Influence of Dale Evans,
His Wife, Gives Roy Rogers
Courage to Talk of Faith

By ROY ROGERS
Film and Radio Star

What's wrong with a guy who isn't scared when he nearly breaks his neck filming Western pictures, but gets the shakes when he has to make a simple speech? For years I asked myself this question.

I was shy from my boyhood days when we lived on the Ohio River in a three-room houseboat built by my father. Our family—Mother, Dad, and three sisters—later settled on a farm outside Portsmouth, Ohio. Dad worked in a shoe factory, while my sisters and I helped Mother run the farm.

By the time I was 10 I could call a square dance and play the guitar. But to get up and talk before a class, or just a few people, would make me take off across the cornfields.

I earned a dollar a week by ploughing corn on neighborhood farms, later quit school and went to work in the shoe factory to help out the family finances. When the family went to visit my sister in California, I fell in love with the far West.

I drove a gravel truck in Lawndale, California for a while, then during the depression took any kind of job. During my spare time I practiced on my guitar, hoping that some day I could make a living as a musician and a singer.

Then, as often happens to a guy who wanders into Hollywood, I had a lucky break, got a spot in a picture and my film career started. When my wife died during the birth of our third child, I was faced with a demanding career and the responsibilities of raising three fine children.

The story I want to tell begins several years later. Dale Evans, a film star in her own right, and I had been making pictures together for many years. With the unanimous approval of my children, we were married on Dec. 31, 1948.

We hadn't been married but a few days when she started one morning with "It's a beautiful day to go to church."

Now I wasn't a stranger to churches. I just hadn't time to get acquainted with very many because of other things I preferred doing. "Honey, I've gotta go see Joe Miller this morning," I said quickly. "Why don't you go ahead without me?"

4th Circuit Judgeship Bill
Considered Dead for Year

The Michigan House of Representatives Thursday sent a bill to let Oakland County elect a fourth circuit judge back to committee for more study.

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said the action "kills the bill for this year at least."

And he blamed opposition from Oakland County's own representatives for its death.

The measure was sent to the Ways and Means Committee, which would have to find money for the state's share of a fourth judge's salary.

Rep. Harry Phillips (R-Port Huron), committee member and house majority floor leader, moved for referral, promising that the state court administrator, Meredith Doyle, will survey the need for a fourth judge here.

Broomfield said if Doyle finds another judge is needed "we'll reintroduce the bill in January and it should go right through."

Broomfield introduced this year's bill, which would have let voters choose a fourth judge this November to take office Jan. 1. The County Board of Supervisors approved it.

Democrat Reps. Leann Harrison of Pontiac and Walter T. McMahon, of Hazel Park, opposed the bill. They wanted the governor to be given the right to appoint a judge.

Republican Fred G. Beardsley, of Oxford, also opposed it, saying the county has no place to put another judge.

Broomfield fought the move to return the bill to committee Thursday, pointing out that Oakland County's three judges handle five times as many cases each as Wayne County's; that 4,000 cases are waiting for trial now, and that the average case has to wait about 10 months to be heard.

Looks for Better Way to Handle Cases; Blasts
Back at McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says any "idea the Army is coddling Communists is just d—tommyrot" but that he is looking for better ways to handle security risk cases in the future.

Wilson was questioned yesterday at a news conference about the case of Maj. Irving Peress, Army dentist who invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about possible subversive connections.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), investigating the case, has sharply criticized the Army.

Wilson's comment stirred McCarthy, who only a few minutes before had vowed he was "all through" issuing statements, to retort that "no one has ever claimed that the Army is coddling Communists."

But, McCarthy insisted, testimony had established that "certain individuals in the Army have been protecting, promoting, covering up and honorably discharging known Communists." The senator said he was sure the secretary "will not disagree with that."

Because McCarthy's was the final statement of the day, there was no immediate indication whether Wilson did or did not agree.

But in his news conference, devoted this week to the sole subject of communism, he did say:

1. Using a "task force" from his office, he is setting out to determine the "who and why" element in the Army's sudden issuance of an honorable discharge for Peress months after Peress was said to have invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about communism. Peress was indicted and commissioned under the doctors' draft law.

"I doubt he should ever have been made an officer," was Wilson's reply to a question whether he thought Peress should have been given an honorable discharge.

2. Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens was "technically responsible, because he's the boss," (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

RAF Offers Cash Bonus for Long Service Terms

LONDON (AP)—The British government is going to pay Royal Air Force pilot officers a bonus of $8,400 for completing 12 years of service. For completing eight years, they will be paid $4,200.

The bonus has a double purpose: to induce more men to go into the air force and to keep trained men in.

Ground Godfrey 6 Months for Buzzing Control Tower

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner ruled today that Arthur Godfrey deliberately buzzed the Teterboro, N. J., airport control tower last Jan. 7, and recommended that the radio and television star's private pilot's certificate be suspended for the maximum possible period—six months.

Unless there is an appeal by March 15 the report marked as an "initial decision," becomes the final ruling of the CAB itself, the examiner said.

Regional Hearing Examiner Albert H. Ruppert also found that Godfrey had been flying without a proper medical certificate, in violation of the regulations, since expiration of his medical certificate in July, 1951.

Godfrey was accused of careless flying in connection with the takeoff of his DC3 twin-engine airplane from Teterboro Jan. 7.

Ruppert said Godfrey flew the plane in a "careless and reckless manner so as to endanger the lives and property of others."

The suspension would become effective March 16.

College Exposes
Fake Professor of Physics Class

DURHAM, N. H. (UP)—A fake professor has been teaching advanced physics at the University of New Hampshire for more than a year, college officials disclosed today.

They identified the self-styled professor as Marvin Hewitt, 31, of Philadelphia, who had only a high school education.

Hewitt was described as a "natural born genius" who educated himself so well that he was able to teach two advanced technical courses without detection.

Edward D. Eddy Jr., assistant to President Robert F. Chandler, said Hewitt's teaching was "above criticism."

"Students who were instructed by him will be given full credit for their work and grades," Eddy said. "Hewitt flunked only one student."

Officials said Hewitt adopted the name of Dr. Kenneth P. Yates and was exposed after a student noted discrepancies while making a routine check of "Dr. Yates'" background.

4 Puerto Ricans Face
Court Today on Counts of Shooting Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The condition of Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), most seriously wounded in Monday's wild shooting spree in Congress, today was reported unchanged—serious but not critical.

Meanwhile, four Puerto Rican Nationalists accused of the shooting face a court today.

Each has an opportunity to answer to a 10-count indictment, but their formal arraignment may be postponed if they have not arranged for attorneys to represent them.

Amid indications of official concern yesterday that President Eisenhower and others may have been marked for terrorists' attacks, Atty. Gen. Brownell disclosed the Justice Department is studying possible ways to proceed against members of the small, fanatical Puerto Rican Nationalist Party.

Washington police made two recommendations to Congress yesterday:

1. That the special Capitol police force, members of which are now appointed by legislators as part of their patronage, be replaced by a professional body.

2. That a bulletproof glass barrier be installed around the public galleries.

The four Puerto Ricans are charged with assault with intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon on the five representatives wounded.

The defendants are Lolita Lebron, 34; Rafael Concel Miranda, 25; Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29; and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28, all of New York City.

NEW YORK (AP)—Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter of New York and challenger Paddy DeMarco of Brooklyn both scaled 135 pounds, the exact lightweight limit, for the 15-round title bout tonight at Madison Square Garden. They weighed in before New York state athletic commissioners shortly after noon at the Garden.

Carriers Use Own Cars in Emergency

Postal Employees Praised for Mail Truck Fire Work

Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean Sr. praised 15 postal employees today for removing 14 mail trucks from the Jack Habel Chevrolet Co. building during Wednesday's fire.

The 15 men range from the assistant superintendent of mails to substitute mail carriers.

They drove the trucks outside through hanging wires, heavy smoke and twisted debris while the fire still smoldered.

In an official memorandum, Dean stated:

"I wish to express sincere thanks for myself and the Post Office Department to the employees who worked so diligently in spite of the extremely bad weather and extreme danger to themselves to remove and salvage as many of our trucks as they did."

One of those cited, George D. Aris, assistant mails superintendent, directed salvage operations.

"We had to stand in water and push hanging wires out of the way to get the trucks out," he said. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

McCarthy Drops
Benton Libel Suit

Both Parties Claiming Victory in Case Started in March, 1952

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today dropped his two million dollar libel and slander suit against former Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.).

The case, dating back to March, 1952, was due to come up for pre-trial conference next Monday.

McCarthy had asked the big damages on the contention that Benton libeled him by telling a Senate Elections subcommittee in September, 1951, that McCarthy committed perjury, fraud and calculated deceit on the American people in pressing his charges of Communist infiltration of the government.

Benton, who had waived congressional immunity to face the suit, issued a statement here repeating his charges and saying he had waived immunity as an offer to prove them in court.

"Sen. McCarthy refuses to face examination under court room conditions," he said. "I can understand why."

McCarthy told reporters he was dropping the suit because his lawyers had advised him they were unable to find anyone who believed Benton's charges.

Congressmen, Saloons:

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—"Five congressmen shot in a saloon!" shouted the young newsboy.

The Examiner-Enterprise circulation manager, Vernon Strong, did a double take and called the boy aside.

Pointing to the headline, "Five Saloons Are Shot in House," he explained "saloons" was a synonym for lawmakers.

Fair, Warmer Forecast for Weekend; Icy Roads
Thawing

All but 950 of Oakland County's snowbound students were back in school today as roads cleared and the U. S. Weather Bureau promised a warmer weekend.

The weatherman predicts fair and warmer weather, with a low of 15 to 20 tonight and high of 33 to 36 Saturday.

Thursday's chilly temperatures ranged from 13 to 23 degrees. Thursday night's low was 15, where the mercury still hovered at 8 a. m. today. Temperatures had climbed to 25 by 1 p. m.

Some 4,000 students in Holly and Rochester schools went back to class today for the first time since Monday, although Brandon Township stayed closed for the fourth consecutive day. This week's three storms put some 43,000 youngsters out of class in 110 schools in the county sometime during the week.

Oakland County and Pontiac City roads and streets—like the rest of Michigan's highways—were getting back to normal.

The State Highway Department hopes rising temperatures will clear up icy highways over most of the state today.

But the weather bureau's five-day forecast—running contrary to its 30-day forecast of a warm, wet March—predicts temperatures will run 8 degrees below normal in the next five days, averaging highs of 36 and lows of 17 or 18 degrees.

32,000 Children
in Lower Grades
Offered Chance

Oakland One of Eleven Localities Chosen for Research Project

Some 32,000 Oakland County school children will take part this April in a nationwide test of the new Salk vaccine which may give lifelong protection from polio.

"This may be the vaccine that will stamp out polio for good," said Dr. Robert J. Mason, president of Oakland County Medical Society.

Children in first, second and third grades in this county's public, private and parochial schools will be offered the chance to take part. They will not be vaccinated unless parents give their permission.

Oakland is one of 11 Michigan counties chosen for testing by Michigan Health Department, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and Michigan Medical Society's Polio committee. The others are Bay, Calhoun, Lenawee, Monroe, Muskegon, Ottawa, St. Clair, Washtenaw, Ingham and Macomb counties.

Dr. Mason said the new vaccine was developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, in cooperation with the Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which is financing research.

Oakland County Health Department, headed by Dr. John D. Monroe, and the county medical society have been working through New York and Lansing for some time to get Oakland accepted for the testing program.

Dr. Mason said the new vaccine will be given to half the test youngsters. The other half will get injections of ordinary sterile water.

Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. of the University of Michigan will check later to see how many children receiving the vaccine, contracted polio compared with the ones who received only the sterile water.

Dr. Mason pointed out the new vaccine is expected to differ from gamma globulin in two ways: 1. Gamma globulin is used after a person has been exposed to polio to prevent paralysis. The Salk vaccine would prevent the disease entirely.

2. Gamma globulin is effective for 30 days. The Salk vaccine is expected to give life-long protection.

"This vaccine is extremely safe," he said. "It's been used on 2,700 youngsters in Pennsylvania—and not a single one has had a bad reaction."

The vaccine, he said, is triple-tested by the manufacturer, Dr. Salk's laboratory and the National Health Institute to insure purity.

Army Arrests
Cpl. Batchelor

Former Pro-Red POW to Be Grilled on Conduct in Prison Camp

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today ordered Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor held for a pre-trial investigation of alleged misconduct and aiding the enemy while a prisoner of war in Korea.

The 23-year-old Kermit, Tex., soldier was placed under arrest at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, today.

He arrived there yesterday for a medical checkup.

Batchelor is one of two American prisoners of war who had a change of mind and came home after first electing to remain with the Communists.

The other was Cpl. Edward S. Dickinson, 23, of Cracker's Neck, Va., a little hamlet in the Blue Ridge mountains.

On Feb. 18, the Army ordered a court martial trial for Dickinson on charges he gave the Communists information about fellow prisoners in order to gain better treatment for himself. His trial is due to begin sometime late this month but the date has not been set.

The formal charge against Dickinson is unlawfully collaborating with the enemy.

Chief Says Truck's Slant
Saved 7 Firemen's Lives

The tilt of a truck cab was credited today with sparing the lives of seven firemen injured Wednesday while battling the Habel company fire here.

Pontiac Fire Chief John F. Schroeder said the force of the truck's exploding gas tank blew away from the firemen because the vehicle was on an incline.

"If it hadn't been on a slant, the men never would have escaped alive," Schroeder said.

The truck was being repaired on a frame machine when sparks from an arc welding torch ignited spilled gasoline.

Moments later, one of the truck's gas tanks blew up while the seven firemen stuck to their posts less than 15 feet away.

Two of the men required hospital treatment; the others either were scorched or had their hair singed.

Schroeder said the truck's tilt, estimated at between 30 and 35 degrees, made a gas pocket in the front end of its tank. This gas exploded.

"If the truck had been on a level," the fire chief said, "the explosion would have mushroomed right into the faces of the men."

All seven of the firemen returned to their jobs Thursday at Pontiac Fire Station No. 1, although two of them were still nursing burns.

Those with the most severe burns were Kenneth Eggert and Harold Lloyd. The others scorched were Capt. John J. Morrissey, Lt. Howard White, George D. Burdick, Robert H. Gaylord and Orville Woodworth.

All the firemen who battled the fire won high praise from Schroeder.

About 120 firemen fought the fire for nearly three hours before bringing it under control.

Preliminary estimates placed damage at $700,000, but this figure may be reduced after a detailed check of the building.

Eighteen vehicles were destroyed in the fire at the Jack Habel Chevrolet Co., 29-34 Mill St. An estimated 100 cars were damaged.

Changes Boost Tentative City Recreation Program Budget to $15,110 in 1955

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Minor changes in the recreation board program altered the tentative 1954-55 cash budget discussed by the board last night. To be approved at a meeting March 18 and then sent to the City Commission, the budget totals $15,110 as opposed to the 1953-54 budget of $13,410.

The city's participation totaled $11,000 and with this year's revenues estimated by the board at $2,750, only an additional $1,360 would be needed.

Mrs. William Jackson, chairman of the board, estimates that the board of education contributes the equivalent of the budget in services and facilities.

A new summer sports program, recommended by Frank Whitney, city recreation director, would operate at the Birmingham High School gym five mornings a week.

Whitney felt advantage should be taken of the facilities already there. He mentioned table tennis.

archery, badminton, roller skating, shuffle board, wrestling and pole vaulting as among possible activities.

A proposed day camp program would operate at city-owned Springdale Park, with the idea that groups be taken from the various playgrounds each day.

A greatly expanded program calls for 30 weeks of swimming, instead of 20, and 72 more nights of swimming. The board also hopes to open the pool at Barons School to teenagers one night a week in the winter and two nights a week during the summer for teenagers and adults.

The question of whether to standardize fees, which are charged in only a few of the programs, or to do away with them entirely, will be taken up at the next meeting, along with the possibility of an expanded summer music program.

Parishioners of the Congregational Church have scheduled a full program of Lenten activities, which began last night with an all-church dinner. Forums for adult members and friends of the church will be led by the Rev. Robert D. Devey at 8 p. m. on March 10 and 24 and April 7.

He will discuss practice of Congregationalism. A discussion period and informal coffee hour will follow.

Men of the church will gather for breakfast and a brief worship service at 6:45 a. m. next Wednesday and again on April 14, and membership classes for the youth of the church will be held each Saturday and Sunday.

Pilgrim Fellowship will hold an early morning worship each Thursday. New members will be received into the church this Sunday and April 11, Palm Sunday.

A service of communion and Tenebrae on Maundy Thursday will be the final event leading up to Good Friday and Easter.

