Area Weekend Traffic Toll: 3 Dead

10 Others Killed on State Roads in Auto Mishaps

Safe Driving Chairman
Clyde H. Haskill Says
Fatalities Doubled

Three persons were killed in head-on automobile crashes in Pontiac and Oakland County Saturday and Sunday. Dead are:

Willard Leadbetter, 24, Auburn Hotel; Cleo W. Callahan, 26, 229 E. Walton Blvd., and Burnell J. Schlusser, 54, Leonard.

Two others injured in the same accident are in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital. They are Miss Farness Musser, 27, 954 Stanley Rd., and Willard Larson, 50, Van Dyke.

Twelve other persons injured in city accidents over the week ended the chairman of the city's Safe-Driving Day campaign to say. "This was one of the worst week ends Pontiac has ever seen."

"The city's traffic fatalities for the year now stand at 14, more than twice last year's figure," Clyde H. Haskill said.

"And three of those deaths occurred during the campaign, aiming at making Dec. 1 accident-free," he added.

Ten others killed in traffic accidents in Michigan over the week end were:

Frank L. Horton, 57, Benton Harbor.

Ruby E. Eveld, 41, Benton Harbor.

Mrs. Rachel Smith, 49, Flint.

Ladonna Raye Myers, 21, Detroit.

Ronald Childress, 43, Toledo.

Gary Matuszewski, 8, Bay City.

Alex Golubinski, 60, Detroit.

William C. Wondro, 23, Detroit.

Norman Calvin, 23, Pulaski, Ill.

Willard Christman, 46, Toledo.

Leadbetter and Callahan died after a crash at 2:15 a.m. Sunday on Kennett Rd., just east of Stanley Rd.

Pontiac Police said skid marks indicated Callahan crossed over the center line when the crash occurred.

Miss Musser, a passenger with Leadbetter, was ordered held by Deputy Coroner I. C. Prevette, as a material witness in the accident.

Dr. Prevette said Leadbetter died immediately and Callahan was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said that Larson was driving over the yellow line, when the head on collision took place at (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Turnpike Head Eyes Road Plan

Higgins Says Proposed Highway Will Not Stop Future Toll Road

Expected revenue from the proposed Rockwood to Saginaw toll road would be reduced "to a limited extent" by construction of the 32-mile Fenton to Clio superhighway, Chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority George N. Higgins said today.

Higgins spoke at noon before about 200 people in Flint's Hotel Durant.

The Fenton-Clio project was approved recently by the State Highway Department and will parallel part of the proposed 113-Mile turnpike route.

"However, its total effect on annual revenue forecast for the turnpike will not in my opinion prevent the toll road from being financed," Higgins stated.

"The highway commission (Charles M. Ziegler) is doing everything in his power to keep the turnpike from being financed," Higgins charged.

"His best weapon is to threaten to build a competing expressway available without tolls."

The effect of Ziegler's effort, said Higgins, "is fine for the people in the turnpike corridor... never before have they enjoyed so much attention and such an attentive ear for new construction demands."

The MTA chairman said in his opinion the Fenton-Clio project would not have been delayed if not for Ziegler's alleged desire to torpedo the toll road.

If the highway department "were to connect the Fenton-Clio road with a four-lane, limited access highway south to Detroit and on to Rockwood there would be little need for a turnpike and we could get only about half of our forecast revenue."

But construction of a complete north-south freeway would take ten years and cost more than $160,000,000, Higgins asserted.

"Construction costs on our route will be $164,000,000 and it would be finished 39 months after bonds are issued."

He said Genesee County mortgaged $1,000,000 of the future gas tax returns to pay its share of the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Russians Hold 2 U.S. Solons in Berlin Sector

Ostertag, Boland Freed by Reds After Arrest for Radio Possession

BERLIN (AP)—Two American congressmen were held yesterday in the Russian sector of Berlin for more than four hours. The incident challenged some of the Allied occupation rights in this four-power city.

U.S. officials disclosed that East German Communist police detained Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY), Ostertag's wife, Rep. Edward P. Boland (D-Mass), and their escort officer, Lt. James T. McQueen, of Mullins, S.C.

The party was held at pistol point at the Russian War Memorial Center in Treptow. The German police contended the visitors had violated the laws of the Communist state by using an automobile equipped with a two-way radio.

SUPPORT CLAIM

U.S. authorities said that the Russians supported this claim later in the day when the Americans' release was secured.

American officials took this to mean that the laws of the East German republic now could be applied to Allied personnel entering East Berlin. This would in effect weaken, if not destroy, the four-power character of the divided, occupied city.

Maj. Gen. Charles L. Dasher Jr., U.S. commandant in Berlin, demanded an audience with the Soviet commandant, Maj. Gen. P. A. Dibrova, to lodge a verbal protest.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

Dasher indicated he would take up with Gen. Dibrova the rights of the Allies, especially in the use of official vehicles, as well as the "unjustified mistreatment" of the congressional party.

Ostertag told newsmen it was a "harrowing experience for me but I felt it would straighten itself out."

