OAKLAND UNIVERSITY MOTTO

The motto of Oakland University, "Seguir Virtute E. Canoskenza," which is incorporated in its seal, has a distinguished origin, Canto XXVI, line 120, of Dante's Inferno.

These are the final words of Ulysses' great speech to his men urging them to sail on and on in pursuit of knowledge and experience of the world — even beyond the pillars of Hercules, traditionally the frontier and limit of legitimate exploration.

This is the three-line stanza:

Considerate la vostra semenza

Fatti non foste a viver come bruti

Ma per seguir virtute e canoskenza

Consider your birth

You were not made to live like brutes

But to follow courage and knowledge

Message from the President

Congratulations to the Oakland University graduating class of 2015. Today we honor you. Your hard work and dedication has helped you reach this milestone and for that you should truly be proud.

Your experiences at Oakland have prepared you for contributing to a diverse, rapidly changing and increasingly global world. You will find it is a world of opportunities as well - and the education you received at OU will help you make the most of the opportunities presented to you.

As you embark on your new journey, remember to look back at your time at Oakland and the people you've met; the students, faculty and staff that have shaped you into the person you are today. And, know that you also have made a difference in the lives of others and they, too, will remember you.

Again, congratulations on this significant achievement. Please accept my sincerest wishes for your continued success.

George W. Hynd, President

Message from the Provost

On behalf of the University community, I'd like to congratulate each of you on joining the Oakland University Class of 2015. This is indeed an important achievement, of which you can be justifiably proud.

As you put your education into practice, set goals for yourself and make decisions that will help you reach those goals. Stick to your principles. Treat others with fairness and respect, and make a commitment to continue your education and personal growth.

Drawing upon what you have learned at Oakland, you have the ability to make a positive influence in the world. As you do so, you'll benefit professionally and personally.

Please accept my warmest regards and best wishes.

About Oakland University

Oakland University was created in 1957, when the late Alfred and Matilda Wilson donated $2 million and their 1,500-acre estate to Michigan State University to begin a new college in Oakland County.

Named Michigan State University-Oakland, the new campus enrolled its first 570 students in 1959. In 1963, its name changed to Oakland University as the first class graduated with 125 students receiving diplomas. In 1970, the Michigan Legislature recognized the maturity and stature of the University by granting it autonomy, and the governor appointed Oakland University's first Board of Trustees.

From its beginnings, the University has emphasized academic quality, concentrating on providing a dynamic, student-focused learning environment with integration of liberal and professional studies by a faculty of dedicated scholar-teachers. The natural beauty of the campus, much of it still wooded and undeveloped, is enhanced by comprehensive recreational facilities and modern buildings that house the University's many academic and public service programs as well as more than 2,600 residential students.

Dedicated to preparing graduates to make meaningful and substantial contributions to the workplace, society and academia, the University is organized into eight academic units: the College of Arts and Sciences; the schools of Business Administration, Education and Human Services, Engineering and Computer Science, Health Sciences, Medicine, and Nursing; and The Honors College.

Oakland has 135 bachelor degree programs and 137 graduate degree and certificate programs. Doctorates are offered in education with concentrations in educational leadership, counseling and early childhood education; biomedical sciences with specializations in medical physics, health and environmental chemistry, and biological communication; reading education; systems and mechanical engineering; physical therapy; applied mathematical sciences; nursing practice; music education; computer science and informatics; psychology, medicine, and electrical and computer engineering.

The University is continuously adapting to meet the changing needs of students and the marketplace. New programs delivered online and on campus include master's degree programs in nursing, psychology, training and development, public health, software engineering, an Executive MBA program in health care management, and innovative Honors College courses. Business and industry partnerships provide unprecedented opportunities for advanced, hands-on learning.

Now, more than 20,500 students attend classes at Oakland University each year, and the number of OU alumni has increased to more than 100,000.

Joseph “Joey” Travolta

Joseph “Joey” Travolta is an award-winning film-maker who combines his passion for film and dedication to individuals with special needs through his company, Inclusion Films. His company’s mission is to provide practical experience for individuals with developmental disabilities to develop employable skills covering both technical and life skills with an emphasis in the video/film industry. After completing the workshop, students are encouraged to apply for positions with Team Diversity Media, a production company linked to Inclusion Films. Joey also has provided short film camps for children with developmental disabilities since 2005. While this initiative began in Los Angeles, the program is offered at multiple sites around the country including here at Oakland University. Over the last 9 years, over 450 campers have attended the OUCARES camp and many have attended all 9 years. Campers participating in the program develop self-esteem, confidence and creativity through acting, improvisation and digital filmmaking in a non-competitive environment.

