100 Pupils Hurt in Wisconsin Train Smashup

'Passing' Gravel Truck Rams Excursion Cars; Injuries Slight

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) —More than 100 school children and teachers were injured yesterday when their baseball excursion train was wrecked in a collision with a loaded gravel truck.

The diesel locomotive remained on the tracks, but 10 of the 16 cars hurtled off the rails. The train was carrying 907 pupils and their adult escorts from Portage in south central Wisconsin to Milwaukee for a Milwaukee-Brooklyn baseball game.

A total of 104 persons were admitted to two hospitals. Thirty-seven, 23 of them children, remained overnight. None were listed in critical condition.

The truck driver, Gordon Hinckley, 35, Wales, Wis., suffered compound fractures of both legs and internal injuries but was listed in "fair" condition.

THE GRAVEL FLEW

Engineer George Ives, 56, Oconomowoc, said the truck "hit the first coach so hard that gravel was thrown over the coaches. That car was struck so hard that it went off the track first, causing derailment of the other nine coaches."

Ives said the crossing is designated as a 70 m.p.h. zone and that he had slowed down to that speed.

The first 10 coaches veered off the rails, tearing up 1,500 feet of track. Two cars lay on their sides when they came to a rest.

"I just heard a bump," said Violet Groskreutz, a 14-year-old pupil from Westfield in Columbia County.

"The next thing I knew, we tipped over."

The little brown-haired girl was one of those detained in the hospital here with cuts and bruises on her face and injuries to her arm and back.

"I crawled out. No one helped me," she said. "I got out by myself, through a smashed window."

George Ives, engineer, and W. S. Pirkl, traveling engineer in the cab of the Milwaukee road special 16-car train, said the gravel truck drove around five automobiles which had stopped at a crossing and tried to race across the tracks ahead of the train.

Warmer Wednesday, Weatherman Says

The forecast weather for the next five days will be average. It will be cooler Friday or Saturday. Scattered showers are expected Thursday or Friday and possibly again about Sunday.

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. was 36 degrees. The mercury rose to 54 at 2 p.m.

SLIM, DEADLY COURIER OF MIGHT—Its fiery tail whipping it into the skies, this Northrop B-62 Snark begins a test run. The Snark is the first U. S. intercontinental missile revealed to the public. It is capable of carrying a hydrogen warhead. The jet-powered Snark can be guided along predetermined courses of up to 5,000 miles at a speed of 500 miles per hour. It is the so-called "air-breathing" type since it stays in the earth's atmosphere.

U.S. Air Force Photo

MAJESTIC, OVERPOWERING SPECTACLE—Fifty miles away, the tornadic fireball of a hydrogen explosion sheds its lurid light. Tests in the Pacific duplicate this scene, photographed in the Marshall Islands in 1952. This was the appearance from 12,000 feet in the air, two minutes after the detonation. Ten minutes later, nearing its maximum stage, the cloud stem had pushed upward to 25 miles. The mushroom had spread 100 miles.

Waugh Plans to Attend Rites

Injunction Restraining Jehovah's Witnesses Is Dismissed by Judge

Chester Waugh, 36, who claims he was "disfellowshipped" by a Drayton Plains Jehovah's Witnesses church, said yesterday he will continue to attend the services with or without a temporary injunction.

The injunction, issued April 30 by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, yesterday was dismissed by the judge on the grounds his court has no jurisdiction in church matters unless property was involved.

It had restrained the "Kingdom Hall" congregation and its pastor William P. Strong, of Drayton Plains, from preventing the Pontiac factory worker from worshiping there.

"The injunction is immaterial if the Jehovah's Witnesses allow me to attend the church as they should," Waugh said. "And I will continue to attend the services in a peaceable manner."

Asked whether the congregation would continue to bar Waugh from the church, Strong said: "We will continue to follow the church rule to keep the congregation clean."

Waugh, of 55 Newberry St., had charged Strong and other members of the church had conspired together to prevent his worshiping.

Williams Reports on Automation

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams told 70-odd Democrats and a smattering of Republicans at a civic breakfast this morning that the state government must "drive the team right down the middle" to explain to both labor and capital they have nothing to fear from automation.

Calling automation "a new dimension, a real revolution," the Governor emphasized that its power must be "directed for the benefit of all mankind."

The Governor and three Democrats of the State Administrative Board attended the breakfast this morning in Pontiac's Elks Temple, touching off "Government Day" in Oakland County and the latest of his "nonpartisan" reports to the people.

Williams said he regrets that Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler and Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair Taylor were "too busy to be with us today, although both have been invited."

CHIDES REPUBLICANS

The Governor added, "It seems to me the interests of the people would be better served if the Republican leaders, instead of sending hired press agents and publicity men to talk for them, had sent their office-holders down here to meet with you themselves."

He also "regretted" that Republican State Chairman John Feikens had called his "reports to the people," conducted to date in Kalamazoo, Kent, Macomb and Genesee counties, "political rallies and nothing more."

He said Feikens is "beginning to believe what his imported $25,000 public relations man from Oregon tells him."

Reviewing State problems, Williams touched on water supply, sewage disposal systems, public education and mental health.

TOLL ROADS 'IN DOUBT'

Answering a question from Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, master of ceremonies at the breakfast, Williams said the prospects of toll roads for the state are "still in doubt."

He said Michigan Turnpike Authority Chairman George N. Higgins has "what he hopes is a workable new plan" for the proposed Rockwood-to-Saginaw turnpike, but did not elaborate.

He added he believes Michigan needs both toll roads and freeways, and regretted the absence of Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler, saying:

"His position is crucial . . . his passive or active obstruction makes the whole problem more difficult."

The Governor said in response to another question he is now trying to step up traffic enforcement in an effort to cut down the state's highway death rate, which has risen 12 per cent over last year.

Williams, who spoke for 15 minutes and answered audience questions for another 15, left the breakfast to attend the dedication in Detroit of the new Lafayette mental health clinic.

In parting, he told the audience he was happy to have had the "exchange of ideas" with them.

Williams and his group will return to Pontiac tonight for a "town hall meeting" in Lincoln Junior High School at 8:15, where they

Weather Delays H-Bomb Tests

'Undesirable Wind' May Postpone Flight Again of Target Plane

ENIWETOK (AP) — A show of man's mightiest power, the H-bomb, waited today for a power he doesn't control, the weather.

The shot has been postponed twice.

Scientists reported "strong, undesirable" winds at all altitudes, winds which might scatter radioactive particles outside the marked-off danger area of 375,000 square miles.

Three huge B52 jet bombers are parked on Eniwetok. One will carry the bomb and drop it over Namu Island, some 190 miles away in Bikini Atoll.

Newsmen were permitted to talk to the seven crew men with the specification that no questions be asked regarding technical aspects of dropping the bomb or regarding matters touching on the men's psychology.

Dems Choose Tydings in Maryland; Ohioans Pick Governor Choice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five states held primary elections today in the wake of yesterday's Maryland primary, in which Democrats gave Millard Tydings a hairline edge in his fight to regain the U.S. Senate seat he lost in 1950.

Residents of Indiana, Ohio, Florida, West Virginia and New Mexico were balloting today, but national interest centered chiefly on the relative Republican-Democratic vote in Indiana.

Republicans expected to get most, as usual, but Democrats hoped for a substantial farm vote switchover. Relative performances of President Eisenhower on the Republican and Sen. Estes Kefauver on the Democratic side were sure to be watched closely.

In yesterday's Maryland voting, nearly complete returns gave Tydings a narrow popular vote lead over George P. Mahoney, challenging him for the Democratic nomination for the seat now held by Republican Sen. Butler.

Maryland Democrats gave their 18 national convention votes to Kefauver, who was opposed only by an uninstructed delegation. He won by a much narrower margin than in the same race four years ago.

Highlights of today's primaries:

INDIANA — In presidential preference voting, Eisenhower had little opposition on the GOP side and Kefauver none on the Democratic side. But the turnout was viewed as a sort of popularity contest between the two candidates.

Republicans usually consider Indiana safely in the GOP ranks, but some Democrats predicted large numbers of Republican farmers would switch to the Democratic column.

National convention delegates will be chosen by both parties later at state conventions, but delegates will be bound to vote on the first convention ballot according to today's vote. Thus Eisenhower is assured of 32 votes and Kefauver of 26 on first roll calls.

BULLETIN

The partially-clothed body of an unidentified woman was found this morning in Madison Heights, Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said today.

There were no apparent marks of violence on the body, Taylor said, but Madison Heights police told him the body seemed to have been placed in the field off 12 Mile Road near Campbell Road.

Age of the redheaded girl seemed to be between 17 and 27, Taylor said. Her body has been taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for a postmortem examination by Dr. Richard Olson, pathologist.

Police said recent automobile tire marks were found near the body.

Hare Orders Crackdown Campaign on Bad Drivers

LANSING (AP)—The State Safety Commission has decreed a drastic campaign against bad drivers including a summons to speeders and reckless drivers for license re-examination on their first offense.

The crackdown, accepted Monday as a watered down version of an earlier plan discarded as beyond the state's powers, will be inaugurated Monday.

Under the new program, state police and local law enforcement officers will be distributed forms on which they will cite drivers for another license examination.

After they are filled out, the forms would go to the Secretary of State's office for review. Most of those cited then would be called before license examiners and face possible 30-day suspensions.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, commission chairman, said State Police will be instructed to use the forms but that authority is lacking to compel their use by sheriff's officers and local police.

The target will be not only persons caught speeding or driving recklessly but also those considered obviously either physically or mentally unable to drive safely.

The cooperation of local law enforcers will be solicited in telegrams to be sent out before the drive begins.

Police Steer New Citizen to Safe Landing

Two Pontiac patrolmen received their "baptism of fire" this morning, when they assisted with the birth of a son to Mrs. Henry Gardner, 19, of 463 S. Edith St.

Mrs. Gardner and her son are reported "doing fine" by Pontiac General Hospital officials, and officers Lon Peters and Floyd Blackman are almost over their first-time jitters.

Peters and Blackman answered the emergency call at 8 a.m. today, and arrived about four minutes after the event.

Relatives with Mrs. Gardner were too nervous to assist, and her husband was at work at the time. The officers found her sitting up in bed, and pitched in to rush her to the hospital.

To Produce B52s at 20-Per-Month Rate

Defense Secretary Reveals Nation's New Air Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today disclosed the production schedule for B52 bombers has been raised to 20 a month and said "it is not so" that the Soviets are "far outstripping the United States in terms of air power."

Wilson said the current output of the eight-jet intercontinental B52 is six a month.

He said he would have preferred to keep these figures secret, but "because of the confusion and doubt that have arisen on this matter I believe it desirable to set the record straight.

The secretary was before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee to discuss the military budget for the government fiscal year which begins July 1. He said actual expenditures in the fiscal year would be about 36 billion dollars.

This amount of money, Wilson commented, is "nearly 100 million dollars per day" and is a cost "we must pay through taxes."

At the outset, Wilson stressed two points:

1. "The United States is not and should not be competing in an all-out armaments race with the U.S.S.R. or any other country."

2. There has been "no change in the international situation which would require us to increase our forces over all or make it possible for us at this time to reduce our forces."

OTHERS STAND BY

As Wilson testified, he was flanked in the committee room by the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force and by the full membership of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Wilson said he would confine his comments to "key aspects" of the defense program and leave details to other officials.

At one point Wilson characterized critics who contend the United States is falling behind Russia in technical know-how as "fear mongers."

Chairman Chavez (D-NM) said there have been recent stories in the press and over the air saying "how far behind we are in technical knowledge to some other country." Chavez said he thought "we have just as good a know-how as any" but asked Wilson for comment.

"You are talking about the fear mongers now," Wilson remarked. He said his statement to the subcommittee was at least in part a reply to such charges.

Quickly then he took note of criticisms of U. S. air power, particularly relative to Russia's, which have come out at current hearings by a Senate Armed Services subcommittee.

LeMAY TALKED FIRST

Last week, Gen. Curtis Le May, strategic air command chief, testified that 78 B52s have been produced to date, but that only 46 have been accepted by the Air Force. He said the reason for not accepting the others was a defect in a small component part.

On this point, Wilson said the B52 "is a fine airplane and is living up to or exceeding its designed specifications."

Wilson said also that the Air Force has had "less difficulty with the B52 in its early phases than with any other airplane in recent years."

On the delay caused by the defect in one part, Wilson said that "there will be no loss of production and only a temporary delay in our program which will be made up."

Wilson said some of the discussion about who was ahead in air power seemed to be based on contentions that the United States should match or exceed the Russians in every main category of weapons and numbers.

Waterford Boy Wins State Title

Sheldon Smith Places First; Now Moves Into Midwest Competition

Sheldon Smith, Waterford High School senior and Student Council president, last night won the state title in the annual Hearst Tournament of Orators.

With his original speech on John Adams, Sheldon had claimed top honors in three preliminary bouts, and to date, has won $150 in bonds.

Last night's contest was held at the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit, with students from Birmingham, Denby High and University of Detroit High School competing in the finals.

The tournament for the midwestern states will be held Friday afternoon in Chicago. The national coast-to-coast tournament will take place in Boston on May 16.

Prizes for the national event will total $25,000.

Sheldon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Smith of 6450 Maybee Rd. This is the youth's first year of speech class and his coach is Patty Looman, speech department director.

Another student from Waterford Township High School, Miles Watkins, took second place in the national contest last year, also under Miss Looman's tutorship.

The Tournament of Orators was established by J. Randolph Hearst because he felt students should become more interested in the history of our country. Each year a different topic is chosen for student speeches.

38-Point City Commission Agenda Includes Michigan-Lois Drain Subject

Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) lived up to his word when he told his fellow commissioners in January they hadn't heard the last of the Michigan-Lois street drain episode.

Scheduled on tonight's 38-point agenda facing the City Commission is a request from Carry that the three-year-old debate be opened again.

The remainder of the slate involves seven reports from the City Plan Commission and 14 public improvement items and other miscellaneous business.

The drain case concerns 19 lot owners on the east side of the city who claim they were improperly assessed for drainage improvements.

Kicking off the agenda will be a resolution authorizing the state to charge the city for widening and concrete paving of a portion of the M-24 state trunkline in the city.

The commission is also expected to appoint the National Bank of Detroit as paying agent in the sale of $600,000 worth of revenue bonds to finance the new off-street parking project.

Two agreements between the city and the Jerome Building Co. for a water main project and combined sewers in the Sallee Woods Subdivision are slated for action tonight.

Three property deeds to the city are listed on the agenda.

Included in the seven reports from the plan group is a recommendation to rezone lots 85-89 of Anderson's Western Addition to Residential 3. A protest petition against the rezoning has been filed, making a ¾ vote by the commission necessary to approve the change.

Another report from the Plan Commission will recommend the bumping shop ordinance, as amended by the commission last month, be tabled indefinitely.

Public hearings will be held on intention to construct the following public improvement projects:

Recap, curb, repair, and related work for State street between Huron and Johnson, and for Osmun street from Saginaw to Sanford.

Water main in Peacock avenue from Joslyn to Fuller, Clara avenue from Fuller to the east property line of assessor's plat 102, and in Fuller street from Peacock to Columbia.

Further action will include four resolutions to receive special assessment rolls for three sidewalk projects and one grading and graveling job in the city.

Public hearings on special assessment rolls involving the following projects will also be aired tonight:

Curb, gutter, and related work for the north side of Madison avenue from Joslyn to Highwood and for recap on the south side of Madison from Joslyn to Highwood.

Sanitary sewer in the alley east of Baldwin avenue from 120 feet north of Montcalm to lot 55 of the Marquette Subdivision.

Storm sewer in Astor street from Maines to lot 57 of the Clinton Heights Subdivision and for outlet in outlot A of the subdivision and Astor street from Maines to the Clinton River.

Action is expected on a request that Mario Giglio be appointed special administrator to the estate of Tony Giglio on a special designated merchant license at 441 N. Perry St.

First readings are scheduled on two ordinances to amend two sections of city zoning ordinance 944.

A petition requesting grading and graveling of the alley in assessor's plat 13 from Linda Vista drive to the east line of lot 40 of the plat will be acted on.

Police Use Interpreter to Find Out About Theft

John Serrano, who speaks only Spanish, said he was struck from behind at 1 a.m. as he entered the building at 8½ N. Saginaw St., according to Det. Richard Evans.

Truman Is 72; Off to Europe

Dems in Missouri Obey Orders by Not Selecting Him as Delegate

KANSAS CITY (INS)—Former President Harry S. Truman will celebrate his 72nd birthday today aboard a train taking him from Kansas City to New York City and a six-weeks European trip.

• • •

In New York City, they will visit with their daughter, Margaret, who has just returned with her husband, Clifton Daniel Jr., assistant to the foreign news editor of the New York Times, from their honeymoon.

The Trumans, accompanied by Stanley Woodward, former ambassador to Canada, and Mrs. Woodward, will sail Friday on the SS United States, which is scheduled to arrive at Le Havre, France, May 16.

They will visit eight countries during the tour, and Truman will receive an honorary degree from Oxford University June 20.

The ex-chief executive announced yesterday that Missouri Democrats have acceded to his request not to make him a delegate to the national convention in Chicago this summer.

Schools Drop Annual Meeting

25 Districts of Area No Longer Will Hold Yearly Sessions

Dr. William Emerson, county superintendent of schools, reminds county residents that certain school districts will no longer have annual meetings.

Because of a change in the school code, effective last September, these meetings have been discontinued, Emerson reports.

They will have regular annual elections, however, he said, either in the second Monday in June or the second Monday in July.

Former duties accomplished by the annual meetings are now performed by the school board, except for the fixing of school board members' salaries. These remain unchanged unless the voters, at an annual election, make a change, he continued.

Lausche had token opposition in his bid to head the 58-vote Democratic delegation to the national convention, but was assured of 49 of the 58 before voting began. Sen. John W. Bricker is unopposed in his move for control of the Republicans' 56 convention votes.

• • •

WEST VIRGINIA — There was no presidential preference voting and delegates are not tied to any candidate, but 10 candidates were seeking the Senate seat of the late Harley Kilgore.

• • •

FLORIDA — A six-man tussle for governor — which means election in predominantly Democratic Florida — highlighted the voting.

The field includes the incumbent, Leroy Collins, and former Gov. Fuller Warren. If no candidate gets a majority, the two top men will fight it out again May 29.

Florida residents also vote May 29 in an important presidential preference primary featuring a clash between Kefauver and Stevenson.

• • •

NEW MEXICO — There was no presidential preference voting. Gov. John F. Simms seeks renomination in the Democratic primary and is opposed by Ingram B. Pickett. Simms supports Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination, Pickett favors Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Edwin L. Mechem has no GOP primary opposition in his attempt to become the first New Mexican governor ever to regain the job after leaving office.