"It was difficult to understand the delay in getting the word down the line to any responsible authority. My wife was rather nervous of course."

Agree on Need, but Not Way

Legislators Debate Problem of Providing Care for Retarded

Four Michigan legislators, including Rep. Richard C. Van Dusen (R-Birmingham), have agreed that emergency care must be provided for more than 1,000 mentally retarded children awaiting admission to state institutions. But, like the Legislature, they split on means of providing the care. The four appeared at a public debate in Detroit yesterday.

All efforts to provide emergency care are currently stalemated.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) and Van Dusen insisted the Senate plan to provide more beds should prevail. Reps. Ed Carey (D-Detroit) and George Salade (R-Ann Arbor) argued for the House proposal.

Salade and Carey spoke in favor of the state buying either the Farmington Children's Home or the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, or both, to meet the emergency.

Hutchinson and Van Dusen argued that care could be provided without purchase of more facilities.

Van Dusen said it would be "unwise" for the state to buy either the Farmington or Oakland County hospitals, adding that the Senate thought the problem could be met by "using the facilities for 800 children at Forst Custer; up to 300 children in hospital under contract and 300 under family care."

Indian Newspaper Criticizes Red Bomb Announcement

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Hindustan Standard said today Russia's Communist party chief should have picked another time, place and occasion to announce the explosion of a hydrogen bomb by the Soviet Union.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, now touring India with Premier Nikolai Bulganin, announced the bomb test in a speech Saturday at Bangalore.

The Standard, a leading newspaper in New Delhi and Calcutta, said Khrushchev's use of an Indian platform for the announcement was "ill chosen... inappropriate and embarrassing to his Indian hosts."

The Standard's statement was the second time the Russian leader have drawn critical comment from the Indian press since they arrived more than a week ago. They were criticized also when they attacked the West in a speech before the Indian Parliament.

The Russian visitors stayed overnight at Ootacamund, south India's favorite hill station, after an inspection trip of coffee, tea, coconut and banana plantations.

It was announced there that Bulganin and Khrushchev will extend their Indian visit two days—until Dec. 14—to permit a trip to Kashmir.

Within the Soviet party, disagreement continued over what Khrushchev said exactly in describing the strength of the bomb exploded. However, all but one of the Russian reporters listening to the speech reported Khrushchev said "millions of tons." The one exception said he heard it as one million tons.

Neither Russian nor Indian officials released an official text. The Soviet government's announcement in Moscow said only that the test was "the most powerful of all explosions carried out until now" by the Soviet Union.

He got out to survey the damage thieves might have caused. There wasn't any damage. It wasn't his car at all. He called police.

Police had a stolen car report from a fellow who lived near Manus' girl friend. It was the same model, make and color, and in one of those rare instances Manus' key fitted both ignitions.

Temperatures Take Dive to Low Mark of Season

The most severe wintry blasts of the season gripped Pontiac and the rest of the state this morning, sending temperatures tumbling to the near-zero readings in many parts of Michigan.

Pontiac residents experienced a sharp drop from Sunday's high of 40 to a frigid 9 above zero at 7 this morning. A light snow started to blanket Oakland County as the morning rush hour traffic took to the road and slowed traffic to a crawl.

Today's plummeting thermometer recorded the state's first zero weather this season with Escanaba reporting a two below reading.

Not much relief is in store as the weatherman calls for continued cold and snow flurries today with a high near 20. Continued cold is predicted for Tuesday with a high from 20-24 foreseen. Tonight's low is expected to be 8.

The cold arctic air that swept into the state from Canada tightened its icy grip on the eastern two-thirds of the nation with temperatures hovering around

2 Still Critical After Receiving Burns Saturday

Neighbor Braves Fire to Rescue Youngsters on Hands and Knees

A distraught mother prayed today for her two remaining children, after two others, rescued from flames and smoke, died in Pontiac General Hospital.

A fifth child of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Johnson, 86 W. Beverly Ave., Richard 2, was found dead in their home, where fire broke out at 5:45 p.m. Saturday.

Mark, 8 months, and Victoria, 2, Richard's twin, died of burns Sunday.

Still in critical condition in the hospital are Stephen, 4, and Donald, 3. Both are suffering from severe burns.

Three of the children were rescued before firemen arrived by a 23-year-old neighbor, who crawled on knees and stomach to reach them.

The oldest, Stephen, apparently walked out of the house by himself.

Mrs. Johnson, 23, who had been making a phone call at a neighbor's house, was prevented from entering by the crowd that gathered around the burning home.

Korean veteran, Donald Boyd, ran across the street from his home at 91 Beverly, where he was taking with his parents.

The front door had been broken into by another neighbor. Boyd made three trips into the house, crawling on his hands, knees and stomach.

"After the third trip, they said all the kids were out. I couldn't hear any more screaming. So I went home," he said.

Boyd told no one who he was. It took Pontiac Police more than 24 hours to find his name and address.

"I don't know who it was I brought out. I couldn't see them. Just feel them and hear their screams," Boyd said Sunday.