Inspired by and working with Joey and Inclusion Films, the School of Education and Human Services began exploring the potential for employable skills programming. With funding from the State of Michigan Department of Community Mental Health, OUCARES started the first practical film workshop outside the state of California for autistic adults. The Practical Film Workshop for Adults with Autism Spectrum Disorder is a 20-week program that will empower adults with ASD to develop the skills necessary for employment in the film/media entertainment industry. Using film and digital technology, students learn the art of filmmaking by working on a professional short film in both the studio and on-location environments.

Born into a show business family, Joey Travolta began his career as a performer in 1978 as a recording artist with Casablanca Records, appearing on popular variety shows such as American Band Stand and the Donny & Marie Show. Joey made his acting debut starring in feature films such as Sunnyside (1979), Beverly Hills Cop III (1994), and Oscar (1991), in addition to theatre performances in West Side Story, Bye Bye Birdie, and Guys and Dolls. As an actor, Joey regularly appeared in television shows including Simon & Simon, Dream On, and Splash II.

Before he made it on the big screen, Joey also worked as a special education teacher in New Jersey which sparked his passion for working with individuals with special needs. Joey’s unique teaching style and expertise enables those with special needs to learn about film production and their own creativity.

Joey’s record of accomplishment in offering film camps, film training programs for adults with autism, and employment opportunities for autistic adults is a contribution to society and an outstanding achievement worthy of this recognition.

Ann V. Nicholson

Trustee Emerita Ann V. Nicholson has made a significant contribution to Oakland University and the lives of its students over the past two decades. She served as a member of the Oakland University Board of Trustees from September 1994 to August 2010. Trustee Emerita Nicholson served as vice chair and chair of the Board of Trustees, where her leadership and support resulted in major capital improvements to the University and aided in keeping tuition and fee increases as low as possible during a time of dramatic economic change, while maintaining fiscal commitment to the integrity of Oakland University's core educational experience.

Trustee Emerita Nicholson also served the Board as a member and chair of the Finance and Personnel Advisory Committee and the Investment Advisory Committee, as a member of the University Affairs Advisory Committee, as a member of the Finance, Audit and Investment Advisory Committee, as a Board Liaison to the Student Apartments Design-Build Committee, as a member of the President's Campaign Council, and as a co-chair of Oakland University's first capital campaign "Innovation and Opportunity – the Campaign for Oakland University."

As former Board of Trustees Chair Henry Baskin said of Nicholson, "Her primary focus was the best interest of the students." As a Board member and as a donor in partnership with her husband James, Trustee Emerita Nicholson has been a strong supporter of Oakland University's programs and initiatives. The Nicholsons are members of the Meadow Brook Society which recognizes donors who have given $500,000 to $1 million to the University. Their gifts have benefited students through support of programs in the School of Nursing, School of Business Administration, Kresge Library, and Department of Music, Theatre and Dance. They have also generously funded programs in Women Studies and Mathematics, as well as Athletics, Meadow Brook Hall, Oakland University Alumni Association, and Meadow Brook Theatre. They provided funding for events such as Keeper of the Dream and Student Life Lecture Series. Their support of the Honors College also included a commissioned sculpture, Echo Cognito by Joseph Wesner, which continues to enhance the Oakland campus.

Ann Nicholson's dedication to OU students is evidenced in the scholarships that she has been instrumental in creating. Among her donations is a $500,000 commitment to establish an endowed scholarship for future Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine students. Called the Ann V. Nicholson Scholarship, the gift goes hand in hand with Nicholson's desire to increase the number of physicians in the region. Her gifts have also created scholarships in the College of Arts and Sciences, Eye Research Institute, and the performing arts. Trustee Emerita Nicholson has a history on the Board of Trustees working to keep tuition affordable and sharing her expertise to address University business affairs. Her dedicated work with Mary Beth Snyder on the campus student apartments led to them being named the Ann V. Nicholson Student Apartments.

Mary Fisher

Mary Fisher – author, artist, advocate, social entrepreneur – is a global leader in the arena of social change through positive thought and action. Her early experience with communication in public and commercial broadcast media, and her experience with global organizations – she was the White House’s first female “advance man” in the history of the American presidency – provided knowledge she still uses to urge transformation in healthcare, to revise the perception and treatment of AIDS, to enable women’s empowerment through right livelihood and to inspire individuals longing for meaningful, joyful lives.

