

Speck Trial Opens in Illinois; Death Penalty Asked Romney Urges 'Time Tithe'

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (U) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan, on a political sortie through his boyhood homeland, called today for a national "tithing" to help solve this nation's ills.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Republican luncheon in Idaho Falls, he said "four" hours—10 per cent of a 40 hour week—spent in well-conceived voluntary effort at the local level could reshape America faster than federal programs ever will.

Tithing usually refers to the voluntary contribution of one-tenth of one's income to a church.

Romney, a Mormon who believes in tithing—money or time—said a recent national survey showed that more than 61 per cent of adult Americans said they would give four hours a week to productive citizen service.

"These 245 million man-hours would equal the total output of the automobile, food processing, railroad, department store and clothing industries," he said.

SECOND DAY

This was Romney's second day of visiting friends and landmarks of the past while assessing future political support in two home states.

Two former homes and the grade school where he was valedictorian were on the "remember when" itinerary. Pollicking in Southeast Idaho was scheduled for a convocation at Rice College in Rexburg and a dinner at Idaho State University in Pocatello.

Romney made the most of yesterday in Utah defending his religious convictions and running hard against the Johnson administration.

He chose the heartland of his family and church to tackle a religious issue that without question will repeat itself if he does make a race for the presidency. His Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints refuses the priesthood—open to all white males over 12— to Negroes.

'WOULDN'T BELONG'

"If my church prevented me from working to eliminate social injustice and racial discrimination—as I have for 25 years—I would not belong to it," Romney told the Salt Lake City Ministerial Association, "but that's not the case."

He stressed his own record on civil rights.

TAKEN INTO COURT — A handcuffed Richard Speck is led into the Peoria County Courthouse yesterday where he heard Prosecutor William J. Martin ask for the death penalty in his trial. Speck is charged with the slaying of eight student nurses in Chicago last July in the trial that opened in Peoria, Ill., yesterday.

CIA Director Faces Senate Inquiry Today

WASHINGTON (U) — The government's spy director faces a Senate watchdog committee today, backed by a prediction from Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield that the agency will survive its current "period of discomfiture" with a strengthened intelligence arm.

Richard Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, testifies at a closed hearing of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee in the wake of disclosures that the CIA channeled funds to the National Student Association and Allegedly to other groups through various foundations.

Mansfield said that the uproar must not be permitted to disrupt the CIA's spying mission.

"There is a vital need for this intelligence activity and it must be protected," Mansfield said. "I think there is developing a better understanding of its mission which will bring a better functioning CIA with more effective administration."

Mansfield said he regards Helms as "the best administrator the agency has ever had." He said he is convinced the director feels that President Johnson's recent cutting off any CIA funds to student groups was wise and will clear the way for strengthened intelligence operations.

The Washington Post reported that the Institute for Labor Research, a now defunct organization headed by former Socialist party leader Norman Thomas, received more than $1 million from a foundation identified as a conduit for CIA funds.

MORMON LEADER — Michigan Gov. George Romney shakes the hand of President David O. McKay of the Mormon Church during a visit in Salt Lake City yesterday. Mrs. McKay is seated in the center. Romney, a Mormon, was in Utah as part of a political prospecting tour of the West.

Kelley Rules on Time Issues

LANSING (U) — Passage of a bill to exempt Michigan from the Federal Uniform Time Act would mean the state would not need to observe Daylight Saving Time during summer months.

However, the federal Department of Transportation could still change time zone boundaries and place the state's two peninsulas in different zones, Kelley added.

Kelley's opinion came in answer to questions by Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Potosky.

Schweigert is president pro tem of the Senate, which now is considering a bill to exempt Michigan from the federal act, which would require states to observe Daylight Saving Time during summer months.

If the bill passes, the state would not be at advanced time as of April 30, as required by the act, Kelley said.

Michigan would continue on Eastern Standard Time, "unless and until the Department of Transportation were to redefine a boundary between the Eastern and Central time zones which would place the state or a portion thereof in a different zone," Kelley said.

Strikers Agree to Talks; Local Layoffs Looming

DETROIT (UPI) — Officials of a striking union local whose wildcat walkout threatened layoff of 80,000 General Motors Corp. employees agreed today to negotiate their differences with GM.

The strike will affect two of General Motors' assembly plants in the Pontiac area, a GM spokesman said today.

Operations at the Fisher Body plant will cease at the end of the shifts today. Approximately 3,300 will be laid off as a result of the shortage of parts supplied by the Fisher Body Mansfield, Ohio, plant, according to a GM official.

Final assembly operation at Pontiac Motor Division also will go down at the end of today's regularly scheduled shifts. Some 2,000 persons will be affected.

In addition, about 3,000 other hourly employees in other Pontiac Division plant locations will be furloughed temporarily after today.

NO EFFECT

The strike in Mansfield will have no effect on GMC Truck and Coach Division operations at this time.

The agreement to resume talks came in the courtroom of Judge Carlos Riecker in Mansfield.

Riecker said it appeared "there's a possibility for a complete settlement."

Riecker's hearing was on a GM bid to prohibit pickets from stopping traffic into and out of the plant.

The judge opened the hearing by appealing to both sides to negotiate.

Union officials first refused to negotiate, a court source said, then agreed to the talks.

But GM officials in Detroit said the company was unwilling to negotiate until the workers returned to their jobs. A GM official explained that the strike is illegal.

Prospective Juror Quiz Ruled Not for Publication

PEORIA, Ill. (U) — Richard Speck, bored and indifferent during the first hours of his trial on charges of murdering eight nurses, became attentive and alert after the prosecution announced it would ask the death penalty.

Two women were the first potential jurors selected yesterday. The women, tentative selections to the group of peers who will decide the guilt or innocence of Speck, 25, were not sequestered overnight.

They were chosen from 15 veniremen during the first day of the trial presided over by Judge Herbert C. Paschen of Chicago. In a news conference prior to the trial, Judge Paschen ruled that questions asked of prospective jurors may not be published.

This ruling was added to his list of restrictions on news coverage of the trial. Other restrictions include a ban on sketching in the courtroom and on publication of jurors' names.

Speck spent the night in the sheriff's lockup of the courthouse instead of his isolated cell at the city jail. He was transferred in a closed van from the jail to the courthouse in bitter cold yesterday, guarded by a cordon of police and led to the courthouse entrance by two officers manfully to his wrists.

NEAT BLUE SUIT

He appeared at the morning session in a neat blue suit, white shirt and dark tie. A pocket handkerchief carried a blue embroidered initial S. He appeared to pay little attention to the preliminary court proceedings.

Speck slouched in his leather seat swivel chair and rubbed the bridge of his nose with his thumb and forefinger as prospective jurors were sworn. He rested his head in his raised left hand as Judge Paschen read each of the eight indictments, consolidated for the trial, which accused Speck of strangling and stabbing eight student nurses July 14 in their residence on Chicago's South Side.

William Martin, the youthful, crew-cut prosecutor, opened the afternoon session with the first official pronouncement of the state's trial strategy.

"The state will ask the jury to fix the defendant's punishment at death," Martin said.

Many Businesses to Close Tomorrow

Observance of George Washington's birthday tomorrow will close all city, county and federal offices.

The holiday closing will also affect driver's licensing offices both at 1 Lafayette and the Pontiac police station, although police and sheriff's deputies will be working.

Stores will be generally open. Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, First Federal Savings of Oakland, and Capital Savings and Loan Association will be closed.

Remaining open as the Feb. 28 deadline approaches for purchase of automobile license plates will be the Pontiac office of the Michigan Secretary of State at 96 E. Huron.

Byrd Claims Long Viet War Aids Soviets

WASHINGTON (U) — "A long war in Vietnam is playing directly into the hands of the Soviet Union," according to Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va.

In a recent Senate speech, Byrd said: "I do not buy the argument peddled around Washington that the Soviet Union desires peace. If this were fact, peace could come quickly."

"In seeking to bring about a lessening in East-West tension U.S. officials are downgrading the Soviet threat to peace," he said.

"Too often do we hear from top officials that there were not for Red China, peace could be attained in Vietnam."

He charged that the Soviet Union—not China—was providing the major military support for North Vietnam. He put Soviet aid at $2 billion in 1966.

He said the Soviet Union is providing fighter aircraft, heavy artillery, anti-aircraft missiles, a steel plant and most of the oil, while China is providing small arms and food.

"If China were to cease supplying the North Vietnamese, the war effort would be hurt. But if the Soviet Union were to stop supplying war materials, that in itself would bring the war to an end in a short time."

Sen. Byrd, a member of the Senate

Armed Services Committee, said he put this question to the nation's military leaders:

"If you were ordered to conduct the war to bring it to an early conclusion with the least possible military casualties, would you follow present operating procedures?"

Sen. Byrd said the military chiefs answered "No," and amplified by stating they would remove the restrictions on air and naval bombardment of important military targets in North Vietnam.

Two companies of South Korean marines reported killing 243 North Vietnamese in the three-hour, hand-to-hand battle last Wednesday while taking moderate casualties themselves.

But Lt. Gen. Chae Myung Shin, commander of South Korean forces in Vietnam, said greater fire power and more helicopter support would enable his men to carry out their guerrilla specialty of fighting behind the enemy lines.

Chae said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. troop commander, had promised to replace the Koreans' World

Vietnam Map in Press

In answer to many requests, The Press is publishing a full color map of Vietnam today, on Page D-1.

The full page map clearly lists the major cities, villages and U.S. bases. Many area residents with relatives fighting there will find it handy to locate just where the action is taking place.

The map has been prepared by the Newspaper Enterprise Assn., a regular feature supplier of The Pontiac Press.

War II small arms with M16 rifles and newer model .30 and .50 caliber machine guns.

"We already have received 900 M16s for training purposes and expect more by May or June," he said. "It only takes two weeks to retrain our infantrymen in the modern weapons, but the increased firepower would double our effectiveness."

NO HELICOPTERS

The Korean said his troops have no helicopters of their own and have to depend on American choppers which are available only to support specific operations.

"If we had helicopter units assigned to us," Chae said, "We would drop guerrilla forces behind enemy lines and conduct guerrilla fighting along the lines which our men have been specifically trained for."

Chae, an expert on guerrilla tactics, commanded a battalion of line crossers who fought behind enemy lines in the Korean war.

Lack of readily available helicopters has reduced the mobility of Korean units, the general continued.

NO RESUPPLY FACILITY

"We have no facility for resupply in the field or evacuating the wounded in guerrilla situations, although such support is available on large-scale operations," he explained.

Detroit Convention of State GOP Will Hear Romney, Percy

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Republicans head for Detroit this weekend and their first state convention since their stunning victory over Democrats in the November election.

Third-term governor and party standard-bearer George Romney and newly elected U.S. Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., are scheduled to speak at the two-day affair.

Defense Asks: Try Coppelino in Home Town

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey has asked a home town trial for Dr. Carl Coppelino, the anesthesiologist charged with fatally drugging his first wife.

In a hearing on conflicting defense and prosecution motions concerning a trial location Monday, Bailey unexpectedly requested that his bid for trial in Miami be shelved until an attempt is made to seal an impartial jury in Sarasota.

Coppelino's attorneys filed a $125,000 suit against Mrs. William E. Farber here Monday. The suit alleges malicious prosecution.

Coppelino, 34, was found innocent of the death of Farber, a retired Army colonel, last December after a trial in Freehold, N.J., during which Mrs. Farber testified that she and the doctor were lovers.

PUBLIC SCANDAL
The damage suit charges that Mrs. Farber falsely told Sarasota County Sheriff Ross Boyer that Coppelino killed her husband and that as a result of the statement, Coppelino was jailed without bail for 4½ months that "brought him into public scandal, infamy and disgrace."

Coppelino seeks $325,000 in compensatory damages and $750,000 in punitive damages.

Monday's hearing was to decide a defense motion to move the trial to Dade County (Miami) and one from the prosecution to shift it to a rural county surrounding either Bartow, Naples or Fort Myers.

Circuit Judge Lynn Silverthorn consented Feb. 2 to hold the trial outside Sarasota County when both parties agreed that pretrial news coverage would impair Coppelino's chances for a fair trial at home, also will attend.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Snow is forecast tonight in the northern Rockies and Plains and parts of the upper Lakes. The Midwest will be warmer. It will be colder in the East and Northwest.

OL' MAN WINTER — Jagged sheets of ice hang from handrails and from the end of a breakwater North Avenue Beach on Lake Michigan in Chicago. Temperatures in the Chicago area remained in the 20s, not giving the ice a chance to melt — thus providing this chilly winter scene.

3 Area Primaries Narrow Field of Election Hopefuls

The shape of general election ballots for Troy, Romeo and Alton was determined yesterday as primary voters were conducted in the three area communities.

The field of eight contestants was narrowed to four for the Troy April 3 election. Selection of commission nominees was the only issue on the ballot yesterday.

Top vote-getter was Commissioner David E. Graton, 54, of 272 Fabius with 497. Challenger John Kokalis, 31, of 445 Colebrook, making his first bid for office, received 367 votes.

The other two winning places on the general election ballot are Commissioner Clancy Fomsett, 38, of 314 Lyons (423 votes) and Hilbert Hirschfeld, 60, of 3680 Bretz (311 votes).

Totals for losing challengers were: Andrew Horvath, 295; Al Herschberger, 207; and John M. Huber, 152.

There were no Democratic contestants yesterday in Romeo's primary balloting.

Largely a Republican town, Romeo voters chose former Trustee Martin Kerr over former Village President Byron Nichols and newcomer Sherman Parker Jr. The count was 319 votes for Kerr, 211 for Parker and 118 for Nichols.

Clerk Norman Engel polled 386 votes as opposed to Marion Shepley at 246 to win a berth on the March 13 ballot.

Treasurer Mrs. Elaine Hosner and assessor Fred Ebeling were uncoupled.

COUNCIL OPENINGS
Nominated for three-year openings on the council were Stanley O. Ludtke with 367 votes; Donald Mosher, 289; and Hugh Gates, 285. All are Republicans. Mosher is the only incumbent.

Other trustee totals were Parvin Wright, 26; Edward Battani, 232; Stanley Kalkonen, 191; and Arthur Holmes, 152.

In Alton, Penton O. Maxwell with 72 votes was eliminated by Lyle Yoder with 106 votes. Homer McBean with 87 votes and Thomas Eastman with 73 votes.

Democrats gave M. J. Liblong 12 votes for the same position. David Prescott, 10, and Walter Orlovski, 8. They will also be on the March 13 ballot.

All seek two-year terms.

LONE CANDIDATE
Lone candidate and a Republican for the one-year term was Gordon Gould polling 108 votes.

President George Juhl received 116 votes; clerk Verne Messer, 114; treasurer Nellie Vene, 114; and assessor Donald Burley, 108 votes.

Paris Growing
PARIS (UPI) — The population explosion has hit Paris. The official survey at the end of 1966 estimated the present population of 2.1 million in Paris and its environs will increase by 900,000 by 1970.

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — South Haven approved bond issues totaling $1.45 million Monday for municipal improvements. An issue of $1.2 million for water system improvements carried $600,000 and an issue of $250,000 for sewer extensions passed 389-365.

N. Vietnam Missiles Belittled
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources said today North Vietnam's Soviet-made surface-to-air missiles are scoring only one bull's-eye in every 48 attempts to hit U.S. planes.

Such figures prompted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to tell Congress the missiles "are not worth stealing in my opinion."

Beyond the direct plane losses to SAM's, however, there are the U.S. fighters which are hit by ground anti-aircraft batteries after being forced to maneuver below the high-sounding missiles.

Sources report that the missiles are not as inferior as they appear at first glance.

"We are using some pretty sophisticated countermeasures against them," one official said.

Panel Nears Decision on Powell Fate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine House members weighing the fate of Adam Clayton Powell planned an all-day session today in an effort to reach unanimous agreement on a plan to censure the controversial Harlem Democrat.

Despite a statement by Chairman Emanuel Celler calling "not accurate" reports the committee was tending toward a plan to seal and punish Powell, other members said this was still the inclination of a majority.

One member described Monday's 24-hour meeting as like a jury session, with a number of alternative proposals being debated. No votes have yet been taken, but the committee plans to meet its Thursday deadline for reporting to the House.

Cells told reporters afterward that "we are in the throes of coming to a conclusion... endeavoring to get a unanimous view of the situation."

REPAYMENT EYED
The New York Governor gave support to reports that Powell's penalty might include a requirement he repay government funds he allegedly converted to his own use.

Cells said committee auditors were totaling figures and "we haven't got any result yet."

Other sources said the probable total would be about $35,000. Instead of seating and censuring Powell, the committee could recommend that he be expelled before being given the oath of expelling after being sworn in.

Cells and Rep. Arch A. Moore, R-W.Va., said the Powell matter probably would be taken up by the full House next week.

The committee received another legal statement from Powell's lawyers challenging its authority and contending it has no choice but to recommend that Powell be sworn in immediately.

Booby Trap Kills Author in Vietnam
SAIGON (AP) — Bernard B. Fall, 40, one of the leading authorities on Vietnam, was killed today by a booby trap while covering an operation with U.S. Marines in the northern part of the country.

Fall, best known for his book "Street Without Joy," was killed 12 miles northwest of the northern coastal city of Hue, U.S. authorities said.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces, sought to notify Fall's widow in Hong Kong.

Birmingham Area News

Loose-Dog Crackdown Asked

BIRMINGHAM — A crackdown on loose dogs was asked by the City Commission at last night's meeting.

The commission reported complaints had been received on dogs at large, especially when the dog warden is not operative.

The commission asked the city's agencies to step up enforcement of existing ordinances.

The commission approved opening of one block of Highway 20 between Southlawn and Smith. Though the right-of-way exists, this block had never been established as a street or paved.

A developer of adjacent property requested it be open to provide access to lots he is developing. Some neighbors had lodged objections to the street being opened to traffic.

REZONING
Final rezoning was granted to establish a parking lot on Bower east of Adams. The lot was rezoned from multiple family residence.

The Phillip Stevens Co. asked the rezoning to provide additional spaces for their nearby store and office center.

Proposed amendments to the sign ordinance were discussed and it was agreed to allow existing marquee signs to operate.

No further marquee sign construction would be allowed under the proposed amended ordinance, however.

A retired Birmingham banker, Herbert Gardner, 72, of 172 Aspen has been reelected to the board of trustees of the Michigan Foundation for Medical and Health Education.

The foundation distributes grants and loans to outstanding medical students in Michigan.

Pollster: Romney Position Similar to JFK's in 1958

DETROIT (AP) — Pollster Lou Harris today likened Gov. George Romney's front-running, unannounced position on the Republican nomination for president to that of Democrat John F. Kennedy's following the 1958 elections.

Harris was Kennedy's private pollster as Kennedy rode a front-runner stance into the 1960 Democratic nomination and the presidency. Harris' views were expressed in a speech before the Economic Club of Detroit.

Harris, whose latest newspaper polls have Romney leading former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 59 to 41 per cent, said whether the third-term Michigan governor gets the nomination depends almost entirely on Romney.

The governor has a "clear shot at the nomination," he said.

"It's not so much they oppose his policy... it's that he hasn't taken a stand," Harris said regarding Romney and Vietnam, adding that voters "worry about this (Romney's) experience" in foreign affairs.

Harris suggested Ohio and Illinois will be pivotal states for Romney, saying that much power will be wielded by Ohio's Ray Bliss, GOP national chairman; Ohio's Gov. James Rhodes, and Sens. Everett Dirksen and Charles Percy, both of Illinois.

COMPROMISE CANDIDATE
The pollster said Percy might emerge as a compromise candidate if the convention deadlocked between Romney and Nixon. He discounted Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York as a serious contender.

Harris foresees the 1968 GOP convention likely resembling that of 1952. Then in a hard-fought drive, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower emerged the winner. And in the election, Eisenhower easily beat Adlai Stevenson, who was burdened by the Korean War.

Harris said President Lyndon B. Johnson is pictured as "too manipulative," while Romney's popularity has soared "precisely because he doesn't seem to be a clever politician at all."

He noted Romney "easily defeats President Johnson" in the Harris polls, whereas "no other Republican does."

Luce, heading government attempts to get oil companies to rescind price hikes, outlined in an interview three steps the government might take to increase gasoline supplies:

— Reallocate to importers the quota of 30,000 barrels of petroleum products which the Defense Department currently is not using. The quota now is not filled as part of the administration effort to reduce the balance-of-payments deficit.

SHIFT IN PURCHASES
— Shift from domestic to foreign oil producers some Defense Department purchases now made for overseas use. The shift would put more oil on the non-governmental domestic market.

— Allow Commonwealth Oil Refining Co. to ship more gasoline from its Puerto Rico refinery; increase the quota that Hess Oil Co. is allowed to bring in from its new Virgin Island refinery.

Should these steps prove ineffective, said Luce, the government could work to increase crude oil production by holders of leases on federal lands.

All the increases to date have involved gasoline prices east of the Rocky Mountains.

adding: "It's up to Romney to move out and get it."

Romney currently is on a sentiment-sampling political swing through the West, but has shed away from actual announcement of candidacy. His entry, however, is considered a certainty by many.

Harris said Romney's biggest hurdle with the voters may be Vietnam.

The Inter-American Press Association has asked President Lorenzo Guerrero of Nicaragua to compensate the newspaper La Prensa de Managua for damages and losses suffered during its 10-day occupation by the National Guard, and to see that the editor and publisher Pedro J. Chamorro has a speedy and fair trial.

La Prensa's plant was taken over on Jan. 23, 1966, the day after a bloody clash between the National Guard and oppositionists headed by Chamorro and other leaders. Chamorro was arrested on Jan. 25, subjected to ill treatment during his first day in prison, and later indicted under charges of subversion and terrorism.

La Prensa was returned to Xavier Chamorro, Pedro Joaquin's brother and assistant editor of the paper, on Feb. 1 and reappeared the following day.

Xavier Chamorro told the IAPA that its total losses amounted to $23,642, as follows: $9,714 in cash and objects, $10,428 in salaries paid to employees during the 10-day suspension, and $3,500 in loss of earnings.

Each to Map Plan
County's Apportioners Meet

All five members of Oakland County's Reapportionment Committee will create proposed reapportionment plans by the time the committee holds its first official meeting March 13.