About $1,700 was netted in the Sister Kenny Anniversary Club benefit showing of the film, "Sister Kenny." It was reported today.

The money will be used to purchase equipment for the Sister Kenny Polio Treatment Center in Farmington.

The Altar Society of Holy Name Catholic Church has scheduled a rummage sale for April 2, to be held at the former Krueger store on N. Woodward.

With 711 new or renewed members, the YMCA Membership Enrollment drive has topped all previous records. Membership chairman Arthur Blakeley reported that the 167 per cent goal achieved by the local group was topped only by the Downtown Branch of Detroit with 170 per cent.

Total membership of the Birmingham YMCA is now 1,653, the highest in its history.

Regular March shoots for Birmingham Gun Club members will be held tomorrow and March 20 at the club house on

UM Fraternity Singers Entertain for Assembly

(Editor's note: The Birmingham High School column has been prepared by Frank Phillips, an associate editor for the Highlander, the student newspaper.)

By FRANK PHILLIPS

Singing in a recent assembly at Birmingham High School were members of Beta Theta Pi fraternity from the University of Michigan. Winners of the Inter-Fraternity Council Sing, the Betas provided a selection of popular songs.

Other talent presented in the assembly was a girls' trio and a boys' quartet. Also featured on the program was Floyd Zarbock, drum major of the University of Michigan Marching Band, who demonstrated basic tricks with the baton.

The assembly was concluded with the singing of "The Victors." Participants were sponsored by William Zernow, assistant to the dean of students.

The Piper sales campaign officially ended last Friday with 1,350 yearbooks sold for a new record.

Sales Manager Dick Thalacker reported that Howard Coffin turned in $100 to top school salesman, and Bruce Gross, outside salesman, was high in his field with $55.

Winners of free Pipers were Rose Marie Brewer, Carl Andeer, Larry Lundberg and Bill Heninger. The Piper will be distributed during the last week in May.

The Birmingham debate team was defeated in the first round of the state elimination tournament by Grand Rapids Central High School at Owosso recently.

Maple debaters Pat Ashbaugh and Dorothy Ojala, debating on the negative side of the questions, were defeated by a 2-1 decision.

All members of the Detroit Metropolitan League met at Pershing High School Wednesday for the annual awards convocation. Members of the squad received certificates for participation.

A banquet will be given for the Maple debaters. They are Dorothy Ojala, Pat Ashbaugh, Ruth Cortright, Margaret Davis, Beverly Noch, Sue Spencer, Fred Shinnick, Richard Silbar, Joe Kroeger, George Charbonneau, Bob Luscombe, Kitty Schoonmaker and Robin Reed.

Members of Scriblers Club will be in the audience next Friday evening when the curtain goes up for the presentation of "Oklahoma" in Detroit.

Planning to see the stage play are Penny Nelson, Virginia Naylor, Rosalie Rue, Linda La Marre, Nancy Brown, Margaret Adams and Carolyn Link.

Last Monday evening 175 members of the Birmingham Teachers Club met at the high school for their annual banquet.

After a chicken dinner, the teachers settled back to watch several acts from the junior variety show, including a vocal solo by Dick Morse; a skit with Sue Spencer, Caroline Schaub, Hester Lewis and Bev Noch; a vocal trio with Judy Boyd, Bev Negri and Nancy Yarnall.

Other acts were a boys' kick-line with Dick Morse, Bob Kethum, Doug Austin, Larry Turner, Dave Long and Noel Stookey, and a trio with Bill Dore, Nancy Rutz and Don Fraser.

The evening was concluded with square dancing. General chairman of the dinner was Robert Richards, club president.

"Danbury Fair", a long one-act play, was presented last week by the Theatians, junior dramatic club, in the Baldwin auditorium.

Carnival sounds met the ears of the audience as throngs of people settled their many problems at the crossroads of an eastern state fair.

The cast included Dick Griffith, Don Thalacker, Dennis Russell, Marilyn Davis, Ruth Heller, Bill Fall, Cliff Waeschle, Denise Guilmet, Janie Adams, Sue Tabor, Pug Urevig, Brian Deans, Martha Cox, Alan Hildebrand, Alix Atwood, Mike Weston, Dave Parnie, Bob Horner, Andy Hawley, Karen Taracks, Kathy Biggie, Barbara Ritter and Walter Fuente.

The play was directed by Mrs. Jean Ketchum.

The Highlander, Birmingham High School newspaper published every two weeks, is read by nearly 8,000 people according to a recent survey.

Each paper is read by a naverage of five people, the largest number of readers of any one paper being 25 because the subscriber lends his copy to Hickory Grove School, where students read the Highlander to get better acquainted with the school they will attend.

Members of John Simonds' sophomore history classes had a money-making campaign recently to help the people of free European countries put their free ideas across to the enslaved countries through Radio Free Europe.

Radio Free Europe now has 21 transmitters broadcasting to nine European countries behind the Iron Curtain and still needs more funds to send the signal of freedom into Albania.

Commercial Photographer Converts Player Pianos

SAGINAW (P) — What would a commercial photographer do as a hobby? Take pictures? Never!

And if he were H. James Bosch, of Saginaw, he'd pick an unusual hobby, which is just what he did.

It kind of grew, like most hobbies. It is electrifying old player pianos.

(For those under 40, player pianos came in around the turn of the century and were busy hanging out of style in the 1920's. You pumped pedals and a roll of perforated paper, spinning across a perforated metal bar agitated the keys. You didn't have to know a note. All you needed were strong legs.)

Bosch, as many another, built a recreation room in his basement. He rounded out the furnishings with a player piano, instead of a radio or TV set.

But like all player pianos it was old. There were leaks in its bellows and connecting lines. It was difficult to get music out of it.

Bosch tuned and tuned with the bellows. Then he spied his wife's tank-type vacuum cleaner in a basement corner. An idea dawned. The bellows sucked air.

He disconnected the cleaner's vacuum unit and hooked it to the piano, connecting tubes of the two with tape. The result was startling and also almost deafening.

Bosch's contraption got far too much music from the piano. To cut down the power and thus the suction, he rigged up a series of six electric light bulbs ahead of his vacuum unit's motor. Then simply by screwing bulbs in or out he could increase or lower the volume.

It took him two months to complete the conversion from foot to electric power. But his electrified piano became a neighborhood hit.

Besides his own he now has converted five pianos for others and a sixth is waiting.

Incidentally, Bosch can't play a piano — other than a player type. He gets a friend, O. J. Brasseur, for many years a Saginaw piano company employee, to do his tuning.

Bosch found the electrified pianos such an attraction he installed one in his downtown photo studio. It has startled some, too, especially high school jitterbugs who step on the floor button and jump as no jive would make them at the full throated ragtime piano pitches.

Many birds have a poor sense of smell. The buzzard depends almost entirely on sight to locate his special diet and the horned owl's favorite dinner is skunk.

U. S., Mexican Officials Set to Collar Dope Ring

TAMPICO, Mexico (P)—Officials said today U.S. and Mexican secret agents are believed to be closing in on an international dope ring they have traced to this port on the Gulf of Mexico.

Several arrests are expected, the officials said. They disclosed that the opium smugglers operated in Mexico, the United States and as far away as Germany. The clue which led to Tampico began with a shipment of the drug to Bremen, Germany, last September, the officials said.

Grant Men in Hospital

NEWAYGO (P)—Bert Howard, 29, of Route No. 3, Grant, was hurt Thursday as his automobile slid into the path of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train here. He was taken to St. Mary Hospital, Grand Rapids, in serious condition.

One of seven trucks produced in the U. S. during 1952 were exported.

Dale's Fine Influence Brings Faith to Roy

This was the first excuse I could think of, but with more advance warning I could have done much better. Dale fixed a firm eye on me, and I knew her nimble mind was working overtime. She let me get away with it the first time, but going to church soon became the most important thing there was to do on Sunday.

One night before going to bed I noticed a new book on my reading table. "Where did this come from?" I asked, picking up a copy of the Bible.

"Since you lost your old one, I bought it for you this morning," Dale said brightly. She knew that I knew I never had a copy of the Bible, but what can you do with a woman whose mind is made up!

Grace before meals became a regular thing. Cheryl, Linda and Roy Jr., (the three children of my first marriage) were quick to take a part. Dale introduced a type of Grace where everyone said a sentence prayer.

I would squirm in my chair a little, hoping they wouldn't notice me. So it went around the table, then "Why don't you say something, Daddy?" Linda piped up.

Dale, God bless her, is the smartest and most loving woman in the world. She didn't press me; but she never lets go of an idea she thinks is right.

Later, when I tried to explain my feelings to Dale, she would say,

"The Lord gave you many talents, Roy. Some you use well for yourself, but there are some you haven't developed at all for Him. If you could learn to let God speak through you, honey, you could make a good speech every time — and not die doing it."

I didn't know what she meant at first. To some people, religion may come in one big emotional experience. I moved to it a step at a time: regular attendance at church, reading a few passages from the Bible, saying Grace.

A warm quality grew into our family life. It was a spiritual kind of love that makes you want to do something for others.

A group of people in Hollywood began to get together and talk about all these things, people like Tim Spencer, Red Harper, Colleen Townsend, Jane Russell, Mrs. Henrietta Meers, Connie Haines, Joyce Compton, Dale, myself and others.

We would meet at different homes, some of us bringing along extra chairs. There was prayer for the problems of others; several would speak of religion out of their own experience.

One day I discovered that I actually looked forward to saying the blessing at mealtime. It may sound corny, but I could hardly wait for my turn. I began to appreciate the wholesome things that happen in each area of life when you're right with God. Not that I don't have plenty far to go.

The biggest triumph came when I used Dale's suggestion about speaking in public. The occasion was like many others. The music part I handled without any fear, but when it came time to say a few words, I felt the same old nervous symptoms.

Then I closed my eyes for just a moment and said silently, "Lord, I'll just make a mess of things on my own. Help me to relax a little so that what I say to these people will really mean something."

I started to talk and found myself saying things I'd never said before. And they came out as naturally as though I was just standing there and someone else was talking. From that time, I've never had more than the normal amount of nervousness.

Somehow it doesn't make any difference now whether the group is simple farm folk or sophisticated New Yorkers, the things I try to say are the same. At the Rodeo in New York's Madison Square Garden recently, I found myself telling youngsters what a great thing it is to go to Sunday School.

At one point in the program I sang a hymn while all the lights were dimmed except for a white cross across the Garden floor. A number like this would have been unthinkable in years past.

Our faith was tested less than two years ago with the death of our 2-year-old daughter, Robin Elizabeth. Although physically handicapped from birth, Robin touched our lives deeply, and I questioned why one so young had to suffer.

Yet out of this tragedy came Dale's book about Robin, "Angel Unaware," which she started in anguish and finished with a deep sense of understanding and a feeling that Robin's mission was truly being accomplished.

Nearly 300,000 copies have been sold, proceeds of the book going to the National Association for Retarded Children. Robin Elizabeth, in two years, made her life count more for God than some of us do in a lifetime.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

FRIDAY, MARCH 5, 1954

2 Issues Facing Voters

Pontiac voters have two important decisions to make when they go to the polls April 5.

First of these to be voted on by all electors is a proposed charter change to permit continued levying for public improvements of the millage now devoted to debt retirement. This won't be needed after 1954 when the city will be out of debt.

The second is the proposed issuance of $3,000,000 in bonds to finance a sorely needed addition to Pontiac General Hospital. Only property owners vote on this and a three-fifths majority is required for authorization.

The Press favors these proposals. They must have voter approval if a wisely planned and much needed long range program of public improvements can be launched.

We favor the program outlined by City Manager WILLMAN and topped by the proposed hospital addition. It recognizes that Pontiac has a future as well as current needs, and proposes to do something positive about them.

Moreover, we favor it because it can be financed without any increase in the present tax rate of $13.80 per thousand. This means that Pontiac will retain its rank of sixth from the lowest of 15 Michigan cities as far as total tax rate is concerned.

It also means that the city will continue to enjoy a tax rate 20 per cent lower than the average of all American cities of comparable size. As City Manager WILLMAN put it:

"If you vote for the transfer of the debt retirement fund into a public improvement program, it simply means that this money . . . will then be going to buy . . . public improvements that are vitally needed by our city. Furthermore, there will be no increase in your present tax rate. It will remain at $13.80 per $1,000 of assessed valuation."

Well Done, Fire Fighters

The community owes a hearty salute to the 150 firemen who fought and conquered Pontiac's biggest blaze since 1942.

Called out at 3 a. m. in the worst weather of the winter, every man in Chief SCHROEDER's department battled the flames which caused $700,000 damage to the Jack Habel Chevrolet Co.

Because of the nature of the property and the speed with which the fire roared out of control, the Chief wisely summoned help from the Birmingham and Waterford fire departments.

Fire fighting is a dangerous business at best. It is more than ever so when flames may explode gasoline tanks. Yet the knowledge that one truck in the flaming garage might explode failed to stop seven Pontiac fire fighters.

When the tank finally did let go showering the men with flaming gasoline, all suffered burns but only two required hospital treatment. With the flames threatening the department's pumper, Fireman Orville Woodworth drove it outside to safety through smoke so thick he couldn't see. The other six escaped on their hands and knees. It is comforting to know that Pontiac has such an able and well trained force of professional fire fighters to guard our property and lives whenever danger threatens.

The Press extends its sympathy to Mr. HABEL who suffered this misfortune. Everybody loses in a fire.

Spending Curb Proposed

Iowa's Republican Congressman LE COMPTÉ has an idea which may make him highly unpopular with his colleagues but should commend itself to taxpayers.

The chairman of the House Administrative Committee has been investigating the use made by junketing Congressmen of counterpart funds in the European countries they visited.

According to reports, some of the touring lawmakers have abused the privilege of using these funds without the necessity of a report. In some cases it is said the money was used for personal purchases, entertainment and gifts.

This has disturbed LE COMPTÉ so much that he has introduced an amendment to the Foreign Aid Act to make reports on the use of counterpart funds mandatory. In support of his proposal he says:

"There is no reason why they shouldn't account for their use of counterpart funds since, in effect, that is only foreign money purchased with United States dollars. No one who is not abusing the privilege of using counterpart money should be afraid to explain how it was spent."

The Congressman is right.

The Old Sorehead was bemoaning the passing of the "good old days." "Ain't nothing like it used to be," he said. "Why, it's been nigh on to 30 years since I've seen a good dog fight."

 Still on the Job, He Likes to Recite Early Experiences

Daffynition
 Middle age: When too much goes to waste.

Celebrating his eightieth birthday Saturday is J. A. Tillson, Pontiac attorney and dean of the Oakland County Bar Association.

Starting his practice here in 1903, he has had quite an intimate connection with the progress of our city and county. Still active, he has kept up his golf and other outside activities, and enjoys reciting some of his early experiences. Soon after starting practice, he went to the county jail one day to confer with some prisoners he was to defend. He was allowed to go to their cell, and the sheriff then forgot about it and went away. Mr. Tillson was locked up in the cell for several hours while the city was being secured to find the man who had the keys. He decided right then that he'd keep out of jails.

Pontiac City and the remainder of Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts, has a quota of 20 at the Philmont Camp in Arizona next August, and Field Man Loyd McMillin tells me that most of the places have already been reserved.

Waterford Township's new disorderly conduct ordinance has gone into effect. According to Supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson, it covers everything from excessive noise to profanity, intoxication and wife beating and desertion.

Having just celebrated her third birthday, Barbara Sue Goodman is in perfect health. She is the daughter of Byron Goodman and was born after her mother had passed away in a local hospital on Mar. 1, 1951. She is being cared for by her aunt Mrs. Sylvan Clark of 34 Henry Clay Ave.

Believes McCarthy Is Working to Save United States From New Red Scourge

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The controversy between Senator McCarthy and Secretary Stevens is a very serious thing to America. Senator McCarthy is a true American. He takes his life as an American citizen very seriously and knows that we are fighting for the every day life of each American. This talk of McCarthyism to me is just plain Americanism. The two names are a great gift of God.

We are becoming very poor thinkers because we don't stop to think that this man is giving his very life to save us from this new Red scourge that goes back 25 years.

We have weak men in office and don't know yet what is going on. Thank God for McCarthy and the man that is clean of mind and a fighter for America.

I'd like to ask everyone to look at "I Led Three Lives" on TV. This will let you know how the Reds would handle you and me. The program is on channel 2 at 10:30 on Thursday.

You Americans are not so stupid to see that Molotov, at the big four meeting, as much as said we want the whole of Europe. Stand back of Senator McCarthy.

Teen-ager Tells of Need for Recreational Centers

Although I am only 14 years old I think I know what I'm talking about when it comes to the subject of recreation.

Some boys and girls don't know what recreation means. To some it's just a way of amusing themselves, no matter if it's robbing a store, beating a person up or maybe even carrying deadly weapons.