The three, were named as Mark, Victoria and Donald by Boyd's father, Earl Boyd. He and his daughter, Janet, rode with firemen to take the children to the hospital.

Donald is a latching contractor, who served with the Army in Korea. He is a graduate of Pontiac High School.

Mrs. Johnson told police that she locked the doors to the small, frame home, and went to a neighbor's to call her brother.

President, Hall Talking Politics

Ike and GOP Chairman Closeted to Consider Party Problems

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower takes the big step back into active leadership of the Republican party today as he talks politics with GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

The conference could be devoted to current party problems or could bear on the 1956 decision political figures all over are waiting to hear—Will Eisenhower run again?

GOP hopes were growing that he would accept renomination. His stepped-up activities in recent days, his appearance of physical well-being and consistently favorable medical reports gave reason for the President's party to cross its fingers, at least.

On the other hand there was the virtual certainty that some Eisenhower intimates, above all Mrs. Eisenhower, have been telling him he's done enough for his party and country and the time has come to step aside for somebody without a heart attack in the background.

In New Orleans for a convention, Edgar Eisenhower disclaimed any knowledge of what his brother's decision might be. But he told the Times-Picayune these three factors would determine the President's second-term plans:

1. "What the doctors tell him."
2. "What Mamie (Mrs. Eisenhower) feels about it."
3. "What the foreign situation is."

'I Heard Them Screaming,' Says Rescuer

Donald Boyd, 23-year-old neighbor who rescued three of the Johnson children from their burning home Saturday said:

"I heard their screaming inside. There was nothing else to do."

"I crawled on my hands and knees to the living room. The smoke was bad. I couldn't see much, but there were scattered fires all over."

"I found one baby and brought him out. Then I stuffed a handkerchief in my mouth and went back in."

"I crawled on my stomach to reach two kids lying on the bed. I had to make two trips."

"It was very hot. My lips were seared and smoke filled my nose and eyes. I couldn't see, only feel and hear the kids screaming."

Jesse E. McBride Dies in Cranbrook Road Blaze

BLOOMFIELD VILLAGE—Jesse E. McBride, 76, retired vice president and chief engineer for the Palmer-Bee Co. in Detroit, was found burned to death in the library of his $75,000 Bloomfield Village home Saturday, in a blaze that destroyed both the library and adjacent kitchen.

Damage to the house at 1216 Cranbrook Road was estimated at $25,000, excluding another possible $15,000 for furnishings and clothing damaged by smoke and water.

While some firemen felt the blaze originated in the library, which contained a television set, Oramel O'Farrell, assistant State Fire Marshall, said his investigation showed an overheated pan on the stove could have been the cause. McBride was not a smoker.

The McBride's housekeeper, Mrs. Billie Lowe, 40, of Detroit, said she made McBride, a semi-invalid, comfortable and left to buy groceries shortly before flames broke out in the three story brick residence. The fire was reported by a neighbor and a passerby and brought under control in less than half an hour by fire trucks from Bloomfield Township and Village and Bloomfield Hills.

FIRST FATALITY

McBride's wife, Edith, and a daughter were returning from Chicago at the time and learned of the tragedy over their car radio. Mrs. McBride collapsed and was placed under her physician's care.

Bloomfield Village Fire Chief Charles Duryea said to his knowledge, the blaze marked the first fatality in the history of the village fire authority.

McBride retired in 1950 after 40

ILA, Teamsters Sign Aid Pact

Mutual Help Contract Will Attempt to Solidify Freight Handling

NEW YORK (INS) — The AFL-Teamsters Union and the Independent International Longshoremen's Association have signed a four-year mutual assistance pact. The agreement pledges both unions "to render mutual assistance and aid in joint organizational efforts" in eastern, southern and central regions.

Officials announced after the pact was signed in New York yesterday following nine months of negotiations that a joint check of the New York, New Orleans and Toronto ports would be made.

Aim of the survey is "to determine how much freight is being moved by non-union longshoremen and truckmen."

ILA officials refused to say whether the agreement brought the independent union closer to a return to the AFL which ousted it two years ago on charges of gangster control.

ILA head Capt. William V. Bradley said his union would get "whatever aid is necessary" from the teamsters, but he added that this does not include financial assistance. The agreement expires in July, 1959.

me, I was afraid of prowlers," she said.

Mr. Johnson, 24, was on a hunting trip to northern Michigan. Police said the neighbor asked her: "Aren't you afraid to leave the children alone?"

She replied, "No, Stephen is very good around the stove." Firemen said that two burners and the oven were turned on. They theorized that Richard had turned them on and gas from the oven had exploded.

Sgt. Ted C. Goines and Detective Richard G. Evans of Pontiac Police, who investigated Sunday, said the oven showed signs of explosion. They said there were no cooking utensils on the stove.

Mr. Johnson told them she was sure the stove was off when she left the house at 5:30 p.m. She said the children were playing in the living room.

Johnson returned from hunting Sunday morning "to avoid traffic," he told police. He is employed by the city.