900,000 Jobs Opened Up Last Month in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employment jumped 900,000 last month to a new April record of 63,990,000 while joblessness dropped by 270,000, the Labor and Commerce Departments reported today.

The unemployment total dipped to an estimated 2,564,000, the departments said, even though joblessness among auto workers increased and unemployment among factory workers generally failed to show the normal springtime decline.

• • •

The gain in total civilian employment was 912,000 from March to April, and the number of jobholders reached a level two million above the employment total a year ago. Seasonal factors, including a 700,000 rise in farm employment, were responsible for most of the gain.

Tornadoes Kill 1,766

NEW YORK (INS)—Tornadoes in the U. S. killed 1,766 persons in 10 years between 1946 and '56 and injured about 10 times that many, according to a Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. survey.

The Day in Birmingham

C. of C. Wins Reprieve for Parking on Maple

BIRMINGHAM — Parking on Maple avenue will remain as it is until five other road projects planned for this year are completed.

Commissioner William Roberts' motion was approved 4 to 2 after heated debate among commissioners and members of the Chamber of Commerce. Roberts pointed to the projected Hamilton and Oak street crossovers, both through Hunter boulevard; Willets and 14 Mile road widening and 16 Mile road improvement.

"The east and west traffic that will be siphoned off Maple avenue when these five projects are completed in this calender year may solve the problem," he said.

"We'd be acting too hurriedly," he said of the proposal to restrict parking to only one side of Maple during rush hours.

An amendment to Roberts' motion by Commissioner Charles Renfrew never was put to a vote, but drew much discussion from the score of merchants present. It asked a study of whether traffic snarls might be reduced by prohibiting left hand turns off Maple at Woodward and off Henrietta at Maple, and retiming Bates and Woodward stop lights on Maple.

Speeding traffic through town in late afternoon would deprive merchants of business, the Chamber's members argued. "Don't take away our bread and butter hours," said Mrs. Ruth Atling, owner of The Little Folks Shop on Maple.

Property values on Woodward decreased as traffic increased on Woodward during the 1920's, according to City Manager Donald Egbert. But values went back up after siphoning off excess traffic when Hunter avenue was built, a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said.

"Don't ruin Birmingham like Pontiac was ruined" was what Pontiac shoppers in Birmingham told merchants, according to Sam Bruni, a grocer on Woodward. Heavy through traffic can swing business to outer-area shopping centers, agreed city-hired traffic expert T. M. VanderStempl.

VanderStempl's survey, submitted with a report by the Chief of Police, was not the only survey. Donald Cummings of the C. of C. off-street parking committee reported that delay on Maple traffic was only from 20 to 65 seconds.

"That's a 50 per cent delay," parried Renfrew. "That much delay all the way to Detroit would be something to worry about."

• • •

Running Oak street through Hunter boulevard and trading land with Socony Mobil Oil Co., Inc., was tentatively approved so that Socony can proceed with its station at that point of land.

Affirmative votes were given for paving Lincoln, east from Elton, 29 feet wide for safety along playground areas, and for assessing for 14 Mile road paving east of Greenfield. Any objections to Ferndale-Park and Holland paving project assessments will be heard May 28.

The proposed swimming pool ordinance health restrictions will be reduced, but fencing rules kept, commissioners decided. They deferred action on the motor bus ordinance.

Budget for Bloomfield to Be Studied Tonight

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Bloomfield Hills budget for the coming year comes before the city commission tonight, and the decision will be open for public discussion later this month.

Two alternatives are possible, one requiring higher taxes for road improvements.

Bids for paving of Lone Pine road from Orchard Ridge to Lahser also will be opened tonight.

Now, Honestly, Mr. GOVERNOR!

Here's another question you were asked in Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, and Detroit. You refused to answer it. Will you answer it today on station WWJ-TV in your "Report to the People"?

Now, HONESTLY, Mr. Governor — Is everybody entitled to protection, or just your friends?

★ You remember John Gunaca, Mr. Governor. He's the man accused of beating up a worker.

★ The State of Wisconsin wants to give Gunaca a fair trial, and for months has sought to extradite him. Why do you, Mr. Governor, continue to provide a Michigan sanctuary for a man wanted for trial in a friendly neighboring state?

★ Does the fact that Gunaca's attorney is a brother to your friend, UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey have anything to do with your refusal to act?

★ Now, HONESTLY, Mr. Governor—how can you claim to be a champion of law and order for everybody when you grant special protection to your friends?

★ The people want to know. Will you tell them today, on your "Report to the People"? HONESTLY, Mr. Governor?

California Dems Welcome Adlai

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson sets off on another rigorous round of California campaigning today with word to Democratic rivals and Republicans alike not to write him off in the presidential race.

• • •

Alluding to his sharpest primary election setback to Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), he said, "After Minnesota, The Republican press wrote me off. But things have changed . . ."

Since then, he said last night, "we have been doing well, indeed," in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Alaska and the District of Columbia.

BARBECUE TALK

• • •

State Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, Stevenson's California chairman, described the barbecue gathering as the greatest Democratic meeting ever held in San Jose.

SEES DEMS TIDE

Stevenson, battling Kefauver for California's 68 delegates to the Democratic National Convention, declared that there is a "strong, irresistible Democratic tide" throughout the country today.

"The rebuke of '54," he said in a reminder of the election of a Democratic Congress two years ago, "will become the mandate of '56."

Now, Honestly, Mr. GOVERNOR!

Here's a report the people in and around Pontiac would like to hear from you when you make your "Report to the People" today over WWJ-TV Detroit.

Will you answer this question for the people?

Now, HONESTLY, Mr. Governor—who does your work when you are away from Lansing? Running our state of Michigan certainly is a full-time job.

★Mr. Governor, you have a 35% absenteeism record! How many of us who work for a living could be absent that much and hold a job?

★And, Mr. Governor, you were paid for all those days—147 up till April 22 to be exact—that you were absent from your office. Could the people working in the plants and offices of Pontiac expect such a deal?

★Here's your record, Mr. Governor—the word record on which you hold your job:

Since January 1st, 1955, when you started your term . . .

478 days (up to and including yesterday)

69 Sundays

409 Working days

During those 409 working days, you were in your office 262 days. That leaves—

147 DAYS OUT OF YOUR OFFICE!

And on 97 of those 147 days of absenteeism you were not even in the state of Michigan! You recently returned from New Jersey and Illinois. Were these junkets on Michigan business?

★Now, HONESTLY, Mr. Governor—do you think a man is entitled to a job if he is absent from work 35% of the time?

Who'd Believe Connie After Lying So Long?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A middle-aged woman who can be brittle but calm when asked her age is a woman of poise in my book . . . and notebook.

While interviewing Constance Bennett in her Park Avenue apartment about her new career as a saloon chanteuse, I handed her a letter.

"The painful truth," said this mischievous missive, "is that Constance Bennett was born in New York in 1905, making her 51 this year!"

CONSTANCE BENNETT

"So now I'm 51!" And her laugh rang through the apartment.

"It amuses me"—her charm bracelet tinkled—"there's not a reference book that's correct about my age. Don't you think I'm remarkable for 72?"

"If I told you the truth about my age, everybody'd think I was lying. I started to lie about my age long ago.

"When I was 15, I added seven years because I wanted to work . . ."

No wonder, of course, that now everybody's confused, and that Who's Who says she was born Oct. 22, 1908, which would make her 47, while the letter-writer claiming she's soon 51 says she told her birthdate in 1936—"when a 50-year-oldster of today was but 30 and free and willing to tell her age."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Mansfield, O., will not change its name to "Jayne Mansfield, O." . . . Rocky Marciano's mom revealed she only saw her son fight once—on a newsreel film in Italy—then she fainted . . . Jackie Gleason's reason for skipping the Derby: "You see a three-minute race, but get a three-week hangover" . . .

William Holden, working off an old contract, got only $40,000 for "Picnic" . . . Colette Galente a ballet dancer switched to hair-styling at Larry Mathews' beauty parlor for kids, Kiddy Town.

General Paul Takes Gettysburg Position

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS) — A World War II aide to President Eisenhower has been named president of Gettysburg College.

General Paul, now retired, served as personnel chief at Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force and later commanded the 75th Infantry Division. He retired from the Army in 1949 and presently is assistant to the director of defense mobilization in Washington. He is a ruling elder at the National Presbyterian Church in Washington where Eisenhower attends services.

The former soldier will fill a post vacant since Dr. Walter C. Langsam resigned in July 1955 to become president of Cincinnati University.

Flying Locusts May Be Expected Here This Month

CHICAGO (AP) — This is the year of the 17-year cidada — 17-year locust to you.

* * *

The Chicago Natural History Museum says some Midwest and Eastern areas are in the region where these insects, "commonly but improperly called 17-year locusts," may be expected to swarm most densely in late May and early June.

The insects always make their appearance on schedule, usually in enormous numbers. They make a lot of noise, cause a little damage, and then die. During this period of a few weeks they will have laid their eggs for the next emergence 17 years hence.

The museum said the insects may be expected in Illinois as far south as central Illinois, in eastern Iowa, southern Wisconsin, a small area in northern Indiana and southern Michigan, and in scattered areas in a few eastern states.

"The sudden and noisy appearancs periodically of enormous populations of cicadas, after years of apparent absence, has aroused wonder and occasionally alarm in this country since early colonial times," Dr. Henry S. Dybas, associate curator of insects, said in the museum's May bulletin.

* * *

This year's cicada population is from the eggs hatched by the last swarm, in late May or early June of 1939.

"YOU'LL BURN LESS GAS... USE LESS OIL... OR BOTH"

TRY PURE'S CHALLENGING 1,000-MILE OFFER

Use High HP Purelube Motor Oil and PURE Gasoline (Premium or regular, whichever you normally use) for 1,000 miles. If you have been using a 10-W, 20 or 30 grade oil, you will burn less gasoline . . . use less oil, or both . . . or we will give you any oil which may have to be added in a 1,000-mile oil-change period. Offer good until July 31, 1956. Ask your Pure Oil dealer for details.

Why we make this offer

We want to help our regular customers and make a lot of new friends. We figure the best way to do this is to let you prove to yourself that you can save on gas, oil, or both by using High HP Purelube in your crankcase and PURE gasoline in your gas tank.

How the High-Horsepower Combination works

PURE'S two great gasolines burn clean because they are made clean by careful processing and refining.

Used together, High HP Purelube and PURE gasoline clean up your engine and keep it clean. They maintain your car's High-Horsepower performance and economy.

Prove it in your car.

SPECIAL OCTANE BONUS for High-Horsepower Engines

If your car is no more than four years old (a 1953 to 1956 model) it has a high-compression engine, designed to deliver high horsepower. After the "break-in" period, these modern engines tend to develop a thirst for more octane in the gasoline they burn. Unless they get it, they tend to knock and lose power.

Use of PURE'S High-Horsepower Combination keeps your engine clean, actually reduces the deposits which cause this octane thirst.

The result: Your engine gets a special bonus in knock-free power—the equivalent of up to 4 octane numbers. New cars keep their showroom power, older cars regain it.

This special OCTANE BONUS is yours when you use High HP Purelube motor oil and either of two great PURE gasolines. Why not give it a try, starting today? Be sure with Pure

Detroit Priest Cited as Hero

Soldier's Medal Given for Rescues of Airmen in Alaskan Crash

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan National Guard chaplain who rescued two airmen from the wreckage of their crashed jet fighter plane was awarded the Soldier's Medal for heroism last night.

The Rev. Mark C. Thompson, an assistant at St. Veronica Catholic Church in East Detroit, was on active duty with the Army security forces in Alaska last Aug. 11 when the crash occurred.

* * *

The terse, military language of the citation tells how Father Thompson, jumped from his car, rushed down a boulder-strewn embankment and waded through a rain-swollen creek to the wreckage.

There, the citation continues, despite the danger of an explosion of rockets scattered in the flames of the burning airplane, "he unhesitatingly went to the side of the pilot and the observer who were pinned in the wreck."

* * *

When a rescue detail arrived he aided in freeing the two men from the plane and "with utter disregard for his own life, he then remained with the injured officers until ambulances arrived."

* * *

Father Thompson, 42, was ordained in 1942 and served in Detroit parishes before his present assignment. He also serves as chaplain of the 979th Anti-Aircraft Battalion of the Michigan National Guard.

Non-Swimming Mother Rescues Tot From River

Mrs. Albert Hagen was treated for shock after she maneuvered her way partly under water to shore with her baby in her arms. The youngster, Albert Jr., was swept 50 feet downstream in 15-feet-deep water. She also clung to tree branches to keep herself above water as she neared shore.

Police said the baby apparently fell into the river while playing. Mrs. Hagen, working in her kitchen, saw the child's hands and then his entire body rise briefly from the water in front of their home when she plunged in after him.

School Census to Begin Locally

Nose Count Scheduled in 45 Districts for 20 Day Period

Over 1,000 census takers will start knocking on doors in county and Pontiac homes this week to determine the number of children in the county from birth through 19 years of age.

Dr. William Emerson, superintendent of the county schools, said that each of the 45 school districts will be in charge and responsible for its own census enumeration.

Pontiac enumerators met today and will meet again at 9 a.m. tomorrow for instructions and territory assignments, according to Paul Allison, in charge of child accounting and attendance for the local oBard of Education.

The census takers will visit homes during the last 20 days of this month starting this Thursday and Friday.

Allison said that census takers will ask the exact month, day and year of a child's birth, plus any information regarding physical handicaps such as defective sight or hearing. In addition householders will be asked to supply information regarding schools children attend, places of employment or service responsibilities.

Dr. Emerson said that school officials anticipate over 150,000 school children in thef inal county census. This would be a seven per cent increase over last year.

The county Board of Education will have charge of compilation of figures for the state census, he continued. Final figures will not be available until Sept. 1.

Local enumerators will be identified with a card issued by the Pontiac Board of Education, Allison said. "Information will be available to those who call the Special Service office of the board at FE 2-0331," he added.

Metropolitan Status Sought for This Area

Thanks to a Pontiac Chamber of Commerce delegation, a long needed movement to win greater Census Bureau recognition of the Pontiac-Oakland County area has been launched in Washington.

The idea of taking up this matter was born some time ago as a result of the Bureau's policy of including Pontiac and Oakland County in the Metropolitan Detroit Region.

A strong case for recognition of Pontiac and Oakland County as a standard metropolitan area was presented to Dr. Robert Burgess, Census Bureau director, by John A. Riley, head of the delegation. He quite properly pointed out that the Bureau's policy is costing the City and County considerable loss of prestige.

As a result, he said, the area is losing its identity because of its proximity to Detroit. He also reminded Dr. Burgess that Pontiac is the center of a rapidly growing, well populated and prosperous area.

Chairman Riley's argument was supported by delegation members and by Rep. George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, who submitted additional facts about the City and County.

Certainly Pontiac, a famed automotive center of 80,000, and Oakland County with its population of half a million, are important enough to rate the recognition sought. We hope Dr. Burgess loses no time in granting it.

Ike Opposes Tax Cut, Favors Debt Payment

As might be expected in an election year, prospects of a balanced budget and modest surplus have revived agitation for a 1956 Federal tax cut.

Equally to be expected is what we believe was the wiser attitude of President Eisenhower and Treasury Secretary Humphrey. Instead of tax relief for which even some loyal Republicans are clamoring, the Chief Executive and Humphrey want to use the surplus for the first payment in five years on the gigantic national debt.

The issue of tax relief has bobbed up again for the simple reason that Federal revenue is flowing in at a much more rapid rate than three months ago.

In January the President estimated income for the fiscal year ending June 30, at $64.5 billion, outgo at $64.3 billion and a surplus of $200,000,000. Now, according to U.S. News & World Report's economic unit, it looks as though total income will reach $67.1 billion, outgo $65.3 billion and the surplus $1.8 billion.

Such a surplus, of course, isn't large enough to permit much of a tax cut. The President and Treasury Chief favor using $1.7 billion of this surplus to reduce the national debt estimated in January at $274.3 billion. We think they are right.

Instead of fining the westerner who drew a revolver on kids back of him who were noisily eating peanuts and popcorn and ordering them to be quiet, he should have been given a medal for refraining from shooting them.

Slayer of 44 Must Die

The jury which doomed John Gilbert Graham to die for the dynamite bomb murder of his mother in an airliner has performed an essential service for society.

Graham, 24, was convicted of one of the most callously premeditated murders in the history of modern criminology. Besides his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 43 other persons died in the destruction of the speeding aircraft just outside Denver.

According to evidence carefully gathered by 30 FBI agents and Graham's own confession, his motive was the $75,000 insurance on his mother's life he had taken out at the airport.

Before beginning deliberations, the seven men and five women jurors were instructed that they could return any one of four verdicts. Guiding them were the facts that Graham's repudiated confession had been accepted in evidence and that he had been found sane by four psychiatrists.

After only 72 minutes consideration and one ballot, the jurors decided on a verdict of guilty in the first degree, which makes the death sentence mandatory.

This was the right verdict, the only one which could be reached on the evidence. Any lesser penalty would fall far short of justice.

The press on which Detroit's oldest newspaper was printed came from Pontiac. In 1830 was turned out on it. This marked the birth of the present

Detroit Free Press,

which has just completed its 125th year of publication, being the oldest newspaper in Detroit. Thus, it will be seen that Pontiac had a newspaper before Detroit had one that endured.

'Completely Free Agent' Harry Truman Can Well Capture Democratic Nomination

WASHINGTON — When Harry Truman announced Monday that he doesn't wish to be a delegate to the Democratic national convention and that he wants to be "a completely free agent," it was a tip-off that the most powerful man at that August gathering will be the former president.

Trumanites abound in the Democratic party—men who think he is the only man who can make a rough-and-tumble campaign against Ike.

The Democratic Party today is basically a Truman party. The former president can have the nomination if he wants it. He is eligible under the Constitution because the present ban against three term specifically exempts the man in the White House at the time the amendment was adopted.

Truman has already played an influential part in shaping the course of his party. He has managed to indicate he doesn't favor Senator Kefauver and he has played cool toward Adlai Stevenson. He doesn't take the Harriman candidacy seriously.

IKE, TOO HAS SCANDALS

Truman knows there is no candidate who will make the vigorous campaign he himself would wage against Eisenhower. He realizes the verdict of 1952 was construed as a repudiation of his own administration, and that's why he wants to make a comeback.

Politicians who insist Harry Truman would make a good candidate offer answers to all objections. When the "Truman scandals?" are mentioned, the answer is that there now are plenty of scandals about the present administration which can be exploited.

As for age, Harry Truman at 72 is in better health than Ike. There is the argument, too, that Truman would unite the party and that Stevenson managers and supporters would fall into line.