I agree that there are many boys running around at night trying to pick up girls along the streets, etc. There should be as many recreational places for girls as there are for boys. There are a few places for girls, but how can one go to recreations when you have to depend on a bus to take you there and if you go at night you don't get home until late?

I live on the southeast side of the city and only on Wednesday nights do we have recreation two blocks from my home. Other nights I go over to my girl friend's home and we go for walks because we have nothing to do at night.

I think this is something that parents should think about. Then maybe people will stop calling teen-agers juvenile delinquents.

Nation Would Be Spared Cat-Dog Fights If Top Officials Were Slower to Talk

By DAVID LAWRENCE
 WASHINGTON — Well, they had five members of the Senate subcommittee instead of one on the job — as recently recommended by President Eisenhower.

They had a "code of fair procedure" — also as recommended. The witness, Dr. Marvin Sanford Belsky, now in the Army, was represented by counsel — also as recommended.

There was no "brow beating" of anybody. And yet the facts turned up at the Thursday hearing of the committee of which Sen. McCarthy is chairman are these:

1. Dr. Belsky, an alleged Communist, refused to answer the Army's questions about whether or not he was a Communist.

2. Dr. Belsky declined to tell the committee whether he aided the Communists in any way while in the Army.

3. Dr. Belsky was not granted a promotion, though he applied for a commission, and he was never given any official reason for that refusal.

So it turns out that all the talk about how hard it was for the Army to keep Dr. Irving Peress, dentist, known to the Army as a Communist, from being promoted from captain to major or from being denied an honorable discharge was a lot of baloney.

Yet it didn't take the testimony of Dr. Belsky alone to prove that point. Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense, came back to town and opened up with a free-swinging press conference that disclosed these unpleasant points:

1. That the Army could have found a way to prevent Major Peress from getting a commission and that a court-martial, could have been ordered.

2. That he ordered the 21 Americans who refused repatriation in Korea to be court-martialed when Army lawyers were debating whether he could order a court-martial.

3. That, while legislation to keep Communists from getting honorable discharges or commissions would be helpful, the secretary of defense doesn't need it. He said: "I know how to get the Communists out of the Army without legislation if I have to."

Then Wilson said that, while Secretary of the Army Robert

Stevens was technically responsible, he knew Stevens had done the best he could with a "tough situation."

As for the handling of witnesses, Wilson didn't think they should have to face "any such situation," namely, vigorous cross-questioning by congressional committees.

What may be inferred, of course, is that the Army should be able to put officers on the witness stand who knew the score in such cases and thus avoid embarrassment for commanding officers who merely carry out orders that the legal branch of the Army gives them.

In all this, the position of Stevens, Secretary of the Army, is deserving of real sympathy. He was out of the country while most of the row about Dr. Peress was going on.

And, when he came back, he stated frankly that whatever errors had been made would be corrected and that certainly a way should be found to rid the Army of Communists and keep any of them from getting honorable discharges.

But he had not read the Peress testimony when he made his later comments about witnesses not being represented by counsel. He had not read what Gen. Zwicker had said that exasperated Sen. McCarthy. He didn't know that the Army had not sent counsel to the hearings.

The whole episode is replete with the aggressiveness of an interested press. Reporters ran back and forth from one controversialist to the other, paraphrasing comments in the haste of news gathering.

The latest example was on

Aunt Het

Bill feels himself easy. He's a crack about honor, and he loves his wife, so he figures it's natural for a woman to be more than most, Thursday when Secretary Wilson's comments were carried back to Sen. McCarthy, who, without being advised of the entire statement by Wilson, impulsively let out a blast against what he thought was an unfriendly criticism by Wilson.

One wonders how much the country would be spared the kind of cat-and-dog-fight atmosphere it is reading about in the press if each of the principals would take time enough to read the official stenographic record of these hearings and the full texts of statements and then issue calm and deliberate statements rather than resort to off-the-cuff comments.

Speed in gathering news can in this instance bring a disservice to all concerned, though the press is not to blame if public officials cannot restrain their comments and instead blurt out answers to questions that had best be deferred till they have all the facts.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Pay Attention to Others; Your Worries Will Fade

Doris is unhappy because she thinks people are talking about her behind her back. Never let yourself develop such a persecution complex. Face the facts and then thank God for your manifold blessings, for "He who grumbles has too much."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case K-341: Doris A., aged 29, is a very efficient housewife.

"Dr. Crane, I have a wonderful husband and two children that we both adore," she began with a rueful smile.

"So I suppose I ought to be entirely happy. But I'm not, for I keep worrying about this profuse growth of hair on my chin."

"I'm sure people must talk about me behind my back because of it. And although I have pulled out the hairs, they always come back."

"Is there any way I could get them removed permanently?"

We psychologists often talk about the "persecution complex," which refers to the tendency to overly magnify any ailment or minor facial blemish which you may suffer. It develops because the victims see their defect every time they look in the mirror, so they keep paying more and more attention to it.

Soon it seems mountainous, though it is usually of only mole-hill size to the general public.

Thus, I hadn't noticed hairs on the chin of Doris as she sat across from me at my office desk. It wasn't till she mentioned the "profuse growth" that I had thought to analyze her chin.

But millions of girls and married women grow unduly self-conscious about hairs on their lip or face, or on their legs.

In spite of Mr. Dulles' stuttering optimism we feel Moscow ran the Berlin circus like a ringmaster with two whistles.

The best we got out of it was a switch to Geneva in April. A town that has a good record for peace and a better for gin.

But they mix no better than face powder and birdseed.

This conference-in-the-round is speedily overhauling the record established by a prior circular excursion.

That was the Congress of peace convened at Lugano in 1922, switched to The Hague in 1923, exercised for its excursion option to Paris in 1925, cross-countryed to Geneva in 1927, went back to Paris for its toothbrush in 1928, sprouted in Brussels in 1929 and had money to Bern in 1934.

Do You Have an Adequate Breakfast? Or Are You Inviting Pellagra, Beriberi?

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Regular readers of this column, if any, ought to know by now that one of my pet notions or beliefs is that in most instances chronic rheumatism (call it arthritis if you prefer) is physical degeneration.

This is from nutritional deficiency through the years from early childhood. In talks to follow I'll tell you what specific deficiency or deficiencies I mean and how to correct your faulty eating habits.

But here let me ask: Do you have an adequate breakfast? For that matter do you know what an adequate breakfast is?

If you skip breakfast you cannot do your best at work or play.

Minimum Breakfast Menu

I
 Fresh fruit in season

OR
 Canned or frozen fruit

OR
 Fresh, canned or frozen fruit

It is always better to eat the fruit than just to drink its juice. Some minnyhammers have a funny notion that the juice of this or that fruit or vegetable has some vitamin, mineral or other virtue other than that one gets from eating the fruit or vegetable, but the moon isn't made of green cheese either.

II
 Any unrefined cereal, with milk or cream and sugar, or syrup if desired.

OR
 Bread or toast or roll or bun or muffin or pancake or waffle or fried mush or doughnut.

Never both cereal and bread-stuff. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Wheat to Eat, which tells how to use plain wheat in the everyday diet.

Only whole wheat flour should be used to make any of the breads or cakes in the breakfast menu. Grind it in your own hand or power mill every morning or two or three times a week as described in the wheat pamphlet, or crack it coarsely, for cereal.

Margarine or butter on bread, toast or cakes, if desired. Also sweetening — preferably crude or "raw" sugar, dark brown sugar, honey, molasses or, if you are rich or have a friend in Michigan, maple syrup.

III
 Boiled or fried sausage or fish or eggs. Eggs cooked as you prefer.

OR
 Bacon and eggs

Breakfast without at least one such animal protein item is inadequate. A poor way to start the day. Especially for a growing child.

IV
 Not less than a glass (one-half pint) of milk.

OR
 One-half pint of skim milk if preferred.

OR
 One-half pint of buttermilk, sour milk, or cultured milk (Acidophilus, Bifidus, Yogurt or the like) and for persons over 15, coffee, tea or cocoa.

If this minimum menu for an adequate breakfast strikes you as being too hearty for a minnyhammy to tackle, you are very likely cultivating pellagra or beriberi, Yankee type.

The early manifestations of calcium and vitamin D deficiency go unrecognized in most instances for the same reasons — which we'll consider in a piece to follow.

Send letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to diseases, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Anti-Reds Told to Watch Step

Stevenson Sees Some Using Commie Method on Education

CHICAGO (U)—Adlai E. Stevenson accused certain anti-Communists today of adopting "Communist methods in their assaults on higher education."

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee's statement was in a message to the Ninth National Conference on Higher Education. More than 800 college and university leaders are attending the meeting, which is sponsored by the Assn. for Higher Education of the National Education Assn.

Stevenson mentioned no names but he obviously was referring to recent congressional investigations of loyalty of college faculty members when he said "the American system of higher education has seldom faced a more fateful challenge than it does today."

"The enemies of freedom," he said, "well know that the educational system is a vital artery of free society; that if they can sever this artery, the life-blood of our liberty will drain away."

"The attack on education comes first from the fanatics of total-itarianism, whose purpose everywhere is to destroy free education and to erect on its ruins cruel and coercive systems of indoctrination."

"But men in our midst, affecting to oppose Communist totalitarianism, are themselves emulating Communist methods in their assaults on higher education. They are breaking down a miasma of anti-intellectualism, and through pressure and intimidation and irresponsible inquiry, they are trying to convert our own colleges and universities into new instruments of indoctrination."

Stevenson cautioned, "if we allow our freedom at home to be chipped away by miners, and sappers in our midst, we will be handicapped in the larger fight to preserve freedom in the world against the threat of Communist aggression."

Report Flint Employment Now at All-Time Peak

FLINT (UP) — Employment here reached an all-time high last Feb. 15, R. C. Atkins, manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission office, said today.

He said 120,000 workers were employed here in mid-February. The figure was well above January's record breaking total.

"PEEPERS" PRECIPITANT—Looking bewildered, as usual, is meek Robinson Peepers (left), portrayed by Don Bumgardner of 590 E. Beverly, in the forthcoming PHS drama production, "Mr. Peepers." Also shown are Nancy Remington, played by Marie Meyer (center) who lives at 430 E. Beverly St., being her usual helpful self, while absent minded Mrs. Gurney, Mariene Crocker (right) of 194 Chippewa, seems to be enjoying the proceedings. The play will be presented March 17, 18 and 19 in Pontiac High auditorium.

Midland Plans Circus

MIDLAND (U) — Six inches of snow on the ground and near-zero temperatures did not stop the local Civic Club from announcing a harbinger of spring. The club said Thursday it would sponsor the appearance of a circus at Midland May 12.

Weather Fails to Hinder School Parties, Activities

Although weather conditions disrupted school schedules temporarily, most Pontiac students found time to pursue the normal activities of clubs, parties, and, of course, schoolwork.

March brought Lent, and social activities came to a temporary standstill as CYO members at St. Michael worked on their Lenten project and St. Fred's drafting classes were treated to a visit by the archdiocese drafting supervisor.

At Pontiac High School, new seniors started class officer proceedings and eagerly scanned the National Honor List to find their names.

"Mr. Peepers" the dramatic offering for Spring created the special brand of excitement that always precedes the opening of a new play.

PONTIAC HIGH SCHOOL. What with National Honors, school elections and general turmoil seniors seemed to have captured the spotlight at Pontiac High according to scribe Vicky Micu.

Forty-seven eager upperclassmen proudly found their names on the list of the National Honor Society roster announced recently.

PHS students, however, were busy "ah-ing" in amazement at statistics which revealed certain facts about the school.

Enrollment has jumped to 2505, an increase of 50 students.

Sophomores dominate with 895 classmates while juniors count 718 noses. The Senior class is last with 592 members.

One last fact—girls still outnumber the boys by 33.

ST. FREDERICK. Mary Drake, school scribe, busily scribbles that the St. Frederick Choral Society was entertained

Tuesday by the director of the organization at an informal party in the school hall.

Sounds of laughter and enthusiasm filled corridors as Howard Davis, talented fifth grader, presented a puppet show last Friday afternoon.

With Lent underway and Mardi Gras going on mere memories, students buckled down to more serious thoughts.

The archdiocese drafting supervisor spoke to the drafting classes, checked over drawings to be exhibited and examined house plans being drawn by second year students.

ST. MICHAEL. With the coming of Lent, writes Maragret Martin, St. Michael reporter, Michaelites began looking forward to Easter. Sewing classes were right in the swing as students eyed spring fashions for the Easter Parade.

Thursday found economic students boning up on banking and rounding out their studies with a trip to the Perry street branch of the Community National Bank.

St. Michaelites were treated to a movie on wheat and its products Friday. The film was titled "A King Comes to Visit."

Penney Manager Addresses Club

Approximately 40 members of Pontiac High School's Retailing Club heard a speech by R. W. Eastridge, manager of the local J. C. Penney Department Store, recently.

Eastridge presented statistics on salaries and types of executive positions available in the retailing field. He stressed need for industry and initiative when working for success in the field.

Michaelites Pick CYO Members

Every Class Selects Representatives; Lenten Projects to Begin Soon

St. Michaelites were in a flurry as election results were the current topic of conversation.

New Catholic Youth Organization representatives were chosen from each class recently.

Chosen from the senior roster was Margaret Martin and Dick Doll. Representing the junior faction are Jim Zimmerman and Joan Dark while sophomore candidates are Larry Malson and Margaret Baleman.

The freshmen elected Pat Martin and Alex Kroplin. CYO members will begin work on their Lenten project, which is to be a musical, soon. They gather for their first practice tonight.

Chinese Stoic About Reds, One More of Many Rulers

By PHIL NEWSON
United Press Foreign News Editor
A favorite description of Red China is that its government is hungry for power but its people are just plain hungry.
It's an over-simplification and only one side of a not very pretty picture as drawn from such allied listening posts as Tokyo and Hong Kong.

Another side is that for all its cruelties and its crudities there is no sign of destructive weakness inside the Red China regime.

Unfortunately for the West, it is harder to see through the "bamboo curtain" than it is the "Iron Curtain."

More is known about Inside Russia, despite the cloak of Russian censorship, than about the vast 500,000,000 persons ruled by the followers of the Red leader Mao Tse Tung.

Yet, as time goes on, it becomes essential to learn more about this Red regime against which American soldiers fought an undeclared war for more than three years and which at Geneva, on April 26, American diplomats will encounter across the conference table.

The Communist party in Red China represents only about one per cent of the population and has been in power less than five years.

But it has been able with one hand to fight a war in Korea and give help to the Reds in Indochina, and with the other to extend its domination within its own boundaries down to the smallest village and farm.

To the Red Chinese, Mao Tse Tung is what Lenin was to the Russians.

Mao hates all foreigners yet works closely with the Russians, an estimated 100,000 of whom are in Red China as "advisers."

No responsible authority will predict any imminent split between the Russians and Red Chinese. China wants Russia as an ally but not as a master.

Red China has learned its lessons well from its Red Russian teachers, both in the ruthlessness of its methods and in its propaganda.

Not long ago, the Reds boasted that China's "food output" last year was up 45 per cent over 1945 and 10 per cent over the highest prewar level. But this week they announced strict grain rationing and a program to force farmers to sell part of their crops to the state.

Hong Kong sources estimate that between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 Chinese suffered from famine this year.

Yet at the same time, the Reds have continued to export vast quantities of food in trade for machinery and materials for industrialization and armament.

In some respects, Red China now may be compared to the Red Russia of the 1920s and 1930s.

Figures recently given to the United States Congress showed that some 15,000,000 Chinese had died one way or another at the hands of the Reds.

It could be compared with Stalin's purge of non-cooperative peasants whom he deliberately let starve to death by the millions in the Ukraine.

But in the Chinese people themselves seems to lie the peculiar quality which is both the Reds' strength and weakness.

Even starvation is not expected to bring the people to revolt because they are used to starvation. Even the cruelties of communism cannot force them to revolt because the Communist regime is just one more in the many that have come and gone over thousands of years.

The Reds recognize it in their own failure to force the people to adopt modern farming methods.

"You can't expect to change in four years what has been going on for three thousand years," said the magazine "People's China."

Leo A. Rover, shown above in his office at the District Court Building in Washington, will handle the prosecution of the four Puerto Ricans involved in the recent House shootings. Pre-Cast Concrete Cuts Bridge Costs

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Public Works Association reports that pre-cast concrete forms have been used in the construction of bridges at a considerable savings. The association cited the experience of the Arkansas highway department, which used the "pre-fabs" to replace the state's aging wooden bridges at low cost.

The prefabs come in standard pieces, ready for quick assembly on the spot, the association said.