He was told that Mark died at 12:50 a.m. and Victoria at 6:35 a.m. Sunday. Deputy Oakland County Coroner I. C. Prevette, said that Richard died of asphyxiation, with severe burns as contributory cause.

The "following too closely" violation was a contributing factor in 16 of last month's accidents, Moxley said, with another 16 accountable to "right-of-way" violations.

In stating the next highest violation, "improper parking from parked position," Moxley reminded that "it is the responsibility of the driver of a parked vehicle to yield the right-of-way to moving traffic before entering the traveled lanes."

Meany's Diplomacy Paving Way for AFL-CIO Merger This Week

(AFL and CIO will merge next week into a single, powerful alliance of 16 million members. What are the aims of this group, socially and politically? Will it succeed? Can it reconcile factions long at odds? The answers depend largely on one man, George Meany. This first of three articles by a veteran labor reporter looks at Meany the man.)

By NORMAN WALKER

NEW YORK (AP)—George Meany, erstwhile Bronx plumber, became head of the AFL three years ago. He quickly announced his primary aim was to arrange a merger with the CIO.

It seemed an impossible task. Jealousies and conflicts among rival unions and their leaders had doomed many prior merger attempts.

Considering all the problems, three years has been a short time. For Meany, with his typical plodding, make-haste-slowly approach, has succeeded in steering the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations into a single, powerful alliance of 16 million members. It will end a 20-year split in organized labor.

Will the new organization endure? What will this formidable combination mean in terms of new inroads against employers, in organizing more union members, in influencing national politics—the stated union objectives for the merger?

Answers to these questions largely depend on Meany, the pudgy, 225-pound, coldly practical union veteran, Walter Reuther, dynamic young head of the CIO, has stepped aside and Meany, as the undisputed choice for president of the new AFL-CIO, will be America's No. 1 labor chief.

Keep Some Pay to Buy Drinks, Says Abstainer

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Judge Luigi De Pasquale, who never took an alcoholic drink, says a man is a fool if he doesn't keep a little of his pay from his wife for a drink now and then.

The judge's comments were made in district court yesterday when a 49-year-old father of four came before him on a drunk charge for the third time in six months. The three charges were on complaint of his wife.

The man said he works hard, earns between $70 and $90 a week and brings it all home.

"This is a mistake," the judge said. "A man who takes all his pay home is a fool. He should save some for himself. Life would be pretty dreary for the average man unless he could have a drink. He ordered an innocent plea entered for the man and had him escorted home."

Judge De Pasquale, who is 60 years old and says he never had a strong drink in his life, is happily married and has three daughters and five grandchildren.

expressed by some businessmen and politicians that the merged union federation will become a "giant labor monopoly" seeking eventually to take over control of the government.

"To indicate that the united labor movement will attempt to horsewhip the rest of the country is a complete distortion of the facts," says the blunt-spoken, 61-year-old Meany.

"It is dedicated, not to predatory objectives, but to serve as a force for good in the progress of our country."

The merger is all set. It will be formalized at separate AFL and CIO conventions beginning Thursday, followed next week by a joint convention of the new AFL-CIO.

This joint convention, by the way, will be in an armory just a few blocks from Grand Central Station. The rail terminal is one of the structures Meany helped build when as a young man he was lugging his plumber's wrenches around New York.

Those were the days when Meany's wages were the chief support for his grandfather, his mother and seven younger brothers and sisters. His father Mike, a local union president and Democratic party precinct captain, had died. Meany, Irish as they come, married an Irish girl, a garment workers' union member.

QUICK RISE IN UNIONISM

Meany's rise in unionism was swift. Becoming president of the New York State Federation of Labor in 1934, he pushed 72 labor bills through the State Legislature in one year. His achievements led to his selection as the AFL's national secretary-treasurer five years later.

Ever since then, Meany has been a man to be reckoned with in union affairs. While the late AFL President William Green was inclined to compromise and avoid conflict, Meany as his chief lieutenant was constantly prodding Green to take more stands.

Gradually, both before and after he was selected to head the AFL on Green's death in November 1952, Meany quietly took on all the old-line AFL chieftains in tests of strength and, by besting them one by one, has in practically every case earned their respect and support.

Out in San Francisco at the 1947 AFL convention, Meany tangled with John L. Lewis, head of the miners' union. Lewis wanted the AFL to refuse to submit the non-Communist affidavits required by the newly enacted Taft-Hartley law. He cowed AFL bigwigs with such scathing language as "I don't think the federation has a head—its neck has just grown up and haired over."

It was Meany who rose to answer the attack. "None of us," he reasoned with AFL leaders, "thinks it is a good law. But it was placed on the statute books under the Democratic system, and the only way it is going to be changed is by our representatives under that system."

Just as the convention supported

Meany against Lewis in that instance, Meany by courage, persuasion and logic has won all the big arguments he's had within the federation. There have been a lot of them.

MODERATE COURSE

His determination and diplomacy in dealing with fellow union leaders are largely responsible for patching together the AFL-CIO merger. Perhaps these qualities are a clue to what to expect from the new combined organization.