* * *

The little matter of the South presents a problem to Truman supporters. Some Northern strategists, however, aren't counting too heavily on the civil-rights issue anyway, because it might cost Negro votes in the North—and at present the Negro vote is predominantly Democratic.

WELL TIMED TRIP

Truman insists he doesn't want the nomination. He says anyone who advocates it for him is "nuts," or words to that effect. But the reluctant candidate is often the one who later on changes his mind and bows to "the will of the people." If the party actually drafted Harry Truman, his pride would never permit him to turn down the nomination.

Just now the former president is getting ready for his visit to Europe. Politically speaking, the trip is well timed. The Europeans will fall all over themselves to do homage to the man who was responsible for the freest flow of American dollars to Europe in the history of the two continents. In any popularity poll abroad, Truman or Stevenson or any Democrat tops the list of any Republican.

Today there is a steady propaganda against President Eisenhower in European circles. The usual line is "Poor Ike" is all right but that he doesn't get the right advice on how wrong his secretary of state is.

There are Trumanites among Americans abroad who keep hammering away at the Eisenhower Administration, and their criticisms are tempered only when they see the money coming toward Europe again. They were enthusiastic when Dulles said something about wanting to see NATO "broadened." They thought immediately it meant at least a couple billion more of American taxpayers' money for Europe.

Another Truman administration, whether headed by him or a candidate of his choice, would be a spending administration—and hence Europe is getting ready to give Truman a royal welcome. Dispatches about his tour abroad will help the Truman candidacy for a third term.

Influential Democrats talk more about the possibility of nominating Truman than they did a couple of months ago when the idea first began to take hold among the Democratic politicians as the fortunes of Kefauver and Stevenson started to sag.

Adlai Stevenson is probably the ablest of any of those mentioned for the Democratic presidentiail nomination, but his word "moderation" has hurt him among the groups that want an extremist like Harry Truman. So it's Truman who is getting the nod just now.

Doctor Contends Viruses Are Not Cause of Illnesses

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Medical and health authorities in Yankeeland studiously ignore the conclusions reached by the British Medical Research Council's investigators of the effects of exposure to everyday cold, damp, draft, sudden change of weather, etc. From carefully controlled experiments on volunteer subjects the British authorities determined, as scientifically and sensibly as any one could wish, that such "exposure" has no appreciable effect on the subject's susceptibility to respiratory infections.

When I was in London in the winter of 1950, I was glad I had along a top coat, but I couldn't help noticing that most of the men I met walking not only wore no top coats but didn't even button their jackets. And I noticed that when we shook hands their hands were warm, mine cold.

In the April issue of Holiday a writer, presumably English, casually remarks that visitors who load their luggage with cold cures and pack their pockets with handkerchiefs at the prospect of the dank climate and the Englishman's laughable idea of heating his dwelling, need not worry, "because a cold is a virus infection and is unaffected one way or the other by climate, wet feet, draughts, wearing flannel next to the skin, or drinking whisky." (I'm indebted to several correspondents who spotted the interesting statement).

There's one thing I can't understand — one thousand things actually — but this one thing perplexes me. It is this: How can you tell, or for that matter how can your doctor tell that an illness or indisposition is viral — due to a virus? Maybe I am betraying my ignorance—after all, I'm just a bumbling old one-horse-and-buggy man — no kidding, I really made my rounds or at least visited both of my patients with horse and buggy in Penn Yan days. It is my opinion that the "virus" idea is just a fad. The gullible customer's curiosity concerning what ails him is completely satisfied when the doctor looks wise and opines it is this virus . . .

The virus hokum will probably serve the doctors for quite a while, to keep the public from realizing that when a doctor ascribes a mild or serious illness to "cold," he is just marking time until the diagnosis becomes evident or the patient recovers spontaneously.

Recently I sent a lot of C R I books to teachers or at least persons who pretend to be teachers. In a reckless moment I offered a copy of the C R I book free to school teachers who asked for it on a postal card.

You see, I have been trying in vain for many years to persuade teachers to pass along to pupils the truth about the C R I (Common Respiratory Infections), which ignorant and vicious people call "colds." So, at first I was pleased with the shower of postal cards; but as they kept piling up, it dawned on me that I had offered something for nothing, and, sure enough, came a card from a teacher — well, anyway, she taught me something—who gave me permission to send her my "free material."

I give up. Obviously it was foolish of me to try to teach teachers to teach.

Milk Hauler's Wife Says Promises Weren't Kept

There were many statements and remarks at the time of the milk strike that if one would not cross the picket line and stay on the farmers' side, business would pick up for him.

He faithfully stood by the farmers. But also a few let him down.

What is the holdup? Truth and honesty don't count, I guess, by the looks of things. Other haulers got by and are doing better, just because they went through the picket line until there were some warnings.

But are they better than the ones who stuck to the farmers? I am sorry that those who say such things don't stick to it.

Alabama and Africa Mix in Youthful White Hunter

NEW YORK (AP)— Wally Jones is the only Southerner I know of who can say "ninyi yote" without feeling self-conscious.

* * *

Jones, a former cub scout from Birmingham, Ala., at 25 is an African white hunter, and "ninyi yote" in the Swahili tongue means "you all."

STARTED YOUNG

Wally shot his first rabbit at the age of 9. At 16 he saw an African movie, and decided right then and there he had to become a professional white hunter.

* * *

"I couldn't think of anything life held that could pleasure me more," he recalled.

* * *

He quit college, joined the U.S. Marines, saved his money. He had $1,000 when he left the Marines in 1952. A few days later he was on a tramp steamer headed for Africa. The authorities in British East Africa made him post a $300 bond to insure his ability to return to America. That left Wally practically penniless on a strange continent.

LIKED COURAGE

He went to a white hunter in Nairobi, Kenya, and told him his ambition. The man liked the courage and determination shown by this chunky, blue-eyed Alabama youth. He took him on as an apprentice.

* * *

Wally learned so quickly that within a year he had won a hunter's license himself. Since then he has led 15 safaris, shot everything from leopards to elephants. Recently his skill won him the job of technical adviser on "Safari," a Columbia Pictures film starring Janet Leigh and Victor Mature.

'USE YOUR HEAD'

"Hunting in Africa isn't particularly dangerous if you use your head. In the time I've been out there no client has been killed, and only one professional hunter. He was killed in a shooting accident."

* * *

Unscarred himself, Wally, who has a soft voice and hands rough as sandpaper, is completely satisfied with his life.

"The country out there isn't crowded. It's open and beautiful.

"It's no way to get rich. Oh, goodness no, sir. I figure we make about a dollar an hour or less on safari, and we work 16 hours a day.

When spring rains halt the safaris, Jones works for the Kenya police at $120 a month, and as a policeman he participated in hunts against the savage Mau Maus.

* * *

HUNT IN HARMONY

"It's a funny thing," Wally remarked, "but a husband and wife seem to get along together better on a safari than they do back home. It brings them closer together."

* * *

Eventually, Wally hopes to settle down on an African farm of his own and raise wheat and children.

"I'm still single," he said, grinning. "But I'm not only willing to marry — I'm begging."

However, girls, if your beau ideal is a professional white hunter don't waste your stamps writing to Wally. He's already got a girl in mind—and she's in Africa.

Burma Doctor With First Automobile Suggests Small Can of Matching Paint

The new Burma surgeon named below offers automobile manufacturers a very helpful suggestion. It would probably be more welcome to potential car buyers than an extra 25-horsepower added to the motors. We psychologists have long urged closer attention to the simple practical wishes of the buyer.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-350: Dr. Simon Myint, aged 27, is a brilliant American trained physician, who is now serving a surgical residency at Philadelphia.

* * *

His home is Burma, and he comes from a Christian clergyman's family. When he leaves this country, he expects to become Professor of Surgery in the new Medical College of Burma.

Mrs. Crane and I have known him and his family for several years, so Dr. Myint stopped to visit us a few months ago while he had a brief vacation.

He was very delighted with a new car which he was driving, but the night before he reached our home in Chicago, he scraped a little paint off the side door.

Well, if you have ever purchased a new automobile, you realize how sensitive the owner is to the slightest mar on that shiny vehicle.

Since this was the very first car which Dr. Myint ever had possessed, he was terribly disturbed because of that scratch.

But Mrs. Crane told him he could probably get a small can of paint to match the hue of his car and dab a few drops on the tiny scratches.

At last he was successful. I think the can of paint cost him about $1.50, but his spirits zoomed noticeably after his car again looked like new.

"Dr. Crane," he suggested as we were dining that night, "why wouldn't it be a good idea for the manufacturer to include a tiny can of such paint with each new car?

"It could be stuck in the glove compartment and would thus save the owners a lot of time trying to hunt a shop where the appropriate hue of paint could be found.

"If a little can about the size of a child's paste jar were thus included, it surely wouldn't cost the manufacturer more than 25 cents and yet would build up goodwill."

* * *

That sounded like an excellent idea to me.

"Why don't you write a letter and give them your suggestion," I replied, "for I think it is good.

"And the manufacturers usually welcome clever ideas from the consumer which will increase the desirability of their cars at little additional expense."

A car owner may now waste five dollars worth of his valuable time trying to find 25 cents worth of paint that matches his car's hue.

Gravel will often chip a tiny spot from the paint on a new car, yet a few drops of paint will remedy the matter.

CONSUMER SURVEYS

Often the engineers at a factory will pride themselves on an additional 25 horsepower they may add to a motor, when the consumer would prefer a 25-cent can of matching paint to touch-up minor flecks.

And the consumers are often more adept at offering practical little ideas than college trained experts.

Housewives thus sprout hundreds of clever improvements on merchandise, for these alert women actually use the goods in their homes and soon get wise to minor defects and petty irritations which could often be remedied at no extra cost in manufacturing.

Business psychologists have long urged a closer attention to the wishes of the consumer so tomorrow I'll cite some of their suggestions.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

VISITORS IN YOUR GARDEN — 2

The Grasshopper

It's often been said that the grasshopper eats and plays all summer, then dies when cold weather sets in because, unlike the ant, he has stored no food for the winter. But that's true of many other insects too.

If a boy could jump as far, compared to his size, as a grasshopper does, he would be able to land on top of an eight story building. The grasshopper's long, powerful back legs enable him to do this, although some grasshoppers use their wings too.

For your collection, color Mr. Grasshopper green and the goldenrod yellow. The grass is green too of course. Then paste the picture on cardboard and cut out the parts.

Fasten the grasshopper part to the base with a brass fastener thrust through the indicated holes. Fold the end panels of the base forward so that it stands. Then you can swing the grasshopper back and forth, just as he might on a real flower.

(Lynel D. Vallier, McClelland, Ia., wins $10 for this idea. You may win an award if you send in a good idea to this paper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Germans Spot Americans Easily Through Manners

BERLIN (AP)—If you're coming to Germany this summer, don't be surprised if you are immediately spotted as an American.

* * *

"I can tell Americans 300 yards away," one perceptive German said recently. "And it's not just because they walk around with their hands in their pockets, either."

U.S. HALLMARKS

The hallmarks of an American are many, for example:

If he strolls down the street with a woman, chances are he walks on the outside, or curb side. In Germany, the woman is always on the man's right. The reason for the difference is that the American is following the old Anglo-Saxon custom of protecting his lady from being splashed by passing vehicles. The German keeps the lady on his right—or at least his great - grandfather did — because he wants to keep his left side, or sword side, free for action.

* * *

When you go into a restaurant and begin eating, you will be an object of attention because of the ritual through which you put the knife and he fork, i.e., placing the knife on the edge of the plate after cutting the meat, and switching the fork into the right hand. Germans, like all Europeans, grasp the knife firmly in the right hand, the fork in the left, and generally keep them there until the meal is finished. Their lefthand is interrupted only for sips of beer or wine.

Other identifying characteristics of an American:

1. Short hair cuts. Germans, despite the shaved neck tradition of old Prussian officers, like hairdos that are long and thick.

* * *

2. White shirts. No sensible German would think of wearing a white shirt on a weekday. He saves white shirts for special occasions, like parties or church. Laundry costs are higher.

* * *

3. Light colored suits. Summers seldom get too warm in Germany, so most German suits are of a dark and heavy material.

Legislature Reconvenes Thursday

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Legislature returns Thursday to tie up the loose ends of its 1956 session.

* * *

Legislators had finished the most important work of the session when they adjourned April 7. But under joint rules they meet several weeks later to receive reports of conference committees and act on any bills the Governor may have vetoed.

The two-day meeting is usually a perfunctory ritual attended by a handful of members. But this year, it is expected to draw full houses and produce fights over some of a dozen unsettled issues.

The lawmakers' chief task will be to act on some 111 million dollars in appropriation bills caught in a House-Senate dispute.

MENTAL HEALTH BILL

They include a measure appropriating 58 million dollars for mental health, a 34 million dollar capital outlay proposal and a 16 million dollar public health bill.

House and Senate can't agree, either, on how much money to spend in developing state parks. The Senate wants to spend a big chunk of the state parks allocation—$500,000—on Sterling State Park in Monroe County. The House cut the figure to $100,000.

The two chambers also are in disagreement over appropriations for development of Port Crescent State Park in the Thumb. The Senate passed $300,000 for the park and the House cut the sum out entirely.

Also disputed in the capital outlay bill are a $128,000 appropriation for a University of Michigan School of Music and a $500,000 appropriation for a new University of Michigan mental research building.

LAYOFF PAY PLAN

Another money matter still unsettled is a $150,000 House appropriation to finance new facilities for mentally deficient inmates at the Wayne County Home and Training School.

The two chambers are also faced with a dispute over a new program to train psychiatrists for state hospitals.

* * *

The Senate wants the training program under the Unniversity of Michigan Board of Regents. The House wants it administered by the State Mental Health Department.

A plan to limit combined payments of State Unemployment Compensation and private supplemental layoff pay, defeated by the House but passed by the Senate, is also up in the air.

Little hope was held out by champions of a bill which would give the State Conservation Commission authority to set special seasons on deer hunting.

* * *

The plan was approved by the Senate, but the House passed it only after slapping on amendments objectionable to the upper chamber.

The amendments provide for opening the season on the Saturday closest to Nov. 15 and would give a legislative committee power to veto hunting regulations approved by the commission.

Other bills up for consideration deal with Civil Defense disaster control, Motor Vehicle registrations, boiler inspection, barber license fees, schools construction and judges' retirement.

Halt Building, Occupancy Permits in 5 Waterford Zones

Drainage Holds Up Progress

Officials Study Problem First Hand; Board Asks Fire Dept. Petition

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Building permits and permits of occupancy are being halted in five subdivisions in Waterford Township due to storm drainage problems, Supervisor Lloyd Anderson told the Township Board Monday night.

Areas affected are Lorraine Manor, Whitfield Estates No. 11, Barnes Subdivision, Lake Oakland Beach and Northridge. Homes in these areas total approximately 408.

The decision to hold up building in these areas temporarily, came following a meeting of the supervisor last week with officials of VA, FHA, the Oakland County Road Commission and the Oakland County Drain Commission.

During the meeting the group toured the township to observe first-hand the major drainage problem.

* * *

The Township Board informed Fire Chief Ed Smith it has requested Attorney John Bell to draw up a petition to be circulated in the township. This will ask the Township Board to place the Fire Department request for a one-mill tax increase for Fire Department operation on the ballot.

The Board will require 51 per cent of the registered voters of the township to sign such petitions before placing the proposal on the ballot.

These petitions, Anderson stated, "will give the board proof that the people do want an opportunity to vote on the firemen's proposed increase."

Other board business included authorizing the supervisor to advertise for bids on the installation of the Sylvan Shores sewer.

Bids on two police cars were let to Cy Owens for Ford 1956 Mainline two-door sedans.

Plumbers bonds were approved for Ezra Mason, F. J. Temple and Eames and Brown.

Pete plans to enter Albion College and study medicine; Joan will go to University of Michigan to study sociology and biological science.

Friends to Build House for Paralyzed Neighbor

By MYRA SNOW
North Branch Correspondent

NORTH BRANCH — The loyalty and selflessness of small town friendships is being demonstrated here in the form of a home-building project for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Podvin and two children.

Donald, injured in an automobile accident last May, was hospitalized one month in St. Joseph Hospital, Flint, and since then has been under care in the Veteran's Hospital at Saginaw.

To help him bridge the difficult period of physical readjustment, his friends and buddies have organized the Don Podvin Building Committee. With the expected cooperation of the American Legion and local service groups and individuals, the committee hopes to begin building plans this week.

The spot selected for the proposed house is behind the home of his father, Arthur Podvin, at 6854 Jefferson Rd.

Because of the necessity of wheelchair facilities it will be necessary to construct a one-story residence, with special doors and windows.

Okay Half Mill Holly Tax Hike

HOLLY—By a vote of 136 to 30, the proposition to add one-half mill to the tax rate in Holly Township was approved by the voters Monday in a special election.

This will raise about $5,000 on the township's assessed valuation of approximately $10 million, and is to be used for park and recreational facilities.

Most of it will be spent for further improvements and extensions on the new Bush Lake bathing beach in the northeast part of Holly village.

Ferndale Okays 3 Mill Extension

FERNDALE — Taxpayers here voted yesterday to continue paying an extra three-mill tax for school operation. The vote was 1,329 for and 410 against.

Of the over 17,000 registered voters, only 1,750 cast votes.

The three-mill tax will run for five years.

Assistant superintendent of schools Ervin R. Kienbaum said today that the school tax will go up about $5 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation. He added that this increase comes from the recently approved $6,500,000 bond issue, and that continuing the extra three-mill tax doesn't change the tax rate.

4 Areas Meet on Drain Issue

Seek Way to Control Overflow of Southfield Storm Water

OAK PARK — At a special meeting called for 2 p.m. today in Oak Park City Hall, measures to control overflow of Southfield strom water into neighboring communities are being discussed.

City managers and officials from Oak Park, Berkley, Huntington Woods and Southfield will meet with Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main. Oak Park's city manager Harold K. Schone has called the meeting.

Southfield's three neighboring cities to the east would like a new drainage system west of Greenfield, to be built either before or at the same time as the proposed $30 million "Twelve-Town Drain" scheduled to start this fall.

Berkley City Manager John W. Short said this morning that engineers are considering a "dam" west of Greenfield to prevent storm water from flowing across the boundary street into Berkley and Oak Park basements.

They have four children, Walter of Utica, Alvin of Rochester, Mrs. Frank Allen of Lake Orion and Mrs. Weldon Hagemeister of Rochester. There are four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. A family dinner also will be held May 20, at the home of Mrs. Allen.

Troy Refuses Factory Zoning

Owner Has Indicated He Will Appeal Case in Court

TROY — A court case may result, but nonetheless, Troy city commissioners last night voted to turn down James Sutermeister's request for factory zoning on his land.