It said about 10 of the prefabs have been put in service so far. Tests have been run for nearly two years to find out if such bridges would hold up under the weight of big trucks.

According to engineers, all indications are that the prefabricated structures will do the job.

On a conventional bridge, where wet cement is poured at the construction site, costs average from $200 to $250 a linear foot, the association said. It said the precast bridges can be set up for as little as $140 a linear foot.

VICTOR L. SMOTHERS

Many thanks to all you good folks who voted for me in the primary election. My only purpose in running for the city commission was because I thought our district needed a new commissioner at the city hall. I still think "it's time for a change" and on April 5th I intend to vote for Harry W. Lutz, one of my opponents in the primary election. I have carefully questioned Mr. Lutz and I am satisfied that he has no selfish interests in mind and will work for the best interests of our district and the city at large.

Woman Will Be Topic of Series

UM Summer Session Program of Interest to Men as Well

ANN ARBOR—"Woman in the World of Man" will be the theme of a series of lectures, television programs and exhibits planned for the University of Michigan's 1954 summer session.

Bout women, but designed to be of interest to both men and women, the program is based on women's role in a rapidly changing society, according to Mrs. Mary C. Bromage, program chairman.

Mrs. Bromage states that nationally famous men and women, distinguished in such fields as art, economics, psychology and music, will visit the UM campus to present their viewpoints on what is expected of today's woman and how to prepare her for it.

A number of prominent men and women have participated in planning the program.

Questions to be discussed by the visiting lecturers include: What is the present-day status of woman? Has man's concept of her changed? Should she be educated differently? Are there differences between the idealized woman and the actuality? Does woman set the moral tone for society? And What is her influence in politics, religion, business and art?

These ideas then will be discussed and analyzed in faculty panels.

In addition, there will be a seminar, sponsored by the U-M sociology department, which will meet twice a week for academic credit. Other U-M departments will offer courses related to the "Woman in the World of Man" theme.

Further information on the program may be obtained by writing to Director of the Summer Session, 3510 Administration Building, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Fortunes usually are told by reading the lines on the soles of the feet as well as the markings on the palms of the hands in China.

Doctors at U-M Plan Research

Nervous System and Its Problems Listed for New Kresge Institute

ANN ARBOR — Part of the University of Michigan's new $3,500,000 Kresge Medical Research Building and Institute will house facilities dedicated to investigations of the central nervous system and its problems.

One of these problems is found in the spastic child, who is to his distressed parents what the aging and palsied father is to his devoted family.

In these cases, as in those of a paralyzed facial muscle or an erratic eye movement or uncontrolled stumbling, the medical mystery is embedded deep within the brain, and the solution is complicated by a fantastic labyrinth of nerve pathways.

For those reasons, among the remaining health hurdles which medical science has yet to jump, none is so disheartening, or intriguing as the disabled nerve or the injured brain.

At the Kresge Medical Research Institute, the nerve and brain specialist will have a unique opportunity to become his own researcher. Equally significant is the opportunity for all clinical specialist and researcher alike, to make an organized attack on problems which often involve a many-sided approach to man's nervous system.

The neurologist will work with the neurosurgeon; the neurosurgeon will assist the eye specialist; and all will call on the specialist in electroencephalography. All will have laboratories in the Kresge building, and all will share common research facilities.

At Kresge Medical Research Institute, clinical problems will have the support of research. The doctor will be able, in specially outfitted operating rooms and laboratories, to duplicate human problems in experimental animals.

Because of his close proximity to the University Hospital, he will have an opportunity to compare his patient's progress with the progress of an animal displaying identical symptoms.

City Clerk at Petoskey Left Out of Pay Raise

PETOSKEY (U)—Three city officials, manager, treasurer and justice, have been given pay increases ranging from $200 to $600, but the city clerk must wait until the election in 1955 before getting more money.

The clerk, Mrs. Ted Hubbard, serving on an appointment basis, has announced she will be a candidate for the office.

Plans for Industries

GRAND HAVEN (U)—A planning commission has proposed to the city council zoning for industrial purposes 80 acres of land east of U.S. 31 near the south city limits. The commission also proposed notice of intent to reserve an additional 80 acres adjoining the original plot for the same purpose.

Harbor Work Doubtful

PENTWATER (U)—Hopes for government dredging of the Pentwater Harbor channel are dim, village president Edward A. Schimke said after receiving a letter from Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) explaining the stand of the Army engineers.

Famous French Duelist Faces Loaded Weapon

By BILLY ROSE

An old friend of mine, Henri Bernstein, the French playwright, died in Paris a few weeks ago.

The last time I saw Henri was in the spring of 1950, when we lunched in his apartment over the Theatre des Ambassadeurs which had been confiscated by the Germans and restored to him by General de Gaulle in recognition of his services to the Free French.

Bernstein, though he was pushing 70 at the time, was what the phrasemakers call "a fine figure of a man."

Over the cognac, I steered the conversation around to the subject of dueling—a field in which Henri had won even more kudos than he had in the theater.

If rumor was to be believed, the playwright had fought more than 50 duels with drama critics who liked his plays too little and husbands who liked their wives too much.

"When you challenged a man to a duel," I said, "weren't you afraid you might get killed?"

"Seldom," said Henri. "In almost every case, I was the bigger man and the better swordsman."

"I see," I said. "You picked your opponents carefully."

"Let me put it this way," said Bernstein. "A duel these days is hardly more dangerous than a minute. One's honor is satisfied and everybody shakes hands if a swordsman as much as pinks his opponent."

"Actually, the only courageous duelist I have ever heard of was a small man named Rudolf Virchow. And he never fought a duel..."

As Henri told it, Rudolf Virchow was one of Germany's most distinguished citizens in the 1860s.

He was personally popular and, without seeking the honor, had been elected to the Reichstag. There, as might be expected, the humane little man found quick disfavor with Prince Bismark, the big blood-and-guts chancellor who was dreaming the perennial German dream of taking over the world.

Matters came to a head one afternoon when Virchow made a speech in which he complained that too large a percentage of Germany's income was being spent on guns and far too little on public improvements.

The irritated Bismark rose to answer. Such namby-pamby as Virchow, he fumed, only diverted the Reichstag from its rightful business—conquest.

One word led to a thousand others and, when the warrior found he was no match for his antagonist with words, he challenged him to a duel.

When Virchow calmly accepted, his friends became panicky. Bismark was a giant of a man, and one of the best swordsmen in Germany.

Next day the Chancellor's heel-clicking seconds called on Virchow to give him his choice of weapons. The scientist greeted them with (a) a smile, and (b) a plate on which there were two frankfurters.

"These are the weapons," he informed the seconds. "They are identical, except that one frank-

IDEA FROM THE INDIANS—Italian actress Rosanna Podesta, 19, carries her infant son, Stefano, around the house with hands free. He rests in a large light wool scarf which hangs from Rosanna's neck. The young mother says she borrowed the idea from American Indian squaws, but Stefano's expression indicates that he doesn't think too highly of the novel arrangement.

Boys Set Fire to Woman, House With Fireworks

BARI, Italy (U-P)—A band of boys showered a 71-year-old woman with firecrackers and flaming paper and set her afire last night in her home here.

The victim, Mrs. Annunziata Vericelli, drove out the boys, but fell in the chase and broke a leg. She rolled on the floor to put out the flames in her clothing and that set the house afire. Neighbors rescued her.

Her condition today was critical. Police hunted the boys.

Only 19 states have laws requiring the administration of vision tests in schools.

Decatur Man Dies; Known for Rain Bets

DECATUR, Ill. (U-P)—C. L. (Cal) Waggoner, who in 48 years compiled an average of .792 in betting it would rain in Decatur on May 10, died yesterday. He was 93.

Waggoner, a bank auditor for more than 65 years before his retirement in 1950, started betting it would rain on May 10 in 1905. In 48 years he made the wagers he won 38 times and lost 10—for an average of .792. He said he could recall no reason for the date or the tradition. Waggoner's bets never were large and usually were for cigars or for cash—a dollar or less.

Sheriff Boosts Traffic Vigilance

Law Violators Facing Loss of Drivers License in Crackdown

Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell said today that his department is stepping up its traffic law enforcement activities in response to a state-wide request from Owen J. Cleary, chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission.

This activity is part of the "Obey Traffic Laws—Keep Your License" emphasis program sponsored by the commission and supported by all safety groups.

"As long as traffic accidents continue to increase throughout the state, motorists must expect law enforcement to increase," Hubbell said. "Accidents won't decrease until traffic violations come down, and violations cannot be decreased until more violators are apprehended."

"This business of increasing enforcement because of increasing accidents will naturally result in more motorists having their licenses suspended," Hubbell said, "and Michigan motorists who violate the traffic law must expect to lose their license, because they have violated the basis on which the privilege of driving was extended to them—a promise to obey the law and drive safely."

Fantastic World of Future... Hush... May Be True

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Put me down as a coward if you like, but I'm not sure the brave new world of tomorrow is the world for me. Like millions of other people I can't resist those science stories—some fiction, some "scientific" speculation—about what's ahead for mankind. You know—rocket ships blasting off to Mars, strange creatures from outer space dropping in among us.

Now this makes fine "escape" reading, as some of my higher-browed friends tell me with a sniff when they catch me with a paperback hidden behind a "serious" book. Trouble is, I have an uneasy hunch that the authors of these interplanetary thrillers aren't kidding.

They were, if you remember, the boys who were writing confidently of the atom bomb in the days when many a "real" scientist was scoffing at the very idea. They have, in fact, a disturbing record of being right in their forecasts.

All I know is that if their picture of our future is anywhere near accurate, this 20th century world of the hydrogen bomb, the Communist menace and the Puerto Rican terrorist with the blazing gun is going to seem a warm and cozy place by comparison.

Worse still, in this nightmare world of tomorrow, odd changes occur in those stay-at-home earthlings who don't go rocketing through space. They learn to read minds. They form themselves—as in Theodore Sturgeon's grotesque classic, "More Than Human"—into unholy several-people-in-one combinations, with a mongroid idiot for a brain and, for arms and legs, two colored girls who go whisking magically through space wearing nothing but impish expressions.

Maybe I'm borrowing trouble. Maybe none of us will live to see this nerve-shattering tomorrow. But it's just as well to be prepared. The time may be fast approaching when we will need (A) a congressional committee on unworldly activities, to investigate subversion on a scale beyond the fondest dreams of the Kremlin, and (B) an amendment to the McCarver act barring all furred, feathered or cloven-footed immigrants from outer space until their intentions have been proved honest.

You think I'm kidding? Look over your shoulder. There! At the widow! That green crawling thing with the phosphorescent scales! Oops, too late. It's already eaten grandma.

TO SALUTE OR NOT TO SALUTE?—Chief of British Imperial General Staff, Sir John Harding, pays a visit to Bovington, England, training center. Boy Robert Cooke carries on a conversation despite his odd position. Etiquette question: Should he salute?

Youths Fail to Appreciate Adults' Favorite Question

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

"What are you going to be when you grow up?" is one of the most popular forms of "Information Please" ever devised by adults.

We start asking that question as soon as a child can string six words together into a sentence. For the first few years youngsters probably take it for granted.

By 8 or 10 the kids begin to show boredom and often say, "Don't know."

Some instinctive hams come through with a reply, calculated to get attention. "I'm practicing to be a miser," one of them recently said in my presence.

By the time any boy or girl is halfway through high school, the incessant question may create a real sense of pressure.

It can be quite damaging to the natural rate of growth and the normal timing of the youngster's ambitions.

A few more years of that query, and some young folks begin to worry that something's wrong with them because they don't feel any true "call."

By now the question has changed to "What kind of career are you planning?"

I know a couple of college students who tense up visibly if the subject is raised, and another who's getting psychiatric help for his "anxiety complex."

"If they'd only let me alone," he once burst out to the psychiatrist.

Why so many adults outside a boy's or girl's immediate family feel free to dig into one of the most personal decisions a young youth will ever have to make is something that escapes me.

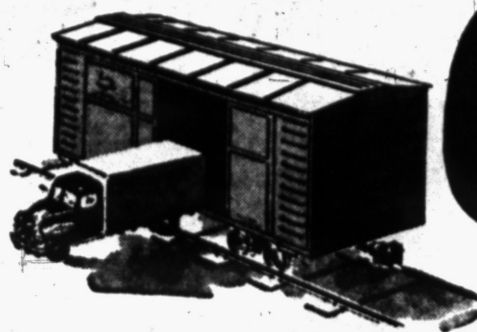

I wonder if wise parents oughtn't start saying to their teenage children that as long as they become independent and earn their own livings when school-days are over, it doesn't matter too much what work they start with.

Experiments are part of the spirit of youth. One of the most talented boys I know had the wit to realize it by the time he was 17. "I'm going to be a failure, for my first three jobs," he calmly said. "By then, I'll know what I definitely do not want to be, and I won't be stuck with it all my life."

About 70 per cent of the milk produced in the U. S. is used in the manufacture of dairy products.

MSC's contest for the ugliest man on campus ended last week and was a huge success. Each penny donated during the contest counted as one vote for the candidate in whose name it was given.

The total amount raised was $3,445.39. The money will be turned over to the Campus Chest.

The junior class president, Roger Abdella of Essexville, was crowned ugliest man on campus at the King's Coronation Dance last Friday evening.

Farm Officials Face Questions

Senators Hostile to Plan to Soften Supports, Seen Pressing Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm officials of the Eisenhower administration face another barrage of questions today by senators opposed to their plan to make agricultural price supports less rigid. But they got some tokens of support, too, notably from Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, who lauded Secretary of Agriculture Benson as an "honest man" and said his numerous congressional critics "are talking merely for political purposes and nothing else."

Aiken offered in support of his views voluminous charts which, he said, proved that 22 years of assorted farm programs had cost less than 500 million dollars a year.

"In my opinion it has been a good investment," he added. Critical questions of senators about the chance of farm prices and income dropping lower under the new program took up most of a lengthy session of the committee yesterday. True D. Morse, under secretary of agriculture, and Karl Loos, department solicitor, were called back today to explain a lengthy bill introduced by Aiken. It covers main points of the Eisenhower program but Aiken said, "It is not an administration bill."

Key point of the Eisenhower proposal is to allow 90 per cent farm supports to expire at the end of this year, in favor of flexible price props at 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a computed price aimed at giving a farm product a fair purchasing power in terms of things a farmer buys.

Sen. Young (R-ND) said in an interview that the first day's testimony and questions showed "they are a lot farther away from congressional acceptance than before."

He said he is convinced the flexible program would permit wheat prices "to drop as much as 33 cents a bushel below present average supports of about $2.20."

He said it also could force wheat farmers, who cut plantings from 78 to 82 million acres this year, to "go down as low as 55 million acres."

Largest of the world's claims are those living in the coral reefs around the East Indies.

Sees Congress Acting on Raises

Dirksen Believes Issue of Salary Increases Is Still Alive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today the issue of a pay raise for members of Congress and federal judges "is definitely still alive and I think something will be done about it" this session.

However, he agreed in an interview there was little or no chance action would be taken by March 15, the deadline set for consideration of a report recommending a substantial salary increase.

This report was presented to President Eisenhower and other top government officials Jan. 15 by an 18-member commission on judicial and congressional salaries set up by Congress last year.

The commission recommended hiking the pay of senators and House members by $12,500 to $27,500. It proposed raises for federal judges which would mean salaries ranging from $27,500 for district judges up to $40,000 for the chief justice of the United States. The range now is $15,000 to $25,500. The law creating the commission, which Dirksen sponsored, stated that Congress must act on the report within 60 days after it was filed. But there is no way to enforce this.

Dirksen said he thought it was entirely clear Congress could act on the report any time this session. He said he was not committed to the full raises recommended by the commission, but was convinced some increase is needed.

Man Can Work Days, Spend Nights in Jail Now

LANSING (AP)—It is now legal in Michigan for a man to work at his job all day and spend the night in jail.

Gov. Williams signed a legislative bill which makes that possible in cases of an employed man convicted of contempt of court for failure to pay alimony.

Sponsors said a man who has failed to pay alimony can never catch up with the debt if he is jailed and away from his job.

Dutch Elm Disease Spreading Fast in This Locale

CATTY CORNER—These Berlin cats know where the warmest spot in the house is and they stay in it, as the city suffers its worst cold spell in the last 100 years. They can only be persuaded to leave their stove-top perch during feeding time, and then it's back to the "hot spot."

Human Kidney Is Transplanted

Boston Hospital Reveals Patient Lived 5 Months, Died of Other Causes

BOSTON (U-P)—Officials at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital say a transplanted kidney functioned for five months—believed to be the longest period of use—and might have lasted longer if the patient did not die of another ailment.

The hospital, in its 40th annual report last night, termed the operation "the nearest approach to a successful human kidney transplant on record."

