted air defense maneuvers, six transports with 1,800 men of the 6th Marines' 2nd Battalion moved into Beirut harbor for a liberty party.

A two-pounder gun on this flagship of the amphibious force boomed separate 21-gun salutes for Lebanon and President Camille Chamoun as the force entered the harbor at 9 a.m.

"We were prepared to shoot our way into a trouble spot if necessary," said Cmdr. John Jones of Chatsworth, Ga., executive officer of the Mount McKinley.

"It is good to be using salute guns to do the shooting."

The supercarrier Forrestal, center of the fleet, steamed briskly into the wind as planes landed on its flight decks.

Grand Trunk Opposes Gates

Safety Device at Wilson, Saginaw Not Needed, Claims Railroad

At a hearing held yesterday before the Michigan Public Service Commission, a representative of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad voiced opposition to installing safety gates at the South Saginaw and Wilson street railroad crossing.

This was the report from Theodore M. Vanderstempel, Pontiac traffic engineer, who represented the city at a two-hour hearing in Lansing along with William A. Ewart, city attorney.

"G. J. Stonehouser, the signal engineer for Grand Trunk, stated that they didn't think the gates were necessary," Vanderstempel said.

Vanderstempel said he spoke of the "high potential danger spot" existing at the crossing.

The commission will hand down its decision based on yesterday's hearing, the Pontiac official stated.

Boy, 4, Bitten by Dog; 15 Stitches Required

WAYNE (INS)—A four-year-old Romulus Township boy was in Carpenter's Hospital in Wayne today with severe facebites inflicted by his 75-pound German shepherd dog.

Robert Curley was bitten yesterday while he and some neighbor boys were playing with the dog, named King.

Fifteen stitches were required to close Robert's wound.

The dog was ordered chained in the Curley back yard for 10 days by sheriff's road patrol officers. He will be watched for any signs of rabies although doctors said it was doubtful he could be rabid because he was vaccinated last fall.

The boy's father, Charles Curley, 29, said the dog normally was very friendly. Robert was the first person he bit.

Police said the animal must have had the boy's entire head in his mouth to inflict the damage with only one bite.

Detroit Papers Expect Normal Editions Today

DETROIT (AP) — Publication of the Detroit News and Detroit Times was expected to return to normal today.

Early editions of the newspapers were canceled yesterday after a work stoppage among paper handlers at the News.

Each newspaper published two editions in mid-afternoon after the News had missed four editions and the Times, three. Under a publishers agreement the Times held up deliveries until the News stoppage ended.

Members of Local 10, Detroit Paper Handlers and Plate Handlers Union were advised to return to work "under protest" by International President Thomas E. Dunwody.

'He Keeps You Laughing All the Way'

Ike's New Caddy Likes Job

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "The President, he's a fine fellow. He keep you laughing all the way 'round that golf course. No sir, you never get lonesome going 'round with him."

That's the way Sam Little feels about President Eisenhower, the man for whom he has been caddying daily since April 18.

Sam, 37-year-old Negro, took over as Eisenhower's new caddy at that time. Not entirely new, at that. He used to carry Eisenhower's bag once in a while at the Augusta National Golf Club before Eisenhower was elected president.

But until this visit ending today, Sam never had caddied for the President of the United States. He got the job after the club fired Willie (Cemetery) Perteet as the presidential caddy.

The 51-year-old Perteet had to go because he was "getting a bit too decrepit," Ed Dudley, the club pro, explained early this month.

Sam said in a telephone interview he certainly has enjoyed caddying for Eisenhower. These days the President rides an electric golf cart a good part of the way around the course.

That means Sam doesn't have to carry the golf bag very much, but he's right there beside Eisenhower every shot he makes.

"He takes his golf mighty serious, the President does," Sam reported. "But he has a good time too, I mean."

The grounds will not be open to the public, the agreement stated, and the company must keep the gate locked.

Dulles Leaves for NATO Talks

Council Seeks to Spur West German Buildup; Study Alliance Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles flies to Europe today for another Atlantic treaty meeting seeking, among other things, to spur West Germany into a faster military buildup.

Dulles is reported also planning to rap the British knuckles for the abrupt way Britain proposes to cut back its troop commitment to he North Atlantic Treaty Organizaion as part of an over-all military retrenchment over the next five years.

But Dulles' main moves, it was understood, would come under the heading of holding the alliance together. This has been a chief concern of NATO ever since the first sunny shafts of "peaceful coexistence" started glistening from Moscow after Joseph Stalin's death in 1953.

NATO's "Three Wisemen"—Foreign Ministers L. B. (Mike) Pearson of Canada, Halvard Lange of Norway and Gaetino Martino of Italy—were assigned the task a year ago of finding a way to make NATO into something more lasting than a military alliance. Their report was adopted last December. Its implementation will be studied at the NATO ministerial Council meeting Dulles is attending May 2-4 at Bonn, West Germany.

Security for You

Compulsory SS Protects Nation's Aged

BY RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

"Why is Social Security compulsory?" I asked a Social Security official the other day. "From the letters I get, it seems that a lot of people don't like the idea and would rather do their own planning for retirement."

"Well," he said, "it's that way mainly because the majority of Americans want it that way. They've said so by sending the people to Congress who set up and have continued the system.

"And, it's compulsory for the same reason that every child must go to school. It's important not only to the child to have an education but to the community that all citizens have one. It's too important to leave to individual choice.

"The community protects itself and its interests by regulating conduct in dozens of other ways. No one is allowed to have a building which is a fire hazard. People who have contagious diseases may be quarantined. Those who drive cars must follow certain rules.

"Furthermore, we all have to pay taxes to support services which the community decides are necessary — even though we as individuals may not feel the need for these services. Police, fire and health protection, as well as schools, are among such community services."

"But," I asked, "are these things the same as compulsory Social Security?"

"Sure, they're the same things," he said. "Look at it this way: each person is required to have Social Security to protect himself and his family against loss of his earnings due to old age, death or disability. It's too important to the community to leave the protection to individual choice.

DEPEND ON EARNINGS

"Most people depend solely on their earnings for their living. Few can hold out for any length of time if they can't continue to work. Old age, death and disability are hazards to their ability to work and are things they can't control. They're the things Social Security protects against.

"Just as with the education of a child, the community must see to it that old people have a source of income. The same goes for widows and orphans and disabled workers. Poverty and dependence are as much a matter of community concern as tuberculosis or an epidemic of typhoid fever."

"This all may be true," I said. "But, couldn't essentially the same end be served by putting Social Security on a voluntary basis. If, as you say, a majority of people want Social Security, then, a majority would belong to the system. The others who want to plan their own retirement and security could do so with the Social Security tax they're paying."

"No, I don't think the same end would be served," he said.

"Experience has shown that many of the people who really need the protection of Social Security wouldn't voluntarily participate. This is particularly true of workers with low incomes.

"Sure, they're concerned about retirement, disability and what could happen to their families if they should die. But, they'd put off getting the protection because they felt they needed the money to meet the day-to-day costs of the necessities of living. Then, in emergencies, the community would have to step in and take over."

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Optimists Start New Club; Meet for Breakfast

The Pontiac Optimists have inaugurated a new club, which is to meet each Wednesday in the Roosevelt Hotel at 7:30 a.m. This breakfast club is to be entirely separate from the more traditional luncheon club.

"The idea stems from the fact that many men cannot make it to a noon-day club while the early hours are open for such events," said Dave Ewalt, public relations chairman of the luncheon club.

"The Optimists International has found the breakfast meeting very popular."

Officers of the new club are: Rudy H. Mazza, president; Carl F. Rose and H. Malcolm Kahn, vice presidents; Robert H. Schapler, secretary-treasurer; Charles E. Cummings, sergeant-at-arms.

The newly elected directors are: William J. Fisher, Roy D. Weir, Richard D. Kuhn, Edgar I. Gillies, Frank G. Oosterhof, and Donald E. Weiss. Elections were held last Wednesday.

McCarthy Treated for Liver Ailment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was reported "responding well" to treatment at Bethesda Naval Hospital for acute hepatitis — inflammation of the liver.

That was the report issued last night by a hospital spokesman who said the senator's condition "is considered serious but not critical." He said McCarthy was slightly improved since yesterday morning.

McCarthy was admitted to the hospital at 5 p. m. Sunday. He has been in an oxygen tent.

The senator's office said he had not complained of being ill last week. He has been treated at Bethesda twice in the last two years for an old knee injury.

The most powerful gasoline

any car can use

This gasoline is Super Shell, the successor to Shell Premium. It is an entirely new grade of gasoline which instantly and automatically supplies any engine with the full octane value required for knock-free power under every driving condition.

In the last 5 years, automobile horsepower has soared, with the result that motorists can enjoy performance never before thought possible.

But this progress created problems.

Many of today's cars cannot deliver their finest performance on premium-grade gasoline. Their new higher compression ratios is a major reason.

And with the prospect of still more powerful cars in the years ahead, a more powerful gasoline, one higher than high test, had to be made.

That is why Shell now brings you the most powerful gasoline any car can use—Super Shell with TCP*.

Super Shell will be available at your Shell Dealer's tomorrow.

What can Super Shell do for you? If you own one of the new 1957 cars, Super Shell with TCP additive can give your car all the power it was built to deliver.

Or if you own any recent-model car and have been using a premium-grade gasoline, you can expect better performance with Super Shell than you've ever known before.

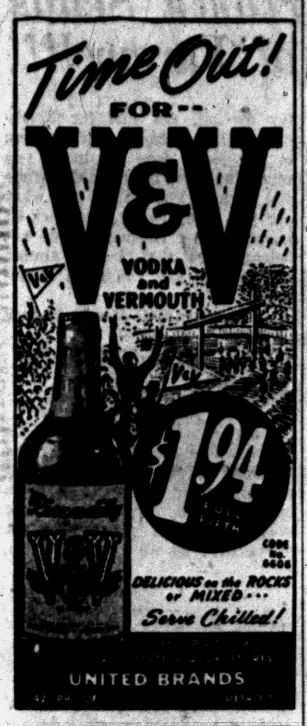

You'll get maximum knock-free acceleration from a standing start as well as the full power needed for safe passing at highway speeds. And when you're just cruising along—Super Shell's great power is converted to extra miles per gallon.

Even the pump is new. When you drive into your local Shell station, you'll find Super Shell with TCP in a new white pump. It's a bargain in quality, a bargain in price. Super Shell is the most powerful gasoline any car can use!

Chip Off the Old Block?

You probably have some special college in mind for your son when he reaches the age of eighteen. Perhaps your own alma mater. It's a wonderful dream. But will it come true?

American colleges are facing a crisis. The pressure of applications is mounting fast. It's expected to double by 1967. Our colleges and universities are doing their best to meet the challenge, but they are hampered by lack of funds. Not only are expanded facilities needed, but more and better-paid professors to maintain scholastic standards.

Unless something is done now about this serious situation, your bright young son may not get into any college.

For the sake of your children and the future of your country, help the colleges and universities of your choice—now!

If you want to know what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Commission Agenda: Public Improvements

It will be another package of public improment items facing the City Commission tonight as commissioners continue to plow through the city's 1957 program of projects.

The commission's weekly agenda lists 13 public hearings, five engineer's estimates, submission of special assessment rolls, and the tabulation of bids for combined sewer work — all part of Pontiac's current city-wide improvement program.

All items must pass before the commission as required by the City Charter.

The public will be most concerned with the following hearings at which time they have the right to voice approval or objections relating to the work.

Hearings will be conducted on intention to construct the following curb, gutter, and related work projects for:

Chicago avenue from Baldwin to the Pontiac, Oxford, and Northern Railroad, East Colgate avenue from Baldwin to University, and from University to the railroad, New York avenue from Baldwin to the railroad, Yale avenue from Carlisle to Stanley, Tennyson avenue from Joslyn to Highwood, and on Lookout drive from East boulevard to Astor.

Citizens with questions on financing will have a chance to voice same covering the following jobs:

Water mains in Kennett road from Cloverlawn to 65.38 feet east of the west line of school property, and in Mt. Clemens street from Emerson avenue to Bay street and in Bay street from the south property line of lot 6 of the Lake Court Subdivision to the north line of Herrington Hills Subdivision.

For a sanitary sewer and related work on the northwest side of Montcalm street from Oakland to Blaine.

For a sidewalk and related work on the west side of Joslyn avenue from First to Second.

For curb, gutter, and related work on Ivy street from Perry to Montcalm, and on Roselawn drive from Fiddis to Maines.

Tension Mounts in Honduras

Diplomats Seek Solution to Border Clash; See Oil as Possible Cause

GUATEMALA (AP) — Central-American diplomats sought today to keep Honduras and Nicaragua from fighting over a border region claimed by both countries.

Tension mounted to the point that neighboring nations began to express concern. Belief that the region might possibly contain oil underlies the dispute.

Honduras brought formal charges of aggression against Nicaragua yesterday before the Organization of American States which has headquarters in Washington.

Honduras claims 50 Nicaraguan soldiers last week moved into the newly created Honduran frontier province of Gracias a Dios, occupied a school, looted shops, stole livestock and got drunk.

Honduras claimed the thrust occurred at Mocoron, an Indian village of 1,000 persons about 20 miles inside territory it claims.

Informed sources in Tegucigalpa yesterday said Honduran troops were driving out the Nicaraguans. But reports from Managua, the Nicaraguan capital, denied that any clash had taken place.

Nicaragua maintains that Mocoron "is and has always been Nicaraguan territory."

Nicaragua is drilling for oil off its Caribbean coast. If oil is found there, it might also be found in the same continental shelf off Honduras. That factor, as well as national pride, accounts for the bitterness of the border dispute.

Bogus Check Suspect Placed in County Jail

Lester Packett, brought back from Tennessee Sunday by Pontiac police on a governor's warrant accusing him of cashing a bad check, was committed to the Oakland County Jail Monday after he demanded examination.

The 24-year-old former Pontiac man was arraigned before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and failed to furnish a $200 bond. Examination was set for May 8.

Detective Orville C. Johnson and Patrolman Marvin T. Blum returned Packett to Pontiac to face the charge of passing a $75 bogus check, drawn on a Detroit bank, in a Pontiac clothing store last July.

Camp Oakland Counselors to Get MSU Courses

Michigan State University will offer college courses this summer to students acting as counselors at Camp Oakland.

Camp Director William J. Matus said four courses are available for graduate and undergraduate students.

Under the program, he said, counselors will be able to earn up to nine credit hours, while receiving free tuition, room, board and $50 salary.

The instructor will be Dr. Kingsley Montgomery, psychologist for Highland Park Schools, Matus said.

Inquiries for enrollment, Matus said, should be directed to him at Camp Oakland in Oxford.

About 100 underprivileged children from 7 to 12 years old are accommodated at the camp on Handsome Lake between Oxford and Lake Orion, from June 20 to Aug. 17.

Post Office Plight Due to Low Rates

Restoration by Congress of $40 million to run the Post Office Department until June 30 doesn't solve the problem at all.

The department will show an estimated deficit of over $500 million this year and next year it will be $650 million. The principal reason is the $473 million in new costs to the postal service voted by Congress.

Pay increases will acccunt for $207 million, fringe benefits $59 million and Government contributions to pensions $132 million. Railway mail pay will go up $28 million and new equipment to provide services for a growing population will cost $40 million. Other increases are pending to the amount of $100 million.

Since Postmaster General Summerfield called dramatic attention to the plight of the Post Office much has been written about the efficient and frequent mail deliveries in some foreign countries. In the first instance letter postage in Europe is about 50 per cent higher than here.

But the real difference is in pay scales. European letter carriers get from $1,200 in Germany to about $1,800 in Sweden and Switzerland. Average pay in the United States is $4,400 a year. This is base pay. It does not cover uniform allowance, 13 to 26 days leave a year, 13 days cumulative sick leave a year and a pension. A mail carrier retiring at age 60 after 30 years service gets a $2,300 pension.