The AFL, now with about 11 million members, has been considered on the whole conservative. The smaller CIO, with about five million members, has often been called "radical" and regarded on the "left" on the American scene.

It appears likely that Meany will try to steer a middle course, whipping the old-line AFL chieftains into more economic and political activity while taming the CIO to a more moderate course.

So long as Meany is the dominant figure in the new setup it will depend much on him whether the distillation of the AFL and CIO becomes strong, weak or moderate. The chances are he'll move cautiously at the outset, gradually consolidating the cumbersome alliance.

Famous Paintings of Grandma Moses to Be on Exhibition in New York City

NEW YORK (INS)—Anna Mary Robertson Moses is a little old woman who lives on a farm—she's also a famous painter called "Grandma Moses" to whom presidents and generals write fan letters.

Beginning Tuesday some 40 of her paintings will be on exhibition in New York city.

Also on display will be a note written to Grandma by President Eisenhower. She also has received letters from former President Harry S. Truman, Sir Winston Churchill and Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952.

The Eisenhower note was written in March 1945 when Ike was in France, and it contains a reproduction of a painting by the well-known amateur artist, D. D. Eisenhower.

His tribute to 95-year-old Grandma Moses reads: "For Grandma Moses, a real artist, from a rank amateur. With best wishes, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

FIRST PUBLIC SHOW FOR SOME
Among the Grandma Moses pictures to be exhibited will be some never before exposed to public view—the "July 4th" painting which hangs in the White House, as well as the picture owned by Truman. There also will be a reproduction of "The Dead Tree" which hangs in the Louvre in Paris.

The list of those lending paintings to the exhibit from Nov. 29 through December includes the Metropolitan Museum of Art, author Louis Bromfield, playwright Russell Crouse and Thomas J. Watson.

Watson, head of International

Business Machines, is also sponsoring the show, as assembled by Dr. Otto Kallir of the Galerie St. Etienne, Watson, an art lover by hobby, was one of the first to recognize the Moses talent, and Dr. Kallir held the first 1-man show of Grandma's paintings in 1939.

The exhibit, entitled "A Tribute to Grandma Moses," also will include her famous "Painting Gable," on the sides of which the 95-year-old artist long ago painted several landscapes.

Even the catalogue of the show will be impressive—aside from the photographs of paintings usual in such brochures, it also will contain a summary by Grandma of her philosophy of life—a life that began as a farm girl the year Lincoln ran for president—1860—and today includes world fame in the art world.

Set Muck Day in Imlay City

IMLAY CITY—Muck and Vegetable growers will hold their annual Muck Day at the Legion Building here, Wednesday morning and afternoon.

The program is held in cooperation with the Extension Service and the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber will furnish the noon lunch.

St. Clair County Agent, Irving Wyeth, will be chairman of the morning session which will open at 10 o'clock with an irrigation movie. Speakers will be Bill Cutler, agricultural engineering specialist, and Roland Barlow, specialist in irrigation water rights at Michigan State University.

At 11 o'clock, there will be a panel discussion, with Marjorie VanDen Berg, chairman, Ted West, Bert Eldridge, Fred Hockema and Emmett Anderson.

The afternoon program will have Dr. Robert Lucas, MSU Extension muck specialist; Lawrence Shepard, MSU Soils Department, and Professor Knieram, nematode specialist.

His wife took him to the company offices and finally to the State Police post where the ambulance was called to take him to the hospital.

Two Alarms at Once Call Keego Firemen

WEST BLOOMFIELD—The West Bloomfield Township Fire Department received two alarms at approximately the same time Saturday night.

While they were on a resuscitator call for Dewey Smith of 3869 W. Maple Rd., who suffered a heart attack, a second call came in to go to a house fire at the home of Lawrence Marinack of 5502 Garden Terrace.

The $100 fire at Marinack's residence was caused by burning grease on the stove, according to owners involved.

4-H Delegates Pledge Safety

Over 1,200 at Congress Promise Safe Driving Every Day

CHICAGO—More than 1,200 delegates to the 34th National 4-H Club Congress today pledged their wholehearted support to President Eisenhower to make every day Safe Driving Day.

The unanimous action was taken on a proposal made by the eight national 4-H safety program winners to the first general assembly of the Congress in the Conrad Hilton Hotel. S.D. Day is Dec. 1.

Carl W. Bond, Colfax, Iowa, on behalf of the other national safety winners, asked the delegates to "pledge to do all in your power to make every day Safe Driving Day."

He pointed out that in 1954 there were nearly 10 million traffic accidents in the United States and that it was important for 4-H members to note "that these accidents were the greatest single killer of farm people, excluding death from natural causes."

The eight safety winners sent telegrams reporting the Congress' pledge to President Eisenhower and to Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors and chairman of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety. General Motors sponsor scholarship awards for the national safety winners.

The state safety winner from Michigan is Mary Jane Bombard, Smiths Creek, Route 1.