Meeting informally for the second time yesterday, the committee has the task of agreeing on a county reapportionment proposal by May 15.

The proposal is aimed at streamlining county government. It will trim the board of supervisors to about one-third of its present size by creating from 25 to 35 districts, each with one supervisor.

Presently the board of supervisors has 86 members.

What Lent Means to Me

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 11th in a series of articles through Lent written by prominent Pontiac area citizens.)

By DR. HAROLD A. FURLONG
Pontiac Physician

The Lenten season is one of contemplation and preparedness for the tremendous events of Easter. Turning our thoughts from the turmoil and chaos of the present, we have time to think of the meaning of our Christian faith.

While all else in human affairs is in a state of constant flux and everyone is buffeted about by doubt, uncertainty, changing standards of morality and deterioration of old concepts of behavior, we turn to our faith for comfort and guidance.

All else may vary through the centuries, but our church remains steadfast—our greatest hope for the future.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPHINX

ANSWER: We think of the great mysterious figure which sits so majestically on the desert sand at El Giza in Egypt as THE sphinx, as if it were the only one.

Actually, a great many more sphinxes were drawn or carved in ancient days. Our picture shows, beside the main one, two other examples. A sphinx was a mythical imaginary animal which usually had a man's head on the body of a lion.

The ancient artists often created such mythical creatures, because by doing so they could make symbols, especially those of royalty and power. To put a man's head on the body of a lion, was to suggest that the man had the tremendous strength of the lion's body.

The Great Sphinx at El Giza is supposed to be a symbolic portrait of the king or Pharaoh who built it, and so had the purpose of picturing the king's power.

The sphinx at the upper right is from a painting of the Pharaoh Tutankhamen. To the left is a Greek sphinx, with wings and the head of a woman.

Greek stories told of such a sphinx who used to destroy passersby. She asked a riddle of the king's son: when he answered it she was so angry she leaped to her death.

Lansing Fire Fighters Ask
Pay Raises Up to $8,500

LANSING (AP) — Lansing fire fighting practices might have firemen asked the city Monday prompted some of the men to go for raises of $558 this year and another $1,088 next year to bring top fire fighters' pay to $8,500 a year.

The $8,500 would be more than any Michigan fire department pays now but 47 communities already pay more than the current Lansing top salary of $6,856, said Gary Thomas, local Firefighters Union president.

The firemen asked that negotiations on pay for the 1967-68 fiscal year begin immediately. A $324 raise last July 1 gave Lansing firemen salaries ranging from $6,164 to start to $6,856 after four years. The firemen seek a range from $7,859 to $8,500 in 1967-68.

They also asked for lump sum payments of $558 a man July 1, 1967, to make up the current difference between policemen's and firemen's pay. Engineers would receive an additional $566 and deputy chiefs $408 under the proposal.

City negotiators had told the firemen they could not unlock the city treasury at this point in the fiscal year to boost current pay and urged the firemen to concentrate on next year.

Lansing firemen recently staged a three-day rebellion, marked by 37 suspensions and numerous sick calls, in a dispute over nonfire-fighting duties of firemen.

Thomas said that dissatisfaction over the city's nego-

Two State Houses Conflict on Accident Report Bills

LANSING (AP) — The House Monday night moved into position for passage a bill to head off restrictions on news coverage of traffic accidents — but in a different form from that approved in the Senate.

The bill is designed to correct an apparent mistake the Legislature made last year when it voted to require a policeman investigating an accident to write his opinion of the cause.

It was intended the opinion should be "for statistical purposes only" — not available to attorneys, insurance companies or the press. But the 1966 measure as passed appeared to rule the entire accident report, not just the opinion, out of bounds to newsmen.

The Senate last Friday passed an amended version requiring the officer's opinion and specifying it could not be used in court but was merely for determining "the number and cause of accidents."

The House bill, which moved into position for third reading and may be up for passage today, deletes entirely the requirement that a policeman include his opinion in his report.

If the measure passes the House in a different form, a conference committee of House members and senators will try to work out the differences.

Both houses met briefly Monday, and neither took any major action.

In the House, Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainfield, introduced a bill to increase the minimum school year from 9 to 11 months to allow fuller use of existing school facilities.

SCHOOL FUNDS
Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D - Detroit, introduced a measure requiring a vote of the people before a school district could borrow any amount or issue any bonds, regardless of the duration of the debt.

Under the current law, a district may borrow an amount as high as 2 percent of the district's assessed valuation for no more than 30 years without a popular vote.

O'Brien also proposed a constitutional amendment requiring that ad valorem taxes may not be raised above the 15 - mill limit for any length of time without a vote in the district or county. Currently, an increase to 18 mills for less than five years is permitted without a vote.

The Senate met briefly and put off until today debate on a bill which would allow delay of full implementation of the state's Medicaid program, passed by the Legislature last session.

State Aid Helps School Budget in Rochester

ROCHESTER — A revised budget taking into consideration a $118,000 increase in state aid was approved by the board of education last night.

The money was received happily by a board whose original 1966-67 budget had been $125,000 in excess of its anticipated income.

Schools Supt. Douglas Lund said, however, that since the increase was due somewhat to increased student enrollment as well as to a larger ratio of state aid that additional expenses have eaten up $48,357 of the windfall.

The year's budget now stands close to a $3.7-million figure, Lund revealed.

Enrollment was reported at 7,060, a rise of approximately 40 students since September.

SNOW REMOVAL COSTS

Assistant Supt. Richard Hutzenga reported that snow removal had cost the district $873 over the normal 48-hour-per-man week.

He reviewed vandalism in the schools and reported that glass breakage at the senior high school had been prevalent. Hutzenga said he was meeting with architects to find some means of safeguarding school windows.

A report on the hot lunch program revealed that lunch prices would be kept at 30 cents for elementary students and 35 cents for secondary students for the remainder of the year.

A portable television set and American flag with standard was accepted from the students at McGregor Elementary School for use at the school.

Smorgasbord Set

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — The Brandon Music Boosters, parents of over 350 students studying instruments and voice, will sponsor a smorgasbord Sunday, 12:30 to 6:30 p.m., in the high school cafeteria in Orionville.

Proceeds will be used in the music department.

Love for Labor Lost

Work Project Is No Picnic

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

According to tales handed down, and as depicted on film, barn raising is supposed to resemble a picnic complete with a full-scale orchestra and an impromptu community sing.

A group of Wolverine Lake residents—still stiff, sore, swollen and just dog-tired from a work bee Sunday—will dispute the film version. They've read the book.

Members of a self-generated group known as the Laguna Vista Recreation Association made a five-hour assault on a small easement lot at the north end of the lake.

Sandwiched between two homes, the easement lot is a beach to some 175 homes in the roughly 2-year-old subdivision. Last spring an estimated $1,300 was expended to deepen by dredging the muck-filled water hole adjacent to the easement.

Sunday's exercises was to provide a bed of plastic for next summer's sport. The plastic, which will form a bottom to the swimming hole to hold back plant growth was spread across the ice and about 30 neighborhood men attacked 20 truck loads of sand to cover the plastic.

IT WAS A LARK . . .

It was a lark for about the first 20 minutes. The effort then became work. After about two hours, it was torture. A few begged off, departing gleefully to entertain in-laws at Sunday dinner.

A few grains of good humor stayed with the group as darkness approached and the plastic was still not fully covered. The dialogue was interesting:

"Boy, if your boss could only see you now!"

Or:

"If I didn't have such a bad back I'd help with that."

Despite periodic bursts of humor, no one whistled while he worked. Lights in the subdivision went out early that evening.

ONE MISCALCULATION

Although the job was completed without anyone sinking for a swim, there was one slight miscalculation. A wheelbarrow was rented from a local hardware. Half a dozen were used.

So when it came time to clean up, no one it seems could recall which wheelbarrow was the rented one. Association members, however, were hopeful it was not one of the three that broke down during the sand moving operations.

Barn raisings in an earlier era were Sunday-after-church gatherings when neighbors met to erect a barn. It was a community effort, a time of goodwill and maybe even a chance for a little joy juice.

The Wolverine Lake group, a collective mass of sore muscles, have concluded that community "barn raisings" should be left to farmers, notably the muscular type.

Board, WBEA to Air Teachers' Charges

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The board of education last night agreed to meet with representatives of the West Bloomfield Education Association (WBEA) to discuss recent charges made by the association.

The WBEA is to name a committee of seven members to meet with the board and to select several alternate dates for the meeting.

Two weeks ago the teachers charged Schools Supt. Dr. Lelf Hougen with "intimidation" and failure to comply with contract agreements.

In other business last night, the board referred bids for construction of a cafeteria at the high school to its architects for recommendation.

The bids came in somewhat higher than expected, according to Dr. Hougen.

The general contract bids ranged from $119,816 to $144,950; the mechanical bids from $46,890 to $63,225; the electrical from $23,090 to $28,835; and kitchen equipment from $44,873 to $45,507.

The board was also informed that the Oakland Schools had agreed to reimburse the district $10,000 for the use of an elementary classroom for a type A mentally handicapped program.

Avondale Will Offer Courses for the Gifted

Avondale Board of Education voted last night to take advantage of the Oakland County's federal Title III grant to provide courses for gifted and creative children.

Three teachers — Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, Charles Kauppi and Gary Durst — were named to take the special eight-week training course offered by the county and to institute programs in the Avondale District.

A contract whereby Oakland Schools will pay Avondale $12,500 for use of a special education classroom over a period of 15 years was also signed by the board.

The group passed a resolution stating that school buses would no longer be used to transport students home from athletic practice sessions.

Asst. Supt. William Saville said that a survey had revealed that very few districts provide such a service, and that in an effort to keep the transportation budget from going in the red it was found necessary to eliminate the service.

19 File Election Petitions in Three Area Communities

A total of 19 candidates filed petitions yesterday in three area communities — Farmington, South Lyon and Utica. The elections in all three communities will take place April 3.

Farmington

There will be no contest when city voters go to the polls April 3.

Only the incumbents filed nominating petitions for five vacant offices by yesterday's deadline.

Filing for the three council positions were Howard W. Thayer, Hugo E. Peterson and Ralph D. Yoder.

Michael J. Hand and Dennis J. Phenev filed for the offices of Municipal Court judge and associate judge, respectively.

The two councilmen who receive the highest number of votes will serve four-year terms while the third will have a two-year term.

Utica

Only two people will challenge the incumbents April 3.

Dinner to Start Lenten Services

TROY — A potluck roast beef dinner will kick off the first of three Lenten services at Northminster Presbyterian Church, 38332 W. Big Beaver, at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Rev. George Coleman, associate for metropolitan mission of the board of national missions for the Synod of Michigan, will speak on "A Christian's Response to Trouble."

for seats on the Utica City Council.

Mayor Fred H. Beck, 44851 Kemp, remains unchallenged for his fourth bid for the mayorship.

Leona A. Morrison, 45883 Cass, who has served six years as treasurer, is also unchallenged as is Assessor Kenneth Tittsworth, 7887 Ruby.

Incumbent Councilmen William Kraft Jr., 45255 Brownell, a building estimator; Leonard Morrison, 45890 Brownell, an elementary school principal; and Omar Hellerich, 44720 Davis, school custodian, are challenged for four-year terms by Louis Gonda, 45536 Brownell, band director at the high school, and by Earl Ennis III, 46290 Custer, a building contractor.

Stephen Thomas, 44941 Kemp, a manufacturer, is unchallenged in his bid to retain a one-year council term.

Thomas was appointed last April to fill the unexpired term of Councilman Herbert Rhodes who resigned due to ill health.

Frank Coluzzi, 45895 Cass, seeks to retain his position as constable. James McClellan, 45235 Brownell, is candidate for the other constable position. Carl Albrecht did not choose to run again.

Utica voters also will be asked to vote March 6 on a proposed raise in the salaries of the mayor, assessor and councilmen, according to Mrs. Eunice Kopleck, clerk. The March vote is on "A Christian's Response to Trouble."

The suggested increases are

from $1,000 to $2,500 a year for the mayor and assessor and from $10 to $25 per meeting for councilmen.

South Lyon

The incumbent mayor and two councilmen filed petitions before yesterday's deadline for the April 3 election.

No one opposed Mayor John E. Noel, but the councilmen, Claude Tapp and Andrew Rajkovich, found competition.

Park Curry and Delbert Curry (no relation) have filed in opposition. In order to meet City Charter requirements, a AVON TOWNSHIP — A new fee schedule for Zoning Board of Appeals applications has been put into effect here.

Up from $10 to $25 are the fees for applications dealing with variances, yards and parking. Now $75 are applications relative to the issuance of permits and special usage. Fees were formerly a standard $10.

Card Party Luncheon

DAVISBURG — A card party luncheon will be held at noon tomorrow at the Masonic Temple on Andersonville Road, sponsored by Austin Chapter No. 396, O.E.S.

for will be selected to run against Mayor Noel.

Someone will also be appointed to run for justice of the peace as no one filed to fill the post of May Ann Miller. Only one candidate is necessary for the office.

A proposition will also be on the April 3 ballot. It asks voter approval to borrow $60,000 for storm drain construction on the east side of the city.

Almont Hospital Opens Its New Therapy Section

ALMONT — Opening of a new physical therapy unit at Almont Community Hospital has been announced.

Hospital officials said Wencelas Torres, a graduate of the University of Puerto Rico and former chief of therapy for Holy Cross and Metropolitan Hospitals in Detroit, has been engaged as director.

He is presently chief of therapy for the Macomb County Health Department.

The hospital reported the department would be open to use by both inpatients and outpatients on an evening basis. The number of evenings, it said, will depend on volume as well as patient needs.

Degree in Counseling

ROCHESTER — Robert P. Moots of Warren, a member of the Frank Sernak insurance agency here, has received a degree in fraternal insurance counseling after successful completion of a course. He is district representative for the Lutheran Brotherhood.

Board Acts on Sprinkler System Plan

The Waterford Township Board last night unanimously introduced a proposed ordinance which would make mandatory sprinkler systems in basements of apartment buildings occupied by eight or more families.

The ordinance, if adopted, will pertain essentially to storage areas, boiler rooms and locker rooms and will affect existing and new multiple dwellings.

Violators, if convicted, would be fined a maximum $100 or sentenced upwards to 90 days in jail or both.

Another section of the proposed ordinance imposes controls on the maintenance, use and operation of fire exits and fire-resistant doors in apartment buildings where these safety devices are required under the State Housing Law.

By a one-vote margin, the board accepted the township vehicle committee's recommendations on the acceptance of bids for the purchase of two station wagons, two one-half ton pickup trucks and a tractor.

The three dissenters — Treasurer James Schell and Trustees William Dean Jr. and Robert Richmond — opposed the recommendations because the bid for the station wagon was disqualified for not meeting specifications, thus creating a greater expenditure.

Matthews-Hargreaves Chevrolet of Pontiac had submitted a bid of $4,701 for the cars, but John McAllister Ford Inc., was awarded the contract for $5,065.

However, Matthews-Hargreaves' bid of $1,691 each for the two pickup trucks was accepted as was a $6,087 quotation by Pontiac Tractor and Equipment Co. for the tractor.

The pickup trucks are earmarked for water department use. The tractor and one of the station wagons will go to the cemetery department. The fire department will receive the other station wagon.

Police Issue January Report

The Waterford Township Police Department investigated 765 complaints last month, including 91 larcenies, 59 malicious destruction of property cases, 45 break-ins and eight automobile thefts.

Five larcenies were cleared and four stolen cars recovered according to the report submitted to the Township Board last night.

Total amount of valuation involved last month in break-ins, malicious destruction, larcenies and automobile thefts was $13,111.

Of the 765 complaints, 448 were closed and 13 others classified as unfounded.

Township police arrested 85 persons during the 31-day period, 65 adults and 20 juveniles. Traffic tickets issued last month numbered 101, according to the report.

$300 Camera Lost by Private Eyes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With private eyes all over the place, a $300 camera disappeared from a special display of electronic surveillance equipment.

The display was set up Monday for the benefit of the International Security Conference, sponsored by private investigators and security executives.

Despite favorable recommendations by the Oakland County Health Department, Michigan Water Resources Commission and Waterford Township Planning Commission, the board last night voted to launch the program.

The policy is with the Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Des Moines, Iowa. The face value of an employee's policy will be 1 1/2 times his annual salary.

A $176 supplemental appropriation was approved in order to hire a fire department recruit four months earlier than previously authorized. The new addition, plus two more in July, will boost the department's manpower to 21.

Also approved last night was the request for renewal of a dismantling license for Schram Auto and Truck Parts, 2549 Dixie, and the American Cancer Society's request to conduct a fund-raising campaign in the township.

A request for a $1,000 donation for the Drayton Plains Nature Center was tabled to determine whether the township can legally contribute funds to the facility.

Negotiations between Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters, Local 1385, and the board resumed following the regular meeting.

No Relief Seen From Spiraling Taxes

Apparently, raising taxes is the name of the game. Pause for a moment and contemplate current proposals such as city income tax, state income tax and a Federal surtax.

Undoubtedly all the governmental bodies asking for the tax increase could use the money. We could all use more money. Certainly we are obliged to pay for our city, state and federal services.

Business, on the other hand, is forced to use the plain old-fashioned economics which means that when the revenue is not coming in you simply ease back on expenses. The auto industry is doing this right now along with many other businesses.

But this type of arithmetic is out of style and does not fall in the category of "new math" along with our controlled economy. We used to say that if governments could operate like private business that would be the solution.

This theory is showmorn and actually of little or no value today. We don't happen to be economists and we don't know the solution. But we do wonder where it is all coming from. The table below explains how President Johnson proposes to boost Social Security taxes.

The President's plan for more generous Social Security benefits would require a hefty increase in taxes for both employers and employees. The rate for '67 is 4.4 percent of the first $6,600 of pay in a year for a maximum of $290.40 each for employer and employee. These are the proposed increases:

| Year    | Rate | Salary | up to    | Max.     |
| 1968    | 4.4  | on     | $ 7,800 | $343.20 |
| 1969-70 | 5    | on     | 7,800    | 390.00   |
| 1971-72 | 5    | on     | 9,000    | 450.00   |
| 1973    | 5.55 | on     | 9,000    | 499.50   |
| 1974    | 5.55 | on     | 10,800   | 599.40   |

New County Agency to Promote Traffic Safety

Following two years of groundwork study fostered by Michigan State University's Traffic Safety Center and the Mott Foundation for Community Affairs at Oakland University, the Traffic Improvement Association of Oakland County has been organized.

The agency will concern itself with all areas of traffic accident prevention. Under consideration are some 92 proposals that have evolved from the study, each related to promotion of highway safety.

Significantly, there is no present highway safety organization operating on a countywide basis, and the new one is structured to include representatives of all governmental units in the County.

The very formidable first-year budget of $98,557 which will pay a manager, three staff assistants and two clerical employees $61,700 in salaries is clear indication of the magnitude of the undertaking.

With highway deaths annually claiming 50,000 lives, highway safety has become a paramount concern of Americans. Attacking the problem by means of an organized area program has much to recommend it, and beneficial results can well be expected.

The Press commends this community project aimed at the shocking toll of motorist fatalities and salutes the fine body of citizens who have identified themselves with it.

Authority Envisions Custom-Built Cities

One of the earliest brainchildren of the New Deal was the concept of greenbelt towns — garden suburbs, protected by encircling belts of farm and woodland, easily accessible to cities, but with the space and tranquility of the countryside. After the satellite towns were built, Rexford TUGWELL proposed in 1935, the Government would "go back into the cities and tear down whole slums and make parks of them."

Only three "green towns" were built — Greenbelt near Washington, D. C., Greenhills near Cincinnati, and Greendale near Milwaukee. Now, three decades later, a more ambitious version of the greenbelt town concept is attracting attention. Dr. Athelstan Spiethaus of the University of Minnesota has urged construction of numerous experimental cities, each with a population of about 250,000. Federal grants totaling $248,000, to be used in planning the first such city — probably to be located in Minnesota — are expected to be approved soon.

SPILHAUS' proposal rests on the assumption that the Country's existing cities are ill equipped to absorb many more residents. By contrast, a city built from scratch presumably would be able to employ the latest techniques in waste and pollution control and to provide up-to-date schools, hospitals and transportation.

The magnitude of the utopian concept does not seem to daunt its creator. "People seem resistant to small change," he says, "but their imagination is fired by exciting exploration and invention."

Crime Victim's Rights Viewed

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It's time there was more concern for the victim of a crime and a little less for the accused.

This is the point made by seven members of President Johnson's 19-member crime commission, appointed in 1965, whose 300-page report was made public Sunday.

To get action, the seven commissioners, whom the old 12 didn't join, suggest an amendment to the Constitution.

Crime suspects — thanks to a Supreme Court decision last June — now have more protection against police questioning, and therefore against conviction, than at any time in American history.

A wave of criticism has rolled over the court since. Its decision was its interpretation of the Constitution's protection for an individual's rights, no matter who he is, the victim of a crime or the accused.

To combat crime, the crime commission made 200 recommendations which would cost billions of dollars and endless effort, thinking, changes and social adjustments.

UPWARD SWING

This comes as the crime rate steadily rises. The seven commissioners, in addition, think a constitutional amendment is needed to strengthen law enforcement by undoing some of the court's decisions in order to give individuals more protection against criminals.

Summed up, this is what the court said last June in upholding the conviction of a man charged with rape. Before police question a prisoner, they must tell him clearly he does not have to answer, that he is entitled to have a lawyer with him, and that the state will get him a lawyer if he can't afford one.

It is only after he is told all this that a suspect's confession — if he wishes to make one — can be admitted to court, and even then the police will have to show they lived up to the court's requirements about a confession.

This clearly makes police solution of crimes far tougher and often, no doubt, impossible.

UNPRECEDENTED The seven commissioners said: "We are passing through a phase in our history of understandable, yet unprecedented, concern with the rights of accused persons. This has been welcomed as long overdue in many areas."

"But the time has come for a like concern for the rights of citizens to be free from criminal molestation of their persons and property. In many respects, the victims of crime have been the forgotten men of our society — inadequately protected, generally uncompensated, and the object of relatively little attention by the public at large."