Sutermeister's case has been considered previously, and at that time Sutermeister indicated he would appeal the city's decision. He has 20 acres, now a farm, at 4695 Rochester Rd.

Also at the commission meeting, approval was given to rezoning for a miniature golf course, planned by H. H. Jacob on Rochester road north of Torbey's Drive. Possible site for three store buildings is the land rezoned from residential to commercial for Elmer R. Wentworth, on Livernois between Woodsley and Arthur.

The city will install taps for subdivision home water, for K. W. Mills, rather than let Mills do it, commissioners decided. A water district involving several streets was approved, also.

The city planning board will meet tonight at the city hall, and a special commission meeting is expected to be called for tomorrow night.

Milford OKs 'Self-Pay' Parking Lot Plan

MILFORD — The big $64,100 off-street parking question was settled at last night's council meeting after more than a year of negotiation.

Members voted 4 to 2 in favor of securing revenue bonds payable solely from money collected from the parking meters.

Unless 10 per cent of the registered voters sign petitions against the proposal within the next 30 days, the village will proceed with present plans to buy the Chet Arms and Bill Purdy property on Union street. The Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring the off-street parking project has options on the two properties which will expire in July.

A special public hearing was called last night to discuss two alternatives on the parking problem:

No. 1 question: Shall the cost of parking facilities be financed by the issuance of general obligation bonds.

No. 2: That the issuance of bonds would be financed by parking meter revenue.

For over a year this controversial problem has been giving council members trouble.

Sometime ago the village gave the Chamber of Commerce authority to go ahead with plans to buy the Chet Arms property and install parking meters on a lighted blacktop lot. The Michigan Finance Corp. turned thumbs down on the plans as inadequate for the parking facilities in the village.

Present plans call for a lot two, and one half times bigger than the original size and will accommodate 75 cars. The houses now on the property will now be moved and the land blacktopped and lighted after the necessary 30-day waiting period.

Estimated cost of the work is $64,100.

Don Breen, chairman of the off-street parking committee said:

"It is very necessary that the residents of the village realize that their taxes will not be increased with the construction of the proposed parking facilities. The meters will pay for themselves.

Policy Changed by Methodists

Convention Endorses 9 Amendments to Rules for Church Members

The church's law-making General Conference, held every four years, ended yesterday.

• • •

1. Adopted procedures permitting integration of the church's racially segregated administrative structure.

• • •

2. Extended full clergy rights to women.

• • •

3. Allotted a million dollars to set up a School of International Service in Washington, D. C., to train government diplomats and other foreign-service personnel.

• • •

4. Approved establishment of two new theological seminaries, one in Ohio and one in the Kansas-Nebraska-Missouri area, and the expansion of 10 others.

• • •

5. Set up fund-raising machinery to provide an additional 48 million dollars to strengthen the 116 church-related colleges and universities in the next four years.

• • •

6. Embarked on a broad program for stimulating work of local churches in their social and religious influences in their home communities.

• • •

7. Strongly condemned legalized liquor as a spreading menace to the health and welfare of Americans.

• • •

8. Gave official sanction to birth control.

• • •

9. Upped the church's main missionary budget from 30 to 49 million dollars to advance Christianity at home and abroad.

In the final, hard-working session yesterday, delegates plowed through some 200 legislative actions, most of them of an administrative nature.

• • •

On perhaps the most controversial item on the last day's agenda—a move to liberalize the church's regulations on marriages of divorced persons—the conference postponed any action.

LOYALTY OATHS

The final session also adopted a resolution opposing any government laws requiring "loyalty oaths" from churches.

The Rev. Everett W. Palmer of Glendale, Calif., urged the resolution, saying California had such a law, and similar laws were being pressed in other states. The resolution said:

• • •

"The church must be free to bring all persons and institutions under judgment of the Gospel."

The big issue at the conference was the church's segregated jurisdictional system, and after days of debate, delegates agreed almost unanimously on the voluntary procedure for bringing white and Negro churches into the same groupings.

St. Louis Gets Excited Over Weather Balloon

ST. LOUIS (AP)—That round object which glowed about 90,000 feet above St. Louis for 2½ hours last night was just a weather balloon.

The Weather Bureau and jet pilots, who went up for a closer look, confirmed it.

But before they did, there was considerable speculation by weather experts, military men, astronomers, amateur star gazers and "flying saucer" addicts.

Fire Gives Own Alarm Courtesy of Lightning

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Probably the fastest fire alarm on record here was turned in last night.

A lightning bolt from a local thunderstorm knocked out a fire alarm box and set off the signal. Firemen said the nice part about the incident was that the fire was out before the alarm had finished sounding.

Vocal Coach Points Out TV Demands

Politicians Should Talk Instead of Speaking

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — "If you were a candidate for the office of President of the United States, do you know what I—a discriminating vote—would want most of you?"

Betty Cashman fixed me with a challenging eye (in fact, two) and waited.

"Honesty, integrity, strength and clean livin'?" I suggested.

"Yes!" said Miss Cashman. "But more. I'd want you to stop speaking—and talk instead."

Now this statement may sound about as clear as an Einstein theorem, but our girl is a young, well-known expert in the matter of the vocal coaching of celebrities, and she says it makes a lot of sense.

"I have been discussing this with Daniel Riesner (chairman of the National Republican Club) and he agrees with me," she says.

"In this day and age of the TV-trained audience, a presidential nominee is going to find that the way he talks is just as important as what he promises as far as winning votes is concerned."

HIDDEN LIGHTS

And, although non-partisan Betty wouldn't dream of underestimating the intelligence of the voter (I'm not suggesting that politicians be Perry Comos, exactly"), she claims that many a candidate is hiding his light under a barrel-sized voice.

• • •

"They're still reaching out for an audience, using Madison-Square Garden voices. On TV, that just doesn't go. You've got to talk in a living room voice, and look at me through the screen with eyes that are trustworthy."

On the other hand, a few prominent politicos have voices that are too, too refined. Betty calls them "blue," as in "blue-blooded." These men act as if they're talking down to the public, and weakly.

"They don't sound like they have a chance in heaven of fulfilling all those promises they're making," she says.

• • •

As far as Betty Cashman, actors' and personality coach, knows — President Eisenhower is the only top figure in the coming hot campaigns who has a television coach. Robert Montgomery has shown him how to convey his sincerity and ideas into the homeset.

• • •

HER ADVICE

She urges that the rest of the potentials for the presidency take the advice she gives to such of her pupils as the Gabor sisters, Billy Daniels, Tony Curtis, Jack Palance, etc.

• • •

"Forget that outdated phrase, 'public speaking.' Develop, instead, the art of 'personable talking'."

She adds that it is scientific fact that the TV public "buys or rejects a personality in 10 seconds."

"And since everyone concedes that TV is the heartline of the political figure—that means that our candidates are going to have to move fast, articulately and appealingly."

Judge Says Lawyers Don't Help Cut Divorce

Doyle, of the Superior Court's Domestic Relations Division, told members of the California Conference of Social Workers yesterday that couples seeking divorces should see a judge before a lawyer.

• • •

He criticized recent efforts by members of the California Bar to reduce the interlocutory period. Divorces are not final in California for one year. He said shortening the waiting period hinders reconciliation attempts.

UP, UP, UP AND AWAY — A piano, being moved from an old Masonic hall to a new one in Hutchinson, Kan., lacked one inch of being small enough to go through a downstairs door. The movers loaded the instrument onto a pickup truck, drove the truck onto the bed of a larger truck, and then herded both vehicles and piano onto the platform of a semi-trailer. Backing the whole contraption up to the new location, they erected a ramp and, as seen above, pulled, pushed and prayed the piano into position through a second-story window.

Communists Continuing Maneuvers Near Demilitarized Zone in Korea

By DONALD H. CHOI

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (INS)—The Korean armistice stopped the whining of artillery shells across the 155-mile front, but gun flashes, flares and tracers still scorch the night sky on the north side of no-man's land.

"It's the Communists on night maneuvers" said Maj. Ralph W. Ferrese, of Milwaukee.

Sp-3 Morris J. Seltzer, of Pittsburgh, who was with us in lonely outpost Maizie, said he has seen tracers racing into the sky and explosions rocking the stilled air while on duty.

Ferrese said that the Communist artillery and flares are "a good way out" on the other side of the demilitarized zone, roughly a two-and-a-half mile belt separating Communist and U.N. troops.

The two men then pointed to a group of lights gleaming on the left and said it was the outskirts of the ancient city of Kaesong.

REDS KEEP CLOSE EYE

To the right was Panmunjom, where the neutral nations supervisory commission members are housed. It was here that U.N. and Communist representatives met to negotiate the Korean armistice.

In between the two lights, the major said lies hill 155, where the Reds are keeping a close eye on the U. N. forces.

He said the U.S. soldiers on the outpost are able to spot a Red checkpoint on the northern side of the demilitarized zone during the daytime. On clear days, they are able to see up to 20 miles from the outpost the officer added.

Ferrese added:

"We can also observe hospitals, schools, and other big buildings on the outskirts of Kaesong."

AREA HOMES ANIMALS

Seltzer said lots of game can be found in the truce zone since no shooting is allowed in the area under the terms of the armistice agreement.

As we listened, we could hear the cry of cranes in the bird and animal sanctuary.

"Here comes another one." Ferrese remarked as an artillery flash flickered over the dark horizon. As if in agreement the fowl stopped their crooning.

The major said that troops manning the outpost used to live there, and explained:

"They were ordered to move back so that they can relax with better facilities. It is easier for them to rest and report to their duty on a two-and-half ton truck from their quarters four miles back than to live here."

Does Drinking Ease Troubles?

UM Psychologist Says Effects, Not Quantity Determine Alcoholics

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Are you a social drinker? Try yourself against some of the ideas of a University of Michigan psychologist.

It isn't how much you drink, says Prof. Max L. Hutt. It's how the alcohol affects you that determines whether you are an alcoholic.

"When a person uses alcohol as a solution for personal problems," the professor says, "it produces a decreased capacity for dealing with one's difficulties. Typically, alcoholism is not a disease but a symptom of personal-social maladjustment."

In an interview with the Michigan Journalist, laboratory newspaper of the university's journalism department, Prof. Hutt says that excessive drinking, like excessive eating, is a means of escape.

There are, he says, people who are not yet alcoholics, but who are already having difficulties in their jobs, families, and social contacts. These people need help while in the intermediate stage, he says.

FOUR REASONS WHY

Four reasons for excessive use of alcohol, Prof. Hutt says, are:

"Alcohol has additional virtues for some as a substitute for affection, especially since it is taken orally."

"Alcohol acts to release inhibitions; it reduces anxiety and it gives a fictitious feeling of assurance and self-confidence."

"The alcoholic associates drinking with pleasant things or experiences. A person never thinks of drinking unless he has seen others drinking or he has experienced drinking himself."

"In prior times, where an anesthetic was not available for surgical procedures, alcohol was used as a pain reliever and therefore it is sometimes thought of as a pain reliever in our minds."

Piles No Longer A Problem

If they are the bleeding kind, suffer no longer

Medical research has developed a miracle medicine called RECTORAL. It does away with the conventional use of old-fashioned ointments, suppositories, injections, etc., that give little, if any, even temporary relief. RECTORAL has a tendency to shrink the piles and usually in a few days, the bleeding, soreness, irritation and pain start to disappear and in a few days there are completely gone. Thousands of sufferers have used this remarkable medicine and have never had any further trouble, even years afterwards. Many of these people had been advised that only an expensive and painful operation could help them. Why suffer any longer? Get relief NOW! Stay well! Get a bottle of RECTORAL today at

Texans Endorse Johnson Today

'Favorite Son' Suggests Other States Back Him as Presidential Choice

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Texas County Democratic conventions meet today, the vast majority of them to put their stamp of approval on Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as both the state party leader and Texas' "favorite son" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

* * *

SEEKS SUPPORT

He declared he was not seeking the support of delegations from other states but when asked if he would accept the nomination, replied:

"I would," and after a pause added "—as of now."

Johnson, who was named chairman and delegation leader in his own precinct Saturday, plans to attend the Blanco County convention at the old stone courthouse of the public square at Johnson City today and then fly back to Washington.

WANTS STATE UNITY

The senator, who scored a 4-1 win over Shivers for the job of leading the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, said he accepted the role of "favorite son" presidential candidate purely in an effort "to unify the party in Texas."

* * *

Johnson had said earlier he would be willing to head a delegation that "represented all Texas Democrats, not just one faction." He had called for a delegation that would endorse the party's nominees "and then come back to Texas to work for their election."

Shivers, who stressed states rights in his campaign, has said he would support the party ticket only if the Democratic presidential nominee was acceptable to him and he indicated that he might support President Dwight Eisenhower again. Shivers, who headed a 1952 delegation that was seated at the national convention, later bolted the ticket and helped swing Texas into the Republican column.

Registration Drops

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California voter registration for the June 5 presidential primary is 5,487,822 — down 176,866 from the 1954 primary. Democrats widened their traditional edge over Republicans. Their current registration totals 3,059,873, compared with the GOP's 2,277,530.

Controversial Hells Canyon Dam Bill Holds Pre-Election Attack on President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders were reported clearing the way today to bring the controversial Hells Canyon Dam bill before the Senate for a pre-election assault on President Eisenhower's power policies.

* * *

Party leaders were represented as ready to recommend the transfer of Sen. Long of Louisiana from the Interior to the Foreign Relations Committees in a shakeup of Democratic assignments following the death last week of Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

If this move gains expected approval of the Democratic Steering Committee and the Senate, Long would be replaced on the Interior Committee by an as-yet-unselected Democrat favoring a bill to authorize construction of a federal dam at Hells Canyon, on the Snake River near the Idaho-Oregon border.

OPPONENTS ALIGN

Long has lined up with Republican members of the interior group against the federal Hells Canyon project.

His stand has kept bottled up in the committee a bill which Democrats have come to regard as a symbol of their conflict with the Eisenhower administration over power policies.

* * *

The Federal Power Commission has authorized the Idaho Power Co. to build three low-level dams on the Snake. This is in line with the Eisenhower administration's policy of sharing natural resource development with private enterprise.

* * *

Although Idaho Power's permit has been challenged in the courts, the company already has begun work on two of the three dams which would flood the site of the proposed federal high dam project.

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP)—A strong and prolonged earth a.m. today. The quake apparently was felt throughout this Central American country but there were no immediate reports of damage or injuries.

Hayworth in Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hayworth (D-Mich) is recovering from a sinus operation as Bethesda Naval Hospital. Aides said Hayworth, operated on last Friday, expects to leave the hospital in a week or 10 days.

Philippines Excited by Atom Site Offer

MANILA (AP)—Philippine leaders generally are enthusiastic about the proposed establishment of an American-sponsored atomic research center here. But privately some have expressed misgivings about the reaction to the project in other Asian countries.

* * *

Some sources feel the Washington decision was based purely on political reasons and not on realistic grounds. They admit such countries as Japan, India and Ceylon are more advanced in nuclear knowledge than the Philippines and should have been the location for Asia's first atomic plant.

* * *

Teacher Rides Home to Indiana on Horseback

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Miss Irma Gall, a school teacher, rode her horse to and from classes each day in a remote section of mountainous Clay County.

And she learned to like the olden mode of transportation so well that today she is on a horseback trip to her home in Syracuse, Ind.

Before leaving yesterday, she said she expected the trip to require two weeks.

She said she would return to her work in August but that her horse, Bob, would be vanned back.

Now, honestly Mr. Governor!

"Careless driving is deadly KID STUFF!"

Saying "Children should be more careful" is the saddest kind of Kid Stuff. It's adult to help children stay safe! Drivers who don't must be ruled off the highways.

Theatergoers Fight to Keep Will-O-Way Operating

Pontiac Press Photos

Mrs. William O. Merrill presided at the tea held at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater Sunday for a group of theater lovers interested in the continuation of the little country playhouse. Also photographed at the tea table were Mrs. George Wyman (center) of Ottawa drive and Mrs. Charles Uligian of Starr avenue.

Checking from backstage at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater were Mrs. Kenneth E. Turner Jr. and William W. Merrill, producer-director of Will-O-Way Playhouse. They made sure that everyone became acquainted at the tea. Mrs. Turner is director of the Apprentice Theater.

Playhouse Gets Help From Fans

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Those attending the tea at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theater on West Long Lake Road Sunday came away determined to fight for the continuation of the little country playhouse in Bloomfield Hills.

Many of them did not know of the severe blow suffered by the playhouse last summer during the unprecedented heat wave.

And they didn't know of the financial reverses suffered in 1948 when top-notch movie stars failed to "make the grade," causing the theater a severe loss.

These losses are about made up now, but only through real struggle on the part of the Merrill family which founded Will-O-Way.

* * *

But early this spring an announcement telling of the possible close of this theater, which has rated among the top 10 in the country, brought an avalanche of calls—people asking why such a thing must happen.

THEIR PROBLEMS

Then these people decided that the problems of Will-O-Way were their problems and they have done something about it.

A "package ticket," a group of six tickets sold for the price of five which can be used for any of the performances all summer long, is the idea which caught the enthusiasm of these people.

This, they decided, would alleviate the problem encountered with a season ticket when vacation time rolls round. If this same enthusiasm spreads to the surrounding area, Will-O-Way should be strong and healthy again.

Following the meeting Sunday, tea was served on the revolving stage at the Apprentice Theater. The podium and meeting equipment moved slowly out of sight and into view came the lovely tea tables, candles burning, surrounding a beautiful center of moss and spring flowers.

* * *

Mrs. Kenneth E. Turner Jr. arranged the tea.

Further information concerning the playhouse may be obtained by calling Will-O-Way Theater on West Long Lake road.

Waterford Lists Concert Artists

Artists for the coming series of concerts of the Waterford Township Civic Music Association have been announced.

* * *

Personalities to be featured are Blanche Thebom, mezzo-soprano; The Engelkinder, vocal and instrumental ensemble; Seymour Lipkin, pianist; Gregory and Strong, dance and concertino duo, and The Rabinoffs, violin and piano duo.

The artists were selected at a meeting of the talent committee at the home of Mrs. Edmund Windeler Saturday evening at the closing of the week-long membership campaign.

Two-hundred workers contacted residents of Waterford, Pontiac, Clarkston and West Bloomfield areas. The selection of artists was determined by tallying the preference ballots.

* * *

UNIQUE FAMILY

The Engelkinder is a unique family from the Austrian Alps. The family, with seven children ranging in age from 5 to 18, dances, sings art and folk songs and plays 120 instruments. They are on tour in American this year for the first time.

* * *

Pianist Seymour Lipkin is of special interest to this locality. From Detroit, he received most of his training there. He has already soloed with 15 major symphonies, has received the Rachmaninoff Award and has been re-engaged five times to appear with the Boston Symphony.