The researchists added a cautious expression of "hope that this transplant problem is nearing solution."

The patient was an incurably ill doctor who asked for the operation. The kidney was donated by a person who was about to die and was taken from him after death.

The doctor-patient died of heart failure caused by a pre-existent high blood pressure. The hospital said "the condition and function of the transplanted kidney was still good."

The "extra" kidney was placed on the patient's thigh. After a few weeks of adjustment, the hospital report said, the kidney functioned well enough to excrete more than a quart of fluid daily, helping to maintain the patient "in reasonably good chemical balance."

The hospital said: "Hope that this problem is nearing solution arises from the fact that this latest experience resulted in a living and functioning kidney beyond the time when an 'antigen-antibody' reaction would be expected to destroy the transplanted kidney."

SORTS MIXED METALS—A General Motors laboratory technician demonstrates the firm's Thermoelectric Metal Comparator developed by GM's Research Physics and Instrumentation Department. The instrument, simply by being placed in contact with a metal, determines varying chemical composition or alloy content. It can be set up in a plant or warehouse where such a troubleshooting job is needed. It is used mainly for sorting steel bar stock or metal parts.

From 10 in 1952 to 250 Last Year

County Foresters Hear William Lebold Tell of 1,200 Cases in State

Dutch Elm disease cases in this area increased from 10 in 1952 to 250 last year, according to a report by William Lebold, chairman of the Oakland County Foresters Assn.

The Birmingham forester spoke Tuesday at the group's regular meeting, in the Detroit Edison Warehouse here.

Lebold said 10 cases of the elm killing disease were reported in the state of Michigan in 1950, with an increase of 1,200 last year.

Hubert Kendeigh of the State Department of Agriculture outlined for the foresters steps taken by the state in combating the disease.

State inspectors help cities survey their elm population each year, Kendeigh said, and trees suspected of being afflicted are sampled and tested at Michigan State College.

Owners of diseased trees are given 10 days after notification to remove and destroy them, Kendeigh said.

Reports will be heard at the next meeting from the group's tree selection and tree removal committees, according to William Aho, Pontiac city forester.

The tree selection committee has been determining which trees are best suited for planting in this locality, said Aho.

At Tuesday's meeting, George Hamilton of Oak Park reported that spraying DDT on trees has no ill effects on birds, as had been feared.

Other speakers included Clifford Wile, Ferndale administrative assistant and Michael Lonsar of the Detroit Parks and Recreation Department.

Chicago Picks Up 11 Puerto Ricans

CHICAGO (INS)—A total of 11 Puerto Ricans have been arrested in Chicago since the shooting Monday of five congressmen in the House of Representatives in Washington.

Police said three of the men taken into custody have been released and eight are being held in an undisclosed location.

Lt. William Walsh, head of the police special investigations unit, said all 11 are believed to be members of the anti-American Nationalist party of Puerto Rico.

Chief of Detectives John T. O'Malley identified one of the men being held as Manuel Torres, 33, and said Torres was a friend of Grisello Torresola, who was shot to death Nov. 1, 1950, in an attempt to assassinate former President Harry S. Truman.

5 in Roseville Take Pasteur Treatment

DETROIT (INS)—Five suburban Roseville residents, including a child whose Christmas gift puppy died of rabies, were undergoing the complicated Pasteur treatment today.

Also among the five was Roseville's dog warden, Louis Capps, 28. Police, meanwhile, quarantined a Roseville trailer camp, and its 45 dogs as a possible deterrent to the spread of the disease.

Bitten by the puppy, in addition to Capps, were four-year-old Deborah Segars, to whom the dog was given as a Christmas gift; her father and mother and Olen Nichols, 30, all residents of the trailer camp.

Authorities also searched for a brown, mongrel dog with which the pup, a cocker spaniel, was frolicking shortly before the persons were bitten.

It later disappeared and police fear it, too, may have been exposed to the disease.

The Pasteur treatment requires an injection of anti-rabies vaccine daily for 21 days.

Pontiac Coin Club Plans Display of Rare Monies

The Pontiac Coin Club will hold its annual exchange and display of rare coins during National Coin Week, April 26 to May 2, according to W. R. Shirley, secretary.

The group holds an auction the first Tuesday of each month in the YMCA at 8 p. m., with interested persons invited to attend.

Two Days Left for Registration

Deadline Draws Near for Voters to Qualify for April 5 Election

Only two days remain for unregistered Pontiac citizens to qualify for voting in the April 5 general election, according to City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Monday is the last day to register, Mrs. Evans explained.

Persons who have changed their address should check to see if they now are located in another precinct, the clerk said.

Such persons, although still registered, can't vote in their new precinct until the address is changed on their registration card.

All persons are registered who have voted in the city once in the past four years.

Gen., Mrs. Dean Will Their Eyes to Cornea Bank

WASHINGTON (U-P)—If Maj. Gen. William Dean has his way, his eyes will enable some blind person one day to see the world again.

Walter Reed Army Hospital said yesterday the general, while he was being treated at the hospital for an eye ailment he contracted during his captivity by Communists in Korea, became impressed with the work done in restoring sight by transplanting corneas.

So he has willed his eyes to the hospital's eye bank. And Mrs. Dean, who lost one eye in an accident, also has arranged for her remaining eye to go to the bank on her death.

Hope for Fast Settlement of Building-Trades Dispute

DETROIT (INS)—Spokesmen for both sides today expressed hope for a quick settlement to an AFL jurisdictional dispute which has workers and teamsters in Detroit and Flint.

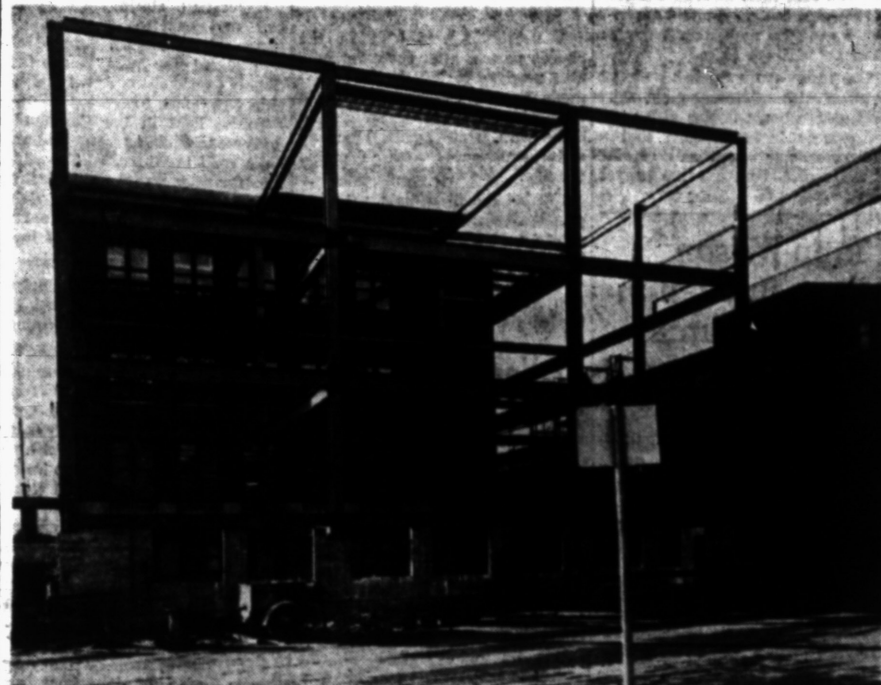

The dispute, between building trades councils in both cities and the Teamsters Union, involves jurisdiction over the movement of government-owned machine tools from plants owned by Buick Division of General Motors, Ford and the Packard Motor Car Co.

Two issues remain to be settled, said spokesmen, and both sides hinted broadly that the dispute could be settled by Monday.

At Flint, a hearing on a plea for a permanent no-picketing injunction, was postponed in Genesee County Circuit Court for the second time yesterday.

The ban was requested by Commercial Contractors Corp. of Detroit, one of two firms involved in the dispute.

Attorneys for both sides indicate a settlement would provide no cause for action.

OFFICE ADDITION—Pontiac Motor's latest step in General Motors billion-dollar expansion program is the above three-story-and-basement addition to the Personnel and Purchasing Department building. Shown in early stages of construction, the addition is expected to be ready for occupancy by early summer. Additional offices and an expanded telephone exchange will be housed in the upper sections, while the basement will contain a reception room and terminal for Pontiac's tour train.

Rebels Raid, Blow Up Planes at Hanoi

HANOI, Indochina, Thursday, March 4 (delayed) (U-P)—French army headquarters announced that Communist-led Vietminh commandos raided Hanoi's big civil airport, five miles away at Gialam, and blew up an undisclosed number of airplanes today.

The exact losses were not disclosed. But army spokesmen said "several planes" had either been destroyed or partially wrecked in explosions.

(French censorship of dispatches from Indochina has grown increasingly strict in recent months. Presumably this accounted for the delay in this dispatch.)

The Vietminh raiders attacked at about 2:30 a. m., going from plane to plane on the main airport runways and placing high explosives in plastic containers under the engines.

The airport guard opened fire on the raiders as big explosions started. The blasts could be heard clearly in Hanoi, across the Red River.

One Vietminh was killed. A later dispatch from Hanoi said more than 200 suspects had been rounded up after the raid. Hanoi was in a state of alert for three hours.

Most of the aircraft at Gialam belonged to private companies and were used in transporting men and war material to the big French Union fortress of Dien Bien Phu, in northwest Indochina.

There was no announcement of any casualties among French and Vietnamese personnel.

The Vietminh raiders apparently approached Gialam after crossing the nearby Red River and were believed to have fled downstream in sampans.

Vietminh commandos about three weeks ago raided the airstrip and gasoline storage depots at Doan, 12 miles south of the seaport of Haiphong, and caused "important damage." This attack was staged shortly before the arrival at Doan of 150 American Air Force technicians sent to Indochina to service aircraft for the French Union forces.

The sirens and explosions at Gialam long before dawn today awakened all Hanoi and set off a flurry of rumors that the Vietminh might be trying a big attack on the city, headquarters for the French in north Indochina.

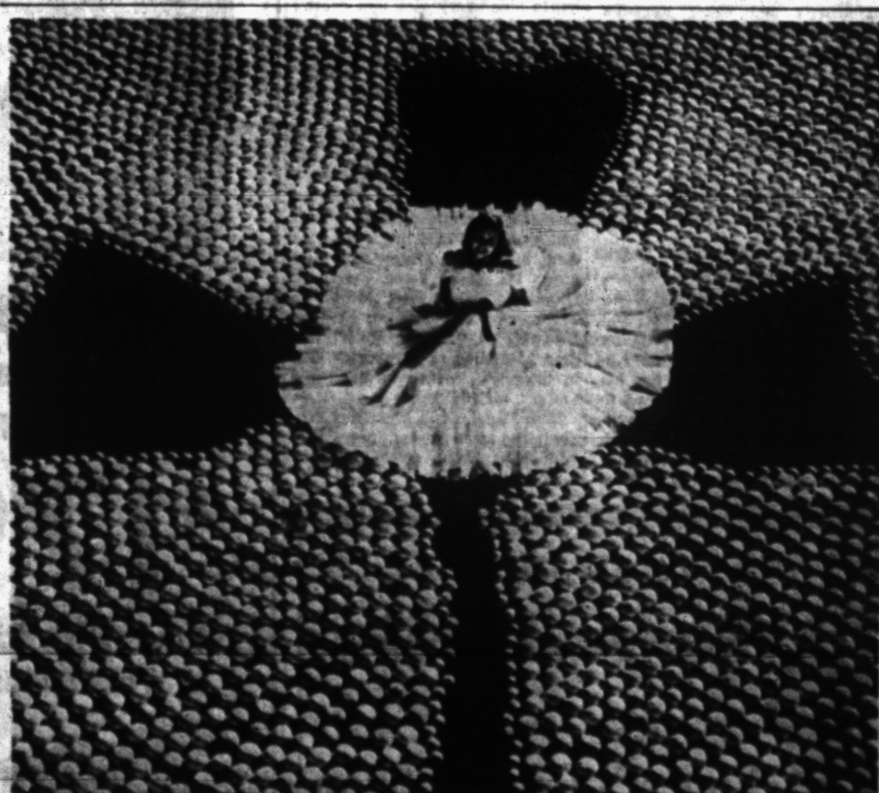

French and Vietnamese authorities immediately tightened a network of guards armed with rifles and machine guns around the airport.

No access to the airport was permitted today without special military authorization.

Train Kills Truck Driver

OWOSSO (U-P)—Raymond Ruddy, 35, of Flint, was killed Thursday when his ice cream truck skidded on slippery pavement and crashed into a Grand Trunk freight train at a crossing in nearby Carland.

READY FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY—Irishmen sensitive to orange because of its historical significance should try to imagine the fruit here as lemons. Lovely Evelyn Ay, Miss America for 1954, poses in a shamrock formed by oranges as she does a little early celebrating for St. Patrick's Day.

Insecurity Causes Milk Craving

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (UP)—Dr. William Kaufman, a physician who recently completed a 10-year study of why people eat the way they do, said today milk is a fine food but some folks drink too much of it just because they lack a sense of security.

By drinking milk, Kaufman said, these people hark back to the days when they felt the security a baby gets when mama nurses it or warms up the bottle.

Kaufman, who studied the eating habits of hundreds of patients, also found that people eat what he calls "reward foods" when they feel frustrated and unhappy. If you feel you're not being appreciated, you may eat too many rich, expensive foods, he said.

Kaufman said he learned people have fixed ideas on what and when they should eat. Even when we have a free choice, we often select fewer than 20 items of food a month. We tend to be less finicky when we are starved than when we are hungry.

But most folks would rather starve to death than eat certain "nutritious" foods, the physician learned. Among such foods he listed dogs, monkeys and cats.

Do you drink too much coffee and tea?

It could be you rely on such beverages because they're "grown up." The child deprived of tea or coffee often overdoes it in later life, when mother isn't around to say "no."

Kaufman's studies tended to confirm what many already know: The mere suggestion that the food you're about to eat is tainted is enough to send you from the table—often as not, sick as the proverbial dog.

There are what the doctor calls "pleasurable association foods." Like the man who demanded Boston baked beans every Saturday night because Uncle Henry always had them when he was alive. And Uncle Henry was a grand old gent.

Clarkston Voters Validate Feb. 2 School Bond Issue Vote

Back Tax Limit Plan 217 to 20

Revote Props $600,000 Program for Additions to Present Units

CLARKSTON—The school building bond issue approved by the voters of Clarkston Community School District Feb. 2 by a four to one vote was reaffirmed Thursday by a more than ten to one total.

Approving the tax limitation on the $600,000 proposal yesterday were 217 "yes" votes. Only 20 "nos" were cast.

Because of an error in the printing on the Feb. 2 ballot, it was necessary for the voters to again decide the tax limitation portion of the election. The word "not" was eliminated on this previous ballot.

The approved issue will provide a high school addition to the present Clarkston High School. It will also give the district additions to elementary schools at Andersonville, Sashabaw Plains and at the Clarkston Elementary school.

Regular board meeting scheduled for Monday has been changed to Tuesday at 7:30, announced Superintendent Leslie F. Greene today. Salary schedules for teachers will be considered at this time, he said.

Negro Named as Ike Aide

Wilkins' Appointment Heralded as Advance in Race Relations

WASHINGTON (UP)—J. Ernest Wilkins, second Negro in history to be appointed to the official family of an American President, rose from the son of a poor Baptist preacher to Assistant Labor Secretary.

Wilkins' success story began 60 years ago in Farmington, Mo. He takes over his post in the Eisenhower administration as a successful Chicago lawyer, a Republican and a name in "Who's Who."

The only other Negro to hold a cabinet job in the government was William H. Lewis who served as an Assistant Attorney General from 1911 to 1915 under President William Howard Taft.

A spokesman for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Wilkins' appointment marks "an important step forward" in the recognition of "merit and ability" regardless of race.

President Eisenhower appointed Wilkins Thursday on the recommendation of Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell who praised his new aide for "ability, imagination and resourcefulness in handling difficult problems."

Circle Players Successful in Season's First Attempt

By PATRICIA A. WOOD
"The Male Animal" roared and roared with threats to his household Thursday as the Pontiac Circle Players pulled the wraps off their first play of the season.

Some 100 turned out for the opening-night performance. The Circle Players, sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department, will present the three-act comedy again tonight and Saturday at 8 at the Elks' Temple.

Miss Patricia Stites is directing the play, sponsored by the Pontiac Education Assn.

The Players' version of James Thurber's and Elliot Nugent's comedy drew hearty laughs from playgoers, seated in a circle almost within arm's reach of the "stage."