David Lawrence Says:

Intelligence Function Is Vital

WASHINGTON—Many people throughout the United States are reading derogatory criticism or seeing cynical cartoons about the methods of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

Few persons, however, know what the gathering of "intelligence" really means to the future of the nation itself.

To take an example, if an enemy country possesses nuclear weapons that could result in the sudden destruction of 130 million Americans, wouldn't it be worthwhile to get the facts and bring them to the attention of the military authorities in our own country so that countermeasures could be taken to prepare a defense system which would act as a deterrent against the carrying out of any such lethal plan?

Today America is in grave danger of potential attack by the Russians.

Within the last year, the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff learned through intelligence channels that the Soviets had started to build antimissile defenses around Moscow, Leningrad and other key population centers at the rate of half-a-dozen each year.

It was not until after news articles were published last autumn telling the story of the antimissile system which the Soviets are building that the Defense Department itself confirmed the information.

It is, of course, as important to keep secret the mistakes sometimes made in intelligence work as it is to refrain from boasting about successes. Intelligence is a continuously secret operation.

OPEN INVESTIGATION Yet a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is already proposing an open investigation of the CIA. This would indeed be a boon to the Soviets.

What possible benefit, it will be asked, can come from lining up American student organizations? What do such groups know about war operations or preparations?

They may know very little, but they can find out a great deal if they become intimate with the students of enemy countries who assemble in meetings in various parts of the world.

Students may gather scraps of information which, when pieced together with data obtained in some other way, begin to make a case for efforts in pursuit of further intelligence.

Anybody who joins in CIA activities has to be sworn to secrecy all his life. It is amazing that anybody in the National Student Association was so ill-advised as to make public what his own government is doing.

Gathering intelligence is as important as fighting at the battlefield.

In its simplest form, the issue is whether the United States should keep up-to-date in collecting vital information to defend itself or take chances while an irresponsible enemy builds up its power to blackmail the other nations of the world.

U.S. Finds It Expensive Paying Upkeep on Wars

NEW YORK — It isn't the original cost of a war, it's the upkeep.

For Example, the U.S. death toll in the Spanish-American war was 385 men in the 306,760 in uniform during the period between 1898 and 1902, the official duration of the war. Counting the suppression of the Philippine Insurrection and "service-connected" fatalities over many years, the total reached 11,000.

But that all-but-forgotten skirmish has since cost $5.2 billion in pensions and other compensations to veterans, their families and to survivors of the dead.

Payments continue to 11-391 veterans and 56,503 widows.

The ledgers are not yet closed on the Indian Wars, which spanned the years from 1817 to 1886.

Still on pension are Sgt. Reginald A. Bradley of Oakland, Calif., who will be 100 years old this year, and 96-year-old Frederik W. Frake of Chicago.

The books closed on the Civil War, so far as actual participants were concerned on Aug. 2, 1866, some $1 million later.

But 1,073 widows of Union troops and officers are still being paid as well as 565 more who are listed as "children."

Many a politician has shed his choicest crocodile tears over the plight of World War I veterans and how mercifully they've been treated.

The fact is that through June of 1966 the government had paid an average of $8,710 to each World War I service man eligible for pension, compensation, hospital care, etc.

Of the 4,748,828 Americans called in World War I, some 2,007,000 are living, of which 1,047,139 are receiving pensions, having proved they are in need.

are being currently paid to 1.72 million veterans of that war, 236,000 widows and 520,000 children of wounded and dead.

Committee records show 1,721,960 participants in the Korean War still living, with 625,000 of them receiving pensions or disability compensation, and 237,000 widows being cared for. Cost to date, $12.1 billion. Payments will continue into the 21st Century.

The conflict in Vietnam, where we now have about half a million men, counting the Navy and those who man the convoys, is beginning to shape up formidably on the compensation and pension ledgers.

War is hell, and hellishly costly.

Dems Scurrying for '68 Drive

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Some Democratic leaders appear to be cranking up on their own with 1968 plans rather than waiting to see whether a projected shoring up of the Democratic National Committee works out.

On the committee front, Chairman John Bailey, under fresh authorization from President BLOSSAT Johnson, has beefed up his staff to some degree. Still unclear is how much of a voter registration operation he will be able to mount. It is badly needed.

Two major March meetings of the party in Washington will give leaders around the country a better reading on how Bailey's renovation is going.

For awhile recently, a handful of top California Democrats were swarming over the capital. Included in the visitation were former Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, Jesse Urush and National Committee Eugene Wyman.

Urush and Wyman conferred with Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Wyman had a long session with the 21-member California delegation in the House. The circuit embraced other key figures.

Comments on Discussion of Commissioners

Regarding the recent call for sterilization of "illegitimate" mothers, who does Commissioner Hudson think he is? God? Does he believe that all children born in married families are necessarily "legitimate"?

38 Portage

I appreciate Commissioner Fowler speaking up for ADC mothers. All ADC mothers are not tramps. If Commissioner Hudson thinks so much of sterilization, he'd better start in his district first because there are just as many white ADC mothers as there are colored.

I'd like for Commissioner Hudson to visit the OEO center and see how many whites are seeking help compared to the number of colored. He is being most unfair.

MRS. EUNICE JENKINS
PRES. OF ADC MOTHERS
211 E. WILSON

Regarding the verbal exchange between Commissioners Hudson and Fowler, if the OEO gives more services to whites than Negroes, why shouldn't they? Aren't there more whites than Negroes in this community? I would favor such a proposal as sterilization for "illegitimate" mothers receiving ADC — white or colored.

It would be interesting to know how many of these cases we have in this community, what the ratio is — colored vs. white, and what the population ratio is.

A. FRANKLIN
255 S. TILDEN

Commissioner Hudson's program to sterilize ADC mothers leaves much to be desired.

I will concur in substance if this program is applied equally to men and women. We could get a sterilization program for the Johns who come across the railroad tracks at night looking for an ADC mother who is supplementing her income as a part-time prostitute.

I think Mr. Hudson is a funny, misguided man. So let us humor this man until the next time.

Students Tell Need for Huron Traffic Light

We are the Webster School student council. We need a traffic light near Webster School because the present lights block away and children don't want to go down so far to cross Huron with their bicycles. People might get hurt badly while walking over the overpass if they are carrying big loads. Some little children are afraid of the overpass.

Not only do the people of Webster School want a light, others, such as older people who are not able to use the overpass, want one.

Another safety hazard confronts the drivers coming out of side streets, as they can't get out onto Huron easily.

WEBSTER SCHOOL STUDENTS

Question and Answer

When our Avondale schools closed for teachers' workshop, a public school bus transported students to and from Catholic school. Is this lawful?

REPLY

Yes. Mr. Wagner of the Department of Education in Lansing tells us the law doesn't deal specifically with this problem, but says (broadly) that parochial schools should try to coordinate their activities with public schools. If this can't be done, providing buses is left to the discretion of the individual school districts.

For awhile recently, a handful of top California Democrats were swarming over the capital. Included in the visitation were former Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, Jesse Urush and National Committee Eugene Wyman.

ferred with Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Wyman had a long session with the 21-member California delegation in the House. The circuit embraced other key figures.

Their concern was what may be properly called "the Yorty problem." Reports have it that Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, long a party gadfly, might try to lock up California's potent delegation to the 1968 national convention by tossing his name into the state's June presidential primary.

The effect would be, of course, gravely damaging to party unity — since it must be assumed that a Johnson delegation would be in sharp test with Yorty.

After his strong 1966 primary showing against Pat Brown, it was widely guessed Yorty would seek in 1968 the Democratic nomination for Republican Sen. Thomas Kuchel's seat. Some of the current rumors suggest the maverick mayor may try for this and control of the presidential delegations as well.

Illinois provides another focus of interest. Ward C. (Pat) Brown, Jesse Urush and National Committee Eugene Wyman. Urush and Wyman conferred with Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Wyman had a long session with the 21-member California delegation in the House. The circuit embraced other key figures.

old "base state" over the prospect of his running either for the governorship or for Sen. Everett Dirksen's seat in 1968.

By these accounts, Shriver earlier had incurred some leaders' wrath by a reported clumsy handling of his first approaches.

If Shriver is now being looked at seriously, it seems to reflect concern that a very strong ticket will be needed in Illinois to hold it in the 1968 presidential column for the Democrats. Not at all clear is where this talk leaves incumbent Gov. Otto Kerner, who has hinted he might seek a third term.

It is plain, nevertheless, that many influential Democrats, anxious for the future, have decided they cannot sit idle the national committee — whether well-rehabilitated or not — a central role in their 1968 rebuilding plans. They are moving on many fronts.

POLLUTION QUIZ — Five auto industry officials face Sen. William Spong Jr., D-Va., and Sen. Edmund Muskie (right), D-Maine, at a Senate subcommittee hearing on air pollution. At the Detroit hearing yesterday were

Progress Told in Car Exhaust Fight

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry claims to have made extensive progress in taking air pollutants out of car exhausts, without question," Muskie said. "We will see if the 1968 cars do more progress."

Top spokesmen for the four major auto manufacturers told Senate investigators Monday of efforts to meet the government's exhaust control standards for 1968 model cars.

Carbon monoxide and hydrocarbon emissions were described as reduced by 60 to 80 per cent.

The investigators, a Senate subcommittee on air and water pollution, adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

IS GRATIFIED

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, chairman of the subcommittee, said he was gratified at the testimony. "We can look forward hopefully to this improvement, but not without question," Muskie said.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has set exhaust control standards for 1968 cars which it says should mean a 60 per cent reduction in discharge of hydrocarbons and 50 per cent in carbon monoxide.

The subcommittee members scheduled visits to auto laboratories today.

GM ENGINEERS

Harry F. Barr, vice president in charge of General Motors Corp.'s engineering staff, said the auto industry has "turned the corner" in its research to gain control of motor vehicle emissions.

Officials of Ford, Chrysler and American Motors also testified of progress.

The hearing in Detroit, center of the auto industry, was called to give the industry opportunity to comment on a report from Los Angeles which Muskie said left doubt regarding the benefits of emission controls on 1966 model cars.

Smog-troubled Los Angeles has blamed the motorcar for much of its woes.

BEST EFFORTS

The auto industry has pledged its best efforts to cut down on pollution from exhausts but also has pleaded for sufficient time to make adjustments in manufacturing.

The government's antipollution standards for cars are based on California's requirements.

Thomas C. Mann, president of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, said the industry has eliminated "entirely" the emission of pollutants from crankcases of new models.

"It has also been able to reduce emissions of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide from the exhaust systems by between 60 and 80 per cent, depending on the particular survey of vehicle board."

Emissions conducted by the California authorities which one of the industry to devote the time, energy and financial resources to the solution of the problem," she said.

pressed concern whether control programs could keep up with the increasing number of automobiles on the nation's streets and highways.

Mann indicated he was hopeful this could be accomplished because of research progress.

"If this research is successful," he said, "we could have emissions back where they were in 1941 in spite of the fact that the number of cars will have increased five-fold."

One of the subcommittee witnesses was Olga Madar, a member of the United Auto Workers union international executive

In FHA and VA Mortgages

Tight Home Market to Go On

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite easier credit conditions, interest rates on government-backed home mortgages are likely to remain at their current record high levels during the immediate future.

Both the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration said today they are watching the mortgage market closely but neither sees any quick drop from the current 6 per cent rate permitted on FHA and GI home loans.

"I don't look for anything right away," one government source said when asked about the possibility of lower interest rates on mortgages insured by FHA and guaranteed by VA.

Government officials are hesitant to predict when lower FHA and VA interest rates might come. One source said such a move normally would be preceded by meetings of government mortgage officials. He noted this hasn't happened yet.

LOWER INTEREST GOALS

Lower interest rates are a goal of the Johnson administration this year.

Interest rates on both types of government-backed mortgages jumped last year in three steps from 5.25 per cent to 6 per cent, the legal limit, in an attempt by the government to attract more money into mortgage lending.

Conventional interest rates, meanwhile, went from 5.78 per cent on the average in December 1965 to 6.44 per cent last December on newly built homes, according to figures compiled by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Officials are hopeful that January's average figures, now being compiled by the board, will show the first monthly decline in more than a year.

SLUMP

Tight money — the relative scarcity of loan funds and resulting high interest rates — last year produced one of the worst slumps in home building since the end of World War II.

New privately owned housing starts, however, have registered substantial gains during November, December and January following October's postwar low.

Conventional mortgages comprise the bulk of the home lending market. FHA and VA combined now account for less than 20 per cent of all new home financing but enjoy a larger share of the over-all market.

Defense Chief Says News Coverage of War Generally OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has told senators that in general the news coverage of the Vietnam war has been factual and fair.

But he protested as "disgraceful distortion" reports on use of tear gas and other riot control weapons carried by one newspaper under the headline "U.S. engages in gas warfare in Vietnam."

"The facts were that we never did use anything other than the riot control weapons that are used by every major police force in the world, and the press knew it," McNamara said in testimony given in late January before the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees and now made public after heavy censoring.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., a newspaper publisher and a former director of the Associated Press, asked whether McNamara would generally say that Associated Press reporting had been factual and comprehensive and reasonably accurate.

'VERY IRRESPONSIBLE'

"Yes, I would say so," McNamara answered.

"I saw an article this morning, however, that I asked Cy Vance (deputy secretary of defense) to look into while I was here, that I thought again was very irresponsible."

"It happened to be a United Press dispatch from Saigon. It said a high U.S. official stated: 'Within a matter of a few weeks the United States will be bombing airfields in North Vietnam, that the matter now lies before the President, and the only action required is his decision,' and that 'The highly placed U.S. official stated that with proper air action the war could be over in a month.'"

"Now I doubt very much that a high U.S. official made either of those statements, and in any event, whether he did or didn't, both of them are absolutely wrong. Now that is the kind of incorrect and irresponsible press coverage that occasionally plagues us, but these are occasional matters and not representative of the basic press coverage."

Did Student Get Haircut?

Only His Hairdresser Could Know for Sure

WYANDOTTE (AP) — Did he or didn't he?

Eddie Reeve, 15, said he had a haircut as he showed up Monday at Wyandotte's Roosevelt High School and applied for admission.

But school officials were highly skeptical and asked Fred Davenport, superintendent of schools, to decide whether the boy was complying with an order that his girls locks must go if he is to attend freshman classes.

Davenport took one look and sent Eddie home again.

DIDN'T MEASURE

"I'm not going to say whether he had a haircut," said Davenport. "We never measured his hair before, and we didn't measure it today. He had his hair draped behind his ears, and he said it had been cut."

"Frankly, I couldn't see the difference from pictures of him taken earlier."

The length of Eddie's hair became a point of contention recently between school officials and the boy's mother, Mrs. Mable Reeve.

Mrs. Reeve filed suit in Circuit Court, contending that the school had no right to tell her boy how long he could wear his hair.

Besides, she contended, the long tresses were part of the image projected by a musical group called "The Young Five," which Eddie plays a guitar.

Judge Blair Moody Jr., however, ordered Eddie to get a haircut, pending a hearing in the matter.

'Localize Crime Fight'

LANSING (AP) — The report of the President's Crime Commission "will come to little unless implemented by action at state and local levels," John B. Martin, chairman of the Michigan Crime Commission, said yesterday.

Martin, a Grand Rapids attorney, said many of the recommendations require state legislation and state and local action.

"Our job is to relate the recommendations to our situation in Michigan and our needs here," he said.

"The provision of additional funds contemplated for the improvement of equipment and personnel in state and local police departments can be most useful," Martin said.

Noting that there is thought being given to creation of a national police force, Martin said attention must be directed to beefing up local and state forces and to integrating the work of local police units.

'A CRYING NEED'

"Also, there is a crying need for more and better trained men in this area and the availability of additional funds can help greatly," Martin said.

Miami Beach Said Offering $1 Million for GOP Confab

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Miami Beach and San Francisco bid for the 1968 Republican National Convention today amid reports the Florida resort city will offer $1 million to become host.

San Francisco paid $550,000 to host the 1964 Republican convention.

The reported $1 million offer by Miami Beach failed to dim enthusiasm of representatives from Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles and Philadelphia, who met Monday with the GOP site committee.

The Republicans have established minimum standards for any city expecting to hold the convention. Among them are adequate meeting facilities, a minimum $550,000 to defray expense and the availability of 10,000 rooms within a short distance of the convention hall.

OVER MINIMUM

Only Philadelphia, among those making presentations Monday, offered more than the monetary minimum when it bid $750,000.

The four cities which appeared Monday all said they expected the city with the best facilities to get the convention. Each claimed it has the best facilities.

"The Astrodome is worth more to the Republicans than a $1 million money bid," said Judge Roy Hofheinz, president of Houston Sports Inc., which leases the city-county owned Astrodome.

Republicans would use the International Amphitheater, site of the 1960 GOP convention, if Chicago is chosen. Other delegations pushed the Los Angeles Sports Arena and the Philadelphia Convention Hall.

All the cities but Los Angeles said they would definitely seek the 1968 Democratic convention.

You're ahead... with better ideas from Ford

You're ahead...with the strongest Ford ever built

On the Olympic ski jump at Lake Placid, Ford passes a rugged test of strength and durability. A regular-production 1967 Ford plunges down a 40-meter slope... soars 53 feet through the air... lands hard... and rides away still quiet, still strong. Strong enough, in fact, to take the same jump again and again. What's the difference between this car and the Ford you buy? Only a skid plate was added for driver protection. And you don't need that... unless you're planning to take some ski jumps of your own.

Ford demonstrates its performance and durability in impartial tests. Ford, Fairlane, Mustang all won their class at Union/Pure Oil's '67 Performance Trials. These trials test acceleration, braking and economy. Fairlane went on to beat all comers in this year's River-side 500.

High Court Rule Frees Admitted Killer

NEW YORK (AP) — A factory worker who admitted slaying his wife and five children last month by State Supreme Court justices after rulings that they had not been informed of their right to counsel before they confessed.

"This is a very sad thing," said Justice Kern in freeing Suarez. "It is so repulsive it makes one's blood run cold and any decent human being's stomach turn to let a thing like this out on the street."

It was the latest such action in New York City resulting from whether his (confession) is all you have in this case?"

"I say reluctantly, with a heavy heart, that we simply have no alternative," replied Schor. "There is no other evidence."

In a statement Monday night, Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Aaron A. Koota said.

"The U.S. Supreme Court has weighted the scales of justice heavily in favor of the criminal suspect. I am not a prophet, but the handwriting on the wall indicates a trend on the part of the court to outlaw all confessions made to police."

"If and when that melancholy day comes, the death knell of effective criminal law enforcement will have been sounded."

The U.S. Supreme Court, in a 5-4 decision last June 13, ordered a new trial for Ernest A. Miranda, 26, who had been convicted on charges of kidnapping an 18-year-old girl from a Phoenix street, driving her into the desert and raping her.

The court ruled that Miranda's constitutional rights had been violated when he was not informed of his right to counsel before talking to police.

In writing the majority opinion, Chief Justice Earl Warren laid down a strict set of guidelines for police investigations.

Warren said: "The prosecution may not use statements, whether exculpatory or inculpatory, stemming from custodial interrogation of the defendants

Kickoff Today for New Bond

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is expected to unveil today a new higher interest savings bond it hopes will attract up to $1 billion over the next year to help fight the Vietnam war.

An interest rate of between 4.5 and 4.75 per cent will be offered only to persons who buy savings bonds on the payroll savings plan or the bond-a-month plan.

The Treasury Department scheduled the kickoff for its 1967 bond drive with a closed-circuit telecast at luncheon bond rallies in 33 cities.

Last February, the government raised the interest rate on Series E and H savings bonds—the types most frequently bought by the public—from 3.75 to 4.15 per cent.

PROTEST VOICED

Before today's luncheon, spokesmen for the savings and loan industry, which protested the new bond starting last year, predicted the department would offer an interest rate of about 4.6 per cent.

Even a 4.5 per cent rate is too high, the National League of Insured Savings Associations had said.

Kettering's Winter Concert Saturday

By JUDY FRANCIS
Waterford Kettering High School's capella choir will present its annual winter concert Saturday at 8 p.m. in the school gym.

Special numbers will be sung by the Girls' Novette and Septet groups with The Gleemen adding guitar and bass drums to its numbers.

Solos will be sung by Peggy Underwood and Brenda Newton, with regular accompanist Gail Strader, playing a piano solo.

Closing the concert will be the capella choir with selections from "The King and I." The entire vocal music department at WKH is during its annual sale.

Types of candy which may be purchased are Katydids, Golden Crumples and Chocolate Bars.

All proceeds are used for vocal music projects.

Kettering will send 18 band students to compete with other high schools in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association State Festival March 18.

These students earned a "one" or "superior" rating at the recent MSBOA district festival.

WK students were rated superior for the following performances: Tom Reinhart, cornet solo; Sandy Ingelhart, clarinet solo; Ken Fourn, clarinet solo; Rick Hewitt, snare drum solo; Ed Melberg, trombone solo.

Also receiving a one rating was the Brass Sextet consisting of Tom Reinhart, cornet; David Woodward, trumpet; Dale Plympton, French horn; Bob Gohl, baritone; Ed Melberg, trombone, and Rod Reinhardt, tuba.

The traveling Stagemasters returned from the excursion to New York exhausted but happy.

While there, the WKH Stagemasters viewed the Broadway hit, "Funny Girl," starring Mitzi Hines and Johnny Desmond.

They also saw the off Broadway production "The Fantasticks," and shows at a television studio and the Radio City Music Hall.

Some of their tours included set houses, costume houses and the Lincoln Center, where they watched rehearsals and a performance.

Kettering's senior class has chosen "Underwater Fantasy" as the theme for this year's prom.

However, its budget has dwindled so seniors and others interested are asked to loan decorations needed for the event. A list of items needed is posted in all senior home rooms.

Rescheduling of two productions at Kettering's has taken place.

The teachers play has been changed to April 26 through 29, the talent assembly to be presented April 10.

Juniors interested in taking the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test Saturday should register in the counseling area before the day of the test.

The cost is $1 and juniors taking the test should be at the school by 8:30 a.m. More information on the test can be obtained through counselors and English teachers.