The combined talents of a young dancer and a concertino virtuoso are present in the team of Gregory and Strong. They will present a program ranging from the early classics to jazz. This team has the unusual distinction of being equally popular in both concert and nightclub performances.

Renno and Sylvia Rabinoff are a husband and wife violin and piano duo. Their recital programs have been called "an artistic union of two perfectly matched talents." They will be heard in both solo and ensemble numbers.

Disagree on Sharing Umbrella

BY EMILY POST

A wife writes me: "Every time it rains my husband and I have a disagreement and I would like you to settle it once and for all. He objects to holding my umbrella over me, which I insist every gentleman walking on the street with a lady should do.

"He says he doesn't mind not sharing my umbrella but he thinks as long as it is not large enough to keep both of us dry I should hold it over myself."

Answer: If it is a woman's size umbrella, he is right. A woman holds her own small umbrella over herself. A man's, large enough to keep both dry, he would hold. She would take his bent arm to bring them as close as possible under the center of the umbrella.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I'm going to invite one of the young men who works under my supervision, and his wife, to my house to dinner. Her mother is visiting them and my wife wondered whether in courtesy she should be invited too. Nice as I'm sure the lady is, having her will upset our plans a bit. But we don't want to seem rude."

Answer: You are under no obligation to include her. But if she is visiting them for only a very short time, it certainly would be better to wait until she has gone home before inviting them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband will be graduating from medical school shortly and the question of graduation announcements has come up. We would like to know to whom it is proper to send such announcements, and also at what time should they be sent?"

Answer: They are sent to relatives and intimate friends and all neighbors who could be interested in hearing the news. They are sent out immediately after graduation.

Pastor Talks at Breakfast

"Who Forms Your Opinions" was the subject of the address by the Rev. Paul Sloan Jr. who spoke Monday morning to the United Church Women at the annual May Fellowship Breakfast in the Oakland avenue United Presbyterian Church.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Sloan, pastor of the Drayton Avenue Presbyterian Church, Ferndale, urged his listeners to become informed on subjects of the day. Those seeking facts should ask themselves if they are swayed by personalities, newspapers, organizations, radio or television.

Before forming an opinion, one should read newspapers that give national and international coverage, listen to world reporters, hear both sides of a question and evaluate the source of information, the Rev. Mr. Sloan stated.

One should also question the motive behind facts and always seek the will of God in the pursuit of truth, he concluded.

* * *

Periodic Tension Can Be Relieved

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Until comparatively recently the emotional instability and tension which most women experience to some degree during the week preceding their menstrual periods was taken for granted as "woman's lot."

* * *

Now a number of studies have been made which indicate that from 50 to 75 per cent of all normally menstruating girls and women suffer one or more discomforts associated with this period. These symptoms vary greatly in severity, depending on the individual woman.

The most usual one is nervous and emotional instability, such as irritability, crying much more readily than usual, sudden fits of temper which are not habitual, and depression.

During recent years the medical profession has recognized premenstrual tension as a real threat to a happy home life, social life and industrial or professional life. A great deal of research and investigation and study and experimentation concerning these tensions has taken place.

* * *

It has been found that the usual symptoms women experience for from four to seven days before the periods come from hormone imbalance, which increases the water retention in the tissues, causes changes in the breasts and uterus, and alters carbohydrate metabolism by increasing sugar tolerance.

During this pre-menstrual period a woman often gains from four to six pounds or more. Usually these symptoms all disappear with the advent of the period.

I am writing for three days this week about pre-menstrual tension, not because I wish to imbue your mind with the idea that your monthly period is an illness rather than a natural happening, but because today there is medical help for you.

The most usual premenstrual symptom is nervous and emotional instability.

Probably even more important, I believe that tens of thousands of women never connect their unhappy times with these four or five days each month.

Sorority Holds Breakfast

"Song of Spring" was the theme of the May Day breakfast held Sunday morning at Devon Gables by 40 members and guests of Omega Alpha sorority.

* * *

Programs in the shape of musical notes marked each guest's place and centerpieces were arrangements of spring flowers and miniature birds, emphasizing the decorative theme.

Ann Ward, speaker, told members of the purposes of modeling school. "They train girls in modeling and self-improvement and in achieving poise through the development of natural assets," the speaker stated.

"Correct posture and an attractive basic wardrobe tend to give the individual poise and confidence. By practicing tact, timing and tolerance, charm and poise will become natural developments."

Capacity Crowds See 'Fifth Season' at Playhouse

With a laugh-provoking story on New York's clothing industry, the Birmingham Village Players drew capacity crowds in the four performances at their Playhouse.

* * *

"The Fifth Season," was staged on Friday and Saturday of both this and the previous weekend.

Prime force in bringing the two clothing makers out of their financial slump, was Max Pincus, played by Jack Hassberger. His lines, like, "We have five seasons, Fall, Winter, Spring, Summer, and Slack," drew most of the laughs.

Romantic angle of the plot was a wife and girl friend entanglement, centered about the other business partner, played by Bob Halsted.

"Married Life is really wonderful.—it's so legitimate," was a key line for a minor part done by Liz Boyne, but the pseudo sophisticated play even questioned that veracity.

As his partner let partying with a dress wholesaler and two girl friends affect collecting bills from the wholesaler, Pincus set the moral note. "Your advice is romance with the guy that gives the business! Ha! I say, that's what he's giving us—the business?"

Pincus and Miss Oppenheimer, done by Dawley Etter, star in a sensitive scene where exchanging reminiscences of white bread and wine on Friday nights in their childhoods develops into love-talk.

Manners Triumph Over 'Charm'

By ANNE HEYWOOD

We hear so much nowadays about the importance of charm, of saying what people want to hear, giving compliments freely and smiling at everyone.

Yet, too often, this kind of "charm" is a travesty of the real thing and fools nobody.

We all know people whose mouths wear a smile, but whose eyes remain neutral. Their compliments, lavishly given, are just a flimsy coverup for blatant self-seeking.

In the job market particularly, this kind of charm will get you nowhere. What really counts is simple good manners.

* * *

This reminds me of two women I met recently. They are as different as night and day, yet their problems were identical.

FALSE SWEETNESS

Mrs. A. needed a job. She had that imitation sweetness which looks, at the beginning, like the real thing, but which doesn't have much staying power.

* * *

He problem was to get a job, after years as a housewife. She was 48, had good typing skill but no experience.

Mrs. B. also needed a job. She, too, had typing skill but no experience save as a housewife. Mrs. B. did not have that kind of "charm," but she was pleasant and polite.

I sent both Mrs. A. and Mrs. B. to be interviewed for a job as receptionist at a large advertising agency. The personnel director reported back after seeing them both and his comments were something!

* * *

Mrs. A. had arrived at a busy time, but that didn't bother her. She smiled charmingly if firmly and bludgeoned her way in to see the Great Man, over his secretary's protests.

She was sweet to the girl, you understand, and complimented her on her dress, but showed no understanding at all of the busy schedule or of good manners.

EXUDED CHARM

Once in the personnel director's office, she just exuded charm, and talked a blue streak about how wonderfully she could handle the job, what wonderful, wonderful things she had heard about the company, and so forth. She wasn't hired.

Mrs. B. sensed that it was a busy day, offered to come another time and was hired on the spot to pitch in with typing for a late mailing!

As the saying goes, "If you say, 'Isn't she charming,' she isn't. If you say, 'Gee, I like her!' she is."

* * *

If your job-hunting manners need brushing up, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet, "Good Manners in Job-Hunting."

Creamy Angel Food Dessert Praised at Recent Banquet

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When a successful dish is served at a large banquet or luncheon, everyone wants the recipe. That was the case with the dessert served at a recent mother-daughter banquet. We finally traced the recipe to Mrs. Noyes Strait Sr.

This Lemon Angel Icebox Cake is a refrigerator cake. It is easy to make, can be prepared ahead of time and isn't too high in calories. That's three points in its favor.

Mrs. Strait works in a church group and belongs to Tuesday Musicale. She likes to sew. As a grandmother many times over, she enjoys visits with her grandsons and granddaughters.

LEMON ANGEL ICEBOX CAKE
By Mrs. Noyes Strait Sr.

1 angel food cake
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatine
¼ cup water
6 eggs, separated
¾ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons grated lemon peel
¾ cup lemon juice
¾ cup sugar
Whipped cream for garnishing

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine egg yolks, ¾ cup sugar, lemon peel and juice in a double boiler. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats the spoon.

Remove from stove and add softened gelatine. Cool until partially set. Beat egg whites stiff with second ¾ cup of sugar. Fold meringue mixture into custard mix.

Break cake into pieces. Place a layer into a tube pan or a 9 x 13 loaf pan. Cover with a layer of the custard. Repeat until pan is full. Refrigerate at least 12 hours. Garnish with a dab of whipped cream. Serves 16.

Security for You

If You're Disabled Long Notify Your Local Office

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

Failure to tell your Social Security office when you're disabled and can't work may cut your future old age pension benefits.

Here's how it could work against you:

Your benefits are based on your average monthly earnings. If the Social Security must average in a long period of no income, naturally the amount of your pension will be lower.

So your Social Security office will allow you to apply to have a "disability freeze" put on your future benefits. Then, as long as you're disabled, none of the period without income will be used to figure your future pension checks.

* * *

However, the freeze can't be applied unless you've paid into Social Security for five of the ten years before you were disabled and unless you worked 19 of the 36 months immediately before your disability.

Further, the Social Security people aren't going to slap a freeze on your benefits just for a temporary disability. For example, a broken leg which keeps you off work for a couple of months doesn't qualify you.

Only a long-term disability severe enough to keep you from doing enough work to make a living can be considered. The only exceptions are blind persons. They can establish a disability without basing it on the effect of their ability to work.

As an absolute minimum, you must have had the disability for six months even to be considered. Then it must appear that the disability is going to continue for a long time.

* * *

Your disability may have resulted from an injury, any kind of sickness, mental illness or blindness. In any case, the Social Security office is going to have you examined to decide whether you meet the qualifications. So, if you're in doubt, your best move is to ask the Social Security people to decide.

The disability freeze idea is new and applications have been accepted only since Jan. 1.

Thus, if you're now disabled, apply for a discision on your disability before July 1, 1957 and if you are found to be qualified, your future benefits can be frozen for the entire period of your disability. It could extend back as far as 1941.

If you apply after June 30, 1957, your period of disability can be extended back one year only.

You should take your case to your local Social Security office if you're now drawing a pension because you're 65, but were totally disabled for a period of time before you reached 65. The office may be able to figure out that you're eligibile for a larger pension by applying the freeze retroactive to your disability period.

* * *

In all cases, your disability period will end as far as Social Security is concerned on the last day of the first month in which either your disability ends or you reach 65.

Since it's up to you to apply for the disability freeze on your benefits, it's also your obligation to tell the Social Security office when your disability ends so the freeze can be lifted.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Parris Island Instructors Sneer at 'Sneaky Petes'

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—The Marine Corps' shuffling of its training program, brought on by the drowning here of six young recruits, has resulted in a drastic shakeup and some deep resentment at this depot.

The recruit training program, the primary mission of Parris Island, has been taken over by Brig. Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., and the commanding general, normally a major general, has been reduced to command of a handful of service troops.

Greene, who is reporting directly to Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant, said the new command setup would last indefinitely.

DEEP RESENTMENT

There is deep resentment among drill instructors and junior officers over the transfer of Maj. Gen. J. C. Burger to Camp Lejeune, N. C., which Pate ordered last week.

The feeling here is that Burger, who was assistant division commander of the 1st Marine Division in the last year of fighting in Korea, has been made "the goat" of the so-called "death march" of April 8.

It was on that date that S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon of Worcester, Mass., marched a recruit platoon into a dark, tidal marshland and six men were drowned.

McKeon is now in the brig here awaiting a trial by court-martial, probably about the end of May, on charges of manslaughter.

MORE OBSERVERS

In addition to the command shakeup, the Marines have ordered 34 officers from other bases to report here as observers and supervisors. The Corps also is transferring 116 noncommissioned officers to this post to undergo training as drill instructors.

Greene said that 10 of the 34 officers would be assigned as inspectors of recruit training and would "have the authority to go anywhere, day or night, especially night." If they found anything wrong, Greene explained, "they would take it up with the senior officer present. They will not get between the D-I and the platoon."

'SNEAKY PETES'

Already the drill instructors and some of the officers here are reberring openly to the inspectors as "sneaky petes," i.e., spies.

Greene, meanwhile, has told the present drill instructors that under no conditions will they lay a hand on a recruit except to demonstrate posture or military movements. Nine drill instructors have been court-martialed here for maltreatment of recruits since Jan. 1, 1955, and three others are under arrest for "thumping," or striking, recruits.

Arraign Sexton on Assault Count

Victim of Shooting Held on Auto Theft Charge, Pleads Innocent

Ex-Pontiac patrolman James B. Sexton, 30, and one of two victims he wounded with his service revolver after a drinking spree Jan. 27 were arraigned on different charges yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Sexton, 686 E. Tennyson Ave. stood mute on a charge of felonious assault in the shooting of Robert K. Stephens, 30, now of Clarkston, and another companion.

Stephens, 9896 Crosby Lake Rd. entered a plea of innocent to a charge of auto theft May 8. An alleged partner, James S. Stacy, 32, of 438 Sanford St. entered the same plea.

Judge Frank L. Doty freed Sexton on a continued $1,000 bond. Stephens and Stacy were remanded to jail under $1,000 bonds each. No trial dates were set.

An original charge against Sexton of assault with intent to murder was reduced by Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, who ruled that no intent had been shown in the case.

Nature Is Teacher as 5th Graders Begin Campout

Wilson Pupils Learn by Doing

Group First to Spend Period at Proud Lake Recreation Area

Two nights out and all is well for 53 Wilson School fifth-graders spending a week learning of the out-door life at Proud Lake Recreation Area on Wixom Road near Milford.

Monday dawned bright and early for the youngsters and a clear day brought much to do. Lyle Abel, county agricultural agent, came to teach a lesson on soil.

One group finished "KP" duties by fighting its first round with a dishwasher, then started on to build a weather station complete with barometer and wind indicator.

Something new in education is this week's campout for these Pontiac elementary students. They are the first local elementary pupils to spend a week learning the democracy of living together as well as acquiring a deeper spiritual appreciation for nature.

Morale is at its highest for participating students. "I hope Friday doesn't come until next week," "We have a flashlight fight last night shining the lights at each other," and "Even washing dishes is fun out here," are just a few of the comments fifth graders had to offer about the week thus far.

Excitement and enthusiasm make early risers (5 a.m.) out of the youngsters. Counselors have suggested that they get library books to read until the morning "rise-and-shine" bell rings.

Friday with many a sigh of regret and many a memory, the campers will board the school bus and come back to civilization. But it's a pretty sure thing that conversation for quite a while will dwell on "the week we spent at Proud Lake camp."

THE FINAL STEP — Sherry Miller, 335 Central and Warner Viands, 315 Ferry, give a final firm pat to the earth as they transplant a tree. The Wilson youngsters have gathered seedlings for transplanting purposes. Plans are in the making to come back in 20 years to check growth.

Vacation Trip Ends in Death of Three

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit man, his wife and their infant son were killed today when their car hit a concrete abutment a half hour after starting out on a vacation trip.

They were Frank A. Kaplan, 36; his wife, Ann, 35, and their eight-month-old son, Leslie.

A 19-month-old daughter, Sheila, suffered only minor injuries, although she was hurled 150 feet from the car. She landed on a grassy embankment.

Sheriff's officers said Kaplan's car smashed into a railroad overpass abutment a quarter mile east of Plymouth on Ann Arbor road. They said he might have fallen asleep.

Kaplan was thrown from the car. His wife and son were pinned inside the wreckage. Suitcases for the family's trip west to visit relatives were strewn across the highway.

'Don't Let It Appear So'

Vacant Home Is Invitation to Burglary, Police Warn

Thousands of dollars could be saved here annually, police say, if a few simple rules were followed to ward off home burglaries.

What to do was summed up in one phrase by Det. Olin Hoffman of the Pontiac police: "If your house is vacant, don't let it appear so."

His warning came as part of a state-wide campaign by the Michigan Police Association during Burglary Prevention Week, which began yesterday.

The association cited statistics that show home burglary is on the increase. A "house job" is committed every 1 and one-eighth minutes, national statistics show.

Yet police officials say that about 90 per cent of all burglaries can be blamed on carelessness and lack of protection by the householder himself.

Hoffman, who investigates such crimes, said that burglars usually canvass neighborhoods, looking for signs that people aren't at home. A few simple tricks by householders can fool the sharpest eye, he said.

These precautions work, he said, when leaving for a vacation, weekend or evening:

Arrange to have the lawn mowed in summer and the sidewalks shoveled in winter.

Keep a light burning when absent at dinner time.

Lock all doors and windows, including those in the basement, porch and garage.

Don't leave money or valuable property in an unguarded home. If on vacation, bank the money and leave the valuables with friends.

If on vacation, tell police the date of departure and the date of return. They'll check on the home while it's empty.

In failing to do these things, Hoffman said, householders in effect are putting a sign on their front door, which says:

Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger 2-Door Riviera, Model 46R

It's Bigger than Both of 'em

It's as simple as this:

Only two cars in all creation outsell Buick. And they are two of the well-known smaller cars.

So maybe it will pay you to ask how come Buick has zoomed to the No. 3 spot with such fast-selling company.

It's the biggest bundle of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

And that means more people want it and can afford it, because it's priced only a few dollars more than its two smaller-car rivals—even less than some models of those very same cars.

But the big answer comes from a sure fact more folks have discovered: you get more pure automobile for your money in Buick than you get elsewhere.

Here, you get the extra wallop of big new Buick power raised to a new high—and pouring in smooth whisper from a brand-new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine of true high compression.

Here, you get the matchless buoyancy of Buick's great new ride—the extra-safe feeling of Buick's new handling ease—the extra stretch-out comfort of Buick roominess—the extra solidity and strength of Buick structure—the extra pride and prestige of Buick's new styling and dash.

Dublinski 'Out of Picture' for '56

By BRUNO KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

At the Lions press and radio luncheon yesterday, kicking off the season ticket campaign, coach Buddy Parker said that Dublinsky indicated he "would not play in Detroit" regardless of the judges decision now pending in an Ontario court.

Lion president Edwin J. Anderson said that the decision on Dublinsky as a result of the hearing held last month was due May 1, but the judge then decided to rule on the case in two weeks, or about May 15.

* * *

"This has become strictly a test case," said Anderson. "If the judge rules in our favor then it may be a step to stop raiding."

Anderson brought up the case of Tom Tracy who was under similar option to Ottawa of the Canadian League.