Name Petition Committee in Club's 'City' Movement

MARLETTE — Juvamus Club members here are backing a proposition to make Marlette a city. Donald B. Smith of the Michigan Municipal League, Ann Arbor, told the club at its recent meeting the advantages it should bring:

As a city Marlette would be entitled to two members of the county board of supervisors. (Marlette Township would continue to have one supervisor.)

The city would become the sole assessing unit, establishing its own municipal or justice court. City residents would not pay township taxes.

Boundaries would be set at the time of its incorporation, by a decree was caused by burning grease on the stove, according to owners involved.

"Sure proud of my Peggy!"

I'm just as proud as a peacock of my Peggy for the efficient way she manages our home. For instance, many of her friends are still knocking themselves out scrubbing wood floors. But not my Peggy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. And I'll be hanged if Peggy's floors aren't the talk of our block. I sure have to hand it to my Peggy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax for making easy work of a tough job. And I love 'em both for it!

For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Peggy uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.

Spanking Is Useful but No Cure-All

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
The day Eric's mother found him trying to open the bathroom cabinet, she spanked him. For he was attempting this feat by kneeling one leg on the washbowl while blanching the other on the toilet seat. Appalled by the possibilities of his position, she grabbed him and spanked him. Quite hard.

Ten minutes later, her 4-year-old sought her out. Sliding up to lay his head against her hip, Eric murmured plaintively, "Oh, how I love you, Mommy. You're the best Mommy in the whole world."

This flattering protest impressed his mother. Even as she embraced him in forgiveness, she thought, "Good, if this is what spanking can do, it's wonderful. It's not only made my point about bathroom climbing—but won me new devotion besides."

She's a little too credulous, I'm afraid. Though spanking has probably ended Eric's bathroom climbing, it has not increased appreciation of his mother. We don't get it that easy. It's sensible to accept this tough reality so that we won't develop any exaggerated trust in spanking's power as a discipline instrument.

SOFTENS STING
A spanked child will often protest increased devotion to us; not because he feels it but because imagining he does softens the sting of his humiliation by us. By convincing himself that his Mommy is the world's best one, Eric makes his necessary submission to her endurable.

His protested affection does not mean that her spanking has reached his reason with realization of the perils of bathroom climbing. It doesn't mean that he has gained the slightest understanding of the protective love which motivated her spanking.

His protest simply tells us that a spanked child didn't enjoy painful humiliation—and will think twice before exposing himself to it again.

This is spanking's usefulness—making a fast change in a child's action. By arousing Eric's fear of more humiliation, we may end the action whose danger he can't appreciate—and get safer, changed conduct. That's the end of the line. Spanking can take us no farther. Its instruction extends no deeper than the tingle in the skin it strikes.

To make spanking serve us, we need appreciation of both its usefulness and its limitations.

It's become disreputable discipline because neither was appreciated, Parents asked too much of spanking.

Now many of us feel great fear of it. We have discarded it as a useless brutality, though the real brutality is not in spanking itself, but in greediness that wants it to teach everything.

JOSEPH DAVIS

Baritone to Be Featured

Joseph Davis of Jefferson avenue will be presented Tuesday evening at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Mr. Davis is the baritone member of a quartet which will sing a song cycle.

Dr. Davis recently served with the U.S. Navy. While stationed at the Great Lakes, he sang solo parts with the Blue Jackets Choir. Prior to entering the navy, Mr. Davis sang in opera and oratorio productions in college presentations.

He has studied at the Detroit Conservatory of Music and sang with the Conservatory Mixed Quartet. He has also sung lead parts in programs presented by the Detroit Opera Society under the direction of Valter Poole.

At present he is studying with Vernelle Peppard, the former head of the voice department at the Detroit Conservatory.

Besides his selections with the quartet, Dr. Davis will sing "The Trumpeter" by Dix and Gershwin's "I Got Plenty o' Nuttin'".

Nancy Moriarty Feted at Shower

Janice Moriarty of Augusta avenue was hostess at a bridal shower for Nancy Moriarty.

Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moriarty of Baldwin avenue is the bride-elect of Clifford Paul Ayotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ayotte of Robinwood avenue. The couple will be married Dec. 3 at St. Michael Church.

Guests at the recent shower were Mrs. Ted Moriarty, Mrs. Charles Moriarty, Mrs. Jesse Dehlt, Mrs. James Gillette, Mrs. Clifford Thompson, Mrs. Hugh Moriarty and Mrs. Albert Bucher.

Others were Mrs. William Moriarty, Mrs. James Wheeler, Mrs. Mickey Marshall, Louise Dehlt, Violet Moriarty, Evelyn Marshall and Sharon Moriarty. Completing the list were Joy Kelly, Mrs. Stanley Zjwicki and Mrs. Eugene Barger.

Everyone Needs Sweater Supply

First on the list of every back-to-school shopper is a supply of sweaters.

No college girl ever had too many of these casual, versatile garments, it seems.

This year the variety of sweater styles and yarns is almost endless. But the classic cardigan remains a top favorite, and probably the biggest selling item in this category is the orlon sweater.