Cranbrook Slates Poets in Lectures

By RICHARD BOSLEY
Cranbrook School is scheduling its second English seminar tomorrow and Thursday.

This year, it is being called the Poetry Colloquium, since that will be the specific topic.

The colloquium will involve selected students in the 11th and 12th grades from Cranbrook and Kingswood Schools.

The speakers at this year's Colloquium will be Professors Stephen Dunning, Donald Hall, and Radcliffe Squires, all from the University of Michigan.

Professor Hall is the poet in Residence at the University. Both he and Professor Squires are well known for their works which are classified as modern, though not "beat," for both poets employ many poetical controls found in classical verse.

Last year's seminar focused on the theater.

The students saw Durren-matt's "The Physicists" and Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth," and discussed drama with professors from Wayne State and Oakland Universities.

Cranbrook English students were also involved in the recent showing of Ingmar Bergman's film "Wild Strawberries" shown at the Birmingham Theater for the benefit of selected English students from all local high schools.

Wolvette Call Being Heard

By LINDA HEATH
The recently organized Wolvettes, the block club of Clarkston High School is sponsored by faculty members Douglas Pierson and Russell Cockerill.

The Wolvettes, along with the cheerleaders, are responsible for Clarkston's team-backing spirit.

Meeting each week with the heads of the club, Brenda Woodworth and Margie Bullard, members work out spirit-rousing cheers for the basketball games.

They also dress in identical blue Wolvette sweaters, imprinted with the Clarkston High School crest.

WORKING HARD — Industrial education students (from left) Ronald Johnson and Gilbert Martinez of Pontiac Central High School prepare to enter the Oakland County regional project competition. Ronald is a senior and Gilbert is a junior. The school will enter 60 projects in the competition.

First and second place winners will go on to be judged in the state race at Cobo Hall in April.

Rochester

By KARIN HEADLEE
Rochester High School's Girls' Athletic Association will play a make-up game with Waterford Township today at Waterford.

Friday, the team will play West Bloomfield at their school. The basketball game will begin at 8 p.m.

Students are now registering in Mrs. A. A. Collins' office for the National Merit Scholarship Test which will be administered on Saturday.

Rochester High School students; Stuart Smith, John Tinson, and Wayne Walli were the semifinalists in the 1966-67 Merit Scholarship competition.

Special commendation was awarded Mike Ciaramitaro, Pete Collins, Don Golding, Sarah Beth Hissong, Kathy Nowicki, Richard Schmitt, Linda Schuknecht, Betsy Swan, and Bill Schorling. Bill is no longer attending RHS.

Senior play cast members are rehearsing for the production of "The Mad Woman of Chailot."

Students recently turned in their 1967-68 schedule papers. Among the new classes offered are business law-consumer economics, trade and industry co-op, literature, Russian II, and boy's glee club.

A new system has been designed where all classes are either worth one or no credits. There will not be any more half-year credit courses.

Study hall may be taken only by students who will be enrolled in English IV or English IV H and are taking four academic classes.

Marian

By PATRICIA POMEAR
Students of Marian High School with high scholarship and qualities of character, leadership, and service will be honored Sunday at the Sixth Annual Induction Ceremony of the National Honor Society (NHS), Sister Marie Chantal, advisor, announced.

The ceremony, to which parents and friends of inductees are invited, will include a guest speaker, recitation of the NHS pledge, and the candlelighting ceremony arranged by Nancy Armstrong, chairman.

Admission to the society requires all students maintain an average of "B+" or higher, both on their present and cumulative record.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who qualify scholastically are admitted as probationary members if they receive faculty approval. Students are judged on character, leadership, and service.

Four girls will be selected to light candles representing these four qualities. A speech will also be given by each stating her opinion of the possible means of fulfilling these goals.

Probationers become active members after one year if they maintain necessary honor points.

Seniors with the active rating will charter membership for high scholarship for all five years.

This year 31 probationary members and 10 seniors will become charter members. These seniors will have their names permanently inscribed on the National Register of the Honor Society in Washington, D.C.

NHS seals will be added to their diplomas, and they will wear the official stole on their graduation gowns.

Each member must make an outstanding effort to develop her own character, promote worthy leadership, and render service wherever she sees a need.

Europe is the destination this summer of 74 Marian High School students, under the organization of the Latin and French classes.

Sixty girls are traveling on the Latin trip July 12-Aug. 2.

Kingswood

By KATHY SHINNICK
A busy week is ahead for artistic and poetry-minded Kingswood girls.

Wednesday and Thursday 80 students from Cranbrook and Kingswood will be given the opportunity to meet two leading modern poets as the Poetry Seminar gets under way.

A "First" at Kingswood, students, who have been reading extensively the works of contemporary poets, will be encouraged to ask questions concerning techniques, motives and standards, with the idea of getting a clearer picture of poetry 1967.

As seminar students catch their breaths from their discussions with speakers, Donald Hall and Radcliffe Squires, they will join the rest of the school in guiding their fathers down Kingswood's corridors. Friday is Kingswood's annual "Father's Visiting Day."

Friday also will be the opening of the Kingswood, Cranbrook, Brookside student art show in the Cranbrook Art Museum.

A. A. Kline, of the ceramics department, will have pottery and sculpture by students on display, while A. A. Nowacki's art pupils will be represented by woodcuts and drawings. A. A. Kidd's weaving department will prove its grasp of color and design with rugs, place mats, bedspreads, pillows, and tapestries.

St. Lawrence

By JAMES PAKLEDINAZ
A relatively slow week at St. Lawrence High School will be spiced by an assembly on Tuesday.

The assembly will consist of two different subjects for the students.

The girls' speaker will be Mrs. A. A. Shand, who will discuss the policy of Patricia Stevens as followed in her commercial finishing school.

The boys' speaker will be A.

Ar. who will speak about the Dale Carnegie School.

In this latter part of the school year when a student's eyes turn toward his future, whether he be graduating from high school or merely going up another grade, these talks can be extremely helpful.

Quite a few of the graduating seniors are still a bit foggy on their careers and these assemblies can do much in clearing away some of that obscuring mist.

Yesterday there was a Student Council meeting.

There will be a PTA meeting at the school tonight.

Holly

By JEDY DIEHL
Varsity Club initiations at Holly Senior High School have been taking place since Wednesday, during after-school hours. They will continue through tomorrow.

The 14 initiates are "slaves" to their superior members who have been issuing the orders during these hectic days for the new members.

To become a Varsity Club member one must be active in a sport and have received a letter in the sport.

In recognition of the mothers of the basketball players and cheerleaders of HHS, the last game of the year is dedicated to their honor.

The cheerleaders put on a pom-pom routine. C-rsages are given to the mothers of the players and cheerleaders.

Wednesday, the student body was dismissed at 11 a.m. following an assembly on the theme of "International Understanding."

An in-service workshop was held for the teachers and those parents interested in education. The theme for the workshop was "Teaching International Understanding in the Public Schools."

Each class is then subdivided according to category landscape, still life, creative subjects, special techniques, animals, people or character studies.

The entries may be made by anyone in the Huron Valley School area.

This year's state competition April 6, 7, and 8 will be held at Pontiac Central again preparing for the regional competitions sponsored by the Michigan Education Awards Program and the Detroit News.

Projects may be entered in printing, wood shop, metal, and drafting categories.

A student may submit only one project from each classification but may enter as many classifications as he wishes.

The Oakland County regionals will be held on March 11. Each section will be judged by two representatives from industry and one from Education.

The judges may issue as many or as few awards as they think necessary.

First, second, and third place winners receive trophies; others receive ribbons.

Those projects which place first or second go on to state competition.

Topics have included Creed for Youth, Vandalism, College Education for All Teen-Agers, Drinking Among Teen-Agers, and Teen Fads.

The "Superman" cast begins previews of the show this Thursday.

The first preview will be for Pontiac Northern's Choir.

Milford Club Plans Contest

By PAULA MIREAU
The Photography Club at Milford High School is sponsoring a photography contest.

Lynn Marble, president; Steve Powell, vice president; John Austin, treasurer and Paula Prodel, secretary, organized the contest with the aid of H. D. Arman, faculty sponsor.

Entries may be made in one of two classes: novice or professional.

Each class is then subdivided according to category landscape, still life, creative subjects, special techniques, animals, people or character studies.

The entries may be made by anyone in the Huron Valley School area.

Central Students Vie in Craft Competition

By CHRIS BLAKENEY

Industrial education students at Pontiac Central are again preparing for the regional competitions sponsored by the Michigan Education Awards Program and the Detroit News.

Projects may be entered in printing, wood shop, metal, and drafting categories.

A student may submit only one project from each classification but may enter as many classifications as he wishes.

Those projects which place first or second go on to state competition.

Don't forget to watch the A Cappella Choir on television Sunday. The program will be at 6 p.m. on Channel 7 in color.

The Pontiac Youth Forum, a discussion group composed of one member from each of the five high schools of Pontiac, including Central students Rob Gordon and Jo Lynn Vansen.

The group talks over teen problems every Monday night on WPON radio from 6:30 to 7 p.m.

Rob represents Central now and Jo Lynn will be taking over in mid-March for the remaining 10 of the 20 sessions.

Topics have included Creed for Youth, Vandalism, College Education for All Teen-Agers, Drinking Among Teen-Agers, and Teen Fads.

The "Superman" cast begins previews of the show this Thursday.

Utica High's Junior Queen Is Crowned

By SUSAN OWEN

Nancy is a varsity cheerleader and secretary to the junior class.

Her court consists of four juniors, Mary Campbell, Nancy Hearn, Kaye Nash and Jane Specht.

The National Honors Society is providing tutoring services for the rest of the school year. Members of the club will tutor any student in a specific subject with approval of a counselor.

The society's also sponsoring a button booster sale, the proceeds of which will go into the treasury.

Future Teachers Association wrote up a revised constitution and presented it to its members for approval.

On the agenda is a visit to the Lapeer School for the Retarded. The girls' current project is to make Easter baskets for the approximately 500 children.

Romeo Debaters' Dance Has 'Middle Earth' Theme

By DARLENE REDD

March 3 at 8 p.m. the debate team of Romeo High School will present its annual Green Onion dance.

The team again will center the theme on the world of today's beatnik. This year the main feature is an imaginary trip to "Middle Earth."

Organizers of the event are this year's cocaptains, Donald Campbell and Robert Van Camp.

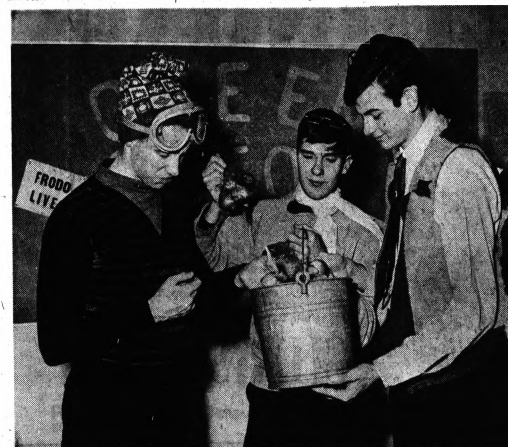

Under the direction of Richard Hill of the faculty, the debaters take charge of decorating the gymnasium, advertising the dance, furnishing entertainment, and getting sponsors for the dance.

Entertainment will include band David Bock reading poetry and playing records for the crowd. "Casual" dress is an added feature of the evening.

REGIONAL ENTRY
After being successful in the Class A District Meet for area debaters, the same team of Maureen Wendt, Robert Van Camp, Donald Campbell, and Dale Simmerman recently participated in the regional meets.

The rules are that a team stays in the running as long as a record of less than two losses is maintained.

Romeo defeated Cass Tech, in the first round but lost to Dearborn and Northville in the second and third.

RESEARCH SUBMARINE — The Soviet Union would like to purchase this American-made submarine, according to a spokesman for General Dynamics, which manufactures the two-man affair designed for ocean-floor research. The spokesman said Soviet scientists saw the model on display in Frankfurt, Germany, last year. He indicated the submarine would be sold if the firm received State Department approval.

'Carrot Should Replace Big Stick'—Ford

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., said last night President Johnson should forget the "big stick" approach and use tax credit incentives instead to induce industry to help overcome water and air pollution and poverty.

"I firmly believe that with added tax credit incentives for industry... we can develop an industry-government partnership that will work in this critical problem area," he said.

Ford, minority leader in the House, made his remarks in a speech to the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Chicago.

He said the Johnson administration has placed too much reliance on the "big stick" method of solving the nation's problems.

"Refusal to use the 'carrot' (incentive) approach to progress is a big stumbling block to the forward movement of this country," he said. "Take the President's recent message on air pollution for example. It's full of the big stick, makes no use of the carrot."

He said there were two ways to solve the pollution problem.

"Either you fashion a big stick and beat industry over the head with it," he said, "or you offer industry an inducement to get it to do what we well know is in the public interest — clean up the air and water."

"The big stick alone won't save us."

Ford said the answer to poverty is in a proposed Republican bill, called the Human Investment Act of 1967, which would give businesses tax credit for money spent training underprivileged persons for jobs.

Housewife Slayer Pleads Guilty

CHARLOTTE (UPI) — Used car salesman Richard Herr pleaded guilty to second degree murder charges yesterday in Eaton County Circuit Court in the July 7 slaying of an attractive blonde Grand Ledge housewife.

Herr, 25, was scheduled to go on trial for the murder of Mrs. Betty Reynolds, 37, on Feb. 28. He was remanded to jail pending sentencing after his court appearance. Punishment for second degree murder can range up to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Reynolds' nude body was found stabbed to death and dumped on a riverbank behind her rural Grand Ledge home, a few hours after she sent her two daughters to play at a neighbor's house.

The children, Jill, 11, and Penny, 7, told police their mother sent them away after a stranger drove up and entered the Reynolds home.

Police later said a "mother's protective instinct" might have saved the two girls.

An artist's sketch drawn from a description by the victim's older daughter was used in the investigation of the slaying.

Herr had met Mrs. Reynolds in January, 1966 when she and her husband John bought a car at the lot where Herr worked. The husband was at work in nearby Lansing when the murder occurred.

'67 Bond Drive Is Launched at Detroit Luncheon

The 1967 Metropolitan Detroit Freedom Bond Campaign was launched today at a noon luncheon at Cobo Hall. Community leaders from Oakland, Wayne, and Macomb counties attended.

Chairman of the savings bond drive, Arjay Miller, president of Ford Motor Co., hosted the luncheon.

The Detroit meeting was one of 35 such gatherings scheduled simultaneously in major cities.

Campaign goal is to enroll a minimum of 86,000 new payroll savers.

Employers not currently offering the payroll savings plan for systematic purchase of U.S. Savings bonds will be urged to adopt the program. Employing establishments with fewer than 50 per cent bond buyers among their employees will be asked to strive for 50 per cent participation.

UAW Invited to Take Case to Labor Body

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther has an open invitation today to air his charges before the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

AFL-CIO President George Meany's invitation wasn't as warm as the airline advertisement to "come on down" to sunbaked Miami Beach.

But Meany said he is ready to listen to any "novel or ancient charge, complaint, proposal or program."

Reuther, who quit the AFL-CIO Executive Council with a 7,000-word indictment that Meany's leadership had led organized labor into complacency, will be replaced on the council.

ANY OFFICER
But Meany — without mentioning Reuther by name — said any officer of any union is welcome to bring his grievances before the council now or later.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz promised Monday in Miami Beach to look into AFL-CIO complaints that labor laws are sometimes used to bring pressure against striking unions.

NO COMMENT
Wirtz declined comment on reports that the Central Intelligence Agency uses labor programs overseas as a front, but said organized labor's "ambassadors in overall are probably our most effective diplomats."

Meany said that, as far as he knows, none of labor's "ambassadors abroad" carry secret CIA cards along with union cards in their jeans.

"I have an ingrained opposition to spy activity as such," Meany said.

Relive the Night of Your Debut

Remember how lovely you looked as you made your bow. Your dress, your hair, your skin so radiant and without a line. After all, you were only sixteen. Why not recapture that night and keep it for 2nd Debut can give your face at least, an "ageless look," a quality more fascinating than youth, beauty or both. Regular nightly applications of 2nd Debut accomplish the "ageless look" by lifting the tone of the facial skin... giving it the allure of a smoother complexion. And skin dryness is all but gone. Choose 2nd Debut (with CEF 600) if you are under 40 or 2nd Debut (with CEF 1200) if you're over 40. Price is $3 and $5 respectively at good department and drug stores. ## Launch Originally Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Today is the day Apollo 1 astronauts Virgil I. Grissom, Edward H. White II and Roger B. Chaffee were to have been launched.

Instead of rocketing skyward in a blaze of glory to start the flight phase of America's Apollo man-to-the-moon project, the three pilots lie in their graves.

On the launch pad, sections of their Apollo 1 rocket combination came down today instead of going up.

Technicians were ordered to unstack two sections of the Saturn-Apollo vehicle today — the main Apollo 1 engine section, called a service module, and a cone-shaped adapter section which served as a spacer between the Apollo engine and the Saturn 1 booster rocket.

MOVING UP IS CATCHING ON

Meet the best car salesmen in Our Town—our customers

They're talking Chrysler to all their friends. About its 383 cubic inch V-8. About the biggest brakes in the price class. And about its price. Four Newports are now priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped. Want to hear more? Then talk to us.

CHRYSLER '67

AUTHORIZED DEALERS  CHRYSLER MOTORS CORPORATION

Checking the menu and completing arrangements for the third annual dinner dance sponsored by the Order of Ahepa and its auxiliary, Daughters of Penelope, are Alex Sekles, Liberty Street, and Maria Kiriako of East Pike Street. The event is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday in the Kingsley Inn. Music for Greek and American dancing will be furnished by the Prevas Combo.

AAUW Branch Ends Year's Study of China

An entire year of study devoted to China was closed Monday by the Pontiac Branch, American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Preston Weir, Mrs. Marvin Marsh and Mrs. J. G. Gernsman concluded the study with a discussion on the influence of China on history and present day attitudes.

Mrs. Fred Crossman announced that the Pontiac branch is one of the few in the state invited to participate in the Experimental Program of Leadership Conference planned for this spring in Rochester.

Laura Belz reported plans for legislative day at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing scheduled for April 15. All legislators will be guests of the AAUW for luncheon.

Committees were appointed to work at the annual used book sale at The Pontiac Mall, April 6 through 8.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Carroll Porritt, Mrs. Homer McVean, Mrs. Donald Stoughton, Mrs. B. B. Roush, Mrs. Daniel Sken and Olga Silvart, Mary Gibbs and Mary Algabe.

Resort Fashions Color Luncheon

Resort fashions will color the luncheon scene at Oakland Hills Country Club Wednesday for women club members.

Mrs. C. Boyd Stockmeyer, chairman of the noon event, will be assisted by Mesdames M. S. McLaughlin, Forrest Palmer, Jack Rinehart and Robert Fokorny.

Marion's Four Corners will dress the models, all club members: Mesdames William Prew, John Appleford, Richard Weir, Garry Osterbeck, Fred Sheldon, Joseph Mack, Lambert Spiane, Harvey Ewald, James Napier and John Harms.

WOMEN'S SECTION

An Early-to-Rise Husband Gets Support of Abby Reader

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column signed "SLEEPING BEAUTY." She was a bride of two months who complained because her husband got up every morning at the crack of dawn and disturbed her while preparing breakfast for himself. If that's all she ever finds wrong with him, she's lucky.

"SLEEPING BEAUTY" probably doesn't realize that getting up early in the morning is a habit some people can never break. Folks who were raised on a farm had to be early risers. And any fellow who ever had a paper route or a milk run got into the habit of getting up early.

I am now 70, and although there is no reason for me to get up that early, I can't sleep past 5 a.m. to save my neck. So tell "SLEEPING BEAUTY" that if she's really such a "beauty," it's a wonder her husband wants to get up at all.

EARLY BIRD

DEAR ABBY: I can sympathize with "SLEEPING BEAUTY." My husband is another one of those men who doesn't need much sleep. He is up like a rooster at 4:30 every morning.

A few years ago he got up at that ridiculous hour and didn't know what to do with himself, so he got dressed and went down to his store. He got shot in the behind by a night watchman who thought he was a burglar trying to break in. Now he waits until 6 a.m. before going to work.

ANOTHER SLEEPING BEAUTY

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of people who partake of your very generous hospitality, and each and every time they come, they have the nerve to bring as their bread and butter gift, a sample bottle of toilet water marked "NOT FOR SALE. FOR DEMONSTRATION ONLY." Isn't this a record for "cheapskates?"

AMAZED

DEAR AMAZED: I frankly

do not share your "amazement." Your friends must surely be aware that their bread and butter gift is marked in such a way as to indicate that it didn't cost them anything. They assumed it was the "thought," not the value of the gift, that mattered. Obviously they were wrong.

DEAR ABBY: When a boy is visiting a girl at her house and the girl walks him out to his car, should he walk her back to the door? My boyfriend thinks he should, but I don't.

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: If you want to be absolutely proper, say your final goodnight at the door, and let the boy walk himself to his car.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Lisa Minelli and Peter Allen leave New York City Hall after taking out a marriage license. Miss Minelli, 20, is the daughter of Judy Garland. She is also in show business. Allen, 23, a native of Australia, is a composer. The couple will be married on March 3.

Just Who Takes 'The Pill'?

WINDSOR, Ont. (U.P.) — Women's "biological beat of bed, board and babies" was attacked recently by Mrs. Laura Sabin, a Saint Catharines alderman and a leader in the establishment of the royal commission into the status of women.

Mrs. Sabin told 40 Ohio, Michigan and Ontario members of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs that women's magazines, manufacturers of household articles and the press are all to blame for trying to push women into a "concentration camp comfort."

Mrs. Sabin, president of the Canadian Federation of University Women and chairman of the Commission on the quality of women, said subtle discrimination in the area of religion caused her "blood pressure to go sky-high."

She said that as a Roman Catholic, she took special note of 2,500 celibate bishops and cardinals discussing birth control, family planning, the pill and abortion without a married woman there to give her point of view.

"The church bears a heavy responsibility for this antiquated view of implied male superiority."

She said Christianity operates under the philosophy that woman is a "misbegotten male. It is subtly implied that religion is for women and theology for men."