All U. S. postal costs have gone up from 110 to 266 per cent since 1945. In the past 25 years living costs have about tripled and per capita disposable income, after taxes, soared from $389 to $1,629 in 1955. Yet first class letter rate to any part of the U. S., Canada or Mexico remains at three cents.

For four years Mr. Summerfield has been recommending postal rate increases to make the department self-supporting. "We are still charging 1932 rates but paying 1957 costs," he points out. Congress has turned a deaf ear and has taken the position that postal service should be subsidized to provide the people with cheap mail rates.

The loss incurred in handling first class mail was $346 million in 1956, much more than the combined deficits of $101 million for second class mail, magazines and newspapers, and $108 million for third class, mostly advertising circulars.

After prolonged hearings legislation is now before Congress to increase these rates to bring in an estimated $525 million a year. This won't cover the deficit but it will reduce it. We feel that those who use the mails should pay for the service in full.

Liberal Policy Needed on Reporters' Passports

Since Peiping extended an invitation last August to 15 U.S. newsmen to visit Red China, Secretary Dulles has given a series of excuses for denying them passports.

First he said the reason was that the United States couldn't guarantee them protection. Next he declared no passports would be issued unless Peiping released several Americans still held prisoners; that the presence of U.S. reporters would indicate that our Government was weakening its opposition to the Communist regime, and that the visit might drop the barriers to a general cultural exchange with Red China.

As a result American reporters in Hong Kong have had to depend for information on British and Commonwealth newsmen in Red China. They can't be expected to be particularly interested in U.S. matters nor likely to contact American missionaries and technicians still free in China.

At a recent news conference Secretary Dulles indicated his willingness to work out some arrangement for a limited number of newsmen to visit Red China. He suggested that a pool of responsible reporters be sent to China and that such a plan would prevent a "general influx of Americans into Communist China."

There wouldn't seem to be anything very difficult about this arrangement — simply issue passports to duly accredited newsmen. Only recently reporters were permitted to go into the Middle East while other Americans were not.

The fact is that Mr. Dulles' position in this matter has been untenable from the beginning. The American Press should be permitted to send correspondents to any part of the world in keeping with the people's right to know.

Judges to Pass on Oak Trees in Full Foliage

April: What's departing after giving us some spring, summer, autumn and winter weather.

Our oak trees are slow to bring out their leaves, and still appear quite bare. Of course they make a much better appearance and picture when in full foliage. This condition will not prevail for a few weeks, so the selection of the winner in our will not be made until in June. In the meantime the smaller trees among the 54 entries will be eliminated, so the judges will find it necessary only to pass upon the several largest.

No Life Net Required

David Lawrence Says:

President Never Leaves His Work

WASHINGTON — Curious impressions prevail here and abroad when President Eisenhower takes a "vacation," as in Augusta, Ga., the last 10 days. The truth is that, literally speaking, Eisenhower never has taken a "vacation" from his work. Nor has any other president been able to do it.

LAWRENCE

For the presidency is an incessant job. The responsibility is continuous and unbroken. Actually there isn't a day or night when Eisenhower isn't in some way conducting official business.

But lately the sniping against the President has come from various quarters. Even the press in Britain has grown sarcastic about it. Yet, when a British prime minister goes every weekend to his country place, this is considered normal.

With modern planes, Augusta, Ga., is less time from Washington than it takes for a British prime minister to go back and forth by auto from "Chequers," his country place several miles away from London—an hour's ride each way.

But only the uninformed or the partisan-minded would accuse a British prime minister of taking a "holiday" when he goes to his country place over the weekend. He is never out of touch with what is happening throughout the world.

EASTER RECESS

President Eisenhower has been away from Washington these last few days in what is known on Capitol Hill as the "Easter recess," because most members of the House and Senate also departed for various destinations. It wasn't a holiday for most of them either, for when they got home they found all sorts of demands from constituents who wanted to talk with them.

The quality of the work done by President Eisenhower or by any other president cannot be measured by adding up the list of callers each day. The quantity of names on the engagement list is no indication of how much of the people's business is transacted in such visits.

Most of the people who call on a president at the White House want something for themselves or for the institutions or organizations they represent. Because Eisenhower has succeeded in cutting down on the number of such conferences and has insisted that the information be transmitted to his staff by personal visits or in memorandum form, is this a sign that he is "shirking" his job?

LESS CALLERS

Many of those who comment on Washington affairs have lately been emphasizing the President's diminished list of callers or the fact that he is away from his desk every now and then. Rumors are circulated that all this is because of his health or a fixed intention to reduce his work.

But the truth is that what Eisenhower has cut down on are the needless things that are time-consuming. He has instead permitted himself more time for the real requirements of the presidential office.

With private telephones, teletypes and quick communication by plane for couriers who carry important documents, it doesn't matter whether a president is physically at the White House or at Augusta or anywhere else. On the urgent problems, he can be reached instantly by members of the cabinet. On the matters of lesser importance, memoranda can reach him the same day they are transmitted to him by subordinate officials.

TIME TO THINK

What a president needs most of all is time to think. Under the pressure of a list of engagements in Washington, there isn't time to think except at night when the day's duties are over.

More and more a president of the United States ought to be permitted detachment from detail and the burdens of his callers. The cry that the President ought to see more people depends on whether what they have to say is important and constructive or merely time-consuming. Every business executive has the same problem in allocating his hours during the day.

In the case of the President of the United States, there is really nothing that cannot be put in memorandum form and submitted to a trusted official, who can place any such document immediately before his chief if the contents appear to warrant it.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Take Up Lawn Bowling and Cheat Old Man Time

A Wisconsin reader writes: "I'm so grateful . . . you are there to pass out good advice and common sense, of which I take full advantage for my large family . . . wonder exactly how old you are, just where you live and what is a bowling green?"

DR. BRADY

Thank you, Ma'am. Such a pat on the back from a lady of your caliber boosts my morale more than you may know.

When you read this, if I'm still around, I'll be 77, and not at all sad about it. The only misgiving I have about it is: What's going to happen to you folks when I turn up my toes?

Now at 77, my main complaint is that so many take it as granted that one past 65, 70 or 75 is an old geezer, regardless. Regardless, that is, of the state of his arteries, the flexibility of his joints, the functional efficiency of his teeth, and his ability to roll somersaults.

If you think I'm facetious, you had better send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for "The Somersaultauqua," which tells how and why everybody should roll 'em.

FINEST BOWLING GREENS

I live in paradise — Southern California, that is — six blocks from the finest bowling greens in the world. There are bowling greens in Milwaukee, Racine, and Wauwatosa, Wisc. There the bowling season is necessarily short, perhaps five months in the spring and summer. For year-round bowling I can recommend Southern California or Durban, Natal, South Africa.

For a description of the game, read the article on "Bowls," in the Encyclopedia Britannica.

There are only a few hundred bowling greens in the United States, many more in Canada. Every city that maintains tennis courts, baseball diamonds, putting greens, or other public recreational facilities should have bowling greens too.

What millions of people in this country need in the way of recreation, or as a hobby that doesn't pall after a year or two, especially people who have nearly or quite retired and find retirement dreary, is something to do. Lawn bowling is just the ticket.

Many husbands or their wives have told me so. A good game of lawn bowls is a kind of "happiness pill" or "highball" without bad after-effects.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Success Depends on 'H-R' Strategy

Clyde was discouraged and failing in his chosen profession largely because he did not employ good "H-R" strategy. Millions of talented men and women fall short of their goal because they never studied the art of selling themselves and their services by deft use of modern psychology. Scrapbook this case record.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CRANE

"Dr. Crane, people just don't take to me, I guess," he lamented, "even though my dentistry is excellent and my colleagues regard me highly.

"I have even been asked to conduct clinics before dental conventions! But at home I don't make enough money out of my practice to send my children to college.

"What do you think is wrong? And at the age of 46 am I too old to change my personality or my approach to the public?"

NEVER TOO OLD

We are never too old to change. Clyde was a brilliant dentist as measured by the technical yardstick of his dental college.

But most of our professional colleges have failed to tutor their graduates adequately in the psychology of getting along with people.

"H-R" is now the most popular field on the average Liberal Arts campus and that "H-R" refers to "Human Relations."

So let's prove this point to your satisfaction. Clyde was an introvertive personality, as many true scientists are. He was not sociable even in his own childhood, but collected stamps and later amused himself in the basement with his chemical set.

He had never done any house-to-house selling. So he still felt ill at ease among people.

But popularity is not something you "inherit." You aren't "born" that way.

So any normal person can soon become very popular just by practicing the rules of psychology.

DENTAL SURVEY

I visited Clyde's office and found that he was in a good building, so his location was O. K.

But his office furnishings were out of date, thus intimating that he belonged to a former vintage.

The general public knows little about dentistry, so when it makes an estimate of a physician or dentist, it must use the layman's yardstick.

And laymen subconsciously rate doctors of all sorts by their office equipment, plus their assured smiles and their evidences of scrupulous cleanliness.

"I quit my dentist," was a common reply when I conducted a survey among dental patients a few years ago, "because he had blackheads on his nose!"

"Why did you think his blackheads reduced his capacity as a scientific modern dentist?" I countered.

"Well, dentists are supposed to emphasize sterility and cleanliness," came the usual reply, "so anybody who had blackheads or smudged eye glasses or who would smoke and not wash his hands before he resumed work on my teeth, impresses me as being unscientific and dirty."

STREAMLINE "H-R"

Fortunately, Clyde was neat and a non-smoker, so he avoided those criticisms.

But I suggested he refurnish his office in the latest style. And I also insisted he place a mirror behind his telephone so he could look at his own sourpuss face before speaking to prospective clients on the phone.

"Force a smile on your lips," I added, "even if you don't feel bubbling over inside."

"This will make your tones far more cordial. And if the party on the other end of the wire is making her first contact with you, the cordiality of your voice is of vital importance."

Then I also recommended that Clyde join the "Compliment Club" and pay every patient a sincere compliment. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3¢ stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Favorite Pastime of Solons —Talking Income Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (INS) — The nation's lawmakers are engaged hot and heavy today in one of their favorite pastimes — introducing legislation to cut taxes.

It's a harmless diversion since none of the bills introduced so far has more than the slimmest of chances of winning approval in both House and Sentate.

But presumably, if the more than 220 Congressmen who have put forward tax-cut proposals ever decided to get together and help each other out, they could force the House — at least — to approve reductions in the nation's revenue totaling more than 20 billion bollars.

Even more interest will undoubtedly be generated in the sport next year, as all 435 House members and one-third of the Senators vie with political opponents in currying the favor of voters.

They seem to ignore the fact that the biggest tax cuts in the last quarter century came during the Republican-controlled 80th and 83rd Congresses and that voters returned Democratic majorities to the House and Senate in the 81st and 84th Congresses.

The most popular idea is to raise income tax exemption allowances, which are now $600 each.

Some would boost them only $50, others $100, while still more would raise them to $1,000 each. However, the champion in this respect is Rep. Robert W. Hemphill (D-S.C.) who has suggested doubling them to a total of $1,200 each.

Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex.), who has a wife and six children, proposes $1,000 exemption for the taxpayer's spouse and $750 on all other dependents.

Two other popular plans involve education. There are dozens of bills to provide parents with greater exemptions for sons or daughters in college.

There are at least as many to allow teachers to deduct from income what they spend in furthering their own education.

More than two score of the proposals would give some benefit or other to small business.

Rep. Herbert Zelenko (D-N.Y.), would allow a deduction for "depletion of human resources" after a taxpayer reaches his 41st birthday.

Rep. Florence Dwyer (R-N.J.), and others suggest that traveling expenses to and from work be added to allowable deductions.

Red China to Balance Budget by Price Hike

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China announced today it is boosting prices of food and other consumer goods to recoup economic losses resulting from plunging too heavily in capital construction.

In an exceptionally candid broadcast, Peiping radio said the price hike was vital "to secure a balance in the budget and in the relation of the purchasing power to supplies."

The announcement said the rise on such items as pork, edible oils and woolen textiles would amount to "no more than 2 per cent spread over all consumer goods."

"Too heavy investments in capital constructions last year led to a shortage of raw materials and consequently to a rise in prices of handicraft products which went also to make up the price rise," the broadcast said.

Last year Peiping allocated 52 per cent of its 12-billion-dollar budget to industry. Only 12 per cent of that went for production of consumer goods.

Soon after, workers got heavy wage boosts. As a result they mobbed state-owned stores to buy goods, but few were available. By boosting the price of basic consumer goods, Red authorities reason the people will spend less on nonessentials.

Doublecheck All Unknown Crafts

Retired Chief of ADC Reports Surveillance by Interceptors

WASHINGTON (AP)— The retired chief of the Air Defense Command said today that since the Middle East fighting, every unknown aircraft over this country is doublechecked by interceptor planes.

Retired Air Force Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw said this is done "to make doubly sure that America is not under surveillance or attack."

Writing in Planes, publication of the Aircraft Industries Assn., Chidlaw said air defense interceptors averaged 15 to 18 "scrambles" a day during February. Each of these missions, he said, was to intercept unknown aircraft later identified as friendly.

"Such scrambles may cause some lost sleep to citizens living near interceptor bases because of the noise of jet engines," Chidlaw said.

Says a London columnist: "Gloria Swanson sends me her recipe for Seaweed Cocktail. It reads, 'first shake out the sand.'"

Bob Considine Ponders:

How Would CD Move Sunday Traffic Jam?

NEW YORK (INS) — Drove in from Allenhurst, N.J., in the traffic Sunday around dinner time — a distance of 55 miles—in just 48 minutes less time than I was flown from Seattle to Baltimore in Boeing's 707 not long ago.

That flight across the United States took three hours and 48 minutes. The drive from Allenhurst, on the other hand, took only three hours. One of these was spent at more or less a dead halt, waiting to get into a tube that squirts people into New York from New Jersey, and vice versa.

The approaches to the tuunel had more dead vehicles on the sidelines (and in the middle) than I saw on the road rp the bloody valley to Cassino, and to Berlin some years back. A combination of a muggy evening, the lingering presence of easily boiled anti-freeze in tens of thousands of radiators, and the sub-snail-like pace, had taken its ghastly toll.

Kept wondering — as must the good dedicated people in Civil Defense—how any large town in the U.S. could be efficiently emptied of or entered by large groups in case of an emergency. Kept wondering what panic or stoicism would prevail if an enemy attacked miles of bumper-to-bumper traffic. One, of course, would wish for the stoicism, and orderliness.

RECALL LONDON BLITZ

During the Blitz on London a bus driver attained a reserve which we often like to consider the very last word in law observance. He was proceeding down a street at a seemly pace, followed unfortunately by a stick of German bombs, when suddenly he had a deucedly bad break. The light changed to red, so, naturally, he had to come to a halt.

A bomb hit half a block behind him and his passengers, and the next one on the stick hit in the street ahead—just at the point where he would have been if he had disobeyed the traffic signal. He didn't seem surprised. After all, the light was red, you know.

We can't swear things were like this everywhere in warfare, though there is the old case in Germany many years ago when club-swinging police got in a lot of skull-breaking whacks on fleeing insurrectionists they were chasing across a park in Berlin because, naturally, the running people stayed on the narrow, twisting, pebble paths. You see, here were signs all about reading, "Keep off the Grass!"

A general I know who takes an understandably dim view of civilians said not long ago, "John, if the Russians drop the bomb on New York City, which I doubt they have guts enough to do, I certainly hope they don't take credit for the million or two who are killed. I don't think they could kill more than 300,000 outright. The rest would be smothered trying to get out of town—at the entrance to the tubes, tunnels and bridges."

Moral: Never leave Allenhurst on a Sunday between five and nine.

SUNDAY SPORT

Had a savage duel with a girl-type child named Debbie in a game formerly called badminton over the weekend. The girl had changed the name of the sport, in keeping with the seemly training the nuns give her at St. Rose's. "Let's play a game of goodminton," she said, invitingly.