The comedy gets a flying start as "Homecoming" weekend at a midwestern university finds professor Tommy Turner, played by Melvyn Staebler, trying to cope with threats to his home and career.

His wife's former beau, football fanatic, Joe Ferguson (Jim Lafear) arrives for a visit.

At the same time, student Michael Barnes, (played by George Mastick) writes an editorial praising Turner for his courage in planning to read to his classes a letter by a well-known liberal. This calls forth a wrathful scene with Ed Keller of the college's board of trustees

Grass Institute Set Next Week

Harvesting and Storing Hay and Pasture Crops Among Topics

Harvesting, storing and feeding hay and pasture crops will be topics of an all-day Grass Institute slated for next Wednesday, County Agriculture Agent Ed Alchin announced today.

To be held in the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake road in Waterford Township, the farm program will feature soils, crops, livestock and dairy experts from Michigan State College, along with a panel of local farmers.

The institute will get under way at 9:30 a.m. with movies on "Making Grassland Farming Pay."

Following will be talks on soil management, high quality feed, harvesting and storage for quality and roughage feeding to dairy cattle and livestock for profit.

Alchin urged farmers to bring along samples of hay and grass silage for a judging contest to be held at noon. Forage experts from MSC will do the judging. A bushel basket will hold enough hay for the competition, Alchin said.

At 2:30 p.m., local farmers will hold a panel discussion on storing and roughage utilization. Participating will be dairymen Floyd Vergin of Davisburg and Adolph Engler of Lake Orion and beef farmers Joe Specia of Oxford and Robert McCrory of south Lyon.

Angry House Asks Transcript

Telecast Criticizes Attempt to Control TV Liquor Ads

LANSING (AP) — The House today awaited a reply to its request that a Lansing television station (WJIM) send it a transcript of a telecast which members said was "far from complimentary to the Legislature."

The telecast urged viewers to wire their legislators opposing a bill to forbid dramatizing liquor, beer and wine drinking in television advertising.

The motion was made by Rep. Adrian De Boom (R-Owosso) who said the telecast "very seriously misrepresented the bill" and stirred legislators.

Howard Finch, vice-president of the station, made the telecast. He said he believed the transcript would be supplied.

Finch acknowledged that he said something to the effect that the Legislature had more important things to do, including dealing with the problem of roads, schools and taxes. He denied, however, that this was derogatory.

He said that his telecast claimed the bill would seriously impair beer and wine advertising and would possibly lead to the cancellation of popular programs. He said his station does not accept liquor advertising.

"We maintain we did not misrepresent the bill, and we are irrevocably opposed to any type of censorship of TV," he said.

Representatives of the Methodist Church have asked for equal time on the station to refute Finch's broadcast, he said. Rep. John J. McCune (R-East Lansing), the bill's sponsor, is in the process of making the same request.

Finch said the station would undoubtedly grant his opponents a total of four and a half minutes, the time he took for his telecast.

A flood of telegrams and telephone calls, still uncounted, were unleashed by the telecast. Clerks said they were running 10 to one against the bill.

Thousands of messages in favor of it had been instigated earlier by dry organizations. This had forced the bill out of a reluctant House Liquor Control Committee.

House leaders are discouraging attempts to move the bill up on the calendar, preferring to let the opposition develop for a few days. Under normal circumstances.

Senators Ask Road Survey

Block to $500 Million Issue to Build Highways Believed Removed LANSING (UP)—One roadblock in the path of a $500 million bond issue to finance Michigan highway construction was believed to have been removed today.

Senators sponsored a new resolution providing for a new survey of highway requirements, substituting for an earlier request for a $100,000 survey.

The new resolution, in addition to specifying no cost, provides that the survey committee shall be nominated by the Michigan Good Roads Federation from membership of the highway users conference, as well as farmers, road builders, manufacturers and other groups.

Sen. Joseph P. Cloon (R-Wakefield) said the Senate Taxation Committee refused to consider the $500 million bond issue until the survey was acceptable to all interested and that the highway users complained they were being left out of the picture.

The users, including bus and truck interests, the Automobile Club of Michigan and other groups, walked out on the 1947-48 Good Roads Federation survey in protest against what they said was dominance by the "tax-payers."

Puppet Show Will Highlight Girl Scout Fete

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — An original puppet show, "The Brownie Story," will be presented by Mrs. Vert Kline and her daughter, Christine, when 300 area Girl Scouts celebrate the Girl Scout movement's anniversary tomorrow at the Waterford Township Hall.

Members of 24 troops in Waterford Village, Waterford Center, and the Donelson, Jayno Adams, Williams Lake, Pontiac Lake and Hudson Covert schools are expected to participate.

Lyndelle Redmond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Redmond of Drayton Plains, who was made "Baby Brownie" by the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council a year ago, will be honor guest for the affair.

Girl Scouts born on March 12 will also be honored. Chairman for the affair is Mrs. Leonard Methner, assisted by Mrs. James McBratney.

Holland Decides on Name for Recreation Building
HOLLAND (UP)—The new municipal recreation building now under construction will be formally known as the Civic Center, the Holland City Council has decided.

Plans to dedicate the building in May as part of tulip time festivities have been abandoned but construction is expected to be far enough along to permit holding several festival events there.

6 Marines Killed by Mortar Shell

30 Wounded in Korea When Missile Explodes During Lecture

WITH 1ST MARINE DIVISION, Korea (AP)—A mortar shell which exploded when dropped accidentally at a training lecture killed six U.S. Marines and wounded 30 yesterday, it was announced today.

The shell presumably was an enemy missile. The instructor was showing how an American-made fuse could be adapted to it and apparently thought it had been made harmless, a division spokesman said.

The shell exploded as it hit the floor of a quonset hut at the division's mine warfare school just behind the front. The blast ripped out doors and windows and hurled steel fragments through the walls. The instructor was killed.

Four of the wounded were in critical condition. Four others were seriously hurt.

Names of all victims were withheld.

Every helicopter in the division was alerted to fly the wounded to hospitals and to carry doctors.

medicines and whole blood to the scene.

Some of the victims were flown to Marine medical stations. Others were taken directly to a hospital ship anchored in Inchon Harbor.

The Marine announcement did not say specifically that the mortar shell was of Communist origin. But it did describe it as an 82 mm missile, a standard Red army type. The comparable American mortar caliber is 81 mm.

Kent County Seeks Vehicle Inspection

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Kent County police and safety officials said today they want to set up a periodic motor vehicle inspection on a county basis.

The county officials approved a resolution to have the Grand Rapids city attorney draft an enabling act which would be presented at the 1955 Michigan legislative session.

Jerome D. Franklin, Grand Rapids traffic engineer, proposed the county level check. He said national figures show approximately 1 out of 3 cars need some repair.

Approximately 20 of each 100 American school children suffer from some form of visual defects.

Actress Loses Role Due to Visa Delay

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dolores Del Rio has lost her chance to return to Hollywood for a movie role because of a delay in obtaining a visa for her entry into the United States from Mexico.

Twentieth Century-Fox studio announced last night that because of the delay Katy Jurado has been substituted for a lead role in the movie "Broken Lance."

Last Monday a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy in Mexico City denied a report that Miss Del Rio had been denied a visa. It was learned that the matter of a visa had been referred to Washington but further details were not made public.

India to Grow

NEW DELHI (UP)—If all goes well, India might have a population of 520,000,000 in 1961. The All-India census report issued here, said that if food is available to the population during the next 30 years and if no popular birth control movement develops, India's population, which was 360,000,000 in 1951, could grow to 410,000,000 in 1961, 460,000,000 in 1971 and 520,000,000 in 1981.

Women to Give Coffee Report

3 Make Trip to Brazil;
Senators Ask for Data
About the Bean

WASHINGTON (U) — Senators looking into the high price of coffee called for information today from the three U.S. clubwomen and President Horacio Cintra-Leite of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau.

"We want to get all the facts and they are very nice ladies," Chairman Beall (R-Md) of the investigating Senate Banking subcommittee said in advance of the hearing. He referred to members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs who accepted an expense-paid trip to Brazil to make a brief investigation of coffee prices, production and supplies.

After their return the women said coffee supplies in Brazil are short because of a frost, that prices there also are high and the housewives and coffee drinkers here could expect to pay even higher prices for a few years.

The Pan-American Coffee Bureau headed by Cintra-Leite represents 11 coffee-growing nations in Latin America.

The clubwomen who accepted invitations to testify are Mrs. Zulo Woodford Schroeder of Grosse Pointe, Mich., Mrs. Carl E. Swanbeck of Huron, Ohio, and Mrs. Gilbert F. Loeb of Waterville, Maine.

Democrats Meet for Miami Rally

Meeting to Demonstrate That 1952 Party Split
Has Healed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U)—Democrats gathering here for a uniting rally claimed today that the Eisenhower - McCarthy split among Republicans has left them as the nation's only "party of responsibility."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, sounded the keynote of this South-eastern party conference when he said in an interview that "we are giving to the country what the Republicans promised—unity."

"We will go to the people next November on our record of performance and our record as the party of responsibility," he said.

Johnson, one of the speakers at a $100-a-plate dinner here Saturday night when former Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois will give the principal address, declined to comment on the most recent dispute between President Eisenhower and Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis., except to say "that's a Republican problem."

Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, who flew in from Washington last night, said he has advocated a single, joint Senate-House investigating committee.

Officials in the executive department must, with several congressional investigations operating, "spend too much time on the Hill" testifying before committees seeking the same answers, Russell said.

"A single committee would eliminate the mad rush for headlines and sensationalism," he said. "But as a practical matter, I don't know how you're going to control a chairman."

Democrats were streaming into this resort city from all parts of the country for a meeting that has been billed by National Chairman Stephen Mitchell as a demonstration that the wounds of the 1952 presidential campaign have been healed.

In that campaign President Eisenhower carried four Southern states and split wide open the traditional hold on Democratic Dixie.

Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.), one of the hosts for this unprecedented conference, said in an interview that he believes a new form of Democratic harmony will be represented here.

"All segments of the party are participating in our meeting," he said. "Actually, we are developing more harmony than the Democrats ever had before."

As evidence of this newfound unity, National Committee officials announced that not only Southern Democrats but members of the party from Northern states who like to call themselves liberals will participate in the program.

Green-Haired Girl Slows Up Plane-Making

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U) — A pretty young miss whose hair was green for a day returned to work at Douglas Aircraft Co. today as a brown-haired girl and plane production resumed a steady pace.

Mrs. Lucille Ballinger of Fullerton, a tool crib clerk, told a friend one day at work, "When you cut your waist-long hair, I'll color mine green." The friend cut her hair.

So yesterday Mrs. Ballinger appeared on the job wearing a bright red blouse—and green tresses. The lacquer she applied had made her hair grassy green.

"I suppose 200 or 300 workers came by to stare," said Mrs. Ballinger. "I didn't think it would cause such a commotion. I must admit it stopped production."

A foreman ordered her to cover her hair with a bandana, but that didn't help much. Finally he ordered her to go home, saying: "Please be brown-haired again by tomorrow morning." She was driven home in a company car.

Mrs. Ballinger said that when her husband Jimmy, who also works at Douglas, saw the green locks, "he ordered me to wash the stuff out by the end of the day." She added: "I'll never forget the look on his face when he saw me."

Mrs. Ballinger applied soap and water to her locks last night. Said her husband, "There'll be no more of that going on."

Said Mrs. Ballinger, "Well, anyway, I kept my promise."

Live Gun Shell of 1916 Vintage Found in Cellar

HUBBARDVILLE, N. Y. (U)—Mrs. Helena Munson decided yesterday that some of that junk in the basement had to go. She called a scrap dealer.

He turned up a 75mm. artillery shell—vintage 1916—among a cluster of old pipe and other scrap. The dealer notified state police, who called on Sgt. Frank Shipley, a World War II infantryman stationed with the Air ROTC at nearby Colgate University.

Shipley discovered the shell was "live." He removed its primer and fuse before the shell was carted off to Griffins Air Force Base at Rome.

Soprano, Bass Make Harmonious Transaction

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U) — Gene C. Soprano of Waltham sold his house to Gordon K. Bass of Newton, according to a transaction recorded in the registry of deeds here yesterday.

Mrs. Bass patiently told reporters, "It's just a coincidence."

De Valera's Government Prepares to Call Election

DUBLIN, Ireland (U)—Premier Eamon De Valera's government prepared today for general elections soon amid confident predictions by the opposition that the government would be toppled.

The Premier's Fianna Fail party, which holds only a slim parliamentary majority, decided last night to call a vote, "as soon as possible." The decision was reached at a party meeting after the Fianna Fail lost two by-elections at Cork and Louth.

Lindy's Story to Hit Screens Late This Year

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—The story of Charles A. Lindbergh's flight from New York to Paris will finally reach the movie screens late this year.

Ever since his history-making journey, the Lone Eagle has resisted Hollywood offers to dramatize the story on film. When he published his own version of the flight last year, studios began bidding for rights to the book, "The Spirit of St. Louis." Lindbergh turned down their bids for one of a man who has never produced a movie before. Broadway showman Leland Hayward.

"When the book first came out I didn't even read it; I had always been so tied up with aviation myself," said Hayward, who is a pilot and founder of Southwest Airways. "Then I got around to reading it. I was fascinated. When I came to the part where his wheels touched the ground at Le Bourget in Paris, the tears came to my eyes. I didn't think he could make it."

"It's a fabulous story. The Atlantic had been crossed before, but never from New York to Paris. It was a matter of the right man attempting it at exactly the right time. Lindbergh was that man. His feat had an electric effect on aviation, advancing it 10 years just by his single flight."

Right now Hayward is seeking an actor to play the flier, and he's getting plenty of help.

"Of course, every actor wants to play the part," he sighed, "and I have a great pile of photographs from unknowns who say, 'My mother always said that I looked just like Lindbergh.'"

"I would like to find an actor who is not famous. I think the public is jarred when it sees someone like Clark Gable portraying a well-known figure. You don't know whether you're watching Gable or the person portrayed."

Hayward has assigned Billy Wilder to write and direct the film.

"The locations are a problem," he added. "It will be hard to find any place that looks like Roosevelt Field in 1927. And it is almost impossible to reproduce the coast of New England towns he flew over. Nearly every town on a large body of water today has TV aerials on the houses."

Hayward said the picture would end when Lindbergh lands in Paris. The famed flier will approve the script and may be on hand as technical adviser.

Caracas Talks Show Optimism

Inter-American Parley Warned of Red Menace by Dulles

CARACAS, Venezuela (U)—Delegates to the Inter-American Conference buckled down to the grind of committee work today in an atmosphere of optimism and unity following Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' statement of U.S. hemisphere policy.

The committees are studying affairs, social problems and cultural topics.

Delegates from Guatemala, Argentina, Ecuador, Mexico and Nicaragua were listed to give policy statements at today's plenary session preceding committee meetings. The statement from Guillermo Toriello was awaited with particular interest since his government has been charged, particularly in the United States, with being much influenced by the Communists.

Dulles did not mention Guatemala specifically in his policy address yesterday, but he hit hard at the theme that America must realize it is not immune from the Red menace. Not a single country, he declared, has been free from Communist penetration and the American republics must make clear their position to it.

Most Latin-American delegates expressed satisfaction with what they termed the frankness and earnestness of Dulles' speech, although many wished he had gone further into their specific economic problems.

Except for telling them that President Eisenhower's administration is opposed to artificial price ceilings on coffee and increases in U.S. import duties on wool, the secretary couched his economic remarks in general terms.

He called on the Latin-American governments to avoid "unnecessary" obstacles to the inflow of foreign capital for economic development. He said plenty of private U.S. capital could be attracted to Latin America. Public financing, he told the delegates, should come primarily from the World Bank. He said the United States is increasing funds for technical assistance and cultural cooperation.

Dulles told the conference the U.S. Export-Import Bank also would finance sound and acceptable development projects not helped by the World Bank.

Dulles said the Communist danger for American republics mounts as long as they fail to make their position clear.

82-Year-Old Twins Separated by Death

DETROIT (INS)—Eighty-two-year-old twins Conrad and Richard Laethem were parted today with the death of Conrad.

The pair, born in Belgium, came to Detroit in 1885 and began pranks by confusing friends by switching names. Their outward appearances were markedly similar in nearly every respect.

Burial service for Conrad is scheduled for Saturday at a cemetery near Center Line.

Richard plans to remain in a convalescent home at Romeo.

2 Oklahoma Millionaires in Dem Race for Senator

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—A two-way race for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator from Oklahoma shaped up today between a couple of millionaire oilmen, both ex-governors, in what promises to be a very spirited campaign.

Winning the Democratic nomination usually assures election in traditionally Democratic Oklahoma.