Old Rule, New One Do Differ

ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: If a person is on a strict diet, is it in good taste to accept an invitation to dinner at a friend's house, and then say, "I'll bring my own dessert — half a grapefruit?"

I would say that was bad manners. One should eat a tiny bit, or stay home. What do you say? —B.L.

Dear B.L.: Here's a perfect example of how etiquette changes with the times. The old rule said that "it was very discourteous to refuse whatever one's host or hostess proffered."

"A well-behaved guest took at least a little of everything passed and ate or drank that little." Nowadays, because of increased awareness of diets and allergies, it is no longer considered impolite to say, "No, thank you." However, it is incorrect to bring substitute foods.

The strict diet has several choices, all of which require an explanation to his hostess. He may take a very small amount of food and eat very little. He may take only those foods he is allowed to eat, and refuse the rest.

He may ask the hostess if he may join the party after dinner is over. He may refuse to go at all. If his grapefruit or any other special food is absolutely necessary to his nutrition, he should eat it at home, before or after the party.

TABLE MANNERS

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct etiquette to turn your plate around when you've finished eating the food nearest you? Or do you pull the food over to the empty space?

My mother says you are supposed to pull the food over, my school teacher is opposed. —Vanessa

Dear Vanessa: It's hardly necessary to do either. Dinner plates are not so large that you can't reach the food left on the other side. I would simply eat it from wherever it is.

If you must make a choice, move the food, not the plate.

Christopher Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Heine (Nancy Dickinson) of Westover Drive, West Bloomfield Township, announce the birth of a son, Christopher Clary, on Jan. 14.

Grandparents are Mrs. Wilma Dickinson of Mohawk Road and the senior Heines of Grass Lake Road, White Lake Township.

SALLY ANN OLSON

MARY GEORGIA GRILE

The Arthur Olsons of Spring Lake, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Ann, to Jerry R. Kee of Royal Oak, son of the Vernon R. Kees of Louella Street. June vows are planned for the Ferris State College graduates.

Dorothy Rae Eckert of Lakewood Drive, and H. Donald Fugate of Carter Street plan July vows. Their parents are the L. Earl Eckerts of Granite Falls, Minn. and the Shelby Fugates of Earlinton, Ky.

Eleanor Merry, daughter of the John Merrys of Duxbury, Mass., will wed Western Michigan University graduate, Jerry L. Kruskie, son of the Leonard Kruski of Cooley Lake Road, in June. She is a senior at Green Mountain College, Vermont.

Polly's Pointers

Colorful Boxes

DEAR POLLY—Do tell Mrs. H. J. L. that a metal parts cabinet will make a wonderful, inexpensive jewelry cabinet. Hardware stores usually carry them and they come in different sizes, with from 12 to 60 small plastic drawers.

I sprayed mine gold and lined its 24 drawers with cotton. The plastic drawers make it easy to see what they contain and the removable dividers are most convenient.—REBECCA

DEAR POLLY—A plastic cutlery tray is just dandy for a jewelry box. It fits in my dresser's narrow top drawer and earrings can be clipped to the partitions.—JAN

DEAR POLLY—I make lovely jewelry boxes by placing six or eight large match boxes together. I wire some beads in front for handles and cover the whole thing with velvet-like paper.—IRENE

DEAR POLLY—I covered the bottom of the top shallow drawer in my dresser with red velvet, then cut yardsticks to the desired lengths for dividers, and covered them with the velvet. I tacked these sections in with brads from underneath. When I open the drawer the contents can be seen at once.—ELEANOR

DEAR POLLY—My clothes are always snowy white after I wash but they turn yellow after they stay in a drawer for four or five months. What causes this? I used moth balls in the drawer. Could those do it? Or is it caused by a self-made chemical from perfume, talcum powder and so on?—V. L.

DEAR POLLY—Neither my husband nor I smoke, so I put the car ash tray to good use as a holder for the coins one needs for parking meters, toll roads, etc. We use the one that is on the arm rest of the left front door but often the dashboard ash tray is shallow enough to use for this purpose.—NAN

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. To order her 32-page booklet, send your name, address and 50 cents to Polly's Pointers, care of The Pontiac Press.

The engagement of Diana Rae Raboin of Union Court is announced by her parents, the Raymond J. Raboins of Eu Gallic, Fla. Her fiancé is Norwood Caswell, the son of the Charles Norwood Caswells of Lombardy Drive, White Lake Township.

Just Like Home Driving a Bus

RENSSELAER, N.Y. —

"If you don't like children, you've got a problem," declares Mrs. Barbara Habinak, only woman driver among 28 men who pilot school buses for school districts in southern Rensselaer county.

Mrs. Habinak, who drives a 60-passenger vehicle, qualifies for the job. She has seven children of her own.

The engagement of Flint Junior College students Judy Lynn Brown and Randall L. Orr is announced by her parents, the Donald V. Browns of Flint. His parents are the Leland L. Orrs of Orr Road, White Lake Township. August 12 vows are planned by the couple.

Bride-Elect Must Attend to Health

MONTREAL — A bride-to-be should have all minor medical problems attended to before she marries, says Lissa Taylor, an expert in the practical side of preparing for marriage.

She should have her teeth fixed, her appendix or tonsils removed if they are causing trouble, and she should obtain eyeglasses if she needs them. Mrs. Taylor, a fashion bureau director, explains that a girl should launch her married life so that there will be a minimum of expenses during the first year.

"She should have enough clothes to last for at least one full year of marriage and she is supposed to have all medical problems attended to so that she is absolutely no financial burden to her husband during their first year of marriage."

Michelle Arrives

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. LaRose (Rosemary Tassit) of East Boulevard South, announce the birth of a daughter, Michelle Ann, on Feb. 9. Grandparents are the Anthony Tassit of Middle Belt Road and the E. J. LaRoses of Birmingham.

Bringing Up Baby.

Hints Collected by Mrs. Dan Gerber, Mother of Five

GUIDES FOR GOOD FEEDING

Easiest mistake in the world to make: falling into the belief that the more food you give your baby, the better off he (or she) will be. Taint so! Cajoled baby into too much food may actually fix a distaste for a food in your child's mind. Most babies know instinctively how much food they need. Best bet is to let baby be your guide as to how much he can handle.

Eager for every mouthful... that's usually the case when the bill of fare features Gerber Strained or Junior High Meat Dinners. And small wonders! These bright, seasoned-just-right dishes have 3 times as much meat as regular vegetable and meat combinations. That means more protein to help your baby's growth along. Add the goodness of garden vegetables and you've flavor interest with a capital I.

Hearty hint above for toddlers and older tykes.

Turkey Soup Supreme
(For toddlers and older tykes)
Gerber Turkey High Meat Dinner
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup tomato juice
Dash of onion salt or celery salt.

Blend ingredients, heat and serve. This one's a cinch for seconds.

Helping hand division. If baby goes through a troublesome teething spell, it's wise to hold back on new foods. Old favorites are in order for fussy teething periods. P.S. Gerber Teething Biscuits are great for giving baby biting satisfaction.

Substitute plan. If baby balks at a vegetable occasionally, you can easily substitute another. Squash for spinach, say. Or mixed vegetables for sweet potatoes. Gerber has 10 strained and 4 junior vegetables—all notable for eye-and-flavor appeal. Like all Gerber Baby Foods, they're "custom-cooked" according to their own requirements to preserve natural nourishment to a high degree. Gerber's Baby Products, Box 33, Fremont, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haines of Lamont Street announce the engagement of their daughter Marsha Lynn to Robert M. Snapp. He is the son of Mrs. Giltner Snapp of Lotus Drive and the late Mr. Snapp. The couple will wed June 30.

Local Man Claims Bride

At home in Muskegon after recent vows in the Stella Maris Catholic Church, Sullivan's Island, S.C., are Patrick Clayton Harrington of Spring Lake and his bride, the former Barbara Helen Beeson, daughter of Mrs. Edward I. Beeson of Sullivan's Island.

Michael Beeson escorted his sister at the ceremony followed by reception in the Hobcaw Yacht Club, Mount Pleasant, S.C.

Patricia A. Beeson of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., attended her sister as maid of honor. Bonita Parker of Mount Pleasant S.C. and Sylvia Anderegg of Sullivan's Island were bridesmaids.

Robert Harrington was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the Richard M. Harringtons of Eldora Boulevard, West Bloomfield Township.

Guests were seated by Aaron Clark and Donald Lauseng, Charleston, S.C. and Richard Dickinson, Sullivan's Island.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Western Michigan University.

Drops Soothe Irritated Eyes

The only beautiful eyes are healthy eyes. The cleverest make-up can't conceal irritated or overworked eyes. Treat yours to a beauty bath, morning and night, with soothing eye drops. Eye drops help relieve burning, itching and irritation. Contact lens wearers, too, find eye drops soothing to eyes between wearings.

Tell of Marriage

The marriage of Della M. Vela to Benjamin Rodriguez is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Vela Jr. of Norton Street.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Rodriguez of Hillside Drive. The couple will live in Pontiac.

Daughter Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Johnson (Kathleen Schweigert) of Watkins Lake Road, announce the birth of a daughter, Susan Elizabeth, on Feb. 8.

Grandparents are the Dan O. Schweigerts of Watkins Lake Road and Mrs. Aino S. Johnson of Lakeview Street.

MRS. R. W. WILLSON

R. W. Willsons Are Wed in a Thursday Ceremony

Evening vows were exchanged Thursday by Mary Lura Harroun and Airman 3C. Robert William Willson.

Parents of the couple wed in the First-Baptist Church of Pontiac are Mrs. Erwin Harroun of First Avenue, the late Mr. Harroun and the William F. Willsons of Second Avenue.

Mrs. Marshall Causbie was matron of honor for the rite in which her sister wore a gown of white silk organza over luster satin with lace appliques on the bodice, skirt and chapel train.

She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds circled in carnations.

Terry Chase was best man with ushers Alan Mann and John Willson, brother of the bridegroom. A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony.

The newlyweds will reside in England where Airman Willson is stationed.

Now Why Can't Johnny Read a Book?

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — An education expert says that a key question facing education is "not so much, 'why can't Johnny read?' as it is 'why doesn't Johnny read?'"

Dr. Idella Lohmann, professor of education at Oklahoma State University, said only 30 per cent of the U.S. population can be considered active readers who read both for information and pleasure every day.

"Education must solve this problem," she said. "with increasing leisure time available, education must help children learn not only how to read but help them to want to read."

"A teacher who teaches reading must know books and must know children," she said. "and must teach in a way that makes the reading period the most pleasant and fun time of the day, not a time to be dreaded."

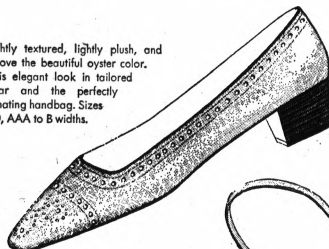

Dr. Lohmann said there was nothing wrong with teaching children to read before they start school but that parents often make mistakes that can ruin a child's attitude toward reading.

She said the mistakes involved the use of reading as a bedtime bribe and discontinuing the home reading after a child has entered school.

2 Winning Streaks Continue for Rec 5's

Two lengthy winning streaks continued last night in the city men's recreation basketball program as two league leaders improved their positions.

The Couleaux Insurance squad remained unbeaten by topping Local 596, 59-35, for its ninth straight win in International League action.

The American League pace-setter, the Amigos Celts, gained its eighth win in a row and ninth over-all by whipping Oxford Hills, 78-56. Both Homes drubbed the Oxford Merchants, 53-37, in the other AL contest.

National League play found the Packers edging the All Stars, 70-65; the Unbeatables falling to Local 653, 72-42; and Auburn Hills dropping Highland Lakes, 55-40.

Both Jim Honchell of Couleaux and Rudy Ransom of the Celts hit 18 points and had excellent support. Nine players scored for the insurance team while the Amigos had 10 making baskets.

Nine tallied for Both Homes. The night's top individual total was the 23 of Collie Russell for the All Stars while Ed Quirk hit 22 for the Packers.

Local 653 had the most potent starting array. Willie Craft hit 21, John Fowler 20, Dale Craft

Gordie Howe Sums Up Award-Winning Career

NEW YORK (AP) — Sloop-shouldered Gordie Howe smiled shyly and tried to look unassuming as a lengthy parade of speakers recited his virtues.

Then it was the Detroit star's turn and his acceptance speech at Monday night's Lester Patrick Trophy dinner summed up his approach to the game over 21 seasons in the National Hockey League.

"There could be no better way to make a living," Howe began, "than in hockey. It's been great to me and I only hope that in my own way I've helped it along."

STANDING OVATION

Howe received a standing ovation from a crowd of some 200 hockey people after accepting the award for long and meritorious service to the game in the United States. The award was named for the longtime manager-coach of the New York Rangers and presented by his two sons, Lynn and Muzz Patrick.

Jack Adams, president of the Central Hockey League and the man who signed Howe to his first professional contract, was the winner of the first Patrick Award last year, and he introduced his pride and joy.

"He's the greatest thing ever to lace on a pair of skates," said Adams. Then he turned to Howe. "If it hadn't been for you," Adams said to his former player, "I wouldn't have been the first winner of this award."

Howe has played longer in the NHL than any other man. He has scored more goals, more assists and more points than any other player. With 18 goals this season, he has a lifetime total of 706 including playoffs.

Jack Anderson, president of the city's entry in the newly organized North American Soccer League.

Jack Anderson, president of the city, announced the appointments of Emmet Simms as vice president and general manager and Gordon Preston as director of public relations.

Simms has been an automotive retailer and Preston has been business manager and publicity director of the Detroit Soccer League for seven years.

The Detroit club, the Cougars, will be represented in the 12-game 1967 schedule beginning in May by the Glenora soccer club from Belfast, Ireland. By the start of the 1968 season, the 12 cities in the new league are scheduled to have their own teams recruited from U.S. and foreign players.

State 5 Winner

DENISON, Iowa (AP)—Northwood Institute of Midland, Mich., trounced Midwestern 104-99 in a basketball game played in Denison. Jerry Pettway, with 28 points, led Northwood's scoring. Mike Evans contributed 24 points and Bill O'Neil 23 for the Michigan team. Northwood now is 8-9 for the season.

January Money Month for Packers

HONOLULU (AP) — It's a money month for the Green Bay Packers. For winning two football games in January, each packer soon will receive a check for $24,813.83. That makes them the Internal Revenue Bureau's best friends.

This unprecedented payoff for a champion in team sports became official Monday night when the National Football League announced the record individual player shares for the title game between the Packers and the Dallas Cowboys.

Everybody knew the Packers had won $15,000 each by beating Kansas City, the American Football League champions, in the Super Bowl 35-10. But nobody knew the exact amount of their total earnings until the National Junior champion Terry Sparrans of Iron Mountain won the Jan. 1 game in the Cotton Bowl were released by Commissioner Pete Rozelle. 34-27, each losing Cowboy collected $6,827.85.

Poor Weather for Ski Jump

ISHPEMING (AP) — Despite snow and poor visibility, Dave Lundmark of Duluth, Minn., managed a 23rd place leap off the Hill to win the Class A event of the Paul Bettla Memorial Ski Jumping Meet Saturday. Lundmark's jump was 100 feet. Sparrans of Iron Mountain won the division. Lee Olson of Eau Claire, Wis., took the veteran's class and Ishpeming's Don Luokola won the Class B event.

Rec Standing in Township Has Shakeup

Free throws played a vital role Monday night at Waterford Township High School as the township men's recreation Continental League standings received a shakeup.

Glenn's Auto Sales took over sole possession of first place and dropped Buckner Finance into a tie for second place when John Poljack's free throw with 20 seconds left to play decided a 57-56 victory.

Cheolach Grocery deadlocked Buckner's by rallying for a 55-49 triumph over Mattingly.

Hillcrest Nazarene knotted Mattingly for fourth place with a 54-48 victory over Ryerson's Market who missed 16 of its 26 charity tosses.

Government Judgment Opens Keg Tourneys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department said Monday it has fielded two proposed consent judgments which would forbid the Bowling Proprietors Association of America Inc. to restrict bowling competition or limit expansion of bowling facilities.

The judgments, filed in U.S. District Court at New York City, will become final in 30 days. One will end an antitrust suit brought against the association by the government in 1964 and the second will conclude part of a suit brought in 1962.

The 1964 action accused the BPA of violating federal antitrust laws by using restrictive tournament eligibility rules.

Under the rules, bowlers were prohibited from competing in association tournaments unless they confined their league bowling to the 115,000 bowling lanes owned or operated by members — about 80 per cent of the nation's commercial bowling lanes.

The judgment would remove these restrictions and would require the association to permit bowlers to compete in its tournaments regardless of where they bowled.

The second judgment stems from an antitrust action that accused the association and two bowling equipment manufacturers — American Machine and Foundry Inc., AMF, and the Brunswick Corp. — of illegally limiting the creation of new bowling facilities and the expansion of existing ones.

The suit said the firms would not sell automatic pin setters to new or expanding bowling establishments.

It's countdown time for the nation's major college basketball teams and top-ranked UCLA is within range of becoming the sixth team in history to go through an entire regular season without a loss.

The Bruins, 21-0, have five games left to play, including those this week-end against Washington and Washington State. The others are against Stanford March 3, California March 4 and Southern California March 11.

Tech Sextet Has Surge

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Michigan Tech poured in five goals in the final period and defeated Colorado College 9-2 in hockey Monday night.

Establishments in areas the BPA suit remains in effect against to establish any conditions for use by manufacturers to determine whether to sell or lease equipment in any area.

Under the terms of the judgment, BPA would be forbidden to restrict bowling competition or limit expansion of bowling facilities.

Just 5 Hurdles Left for UCLA

By the Associated Press

It's countdown time for the nation's major college basketball teams and top-ranked UCLA is within range of becoming the sixth team in history to go through an entire regular season without a loss.

The Bruins, 21-0, have five games left to play, including those this week-end against Washington and Washington State. The others are against Stanford March 3, California March 4 and Southern California March 11.

Expect Covert to Yield 'D' Crown

(This is the first of four articles discussing the pre-tourney favorites in the upcoming state high school basketball tournament.)

By the Associated Press

The word around Class D high school basketball locker rooms this year is "Covert's" had it.

Those fastbreaking whooping cranes who lifted the Bull Dogs to back-to-back state championships in 1965 and 1966 have graduated and the West Michigan club isn't considered a threat to repeat this year.

Waiting in the wings, both loaded for bear, are Flint St. Matthew and Ewen. Both teams have been running neck and neck in the weekly Associated Press Class D poll.

But the road to East Lansing is strewn with "can't miss" labels and broken dreams.

"I never plan in terms of a state tournament because it's a tough row to hoe," says St. Matthew's Coach Jack Pratt. "And one bad night can ruin the whole thing."

Pratt's team is small by modern standards. The leading scorer is a 5-foot-10 forward, John Sperla, who averages 27 points. The biggest men are 6-foot-2 Paul Starova, carrying an average of 14 rebounds, and Jerry Killian, the same height. But the Panthers are quick and score on every other shot, boasting a 51.2 per cent team shooting accuracy average.

Pratt says Joey Keaton, 5-10 guard who specializes on defense is the backbone of his team.

***

"He's our leader and keeps our defense awake," said Pratt. St. Matthew will be tested when district play opens Feb. 27, Pratt said, because "in the last eight years, the winner of our district has gone on to the quarter-finals or better."

Ewen, an Ontonagon County hamlet in East Upper Michigan, has that one essential all coaches dream about — the big man.

He is 6-foot-9 Terry Conrad, averaging 25 points and 20 to 25 rebounds a game.

Around the U. P., Her club with a couple of gunners named Randy Fochesato and Len Welling. Trenary, who has 6-foot-1 Kim Peterson, and Republic, a steady team with Wayne Kerkela the top marksman, are other contenders.

In Michigan's thumb country, the local folks like Peck where Coach Larry Volz depends on Jack Judge and Bob Quinland, and in Southeastern Michigan, Pontiac St. Michael has strong support.

N.J. School Rift Smoothed Over

WAYNE, N.J. (AP) — Fred Lafer, the only Jewish member of the Wayne Township School Board, was elected vice president Monday night, succeeding Newton Miller who touched off a furor last week by urging defeat of two Jewish candidates for the board.

Both Jewish candidates, Jack Mandel and Fred Kraus, were defeated in the election last Tuesday after a bitter campaign.

During the furor over Miller's statement of opposition, the board vice president was condemned by officials of state, local and federal governments and the board voted to ask him to resign.

Miller, who maintained that he was not an anti-Semite, refused. He said he opposed Mandel and Kraus because they supported a larger budget for the township schools.

HIGH TAXES

Miller had opposed an increase in the school budget on the grounds that taxes were already too high.

Meeting Monday night for the regular postelection reorganization, the school board voted to withdraw the earlier resolution calling for Miller's resignation.

Body Identified

TRaverse City (AP) — The body of a woman found burned to death in the ruins of a cottage near Interlochen Sunday tentatively was identified by authorities Monday as that of Margaret Lellis, a divorcee who lived alone in the cottage.

At a regular meeting of the Pontiac Township Board held on Tuesday night on the 12th day of February, A.D. 1967, the following resolutions were adopted:

PRESENT: Terry, Block, Malheur, Arneson, Dr. Smith, Richardson

MOVED: By Smith, seconded by Richardson, the following resolution be adopted:

RESOLUTION: That the Township Board of Pontiac Township, Michigan, do hereby create a Pontiac Township Planning Commission to be known as the Pontiac Township Planning Commission.

1. MEMBERSHIP: The Planning Commission shall consist of seven members, five of whom shall be appointed by the Township Board and two shall be appointed by the residents of the Township.

2. QUALIFICATIONS: All members of the Planning Commission shall be residents of the Township, shall be at least 21 years of age, and shall be of good character.

3. TERM OF OFFICE: The term of office of each member shall be for a period of three (3) years, with one-third of the members to be elected each year.

4. COMPENSATION: Members of the Planning Commission shall receive no salary, but shall be reimbursed for expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

5. ORGANIZATION: The Planning Commission shall elect a chairman and secretary from among its members, and shall hold its first meeting within 30 days of its organization.