A true renaissance woman, Mary is best known for her stunning keynote address speaking truth to power at the 1992 Republican National Convention – a speech since ranked by Oxford University as one of “the best 100 American speeches of the 20th Century.” Diagnosed with HIV in 1991 and with breast cancer in 2012, she shares her experience, strength and hope with boundless energy. As an artist famous for work in sculpture, handmade papers, jewelry and fiber arts, she trains women worldwide to earn a dignified living using her original techniques and materials. Major initiatives in the U.S., Africa and elsewhere have been built on her creative and organizational groundwork. The recipient of three honorary doctorates and countless tributes, Mary is an outspoken advocate for vulnerable people around the world. She’s spoken to audiences across Europe, Asia, the Caribbean, Africa and the U.S., authored six books including her current best-selling memoir, MESSENGER, and is currently launching the latest expression of her creative philosophy, The 100 Good Deeds Bracelet.

MACE AND PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

In medieval times, a mace was used in warfare. The mace is one of the oldest traditions in academe dating back to the early 1400's when it transitioned from warfare to ceremonial use. Considered a symbol of the university itself, the scepter mace is carried by the university marshal during commencement, convocation and other ceremonial events to signify the arrival of the faculty processional. Oakland's mace, created in 1994, was crafted by jeweler and OU alumnus, Paul Haig and designer Robert Dobbie of P.R. Haig Jewelers in Rochester.

The 30-inch long, approximately 8-pound mace has a white oak handle trimmed with sterling silver ribbon. A black obsidian disk on top is ringed with silver and is inscribed with the university motto. Obsidian is a natural black glass formed by the earth. On each side of the obsidian disk, there is a 14k yellow gold sail. On the base of the handle, a gold oak tree was modeled after a live tree on campus. The clean, straightforward design of the mace reflects the fact that Oakland University is a contemporary institution.

The President's Medallion, also created in 1994 by the same jeweler, is six inches in diameter and reveals the university sail, hangs on a silver chain and is worn by the president at ceremonial events. It is a permanent part of the university's president's academic regalia.

Mission

Oakland University has a three-fold mission. It offers instructional programs of high quality that lead to degrees at the baccalaureate, master's and doctoral levels as well as programs in continuing education; it advances knowledge and promotes the arts through research, scholarship and creative activity; and it renders significant public service. In all its activities, the university strives to exemplify educational leadership in a diverse and inclusive environment.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

An edifying note contributed by a certain anonymous doctor of philosophy.

On at least two solemn occasions during the academic calendar — spring and fall commencement — the faculty of the University publicly displays its full academic regalia and participates in the liturgy of processional and recessional, that curious coming and going that symbolizes the ceremony of commencement. The purposes of commencement are well known, but the reasons for the peculiar garb of the celebrants and their odd order of march are often as obscure to the audience as they are, in fact, to the faculty itself. This note may serve to explain academic dress and the professional pecking order it costumes.

Contemporary academics are descendants of clerical schoolmen in the universities of medieval Europe. Like the clergy, members of the bench and bar, and other learned professions, medieval scholars were clothed in heavy robes to stay warm in unheated stone buildings. Like all members of a hierarchical society, the medieval faculties rejoiced in visible insignia of rank. These outward signs of accomplishment and authority were tailored into robes. Although the need for such voluminous garments to keep the scholar from freezing is long past, the use of them as emblems of dignity remains. You will observe that all caps and gowns worn by our faculty are black, with certain disturbing exceptions. Black was the color adopted by mutual agreement among American universities at the end of the 19th century. In Europe, each University has its own distinctive gown, varying in color and cut from all others. A European academic assemblage is a far gaudier occasion than its counterpart in America. Recently, certain universities in this country rashly broke the agreement and authorized robes in their own colors: for example, the crimson of Harvard and green of Dartmouth may be seen in our ranks. This unsuitable spontaneity has been frowned on by sister institutions, yet the mavericks not only persist in their madness, but gain adherents to their ranks with each passing year.