It was nip and tuck for a long time, but with a combination of high deep lobs into the sun, drop-shots just over the net (she has a broken leg), and fast arithmetic, I beat her by a score of 21-8.

For some reason she seemed offended.

"You could at least give me credit for helping you win," she said.

"'Helping me?' "I repeated, with the glacial quality of a man who had been the mixed singles champion of Swampoodle.

"Sure I helped you," she explained, with the patience for stupidity that only the very young can muster. "Would you have won all those points unless I missed?"

Couple Photograph Michigan Outdoors

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Of Our Waterford Bureau

From a casual back yard, picture-taking hobby has grown an enterprising business for Bill and Helen Nicholai, of 4045 Sashabaw Road, Waterford Township.

They are now expert photographers, artists and lecturers specializing in Michigan outdoor beauty and wild life.

Eighteen years ago, Bill and Helen owned a Brownie box camera and an old Univex movie outfit. With this meager equipment, they began the project of photographing various scenic spots in the state.

The results were so good that their friends urged them to make this their life work — highlighting Michigan beauty in color films.

So started a most intensive research campaign in acquiring both photographic knowledge and information on outdoor life. They studied constantly, getting data on lens openings, settings and composition. New equipment was purchased, along with technical books and literature.

Bill made a "blind" and parked in the small inclosure in his back yard for hours at a time to get the right shots of local birds.

He recorded their habits, reproduction, nest building, and family raising. Once he spent three months waiting to get just the right shots of a pair of blue jays.

Soon the back yard took on the appearance of a sanctuary, with every kind of contrivance there was, to attract the area birds. And the birds responded. There came meadowlarks, cardinals, crackles, starlings, chickadees and hummingbirds.

Every extra red cent was saved for tours into upper Michigan to record and bring back some of the beauty that regular tourists often miss, and many people never have the opportunity to see.

The end of this month, Bill and Helen are planning a trip to Seney National Wilf Life refuge in the upper peninsula which covers several thousand acres. They will record the Canadian wild geese nesting operations now in progress.

Nicholai is employed regularly at a local camera shop. His heart is with his hobby — photographing Michigan in all its glory.

Two Men Freed on Bond, Charged With Theft

Two Pontiac men demanded examination and were freed on $100 bonds yesterday when they were accused of stealing various articles from the Wrigley Super Market, 45 S. Telegraph Rd., Saturday.

Hal Sisk Jr., 29, of 125 N. Perry St. and Andrew F. Hudack, 37, of 499 W. Huron St. were ordered by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan to appear for trial May 8.

The two men were arrested in a parking lot after William Bennett, manager of the market, said he saw the two men leave the store with a sack of merchandise without paying.

Patterns Would Assure Air Safety

Predict Super 'Skyways'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Aviation experts predict the skies of the future will be laid out like modern super highways with one-way lanes and cloverleaf intersections.

Strict air traffic control to prevent mounting jet age collisions was foreseen by a special research panel headed by retired Gen. Edward P. Curtis, presidential assistant on longe-range aviation planning.

The 10-man panel recommended yesterday that airspace between major cities be blocked off into one-way zones with aircraft segregated according to speed.

Big cloverleaf patterns were suggusted near airports for "holding," "path stretching" and "buffer zones" to facilitate safe landing.

The panel said "see and be seen" rules for clear flying are "impractical and unsafe" and will be supplanted by full-time, all weather control above 18,000 feet.

Curtis, who will incorporate the recommendations in a final report within two weeks, has already proposed a three-man airways moderization board to Congress. Members would be the secretaries of defense and commerce and a full-time chairman appointed by the president.

Education Institute Set

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Adult Education Institute will hold its 25th anniversary meeting May 8-9 at the University of Michigan. The institute, to be attended by club women from all over Michigan, will feature talks on various phases of education by U. of M. faculty members.

Missile Assembled, Fired 600 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say the Army's Jupiter missile — completely assembled and carrying a dummy warhead—was successfully fired 600 miles last weekend with what they called "satisfactory" accuracy.

These sources said the firing, witnessed by Secretary of Defense Wilson, marked the first successful launching of a complete military ballistic missile.

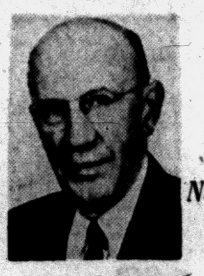

The Jupiter, under development by the Army at the Redstone, Ala., arsenal, is designed for a maximum range of 1,500 miles. Although test devices have flown thousands of miles and an incomplete Jupiter model reportedly went 1,200 miles, the sources said last Friday's launching marked the first complete ballistic assembly to achieve a 600-mile range.

Sal Mineo's Investing in Father's Business

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I just had a talk with a wonderful teenager. I don't mean Slugger—though he's o.k., too — but TV and movie actor Sal Mineo, 18, who's investing part of his big loot in his father's business and helping build a new home.

SAL MINEO

"Dad still supports me," Sal said. "I'm a partner in a fairly safe business."

"The Universal Casket Co!" explained Sal, who was having dinner in midtown, in a red sports shirt and a sports jacket. He told of the new house, "half in the Bronx and half in Pelham Manor."

"A lot of the fans," Sal said, asked him to make records, a la Tab Hunter, so he just did a rock-'n-roller for Epic.

"I'm no singer," he confessed. "I hope they aren't expecting any Mario Lanza. But the teen-agers control the record business, so ——"

He kisses a gal (Ruda Michelle) the first time on TV when he does "The Drummer Man" on Kraft Theater May 1, which'll make him all the more romantic.

Sal — who'll enter Adelphi College in Garden City in September, also goes to the University of the City of Los Angeles when he's making movies.

Sal's dad gave his three sons each a car at 18—and Sal's is a Thunderbird. Sal's noted for the red and blue socks he wore in a movie.

Everybody said it was real keen and real teen.

"It was a last minute suggestion by the director, Nick Ray," Sal said. "He's not a teenager, either. He's about 42." You wonder how a man so up in years could have been so inventive, don't you now?

Texas Officers Kill 2 Bandits

Kidnap-Robbery Plans at Carswell AF Base Foiled by Police

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Gunfire shattered the quiet along a country road near here yesterday and killed two bandits officers said were plotting to grab an air base payroll today.

Gene Paul Norris, 35, an Oklahoma and Texas bandit known for a quick smile and a ready trigger, and William Carl Humphrey, 35, were felled by officers' bullets along the banks of rain-swollen Walnut Creek near Springtown, Parker County, northwest of here.

Texas Ranger Jay Banks said Norris and Humphrey planned today to kidnap a Carswell Air Force Base employe and a child of the employe and hold them as hostages. They then planned, Banks said, to use the employe's car during the holdup. The payroll at the base would run about $255,000.

The two men were being sought yesterday when they were spotted by Banks, Police Chief Cato Hightower, Sheriff Harlon Wright, Ranger Capt. Johnny Klevenhagen and Detective Capt. O. R. Brown near Lake Worth.

"We tried to stop them and they fired a shot," Banks said.

The high-speed chase roared up a highway for several miles. Then the ex-convicts' auto took to a winding, muddy country road through farmland.

About five miles from the highway the bandits' auto skidded off the road and crashed. Both men spilled out of the car as Banks fought his auto to a stop.

"Then the shooting began," Banks said. "One of them, I don't remember which one, had a pistol. A shotgun came out of the car with them. They fired at us.

"We all came out shooting," he said. "They broke for the creek. I don't know who hit which one."

Norris' tattered body splashed into the muddy river. Humphrey, covered with blood and slime from the creek bed, fell about 50 yards away.

Banks said the gunfight climaxed several days of investigation by local law enforcement agencies and the FBI. He said other men believed involved in the robbery plan were sought.

Norris was the brother of Thomas Nathan (Pete) Norris, Public Enemy No. 1 before being sent to Alcatraz. Gene Paul has a record of at least six convictions.

Humphrey, 32, born in Belton, Tex., has a long record of forgery.

Awards $20,000 to Father of Youth Killed in Crash

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A Circuit Court jury awarded $20,000 to Richard P. Korbly, father of a high school pupil killed in a widely publicized accident.

The defendant was Mrs. Marguarita Myers, mother of Tommy Myers. Young Myers, also a high school teenager, was driving the automobile in which Charles M. Korbly was killed. Mrs. Myers owned the car.

City Representative (councilman) W. B. Myers, father of Tommy, wrote a byline newspaper story while Tommy still was in critical condition from accident injuries, urging less emphasis on power and speed in manufacturing automobiles. The story was carried by the Associated Press and published throughout the country.

Young Myers has been convicted of manslaughter but has not been sentenced.

Airways Operates Minus Any Planes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quaker City Airway is still in business, its owner insisted today, even though it's temporarily without an airplane.

Owner-President Herbert Sussman was in Washington yesterday to make sure the Civil Aeronautics Board didn't take the little company off its books.

"We had to sell our lone DC3 transport to buy a larger plane," Sussman explained. "Because our replacement wasn't immediately available, we didn't turn in any operating reports and the CAB thought we were out of business. But we're going to resume operations with our new equipment."

Instruments Too Costly for Use in Air Safety

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Instrument systems designed to prevent airplane collisions in flight are feasible but too costly, a flight expert told the annual National Flight Instrumentation Symposium.

"One recen project for a warning system was given up by a major concern because of excessive cost and research even though the company had a 10-million-dollar backlog of orders," Bernard Oldfield, Hughes Aircraft flight operations chief, said.

But Young Actress Keeps Her Sweetness

Lee Remick Knows She's Cinderella

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The reason Cinderella remained such a sweet, tender girl to the very end of her story (and her life, it's stoutly believed here) is that she hadn't the vaguest notion she would wind up a princess. She was ever modest, not to say pessimistic, about her future.

With Lee Remick, children, it is a different story. Lee is a 21-year-old actress with a sweet face and hair the shade of a sailor's delight night ski, and she is definitely slated to be Hollywood's "Cinderella" for 1957.

Elia Kazan, the famed director who "discovered" Carroll Baker last year, is "discovering" Lee this year. Sight (on screen) unseen as yet, she can already smell success — "it's something," she sniffs, "like roasting chestnuts" — and she can hear the glass slipper being ground and buffed to size.

She is sitting in an ivory satin and mirrored sort of New York apartment which she shares with her mother, and contemplating the whole deal.

"I suppose I've dreamed about this, without knowing it," she says matter-of-factly. I know there'll be hoopla, and I can't stand that thought. I don't really relish the idea of being recognized here and there, and being sort of splashed over.

JUST THE ROLE

"But—" and her face curls round into a full-blown Irish grin, "I'll just remember that it doesn't have anything to do, really, with me. It's just the part I play today."

She un-grins suddenly and adopts a sincerely solemn look that must have captivated Kazan. "Maybe after I play tomorrow's part I'll be a nothing."

At this point, everybody in earshot titters. An actress discovered by Kazan — well, it is unthinkable that she could miss. The laughter goes unnoticed by the self-possessed Miss Remick; she neither reaffirms her modesty nor blushes thanks for the blind faith of the titterers.

It was last year, in a television drama called "All Expenses Paid," that the rajah of Hollywood directors noticed Lee. He called her the next day.

"'Look,' he said to me, 'I have a kind of crazy idea — I'm kind of crazy anyway. I have this movie script and I want you to take it home and read it again and again and then put all your thoughts together on the character of Betty Lou, and then come back and be Betty Lou for me."

DID MONOLOGUE

Lee Remick sighs, "be Betty Lou! I didn't know what on earth he was talking about. But I went home and studied and finally returned and did a monologue for Mr. Kazan and Budd Shulberg, who wrote the story.

"I made up my own dialogue. I bounced and twirled because Betty Lou is a baton-twirler in a high school band, and by 15 minutes I was feeling free and at home and wonderful. I got the part."

Then, because Betty Lou in Kazan's and Shulberg's "A Face in the Crowd" came from a poor Arkansas family, Lee was sent to Arkansas to live with a poor family for two weeks. "I thought I'd go crazy, but I know now it was an invaluable experience."

Following this dive into character reality, Kazan sent Lee to Central Park for a long series of lessons in baton-twirling. Finally, when she felt and thought so much like Betty Lou that she possibly couldn't have passed a third-grade English quiz, they shot the film. It — and the big promotional blow-up for Lee — will be released in late May.

Factually, any resemblance between Miss Remick and Cindy, the pumpkined princess, is purely on a professional level. She is the well-to-do daughter of a Boston department store owner and a Broadway-TV actress.

She attended the best girls' schools and she has burning drive for money, fame and glory. Her ambition: To be a better actress every time, and to operate life in following sequence — "do a picture, have a baby, do a picture, have a baby . . ."

It seems likely that Lee may remain sweet to the end, even if she does know the slipper is her size and the price is available.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Olympic Champ's Wife Quotes Inaugural Address

Czech Bride Inspired by Lincoln

NEW YORK (INS) — The Czechoslovak bride of American Olympic champion Harold Connolly today cited a few words by Abraham Lincoln as the most impressive thing she has seen in the U. S. "so far."

Olga Connolly, 24, arrived in New York last week from Prague where she and her young husband overcame great obstacles so they could get married and she could leave the country.

She returned last night from a visit with her husband to the State Department in Washington, where they met Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Afterwards in a tour of the city she saw the Lincoln Memorial.

"With malice toward none," she quoted from the emancipator's second inaugural address, "with charity for all; with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in."

TIME FOR THOUGHT

"There is a compulsion in those words that should give us all time for thought," said the attractive Olympic discus queen who has lived half her life under a Communist regime.

"They could have been uttered last week — or tomorrow. They fit my case as they must fit yours, or anyone's. If only more people would heed their meaning: 'with malice toward none."

The dark-haired beauty, who is staying with her husband at the Hotel Biltmore, said she was "confused" by the bewildering panorama of the America she has seen so far:

"I loved Washington because of its peace and quiet, but I like New York for exactly the opposite reason. Its bustle, its hustle, its lights, its people. Oh, it is wonderful!"

Olga told how she liked to "stroll among the lights" of Times Square with her husband. "I like to watch the people," she said.

"I don't think I'll ever get tired of looking at Times Square."

And how does a girl who spent so much time behind the Iron Curtain compare her new life with the old?

"It wouldn't be honest or fair for me to answer that question yet," she said. "Of course, I like America, but it is so big. I want to learn English better before I even attempt to say what it means to me to be here."

Soviets Deny Charge They're Atomic-Armed

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist government of East Germany today denied a report that Soviet armed forces in Germany are equipped with atomic weapons.

The independent West Berlin newspaper Der Kurier said yesterday the Soviet army in East Germany has atomic weapons and has also built rocket bases on the Baltic coast.

The press office of the East German government called the report "a tremendous lie."

Wedding Gowns Reflect Romanticism of the Past

Dresden china daintiness is captured in this bridal gown of imported Chantilly lace and tulle intricately manipulated by an apron effect and back fullness. The scalloped decollete neckline in lace with an illusion yoke completes the romantic look of this dress.

The fashion of today is, often as not, a lesson in the history of yesterday — a glancing back to times past for new inspirations and fresh interpretations.

This season's bridal gown reflection for the traditional bride is clearly that of the opening years of that elegant influence on dress known as romanticism.

The inspiration is French, but just as French designers of that period introduced their flavor throughout Europe, the present-day romantic trend has special meaning for a noted Philadelphian, one of the world's foremost creators of wedding gowns.

Alfred Angelo, whose achievements include the Formal Fashion Institute Award and the Hess Award for versatility in design, is something of a philoscpher on what a bride should look like on her most memorable day.

He and his designer, Edythe Vincent, feel that they are merely the instruments which express what all brides unconsciously demand—a wedding gown in a traditional, romantic mood . . . as romantic a concept as the familiar "something borrowed, something blue" of every wedding.

BASICALLY UNCHANGED

According to Mr. Angelo, the basic elements of this traditional dress have remained unchanged for centuries.