6. DUTIES AND POWERS: The Planning Commission shall make and adopt a plan as a guide for the development of the Township, and shall submit such plan to the Township Board for its approval.

7. AMENDMENTS: This Resolution may be amended or repealed by a majority vote of the Township Board.

8. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Resolution shall take effect on the date of its adoption by the Township Board.

9. PUBLICATION: A copy of this Resolution shall be published in the Pontiac Press, a newspaper of general circulation in the Township.

10. AMENDMENTS: This Resolution may be amended or repealed by a majority vote of the Township Board.

11. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Resolution shall take effect on the date of its adoption by the Township Board.

12. PUBLICATION: A copy of this Resolution shall be published in the Pontiac Press, a newspaper of general circulation in the Township.

13. AMENDMENTS: This Resolution may be amended or repealed by a majority vote of the Township Board.

14. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Resolution shall take effect on the date of its adoption by the Township Board.

15. PUBLICATION: A copy of this Resolution shall be published in the Pontiac Press, a newspaper of general circulation in the Township.

16. AMENDMENTS: This Resolution may be amended or repealed by a majority vote of the Township Board.

17. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Resolution shall take effect on the date of its adoption by the Township Board.

18. PUBLICATION: A copy of this Resolution shall be published in the Pontiac Press, a newspaper of general circulation in the Township.

19. AMENDMENTS: This Resolution may be amended or repealed by a majority vote of the Township Board.

20. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Resolution shall take effect on the date of its adoption by the Township Board.

Father Located in New York

WARREN (AP) — "It made me want to cry, the way Robert was jumping up and down and shouting, 'That's my daddy, my daddy ... and he was us!'"

That's the way Mrs. Mary Burton described the reaction of 9-year-old Robert Delahaba to news that he and his 7-year-old brother, Richard, weren't going to an orphan's or foster home.

Both youngsters expected to see their father, a man they scarcely remember, in this Detroit suburb today for the first time in five years.

Their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Delahaba, 33, was killed last Friday night when her car was struck by a train at a crossing in Warren. She was buried yesterday.

A native of Scotland who came to this country as a GI bride, Mrs. Delahaba had no relatives in America, and police said the boys would have to be turned over to juvenile authorities for placement if their father could not be located.

The parents were divorced five years ago. Mrs. Delahaba retained custody of the children.

Her acquaintances did not know where to locate him.

The boys were taken in temporarily by Mrs. Burton, a friend of the mother, who lives in a Warren trailer park. The Detroit News carried a story of their plight, and husband and father recently remarried.

Both youngsters expected to see their father, a man they scarcely remember, in this Detroit suburb today for the first time in five years.

Their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Delahaba, 33, was killed last Friday night when her car was struck by a train at a crossing in Warren. She was buried yesterday.

A native of Scotland who came to this country as a GI bride, Mrs. Delahaba had no relatives in America, and police said the boys would have to be turned over to juvenile authorities for placement if their father could not be located.

The parents were divorced five years ago. Mrs. Delahaba retained custody of the children.

Her acquaintances did not know where to locate him.

The boys were taken in temporarily by Mrs. Burton, a friend of the mother, who lives in a Warren trailer park. The Detroit News carried a story of their plight, and husband and father recently remarried.

Mrs. Burton described the reaction of 9-year-old Robert Delahaba to news that he and his 7-year-old brother, Richard, weren't going to an orphan's or foster home.

Both youngsters expected to see their father, a man they scarcely remember, in this Detroit suburb today for the first time in five years.

RIO TRAGEDY—A young woman is carried on a stretcher after being rescued from a collapsed building in a suburb of Rio de Janeiro yesterday. Two days of torrential rains have caused 92 deaths, according to official estimates. Many more are feared buried under rubble of collapsed buildings.

Brazil Rains Kill at Least 92

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — At least 92 persons are dead and many thousands are homeless in Rio de Janeiro and surrounding areas following two days of heavy rains and landslides, officials said today.

At least 92 persons were killed in Guanabara State, which includes the city of Rio, in the collapse of a house and two apartment buildings in a fashionable Rio suburb.

Another 40 persons — most of them children — were reported dead in Niteroi, capital of Rio de Janeiro State, which adjoins Guanabara.

Communication difficulties with other hard-hit cities kept the official toll incomplete.

Walter de Almeida Castro, press aide to the governor of Rio de Janeiro State, said 2,700 persons were homeless in Niteroi.

Unofficial reports indicated more than 30,000 were without shelter in the state's southern region, where the Paraíba and Parana rivers were reported rising to record levels.

The disaster was triggered by a huge boulder which was loosened by the rains and crashed down the hillside into a two-story house.

Only about 65 of the 117 assemblers were present for the final ballot on the rewritten article, and 41 of them voted in favor of it.

The constitution is scheduled for completion in a month and must be promulgated by May 3. National elections for president and vice president are promised within six months after that.

After a stormy debate, the deputies amended it to read that the president would be empowered to prolong the term of office of some elected bodies and appointed provincial officials, in wartime "or when two-thirds of the National Assembly cannot meet."

Presidential powers are a sensitive issue in the assembly, several of whose leading members were imprisoned by the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The draft constitution allotted unusually broad powers to the legislative branch. South Vietnam's present military regime reportedly wants to even up these governing powers.

Instead the deputies appeared to have watered down presidential controls still further.

Red Cross Offers Easter GI Discs

Free Easter "Voices from Home" recordings can be made at the American Red Cross office, 118 Franklin Blvd. through March 18. Recordings may be sent by parents and wives to any servicemen overseas or in state-side military hospitals.

Contact the Red Cross office for an appointment. Evening and Saturday appointments can be made.

Rescue teams recovered 24 bodies from the debris of the house and two apartment buildings which collapsed Sunday night in Rio, but the engineers in charge estimated that possibly 50 persons were still buried in the rubble.

Seventeen persons were found alive, including a woman and child rescued Monday almost 24 hours after the collapse.

FIRST INTEREST—Actor William Demarest, who has more interest in golf than in acting after 68 years in the profession, takes a practice swing on a course in the Palm Springs, Calif., area. "Everything's too much of a business nowadays . . ." he says of acting.

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — "I've been in this business since 1899 and I've loved it. But I could quit tomorrow and be happy."
Fortunately William Demarest has no plans to quit his portrayals of irascible, heart-of-gold codgers — not as long as "My Three Sons" remains on television. As he approaches his 75th birthday next Monday, he remains in top form

"I gotta realize my ambition to shoot my age on the golf course," he reflects: "I'd love to do it this year. If not this year, I oughta be able to make it when I'm 78, because that's my lowest score. At any rate I'm sure I can do it when I'm 80."

Golf interests Demarest more than acting nowadays. That may be only natural after 68 years in the profession — he began singing and playing cello at the Ridgewood, N.J., Opera House at 7 years of age. But his feelings are also colored by the nature of today's show business.

lot of the fun has gone out of it. Me, I don't care if I never make another picture. And if it wasn't for 'My Three Sons,' I'd quit altogether.

"But I love that show. Those kids I work with, they're just great. Real pros. And of course Fred (MacMurray) and Don Fedderson (the producer) and the whole gang are the friendliest bunch in the world. I'll stay with 'em as long as they want me."

That could be a long spell, provided MacMurray doesn't tire of the series. "My Three Sons" continues to score high in the ratings year after year.

Demarest, who replaced the late William Frawley as cook-housemother for the MacMurray brood, was born in St. Paul, Minn., and grew up in Newbridge, N.J.

He works 102 days annually for "My Three Sons," spending the rest of his time at his Palm Springs home with the wife he has been married to for 27 years. He plays golf with his cronies, also the stock market.

"It ain't what it used to be," Does he cook? he sighed. "Everything's too "Naw, I'm not much good in much of a business nowadays; a the kitchen," he said.

City Commissioners are scheduled to receive tonight at their weekly meeting a resolution asking the personal intervention of the director of the State Highways Department in a local traffic light controversy.

The anticipated action would be the latest in a series of requests submitted to the state department for a traffic signal on West Huron at Dwight.

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

The late Charles Lockett of St. Louis used to tell the worst hard-luck story of all time. He was playing rubber bridge with a very bad partner but had managed to get vulnerable.

Then his partner died and opened with a heart. Charley was looking at a potential grand slam in no-trump but decided to bid six no-trump to be sure of winning the rubber. His partner beamed and bid six hearts.

In those days partner was barred for one round even though the bid were made sufficient, in the same suit, so Charley became dummy at seven hearts.

His partner trumped a club at trick one. "No clubs, partner!" asked Charley. "No clubs, thank you," replied the partner, who proceeded to draw trumps and fan the hand. Unfortunately, when he fanned the hand he found a club.

In today's hand North had little confidence in South's dummy play but 23 high card points opposite an opening no-trump were too much for discretion. He went right to seven no-trump.

The jack of spades held the first trick. Another spade was led and when East showed out, South wasted no further time. He played the ace of clubs from dummy. He did waste a lot of time later on but it was not to his avail. West hung on to his jack of clubs and collected 100 points instead of paying off for a grand slam.

South was unlucky to find four clubs and six spades in the same hand but he had no excuse for not making the grand slam.

There was no hurry about playing clubs. After South found out that West held six spades, he could have cashed the top hearts and diamonds.

West would have showed out on the third heart and second diamond so South would know that West held exactly six spades, two hearts, one diamond and four clubs. Then South would have played the clubs correctly and picked up West's jack.

"The wise man controls his destiny by strategy points the way." ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Impassioned, more than usual, with personality, enthusiasm. People ask what you want now is time to tell them. Property matters are important. Be gracious to make or partner. TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Check details, be determined without becoming obstinate. Contracts, legal papers, could require attention. Don't take situations lightly. Double vigilance. BE THOROUGH. GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Keynote versatility. You can benefit through good relations with neighbors, relatives. Study ARIES message. Emphasize willingness to be constructive changes. Expressiveness. CANCER (June 21 - July 20): Money may come up for discussion. Could involve children, friends, loved ones. Stay within budget. But be creative enough to overcome obstacles. LEO (July 21 - Aug. 22): Cycle high. Some of your best ideas in change. Leo may be slightly arrogant. Don't take it out on family members. Avoid accidents by taking your time. No excess speed today. VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Responsibility is greater - but so are rewards. Marriage, associations with opposite sex, succeeded. You must make decision. No more procrastinating. Be a self-starter. LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Not wise to feel sentiment to a Utilitarian common sense when it comes to borrowing, lending, to finish rather than start projects. Be sure you have kept promises. OCTOBER (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): LEO message. Take your time - important to maintain dignity, stick to principle. NO participation in change. You could be bronchitis. NOVEMBER (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Take care with diet - especially during travel. Avoid extremes. Be open to suggestions by those with experience. Avoid know-it-all attitude. If willing to learn you make fine progress. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Emphasis on income, financial transactions. Study fine print. Be aware of subtle hints, indications. If you are careful success crowns day. Member of sports and could play major role. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Do more interesting than anything. Wait for others to make known their intentions. Avoid overly aggressive actions, statements. If showed observer, then you learn, avoid trouble. PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Feature change and variety. Find out the WIT of events. Utilize keen analytical ability to probe behind the scenes. (Clandestine meeting indicated. Be discreet.)

IF WEDNESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY... you are independent, work well at special projects. Your insight, integrity may lead you to expect too much of others. ... but you usually come out ahead.

India Election Ends; Returns Pouring In

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Returns started pouring into the Indian capital today as the world's most populous democracy completed its week-long fourth general election.

A festive but tense atmosphere prevailed and police were out in strength to prevent violence. The total vote was estimated at 150 million ballots.

The Election Commission said some results might be announced this evening. However, with no computers or voting machines in use, fairly complete returns for the 320 elected seats in Parliament and 3,500 seats in state assemblies were not expected until Friday or Saturday.

The results will be televised for the first time in the Indian capital, the only city that has transmitters. Only a few of the residents have television sets.

The spotlight in today's final round of polling in nine states and two territories was the leaning northeast constituency of Bombay, where former Defense Minister V.K. Krishna Menon was running for Parliament as an independent.

Menon won landslide victories in 1957 and 1962 when he had the support of the ruling Congress party and the late Prime Minister Nehru.

This year the local party committee turned down his bid to stand for reelection from Bombay, nominating instead S. G. Barve, retired civil servant. Menon resigned from the party in protest.

Attention also was centered on the northern state of Kashmir, where political opposition groups have called for a boycott of the election to protest the widespread rejection of the nomination papers of their candidates because of alleged irregularities.

22 ALREADY FILLED

Of 75 seats in the state assembly, 22 have already been filled by Congress party candidates who were declared elected unopposed.

The national commission estimated that about 60 per cent of the eligible electorate of 250 million would have voted when voting ends this afternoon.

"VIRGINIA WOOLF" SCENE — Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor are pictured in a scene from "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" the movie that topped all others with 13 nominations for the 39th annual Academy Awards. Burton and his wife were nominated for best-acting awards. Two others in the cast were nominated for best-supporting actor and actress. The film also received best-picture, best-director and best-screenplay nominations.

Movie Epic of 'Ulysses' Has Censors on Guard

(EDITOR'S NOTE — James Joyce's novel "Ulysses" is a masterpiece, but there is a limit, it is said.)

James Joyce's novel "Ulysses" beat a censorship attempt in 1933 when it came to the United States. Now the epic's movie version faces the same sort of trouble. Raymond J. Crowley, who covered Federal Judge John M. Woolsey's landmark decision on the case in 1933, tells about the new problems.

WASHINGTON (AP)

James Joyce, whose epic "Ulysses" won a famous legal victory over censorship 34 years ago, appeared to be headed today toward posthumous trouble with a police censor named Murphy.

The premiere of the movie version of "Ulysses" is scheduled in selected theaters around the country March 14. Here and there, obstacles have arisen.

One is in Chicago, where the police department has a film review section. Distributors of the movie say they have refused to show the film in advance to the police censors. Sgt. Robert Murphy of the film review section says that, if they don't, they risk a crackdown.

Sgt. Murphy said in a telephone interview that a city ordinance provides that nothing shall be shown on the screen without a permit.

LITTLE EFFECT

Asked if he ever read the book, he said: "No. But I guess it wouldn't have any effect on a man of my age. I'm 56 and I have 11 kids and 12 grandchildren. I don't even need the Catholic Index of Books to keep me straight."

"From what I hear, Joyce was in a class with that fellow Behan, with no concept of what's obscene."

The reference was to the roistering Irish author Brendan Behan, who wrote the play "The Quare Fellow" and other works, and died in 1964 at the age of 41.

Maryland has a Board of Motion Picture Censors, the only state agency of its kind left in the country. There is a possibility of a legal clash in that state also.

ACT UNDER LAW

Elwood Gebhart, executive assistant to the board, said under the film is submitted in advance the board would be required to act under the law. "It may be a classic, and I'm no

'Woolf' Dominates Oscar Nominations

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Academy Award nominations for "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" dominated the list of nominees for the 39th annual Academy Awards. The film, directed by Mike Nichols, received 13 nominations, the most of any film.

Burton and Miss Taylor were nominated Monday for best actor and best actress awards for their performance in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"—a film that won 13 nominations.

The sisters, Lynn and Vanessa Redgrave, are daughters of Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor. They are only the second pair of sisters to receive nominations in the same year.

They were nominated for the best actress Oscar; Lynn for "George Girl," Vanessa for "Morgan."

ILLUSTRIOUS COMPANY

The Burtons joined illustrious company in the husband-wife area. The others were Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt (1931), Charles Laughton and Elsa Lanchester (1937), and Rex Harrison and Rachel Roberts (1953).

The only previous sisters nomination was in 1941 when Joan Fontaine was nominated for "Suspicion" and Olivia de Havilland for "Hold Back the Dawn." Miss Fontaine won.

"Woolf," with its 13 nominations, became almost automatically the front runner for the film capital's big prize. If it wins, it will be the first Academy Award winner ever barred to young viewers.

Because of its sex-oriented dialogue, it was released on the basis that "no one under 18 will be admitted unless accompanied by an adult."

FOUR CHARACTERS

Although limited to four characters, "Woolf" has nominees in all our acting categories.

Nominated for best picture of 1966—in addition to "Woolf"— were "A Man for All Seasons," "Alfie," "The Russians Are Coming," and "The Sand Pebbles."

The international character of the industry once again was firmly established. Nearly half of the potential Oscar-winners are British. Others come from Japan, Czechoslovakia and Taiwan.

The top nominations: Best actor: Richard Burton, "Woolf." Alan Arkin, "Russians;" Michael Caine, "Alfie;" Steve McQueen, "The Sand Pebbles;" Paul Scofield, "A Man for All Seasons."

Best actress: Elizabeth Taylor, "Woolf;" Anouk Aimée, "A Man and a Woman;" Ida Kaminska, "The Shop on Main Street;" Lynn Redgrave, "George Girl;" Vanessa Redgrave, "Morgan."

Best supporting actor: George Segal, "Woolf;" Mako, "The Sand Pebbles;" James Mason, "George Girl;" Walter Matthau, "The Fortune Cookie;" Robert Shaw, "A Man for All Seasons."

Best supporting actress: Sandy Dennis, "Woolf;" Wendy Hiller, "A Man for All Seasons;" Jocelyne Lagarde, "Hawaii;" Vivien Merchant, "Alfie;" Geraldine Page, "You're a Big Boy Now."

Best direction: Mike Nichols, "Woolf;" Michelangelo Antonioni, "Blow-Up;" Clude Lelouch, "A Man and a Woman;" Fred Zinnemann, "A Man for All Seasons;" Richard Brooks, "The Professionals."

Church Fire Claims Nun

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A 77-year-old priest was in critical condition today with burns suffered in a fire at a Roman Catholic church that took the life of a nun.

The Rev. George J. Weimann and Sister Lillian Marie, 26, were burned Monday as they tried to save chalices and consecrated Holy Communion wafers from a fire that wrecked St. Philip Net Church.

Firemen said the fire resulted from defective wiring near the main altar of the frame church. A small blaze at the same location Feb. 15 also was attributed to the wiring.

Sister Lillian, the former Ann McLaughlin of Elyria, Ohio, was a second-grade teacher at the church's elementary school.

IN BELL TOWER

Investigators said Father

Weimann and Sister Lillian ran into the church from the school building after pupils noticed flames in the bell tower.

They were smoked on the floor of the smoke-filled vestibule with the chalices and hosts beside them. Rescuers were hindered by the flames and dense smoke.

UAW Leaders to Ask Okay on Program at Convention

DETROIT (AP) — Officers of the United Auto Workers Union now reportedly are going to ask convention approval before asking for $3 million toward an organizing crusade, social action programs and help for small unions seeking recognition or first contracts.

Originally the UAW's 26-member executive board was reported considering making the offer in a 7,000-word manifesto outlining to local unions its reasons for what amounted to a threat to withdraw from the AFL-CIO.

But the board decided, top sources within the union say, to put it before the convention on grounds the board's constitutional authority to set aside the money might be questioned.

Added weight which convention approval would give the programs also was a consideration.

'LIVES IN PAST'
Asserting that "the AFL-CIO, in policy and program, too often continues to live in the past," the UAW accused it of lagging in organizing, social action in such as the civil rights movement, and in helping struggling unions.

Some sources within the UAW were of the opinion other unions within the AFL-CIO would be challenged to match the UAW's $3 million. Some others thought it might strike out alone.

This may be spelled out in what the UAW's manifesto of Feb. 9 said would be a series of "specific policy recommendations in the coming weeks," presumably ahead of the convention.

Bid-Opening Set

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department will open bids in Lansing March 1 on 21 construction projects in 18 counties to cost an estimated $1.1 million. Bidding on a $200,000 project to install motorist aid telephones along a 30-mile section of I 94 between Battle Creek and Jackson has been postponed until March 15 to give contractors time to study specifications.

In its criticism of the AFL-CIO the UAW called for "a massive organizational crusade to bring the benefits of unionism to millions of unorganized industrial, construction trades, retail and distribution, office, technical, professional, federal, state and local government workers and schoolteachers and to organize millions of agricultural workers and the working poor in the cities and rural areas of the nation."

COURAGE, COMPASSION

It also called for a demonstration of "greater courage and compassion in extending equal rights and equal opportunity to every American—not only at the community level and through new laws—but within the labor movement itself."

Additionally, it proposed establishment of "a united defense fund to promote adequate support for workers under circumstances in which the employer is engaged in an effort to destroy their union or is unwilling to bargain in good faith."

The UAW's executive board ordered its four top officers on Dec. 28 to resign all connection with the ruling AFL-CIO Executive Council, but did not step out of the parent organization entirely.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther kept his presidency of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department, its largest, although he gave up an AFL-CIO vice presidency and the executive council seat that went with it.

TO REVIEW RELATIONS
It was announced by the UAW's board Dec. 28 also that it would ask the upcoming convention to review the union's relations with the AFL-CIO and give it (the UAW board) authority to withdraw entirely or take any other action it might deem necessary in the future.

Originally the convention was to have been concerned only with setting new contract goals for bargaining which will begin in early July with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, but an executive board ordered its agenda expanded. Current four-year contracts "with the Big Three run out Sept. 5."

MONSTER EFFECT — Snowplows that removed the heavy snowfall of a few weeks ago created this overhang of hard encrusted snow in Saginaw. Subsequent thaw and an ice storm then transformed the undercut snow bank into what appears to be an icy-toothed monster on one of the city's main streets.

As Collectors Moan

Old Stamps Burned in Italy

ROME (AP) — In a stamp collector's nightmare, turned into reality, the Italian government is putting a match to $7 million old postage stamps worth millions of dollars.

Destruction of 255 sacks of unused stamps, issued between 1859 to 1963, began Monday and will continue four days.

The stamps are being burned to clean out the Postal Ministry's cupboard and prevent the philatelic deflation that would result if they were thrown into the market.

Possessors of valuable Italian commemorative collections could sigh in relief that the value of their specimens was being preserved. But the stamp burning was enough to make aspiring collectors wring their hands in anguish.

DAILY BURNING
Postal administration officials are witnessing the daily burning in the Bank of Italy's special furnaces for destroying multicolored banknotes.

Turned to fine black soot Monday were the 1939 issue to commemorate the Rome-New York flight of Italo Balbo, the birth (1927) and 19th-century stamps from the last days of Rome as a Papal State.