There are three basic academic degrees: the baccalaureate or bachelor's degree, the master's degree, and the doctorate. A special style of robe is prescribed for each. The bachelor's gown is sparsely cut, neat, but a bit skimpy and unadorned, as befits apprentices. The master's gown is still simple, but fuller, sports a sleeve of extraordinary design impossible to describe, and has a hood draped from the shoulders down the back. Once used to keep the frost from the tonsured heads of medieval clerks, the hood is solely a badge of a degree of scholarly achievement. The master's hood is small and narrow, but displays the colors of the institution that awarded the degree. If you knew the colors of American universities, you could easily identify whence came our masters. The doctoral robe is the most handsome of academic raiment. Generous of cut, of fine aristocratic stuff, it is faced with velvet chevrons on the ample sleeves. You will note that most of the velvet facings and chevrons are black, but that some are of other colors. According to personal taste, the doctor may display the color of his or her doctoral degree on the sleeves and facings: light blue for education, pink for music, apricot for nursing, orange for engineering, and many more. The royal blue of the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) is the most commonly seen in liberal arts institutions such as Oakland. The doctor's hood is the most elegant of all academic appurtenances. Large and graceful, it is lined in satin with the colors of the University that awarded the degree and is bordered with the color of the degree itself. Most academic costumes include the square cap called a mortarboard; the doctor's tassel may be either black or gold — tassels of all other degrees are black and stringy.

To instructed eyes, the order of march in the processional and recessional reveals the standing of individuals in the institution's formal hierarchy. In the processional, the order of entrance into the hall is, quite fittingly, from most junior to most senior. The baccalaureate candidates enter first, followed successively by the masters and doctoral candidates with the whole separated from the faculty by a decent interval. In the faculty order, the instructors precede the assistant professors that in turn are followed by the associate professors. The august full professors bring up the rear. After a respectful distance come the deans who in turn are separated by a significant space from the awful majesty of the platform party, the vice president, the president, and the members of the board of trustees. All remain standing until the board is seated. After the ceremony, the order of recessional is the reverse of the processional. The greatest dignitaries stream out first, with the artfully organized ranks of priority wallowing in their wake.

It is hoped that these notes may make more intelligible the spectacle you are witnessing today. A discerning intelligence may detect in it many clues to an understanding of the academic profession as it confronts the ambiguities of the future with ancient wisdom and dignified confidence.

UNIVERSITY, DEPARTMENTAL, SCHOOL AND CONCILIAR HONORS

At each commencement Oakland University extends special recognition to those students who have attained outstanding levels of academic achievement.

The University Senate, acting on the advice of its Committee on Academic Standing and Honors, authorizes University Honors at three levels for those students who have completed 62 credits or more at Oakland, with cumulative averages as follows:

Summa Cum Laude 3.90 - 4.00

Magna Cum Laude 3.75 - 3.89

Cum Laude 3.60 - 3.74

Students who have earned University Honors wear a gold cord over their academic regalia.

Each student who has a record of superior achievement in a major field of study is awarded departmental honors and is identified by a red cord worn over academic regalia.

Conciliar Honors are awarded by the Faculty Council for Bachelor of Integrative Studies to outstanding graduates of the Bachelor of Integrative Studies program, who are identified by a red cord worn over academic regalia.

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY™

Alumni Association

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations on your graduation! Thank you for all that you have done during your time here as students – you are living, breathing examples of the transformation and opportunity made possible by an Oakland University education. I am especially proud to congratulate our Legacy graduates, whose families – like mine – have made OU a family tradition.

The University has enjoyed remarkable growth during your time at OU. I encourage you to stay in touch and remain engaged in the life of the University through the alumni association.

Together, we make a difference by joining fellow alumni at events that support scholarships and programs, volunteering our time, making a gift, advocating for OU, mentoring OU students, and sharing our OU pride. One of the most important things we can continue is to support scholarships and provide opportunities that help ensure the success of the next generation of OU graduates.

As a graduate of OU, you automatically qualify to receive the benefits available through the association without membership fees. On behalf of the Oakland University Alumni Association Board of Directors, I hope that this will encourage you to continue to participate in the life of the University in a way that is meaningful for you.

Good luck in all you do as you begin this next chapter in your life.

Best Regards,

Anthony Thornton, CAS '76

Chair, OUAA Board of Directors

This program contains an unofficial list of candidates for degrees and honors for 2015. The lists are as accurate as possible; however, because of printing deadlines, names of some degree recipients may not appear, while names of degree candidates may appear even though they have not completed their degree requirements.

The University's official registry for conferral of degrees is the Academic Records Office, 102 O'Dowd Hall, 2200 North Squirrel Road, Rochester, Michigan 48309-4401.