Roy J. Turner, 50, Oklahoma City oilman who owns a widely known Hereford ranch at Sulphur, Okla., said yesterday he will oppose incumbent Robert S. Kerr.

Columbus Urges CAA to Grant Route to Airline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—The city of Columbus and the Columbus Chamber of Commerce have urged that Eastern Airlines be granted a route between Detroit and Charleston, W. Va.

The city and Chamber of Commerce supported Eastern's bid Thursday in a rebuttal brief prepared for the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Piedmont Airlines and Lake Central Airlines also have petitioned for the route.

All Goes Well With the Murphys Except . . .

ASHLAND, Ky. (U)—Harold Murphy of nearby Summit was laid off from his job a week ago at the Agmco Steel Corp. plant here.

Wednesday night, the family's house was destroyed by fire. All belongings, except a few blankets, were lost.

After the fire, Murphy was searching for a place to live when his car stalled on a railroad crossing. Efforts to move it failed. It was demolished by a train.

On top of all this, his seven children—ranging in age from 12 days to 10 years—all have the chicken pox.

Auto Accident Injuries Take Detroit's Life

MONROE (UP)—Oscar A. Gannaway, 37, of Detroit, died early today of injuries suffered in a Monroe County traffic accident Thursday night.

Police said Gannaway's car skidded on icy U.S. 25 in French Township and spun into the path of an oncoming truck.

The truck driver, Ralph B. Miles, 44, of Mishawaka, Ind., was not injured.

Blind Broom Makers Stage Sit-down Strike

PITTSBURGH (U)—Thirty-nine broom makers are waging a sit-down strike against their employer—the Pennsylvania Assn. for the Blind.

One of the workers said: "The trouble is that since we're blind we can't walk out. We have to work here or not at all."

The association says it lost money last year and has asked the blind broom makers to take a cut in their piecework rate from $1.13 a dozen to 75 cents a dozen.

Rochester, Shamrocks Reach Tournament Finals

Both Win 1st Tests After Opening Byes; 'Spot' Shifts to Ortonville, Walled Lake

Keego, Almont and Avondale, Oxford Battles Highlight Tonight's Action in Pontiac; Utica Also Moves Into 'B' Finals, at Troy, Dumping Clawson

By JACK SAYLOR

District basketball tournament spotlight in Oakland County shifts tonight with the opening of action at Walled Lake and Ortonville.

Clarkston, district favorite, and Ortonville tangle with Inlay City and Goodrich, respectively, in Class C at Ortonville, while Walled Lake's Class B test starts with Holly and Northville meeting prior to Walled Lake and Milford.

Six county teams were shifted to the sidelines in Thursday's games. Farmington and Clarenceville were beaten in Livonia Bentley's Class B tourney by Bentley and Redford Union, who meet tonight for the title.

Bentley was a 51-45 winner. Game marked the 9th straight success for the Livonia club over Bob Burtch's Falcons. Redford Union tripped Clarenceville, 30-32.

At Troy, Utica dumped Clawson, 44-33, to advance to the Class B finals against the winner of tonight's Warren-Orchard Lake St. Mary tilt. South Lyon was eliminated in Brighton's Class C tournament by Pinckney, 41-34.

Other two losers were St. Frederick's and Lake Orion at Pontiac. On the winning side besides St. Michael's and Rochester in the PHS games was Royal Oak St. Mary. Irish defeated St. Clement of Center Line, 54-37, at Van Dyke.

Form was followed closely Thursday night. Nearest thing to an upset was Brighton's 32-30 loss to Fowlerville. Only a week ago, Brighton had beaten the Livingston County quintet, 61-43.

Overconfidence hurt Brighton, as well as a poor 3rd quarter. Terry Butler led Fowlerville with 15 points, while Max Southwell had 12 for Brighton. Don Packer's 16 points paced Pinckney to its win over South Lyon. Ed Goodrich had 13 for the Lions.

At Van Dyke, Joe Hearn tossed in 21 points in leading RO St. Mary into the Class C finals. Royal Oak parochial will face Suburban Catholic League champion, St. Benedict, which ran roughshod over St. Francis de Sales, 63-33.

Utica took an early lead over Clawson and led at halftime, 26-15, but the Trojans pulled within four points midway in the 3rd quarter. Then lanky Gordon Rogers found the range and the Chieftains pulled away.

Elmer Balow put the game out of reach with four bull's-eyes in the 4th period. The 6-3 Rogers wound up with 23 points. Al Moore had 14 for Clawson. Dampening Utica's spirits despite the win, however, was the loss of forward Fred Hecle. He suffered a sprained ankle in the 1st half.

A pair of Class D games preceded the Utica-Clawson contest. New Baltimore whipped St. Agnes, 60-27, and Country Day routed St. Mary of New Baltimore, 62-30.

Pre-tournament favorite Rochester made its 1st appearance in the Class B division of the MHSAA district basketball tournament here last night, easily disposing of Tri-County rival Lake Orion, 50-33.

In Class C action, St. Michael moved into a finalist berth by beating St. Frederick, 40-34. The two teams split in regular-season play.

Tonight's schedule matches Keego Harbor and Almont in Class C at 7 p.m.; and Avondale and Oxford in Class B at 8:15 p.m. Winners will meet Rochester and St. Michael for the district championships tomorrow night.

Four of Rochester's starting five hit double figures as Coach Gene Konley's once-beaten Falcons dumped Orion for the 3rd time this year. Forward Roger Forbush and Max Powell and center Arlan Stone each collected 12, while guard Earl Kitchen added 10. Jerry LaMothe had 11 for the losers.

The 6-foot 4 1/2-inch Stone, Oakland County's leading scorer during the regular season with 374 points, now has a 22.7 point average for 17 games.

Falcons sank six of their 11 shots and moved into a 16-8 lead at the end of the opening period. Another spurt in the following quarter, in which they dropped in five of seven tries, made it 26-14 at halftime.

Falcons gradually pulled away in the 2nd half to move in front by a comfortable 20 points when Konley ran in his reserves to finish the final three minutes.

St. Michael collected only one field goal in the 1st quarter of its game with cross-town foe St. Frederick, but made good on eight of 19 chances from the free throw line to gain a 10-9 edge.

Guard Marty Keller picked up six points in the following stanza as the Shamrocks increased their advantage to 21-14. Rams practically matched the Mikes point-for-point in the 2nd half but were unable at any time to narrow the margin to less than four points.

Keller paced the Shamrock victory with 10 points, but game honors went to St. Fred center Lionel Bradley with 16.

HOLD IT, BUD—Rochester center forward Arlan Stone snatches a rebound away from Lake Orion's Lynn Hazlett (36) during the 3rd quarter of the Class B district tournament game here last night. Other players are Max Powell (6) of Rochester and Jerry LaMothe, Lake Orion. Rochester won the game, 50-33.

Stall Fails to Pay Off; 'C' Champions Ousted

By JOE FALLS
Associated Press Sports Writer

East Jackson, one of Michigan's five unbeaten high school basketball teams, was held to a mere 18 points last night in the state tournament.

But it won.

This quirk took place in the Class C District eliminations at Jackson High School, where Vandercook Lake, desperate for victory, froze the ball throughout the entire game in an effort to rattle East Jackson.

It didn't work. East Jackson went into a zone defense and stole the ball often enough to hang up an 18-11 victory.

The oddity even overshadowed the defeat of Saginaw St. Mary, defending Class C champion. St. Mary was eliminated by Saginaw St. Peter & Paul 55-45.

It marked the 2nd straight night a defending champion was ousted.

Boxer Discovers Saddler Tough

AKRON — Three and a half rounds of featherweight champion Sandy Saddler was enough for Charlie Slaughter. He just turned around and walked out of the ring last night muttering "I was out-classed."

The referee ruled it a TKO for Saddler at 1:20 of the 4th.

Slaughter had taken a steady pounding from the 2nd round on when he suddenly stopped fighting, threw up his hands in disgust and went back to his corner. He told reporters later he simply couldn't take further punishment.

Maybe Illini Can't Read Indiana Big 10 Winner — at Least on Paper

CHICAGO — On paper, Indiana figures to outscore Illinois on the Hoosiers' home floor tomorrow night and win the Big Ten basketball title and NCAA tournament berth.

A victory for Illinois—now on an eight-game winning streak—would create a three-way championship among Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, each with 11-3 league records. Hoosiers are defending NCAA champions.

Indiana has the Big Ten's best scoring average, 78.1, to top the Illinois by 2.1, and also has the top accuracy mark with a field goal percentage of .381.

Illini have a percentage of .361 but have been shooting nearly three times a game more than the Hoosiers. From the foul line, Illinois has .890 and Indiana .667.

Defensively, Illinois has the edge, holding opponents to an average of 68.2. Indiana has yielded 70.3.

Individual scoring title also will be determined in the climactic game. Indiana's Don Schlundt, leading the league with a 27.2 average, has a 12-point edge in total points over Illinois' Johnny Kerr, 26.3.

Kerr has tallied 342 points, including 126 field goals. Schlundt has 354, but only 107 baskets. He has dropped in 140 free throws.

Schlundt, however, has an excellent shooting average of .519 per cent. Kerr has .401, but has tried 30 per cent more shots.

Other Big Ten windup games to-morrow send Michigan to Michigan State and Wisconsin to Minnesota.

Michigan Picked in Mat Tourney

MSC, Purdue and Iowa Are Toughest Foes in Big 10 Meet

EAST LANSING — Two rings were set up in the Michigan State College Fieldhouse today for the start of the two-day Big Ten wrestling meet.

Preliminaries, quarter-finals and semi-finals this afternoon and evening will end down the bulky field of nearly 80 entries.

Every Western Conference school is represented at the 28th annual meet, first to be held at Michigan State.

All 10 schools have full eight-man teams ready to go with the sole exception of Wisconsin, which lacks an entry in the 123-pound weight.

Michigan, defending champion, is favored to repeat. Michigan State, Purdue and Iowa are expected to furnish the toughest opposition.

Michigan and Michigan State both have two defending champions returning. Indiana has one.

Leaders Win in Net Play

Barbers, Drugs Victors; Stewart Team Gains Tie for 3rd Place

There was no change at the top of the Pontiac Table Tennis League after Thursday's play. Both league-leading Capital Barbers and Furtney Drugs swept six points.

Stewart Construction pulled into a 3rd place tie with Typhoon Steel and Pontiac Varnish was only a point behind.

Construction teams split 3-3 with Dick & Wes Sports, while Varnish was beating Typhoon, 5-1. Shutout victims of Capital and Furtney were Newberry Market and Pontiac Cigarette Service, respectively.

Leon Meister of Varnish upset Marty Kabinell of Typhoon, 21-17, 21-18 and in mixed doubles, Eileen Tiffany and Dave Brown edged Mrs. Alvin Foon and Kabinell, 15-21, 21-18, 21-19.

Carole Ryan of Furtney downed Betty Syron of Cigarette Service in another tight match, 21-18, 21-17.

Span Between Titles

Francis Outmet won the U.S. Amateur golf title in 1914 and won it again in 1931, a span of just 17 years.

Main point of these few preliminary words is that Country Slaughter, a trifle bald now, has been bounding over the turf for 16 years in a Cardinal uniform.

Three years from this period were given over to the Army Air Force, so Country has actually spent only 13 seasons in baseball action for the Cardinals.

He started with Martinsville in 1935, so that means he has been a pro ballplayer for 19 years.

Important part of this picture is that Country Slaughter started hustling at top speed 19 years ago and he has cracked the speed limit every year since.

Some 12 or 13 years ago, I saw Slaughter take his turn at bat, make his hit, and then circle the bases at top speed. He would do that time and again,

Enos Slaughter, a Hustler for 13 Major League Seasons, Plays Important Role in Cards' Scheme

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—In 1933, a 22-year-old rookie reported for spring antics to the St. Louis Cardinals. He was like a young deer set loose to run and jump after a winter's confinement. His name was Enos Bradsher (Country) Slaughter. He reported in from Roxboro, N. C.

running from plate to plate as fast as he could travel.

He was a kid then. But he had the right idea. "It's the legs that count in this game—legs and arms. I'm trying to build up these legs so they'll last. For when they're gone, I'm gone."

Slaughter made a business of developing his legs just as Ty Cobb did. And Cobb's legs carried him through 24 seasons. The Cardinals have Stan Musial, the top man, but they need Slaughter's same, drive and hustle almost as much.

Slaughter's all-time total is over .300 but he is as valuable as any .330 hitter.

Cards expect to finish 1st or 2nd, but 3rd place is about all we can see. They don't figure to beat out the Dodgers or the Braves.

A lot depends on Slaughter. He could be excused for slipping a trifle. Baseball, with all its night engagements, is different from the old days of sunlight and a night of rest. It takes away at least 25 per cent of a player's lifetime work. Slaughter has already contributed more, from his length of play, than most anyone I know.

State Resorts Report Skiing to Be Excellent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan's heavy snow falls and colder temperatures produced excellent skiing prospects for weekend winter sports enthusiasts.

Most winter sports resorts Thursday reported hard packed base snow topped with a fine powder snow.

Here are the latest skiing reports from major centers:

Gavilan Gets Notre Dame Boxing Award

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (INS)—Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan today was named winner of the 1954 Notre Dame Bengal Award, given annually to the fighter "who has done the most for boxing in the last year."

The 147-pound champion, who will receive the award during Notre Dame's Bengal bout, also was named honorary referee of the welterweight final, March 17.

Bengal bouts determine the university's boxing champions and are so named because all proceeds go to the Catholic church's Bengal missions in India.

M-L Shooters Win

Multi-Lakes Rifle Club defeated Detroit Edison on both actual and handicap scoring in a recent match here. J. Armstrong fired a 189 to lead the M-L team to a 928-895 actual margin. In handicap shooting, Armstrong was again high with 213 as Multi-Lakes won, 1039-793.

BC Fives in Action

Boys' Club Wonders and Mighty Mites travel to Detroit tonight to meet teams from the Philadelphia Branch Boys' Club. Wonders are tied with Philadelphia Branch and Toledo for 1st place in the Michigan-Ohio league intermediate division with two games to play.

Training Camp Injuries Taking Heavy Toll

By ORLO ROBERTSON
AP Sports Writer

The baseball training season has not much more than started but already injuries have started to take a heavy toll among veterans and rookies alike.

At least a dozen players have been sidelined with just everything from a sore arm to Ted Williams' fractured collar bone. Williams' injury, which threatens to keep the Boston Red Sox veteran out of action until after the regular season starts, made the biggest headlines but the hopes of other clubs also have received blows, although probably not so serious.

Bob Porterfield, Washington's

ace hurler, hasn't yet returned to serious work after being beamed by a line drive. Alex Grammas, a rookie who figures to plug the shortstop spot for the St. Louis Cardinals, is back taking light workouts after tearing a shoulder muscle in his throwing arm but he's not expected to return to the lineup for another week or more.

Tom Alston, Cardinals' first rookie, is suffering from a sore back; Bob Trice, Athletics Negro pitcher, has a bad shoulder; and Walter Linder, Milwaukee's rookie catcher, is nursing a broken thumb.

And to this list yesterday was added Ernie Banks and Gene Baker, highly regarded Chicago Cubs shortstop-second base combination; Bill Miller, Yankee pitcher; Ted Kazanski, Philadelphia Phillies shortstop; Howie Judson, Cincinnati hurler; and Jerry Jacobs, rookie Baltimore infielder.

Banks was hit on the back of the head by a pitched ball in an intrasquad game at Mesa, Ariz., shortly after Baker sprained his right knee running out a single. Banks, knocked down by a pitch thrown by rookie right-hander Don Eiston, was taken to the hospital in a semiconscious condition.

Miller was felled when hit on the left leg by a line drive from the bat of Eiston Howard. X-rays proved negative but he'll be on crutches for several days and probably sidelined for a week.

Kazanski may not be available for the Phillies' first exhibition game against Detroit as the result of a spike wound. Stan Lopata stepped on the shortstop's foot rounding second.

Judson came up with a sore arm and as the result, Manager Birdie Tebbetts has changed his mind about starting the veteran against the White Sox tomorrow. Jacobs was forced to the sidelines with a strained muscle in his left forearm.

Lindsay's Goal Salvages Tie for Red Wings

Toronto Breaks Scoring Jinx at Olympia, Gets 3-3 Deadlock

DETROIT (UP) — A jinx that prevented the Toronto Maple Leafs from scoring on Detroit's home ice was broken today, but the Leafs still haven't won a game at Olympia for nearly a year.

Ted Lindsay's goal with less than five minutes to play gave the front-running Detroit Red Wings a 3-3 tie with 2nd-place Toronto Thursday night before 12,824 fans.

In the only other National Hockey League game Thursday night, the Boston Bruins took exclusive possession of 4th place by fighting the Montreal Canadiens to a 1-1 deadlock at the Boston Garden.