"A decision against us in the Dublinsky case, would likewise be a ruling against the Ottawa option in Tracy's situation," he stated.

However, Anderson said a settlement was expected to be negotiated with Ottawa without going to court, and Tracy will probably be playing with the Lions next fall.

Parker then looked over the Lions picture and saw the biggest problem to be Bobby Layne's arm.

"We think Jerry Reichow, the top draft choice from Iowa, will do a fine job as quarterback, but he will need the experienced help of Layne," said Parker.

Along with other leading draft choices, including Howard (Hopalong) Cassady of Ohio State and Don McIlhenny of SMU, the Lions will get some help from Uncle Sam.

Four veteran players and possibly a fifth may be ready for the 1956 season. Halfback Gene Gedman has already been released from the service with halfback Yale Lary and tackles Oliver Spencer and Jerry Perry due for discharge late this summer. Fullback Bill Bowman is another likely returnee before the season begins.

Optimistic about the Lions chances Parker said, "We are not eager to make any trades unless someone makes an offer which might interest us."

In regard to Anderson's suggestion that the city buy Briggs Stadium the Lions prexy said he hoped Detroit would buy the stadium.

He indicated that such action by the city would then spur the possibility of buying the Detroit Tigers. "The Lions are interested in the Tigers to the extent of raising $250,000 to put into escrow to show good faith and intent," said Anderson.

General manager Nick Kerbawy said that Detroit has taken the initial step in the NFL in shaping a television agreement with CBS which would bring all of the Lions road-games back to Detroit.

The Lions, who in 5 years have seen their season ticket sales jump from 8,685 in 1950 to 36,434 in 1955, are aiming for a goal of 37,000 this year.

As of May 1, a total of 27,959 season tickets had already been sold, which according to ticket manager Maurie Schubot "should reach a new record in '56 sales."

Detroit drew 311,372 for 6 home games in 1955 which is an average of 51,895 for each game. After opening on the road against Green Bay and Baltimore next Sept. 30 and Oct. 6, the Lions lift the home lid Oct. 14 against Los Angeles, which Parker says is the team to beat.

ROOKIE CANDIDATE — Don Blasingame (center), fleet-footed Cardinal shortstop, is the most likely Redbird candidate if the "rookie of the year" honors are to remain in the Cardinal organization the third year in a row. Blasingame is talking to Wally Moon (right), who won the honor in 1954 and Bill Virdon the 1955 winner.

Tribe Is on the Spot Against Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Confident, cool and composed, the Cleveland Indians arrived in town for a three-game set with the New York Yankees.

* * *

The Tribe was squarely on the spot. There is an undercurrent of despair in the rest of the American League at the Yanks' overpowering strength. The Indians are the only contenders they haven't bullied.

* * *

Casey Stengel's men browbeat the Boston Red Sox four out of five, then polished off the Chicago White Sox twice Sunday. That, by a process of elimination, leaves the Indians.

* * *

"Well," said Stengel before the game, "we've seen them all except Cleveland, and I see no point in getting afraid now."

* * *

The Professor refuses to be drawn out on the possibility of the Yanks wrapping it all up early but in response to a laughing query as to how he'd feel if his club was home safe by midseason, he sighed:

* * *

"I'd just like to have the pleasure of knowing how it feels."

What has the rest of the league in a state of desperation is the fact that the Yanks are operating at almost half power. Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer and Moose Skowran all have been powdering the ball, but Joe Collins, Gil McDougald, Andy Carey and Billy Margin own a combined average of about .201.

Still, Senor Al Lopez doesn't seem worried. He has his three top pitchers—Early Wynn (paired with Tommy Byrne in the opener), Herb Score and Bob Lemon—set for the series, and had kind words for the rest of his team.

Secrets of Better Golf

By Patty Berg

18th of a Series

The natural force of your swing will send the clubhead following after the ball. Do not detain this action. A complete follow-through is essential to your sand trap shot.

In this explosion of the ball from the trap, your clubhead will take quite a divot of sand, sending it off in the direction of the ball.

Do not be in a rush to see the result of your shot. If you are, I can tell you right now you won't be pleased with it. Stay down with your shot and let the clubhead follow the ball. Do not raise your head or eyes until the ball is well on its way to the green.

Unless you follow through on the sand trap shot, you will quit before you contact the ball. You must have it pictured in your mind to swing to the finish in order to pop the ball up and out of the trap.

Your follow-through should be equal in length to your backswing. The club should be swung high, with the hands and arms finishing high and the head and body facing the objective. Your weight will be almost entirely on the left foot, and the right heel will come up from the sand at the completion of your swing.

To review briefly the fundamentals of a good sand trap shot, I think there are only three for the golfer to learn. First, use an open stance, open shoulders and open blade. Second, aim one inch behind the ball at the address. And third, swing to the finish and hold it.

* * *

DON'T BE IN A HURRY TO SEE RESULT OF SHOT

Immediately after impact, the club head follows the flight of the ball taking plenty of sand as it does. The head and eyes remain down as at the address.

For a sand trap shot around the green, these are all the average golfer needs to know. By perfecting the basic rules, every player can build his confidence when trying to get out of a sand trap. Just learn the rules and you'll gain the necessary confidence.

Bolt, Balding Test Features Ft. Worth Event

U. S. Pros Hope to Wrap Up International Tourney Today

FORT WORTH, Tex., (AP)—Tommy Bolt meets Al Balding in the feature singles test of the International PGA Matches today as the United States seeks to wrap up its fifth straight Hopkins Trophy.

These two shot the hottest golf yesterday in the four-ball matches which the United States won 5½ to 3½. Bolt and Gene Littler beat Bill Mawhinney and Murray Tucker of Canada 9-up and scored 3 points. Bolt, could do no wrong on the greens.

* * *

"If I had putted like that yesterday," said the lean Texan, speaking of the Colonial National Invitational Tournament, in which he finished second, "I'd have won that one in a breeze."

* * *

Bolt and Littler had a best ball of 61, Mawhinney and Tucker a 70.

Balding and Gordon Brydson of Canada walloped Mike Souchak and Cary Middlecoff 5 and 4. Balding amazed even his teammates with his wizardry on the greens. Balding and Brydson, who played a terrific game himself, had a best ball of 64 despite a double bogey 6 on the 15th hole.

* * *

The Balding-Brydson duo won the full three points (one point for each nine and one for the match) and it was up to the other team match — Doug Ford and Ted Kroll of the United States vs. Bill Kerr and Stan Leonard of Canada —to decide the issue.

* * *

Ford and Kroll managed to win the second nine 1-up after the teams tied in the first. Thus the United States got 2½ points to ½. It would have been a flat tie of 1½ points each but for a missed birdie putt by Leonard on the final green.

Nashua May Shoot for Winning Mark

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Nashua, who recently moved up into the millionaire class, may try to surpass Citation's all-time money winning record in Saturday's Valley Forge Handicap or the Camden Handicap the following week at Garden State Park.

* * *

Delany Plans 'Different' Race Next Time

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Irishman Ron Delany, beaten in the mile just once, flies back to California this week with another kind of race in mind for Australian John Landy.

The 20-year-old Villanova sophomore will meet the world record holder Saturday in the West Coast Relays at Fresno, but he doesn't plan another fast getaway.

* * *

Delany whisked himself well ahead in the first quarter of the special mile at the Los Angeles Coliseum last Saturday. He sped through the first quarter in 59.6 but finished third behind Jim Bailey and Landy.

Bailey and Landy both broke the 4-minute mile for the first time in the United States, Bailey a stride ahead of his countryman in 3:58.6. Delany finished in 4:03.5.

"That first quarter was too fast," said Villanova Coach Jim Elliott, who will accompany Delany on the trip West.

"He wasn't told to set that pace. He's a runner who hangs back and comes up. He was told to go out and get out of the mob, but he kept going ahead."

* * *

"When he beat Santee indoors in the Knights of Columbus Games at Boston," added Elliott, "Santee took the lead at the three-quarter mark. Delany was 30 yards behind at the time. He had a sprint similar to Bailey's and won in 4:06.3."

* * *

Elliott is counting on Delany stretching out his initial speed and running his old race. Also, he said: "This week the pressure isn't on him. He's the underdog like Bailey was. He'll be more relaxed"

Marbles Tourney Finals Moved to Wisner Field

An overdose of water has forced a change in location for the windup of the city-wide marbles tournament.

* * *

The 9th annual mibs tourney, co-sponsored by The Pontiac Press and the Parks and Recreation Department, was originally scheduled to conclude its activities this Saturday at Crofoot.

But Crofoot playground is hidden under water, thus necessitating switch of site. Saturday's championship finals will now be held at Wisner Field starting at 9 a.m.

* * *

Two new entries in the marbles tournament have expanded the field to 18 schools. Players have entered from Hawthorne School and a group of boys from the Pontiac State Hospital will also compete.

Champions in Midget and Junior divisions will be crowned Saturday. Trophies will be awarded by The Pontiac Press to the winner and runner-up in each class.

White Refuses to Get Nervous

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill White, 22-year-old New York Giants rookie, is a somber young man who refused to be nervous over his first appearance in a major league lineup.

* * *

The speedy 6-foot Negro last night couldn't see why he should be jumpy over his first major league game—after all he was with the Giants spring training.

* * *

It was the St. Louis Cardinals who became nervous when White smashed a home run his first time at bat; then added a double off the right-field screen and a single for a 3-for-4 evening.

* * *

It appeared the youngster, in his fourth season in organized baseball, had taken a long stride toward establishing himself as the Giants first baseman.

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

Our Olympic athletes are being forced into the position of a rider attached to the economic cold war now flaring on all fronts.

If the U. S. team, which has always made a strong showing in the overall point rating since revival of the ancient festival in 1896, should falter this time, it is safe to assume the Red propaganda mill will seize the occasion in pursuit of its interests. From all reports, this is a distinct possibility.

The problems we have in holding trials, assembling athletes, providing first grade equipment and transportation, are tremendous when compared with the Soviet way. Money is no object in Russia with the state openly picking up all tabs on a year-round basis.

Here the U.S. Olympic committee has a perpetual problem—adequate financing. An estimated $800,000 is the minimum requirement needed for the round trip to Melbourne.

I concur that in a democracy it is not the task of the government to subsidize athletic teams, regardless of the importance of the project. Our team represents the U.S.A., but it is put into motion and it functions strictly as a result of the people behind it.

All of which brought me to a luncheon yesterday and a perfect example of capitalism in action. One of the nation's leading companies, employing about 20,000, disclosed it would contribute 10 cents to the Olympic committee for each box top and wrapper of 12 of its products.

The box tops (please don't tear off the head of your neighborhood grocer) can be deposited in handy display bins in stores across the nation.

The potential of such an offer is tremendous. Every man, woman and child has the opportunity of helping to pay our Olympic freight. Just one wrapper tossed into a designated place and a dime is on its way to help pay for the trip of Melbourne.

Merchandising experts contend a million wrappers easily may result from this brilliant promotion and if that figure is attained our Olympic group will net a check for $100,000.

What's most important, a major part of the fund-raising work will have been accomplished with the direct help of people throughout the land.

That a respected concern chose to devote a major part of its promotional campaign to helping the sports project is the perfect illustration and the perfect example of countering the Soviet way of doing things. This is democracy and athletics working together in a happy capitalistic society.

Puts 'House' in Order

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University, placed on a year's probation recently for infractions of the Big 10 athletic code, is moving quietly to put its house in order.

* * *

Dignified acceptance of the penalty, and solemn promises by all concerned to live within the rules, greeted the edict handed down by Western Conference Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson.

Wilson, who addressed some 1,000 high school coaches on the campus last weekend at a banquet sponsored by the university, said he "admired the way Ohio State has accepted this thing (probation and Rose Bowl ban) and the way they are proceeding."

* * *

President Howard Bevis said the university had swallowed its medicine, was determined to live within the rules, and would be heard from within the rules.

Athletic Director Dick Larkins, in a letter mailed to alumni, explained the reasons for the probation, said Wilson had conducted a long, thorough and fair investigation.

"We have done our utmost to assist in this investigation by being honest and truthful, and at no time have resorted to covering up the facts," Larkins said.

Larkins termed the penalty as "severe without question," but added:

* * *

"It gives us an opportunity to strive diligently in the conference circles for a set of more realistic rules under which we can operate more practically and with less hypocrisy. It will enable us to gear our problem of unearned financial aid in conformity with, not only established law and order, but standards of decency to the young men on our squads."

Old Timers Enjoy Party

Pontiac Old Timers' Baseball association opened 1956 activities during the last weekend with a banquet. Held in the VFW hall here, the affair proved highly interseting. The hall was filled to capacity, Paul Parks, chairman, reported, and he added that the gathering was "a fine tribute to the high interest shown in old-timers' activities."

Major R. G. Savage of St. Thomas, Ont. was a fine toastmaster, and the crowd enjoyed the talk by former Tiger ace "lefty" Diz Trout, who will join the Old Timers' ranks himself this summer. Diz, it was stated, will be a hurler for the Detroit Old Timers, in the Old Timers' International League.

Prominent sports figures from Detroit and Toledo, as well as from the Pontiac area were among the guests. Some of them Bob Calahan and Lloyd Brazil of the U. of D.; Al Mueller, Jim Smart and Ed Decker of the Toledo IN team; Ace Lee, Jack Moran, Detroit; Gene Bone, Ted Reaver, Charles Irish (city federation prexy); Bill Latozas and Len Buzz. Joe Carry of the local recruiting service showed films of the last Army-Navy grid battle.

Bud Leslie of the Pontiac OT team recived a trophy as the most active in 1955. Gifts were presented the Ladies Auxiliary for providing the dinner.

The OT International will meet May 26, in Toledo to talk schedule and other matters.

Hurls 3 No-Hitters

Majors Seek Young Father

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—An 18-year-old father of two children has the New Jersey high school baseball world in an uproar and major league baseball scouts in a sweat to sign him.

* * *

He's Lee Owen, a righthander who has pitched three no-hitters for Asbury Park High School and allowed a total of only nine hits and four runs in six games. Scouts of the New York Giants, Cleveland Indians, Milwaukee Braves, Philadelphia Phillies, Cincinnati Reds, Pittsburgh Pirates and Kansas City Athletics have looked him over in the past month, although they can't sign him until he graduates in June.

* * *

Owen is understandably more anxious than most high school pitching phenoms to make the majors, and in a hurry.

"College would probably be best for me, but I just couldn't go unless I had a scholarship which would let me take my family along and schools just don't give them out to baseball players," he said. "I'm going to try to make the majors."

Ex-PHS Star Kept in Shape While in Army

Back in circulation again after a tour of duty with the U. S. Air Force in Germany, Walter Beach, former PHS athletic star is hoping to get into college sports after clearing up some credits in a summer course.

Walt came home last week from three years in Germany with air force security units. He was last stationed at Landsberg, Bavaria, where his unit cage team, the Bavarian Hatters, won the area title, but couldn't make a tour of the stateside world-wide tourney. He played a guard.

Beach engaged in football with the Bremerhaven Blue Devils as a left halfback. A Valley dash champion in high school, his best time overseas was 10.3 for the 100 meters. Walt also ran the 220 and was on the 6910th Security Organization's half mile and medley relay teams.

Lake Trout Decline Pinned to Lamprey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The decline in Lake Michigan trout has been pinned anew on the sea lamphrey.

This time, the fish and wildlife services says, a new and different study did it.

The study was aimed at finding out whether the sea lamphrey, the destruction of young trout by the use of small-mesh nets by chub fishermen, or the near or complete failure of natural reproduction caused the fishery to plunge from an annual catch of 6½ million pounds in 1946 to a mere 34 pounds in 1955.

Bruins Buy Center From Toronto Club

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League have purchased Jack Caffery, a 6-1, 170-pound center from the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Caffery, who will be 22 in July, was sidelined by sickness and injuries most of last season while with Toronto's American Hockey League farm in Pittsburgh. He registered 15 goals and 11 assists with the same club in the 1954-55 season.

Pitching Spotlighted in Major Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

George Zuverink, the guy nobody wanted, right now is the No. 1 relief pitcher in the American League, getting the job done almost on a daily basis for the Baltimore Orioles who can hardly do a thing without him.

* * *

The 29-year-old righthander, who in his 11-year career has failed to hang on with Cleveland, Cincinnati and Detroit and who wound up in semipro ball as a free agent after his first year in the minors, has strolled in from the bullpen in 12 of Baltimore's 20 games this season. And of the nine games the Birds have won to date, he's saved six and won two.

* * *

Zuverink, purchased in desperation from Detroit last July, was called upon for the third time in two days last night and with two pitches snapped off a Tiger rally and picked up a 4-3 victory that lifted Baltimore into sixth place while reducing his earned run average to a nifty 1.50.

Pitching was the pass word in the other three games played in the majors yesterday, too. In the American, Tom Brewer struck out nine and cut off Cleveland on four hits in a 5-1 Boston victory. In the National, Milwaukee's Bob Buhl beak Brooklyn 3-1 on six hits to retain the Braves' slim hold on first place, and St. Louis, helped by a weird five-run inning and dandy relief pitching by Lindy McDaniel, Gordon Jones and Jackie Collum, smacked the New York Giants 6-3 to tie idle Cincinnati for second place.

* * *

Brewer won his third against one defeat by granting Cleveland only two singles in eight innings. He retired the first 16 men in order, striking out seven, while the Red Sox were pasting Mike Garcia for 11 hits and four runs in five frames. Billy Goodman singled and tripled for the Bostons while Dick Gernert and Norm Zauchin homered.

Buhl, now 2-0, had the help of two killing doubleplays while dumping the champion Brooks to their third straight defeat. Del Crandall drove in two runs and Hank Aaron homered as Carl Erskine lost his second.

* * *

Three singles, two of them bunts, three walks, a hit batsman, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly brought the Cards from behind as starter-loser Windy McCall, Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom had their troubles in the sixth inning.

Milford Heavy Favorite in Wayne-Oakland Meet

The Wayne-Oakland League track and field meet will be held tonight at Milford, with the host Redskins heavy favorites to repeat as champions.

Russ Gabier's thinclads have raced to easy victories over league foes in dual meets this spring and there is nothing to indicate that the picture will change when the six-team loop assembles tonight.

Milford ran away with last year's league meet, amassing 73½ points to outdistance the Wolves by a wide margin. Sprinter Lee Averill is the most consistent scorer for the Redskins, but the squad is characterized by sound balance.

Softball Practice

Practice sessions have been arranged for tonight and Wednesday for Pontiac Elks softball team. Both are set for 5:30 o'clock.