Traditionally, a bride wears a soft, misty dress, a cloud of tulle, a whisper of lace, an elegant flowing skirt that insures a subtle swish as she glides into her wedding. This is the fashion that a bride must follow.

With this belief, and keeping a faithful picture of you in mind, he captures the quintessence of timelessness that surrounds a bride. His gowns make the most of airy lightness, achieved by ephemeral nylon tulle, and delicate, hand-clipped Chantilly lace.

Because a bride should always look the lady, his skirts are gently full, meant to sway just a bit for regal elegance and grace. Part of this air is rendered by the chapel train, a detail included in more than 70 per cent of the gowns because it has been so consistently popular with the majority of brides.

Since every aspect of a bridal gown should be important, Mr. Angelo gives his creations exit interest by manipulating front panels and tiers which carry the eye from the side to the back of the gown where they culminate in a climax guaranteed to attract and hold attention.

NATURAL LOOK

Not the least important part are touches which make a bride look beautifully natural . . . whittled wasp waistline effects and sheer beauty bodices, demure and charming necklines for the superlative in flattery. These are the details that add up to an overall picture of traditional romanticism.

The traditional bride is a dainty, demure one—and this gown of delicate lace and tulle meets the mood perfectly. The graceful bodice has a Sabrina neckline and feminine long sleeves which emphasize the delicate effect of lace. These gowns may be purchased locally.

PHS Band Again Shows Its Mastery Over Music

Presents 30th Annual Spring Concert for Large, Receptive Audience

By MAX SIMON

Pontiac High School Band, in its 30th annual spring concert last night, offered up a program calculated to appeal to many different musical tastes. The concert was held in the boys' gymnasium before a large and receptive audience.

From the outset of the concert the band showed why it has ruled as first division champion of the state for 27 years and has been stamped as one of the finest musical organizations of its kind in the nation.

The musicians responded instantly to the crisp downbeat of their conductor, Dale C. Harris, in the opening selection ("His Honor March" by Fillmore) and observed his every wish throughout the evening, whether in relation to tempo or instrumental balance.

Mr. Harris, who is also supervisor of instrumental education in city schools, had obviously well disciplined his charges.

Two contrasting waltzes were performed by the band, one a romantic selection by Friml from the operetta, "High Jinks", written in 1920, the other a sophisticated number by R. R. Bennett from his "Suite of American Dances", composed in 1950.

Highlights of the evening were the finale of Richard Strauss' symphonic poem, "Death and Transfiguration," and another symphonic poem, "The Universal Judgment," by DeNardis.

An interesting diversion in the program was the performance of the familiar "Sailors' Hornpipe" by a talented woodwind quintet consisting of Donald Green, flute; James Shaw, oboe; Carolyn Beyer, clarinet; William Scribner, bassoon, and Garry Dalley, horn.

As an encore, the small ensemble played "Chopsticks", accompanied by the band.

Other numbers on the program were a march by Sousa and selections from the popular Broadway musical, "My Fair Lady".

Arrangements of pink and white carnations and snapdragons decorated the bride's table, which was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. C. A. Ross, aunt of the bride, presided at the silver service.

Cochairmen of the social committee are Mr. and Mrs. Orbe Quarles. John Guibord is ticket chairman and A. E. Feliksa is publicity chairman.

The dance, which will end at midnight, will be held in the parish hall.

Jeannine M. Samson Wed

St. Benedict Church was the setting for the Saturday morning wedding of Jeannine Marie Samson and George W. Muto.

Jeannine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Samson of Athinson street. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Muto of Baldwin avenue are George's parents.

For her wedding Jeannine chose a gown of French imported silk, fashioned with a billowing skirt that fell into a chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil was secured to a tiara headpiece and she carried a spray arrangement of carnations and stephanotis.

Audrey Samson served her sister as maid of honor. Other attendants were Mary Samson and Jane Thornberry.

They were gowned alike in dresses of pink nylon tricot over taffeta with which they wore pink straw hats and matching gloves.

A reception was held in Gingellville Community Center from 3 to 7 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

For traveling to Florida, the bride changed to a navy blue and white ensemble with matching accessories. On their return the newlyweds will reside on Baldwin road.

MRS. GEORGE W. MUTO

MacDowell Chorus Thrills Audience

By GOLDA HOGUE

Pontiac's MacDowell Chorus presented its annual concert in Pontiac High School auditorium Saturday evening and was received enthusiastically by a capacity audience which demanded two encores at the close of the program.

No other musical organization in our area has given so much enjoyment to so many music lovers for so many years. This was the 27th annual appearance of the chorus and, to many listeners, its finest concert yet.

The evening was marked by the splendid interpretative directing of conductor George Putnam, the fine sympathetic and artistic backgrounds of accompanist Jerry Smith, and good programming which provided a broad variety of mood, style and period.

Songs covered a wide scope, from the magnificent and stately "Omnipotence" by Franz Schubert and the smoothly balanced legato of Dickinson's "Music When Soft Voices Die" to the rollicking "John Peel" arranged by Andrews and the plaintive "Old Woman" by Robertson—the last sung a cappella, much of it pianissimo — an interesting study of contrasting colors.

Especially appealing was the group's beautiful singing of spirituals—the brilliant "Set Down Servant" with solos by Earl Crawford and Robert Williams, followed by the sustained harmonies and changing nuances of "Lord, I Want to Be," and the amusing "My Soul's Gonna Rise Again" with its answering dialogue by John Pohlman, Neil Hunter and Palmer Strang.

PICTURE FRAME

The opening group of five songs used the novel addition of live figures in a picture frame with soloists William Betts, Edward Banghart and Paul Miller. Also posing in these pictures were members of the high school choir, Larry Beamer, Alex Sekles, and Margaret Serrvala.

Other soloists were the Rev. Roy Lambert, Kenneth Young and Gordon Wilder—all of whom delighted the audience. Edward Banghart presented a group of folk songs, playing his own guitar accompaniment and explaining the origin of his numbers in easy, informal style.

Joining Mr. Smith as duo-accompanist, Sue Eckley ably helped in a most effective background to the Bohemian folk-tune "Reaper's Song"—full of difficult and intricate rhythms. This was only one of several songs the audience would have liked to have heard repeated. Mr. Smith also appeared as piano soloist in Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso."

The Mac Dowell Chorus belongs to the Michigan Male Choruses and to the Associated Male Choruses of America. These men have a rightful interest in the proposed civic auditorium, for theirs was the first substantial contribution to the funds marked for this new building.

CHORUS MEMBERS

The first tenor section includes Mac Hallenbeck, Neil Hunter, Roy Lambert, Ivan Long, Carl Matheny, Paul Miller, R. D. Robinson, Harold Wells, Gordon Wilder and Robert Williams.

Second tenors are William Betts, William Bower, Ralph Buckett, Stan Dalley, William Hanley, Adrian Ish, Walt Kadell, William Knoll, Paul Krugman, Don Menard and Jasper Price.

Making up the bass section are Ralph Bergemann, Burt Conrad, J. E. Crawford, C. C. Glidden, Don Mac Kenzie, Ronald Parsons, H. V. Phipps, P. J. Strang, Philip Wargelin and Kenneth Young.

Ushering for the evening was conducted by girls from Pontiac High School A Cappella Choir.

HAZEL MacGIRR

School Honors Educator

What appeared to be an ordinary Parent-Teacher Association meeting turned out to be a surprise for Mrs. Helen MacGirr of Boston street, last night.

Mrs. MacGirr, who is completing 25 years as teacher and administrator at Vaughn School, found the customary open house had been changed to honor her and extend thanks for the work she has done throughout the years

A teacher chorus set the scene with an original calypso song that related notable events of the years she has spent at Vaughn.

Furthering the surprise, Mrs. MacGirr received a corsage from school administrators, a tribute scroll from the school board, a chest of silver dollars from students, parents and residents; a teachers' award from the faculty members, a scrapbook of school activity pictures, and many cards and letters.

The regular business of the evening consisted of the customary classroom visits by parents. Special displays were arranged.

Children Should Sacrifice to Shelter Aged Parents

By RUTH MILLETT

A reader asks point blank: "What do you think of a nursing home as a place for aged parents who are getting to the place where they can no longer look after themselves?"

I'll give a straight answer to a straight question. It seems to me children should put feeble parents in a nursing home only if there is no possible way to take care of them in some other way.

And by "possible way" I mean that the elderly couple's grown children should be willing to make any kind of sacrifice, put up with any inconvenience, and shoulder any burden in order to give their parents some kind of real home in their last years.

The pleas so often made today by middle-aged couples with elderly parents that "It wouldn't be fair to our marriage" or "It wouldn't be fair to our children to take our parents into our home" are nothing in the world but a pretty coverup for plain selfishness.

It's just another way of saying, "Now that our parents are old and helpless, we can't be bothered with them. Looking after them would be a strain and a sacrifice that we just aren't willing to make."

Looking after small and helpless children is a strain and a burden, too. Yet those aged parents shouldered that responsibility. And when they became old and helpless, they have a right to expect that their grown children will in turn look after them.

The selfishness of middle-aged couples who are pushing their aged parents into nursing homes is a shame and a disgrace.

Sot let's quit making pretty excuses for it. Any middle-aged couple who are strong and able-bodied and have a roof over their heads can certainly do better by old parents than sending them off to die in some lonely nursing home.

One Guest Won't Join Card Game

Others All Accept Suggestion Made by Hostess

BY EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "I was invited to a Sunday night supper recently with some other friends and after we had finished eating, the hostess suggested playing cards, and all agreed to play with the exception of one of the guests. She said that she did not feel like playing cards.

"Wasn't she rude to the hostess? Would the hostess have been rude to go on with the game and let the unwilling guest stand by? I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: If they were unable to play cards without her, it was very disagreeable on her part to spoil the evening for everybody. If it was a game they could play without her, and all the other guests wanted to play, I think it was the hostess' duty to do what the majority wanted.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a friend who calls everyone 'darling' whether they be intimate friends, tradespeople or business acquaintances. I think it is in exceedingly bad taste but she thinks that it denotes friendliness and shows that she is not a snob. I would very much like to have your opinion on this."

Answer: In my opinion, this indiscriminate use of "darling" is not only in bad taste but is unfortunate as well, because when she really means this endearment, the word will have lost its meaning.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please advise me the proper way to eat a shrimp cocktail? When the shrimp are large, how does one cut them? Or is it permissible to pick up a shrimp with the fork and bite from it?"

Answer: Ordinarily you can cut the shrimp in half with your fork by holding it against the side of the glass. But if the glass is small and the shrimp are many, it will be necessary to lift one out with the fork and cut it on the edge of the plate under the shrimp glass.

Official Wife Flies High in Capital

Mrs. Quarles Has Hopes of Obtaining License Soon

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — It was a game of bridge that brought Deputy Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Donald Quarles together, and a continued sharing of interests has made for a happy marriage.

In one respect, however, and a tactical one at that, Nona Quarles outdistanced her husband while he was serving as secretary of the Air Force.

While he remained desk-bound with paper work, she took to "the wild blue yonder," and hopes soon to get her pilot's license.

Mrs. Quarles began her flying lessons while they were members of the Bolling Aero Club, made up of the Air Force personnel and their dependants.

So far, she's had nine hours flying time, part of it with civilian-instructor Paul B. Slack in a single-motor Piper G 3 at Hyde Field, Clinton, Md.

NOT MUCH TIME

"The secretary tells me I'll have to have 12 hours before I can solo and be ready for my license," she told me. "The difficulty is finding the time.

"Official and social obligations rarely allow us to follow personal pursuits. Flying takes judgment, but more than that, practice, and you have to keep at it."

The only recent flying Mrs. Quarles has managed to work into a busy schedule was when she accompanied her husband to Puerto Rico on a "combined business and rest trip."

"I managed a few hours private instruction at Ramsey Air Force base in Puerto Rico," she explained.

The Quarles met in 1939 when she was invited to make a fourth at bridge at the home of mutual friends in Englewood, N. J., where both lived.

LARGE FAMILY

There's also "Graf Zeppelin von Quarles," better known as "Zeppy," a much doted-on dachshund acquired in Albuquerque, N. M., when Quarles, then vice president of the multi-million dollar Western Electric Co., was serving also as president of its subsidiary, the Sandia Corp. which operates the laboratory for the Atomic Energy Commission.

During their 18 months in New Mexico they lived on a ranch, found time for bridge, golf, tennis, swimming and informal entertaining.

Since coming here in 1953 after Quarles' appointment as assistant secretary in charge of research and development for the Defense Department, Mrs. Quarles ruefully allows "there's not enough hours in the day" for all their varied interests.

Clues to Culture of America Still Hidden in Siberia

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Clues to the sources of early American culture still are hidden beneath the wastelands of Siberia and the American Arctic, a University of Michigan archeologist said here.

Dr. James B. Griffin, in a speech yesterday at the University of Nebraska, said diggings during the past quarter century indicate a buried treasure of information pertaining to prehistoric residents of North America.

"A great deal more excavation and reporting is needed, particularly in Siberia," said Griffin.

He added it was recognized by 1850 that "American Indians were primarily Mongoloid and that the most likely route of their movement into the New World was by the Bering Straits area."

Man probably has been in this continent for 15,000 years, he said.

"These earliest migrants spread over most of the United States and Southern Canada by 8,000 B.C. and many of the basic industries of Indian culture were introduced at this early period."

The tunic jacket and the open jacket are both kind to the larger mid-section, and minimize hips.

We should not take fashion too literally unless the new fashion really does something for us. Dior's tunic jacket is a must for the tall, slim or large figures while the relaxed suit can become all women.

Don't Let Physical Flaws Blight Life

Forget Defects You Can't Correct

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The woman who is vitally interested in life, the one who is in love with life, is apt to have a keen interest in her personal appearance. It is usually when she has given up to hopelessness, when boredom dulls her days, or when she has lost sight of herself as an individual that she becomes dowdy and careless in physical care and enhancement.

Concern as to how she looks is one of the first signs of recovery after a woman has had a serious illness. It is also one of the first attitudes physicians try to stimulate in mentally depressed or deranged individuals.

So we need not consider ourselves vain if we have a lively and healthy interest in our appearance. Nevertheless, some women take this outlook so far that they forget some of the more essential ingredients of charm and popularity and happiness.

It's silly to measure life by the shape of a leg—if your shape doesn't match this one, forget it and concentrate on your personality and other areas of physical beauty.

I have had letters from women who were allowing a bad case of freckles, blackheads, too little height or too much, acne, an oversize nose or slightly knocked knees nearly to ruin their lives.

Because of these physical defects, they were not assuming their natural roles and indulging in activities they enjoyed or meeting new people they would like. Their personalities had become negative and apologetic because they had become self-conscious and shy.

HELP AVAILABLE

There is help for most physical defects. Many of them can be remedied and practically all of them can be improved. As all of you who read this column know, I believe in correcting all of the defects which can be corrected. Certainly take corrective and preventative measures and then forget your defects.

However, from the larger view it seems silly to measure life in inches, in the state of complexion, in the shape of a leg or the turn of a nose.

Warmth, a sincere liking of people and an interest in them, good spirits, enthisiasm, love of life and understanding are the touchstones for happiness as well as for popularity.

Mrs. Fockler Keeps Yeast Batter in Her Refrigerator

By JANET ODELL

Mrs. Fockler loves her job of homemaking. She has one small boy for whom she sews—she makes her own clothes as well. Cooking is one of her favorite occupations. For a hobby she plays the piano.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS
By Mrs. Lowell Fockler

2 cups boiling water
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 teaspoons shortening
2 yeast cakes
¼ cup lukewarm water
2 beaten eggs
8 cups sifted flour

Add sugar, salt and shortening to boiling water. Cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in lukewarm water, adding 1 teaspoon sugar. Stir in first mixture, add eggs and 4 cups flour. Beat thoroughly.

Stir in 4 more cups flour. Mix thoroughly. It is not necessary to knead these rolls. Brush top with melted butter. Cover tightly. Store in refrigerator until ready to use.