Detroit's tie protected the Red Wings' eight point margin over the Maple Leafs. Leafs now have only eight games in which to overtake the Motor City champs.

Maple Leafs, making the most of a penalty to Marty Pavelich of Detroit, moved in quickly in the opening period and took a 1-0 lead. Jim Morrison hit the mark with a 25-foot screened shot.

Gordie Howe and Glen Skov put Detroit ahead with goals in the 2nd period. Howe converted Lindsay's pass. Glen fired home a set-up pass from Tony Leswick.

Maple Leafs went ahead for the 2nd time when Sid Smith scored at 2:13 in the 3rd period, but Lindsay's equalizer saved Detroit from what could have been a hard-to-take setback.

Record Field of 144 Teams Open 21st Annual PWBA Tourney This Weekend

Twenty-first annual tournament of the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association will get under way this weekend at the Hilltop lanes in Rochester.

An all-time high total of 144 teams—24 more than last year's field—have filed entries for the meet. Tournament will run four weekends, winding up on March 27-28.

Memphis Dentist Grabs Lead in Houston Open

Middlecoff's 66 Takes Edge Over Fred Haas, Bill Nary

HOUSTON (UP) — Cary Middlecoff, to the surprise of practically no one, held a one-stroke lead today in the $30,000 Houston Open.

The former Memphis dentist yesterday repeated his usual custom of finding a magic putter in Houston. He ignored an aggravating head cold to shoot a methodically first round 66 on the 7,200-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

This left him one stroke ahead of Freddie Haas of New Orleans, winner of the January Palm Springs Open. Bill Nary, the young Tucson, Ariz., pro, was one stroke behind Haas at 68.

The first round was played in a bitter 45-degree wind. The field of 149 will be cut to the low 90 and ties after today's 18 holes.

Ten players withdrew or picked up yesterday. Among them was winter golf's leading money winner, the veteran E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Ardmore, Okla. Harrison withdrew just before being called to the 1st tee. The cold wind had irritated an old back injury. Middlecoff, Haas and Nary were

No Upsets in First Round of Southern Cage Tests

NEW YORK (UP)—College basketball's tournament show opened a two-week run last night with lots of excitement but, surprise, no upsets.

The two big extravaganzas begin over the weekend, but the Atlantic Coast and Southern Conferences got the jump on the others last night with first-round games in which all the favorites won. Normally, at least one juicy upset occurs almost every tournament.

The first tournament of the infant Atlantic Coast Conference had some close calls as North Carolina State barely squeezed past North Carolina 52-51 and Wake Forest had to go into overtime to subdue South Carolina 58-57.

Duke, best over the regular season, used its substitutes for most of the second half in a 96-68 romp over Virginia, and Maryland clouted Clemson 75-59.

A similar clean sweep was scored in the Southern Conference tournament at Morgantown, W.V., where regular season leader George Washington led the way with a 76-64 triumph over Washington and Lee. Furman knocked over Davidson 84-68 with famous Frank Selvy scoring 36 points. Richmond defeated Virginia Military 84-66 and West Virginia outscored William and Mary 84-69. North Carolina State will play Duke and Maryland will take on Wake Forest in tonight's ACC semifinals, while in the Southern Conference it's Furman against Richmond and George Washington against West Virginia.

The NCAA starts some of its first-round games Monday and concludes March 20.

The 17th annual National Invitation Tournament gets under way tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden with a triple-header and winds up March 13. The first night's pairings are Louisville vs. St. Francis of Brooklyn, Dayton vs. Manhattan and Wichita vs. Bowling Green.

Konno Sets 'M' Mark for 1,500 Meters

Garver Signs, Herbert Shines

LAKELAND, Fla. (U)—It was a tale of two pitchers in the Detroit Tigers spring training camp yesterday—the signing of hold-out Ned Garver and the effectiveness of Ray Herbert.

Garver, the most important of three holdouts, agreed to terms of his 1954 contract.

Herbert turned in a fine performance in an intrasquad game.

Garver, a righthander who pitched 500 ball for the Tigers in 23 games last year, had reportedly been balking over a big salary cut. He earned an estimated $25,000 last year. He was reported to have signed this year for $22,000.

Ruel said that Garver, who had remained at his Ney, Ohio, home during salary negotiations, would arrive in camp early next week. When he arrives, Tiger skipper

Fred Hutchinson will have his entire pitching corps in camp.

Garver came to Detroit in a 7-player swap with St. Louis late in 1952. He made only one start, a winning effort, before coming down with a sore arm. He was through for the remainder of the season.

Last year he was plagued by a recurring knee injury.

Garver underwent surgery during the winter and after testing the knee during hunting season, reported he was in fine physical shape.

Only infielders Johnny Pesky and Buddy Hicks were still classed today as holdouts.

Herbert, who was a big disappointment last year when he won four and lost six, gave up a walk and a single in a 3-inning turn on the mound as the "rookies" trimmed the "regulars" 2-1. The single, by Ray Boone, was the only ball that reached the outfield during Herbert's pitching stint.

Both Hutch and coach Schoolboy Rowe have been spending a lot of time with Herbert this spring trying to iron out his tendency toward wildness which cost the Tigers a few ball games last year. They also want the young hurler to mix up his delivery a little more.

A pair of bonus babies also showed up well in the 6-inning game. Outfielder Al Kaline drove in both winning runs with a triple and a long line drive. Reno Bertoia, a rookie second baseman, pounded out two doubles and walked twice for a perfect day at the plate.

Coaches Seek Cure for Home Run Ball

LAKELAND, Fla. (U)—Detroit Tiger coaches are trying to cure lefty Teddy Gray's home run ball.

They want Gray, who gave up 24 home runs last year, to upbraid a changeup pitch every once in a while so a batter can't park his fast one in the bleachers.

As one coach explained, "We figure he'd be a lot better pitcher if he could only throw a soft pitch once in a while just to keep the batter off balance."

Wolverines, Spartans End Gloomy Seasons

EAST LANSING (UP)—Defense-minded Michigan State and fast-breaking Michigan end dismal Big Ten basketball seasons Saturday in Jenison Fieldhouse as both teams struggle to stay out of the conference cellar.

The game is rated a toss-up. Michigan State won two from the Wolverines a year ago, 66-64 at Ann Arbor and 55-52 at East Lansing. Michigan nosed the Spartans earlier this season, 64-62.

Both teams have three wins and 10 losses in league competition.

Babe Defends Title in Sarasota Event

SARASOTA, Fla. (U)—Babe Zaharias puts her comeback efforts to a stiff test today when she sets out to defend her title in the annual 54-hole $3,500 Sarasota Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Three weeks ago the Babe tied Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., in the St. Petersburg Open, then lost in a sudden death playoff. A week later she won the Serbin Open at Miami Beach.

Art Sacrificing Natural Stuff, Says Harder

Houtteman Should Stop Trying to Be "Spot" Pitcher

TUCSON, Ariz. (U)—Art Houtteman will make Cleveland's Indians a "whale of a pitcher" if he will just stop trying to nick the edges of the plate, coach Mel Harder declared today.

Houtteman, who won 19 and lost 12 for Detroit in 1950, lost his stuff during a hitch in the army and had only a 7-7 record after being traded to the Tribe last season.

But Harder—who had a hand in developing such chuckers as Bob Feller, Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia—says the 26-year-old Houtteman has "all the basic tools—a fast ball, a curve, a change of pace and a good strong arm."

"I'm trying to convince him now," Harder added, "that when he tries to be a spot pitcher, catching only a quarter of an inch of the plate, he's sacrificing his natural stuff."

Illini Favored in Conference Indoor Meet

Defending Champs Eye 15th Big 10 Title in Weekend Test

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (INS)—Defending champion Illinois was favored today to win its 15th Big 10 indoor track championship at Champaign.

A victory for the Illini would tie Michigan for the most indoor titles.

Illinois, which has won the last three crowns, and Michigan were expected to dominate the field at the conference's 44th annual meet tonight and tomorrow.

On the basis of dual and triangular meets this season, Illinois men hold the best time in eight events while Wolverine stars have had the best time in five events.

Ron Mitchell of Illinois may break his own high jump mark of 6 feet 7 1/4 inches which he set in 1952. Last Saturday, Mitchell cleared the bar at 6 feet 8 1/4 inches.

Gene Maynard, Illinois junior half-mile speedster, seeks to erase the Big 10's indoor 880-yard mark of 1:52.7, made by Illinois' Stacey Siders in 1953. Last week Maynard covered the 880 in 1:52.3.

Three new marks will automatically go into the record books when the 300, 600 and 1,000 yard races are run for the first time in the history of the conference.

Illini have the inside track in the two hurdles events with Willie Williams mark of :07.9 in the 70-yard lows and Willard Thompson's :08.5 in the 70-yard highs, tops for the season.

Wheaton's Hockey Players Form Team

WHEATON, Ill. (U)—Like ducks taking to water, 12 Canadian students attending Wheaton College have proved their mettle as hockey players.

At first they had no place to practice or play; they had no equipment or standing in the college's athletic program. But they overcame the obstacles by forming the Wheaton Hockey Club, an intramural group. It is coached by Bill Gale.

Their rink is four tennis courts. Their personally-owned gear and skates are battered and makeshift but the winning spirit runs high. They've defeated the University of Chicago team twice, 8-4 and 7-4.

Reports From Majors' Camps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Manager Eddie Stanky, for the present at least will string along with veteran Solly Hemus as his starting shortstop. Stanky made this clear yesterday.

TAMPA, Fla.—"Who's on 2nd?" seemed to be the big question today in the camp of the Cincinnati Redlegs. Manager Birdie Tebbetts plans to take a good look at Rocky Bridges, Johnny Temple, Connie Ryan, Grady Hatton and perhaps some others before he makes up his mind.

TAMPA, Fla.—With Minnie Mi-noso having shaved off his cabalero mustache and signed up for a reported $27,000, the Chicago White Sox today settled down.

BRADENTON, Fla.—Veteran Andy Pafko will be in right field and batting 5th when the Milwaukee Braves meet the Brooklyn Dodgers at Miami tomorrow and Sunday. Pafko will replace Henry Aaron, highly touted rookie up from Jacksonville who has hit only two singles in nine times at bat and was charged with two errors yesterday.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Washington Senators thaved a bit last night and offered hold-out 1st baseman Mickey Vernon an $11,000 raise. He made $19,000 last year and has been demanding $16,000 more to play this year.

Cubs' Rookie Shortstop Hit in Head With Pitch

MESA, Ariz. (INS)—Ernie Banks, prized Rookie shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, was hit in the back of the head Thursday by a pitched ball.

The accident occurred in the 3rd inning of an intra-squad game at Mesa, Ariz.

Banks was injured while attempting to dodge a ball thrown by Don Elston, rookie hurler. The infielder was removed to the clubhouse. Extent of the injury was not determined immediately.

Bing Miller, a baseball coach since 1937 when he retired as a player, now is a scout for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Hawaiian Star Finishes More Than Lap Ahead

Wolverines Trail OSU by 6 Points in Big 10 Meet at Ann Arbor

By GLENN ENGLE

ANN ARBOR (U)—Ohio State appeared a bit ahead of schedule today in its quest for its 6th straight Big Ten swimming championship.

Going into the conference meet's 2nd day, the Hawaiian star-studded Buckeyes boasted 11 points to arch rival Michigan's five. Other eight Big Ten teams, as expected, were farther back.

Last night's only event was the marathon 1,500 meter test.

To the surprise of no one smooth Little Ford Konno of Ohio State won it with ease. Without being pushed Konno did the gruelling distance in the pool record shattering time of 18 minutes, 28.5 seconds.

More than a lap of the 25-yard Michigan pool behind him was Michigan's Scotch-born Jack Wardrop.

Konno's time clipped 37.3 seconds off the four-year-old pool mark of Jack Taylor, also of Ohio State. But it was 9.3 seconds off Konno's national collegiate record of 18:11.5 set in the Big Ten meet at East Lansing two years ago.

Wardrop's runnerup finish was no surprise either.

The 3rd place finish of Rocco Sirigliano of Ohio State was somewhat of a surprise, at least to his coach Mike Peppe. Peppe said he hadn't expected Sirigliano to beat out Iowa's Fred Lucas who edged him in the same event last year.

But Matt Mann, Michigan's venerable coach, said he had picked Ohio for 1st and 3rd in the 1,500 meter, with Michigan 2nd. Mann said however he had hoped to pick up 6th place with John O'Reilly. But O'Reilly finished 8th.

Bill Kerr of Indiana was 5th and Chris Mengel of Purdue, 6th, in the field of 14.

Scoring goes 7-5-4-3-2-1 for the 1st six places.

The 1,500 meter was run off in three heats and the top six places were computed on comparative times.

Tonight's events will provide a much better clue to which way the title will go. On the program were finals in the 50-yard freestyle, 200-yard back stroke, 220-yard freestyle, 200-yard breast stroke and one meter diving event.

Other final events will be held Saturday night. Only time trials were scheduled for morning and afternoon sessions.

Algerian Lightweight Meets Coast Fighter

TOLEDO, O. (U)—Cisno Andrade, Los Angeles lightweight, and d Hoacine Chabot, of Algiers, have been matched in a 10-round bout here Saturday, March 20, promoter Sid Goldberg of the Mercury Athletic club announced today.

The bout, marking the 1st U.S. appearance of the Algerian lightweight, will be televised nationally over the ABC network and will be staged in conjunction with the Ohio State Amateur boxing tournament, Goldberg said.

Bob Considine Says:

Presidents Don't Welcome Secret Service Protection

NEW YORK (INS) — Some people . . . some places . . . some things—

Almost since the organization of the Secret Service, presidents have expressed irritation over the almost constant vigilance maintained over them. Cal Coolidge thought his guards were a waste of money. Herbert Hoover asked that the staff be cut, F.D.R. and Harry Truman delighted in giving them the slip. Eisenhower would have preferred not having them around, especially trailing him about the golf course.

It takes an outrageous incident such as the attempt on Mr. Truman's life and the shocking lunacy of the gun scene in the House of Representatives to show just how casual we can become about protecting our public figures from dangerous crackpots.

It is appalling to recall that only a few days ago any assassin could walk into the House, Senate or Supreme Court and blaze away. News conferences by the President and members of his Cabinet were and may still be about as open as the rest rooms at Grand Central.

The President has been playing golf with the most limited kind of protection, a couple of secret service men carrying 45's unobtrusively, and two carrying golf bags—in which are a walkie-talkie and a Tommy gun. He should have more protection. So should all who serve their country.

Bill "Hopalong Cassidy" Boyd, entered the crowded diner of the Super Chief not long ago and was instantly and loudly recognized by a harsh-voiced lady traveling with her young son.

"Hoppy," the lady commanded, "Tell this boy to eat his meat." Conversation in the car subsided and all eyes were on Boyd and the boy.

"You like meat, son?" Hoppy asked.

"Hate it," the kid replied.

"Then don't eat it," Boyd said, walking away and the car burst into applause.

Sat next to a prominent Los Angeles toy man, Lou J. Cooper, on America's swift DC-7 nonstop trip from L. A. Cooper was en route to the annual American Toy Manufacturers Association convention to be held in New York this coming week.

"Space toys are off, despite the television publicity space gets."

he said, in a brief review of trends in the business. "Dollar volume has dropped in the past year. Parents aren't buying high-priced things as they did, like bicycles, good tricycles, big dolls and so forth.

The trend is toward smaller, cheaper toys, with plastics getting an increasing play. War toys are not quite as strong as they were, but the plastic jeep is a tremendous seller—as is anything that flies.

"The surest seller over the years? That's easy—the gyroscope top. Kids have been buying it for half a century, and always will, I guess."

It's a tremendous business: Amounts to $800,000,000 in sales per year.

Think of the wreckage!

Thugs' Victim Finds His Cash; Day Brightens

GRAND RAPIDS — The world looked $500 brighter in daylight Wednesday to 56-year-old Alex Ruffin, proprietor of a beverage shop. He had called police Tuesday night to report that two thugs had jumped him as he parked his car beside his home and taken the day's receipts, $500, which he was carrying in a cloth bag. Come daylight, police made a routine check looking for clues and found the cloth bag under the car, where it had fallen in the scuffle. The $500 was undisturbed.

Good Samaritan Shot for No Apparent Reason

DETROIT (INS)—Police said today that a suburban Taylor Township man was shot and wounded Thursday night by one of a trio of stranded motorists which begged a snow shovel to free their car from a snow drift. The victim, Burritt C. Sutliff, 41, was treated at Wayne County General Hospital for a bullet crease in his left side. Police said Sutliff, co-owner of a Lincoln Park industrial plant, could offer no motive for the attack.