First Choice of Auto Engineers

We recently invited a large group of automotive engineers to try New 1956 Blue Sunoco, boosted in octane, in their own cars and give us their reactions. The results of this survey compiled by an independent firm of certified public accountants make Blue Sunoco the favorite. Of the 1,166 engineers who reported, 43% told us they were already users of our gasoline.

This was a far greater number than reported using all other premium gasolines combined—perhaps the greatest testimonial any gasoline ever had!

Cotton Upsets Joey Giardello

Underdog Batters Out Unanimous Decision in Garden Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—If Joey Giardello wants a return bout, happy Charley (King) Cotton says the onetime leading middleweight contender can have it any time.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner, still chuckling over the fourth straight upset at St. Nicholas Arena, said today he hoped to make the repeat for June 4 or 11.

Giardello said he would like the chance to avenge the loss, his first in nearly two years. It all depends on whether or not Joey blew a tentative June 6 television date with Willie Vaughn in Chicago by losing.

* * *

Cotton, a 5-1 underdog, finished strong in the last three rounds last night to pull out a tight but unanimous 10-round decision.

Spokane Club Seeks Women's U.S. Open

The Art board, headed by President Joe Albi, announced tonight they are attempting to bring the tourney to Spokane's new Esmeralda Golf Course in 1957.

Maples Seek '56 Golf Title

By H. GUY MOATS

Notice has been given the field of competitors in the 5th annual Pontiac Press Invitational High School Golf Championship that the 1955 champions will back.

Formal entry for the Birmingham High School squad, coached by Joe Borovick, has been received .It was one of a number of entries that included Southfield and Milford. Livonia Bentley, 1955 runnerup, was expected to send in its entry within a few days, along with Pontiac High, St. Frederick, Waterford and others.

Deadline for entries is May 16. Tourney is set for Monday, May 28 at Pontiac Municipal course.

Defending titlists have only two of their fine championship five on the firing line for this tourney. They are Tim Baldwin and Mike Conroy. Both are fine shotmakers. Baldwin is the squad leader. He shoots around the high 70's. Mike is only a little less effective

Southfield's club this year is led by 17-year-old senior, Bob Turney, a low 80 player. Neil Mitchell, 17, is in the No. 2 spot. He shoots in the low 80's also Bluejays' entry also listed Bob Zurla (85), junior Bob Waldron (85), Tom Berry (88). Alternates are sophomores Dave Krause and Steve Cirka.

Milford's team, already in the lists, includes Ed Tovarsky (82), George Eaton (90), Fred Coxen (92), Mike Pritchard (94), and Grant Reed (96). Gary Himes and Dennis Berry are alternates. Dick Yeager is the coach.

All entries should be in by this weekend. Draw for pairings will be made immediately after the close of entries on May 16.

Mets Schedule Drills

The Mets, city Class D baseball team, will hold practice sessions today and Saturday at Washington Junior High and Friday at Columbia-Joslyn south. All workouts begin at 5 p.m. Interested players are invited to attend the practices.

CLIMBER — Kilbarry appears to be taking Lt.-Col. F. W. C. Weldon over this obstacle one step at a time. This sort of a performance in training at Windsor Great Park, Berkshire, England, hardly will lead to Olympic Games competition. Equestrian events are scheduled in Stockholm.

Cigarette in Car's Fuel Tank

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Mechanics fished an unsmoked cigarette from the fuel line of a car being readied for the May 30 Indianapolis race yesterday and one said it didn't appear the cigarette got there by accident.

Frank Glidden, chief mechanic of the car owned by Fred Sommers of Indianapolis, said there are no cigarette smokers among the car's pit crew members.

"I've been in auto racing a lot of years, and this is the 1st time this ever happened to me," said Glidden. "The tank was clean when we brought the racer to the track.

The cigarette was found when driver Ed Elisian complained he was unable to get enough fuel on a practice run. Mechanics said a clogged fuel line could cause serious damage in the highly tuned car.

One Athlete Gets All Team's Points

Felter won the 100-yard dash, the 220, the high jump the broad jump and the shot put. Delbarton captured the other three first spots and all seconds and thirds.

Tigers Plunge Deeper Into Cellar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last place Detroit Tigers staggered into the nation's capital today, still reeling after three straight defeats by the supposedly harmless Baltimore Orioles and their ex-buddy, George Zuverink.

It was quite a series for Zuverink, the blond giant from Holland, Mich., who appeared in all three games and received credit for last night's 4-3 Baltimore victory.

Last night when Bill Wight faltered in the ninth and allowed the Tigers to tie the score for the second time in the game at 3-3 in came Zuverink.

Zuverink threw one ball to Harvey Kuenn. On the next pitch with Hatfield running Kuenn lined to Fred Marsh at shortstop. Hatfield never had a chance to get back and the inning was over.

Aber walked the first man he faced. The Orioles promptly sacrificed and had the winning run on second. Then the Detroit strategy called for an intentional walk to Dave Philley.

But Aber continued to be wild and promptly loaded the bases with still a third walk—this one to pinch hitter Jim Dyck. Hal Smith ended it all with a sharp single into center and the Tigers sank deeper into the cellar.

It was another tough loss for the Tigers. Virgil Trucks was the starter and lasted until Harris lifted him for pinch hitter Wayne Belardi in the ninth. Trucks gave up eight hits, walked six and struck out five.

Detroit Area Gets U.S. Publinx Qualifying Test

NEW YORK (AP) — The U. S. Public Links golf championship, which drew 2,007 entries last year, will be whittled down to a workable field of 150 for the main event this year. All but one of these will be required to qualify sectionally for the tournament at San Francisco's Harding Park Course, July 9-14.

Sectional qualifying tests over the 36-hole route will be held June 17-23, inclusive at 45 sites, including Detroit.

In releasing the sectional qualifying sites today, the United States Golf Assn. pointed out that a new form of play limits the field to 150, instead of 200, for the championship proper. For the first time since 1947, a second qualifying test will be held at the tournament site to determine the team champion and the 64 qualifiers for match play.

This reduces the tournament to a six-day event. In recent years the team event has been played on a Saturday prior to the start of the all-match individual competition on Monday. This year July 9 and 10 will be given over to qualifying. Four rounds of 18-hole matches will be played July 11 and 12 and the 36-hole semi-finals and finals July 13 and 14.

Only the defending champion, Sam D. Kocsis of Detroit, is exempt from sectional qualifying and he will be required to qualify at San Francisco.

Rocky 'Kidding' About Retiring, Referee Claims

These are the words of Harry Kessler, the "millionaire referee" who handled the Marciano-Archie Moore championship bout.

"I think Rocky will fight again. I believe he is retiring only until he can meet a good challenger.

"You know, Rocky can't make any more money fighting now because of income tax. I understand he refused to meet Moore unless the income tax on his purse could be spaced out over a 5-year period. So I won't be a bit surprised if Rocky is retiring because of financial reasons as well as the others which have been printed."

Mikes, Eaglets Win

St. Michael victimized St. Frederick and Orchard Lake St. Mary handed St. Mary of Royal Oak its 1st setback to highlight Monday's Suburban Catholic League baseball activity.

The Shamrocks made the most of four hits and six enemy errors to defeat its cross-town rival, 9-6, at Columbia-Joslyn. It was the 2nd win in 6 games for St. Mike and the 6th straight loss for the Rams.

Dick Doyon hurled the distance for St. Fred and Joe Schultz did likewise for the Mikes. The winners scored in five of the seven innings, a 3-run 4th stanza their best output.

Orchard Lake's Paul Franckowiak pitched his 2nd shutout of the season as the Eaglets dumped the Royal Oak nine, 4-0. The previously unbeaten Irish are leading the SCL.

Franckowiak allowed only three hits and struck out 11. He aided his own cause by clouting a triple and scoring two runs. Pete Madelans collected two hits for the Eaglets off the offerings of Phil Brzezinski.

Clarkston outslugged Brighton, 10-8, in a Wayne-Oakland free-for-all Monday at Clarkston. Clarkston's Dave Gaddis hurled the distance and fanned 16 while teammates Gary Nelson and Chuck Passage were rapping out five hits. The game was filled with 20 bases on balls and 11 errors.

Romeo's strong team handed Oxford a 9-3 shellacking. The Bulldogs lashed out with nine hits off Don Atwood as the Wildcats sufferd their 5th loss in 7 starts. Romeo wrapped up the decision with five runs in the 7th frame.

A. E. Smith of Wyandotte downed Bloomfield Hills, 5-3. Ken Newberry pitched all the way for the losers and yielded only four hits, but six errors proved his undoing. Colter made three hits for the winners and Dick Sloan picked up two safeties for Bloomfield Hills.

Krebiel Unchanged

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—George Krehbiel, racing writer for the Detroit News who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Sunday, was reported "unchanged" today.

* * *

Mrs. Krehbiel said that her husband, however, had a quiet day yesterday, after "a bad night" Sunday.

Earl (Dutch) Reibel of the Detroit Red Wings won the 1956 Lady Byng Memorial Trophy for clean play after only three seasons in the National Hockey League.

PCC Athletic Violations May Cause Rules Changes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Presidents of the nine Pacific Coast Conference schools, concerned with an "alarming situation" in violations of its athletic code, may change the rules.

* * *

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California and spokesman for the presidents' meeting yesterday, said the group next fall would "determine whether the rules now governing PCC athletics are realistic and suited to the environment. The fact the presidents have asked for the 're-examination' . . . shows that they are not satisfied with what we have now."

* * *

The presidents let stand—thus approved—a severe penalty hung on the University of Washington by faculty advisers and athletic directors in their separate weekend meeting. The penalty will cost Washington more than $50,000 in Rose Bowl income and prohibits the Huskies from being listed as champions in any sport or taking part in any post-season or all-conference competitions. The school was found guilty of letting football players get help from a fund set up by outside interests.

* * *

Another problem, accusations that some UCLA football players got under-the-table payoffs of $40 a month, was left to the faculty and directors' group to handle at their May 20-23 meeting at Victoria, B.C.

Central Michigan tied with Wheaton of Illinois for first place in the Beloit (Wis.) College relays. Each had 61 points, Central getting its on five first places and Wheaton its on one first and five seconds.

Michigander Unfolds Baseball to Germans

BAD KREUZNACH, Germany (AP)—A Michigander, Edward Marquart of Freesoil, is helping unfold the great American mystery of baseball to an eager group of German youngsters in this wine making town.

Marquart is principal of the Army's school in Bad Kreuznach and is getting cooperation from the second armored division and several hundred baseball - happy American kids in promoting a baseball-softball program.

A softball game was played here Saturday as part of German-American friendship week. A group of 21 German youngsters between 12 and 16 took part.

"At first," Marquart said, "we wondered if the Germans even wanted to learn baseball. Our experience has proved that they do.

"If they pick up baseball as fast as basketball, we ought to have some good Major League prospects soon. We taught the Germans basketball and it wasn't long before they were beating our sox off."

Baseball education has been tried in Germany before, but it was none too successful. This was in the early stages of allied occupation under a "German youth activities" program.

But Marquart has high hopes that his program will become a success and a factor in German-American relationships.

"It won't be long before these kids will be calling each other by their first names and nicknames," he said. "The German children are taking home stories of their contacts with Americans to their parents, many of whom could be reached in no other way."

RO Linksman Bags 2nd Ace on Same Hole

Rain and gusty winds failed to daunt the golfing enthusiasm of Royal Oak's Art Mitchell, Sunday. The south end attorney and a companion, John Foren of Berkley, equally hard-bitten golfer, toured Bald Mountain despite the weather and set some kind of a record in so doing.

On No. 6 tee Mitchell belted a 4-iron shot to the green. The ball bounced—right into the cup! The hole is a par three, 172 yarder.

The shot was Mitchell's 2nd ace on the same hole. He hit it with a No. 3 iron last Nov. 13.

Mitchell had a 91 for the 18-hole round. Last time it was 81. "Game's getting tougher all the time," Mitchell remarked," all but getting an ace."

Kilgore Keeps World Three-Cushion Title

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ray Kilgore of San Francisco retained his world three cushion billiard championship Monday night by defeating John K. Fitzpatrick of Los Angeles, 600-575.

Kilgore was granted permission to participate in the championship match by the American Billiard Congress. He has been champion since the retirement in 1953 of the perennial titleholder, Willie Hoppe.

Decision Clears DeMarco's Path

BOSTON (AP) — The path was cleared today for former welterweight champion Tony DeMarco to meet Vince Martinez June 16 at Fenway Park without first boxing Hoacine Khalfi of Algeria in Bangor, Maine.

* * *

Requests by Bangor Promoter Leon Gorman Jr. and the Maine State Boxing Commission that DeMarco be suspended for refusing to fight Khalfi were rejected yesterday by the Massachusetts commission.

* * *

DeMarco was suspended by the Maine commission last Thursday for allegedly withdrawing from a scheduled bout with Khalfi May 14 at Bangor. The Maine commission asked Massachusetts to go along with the suspension.

MONDAY'S STARS

PITCHING—Tom Brewer, Red Sox, won his third on a four-hitter, striking out 9, retiring the first 16 men in order and allowing only 2 hits for 8 innings, in a 5-1 decision over Cleveland

HITTING — Bill White, Giants, became the 26th player to hit a home run in his first major league at-bat, followed it with a double and then added a single as New York lost to St. Louis 6-3.

Hollywood Headlines:

Now Hitchcock Realizes What Actor's Life Is Like

By BOB THOMAS

* * *

Actors have always suspected the director of being a frustrated member of their craft. Why else would he inject himself in a brief scene in every one of his films?

VIRULENT HAM

The Hitchcock ham became virulent last fall when he began his television show. He came on at the beginning and the end to kid the whole proceedings including, daringly enough, the sponsor and his commercials. His candor, plus the quality of his suspense dramas, captured the public fancy.

* * *

Recently he realized the impact of his TV activities in New York, where he was filming locations for "The Wrong Man."

"It was awful," he said, though appearing to have enjoyed it. "The depth was reached when the location manager had to ask the director—me—to take a drive because people were crowding around him and ruining the scene. Imagine!

* * *

"Everywhere I went, people would point at me. It got to the point where I could think of nothing else to do but point back. Once I encountered a woman in the subway. She continued pointing at me as I stared at her. Finally I asked her what she was doing. She replied that she had heard I would point back at her and she was waiting for me to do it!"

'RICH OLD LADIES'

Hitchcock said he was recognized everywhere, but the fans who delighted him most were "the rich old ladies in mink coats in the Colony Restaurant — they stopped by my table too."

* * *

Although he is one of the most recognizable figures on TV, he probably works the least of any performer. He reported that he can do his labors for the year's supply of 39 shows in three or four days. It sounded incredible, but he explained:

* * *

"I can knock off about 10 shows in a day. I run through a script once on paper and rehearse it once with the teleprompter. The words appear right over the lens of the camera, so you don't appear to be reading; they're reflected on a glass. I do the work fast so it won't lose spontaneity."

* * *

Hitchcock's TV series was signed for another 39 weeks long before the option was due. In addition to appearing on them, he will direct a half dozen.

Flint Bribery Trial Resumes

Involved Optometrist Asked Delay in August on Illness Excuse

MASON (AP) — A state optometry board official who testified he witnessed Benjamin D. Ritholz in the act of giving a bribe returned to the stand for defense questioning today in Ritholz's bribery trial.

* * *

Dr. Chauncey J. Howe Jr., Hillsdale, board secretary-treasurer, swore Monday in Circuit Court that Ritholz, Chicago, president of the King Optical Co., passed three $100 bills to Dr. Julien Feiler, Flint, in a Lansing hotel room last Aug. 8.

Ritholz told himself, Feiler and Dr. Clare L. Grigware of Grand Rapids, a third board member, Howe said, that the sum was to "bind the bargain" made earlier for a $6,000 payoff.

The trial, delayed because of the defendant's illness, began Monday before Judge Philip A. Hadsell of Niles. It is expected to last two weeks or longer.

Howe testified the money was offered to board members to "wash out" a complaint then pending before it against Edwin L. Sanchik, a Lansing optometrist.

A board inspector had filed the complaint, alleging that Sanchik engaged in "unprofessional" conduct by acting as a "steerer" and referring persons who came to him for eye examinations to the King Company's Lansing office for purchase of the optical equipment prescribed.

The King firm operates in 17 states.

The board subsequently upheld the complaint against Sanchik. He took the case into court and it still is on appeal.

UM Agrees to Augment Ann Arbor Fire Costs

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan has agreed to pay 18 per cent of the costs of operating the Ann Arbor fire department.

The agreement, a university official said, would give the city of Ann Arbor an additional $60,000 a year for its fire department.

The agreement was reached through negotiations between a committee representing the Ann Arbor City Council and the University of Michigan's Board of Regents. The agreement still must be approved by city council.

Granger and Simmons Pass Citizenship Test

"We are also looking forward to welcoming another American citizen in a few months—our first child," the couple said.

They will receive their citizenship papers at a court hearing, the date to be set later.

Bakeries Merge

IRON RIVER (AP) — Jack Nolingberg, manager of the Nolingberg Baking Co. of Iron River, announced Monday the merger of his firm with the Hoyler & Baur Baking Co. of Escanaba. Nolingberg will continue to operate as a division of the Escanaba Bakery which serves Central Upper Michigan and Northeastern Wisconsin.

America has about 54 million families.

Bob Considine Says:

Your Rock Really Started Something, Ug

ABOARD USS MOUNT McKINLEY OFF ENIWETOK PROVING GROUND (INS)—An open letter to UG. (Editor's note: UG, an old friend of the author, was born in the year 1,715,000 before Christ and lived to the ripe old age of 33, by which time he was undisputed head of his duplex cave. The author ghosted a book for him called "The Ug Story, or 30 Seconds Over Neanderthal Man.")

Pal Ug:

Look what you done! You should never have hit that kid Hnk in the head with that rock.

* * *

You remember that caper? That you were busy at your hobby of painting them purty pictures on the wall of your den. Your hairy belly was bloated with a good meal off the side of a raw brontosaurus and two tender trees that later became a bush known as lettuce.

The paint was flowing real nice and you were getting good conformation on your pet unicorn.

You had everything, Ug, and a lot more than some of them bums in them other caves. You had invented the last word in conveniences, a kind of suitcase handle to attach to short-haired dames, the better to drag them home.

* * *

There never was no trouble with long-haird babes, natch, and hadn't been for million or two years. But then that new hairdo come in. The pterodactyl cut they called it, and dames went for it like crazy. You were ready, though, with that old handle. You had everything, pal o' mine.

BIEW YOUR STACK

Then you blew your stack, Ug. You looked up from your masterpiece, which is now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, minus the unicorn's horn, and saw Huk dragging one of your short-haired babes.

* * *

I know what offended you, of course: He was using one of your suitcase handles. Still you shouldn't orter have done what you done.