Shape in Parkerhouse or cloverleaf rolls. Let rise in a warm place 45 minutes. Bake 15-20 minutes in a 425-degree oven. Makes 3 dozen rolls.

SAC--Nerve Center for U.S. Air Might

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

OFFUTT AIR FORCE BASE, Omaha, Neb. (NEA) — If Russian leaders could see what I have just seen, the threat of World War III would be ended, pronto.

I've just had a tour of the amazing new underground command ce ter of the Strategic Air Command from where the first vital phase of World War III will be directed if the Russians are ever stupid enough to start it.

The underground command center gives maximum protection to SAC commanders and the heart of its vital communications network against enemy air attack.

But, far more important, by combining SAC's war plans, operations control system, latest intelligence data and secret new communications systems into one highly-coordinated center, the inherent time advantage which an attacker gains by surprise has been shaved to a matter of seconds.

30 SECONDS

Within something like 30 seconds after it is known that an enemy is making war against the U. S., orders will be going out from here directing devastating retaliatory strikes at that enemy's war potential.

Before you ever get to the ramp leading to the underground command center, you must first be screened by three sets of tough Air Police who wouldn't let Ike pass without the proper identification and a badge with a red slash across it.

At the final entrance, tougher armed APs make you sign a register, double-check your credentials and provide an escort who must stay at your side for the duration of the inspection.

3 STORIES DOWN

The steep concrete ramp leads you down the equivalent of three stories below the surface of Nesets of thick, double, steel blast braska's parched earth, through four sets of thick, double, steel blast doors. You pass the decontamination room for those who aren't able to scurry to safety before getting some radiation from enemy bombs.

Only a direct hit by a large nuclear weapon could injure persons inside the command center. More than 15,000 yards of concrete were used in this underground structure, which has several acres of floor space.

If necessary, the center could keep operating, completely buttoned up, for more than 30 days. It has an independent water supply and is kept stocked wth food. Three gigantic diesel engines can supply all power needs for more than a month, in an emergency. Any failure of Omaha's power supply automatically starts the center's generators.

MOST SPECTACULAR

The most spectacular section of the underground command center is a large amphitheater — SAC's war room. Across one side are brilliantly - colored charts and maps, mounted on sliding panels.

On one panel for example, is a map of the world showing detailed global weather conditions, kept accurate to the hour. Another weather map gives long-range global predictions based on reports coming in constantly from all over the world. Such things as the speed and locations of the upper-air jet streams are plotted. This is important information to SAC's bomber pilots.

World-wide weather conditions at any moment would have a direct bearing on the war plans which would be put into effect in case of an attack.

SHOWS STATUS

On another panel is a map showing the exact daily status of SAC's forces, kept current by IBM calculators. It takes electronic brains to keep daily track of SAC's more than 3,000 bombers and 200,000 people scattered all over the world.

This panel shows at a glance how many combat crews are on leave at each base, how many aircraft might be having an engine changed and how many bombers are sitting on runways, ready to take off on a mission.

Knowing what they have in the SAC arsenal at the present, and confident that they will maintain superiority over the Russians, SAC officers don't think that they will ever have to watch the defeat of the U. S. recorded on the panels in their underground headquarters.

GROUND LEVEL, SAC HEADQUARTERS — Looks like this. Beneath it is command center.

GEN. CURTIS LeMAY — A direct line to 3,000 bombers.

Ex-Wife of Song Writer Accepts Pay for Injury

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The divorced wife of song writer Hoagy Carmichael has agreed to accept $6,210.50 as settlement of a $60,000 damage suit.

Mrs. Carmichael had sued Mrs. Odessa D. Halstead, claiming she was injured when a car driven by Mrs. Halstead struck her in the driveway of her home Aug. 22, 1955.

Mayor Exchange Slated

DETROIT (INS) — About 400 cities and villages will take part in the annual exchange of mayors and village presidents during this year's Michigan Week observance. The swap is scheduled for May 20.

Hagerty Rejects London Report

U.S. Would Be Happy to Receive Elizabeth, Says Press Secretary

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The United States would be delighted to receive Queen Elizabeth II at any time and a London report that Her Majesty's visit has been postponed until spring was described at President Eisenhower's headquarters here as "completely wrong."

The London Daily Sketch said today the President has yet to invite the Queen to visit this country.

Mrs. Eisenhower's health was advanced as a possible reason for the delay.

"My best pipelines into the White House say the trip definitely is postponed until next spring," wrote the Sketch's Washington correspondent Richard Greenough.

"Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, already a most nervous woman, is a bit alarmed at the prospect of a full-scale state visit. She has not been well for some time.

"She has a heart murmur and has been told to avoid strain and exhaustion."

In terming Greenough's story completely wrong, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said:

"There is a complete understanding on this matter between the United Kingdom and the United States governments.

"As I have said before, and as the President himself has said, our government would be delighted to receive Her Majesty in this country at any time."

Referring to Greenough's mention of Mrs. Eisenhower's health, Hagerty said: "I am not even going to dignify that by commenting on it."

Talks regarding the possibility of the Queen's visit to this country have been going on for months between official Washington and London. It has been pointed out that an official invitation in such cases is never extended until preliminary arrangements have been worked out.

As to Mrs. Eisenhower's health, Hagerty said only last Saturday that the First Lady was feeling "fine."

Quirk Responsible, Says Doctor

Millions of U. S. Citizens Feel They're 'Outsiders'

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Millions of people in this country have a strange mental quirk which prevents them from becoming close to others and they need a special type of medical treatment, a Beverly Hills psychiatrist asserted today.

Many of these are successful doctors, artists, writers and business executives but they feel that they are "outsiders" among their fellow men, he said. They often go on alcoholic or drug sprees or they may indulge in sex activity as a desperate effort to break through the barrier. Dr. Theodore Rothman told the Caliornia Medical Assn. The usual couch treatment with psychoanalysis even can make them much worse, he asserted.

A likely way of treating them, Dr. Rothman said, is a combination of drugs which can temporarily break down the barrier, and then a more deft but also more persistent effort with psychotherapeutic techniques.

The drugs used are a combination of a barbiturate, which is a depressant, and methamphetamine, a stimulant. These drugs together open the patient's mind to the words of the psychiatrist. The psychiatric treatment itself then does the mental healing.

The "block" which these people have is physical as well as mental but just what organs or tissues are involved is not known. However, they occasionally break through it by themselves. Their sprees and orgies help them in this respect, Dr. Rothman said.

Diplomatic Power Battle in Jordan Involves 10 Men; Mideast Balance at Stake

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

This is the cast of characters in the diplomatic power battle for control of Jordan and the Middle East:

King Hussein I of Jordan — This dapper and now surprisingly determined 21-year-old king was educated in British schools to take over rule of the modern Jordan kingdom created by his grandfather and the British after World War I. Described as a descendant of the Prophet Mohammed, he was a student at Britain's Harrow and Sandhurst Military College; brown-haired, dark-eyed, racing-car driver, airplane pilot, hunter; a man with a flashing smile, strong ties to Britain, and, despite his youth, considerable skill and effectiveness.

Former Premier Suleiman Nabulsi of Jordan — The downfall of this chain-smoking lawyer was the trigger of the present crisis. The 47-year-old former diplomat and veteran politician — pro-Syrian, pro-Egyptian, pro-Soviet and anti-West — became Jordanian premier on Oct. 29, 1956. But his policies, finally seeking direct Soviet aid, brought his ouster as premier two weeks ago and an unknown position today.

Premier Ibrahim Hashem of Jordan — Pro-Western, Hashem's rise followed Nabulsi's fall. The 69-year-old lawyer and legal expert is a "King's man," who has served the Hashemite rulers of Jordan four times as premier since 1932. Educated in Turkey's University of Istanbul, he is a staunch royalist and has shown willingness to act in order to control rioting masses.

Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister Samir Rifai of Jordan — Now in his late 60's, he is believed to be the real strong man behind the young king. A royalist, he was premier in times of trouble, in 1945 and 1947, and again when King Abdullah, founder of Jordan, was assassinated in 1951. Since Hussein took power, he has been influential and usually high in the government.

President Shukri al-Kuwatly of Syria — Educated at Istanbul, this Syrian statesman and ardent nationalist was battling in 1919 and 1920 for Syrian independence as a member of King Faisal's Syrian government. But the country went under French rule. He has spent 17 years in exile in Egypt, long been pro-Egyptian, anti-West and quick to accept Soviet arms. But he is believed more moderate than the pro-Soviet group of young officers who control the enlarged army.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt — Only 39, he has been rebel, nationalist, army officer, dictator and now is the anti-West leader of the Middle East. He has met such crisis as withdrawal of aid for the Aswan dam with such sudden counter punches as nationalizing the Suez Canal. Since mid-1952, when he and other officers ousted King Farouk, he has turned Egypt more toward Moscow.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia — Son of the puritan Moslem king who created Saudi Arabia, this big, bearded, oil-rich monach is tied to the west by his oil royalties. Born in exile and reared in desert warfare, he now lives in multi-million dollar luxury, provides a big air base for the U.S. and rules with absolute power.

King Faisal II of Iraq — This curley-haired monarch is cousin of King Hussein of Jordan. His West-oriented government has long been the counter-balance to the Syrian-Egyptian axis. He was educated at Britain's Harrow, became king in 1939 when only four years old, and toured the U.S. for five weeks in 1952. Like his cousin, he looks to the West and permits British Royal Air Force planes in his country.

Premier Nuri Es-Said of Iraq — This 69-year-old military-educated major general has dominated Iraq politics for the last 32 years, beginning in 1925 when he became minister of defense. But his middle-of-the-road constitutional union party has failed to solve the economic difficulties of much of Iraq's population.

Premier David Ben-Gurion of Israel — More perhaps than any other man, this shy, quick-tempered, conceited, tough, determined, 70-year-old leader has been the Father of Israel. Driven from Poland by pogroms, he became a fervent Zionist, was Israel's first prime minister, retired to a desert settlement, but returned in the crisis of 1955.

Jerusalem Even Today Divided

Holy City Hotly Contested

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Jerusalem — the name means "City of Peace" — has for centuries been one of the most hotly contested sites in the world.

It was founded in pre-Biblical times as a military fortress at the crossroads of important trade routes, and in the city's 33 centuries of recorded history it has changed hands innumerable times.

It has been conquered, sacked, destroyed. Its inhabitants have been slain, exiled, enslaved — but Jerusalem always was rebuilt and repopulated.

The city has seen the armies of Egypt, of ancient Israel, of Assyria, Greece, Persia, Rome, of the Crusaders, the Turks, the British and the Arabs and of modern Israel. And it still is the "City of Peace."

Holy wars have been fought with unholy barbarism for the city's possession and six times the religious allegiance of its rulers has been changed. Today Jerusalem is regarded as a sacred shrine by Christians, Jews and Moslems alike.

It is the center of an unceasing pilgrimmage to the Holy Sepulchre, the Holy Omars Mosque and the holy remnants of the ancient Temple of Solomon. It is a holy city.

Since the Israeli-Arab War in 1948 Jerusalem has been a divided community. Jordan controls one part of the city and the Israel the other. The dividing line was made where the front lines stood at the end of the fighting and the front line still exists, patrolled on opposite sides by Israeli and Arab police and soldiers.

3 Await Trial in Theft of 113 Bottles of Liquor

Pleas of innocent to breaking and entering were entered for Elton Barzell, 22, of 305 Coulson St., Hazel Park; Jesse Bailey, 22, of 2029 Riggs St., Warren, and Dwyane Youngblood, 20, of 6167 Voerner St., Center Line.

Accused of entering Fred's Bar, 20940 John R., through the skylight and of disposing of the liquor afterwards, the three men were ordered held by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick under $2,500 bond apiece until trial.

Yeggs Spend $8.35 in Holding Up Store

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—It cost two men $8.35 when they tried to hold up liquor store clerk Peter Galen.

They laid a $10 bill on the counter and asked for a half-pint of whiskey. Galen got the $1.65 bottle off the shelf and, when he turned around, found himself looking down the barrel of an automatic.

Margaret O'Brien to Be Juliet

Sprig of John Barrymore to Tackle Role of Romeo

By BOB THOMAS

Young John wouldst star with that pretty maid, Margaret O'Brien, in a youthful "Romeo and Juliet" at ye Pasadena Playhouse on the eve of May 9.

"I must be off my nut to try it," said John, who turneth a colourful phrase like his sire. "In the first place, I've never done any Shakespeare before. I'm sticking my neck out 10 miles because people will inevitably compare me with my father.

"How ridiculous can you get? I'm 24. My father didn't even attempt Shakespeare until he was 36 or 40. Until then, he had been considered a light actor."

His late sire's shade has haunted the lad during his seven years as a player. Hence he now yclepts himself John Drew Barrymore in all his billings.

"I've dropped the 'junior'" he spoke. "It just brought me nothing but trouble. People are always comparing me to my old man and we're nothing alike. (Note: John the younger quaffeth not the grape.)

"Besides, fans are always confusing me with the other juniors in this town. When one of them gets in the headlines for attempting suicide or cracking up his car, I get a bunch of letters telling me life is worth living or to drive more carefully!"

The John Barrymore Jr. cognomen is now borne by his manchild. But the tyke's mother, a mimer known as Cara Williams, protesteth: "I'm going to change the poor kid's name before he grows up. I don't want him to go through what Johnny has suffered."

Barrymore said he was approached for "Romeo and Juliet" by producer Albert McCleery, for whom he worketh on NBC-TV's "Matinee Theater."

Bloodhound Minnie Denied Steak Prize

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Mournful Minnie the Bloodhound won't get her steak dinner, but she had three grateful friends.

Minnie tracked down an alleged peeping tom in nearby Johnston County recently. Three witnesses, paid $1.60 each for appearing at the subsequent trial, forwarded their checks to State Prison officials. They thought Minnie should be rewarded with some steak for her detective work.

Robert A. Allen, director of prison field operations, said the checks — already returned once —will go back again to the senders. Meanwhile Minnie is doing well on plain dog food.

Fire Strictly for Birds

JACKSON (AP) — When someone reported a fire at a big downtown hotel, virtually every piece of firefighting equipment in the city answered the alarm. Firemen put out the blaze—in a bird's nest that had been ignited from the hotel's neon sign.

Critics Praise TV 'Cinderella'

British Ballet Troupe Performs in Fairy Tale for 90 Minutes

All praised the dancing of Margot Fonteyn as Cinderella, Michael Somes as the prince. The company formerly was known as the Sadler's Wells Ballet.

But the critics were divided on the TV adaptation of a work originally created by choreographer Frederick Ashton almost 10 years ago. Ashton played one of the ugly stepsisters last night.

W. G. Rogers, Associated Press arts editor, said the production was "charming" and a "fetching combination of ballet and romp."

"On this occasion," he said, "the camera, instead of interfering with the production as it has been known to, played a novel and important role."

TV critic Jack Gould of the New York Times said the production "had fleeting moments of fairy-like beauty and loveliness." But he said the video adaptation judged as a whole "seemed to lose much of its ethereal quality because of the compression necessary for the home screen."

Walter Terry, dance critic for the New York Herald Tribune, said the "Cinderella" ballet "lent itself wonderfully to the television medium." The production, he added, "boasted many effects which were not only magical but also pictorially fascinating."

Steven H. Scheuer of the New York Daily Mirror said the Royal Ballet made American television "a thing of beauty, grace and impeccable taste."

Last night's "Cinderella" was the second major presentation of the tale on TV this spring. Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical version was presented several weeks ago.

Singer Belle Baker Burial in New York

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The body of Belle Baker, renowned torch singer of the jazz and vaudeville era, will be sent to New York City, where she was born, for burial.

Miss Baker died in a hospital Sunday night, two days after she was stricken with a heart attack at her home in Beverly Hills. She was 58.

The 1920s and 30s—the era of Florenz Ziegfeld, Sophie Tucker, the Palace Theater in New York, prohibition, night clubs and radio —saw Miss Baker in her heyday. She had a vaudeville following virtually equal that of Sophie Tucker. She was tops on radio.