Incriminated with them were stamps of similar value marking the millennium of Horace (1386), the 150th anniversary of composer Gioacchino Rossini's birth (1942), the centenary of physicist Alessandro Volta's

Special Meaning in Gift to Romney

SALE LAKE CITY (AP) — The Utah Legislature — where George Romney's father and brother once served — gave the Michigan governor a bust of Abraham Lincoln Monday after Romney spoke to a joint session.

Senate President Haven J. Barlow, in obvious reference to Romney's possible candidacy for the presidency, noted:

"The bust has special significance. It is a likeness of Lincoln just before he announced for the presidency in 1860."

Smaller Powers Big Barrier to Ban on N-Arms Spread

GENEVA (AP) — The small, clear industry which could make a bomb in a short time, no promise to put down on their own nuclear armaments.

Chief among these are West Germany, Japan, India, Italy, Sweden, Switzerland and Israel. They have two chief complaints: The superpowers have not yet joined in offering them binding guarantees against attack from Red China. This particularly worries India.

They have not participated that they will benefit from industrial disarmament which the nuclear powers may make in the course of experiments on fusion.

Unlike past sessions, this one is not expected to produce any major clashes between the United States and the Soviet Union. The main sticking point between the two is a provision for international inspection to determine whether technological nations comply with the treaty. Soviet negotiator Alexei Roschin is reported to have told William C. Foster, the U.S. representative, that the Soviet Union could not accept this provision.

Prospects of working out a meaningful treaty were dimmed by the fact that two of the five nuclear powers, Red China and France, have refused to advance to sign it.

MAIN TROUBLE
The main trouble, however, stems from the countries which do not have nuclear weapons but do have an advanced nuclear industry which could

Kelley Hits Road Dept. Questions

LANSING (UPI) — The Highway Commission is invading the private life of Highway Department employees when it asks them to disclose all their financial interests, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said yesterday.

The commission circulated an employee questionnaire to 56 workers to comply with a request by Gov. George Romney to determine the outside business interests of key personnel.

Kelley gave his stamp of approval to only two of the six questions and said even they must be approved by the State Civil Service Commission.

The four questions struck down by Kelley asked employees to identify all business interests they own or have an interest in; to disclose any stock they hold; to identify outside sources of income other than their department salary; and to disclose any land owned by them or their wives.

The questions, were designed to determine if employees have a conflict of interest with their highway employment. Kelley said the four questions "do not appear to specifically relate to a possible conflict of interest situation."

DIRECT RELATIONSHIP
Kelley said the questions were qualified to refer more directly to the relationship of any outside interests to highway matters. One question approved by Kelley was:

"Do you or any near relative have any business relationship with the Department of State Highways or with a supplier or contractor doing business with the Department of Highways?"

The other question approved asks employees to state whether they have any supplemental employment; and if so, with whom.

Moustache Okay if Neat, Says Mayor

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Mayor Victor H. Schiro pleased workers who cultivate their upper lip by siding with a fireman who was suspended when he wouldn't shave his moustache.

Caring his own moustache as he spoke Monday, the mayor said he saw no reason a fireman couldn't have a moustache—if it is clean and trimmed like his.

Fireman Terry Gibson, suspended last Friday, was back on the job Monday—moustache nicely trimmed.

MAIN STREET — This is downtown Vindex, Md., a company town being sold to make way for mining operations. Its residents have been advised they will have to move by May 1.

May 1. Building at left, now vacant, used to house the company store and post office. The post office was moved to the house at right when the larger building began to sag.

All but One Must Leave Town

Company Sells People Out

VINDEX, Md. (AP) — The Johnston Coal & Coke Co. has given everybody in Vindex until May 1 to get out of town — everybody except Newton McRobbie.

The 32 families who have received notices to vacate their company-owned houses seem reconciled to leaving, although most of them say they don't know where they will go.

McRobbie presents a problem for the company. He owns his house. He says he isn't going to leave without it and at 69 he is too old to take it with him. There, for the moment, matters stand.

Johnston Coal & Coke built Vindex in 1906 and sustained it with coal mining in the hills hereabouts. Now Johnston is selling Vindex and the land around it to the Douglas Coal Co.

BLASTING REQUIRED
James Polino, head of Douglas, says he plans strip, or surface operations as well as deep mining in the western Maryland area near the border of West Virginia.

"Stripping coal takes a lot of blasting," says Polino. "You can't strip coal and do a lot of blasting with people in the way."

Two of these people are Ellis Ellifritz and his wife. Ellifritz, 50, was born and raised in Vindex. He worked for Johnston until 1950 when it closed operations. Now he works for the Garrett County Roads Department in nearby Oakland.

Ellifritz and his wife have lived in the five-room frame house since shortly after their marriage in 1938.

FUTURE BLEAK
He has paid his $9.66-a-month bill to the company, his electric bill to the company, used to buy, I suppose we'll have to.

His groceries from a company store and got his water free from the company.

What are the Ellifritzes going to do? "Land, I don't know," says Mrs. Ellifritz.

"We ain't got a house yet. We'd like to move to Oakland on account of being closer to my work. We'd have to rent it."

McRobbie once owned seven acres that had coal underneath it. Johnston Coal & Coke traded him a lot and a house in Vindex for the property. So McRobbie is the only resident of Vindex who owns his home.

Adams has talked to McRobbie about trading the property for some land outside the town.

Said McRobbie it is with me now I ain't able to build in Dallas, Tex. Now I'm 69 and my lungs ain't too good.

CONVERTED POST OFFICE — This house in Vindex, Md., was converted into a post office to serve the company town's 32 families. A coal company is buying the town and wants the residents out by May 1. On the porch are Mrs. Avis Johnson and her granddaughter, Sharon Johnson.

Glenn—5 Years After Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (U) — He recalls every detail of that day nearly five years ago when he sailed three times around an ailed world and returned a hero — but this year the anniversary falls under the shadow of tragedy.

John H. Glenn Jr. is on the sidelines now, watching from earth while others pave the way to the moon, and share the dangers.

But the flames that swept the Apollo 1 spacecraft Jan. 27, killing three astronauts, burned their way into John Glenn's memory too.

That fire took the lives of Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom, a modest American-made seven astronauts; Air Force Lt. Col. Edward H. White II, the first American to walk in space; and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee, a space rookie.

BEST FRIENDS
"What can you say when you've lost some of your best friends," Glenn asked.

On three days, Glenn marks the fifth anniversary of his dramatic 4-hour, 56-minute flight—the Friendship 7 spacecraft which made him the first American to orbit the earth. And he remembers that even in those early days he and his fellow astronauts knew that sooner or later a serious accident was inevitable. They used to talk over the possibilities, the risks.

"I honestly don't remember anything specific Gus said about danger," says Glenn now. "But even if I did, I don't think it would be right to repeat it."

"The best tribute we can give to them is to go ahead in as safe and sane a program as we can," he adds. "People have been left behind in other efforts and they didn't stop. You can't stop. You move ahead."

MEN ON MOON
It is too soon to say whether the tragedy will delay the U.S. goal of landing men on the moon by 1970. "No one can estimate that until the board of inquiry completes its investigation," Glenn says. "And I don't think anybody should try to do a lot of second guessing."

Much has happened to Glenn since that day, Feb. 20, 1962, when he flashed three times around the globe. If he could completely wipe the year 1964 from his mind, he would.

He had left active flying with the space program, because of his age, and worked to become U. S. Sen. Glenn, Democrat of Ohio. His decision to enter politics came after much soul searching — but suddenly his dreams ended.

Before his Democratic primary campaign in Ohio ever got off the ground, Glenn fell and damaged his head against a bathtub while adjusting a mirror. He withdrew from the primary, and it took him almost a year to shake the dizziness brought on by a damaged inner ear.

FULLY RECOVERED
Today, at 45, he has fully recovered physically.

Through it all, John Glenn has remained the same John Glenn whose small-town charm captured the heart of the nation.

her's pride, Glenn said. "She's president of the freshman class, of which we're very proud."

Pouring a cup of coffee, Glenn sat down in the spacious living room to spend a couple of hours leisurely discussing his life and the exploration of space.

"Sure, I have lots of regrets. If I didn't have regrets, I wouldn't be human. I regret that I fell when I did, that I was so clumsy."

"We've sort of picked up the pieces and started over again," Glenn said. "If I never got back to it, I will always be glad I at least had guts enough to try once because I've always had an interest in the political field — some very definite beliefs."

FUTURE VENTURES
All Glenn says now about any future political ventures is simple: "I have no plans."

He stays close to the political scene and doesn't want to be held to a categorical statement that he "will never" try again. He says he has had "a lot of people approach me from organizations here and in Ohio to do various things in politics, either on a state level or national level."

Although he's retired from the Marine Corps and is no longer an active astronaut, Glenn beside it in the driveway, keeps busy. He works part-time "I'd like to be a junior in college and have somebody bring Space Administration as a consultant in planning future programs and is a member of the board of directors of Royal South Hadley, Mass. With a fa-

Freeman was named yesterday to replace Andre Cluytens, who came because of illness.

Freeman is director of the San Francisco Community Music Center and a former director of the Hochschule Music School in New York.

Dixie DA Clamps Secrecy on Kennedy Death Probe

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dixie Atty. Gen. Jim Garrison says he is clamping strict secrecy on his Kennedy assassination probe. Garrison estimates that arrests are "months away."

The New Orleans district attorney said he would even set up a special fund so he won't have to file public expense vouchers which give a clue to the activities of his investigators.

Sweating under hot camera floodlights, Garrison reiterated Monday at what he called a final news conference that there will be arrests, charges and convictions.

Garrison contends that a conspiracy was born here which resulted in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963.

WARREN REPORT
The official report by the Warren Commission said Kennedy was shot by Lee Harvey Oswald — a former New Orleans resident — and that it found no credible evidence anyone else was involved.

Garrison's probe has stirred both interest and skepticism in Washington Monday. Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, a Democrat, urged that the Warren Commission reopen its investigation.

In Detroit, Sol A. Dann, former lawyer for the late Jack Ruby, telegraphed Garrison urging him to arrange for a federal or state grand jury probe.

Dann sent a similar wire to Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremlinn, with the added request that an inquiry be made into "Jim Garrison's information or evidence."

Garrison has said he has no intention now of turning over any information to state or federal officials.

At the news conference, he said that "premature" disclosure of the investigation by New Orleans newspapers had seriously hampered the investigation. He barred reporters from the city's newspapers from the conference room.

"Remove 'em by force," shouted Garrison, when Times-Picayune reporter refused to leave. "Throw them out if necessary." An aide pushed the news man out of the room.

Asked if he thought any foreign country or any official was involved in the alleged conspiracy, Garrison said no. He turned away most questions with "no comment."

EXPECTS CONVICTIONS
Garrison said he expects to obtain convictions for conspiring to kill President Kennedy, and for being accessories after the fact—that is, "having substantial knowledge and withholding information."

His special investigation fund, he said, will be made up of bank loans and "some contributions I think we will receive."

In Baton Rouge, the state capital, Gov. John McKeithen said

Topless Tables Floor Students

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Somebody stole 30 table tops from one dining room on the Gonzaga University campus Sunday and then took another 40 tables.

Students had to eat on the floor Monday morning under a sign left by the thieves which read: "You are now entering the first topless dining room in the world."

UAW Seeks End to Strike; Local Layoffs Looming

DETROIT (UPI) — Both union and management urged a halt today in the wildcat strike at an Ohio parts plant that threatens to put 80,000 GM workers out of work by the end of the week.

The strike will affect two of General Motors' assembly plants in the Pontiac area, a GM spokesman said today.

Operations at the Fisher Body plant will cease at the end of the strike today. Approximately 2,300 will be laid off as a result of the shortage of parts supplied by the Fisher Body Mansfield plant, according to a GM official.

Final assembly operation at Pontiac Motor Division will go down at the end of today's regularly scheduled shifts. Some 2,000 persons will be affected.

In addition, about 3,000 other hourly employees in other Pontiac Division plant locations will be furloughed temporarily after today.

NO EFFECT
The strike in Mansfield will have no effect on GMC truck and Coach Division operations at this time.

A hearing on a GM request for an injunction against the Mansfield, Ohio United Auto Workers Local 548 was to resume today in Ohio.

General Motors said yesterday its production will be paralyzed by Friday since 22 of its 23 assembly plants depend on the Mansfield facility for parts.

If the strike continues through the week, GM said, the only factory assembling cars next week will be one in Norwood, Ohio, which is scheduled to resume production today after a strike that began Jan. 25.

REUTHER ISSUES CALL

UAW President Walter Reuther has urged the 2,700 Mansfield employees to return to work, terming their walkout "not only in violation of the collective bargaining agreement but also in violation of the international UAW constitution and of applicable federal laws."

Many Businesses to Close Tomorrow

Observance of George Washington's birthday tomorrow will close all city, county and federal offices.

The holiday closing will also affect driver's licensing offices both at 1 Lafayette and the Pontiac police station, although police and sheriff's deputies will be working.

Stores will be generally open. Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, First Federal Savings of Oakland, and Capital Savings and Loan Association will be closed.

Remaining open as the Feb. 28 deadline approaches for purchase of automobile license plates will be the Pontiac office of the Michigan Secretary of State at 96 E. Huron.

Byrd Claims Long Viet War Aids Soviets

"A long war in Vietnam is playing directly into the hands of the Soviet Union," according to Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va.

In a recent Senate speech, Byrd said: "I do not buy the argument peddled around Washington that the Soviet Union desires peace. If this were fact, peace could come quickly."

"In seeking to bring about a lessening in East-West tension U.S. officials are downgrading the Soviet threat to peace," he said.

"Too often do we hear from top officials that were it not for Red China, peace could be attained in Vietnam."

He charged that the Soviet Union — not China — was providing the major military support for North Vietnam. He put Soviet aid at $2 billion in 1966.

He said the Soviet Union is providing fighter aircraft, heavy artillery, anti-aircraft weapons, radar equipment, surface-to-air missiles, a steel plant and most of the oil, while China is providing small arms and food.

"If China were to cease supplying the North Vietnamese, the war effort would be hurt. But if the Soviet Union were to stop supplying war materials, that in itself would bring the war to an end in a short time."

Sen. Byrd, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he put this question to the nation's military leaders:

"If you were ordered to conduct the war to bring it to an early conclusion with the least possible military casualties, would you follow present operating procedures?"

Sen. Byrd said the military chiefs answered "No," and amplified by stating they would remove the restrictions on air and naval bombardment of important military targets in North Vietnam.

Two companies of South Korean marines reported killing 243 North Vietnamese in the three-hour, hand-to-hand battle last Wednesday while taking moderate casualties themselves.

But Lt. Gen. Chae Myung Shin, commander of South Korean forces in Vietnam, said greater fire power and more helicopter support would enable his men to carry out their guerrilla specialty of fighting behind the enemy lines.

Chae said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. troop commander, had promised to replace the Koreans' World War II small arms with M16 rifles and

TAKEN INTO COURT — A handcuffed Richard Speck is led into the Peoria County Courthouse yesterday where he heard Prosecutor William J. Martin ask for the death penalty in his trial. Speck is charged with the slaying of eight student nurses in Chicago last July in the trial that opened in Peoria, Ill., yesterday.

Speck Trial Opens; Execution Is Asked

PEORIA, Ill. (U) — Richard Speck, bored and indifferent during the first hours of his trial on charges of murdering eight nurses, became attentive and alert after the prosecution announced it would ask the death penalty.

Two women were the first potential jurors selected yesterday. The women, tentative selections to the group of peers who will decide the guilt or innocence of Speck, 25, were not sequestered overnight.

They were chosen from 15 veniremen during the first day of the trial presided over by Judge Herbert C. Paschen of Chicago. In a new conference prior to the trial, Judge Paschen ruled that questions asked of prospective jurors may not be published.

This ruling was added to his list of restrictions on news coverage of the trial. Other restrictions include a ban on sketching in the courtroom and on publication of jurors' names.

Speck spent the night in the sheriff's lockup of the courthouse instead of his isolated cell at the city jail. He was transferred in a closed van from the jail to the courthouse in bitter cold yesterday, guarded by a cordon of police and led to the courthouse entrance by two officers mounted to his wrists.

NEAT BLUE SUIT

He appeared at the morning session in a neat blue suit, white shirt and dark tie. A pocket handkerchief carried a blue embroidered initial S. He appeared to pay little attention to the preliminary court proceedings.

Speck slouched in his leather — seat swivel chair and rubbed the bridge of his nose with his thumb and forefinger as prospective jurors were sworn. He rested his head in his raised left hand as Judge Paschen read each of the eight indictments, consolidated for the trial, which accused Speck of strangling and stabbing eight student nurses July 14 in their residence on Chicago's South Side.

William Martin, the youthful, crew-cut prosecutor, opened the afternoon session with the first official pronouncement of the state's trial strategy.

"The state will ask the jury to fix the defendant's punishment at death," Martin said.

Romney Urges a 'Tithe of Time' in Nation to Help Solve U.S. Woes

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (U) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan, on a political sortie through his boyhood homeland, called today for a national "tithe of time" to help solve this nation's ills.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Republican Luncheon in Idaho Falls, he said "four hours — 10 per cent of a 40 hour week — spent in well-conceived voluntary effort at the local level could reshape America faster than federal programs ever will."

Tithing usually refers to the voluntary contribution of one-tenth of one's income to a church.

Romney, a Mormon who believes in tithing — money or time — said a recent national survey showed that more than 61 per cent of adult Americans said they would give four hours a week to productive citizen service.

"These 245 million man-hours would equal the total output of the automobile, food processing, railroad, department store and clothing industries," he said.

SECOND DAY

This was Romney's second day of visiting friends and landmarks of the past while assessing future political support in two home states.

Two former homes and the grade school where he was valedictorian were on the "remember when" itinerary. Politicking in Southeast Idaho was scheduled for a convocation at Ricks College in Rexburg and a dinner at Idaho State University in Pocatello.

Romney made the most of yesterday in Utah defending his religious convictions and running hard against Johnson administration.

He chose the heartland of his family and church to tackle a religious issue that without question will repeat itself if he does make a race for the presidency. His Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints refuses the priesthood — open to all white males over 12 — to Negroes.

'WOULDN'T BELONG'

"If my church prevented me from working to eliminate social injustice and racial discrimination — as I have for 25 years — I would not belong to it," Romney told the Salt Lake City Ministerial Association, "but that's not the case."

He stressed his own record on civil rights.

Senators Quiz CIA's Director

WASHINGTON (U) — The government's spy director faces a Senate watchdog committee today, backed by a prediction from Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield that the agency will survive its current "period of disfigurement" with a strengthened intelligence arm.

Richard Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, testifies at a closed hearing of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee in the wake of disclosures that the CIA channeled funds to the National Student Association and Allegedly to other groups through various foundations.

Mansfield said that the uproar must not be permitted to disrupt the CIA's spying mission.

"There is a vital need for this intelligence activity and it must be protected," Mansfield said. "I think there is developing a better understanding of its mission which will bring a better functioning CIA with more effective administration."

Mansfield said he regards Helms as "the best administrator the agency has ever had." He said he is convinced the director feels that President Johnson's order cutting off any CIA funds to student groups was wise and will clear the way for strengthened intelligence operations.

The Washington Post reported that the Institute for Labor Research, a now defunct organization headed by former Socialist party leader Norman Thomas, received more than $1 million from a foundation identified as a conduit for CIA funds.

Light Snow or Rain in March Today

A little rain or snow is in the offing today through Thursday.

The weatherman predicts brief snow flurries and partly sunny with increasing cloudiness tonight.

There's a chance of some light rain or snow tomorrow afternoon and flurries with falling temperatures Thursday.

Temperatures sliding to 20 to 26 tonight will aim for the 30s tomorrow.

Eighteen was the low reading down town Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury stood at 25 at 1 p.m.

Korean: Troops Need Modern Weapons

SAIGON (U) — The Korean commander in South Vietnam said today that many of his 45,000 troops are fighting with World War II carbines and M1 rifles and "could not compare with the automatic weapons fire laid down by the enemy" in their battle last week against North Vietnamese regulars.

Two companies of South Korean marines reported killing 243 North Vietnamese in the three-hour, hand-to-hand battle last Wednesday while taking moderate casualties themselves.

But Lt. Gen. Chae Myung Shin, commander of South Korean forces in Vietnam, said greater fire power and more helicopter support would enable his men to carry out their guerrilla specialty of fighting behind the enemy lines.

Chae said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. troop commander, had promised to replace the Koreans' World War II small arms with M16 rifles and newer model .30 and .50 caliber machine guns.

"We already have received 900 M16s for training purposes and expect more by May or June," he said. "It only takes two weeks to retrain our infantrymen in the modern weapons, but the increased firepower would double our effectiveness."

NO HELICOPTERS
The Korean said his troops have no helicopters of their own and have to depend on American choppers which are available only to support specific operations.

"If we had helicopter units assigned to us," Chae said, "We would drop guerrilla forces behind enemy lines and conduct guerrilla fighting along the lines which our men have been specifically trained for."

Chae, an expert on guerrilla tactics, commanded a battalion of line crossers who fought behind enemy lines in the Korean war.

Lack of readily available helicopters has reduced the mobility of Korean units, the general continued.

NO RESUPPLY FACILITY
"We have no facility for resupply in the field or evacuating the wounded in guerrilla situations, although such support is available on large-scale operations," he explained.

MORMON LEADER — Michigan Gov. George Romney shakes the hand of President David O. McKay of the Mormon Church during a visit in Salt Lake City yesterday. Mrs. McKay is seated in the center. Romney, a Mormon, was in Utah as part of a political prospecting tour of the West.

3 Area Primaries Narrow Field of Election Hopetuls

The shape of general election ballots for Troy, Romeo and Almont was determined yesterday as primary votes were conducted in the three area communities.

The field of eight contestants was narrowed to four for the Troy April 3 election. Selection of commission nominees was the only issue on the ballot yesterday.

Top vote-getter was Commissioner David E. Grattap, 54, of 272 Fabius with 497. Challenger John Koksalis, 51, of 445 Colebrook, making his first bid for office, received 432 votes.