You picked up a rock and gave him a dinger on his noggin, you did. You know the rest. He went back to his cave and grunted as follows: "This means wah. Ah fate, ah, but here it is. Somebody find me a bigger rock."

None of his constituents had ever heard of wah but they were all for it. You got clobbered with that bigger and better rock in what will always be remembered as the first wah in history. Your kids began looking around for even bigger rocks.

* * *

Well, pal o'mine you should be out here to see what's come of that there impetuous act of yourn.

BETTER WEAPONS

People who lived after you and the kids, and their kids, come up with better weapons than no rock—hard as that will be to believe.

* * *

Oh, they thinked things up like sharp rocks for instance, and hatchets, spears, swords, bows and arrows, guns, tanks, planes and gas and now something real crazy that is all mixed up with splitting and fusing atoms.

They call it a hydrogen bomb and everybody wants one since some Russian plug ugly named Khrushchev announced they got one so neat it can be dropped from something we call an airplane—which you also wouldn't believe.

When you hit Huk, Ug, you said something that gave you your name. You said "Ug." It was the only thing to say, really. Nowdays, you wouldn't believe the aftermath, scientific and political, of even a parctice heave of this here H-rock.

* * *

There's more mysterious equipment out here than could have been comprehended by Einstein, a fellow born some time after you. We are having trouble with some friends in a place named Asia because the last H-rock we heaved gave off dust that hoited people who got in the way.

UNARTISTIC CAMERA

You as an artist couldn't understand a thing we call a camera. A camera would for instance have been stupid enough to put that horn on the unicorn whereas you attained the abstract and said to hell with the horn.

* * *

Well, Ug, they were showing us a camera the other day which was built to photograph the first mewling microseconds of H-rocks explosions. It takes pictures at a rate of 3½ million frames per second.

The man who explained it to us apologized. He said there was now that took eight million frames per second.

The H-rock could kill or stun millions of people for thousands of square miles, Ug. You sure started something with that there rock you pegged.

Yours in sports

Moby Dick Sees Big, Big Romance Launched at Zoo

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis zoo's biggest romance is in the making.

A candidate for affections of the two-ton sea elephant Moby Dick has arrived by air from California. The 500-pound mate was termed a regular beauty in sea elephant circles yesterday by Zoo Director George P. Vierheller.

The cow was kept in a separate enclosure overnight and was to be launched today in the pool where Mobey Dick is king.

Seek Out 'Bugs' in the Reactions of Flight Men

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — Research to search out the "bugs" in human reactions under the stress and strain of flying is going on at Antioch College under U.S. Air Force auspices.

The need for the project came with modern, high speed airplanes, says Dr. Jerome Cohen, professor of psychology.

With aircraft getting slimmer the result is less space for the pilot and instruments. And at jet speeds, a pilot must be able to tell at a swift glance what's going on. So one goal is fewer instruments.

In one of the experiments a pilot's eye movements are photographed under flight conditions, to determine if some instruments can't be combined. Student volunteers may find themselves subjected to 110 decibels of sound in a 4x7 foot room, or involved in an experiment on control panel knobs.

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains sold off early in moderately active dealings on the Board of Trade today, losses running to around a cent before the market stablized and staged a small rally.

Selling largely represented a continuation of the liquidation which cropped up toward the finish of the previous session. It had some influence on price levels in view of the absence of any news to stir up aggressive demand.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — Sinclair Oil Corp. yesterday reported net income for the quarter ended March 31 of $24,245,569 equal to $1.68 a common share. This, compared with $21,207,935, also equal to $1.68 a common share, on a smaller number of shares, in the same period last year. Revenues increased to $316,649,538 from $281,791,247 in the initial three months of 1955. P. C. Spencer, president, said "demand for petroleum products continues strong and there is every indication that 1956 will be a year of record volume."

NEW YORK (INS) — Alco Products, Inc. announced net income for the quarter ended March 31 of $774,000 equal to 40 cents a common share. This compared with $879,000, or 31 cents a common share in the same period last year. In 1955, preferred dividend requirements were higher than this year, accounting for the variation in common share earnings. According to P. T. Egbert, president, "Current operations indicate second quarter shipments and earnings will show substantial improvement over the initial three months."

Market Prices Move Unevenly

NEW YORK (AP) — Price movements were irregular today in the stock market with a handful of strong issues standing out against a background of numerous small losers.

In the early afternoon, gains were stretched to between 3 and 4 points at the outside. Losses went to between 1 and 2 points at the most key instances.

The aircrafts were higher with the railroads, but their gains were rather small. Some active oils were higher, but large losers also appeared in that division. The steels were mixed.

Automobiles were steady. Studebaker-Packard, yesterday's most active issue up 1, opened today on 5,000 shares off ⅜ at 8¾. It was quite active thereafter and gradually turned its minus sign into a small gain.

Among higher stocks were Santa Fe Railroad, Union Pacific, Gulf Oil, Boeing, United Aircraft, American Smelting, Long-Bell Lumber, Mesta Machine and U.S. Gypsum.

Lower were Bethlehem Steel, Ford, International Harvester, International Nickel, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco, General Electric, Royal Dutch Petroleum and Eastern Airlines.

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 10 cents at $190.50. The average yesterday was off 90 cents on the day.

Mrs. America Contest Picks Winners Today

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — First winners in the Mrs. America 1957 contest will be announced today — in clothes washing, safe driving and civil defense.

A victory in these preliminaries does not necessarily mean any particular entry is leading. Mrs. America herself will be crowned Saturday night on basis of overall adeptness in the various phases of homemaking, including sewing, ironing, cooking and meal planning.

Attractiveness also will count but the judges will not say how much.

Forty-nine housewives, representing the 48 states and the District of Columbia, are contending for the title now held by Mrs. Ramona Deitmeyer of Lincoln, Neb. Their ages range from 21 to 42 and they average three children each.

Two Players Signed for Bengal 'Farms'

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have signed two players—a catcher from Detroit and a first baseman from Battle Creek — to minor league contracts.

Church Sniper Is Hospitalized

'I Am Against Nobody,' Suspect Says, Giving 'V' Finger Sign

NEW YORK (AP) — An unemployed handyman who admits firing a volley of shots that killed one worshiper and wounded five others outside a Romanian church has been sent to Bellevue Hospital for mental observation.

Romanian-born Todurchi Sava, 61, surrendered to Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan yesterday.

Sava later told reporters he had fired the shots, adding:

"But I wanted to scare. I didn't want to hit."

* * *

Sava was arraigned before Magistrate Anthony M. Livoti on charges of homicide and felonious assault. Later he was sent to Bellevue.

Hogan said there was no evidence that Sava intended to shoot any particular person in the throng outside St. Dumitru's Romanian Orthodox Church Saturday night. Hogan also said there was no conspiracy or "international intrigue" involved.

Holding his fingers in a V for victory sign, Sava said he had never been a Communist and was "a real democrat."

"I did not want to shoot anybody," he said. "I am against nobody."

'Dead' Battery Saves the Lives of Possum Brood

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Mother Opossum made a slight error in selecting a home for her brood of five, but they all came out all right.

* * *

For two weeks Anvoots didn't use the auto. Yesterday he got in, stepped on the starter, but heard only a click. The battery didn't turn over the engine. It had a dead cell.

Anvoots lifted the hood, found the possums resting comfortably in the straw nest. If the battery had done its work the straw would have been set afire.

Edison Head Reports '56 Profits Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Profits of Detroit Edison Co. will be "substantially higher" this year than last, it was predicted yesterday by Walker Cisler, president, in a report to stockholders.

At the same time, Cisler said, earnings as measured on a per share basis will be lower, but by no more than four per cent. The reason: an 11 per cent gain in the number of shares outstanding.

Cisler reported sales of industrial power in the first four months of this year were 8 per cent ahead of the comparable 1955 period, despite a 20 per cent decrease in Detroit's automobile production.

U.S. Steel Estimates Cost of Growth at $5 Billion

HOBOKEN, N. J. (AP) — Stockholders of United States Steel Corp. were told yesterday that the big company during the next 10 years faces an annual bill of 500 million dollars for expansion.

Addressing 871 "big steel" shareholders at the annual meeting in the Stevens Institute of Technology fieldhouse, Blough said the company will have to expand its capacity by a million tons a year for 10 years to help meet the steel needs of the nation.

But, he declared, a substantial part of the company's profits which would normally finance this expansion are "phantom profits, eaten up by inflation, almost before we get them."

Now, Honestly, Mr. GOVERNOR!

Here's a question we didn't ask you at Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids or Detroit.

Now, HONESTLY, Mr. Governor—Are you really interested in traffic safety as you claimed last week when you asked for 30-day suspensions of drivers' licenses for first offense major violators? Or, were you just talking out of the other side of your mouth again?

★ The people of Oakand County question your concern for traffice law enforcement when your own top state law enforcement holds a serious record of violations. You may recall that the Attorney General was summoned for re-examination of his right to drive because of a series of moving traffic violations.

But he was told by your Secretary of State's office to forget the summons.

How do you account for that? Are there two kinds of justice in the Secretary of State's office—one for the people and another one for Democrats?

Would you advocate the 30-day suspension of your Attorney General's license the same as you do for the rest of the people?

★ Now, HONESTLY, Mr. Governor, your own record shows you're not honestly concerned with traffic safety. In the last session of the Legislature your Secretary of State openly opposed a bill creating local bad-driver training schools. Now you advocate 30-day license suspension. Tell us in your "Report to the People" today—what do you really stand for—traffic safety or clever politics?

College Student Killed by Friend

Sophomore at Richmond Shot Twice in the Head; Brooklynite Held

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A Richmond Professional Institute sophomore was shot to death in his dormitory room last night by a former student who once was his closest friend and roommate.

James Edward Whitlow, 21, of Clover, Va., was found sprawled across his bed and dying. College mates rushed to the room when they heard shots shortly after 6 p.m.

Officers said Whitlow had been shot at least two times in the back of the head with a .38-caliber pistol.

Alfred Vischio, 21, Brooklyn, N.Y., was arrested about an hour later and charged with first-degree murder. A former mental patient at McGuire Veterans Administration Hospital, he had returned to the hospital after the shooting and wandered up to a guard, holding a revolver in his hand.

Police said Vischio gave them no motive for the shooting. They said he told them he had hailed a cab moments after the shooting and directed the driver to the hospital because "I wanted to see my doctor." Detective F. S. Wakefield said Vischio admitted he had shot Whitlow.

Vischio and Whitlow had roomed together until March, when Vischio was admitted to McGuire Hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown. The two had spent last Christmas together at Vischio's Brooklyn home and had taken a trip together to Florida after Vischio's release from the hospital in April.

Sentence James Stacy to 65 Days in Jail

Two violations of driving license laws brought separate sentences totaling 65 days in Oakland County Jail yesterday for James S. Stacy, 32, of Springfield Township.

Leib handed down a sentence of 35 days on the first count when Stacy failed to pay $5 costs. The second charge resulted in a 30-day sentence.

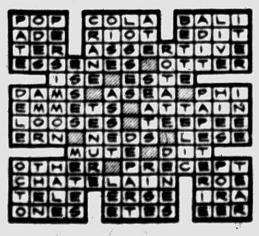
Answer to Previous Puzzle



'Joe and Mable' Starts June 12

New Program Based Upon the Home Life of Taxi Driver

BY ARTRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS) — Guy Lombardo's music will be the sweetest this side of another network starting June 12, when CBS scraps his show (currently Tuesdays 8 to 8:30 p.m.) in favor of a series starring Nita Talbot called "Joe and Mable."

The spokesman for Lombardo, who announced the switch, said the maestro has no "ill feelings," but added that Guy's present sponsor, Pharmaceuticals, Inc., was given a choice of backing the new series or giving up its time.

Reportedly "delighted" with the old pro's ratings, Guy's sponsor will probably buy "Joe and Mable" but will definitely hunt for an advantageous time spot to present the Royal Canadians on ABC or NBC this fall.

"Joe and Mable," based on the homelife of a cab driver, has kind of been a TV waiting-for-a-streetcar gag. The series was kinescoped and ready to go well over a year ago, and nothing happened except yawns.

We hear that it has been revamped and rewritten and now shapes-up as one of the more palatable situation comedies.

EDDIE GOES WEST

Eddie Fisher's show has moved to Hollywood and will continue to be beamed from the coast until sometime in November after Eddie and Debbie's baby is born.

The show continues in its 15-minute format with one big change: Eddie is packaging it through his newly formed company, "Ramrod Productions," which should mean a considerable financial gain for the father-to-be.

Look for the biggest news yet to come out of the Godfrey camp. (Perhaps a switch of one of his shows to an early Monday night spot come fall) . . . but when this happens, it will be just part of the ensuing headline.

OLD-TIME GREATS

If you look fast on Thursday's Lux Video Theater (NBC), you'll glimpse a dozen of the silent screen's all-time greats.

Stanley Quinn, Video Theater producer, has invited them to play the jury in the courtroom drama "The Night of January 16th." Among those present will be Ramon Navarro, Julia Faye, Viola Dana, Mack Sennett, May McAvoy and Francis X. Bushman.

Hal March, recently wed to Candy Toxton, stars on the July 15 NBC spectacular "The Bachelor." Steve Allen is now hard at work on the show's music and lyrics.

June Havoc, in our book better looking and a funnier female than most any comedienne around, has reportedly solved her TV series problems. She has been mulling over a deal based on a comic strip and the script has gone through alterations so it just about fits.

Word is that June was ready to go quite awhile ago, but got into a verbal hair-pulling session with the wife of a Madison ave. nabob . . . and wound up distressed.

June's sister, Gypsy Rose Lee, maintains she won't tackle TV because she can hear the guys in their livingroom balconies shouting, "Turn it off, turn it off!"

Argentina Clamps Bars on Peronistas

BUENIS AIRES (AP)— President Pedro Aramburu's regime is clamping down on followers of Juan Peron who persist in demonstrations of loyalty to the fallen dictator.

* * *

Ivan Adolfo Mirando Naon, 19, began singing the battle hymn of Peron's followers, "Peronista Boys," yesterday on a crowded street. A passer-by complained and a policeman arrested Naon. The youth insisted he was only trying to win a bet.

Federal Judge Luis Botet ordered him held for trial.

Earlier in the day, Botet ordered two men held for trial on charges of soliciting contributions for the Peronista underground from employes of the city bus firm.

These were the first actions under the government's anti-Peron propaganda decree. Peron was ousted last September.

Communist Slave Camps Break the Spirit

By PHILIP LUKER

"The Communist prison guards ordered us to put our hands through the bars . . . then they'd stamp on them. Or sometimes they'd string us up by our hands for a day."

* * *

The Chinese-Italian who told me this in Shanghai was Guiseppe Francisco Jovino, a Roman Catholic layman who knows as much about conditions in Chinese Communist jails and slave labor camps as almost any man. He spent four years in them.

In 1951, the Communists charged Jovino with possessing eight unregistered firearms, and with not registering his fishing ships under maritime law.

The 40-year-old Shanghai resident said he had registered the weapons and ships under the Kuomintang (Nationalist) government, but had neglected to re-register them when the Communists took over.

PRISON EXPERIENCE

"They pushed a half of basin of cold water through the bars of my cold cell each morning for eight of us to wash in. We all shared a latrine bucket in the eight-by-four-foot cell.

"We had to meditate our crimes sitting erect for two periods of three hours every day. If we moved the guards would stamp on our hands, or force our hands behind our backs and make us hang by them, until we yelled for mercy."

Jovino's story put to scorn the idea that conditions in the "model" Peiping Municipal Prison shown me were anything like conditions in other jails. It showed how Communists maintain an unlimited supply of slave labor on starvation rations.

He explained the camp was one of 12, each covering about 100 acres of swamp land and holding 10,000 political prisoners, marriage violators, thieves, deserters from the Korean war, dope addicts, grafters and Chinese priests.

Prisoners lived in leaky mud huts, 60 in one 20-by-60-foot building. They slept on planks laid over the earthen floor. Total food each day amounted to 28 ounces: Eight ounces of rice broth in the morning, 14 ounces of dry rice and a vegetable in the afternoon, and six ounces of broth at night.

A weak or "unprogressive" prisoner who did not fulfill his work quota was first only deprived of cigarettes. If he still didn't reform, he was shackled in chains around his ankles, so he could barely walk. He still had to work in chains, at the same rate as other prisoners. He was not allowed to rest for ten hours at a stretch.

PRISONER-TRIALS

Jovino described "trials" of "unprogressive" prisoners. The guards would shout, "What will we do with them?" The other prisoners, mindful of their own future, would shout, "Kill them . . . kill them."

The guards, trying to appear merciful, would say, "We don't do that. We'll put them in irons. How long should we put them in irons?"

"A year," the crowd would shout.

"No, we won't be as hard as that," the guards would say. "We'll put them in irons for only two months."

TIED OUT IN COLD NUDE

Jovino explained how the next step in the campaign to reform a prisoner who did not respond to chains was to strip him and leave him tied to a pole outdoors, in one of the coldest countries in the world.

Jovino said he and his fellow prisoners always knew when one of them was to receive the supreme penalty for being unable or unwilling to complete work quotas. They would all be herded into a field and surrounded by machine guns.

These trials were always a farce, because the prisoners' fate would have been already decided. He would not be allowed to speak, and had no one to speak for him. Jovino continued:

"The last time I saw this happen the man was accused of spreading rumors that the Kuomintang was coming back.

EXTEND SENTENCES

"The Communists," said Jovino, "made a great fuss when they reduced anyone's sentence for propaganda. They reduced the sentences of six or seven men out of the 10,000 in my camp, while I was there."

"But," he added, "they increased the sentences of more than 30. One man originally sentenced to three years ended up with 18 because he couldn't or wouldn't work hard enough.

"Those due for release had a very poor chance of getting one. Their family and the Communist-controlled street committee in their locality had to agree to the release, and the prisoner had to have a job to go to. The street committee would decide whether he was wanted and needed by the society.

* * *

"It was an easy matter, then, for a prisoner to be kept working. The authorities had only to suggest to the street committee to declare the man "not wanted" and he could be kept working for life."

Wayne May Raise Wedding Permit Fee

DETROIT (AP) — Even the price of love may go up!

* * *

County Clerk Edgar M. Branigin has suggested that the $2 fee for marriage licenses should be increased to $5.

"I'm not trying to toss roadblocks in the path of the Love Express," said Branigin. "It's an idea to help combat generally rising service costs."

Branigin said he doesn't think a change would hurt — "If a couple can't afford $5 to get married," he added, "they ought to go home and save their pennies."

He will write the Board of Supervisors suggesting the change. He indicated he might seek raises elsewhere, too, such as doubling the 25-cent fees for birth and death certificates.

"I'm sure they will react favorably when they note the added revenue possibilities," said the clerk.