Miss Baker, a vaudeville performer at 14, introduced such great hits as Irving Berlin's "Blue Skies" and "Always." She did some silent movies and, in 1929, an early sound film, "The Song of Love."

Country Girl Flees From City After Close Call

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Judith Gay of Youngsville came here to be interviewed for a state job—and the roof almost fell in on her.

As she hurried along a midtown street during a sudden thunderstorm, lightning hit a building and dislodged its cornice. A stone block weighing hundreds of pounds fell on the sidewalk near her.

Frightened, she ran back to the building where she had been interviewed. She was given aspirin and a sniff of ammonia before someone noticed that the shattered stone had scratched her big toe.

Camp Kilmer to Close Gates on Hungarian Refugee Epic

CAMP KILMER, N. J. (AP)—The latest episode in America's centuries-old "give me your homeless" saga ends Wednesday with the closing of the Kilmer reception center to any more new refugees.

But though the stage—a demothballed Army camp—is folding, thousands of Hungarian refugees will remember it with deep and mixed sentiments.

Between Thanksgiving and Easter, the center was the first American home to some 30,000 escapees from Communist tyranny. As many as 2,044 checked in during a single day (Feb. 15).

The trickle of Hungarian refugees coming to these shores will be processed at the Austrian point of departure and on arrival in the United States housed at the St. George Hotel in Brooklyn, N. Y., beginning May 1. Refugees still here by the time the camp is boarded up will be transferred to the hotel.

America's response to the plight of the Hungarians was dramatic. Before the echo of Budapest's gunfire died down, a mighty air armada began ferrying Hungarian refugees to the United States in a round-the-clock shuttle service. The first planeload arrived on Thanksgiving Eve—less than a month after the Budapest uprising began.

The White House cut red tape and upped the Hungarian quota from 5,000 to 30,000. Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker was on hand to greet the early arrivals. Welfare agencies placed some of the newcomers in homes and jobs the day they arrived. IBM machines were installed here to expedite the processing of the escapees.

Private citizens responded with job and home offers. And Hungarian children learned that in America Santa Claus rewards the worthy twice—on the traditional Hungarian St. Nicholas Day (Dec. 6) and again on Christmas Day.

Kilmer was a fortunate choice as a reception center for Hungarians. For many of the residents in nearby New Brunswick are Americans of Hungarian descent. They were among the first to greet the new arrivals.

There was much joy—with several weddings and births. And there was tragedy too: people who broke down physically and people who lost their mental stability, and those without relatives or needed trades whose adjustments to a new life would take years.

But as the New Jersey Legislature put it, the Hungarian story is primarily one of "valor, courage and devotion."

200 Bees Escape Box in Post Office Cellar

NEW YORK (AP)— Two hundred bees escaped from a broken carton in the basement of the General Postoffice, halting all parcel dispatching for 15 minutes until they were felled by an insecticide bomb.

A half-dozen workers fled for safety when the carton broke. The bees were being shipped from Mount Vernon, Ga., to Arlington, Mass.

Drives on Boardwalk

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A 19-year-old WAF told municipal Judge Stephen A. Damico she operated an auto on this resort's famous boardwalk but her excuse couldn't prevent a $25 fine and $5 on a careless driving charge. "I was a stranger in town and it looked like a street," said Regina Strong, Lorain, Ohio.

Present Tax Rate Would Be Continued

Submit $109,000 Budget to Sylvan Lake Council

A proposed 1957-58 budget of approximately $109,000 — allowing for a continuation of the present $26.40 tax rate — will be submitted to the Sylvan Lake City Council at its May 8 meeting.

Retiring City Manager Ernest L. Ethier said the budget is "slightly higher" than the tentative budget of $105,835 presented by him Feb. 13. He added however, that it is still lower than last year's $114,290.

The tax rate of $26.40 per thousand of assessed valuation will be divided $20 per $1,000 for general operating expenses, $4.80 per $1,000 for sewer and water debt, and $1.60 per $1,0000 for garbage disposal.

The proposed plan will be submitted next month by newly-appointed manager Louis G. Barry, former Waterford Township clerk and acting supervisor. Ethier's resignation becomes effective tomorrow.

Ethier announced that the Birmingham planning consultant firm of David S. Geer has been engaged to make a two months study of the "optimum land uses", for a land parcel lying between Orchard Lake road and the Grand Trunk Railroad.

The study will include any appropriate zoning amendments, setbacks and site coverage.

In action taken last week, the City Council approved a program of spraying city and privately-owned elm trees to combat Dutch elm disease.

Citizens seeking to have their elms sprayed are asked to call the City Hall at FEderal 3-7163.

PENALTY ADDED

Ethier announced that beginning May 1 a 10 per cent penalty will be added to unpaid sewer service bills. He added that the same penalty will be added to first quarter water bills after May 17.

The annual spring pickup of brush, rubbish and refuse will begin May 1, Ethier said. Residents are asked to place containers, light enough that one man might handle them, at the curb by 7 a.m.

Waterford School Board Releases 1957-58 Calendar

The Waterford Township calendar for the 1957-58 school year has been released by the Board of Education.

The school year will begin Sept. 3, according to the report. School will be dismissed for a Teachers' Institute on Oct. 17 and 18.

Thanksgiving vacation will begin Nov. 28 and end Dec. 1. School will close Dec. 21 for Christmas vacation and open Jan. 2.

On Jan. 24 the first semester will end. Spring vacation in 1958 will be from April 4 to 8.

After the Memorial Day vacation May 30, school will close June 13.

South of the Equator, when things move in circles, the flow is counter-clockwise. When you pull drain plugs in sinks and bathtubs the water flows counter-clockwise as it disappears, and when you attend the races at world famous tracks in Chile and Argentina your winner should cross the finish line from your right.

Aims for KO of Fullmer

Robinson's Hopes Are High

CHICAGO (AP) — "Why go 15 rounds if you only have to go one?"

Sugar Ray Robinson authored this pearl of wisdom yesterday in a press interview following his final three-round boxing drill for tomorrow night's title rematch with middleweight champion Gene Fullmer.

Although the man who has held the 160-pound crown three different times, didn't come right out and predict a knockout, it was evident that he was thinking in that direction. All he would say for the record is "my hopes are high, very high."

Boxing writers who watched the New Yorker go through the motions, weren't overly impressed. They still remembered his failure to cope with the sturdy bully boy from West Jordan, Utah last Jan. 2 at Madison Square Garden.

Fullmer, who ended his training with a rugged five-round drill Saturday, was hidden away at a country club, waiting for time to go into town for Wednesday's noon weigh-in.

The bout will be televised and broadcast nationally, ABC 9 p.m. EST. Chicago and a 150-mile surrounding area will be blacked out on TV.

With $100,000 for TV rights and the money from the gate, Fullmer and Robinson each should get about $65,000.

The final meeting for managers of men's City League softball teams is scheduled Thursday night at 7:30 in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department office at City Hall.

No other meeting will be held before the start of league play. Teams not represented at this meeting will be omitted from the league roster unless earlier arrangements have been made and entry fees have been paid in full.

Due to limited seating space, no more than one representative from each team should attend this meeting. League organization, team classification, tournaments and other related subjects will be discussed.

'I'm Available' Says McHale

Lions Want Zatkoff

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions still are interested in obtaining linebacker Roger Zatkoff from the Cleveland Browns and are willing to swing a multi-player deal to get him.

Zatkoff, the former Michigan player who spent several seasons with the Green Bay Packers, went to the Browns a couple of weeks ago in another multi-player arrangement. He said previously he would not play professional football again unless he could be with the Lions.

"This is my home and the children are getting to the ages where we don't want to be moving them around," he said at the end of the 1956 season. "I'm in business in Detroit and it wouldn't be worth it to play anywhere else."

Zatkoff says now that "my mind isn't definitely made up."

"I'd like to play football," he said, "and I feel I have several good years left. The Browns made me a real good offer and it'll be a tough decision. Of course, I'd like to play in Detroit if something can be worked out."

If something is to be worked out, it'll likely come up in discussions May 17 when some officials from the Browns and the Lions will get together for a golf match in Detroit. That will give coaches Paul Brown of Cleveland and Buddy Parker of Detroit a chance to talk things over.

Parker said he called the Cleveland coach about 10 days ago and asked if he'd like to talk about a possible deal involving Zatkoff.

"He told me they wanted to talk to Roger first and that until the Browns were certain he wouldn't play for them, they didn't even want to discuss a deal," Parker said, "we didn't even get around to mentioning players who might be involved."

That squelched a rumor that the Lions were about ready to part with one of the biggest names on their roster. Parker was so surprised by the rumor that he asked that the player's name be withheld.

"It's too ridiculous," said Buddy, "and it wouldn't help matters at all to give out the player's name."

Parker did say that the Lions appear to have an abundance of both offensive and defensive backs, and would be willing to part with some of them in order to obtain strength elsewhere in the lineup.

Rich Carling Open Comes to Flint GC June 20-23

Flint will play host to the 1st major golf tournament in the city's history this year when the 5th annual Carling Open is held June 20-23 at Flint Golf Club.

Defending titlist Dow Finsterwald, National Open champ Cary Middlecoff, former U. S. Open king Julius Boros and Masters champion Doug Ford are among golf's big names expected to take a crack at $37,000 in prize money.

Inaugurated in 1953 at Cleveland, O., the Carling Open offers a unique financial payoff. A $5,000 bonus goes to a two-time winner and $10,000 is added to his jackpot if he wins it a 3rd time.

Under this setup, a repeater earns $10,700. A three-time winner would collect $15,700. Middlecoff, Boros, Ford and Finsterwald are all eligible for the bonus cash.

Middlecoff won the 1st tourney by defeating Ted Kroll in sudden death overtime. Boros took 1st place in 1954, also at Cleveland. Ford won in '55 at Boston while Finsterwald triumphed last year at St. Louis, Mo.

The nomadic Carling Open has another unique feature. It is co-sponsored by a local golf club or local civic organization in each city where it is held. This year's co-sponsor is the Flint Chamber of Commerce.

Dollars and more dollars should attract some of the nation's best to this tournament. Next to the World's Championship in Chicago, it is the richest top money tourney on the professional circuit.

Pontiac Bows to Northern

A three-run uprising in the 9th inning handed Flint Northern a 6-3 win over Pontiac High yesterday in a Saginaw Valley Conference baseball game at Wisner Field. It was Pontiac's 2nd SVC loss in three starts.

Jim Honchell, who relieved starter Terry Zellhart during Flint's three-run 5th inning, was the losing pitcher. Brown's single, a double by Ineycker and Penrod's home run doomed Honchell and the Chiefs in the 9th.

Pontiac took a 2-0 lead in the 4th stanza on a walk, two errors and hits by Chuck Johnson and Dave Diehm. Successive singles by Dave Simmons, Bud Hayward and Jim Skinner scored the tying run in the 7th and forced the game into extra innings.

Chiefs, Vikings Continue Feud

Pontiac High's thinclads invade Flint Northern's track this afternoon for the 4th meeting of the spring for these sizzling rivals. Chiefs will seek to stop Vikings' march to a winning season, after failing twice so far. Northern took away PHS' CMC Relays title last weekend, and previously won the CMC Invitational, another Pontiac title of 1956. And they collide again Friday in the Valley meet at Saginaw.

Coach Dean Wilson will take a full squad to Flint, including the three best high jumpers in Valley and state, Hudson Ray (MHSAA champ), Alex Barge and Fred Brooks, all bettering 6-2.

Would Like a Chance at Job as Tiger Boss

Announcement of Spike Briggs' Successor May Come Today

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers will name their new general manager today or tomorrow. The consensus is that it will be young John McHale.

McHale, 36, is director of player personnel for the Tigers and has been regarded as the "bright young man" in the Tiger front office.

"No one has talked with me about it (the job)," he said early today. "I'm available. I've been in the organization 16 years and they ought to know whether I'm the man for the job. I'd welcome a shot at it."

McHale was a Notre Dame football player and broke into baseball as a first baseman at Muskegon, Mich., in the Tiger farm system in 1941. His first manager was Jack Tighe, present Tiger manager.

He moved into the front office in 1948 as assistant farm director. Three years ago he succeeded Herold (Muddy) Ruel as farm director when Ruel moved up to be general manager.

When an 11-man syndicate bought out the Briggs family as owners, Spike Brigs stepped from president to general manager, Ruel was shuffled to a new job as assistant to the president and McHale became director of player personnel and, in effect, assistant general manager.

Ruel's name also was linked in speculation about the general manager's job.

The post was left open when Briggs quit under fire last Friday.

Briggs, himself, suggested McHale as his logical successor, since the club has an expressed policy of elevating men already in the organization.

Ruel had asked for and been granted a year's leave of absence starting in June. He plans to go to Europe.

The Tigers, which have played 2nd fiddle to the front office maneuverings almost since the season opened, return to Briggs Stadium today for a two week home stand starting with the New York Yankees.

The 11 new bosses had just plunked down $4,200,000 in cash, of a record $5,500,000 price tag, for the Detroit franchise and the two big names in the deal, Fred Knorr and John Fetzer, figured the big lump at least warranted a desk on the scene.

The big office of the late Walter O. Briggs, Sr., was left to Spike Briggs, Jr., even though he was now reduced from president to general manager.

"Spike will have full authority of the baseball operation," Fetzer, chairman of the board, said at that time.

Fetzer and Knorr then proceeded to set up offices in the space formerly occupied by Herold "Muddy" Ruel, and Ruel in turn moved his desk into that occupied by John J. McHale, along with his new title as "assistant to the president."

McHale took over the office of one of the secretaries and a member representing each of the three groups comprising the 11 owners also took up desks.

The three divisions of the owners was broken down with Fetzer, Carl Lee, vice-president in Fetzer's radio company, and Paul O'Bryan of Washington, D.C. in one group.

The second group was made up of Knorr, William McCoy and Harvey R. Hansen, and the third group included Kenyon Brown of Texas, Joe Thomas of New York, George Coleman of Oklahoma and Robert F. Woolworth of New York.

Before the dust had a chance to collect on the ink of the 160 documents which were signed that October day the rumbling started and finally brought about the results of the past couple weeks.

Ruel's position was obvious. He was "promoted" to the do-nothing position of assistant to the president, and Knorr who stood closer to Briggs than any of the new owners knew what was planned for Spike by the board of directors and he wanted to wash his hands of it before it happened. So he stepped down.

The third and the biggest office became vacant with Briggs leaving, so now the movers are patiently waiting to see which desk goes where.

A pair of hotly contested Wayne-Oakland League baseball tussles and impressive golf triumphs by Birmingham, Royal Oak and Bloomfield Hills featured the Monday sports schedule played under sunny skies.

Clarkston moved into a tie for the lead in the northern division of the W-O loop on the strength of a 1-0 one-hitter hurled by Dandy Dave Gaddis. Only an infield bingle by loser Terry Hoy prevented previously unbeaten Milford from being completely blanked.

At Northville, Bloomfield Hills had a 1-0 edge with two out in the 7th when the home club put together a walk, single, wild throw and a two-run single by Morgan to pull out a 2-1 victory over Freshman lefty Jim Gerhard, making his 1st high school start.

On the golf front, Birmingham opened in good form whipping Grosse Pointe 323-351 with sons of area golf pros leading the rivals. Medalist was Mike Conroy of the winners with 76 for 18 holes with teammate Pete Jackson firing a 79. Jeff Beltore and Hudson Harrison scored 81 each for the Pointers.

Royal Oak was pushed hard by Southfield before taking the Jays and Van Dyke by scores of 167-179-210 in a triangular match. Dan Bera of the Oaks shot a 38 for medalist honors. White of Royal Oak and Southfield's Dave Krause were just one stroke off at 39.

The Bloomfield Hills linksmen had little trouble extending their win streak to four with a 182-209 verdict over Country Day at North Hills Country Club. Bud Badger was medalist with 40, Bob Thompson had 44.