This is because it has the look and feel of expensive cashmere, yet is budget priced and can be washed as easily as a pair of stockings.

One of the top campus styles of the year is the dyed-to-match sweater and tweed skirt. The sweater half of the combination is available in cashmere, orlon or wool, in slip-on, cardigan or twin sweater sets.

Also important in the 1955 sweater lineup is the bulky ribbed-knit sweater in coat or pullover style, often with wide, loose turtle neck, Italian fashion.

These come in dark or vivid hues as well as white, and are particularly beloved for wear with Bermuda shorts.

For dress-up wear, there are many versions of cashmere or orlon sweaters with wide boat necklines, short or long sleeves, with or without jewel, sequin or embroidery trim.

Two Are Initiated Into Amaranth

Two members were initiated into Esther Court No. 13, Order of the Amaranth, Friday evening, at the Roosevelt Temple.

Forty-five members were present at the meeting attended by the grand officers.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kathy Quick, Mrs. Fern Crawley, Mrs. Myrtle Tubbs, Mrs. Ruth Balsh and Mr. and Mrs. John Sellman.

WE'VE GOT WHAT EVERYONE WANTS FOR CHRISTMAS!

This Christmas thousands of men will receive wallets (how many can a man carry?) and cigars (how many men smoke them—and what brand?) and liquor (what Christmas memories are left the morning after?). They will send these gifts out of a spirit of Christmas giving, out of a desire and hope to leave a lasting and favorable impression.

Why don't they send books?

A gift of books can be as small as a single volume or as large as a shelf; as personal as a book of sonnets, as sedate as a scholarly tome.

A gift of books, like the Christmas star itself, radiates in all directions: it shines upon the receiver, implying the compliment that he likes to read; it shines upon the giver, warmly reflecting his good judgement and taste.

With a gift of books you send laughter and learning, adventure and romance, a world of fact and a universe of imagination.

Russian TV Viewers Beaming Rapt Approval of U.S. Newsreels

MOSCOW (INS)—American television newsreels are making a hit in the Soviet Union.

Since signing a contract for U. S. newsfilms a few weeks ago, Moscow-TV has been showing a weekly roundup of life in the Western world.

has been an American "baby derivation" pre-toddler in a crawling race. Instead of indignant outcries about exploitation of babies by unfeeling capitalist parents, the next morning's subway verdict was enthusiastic.

Viewers have flooded the station with letters commenting on the "Amerikansky Kinozhurnal" (American cinejournal). The unanimous verdict: "Give us more!" Biggest conversation piece so far.

"I was hoping that little fellow who took so long to get started would crawl right out and win," one straphanger confided to her fellow traveler in the metro.

A Western skeptical colleague

snorted: "What else are they showing—American floods, hurricanes and slums—every bad thing they can find?"

The New England floods, the Tampico hurricane and the Whiting, Ind., fire all appeared. But the emphasis has been on sports and features which show the United States as a lively hard-working, fun-loving country.

ASKS FOR MORE

Moscow-TV is asking for more on U. S. factories, farms, homes, entertainment, arts, sciences, recreation, vacations, schools and—especially—more sports, including baseball, football and other games the Russians themselves don't play.

Here are some of the glimpses of the "American way of life" that Soviet televisioners have seen in recent weeks, for the first time:

Shakespeare at Stratford, Conn., Nashua beating Swaps at Washington Park; a Pennsylvania lumberjack rodeo; water skiing in Florida and California; an ice show in Atlantic City; a St. Louis children's circus; a review of Detroit's new-car models and the solar-powered telephone circuit in Georgia.

Unexpectedly popular has been the bull-fight material sent from America. Russian viewers have seen Bette Ford, American girl matador, a Venezuelan school for aspiring matadors and a bullfight in Spain.

Video Moscow steers clear of controversy and politics in presenting the American reels. There are also some other taboos.

"You just sent Russian material," he complained in a phone call to Moscow, "no Amerikansky kinozhurnal."

Not too many months ago a Radio Moscow commentator dismissed American television as a "daily dose of crime, pornography, sadism, and blood, blood and more blood."

Shots of a ledge-sitting, would-be suicide in Manhattan went back into the film can unused.

After the "Amerikansky kinozhurnal" plays to the estimated 400,000 Moscow-area set owners (about half of the national total) the print makes the rounds of the 11 other Soviet TV outlets:

Leningrad, Riga, Tallinn, Kiev, Kharkov, Gorky, Sverdlovsk, Omsk, Tomsk, Minsk and, finally, way out to Vladivostok—4,000 miles east on the Pacific Coast.

Vladivostok began telecasting in mid-October. Moscow flew some films out to get them started.

But the manager was disappointed.

Further gains in fertilizer consumption are forecast for Holland in 1956.

Welter Title Bout Looms as Fight of Year

Basilio and Ex-Champ DeMarco Matched 2nd Time Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Carmen Basilio and Tony DeMarco repeat their savage battle of June 10 when they meet for the second time Wednesday at the Boston Garden, their welterweight title match should be the "Fight of the Year."