The other two winning places on the general election ballot are Commissioner Clarence Fenseth, 38, of 314 Lyons (423 votes) and Hilbert Hirschfield, 60, of 2680 Bretby (351 votes).

Totals for losing challengers were: Andrew Horvath, 285; Alphonse Bajger, 280; Gerald Hershberger, 207; and John M. Huber, 152.

There were no Democratic contestants yesterday in Romeo's primary balloting.

Largely a Republican town, Romeo voters chose former Trustee Merin Kerr over former village President Byron Nichols and newcomer Sherman Parker Jr. The count was 319 votes for Kerr, 211 for Parker and 118 for Nichols.

Clerk Norman Engel polled 386 votes as opposed to Marion Shepley at 246 to win a berth on the March 13 ballot.

Vietnam Map in Press

In answer to many requests, The Press is publishing a full color map of Vietnam today, on Page D-1.

The full page map clearly lists the major cities, villages and U.S. bases. Many area residents with relatives fighting there will find it handy to locate just where the action is taking place.

The map has been prepared by the Newspaper Enterprise Assn., a regular feature supplier of The Pontiac Press.

Board Acts on Sprinkler System Plan

The Waterford Township Board last night unanimously introduced a proposed ordinance which would make mandatory sprinkler systems in basements of apartment buildings occupied by eight or more families.

The ordinance, if adopted, will pertain essentially to storage areas, boiler rooms and locker rooms and will affect existing and new multiple dwellings.

Violators, if convicted, would be fined a maximum $100 or sentenced upwards to 90 days in jail or both.

Another section of the proposed ordinance imposes controls on the maintenance, use and operation of fire exits and fire-resistant doors in apartment buildings where these safety devices are required under the State Housing Law.

By a one-vote margin, the board accepted the township vehicle committee's recommendations on the acceptance of bids for the purchase of two station wagons, two one-half ton pickup trucks and a tractor.

The three dissenters—Treasurer James Schell and Trustees William Dean Jr. and Robert Richmond—opposed the recommendations because the low bidder for the station wagon was disqualified for not meeting specifications, thus creating a greater expenditure.

Matthews-Hargreaves Chevrolet of Pontiac had submitted a bid of $4,701 for the cars, but John McAuliffe Ford Inc.

was awarded the contract for $5,055.

However, Matthews-Hargreaves' bid of $1,891 each for the two pickup trucks was accepted as was a $6,087 quotation by Pontiac Tractor and Equipment Co. for the tractor.

The pickup trucks are earmarked for water department use. The tractor and one of the station wagons will go to the cemetery department. The fire department will receive the other station wagon.

Police Issue January Report

The Waterford Township Police Department investigated 76 complaints last month, including 91 fancies, 59 malicious destruction of property cases, 45 break-ins and eight automobile thefts.

Five larcenies were cleared and four stolen cars recovered, according to the report submitted to the Township Board last night.

Total amount of valuation involved last month in break-ins, malicious destruction, larcenies and automobile thefts was $13,111.

Of the 765 complaints, 448 were closed and 13 others classified as unfounded.

$300 Camera Lost by Private Eyes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—With private eyes all over the place, a $300 camera disappeared from a special display of electronic surveillance equipment.

The display was set up Monday for the benefit of the International Security Conference, sponsored by private investigators and security executives.

Despite favorable recommendations by the Oakland County Health Department, Michigan Water Resources Commission and Waterford Township Planning Commission, the board defeated a request to rezone from single-family residential (R-1A) to local business (C-1) property on Walton Boulevard at Clintonville Road for retail shops.

The vote was 5-2 to deny the request. Schell and Trustee Rudy Mansfield voted against Dean's motion.

Board members generally were concerned with possible pollution in nearby Wormer Lake caused by effluent from the proposed development which was to be served by septic systems.

A group life insurance plan for township employees is to become effective March 1. The board, which previously authorized the fringe benefit when the pension plan was approved, last night voted to take necessary measures to launch the program.

FACE VALUE
The policy is with the Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Des Moines, Iowa. The face value of an employee's policy will be 1½ times his annual salary.

A $1,716 supplemental appropriation was approved in order to hire a fire department recruit four months earlier than previously authorized. The new addition, plus two more in July, will boost the department's manpower to 21.

Also approved last night was the request for renewal of a dismantling license for Schram Auto and Truck Parts, 2549 Dixie, and the American Cancer Society's request to conduct a fund-raising campaign in the township.

A request for a $1,000 donation for the Drayton Plains Nature Center was tabled to determine whether the township can legally contribute funds to the facility.

Negotiations between Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters, Local 1335, and the board resumed following the regular meeting.

Mr. Edwards knows...

Last year Sealtest became America's largest user of Hi-Fi and SpectaColor inserts in newspapers. John Edwards tells why: "Our marketing strategy for ice cream and dairy products is based on special promotions of short duration. Their success depends on fast action at retail, and we get it. The impact of full color in contrast to the rest of the paper, plus highly appetizing reproduction of our product do the trick."

Defense Chief Says News Coverage of War Generally OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has told senators that in general the news coverage of the Vietnam war has been factual and fair.

But he protested as "disgraceful distortion" reports on use of tear gas and other riot control weapons carried by one newspaper under the headline "U.S. engages in gas warfare in Vietnam."

"The facts were that we never did use anything other than the riot control weapons that are used by every major police force in the world, and the press knew it," McNamara said in testimony given in late January before the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees and now made public after heavy censoring.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., a newspaper publisher and a former director of the Associated Press, asked whether McNamara would generally say that Associated Press reporting had been factual and comprehensive and reasonably accurate.

'VERY IRRESPONSIBLE'

"Yes, I would say so," McNamara answered.

"I saw an article this morning, however, that I asked Cy Vance (deputy secretary of defense) to look into while I was here, that I thought again was very irresponsible."

"It happened to be a United Press dispatch from Saigon. It said a high U.S. official stated: 'Within a matter of a few weeks the United States will be bombing airfields in North Vietnam, that the matter now lies before the President, and the only action required is his decision,' and 'The highly placed U.S. official stated that with proper air action the war could be over in a month.'"

"Now I doubt very much that a high U.S. official made either of those statements, and in any event, whether he did or didn't, both of them are absolutely wrong. Now that is the kind of incorrect and irresponsible press coverage that occasionally plagues us, but these are occasional matters and not representative of the basic press coverage."

DIDN'T MEASURE

"I'm not going to say whether he had a haircut," said Davenport. "We never measured his hair before, and we didn't measure it today. He had his hair draped behind his ears, and he said it had been cut."

"Frankly, I couldn't see the difference from pictures of him taken earlier."

The length of Eddie's hair became a point of contention recently between school officials and the boy's mother, Mrs. Mable Reeve.

Mrs. Reeve filed suit in Circuit Court, contending that the school had no right to tell her boy how long he could wear his hair.

Besides, she contended, the long tresses were part of the image projected by a musical group called "The Young Five," which Eddie plays a guitar.

Judge Blair Moody Jr., however, ordered Eddie to get a haircut, pending a hearing in the matter.

After checking Eddie, Davenport asked the boy who gave him the alleged haircut.

"He replied it was done by a friend of his mother's," Davenport said, adding that Eddie claimed he didn't know the name of the barber.

'Localize Crime Fight'

LANSING (AP) — The report of the President's Crime Commission "will come to little use unless implemented by action at state and local levels," John B. Martin, chairman of the Michigan Crime Commission, said yesterday.

Martin, a Grand Rapids attorney, said many of the recommendations require state legislation and state and local action.

"Our job is to relate the recommendations to our situation in Michigan and our needs here," he said.

"The provision of additional funds contemplated for the improvement of equipment and personnel in state and local police departments can be most useful," Martin said.

Noting that there is thought being given to creation of a national police force, Martin said attention must be directed to beefing up local and state forces and to integrating the work of local police units.

'A CRYING NEED'

"Also, there is a crying need for more and better trained men in this area and the availability of additional funds can help greatly," Martin said.

You're ahead...with the strongest Ford ever built

On the Olympic ski jump at Lake Placid, Ford passes a rugged test of strength and durability. A regular-production 1967 Ford plunges down a 40-meter slope... soars 53 feet through the air... lands hard... and rides away still quiet, still strong. Strong enough, in fact, to take the same jump again and again. What's the difference between this car and the Ford you buy? Only a skid plate was added for driver protection. And you don't need that... unless you're planning to take some ski jumps of your own.

Ford demonstrates its performance and durability in impartial tests. Ford Fairlane, Mustang all won their class at Union/Pure Oil's '67 Performance Trials. These trials test acceleration, braking and economy. Fairlane went on to beat all comers in this year's Riverside 500.

Miami Beach Said Offering $1 Million for GOP Confab

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Miami Beach and San Francisco bid for the 1968 Republican National Convention today amid reports the Florida resort city will offer $1 million to become host.

San Francisco paid $650,000 to host the 1964 Republican convention.

The reported $1 million offer by Miami Beach failed to dim enthusiasm of representatives from Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles and Philadelphia, who met Monday with the GOP site committee.

The Republicans have established minimum standards for any city expecting to hold the convention. Among them are adequate meeting facilities, a minimum $650,000 to defray expense and the availability of 10,000 rooms within a short distance of the convention hall.

OVER MINIMUM
Only Philadelphia, among those making presentations Monday, offered more than the monetary minimum when it bid $750,000.

The four cities which appeared Monday all said they expected the city with the best facilities to get the convention. Each claimed it has the best facilities.

"The Astrodome is worth more to the Republicans than a $1 million money bid," said Judge Roy Hofheinz, president of Houston Sports Inc., which leases the city-county owned Astrodome.

Republicans would use the International Amphitheater, site of the 1960 GOP convention, if Chicago is chosen. Other delegations pushed the Los Angeles Sports Arena and the Philadelphia Convention Hall.

All the cities but Los Angeles said they would definitely seek the 1968 Democratic convention.

Central Students Vie in Craft Competition

By CHRIS BLAKENEY
Industrial education students at Pontiac Central are again preparing for the regional competitions sponsored by the Michigan Education Awards Program and the Detroit News.

A student may submit only one project from each classification but may enter as many classifications as he wishes.

The Oakland County regionals will be held on March 11. Each section will be judged by two representatives from industry and one from Education.

These projects which place first or second go on to state competition.

This year's state competition April 6, 7, and 8 will be held at Cobo Hall where the projects can be adequately displayed.

Pontiac Central has five records in these competitions. Of the 50 projects entered in the regionals last year, 48 placed.

This year about 60 projects will be submitted.

Don't forget to watch the A Cappella Choir: on television Sunday. The program will be at 6 p.m. on Channel 7 in color.

The Pontiac Youth Forum, a discussion group composed of one member from each of the five high schools of Pontiac, includes Central students Rob Gordon and Jo Lynn Yansen.

The group talks over teen problems every Monday night on WPON radio from 6:30 to 7 p.m.

Rob represents Central now and Jo Lynn will take over in mid-March for the remaining 10 of the 20 sessions.

Topics have included Creed for Youth, Vietnam, College Education for All Teen-Agers, Drinking Among Teen-Agers, and Teen Fads.

The "Superman" cast begins previews of the show this Thursday.

The first preview will be for Pontiac Northern's Choir.

Milford Club Plans Contest

By PAULA MIREAU
The Photography Club at Milford High School is sponsoring a photography contest.

Lynn Marble, president; Steve Powell, vice president; John Austin, treasurer and Paula Probst, secretary, organized the contest with the aid of H. D. Arman, faculty sponsor.

Entries may be made in one of two classes: novice or professional.

Each class is then subdivided according to category landscape, still life, creative subjects, special techniques, animals, people or character studies.

The entries may be made by anyone in the Huron Valley School area.

The school will enter 60 projects in the competition. First and second place winners will go on to be judged in the state race at Cobo Hall in April.

Rochester

By KARIN HEADLEE
Rochester High School's Girls' Athletic Association will play a make-up game with Waterford Township today at Waterford.

Friday, the team will play West Bloomfield at their school. The basketball game will begin at 3 p.m.

Students are now registering in Mrs. A. A. Collin's office for the National Merit Scholarship Test which will be administered on Saturday.

Rochester High School students; Stuart Smith, John Tinnon, and Wayne Walli were the semifinalists in the 1966-67 Merit Scholarship competition.

Senior play cast members are rehearsing for the production of "The Mad Woman of Chaillot."

Students recently turned in their 1967-68 schedule papers. Among the new classes offered are business law-consumer economics, trade and industry co-op, literature, Russian II, and boy's glee club.

A new system has been designed where all classes are either worth one or no credits. There will be no more half-year credit courses.

Study hall may be taken only by students who will be enrolled in English IV or English IV B and are taking four academic classes.

Marion

By PATRICIA POLMEAR
Students of Marion High School with high scholarship and qualities of character, leadership, and service will be honored Sunday at the Sixth Annual Induction Ceremony of the National Honor Society (NHS). Sister Marie Chantal, advisor, announced.

The ceremony, to which parents and friends of inductees are invited, will include a guest speaker, recitation of the NHS pledge, and the candlelighting ceremony arranged by Nancy Armstrong, chairman.

Admission to the society requires all students maintain an average of "B+" or higher, both on their present and cumulative record.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who qualify scholastically are admitted as probationary members if they receive faculty approval. Students are judged on character, leadership, and service.

Four girls will be selected to light candles representing these four qualities. A speech will also be given by each stating her opinion of the possible means of fulfilling these goals.

Probationers become active members after one year if they maintain necessary honor points.

Seniors with the active rating win charter membership for high scholarship for all five years.

This year 31 probationary members and 10 seniors will become charter members. These seniors will have their names permanently inscribed on the National Register of the Honor Society in Washington, D.C.

NHS seals will be added to their diplomas, and they will wear the official stole on their graduation gowns.

Each member must make an outstanding effort to develop her own character, promote worthy leadership, and render service wherever she sees a need.

Europe is the destination this summer of 74 Marian High School students, under the organization of the Latin and French classes.

Sixty girls are traveling on the Latin trip July 12-Aug. 2.

Kingswood

By CATHY SHINNICK
A busy week is ahead for artistic and poetry-minded Kingswood girls.

Wednesday and Thursday 80 students from Cranbrook and Kingswood will be given the opportunity to meet two leading modern poets at the Poetry Seminar given away.

A "First" at Kingswood, students, who have been reading extensively the works of contemporary poets, will be encouraged to ask questions concerning techniques, motives and standards, with the idea of getting a clearer picture of poetry 1967.

As seminar students catch their breaths from their discussions with speakers, Donald Hall and Radcliffe Squires, they will join the rest of the school in guiding their fathers down Kingswood's corridors. Friday is Kingswood's annual "Father's Visiting Day."

Friday also will be the opening of the Kingswood, Cranbrook, Brookside student art show in the Cranbrook Art Museum.

A. A. Kline, of the ceramics department, will have pottery and sculpture by students on display, while A. A. Nowacki's art pupils will be represented by woodcuts and drawings.

A. A. Kidd's weaving department will prove its grasp of color and design with rugs, place mats, bedspreads, pillows, and tapestries.

St. Lawrence

By JAMES PAKLEDINAZ
A relatively slow week at St. Lawrence High School will be spiced by an assembly on Tuesday.

The assembly will consist of two different subjects for the students.

The girls' speaker will be Mrs. A. A. Shand, who will discuss the policy of Patricia Stevens as followed in her commercial finishing school.

A. Ard, who will speak about the Dale Carnegie School.

In this latter part of the school year when a student's eyes turn toward his future, whether he be graduating from high school or merely going up another grade, these talks can be extremely helpful.

Quite a few of the graduating seniors are still a bit foggy on their careers and these assemblies can do much in clearing away some of that obscuring mist.

Yesterday there was a Student Council meeting.

There will be a PTA meeting at the school tonight.

Holly

By JUDY DIEHL
Varsity Club initiatives at Holly Senior High School have been taking place since Wednesday, during after-school hours.

They will continue through tomorrow.

The 14 initiates are "slaves" to their superior members who have been issuing the orders during these hectic days for the new members.

To become a Varsity Club member one must be active in a sport and have received a letter in the sport.

In recognition of the mothers of the basketball players and cheerleaders of HHS, the last game of the year is dedicated in their honor.

The cheerleaders put on a pom-pom routine. O'Rages are given to the mothers of the players and cheerleaders.

Wednesday, the student body was dismissed at 11 a.m. following an assembly on the theme of "International Understanding."

An In-service workshop was held for the teachers and those parents interested in education. The theme for the workshop was "Teaching International Understanding in the Public Schools."

personal participation at Mass among the members of their group.

At last Friday's Mass for the Middle School, they planned the Offertory Procession.

Denise King is discussing and updating scripture to make it more applicable to the girls in her group.

Maureen Judge has asked her group to each contribute a quarter to buy Easter dinner for an underprivileged family at the end of Lent.

Members of Jane Johnston's and Mary Helen Lorenz's groups have been collecting magazine pictures that for each represent some aspect of the Passion.

These pictures will later be used in collages that symbolize the meaning of Lent.

Other moderators are Anne Conklin, Barbara Healy, Suzanne Helganz, Mary Ellen Quinn and Susan Heck.

Advantages of such a program are felt by both the older and younger girls.

The Middle School girls are able to discuss points of their lives as Catholics in today's world with girls who are older and more experienced than they, but at the same time are closer to their level of experience than the faculty members.

The seniors are getting a good idea of what is involved in organizing and supervising a group of younger children for discussion.

A greater unity and understanding between the two schools has developed as a result of the program.

8 P.M. in School Gym

Kettering's Winter Concert Saturday

By JUDY FRANCIS
Waterford Kettering High School a capella choir will present its annual winter concert Saturday at 8 p.m. in the school gym.

Special numbers will be sung by the Girls' Novette and Septet groups with The Cleemans adding guitar and bass drums to its numbers.

Solos will be sung by Peggy Underwood and Brenda Newton, with regular accompanist Gail Strader, playing a piano solo.

Closing the concert will be the a capella choir with selections from "The King and I."

The entire vocal music department at WKH is selling Kathryn Beich candy, during its annual sale.

Types of candy which may be purchased are Katydids, Golden Crumples and Chocolate Bars.

All proceeds are used for vocal music projects.

Kettering will send 18 band students to compete with other high schools in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association State Festival March 18.

These students earned a "one" or "superior" rating at the recent MSBOA district festival.

WK students were rated superior for the following performances: Tom Reinhardt, cornet solo; Sandy Inglehart, clarinet solo; Ken Fourn, clarinet solo; Rick Hewitt, snare drum solo; Ed Melberg, trombone solo.

Also receiving a one rating were the Brass Sixtet consisting of Tom Reinhardt, cornet; David Woodward, trumpet; Dale Plympton, French horn; Bob Gohl, baritone; Ed Melberg, trombone; and Rod Reinhardt, tuba.

The traveling Stagemasters returned from the excursion to New York exhausted but happy.

While there, the WKH Stagemasters viewed the Broadway hit, "Funny Girl," starring Mimi Hines and Johnny Desmond.

They also saw the off Broadway production "The Fantasticks," and shows at a television studio and the Radio City Music Hall.

Some of their tours included set houses, costume houses and the Lincoln Center, where they watched rehearsals and a performance.

Kettering's senior class has chosen "Underwater Fantasy" as the theme for this year's prom.

However, its budget has dwindled so seniors and others interested are asked to loan decorations needed for the event. A list of items needed is posted in all senior home rooms.

Rescheduling of two productions at Kettering has taken place. The teachers play has been changed to April 26 through 29, the talent assembly to be presented April 10.

Juniors interested in taking the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test Saturday should register in the counseling area before the day of the test.

The cost is $1 and juniors taking the test should be at the school by 8:30 a.m. More information on the test can be obtained through counselors and English teachers.

Cranbrook Slates Poets in Lectures

By RICHARD BOSLEY
Cranbrook School is scheduling its second English seminar tomorrow and Thursday.

This year, it is being called the Poetry Colloquium, since that will be the specific topic.

The colloquium will involve selected students in the 11th and 12th grades from Cranbrook and Kingswood Schools.

The speakers at this year's Colloquium will be Professors Stephen Dunning, Donald Hall, and Radcliffe Squires, all from the University of Michigan.

Professor Hall is the poet in Residence at the University. Both he and Professor Squires are well known for their works which are classified as modern, though not "beat," for both poets employ many poetical controls found in classical verse.

Last year's seminar focused on the theater.

The students saw Durrenmat's "The Physicists" and Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth," and discussed drama with professors from Wayne State and Oakland Universities.

Cranbrook English students were also involved in the recent showing of Ingmar Bergman's film "Wild Strawberries" shown at the Birmingham Theater for the benefit of selected English students from all local high schools.

Entertainment will include bard David Bock reading poetry and playing records for the crowd. "Casual" dress is an added feature of the evening.

REGIONAL ENTRY
After being successful in the Class A District Meet for area debaters, the same team of Mary Ann Wendt, Robert Van Camp, Donald Campbell, and Dale Sirmann recently participated in the regional meets.

The rules are that a team stays in the running as long as a record of less than two losses is maintained.

Romeo defeated Cass Tech in the first round but lost to Dearborn and Northville in the second and third.

They also dress in identical blue Wovette sweaters, imprinted with the Clarkson High School crest.

Wovette Call Being Heard

By LINDA HEATH
The recently organized Wovettes, the block club of Clarkson High School is sponsored by faculty members Douglas Pierson and Russell Cockerill.

The Wovettes, along with the cheerleaders, are responsible for Clarkson's team-backing spirit.

Meeting each week with the heads of the club, Brenda Woodworth and Margie Bullard, members work out spirit-rousing cheers for the basketball games.

They also dress in identical blue Wovette sweaters, imprinted with the Clarkson High School crest.

Romeo Debaters' Dance Has 'Middle Earth' Theme

By DARLENE REDD
March 3 at 8 p.m. the debate team of Romeo High School will present its annual Green Onion dance.

The team again will center the theme on the world of today's beatnik. This year the main feature is an imaginary trip to "Middle Earth."

Organizers of the event are this year's captains, Donald Campbell and Robert Van Camp.

Under the direction of Richard Hill of the faculty, the debaters take charge of decorating the gymnasium, advertising the dance, furnishing entertainment, and getting sponsors for the dance.