Today's schedule is as follows:

KISS FOR "KLU" — Ted Kluszewski, the Cincinnati Redlegs' slugging first baseman, got a big kiss from his wife, Eleanor, yesterday as he entered Christ Hospital in Cincinnati for a complete checkup and treatment of a mysterious hip ailment. The hip trouble has bothered Kluszewski since spring training of 1956 and he has started only one game this season. Redleg officials say "Klu" will stay in the hospital until the exact nature of his ailment is determined and doctors say he can play.

The mistake of Mike Regan

Patrolman Michael Regan sees his friend, Harry Sharp, getting into a parked car and taps him on the shoulder. "What did I do?" asks Harry. "I think maybe you stole this new Ford," Mike grins—"don't you always drive a medium-priced car?" "I bought this Ford Fairlane 500," Harry replies, "and it's the BEST car I ever bought. I got this big, good-looking automobile, plus automatic transmission, radio, heater, whitewalls, two-tone—the works—for lots less than I'd have paid for a stripped-down medium-priced car." "Sure and you're not as dumb as you look—I'll have to let you go," says Mike. "You'll get a Ford Fairlane 500, too, unless you're as dumb as you look," Harry tells him. All kidding aside, a Ford with all the Luxury extras is really the steal of the year!

Alert Jockey Avoids Spill

LINCOLN, R.I. (AP) — Previous rodeo experience has saved jockey Allen Fairbanks from serious injury.

Fairbanks was tossed to the side of the horse but quickly grabbed Warm Ace's neck.

Taking a page from the rodeo tricks he had learned on the circuit some years ago, Fairbanks held on, waited for the field to pass, then jumped to the ground and did a complete somersault.

Red Sox, Nats Swap 5 Players

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fingers were crossed in Boston and Washington today as a result of the first major trade since the 1957 baseball season opened two weeks ago.

In Boston, the question was whether a change of scenery will benefit southpaw Dean Stone, late of the Senators. If so, he could be just the man for the Red Sox, who are sorely lacking in left-handers.

In Washington, the fans were eager to see if Faye Throneberry and Milt Bolling could rectify glaring weaknesses at center field and shortstop, respectively.

These were the key men in the two-for-three swap, entailing no cash, announced yesterday.

The Senators sent Stone and right-handed pitcher Bob Chakales to Beantown in return for Throneberry, Bolling and Russ Kemmerer, a right-handed hurler who spent last year with San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League.

The exchange culminated months of dickering between brothers-in-law Calvin Griffith, president of the Senators, and Joe Cronin, general manager of the Red Sox.

Griffith said he had been angling for two months to land the three players dispatched by Boston.

Cronin said at Boston the players involved "will provide help we both need."

Mike Higgins of Boston said at Kansas City the Red Sox would "be greatly improved as a team" if Stone and Chakales deliver.

"I'm keeping my fingers crossed," he said.

Charley Dressen, the Senator' manager, said at Cleveland he was all set to use Throneberry at center field and Bolling at shortstop. The Senators play the Indians tonight, and Dressen said: "I only hope they get here before game time."

Braves Battle NL Precedent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The whirlwind getaway by Milwaukee in the National League pennant race (9-1) stamps the Braves as the team to beat but it by no means establishes them as a sure thing. In fact, precedent is against Fred Haney's crew.

Since the start of the modern era (1901), seven clubs, prior to the 1957 Braves, lost only one game during the first two weeks of the season. Of these, only two—the 1915 Philadelphia Phillies (15-1) and the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers (11-1)—went on to win the pennant.

While the National League spreads out over the East, American League teams go West. Most of the attention will be focused on Chicago and Detroit.

The workouts will take place at the Jaycee Park and Washington Junior High diamonds from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. They will run on consecutive Saturday mornings through June 8.

There will be five team classifications this year—Class D (18 years of age and under), Class E (16 and under), Class F (14 and under), Midgets (12 and under) and Widgets (10 and under).

Class E and D teams are now being organized. Managers' meetings will be held Thursday, May 16, at the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department office. Midget and Class F managers convene at 7 p.m. while "E" and "D" pilots meet at 7:45.

5 Picked From Pontiac

Publinx Golf Team Chosen

Five Pontiac golfers form a solid part of the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's 16-man team, which meets the Detroit District Golf Association squad May 19 in a challenge match at Edgewood Country Club.

Named to the team from Pontiac were Roy Iceberg, Mike Andonian, Paul Rada, Wally Smith and Joe Kocsis.

Iceberg carded a 36-37—73 Sunday at Rochester Golf and Country Club to win the championship flight in the MPGA's 1st handicap tournament of the year.

Sunday's tourney attracted 205 golfers, the largest field in MPGA history. Play started at 8:30 a.m. and the last foursome did not tee off until 4 o'clock. The tail-enders finished in semi-darkness.

Three more MPGA handicaps remain this season, with Highland Golf and Country Club hosting the next tournament June 2. The other two events are scheduled at Hillcrest and Sunnybrook.

Leonard Puts OK on 'Gill Reduction

Approval of a plan for elimination of undersized bluegills and a general reduction of the species in Lakeville lake was extended Monday at a meeting of 60 residents in Leonard town hall.

Most were in favor of the cut in fish population of the favored fishing waters, where it was found too many little fish were crowding the lake.

Rotenone will be used to eliminate the over-population. Large fish and game predator species will be saved and returned to the water. Work will be done May 14, with a conservation crew in charge of Horace Clark of the Lansing office. Ten days to two weeks after the rotenone treatment saved fish will be returned to the lake, Clark said.

A Second Wilt Kansas Bound?

CONROE, Tex. (AP)—Two Wilt the Stilts on one team? Could be since Kansas, where Wilt Chamberlain is the star of the basketball team, is after Warnell Jones, 17. This Negro boy may be taller than Wilt before he stops growing.

Jones, a senior at the all-Negro Booker T. Washington High School in Conroe, stands 6 feet 11 and is being sought by no less than 14 colleges and universities. The reason is obvious: He scored 628 points in 20 games for an average of 31.4 last season.

Final Softball Meeting

Final plans for the 1957 Waterford Township Recreation Softball League will be made tonight at a meeting in the Community Center. All managers and teams interested in joining the league this summer must attend this session. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m.

'Psychic Driving' New Treatment

Neurotics Try Deep Sleep

DALLAS (AP)—A new technique of treating neurotic patients, by putting them into a deep sleep for as long as 60 days and using recordings to restore their confidence was described yesterday by a Canadian psychiatrist.

The patient is put to sleep with barbiturates and tranquilizers for 30 to 60 days. He is awakened only long enough for three meals a day and electric shock treatments, said Dr. D. Ewen Cameron, chairman of the psychiatry department at McGill University at Montreal, Canada.

Dr. Cameron calls his new sleep- and-verbal-repetition treatment "psychic driving"—the theory being that new and improved behavior patterns are driven into a patient by repeating recorded verbal signals.

The long nap is followed by a powerful dose of positive thinking. The patient listens to a record playing two or three affirmative statements over and over for 15 hours a day, perhaps for a week.

Depending on the individual's needs, the recording says different things, but an example might be: "I do have confidence. I can make decisions. People do like me."

After six or seven days of this, the patient is put back to sleep for 5 to 10 days while the new attitudes driven into his consciousness by the recorded voice sink deeper and become a part of his personality, at least for the time being.

In some patients, he said the change lasts only a few days, in others for weeks or months and in a few, it has lasted as long as a year.

MJ&A Reports Boost Over 9-Year Period in All Offices

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Preparing for the formal opening Friday of its new Media and Accounting annex, MacManus, John & Adams' President Ernest A. Jones reports that his advertising agency's business has risen 317 per cent in the last nine years.

In dollar volume, the firm increased its billings from $9,000,000 in 1947 to $37,500,000 at the beginning of 1957, Jones said, a rate of increase enjoyed by only five others of the 5,000 American advertising agencies.

MJ&A now services 41 accounts through its offices in Bloomfield Hills, New York City, Toronto, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The agency's latest expansion increases agency space 40 per cent and occupies nearly two-thirds of the newly opened Gleaner Building on Woodward Avenue, a few miles from the headquarters building.

WILL BE HOSTS

Jones and Elmer W. Froehlich, vice president and media director, together with other company officers will be hosts Friday to nearly 100 publication, television and radio representatives and members of the press for cocktails and a tour of the new quarters which house media, radio, television, billing, accounting, checking and internal administration departments. More than 100 employes work there.

Last week MJ&A completed an expansion of its New York office which now occupies two floors at 444 Madison Avenue. The New York office, opened by Jones in 1950, now offers complete agency facilities including copy-contact, art, media, promotion, research and is staffed by 50 persons.

Materials Handling Called 'Life Blood'

Materials handling equipment is the "artery through which the life blood of industry flows," G. E. McNeive, material handling and production control superintendent for GMC Truck and Coach, told the National Materials Handling Conference in Philadelphia today.

He said accurate and complete file cards should be kept on each material handling truck to guide replacement decisions. If maintenance costs exceed 25 per cent of the new equipment mark, replacement should be considered.

Changes in procedures, he added, sometimes makes it profitable to replace current equipment before it wears out.

Wheat Prices Decline Slightly

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat declined slightly on the board of trade today on scattered selling influenced by weakness in the May contract. Profit taking by commission houses and a limited demand stemming from the lowering of government prices for wheat at the eastern seaboard contributed to the decline.

Corn was a shade easier on light receipts at Chicago and good demand. Soybeans showed a firmer trend in the nearby months due to higher soybean oil prices and the absence of any tender indications on the May contract.

Rye opened unchanged to fractionally higher in a light trade with some selling on rallies which resulted from indications there will be some deliveries on the May contract tomorrow.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅜ to 1⅞ lower, old style, May $2.21¾, new style, July $2.09⅞, corn was unchanged to ⅜ higher, May $1.28, oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, May 69¾, rye unchanged to ⅜ higher, May $1.23, soybeans were ⅜ lower to 1½ higher, May $2.41⅜, and lard was 2 cents higher to 7 cents lower, May $13.35.

Trend Mixed in Stock Prices

Most leading issues showed fractional changes.

U.S. Steel, whose quarterly earnings and dividend report is due after the close today, slipped a fraction after yesterday's unusual gain of 1⅜.

The steel group was easier after pacing the market yesterday. Bethlehem and Youngstown shaded slightly but Republic Steel was steady. Lukens added a couple points.

A mixture of good and bad news in the corporate earnings reports formed a backdrop for today's market. At the same time, market analysts noted that the stock market average was now very close to its January high and this presents a technical barrier.

Blasts Curtice's Remarks on High Michigan Taxes

LANSING (AP) — A Republican legislator says remarks by General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice on industrial taxation in Michigan "may have created irreparable damage to any hope for increase in industrial development" in the state.

In a letter to the auto company executive yesterday, Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) criticized a statement by Curtice last weekend that taxes on Michigan business and industry have influenced General Motors in building new plants outside the state.

Likewise, Sallade said, the statement "may have adversely affected business plans and developments already under way."

Curtice's remarks were brought on by a proposal before the legislature to levy a corporations profits tax.

Sallade is the only Republican member of the legislature who has said openly he would support such a tax if revenue it brought in were set aside for schools.

Speaking before the Republican state central committee Saturday, he said he would oppose all his fellow GOP lawmakers, if necessary, to obtain more state aid for schools.

Sallade noted in his letter to Curtice that corporate profits now are taxed by the federal government at a rate of 52 per cent.

Declaring a need for "adequate educational facilities at all levels," Sallade asserted that a "hold the line policy" on state spending "amounts to hindering rather than helping."

The property tax payer in Michigan is overburdened, he said, and an increase in the sales tax would be "a grossly unfair method of taxation."

A BRAINSTORM HELPED ME EARN $250 A WEEK

By a Wall Street Journal Subscriber

Not long ago I went to a college reunion. I spent some time with some chaps who were having a "brainstorm" — a talk-fest where each man contributes his own ideas on a certain subject.

The subject of this particular discussion was MONEY!

There was one man in the group who earned more than all the rest of us, but he wouldn't talk. So we ganged up on him and kept shooting questions at him. Finally, he opened up and gave us some wonderful ideas. I can't remember all he said, but one bit of advice I do recall. He said, "Subscribe to The Wall Street Journal. It will help you get ahead."

Well, to make a long story short, I tried it, and IT DID. Within a short time, my income was up to $250 a week.

This story is typical. If you think The Wall Street Journal is just for millionaires, you are wrong. The Journal helps salaried men making $7,000 to $20,000 a year. It is valuable to small business men. It can be of enormous benefit to the ambitious young man who wants to win advancement.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs only $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

Published daily right in the Midwest to bring you vital business and Washington news immediately. Address: The Wall Street Journal, 711 W. Monroe St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Postpone Commerce Rezoning

150 Protest Track

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — About 150 persons, from this and surrounding townships, flocked to Commerce Township Hall last night to protest a rezoning request for the construction of a proposed race track here.

Last night's public meeting had been slated after the Commerce Zoning Board received the request to rezone a large parcel of land at Haggerty Road in the vicinity of the Commerce Drive-In, from agricultural to heavy industrial.

Persons attending, including residents from White Lake, Waterford, and West Bloomfield townships mostly protested the anticipated excessive use of roads by thousands going to and from the track.

A vote was taken on the issue and only one person attending voted for the issue, reports said.

The rezoning was postponed and residents will hold another meeting within 30 days. They will attempt to get the use of Walled Lake Senior High School for the session, spokesmen said.

A real estate broker negotiating for the property indicated to pressmen that should it be built, the track would be open only about six weeks of the year.

Cowboy Instinct Saves Boy's Life as Car Hits Bike

Robert was riding his bicycle through the intersection of M59 and Airport road, when the light turned red.

He was struck by a car driven by Bjarne Persson, 34, of 3540 Imensee St., Milford. When the car hit the bicycle, Robert jumped up on the hood of Persson's car and rode right on through the intersection unhurt.

The car ran over the bicycle and when Persson stopped the youth was astraddle the hood, looking through the windshield at him.

Both the boy and the wrecked bike were loaded into the back seat of the car and Robert was taken to his home at 5859 Jerasie St.

BRINGS HOME HONORS — James Russell, sophomore, son of Wayland E. Gorman, head of the military science department at MSU which sponsors this sport. The plaque was won in the Western Conference meet held at Iowa City.

DETROIT (INS) — Michigan Supreme Court Justice George Edwards will be the principal speaker tomorrow night at the Detroit College of Law Alumni Association's annual reunion.

Leithleiter Due in Federal Court

Arraignment Set Today for Local Man Nabbed in Extortion Attempt

Charles A. Leithleiter, 38, of 15 Pinegrove Ave. was slated to be arraigned this afternoon in federal court charged with violating the federal statutes by using the mails to extort $500 from the wife of a Pontiac physician.

Leithleiter, the father of three children, was turned over to Richard J. Holleran, U. S. Marshal, late yesterday afternoon by Pontiac Police, according to Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The federal warrant was obtained from George Woods, chief assistant U.S. attorney in Detroit, by Postal Inspector Donald F. Woodward.

Leithleiter was moved from the Oakland County Jail to the Wayne County Jail.

The factory worker was captured by Pontiac Police Friday in Orion Township woods, named as payoff place for $300, a portion of the total $500 he requested from the woman.

Leithleiter admitted he had written two letters to the local woman threatening "to expose her character" to her husband if she didn't pay. He said he didn't know the doctor or the woman and just picked the name at random from the telephone book.

Detroit Picked as Site for Annual Vets Meeting

Detroit will be the site of the 10th Annual Convention of the National China-Burma-India Veterans Association to be held Aug. 7-10 at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

The Association's members, veterans who served in the China, Burma, or India theaters during World War II, will discuss the coming year's outline and elect new officers.