Basilio won the championship from DeMarco at Syracuse, N. Y. in June but now he must face rough and ready Tony in the ex-champ's home town. On the strength of his 12th-round technical knockout victory five months ago, Basilio is rated a 9 to 5 favorite.

In the first match, DeMarco dazed Basilio in the first and third rounds but was dropped twice in the 10th and out on his feet when the referee stopped it in the 12th.

Both welters are solid thumpers who are converted southpaws. Basilio's left hook is his best weapon, a blow that dropped Kid Gavilan. DeMarco usually starts with a rush but tires in the late rounds. In his last start, DeMarco knocked out Chico Vejar in the first round.

The radio-TV fans will get a break with ABC scheduled to carry the 15-round match.

Billy McNece and Tony Johnson, two strong light-heavyweights who are willing to trade punches freely, meet tonight at St. Nicholas Arena in New York over the 10-round route. (DuMont-TV).

They fought once before, May 9, to a 10-round draw. A hand injury forced their scheduled rematch of Sept. 26 to be set back to this date.

Yanks May Have Giant Tenants

NEW YORK (U-P)—The New York Giants probably will become tenants of the Yankee Stadium in the future, Giants' President Horace Stoneham said today.

"It won't be next year, of course," said Stoneham, "and even if it were going to be 1957, right now is the time the transaction should be completed."

The Giants' lease on the Polo Grounds expires in 1962 and a move would be mandatory by that time. Stoneham said the club has been trying to get an extension on the lease or buy the Polo Grounds but without success.

INS Picks Morrall, Kramer

NEW YORK (INS)—A young, brawny cross-section of collegiate football talent representing six major conferences and two leading independent teams, Navy and Notre Dame, comprises the 1955 International News Service football All-America.

It is a markedly young team, including three juniors, and has an average age of only 21. In line with the modern trend to fleet, streamlined backs operating behind a bulky brusing, forward wall, the line averages at most 217 pounds, the backfield 183.

The Big Ten, with three players, and the Pacific Coast Conference, with two, dominate the line compiled from recommendations of INS football experts from coast to coast assisted by coaches, scouts, broadcasters and newspaper sports editors.

Two players, Navy's brilliant end, Ron Beagle, and Ohio State's fabulous halfback, Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, are repeaters from the 1954 All-America.

Beagle enjoyed another outstanding season despite the handicap of having to wear a leather brace to protect a wrist bone broken before the season started. Opposite him in the line is Michigan's giant end, Ron Kramer, who moved up from last year's 2nd team.

Between these two All-America flankmen are tackles John Witte of Oregon State and Bruce Bosley of West Virginia, guards Bo Bolinger of Oklahoma and Hardiman Cureton of UCLA and center Bob Pelligrini, Maryland.

Among the usual wealth of excellent and highly-publicized backs, Cassidy, quarterback Earl Morrall of Michigan State, halfback Jim Swink of Texas Christian and fullback Don Schaefer, Notre Dame's "bread and butter" ball carrier, blocker and defensive star, stood out as the best.

Morrall's consistent passing and field generalship for the Rose Bowl-bound Spartans won out for him over Navy's George Welsh, Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, West Virginia's Fred Wyatt and others.

Cassidy and Swink were two of the glamor boys of 1955 college football.

Kramer, Witte and Swink are juniors, all others seniors. Swink, only 19, is the baby of the team, but no player is over 22.

Gator Bowl Still Open

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The bowl picture was four-fifths complete today, check full of veteran post-season performers, while the abstainers and the lesser lights of college football tucked away their equipment 'til next season.

Only the Gator Bowl, among the five major attractions, is without a pairing. And the selectors are expected to make their move today with Auburn and Tennessee leading the rumor list.

Except for the Rose and Orange bowls, whose programs are printed according to championship results in the Pacific Coast-Big 10 and Big 7-Atlantic Coast Conferences, the other bowl selections were completed following Saturday's games.

Here's the way they look:

ROSE (Pasadena, Calif.)—UCLA (8-1) vs. Michigan State (8-1).

ORANGE (Miami, Fla.)—Oklahoma (10-0) vs. Maryland (10-0).

COTTON (Dallas)—Texas Christian (9-1) vs. Mississippi (9-1).

SUGAR (New Orleans)—Georgia Tech (8-1-1) vs. Pitt (7-3).

All four are set for Jan. 2. The Gator Bowl is scheduled Dec. 31. Of the four completed bowls, six of the eight teams are among the top 10 in The Associated Press poll. The Orange Bowl has the cream of the crop, with first-ranked Oklahoma and third-ranked Maryland. The Rose Bowl also stages a rematch of its 1954 attraction, when Michigan State defeated UCLA 28-20.

Georgia Tech is the dean of the present bowl clubs, appearing in eight major bowl games and winning six. Tech, ranked No. 9 in last week's poll, accepted its fifth straight bowl bid after trouncing Georgia, 21-3, Saturday.

Tech gained its fifth straight bowl victory last New Year's Day, beating Arkansas, 14-6, in the Cotton Bowl.