Dr. EARL OLDHAM

The World Baptist Fellowship regional meeting will be held tomorrow in the CAI Building, in Waterford Township. The Rev. George Norris of Fort Worth, Texas, pastor there, and president of the fellowship, will be the main speaker. Others to talk will be Dr. Earl Oldham (above) Dr. Bob Ingle and Dr. Ray Tatum. The event, to be held under auspices of the Faith Baptist Church, will be held from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., with dinner being served by church members at 5 p.m.

Probation, $200 Costs Given 3 Pontiac Boys

Probationary terms yesterday were given three Pontiac youths who pleaded guilty to taking indecent liberties with two juvenile girls.

Placed on probation three years and assessed $200 court costs by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick were:

Edward Usrey 18, of 274 N. Johnson Ave.; Robert J. White, 17, of 292 Seward St. and Bobby Brown, 21, of 261 N. Saginaw St.

The complaint was made by the father of the two girls, ages 12 and 15.

Sure Sign of Spring

City's 7 Parks Open Tomorrow

It will be a sure sign that spring is here as the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. tomorrow opens its 1957 parks season.

Weather permitting, Wednesday will mark the opening of Beaudette, Murphy, Oakland, Rotary, Jaycee, Indian Village, and portions of a new 110-acre park near Hawthorne School on Pontiac's northwest side.

William Aho, parks supervisor for the department, said, residents, both young and old, can look forward to plenty of fun and relaxation on the city's 483 acres of recreational land. This includes the Municipal Golf Course, which opened earlier this month.

Predicting a record turnout this year, with the weatherman's cooperation, Aho said: "I think people are finding out that they can have just as much fun in town in our parks than driving a long way."

"And where else can you have so much fun for nothing," he added.

SCOUTS PITCH IN

A crew of some 13 parks employes have been through the parks preparing them for the opening. Several weeks ago, 250 Clinton Valley Council Boy Scouts pitched in and aided in the clean-up.

Added to the city's parks system this year will be an area unofficially called "Hawthorne Park" because of its proximity to Hawthorne School.

A unique feature of the park — south of Walton boulevard and west of the North Telegraph road extension — will be the use of Upper Silver and Kregor Lakes which are located in the park.

Aho said there will be sufficient room for parking of boat trailers near the lakes. Fishing will be permitted, but not swimming, he said.

The park also will have about 200 picnic tables and 10 picnic grills.

Aho said the park is the city's first with fishing and boating facilities, with the exception of some fishing in the Dawson Mill Pond at Beaudette Park.

In this, as in Murphy and Oakland Parks, there will be playground equipment, shuffleboard, horseshoes, volleyball courts, softball diamonds, and picnic facilities.

Experienced caretakers will be available here also to provide equipment free of charge, Aho said.

Tennis enthusiasts will find courts at these three areas also.

BASEBALL CENTER

Jaycee Park, at the corner of Walton and Joslyn, will be the center of Class A baseball and Midget League softball at four separate diamonds. Parking facilities have been expanded, the supervisor reported. Picnic equipment too will be placed here.

More trees have been planted, lawns seeded, and the area partially fenced at Rotary Park, on Wessen street between Branch and Walnut. "There is a hope we can get some picnic tables here," Aho said.

Murphy Park is situated on East boulevard near the Naval Training Center; Oakland Park is off Montcalm street between Ivy and Glenwood; and Beaudette Park is on Orchard Lake avenue between Voorheis and Telegraph.

The seventh park is Indian Village on West Huron street at Genesee. This park, the smallest of the seven, will contain a swing, slide, and three picnic tables.

Only Crew Aboard; 3 Injured Ankles

DC7 Explodes in Takeoff

BALTIMORE (AP)—A DC7 airliner with six crewmen aboard caught fire and exploded early today at Friendship International Airport. Three crewmen were injured but all six got out without help.

The Pan American World Airways Clipper had been practicing touch-and-go landings with no passengers aboard. It burst into flames while taxiing down the runway before taking off for New York's Idlewild Airport.

Pilot E. D. Morris sprained his ankle when he jumped from the plane. "It's too late to talk," he said. "It's against company policy."

Police said there were three explosions after the plane caught fire.

Firemen said the nose wheel apparently collapsed and the fuel line broke.

Columnist Names Groucho 'Best Comedian' of Season

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Remains on Top as Others Fade

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — In this season of selection of the "bests" in TV, no use beating around the bush with our choice of a "best comedian," for he is Groucho Marx.

Television has been savagely hard on comedians, especially the last few seasons. Once we might not have believed it possible that any comedian with the vast popularity of Milton Berle could slide right out of the medium altogether in so short a time.

Only two years ago Jackie Gleason was the Saturday night lord of all he surveyed, and he surveyed far into the future and voiced sadness at what he was certain he would do to his pal Perry Como. Time told that tale and Jackie is a bitter Pagliacci today, pushed out of his old hour by his own network.

Sid Caesar is one of the best comic craftsmen in TV, and has the respect of his competitors and critics. Apparently the only ones who won't watch Sid are the public, at least in large enough lots to give him more than a vague rating.

Comics glow and fade in the flickering TV spotlight, and each season sees a Red Buttons unbuttoned from his passing success, a Johnny Carson lighting up the sky fitfully, passing on to disappointments, a Jonathan Winters with little beyond his scrapbook full of eagerly written suggestions that he would be "next year's comedian."

CLOWNS WITH CLASS

These are folks whose careers have been permanently pleasing, and well-deserved. They are graceful winners, not sore winners. They wear their success with the nonchalance of those long accustomed to it. And atop them all we place Groucho in our list.

There are only a few great "clowns" in any generation. Will Rogers, Fred Allen, W.C. Fields, Fannie Brice, Groucho Marx, Bobby Clark and Bert Lahr have have been the "class" of our lifetime.

Bobby Clark and Bert Lahr still are with us, although not practicing in TV presently. Only Groucho remains the immovable object of our television admiration, the irresistible force of fun in the newest entertainment medium of all.

Groucho's "You Bet Your Life" is unimportant as a quiz. It manages to dispense a comparatively piddling sum in this day of buying ratings by phony philanthropies.

The valuable commodity in "You Bet Your Life" is Groucho alone. His virtuoso imprudence remains at the top of the TV heap, and it hasn't changed much through the seasons, in point of view or the ratings.

The show has a wonderfully level of lunacy and a built-in "style" the public knows and loves. Its habit pattern is Groucho; its always changing elements are the contestants; together they provide the consistently best comedy in television.

"BEST COMEDIAN" — Groucho Marx wins video columnist Jack O'Brian's vote as the best television comedian of the current season. The writer praises Groucho's comedy quiz show, "You Bet Your Life," for its "lively level of lunacy." The program is telecast Thursdays at 7 p. m. over NBC.

Hagerty Says U.S. Picks Right Chiefs

As examples of the "right man at the right time" he cited Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Democratic chief executives Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Hagerty made the comment during an unscheduled address to East Georgia Rotarians last night. He said he stopped in at the convention "just to give the Rotarians the President's respects."

Aids Convalescent to Face Problems on Release

State Hospital Uses Group Therapy

By JUDITH CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

One of the new programs at Pontiac State Hospital is the YWCA Group Therapy Program, sponsored by both Pontiac State Hospital and the Flint Office of the State Vocational Rehabilitation Department.

It is a program conducted by fully accredited psychiatric caseworkers, specially versed in group dynamics, according to Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent.

Purpose of the therapy group is to activate the individual patient to a group awareness, to the responsibility and obligation he must share with others, and to help him gain self esteem and confidence.

Those who attend the meetings held once each week at the YWCA represent a group of patients from the hospital, from the Family Care program and from convalescent status, Ted A. Panaretos, supervisor of the program, said.

The program helps the patient who is threatened by leaving the hospital, afraid to face the world again. This is an important measure as society often has misconceived ideas regarding the mental patient.

Take the case of Laura, a 31-year-old woman admitted to Pontiac State Hospital because she was unable to get along satisfactorily in society. She was belligerent, assaultive, believed people to be against her, and she had contemplated suicide. Although she was a highly skilled technician, she could not maintain a job due to her irrational behavior and negative thinking.

Hospital authorities soon discovered that Laura displayed good work habits, but found that she had much difficulty in socializing with people. She refused to participate in group activities and often stated she had no plans for the future other than remaining hospitalized.

She made some improvement and gradually was able to participate in a few hospital activities, but she contined to find relationships with others difficult and refused to consider leaving the hospital.

The medical staff felt that this patient could leave if she could gain confidence in herself and learn to trust people. Because her future hinged on involving her in a program where she might gain incentive to socialize, it was recommended that she enter the program.

After a few weeks of participation in the group, Laura began to enjoy activities, and now has assumed the role of official greeter to new patients in the program. Lately she has spoken in terms of leaving the hospital and has inquired about her registration card for employment.

For most convalescent-type patients such as Laura, social integration is difficult, Panaretos said. There is a refitting into family and public life, relationships with old friends to be restored, a job to be obtained and a need to participate in the community life.

The hospital-vocational rehabilitation group therapy program is geared to accomplish these ends. Its methods are fundamentally sound as is shown by patients who are gaining the necessary strength to move out of the hospital and face realities of everyday living.

The group functions as a miniature society within which all members are accepted and find opportunities for expression.

FAMILY CARE

The Family Care program is another program designed to help the patient make a good adjustment to the community. He is placed in a private home where he is allowed more freedom and is given more individual attention than he could receive in a hospital. Homes and therapists are chosen carefully to meet the emotional needs of the patient. There are both rural and urban homes depending upon the patient.

A large percentage of these individuals have improved to the point of being well enough to be released or placed on convalescent status, thus making room for the acutely ill patient needing hospital care, Marguerite M. Parrish, director of the social service department, stated. Family Care which is under the direction of this department, is headed by Mrs. Johanna Schettler.

Aided by a psychiatrist, this staff which includes four psychiatric social workers, visits the patient and watches carefully his progress. The Family Care worker uses every opportunity to interpret mental illness and teach mental health to people in all walks of life.

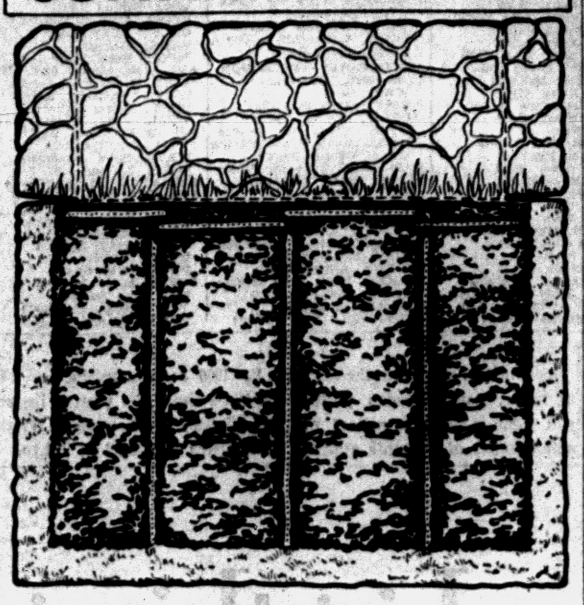

This same teaching process is carried out at the hospital for relatives of patients. These meetings held once each week acquaint relatives with mental illness, how it is brought on, what can be done about it, and how they can help in the rehabilitation of the patient.

Dr. LaCore says: "Our aim today is prevention of mental illness, and if we are to prevent such illness we must understand it, know how and why it develops, and have an acceptance of such illness. Until the public is able to accept mental illness, early care and ultimate prevention can not be realized."

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

2. Your Garden Plot

Here's a piece of ground that will be your model garden. The stone wall at the back will make a good place for tall flowers and plants to stand.

Perhaps you've also made plans for starting your real garden. Every garden needs sunshine, so pick a place that is not in the shadow much of the day. And it needs good soil, free of sand and clay.

Of course you have to have some seeds and plants, and a few tools to help you care for them. Yesterday you saw Billy turn over the soil with a spade. You'll also want a hoe, a rake, a trowel and a hand fork. Later you'll want a pair of garden scissors and a ball of heavy garden twine. And you will find use for some markers to show you what you've planted — like the ones in yesterday's picture.

Now back to our model garden. Paste the picture on cardboard and color the earth brown, the stones in the wall various shades of gray, brown, and blue. Cut out the picture and fold up the wall end along the dash line. Fold the ends forward on the dash lines too, and then we'll be ready for planting. The slots near the wall are for plants and flowers that will grow there. The dotted lines show a possible arrangement of garden rows. Later you can make slits on the ground wherever you decide to put a plant.

Four good reasons why today's superior concrete pavement will save lives and dollars for generations of American drivers on the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways:

2. Durability. Much longer life than any other type of pavement.

3. Low upkeep. Lowest maintenance cost as proven by published records of 24 state highway departments.

4. Costs no more to build. Lower first cost than other types designed for the same traffic.

Best investment for tax dollars—concrete.

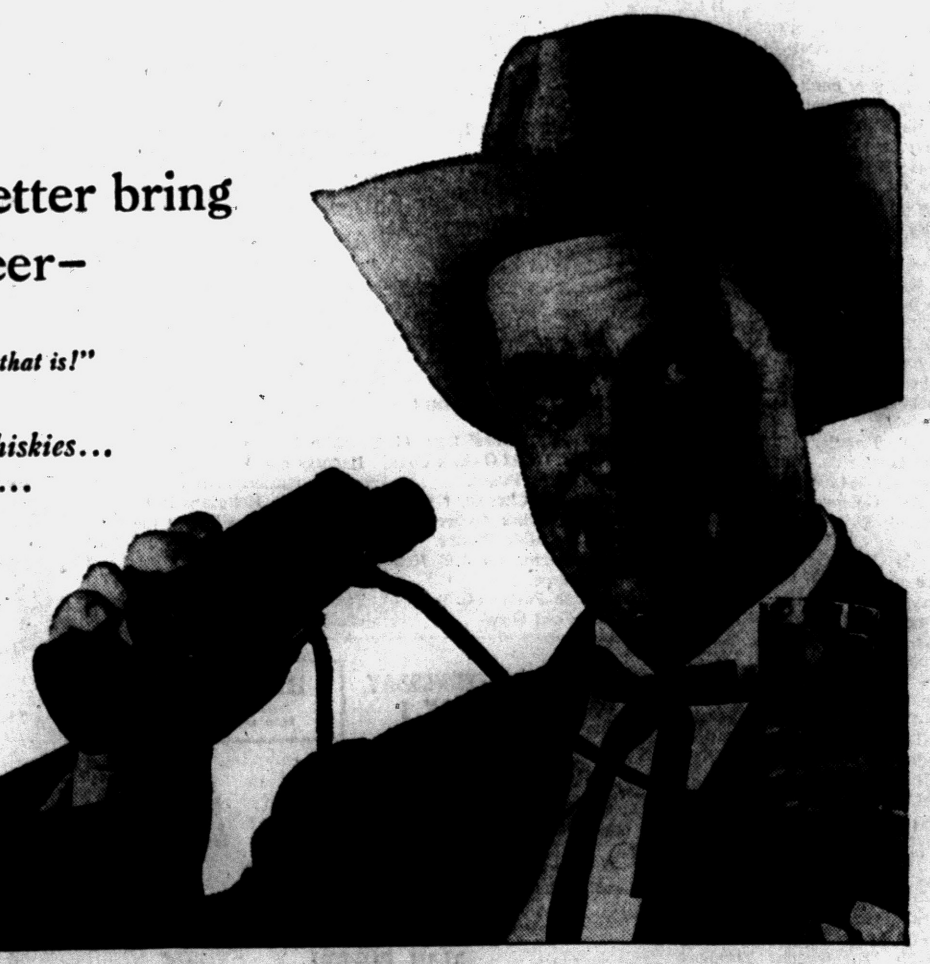

Michigan's concrete highways serve an average of 27 years before resurfacing. Concrete roads cost no more than equal flexible type surfaces but serve twice as long—releasing more tax dollars to improve secondary roads. On all counts, concrete has proved best for Michigan.
